SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
(A 1920 Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 9

JESUS TEACHES FORGIVENESS.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 18:21-35.
GOLDEN TEXT—If ye forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you.—Matt. 6:14.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 6:12;
18:15-20; Luke 17:3, 4; Eph. 4:31, 32;
Col. 3:13-14.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Forgiving One Another.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Learning to Forgive.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Forgiving and Forgiven.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
Forgiveness: Its Meaning and Scope.

In this lesson we have divine instructions as to our behavior in case of ill-treatment.

I. Peter's Question (v. 21).

This question, "How often shall my brother sin against me and I forgive him?" probably was occasioned by the ill-treatment which Peter was then receiving at the hands of his fellow disciples. Christ's confession of Peter brought him into the limelight. The question of the disciples (18:1) "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?" shows that there was some jealousy of Peter among the disciples and consequent contention among them.
From the Lord's teaching as to the effects to bring about reconciliation in case of offenses between brother and brother He knew that it would require the exercise of the spirit of forgiveness. Peter disposed to be gracious inquires "Till seven times?" showing his readiness to forgive his brother not three times, but twice three times and a little over.

II. Jesus' Answer (v. 22).

The Lord's answer was an astonishing revelation to Peter. He said "Not until seven times, but until seventy times seven." This shows that our willingness to forgive should be limiless.

III. The Two Creditors (vv. 23-25).

This parable of the two creditors illustrates His principles of forgiveness.
1. The gracious creditor (vv. 23-27).
The king in this parable represents God, and the servant who is greatly in debt represents the sinner—any sinner, every sinner, you and me. We were hopelessly in debt to God. Ten thousand talents are equal to some twelve millions of dollars. To meet this obligation would be an utter impossibility. This man's plea for time, promising to pay all, much resembles our vain imaginings that we can pay our debt to God, that by our future good works we can atone for our past misdeeds. By the justice of God's law we were hopelessly condemned; by the grace of God we were freely pardoned.

2. The cruel creditor (vv. 28-35).
This man who was forgiven no much found a man who owed him a small sum—about fifteen or seventeen dollars. He shut his ears to the man's entreaty to be patient with him, flew at his throat and cruelly put him into jail. The great mercy shown him did not touch his heart, so he refused to be merciful. Being set free from so great a debt as our sins against God, we should make God's act of unlimited forgiveness toward us the standard of unlimited forgiveness toward others.
In dealing with others we should at-ways keep these considerations before us: (1) We ourselves need it and do every day continue to need the forgiveness of God. With all our imperfections and positive sins we need the continued mercy of God. When we pray, "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors," let us be sure that we have put away all thought of sin held against others. To pray that prayer otherwise is an abomination.
(2) That there is a day of judgment coming and at that day we shall be treated as we treat others. No mercy will be shown to those who have not shown mercy.

The heart, then, of this lesson is that God's gracious act toward us should be the standard of our actions toward others, and that we must exercise the same spirit of forgiveness toward our fellowmen if we would continue to enjoy God's forgiveness.
The proof that we are God's children is that we manifest the spirit of God.
"Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect" (Matt. 5:48).

Thank God Every Morning.

Thank God every morning when you get up that you have something to do that day which must be done whether you like it or not. Being forced to work and forced to do your best will breed in you temperance, self-control, diligence, strength of will, content, and a hundred virtues which the idle never know.—Charles Kingsley.

Jesus' Idea of God.

Jesus was filled with the joy of life
because He had the most joyous idea of God that was ever thought of. Jesus taught the disciples that they could take the finest things in life, and rejoice in them to their highest power, ascribe them to God. He told them about the Fatherhood of God and said,
"If ye who are evil know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more your heavenly Father!"
Jesus taught men to interpret God in the terms of the spiritually best.

sliding plate glass windows, by which a minute the car is changed from a closed car to an open car. Equipped with an electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims with 3½ inch tires all around and embodying all the established merits and economies of the Ford

We thought you'd ask. Because we buy large quantities of these irons, they're so serviceable.
They heat rapidly, and hold heat, saving current.
But they're not as highly finished as the irons that now sell for $5.

that's where the saving is—$3.05 saving.

Eighth Anniversary
of
Y^e Upholstery Shopp^e

We wish to thank you for helping to make the last eight years busy, happy ones. We have endeavored to fill them with things worth while, striving each succeeding year for something better than we accomplished the year before.

And in the coming year, and the years following, we hope to serve you even better. It will be our pride and pleasure to do your caning, glueing and repairing the best we know how. Perhaps we may have some suggestions that will save a favorite piece of furniture which you think is beyond repair. A little painstaking interest and care will work wonders in giving new life to old furniture.

We have made considerable study of the most suitable way to finish woods for the purpose for which they are used—wax or varnish for furniture, and Valspar for table tops. Some very pleasing results are often obtained by using paint of suitable color or tint for furniture, where a nice appearance is desired at a reasonable cost. And a bit of color in the form of a little picture (landscape, flowers, or Persian effects) will add just the touch necessary to make it complete. Where great durability is required, the automobile finish (rubbed to a dull surface) is ideal.

In upholstering we can sometimes make the piece more comfortable than it was when new, by using just the right springs, properly tied, and hair filling in place of some inferior material. And you may like loose cushions for a change, where before the cover was made fast.

Of necessity, these suggestions are very general in character, but we will be glad to go into details with you on your particular requirements, and we are now in a position to make prompt deliveries.

Organization of Freeholders

The board of freeholders met at the court house on Saturday for the purpose of organizing.

Fred Lippincott, of Moorestown, who had been director or chairman of the board, refused to serve in that capacity any longer, and Edward Haines, of Mount Holly, was elected to that position.

It was understood that Mr. Lippincott was dissatisfied because Freeholders Stow, Wright and Haines, constituting a majority of the board, caused in favor of Warren C. Pine, of Riverside, for treasurer. In the division of the duties of the board, Mr. Lippincott received the department of miscellaneous accounts, which is the least desirable of the work to be done.

The following officers were elected: treasurer, for three years, Warren C. Pine; physician to the insane asylum, three years, Dr. H. E. Longsdorf; physician to the almshouse, five years, Dr. David Baird, of Florence; sinking and commission er, Dr. Robert W. Carter.

Among the increases provided for in the tentative appropriations are the following: County Stenographer, from $950 to $1,500; Court Crier, from $900 to $1,080; County Detective, from $2,100 to $2,500; a new Assistant County Detective at $1,800; Deputy Sheriff, from $1,500 to $1,800; Deputy County Clerk, from $2,000 to $2,200; Freeholders' Clerk, from $1,800 to $2,000; County Solicitor, from $1,500 to $1,800; County Engineer, from $2,400 to $3,000; Probation Officer and expenses, from $750 to $850; Clerk of the County Tax Board, from $1,200 to $1,400; Assistant County School Superintendent, from $800 to $900; County Stenographer, from $840 to $940; County Stenographer, from $780 to $840; County Stenographer, from $780 to $840 (new item); County Clerk's employees, outside of deputy, from $750 to $850. The sum of $1,000 is also included under the head of salaries to pay somebody for a county auditor.

In the department of Bridges, $50,000 is provided this year, against $1,052.82 in 1920, for railings. If the thought goes, it will cost the taxpayers $35,624 for Asylum maintenance this year against $10,700 last year.

Election expenses will cost $30,000 against last year's appropriation of $15,000, which was about $35,000 less than needed. The County Engineer will have an expense account of $1,000 and the County Superintendent of Schools, $750. The Surrogate's office expense item is cut from $1,500 in 1920, to $250. The State Institution for Feeble Minded Females at Vineland, is to get $15,047.22 in 1921 as against nothing provided in 1920.

The County Board of Agriculture expenses take a jump from $1,800 last year to $5,000, that is if the item goes through as incorporated in the first draft of the budget.

The Board will hold a public hearing upon the budget at the Court House at ten o'clock a.m. on Friday, January 14, at which time any citizen who desires to do so may voice his objections to any of the items in the budget.

Who "Copped" the Cop's Dog?
Officer Miller is inconceivable. Somebody stole his "police dog." You didn't know he had a dog? Well, thereby hangs a tale—or did the last time Miller saw him.

A few days ago the doghouse officer found a strange dog which nobody owned, and took it home. The animal soon showed unmistakable signs of having the makings of a police dog. His foster owner bought a collar for him, and took him out on his night patrol. The dog was a lot of company and the officer had a chance to train him for the important work he was expected to do later on. Then came the fly in the ointment. Somebody stole the dog, collar and all. And Officer Miller mourns and will not be comforted.

New Year's Shoot Big Success

On New Year's day the Riverton Yacht Club staged one of the biggest shooting contests in its history.

The gunners arrived early, and from 10 a.m. until dark the men were busy at the traps. The morning event was open to all comers and registered members of the club. The prizes were well worth striving for, consisting of pump poultry, silver spoons, shaving sets, penknives, flash lights, and many other attractive and useful articles.

The prizes were well worth striving for, consisting of pump poultry, silver spoons, shaving sets, penknives, flash lights, and many other attractive and useful articles.

The ladies were very much in evidence at the traps, Mrs. D.L. Vaughan proving to be the best, and not only outshooting her women competitors, but in one event winning from a class field of men shooters.

The events consisted of matches of fifteen targets each, and among those with perfect scores were D. L. Vaughan, Charles Z. Vaughan and R. H. Stackhouse.

At least twenty marksmen tried their luck at the traps and all were long in their praises of the conditions existing on the end of the pier. Much credit is due Chairman Stackhouse who worked like a Trojan all day long to make the meet the great success it turned out to be.

Prizes were won by each of the following contestants:
Event No. 1—C. Z. Vaughan, Dr. C. S. Mills, D. L. Vaughan, Rex Showell.

Event No. 2—Biddle Frishmuth, C. Z. Vaughan, D. Jacques, D. L. Vaughan.
Event No. 3—Dr. C. S. Mills, C. Z. Vaughan, Biddle Frishmuth, P. Ransome.

Event No. 4—D. L. Vaughan, Harvey Stewart, William Purnell, R. H. Stackhouse.

Event No. 5—Biddle Frishmuth, D. L. Vaughan, D. Jacques, Rex Showell.
Event No. 6—Mrs. D. L. Vaughan, George Chambers, Robinson Rogers, J. D. Clark.

Event No. 7—D. Jacques, Biddle Frishmuth, R. H. Stackhouse, N. M. Filler, Jr.

The handsome silver trophy trophy donated by F. S. Groves, Jr., will be shot for this Saturday afternoon at the regular club meet.

The conditions governing the winning of this cup is as follows. The cup to be shot for by Riverton Yacht Club members only. The events to be handicap affairs, so as all will receive an equal chance, and the number of targets to be fifty.

The cup will be shot for on every other Saturday, or every third Saturday. The winner of each contest is to have his or her name engraved upon the trophy, and the one who is the first to have their name inscribed three times upon the cup will become its final owner.

Besides shooting for the cup, there will be many other valuable prizes for those not so successful as to have their names upon the main prize. Before each club shoot an open shoot will take place.

The club is going ahead improving their quarters each week and bids fair to have one of the finest homes in this State.

To Change Name of Ferry

Having obtained the necessary riparian rights in conjunction with the site recently purchased from the Water Company at the foot of Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, the directors of the ferry company have recommended that the name be changed from Tacony-Riverton to Tacony-Palmyra ferry.

A meeting of the stockholders to ratify the action of the directors has been arranged to take place this Saturday morning at the home of John S. Warner, Lincoln avenue, Palmyra. The grant of riparian rights, which was essential to the plans of the company in establishing the New Jersey landing of the ferry at the foot of Cinnaminson avenue, was obtained only recently from the State.

The delay in the change of the name was due to this, inasmuch as the company was not sure of placing the landing in Palmyra until the grant was made.

The company now plans to proceed rapidly with the work of establishing the ferry and bids for some of the work on this side of the river are to be called for next week.

The stock of the company has been meeting a ready sale, especially among the farmers of the county, who are enthusiastic about the prospects of a short route to Philadelphia and to the market, cold storage plant and cannery which the ferry company plans to establish just across the river.

A block of $2,000 worth of stock has been purchased by an employee of the Shaxamoxon street ferry, who judged that the new ferry should prove a huge success.

BASKETBALL

Next Tuesday evening the Wesleyan first and second basketball teams will play the All Penn Collegians team, composed of former Penn players. Manager Matchett promises to bring Whitehall, the football star, Yates, Wray, and several other star athletes, and two good games can be expected.

The first team game starts at 8 o'clock at the Temple Gym. The locals will have "Wak" Wing and "Bunny" Coe in the line-up.

Last Saturday night the Wesleyan ran up against a snag in the Delanco team, and were defeated in both games. The first team bowed by the score of 29 to 15, but put up a hard, snappy fight, and considering that three of the first squad were away, did very well. The second team lost 21 to 16.

On Tuesday evening, "Bunny" Coe, the Riverton football star, made his debut with the locals and was the main factor in administering a 25-18 defeat to the Hope Fire Company team of Burlington. Boll, Burr, Richmond and Andrews played fine ball.

The second team, however, was trounced by 26-6 by the second visiting team, who are the leaders of the Burlington County League.

Makes Hot Water Bottles Last Longer.

To make a hot water bottle last longer and fit the body more comfortably, remove all air from the bottle after filling and before screwing in the stopper, by resting the bottle on a shelf or table, holding the top of the bottle in one hand and gently pressing down until the water comes to the opening. Hold in this position while the stopper is screwed in. The bottle should not be more than two-thirds full.—M. E. E. Iowa.

UTILITY BOARD NOT CONFIRMED

State Senate in Special Session Denies Confirmation to New Utility Commissioners.

STATE POLICE ARE NEEDED.

Farmers of South Jersey Have Made Comprehensive Survey of Traffic That Will Use New Camden Bridge.

Trenton, N. J., Jan. 6.—Nominations made by Governor Edwards to compose a new Board of Public Utility Commissioners were not confirmed by the state senate in special session. In a ten-minute executive session the senate, by a vote of 9 to 8, refused to force the Senate Judiciary Committee to report the nominations to the senate. The brief session adjourned without date. The nominations, therefore, will die with the opening of the 1921 legislature.

Sensors Pilgrim of Essex and Mackay of Bergen, Republicans, did not attend the session, and Senator Haines of Camden, Republican, is now county registrar and has surrendered his legislative seat.

Republican senators in conference were urged by Senator Bright of Cape May to have the nominations reported out of the Judiciary Committee. Senator Runyon of Union supported the move on the part of Senator Bright. On roll call on this motion Bright and Runyon were joined by Senator Whitney of Morris. Senator Sturgess of Gloucester did not take sides on the action. Eight other senators opposed the reporting of the nominations.

While the Republicans were holding a party caucus the six Democratic senators agreed to introduce a resolution to relieve the Senate Judiciary Committee of the names suggested by Governor Edwards for the new board.

When the session met at 3 o'clock the executive session was immediately ordered. Democratic Leader Brown of Middlesex offered the resolution to relieve the committee of further consideration of the nominations. A vote was taken, resulting in nine of the Republican senators opposing the Brown resolution and six Democratic and three Republican senators favoring it. Senators Runyon, Whitney and Bright voted with the Democrats.

Republican senators who voted against the resolution to have the senate take a vote on the nominations made by the governor took the position that the appeal sued out by the ousted Board of Public Utility Commissioners acts as a stay and will continue the board in office until the Court of Appeals hands down a decision in the case.

Alfred N. Barber, secretary of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, when asked what attitude the ousted commissioners would assume in view of the turnaround by the senate of the new Edwards board, said:

"The administrative work of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, which is of such a nature that it does not require formal action by the board, is proceeding without interruption. I, of course, have not had opportunity to communicate with the members of the board since the session of the senate. It is my understanding, however, that while the present condition exists the board will not press to a final determination important matters unless it appears formal action by it is necessary or advisable to protect the public interest. In any such case action will be taken upon the assumption that the board, being the only Public Utility Commission functioning, can assert in the public interest the authority of the law.

"The increase in fares which the Public Service Railway Company proposed to make effective January 1 has been, by a formal order of the board entered some weeks ago, suspended until April 21, 1921. The increase proposed by the Trenton and Mercer County Traction Corporation was, by an order entered on an earlier date, suspended until February 23, 1921.

"I understand the board to take the position that there will be ample time for its legal status to be finally determined and the question of the reasonableness of the proposed to be fully heard and determined either by it or by a new board before the expiration of the periods of suspension."

State Police Needed.
In the suggested remedies for the suppression of crime will be found strong argument in favor of the organization of a state police or constabulary system. Several of the speakers at a recent conference evidently had that in mind, though timid about advocating it. The principle is contained in the proposal that Mr. Dill be designated to co-ordinate the police departments of the state, and in the plan to establish a federal bureau of investigation.

The subject of protection in the rural districts received considerable attention, and it is a fact that many of the more serious crimes in this state recently were committed in rural sections and the smaller municipalities which lack sufficient policemen. There is a prejudice against a state constabulary system which cannot be entirely accounted for by the fear on the part of organized labor that it might be used to their disadvantage.

Properly organized and managed, such a force would be a great aid in combating the so-called "crime wave." It would be of substantial value in the enforcement of the prohibition amendment and law, could assist in guarding the highways, in forest fire prevention, protecting fish and game, and compelling observance of the automobile laws. As a co-operating agency with the municipal police departments, it would be invaluable.

Utility Board Protest.
The New Jersey Public Utility Commissioners protested to the Interstate Commerce Commission against the latter board acting upon an application from the Eastern Railway Company for permission to lower $100,000 of capital stock at par; the railroad company, a New Jersey corporation, whose line is entirely within this state, having ignored the Public Utility Commission and applied directly to the federal body.

Under ordinary circumstances the Public Utility Commission would no doubt be justified in entering a protest; but, according to a statement made by the president of the Eastern Railway Company, the Public Utility Commission two years ago granted permission for the issue of the $100,000 of capital stock. Under the circumstances, the recent protest appears to be a case of crying before one is hurt.

Grange Wants Recognition.
It is largely over the farmer's land that the hunters tramp with gun and dogs; it is generally in cover found upon his property that game is libeled for breeding purposes and he it is who suffers most through the depredations of pot hunters and that other unsportsmanlike class which destroys fences and carelessly starts grass and woods fires as it passes along.

The suggestion that the Grange be recognized by the appointment of two members to the Fish and Game Commission, is not an unreasonable one and it should receive serious consideration. The only way in which the legislature could be instrumental in insuring this object would be by amending the law so as to make mandatory the inclusion of two Grangers in the membership of the Fish and Game Commission.

South Jersey Traffic Survey.
South Jersey farmers have complete figures now available to match the results of the survey made in Philadelphia by the Joint Bridge Commission in a study of the routes that will indicate the most satisfactory location for the Camden-Philadelphia span. These figures, secured by the State Bureau of Lands and Markets during the summer season, in what were the past months for traffic of teams and auto trucks from the Jersey farms to the Philadelphia markets, have been compiled to show the approximate percentage of travel over each of the highways leading into Camden and will render unnecessary any further survey on this side of the river.

The Market Bureau survey indicates that any Camden terminus for the bridge near the present ferries will be advantageous for the movement of traffic to and from the bridge on this side. Most of the routes used converge into Market and Federal streets, leading to the ferry square, but as the approach will be several blocks back from the river front the logical center would seem to be near the Third Regiment Armory.

Prominent farmers who have made a study of the Market Bureau survey and of the heavy seashore traffic believe the span should be located south of the present ferries. This would relieve traffic congestion in Camden, due to seashore and farm traffic being compelled to cross Market and Federal streets in approaching or leaving the bridge, and it would have the same effect in Philadelphia, where, if the bridge were north of Market street, the heavy farm traffic would be compelled to cross that busy thoroughfare to reach and leave the Dock street markets. Many farmers believe the bridge should have two or more approaches on both sides to avoid congestion.

The survey of Jersey farm traffic, procured by market officials, shows an interesting record of truck movement. Burlington county, as the chief contributor, in the months between June and August, sent 30 per cent over the Marlton pike, 39 per cent over the Burlington pike and 31 per cent over the Moorestown pike. Of this traffic 75 per cent crossed at the Market street ferries, 20 per cent at Vine street and 5 per cent at Kaighn avenue.

Camden county crops were moved with 80 per cent over the White Horse pike, 25 per cent over the Blackwood road, 80 per cent over the Marlton pike and 15 per cent over the Moorestown pike. Seventy per cent of the Camden products crossed on the Market street ferries, 25 per cent at Kaighn avenue and 5 per cent at Gloucester.

The Westville road got 70 per cent of the farm traffic from Gloucester county and the Blackwood road the remaining 30 per cent. Gloucester was a more convenient crossing point, 70 per cent using the ferries there, 25 per cent crossing at Kaighn avenue and only 5 per cent at Market street ferries.

Farmers Are Organizing.
The organization of New Jersey farmers goes on apace. Each county is being organized, and the county associations are allied in the state council, which again is a member of the National Farm Bureau Federation. After the entire state has been canvassed it is predicted that from 75 to 80 per cent of the farmers will have been enrolled. And some astute politicians, who habitually keep one ear close to the ground, are wondering what is going to happen when the work of organization has been completed.

Jobs Over Feed Scarcity.
Food is still scarce in Hanover, Germany. The food administration of Klausthal, Harz, announced recently that herring were on sale at the municipal food distributing station and that the share of each person was one half of a herring. That situation was reflected in these advertisements in the Klausthal Anzeiger. "Single person wants a partner to obtain a herring." Address: "Martha," Zellweg (Honest Division), business office of this paper, and state whether head or tail part." "Young blond girl wants to make the acquaintance of a refined gentleman as a herring partner. Subsequent marriage not excluded. Address: "Liebesgott Herring" (God of Love Herring), business office of this paper."

Device That Saves Gas.
A woman's invention to save gas at the gas range makes the weight of pot or kettle on the burner throw open a valve which permits the gas to burn full force while with the removal of that weight the valve closes to a point where it cuts off all the gas except an amount barely sufficient to support a pilot light.

An Appeal to the American People

THREE and one-half million children in Eastern and Central Europe have no alternative to disaster between now and next harvest except American aid. For months these most helpless sufferers in the track of war have been admitted to American feeding-stations only if tragically undernourished, and have received American medical aid only if desperately threatened by death from disease.

One 5 cent hot American meal today has saved a thousand lives.

Winter is closing down. The money of many nations is valueless outside their own boundaries. Economic and crop conditions make famine, with its terrible train of diseases, a certain visitor until next harvest. Inevitably the helpless children will suffer most. No child can grow to health and sanity on the pitiful makeshifts for food with which millions of European adults must content themselves this winter. It is obvious that the remedy can come only from outside.

America saved 4,000,000 European children winter before last. Normal recuperation cut the need nearly in half last year, but unusual conditions have resulted in actual shrinkage of child destitution during the twelvemonth just past. The response of America must now decide whether 3,500,000 of these charges, in acute distress, shall begin to be turned away in January from more than 17,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics and feeding-stations dependent on American support. There would be no tragedy in history so sweeping or so destructive of those who can deserve no evil.

The undersigned organizations, working among every race and creed, many engaged also in other forms of relief, agree unanimously that the plight of these helpless children should have complete priority in overseas charity until the situation is met. This is an issue without politics and without religious lines. There can be no danger of pauperization, for the $23,000,000 for child food, and the $10,000,000 for medical service that we seek, will relieve only the critical cases. The medical supplies, of course, must be an unqualified gift, but for every American dollar used in child-feeding, the governments and communities aided furnish two dollars in the form of transportation, rent, labor, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable.

America has not failed in the past in great heartedness. She has never had a more poignant call than this. Contributions should be turned over to the local committees which are now being formed for this national collection, or sent to Franklin E. Lane, Treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co., New York City.

GOOD THINGS FOR THE TABLE.

A nice spice cake which will keep moist a long time is the following:

Spice Cake.
Cream one-half a cupful of butter, add one and one-half cupfuls of brown sugar, two eggs without separating, one-half cupful of coffee and two cupfuls of flour sifted with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of cinnamon, one-half teaspoonful of mace and one-half teaspoonful of cloves. Add the coffee alternately with the flour and bake in a loaf pan.

Peanut Butter Fudge.
Roll together two cupfuls of brown sugar and one-half cupful of milk; when a soft ball is formed by dropping a little in cold water, add one-half cupful of peanut butter, reheat until melted, pour into a buttered pan and mark in squares when partly cooled.

Coronet and Nutmeg Chops.
Take three-fourths of a cupful of hot cooked cream of wheat, add one-fourth of a cupful of soft bread crumbs, two cupfuls of fine crushed nutmegs, one teaspoonful of salt, one-fourth teaspoonful of pepper, one-half teaspoonful of powdered thyme and one egg beaten light. Mix all the ingredients together thoroughly and form into coriander shape. Place in a buttered pan and bake twenty minutes. Serve with tomatoes cut in quarters, rolled in flour and fried in hot fat.

Chocolate Mocha Cake.
Mix as usual the following ingredients: One-half cupful each of butter, brown sugar, white sugar and molasses, one ounce of melted chocolate, two egg yolks beaten light, one-fourth of a cup of cream, one-fourth of a cup of milk, one-half teaspoonful of soda, one-half teaspoonful of clove, one-half teaspoonful each of cinnamon and mace, two cupfuls of flour and the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Bake in a sheet twenty-five minutes.

Mocha Frosting.
Take one cupful of butter, if salt, wash it; add two and one-half cupfuls of sifted confectioner's sugar, then two squares of melted chocolate; finally beat in one-fourth of a cupful of coffee a few drops at a time. Make the frosting as orange ice as usual. To a pint of cream add a scant half cupful of sugar, and such flavoring as desired; beat until light but not firm or in the least dry. Fill the mold with layers of the orange ice and the whipped cream. Cover and pack to become firm.

Spanish Sandwiches.
Put into a small chopping bowl twelve anchovies wiped free from oil, two tablespoonfuls of capers and four or five branches of parsley; chop fine, then pound with a pestle, adding meanwhile half a teaspoonful of mustard; one tablespoonful each of oil and vinegar and the hard cooked yolks of two eggs. When all is mixed to a smooth paste spread upon buttered bread; sprinkle with the whites of eggs, chopped fine and press together and with fashion.

Neenie Maxwell
(In 1920, Western Newspaper Union)

Hammock Cake.
Eight hundred eggs, eighty pounds of flour and sixty-five pounds of sugar were among the ingredients used to make a mammoth cake which was presented to the founder of the San Francisco local of the United Commercial Travelers at the recent silver jubilee celebration of that organization. The cake was thirteen feet in circumference and weighed 354 pounds.

Present Day Conditions Compel Company to Ask For Higher Fare Rate

It is the wage rate of today, the tax bill of today, the price list of today, the competition of today, which must be considered in determining the rate at which any business can sell its product and keep going.

It is these things as they exist today that the railway company must consider when it figures the price at which it can sell transportation and keep its business on a footing that will enable the people to get adequate, dependable service and the benefit of increasing facilities.

Pre-war prices have not returned in the street railway business. Wages is the big item of expense in street railway service and our wage rates show no indication of diminishing. Taxes and other municipal charges against the company, which in the aggregate run into millions of dollars, have not given any indication of seeking lower levels. Steel rails and practically all other materials, except copper, cost far more than pre-war prices.

Selling Goods Below Cost

For a long time past the company has been furnishing car rides at a price which did not cover costs. Now it asks for a rate that will cover the costs and it has confidence that when the people know the facts they will be willing to provide the money actually necessary to support an essential service.

All the company wants is that it be placed in a position to carry on; to provide the quantity and quality of service that builds up communities and adds to the convenience and comforts of the people thereof.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"KANGAROO."

WHEN Captain Cook's expedition anchored off the coast of Australia one of the first things the explorer did was to send some of his men ashore with instructions to bring back specimens of the plants, flowers and animals which appeared to be distinctive of the country. Two of the sailors returned with a beast which had extremely long hind legs, short fore paws and an exceptionally well developed tail. Cook, who had never seen anything of the kind, desired to learn something more about the strange animal and sent the men back to discover by what name the natives called it.

Upon their return they reported that the nearest they could come to it was "Kan-ga-roo." "At least," as one of the men declared, "that's what all the natives said when I pointed to the animal." So, when Captain Cook returned home, he brought with him the body of an animal which was introduced to natural history under the name "kangaroo."

It was not until a number of years later that it was found that "kan-ga-roo" was the Australian equivalent for "I don't know," which was the reason that the natives said this when Cook's men asked them a question they didn't understand! (Copyright.)

"Progress is the best tho't of Man"

So it has been down through the ages. The greatest improvements of all time have been but the thoughts of men who dared vision beyond the passage of their own years.

The broad Delaware River has for a long time proved an insurmountable obstacle to real industrial and civic contact between Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Far-sighted business men saw, and gave thought.

Here between Tacony and Riverton, but a scant mile of water divided two states, rich in industrial and agricultural wealth. The broad highways of Pennsylvania ended abruptly on the river shore. New Jersey picked up the thread and continued on to the Seaboard.

The only link—a tedious detour thru congested terminals.

Could these smooth bands be joined, a great stride forward would have been taken in the interests of mankind.

Countless cars, pleasure-bound to numerous resorts, would choose this path at a tremendous saving of time. The tourist diverging at this point would find the smooth stretches of the Lincoln Highway a short run from the Pennsylvania shore. The farmer of Jersey would find a new and productive market in flourishing Northern Philadelphia.

Citizenship Meeting

An open meeting, which all are urged to attend, will be held next Thursday afternoon at the Porch Club at three o'clock, addressed by Mrs. VanNess, of Orange, one of the two women members of the New Jersey State Assembly.

Mrs. VanNess will explain the need for a League of Women Voters in Riverton and Palmyra, and the desirability of groups working for better citizenship.

Rex Showell Appointed Councilman

At the meeting of the Borough Council last night the resignation of John Armitage was read and accepted and C. Rex Showell appointed to fill the vacancy.

A bill of $31.90 for work in connection with the paving on Broad street was returned to County Engineer Logan, it being the understanding of Council that the work charged for was included in the contract price.

Mr. Allen recommended that the curb at Main street, facing the front of the property occupied by F. B. Miller, be rounded a bit at the corner so as to allow a little more room for street traffic at that point. The matter was referred to the highway committee to report at the next meeting.

Roy E. Williams, of Delanco, was engaged to audit the treasurer's report.

The Mayor reported that his efforts to have the Public Service run out of charge, or at a nominal cost, had not been very successful. He found that the company was permitted by the Public Utilities Commission to make such charge. Mr. Geiss, who has been sponsoring for several months the idea of the Borough Council making an official protest in this matter, again recommended that such action be taken. Further steps were deferred, however, until the next meeting, when Mr. Geiss is expected to have his objections in proper form to present to Council for action.

The Public Service Railway Company sent a notice to Council of the hearing to be held in Newark on January 20, in the matter of increased trolley fares.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Box rent at bank $6.00

Treasurer's bond 50.00

H. C. Worrell, repairs 1.50

Telephone 2.00

Clarence Pippitt, 2 wks. salary special officer 50.00

Public Service Loses Suit

What seemed to be the last echo of the accident in which one man was killed and another injured, at Main street crossing four years ago, was heard in City Hall, Philadelphia, this week when the Public Service Railway Company's case against the construction company which was working on Main street at the time of the accident, was tried in Common Pleas Court No. 3.

It is recalled that on October 6, 1916, George Barr, of Bordentown, was killed while at work on the look-out tower at the Main street crossing, which was being taken from its elevated position to be placed on the ground. When the tower house had been loosened from its supports and was about ready to be lowered, a trolley car jumped the track and crashed into the supporting timber, tumbling the tower house to the ground. Barr and another man were pinned underneath. Barr was killed, but the other man was taken to the Riverside hospital and recovered.

The Public Service paid damages, and the suit this week was to recover the amount of damages on the ground that the accident was caused by a stone which had been crushed onto the track by the sweeper which was preparing the surface of the roadbed for oiling.

The case was non-suited. Three women served on the jury.

Among the witnesses were Ogden H. Mattis, L. F. Lowden, D. M. Clifton, John Kinney, William Gootee, Benjamin Kinney, who was police officer in Riverton at the time of the accident, George McKim, who was driving the road sweeper, Officer William Quigley, who helped lift Barr from under the tower house.

Valuable Book for Sportsmen Free

Practical information of value to the hunter and angler is contained in a twenty-page booklet just published by the New Jersey Fish and Game Conservation League, the State organization of sportsmen. There is, for instance, an article on bait casting with artificial lures—plug casting, as it is generally known. It tells how, when and where to use the different styles of lures. Then there is material describing the proper sort of trout fishing outfit, with a list of flies chosen especially for Jersey use. Salt water fishing is represented, too, surf, bay and deep-sea angling being covered.

For the hunter there is a table of shotgun loads for Jersey shooting, safety regulations, tips on less well-known laws, bag limits and other subjects. The booklet includes a digest of the fish and game laws as well as information regarding the league's work. Copies may be secured free from the league's headquarters, 314 Essex Building, Newark, N. J.

Vaughan Wins First Shoot for Memorial Cup

Fifteen men faced the traps at the Yacht Club shoot last Saturday, and some spirited shooting took place in the big open area before the regular club shoot. Several out-of-town marksmen were Riverton's guests, two of the most noted being Dr. Baker, of Philadelphia, and C. B. Lamborn, one of the stars of the famous Lansdale, Pennsylvania, team. Interest, however, chiefly centered in the shoot for the John H. Reese memorial trophy. It was a handicap shoot for 50 targets.

D. L. Vaughan and C. Z. Vaughan were scratch men with the low allowance of three birds each. When the final smoke of battle had drifted seaward, it was found that D. L. Vaughan led the field, by having broken 47 of his birds, which, with his allowance of three gave him a perfect score. Vaughan is almost an impossible man to beat in a big match, as it seems he can always rise to the occasion and shoot his way to the big prize. His brother, C. Z. Vaughan, but two targets behind him. The real surprise and dark horse of the day was Henry Biddle Fitter, who had a handicap of 15, but the youngster shot like a fabled veteran, smashing 34 of his birds and giving him a score of 49. Another break and he would have tied for first place, and two breaks and his name would have been the first to go on the cup instead of Vaughan's. It takes three wins to secure the cup, and the competition is sure to be keen before the cup reaches its final home.

D. L. Vaughan, as vice commodore, has appointed R. H. Stackhouse, field captain, J. G. Seckel, handicapper and recorder, and C. B. Durbrow, as publicity agent. The vice commodore feels sure this quartet of hustlers will put the trapshooting at the head of the Yacht Club's activities.

Score:

Dr. Mills	Handicap	Broke	Total
Stackhouse	6	41	47
Z. Vaughan	4	41	45
D. L. Vaughan	3	42	45
Dr. Elwell	10	17	27

Republican Women to Start Work at Trenton

The newly-elected Board of Governors of the New Jersey Women's Republican Club held its first meeting in Trenton on Tuesday, at half past ten o'clock in the rooms of the Contemporary Club. Plans were made and programs arranged for the series of legislative forums which are to be conducted under the auspices of the Club every Monday afternoon for six weeks, beginning January 24th. These forums will be held in the auditorium of the Mercer County Republican Club, 139 East Hanover street, Trenton, and will be open to all members of the Club and invited guests. Members of the legislature and prominent men and women actively interested in the State problems to be discussed will speak at these forums and they will afford an opportunity for the Republican women of New Jersey to become informed at first-hand as to proposed changes in the laws of the State.

At the close of its business meeting on the 11th, the Board of Governors adjourned to the Assembly Chamber in the State House to see the new legislature inducted into office, the women being particularly interested, of course, in the two women members who then took their seats. At two o'clock the Board of Governors gave an informal luncheon at the Contemporary Club in honor of one of its members, Mrs. Frank W. VanNess, of East Orange, one of the Assemblywomen from Essex county.

Universal Education Advocated

Jenab Fazel Mazandarani, a professor from the Royal College, Teheran, in Persia, America and Canada, lecturing on the important subjects of the day in all the large cities before the Chamber of Commerce and the most important men's association, said:

Following are extracts taken from addresses delivered in Nebraska:

"If we are going to have a League of Nations it must be founded on an international conscience, then the heart of humanity will beat as the heart of the individual. With such a League we will have international good will and with it, everlasting peace and prosperity."

In speaking of "The Solution of the Economic Problem" Prof. Fazel said:

"The period of competition must be closed and the era of co-operation set in. Capital and Labor are like the two hands of the body politic. The blood of health, vigor and vitality must circulate in both hands, so that the society may live."

At the Convocation Hall of the University of Nebraska, before a body of students, Jenab Fazel advocated the importance of education and equal rights for the coming generations of all countries. He said in part: "The world is entering the golden age of the prophets who foretold the coming of a new world, the nations of the world. Baha'ullah advocated an international curriculum of education; so that all the children of the world may have an equal share of knowledge and enlightenment; the children of Asia, Europe, and America may receive the same industrial and vocational training, banishing the dark forces of ignorance, pauperism and penury from amongst mankind. Another instrument for international education is an international language, so that the inhabitants of this globe may communicate with one another in the same tongue, sharing each other's thoughts and feelings and entering into the same intellectual and cultural agreement. Out of the world of education and universal language will grow international conscience. And out of the invisible realm of conscience shall spring universal ideals which will constitute the world of unity, bringing into the arena of visibility the hopes, and the dreams of the sages and seers—the oneness of the world of humanity."

A baptism in Cyprus is a curious ceremony. The infant is rubbed with oil by his godfather, blown upon in the face by the priest and waved in the air, then dipped several times in the font, and again anointed with oil on various parts of the body.

ROAST FOR THE PROFITEERS

Chaplain of Columbia University Post Branda Graspeas as "Greedy Human Vultures."

"Greedy human vultures" and "crawling ghouls" were terms applied to war profiteers by Rev. Dr. Herbert Salpman, chaplain of Columbia university post, No. 400, of the American Legion, in his Armistice day sermon at the Church of the Heavenly Rest on Fifth avenue in New York.

Doctor Shipman, who is rector of the Fifth avenue church and an overseas veteran, said that he was bitter against "those who out of the sacrifice and blood of others have coined dirty money while posing as patriots."

The pastor read from a poem he had written, the title of which is "The Profiteer."

It follows:

You have decked your frowny wives with borrowed splendor.

You have hung your daughters' necks with stolen pearls;

Have you thought about the other wives, the lenders,

Or the harlots made to decorate your girls?

You have fashioned from the needs of sick and dying.

Ready cash today to do your Christmas buying.

Ready cash to pay your prostitute tonight.

You have coined your filthy gold from blood and sorrow;

There are soldier graves across the field of France.

Whence the dead through you upon tomorrow

Will rise to damn your profits with a glance.

All the deathless deeds worth doing and worth telling.

All the things that noble men hold high and true.

All but seemed to you for buying and for selling.

All to serve a greedy human vulture—
you!

God! That better men should toil and bear the cross and climb up Calvaries of pain;

While the crawling ghouls that spare not friend or neighbor

Damn the world to make a crucible for gain.

If in blackest hell, O Lord, there be a blacker;

If beneath the deepest pit a deeper pit;

Not for harlot, thief or coward slacker

But for these that blackest, deepest hell is fit.

Profiteers of every sort and kind and fashion,

Where you tread foul many other feet, have trod;

You are ranged against the power of Christ's own passion;

Here! Behold you walk the searching field of—

Lothrop Jackson

Lothrop Jackson, a resident of Palmyra for thirty-six years, died Tuesday just before midnight from a stroke of apoplexy at his home on Elm Terrace near Broad street. He was 76 years old.

Captain Jackson, as he was known, was born in Plymouth, Mass., the eighth generation of a family descended from the Pilgrim Fathers of the Mayflower. Like all his ancestors, he followed the sea in early life. He sailed for many years on the clipper ships in the China tea trade and was on one of these vessels that made a record for speed in its day, sailing from China around the Horn in 109 days. During the whole Civil War, Captain Jackson was virtually marooned in Shanghai, for his ship was there when the war broke out and no one would charter it for a trip during hostilities for fear of Confederate privateers. He made a total of nineteen trips to Shanghai and sailed around the world four times.

He gave up the sea in 1876 and engaged in the wire business in Philadelphia, in which line he spent the remainder of his life. He was connected with the Wickwire-Spencer Steel Corporation at the time of his death.

Five children survive: L. Brewster Jackson, C. Lloyd Jackson, M. Elwyn Jackson, Mrs. Nellie Weyman and Mrs. George Harold Baker. Mrs. Jackson died four years ago.

The funeral will be held this Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, with interment in Morgan cemetery.

Wesleyans Lose Hard-fought Game

Last Tuesday evening sport lovers were given a rare treat when Manager "Bill" Matchett, the former all-around Penn athlete, brought his two teams here and lowered the colors of the Wesleyan first and second basketball teams at the Temple gym.

Matchett's teams were composed of stars galore, but the first was given a run for its money. They won by 27 to 22 in a hard and well-played game. Last Wray, the all-American football center; his brother, Alex Wray, also a star; Joe Yates, Varsity basketball center; Rosemont McCurdy, Matchett, a three-letter man, and a host of other former Penn athletes were in the lineup.

Matchett, Lud Wray and Yates starred for the first visiting team, while Len Baker and "Bunny" Coe benefited the brunt of battle on the offense for the Wesleyans, with Bell, Burr and Richman attending to the defense.

The second team lost 19 to 8. Alex Wray and McCurdy doing fine work for the visitors, and Graham, Meyer, Gil Coe and Truman starring for the locals.

The next game will be with the league leaders of Burlington, the Endeavor team, next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the Temple gym.

Al Henricks Wants Volunteers for String Band

Albert Henricks, of Leconey avenue, who has been confined to his room at the Jefferson hospital, Philadelphia, for several weeks with a badly injured back, has been occupying his time studying out a scheme to put Palmyra on the map in the Philadelphia New Year's parade of 1922.

Mr. Henricks wants to know if one hundred young men can be found in Palmyra with sufficient pep and perseverance to organize a string band and practice for the remainder of the year, with the idea of coping one of the big prizes offered in the Quaker City New Year's event.

Mr. Henricks says he will obtain an instructor for the band, and that if it makes the showing that it ought to, the boys could be sure of a trip to Washington with the Elks in 1922. Benefits, etc., would be run to help pay the expenses of the band while preparing for the parade.

The nucleus of such an organization existed in Palmyra some time back, called the Sauer Kraut Band, and Mr. Henricks believes this could be used as a starting point for a much larger organization.

Names of any young man interested in the project can be sent to Mr. Henricks.

Mr. Henricks' accident occurred when he went out on a porch roof at Parkside avenue, Philadelphia, to make an estimate of the cost of repairs. A guard rail, suddenly gave way and he fell twenty feet. He managed to light on his feet, but the force of the fall carried him backwards and he fell with his back on the broken guardrail. He hopes to be home soon.

Chamber of Commerce Lays Extensive Plans

The Palmyra Chamber of Commerce enjoyed the largest attendance of its history at the meeting Tuesday evening, when officers for the year were elected and plans laid for an active future.

The following were nominated by the nominating committee and all were unanimously elected: George W. Shaner, president; Wilbur F. Crane, vice president; Frank E. Chambers, secretary; John H. Etris, treasurer; George Dorworth, Albert S. King, Edgar C. Lewis, Harry Mansfield, Frank A. Mathews, Jr., and Albert Ryeroff, directors.

Five new members, William B. Stinson, Rufus K. Hill, Morris H. Schwartz, Dr. H. W. Bauer and Joseph S. Stull, were taken in. The total membership is now 52.

Various committees were appointed to direct the activities of the Chamber during the year. Chief among these were the Civic Betterment committee, a Public Utilities committee, and a Social committee.

It was recommended that the Chamber establish the most cordial and co-operative relations with the township committee and that an effort be made to have one or more of the committee members become members of the organization.

Considerable interest was shown in the proposed Tacony-Palmyra ferry and the question of the cost of maintaining the streets leading to the ferry landing, lighting them and affording additional police protection was discussed at some length. It was thought that the township officials should take up some position on these questions at once, as well as to consider placing limitation on the character of buildings that might be erected near the ferry landing, so as to prohibit unsightly structures.

The next regular meeting of the Chamber will be held in Society Hall, second floor, the second Tuesday in February, at 8 p. m.

TURKISH MONTH OF FASTING

Ramadan a Time of Trial to Moslems, Who Are Forced to Obey Laws of the Koran.

Ramadan is a month of trials to all clergies of Moslems, especially to laboring men, who are supposed to go without food, drink and tobacco from sunup to sundown.

Turkish restaurants are watched carefully by Mohammedan policemen, who are instructed to arrest customers and owners alike if any of the followers of Allah violate the laws of the Koran. Consequently Christian restaurants and especially those which have private rooms, become very popular with the Mohammedans during the 28 days which are supposed to be given over to fasting and prayer.

Big guns are fired in Constantinople to indicate sundown, and the rush of Turks to coffee houses and restaurants approaches a riot.

During Ramadan the followers of the great prophet are not supposed to drink water during daylight hours. Fasting makes the Turks so irritable and impatient that it is extremely difficult to transact business with them.

Ramadan is a less trying period to Turkish men and women who are unemployed, as they merely sleep through the day and turn night into a time of fasting.

THE CAPTAIN

By MARGARET L. AHERN.

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Captain Wright carefully read the two invitations before him. One, on heavy white linen paper, with a gold monogram, requested the pleasure of his company at dinner the following Sunday evening. The captain laid the note on his desk and gazed out of the barracks window with a slightly contemptuous smile which might have been interpreted in plain English as follows:

"Aunt Alicia and Uncle Dan are all right, but they'd give me a 'steak-course dinner of fancy stuff that wouldn't satisfy their strenuous nephew. And then there'd be Mildred Gorham Brooks for my dinner partner—with Mrs. Brooks and Aunt Alicia beaming on us when they thought we weren't looking. And after dinner I'd have to listen to Mildred's snoring chatter for two hours—or maybe she'd sing. I'd rather stay in camp over the week-end."

The other invitation was a simply worded note asking that "some lone-some boy, who is far away from home, come to dinner with Mrs. Jones on Sunday at one o'clock. The letter went on to explain that Mrs. Jones' son, William, was a corporal in the captain's company, but that all of his immediate friends in the company were from nearby homes. As the captain laid that note aside there was a twinkle in his eye that meant:

"Being twenty-eight, I may not qualify as a boy, but I'm lone-some. And judging from the boxes that Corporal Jones gets so often the pies 'that mother used to make' can be found in his home."

So it happened that the next Sunday Corp. William Jones received a great surprise. He had been sitting at the parlor window, comfortably ensconced in a Morris chair, with his feet on an other chair, and smoking, while he read the Sunday paper. Such privileges and ease were not allowed him in pre-war times, and William was making the most of the respect his family accorded his uniform. From the kitchen appetizing odors drifted in to complete his satisfaction. Occasionally he glanced out of the window to look for the expected guest. "Hope he's a decent sort of a fellow," he muttered to himself.

Then his peace of mind was rudely disturbed. A gray touring car drew up at his door, with Captain Bright driving it. Before Bill's startled gaze his superior officer methodically shut off the engine and locked the car, then, climbing out, covered the radiator with a heavy robe. Bill jumped up, littering the floor with the papers, and began to fumble in his pockets.

"Goodness, where's my pass?" he spluttered. "And what on earth have I done now?"

He was still searching for his pass when the captain was ushered in by Mrs. Jones. She was a stout, motherly woman, and two silver bars on a khaki shoulder meant nothing to her until she saw her William standing stiffly at attention. Captain Wright snapped a salute in return, and then laughingly shook hands with the discomfited corporal.

"No more ceremony today, Jones," his frank smile put Bill at ease. "I'm just a lone-some fellow with no place to go. And a mighty hungry one at that."

He smiled appreciatively. "I don't often have home-made apple pie," Mrs. Jones beamed at this remark and the wily captain went on to further win her heart by telling her how lonely it was in that big camp, with no folks to visit one and send delicacies such as the fortunate Bill received.

Meanwhile, Bill, from whom all awe had departed at the signs of human nature displayed by his erstwhile commanding officer, had retired to the kitchen and brought his unsuspecting sister, Peggy, out to be introduced to their guest. As the captain told her long afterwards, "In a ruffly apron, covered with pink rosebuds, she looked like an angel ready to serve ambrosia."

Needless to say, the dinner party was a great success, particularly the apple pie. After dinner the captain voluntarily assigned himself to K. P. duty, and became initiated into the mysteries of dish wiping. It is doubtful if it would have been interesting in manipulating a dish towel if Peggy had not been his partner in the K. P. work.

Afterward, he insisted on taking them all for a long ride into the country. Peggy, of course, sat in the front seat with the driver, while Mrs. Jones, Bill and the girl, were in back.

The captain's invitation had been for dinner only, but it was after ten o'clock that night when he and Bill returned to camp. A sleepy orderly stared in open-mouthed amazement as his captain and Corporal Jones conversed in familiar tones about "driving home together next Sunday," and then shook hands cordially at parting.

Tomorrow.

It is said that tomorrow never comes, being invariably separated from today by anything from a full 24 hours down to a fraction of a second, and then in a wink suddenly springing upon us, but at the same time changing into today. Here is an interesting thing about tomorrow: "Yesterday to-day was tomorrow; and tomorrow to-day will be yesterday." This will be understood more readily by placing a comma after the first yesterday and one after the second tomorrow.

In Regard to Style.

If a person addresses a particular method of arranging words, that arrangement will occur naturally in his own dictation, without malice aforethought. Some writers unconsciously fall into the mode of expression adopted by others. This illustrates a similarity of disposition, and is not imitation. As a style, when it is natural, comes rather from the heart than the head, men of similar tastes and feelings will be likely to fall into a similar form of expression.—Edwin P. Whipple.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

WILSON PRAISES 53 SCOUTS

President Wilson has sent personal letters of congratulation and commendation to fifty-three Boy Scouts of America, one in each state, territory and possession and in the District of Columbia. They are the scouts who made the best records in the sale of Thrift and War Savings stamps in their various states during the 1918 savings campaign. These tokens of personal recognition of the services of the youngsters were delayed first by the President's trip to France, and later by his serious illness. However, he never forgot his agreement with the boy scouts.

The conclusion of each letter reads thus: "I thank you in the name of the whole country, and I wish to convey to your parents, your community and your Boy Scout organization, my appreciation of the training that has developed in you such a fine spirit of wholesome and loyal citizenship."

Over $45,000,000 worth of Thrift and War Savings stamps were sold by boy scouts in the 1918 campaign. The best record was made by G. Scholard Tarbell of Ithaca, New York, who disposed of stamps aggregating $77,215.25. James Campbell, of Lorain, Ohio, was second with sales of $49,425.25, and Edward Stevenson, of Newark, N. J., third with $41,551.75.

The boys to whom the letters were directed are:

Cooper Wadsworth, Gadsden, Ala.; Ted B. Miller, Clarksville, Ark.; M. E. Newburn, Marianna, Ark.; Sheppard Berkowitz, Los Angeles, Cal.; Laurence Black, Pueblo, Col.; Carl T. Chadsey, Stamford, Conn.; Frank D. Lackey, Wilmington, Del.; S. G. Lichtenberg, Washington, D. C.; V. Grant Bernard, Tampa, Fla.; W. H. Young, Jr., Columbus, Ga.; Joseph McCarthy, Wallace, Idaho; Robert Clover, Grano, Ill.; Rudolph Stempel, Indianapolis, Ind.; Francis Hohart, Rockville City, Iowa; George D. Hanna, Clay Center, Kans.; Crauman Marks, Georgetown, Ky.; Don Norman, Patterson, La.; Orlan Sweetser, South Windham, Me.; Howell C. Lovell, New Windsor, Md.; Harold White, Lowell, Mass.; John Carlisle, Detroit, Mich.; Bernard Silvestro, Duluth, Minn.; W. L. Brown Poplarville, Miss.; Robert Martin Orwig, Mo.; Ellis Dutton, Butte, Montana; Edgar Mathers, Falls City, Neb.; Edward Maxwell, East Fly, Nev.; C. Danforth, Warner, N. H.; Edward Stevenson, Newark, N. J.; Clarence Home, Carlsbad, N. Mex.; G. Schuyler Tarbell, Salem, N. C.; John F. Blair, Winston-Salem, N. C.; Cleveland, N. D.; James Campbell, Lorain, O.; L. L. Atkins, Muskogee, Okla.; R. Otterhelm, Astoria, Ore.; Ralph William Stanley, Lewisburg, Pa.; Harry Wetherald, Providence, R. I.; Milton Littlejohn, Belton, S. C.; Clarence Morton, Armour, S. D.; Eugene Eager, Knoxville, Tenn.; Erwin Speckels, La Grange, Tex.; Lawrence Dunkley, Lake City, Utah; Charles E. Peck, Montpelier, Vt.; Clarence Arnett, Saltville, Va.; Willie Bridges, Hogland, Wash.; Sam Hanauer, Wheeling, W. Va.; Arthur Gruhl, Milwaukee, Wis.; Kenneth McKenna, Lander, Wyo.; Raymond Hunter, Balboa, Canal Zone; Philip Zane, Honolulu, Hawaii; Charles Harding, San Juan, Porto Rico; Norman Russell, Fairbanks, Alaska.

Each of these boy scouts has already received from the treasury department a gold palm for his achievement. Other scouts who made such records in sales as to deserve very high recognition were also awarded these gold palms, 417 in all, but only the scouts who stood highest in each state received President Wilson's letter.

THE OLDEST SCOUT TROOP.

"The oldest troop in the United States," Scoutmaster W. R. Ward of Troop A, Salina, Kan., writes, "the 407 scouts of Christ cathedral (Episcopal) were organized in 1900 by R. C. Romanes, an instructor in the St. John's Military academy, who came here from Scotland, and who had seen the English scout movement in operation there. When the troop was organized, England was engaged in it as the first troop in the United States and published cuts of the original troop. When the national organization was formed the troop registered as troop 1 of Salina. We boast of 42 stars in our service flag, two of them laid, former scouts every one, every one of them avowed members of this troop."

SCOUTS TO BE FOREST GUIDES.

Plans for a state-wide organization to be known as the Forest Guides, and to be a part of the boy scouts in Pennsylvania have been worked out by Commissioner of Forestry Gifford Pinchot and Sotol Parks, scout executive of Reading. Co-operation of all scoutmasters and executives in the state will be asked. The idea will be to have boys enroll to protect and conserve forest and wild life, and to prevent and extinguish fires.

Moving-Picture Films.

Of the average moving picture film, 50 to 75 prints are made, but in the case of one of the most popular ones as many as 250 to 275 prints have sometimes been required.

Story of the Thimble.

The modern thimble dates from 1694, when the goldsmith, Nicholas Besse, ten of a goldenrod, sent one to a birthday present to a lady with the dedication, "To my friend van Rensselaer, this little object which I have invented and executed as a protective covering for her indignant fingers."

HOME-MADE COSMETICS

SO MANY very particular women choose to make their own cosmetics that the making has become almost a fad. The woman who can make her own creams knows them to be pure, and knows she can get three times the quality and quantity for less than the price of the purchased article.

Cold creams are easily made. If one has a good recipe. The oils and waxes are melted slowly in a double boiler, the waters added slowly and the whole beaten and beaten as it cools, until a light frothy cream results. Powders are more difficult to make. I never advise their manufacture at home. It is cheaper to buy.

If You Make Your Own Cosmetics You Know Their Quality.

chase uncented rice powder, a large quantity of which can be bought for half a dollar, and to perfume or tint this at home. Bleaches are best made at home, hair tonics mixed by a good druggist according to prescription.

Then one can purchase artistic jars and bottles and fill these with the preparations, the jars being an ornament to the dressing table, not a detriment, as most purchased affairs are. Then, too, one can buy a little of a desired expensive perfume and use it for scenting all one's toilet requisites. And one can choose some distinctive scent, and keep to it, instead of mixing several odors into one judiciously combined.

A good hair tonic, a good cream, glycerine and rose water, face and talcum powder, vaseline for nails and eyebrows, and a nail polish are all a woman really needs, ordinarily. (Copyright.)

LEGISLATURE IN SESSION AGAIN

Cleavage Between Legislature and Court Reaches Almost Open-Break Stage.

BREAK LOOMS IN UTILITY.

Edwards Denounces 'Malign and Inevitable Influence' in Utilities Contest. Calls Plan to Take Appointing Power from Him Move Against Welfare.

Trenton.—The 1921 session of the legislature opened at noon while the 1920 session met at 11 o'clock and adjourned sine die before noon.

As was expected the old legislature did not transact any business.

The officers of the senate and house were sworn in at noon.

The president of the senate is Collins B. Allen, of Salem; the majority leader is William C. Mackay, of Bergen, and William H. Albright, of Gloucester is secretary. Robert M. Johnson, of Atlantic, is supervisor of bills. George Nimmo, of Bergen, is senate journal clerk.

In the house George S. Hobart of Essex was sworn in as speaker, and T. Harry Rolland, of Camden became house majority leader. The clerk of the house is Upton S. Jeffreys of Camden, and the assistant clerk James Parker of Passaic.

A large number of tickets were issued for seats in the senate and house galleries and both floors and galleries of the senate and house were filled as usual.

Decorations of a very attractive type transformed the senate and house chambers into bowers of beauty. Flags, bunting, palms and flowers were placed under direction of John A. Smith, custodian of the capitol.

Women Legislators.

The opening of the 1921 house set a new mark because of the presence on the floor of women assemblymen for the first time in the history of the state. They are Mrs. Margaret B. Laird, of Newark, and Mrs. Jennie C. Van Ness, of East Orange, and hundreds of their women friends who were active in the fight for the equal ballot visited the state house and crowded the assembly gallery to honor them.

As special recognition for the women assemblymen, Mrs. Van Ness nominated Assemblyman George S. Hobart for the speakership.

Of the 21 senators, 15 are Republicans and 6 Democrats. There would have been 58 Republicans in the house, were it not for the recent death of Assemblyman-elect John B. Rosser, of Hoboken.

Utility Muddle.

Chief interest lies, of course, in the program as to the utility muddle, and it is probable that a measure of some sort will appear among others agreed to by the conference committee of the two houses.

Whether this measure is to provide for the appointment of the Utility Commissioners by the Chancellor or the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, or to take a chance on the project of having the power conferred upon joint session of the legislature, is said to have caused almost an open break in the Republican majority because the radicals want to go the limit, while the more conservative members want to look ahead a bit. But whatever is decided—and it is evident now that an effort will be made to strip the Governor of the appointing power—the big fight will be on from the start.

Governor Edwards announces that he welcomes the scrap. The Governor issued a statement proclaiming his attitude and asserting that sinister influences are at work among the Republicans to control votes and to work out the scheme as outlined. In his statement the Governor says:

Only First Round of Fight.

"The action of the Republican State Senate in refusing to confirm my nominations for the Public Utility Commission marks the end of the first round of the fight between the people on the one hand and certain malignant and invisible interests on the other hand. So far these invisible interests have demonstrated that they can control a sufficient number of Republican Senators to carry out the first stage of their fight to control this commission. That plan is to delay any action by the existing Senate until after the new Legislature, overwhelmingly Republican in both branches, shall take office. Then the plan is to remove the power of appointment of the Commissioners from the Governor and to vest it in certain members of our courts, who are believed to be under the influence of these interests.

"Although these interests have won the first round of this fight, it does not mean by any means follow that they can win in the end. The fact that four Republican Senators—Senator Runyon of Union, Senator Whitney of Morris, Senator Pilgrim of Essex and Senator Bright of Ocean—joined with the Democratic Senators in voting to sustain my appointments, is strong evidence that these interests will find it difficult to whip a majority of the incoming Legislature into line in support of their plan to secure the appointment of a commission they can control.

"I am informed that a number of Republican Senators who voted against the confirmation of my nominations did so with extreme reluctance, and I am confident that the attempt to carry out the plan now contemplated will result in an open split among the Republican members of the Legislature.

"I Shall Continue Fight."

"The power to make these appointments was conferred upon the governor by the vote of every Republican in the senate and house in 1911, and has been exercised without any opposition on the part of any Republican assemblyman or senator by Governor Wilson, Governor Fielder, Governor Edge and Governor Runyon. The attempt to take this power away from me as a Democratic governor cannot be justified by any public reason. It is significant that no attempt is made by any Republican senator or party leader to state any public reason why this power should be taken from me. They cannot claim that I cannot be trusted to name proper appointments because the Republican senate has the power to reject any appointment which they consider improper. The fact that they are unwilling to reject any of the five appointments I have made is a confession that these appointments are in the public interest and that the men appointed are beyond the control of any private or special interests.

"I shall continue this fight in the incoming legislature. If events shall prove that private and special interests control the new legislature as it controls the existing senate, then it will be perfectly plain to everybody that the Republican party of the state of New Jersey represents private interests instead of the interests of the people of the state. This result will put before the people of the state a paramount issue which will have to be settled by the people in the ensuing campaign. That issue will be whether we are to have a government in the interest of all of the people or a government representing special and monopolistic interests. Upon that issue I am ready for a fight to the finish."

Conservatives Oppose Move.

It is very well known that some of the more conservative Republican leaders are unalterably opposed to the proposal to strip the governor of power of appointment of these important positions, but whether they are in sufficient number and influence to dictate the party course is not so certain. The action of Senators Runyon, Whitney, Bright and Pilgrim in joining the six Democrats in the vote to confirm the governor's appointments to the new commission is regarded as indicative of the trend of things, and there is a bare possibility that others may join them when the new senate begins to function.

In such case the governor's commission would at once become an actual living body, although the attorney general has expressed the official opinion that the appeal of the ousted board to the Court of Errors acts as a stay and gives the latter body legal status. That whole question, however, is likely to be solved by the special session of the Court of Errors called by Chancellor Walker.

It is believed that the judges of this court of last resort are sufficiently familiar with the law and the facts in the controversy to be able to reach a prompt decision, especially as the need for dispatch is so pressing.

Ever since Governor Edwards, early in the summer, announced that instead of going to the San Francisco convention, to which he had been chosen a delegate, he would remain in New Jersey to "keep an eye on these birds," the Republican legislators have kept the session of 1920 alive.

The custom of years has been to adjourn sine die about April 1, or some time in May, but continued adjournments have kept the machine in position for instant action.

Adjournments May Rule Again.

It is said to be part of the Republican program to continue this course the coming year and, aside from the political aspect of the unique situation, there appears no valid reason why it should not be so. The performances involve no extra expense, but it does lay more or less of a burden upon the official staff, which is allowed no extra compensation for the additional labor.

Committee Perplexity Vanishes.

There was considerable perplexity, too, over the committees to which Runyon should be assigned, custom giving the minority party representation upon all of them. As there are 49, it was manifestly impossible to count Runyon in on all of them, because there are but 24 hours in a day, and he is not constructed upon the lines of a centipede.

More consultation brought for conclusion that the minority should be regarded as of the highest importance, judiciary, appropriation and municipal corporations.

The speaker was no little surprised by the modesty of the request for these three assignments, and at his suggestion, Runyon, a former service man, accepted membership also in the committee on militia and a couple of minor assignments, all of which will keep him pinned down to legislative business about every working minute and require some reduction in sleeping.

One of the delicate questions of parliamentary etiquette confronts the new speaker in recognizing two of the members. He cannot use the stereotyped salutation, "The gentlemen from Essex," because the two are not gentlemen. The first woman ever elected to a New Jersey legislature, Mrs. J. C. Van Ness and Mrs. Margaret B. Laird, will sit side by side at the first row of desks in front of the speaker's desk. When one of them rises to be heard, which is expected to be upon rather numerous occasions, the speaker will say, "The lady from Essex."

Heart-Breaking Smiles

There are thousands of kinds of smiles, but it would be mighty hard to picture even in the mind's eye smiles more poignantly tragic than those here seen. Two years of life have held little save misery for these Vienna youngsters, yet, even though the result is painful, they smile. They are victims of rickets, the offspring of near-starvation, and that countless others in stricken Europe may not have to share their fate eight American relief organizations, under the name of the European Relief Council, are making a joint appeal for the conscience of America to complete relief work which this winter faces its crisis. These agencies are the American Relief Administration, the American Red Cross, the American Friends' Service Committee (Quakers), the Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, the Knights of Columbus, the Y. Impartial Judges Express Opinions On Railway Problems

3

"The electric railway furnishing transportation upon rails is an essential public utility and should have the sympathetic understanding and co-operation of the public if it is to continue to perform a useful public service."

"Unless the usefulness of the electric railways is to be sacrificed, public control must be flexible enough to enable them to secure sufficient revenues to pay the entire cost of the service rendered, including the necessary cost of both capital and labor."

"Unnecessary and destructive competition ought not to be permitted, and the community at large should conserve the established facility that still is and promises to continue for an indefinite period the principal means of local transportation."

The foregoing sentences were not taken from an address made by a street railway executive.

They are excerpts from the unanimous report of the Federal Electric Railways Commission, a body of unbiased citizens appointed by the President of the United States, in response to a recommendation made jointly by two members of his Cabinet, "to study and report upon the entire (electric railway) problem, in order that the State and municipal authorities and others concerned may have the benefit of full information and of any conclusions or recommendations that may be formulated."

It is to conserve for the community at large the established facility that is "the principal means of local transportation," and only for the purpose of securing "sufficient revenues to pay the entire cost of the service rendered" that this company seeks an increase in rates.

We ask no more than what competent authorities have declared to be fair and just and in the interest of the public.

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

DOUBLE NEGATIVES.

ALTHOUGH the double negative—that is, the use of two words to express the negative when one is needed—is found in early English and in other languages, its use in English nowadays is incorrect. The use of such phrases as "She don't want none," "I can't do no more," "We don't know nothing," etc., marks the careless speaker. They are found seldom in writing, since the very act of writing, save in letters by the uneducated, induces a more careful selection of words than does speaking.

Shakespeare says, "I cannot go no further," but in this the unsurpassed writer probably followed the usage of his own times; a modern writer or speaker would say, "I can go no further," or "I cannot go any further."

Similar to the use of the double negative, and similarly erroneous, are such sentences as the following: "I haven't had hardly a night's sleep," "I cannot get but one suit of clothes," "Say, 'I have had hardly a night's sleep,' 'I can get but one suit.'"

Bulletin No. 7

"Progress is the best tho't of Man"

So it has been down through the ages. The greatest improvements of all time have been but the thoughts of men who dared vision beyond the passage of their own years.

The broad Delaware River has for a long time proved an insurmountable obstacle to real industrial and civic contact between Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Far-sighted business men saw, and gave thought.

Here between Tacony and Riverton, but a scant mile of water divided two states, rich in industrial and agricultural wealth. The broad highways of Pennsylvania ended abruptly on the river shore. New Jersey picked up the thread and continued on to the Seaboard.

The only link—a tedious detour thru congested terminals.

Could these smooth hands be joined, a great stride forward would have been taken in the interests of mankind.

Countless cars, pleasure-bound to numerous resorts, would choose this path at a tremendous saving of time. The tourist diverging at this point would find the smooth stretches of the Lincoln Highway a short run from the Pennsylvania shore. The farmer of Jersey would find a new and productive market in flourishing Northern Philadelphia.

A Successor.

No, Tom Sawyer is not dead. Or at least he has a worthy successor in eight-year-old Joseph McKee, one of whose duties is to keep the home lawn clean.

Several of the children in his neighborhood had been anxious to have a Halloween party, and Joseph's mother told him that he might have one. "You can have them mask and we'll have jack-o'-lanterns and witches, and dance and—" she began.

But Joseph interrupted her. "Mother," he spoke earnestly, "I'd rather have a wiener roast. They can rake up all the leaves on the lawn and the trash in the garden and burn them in a bonfire and roast wiener. They'd be helping me while they had fun, too."—Indianapolis News.

Purpose of Higher Education.

Why does one go to college is revealed by statistics dealing with the after careers of Harvard graduates. Of 2,095 living alumni 58 per cent are holding paid positions, 30 per cent have married and only 12 per cent are neither married nor at work. As to the kind of occupation preferred, teaching, once the favorite pursuit of college-bred women, has lost caste. Since 1916 the percentage of graduates of Harvard engaged in teaching has dropped from 38 to 27. The figures show the girls go to college for serious purposes; that higher education for them is something for practical use as much as for ornament, and that considerably more than half of all the graduates of this college are self-supporting.

To be happy: the time is now; the place here. Get busy making things joyful for others.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Runabout is a Runabout in reality—a regular business messenger, solving the question of economical and quick transportation. The Contractor, Builder, Traveling Salesman, Collector, Solicitor, all find the Ford Runabout the most convenient as well as the most economical among motor cars. SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.

(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 23

PROMOTION IN THE KINGDOM.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 20:17-28.

GOLDEN TEXT—The Son of Man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many.—Matt. 20:28.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 19:27-
30; Mark 10:24-45; Luke 22:24-30.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Wanting More Than Our Share.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How to Win First Place.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—Right and Wrong Ambitions.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—Greatness Through Service.

I. Jesus Foretells His Death and Resurrection.

1. The King on His way to Jerusalem (vv. 17-19). This is His last journey to the beloved city. He took the twelve disciples along from the group of traveling pilgrims to make known unto them what was before them. On the journey He went ahead of the disciples. The courage thus shown by the Lord amazed the disciples who were following in fear (Mark 10:32).
"Christ, the conscious and certain sufferer, is courageous. His followers who had nothing to fear were afraid."

2. Betrayal and death foretold (vv. 18, 19). He went forward fully conscious of the awful tragedy of the cross. He for the third time since the transfiguration tells the disciples of His suffering and death, but they are so filled with their ambitious schemes that they do not understand Him. The treachery of Judas Iscariot; the fierce persecutions of the chief priests and scribes; the unjust judgment; the delivery to Pontius Pilate; the mocking; the scourging; the crown of thorns; the cross; the hanging between two malefactors; the nails;
the spear; all were spread before His mind like a picture. Though He knew all this He deliberately pressed on.

The joyous outlook upon the victory which would be accomplished by the shedding of His blood led Him forward. He went courageously, for He knew the time had come for the accomplishment of His Father's will.

3. The resurrection foretold (v. 10).
Truly this would have been a dark picture had the resurrection not been made known.

11. The Ambitious Request of James and John (vv. 20-23).

1. The request (vv. 20, 21). This request was made by their mother. The request is for a place of prominence in the kingdom. It is right for mothers to be ambitious for their boys, but they should know that earth's placenames are exceedingly dangerous.

2. Jesus' answer. (vv. 22, 23).
He spoke directly to the men, not to their mother, declaring that they knew not what they were asking. He showed them that the way to this position of glory was through suffering. The cup of which they were to drink was that of great suffering and agony. The positions which they craved were attainable, but in a very different way from what they apprehended. The way to the places of glory in the kingdom of Christ is through the path of lowly and self-forgetful service, even great suffering.

3. How to Be Truly Exalted (vv.
24-28).

1. The angry disciples (v. 24). When the ten heard of the request of James and John they were filled with indignation against them. Their displeasure did not arise from the fact that they were free from the same selfish spirit, but that these two had thrust themselves to the front; it was an admission of indignation and jealousy.

2. Greatness among the heathen (v.
25). The rule of the world has always been by the strong hand. The standards have been not moral excellence, but wealth, station and power.
Even today the reason one nation rules the other is that the one possesses sharper swords and heavier clubs than the other.

3. Greatness among Christ's disciples (vv. 26, 27). Here the standard is in sharp contrast. The way to the places of prominence in Christ's kingdom is the way of self-abasement.
It is not wrong to be ambitious to be great, but the basis of true greatness is that which human selfishness seeks to avoid. There will be degrees of rank in Christ's kingdom, but this rank will be character, not position or authority.

4. Christ is the supreme example of greatness (v. 28). All who would be great should study and imitate Christ. Let them forget self and serve others, even to give their lives.
This will eliminate all scrambling for place and power. The one grand test by which to know whether Christ's Spirit controls one is whether he is serving or seeking to be served.

Christianity is Still Alive.

The greatest tribute to the necessity of religion is, that it survives its outward forms; the greatest proof of the essential truth of Christianity is that in spite of the twaddle talked every Sunday in the name of Christ, Christianity is still alive.—H. R.
Hawes.

The Instructor.

My heart has been my - actor and I wish it may make me more cautious and less simple.—Thomas a Kemp.

A Chat with Time

Time paused alongside of my couch last night. The while I lamented his rapid flight. "Cheer up!" quoth he, with the merriest grin. "You claim you've no time to do anything in? There's always enough if you use me right!" And then he went ticking along his way. And left for my use a brand-new day. Whose beauty 'tis mine to seize or abuse. With good deeds or bad, whichever I choose. —John Kendrick Bangs.

Porch Club

The second district convention will be held at the Porch Club on Tuesday, January 25th, at 10.30 a.m. and 4 p.m. Mrs. Reuben F. Corry, vice president, will preside. Representatives from each of the twenty-six Clubs in this district will attend, and their presidents will give reports of the activities during the year. We also hope to have the president of the State Federation, Mrs. Arthur B. Proal, of Nutley, who will bring a message from the Federation, and two vice presidents, Mrs. Clayton D. See and Mrs. Henry Clark. The afternoon program will consist of reports by the department chairmen of music, education, social and industrial conditions, home economics, and legislation. Members are asked to bring a box luncheon, but hot coffee will be provided.

Cinnaminson Home and School Will Give Children Party

At a business meeting of the Home and School Association of the Cinnaminson Public School Wednesday afternoon, it was decided to give a party for the pupils of the grade holding perfect attendance during the month.

"Didn't Know It Was Loaded"

Mrs. Mary Wright was shot in the hip by Alfred Fortuna Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Anne Moehler, at Union Landing. Fortune claims he did not know the weapon was loaded. The injured woman was taken to Cooper's hospital. Officer Quigley was detailed by the Chief of Police to investigate the matter, but was unable to secure any evidence that the shooting was not purely accidental, as claimed.

"Borrowed" Friend's Watch. Now in Jail

About noon on Tuesday Albert Jackson, of Riverside, strolled down Penn street, Riverton, and in passing the house of his friend, Jacob Gross, suddenly decided to pay him a visit. No one was at home, but finding the door open Jackson went in, got some music, went away. When the Gross family returned they found a watch missing. Jackson was accused of taking it, but entered a vigorous denial. Officer Miller was called in, and induced Jackson to give up the watch, after which he was given a hearing before Squire Fichter, who committed him to the jail. Miller took the prisoner to the county seat Wednesday morning.

Women Voters Addressed by Assemblywoman VanNess

Fourteen organizations and nine churches of Palmyra and Riverton were represented at a luncheon, followed by an open meeting at the Porch Club Thursday afternoon, for the purpose of organizing a League of Women Voters. The guest of honor and speaker was Mrs. Frank W. VanNess, of East Orange, assemblywoman from Essex county. Mrs. VanNess outlined the origin of the League and the need for its work—a study of the bills before the Legislature, intelligent effort expended toward the passage of desirable bills; a study of the principles of the various parties, after which an intelligent decision can be made as to what party a woman desires to join, then an effort to help that party live up to its principles; a study of the candidates and their qualifications. Mrs. VanNess also spoke of women occupying civil positions, jury duty, etc.

A short business meeting of the representatives was held, and the following temporary officers elected: Miss Marjorie Marcy, chairman; Mrs. Margaret Ryan, of Palmyra, vice chairman; Mrs. E. M. Becton, secretary.

Another meeting will be held on Thursday afternoon, February 3rd, at the Porch Club, for a more complete organization and arrangements. This will be an open meeting and it is desired that all women will become enrolled as members. This enrollment will not affect their party affiliations.

Can you imagine anything more thrilling than the story of American soldier boys on the battlefields of France, told by John Kendrick Bangs from his personal experiences? Mr. Bangs will speak in the auditorium of the public school Monday evening, January 31, at 8.30 sharp. Tickets at one dollar each may be secured from Mrs. J. D. Clark, or Mrs. Murray C. Boyer, or any member of the Porch Club. The speaker will be introduced by Franklin D'Oiler, and members of the James A. Bradley Post, American Legion, will act as ushers. —adv

The Y. W. C. A. had a business meeting on Tuesday evening, in the Porch Club, and the following officers for the year 1921 were elected: President, Mary Giebler; vice president, Josephine Westcott; secretary, May Griffenberg; corresponding secretary, Ray Hutchins; treasurer, Rachel Reed. Miss Taylor, county secretary, was present and gave an interesting talk and plans were made to form a class in millinery in the near future. Miss Helen Wood conducted a cooking class at this meeting. Next Tuesday evening the Advisory Board will entertain the new officers and all the members at a party in the Porch Club.

To the Intelligent New Jersey Investor:

Philadelphia Brought Nearer

The Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company has secured for their New Jersey terminal a plot of ground at the foot of Cinnaminson Avenue, Palmyra, N. J., including the riparian rights and will cross the Delaware River to Levick Street, Tacony, Penna., bringing us New Jersey residents within several squares of two trolley lines and a station of the Frankford Elevated, that when completed, (which we believe will be within two years) will take passengers to the most southern parts of Philadelphia for one fare. The Ferry will terminate within three squares of Wissinoming Station, Penna. Railroad, where way trains will enable you to reach quickly North Philadelphia Station and connect with through trains for Chicago and the West and Washington and the South, trains that do not start from Broad Street Station.

Roosevelt Boulevard Motorists' Paradise

This Ferry will bring us Jersey motorists within one and a half miles of the Roosevelt (or North-east) Boulevard, a typical motorists' paradise that has cost millions of dollars, where along its miles and miles of beautiful winding road we can speed smoothly to the many places of interest along its route, such as Sears Roebuck mammoth building, the wide avenues of Hunting Park, out Hunting Park Avenue to the beauties of Fairmount Park and through the Park, and to those who wish to visit the heart of the City, the Parkway to the City Hall, thereby avoiding the congested city traffic.

Willow Grove Brought Nearer

The many points of interest that this Ferry will bring within our reach can scarcely be enumerated. Willow Grove, instead of being a journey, will become a short spin of eleven miles. Neahaminy and Wissahickon Valleys, unsurpassed for beauty, will be but an after-dinner jaunt. Valley Forge, with all its beauties and historical points of interest, will be brought many miles nearer to us. To pleasure and commercial vehicles journeying to Trenton the saving of five to six miles will be effected over the present Columbus route.

Ideal Atlantic City Motor Route

Those motorists journeying to Atlantic City from any point in Philadelphia above 4500 North will find the Tacony route not only shorter, but decidedly the more pleasant and free from the vexatious delay due to the traffic regulations of the business districts of Philadelphia and Camden, making Tacony the ideal route for Germantown, Chestnut Hill, Tioga and York Road residents, with a corresponding advantage to the New Jersey motorists when visiting those sections.

Employment Made Surer

The many factories of Tacony and Frankford will enable our workers to secure lucrative positions that will save them several hours daily compared to commuting to and from Market Street Wharf.

Will Reduce Taxes

The Ferry will greatly increase the taxable property, tending to reduce the tax rate; it will greatly improve the value of your property, and it will enable the Jersey farmer to dispose of his produce in a large open-air market or at least secure him many patrons within the mill districts of upper Philadelphia.

Invest Now

You can help this good cause and enrich yourselves at the same time by subscribing to this stock now, not next week, not next month, for we believe the stock will be over-subscribed within one month. The New Jersey members of the Board of Directors we believe you know and have confidence in, and we can assure you that the gentlemen of Pennsylvania side stand as high in their community and it will be the aim of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company and its Board of Directors to safeguard the interest of the stockholders as well as the public, so as to win honestly the high esteem of all classes.

New Jersey Will Reap Great Benefit

If to grow two blades of grass where one grew before is a benefit, we believe to bring into being two routes to a large city where one existed before is a greater benefit, and can assure you those aiding this enterprise will not only find it highly profitable, but in after years will have the pleasing reflection of having aided so great a boon to us and our posterity, as the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company will undoubtedly prove to be.

January 10th, 1921.

TACONY-PALMYRA FERRY COMPANY.

P. S.—The undersigned heartily endorse the above, and trust it will inspire our many friends with the same confidence we feel in this enterprise, that means so much to Burlington County, and by their ready response hasten its early completion.

Big Kick on County Budget

Contrary to expectations a large delegation appeared before the Board of Freeholders last Friday to protest against items of the proposed county budget. Among the speakers were: J. H. Hulme Carter, Robert S. Gaskill, Harry L. Knight, Joseph L. Thomas, all of whom protested vigorously against creating new offices and raising salaries at this time of readjustment, when economy and efficiency should be the watch word in every direction. Several changes and some additions to the budget were made and another hearing will be held on the 28th, at 10 o'clock.

Ferry Company Progresses

The Ferry Company is moving ahead rapidly with its plans and expects to begin actual building operations soon.

On Tuesday of this week the company completed the transaction for 300 feet of riparian rights in front of the property it purchased from the water works company at Cinnaminson avenue.

The plans and specifications for dock on this side have been approved. The ferry house will be located 200 feet out in the river, at the edge of deep water and a roadway 30 feet wide will be built out to it across the flats.

High Scores in Contest for Memorial Cup

A score of gunners were on hand when the open shoot took place at the Yacht Club Saturday afternoon, and much fine marksmanship was exhibited. It was bitterly cold facing the traps, but on the completion of each shoot the marksmen adjourned to the board room and gathered around the red hot wood stove.

Many visitors, quite a few ladies, were present and enjoyed the sport. The Club shoot for the John H. Reese memorial cup brought together fifteen of the best shots that Riverton ever boasted of. Last week the high man was D. L. Vaughan, who had the honor of having his name engraved first upon the handsome trophy.

This week Vaughan could not get to going right, and when the final scores were totaled up, it was found that R. H. Stackhouse and C. Z. Vaughan were each tied with a total of 47 birds broken out of 50.

Robinson Rogers was second with a score of 46, while F. S. Groves, Jr.; Jack Seckel, and Biddle Fitter were all three tied for third honors with 45 breaks each.

Stackhouse and C. Z. Vaughan, the high men, engaged in a special 25 bird match, which was won by C. Z. Vaughan with a score of 23½, with Stackhouse a close second with 22 birds. The falling darkness made it extremely hard for both men to see the targets towards the last.

The cup has now been won by D. L. Vaughan and C. Z. Vaughan, who each have their name once on it. To win the successful aspirant must have his name engraved upon it three times and the cup is to be given as a prize for every member of the Club.

Following is how the men shot:

Review of County Bridge and Road Work During 1920

There are five hundred structures carrying public travel across creeks and streams in the county having waterway openings five feet and over. Besides these there are several hundred smaller bridges maintained by the county.

The concrete bridge located on the Camden county line, spanning Pensauken creek on the Moorestown-Camden Pike, was completed this year and opened the travel.

The bridge spanning Wading River on the road from Pleasant Mills to New Gretna, which is five hundred feet in length, was entirely rebuilt from the water cape up in thirty working days at a total cost of $11,448.11. A concrete bridge was built near Atison on the road from Medford to Hammonton at a cost of $3170.00. The bridge at Harrisville was entirely rebuilt at a cost of $1700.00. The bridge at Chesterfield, spanning Blacks creek, on the road from Georgetown to Chesterfield was completed. Besides the structures rebuilt, three hundred and twenty bridges were repaired.

The total cost of the bridge work was $37,800.19. Various small bridges were replaced with pipe culverts.

There are 275 miles of improved county roads maintained by the Board of Chosen Freeholders. Of this mileage, there are forty miles of semi-permanent roads; consisting of concrete, sheet asphalt on concrete base and sheet asphalt on macadam base.

Some of the main market roads have been improved entirely and, also, seventeen miles of sheet asphalt were laid and a concrete road completed from the State highway route to Florence. Five miles of roads were resurfaced with macadam and surface treated. Seven miles of roads were resurfaced with gravel.

70,000 gallons of asphalt, 10,000 tons of crushed stone and 11,000 tons of crushed slag were used in maintaining the county roads.

The county has its own material and storage yard and has the following equipment: three Ford trucks, three county trucks, one equipped with oil distributor; two State trucks, two Buffalo Pitts road rollers with scarifier attached, two bituminous concrete patching mixers, one unloading crane and bin.

The total expenditures for road maintenance work, which included macadam resurfacing is $241,016.26. There was expended on the semi-permanent paving $221,361.71.

This Christmas and Next

Many of us strive by hard work and strict attention to business to support our families, ourselves, and our loved ones, and to save certain sums of money for the "rainy days." Many of us also find the Christmas season at hand without the wherewithal to furnish our families and our friends with the gifts, remembrances, and pleasures, that we had hoped and intended to give. We feel sorry—and yet, after all—we can but blame our own shortsightedness.

For an account in the Christmas Savings Club of this Bank would have insured just the kind of Christmas you wanted to have.

The State will receive bids on February 15 for $12,000,000 worth of bonds, the proceeds of which are to be used to pay the State bonus to the Service Men.

Payment of the bonus is expected to begin about March 1. $5,000,000 worth of bonds for the construction of the bridge and tunnel also are to be issued.

The interior decorations of the Broadway Palace Theatre have been completed. The new metal covering of the walls and ceiling has been artistically painted, the side walls are adorned with attractive shaded lights and new floor and side coverings have been laid. The enclosure of the lobby adds much to the comfort of the patrons. The smell of the fresh paint which was for a few days rather annoying has now disappeared.

E. A. Witte's Maxwell automobile took fire at Wallace street and Garfield avenue Thursday night about seven o'clock and was virtually destroyed. The gasoline and inflammable parts of the car made quite a spectacular blaze for several minutes. Both Riverton and Palmyra firemen responded to the alarm quickly, but the car was a wreck by the time they arrived. The blaze was due to the engine backfiring after it had stalled at the street corner. The firemen had another run about five o'clock the same afternoon to attend to a fire field at the southern end of Garfield avenue.

Parent-Teacher Meeting

The Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association broke another record for attendance at its regular January meeting Tuesday evening. The high school auditorium was completely filled, with many persons standing. A splendid exhibition of the physical culture work being done in the schools was given under the direction of instructor Frank L. Terry. Girls' classes and boys' classes from each of the three different divisions of the schools, primary grammar and high school, gave drills and demonstrations of calisthenics which were very interesting to the many parents present.

Dr. Frances S. Janney-Stoddard, of Riverton, was the speaker of the evening. She took as her subject the general health of children, physical and mental. Drawing on her own experience, she was able to give her audience very useful and practical information and advice.

The Misses Eleanor and Ruth Snyder gave a piano duet, and as an encore Miss Eleanor rendered a violin solo accompanied by her sister.

Leaflets were distributed bearing the words of a song paying a tribute to father, mother, teacher, home, school and church, and the audience sang it with a will to the air of "My Maryland," under the leadership of Miss Julia Mitchell, high school English teacher.

Nine new members joined the Association.

An Explanation

The undersigned issue this joint statement because of some confusion which has arisen owing to the fact that the Near East Relief and European Relief Council are conducting simultaneous campaigns for funds.

Near East Relief which has been in existence for five years is ministering to the sufferings of refugees and orphans in what was formerly the Turkish Empire, Persia and Armenia, and must in addition to what is required to operate its hospitals, rescue homes and refugee camps, collect approximately $6,500,000 for child feeding, covering the period from October thirty-first to the end of the year.

Its appeal for the children has always come at Christmas time. The European Relief Council, representing the American Red Cross, American Relief Administration, American Friends Service Committee, Jewish Joint Distribution Committee, Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America, Knights of Columbus, Young Men's Christian Association, is an emergency fund endeavoring to provide food for 3,500,000 suffering children in Poland, Estonia, Czechoslovakia, Latvia, Serbia, Russia, Austria and Germany, as may be designated by the donors. It must collect $33,000,000 before the next harvest to meet this need. The two interests in each case are absolutely equal in the matter of preservation of the lives of children and are working in co-operation and mutual understanding.

(Sgd.) HERBERT HOOVER, Chf. European Relief Council.

(Sgd.) JAMES L. BARTON, Director, Near East Relief.

Mary Alice Lewis

Mary Alice, four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Lewis, of 727 Morgan avenue, died early Monday morning of a group, after only a few days' illness. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon with interment in Morgan cemetery, the Rev. D. A. Farce officiating. Many friends from Merchantville and Philadelphia, and neighbors attended.

Chairman Snelson reports that the collection of funds for the service truck is progressing nicely.

Proposing Made Easy.

Stann a declaration of marriage is very simple. It is considered a proposal merely to offer a lady a flower, or to take a light from a cigarette if she is holding it in her mouth, so that even the most timid youths need not fear the ordeal.

Chamber of Commerce Interested in Ferry

The civic committee of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce visited the township committee at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

Albert S. King, chairman of the civic committee, was spokesman for the visitors and he emphasized the desire of the Chamber of Commerce to co-operate with the township heads for the welfare of the town, and urged the committee to become identified with the Chamber, which now has a membership of fifty-two representative citizens of Palmyra.

Mr. King then took up some of the suggestions which the Chamber of Commerce wished to make regarding the proposed Tacony-Palmyra Ferry. He said he thought that the ferry would actually be put into operation in the course of time and that he had already heard of plans for the construction of a garage and perhaps other buildings near the Cinnaminson avenue landing.

He said it was the thought of the Chamber of Commerce that steps should be taken by the township committee to protect the town's interests in the matter, especially by regulating the type of buildings that might be erected and by investigating the question of who should stand the cost of extra police protection and other costs.

Solicitor Beckenbach was of the opinion that little could be done toward controlling the ferry's activities on its own property, and that the burden of police protection on the town's streets in that neighborhood would necessarily fall upon the town itself. The solicitor inquired as to what restrictions should be placed on the ferry and its operation.

Various suggestions were made and it seemed that no one was particularly well informed upon the rights of the township or the rights of the ferry, and the township committee decided to place the matter in the hands of the solicitor and the engineer, meantime welcoming any suggestions from the outside. The committee also decided to request the ferry company to furnish a set of blueprints of its proposed structures on this side of the river.

Mr. Davies thanked the Chamber of Commerce committee for its visit and the courtesy shown, and said he appreciated the spirit in which the Chamber proposed to work. Committee member Stewart said that the committee already had been considering some of the questions raised by the ferry.

Sydney G. Snelson was appointed Collector of Delinquent Taxes.

The remainder of the evening was spent by the township committee in considering the budget for 1921.

Township Wants $5000 More This Year

The Palmyra township budget for 1921 contemplates an expenditure of $24,502.46 based on a revenue of like amount. The appropriations for last year totaled $19,733.08.

The increase is $4,769.38. This does not mean, however, that the amount to be raised by taxes is to be increased by that amount. The difference is made up chiefly by the appropriation of surplus revenue.

$7,000, this year against only $3,000 last year. Then the franchise tax accounts for another $1,000 while a few of the other items in the anticipated revenue column show small losses.

Various itemized increases in the appropriations are made. The administrative and executive branches get $300 more, police $500 more, fire equipment $600 more, cleaning and maintenance of streets $1,000 additional, lighting streets $500 more. Then there is an appropriation of $1,000 for work at street intersections where there was no such appropriation last year, but this is offset by an item of $1,682 for the Broad street pavement last year which does not appear in the new budget.

A public hearing on the budget will be held at the fire house Tuesday, February 1.

To Test the Hearing.

The man with normal hearing can distinguish in a quiet room the ticking of a watch held in the hand of another person five feet away. A man with normal hearing can hear distinctly by every word of a conversation being carried on 70 feet away. Again, if you are sitting in a concert room, a theater or a church, do you, when listening to the words of the speaker, lean forward in your seat in order to hear more clearly? If you do, it is a sign that your hearing is less normal than the rest of the audience; and the same applies, of course, to others who find it difficult to catch the words when sitting in a natural position. If you are talking to a person in the street you may find yourself listening acutely for every word he may utter. Such a practice may have become a habit with you; it shows, at any rate, that your hearing is not what it ought to be. If your hearing is not normal—see your doctor at once.

BOY SCOUTS
(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

SCOUT CAMP IN FRANCE

Lorne W. Barclay, director of the department of education of the Boy Scouts of America, upon his recent return from France where he established a camp school of scouting for the boys of the devastated regions at the invitation of the American Committee for Devastated France, said that although France is recovering very decidedly and very energetically from the effects of the war, the one thing that is needed is concerted effort and co-ordination by the many different groups which are working along practically the same lines.

This, he says, is especially noticeable in the scout work and Red Cross in France. "There are three Red Cross organizations," said Mr. Barclay, "all with the same objectives but managed by different groups of people with little co-operation one from the other. The scouting idea is being promoted by at least ten different groups of people, three of which are aggressively working in different parts of the country in the development of troops of scouts. This, of course, means that there is a great duplication of effort and that the scout movement is not making the progress that the reconstruction needs of France demand."

"The camp school located at Rethondes where the armistice was signed was originated to draw together the many groups ministering to the boys of France through scouting, and to make available with their co-operation a training course for the young men from the many villages of the devastated regions. Great Britain, Canada, Belgium, the United States and France participated in the leadership of the camp and as the scout spirit drew representatives of these nations together so it drew together the representatives of these many organizations, and was an effective demonstration of how scouting attracts people of diverse convictions, especially on religion.

"Our camp school for the first time brought scouting before the important people of France and resulted in giving them the conviction that the country, like the United States, must have a unified national organization giving leadership to the developments of its boyhood. It is my conviction that with the united spirit evidenced in the camp there soon will be a real organization of the boy scouts in France. The importance attached to our work is evidenced by the fact that already an invitation has come for establishing several such camps next year in France, as well as one in Belgium."

Pride in its boy scout band of sixty pieces, one of the finest in the country, led Oil City, Pa., to finance a two-weeks' trip for the entire organization, bass drum and all. DRASTIC DRY LAW MEASURE

VIOLATION IS NOT CRIME

Submitted by Mrs. Van Ness of Essex.
Measure Has Anti-Saloon Support.
Penalties Run From Year's Imprisonment to $500 Fine.

Trenton.—Resolutions calling for a probe in Hudson county with "teeth in it" were introduced in the house of assembly by Assemblyman Harold B. Tuttle of Jersey City, as this assemblyman had previously promised.

The difference between this resolution and that of Senator Mackay's, introduced in the senate, is the Tuttle resolution specifies Hudson county as the place of investigation instead of being a blanket affair as that of the senator's.

New Assembly Reapportionment.

Assemblyman Pierson of Union county introduced a bill calling for a reapportionment of members of the house of assembly based upon the population of 1921. Hudson county, under this bill, would have eleven instead of twelve assemblymen. The population of the state is 3,555,000, and with sixty assemblymen this gives an average of 59,250 people for each representative. Essex would have twelve.

There are eight counties of the state with less than this average of 59,250, so that the other thirteen counties of the state embracing a population of 2,878,051 will have the average number of persons for each assemblyman increased about 8,000 in number or to 67,250.

Basin of Representation.

By reason of this Hudson county would lose one assemblyman, Bergen would gain one, Morris would lose one and Union would gain one. The eight counties lacking a population of 59,250 are Cape May, Gloucester, Hunterdon, Ocean, Salem, Somerset, Sussex and Warren.

There are forty-four assemblymen chosen based upon the average of 59,250 per assemblyman, and eight chosen from those counties having less than 50,000 population.

This makes fifty-two, leaving eight other assemblymen to be chosen from counties having the largest surplus of population. These counties are Atlantic, Bergen, Essex, Mercer, Middlesex, Monmouth, Passaic and Union.

Alleges Padded Payroll.
The Tuttle resolution calls attention to the padded payroll of Hudson county, the election frauds as shown by the recount and the other irregularities claimed to have been found, and provides for a joint legislative committee consisting of three members of each house and an appropriation of $10,000 for conducting the probe.

Nothing was done by the senate in the session toward advancing the Mackay resolution. The conference at Atlantic City over the week-end apparently did not fully settle the question. The report here is that the joint committee will meet with National Committeeman Hamilton F. Keen in New York, and he will submit the evidence of alleged fraud and irregularities that he has spent thousands of dollars in collecting.

The advisability of pursuing the matter will probably be finally settled at this time.

Statement by Rowland.

T. Harry Rowland, majority leader of the house, in speaking of the resolution to newspaper men, stated that as far as he was concerned the probe would not be conducted for the purpose of "getting" anyone, but that he thought the beating up of Princeton students, and other alleged irregularities at the general election were questions for consideration.

The Tuttle resolution as introduced bears an immunity clause permitting those who testify to do so without being subject to prosecution or indictment because of some violation of the criminal laws.

Drastic Liquor Legislation.
The next most important action of the legislature was the introduction in the house of assembly of a drastic liquor law framed by G. Rowland Munroe of Newark, attorney for the Anti-Saloon League, and introduced by Mrs. Jennie C. Van Ness from Essex.

Mrs. Van Ness stated that it was a corollary to the Volstead act, giving state, county and municipal officers power for the punishment of violators of the liquor laws.

Mrs. Margaret B. Laird of Newark at a previous session introduced a bill providing for the repeal of Governor Edwards' 3.50 per cent beer law. This, with the resolution introduced by Assemblyman Emmor Roberts of Burlington providing for ratification of the Eighteenth amendment to the federal constitution were reported out of committee on federal relations without amendments suggested and with recommendations that they pass. They were made a special order of business Monday evening at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Munroe, in commenting upon the Van Ness bill, stated that its object is to enforce prohibition and stop bootlegging in New Jersey. It deals only with the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage and another bill will deal with alcohol and wine and liquors for medicinal, scientific and manufacturing purposes.

No new department is created and no appropriation sought, but present officials are given ample power for dealing with violators of the law. A violation is considered a disorderly act rather than a crime through the provisions of this act, which does away with grand jury proceedings and indictments, and empowers local officials to handle violators.

It permits trials by the nearest magistrate excepting a justice of the peace.

Appointments Confirmed.

Four of Governor Edwards' appointments were confirmed by the senate.

They were the following:

Former Congressman William H. Tuttle, Jr., of Westfield to succeed Frank H. Smith, state commissioner of banking and insurance for a term of five years at $8,000 per annum.

Justice Thomas W. Trenchard to succeed himself as justice of the supreme court for seven years at a salary of $12,000 annually.

Judge Luther A. Campbell of Hackensack to succeed himself as judge of the circuit court for seven years at a salary of $10,000 per annum.

Judge Frank T. Lloyd of Camden to succeed himself as judge of the circuit court.

Peaceful Picketing Bill.

Senator William H. Parry of Essex County, introduced a bill in the senate making peaceful picketing in the case of strikes lawful. This follows the recent orders of courts prohibiting picketing by striking employees in Hudson County and elsewhere.

The bill introduced in the house of assembly last Tuesday providing for the appointment of the members of the board of public utilities by justices instead of the governor was not reported out nor were the appointments of the governor to this board sent again to the senate for confirmation.

Loughran for Hudson Normal School. Assemblyman T. Loughran of Hudson introduced a bill in the house of assembly that would authorize the establishment of a state normal school for teachers in Jersey City through legislative appropriation. The bill does not call for any specific cost of this proposed school.

Another bill introduced by Mr. Loughran prohibits state, county, city or municipal employees from acting or serving as a member of any election board, whether it be general, special or municipal election.

Assemblyman Joseph J. Liori of Hudson county introduced a bill calling for the establishment of a pension system for County detectives similar to that now in vogue for police officers. Senator Blanchard H. White of Burlington introduced a duplicate in the senate.

House Bills Passed.

The following bills introduced at the last session in the house of assembly were passed without dissent in that chamber:

Raising the age of consent for females from sixteen to eighteen years. Authorizing state financial officers to pay interest charges upon tunnel and bridge bonds pending receipt of state tax levies from municipalities.

Providing money to destroy the gypsy moth.

For women members, as well as men, on state political committees. It doubles the membership on state committees and provides for female representation. It also applies to municipal and county committees.

Democrat Makes Objection.

Assemblyman Harry Runyon of Warren county was the only objector to House Bill No. 40, introduced by Assemblyman Eldridge of Union, for the purpose of stopping a deadlock existing between members of the city council by permitting the mayor to cast the deciding vote regarding the organization proceedings. The bill applies to Elizabeth, where the council is now deadlocked.

Mr. Runyon, who is the only Democratic member of the house, declared he was opposed to ramming legislation through as this bill was done.

Republicans in Caucus.

Republicans in both houses held conferences before the regular sessions for the purpose of framing the program for the evening's work.

Senator Parry of Essex introduced resolutions calling for the formation of plans as to just what policy the state will pursue regarding the taking over of the Morris canal after the Lehigh Valley railway's 99-year lease expires in 1923.

Both houses adjourned until Monday night.

Majority Leader Rowland announced that there would be a Republican conference of the members of Monday at 7 p. m. in the branch Supreme Court room. This is understood to be the rule for the session—a conference just before each Monday night meeting.

Shorter Hours for Women.

Recommendations made by Governor Edwards in his annual message to the legislature that steps be taken for improving the conditions under which women are employed in the industries have the hearty approval of General Lewis T. Bryant, commissioner of labor. General Bryant urged such modification of the state's labor laws as to provide an eight hour day, 48-hour week and prohibition of night work for women in manufacturing plants.

Employment of women at night where the desired work can be accomplished in daylight is indefensible, General Bryant says. "In this day it is impossible to consider the question of women in industry without considering substantially the whole industrial problem for the reason that woman has undertaken employment in substantially all occupations and is now employed on the ratio of about one to nine men in industries."

Odd Kind of Pet.

In Nicaragua they keep an armadillo as a pet, for the practical use of ridding their houses of ants; not infrequently they have been bred in captivity, producing three or four very little young ones to the litter, says the American Forestry Magazine. In color, our armadillo is of a pale gray, the hair grayish buff, sometimes tipped with blackish. When captured, it is often caked with hardened mud, which evidently stuck to its bony buckler while burrowing where the soil was wet.

False Teeth With a History.

Iron false teeth enameled in artistic style and in the possession of an Englishman who has recently returned home from a trip to China. He obtained them from a distressed Chinese man, whom he assisted, and who claimed that the teeth were worn by a man who was executed nearly 200 years ago.

Children at the Bread Kitchens

Three and a half million children in eastern and central Europe wait, gaunt and pinched like these, at the American kitchens for the hot soup and bread that mean life to them. In the winters since the Armistice, America has been the one friend that had food to give them. It is a common sight in Europe today to see a child five or six years old whose head has not budged. With a heavy weal fed by the skull should close before two years. America must see these children through the rigors of another winter, and to that end eight great relief organizations have combined into the European Relief Council. They seek to raise $25,000,000 to save this generation of Europe from death by starvation and the diseases that come with under-feeding.

Pessimistic.

Second Politician—Yes, and it is going up all the time.

OLD SHIPS.

There is a memory stays upon old ships. A weightless cargo in the musty hold—Of bright lagoon and prow-caroling lips. Of stormy midnight—and a tale untold. They have remembered lands—in the daws. And windy capes that tried their slender spars. And tortuous channels where their keels have gone. And calm blue heights of stillness and the stars.

Ah, never think that ships forget a shore. Or bitter seas, or winds that made them wise.

There is a dream upon them, ever more—And there be some who say that sunk To seek familiar harbors in the night. Blowing in mist, their spectral sails like light.

—David Morton, in Los Angeles Times.

Marriage a Matter of Business.

Hiring Finnish men to marry Russian women to enable the latter to get out of Russia has become a popular and lucrative business in border towns. The ungalant Finns exact a high price, but the method is unflinching. It makes a Finnish subject of the woman, and is recognized as lawful by the two countries, which have assumed diplomatic relations. Russian trouble comes, of course, if the women thus freed of Russia refuse to part with their pseudo-husbands.

NO EUTHANASIA IN THIS.
Miss Klavierskang—I play the piano merely to kill time.
Mr. Bangs—Your playing certainly does it. But what a death!

Clever Deduction.
Sherlock Holmes-like detectives still exist. In London, England, an unknown man was run over by a train, taken to the hospital, and although he never recovered consciousness, lived and talked in delirium for a few hours. It was noticed that he counted all the time, and the doctor perceived that he never counted above a certain number. He remembered this, and recalled that the number was that of the hall in a horse's shoe. He decided the man must be a blacksmith, informed the police, and his relatives were found from this little clue.

Rejoice, Ye Baldheads!
Sheep's wool and human hair have been made to grow with nearly twice their usual vigor by feeding carotin, a sulphur and nitrogenous compound which is the foundation principle of hair and horns. The discoverer has to shave twice a day now, and bald-headed men are demanding that the material be placed upon the market.

Work Years for Wife.

A wife as wages, is not uncommon in the Holy Land where a boy hired as shepherd may receive one of his master's daughters as a wife, instead of daily pay just as Jacob contracted with Leah for Rachel. The time served for a wife is still from five to seven years.

Existing Traction Facilities Should Be Conserved

"The country's transportation facilities have been placed in a critical position by conditions over which they had no control and for which the public had generally made no adequate provision. * * *

"In interstate transportation these problems have had the attention of Congress which enacted remedial legislation. THESE ARE PROBLEMS OF EQUAL IMPORTANCE TO THE PUBLIC INTEREST, HOWEVER, IN LOCAL TRANSPORTATION.

"To these problems your committee on Public Utilities has for over a year given its attention in the hope that it might formulate recommendations which would suggest some means of solving the difficulties confronting communities in all parts of the country."

So wrote a committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce. It was a committee composed of men of the highest integrity and the subject was approached, not merely in the interests of the street railway companies, but on the broader grounds of good public policy, in the hope, as the committee says, "of solving the difficulties confronting communities in all parts of the country."

Street railway service is first of all a community problem. Communities cannot progress without it. Recognizing this fact the committee, above referred to, after considering fully the requirements of cities and towns for dependable, economical, comprehensive transportation facilities, announced as its first conclusion that

"---existing traction facilities should be conserved."

Further on in its report the committee takes up the subject of unnecessary and wasteful competition and sets forth its finding in this language:

"The committee recommends that careful provision be made to prevent the disastrous consequences of unfair competition."

It is to conserve these essential facilities, to help solve the difficulties confronting communities and because the "consequences of unfair competition" are already making themselves felt, to the public disadvantage, that this company needs an increased rate of fare.

Service is what the people want and service is what we want to give. All we ask is a rate to cover the cost.

DUTY:

Could I but do one worthy deed,
Or write one living line
To fill the measure of my need—
Could I but sow one fruitful seed,
Then were contentment mine.
Could I but sing one living song
To banish mortal pain;
Could I but rattle one crying wrong
Or help one weaker soul along,
I had not lived in vain.

So vast the universe, so cold
The peaks to which we climb,
So gray the skies, the stars so old
So many sleep strayed from the fold
And so swift fleeting Time!
Strive as I may, somehow it seems
That each succeeding sun
Finds me yet distant from my dreams
On paths rock strewn, with swollen streams.
And no day's journey done!

Yet must I carry on the fight,
Still I must do my best,
So, when I pass from out the night
Into the day, into the light,
My weary soul may rest!

Christianity in Old Japan.
Students of the history of Christianity in Japan are interested in the recent discovery, near Osaka, of a tombstone over 300 years old bearing the Christian name "Maria Uyeno," together with a book in which the text of the Bible is copied in the Japanese kana characters. The relics are believed to establish the fact conclusively that Christians lived over 300 years ago in the village of Kiyotanihara, where they were found.

Quicker Delivery Vehicle.
Something entirely new in the way of gasoline vehicle is a delivery wagon which was shown at a recent London exhibition. It travels on four wheels, but the rear wheels are so close together that they might be mistaken for a single wheel.

Bulletin No. 7

"Progress is the best tho't of Man"

So it has been down through the ages. The greatest improvements of all time have been but the thoughts of men who dared vision beyond the passage of their own years.

The broad Delaware River has for a long time proved an insurmountable obstacle to real industrial and civic contact between Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Far-sighted business men saw, and gave thought.

Here between Tacony and Riverton, but a scant mile of water divided two states, rich in industrial and agricultural wealth. The broad highways of Pennsylvania ended abruptly on the river shore. New Jersey picked up the thread and continued on to the Seaboard.

The only link—a tedious detour thru congested terminals.

Could these smooth bands be joined, a great stride forward would have been taken in the interests of mankind.

Countless cars, pleasure-bound to numerous resorts, would choose this path at a tremendous saving of time. The tourist diverging at this point would find the smooth stretches of the Lincoln Highway a short run from the Pennsylvania shore. The farmer of Jersey would find a new and productive market in flourishing Northern Philadelphia.

This Christmas and Next

Many of us strive by hard work and strict attention to business to support our families, ourselves, and our loved ones, and to save certain sums of money for the "rainy days." Many of us also find the Christmas season at hand without the wherewithal to furnish our families and our friends with the gifts, remembrances, and pleasures, that we had hoped and intended to give. We feel sorry—and yet, after all—we can but blame our own shortsightedness.

IMPROVED UNION INTERNATIONAL

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
(© 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JANUARY 30.

JESUS' OFFICIAL PRESENTATION
AS KING.

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 21:1-11.

GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord—Matt.
21:9.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 20:
2-14; Luke 19:28-44; John 12:12-19; 1 Pet.
2:13.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Story of a Wonderful Procession.

JUNIOR TOPIC—A Wonderful Procession.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Honoring Christ in Our Lives.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
The Lordship of Jesus; His Meaning for Us.

I. The Preparation (vv. 1-6).

1. The sending of the disciples for the ass (vv. 1-3). He told them just where to go to find it and told them how to answer the inquiry of the one who owned it. This shows how perfectly our Lord knows our ways. God uses unlikely and apparently insignificant things in the accomplishment of his purposes.

2. The fulfillment of prophecy (vv.
4, 6). Some five hundred years before this Zechariah had made this prediction.
If the predictions of His first coming were thus literally fulfilled there is no alternative but to believe that those of His second coming will be literally fulfilled. The prediction of Zechariah 14:21 will be just as literal as that of Zechariah 9:9.

3. The obedience of the disciples
(v. 6). The request may have seemed strange and unreasonable, but they fully obeyed. True disciples will render full and glad obedience no matter how strange the command may seem.

II. The Entrance of the King (vv.
7-11).

1. The disciples put their garments upon the ass and set the Lord upon them (v. 7). This act showed that they recognized Him as their King (II Kings 9:13).

2. The multitude. Some spread their garments in the way; others who had no garments to spare cut down branches and did the same with them,
which was just as acceptable to Him.
To give what we have and to do what we can is all that He demands of us.

3. The city shaken (vv. 10, 11). This was a stirring time, but one more stirring is coming. That will be when the Lord comes in power and glory.

III. The King Rejected (vv. 12-17).

The January meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association, Thursday afternoon, was addressed by Mrs. Hannah H. Chew, supervising principal. Her subject was, "Co-operation Between the Home and the School." Miss Chew's address will be published next week.

Mrs. S. L. Warren gave a report of the meeting held last week at the Porch Club to organize locally a League of Women Voters, and extended an invitation to those present to attend the next meeting, which will be held Thursday afternoon, February 3rd, at the Porch Club.

Mrs. R. F. F. gave a report of the project of establishing a teachers' house for the faculty of the Riverton public school.

James Davidson

James Davidson, aged 76, died Wednesday morning from heart failure. Mr. Davidson had not been ill, but awakened about quarter of two in the morning with severe pains, which he believed were caused by congestion of the lungs. He aroused his daughter, who went for a doctor, but before the doctor arrived Mr. Davidson had passed away.

Mr. Davidson and family have lived in Riverton about twenty-eight years, coming here from St. Louis. He had been employed at Dr. Dreyer's time. He was a member of Dr. Dreyer's Beneficial Association and the A. O. U. W.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at his late residence, 609 Cinnaminson street, conducted by Rev. John Rigg, B. D. Interment at Morgan cemetery.

The deceased leaves two children, Harry and Ruth.

Childish Tasks Important.

"Men are but children of a larger growth." In the home the child should have certain regular tasks to perform and should be taught that he must attend to them conscientiously. The care of pets, plants, flowers and of younger children, the responsibility of performing certain household duties develops strength of character.—Exchange.

EUROPEAN RELIEF

Herbert Hoover has pledged the American people to care for millions of underfed and suffering children this winter. As director of the European Relief Council for Burlington county, I am trying to help him carry out this promise. In many places I have not been able to secure workers for the campaign. There is surely someone in every town who would like to do something to help these starving children. Appoint yourself a volunteer worker and secure subscriptions. Send me for supplies and information. In any event, make a voluntary gift and send it to any bank or trust company in the county. To the Intelligent New Jersey Investor:

Philadelphia Brought Nearer

The Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company has secured for their New Jersey terminal a plot of ground at the foot of Cinnaminson Avenue, Palmyra, N. J., including the riparian rights and will cross the Delaware River to Levick Street, Tacony, Penna., bringing us New Jersey residents within several squares of two trolley lines and a station of the Frankford Elevated, that when completed, (which we believe will be within two years) will take passengers to the most southern parts of Philadelphia for one fare. The Ferry will terminate within three squares of Wissinoming Station, Penna. Railroad, where way trains will enable you to reach quickly North Philadelphia Station and connect with through trains for Chicago and the West and Washington and the South, trains that do not start from Broad Street Station.

Roosevelt Boulevard Motorists' Paradise

This Ferry will bring us Jersey motorists within one and a half miles of the Roosevelt (or North-east) Boulevard, a typical motorists' paradise that has cost millions of dollars, where along its miles and miles of beautiful winding road we can speed smoothly to the many places of interest along its route, such as Sears Roebuck mammoth building, the wide avenues of Hunting Park, out Hunting Park Avenue to the beauties of Fairmount Park and through the Park, and to those who wish to visit the heart of the City, the Parkway to the City Hall, thereby avoiding the congested city traffic.

Willow Grove Brought Nearer

The many points of interest that this Ferry will bring within our reach can scarcely be enumerated. Willow Grove, instead of being a journey, will become a short spin of eleven miles. Neaham and Washackon Valleys, unsurpassed for beauty, will be but an after-dinner jaunt. Valley Forge, with all its beauties and historical points of interest, will be brought many miles nearer to us. To pleasure and commercial vehicles journeying to Trenton the saving of five to six miles will be effected over the present Columbus route.

Ideal Atlantic City Motor Route

Those motorists journeying to Atlantic City from any point in Philadelphia above 4500 North will find the Tacony route not only shorter, but decidedly the more pleasant and free from the vexatious delay due to the traffic regulations of the business districts of Philadelphia and Camden, making Tacony the ideal route for Germantown, Chestnut Hill, Toga and York Road residents, with a corresponding advantage to the New Jersey motorists when visiting those sections.

Employment Made Surer

The many factories of Tacony and Frankford will enable our workers to secure lucrative positions that will save them several hours daily compared to commuting to and from Market Street Wharf.

Will Reduce Taxes

The Ferry will greatly increase the taxable property, tending to reduce the tax rate; it will greatly improve the value of your property, and it will enable the Jersey farmer to dispose of his produce in a lucrative open-air market or at least secure him many patrons within the mill districts of upper Philadelphia.

Invest Now

You can help this good cause and enrich yourselves at the same time by subscribing to this stock now, not next month, for we believe the stock will be over-subscribed within one month. The New Jersey members of the Board of Directors we believe you know and have confidence in, and we can assure you the gentlemen on the Pennsylvania side stand as high in their community and it will be the aim of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company and its Board of Directors to safeguard the interest of the stockholders as well as the public, so as to win honestly the high esteem of all classes.

New Jersey Will Reap Great Benefit

If to grow two blades of grass where one grew before is a benefit, we believe to bring into being two routes to a large city where one existed before is a greater benefit, and can assure you those aiding this enterprise will not only find it highly profitable, but in after years will have the pleasing reflection of having aided so great a boon to us and our posterity, as the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company will undoubtedly prove to be.

January 10th, 1921.

TACONY-PALMYRA FERRY COMPANY.

P. S.—The undersigned heartily endorse the above, and trust it will inspire our many friends with the same confidence we feel in this enterprise, that means so much to Burlington County, and by their ready response hasten its early completion.

Marksmanship Family Trait

Every now and then one reads where several members of one family are all stars in a certain sport, and now Riverton comes to the front with a family of crack shots.

In the first three shoots for the magnificent cup donated by F. S. Groves, Jr., and known as the John H. Reese Memorial, first honors on each occasion have fallen to one of the Vaughan family. D. L. Vaughan was the first to have his name engraved upon the cup by shooting his way to victory with a perfect score against all the crack marksmen in Riverton. At the second meet supreme honors were carried off by his brother, Charles Z. Vaughan, who, however, had to engage in an extra period match with R. H. Stackhouse before the cup was his. Last week the father, D. F. Vaughan, won the day, by turning in a perfect score and making the three names of Vaughan to be the only ones to date upon the cup.

Both times a ladies' event took place the honors were won by Mrs. D. L. Vaughan, and then by her sister, Mrs. Charles Z. Vaughan. To date there is no disputing the fact that the Vaughan family stand supreme in shooting in Riverton and vicinity.

A youngster who gives great promise is Biddle Filler. In the first event for the cup he shot second, losing to D. L. Vaughan but by one bird, and Saturday, had he not failed to be on time for the first of the match, he would have won, as he broke 39 birds, which with his handicap of 15 would have given him 54 breaks. As it was, D. L. Vaughan and C. Z. Vaughan, the two low men, were tied for second honors, with each having 48 breaks to his credit. E. E. Hatch was third with a score of 47.

Conditions were extremely bad for good shooting, as the rain and foggy weather made it hard to follow the flight of the clay birds as they whizzed out over the river. The interest in winning the cup is growing all the time and the Vaughans must continue their high class of shooting if they are to win for R. H. Stackhouse, Robinson Rogers and a few more are right on their heels, and ready to take full advantage of the slightest slip.

This Saturday will be one of the big shooting days of the season. The Public Ledger will send up a photographer to secure pictures for publication.

Report of Red Cross Christmas Stamp Sales in Burlington County.

Burlington county has completed the campaign for the sale of the Christmas Seal which provides the means for the county tuberculosis work. The same generous spirit has prevailed and the net result is gratifying. In 1919 the per capita sale was six, and this year the result will be about the same. The returns to date are $4,171.21, representing the work of local chairmen and many sub-committees. Miss Helen R. Biddle, of Riverton, the county chairman, has been a most capable executive officer in this big work. To her and to all of the workers great appreciation is expressed.

The amount contributed by Riverton was $456.26.

The expense attached to the sale including postage, telephone, publicity, printing and material not provided by the National Association, amounted to $199.96.

Twenty-five per cent of the returns is paid to the State Tuberculosis League and the equivalent of this amount is returned in some form of service, $1,042.80, leaving a balance of $3,128.41.

Six towns have exceeded their quotas, thirty towns have exceeded the amount given last year. The League would appreciate having its attention drawn to anything in which its help would alleviate distress or assist the physicians of any community. Address Miss Margaret Haines, 228 High street, Burlington.

The amount contributed by Riverton was $456.26.

This is the gospel of work. Ring it, ye bells of the kirk, The Lord of love came down from above To dwell with the men who work.

This is the rose he planted. Here in the thorn cursed soil. Heaven is blessed with perfect rest. But the blessing of earth is toil.

—Henry Van Dyke.

Six-year-old John Francis Garrity, who killed himself with his father's pistol while playing cowboy at his home, 2202 South 23rd street, Philadelphia, on Sunday, was the son of Thomas J. Garrity, superintendent of the Bituco Company's plant in West Palmyra. The family lived here until recently.

There is a rumor that there was great excitement at a recent meeting of the board of freeholders at Mount Holly, due to the Palmyra member, George W. Rogers. Report has it that Mr. Rogers purchased a young pig, and while he was attending the meeting some one placed the pig in one of the offices nearby. Then the indignant occupant of the office kicked his pig out. Last word was that the pig is still playing hide and seek about the county seat.

The fire alarm boxes of the system which was abandoned a number of years ago should be removed. Some residents, especially those newly come to town, are not aware the system is in disuse and might depend on them in case of fire. The telephone is now invariably used. The Palmyra Fire Company's number is 20 and the Riverton numbers are 240 and 30-R. The operator should be so informed in case it is a fire call, so that both companies can be notified, and also in order that proper steps may be taken to notify the right parties in case there should happen to be no response from the fire house.

While Mr. and Mrs. John Blum were at the Forrest theatre Monday evening, as a part of the celebration of their thirty-fourth wedding anniversary, a fire was discovered in the barroom of their hotel on West Broad street. No one was in the building at the time, and it is believed the blaze was started by a cigarette stub smoldering in the sawdust in front of the bar. Charles Hagan, the electrician, was passing the hotel and saw the flames on the interior and called the fire companies. Although the fire was confined to the barroom, considerable damage was done to the bar and its furnishings. Among the losses was a hundred dollars in currency, which Mr. Blum had concealed about the bar. The money was burned to a crisp. Fire Commissioner Hinchman was on the scene early and had high praise for the way the firemen handled the blaze.

Resigns from School Board After Many Years of Service

The annual school election will be held the second Tuesday evening in February in the high school auditorium. There will be a vacancy to fill caused by the recent resignation of John C. Hoepfner. No announcement has been made as to whether any of the other members whose terms expire do not wish to stand for reelection. There is some talk again of women candidates. Several South Jersey school boards now have women members and many people interested in the schools think it would be a good idea for Palmyra to follow suit.

At a meeting of the school board Thursday evening the resignation of Frank L. Durgin was presented. Mr. Durgin, who has been an active and hard-working member of the board for many years, wishes to have more time now for other duties. The budget to be presented to the voters was also considered and will be posted in a few days. Another thing to be voted upon at the election will be an appropriation of $3,000 for the purchase of the ground next to the present high school site for the erection of another building which will be needed in the near future.

Lots of good things come to those who wait and do not get involved in pessimism while they are waiting. Be an optimist.

High School Notes

In the prize contest conducted by the Colonial Ice Cream Company for the best essays on ice cream as a food, Miss Helen Shontz won a ten dollar prize and Miss Mildred Wimer one dollar.

The boys basketball team defeated Haddon Heights on Tuesday by 18 to 8 in a speedy game in which the locals displayed much class. The boys are improving.

This Friday the basketball team went to Atlantic City "to get walloped," as Professor Griffith says, by the shore high school. Last year the Atlantic City outfit used about 20 men in the course of the game, replacing every player with a fresh one as soon as the player became tired. This didn't seem quite fair to the locals who, being the visiting team, couldn't take such a large aggregation with them. This year an agreement has been entered into by which neither team is to use more than ten men in the game.

Dr. N. K. Dhalmani, of Bombay, India, delivered a lecture in the high school auditorium Thursday afternoon on the educational system in India. Dr. Dhalmani is a native Hindu who came to this country first in 1911 unable to speak English but is now a fluent speaker in our language with hardly a trace of accent. He was graduated from Oberlin college and returned to his country in 1918 to take charge of the school system in Bombay. He spoke of the habits and life of the Hindu people, illustrating with native costumes and songs. Dr. Dhalmani declared that the young people of America did not appreciate their educational advantages as they should and suggests that if they had to scrub floors to obtain an education like he did it might be better for them.

Parents are urged to cooperate with the teachers and school authorities to keep up the attendance. All the days missed by the pupils amount to much time when summed up and it means just that much of the people's money wasted, in addition to wasted opportunity on the part of the children.

Ferry Soon to Start Operations

The Palmyra-Tacony Ferry Company plans to make its buildings on this side of the river as attractive as possible. The ferry house itself will be of old English design, and situated as it will be, at the end of an 800 foot roadway, extending out into the water, it will look more like an attractive pavilion than a ferry house. It is planned to publish a picture of the proposed building in the near future.

The roadway out to deepwater will be made an attractive spot for pedestrians who wish to walk along it for a view of the river, and a breath of air during summer afternoons.

Preparations are being rushed for a start on the filling-in operations. The ferry company calls attention to the fact that although it is 18.1 miles from the Palmyra landing to Berlin, and 15.9 miles from the Camden ferry to Berlin, this leg of the journey to Atlantic City will be shorter to motorists starting from above 4500 north in Philadelphia, if the proposed ferry is started.

The Willing Workers met at the home of Mrs. Fred Hercher on Wednesday afternoon.

Improvements at the Jail

Plans for a new wing to the county jail were submitted to the Board of Freeholders at its meeting on Friday, by a representative of the Paoli Jail Company, of New York. The cost of the addition will be about $75,000.

The proposed new wing is to be built back of the sheriff's office, and is to be two stories and basement. On the upper floors are to be located 32 cells of modern type. The basement is to contain a kitchen and heater.

The plans were received and will be considered by the board and other county officials before action is taken. The board had the plans submitted in response to a request made by a recent grand jury to modernize the jail.

Boys skating on Broad street between Palmyra and Riverton have become a great annoyance to auto-mobile drivers, and there have been many narrow escapes lately from serious accidents. The practice of "hooking on" behind automobiles is especially dangerous, and we have been asked to call parents' attention to the danger, by a truck driver who came near hitting a group of boys yesterday, through no fault of his own.

Big Night at P. O. S. of A.

On Monday evening, January 31, the P. O. S. of A. will entertain the members of Camp No. 29, of Merchantville, and Camp No. 35, of Delanco. These Camps were organized out of Camp No. 23 many years ago.

An entertainment will be provided, after which there will be the customary feed. The principal speaker of the occasion will be Rev. Charles L. Hunter, of Camp No. 50, Roxborough. The Camp is still short of its goal of 1000 members. On the books at this time are 900; 15 outstanding applications.

The membership campaign is being pushed, and on the night the one-thousandth member is initiated the Camp will give a celebration worthy of the event.

Ancient Inventions Used on Motors.

Perhaps the oldest design used in the modern automobile is that of the universal joint, which in principle is identical with the first universal developed by Cardan around 1520 A. D. Such joints are used in all modern automobiles and trucks in order to allow the propeller shaft to revolve and at the same time move up and down and side-ways relative to the rear axle. The axle bushes up and down according to road conditions, but the propeller shaft must connect this bouncing part with another unit attached to the frame of the car.

The dues for bona-fide new members joining the Legion prior to December 31 will be $1.25, which will pay the national assessment of such members until December 31, 1921.

Robert F. Tyndall, national treasurer, has announced that the national dues shall be due and payable to the national treasurer on January 1, 1921, and that all members whose dues have not been paid on or before February 28, 1921, shall be considered delinquent.

There is only one season of the year when one can visit Angkor (in the interior of Cambodia, French Indo-China) owing to a curious phenomenon known nowhere else in the world—the fact that the river Tonle-Sap flows inland part of the year and then turns and flows outward in the opposite direction, for the remainder of the year. At such times as it flows inland, during and following the rainy season, there is water enough to float steam boats. When it flows outward it completely drains a large lake that forms part of the riverbed and leaves the lake dry except for a small trickle down the center.

"Boat Free."

To get off scot free is to escape without payment of tax. Scot was a tribute or tax levied upon all subjects according to their ability to pay; lot means the allotment or portion allotted to you, so that to pay scot and lot is to pay the ordinary taxes and also the personal tax allotted to you. If you succeed in evading the tax you get off scot free.

Fish Unable to Swim.

It is a fact that there are fish which cannot swim. A Brazilian fish, called the malha, can only crawl, walk or creep. It has a long, upturned snout, and resembles to some extent a toad. The anterior fins of the malha are quite small and are not suitable for

3.50 BEER LAW REPEAL PASSED

New Jersey House Also Votes to Ratify Eighteenth Amendment; Only Four Opposed.

WOMAN GETS BILL PASSED.

Senator Wallworth Introduces Bill to Take Power of Removal from Governor—Executive Would Appoint Members in Rotation.

Trenton.—The assembly reversed the policy of Governor Edwards to make "New Jersey as wet as the Atlantic Ocean," by unanimously passing the Laird repealer of the 3.50 beer bill and then proceeded to pass the concurrent resolution to ratify the Eighteenth Amendment.

The house had intended to pass the measure to enforce prohibition introduced by Mrs. Jennie C. Van Ness of Essex, but opposition developed to some of its drastic provisions. The judiciary committee, to which it has been referred, announced that it would give a hearing on the bill.

The Laird repealer and the concurrent resolution, presented by Assemblyman Roberts of Burlington, were made the special order of business for the house.

The Rev. A. Lincoln Moore, assemblyman from Hunterdon County, urged support for the repealer. He said that lawlessness was rightfully attributed to disregard for law from certain quarters, and declared that the measure would correct this condition. No one spoke in opposition to its passage.

The resolution for New Jersey's ratification of the Federal prohibition amendment was then urged by Assemblyman Roberts. Mr. Roberts said New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island were the only states that had failed to ratify the amendment and now was New Jersey's opportunity to retrieve herself "in the eyes of the rest of the nation."

Assemblyman Evans spoke for his Passaic associates in opposition to the resolution. He asserted that the sentiment in his county against prohibition had not changed as far as he could determine.

"All such measures as sweeping and far-reaching as the prohibition amendment should be first submitted to the people," Mr. Evans said. He then referred to the "spectacle" of a highly organized and efficient lobby able to pass legislation of "one kind or another under the whip of their own peculiar methods." He declared that the prohibition legislation was passed under the stress of war conditions and "those that should have been heard were not heard."

"The American people are so constituted that they always accept the will of the majority," said the Passaic assemblyman. "My opinion is that if all were given an opportunity to vote on such legislation it would pass, but they should have their say. A bill I have introduced is designed to place all proposed federal amendments before the voters."

Tozer of Bergen said there is not so much dissatisfaction with the dry amendment as with the enforcement regulations which had deprived so many citizens of what they regarded as personal rights and privileges.

Mr. Runyon, the lone Democrat, voted for the resolution, which went through by a vote of 51 to 4, the 4 coming from Passaic, with four absentees and one vacancy.

Member From Essex Triumphs
Early in the evening's session, Mrs. Van Ness, her bonnet stowed away in her locker, made her initial address upon a pending measure and incidentally Speaker Hobart established the precedent of recognition by announcing "the member from Essex" instead of the expected "lady" from Essex. Mrs. Van Ness, without much of a speech, but going directly at the subject in hand, advocated passage of her bill allowing the appointment of women as overseers of the poor in municipalities of above 25,000 population. The bill passed.

The house also passed under suspended rules McMillin's bill, providing a referendum on the appointment of nine member Boards of Education in cities of above 45,000 population. This measure was hurried to the senate in the hope of getting it through prior to the school elections February 8. The legislature has already become so accustomed to enacting laws increasing the activity of women in the affairs of the government that when the bills to provide for two women each on the State Board of Health and the State Board of Education came up in the senate there was not even a word of debate. The bills were presented by Senator Mackay, majority leader, who explained that they would give feminine representation on these two important state boards, and they went through unanimously.

Public Utility Controversy
The Public Utility controversy took another turn when Senator Wallworth of Camden introduced a measure that would provide for the naming of a Public Utility Commission of three members by the governor, but strip the executive of the power of removal, making ousters dependent upon impeachment proceedings in the same manner as provided for the removal of judges.

Senator Wallworth's measure fixes the term of one appointee at two years, the second at four years and the third at six years. Their successors would be appointed for six-year terms. They would serve at an annual salary of $12,000. The bill also restricts the membership to not more than two of the same political party affiliation.

Expect Right of Way
The senate measure is a radical departure from the act proposed by Majority Leader Rowland of the assembly, which provides for the naming of a Public Utility Commission by the chief justice of the Supreme Court. Senate leaders here predict that the Wallworth measure will be substituted for the Rowland bill. Senator Wallworth asserts that the proposed bill would take the Public Utility Commission "out of politics." It reduces the membership from five to three and raises salaries from $7,500 to $12,000 a year.

Preceding the introduction of the Wallworth bill Majority Leader Mackay of the senate told newspaper men that he had reversed his position taken earlier in the session and now believed in giving the governor the power of appointing the utility commissioners. Senator Mackay said he had talked with many persons and found that the majority was not favorable to taking the power away from the governor. He said, however, that he found the people wanted returned to their representatives the power of removal in the form of the constitutional method of impeachment.

It is understood that the Wallworth measure will be rapidly pushed in the legislature.

The Senate Committee reported favorably Senator Parry's bill making the report of engineering firm on Public Utility valuations permissive but not conclusive or mandatory as to its official acceptance.

In executive session the senate by a vote of 11 to 4 decided to hold in committee the names of the governor's appointees to the Utilities Commission.

To Probe Hudson County
In conjunction with the assembly the senate passed a resolution authorizing a probe of Hudson County government operations. The senate also passed a resolution authorizing a state probe of coal prices and sales conditions in New Jersey.

The senate referred to the judiciary committee the nominations by Governor Edwards to fill office vacancies in Middlesex County. The governor's selections, are Judge Peter H. Daly, to succeed himself as county judge; Joseph Stricker, to succeed himself as prosecutor, and Peter H. S. Hendricks of New Brunswick, as a member of the county tax board.

An amendment to the workmen's compensation act, introduced by Senator William H. Parry of Essex, raises the weekly maximum from $12 to $20 and fixes the minimum at $8 instead of $6. The permanent disability period is advanced from 400 weeks to the life of the claimant. The bill provides for the payment of compensation following the seventh day of the claim presentation. The present law provides for a ten-day waiting period.

The assembly passed Assemblyman McMillin's bill to refer to a referendum of the electorate of cities of more than 45,000 the right to change membership of boards of duration from five to nine. The present law makes the membership increase in boards of education and efficient lobby able to pass legislation of "one kind or another under the whip of their own peculiar methods." He declared that the prohibition legislation was passed under the stress of war conditions and "those that should have been heard were not heard."

"The American people are so constituted that they always accept the will of the majority," said the Passaic assemblyman. Service to Be Good Must Be Permanent and Dependable

Fewer Jitneys in City

There are fewer jitney buses in operation throughout the city, according to the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which reports that a tax has been paid on about 25 per cent fewer than in former years for the year just ending. The tax on each jitney bus is $20 a year, while the tax on seven-passenger cars used for transporting persons is $10 a year. A great many jitney owners who have gone out of business claim that the business pays well the first and second year, but after that the wear and tear of materials does not result in the business being profitable. (From the Newark Sunday Call, January 16, 1921.)

—of 288 jitneys licensed in 1916 to run in Newark ONLY 28 are still in business.

—of 169 jitneys licensed in 1917 to run in Newark ONLY 11 are still in business.

—of 193 jitneys licensed in 1918 to run in Newark ONLY 53 are still in business.

—of 356 jitneys licensed in 1919 to run in Newark ONLY 167 are still in business.

1006 Jitneys Licensed During Four Years
747 Have Already Faded Away

No community can progress without transportation facilities and every community must have service that is RELIABLE, service that is DEPENDABLE, service that is CONTINUOUS, service that is PERMANENT.

Do the above figures, from the official records, hold any hope that the jitneys can give any such service?

No wonder competent judges, who have impartially studied the problem, declare that the electric railway is "a factor of essential importance" to every community, and that unless their usefulness is to be sacrificed "they must be permitted to earn enough to pay the entire cost of the service rendered, including the necessary cost of both capital and labor."

That's all we ask.

of Spring.

Spring comes first to the milliner and second to the florist. Perhaps four months afterward the public perceives her. Yet moralists and ethical students have failed to pay tribute to the two who, above all others, keep alive our faith in spring. How heartening it is to see hats of tulle and straw pressing through the blizzard, wild roses smiling from a snow-weighted bough! In the Valentine month, before the swamps have shown the pussy-willow, we may meet white lilac trees and daffodils, crocuses and tulips, violets and iris, by merely peering through a pane. Snows cannot frighten us nor ice dismay. We gaze upon the joyous hats, the living blooms of peach and cherry and know that Primavera will not too long delay. New York Evening Post.

Eskimo's Peculiar Belief.

The Eskimo has a peculiar method of seeking spiritual help to aid in the health of his offspring, and also to make him intelligent. He foregoes any set form of cathechesis, and studies and depends entirely on magic. To give his son the strength of a bear he sews into the boy's cap a piece of skin from the roof of a bear's mouth. Piousness of having his offspring grow into an intelligent man, he sews a piece of fox head into the clothing of the boy, which is supposed to be a sure method of endowing him with the cunning of the fox.
