Utility Expansion Gives Cinna. $29,372 Tax Receipts Windfall

A $29,372 windfall for Cinnaminson taxpayers has been revealed by Township Committeeman Martin Margolit, finance director.

Gross receipts and franchise taxes paid to the municipality by utilities in lieu of personal property taxes are estimated in the 1965 municipal budget at $185,868, which is precisely the amount collected from these sources last year.

But because of new substations and other recent improvements by Public Service and New Jersey Bell Telephone Co. within the township, Cinnaminson's share of the distribution of the tax pot increases to $215,240.

John T. Hughes, township administrator, explains that this not only means the township will have a surplus of $29,372 available for use in next year's budget but anticipated receipts on the revenue side of the budget can be increased to match actual 1965 collections, thereby benefitting the budget doubly, to a total of nearly $60,000.

Hughes pointed out that state law prohibits estimating income in excess of actual realization the preceding year.

Riverton PTA to Give Equipment for School Safety Patrol's Use

Equipment for Riverton School's safety patrol, including rain and storm gear and belts and badges, is being purchased by the PTA to outfit each of the 50 members.

The PTA now is inactive and will remain so until Sept., 1966 at which time membership can be reactivated if so desired by the parents of Riverton, it was explained. The new parents group, not affiliated with the state PTA, will have its election with the opening of the new school year.

Meanwhile, the summer arts and crafts program, which is the year's project, will begin July 6 under the direction of Mrs. M. K. Munro, and continue until July 30. Sessions will be held Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. until noon in the school.

The annual school fair is scheduled for Sept. 25 under the chairmanship of Mrs. John H. Cooper.

Riverton Borough Goes On Summer Schedule

Effective today, Riverton's municipal offices will close each day at 3 p.m. instead of 4:30, continuing the summer schedule through August. Opening hour remains 9 a.m.

The change will not effect the weekly Monday night hours, when the offices will be open from 7 to 9 as usual, explained Mrs. Anna May Whitelock, clerk-treasurer-tax collector.

GETTING READY — Thomas Schwink, veteran Palmyra custodian who will head the borough's July 4th celebration Monday for the 20th time, is reviewing the schedule of races for boys and girls in various age groups, and men and women as well. Competition will begin at 2 p.m. on the community ball field.

Palmyra Girl Admits Harassing Cinnaminson Family on Phone, Police Probe 3 Similar Cases

One down and three to go.

That was Chief Payton Flournoy's appraisal of a pestiferous situation in Palmyra which has seen a spate of anonymous telephone calls made to area residents.

The harassing tactics effecting a family in Cinnaminson ended with the confession by a teenage Palmyra girl that she had been making the annoying calls, as many as 25 in a single day, confident, she explained, that they could not be traced to her.

But traced they were when Cinnaminson Police Chief Thomas F. Adams contacted the telephone company after the victims complained to him, and through their cooperation the culprit was exposed.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Bishop of 804 Meeting House rd. in the Birchwood section of Cinnaminson said they and the offender were complete strangers, a fact substantiated by the girl when she

Vacation Notice

The New Era office and plant will be closed for vacation from Friday afternoon of this week until Monday morning, July 12.

There will be no issue of the New Era or Advertising Era on Thursday, July 8; the next edition will be on July 15.

Public Hearings, Bids Head Riverton Session

Two ordinances will be exposed to public hearing and bids will be opened on road work within the municipality when Riverton borough council meets July 8 at 8 p.m.

One ordinance requires property owners to keep their sidewalks and curbs in repair; the other incorporates state recommendations for handling payment of claims against the borough. Both were passed on first reading June 10.

Monday will be July 5 on the calendar but it will be the Fourth of July to area residents who will have their choice of a number of special holiday events to warrant their spending the long weekend in the triboroughs.

Riverton will have its customary Grade A parade and fireworks display, together with a full program of children's athletic activities, and this time the annual celebration will be highlighted by special exercises marking the 75th anniversary of the fire company.

Palmyra's firemen too will feature their community's yearly festivities with public ceremonies housing their new 750-gallon pumper, followed by competition for children and refreshments for all.

Cinnaminson will present its own parade, forming 12:30 p.m. on Riverton-Moorestown rd. at Wellington West.

Floats and other vehicular parade entries will assemble in Barton Court. Children in costumes, decorated bicycles, wagons, etc. on the parade, Betancourt

Provisional License Granted by Delran in Liquor Store Dispute

A provisional license was granted Bacchus Corp. for sale of package goods by Delran township committee last week pending the outcome of litigation challenging the propriety of such licensing.

Unsuccessful applicants for the township's lone new retail store license have appealed the award to Bacchus, contending the governing body violated its own deadline. The state alcoholic beverage division took the matter under advisement and has not yet ruled.

Another provisional license was granted Forty Winks, Inc., for the right to sell drinks at the motel it plans to erect on Rt. 130. The license is conditional to compliance with building ordinances once construction begins.

Bar license renewals were approved for Bridgeboro Inn, Burdy's, the Castle, Park Inn and Ott's Tavern. Club licenses were issued to the VFW and Polish-American.

Delran to Bar River Swimming, Asks Army to Fill Channel Holes

Delran indicated its intention to follow Cinnaminson's lead with an embargo on swimming in the Delaware when township committee Thursday night directed counsel to prepare an ordinance along those lines. Swimming in the Ran-cocas will not be effected, however, it was made clear.

Meanwhile, the committee voted to write to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers and request that steps be taken to fill in deep holes along the riverfront bordering on the municipality.

Committeeman Dale Pfeiffer said holes as deep as 40 feet were caused by recent dredging operations to deepen the river channel.

Mayor Earl Bozarth pointed out several drownings occur each year because of the dangerous condition of the river beaches.

Bozarth announced the appointment of Donald Makin, Joseph Rossi, Pliny Hogel and George Scemeca to the municipal green acres committee.

Committee approved payment of $270 to Max Berkowitz for storage of an abandoned car on his property for over a year, during which time he asked the township repeatedly to remove it, according to his bill.

Committeeman Edward Lipinsky said all abandoned vehicles confiscated by Delran police in the future will be auctioned to reimburse the municipality for such storage charges.

Riverside Seeks Buyer For Discarded Meters

Satisfied that the current trial suspension of parking meter use was beneficial to Riverside business, the township committee voted at last week's meeting to eliminate the gadgets entirely from all parts of the municipality.

Mayor William Camishion said all indications were that an end to metered parking was advantageous to relations between Riverside merchants and the shopping public, and described the step as an important start toward rejuvenating retail business in the town. He added that an attempt would be made to sell the meters, and said the meter poles which line the streets will be dismantled.

Two Riverside firms, South Jersey Construction and South Jersey Asphalt, were awarded road maintenance and repair contracts

Utility Expansion

Of the $29,372 increase, $18,917 is in gross receipts taxes and $10,454, franchise. The budget anticipates $75,918 and $109,950, respectively. The funds are disbursed by the state, which collects taxes from the utilities based on their business volume, then apportioned it among the municipalities in which personnel is located on the basis of value of such holdings. Regular ad valorem taxes are paid on real property — land and buildings — separately and directly to the municipality, Hughes explained.

respectively with low bids of $3800 and $774.

Mrs. Elaine T. Tariano was appointed permanent clerk-stenographer in the municipal clerk's office on a part-time basis. She has been working several months on a temporary basis and has been certified by civil service. Township Clerk Michael Chiacio explained.

Existing liquor licenses were renewed for the 1965-66 year.

Bids Set for July 13 To Resurface Pear St. In E. Riverton Area

Cinnaminson township committee will receive bids July 13 for reconstruction of Pear St. between Barnard and Hunter in the E. Riverton section of the town.

The work, in addition to converting 1400 feet of road surface from gravel to bituminous concrete, will correct a drainage problem at Pear and Hunter, according to William Menough of the M. Paul Austin firm, township engineers.

"By making the grade steeper, rain water no longer will remain there and cause an undesirable condition," he explained.

The project will include curbs and base course along with the hard-surface paving of the road, he added.

Romance of Rice, Beahn and Egg Brings Palmyra Couple Back 50 Years Later

A romance that began half a century ago when a girl from the Pennsylvania Dutch country wrote her name on an egg which found its way to Palmyra, reached a milestone last week when the couple camped from Hamilton, Ohio, to observe their golden wedding anniversary with family and friends.

Warren Beahn was active in the Masons and Rotary in Palmyra, worked for the railroad and played baseball on the side, when back in 1916 he came upon an egg among others in a carton which had the name "Mabel Rice, Carlisle, Perry County, Pa." scrawled upon it.

Intrigued by the idea of a "Beahn" meeting a "Rice" he began a correspondence that lasted four years. Still the couple hadn't met, however, when one night Warren went to a party and in the coincidental way of things was presented to a girl who turned out to be his Mabel.

Shortly after, they were wed and lived most of their married life in Palmyra before moving to Ohio following his retirement.

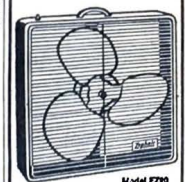

The idea of returning to the scene of their earlier life together to celebrate 50 years of marriage was advanced by Warren's brother, Bruce, who 40 years ago starred on Palmyra High School's championship track team that included a crack relay quartet of which Bruce and Harris Sacks, present Riverton councilman, were members.

So Warren and Mabel flew to Philadelphia, were met by Bruce and his wife and taken to Willingboro where a score of friends from the old days gathered to celebrate the nostalgic occasion with them.

President Garfield was shot, July 2, 1861. Amelia Earhart and Fred Noonan were lost at sea, July 2, 1937.

Hit-Run Accident Costs $125 in Fines

A $125 fine for leaving the scene of an accident was levied in Riverside court by Judge Daniel Lichtenhal. The penalty on John J. Moy, 23, of Pennsauken, also included driving without a license.

Moy pleaded guilty to striking a pedestrian, Leon Trautz, on Lafayette St. May 23 and failing to stop. Trautz still is in Zurburg Hospital.

A Riverside youth, William Kovelsky, 18, of Grant St., was fined $15 for careless driving, and $25 was assessed against Philip Saclovo of Greenwood Ave. for assault and battery.

5th Meeting Sees Cinnaminson Straighten Out Library Financing

After several false starts, Cinnaminson got its financing of the new library straightened out at a special meeting of the township committee Thursday morning following appointment of a Philadelphia firm of bond attorney specialists.

The ordinance appropriating $200,000 for the purpose was adopted originally March 23 but required amending. Meanwhile, a resolution for $150,000 in bond anticipation notes to provide construction funds was scheduled for action at the regular meeting June 8.

However, it was explained action had to be deferred until the township got itself bonding counsel so a special session was set up for June 17.

But when there still was no action on counsel, the matter was put over to June 24. At the regular meeting June 22 the governing body voted to retain Ballard, Stahr, Andrews and Ingersoll to handle the bond issue.

Meanwhile, the ordinance amending the March one to appropriate $200,000 was scheduled for consideration June 11 but got caught in the resolution delay and so was moved to last Thursday.

What made the complex situation all the more confusing was the fact that the latest advertising of the ordinance certifying that it "has finally been adopted on the 24th day of June," appeared in the township's legal weekly paper of that date which was a guess at least a day before the meeting was held and adoption "final" was made.

All the while, work is progressing on the library and prospects brightened for a fall opening.

Ruehmeling, R. Durgin Head New Association Of Welfare Directors

Former Mayor William Ruehmeling, Riverside welfare director, was elected first president of the newly organized Municipal Welfare Directors of Burlington County at the organization meeting in Riverside Monday night.

Aids from 14 municipalities joined to, in the words of Ruehmeling, "promote cooperation, provide education on mutual problems and try to develop better coordination among local, county and state welfare agencies."

Mrs. Ruth Durgin, welfare director for Riverton, Palmyra and Cinnaminson, was named secretary of the group.

Freeholders Spurn Suggestion To Cut Pay, Vote Selves 50% Raise and Trip to California

Ignoring the suggestion that they consider cutting their pay instead of raising it, the county's freeholders unanimously voted themselves a 50 percent salary hike from $6,000 to $9,000 at last week's meeting. And while about it they decided all five should attend a national convention in San Diego, Calif., July 11-14 as part of their official duties.

The suggestion for paying less to the freeholders for their part-time jobs was advanced by Joseph Stipic of Burlington township, who also argued in vain, that the self-promotion should be deferred and put on the ballot in November for the public to decide whether or not they feel more money is justified.

Other speakers at the public hearing also attacked the raises, and letters of protest were received, one from Mrs. Lois Pronowski of Burlington contending private citizens "work too hard to pay taxes" to accept such increases.

James Grooms, Pomerton heating and plumbing contractor, wanted to know what the freeholders had done that made them feel they were entitled to more money, and Dr. Ray W. Lockwood, Moorestown dentist, questioned the need for a $900 level to "do a decent job."

The freeholders insisted the demands of the office merit the raises, pointing out it was the first since the schedule was boosted from $5,000 to $6,000 in 1959. And by way of showing they were not "rashly" raising only one salary, they voted to raise the salary of the county engineer.

County Engineer Earl M. Higgins, both from $11,000 to $14,000. And whereas their own boosts became effective Jan. 1, Higgins' boost gets his raise immediately.

In this generous mood too the board affirmed an administrative court order directing that the salaries of the county's two judges,

W. Thomas McGinn and Alexander C. Wood, go from $22,000 to $27,000.

In other business, the board voted to use $2475 from Interstate bridge funds to replace a boiler and make a survey for air conditioning the county library.

Contracts totaling $197,900 were awarded for 19,000 tons of cold patch and road surface material to three firms, including New Jersey Asphalt Co. of Riverside.

Three new watchmen posts for the building and grounds department were created, at salaries beginning with $3280 a year and going to $4180.

The board recommended to the county bridge committee that outside professional help be employed to advise on the status of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge now that a new high-level span is to be built near it. The advisers would analyze prospects for continued profitable operation of the present bridge once it faces the new competition. Director Donald F. MacBride said.

$4000 Robbery Hits Riverside Business

Police are seeking a band of safecrackers who broke into the Burns-Bullings Beverage Co., on Rt. 130, Riverside, Friday, flipping a door off the office safe and escaped with $4,000.

The theft, first since the firm began operations in 1953, was discovered at 4 a.m. by a warehouseman reporting for work.

Police said the thieves gained entrance by dropping through a hatchway on the warehouse roof and making their way to the front office, where they pulled a half-inch steel front from the safe door and dropped the lock mechanism to the floor. A payroll of $3,000 and approximately $1,000 in cash and checks was taken, authorities said.

Mail Box Tampering Warning in Riverside

Postmaster Clair J. Nanno of Riverside has issued an appeal to parents urging them to caution their children not to play around mail boxes.

Nanno pointed out that he had received reports of children tampering with patron's mailboxes, especially rural, in the Chester area, and warns that it is a federal offense. Local police are cooperating with the post office department in an endeavor to curb the mischievous youngsters, he added.

Rewarded? Relievers Blamed For Delran's Garbage Woes

Are Delran trash collectors members of their own bottle gang? That question was raised at last Thursday's township committee meeting when a bill for payment of garbage service, previously held up, was approved.

"The collectors are always getting drunk," explained William J. Clyde, who holds the contract with the township, when asked why service is unsatisfactory.

Clyde went on to point out that he was trying to help the township reduce its welfare costs by hiring men from the relief rolls. But, he went on, some bars and taverns far too much for a man to lift. He reminded township committee members of the cans and asked that house-holders be so notified.

Riverton and Palmyra fire companies join in their programs as visiting fire companies meet at Palmyra's fire hall where housing ceremonies will be held at 9 a.m. Mayor Sydney Burger will speak, followed by remarks by Chief William DeVinney and President Ed Weirbach. Riverton Fire Co. will house Palmyra's truck for them.

After these ceremonies, all of the fire companies will march up Broad st. to Linden ave. and from there to the river bank where they will join the regular Fourth of July parade which will be forming to march. Then the fire companies will continue on to the Riverton fire hall where Council President Kenneth May will speak and remarks will be made by Riverton's chief, Peter Evert, and President Paul Moorhouse.

Also, typical of the extra emphasis in Riverton's program is the greater number of bands that will participate. The musical program will include the Jersey Devils, Bordentown Marshall's Band, Roebbing Ryba's Band, Burlington Mt. Holy Community Band, Palmyra High School Band, and the Liberty Band, Camden.

All except the Liberty will march in the parade beginning at the river bank at 10 a.m. Liberty will supply the "stroll along" groups for evening entertainment along Bank ave. prior to the fireworks. Canoe racing and canoe tilting will also be featured before the fireworks display.

A full program of children's athletic activities will be held in the afternoon at the Riverton ball park.

The Palmyra celebration will be held on the baseball field with races for children and adults, between 2 and 4. Prizes will be awarded and refreshments.

Races include dashes for various age levels of boys and girls and single and married men and women. There will be three-legged races in all children's categories.

Hot Tar Burns Youth Working in Cinna.

A Riverside youth working with a road crew in Cinnaminson township during the summer was seriously burned Friday while repairing curbing on Laurel dr. near Boxwood la.

Police said Roy Bowker, 19, of 1 Alden ave., was about to pour hot tar from a container when a large bubble in the mass burst in his face, causing him to drop the bucket. Its contents splashed over his body.

Lee Blackman, a fellow workman, tore off Bowker's shirt and took him to the office of Dr. Henry H. Cohen nearby. After treatment he was taken to Rancocas Valley Hospital and admitted with burns of the face, chest and feet.

New 1000-ft. Main in Cinnaminson Added By Water Utility to Expansion Program

A thousand feet of 12-inch water main will be laid along Union Landing rd. from Rt. 130 to provide improved fire protection in that area as requested by Cinnaminson township officials, it was revealed today by Kenneth T. Wragg, manager of the Riverton and Palmyra Water Co.

The project is part of the utility's million-dollar "water for growth" expansions and improvement program described by Wragg as the largest in the history of the investor-owned company.

The need for the Union Landing rd. work was stressed by John Karakashian, public works director, and plans developed at a meeting of township and company officials in June.

In announcing the project, Wragg issued a progress report which summarized the status of the expansion program as follows:

A 2.3 million gallon Taylors Lane ground level storage reservoir and booster station completed and in service, along with related 20 inch and 16 inch diameter pipelines. The steel storage reservoir will be painted in the near future.

Residential type pumping station on New Albany rd. completed. Additional well supply at the Highland Avenue station, contract to be let in the near future.

More than 40,000 feet of new mains, ranging from 6 inch to 20 inch in diameter, work progressing, with some mains already installed, including several 8 inch pipelines along Rt. 130, a 12 inch line in Highland and others, and 12 inch main along the north side of Broad rd. to the north.

For the purpose of improving fire protection in the area, this project has been authorized and the necessary funds appropriated. Work will get underway shortly. "It is apparent," said Wragg, substantial progress has been made toward completion of the program, which will make the Riverton-Palmyra water system one of the best in the state and assure an ample supply of water to meet the growing needs of the company's service area.

"Our construction program is moving right along. Several key projects have already been completed and we're pushing the others as rapidly as we possibly can. Things are shaping up pretty well."

The executive pointed out the undertaking is a massive one in relation to the size and financial resources of the company. "Ability to finance and engineer the expansion was due in large measure to the fact that standing behind it is the financial strength and technical know-how of the nation's largest system of investor-owned water companies," he said.

"Our company is one of 84 affiliates of the American Water Works Co. system, which serves more than 4,000,000 residents of 480 community areas in 18 states. Without this support the program could well have been beyond our capabilities."

PROGRESS—Workmen are shown installing 16-inch mains along Rt. 130 in Cinnaminson as part of the program by the Riverton and Palmyra Water Co. to expand and improve service in the area. The section of nine-inch main shown in the bucket of an excavator is being lowered into the trench.

Dead Marine Lived In Riverside; Thought Assignment Was Last

Cpl. William R. Kittel, 27, who formerly resided at 17 Spring Garden st., Riverside, was one of 72 Marines killed in a crash of a jet plane against a California mountain Friday.

The tragedy also cost the life of the 12-man plane crew, all stationed at McGuire AFB. They were transporting the Marines to Viet Nam.

Kittel, son of Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph G. Kittel, long-time Riverside residents who now live in Pennsylvania, was married and had two children, a boy, 5, and daughter, 21 months.

Transferred to Camp Pendleton for shipment out, Cpl. Kittel and his family were staying with friends at Sulson, Calif.

Mrs. Mildred Fahy of Burlington, only sister of the dead Marine, said he made out his will a month ago and told her he "had a feeling he wasn't coming back."

Meanwhile, Chief Flournoy said he is concentrating on three similar cases in which calls have been frequent and annoying, with foul and abusive language adding to the seriousness of the misbehavior.

Taylor, Ritschard Among 9 Cited By County YMCA

Nine men were cited by the YMCA for faithful service at its 60th anniversary dinner at YMCA Camp Cinnaminson, among them Howard G. Taylor of Cinnaminson and Victor Ritschard of Riverton.

Also cited were Porter Ashbrook of Lambert, who started with the YMCA as a group leader in 1910 in Bridgeboro. He was a secretary of the board of directors, later employed with the local secretary and then went overseas as a secretary in W.W.I.

Ritschard became associated with YMCA in Palmyra-Riverton about 1919, assisted with the industrial association program, has been a leader as a chairman and officer in the Palmyra-Riverton board of directors and as a member of the county board of directors for many years, chairing the world service committee.

Taylor, oldest living past president of the county Y, started in the agricultural program in 1915, a forerunner of the boys and girls agricultural club work later to be known as 4-H work. A member of the Cinnaminson school board which had no athletic program, he organized a YMCA group and took an interest in seeing that boys had an all around program including sports.

Delanco Camp Meeting Opens At New Site in Pines Friday

The heart of the pines has become the new location for the Delanco Camp Meeting Association, formerly located in the town of Delanco. A 300 acre tract of land has been acquired by the camp directors located at Sooty Pines, about two miles south of Route 70 and three miles east of Red Lion Circle. Being an adult camp meeting with a youth program, it is the first of this type of camp to locate in the immediate area.

The camp meeting will open Friday evening and continue through Sunday, July eleven. With the erection of a new tabernacle for worship along with a modern model to accommodate guests and a new boys' dormitory while making use of existing buildings for a dining hall and girls' dormitory, the camp will be officially opened Friday at 7:30 p.m. by the president, Rev. Carlton Bodine, pastor of Francis Childs Methodist Church, Collingswood.

The evangelist will be Dr. James Gibson and Dr. Delbert R. Rose of Asbury Theological Seminary, Wilmore, Ky. Mrs. Mary Boughen, renowned pianist and soloist, will be the song leader with her sister, Mrs. Lois Anderson as pianist.

Services will be held at 7:30 every evening with additional services at 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. on Sundays and July 5. The general public is invited to attend these services.

Serving with Rev. Bodine are two vice presidents, Rev. Walter Quigg of Elmer and Rev. Emanuel Burkman of Wilkesboro. Rev. C. Donald Denning of Burlington is camp secretary and Mrs. Agnes Perkins of Delanco, treasurer. The dean of girls is Mrs. Milton Collins of Port Republic and the dean of boys is Rev. Harold F. Turk of Browns Mills.

Safe Deposit Box Rentals Now Tax-Free

Joseph Hirschmiller, vice president of the Cinnaminson Branch, Trust Co., points out that repeal of the 10 percent federal excise tax on safe deposit box rentals is now effective.

"Repeal of the tax on safe deposit box rentals is among several excise tax cuts now effective, and it means C&T customers will be able to enjoy the convenience and protection of safe deposit boxes at a new, lower cost," Hirschmiller said.

Additional youth activities include a craft hour directed by Mrs. Maurice Loveland of Egg Harbor and recreation and swimming supervised by the recreational director, Carl Farrell of Mays Landing.

Parker Seeks Repeal Of Business Tax

Barry T. Parker, candidate for State Assembly, today urged repeal of the business inventory tax.

Parker stated "the tax, which levies assessments on the businessman's inventory and machinery, can only stifle the small businessman and force him out of business. The real hardship the businessman exists if he finances his inventory, equipment and machinery and must also pay a business tax. If he carries little inventory to avoid the tax he cannot effectively compete in today's economy. The same is true of the small manufacturer who would limit the amount of his machinery instead of trying to expand the scope of his business. The practical effect then is to drive more small businessmen and manufacturers out of our already hard pressed communities, which must depend upon them to stabilize the economy of the particular community and provide employment. It seems ridiculous that many communities in Burlington County spend thousands to lure business and industry for the purpose of providing tax relief to the property owners and then is obliged to impose a business tax which kills the goose that lays the golden egg."

Parker continued "Chapter 51 of the Assessment Reform Law, has imposed several years ago and has been suspended by the Legislature because it was obvious that the law was not fair or practical. At present the tax bills are due on July 1, 1965, for the return filed in 1964, assessing inventory and equipment possessed in 1963. At best this type of tax is piecemeal legislation, ill conceived, to raise additional revenues without consideration of the overall State economic problems and needed tax reform. It imposes a burden on the tax assessor, the municipality and the businessman and should be repealed."

Necktie as Life Saver.
A necktie saved a Glasgow captain's life recently. He had been a passenger on board a Greek ship which had been torpedoed in the Mediterranean. He managed to keep afloat for a while, until a war drifted along with a Frenchman on it. To this he clung, unable to scramble on because he had lost the use of his right arm and leg. "Then," says the Glasgow man, "a storm came up and we were lashed and buffeted about till I could hang on no longer. 'So long, old chap,' I said. 'I guess I'm a goner. Good luck to you and thanks.' 'Nonsense,' he said. 'Hang on for a second, and I'll fix you. Before I knew what he was about he had whipped off my necktie and had securely bound my arm and leg to the spar. Then we passed the night in terror. That thought my arm would be torn out, but in the first light of dawn an Italian destroyer came along and picked up everyone who had been on the ship. Yes," continued the Scotchman, "you are going to sea in three perilous times before you have a good, long, strong necktie with you and don't let it slide for an instant."

Editorial

It was with the most varied emotions that the public learned early in the week of the part taken by Bishop Potter in the opening of a "model saloon" in New York, and the various phases of the question have been pretty thoroughly threshed out in the public press during the week. The views expressed by the clergy have been quite as diversified as those held by the laymen, ranging from the sentiment expressed by one, that while the Bishop did was the Bishop's own business, to the harshest criticism. One divine took the ground that the plan, while novel and quite out of the ordinary, was worth trying at least. So far as we were concerned, there is no great cause for alarm. If men must drink it is better that they should do it in surroundings as little degrading as possible, and where a man already intoxicated will not be served. It remains to be shown by experience whether or not the improved surroundings will prove an attraction to the better class of men who would be ashamed to be seen going into a saloon of the old type, and thus increase intemperance among the more respectable classes. Such a result was surely not contemplated by the Bishop, whose intentions cannot be questioned however much we doubt his wisdom in the matter.

What the Bishop was really aiming at, and what the plan will probably turn out to be, is the provision of some place for the workingman which will correspond in a degree to the club of the man of means, a place where he may spend his evenings with his friends, with access to current issues of newspapers and magazines.

HONORED LINDBERGH

Burlington Man Prominent in Great New York Reception

Burlington was represented in the great celebration that was given Colonel Charles Lindbergh, the "Lone Eagle," in New York by Colonel Thomas H. Birch, former mayor of Burlington, and now the president of the Trust Company of North America, New York. Colonel Birch was a member of Mayor Walker's Committee and attended the dinner given in the Commodore Hotel by Governor's chief executive. He also was a guest at a luncheon given jointly by the Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York and the Merchants Association.

Colonel Birch furthermore was the chairman of the distinguished guest committee at the Chamber of Commerce in the Ritz Theatre. He was associated in that capacity by Governor Alfred E. Smith, Mayor James J. Walker, former Ambassador James W. Gilchrist, Hon. Charles A. Welton, and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt.

In connection with the Lindbergh celebration, it was recalled that while minister to Portugal Colonel Birch officially received the first flyer to cross the Atlantic, Commodore Reed, who drove the United States Navy plane, NC-4. This was on May 27, 1919.

LONG SKIRTS.

A Street Railroad Conductor Tells How Much Trouble They Cause.

The weather was very cold, and only the conductor and usual freebie find had dual possession of the back platform. As the car started a crowd of well-dressed ladies pressed the button to stop, and the "om" obediently pulled the bell. The lady gathered up a small bundle or two, as in the manner of the sex, hurried out to the platform before the motorman had any idea of throwing off the current. The result was that she stood in the open doorway just long enough to reduce the car to freezing, while the car was stopped at a halt. Before it had quite blackened up she strode forward and stepped off, as the inevitable custom of femininity, with her back to the front of the car, with the result of an unexpected visit to Mother Earth, accompanied by a feeling of violence of up-to-date hostility and a shattered bundle. The subsequent course of events varied a spot from the usual order of things—the conductor getting a rattling, rattling company being denounced as malicious-forgotten murderers, and inevitable damage suit forthrightly brought out of retirement.

Joe Luciano In Minor League

Former Riverton Player Under Connie Mack's Care For Development

The baseball fan at Riverton who is glad to know that their friend Joe Luciano is signed up with the Rocky Mount, N. C. team in the Piedmont League.

Joe will be remembered by his sensational fielding and batting while playing with "Marty" Welsh's nine last season.

George Brand, the keeper of the Shibe Park gross sale had Joe playing with his Lancaster 8th Ward Team and becoming attached to the "Kid," he called "Joe Thomas" attention to Joe. Thomas sent Joe to the Doves team in the Eastern Shore League where Joe attracted much attention by his whirling playing. Ira Thomas may be quoted as having said, "Joe is one of the best prospects among young players for the short field position."

Riverton fans will feel proud indeed to have had Joe as a member of their team last year and wish him all the success possible in the professional baseball game.

Last season the following figures were printed to show Joe's record with the local club. They may be of interest to some others now that our Joe has risen to the Minor League ranks. Joe's record for five games with the locals is:

AB R H O A E
19 5 17 11 6
"Marty" Welsh will also pilot the local aggregation this season. He says the club is progressing rapidly and that the town will have a team that can be proud of in the fall.

Mike Murnurs

By William Cooper, Jr.

Howdy folks! Here's ya old radio ed, back again with a few more scribbles about your favorites.

After the excellent had subdued the conductor spoke as follows:

"They're all alike. Show me a hen, a cat and a mule, and I'll show you the photograph of a woman. You can't get a woman to stop off a car right, more than you can get her to wear polka in her dress or pass a mirror without looking in. I've got a theory which I think is about right. It's all on account of long skirts and no pockets. Yes, it is this way. A woman with a long skirt will nine times out of ten hold it up with her left hand. On account of the absence of pockets she carries her pocketbook in her right hand. This would be all right if she would wait till the car stops, but no woman will do that under any circumstances. People get off the car on the right hand side, and a man naturally reaches out the left hand to hold onto the handrail, but the woman will pick up her contents in the majority of them. Why? Because his left hand is busy with her left hand, and she can't reach behind her second position. Listen for the most popular hand-dropped in what the people want. Listen for the Lombardo band on Wednesday night 10 o'clock over KVVWWEAF Network.

County Farmers Greet Dumont, Hear Praise From Colleagues

Farmers from all parts of the county assembled at the Larchmont Farm of former Assemblyman C. William Haines in Masonville Saturday to meet and greet the Republican gubernatorial standard bearer, State Sen. Wayne Dumont of Warren county. He was accompanied by his wife, Helen, to the barbecue.

Haines, who served eight years in the legislature with Dumont, introduced the nominee as an outstanding and dedicated representative of the people and spoke of his record in behalf of agriculture.

Speaking briefly, Dumont challenged his Democratic opponent, incumbent Gov. Richard Hughes, to cite a single accomplishment in behalf of agriculture, and mentioned the milk situation as "a typical example of this lack of achievement." Dumont stressed

New Jersey's need for "a stable economy."

Two Burlington countians who have served in the Senate with Dumont also lauded his ability and record: Albert McCay, who is managing his old friend's campaign in Burlington county, and the present holder of the post, Edwin B. Forsythe, a candidate for reelection this November.

Presented for bows were the other Republican county candidates: Walter Smith and Barry Parker for the Assembly; G. Clinton Zeller for sheriff, William L. Huber for coroner and Freeholder Anthony T. Greski for reelection.

Campaign Manager Named For Palmyra Democrats

William J. McAllister, Democratic candidate for mayor of Palmyra, has appointed John E. Casey as the party's municipal campaign chairman for 1965.

Casey, who lives at 107 Maryland ave., is the brother of James Casey, director of public safety in Bordentown township. He was active in his brother's bid for public office.

BMI Commandant Takes United Fund Position

Appointment of Col. Herbert T. Benz (ret'd) of Bordentown to head the federal service and special groups division of the United Fund of Burlington County was announced today.

An Instructor at Bordentown Military Institute, Benz will supervise and direct the operation of a UP division that annually contributes a major share of the organization's goal. The campaign is held each fall.

Federal services and special groups is responsible for contributions from the two county military installations, Ft. Dix and McGuire AFB, as well as from employees of the UP member agencies, public schools, municipal and county governments and the county's three hospitals.

Benz is a 1924 graduate of West Point and retired from the Army due to a physical disability in 1945, but not before he served as director of instruction at the anti-aircraft artillery school.

He came to BMI in 1946 and served for 12 years as commandant of cadets. He presently holds the title of commandant emeritus.

County Chest Clinic Closes for Holiday

The county chest clinic at 120 High St., Mt. Holly, will be closed July 5 and 6, but drugs will be dispensed Tuesday morning in case of an emergency by calling AM 7-3758.

The Tuberculosis Association adds that students, retired people, homemakers interested in office or clinic work may write or call for further information at 267-4245.

IS DRIVING RELAXING?

Many motorists enjoy driving for relaxation -- or do they? The Institute for Safer Living states that during a short drive on an average highway the average driver will be required to do the following: make a number of minor driving decisions and at least one major decision; take anywhere from 25 to 125 muscular actions per minute; take evasive action to avoid one or more hazardous situations; correct one or more driving errors; and make up to a hundred or more visual observations per minute requiring eye movement.

DO YOU FEEL FRUSTRATED

because, among other things, you haven't arranged for someone to take care of the cat? Or asked the Joneses next door to pick up your newspaper every day? Or made a reservation for the first night on the road? And tomorrow at 4 a.m. you're leaving for three weeks?
