An Improved Gasoline

Every motorist in New Jersey should profit by this announcement

FOR many years the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) has maintained a special division of its staff whose activities are devoted entirely to the development of new products and the constant improvement of those already being manufactured. A large share of the work of this Development Department centers around the production and quality of "Standard" Motor Gasoline.

As a result of continuous research work and exhaustive, practical road tests conducted by this Department, we are able to announce the production of a decidedly improved quality of gasoline.

The "Standard" Motor Gasoline which is now obtainable at every "Standard" filling pump is improved not only in one particular respect but in every way that has a bearing on the actual performance of motors.

The average gasoline user is not aware of the large number of factors that govern the quality of gasoline he buys. In fact, he usually doesn't care about the factors. He is interested, first, last and always, in the quality as it is delivered to him. So, without a wealth of technical information, the motorist measures gasoline quality by one, and what is after all the final, deciding test, namely—its behavior in his motor.

Gasoline must be good not in one respect but in all respects. To make it seem better, even to an expert, without really being better, is not an improvement. Our present product is really better from every standpoint—so much so that you will quickly notice the difference.

It has never been the practice of this company to claim economies and technical merits for its products which the average motorist could not prove for himself. Give "Standard" Motor Gasoline a trial. This is all we ask you to do. We are confident that, purely on the basis of its performance and economy, you will use it regularly. Try it today.

STANDARD OIL COMPANY (New Jersey)

This is the first of a series of informative advertisements concerning the relation of gasoline quality to the operation and performance of motors.

The recollection of courtesy lasts long after the grouch is forgotten.—F. D. Van Amburgh.

Fordson TRADE MARK Farm Tractor

More than 100,000 Fordson tractors have been sold to farmers in the United States. They are helping those farmers do more and better work in less time and at less cost. North, East, South, West—everywhere the Fordson has proven itself a money-maker and a real necessity to the farmer. Besides it is helping mightily to solve the labor problem.

These one hundred thousand and more practical farmers have affirmed the economy—the exceptionally low fuel and operating cost—of the Fordson; its time and labor-saving qualities and its ability to increase production. The Fordson was built to be the most economical tractor; it is compact and devoid of excessive weight. And it is built of the same strong iron and steel as is the Ford car.

Winter or bad weather does not hinder the Fordson's usefulness. Day or night—twenty-four hours a day if you choose—you can utilize the Fordson.

There's a practical use for the Fordson every day of the year. Let's tell you. Come in and have a tractor talk. Give us the chance to make a demonstration on your own farm.

Sunday School 'Lesson'

By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D.,
Teacher of English Bible in the Moody
Bible Institute of Chicago.
(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR AUGUST 14

PAUL IN ICONIUM AND LYSTRA.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 14:1-2.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve.—Matt. 4:10.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matthew
10:18-19.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul Heals a Cripple.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul's Narrow Escape
at Lystra.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—Early Adventures in Asia Minor.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC
—Examples of Paul's Missionary Methods.

1. Paul and Barnabas Preaching at Iconium (vv. 1-7).

As to their work in Iconium observe:

1. Their manner of preaching. This is suggested by the little word "so" in verse 1. They "so" spoke that a great multitude believed. They were true preachers. Only that which brings conviction of sin and induces decision for Christ can be truly said to be preaching in the biblical sense. The same is true of the Sunday school teacher.
Let every Sunday school teacher at all times have as his supreme aim to bear the gospel of Christ so as to induce decision for Christ.

2. Their attitude toward opposition.
This is suggested by the word "therefore" in verse 3. "Long time therefore they tarried." The opposition did not prevent their preaching, but incited them to continue preaching. Christian workers should learn not to give up work because of opposition.

3. The Lord accompanied their preaching with miracles (v. 8). Since the opposition was so fierce, special help of the Lord was needed.

4. The effect of their preaching
(v. 4). The multitude of the city was divided. Where men faithfully preach the gospel there will be division.

11. Attempt to Worship Paul and Barnabas as Gods (vv. 8-13).

1. The occasion (vv. 8-10)—the healing of the lame man. God's gracious power exhibited in healing this lame man occasioned a new difficulty. That which ought to have been a help was turned into a hindrance. The man was a confirmed cripple. He had never walked. He heard Paul's preaching, which caused faith to be born in his heart (Rom. 10:17). When Paul perceived that he trusted Christ, he called with a loud voice that all could hear for the man to stand upright. The cure was instant, for he leaped up and walked (v. 10). There was no magnetic touch, no treatment, only the command, and the naturally impossible became the possible and the real.

2. The method (vv. 11-13). They called Barnabas Jupiter and Paul Mercury, because he was the chief speaker.
The priest of Jupiter brought oxen and garlands ready to offer sacrifices unto those men (v. 11). If they had only known, in the person of Jesus Christ God had actually appeared to men (John 1:14; Phil. 2:7, 8).

3. Their efforts frustrated (vv. 14-18). This foolish act was happily averted by the tact of the apostles, as exhibited in the address of the occasion. (1) They deny that they are divine beings and declare that to worship beings with like passion to themselves is criminal. (2) They direct them to turn away from these vain things unto the living God who made heaven and earth and has ever left witness of Himself in that He has always done good, giving rain and fruitful seasons, filling their hearts with gladness.

III. The Stoning of Paul (vv. 19-22).
Wicked Jews from Antioch and Iconium pursued Paul with relentless hate to this place, where they stirred up the very people who were willing to worship them a little while ago.
This shows that satanic worship can soon be turned into satanic hate. This hated took form in stoning Paul and dragging him out of the city for dead.
God raised him up, and with undaunted courage he pressed on with his duties as a missionary bearing the good tidings to the lost.

Soon after this Paul turned back and revisited the places where he had preached, telling them that through great tribulation they must enter into the kingdom of God.

IV. The Organization of Churches in the Field (vv. 23-28).
Evangelization with Paul did not mean a hasty and superficial preaching of the gospel but the establishment of a permanent work. Elders were appointed in every church. The work of the missionary is not done until there are established on the field self-governing and self-propagating churches.

What is Man?
What is man that thou shouldst magnify him? and that thou shouldst set thine heart upon him? and that thou shouldst visit him every morning, and try him every moment?—Job 7:17, 18.

The Dwelling Place of the Lord.
Then said Solomon, the Lord hath said that he would dwell in the thick darkness. But I have built an house of habitation for thee, and a place for thy dwelling forever.—II Chronicles 4:1, 2.

Two Swimming Events Cancelled

While it will not be finally decided until the meeting to be held Tuesday, September 6th, it is highly probable that the Yacht Club will vote to discontinue the big swimming event held here for the last five years, and Mr. Durborow will retire from the chairmanship of the swimming committee. It is felt that the club members do not realize the work and effort it means to bring here the world's best swimmers and to run off smoothly the national championship events. It seems these events have lost their novelty and the swimming committee is not adverse to a rest.

Mr. Durborow headed the swimming committee and introduced swimming at the club in the fall of 1917. At that time a team of the best Philadelphia girl swimmers were brought here and gave to Riverton its first swimming treat. The next year saw the long-distance national championship brought to Riverton, where it has remained since, or for a period of four years.

It is not only the great swims held here that will go down in swimming history, and the great stars who performed, but the development of our own boys and girls. The Yacht Club, to interest its juvenile members in swimming, started the practice of giving bronze medals to all who swim across and back. In the last three years sixty-four bronze medals have been awarded and thirty-seven silver ones. There is hardly a boy or girl in Riverton who has not swam across the river. The sagacious members of the Yacht Club and town than any other sport. Nothing will develop one as will swimming, and our youngsters may continue the work Mr. Durborow and his swimming committee has started and maintained for the last five years.

The coast team of championship girl swimmers who were to swim on Labor Day, could not muster the necessary expenses to come on east, and so the Riverton Yacht Club decided on that account the three-mile meet and the girls' three-mile meet which had been planned for the day, and instead, in the afternoon, the Riverton boys and girls will compete in the same style of swimming history with the great stars who have swam here in the last five years.

On Wednesday afternoon, August 10th, Laddie Dickinson, eleven years old, swam across the river, winning the Yacht Club's bronze medal. Laddie made the distance in 35 minutes and swam about two miles, as the strong flood tide carried him nearly up to the filter plant. He is the youngest boy to swim the river and shares honors with Miss Nancy Biddle who swam across and then across and back when eleven years of age. Mr. Durborow swam with Laddie and says he finished strong and has the material for an excellent swimmer.

Thursday afternoon Edgar Miller, Walter Radcliff and Giles Knight, accompanied by Mr. Durborow, started out to make Yacht Club swimming history. Edgar Miller, aged 13 years, reached the Pennsylvania shore in exactly eighteen minutes, which is not only the best juvenile time ever hung up for the feat, but the best time under 21 years of age. Walter Radcliff, aged 14, crossed in twenty minutes, and Giles Knight, aged 13, in twenty-three minutes. All three were remarkable times for such youngsters. Radcliff and Knight made the round-trip, their times being forty-two and fifty-three minutes respectively. The across river and back is becoming too easy for our boys, and many are clamoring now for the Delair bridge to Riverton swim, while still others ask for the famous ten-mile course.

Riverton Caddies Beat Moorestown

There has long been a keen rivalry and much talk of who were the better players between the caddies of the Riverton and Moorestown golf links. Last Monday it was put to the test, Riverton winning out by one-quarter point. The individual scores by points follows:

Moorestown	Riverton
T. Cicero 0	J. Joice 8 & 7
J. Barthlow 0	J. Gorman 3 & 2
N. Wilkins 0	R. Bowers 4 up
H. Ward 5 & 3	W. Hebrew 0

CANNOT CHANGE RIVER BANK

Borough Council Advises that Such Action Cannot Be Taken Without Permission of Borough Council

At the July meeting of the Mayor and Council attention was called to the fact that a number of the residents of Bank street are planning to change the course of the roadway on that street, moving it nearer to the water between Penn street and Lippincott avenue. At that time the clerk was asked to get the opinion of the borough attorney as to what rights the borough had in the matter. At the meeting last night a lengthy letter was read from the solicitor stating that such change could not be made without the consent of the borough authorities.

This brought up the old subject of the borough taking over this street and putting it on the same basis as the other streets. On a motion made by Councilman Geiss and seconded by Councilman Atlee and unanimously passed, the clerk was instructed to ascertain from the solicitor what steps would be necessary for the borough to take over this street.

The fire and water committee, to which was referred the matter of investigating the water pressure for fire purpose, and recommendation of efficient means to secure adequate fire protection, reported that the water pressure now furnished by the water company was as great as could be supplied owing to the greater demand on the system for domestic uses, and recommended the purchase of a motor pump fire apparatus. The report was accepted and a committee appointed to select a suitable apparatus and make recommendations as to how it should be paid for, and where it shall be housed. It is proposed to keep the two fire trucks now owned by the borough. The committee consists of the fire and water committee and H. H. Murray.

Mr. Atlee said that, as chairman of the committee appointed to suitably dispose of the guns that had been bought by the borough for the Home Guards during the war, he recommended that two of them be retained for the use of the police department and the others presented to the members of the Guard, the distribution to be made by former Captain Frishmuth. His suggestion was unanimously accepted.

Councilman Geiss reported that the ordinance establishing a code of building regulations would be ready to present to council for consideration at the next meeting.

The ordinance regulating the operation of jineys passed final reading.

In reply to several complaints as to the manner in which the shade trees in the borough are being cared for, which have been made to council, and transmitted to the commission, the commission addressed a communication to council stating that the appropriation permitted of only the most necessary work being done, and that if the sum available was four times as large, much more work and some new planting could be done. The law under which shade tree commissions operate make them pretty much a law unto themselves once they have been appointed, and it is within their province to lay out what work they deem necessary, and ask council for the money to do it. Mr. Mattis called attention to the fact that many of the young trees about town were dying of blight.

E. C. Stoughton tendered his resignation as a member of the board of health, which was accepted with regret. Mr. Stoughton has been connected with some branch of the borough government in an official capacity ever since the borough was organized.

Councilman Atlee urged that the fire hydrants be tested at least every three months. At a recent practice drill by the fire company a stone almost as large as a man's fist was found wedged in one of the hydrants so that the top had to be taken off to remove it. Another hydrant had become so worn or damaged that it could not be turned on with the wrench used for that purpose.

The mayor called attention to the fact that the natural watercourse through the township of Palmyra giving Riverton surface water access to the river was choked with weeds within the Palmyra township territory and that the township had refused to remedy the condition. The clerk was instructed to ascertain from the attorney just what rights Riverton had in the matter.

The mayor reported that several complaints had been made to him about river weeds and weeds that were permitted to grow up on the sidewalks, obstructing their proper use by pedestrians. The clerk was requested to read the ordinance covering this matter. The ordinance provides that sidewalks shall be kept free from grass and weeds, and that where the property owners fail to do this, the work shall be done by the borough authorities and charged against the property. The term "sidewalk" in the meaning of this ordinance includes all the space between the fence line and the curb.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Mattis Wins Boat Race

The race between the three boats of the L. I. class last Saturday afternoon was filled with thrills. The usual procedure was varied by the winning of the contest by Ogden Mattis, sailing William Bowers' Com, with Robertson at the helm of the Lewanna second. Rex Showell, with his Bellerose, got third place, but the distances between the boats were so small that it was anybody's race until the line was crossed.

The course was straight up and down the river, the points being the black buoy off the Red Dragon and the black buoy at Hens and Chickens.

The boats got away in a fine breeze, Mattis and Robertson together. While they engaged in a luffing match for the windward position, Showell made off up the river, getting a fine lead which he maintained until after rounding the upper mark. On the stretch down the river he was overhauled by both of the other boats. He regained his lead over the Lewanna, but lost it in a luffing match at the lower mark. The second time over the course, letting Robertson in for second place in the finish. So close was the race that there was less than a minute between the finishing time of the first boat and that of the last.

Lewanna Wins Riverton Trophy

Capt. F. W. Robertson and his crew, composed of Ogden Mattis and Kenneth F. Hicks, had a great time aboard the Lewanna on their trip down the Chesapeake Bay, and in the races held there, one for the trophy offered by the Riverton Yacht Club and the Moore trophy of the Baltimore Yacht Club.

The squad will go from town to town until the entire State of New Jersey has been visited.

STREETS PRIVATELY OWNED

Public Service Must Get Permission of Private Company Before Street Lights Can Be Installed

Quite a sensation was created among members of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night by what to most of them was the revelation that the streets in several blocks of the town are still in a manner owned and controlled by the J. L. Lippincott Company, of Riverton.

This control was stated to amount to the power on the part of the Lippincott Company to fix the conditions under which gas, electricity and telephone lines can be extended along those streets and to compel such public utilities to make payments to the Lippincott Company for the privilege of the use of the streets.

Furthermore there was said to be a narrow strip of land along the south side of the railroad from Morgan avenue to the Riverton borough line, in between the two sections of Broad street, which is Palmyra's main thoroughfare, absolutely owned by the Lippincott company. The telephone company has its poles there and was said to have to pay a dollar a year for each wire to the Lippincott company for the privilege.

What was even more astonishing to the Chamber of Commerce was the statement that the Lippincott company had never been taxed a single penny for this land.

The reason for this amazing situation was that the streets in question had never been dedicated to the township, the Lippincott company having gone ahead quite independent of the township in developing its tract of land, laying out, opening and naming streets as it pleased.

One authority present said the company had purposely failed to dedicate the streets in order to retain power over public utilities in that section. A real estate man conversant with conditions said, however, that it had been the result of a method used by the company to lessen its taxes.

It was said that the company had never plotted its tract into lots, as was the custom in similar developments, but kept it listed as farmland and assessed at $300 an acre, whereas when lots were sold to individuals they would then be assessed at $200 a lot, the equivalent of $1200 an acre.

The section of the former Lippincott tract wherein the streets had never been dedicated was described as lying between Highland avenue and the Riverton line, and from Wallace street south to Park avenue. The section north of Wallace street, extending to Broad, has been dedicated. The matter came up as the result of inquiries as to why the township did not repair the upper end of Washington avenue, where dangerous ditches have been washed by recent storms, and also as the result of an effort by the township committee to have an electric light placed at Broad and Morgan for the benefit of the new bank building. Regarding the light, the Public Service Company replied that it would first be necessary to make arrangements with the Lippincott company for the placing of poles.

A resolution was passed that the township committee be asked to get busy to remedy the situation at once. The township practice of using unwashed gravel on streets was again criticized.

Township Committeeman A. N. Stewart, a member of the Chamber, explained that the township work on streets had always been hampered by the little money available, only $3000 yearly being appropriated to care for 17 miles of streets. The only solution, he thought, would be to bond the town for a sufficient amount to do a thorough job on all the streets.

A resolution was passed to request the township committee to have the engineer make a report on what would be required to make permanent repairs on the upper end of Washington avenue.

The speeding of automobiles on Broad street was criticized. Some machines were said to go 60 miles an hour. No arrests, it was said, had ever been made for speeding in Palmyra, and it was believed such measures would have a salutary effect.

The following new members were elected: M. J. McDermott, J. H. Abbott, Edward Fisher, Robert E. Ezar Carhart, J. Edwin Lees, J. B. Rustie, Edgar F. Shaner, DeWitt Morris, Edwin Griscom and Franklin Morris.

Twenty Thousand Shares All Sold
The "Customer-ownership" campaign inaugurated by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey has been a complete success. The management of the company undertook to secure the active co-operation of as many of its patrons as it could by inviting them to subscribe for its 8% cumulative preferred stock, with a limit of ten shares to a customer, under the installment payment plan provided.

One of the company's standpoint the most gratifying feature of the effort was that the stock was sold to 7,474 individuals, thus bringing that many more partners into the enterprise, and although the conditions of sale called for monthly payments, nearly fifty per cent of the issue was paid for, the cash sales amounting to $903,300. The success of the undertaking was prompted the corporation to continue it but on a less intensive basis.

more Club.
The Lewanna won the trophy offered by the Riverton Club, while in the contest for the Moore trophy she got second place twice and third place once.

There were four boats in the races—the Lewanna, the Slider, Diamond Back, and Snapper, and the contest for the Riverton trophy was enlivened by the last-minute entry of a mysterious stranger black boat called the Secret, and sailed by Captain Hinman. The boats were so evenly matched that only a few minutes, and in some instances, seconds elapsed between the finishing time of the first and last boats. The Snapper, which won the Moore trophy, made an average speed of eight miles an hour over the 10½ mile course.

Interesting detailed accounts of each of the races were published in the Baltimore papers, of which Capt. Robertson has clippings.

In describing the first race for the Riverton trophy, the Baltimore paper says:

"With her mast bending under a stiff southeast breeze and with every yard of her canvas set, the Lewanna, of the Riverton Yacht Club, Philadelphia, shot over the water yesterday morning in the first of the series of Larchmont interclub sloop races for the Riverton and Moore trophies. Closely following in the wake of the winner came the Snapper, of the Baltimore Yacht Club, which finished just 48 seconds after the Quaker City boat had hauled to the wind. The other entries, the Slider, Back and Slider, finished in the order named."

The work of Capt. Fred W. Robertson, of the Lewanna, especially his ability to keep his vessel hauled close to the wind with a full spread of canvas, was especially commendable.

The Lewanna left Riverton at 7 o'clock on the morning of July 14 in a light breeze that freshened to the time League Island was reached so that it was necessary to double reef.

Delaware City was reached at 7 in the evening, the crew dined on fish spray. After an uncomfortable night spent fighting mosquitoes, they pulled out Friday morning in tow of a small sturgeon skiff which took them to Chesapeake City, at the end of the canal by 1 o'clock, when they again set sail, fighting head winds and passing through six thunder squalls in the Elk river. Turkey point in the Chesapeake Bay was passed about 6 o'clock, and sailed into Still Pond (on the eastern shore) at 9. After a swim in fine clear salt water the crew enjoyed a big meal and a real night's rest. The boat was under way again at 7 o'clock Saturday morning for the run across the bay and up to Baltimore, where they arrived at noon, and were received with a hearty welcome which extended over the week.

The return trip was started Sunday morning in tow of the yacht Martha, of Washington, which took them to Delaware City, a most welcome lift, as one of the crew had to leave the Lewanna at Baltimore and return by train. At Delaware City they were picked up by another yacht, bound for Philadelphia, which towed them as far as Essington—a great piece of good luck, as the wind was very light. The run from Essington was made under sail and the Lewanna picked up her moorings at Riverton about 10 o'clock that night.

Wesleyan Picnic

Members of the Wesleyan Bible class and their families and friends to the number of seventy or more, enjoyed the annual class picnic at Cedar Lake last Saturday afternoon.

There was a baseball game, races, a pie-eating contest, especially enjoyed by the juveniles, bathing, a box lunch and a good time generally.

Thursday evening the class had its first baseball game, defeating the East Riverton team by 15-3 in five innings, not so bad for a bunch of old-uns. Hubbs was the Wesleyan pitcher. The game was started by darkness. Next Thursday evening they expect to play the Girard Grocery Company team.

HUDSON PONTOON BRIDGE PLANS

Forty Shipping Board Vessels to Span River From Yonkers to Alpine.

TAXABLE PROPERTY INCREASE

War Risk Insurance Squadron Will Visit Cities of State to Advise Veterans of Their Rights.

Trenton.—Additional facts about the pontoon bridge across the Hudson River, proposed in the bill introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, have been secured from George A. Post, president of The Hudson River Bridge and Terminal Association, who is one of the incorporators named in the bill, creating the Hudson River Pontoon Bridge Company, actively promoting the enterprise.

"I am glad," said Mr. Post, "to give out information concerning this undertaking as fast as it is available."

"There is one point to which I desire to call attention especially in connection with the proposed legislation, and that is that if the proposed bridge shall be built under an act of Congress, and under the approval of the secretary of war, the tolls to be charged the users of the bridge will be fixed by the secretary of war, representing the public. As the bridge is to be a temporary structure, it, of course, will have to be paid for, principal and interest, within ten years from the date of its completion, and the cost of maintenance and operation will be matters under the cognizance of the secretary of war, who will fix the tolls, so as to accomplish the necessary financial result, gauged by the volume of traffic over the bridge."

"If the traffic increases gradually and constantly, so that the earnings at the rate initially fixed by the secretary of war reach an amount greatly in excess of requirements for the payments into the sinking fund, operation, maintenance, interest, and so forth, a revision of the toll rate can be made by the secretary of war upon representations made to him."

"As to the manner of construction of the bridge as planned—there will be used about forty ships of the type known as the Ferris wooden cargo boats, of which the Shipping Board has 189 available. These ships are 265 feet long, 45 feet wide and 20½ feet deep, weighing about 4,000 tons each."

"It is expected these boats can be purchased from the United States Shipping Board at a figure which will allow of the building of the bridge at an expense low enough to warrant the expectation of a fair return on the capital invested."

When asked why it is proposed to locate the pontoon bridge between Yonkers and Alpine instead of farther down the river, Mr. Post explained:

"The reason for locating the pontoon bridge at Yonkers is because at that point the shipping traffic is very light and the interference with navigation, in any way, will be negligible."

"With the exception of the Hudson River Day Line boats (one each way daily) and the Albany night boats (two each way daily) and, occasionally, a naval vessel going to and from Iona Island and a freight boat to Newburg and the shipyards, the boats or tugs plying the river would not require the lifting of the draw, but would pass under the bridge."

To Tell All Veterans of Rights

Plans for the statewide cleanup campaign of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, which will be conducted in an effort to adjust the compensation claims of wounded or disabled former service men, were made at a meeting in the Newark office of the bureau. The meeting, which was in charge of Thomas J. McEvoy, chief of the Newark bureau, was held in conjunction with an order issued from Washington, ton. It was attended by a medical examiner and an insurance and claims contract agent from Washington, local medical examiners and representatives of the Red Cross and American Legion.

The purpose of the campaign is to advise all former service persons of their rights under the war risk insurance act; to assist disabled former service persons in securing compensation, medical treatment and hospital care; to inform and assist all claimants regarding the procedure necessary in filing a claim for compensation and insurance; to assist those whose claims are pending in securing final action where additional evidence is necessary; to connect their disability with service or other data required by the bureau, and to provide for immediate physical examination where necessary and promptly furnish hospitalization for urgent cases.

The work of examining ex-service men and adjusting claims will be conducted by a squadron which will visit every section of the state. Included in the squadron will be a medical examiner, a claims adjuster, a clerical staff and representatives of the American Legion and Red Cross. When the examinations are made and the claims adjusted the application will be sent directly to Washington instead of through the local office.

The members of the squadron will be Dr. Robert Talbot and James Dwyer, medical examiner and claims adjusting agent, respectively, of Washington; James Dwyer, representing the Red Cross, and Raymond P. White, representing the New Jersey Chapter of the American Legion. The work will be directly in charge of Mr. McEvoy.

The campaign will open August 15 in Trenton, continuing in that city for a week. The squadron will then visit Camden for one week and expects to arrive in Newark about the first week in September. After visiting these cities the squadron will go to other sections of the state and remain in those sections until all examinations are made and claims adjusted.

Want Boxing Law Repealed
A campaign is to be waged by Rev. Dr. Crafts of the International Reform

Bureau, and Jersey men of his way of thinking for the repeal of the New Jersey boxing law. At least, that is the announcement.

Candidates for the legislature will be supported at the primaries next month and at the election in November, it is frankly stated, who are pledged to the repealer.

Of course it is the privilege of any group of men who want any statute changed or repealed to bring their influence to bear to nominate and elect men as assemblymen and senators who will carry out their wishes. Organization lends strength to any such movement.

A test of the popularity of the boxing law in New Jersey will be interesting. There will be a better chance for it next fall undoubtedly than a year hence, when the issues of a campaign involving the governorship, a United States senatorship and congressmen would detract from the attention that voters could be induced to give to boxing.

Those who would abolish professional boxing in the state, must be 100 per cent optimists, though, to seek a verdict at the polls now on that question. Statutory restrictions upon acts which many regard as innocent were probably never less desired. Prohibition of a sport and amusement that has numerous devotees is hardly a cause that can be expected to arouse any great enthusiasm. However, we shall see what the harvest will be.

Taxable Property Increase

Real and personal property subject to local taxation for the year 1921 in the taxing districts of the state, exclusive of bank and trust company stock, which is separately taxed, amounts to $3,519,841,938.78, according to the report of the State Board of Taxes and Assessments. This amount exceeds that of 1920 by $284,876,999.77. The increase between 1919 and 1920, which was $223,900,164.80, was the largest increase since 1907.

Nearly half of the increase for 1921, the report of the state department shows, comes from the counties of Hudson and Essex alone. The largest increase is in Hudson county, amounting to $80,684,523, due principally to the reassessments made throughout the county, particularly on shore-front properties. Valuation of second-class railroad property was increased by the state board about $14,000,000 and the assessors made a corresponding advance on adjacent properties locally assessed.

Essex county shows an increase of $61,444,513, of which $36,000,000 is on real estate and $25,000,000 on personal property. The real estate increase is attributed principally to the consideration given by the assessors to rents in arriving at their valuations. Instructions to this effect were given by the county board in accordance with legislation of 1920, which provided that the assessor, in determining the value of real estate, should ascertain the amount paid by the owner for the parcel and the amount of rents, if any, received for the preceding year and should consider these elements an entering into the value.

Another reason for the increase in Essex county is a jump of $7,000,000 in the assessment against the Prudential Insurance Company in Newark.

Atlantic county's increase of $18,081,612 arises chiefly in Atlantic City, where nearly $14,000,000 has been added to the tables. The total increase is almost wholly on real estate, personal property accounting for about $1,500,000 of the entire amount.

The advance of $11,880,238 in Camden county is reported by the county board to be largely due to increased sales prices of property and corresponding increases in assessments, particularly in certain districts which the assessors considered as being assessed too low for the previous year. The increase in real estate is over $8,000,000 and the increase in personal property nearly $3,000,000.

Other increases are reported as follows: Burlington, $2,208,410; Cape May, $698,410; Cumberland, $1,801,978; Gloucester, $1,547,274; Hunterdon $618,185; Mercer, $8,805,896; Middlesex, $2,293,784; Monmouth, $5,888,019; Morris, $1,618,314.00; Somerset, $1,091,004; Warren, $757,601. The net valuation of $3,519,841,938.78 for the year 1921 is divided as follows: Real estate (exclusive of second-class railroad property), $2,519,800,718; second-class railroad property, $138,469,238; personal property (exclusive of bank stock), $859,789,007.75.

The following amounts are returned by the county boards of taxation as the value of property specifically exempted from taxation, not including intangible personality, such as exempt stocks or bonds:

Public school property, $78,084,468; other school property, $21,290,288; church and charitable property, $90,516,757; cemeteries and graveyards, $7,046,415; other exemptions, $13,988,844; making a total of $358,238,810. Indignation has been aroused by the recent announcement that through the laxity of the legislature no provision has been made for carrying on the road construction program of the highway department next year, according to J. W. Mason, president of the Newark Automobile Trade Association.

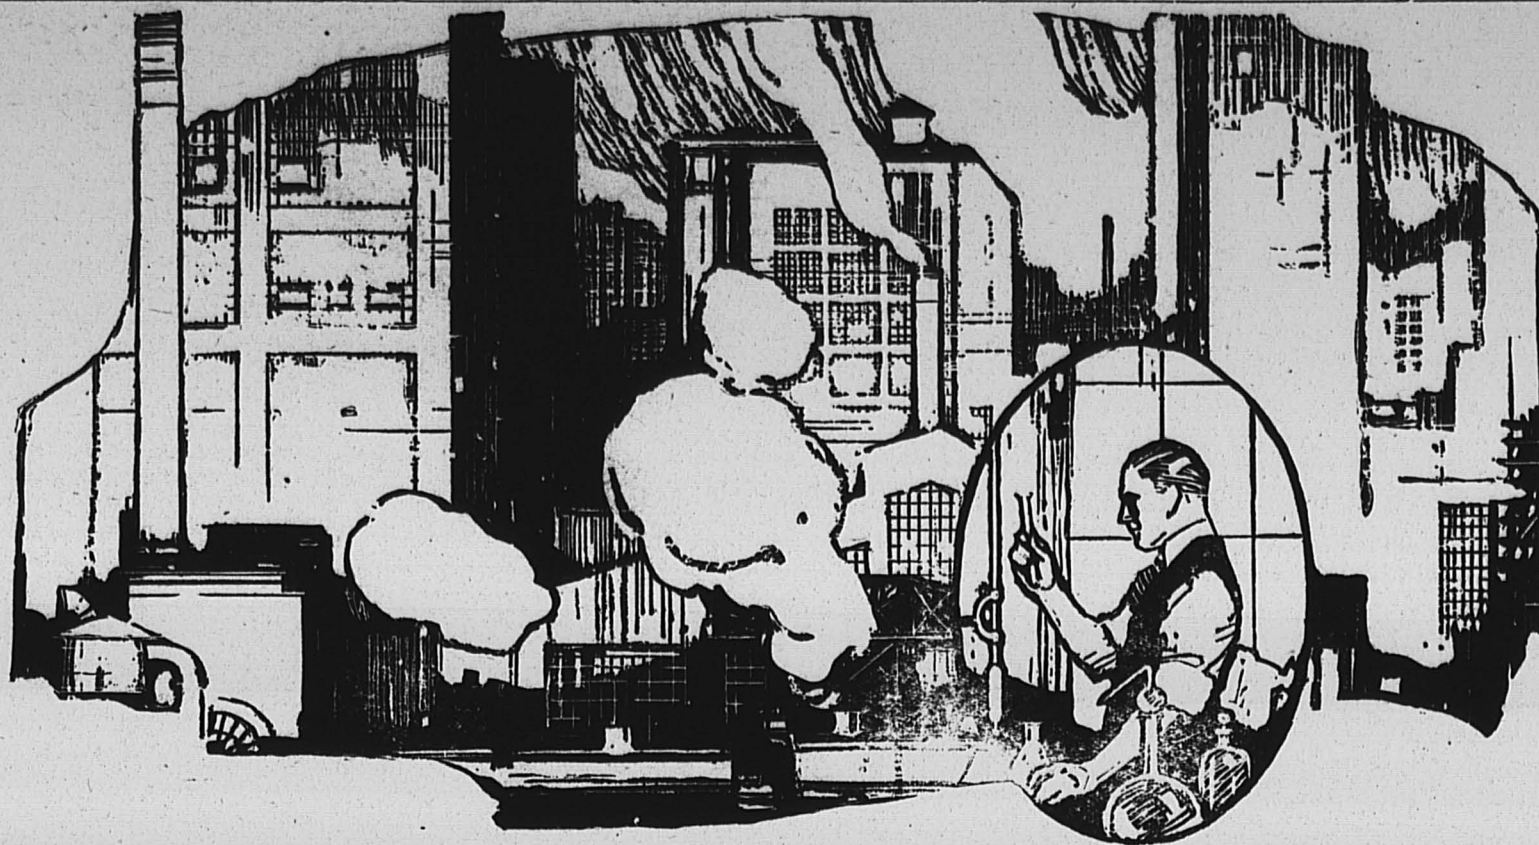

Wonderful, Mysterious Love.

She was a beautiful girl, bubbling over with intellect, an ambitious girl, too who had studied out the matrimonial problem to a nicety. "Yes, I suppose I shall eventually wed," she said; "but the only kind of masculine nuisance that will suit me must be tall and dark, with classical features. He must be brave, yet gentle, withal he must be strong—a lion among men, but a knight among ladies." That evening a bow-legged, lath-framed youth, with red hair and bat-wing ears, wearing check trousers, and smoking a cigarette that smelled worse than a burning head-rattle, rattled on the railings with a whang, and the beautiful girl knocked four tumblers and a cut-glass fruit dish off the side-board in her haste to get to him.

Motor Efficiency vs. Gasoline Efficiency

Why the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) Maintains a Great Experimental Department

THERE is a point beyond which the efficiency of a motor car or truck cannot be guaranteed by its manufacturer. Thousand dollar cars have been known to render longer and more satisfactory service than others which were valued at two or three times as much.

Mechanically your "job" was perfect when it came to you from the factory. The best of materials, commensurate with the price of the car, were used in its construction. The car was as nearly ready for efficient service as the manufacturers could make it.

How do you select Motor Fuel?

From this point the responsibility for efficient operation of your motor lies largely with you (who must select and purchase fuel and lubricants) and with the refiners.

Your task is to find a consistently good gasoline, adjust your carburetor to it, and use no other. Our work is to see that this gasoline is constantly up to standard; to make sure that you can get it wherever your business or pleasure takes you in the field served by the Standard Oil Co. (N. J.); to improve it when possible through the efforts of specialists in our Development Department.

Follow Expert Guidance

Our development men are at work seeking still further to improve our products. These experts have devoted their lives to study of the refining business and the relation between the properties of the oils and the service which they render. They deal only in facts. You can't go wrong in following their guidance.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

THE QUESTIONER.

WHEN Shakespeare wanted to express the tragedy involved in the snuffing out of the life of his most intellectual character, he did it by these words, "The rest is silence."

He might have put it in another way, by saying that Hamlet would ask no more questions. For that was his most disconcerting habit. Keeping silence before a puzzling world, and a puzzling universe, is something that man has never done. The human being who just asked the reason for the first nightfall and the first appearance of the stars stood on the threshold of all modern scientific investigation.

So, if it were necessary to find a definition of man which would differentiate him from all the rest of creatures, it would be sufficient to say of him: "He is the animal that asks questions."

Rudyard Kipling in a striking line talked of "the law of the jungle."

The writers of fables have not pulled the long bow in attributing to the beasts the sense of justice, even if they were making fun of society in doing so. So the lion stands for the maker of rules, and the monkey for him who evades them.

So law is not peculiar to the children of Adam.

The animals know political economy. "Go to the ant thou sluggard," said King Solomon.

This little creature shows what can be done through the organized efforts of thousands of insects, whose operations could be stopped in a moment by the foot of a passing giant in the shape of a mischievous boy.

So business organization is not exclusively human.

It is impossible to look at the combs of a beehive without realizing that the creatures who made it know geometry and architecture.

The cells are so constructed as to give the maximum of strength with the minimum of expenditure in the way of material.

So the Brooklyn bridge, or the dome of St. Peter's, is not a proof of human superiority.

There is a solitary eagle to be seen every morning soaring over a lake in western Ontario. Once he had a mate. But she disappeared one winter. Since then the widower has never married. The natives say that it is the habit of these birds to be perpetually true to their first and only love.

So constancy is not the exclusive virtue of our race.

When Christ wanted to express his affection for Jerusalem, he could think of nothing better to say than that he would have gathered its people about him, as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings. This timid bird will face any peril if she thinks that her young are in danger.

In the same way the bear of the North woods, which will fly before man under ordinary circumstances, will fight to the death if she thinks her cubs are threatened.

So family affection and devotion do not set mankind apart from the rest of the animal kingdom.

Only the other day a raccoon at the Bronx zoological gardens in New York, was in danger of starving to death because the gatekeeper who had tamed and petted him had been sent to the hospital. The animal would not take food from a stranger.

So fidelity and gratitude are not confined to the lords of creation.

But there is no reason to believe that the beasts of the jungle that have their hunting laws, or the ants that lay up their store for winter, or the bees that know practical geometry, or the eagle that mourns his dead wife forever, or the hen that protects her chickens, or the bear that is fearless of rifles, or the raccoon that is faithful to his master, ever asked any questions about the why and wherefore of things.

On the other hand, from the dawn of history, we find man worrying over the riddle of the universe. This too in spite of the fact that, even in the beginning of things he felt that he would never be able to solve it.

So he invented language to convey his questions to his neighbors and alphabets to write them down for his children. He invented mathematics in order to compute the motions of the stars.

By all his questioning he has succeeded in pushing back the curtain that hangs around his universe. Yet he knows perfectly well that in spite of all that his Newtons, Darwins, Einsteins and Curries may do, what Herbert Spencer called "the unknowable" will always elude him.

But as long as he follows the gleam he will be man, as God made him. (Copyright.)

MADE FEAST FOR LOBSTERS

Crustaceans No Doubt Highly Appreciated Mackerel That Seemed to Be Provided for Them.

"Charlie" is well known in his home town of Rockland. While covering his route along the south shore, he got a trade on some nice lobsters and purchased six dandies. A fat mackerel also caught his fancy while speculating in sea food and he took along the handsome specimen. Charles put the packer in with his lobsters and, cranking up his truck, headed for home.

"I've got something here, all right," said Charles to his better half as he carried the big bundle into the house. He dumped a crawling mass of crustaceans on the table but nowhere could he find his mackerel. Back to the auto he went but the fish had disappeared. When the lobsters were boiled and served it was noticed there was a decided flavor of mackerel to them. The diners' suspicions were aroused and, seeking authority, Charles was told that he had guessed correctly—the lobsters had eaten his mackerel. The hungry shellfish, being brought up on salted herring in the traps, were not slow to realize that an epicurean dish was being served them on the long ride home. They made the most of it, too.—Brockton Enterprise.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

My heart is like a phonograph—No sooner is my last love gone Than just to break the awful pause I put another record on my gram.

Face Reveals Character.

Cautious people have nostrils that lie flat to the face, and the nose terminates in a thin, pointed tip. A person with an ignoble character has a head which is prominent close behind the ear, a narrow forehead, and only a short space between the outer corners of the eyes and the ears. A long nose, when accompanied by a pointed chin, is also an unfavorable indication. A prominent upper lip is a distinctive feature of a noble character. It is generally found in persons of superior merit. The three sections of the face—forehead, nose and chin—will be of equal length in such a face.

Tough Luck.

A chap in Newtonville, Ala., read about a man who helped an old woman across the street in New York and was left $85,976.24 by the grateful person. The Newtonville gentleman bought a ticket for New York, helped the first old lady he saw and was arrested for trying to hold her up.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Vermont in History.

Vermont was not a state until after the Revolution. A commission was appointed by New Hampshire, which had charge and controlled the territory. When it was admitted as a state it derived its name from the Green Mountains. Verde—green, Mount—mountain.—Vermont.

Mother's Cook Book

The wisest pilgrim is the one who goes along the highway, hour by hour content. To take the rain or shine the skies have sent; Who counts his riches in each budding rose; Each song the thrush through vernal branches throws; Each marvel of the sunrise; each dusk blent; Of mystery and fragrant sacrament; Each star that in the heaven burns and glows.

PALATABLE DISHES.

A HANDFUL of green onions, a cupful of cooked rice, a cupful of thick white sauce, a cold hard-cooked egg and a little cheese may make a very palatable luncheon dish. Cook the tender young onions until well done; drain. Butter a small baking dish and put in the rice, cover with the drained onions, add a sprinkling of grated cheese the white sauce and bake until bubbling hot. Serve from the dish. The rice should be well seasoned with butter, or with a chicken broth while it is cooking.

Banana Cream.

Slice three ripe bananas, press through a sieve, add a small box of crushed strawberries, reserving part of the juice; beat together lightly and set on ice to cool. Serve in glass cups with whipped cream to which has been added the reserved strawberry juice. Serve very cold.

During the hot weather the simple and less expensive desserts appeal to the housewife. Frozen dishes, when prepared at home, are always acceptable and cost very little.

Lemon Sherbet.

Take three lemons, two cupfuls of sugar and a quart of rich milk. Mix the sugar and lemon juice, add a grated rind if desired, then stir in the milk. The mixture will curdle but when frozen will be smooth and very palatable. Serve in sherbet glasses.

HUDSON PONTOON BRIDGE PLANS

Forty Shipping Board Vessels to Span River From Yonkers to Alpine.

TAXABLE PROPERTY INCREASE

War Risk Insurance Squadron Will Visit Cities of State to Advise Veterans of Their Rights.

Trenton.—Additional facts about the pontoon bridge across the Hudson River, proposed in the bill introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, have been secured from George A. Post, president of The Hudson River Bridge and Terminal Association, who is one of the incorporators named in the bill, creating the Hudson River Pontoon Bridge Company, actively promoting the enterprise.

"I am glad," said Mr. Post, "to give out information concerning this undertaking as fast as it is available. There is one point to which I desire to call attention especially in connection with the proposed legislation, and that is that if the proposed bridge shall be built under an act of Congress, and under the approval of the secretary of war, the tolls to be charged the users of the bridge will be fixed by the secretary of war, representing the public. As the bridge is to be a temporary structure, it, of course, will have to be paid for, principal and interest, within ten years from the date of its completion and the cost of maintenance and operation will be matters under the cognizance of the secretary of war, who will fix the tolls, so as to accomplish the necessary financial result, gauged by the volume of traffic over the bridge.

"If the traffic increases gradually and constantly, so that the tollings at the rate initially fixed by the secretary of war reach an amount greatly in excess of requirements for the payments into the sinking fund, operation, maintenance, interest, and so forth, a revision of the toll rate can be made by the secretary of war upon representations made to him."

"As to the bridge, there will be used about forty ships of the type known as the Ferris wooden cargo boats, of which the Shipping Board has 180 available. These ships are 288 feet long, 45 feet wide and 26½ feet deep, weighing about 4,000 tons each.

"It is expected these boats can be purchased from the United States Shipping Board at a figure which will allow of the building of the bridge at an expense low enough to warrant the expectation of a fair return on the capital invested."

When asked why it is proposed to locate the pontoon bridge between Yonkers and Alpine instead of farther down the river, Mr. Post explained: "The reason for locating the pontoon bridge at Yonkers instead of further down the river, is because at that point the shipping traffic is very light and the interference with navigation, in any way, will be negligible.

"With the country in the Hudson River Day Line boats (one each way daily) and the Albany night boats (two each way daily), and occasionally, a naval vessel going to and from Iona Island and a freight boat to Newburg and the shipyards, the boats or tugs plying the river would not require the lifting of the draw, but would pass under the bridge.

To Tell All Veterans of Rights

Plans for the statewide cleanup campaign of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, which will be conducted in an effort to adjust the compensation claims of wounded or disabled former service men, were made at a meeting in the Newark office of the bureau, Tuesday, August 10, 1921.

The meeting, which was in charge of Thomas J. McElroy, chief of the Newark office, was held in connection with an order issued from Washington, D. C., by the War Risk Insurance Bureau, to assist disabled former service persons in securing compensation, medical treatment and hospital care; to inform and assist all claimants regarding the procedure necessary in filing a claim for compensation and insurance; to assist those whose claims are pending in securing final action where additional evidence is necessary; to connect their disability with service or other data required by the bureau, and to provide for immediate physical examination where necessary and promptly furnish hospitalization for urgent cases.

The work of examining ex-service men and adjusting claims will be conducted by a squadron which will visit every section of the state. Included in the squadron will be a medical examiner, a claims adjuster, a clerical staff and representatives of the American Legion and Red Cross. When the examinations are made and the claims adjusted the application will be sent directly to Washington instead of through the local office.

The members of the squadron will be Dr. Robert LaRue and James Daley, medical examiner and claims adjuster, respectively, of Washington; James Dwyer, representing the Red Cross, and Raymond F. White, representing the New Jersey Chapter of the American Legion. The work will be directly in charge of Mr. McElroy.

The campaign will open August 15 in Trenton, continuing in that city for a week. The squadron will then visit Camden for one week and expects to arrive in Newark about the first week in September. After visiting these cities the squadron will go to other sections of the state and remain in these sections until all examinations are made and claims adjusted.

Want Hearing Law Repealed

A campaign is to be waged by Rev. Dr. Crafts of the International Reform

Bureau, and Jerseymen, of his way of thinking for the repeal of the New Jersey hearing law. At least, that is the announcement.

Candidates for the legislature will be supported at the primaries next month and at the election in November, it is frankly stated, who are pledged to the repealer.

Of course it is the privilege of any group of men who want any statute changed or repealed to bring their influence to bear to nominate and elect men as assemblymen and senators who will carry out their wishes. Organization lends strength to any such movement.

A test of the popularity of the hearing law in New Jersey will be interesting. There will be a better chance for it next fall undoubtedly than a year hence, when the issues of a campaign involving the governorship, a United States senatorship and congressmen would detract from the attention that voters could be induced to give to hearing.

Those who would abolish professional boxing in the state, must be 100 per cent optimists, though, to seek a verdict at the polls now on that question. Statutory restrictions upon acts which many regard as innocent were probably never less desired. Prohibition of a sport and amusement that has numerous devotees is hardly a cause that can be expected to arouse any great enthusiasm. However, we shall see what the harvest will be.

Taxable Property Increase

Real and personal property subject to local taxation for the year 1921 in the taxing districts of the state, exclusive of bank and trust company stock, which is separately taxed, amounts to $3,619,841,908.75, according to the report of the State Board of Taxes and Assessments. This amount exceeds that of 1920 by $294,876,906.77. The increase between 1919 and 1920, which was $223,500,164.80, was the largest increase since 1907.

Nearly half of the increase for 1921, the report of the state department shows, comes from the counties of Hudson and Essex alone. The largest increase is in Hudson county, amounting to $60,684,033, due principally to the reassessments made throughout the county, particularly on shore-front properties. Valuation of second-class railroad property was increased by the state board about $14,000,000 and the assessors made a corresponding advance on adjacent properties locally assessed.

Essex county shows an increase of $61,444,516, of which $38,000,000 is on real estate and $23,000,000 on personal property. The real estate increase is attributed principally to the consideration given by the assessors to rents in arriving at their valuations. Instructions to this effect were given by the county board in accordance with legislation of 1920, which provided that the assessor, in determining the value of real estate, should ascertain the amount paid by the owner for the parcel and the amount of rents, if any, received for the preceding year and should consider these elements an entering into the value.

Another reason for the increase in Essex county is a jump of $7,000,000 in the assessment against the Prudential Insurance Company in Newark. Atlantic county's increase of $18,081,815 arises chiefly in Atlantic City, where nearly $14,000,000 has been added to the tables. The total increase is almost wholly on real estate, personal property accounting for about $1,000,000 of the entire amount.

The advance of $11,889,588 in Camden county is reported by the county board to be largely due to increased sales prices of property and corresponding increases in assessments, particularly in certain districts which the assessors considered as being assessed too low for the previous year. The increase in real estate is over $6,000,000 and the increase in personal property nearly $5,000,000.

Other increases are reported as follows: Burlington, $2,208,410; Cape May, $698,416; Cumberland, $1,801,970; Gloucester, $1,547,374; Hunterdon $618,185; Mercer, $3,805,898; Middlesex, $9,263,784; Monmouth, $5,588,019; Morris, $1,616,514.93; Somerset, $1,991,964; Warren, $739,821.

The net valuation of $3,619,841,908 for the year 1921 is divided as follows: Real estate (exclusive) of second-class railroad property, $2,819,806,716; second-class railroad property, $186,499,286; personal property (exclusive of bank stock), $698,789,907.75.

The following amounts are returned by the county boards of taxation as the value of property specifically exempted from taxation, not including intangible personality, such as exempt stocks or bonds: Public school property, $78,034,460; other school property, $21,290,588; church and charitable property, $90,516,777; cemeteries and graveyards, $7,749,415; other exemptions, $13,668,344; making a total of $363,268,514. Making allowance has been made for the recent announcement that through the action of the legislature no provision has been made for carrying on the road construction program of the highway department next year, according to J. W. Mason, president of the New York Automobile Trade Association.

Wonderful, Mysterious Love.

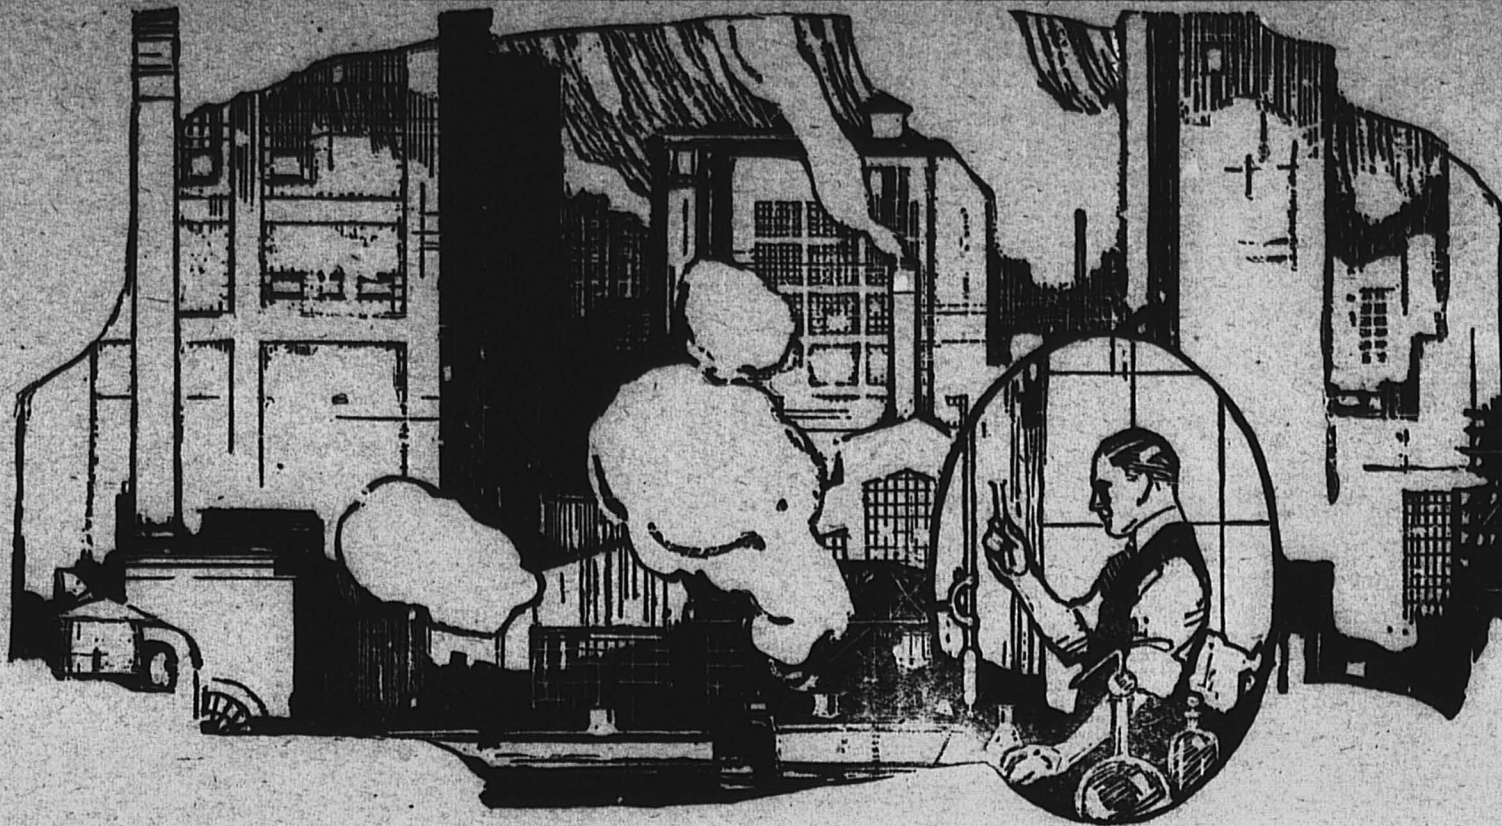

She was a beautiful girl, bubbling over with intellect, an ambitious girl, too who had studied out the matrimonial problem to a nicety. "Yes, I suppose I shall eventually wed," she said; "but the only kind of masculine nuisance that will suit me must be tall and dark, with classical features. He must be brave, yet gentle, withal he must be strong—a lion among men, but a knight among ladies." That evening a bow-legged, lath-framed youth, with red hair and bat-wing ears, wearing check trousers, and smoking a cigarette that smelled worse than a burning boot, rattled on the railings with a whang, and the beautiful girl knocked over tumbled and a cut-glass fruit dish off the side-board in her haste to get to him.

Motor Efficiency vs. Gasoline Efficiency

Why the Standard Oil Company (New Jersey) Maintains a Great Experimental Department

THERE is a point beyond which the efficiency of a motor car or truck cannot be guaranteed by its manufacturer. Thousand dollar cars have been known to render longer and more satisfactory service than others which were valued at two or three times as much.

Mechanically your "job" was perfect when it came to you from the factory. The best of materials, commensurate with the price of the car, were used in its construction. The car was as nearly ready for efficient service as the manufacturers could make it.

How do you select Motor Fuel?

From this point the responsibility for efficient operation of your motor lies largely with you (who must select and purchase fuel and lubricants) and with the refiners.

Your task is to find a consistently good gasoline, adjust your carburetor to it, and use no other. Our work is to see that this gasoline is constantly up to standard; to make sure that you can get it wherever your business or pleasure takes you in the field served by the Standard Oil Co. (N. J.); to improve it when possible through the efforts of specialists in our Development Department.

Follow Expert Guidance

Our development men are at work seeking still further to improve our products. These experts have devoted their lives to study of the refining business and the relation between the properties of the oils and the service which they render. They deal only in facts. You can't go wrong in following their guidance.

Something to Think About

By F. A. WALKER

THE QUESTIONER.

WHEN Shakespeare wanted to express the tragedy involved in the suffering out of the life of his most intellectual character, he did it by these words, "The rest is silence."

He might have put it in another way, by saying that Hamlet would ask no more questions. For that was his most disconcerting habit.

Keeping silence before a puzzling world, as a puzzling universe, is something that man has never done. The human being, who just asked the reason for the first nightfall and the first appearance of the stars stood on the threshold of all modern scientific investigation.

No, if it were necessary to find a definition of man which would differentiate him from all the rest of creatures, it would be sufficient to say of him: "He is the animal that asks questions."

Rudyard Kipling in a striking line talked of "the law of the jungle."

The writers of fables have not pulled the long bow in attributing to the beasts the sense of justice, even if they were making fun of society in doing so. So the lion stands for the maker of rules, and the monkey for him who evades them.

So law is not peculiar to the children of Adam.

The animals know political economy. "Go to the ant thou sluggard," said King Solomon.

This little creature shows what can be done through the organized efforts of thousands of insects, whose operations could be stopped in a moment by the foot of a passing giant in the shape of a mischievous boy.

So business organization is not exclusively human.

It is impossible to look at the comb of a beehive without realizing that the creatures who made it know geometry and architecture.

The cells are so constructed as to give the maximum of strength with the minimum of expenditure in the way of material.

So the Brooklyn bridge, or the dome of St. Peter's, is not a proof of human superiority.

There is a solitary eagle to be seen every day, soaring over a lake in western Ontario. Once he had a mate.

But she disappeared one winter. Since then the widower has never married. The natives say that it is the habit of these birds to be perpetually true to their first and only love.

So constancy is not the exclusive virtue of our race.

When Christ wanted to express his affection for Jerusalem, he could think of nothing better to say than that he would have gathered its people about him, as a hen gathers her chickens under her wings. This timid bird will face any peril if she thinks that her young are in danger.

In the same way the bear of the North woods, which will fly before man under ordinary circumstances, will fight to the death if she thinks her cubs are threatened.

So family affection and devotion do not set mankind apart from the rest of the animal kingdom.

Only the other day a raccoon at the Bronx zoological gardens in New York, was in danger of starving to death because the gatekeeper who had timed and petted him had been sent to the hospital. The animal would not take food from a stranger.

So fidelity and gratitude are not confined to the lords of creation.

But there is no reason to believe that the beasts of the jungle that have their hunting laws, or the ants that lay up their store for winter, or the bees that know practical geometry, or the eagle that mourns his dead wife forever, or the hen that protects her chickens, or the bear that is fearful of rifles, or the raccoon that is faithful to his master, ever asked any questions about the way and wherefore of things.

On the other hand, from the dawn of history, we find men worrying over the riddle of the universe. This too in spite of the fact that, even in the beginning of things he felt that he would never be able to solve it.

So he invented language to convey his questions to his neighbors and alphabets to write them down for his children. He invented mathematics in order to compute the motions of the stars.

By all his questioning he has succeeded in pushing back the curtain that hangs around his universe. Yet he knows perfectly well that in spite of all that his Newtons, Darwins, Einsteins and Curries may do, what Herbert Spencer called "the unknowable" will always elude him.

But as long as he follows the gleam he will be man, as God made him. (Copyright.)

MADE FEAST FOR LOBSTERS

Crustaceans No Doubt Highly Appreciated Mackerel That Seemed to Be Provided for Them.

"Charlie" is well known in his home town of Rockland. While covering his route along the south shore, he got a trade on some nice lobsters and purchased six dandies. A fat mackerel also caught his fancy while speculating in sea food and he took along the handsome specimen. Charlie put the mackerel in with his lobsters and, cranking up his truck, headed for home.

"I've got something here, all right," said Charlie to his better half as he carried the big bundle into the house. He dumped a crawling mass of crustaceans on the table but nowhere could he find his mackerel. Back to the auto he went but the fish had disappeared. When the lobsters were boiled and served it was noticed there was a decided favor of mackerel to them. The diners' suspicions were aroused and, seeking authority, Charlie was told that he had guessed correctly—the lobsters had eaten his mackerel. The hungry shellfish, being brought up on salted herring in the traps, were not slow to realize that an epicurean dish was being served them on the long ride home. They made the most of it, too.—Brooklyn Enterprise.

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

My heart is like a phonograph. No sooner is my last love gone Than just to break the awful pause I put another record on.

Face Reveals Character.

Cautious people have nostrils that lie flat to the face, and the nose terminates in a thin, pointed tip. A person with an ignoble character has a head which is prominent close behind the ear, a narrow forehead, and only a short space between the outer corners of the eyes and the ears. A long nose, when accompanied by a pointed chin, is also an unfavorable indication. A prominent upper lip is a distinctive feature of a noble character. It is generally found in persons of superior merit. The three sections of the face—forehead, nose and chin—will be of equal length in such a face.

Tough Luck.

A chap in Newtonville, Ala., read about a man who helped an old woman across the street in New York and was left $85,976.24 by the grateful person. The Newtonville gentleman bought a ticket for New York, helped the first old lady he saw and was arrested for trying to hold her up.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Vermont in History.

Vermont was not a state until after the Revolution. A commission was appointed by New Hampshire, which had charge and controlled the territory. When it was admitted as a state it derived its name from the Green Mountains. Verde—green. Mount—mountain.—Vermont.

Mother's Cook Book

The wisest pilgrim is the one who goes along the highway, hour by hour content.

To take the rain or shine the skies have sent; Who counts his riches in each budged rose; Each song the thrush through vernal branches throws; Each marvel of the sunrise; each dusk blent; Of mystery and fragrant sacrament; Each star that in the heaven burns and glows.

PALATABLE DISHES.

A HANDFUL of green onions, a cupful of cooked rice, a cupful of thick white sauce, a cold hard-cooked egg and a little cheese may make a very palatable luncheon dish. Cook the tender young onions until well done; drain. Butter a small baking dish; put in the rice, cover with the drained onions, add a sprinkling of grated cheese the white sauce and bake until bubbling hot. Serve from the dish. The rice should be well seasoned with butter, or with a chicken broth while it is cooking.

Banana Cream.

Slice three ripe bananas, press through a sieve, add a small box of crushed strawberries, reserving part of the juice; beat together lightly and set on ice to cool. Serve in glass cups with whipped cream to which has been added the reserved strawberry juice. Serve very cold.

During the hot weather the simple and less expensive desserts appeal to the housewife. Frozen dishes, when prepared at home, are always acceptable and cost very little.

Lemon Sherbet.

Take three lemons, two cupfuls of sugar and a quart of rich milk. Mix the sugar and lemon juice, add a grated rind if desired, then stir in the milk. The mixture will curdle but when frozen will be smooth and very palatable. Serve in sherbet glasses.

HUDSON PONTOON BRIDGE PLANS

Forty Shipping Board Vessels to Span River From Yonkers to Alpine.

TAXABLE PROPERTY INCREASE

War Risk Insurance Squadron Will Visit Cities of State to Advise Veterans of Their Rights.

Trenton.—Additional facts about the pontoon bridge across the Hudson River, proposed in the bill introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, have been secured from George A. Post, president of The Hudson River Bridge and Terminal Association, who is one of the incorporators named in the bill, creating the Hudson River Pontoon Bridge Company, actively promoting the enterprise.

"I am glad," said Mr. Post, "to give out information concerning this undertaking as fast as it is available. There is one point to which I desire to call attention especially in connection with the proposed legislation, and that is that if the proposed bridge shall be built under an act of Congress, and under the approval of the secretary of war, the tolls to be charged the users of the bridge will be fixed by the secretary of war, representing the public. As the bridge is to be a temporary structure, it, of course, will have to be paid for, principal and interest, within ten years from the date of its completion, and the cost of maintenance and operation will be matters under the cognizance of the secretary of war, who will fix the tolls, so as to accomplish the necessary financial result, gauged by the volume of traffic over the bridge.

"If the traffic increases gradually and constantly, so that the earnings at the rate initially fixed by the secretary of war reach an amount greatly in excess of requirements for the payments into the sinking fund, operation, maintenance, interest, and so forth, a revision of the toll rate can be made by the secretary of war upon representations made to him."

"As to the cost of construction of the bridge as planned—there will be about forty ships of the type known as the Ferris wooden cargo boats, of which the Shipping Board has 189 available. These ships are 208 feet long, 45 feet wide and 20½ feet deep, weighing about 4,000 tons each.

"It is expected these boats can be purchased from the United States Shipping Board at a figure which will allow of the building of the bridge at an expense low enough to warrant the expectation of a fair return on the capital invested."

When asked why it is proposed to locate the pontoon bridge between Yonkers and Alpine instead of farther down the river, Mr. Post explained:

"The reason for locating the pontoon bridge at Yonkers instead of farther down the river, is because at that point the shipping traffic is very light and the interference with navigation, in any way, will be negligible.

"With the exception of the Hudson River Day Line boats (one each way daily) and the Albany night boats (two each way daily) and, occasionally, a naval vessel going to and from Iona Island and a freight boat to Newburg and the shipyards, the boats or tug plying the river would not require the lifting of the draw, but would pass under the bridge.

To Tell All Veterans of Rights

Plans for the statewide cleanup campaign of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, which will be conducted in an effort to adjust the compensation claims of wounded or disabled former service men, were made at a meeting in the Newark office of the bureau. The meeting, which was in charge of Thomas J. McElroy, chief of the Newark bureau, was held in conjunction with an order issued from Washington, D. C. It was attended by a medical examiner and an insurance and claims contract agent from Washington, local medical examiners and representatives of the Red Cross and American Legion.

The purpose of the campaign is to advise all former service persons of their rights under the war risk insurance act; to assist disabled former service persons in securing compensation, medical treatment and hospital care; to inform and assist all claimants regarding the procedure necessary in filing a claim for compensation and insurance; to assist those whose claims are pending in securing their claims where additional evidence is necessary; to connect their disability with service or other data required by the bureau, and to provide for immediate physical examination where necessary and promptly furnish hospitalization for urgent cases.

The work of examining ex-service men and adjusting claims will be conducted by a squadron which will visit every section of the state. Included in the squadron will be a medical examiner, a claims adjuster, a clerical staff and representatives of the American Legion and Red Cross. When the examinations are made and the claims adjusted the application will be sent directly to Washington instead of through the local office.

The members of the squadron will be Dr. Robert LaRoe and James Daley, medical examiner and claims adjusting agent, respectively, of Washington; James Dwyer, representing the Red Cross, and Raymond F. White, representing the New Jersey Chapter of the American Legion. The work will be directly in charge of Mr. McElroy.

The campaign will open August 15 in Trenton, continuing in that city for a week. The squadron will then visit Camden for one week and expects to arrive in Newark about the first week in September. After visiting these cities the squadron will go to other sections of the state and remain in those sections until all examinations are made and claims adjusted.

Want Boring Law Repealed

A campaign to be waged by Rev. Dr. Crafts of the International Reform Bureau, and Jerseymen of his way of thinking for the repeal of the New Jersey boring law. At least, that is the announcement.

Candidates for the legislature will be supported at the primaries next month and at the election in November, it is frankly stated, who are pledged to the repealer.

Of course it is the privilege of any group of men who want any statute changed or repealed to bring their influence to bear to nominate and elect men as assemblymen and senators who will carry out their wishes. Organization lends strength to any such movement.

A test of the popularity of the boring law in New Jersey will be interesting. There will be a better chance for it next fall undoubtedly than a year hence, when the issues of a campaign involving the governorship, a United States senatorship and congressmen would detract from the attention that voters could be induced to give to boring.

Those who would abolish professional boxing in the state, must be 100 per cent optimists, though, to seek a verdict at the polls now on that question. Statutory restrictions upon acts which many regard as innocent were probably never less desired. Prohibition of a sport and amusement that has numerous devotees is hardly a cause that can be expected to arouse any great enthusiasm. However, we shall see what the harvest will be.

Taxable Property Increase

Real and personal property subject to local taxation for the year 1921 in the taxing districts of the state, exclusive of bank and trust company stock, which is separately taxed, amounts to $3,519,841,208.75, according to the report of the State Board of Taxes and Assessments. This amount exceeds that of 1920 by $304,870,999.77. The increase between 1919 and 1920, which was $223,900,164.80, was the largest increase since 1907.

Nearly half of the increase for 1921, the report of the state department shows, comes from the counties of Hudson and Essex alone. The largest increase is in Hudson county, amounting to $30,084,028, due principally to the reassessments made throughout the county, particularly on shore-front properties. Valuation of second-class railroad property was increased by the state board about $1,400,000 and the assessors made a corresponding advance on adjacent properties locally assessed.

Essex county shows an increase of $31,444,510, of which $36,000,000 is on real estate and $25,000,000 on personal property. The real estate increase is attributed principally to the consideration given by the assessors to rents in arriving at their valuations. Instructions to this effect were given by the county board in accordance with legislation of 1920, which provided that the assessor, in determining the value of real estate, should ascertain the amount paid by the owner for the parcel and the amount of rents, if any, received for the preceding year and should consider these elements in arriving at the value.

Another reason for the increase in Essex county is a jump of $7,600,000 in the assessment against the Federal Insurance Company in Newark. Atlantic county's increase of $18,051,613 arises chiefly in Atlantic City, where nearly $14,000,000 has been added to the tables. The total increase is almost wholly on real estate, personal property accounting for about $1,600,000 of the entire amount.

The advance of $11,590,598 in Camden county is reported by the county board to be largely due to increased sales prices of property and corresponding increases in assessments, particularly in certain districts which the assessors considered as being assessed too low for the previous year. The increase in real estate is over $3,000,000 and the increase in personal property nearly $2,000,000.

Other increases are reported as follows: Burlington, $2,208,410; Cape May, $998,416; Cumberland, $1,801,970; Gloucester, $1,547,374; Hunterdon $618,185; Mercer, $3,905,898; Middlesex, $2,933,784; Monmouth, $5,888,019; Morris, $1,616,514.60; Somerset, $1,001,964; Warren, $707,801. The net valuation of $3,519,841,208 for the year 1921 is divided as follows: Real estate (exclusive of second-class railroad property), $2,510,800,716; second-class railroad property, $194,499,389; personal property (exclusive of bank stock), $808,760,902.75.

The following amounts are returned by the county boards of taxation as the value of property specifically exempted from taxation, not including intangible personal property, such as exempt stocks or bonds:

Public school property, $78,004,409; other school property, $21,200,598; church and charitable property, $90,167,767; cemeteries and graveyards, $7,949,415; other exemptions, $13,688,844; making a total of $308,308,610.

Indignation has been aroused by the recent announcement that through the laxity of the legislature no provision has been made for carrying on the road construction program of the highway department next year, according to J. W. Mason, president of the Newark Automobile Trade Association.

The diners' suspicions were aroused and, seeking authority, Charlie was told that he had guessed correctly—the lobsters had eaten his mackerel. The hungry shellfish, being brought up on salted herring in the traps, were not slow to realize that an epicurean dish was being served them on the long ride home. They made the most of it, too.—Brooklyn Enterprise.

Face Reveals Character.

Cautious people have nostrils that lie flat to the face, and the nose terminates in a thin, pointed tip. A person with an ignoble character has a head which is prominent close behind the ears, a narrow forehead, and only a short space between the outer corners of the eyes and the ears. A long nose, when accompanied by a pointed chin, is also an unfavorable indication. A prominent upper lip is a distinctive feature of a noble character. It is generally found in persons of superior merit. The three sections of the face and forehead, nose and chin—will be of equal length in such a face.

Tough Luck

A chap in Newtonville, Ala., read about a man who helped an old woman across the street in New York and was left $35,976.24 by the grateful person. The Newtonville gentleman bought a ticket for New York, helped the first old lady he saw and was arrested for trying to hold her up.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Vermont in History

Vermont was not a state until after the Revolution. A commission was appointed by New Hampshire, which had charge and controlled the territory. When it was admitted as a state it derived its name from the Green Mountains. Verde—green, Mount—mountain.—Vermont.

Mother's Cook Book

The wisest plunger is the one who goes along the highway, hour by hour content.

To take the rain or shine the skies have sent;

Who counts his riches in each budding rose;

Each song the thrush through vernal branches thrives;

Each marvel of the sunrise; each dusk gleam;

Of mystery and fragrant sacrament; Each star that in the heaven burns and glows.

PALATABLE DISHES.

A HANDFUL of green onions, a cupful of cooked rice, a cupful of thick white sauce, a cold hard-cooked egg and a little cheese may make a very palatable luncheon dish. Cook the tender young onions until well done; drain. Butter a small baking dish and put in the rice, cover with the drained onions, add a sprinkling of grated cheese the white sauce and bake until bubbling hot. Serve from the dish. The rice should be well seasoned with butter, or with a chicken broth while it is cooking.

Banana Cream.

Slice three ripe bananas, press through a sieve, add a small box of crushed strawberries, reserving part of the juice; beat together lightly and set on ice to cool. Serve in glass cups with whipped cream to which has been added the reserved strawberry juice. Serve very cold.

During the hot weather the simple and less expensive desserts appeal to the housewife.

Frozen dishes, when prepared at home, are always acceptable and cost very little.

Lemon Sherbet.

Take three lemons, two cupfuls of sugar and a quart of rich milk. Mix the sugar and lemon juice, add a grated rind if desired, then stir in the milk. The mixture will curdle but when frozen will be smooth and very palatable. Serve in sherbet glasses.

Friends of Prohibition Preparing to Fight

A meeting to organize Burlington county for better enforcement of Prohibition will be held at Mount Holly on Monday, August 22nd, at 8 p. m., in the Court House.

New Jersey has probably the most effective enforcement law in the Union, but it is the object of most vigorous and vicious attacks and needs to be thoroughly understood, and some representative friends are needed in each community who thoroughly understand its provisions, how to apply them and how to defend them.

The object of this meeting is: First: To have a full and frank explanation and discussion of our New Jersey Van Ness and Elliot laws, full opportunity being given for questions.

Second: To arrange to organize in each community a local committee which will be working together into a county committee for educational and law-enforcement purposes, and incidentally, to defend our laws.

The committee calling this meeting is composed of Henry T. Small, prothonotary, Charles D. Barton, Herman Croshaw, William C. Coles, Mrs. Caroline H. Engle, Mrs. Nina G. Franz, Mrs. Clara Haines, Elwood Hollingshead, Mrs. Ella Iretton, E. A. Mechling, William F. Overman, Howard G. Taylor and William Zelley.

Senator Borah at Asbury Park

A mass meeting for the discussion of Limitation of Armament will be held in the auditorium at Asbury Park Monday evening, August 29th, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters, of which Miss A. B. Campbell is local chairman. The speakers expected are: Dr. John Lovejoy Elliott, Mrs. Christina Merriman, and provided Congress is not in session at the time, Senator Borah.

Senator Borah is thoroughly in sympathy with the work of the women for limitation of armament. When Mrs. Colton, State organizer of New Jersey, asked him to address the Asbury Park meeting, he said: "I am delighted to cooperate in any way I can. The work the women are doing is magnificent. They are creating a good atmosphere for the coming International Conference." "I believe," he said to Mrs. Colton, "that if the right atmosphere had been created for the Versailles Conference—if the people had been let into the secrets and been made to feel that they could help, too—that things would have gone better there."

DEATHS

He was an honorary member of the Camden County Medical Society, and a member of the New Jersey State Medical Society. He attended the one-hundredth and the one-hundred-fiftieth anniversary of the latter society. Since he retired from practice many years ago he has resided in Riverton.

The funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at 1043 Washington street, Cape May.

Sheriff Loses Salary Suit

The opinion rendered by Judge Katzenbach in the case of Sheriff Flagg against the county for increase of salary, is adverse to the increase and dismisses the rule to show cause upon which the suit was brought to the attention of the county court. Justice: The suit was based upon the allegation that an amendment made by the legislature of 1921 to the original salary act, carried an implied repeal of an act passed in 1920, which excluded the population of Camp Dix from the census of Burlington county. The 1921 amendment fixes the salaries of deputy county officials, etc., and bases them upon the last federal census. The judge held that this amendment is not inconsistent with and does not repeal the 1920 act. The 1920 statute excluding the Camp Dix population, keeps the federal census figures below 80,000 for the county; and therefore the salaries of county officials remain as heretofore.

Changes at the School

The additions and improvements at the school have been about completed, and the building is much better equipped to fill the purpose for which it is intended.

The floor of the kindergarten room has been planned and refinished, giving it a neat, clean and cheery appearance.

The planing was done by the Camden Hardwood Floor Company, of Camden, and the finishing was done by Coddington.

The eighth grade room has been equipped for the use of the classes in domestic science. Four gas ranges, four kitchen sinks, four electric stoves and suitable dishes and cooking utensils have been provided.

The plumbing and gas fitting was done by William B. Leysen, of Camden.

Electric lights have been installed in the auditorium, the halls, domestic science room and the office. An annunciator has been placed in the principal's office, connecting her desk with all the class rooms. Two fine electric lamps have been placed outside the doorway and will be a great convenience when the building is used in the evening.

The electrical work was done by M. R. Blackwell, and the outside lamps were furnished by the Biddle-Gaumer Company.

Owing to the introduction of domestic science it has been necessary to convert the doctor's office into a classroom, and the upper corridor will be used as a study hall.

The public is cordially invited to visit and inspect the building after school opens on September 12.

Three Watermelon Thru Windshield

Last Friday evening a peculiar piece of mischief was perpetrated by some boys who were riding on a truckload of watermelons. As a car passed, one of the boys threw a melon through the windshield, cutting the two occupants of the front seat. This occurred near Taylor's station. The occupants of the car, two young men from Beverly, came to Riverton and had the driver of the truck arrested. Justice of the Peace S. Howard Troth imposed a fine and costs on the owner paid for the broken windshield and the doctor's bill. The arrest was made by Officer Walter Miller.

Nearly Drowned at Wildwood

Mrs. Annie Cole and her sister, Mrs. Samuel Little, of Tacony, narrowly escaped drowning at Wildwood last week. They had been bathing and had started to the beach when they were caught in the undertow and dragged down. When they were rescued by the life guards Mrs. Little was unconscious and Mrs. Cole was completely exhausted. They were taken to the emergency hospital where the doctors worked over Mrs. Little two hours before she regained consciousness.

Horse Killed by Automobile

Coming home from Riverside a little after 12 o'clock Wednesday night, the Hollingshead car, occupied by Stuart Hollingshead, Biddle Fitter, Joe Lezenby, and Nelson Richman collided with the farm wagon belonging to Edward Frech, of Riverside, which was returning from market. The horse was killed and the occupants of the car cut and bruised. Richman suffering the greatest damage.

Young Republican Club Candidates

A meeting of the Young Republican Club was held Monday night and it was decided to put Edward R. Williams in the field to run for Mayor in opposition to Mayor Bennett. It is also understood that Walter C. Wright will be their candidate for the borough council to take the place of William N. Mattis, who has declined to stand for re-election.

Another meeting of the club will be held next Monday night at which time it is hoped to complete the organization and make final arrangements to secure headquarters in the frame building at Broad and Main streets recently vacated by Fred B. Miller.

Plans for Memorial Monument Progress

Two models of proposed monuments were submitted at the meeting of the committee last night. One of them is on exhibition at Adolph's store. This model has not been approved by the committee.

The sub-committee on site reported that it had been in touch with the Public Service Corporation relative to the purchase of the lot at Broad and Main streets, but that no definite reply had been received.

The committee desires to have it clearly understood that the proposed monument is not intended to conflict in any way with the memorial park now under way by the borough authorities.

ANNOUNCEMENT

At the repeated request of a number of good people of this county, I have decided to run for the Republican nomination for the office of Surrogate of Burlington county at the Primary Election to be held September 27th next, and I solicit the support of all voters.

I consider that the Office of Surrogate is one of the most important offices in the county and every voter, especially the tax-payers, ought to be interested in seeing that a qualified person is nominated and elected. The work is somewhat technical and, in my opinion, requires a person with some legal training and experience to properly look after it, and in order that you may know something about me, I will give you a brief history of myself.

I was born in Pemberton, N. J., and have always lived there. After leaving the Public School in Pemberton, I went to the William Penn Charter School in Philadelphia and was graduated from there in 1901. I then entered Princeton University and was graduated from there in 1905. After my graduation I engaged in the banking business in Philadelphia for three years and then read law in the office of Judge Harold B. Warr, at Bordentown, and was admitted to the bar of the State in 1911 as an attorney-at-law, and in 1916 as a counsellor-at-law. Since my admission to the bar I have been in active practice at Mount Holly. I am married and my wife was Ethel C. Budd, of Pemberton, and we have two children.

I am a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, of Pemberton, N. J., being one of the Official Board and Treasurer of the Trustees. I am also Assistant Superintendent of the Sunday School. I am, and for a number of years have been a member of the County Committee of the Burlington County Y. M. C. A., and have taken an active interest in the same. I am a director of the Mount Holly Safe Deposit and Trust Company and treasurer and solicitor of the Pemberton Building and Loan Association. I am a member of the Masonic Lodge and of the Odd Fellows Lodge.

I have always been a Republican and at the present time am, and for a number of years have been on the Burlington County Republican Committee. I have always believed in and stood for clean politics and at the Primary Elections I have voted and worked for those candidates who, I believed, were the best men and best qualified for the office and I always voted and worked for Woman's Suffrage and Prohibition, and for these reasons I have not always had the favor of the so-called party bosses.

A large part of my business has been in connection with matters that have to do with the Surrogate's Office and Orphans' Court and I am familiar with the proceedings and I believe that I am well qualified to fill the office for which I am asking your support, and if nominated and elected, I will do my best to keep up the high standard with which the office has been conducted during the past five years.

Respectfully submitted,

WILLIAM H. HEISLER, Jr.

Bids Asked for Sewer System

At the meeting of the Palmyra township committee Tuesday evening Engineer Vosbury reported that plans for the sewer system, including all suggested extensions, had been completed and that he was ready to advertise for bids for the laying of the same. This he was empowered to do by the committee and the date of September 6 was set for receiving the bids.

Mr. Vosbury said that in order to incorporate into the plans for the disposal plant and pumping station all the latest improvements, he wished to take further time before asking bids for them and this was also approved.

The Engineer reported that the Pennsylvania Railroad had agreed to assist in the work of running the sewer and the Morgan avenue drain pipe under its tracks, thus saving the township some $800.

The protest of the Chamber of Commerce regarding the status of the streets in the section of the Lippincott extension was presented by William E. Jenkins, Assessor John Shide announced that he had assessed the strip of land along the railroad still owned by the Lippincott company at $400 three or four years ago, and had been taxed it since that time, although up to that time the strip had never been taxed.

Regarding the dedication of the streets in question, the township committee was very anxious to get the matter straightened out. Chairman Davies said he had tried to bring about some satisfactory arrangement of the matter for several years.

Solicitor Beckenbach gave an opinion that the streets were in reality dedicated, as there had been informal acts of dedication and acceptance on the sides, but that the Lippincott company still retained some rights over the use of the streets by public utilities.

It was reported that the township was being confronted with a similar situation in the Lewis Wallace development along Spring Garden street west of Cinnaminson.

Nelson Wallace was present to protest to the committee against the taking of sod from along the roadways and paths leading to his farm, water holes and mud having resulted.

There was also a protest by the Palmyra Kaituma Hill about boys shooting holes in their glass windows. The police were notified.

Deputy Tax Collector was instructed to arrest those who failed to pay poll taxes in arrears.

Tenth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Graham celebrated their tenth wedding anniversary on Tuesday evening a surprise party being arranged for them by Mrs. Speakman. Their home at Fourth and Horace avenue was beautifully decorated with flowers.

An anniversary wedding supper was served, the wedding cake being baked by Mrs. Graham, similar to the one which graced the wedding supper two years ago. The evening was spent in singing and dancing. A flashlight picture of the guests was taken by Harry Curry. Many beautiful gifts were received by Mr. and Mrs. Graham, among them being a cut glass dish 42 years old, from Mrs. Fichter.

Trolley Freight Service September 1

Trolley freight service between Camden and Trenton will be inaugurated by Public Service Railway Company September 1. Receiving and delivery stations are being established at both terminal and, in addition, stations will be provided in Palmyra, Riverside, Beverly, Burlington, Roseland, Florence and Bordentown.

Camden freight will be handled at the Newton avenue car house and the Trenton station will be at Public Service junction Liberty and Adelina streets. Besides the stations named, the company will provide for stops where consignors can meet cars and ship merchandise at points which include Delair, Delanco, Cambridge, Plaza Park and Fieldsboro.

The freight cars will be operated only at night so that there will be no interference with passenger traffic on the Riverside line. Many shippers have asked for such a service, and for a beginning a trip in each direction will be made each night, affording a fast and direct service for the points named.

Old Home Day Notes

There will be a meeting of the full committee in Society hall on next Tuesday evening, the 23rd, 8 o'clock. Every member is requested to be present.

George J. Spencer has been appointed chairman of the sub-committee on invitation and reception. The residents of Palmyra are requested to hand to Mr. Spencer, or some member of his committee, the name and address of those former residents that they may know of, so that invitations may be sent them.

New Bank Nearing Completion

The finishing touches on the new home of the Palmyra National Bank are rapidly being completed for opening day on Saturday, August 27.

The furniture and partitions were being placed in position this week, while the electrical experts were installing the burglar alarm system. The lighting fixtures are also being installed and the safety deposit boxes placed in the vault.

Invitations for the opening are to be sent broadcast and a big crowd is expected to be on hand to inspect the splendid new home of the institution.

It is understood that they discussed prosecution procedure should the committee uncover violations of the law.

Bricklayers, masons and plasterers of Newark won their fight against a $1-a-day wage reduction when an arbitrator awarded their old rate of $10 a day. The new agreement, which runs until January 1, however, is contingent upon the New York scale, and reductions will be guided accordingly.

While fishing with H. B. Derbyshire, a retired Philadelphia manufacturer, in his yacht, Cyclo, off Five Points Bank Lightship, Emory Eysen, son of Julian Eysenman, of the Pennsylvania Railroad, caught two sharks that measured eight feet and eight feet four inches long and tipped the scales at 450 and 500 pounds each. The lad is only thirteen years of age.

He battled with the sharks for over two hours before landing them and played them out without the assistance of any of the party on the yacht. Mayor Miller and members of Common Council heard the views of the taxpayers of Salem on the proposed extension of the water system to avoid conditions such as existed the first of the month, when the town was practically without water for either domestic or fire purposes. The courthouse was filled with citizens determined that Council at once obtain a permanent water supply.

Two aliens, both with prison records, have been arrested by Trenton police on charges of having been implicated in Black Hand rackets. Directors of four street railway companies have entered into a consolidation agreement for the creation of the Trenton-Princeton Traction Company. The companies are the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Traction Company, the Trenton, Lawrenceville and Princeton Railway Company, the Trenton, Lawrenceville and Princeton Extension Railroad Company and the Princeton Street Railway Company. The merger was agreed upon in the interests of more efficient operation.

The Savior to Profane History. Among the historical references to Jesus Christ which are unduplicated in that made by Tacitus, the Roman historian, who on speaking of the Christians said, "The originator of that name had been executed in the reign of Tiberius by order of the administrator, Pontius Pilate." This may be found in the Annals of Tacitus. Reference to Christ is also made in the "Antiquities of Josephus," a Jewish historian, who was contemporary with Christ, but this passage is declared by some to be a forgery.

LESSON FOR AUGUST 28

FROM ASIA TO EUROPE.

LESSON TEXT—Acts 18:1-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—And they said, believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house—Acts 16:31.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Rom. 8:15-17.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Wonderful Dream.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul Crosses Over Into Europe.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Beginning Work on a New Continent.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul Carries the Gospel to Europe.

I. Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to Preach the Word (vv. 1-6).

We have here a lesson on divine guidance. The inclination of Paul and his companions was to tarry in the province of Asia preaching the word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. They might have reasoned "What difference would it make as to where we preach, just so the Gospel is preached?" Though seemingly small, the question as to whether the Gospel should be preached among the people in the East or in the West has determined the entire history of the church. Had they preached among the people in the East, Christianity would never have become worldwide. On the other hand, by laying hold upon the Grecian intellect and combining with it the push and energy of the Romans, it became worldwide. In the guidance of the Spirit we find Him just as active and as faithful in closing doors as in opening them. "The steps as well as the steps of a good man are ordered of the Lord." We ought to be truly recognize God's hand in the "chance" as well as in the "open-ings."

II. Called to Macedonia (vv. 9-12).

A vision was given to Paul of a man from Macedonia pleading for help. This was the solution of the mystery of closed doors about them. There is a negative and a positive side to the Spirit's guidance. If we will note both we shall be able to determine with a surety the proper course of action. In order to be led aright we must be sure that we are willing to be led, pray definitely for leading, and then render willing obedience as fast as the light comes. As soon as the divine way was known they rendered immediate obedience.

III. The First Convert in Europe (vv. 13-15).

The missionaries went to Philippi. The Jewish element in this city was very insignificant; so much so that they could not afford a synagogue; therefore the devout people were accustomed to worship at the river side. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women gathered there. A certain woman from Thracia believed his message, and was baptized. Lydia was a woman of wealth, culture, and wide experience, and yet she had need of Christ. The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note:

1. Attendance at the place of prayer (v. 13). This is the case with most people who are saved.

2. Listened to the preaching of the word of God (vv. 12-14). The instrument used by the Holy Spirit in the conversion of sinners is the word of God. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14). Regeneration is a supernatural work. When the Gospel is preached the Spirit of God makes it living and active, opening the sinner's heart for the reception of Christ.

4. She was baptized (v. 15). It is natural for the one who believes in Christ to desire to be baptized.

5. Her household also believed (v. 16). Thus we see that her's was a typical conversion.

IV. A Spirit of Divination Cast Out (vv. 16-18).

As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accosted by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gains from her soothsaying. This act of the woman became a great annoyance to Paul who, in the name of Jesus Christ, commanded the evil spirit to come out. Here is a case of a spiritual medium, a fortune-teller, being freed from demonic possession. Many men today are making money by the degradation of womanhood, and they resent all efforts to destroy their internal business, even try to destroy those who interfere with their business. Here as everywhere Satan blocks the way as the Gospel of Christ is carried into new fields, but the Lord is again triumphant.

The Multitude of His Mercies. For the Lord will not cast off forever; but though he causes grief, yet will he have compassion according to the multitude of his mercies. For he doth not afflict willingly nor grieve the children of men—Lamentations 3:31-33.

Word of Lord Was Precious. And the child Samuel ministered unto the Lord before Eli. And the word of the Lord was precious in those days; there was no open vision—1 Samuel 3:1.

The Political Situation

The Young Republican Club, which has declared its intention of putting in the field a full set of candidates at the primary election on September 27, met for the election of officers Monday night, and arranged for an open meeting and smoker next Monday evening, at which it is expected several of the county candidates will make addresses.

E. R. Williams, candidate for mayor, remains steadfast, but Walter C. Wright, who had been picked for council, refused to run. Nothing daunted, the Young Republicans declare they will have a full ticket by the time the petitions have to be filed. In the other camp, Mayor Bennett has been prevailed upon to be a candidate for re-election, and last night Ralph L. Flower consented to be a candidate for council to take the place of William N. Mattis, who will retire after nearly a quarter of a century of faithful and efficient service.

Mayor Bennett has a fine record as councilman and mayor. Mr. Flower, while as yet untried as a borough official, is known to be a man of discretion and sound judgment, and will make an excellent councilman.

Ferry Activities

A large sign has been erected at the Jersey terminal of the new ferry, at the foot of Cinnaminson avenue, giving distances between well-known points, the number of vehicles now being carried by the Philadelphia ferries (28,000 on July 4) and much other interesting information. The work on the Pennsylvania terminal is about four-fifths finished and it is expected to have the boats running by early spring.

A "dock trial" of one of the boats will be made this week, and a committee is now in New York looking at another boat. On Tuesday George T. Sales, E. L. Williams and C. A. Wright held a conference with the Palmyra township committee concerning the grading at the foot of Cinnaminson avenue, to meet the approach of the ferry landing. The matter was referred to the engineers of the township, the county and the ferry company, and after they have gone over the ground and have a recommendation ready the ferry company and the township will get together again.

The township committee passed a resolution requesting the county to take over Cinnaminson avenue from Broad street to the river so as to take care of the expected heavy traffic to the ferry.

Bloodhounds to Hunt Auto Thieves
A bloodhound has been taken to Glassboro, N. J., to help the police in hunting for auto thieves who have been stripping parts from automobiles.

Harry Marts, of Philadelphia, arrested in Glassboro as a suspect, offered to lead the county detective to three places where stolen parts are hidden. Another man who was stopped while driving Marts' car without license tags was allowed to return to Philadelphia to get them and has not returned. Storage batteries and magnets are the favorite pickings of the thieves.

"No, I don't want another fountain pen I have five or six now, and not one of them will work when I want it." But he tried "the pen with the little red pump handle." He was skeptical about the feed, he examined the construction and how it was filled, and then—Well, we can end your fountain pen troubles, too! There is a pen that fits your hand at The New Era office.

You take no risk. Select the one you like, use it for thirty days. Then if you are not entirely satisfied, exchange it for another or get your money back. Only a good pen is backed by a guarantee like that.

Belikin to Cure Rheumatism.
There is a supernatural belief prevailing among some sections of America who believe in the efficacy of dried belikin for rheumatism. In some of the markets they are sold, and find numerous buyers. The belikin is full of electricity, and according to the fish dealers, the electricity is lost in the preparation of the skin. If one of these skins is wrapped round the ankle, knee, or other joint of a person afflicted with rheumatism, a cure, it is claimed, is quickly effected.

Have System in Reading

The reading of good literature should not be spasmodic. To read many hours a day for a few days, then not to look into a book for weeks or months, will never do. Every day, if only for 15 minutes a day, some worthwhile book should hold the attention. On frequent occasions if circumstances permit, it should be read aloud. Thus, sleeping oneself in good words, there will gradually be an accretion in the depths of the mind of material available for personal use as the demands of conversation make necessary.—H. Addington Bruce in Chicago Daily News.

The card party held at the Lawn House last Saturday evening cleared $45 for benefit of the Riverton Free Library. The guests at the Lawn House and friends of the Library in Riverton, who did not have tables, contributed generously.

Considerable speculation has been caused this week by the racket kicked up by a crowd in an automobile at Fourth and Linden avenue about two o'clock Wednesday morning. Some of the residents in that vicinity thought they heard a woman scream.

The practice drill of the fire company Tuesday night was for speed. Starting at seven and then at nine, the truck was run to the old McWhorter factory at East Riverton, a ladder placed in position and a stream of water thrown on the building in five minutes.

The transformation of the Abbie Cooke property on Main street into an apartment house has reached the stage of interior decorating, which is being done by Mrs. H. N. Baugh, of Palmyra. It is expected to have the house ready for occupancy by the first of October.

Charles A. Wright, Dr. Marcy and E. L. The new building will cost $300,000. E. C. Worrell has the contract for the mechanical equipment.

The county bridge over the Rancocas creek at Bridgeboro, will undergo a transformation, as the State Highway Commission will tear down the covered part of the structure. For nearly a century the southwestern end has been covered, and was the landmark for the town's name. Considerable sentiment is felt for the oldtime bridge, especially by the older generation, who look upon it almost as if it were a friend and regret the change.

Raymond and Elwood Bradshaw are spending a week in Atlantic City. Joseph Viggano, of Camden, was filling the gasoline tank of a truck from a five-gallon can at Broad and Elm avenue, Wednesday evening, when a lighted lantern hanging on the side of the last ignited the fumes and caused an explosion. Viggano buried the can to the sidewalk where it blazed fiercely. The fire department was called out, but danger was over by the time they arrived.

The Entomological Experiment Station at Westfield has sown smart weed on about two acres of land on the farm of Benjamin Lippincott, in Cinnaminson township, in connection with experiments being conducted to exterminate the Japanese beetle which is very fond of this weed. The idea is to attract beetles to this field and then to experiment with various poisons, applied by spraying, to determine one that is effective. Thus far no spraying material has been discovered that has met the situation.

John Bradley met with a peculiar and painful accident last Friday afternoon. He made a purchase at Worrell's plumbing establishment, and had gone out a few minutes later those in the office heard faint cries for help. They found Mr. Bradley at the top of the cellar stairs in a dazed condition and bleeding profusely from a cut on his head. He did not recall re-entering the store, nor going into the cellar. Neither did he remember falling, nor how he got up the steps. He was taken home by William Gante, after being cared for by Dr. White.

STATE BRIEFS

The Harding Hotel Company was incorporated in Trenton, with an authorized capital of $1,000,000, to operate a hotel in Atlantic City.

The State Public Utility Commission announced that an ordinance recently passed by the Mercer County Board of Freeholders, providing for the use of the Delaware and Atlantic Telephone Company, had been committed to the board. The Atlantic City Electric Company was given permission by the Utility Board to issue $144,000 of 6 per cent cumulative non-voting preferred stock.

Having obtained evidence that formation of a branch of the Ku Klux Klan is contemplated at Trenton, Director of Public Safety Labaree said that if any overt act was committed the members would be sent to jail, or, "if necessary, shot down."

At Ackley's nineteenth annual sale at Wildwood Crest the attendance was large and the bidding spirited. The list of properties was not as large as other years. About 50 properties in all were sold, totaling $100,000, the largest ever.

Woodbury Heights Board of Education finds it necessary to hold two separate sessions of school because there are more children to be cared for than can be accommodated in one session.

After several conferences with the men Kilmble Glass Company of Vineland gave notice that the large chemical glassware department would shut down indefinitely. This is the first time these works have been closed since they were started in 1907. The firm says it is impossible to run at the wages demanded.

Eating a piece of candy which, he says, was given him by a stranger, John Rusek of Trenton was taken seriously ill. Rusek went to the office of Dr. Tadousiak, who found him suffering from mercury poisoning. The police are trying to locate the man who gave Rusek the candy.

A. C. Stephany of Atlantic City, who is familiar with wine making, declared that owing to the trouble involved in wine making on a small scale he did not think that many grape growers would go in for the 200 gallons of manufacture.

There are nearly 800 schooners in the fleet in Atlantic City, most famous of the oyster producing districts in New Jersey. All of these will not be put into service at the opening of the season, but as the weather grows colder, and the demand increases the full fleet will work the entire season, more than 80,000 acres of planted beds.

Apparently stricken with heart trouble while swimming with friends in deep water at Burlington Island Park, Alexander Settle of 1810 Margaretta street, Frankford, was drowned before his companions could aid him. The tragedy occurred within sight of hundreds of pleasure seekers, but so quietly did the young man sink that few knew of the tragedy until it was announced by the local post of the American Legion.

Medical Value of the Ant.
Those who have been given formalin acid as a medical remedy will be interested in its history. The ancient aqua magnanimitatis contained an extract of ants. In 1828 Berzelius first prepared formalin acid in the laboratory, and soon after it was introduced into medical practice, although it had become quite obsolete in the latter half of the Nineteenth century. But of late years there has been a slight tendency to make use of formalin acid and formalin to heart disease. This is an odd coincidence, for the old magnanimitatis received its name from its supposed power to grant the courage.

The formula of the aqua called for two pounds of ants, three pounds of alcohol, and about 100 grams of opium, the mixture being distilled. But it had been announced as far back as 1801 that the acid had some virtues in persuits (a skin disease) and gout.

Not for Modern Manhattan.
Before the English flag flew over Manhattan an old Dutch ordinance directed the burgomasters to demand from every house money for the purpose of ordering from the mother country leather fire buckets, fire ladders and fire hooks, "and once a year, to demand for every chimney one guilden for the support and maintenance of the same." This ordinance states in its preamble that "in all well-regulated cities and corporations it is customary that fire buckets, ladders and hooks are in readiness at the corners of the streets, and in public houses for the time of need." Imagine the modern Manhattan so equipped! Buckets hang on Broadway corners would in number run a close second to the bells on the electric signs.

CARRY INSIGNIA OF HONOR

War Department Has Decided That Planes Shall Retain Distinguishing Marks Earned in War.

Buddy back on the farm is going to get an awful shock one of those days when he looks skyward during a fall in the plowing. A plane is going to appear overhead and he will instantly recognize the insignia painted on the fuselage of the stellar aero squadron that worked for his division at the time they were hoeing their way through the Argonne. In the Home Sector, Frederick J. Darle says: "The decision of the war department to retain the distinguishing insignia will in any event make the identification of the planes easy for civilians. More and more the army planes—old as they are—are undertaking long flights. They appear unexpectedly over cities far away from their stations and many a farmer these days sees a gargantuan propelled beetle settle down in his back pasture. When an army plane comes flying by or lands near us, we will soon look for the insignia, just as everybody once looked for the state automobile license tag when the town let's dust covered auto passed. When the pedestrian sees a plane decorated with the painting of a kicking mule, a silhouette, acrobatic-awing skeleton or a witch a-straddle a broomstick, he may wonder what battle record the insignia stands for. He may guess rightly that the tiny winged elephant on a plane is a sarcastic comment on the plane's speed, but he probably would like to know whether this plane is from a burden-bearing squadron that hauled tons of tanks over the lines to drop them on German railway junctions."

Indiana Not Always Hereafter.
The Indian is more impressive on his horse than on foot. Therefore nearly every artist who has been inspired to sketch the Indian has put a horse under him. So probably the artists themselves are to blame for the common impression that the horse and the red man have always been inseparable, when as a matter of fact, Columbus had come and gone long before the horse had found his place in the new world. The Indian's acquaintance with the horse dates back to the visits of Cortes, Coronado and De Soto, all of whom came equipped with horses. The last two, threading their way through the new land, had many horses in their trains. These escaping, became the nucleus of the wild herds that later came down here.—Clark Wissler in the American Indian Magazine.Decline of the Parlor.
One of the large manufacturing companies of the United States is engaged in the construction of a great number of houses for its employees and while there are many novel features in the way of making conveniences, the most striking thing about the houses is the total absence of the usual parlor. The space is thrown in to the other rooms. It looks as if the parlor was out of fashion.

Pumpkin an American Plant.

The home of the pumpkin is believed to be America. It has been found growing wild in Mexico, and was under cultivation by the aborigines in Florida, Mexico and the West Indies, when these regions were first visited by Europeans. Doctor Gray, the botanist, believed that all species except gourd squash are American.

The species and varieties of this vegetable have been so confused that this is not certain. The cheese pumpkin and the sugar pumpkin are used for making a circular opening in the top of the center of which is the stem. Through this hole the seeds and pulp are removed, and the cavity filled with sliced apples, spices and sugar. The whole is then baked and served.

Organize to Enforce Prohibition

Nearly two hundred earnest men and women gathered at the Court House Monday evening in response to an invitation that had been issued for a county meeting to consider organization of the citizens for the more efficient enforcement of prohibition.

Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, of Moorestown, president of the County W. C. T. U., called the meeting to order, briefly stated that it was held for the purpose of securing better prohibition enforcement in Burlington county and then asked for nominations for chairman. Henry Tattall Brown, of Moorestown, was named. Mrs. Robert Willis, of Marlton, was made secretary.

Lawyer Monroe, counsel for the New Jersey Anti-Saloon League and the leader of the dry forces in the years past, explained the provisions of the Van Ness act, which he said was the most workable enforcement law in the country.

Judge Harold B. Wells was introduced by the chair as "a man we all know and all love" and made a characteristic speech which was frequently interrupted by applause.

He assured his hearers that the fines imposed upon violators had run far ahead of the cost of obtaining evidence and would continue to do so while he remained judge. "You get the evidence or help to do so and I will attend to the rest," said the judge amid applause.

Sheriff Flagg was introduced and said that the Sheriff's office could be depended upon to cooperate with the court in all matters pertaining to law enforcement.

The committee appointments for the organization of the various municipalities in the county were as follows:

Bass River, Mrs. Rita Allen; Beverly City, E. F. Woolston; Bordentown City, Mayor Philip S. Brakeley; Bordentown Township, Edward Lane; Burlington Township, William Zelley; Chester, Elwood Hollingshead; Chesterfield, Josiah E. Brick; Cinnaminson, Benjamin Lippincott; Delran, Lester Fortnum; Eastampton, J. H. Hinchman; Evesham, Charles H. Barton; Florence, Mrs. Ella Iretton; Lumberton, B. Frank Clayberger; Mansfield, Benjamin Kirby; Medford, Edward Rogers; Mount Laurel, Eli Parker; New Hanover, Herman Croshaw; Northampton, Caroline H. Engle; North Hanover, Richard Britton; Palmyra, George N. Wimer; Pemberton Borough, William H. Heisler, Jr.; Pemberton Township, Joseph Wylie; Riverton, Charles W. Wanger; Shamong, Howard Weeks; Southampton, Dr. John C. Brown; Springfield, Mrs. Charles Kramer; Tabernacle, Mrs. Carleton Haines; Westampton, Oscar Pew; Willingboro, Dr. James Stewart; Woodland, Frank McCumber; Wrightstown Borough, Edwin L. Davis. There were no nominations for Burlington, Riverside or Fieldsborough and the committee was empowered to fill all vacancies. Elwood Hollingshead was named to convene the committee when a meeting was desired.

County to Care for Blind

At the meeting of the Board of Freeholders held on Friday the Board was informed by County Solicitor Peacock that in the next budget an appropriation of $6,000 would be required in order to make provision for the care of the blind of the county. It was reported that there are at present eighty-two blind persons in the county, some of whom are children, and many of them are residents of county institutions. One-fourth of the total number must be taken care of next year and each will receive approximately $300. This care is made compulsory by an act of the legislature. A history of each case is to be submitted to the Board by the Blind Commission.

Mattis Wins Again

Ogden Mattis won the race last Saturday between the L. I. boats. Rex Showell got second place and F. W. Robertson third.

Robertson got away first and held his lead until the first time around the lower buoy. The course was from Riverton wharf to Eight-mile Point, to Hen and Chickens, off Plum Point, back to wharf twice around. After rounding the Hen and Chickens buoy Mattis and Showell took a chance at crossing the sand bar there to escape the strong current, which enabled Mattis to cross Robertson's bow. Robertson and Mattis fought it out around the course, and Showell slid into second place going down the wind on the last lap. Mattis finished about three minutes ahead.

Each of the contestants now has eight points to his credit.

Nine Year Old Swims River

The best record ever established by a child in Riverton was made last Sunday when little nine-year-old Jack Naisby swam across the Delaware river. Heretofore Laddie Dickinson and Nancy Biddle held the juvenile honors by having accomplished the feat at the age of eleven. Jack has long been a familiar figure on the Riverton wharf and his classy diving stunts have thrilled many of the grown-ups. Two years ago, when but seven, he reached within a few yards of the other shore but the distance proved a little too much for him. Sunday, after having been splashing around for a couple of hours, he started his second attempt, accompanied by his father, John Naisby, his uncle, Robert Naisby, and C. B. Durborow. A wind was blowing out of the northeast making a chill air and unusually choppy water. Nothing daunted, the youngster hit it up at a rapid clip plowing through the on-coming waves. When in mid-stream one of the excursion boats came directly in his path and held him up several minutes while it was passing. Without a change of stroke or rest of any description Jack swept along until he stood up on the Pennsylvania shore after 38 minutes of very hard swimming. His father was willing to let the youngster swim back again, which he doubtless could have done, but Mr. Durborow refused, claiming the swim over was plenty for the first tryout. There can be no doubt that if Jack is nursed along he will turn out one of the best swimmers in the United States. He is remarkably fast, getting second place in the Fourth of July races and is as good as lads at least four or five years his senior. Mr. Durborow says he believes Jack can take the measure of any child his age in the entire country.

Wallace Sullivan was still another of the juvenile clan to swim across the river last Monday evening, August 22. Wallace covered the distance in 22 minutes and 10 seconds, which was excellent time as the tide was full which necessitated as long a swim as it is possible to make. Wallace has a very nice trudgeon stroke, from which he obtains quite a lot of speed and he should develop into a very fine distance swimmer. He was accompanied by Mr. Durborow.

Talk about the great neck-and-neck race between Leo Giebel and Earnie Sopp in the ten-mile national in 1919, it had nothing whatever on the race across the river and back staged by Edgar Miller and Russell Davis both juvenile members of the Yacht Club, Wednesday. Edgar had just flashed into the limelight by swimming across the river the other night in 18 minutes flat, the fastest time as yet hung up by a juvenile, and close to the best men's record. Russell was a dark horse, his capabilities unknown. Both lads wished to try for the silver medal awarded for the across and back river swim. Starting off the Riverton wharf together, Miller at once took the lead and at the end of 100 yards had a 20 yard lead. But that was all he could get and slowly but surely Davis cut down his lead and on several occasions all but came up on even terms; each occasion, however, Miller was enabled to increase his pace a little and open up a little gap again. Close to the Pennsylvania shore Davis for a few strokes was in the lead and again close to the finish line he forged ahead and reached the shore two feet in the lead. Both lads crossed in 21 minutes. Whirling around they started the return journey. As in the across swim, Miller again took the lead and soon had it up to 15 yards. History repeated itself, as several times Davis pulled up on all but equal terms only to drop back again. Close to the finish he once more was on an even footing, but Miller in the last home stretch sprinted into a 10-yard lead, winning the victory. Both boys' time was 22 minutes or a total of 43 minutes for the round trip. Mr. Durborow and Paul Ridley accompanied them in a boat and a canoe.

C. B. Durborow, who was recently made swimming chairman of the Middle Atlantic Association of the A. A. U., has just been appointed upon the National Championship Committee of the National body of the A. A. U. which has all the awarding of the National championship meets in all lines of sports for 1922.

Mr. Durborow, starting October 1, will write weekly swimming articles for the Associated Press.

Rules for Milk Standards

In accordance with a 1921 law for standardization of dairy products, representatives of the Department of Agriculture, State Board of Health, dairymen's associations and spokesmen for women's clubs, adopted rules at a meeting held in Trenton, last week, for guidance of municipal authorities in regulating the quality of milk.

Three grades were agreed upon for standards—certified, raw and pasteurized milk. Plans were outlined for cooperation with parent-teacher associations in pointing out the advantages of milk consumption by children to counteract use of candy and chewing gum. This campaign will be carried into the schools in the hope that pupils will be induced to purchase milk instead of sweets.

Charles T. Mathews, of Lambertton, was wending his way down Broad street last week with a very bedraggled appearance. Frederick George Rogers was taken ill at his home on Morgan avenue on Wednesday and there are some symptoms that he may also have contracted typhoid fever as the result of attending the Jacobtown harvest home, where the epidemic in the county is believed to have started. Mr. Rogers had to miss the weekly meeting of the Board of Freeholders this Friday for the second time since he has been in office.

A queer automobile accident occurred Monday evening at Broad and Cinnaminson. A Haynes touring car driven by Capt. C. D. Shoemaker, of 4534 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, came up Cinnaminson avenue and started across Broad street just as William Gootes, of Riverton, driving a heavy enclosed car came east on Broad street. Neither one sounded a warning and, although both were going slowly, Gootes' car hit the Haynes about the beam. Gootes' little son, Sherman, was thrown against the windshield, which splintered, and was slightly cut about the face. No one in the Haynes was injured beyond a severe shaking up. Gootes said he did not see the other car until the collision.

Charged With Cruel Treatment of Child

A hearing was held Tuesday before Vice-Chancellor Foster at Trenton in habeas corpus proceedings brought by Archibald Garwood, of Henry street, against John W. Shade, of 419 Garfield avenue, for the possession of 9-year-old George Cramer Garwood. Mr. Shade is the grandfather and Mr. Garwood the father of the boy.

The case grew out of the alleged cruel treatment of the boy by Mrs. Garwood, his stepmother. Having been told by neighbors of the Garwoods that the boy's stepmother had kept him up two nights in one week until three and four o'clock in the morning washing dishes and performing other duties over and over again in the way of penalties, and also of other punishments inflicted on the child, Mr. Shade on Tuesday evening of last week went to the Garwood home and took his grandchild away to his own home.

Vice-Chancellor Foster questioned the boy and then said that the ordinary course would be to put the child in custody of his own father. Robert Peacock, of Mount Holly, attorney for Mr. Shade, protested against this on the grounds of the alleged cruelty of the stepmother. Joseph Beck, lawyer, of Riverton, attorney for Mr. Garwood, on behalf of his clients, denied the charge.

The Vice Chancellor then stated that he had been convinced there was basis for the charge by his questioning of the child and decided to award the custody of the child for two weeks to Mr. and Mrs. Horace Garwood, of Haddonfield, with the proviso that both Mr. Shade and Mr. Garwood would be allowed to see the child during the two weeks at the end of which time a further hearing of the case was to be held before Vice Chancellor Buchanan.

This seemed to end the case for the time being, but when Mr. Shade told the relative to whom the child had been awarded that he would be down to see him at such and such a time, the woman said he couldn't see the boy. Mr. Peacock hurried back to the Vice Chancellor with this information. The Vice Chancellor questioned the woman, who confirmed what she said, whereupon the Vice Chancellor changed his decision and awarded the child to Mr. and Mrs. George Cramer, of Fish House, who agreed to let the grandfather visit him. Mrs. Cramer is a sister of the father of the child.

A large number of prominent men of Palmyra were on hand at court to testify to Mr. Shade's character and standing in town and there were also a number of neighbors of the Garwoods to testify as to the treatment of the child and several of their friends to testify in their favor.

The first Mrs. Garwood, who was formerly Miss Helen Shade, died in 1918 of pneumonia. One of her children and her mother-in-law died of the same disease within a short time of one another.

The Firemen's Carnival

The biggest carnival of the year is to begin on Friday evening at the Field Club grounds when the Firemen of Palmyra Volunteer Company No. 1 will hold their thirty-third annual event.

A parade will be held from Riverton to the grounds Saturday evening. The same evening will also be wound up with the elaborate display of fireworks that has long been a feature of the celebration.

The backbone of the carnival will be, of course, the many booths run by the firemen. All the usual novelties will be on sale and there will also be attractive baskets of fruit and farm produce.

The ladies of the town are asked to contribute cakes to help the firemen's cause along.

Open air dancing will be a feature this year.

Grant Voted a Bonus Bill

History repeats itself. Some of the ex-soldiers of the World War who say that if a soldier had been chosen President he would have seen to it that the service men had their bonus by this time, perhaps do not know that President Grant vetoed a bill to pay a bonus to his comrades who served in the Civil War. And he vetoed it for precisely the same reason that President Harding advised Congress to defer action on the pending soldiers' bill—that the Treasury could not stand the strain.

The language of the soldier-President was almost identical with that which President Harding used in his message to Congress. Grant said: "The passage of this bill at this time is inconsistent with the measures of economy now demanded by the necessities of the country."

"Influence" a Drawback

Influence is the worst handicap any young man can have. It tends to make him feel he need not work himself to his full capacity, and has a bad effect upon him. When other workmen learn that one of their number has a pull with somebody higher up, they look at him and his effect upon those other men is bad. Then the foreman, or whoever he is, will either show him undue favors and push him into a position for which he is not fitted, or, if the boss is of a different opinion, he will hesitate to promote him even when he deserves it, because the boss knows the other will think it is a case of favoritism.

The effect, therefore, is bad upon the whole organization. When any young engineer or college graduate or anybody else comes to me asking for a letter to enable him to get a job at our works I say to him just what I have said here—John D. Ryan, president American Copper company, in Forbes Magazine.

TYPHOID STIRS STATE OFFICIALS

Burlington County Epidemic Said to Have Followed Harvest Home Feasts.

QUICK ACTION FOR AID

Health Department Experts Start
Prompt Investigation of Water and Milk—Center of the Epidemic
Is in Jullustown.

Trenton. — To check if possible an epidemic of typhoid fever in Burlington county which gives every promise of assuming extremely serious proportions, Dr. R. B. Fitz-Randolph, director of the department of health, announced that every available agent of the department will be sent into the county and that every possible effort will be made to determine and eliminate the cause of the epidemic.

Officials of the department consider the situation as being critical, and this feeling is shared by physicians of the community, all of whom have been working indefatigably since the epidemic developed.

The center of the epidemic is Jullustown, but cases have developed in Mount Holly, Bordentown, Moorestown, Cocksfoot, Jobstown, Wrightstown and Hobbitts. As yet the state department is unable definitely to estimate the number of cases, as the procedure calls for an initial report of cases by physicians to the local authorities, by whom they are reported to the state department.

In the belief that the epidemic may have been caused by an impure milk supply, the state department sent inspectors to Jullustown to make an examination of milk. Officials of the department, however, are more inclined to the opinion that the epidemic had its origin at harvest homes recently conducted at Jullustown. The Jullustown M. B. Church held its harvest home July 27, and the event was attended by residents of nearby towns in large numbers. The following week the Baptist Church conducted a similar event, and this, too, drew thousands.

Dr. Fitz-Randolph said that although the preliminary investigations conducted by the department have not determined the origin of the epidemic, it is believed that the disease first made its appearance at the harvest homes.

Jullustown residents obtain their water supply from private wells, while some of the other towns are supplied from municipal water plants.

Transfer Fare Figured Out

Experience of Public Service Railway Company under the 2 cent transfer rate for the first four days the rate was in effect—August 4 to 7, inclusive—showed a loss in transfer riders of 22 1/2 per cent over the same dates in 1920 and of 16 per cent over the same days of the previous week, according to an affidavit filed with the United States district court here in support of the company's bill for an injunction against the Board of Public Utility Commissioners.

In this affidavit, one of 15 filed with the bill, Richard E. Danforth, vice president and general manager of the company, gives the increase in revenue from transfers only as 55 per cent over the same days in 1920, 68 per cent over the same days of the previous week. No allowance is made in these figures for the loss of initial 7 cent fares, due to the falling off in transfer passengers.

Instead of the $715,000 increase in revenue estimated by the board, Mr. Danforth finds that the added transfer charge will yield $335,000, a difference of $380,000, due to traffic losses in excess of the board's allowance. In his criticism of the board's estimate Mr. Danforth says:

"Says Board Was in Error
"I find they are in error in their conclusions. First, because they take as a basis of revenue from transfers the total number of transfers carried in 1920, failing to deduct therefrom the second or free transfers, for which no revenue is obtainable. This causes an error in their total transfers for the year in question of over 1,700,000."

"The board has failed to take note of the fact that over two-thirds of the transfer riders use lines subject to active jitney competition and that about one-seventh of the transfer riders ride less than one-half mile and that 40 per cent of the transfer riders ride less than one mile."

Five million dollars, the vice president contends, will be required to restore the company's property to its 1917 condition because of its depreciation in the last four years through insufficient revenue.

Among the affidavits filed with the court is one by Percy B. Young, vice president in charge of finances of Public Service, who calls attention to the reduction by the board of $15,500,000 for "depreciation" in the value of the physical property.

"No part, however, of this sum has ever been returned to the plaintiff by receipts from fares or otherwise."

Taken Without Compensation
"Assuming the property to have depreciated to that extent, according to the board's reports and returns, that sum is a total loss to the plaintiff. The board seems to have the idea that as the property of the company depreciated from use its value should be reduced, but no provision made to restore the capital thus depleted. The result is that to the extent of this sum the plaintiff's property has been taken for public use without compensation."

Both the board's own expert, Robert M. Foustel, and Dean Mortimer L. Dooley, who made the original valuation of the railway property for the company, are in accord with Mr. Young in his claim that an allowance should have been made by the board in covering the yearly operating expenses for the year to year accruing depreciation on the basis of property currently retired from service.

In the board's valuation report, which is an exhibit in the case under a "comparison of appraisals and overhead charges," the board in a foot note says:

"Foustel made no specific estimate for intangibles, but stated that he would add back accrued depreciation, if deducted and not earned as a development cost."

Dean Dooley in an affidavit expresses the same principle.

"It is my opinion," the dean states, "that where the property of a utility corporation is 100 per cent depreciated there should be no deduction for depreciation unless capital to the amount of the depreciation deducted has been in fact earned in excess of a fair return on the value of the property. If depreciation is deducted where it has not been earned and returned the effect is to take property of the corporation for public use without compensation."

Early Appraisal as Basis
In a brief analysis of the board's valuation, ruling Dean Dooley further says: "The Board of Public Utility Commissioners did not consider the reproduction cost of this property as of the present time, but in arriving at its value of the physical property of $70,000,000 only considered the first appraisal made by Professor Anderson and myself, using prices prevailing in 1911 to 1915, from which appraisal the board made deductions which were absolutely unwarranted."

The cost of reproducing the physical property "as it now exists," based on prices prevailing on May 31 last, Dean Dooley gives as $148,571,488; based on prices for five years, ending May 31 last, $149,822,236, exclusive of going value or development costs.

"I found the physical condition of the property was 59.3 of its condition new," he declares, "and its operative efficiency 100 per cent." At least 90 per cent of the value of the physical property of the railway property should have been allowed for going value, he believed.

William S. Barker, comptroller of Public Service Railway Company, points out in an affidavit that the board fixed the "cost-new" of the property at approximately $8,000,000 less than its own figure of the actual historical cost of "railway property existing" December 31, 1920.

"After making deductions which should not be made," Mr. Barker's affidavit asserts, the board "found the actual cost to have been $78,770,244 and without any explanation or reason whatever on the same page of the report fixes the cost of the property and the value of the property at $70,000,000."

The board fixed the cost of the physical property other than land, which they also call the value of the property, at $6,000,000 less than the board itself finds that same property to have actually cost."

The board's answer will be filed with the court by September 7.

Four for Thirty Cents

Conceding that the New Jersey and Pennsylvania Traction Company is entitled to a higher fare, the Public Utility Commission granted permission to increase the rate from 7 to 8 cents in each of the four zones between Trenton and Princeton.

Tickets will be sold at the rate of four for 30 cents. Commutation tickets for school children, acceptable only on school days, will be sold in strips of 10 for $1. The rate of fare for a single ride, wholly within the limits of this city, will be 5 cents.

Disposing of the company's application for a 10-cent fare, the Utility Board ruled that such a rate would be unjust and unreasonable. The increase in the basic fare from 7 to 8 cents in each of the fare zones will become effective when the company files a schedule with the Utility Board specifying the 8-cent fare as the new rate.

The New Jersey and Pennsylvania Traction Company gave notice of its intention to put the 10-cent fare into effect April 13 last. The 10-cent fare became effective on the company's lines in Pennsylvania at that time.

Opposed to Ku Klux Klan

In response to a request from American Legion officials that some action be taken toward preventing the organization in Trenton of a branch of the Ku Klux Klan, Mayor Donnelly has issued a statement promising to take drastic action if necessary to stamp out any organization designed to terrorize or terrorize the negro residents of this city.

This announcement comes coincident with reports that negroes in and about Trenton are arming themselves with knives, rifles and revolvers to protect themselves against members of the night riding fraternity, which is said to be seeking to establish headquarters here.

Letters are known to have been circulated among residents believed to be interested in the race problem setting forth the purposes of the Ku Klux Klan and the qualifications for membership and urging enlistment in the ranks of the organization.

Commissioner George H. Lahara, director of public safety, has issued a warning that the carrying of weapons of any kind will not be tolerated. He is taking an active part in preventing the possibility of race riots. Any attempt to molest negroes in Trenton, he said, would be met with full power of the local authorities.

How much Gasoline Do You Waste?

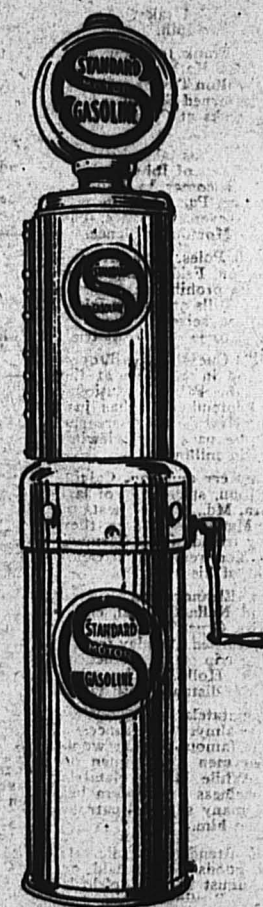

Continued use of a low grade of gasoline results in an average wastage of almost 90% in fuel energy!

Even the best engines unavoidably waste great quantities of potential power. But the principal source of unnecessary energy loss is in the use of poor gasoline.

Unless gasoline of a uniformly high quality is supplied, the motor functions unevenly, sometimes burning the fuel cleanly, but more often discharging a large proportion of it, unburnt or only partially burnt, into the muffler. This means loss of power and is the cause of crank-case dilution and other troubles.

Use motor fuel of definite quality, and unnecessary waste will be eliminated. The improved gasoline now available wherever you see the familiar "S.O." sign is the best that you can buy. "Standard" Motor Gasoline is clean-burning, quick-firing, and releases a maximum of steady, smooth power. It will be more than worth while for you to give it a careful trial. You might as well have the best, for it costs no more.
