WILL ENFORCE ATTENDANCE

Riverton School Board Will Go the Limit to See That Children Are in School

The matter of regular attendance at school received considerable attention at the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education last Monday night. Miss Chew, supervising principal, reported that one pupil had not made the required number of days last year and that the attendance this year was no better. She recommended that the necessary legal steps be taken to enforce attendance. This recommendation was heartily concurred in by the members of the Board. Attention was also called to the fact that a number of girls have applied for working papers without having met all of the conditions on which the issuance of these papers is based and that they have been required to comply fully with the law before their request was granted. As one of the members of the Board tersely put it, "Riverton expects their children to attend school"—and Miss Chew purposes to see that they do it. It was the irregular attendance of three or four pupils last year which prevented Riverton from winning the attendance prize in Burlington county, as it was, Riverton was only 72-100% below the attendance of Delran Township, which captured the prize. Miss Chew said that Riverton would make another try for it this year. Except for a few individual cases the attendance is remarkably good. During the past month the highest percentage of attendance was made by the sixth grade, 99.5%. The fourth grade had an attendance of 99.3%. The girls of the eighth grade made 100% in attendance. Miss Chew is planning to develop an orchestra in the school, and hopes to soon have one that will compare with the orchestras in other grade schools in the county.

The Parent-Teacher Association will continue its practice of last year, and give a Victrola record to the grade having the largest percentage of mothers in attendance at its meetings.

The following bills were ordered paid:

The annual reception to National and State officers has been considered a source of inspiration to members and guests. October 16th has been set for the function and a special invitation extended to our newly-elected one hundred and twenty-five members to attend in a body.

National President Gabriel Meyer will be the speaker of the evening and as he is one of the real orators of the day, a treat is in store for those present.

SPORTS

Delair Beats Matchner

Delair defeated Matchner F. C. by a score of 5-4 in the third and deciding game of the championship series at Hillcrest Sunday afternoon. A three-run rally in the eighth inning turned the trick for Delair.

Both Weisman and Herbert pitched fine ball and were given good support. Weisman looked like a winner until the eighth when W. Ryan, Kees and Ruff came through with winning punches.

Matchner also rallied in its half of the eighth, but fell short. Kuff was the leading sticker while the fielding of Kees, Shultz and Smith featured.

Both Riverton Teams Lose

Last Saturday the Riverton football team travelled to Woodbury and were defeated by the strong Woodbury team 13 to 0. A large number of Rivertonians accompanied the team.

The Riverton Reserves also travelled away from home and were beaten by the Riverside second team 13 to 0, which was a very creditable showing, as the Riverside team outweighed our boys by close to 30 lbs. to a man.

This Saturday, October 7th, Riverton will open its home season on the Palmyra Field Club ground with the strong St. Monica's A. A. team. Game starts 3:15 p. m.
The Riverton Reserves will play a preliminary game with the Riverside Boy Scout team of Riverside, game starting 2:15 p. m.

Bowling at the Country Club

The first bowling tournament of the 1922-23 season will start on Monday, October 16, at the Country Club, and from present indications it should be the most successful season in the history of the club.

Thirteen teams of six men each will bowl for the championship piloted by the following captains:
Team No. 1, D. L. Vaughan; 2, F. Graff; 3, O. G. Willis; 4, Howard Coe; 5, W. C. Wright; 6, J. T. Evans; 7, H. L. Hirst; 8, H. F. Jones; 9, H. E. Davis; 10, R. C. Ayres; 11, J. A. Boehme; 12, H. H. Murray; 13, E. P. Staunton.

On account of the large number of teams bowling, the schedule calls for four teams to bowl each night, using all four alleys instead of only three as previously. With twenty-four men bowling five nights a week, the Club bowling alleys will be a lively spot during the coming winter.

Some of the teams have been greatly strengthened this year, while others are standing pat with the players they had last year, and a battle royal can be expected before the winner is finally decided. Two new teams under A. J. Boehme and E. P. Staunton have been added this year and both captains have promised to make it hot for the older teams when they once get started.

KNIGHT DEFEATED AGAIN

Fails to Capture County Committee, When All His Candidates Are Beaten by Large Majorities

The new order of things in Burlington county politics scored another victory Monday, when the attempt of the Knight regime to regain control of the county committee was defeated by a more than two-to-one vote.

Charles R. Rigg, of Burlington, Knight's candidate for chairman of the county committee was defeated by Charles R. Stout, by a vote of 88 to 40. Lawrence Mingin, Knight's candidate for secretary, was defeated by William Heister, 88 to 38. George N. Wimer, supported by the new faction, was unopposed for treasurer.

Mrs. Nellie Russell, of Burlington, was made first vice chairman. The place for second vice chairman was contested for by Mrs. E. C. Lord, of Mount Holly, and Mrs. Emmor Roberts, wife of Senator Roberts, of Moorestown. Mrs. Lord received 64 votes, and Mrs. Roberts 50.
The executive committee was elected as follows: Mrs. Ada Aaronson, Bordenstown; Mrs. Elsie Buzby, Chatsworth; Mrs. Walter Bowen, Riverton; Charles H. Folwell, Mount Holly; John C. Geiss, Riverton; Mrs. Clara E. Haines, Mount Holly, Carleton Haines, Tabernacle; Joseph H. Matlack, Burlington; Dr. Emma Weeks-Metzer, Riverside; Mrs. Anna R. Newcombe, Browns Mills; Andrew Nelson, Springfield Township; John Panoast, Riverside; Mrs. Emmor Roberts, Moorestown; Mrs. Anna K. Ridgway, Lumberton; Roscoe Shinn, Burlington; Lang Thorne, Bordenstown; Mrs. Nettie Worrell, Mount Holly; J. Lloyd Wright, Medford.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 8

THE BIRTH AND CHILDHOOD OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Luke 2:1-20; 40-52.
GOLDEN TEXT—And Jesus increased in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and man.—Luke 2:52.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 1:18; 2:1-23.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Boy Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Boyhood of Jesus.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus at Home and at School.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Religious Training of the Young.

I. The Birth of Jesus (vv. 1-7).

1. Time of (vv. 1-3). It was at a time when the Jews were coming under the Roman power. It was a most propitious time for the introduction of the gospel. The whole world was under one rule, making it possible for ministers to go from place to place easily and without molestation.
2. Place of (vv. 4-6). Bethlehem, as the prophet had foretold 700 years before (Micah 5:2). God moved the emperor to enforce the decree of taxation in time to cause Mary to be at Bethlehem.
3. Circumstances of (vv. 7). His surroundings were of the most humble sort. The Almighty Creator condescended to take upon himself humanity—to be born in a manger, becoming the poorest of the poor that none might be hindered from coming to Him.

II. The Birth of Jesus Announced (vv. 8-20).

1. To Whom (vv. 8, 9). The shepherds who were watching over their flocks by night. The glorious gospel message was first given to laboring men.

2. By Whom (vv. 9). The first gospel sermon was preached by the angel of the Lord. The angels have part in making known the gospel to lost men. These glorious beings no doubt deeply sympathize with fallen, sin-cursed men.

3. The Nature of the Message (vv. 10-14). It was good tidings of great joy. It was good tidings because the way of salvation was about to be opened for all—Jew and Gentile. So glorious was this news that a multitude of the heavenly host accompanied it with a song of praise. It is through Jesus Christ that God's kindness and good will are made known to man.

4. The Shepherds Witnessing (vv. 15-20). They made a prompt investigation of the angel's message.

III. The Child Jesus Growing (vv. 40-52).

Jesus Christ was divine, but His deity did not interfere with His development as a human being. The processes of His physical, mental and spiritual growth were the same as those of any normal human being.

1. Jesus Tarrying Behind at Jerusalem (vv. 40-43). At the age of twelve years a Jewish child took his place as a worshiper in the temple, for he was considered a "child of the law." Being conscious of His mission, when His mother and Joseph were returning from attendance at the Passover, Jesus tarried behind to enter the temple and inquire into the meaning of the ordinances of God's house.

2. Jesus Found in the Temple (vv. 44-47). When His mother and Joseph had gone some distance on their journey they perceived that Jesus was missing and sought for Him among their kinsfolk and acquaintances. Not finding Him there they returned to Jerusalem, where they found Him in the temple. (1) He was "sitting" (v. 46), showing that He was no passing visitor or sightseer. He was perfectly at home in His Father's house. (2) He was "hearing" (v. 46). He was hearing the teachers of God's Word. This shows that He was eager to learn God's will. (3) He asked questions (v. 46). His growing mind was inquisitive. It more than received what was taught; it inquired after it. (4) He answered questions (v. 47). His answers showed great wisdom, such as to astonish those who heard Him. Yet we should not surmise that He was actually displaying His wisdom. It was not an exhibition of His divine wisdom, but the expression of the workings of a perfect human mind suffused by the Holy Spirit.

3. Mary's Complaint (v. 48-50). She remonstrated with Him for His behavior. To this He replied in a dignified, yet tender manner. He made no apology, showing that He was more than the son of Mary.

4. Jesus' Obedience (v. 51). Though He was fully conscious of His divine being and mission, He lived a life of filial obedience.

5. Jesus' Development (v. 52). (1) Mental. He "increased in wisdom." (2) Physical. He "increased in stature." (3) Spiritual. He "increased in favor with God and man."

Wisdom to Be Desired.
Wisdom is better than rubies; and all the things that may be desired are not to be compared to it.—Proverbs 8:11.

The Truly Valiant.

The members of the County Republican Committee, elected from all parts of the County, evidently harkened to the desires of their constituents so forcibly expressed at the primary election last week, when that body met to organize on Monday.

Harry L. Knight, having been defeated for the office of State Committeeman by a majority of over three thousand, rallied his forces and attempted to capture control of the county committee.

But the new leaders were not caught napping, and every candidate he put up was defeated, most of them by a more than two-to-one vote.

The Republican voters of Burlington County are evidently of a mind to stand by the new order of things, until it has had a fair chance to show what it can do anyway.

And it can only be successful if it has the support and co-operation of the rank and file which placed it in control as a protest against the old order.

That the powers which have directed county affairs so long are not willing to accept the decision of the voters if there is any way to avoid it, is proved by the attempted comeback after the decisive defeat at the polls.

The new committee and its leaders will naturally be watched and every action criticized. The most unfavorable construction will be placed on their mistakes—and they will make mistakes, of course.

They are not super-men and -women. But they are actuated by a desire to give the Republican voters of Burlington County a voice and share in the administration of their political affairs to which they have been strangers for many years. A large majority of the voters have expressed through the ballot box confidence in the sincerity of their professions.

Now these voters must be patient and loyal. The old organization has been done away with, and a new organization must be built up, along different and better lines. This will take time, and those who have assisted in bringing about this change must stand by those who are at the helm and support and encourage them.

Constructive criticism will be helpful and welcome. Those having suggestions to make may offer them with a full assurance that they will be courteously received and carefully considered. That every advice given will be accepted and acted upon, is of course, impossible.

The voters have been assured that this is to be the people's county organization. This implies a responsibility as well as a privilege on the part of the voter to take part, to keep in touch with political affairs throughout the year, and to see that those upon whom the mantle of office has fallen receive their support whenever they need it.

REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING

Runyon and Frelinghuysen to Speak in Riverton

Hon. William N. Runyon, Republican candidate for Governor of New Jersey, and Hon. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, Republican candidate for United States Senator, will address a meeting in the Riverton public school auditorium Friday evening, October 6, at 8 o'clock.

An effort was made to secure P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, for the meeting, owing to its greater seating capacity, but it was taken for that night. The notice is short, and everyone is requested to help spread the news. This is the only night between now and the election in November that these speakers could be secured, every other date being taken.

Everybody is invited, the ladies especially, and this will be the best opportunity the voters will have to hear the important issues of the campaign discussed.

State Commissioner of Education Jerry Enright has issued a call to State and County superintendents and helping teachers in New Jersey asking that Sunday, October 8th, be observed in all churches as educational Sunday, and Miss Hannah H. Chew, supervising principal of the Riverton public school, has sent an invitation to all ministers in Riverton asking them to co-operate in the plan.

You don't need to be told again how badly the Smyrna refugees need your help, so we are not going to waste time writing a long article about it, nor ask you to waste time reading it. Make out your check in the time you save, and send it to Frederick Frelinghuysen, at Newark, State treasurer of the Smyrna Emergency Relief—and do it quickly. Women and children starve while you hesitate!

The drive for funds for the Community Chest Collection is proving very satisfactory, and our citizens have met the solicitors with a spirit of co-operation and helpfulness. Should there be any of our residents, who, through some oversight, were not called on by one of the solicitors, it is hoped that they will send their contributions either direct to the treasurer, Fred P. Hemphill, or to the team captain in their district.

Rev. Andrew J. Graham, C. S. The escape of three desperate prisoners from the county jail was thwarted and another possible tragedy averted on Monday when Clarence L. Horner, day warden, discovered that the iron bars had been sawed in the cell of Ernest L. Mayo, murderer of John K. Fox, a jitney of Hainesport, on May 3, and Frank Partrillo and John Wilhelm, highwaymen. After the attempted jail breaking was discovered additional guards were detailed to watch the men.

Everything is in readiness for the tennis match, to be held on the grounds of Oliver G. Willis, Bank avenue, tomorrow afternoon. The exhibition will begin promptly at two fifteen. An added attraction will be a swimming and diving exhibition given by Mrs. Gertrude Artelt and other Philadelphia swimming stars, between the two matches. An additional singles match will be played between Carl Eschert, Middle States champion, and Percy Osborne, of Belfield, starting at one-thirty.

The card party arranged by Mrs. C. L. Flanagan, Mrs. George S. Washington and Mrs. E. K. Merrill, and held in the Forth Club, September 28, was a great success, $88 net being realized for the benefit of the Riverton Free Library. There were sixteen tables from Palmyra, nineteen from Riverton and two from Beverly. The committee wishes to thank those helping to arrange it—the club house for which there was no rental, chairs from the Parish House, Joseph M. Roberts and J. Carl DeLaCour. We hope the success of this party will encourage others to contribute to the support of this most worthy institution, the Riverton Free Library.

SENATOR FRELINGHUYSEN

Republican Candidate for re-election to United States Senate

who will be one of the speakers at the big mass meeting to be held in the auditorium of the Riverton public school Friday evening, October 6th, at 8 o'clock. The other speaker will be Hon. William N. Runyon.

Letter from Congressman Bacharach

My dear Mr. Editor:

May I take occasion, through the columns of your very excellent paper, to express my thanks and appreciation to the voters of Burlington County for their support of my candidacy at the primary election?

Now that the primaries are over it becomes the duty of all true Republicans to forget any differences or animosities that may have intruded during the primary campaign, and to rally to the united support of the Republican candidates.

The people of the State have spoken, and I endorse, without reservation or qualification, every candidate that has been nominated on the Republican ticket as it effects the district which I represent, and the State and Nation in general.

The eyes of the country are focused on New Jersey; we have much hard work to do to overcome the opposition. The return of Senator Frelinghuysen to the United States Senate, the election of Senator Runyon as Governor of our State, as well as the election of our candidates to the National House of Representatives, our candidates for the State Legislature, and our candidates for county and municipal offices, are all necessary for the absolute success of the Republican Party and an expression of confidence in the administration of President Harding.

Very truly yours,

ISAAC BACHARACH.

Attempted Holdup

About half past nine Wednesday night, as Roy Conkle was driving toward Riverton, he saw an automobile tire lying in the middle of the road in front of the Heulings Lippincott homestead on the road between Riverton and Moorestown. He stopped his car to pick it up, but as he approached the spot where it lay, he saw a burly colored man step from a tree at the roadside and start toward him. Conkle ran back to his car, jumped in and stepped on the gas and drove off as fast as he could. He reported the matter to Officer Quigley who at once investigated. He saw the marks in the dust of the road where the tire had been laid, but got no trace of the man.

PROMPT DELIVERY

Salvation by Matrimony

By MARTHA M. WILLIAMS

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"Coming? There's the last bell," Zillah called to her cousin Frances from the topmost step. Still Sunday sunlight made her glow like a rose newly open. Frances, noting it, sighed faintly—she craved beauty of all things—no transfigurations of light or shadow could ever make her other than hopelessly plain. At least to her own eyes—her mirror did not picture her best moments. Few indeed ever saw them—they came when she was wrapped in the peace of green pastures, with the gleam of still waters gemming the distance. Something awoke then that made her as one with the good world, part and parcel of its harmony and rhythm.

"Do come! It makes me dainty sitting alone in our big pew," Zillah entreated.

Frances rose slowly. "If you can wait two minutes," she said, speaking almost loathly. Yet, in less time she was beside Frances, trig, dim, severe, a perfect foil for the other figure, a concrete of roses, ribbons and girlish charm.

Two men were already seated in their pew—tall, young, well set up, well looking in every way. They stood deferentially outside for the two girls to seat themselves, and later went through the ritual with a reverent ease that bespoke habit. Also they listened alertly, catching every point of the rector's discourse. Frances was unaccountably glad it was one of his best; brief, but meaty throughout, and breathing the vital witness of the spirit. The church was full. After the benediction the strangers halted uncertainly. Then one turned to Frances with "Please, do you think we may speak with the rector. We came especially to hear him. It may be my only chance. My father was a good friend of his all through the course at Princeton."

"Then he must have known my father, too. Did you ever hear of Gordon Trabue?" Zillah interrupted. "Rather! I'm his namesake," the stranger said, holding out a card, which read: "Gordon Trabue Whitsett." "And I've grown up on traditions of the triumvirate," he added. "To think of finding part of it in just this way." "My middle name begins with W," Zillah said laughing. "I'd surely be a John Whitsett if I were the man I ought to be."

"Don't say that! Nature knew best," young Whitsett said, looking down at her. Then Frances, and the other stranger being acquainted, the four of them sought the vestry, where the rector rejoiced over them almost as if they had been brands from the burning. After a bit Zillah declared: "Everybody goes home with me to dinner. Yes—you too!" shaking her finger at Rector Fitch. "Frances won't mind going for my Aunt Zillah, your good angel—and mine. I don't trust you out of my sight. Daddy will be home from that tiresome convention—and gladder than anybody to see you. He'd disinherit me, I'm sure, if I let his namesake escape," and smiling at Billy Brent, "he has always a double welcome for the friend of his friend."

"Frances, take that lad along with you. I know my Zillah—she is set in her ways—if you have to use force do it gently, please." The rector laughed. Frances frowned—in spirit only. She did not mind doing Zillah's bidding, nor envy her the ease with which she carried things before her. But it was hard to have to make conversation with some one new and strange. She had no small talk whatever, not even of the weather.

"The rector trod on several 'corns of your mind,'" Billy declared as they went down the vestry steps.

"How do you know?" Frances asked, startled.

"Your eyes tell tales," Billy retorted. "They are dangerously truthful." "How?" Frances asked.

"By turning away friends, even when they do not make enemies," was the reply.

"I don't know how you can know," she said, a perplexed line drawing between her brows.

"Honest Injun—don't you resent my being sent along?" from Billy.

She nodded. "Yes—I know we should bore each other to no purpose, and that is such a waste of living."

"Let's not do it, then. Instead, tell each other all about ourselves. That is always interesting—to the party of the first part, however the last may fare," Billy said, standing still a second.

"I doubt if we are that interesting," Frances said dispassionately. At least, I'm not. I'm just what I look—somebody born to help fill up the census. All I really know is I was born and I shall die. I mean nothing to anybody, good or bad. Sometimes I feel as though I'd rather be hated, real hard, than have the whole world tepid."

"Bravo! Now we're getting down to cases," Billy said, taking her hand masterfully. "I've been looking this long time for a properly educated woman—one who knows how 'To pray to God, to love man, to knit and to sew.' And now that I have found her I shall never let her go."

Here the big Whitsett car overtook them, bore them on to the rectory, acquired the mistress of the manse more or less forcibly, and whirled the aggregation away to the 'Tres de la A stout and rusty gentleman, it was on the piazza, got actually as e as he shook his namesake's hand. After a machine gun fire of greetings and inquiries, he was roaring through long distance: "Jack Whitsett, you scoundrel, come right on to the love feast. Not a word from you this dozen years—not that boy of yours is doing his best to steal my only girl. Asked for her. What you talking about, man! That old stuff—clean out of fashion. Never mind the hundred miles and more—but you've got a car that knocks off 80 to the hour without half trying. We won't wait dinner for you—but there'll be supper later. Come

I say! Your country calls you. Answer here in person."

A gurgling laugh came over the wire. Hearing it, young Whitsett smiled: "He'll be here." Then to the rector: "The pater is strong for 'pure religion and undefiled'—don't you dare pull any progressive stuff at the reading desk tonight, if you care to keep his friendship."

"I'm glad he's coming—need somebody to speak for me in the worst way," Billy Brent broke in, flushing a little. "I'm a stranger, nobody's son nor grandson, in this neck of the woods. Pappy Jack knows me from my beginning—he'll give me a character only twice as bad as I deserve."

"Isn't this rather sudden?" the rector asked with twinkling eyes that seemed to burn Frances' cheeks—they flushed so beautifully.

"I suppose hunger makes even a minister impolite," his wife chided gently. "You should certainly know better than to ask such leading questions after all you said this morning of 'the gospel of perfect love.'"

"Were you there invisibly?" young Whitsett asked, amid the general laughter. A head shake answered him, but after a minute she said: "It's this way, you see—I got out his sermon for him the same as his clean hands. If I didn't he'd forget and read the same things so often the vestry would have the trouble of calling a new man."

"Salvation by matrimony, eh, boys?" Mr. Trabue said with a fine fatherly intonation, his eyes upon the young men. "True doctrine! Go to it! You won't repent. A good wife is above rubies."

"We're happy converts, sir," Whitsett said audaciously. "Since you keep the best in stock, tell us the price."

"Price? Oh, a real man," came the answer. "Now let's feed, other things can wait."

HAS VARIETY OF MEANINGS
Slang Term "Hookum Snivey," Common in East Africa and India May Be Liberally Used.

The Anglo-Indian word hookum, used also in East Africa, designates an official order, a judgment. There is also the slang term hookum snivey with various meanings (1) An imposition, such as getting food under false pretenses; (2) One who does this; (3) A crook of thick iron wire to loosen wooden bolts of doors from without.

According to the "Lexicon Balatronicum," hookum snivey is described as "feeding a man and a dog for nothing. Three men, one of whom pretends to be sick and unable to eat, go to a public house, the two well men make a bargain with the landlord for their dinner, and when he is out of sight, feed their pretended sick companion and dog gratis."

According to Bee's Dictionary as "a practice of soldiers in quarters when they obtain grub for nix." Joseph Wright in his "English Dialect Dictionary" gives hookum snivey, "an indescribable though simple machine employed by boys in playing at head and harp." He quotes Edgeworth's "Irish Bulls," edition of 1808. The term is used in Devonshire for anything deceitful, tricky, or sly.

Originated "John Bull."
The term "John Bull" was first used by John Arbuthnot, witty Scotch doctor and writer in "The History of John Bull," published in 1712, in which, in a discussion of the political affairs of Europe at that time, John Bull, representing England, appears as a jolly, honest, plain-dealing but hot-tempered farmer. Arbuthnot's word picture was later reproduced in a drawing by Sir Francis Carruthers Gould, and now the name and the picture through long use have become familiar to all. John Bull wears a "tote" hat, a swallow-tail coat, trousers tucked in at the boots and across his ample waistcoat usually appear the outlines of the British flag.

Former "Waste" Utilized.
The enhanced value of timber today is making profitable the conversion to waste into merchantable products. Alcohol, tanning extracts, turpentine, pine oils, fiber for rugs, carpets, bags and all sorts of fabrics, imitation leather, hosiery and insulating materials are a few of the products obtainable from sawmill waste which was formerly thrown away.

Mean Trick.
"That drugist played a mean trick on the gang." "How so?" "He had a pretty salesgirl." "Well?" "Got a lot of customers and then married her himself."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Cotton in Australia.
Government experts will investigate the possibility of raising cotton profitably in Australia.

QUALITY OF CREAM TO WHIP
Material Should Contain at Least 30 Per Cent of Butter Fat and Kept Very Cold.

The best cream to whip is good, rich, raw cream, from 24 to 48 hours old, says the United States Department of Agriculture. It should contain at least 30 per cent butter fat to produce ideal results, and be kept very cold. Pasteurization tends to lower the whipping quality of the cream, and homogenization is very harmful to it. Combined they practically destroy the value of cream for whipping.

Beginning the Day.
If any man will come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it and whosoever will lose his life for My sake shall find it.

Sing With Grace in Your Hearts.
Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.—Colossians 3:16.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

THE MISSING MESSENGER

IT WAS on June 14, 1904, that Kent Loomis, brother of F. B. Loomis, the assistant secretary of state, sailed from New York on board the Kaiser Wilhelm II, bearing with him the text of a treaty between the United States and Abyssinia—a treaty concerning which there had been much conjecture and speculation on the part of certain European powers.

Under ordinary circumstances Loomis would have taken his wife and child with him on this occasion. He considered it best to leave them behind in Parkersburg, W. V., both on account of the fact that he was on a diplomatic mission and because he intended to participate in some big-game hunting after delivering the treaty to King Menelik.

Nothing unusual occurred on the trip until the morning of June 20, the day on which the steamer was due to dock at Plymouth, England. It was then noted that Loomis' seat at the captain's table was empty and a steward was dispatched to find out if he were ill. A few minutes later the steward returned with the news that Loomis' berth had not been occupied and an immediate search of the ship was ordered—but without bringing to light the slightest trace of the representative of the American government.

Several passengers volunteered the information that they had seen Loomis on deck shortly after midnight and William E. Ellis, cabin-mate and traveling companion of the missing passenger, declared that his friend's absence from the cabin had not alarmed him because of the fact that Loomis had come in at a fairly late hour on several previous evenings.

British officials at Plymouth and the French officers at Cherbourg repeated the search of the steamer, but in vain. Nothing was missing from the cabin save the suit which Loomis was wearing at the time and even the flat dispatch box which contained the text of the treaty was found concealed beneath a pile of clothing in one corner of Loomis' trunk. Investigation developed the fact, however, that the State department messenger had been in the habit of carrying this box in his pocket and had laid it aside on the previous evening only because it made an unseemly bulge in the dress clothes which he had donned in honor of the captain's dinner.

During the next few weeks rumors of all kinds filled the press on both sides of the Atlantic. Loomis had gone suddenly mad and had been placed in a sanatorium. He had slipped off the steamer at Plymouth disguised as a second-class passenger. He was the victim of a clique of international spies who, balked in their attempt to secure possession of the text of the treaty, were holding him for ransom. He was still confined in the hold of the Kaiser Wilhelm—and so on to the limit of the imaginations of those who like to use fact as a basis for fiction.

But all these reports were set at rest when, on the morning of July 10—just thirty-two days after Loomis had sailed from New York—a body was washed up at Warren Point, about fifteen miles from Plymouth. Believing that the body was that of a common sailor, the local police were about to inter it without further ceremony, when, from the watch-pocket of the trousers there dropped a water-soaked bit of pasteboard, upon which was barely discernible the name, "Kent J. Loomis."

Careful examination of the body developed the fact that, under the right ear, there was a circular wound which appeared to have been inflicted before death and a post-mortem examination of the lungs of the dead man showed conclusively that death had been due to the blow which had resulted in this wound, rather than to drowning. The physicians were divided in their opinion as to whether the blow had been delivered by an instrument similar to a blackjack or whether Loomis might have fallen and struck his head against a projecting portion of the ironwork on the steamer. Examination of the Kaiser Wilhelm's log showed, however, that the sea had been extremely calm on the night that Loomis came to his death and that there had not been enough roll to cause anyone to lose his footing. Besides, there was the evidence of the manner in which the body was clothed. The coat was missing, the collar had been torn partly away and there were other signs of rough treatment before Loomis had struck the water.

It was therefore practically certain that the messenger had been murdered. But who had killed him—and why? Had he been struck down on account of the money he was carrying or because of the treaty? Was his death a forecast of the World War which was to follow twelve years later?

These and all the other questions which surrounded the mystery remain as one of the unsolved riddles of diplomatic intrigue.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE XLIV.—UTAH

THE first white excursion into Utah dates back to 1540 when a party of Spaniards sent out by Coronado succeeded in penetrating to the Colorado river. There is no authentic record of further explorations until over 200 years had elapsed. In 1776 two Franciscan friars, in their attempt to find the shortest way to the Pacific, went from Santa Fe to Utah Lake. The Great Salt Lake, however, was not discovered until 1824, when James Bridges, a trapper, in wandering through this region came upon this huge, inland, salt sea.

But the real history of Utah begins with the rise of Mormon power there. Discouraged by the agitation in Illinois and Missouri, the Mormons decided to emigrate to the great West. In large caravans they traveled across the plains and in 1847 came to Salt Lake City where they settled. Here they flourished, increasing their numbers and by 1852 they reached a total in this vicinity of over 15,000. Meanwhile, in 1848, by the terms of the treaty of peace with Mexico, a huge western tract, of which Utah was a part, was ceded to the United States. As no definite government was arranged for the control of affairs locally was for a number of years entirely in the hands of the officers of the Mormon church. They, accordingly, made up a constitution and organized under the name of the State of Deseret. This is a word taken from the Book of Mormon, and signifies, "Industry." Application was made for admission to the Union, but this was refused and the federal government instead organized the Territory of Utah in 1850. The first governor was Brigham Young, the successor of Joseph Smith and president of the Mormon church.

The attempt to do away with polygamy met with little success until in 1890 the Mormon church finally agreed not to countenance it. Meanwhile, growing antagonism between the Mormons and non-Mormons verged nearly on civil war. Finally a general amnesty was declared and after many requests Utah was accepted as the forty-fifth state of the Union in 1896.

Foresight—and a broad vision—are necessary.

So, too, behind the local Bell service is an engineering staff whose function is planning for the future telephone needs of the community.

These engineers are just as much concerned about the present or prospective subscriber here as with anyone else in the United States. No problem is so small that it does not merit their attention and no difficulty has yet been too large for them to overcome.

For they are members of the Bell organization.

And all Bell people have a very real interest in the community.

Their ideal is to merit the approbation of their fellow citizens whom they serve.

They aim to give the best of service and to give it with courtesy for they know that courtesy pays.

USE ONLY SUSPICION OF SEVERAL FLAVORS

Housekeeper is at Loss to Know How to Please Everybody.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

When some members of a family are strongly prejudiced against such flavors as onion, curry, bay leaf, garlic or celery, while others deplore the lack of these flavors in cookery, the housekeeper is at a loss to know how to suit everybody. As a rule, however, the most skillful cooks are those who know how to use just a suggestion of flavoring where it adds greatly to the effect of a dish but almost defies detection. Thus a salad is indefinitely better for having a bit of garlic rubbed around the bowl in which the dressing is mixed; an oxtail soup is improved by a thin half slice of lemon added to each portion at serving time; vegetable is tastier if a few drops of lemon, onion juice and Worcestershire sauce are sprinkled over the meat before it is cooked; white sauce for creamed chicken is just "different" for having a saltspoonful (or even one-quarter of that amount) of curry powder added, even though it is to be served to persons who would ordinarily have nothing to do with curried chicken.

To use onion flavor so that it will not be objectionable to those who dislike to meet a chunk of onion in any dish, the United States Department of Agriculture suggests squeezing the juice out with a lemon squeezer. To flavor a milk soup or sauce with onion or celery a few pieces of either may be cooked with the milk a few minutes and then removed before the soup is completed. Bay leaf judiciously used gives a touch to many soups, gravies and filled stocks which is pleasing if sufficiently masked. The secret of clever flavoring is to add unusual ingredients delicately and not obtrusively.

Is Ancient Salutation.

The salutation of English-speaking races of shaking hands is very ancient. It is mentioned by Homer, Aristophanes, and by Virgil. As the affirmation of a bargain it appears in II Kings 10:15. It is nevertheless practically relegated to the Anglo-Saxon races today.

To Make World a Better Place.

The person who is not afraid of anything, who does the right thing because he believes it is the right thing, who is governed by faith and not by fear, is the admirable one. All Patriot Had to Give.

The flag which accompanied Garibaldi in all his expeditions, has been discovered in the chapel of the Villa Arson di Nizza, which belongs to Count Raymond de Castellane. It is stated that Garibaldi stood godfather to the little daughter of his friend, Comendatore Arson de Saint-Joseph, and appeared at the baptism with his flag, which he presented with the words, "This is all a soldier can give." Count Raymond presented the flag to the Massena museum.

PALMYRA MAY BECOME BOROUGH

Voters Will Decide This Question at the November Election

The Township Committee at a meeting Wednesday evening, passed a resolution which will enable the voters to express their opinion as to whether Palmyra should become a borough, with a Council and Mayor, like Riverton, at the November election.

The resolution was presented Tuesday evening in the form of a petition signed by more than fifty voters. Assemblyman Powell was present to give advice on the question.

Mr. Powell said that the Borough form of government was unquestionably more modern and progressive than the Township, which was designed for rural communities rather than large towns. He said that if the people voted in favor of it, he and Senator Roberts would be glad to see that the necessary bill got through the legislature this winter.

George N. Wimer also made a few remarks, saying he had formerly been in favor of the commission form, but that with the growth of the town it had become evident that more than three men were needed to administer its affairs and that now he thought the Borough form would be best for Palmyra.

Mr. Wimer called the Township Committee's attention to the continued growth of the town and said we should prepare for the future at once, instead of waiting until circumstances force a change.

Advocates of a five-man Township Committee were informed that this change could not be made until after the next census, either in 1925 or 1930, should show that the population was 4500.

J. B. Rustie, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, presented a report showing that the great majority of small towns in New Jersey are Boroughs. Next comes the commission form, while there are only four or five towns with Township Government.

Mr. Rustie's figures showed that the tax rate average in the Boroughs was lowest of all.

If Palmyra became a Borough, we would have a Council of six men and a Mayor, instead of the present three-man Township Committee. In Riverton and many other Boroughs, the Mayor and Council serve without pay.

DEATHS

Charles F. Malley

Charles F. Malley, of Five Points, died on Wednesday of last week at the West Jersey hospital, Camden, after an illness of several weeks. He was well known in Palmyra and vicinity as a painter. The widow and two children survive.

The funeral was held Sunday, with the Rev. C. Nelson Sperling officiating. Interment was in Morgan cemetery.

Mrs. Nelson Wallace

Mrs. Stella May Wallace, 43 years old, wife of Nelson Wallace, died at her home at the foot of Market street early last Sunday morning. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stratton, of East Riverton.

Mrs. Wallace's death was sudden and unexpected. She attended the Old Home Day celebration Saturday evening and went home apparently well and in good spirits. Her husband found her dead when he woke up next morning. Heart failure is believed to have been the cause.

Three sons also survive: Officer Nelson Wallace, Jr., and two younger brothers, Charles and Millard. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, with the Rev. Mr. Lewis, of Christ Church, Riverton, officiating. Interment was in Morgan cemetery with Frank A. Snover in charge.

Miss Anna Rigney

Miss Anna Rigney, sister of the Rev. J. A. Rigney, of the Sacred Heart Church, died at the rectory Tuesday morning at the age of 63.

Solemn high mass was celebrated Thursday morning at ten, and the remains were then sent to Norwalk, Conn., for interment, which will take place this Friday afternoon, in St. Mary's cemetery.

HON. WILLIAM N. RUNYON

Republican Candidate for Governor of New Jersey

who will be one of the speakers at the big mass meeting to be held in the auditorium of the Riverton public school, Friday evening, October 6th, at 8 o'clock. The other speaker will be Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen.

HAD TWO ACCIDENTS

Boy Run Over by Ford and Chief's Car Smashed

Two accidents, neither of which were serious, marked the Old Home Day celebration.

Albert Kerr, 14-year-old son of Speers Kerr, was struck by John Aydelotte's Ford truck at the station. Albert was riding a bicycle. The wheels of the car passed over the rear of the bicycle and one of Albert's legs at the same time, but neither was much damaged. Another lad rode the bicycle home and Albert, after being taken to the doctor's in the ambulance was soon using his leg again.

Aydelotte was put under $200 bond, but it is understood that he is not blamed for the accident and that no further action is to be taken.

Chief Beck figured in the other accident. After taking Committeeman Hinchman home late in the evening, the Chief, driving the Township Ford, turned out to avoid another car with bright lights and ran into William McGinley's truck, which was parked on Cinnaminson avenue without lights. Mr. Beck was thrown out and suffered a cut on the head and other bruises and the front of his car was considerably smashed.

PICKPOCKETS NABBED

Ellis Parker Spots Suspects in Home Day Crowd

Two alleged pickpockets were arrested the evening of Old Home Day by County Detective Ellis Parker. The men had been under observation all evening and were nabbed when they entered a crowd boarding a trolley car, apparently planning to begin operations.

The men were released the next morning as nothing was found on them which could be identified as stolen. It is said that they both virtually admitted they were pickpockets, although they claimed they came to the celebration to sell toy balloons. When told it was Ellis Parker who arrested them, one laughed heartily and said they had studied Parker's picture before coming here with the hope of keeping out of his way.

The men gave Philadelphia addresses.

Ambulance Needs Help

The Ambulance Association, having collected $625.08 during two years of the community ambulance, was forced to endorse a note for $750 to get the equipment.

Since getting the Ambulance the Association has been able to operate same and pay off $450.00 on the note. About 150 cases have been handled.

As there is a balance due, amounting to $300, and the Association would like to pay it off before the end of year, we ask each man in town to lend us as much assistance as he can.

The Association is ready to listen to any constructive criticism and any man who is able to assist in the operation of the equipment will be welcome, provided he has a driver's license. If not, he may be a contributing member. If each man would give a dollar a year the Association will not be forced to beg and hold cake sales through the next year. Publicity Committee.

MAKING STICKY FLY PAPER

Strips Are of Some Value in Destroying ing Pests That Have Gained Access to House.

Sticky fly papers are of some value in destroying flies that have gained access to houses, but they have marked limitations and numerous objectionable features. For use out of doors traps are much more effective and economical.

The following method of preparing fly paper is given in Farmers' Bulletin

States Department of Agriculture:

"Take two pounds of resin and one pint of castor oil, heat together until it looks like molasses. Take an ordinary paint brush and smear while hot on any kind of paper—an old newspaper is good—and place several about the room. A dozen of these may be made at a cost of one cent."

"Cats" and "Dogs" in Poker.

"Cats" and "dogs" are extra "hands" or combinations of cards that are played in some games that are not conducted strictly according to Hoyle.

A "little dog" is a deuce to a seven, without a pair, and a "big dog" is a nine to an ace, without a pair; a "little cat" is a trey to an eight, without a pair, and a "big cat" is an eight to a king, without a pair. A "little dog"

beats a straight, and a "big dog" beats

a "little dog" and a "little cat" beats either kind of "dog," and a "big cat"

beats a "little cat." Accordingly,

"dog" and "cat" flushes beat straight flushes, and in a game where they are played the highest hand that can be held is a "big cat" flush, consisting of a king, queen, jack, ten and eight.

Cleaning Treasury Notes.

The process by which soiled bank bills are cleaned and the treasury department enabled to make a large saving in paper, ink and labor annually, is perhaps not generally known to the public. In the government's laundry the notes are placed on endless bands which pass in and out between a series of heavy copper rollers. These rollers revolve in a special kind of soap, and as the bills pass backward and forward they are washed and rubbed clean. They next pass between rollers running in clean water, and thus are thoroughly rinsed.

Lastly they go through heated rollers which dry and iron them, leaving them almost as crisp and clean as when first printed.

ELSEWHERE in this issue is published an account of the monies collected in the recent community drive for the benefit of the Visiting Nurse Society, Cinnaminson Home and the Burlington County Hospital. The amount exceeded the goal by over $500. This magnificent result was due to the splendid cooperation of the teams making the canvass and the fine response made by the citizens of Riverton. Many of the streets of our Borough showed a 100% contribution, that is, every household gave something. In the days of the glory of the Roman Empire, the proudest boast a man could make was to be able to say, "I am a Roman citizen." When Riverton acquits itself so splendidly it makes one feel proud to be among the citizens of our little Borough.

State Sunday School Committee Endorses Frelinghuysen and Runyon

The State Executive Committee of the New Jersey Sunday School Association, representing some seven hundred different denominations, 2,412 Sunday Schools, 360,000 Sunday School members, assembled in Trenton Tuesday, September 19th, and passed the following resolution:

"As the agency of the Sunday Schools of New Jersey, and concerned about the moral welfare of the youth of our commonwealth, we hereby extend greetings to Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen and Governor William N. Runyon, and congratulate them on their clear vision and fearless standing for loyalty to the Constitution and respect for the law of the land.

"We have observed the open ridiculing of the Constitution by some high in office, the flagrant violation of the prohibition law countenanced by some whose duty and pledge it is to enforce the law, and the total alliance of citizens claiming respectability with the traitorous bootlegger, and believe that herein lies the greatest present menace to the morals of youth.

"We therefore pledge our hearty support to Senator Frelinghuysen and Governor Runyon."

League of Women Voters

On Thursday afternoon of last week the League of Women Voters held a meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Herman Terry, in Edgewater Park. Plans are being made to organize Leagues in every town in this vicinity. Mrs. Winfield Smith, field director, of San Francisco, gave an address on the work being done by the Leagues in the Western States.

On Thursday afternoon of this week a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Sherman L. Warren, on Thomas avenue, when the local annual election of officers took place. Mrs. Charles H. Stelwagen was elected chairman, Mrs. Harry Kenney secretary, and Mrs. J. T. Larkin, treasurer.

Tour of Inspection of County Schools

It has been suggested that a better knowledge of the schools of our extensive county would aid in the interest of the County School Board Association. An auto tour has been arranged by the executive committee of the Association and Superintendent Louis J. Kaser, to visit several of the representative types of rural schools throughout the county on Thursday, October 19th. The tour will start from the Springdale School, one mile south of Burlington, on the Mount Holly road, at 9 a. m. It is planned to reach Vincentown school by noon. It is hoped that as many members will make this trip as can do so, and that every Board of Education will be represented. Members of the Home and School Associations are especially invited and all those interested in education will be welcome. Those who can send cars with room for others are asked to kindly advise County Superintendent Louis J. Kaser, Mount Holly, how many they have room for. Likewise those who wish to have seats should get in touch with Mr. Kaser's office. Take basket lunch.

The superintendent of the Burlington County hospital reported at the monthly meeting of the Board of Managers, October 3, the number of patients: free ward patients 15, pay ward patients 10, private patients 8, admitted 33, discharged 51, died 2. Remaining 14.

A slight fire occurred at the home of E. S. Parry this Friday afternoon. It was caused by sparks from the chimney setting fire to the shingles. A place about five feet square was burned in the roof, and the blaze was extinguished by the chemical engine of the Riverton fire company.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Hullings announce the marriage of their daughter, Jessie H., to Mr. Edward Sexton, Chestnut Hill, Pa., by Father P. G. Lynch, Chestnut Hill, Pa., at four-thirty o'clock, Wednesday, October 11, 1922. After an extended trip to Niagara Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Sexton will return to Riverton until repairs to their new home, which they have purchased at 735 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, are completed.

The threatening weather interfered with the attendance at the big tennis match given at the home of Oliver G. Willis last Saturday afternoon for the benefit of the Burlington County Hospital, and only about three hundred, out of the five hundred or more expected, witnessed the contests. Tilden defeated Johnson in two fast sets. Fischer and Johnson defeated Tilden and Wiener after three very hard sets. The net proceeds to date are about $300 with some returns for tickets still to come. An attractive feature of the afternoon was the exhibition of diving by Misses Gertrude Artelt, Frances Clark, Emma Sauter and Margaret Ravour.

It don't seem like a year ago that we were advising you to give a Dunn Pen for Christmas. Time certainly flies. But swiftly as the year has passed, there has been time to improve the "pen with the little red pump handle" and the ones we are offering now have some little refinements in construction. The prices have been reduced, too, so that now you can buy this remarkable pen for $2.75 up. —Advertisement.

Community Chest Collection Great Success

It is gratifying to be able to report to the citizens of Riverton and Cinnaminson township that the Community Chest Collection for the benefit of the Visiting Nurse Society, Burlington County Hospital, and Cinnaminson Home has been an unqualified success.

The sum we set out to collect was $3800 to be divided between the three institutions on the following basis:

Visiting Nurse	$2,000
Hospital	$1,000
Home	$800

The returns are not all in, but thus far there has been collected and turned over to the Treasurer (Fred P. Hemphill) the sum of $3,926.10 contributed as follows:

Riverton 415 contributors amounting to $2,983.00.

Cinnaminson Township, which includes Cinnaminson, Five Points, Fork Landing and East Riverton, 142 contributors, amounting to $943.10.

In addition to these contributions, there is also the proceeds from the tennis match, conducted by Oliver G. Willis at his home on Saturday last, the net proceeds of which amounted to about $300, which go direct to the hospital, making a total return from our efforts to date of $4,226.10.

A considerable number of the contributors have directed that their contributions should go to a specific institution. In order that their wishes shall be carried out the sums so specified have been deducted from the total collection and set aside for these institutions, and the balance remaining will be prorated among the three institutions on the basis of the original allotment:

20-38ths for the Nurse	10-38ths for the Hospital	8-38ths for the Home
The amounts to date to go to these institutions under the above arrangement are as follows:

	Under Special Instructions	General Fund	Total
Nurse	$355.50	$1,652.57	$2,008.07
Hospital	$83.20	$826.29	$1,409.49
Home (including tennis)	$47.50	$661.04	$808.54

Closing figures for the collection will appear in a later issue of The New Era, so that all who have contributed to the fund may have full information as to the disposal of their contributions.

In conclusion, I wish to thank all the men and women who have worked so enthusiastically for the success of this collection, and congratulate the citizens of Riverton and Cinnaminson township on their public spirit.

Out of an estimated number of six hundred homes in Riverton we have 415 contributors. On a number of streets in Riverton we have had a 100% collection.

In Cinnaminson Township, including Five Points, Fork Landing and East Riverton, it is difficult to estimate the number of homes, but we have 142 contributors, which is a very large proportion of the total number of homes.

If any residents of Riverton or Cinnaminson Township were not given an opportunity to subscribe owing to absence or other cause, they can, if they so desire, send their contribution to Fred P. Hemphill, treasurer.

While we have a number of large contributions, which have been very helpful, the collection owes its success to the solid backing of its entire citizenship.

There is another feature which should not be overlooked in a popular movement of this kind, and that is the development of a helpful community spirit, and the direct contact between the people and the institutions which are trying to serve them.

JAMES S. COALE, Chairman.

MERRICK TO RUN

Democratic Candidate to Enter Race for Township Committee

George Merrick, of Horace avenue, who received the highest number of Democratic votes cast for Township Committeeman at the primary, has accepted the nomination and will make a fight for the office.

With a split in Republican ranks, caused by the independent candidacy of Mr. Davies, Mr. Merrick figures he ought to have a chance of winning in a field of three.

New YMCA Group

The opening meeting of a new YMCA group was held in the parish house of Christ Church, Palmyra, Tuesday, October 10, with nine fellows present. The following officers were elected: president, Arthur Hartley; vice president, Gussie Probsting; secretary, William Baker; treasurer, William Kersey.

This group is open to boys 12 to 15 years of age. Next week is "games night," and each fellow is going to bring another buddy. Any boys who are interested may come around next Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

P. O. S. of A.

A meeting of the Burlington County Association has been called for October 20th, at Pemberton, and a large delegation should go over to meet with a bunch of natives who are determined to nullify the influence of the day talk about some of the leading issues of the times.

Mr. Davies to Run

On Tuesday evening, October 10th, a large delegation of citizens representing every section of Palmyra called at the home of Mr. John M. Davies and requested him to run as an independent candidate for Township Committeeman.

The consensus of opinion in Palmyra is strongly in favor of the above movement owing to the fact that in the recent primaries only about one-half of the registered voters participated. At that time the vote was so close that it was necessary to go into the general election with the name of Mr. John M. Davies in order that a real choice can be made.

Mr. Davies, after due consideration, has given a favorable reply and will appeal to the best thinking citizens of our town for their support on November 7th.

"Even a smile counts for much."

Spring-Time Again

By JESSIE DOUGLAS

(© 1922, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Mary Martin paused a moment on the high brownstone stoop. In the bleak yard across the street the old maple was sending out a blurry green; at the end of the block a street organ was grinding melodiously.

Spring again. Loneliness was worse in spring, it seemed to reach out and stir forgotten things. The things she had dreamed a few years ago, the things she had made herself forget.

Mary slipped her key into the lock, pushed open the door and stood a moment in the dimness of the hall before she mounted the narrow stairs to her room.

Another long empty evening awaited her. She could see the tin of cocon and the saucepan behind the makeshift curtain, the cup with the chipped rim, the library book on the deck under the window, the one chair with its sagging tapestry seat. She gave a little sound supposedly a laugh, that was somehow like a sob.

A bell shivered the silence of the hall; it was a moment before Mary realized it was only the telephone and that Mrs. Johnson was out. She lifted the receiver mechanically and then her heart thumped unsteadily and her voice was almost husky as she listened.

"Mrs. Johnson? This is John Northrop speaking. I wondered if you'd let me look at that edition—"

"Mrs. Johnson isn't in—" Mary had time to interpolate.

She knew that he thanked her; that she said something vague in reply and then she was mounting the stairs

Mary Still Hesitated.

to her room. John Northrop! The writer, the dark, fascinating man that Mrs. Johnson spoke of so continuously since first he had come to buy one of her husband's old books. And his voice. Mary felt herself grow warm from head to foot as his voice still rang in her ears, masculine, deep, resonant; it had a quality that made romance visible.

How avidly she read his book reviews; how carefully she hid the newspaper picture of him that she had cut one evening! He was brilliant, impulsive, an outstanding figure.

This evening was somehow set apart, she had only heard a man's voice over the telephone, and yet she could not settle down in her usual monotonous rut.

"I won't meet him if he does come here," she said suddenly aloud. "Why, he could know anyone he wanted. John Northrop, the reviewer! And I—I'm afraid to meet him."

Suddenly she put her head down in the circle of her arms and the hot tears seared her eyelids. She had barely time to wipe them away before the door opened and Mrs. Johnson in her unceremonious way was leaning against the door frame.

"Well! What have you been doing tonight?" she asked, suspiciously, sniffing the cocoa-laden air. Then a smile touched her good-natured face. "A man was coming after you. There's no need to start so! It was Mr. Northrop and he wanted to know who the girl with the charming voice was!"

"Why, you're right pretty when you blush up like that!" Mrs. Johnson went on. "Now, I told him he could meet you if he came here about half-past eight."

"No! No! No!" Mary cried breathlessly. "I don't want to meet him! I can't."

She was grateful to all Mrs. Johnson's assurances and she breathed a sigh of relief when she heard her landlady wander down the steep stairs.

He had met too many girls, pretty girls, charming girls, girls with fortunes and girls with names, to fall in love at last with just a little nobody like herself.

"I would fall in love with him," she told herself, "and what would be the good of that? He must be used to having every woman he meets fascinated."

She took out his picture again and surreptitiously studied the dark thick brows, the sparkling eyes, the finely cut face that was strongly masculine. When half an hour later she heard steps mounting the stairs it only took her half a minute to turn out her gas, to slip into her closet behind her clothes and to stand there listening heavily as Mrs. Johnson opened the door.

"She's out," Mary heard the good woman put on her downward way. During the next ten days Mary led a strangely delightful, strangely new-kind of existence. Sometimes the telephone rang in the evenings when Mrs. Johnson was out and Mary heard again John Northrop's voice. She knew now his errand was fictitious. But she was firm in her resolve not to meet him.

John Northrop, who had always had everything he wanted, was unable to understand this strange, elusive girl. He knew her only by her voice—all very sweet with a deeper undertone; he had seen a little picture of her on Mrs. Johnson's mantel. Friendly-eyes, a shy smile and a piquant pointed chin had seemed to him the personification of that exquisite voice. He must meet her. He could still hear the light flutter of her laugh on the telephone, the question that her good-by held. He had been pursued too long not to know the delight of the pursuer. He even found himself restless and dissatisfied these last days—he decided on one last strategy.

Mary would never meet him; she had resolved that, she could almost picture the look of disappointment that would flash across his dark face, his strained politeness, her own tongue-tied humiliation.

And yet in spite of that she bought herself a charming frock, a frock with a hint of gold in its brown depths and a hat that bore the hallmark of Paris.

She tried them on on a Saturday afternoon, when she had come back from the office, and turned startled at a knock on her door. A white box with suspiciously fragrant odor made her tremble a moment with excitement. Violets, with heavy purple heads and an exquisite bow of gold and brown ribbon! There was no card, of course, and Mary hesitated before she fastened them to her belt.

How could she stay indoors now? Spring was calling, and although she had only the city pavements and the faces of strangers who would pass unrecognized, she waited to feel a part of this teeming life.

But halfway up the block her knees trembled under her and she felt the blood beat into her temples. She would have known him anywhere! Only one man had such dark, cryptic eyes, only one man could have such a distinguished manner. Blushing furiously, she looked away, and then a voice, the most beautiful she had ever heard, stopped her.

"I shouldn't have dared speak unless I'd seen you were wearing my violets!"

"How do you know they are your violets?" Mary asked, lifting a pair of shy, soft eyes.

"I chose that gold and brown ribbon myself and had those violets sent to the girl who would not let me meet her."

"But now that we have met, don't you think—don't you think—" Mary stumbled, backing away.

"I think you are the most elusive and charming person I have ever wanted to know," he cut in, "and if you will just let me try I'd like to show you I'm not the unpleasant person you have evidently heard I was!"

Mary still hesitated. "But I—"

"Oh, I say, Miss Martin," he begged boyishly, "if you'd just give me a chance! I know I'm only a duffer, but I'd like to show you that I could be your friend—"

Down the block a street organ was grinding melodiously. The faint green of the maple was a blur before Mary's eyes.

Spring again.

There was something strangely poignant in life as John Northrop fell into step beside her.

STIPULATED TIME FOR VISIT

Darby Didn't Want Even Old Friend to Return from the Spirit Land at Night.

One of Judge's prize stories is as follows: An old southern planter (once "Marse Davy") said to an old negro: "Well, Tony, this is our birthday again—seventy-five years we've been together, as man and boy; three-quarters of a century and on one plantation." "Sho nuff hit is, boss—and 'pears lak dese here years is a traveling aroun' a heap perter dan dey uster." "That's what's on my mind, Tony, and in the course of events we can't expect to remain here much longer—I've been thinking seriously, Tony—seriously—about the grave and the hereafter." "W'at's dat, boss?" "Well, I want to make a bargain with you, Tony, a solemn bargain, to this effect. Whichever one goes first, he will come back from the spirit world and tell the other one just what it looks like over there." "Hit's a bargain, suh. Dat suits me adzackly." "But"—reflectively—"but, Marse Davy, if you goes first, won't you come back in de daytime?"

My Garden. My garden invites into it all the birds of the country by offering them the convenience of springs and shades solitude and shelter, and I do not suffer any one to destroy their nests in spring or drive them from their usual haunts in fruit time. . . . By this means I have always the music of the season in its perfection.—Joseph Addison.

Stop the Ache. Zope-therapy is a system of relieving pain by applying pressure to the nerves—like shutting off the water or gas by turning a valve. For instance, to stop toothache, grasp the gums over the aching tooth, between thumb and forefinger. Press tightly! That is worth remembering. When you have toothache, everything else in the world fades into unimportance.

Fish in Philippine Waters. The Philippine waters abound in food fishes, but fishing is done only in shallow waters, and the catch is not adequate for the demands of the islanders. Among the fish available are anchovies, herrings, pompanos, sea bream, mullets, milkfish, barracudas, sardines, grunts, parrot fish and soldier fish.

The "Creature" and Father

By MURIEL BLAIR

(© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

March the forth its going to be a miserable birthday for me on the fifteenth I guess. Last year we had two ducks stuffed with sage and onions and I had a birthday party and a lot of other boys and girls but this year there isn't going to be anything. We never have duck now anyway because since father died mother has been so darned poor I'm sure I don't blame her would you.

March the sixth I find on looking over my diary that I didn't explain the way it ought to be spelt. I must tell you first that father used to be in the secretary of states office at Washington. We live near Washington but we've moved into a smaller house since father died. It was a pity he died so young because father and mother had a bad falling out about a girl the night before and he didn't have a funeral or anything. It was a girl my father used to know before he was married and mother said there wasn't any harm in that but why did father have a date with her at the Monument. Father said he didn't have a date but both happened to be there and if mother hadn't come snooping around all would have been well. Mother said she wouldn't stand for such language and the next day father died.

We moved into a tiny house after father died.

March the ninth in going to write to the president to get me a new father. The president thought a great deal of father and mother used to go to his receptions but she hasn't been to any since father died. His odd how different it is after you haven't any father.

March the eleventh I wrote to the president yesterday about a father. I told him how awful it is to be without one and I explained that he wouldn't have died if he hadn't met the Creature.

March the thirteenth go answer has come from the president. I guess he is looking up a father for me. It isn't easy to choose the right kind of a father.

this down at once before I forget all the circumstances. We are going into Washington tomorrow to have my birthday party with Mrs. Gregory that the lady who introduced mother to father at the white house reception.

March the fifteenth this is my birthday, no letter from the president.

March the sixteenth I take my pen in hand to inform you of the astonishing events of yesterday. We arrived in Washington on the eleven and went straight to Mrs. Gregory's house, Mrs. Gregory is a nice old lady with silver hair and when she saw mother they both began to cry. I stood by sheepishly and presently Mrs. Gregory said so this is the Little Fellow how he has grown. I said Yes Mam Mother said don't you pity me. You poor thing, said Mrs. Gregory from the bottom of my heart I do. Then they began to talk earnestly and Some How I knew that they were talking about my new father. So I said Mrs. Gregory I wrote to the president for another father and I guess he has spoken to you, hasn't he. What she cried, starting up, so that was You. Mother was furious and told me to run away into the garden to play. I played 'till I was tired and went back into the house round the back way. When I got outside the parlor door I heard a sound of sobbing and suddenly a well remembered voice cried in tones that froze the blood in my veins Where is the Little Fellow Phyllis I must see him at once. The door flew open and who do you think was there. My father—the same one. And he hadn't died at all but only gone away. I never saw mother laugh and cry together as she did then and they wouldn't stop kissing me. They said the credit lay between Mrs. Gregory and the president and that the Creature has married and gone away.

we had two ducks for dinner.

Even as He is Pure. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, and it doth not yet appear what we shall be; but we know that, when He shall appear, we shall be like Him; for we shall see Him as He is. And every man that hath this hope in him purifieth himself, even as He is pure.—1 John 3:2-4.

Not Afraid. I laid me down and slept; I awaked; for the Lord sustained me. I will not be afraid of ten thousand people.—Psalm 5:3-4.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

"NUMBER 88"

IN the Potter's field just outside the gloomy walls of the Asylum for the Criminally Insane at Mattewan, N. Y., there is a headpiece which bears the number "88"—and, back of this simple inscription, is a story of identity concealed even in the face of the law's most determined efforts which makes fiction appear pale and commonplace by comparison.

All that is known of the early history of "Mrs. Robinson," the palpably assumed name of the woman whose body rests beneath the numbered headstone at Mattewan, is that she was of either English or Canadian origin and that she came to Troy, N. Y., in 1851, being always well supplied with funds from a source which remained concealed even during the rigid investigation which followed her arrest on the charge of murder.

Some months after "Mrs. Robinson" settled in Troy a strange and apparently inexplicable tragedy occurred. A merchant and a young woman who was living with his family dropped dead at the table. A post-mortem examination showed that they had been poisoned and, despite the absence of motive, "Mrs. Robinson," who had been present, was arrested, but refused to say a word even to her lawyer.

To add to the air of mystery which surrounded the entire case, the defendant insisted upon appearing in court shrouded in a heavy black veil which effectually concealed her features. All during the trial she sat, impassive and unmoved, apparently taking not the slightest interest in the conduct of the proceedings. When the state had concluded its case, a comparatively flimsy structure of circumstantial evidence, the counsel for the defense arose and, admitting that he had not a shred of direct evidence to offer, introduced the plea of insanity.

At the conclusion of the trial and before delivering his charge to the jury, the presiding judge called attention to the fact that no one in the court had seen the defendant's face and requested "Mrs. Robinson" to lift her veil.

Slowly and with great dignity she arose, but made no effort to comply with the court's request.

"I am here," she stated, in a voice which penetrated to every corner of the crowded courtroom, "to undergo a most painful ordeal, not to be gazed at."

The request was not repeated and, after a deliberation of several hours, the jury returned a verdict of "guilty" and the prisoner was sentenced to death—a decree which was later commuted to life imprisonment by order of the governor, though not before "Mrs. Robinson" had made her one formal statement in the shadow of the gallows:

"When I am dead," she declared, "all will die with me. I have promised to be silent, to die without betraying anything."

The first 18 years of her life sentence were passed in Sing Sing penitentiary. She was then moved to the Auburn State Prison for the Insane, where she remained for 17 years, and finally to the Asylum of the Criminally Insane at Mattewan, where the woman of mystery finally died on May 4, 1905, after 52 years in prison. During all this time, however, she never wrote a letter nor spoke a word, save to her lawyer who visited her at regular intervals and who admitted that his services had been paid for by "certain influential personages" whom he was not at liberty to name.

All that was known of "Henrietta Robinson" was that she played the organ at Sing Sing with the touch of a master musician and that she died as she had lived—in silence, utter and absolute, leaving as a heritage some of the most puzzling questions in the history of criminal proceedings.

What was the woman's real name and where had she come from? Had she poisoned the merchant and his young guest and, if so, with what motive?

Why had she insisted upon concealing her face during the trial? If she were innocent, why did she refuse for more than half a century to make any plea for leniency? What did she mean by her statement that she "had promised to be silent, to die without betraying anything?"

Who supplied the funds with which the lawyer was paid? The answers to these and as many more unsolved riddles connected with this woman of mystery lie concealed beneath that simple headpiece in the Potter's field at Mattewan, a headstone bearing only the number "88."

St. Philip Founded Oratory.

The memory of St. Philip should be treasured by all music lovers, as being largely responsible for the institution of oratories, a form of composition employed by the greatest of musicians. St. Philip founded in 1561 the religious order of the Oratory or praying place, and with the intention of drawing youths to the church, the old fathers of the Oratory instituted oratories, pieces divided into two parts, the one performed before, the other after the sermon. These early oratories, which shortly gained renown, bringing the Oratory into vogue, dealt with such Biblical subjects as the Prodigal Son, the Good Samaritan, and Tobit and the Angel.

"Old Noll."

"Old Noll" was a term of contempt applied to Oliver Cromwell by his contemporaries. "Nay, Old Noll, whose bones were dug up and hung in chains here at home, has not he, too, got to be a very respectable grim bronze figure, of whom England seems proud rather than otherwise?"—Thomas Carlyle.

The "Seven Seas."

The seven seas were spoken of as long ago as the beginning of the Christian era, and the phrase may have been introduced centuries before that. The number seven has long been regarded as a symbolical of perfection or completeness, and from time immemorial it has been a favorite among the Hebrews and other people of eastern lands. The phrase is frequently used by modern poets, prose writers, etc., referring somewhat figuratively to the total water area of the globe. According to the geographers, there are only five oceans—the Atlantic, the Pacific, the Arctic, the Antarctic and the Indian. The "seven seas" means these five, with the Atlantic divided into North and South Atlantic and the Pacific divided into North and South Pacific.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE
XIV.—OKLAHOMA

OKLAHOMA holds the record for rapid growth. It was in the first term of President

Benjamin Harrison that Oklahoma was opened up. Good farm land available under the Homestead Act was difficult to find so the United States bought from the Indians, who had been segregated in Indian territory, a large tract of some 40,000 square miles that had been used largely by the Indians as pasture for their cattle and horses. This was called Oklahoma, a word meaning "fine country," and was arranged to be ready for sale to homesteaders at 12 o'clock noon of April 22, 1889. Troops were placed on guard to prevent any settlers entering before that time for more than 100,000 "boomers" as they were called, came from all over the country to obtain farms or places for business. On the stroke of the hour, bugles sounded and the mad rush by men, women and children to locate claims began. The government had arranged land officers at many places at which claims could be filed for the farms or city lots, and all that day these were besieged by fighting mobs to register their selections. Before nightfall hundreds of farms were staked out and Oklahoma City and Guthrie were well on their way to become cities.

Thus was developed this region which came into the possession of the United States as a part of the Louisiana Purchase in 1803 and which was set aside for so many years as Indian country. Previous to the formation of Oklahoma territory, congress had forbidden white settlers in this part of the country, and this edict was enforced by federal troops. As the demand for more land was felt and as the Indians decreased in numbers, Indian territory was added to Oklahoma territory, and in 1907 it was admitted to the Union as the State of Oklahoma, adding another star to our flag, which for eleven years had contained forty-five. The state has flourished to such an extent that it has ten presidential electors, which is more than double that of many of the older states of larger size.

THE VOICE WITH THE SMILE

When your Bell telephone operator answers your call, she says

"Number, please?"

She says it with the pleasant rising inflection which expresses better than words her desire to serve you.

She was chosen for her ability and intelligence.

She was trained to be quick, careful and accurate.

She has all of these qualities.

And in addition, she has "the voice with the smile."

It's not just a part of her "stock in trade."

The desire to serve her neighbors and friends is in her very nature.

So she says "Number, please?"

That little word "please" takes a lot of time when thousands of calls are considered.

But its worth all the time it takes.

For the telephone operator knows that courtesy pays.

ASTRONOMY STILL AT FAULT

Men of Science Forced to Admit Exact Results From Their Calculations Are Not Possible.

The celebrated observatory at Greenwich, the place from which we reckon longitude, was founded by Charles II in 1675, mainly for the purpose of investigating the movements of the moon in the intervening two and a half centuries astronomers have worked at the problem, the moon has not yet become entirely amenable to their mathematical calculations. In a recent report of the observatory at Greenwich attention is invited to the increasing deviation between the calculated position of the moon in the sky and its real position shown by the Greenwich observations. The deviation has lately been growing in a serious manner. The error last year was more than twelve times as large as the error twenty years ago, and the average annual increase during the two decades has amounted to half a second of arc in longitude. The reason that astronomers have failed in getting exact results from calculations based on the dynamical laws of gravitation is possibly the existence of some attractive force that they have not yet discovered, although the result may also be affected by the true shape of the earth, which still awaits accurate determination.

Deadly Weapon of Warfare.

An invention by a French wireless engineer, M. Dunoyer, will completely change the character of naval warfare, if its claims are fulfilled, says the London Mail. It consists of what he calls an "electric safety lock." The mechanism to direct the course of a torpedo and secure its explosion against an enemy warship can be worked not only by wireless waves of the right length, but also by a proper sequence of Morse signals. Any error in the right sequence of dots and dashes would run the mechanism down to zero again and render the torpedo harmless. Each torpedo launched would have its own key sequence of dots and dashes, and so the enemy would be unable to tamper with it.

Is Ancient Salutation.

The salutation of English-speaking races of shaking hands is very ancient. It is mentioned by Homer, Aristophanes, and by Virgil. As the confirmation of a bargain it appears in II Kings 10:15. It is nevertheless practically relegated to the Anglo-Saxon races today.

All Patriot Had to Give.

The flag which accompanied Garibaldi in all his expeditions, has been discovered in the chapel of the Villa Arona di Nice, which belongs to Count Raymond de Castellane. It is stated that Garibaldi stood godfather to the little daughter of his friend, Comendatore Aron de Saint-Joseph, and appeared at the baptism with his flag, which he presented with the words, "This is all a soldier can give." Count Raymond presented the flag to the Museum.

BURIED BY GRAVEL

Cambridge Youth Badly Hurt at Sand Pits in East Riverton

Luke Edge, 21 years old, of near Cambridge, was caught by falling gravel at the sand pits back of the ice plant in East Riverton last Saturday morning and suffered severe injuries.

Edge started running at the first warning and was caught by the heavy gravel with his legs stretched in such a manner as to almost tear his body apart.

The Palmyra Ambulance answered the call quickly, took the victim to the plant and went to the victim's aid. George Truman, P. G. McMahon, Chief Beck, Nelson Wallace and others assisted Dr. Marcy in giving first aid treatment, after which Edge was taken to the Riverside hospital, where he is reported to be doing nicely.

All members and others interested are requested to be present for the occasion.

Borough Laws

Assemblyman Clifford Powell has given the following information to the Chamber of Commerce concerning the Borough form of government:

The governing body consists by law of Mayor and six councilmen, all of whom shall serve without pay. Other officers are solicitor, collector, treasurer, clerk, overseer of poor, superintendent of highways, engineer, assessor and constables.

The Mayor's term is two years. Councilmen serve three years. In the first election in Palmyra, two councilmen would be chosen for one year, two for two years, and two for three years, in order that there would be so that afterwards two can be elected each year.

The collector, who also serves as treasurer, and the assessor are elected as at present. The following appointments are made by the Mayor subject to the Council's approval: borough clerk, solicitor, engineer, superintendent of highways, overseer of poor, chief of police and fire. The salaries of all these are fixed by Council.

The Mayor has certain veto powers in specific cases, provided by law. Council may elect its own presiding officer.

Since the law provides that the Mayor and Council shall serve without pay, the expense involved in the change will be for the purchase of new stationery, and a possible special election. There will be no change in the school district.

No expense is attached to getting the Borough bill passed through the Legislature. Mr. Powell will draw the bill without charge.

One item of saving will be the salaries now paid the Township Committee.

The Chamber of Commerce approves an equitable distribution of the councilmen and goes on record as favoring representative government in Palmyra and other sections not now represented.

Porch Club News

The next Porch Club day will be Tuesday, October seventeenth, when a motor trip to the Lenox Potteries in Trenton, has been arranged. All members who desire to go are asked to take a box luncheon and be at the Riverton station promptly at 10:30 a.m. But all who wish to be included must notify Mrs. C. H. Rolf on Saturday, the fourteenth, or room will not be provided.

Y. W. C. A.

The County Y. W. C. A. supper given in the Porch Club on Tuesday evening was a great success. Representatives from each district were present to welcome the new secretaries and discuss new ventures with them for the coming year.

The local club will meet at the Porch Club next Tuesday evening at 7:45. The social committee is planning a good time for everyone to come out and bring your friends. An opportunity to register in classes in millinery, novelty construction and physical training will be given at this meeting. All entering these courses be sure to attend, as the classes will start on Tuesday, October 24th, at 7:30 p.m.

W. Eliason Warthman

W. Eliason Warthman, son of Mrs. Mary E. Warthman, 520 Garfield avenue, died early last Saturday morning at the West Jersey hospital from blood poisoning caused by infection of boils which developed on his head during the summer.

Mr. Warthman was 36 years old. He had many friends in Palmyra and was teacher of the boys Sunday School class at the Methodist Church. Despite an almost lifelong struggle against disease, he was known everywhere for his cheerful, hearty manner.

As a young man he developed tuberculosis, but made a brave fight against it and was for many years in the open and was for many years connected with the George Ute Company, dealers in lace and embroidery. All of the employees of the company came to pay their respects before the funeral.

Mr. Warthman was the son of the late Rev. John Warthman, long a member of the New Jersey Methodist Conference. He was a member of the P. O. S. of A., the Knights of Pythias, the Odd Fellows and the Eagles.

His mother and one sister, Mrs. A. R. Bradley, of Palmyra, survived him. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. Samuel Sargent, a former pastor here and the Rev. E. A. Robinson, officiating, with interment in Harleigh cemetery, Camden.

Mrs. John Stratton

Mrs. John Stratton, of East Riverton, died at the home of her son, Charles, in Lock Haven, Pa., last week. Mrs. Stratton was the mother of Mr. Nelson Wallace, of Palmyra, who died Sunday morning a week ago. The mother, who had been in poor health for some time, and had been making her home with her son, came here to attend the funeral of her daughter. She became too ill to be present at the services and returned to Lock Haven, dying two days later.

FAVOR BOROUGH GOVERNMENT

Palmyra's Chamber of Commerce Believes More Members on Governing Body Would Give Better Results

The Palmyra Chamber of Commerce at its meeting Tuesday evening discussed the proposed change of municipal government from the Township to the Borough form.

George N. Wimer said he had originally been in favor of the Commission plan, but that with our present population the Commission would be limited to three members, the same as the Township Committee, and he was convinced that with the town's rapidly growing population there should be more men on its governing body. Consequently he now favors the Borough form which will provide six councilmen and a Mayor to run the affairs of the town.

Mr. Wimer said the vote at the general election in November on the Borough question as it will appear on the ballot would have no legal effect in creating the change, but would be merely an expression of the voters' opinion. In case the majority favor the Borough plan, Assemblyman Powell and Senator Roberts have agreed to introduce the necessary bill in the Legislature and they believe it will carry without difficulty on the strength of the town's vote.

The only other method of changing to a Borough would be to have the bill passed before a vote was taken, and in that case, a referendum clause would be attached which would require a vote at a later date, which would further delay the change.

Albert N. Stewart, who has had many years experience with Township affairs, both as clerk and as Township committee member, said he had always thought the town was too small to attend properly to the town's business.

S. M. Fox mentioned that now two members of the committee could decide questions, while in a council of six, it would require at least four members to pass a measure, and that the opinion of four men would more likely be correct than that of two.

The Borough form would not add expense to the town in any way. All the present laws and ordinances would be made effective in the act creating the Borough and no change would need to be made in salaries of the various officers, such as clerk, collector, assessor, etc.

It was emphasized that the Council would provide representation for all parts of town and that the greater number of members would mean that a greater number of neighborhoods and of different opinions would be directly represented in the governing body. The councilmen would be better able to keep in touch with the needs of various sections and would also have more time to give attention to the neighborhood needs than is now the case.

J. Horace Finney, Republican candidate for Township Committee, said he was heartily in favor of the Borough plan, because it would more adequately represent the different parts of town and promote more efficient management. He suggested that a public meeting be held at which speakers acquainted with Borough laws and procedure could explain the whole proposition in detail. Mr. Finney said he understood that the large majority of citizens were anxious for the change.

Some one asked what had become of the building code which had been presented to the Township Committee nearly a year and a half ago and which has not been passed yet.

Riverton, it was declared, felt the need of a building code, after the Penn Motor Company fire, and the Council there passed the measure which has not been passed yet.

Builders and real estate men present at the Chamber meeting said that as a result buildings now being erected in Riverton were much better constructed, being carefully inspected by Building Inspector Smith, but that in Palmyra houses were being put up in "any old way."

"It's a shame" what kind of material and workmanship is going into some Palmyra buildings, said one man. Similar houses in Riverton, he declared, would last years longer because they had to be kept up to standard.

A motion was passed that the Chamber demand definite information from the township committee as to what it was going to do with the building code.

Two new members were elected to the Chamber, H. C. Schwering, Jr., and H. B. Morris.

KICK ON TUITION

Riverside and Delanco Seek to Have Reduction from Palmyra High School

Riverside and Delanco School authorities are protesting against the $90 tuition charge to Palmyra High School. Beverly is making a similar kick against Burlington.

School Board President James T. Weart and other members of the Board took up the matter with the State Board at Trenton last Saturday, and showed that the cost per pupil was $97.

His argument made a favorable impression with the State authorities, who remarked that he had facts and figures, while Riverside and Delanco presented only generalities. A decision will be made later.

A Surprise

On Saturday last a delightful surprise party was given to Mrs. Ernest K. Mueller, of Morgan avenue, by her husband and a coterie of gentlemen from the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society upon the occasion of their crystal wedding.

Through the kindly ministrations of their neighbors, Mrs. and Miss Haven, the table decoration and supper were characteristic of the event and making the affair one long to be remembered. Mrs. Mueller was the recipient of a shower of beautiful gifts.

Among the guests were Mr. Benjamin of Philadelphia, Mr. Graham, of Oak Lane, Mr. Raveley, of Germantown, Mr. Craig, of Fort Washington, Mr. Stevenson, of Collingswood, Mr. Hill and Mr. Fleet of Philadelphia, and Mr. Wire of Beverly. After an evening of pleasure and song, the jolly faction skidded home in their motors with feelings of a successful surprise.

The Mark of Femininity

County Committee Holds Public Meeting

The newly organized Burlington County Republican Committee held a meeting, to which the public was invited, and presided over by Mrs. Nellie Russell, of Springside, first vice chairman of the county organization, at the court house, Mount Holly on Monday evening. While the attendance, outside of the members of the committee was not large, those who did attend heard two splendid addresses, one by Mrs. C. A. Nicklaus, of Plainfield, who is working throughout the State organizing local units of the Women's State Republican Club. She said there are now three hundred and fifty such clubs in the State with a membership of 11,000. The other speaker, J. Trumbull Wood, a prominent lawyer of Trenton, gave some very interesting facts and figures concerning the tremendous National debt which has been saddled on the taxpayers of the United States, and which he said would take fifteen years to liquidate.

Both speakers urged the members of the committee and all others present to use their utmost endeavor to make sure the election of Runyon and Frelinghuysen, in order that New Jersey might enjoy a law abiding and business-like State administration, and that the representation in the United States Senate might be improved.

During the evening Mrs. Russell urged the members of the committee to keep alive their interest in political affairs the year round, and not to feel that their job was ended as soon as the November election was over. She said that there was very valuable and necessary work to be done throughout the whole twelve months, and that the chairman would be glad to give advice of every member of the committee.

After the meeting one of the old line Republicans has been in the political affairs for over a decade said, "I believe that the Republican County Committee is better organized today than it has ever been within my recollection."

GENERAL RULES FOR SELECTION OF BEEF

Choose Cuts According to Cooking Method Desired.

Buy Only Tender Meat for Broiling or Roasting—Tough Pieces Are Useful for Stews, Soups, Etc.—Two Recipes.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Two general rules may be laid down for the selection of beef, says the United States Department of Agriculture. First: Buy only the tender cuts when meat is to be prepared by such methods as broiling or roasting.

Second: Buy the less tender cuts in all cases for stews, boiled or braised meat, pot roasts, Hamburg steak, meat loaves, and soups. It should be remembered that tender cuts of meat are best not overcooked, also that plenty of time must be allowed for the cooking of the less tender cuts.

One of the best cuts for broiling or roasting is the rib roast, club, porterhouse, and sirloin steaks. The rump and the flank steaks are tender if cut from a prime carcass. All these cuts are best prepared by broiling the surface with high heat, then reducing the heat to avoid overcooking the outside. Allow 8 to 20 minutes for a steak, and 15 to 30 minutes for each pound of roast, depending on the thickness of the steak, the size and shape of the roast and whether the meat is preferred rare, medium, or well done.

Soup.

In case a large quantity of soup is needed, it is well to buy freshly trimmed bones, such as the hind shank or hock, the lower fore shank, or any other fresh "bone trimmings," but for the average small family it is more satisfactory, as well as economical to select cuts having considerable meat along with the bone. The neck, fore shank, shoulder, clod, tail, and the lower cuts of the hind shank are all good. If these are well seasoned, put to cook in hot water and allowed to simmer slowly until the meat is tender, the stock will be found to be sufficiently strong for soup and the meat itself will be usable in many ways, such as stew, jellied meat, croquettes, and meat pie.

Swiss Steak.

Any lean beef cut two inches thick can be prepared as Swiss steak. Season on both sides and pound down into it until the surface is well coated. Brown well in hot suet. Add hot water to about half cover the meat. Cook very slowly in a covered skillet until the meat is tender enough to be

What Is Easiest for You to Remember?

Something you heard recently, or something that you learned in your childhood? A doggerel rhyme, perhaps, or some "piece" you had to repeat in school.

We recall a boy who recited "The Psalm of Life" regularly every Friday afternoon for five years. We'll bet he can still repeat "Tell me not in mournful numbers" in his sleep backwards, though he is the father of a family, and growing a little bald spot on the top of his head!

Time has very little relation to the things we remember. The things that have been impressed on our minds by constant repetition are the things we don't forget.

The woman living next to you may go to the city to buy something she would know you sell if she stopped to think. But thinking requires effort.

Philadelphia has become associated in her mind with "shopping." She saw the article she wanted to buy advertised in the morning paper, and the trick was turned.

By persistent and intelligent advertising you should change the psychology of all that. It can be done.

EDWARDS SCORED FOR INCAPACITY

Frelinghuysen in Address Before Republican State Convention Tells of Pledges Kept.

REVIVE NATION'S PROSPERITY

Senatorial Candidate Recounts Administration's Services to Disabled Soldiers, Agriculture, Labor and Business—Governor's Defiance of Constitution Criticized.

Trenton, N. J.—United States Senator Frelinghuysen, recently nominated as candidate to succeed himself in the Senate, addressed the Republican State Convention here last Tuesday. Senator Frelinghuysen recounted the issues upon which President Harding had been elected and the way in which the national administration and the Republican party had kept their pledges. He denounced Governor Edwards for his political appointments, his apathy in the coal situation in the state, the road scandals and the Governor's announced hostility to the Eighteenth amendment.

Senator Frelinghuysen said, in part: "The war actually and theoretically at an end, the President and Congress gave special attention to the veterans who had been injured or in any way disabled and to the families of those who unfortunately had been lost. To centralize the various organizations that had been established for such purposes, the Veterans' Bureau was created. The amounts appropriated already exceed two billion dollars and during the present year at least half a billion dollars will be expended.

"Two years ago we were still in a technical state of war and the rivalry in the Pacific and our possession of the Philippine Islands we would soon or later be in actual war. The President called a Disarmament Conference. The treaty between Japan and Great Britain was brought to an end. The use of poisonous gases in warfare was prohibited, the use of submarines was limited; rivalry in the construction of warships was banished.

"Two years ago the country was in the throes of great depression. The number of unemployed was close to five millions. The taxes were such as to discourage capital. The whole public was irritated by the taxes imposed on transportation and on many articles of daily use. The annual expenditures were simply enormous. The debt was staggering. Business was at a stand still. Rates of interest were almost prohibitive. Even the Government bonds had declined below par. The Republican party has not yet been in control two years. Liberty bonds have fully recovered and some are actually above par. The discount rate the Federal Reserve Bank is now but 4½ per cent. Taxes on incomes below $5,000 a year have been lightened. Business has revived. Unemployment has ceased. Our country is prosperous.

"A budget was provided for and a man of great fearlessness was placed in charge. The expenditures during the first year of Mr. Harding's administration were about $175,000,000 less than during the last year of the Democratic administration. The debt instead of increasing, actually commenced to decrease. $1,014,000,000 had been paid off.

"The average wage in the United States for ordinary labor is $4. Prior to the war in England it was $1.05. Today in England it is $2.00. In Italy prior to the war it was $1.00. Today it is 65 cents. In Germany before the war it was $1.40. Today it is 43 cents. In other words, wages in the United States today owing to the confusion and disorder in Europe resulting from the war, and owing particularly to the depreciation in the value of European money, range from two to ten times what they are in Europe.

"The Republican party to protect the working men, prepared a new tariff in the interests of the farmer. I told what I could to protect our industries. I responded to the call of labor. To make certain that our labor would always be protected I introduced a measure so that at all times the difference in the cost of production here and abroad could be ascertained. Protection given to home manufacture while my ideas have not been carried out in full, still to the President has been given power in that direction. I look for the day when we will have a scientific tariff and if re-elected I will make every effort to insure one.

"Two years ago the farmer was greatly discouraged. They faced ruin. To revive the pursuit of agriculture it was absolutely necessary to make certain that the farmers would receive credit. By an act of Congress ways and means were devised whereby agriculture could receive credits. Agriculture has revived. The farmer is now prosperous, the future encouraging.

"Governor Edwards by his appointments, by his inaction in the coal crisis, by his silent contempt of the charges about the excessive cost of road building and in many other cases has shown himself indifferent to the true welfare of the public. Sworn to support the Constitution of the United States, he has openly proclaimed his hostility to the Eighteenth Amendment. As a Senator of the United States he has endeavored to secure without mental reservations to bear true faith to the Constitution and yet he dares to seek office and to promise the public that if elected he will advocate repudiation, and nullification of part of the Constitution. He knows well that he cannot make lawful that Congress cannot make lawful; the Constitution makes unlawful.

Interpreted.
Doctor—"I would advise you, dear madam, to take frequent baths, plenty of fresh air and dress in cool gowns." Husband (an hour later)—"What did the doctor say?" Wife—"He said I ought to go to a watering place and afterward to the mountains and to get some new light gowns at once."—Hillegende Blatter.

MUNICIPAL GARBAGE COLLECTION

Councilman Geiss Asks Council to Take Up Subject—Informed Board of Health Is Working on It

At the meeting of the Borough Council Thursday evening of last week, Councilman Geiss brought up the matter of the covering of the surface drain in front of Clinton Woolston's garage, which had been in broken and dangerous condition for five months, and asked that it be repaired without further delay. It was contended by some of the members of Council that this drain was on private property and the Borough was not responsible for it. After some discussion the matter was referred to the highway committee to confer with the Borough engineers.

The chief of police submitted a written report of the activities of his department during the past month. Councilman Showell asked the Mayor what progress is being made in the memorial park negotiations. He was informed that the matter was now up to a hearing before the State Supreme Court, at a date to be set by the Court.

A resolution was adopted instructing the clerk to furnish Council with a list of those who failed to comply with the ordinance requiring the construction of curbs on Main street and Lippincott avenue.

An invitation was read from Palmyra township asking the Borough officials to be present at the inspection of the new sewer disposal plant at the foot of Berkeley avenue Saturday afternoon, the 14th. The invitation was accepted.

In mind of another invitation which had been sent to the Mayor and Council, and which most of the members did not learn of until the day the event took place, he asked Mayor Geiss to bring about the letter sent by the Old Home Day Committee, of Palmyra, inviting the Mayor and Council to participate in the day's events.

His Honor replied that he had unsuccessfully tried to get in touch with the members of council by telephone, after which the matter slipped his mind. A motion was offered by Mr. Showell and passed that in the future invitations received by the Mayor be sent at once to the clerk with instructions to notify all members of Council.

Mr. Geiss called attention to the garbage situation in Riverton. He said he had received several requests to send a collector to persons who had been unable to get anyone to remove their garbage. He suggested that something be done toward establishing municipal garbage collection. The Mayor replied that that matter was now in the hands of the Board of Health, from which he had expected to receive a detailed report of their investigations, with recommendations before this. The clerk was instructed to advise the Board of Health that it would be unable to attend to the meeting with the Board to discuss the garbage collection situation.

Mr. Geiss proposed that bulletin boards be erected in two or three places in town, and that all posters and placards of any description be kept off the poles and trees in the borough.

Y. W. C. A.
The Y. W. C. A. held its meeting Tuesday evening, October 17th, at the Porch Club, Riverton. There were twenty-seven members present and the meeting was well attended.

The new members were enrolled. The meeting began with singing of Y. W. C. A. songs. At a request, Miss Ann Wallace gave the members exercises which were enjoyed as well as beneficial to all. The registration classes were next in order and the classes were well filled.

Come out and help do your part! Don't forget next Tuesday night at the Porch Club, at 7.30.

The physical training class, under the direction of Miss Ann Wallace, is free.

Parry Notes
William Staiger and family wishes to thank their friends in Parry for the sympathy and kindness shown during their recent bereavement.

The Parry Fire Company attended services at the Moravian Church in a body last Sunday evening.

The Moravian Church will hold evangelistic services from November 1st to 12th. Prof. Clarence Clewell, of the University of Penn., will assist the pastor in these meetings.

The pastor's topic for next Sunday morning will be "Winning Souls" and at 7.30 p. m., there will be a prayer service.

The bazaar and chicken supper to be given by the Willing Workers of the Moravian Church, in the church next Wednesday, October 25th, is expected to draw a large crowd. It will be between the hours of 5 and 8 p. m.

Mrs. C. Nelson Sperling spoke at the Parent-Teacher meeting held in the Westfield school Tuesday afternoon.

The King's Daughters Circle of the Moravian Church will meet in the church this Saturday afternoon.

RIVERTON DEFEATS METRO

Home Team Developing Great Strength Under New Coach

Last Saturday Riverton played Metro at the Field Club grounds and after twenty-five minutes of football, and not good football at that, the old worm finally turned, and then everything seemed bright. Real football once more and Metro was turned back to a glorious 20-3 victory.

In the first quarter Riverton continually had the ball inside of Metro's thirty-yard line, only to have the ball back either on a penalty or fumble. In the second quarter three successful forward passes and two fifteen yard penalties brought the ball to Riverton's five yard line, where Gallagher dropped back to the 22 yard line and lifted one over for Metro's first and only score.

The third quarter started off in great shape when Hollingshead received the kickoff and ran the ball back thirty-five yards through the whole Metro team. J. Hylton and Joe Stack then started a series of end runs and marched the ball to Metro's six yard line where Hollingshead took it over for Riverton's first touchdown of the season. After that there was no more to it. Holwick, Stack and Hylton had some more brilliant runs and ran the score up to 20-3.

Paul Holvick caught one of Metro's forward passes and ran 52 yards for a touchdown only to have the ball brought back when holding was detected by Referee Keating.

On behalf of the management I want to thank our football fans for the way they turned out last Saturday and whooped it up for the boys.

That's the real stuff. Keep it up, for encouragement means everything, and when the boys see the crowds, they'll be fighting every minute with the old pep.

From now on the best independent teams of Philadelphia will be one—Magnolia. Hunting Social, and Wildwood in order. Wildwood is the team that turned Riverbank 7-6.

Just a few words about our coaching staff, who have worked hard to give Riverton a good football team. Frank Holvick and Sonny Wright started four years ago when the old game was on the wane, and after building and weeding out, have developed a real football team which predict will win the championship of Burlington county this year. They have landed one of the best football men in the country to help them out with coaching. H. M. Kieckhefer, University of Wisconsin, former All-Western tackle. Kieckhefer's work showed very plainly on Saturday what he is going to do to give Riverton a real team. He gave the boys some real stuff in between the halves, and the whole line played real snappy football. With three men like these, Riverton can't help but have a real team and if there are any more men in town that think they have football ability, turn out and you'll be given a chance.

Pat Steele's second team turned Beverly back by the score of 7-6. Bradley's work featured.

This Saturday, October 21st, the Riverton Reserves will play Delanco, game starting 2.15. Riverton will have a A. A. will line up against their old rivals, Magnolia, of Frankford, one of the best games of the season is anticipated. Game will start 3.15 p. m. Don't miss it.

Quoit League

A team of eight players from Medford will play a picked team from the Palmyra Quoit League at the Field Club grounds Saturday, October 21, at 2 p. m.

The Medford league are reputed to be good, so Palmyra will have to show some "grit" to land the majority of the games and to run up the highest number of points.

Palmyra players will probably line up from the following: "Dad" Davidson, McCormick, Thatcher, Walton, Taylor, Morton, Coles, Griscorn, Clois Snyder, Conlow, Loreau and "Jerry" Smith.

Everyone is invited to see these matches and quoit enthusiasts are promised some display of skill in the game which "Dad" Davidson says, "a man never gets old or stale in, but always improves as he gets older."

END OF BOOSTER'S CLUB

Members Urged to Transfer Allegiance to Chamber of Commerce

The Palmyra Boosters' Club was organized over a year ago, with the sole idea of boosting Palmyra. The Club has succeeded in carrying out its object and has increased the membership from the original eleven members to ninety-three. The meetings have always been carried on with the one object in view, the betterment of Palmyra, disregarding party and creed—a non-partisan organization to the full extent of the word.

However, there are times when organizations of this character can conflict to the disadvantage of all concerned.

The Chamber of Commerce is doing a good work along the lines that were being followed out by the Boosters' Club, and as there is strength in numbers, we have decided to disband our Club, suggesting that our members make application to the Chamber for membership, and retain the interest shown in our meetings.

We sincerely hope that our members will follow out this suggestion and give their support to the Chamber of Commerce, with whom we have always enjoyed most pleasing relations.

LESSON FOR OCTOBER 22

JESUS TEMPTED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 4:1-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—For in that He Himself hath suffered being tempted, He is able to succor them that are tempted.

—Heb. 2:18.
REFERENCE MATERIAL—Phil. 2:5-11; Heb. 2:14-18; 4:14-16.

TOPIC—Jesus Overcomes Temptation.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Tempted to Do Wrong.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Overcoming Temptation.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Christ's Victory Means to Us.

I. The Place of (v. 1).
The wilderness of Judea. The first man, Adam, was tempted in a garden with the most pleasant surroundings. The second man, Jesus Christ, was tempted in a barren wilderness surrounded by wild beasts (Mark 1:13).

II. The Purpose of (v. 1). He was led into a wilderness by the Spirit. Christ's temptation was Messianic. Though He was "tempted in all points like as we are," we are not tempted as He was in this instance, but the same methods are employed on us. During the eighteen years of retirement Satan surely tempted Christ as he tempts us. Satan, no doubt, would have gladly escaped this hour, but the time had come for the Redeemer to enter upon His mediatorial work; therefore He went from the place of anointing and heavenly recognition as the Son of God to meet and despoil the arch enemy (Heb. 2:4).

1. It was not a preparation for His work, but rather its first conflict. In baptism we have the symbolic act of dedication of himself to the work of redemption through the cross—the making full a righteousness. In the temptation, the strong man is spilling the enemy.
2. It was not to see if Christ would stand fast—would fall under the most crucial test. Christ could not fall. To so postulate would make God's scheme of redemption to have been unsettled until after this temptation. And would have made God guilty of settling forth a scheme of redemption on the basis of a possible overthrow.
3. It was to show Christ as an object upon which we may rest our faith with unshaken confidence. He came as the second Man, the head of a new race, its very source and life. It was a demonstration of the inseparableness of the divine and human natures in the incarnation.

III. The Method of (vv. 2-12).
Christ as the world's Redeemer sustained a threefold relation—Son of Man; Son of God; and Messiah, therefore Satan made each one a ground of attack.

1. As Son of Man (vv. 2-4). Satan made his first assault upon Him as a man by appealing to the instinct of hunger. Satan urged Him to use His divine power and convert a stone into bread. Hunger is a natural and sinless. The temptation was in satisfying a right hunger in a wrong way. To have yielded in this case would have been to renounce the human limitations which He had taken for our sakes. To use divine power to satisfy human needs would have been to fall as Saviour and Redeemer.
2. As Messiah (vv. 5-8). Here the temptation was to grasp His rightful dominion by false means. The devil offered to surrender unto Him the world if He would worship him. The force of this temptation was in the fact that the kingdoms of the world are Christ's by God's covenant with Him. God's method by which Jesus was to possess the world was the cross. The temptation Satan is pressing upon the church today is to get possession of the world by other means than the cross.

3. As Son of God (vv. 9-12). Here Satan tries to induce Christ to presume upon God's care. He quotes a Messianic Psalm to induce Him to so act. To do the spectacular thing in order to get notice is to fall into Satan's temptation. For Jesus to have placed himself in danger in order to get God's special help in delivering Him would have been to sin. To put one's self in moral and spiritual peril in order to test God's faithfulness is to sin. Satan is never quite so clamorous as when he quotes Scripture.

IV. Christ's Defense (vv. 4, 8, 12).
It was the Word of God. He met and repulsed the enemy with "It is written." Our defense is God's Word. May every Sunday school teacher know how to use it!

V. The Issue (v. 13).
Satan is vanquished. If we will but trust God and use His Word we too can overcome.

Superior and Inferior.
You may fall to shame in the opinion of others, both in your conversation and actions, from being superior, as well as inferior to them.—Greville.

Faith.
Now faith is the substance of things to be hoped for, the evidence of things that appear not.—Hebrews 2:1.

The Lord's Day.
Ye shall keep your Sabbath and reverence my sanctuary; I am the Lord.—Leviticus 19:30.

Asks New Building for County Clerk's Office

Howard Russ, director of the department of public buildings, surprised the other members of the Board of Freeholders on Friday when he introduced a resolution providing for the preparation of plans for the erection of an addition to the court house, or a detached building, to be utilized as the office of the county clerk, and to use the present rooms occupied by the clerk for offices for other county officials who are now in rented quarters.

In support of the movement he argued that the present clerk's office, which contains valuable public records covering titles to real estate in the county, is not fireproof, that the records for this addition had been presented by historical societies who are interested in the preservation of some of the old records contained in the present vault, and that property owners whose titles are involved are entitled to have fireproof protection.

After discussion, the resolution was adopted with an amendment that the plans, which are to be prepared by the county engineer with the assistance of some architect, be accompanied by an estimate of the cost of the new clerk's office.

A communication, dated September 22, from the grand jury of the April term of court, stated that an inspection of county buildings at New Lisbon and Mount Holly had been made and that all were in a sanitary and satisfactory condition, with the exception of the jail. Obsolete gas fixtures, bad plumbing and a dangerous arrangement of the cells had been found there, which should be remedied. The jury recommended that the gas fixtures in the cells, which are a source of menace in the hands of prisoners, be replaced with electric lights; that new bath tubs and closets be installed, and that some cells, particularly those in "murderers' row," be re-arranged to prevent unnecessary dangers to the jail attendants.

Reception to Rector and Wife

The reception tendered to Reverend and Mrs. Arthur S. Lewis by the wardens and vestrymen of Christ Church on Tuesday evening was attended by approximately two hundred and fifty guests. The guests were received by Dr. and Mrs. John T. Dorrance, Reverend and Mrs. Arthur S. Lewis, H. H. Seabrook and Mrs. Phoebe K. Seabrook.

On the stage a solid group of cedar trees entirely concealed the orchestra and against this background gigantic dahlias were tastefully arranged. The contrasting colors of the trees and the dahlias in the foreground were effectively brought out by the floor lighting of the foot-lights. The floor of the stage was carpeted with colored autumn leaves. The on "Personal Power" Source" Saturday evening, October 14, at Emma A. Price's School of Music, 416 Lippincott avenue. Some impressions conveyed by the speaker were that somewhere between extreme youth and the adult stage of life, self-consciousness asserts itself in many individuals and if not controlled increases so that the powers of the individual become weakened. Self-expression is limited, diffidence among one's fellows is shown and lack of effort to organize thoughts results. Such a person fails to take part in activities of the community or group with which associated and becomes often times dissatisfied and unhappy. If children can be led to use their powers of mind, of which we have over two hundred, in right directions, self can be forgotten and life will be interesting at all stages, and personality attractive because of proper adjustment to life's situations at all points. If one who has reached more mature life finds himself losing out, because of lack of self-expression, it is not too late to remedy one's shortcomings.

Young ladies of the parish distributed a collation of ice cream and cakes to the guests. Some couples took advantage of the orchestra and danced in whatever free space they could find. The opportunity to meet Reverend and Mrs. Arthur S. Lewis amid such pleasant surroundings was much appreciated by all.

Commends Fire Company

Mr. Ross Mattis, Fire Department, Riverton, N. J. Dear Mr. Mattis:

Will you please convey to the members of the fire department my appreciation of the promptness with which they responded to the telephone call from my home last Friday—also of the care exercised inside the house in avoiding damage while handling the line of hose.

The efficiency of your department is something the town can well be proud of.

Very truly yours,
E. S. PARRY.

Martin Luther Edge

Martin Luther Edge, the young man who was injured by a cave-in at the sand pits of the Riverton ice plant Saturday a week ago, died last Friday evening at the Riverside hospital. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levin Edge, 124 Washington street, Riverside, with interment in the Odd Fellows' cemetery, Burlington.

Mrs. Stine Speaks on "Personal Power"

A very interesting and thoughtful audience attended the talk by Caroline N. Stine on "Personal Power: Its Source" Saturday evening, October 14, at Emma A. MANY AUTO SMASHES

Week End Marked by Number of Crashes in this Vicinity

Several automobilists came to grief over the weekend around about the two towns.

Early Sunday morning a Light-Six Studebaker, driven by Joseph Wells, son of F. R. Wells, of Delaware avenue, was struck by a Winton Eight, driven by Leon Marini, of 821 South Fourth street, Camden.

A front wheel was sheered off the Wells car, in addition to other lesser damages. The accident occurred near the Parry firehouse. No one was hurt.

Richard Wanger, son of Charles W. Wanger, of Riverton, was forced to run his touring car into the curbing at Riverside Monday evening to avoid striking a man. A rear wheel was broken off and the front axle damaged.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rumble, of Delaware avenue, and Mrs. Rumble's mother, were driving up the St. Michael road near Riverside Sunday evening, when their Ford sedan was forced off the road by two speeding cars. They struck posts along the road and were overturned. Mrs. Rumble's mother suffering a broken arm. Mr. Rumble received a cut under the eye, and his wife was badly shaken. Fred Davis brought them home.

Dave Land also helped put Delaware avenue on the auto accident map. He broke an axle up the St. Michael way.

RIVERTON PUBLIC SCHOOL

Fifth Grade Presents Play "Columbus" at Morning Session

Now that school is underway the morning assemblies, held every Monday and Friday from 9 to 9:45 o'clock, are greatly enjoyed by everybody present.

The children in the grades above the second march to the auditorium after roll-call, and have the usual opening exercises, led in singing by Miss Lucas. The singing has improved, and we all enjoy the songs. Miss Cunningham plays the piano as we march in and out, and for the singing.

Miss Chew suggested that we add variety to the exercises by voluntary numbers on the programs, and the fourth and fifth grades have been the first to take part.

The fourth grade sang "The Boat Song" and the fifth grade gave a report of their Parent-Teacher membership, which was 100% for mothers, besides several fathers.

At the next assembly, Adeline Merrill, of the fifth grade, sang a solo, "The Golden Rule," while her sister, Lenore, of the sixth grade, played her accompaniment on the piano.

Last Monday morning the fifth grade gave a play called "Columbus," which had four acts, as follows:

1. The Court of Spain.
2. On Board the Santa Maria.
3. The Tropical Shores of America.
4. Spanish Court.

The boys and girls all took their parts very well, and their costumes added greatly to the scenes.

Everybody enjoyed it, the class who did the work, and the audience. There was much applause, and all congratulated Miss Agle, the fifth grade teacher. The class repeated the play Tuesday morning for the lower primary grades and kindergarten, in a special assembly.

The school orchestra has begun practice, and there are many other interesting things promised for assembly this month.

Visitors are always welcome.

WHO WAS KASPAR HAUSER?

WHEN the police of Nuremberg first discovered this youth, apparently about eighteen years of age, leaning up against a wall in one of the public squares with his hands over his eyes to protect them from the glare of the sun, they at first thought that he was some idiot who had escaped from a sanitarium. But investigation soon developed that there was a case as unique as that of the man in the iron mask, and resembling it in a number of ways.

Not only were the boy's eyes weak, but his muscles were as flabby as those of an infant and the soles of his feet were convex, like those of a baby that has never learned to walk. He had to be carried bodily to police headquarters and even there, the sight of the commonest objects appeared to terrify him, while the slightest of sounds caused him to cover his ears and wince as if his ear-drums were accustomed only to total silence. On the other hand, his face indicated that he was of good parentage, and the clothing which he wore was fashioned of the softest, finest materials.

In an effort to discover something about his identity, one of the police officials offered him a pencil which, much to the surprise of those present, he seized and wrote the two words "Kaspar Hauser," which, as it afterwards developed, was the only clue he could give to his past.

Prof. G. F. Daumer of the University of Nuremberg, hearing about the strange case, took the young man to his home—amused not only by the fact that he could neither talk nor walk, but that he would eat nothing but bread and water. The professor, however, started to educate him at once and in a surprisingly short time the youth had progressed sufficiently to give a graphic story of his experiences.

For as long as he could remember he had been confined to a dark cell, into which the sun had never penetrated. He had been visited once a day by a man who washed and dressed him and fed him a ration of bread and water. It was this man who had taught him to write the words "Kaspar Hauser," which Professor Daumer believed to be a false name given to him in order to mislead the authorities and to conceal his real identity. Finally, he declared, he had been blindfolded and led into the street where the police had found him. The young man's story naturally created a vast amount of comment in all sections of Europe and the Daumer house became the center of attraction for the curious, many of whom maintained that they might be able to identify Hauser, but none of whom were able to produce the proof of their contention.

The next development in the mysterious chain of circumstances surrounding the youth, came about five months after Hauser's discovery by the police, when he staggered into Professor Daumer's library, half-blinded by the blood which dripped from an open gash in his forehead. It was some time before he recovered consciousness sufficiently to state that a masked man had struck him with a saber, that he had dodged the blow and that his assailant had fled before he could give the alarm. The inference which the police drew from the attack was that the same person who had imprisoned the boy was now striving to kill him, lest he divulge the secret of his birth.

Shortly afterward, the case came to the attention of the wealthy Lord Stanhope, who, convinced that Hauser was of aristocratic and perhaps of royal parentage, adopted him and sent him under guard to Anspach, where he was educated. Some three years later, Lord Stanhope arrived in Anspach with the intention of taking his protégé back to England with him. On the morning of the day that they were to leave Hauser received a note, telling him to come to a certain place where he would learn the secret of his birth. Less than an hour later the English nobleman heard moans from outside his apartment and, opening the door, was just in time to catch Hauser as he fell, blood welling from a knife-wound in his side. He had barely gasped the words, "When monument—palace grounds" when he fell dead. Lord Stanhope hurried to the Usser monument and found there a slip of paper bearing, in the young man's handwriting, the cryptic message: "Kaspar Hauser murdered at the age of twenty-one. Know by this that I come from the Bavarian frontier on the river. The initials of my name are M. L. B."

And not even the offer of a reward of 5,000 florins by Lord Stanhope nor the investigations of countless amateur and professional detectives could ever throw the slightest light upon the birth or death of this human enigma.

OUTSTANDING PLANKS IN RUNYON CAMPAIGN

Equal Educational Opportunities, Cheaper Road Construction and Helpfulness Toward Farm Organizations.

PROBLEMS FIRMLY FACED

Republican Nominee for Governor Declares His Appeal to the People With a Vigor and a Directness That Are Refreshing.

Equal educational opportunities for all, the elimination of present extravagance in road construction, and an agricultural policy looking toward the development of farm organizations—these are outstanding planks in the campaign William N. Runyon now is conducting for Governor.

The Republican nominee has taken hold of problems bearing vitally upon the welfare of the State with a vigor and a directness in refreshing contrast to what New Jersey has so often seen. The exposure of conditions in the State Highway Department has focused attention upon Mr. Runyon's firm stand for a new deal there. The relation of highway improvements to taxes, as well as to the general welfare of the State, is direct and vital.

Philadelphia newspaper in an extensive treatment of the entire road situation in New Jersey has disclosed that Governor Edwards' highway board has been awarding paving contracts on an average of $28,000 above what is claimed to be the proper price. This is made possible by a system of closed specifications, and Mr. Runyon, seeking to correct this condition, has been outspoken in his indictment of the highway board and specific in the cure he proposes.

The writing of the Republican platform was a victory for Senator Runyon, and in his speeches since the convention the gubernatorial nominee has expressed his determination to have that program translated into law. "It is the part of those who have the forming and the making of a platform," he said, "to have to conform to the conditions of the day, to make it give as much as it can of promise and assurance, not as little, and I have belief that the platform adopted by the Republican party is that sort of a platform."

"It speaks of big things and it does not speak of them evasively. It speaks of things of general moment, of great interest, and it does not try to sidestep."

Declaring for equal educational advantages for all, the program maintains whether the child "resides in the rural district or the city, and whether it be vocational, business or academic instruction," there should be no discrimination.

On the agricultural issue the platform said: "We urge the adoption of an agricultural program based upon sound economy of production and distribution, which will provide for the needs of the State in keeping with its importance. A State-wide extension of the work of the bureau of farm markets will result not only in lowering the cost of living in cities but increased profits for the farmers."

"We favor the development of farm organizations, the activities of the State Department of Agriculture, the Agricultural Experiment Station, and the Agricultural College, all of which should join as a unit in an agricultural program to develop properly the great industry. We favor the standardization of agricultural products for more efficient distribution."

The devotion of Mr. Edwards' administration to the politics of Hudson County has been emphasized by Mr. Runyon repeatedly and has not been refuted. Neither has it been denied that both the Democratic candidate for Senator and the aspirant for Governor are running because Frank Hague do ordained and not because either nominee actually desired further political honors.

"The patented paving material has played a large part in our road program in recent years," Mr. Runyon said in a recent statement issued at Moorestown, "and irrespective of the merits of the pavement itself, the methods of securing its introduction into various municipalities and counties leaves much to be desired."

"The highway plank in the Republican platform designs to bring to an effectual close the patented pavements away in New Jersey and provides that the various counties and State will have the same rights as now held by municipalities to call for open specification and competitive bidding in connection with every road."

"This procedure contemplates and demands that the various governing bodies in putting forth specifications shall require that wherever patented pavements are to enter into any competition in any road program bids shall be called for at the same time upon a non-patented type of pavement of equal merit, and the governing body shall be obliged to award the contract to the lowest bidder."

"It is an absolutely sincere and an honest effort to end any and all scandal with the building of our highways and to secure durable roads. There have been many platform promises heretofore made which simply called for open specifications, a term which may mean something or nothing. Our aim this year has been to particularize our intentions as to inform the public definitely regarding our plan of procedure."

Reckoning Age of Trees.
Some trees often live to a great age, and while they are standing it is a difficult matter to arrive at their age, but when they have been cut down, it is said, the age may be reckoned by counting the number of rings visible in the section.

Future Sale Assured.
A small boy looked longingly into a store window where a shining new bicycle was displayed. Shyly he entered and, approaching the proprietor, said: "If you'll keep that bicycle till I'm grown up to be a big man I'll buy it of you."

What Is an Earthquake?

Nothing is more terrifying than an earthquake, in the presence of which we stand powerless to act effectively. Earthquakes are caused by rapid vibrations of the earth's interior. The displacements—that is, the amplitude of the vibrations—in the great majority of earthquakes is only the fraction of a millimeter. When it exceeds four or five millimeters the quake is destructive. Tremors of the earth's crust are measured by means of delicate instruments known as "seismographs," which are freely swinging pendulums, so placed that they trace markings upon paper, which the tracing needle just touches. These modern instruments do not only tell when an earthquake has occurred, but they record tremors in all parts of the world, and one of the highly significant facts brought to light by this means is that minute and "insensible" tremors of the earth are almost constant and some, at least of these tremors consist in three series of waves—the first and second phases being the "preliminary" tremors, and the larger waves the "main shock."—Hereford Carrington in Leslie's.

Look for the Best.
Look for the best in people and in life. When the worst presents itself, remember there is another side. Wait, and it will appear. Teach yourself early in life to be glad of another's success, sorry for another's failure. The moment you entertain the opposite feeling, you invite ultimate disaster to your life. The thoughts you send forth will come back to you as events, finally. Thought is the main road to happiness. As you think, so shall your life be. Circumstances and environment are changed by intense thought action. Happiness comes mainly from neither. Every day we hear and read of successful men and women judged from a worldly standpoint who are miserable and unhappy. Prosperity, friendship, success and the best of all, love, add greatly to the happiness of a happy mind.—Elia Wheeler Wilcox.

For every man, woman & child who has writing to do
Remington Portable

THE Remington Portable is a capable, companionable, individual typewriter, built for the use of the man in his business or profession, the woman in her home, the child attending school—in fact for every man, woman and child who writes.

It is the most compact of all writing machines. Fits in a case only four inches high. Like every Remington, it is strong, speedy, durable and turns out beautiful work. —and mark this: It has the Standard Writing Key-board with which you are familiar — no shifting for figures. Small as it is, the operation of a Remington Portable is exactly like writing on a Standard machine. Just as easy, just as swift, just as simple.

ASKS EDWARDS IF HE BOUGHT BOOZE

Frelinghuysen Wants Him to Tell How He Kept Promise to Make State Wet.

REBUKE FOR PERSONALITIES

In sincerity of Governor's Promise to Make New Jersey Wet as Atlantic Ocean Shown—Republican Candidate's Strength Growing.

Raritan, N. J., Oct. —As the campaign for United States Senator progresses it is daily apparent that Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, Republican candidate to succeed himself, is constantly gaining strength. The astounding majority by which he was renominated demonstrated his hold on the affections of Republican voters of New Jersey and also had the effect of closing up the Republican ranks for the election on November 7.

Senator Frelinghuysen has plunged into his campaign with his accustomed vigor and aggressiveness and the forceful logic of his attacks on Governor Edwards have augmented the natural embarrassments of his opponent's position. Answering a speech by Governor Edwards at Raritan, Senator Frelinghuysen, last week in a statement, said:

"Governor Edwards in Raritan close to my home boasted that he had kept every promise he had made and spoke contemptuously of the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution. He was silent, however, on the fact that the constitution of the State of New Jersey in the executive power invested in the Governor makes him responsible for the enforcement of Federal Constitution and that it is his duty to see that the laws are peacefully executed."

"To excite prejudices, he told my neighbors I had a home not only at Raritan, but also in Washington. My wife and children are the very light of my home. For six years past, to properly represent the people of New Jersey, I have been compelled to spend my time in Washington. My wife and children lived there with me and so that they may live in comfort I had there a home. The people of New Jersey, especially the workmen, who saw how I fought for their protection, will answer whether they prefer that I should live in New Jersey exclusively, visiting Washington occasionally, or whether I should be on the job in Washington in their behalf, occasionally visiting New Jersey."

"The Governor boasts that he does not drink himself, but he does not boast that he has never purchased liquor contrary to the law or caused others to drink."

Has Governor Bought Liquor? "The Governor has talked so much about prohibition and boasts so frequently that he has kept every promise he has made, let him now tell to what extent he has purchased liquor so as to help make New Jersey as wet as the Atlantic Ocean; to what extent he has encouraged bootleggers and how he would keep his assurance that if elected intoxicating liquors will be on sale again. Let him explain how he will place light wines and beer on sale in grocery stores, notwithstanding that before prohibition became part of the law 82 of the 48 states were dry.

"To change the Constitution 86 states of the 48 states must agree. It is generally conceded that 40 of the states will now oppose any change in the Constitution. Let him tell the people how he is going to change the statutes. Let him tell how in the face of the wishes of the 40 of 48 states he will change the Volstead Act or let him confess that he is simply talking nonsense."

President W. E. S. Demarest of Rutgers College, in announcing his support of Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen for re-election last week, said:

"The service of Senator Frelinghuysen in Washington has been very gratifying to me. He has taken a sensible and courageous stand on questions where such a stand seemed to me of highest importance. From the beginning of his term of office New Jersey has been represented in the Senate by one ready to express himself in debate, and ready to bear his full share of the burden of legislative work."

"I have keenly appreciated his position on prohibition enforcement, his stand on the bonus, and his proposal of an expert commission to study the tariff."

"His loyalty to his constituency, to the traditions of his state, and to high ideals of national welfare commands sincere respect and gratitude. It is very important to continue him in the Senate."

Senator Frelinghuysen has his unqualified endorsement," said Mr. Banister. "He has shown that he is all American; he has demonstrated his ability, and has even gone so far as to foresee what is likely to happen in the coming years."

The Difference.
The difference between a success and an ordinary man is usually this: The ordinary man is satisfied to be a second-rater.

Books From Washington's Library.
The sale of the library of the late Samuel Riker of this city was concluded at the Anderson Galleries recently. Dr. A. S. Rosenbach paid $4,000 for George Washington's copy of "A Collection of All the Treaties of Peace, Alliance, and Commerce Between Great Britain and Other Powers From the Treaty Signed at Munster, in 1684, to Treaties Signed at Paris, in 1763," three volumes, London, 1785. The work contains Washington's autograph on each title page and his book plate on the inside of each front cover. The work was auctioned off at the sale of the library of Lawrence Washington, the great grandson of George Washington, in Philadelphia, in 1876.—New York Times.

MISTAKES TO AVOID WITH POTATO SALAD

Overcooking or Too Much Stirring Is Harmful.

Evenly Cut Small Dice Are More Attractive Than Large Chunks—Introduce Onion Flavor by Squeezing Juice Out.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In making potato salad it is well to avoid overcooking the potatoes, also to avoid too much stirring, or the salad will be mushy and unappetizing. Small, evenly cut dice are more attractive than large chunks of potato, advises the United States Department of Agriculture. Cold boiled potatoes can be used when on hand, or the potatoes may be cut up raw and freshly cooked until just done. Onion flavor may be introduced by squeezing the juice over the cooked hot potatoes. This is more acceptable to many persons than bits of chopped onions occurring in the salad. The potato may be mixed with French mayonnaise, or boiled dressing, while still hot. Care should be taken to avoid using too much vinegar in the salad. A tablespoonful of chopped parsley or diced cucumber is a pleasing addition, while chopped celery or radish, diced hard-boiled egg, canned sardines, capers, sour pickles may all be used with good results.

A well-flavored potato salad may be made by cooking a tablespoonful of finely chopped onion in bacon fat until tender, then adding a tablespoonful of chopped celery and two cupsful of sliced raw potatoes. All should be covered with water in a skillet and cooked down till the potatoes are done. Use French salad dressing and mix in about two chopped hard-boiled eggs. Sardines may be added if liked. Serve hot or cold.

HIGHER FUEL VALUE OF FATS

Butter and Cream Are Most Important in Diet of Growing Children—Nuts Are Good.

Fats and fat foods, such as butter, lard, suet, tallow and cooking fats, oil, bacon, salt pork, pork sausages, chocolate, cream, and all nuts, except the chestnut, have a higher fuel value as a class than any other group of foods. Fats add flavor and richness to the diet, but since they are such concentrated fuel foods, are often used in excess of the amount needed. Milk fat is a particularly rich source of vitamins A. Butter and cream are therefore far more important than most other fats in the diet of growing children. Some of these fat foods, for example, chocolate and nuts, contain generous proportions of protein and mineral substances.

Public Service

TWO TINY WIRES

Each Bell Telephone subscriber is connected to the local central office by wires—two tiny wires.

These wires pass through a maze of cables and coils, through delicate apparatus that must be kept in careful adjustment.

And that isn't the end of it, for there must be apparatus to connect each telephone here with any other Bell Telephone in the nation.

The job of building and maintaining this complicated equipment is done by two-fisted men—men who think in terms of never failing service.

Theirs too is the task of installing new telephones, and of maintaining them.

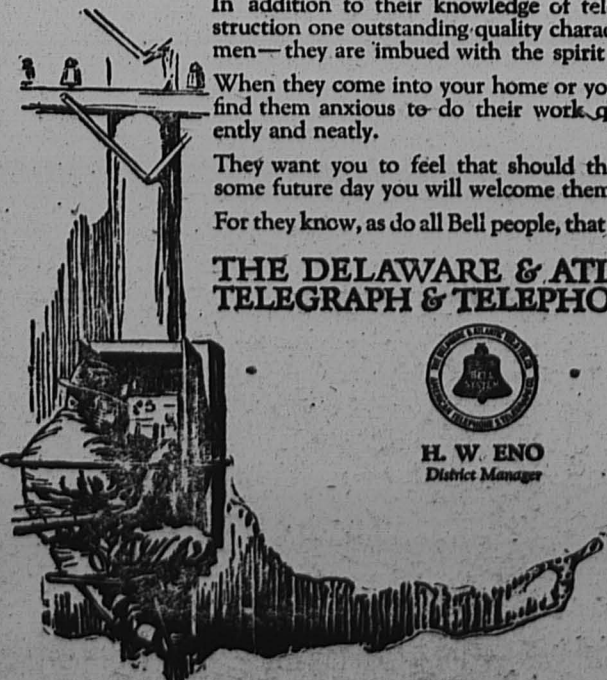

In addition to their knowledge of telephone construction one outstanding quality characterizes these men—they are imbued with the spirit of courtesy.

When they come into your home or your office you find them anxious to do their work quickly, efficiently and neatly.

They want you to feel that should they return at some future day you will welcome them.

For they know, as do all Bell people, that courtesy pays.

The Story of Our States

XLVI.—NEW MEXICO

AS ITS name implies, New Mexico's history is closely allied with Old Mexico. It was the Spanish who were its first explorers. De Vaca visiting this region in 1536 and Coronado four years later. The natives were the Pueblo Indians, although they are sometimes erroneously reputed to have advanced in the arts and had a comparatively high civilization. These Indians were conquered in 1598 by Juan de Onate and became subject to Spanish rule, being forced to work the mines and pay tribute. Missions were established and Santa Fe was founded about 1680.

Except for a period of ten years when the Indians revolted and maintained their independence, New Mexico remained under Spanish control until in 1821 Mexico gained its independence from Spain and New Mexico became a province of Mexico. Thus it remained until the outbreak of the Mexican war, when in 1846 Colonel Kearny marched from Fort Leavenworth with his troops, occupied Santa Fe and declared this region a part of the United States. By the Treaty with Mexico in 1848, the upper part of the state was formally ceded to the United States and the Territory of Mexico was organized in 1850, which reached from Texas to California.

Arizona was set off from New Mexico in 1893 and a few years later a portion was contributed to Colorado. Application for admission as a state started in 1900, but it was not until 1910 that New Mexico became the forty-seventh state.

New Mexico ranks fourth in size among the states with an area of 122,634 square miles, but is sparsely populated and accordingly has only three electoral votes for President.

"Marriage," he snipped.

He Prayed

He prayed, yes, he prayed for his soul was sad.
It seemed there were times when the world was mad.
He saw all the greed and the rush for wealth.
Of love for the truth he saw not a trace.

He prayed in his home when his heart seemed rent.
He prayed while his mind on God was intent.
"O Lord, grant that I may learn how to live,
May know how to chasten my soul and give My life and my all though Thy grace is free.
But first, dearest Lord, my love I give Thee."

He prayed on his way at the rise of the sun.
He prayed on his way when the day was done.
He prayed for his fellows who wrought with him.
He prayed for the doubter whose faith was dim.
"O God, grant that now we may love and trust,
May pass through this battle of hate and lust."

He prayed as he sat in the "House of Prayer."
He prayed and forgot every load and care.
He prayed as they read from the Book of Truth.
He prayed with the old. He prayed with the youth.

"Lord make this an hour when our hearts beat true,
An hour when Thy grace shall our souls renew."
He prayed and they knew that his prayers were heard.
They witnessed his passion, yet heard not a word.
They gave up their hate. They gave up their lust.
Acknowledged their sin, in God placed their trust.
"O Lord, may we all find in Thee our peace.
May we pray as he prayed 'till death release."

High Seas.

The term "high seas" is the open sea or ocean. The claims of various nations to exclusive rights and control over extensive tracts of the ocean highways have been settled after much controversy by a general international law. The principle now accepted is that the jurisdiction of maritime states extends only for three miles off their own coast; the remainder of the seas being high seas, accessible on equal terms to all nations. Inland seas and estuaries, of course, are excepted.

Too Bad!

Little Helen, aged six, was taken to her first baseball game. She became quite excited when her father cheered some particular play and waved his arms. Helen followed suit. At the critical stage, in the eighth inning, the batter got to first and then scooted for second, which he managed to reach just in time by a perfect slide. Helen was quite distressed and turning to her mother she said: "Oh, mama, what a pity! The poor man slipped."—Boston Transcript.

Thirty Years Ago

Tax comparisons are always interesting. In 1892 Cinnaminson township, which at that time took in what is now Riverton, Palmyra and Cinnaminson township, paid into the county taxes amounting to $10,740.35. In 1922 this territory paid about $70,000. In 1892 the tax rate in the district known as Riverton was $140; Palmyra $1.35 and the country district 90c.

The "new" school house was dedicated September 1. The program included addresses by Rev. C. W. Nevin, Rev. C. S. Fowleson and Albert J. Borie. The teachers were Miss Laura Fortner, principal; Miss Mabel Irwin, intermediate; and Miss Ida Harris, primary.

In the advertising columns of that time were found the names of Alfred Collier, tailor, Lewis Out, hardware dealer, John Quigley, boarding and livery stables, Troth & Co., dry goods dealers, the Riverton News Agency, run by George W. Tucker, who also conducted a package express service between Riverton and Philadelphia, carrying the bundles strapped to his back, and using the railroad train for transportation; R. L. Temple, real estate; Anton Sackard, milkman; D. R. Vandersmith, photographer; Grant & Lowden, builders; Harry Rohman, hardware; J. T. Hotchkiss, newsdealer; Heath's Express, plying between Riverton, Palmyra and Philadelphia, and using a fine wagon and team of horses; William H. Libe, grocer; Mrs. Kate Langin, cigar store; William J. McIlhenny, plumber, and many others, a few of whom are still in business here.

The deaths of John G. Whittier, the Quaker poet, on September 7, 1892, and Lord Alfred Tennyson, on October 7, were noted in the columns of The New Era.

William L. Fichter, of Palmyra, was transferred to Mount Hope as assistant superintendent for the Prudential Insurance Company, in September 1892, and moved there with his family. After remaining in Mount Hope for a little less than two years, he moved to Millville, where he lived for two years, then returning to Palmyra, where he has been ever since.

In October, 1892, Ivins D. Jessup resigned as station agent at Riverton, and Horace G. Stonaker was appointed to the position.

The enclosed porch of the Samuel Cook house on Main street, which is noted for the beauty of the flowers which bloomed there, was constructed in 1892.

In 1892 a petition was circulated and signed for the extension of the Main street sewer from the railroad to "the woods," where Howard Parry now has his residence.

It seems that Caleb V. Atkinson, the artist who lived in West Palmyra, had another accomplishment, too. He was held to be very good with the violin. One of his sisters was reported to have said, "No use talking, boys, he's a fiddlin' piece o' furniture."

CHEER WET ORATIONS

Enthusiasm Vocalized when Democratic Speakers Rap Prohibition

Governor Edwards, Democratic candidate for Senate; Judge Silzer, candidate for Governor, and a number of other prominent State and county Democrats toured Burlington county last Saturday, stopping at Palmyra and Riverton shortly before 3 o'clock.

"Jim" Baker, president of the State Board of Taxation, the oration in Palmyra and aroused cheers and laughter when he attacked Edwards' opponent, Senator Frelinghuysen, for his alleged wet cellar under his dry platform.

Baker found some of the ladies present applauding his remarks in favor of booze with considerable enthusiasm and made an especial plea to them.

The Governor, who looked tired, and the Judge, saved their oratory for the bigger places and contented themselves while here with shaking hands. Mr. Edwards was presented with a big bouquet by his local admirers.

ACTION DEMANDED

Asks Why Governor Edwards Boasts of Violation of Laws He Is Sworn to Enforce

"The statement made by Governor Edwards on Saturday last at Riverton that 'this office has evidence that there are more than 3,000 illegal stills in Burlington County' is astounding, if true," said Samuel Wilson, assistant State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New Jersey, in a statement given to the press. "I would suggest," continued Mr. Wilson, "that it is the duty of their Honors Mr. Justice Samuel Kalisch, or County Judge Harold B. Wells, of Burlington county, to immediately instruct the Grand Jury to investigate this serious charge made by our Chief Magistrate, and call on the Governor to produce his evidence. Nine thousand stills in Burlington county means one for every 27 man, woman and child, or one for every five families. "One naturally wonders why the Governor has made so careful an investigation of Burlington county. On the basis of his figures there must be not less than 116,885 illicit stills in New Jersey; thus proving how successful Edwards has been in his efforts to make New Jersey as wet as the Atlantic Ocean."

"Our veracious Chief Magistrate overlooks the fact that such wild talk is an impeachment of himself and his administration, and a plea of guilty to his indictment in the Court of Public Opinion. He is required by the Constitution of New Jersey to take care that the laws be carefully executed, and the possession of a still is a violation of New Jersey law. Edwards is Commander-in-Chief of all the military and naval forces of the State, yet he publicly parades his own derelictions of office, and glories in his shame."

Stop Miscegenation

"There is, I believe, only one specific cure for miscegenation," says an eminent physician, "and that is a small dose of vinegar, sweetened with as much sugar as it will absorb. I have used this remedy when the annoyance has passed almost into the dangerous stage, and never knew a case which one dose would not relieve and two cure."

PALMYRA'S STORM SEWER

Proposes Large Concrete Conduit for Surface Drainage. Riverton's Help May Be Asked

The Palmyra Township Committee at its regular meeting Tuesday evening decided to hold a meeting next Wednesday evening with builders, contractors, architects and others interested in the proposed building code. This action was taken at the suggestion of Committeeman Hartley, following a request from the Chamber of Commerce that some disposition be made of a code submitted by the Chamber several months ago.

The meeting will be held in the police station. Engineer Vosbury presented plans for the proposed extension of the storm sewer from Morgan avenue to the river. He said a 36-inch main would cost about $17,000 and a 42-inch main, which would be more adequate to the needs of the situation, about $19,000.

He described to the committeemen a new tunnel boring apparatus, just patented, which goes under the ground like a mole and lays a concrete sewer in its trail. This committee, he said, had submitted a moderate bid for the Palmyra work.

Mr. Hartley is to take up the proposition with Riverton, which also has water to dispose of by way of the sewer.

A request by C. H. Gobrecht for another light on Pear street was granted. Mr. Gobrecht said the citizens on his street were anxious to provide sidewalks and make other improvements if encouraged by the Township Committee.

A bill for making a survey for a sidewalk caused considerable discussion and it was decided to amend the ordinance on the subject so as to settle such matters for the future.

The Committee, at a meeting last Saturday afternoon, formally took over the sewer system and passed a resolution of appreciation of the work of the contractors and engineers.

STRANGE ANIMAL KILLED

Had Been Raiding Hen Roosts for Weeks, Defying All Attempts to Kill or Capture It

The experiences of a band of local hunters tried and true, last Saturday afternoon, read like a chapter from pioneer days of the Wild and Woolly West.

For weeks a strange looking animal too large for a fox and too quick for a dog, had been raiding hen roosts on the farms all about the neighborhood. Several gunning parties and many individual farmers had tried to run the animal to earth without success.

William Paul, of Moorestown, who enjoys a wide reputation as a Nimrod, sallied forth with gun and dogs, but the animal kept to his lair. Later Eli H. Rudderow, another marksman of repute, of Moorestown, who has a fine pack of fox hounds, tried his luck with no better results.

Last Saturday afternoon Herman Denner, the rural mail carrier, who knows every nook and cranny of this section of Burlington county like a book, called his friends together and mapped out a campaign for the capture of the mysterious creature.

The three Reidenbaker brothers and several other friends were enrolled. The party had gone but a short distance when they saw an animal answering the description of the chicken thief enter a woods on the Church road, between Riverton and Moorestown, carrying a chicken, which he had just caught.

Quickly and silently a cordon was thrown around the woods and the dogs were sent in to work the critter out. In a few minutes the dogs located their quarry and started him toward the edge of the woods. Following in the direction of the baying of the dogs the little party of hunters were grouped near the point where the animal broke from cover with the pack of dogs close at his heels.

Denner fired, crippling the beast and Alexander Reidenbaker got the finishing shot. Denner, by virtue of drawing first blood, got the skin, which he is having cured for a rug for his den. After a conference it was decided that the animal was a coyote, and his presence in this part of the country was a mystery until it was learned that it had escaped from Elwood Hoepfner, of Palmyra, who brought two of them from the West. Both animals escaped and the other one is still at large, to furnish another exciting hunt later. It was dark gray in color and weighed between forty and fifty pounds.

The boys brought the carcass to Riverton and exhibited it to a crowd of curious and interested spectators.

SEWER PLANT INSPECTED

Palmyra's New Disposal Plant Officially Accepted by Township Committee

Quite a crowd attended the formal opening of Palmyra's new sewer system last Saturday afternoon.

The township officials, the engineers and the contractors were all present and showed how the pumping station and sewer disposal plant worked.

Water has been allowed to flow into the well of the pumping station and it was demonstrated how the pumps were turned on automatically when the water reached a certain height and stopped when enough had been pumped out.

The spectators were then taken to the disposal plant where they saw the water running into the clarification tank. The liquid was carried around a maze of channels, weirs and baffle boards, which gives an opportunity for the solids to sink to the bottom before the water itself is carried off the river.

The sludge digestion tank was next explained. The sludge, in liquid form, are from time to time, forced from the bottom of the clarification tank into the digestion tank where it remains while chemical processes go on automatically within the matter to render it harmless. After several days of this process valves are opened which allows the sludge to be expelled to the drying beds where the liquid evaporates or is drained away and the solids remain in a thin film on top of the sand, from which it is eventually removed with a thin shovel.

Winfield Land will oversee the pumping station and the rest of the works to keep them operating properly. The whole system is now in use and connections are being made rapidly.

The plant is enclosed in a strong wire fence and the ground has been terraced up about the concrete tanks and planted with grass seed.

The township has two and a half acres of land about the plant and Engineer Vosbury urged that steps be taken to beautify the plot and make it into a park to which citizens would be proud to take visitors when showing them the town improvements.

The park idea attracted much favorable comment.

SILZER EVADING THE BIG ISSUES, RUNYON INSISTS

Judge Asked to Explain What He Would Do to Highway Board.

SENATOR QUESTIONS HIM ABOUT PUBLIC SERVICE

Explanation of His Silence on Probing Corporation Is Requested.

"Will Judge Silzer assure the taxpayers of a 'new deal' in the State Highway Department? How could he so promise if, as 'Jim' Nugent pledges him, he will continue the policies of Governor Edwards?"

"Why is he silent on the issue of subjecting the Public Service Corporation to inquiry and regulation?"

These questions have been directed at Judge Silzer by former Senator Runyon in the latter's charge that the Democratic gubernatorial nominee is evading the real issues of the campaign.

"Do you know in the same county inquired of the electorate, 'that in the home county of the Democratic candidate a road has been constructed by the State Highway Commission at a cost of $182,000 a mile?'"

"Do you know in the same county $280,000 was paid for approaches to the proposed new Perth Amboy bridge, though those approaches were appraised at $90,000 and could have been obtained by condemnation proceedings?"

"Does Judge Silzer claim ignorance of these acts of the State Highway Commission, occurring in a neighborhood with which he is peculiarly familiar?"

"We believe the state is in the grip of a paving monopoly. We assert that the principal agent of this monopoly is a former Jersey City police commissioner who is a vital link in the Hague machine today, though he is now a 'constituent' of 'Jim' Nugent's in Essex county."

"Does Judge Silzer deny New Jersey pays an average of $28,000 a mile for patented pavement roads than does Pennsylvania, where open bidding prevails? Is Judge Silzer willing to continue accepting the support of those gentlemen who mould and carry out the policies of the State Highway Commission?"

"The question of road costs goes deep into the issue of high taxes and better transportation facilities, particularly in the rural communities. If the state is to expend millions of dollars in royalties to a favored type of highway construction, it follows that the total mileage of new roads is to be proportionately lessened."

"The Republican party favors adding to the marketing facilities of the farmers. By better transportation methods as well as by encouraging farmers' associations, the Republican platform gives recognition to the needs of the agriculturalists."

"The platform I regard as a sacred contract with the people, something for which in its form as adopted by the convention I feel personally responsible. When the time came to write the platform this year, I found myself in the strange position of having my own will and way; something I never had without fighting while in the legislature."

"I am a candidate today because it has been my good fortune to become acquainted with more people in New Jersey than anyone else. If the old convention system obtained, by no possibility could I have been the candidate. I have gone up and down the state these last three years and I have emerged as a result thereof as the Republican candidate for governor. I have not come forth from retirement at the beck and order of the head of a great Hudson county feudal system."

The assurances "Jim" Nugent gave at Jersey City meeting that Judge Silzer would perpetuate the policies of Governor Edwards, has been seized upon by Mr. Runyon to warn the electorate anew against the influences to which the Democratic candidate is susceptible. "The circumstances surrounding the nomination of Judge Silzer make him the creature of Frank Hague," Mr. Runyon charges. "We now find 'Jim' Nugent joining Frank Hague in extending solemn assurances that Judge Silzer is 'safe.' What secret compact has Judge Silzer made justifying this announcement for him by 'Jim' Nugent? Why doesn't the Judge speak out for himself instead of delegating a discredited boss to be his mouthpiece?"

Bearskins in Summer.

The Turkish peasant in Asia Minor believe in keeping out the heat as well as the cold, and it is not uncommon to see in many parts of the country people wearing huge bearskin coats in the midst of summer, with the thermometer standing at 100 degrees.

His Family Pays the Penalty

No man suffers any himself by failing to make a Will, but when he dies his family does suffer from his neglect.

Added expense, delay in settling the estate, and arbitrary distribution of the property are experiences from which every family suffers when there is no Will.

Now is the time to safeguard your family's future by having an attorney draw your Will and by naming the Cinnaminson National Bank as executor and trustee.

Its continued life, and financial responsibility are compelling reasons for choosing this bank as executor and trustee of your estate.

$2000 TO ENFORCE DRY LAWS

Prosecutor Gets More Funds to Run Down Law Violators

Prosecutor Kelsey presented a written request to the Board of Freehold will be held Thursday and Friday.
Mount Holly, that the sum of $2,000 be appropriated to pay investigators who are doing work in connection with his department.

Mr. Russ said he was surprised at this request, as he had had a conversation with the official on October 2d relative to $1,400 that had been appropriated some months ago for the same purpose—the investigations of prohibition violations—and at that time the Prosecutor promised that no more funds would be needed this year.
Mr. Russ objected to granting the money also on the ground that no itemized account of the previous expenditures had been filed, as required by statute.

The board sent for Mr. Kelsey and upon his arrival went into executive session, after which it was announced that the appropriation of $2,000 had been granted, and that itemized statements would be filed without fail both for past and future expenditures.

The sum of $2,000 was appropriated to assist in paying the expenses incident to the exercises to be held on Armistice Day, when county roads named after famous battles in France, in which Burlington county soldiers participated, will be dedicated by the Freeholders and the American Legion.

Find Sixty-four Indictments

The grand jury made a return on Thursday of last week of 64 bills of indictment, of which 35 were for violation of the Hobart prohibition enforcement act.

In reply to one of the jurors, Mr.
Coles, who said it had been reported there were no funds with which to continue liquor investigations, Judge Wells stated that no expense was to be spared, and intimated that the fines which would be imposed upon defendants found guilty would more than recompense the county for money expended.

A delegation of citizens of the county, who had addressed a letter to the grand jury relative to liquor violations that are going on in every district, was given permission to appear before the jury. One of the delegation, it is reported, made a request that the assistant prosecutor or anyone connected with that office withdraw from the room while the conference was being held. This request was refused by the grand jury, and the delegation then withdrew. Later each was served with a subpoena to appear singly before the jury that afternoon, which was done.

Nearly all those charged with violations of the prohibition law were foreigners. Among those who pleaded not guilty was Mike Krouse, of Larry.

George Chambers, of Palmyra, accused of assault and battery and threats by Jimmie Jones, pleaded guilty to assault; not guilty to intent to kill.

RIOT ON THE FERRY

Captain Subdues Belligerent Passenger with an Axe Handle

The Palmyra fire whistle blew a riot call last Friday afternoon. The trouble was at the ferry on the South Jacksonville, where the crew had a run-in with a number of passengers.

It appears that some of the workmen using the boat had been in the habit of undoing the gates themselves and disembarking before the boat had been fully docked. This is contrary to government regulations and if continued would cause the captain to lose his license.

There was a minor clash Thursday and on Friday it seems that both sides came prepared to a certain extent. In the tussle which followed, the captain is said to have hit George E. Swain, of Five Points, over the head with an axe handle.

Two men, Lawrence and Daniel McCarty, of Merchantville, were arrested and held under $200 bond to keep the peace. At the hearing it was alleged that the ungentlemanly conduct of one of the deck hands was responsible for some of the trouble.

Captured Man Robbed in Blanket

Through the efforts of Freeholder
George W. Rogers, of Palmyra, Thomas Sands, of Moorestown, and Daniel Lemon, of Browns Mills, an inmate of the Burlington County Insane Asylum, New Lisbon, who escaped from the institution, was recaptured in the woods near Browns Mills last week.

The man was Henry Wells, of Indian Mills, who was taken to the County Insane Asylum by Sheriff
Flagg on Thursday.

Rogers and Sands were on their way home from the Burlington County Firemen's Jubilee at Browns Mills some time after ten o'clock when they saw a queer looking figure stalking down the road ahead of them. He seemed to be wrapped in a blanket and from their angle might be an Indian chief.

As they drew near the man Rogers and Sands recognized him as the one they had seen Sheriff Flagg taking to the asylum that afternoon. Immediately Sands jumped out of the machine and seized the patient. But seizing wasn't easy. Throwing off his blanket the man certainly was stripped for action. He had only an
get a grip on it that would hold. Before Rogers could come to his assistance the man was hustling for the adjacent woods.

Parking their car the two men started after the fleeing patient, and were joined by Lemon and others who happened along. After considerable search he was found in the woods by Lemon, but it was not until after something of a battle he finally was subdued and placed in an automobile. At the same time more blankets were found and he again was dressed Indian fashion. It was necessary to tie the man hands and feet to keep him in the machine.

When Wells had been quieted by his captors he was returned to the county institution.

RACING SEASON ENDS

Postponed Labor Day Race Won by New L. I. Boat

The Riverton Yacht Club brought to a close last Saturday an unusually successful racing season.
With the spring, summer and fall series decided, interest was centered in the special races which were postponed on Labor Day for lack of breze.

By clever seamanship the final L. I. race was won by the latest addition to the Riverton fleet, the "Snapper" known as No. 6, and owned by Garner Crowell.

In the 16-foot class Charles Seber, a sea scout from Holmesburg, was the winner. He sailed the "Nine Bells."

The cup winners for the entire season are as follows:

Special races, Decoration Day—

L. I. class won by No. 7, sailed by

F. W. Robertson.

Special races, July 4th—

L. I. class won by No. 7, sailed by

F. W. Robertson.

16-foot class won by the "Captain

Kid" sailed by John Dunham.

Open class won by the "Tradegian-tia" sailed by E. K. Merrill.

Summer series—

L. I. class won by No. 4, sailed by

Ocean Mattis.

16-foot class won by the "Adnama" sailed by Malcolm Dickinson.

Special Labor Day races—

L. I. class won by No. 6, sailed by

W. H. Baker, Jr.

16-foot class won by the "Nine Bells" sailed by Charles Seber.

Fall series—

L. I. class won by No. 4, sailed by

Ocean Mattis.

16-foot class won by the "Yankee" sailed by Edgar Miller, Jr.

When the 1923 season opens another L. I. boat will probably be added to the fleet, which will make five of these beautiful and fast boats to compete with each other for next year's cups.

In the 16-foot class there will be eight boats, all sailed by youngsters who are learning the fine points of yacht racing, and who will in a few years be ready to make the now more experienced skippers look to their laurels.

The keen competition developed and the fine sportsmanship displayed during the season just closed was worthy of the interest with which the races were followed by the majority of the Club's membership, and Rivertonians in general.

LOCALS WIN AT QUILTS

Triumph Over Medford by Twelve Points, Although Dividing Games

A number of Medford quilt enthusiasts visited Palmyra Saturday to play the local representatives of the Palmyra Quilt League.

Of the eighteen games played, each team won nine, but as the honors were based on points, Palmyra took the decision by a margin of twelve, which gives an idea of the close "pitching."

It is planned to play a game at Medford on Saturday, November 4th, and should Medford be the winner,
the "rubber" will be played off at Palmyra on a later date.

Magnolia Victorious 13-9

Showing a complete reverse of form over that displayed in the Metro game, our pigskin chasers went down for defeat before Magnolia by the score of 13-9 last Saturday on The Field Club grounds.

The first quarter was marred by
and a touchdown was luckily prevented when a Magnolia man, after catching a forward pass dropped the ball going over the line.

In the best played in the whole game, Anderson's and Hollingshead's line smashing brought the ball to Magnolia's 25-yard line from where Hylton stepped back and dropped one over for the first score.

Magnolia had no trouble piercing Riverton's right side of the line in the third and fourth quarters, and scored two touchdowns. The boys put up a great fight in the dying minutes of the game with some effective line-smashing by Anderson, and scored their lone touchdown, making the final score 13-9.

The players on the Riverton team who deserve particular mention were Bowers, Holvick, Anderson, and Hollingshead.

Next Saturday the Reserves will line up against the Riverton Quakers, while the first team will play Berkshire. Game starts at 2:15.

Country Club Bowling

The thirteen bowling teams at the Country Club opened the season last Monday week with the result that at the end of the week the teams stood as follows on October 21, 1922.

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Murray	3	0	1.000
Graff	5	1	.833
Staunton	2	1	.666
Evans	4	2	.666
Wright	2	1	.666
Willits	2	1	.666
Boehme	2	1	.666
Davis	1	3	.333
Vaughan	2	4	.333
Ayres	2	4	.333
Jones	2	4	.333
Coe	1	2	.333
Hirst	0	6	.000

The surprise of the week is the standing of Coe's and Hirst's teams in the cellar positions as these two teams contain some of the best bowlers in the league. It is expected that these teams will not remain in their present positions very long and will soon begin to climb up toward the top of the heap.

sentative only to those who vote.

MESSIAH'S MINISTRY (WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY)

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 61:1-3.
GOLDEN TEXT—Righteousness ex-alteth a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people.—Prov. 14:34.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Matt. 7:15-
20; Rom. 14:14.

PRIMARY TOPIC—How Four Boys Became Healthy and Happy.—Dan. 1:3-20.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Destroying the World's Enemy.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC
—The Next Step in the Prohibition Campaign.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC —Progress of Prohibition Throughout the World.

The lesson committee has gratitously named this lesson "World-wide Prohibition." Neither the text nor the context, directly or implied, says anything about prohibition as we understand the use of the word. However, when Messiah shall reign upon the earth the rum traffic with all other iniquitous practices will be abolished.

1. Messiah's Commission (v. 1).
He was appointed by the Lord, God's plan for the world is a time of peace and blessing.

11. Messiah's Program (v. 1, 2).
Messiah's program is twofold: to proclaim the acceptable year of the Lord, and the day of vengeance of our God. The careful reading of Luke 4:18-21 will show that Jesus suspended reading of this passage at the comma, in Isaiah 61:2. His first coming opened up the day of "grace and the acceptable year of the Lord," and His second coming will usher in "the day of vengeance of our God."
(II Thess. 1:7-10; cf. Mal. 3:1-3).

1. Proclaiming the Acceptable Year of the Lord (v. 1, 2). In His ministry of grace He preached (1) "good tidings to the meek," "Meek" here means not only a grace, but a condition, that is, those in poverty and affliction. (2) "Bind up the broken-hearted." "Bind up" signifies healing.
(3) "Liberty to the captives." The
lonian captivity is used to describe deliverance from sin and death (Heb.
2:15). (4) "Opening of the prison to them that are bound." Messiah's work was to give deliverance to those who were enslaved by the consequences of their sins. (5) "The acceptable year of the Lord." This means a space of time in which God would accept all who repent of their sins and come to Him.

2. Proclaiming the day of vengeance of God (v. 2). While the day of mercy is lengthened out, the time of judgment will surely come. The day of vengeance will break upon the world when the Lord shall be revealed from heaven (II Thess. 1:7-10). The period of mercy is called "year," while the period of vengeance is called "day," showing that the period of mercy is much longer than the period of wrath.
111. The Blessings of Messiah's Kingdom (v. 3).

1. "Comfort all that mourn" (v. 2).
The day of vengeance will bring sorrow to many, but they shall be comforted when they shall see the King on the throne.

2. "Give unto them beauty for ashes" (v. 3). This peculiarly applies to Israel.

3. "Oil of Joy for Mourning" (v. 3).
Israel has been mourning for centuries. When the Messiah shall reign as King they shall be glad.

4. "Garment of Praise for the Spirit of Heaviness" (v. 3). Instead of wearing the symbol of the burden of sin they shall be clothed so as to indicate their joyfulness.

5. "Called Trees of Righteousness"
(v. 3). These trees represent Israel as planted by God and bearing fruit, not as reeds bowed down with sorrow.

6. "They Shall Build the Old Wastes" (v. 4). Israel shall return to their own land and shall rebuild the city of Jerusalem and the cities of Judah which lie waste.

7. "Strangers Shall Stand and Feed Your Flocks" (v. 5). In the time of the kingdom the Gentiles shall render voluntary service unto Israel so that Israel may devote her whole time to the service of God.

8. "Ye Shall Be Named the Priests of the Lord" (v. 6). God chose Israel to be the priestly nation to represent Him to the Gentiles.

9. "For Your Shame Ye Shall Have Double" (v. 7). Instead of the shame and confusion which Israel has experienced for centuries she shall have double honor and rejoicing.

10. "I Will Direct Their Work, and Make a Covenant With Them" (v. 8).

9). God will vindicate His people and cause the Gentiles to see the divine favor upon them.

REPUBLICAN WOMEN ORGANIZE

Cinnaminson, Palmyra and Riverton
Join in Strong Organization.
Judge Wells to Address Meeting—November First.

The C. P. R. (Cinnaminson-Palmyra-Riverton) unit of the New Jersey State Women's Club was organized in Riverton Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Nellie Russell, of Burlington, first vice chairman of the Burlington County Republican Committee.

Mrs. Alice G. Sherman, of Moorestown, and member of the State Republican Committee from Burlington County, spoke to the ladies on the subject of taking their proper part in the political life which had been opened to them through the franchise. She said that politics affected every activity of life, and that women could do valuable work in seeing that the right kind of men are selected to fill the offices.

Mrs. Joseph T. Evans, of Cinnaminson township, was elected president; Mrs. Mary King, of Palmyra, first vice chairman; Mrs. William G. Porter, of Riverton, secretary; Mrs. Fred P. Hemphill, Riverton, treasurer.

The dues are 25c a year. Officers will be elected annually at the November meeting, and not less than three meetings are to be held every year.

The next meeting of the unit will be held in P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, Wednesday afternoon, November 1, at three o'clock, at which time an address will be delivered by Judge Harold B. Wells.

All women are cordially invited.

Parent-Teacher Reception

The sixth annual reception of the Parent-Teacher Association to parents and teachers of the Riverton public school, held in the school auditorium on Thursday evening, October 19, was well attended. The auditorium looked inviting with rugs, easy chairs, huge bowls of flowers, and potted plants tastefully arranged about the room.

Music was furnished throughout the evening by the Palmyra High School orchestra.

Mrs. L. E. Carpenter extended a cordial welcome to the guests, and Miss Hannah Chew, supervising principal of the school, spoke about the work of the children and the cooperation of parents and teachers, and extended an invitation to parents to attend assembly on Monday and Friday mornings from 9 to 9:45 a. m.

A delightful musical program, arranged by the entertainment committee, of which Mrs. John Hackett is chairman, consisted of two well rendered piano solos by Mrs. Lee Hulet, pleasing vocal solos by Mrs. Augustus L. Wilson, and readings by Miss Gail Ellsworth in her usual inimitable style.

C. W. Kipp, president of the Riverton school board, spoke a few words commending the work of the Parent-Teacher Association, and strongly urged every mother and father to become a member of the Association.

During the evening ice cream and crackers were served and all present enjoyed the pleasant gathering.

Porch Club News

A rare musical treat is in store on Thursday evening, November ninth, when through the generosity of C. J. Heppes & Son, of Philadelphia, and under the auspices of the Porch Club of Riverton, the members of the Duo-Art Piano will be artistically demonstrated by Miss Elizabeth Hood Latta and Mr. Robert Ambruster, both of whom are pianists of note.

This concert, to be held in Christ Church parish house, Riverton, is one of a series of five to be given for the New Jersey Federation of Music Clubs, the other four to be in Camden, Haddonfield, Merchantville and Woodbury.

On Tuesday, October thirty-first, at 2:30 p. m., Mrs. Stanley Addicks, of Philadelphia, will give "Memories and Reminiscences of Walt Whitman."

This promises to be an especially interesting afternoon because of Mrs. Addicks' personal acquaintance with the poet.

The program will also include some "Two Minute Talks" by members of the Club.

An executive board meeting will precede the program, at 1:30 p. m.

Members of the Epworth M. E. Church held a social in the Porch Club last Friday evening. The following officers for the coming year were elected: E. W. Dillon, president; Mrs. C. Hardecker, vice president; A. L. Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. James D. Sproul, secretary; and James D. Sproul, assistant secretary.

The monthly meeting of the League of Women Voters will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Stellwagen, 426 Linden avenue, Riverton, on Monday, October 30, at 2 o'clock. George N. Wimer will be the speaker of the occasion and the League is especially desirous of having every member to attend and bring a friend.

An automobile was driven down Broad street Wednesday morning with several sticks of lumber protruding three to four feet from the left side of the car with no red flag to warn passersby of the danger. This thing happened frequently and should be stopped before serious damage is done.

William T. Tilden, the tennis star, who played in Riverton, recently for benefit of the Burlington County Hospital, is suffering from infection of the middle finger on his right hand, following a scratch which he received in the contest here. He was operated on Wednesday morning at the Germantown hospital.

It is evident that drastic police action will be necessary to break up a nuisance which has been going on for some time at the Riverton railroad station. Some of the boys who hang around this place have been annoying drivers of cars by calling them back when they pass the station. Tuesday night one man was called back three times.

Much interest is being shown in the automobile race at the Calvary Presbyterian Christian Endeavor Society, as was shown by the attendance of over forty at the Sunday night meeting. It is understood that any of the drivers will be glad to let any of their friends ride in either car. Further particulars may be had at the Chapel at 7:15 this Sunday night.

A load of paper being hauled down Broad street by a junk dealer took fire at noon on Tuesday and for a time there was considerable excitement in that neighborhood. The man dumped the paper in the street, thereby saving his horse and wagon. The Riverton fire company was quickly on the scene with its chemical engine and put out the flames. The lawn in the neighborhood were littered with bits of paper from the bales.

Clinton B. Woolston expects to receive a "Star" car today (Friday) which he will have on exhibition at his garage.

BIG YEAR'S WORK

Resume of Work Done by Burlington County Free Library.

A year ago, October 1, the Burlington County Free Library was opened.

The year's work has been largely one of organization. Including the rural schools we have established 101 stations. Our collection of books either supplemented resources of already established libraries, or in communities where there are no such libraries, they are placed in private homes, stores, post offices, grange halls, public schools, Sunday School rooms, a printing office, club rooms, or wherever the community desires to have the station located and the needs of the readers are best served.

We have collections in many of the County Institutions and in the near future hope to serve them all. Through the mails we carry books to the homes of many individuals whose needs are best served in this way. Those desiring books on special subjects may make definite requests of the county library through their local stations and where there is no station, at headquarters in Mount Holly, either in person or by phone or mail. We invite such requests.

During this year we have equipped the headquarters in Mount Holly paid running expenses, purchased the book truck and made available to the people of Burlington county more than 20,000 volumes, of which we own approximately 18,000. This means a total circulation of many times 20,000 since each volume has been used by many different readers during the year.

A collection of 83 graded books, requested by The Helping Teachers of the county for supplementary reading, has been placed in each of the 40 rural schools. High schools and other institutions are served through collections placed in their buildings upon request, and individuals are constantly served in reference work and other supplementary work directly through county library headquarters. We are glad to announce to the art department and others desiring illustrative material that we are building up a collection of pictures that must be borrowed as desired. In addition to our own collection of nearly 200 pictures, we have borrowing privileges from larger libraries in the State already equipped for the service. Another phase of our work with schools is the lending of victrola records for the teaching of music appreciation.

SARAH R. BUDD,
Chairman of Library Commission.

Hockey

Last Saturday the Riverton Field Hockey team lost to the Philadelphia Reds on the Country Club field by the score of 4-2. Miss Graff and Miss Morgan (captain) made the goals for Riverton. On Thursday they played the Germantown Cricket Club at Manheim.

Riverton will play Bryn Mawr College at Bryn Mawr on Saturday.

Classes in Applied Psychology

We are indeed fortunate in having Caroline N. Stine come to Riverton to teach each subject in psychology and elocution. Children's classes at 4 p. m. Adults' classes 7 p. m. on Fridays, beginning October 27, at Emma A. Price School of Music, 416 Lippincott avenue, and continuing on that day each week through the season.

The work in both classes will be practically the same though the children will have the primary course. Self Expression, Dramatic Art, Elocution, Conversation, Poise and all around development taught with the purpose in view that no matter what one's vocation may be he may be able to express what is within himself, thus becoming successful in his undertakings.

Visitors are welcome at any time.

Our Mothers—Old and New

"We read about the mothers Of the days of long ago With their gentle, wrinkled faces, And their hair as white as snow."

"They were middle-aged at forty, At fifty, donned lace caps, At sixty, clung to shoulder shawls And loved their little naps."

"But I love the modern mother Who can share in all the joys And who understands the problems Of her growing girls and boys."

"She may boast that she is sixty, But her heart is twenty-three, My glorious, bright-eyed mother Who is keeping young with me!"

RED CROSS NEWS

The annual chapter meeting of the Burlington County Red Cross was held in Burlington Wednesday in preparation for the Roll Call to be held next month. The new officers for the year elected were Mrs. J. D. Sproul, Riverton, chairman; Mrs. Rogers, Crosswicks, first vice chairman; Mrs. C. Schuyler, Florence, second vice chairman; Miss Mary Sampson, Burlington, secretary-treasurer.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

THE FEMALE STRANGER

VISITORS to the cemetery attached to St. Paul's church in Alexandria, Va., seldom leave without examining the inscription upon a handsome monument which is one of the outstanding places of interest in the city as well as one of the most baffling riddles of identity which the passage of more than a century has failed to solve. This inscription comprises within a few lines all that the world knows of the woman in question, for it reads:

TO THE MEMORY OF THE FEMALE STRANGER

Whose mortal sufferings terminated on the fourth day of October, 1818, and twenty-eight years and eight months, this stone is erected by her disconsolate husband in whose arms she breathed out her last sigh, and who, under God, did his utmost to soothe the dull, cold ear of death.

That is all—and the most determined efforts of the residents of Alexandria during the first half of the last century, failed to throw the slightest light upon the mystery.

The facts in the case are few, but, such as they are, they are supported by the unassailable evidence of a number of persons who were eyewitnesses to the brief public appearance of the "female stranger." The first of these was docked at Alexandria on July 25, 1816, en route from Halifax to the West Indies. The Virginia city was not a port of call on the regular route, but the captain stated that one of his passengers had been taken dangerously ill and that her husband had demanded that she be put ashore at Alexandria, where a boat was lowered, and a man and woman, the latter apparently very ill, were taken ashore.

Despite the heat of mid-summer, the woman wore a heavy black veil, and her husband secured the best suite in the Inn of the Bunch of Grapes, as well as the services of a well-known physician whom he engaged only after pledging him to strictest secrecy. Even in the presence of the doctor, however, the woman's face was kept veiled, and the husband steadily refused to hire a nurse, saying that he was entirely capable of handling the case and that he was able to do anything that a nurse could do.

As the weeks of scorching hot weather progressed, however, the man began to wilt under the constant strain of watching beside the bed, and finally agreed to permit two of the guests in the Inn to help him—but only after they had taken an oath that nothing they might learn would ever be divulged, an oath which was kept as a sacred trust.

During the ten weeks which followed the woman's arrival in Alexandria, she grew steadily worse, and at last, at dawn on October 4, her husband announced that she had died. Then, for fear that someone might see the face which he had kept hidden from the world, he himself prepared the body for burial, sealed the lid of the coffin, and, after attending the funeral and ordering the headstone with the strange inscription, disappeared.

On October 4 of the following year, Alexandria was surprised at the sudden and unheralded return of the husband, who remained in the city only long enough to place flowers on the grave of the "female stranger," and to see that the plot in the cemetery was well taken care of. Once a year, for twelve years, he returned. Then his visits ceased and the grave was neglected until, a number of years later, a distinguished elderly man and woman came and ordered the monument to be replaced by another and more costly headstone bearing the same inscription, with the addition of the verse:

How loved, how honored once, awaits thee not,
To whom related, or by whom begot;
A heap of dust alone remains of thee,
'Tis all thou art, and all the proud shall be.

They, too, vanished—taking with them the secret of the identity of the woman whose history and personality is forever hidden from the world behind three words "The Female Stranger."

Novel Shooting Feat

An interesting experiment in freak rifle shooting was described recently by an English officer. "I have fired an ordinary wax candle through four deal boards placed a foot apart," he said. "I used six inches of wax candle and thirty-three grains of powder with the usual wads. The shot was removed by cutting off the top half-inch of the case, and a candle weighing one and a quarter ounces was inserted. I fired at a range of about five yards. Each plank was perforated. There were plenty of pieces of dry wax on all the boards, but the first. When fired against planks placed immediately back to back, the candle went through the first and was brought up by the solid weight of wood of the other three." Major Hardcastle added that a certain ramshead won many bets by shooting candles through a space.

Three Times and Out

Diner—Walter, do you mean to say this is the fish I ordered?
Walter—Yes, sir.
"Well, it looks like the same fish that the gentleman at the next table refused to eat three minutes ago."
"Yes, sir; we always try it three times before we give it up."—London Answers.

Care of Furniture

Soap should never be used on wood finished with shellac or varnish or treated with furniture wax or oil. It possesses the property of destroying oily and resinous substances, and thus tends to get away the coating, destroy the polish and expose the wood.

RUNYON QUERIES SILZER'S STAND IN FITZHERBERT CASE

G. O. P. Gubernatorial Candidate Discusses Bribery Scandal of a Decade Ago.

ASKS ATTITUDE ON HIGHWAY COMMISSION

Questionnaire Also Deals With Legalizing Beer and Wines Manufacture.

William N. Runyon wants an answer to five questions intimately connected with the Democratic campaign. Other queries are insistently dining themselves into the ears of the Democratic candidates, too, besides the five Mr. Runyon charges Judge Silzer with fearing to discuss in a straightforward manner.

The Republican gubernatorial nominee sees in the record of Silzer's vote saving Senator Fitzherbert, of Morris County, from expulsion from the 1912 Senate a warning to the people against the standards that would guide Silzer in selecting men.

Silzer's attitude toward the Edwards highway commission; his return to political life upon Frank Hague's invitation; the omission of a plank in the Democratic platform to place the Public Service Corporation under the State's jurisdiction, and information as to how the Governor of New Jersey could restore beer and wines lawfully, are other counts in the indictment Senator Runyon brings against Silzer.

Senator Fitzherbert, who figures so prominently in the attacks upon Silzer, was convicted by the 1912 Senate of aiding and abetting in the attempted extortion of $5,000 from the Commercial Acetylene Company for killing two bills affecting its business. The vote was eleven to nine, Silzer, then a Middlesex Senator, being one of the nine. A few days afterward, the Senate passed upon a resolution expelling Fitzherbert.

Silzer voted against this resolution, which was lost for lack of a two-thirds endorsement by the Senate. Five days later, on March 19, 1912, Silzer, with other Democratic senators, addressed a letter to Fitzherbert advising him to resign and thus save the Democratic party from embarrassment. The Dover man, who claimed to be a descendant of British royalty, declined, and nothing further ever was done.

The Republican gubernatorial nominee has challenged Judge Silzer repeatedly to disclose how he would legalize beer and wines, in view of the Eighteenth Amendment's prohibition of intoxicating beverages. Renewing his challenge a day or two ago, Senator Runyon said: "What are the 'lawful means' the Governor of New Jersey could employ to permit the manufacture and sale of beer and wines? Judge Silzer talks of the processes of education, whatever that may mean, as an answer to this question."

"I have asserted again and again that Judge Silzer was drawn from comparative obscurity by the needs of a situation that confronted Frank Hague. Does the Democratic candidate venture to deny he is a candidate only because Frank Hague, ambitious to extend and perpetuate Hudson County political methods, so ordained? I am a candidate because for the last three years I carried my claws to the rank and file of the electorate, and there found a response resulting in my nomination on the Republican ticket."

"I have not promised a single office in this State, either directly or by implication, and I pledge myself that if I am elected Governor I will make my own appointments, not only in the State Highway Commission, but in every department of the State government."

"What has the Democratic candidate to say about the series of charges against the State Highway Commission? He has said he would join in any criticism if the basis of such criticism were made clear to him. It has been pointed out that $20,000 was paid for approaches to the proposed Perth Amboy bridge, that New Jersey is paying an average of $25,000 a mile more for patented pavements than in Pennsylvania, and that the general administration of the highway board under Governor Edwards' commission is faulty, costly, and marked by extravagance. Yet Judge Silzer has not made good on his promise. On the contrary, he has come by implication to the defense of the commission by a series of statements tending to confuse the issue."

The long silence of the Democratic candidate on the issue of bringing the Public Service Corporation under the authority of the Public Utility Commission has surprised the Republicans. "The Democrats have no plank with reference to holding companies," remarks Senator Runyon. Mr. Runyon continues to elaborate upon the planks in the Republican platform, in the writing of which he played such a dominant part. The utilities plank, the definite way in which open paving specifications are promised, the pledge to encourage associations of farmers and otherwise aid the agriculturists, the note of enthusiasm over the cause of the rural schools, and an avoidance of all those things the Republicans contend has made the Edwards administration a reproach to New Jersey, are stressed by Mr. Runyon nightly.

Stamp Fancier Sets New Record

The largest stamp collection in the world was made by the late Baron Philip von Ferra, who died in Paris in 1917. The collection is said to have contained a used and unused specimen of every postage stamp issued down to the end of the Nineteenth century.

SUCCESS IN MARRIED LIFE

To insure it, says Court Official, Each Should Be a Partner, as in Business Enterprise.

A wide experience with husbands and wives has enabled Mrs. Julia L. McGuire of the Chicago court of domestic relations to formulate these principles which she gives in People's Magazine.

"It can all be summed up in about the same way textbooks on business tell one to sum up the proposition of going into business partnership:

"1. Know your partner. Study him—or her—under trying circumstances as well as when things are going well."

"2. Be sure that you and your partner agree in your purposes and ambitions. Compare notes with each other and find out whether you have the same tastes and hopes for the future. Find out your prospective partner's idea of what to do in prosperity or adversity."

"3. Settle upon your working program for the future. Decide how you will apportion your working funds; face frankly the possibilities for trouble, and arrange in advance to meet them. Determine in advance the direction in which you will expend your establishment when you have savings to disburse."

"4. Institute an adequate system of cost accounting to see to it that your funds go for the purposes you have agreed upon. Get into the habit of being frank with each other, of clearing up misunderstandings instead of letting them rankle."

"5. Go to it—and stick to it—along these lines."

"6. Unless one of you has hidden faults, you will not fail."

"That is what I have learned from my contact with forty-four thousand unhappy marriages, which I have been able to sum up, scrutinize and analyze. The soundest advice to both men and women that I could give is: 'Play fair and use common sense with husband or wife.'"

LONG A FAMOUS PLAYHOUSE

Walnut Street Theater, in Philadelphia, to Be Torn Down, Dates From the Year 1809.

The oldest playhouse in America, which is to be replaced in part at least by a modern structure, is the Walnut street theater in Philadelphia, opened in 1809. It has never missed a season in these 111 years.

Edwin Forrest made his first regular appearance here at the age of fourteen, getting his first start through the influential backing of Col. John Swift. At one time mayor of Philadelphia. The play in which Forrest appeared was "Douglas," and in the cast were Wheatley, Mrs. Williams, Joe Jefferson's grandmother, and Warren and Wood, managers of the theater and of the stock company. Warren and Wood considered themselves very unfortunate in the cast of novices they had to deal with and were greatly surprised when Forrest acquitted himself so well that the public expressed a desire for the play's repetition.

The English tragedian, Edmund Kean, appeared at the Walnut in 1821. During the 16 nights of his engagement the receipts ran as high as $1,870, only once falling below $500. In those days this was considered a prodigious sum in theatrical circles.

Roast Pork With Pudding. A dish corresponding to the Yorkshire pudding, which is frequently served with roast beef, can be made out of corn meal to serve with roast pork, says the United States Department of Agriculture.

1 cup corn meal. 1/2 teaspoon salt. 1 cup milk. 2 eggs. Place the milk, corn meal and salt in the top of a double boiler and cook them about ten minutes, or until the meal has expanded to form a thorough mixture. After the mixture has cooled, add the eggs well beaten. Grease gem tins thoroughly, allowing to each about one teaspoonful of fat from the roast pork. Bake in a moderate oven, basting occasionally with the drippings of the pork.

THE BIG ISSUES

1.—Public Utilities

The Democratic Party Platform pledges itself to the enactment of constitutionally sound laws which will establish a fare not in excess of FIVE CENTS as per contractual franchise agreement without protracted wearisome and expensive litigation.

The Republican Party Platform is vague, speculative and non-committal on the subject of Public Utilities.

It has no pledge or even hope for the return of the five cent fare.

2.—The Tariff

The Democratic Party Denounces the recently enacted Republican tariff legislation as a Tariff Bill for the profiteers.

Urges the repeal of the Fordney-McCumber Bill which extorts hundreds of millions of dollars from the working people and transfers this revenue to the coffers of the greedy corporate interests.

Favors a scientific and just revision of the tariff based upon an honest analysis of the cost of living and an expert study of relative wage incomes.

Favors putting imports on a scientific, equitable basis. Denounces the Republican tariff as the dishonest concept of corporation-controlled Republican politicians.

What the Republicans Say New York Herald (Republican) interview of United States Senator who helped to frame the Fordney-McCumber Bill:

"You ask me how the tariff bill was framed. The answer is simple. During the last months of his life Senator Penrose could give little attention to the construction of the bill. His technical advisers prepared tentative schedules. When he died Mac (Senator McCumber) took over the mess without knowing what it was all about. He told some of us we had to produce a tariff bill. He asked us to help. We helped. All the Senators he consulted told him to frame schedules that would help them personally or their friends. Mac did it. That's the way the tariff bill was framed."

The enormous sums of money expended in the campaign to elect Newberry are "contrary to sound public policy, harmful to the honor and dignity of the Senate, and dangerous to the perpetuity of free government, and that such excessive expenditures are hereby severely condemned and disapproved."

3.—Newberryism

The Democratic Party Insists upon the unseating of U. S. Senator Truman H. Newberry of Michigan.

Denounces Senator Frelinghuysen of New Jersey for his shameful conduct and betrayal of the sacred franchise by his vote to seat his friend Newberry in the face of proved corruption.

The Republican Senate Record Says:

If you are a Bone-Dry you will vote for the Republican Prohibition candidates. If you are a believer in personal liberty and do not wish to be in the class of the Lawbreaker, the Sneak, the Hypocrite and the Bootlegger, you will assert yourself on Election Day (November 7th) by voting for Edward I. Edwards for the United States Senate, and George S. Silzer for Governor.

4.—Prohibition

The Democratic Party Declares in favor of a just enforcement of the provisions of our Constitution.

Favors and urges the necessity of taking such lawful steps as may be required, so that we may restore to the individual not only his liberties guaranteed by our Constitution, but also the right to the lawful indulgence in beer and light wines.

If you are a Bone-Dry you will vote for the Republican Prohibition candidates.

If you are a believer in personal liberty and do not wish to be in the class of the Lawbreaker, the Sneak, the Hypocrite and the Bootlegger, you will assert yourself on Election Day (November 7th) by voting for Edward I. Edwards for the United States Senate, and George S. Silzer for Governor.

JOSEPH L. STACK

GOVERNOR EDWARDS AND THOSE 3000 STILLS

The Mount Holly News Says Editorially This Week:

The grand jury, after several days' deliberation, returned 64 bills of indictment last Thursday, of which 34 were for violations of the Hobart prohibition enforcement act. This is a very small percentage of the number of violators that Governor Edwards said Burlington county has within its borders. He stated in speeches made here that he had evidence in his office of the existence of 3,000 stills in this county. It has been suggested that the grand jury should summon him to appear and present that evidence. The chief executive of the state certainly should not hesitate to assist in bringing the criminals to justice. That is his sworn duty.

Governor Edwards' ideal of performance of the Democratic party is restore drunken revelries—wine, women and song—which he says will be possible if the party comes into its own in the state and nation. Here are his words, spoken at a public meeting in Hudson county on October 9th:

"It is an old saying that no party is complete without wine, women and song. Tonight, to all intents and purposes, we have only two-thirds of the entertainment—women and sweet song. When the Democratic party comes into its own in state and nation, let us hope that we'll have wine also to complete the festivity."

His ideals of woman, whose vote he seeks, must be very low indeed. How do the respectable women of the state appreciate his gross insults?

Every virtuous woman must resent this man's vulgarities and should rebuke him by voting for Joseph S. Frelinghuysen for United States Senator.

Other Editorial Comments

Lucius T. Russell, a Democrat, editor of the Newark Ledger, which is not a prohibition journal, in an open letter to his friend, Governor Edwards, recommends a change in the vulgar and profane antics of the Democratic candidate for United States Senator, and uses plain and outspoken language in urging the change of tactics. The letter follows:

"The women voters of New Jersey are going to determine who will be the next United States Senator, and so far, you neither look good, sound good, nor smell good to the women."

"Your bad man's stuff is a comic aping of Don Quixote. Those ladies who like a bad man, like a real bad man and not a counterfeit. The women suffrage psychology of New Jersey is running strong, almost universally against you."

"The women re-nominated Senator Frelinghuysen and the women are going to re-elect him, unless you right about face on your bar-room comedies and show some indication of a morality and mentality above the 'bum' element in our civic and political life."

Editor Russell also points out the insincerity and foolishness of Edwards' light wines and beer and other proposals, as follows:

"There is no such animal as light wines, for there is no wine that can be preserved unless it has sufficient alcohol to violate the spirit of the Eighteenth Amendment."

"The Eighteenth Amendment is as unrepeatable as is the Preamble to the Constitution itself, and the man who talks about repealing the Eighteenth Amendment commits himself of being either a common faker or an uncommon fool."

"Not 5 per cent. of the voters of the United States today could be secured in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. The greatest menace today to a modification of the Volstead Act is to be found in the wet bonhead fakers and hypocrites and political charlatans who continually harp on the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment."

"Leaving out the morals of the question and looking at it only from the point of view of political expediency, you are committing political suicide by continually harping on the wet question."

Edwards Breeds Anarchy

Prohibition would have been enforced in New Jersey in fair measure at least, if there had been a man in the Governor's office who was thinking more about the good of the State than about his own ambitions and the political machine that has backed his aspirations. It would have been enforced in fair measure if there had been at the head of the State a man who had due respect for the relation of the State, to the will of the people of the Nation, the Constitution and the good name of New Jersey.

There was no question about it. The present Governor of New Jersey, more than any other individual or influence, is responsible for the present reign of lawless bootlegging and general disrespect for law. His example has been a breeder of anarchy.

—Elizabeth News.

Runyon Will Show How.

If the Prohibition law can not be enforced, it ought to be repealed or amended. Keeping it on the statute books only brings contempt on the other laws.—Judge Silzer.

How about repealing the Ten Commandments? If we read the papers correctly there are people in the Democratic party who bear false witness; and the prisons are full of thieves, murderers and adulterers.

When Silzer's running mate does his sworn duty; and when his "boss," Mayor Hague, of Jersey City, puts his 750 policemen on the job; and when thousands of other municipal slackers stop howling "I can't! I can't!" and say, "I will! I will!" Prohibition will be one of the best enforced laws on the statute books of New Jersey. Runyon will show how to do the job which Edwards says he won't do, and Silzer says can't be done.—American Issue.

Revoke Their Licenses.

"Experience has taught me," says Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill, "that the greatest deterrent in cases of violations of the automobile law is to deprive the offender of his right to drive," and he has advised police judges and magistrates, when they convict automobile drivers of speeding or recklessness, to revoke their licenses, as they have the authority to do.

It is imperative that some drastic action shall be taken if an end is to be put to the recklessness of drivers. During the first eight months of the present year there were 289 fatal accidents by automobiles in New Jersey, according to Commissioner Dill's records. Many have occurred since, and the average will be more than one a day for the year.

Imposition of fines does not curb the speeders, and resort must be had to jail or workhouse imprisonment or to revocation of license, or both. Think of it—an average of more than one person killed every day in the year by accidents that are preventable by the exercise of only ordinary care. There have been too few licenses revoked, and not sufficient attention paid to the reckless drivers.—Trenton Times.

BOOTLEGGER'S PREMISES RAIDED

After Harry J. Lord, of Burlington, had pleaded guilty before Judge Wells on Thursday to having assaulted an officer while under the influence of liquor, he informed the officials where he had obtained the freewater that had made him so cantankerous. William A. Slaughter, Supreme court commissioner, who was in the court room, soon prepared the papers necessary for making a search of the bootlegger's premises and also a warrant for the man's arrest. It was John Coumbe, residing near Centreton.

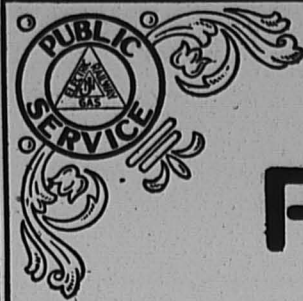

Constables Samuel J. Taylor and Charles E. Gilbert at once went to Coumbe's home and made a search. Two barrels of wine were found in the cellar and some quart bottles and demijohns filled with liquor were located in a field about fifty yards from the house. All the stuff was seized and together with Coumbe was brought to the court house.

The prisoner pleaded guilty to having illegal possession of the liquor and wine, but said he was not guilty of having made any sales. He was placed under $1,000 bail for appearance next Thursday, when the case will be heard. His father, Robert Coumbe, became bondsman for the defendant.

MOUNT HOLLY

The township committee, at its meeting on Thursday night, appointed Joseph C. Kingdon as recorder, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Richard J. B. Slack. Mr. Kingdon will assume the duties of the office on November 1st.

There was some excitement at the jail on Wednesday night when an ironing board being used in the women's wing was set on fire by an iron that had been overheated. Night Turnkey Job Collins extinguished the flames before much damage had been done.

Camp 23, P. O. S. of A.

Routine business of an organization is sometimes dull, but the officers now in charge have acquired the knack of pushing things so the formal program is finished in an early hour.

This allows considerable time for games, social chat and discussion of matters of interest.

The Boosters are beginning to do things and welcome new ideas especially from the new members.

Their latest proposal, which the camp has approved, is a "Producers' Banquet" to be given by the camp in January, 1923, to those who secure one or more initiates prior to December 31, 1922.

This contest is a free-for-all, open to all and should stimulate a lively movement.

Camp 394 of Wissinoming has been invited to visit us on November 13th, and are expected to bring over some experts in quins and pinocle.

Thirteen of our members attended the county association meeting on the 20th, and found delegations from a number of camps anxious to learn how we do it.

Bring in a candidate next meeting and qualify for a seat at Table A.

Norman C. Graham

Norman C. Graham died at his home at Highland avenue, last Friday afternoon at four o'clock. He had been ill several weeks with a nervous breakdown, but the immediate cause of his death is believed to have been a blood clot or abscess on the brain.

Mr. Graham was 52 years old. He had lived in Palmyra nearly all his life and had a wide circle of friends here. After residing here twenty years he and Mrs. Graham took apartments in Philadelphia for two and a half years. They returned three years ago and built the home where Mr. Graham died.

Mr. Graham's father was one of the pioneer business men of Denver, Col., having erected the first brick building there in which he conducted a large drug store. Later he built an entire business block comprising six big stores which were known as the Graham block. Being in the centre of the rapidly growing city, the block was later sold for a large sum.

Mr. Graham was married 31 years ago to Miss Mary E. Ward, of Philadelphia, who survives him. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. Alice C. Gray and Miss Annie B. Graham, of New York.

The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon, the Rev. E. A. Robinson officiating, with interment in Harleigh cemetery. Undertaker: Snover in charge.

Charles G. Kemble

Charles G. Kemble, 72 years old, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Erb, 724 Parry avenue, on October 19. He had been ill several weeks.

His widow, Mrs. Amanda Erb, one son and his daughter survive him. The funeral was held Monday with interment in Hillside cemetery, the Rev. Harry L. Saul officiating.

Elizabeth Helen Smith

Elizabeth Helen Smith, 15 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, 616 Lippincott avenue, Riverton, died last Friday night. The funeral was held Tuesday noon, with interment in Morgan cemetery, the Rev. Lewis officiating.

BUILDING CODE FOR PALMYRA

Palmyra to Incorporate Changes Found Advisable by the Riverton Building Inspector

The Palmyra Township Committee and a number of interested citizens met in the police station Wednesday evening to discuss the proposed building code.

Building Inspector Joseph H. Smith of Riverton, attended the meeting at the invitation of Chairman Davies and told of Riverton's code and the experience he had with it.

Mr. Smith said that experience had developed several points on which changes were desirable in the Riverton code and it was the opinion of those present that Palmyra could benefit from these things and incorporate the improvements in its code from the start.

It was also thought advisable to include the consideration of zoning restrictions to protect residential districts from the encroachment of factories.

Mr. Davies appointed a committee composed of George V. Shaner, Albert S. King and Wilbur F. Crane to draw up a code, after consultation with Mr. Smith and members of the township committee. This code will be presented to the township committee for action.

Fountain-Stapleton

H. David Fountain, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fountain, of 1110 Parry avenue, was married to Miss Ruth Stapleton, of Philadelphia, on October 25, in Elkton, Md. The young couple are making their home with the bridegroom's parents.

G. O. P. COUNTY TOUR

Frelinghuysen and Runyon to Appear in Palmyra and Riverton

An automobile tour of the county will be made Monday, November 6th, under the auspices of the County Republican Committee. Palmyra will be reached at 11:35 and Riverton at 12:30.

On the tour will be Senator Frelinghuysen, Senator Runyon, Congressman Bacharach, Mrs. Lillian Feickert, president of the New Jersey Republican Clubs, and others who will deliver addresses.

These speakers will be present at mass meetings to be held at 7:30 that evening in the court house, Mount Holly, and Auditorium, Burlington.

P. T. A. Reception

The annual reception to the teachers by the Parent-Teacher Association was held in the auditorium of the high school on Tuesday evening, October 17th. James Weart, president of the Board of Education, welcomed the teachers, and Miss Veva Brower responded. Vocal and instrumental solos and a recitation were much enjoyed, also the selections rendered by the high school orchestra. Refreshments were served.

A piano solo was rendered by Miss Marion Heller.

Mr. and Mrs. James Paul White and son were Sunday guests of friends in West Philadelphia.

Parry

Missionary Day will be held at the Moravian Church Sunday. A letter will be read from the Missionary supported by the congregation. There will be pictures and a lecture on the Moravian Mission fields at the evening service.

The Parry Fire Company will have a masquerade party for its members and families Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Daly are receiving congratulations on the birth of a boy Wednesday evening, October 18.

Sub duties of John Schuck and families spent Sunday at Orland, Pa.

The Parry Fire Company has had the firehouse plastered.

Harry Anderson is building a four room addition to his home.

A series of revival services will be held at the Moravian Church beginning next Wednesday evening, when Prot. Clarence Clewell, of the U. of P., will be the speaker. There will be a special choir, community singing and solos at all the services.

The Story of Our States

XLVII—ARIZONA

ARIZONA is both the youngest and the oldest of our states. While it is the last of the states to be admitted to the Union and as such dates its existence only from 1910, its history before the advent of white men dates back into the dim past. Here were located those interesting people, the Cliff Dwellers, and the ruins of their cities high up in inaccessible places have caused much speculation as to these ancient people. It is supposed that these Cliff Dwellers were the ancestors of the Pueblo Indians and were decidedly more advanced in civilization than their neighbors. They were probably of the same race as the Aztecs of Mexico and understood irrigation, agriculture and the building arts.

There was rumors of the great Pueblo that inspired the explorer Nizan in 1539 explored this territory and he was followed by Coronado in search of the mythical wealth of the Indian cities. Coronado, though failing to find the reputed gold, did discover the Grand Canon of the Colorado with its wonderful scenic beauty, which has become one of the great assets of the state.

This region was considered part of Spanish territory and when Mexico declared its independence it became a Mexican province. After the Mexican war the section north of the Gila river was ceded to the United States and the southern portion was acquired through the Gadsden Purchase in 1853. In 1893 Arizona was separated from New Mexico and made a territory.

The derivation of the name Arizona is uncertain, but it possibly came from the Spanish, meaning "dry belt."

October Leaders' Conference Cancelled—Gives Way to Swamidos Dinner

Daniel Swamidos, native secretary for the Rural Young Men's Christian Association work in India, has been secured for an overnight visit to Burlington county, and on Saturday evening, November 4th, at 6 o'clock, in St. Andrew's parish house, Mount Holly, members, friends, group leaders and committee-men will enjoy a dinner in his honor.

The leaders' conference scheduled for this Saturday evening (October 28) has been cancelled, so to give way to this larger dinner. Mr. Jessup, who was to have been the speaker to those who for a number of years have been making contributions at the county conferences, thru their groups, and at Camp Oceanic, toward the support of his work in India. This past summer the boys at camp raised over $250, much of this taken from what they might have spent for ice cream

On Wednesday evening (October 16, 1892) Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Briggs celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. J. DuBell, Burlington; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. White and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hibbs, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Roberts, Miss Ella Lewis, teachers; Misses Flora and Allie Heister, Miss Anna Black, of Camden; Mr. and Mrs. T. McGinley, Mr. and Mrs. John Westney, Mr. and Mrs. T. Dewees, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weyman, Mr. and Mrs. J. Holbrook, Palmyra; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Briggs and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Christian, Miss M. McAlees, Miss M. Harper, Mr. Andrew McAlees, Joseph W. Welch, Charles Bower, of Philadelphia; Mrs. M. L. Christman and Miss Gertrude Christman, of Norristown.

On and after Wednesday, October 19 (1892) excepting Sundays and national holidays, there will be a free delivery of letters once a day to all residents of East Riverton, also Main and Cinnaminson streets, from Broad to Eighth street. The delivery for East Riverton will be between 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and the other streets named 12 o'clock noon. This service is established to facilitate the delivery of mail matter, and it is hoped it will be appreciated.

M. Cowperthwaite, P. M.

The Asbury M. E. Church celebrated its eightieth anniversary by an all-day service on Wednesday, November 2 (1892). The program consisted of a "love-feast" at 9:30. The sermon at 10:30 was delivered by the Rev. S. Townsend, recently of Palmyra. A consecration service was held at 1:30, followed by short addresses by members and friends. At 3 p. m. preaching by the Rev. A. B. Richardson, of Camden; 6:30 praise service and preaching, and again at 7:30. Lunch was provided free by the ladies of the church.

The corner stone of the new Methodist Church, Palmyra, was laid on Friday, the 21st (1892) in the afternoon. Owing to the severe illness of the pastor, the Rev. George H. Neall, Jr., the presiding elder, Rev. Mr. Reid, had charge of the exercises.

F. C. TENNIS STARS WIN

Six Out of Eight Matches Taken from Merchantville

The Field Club tennis team traveled to Merchantville on October 14th and won six out of the eight contests played. Many of the matches were very stubbornly fought but the Palmyra players were able to come through when points were needed.

The scores follow:
Bonsal, Palmyra, defeated Sweeney, 6-4, 6-4.
Baker, Palmyra, defeated Evert, 6-1, 6-0.
Wright, Palmyra, defeated Satter, 6-4, 7-5.

Doubles
Evert and A. Cowan, Merchantville, defeated Baker and Wright 7-5, 6-3.
Bonsal and Loughery, Palmyra, defeated B. Cowan and Armstrong 6-3, 6-1.
Allen and Weikman, Palmyra, defeated Sweeney and Satter 7-5, 9-7.
Mathews and Bonsal, Palmyra, defeated Bell and Gale 6-3, 6-1.

It is expected a rummage sale will be held for the benefit of the tennis fund on Friday and Saturday, November 3rd and 4th. Subscriptions to the fund are coming along in good shape.

Don't Forget the Y.W.C.A. Leaders' Training School

On the 3rd and 4th of November at Evergreen Terrace, Hainesport, there will be a training school for all the leaders and Presidents of the Y. W. C. A. Clubs in Burlington county. Beginning with a big "Ice Cream Social" at 5 o'clock on Friday afternoon and going straight on through the hours until the same time on Saturday, every second will be filled with inspiration and helpful hints about the planning and carrying on of the winter's work.

No leader who is interested in making her club the best in the county can afford to miss hearing discussions on such topics as "What the Club Can Do for You and Your Girls," "Finding and Giving the Best," and "What Are My Goals?" seeing "Dr. Dollar's Busy Day," will show you how easy it is to make the most of the club dues just by planning a budget and working with it.

New songs, new cheers, new ideas, and new friends—all can be yours in just a day if you will keep the date open. Don't let anything interfere with your being with us!

Dr. B. S. Pollak, of Secaucus, was elected president of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League at the sixteenth annual meeting held in the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, on Friday and Saturday of last week. Mrs. E. G. Shreve, of Atlantic City, was elected vice president; W. L. Kinkaid, of Ridgewood, (retiring president) treasurer, and Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, of Brown's Mills, secretary. Ernest D. Easton, of Newark, was renamed executive secretary.

The Burlington County Tuberculosis League will hold its annual meeting for the election of officers next Tuesday, October 31, at the League's headquarters, 228 High street, Burlington. The speaker will be Miss Emily H. Suydam, field secretary. The sale of Red Cross Seals for the support of the county work will begin immediately after Thanksgiving.

WESLEYAN NOTES

A large number of our last Sunday and it is pleasant to note that attendance is on the increase.

Mr. Kershner gave his usual splendid talk and the orchestra rendered several numbers. Mr. Bauder favored with a xylophone solo which was much applauded.

Riverton again took the attendance honors, but it is expected Palmyra will even things this week.

The Rev. R. W. Conklin, of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Riverside, will talk to the class on Sunday, October 29th. A large delegation is expected to come with him from Riverside, where he has charge of a men's class.

The officers of the class want to thank all those who helped to make the cake sale, on Saturday last, the success it was.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS MEET

Forty-fifth Annual Convention Held at Columbus Last Week

Young people need jobs in the Sunday School and church and many are lost from membership in these institutions because they are not taught how to put to practical use their religious education, leaders were told at the forty-fifth annual convention of the Burlington County Sunday School Association, held in Columbus Grange Hall last Thursday.

Greater intelligence, not only regarding the Bible but "regarding teaching methods, is needed in practically every school, W. G. Landes, general secretary of the World's Sunday School Association, told the convention.

L. E. Klotz, of Moorestown, was reelected to the presidency of the Association. Other officers are: Richard C. Brown, Moorestown, vice president; Joseph W. Newell, Pemberton, corresponding secretary; Robert A. Semple, Jr., Mount Holly, recording secretary; Forrest G. MacCorkle, Riverton, treasurer; Datis Reed, Riverton, State executive committee.

Those attending from Riverton and Palmyra were: Datis Reed, Miss Rachel Reed, F. C. MacCorkle, Mrs. I. U. Kershner, Mrs. Durell Mason, Mrs. Hassell, Mrs. Atwood Lloyd, Miss Edna Lloyd, Mrs. T. S. Branson, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Taylor, Mrs. H. Sycamore, Mrs. F. N. Johnson, H. A. Stiles, Russell Stiles, Rev. C. N. Sperling, David Coles, Mrs. Linwood Dean, Mrs. Arthur Hunt, Mrs. J. E. Morton.

WOMAN BITES HIM

Officer Rodgers Carries Bandaged Hand After Serving Search Warrant

Officer Joseph Rodgers is on the casualty list again. This time he was bitten, and by a lady, too.

Officer Rodgers served a search warrant for Etta L. King on Mrs. Annie Williams, of Fourth and Market streets, Palmyra. Both women are colored. The first charged that the second, with whom she had been rooming, had stolen some of her clothes.

Mrs. Williams objected to Officer Rodgers going up stairs till she had gone first, telling him there was something she didn't want him to see. The officer insisted, whereupon she rushed up the steps followed by the officer and Mrs. King.

They started ransacking a closet and soon both women were disputing the ownership of a skirt. Officer Rodgers grabbed for it. Then Mrs. Williams kicked him twice and bit his hand.

Mrs. Williams was held under $500 bail for court at a hearing Tuesday.

STATE CONGRESS OF MOTHERS TO MEET NOVEMBER 2 and 3

The twenty-second annual meeting of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations will be held Thursday and Friday, November 2 and 3, in Vernon room, Haddon Hall, Atlantic City.

The convention topic will be "Building Together for the Children." The convention proper will be called at 11 o'clock sharp.

The morning address will be made by Dr. Valeria Parker, of the State Department of Health.

Dr. Lambert Jackson, of the State Department of Education, will speak in the afternoon on "The Value of the Junior High School."

In the evening Dr. Henry Gaines Hawn will speak on "The Soul of Things."

Following the business session Friday morning, Miss Louise Connolly, of Newark, will speak on "Better Films of America."

At 3:30 Friday afternoon, Miss Sarah Askew, of the New Jersey Library Commission, will make the closing address.

County Council of Parent-Teachers

The fall meeting of the Burlington County Council of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations was held at Bordentown on Wednesday, October 18, at which time the council was the guest of the Bordentown Home and School Association. Community Hall, in which the meeting was held, was attractively decorated with prize dahlias, autumn leaves and flowers.

The morning session was opened with devotions by Rev. Swain Garrison. Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, county chairman, presided.

Mrs. Orson Brown welcomed the guests on behalf of the Bordentown Home and School, and Robert Oberholzer, principal of the school, extended a welcome on behalf of the teachers.

Mrs. E. C. Lord, of Mount Holly, responded to these greetings on behalf of the County Council.

Mrs. A. F. Meschter, of Pennsgrove, a member of the State Board of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers, brought greetings from the State.

The delegates in attendance numbered about 250, coming from all parts of the county, which has forty-two associations, and a membership of over 3000.

The report of the scholarship committee by Mrs. H. A. Franz, of Moorestown, chairman, embodied letters from the two students in the State Normal School, telling of their work.

The afternoon session was opened with a program of music by pupils of the Bordentown School.

Mrs. Stillman, of the State Department of Agriculture, spoke briefly of the Home Demonstration Department, and of the millinery project to be put in operation in Burlington county in the fall.

Miss Ella Frances Lynch, of Bryn Mawr, founder of the School of Individual Instruction, and the National League of Teacher Mothers, spoke on methods helpful in the raising of small children.

Miss Lynch said in part that a child's future was made or marred by his first seven years' training. She declared that if he has no book until he is seven, it will increase his mental power four-fold. She therefore, advocated not sending a child to school until he has reached the age of seven or eight or even ten years. She emphasized the fact he should be taught at home nothing of a scholastic nature, but that he should learn before entering school five things: the habits of ready obedience, of reverence, of work, of observation, and that he should be helped to gain a good working vocabulary. She said that the best teacher in the world can not remedy the mistakes of the home.

Tag Day Aids Scholarship

October 25th was Scholarship Tag Day in Burlington county, when the 16,000 or more school children in the county were given an opportunity to help raise the money for two pupils in the State Normal School, sent by the Burlington County Council of the New Jersey Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations. The tag were sold for two cents each, and from their sale a portion of the $500 required each year will be realized.

The balance will be raised by the Parent-Teacher Associations throughout the county.

The Burlington County Council has awarded two scholarships in the State Normal School at Trenton. The students are Miss Mahel Oldershaw, of Moorestown, and Miss Verne Wright, of Indian Mills. One new pupil will be sent each year, keeping two in the school all the time.

Car Shatters Telephone Pole on Cinnaminson Avenue

A Dodge sedan driven by Raymond Van Saint, of Collingswood, with three other men as passengers struck a telephone pole on Cinnaminson avenue near Morgan cemetery Saturday evening.

The pole was broken in three places and the car was badly damaged, but none of the occupants was hurt.

Van Saint said the accident was due to his first striking one of the piles of crushed stone which the State Highway Department has placed along the roadway for repair purposes, and he is talking about suing the State for damages.

Can You Swing the Public?

A bar of steel weighing half a ton was suspended vertically by a small chain. Nearby a cork from a bottle suspended by a silk thread. The cork was started swinging so that it struck gently against the steel bar. Of course, it made no impression on the bar. But the motion of the cork was continued and at regular intervals it struck the great bar in exactly the same place. Five minutes passed, and still no effect was noted on the bar. After ten minutes the bar gave evidence of feeling uncomfortable. A sort of nervous chill crept over it. At the end of twenty minutes later the great bar was swinging like the pendulum of a clock.

Many, many times, it is said, in effect, "Well, I've tried advertising and it did not produce results. I ran a two-column, four-inch ad every week for six weeks in The New Era and got no returns from it."

We never question that statement—we only question the good judgment of a man who tries to do the impossible and complains that his tools were no good.

One bath doesn't keep you clean for life—you have to keep at it. One punch didn't knock Carpenter down—Dempsey kept at it. One shot didn't win the war—the boys
