Field Club Back in Form
By Hap Mathews

The Field Club, erstwhile doormats of the Central League, re-organized, renovated, and revitalized, took a flying leap into the hearts of local fans during the season. By chalking up a 3-2 win over the up-river clan from Burlington.

It was a "perfect 36" finish and fortunately came at a time when a banner crowd perched in the arena. The locals presented an entirely different attitude than has been their wont during the past few horrible weeks. Every mother's son was out there cheering like a winning ball club's personnel usually chatters when the going's good and the percentage is running like an August thermometer.

It was not a perfect ball game by any means, but coming on the heels of innumerable fiascos it stuck out like a sore thumb over past performances and knocked dazed local fans for a loop.

Three new old faces in the lineup made the ball club. Joe Stack, hard-fighting member of former winning teams, took over the hot corner and made a go of it. His peppery spirit repeatedly propped up the club's morale when it showed signs of wilting by the roadside and no little share of the victory was due to his unceasing attack throughout the contest. Larry Polis, another old-timer, held down the first base with much eclat. His mere presence seemed to steady the bats much in the same manner that Len Baker, star first sacker of all time, seemed to do in the golden past. Roy VanEmburg, at the Keystone angle, was another incentive for the victory surge, and contributed greatly to the change of spirit.

Babe Flynn was in an old-fashioned unbeatable mood. His hurling was pretty to gaze upon and when the bats were good, it took a drink and sit down for the opposition.

The home boys took an early lead by ramming home a couple of markers while the battle was still in swaddling clothes. Burlington during this slightly hectic period also counted with one. The early lead failed to impress the fans to any great extent and the inevitable balloon ascension was greeted by yawns, but when eight innings of fine chopping down had been staged by the boys, the crowd suddenly woke up to the fact that victory was tapping on the door and for the first time this season a thrill chased its way up countless vertebrae and real rooting was born.

With two down in the ninth and two strikes on the last lone foe, the boys got up and prepared to depart for home, but the end was not yet. Babe essayed to groove one and, lo! it did. And cut the ball-ropes and away we went. Burlington tied the thing up before we finally got control of the panic and all hands settled down for extra innings. But it was not to be. Lady Luck was smiling on Palmyra this day. In our half of the ninth, Mac Mullin, first up, spanked out a single and then Capt. Gibbon, the flashy boy of old, uncorked a beautiful bunt and beat it out. Joe Stack followed with a pop hit back of short and the crowd howled its glee at the spectacle and pleaded with VanEmburg to knock a slat off the fence but Roy's best was a high bouncer to first that killed Mac at the plate.

Then Polis stepped into the breach—and walked. Well, the fans are still talking about it and it seems as tho the ball club has lost its jinx, at least temporarily. There is certainly a new spirit in the air and if they lo the balance of the scheduled games, but continue to stay in there and fight like they did on Memorial Day, they'll still be "Our Boys" and we're back of 'em to the bitter end.

Next Saturday it's Delanco at home and a real old time roofing match is on the books. We're out to cop this one, so don't fail to be at the killing.

Let's have an old time rally for Palmyra and see if we can't root something out of our cellar chumps. Forget the first four games. They're dead. Look ahead and root.

On Saturday the East Riverton A. C. played the Astor Club, of West Philadelphia, with a score of 15-10 in favor of East Riverton. The game was played on the home grounds, Saturday, June 10th, East Riverton will play this team again in West Philadelphia.

Union Sunday School Picnic

Saturday, June 10th, is to be the biggest day of sport, fun and good-comradeship in the picnic history of four of the Sunday Schools of Palmyra and Riverton. The Epworth Methodist, the First Lutheran, the Central Baptist and the Calvary Presbyterian Sunday Schools have all joined hands this year and planned a giant union picnic to be held at Neshaminy Falls Grove, Pa.

This beautiful picnic grove contains eighty acres and is located along the Neshaminy creek twelve miles beyond the ferry landing at Tacony and has been a favorite spot for Sunday School picnics from Philadelphia and the surrounding Pennsylvania country for many years. This year, however, the ferry makes the first opportunity that local Sunday Schools have had to conveniently take advantage of this popular place.

Through the work of a union picnic committee composed of representatives from each of the Sunday Schools, thorough and careful arrangements have been made for transporting all the members of the Sunday Schools, parents and friends by means of a number of big motor trucks across the ferry and up to Neshaminy and return. Trucks, providing for those going from each Sunday School, will leave each Sunday School building at 8:30 in the morning, returning from Neshaminy Falls at 6:00 p. m. in order to arrive back in Palmyra and Riverton before dark.

Many who intend going up to the picnic from Philadelphia at noon will be able to take trains from Reading terminal which go direct to Neshaminy Falls in one hour. Trains leave Reading terminal at 9:17 a. m., 11:17 a. m., 1:45, 1:43, 2:17, 3:17 p. m. (day-light saving time) the regular one-way fare being 77c.

The following is the program for the day's sports and awards will be given to winners of each event:

JEHOIAKIM TRIES TO DESTROY GOD'S WORD

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 26.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Word of our God shall stand forever.—Isa. 40:8.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Isa. 26:11 Matt. 5:17-19.
PRIMARILY TOPIC—T Burning of a Good Book.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jehoiakim Burns the Prophet's Book.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A King Who Scorned God's Word.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Meet the Forces Antagonistic to God's Word.

I. The Book Being Written (vv. 1-4).
1. The Time of (v. 1). In the fourth year of Jehoiakim, Jeremiah had been exercising the prophetic ministry some thirty years.
2. Against Whom Spoken (v. 2). They were directed against Israel, Judah and all the nations.
3. The Purpose of (v. 3). The grand object of the Lord in sending this message by the prophet was Judah's repentance.
4. Method of (v. 4). Jeremiah dictated the words of the Lord to Baruch the Scribe, who wrote them upon a roll of a book.

II. The Book Being Read (vv. 5-21).
Jeremiah was unable to speak the message of the Lord to the people, as he was "shut up" (v. 5). "Shut up" most likely means a royal ban against Jeremiah's proclamation of God's Word to the people or against his entering the temple.
1. To the People (vv. 6-10). The occasion which brought the people together was a day of fasting (v. 6), because of the threatening of the Babylonians. Jeremiah directed Baruch to read to the people the words of the Lord which he had dictated to him, with the hope that the people would present their supplication before the Lord and return every one from his evil way.
2. To the Princes (vv. 11-19). While the reading of the book unto the people seemingly created no great impression, yet Micahiah was so deeply moved that he went to the scribe's chamber where the princes were assembled and declared unto them all the words which he had heard Baruch read. The princes sent for Baruch to come and bring the roll with them. Baruch came and read to them with the result that (1) they were aroused with fear (v. 16). (2) They inquired as to how he had written the words (vv. 17, 18). To this he replied that he had written in the book the words which Jeremiah had dictated to him. (3) Their concern for the safety of Jeremiah and Baruch (v. 19). They were instructed to hide themselves from man's sight.
3. To the King (vv. 20, 21). The princes regarded the words of the Lord to be of such importance that they should be read in the hearing of the king, for he was mainly involved in the judgments pronounced. Upon their report of the matter to the king, he had Jehudi bring the roll and read it to him in the presence of the princes.

III. The King Destroying the Roll (vv. 22-25).
Instead of becoming penitent and afraid he became enraged and cut the roll leaf by leaf and threw it into the fire until it was consumed. This he did against the intercession of some of the princes. When the roll was destroyed he ordered Jeremiah and Baruch arrested.

IV. The Roll Rewritten (vv. 27-28).
The burnt roll was reproduced by the command of the Lord, and many like words were added unto them. We should learn from this incident—
1. The Insuperability of God's Word. Men may cut it to pieces and burn it, but the Word of God shall stand forever. It comes to light again with words added to it without its being destroyed.
2. The reason man attempts to destroy God's Word. It is because of the authoritative rebuke of their sins. The Bible arraigns man for his pride and wickedness and asserts God's sovereign power over man and his demand for a personal surrender unto Him and worship of Him.
3. The Method of Attempted Destruction of God's Word. It was partly by part. "When Jehudi had read three or four leaves he cut it with a penknife." The rationalist today cuts out the biblical conception of God as a being whose essential nature demands punishment of sin; therefore he cuts out the Bible doctrine of man as created of God in His likeness and image. Instead of that he makes man a product of evolution; therefore he explains away the fall of man.

The Route to Heaven.
Show me the man who would go to heaven alone, and I will show you one who will never be admitted there.—Vetham.

Be Satisfied.
Rest satisfied with doing well, and leave others talk of you as they please.—Pythagoras.

Dampness of Error.
There is nothing so true that the dampness of error has not warped it.—Tupper.

These Two Wings Must Fly Together

No real friend of the Harding administration is attacking Congress. Some supposed supporters of the executive branch of government are busying themselves with criticisms of the legislative department. Some of these criticisms are grossly unfair. Congress has supported the President during the past fourteen months with a unanimity almost without precedent in history. That there is disagreement between the White House and the Capitol is untrue. To praise the President and damn Congress is evidence of doubtful support of the administration.

The first test of the Harding administration's hold upon the confidence of the country will come in November, when a new Congress is to be elected. Either the House majority after March 4th will be in harmony with the administration and will co-operate in the development of the administration's program, or it will be in opposition to the administration, seeking every opportunity to embarrass it and to manufacture campaign thunder for 1921.

An affection of friendship for President Harding, accompanied by participation in the administration toward the election of a Democratic Congress in November, is palpably insincere.

The record of Congress is a part of the record of the administration. No program can be effectively executed at either end of Pennsylvania avenue which does not have support and co-operation from the other end. New Jersey has a United States Senator to elect, and, as in the contest for the Governorship, it is going to be a fight to the finish between the moral and political ideals represented by Senator Frelinghuysen on one hand, and Governor Edwards on the other. The records of both men have been written in large letters.

Will the U. S. Break Faith With Haiti?

In view of the agitation on the measure of American control of Haiti, the final report of the special committee of senators, fortunately non-partisan in its membership, who have visited the island and have investigated conditions, will be read with not a little interest. Mr. Hughes is evidently better informed as to what the conclusion of this committee will be than were the protesting lawyers who called upon him the other day. But of course there will be no permanent occupation of Haiti. The United States has played fair in the Philippines. It has played fair in Cuba. The American people need be less regardless of the rights of Haiti and the Haitian people.

Outdoor Play at Westfield Friends' School

The lawn of the Westfield Friends' School at Cinnaminson was the scene of a very attractive outdoor play in which about fifty little children of Riverton and vicinity took part Friday morning, May 26th.

Under the beautiful shade trees of this old school, which was founded more than one hundred years ago, the parents and interested friends of the little folk watched them in their picturesque costumes impersonate well-known characters of fairy tales.

The fairies, waving their wands, announced the various acts and tableaux. The Babes in the Wood, Goldilocks and the Three Bears, Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf, and other familiar figures appeared on the greenward stage and entertained the onlookers.

It was the annual open air play given each year by the school and was produced under the direction of the instructors of the school.

The school will close Friday, June 9th, to reopen the middle of September. All of the present staff of teachers including Miss Naomi Bauman, principal, Miss Margaret Bradshaw, Miss Miriam Diehl, Miss Rachel Todd and S. P. McCombs will return to the school next fall.

Bridge Luncheon at Country Club

On Wednesday a luncheon and bridge party was given by the Bridge Committee of the Riverton Country Club. Luncheon was served on the porch and the tables were attractively decorated with pink and white pennants. There were twenty-four tables of bridge and the prizes were won by Mrs. Charles Walnut, of Philadelphia, Mrs. C. H. Rolf, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Josephine Porter, Philadelphia, Mrs. Russell Gausler, Riverton, Mrs. Wildman, Riverton, Mrs. Challenger, Merchantville, Mrs. Mitchell, Riverton, Mrs. Lincoln, Ridley, Riverton, Mrs. Howard Coe, Riverton.

The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. C. H. Rolf, chairman; Mrs. Ralph Boyer, Mrs. W. W. Smith, Mrs. Lea Warner, Mrs. J. C. W. Frisvold, Jr., Mrs. Walter Woolman, and Mrs. H. N. Sheble. The affair was most successful.

A crowd of young fellows tried to stage a circus on Cecil Flier's lawn last Sunday afternoon, but the performance was nipped in the bud by the timely arrival of the chief of police. Two cows had been tethered on the lawn and as the boys passed they began to annoy the animals by dragging at the chains and holding them by the horns. Mr. Geiss gently escorted them to the ferry and sent them on their way.

C. W. Wanger arranged for a dinner for a few invited guests, followed by an open meeting in the interests of the YMCA at the Riverton Country Club last (Thursday) evening. Judge Harold E. Wells was the speaker of the evening. Several lantern slides were shown illustrating the work of the YM throughout the country, and the delights of Camp Ockanickon were explained. Several Riverton boys attend the camp every year.

The women of Florence turned out in force, Saturday, and at a special election called by the Board of Education defeated the proposed purchase of a plot for a new school building, because, they declared, the price asked was exorbitant. The Board, who had approved the location as the most central for the new building, had been asked $17,000 for the plot of 500 square feet. Committees of women, declaring they favored the school, but would oppose the project if the price remained, made a house-to-house canvass and brought out a vote that astonished the officials.

How They Do It in Beverly

It is said that every householder in Beverly sleeps with a gun under the bed. One of these guns, brought into action before daybreak Monday morning, landed a would-be burglar in jail. Frank P. Jones, cashier of the Riverton National Bank, awakened to find a man in his bedroom. He grappled with the intruder and they rolled out of the window. The burglar, an elderly colored fellow, broke away and ran, but Frank McIlwain, a neighbor who had been aroused by the cries of Mrs. Jones, rushed to the rescue with his gun and after calling to the man to stop, fired. The lead of shot took effect in his shoulder, knocking him down. He was taken to the county jail, but refused to give any information about himself.

On Wednesday the prisoner was identified by Warden Robert McKenty of the Eastern Penitentiary as Joel Noe, who had served a term in that institution. It was also learned that he had done time in the State prison at Trenton. When captured Noe wore shoes like those worn by the man who robbed the Somerville home and tried to escape in the morning last week. On Wednesday Detective Parker sent the finger prints taken in the Hollingshead and other robberies here to Philadelphia to be compared with the finger prints of Noe in the rogues' gallery, Philadelphia.

Thinks Fireworks Should Not Be Discontinued

Editor The New Era:

It is rumored that on account of the Tacony-Palmyra ferry we will have no fireworks on the Fourth of July, something that we have always had, and that has always brought a big crowd here, with which Riverton has always been well pleased—the bigger the crowd the better.

But now we must do away with it because the crowd will be larger, and we are afraid it will be a rough element in our town. With our efficient police force, and with our chief of police always on the job, with an addition of two or three special officers, which we always have on the Fourth, there certainly would be no difficulty in keeping the situation in hand, even if it should become as bad as is feared, which is very doubtful.

I understand that the money was appropriated for the fireworks when the budget was made up, and if we can give pleasure and happiness to a larger number of people than we have before, so much the better for Riverton.

Don't let us get so narrow-minded that we can't give the majority of the people a good time because of a few toughs who might come across the river to see what kind of a celebration we have here in Riverton on the Fourth.

No Fireworks in Riverton's Fourth of July Celebration

Riverton's Fourth of July committee has decided to eliminate the fireworks in the evening from the program of the day. This action was decided upon after careful consideration and conference with many leading citizens. A petition recommending this action was being circulated when the decision of the committee was announced. Communications sent to The New Era, urging that fireworks be dispensed with, for publication here, were not printed owing to the fact that the action requested has already been taken.

Jail Sentence for Driving While Intoxicated

Charles Dunn, of Camden, was given a trial before Squire Fichter Wednesday morning, charged with driving a car while under the influence of liquor, and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. The Squire forwarded his license to Commissioner Dill to decide whether or not they should be revoked. According to the evidence, Dunn, who was driving a Ford car containing three men and two women, collided with another car at Union Landing Tuesday night between nine and ten o'clock. The other car, which was owned by Ernest Rein, of Riverside, and driven by Warren Smith, was damaged to the extent of nearly $300. The car, which was insured by the Young Smith and two boys from Riverside, whom he had picked up for a ride home, was overturned.

Dunn pleaded not guilty.

In his testimony, Officer Miller said that he was called to Union Landing, where the accident occurred, by a telephone message and when he arrived he found unmistakable signs that there was liquor in the car and that Dunn had been drinking. He also said that the physician who examined Dunn, after he had been placed in the lock-up at Riverton, said he was under the influence of liquor. Other witnesses for the prosecution were William G. Gootee and young Smith.

Justice Fichter said that Commissioner Dill has employed two hundred special officers and will make a strenuous effort to break up the violation of automobile laws all over the State. Speeding, driving while intoxicated, not observing the rules of the road, not having proper equipment, as lights, etc., will be rigidly prosecuted.

A similar case was heard before Squire Fichter this morning, when J. W. Wilkins, of Five Points, was arraigned for driving a car while intoxicated. The arrest was made by State Trooper Baden and Officer Quigley. At the hearing both officers testified that Wilkins was in an intoxicated condition when he entered his car at Broad street and attempted to drive off but could not get his engine started. Liquor was also found in the car. Wilkins was employed at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory. The hearing was attended by Anderson Shinn, of Burlington, chief motor vehicle inspector.

Another Robbery

The home of Mrs. Hetty Coale, Lippincott avenue and Second street, was robbed by sneak thieves Wednesday night shortly after nine o'clock, while the members of the family were away. On their return they found a screen door had been cut and that the thief had secured a pocketbook containing eleven dollars. He was evidently frightened away by their return before completing his work for other valuables of easy access were not disturbed. A telephone message to the police department brought State Trooper Baden and Officer Quigley to the scene in less than five minutes after the robbery had been discovered, but no trace of the intruder was found.

A Fountain Pen with the Little Red Pump Handle will be highly prized as a commencement present. May be exchanged for another after commencement if the point does not suit. Make your selection at The New Era Office.

PALMYRA'S FOURTH

Plans Being Made for All Day Program Starting at Seven O'clock in the Morning

A big meeting of representatives from virtually all the organizations in town, civic, fraternal and religious, was held in the Legion rooms Wednesday night to map plans for Palmyra's big Fourth of July celebration.

Everybody present greeted the project with great enthusiasm and all displayed the heartiest spirit of cooperation in the work and plans set forth by the officers. Many ladies were present and they, too, announced that they would give their best efforts to make the celebration a great success.

According to the tentative program the celebration is to begin at seven o'clock in the morning with a flag raising and the firing of a salute. At ten there is to be a huge parade, followed by community singing, patriotic speeches and a band concert in the grove.

From 1:30 in the afternoon to 3:30 there is to be an interesting program of athletic sports for all ages, followed by a ball game.

No fireworks are contemplated. The whole town is to be decorated for the event, business people and private citizens being asked to do their best to carry out the spirit of the day.

J. Edwin Lees is chairman of the general committee, W. F. Crane vice chairman, W. H. Randle secretary, and William Colsey, treasurer.

Chairmen of the various committees are: finance, Harry Curry; sports, Russell Gibson; prizes, M. J. McDermon; parade, A. W. King; police, C. B. Hinchman; grounds, A. S. King; music, William Jenkins; publicity, Frank Chambers; speakers, William Colsey. The program committee will be composed of all the officers and chairmen.

The drive of the finance committee for funds will start at once. Letters will be sent to all citizens and badges will be provided for all contributors.

Memorial Day

The striking feature of Palmyra's Memorial Day observance was the re-naming of the beautiful Larry avenue park triangle park in honor of Fredrick Mitchell Rodgers, the only Palmyra boy to give his life on the field of battle in the late war, and after whom the Palmyra Legion Post was named.

This dedication service was particularly under the auspices of Rodgers Post, and the exercises were of most impressive nature. The presentation speech was fittingly delivered by Township Chairman Davies. Acceptance was made most eloquently by Frank A. Mathews, Jr., Post Attorney, and the dedication services were then carried out in an impressive manner by A. Lincoln Richter, Post Commander.

The whole ceremony was very ably arranged and managed by members of the Legion.

A beautiful floral piece of huge dimensions, bearing the name "Fredrick Mitchell Rodgers," was placed in a prominent position during the services. This floral piece was constructed by Arthur Bowker and Frank A. Mathews, Jr.

Following the parade of the various organizations to Morgan cemetery, graves were decorated there, after which the procession retraced its steps to the Methodist cemetery where the graves received appropriate tokens of remembrance. A firing squad of twelve men from Camp Dix fired the salutes.

The Palmyra Boy Scouts, under the leadership of Field Scout Commissioner A. W. King, made a splendid appearance and gave every evidence of discipline and training.

At the grove the audience was treated to a double portion of inspiring speaking. Calvin O. Althouse, of Central High School, Philadelphia, scheduled orator of the day, was late in arriving owing to another engagement, and the Rev. C. W. Williams, of the Baptist Church, took the stand and delivered a splendid address in the interim.

Mr. Althouse was most eloquent and added to the reputation he enjoys as a gifted speaker.

All the local ministers took part in various phases of the ceremonies and appropriate music was ably rendered by Griffenberg's band.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Dooling spent the Memorial Day holidays at Atlantic City.

The Wesleyan Men's Bible Class will go to Medford on Sunday, June 11, there joining with the Medford class and two others in an open air meeting in the grove. The Wesleyans are providing transportation for 130 members and about 600 more in all are expected at the meeting. Last Sunday the class was addressed by J. Otto Thilow, who illustrated the principles of the lesson with examples from plant life, showing that we still get "bread from stones" and "wine from water." Mr. Thilow is a noted horticulturist and his talk was full of the most interesting information.

RUNYON MAKES FORMAL BID FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Union County Senator, in Announcing Candidacy, Calls for Less Legislation and More Administration.

AID FOR FARM MARKETS

Advocates Direct Primary; Improved Regulation of Utilities; Equal Educational Opportunities and Limitation of Night Work for Women; Increased Workingmen's Compensation; Hastening of Bridge, Tunnel and Highway Projects.

Trenton, N. J., May 31.—William N. Runyon, state senator from Union county for the past five years, in a preliminary statement of the principles for which he stands, today made formal announcement of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor.

In his declaration Mr. Runyon is outspoken in favor of the continuation of the direct primary act; the enforcement of all law, including the Eighteenth Amendment; less legislation and more administration in state affairs, and revision and codification of the laws; better defined regulation of public utilities, leading to the reduction of gas and electric rates and trolley fares; the limitation of night work for women, and an equal educational opportunity for every child; increase in compensation under the workingmen's compensation act; utmost economy in public affairs to keep down taxes; the immediate development of proposed bridges, tunnels, waterways and roads of the state and the extension of the Bureau of Farm Markets.

At the same time that the announcement was given to the public Mr. Runyon stated that Arthur T. Vanderbilt of Newark would be his campaign manager. Mr. Vanderbilt is county counsel of Essex county and was very active in Mr. Runyon's primary fight for the nomination three years ago.

William N. Runyon is a descendant of one of the oldest New Jersey families. He was born in Plainfield on March 5, 1871, and educated at the Plainfield schools and later at Yale University, from which he graduated in 1892. He took up the study of law at the New York Law School. He was admitted to the bar in New York state in 1894 and in New Jersey in 1898, becoming a counselor in 1901.

Always interested in public affairs, Mr. Runyon took an active part in the local government of his home city, serving as a member of the city council and as city judge, holding the latter position for twelve years.

Retiring from the judgeship in 1910, Mr. Runyon remained out of public life until 1914, when he was persuaded to run for the House of Assembly. In his first year he was made Republican leader of the house, and his record resulted in his being re-elected with ease in 1915 and 1916.

In the fall of 1917 the Republicans of the county turned to him for their candidate for state senator, and he is now serving his second three-year term in that office. After his first year in the senate, by virtue of being president, he became acting governor when Walter E. Edge was sworn in as United States senator, occupying that high office for nearly a year.

AMERICAN LEGION

Legion Carnival

The annual Legion carnival will be held at the Legion grounds, Broad and Garfield avenue, Friday and Saturday nights and if it should rain either of the two nights don't forget that the carnival will be held on Monday night, June 5th.

It is the Legion's principle to uphold the laws of this country and as it is against the law to run wheels at carnivals we have disposed of that idea and are going to have games of skill instead. It is the hope of the committee to give everybody a good time and the desire that the people will take to the games with as much zeal and pep as they have heretofore with the wheels.

First of all as you come walking down Broad street you will become acquainted with that good old smell of Hot Dogs. Then you will see a Ford touring car which the Legion is going to give away Saturday night. A book of chances will be given to the party hitting the bull's eye on the dart board.

Of course there will be ice cream and cold drinks, home-made cakes, and all that for sale, and baskets of fruits and groceries will be given for skill in various games such as throwing a baseball through a hole, throwing it into a bucket so that it stays there, and many other tests of your skill which you may not have seen before.

There will be the fascinating game of Hoop-La, a long jitney ride for a nickel, and a fortune teller who will reveal all you want to know about the past, present and future, and then some.

Music will be furnished by the Palmyra band.

High School Notes

Fifty Palmyra High School seniors enjoyed the annual trip to Washington last week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. They visited many points of interest and heard some of the tariff debate in the Senate Friday evening after touring the Congressional Library. The students were under the guidance of Miss Vera Brower and were also accompanied by Mrs. J. C. Hoepfner, Mrs. J. P. MacFarlane, Mrs. Thomas Lewis and E. M. Beeton. All traveled in a special car and put up at the Hotel Lafayette. The baseball season ends with a game at Burlington this Friday.

The track team competed in the Perkiomen meet last Saturday. The relay team ran second in the Class C event. Alphyreman won fourth in the javelin throw and Sacks was third in the 100-yard dash.

Radio Sets Built in School

The sudden awakening of popular interest in radio telephony broadcasting has made great demands upon the manual training departments of the New Jersey public schools for the constructing of receiving sets.

Probably no scientific development has ever taken such a hold on the school boy as radio has, and teachers of shop work have recognized the tremendous educational possibilities in the making of wireless sets in the home and schools.

Radio sets are being constructed in the schools of Jersey City, Hoboken, Bayonne, East Orange, Elizabeth, Plainfield, Newark, and many other places.

Burlington County Children's Home Fete

In making your engagements for the month, reserve Thursday, June 8, to attend the June Fete on the lawn of the Burlington County Children's Home. It will be a time for pleasant social intercourse, and all will enjoy visiting the various shops and attractive places. The committee are serving chicken-a-la-king, cold boiled ham, French fried potatoes, pineapple salad, rolls and coffee for seventy-five cents, and are preparing for a big crowd.

This charity takes care of destitute children from all over the county and depends upon the people of the county for its support.

No matter what creed we prefer, let us teach our children reverence before God in some form, for this will serve as a mighty force in their lives.

A correspondent tells of an amusing Spoonerism she once heard. It was before the days of automobiles, and a young woman gazing out of the window of her home saw some stylish visitors approaching. Instead of saying, as she intended, "Mother, here comes the Cabots in their carriage," she exclaimed: "Here come the Carrots in their cabbage."

SPORTS

Twilight League Opens Saturday
The season of the Twilight League will open with an afternoon game on the local grounds this Saturday, when the P. O. S. of A. team will clash with that of the Knights of Pythias.

Sheriff Plagg is expected to make the opening address.

The teams will be in their new uniforms and as all players have been practicing hard a snappy contest is expected.

Next week the evening schedule will begin. On Tuesday the Legion plays the Artisans, and on Thursday the Wesleyans play the Rhinoceros.

No admission will be charged.

P. H. S. Alumni
The Alumni Association of the Palmyra High School will hold its annual initiation meeting on Friday evening, June 16, at 7:30 o'clock. All members are urged to be present. Friends of members will be admitted to the dance following at 25c each.

Field Club Plays Medford
The Palmyra Field Club will travel to Medford for a League game this Saturday. Manager Nichols announces that Larry Polk will hold down the first base job.

On Wednesday evening there will be a twilight game with the Medford Club, of Camden, at the local grounds. Game called at 6 o'clock sharp.

Open House at County Hospital
Everybody in Burlington county is invited to attend the "open house" to be held at the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly on Thursday of next week, June 15, for the purpose of making an inspection of the institution, getting a first-hand idea of the great work that is being done there, hearing an address by Judge Harold B. Wells, and enjoying music and light refreshments.

This affair has been planned by the managers, and they and members of the Board of Council will be on hand to see that hospitality is properly extended to all of the visitors. It is not an invitation affair, being a genuine "open house" without any restrictions that the guests choose to impose upon themselves.

From four to seven o'clock in the time fixed and during all of that period there will be something interesting for all who care to come.

The address by Judge Wells will be made at five o'clock. Judge Wells is always interesting and there is a special force he reserves for occasions of this kind when he is dealing with charity work.

The managers want the people of Burlington county to understand that this is their hospital—it belongs to them to inquire about, talk about and inspect—and next Thursday has been set aside as a special day for this purpose. It will make all people feel good to know how well this hospital is being conducted and how much genuine relief for the sick and afflicted is being given.

Riverton Pupils "Bagging School" at Palmyra High

At a meeting of the Riverton Board of Education Monday night the members of the Board were a good deal perturbed over the report on pupils attending the Palmyra High School. Absences amounting to ninety-three and one-half days for the month were reported, and several of the pupils were marked "lacking in effort." Next came a serious effort will be made by the Riverton Board to see that the pupils for the education of the people of Riverton are paying, attend school regularly and get down to business.

A contract for painting the interior walls and the exterior woodwork of the school was awarded to the S. J. Coddington Estate. It is expected to have the electric wiring of the school finished during the summer. A part of the building was wired last summer.

A communication was received from the supervising principal of the Palmyra High School stating that Miss Grace E. Davis would graduate with second honors. This entitles Miss Davis to the prize of twenty dollars in gold offered by the Riverton Board.

Miss Chew, supervising principal, reported that thirty-nine children had been neither absent nor tardy during the year, and were entitled to the books which are given every year for this record.

Miss Chew further reported that scarlet fever had broken out in the school, but that every precaution had been taken to prevent its spread as much as possible, and that no new cases had been reported the last few days.

The field day sports were reported to be most successful.

The commencement exercises will be held on June 14.

Fred P. Hemphill was re-appointed district clerk, and Joseph Letherbury was re-appointed janitor.

Messrs. Sylvester and Baker were appointed a committee to audit the books of the district clerk.

School will reopen in the fall on September 11th.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Teachers	$1,785.00
Janitor	108.33
Attendance officer	15.00
Phone	7.55
Supplies	97.53
Gas and electricity	10.15

Frelinghuysen Announces Candidacy

On June 5, Joseph S. Frelinghuysen announced his candidacy for renomination and re-election to the United States Senate.

In his announcement Senator Frelinghuysen said in part:

"At the present time I am unable to leave Washington as often as I should like due to the fact that the tariff measure, so important to New Jersey and sponsored by the Finance Committee for which I am a member is now before Congress. In the campaign I shall discuss fully and completely the issues before the country in order that no doubt may be entertained as to my position and attitude."

Fond Hearts Parted.

My earliest love affair, writes a correspondent, was no funny matter at all. In fact I cannot think of it even now without an ache in my heart. I was only fourteen years and he three years my senior. All might have been well, but—fatal objections. We were parted to drift further apart as the years rolled on. I am married now, but not to my first and tenderest love!

LESSON TEXT—Jeremiah 38:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the Lord—Jer. 1:8.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Gen. 39: 12-23; Jer. 20:1-18; Luke 3:18-20; Acts 13: 1-11; 16:19-24.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How God Cared for Jeremiah.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jeremiah's Bold Truth-telling.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Faithful in the Face of Danger.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Lessons From Jeremiah's Character.

I. Jeremiah Predicts the Capture of Jerusalem (vv. 1-3).
1. To Whom—the People (v. 1). Jeremiah had been taken out of the prison by the king (37:17), and ordered confined to the court of the prison (37:21). The people seem to have had free access to him in the court (32:12). From this place of limited confinement Jeremiah announced to the people their approaching captivity.

2. Counsel Given (vv. 2, 3). (1) All that remaineth in the city shall die by the sword, famine and pestilence. (2) He that goeth forth to the Chaldeans shall live. "He shall have his life for a prey" doubtless means that he shall escape with his life, though losing all else.

II. Jeremiah Accused by the Princes (vv. 4, 5).
1. "He weakeneth the hands of the men and all the people" (v. 4). From a human standpoint what they said was true, but since Jeremiah was the interpreter of God to the nation they ought to have heeded his advice to surrender.

2. "This man seeketh not the welfare of this people, but the hurt" (v. 4). This charge was utterly false. Jeremiah was the best friend of the people, for he faithfully proclaimed to them God's judgment upon them for their sins and advised them how to make the best of their unfortunate situation.

3. The King's Cowardly Act (v. 5). Jeremiah is abandoned by his cowardly friend. The very one whom Jeremiah was trying to help deserted him. The king was afraid of the Chaldeans, the princes, Jeremiah and God.

III. Jeremiah Cast into the Dungeon (v. 6).
This was not a regular prison, but a cistern which had doubtless been emptied of its water during the siege, leaving only "mire." Into this mire he sank. The purpose was to let Jeremiah die there. There was no possible way to escape. In this situation Jeremiah is a type of Christ (Psalm 69). Jeremiah was one of the bravest of God's servants.

IV. Jeremiah Rescued From the Dungeon (vv. 7-13).
1. By Whom—Ebed-melech, an African servant (vv. 7-9). The Jewish prophet whom his own countrymen tried to destroy is saved by a Gentile, which may be thought of as foreshadowing the Gentiles' attitude toward Christ. "Though Ebed-melech had a colored skin he was the whitest man in Jerusalem. He was not only sympathetic, but courageous. He went to the king and boldly declared that the princes had done evil in imprisoning Jeremiah."

2. The Method (vv. 10-13). The king yielded to his request and furnished a guard to prevent interference with the work of rescue. He let down soft rags and worn-out garments by ropes and instructed Jeremiah to put them under his arms and under the ropes so as to prevent injury to him as he was lifted up. They lifted him out of the dungeon and he was permitted the freedom of the court of the prison.

Why did Jeremiah have such a hard time? Why do the purest and best men and women have to suffer? Why are God's prophets unpopular? Jeremiah, the prophet who declared God's power to deliver, goes to prison and suffers. "Why do the righteous suffer" is an age-old question.

1. The power of God is more strikingly shown in deliverance than in keeping from trials. This was so in the case of the Hebrews in the fiery furnace and Daniel in the den of lions.

2. Great gain accrues to the sufferers; e. g. the Hebrews in the fiery furnace were not only kept from being burned, but had walking with them the Son of God; Job through his trials was brought to see himself.

3. Suffering turns out to the furtherance of God's cause; e. g. Job because of his suffering through whose intercession his friends are pardoned; Paul's sufferings furthered the preaching of the gospel; John through banishment on the Isle of Patmos was given the vision of the Revelation.

Zion.
But Judah shall dwell for ever, and Jerusalem from generation to generation. For I will cleanse their blood that I have not cleansed: for the Lord dwelleth in Zion.—Joel 3:20 and 21.

Be Honest.
Recompense to no man evil for evil. Provide things honest in the sight of all men.—Romans 17.

The Perfect Man.
If any man offend not in word, the same is a perfect man.—James 3:2.

Deacon Morrill

Preachers should rebuke more often the sin of grouchiness and general unpleasantness. Some one has said that when the devil can get no other grip on an individual he makes him disagreeable.

Inexcusable Editorial Ignorance

DID you ever try to write an article about something of which you knew very little, but thought you could easily "look it up"? When, the first of the week, an interested subscriber friend, who frequently prods me into writing on things that ought to be "written up," suggested that we say something about "Flag Day," urging people to display the National emblem on that occasion. We said, "Yes, sure we will." Said he, "You know the man who originated the observance of 'Flag Day' died recently. It was all in the Bulletin a few nights ago."

Then we started to "look it up." We dug out from under the table in the shed the Bulletins for the past week, and thumbed them over carefully, led on by the thought that every turn of the page would mark the end of our quest. But nothing doing. No reference to "Flag Day" nor its founder could be located.

Resort to the "editorial library" afforded no better returns. The dearth of information about "Flag Day" was amazing. Finally in a dictionary of recent issue we found this bit of information:

FLAG DAY. In the United States the 14th of June, the anniversary of the day, in 1777, on which the American Congress formally adopted the Stars and Stripes as the National flag.

But never a word about its origin or the originator.

Not being able to build much of a story around this gem of brevity, we decided to call up some of our friends "who ought to know." But they didn't!

Several of them thought they remembered seeing the article in the paper, but didn't know just which paper, nor just what it said. Heads of historical societies, patriotic orders, educational and literary centers were in turn consulted.

Finally we gave it up in despair. We can remember the date, June 14. We also recall other important events that fall on that day—such as Bastille Day and the commencement exercises at the Riverton public school—but we can suggest no better reason for every American citizen displaying his flag on that day than "because" because the spirit of patriotism, the spirit of devotion to the flag and all the fine things it stands for in the world which is in this day beset with difficulties and problems, such as the human race has never known, should be encouraged, and kept alive, and intensified and displayed before the eyes of the coming generation, both alien and native-born.

So, put out your flag next Wednesday, June 14, at sunrise and take it down at sunset, tell the children how to properly show respect and veneration for the Grand Old Emblem, which is the hope of the world—and if you know anything about the origin of this day of observance, for gracious sake share your knowledge with the editor!

Miss Grace Davis Wins $20 Prize

Miss Grace E. Davis, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. Harry E. Davis, won the prize of twenty dollars in gold offered by the Riverton Board of Education for the pupil from the Riverton school graduating with first or second honors from any high school in the county. Miss Davis took second place in the Palmyra High School, where she was also secretary of her class.

In his letter to the Riverton School Board, announcing the winning of Miss Davis, A. S. Griffith, supervising principal at Palmyra, said:

She graduates as second, or salutatorian, with a very good average. This average is taken for the full four years work. Grace is also secretary of her class. I wish we had more like her."

Allan-Murdoch

Miss Isabelle E. Murdoch, sister of the bride was maid of honor, and wore a frock of orchid chiffon and carried orchid colored sweet peas.

SOME DO, SOME DON'T

Large Delegation Appears Before Council to Protest Against Curbing. Other Ask How to Proceed With Such Improvements

The oft repeated invitation of the Mayor and Council to the public to attend its meetings bore an abundant harvest Thursday night when a score or more of Riverton's prominent citizens appeared before that body. Their mission was to protest against curbing of the ordinance requiring curbs to be laid on Main street from the river to the Borough line at Cinnaminson township, and on Lippincott avenue from Broad street to the river. Delay of action was urged owing to the cost of making the improvement, which, it was thought, was not necessary. It was claimed that Lippincott avenue looked better at it is, with its terraced grass plots meeting the roadway.

After the objection had been heard on the Main street ordinance, it was unanimously passed. When the Lippincott avenue ordinance came up for final action, a new feature was added to the opposition in the fact that the service of the notices on the property owners had not been in strict conformity with the requirements of the law. Some of the Main street notices had been (Continued on third page)

Loyal Friends Attend "Home" Fete in Downpour of Rain

There were few in our community who did not feel genuine regret when the clouds rolled up from the south and let fall their floods of rain last Saturday afternoon, for everyone knew that the Cinnaminson Home would suffer. An immense amount of work had been done by the various committees in charge of the Home's annual fete, and the way was laid for a banner afternoon in the institution's history—but the rain came!—So did people, a surprising number, notwithstanding what a remarkable rallying center this Home is for the neighborhood.

A most excellent supper was served with remarkable efficiency, considering the congested indoor conditions, and practically all the food supplies were consumed, so that this phase of the afternoon was a marked success. But going from room to room in a crowded house is quite different from passing from booth to booth on a sunny lawn, and so it was that many of the charming things offered for sale failed to find purchasers. It was a sheer impossibility for the people to crowd up and down the stairs and into the rooms where so many desirable things had been hastily arranged. There was a wonderfully fine spirit over the whole occasion, but the returns in money to the Home, the vitally important item, were about $1500 less than last year.

Everyone having a duty to perform did it cheerfully and well, even down to Punch and Judy who played vociferously to a necessarily limited audience in the nursery.

The Cinnaminson Home Fete did not bring in all the money that its managers hoped for, but it performed a fine service by drawing together in pleasant social intercourse a large company of people, all inspired by the wish to help a really great charity. We hope that in the end it will not be the loser.

This "Thirteen" Was Unlucky

At ten o'clock Wednesday evening the Palmyra Ambulance received a call from Fork Landing. The ambulance responded quickly and found that an automobile had overturned with 13 persons in it. Three were rendered to six who were slightly injured. The most serious was a woman with a broken knee cap and broken shin bone. Francis Slack made temporary settings and bandaged the broken bones in two minutes. She was then taken to the Cooper hospital at 10:25, the whole matter only taking 15 minutes.

Wilkins Discharged on Technicality

Through an alleged irregularity in the commitment papers, James Wilkins, who was arrested last week and sentenced to thirty days by Judge Fichter charged with driving a car while intoxicated, was released by the judge in the county court the next day, and when the case was reviewed Thursday morning before Judge Wells, the prisoner was discharged. No question was raised as to insufficient evidence of the man's guilt. In addition to the charge that he was driving a car while intoxicated, a bottle claimed to contain "hoof" was found in the car and is now in charge of the Riverton police department. While it may be necessary to conform strictly to the technicality of the law to the letter in such cases, it does seem too bad that after the police have done their duty that the ends of justice should be sacrificed. There is small encouragement to the officers to make an arrest under these conditions.

Domestic Science Class Serves Dinner to Board of Education

As a demonstration of the value of teaching domestic science in our public schools, the eighth grade girls of Riverton school, under the supervision of their teacher, Miss Helen F. Borath, served dinner for the Board of Education, on Thursday evening, June first.

This was the last lesson of their course of study, approved by the State Department, and finished the work of the year, at the elementary school.

The girls decorated the room and table, and planned and served the dinner, which was pronounced excellent by all who partook of it.

The interest manifested by the class was apparent by the pleasure they had in working out the various details of the occasion. At the close of the dinner, Charles W. Kipp, president of the Board, addressed the class, and a letter was read from Murray C. Beyer, regarding his inability to be present. All the other guests complimented Miss Borath and the girls on their successful work.

YM Institute at Camp Ockanickon The thirtieth annual County Workers' Institute will be held at Camp Ockanickon, New Jersey, June 16, 17, 18, with C. C. Robinson, Mayor, New York, Judge Harold B. Wells, and William N. Runtz as the chief attractions. This Institute is conducted by the Ockanickon Camp and Conference Committee composed of two County Councils, the YMCA Committees of Monmouth, Gloucester, Camden and Burlington counties, in cooperation with the State Executive Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of New Jersey. The address plan is already at the camp site arranging for new mess quarters, setting up a new feature, a youth electrical contractor of Mount Holly, and making other necessary preparations for the care of what they believe will be one of the greatest Institutes in the history of the County work of the Young Men's Christian Association in the State.

In Burlington county a number of men's Sunday School classes are planning to attend the Institute en masse, a large number of the sixty YMCA group leaders are making plans to be present.

Honor Pupils The following pupils of Riverton public school are exempt from examinations, having made the required standing of 85% or above in all subjects throughout the year: Fifth grade—Alfred Hemphill, Charles Knight, Dewees Showell. Sixth grade—Edward Hutchins. Seventh grade—George Hutchins. Eighth grade—Roscoe Bowers.

The graduating exercises will take place on Wednesday evening, June 14, at 8 o'clock, in the auditorium of the school.

Following the business session a number of Riverton people, among whom was Mayor William H. Bishop, the program which followed was in charge of Chairman Overman. He first called on Senator Roberts of Moorestown, for a statement as to how he considered it a privilege to serve on the County YMCA Committee. Secretary Hendry was then asked to explain the activities at Camp Ockanickon, followed by the answering of a number of questions concerning various phases of Camp life: a brief summary of the Industrial and Americanization Work in the County as being promoted by Secretary Evans; a report of the activities of the YMCA Group at Busleton, given by the treasurer of the group, a boy fourteen years of age, Irvin Wright; stereoscopic views of the Industrial and Group Work and other YMCA activities; and last of all, an address by Judge Wells in which he briefly cited his appreciation of the value of Boys' Work as being promoted and extended by the County Young Men's Christian Association.

Country Club Bowling

The Riverton Country Club has just finished the most successful bowling tournament in the history of the Club. Twelve teams of six men each started the season and only one of the teams dropped out, leaving the other eleven to fight it out. The number of men competing in the tournament would compare very favorably with some of the Philadelphia Country Clubs, which have a much larger membership to draw upon. After a very close race between teams captained by Messrs. Coc, Davis, Graft and Hirst, the honors were finally carried off by Davis's team.

The individual scores made during the season were as follows, and when the large number of games played during the tournament are considered the bowling of some of the players is of a high order.

YMCA Reorganized

The following members of the board of directors of the YMCA of Riverton and Palmyra held a meeting in the office of George N. Wimer Wednesday evening. Charles A. Dietz, Mark W. Wisman, Otto Thilow, James Forrester, William H. Rudduck, A. H. Rudduck and William McConnell.

It was resolved to reorganize by the appointment of new directors to take the place of those who had resigned. The following persons were added to the board of directors: William T. J. Purnell, Harvey Fisher, and George B. Claver.

The president was instructed to appoint the necessary committee to carry on the work. It was resolved to pay off the mortgage on the building, which had been held for many years by James Forrester, and the necessary steps were taken for that purpose.

Another meeting will be held as soon as the committees are ready to take up their work.

High School Notes

Miss Laura Jones, of Palmyra, and Herbert Worth, of Riverside, Palmyra high school seniors, won the county high school oratorical contest held at Moorestown last Friday evening. Each won a first prize of $5.00 and their combined efforts won the silver cup for the school for the second time in succession. This cup must be won three times straight to become the permanent possession of a school.

Commencement will be held next Thursday evening. There will be 45 graduates.

Miss Emma Sawyer's sixth grade will entertain their parents this Friday evening at the high school auditorium.

Schools close on the 11th.

served on Lippincott avenue, and vice versa.

In view of this fact motions prevailed to lay the Lippincott avenue ordinance on the table, and to rescind the action taken on the Main street ordinance and table it also, with a view to starting all over again and seeing that each step is taken exactly as prescribed by law.

Later in the evening motions were passed taking both ordinances from the table for further consideration. A public meeting to hear protests will be held Thursday evening, July 13, at the Council chamber.

Albert J. Hodson, of Palmyra, who recently acquired a portion of the Woolston property at Seventh and Lippincott avenue, appeared before Council requesting the proper lines to which curbs and sidewalks should be laid. He said that a curb and sidewalk were very necessary parts to the improvements he was making, and that he wanted to be sure he was going right. Surveyors who had attempted to give him the grade had stopped short when they found there was only half an inch drop on Seventh street between Lippincott avenue and Main street.

Fred P. Hemphill, representing the Presbyterian church, said the church had no objection to the passage of the ordinance for Lippincott avenue, as it was already arranging to have curbs constructed on both the Lippincott avenue and Fourth street sides of the property, considering it would be an improvement to the property as well as the appearance of that section of the town.

A. Harry Rudduck, another resident of Palmyra, appeared before Council and said that he was about to build some houses on Elm avenue, near Second street, and he wanted to know what steps it would be necessary to take to get gas, electricity, water, sewerage, sidewalks and curbing in that section. This matter was referred to the Highway Committee to see what could be done to help Mr. Rudduck in the development of that section.

The committee to which was referred at the last meeting the offer of Messrs. Charles A. Wright and E. L. Williams to donate to the borough a portion of their property at Broad and Main streets for the purpose of rounding off the sharp corner at that point, giving more room for vehicular traffic, reported that a conference had been held with the gentlemen interested and that the borough engineers would prepare a plan showing the improvement in detail.

The Fourth of July Committee reported that progress was being made on the plans for the celebration of the day, which will include some new events, and that it had been decided to dispense with the display of fireworks in the evening.

Chief of Police Geiss presented a letter from the borough attorney advising that the borough had full power under the law to require a license and exact a fee from the jitney manager who had refused to comply with these requirements of the borough ordinance when called upon to do so by the police chief.

Mr. Geiss also asked for authority to set a portion of commitment that would hold water. He said that a man arrested for driving his car while intoxicated and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail had been discharged by the judge in the county court because of technical irregularity in the commitment papers. It seems that a man was committed on a "disorderly act" blank, instead of on the basis of the motor vehicle act.

The Riverton Yacht Club sent invitations to the Mayor and members of Council to be the guests of the club on the Fourth of July, and on July 15th, the date of the ten-mile championship swimming event for men, at which time a special yacht will be provided to take them from the starting point in Philadelphia to Riverton. The invitations were accepted with a vote of appreciation.

New Features in Fourth Celebration
At the meeting of the Riverton Yacht Club Tuesday night, it was decided to have a full Fourth of July program as usually rendered by the Yacht Club, including yacht races in the morning and the aquatic sports in the afternoon, with possibly the addition of some new features. The Fourth of July committee appointed by the Club consists of Charles B. Durbin, chairman; Ross Elliott, William H. Baker, Jr., E. K. Merrill, R. W. Knight, C. Rex Howell, F. W. Robertson, Robert Ayres and H. H. Watkins, Jr.

The Club is preparing for a most successful season. Three series of races have been scheduled for 1922. I. class and the cruisers owned by Captains E. K. Merrill, Melvin Bidle and George W. Smith, Jr., who are getting all set for a spirited tilt for the Club championship of 1922.

Charles B. Durbin, of the swimming section, is arranging for the ten mile National Championship swimming race, to be run off at Riverton on July 15th. This will be the fifth consecutive time this national event has come to Riverton.

On August 26 a team of champion English girls, who are touring the United States, will swim here in competition with the best girl swimmers of America.

The Club has decided not to spend any more money on the pier, as it is quite probable that it will be able to secure a home on Bank avenue, where regular Club accommodations can be installed for members and out-of-town guests.

Arthur B. Shaner was elected a member of the elective and financial committee to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of H. H. Watkins, Jr.

The Yacht Club decided that this year most of the events would be open only to members of the Club. However, several events, such as a few of the canoe contests and a swim for the men from the ferry to the wharf will be thrown open.

Mr. Merrill will supervise the canoe events, with Mr. Baker looking after the row boat and tub events, and Mr. Durbin in charge of the swimming end.

Mr. Durbin will call a meeting of his committee this Friday evening on which occasion all details for the events will be worked out.

The Club is sending out special invitations to American Legion posts at Palmyra and Riverton to the officials of both the borough of Riverton and the township of Palmyra and to the school teachers of both towns to be their guests on this occasion and to have the freedom and use of the wharf and club house.

Want to Help Solve Tax Problems
Representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and the Board on the Township Committee Tuesday evening in regard to the tax situation.

Wilbur F. Crane, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stated that the delegation had come to ask the Township Committee to allow the Boosters' and the Chamber to co-operate with it in solving the tax problem.

William B. Colsey, president of the Boosters', emphasized the assessment of all over town, and urged that a commission be appointed to completely reassess the town, so that "Bill Jones wouldn't have to pay John Smith's taxes" anymore.

Ralph S. Rivers and William H. Lindsey, of the Boosters', described at length the great inequalities in assessments that had come to their notice, and demanded that definite action be taken.

After some discussion the consensus of opinion, in which the members of the Township Committee agreed, was that a commission of citizens, to be named by the Township Committee, should co-operate with the Assessor, Mr. shade, in straightening out the tax tangled and assessing all properties on the same basis. This plan, it was also hoped, might also result in a reduction of the tax rate.

Palmyra's Big Celebration
The big Fourth of July celebration planned by Palmyra will start in the morning with a flag raising and cannon salute by the Boy Scouts. At ten o'clock there will be a big parade of all the organizations in the town and participated in by the children.

Prizes will be awarded to the best decorated baby carriages and bicycles and one for the most original costume. In the parade will ride the Goddess of Liberty, Palmyra's fairest daughter, as selected by popular vote from among the published in the local paper and given out with purchases at the local stores.

At eleven o'clock there will be a patriotic greeting in the grove. In the afternoon there will be a band concert, races and athletic contests open to everyone on the same basis. Prizes will be awarded and it is expected to have a ball game between the P. O. S. of A. and the American Legion. In the evening there will be a band concert and singing by prominent artists in the grove.

Central Baptist Church
Children's Day will be observed this Sunday. In the morning Pastor Williams will preach on "The Opportunities of Parents" and in the evening, Sunday School will be held, beginning at 7 o'clock, in observance of the day.

The church has voted to send Pastor Williams as a delegate to the Northern Baptist Convention at Indianapolis from June 15 to 20, and he will leave early next week.

Calvary Presbyterian Church
Friday, the executive board of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Presbytery of Monmouth, will meet in the Presbyterian Church.

The Children's Day exercises of the Sunday School will be held next Sunday evening at seven o'clock. Beginning Sunday morning, the 18th, the morning service of the church will begin at 11 o'clock instead of 10:45, and Sunday School will begin at 10 instead of at 2:30.

Beverly City Council has passed an ordinance prohibiting the discharge of any kind of fireworks or other explosives within the city limits, except a public display by properly authorized and licensed operators. The fine for the violation of the ordinance is $25.

Y. W. Notes
The Palmyra and Riverton Y. W. C. A. wish to thank all the business houses, friends and members who donated to their booth at the Cinnamonson Home, on June 3rd.

There will be no regular meetings of the Y. W. C. A. during the summer. Classes will open in September. Date to be announced later.

"New Members Night" at C. of C.
The Chamber of Commerce at its June meeting next Tuesday evening in Society Hall will celebrate "new members' night." A special effort is being made to have all the new members attend, as well as all the old, so that they will be better acquainted.

C. W. Summerfield, assistant to the general secretary of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, will be the speaker, coming here with the special recommendation of N. B. Kelly, of the Philadelphia organization to speak on the value of a Chamber of Commerce to a town.

In addition there will be many interesting subjects for discussion.

Parry Fire Company to House New Apparatus

This Saturday afternoon at two o'clock the Riverton Fire Company will officially house the new apparatus of the Parry Volunteer Fire Company, No. 1, at its firehouse on Cinnamonson avenue near the Burlington pike.

The housing will be preceded by a parade of fire companies from all parts of Burlington county and the school children of the Cinnamonson township schools.

The committee has arranged a fitting program for the occasion, including games and contests, refreshments, and a good time will be assured for all who attend, and everybody is invited.

Field Club Loses to Medford

The Field Club travelled to Medford Saturday and was trimmed by the fast ball club of that place by the score of 4 to 1.

The game was close and well played for the most part, a couple of errors by the infield giving Medford the edge. Babe Flynn pitched a good game throughout. Van Emberg took over the hurling in the ninth and also showed much stuff.

Van Emberg has been engaged regularly for the locals and for the rest of the season will share the hurling burden with Babe. Next Saturday Roy will probably pitch the whole game.

P. C. Beats Matchless
The Field Club on Wednesday evening defeated the Matchless Club of Camden by 4-2. The game was a close one. Larry Polis started at bat with four hits in four times up. Sammy Rodgers' great throwing arm cut off two runs at the plate from left field.

Saturday the locals played Beverly, the League leaders, at home. The strongest team The Field Club has put on the field this season will meet the invaders. Van Emberg and Rodgers will be the battery, with Polis, 1b; Stack, 2b; Bud Mathews, 3b; Dargin, 3b; Rodgers, 1b; MacMullin, c; Kemmerle, rf. The game will be well worth seeing.

K. of P. Wins First Game 8-2.
The twilight league blew the lid off the season with a bang Saturday afternoon, when the Knights of Pythias topped a sensational game from the P. O. S. of A. by 8-2.

A big crowd was on hand and the rooters kept things lively from the start and fairly raised the roof when Harry Kemmerle, of the P. O. S. of A., a home-run king of former days, connected with one of Earl Cooper's drops that didn't drop, and lined it over the right field fence.

Most of Cooper's drops became much better, however, as he mowed down seventeen P. O. S. of A. batters, enough to win most any game. He also had three assists, one put out and one out.

Ludy Orcutt twirled for the P. O. S. of A. He allowed he could have got better results with four-ounce gloves.

Kenneth Davis took the defeat of the P. O. S. of A. team very much to heart and decided that it would be an easy matter to pick a scrub team from the members of the Camp that could walk the regulars to a frazzle. He's going to try it this Friday evening. Be on hand and see the fun.

Another rattling good game was pulled off before a large crowd Tuesday evening, when the Legion team won a close seven-inning contest from the Artisans.

The feature of this set-to was the "come back" of Eddie Williams, who donned a tight-fitting uniform and entered the fray as a hurler for the Artisans' after Don Knowlton had served an inning on the mound. Eddie breezed along merrily for five innings, but began to feel the weight of his forty summers about the seventh session when Larry Polis of the Legion lapped out a three-bagger. Harry Stack and Babe Flynn were the Legion twirlers and Gus Feldman was official arbiter.

Both sides battled lustily and there was some sensational fielding. Bucky Truman made a great catch on first. Harry Nichols crashed out a two-bagger that scored two Artisan runs and Artie Wright set a new style in base running when he used the crawl stroke in diving for home.

On Thursday evening the Wesleyans played the Baptists. Next Monday evening the K. of P. met the Artisans; Tuesday the P. O. S. of A. clash with the Wesleyans and on Thursday, the Legion meets the Baptists.

Bank Avenue Controversy On Again

The question of who owns Bank avenue, and whether or not it shall be kept in proper condition of repair, has again been forced into the limelight by an attempt to fill some of the holes in the roadway.

The following letters tell the story:

June 10, 1922.

Mr. Charles A. Wright,

305 River Bank,

Riverton, N. J.

Dear Sir:

I am informed that you are contemplating placing cinders or some other material on the roadway extending in front of the property at the northwesterly corner of Front street and Thomas avenue, Riverton, N. J., at the river bank, belonging to Oliver G. Willis and Margaret E. Willis, his wife, whom I represent, lately belonging to N. Myers Filler, and property extending from Thomas avenue along the river 130.75 more or less, to property now or late of Gertrude B. Shovel.

I hereby give you notice on behalf of Oliver G. Willis and Margaret E. Willis, his wife, that you must refrain and desist from placing any cinders or other materials of any kind or description whatsoever, on the roadway passing through the property of Oliver G. Willis and Margaret E. Willis, his wife, above mentioned, and that if you undertake to place any cinders or other material whatsoever upon the roadway in front of said property, you will be held accountable in damages for such action, including punitive damages.

Yours truly,

WM. D. LIPPINCOTT,

Riverton, N. J., June 12, 1922.

Honorable William D. Lippincott,

Fourth St., Camden, N. J.

Dear Judge:

Your several communications of June 10, 1922, received, stating that you were informed that I contemplated placing cinders or some other material on the River Bank Road fronting the property lately owned by N. Myers Filler, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver G. Willis, also notified therein, notify me that I must refrain and desist from placing material of any kind, and also note that I will be held liable for damages should I do so.

It seems singular that this question should arise in regard to Mr. Willis' road, which is maintained better than perhaps any on the River Bank Road, and I do not contemplate placing any material thereon, as it would be unnecessary, and should not be. Bank residents maintain the road in front of their properties as well as Mr. Willis does, there would be no need of controversy, regarding it.

I will not doubt prove fortunate that you brought this subject to light and I hope you will not consider it discourteous on my part, should I embrace this opportunity to discuss the matter before the public, for it is a question that has been the subject of the past fifteen years, and what undoubtedly precipitated it, was that on the morning of the date of your letter of asked several of my neighbors, would they allow me, at no cost to them, to place crushed stone on the road, as there had been numerous complaints of the dangerous condition of parts of the road. One party informed me emphatically that I would not be permitted to do so, so it appears that I have bank residents that will not improve their road, or allow the Borough Government, or private individuals, to do so, this person evidently regarding the dog in the manger a growl.

For several years during the life of the late E. B. Shovel, he, and a number of others formed a River Bank Road Association, and we collected money, in some instances from others than Bank residents, in order to repair the Bank Road fronting those properties, whose owners would not do so. In all there was something like $300.00 collected and spent.

The whole River Bank controversy antedates the Ferry by fifteen years, and I have on several occasions urged the Bank residents to dedicate the road to the Borough Government and invite the Borough to do something comprehensive with the whole Bank in the interest of the public. At the last meeting held for the purpose it was finally voted to leave the matter in the hands of a committee, composed of Mr. N. Myers Filler and another gentleman, and there has been no action for the past twelve years.

I maintain that as the Bank Road has been open to the public for the past thirty-three years at least, it is by the Laws of the State of New Jersey, a Public Road, and hence it is the manifest duty of the Borough Government to assume jurisdiction over it in the interest of all the citizens of the Borough, and not only make the road safe for those riding in vehicles, but provide a safe walk way for pedestrians.

I now do and always did maintain my road in as good a condition as any along the Bank, and would put a walk for pedestrians at my own expense if permitted and invited to do so by my two neighbors on either side, and would acknowledge that should I, like they, knowingly allow a dangerous condition to exist in the road in front of my property, and at the same time refuse to do anything to correct it, I would naturally expect to be taken in Court and made to pay heavy damages.

Some of our Bank residents have boasted that they will not repair the road in front of their properties for any other party doing so, and if an accident occurs as a result of the refusal with the injury to the damages following with these facts brought out in Court, would there be any doubt of the outcome?

Should these misguided persons with evidence of their folly, let me go to an Indemnity Company, state the real facts and ask indemnity for the damages they would incur, would they not be asked to pay the damages accurately gauge the extent of their folly. Should these Riverbankers try practicing the golden rule for a short time, and allow the milk of human kindness to flow, they would realize a great truth, viz: a pleasure shared is a pleasure doubled.

Very respectfully yours,

CHARLES A. WRIGHT.

LESSON FOR JUNE 18

THE DOWNFALL OF JUDAH

LESSON TEXT—II Kings 23:1-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be not deceived: God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap—Gal. 6:7.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Deut. 28:18; 29:25, 26, 27; II Chron. 36:11-23; Luke 19:41-44.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Punishing Disobedient People.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Capture of Jerusalem.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Nation That Disobeyed God.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Results of National Disobedience to God.

Zedekiah was made king of Judah by the king of Babylon (24:17), but in spite of this kindness and the word of the Lord spoken to him by Jeremiah (Jer. 38:17, 18; cf. Jer. 52:3), he rebelled against the king of Babylon. He relied upon the help of Egypt, but all that Egypt could do was to cause temporary interruption of the siege of Jerusalem.

1. The Siege of Jerusalem (vv. 1-3).
1. Time of (vv. 1, 2). It began on the tenth day of the tenth month of the ninth year of Zedekiah's reign and lasted about eighteen months. The tenth month according to the Jewish calendar corresponds to our December-January, as their calendar year began about the middle of March. The reason the exact time is given is that this was to be an event of great importance to the Jews in their exile.

2. The Method (v. 1). Nebuchadnezzar came in person with a large army and encamped against Jerusalem and built forts against it round about. It is thought that siege walls were built around the city, shutting it in. On the tops of these walls forts were built from which missiles of destruction could be hurled by their engines of war against the city. With the city shut in its fall was only a question of time.

3. The Famine (v. 3). It is estimated that one-third of the people of Jerusalem died of starvation.

4. Zedekiah's Flight and Fate (vv. 4-7).

1. "The City was Broken Up" (v. 4). The Chaldeans had succeeded in making an opening in the wall so large that they could make their way into the city in spite of all that the Hebrews could do. Resistance was carried on to the bitter end.

2. Zedekiah's Flight (v. 4). The king with his men of war fled by night toward the plain. His object, no doubt, was to cross the Jordan at Jericho and hide in the mountains east of Jordan.

3. Zedekiah's Fate (vv. 5-7). (1) He was overtaken in the plains of Jericho (v. 5). When his flight was discovered the Chaldean army pursued and captured him. (2) He was brought to the king of Babylon at Riblah (v. 6). Riblah was a town north of Damascus. It was the king's headquarters from which he directed his armies against Tyre and Jerusalem. Before Nebuchadnezzar, Zedekiah was tried as a criminal. (3) His fate (v. 7). His sons were slain in his sight; his eyes were put out; he was bound with fetters of brass; and they carried him to Babylon where he remained prisoner until the day of his death (Jer. 52:11).

4. Jerusalem Destroyed (vv. 8-10). The dismantling of the city was delayed a month, perhaps awaiting instructions from Nebuchadnezzar, who was at Riblah.

5. They Burnt the House of the Lord (v. 9). This was the sacred temple built by Solomon with additions and modifications. Before burning it they plundered it of all its sacred contents.

6. Burnt the King's House (v. 9). This was doubtless the palace built by Solomon.

7. Burnt All the Houses of Jerusalem (v. 9). The implication is that the common houses were left for the people (v. 12).

8. They Broke Down the Walls of Jerusalem. The aim was to render the walls useless as a means of defense.

9. Carried Them into Captivity (v. 11). The people who were left in the city and those who had deserted to the Babylonians were carried to Babylon; all such as would be of use in Babylon.

10. The Poorest of the Land Were Left (v. 12). The people who would not likely make any trouble were left as vine-dressers and husbandmen. Doubtless they were looking forward to colonization by foreign peoples. The object in leaving these people was that the country might be ready for their coming. Over these people Gedaliah was appointed as governor, with headquarters at Mizpah.

To the Thief.

Let him that stole, steal no more; but rather let him labor, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may have to give to him that needeth.—Ephesians 4:28.

The Greatness of God's Mercy. Remember me, O my God, and spare me according to the greatness of thy mercy.—Nehemiah 13:22.

No Peace for Them. There is no peace, saith the Lord, unto the wicked.—Isaiah 48:22.

Who Owns
Bank Avenue?

By reason of an attempt of an individual to improve the roadway on Bank avenue, against which some of the property owners protested, the subject of the ownership of this street is again occupying the center of the stage in Riverton's town topics, and taking over of this highway by the Borough is being urged.

This seems to be the only proper solution of a problem which has been in an unsettled condition for many years.

It would seem to be the part of wisdom for the Borough to take over this street, first having the boundary lines clearly established in such a manner as to provide sidewalks for pedestrians and ample room for the traffic which will increase as time goes on. If, at the same time, the roadway can be so placed as to add a little to the front lawns of the properties nearest to the road, so much the better.

The roadbed is in a deplorable condition in places. The only way to have it uniformly improved, and kept in condition, is under Borough ownership, and we believe Council will be serving the interest of the people of the Borough by taking over this street as quickly as it can be accomplished.

GUARD BACK TO
FORMER STATUSGov. Edwards Reallocates 57th
Brigade Units to Place Prior to Change Under Borden.

PRICE 114TH INFANTRY HEAD

Corporation Loses Out in Fight Against Taxes—Supreme Court Upholds Act of 1919 for a Statewide Levy Upon Gross Receipts—Millions Yearly.

Trenton—Governor Edwards, as commander in chief of the National Guard, issued an executive order reallocating the seven units of the Fifty-seventh Brigade in the same status occupied prior to the issuance of general orders No. 22, which transferred practically all headquarters of the National Guard to North Jersey. Under the new order Colonel Winfield S. Price of Camden will be in command of the One Hundred and Fourteenth Regiment, and assisted by Lieut. Col. Edward B. Stone of Burlington, will have the regiment in shape in time for the annual encampment at Sea Girt.

In issuing the order, Governor Edwards referred to the fact that he had been in consultation for some time with the federal authorities and his action in restoring the One Hundred and Fourteenth Regiment to its original status has met with full approval.

When Borden was elected, with the governor's indorsement, dissatisfaction among the officers and men of the Guard became so hot that in the One Hundred and Fourteenth Regiment more than two score of officers, including Price and Stone, resigned. The American Legion and other war veteran associations took a hand and were instrumental in having the Powell bill passed by the recent legislature, reorganizing the Guard by restoring the Fifty-seventh Brigade units to the status they occupied before Borden shifted them about by moving the headquarters of the disaffected units from South Jersey to North Jersey.

The governor's order, it is believed, will terminate the controversy over the election of Brig. Gen. Howard S. Borden of Oceanic, wealthy home guard organizer, as commander of the Fifty-seventh Brigade, which has kept the Guard in turmoil for more than a year and which threatened its disruption.

Governor Edwards vetoed the bill, but it was passed over his veto. The governor transmitted the act to the federal militia authorities and has held conferences with them regarding it and the whole National Guard situation. In issuing his executive order he has the approval of the federal militia bureau, which has jurisdiction of the National Guard organizations of the state.

While the fight over the Powell bill was on General Borden aroused Governor Edwards' anger through the publication of a letter from the general to the governor and the latter demanded the officer's unconditional resignation. This was given and accepted and Borden stepped out of the National Guard.

In connection with his order restoring the South Jersey units of the One Hundred and Fourteenth Infantry to their original status the governor issued the following statement:

"This is the first opportunity afforded the governor to make a definite announcement relative to his views as to the reorganization of the National Guard since the adoption of the Powell bill by the legislature over his veto. The governor stated his reasons for withholding approval of that measure, but acting in accordance with the mandate of the legislature, transmitted the bill as required by the federal authorities, with a plan for reorganization for which approval was asked.

"This was done on April 6 and there have been various newspaper reports from that date to the present time indicating that action of some sort had been taken by the federal authorities, but none has, up to the present time so far as the state of New Jersey has full cognizance of. As a result the governor during the unsettled condition which prevailed following the enactment of that law has been unable to issue commissions for various officers elected in many of the units of both regiments (the One Hundred and Thirteenth and One Hundred and Fourteenth).

Fight Against Taxes
The gross receipts tax act, affecting street railways, gas and electric and heat and power corporations, was declared constitutional by the supreme court in an opinion handed down by Justice Trenchard. The act was passed by the legislature of 1919 and provides for a tax against the gross receipts of these utility corporations at the average rate of the state. This tax is in lieu of a tax on the personal property of the corporations.

The provisions of the act were attacked by the Salem and Pennsboro Traction Company, which contended that it was unconstitutional, as it violated that section of the State Constitution which provides that property shall be assessed for taxes under general laws and by uniform rules. Justice Trenchard, however, holds that there is no merit in this contention, and he points out that it is well settled that this provision of the Constitution does not take away from the legislature the power of selecting objects of taxation, but provides that all the members of the class selected shall be included in the taxing law and that the rule applied thereto shall be uniform as to the whole of the class.

The court further holds that there is nothing in the allegation of the complaining company that it is a property tax and not a franchise tax. The court says that it is within the provision of the legislature to exempt certain classes of corporations from personal property taxation and treat them as a separate class by themselves, as long as those of that class are taxed according to uniform rules. The assessment levied by the State Board of Taxes and Assessment against this company was sustained.

While the amount involved in this litigation was not large, the question brought up for decision was most important, as it would have affected the tax imposed on the gross receipts of all utility corporations, which amounts to millions of dollars annually.

The supreme court also sustained the ordinance adopted by the city of Philadelphia regulating the business of bill posting. It provides that a bond of $50 shall be given, together with a fee of $25, and that employees of bill posting companies must first procure certificates of authority, for which certificate an additional fee of $2 is charged. Frank V. Storrs, trading as the Easton Bill Poster Advertising Company, had been the ordinance but the court held that the regulation constituted a reasonable exercise of police power.

Settle Fishing Law Dispute
Much confusion over the fishing laws is apparent. Even among the game wardens of Camden, Gloucester and Cumberland counties there is a diversity of opinion, but Warden Avis has decided that the carp season expired June 1 and that shad fishing closed June 10. The dispute was brought about when the Camden county warden ran into some nets in Big Timber Creek. The owners said they were within their rights, as they were fishing for shad and knew the carp season was over. Phone messages between the three wardens created a turmoil until the question was decided.

There will be more confusion, it is believed, when the deer season opens next winter. The new law passed at the recent session of the legislature provides that the last two Wednesdays in December and the first two in January constitute the open season. The law also says that a gunner can kill only one deer a year, and many interpret this as only one a season. Others say that a man killing a deer in December has a right to kill one in January, and that he can do the same when the following season opens unless there is a new law enacted. According to the wardens, if a man shoots a deer in December this year he can also kill one in January, but he is not allowed to kill any in the following December. In other words, a man can kill only one deer a year.

Education Cost in Newark
The cost of educating a child in Newark last year was $70.08, according to a statistical table issued by the State Department of Public Instruction. The average cost for the state is $66.24.

Essex county leads all others in the state in the amount spent on education for each pupil with a cost of $74.31. Bonded indebtedness per pupil in Newark is $10.24, while the assessed wealth per pupil is $6,610.50.

Glen Bidge leads the state in the money spent on the education of the individual child. The cost per pupil was $125.20. Montclair was a close second with $117.30.

Work Started on New Building at Corner

The contract for erecting the new brick and hollow tile business block at the corner of Broad and Main streets was awarded to L. F. Lowden Wednesday afternoon, and bright and early Thursday morning the workmen were busy staking out for the cellar.

The building will provide two stores 16x40 feet fronting on Broad street, to be occupied by the office of the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company, and Knight & Company's novelty print shop. The corner store will be approximately 32x45 feet, and the plan for this has not been decided upon, although it is understood there are several applicants. Fronting on Main street there will be a store 25x38 feet for the American Stores, and a garage 56x95 feet for C. B. Woolston.

It is expected to have the work finished within three months.

On Sunday, about noon, automobiles driven by Maurice Rothberg, of Beverly, and George Lawrence, of Johnston, met in head-on collision on Broad street, between the corner of both cars were badly damaged, but the occupants escaped injury, save a few minor bruises. In the car with Rothberg was Anthony Jonas, and with Lawrence was his father and mother.

It is understood that a bus line is contemplated to run from Riverton to Palmyra via the new ferry, with a view to furnish quick and convenient transportation of passengers from this section to Broad and Market streets, Philadelphia. The complete trip can be made over this route in less than an hour, and at less cost than by any other route. At the Frankford car barns cars may be taken for any part of the city.

While the light over the Powell bill was on General Borden aroused Governor Edwards' anger through the publication of a letter from the general to the governor and the latter demanded the officer's unconditional resignation. This was given and accepted and Borden stepped out of the National Guard.

In connection with his order restoring the South Jersey units of the One Hundred and Fourteenth Infantry to their original status the governor issued the following statement:

"This is the first opportunity afforded the governor to make a definite announcement relative to his views as to the reorganization of the National Guard since the adoption of the Powell bill by the legislature over his veto. The governor stated his reasons for withholding approval of that measure, but acting in accordance with the mandate of the legislature, transmitted the bill as required by the federal authorities, with a plan for reorganization for which approval was asked.

"This was done on April 6 and there have been various newspaper reports from that date to the present time indicating that action of some sort had been taken by the federal authorities, but none has, up to the present time so far as the state of New Jersey has full cognizance of. As a result the governor during the unsettled condition which prevailed following the enactment of that law has been unable to issue commissions for various officers elected in many of the units of both regiments (the One Hundred and Thirteenth and One Hundred and Fourteenth).

Fight Against Taxes
The gross receipts tax act, affecting street railways, gas and electric and heat and power corporations, was declared constitutional by the supreme court in an opinion handed down by Justice Trenchard. The act was passed by the legislature of 1919 and provides for a tax against the gross receipts of these utility corporations at the average rate of the state. This tax is in lieu of a tax on the personal property of the corporations.

The provisions of the act were attacked by the Salem and Pennsboro Traction Company, which contended that it was unconstitutional, as it violated that section of the State Constitution which provides that property shall be assessed for taxes under general laws and by uniform rules. Justice Trenchard, however, holds that there is no merit in this contention, and he points out that it is well settled that this provision of the Constitution does not take away from the legislature the power of selecting objects of taxation, but provides that all the members of the class selected shall be included in the taxing law and that the rule applied thereto shall be uniform as to the whole of the class.

The court further holds that there is nothing in the allegation of the complaining company that it is a property tax and not a franchise tax. The court says that it is within the provision of the legislature to exempt certain classes of corporations from personal property taxation and treat them as a separate class by themselves, as long as those of that class are taxed according to uniform rules. The assessment levied by the State Board of Taxes and Assessment against this company was sustained.

While the amount involved in this litigation was not large, the question brought up for decision was most important, as it would have affected the tax imposed on the gross receipts of all utility corporations, which amounts to millions of dollars annually.

The supreme court also sustained the ordinance adopted by the city of Philadelphia regulating the business of bill posting. It provides that a bond of $50 shall be given, together with a fee of $25, and that employees of bill posting companies must first procure certificates of authority, for which certificate an additional fee of $2 is charged. Frank V. Storrs, trading as the Easton Bill Poster Advertising Company, had been the ordinance but the court held that the regulation constituted a reasonable exercise of police power.

Pretty Girls Compete

Interest in the Fourth of July celebration in Palmyra has grown apace. Several of the best looking young ladies in town (and Palmyra is noted for its pretty girls) have entered the Goddess of Liberty contest and are busily corraling votes on every hand. Only two candidates have been formally nominated by the mailing coupons to the committee, Box 268, Palmyra post office, but it is known that several others are working hard and have enlisted their friends in their campaign.

The two names received by the committee to date are those of Miss Elaine Frizzen and Miss Helen Schontz. Two others known to be making a strong showing are Miss Garda MacCrossan and Miss Elsie Rodgers.

A big and enthusiastic meeting of the general committee was held at Legion headquarters Wednesday evening. Nearly all the organizations were represented and the attendance was almost record breaking for a session of this kind, demonstrating the interest which is being taken. Many ladies, who are taking an active part in the preparations, were present.

The big drive for funds will be made this Friday evening. At eight o'clock the fire siren will blow and all the collectors will start to work on the streets assigned to them, so all citizens are asked to facilitate the matter by being prepared.

State Will Pave Only Twenty Feet

Township Committeeman Hartley met Assistant State Engineer Shinn of the State Highway Department Wednesday to discuss the lines of the Cinnaminson avenue improvement at Bank avenue. The Township wants the old roadway improved to the end as well as the branch which crosses the ferry company property. The State engineers will give their decision later.

Mr. Shinn stated that only a twenty foot roadway would be laid and suggested that the Township have the contractor do the remaining width at the same time. Mr. Hartley estimated this would cost about $10,000 and did not think the Township could stand the expense at this time. It is hoped to obtain enough gravel from the center of the road to cover the sides solidly.

Mr. Hartley announces that Spring Garden street is being opened up from Walnut street to Park avenue. Dr. R. H. Lamb and other owners of unimproved property there are cooperating in clearing up the necessary space, and opening up the side streets.

Sidewalks and curbs are now being built on the Palmyra Annex, which is being developed by Thomas R. Bromley.

Parry Fire Apparatus Housed

Saturday was a great day for the citizens of Parry. The Parry Volunteer Fire Company's new fire truck, for the purchase of which the members of the company and the people of the neighborhood had worked so long, was formally housed and placed in commission.

Parry is very proud of its new apparatus, and rightly so, for it presented a fine appearance and showed every evidence of efficiency as a piece of fire-fighting machinery.

The program began with a parade around the five-mile block, starting out Cinnaminson avenue, up the Burlington pike, into Riverton and down Broad street to Palmyra and out Cinnaminson avenue again to the Parry firehouse. Fire companies of Riverton, Palmyra and Bordentown and the Palmyra Ambulance were in line, with the Foresters' life and drum corps of Riverside. Six ladies of the Parry Fire Company's Auxiliary carried a big American flag. They were Mrs. Shinn, Mrs. William Phalen, Mrs. Harry Schuck, Mrs. R. M. Wortham, Mrs. R. McNall, Sr., and Mrs. George Schuck.

As the parade came the housing ceremony. The apparatus was presented by Mayor Bennett, of Riverton, and accepted by Sheriff Flagg. The Sheriff, in his address, said that this was the only volunteer company in Burlington county which had motorized its apparatus without township or city aid. He said he felt sure that the Cinnaminson township committee soon would see the good work being done by the company and come along and help.

President Kramer, of the county firemen's association, spoke and gave the company his assurance that the county organization would give it all the aid and cooperation possible.

School children under the direction of Miss Duncan performed pretty dances which were much appreciated.

After the speaking came the flag raising, followed by the serving of refreshments.

The Ladies' Auxiliary collected $31 in donations along the line of march.

The house committee of the Parry Company wishes to thank the Riverton and Palmyra companies, the Hope Hose Company of Bordentown, the Palmyra Ambulance Association, the Parent-Teacher Association of the Cinnaminson schools, the Rev. F. S. Tansley, of New Albany Church, and all individuals who participated in the celebration.

The committee feels that without the aid of these organizations and persons the housing could not have been the great success it was.

Here Comes the Bride

This is the merry month of June which puts the wedding bells in tune, when men see those who soon will boss 'em all camouflaged with orange blossom. O blushing bride, O gentle dear, push back the tresses from your ear, I have some words for you to hear. When all mankind were troglodytes, before the dates that history cites a female person had no rights. The bridegroom's plan for home sweet home was bending saplings on her dome. But times have changed since those beginnings and women long have had their rights. Since Satan made the rolling pin, the human head is all too thin. If Jason calls his soul his own, rap gently on his frontal bone, but bear in mind the tool is meant to stir, not crack or dent. From self assertion you must wear him, but do be careful when you bean him. I wish you luck and hope you win. I'm very strong for discipline, but yet as oft as once a week, for him some freedom I bespeak, and you should give no wrathful sign providing he is honest and you nounce his head against a rafter for coming home just a minute after. So, nobly just, but sternly great, step to the helm and navigate; he will captain, he the mate. And when he tries back talk with you he'll soon be nothing but the crew. Nay more, if he a bit too far goes, he may be classed as simply cargo. —BOB ADAMS.

C. of C. Asks for Change in Fare Zone

Charles W. Summerfield, assistant to the general secretary of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker of the evening at the meeting of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

Mr. Summerfield spoke in a most interesting manner, his address was rich in anecdote and full of encouragement and inspiration to the members of the Palmyra Chamber in the work they are doing.

He offered the Philadelphia Chamber in any project of the local body in which the cooperation of the Philadelphia organization would be of advantage.

A large attendance of both new and old members marked the meeting and all cheered Mr. Summerfield heartily when he concluded and extended to him a rising vote of thanks.

In the business session of the Chamber, Albert S. King, of the State regarding Cinnaminson avenue was to be re-opened by Engineer Weaver and that favorable action of the Chamber's request that the permanent pavement cover, was expected. In this connection the Township Committee is to be advised that it will be well to wait final decision by the State before contemplating spending any town funds for the improvement of the street.

The utility committee was instructed to take up with the Public Service Company the request that the end of the fare zone be made Cinnaminson avenue from Elm avenue, so as to eliminate the long walk which many passengers now have to take when getting off at Elm avenue.

It was announced that the P. R. R. road foreman had promised to widen the Morgan avenue crossing by ten feet. The railroad also will be requested to keep the station platform in a neat condition.

A protest will be made to the trolley company against the throwing of dirt over the street by the operation of the curve cleaner at the station.

The street committee was instructed to consider steps to reduce the traffic dangers at the Broad and Cinnaminson corners.

New members joining the Chamber are Richard E. Wilson and John Winters.

Killed by Train at Crossing

Another victim was added to the toll of the grade crossing at last Monday morning, when James R. Noble, a Philadelphia lad, was killed as the ice cream truck on which he was employed, backed into the railroad tracks near Cambridge. Noble was in the back of the truck, and the approaching train was hidden from the view of the driver by the station.

The driver saved himself by jumping. His name was Edward Barde, also of Philadelphia.

Confessed to Five Robberies

The career of one light-fingered gentleman who has been bothering East Riverton residents for the past several weeks was restricted for the time being as the result of the arrest Monday of Alfred Brown, an 18-year-old colored lad, of Union Landing.

Brown was caught pilfering in the second story of Evans Chambers, home on Taylor's Lane by Miss Lottie S. Chambers, who had gone upstairs to change her clothing. Miss Chambers noticed the bureau drawers pulled out and in confusion upon investigating she found Brown hiding in the room.

Miss Chambers ran down stairs to call for help. Brown also fled and went to Officer Miller, of the Riverton force. Miller found Brown at his home.

At the hearing before Squire Fichter at the Riverton Council chamber Monday evening, Brown confessed the following robberies during the month of May: Frank Hunter, $20 cash; Howard Hunter, a watch; Rebecca Newton, $10 cash; Millard Coddington, $2 and flashlight; Jimmie James, $5 cash.

Squire Fichter held the prisoner without bail for sentence by the county court.

Burlington's Oldest Building

The present headquarters of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League, at 228 High street, Burlington, has a most interesting history. It is one of the oldest houses in Burlington and High streets, on which it is situated, has always been the main thoroughfare of the historic town.

It was built in 1880 by Thomas Gardner, one of the early commissioners, who received his commission from the West Jersey Proprietors in England.

Before the establishment of the Friends yearly meeting in Philadelphia, the yearly meetings were held in this building. The bricks from which it was built were brought from England. The League's headquarters is on the second floor of the building. The monthly meetings of the League are held, also a weekly clinic, one of the three conducted by the League, and a consulting clinic is held the first Monday in each month, at which time as many as ten patients are frequently examined. Some of the cases are home patients, while others are taken to the sanatorium, Fairview, at New Lebanon.

Visits are constantly made throughout the County by both the nurse and the secretary, and an educational program is being conducted through the schools, clubs and theatres. The visiting work not only includes attention to those suffering from tuberculosis but many other branches of activity looking to the health of the community. This work is supported by the receipts from Christmas sales, but this year it has been found necessary to supplement this amount by some extra effort, and a lawn sale will be held home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haines, at Masonville, on Saturday, July 1, for which liberal support is asked.

Origin of Flag Day

The editorial call last week for assistance in locating some information about the origin of Flag Day, has resulted in unearthing two claimants for this distinction.

The story of Colonel Josiah Granville Leach's connection with Flag Day has been published twice recently in the daily papers, but in 1896 the Camden Courier published an article telling of the activities of H.B. Frome, of Camden, toward securing a general observance of Flag Day.

Below is published a letter to Mr. Frome, written by Mark A. Hanna, and the Courier's comment thereon:

(Copy)
REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE
New York Headquarters
Metropolitan Life Building
New York, Aug. 31, 1896.

Mr. H. B. Frome,
141 North Third St., Camden, N. J.

Your favor of the 27th inst. is at hand and contents noted. I thank you for your interest in the matter as well as the information there, in contained, which is certainly worthy of notice. Will bring your suggestion to the attention of the Committee.

Yours very truly,
M. A. HANNA,
Chairman.

FLAG IDEA FROM CAMDEN

This City Furnished Hanna the Patriotic Suggestion

Saturday will be Flag Day and all good citizens who believe in the maintenance of the National honor and the protection of American industries will fly the American flag from their homes and business houses.

While this call comes from the Republican National Committee, with headquarters in Chicago, and while many Camden people have been preparing to act in accordance with it, it is not known outside the family of the man who made the suggestion that the suggestion actually came from this city.

H. B. Frome was the one whom the idea struck and he it was who presented it to Chairman Hanna as far back as August 27th, suggesting the display of flags and actually suggesting the very day—three days before the election. He holds Hanna's reply, dated August 31st, and in the reply the National Chairman says he thinks the idea a good one and promises to bring it to the attention of the whole committee.

When it comes to patriotism Camden is right there every time. Now let Old Glory wave merrily over the city.

CLAIMS COL. LEACH WAS ORIGINATOR

The Evening Bulletin of June 13, 1922, published the following:

The origin of the Stars and Stripes is one of the oldest of the present emblems of the nation of the world. But formal observance of the anniversary of its adoption by the Continental Congress, on June 14, 1777, dates back less than a century. Like Memorial Day, which had its origin in a resolution adopted by the U. S. A. R. in 1866 in Philadelphia, and Thanksgiving Day, which traces its birth as a national holiday to Mrs. Sarah J. Hale's efforts in the National Association for the day of Old Glory is identified with the Quaker City.

Flag Day had its inception in the mind of J. Granville Leach, member of a noted Philadelphia family who died in this city only two weeks ago, who in 1902 succeeded in interesting Mrs. Thomas McKean, then first vice president of the Pennsylvania branch of the Colonial Dames, in the proposal. The idea immediately gained acceptance among the patriotic women, and early in the following year they adopted a resolution, sponsored by Mrs. Elizabeth Dumas Gillette, well known for her efforts in aid of the Centennial and other public movements, requesting the municipal authorities and all private citizens to display the flag on June 14th, thereafter to be known as Flag Day, and recommending that the day be made the occasion for appropriate exercises in the public schools.

Seconded by the Pennsylvania Society of Sons of the Revolution, the movement evoked an immediate popular response, and the first Flag Day as celebrated in 1903 with a distribution of flags to the school children, followed by a parade to Independence Square, where a program of patriotic songs and addresses culled from the past, small beginning, the observance of the day has gradually grown until today, in some years past, it has become nationwide.

ORIGIN OF THE STARS AND STRIPES

The use of alternating red and white stripes in flag various organizations was quite common before the Revolutionary War. As early as 1794 the English East India Co. flew a flag having 13 red and white alternating, with a cross of St. George in red on a white field.

During the early days of the Revolution, some time subsequent to 1776, John Paul Jones flew a flag known as the "Grand Union Flag." This consisted of 13 red and white stripes alternating, with a superimposed cross of St. George and St. Andrew in red on a white field, in a round union, to represent the thirteen colonies. Historians seem to think that this flag was flown with the idea that the actual flag of the mother country could be avoided; the representation of the cross of St. George and St. Andrew being intended to indicate a desire for maintaining the former relations.

On June 14, 1777, however, the Congress entered on its journal a resolution worded as follows:

"Resolved that the flag of the United States be 13 stripes alternate red and white, that the union be 13 stars, white in a blue field, representing a new constellation."

This remained the flag of the United States until Kentucky and Vermont were admitted to the Union, after which Congress passed the following:

"That from and after the first day of May 1795, the flag of the United States be fifteen stripes alternate red and white; that the union be fifteen stars, white in a blue field."

This was the flag of the War of 1812-1814, in which Andrew Jackson and Winfield Scott won distinction, and was the same type of flag which flew over Fort Mifflin when Francis Scott Key, temporarily, a comrade on board H. B. M. S. " Minden," from sunrise September 13, to 7 a. m. September 14, 1814, beheld the flag flying from the flagpole, whether he had gone under a flag of truce, composed of the "Star-Spangled Banner," after which he returned to Baltimore.

Some members of Congress realized that stripes were to be added for each State admitted, and the flag would become unwieldy, and as one member of Congress remarked, "might require a ship's mast to support it."

Hence, on April 4, 1818, Congress fixed the number of stripes at thirteen, alternating red and white, with a blue union and a white star for every state in the union; new stars to be added to the flag on the admission of new States.

All reference to the events which led up to the adoption of the American flag refer to the fact that the coat of arms of the Washington family included blue stars on a white field and the representation of red and white stripes, and argue this as showing the derivation of the "stars and stripes," but it is clear from other references indicated, that other flags, notably the flag of the English East India Co., had horizontal stripes alternating red and white, and as it happens, this flag had thirteen stripes. Few treat the Betsy Ross story as legendary.

LESSON FOR JUNE 25

REVIEW: JUDAH'S PROSPERITY AND ADVERSITY

GOLDEN TEXT: "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord."—Ps. 33:12.

PRIMARY AND JUNIOR TOPIC—Men Who Obeyed God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—True and False Leaders of Judah.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Some Lessons From Judah's History.

I. Central Thought of Each Lesson Gathered Around the Key Words of the Day's Lesson Subject, Namely, Prosperity and Adversity.

A good outline is the following from Crannell's Pocket Lessons:

1. Judah's Prosperity. Based on—

(1) Reliance on God, lesson 1.
(2) Courageous Venture for God, lesson 2.
(3) Business Methods for God, lesson 3.
(4) The Vision of God, lesson 5.
(5) The Law and Leadership of God, lesson 7.
(6) Wise Leadership Back to God, lesson 8.

2. Judah's Adversity. Due to—

(1) Presuming Upon God's Blessing, lesson 4.
(2) Presuming Upon God's Purpose, lesson 6.
(3) Rejecting God's Word, lesson 10.
(4) Persecuting God's Messenger, lesson 11.
(5) Disloyalty to God and Man, lesson 12.

II. Golden Text Review.

Assign the texts to your class the preceding Sunday and ask them to show how the lesson illumines the text, or ask the class to prepare on all the texts and have the members of the class draw the text and give the answer.

III. Character Study or Portrait Review.

Assign the following characters the Sunday before: Asa, Josiah, Jehoiada, Uzziah, Isaiah, Hezekiah, Hilkiah, Jeremiah, Baruch, Jehoiakim, Ebed-melech, Zedekiah.

IV. The Summary Method.

This method calls for the salient facts of each lesson with a statement of its outstanding teaching.

Note the following suggestions:

Lesson 1. Asa cleared the land of idolatry and called upon Judah to seek the Lord. Because he rested upon the Lord, God gave him victory over his enemies.

Lesson 2. Athaliah attempted to destroy the seed royal and then usurp the throne. Jehoiada checkmated her by hiding away Josiah for six years. At an appointed time Josiah was crowned king and the usurper slain. Every attempt to thwart God's purpose fails.

Lesson 3. Jesus arose from the dead, showed himself to His disciples and sent them forth as witnesses for Him. Certainty of the resurrection of Christ is essential to witness for Him.

Lesson 4. Uzziah made a notable civic and military record, but in his pride he presumptuously intruded into the priest's office. As a judgment God smote him with leprosy. "Pride goeth before destruction, and a haughty spirit before a fall."

Lesson 5. Isaiah's vision of God brought him to a sense of his sinfulness. Man's supreme need today is a vision of God.

Lesson 6. Isaiah foresaw the end of all strife in the world through the establishment of Christ's kingdom. Peace and restoration shall come to the earth when Christ shall come and remove from men's hearts the cause for strife.

Lesson 7. Hezekiah led his people back to God. This he did by means of the passover feast. The only way for a sinning and divided people to get back to God and be united is around the crucified Lord.

Lesson 8. Through the repairing of the temple the law of God was found. When it was read before the king it brought penitent sorrow. God accepted his penitence and postponed the evil day.

Lesson 9. Jeremiah was arrested and brought to trial because he boldly proclaimed God's word to the nation. The one whom God calls to proclaim His word should faithfully discharge his duty regardless of what men may do unto him.

Lesson 10. Jehoiakim tried to destroy God's Word by burning it. Trying to destroy God's Word will not avert His judgments.

Lesson 11. Because of Jeremiah's fidelity to God he was cast into prison. Casting the prophet into the dungeon will not turn aside God's judgments.

Lesson 12. Nebuchadnezzar captured Jerusalem and carried away the people captives. Though God's judgments tarry they eventually fall.

In His Steps.

For even heretofore were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps.—1 Peter 2:21.

Trusting Men.

The man who trusts men will make fewer mistakes than he who distrusts them.—Cavour.

Silence Is Golden.

Well-timed silence hath more eloquence than speech.—Martin Paraghar Tupper.

An Appeal to the Parents in Riverton

The Porch Club has been frequently rented for dances and other entertainments. It has been found that children on the outside have often been annoying at these times. Therefore it is earnestly requested that parents make it their business to see that their children do not trespass on the Club property.

It is feared otherwise the building will not be desirable for those who wish to entertain, and these rentals are, of course, a source of income to the Club.

Fourth of July Athletic Events

It has been planned to hold a few games and athletic events on the river bank immediately following the patriotic exercises and parade on Fourth of July morning. In the afternoon the Yacht Club will hold the usual aquatic events on the river. The sports on the river bank will be open to all who are not over sixteen years of age, but the contestants must be residents of the Borough of Riverton. Handsome prizes will be awarded to the first and second in each event. Entries should be made to members of the committee who will be on duty for that purpose after the parade is over.

The contestants will be divided into two classes, junior and senior, according to their size, and it is hoped that a large number of the young folks will take part in the games and help to make them a success.

Following is a list of the events:

Girls—50-yard dash (junior)
50-yard dash (senior)
Potato Race
Spoon and Egg Race
Balloon BlowingBoys—100-yard dash (junior)

A pretty home wedding took place at the home of May Killam E. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett, when their daughter, Grace Edna Bennett, became the bride of Mr. Arthur Frederick Coe, son of A. V. R. Coe, on Saturday afternoon, June 17th, at 4.30. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, rector of Christ Church.

Attired in white satin and old lace with a crown of old lace, the bride carried a shower of white roses and a bouquet of sweet peas. She was given in marriage by her father.

Attending the bride were: Miss Helen R. Bidle, of Riverton, as maid of honor, and Miss Helen E. Brown, of Brooklyn, cousins of the bride. They wore gowns of ecru chiffon and lace and their bouquets were of Colonial design in the pastel shades.

Horace Coe attended his brother as best man, and Norwood Andrews and Charles Coles, of Moorestown, were ushers.

A reception to the one hundred and seventy-five guests was held on the porch, and supper was served on the lawn.

Mr. and Mrs. Coe are spending their wedding trip at the Bennett cottage "Pine Knot" in North Carolina. Upon their return they will reside with her parents on Bank avenue.

To Care for Pickers' Children

The Home Mission Council, of New York City, is sending two women to the Parent-Teacher Association of Cinnaminson township to care for little children of the Italian pickers who come to the neighborhood to help the farmers. The township allows the use of one of the public school houses, which will be opened for this purpose the first of July.

The Association will appreciate the cooperation of the community in this work. Money is needed. Any amount accepted by Mrs. Fred Herker, of Cinnaminson, for the Association.

Historical Society Meeting

William Lippincott and Watson Dewees were the speakers at the mid-summer social meeting of the Women's Burlington County Historical Society, which was held in the historical old Friends' Meetinghouse, Mount Laurel, on Friday.

The meeting was in charge of Mrs. Charles F. Allen, of Riverton, the president, who in a fitting address, greeted the two hundred members and guests. Afterwards she introduced Mr. Lippincott, who gave a comprehensive history of Mount Laurel and vicinity. The meeting-house, he said was built in 1798. In the burying ground adjoining there were but three marble tombstones, marble not being approved in those days. The wooden markers used had long since decayed. Instead of grave-stones the peaceful resting spot of the Friends is marked by a wonderful oak tree said to be fifteen hundred years old.

"ALL SET" FOR THE FOURTH

The Riverton Yacht Club has decided to charge an entry fee for all outsiders competing in the canoe and swimming events, July fourth, so as to keep down the number of entries. A very promising program for swimming, rowboat and canoeing events has been mapped out. The committee consists of C. B. Durborow, chairman, G. Rex Showell, William H. Baker, Jr., E. K. Merrill, Ross T. Elliott, Robert Ayres, R. W. Knight, and F. W. Robertson.

Mr. Merrill will have charge of the canoe events, Mr. Durborow of the swimming races, while Messrs. Ayres and Elliott will handle the rowboat events, with F. W. Robertson looking after the sailing interests. Mr. Baker has charge of the prizes and entries assisted by Mr. Knight who has kindly attended to all the program and data work. Mr. Showell being chairman of the citizens' committee could not be very active on the Yacht Club committee as well, but is seeing that the town's and club's program coordinate.

The events promise to give lots of fun and competition and a great day is in store for all lovers of aquatic sports.

Entries Coming in for Big Championship Swim

On Saturday, July 15, at 3 p. m., starting from Race street, Philadelphia, and finishing off the Riverton Yacht Club wharf, will take place the biggest event in the American swimming world—the ten-mile National championship of the United States of America and Canada. This will make the fifth consecutive time this swimming event has come to Riverton.

The entries are already starting to come in to Mr. Durborow, chairman of the Riverton Yacht Club's swimming section. For the last four years this race has been bitterly fought. In 1918 the husky Giebel of New York, after a gruelling fight, finally out-nosed out the Philadelphia entry, Ernie Sopp.

The next two years saw the sensational Bolden of the Illinois Athletic Union, Chicago, flash across the line an easy winner, and in 1920 by crossing the line in 1:59 he hung the record for the course, being the only person to swim the distance under two hours.

Last year he again won, but was disqualified for taking his bathing suit off in the water and the honors went to the youthful Hall, hailing from the Central Swimming Club of Brooklyn. This year the race will be for blood between Bolden and Hall. Hall is coming along fast and may well win by merit. Entries are coming in from Canada, Brazil, and possibly Australia. Many of the local boys are going in and the race will be the center of the largest and best ever staged in all its history. Our own Jack Showell and George Corner will once more pit their skill against America's best.

Police protection, as usual, will be supplied by the Philadelphia police boats. The swimmers will undress at Race street, Philadelphia, and dive from the end of the pier. Power squadrons from the Riverton, Corinthian, Viceroy and Wincennes Yacht Clubs will follow the great race. The pilots will consist of the Riverton boys who have so many times before ably performed this service.

Among the officials will be Commodore William H. Bower, of the Riverton Yacht Club, James E. Snyder, president of the Middle Atlantic Association of the American Athletic Union of the United States, C. B. Durborow, vice president of the same Association, Frederick W. Robben, secretary-treasurer of the National Association, Louis N. Goldsmith, chairman of the registration committee of the National Association, Dr. J. K. Shell, handicapper of the Middle Atlantic Association, George Kistler, swimming dean at the University of Pennsylvania, Herman C. Meyer of the Philadelphia Athletic Club, and William H. Smith and Luke J. Smith, both of the Philadelphia Turngemeinde.

C. B. Durborow will act as referee, Louis N. Goldsmith as starter, with Dr. J. K. Shell, George Kistler and Herman C. Meyer as timers. Luke J. Smith will be clerk of the course, with Commodore William H. Bower in command of the allied Yacht Club fleets.

Mayor Moore, of Philadelphia, and many other prominent officials will be our guests on this occasion. A special launch will carry Mayor Killam E. Bennett and the borough officials to Riverton. The newspaper men will be in charge of one of the power craft with the movie fellows on another.

The winning swimmer should reach the Tacony Palmyra ferry a few minutes before 5 p. m., and the race will in all probability be in its last home stretch.

On August 26th the girls' three-mile marathon swim will be held. The girls have each year clamored for this event and last Monday night the Middle Atlantic Association gave a sanction to their vice president, who is also in charge of swimming at Riverton, to hold the swim. The most attractive of the event will be the entry of Miss Ethel Hirst, of England, champion woman swimmer of England and Europe. Miss James is heralded as the greatest woman swimmer ever produced by the British Empire. This is certainly some title when one stops and considers that great trio of Australian swimmers, the English, the graceful and beautiful Annette Kellerman, and the sturdy Minnie Wyle. Probably the only swimmer living today who can drag the coils of the fair Britisher in the dust is Ethel Hirst, that marvel of the women's swimming world. But Ethel has a bad professional, and can no longer meet the English queen, Miss James was defeated by the pick games, but at that time she was a mere fifteen years of age, and even at that time was placed in all the events. She is but seventeen now, and yet recently broke the world's record for women for 300 yards, held by Miss Blethney. She has been smashing record after record and her specialty is the long distance swim.

But arrayed against her will be the pick of the English mermaids. Helen Wainwright, the English champion, will make the swim, and Elaine Riegle, of New York, will make the swim. The English champion has never traveled in her races abroad. Then there is Eleanor Uhl, the best Philadelphia girl distance swimmer who won the last marathon of the Delaware, Besse Ryan, Florence McLaughlin, Gertrude Artelt and the other Philadelphia stars are ready as yet to howl to the continental champion. Margaret Woodbridge of Detroit, will be here, as will Miss Curtis, of Los Angeles, and Helen Moses, the champion of Honolulu.

During the race the remaining girls will entertain the crowd with clapping while the sprint stars will compete and try to lower records.

From the standpoint of permanence there are two kinds of peroxides on the market. One loses its activity quickly, the other kind retains its strength for a long time. ## TRENTON LETTER

Utility Board Denies It

Criticism in Atlantic county in consequence of the recent accident at the New road crossing at Absecon, where six persons were killed recently, inspired the Public Utility Commissioners to issue a formal statement denying the charge by the Atlantic Freeholders that the commission ignored a plan for additional protection at the crossing.

In its statement the commission went into a detailed history which shows that there has been some confusion of the Absecon crossing with that at Pleasantville, where other accidents have occurred. Greater safeguards at the Pleasantville crossing were asked some time ago by E. D. Riley of Absecon, whose automobile was struck there.

According to the commission, when Riley appeared before the Freeholders that body adopted a resolution asking additional protection at Absecon rather than at Pleasantville, that Riley regarded this resolution as having been adopted in response to his request and as being for the benefit of the Pleasantville crossing, and that the resolution was so regarded by the board's inspector and was referred to him in his report as the complaint of the crossing at Pleasantville.

Annexation Not Ripe
Mayors and representatives of Camden suburban towns are disturbed over prospects of an attempt to make a "Greater Camden." They believe that the movement started a month ago to form a commission was intended to get the suburbs into the city, but when the meetings were held opposition to the scheme was so evident that the leaders feared to broach the subject.

The representatives of the suburban towns say that all the real estate men and land dealers are in favor of annexation because it would boom land in the suburbs. Some of the mayors point to the fact that City Solicitor Hensley of Camden was secretary of the two meetings held and prepared data of the wants of each place and the existing conditions.

Mayor Anderson of Gloucester City said that the people of the suburbs do not want to become part of Camden because there would be nothing gained. Mayor Dallas of Haddon Heights said that 90 per cent of the people of his district are opposed to annexation. The people sought the suburbs for homes, their own government, and will fight to the last point any attempt to consolidate.

Princeton Tutors Pensioned
The fourth day of Princeton's one hundred and seventy-fifth commencement included the class-day exercises, the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees, the White and Olio Hall Alumni meetings and the sophomore "prom."

The Board of Trustees adopted a rule providing a pension for members of the university faculty after they have reached the age of sixty-five, but they may continue to teach until death. If you do not desire the pension, the Board will set aside to finance the project. That supplements the provisions of the Carnegie Foundation, now in effect at Princeton, but which does not apply to any teachers who entered the profession after November 17, 1915.

The trustees elected Matthew S. Flemming, an attorney of New York City, a life trustee to succeed the late Knox Taylor. Prof. William Libby, master of ceremonies of the faculty, was retired by the board.

"The Wonder City."
London radiates from two main points—first, the city of London, the center of which is the Royal exchange and the Bank of England; the city of London, the birthplace of the commercial life of the world, and still the greatest financial and commercial city in the world; and second, Westminster, the center of which is the houses of parliament—the birthplace of free institutions which have been followed in every part of the globe.—From Editor and Publisher, New York.

Revival of the British Beard.
A young man about town walked down Bond street in London recently, and the sight so shocked the sensitive British public that the London Daily Chronicle saw fit to run the item as a news item.

He was elegantly dressed, says the paper, and carried the familiar cane of Piccadilly, while a monocle rested in his right eye. But his beard was the masterpiece of the outfit. It was very dark, recalled the pictures of the Stuart kings, and created a sensation wherever it was seen.

The young man, except for his beard, was unmistakably English. "I don't think that beards for young men are likely to be popular outside the West end," a hairdresser in the neighborhood of Bond street told a Chronicle representative.

"But certain young men about town appear to be tired of looking like purple heroes, and have decided to grow beards. A beard makes some men look younger, and a man who has a weak mouth and a chin which slightly recedes should wear both mustache and beard."

Sailing by Signs.
Silence never has been considered a characteristic of the deep sea captain, but a 60-day voyage was recently completed during which the ship's captain might just as well have been deaf and dumb. Capt. Darwin E. Stevens, who has just returned to this country, took the new steamer Joseph from Duluth to Barcelona, there delivering her to her new owners. His crew was made up of Spaniards, none of whom could speak a word of English. The result was that Captain Stevens had to do his talking with his hands, giving orders by signs. After the 60 days was at an end the skipper found himself so in the habit of making signs that when he finally arrived among people who could speak a language that he understood he had to make unusual effort to refrain from using the sign language.—New York World.

DIDN'T KNOW DOGS

Mrs. Binks Clobbered Them All in One Tribe.

Anyway, the Animal Was Evicted From the Sacred Precincts, and Dignity of the Home Upheld.

Mrs. Binks must have had a disappointing afternoon at the bargain counters, for she returned to her Capitan home with the quick, decisive tread that indicated a highly irritable mental condition to those who knew her well. This condition, Glenn Parley writes in the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, was not improved by the discovery that her ten-year-old son Willie was entertaining practically all of the neighborhood children in the house, and that one of the most effervescent of the guests was a large, woolly, strutting dog, whose booming bark assailed her from the depths of the dining room on her arrival.

Willie and his guests and the dog poured out of the front door like an audience from a burning theater, shortly after mother arrived, and it became apparent that she was in the background, with a large, able-bodied broom.

Binks arrived home and sat down to dinner in great exaltation. It appeared that Seattle had won a game with somebody.

"Class is bound to tell," he began enthusiastically. "I predicted from the beginning of the season that the boys would—"

He was interrupted by a Roman howl from Willie. His mother had reached him finally, in an unguarded moment, and she had a firm grasp on the back of his trousers. Two decisive whacks were administered amidst howls that would have put a normal welkin out of business.

"Before you eat I want you to go out and lose that dog," she began. "I have told you before that I won't have these stray, worthless curs about the place and, above all, in my house. A boy has no business with a dog, anyhow."

"Why, ma," Binks interposed, "when I was a boy no family thought of raising a boy without a good, husky dog for a—"

"I have no doubt of it," broke in Mrs. Binks. "Your whole conduct indicates that you were exposed to that atmosphere."

"But the dog—" began Willie.

"Not a word from you," said his mother. "You've got to get rid of that dog. I won't have him around."

"But the dog—" insisted Willie.

The boy evaded a swipe that would have put him out of business, but he got out of the danger zone and finished the sentence.

"The dog belongs to Bennie Gunn and he is a St. Bernard and a prize winner," he said. "He's worth more than a thousand dollars. Bennie has him chained up now."

Binks was about to smile discreetly, when his wife said:

"George, if you're through your dinner you may be excused."

Her husband looked around doubtfully.

"The question is," said he, "have I had any dinner?"

Runaway Ship Captured.
Believing their ship would fall victim to the treacherous quicksands that infest the North Carolina coast from Hatteras to Cape Lookout, the crew of the schooner James H. Newsom, consisting of eight men, took to the life boats when the vessel struck the beach.

The schooner, however, refused to let herself be swallowed up and got off unassisted. The party in the life boat, fearing to make an attempt to reach shore before daybreak, saw the schooner get off the shoals and start to sea. They set out after her, but the vessel was too fast for them. A coast guard cutter took part in the chase. After playing hide and seek with her pursuers for a whole day the Newsom was captured. Only two sails were damaged. She was towed into Norfolk, Va.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XXXVIII.—COLORADO

COLORADO is the most precious of our states, for in the mining of gold and silver it surpasses all other States, producing about one-third of the total output of the entire country. In fact, its real history starts in 1858, when gold was first discovered.

Prior to that time there had been but little settling in this region. Spanish explorers had traversed the country in the latter part of the eighteenth century, and laid claim to it. As a part of the Louisiana Purchase it came into the possession of the United States in 1803. Officers of the United States Army were sent out to explore this wilderness among whom were Lieutenant Pike in 1806, and it was after him that Pikes Peak was named. In 1819 Colonel Long made extensive explorations, and he was followed in 1842 by Fremont, whose activities in the Mexican war brought him into much prominence. At the close of the Mexican war, Mexico ceded her rights to this territory to the United States, but it was considered a barren waste and unat

F. C. Wins Exciting Game

The Field Club baseball team has come into its own. Following its defeat of the strong Mather Club last week the locals met Beverly, the leaders of the Central League on the home grounds last Saturday afternoon and won by the close score of 3-2 in a ten-inning game.

A slight alteration in the lineup brought about the wonderful change in the Club's playing. Eddie Durgin, home from Annapolis where he was a star on the Navy team, has taken over the hot corner during his vacation and "Bud" Mathews, who became a crack infielder in his high school days and has kept up the good work ever since, is singing holding down the short stop job.

Babe Flynn pitched the whole game Saturday and was going good. They say that when the Babe's good, he's very good, and that's the way he was against Beverly. Moreover his support was good.

There was fine fielding on both sides. Consequently no one scored till the fifth, when Bennett and Steele both singled and then worked a double steal. Robinson MacMullin drove them both home.

Beverly tied up the score in the next frame. Singles by Lippincott, Gotch and Pierson in succession, aided by an infield error, brought in two runs.

A pitcher's battle followed for four innings, but in the last half of the tenth MacMullin walked and Durgin tried to sacrifice him along. Babe was thrown out at second, Eddie reaching first safely. Larry Polis sent him home and won the game with a double.

Beverly got seven hits to our five. That proves the quality of our fielding.

Fai Steele held up the pitcher fine and his arm was working in great shape. He caught two men trying to pilfer third and nabbed one at second. Sammy Rodgers as usual played a fine game in left field.

This Saturday there will be another thriller on the local field. Roebing, the only other central League team which has succeeded in beating Beverly, will cross bats with the locals.

July 4 begins the second half of the Central League season. With its rejuvenated team The Field Club hopes to clinch the pennant for the second half. They open on the local grounds against Beverly on the fourth, the game being called at four o'clock in order to give time for the other sports arranged in connection with the celebration here.

On July 8 The Field Club will play Delanco here. This game is a postponed first season contest, having been held over from June 3 because of the rain on that date.

West Jersey Tennis Tournament

June 24th, at 2:30 p. m., West Jersey Tournament will be held at the Riverton Country Club and we can assure you some very fine tennis matches. At the present time Haddonfield is leading the League, Merchantville is second, Moorestown third, Riverton fourth, and Woodbury last. The matches will include men's singles, ladies' singles, men's doubles, ladies' doubles, and mixed doubles.

After the tennis, supper will be served on the lawn, followed with a dance in the evening. We are hoping that all the Club members and their friends will be on hand to enjoy this big day.

Aged Woman Killed by Train

Mrs. Belle H. Fountain, of Highland avenue and Wallace street, was instantly killed when struck by the Atlantic City flier at the Morgan avenue crossing last Saturday afternoon at 5:20.

Mrs. Fountain was 70 years old and somewhat deaf. She was on her way down town and walked in front of the train, which was running at high speed, apparently without the slightest knowledge of her peril.

The tragedy occurred in full view of a number of persons, some of whom saw the body tossed in the air by the engine, struck a second time and thrown to one side, falling between the two tracks several yards beyond the crossing. Eye witnesses say Mrs. Fountain was looking toward the station at the time and walked leisurely upon the tracks without once looking toward the train thundering down from Riverton.

Several persons tried to warn her but were unable to attract her attention.

The body was so badly mangled that identification was difficult, but relatives finally identified her through clothing and jewelry she wore. Mrs. Fountain was the sister of Mrs. Emma L. Holbrook, with whom she lived. She was the widow of George A. Fountain, who was a second lieutenant in the 47th New York Infantry in the Civil War.

The body was taken to Matawan, N. J., for burial Tuesday.

There have been several serious accidents at the Morgan avenue crossing the last few years being the one in which Ezra Carhart was seriously injured. As the result of the latest one, the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce held a meeting Sunday morning at the home of Wilbur F. Crane, president of the Chamber, and decided to request the railroad to establish a watchman and gates at the crossing. The movement was taken up with the Township Committee Tuesday evening.

"A deficit is what you have when you have less than if you had nothing."

WOULD ELIMINATE CROSSINGS

Proposal to Close Elm Avenue Crossing and All Crossings from Cinnaminson Avenue to Arch Street, Rejected by Township Committee

A discussion of Palmyra's grade crossing problems took up most of the time at the meeting of the Palmyra Township Committee Tuesday evening.

Division Engineer Kinkead was down from Trenton at the request of the Township Committee and the Chamber of Commerce. While the Committee was transacting some regular business, he had quite a talk with members of the Chamber's Utility Committee and others.

He then addressed the gathering briefly, saying that the new ferry and growth of the town had made the local crossings busier than before and that the new conditions must be met. He was much pained at recent accidents here and suggested that the Committee, the Chamber and the citizens in general get together with a proposition concerning the crossings and submit it to him so he could take it up with the higher officials.

Mr. Kinkead told of the financial difficulties of the Pennsylvania Railroad, how its rates had been reduced by the government so that only 4% could be earned on its stock, although stockholders were crying for the 6% which is the normal return on investment. Every small expenditure has to be gone over carefully, he said, by the higher officials. A set of safety gates costs about $1,000 to install and $3,000 a year, the interest on $50,000 for watchmen's salaries.

Wilbur F. Crane, president of the Chamber of Commerce, then presented a plan for purposes of discussion, saying that it had met with Mr. Kinkead's approval, and it was desired that the Township Committee and citizens think it over. The plan was to do away with the Elm avenue crossing and also to eliminate all the crossings between Cinnaminson avenue and Arch street station except one, all the remaining four crossings to be guarded with gates and watchmen. In addition the railroad would give to the Township twenty feet of its right of way for the opening of a street on the south side of the tracks from Cinnaminson avenue west to Park avenue, thus providing a thoroughfare all the way to Market street so that residents on the south side of the railroad would not be hampered by the closing of the crossing west of Cinnaminson avenue.

Chairman Davies, however, stated that he was opposed to giving the railroad anything at all in the way of eliminating grade crossings. He said that virtually the same proposition had been presented in 1909 and had been rejected by citizens interested in maintaining the crossings.

Samuel T. Steen, of Washington avenue, who showed quite a knowledge of law relating to railroads, said that anything the railroad gave from their right of way they could condemn and take back. He also pointed out that when the town grows much larger, as it will in the future, more crossings would be needed and that if they were given up now they would not be returned.

Some of those present suggested that the trains should be made to run slower, but Frank A. Mathews, Jr., a lawyer, said that this could not be done and several others thought it would not be desirable to delay trains even if it were possible.

Earl Cooper stated that the Pennsylvania railroad had already made arrangements to run 80 miles an hour through Haddonfield in order to compete with the fast Reading trains. It was reported that the ferry company had asked the railroad to have the Nellie Bly stop at Palmyra in order for Philadelphians to board it here.

Township Committeeman Hartley opposed eliminating crossings. He pointed out that school children from the rapidly growing section west of Cinnaminson avenue would have to go far out of their way to reach the Delaware avenue school.

To bring the matter to a head, Committeeman Hinchman offered a resolution requesting the railroad to protect all crossings in town. This was passed and Mr. Davies then requested the Chamber of Commerce to consider the matter further and get the opinion of the townsmen.

Albert S. King, representing the Chamber of Commerce civic committee, announced that a steel company was thinking of locating here and asked the Township heads if any action had been taken to provide an industrial zone so as to protect the residential section. He urged action at once.

Mr. King also requested that an ordinance barring parking of automobiles between Cinnaminson avenue and Mr. Winter's office be passed.

Committeeman Hinchman said he was working on this already. Earlier in the evening the Committee ordered the sewer contractor on Fourth street from Market to east of Race; on Third street Market to Race; on Second street Market to Arch; on First street from 435 feet west of Market to Arch; on Market from Second 150 feet north and on Cleveland from Highland to East Columbia.

Payments to the sewer contractor of $13,854.25 and to the engineer of $1,333.44 were ordered as well as $4,386 to the disposal plant contractor and $251.11 to the engineer on that account.

How To Be Attractive

The musicale at the Porch Club, June 16, given by pupils of Emma A. Price, assisted by Carol N. Stine, reader and teacher of applied psychology and self-expression at Nef College, Temple University, and Philadelphia Conservatory of Music, was interesting and enjoyable.

The children acquitted themselves well and showed excellent training. The quartette on two pianos was very much enjoyed.

Prizes were awarded to Harriett Letter for practice, Dorothy Bernice for memorizing and for obtaining an average of 100 in the junior progressive series examination. A scholarship of one month's tuition was awarded to Fred Miller and Jane Price for progress.

Three children of Mrs. Stine's class gave recitations and original speeches on the subject of mental poise and personal attraction. Their work was remarkable and their concentration on the given subject was an example and proof of the work of observing and clear thinking, that is too rarely done in our schools. Mrs. Stine impresses an old man in her recitation.

Miss Price announced that in the fall a junior music club will be formed of all children in Palmyra and Riverton, who are studying music. This club will be constructed along the lines authorized by the National Federation of Music Clubs. Miss Julia Williams, president of the New Jersey Federation of Music Clubs, gave a short talk urging the need of such a club and promised the support and co-operation of the Federation.

Mrs. Stine remarked that her subject sounded as though she conducted a beauty parlor, "and I do," she went on, "but not the ordinary kind where one must sit for three or four hours with hair in irons. Nor do we use instruments either to remove wrinkles or to mark character lines in the face. No, our means are not artificial. They do not wear off and require more time and expense to have them renewed. At our beauty parlor we give you recipes for internal beauty. Beauty which grows more lovely each day because it grows from within you—from your thoughts. What we think reflects itself in the face, in the whole body.

If we would be beautiful then we must think kindly, nobly, gently and ambitiously. We must use common sense and be patient. Have faith and think for others. And how are we to do this? To correct our life-long habits there is only one beginning, and that is look to the material with which we are filling our "mind houses." For that is all we have to think about. The furnishing of our spirit houses. We gaze at a landscape and closing our eyes, we can see painted on the walls of our minds just as much of the scene as we have observed and that much we have to think about, to talk about, to paint or write about. If we want more we must go back to nature and observe more, hear more, smell more.

You may be surprised when I tell you that as a result of scientific investigation, it has been proven that only 5% of us really see what we look at. Next we take these materials and set them to working together up there in a friendly sort of way. This is the great law of association and all the while these mind muscles are becoming stronger. These powers of reasoning and of imagination, of self-reliance, etc., are all working to form you a big confident human being. For you are learning that you are a mighty force here to do something which anyone else can do. If we would be confident, we must let the power of concentration hold us in her grasp, whether it be in public performances or in the little minor things of life. I cannot tell you how long it will take. With some confidence comes sooner than with others. It depends on conditions, but that does not matter. I think the only thing which matters, are we headed in the right way? Are we living such lives that we are confident we can accomplish whatever we attack? If so, we are happy. Those about us are glad we are here and civilization is better for our having lived."

Save for a Purpose

Postmaster Mattis says, if you have only a small sum to save, invest in postal savings. You can open a banking account with your government for ten cents. That will buy a ten-cent savings stamp and ten stamps can be exchanged for a $1 interest bearing postal savings certificate. Postal Savings have proved to be very popular with the people, many buying the limit which is $2,500.

The government is also offering a very attractive investment in the form of Treasury savings certificates. For $20 you can buy one of the lowest denomination, and in five years the government will redeem it for $25, your $20 earning $5. If you have $50 to invest it will earn $20, and for your $800 investment you will get $200 in interest. You can get your principal at any time in case of an emergency, with interest at 3½% while it has been in the keeping of the Government. What is more, these certificates are registered in the Treasury Department and you are safe from loss or theft. They are exempt from the normal Federal income tax, and from estate and local taxation (except estate and inheritance taxes). They pay 4½% interest compounded semi-annually, if held until maturity; that means 25% on your investment in five years.

Truth and Tombstones

When through the quiet fields I go where side by side sleep high and low, I seldom see an epitaph which tells the truth or even half. If we could sift the wheat from chaff, if pious lies no more were read but only bitter truth instead, with little left to soothe and please some stones would tell us facts like these: "Poor Mary Jones lies in this tomb, she pushed too far a heavy broom. Her husband grieves, his sorrow deeper because he bought no carpet sweeper." "In memory of Hetty Burke who died of general overwork. Her husband finds it much more bother to save one wife than get another. He'll not be long a widowed weeper; hired help is dear but wives are cheaper." "Here Susan Smith lies, rest at last, too many children came too fast." "Here lies the wife of Hapgood Hicks who did the weekly wash for six. She's glad to rest beneath these sods, she carried water seven rods." Life's burdens should be justly shared. Some husbands could be better spared than wives for whom these stones were squared. Dry-eyed we'd plant those selfish cots and leave them there till Gabriel toots.

EZEKIEL, THE WATCHMAN OF ISRAEL

LESSON TEXT—Ezekiel 3:1-21.
GOLDEN TEXT—Seek ye the Lord while He may be found; call ye upon Him while He is near; let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts; and let him return unto the Lord, and He will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for He will abundantly pardon.—Isa. 55:6-7.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—II Kings 17:13, 14; Isa. 6:1-13; Jer. 1:1-19; Matt. 23:37-39; Acts 20:15-21, 26, 27, 29-31.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Shepherd and His Sheep.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Ezekiel Watches and Warns Israel.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Facing a Hard Task.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Duty of Warning Others.

I. Ezekiel's Call (vv. 1, 2).

1. Commanded to Stand Up (v. 1). Ezekiel was given a vision of the Almighty God on His throne of glory (ch. 1). Before the vision the prophet fell prostrate upon his face. The essential equipment of a minister for the discharge of his task is a vision of the Almighty.

2. Filled With the Spirit (v. 2). By the Spirit the divine energy entered him and enabled him to execute the commission given to him.

II. Ezekiel's Commission (vv. 3-8).

1. The Moral Condition of the People (vv. 3, 4). (1) A rebellious nation (v. 3). This rebelliousness perhaps referred to their heathen idolatrous practices. (2) Impudent children (v. 4). "Impudent" literally means "hard of face." It means the grossest perversity which caused them to stand up in the presence of the prophets of God without a sense of guilt or compunction of conscience.

2. The Charge (v. 4). He was to deliver the message of God. He was to declare, "Thus saith the Lord God."

3. The Difficulty of His Task (vv. 5-8). He was to deliver the message of God whether they would hear or forebear.

III. Ezekiel's Experimental Qualifications (2:3-8:10).

Before one can preach to others he must have an experience—must be in sympathetic accord with God and His message.

1. Eating the Book (2:3-8:10). This book contained God's woes upon the stiff-necked and rebellious people (v. 10). In order to speak God's threatenings effectively to others we must inwardly digest and appropriate them ourselves. The eating of the book was in his mouth as honey for sweetness. Though his ministry was difficult and the judgment severe, the prophet was in entire sympathy with God's purpose and found delight in His will.

2. Urged on by the Spirit (3:10-14). In order to strengthen Ezekiel for his task, the wonderful symbolism of God's providential agencies which had been before him in chapter 1 was brought to his attention, assuring him that God would accompany him to his new destination.

3. Entering Into Sympathy (v. 15). In order to minister to a people one must enter into sympathy with them; must show that the message is from the depth of the heart; that to declare the message of woe is a great grief. Ezekiel mingled his tears with theirs.

4. Ezekiel's Grave Responsibility (3:17-21).

God made him a watchman. Every minister is a watchman over his flock. Two things were required of him:

1. To Hear the Word at God's Mouth. The source of his message was God's Word. So today the minister is to get his message from God.

2. Sound the Warning (v. 17). After he heard God's message he was to speak it out. The same duty is upon the minister today. Cases in point for his guidance (vv. 18-21):

(1) When God says to the wicked "Thou shalt surely die" (v. 18), and the watchman fails to warn him, the wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his blood shall be required at the watchman's hand.

(2) If the watchman warn the wicked and the warning is unheeded (v. 19), the wicked man shall perish, but the watchman has delivered his soul.

(3) When a righteous man turns to do iniquity and God gives him over to stumbling in his own sin, his past seeming righteousness will be of no avail, but his blood will be required at the hand of the watchman if he fail to warn him (v. 20).

(4) If the watchman so warns the righteous man that he fall not into sin, the man shall be saved and the watchman hath delivered his soul.

Ministers have most solemn obligations, that of discharging their obligation whether men will hear or forebear.

The Wise Shall Understand.

Many shall be purified and made white, and tried; but the wicked shall do wickedly; and none of the wicked shall understand; but the wise shall understand.—Daniel 12:10.

Being Wise.

It is better to be wise and not to seem so, than to seem wise and not to be so.—Plato.

Honest Error.

Honest error is to be pitied, not ridiculed.—Chesterfield.

Welcome, Brother Editor!

A new weekly paper has been launched to share the joys and sorrows of Riverton and Palmyra. The name of the paper is "The Palmyra-Riverton Times," the editor is Thomas C. Ingling, a young man of pleasing appearance and engaging manner. The first issue appeared on Thursday morning. The paper will endeavor to serve the interests of the residents of both towns as do the present publications. We wish our young brother-editor every success and bespeak for him the kindly consideration of the residents of the two towns.

Firemen's Annual Banquet in New Quarters

The annual banquet of the Riverton Fire Company was held in the new quarters modeled house Thursday evening, June 22nd. The event is usually held earlier in the year, at the time of the annual election of officers, but was postponed this year in order that the opening of the enlarged quarters and the banquet might be celebrated on the same date. Mayor William E. Bennett, president of the company, was toastmaster and spoke on the new quarters of the company and the efficiency of the firemen in handling it. Addresses were also made by Sheriff Edward H. Flagg, Jr., a past president, and several others including Councilman H. H. Murray, who was chairman of the committee which purchased the new fire truck, Robert Biddle, M. Sontheimer, W. A. Major, one of the old members of the company, and Fred P. Hemphill, secretary, who outlined the proposed new insurance plan for firemen.

Sheriff Flagg made the presentation of the prize to Walter C. Wright, winner of the pool tournament, to which "Sonny" replied with a few remarks and an appropriate story. The prize was donated by Mayor Bennett. A pleasing feature of the impromptu program which followed the dinner and speech making, was a vocal solo by Lloyd Taylor, who also led the boys in chorus singing.

Lippincott-Westacott

A pretty wedding took place last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra, when Miss Josephine Theresa Westacott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Westacott, of Linden avenue, Riverton, became the bride of Mr. Milton Steele Lippincott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Lippincott, of Washington avenue, Palmyra. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful gown of white marionette crepe plain made, trimmed with Duchess lace and pearls. Her veil of net was arranged with a bandeau effect fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, with a shower of lilies of the valley and ferns. Mrs. Charles H. McKinney, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a crown of orchid-colored organdie, and a black picture hat, and carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Samuel R. Jones, Jr., and Miss Marie O. Latch. They wore gowns of roseleaf pink organdie, and carried bouquets of pink tea roses. Miss Beulah E. Lippincott, little sister of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a dainty frock of white net, with rosettes of pink, and carried a basket of white daisies and pink snapdragons.

Four bridesmaids, Miss Lippincott, sister of the groom, sang "Oh Promise Me" preceding the ceremony.

Mrs. Frank A. Bell, of Riverton, presided at the organ.

The best man was Mr. Raymond K. Murray, of Sharon Hill, Pa., and the ushers were Mr. Stanley S. Lippincott, brother of the groom, Mr. Robert W. Hurlburt, of Sharon Hill, Mr. R. Whitall Turner, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Charles McKinney.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. M. VanSant, of Paulsboro, assisted by the Rev. E. A. Robinson, D.D., pastor at Palmyra.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, 421 Linden avenue, Riverton, for the families of the bride and groom and intimate friends.

After the wedding journey Mr. and Mrs. Lippincott will reside in Easton, Pa.

Collision With Truck Fatal to Boy
Joseph Lavery, Jr., ten years old, son of Joseph Lavery, was run over by the one of the rear wheels of George M. Harris & Sons coal truck on Broad street, near Lippincott avenue, Thursday afternoon, June 22nd. His leg was broken in two places and he received internal injuries which resulted in his death before midnight at the Zubergh Memorial Hospital at Riverside.

The front part of the truck had cleared the boy, who was struck by either the rear portion of the truck or the rear wheel. The bicycle the boy was riding was demolished.

Furman Pratt, driver of the truck, picked up the boy and placed him in Keating's taxi, which took him to the office of Dr. Rogers, where first aid was given and the lad sent to the Riverside hospital in the Palmyra Ambulance.

After the boy had been taken care of, Officer Quigley placed Pratt under arrest, as required by the law in such cases, and he was held in $500 bail, which was furnished by his employer, Mr. Harris.

Coroner Belton, of Moorestown, held an inquest Friday morning and gave the verdict of accidental death, exonerating Pratt.

The funeral was held from the Church of the Sacred Heart, Riverton, on Monday morning at 9.30, with a Requiem High Mass, celebrated by Rev. Joseph A. Rigney. Interment was made in Mount Carmel cemetery, Moorestown.

The Japanese beetle is invading Riverton in good earnest this week and some of the residents are dealing successfully with the pest by knocking them off the shrubbery and bushes into tin cans containing a little kerosene oil, which promptly puts them out of business.

Residents generally will adopt this practice. It will doubtless effect a big decrease in the number of beetles hereabouts, not only for this year but for next year as well.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Riverton Fire Company Wednesday night, it was decided that it would not be possible to accept Palmyra's invitation to participate in the competitive drill of the fire companies of the county to be held on Fourth of July morning, owing to the fact that it would take the apparatus and the members of the Company out of town at the time when Riverton's celebration will be getting under way.

It was also decided that the apparatus should not be taken out of the firehouse on Fourth of July except for use at a fire.

Notice

On Fourth of July the Palmyra Ambulance Association will have two trained nurses and two drivers on duty from eight until five o'clock. Phone Riverton 20.

Public Utility Decisions

Trenton, June 23.—General approval of the issuance of $7,250,000 of capital stock by the Public Service Electric and Power Co. was given by the Public Utility Commission today in disposing of a request for approval of issues of $5,700,000 and $2,500,000.

The Millville Traction Company was authorized to discontinue service and abandon its franchise on Landis avenue, Vineland, on condition that it remove its rails, poles and wires from the avenue within forty days.

Answering an inquiry by James Chapman, of Bridgeton, the commission has ruled that the Electric Company of New Jersey can be compelled to supply service to his property without the payment of $50 on account of the cost of building the line. Mr. Chapman, with other citizens, signed an agreement to contribute toward the extension of the company's line, but subject to a reservation on the part of Mr. Chapman that he might withdraw and withhold payment of any part of the cost, if it developed that the company's duty to pay the cost of building the line.

Changes in Election Laws

The last Legislature made several changes in the election laws. A very important change is with reference to the returns made by district boards of registry and election. Sometimes it is daylight before the returns are all counted and the election officers are tired and they fill up the blanks quickly and frequently carelessly.

The new law provides that where the election board does not fill the blank in every detail payment shall be withheld. The law says that neglect of a return made by district boards of registry and election. Total number of names on the poll book; total number on register; total number of votes rejected; number of votes given for each person or public question; failure to transmit books or other equipment. The penalty for any one of these omissions is the withholding of the pay of the entire Board offending, or it may be forfeited entirely. If the Board fails to make a report within twenty-four hours after being notified the members may be held to be in contempt of court and punished accordingly.

There is another point that may be mentioned here although not covered by the law. Few persons are aware of the manner in which election officers may be chosen. It has been the custom, for years, for names to be sent to the county board of elections with the idea that the political service, but to get efficient officials. This will be the course that will be adopted this year and efficiency will be considered in preference to political payment.

Anyone wishing to seek the position of election officer can get blanks by addressing them to the county board of elections at Mount Holly and the application will be given due consideration.

"I Never Read the Advertisements"

A lady made that remark the other day, with a sort of bored air, as though advertisements were beneath her notice.

And while we hope and expect that all our readers will live forever—in case anything should happen—well, read the two ads near the bottom of the front page, in the left hand corner.

Isn't this just as real "News" as anything published in the other columns—isn't it just as interesting—and doesn't it mean as much to your pocketbook?

Like the shoemaker's kids, and the carpenter's roof, the Editor nearly forgot to mention his own wares—Printing, Engraving, a writing fluid that is permanent on all papers and washes out of fabrics, the famous fountain pen with "the little red pump handle," and a new portable typewriter with a keyboard—just exactly like the standard machines—it's the Remington Portable, with all the Remington quality and reputation, back of it—it can be seen at The New Era Office.

CAMP No. 23 PASSES 1000 MARK

Event Celebrated by Parade and Addresses by Many Prominent Speakers

Washington Camp No. 23, P. O. S. of A., promised a big time when it reached the one thousand mark in membership. Last Monday night it lived up to its promise. Judge Harold B. Wells was the one-thousandth member and Mayor Kilian E. Bennett was among those initiated as new members.

The meeting was attended by the largest number of members in many years, more than 500 being packed into the hall, and those present included prominent county and local officials who are members of the Order.

The initiation was held first, thirty-four candidates taking the patriotic oath of the Order. This brought the total number of members up to 1013. The Camp once before broke all records throughout the State by obtaining 1000 members, but deaths and other causes reduced the number and for the last three years No. 23 has been trying again to pass that mark. Monday night they succeeded, with some to spare, and in order to make it good measure, the membership committee are hoping to bring the total up to 1100 at an adjourned meeting to be held this Friday night, which marks the end of the quarter.

One hundred twelve members have been added during the three months of the present campaign and behind this remarkable achievement is the story of "Dad" Davison, which Chairman Wimer and "Dad" himself told in so graphic a manner Monday evening.

"Dad" was elected as an honorary member, being past the age limit, some months ago and was given the impression that an honorary member was largely only part of the scenery. "He could talk at meetings, but could not vote," "Dad" decided to take his own initiative and he made it count more than dozens of votes.

He heard other members despairing of restoring the Camp to its old standing. He "razed" them for lying down on the job, got some of their "goats" and finally provoked a challenge for a membership contest between twenty-five residents and twenty-five youngsters to be led by "Dad."

They went at it and the results were shown Monday evening.

In recognition of his work, Mr. Davison was given an ovation at the meeting and presented with a solid gold P. O. S. of A. watch chain which was inscribed "To Dad, from the boys of Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., June 26, 1922."

Accompanying was a letter of appreciation, praising him for showing them how to do what they wanted to do, and signed both by members who had been with him and against him in the contest.

Mr. Davison in his speech urged the members to still greater efforts in their quest for members to initiate this Friday evening.

Following the initiation there was a huge street parade from Palmyra to Riverton and back.

Afterwards the general meeting was opened with a prayer of thanks by the Rev. Harry Saul, the new Lutheran minister, who was one of the new members. Then Chairman Wimer introduced for short speeches Samuel Thompson, of Philadelphia, the first president of the Camp, who held office 29 years ago; ex-State Senator Samuel K. Robbins, long a member of the Camp; present State Senator Emmet Roberts, of Camden; Sheriff Sheriff Flagg, of Camp 23; R. A. Wimer, a new member who is a lecturer in all National Promotional work; U. S. consul at Dresden, Germany, a number of years ago; Mayor Bennett, of Riverton, a new member; Freeholders Lippincott, Stout and Rogers, all of Camp No. 23; and Henry Worrell, and County Overseer of Roads Stewart MacFarland.

The speaker of the evening was Judge Harold B. Wells, to whom had been given the honor of becoming the 1000th member of the Camp.

The Judge, in an eloquent address, expressed his appreciation of the honor and then called upon every P. O. S. of A. man to uphold the principles of the Order, the first of which, he declared, was religion, the real old-fashioned kind.

The open Bible and the closed Sabbath, the Judge declared, is the bottom rock of true Americanism, and he cited the deep religious principles of all the great leaders of the Nation from Washington to McKinley.

Alongside of religion he placed the duty of upholding the laws and constitution of the country, for which the Order stands. He emphasized particularly the prohibition amendment, and cited how Chief Justice Taft, who had opposed the amendment before it was enacted, called upon every citizen to observe it when it had become part of the basic law of the nation.

Following Judge Wells' address the ladies of the P. O. of A. served the big crowd with appetizing sandwiches and coffee.

Will Be Married Saturday

Miss Florence D. Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Simmons, of Montreal, Canada, will become the bride of Judd Charles Rimmer, also of Montreal, on Saturday, June 30, at 8 o'clock, at the residence of A. H. Zayotti, 821 Morgan avenue, this Saturday evening at 7 o'clock, the Rev. E. A. Robinson officiating.

The bridegroom has been with Mr. Zayotti's Montreal office but recently was transferred to Philadelphia. The young couple have purchased a home in West Collingswood.

Sewer Construction Well Under Way

Work on the sewer system is progressing rapidly. The mains are about nine-tenths laid and all expected to be down by next month. The disposal plant is well under way and so is the pumping station at the foot of Berkeley avenue. It is expected to require about two more months for the completion of the disposal plant.

After all work is done some time will be required for the formal acceptance of the system by the authorities and it is expected that it will be ready to connect with by the middle of autumn.

Twilight Games Spectacular
By Brick-Top

The enthusiasm that continues strongly in favor of the brand of baseball played in the Twin City Twilight League will undoubtedly reach such a point before many more games are played as to pack to capacity the Field Club grounds—better known as Razz-Berry Park.

There is no question but that every mother's son of us really enjoys Monday, Tuesday and Thursday evenings—and Friday also when our friend, the weather man, stops hostilities long enough for a game to be played. The games are more than interesting—they are spectacular. Not so much from the standpoint of amazing plays as from the acrobatic side, the physical appearance, tall and short, lean and fat, and the ability of the various players to get all mixed up, when in a tight hole. Considering everything, if you want to have a good time, come down to any of the games of the T.C.T.L.

In justification to our many friends, we want to say that the bleachers are ready at all times to show their appreciation of any dumb bell play, good catch or raw decision of the umpire. This bunch of noise objects, led by the Honorable Tommy Schwink whose fame as the originator of "Like Grant took Richmond," "Ain't the flies bad, etc.," certainly are worth the coin you drop into the hat when it is passed around.

The officials of the League are trying to do all in their power to make the games interesting to the spectators and it will help out a lot to know that each team in the Association has a trade name—big League stuff. The Artisans are known as the Mechanics, the Baptists as the Deacons, the P.O.S. of A. as the Nationals, the Knights of Pythias as the Kitchen Police, the Legion as the Vets and the Wesleyans as the Pillars of Fire.

The postponed game between the P.O.S. of A. and the Wesleyans was played on Friday, the 20th. The Pillars won 6-4 after a very exciting 9-inning session. Doc Mark pitched for the Pillars of Fire and Lody Orcutt for the Nationals. Doc had sixteen strikeouts and good support.

Lody twirled fine ball and the score was a tie up to the seventh, when Schroeffer singled and went to second on an error, immediately stealing third. "Fritz" is fast on the bases. Harry McKenna's grounder was muffed at short and Schroeffer scored. Len Baker followed with a hit and the second. Lewis hit to short and Len scored.

The Mechanics and the Pillars produced one of the best games of the season Monday evening. Herb McGinley, star twirler of the Logan A. A. almost banished the League leaders. A sensational seventh inning rally of the Pillars tied the score 3-3 and this stood at the ending of the eighth, when the game was called on account of darkness. McGinley fanned twelve of the first fifteen men to face him.

The crowd had a great time razzing Kates about the Blue-Jay corn plaster sign on his cap.

The P.O.S. staged a regular comeback in the seventh inning of Tuesday's game, when they got to Anderson, Baptist hurler, for seven runs. The Deacons won, however, by 9-8. Our friend, Tommy O'Toole, claims that the National's second sacker, "Barry" Rodgers, bungled the old advance with a nifty skull steal to third. You should have heard the razzing the old plumber got.

Thursday the Legion meets Earl Cooper's K. of P.'s and J. Stack says it will be good night knight.

The game scheduled between the Legion and the Baptists last Thursday was postponed because of rain, to this Friday evening. The Association has ruled that an official twilight game henceforth will be seven innings. The League standing is:

Wesleyans Won Lost Pct.

Legion 1 0 1.000

Artisans 1 1 .500

K. of P. 1 1 .500

P.O.S. of A. 0 3 .000

F. C. Continues Winning Streak

The Field Club has continued its victorious gallop the past week, coming through with a 6-4 win over Roebing of the Central League last Saturday and defeating Sunnyside, of Frankford, 3-0, Wednesday evening.

This Saturday the boys play Burlington and on the Fourth they open the second half of the Central League season with Roebing here. Saturday's game was a thriller. Local errors had given the invaders a 4-1 lead in the fifth and both teams were playing such a tight game that it looked as if the score would remain that way, when things started happening in our half of the seventh, which was a lucky seventh indeed.

MacMullen, Donaghy and Stack hit in succession, filling the bases and the crowd on its toes as Larry Polis came to bat. Larry laid down a twisting bunt toward third, the throw home was bad and Mac scored. Mathews fled out to right, but Donaghy raced home safely. Steele drove in Stack and Polis, and was out at second. The last man fled out.

Torella pitched a fine game for Palmyra and it was chiefly on errors that Roebing got its four runs. Bud Mathews got three hits, one a two-bagger, and handled short in great style. All the boys played in great form, except for the bad fifth, and should make things hum in the second half of the League.

The Sunnyside game was a twilight seven inning contest and was marked by a two-bagger by Donaghy, two hits by Atkinson, and safe blows by Mathews, Polis and Steele.

The Field Club tennis club committee has completed arrangements for a continuous tennis club tournament. The objects of the tournament are (a) to foster competitive playing between all members of the club, (b) to acquire a correct rating of the playing ability of the club members as a basis for the selection of members to constitute teams to compete with other clubs, (c) to give every member an opportunity to play against those of more experience, thus insuring the development of the club as a unit.

The rules governing the matches are as follows:

1. Best out of three sets wins.
2. Lower bracket men challenges players in the bracket next above them, and the challenged must play within two weeks or default the match.
3. Challenging party cannot challenge same man more than once in two weeks.
4. Victor and defeated exchange brackets or remain as before, depending on the result of the match.

The following committee was appointed to manage the continuous tournament, to act as a reporting body of the results of the contests, so that pyramid ranking may be altered from time to time in accordance with decisions of matches, and other matters relating to the tournament:

E. Hahn, Morris Allen, Valentine Hemple, Dr. Bauer, Frank McCormick, Arthur Simmons, Albert Morris.

A tentative pyramid arrangement of players was made. No doubt the committee has erred in the ranking of many players, but be considerate and remember it is not so easy to always judge correctly. The correction lies with you. Simply challenge a man in the bracket above you and let the committee know about the result. You can reach the top in this manner. Only paid-up members have been listed, new members will be assigned as they join.

Do not confuse this continuous tournament with the Albert King Cup Tournament which will start sooner than last year, but otherwise managed as last year.

Tentative list—
1—Roy Hardy,
2—Lons Bonnell, T. H. Frison,
3—Arthur Wright, Russell Gibbon,

High Cost of Dirt.
Tests made in England of men and women in factories working behind dirty windows and the same employees working behind clean windows, reveal an average of from 5 to 15 per cent more efficiency in the latter than in the former. This is because the dirty windows cut off a certain amount of sunlight.
