Political Notes

The Burlington County Republican Committee organized Saturday by electing Joseph L. Thomas, Riverton, chairman; secretary, Harry L. Knight, Medford; treasurer, Carleton Haines, Tabernacle.

The County Democratic Committee met on Saturday and organized by electing the following officers: Chairman, Joseph L. Thomas, Riverton; secretary, Elmer E. Bogue, Medford; treasurer, William McConnell, Palmyra.

Among the nice things the Mount Holly News has to say about the candidates nominated at the primaries last week, we find the following: "George W. Rogers is on the ticket as the representative of the lower section of the 'river front.' But he is not one who will see only one side of the county. He is broadminded enough to know that there are other places that need attention. While he hails from Palmyra he has a large acquaintance all over the county, being in a business which takes him to every section. Mr. Rogers will make an admirable member of the body that will have the affairs of the county to look after the next three years."

Wasps to Fight Bees

The latest move of the experiment station at Westfield in its fight against the Japanese Bees, which is now infesting twenty-one square miles in Burlington and Camden counties, is the introduction of Hawaiian "killer-wasps" which are said to be the natural enemy of the bee.

These wasps, a little larger than the native "yellow jacket," burrow into the ground, seeking the eggs of the bee, upon which they deposit their own eggs. When the bee larvae hatch, the parasite from the wasp egg also hatched, kills the larger worm that feeds upon it. Scientists declare that rapid increase of the bees has been due to the absence of natural enemies, which keep them from becoming a dangerous pest in Japan.

The imported wasps have been released in wire cages over ground infested by the bees at the government's beetle control station near Riverton, where their activities as underground enemies of the bee will be closely observed. The wasps prove an effective foe, large quantities will be introduced and liberated in this section. The danger wasps will not attack human beings.

RED CROSS NEWS

On Thursday, October 9, Mrs. A. O. Ginter will be at Coddington's store from 9.30 until noon to give out wool and receive finished articles.

As Burlington is now preparing to send more refugee garments overseas, we hope all will make an extra effort to finish any Red Cross knitting on hand and return by that date.

Help us make the number of this first lot of knitted refugee garments sent from the Riverton Branch reach the 150 mark. We are not far from it. We have plenty of wool on hand and will continue knitting during the winter for refugees or home needs.

ELIZABETH P. GINTER, Chairman Knitting Committee.

Medals for Red Cross Workers

On Tuesday afternoon the Riverton Red Cross held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Murray C. Boyer for the purpose of awarding medals and certificates to those members who have worked 800 hours or more.

Each hour spent in the workshop was counted, as well as hours given to knitting and sewing garments at home. Time also for the first aid, elementary hygiene and surgical dressing classes were also included, and it was found that fifty-four of our members were to receive badges.

On Thursday of last week the last badges were received by the local chairman, and the Executive Board deemed it wise to award them at the earliest possible date, therefore it was impossible to notify any excepting those who were to receive them.

Seven members received medals on blue ribbon with two white stripes for 8400 hours or more. Thirteen medals on blue ribbon with one stripe for 1600 hours or more, and twenty-seven received a medal on plain blue ribbon signifying 800 or more hours. Those living in rural districts where the workshops were open only one or two days each week received mauve ribbons, to which the badges were attached—seven received these.

About thirty-five members attended the meeting, which was rather informal, and after all medals and certificates had been given out, Mrs. Boyer invited those present to adjourn to the dining room for a cup of tea. In conclusion, Mrs. Biddle announced that she had a few unfinished garments at her house, which she wishes the members would take home to finish.

Rummage Sale for Tuberculosis Funds

On Saturday, October 25, a rummage market will be held at Brown's Mills, at the club house, for the purpose of raising money to help with the fight against tuberculosis in Burlington county. The generous response to a similar appeal in the early spring warrants a second appeal of contributions to this big work. Anything is acceptable that the housewife or merchant can spare, especially clothing, hats shoes, pictures, books, ornaments, or groceries. Packages may be sent to Miss Hathaway at Brown's Mills, or to any member of the Anti-Tuberculosis League. Notification may also be sent of gifts to the Executive Secretary, Miss Margaret Haines, City Hall, Burlington, and arrangement will be made for collection. House cleaning time is almost at hand and many articles may be found that will be of value to those who will be patrons of the sale.

Football

The new grounds are located at Fourth and Linden avenue, and the game will start at 3.30 sharp.

The Riverton football team will open the season on October 4 with the Riverside team. This team is composed of all the men who could not get a berth on the first team, there having been so many candidates this year.

Riverton will be well represented with a few college stars, such as Stroble, of Villa Nova; Jamison, of Williamson; State and Cres, of Dartmouth, while Bowers, Kern and Lloyd will hold up Riverton's end. A good game is expected, so come out and give the boys a boost.

CHARLES TURNER, Treasurer W. M. JOHNSON, Jr., Secretary

The Negro Protective and Political League

of Burlington County, N. J.

Headquarters, Burlington, N. J.

Riverton, N. J., September 18, 1919.

Resolved:

That we, the Colored Citizens of Burlington County, New Jersey, assembled, hereby enter our protest against the proposed Covenant of the League of Nations; particularly so without amendments safeguarding America's Sovereignty, and the Monroe Doctrine. We protest, believing that our beloved George Washington's admonitions, warning us against entering European entanglements, hold as true today as when they were uttered.

We view with great alarm and distrust the ruthless rejection of Washington's policy, that has been our guiding star for more than one hundred years. And, substituting for it, this new Utopian and Academic dream, the League of Nations, that has for its object the regulation of all things and all Peoples, acting as mandatory, and becoming a general God-father to the oppressed Peoples of all climes, except the negro in our Southern States.

We hold that while the guiding hand of this League of Nations folly was so graphically describing its universal and alleged benevolent purpose in Versailles, millions of our colored Brothers in the Southern States, many of whom fought and died that this flag may still wave, are, and were disfranchised.

Another Flock of Burglars

Palmyra had a series of robberies early last Sunday, when a burglar or burglars entered nearly a dozen homes and stole several dollars in cash, a bicycle and a few other articles.

The burglar seemed to have a penchant for dining rooms, which he entered in almost every case by unlatched windows. At one of the homes entered did he go upstairs or show any inclination to molest the families robbed.

The raid started either on East Fifth street and wound up on Horace avenue or vice versa and occurred about 4 a. m.

At John Korr's house on Fifth near Maple the thief entered the dining room and reaped himself with the dish of prunes. At Robert Thomas' home nearby the netting was torn off a window, but the burglar got no further. John Coleman, who also lives on Fifth street, was awake helping take care of his daughter, who was ill, and heard a window downstairs being raised. The would-be intruder fled when Mr. Coleman started to investigate.

The thief was also scared off at Joseph Griffith's, on Morgan avenue, where the window was raised, due to the fact that Mr. Griffith was just getting up to go to work. At John Hunter's fourth and Morgan, it is believed that the burglar entered the house, but got nothing for his trouble.

At the home of Mr. Rogers, Garfield avenue near Fifth, a dish of fruit on the table went to help appease the burglar's appetite, but he got nothing else.

At E. H. Crowell's, the barking of a dog awakened Mrs. Crowell and her daughter in time for them to see a man going away from a side window of their home. They were reluctant to go downstairs and consequently did not notify the police.

On Cinnaminson avenue, near Fifth, the home of Jacob Lawson was entered, but the intruder fled without booty when he heard Miss Blanche Lawson, who had been awakened by the noise, call to her father.

The thief got better returns as he continued westward on Fifth. At George Murray's, on Leconey avenue, he got a ladies' gold watch, a fountain pen and a dollar and at Harding's, on Leconey, he took fifteen dollars which he found in a buffet drawer. Mrs. Kreck's home was entered but nothing taken.

Perhaps the most unfortunate loss was that suffered at the home of Mrs. Caroline Rodgers, on Horace avenue. Here a watch that had belonged to Mrs. Rodgers' son Fred, who was killed in action in the Argonne a year ago, was stolen. The watch was highly valued by the Rodgers family as a keepsake. One of Fred's brothers had carried the watch the night before and on coming home left his vest and coat hanging on a chair downstairs. The watch, a gold stickpin, a bicycle, and some small change were stolen by the thief.

The Rodgers boys had come home about three o'clock in the morning, which placed the time of the robbery after that hour.

The home of C. A. Fetterman, of Linden avenue, Riverton, also was entered Sunday morning. A fountain pen was the chief article taken.

The series of robberies were very similar to those which occurred early in March, 1918, and which indirectly led to the Home Guard tragedy at the High School building, and a more extensive raid on Parry and Morgan avenues late last May.

In this last instance Chief Beck has strong suspicions against a tribe of youths camping out on the Burlington Pike. The tribe moved on its way Sunday morning after spending the summer near here. Mr. Beck went out to the camp but could not find any of the missing articles or make the spies admit that they knew anything about the robberies. The spies are being passed through at the time of the robberies last May.

When a couple of small Italian boys entered the home of Mrs. Edgar W. Fox Sunday afternoon during Mr. Fox's absence and took $6 from the cash register, Chief Beck quickly located the guilty parties and recovered the money.

Everybody is cordially invited to attend the wedding of Miss Ellen Griffith and Mr. Albert Parker which will be solemnized at the home of the bride-to-be on Saturday evening, October 11.

Edward Durgin returned Sunday to the Naval Academy at Annapolis.

Football Team Elect Officers
The Palmyra football team met at the home of Charlie Bates on Thursday evening and elected John Saar manager and Charlie Bates captain.

The Palmyra Club grounds have been rented for the season and the first game will be played October 11. All candidates are asked to be out for practice this Saturday afternoon.

On October 15 the boys will run a benefit at the movies, having obtained the film, "Other Men's Wives," starring Dorothy Dalton.

The boys have banded themselves together for the purpose of representing Palmyra with a football team the equal of any other team along the line and request the cordial support of the public.

Charter Members American Legion
The charter member of the American Legion Post which is being organized in Palmyra are:

It is expected that Lieut. Clifford Powell, of Mount Holly, will be present to make an address and assist in the organization of the post.

Richard R. Wood Back From France

Richard R. Wood, son of Edward S. Wood, of Cinnaminson, has just returned from a year's service with the American Friends' Reconstruction Unit in France. Mr. Wood sailed August 22, 1918, and was first stationed at Villers-sous-Chailles, near Paris, where the Friends are repairing the damaged houses. He was head of the Maintenance Department there and had charge of securing food for the six equips in the district. He later left for the area west of Verdun, where the Friends' Unit is rebuilding the whole area. He was next stationed at Aubreville in the Building Department, and had charge of the group there in August, this year. Aubreville is one of the forty villages the Friends are rebuilding in the country which was more devastated than any other, but are also plowing the fields, threshing the grain, distributing relief supplies of all sorts, running co-operative stores where goods can be obtained at less than cost, and in general making it possible for life to begin again. About 1,600 houses have been there during the summer and about 300 will remain until spring to assist the population to face the hardships of the coming winter.

Since returning from France Mr. Wood has entered his junior year at Haverford College.

More Trains for Palmyra
J. H. Abdl, chairman of the public utility committee of the Improvement Association, who recently took up the matter of better train service with the Pennsylvania Railroad on behalf of the Improvement Association, has received a letter from A. B. Clark, superintendent of the Trenton Division, stating that when the new schedule goes into effect October 12, it is expected that a train leaving Philadelphia 4 p. m. weekdays and another leaving Philadelphia at 10:45 p. m. will be added.

Mr. Clark also promised to rearrange the Sunday schedule.

Several trains are now being run with extra sections during the rush hours and all are crowded. Owing to the fact that the extra sections have in many cases been unannounced, many commuters have had a run thinking they were about to miss their train when the first section pulls in ahead of time.

Do You Own the Home You are Paying For?
A very wise philosopher said once upon a time:

"Every normal man desires a house of his own. He does not merely want a roof above him and a chair below him; he wants an objective and visible kingdom; a fire at which he can cook what food he likes, a door he can open upon what friends he chooses. This is the normal aspiration of man."

What have you been doing toward satisfying this craving for a home? Have you been systematically laying a little away for the purchasing of one, or has the landlord been acting as your agent and taking your monthly rentals and paying them into some building association, which will eventually present him with a cancelled mortgage for the house you have been paying for? Think it all over, and start on October 12, 1919, to pay for your own home. The Cinnaminson Building and Loan Association will open a new series of stock, and you may subscribe for one or more shares and be entitled to all its privileges at once.

Meetings are held monthly in the Cinnaminson National Bank of Riverton, N. J.

K. of C. Will Celebrate Columbus Day

The Columbus Day Celebration Committee announce the completion of their plans for the evening of October 14th. The speakers, Miss Katherine Bregy, Harvey M. Watts, Judge James J. Gorman, were announced last week. The artists appear on the program are Miss Mary R. Fay, of Oak Lane, soprano soloist at the Church of the Nativity, Philadelphia; and St. Mary's Church, Gloucester City. Miss Fay is a pupil of Abby Keely, and was very recently offered professorship of music at Bucknell University. The tenor soloist is Wilbur Harwig, of the Philadelphia Cathedral choir, who is the possessor of an unusually good voice. Henry Holt, the final soloist, is such a well-known name in the musical world that it seems unnecessary to add anything to his record. The music will be furnished by the Neapolitan Quartet.

Inasmuch as the P. O. S. of A. Hall is unable for the anticipated attendance of the committee will appreciate requests for cards of invitation from those really desirous of spending a pleasant evening at the guests of the Knights of Columbus. Invitations will be mailed during the coming week and a request of Theodore Earle Jennings, Box 455, will receive prompt attention.

F. C. Ends With a Victory
The Field Club wound up the regular baseball season last Saturday by defeating the K. of C. team from Riverside by 1-0.

Palmyra scored in the first inning when McMillin walked. Stark and Good and Russell Gibson cracked out a single.

The remainder of the game was rather listless. Flynn holding the Riverton batsmen with ease and adding a bunch of strikeouts to his long list.

Why Brunswick Tires Win Preference

There are two main reasons—one, the name itself, which certifies superfine value—the other, that time tells the same story.

Thus reputation and performance unite in giving you all you expect—and more.

Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires. Many motorists would pay more, readily, but the Brunswick idea is to GIVE the utmost, rather than to GET the utmost. And this has been true since 1845. You can appreciate what Brunswick Standards mean by trying ONE Brunswick Tire. It will be a revelation. You'll agree that you could not buy a better, regardless of price.

And, like other motorists, you'll decide to have ALL Brunswicks. Then you'll know supreme satisfaction from your tires—longer life, minimum trouble, lower cost.

NIGHT AND DAY CAMP IS LIFE SAVING STATION

Tuberculosis kills 150,000 persons in the United States every year. These two women escaped. They are shown in the Night and Day Camp conducted by the St. Louis Society for the Relief and Prevention of Tuberculosis. They are among the fortunate ones because they knew how to take care of themselves when this great menace threatened them. They knew that the cure lies in plenty of fresh air, even if the temperature is away below freezing, sunlight, good food and rest under proper medical supervision. Tuberculosis is not only curable but is preventable as well.

The prevention lies largely in right living, in building up a strong bodily resistance. Eight out of ten persons are infected at some time in their lives, according to figures of the National Tuberculosis Association, the leading agency in the United States in the fight upon this disease. This organization is sponsor for the annual Red Cross Christmas Seal sale, from which the funds to carry on the work throughout the year are chiefly derived.

Mystical Thirteen.

In the Indian Pantheon there are 13 Buddhas; the apex of an Indian or Chinese pagoda is crowned with 13 mystical disks. The sacred word, preserved in the Temple of Atsuta, in Japan, has 13 objects of mystery forming its hilt. When playing whist and many other games of cards each player has 13 cards and the pack is made up of four suits of 13 each.

Drew Many to Worship.

Describing the three fair daughters of an aristocratic New Yorker a century or so ago a writer of the period says: "The father used to take his daughters to the church of Doctor Matthews, that stood in Garden street. Such a lovely trio were rarely seen. They took all the young gallants from the other downtown church and drew a full house."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 5

JOHN AND PETER BECOME DISCIPLES OF JESUS.

LESSON TEXT—John 1:28-42.
GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus said unto him, follow me—John 1:43.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Matt. 9:9; Mark 2:13-17; John 1:41-43.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Finding the best friend.
JUNIOR TOPIC—John and Peter decide to follow Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Becoming disciples of Jesus.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Claims of Christ upon all men.

1. John the Baptist Testifies to His Disciples Concerning Jesus (vv. 28-34).

2. Jesus as the Lamb of God (v. 29). "Lamb" was familiar to the Jewish mind. It denoted a substitutionary sacrifice for sin. Christ was the true lamb to which every sacrificial offering pointed. He was the lamb which Israel showed should be brought to the slaughter (Isa. 53:7), upon whom the Lord laid man's iniquity. Christ was God's lamb because he was the one set apart from the foundation of the world to make atonement for man's sins (1 Pet. 1:18-20). John invited his disciples to behold the Lamb of God.

3. The Baptist with the Holy Ghost (vv. 35-37).

The Spirit descended upon him as Isaiah said (Isa. 11:2). John then knew for a certainty that he was the baptizer with the Holy Ghost. The same Holy Spirit will be given to all who ask for him (Luke 11:13).

4. Jesus is the Son of God (v. 34). Being the son of God he is one in nature with God.

5. Two Disciples Following Jesus (vv. 35-37).

As a result of the Baptist's testimony, two of the disciples leave him and follow Jesus. At John's request they looked. This look was sufficient to induce them to follow Jesus. A sincere look upon Jesus is always sufficient. John did not become envious of Christ's success, but rejoiced in it (John 3:28-29). All Sunday school teachers should so witness that the pupils will look to a follow Jesus. This is the whole method, the sum and substance of salvation.

6. The Disciples Abiding With Jesus (vv. 38, 39).

Seeing the disciples following him, Jesus made inquiry as to their object. Their reply showed the desire to go apart privately where they could disclose their hearts to him. He invited them to his abode, where for the remainder of that day they enjoyed sweet intercourse with him.

7. The Disciples Bringing Others to Jesus (vv. 40-42).

Having found by experience what fellowship with Jesus means, they go at once and tell others of their priceless treasure.

8. Andrew brings Peter (vv. 40-42). Peter was Andrew's brother. A true brother who has found Christ will go and tell his brethren. The proper place to begin witnessing for Christ is among one's kindred (Luke 8:20).

9. Philip brings Nathaniel (vv. 43-45). He witnessed to him concerning the messiahship of Jesus. He told them that Christ was he of whom Moses and the prophets did speak. Christ is the sum and substance of the Old Testament.

The disciples invited others to come and see. They knew that if they would but put Jesus to the test they would believe. Christianity courts investigation (John 7:17).

Cheerfulness.

Better to be small and shine, than to be great and cast a shadow. Cheerfulness is God's medicine. Everybody ought to bathe in it. Grim care, anxiety and all the rest of life can be scoured off with the oil of cheerfulness.

Love Never Tires.

Love is indefatigable; it never tires. Love is inexhaustible; it lives and is born again of itself, and the more it pours itself forth, the more it abounds.—Do Lancelotti.

Save $5.00 to $7.50

on Hoover Cleaners

Fall Cleaning

By Miss A. B. Swann.

Now is fall cleaning time. The renovating and refurbishing of the home for the winter season begins.

Comfort and cheerfulness are the ends sought, and the first step is cleaning.

Cretone cushions that have been used through the summer should be ripped and washed. If made of a light weight cretone, dip in starch water to renew original dressing. Iron on wrong side to prevent gloss.

If cushion is an upholstered one and looks shabby and dusty, the suction cleaning of a vacuum cleaner will readily remove embedded dust and dirt and greatly brighten the cover.

If cover is too shabby for another season, use old cover as a pattern and recover cushion, and you have, at little expense, added greatly to the appearance of your home.

All draperies and rugs need not be carried about. With the vacuum cleaner each article may be cleaned in its place, easily and without exertion.

If these articles are cleaned a little each week, the heavy, old-fashioned house-cleaning will be no longer necessary.

Buy Now and Save

If you buy your Hoover Cleaner now you will save money.

Because on November 1st the price of the Baby Hoover advances from $47.50 to $52. The price of the Hoover Special advances from $57.50 to $65.

The Hoover is three cleaners in one. It suction cleans, sweeps and beats.

Neither buried dirt, nor clinging dirt, nor surface dirt can remain when you use a Hoover.

It is a thorough cleaner, and it brightens the rug because it restores the crushed nap to its original position.

It is the only cleaner that beats, as it sweeps, as it cleans.

Price $46.13 for cash, or $47.50 on easy terms.

Do You Know About Radiantfire?

The open fire that will insure a comfortable living and dining room every minute of these changeable fall days.

Radiantfire is an open, glowing fire, without sparks or smoke—just cheerful heat that costs less than a coal or wood open fire.

Styles and sizes of Radiantfires are available for library, den or bedroom, as well as living room and dining room, at prices from $21.50 to $68.40.

The attractive rustic model shown is $38 cash, or $40 on monthly payments.

May we suggest that you look into the merits of this appliance at your earliest opportunity, as there is bound to be a tremendous demand for it later on, and manufacturers are experiencing great difficulty even now in making deliveries.

Prices on Ranges and Water Heaters Going Higher

Not next year, but next month some makes will have to be advanced, because manufacturers have already advanced prices to us from 5 to 10 per cent.

You will save if you buy now and be sure of getting just what you want. Later there will likely be a delay in filling orders for gas ranges and water heaters.

We will sell our present stock of ranges and water heaters at prices prevailing now.

The gas range shown is the popular Acorn small type cabinet range, suitable for the small kitchen, requiring only 29 inches floor space.

It has one giant burner, three regular burners and simmering burner.

Bake oven is 14x18x14 inches and will conveniently bake six one-pound loaves of bread satisfactorily.

Broiling oven is 14x18x10 inches and will broil fish, steak or chops to your taste.

It is equipped with enamel panels, drip and broiler pans, also burner handles.

White Mazdas

Milk White Mazdas give a brilliant light. The Milk White Glass protects the eyes from glare. Made only in 50-watt sizes. Lamps of right voltage delivered at your door.

PUBLIC SERVICE

THE PLACE to buy gas and electric labor-saving devices on "easy terms."

THE trend of automobile engineering points to the 8-cylinder car. And good buying judgment points to the Oldsmobile.

We aimed higher than simply pioneering the "eight." We aimed to produce one of moderate price and low maintenance costs.

—that had the flexibility, smoothness and abundance of power inherent in the 8-cylinder car.

—that cost as little to buy and operate as the majority of "sixes" and many "fours."

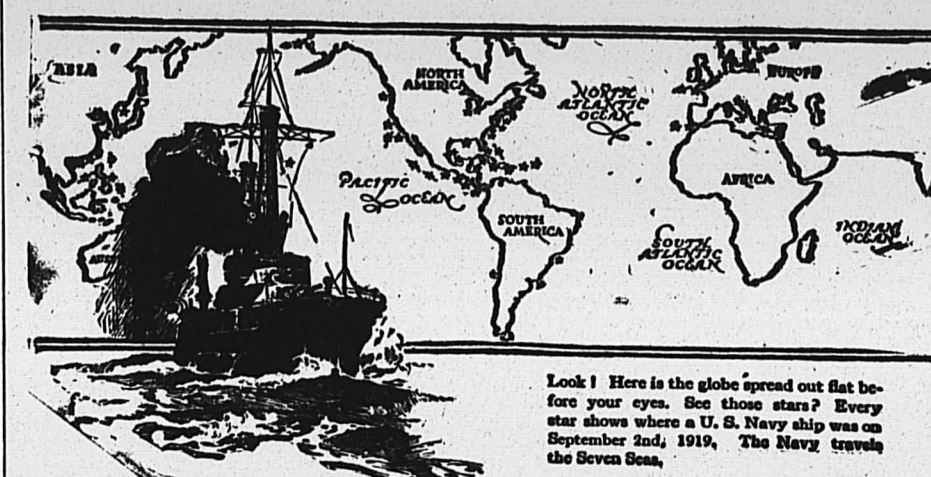

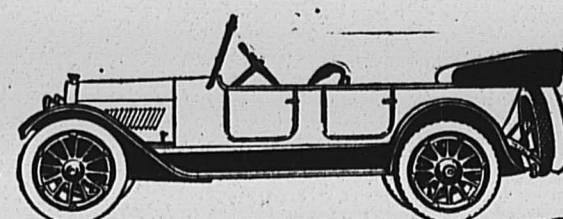

—that would be smartly distinctive, yet characteristically Oldsmobile.

Our aim is attained in the "THORO-BRED"—the only popular priced "eight" in which mechanical excellence is combined with rare riding comfort and up-to-the-minute body lines. Oldsmobiles have been the history-makers of motordom; the "THORO-BRED" is well worthy to perpetuate the name.

Descriptive literature will be sent upon request, or a demonstration gladly arranged.

Something You Can Do

A very imperative call from Constantinople for work and new clothing for this winter's use has been received by Julian Zelchenko, State Secretary of the Near East Relief, formerly the American Community for Armenian and Syrian Relief, at the New Jersey Headquarters, 800 Broad street, Newark.

In Karakales (Caucasus) the report comes that the children are still wearing the rags in which they were picked up off the streets. The State Committee has announced that the week of October 15-22 has been set aside for the collection of garments for the Armenian women and children.

Christmas is less than three months off. You and yours will be comfortable and happy. Will you give in appreciation, give from your abundance a mite to make the lot of these unfortunate little ones a bit less unhappy?

Call up Riverton 201-w and your contribution will be sent for, and The New Era will see that the accumulated garments are properly packed and pay the expressage to New York, from which point to Constantinople transportation has been provided for.

The attention of property owners is called to the ordinance prohibiting the burning of leaves in the streets. It is a bad practice, anyway, as it gives a very untidy appearance to our well-kept streets, and if burned near cement curbs the result is likely to be a bad crack followed by crumbling.

When Mrs. S. J. Coddington returned from the city last evening, after spending the evening out, she had no idea a sneak thief was hiding in the house, and it was not until her son, Frank, came in a little later that the fact became known. It is supposed that the man had secreted himself when Mrs. Coddington came in, but that when he heard a man's footsteps thought it was time to get away. He jumped from a second-story window.

A "Real Ghost"

The ghost scare re-appeared on Cinnaminson street. This time there is something to it, too. Wednesday night a young man living in the haunted section saw an apparition in the back yard. Calling to get some friends well known for their undoubted courage they set out to investigate. The leader of the "spirited investigators," who was a little in the rear, carried half a brick. When he got just within his known range and aim, he left fly. There was a swish of white drapery, and with a sound like a hollow mallet the thing sank to the ground. The girls who had staged the trick broke forth in howls of glee. Once the spook was felled the ghostly matter was soon discovered that its anatomy consisted of a clothes tree, and its "shroud" of a white skirt and some towels. The spook's dent in the pole is proudly shown as evidence of the prowess of the young man who shed the brick. We were tempted to give the name of the hero of the adventure and his companions, including the young professional man, but our caution got the better of us.

New Card Game a Nuisance

Many residents have expressed annoyance over the repeated ringing of door bells by children who ask them to "take a chance," producing a card with discs to be punched out, costing anywhere from a nickel to a quarter. It has been asked, for what benefit is this plan being worked? So far as we have been able to learn, it is primarily for the benefit of the dealer who promotes the scheme, and there is grave doubt as to the legality of the scheme.

The Mount Holly News has this to say: "A matter that has been called to the attention of the authorities is the practice of children running around town with cards soliciting people to punch a hole and take a chance on a doll. The scheme is to put a hole in a designated space and whatever number is drawn is the amount that the child who solicits gets a doll for her work. Beside being a nuisance it is claimed that the scheme is as much a lottery or gambling device as the slot machines, and the authorities have been asked to have it stopped. The person who furnishes the cards undoubtedly make a good profit."

The Riverton Branch of the American Red Cross will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers on Thursday afternoon, October 16, at 8 o'clock, at the Porch Club. All members are urged to be present.

Memorial Park Plan Abandoned

The special committee appointed by the Mayor to ascertain, if possible, the probable purchase price of the plot of ground on the Drexler estate desired for a memorial park, reported that it had been unable to get the desired information, and that it would be necessary to institute condemnation proceedings in order to do so. The committee recommended that this project be abandoned, and the suggestion was unanimously accepted. The same committee, composed of Messrs. Atlee, Murray and Corser, were re-appointed to bring in a recommendation for some other plan. The proposed home for the visiting nurse was spoken of.

Mr. Atlee, a member of the highway committee, brought to the attention of Council, as a result of the recommendation of the Mayor in his annual message the first of the year, the condition of many sidewalks and curbs in the borough. He submitted plans, tables and maps, showing the condition of every property in relation to sidewalks and curbs, where improved or in need of repair, and where none existed. With the report was a resolution calling for the preparation of an ordinance requiring proper paving and curbing of every property on both sides of all streets, where such improvements do not already exist in good condition. The whole matter was discussed at length, and the consensus of opinion was that the only way to get the thing properly done was to do it, without favoritism or partiality to anyone. It was also thought it would be well to get it done and paid for before the taxpayers are called upon to put their hands in their pockets for the sewer disposal plant. The matter was referred to the highway committee to make a full report as to details and methods at the next meeting.

Louis Corser, chairman of the finance committee, raised a question as to the advisability of paying nearly $500 a year for fire, theft and liability insurance on the fire trucks. After some discussion it was unanimously decided to cancel all insurance on the fire apparatus.

William K. Matthe, chairman of the highway committee, objected to a bill of $150 over the contract price from the Barrett Company, which treated with traffic on the new road above the railroad. He said that the representative of the company had assured him that a certain grade of oil would make a satisfactory job, but that after it had been put on it was not up to expectations. He took the matter up with the company and they put on another coat of a different grade, for which a charge of $150 was made. The clerk was instructed to take the matter up with the company for adjustment.

Chairman Davis, of the lighting committee, reported that he had ordered two gas lights, one at Broad and Elm, and one on Elm avenue between Harrison and Broad streets. This will necessitate an extension of the gas main on Elm avenue between Harrison and Broad. Incidentally, this extension will enable residents in that neighborhood to secure gas service in their homes.

The clerk read a communication from the Pennsylvania Railroad company, stating that it was not at present in a position to comply with the request of the borough in the matter of improving the roadway around the Riverton station to conform with the proposed roadway to be laid by the county and borough. The clerk said that he had received a letter from the Public Service Railway Company to his communication to them on the same subject.

The clerk also read a letter from the county clerk, acknowledging the order of the borough to the board of freeholders to construct the improved roadway to the curb line in Riverton. He was instructed to acknowledge the letter and request a copy of the specifications and the work which was to be done, and a statement of what had been accomplished toward getting the railroad and trolley companies to do their part.

The light committee was authorized to advertise for bids for lighting the borough for the next five years.

The following bills were ordered paid: Charles G. Davis, salary and expenses—work on streets—$208.44; Louis Corser, salary—$100.00; Taylor Paving Co., cement work—$120.00; Miller Miller, salary—$33.33; William Quigley—$1.00; L. F. Lowden, signs—$4.00; Public Service Electric Co.—$24.54; Walter L. Bowen, printing—$27.00; Interest—$7.75.

An Old-Timer Thinks the Riverton Team Good

The game played last Saturday between Riverton and Riverside on the Riverton grounds, at Fourth and Linden avenues, was a first-class, worthwhile seeing, as from the first blow of the whistle until time was called at the end of the last quarter, it was a hot battle.

There were not any arguments on the decisions of the officials and neither team hardly called a time out during the whole game; both teams played good snappy foot ball from start to finish, which is certainly the way foot ball should be played. Keep it up, boys, and the crowd you had with you Saturday will stay with you and bring their friends.

I think there are still some kinks which you will have to work out of your team, but it looks pretty good for a starter, and with a little hard practice and more experience you should have a very good team, and I certainly hope you will be able to develop it into an aggregation such as Riverton had in former years.

Plans for Smoke Docks Under Way

At the meeting of the Board of Education, Monday night, the Property Committee reported that the parties who are to construct the smoke docks required by the State Board, had been asked for plans to be submitted to the State authorities before proceeding with the work. The committee also reported that two drinking fountains had been installed in the basement.

The Teachers' Committee recommended that no teacher be sequestered to take the place of Miss Harris, who had asked for a leave of absence, as it was thought she would be able to return to her duties in much less time than was at first anticipated. Miss Cunningham will take charge of the morning exercises, and Miss Gaskill will teach Miss Harris's class in geography.

The principal reported that the banking department had made deposits amounting to $44.11. No deposits had been made by the eighth grade.

Mr. Turner announced the reception to the members of the Board, the teachers and parents, by the Parent-Teacher Association, of which he is first vice-president, and extended an invitation to the members to be present. He also reported that he had been collected for the memorial building, to be erected at Trenton for the soldiers and sailors. The State asks that every child in the public schools shall give one dollar.

Permission was granted to John M. Hughes to use the auditorium for a dance two nights a month.

The principal called the attention of the Board to the discipline in the fifth grade, where the pupils are unusually troublesome. The matter was discussed at some length and held under further consideration. It was felt that strange as it may seem, adopted if necessary. Several complaints had been received from parents that the room was so noisy that the children desired to go to bed.

The following bills were ordered paid: Teachers' salaries—$1122.75; Janitor's salary—$33.33; Trust officer—$7.50; J. H. Yeager—$1.50; Books and supplies—$26.40; Printing—$19.50; Gas and fuel—$24.64; Repairs—$19.95.

Riverton 6-Riverside 28-6

Riverton and Riverside played a clean and bitterly contested game last night on the Riverton grounds, at Fourth and Linden avenues, and a fine crowd of spectators seemed to thoroughly enjoy it.

Both teams were evenly matched, and although Riverton threatened to score in the second quarter, they were unable to put it over the goal line until the third period, and then owing to one of their players (in his enthusiasm over his teammate making a score) he let the ball up, and they were not allowed a try to kick the goal. But every one thought that after Riverton scored they had the game won, as Riverside had not been able to make any consistent gains, but with only about two minutes to play, Riverside intercepted one of Riverton's forward passes on the thirty yard line, and after a couple of futile attempts to run the ball, they threw a long forward pass, one of their men receiving it close to Riverton's goal, and carried it over for a touchdown with only ten more seconds to play. It then certainly looked black for Riverton, as all Riverside had to do was kick a goal and we would have gone down to defeat, but the kick was from a difficult angle and luck must have been with us as they missed the goal by a scant yard.

Riverton's all-around defensive playing, forward passes by Sharp and Corser, and the carrying of the ball by Jamison and Stroblein featured, while the all-around work of Bill McIlhenny for Riverside was admired by all.

Timeouts—Stroblein. Time of quarters—10, 8, 14, 8 minutes.

Greer—W. Faunce. Umpire—F. Holvik. Timekeepers—J. Durgin, J. Haas.

Palmyra Out for Football Championship

The Palmyra Independent football team, which has given itself the rather large order of bringing the championship of South Jersey to Palmyra, will play its first game this Saturday at the Field Club park.

The Victrola club, of North Philadelphia, will be the first opponents of the local stars. This team beat Holmesburg in the first game played this season, and is scheduled to lock horns with such teams as Conshohocken, the Billiken Club, of Norristown, and will meet Riverside two weeks hence.

Riverside, by the way, has held the South Jersey championship for seven years, and the Palmyra boys will meet them late in the season for a deciding game.

The local team is understood to have plenty of heat and speed, comprising the "Hardy Perennials," who were well known in football circles when the game had its big run here a few years back, as well as several speedy and clever younger sprouts.

The boys have been practicing hard for two weeks and expect to show real class in their first sets.

Games called Saturday afternoon at 2.30 and the support of the town for the revival of the sport is cordially requested.

The team's movie benefit comes of next Wednesday.

Bugbee's Majority Over Runyon's 6369; Y. to Edwards' Margin Over Nugent is 12,649.

273,738 BALLOTS CAST

Trenton.—The official count of the primary election vote has been tabulated by the secretary of state and the result was announced. It shows that State Comptroller Bugbee was nominated on the Republican ticket by a majority of 6369 over Governor Runyon, and that State Senator Edwards was given the Democratic nomination by a majority of 12,649 over Nugent, the next highest man.

The total vote in the Democratic primaries for governor was 104,008, while the Republican vote was 108,720, or 43,802 more. Bugbee received 24,245 and Runyon 57,878, while Edwards' vote was 56,821 and Nugent's 43,812.

Fifteen of the twenty-one counties were carried by Edwards and Nugent got the remaining six. Bugbee carried 12 counties, Runyon eight and Commissioner Raymond, of Newark, one.

Each of the candidates demonstrated his popularity with the voters of his home county. Edwards carried Hudson by the overwhelming plurality of 20,849, while Essex went to Nugent by 12,820. Mercer gave Bugbee, her "favorite son," a plurality of 5722, and Union did almost as well by Runyon with 2277. The vote of Runyon in Essex was 1378 in excess of the combined vote of Bugbee and Runyon. Warren C. King, who "also ran" on the Republican ticket, polled 7278 votes. His schedule of campaign expenses filed with the secretary of state showed an outlay of $15,000, so that each vote involved an expenditure of a little more than $2. Frank McDermott, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, received 5005 votes, at a cost of $183.

On the theory that they must look to the state board of taxation to uphold their action in case any difficulty is encountered, the members of the Sussex county board of taxation decided to confer with the state body before sending out any instructions to assessors in this county. The county board compiled a list of the rates of all municipalities in the county with an indication of the percentage of true valuation of all towns, townships and boroughs. This list will not be made public until after the conference with the state board, which was arranged by telephone for Tuesday morning in Trenton.

The county board has completed its inspection of all taxing districts in the county and of several other counties on a par with Sussex. These other counties the board found to be assessed, on the whole, for about 9 per cent. of their true value. Sussex is assessed, the board says, "anywhere from fifteen to ninety."

Previous to its meeting the board felt that the right thing to do would be to equalize the assessments in Sussex on a basis comparative with the other agricultural counties. At the meeting the fact that the board might need the backing of the state was taken as a warrant for staying the whole matter before the board before any definite action is taken. The board's attitude is that all it wants is equalization of the tax burden in the county and will proceed on whatever basis the state board decides.

From action of the state board of taxation in the past it is held here to be doubtful that that body will hereafter reassess the assessment of any district on a basis less than 100 per cent. of the value of its property on a "dear open and shut" proposition of this kind. Members of the board feel that if the state body decrees that Sussex county must be assessed at its true value it will make a similar ruling with reference to other agricultural counties.

Morris Aqueduct Price.

Morrisstown, whose voters by a large majority have gone on record as favoring municipal ownership and disapproval of the program is over the heads of the Morris aqueduct, look, stock and barrel, for less than three quarters of a million dollars, and may do so without resort to condemnation proceedings. The actual figure submitted to the board of estimates, which it obtained from its consulting engineers, Morris H. Sherrerd, of Newark, and Cornelius C. Vermeule, of East Orange, who set an even $1,000,000 as a fair figure. But it is considerably in excess of that set by Edward W. Bemis, economist, and George W. Fuller, consulting engineer, who were engaged to appraise the property for the town. They thought it worth $800,000.

No decision was reached, the subject being referred to the fire committee for consideration and report. There was no intimation as to whether the aldermen regarded the price set by the directors of the aqueduct in their communication as being reasonable. This explained that the value was computed on a basis of taking over the outstanding bonded obligations, and the stock of the concern at about $80 per share. The stock has a par value of $50.

Fight on Pension Law.

The enrollment committee of the State Teachers' association, in session at Atlantic City, gave notice that the fight for changes in the Pension teachers' pension bill will be renewed aggressively at the next session of the legislature. It was claimed that women teachers are "no good after thirty-five years of age." Taking 20 years as the average beginning age of more than 90 per cent of the young women who make teaching a career, State association leaders argue that the state law either should provide for retirement with pension at 55 years or after 35 years' service. Under the present act no teacher can retire with a pension until he or she reaches the age of 62. The claim of the teachers is that during the last term seven years beneficiaries under the act are next to useless, worn out, and compelled to hang on to get the pittance to protect themselves against want. The age limit will be a bone of contention in the annual session of the State association here in December.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 12. FISHERS OF MEN.

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:14-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I will make you to become fishers of men."—Mark 1:17.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Matt. 4:18-22; Luke 5:1-11; 14:13-21; James 3:13, 20.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Helping others to know Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Peter and John become workers for Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The work of a disciple.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Ways of winning men to Christ.

1. Jesus Preaching in Galilee (vv. 14, 15).
The reason why he changed from Judea to Galilee was the growing opposition to him. The fate of John the Baptist he accepted as foreboding his own death. The rejection of the forerunner meant the rejection of him whose advent he heralded. Prudence moved him to a more remote region, where he would attract less attention and be free from opposition. Besides this it gave less favored people an opportunity to hear the gospel, according to the prophetic word (Isa. 9:1, 2). It foreshadowed the gospel to the Gentiles.

2. How he preached (v. 15). (1) "The time is fulfilled and the Kingdom of God is at hand." This meant that the time had now come for the appearance of the Messiah and the establishment of his Kingdom. (2) "Repent." This meant that the people should turn around, change their minds and attitude toward Christ the King and accept him as their King. This is a message which needs to be sounded out today. People should be called upon to repent of their sins. (3) "Believe the gospel." Then, as now, men need to believe the gospel of Christ's death for their sins and resurrection for justification (1 Cor. 15:1-4; Rom. 4:25).

11. Jesus Calling Disciples to Become Fishers of Men (vv. 16-20).
1. Who were called (vv. 16, 17). Simon and Andrew, John and James, two pairs of brothers. It is usually best to render the Lord's service in fellowship—in pairs. This is not only necessary for effective testimony, but for needed fellowship on the part of workers and protection of the witnesses. These all had previously been called to Christ for salvation; they had become his disciples (John 1:35-42). They are now called to service. This is always his way. We are first called to be disciples, then called to have fellowship with him in service.

2. From what they were called (vv. 16, 20). They were called from positions of definite service. God always chooses his servants from the ranks of the employed. The lazy man is not likely to have a call.

3. To what they were called (v. 17). To be "fishers of men." They no doubt had been successful fishers. The qualities which made them good fishers, namely, patience, bravery to face the storm and night, and perseverance which led them to toil all night, though no fish were caught, would make them good fishers of men. It requires patience, bravery and perseverance to win souls for Christ.

4. Their call to obedience (vv. 18, 20). To obey meant sacrifice, painful separation, to give up all business interests and leave their father behind. Regardless of the cost, they yielded prompt obedience. They gave up business and home, not even inquiring as to where their salaries were to come from. They put their trust in him who called them, believing that he was able to supply all their needs.
5. Their reward (v. 17). These four men have wielded wondrous influence in the world. Their names have become immortal. Had they remained at their business they would only have been humble fishermen. When Christ calls let us promptly obey, for eventually it will pay. It will yield one hundredfold in this life, and eternal life in the world to come.

JERSEY TO HELP STARVING JEWS

Non-Sectarian Drive in October to Raise $1,000,000 for War Sufferers.

CAMPAIGN TO LAST FOR WEEK.

Five Million People in One Section of Poland at Point of Starvation. Children Have Little Chance to Live.

A non-sectarian drive to help the Jewish War Sufferers of Europe will be conducted in New Jersey from October 20 to 28. It is planned to raise at least $1,000,000 in this State of the $35,000,000 asked for in the nation. Quotas for all counties have not been decided upon, but those which have been selected are: Essex, $400,000; Bergen, $400,000; Hudson, $150,000; Middlesex, $50,000; Monmouth, $30,000; Morris, $50,000; Passaic, $100,000; Atlantic, $10,000; Sussex, $2,000, and Union, $100,000.

Felix Fuld of Newark is Chairman of the State Committee. The other members are Abe J. Diamond, Louis Bamberger, Lewis Strauss, Nathan Bliedner and Louis Bamberger of Newark. Alexander Kaufman of Elizabeth, Sigmund Eisner of Red Bank, Harry M. Friend of East Orange, Simon Gerson of Trenton, Harry L. Schwartz of Dover, Abraham J. Levin of New Brunswick; A. A. Meinkner of Jersey City, William Newcorn of Plainfield, Harry Sals of Keyport and Charles Rosenberg of Hackensack.

There are, it is estimated, about 100,000,000 Jews in the world. Of all of them, 70 per cent live in the war-swept countries. Fully 6,000,000 Jews in Poland, Czechoslovakia, former Austria-Hungary, Russia, Lithuania, Siberia, Palestine, the Balkans and the Orient are today totally dependent upon outside aid for life's necessities. As an example of the sufferings in some parts of Europe, the story of the people of the River Bug, in Poland, will suffice. Little has been heard of this vast territory since the war started. The river's eastern shore bounds a one side the hungriest and most stricken territory in the world today. Five million people are at the point

For every use.

On buildings with broad roof areas, on soaring sky-scrapers, and all kinds of farm buildings, Certain-teed Roofing is giving lasting and complete weather protection.

On every sort of building it is turning back rain and snow, heat and cold, year after year, with almost no up-keep cost. Severe weather cannot affect it.

Certain-teed Roofing is easily and quickly laid by anyone who will follow the directions that come with the roll. It costs less than the ordinary kind of roofing—and lasts much longer. It stands against sparks—a real fire protection. It cannot corrode or rust.

For your buildings new or old—large or small—in the city or country—Certain-teed is the logical roofing investment.

Certain-teed is made in rolls, both smooth and rough surfaced (red or green)—also in handsome red or green asphalt shingles for residences. Certain-teed is extra quality—the name means certainty of quality and satisfaction guaranteed. It will pay you to get Certain-teed—most dealers sell it. Ask for Certain-teed and be sure to get it.

of starvation, according to figures given out by the American Jewish Relief Committee and compiled by the American Red Cross and the American Jewish Relief agents. A great number of them are Jews. The war has left 6,000,000 destitute and stricken Jews in Eastern Europe, a number as great as the entire population of New York City, utterly helpless, in many cases sick, and in every case hungry and dependent.

East of the River Bug these people are living in devastated houses, in stalls of old stables, on roofless platforms built for refugee families, one family to a platform; in old freight cars, in holes in the ground or under the open sky. They are weak from many months of semi-starvation, for they have gone five years without one square meal. They are still terrified from the war. Their number is being reduced every day by a series of the most terrible epidemics that ever swept any section of the world.

Typhus, cholera and smallpox are all raging in the territory east of the Bug. The first and most general of these epidemics is carried simply by body lice. At least one member of every fifth or sixth family is stricken with some form of it, as is inevitable among people clad in five-year-old rags, people who have not had a bath with soap or a change of clothing since the beginning of the war. No estimate of the actual numbers of those smitten with typhus in Poland has as yet been compiled, but it is probably greater than in Siberia, where the American Red Cross found 100,000 cases.

If all the people in the territory east of the Bug River could be fed properly at once, disease would soon disappear, doctors in the afflicted region say. If they could replace the rags which they have worn since the beginning of the war with fresh clothing, the epidemics would cease to spread. If their living places could be made habitable and clean, it would no longer be as it is today, the most desolate expanse of land in the world. It is toward this end that the two great organizations, one of Gentiles and the other of Jews, are working hand in hand, differences of creed forgotten in the great practical need they face.

Two Organizations at Work.

The Red Cross personnel has been trebled in the last few weeks in this district. American Jewish Relief Agencies are feeding hundreds of children there. In the desolate little towns in this lost and forlorn land their workers are constantly coming on children in school who have had nothing to eat for two or three days, for the tradition of education for their children, under no matter what conditions, is one of the things that survive longest among the Jews. The Joint Distribution Committee of American Jewish Relief Funds fed 200,000 children in Poland last month at its children's relief bureaus. More than 400,000 youngsters in Warsaw alone got milk at the various milk stations, and the number east of the Bug, although this has not definitely compiled, everyone has his faults and virtues, we may, if we choose, make the worst of one another.—Dean Stanley.

Oldsmobile
SETS THE PACE
22nd Year

The "THOROBRED"
7-passenger Touring Car

THE trend of automobile engineering points to the 8-cylinder car. And good buying judgment points to the Oldsmobile.

We aimed higher than simply pioneering the "eight." We aimed to produce one of moderate price and low maintenance costs, that had the flexibility, smoothness and abundance of power inherent in the 8-cylinder car.

—that cost as little to buy and operate as the majority of "sixes" and many "fours."
—that would be smartly distinctive, yet characteristically Oldsmobile.

Our aim is attained in the "THOROBRED"—the only popular priced "eight" in which mechanical excellence is combined with rare riding comfort and up-to-the-minute body lines. Oldsmobiles have been the history-makers of motordom; the "THOROBRED" is well worthy to perpetuate the name. Descriptive literature will be sent upon request, or a demonstration gladly arranged.

The Whole Secret of A Better Tire

Simply a Matter of the Maker's Policies

This you will realize—once you try a Brunswick—that a super-tire is possible only when the name certifies that the maker is following the highest standards.

For tire making is chiefly a matter of standards and policies—cost plus care. Any maker can build a good tire if he cares to pay perfection's price.

All men know Brunswick standards, for Brunswick products have been famous for 74 years.

Formulas, fabrics and standards vary vastly in cost. Reinforcements, plies and thickness are a matter of expense. And these variations affect endurance. It rests with the maker how far he wishes to go—how much he can afford to give.

For there are no secrets nor patents to hold one back.

To ascertain what each maker offers one must analyze and test some 200 tires—as our laboratories have done.

Then it is a matter of combining the best features and building according to the highest standards.

Once you try a Brunswick you will understand how we have built model tires, regardless of factory expense.

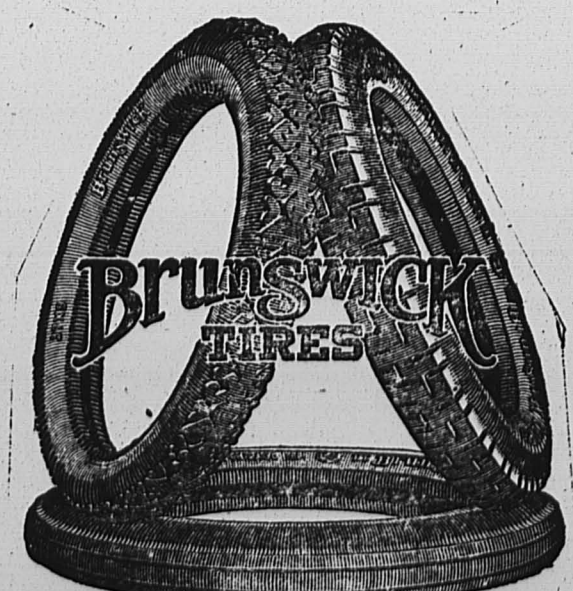

Yet Brunswick Tires cost you the same as other like-type tires. Our saving is on selling cost, through our nation-wide organization.

We realize that you expect more from Brunswicks, and we assure you that you get it. ONE Brunswick will tell you the story.

And then you'll want ALL Brunswicks. No other tire, you'll agree, gives so much for your money.

Roosevelt Memorial Committee

Organized
At a meeting held in Mount Holly Tuesday evening, the Roosevelt Memorial Committee for Burlington County was organized by electing Frank W. Thacher, of Edgewater Park, chairman; H. B. Collier, of Moorestown, vice-chairman; Carlton Sholl, of Burlington, publicity chairman; Gaunt Holmes, of Burlington, secretary, and Howard Burr, of Pemberton, treasurer.

The meeting was well attended and representatives were appointed in every town in the county to conduct the drive, which will start October 20 and end on the 25th. The representatives in Riverton are Joseph Beck Tyler and Edward H. Flag, Jr., in Palmyra, George N. Wimer and William F. Morgan.

New Jersey is asked to raise $250,000, of which Burlington county's share is $10,000.

The plan is to erect a monument in Washington, and a memorial park at Oyster Bay, on Sagamore Hill.

The plan is being enthusiastically welcomed by all the people, regardless of party affiliations. Republicans and Democrats are working shoulder to shoulder with the erasible Progressives to do honor to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt.

When asked to participate in the memorial plan, Governor Runyon wrote to Col. Austen Colgate, State chairman, as follows: "I assure you that I accept your invitation with great pleasure. I hope this acceptance will not be considered a simple stereotyped one, and want you to know that if in your opinion there is anything of an active nature which I may do to further the project, you may command me without reserve."

And the Governor voices the sentiments of a vast majority of Americans.

Photos of "Gold Star" Boys Wanted

Although the New Jersey War History Bureau at Trenton has received a large number of photographs of Jersey men who lost their lives in the service during the recent war with Germany, many families of martyred soldiers have evidently overlooked the appeal which was made by the History Bureau some weeks ago, and have neglected to respond.

It is the intention of the bureau that one of the first publications in connection with the history of New Jersey's part in the war will be a "Gold Star" volume, confined to photographs and data of the Jersey men who lost their lives either in action or otherwise in the service.

Director Dillard is anxious to have in this volume a photograph of every Jerseyman who dedicated his life to the service, and parents and next of kin in this vicinity, who have not responded to the first appeal, are urged to mail photographs and data to the War History Bureau, Trenton, New Jersey, at the earliest opportunity. Photographs will be carefully preserved by the bureau and returned to the family after engravings have been made from them for the purposes of the history.

New Football Team Wins First Game

The newly-organized Palmyra football team administered its first coat of whitewash to the strong, well-coached Victor C. C. in the initial game of the season last Saturday.

Despite the rain, which made the field heavy and the ball slippery, the locals played a fast game and ran up 29 points on the visitors. Left Halfback Tony Boehme intercepted a forward pass in the third quarter and ran sixty yards for a touchdown. Lawrence Flynn, right halfback, and A. L. Rille, fullback, were consistent ground gainers who could tear through the line as well as dash around the ends. Captain Bates proved an able general at quarter.

The locals used fifteen men in the game, giving every man an equal chance to show his stuff. The line-up was as follows: L. Donahy, G. Andrews, L. e. W. Stack, L. T. J. Saar, W. Cook, L. e. W. Cook, H. Warner, B. Truman, C. F. Truman, B. Truman, R. J. McCollough, B. Wallace, R. T. J. Stack, T. Mood, R. e. C. Bates, J. Stack, q. B. A. Boehme, L. h. b.; L. Flynn, r. b.; A. L. Rille, f. b.

This Saturday a husky dark-skinned youth is expected to be seen in the back-field. The stranger will be Chief Myers, of the Carlisle Indian School, who has been coached by the famous football expert, Glen Warner, for three years.

The game will start at 3:30.

D. M. Clifton, while on his way to the Masonic Temple, Camden, Wednesday night to attend a meeting of the Tail Codgers, was run into by a R. R. train at Moorestown, and his car was badly damaged, though Mr. Clifton escaped injury. Mr. Clifton has since expressed to Mr. Clifton his regret that the accident happened, and told him to get his car fixed and he would settle the bill.

Riverton and Palmyra fire companies had a run last Friday afternoon to the home of Mr. Elliott, 423 Elm avenue. It seems that a coat had been hanging on a door near the kitchen stove. The garment caught fire while Mrs. Elliott was upstairs and the house became filled with smoke, so she called the firemen, but before they arrived the trouble had been found and the coat "extinguished." Palmyra's old hose cart was hauled by "Jake" Warner's auto.

The Burlington County Sunday School Association held its annual convention in the Mount Holly Methodist Church Thursday of last week and more than 250 delegates were registered. The following officers were elected: President, William H. Zoller, of Burlington; first vice-president, Ralph W. Gibson, of Riverton; second vice-president, J. D. Sturges, of Burlington; third vice-president, Theodore W. Wolfe, of Burlington; fourth vice-president, Andrew C. Ridgway, of Delaware; corresponding secretary, Joseph W. Newell, of Pemberton; recording secretary, Robert A. Sempie, Jr., of Mount Holly; treasurer, Forrest C. McCorkle, of Palmyra; member State Executive Committee, Joseph W. Colkitt, Mt. Holly.

Next year's convention will be held in the Moravian Church at Riverside.

Open Meeting at Porch Club

The next meeting of the Porch Club, Tuesday, October 21, will be in charge of the committee on child welfare. The meeting will be addressed by Dr. Florence Richards, of Philadelphia, of the William Penn High School and Government lecturer on social hygiene for Commission on Training Camp Activities. Her subject will be "Dress, Dancing and General Behavior." Dr. Richards' close association with the Red Cross has most aptly fitted her to handle her subject.

This will be an open meeting and the women of Riverton are invited to come hear her message.

Double-Deck Ferry Boats Next

Double-decked ferryboats on the Pennsylvania Railroad's Camden line in connection with the elevated road on Delaware avenue, Philadelphia, enter into the plans for ferry terminal improvements in Philadelphia and in Camden.

On the Camden side within the ferry house bridges will span the driveways used by vehicles, and train passengers will not have to dodge lines of wagons and automobiles.

These bridges will land passengers near the entrance to trains.

It is proposed that trolley cars in Camden shall cross the street over a bridge where the bridge will make a gradual descent to the street level.

The greatest of faults, I would say, is to be conscious of none.—Carlyle.

The annual meeting of the Burlington County Red Cross will be held Wednesday, October 22, at 2:30, at Old St. Mary's, Burlington. As many members as possible are urged to attend.

The annual meeting of the Riverton Branch was held Thursday afternoon at four o'clock at the Porch Club.

The secretary reported for the year that articles had been made not only for the Government and the Red Cross, but also for the Convalescent Home at Camp Dix, the county hospital at New Lisbon and Cinnaminson Summer Home, as well as for the Visiting Nurse, who has been supplied with all needed surgical dressings for one year.

The treasurer reported a balance in hand of $1254.80.

There has been 700 workers in the rooms, besides 50 people taking work home.

Several large allotments of garments have been finished, 335 refugee, 24 layettes, besides 100 garments cut from our own material.

The workrooms were closed the first of June.

A total of 4938 surgical dressings were made, also 1149 articles made for the Visiting Nurse. Nine hundred and fifty knitted garments were made during the year, and a small quantity of wool is still on hand.

A motion was made to have a meeting one day in November to sew for the Home Service Committee, notice of which will be given in The New Era.

A list of much-needed dressings and supplies for the Visiting Nurse for the coming year was read and approved.

The election of officers followed. As the present board consented to remain in office, the officers will be the same as last year: Mrs. Murray C. Boyer, chairman; Mrs. Franklin F. Oiler, first vice-chairman; Walter K. Woolman, second vice-chairman; Mrs. Charles F. Allen, secretary; Mrs. A. M. Ellsworth, treasurer.

The chairman of all the committees also consented to serve for another year.

P. T. A. Reception
The reception of the Parent-Teacher Association to the Board of Education, teachers and parents, was held in the school auditorium last night, and was well attended considering the inclement weather.

The decorations consisted of autumn leaves, flowers and a large American flag, arranged by the committee on decorations, of which Mrs. H. P. Van Steenberg is chairman.

Mrs. Harvey Stewart was chairman of the refreshment committee, but was unable to be present, and her place was taken by Mrs. Ogden H. Mattis, assisted by Mrs. M. M. Dickinson.

After the usual formalities of "getting started" the evening was spent in singing and dancing, with Mr. Harry Brown at the piano. Everybody seemed to have a jolly, sociable time, and wanted to know when the "next one" would be held.

A goodly number of new members were enrolled, among them being several fathers. One father, whose wife thought that "men weren't allowed" to come, said, "Yes, sir, I'm going to be a father, and I want to be a member of the P. T. A. I don't go home until I am a member!" And he didn't.

Euchre Given By Mrs. Stroheim
A most enjoyable euchre was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Stroheim, Fourth and Fulton streets, Riverton, Thursday evening of last week. The porch was enclosed and the game was played there and in the house.

Jacques L. Legendre, a noted French artist, recently returned from the World War, looked after the decorations, which consisted of fall flowers and softly-gilded oak leaves, while the national colors, attractively draped, added to the beauty of the scene.

Guests, numbering over two hundred, from Philadelphia, Camden, Moorestown, Riverside, Burlington, Palmyra and Riverton, enjoyed the evening, while some very choice vocal and instrumental music helped make the evening a most pleasurable one.

With the proceeds Mrs. Stroheim purchased a fine silk American flag and presented it to St. Joseph's Council, K. of C., at their Discovery Day celebration last Tuesday evening.

Pheasants Now Fighting Japanese Beetle
This week the State Fish and Game Commission sent a pair of English pheasants to the extensive experiment station at Westfield, with a view to ascertaining whether or not they might feed on the beetle and thus become a factor in the extermination of the pest. From the few days in which they have been observed, it looks as though the experiment might be highly successful.

It has been noticed in many sections that a common white grub is killing the grass on lawns. It has been ascertained that the grub can be exterminated by spraying the lawn with a solution of sodium cyanide, four ounces to about 12 to 16 gallons of water. The solution should be sprayed on with a watering pot, and this quantity of mixture will cover about 100 square feet. After final the solution spray with clear water.

Football
Last Saturday Riverton journeyed over to Mt. Holly, accompanied by quite a crowd of loyal rooters, and played Mt. Holly to a 0 to 0 score, which they should well be proud of as they were outweighed and also played against an older and more experienced team.

The game was most interesting from a spectator standpoint, as it was filled with open plays, kicks and attempted forward passes, and both sides had several chances to score, but always just lacked that extra punch that it takes to put it across the goal line.

Every Riverton man certainly played good football to hold Mt. Holly, the heavier team, the way they did on a field as slippery as the one they played on, but special mention should be given to C. Clelland, whose running with the ball and all-around playing had everyone on the line rooting for him.

This Saturday, at 3:30 p. m., Riverton will line up against the Victor A. C. of West Philadelphia, on our home grounds at Fourth and Linden avenues.

A second game is expected, so don't fail to be on hand to see the Riverton team in action.

Big Year for Building and Loan Association

Monday night was the biggest season in the history of the Cinnaminson Building and Loan Association. Over 1500 shares of stock were issued, and over forty applications for loans were received, aggregating over $100,000. There are now over 5000 shares on the books. Two hundred and fifty accounts were opened Monday night, and the line of men and women waiting to do business extended to the curb. It was after midnight before the last one had been waited on. The coming year will undoubtedly be the most prosperous since the Association was started. Similar conditions are reported by other loan associations all over the State.

COULD NOT SEE BEE-BOMBS
Washington Authorities Turned Down
Suggestion That Was Made in Perfect Seriousness.

It would be hard to say which of the many impractical suggestions toward "winning the war" that occurred to individuals and were submitted to Washington was the most imaginative, but encompassing the busy bees certainly deserves honorable mention. Numerous numbers of these mellifluous or anaphorously acute hymenopterous insects, as the dictionary tells them, were to be distributed by airplanes over the enemy trenches, presumably by dropping what might be called bee-bombs, and the confusion that would follow may easily be imagined by anybody who has ever sat in a room with a single bee. But the military experts failed to see the utility of the scheme. Perhaps they foresaw that the enemy would promptly provide himself with netting and devise bee-armor. The aviators who distributed the bee-bombs would naturally have been called apitators. The idea was ridiculous, but let those laugh who have never thought of something that seemed applicable in the spring and autumn months.

Miss Baker Hurt in Auto Crash

Miss Eleanor Baker was injured in an automobile accident on the Medford road last Sunday afternoon. Miss Baker was driving with Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins and their son, J. Frank, of Moorestown. Their car was at a crossing, when the car of Dr. M. W. Newcomb, of Moorestown, came from another direction at a high speed, crashed into them, completely overturning their Packard car. The Hopkins family escaped with slight bruises, while Miss Baker was caught under the front seat, and the machine had to be raised before she could be released. She was taken to the Mount Holly Hospital, where she is recovering slowly. No bones are broken, and it is expected that she will be strong enough to be brought home in a few days.

Kendall; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haines; Roland Haines; Aubrey Haines and Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Brock; of Fairview; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hulings, Jr.; and Earle Hulings, of near Hartford. Memorial Tablet of Robert Biddle, 2nd

On Monday, October 13, the anniversary of his birthday, the employees of the Supply-Biddle Hardware Company, Philadelphia, placed a bronze tablet to the memory of Robert Biddle, 2nd, in the main hallway of the offices of the company on Commerce street. The tablet was made by the Tiffany Studios, New York, and bore the following inscription:

"The shortest life is longest if 'tis best."

Measured in accomplishment and influence, his life was long and good. The exercises, which took about half an hour, were held at half past two in the afternoon. Short addresses were made by William Monroe, of the Biddle Company; and Mr. Biddle was present. For a year before his death Mr. Biddle had been president of the company, prior to which he was vice president and general manager.

While the trolley fare question is being made a lively campaign issue, the representatives of municipalities, the Public Utilities Commission and the Public Service Company have come together in a number of hearings lately to thresh the thing out. One of the chief developments has been that the Public Service Commission has abandoned its decision to seek the restoration of the 7-cent fare and has now presented a number of modified fare proposals. The company has recently been recovering from the big slump in revenue which was experienced immediately after the institution of the zone fare system.

A race for points between the yachts of the Larchmont class last Saturday was won by P. W. All roads should lead to Brown's Mills on Saturday, October 25. The gorgeous foliage, the pine ale and lake drive are sufficient inducement for the automobilist and, in addition, the rummage market of the Burlington County Anti-Furerculosis League at the Community House opposite the Inn. Burlington county residents should be sufficiently interested in the new sanatorium at New Lisbon to stop in passing to Brown's Mills, and note the well-equipped an attractive institute for the patients who need its scientific care.

Daylight saving ends next Sunday, and then we'll get back that hour of sleep we lost last spring. As far as the nation is concerned the daylight saving scheme will not be tried again, unless Congress again passes the law which was repealed recently. However, there is some talk of Philadelphia and some of the other cities going in for the plan on their own hook during the summer. If Philadelphia does it that probably would automatically bring Palmyra and other suburban towns into it. The farmers are chiefly opposed to the plan, and the city workers are generally for it.

The Republicans have a particularly strong county ticket this year. For County Clerk William H. Reeves is well known to be well fitted to fill the office. Charles A. Bowne, for steward of the almshouse, has an enviable record on which to appeal to the voters, and the candidates for the small Board of Freeholders are so well distributed over the county that there can be no kick coming at that score. That he is a "good fellow" is not sufficient reason for Republicans splitting their ticket this year, when it is so essential to develop as much strength as possible for the coming Presidential fight in 1920.

The Roosevelt Memorial

The Roosevelt Memorial drive in Riverton comes on apace. A meeting was called Wednesday night by Edward H. Flagg, Jr., who had been appointed by the county chairman to effect the arrangements for raising Riverton's quota, and another meeting will be held in the public school auditorium tonight.

The "official week" of the drive ends next Monday, the anniversary of Colonel Roosevelt's birthday, but it will be just about starting here.

Returns from all over the State that have reached Colonel Austen Colgate, State chairman of the Roosevelt Memorial Association, indicate that New Jersey is playing something more than her part in the patriotic productiveness of National Roosevelt Week. Enthusiastic mass meetings are being held everywhere with overflow attendance.

In another column is published a letter from Mayor Bennett, and another letter bearing the signatures of representative Rivertonians, calling for a generous response to the appeal for funds in Riverton.

The Relation of the Bahai Movement to the Religions of the Past

"The cause of Bahai'ism is the same as the cause of Christ. It is the same temple and the same foundation. In the coming of Christ the divine teachings were given in accordance with the stage of the human race. The teachings of Bahai'ism have the same basic principles, but are according to the stage of the maturity of the world and the requirements of this illumined age."

These words are from the pen of Abdul Baha, who is establishing the Universal Religion founded by his father, Bahai'ullah, and who is working for the realization of the true religion of Christ in this world of today.

The philosophy of the Bahai Religion is simplicity itself. Its foundation is expressed in this short quotation from one of Bahai'ullah's writings, "The root of all knowledge is the knowledge of God, and this knowledge is impossible save through His Manifestation (Revelation)."

Each of the world's great spiritual teachers has been inspired by the One God and has taught the same eternal truth, revealing it in the measure and in terms applicable to the people of his time. This truth has ever been the mainspring and source of human advancement and civilization.

Christ and all the prophets taught of the coming of the reign of God upon earth, which would be a time of peace and prosperity when all the people would know the Lord and abide by His law.

In the comparative study of religion it is found that the people of each religion look for the coming of a prophet or teacher who will fulfill the hopes of their own teaching and establish the truth in the world. The Christians look for the coming of the Christ (spirit), and the establishment of Christ's Kingdom; the Jews await the coming of their Messiah, and God's Kingdom on earth; the Moslems believe that the Mahdi will come and prepare the way for the coming of the Lord and the Kingdom; the Zoroastrians have prophecies relating to the coming of the Baha, and the establishment of the divine order of things, all of which are foretold in their holy books; the Hindus believe that the divine spirit will speak again to the world for the enlightenment of the people; and the Buddhists look for the coming of the great Fifth Buddha whose mission will be that of bringing a general world-wide spiritual enlightenment, while some modern religious movements believe that the time is now ripe for the appearance of the Great Universal World Religious Master, Who will unite all peoples in faith and spiritual knowledge, and thus usher in the new era of divine wisdom and knowledge here on earth.

The Bahai Revelation comes as the confirmation of these truths of the religions of the past and in its teachings the people of the various religions find the fulfillment of the sacred teachings of the past, and also the solution of the great latter-day problem of religious unity, for the Bahai Teaching confirms and completes all religious teachings which have gone before, and offers a practical philosophy which meets the present-day spiritual needs of humanity.

The followers of the Bahai Revelation, that the New Day of God upon earth has now, in these latter days, been created in the heart of humanity through the divine missions of The Bab (the Door of God) Who was the forerunner of the Bahai Revelation; through Bahai'ullah, the Manifested One, by Whom the Revelation was given; and through Abdul Baha, the son of Bahai'ullah, under whom the religion is now coming to fruition in the world, and is being founded amongst the peoples of all nations, races and religions.

Abdul Baha speaks of this new cycle in the following terms:

"This is a new cycle of human power. All the horizons of the world are luminous, and the world will become indeed as a garden and a paradise. It is the hour of unity of the sons of men, and of the drawing together of all races and all classes."

"The gift of God to this enlightened age is the knowledge of the oneness of humanity, and the fundamental oneness of religion. War shall cease between nations, and by the will of God the Most Great Peace shall come; the world will be seen as a new world, and all men will live as brothers."

The Zuyder Zee.

The Zuyder Zee, or Southern Sea, was formerly a lake surrounded by marshes. Its present extent being the result of floods in the thirteenth century. Its area is about 2,000 square miles, and the average depth from 10 to 10 feet. The Hollanders have reclaimed a million acres from sea, lake and rivers since the sixteenth century.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE CITIZENS OF RIVERTON

A memorial is to be erected to the memory of Theodore Roosevelt by the American people. How elaborate it will be will depend on their generosity. It is proposed to establish a memorial park on Sagamore Hill, Oyster Bay, to erect a monument at the National Capitol, and, if the funds are sufficient, to build an educational institution, to his memory.

The drive for funds is now on. Americans everywhere, regardless of political affiliations, are joining hands in this plan to pay a deserved and loving tribute to a great man, a great American and a great statesman—one whose value to America and her institutions cannot be estimated.

Riverton has always done her bit in every drive, in every appeal for any worthy object, and it is hoped she will maintain her proud position on this occasion.

Girl Scouts in Membership Drive

During the week beginning this Saturday, October 25, the 62,000 Girl Scouts of America will conduct a nationwide campaign for associate members, that is, for men and women who are willing to show their interest and belief in the organization by contributing one dollar to its support.

Every troop is to take part in this campaign and Troop No. 1, of Palmyra, is working hard to do its full share.

The goal set by National Headquarters is ten associate members for every Scout, so the local troop will need the loyal support of all its friends in the town to reach its quota of three hundred and fifty.

The money received from the associate members will be used for the general expenses of the National Organization and not for local purposes.

The Palmyra troop is young, and does not feel that it can appeal for the support of the public on the merit of its past accomplishments, but wishes to point to the splendid things done by Scouts all over the country and to the ideals toward which they are striving.

Roosevelt Memorial Drive

The drive for funds for the Roosevelt Memorial is being quietly conducted by a few workers in Palmyra. It is desired that the contributions come from as large a proportion of citizens as possible, so that all may participate in honoring the greatest American of his time.

Next Monday, the anniversary of his birth, will be Roosevelt Day.

Palmyra Will Play Football Saturday

The Palmyra football team has a cracking good game scheduled for Saturday this Saturday, when the Parkside team, Camden's best, is to appear on the field Club grounds. The boys are especially anxious for you to see them in action against a team of this calibre.

The locals were disappointed last Saturday by the rain, which prevented the game. The boys, who it is said, were afraid of the Palmyra hunkies, and only a part of a team showed up.

James H. Hartley, a veteran football expert, is now helping coach the locals, drilling them in many clever plays. Paul Frank, a noted A. E. F. player, and chief Wiles, the Indian, will be in the local line-up.

Fourteen of the twenty local players are ex-service men.

Auto Overturns, But No One Hurt

The steering gear of a Ford car driven by Harvey Rogers went wrong Tuesday afternoon on Broad street, north, near the Rivenon freight station. The car skidded sideways, the front wheel buckled under and a rear wheel smashed, and the boys in the car all were extricated into the street.

The passengers included Frank Terry, physical instructor of the High School; Stuart Buchholz, William Buchanan, Arthur Shorer and Alfred Platt. No one was injured.

Woodbury High Wins P. H. S.

Last Friday Palmyra High lost to Woodbury in a tough game played at the field Club grounds by the score of 28 to 13. The visitors were from 20 to 30 pounds heavier than the locals, and although the Palmyra boys were able to rush them off their feet with speed for the first quarter, scoring two touchdowns, the weight of the opposition tired them out and Woodbury had its own way the remainder of the game.

In the game with Moorestown High Tuesday, owing to the fact that some of the local stars were laid up from injuries from the Woodbury game, the result was a 4 to 6 tie.

Moorestown will play here again next Tuesday and Palmyra will be in good shape to take them into account.

The High School boys are putting up a fine article of good, clean amateur football and deserve the support of the town. Game starts at 3:45.

Fire Company Wants New Truck

At the meeting of the Palmyra Township Committee last Tuesday evening a committee from the fire company, headed by Edward Roberts, was on hand to urge the purchase of an auxiliary fire truck.

The big fire truck now owned by the fire company, a heavy car purchased second hand several years back, has been out of commission for several weeks. In fact, the old truck has frequently caused trouble in the past few years. Owing to the car being an old model no longer manufactured, there is much delay in getting new parts.

The plan urged by Mr. Roberts was the purchase of a Vin truck, joined for auxiliary fire service, costing about $1500. Since the township has no funds at present for this purpose, the firemen proposed to raise the money for the car at once, and asked the Township Committee to pledge itself to reimburse the company when the new budget is adopted.

At present the town is dependent on the Rivenon Fire Company for protection. Palmyra's apparatus, consisting only of an old hose cart designed to be drawn by hand, but which is now usually hitched on behind some automobile when it makes a run.

George N. Wimer was present and told the committee that unless fire protection was bettered at once there would probably be a jump in the insurance rates and that the first serious blaze under present conditions would result in cancellation of present policies.

The old truck has been in a local garage awaiting repairs for several weeks, and as there has been difficulty in getting new parts it is not known how soon it will be available for service again.

The committee decided in favor of a new truck.

Earlier in the meeting Chairman Davies announced that the car market had been a success and had accomplished its purpose, but that one huckster was taking advantage of it by staying on the market all day.

Mr. Land was instructed to order him to conform to the hours originally set, 7 to 10 a. m.

Chief Beck was ordered to notify property owners to cut grass overhanging sidewalks wherever this exists.

Steps were taken to have resolutions drawn up on the death of C. H. Hill.

WAGE BOOST FOR STATE EMPLOYEES

McCrack Rules That Increases May Be Paid From Emergency Fund.

PRISON FOR SHORT WEIGHT

Hereafter Persons Found Guilty of Trickery With Scales May Be Given Sentences—A Sale Weight Law.

Trenton.—Salary increases for state employees are likely to be forthcoming as the result of a ruling by Attorney General McCrack that the state's emergency fund can be drawn upon to grant wage boosts. Many departments have been facing a shortage of funds because of more attractive wage offers to them in other fields. The desirability of such action has been reached such proportions that serious embarrassment is threatened.

The Attorney General has ruled that the situation is clearly an emergency and that it would be perfectly proper to draw on the fund to grant the increases sought. He added, too, that there would be no impropriety in carrying a salary and wage appropriation over until the next session of the legislature, when additional appropriations may be made to carry the new salary list forward until the end of the fiscal year. It is believed now that the increases will be at once granted.

A recent investigation of the salaries and wages paid to state employees indicates that there are employed in the service of New Jersey 3300 people, and that the payroll amounts to something less than $3,250,000. This, then would reduce the average to less than $1000 a year.

Comptroller Hughes has made the survey for the state house commission and, in addition to the officers concerned, will also recommend that the cleaners and men engaged in the maintenance of the state capitol be included in this emergency appropriation.

The meeting of heads of the various departments with the civil service commission officers developed the fact that in every branch of the state's service, from the highest to the lowest, employees in individual departments have been lost in the last nine months by reason of larger wages elsewhere.

Short Weight Crusade.

Director of Parks and Public Property John F. Monahan, of Newark, has published for distribution among housewives hundreds of circulars stating the radical changes which have been made in the penalties for infractions of the weights and measures statutes of this state. The changes provide a jail penalty for persons found guilty of a third subsequent offense in giving short weight to the consumer. This was found necessary on account of certain merchants with fraudulent tendencies having repeatedly been brought to court for cheating, some as many as five times. Heretofore the payment of a fine was all that could be demanded and, from time to time, the nominal sentence as a mere license, according to Commissioner Monahan, to continue their dishonesty, paying the fine imposed and subsequently making up the amount of such fine by continuing to defraud until again detected.

Under the provisions of the new bill which gives the jail sentence to such persistent offenders it is also mandatory that when standard dry measures are used as the medium of sale, such as bushel, half bushel, peck, quart, etc., the amount of the commodity so purchased must constitute a certain weight, according to the weights fixed for the bushel or multiples of the bushel of dry commodities included in the New Jersey law as shown by a long table which is given inside of the circular classifying and specifying the weight in every commodity. It is provided, however, that of the sixty or seventy commodities mentioned in this list, apples, cabbage, cucumbers, peaches and pears may be sold by numerical count.

The new law does not entirely abolish the use of standard dry measures, as it was not the intention of the state department, according to Mr. Monahan, to absolutely dispose of this medium of sale at the present time, the step being considered too drastic without first giving the purchasing public opportunity to become educated in the weights of the various dry commodities. However, the new statute is, in effect, a sale-by-weight law.

The advantage of this legislation to the consumer can be best understood when it is considered that under the former dual law of sale, either by weight or standard dry measure, it was entirely optional with the merchant just which medium of sale he should use in the sale of vegetables. Invariably, he took the latter.

"For example," said Mr. Monahan, "the effect this had on the pocketbook of the consumer can be illustrated by taking one article of produce—potatoes. The middleman purchased them by weight, receiving sixty pounds to the bushel. In disposing of them he sold by standard dry measure, which for the bushel weighs, approximately, fifty-five to fifty-six pounds, a consequent loss to the purchaser of from four to five pounds which he paid for but did not receive."

State in Building Loan.

In its banking and insurance New Jersey is noteworthy, but in the savings facilities of its building and loan associations, New Jersey, proportionate to its size and population, is greater than any other like territory, state or nation, in the world. Building societies are considered to have had a great development in Britain and in England the resources of the building societies were in 1917 sixty-one million pounds, or equal in American money to $300,000,000, and this in a country having a population of 33,000,000 people, but New Jersey with a population of only a little over 3,000,000 has 870 building and loan associations with assets of more than $200,000,000 or two-thirds of the assets of the English societies of the same kind. In California, with the same population as New Jersey, there are 85 associations with assets of $25,000,000, and in the great state of New York only 240 associations with assets of $80,017,871. Massachusetts has 186 associations with $19,000,000 and the only state that has more associations than New Jersey is Pennsylvania with 2124 associations, and total assets of $255,000,000, but these associations do not have the life and vigor of our New Jersey ones, for the average assets of them is $130,000, while the average assets of the New Jersey associations is $230,000.

In the methods and character of its associations New Jersey excels, they being all of them, mutual societies, managed by direct vote of all the members through boards of directors elected at annual meetings in which every depositing member has an equal vote, no matter how large or how small his financial interest in the association may be.

Fire Escape Requirements.
New requirements designating how fire escapes shall be constructed in the future have been passed by the legislature and Miles W. Beemer, secretary of the New Jersey Tenement House Commission, has detailed tenement house inspectors to see that the present fire escapes come, to a certain extent, up to the new requirements. In the new specifications it is required that every three-story non-fireproof tenement house, unless provided with outside fireproof stairways, must have properly constructed fire escapes or two stairways, which must be accessible to all persons on the top floor without passing through any apartment other than the apartment occupied by that person. One stairway must be a substantially constructed outside stairway.

Every non-fireproof tenement house more than three stories in height must have properly constructed fire escapes. Whenever an existing non-fireproof tenement house is not provided with satisfactory fire-escapes, the board may order additional fire-escapes or other means of egress. All fire-escapes hereafter erected on any tenement house must be directly accessible through a door or window or at least one room.

Averts Sugar Shortage.

Efforts of State Purchasing Agent Edward E. Grosscup have been successful in averting, for the present at least, a sugar famine, which threatened state institutions. Mr. Grosscup succeeded in completing arrangements by which a carload of sugar, containing 33,000 pounds, will be shipped from the refineries to this city, where it will be apportioned among the various penal, correctional and charitable institutions on the basis of their respective needs.

Say New Road is in Waves.

With the opening of a section of the new concrete roadway between Moorestown and Hainesport, for which the traveling public has been kept waiting, with months of wide detouring, a wall has come from auto drivers, who declare the high-priced highway is not properly leveled. According to those who have ridden over it, the surface undulates in wave-like formation, which, they claim, makes riding very unpleasant and causes needless wear on cars and the road-way itself.

Offer $225,000 For Bridge.

An offer of $225,000 has been made by the joint free bridge commission of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, for the purchase of the Philadelphia-Easton Delaware bridge, according to announcement made by a member of the commission.

The informant stated that the offer was made to J. Madison Fowler, Eastern, president of the company, and that the members of the commission, believing that the offer will be accepted, are of the opinion that the bridge will be sold without delay and that it will be but a short time before the collecting of toll will be eliminated.

Fight on Tuberculosis.

The New Jersey Anti-Tuberculosis league is preparing to co-operate with the National Tuberculosis association in its drive for $6,500,000 to promote better health and to fight tuberculosis. It will be a ten-day drive, from December 10, to December 20, and 28,700,000 Red Cross Christmas seals have been consigned to this state to be sold at one cent each, thus enabling every man, woman and child to take part in the better-health fight. It is claimed that the drive will be an educational campaign as well as a means of raising $300,000 to promote the various health activities in the state.

The Heart of the Believer.

The heart of the believer is the home of God. The church of the Lord Jesus is his holy temple. He dwells here by his Holy Spirit, and makes known through the church, to the principalities and powers in the heavenly places, his manifold wisdom. This is a superlative honor. It brings with it a supreme obligation.

One Thing at a Time.

FACTS ON THE ARCH ENEMY OF HUMANITY.

Tuberculosis kills producers—chiefly men and women between the ages of 16 and 45.

It claims workers—active men and women in the homes, the office and the shop.

It causes 150,000 deaths in the United States every year.

It costs the United States in economic waste alone about $500,000,000 annually.

More than 1,000,000 persons in this country are suffering from active tuberculosis right now.

It menaces every community, every home and every individual.

AND YET TUBERCULOSIS IS CURABLE AND PREVENTABLE.

It is spread largely by ignorance, carelessness and neglect.

The National Tuberculosis Association and its 1,000 affiliated state and local organizations wage a continuous winning war on tuberculosis.

The work of these organizations is financed chiefly by the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago. (Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 26

A LESSON IN TRUST.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 14:22-33.

GOLDEN TEXT—1 believe; help thou mine unbelief.—Mark 9:24.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Mark 6:22-24; Luke 11:21-23.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Help in the storm.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus comes to the help of his disciples.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—Help when most needed.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—An ever-present helper.

The storm-tossed disciples on the sea at night is an example of the struggling followers of the Lord in the darkness of the present age, as they are tossed by the tempests of the evil one.

1. The Disciples on the Storm-tossed Sea (vv. 22-24).

1. They were sent across the sea by Christ (v. 22). Doubtless his reason for this was to keep them from entering a wild sea from auto drivers, who declare the high-priced highway is not properly leveled.

According to those who have ridden over it, the surface undulates in wave-like formation, which, they claim, makes riding very unpleasant and causes needless wear on cars and the road-way itself.

2. Christ dismissed the multitude (v. 22). This may be taken as typical of his rejection of the nation whose rulers had already rejected him.

3. Christ praying alone in the mountain (v. 23). Temptation to earthly honor and power had come to him, therefore he went to the Father in prayer for relief and strength. The prayer of prayer is greatest at such times. While his prayer was in part for himself, yet it was for his disciples. According to Mark 6:48, he saw from the mountain top the disciples toiling against the storm-tossed sea. We are never out of his sight as we struggle against the storms of life, and he ever lives to make intercession for us.

11. Jesus Walking on the Sea (vv. 25-27).

1. It was in the fourth watch of the night (v. 25). He did not come to them immediately, but waited till almost dawn. It was, however, the darkest part of the night, and physical danger was great, but their perplexity of mind was greater. They knew that the Lord had sent them, but why should they be in such straits if he sent them? A stormy sea is no evidence that we are not in the Lord's appointed way. The disciple's concern should be to obey the commands of the Lord, being assured that while doing his will he will protect them.

2. The disciples alarmed at his coming (v. 26). It was the coming of their best friend to deliver them from danger. He comes to us today in such ways that sometimes we are frightened.

3. Jesus' words of comfort and good cheer (v. 27). In the midst of their distress they heard the Master's words, "Be of good cheer; it is I, be not afraid." This changed their fear into joy.

III. Peter's Venture and Failure (vv. 28-33).

As soon as Peter recognized the voice of Jesus he cried, "Bid me come to thee on the water." Jesus said, "Come." Peter obeyed, and for a time he walked upon the waves without sinking. His simple faith linked him with divine power and he was upheld; but as soon as he took his eyes off his Lord and considered the raging sea he began to sink. If we will but keep our eyes on the Lord instead of the waves we can outstride the storms of life. When Peter began to sink, he did a sensible thing; he cried to the Lord for help. Jesus reached forth his hand and saved him. He has never lost one who honestly cried for help. When Jesus entered the ship the wind ceased. The people worshipped him as the Son of God. No ship can go down with Jesus on board.

Sublime Lenten. "Beware," said Lavater, "of him who hates the laugh of a child." "I love God and little children," was the simple yet sublime sentiment of Richard—Mrs. Sigourney.

AROUND THE WORLD WITH THE AMERICAN RED CROSS. In Italy.

Arriving at one of the most critical stages of the war, when the Teutons were forcing the Italian army back to the Piave, the American Red Cross rushed emergency relief from Paris and revived the drooping spirits of the whole country. In addition to furnishing rations and comforts and medical attention to the fighting men, the American Red Cross instituted 42 soup kitchens, 36 children's hospitals, 10 children's dispensaries, 14 artificial limb factories, five homes for refugee children, 10 rest stations for refugees. This photograph shows a group of Italian refugee children being fed by the American Red Cross at one of the numerous relief stations.

THE trend of automobile engineering points to the 8-cylinder car. And good buying judgment points to the Oldsmobile.

We aimed higher than simply pioneering the "eight." We aimed to produce one of moderate price and low maintenance costs, —that had the flexibility, smoothness and abundance of power inherent in the 8-cylinder car.

—that cost as little to buy and operate as the majority of "sixes" and many "fours,"

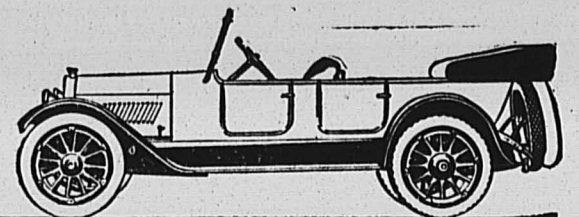

—that would be smartly distinctive, yet characteristically Oldsmobile.

Our aim is attained in the "THOROBRED"—the only popular priced "eight" in which mechanical excellence is combined with rare riding comfort and up-to-the-minute body lines. Oldsmobiles have been the history-makers of motordom; the "THOROBRED" is well worthy to perpetuate the name.

Descriptive literature will be sent upon request, or a demonstration gladly arranged.

The Whole Secret of A Better Tire

Simply a Matter of the Maker's Policies

This you will realize—once you try a Brunswick—that a super-tire is possible only when the name certifies that the maker is following the highest standards.

For tire making is chiefly a matter of standards and policies—cost plus care. Any maker can build a good tire if he cares to pay perfection's price.

All men know Brunswick standards, for Brunswick products have been famous for 74 years.

Formulas, fabrics and standards vary vastly in cost. Reinforcements, plies and thickness are a matter of expense. And these variations affect endurance. It rests with the maker how far he wishes to go—how much he can afford to give.

For there are no secrets nor patents to hold one back.

To ascertain what each maker offers one must analyze and test some 200 tires—as our laboratories have done.

Then it is a matter of combining the best features and building according to the highest standards.

Once you try a Brunswick you will understand how we have built model tires, regardless of factory expense.

Yet Brunswick Tires cost you the same as other like-type tires. Our saving is on selling cost, through our nation-wide organization.

We realize that you expect more from Brunswicks, and we assure you that you get it. ONE Brunswick will tell you the story.

And then you'll want ALL Brunswicks. No other tire, you'll agree, gives so much for your money.

The Truth About the Liquor Question

In This Election

During the past two weeks the Democratic workers have been spreading among the people a story to the effect that inasmuch as New Jersey has not ratified National Prohibition, something can still be done between this time and January 16 to slide-track Prohibition and the New Jersey and thus bring back the sale of liquor.

The Democrats are endeavoring to deceive the voters in this campaign, on the assumption that they do not understand the difference between a constitutional amendment and a law. A law can be changed and wiped out by the law-making body. The Constitution cannot be changed without a long method of procedure, which requires action by Congress and action by 36 of the 48 States. An amendment to the Constitution becomes the Supreme Law of the land, and is not prone over all State laws, all State officials and all State authorities. No Governor can change it.

The called Prohibition amendment, forbidding the sale and manufacture of liquors throughout the whole land, New Jersey included, has been adopted by 48 States. That makes it the law of the land, even though New Jersey has not ratified the amendment. New Jersey can not escape the consequences of this amendment, except in one way, by seceding from the Union, or by attempting to nullify the Constitution, as did South Carolina in 1832, whereupon Andrew Jackson, then President and a Democrat, threatened to send the United States Army to that State, and some of the other officials if they did not obey the laws of the Union.

That, Mr. "Wet" Voters, is just exactly what would happen to any Governor you elect who failed to obey the law of the land today, as provided in the 18th amendment, and any candidate for Governor who tells you he can get it aside, is bidding for your votes, but he is not telling the truth. It is a fact that the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, forbidding the sale of intoxicating liquor, becomes a law of the land in January, 1920. It is also another fact that no act of an incoming Governor can effect this situation.

It can easily be seen, therefore, that the present propaganda to instill into the public mind the idea that the Prohibition Amendment is not in fact, and is untrue in fact. Taking the Democratic propaganda on its face value, National Prohibition enforcement will come into full force four days before the next Governor is inducted into the office. Mr. Bugbee or Mr. Edwards will not escape the enforcement of the National Prohibition. The propaganda now going abroad in the State is therefore incorrect, insinuating and misleading. National Prohibition, as a part of the organic law, is now actually here and its enforcement is entirely up to the Federal authorities, as has been proven lately by the work of its agents in many cities of New Jersey, where violations of the law have occurred.

Roosevelt Memorial Fund Grows

Up to last night the collections for the Roosevelt Memorial Fund amounted to $288.83, after paying the expenses, which consisted of advertising and postage. Most of the collectors are still to be heard from, and it is expected that the fund will meet its quota without difficulty.

Hitch in Shift of Trolley Tracks

On Wednesday Mayor Bennett stopped the men who were at work changing the course of the trolley tracks on Broad street between Lipincott and Cinnaminson streets, because the new line they were making did not conform with his understanding of where the tracks should be moved to.

This afternoon there was a conference between Mayor Bennett, members of the Borough Council, Mr. Clifton, of the County Board of Freeholders, County Engineer Logan, and representatives of the Public Service Railway Company, from Newark. The result was that the Public Service Railway Co. agreed to abandon the plan which they had proposed and which was already underway when stopped by Mayor Bennett, and adopt the plan which was submitted by Mr. Bennett, as it seemed better for both parties concerned.

Teasel in Cloth Dressing.

Few people probably have heard of teasel, which is grown for the purpose of cloth dressing. The wild teasel is found in English hedges and copes and bears a purple flower in July. The function of the teasel is to raise the nap of the cloth, although to some extent it has been superseded by the use of wire brushes.

Red Cross Seals Again on Sale

The National Tuberculosis Association and its allied 1000 affiliated associations are conducting an extensive, educational and preventive campaign beginning December 1. An effort will be made to raise $5,000,000 for health work during 1920. New Jersey's quota is $237,000. This fund will be raised through the sale of Red Cross Christmas Seals, which begin December 1 and nominally close December 31, but actually will be sold until Christmas. Burlington county is being organized for this campaign with Miss Antoinette Campbell, of Riverton, as county chairman.

The quota for the county is $7700 based upon population. Every seal sold will mean a penny's worth of health to the community. The rummage sale at Brown's Mills recently conducted for the benefit of the work of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, netted about $315. Thanks are due to the liberal contributors of the county.

The Importance of the Coming Election

The election next Tuesday is the most important that has demanded the careful thought and attention of New Jersey voters in many years. In the fight for Governorship the issue has been sharply drawn between the forces of law, order and decency—and the other kind. The Republican candidate, Controller Newton A. K. Bugbee, is well known for his uprightness of character, and his race for the Governorship has been conducted along the same high lines that has characterized the administration of the office he now holds. New Jersey will not have a Governor of strength to all the forces of right if he is elected Governor.

In the Freeholder contest special care should be taken in selecting the five men who will have the administration of the county's affairs, with their interest in money involved. The Republican ticket offers men whose fitness cannot be questioned. For the important office of County Clerk the Republicans have nominated William H. Reeves, who is well known, a man of middle age and wide experience, in whom the people of Burlington county can place their trust in perfect safety.

The full Republican ticket is published elsewhere in this issue. This is not the time for casting complimentary votes. An election affecting even more vitally the welfare of the people will take place next year and it is the part of political prudence no less than the evidence of sound judgment to prepare for the national election in 1920 by strengthening party forces thus far in advance, by electing the Republican nominees, whether they be running for office of great responsibility or for the lesser positions to be filled at the same election next Tuesday.

So, go to the polls on election day and, if you believe in the things that the Republican State platform declares for, then vote the straight Republican ticket, but whether you do or not, go to the polls and exercise the great privilege to which your citizenship entitles you.

Lincoln's "Lost Speech."

On the twenty-ninth of October, 1856, Lincoln made a speech at the first republican state convention in Illinois that is remembered as Lincoln's "Lost Speech." Lincoln, who was one of the delegates, was suggested for governor, but he proposed that William Bliss should be nominated instead. The suggestion was accepted and Lincoln addressed the convention for one hour, speaking with such fire and eloquence that the surprised and interested reporters forgot to take notes and his great speech was never recorded.

Cave Dwellers Near Riverton.

It may be of interest to many of our readers to know that some of the early settlers in this neighborhood lived in caves. John and Sarah Roberts, of whom David Roberts, of Moorestown, is a descendant, came from England in 1680 and settled near Burlington. They later moved to a tract near Moorestown, and for a time lived in a cave close by the banks of the Pennsauken creek, and near the present highway from Moorestown to Camden. A monument was erected near this spot in 1898 to commemorate the fact.

Community Hut to Open Again

There have been so many insistent requests for the Community Hut of some institution of like character, that the rector of Christ Church called a meeting to consider the matter, with the result that the Hut will open again. Practically the same members will have the matter in charge as did last year, for their management was considered very satisfactory.

The activities of the Hut have been recorded in the War Camp Library archives as a part of the history of New Jersey's activity during and following the war.

The plans for the Hut as outlined by the executive committee of the State of New Jersey, as conditions have changed somewhat. It is planned, among other things, to hold fourteen dances during the season. On the evenings there will be no entertainment. Dancing will begin at eight o'clock and continue to eleven or eleven-thirty. There will be no evening of entertainment, largely high class professional, and with some of these evenings there will also be dancing.

The first of opening night will be a dance, Tuesday, November 11, Armistice night, the first anniversary of the signing of the Armistice. This will be made a particularly big event. New Year's Eve, which will be Wednesday, the Hut will be open instead of Tuesday, to watch the New Year in. Many will remember the fun last year at the corresponding time. On another evening there will be a costume ball. For features of the entertainment nights there will be a minstrel show, a new play, an evening of vaudeville and a country fair.

The Hut this season will be more for the members of the community, lessening without lessening attention to the service men, and it is hoped that the community will come. To provide funds for the expenses, tickets will be sold in advance for twelve admissions to either dances or entertainments or both, good for one or up to twelve persons and a special purchase of these will mean a decided saving to the purchaser.

The officers of the Hut this year are as follows: President, Dr. H. C. Meyer; vice president, H. C. Worrell; secretary-treasurer, George K. Clark; committee—Dance, S. L. Warren, chairman; Hostess, Mrs. J. W. Worrell, chairman; Entertainment, George K. Clark, chairman; House, John Seck, chairman.

The above as a body constitute the executive committee. Each chairman will appoint his or her assistants.

BOY SCOUTS-WILL AID IN RED CROSS DRIVE

Will Serve as Courier in Roll Call of Members November 2 to 11

Boy Scouts in the states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut will participate in the Third Red Cross Roll Call, Major General John P. O'Ryan, leader of the Atlantic Division campaign, announced following the receipt of a letter from James E. West, chief scout executive, stating the scout organization would help in every way possible.

Commenting on the service of the Boy Scouts during the ten days' drive for 5,000,000 members in the Atlantic Division between the days of November 2 and November 11, General O'Ryan said that their services would prove invaluable, for they can be utilized as messengers, couriers, distributors and aides in the organization of 500,000 volunteers which is being built up for the Roll Call.

The letter from the chief scout executive to Major General O'Ryan follows: "I have been very much pleased to learn that you have been made chairman of the Roll Call Committee for the Atlantic Division.

"I am also very happy to assure you that in line with our program of service the Boy Scouts of America in all communities throughout the country will be delighted to do everything consistent with our constitution and by-laws to aid in the Roll Call Campaign completely successful. The wonderful program of the American Red Cross for affording organized relief in a practical and substantial way merits the enthusiastic and loyal support of every citizen of our country.

"I am confident that every Boy Scout Leader and Scout who is given the opportunity will gladly do his utmost toward this same end."

BELOGRADE.—Working in the American Red Cross sewing rooms during the past three months, 129 young Serbian girls have turned out 10,761 garments, using 14,970 yards of cloth. Most of them had to be taught the craft. In the same school a group of boys made 40 pairs of shoes for war orphans.

RED CROSS MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Plans are being made for the county Red Cross campaign for membership which will begin on Sunday, November 2, and continue for one week.

Walter E. Robb, president of the Burlington City Loan and Trust Company, who served as the county chairman for many years during the past two years, has been chosen to act in a similar capacity for the county Red Cross campaign.

The local chairmen in this vicinity are Mrs. J. Douglas Clark, for Riverton and Cinnaminson, and Mrs. Charlotte R. Richards, for Palmyra.

Big Attendance at County Council Meeting

The fall meeting of the Burlington County Council of New Jersey Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations was held in the Medford public school, Wednesday, County President, Mrs. H. A. Franz, in the chair.

Delegates from Riverton were: Mrs. Harvey Stewart, Mrs. George H. Smith, Mrs. Paul C. Burr, Mrs. S. H. Young, Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, Mrs. Joseph T. Evans, Mrs. H. P. Van Steward, Mrs. C. S. Ayers.

The Palmyra delegates were: Mrs. J. H. Abdill, Mrs. C. W. Joyce, Mrs. E. M. Beeton, Mrs. L. U. Kershner, Mrs. Frank Parker.

Mrs. W. E. Haines, of Hadfield, past president of New Jersey Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, brought greetings from the State.

Miss M. Ethel Jones, of Rutgers, spoke on school lunches, showing the advantage to the child of live teaching something warm served at the school under conditions that necessitate slower eating.

Miss Margaret Haines, of Burlington, spoke briefly on the health problem and the health care taken up in the schools last year.

Miss DeLoach, of Camden, of Hadfield, past president of New Jersey Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, brought greetings from the State.

William H. Reeves, of New Lisbon, the Republican nominee for County Clerk, the native Jerseyman, having first seen the light of day at Barnegat where he was born on March 31, 1870. He received his early schooling there, and then went to New York and worked on a farm near Georgetown, where, when sixteen years of age, attending school during the winter months at Sycamore, where he was employed by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. After gaining the necessary experience at that station he was transferred to Jersey City, where he served as a clerk and telegraph operator. Later he was transferred back to New Lisbon, where he was operator and stationer from January 1, 1891, until he was recently granted a furlough at his own request. This leave of absence is equivalent to his voluntary retirement from the employ of the railroad company which he served so long and faithfully, leaving behind him a record of efficiency and loyalty.

Mr. Reeves is an experienced business man and the success which he has attained is the reward that only comes from industry coupled with ability and sound judgment. He is a director of the People's National Bank, of Pemberton, and also of the Growers' Cranberry Company, an organization of extensive cranberry growers in central and southern New Jersey. He has been a member of the Board of Directors of the Growers' Cranberry Company since 1893. He has been Collector and Treasurer for the township of Pemberton. From 1892 until recently he operated a general store at New Lisbon, which is now managed by his son-in-law, Frank J. Ross.

For five years Mr. Reeves was chairman of the County Board of Elections, but he voluntarily retired from that position this year owing to the fact that he had become a candidate for the Republican nomination for County Clerk.

He is a member of the New Lisbon Methodist Church and chairman of the Board of Stewards. He is affiliated with the Odd Fellows, Knights of which Order of Elks, P. O. S. of A., M. of Burlington, and Helena Commandery, of Burlington.

Mr. Reeves has now arranged his business affairs that in the event of his election to the County Clerkship, of which there seems to be no reasonable doubt, he will be in a position to give his undivided time and attention to the administration of the important office for which position he is so admirably fitted.

FOOT BALL

Riverton struck their stride last Saturday, when they defeated the strong West Walnut team, of West Philadelphia, 27-0. The boys played a strong clean game, Jamison going through the line repeatedly for long gains, while Stroheim, Bowers and Tees made wide end plays and shot forward passes to Bill Faunce, who put in the game for the first time. Hum Boy Hylton was also seen in the line-up and will finish the season with the team. Andy Cress, the fighting Marine, showed lots of snap, and was in every scrimmage.

Next week we take the strong Fairview team, of Camden, into camp. Come out and give the boys your support. Referee, Frank Holvick; umpire, Bill Faunce.

The New Motor Car

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Cantilever Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 120-inch Springbase.

The exclusive, Three-Point Cantilever Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads; they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Cantilever Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires. High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starter and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery—Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Tillotson Carburetor—U. S. L. Batteries and many other high quality conveniences.

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

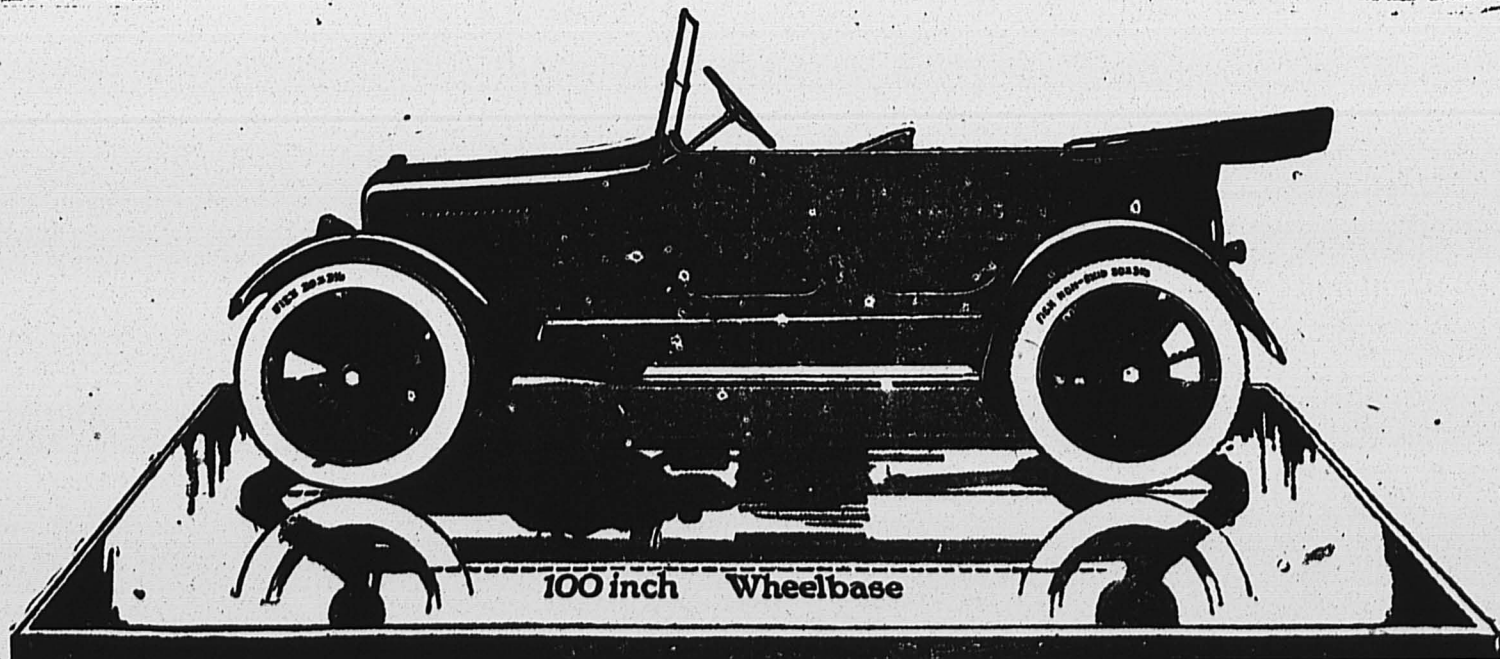

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in, see the car and ask for booklet. The demand will be greater than the supply for a long time.

Overland 4 Touring, $345; Roadster, $345; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f. o. b. Toledo.

HEALTH CENTERS TO BE OPENED BY RED CROSS

Projected service to communities to be financed by Third Roll Call

Very soon after the signing of the armistice, the American Red Cross made it clear that the central feature of its peace time program would consist of activities in the field of public health. Perhaps the most important consideration of this peace program is the plan for the mobilization of Red Cross interest and influence in the establishment of public health centers in every community throughout the country where conditions make this desirable and possible. The working plan will be discussed at the annual meeting of Red Cross Chapters to be held at Chapter headquarters in the near future.

"In planning thus to enter the field of public health, the Red Cross has no idea of attempting to encroach upon the fields of the already existing health authorities," said Major General John F. O'Ryan, chairman of the Third Red Cross Roll Call for the Atlantic Division. "It has no thought of superseding any of the accredited volunteer health agencies. But the Red Cross sees clearly a great opportunity to advance the public welfare by enlisting alongside of these agencies. By mobilizing the reserve forces, its universal prestige, its democratic and non-sectarian ideals in a new and mightier national effort for public health, the Red Cross plans a great campaign against unnecessary sickness, poverty and death now caused by preventable diseases. And this campaign is to be made possible by the Third Red Cross Roll Call, Nov. 2-11.

A Militant Campaign. "That a militant general campaign to promote physical welfare in this country is needed," General O'Ryan said, "is made clear by the experience of the draft examinations, in which approximately one-third of all candidates were rejected for active service on account of physical disability. The first step, he said, has been the extension of the public health nursing program. The establishment of public health centers is another step.

"The Red Cross health center," General O'Ryan continued, "will be the physical headquarters for the public health work of a community. As such, it will be the practical and concrete expression of the interest of the community in the health of its people. It will constitute the business-like way of associating health activities, both public and private, under one roof, in daily touch and in mutual understanding. Thus, it represents the latest step in the evolution of community health work, and answers the demand for efficient conservation of effort in bringing to gether independent health campaigns against preventable diseases. "In the larger communities, the health center will be the focus which brings together all community agencies both public and private, which deal with the health of the people. In the smaller community, the health center will often take the form of a community house, or social center. "The two fundamental elements in the modern public health campaign are the war on tuberculosis and the conservation of child life. In the latter category may be included the whole range of pre-natal supervision, the advice and instruction of mothers in the care and feeding of babies, the exercise of influence for the portion of clean, pasteurized milk, the supervision of homes and surroundings of boarded children, the hygiene of children before and during their school years, and all the other usual activities associated with the conservation of child life."

Report on the House. The proper temperature for various rooms of the home are as follows: The living room should be 70 degrees, no more. It should be occasionally aired so that it does not become close, but the doors should be kept closed into the hall. The dining room and kitchen should be heated to 65 degrees. Most kitchens rise higher than that. The bedrooms should be heated not at all, except for the little time that the occupants use them for dressing. The bathroom should be made as warm as you choose and the bath should be given no special heat, as we are always exercising when we are going through them.

ENDORSES TEACHING THRIFT IN SCHOOLS

Superintendent of School.
Urges National Instruction

The letter reproduced below from Dr. Thomas E. Feneagan, State Superintendent of Schools in Pennsylvania, has recently been received by Governor E. P. Bassano, of the Federal Reserve Bank. The message contained in Dr. Feneagan's communication is a very important one. In it, he expresses the opinion that there should be "regular and systematic instruction in the subject of thrift in every school in the land." It is significant that so many of the leading educators of the country are giving wholehearted support to the National Thrift and Savings Movement. Apparently they realize the truth of the old saying, "as the twig is bent so the tree inclines." Dr. Feneagan's letter follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Department of Public Instruction
Harrisburg, Pa., October 9, 1919.
Hon. E. P. Bassano,
Governor of the Federal Reserve District,
Philadelphia, Penn.
My dear Governor: I am sure that there should be regular and systematic instruction in the subject of thrift in every school in the land. There are many ways in which this subject may be correlated with the regular subjects of the public school curriculum and the whole subject may be presented to a child in a manner which will not interfere in any way whatever with the regular work of the school, but which will add interest to such work, and at the same time, inculcate in a child the habit of thrift. We are organizing an Educational Congress to be held in this state during the week of November 17, and I should be very glad to put this subject down to be considered at that time. I am sure the superintendents and teachers of the state will cordially cooperate in a movement of such importance to the state and country. I am in favor of incorporating in a revised curriculum for the public schools the subject of thrift. Assuming you of any co-operation which this department or the teaching service of the state may be able to give, I am, Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) THOMAS E. FENEAGAN,
State Superintendent.

HOW TO TRAP SUCCESSFULLY

Two Ways of Taking the Wary Mink—One Into Which "Burr Fox" May Fall.

If a mink makes a hole through a snowdrift he will use it again and a trap set in it will catch him.

After cold weather sets in, when setting in shallow water for mink, choose a place where the current runs swiftly and is not likely to freeze up.

When trapping foxes use a No. 2 double spring trap. This style of trap is known as "the fox trap."

If you wish to be real foxy and cunning yourself, try setting three traps, one in an old path without any covering, and one on each side, skillfully covered. The fox will give all his attention to the uncovered trap and by going around it may step into one of those on the side.

It is not much use to try to trap foxes or any other such wary animal without a good scent.

An ear of corn stuck in the mud near a trap makes an excellent bait for coon.

One of the best places to look for coon signs is in a cornfield.

MASKED GOLD

By JOHN HARVEY CURTIS

Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union

Lucky Levi Brill returned from the Alaska gold fields with a fortune, and it was represented not by drafts or bank notes, but by the real thing—gold. They called him "lucky" because he was one of the first in the New Pioneer rush to make "a ten strike."

He was old, unimpressive, but innocent of guile as a schoolboy. "I've gone through a heap of it in two years what most men spend a lifetime over," he announced. "Now I'm going to enjoy it rationally. First to build a home, then to find a wife, and a little later a little farming and lots of comfort, and I'm fixed for life."

But Brill, good natured and kindly as he was, could not prevail on any maid or widow of the town to link her destiny with an uncouth man long past middle age. Then he went abroad into new fields to prospect for the homestead he felt to be essential to his plan of life. "Rank, wild crazy over her, and no wonder," commented a visitor to the city who had seen Miss Helena Drury, whom the daily press announced was to become the bride of the millionaire miner, Levi Brill. The newspaper, too, told of the princely ante-nuptial gifts Brill had given his fiancée, of the mansion he had started to build in his native town. Her beauty was manifest to all, for the bride soon to become the "bride of the millionaire miner," Levi Brill. The newspaper, too, told of the princely ante-nuptial gifts Brill had given his fiancée, of the mansion he had started to build in his native town. Her beauty was manifest to all, for the bride soon to become the "bride of the millionaire miner," Levi Brill. The newspaper, too, told of the princely ante-nuptial gifts Brill had given his fiancée, of the mansion he had started to build in his native town. Her beauty was manifest to all, for the bride soon to become the "bride of the millionaire miner," Levi Brill.

One morning early Levi Brill alighted from the city train, his face colorless, his eyes faded and dim, his gait unsteady. He had grown 20 years older in a single day. He spoke to no one, but repaired to the half-finished mansion that was never to be completed. He shut himself out from all human companionship, and soon the solution of the mystery was public property. Almost upon her wedding day the beautiful Helena Drury had eloped with the man she really loved. Therefore Levi Brill hated all woman-kind. He checked the completion of the mansion, making habitable only a few rooms in one wing. He barely spoke to men acquaintances, never to a woman, and when some girl, bright and lively, neared him he would cross the street to avoid her.

When he came back to the house of desolation Brill went to a room where were stored the mementoes of his first and only love venture. He had told nobody, but he had prepared a great surprise to bedeck the boudoir when Helena became his wife. Brill had gone to a famous plastic artist in the city and had arranged to have nearly all the gold in its natural state be possessed made into a life-size bust of the woman he loved. It was a marvellously natural presentation of the false but beautiful creature who had deceived him.

Brill removed the bust from the pedestal upon which, covered with tin-solled silk, it rested, and bore it to the room which thereafter he allowed no one to enter save himself. He got a pall of black paint and covered the bust with its mourning blackness, a gruesome memento of the one fatal romance of his life.

Two years went on and Brill had despoiled most of his fortune. He became a preternaturally old-looking man. He had frequent spells of illness, but would allow no one but men hired from the village to nurse him. Then one day fate cast in his way a girl of about twenty who was destined to care for him for years to come. She was Wanda Kelle, a poor, but refined village girl, the daughter of a music teacher who had just died. Brill had set traps and spring guns about the place to scare away tramps. Wanda had crossed the garden to receive on one side of her face a powder discharge that marred her beauty. It was beauty that Levi Brill now abhorred. To make up to the girl for her affliction, he offered her a home for life and she accepted. He was always more and sullen, but he cared for her respectfully and practically adopted her.

Half a mile away from the place lived a widow, Mrs. Graves. Her son, a young man of twenty-five, had been blind from his birth, but had become an apt musician, and his patient, pleasing face and manners had made him a favorite with all the village. More than with all others, his gentle, lovable nature had made an impression on Wanda. Together they wandered through the wilderness until affection blossomed forth strong and lasting.

Little by little the means of Levi Brill dwindled. The house was placed under foreclosure. Wanda commended and became a veritable treasure to Brill. One day he was taken ill, the next day he died. "For you, Wanda," he gasped with dying breath, "all that is in my little room, all that is left—Wanda gave up the house. It was when they were removing the odd mass of hoarded possessions of the past that two of the movers marveled at the weight of a blackened and dust-covered bust.

"It must be lead!" muffled and panted one of them, and as such it was conveyed to Wanda's home, its scolding worth faded to be discovered shortly, the legacy of the old miser to a faithful helper who now became the happy wife of Arnold Graves.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE REV. P. B. FLETCHER, D. D.,
Trainer of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
(Copyright, 1919, Western Newspaper Union)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 2

TEMPERANCE LESSON. (World's Temperance Sunday.)

LESSON TEXT—Jer. 31:3-5, 12-14, 18, 19.
GOLDEN TEXT—Whosoever therefore ye eat of drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God—1 Cor. 10:31.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A true temperance story.
JUNIOR TOPIC—What alcohol does—Prov. 23:32.
INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The clean strong life.
SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—Our personal responsibility for temperance reform.

I. The Rechabites Tested (vv. 1-5).
In the days of Jehoiakim the Lord charged Jeremiah to bring the Rechabites into the house of the Lord and test them regarding the drinking of wine. This he did in a place where the people might behold them, the altar being to the left. Jeremiah said to them: "The father of the Rechabites had given command that they should not drink wine. Their filial obedience put to shame the Israelites for their lack of obedience. Jehoiakim, the father of the king, was only a man, but the one whose commands Israel were disregarding was the Almighty God, their Creator and Savior. It is God's plan that every man be tested. Being a free agent he only can have character through testing. It was for this reason that God placed Adam and Eve in Eden and permitted the devil to test them. While we should be concerned with the removal of temptations from men, we should be more concerned with teaching them their responsibility and showing them how to overcome."

II. The Filial Loyalty of the Rechabites (vv. 6-11).

Though they were out of their own country, in the midst of a foreign people, they refused to drink wine, declaring that they had been true to the instruction of Jehoiakim all their lives. Evidence to the instruction had been given by all men, women and children. It is a fine thing when children keep in memory their fathers and render obedience to their commands.

III. The Loyalty of the Rechabites in Contrast With the Disloyalty of the Israelites (vv. 12-15).

1. The appeal (vv. 12, 13). He made the appeal on the basis of the filial loyalty of the Rechabites. He reminded them that the Rechabites were obedient, though their father was dead long ago. He also reminded them that he had spoken to them in person, rising up early to do so.
2. The ministry of the prophets (vv. 14, 15). When the people failed to render obedience to God he sent to them the prophets, who pleaded with them to amend their ways by turning away from their idols. Matthew Henry indicates the points of contrast somewhat as follows: (1) The Rechabites were obedient to one who was but a man; the Jews disobeyed the infinite and eternal God. (2) Jehoiakim was dead long ago and could not know of their disloyalty or correct them from it. God is all-wise and lives forever and will punish for disobedience. (3) The Rechabites were never put in mind of their obligations, but God sent his prophets who rose up early to remind them. (4) Jehoiakim left the charge, but no estate to bear the charge; but God gave the people a goodly land and blessed them in it. (5) God never tied up his people to any land (ask the Jews did, yet God's people disobeyed him and the Rechabites obeyed their father).

IV. Judgment Upon the Jews for Disobedience (v. 17).

God declared that he would bring judgment upon them according to what he had said. Judgment is determined upon those who disobey and rebel against God.

V. Reward of the Rechabites for Their Loyalty (vv. 18, 19).

"Because they had been true to the commands of Jehoiakim they should have continued representation before him. God has such regard for filial obedience that he lets no act go unrecorded."

GENERAL O'RYAN HEADS CAMPAIGN FOR MEMBERS

To Direct Third Red Cross Roll Call in Three States—Army Men offer Help.

Major General John F. O'Ryan, commander of the famous Twenty-seventh Division, whose brilliant fighting qualities helped smash the "Hindenburg line," will direct the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, in the states of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut. The Roll Call is for the purpose of enrolling 5,000,000 members in the territory of the Atlantic Division and a minimum of 20,000,000 for the country.

General O'Ryan's appointment to the position of campaign manager followed his unsolicited offer to aid the American Red Cross as an expression of his appreciation for its services in behalf of soldiers and sailors generally and the men of his division particularly.

"So efficient and comprehensive was the work of the Red Cross which came under the observation of the officers and men of the division which I commanded," said General O'Ryan in a letter to Dr. Livingston Farrand, head of the American Red Cross, "that I feel sure I represent their sentiments of appreciation when I assume to offer to you, which I now do, all the help the old Twenty-seventh can give you."

"We appreciate that the problems to be met and which can best be solved by an organization like the Red Cross are not solely war problems and that to meet existing and future problems the Red Cross organization must have an active and undiminished membership of great strength."

"We will do what we can to bring to the attention of the many friends of the division the accomplishment of the Red Cross as we saw it in the war and the further field for the continuance of its effort."

Prompted by the action of General O'Ryan, the returned rank and file of the A. E. F. are preparing to rally to the call of the American Red Cross for a great national membership.

Officers of high rank, noncommissioned officers and privates are going to canvass for memberships. In many instances local posts of the American Legion and National Guard organizations are going to canvass in a body for the Third Red Cross Roll Call.

Other Army Officers Appointed.

The Red Cross Chapters in the five boroughs of Greater New York are in the selection of Brigadier General George R. Dyer, commander of the First Brigade of the New York National Guard, as chairman for their united campaign. Scores of chapters in the Atlantic Division have followed the example of the division headquarters and the Greater New York Chapter by appointing army officers to take charge of their campaigns.

The enthusiasm and efficiency with which General O'Ryan is recruiting volunteers and developing his organization for the Roll Call is reflected also in the work of the army men who are now serving with him as chapter campaign managers.

Birds as Barometers.

Birds are excellent barometers. A number of our birds—swans, wild duck, coots, moorhens and others—build their nests either on the banks of a river or floating on its surface attached to the reeds or water grasses. These birds, it is said, never by chance get caught by floods, and if you see a swan's nest, say, a foot above the river level you may be sure that during the next few weeks there will not be rain enough to raise the river above that height. The common robin knows a great deal about forthcoming weather. If he sings in the morning it is a certain sign of bad weather.

'LOST BATTALION' HERO TO ASSIST CAMPAIGN

Colonel Whittlesey Promises Co-operation to Third Red Cross Roll Call.

Lieutenant-Col. Charles W. Whittlesey of "Lost Battalion" fame has offered his services to Major General John F. O'Ryan who is in charge of the membership campaign of the American Red Cross, according to an announcement by the campaign headquarters of the Atlantic Division of the Red Cross.

Of his own volition Colonel Whittlesey wrote to Major General O'Ryan, saying that he had heard the call that had gone forth for former service men and was willing, eager, to do his share of the work, in the Third Red Cross Roll Call, November 2 to 11, if for no other reason than to repay to some extent the splendid service which the Red Cross rendered the twenty-seventh Division during the fighting in France.

Accompanying the announcement on the General's headquarters that Lieutenant-Colonel Whittlesey was to be counted on in the organization of the campaign was the information that through Park Post No. 159 of the American Legion, a Brooklyn unit of the legion, had unanimously voted to set its efforts to the success of the Roll Call, which is to close on Armistice day.

Commenting on the willingness of former service men to aid in the Roll Call, General O'Ryan said:

"It is what I expected, what I pray for, for the service men, above all others, know the worth of the Red Cross. As the campaign organization is rounded into form the names of hundreds of thousands of former A. E. F. men will appear on the rolls of the workers."

ELHASAN, Albania—Under the inspiration of the American Red Cross women the people of this town organized a fair to raise funds for the opening of a municipal hospital. The townspeople got together enough money for the building and the Red Cross supplied the equipment. It is the first and only hospital in Elhasan.

BELGIAN PRIMATE GIVES THANKS TO RED CROSS

Spiritual Hero of the War Speaks of the "Quality" of American Hearts

Through a pouring rain Cardinal Mercier, heroic primate of Belgium, went to national headquarters of the American Red Cross during his recent stay in the capital personally to thank the organization for its work in behalf of the people of his country during the war.

Willoughby Walling, Vice Chairman of the Central Committee, acting as chairman, greeted His Eminence and presented to him the heads of the various departments. The entire headquarters staff gathered in the main hall, and amid a rousing American greeting the Cardinal, standing before the service flag that occupies a place of honor in the room of the Red Cross nurses who gave their lives in the war, was introduced to the assembly.

Responding to the address of welcome by Mr. Walling, Cardinal Mercier said:

"Mr. President, the accent of sincerity in your words and the applause of the assemblage move me deeply. I feel a proper sympathy for your work. During the sorrowful years among a people who had much to suffer I understood the importance of your work—what you did for the wounded, not only for those who were sick on their beds, but for their families. It was a great satisfaction for the father and mother to know that those who were wounded in the war were being cared for, fraternally and maternally, by you."

"I express to you my deep gratitude. I express it to you personally, and I express my gratitude in the name of my people to those who are after, whom your distinguished Vice President mentioned. I thank you also for your great work of Red Cross. I know your membership has grown from 400,000 to 1, I think it is, 19,000,000 or 20,000,000. This is splendid progress in a splendid movement."

"Still, there is one thing which I appreciate more than quantity—it is quality. Quantity is one thing you have. For the quality of your hearts, with your charity for mankind—for all this I offer you my expression of admiration. And when I shall be back home, after some time, I shall tell my people that not only were you doing during the war, but you are already coming to be a permanent institution of charity for humanity, and I know that my poor Belgium—my small country—will have a share in your souvenir, and, I hope, also in your help."

"In that feeling I pray God to bless you all, and I shake hands with your Vice President in the idea that I shake hands with each one of you."

NOVOGRODEK, Poland—Difference in class, race, or religion mean nothing to the American Red Cross workers. Dr. Virginia Murray, of San Gabriel, Cal., reports that one of the best helpers and advisers the Red Cross has in this section is S. Saferevich, head of the Mohammedan colony that has existed here for 250 years. "There is no more honest man in Poland," said Dr. Murray. It has been repeatedly proved that his information can always be depended upon. He is energetic in getting help for people of all faiths alike.

Try One Brunswick Then Decide

The best way to know for yourself the superiority of the Brunswick Tire is to buy one and compare it.

That is, if the very name of Brunswick isn't sufficient proof to you, as it is to most men, that here is an extraordinary tire.

Thousands of men who have known the name of Brunswick for years, realize that a Brunswick Tire has to be the best—for a mediocre product could never bear this historic name.

Long before the Overland Trail became famous, the House of Brunswick was established. It was one of the chief users of rubber for fifty years before automobiles came into use.

No concern with such a history could afford to offer anything but the best. For reputations are built slowly, but can be quickly destroyed.

This is a practical guarantee that Brunswick Tires offer more than the usual, yet at no added cost.

In the belfry of a little church in France the Germans placed a bomb connected with wires to the monstrance on the altar. The idea was that when the monstrance was moved the resultant explosion would bring the church down upon the heads of the worshippers. Fortunately Marshal Foch's little paragraph in his armistice terms, to wit, that German commanders would be held personally responsible for all damage done by infernal machines, prevented this characteristically Teuton performance from coming off.—Rochester Post-Express

SETS THE PACE 22nd Year

The "THOROBRED" 7-passenger Touring Car

THE trend of automobile engineering points to the 8-cylinder car. And good buying judgment points to the Oldsmobile.

We aimed higher than simply pioneering the "eight." We aimed to produce one of moderate price and low maintenance costs, —that had the flexibility, smoothness and abundance of power inherent in the 8-cylinder car.

—that cost as little to buy and operate as the majority of "sixes" and many "fours."

—that would be smartly distinctive, yet characteristically Oldsmobile.

Our aim is attained in the "THOROBRED"—the only popular priced "eight" in which mechanical excellence is combined with rare riding comfort and up-to-the-minute body lines. Oldsmobiles have been the history-makers of motordom; the "THOROBRED" is well worthy to perpetuate the name.

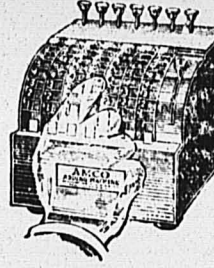

Descriptive literature will be sent upon request, or a demonstration gladly arranged.

Red Cross Emergency Work

Civilization Fatal to Eskimo.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer, to whom the Charles P. Daly medal was presented by the American Geographical Society for his "valuable contributions to science," pleaded that no efforts be made to civilize the Eskimo tribes of the far North. All such previous efforts, he stated, had resulted disastrously for the natives. One tribe of 5,000 discovered in 1825 by an English explorer, he said, was now reduced to only 40 persons through adoption of a civilized mode of living, which was unsuitable for the frigid climate.

Vehicle Market in Siam.

Owing to the low lying and often inundated plains of southern Siam, in which most of the rice farming is done and in which road making is difficult, and also the fact that transportation is easily afforded by the numerous canals which traverse the country in every direction, there is not likely to be any extended demand for farm wagons or other vehicles for the use of the Siamese farmer. It seems, however, that considerable attention will be given to road making in Siam's principal cities, notably in Bangkok, and that therefore a line of municipal vehicles will be needed in the near future.

Palmyra High Defeats Moorestown

One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed Palmyra High School's football team defeat the strong Moorestown High School team at the Field Club grounds last Tuesday by the score of 20 to 6.

Moorestown's touchdown was made when Baylor got the ball on the line. Bennett failed to kick the goal. Two of Palmyra's touchdowns also resulted from fumbles. Bill Graham getting away for a 15-yard run to the line and Gene Myers making the other with a twenty-yard sprint. In the last quarter with but a few minutes to play Palmyra marched steadily down the field with fine plunges and Abbill went over for the final tally. Jackson kicked two goals and missed one.

The Palmyra Independent football team went a long way to substantiate its claim to being in line for the championship of South Jersey last Saturday by trouncing the strong Parkside team of Camden, to the tune of 34 to 0. Parkside was the strongest team the boys have met and the score was the largest they have rolled up.

Riverside, claimants of the South Jersey title, beat Parkside 33-0, and the showing made by Palmyra caused the Riverside manager to hustle down to see Manager John Saar at once to arrange a game, which will be played later in the season.

The boys play Germantown this Saturday, and want a big crowd out. Felix Anderson, of the Womansville College star, who now owns a farm at Bridgeboro, will play with the locals. Anderson is a cousin of Art Wright.

Early in the participation of the United States in the world war, the American Red Cross perceived the value of mobilizing the school children of the country and the Junior Red Cross was organized. Before the war ended nine million children were enrolled and helped in the war fund and membership campaigns, in chapter production of relief supplies and manufacturing furniture for the refugees whose homes and household goods were destroyed.

Children everywhere in the United States responded to the call to service sounded by President Wilson as head of the American Red Cross. This photograph is that of an enthusiastic young Japanese member of the Junior Red Cross of Spokane, Wash., starting out on the ambitious undertaking of collecting "a mile of pennies" for war relief. A comprehensive peace program is now being worked out for the Junior Red Cross, which is being held intact.

THIS IS THE RED CROSS CHRISTMAS SEALS GIRL

BEVERLY HAYES

Beverly Hayes says: "Buy Red Cross Christmas Seals. They protect little children from the ravages of tuberculosis. They build a barrier of health about the workers of the nation. They protect homes—your home. They spell hope, assurance and physical and economic rehabilitation to more than one million people in the United States who have tuberculosis. If you purchase enough Red Cross Christmas Seals, the death rate of this dread plague will be materially reduced. Last year 150,000 people fell victims of the disease. Twelve thousand of these were little children. Think of it! Next year's death toll is needless. If we all do our part in the sale this year, next year's death toll has passed into the oblivion which has already engulfed smallpox, leprosy and typhoid fever."

NEW ZONE SYSTEM FOR JERSEY LINES

First Two Miles Five Cents and Cent For Each Subsequent Mile, is the Rate.

BOARD MAKES RECOMMENDATION

Camden and Other South Jersey Municipalities Still Contending For a Flat Fare of Five Cents—McCartier Believes Revenue Sufficient.

Trenton.—With Camden and the other South Jersey municipalities still contending for the abolition of the zone system and the return of the flat fare, usually mentioned as five cents and the Public Service Railway company still holding out for the retention of the principle of a zone system, the hearing before the public utilities commission adjourned to reconvene in Newark. During the meeting there a rate of five cents for the first two miles, a cent for each mile thereafter, and a one-cent transfer privilege over the trolley lines of the company was announced by the commission. Warm passages between the commissioners and President Thomas N. McCartier, of the corporation, preceded the handing down of the decision. The Public Service was given "several days" to accept the ruling, and the date for the new system to take effect will not be determined. The new schedule is a modification of the unpopular zone scheme, whereby three cents is charged for the first mile, two cents a mile thereafter and no transfer.

L. Edward Herrmann, the utility board's counsel, said the rate was made public: "We are attempting to solve a psychological problem. We are not sure that this is a fair and equitable rate, but we believe it is a rate that will win the confidence of the public."

The report that the board had reached a decision brought President McCartier before the commission in a hurry, there to protest the fixing of any rate that "has been agreed to without a hearing." The board met the protest with indignation, and President McCartier called a conference to decide upon immediate release of the rate opinion or the advisability of delaying it for further hearings.

When the hearing resumed, President McCartier said: "The board met and decided upon a recommendation to the company. We concluded that, in view of the testimony presented, we are going to announce our recommendation without further hearing. We hope it will have the support of the company."

McCartier asked if the company could raise the figures arrived at by the commission's experts in considering the new order, so that it could decide its future action. President McCartier replied that the co-operation necessary would be given.

Take McCartier at His Word.

After a cross-fire of remarks between members of the board and McCartier hearing on his protest, President McCartier told McCartier: "We do not propose to be placed in the position where we must take only the rate you suggest, and you assume to be dictator of which rate is practicable, and which is impracticable." The board president decided to delay the announcement of the new order until it could consider Mr. McCartier's request.

"From inquiries that have been made by representatives of the commission for figures in our office," McCartier said, in telling why he was appearing before the board, "the company has formed the opinion that the board is considering a rate or rates other than those suggested by the company. This opinion has been con-firmly by statements that have appeared in the papers. I desire to say here in public that this is an enormous matter, and that the company here enters its protest against any rate that has been agreed to without a hearing."

"Mr. McCartier, you expressly said at Trenton that you would submit to a trial of any system within reason," President McCartier interrupted. "We have taken you at your word. We do not propose being placed in the position that we must take only a rate suggested by you."

"No, not at all," replied McCartier, "we do not ask that. All we want is to be given a hearing before any rate is established."

"This board has been giving hearings for some time," McCartier answered, "and we think there are certain schemes that should be tried. You no doubt have in mind in making this protest, the newspaper articles that have said we are going to order the five-cent-for-two-mile plan."

"I want to say," McCartier interrupted, "that that rate or any other rate you have in mind should be publicly discussed before it is put into effect. We ought to be given the opportunity of calling our experts to show the probable effects of any contemplated rate."

"This rate that has been called forth such a disturbance in your mind was threshed out time and again at hearings before this board," McCartier said. "Our experts testified as to its value. It is not a new plan. You have made your suggestions and we have cooperated with you. The five and one-cent rate is the very rate suggested by the company in its own zone book."

Parries For the Pennies.

"That rate was for five cents the first mile and a penny thereafter," McCartier said. "That would give us seven cents for the third mile. The rate the newspapers speak of would only give us six."

"The estimates in this case have gone astray," McCartier answered. "The company has said it didn't know what returns it would get from any system in spite of its studies. I don't think it a great crime to take the advice of our engineers and other engineers and form a tentative rate. It is purely a matter of judgment."

"This is the first I have known of a rate being put on without a hearing," McCartier said. "We have been advised that the seven-cent flat rate at present except for the zone system experiment. I don't see why the company should accept a rate that would give it a lower return."

L. Edward Herrmann, counsel to the commission, asked: "But didn't you say the seven-cent rate was only a stopgap—that the company was falling short of its legal return?"

"Yes, I did," McCartier admitted, "but if the commission gave a decision which would lead to serious difficulties."

Commissioner March asked: "How do you know what it would give?"

"I don't know, but I don't believe we should try this or that rate to see what it would give," McCartier answered.

President McCartier resumed: "It is not so much the rate as the abandonment of the zone principle about which we are concerned. It is either right or wrong. If we go to seven cents the company will be back in a month for a higher flat rate."

"We will get along on that rate until the year is completed," McCartier said. "Because the politicians on both sides have condemned the zone system is no reason we should discard the principle."

McCartier continued: "This is an arbitrary stand for you to take in view of the board's co-operation in this trolley situation. If we wanted to be on the popular side of the matter, we should not have bothered with all these hearings."

"I want to say," concluded McCartier, "that the rate mentioned in the papers would only give us $2,000,000 of the $3,000,000 needed to pay our fixed charges. If we can't pay these, it means collapse of the system. We must look before we leap. We could

Do You Want New Jersey To Be An Outlaw Among States?

EDWARD I. EDWARDS, "Boss"

Hague's candidate for Governor of New Jersey, tells you in his quest for votes that if he is elected, New Jersey will not know Prohibition. He openly declares that every man will get his booze and the Federal Constitution will cut no figure in New Jersey if you only give him the political patronage that goes with the highest and most honorable office in the commonwealth.

Yet Congress has passed a Prohibition enforcement measure effective on October 28th. After that date, therefore, Prohibition becomes a matter for Federal Grand Juries and Federal Courts.

WHAT DOES EDWARDS MEAN?

Either he proposes to put New Jersey outside the pale of the United States, making it secede from the Union and renounce the Constitution and the Flag, or else he is just a political buccaneer and mountebank seeking to extract votes from New Jersey's intelligent electorate under false pretenses. Certainly the solid, self-respecting people of New Jersey, no matter how they may feel personally on the Eighteenth Amendment, or any other question, are not going to approve of this bald proposition to put New Jersey in the law-breaking, criminal class. They are not ready by any means to renounce their allegiance to the country and its laws. They want law and order, good government and constructive public progress, not anarchy, demagoguery — even TREASON!

Noah's Ark in China.

A curious Chinese picture is of great antiquity, and is supposed to represent Noah's ark on the top of Mount Ararat. As is well known, the religious literature of almost every nation and race contains an account of a deluge, but a Chinese manuscript recently unearthed follows very closely the story as recorded in the Bible. It is particularly interesting in that the roof of the Chinese ark is of the gable variety associated with the Noah's arks which prove such entertaining toys for our youngsters. The Chinese picture, however, shows a double storied vessel, and, so far from there being only one window in the roof, there are windows in every possible space. It would be interesting if some Chinese scholar or antiquarian could discover the exact date of that drawing.

Exorcising "Evil Eye."

The notion of the "evil eye" is classed as the oldest of all superstitions and to frustrate its disastrous effects the peoples of past ages went to an immense amount of trouble and suffered much discomfort thereby. One antidote against the evil eye was to drink a tea made of the ashes of a piece of rope used in hanging a man. The people of the Orient used to burden their babies with jewels to divert the attention of the diabolical gazer. Necklaces of sapphires and carnelians were especially efficacious in this regard. In some countries the use of garlic or even the name of that herb pronounced in the right way was supposed to nullify the attempted injury. It would be interesting to know if this is the reason garlic came into such constant demand on the continent.
