IT LASTS FOR YEARS —NOT MONTHS!

VALDURA 99.5% PURE AS-PHALT PAINT is offered for permanent protection. You do not have to apply VALDURA every year like you do most paints of its type. VALDURA makes its strongest appeal to the better class users. It sometimes costs a little more than the black tar dopes so generally offered, but it really costs less because a gallon goes further and lasts a great deal longer.

VALDURA 99.5% PURE ASPHALT PAINT

should be preferred for all types of roofs; whether rubber, felt, composition, or metal. It is used widely for bridges, silos, tanks, farm machinery etc. You can use it everywhere a water and weather resisting paint is required, whether below ground or aboveground.
It is supplied in popular sized containers from 1 Gall. cans up. It is all ready for use and does not have to be heated or thinned with before you use it.
Let us send you the VALDURA Booklet and if you wish it, we will include a free sample can for test.

STATE ROADS IN BAD CONDITION

Heavy Trucking in New Jersey Is Not Treated Sufficiently for Upkeep of Roads.

PAMPHLET ON LAWS ISSUED

Public in General Object to Blanket Appropriations—Want Annual Report Itemized—Lower Grade Teachers Considered.

Trenton—New Jersey will spend about $25,000,000 on roads this year.
The total income from automobile fees will be approximately $3,000,000.
The present deplorable road conditions are due largely to the heavy trucking that is permitted, the state being entirely too tolerant with this class of traffic. The following shows the difference in the maximum weight allowed in the various states adjacent to New Jersey, together with the maximum registration fee: For New Jersey's maximum of 30,000 pounds an annual fee of $87 is charged. Pennsylvania's limit is 24,000 pounds, for which the fee is $375; Maryland's maximum is 11,000 pounds, with a fee of $500.
Connecticut limits the load to 10,000 pounds and charges a fee of $200. New York fixes the maximum load at 25, 000 pounds, with fees considerably higher than New Jersey's.

Fees should be based on horsepower and weight. The automobile should bear the burden, or most of it.
It is to the interest of truck owners, as well as of the taxpaying public, that the solution be found quickly. Present laws should be forced and new ones enacted with a full recognition of the importance of developing, rather than of stifling, the use of this new and valuable transportation agency.

Want Report Itemized.

In a message to the senate, Governor Edwards considered the practice of making omnibus or blanket appropriations, and said that "all receipts and all honest unexpended balances of prior appropriations should, at the end of the fiscal year, remain in the general treasury, and the fiscal appropriations should be made for the purpose of meeting the expenses of the various departments. In no other way can the people be intelligently advised as to how much it costs to run a respective department of the state."

Until a few years ago it had been the custom of the state treasurer to print, annually, a report showing by item, the money paid out had been expended. The itemized report was interesting, but it also was a measure of protection to the treasury. The people ought to know how their money is to be spent without compelling them to go on a blind search through parliamentary reports, and the bare figures in the comptroller's statements.

Pamphlet on New Law.

Former State Librarian John P. Dullard has prepared and printed the Legislative Reference Bureau of the state library, a descriptive list of laws and joint resolutions enacted by the legislature during the present session.
The little pamphlet will be helpful to the courts, the lawyers and others who are interested in keeping in touch with the latest enacted statutes; as there appears to be little prospect that the volume of session laws will be issued for several months; and the printed sections that are distributed from time to time are inconvenient to use without an index. Mr. Dullard's list supplies this lack by directing the searcher to the chapter number of the statute and giving a brief synopsis of the act.

The law of 1895, governing the publication of the laws, provides that all laws passed in one week shall be "laid before the legislature by Monday night of the following week," but this requirement has never been fulfilled.
Daily, almost hourly, the laws are being violated because of the lack of knowledge on the part of the people, who are "supposed to know the law."
The courts, which are expected to punish violators, and these officials upon whom fall the duty of administering the laws, are likewise ignorant, but for the relief afforded by the descriptive lists issued from the state library, and the news reports of the daily and weekly press.

More Pay For Lower Grade Teachers.

The Executive Committee of the State Federation of District Boards of Education is reported to favor a revision of that part of the school law governing the apportionment of moneys to help meet teachers' salaries, so that the allowance for elementary instructors shall be the same as that for high school teachers; and expressing the view that "the work of elementary teachers is fully as important as that of high school instructors." The opinion is generally entertained, and naturally so.

the south side of West State street, just beyond Willow, have been opened by John A. Smith, custodian of the State House, at the direction of the State House Commission. These dwellings are wanted at this time to make room for the transfer of a couple of overcrowded departments from the State House to this home building involved.

It is understood that the state has succeeded in arranging with the Redman family for a short lease on their home at No. 118, with an option to buy at the expiration of the lease. N.
R. Ivins, who owns No. 115, has been approached for his house, too, but up to this time has not agreed to the lease purchase plan suggested by the state, his desire apparently being to sell outright.

There is no state money available for the purchase of these two properties now, but the plan of the State House Commission is to get them under lease for the present and then to ask the next legislature to appropriate enough money to buy them. This is the procedure that has been followed when the several other houses in this block were bought several years ago.

Street Railway Valuation.

Under the law State Comptroller Dugbee and State Treasurer Read can go ahead with the valuation of street railway property without the assistance of Governor Edwards. Though the act passed over the governor's veto designated the chief executive of the state as a member of the Valuation Commission and provided that he should act as its chairman, the law further provided, however, that "in the absence of the governor one of the other members may be designated to act as chairman."

New Jersey's Efficient Schools.

The high rank given New Jersey in the comparative efficiency of its public school system in the report of the educational department of the Russell Sage Foundation should dispel any existing fear that this state was in any keeping pace with the progress in educational progress in the United States.

There have been some who have not been backward in asserting that New Jersey was losing ground where other states have been advancing. The summary of the investigations conducted by Dr. Leonard P. Ayres of the foundation, who is rated among the very foremost of school analysts, shows New Jersey fourth in school efficiency among all the states and territories and ahead of all other eastern states, and this should be enough to silence
the pessimists and reassure the school men who have been unable to measure the progress which this state has actually been making.

It is not creditable to the eastern states generally that the showing is not so good as those of the West. Montana is placed in the honor position, leading all the rest, with California second and Arizona third. Then come New Jersey and the District of Columbia, with more western states, Washington, Iowa and Utah following before Massachusetts finds its rank as the second eastern state and ninth on the list.
New York is in thirteenth place and Pennsylvania in twentieth.

The summary as a whole shows that in the last thirty years the western states have been making progress so much faster than their sister commonwealths of the east as gradually to displace them in leadership in progress.
New Jersey is the only eastern state to show a gain in that period.

Farmers Give Up in Disgust.

There are many farms for sale in South Jersey, and in other sections farmers are "frosting" on their property, declaring that because they cannot get help they do not intend to work 10 to 18 hours a day and Sundays, too, to feed men working only eight hours at other businesses. Many farms will be absolutely idle if this condition holds much longer.

This Statement was made by one of the largest farm owners in the Hud- son Valley section, former Assemblyman Ephraim T. Gill, owner of the Hud- son farms, one of the largest dairies in New Jersey.

Mr. Gill also said that some farmers are selling their cows and other stock and implements and that the great shortage in labor will be responsible for the greatest shortage in food. At one time recently no less than 25 farms were for sale in the vicinity of Mt.
Holly alone.

Will Boost Theater Tax.

As a means of raising $120,000 revenue lost to Trenton with the advent of prohibition, Director of Public Safety George B. LaBarre presented an ordinance to the City Commission which will virtually double the tax paid by theaters and other amusement places in Trenton. The new tax will range from $75 to $500 annually, according to the form of amusement and the seating capacity of the houses.

INTERESTING NEWS BITS

in and around Palmyra

FRIDAY, JUNE 4, 1920.

Buy It At Home.

Mrs. Cora Ziegler, of Riverside, and Arthur Vaughn, of Palmyra, were married Wednesday.

Miss A. E. Price has sold Mrs. Rapp's property, corner Golf Hill and Wallace, to Theodore Morris.

The Field Club Board of Directors will meet next Wednesday evening at the home of Clinton Gibson, in Riverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Taylor spent Monday at Lehigh University, South Bethlehem, with their son, Thomas Taylor.

Everett Abdlil has gone to Severn school, near Annapolis, for an intensive course of three weeks to prepare for the Naval Academy examinations.

Sol Romm will sail on the liner President Wilson on July 8 for Trieste, Italy, whence he will go by way of Vienna to Warsaw to visit his mother.

George M. Becker was appointed Tax Collector at a special meeting held by the Township Committee Friday night. There were several applicants for the position.

The asphalt has been laid on the Palmyra end of the county road street improvement and the street is open to traffic to Elm avenue. The work in Riverton will be rushed through.

Frank L. Durgin was a spectator at the Army-Navy game on the Naval Academy field at Annapolis last Saturday. Mrs. Durgin spent the week at Annapolis, attending the Academy's commencement exercises.

Elizabeth A., eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dunn, died Thursday afternoon after a long illness. Funeral services will be held Monday, and interment will be made at Riverside. Undertaker John E. Morton.

Miss Hattie Bieber and Mrs. J. Lev. Inhab. of Medicine, Md., were guests of their sister, Mrs. Maurice Schwartz, Mrs. Schwartz accompanied them as far as Newark Monday for a day's visit with friends there.

Acquia Jones has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for Sheriff at the primaries to be held in September. Mr. Jones is a well-known and prosperous farmer living near Mount Holly.

Ex-Freelholder I. H. Bennett and family, of Jamesburg, William H. Quackenbush and family, of Palm Beach, Fla., and Miss Mildred Blackwell, of New York City, were guests of Mrs. George E. Keyes, of Parry avenue on Decoration Day.

A highly successful shirtwaist dance was given Wednesday evening in P. O. S. of A. Hall for the benefit of the Masonic building fund by William Vogt, Reyno's orchestra furnished the music and the decorations were attended to by Mr. Vogt and Charles Matlack.

Post Rodgers, American Legion, would like to borrow the negatives of pictures taken of the boys in the Memorial Day parade, so that they may be enlarged and hung in the Legion headquarters. It will be appreciated if anyone having a good negative will send it to Albee Donaghy, who will attend to the enlargement.

William Wilbraham, Milton McCrosson and Redford Foy were in town from Baltimore this Saturday on the S. S. Absaroka, on which they have shipped as seamen, for a trip that will take them to Spain, France and Scandinavian ports. The trip will take most the summer and the boys expect to see something of the world.

On May 29th Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibson, of Cynwyd, entertained the members of the Beta Mu Sorority, and their husbands and friends, in honor of Miss Betty Lewis and W. Paul Vankant. Tonight Miss Anna Vanhook, of Philadelphia, will entertain in honor of Miss Lewis. June 5th Mrs. Thomas Ferguson will entertain the Beta Mu Sorority at luncheon for Miss Lewis.

Edward R. Durgin who is attending the Naval Academy at Annapolis has been successful in making the Academy's base ball team on which he is holding down second base. He has also played in several of the first team games and will probably have a steady job on the first team next year. He is a former Palmyra high school and Field Club player.

The organizers of the Palmyra National Bank held their first meeting in the bank office at Broad and Garfield, Wednesday evening. Judge Wadlington was present. A committee composed of John C. Hoopfer, Fred Truchess and A. H. Rudduck is at work on alterations and furniture. It was announced that payments for stock are coming in rapidly.

Mr. Weart, president of the school board, denies the rather sensational reports published in Philadelphia papers regarding Palmyra's school situation. The State Board merely recommended some minor changes in the seating arrangements at the high school and the introduction of a couple of new courses. The reports of the schools have been crowded for several years and more room will be needed shortly.

The exercises at the Baptist Church last Sunday night, when a memorial window in memory of Fred M. Rodgers and in honor of the other services men of the church, was unveiled, were very impressive. The Hon. J. Mercer Davis delivered an excellent address. The window was unveiled by Miss Elsie Rodgers. Post Rodgers, American Legion, attended in force and a large congregation was present.

The High School track team journeyed to Mount Holly Wednesday and was badly trimmed, 38 to 18. It seems that Mount Holly had one first-class athlete, Worth, a sprinter, who won the 100, 220 and 440, and with the assistance of Oliver and one or two others virtually won the meet. The events were limited because Mount Holly had no entrants and no equipment for the pole vault and shot put and other contests which the Palmyra boys expected to win.

The High School seniors had the time of their lives on their trip to Washington last week. They left in a special car last Thursday morning and returned late Saturday. Among the points of interest visited were the old and new National Museums, where they saw the collection of animals that Roosevelt brought from Africa; Washington's home at Mount Vernon; General Lee's home and Arlington Cemetery; the Smithsonian Institute; the Bureau of Engraving and the Horticultural Department.

James Carlin, the wedding of Miss Florence Carlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Carlin, of Philadelphia, and Lewis T. Jones, son of J. W. Jones, of 229 Chestnut street, will take place at Mrs. Jones's residence this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. It will be a quiet home wedding. The Rev. C. W. Williams officiating. The guests will spend their honeymoon in Atlantic City.

P. H. S. WILL GRADUATE

CLASS OF THIRTY-FIVE

One of the largest classes ever turned out by Palmyra High School will receive their diplomas next Thursday evening at commencement exercises in the auditorium, when thirty-five students will receive their sheepskins. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached Sunday morning by the Rev. Mr. Williams at the Central Baptist Church and on Tuesday evening the Junior reception to the Senior class, the Rev. Mr. Best of Education and their wives will take place in the auditorium.

The commencement speaker will be the Rev. Milton H. Nichols, a well-known orator.

The members of the graduating class: Everett W. Abdlil, president; Milton E. McCrosson, vice president; Ethel G. Griffenburgh, secretary; William S. Wilbraham, treasurer; Gertrude Mary Bauer, Catherine Elizabeth Brennan, Edward Bridges, Samuel Stuart Buchholz, Elizabeth Ann Casey, Donald Booth Clark, Esther May Deant, Margaret Eleanor Dunlop, Gladys Frances Fairbrother, Linda Priscilla Fenimore, Frederick William Frel, Jr., Herbert Gustave Hane-mann, Evelyn Beatrice Harbourn, Emily Kirby Harvey, May Elizabeth Hawke, Harry Sailer Hemple, Charles Lloyd Jackson, Elizabeth Irene Kennedy, Marie Douglas Latch, Lillian Frances Moore, Mabel Jeanette Melville, Gladys May Pennington, George Wesley Pennington, Alfred Wier Platt, Mary Anna Quigg, George Harvey Rogers, Arthur Heath Shamer, Ruth Marie Shippis, Edwin Mercer Shreve, Bernice Stoops and Mabel Wilmer.

F. C. Captures Two

The Field Club base ball team continues its victorious career. After tramping on the Riverside Field Club team Saturday to the tune of 10 to 3, Hardy pitching, the big Memorial Day game with North Camden A. C. was won by 4 to 2 on Monday.

Graham had his first go on the mound for the Field Club Monday and the young High School star made a fine showing. With Hardy and Graham both available the club is better fixed for pitchers this year than for several seasons.

MacMulla started at the bat, rapping out three singles. Andy Pfaff, who is back in the game, showed his old-time speed in left field and pulled off some sensational catches.

The locals registered nine hits to their opponents' six.

This Saturday the attraction will be the Camden Junior Mechanics No. 123, and a close contest is expected.

Citizens Organize to Fight Sewers

A large meeting of citizens, chiefly those opposed to building the proposed sewers at the present, was held in the high school auditorium Monday evening.

Initial steps toward the formation of a citizens' or taxpayers' association were taken and plans were discussed for action to be taken in case the Township Committee proceeded with the sewer plans.

James Hartley was chosen chairman and J. Horace Pinney secretary of the meeting and were also regarded as holding the same positions in the citizens' organization, although no further elections took place.

Township Engineer Vossy assured the citizens that there was no intention of building the sewer at once but that it was desired to have the ordinance passed in order to be ready for action when the break in prices came.

William S. C. Roray, the attorney, said that the citizens would be able to take the matter to the courts and later compel an election on the sewer or question in case the township authorities insisted on passing the ordinance despite the protests.

Memorial Day

Members of Post Rodgers, American Legion, made quite an impression as they marched in uniform in the memorial day parade and fired the volleys over the graves in the two cemeteries in honor of dead heroes of the Republic's wars.

Fifty-five legion men were in line, led by Post Commander J. Antonio Boehm. Taped were the impressive by Everett Abdlil, accompanied by Elmer Baader on the drum. The parade and exercises were in charge of the P. O. S. of A., who handled things in their usual impressive and efficient manner and a most eloquent address was delivered in the Grove by the Rev. E. A. Wells, of Lambertville. Music was furnished by the Griffenburgh Band.

MAPLE SHADE FIRE CO. TO HOLD CARNIVAL.

Aeroplane ascensions with all the latest stunts known to aviation, boxing contests and a thousand other attractions will add to the joy and pleasure of all who visit.

All civic organizations and organizations there is, probably, no body of men higher in the esteem of their fellow citizens than a volunteer fire company. The very purpose to save lives and property to avoid disaster to a community gives them first place in the hearts of all and makes any undertaking to spread their usefulness worthy of the support of all.

Help them save lives and attend the Monster Carnival June 10, 11 and 12.

CHINS AND NECKS

A GREAT number of women write, asking ways to reduce a double chin. Of course, general reduction all over the body will strip the extra flesh from under the chin, but many women are too easy going in nature to want to reduce. Then, many carry their heads hanging down so the chin droops, and the flesh forms a little bag beneath the chin.

A very good way to overcome this is by exercising. Tilt the head far back, then forward, repeating several times is one good method of working the chin.

Initial steps toward the formation of a citizens' or taxpayers' association were taken and plans were discussed for action to be taken in case the Township Committee proceeded with the sewer plans.

A curate of a very nervous temperament was constantly making awkward remarks intended as compliments. Having distinguished himself in an unusual degree during a gathering of clergy at the Bishop's palace, he was taken to task for his failings by a senior curate who was one of his companions on the way home. "Look here," said the senior curate, "You are a donkey! Why cannot you keep quiet instead of making your point-to-point remarks? Mind you, I am speaking to you now as a brother!"

COUNCIL ASKED TO IMPROVE SWIMMING CONDITIONS

A delegation from the Riverton Yacht Club appeared before the Borough Council last night and requested that body to take some steps to carry the discharge of the outlet of the Main street sewer to a point far enough out to prevent it from contaminating the water at the end of the pier. Vice-Commodore George W. Edwards and R. W. Knight were spokesmen for the Yacht Club committee. It was suggested that a flexible pipe might be added to the end of the sewer pipe. The matter was referred to the sewer committee with power to act. It is hoped that they will make the improvement by the end of the month.

Summer Horse Racing at Mt. Holly

The amateur horsemen residing within a driving distance of Mount Holly, including horsemen from Mount Holly, Vincentown, Burlington, Beverly, Pemberton, Birmingham, Medford, Bordertown, Trenton, Allentown and Columbus, have formed a Matinee Club for the purpose of holding Saturday afternoon matinees during the summer months. They have arranged for the use of the Fair Grounds track for training and racing and are financing the club by the sale of Membership Season Tickets. Many horsemen who have long since stopped training and driving and owning race horses, have become members and are helping the enthusiastic young chaps who are behind the movement. The next matinee is announced for Saturday afternoon, June 12, at 1:30. A band has been engaged and the base ball club will play in the centerfield at 3:15.

Shepherds of Bethlehem

At the Shepherds' Home, Haddonfield, the Shepherds of Bethlehem held their anniversary celebration on Saturday, June 5. In spite of the inclement weather there was a large attendance, with representatives from many of the Eastern States. It was decided to continue the celebration on June 12th so that those who were compelled to stay at home on account of the weather might have an opportunity to attend.

While James Stout's horse was cropping the succulent spring grass on the lot at Fort Atkinson, Wis., he nipped the top off a wasp's nest. One of the insects found its way into the animal's mouth and began to operate steadily on it. The horse started for the barn. After a wild dash of half a mile or more he threw himself in turning corner, full speed, and was captured by Officer Miller.

Subpoenas, returnable June 21, have been issued in thirty-six suits instituted in the Court of Chancery against many Jersey promoters by Public Service Railway Company for the purpose of testing the legal right of these operators to run their buses at the expense of the street railway in the conduct of its business as a passenger carrier under legislative authority.

Congressman Bacharach wishes to announce to his constituents that Congress adjourned on the 5th instant and will not reconvene until the first Monday in December, unless called back in special session by the President, which does not seem apparent at this time. For the convenience of his constituents and the prompt transacting of governmental matters in which they may be interested, Mr. Bacharach's Washington office will be kept open during the recess and will be in charge of his secretary.

The Big Swimming Carnival

Plans for the great swimming carnival on June 19 are well under way. The New York Women's Swimming Association have sent in the names of their entries, which is as follows: The Misses Lord, Walcott, Brown, Edgerly, Meany, Bleibrey, Tompkins, Riggin, Baker, Donohue, Stoddard, Boyle, Yungling, Epstein and Muhlberg. This is their full team of champion swimmers and divers.

Besides these girls, New York is sending their champion swimmer, Leo Gieble, the former ten-mile, 440-yards champion of America. Al Brown and his two boys, Alfred, Jr., and his little baby, Francis, the three-year-old, the baby diver, will be here. Alfred, Jr., just won the school-boy championship of New York City in the Philadelphia girls, Miss Irene Guest, Gertrude Artelt, Beaulé Ryan, Eleanor Uhl, Elizabeth Becker, Helen Pennecker, etc., will have an array of star swimmers and divers that will compare favorably with any combination, no matter how strong. In fact while Philadelphia will be outclassed in the swimming races, on the other hand the Misses Becker, Pennecker, McLaughlin, Pearlstein, etc., can take even the wonderful New Yorkers into camp when it comes to diving. Miss Bleibrey and Boyle will swim a special match race and those present will see the two fastest women in the world swim a special race that could be made. The two great New York stars will meet Miss Irene Guest, Gertrude Artelt and Eleanor Uhl, the best sprinters in the Quaker City can boast of (and all three girls have a good chance for the American Olympic team) in a special race. An exciting event will be the closing of the world record holding New York girls' relay team with the Philadelphia relay team that Coach Cady thinks can win. There will be a race for all the girls under thirteen years of age and some race sprinting will be seen. For these kiddies are almost as fast as the real stars. A great diving battle will ensue from the best girl divers in the United States. There will be exhibition swimming and the doing of difficult feats in the water, such as swimming with hands and feet tied, being tied and thrown overboard and releasing one's self under the water.

All the local swimmers will be on hand. One event that is anxiously looked forward to is the meeting of

HOME FOR TEACHERS

Project Started to Provide Community House for Teachers from Palmyra, Cinnaminson and Riverton Schools

At the meeting of the Board of Education Monday night Mrs. R. F. Corry, representing the Civic Section of the Palmyra School, appeared before the board and said that it had been proposed that a community house for teachers might be provided in order to meet the growing difficulty teachers had in securing a suitable place to live. Mrs. Corry suggested that a committee be formed to investigate the whole subject, including representation from the three school boards, the Parent-Teacher Association, the governing bodies of the three municipalities, and a number of citizens. The whole plan, the speaker said, depended, of course, on whether or not the teachers themselves would consider such a plan a desirable way of meeting their problem.

Mr. Kipp, president of the board, appointed Mr. Boyer and Mr. Sylvester to serve on the committee.

Miss Hannah Chew, of Millville, was elected supervisor for the coming year. Miss Chew was present and made a most favorable impression by her pleasing personality and evident force of character.

Mr. Boyer gave an account of his attendance at the meeting of the Federation of State Boards, held in Trenton on May 25, at which about fifty boards of education were represented.

The supervisor's report showed that the bank deposits for the year had amounted to $734.22.

The following bills were ordered paid: Teachers, $1,322.92; Janitor, 93.33; Attendance officer, 10.00; Transportation to Field Meet, 12.00; Books, 32.18; Supplies, 18.75; Telephone, 6.10; Marker, Tray Board, 3.75; Gas and Current, 9.64; Manual Training Supplies, 24.41; Repairs, 10.00; Insurance, 99.00.

It is hoped that Riverton and the nearby towns will turn out in force on this great occasion, as there is being held here a swimming meet that has never been surpassed. It is an honor for the town and Yacht Club to have world champion swimmers compete here and it is hoped these visiting stars are accorded a rousing welcome.

EARTH IS GROWING COLDER

Old-Fashioned Arctic Winters Seem to Be More and More Recognized Institutions.

How do the old-fashioned people account for the fact that this second decade of the twentieth century, now near its close (the decade, not the century), has produced more "old-fashioned winters" than any like recorded period in the past? "The climate is growing milder," some people say. It appears more likely it is growing steadily colder. The oldest inhabitant cannot remember a more Vermontish sort of a winter in Boston than the one which has happily come to an end, remarks the Transcript of that city. One would, indeed, rather expect it to be so. Our northern earth is constantly radiating its heat into the shivery spaces between the planets. The sun is pumping away into regions far beyond the planets, with a positively inconceivable recklessness of wastefulness, its stores of heat and energy. We are trying to warm up the milky way and are only chilling ourselves in doing it. The process has been going on for a million years and more. Perhaps it is beginning to tell on the weather at Boston. Year by year the old-fashioned winters will be getting more new-fashioned—until at last Gullana and Amazonia will be sending their Arctic expeditions to Massachusetts bay, as we are now sending McMillan to Baffin's bay.

GLASS THAT CAN BE BENT

New Invention Declared to Be Suitable for a Number of Useful Industrial Purposes.

A new substitute for glass or for lacquer has been invented. It can be cut with shears or with a knife and, when heated to more than 100 degrees Centigrade, it forms a kneadable mass which resumes its previous hard state on cooling. It is known as "cello." Under the patents of Dr. Eichelgrun, a company is making cello in the form of a solid or liquid solution of acryl cellulose in camphor, either white or colored, transparent or opaque. It appears in slabs, or tube form, as well as in the form of a plastic mass, as putty to be used for lagging purposes or as an anti-rust liquid.

The hard viscous cello is bendable and springy and insensitive to cold water, soap, fat, alcohol or petrol. When burnt in a flame it drops off like shreds, without, however, being as combustible as the latter. Cello varnish, which can be allowed to harden or solidify into flexible layers, is suitable for many industrial purposes. Liquid cello can be used for impregnating textiles or for making insulating tape. In this latter form it can be taken from the round box in which it is wound up, even in the moist condition, and allowed to harden in air.

What the Sphinx Says

By Newton Newkirk.

"Before you go home, Mister Bixnessman, lock your door and turn on your roll-top desk."

Where should the scholar live? In solitude or in society? In the green stillness of the country, where he can hear the heart of Nature beat, or in the dark, gray town where he can hear and feel the throbbing heart of man?—Longfellow.

HOME FOR TEACHERS

Project Started to Provide Community House for Teachers from Palmyra, Cinnaminson and Riverton Schools

At the meeting of the Board of Education Monday night Mrs. R. F. Corry, representing the Civic Section of the Palmyra School, appeared before the board and said that it had been proposed that a community house for teachers might be provided in order to meet the growing difficulty teachers had in securing a suitable place to live. Mrs. Corry suggested that a committee be formed to investigate the whole subject, including representation from the three school boards, the Parent-Teacher Association, the governing bodies of the three municipalities, and a number of citizens. The whole plan, the speaker said, depended, of course, on whether or not the teachers themselves would consider such a plan a desirable way of meeting their problem.

Mr. Kipp, president of the board, appointed Mr. Boyer and Mr. Sylvester to serve on the committee.

Miss Hannah Chew, of Millville, was elected supervisor for the coming year. Miss Chew was present and made a most favorable impression by her pleasing personality and evident force of character.

Mr. Boyer gave an account of his attendance at the meeting of the Federation of State Boards, held in Trenton on May 25, at which about fifty boards of education were represented.

The supervisor's report showed that the bank deposits for the year had amounted to $734.22.

The following bills were ordered paid: Teachers, $1,322.92; Janitor, 93.33; Attendance officer, 10.00; Transportation to Field Meet, 12.00; Books, 32.18; Supplies, 18.75; Telephone, 6.10; Marker, Tray Board, 3.75; Gas and Current, 9.64; Manual Training Supplies, 24.41; Repairs, 10.00; Insurance, 99.00.

It is hoped that Riverton and the nearby towns will turn out in force on this great occasion, as there is being held here a swimming meet that has never been surpassed. It is an honor for the town and Yacht Club to have world champion swimmers compete here and it is hoped these visiting stars are accorded a rousing welcome.

EARTH IS GROWING COLDER

Old-Fashioned Arctic Winters Seem to Be More and More Recognized Institutions.

How do the old-fashioned people account for the fact that this second decade of the twentieth century, now near its close (the decade, not the century), has produced more "old-fashioned winters" than any like recorded period in the past? "The climate is growing milder," some people say. It appears more likely it is growing steadily colder. The oldest inhabitant cannot remember a more Vermontish sort of a winter in Boston than the one which has happily come to an end, remarks the Transcript of that city. One would, indeed, rather expect it to be so. Our northern earth is constantly radiating its heat into the shivery spaces between the planets. The sun is pumping away into regions far beyond the planets, with a positively inconceivable recklessness of wastefulness, its stores of heat and energy. We are trying to warm up the milky way and are only chilling ourselves in doing it. The process has been going on for a million years and more. Perhaps it is beginning to tell on the weather at Boston. Year by year the old-fashioned winters will be getting more new-fashioned—until at last Gullana and Amazonia will be sending their Arctic expeditions to Massachusetts bay, as we are now sending McMillan to Baffin's bay.

GLASS THAT CAN BE BENT

New Invention Declared to Be Suitable for a Number of Useful Industrial Purposes.

A new substitute for glass or for lacquer has been invented. It can be cut with shears or with a knife and, when heated to more than 100 degrees Centigrade, it forms a kneadable mass which resumes its previous hard state on cooling. It is known as "cello." Under the patents of Dr. Eichelgrun, a company is making cello in the form of a solid or liquid solution of acryl cellulose in camphor, either white or colored, transparent or opaque. It appears in slabs, or tube form, as well as in the form of a plastic mass, as putty to be used for lagging purposes or as an anti-rust liquid.

The hard viscous cello is bendable and springy and insensitive to cold water, soap, fat, alcohol or petrol. When burnt in a flame it drops off like shreds, without, however, being as combustible as the latter. Cello varnish, which can be allowed to harden or solidify into flexible layers, is suitable for many industrial purposes. Liquid cello can be used for impregnating textiles or for making insulating tape. In this latter form it can be taken from the round box in which it is wound up, even in the moist condition, and allowed to harden in air.

After graduation this week he plans to go to Harvard as a Y. M. C. A. physical director.

Work and recreation mix for best results if the work is finished first.

PALMYRA MAY HAVE ITS OWN CELEBRATION ON FOURTH

The Palmyra Business Men's Association had a meeting Tuesday night and many progressive steps for the benefit of the town were taken.

In addition to starting a movement for the celebration of July 4, the association is maintaining the claim of the town for proper recognition in the telephone directory, many other things were heard and discussed and listed for future action.

One long felt need, a sign at Five Points on the Burlington Pike directing motorists and other traffic to Palmyra is to be provided. It was pointed out how easy it is for persons seeking Palmyra by the motor route to miss their way at present.

A committee composed of Maurice Schwartz, E. C. Lewis and J. Harry Williams was appointed to provide and erect a suitable sign at Five Points and also to erect signs at the main entrances to Palmyra with the name of the town and the words "Welcome" and "Call Again."

Mr. Cleary, of the Delaware and Atlantic Telephone and Telegraph Company, was present to state the position of the company in connection with the demands made last month by the Business Men's Association that Palmyra should have telephone, as well as telegraph and express facilities listed under its own name.

The business men explained to Mr. Cleary that all desired was that Palmyra's telephone numbers should be listed in the directory under the name of the town and that the number could be obtained by calling "Palmyra, No. so and so."

Mr. Cleary said that the town was already fully identified in the directory. It was pointed out to him that to find Palmyra in the book, one had to look under New Egypt. Mr. Cleary's main argument was that if the change were made for Palmyra it would have to be made for many other communities in a similar situation and that the expense would make it impossible. He promised to have the company's final answer ready for the next meeting.

A number of tax inequalities in town were spoken of, one member mentioning a property which was assessed at $250 more than was paid for it in January. An appeal to the county Board will be taken. Some tax increases of 50 per cent this year were reported.

As much as it was reported that other organizations were being considered in town for furthering municipal movements, it was suggested that steps be taken to co-operate with such organizations where interests were similar and a committee was appointed for the purpose.

The Palmyra Knitting Company is a new member of the association.

Big Day in Palmyra July Fourth. Plans for a big Fourth of July celebration in Palmyra are being formulated. Latest indications are that the celebration will be held at the new auditorium at the Post Road, between the residences of Post Rodgers, American Legion, and the Palmyra Business Men's Association.

The business men at the meeting Tuesday evening appointed a committee composed of Maurice Schwartz, Edward A. King and Perez G. McMahon to arrange for a band to give an afternoon and evening concert in the Grove and to provide other features such as athletic events and a speaker.

Post Rodgers will hold a big carnival at Broad and Gardfield, beginning Friday, July 2, and winding up on Saturday, July 5, when the main celebration will take place.

On July 5, open house will be observed at Legion headquarters and the public will have an opportunity to inspect the beautifully decorated quarters of the Post.

Philatelic Notes. Frank Parker, formerly of Palmyra, will entertain the Philatelic Club and other Palmyra friends on Monday evening, June 14, at their home in Burlington. The trip to Burlington will be made on the 7.10 trolley. It is hoped that every member of the club will enjoy the outing at Mr. Pascoe's on June 24, from 2.30 to 5 p. m.

Field Club to Meet Matchmaker F. C. The rain kept the Palmyra Field Club ball players idle last Saturday afternoon, but for this Saturday is scheduled a game with the strong Matchmaker Field Club, of Camden.

The basketball team of the school will be the strongest outfit the boys have been up against this season and a tough game is anticipated.

P. H. S. COMMENCEMENT. A profusion of beautiful flowers marked the commencement exercises of Palmyra High School in the school auditorium Thursday evening, when a class of thirty-five boys and girls, one of the largest in the history of the school, was graduated.

The banner oration was delivered by Edward Bridges, whose subject was "The Preservation of Our Natural Resources," and the acceptance speech was made by Lawrence Dallett, on behalf of the Junior class. Miss Evelyn Harbome was salutatorian, choosing as her subject, "Activities of the American Red Cross During the War," and Miss May E. Hawker gave a valuable and appealing address on "The Causes of Present Housing Conditions and How They Might be Removed."

An impressive feature of the exercises was the presentation to the school of a large picture of Walter M. Kennedy, Class of '10, the only Palmyra High School Alumnae who killed in action in France out of the fifty-eight who joined the colors. The picture was presented by Walter's mother.

The medal presented yearly by the New Jersey Alumni Association of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute to the student having the highest average in mathematics and science for the four-year term, was awarded to Everett Abdlit, class president.

The commencement address was delivered by the Rev. Milton H. Nichols, who gave a magnificent talk to the graduates and their parents and friends.

Cinnaminson Home Fete. The annual fete of the Cinnaminson Convalescent Home will be held on Saturday afternoon and evening, June 12, at 4 o'clock. A little play, "The Garden Cinderella," will be given by 40 children of Moorestown and the town of Moorestown. There will be a Mother Goose booth for the children, pony rides and various other attractions. There will be a vegetable and garden produce, children's clothing, aprons and useful household articles, baskets, flowers and pottery, candy, cake and home-made ice cream. From 5 to 7 p. m. supper will be served, both cafeteria and with service, with the following menu: chicken croquettes, chicken, fruit and potato salads, peas, cold ham, sandwiches, ice cream, cake, coffee, tea and milk.

Many of our neighboring towns will be represented by hostesses at the supper tables and Burlington county will send its produce the able committee will go to the rest. Coaches will furnish transportation from Riverton station.

"Making the best of the worst."—The best advice is to make the best of it.

NOTHING IN COMMON

By R. RAY BAKER.

(© 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Before Malda began to speak Joe Fargo knew he was doomed. He could see it in her eyes—rather sad and just now, but usually filled with the snapping fire of vivacity.

"Marriage is a business investment," she began, after a five-minute silence following his proposal. "Of course there must be love, and lots of it."

"And in this case there isn't love—or at least not lots of it," he ventured. "That's the principal reason I don't all the bill, I presume."

"I didn't say so," somewhat sharply. "A girl may love a man and at the same time refuse to marry him. He is not supposed to demand reasons; I'm giving one voluntarily, and it can be termed a business reason."

There is no gainsaying the fact that Joe was surprised. He had been intimately associated with Malda for two years, waiting only for the time when he was financially able to marry, and now when that time had come she calmly informed him that "business reasons" prevented their union.

"As I said," she continued, slowly pushing herself back and forth in the porch swing by means of a foot, "marriage is a business proposition. Don't misunderstand me. The fact that you are not a millionaire has nothing to do with it. I am sure you have ability and are saving money. That is not the question. The big point is we have nothing in common. I like classical music and you want jazz. We both like books, but you don't read the same books and mine is ten. You can't live without meat and care little for vegetables, while with me vegetables are first and meat is unnecessary. I am wild about opera and you care more for vaudeville. I would rather dance than eat; you would rather eat than dance—so on. I have been very observant during our associations and I find we have nothing in common; and therefore we never could succeed in a matrimonial venture, no matter how much love existed between us."

This bit of impromptu oratory took Joe's breath. He had started to light a cigar, but stopped, with a burning match in his hand and scorched his fingers.

"Don't you see that I am right, Joe?" Malda insisted.

Joe was not the amusing kind, and he was inclined to take things philosophically, never surrendering, but biding his time when the occasion warranted it. He rose, lit his cigar, and stood while he lighted it meditatively.

"All right; it's as you say, Malda, but some day we'll—well, we'll find common ground."

"Perhaps," she returned. "In fact, I really hope so, Joe."

She watched him swing off down the path, and her eyes took on an unnatural gleam. From beneath an open magazine on the swing beside her, she took a long, thin cardboard box, from which she extracted a red gumdrop, placed it in her mouth and lay back with an air of contentment, the promise of tears falling from her eyes.

Malda could not resist gumdrops. Chewing one always seemed to help her forget her troubles and she had troubles now, for she really loved Joe. But she had strong convictions, and she also had the courage to stand by them.

When Malda stepped from the train at Bear's Neck her spirits dropped like an elevator suddenly relieved of its weight. When one starts on a business vacation, it is nice to have sunshine for a companion, and when one arrives at a destination, it is not exhilarating to be dumped into a mud-hole.

Bear's Neck resembled nothing so much as a huge bad of mud. An artist could have reproduced the town on canvas by using only brown and black paint, and he would not have needed to exercise care against smearing.

Rain was pouring. Malda stood on the platform, seeing several gloomy citizens surveyed her, and wondered if the mud-bespattered silver standing in the road could be for her. She almost hoped it wasn't, so she would have a good excuse to get on the next train and let Bear's Neck slide out of her life.

But a young man stood in a line with her, and she was forced to wait.

DEATHS

Cordelia S. Branson, 72 years of age, wife of Captain George H. Branson, of Mount Holly, died Wednesday night at the home of her nephew, Clois Snyder, on Washington avenue. Funeral services will be held in the Methodist Church, Mt. Holly, Monday, June 18, at 2 p. m. Friends may view the remains here Sunday evening. Undertaker: Morjon.

There is not an umbrella at the ranch," he apologized, "and the storekeepers don't know what they are. We'll have to make a break for it."

Malda came near being drenched, but it was warm rain and the effects were not particularly uncomfortable. Soon they were winding their way along a mountain road. Joe explained that the ranch was not on top of the mountain, but was on the other side of a ridge, and this was a short cut.

Instead of diminishing the rain increased. The side curtains prevented it from entering the car in any quantity, but Joe found difficulty in making his way owing to the constant swirl of water in the road ahead. They were going along at a fairly rapid pace between two high stone embankments when Joe suddenly pulled back the emergency brake.

"Snake bridge has washed away," he announced. "Now we'll have to back up about a mile, because we can't turn here."

But the car had not made more progress rearward when Joe again stopped and turned to Malda with a helpless look.

"Now we are up against it for fair," he said dolefully. "The bridge in front has washed away and a big boulder has blocked the road behind us—and we can't possibly climb over these stone walls."

Malda turned and peered through the muddy rainglass window. Sure enough, a mammoth rock had lodged between the walls completely blocking the road. The prospect was not inviting, but she was smiling when she looked up into Joe's gloomy countenance.

"Oh, well, it might have been worse. If that rock had hit us—"

"The same little optimist," said Joe. "I don't know but that you are right. I can't see any one thing to do, and that is to sit right here until the rain lets up—if it ever does."

But the rain apparently had no such intention at present, and the gathering shadows of evening found them still stalled in the road, while water pelted the car from all sides.

Malda was feeling sharp pangs of hunger. She had not eaten on the train in the morning, intending to make up for it when she reached the ranch. Presently she observed:

"Joe, do you know I'm pretty hungry? Haven't you anything edible on board this—this ark?"

He shrugged his shoulders. "Well, nothing remains to eat."

"What's in that wooden box on the back seat?" she inquired.

"Why, that—" he stammered and his face grew red. "That isn't really food. It's edible all right, but you—"

"I could eat one of the old fish cakes," she broke in, "and what's more, I'd like to do it unless I get something else."

"I'll show you," and he climbed into the tonneau. Opening the box with the aid of a screwdriver, he showed the contents to be two dozen long cardboard boxes. He handed her one of these and she took off the cover.

"Oh, you dear boy!" she ejaculated. "You couldn't furnish better food than this. Did you know I was crazy about them?"

"No, I can't say that I did. You see, I'm crazy about them myself. Have been ever since I was a kid, but was rather ashamed of the habit—"

"It is a habit."

She was masticating a big red gumdrop.

"At least we have something in common," she said. "Yum, yum. Have one yourself."

He accepted a pale yellow one. "Say, that's right; and you told me once that if we ever found something in common—"

She finished with the red one and accepted a white one.

"You're right; and I'll stand by what I said. Anyhow, what's the use of trying to keep your own heart—like I've been doing?"

The rain bombarded the trapped silver, but inside it were two young persons who cared not for weather. They were too busy eating gumdrops, and—well, figure it out for yourself."

Exceedingly Exciting. "Quite an exciting life you had here last night, wasn't it?" asked the recently arrived guest.

"Exciting in sixteen years!" triumphantly replied the landlord of the hotel at Pesecondhump. "Why, a great grief, one of our foremost—we've got four of 'em, each of which thinks she's the most—society ladies ran all the way to the holocaust with her false hair in her hand!"—Kansas City Star.

"Perhaps," she returned. "In fact, I really hope so, Joe."

She watched him swing off down the path, and her eyes took on an unnatural gleam. From beneath an open magazine on the swing beside her, she took a long, thin cardboard box, from which she extracted a red gumdrop, placed it in her mouth and lay back with an air of contentment, the promise of tears falling from her eyes.

Old Pennsylvania City. York, Pa., is a city of ancient origin. Here was located the first settlement west of the Susquehanna river. From September 30, 1771, to June 27, 1773, the magazine on the swing beside her, she took a long, thin cardboard box, from which she extracted a red gumdrop, placed it in her mouth and lay back with an air of contentment, the promise of tears falling from her eyes.

Malda could not resist gumdrops. Chewing one always seemed to help her forget her troubles and she had troubles now, for she really loved Joe. But she had strong convictions, and she also had the courage to stand by them.

When Malda stepped from the train at Bear's Neck her spirits dropped like an elevator suddenly relieved of its weight. When one starts on a business vacation, it is nice to have sunshine for a companion, and when one arrives at a destination, it is not exhilarating to be dumped into a mud-hole.

Bear's Neck resembled nothing so much as a huge bad of mud. An artist could have reproduced the town on canvas by using only brown and black paint, and he would not have needed to exercise care against smearing.

Rain was pouring. Malda stood on the platform, seeing several gloomy citizens surveyed her, and wondered if the mud-bespattered silver standing in the road could be for her. She almost hoped it wasn't, so she would have a good excuse to get on the next train and let Bear's Neck slide out of her life.

But a young man stood in a line with her, and she was forced to wait.

SHOW THE FLAG.

Show the flag and let it wave

As a symbol of the brave;

Let it float upon the breeze

As a sign for each who sees

That beneath it, where it rides,

Loyalty today abides.

Show the flag and signify—

That it wasn't born to die;

Let its colors speak the truth

That you still are standing true,

True to the light of God and man

To the work that flag began.

Show the flag that all may see

That you were born to live;

Let it whisper to the breeze

LABOR SHORTAGE HOLDS BACK CROPS

Unfavorable Weather of Early Spring Also Has Serious Effect on New Jersey Acreage.

JUNE FARM PRODUCTS REPORT

Wildwood City Commission Award Set Aside—Errors Court Upholds $28,000 Bonus Taken in Deal by Phone Company's Head.

Trenton—Severe shortage of farm labor, combined with unfavorable weather for planting during the spring, has held back the planting of crops in New Jersey, according to the United States department of agriculture in a bulletin issued in the department in conjunction with the state department. It is remarked in the report that the early part of the season was cold and wet and generally unfavorable for the growth of vegetation and seed germination. All crops are from two to three weeks late.

In a weekly summary of crop conditions in the state issued by the United States Weather Bureau it is indicated that the rains of last week, followed by a period of sunshine, have gone far to improve conditions respecting crops, which had been suffering for want of rain.

The crop bulletin indicates the seriousness with which the acreage planted in various crops, such as corn, oats, white and sweet potatoes and early tomatoes, has been affected. Outlining the situation respecting various farm products, the bulletin contains the following information:

The area of corn planted this year is estimated at 95 per cent of last year's acreage of 2,577,000 acres, as compared with 274,000 acres, the average area planted for the past ten years. The seed went in under unfavorable conditions. Germination has been poor, and much replanting had to be done.

Condition of Wheat.

The condition of wheat on June 1 was 74 per cent of a normal, indicating a yield of 15.9 bushels per acre, and a total production of 1,902,000 bushels, last year's final estimate, and 1,902,000 bushels, the average production for the past ten years.

The area of oats seed this spring is estimated at 94 per cent of last year's, or 77,000 acres, as compared with 75,000 acres, the average acreage for the past ten years. The condition on June 1 was 89 per cent of a normal, indicating a yield of 2,401,000 bushels for last year and 2,327,000 bushels, the average production for the past ten years.

The condition of rye on June 1 was 88 per cent of a normal, indicating a yield of 17.2 bushels per acre and a total production of 1,225,000 bushels as compared with 1,296,000 bushels, last year's final estimate, and 1,300,000 bushels, the average production for the past ten years.

The acreage in potatoes planted this year is estimated at 97 per cent of last year's, or 107,000 acres, compared with 98,000 acres, the average area planted for the past ten years. The crop is somewhat backward, due to late planting and unfavorable growing weather, and the condition on June 1 was 89 per cent of a normal. The reduction in acreage occurred principally in non-commercial areas. There have been slight increases in the commercial areas of Monmouth and Middlesex counties.

The area in sweet potatoes planted this year is estimated at 14,000 acres as compared with 14,000 acres last year and 21,000 acres, the average area planted for the past ten years.

The condition of all hay on June 1 was 87 per cent of a normal, indicating a yield of 1.46 tons per acre and a total production of 474,500 tons as compared with 487,000 tons last year and 480,000 tons, the average production for the past ten years.

The acreage of clover for cutting this year is estimated at 90 per cent of last year's acreage, or 60,000 acres. The condition on June 1 was 93 per cent of a normal compared with 93 per cent last year and 85 per cent, the average condition for the past ten years on June 1. The decrease in acreage was caused by the high price of seed last year and winter killing due to the severe weather.

The acreage in alfalfa for cutting this year is estimated at 93 per cent of last year's, or 36,000 acres. This decrease is due to winter killing, as the crop suffered severely during the past season in all sections of the state. The condition on June 1 was 85 per cent of a normal as compared with 98 per cent last year and 92 per cent, the average condition for the past ten years on June 1. The condition of the total or agricultural crop of apples June 1 was 90 per cent of a normal, indicating a total of 2,872,000 bushels, as compared with 2,815,000 bushels last year and 2,241,000 bushels, the average production for the past ten years. The commercial crop is estimated at 78 per cent of the total production, or 740,000 bushels, as compared with 687,000 bushels last year's commercial production, and 470,000 bushels, the average commercial production for the past four years.

Peach Outlook.
The condition of the total or agricultural crop of peaches on June 1 was 80 per cent of a normal, indicating a total production of 806,000 bushels, as compared with 1,018,000 bushels last year and 997,000 bushels, the average production for the past ten years. The commercial crop is estimated at 70 per cent of the total production, or 606,000 bushels, as compared with 688,000 bushels last year's commercial estimate, and 678,000 bushels, the average commercial crop for the past three years.

Knocks Out Contract.

Having advertised for bids on city work for a definite period of time, the City Commission of Wildwood was without authority to accept proposals and award a contract in which a different period was set forth, the supreme court held in an opinion handed down, upsetting the award for the collection of garbage to one Koenke.

A resolution directing the city clerk to advertise for bids for a term of five years was adopted by the City Commission, but instead of following instructions the clerk specified that the term was "not to exceed" five years.

Koenke bid on three years and was low. He was given the contract, but the award was attacked by one MacGinnis, who bid for a period of five years. As he was low and his bid was in conformity with the resolution, he claimed he was entitled to the contract. The court held that when the commission asked for bids on a period of five years it determined, at least by implication, that a contract for that period would be for the best interests of the city.

A court of chancery decision ordering Henry M. Black, as president of the Farmers' Telephone Company, operating in Burlington and Monmouth counties, to return to the company $28,000 which he received in connection with enabling the New York Telephone Company to obtain control of the Farmers' Company, was reversed by the court of errors and appeals.

Black owned 500 shares of the Farmers' Company and entered into an agreement with the New York Telephone Company, according to the testimony, to obtain a sufficient number of shares to control the Farmers' Company, which he did. The New York Telephone Company then supplemented the Farmers' Company equipment and supplied telephone service for Camp Dix. Robert N. Keely and George Pfeiffer, stockholders of the Farmers' Company, were successful in their chancery suit to compel Black to return money he received for his part in the transaction. This opinion was reversed by the court of errors, however, on the ground that Black acted in a legal manner and was entitled to the bonus he received.

Otto Sauer, Mrs. D. Maloney, Miss Catherine Feuerstein, Miss Gertrude Feuerstein and Mrs. Samuel MacMillan, made a week-end auto trip to Wildwood.

The State Board of Agriculture has issued a most interesting pamphlet dealing with the Japanese beetle, its habits, the damage it does, and the methods that are being employed to combat it.

Mrs. Cornelia E. Harris announces the marriage of her daughter, Alice Brandt, to Mr. Kenneth Blach Thompson, of Lacey, the fifteenth of June, 1920, in St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia. At home after August 7, 701 Chestnut avenue.

Miss Helen Field returned on Saturday from Pennsylvania State College with her parents on Elm avenue. Miss Field has been chosen for the position of woman's editor of the "Collegeian," the college weekly paper during her senior year.

Joseph Yearly, Thomas MacCrossan, Harry Benliff, Horace Richman and several others went on a fishing trip to Fortescue Thursday and caught 154 weak fish and croakers.

Another party was made up of Leon Gray, William Anderson, Leslie Reeves, Robert Fichter and Leon Eagan.

It must be said that "our cops" get around night. Last Monday a car was stolen from in front of the Broadway Palace. Chief of Police Beck, of Palmyra, was notified, and sent word to the Riverton Police department. At one o'clock the car was located by Officer Quigley in front of the residence of Councilman Armistage, where it had evidently been abandoned because of ignition troubles.

The extension of the sewer, authorized at the last meeting of the Borough Council, was made a reality. This will carry the sewerage beyond the end of the pier, and greatly improve the swimming conditions. It was through the prompt and able services of Councilman J. W. Atlee that this much-needed improvement was made in time for the big swimming event to be held on Saturday. A diver was engaged to do the work.

The carnival of the Maple Shade Fire Company last Friday was a big success and the proceeds added very materially to the fund being raised for a new fire house. It was attended by firemen and their friends from all over the county. The Riverton volunteer fire company and the Young Republican Club, which is backing Edward H. Flagg, Jr., for sheriff.

City Could Use More Cats. It is estimated that there are in Paris 240,000 cats. The "official cats" which keep the museums and offices free of rats and mice, cost the state $3 a head a year for upkeep, so that if the price cat cost an equal amount the total would be about $720,000 a year, says the London Mail. But, judging by the number of rats one sees in the streets of Paris before dawn, feeding from the refuse bins, several thousand more cats would be a good investment, for the amount of damage done by rats must be enormous.

To Clean Dark Paint. To make slubby dark paint look like new, mix equal parts of linseed oil and vinegar together, then rub evenly over the woodwork with a soft rag and polish with a soft duster. If linseed is not obtainable, ordinary salad oil is very good, but it should not be used for white paint.

Remedies for Cholera. Old-fashioned Turkish physicians have plenty of remedies for cholera. As a rule in the pocket and a hysanth were near the neck are much esteemed, but the bone of a dead child carried in the pocket is regarded as nearly as efficacious.

Wedding Ring Worn on Thumb. In the reign of George I of England fashion had something to do with the wedding ring. Large wedding rings being favored at that time, it was not unusual to see a woman wearing her wedding ring on her thumb, although it had been placed on the fourth finger during the ceremony. Wedding rings were also worn on the thumb in the middle of the seventeenth century.

SWIMMING CARNIVAL
Plans Completed for the Big Event on Saturday. World's Greatest Swimmers and Divers to Meet Here.

All the plans are completed for the big swimming carnival at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 19th, at the Riverton Yacht Club. In this meet are competing the greatest swimmers in the world. Wherever swimming is known or talked, there also is known and discussed Ethelda Bleibrey, the most wonderful woman swimmer of any age. It is a rare chance to see this famous mermaid swim, and in seeing her swim you are watching the coming heroine of the Olympic Games. This is the last chance to see our great mermaid in action, as they leave for Antwerp on July 20. The entire racing and diving team of the New York Women's Swimming Association Team will be here, consisting of fifteen girls. They include the best swimming talent in the world. The Yacht Club was more than fortunate in securing them, as they are overwhelmed with invitations to swim by various clubs before their departure abroad.

The Philadelphia girls will have a great and formidable team. Misses Guest, Artell, Uhl, Becker, Pennepacker, (these five girls are all contenders for the Olympic team) McLaughlin, Hillegas, Arkle, Pearlstein, etc. These girls are among the best in the country and a great swimming and diving contest will take place between the two great cities. A great relay race will take place between the Philadelphia and New York girls, and a special 300 yards race between Miss Bleibrey, of New York, and Misses Guest and Uhl, of Philadelphia. Another big attraction will be the two mile race between Charlotte Boyle, of New York, and Gertrude Artell, of Philadelphia. Then the little girls of New York, under thirteen years of age, have issued a challenge to the Philadelphia kiddies to race them in a relay event.

If you like to see grand diving, then do not miss the wonderful contest that will ensue when the New York and Philadelphia girls meet.

A big feature will be the diving exhibition by little Frances Brown, the three-year-old baby champion diver of the world.

All the great men swimmers will be in line also, including the racing teams of the Philadelphia Swimming Club, the Meadowbrook, Girard College, and Philadelphia Swimming Club relay teams. The home talent will consist of Jack Howell, Dickie Hollingshead, George Corvick, Sonny Wright and Wesley Lloyd. These boys have been training hard and will do their best to uphold the honor of their school, even when matched against champions.

A feature will be a special 100 yard race for Riverton and Palmyra entries only for the men, and one of 50 yards for the girls.

With Leo Giebel, of New York, and Canha and Uhl, of Meadowbrook, of Girard College, of Philadelphia, of Lincoln and Levand, of the Philadelphia Swimming Club, etc., a field of speed demons will meet that will be hard to equal, as among them there are several national champions.

Miffin Armstrong, the champion diver, Boyle, and McAllister, of Girard College, will do some thrilling diving stunts for the men.

First—The bodies must be enclosed with glass, instead of curtains, so that there will be plenty of light and comfort in winter weather.

Second—The coach must be so arranged inside that the driver will be seated with the pupils, no closed separation between them.

Fourth—The number of pupils in No. 1, 2 and 3 routes will be large enough to make it absolutely necessary that two trips be made both morning and afternoon. A time schedule will be furnished the drivers.

Fifth—The bids must include free service to transport passengers to the Parent-Teacher Association meetings, each of the drivers to take their turn once in three months, and also render free service to any other public School meetings that may be held.

Sixth—The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Seventh—The successful bidder will be required to furnish bond in the amount of the bid when contract is awarded.

Send all bids in writing to George C. Frank, chairman Transportation Committee.

Palmyra Woman Wins $50 Prize.

The second prize, $50, offered by "Life" for the best title for a picture recently was won by Mrs. Milton Knapp, 715 Washington avenue, Palmyra.

The picture was that of a young couple standing before a rather stern-looking father, the young man evidently trying to summon courage to ask the parental consent or blessing.

Mrs. Knapp's title was taken from President Wilson's letter to Henry Morgenthau, Secretary of State Lansing, and read, "You have evidently tried to forestall my judgment by formulating action and merely asking approval."

The first prize was won by a Connecticut man with, "I think you can trust me, the jeweler did."

KNOWLTON-STACKHOUSE.

The wedding of Miss Edna Mae Stackhouse, of Palmyra, and Mr. Donald Whitney Knowlton, of Haverford, Pa., took place at the home of the bride Saturday, the Rev. C. W. Williams officiating.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Mr. Douglas Knowlton, and the maid of honor was Miss Florence Conn, of Philadelphia.

The bride carried a bouquet of sweet peas and orchids. The rose tulle, under which they were married, and the Boral decorations throughout the home, were most beautiful.

The guests were the parents of the bridegroom and family, Miss A. Whitney, Miss Dutton, Mrs. John Fragar and daughters, Mrs. J. Grady and Mrs. Augusta Sharpless, Mrs. Rebecca Stackhouse and daughter, Mrs. Bertha Baker.

After luncheon the young couple left through a shower of confetti and serpentine for an extended trip to New York and Boston, and to spend a few weeks at the summer home of the bridegroom's parents, Sunset Deer Isle, Maine.

SEWER ORDINANCE PASSED.

Palmyra Township Committee Does Not Heed Protest of Citizens. Work to be Postponed.

The Palmyra Township Committee on Tuesday evening passed the sewer ordinance by a unanimous vote.

Previous to action on the ordinance a statement in answer to petitions objecting to the sewer project at this time was read.

The statement asserted that the petitions were signed by owners of two-thirds of the value of the land to be assessed for the improvement, and that the committee had determined the improvement was a local necessity, but that it could not proceed with the work until a proper and opportune time.

Committee member A. N. Stewart explained that the committee had gone over the petitions name by name and looked up the properties in the assessor's book. He said there were several repetitions of names, in some cases both man and wife signing separate signatures for the same properties, and in some cases the signers did not own property affected.

After all deductions had been made it was found that the petitioners represented $693,560 in assessed valuation, which was $372,986 short of two-thirds—$1,066,546.

A large number of citizens interested in the petitions were present. The listened in silence to the proceedings, save for a stray word or so interjected later on, and after observing the course of routine business for a time, they left the room quietly.

However, a call has since been issued for a public meeting to be held in the High School auditorium next Tuesday night to organize "An Association for the protection of the interests of the taxpayers of Palmyra."

F. C. DEFEATS MATCHNER.

The Palmyra Field Club defeated the Matchner Field Club last Saturday by 7 to 1. The visiting team started out with a vengeance and made a rather unfortunate mistake in the first inning by assaulting the MacMullin-Stack line. This pair had a direct wire working from center field to home plate and promptly cut off several runs.

The third inning was worth the price of admission. When Stack sent one down the line, their third baseman wanted to know "who threw that pitch?" The pitcher barely had time to throw out at first and Stack raced around to third. Joe immediately sent MacMullin back to the plate for a light artillery. The following field pieces, MacMullin, Sharp, Gibbon and Donaghy responded with a direct hit into the center field.

It was found that a big "3" had been added to the score.

Wiseman, Matchner's pitcher, had a variety of curves cutting the edge of the pan and with the exception of one bad inning pitched a good game. Matchner scored their one tally in the eighth with two on base and two out by a well placed single to center.

This Saturday Mount Holly will be the attraction on the home grounds. This team has been cleaning up everything along the county.

If the Public Utility Commission grants the Public Service Gas Company's application for the establishment of an oil differential in rates for gas, the gas for which consumers now pay $1.15 will cost them, on the basis of present oil prices, $1.35. This fact was brought out on Friday in the testimony of Percy S. Young, vice president in charge of finances of the Public Service, at a public hearing before the Utility Commission on Monday.

The hearing was held at the oil differential, made by the company on May 25.

It is possible that several Burlington county firemen have raised $1,300 for the statue of General Bird W. Spencer, of Passaic, President of the State Firemen's Relief Association, which is to be unveiled at the State Firemen's Home at Bonton, on the 27th inst., with ceremonies appropriate to the occasion.

Claudia—Substitute

By AGNES G. BROGAN

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union)

The last day of the old year seemed to be weeping its departure, as Claudia made her way out of the gloomy station and looked anxiously from beneath her umbrella for a north-bound car.

It would have been nice for Aunt to have sent the car to meet her, she soliloquized, than to have taken her own suggestion that the trolley would save trouble. Ensnared in the back seat, Claudia tried to recall a long past visit at this same aunt's home.

She had been a child then, and the recollection was of exaggerated grandeur. Probably the white marble, silken curtain memories, were not as fine as they had seemed.

The house was one of solid block, Claudia remembered, their shining pillars and plate glass windows, all exactly alike. It had been a brief, fairly land to her, the magic buttons which instantly flooded the wainscoted rooms with light, the luxurious depths of great chairs.

Claudia's life had been of simple amenities, how rarely simple she could not appreciate. There were the same sweet smelling roses peeping over the trellis at her own bedroom window each summer, the continued stillness and vastness of the wide-spreading garden. Claudia's parents had gone so long ago that grandmother in her lavender seemed always to have been a part of the picture. When grandmother was vaguely perplexed by the realization that their small income had vanished, Claudia had taken her place as teacher in the village school.

Regularly she waved good-bye to grandmother each morning, and started upon her journey to the hilltop where the school building stood. Claudia had expected to spend the beginning of the coming year like all others, when Aunt Chalmers' letter of invitation opened a vista of promise.

"Don't count upon me," Claudia wrote in reply, "but if I can find a substitute to teach for me, I'll just run into the city New Year's eve."

And she had found the substitute. "Glen court," called the conductor. Claudia alighted and passed down before the impressive block of white houses. The heavy rain had turned daylight to dusk.

Claudia went up the steps of what appeared to be No. 73, but no one was forthcoming to answer her ring. Moreover, drawn blinds and an air of silence betokened desertion. Puzzled, she passed farther down the line to what again appeared to be No. 73. This time her welcome was assured.

A white-aproned maid opened the door immediately, requested Claudia to go at once to her room.

"It's the side room," the girl explained. "You will find everything ready there."

She had barely removed her hat when a voice called querulously, and the voice becoming persistent in its wordless sound, she went at once into the wide front chamber.

A man's face looked pleadingly back at her from the rumpled pillows of a bed.

"Thank the Lord!" he exclaimed feverishly. "You've come!" Without awaiting a reply he hurried on: "I thank the Lord they've been waiting for a nurse, all day. Because of this epidemic, white ones is to be found. And because of the fear of it—my housekeeper departed this morning. Marie stayed long enough to let you in. You'll find her gone, too, no doubt, when you go downstairs. Can you get in some one to help you? A nurse, I know, cannot be expected to do everything."

A sudden smile flashed across the sick man's face. "In where a wife would be an advantage. Wife don't desert a fellow when he's sick, do they? You—" he looked up at Claudia in quick alarm—"you won't leave me, will you, nurse, until—" "No," she answered quietly. "I'll stay with you as long—as you need me."

"Thank," breathed the man; he lay back wearily.

In the fire-lighted room of the silent house again she smiled as she slipped the white apron about her waist and picked up the hot-water bottle. It had after all been her Aunt's house from which she had turned away. She was not expected there. And it seemed this need of her presence at No. 73, she would remain, and be equal to that need.

At midnight, the man with the watery eyes and the grateful smile slept comfortably upon his smooth, cool pillow. Claudia as she went into the unfamiliar, deserted kitchen, hummed a hymn-tune and heated his broth. And as the bells of the city announced the dawn, and the first rays of light shone in the room, Claudia, at a quiet hour, swiftly ascended the stairs.

When Mrs. Chalmers returned later from a two weeks' visit, she was astonished to hear the voice of her niece over the telephone.

"I have no time for a visit," said Claudia, "because I have been acting as a nurse to a man who is now leaving to recuperate in the country. He is going with me to grandma's."

"Nurse?" gasped Mrs. Chalmers. "And taking a strange man back with you to the country?"

"Yes," answered Claudia. "I am going to marry his daughter."

Another Paradox.

A painful mistake is reported from North London. It appears that a young lady who went to a fancy dress ball as "The Silent Wife" was awarded the first prize for her clever impersonation of a telephone girl.—Punch, London.

Largest Known Potato.

The department of agriculture says that the weight of the largest potato recorded in its office is between seven and eight pounds. There may have been larger ones produced, but the department has no record of it.

Money in Raising Alligators.

There is much money to be made in alligator farming. The demand for alligators is large, constant and rapidly increasing; the supply is limited, and there is not much competition. The few alligators have to be fed on meat, but they need no food from September 1 to May 1, for this is their hibernation season, when they do not eat at all.

True.

The more we see of golf the more we are impressed with the thought that the game is very much like life itself. Almost every day countless millions must compete to give the other fellow advice.

The KITCHEN CABINET

The creation of a joyous, harmonious, and cheerful home, enough to win an angel from her harp, or a monarch from his throne.—E. B. Herbert.

THREE MEALS A DAY.

The every day problem of preparing nourishing food in the right quantity, with little waste and a reasonable expenditure, is the work of the housewife in the United States. In cities where the community kitchen has been established, where families may purchase a cooked meal, much of the labor, fuel and good health of the women may be conserved. Where the servant problem was difficult in days past it is now unsolvable, for we are coming to the place where "no man's land" and "no woman's land" are not to be had at any price.

The labor saving in this plan is worth considering. If 40 homes in any community bought meals, even the cost of dish-washing (as is the case in some places) are saved. If no more dishes were to be washed, the house

LESSON FOR JUNE 20

THE LORD OUR SHEPHERD.

LESSON TEXT—Psalm 23.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want.—Ps. 23:1.
DEVOTIONAL READING—Mark, 9:37.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—John 10:1-10.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How God takes care of us.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Shepherd Psalm.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Trusting God for Everything.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Our Divine Shepherd.

This is a lesson so simple that a child of tender years can understand. The teacher's work will be mainly to point out the riches of its content, not to explain difficulties. The position of the Psalm determines its value. It is preceded by the Psalm of the Cross. Only those who are under the power of the cross can claim its promises. There are no green pastures to those who have not seen Christ on the cross.

The relationship of the Lord to his children is set forth in this Psalm as: 1. The Divine Shepherd (vv. 1-4). The teacher should thoroughly familiarize himself with the life and service of a shepherd. As our shepherd,

1. He feeds his sheep (vv. 1, 2). The "green pastures" are for nourishment. The Lord always provides food for his own sheep, both temporal and spiritual. He gives us our daily bread, but our highest and best food is Christ, the Bread sent down from heaven for our souls (John 6:58), of which if we eat we shall live forever.

2. He gives rest (v. 2). He not only gives food, but he maketh his sheep to lie down. When the sheep have been satisfied with food they lie down to rest. Our finite natures require rest—we cannot go on forever, so the Divine Shepherd has arranged resting places on the way, two of which are night and the Sabbath. How sweet they both are to the Child of God! Sometimes he makes us to take enforced rest. It is most comforting to know that when he makes us lie down it is in the green pastures, not on the dusty road or the rocky mountain side. Our shepherd sometimes leads us over steep and rocky roads, but this is in order that we may reach the spots of green pasture.

3. He keeps the sheep in safety (v. 3). He restores our souls. The rest by the still water results in spiritual strength. In the times of quiet he restores the spiritual life by the feeding upon God through his Word and means of grace. The restored soul is led into the paths of righteousness, that is, in the performance of labor for him. We have been saved not merely for our pleasure, but that we might do his good pleasure, that is, his work. We are saved to serve.

4. He guides the sheep in times of danger (v. 4). He goes with his own through danger and trials. There is no night so dark or sea so stormy but what we can hear the voice of the Divine Shepherd saying, "Be not afraid, I am I." May we have ears to hear!

5. He comforts his sheep in sorrow (v. 4). The rod was used by the shepherd to count his sheep. Passing under the shepherd's rod was the sign of ownership. Such acknowledgment would greatly comfort, even though the rod was the instrument which caused the sorrow. The consciousness that it was laid on by the loving shepherd's hand would turn the rod which smote to a staff to lean upon.

6. The Divine Host (vv. 5, 6). 1. He spreads a table in the sight of our enemies (v. 5). Though dangers are on every hand, the enemies plotting and scheming, the mighty shepherd provides a feast for his own in their sight. We can sit down to that feast with the assurance that no one can disturb us.

2. He anoints our heads with oil (v. 6). Oil is a symbol of joy. There should be no sad faces among Christ's own.

3. Goodness and mercy perpetually follow (v. 6). These are God's two angels which encamp round about those that fear him. They hold back the enemies from overtaking us; we can feast at God's banquet table. Even when the days seem dark and sorrow come thick and fast, God's goodness and mercy will follow.

4. Eternally dwelling with God (v. 6). They shall no more go out from his presence. He who hath begun a good work in us shall complete it unto the day of redemption. May every one take this Psalm for himself and make Christ his own personal shepherd!

Rather Slim Excuse.
Cells and Bobby disagreed, whereupon Cells slapped her brother. A wall brought their mother, only after a long and severe reproval, did the small girl's spirit melt and then she said: "Oh mamma, I'm sorry I slapped him. I didn't mean to. My hand slipped."

Why Despotism Irritates.
We bow to the government of God, but we turn against the despot. No man likes to share in the shipwreck of a vessel in which he has been embarked by violence, and which has been altered contrary to his wish and opinion.—Amiel.

Aspiration.
An aspiration is a joy forever, a possession as solid as a landed estate, a fortune which can never exhaust and which gives us year by year a revenue of pleasurable activity.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Competition of Tires.
Handling a rubber-tired vehicle on an average roadway and a steel-tired vehicle on a track require about the same amount of power, as was demonstrated recently in a court trial.

Just Tinkles.
Just Tinkles says farming has become such a scientific proposition that a man has to learn to use more different kinds of tools than he does in a gold mine.

Condensed Classics

The world's greatest novels, classic productions of past and present, condensed, each into the limits of a short story. The work accomplished by eminent authors, professors of English and other literary authorities. To say that they constitute a liberal education is stating it mildly. Through them you may quickly and easily become familiar with the best fiction of all times.

The Condensed Classics will appear in this paper

An Education for All.

Some among you are familiar with great books. Circumstances have been such that you could indulge in the fascinating, educative and highly profitable pursuit of reading; especially in the by-paths of great fiction. Do you realize how fortunate you have been? Reading a representative number of the classic novels has given you culture and placed you on a pinnacle above many of your neighbors.

Some of you regret that you have not been so fortunate. In assemblages of the gifted and learned, when the talk turned upon literature and noted writers, you perhaps felt a sense of inferiority or mediocrity. You lamented lost opportunities or the lack of them.

Unable to maintain yourself in a discussion in which you were handicapped, you did the next best thing and listened. Going away you resolved to remedy your defects and become a reader of books. But when you went to the book stores or the libraries and contemplated the vast array, the long list of authors and the evidences of their industry, the task, however attractive it might be in theory, became simply appalling in practice. Your work, your home and public duties and all the unavoidable demands upon your time made it impossible. If denied the advantages of a circulating library, the expense involved in the purchase of books frequently became a prohibitive item.

It takes months, even years to get a fair start, to say nothing of burrowing deeply into the great mass of volumes and tomes. In many cases the reading of a single important book will consume one's leisure for weeks. However attractive the study and boundless your enthusiasm, other considerations thwarted your intentions.

Scientific, historical and general knowledge has been condensed into encyclopedias—handy volumes for busy people. Language has its dictionaries which give at a glance pithy, accurate definitions with the origin and various applications of each word. Why, you ask, has not literature, especially fiction which represents the spirit, the culture and the main-springs of human activities of all times, been so condensed or rendered into a more convenient form?

Exactly that service has been performed by a coterie of scholars, authors and other distinguished persons. We propose to relay it to you through these columns at no additional expense to you. All the great books of the world have not been condensed, but enough of the fiction has been dealt with to cover the field. The condensations are not mere synopses nor skeleton outlines. They are novels reduced to the limits of a short story, retaining the plots, characters, chief incidents, atmosphere, spirit and charm of the originals. Each condensation averages about two columns in length and can be read in 15 to 20 minutes.

Works having a special application have been treated by people with special knowledge or experience along these lines. For instance, the political and historical novels of Winston Churchill, which take high rank in American literature, have been condensed: "The Crisis" by William Howard Taft, ex-president of the United States; "Coniston" by Samuel W. McCall and "Richard Carvel" by David I. Walsh, ex-governors of Massachusetts.

Kipling's "Captains Courageous," Defoe's "Robinson Crusoe" and other nautical tales, as well as some of the works of James Fenimore Cooper have been condensed by James B. Connolly, the well known writer of sea stories. Librarian Bolton of the Boston Athenaeum and Richard Henry Dana of Cambridge, have handled Thackeray; Librarian Belden of the Boston Public Library has condensed some of the stories of Dickens; Ellery Sedgwick, editor of the Atlantic Monthly, George Eliot's "Adam Bede." The editor and proprietor of the Boston News Bureau, an organization devoted entirely to the dissemination of business news, has condensed "The Turnout," Booth Tarkington's great novel of American business life.

The list is too long for enumeration here. It contains the outstanding works of Scott, Bulwer, Dumas, Hawthorne, Bunyan, Gaboriau, Caine, Hugo, Doyle, Irving, Homer, Virgil, Kingsley, Mulock, Stowe, Hardy, Reade, Twain, Stevenson, Marryat and many others. Distinguished college men, such as William Fenwick Harris of Cambridge, T. L. Hood and Capt. Andre Morize of Harvard; and distinguished authors, such as Basil King, Paul Revere Frothingham, Caroline Ticknor, Irving Bacheller, John Kendrick Bangs, Cyrus Townsend Brady, Caroline Wells, Mary E. Wilkins-Freeman, and others have made the condensations. A score were achieved through a prize competition, the best work being selected by a committee of experts.

The educational value of these condensations cannot be exaggerated. They will also delight and satisfy. Through them you will in a short time find yourself well informed on literature and you will have acquired the knowledge easily and pleasantly. The condensations will prove that the best books are neither highbrow nor dull, but on the contrary most fascinating. Order your paper in time to start with the beginning of this condensed classics.

IT LASTS FOR YEARS—NOT MONTHS!

VALDURA 99.5% PURE ASPHALT PAINT is offered for permanent protection. You do not have to apply VALDURA every year like you do most paints of its type. VALDURA makes its strongest appeal to the better class users. It sometimes costs a little more than the black tar dopes so generally offered, but it really costs less because a gallon goes further and lasts a great deal longer.

VALDURA 99.5% PURE ASPHALT PAINT

should be preferred for all types of roofs whether rubber, felt, composition, or metal. It is used widely for bridges, silos, tanks, farm machinery (for use in the winter when a wear and weather resisting paint is required, whether below ground or aboveground).
It is supplied in popular sized containers from 1 Gal. cans up. It is all ready for use and does not have to be heated or fused with before use.
Let us send you the VALDURA Booklet and if you wish it, we will include a free sample can for test.

REPAY HUGE SUMS TO MANY ESTATES

Jersey Supreme Court Overrules
Comptroller in Inheritance Tax Cases.

FEDERAL LAW COMES FIRST

Money Has Been Collected and Used,
but Must Be Provided For—Gov. ernment Tax Must Not Be Deducted.

Trenton.—In opinions filed by Justices Swayze and Bergen in the suit of the estate of Ferdinand W. Roebling against State Comptroller Newton A. K. Dugbee the court of errors holds that the amount of the federal death tax must first be deducted from an estate in order to ascertain the clear market value of taxable transfer property under the New Jersey collateral inheritance act. These opinions mean that New Jersey will be required to refund to estates of decedents a total of about $300,000.

Both opinions reached the same conclusions, but by different legal reasoning. The vote of the state comptroller was unanimous, the members voting for the Swayze decision and others for the Bergen opinion.

Mr. Roebling upon his death left an estate valued at more than $100,000 for taxing purposes. Comptroller Dugbee levied the state inheritance tax on that amount, refusing to first deduct $100,000 paid by the estate to the government under the war revenue death tax act. An appeal was taken by the estate to the supreme court, where Vice Ordinary Backes held that the amount of the federal tax should have first been deducted before the state tax was levied by the comptroller.

The state then appealed to the court of errors and appeals, with this decision as the result.

In the Roebling case alone the state will be compelled to refund about $300,000. There are other cases of a similar nature in which the inheritance tax was collected without deducting the federal tax, with the result that about $270,000 more will have to be returned.

Higher Rate Ordered.
Finding that the rate of a cent and a half a kilowatt hour for electricity furnished by the Monmouth Lighting Company to the Jersey Central Traction Company is unduly low, the Public Utility Commission has authorized the rate to be increased to 2 cents.

The board pointed out that the present rate, besides being inequitable and discriminatory, can only result in an undue burden upon other customers of the company.

In granting the increase the board said it should not be construed that it obligates itself thereby to permit an increase in the rates of fare which has been requested by the Jersey Central Traction Company. The increased cost of operation resulting from the higher charge. Both proceedings, the board remarked, must be determined separately upon existing facts and circumstances.

Upon application of both the Public Service Railway Company and the borough of East Rutherford, the commission has approved an ordinance for the removal of the railway company's tracks from Park avenue between Patterson avenue and the Erie Railroad Company's tracks in East Rutherford. In consenting to the abandonment of the operation of this spur the board stipulated that the railway company shall furnish equivalent service to that now being provided by issuing transfers to passengers changing from the Passaic line to the Hackensack line at the junction of Patterson avenue and Hackensack street for the purpose of riding to the Erie station.

Disposing of an application of the Central Railroad Company for permission to issue $625,000, par value of equipment notes, the commission has signified its approval of the issuance of $577,500 under an equipment trust agreement, dated January 15, 1920.

Must Have Definite Price.
The purpose of issuing the notes is to pay for equipment purchased while the railroads were under control of the federal government. The equipment agreement stipulated maximum and minimum prices which were to be paid for the equipment, the exact price to be determined not later than August 1, 1920. The application of the railroad showed that notes amounting to $577,500 are needed to pay for equipment, the purchase price of which has been definitely fixed. The board, therefore, approved notes for this amount, but refrained from sanctioning any additional issue until the purchase price of other equipment has been fixed definitely.

The commission has authorized the Tri-County Electric Company to issue $17,500 of securities to cover construction expenditures under an application filed by the company. The company is buying power from Pompton Lakes borough to supply service to residents of Pequannock township, Morris county and the borough of Wanque, Passaic county.

Based upon the statement by the Hudson and Manhattan Railroad Company that "owing to the fact that at no time since issuance of the order has it been possible, and it is impossible at the present time to sell bonds at 80 per cent of the par value," the board extended until December 31, 1920, its order authorizing the company to issue $1,000,000 of its first lien and 2 per cent refunding mortgage bonds.

Enforcement of drastic sanitary regulations as a means of preventing smallpox from gaining a foothold in state institutions was considered by State Board of Control of Institutions and Agencies at a meeting held in Trenton. The board received a report from Commissioner Lewis urging upon chief executive officers the importance of taking every possible precaution against contagion. The action of the commissioner was approved by the board.

In approving the steps taken by Commissioner Lewis the board decided that the question of vaccination should be left to the option of employees and inmates of the various institutions. It was decided to request the state department of health to send instructions to each of the institutions so that inmates and others may be enlightened as to the efficacy of vaccine as a preventive of disease.

Consideration was given by the board to a program of the elimination of lice from the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg and submitted by Commissioner Lewis to heads of other institutions as a suggestion for organized work to sanitation. At Jamesburg the services of a man trained in the work of sanitation at one of the army camps were obtained. He was given a squad of inmates who, as far as practicable, are with him permanently to carry over the work entailed in the sanitary measures adopted.

Superintendent Jackson has organized his sanitary administration with particular regard to the elimination of flies and mosquitoes, disposal of sewage, safeguarding of the water supply and the proper care of a swimming pool. With these measures and some additional regulations Mr. Jackson reported it would be possible to have clean boys, clean food and clean grounds. In the fight against mosquitoes the grounds of the state home have been laid out in sections, crude oil being used where stagnant pools or other breeding places existed.

IT LASTS FOR YEARS —NOT MONTHS!

VALDURA 99.5% PURE ASPHALT PAINT is offered for permanent protection. You do not have to apply VALDURA every year like you do most paints of its type. VALDURA makes its strongest appeal to the better class users. It sometimes costs a little more than the black tar dopes so generally offered, but it really costs less because a gallon does further and lasts a great deal longer.
It is supplied in popular sized containers from 1 Gal. cans up. It is all ready for use and does not have to be heated or fused with before you use it.
Let us send you the VALDURA Booklet and if you wish it, we will include a free sample can for test.

VALDURA 99.5% PURE ASPHALT PAINT

should be preferred for all types of roads whether gravel, fully compacted, or macadam. It is used widely for bridges, silos, tanks, farm machinery, etc. You can use it everywhere a water weather resisting paint is required, whether below ground or aboveground.
We will send you the VALDURA Booklet and if you wish it, we will include a free sample can for test.

AIRPLANE ON FOURTH

One of the New Features of the Day Will Be an Airplane, Which Will Make Passenger Flights

Through the efforts of Charles A. Wright and R. M. Hollingshead, Frank Mills, of Easton, will bring an airplane to Riverton on the fourth of July and make a number of exhibition flights. He will also make short trips with passengers—for consideration. Mills was a former instructor in the U. S. Aviation Corps. Lieutenant-Colonel Harry C. Kinnear, assistant to General Crowder in the draft, and who is now one of the guests at the Lawn House, will take part in Riverton's celebration this year.

One of the biggest events, of course, will be the presentation of the rings to the service men by Mayor Kilian E. Bennett and a committee which will include a number of ladies. There will be the usual children's parade, with prizes for the best decorated baby coaches, velocipedes and kiddie cars. The full program for the day will be announced next week.

Social Activities at the Yacht Club

As an evidence of the organized activities of the Yacht Club, a dance will be given Saturday evening, June 25, at the club house, to which members and other friends are cordially invited. A series of card parties will be held at the club house last Wednesday morning of each month at 10 o'clock, starting June 20. Admission 50 cents. Proceeds will be used for screening the club room.—Adv.

Wanted: A Chauffeur

The Improvement Club at Cinnaminson started upon its second week with ten children present, and more wanting to come as the word is passed around of the good times offered.

While it will be a work of time to convince all of the parents of the usefulness of the school, they are coming over. One mother, whose children began among the first, asked if the workers were coming again next year. On being told that it depended upon how the measure worked out, said, "Next year we'll be calling for you—you won't have to hunt us."

The crying need just now is for some one to run the Ford car at a time, as many of the little ones are too far off to walk. Surely some interested young girls in Riverton would be glad to offer their services if they only knew of the necessity. Information can be obtained of Mrs. Joseph Thomas, phone 32-R2.

MARRIED

Miss Edna R. Carson, of Delair, and Francis J. Holvick, of Riverton, were married at the rectory of Sacred Heart Church Wednesday morning, June 23, by the Rev. J. A. Rigney. The couple were attended by Paul Holvick, brother of the groom, and Miss Mace, of Delair. After a short wedding trip they will make their home in Delair for the present.

College Men Will Investigate Japanese Beetle

Within the past week about thirty-five men, students of entomology from colleges throughout the country, arrived in Riverton to work at the government laboratory as scouts and inspectors in connection with the Japanese beetle work.

Owing to the insufficient housing facilities a camp has been established. The men are from many States, some coming from as far as Texas and Mississippi.

The beetles appear with great regularity the same time every year. This year the first issue of beetles was on June 25, last year it was on June 20, and in 1918 the first beetles were found June 21.

Farmers who desire to ship produce out of the infested area must secure permits which may be had at the laboratory. Phone Riverton 505. Anyone interested in the beetle problem may secure an illustrated circular free by writing or telephoning to the laboratory.

For sale cheap. 1920 Washer with wringer and motor motor. Reason for selling have installed electric machine. Very low price for quick sale. Address "M" New Era Office.—Adv.

Paper Backing for Pictures

To paste new paper backings on framed pictures, the paper, cut to the proper size, should first be floated in a pan of water until it is entirely wet. The paste should be applied to the frame, and the paper, from which the actual drops of water have been wiped, should be pressed into place upon the frame. As the paper dries it will shrink, making it a smoothly stretched backing.

G. D. Parsons, owner of the yacht Josephine, which has been lying off Riverton for some weeks, came here on Wednesday to take the boat to his home in Newfoundland. He brought with him a crew of six men.

A gang of Italians, including men, women and children, is doing the work on Edward M. Warrick's farm at Hartford. In the party are eighteen women, the mothers of 125 children, all of whom are with the outfit.

A man in a baseball suit who was taken off a trolley car by Officer Miller Wednesday morning on request of Burlington authorities was suspected of being connected with the holdup at Burlington, but later was released.

The Friends of Riverton and vicinity enjoyed their annual picnic on Friday, June 18th, at the residence of Howard G. Taylor, Jr., and in spite of the cool weather many were brave enough to go in swimming. Basket suppers were spread on the spacious lawn, and ice cream and coffee were served. There were about 125 present.

Under a new State law barbers will be required to have licenses hereafter. They must undergo an examination before the new commission, appointed by Governor Edwards, consisting of three practical barbers who receive pay at the rate of 25 per day for every day of service. The new commission's roll sounds like a Congress of Nations. It reads like this: John Lafanza, of Jersey City, Daniel Carney, of Atlantic City, Andrew L. Conatiano, of Pennsboro.

DEATHS

Mrs. Walter G. Wilson died last Thursday evening at her apartment 15th and Spruce streets, Philadelphia. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at 3.30, with interment in Mt. Moriah cemetery.

Mrs. Wilson was the widow of the late Walter G. Wilson, who was one of the early Mayors of Riverton. She moved to Philadelphia about ten years ago. On account of her health Mrs. Wilson went to California last Fall, where she gained considerable strength, but has been declining since her return in April, and on Tuesday had a stroke of paralysis, from which she never regained consciousness.

Theobald Schneider, aged 56, died on Sunday. Solemn Requiem Mass was held this morning at St. Peter's Church, Riverside; interment in St. Peter's cemetery. Mr. Schneider, who was a resident of Riverside, was the father of Theobald Schneider, of Riverton.

THE CHESAPEAKE CRUISE

Riverton Yacht Club Will Be Represented By Four Racing Boats in Contests of the Big Week.

Five boats will represent the Riverton Yacht Club in the events of the racing week of the Chesapeake Bay Yacht Racing Association which opens on Monday, July 5. The three boats of the Larchmont class, the LeWanna, P. W. Robertson, Babbette, J. Linton Riggs and the Yaron, Fred Merz, will be accompanied by the Belknap brothers in Maurice Belknap's power boat, Ayala, and E. K. Merrill in his yawl Tradescantia, accompanied by his family and William H. Baker, Jr.

The Riverton fleet will leave Friday, July 2, and expects to reach Washington by nightfall. On Saturday they will make Delaware City, passing through the canal and down Back Creek by Sunday morning, hoping to reach Annapolis by Sunday night or early Monday morning, where the first scheduled race of the week will take place.

The racing schedule of the week will be as follows:

Monday morning, Annapolis.

Tuesday, squadron run to Oxford.

Wednesday, race for all classes in morning and reception in the afternoon.

Thursday, racing at Oxford.

Friday, squadron run back to Annapolis.

Saturday, Larchmont boats race in the morning; Duck class in the afternoon, the last race of the series.

Mr. Merrill will try conclusions with some of the fast yawls for which the Chesapeake Bay is noted.

The Riverton fleet expects to get back home by Sunday night or early Monday morning.

All the Riverton fleet is invited to take the cruise, and the usual fine hospitality of the Chesapeake Bay Y. C. A. will be extended to all visiting boats.

This week has for many years been a most interesting and enjoyable event to yachtsmen, many of whom come from considerable distances to participate in or witness the contests.

TENNIS

Saturday afternoon, June 26th, at 2 o'clock, Riverton tennis team will play the strong Cynwyd Club in the Tri-State tennis tournament. Riverton is hopeful of having a good team and there should be some very fast matches.

Everyone in Riverton and vicinity is invited.

The West Jersey tournament will be held at Riverton on Saturday afternoon, July 3rd, at 2.30. All are welcome to see the tournament.

The tennis team is composed of Country Club, Merchantsville Field Club, Moorestown Field Club, and Haddon Field Club. In view of the weather, the tennis team is expected to be in the field.

At Merchantsville in which Riverton won the men's singles, men's doubles and was runner up in the mixed doubles, we believe the Clubs will come to Riverton with pretty strong teams, and we hope that Riverton will come out and support their team.

The points in the League are as follows: Haddonfield Club 15-2-2, Riverton Club 15, Merchantsville Field Club 15-2-2, Moorestown 2-1-2. Supper will be served on the lawn and there will be dancing in the evening.

RIVERSIDE A. A. BOOMING.

Has Bought Big Athletic Field. Fence and Grandstand Built by Enthusiastic Members.

Last Saturday was a red letter day for Riverside's Athletic Association, which, though but four months old, is making rapid strides towards becoming an important factor in athletics of Burlington county. From a base ball standpoint, an important event on Saturday was trimming the Florence team by a score of 5 to 4—

as everyone knows Florence is no "easy money."

The idea of forming an athletic association in Riverside took shape in the minds of a few of the town's people. The association is now under the direction of a board of managers, consisting of twelve members, including the above-mentioned and Charles Kruger, Edwin Rogers, Stephen Steinman, Benjamin Faunce, Joel Yeager, Sol F. Pollock, William Ellis, Warren C. Pine, and William E. Scher. The association has purchased a fine athletic field on Chester avenue, which has been fenced in and a grandstand built by the members of the association, who worked on it before and after hours.

Before the game opened, Ex-Mayor Flagg, of Riverton, made a few remarks about the origin and phenomenal growth of the young association, and spoke for it in the future.

He pointed out that while a goodly portion of the $10,000 worth of stock, at one dollar per share, had already been subscribed for, there was still some shares to be had, and urged that every man, woman and child in the town become financially interested in the association, even if only to the extent of one share.

Of particular interest to the fans was the Ex-Mayor's brief account of the early history of base ball, which is purely an American game, originated in 1839 by Major General Abner Doubleday, at Cooperstown, N.Y.

The game was then played with a soft ball and was similar to what was later known as "batter out." The pitcher threw the ball to the batter, who hit it if he could. There was no fence, and the game was played in the field. The game was to field the ball and throw it at the runner, if he was struck he was out—"struck out" to speak. In 1846 the "diamond" was introduced by Alexander J. Cartwright, one of the original players, and the game was played very much like the present day game, but with eleven players.

Mr. Flagg was highly complimentary on the interesting address and one of the older spectators said he remembered playing the game just as the Ex-Mayor had described it.

Foxy Birds

Many birds have the trick of lying along on the ground in front of sportsmen in order to draw them away from their nests.

Jap Children Make Toys

Japanese children are responsible for a great deal of the cheap toys which are sent from that country to this. The children are rounded up in groups of a dozen or more and they work for which they receive a few cents a day.

Duty to Posterity

I would submit to a severe discipline, and to go without many things cheerfully, for the good and happiness of the human race in the future. Each one of us should do something, however small, toward that great end.—Richard Jefferies.

SWIMMING STARS HERE

Saturday's Carnival Brings World's Greatest Men and Women Swimmers to Riverton. Event Big Success.

The carnival held last Saturday by the Riverton Yacht Club was a great success, no small measure of which was due to the members of the ladies' committee, who worked so hard and with such excellent results.

The meet itself brought together the greatest girl swimmers in this country and the world on the girls whom you saw diving and swimming last Saturday are the girls who will be on the Olympic Team that sails on July 20th. New York's celebrated pair of stars, Miss Ethelinda Bleibrey and Miss Charlotte Hoyle swam under wraps, saving a home for the final Olympic try-outs on July 10-14. Miss Bleibrey, the woman champion of the world, swam an exhibition race of 100 yards with Miss Doyle, and the one of 50 yards with Miss Lord. The New Yorkers expect to send at least seven of their girls to Antwerp, and all seven were here Saturday, namely, the Misses Bleibrey, Doyle, Wainwright, Riggins, Brown, Lord, and Tompkins.

Philadelphia hopes five of her girls may go, and all five, the Misses Artelt, Guest, Hill, Ryan, and Hillegas, swam in the 100-yard race. The girls can go to the Games, and it is a safe bet that all twelve swam at Riverton last week.

The Philadelphia girls discarded all wraps and swam to win. In a great 100-yard race, Gertrude Artelt, Eleanor Hill, and Bessie Ryan, all starting from scratch, swam a wonderful race, which Miss Artelt won by swimming the best she was ever seen to swim. In the 50-yard race, Miss Hill defeated Miss Guest. Miss Hillegas gave an exhibition of her record-breaking breast stroke, and in the 100-yard race, she finished a few feet behind Green was third, while Brown, of New York, found the pace too hot to hang on.

In the big relay team race between four teams as follows, the Girard College first and second teams and the teams of the Philadelphia Swimming Club and Riverton Yacht Club were entered. The local interest of the day, as all Riverton was anxious to see our boys in the first race against the Philadelphia team. The Girard College is without doubt the greatest boy team in America.

The champion Girard team won its first race, never being pushed from start to finish. A real fight took place between the Girard second team and the Philadelphia Swimming Club team, the latter finally going to the Philadelphia boys.

Riverton was last, as was expected, for no one expected the team to be lastly thrown together team of our boys to do anything else.

With a little training the boys would have been in a very good position. In this race at least forty yards was thrown away by poor starts and swimming crooked in the race. Sonny Wright, our first swimmer, beat the pistol in the get-away and had to come back. This made him too careful and he got a bad start, which in a short race is hard to make up. However, he swam a good race, and when he touched the float, giving Wesley Lloyd a big lead, he was naturally able to make up the big gap he inherited, and while Jack, too, swam finely, he lost a couple of precious seconds by not starting as Hollingshead touched the float. All in all, they did nobly, considering they had no coaching, and they swam together before. Game levers are admired everywhere, and every Riverton boy on the team went in and did his best.

The diving was surely the thing to see, with the pick of the Olympic divers in action, such as the Misses Tompkins, Lord, Wainwright, Brown, Riggins, of New York, and Misses Flecker and McLaughlin, of Philadelphia. The girls started the diving board, but kept on going up until they were diving from the club house roof.

Millin Armstrong, of Meadowbrook, did some good diving, as did Jack Showell and George Corner, brilliant high crowd with high dives. It was a great sight to see the constant stream of divers hitting the water. Quite a disappointment was the failure of little three-year-old Francis Brown to dive. The baby did one dive and then balked. He is really a wonder having twenty-two different dives. All his diving has been done in a pool, and it scared him to do it from a rickety board on a boat in the open.

Over sixty swimmers competed and the talent exhibited is unequalled in the country. The river was crowded with craft and the shore with automobiles. Three firms of movie men were kept busy all the afternoon taking pictures that are destined to make Riverton famous all over the United States.

Famous Timepieces.

There is one timepiece in eastern museum known as the "resurrection watch," because it has a standing figure whose outstretched arms designate the hours and minutes. Another has nine dials, two of which show the Persian calendar of twenty-nine days and the Arabic calendar of thirty days, besides others indicating the changes of the moon and astronomical phenomena. Watches that strike the hours and those with raised figures, which can be read in the dark, and others shaped after the form of musical instruments, skulls and books, bear testimony of the ingenuity, taste, religious and artistic feeling of the makers.

Good for the Owl.

An owl observer saw an owl swallow nine field mice, one after another, and at the expiration of four hours it swallowed four more mice. The farmer should take notice of these facts, for he can well spare a chicken now and then for the services thus rendered.—Exchange.

Service Men, Attention

The Committee for the presentation of rings to the Service Men announce the following persons are eligible and will receive rings during the ceremony on the river bank on July 5th, and are requested to meet the Credential Committee in the Auditorium of the Riverton School at about 9.30 A. M. on Monday, July 5th. In case of absence, the ring will be presented to either parent, or forwarded at a later date.

P. C. Playing Good Ball
Palmyra Field Club defeated the Mount Holly team last Saturday the score of 4 to 1. Hardy pitched a masterful game and was entitled to a shout. Only three hits were made off his delivery and he had eight strikeouts. Goodell, of Mount Holly, also pitched a good game, but the locals lunched their hits at the opportune time.

Russ Gilboa's double was a mighty crack, but the next man up was not equal to the task of sending him home and he was left on base. Cambridge A. A., a strong Camden team, that played the Bacharach Giants of Atlantic City, this week. The attraction this Saturday and the Field Club will have the hardest nut of the season so far to crack. The Emerson A. A. will be the opponent and the Camp Alfred Vail team from Long Branch, on July 5.

The Camp Vail team is an exceptionally strong aggregation and the Field Club grounds should be filled in celebration of the National birthday when the contest is pulled off.

Philathela Notes
Mrs. C. H. Pascoe, teacher of the class, entertained the Philathela at her home on Monroe street. About 60 of the 97 members of the class were present. There was a short business session, after which a group picture was taken, and the balance of the afternoon was spent socially. Mrs. Pascoe served ice cream and cake.

The Philathela Class is the largest organized woman's class in the county, and one of the largest in the State.

MARRIED
Mrs. Francis Green, of 1934 Spruce street, Philadelphia, announces the marriage of her daughter, Helen Thibault, to Dr. George Tracy, of Riverton, which took place at noon yesterday at Christ Church Chapel, in the presence of the immediate families. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James R. L. Nisbett, rector of the church.

Miss Grace E. Delcher, formerly of Palmyra, and Walter C. Rogers, of Trenton, were married at the Broadway M. E. Church by the Rev. Mr. Corson. A reception followed the ceremony. After a honeymoon at Pinehurst, Canadensis, Pa., the young couple will reside at Trenton.

Celebration of Fourth to Last Week
Post Rodgers, American Legion, will stage a big carnival lasting from July 5th to 11th in celebration of the independence day. On the fifth, the day on which the Fourth will be celebrated this year, the various entertainments will be in full blast all the afternoon and evening.

In addition a ball game is planned for the morning. For the remainder of the week, most of the dances will be in the evening, with the big wind-up on Saturday afternoon and evening.

In order not to interfere with the Legion's plans, the Palmyra Business Men's Association has called off its plans for a Fourth of July celebration.

At the Legion carnival there will be side-shows, games, riding devices, exhibitions and refreshments—the biggest show ever held here, the Legion says.

MAY CHANGE TOWN RULERS

Taxpayers, Provoked By Passage of Sewer Ordinance, Are Considering Commission of Borough Form of Government.

The Taxpayers' Protective Association, composed largely of Palmyra citizens, who protested against the sewer ordinance, was formally launched at a well-attended meeting held in the high school building Monday evening.

The organization decided to take further action on the sewer matter at once, in view of the passage of the ordinance by the township committee. They were informed by the association's legal adviser, William S. C. Roray, that a referendum election on the ordinance could be forced by petition signed by ten per cent. of the voters. Mr. Roray was instructed to draw up the petitions at once and a committee was appointed to canvass the town for signatures. The petitions are to be presented to the township clerk at once.

The association was organized permanently and the following officers elected: James T. Weart, president; J. H. Finney, vice president; C. B. Hinchman, secretary; Harry Nicholas, financial secretary; Albert H. Hodson, treasurer, and William S. C. Roray, counsel.

Membership is to be confined to taxpayers, men or women, and meetings are to be held the last Thursday in each month in the High School building.

Mr. Weart made a short speech saying he had been much disappointed by the township's passing the sewer ordinance, despite the protests and said he favored a speedy change in the town's form of government. "This sentiment was loudly cheered," Mr. Weart continued, declaring that a sewer system should be built as soon as conditions improved, but he thought that a larger town-governing body would administer things more satisfactorily, he said the commission form had been suggested and a discussion of that plan followed.

Frank A. Mathews, Jr., gave a talk on the commission plan. It provides, for a town of Palmyra's size, a commission of three members, with a maximum salary of $1500 for the mayor and $1200 for the other two members. Each commissioner is given a certain department, or set of departments, to look after, and he is held individually responsible for the administration of his department. In addition the citizens of the town are given power over the commission by the initiative, referendum and recall.

In practice it has not been found necessary to use these various powers very often, inasmuch as the members of the commission are generally quite responsive to public opinion when they know the people can invoke either the initiative, referendum or recall.

An argument was also made in favor of the borough form because it would provide a greater number of men than three to run the town affairs. However, it would be necessary to wait for an act of the legislature to change to a borough, while the commission plan would have to be voted upon at a special election in a short time in case a sufficient number of voters signed the required petitions.

A committee composed of F. A. Mathews, Jr., Mr. W. W. Wain, Carl Jefferson, Dr. Lord and A. H. Hodson was appointed to look into both the commission and borough plans. At the meeting on July 1 it is expected to have Mayor Jack, of Collinswood, and Mayor Lee, of Beverly, present to tell how the commission and sewer plans work in their towns.

Frank Howell was appointed chairman of a sewer committee with power to name the other members.

Becher-Monach
Miss Julia Edna, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ira C. Monach, of Palmyra, and Mr. Walter Raymond Becher, of Riverside, were united in marriage Saturday, June 19, at 4 o'clock, at the home of the bride, by the Rev. Thomas Theo. Butler, of Riverside. The bride wore a gown of ivory satin, trimmed with Chantilly lace and crystals, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet williams and carnations. Mrs. Charles E. Weikel, of Olney, Pa., sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an orchid corsage and carried a child. Edward S. Graep, of Riverside, was best man. The ceremony was performed in a hower of ferns, palms and crimson ranunculus, and was attended only by the immediate families. After an automobile trip through the northern part of the county, the young couple will reside in Olney, Pa.

Dilks-Vorhold
The wedding of Miss Rebecca Vorhold, of Glenloch, N. J., and Mr. William J. Dilks, of Palmyra, took place at the Sacred Heart Church, Riverton, Wednesday, June 23, at 9 a. m. Miss Helene D'Aurechy was bridesmaid and Miss Jeannette D'Aurechy was flower girl. Charles Dilks, brother of the bride, was best man. After a wedding trip to Atlantic City, the young couple will reside in Palmyra.

Directors of Palmyra's New Bank
The stockholders of the new Palmyra National Bank at a meeting held in the bank office at Broad and Garfield on Tuesday afternoon elected the following directors:

John Armitage and Fred A. Truchsess, of Riverton; Thomas W. Beiderman, Thomas E. Steele and William T. J. Purnell, of Cinnaminson Township; George M. Becker, William H. Cook, John C. Hoepfner, A. Harry Ruddick, Albert N. Stewart, Herbert B. Trout and George N. Wimer.

The directors in turn elected Mr. Purnell president, and Mr. Steele vice president. Judge E. C. Waddington, of Woodstown, Salem county, with offices at Fourth and Market, Camden, was appointed solicitor.

The high men in the high men in the board of directors were Mr. Cook and Mr. Stewart, each receiving 354 votes. Besides the twelve directors there are only four men holding a sufficient number of shares, ten to make them eligible for directors. They are George Rogers, Albert Ryerhoff, George W. Shanon and H. H. Lester Steele.

The directors are now working on the choice of a cashier, which is the next step in the organization of the bank.

Work on the bank furnishings is proceeding. A fire-proof and burglar-proof safe has been purchased and will be mounted on a solid concrete foundation built from the ground up.

It is understood negotiations are in progress for the purchase of ground on which a bank building is later to be constructed.

Will Unveil Tablet to Service Men
The memorial tablet dedicated to the service men last Sunday at the church and Sunday School will be unveiled with appropriate exercises Sunday evening.

Professor Calvin O. Althouse, of Philadelphia, will deliver the address and there will be special music by soloists and the choir. A chorus of young girls will sing the processional. The tablet, with all the names of the service men engraved, will be unveiled by the Mary Lord.

Post Rodgers, American Legion, will attend the exercises in a body.

DEATHS.
Miss Carrie Richardson, of Palmyra, died of apoplexy at Ocean City, June 21. Funeral services were held in Palmyra Thursday afternoon, in charge of Rev. E. A. Robinson. Interment was made in Morgan cemetery. John E. Morton undertaker.

Miss Richardson was supervisor of grades in a Philadelphia public school and had been in ill health for two months.

Illuminating Irritation.
Ida incidentally irritates her front in trees, Irving, impressionable, inflated, injudiciously invests. Ida's indulgence in fees inordinate, insatiable. Irving, impetuous, impudently introduces expensive innovations. Ida, instantly irritated, irritates Irving, indignantly. Irving's irritated indignation, insinuating indifference, inurbantly. Ida's infantile, inelegant invective illuminates Irving's innermost intelligence, inhibiting infatuation, intercepting intentions.—Youth's Companion.

Eucalyptus Trees.
The grand eucalyptus trees in Glipsland are probably the grandest of their kind in the world, and quite as magnificent as the Californian giants, only not so large in circumference. The shedding of their bark is a misstatement. What the tree does do is this: it sheds the old, dry, broken, and coarse bark, but the new one is sound and solid, and is not shed. The new bark is clean and very smooth, no branches growing for 100 feet or more.

Figures in the Moon.
Some keenly discerning people see a woman alongside the man in the moon and account for her presence there by her churning on Sunday while the "old gentleman" chopped the wood. A pretty eastern fancy is that the figure in the moon is that of Ina, who weaves the clouds into white cloth and who sent her husband back to earth by the rainbow ridge in order that death might not defile her heavenly home.

Healthy Place to Live.
The air of Lower California is dry and pure and the atmosphere, except on the western coast, is marvelously clear. The uniqueness of the peninsula, giving to the atmosphere a touch of the bracing air of the sea, and the dryness of the land combine to give the air an intense purity. There is probably no more healthful climate in the world than that of Lower California.

America and England.
The war of independence was virtually a second English civil war. The rule of the American cause would have been also the rule of the constitutional cause in England; and a patriotic Englishman may reverse the memory of Patrick Henry and George Washington not less justly than the patriotic American.—John Morley, on Burke.

Glorious Revenge.
Brother had gone on a basketball game and left little sister at home, very much to her disappointment. She began at once to lay plans for revenge, saying: "Mother, I know what I'll do. I'll just go with you to the dentist tomorrow and have a tooth pulled. I'll fix him and won't be sorry!"

Religious Discrimination.
In Hungary, for Roman Catholics, the man must be fourteen years old and the woman twelve, before they may marry; for Protestants, the man must be eighteen and the woman fifteen.

Africa's Big Rivers.
Of the African rivers the Zambesi, 2,000 miles in length, is the largest river in South Africa; the Orange river comes next with 1,500 miles and the Limpopo next with 900 miles.

Cats' Crimes Against Birds.
It is estimated that there are 25,000,000 cats in the United States. If one-fourth of this number kill birds each cat killing only five birds per annum, it would mean over 31,000,000 birds killed by cats each year in the United States; but it has been carefully estimated by Dr. A. K. Fisher that each cat averages 20 birds per annum, and still "Tabby" is exalted to the seat of honor.—Los Angeles Times.

NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education of the Cinnaminson Public School is now receiving bids for the transportation of school children for the school term of 1920-1921. The applicants to furnish and maintain their own motor stages. Following will be the requirements as to the make-up of the coaches and the service to be rendered:
First—The bodies must be enclosed with glass, instead of curtains, so that there will be plenty of light and comfort in winter weather.
Second—The coach must be large enough to seat 25 to 30 pupils comfortably.
Third—The coach must be so arranged inside that the driver will be seated with the pupils, no closed separation between them.
Fourth—The number of pupils in No. 1, 2 and 3 routes will be large enough to make it absolutely necessary that two trips be made both morning and afternoon. A time schedule will be furnished the drivers.
Fifth—The bids must include free service to transport passengers to the Parent-Teacher Association meetings, each of the drivers to take their turn once in three months, and also render free service at any other Public School meetings that may be held.
Sixth—The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
Seventh—The successful bidder will be required to furnish bond in the amount of the bid when contract is awarded.
Send all bids in writing to George C. Frank, chairman Transportation Committee. 6-18-21.

CONDENSED CLASSICS

QUO VADIS

By HENRY SIENKIEWICZ

Condensed by Prof. William Fensch Harris of Cambridge Mass.

Henry Sienkiewicz, so great a name in Poland, was born in Opatow, in Russian Poland in 1846. He studied philosophy at Warsaw university and was a member of the Polish underground movement. Afterwards, in company with Helena Modjeska and other radical Poles, he established a socialistic community in California. It was somewhat like the earlier Brook Farm experiment, made by Hawthorne and his friends. It was no more successful and Sienkiewicz returned to Poland where he wrote a series of articles for a Warsaw newspaper about his American experience. Then he turned to novel writing. He wrote brilliantly and rapidly, turning with the utmost ease from realistic pictures of contemporary life to stories of romance and to historical novels. Children of the Bolt, which he called his best book, is a simple story of Polish life which won more favor than his own countrymen than it did abroad. In the 80s he completed his tremendous trilogy, "With Fire and Sword," "The Deluge," and "Pan Michael." There was an epic quality about these historical novels that made them popular in many lands. He was a new Scott or a new Dumas.

His international reputation, however, came with "Quo Vadis," his masterpiece of ancient Roman life. It was "Quo Vadis" that made him famous in nearly every tongue. Then it passed to the stage, not only in America, England, but also in France and Germany. Since that success Sienkiewicz has traveled widely, visiting Russia, France, Italy, Spain, Greece, Africa and the Far East. He received the Nobel prize for literature in 1905. From the outbreak of the war to his death in November, 1916, he devoted himself to the relief of Polish war victims.

"I DO not know of a certainty her name even—Lygia or Callina? They call her Lygia in the house, for she comes of the Lygian nation; but she has her own barbarian name—Callina. It is a wonderful house—that of these Lygians. There are many people in it; but it is as quiet there as in the groves of Sublacum. For a number of days I did not know that a divinity dwelt in the house. Once about daybreak I saw her bathing in the garden fountain; and I swear to thee by that fountain which Aphrodite rose, that the rays of dawn passed right through her body. I thought that when the sun rose she would vanish before me in the light, as the gods of the Lygians do. Since then I have seen her twice; and since then, too, I know not what rest is, I know not what other desires are, I have no wish to know what the city can give me. I want not women, nor gold, nor Corinthian bronze, nor amber, nor pearls, nor wine, nor feasts; I want only Lygia."

Thus did Vinicius, young Roman patrician of the time of Nero, pronounce his love for Lygia, daughter of a king, beautiful hostage from her nation, forgotten in the turmoil of the world empire and brought up as a Roman girl.

Vinicius was speaking to his uncle Petronius, known in his own time as Arbiter Elegantiarum, trained in all the art and beauty of Greece, wise, witty, and learned, gaily staking his life in his daily battle of wits with Tigellinus, who provided for the grossest desires of the tyrant Nero as Petronius did for his finer and more artistic ones.

It was a time when the conflicting tides of a pagan age, sadly degenerate from the sturdy days of pristine Roman virtues, mingled with those of a new era in the world, only recently heralded from Judea. In the complicated threads of the picture of Rome, capital of the world, appear the figures of Peter and Paul on their mission of spreading the new religion of Christ; Poppaea, wife of Nero, beautiful as a dream, but wicked as a nightmare; Seneca, the charming slave of Petronius; Chilo, wily Greek who can be Christian or pagan as profit leads him; Ureus, prodigious in his strength, simple as a child in his faith in Christ and his devotion to Lygia (from whom O. B. S. may have drawn a suggestion in "Androcles and the Lion"); and many minor folk who help make the story stand out as unusually human among the numerous tales of Greco-Roman times.

When Vinicius told his uncle Petronius of his passion for Lygia, the latter thought, nothing was easier than to provide his nephew with what he regarded as a new plaything; a word to Nero, who as emperor had all hostages in his care—summon the maiden to the palace, hand her over to the young patrician as his betrothed, what more could be needed to satisfy any one's desires, especially as the maiden manifestly was pleased with Vinicius? But Petronius and his nephew reckoned without a new force that had entered into this Roman world. They could not understand a girl who loved from Nero's court and all its magnificence, fled even from the lover whom she loved. But finally he understood this, which he and Petronius had not understood, that the new religion, untried into the soul something unknown to that world in which he lived, and that Lygia, even if she loved him, would not sacrifice any of her Christian truths for his sake, and that if pleasure existed for her, it was a

LESSON FOR JUNE 27

REVIEW: THE NOBLE LIFE OF SAMUEL.

SELECTION FOR READING—1 Sam. 12:1-4, 12-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—1 will teach you the good and the right way.—1 Sam. 12:23.
ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—1 Sam. 1:1-12:23.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Stories About Samuel.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Boy Who Became a Great Man.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Strong Points in Samuel's Character.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Samuel's Service to His People.

The method of review must largely be determined by the teacher and the grade of the class. For the junior and intermediate grades a good way will be to make it biographical, centering in Gideon, Eli, Samuel, Eli's sons, Saul and David. Of course, the outstanding personality is Samuel. For the older classes the following from Peloubet's Select Notes is an interesting and profitable method:

"This review, suited to older classes only, will deal with difficult questions involved in or suggested by the various lessons of the quarter, questions that you may not have had time to discuss adequately during the quarter. Assign one of these to each student, and divide the time twenty minutes among them. The following list of topics may prove helpful, but it is intended to be only suggestive:

Lesson I. How to put religion into our state and national government.
Lesson II. How to utilize better than we are doing the power of women.
Lesson III. How to bring together and use the righteous and brave minority.
Lesson IV. How to single out and help the deserving poor.
Lesson V. How to develop the religious capacities of children.
Lesson VI. How to open the eyes of parents to their children's faults.
Lesson VII. How to bring to bear upon public questions the decisive power of prayer.
Lesson VIII. How to select the best leaders in church and state.
Lesson IX. How to develop individual initiative without the loss of discipline.
Lesson X. How God may influence the progress of affairs.
Lesson XI. How to inspire children with lofty ideals.
Lesson XII. How to make our lives serene and fruitful.

A plan which can be adapted to all grades is the gathering of the main facts of each lesson and then stating its leading lesson.

The following are suggestions as to the leading lessons:

Lesson for April 4. As Jesus joined the disciples on the way to Emmaus, so he joins us who are journeying life's way in sorrow, grief, and trouble, me your troubles and perplexities. He wants us to confide in him.

Lesson for April 11. Deborah's judgment shows that a woman is capable of doing all that men can do. In the field of justice, but of lending a nation forth to victory in time of war.

Lesson for April 18. The secret of Gideon's victory was his faith. The ground of his faith was God's word.

Lesson for April 25. Because of forsaken country, friends, and her gods for the true God, she has been recognized a place of honor in the ancestry of Christ.

Lesson for May 2. Because Samuel was given in answer to a mother's prayer and was dedicated by her to the Lord's service, the Lord was able to use him in a large way.

Lesson for May 9. Parental indulgence results in the shame and ruin of both Eli and his sons.

Lesson for May 16. When God's people repent of their sins and turn to him for pardon he will not only forgive, but will light their battles and give victory.

Lesson for May 23. When the people took their eyes off God, the King, they desired a man as king in conformity to the practice of the heathen round about.

Lesson for May 30. Because Jonathan felt the call of God to deliver his people and waited for God's sign for him, he was able to go forward and win a victory in such a way as to show that God was with him.

Lesson for June 6. Because Saul disobeyed the command of God, judgment from the hand of God fell upon him.

Lesson for June 13. God looked not on the outward appearance, but on the heart; his choices are not arbitrary.

Lesson for June 20. "The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want."

The Supreme Beauty.
Mark well also the splendor of this ideal of salvation. It is not merely "safety," to be forgiven sin, to evade the curse. It is not, vaguely, "to get to heaven." It is to be conformed to the image of the Son. It is for these poor elements to attain to the supreme beauty.

Seeing and Judging.
Human nature is so constituted that all see, and judge better, in the affairs of other men, than in their own.—Trenes.

Peculiar "Cradles."
An infant in Guinea is usually buried in sand up to its waist whenever the mother is busy, and this is the only cradle it ever knows. The little Lapp, on the other hand, fares most luxuriously in its mother's shoe. These Lapp shoes are big affairs of skin stuffed with soft moss and can be hung on a peg or tree branch safely out of the way. The Chinese baby is tied to the back of an older child, who goes about in a bustling manner she informed me, "I will have to charge you 2 cents instead of 1, 'cause I can't buy anything little girls want with one penny."—Exchange.

Day of the Penny Gone.
Cornell had often gone on numerous errands for me, charging a penny for each trip. I had not had so many errands for her of late and the tiny mites does not earn so many pennies. Today I asked her to go uptown for me, and in a bustling manner she informed me, "I will have to charge you 2 cents instead of 1, 'cause I can't buy anything little girls want with one penny."—Exchange.

Grateful for Rain.
To show how badly rain was needed, a native who came to Newgate market with his wagon was so overjoyed that he rushed into the center of the street in front of the town hall when the storm was at its severest and offered up a prayer of thanksgiving. He then started drinking the muddy water as it flowed past him.—Johannesburg (Transvaal) Sunday Times.

Built for Fighting.
The beak of the eagle is sharper and stronger than that of the vulture, and the claws, being required for the capture of living prey, are much more boldly curved and more sharply pointed. The beak of the eagle is nearly straight for some distance from the base and then suddenly turns downward into a sharp hook.

MISS ANNA JONES

MR. JOHN BROWN

A Faithful Friend

By JESSIE ETHEL SHERWIN

(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

"You're as good as engaged, Lina," spoke her brother Gerald, aged twelve, with a gleeful laugh.

"And to whom, pray?" inquired Lina, startled and flustered as she glanced at his reply would be.

"Of course there's only one young man you would care about," said Gerald with a shrewd twinkle in his eyes, "and that is Alan Blair. He's going away for a week and he has asked me to take care of Hugo. I got two dollars for the job and we are to house the dog here. Is that all right?"

Lina made no demur. She and Hugo had always been good friends. A short, chunky but powerful bull pup, Hugo essentially minded his own business and was well behaved, except when he or his friends were imposed upon. Then he became a furious whirlwind of action.

Lina did not try to hide from herself that she loved Alan Blair, and Alan Blair was waiting for the fitting opportunity to assure himself of the fact. Lina worked at a large envelope manufacturing plant where a great many girls were employed. As well as Aaron Todd, an under foreman, who was a distant cloud in the otherwise clear sky of her existence. He was a sullen, dark-browed fellow who had pestered her by forcing his company upon her ever since she had begun work at the plant. Only the day previous she had resented his walking home with her, had told him clearly that she had thought nothing of him and never would, and considered even now as she recalled a fiercely blazed out threat that "she should suffer for her contempt!"

Hugo was disloyal to his new keeper and promptly followed Lina, with whom he was a great favorite. It seemed as though the sensible animal comprehended the interest of his absent master in Lina, for the next morning when she started for work he trotted by her side clear to the factory gate. He seemed to have appeared to comprehend that there was no admittance for him to the great factory, and reported back to the somewhat anxious Gerald at the Moreton home.

Evening Hugo kept close to Lina whenever she took a stroll, as though his master had conferred upon him the dignity of companion and protector.

Aaron Todd had ceased to annoy Lina by continuing his unwelcome attentions, but she shivered as often during the day she noted him staring at her in a sinister way. One evening when she was at the gate of her home enjoying the balmy evening air when a girl she knew as Etta Pearce approached. She was a rough, bolderous creature who had been discharged from the plant a week previous, and Lina had never been familiar with her.

"Mollie Burns wishes to see you, Lina," spoke the Pearce girl. "She is ill, and asked me to get you to come to her."

Distrusting Lina accompanied Etta, who led the way finally down a dark street with few houses. At one of those she halted and started up an unlighted stairway.

"Hold my hand in this dismal place," she directed Lina, and then after proceeding a few steps she abruptly thrust Lina into a lighted room, and slammed the door.

Neither had noticed that Hugo had kept closely behind them a part of the time, nor that he slipped past Lina into the room and snuggled down into a corner.

Lina gave a great start. She turned white to the lips as she was confronted by Aaron Todd, moaning, wretched as ever, and she knew that she was in a trap.

"You won't scream," he observed, "for no one will hear you. I told you I was bound to marry you, and I shall. An automobile is waiting outside; clever Etta will go with us as witness, and ten miles safely away from here a clergyman is waiting. If you rebel it will be a close prison till you consent."

Lina uttered a loud scream. Hugo sprang to his feet. She backed to the door but Todd intercepted her. He seized Lina by the arm. A low but distinct warning growl issued from the throat of the watchful Hugo. Then—

One spring and the animal was at the throat of Todd. The impact of the assault drove Todd off his footing. He went backward, his head striking the floor with a crash, and lay still and motionless.

Lina fled like the wind from room and house, passed the astonished Etta at the doorway, Hugo guarding her swift retreat. "Hugo, once safe at home, Hugo planted himself in front of the house on guard for his beloved mistress.

For such she became in fact when Alan Blair returned, and after Todd and his unsavory accomplice had vanished from their lives.

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF PRISON?

"OUR LIFE is twofold; sleep hath its own world," says Byron, and Joseph Glanville, that eminent seventeenth century divine and philosopher who is thought to have anticipated by his inventions the electric telegraph, says: "We dream, see visions—half our life is a romance of fiction." Sir William Petty, the great ship-builder, proposed it to Pepys of the famous "Diary" as a thing truly questionable, whether there really be any difference between waking and sleeping, while Ellis says, "Dreams are true while they last—can we at the best say more of life?"

This idea of duality of existence—a dreaming and a waking life, both of equal reality—is the basic idea of Galderon's wonderful drama, "Life is a Dream," which nobody reads nowadays, but which everybody ought to, for it is worth while. The hero of that drama is part of the time a prisoner of war, and part of the time a king and cannot decide which part of his life is a dream.

The dream of being in prison is not an uncommon one, although it is not classed by the scientists as a "typical" dream. It could be easily interpreted by the disciples of the Freudian school, though they would require all the details of the dream in order to do so. As for the mystics in spite of its being a rather disagreeable dream, they nearly all account it to be one of favorable omen, an indication of good luck and happiness. To dream that you simply see a prison is regarded by some as indicative of luck. As to escaping from your dream-prison, the authorities are divided on that, some saying that it means that temporary success, others danger. So if you find yourself in jail in your dreams, better stay there until you wake up—unless you are pardoned by some Dreamland governor, or a dream that you have applied for such pardon, both of which are excellent omens.

SWEET SANDWICHES TO TAKE THE PLACE OF CAKE.

A sweet sandwich is a dainty which may be made in an emergency when small cakes are not at hand, and they are always appropriate to serve with lemonade, tea, cocoa or coffee.

Cinnamon Sandwiches.—Take one cupful of freshly grated coconut, one quarter cupful of walnuts, chopped, one teaspoonful rosewater, one tablespoonful of powdered sugar; mix well; add three tablespoonfuls of thick cream and spread on buttered white bread. These go well with cocoa.

Date and Orange Sandwiches.—Blend one-half cupful of finely-chopped dates with two tablespoonfuls of orange juice; use on buttered whole wheat bread. These are nice with lemonade.

Coconut Sandwiches.—Take one cupful of freshly grated coconut, one quarter cupful of walnuts, chopped, one teaspoonful rosewater, one tablespoonful of powdered sugar; mix well; add three tablespoonfuls of thick cream and spread on buttered white bread. These go well with cocoa.

Honey and Pecan Sandwiches.—Mix four table spoonfuls of honey with two tablespoonfuls of chopped pecans. Split hot baking powder biscuits and fill with the mixture. The biscuits should be baked about an inch thick.

Strawberry Sandwiches.—Take half a cupful of fresh strawberries, cut crosswise into slices. Cream one tablespoonful of butter; add three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and spread on slices of unsifted bread. Lay on it sliced strawberries in a single layer and cover with a slice of buttered white bread.

Neapolitan Sandwiches.—Grind three tablespoonfuls of pistachio nuts to a paste. Cut fine three tablespoonfuls of "preserved cherries; mix with softened fondant or honey to make of the consistency to spread. Spread on buttered white bread.

Sober Second Thought

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE Impulses of our Nature do not lead us, they arouse us. And no man is fit to contend gloriously for a Fact or for a Cause until he is thoroughly aroused. But to act upon FIRST Impulses is an unwise and most disastrous policy.

Halter your Impulses with Sober Second Thought.

You will never lose anything by carefully Thinking things over before you act. In fact, it is our Sober Second Thoughts that give us courage to carry through successfully what comes to us as necessary to be done. Cool heads are always wiser than hot heads.

Halter your Impulses with Sober Second Thought.

Most of the regrets of the world arise from important things done on impulse, which if but introduced once to Sober Second Thought, would not have been done at all. Many a man has resigned a good position on impulse only to be left for months and years working up to where he left off. Sober Second Thought is a companion worth cultivating.

Why They Never Arrive.
Lots and lots of people spend more time wishing they had the other fellow's luck than getting out to work for it.

Last Night's Dreams

—What They Mean

DID YOU DREAM OF PRISON?

"OUR LIFE is twofold; sleep hath its own world," says Byron, and Joseph Glanville, that eminent seventeenth century divine and philosopher who is thought to have anticipated by his inventions the electric telegraph, says: "We dream, see visions—half our life is a romance of fiction." Sir William Petty, the great ship-builder, proposed it to Pepys of the famous "Diary" as a thing truly questionable, whether there really be any difference between waking and sleeping, while Ellis says, "Dreams are true while they last—can we at the best say more of life?"

This idea of duality of existence—a dreaming and a waking life, both of equal reality—is the basic idea of Galderon's wonderful drama, "Life is a Dream," which nobody reads nowadays, but which everybody ought to, for it is worth while. The hero of that drama is part of the time a prisoner of war, and part of the time a king and cannot decide which part of his life is a dream.

The dream of being in prison is not an uncommon one, although it is not classed by the scientists as a "typical" dream. It could be easily interpreted by the disciples of the Freudian school, though they would require all the details of the dream in order to do so. As for the mystics in spite of its being a rather disagreeable dream, they nearly all account it to be one of favorable omen, an indication of good luck and happiness. To dream that you simply see a prison is regarded by some as indicative of luck. As to escaping from your dream-prison, the authorities are divided on that, some saying that it means that temporary success, others danger. So if you find yourself in jail in your dreams, better stay there until you wake up—unless you are pardoned by some Dreamland governor, or a dream that you have applied for such pardon, both of which are excellent omens.

SWEET SANDWICHES TO TAKE THE PLACE OF CAKE.

A sweet sandwich is a dainty which may be made in an emergency when small cakes are not at hand, and they are always appropriate to serve with lemonade, tea, cocoa or coffee.

Cinnamon Sandwiches.—Take one cupful of freshly grated coconut, one quarter cupful of walnuts, chopped, one teaspoonful rosewater, one tablespoonful of powdered sugar; mix well; add three tablespoonfuls of thick cream and spread on buttered white bread. These go well with cocoa.

Date and Orange Sandwiches.—Blend one-half cupful of finely-chopped dates with two tablespoonfuls of orange juice; use on buttered whole wheat bread. These are nice with lemonade.

Coconut Sandwiches.—Take one cupful of freshly grated coconut, one quarter cupful of walnuts, chopped, one teaspoonful rosewater, one tablespoonful of powdered sugar; mix well; add three tablespoonfuls of thick cream and spread on buttered white bread. These go well with cocoa.

Honey and Pecan Sandwiches.—Mix four table spoonfuls of honey with two tablespoonfuls of chopped pecans. Split hot baking powder biscuits and fill with the mixture. The biscuits should be baked about an inch thick.

Strawberry Sandwiches.—Take half a cupful of fresh strawberries, cut crosswise into slices. Cream one tablespoonful of butter; add three tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and spread on slices of unsifted bread. Lay on it sliced strawberries in a single layer and cover with a slice of buttered white bread.

Neapolitan Sandwiches.—Grind three tablespoonfuls of pistachio nuts to a paste. Cut fine three tablespoonfuls of "preserved cherries; mix with softened fondant or honey to make of the consistency to spread. Spread on buttered white bread.

Sober Second Thought

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE Impulses of our Nature do not lead us, they arouse us. And no man is fit to contend gloriously for a Fact or for a Cause until he is thoroughly aroused. But to act upon FIRST Impulses is an unwise and most disastrous policy.

CINNAMINSON

An Indian name from the Leni-Lenape Nation, the original owners of New Jersey, meaning "SWEET WATER SHORE"

The original settlers of this section deserve the credit that is given in history to William Penn, for they made friends with the Indians, and bought from them this section of New Jersey, long before William Penn came over or Philadelphia was established. They also retained many of the musical-sounding Indian names.

Who Pays the Fiddler?

There is an old saying that "Those who dance must pay the fiddler." The same thought applies to other things as well.

For example, we have here a homelike community which we all appreciate and enjoy. But what would happen to our pleasant community if we all stopped replenishing the fund out of which the expense of upkeep is taken? Our community would soon go to rack and ruin so that we should be ashamed to call it our own.

For every dollar that is sent out of town, somebody has to pay more taxes, because that dollar has gone to do its work elsewhere. The dollar spent with a local dealer pays its share of the cost of local improvements, helps to reduce your taxes and to make your home enjoyable.
