MEMORIAL DAY

POST DEDICATES TABLET
Memorial Containing Names of Palmyra's War Dead Unveiled on Decoration Day

Following the march to Morgan and Methodist cemeteries, where the graves of veterans were decorated, short but impressive ceremonies were held in the Society Hall Grove, Palmyra, on Memorial Day.

Addresses were made by the Rev. Fred B. Morley, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church, who spoke very reverently of the many heroic deeds in the annals of American history, and Past State Commander Bruce Collins, of the Department of New Jersey, who eloquently depicted the many experiences of his buddies during the World War which exemplified their true patriotism.

"Such deeds should never be forgotten by those who now enjoy the fruits of their labors," said Mr. Collins. He also spoke of the noticeable waning in the patriotic spirit towards those who gave their lives in order that we might live to enjoy peace and freedom and contrasted it with the very zealous spirit of patriotism that prevailed immediately following the war.

A handsome bronze Memorial Tablet, which will be placed in the Legion Home, was unveiled and dedicated by Commander Neilson in behalf of Post Frederick M. Rodgers, No. 156, American Legion.

On this was inscribed the names of Comrades Hubbs, Mohrmann, Leidy and Rodgers, those of Palmyra's young manhood who gave their lives for their country.

It was regretful, however, that the turnout both on the part of some of the Legion members and that of the citizens of Palmyra was not in larger numbers on an occasion such as this.

Gavel Turned Over to the Post

A gavel, made from the famous Washington elm, was formally turned over to the Post at its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening last. Post Rodgers was among a number of other Posts throughout the country to receive this historic gift, which will always be cherished.

Plans for the State Convention to be held in Newark, August 14th, 15th and 16th, were discussed. Commander Neithcott appealed to the members present for a large attendance at the July meeting, when the election of delegates to the convention will take place.

"Post Rodgers must go strong," said Commander Neithcott, "in order that they may retain their reputation as one of the most active Posts in the State of New Jersey."

ALL OUT for the July meeting!

Other Memorial Day Programs

Never in the history of Riverside was there ever such a large gathering of people or such a tremendous parade, as that which marked the Memorial Day program.

The line of the parade was fully two miles long and consisted of four bands and drum corps and several floats.

Fully one thousand children were in line. After a short parade the children were escorted to the school where each pupil was given a brick of ice cream and then the column was dismissed.

Senator Emmor Roberts was among the speakers.

Maple Shade held a community Memorial Day celebration, staged under the auspices of Independent Fire Company, No. 1, which is the first event of its kind in the history of this town. Festivities began in the morning with a baseball game, followed by memorial services with Edward H. Flagg, Jr., ex-sheriff of Burlington County, as the principal speaker. Representatives from the Chester Township Committee and Board of Education along with ex-service men and other organizations in the town were present. In the afternoon an athletic tournament was held, which consisted of twenty-five events.

Riverton Yacht Club

On Memorial Day the boats of the sixteen foot class raced in the morning in a strong northwest wind. Five boats were entered and the finish was as follows:

"Big Hurry"—Owen Merrill.
"Captain Kid"—John Dungan.
"Nancy Hanks"—Robert Wilson.
"9 Bells"—Roy Bishop.

In the afternoon the L. I. class boats raced, with four entries; but only three boats finished, as the "Bellrose" sailed by G. Rex Showell, fouled the buoy and withdrew. The finish was as follows:

"Charmian"—Gardner Crowell.
"Bob"—Ogden Mattis.
"Lewanna"—F. W. Robertson.

Saturday afternoon there was a race of both the L. I. class and the sixteen footers, with a wind strong from the west. In the L. I. class there were four entries, but again Showell was forced to withdraw on account of splitting his sail. The remaining three finished as follows:

"Bob"—Ogden Mattis.
"Lewanna"—F. W. Robertson.
"Charmian"—Gardner Crowell.

In the sixteen foot class "Big Hurry" sailed by Owen Merrill came in first, with Malcolm Dickinson sailing "Adama" second. John Dungan and Edgar Miller were entered, too, but Dungan withdrew and Miller broke a mast.

The points to date are as follows: L. I. class—Mattis 8, Robertson 7, Crowell 2, Showell 1.
16 foot class—Merrill 8, Dickinson 5, Miller 3, Dungan 1.

BAKER BATS 1,000

Pillars' Manager Has Perfect Average When His Team Loses 2-1 to Artisans

After winning his first two starts, Pitcher Ray Lamont, of Len Baker's Methodists, was defeated by a 2-1 score when the Pillars battled the Artisans at the "Razberry Park" last Wednesday evening.

Lamont twirled a good game, but had the breaks against him. The winning tally was made when Thurmer, the Artisan left garden tender, slid into home plate and knocked the ball from Moffitt, the Pillars' catcher, hand.

Neither team succeeded in scoring in the first. Harry Kemmerle, the first up for the Methodists in the second, doubled. Russ Davis, the snappy third sacker, sacrificed to left field. Baker singled and drove home the lone Methodist tally. Hardy, who was on the mound for the Artisans, settled down and pitched better ball. Strang fled out for the second man down and Moffitt ended the inning by returning to the bench via the strike-out route.

Lamont held the members of the mutual protection order scoreless until the fifth. Two singles and three sacrifices netted the Artisans their two runs. The game was called at the end of the first half of the seventh canto.

The Methodists outthrew their opponents. Baker feasted with the willow, driving out three singles with as many chances. His honors were shared with the fence bustin' Harry Kemmerle, who got a double and a single, with an average of .667 for the game. Bud Griffenberg, who chases the high ones in left field, also came through with a hit.

Four Artisans got one single each. They were Thurmer, Buddy Mathews, Twiler Hardy and Dadinio, the center fielder.

METHODISTS BEAT LEGION

Post Rodgers Tastes Bitter Defeat at Hands of Churchmen

After losing two games the Methodists came back strong Monday evening and trimmed the Legion 10-4 in the first Twin City Twilight Baseball League game of the week. Ray Lamont was again on the mound for Len Baker's Pillars and pitched airtight ball. Harry Stack made his debut for the season with the Legion. He opposed Lamont on the hill.

The ex-service men proved to be most dangerous in the first inning. After two outs had been made Lamont walked Truman. Andrews followed and singled. Truman and Andrews showed some speed on the bags and each stole a base. They were driven home when another single came from the bat of Banker Kemmerle. Lamont then settled down to work and fanned Pete Weart for the last out.

Three singles and as many errors netted the Bakerites four runs in the first frame. They slowed down in the second and only took two counters. They were the result of two singles, two walks and in field error. Neither team succeeded in scoring in the third. A double from Don Knowlton's stick and a single by "Al" Donaghy, gave the Legionnaires one more run in the fourth. Their opponents were not to be outdone, so they, too added to their already overwhelming score. The usual error, a couple of hits and a sacrifice gave the church-goers just two more runs.

Both teams crossed the plate again in the fifth. Kemmerle scored for the losers and Griffenberg and Hale accounted for the last two Methodist runs.

Lamont struck out five and walked two. He allowed six hits, five being singles and one double. Harry Kemmerle featured with the bat for the Legion. He was the only man to get two hits. The Methodists only made one error.

Hale and Harry Kemmerle were the bright lights of the Methodist offense. Each of them got three hits out of four chances. Schwartz got two singles and Moffitt, Burr and Davis got one each. Stack batted seven and only allowed two bases on balls. He was severely handicapped by the six errors on the part of his team mates.

NEW ALMSHOUSE HEAD

Henry I. Worrell Appointed to Fill Vacancy Caused by Death of Charles A. Bowne

At a special meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Saturday morning Henry I. Worrell, of Mount Holly, was chosen to be superintendent of the Burlington County Almshouse at New Lisbon to succeed Charles A. Bowne, who died on Sunday night last.

Mr. Worrell will serve until the next general election. The appointment makes him the logical candidate for the office at the coming primaries. The choice is generally conceded to be an excellent one.

Mr. Worrell's appointment made a vacancy in the office of county auditor. The vacancy was filled by the appointment of Daniel R. Lemon, of Brown's Mills. Mr. Lemon will serve until the next election and probably will be the regular candidate.

In 1918 Mr. Worrell was elected auditor of Burlington County and has "Iron Man" Orcutt, of Twin City Twilight League fame, featured for The Field Club on the mound over the weekend. The path on which Lady won his fame was not so rosy, for sad to relate, he was yanked from the box twice in as many days. One of the big things in the life of the average baseball fan is the snappy games which are usually played on Memorial Day. It is, as a general rule, the time when the local boys play their hardest and win some hard-fought contests. The pages of small town histories are usually filled with tales of the glorious and memorable contests on the diamond Decoration Day.

H. Russell Gibbon, manager of the Riverton and Palmyra Field Club team, has announced that there will be nothing but a blotch of ink on the pages of Palmyra's history in regard to the baseball activities for Memorial Day, 1924.

The Gibbon-Schwink Co., baseball specialists, opposed the strong, and it was strong. Kline A. C., of Trenton, on the diamond at "Razberry Park" Memorial Day morning. Yes, Palmyra was shut out and the score looked like that of a football fracas. After connecting with every slant and curve that Lady had in his make-up, and driving some of Andrews' offerings all over the field, the score-keeper reported that Palmyra's home plate had only been crossed seventeen times by the up-staters.

Until he redeems himself, it has been announced that Lady will be known as "Tin Man" Orcutt.

The second game on Friday afternoon was much better played. The locals put up a stiff battle and only lost by a one-run margin, the score being 8-7. Kline was again the opposing aggregation. The Trenton boys had either lost the pep which enabled them to run up such an enormous count in the morning, or else the local boys fought much harder to redeem themselves in the eyes of the public.

Three pitchers were used to stop the onslaught of the Trentonites, who were the champions of their city league last year. Harder started and was relieved by Hoyt. Eddie pitched good ball, but was forced to retire in favor of Larry Polis.

During the early stages of the game things were very sweet for Palmyra. She ran up four runs in the second frame, two more in the third and another in the fourth. At the end of the fourth The Field Club was leading 7 to 4. She maintained her lead until the eighth, when an error coupled with three singles and a double, netted the visitors four runs, giving them a one-run advantage.

From all appearances, Palmyra was supposed to win the game almost overcame the lead. Bennett, first man up for the locals in the ninth, came through with a two-bagger. Baker walked and Buddy Mathews hit a pop fly to first for the initial out. Evans, the catcher, followed. He, unfortunately, fell victim of the opposing pitcher's slants and curves, and returned to the bench after taking three healthy swings without touching the pill. Sammy Rodgers was walked, thus loading the bases. "Poly," the local king of the swat, was next up. Now this boy can usually be depended upon for a hit, especially in a pinch like this ninth inning rally. He fell down on the job this time, by pulling up a most unheroic act, that of fanning. There was one consolation. Babe Ruth did the same thing on Memorial Day.

Palmyra defeated the Northwest Professionals Saturday afternoon by the close score of 4-3. This was the game that again marked Lady's fall. He was relieved by Eddie Hoyt, who displayed wonderful work on the mound.

Frank King, the second bagger, was the hero of the fray. The score was tie, 3-3, at the beginning of the seventh.

Donaghy, the first man up in this memorable round, hit to the hot corner for the first out. Manager Gibbon singled. He was followed by King, who connected with a pretty one for a three-timer, driving Gibby home for the winning run. Woods and Bennett ended the frame with outs.

Burns, the third man up in the first for Trenton connected with one of Lady's offerings for a homer over right field fence. One man was on at the time.

The team will play the opening game with Eddie Williams' Riverton nine at the new Riverton Memorial Park, Cedar street, this Saturday afternoon. The game starts at 3.30. This will be the first of a three-game series for the championship of the twin towns.

continued in that position ever since. He has made an exceptionally good auditor and it is certain that he will function in the same efficient manner as the superintendent of the almshouse.

The appointment of Mr. Worrell removes him from the contest for Freeholder in which he had entered.

7,500 Cars Use Ferry

Officials of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company report that nearly 7,500 cars were transported Memorial Day and over the weekend. The majority of the motorists waited until Sunday evening to return so one of the heaviest traffic congestions of the year resulted. Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, Officers Rodgers, Wallace and Lutz, assisted by Mayor James T. Weart, Chairman of the Police Committee George N. Wimer and Special Officer Glen Snyder were kept busy in the rain in the evening handling the long line of cars which extended almost to Broad Street until 9.30.

Take time to do a kindly deed—
You may not know the crying need
Within another's heart,
Sometimes, for just a pleasant tone,
When he's discouraged and alone—
And smiles will soothe a smart.

Take time to say a word or two
To those who walk perchance by you
In lowly, humble ways;
They are the fruits of circumstance
And handicapped beyond advance
Throughout their plodding days.

MARION STATION'S ORIGINAL TURBINES, GIANTS OF THEIR DAY, DOOMED BY RAPID PROGRESS IN ELECTRICAL DEVELOPMENT

ONE OF THE TURBINES NOW BEING DISMANTLED

Machines like men have their periods of usefulness. But there comes the inevitable day when they are obliged to step aside to make way for newer, stronger and more modern successors in the business in which they are engaged. When that time arrives, both men and machines may be in good running order. They may have the capacity for many more years of activity along the lines they have traveled for decades, but the man and the machine which is up to the minute in world progress must supersede the older workman. Only in this way is it possible for business to maintain the highest efficiency and cope with the constantly increasing demands imposed by mankind.

So, after nineteen years of service, the two original turbines at Marion Generation Station, Jersey City, are being taken out to be replaced by a new, modern generating unit. The change means the removal of two 6,000 K. W. machines and the installation of a 25,000 KVA Westinghouse turbine, which incidentally will require but little more steam than the two older machines. This will make the total Marion capacity 102,500 KVA.

At the time of the installation of the two machines now being removed, they were the last word in generator construction and engineers from all over the country came to New Jersey to see them. It was almost impossible to believe that units as large as 6,000 KVA could be built, transported and installed. Engineers were confident that at last the ultimate in size and capacity of turbo-generators had been reached. So rapidly, however, has the electric art advanced, that units of 43,750 KVA capacity will be installed in the big super power station being erected in Kearny.

Started in 1905

It was on Christmas eve, 1905, that a group of anxious men assembled at Marion Station to witness the starting of the first machine installed at that plant. On a recent afternoon another group gathered at Marion to witness the shutting down of this same machine for the last time. In the latter group were four of the same men who were present when the machine was first put into service. Dudley Ferrand, now a vice president of Public Service, nineteen years ago was general manager of the electric branch of the corporation, then two years old. Mr. Ferrand played a major part in designing and building Marion Station. He was present on the night the first turbine started its career and he was also present when that machine was shut down for the last time. Benjamin F. Wilcox, now watch engineer, who first opened the throttle on that machine; Julius Kump, now electrical watch foreman at Essex Station, the operator who first synchronized the machine when it went on the line and Charles Cullen, who was the first officer to work on the Marion machines, also were present the other day. The second of the old turbines was put into service a few months after the first and this also has been shut down for good. Jacob T. Barron, now general superintendent of generation of the Electric Company, went to Marion as a cadet engineer in 1907. E. B. Meyer, now chief engineer of Public Service Production Company, was also present on Christmas eve, 1905, when the first machine was started. Mr. Meyer was an assistant engineer of the electric branch at that time.

The old Marion turbines were vertical machines and were at first provided with step bearings lubricated by water at 1,200 pounds pressure. They had bottom guide bearings made of lignum vitae. They were afterwards changed to oil and operated at a pressure around 800 pounds.

Run Trolleys in North Jersey During their sixteen years of service, the two old generators have turned out current to run the trolley cars in Northern New Jersey. One turbine has generated 157,069,000 kilowatt hours and the other 115,077,000 KWH. Their combined output would be sufficient to run a trolley car of ordinary size more than 3,000 times around the earth. An equal amount of energy would have maintained a hundred watt lamp at full candle power for a period of 300,000 years.

The removal of these old units emphasizes the problems that have to be faced in keeping abreast of the rapid growth of the electrical industry. These machines are in good running condition and could be operated many years more, but there has been such a revolution in the science of creating energy that it would now be economically unwise to continue to run them; consequently they are discarded as so much scrap metal.

EZEKIEL ENCOURAGES THE EXILES

LESSON TEXT—Ezek. 34:1-10.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away."—Ezek. 34:16.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Ezekiel Preaching to the Exiles.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Lord Seeking His Scattered People.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Ezekiel's Mission to the Exiles.

Ezekiel prophesied in the land of captivity. The latter part of Jeremiah's ministry was contemporaneous with that of Ezekiel. The purpose of his ministry was:

1. To Keep Before the Minds of the Captives That They Were in Captivity Because of the Sins of the Nation (Ezek. 14:23).

2. To Show That God Was Righteous in His Visitation of Judgment Upon Them (Ezek. 7:8, 9).

3. To Sustain Their Faith by Assuring Them of Their National Restoration, the Punishment of Their Enemies and the Final Exalted Place of Israel Among the Nations When Messiah Should Reign (Ezek. 34:20-31).

1. Indictment of the False Shepherds (vv. 1-10).

Israel's ruined condition resulted from the failure of the rulers to properly care for the people of Israel, God's sheep. Their sin was that:

1. They Exploited the People Instead of Shepherding Them (vv. 1-3). The shepherds were appointed to feed the flock but instead of that they fed themselves, even devouring the sheep and clothing themselves with the wool thereof.

2. They Failed to Minister to the Sick, the Diseased and Wounded (v. 4). It is not enough that the shepherds refrain from doing evil to the sheep. They are expected to strengthen the weak and bind up the wounds of those that have been injured.

3. They Did Not Search Out the Lost Sheep (vv. 5-6). Sheep left to themselves wander away. The sheep are not expected to look after themselves but to be cared for by the shepherd. In their scattered condition they became the prey of wild beasts. None sought after them though they had wandered through the mountains and over the hills.

4. The Lord Held the Priests and Rulers of Israel Responsible for This Condition (v. 10). The Lord always holds those responsible who have been set over his children.

11. Israel to Be Restored (vv. 11-22). Though the rulers have so wretchedly failed, the almighty God will come to the rescue of His people.

1. He Will Search and Seek Them Out (vv. 11, 12). Though Israel be scattered throughout the nations, the divine shepherd will deliver them from every place where they have been scattered.

2. Will Bring Them Into Their Own Land (v. 13). This was partly fulfilled in the return of the remnant under Ezra and Nehemiah, but the real fulfillment awaits the future.

3. Will Feed Them (vv. 13, 14). He will not only satisfy them with food. He will cause them to lie down in perfect contentment and security (v. 14, 15).

4. Shall No More Be a Prey (v. 22). Though God's chosen people have been scattered through the mountains and over the hills of the nations and have been a prey to the rapacious greed of the many nations, God will one day deliver his sheep and will judge the false shepherds.

111. The Coming Good Shepherd (vv. 23-31).

The instrument through which this great deliverance is to be wrought is the Messiah Himself.

1. He Will Make a Covenant of Peace (v. 25). This condition of peace will be brought about by the presence of the Lord among them. The world and Israel will only know actual peace when the Prince of Peace shall come and rule over the whole earth.

2. Evil Beasts Removed (v. 26). The redemption which awaits Israel and the world will not only affect God's children and their rulers but will bring about peace even among the animals, so that His children can sleep in peace and quiet even in the woods.

3. Showers of Blessing Come Down (v. 28).

God's chosen people shall be a blessing to the world, according to His original purpose for them. When these blessings are poured out, it shall be known that they flow from Jesus Christ, the good Shepherd. The purpose of Israel's choice was that the world might be blessed through them (Gen. 12:1-3).

"It is the way hours of freedom are spent, that determines, as much as labor, the moral worth of a nation."—Maurice Maeterlinck.

Public Service

An Important Event In Electric Irons

June is electric iron month at Public Service, the month in which we offer a superlative iron on exceptional terms.

This year we are featuring the new 1924 model.

WESTINGHOUSE

Streamline Electric Iron

at $5.98—regular price $6.75

98 cents down—$1 a month for 5 months

The Westinghouse has a bigger ironing surface than any iron of its weight; heats quickly and stays hot to its outermost edge. This feature materially shortens the ironing task.

Finest wear-resisting material has been built into the Streamline Westinghouse. It affords greatest ease for the woman who irons.

During June Only

The Comforting Evening Plunge!

After a heavy day at office, or shop, can you look forward with certainty to a warm refreshing bath? Will there be plenty of hot water waiting when you reach home?

With the gas automatic storage water heater tub upon tubful of streaming hot water is always on tap. The entire household appreciates hot water comfort. For dishwashing, for laundry, cleaning and other hot water needs just turn a faucet and hot water is there.

And this method of continuous hot water service is cheaper than heating water by coal systems.

Gas as a fuel for water heating is cleaner, cheaper and the modern way.

The 20 gallon Kompak Automatic gas water heater (illustrated) is a popular model for average households. When hot water is drawn the thermostat turns on the gas, which is lighted by the flame of the pilot.

Sturdy copper tank enclosed in a jacket of gray porcelain enamel. Brass pipes and fittings. The Ruid automatic gas water heater is another excellent water heater. See both of these models in our showroom.

Either model installed in your home on a payment of $5 down, pay balance within one year. Cash price $200. On liberal terms $210.

BASEBALL SEASON OPENS IN RIVERTON

On Saturday, June 7th, at 3.30, the baseball season for Riverton will open at the new Memorial Park, when the Riverton B. C. will play the Field Club, of Palmyra, the first of a series of three games to determine the championship of the twin towns.

Music by Irons' Band

The business men of Riverton have contributed to a fund for music for the occasion, and Irons' Band, of Burlington, has been secured. At one o'clock on Saturday afternoon the band will march through the principal streets of the Borough and will play on the grounds during the game. Everybody out, now, and give the boys a good send-off for their first game!

Being a Sport Years Ago

Do you remember when a wild evening's sport consisted of putting on one's Sunday clothes and taking a street car ride out to the end of the line and back? The conductor came along the step that ran full length of the car, and collected fares. The other side of the car had a railing to keep careless passengers from falling out while rounding a curve. Wouldn't it satisfy a four-year-old child now? But it was great stuff, back yonder. There was no movies then, no radios—and even the horseless carriage was generally considered an impracticable thing that never would be used except by people with more money than brains. The thrill of the old-time street car ride through the summer night was not altogether due to lack of other entertainment nor even to the exhilaration of fresh air that rushed through the open sides of the car and nearly took the passengers' breath.

The real thrill was because the street car was still a novelty, just coming into widespread use. It's only 36 years ago this May that the electric street car was "born." Many cities claim the honor. But it was in Richmond, Va., that the first commercially successful electric overhead trolley car made its initial trip.

A generation or so before Thomas Davenport constructed a toy street car that ran around a circular track. Never heard of Tom? All he did was invent the electric motor.

Two German boys built an electric trolley line a third of a mile long, at the Berlin Exposition in 1879. Next year a small line, for public use at a fixed fare, was operated near Berlin. But it failed financially.

Americans meantime were busy, several cities experimenting. Richmond, Va., had the first "honest-to-goodness" electric trolley line, according to the American Electric Railway Association.

From then on, the old-time horse car was doomed. Today the electric railway industry carries 16 billion passengers a year and represents an investment of six billion dollars.

It seems incredible that all this has come about in 36 years. We'd like to turn the clock back and get a "kick" out of such simple amusement as a trolley ride. The world changes fast in our generation and the novelty of the new quickly becomes commonplace and boring.

Commencement Exercises at Westfield School

The closing exercises of the Westfield Public School will be held in the school auditorium, Friday evening, June 13th, at 8 o'clock.

This is one of the opportunities during the school term when parents and friends of the school have an opportunity to get in touch with the school work and activities.

The exercises will be the result of the year's work done in the various grades and will consist of songs and recitations, and a play.

Thus the parents, who are unable to visit the school frequently, will have the opportunity to know something of things the children are being trained to do. It is hoped that many will find it convenient to attend.

Richard Lippincott Wins Trophy

The golf tournament for the first leg on the Walter H. Lippincott silver platter was won by Richard Lippincott, nephew of the donor, at the Riverton Country Club, Saturday, May 31.

In the semi-finals on Friday, Lippincott defeated E. S. Parry 2 up and 1 to play, and F. B. Teeple defeated Filson Graft 4 up and 3 to play.

The final match was played Saturday afternoon and "Dick" Lippincott came through with the victory by 4 up and 3 to play.

He will have his name engraved on the silver platter and receive a replica for his permanent possession.

Golf Team Loses Final Match

The Riverton Golf Team, making a splendid showing in the first two matches in Division D, of the Suburban League competition, lost the third to Bala, Wednesday, May 28th.

At the start of the season the team of ten men was one of the strongest ever put in the field by the Riverton Country Club. This was evidenced by the decisive way it defeated Philmont, May 14, which team eventually won the championship of the division.

Lansdowne was also beaten by Riverton May 21, by 9 points to 7½.

In the match with Bala, several Riverton first string men were absent. MacBean, Dr. Mills, Dilywyn Parrish and Edward Lippincott. Thus weakened, the team tasted its first defeat by the following score:

TO LAY CORNERSTONE

Exercises to Be Held at New Lutheran Building Sunday Afternoon

The corner-stone laying exercises for the new Lutheran Church edifice will be held next Sunday, June 8th, at four o'clock in the afternoon. The building has been going up at a normal rate of progress since the stone was laid in the spring of 1923, and with the placing of the stone the walls will rapidly rise to completion.

The Rev. William J. Miller, Jr., of Philadelphia, will be the speaker, while Dr. S. D. Daugherty will also be present to take part in the ceremonies. It is hoped that many will be present, for the opportunity will be given each to place his or her name in the stone, to remain until the time when the building will be taken away. Other things of importance and interest will also be placed in the stone, including the names of the original signers who were responsible for the coming of the church to this community, and papers and programs concerning the activities of the church. A short history of the two and a half years of her existence will also be placed in the stone, together with this week's issue of the Palmyra and Riverton papers.

Children's day exercises will also be held Sunday in the Sunday School to which everyone is most cordially invited. Remember this is the kiddies' one day of the year. Come out and show your interest in their efforts. The regular monthly council meeting will be held at the home of Morris Steele, 404 Howard street, Riverton.

Club Luncheon and Bridge

Sixty-four members and guests of members attended a luncheon and bridge for women at the Riverton Country Club, Tuesday, May 27. It was a highly successful affair, the rain having no effect on the pleasure of those gathered about the tables in the cozy and prettily decorated clubhouse.

Mrs. Charles F. Earp, of the club's entertainment committee, was in charge, and Chris, the steward, did his part by serving a luncheon fully up to his standard.

Prizes were given the following for high scores:

Mrs. R. Downs, Mrs. Arthur Dorrance, Mrs. George Hughes, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Ross Elliott and Mrs. Harry Moyer.

Three prizes were awarded for mah jong to Miss Rider, Mrs. B. Ralph Boyer and Mrs. Irick.

The series of events planned by the entertainment committee, and the women's golf committee, this year, has made the Country Club rendezvous of women members to an unprecedented degree. They come in automobiles and by train from Beverly, Edgewater Park, Moorestown, Merchantville and Mount Holly, to mingle with their Riverton friends and to show their husbands and brothers the Club is not for men alone.

Asbury

Mrs. Lillie Ward and daughter, Mary, were Thursday visitors at the home of Mrs. George McCann, of Collingswood, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCann, Sr., of Erlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mason, Mr. and Mrs. James Harker, and Mrs. Mason's grandchildren, of Riverside, were Friday visitors at the home of Thornton Southwick.

Harry B. Romer, of Mount Ephraim, formerly of Taylor's Lane, was a visitor in Asbury on Friday.

Roland and Jack Dougherty, of 2946 Grammer street, Camden, and several other Boy Scouts and their Scoutmaster, camped on the farm of Roland's grandfather, Clayton Coles, on Decoration Day.

—Harvey Hirst spent the weekend at Ocean City.

New Books at Library

"It is a wise book that is good from title page to the end."

A. Bromon Alcott. "Such a book should be read through; but the books that are wise in spots should be read in spots. This is one of the great advantages of judicious skipping."—C.F. Richardson.

"The Mataroff Mystery," J. S. Fletcher.

The Chicago Evening Post says that Mr. Fletcher has always an entertaining story to tell, and always tells it ably. This Mataroff Mystery is no exception to the rule.

"The Heart of Isabel Carlton."

"Isabel's Carlton's Year."

These books, though they came out some months ago, have been reprinted. They are well spoken of, and will be much enjoyed by our readers, especially our young readers.

Sneak Thief Gets Jail Term

George Harry Connors Collins, of Philadelphia, the man who robbed the Hudson Hurlings residence here several weeks ago, was sentenced to from two to three years in the State prison by Judge Slaughter in the County court on Monday.

Collins was arrested by the joint efforts of Chief Geiss, of Riverton, Chief Bradshaw, of Moorestown, and the Philadelphia police force, after eluding the officers for several weeks.

Notice

The Riverton-Palmyra YWCA will hold a cake sale at Broad and Main streets, on Saturday, June 7th. Proceeds are to convey the expenses of sending a delegate to the Eastern Community Conference to be held at Silver Bay.

Presbyterian Church News

This Friday evening, June 6th, the Golden Hour Circle will give a reception to Dr. and Mrs. N. F. Stahl, which will be held in the chapel, and to which the entire congregation and all other friends of the pastor and his family are cordially invited.

Dr. Stahl will preach on Sunday morning at 10.45 from the text "Prove All Things; Hold Fast That Which is Good."

At 2.30 p.m. the Sunday school will hold its last afternoon session before the change to the summer schedule.

The Children's Day services of the Sunday school will be held on Sunday morning, June 15th, at 10.45.

At the Christian Endeavor Society meeting next Sunday evening at 7.15, the topic will be "Christian Courtesy," and the leader will be Miss Helen Young.

E. L. Bennett, of Princeton Seminary, who has been engaged to supply the pulpit during the summer, will deliver at 8 o'clock evening service the first of a series of three sermons on the general topic "After Death—What?" This week's subject will be "Heaven."

An interesting series of talks on the Apostles' Creed is being given by Mr. Bennett at the Wednesday evening prayer services, which are held at 8 o'clock. The subject this week is "I Believe," and next week's topic will be "God the Father Almighty, Maker of Heaven and Earth."

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Trustees will be held in the chapel on Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Young People's Mission Study Class will close its course on Monday evening by giving a Japanese tea, with an interesting program rendered by the members of the class, to which a general invitation is extended.

Riverton's Near East Totals $1900

Mr. Walter L. Bowen, The New Era, Riverton, N. J.

Dear Mr. Bowen:

I have been unusually busy for the past three weeks and this has prevented me from replying to you earlier the result of the Riverton campaign.

The actual results of the canvass plus the money contributed through the Presbyterian Church, and one contribution of $200 through the mail have brought the total to approximately $1900. I think you will agree this is a mighty fine showing for Riverton, and for the sake of satisfying the interest which the public displayed in the matter, I would appreciate very much if you would announce these figures in The New Era.

Thanking you all for your help, I am, Sincerely yours, A. H. SKEAN.

Wins Four Out of Six

Eva K. Hobbs, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Hobbs, has been awarded a silver medal by the Philadelphia Turngemeinde. During the winter six races were held. The distance of each race was forty yards, Miss Hobbs winning four out of the six races, making 62 points.

Concerning Reduction Federal Income Tax Payments

A reduction of 25% on all individual income tax returns filed for the year 1923 has been made. The credit for this bill, will deduct from their next payment, the amounts that should have been deducted from previous payments.

If you have paid tax in full, you will be refunded one-fourth of same in due course of time.

As the family are looking at their new car, Mary is telling John how difficult it is for her to learn to drive, because she is not tall enough to sit comfortably back in the seat and reach the pedals with her feet. John replies that Harry had just been telling him that he had Bowen to make a cushion for Dot's back, which made her sit far enough forward so that it was easy for her to reach the pedals, and she enjoyed driving.

May we show you what a comfort such a cushion is?

To Empty Pitch Barrel

A barrel of pitch can be emptied by allowing it to flow very slowly from a small hole. At any time during the flow a sharp hammer blow will shatter into fragments the stream of flowing pitch.

Plant Foods Must Be Kept on Hand

Fertilizers Are Just as Essential in Small Home Garden as Seeds.

Plant foods, or the elements that make plants grow, are just as essential in the home garden as seeds. Nature has been very kind in that she has supplied the most of these elements in abundance in our soils, but there are a few of them which have not been supplied in sufficient quantities to produce good crops. These are mainly nitrogen, phosphoric acid, potash and lime. It is nitrogen that gives the plants their vigorous growth and healthy green color. Phosphorus aids the growth and especially helps in the formation of the seeds. Without potash all garden crops would be a failure, but some crops, such as potatoes, beets, carrots, radishes, etc., require more potash than others.

Garden soils may be acid or alkaline, that is, they may be sour or they may be sweet, the United States Department of Agriculture explains. A few of our garden crops may be grown on a sour soil, but these are very few indeed and most of them must be planted on a sweet alkaline soil. Lime will sweeten an acid or sour soil, the amount of lime required depending upon the sourness or acidity of the soil.

Liquid manure is the finest stimulant your flowers can have. It is also fine to make the head lettuce hurry up their heads. This illustration shows a practical way for providing a supply readily accessible. Either sheep manure, poultry manure, or commercial fertilizer may be used in the bag which is suspended in the water. The device does away with odor. If the barrel can be hidden in the shrubs, near the flower border, the task of supplying stimulant when needed will be simplified.—National Garden Bureau.

soil. For example, it is found that recently drained swamp soils sometimes need 20 or 25 tons of lime to the acre to sweeten them. This, of course, would be impracticable and an easier and cheaper method must be followed. The most practical method is to first thoroughly drain the sour soil, then turn it up to the air and allow it to sweeten through natural processes. Even then it will usually be necessary to add some lime or other material containing lime, such as wood ashes, to help along with the natural process.

Most of our garden lands need nitrogen, phosphoric acid or potash. These can be supplied in the form of a mixed fertilizer containing about 4 or 5 per cent nitrogen, 8 or 10 per cent phosphoric acid and 4 to 6 per cent potash. Truck gardeners usually figure on about one ton of this fertilizer to the acre each year. This would mean about 200 pounds on a tenth-acre plot of ground or 100 pounds on the average backyard garden which is, as a rule, about 30 to 40 feet wide and 60 or 70 feet in length. The fertilizer is best applied just after the ground has been spaded and well raked or forked into the top four inches of soil. If lime is used it should be put on either several days after the fertilizer or a week or so before the fertilizer is applied and never at the same time as the fertilizer. Weeds chopped fine, straw manure, or, in fact, any manure that does not contain oil from the streets, will help enrich the garden and give the soil new life, but with the present scarcity of manure, home gardeners are practically compelled to depend upon commercial fertilizers for adding plant food to their garden soils. A good plan is for several gardeners in a neighborhood to pool their order for fertilizer, buy it in considerable quantities, and then divide according to the needs of each.

Many gardeners prefer to broadcast about one-half of the fertilizer before planting the crops, then use the remainder for scattering along the rows during the growing period of the crops. This means a little more work but gives the best results. Crops must be fed just the same as animals.

FOR THE DRY CORNERS

Sedums, including love-entangle in goldmoss, hen-and-chickens, and live-for-ever, are small plants that thrive in dry corners or on rocky banks.

CHAPTER XX

The Ambush. Mrs. Scott and her little son were made welcome in the home of John Irons. Jack and Solomon were immediately sent up the river and through the bush to help the force at Tl. In the middle and late days of July, they reported to runners the southward progress of the British. They were ahead of Herkimer's regiment of New York militia on August 3 when they discovered the ambush—a misfortune for which they were in no way responsible. Herkimer and his force had gone on without them to relieve Fort Schuyler. The two scouts had ridden post to join him. They were about half a mile or so ahead of the commander when Jack heard the call of the swamp robin. He hurried toward his friend. Solomon was in a thicket of tamaracs.

"We got to git back quick," said the latter. "I see sign o' an ambush." They hurried to their command and warned the general. He halted and faced his men about and began a retreat. Jack and Solomon hurried out ahead of them some 20 rods apart. In five minutes Jack heard Solomon's call again. Thoroughly alarmed, he ran in the direction of the sound. In a moment he met Solomon. The face of the latter had that stern look which came only in a crisis. Deep furrows ran across his brow. His hands were shut tight. There was an expression of anger in his eyes. He swallowed as Jack came near.

"It's an ambush sure as hell's ahead," he whispered.

As they were hurrying toward the regiment, he added: "We got to fight an' ag'in big odds—British an' Injuns. Don't never let yerself be took alive, my son, lessen ye want to die as Scott did. But, mebbe, we kin bu'et the circle."

In half a moment they met Herkimer. "Git ready to fight," said Solomon. "We're surrounded." The men were spread out in a half-circle and some hurried orders given, but before they could take a step forward the trap was sprung. "The Red Devils of Brant" were rushing at them through the timber with yells that seemed to shake the treetops. The regiment fired and began to advance. Some 40 Indians had fallen as they fired. General Herkimer and others were wounded by a volley from the savages.

"Come on, men. Foller me an' use yer bayonets," Solomon shouted. "We'll cut our way out." The Indians ahead had no time to load. Scores of them were run through. Others fled for their lives. But a red host was swarming up from behind and firing into the regiment. Many fell. Many made the mistake of turning to fight back and were overwhelmed and killed or captured. A goodly number had cut their way through with Jack and Solomon and kept going, swapping cover as they went. Most of them were wounded in some degree. Jack's right shoulder had been torn by a bullet. Solomon's left hand was broken and bleeding. The savages were almost on their heels, not 200 yards behind. The old scout rallied his followers in a thicket at the top of a knoll with an open grass meadow between them and their enemies. There they reloaded their rifles and stood waiting.

"Don't fire—not none o' ye—till I give the word. Jack, you take my rifle. I'm goin' to throw this 'ere bunch o' lightnin'."

Solomon stepped out of the thicket and showed himself when the savages entered the meadow. Then he limped up the trail as if he were badly hurt, in the fashion of a hen partridge when one has come near her brood. In a moment he had dodged behind cover and crept back into the thicket.

There were about 200 warriors who came running across the flat toward that point where Solomon had disappeared. They yelled like demons and overran the little meadow with astonishing speed.

"Now hold yer fire—hold yer fire till I give ye the word, or we'll all be at 'em. Keep yer fingers off the triggers now."

He sprang into the open. Astonished, the foremost runners halted while others crowded upon them. The "bunch of lightning" began its curved flight as Solomon leaped behind a tree and shouted, "Fire!"

"Tain't too much to say that the cover flew off o' h—I right thar at the edge o' the Bloody Medder that mornin'—you hear to me," he used to tell his friends. "The air were full o' bustled injun an' a barrel o' blood an' grease went down into the ground. A dozen or so that wasn't hurt run back across the medder like the devil were chasin' 'em all with a red-hot iron. I reckon it'll allus be called the Bloody Medder."

In this retreat Jack had lost so much blood that he had to be carried on a litter. Before night fell they met Gen. Benedict Arnold and a considerable force. After a little rest the tireless Solomon went back into the bush with Arnold and two regiments to find the wounded Herkimer, if possible, and others who might be in need of relief. They met a band of refugees coming in with the body of the general. They reported that the far bush was echoing with the shrieks of tortured captives.

"Beats all what an amount o' sufferin' it takes to start a new nation," Solomon used to say. Next day Arnold fought his way to the fort, and many of St. Leger's Rangers and their savage allies were slain or captured or broken into little bands and sent flying for their lives into the northern bush. So the siege of Fort Schuyler was raised.

CHAPTER XXI

The Blunking of Colonel Burley. Solomon had been hit in the thigh by a rifle bullet on his way to the fort. He and Jack and other wounded men were conveyed in boats and litters to the hospital at Albany where Jack remained until the leaves were gone. Solomon recovered more quickly and was with Lincoln's militia under Colonel Brown when they joined Johnson's Rangers at Ticonderoga and cut off the supplies of the British army. Later having got around the lines of the enemy with this intelligence he had a part in the fighting on Bemus Heights and the Stillwater and saw the defeated British army under Burgoyne marching eastward in disgrace to be conveyed back to England.

Jack had recovered and was at home when Solomon arrived in Albany with the news. Solomon spent a part of the evening at play with the Little Cricket and the other children and when the young ones had gone to bed, went out for a walk with "Miss Scott" on the river front.

Mrs. Irons had said of the latter that she was a most amiable and useful person.

"The Little Cricket has won our hearts," she added. "We love him as we love our own."

When Jack and Solomon were setting out in a hired sloop for the Highlands next morning there were tears in the dark eyes of "Miss Scott."

"Ain't she a likely woman?" Solomon asked again when with sails spread they had begun to cut the water.

Near King's Ferry in the Highlands on the Hudson they spent a night in centuries these loyal people have kept pet bears in the town and have set up images of bears. The bear appears in effigy and name in all places, on coats of arms, signs, heraldic emblems, on fountains, flagstaffs, as toys, and heroes in unlimited variety.

The oldest of Berne's gateways, dating from the Fifteenth century, is the ancient Clock Tower with its famous clock. Here again, as everywhere in a Berne, friend Bruin plays a most prominent role. As often as the clock strikes a troop of little bears come out and march round a figure of the duke of Zähringen in armor, who stands in the belfry at the top and strikes the hours on the bells with a hammer.

A favorite possession of the Swiss capital is the famous bear pit, where specimens of the real live Bruin have been maintained by the city for four hundred years. In 1798, when Napoleon despoiled all this part of Europe of its treasures to carry off to Paris, he took these historic bears from Berne. The city was inconsolable, and when the empire fell, one of the chief stipulations of the Swiss was for the return of the bears, and they were brought back with great pomp and rejoicing.

These bears are closely guarded and only bread and fruit can be given them.

School Notes

Field Day in Rhyme

The following verses on Field Day at the Riverton public school arrived too late for publication in last week's issue:

FIELD DAY

Field Day has come and gone once more
For the ones who stayed in I've something in store.

Our Field Day was held on Friday night,
Everyone prepared, it was a beautiful sight.

First came the flag salute that everyone should know,
Then came the song where we made show.

Following that was a kindergarten dance,
To watch their cute ways we all had a chance.

Next was a dance by the children of the first grade,
Each grade followed after, what a pretty sight they made.

Then across the field to see the high jump,
Over the pole and down with a thump.

Some went over, but others did not,
But back to their places they went with a trot.

One by one they soon dropped out,
Then Sam Herbert, the victor, was called with a shout.

The running broad jump I next must name,
There Winfield Lisk got credit and fame.

Then the hundred yard dash was next to name,
There Winfield Lisk has won again.

A relay race was next to begin,
Each team in its place, each hoping to win.

Down and back the street twice they go,
Lisk's team comes in with a blow.

The shot put and ball throw were next to come off,
To win both of these Bill Wanger was next to come off.

First was the shot-put—he thought he threw it a mile,
Then he won the ball-throw, you ought to see him smile.

Many people thought as homeward they went,
The drills were fine, and praised each successful event.

HOW TO STUDY THE NOSE

Whether one is a man or woman, his or her nose shows a predominance of masculine or feminine lines. When the nose is masculine in line the faculties of combativeness, destructiveness, firmness, self-esteem, assertiveness, causality, number and constructiveness are in the lead in his head and body formation also. The head will be square in front, high in the crown, nearly straight in the back, the face broad, upper lip straight, mouth large, and cut in straight lines, chin large and square, neck large, and shoulders square.

The feminine nose has the faculties of benevolence, parental love, approbation, caution, conjugal love, comparison, spirituality, human nature and eventually in the lead in his or her make-up. The head is narrower from ear to ear, the back head round, forehead curved and high, eyes round, mouth small and curved, chin and neck small, shoulders curved, hips broad and the body more round or curved. The pessimistic nose turns down in a characteristic way as do other lines of the face when the individual is gloomy.

The intellectual nose is the nose of beauty and its largest development is in its straight, yet curved tip. Cunning is a result of secretiveness which causes the wings of the nose to be joined to the face.

the camp of the army under Putnam. There they heard the first note of discontent with the work of their beloved Washington. It came from the lips of one Colonel Burley of a Connecticut regiment. The commander in chief had lost Newport, New York and Philadelphia and been defeated on Long Island and in two pitched battles on ground of his own choosing at Brandywine and Germantown.

The two scouts were angry. It had been a cold, wet afternoon and they, with others, were drying themselves around a big open fire of logs in front of the camp post office.

Solomon was quick to answer the complaint of Burley.

"He's allus been fightin' a bigger force o' well-trained, well-paid men that had plenty to eat an' drink an' wear. An' he's fit 'em with just a shoe string o' an army. When it come to him, it didn't know nothin' but how to shoot an' dig a hole in the ground. The men wouldn't enlist for more'n six months an' as soon as they'd learnt suthin', they put fer hum. An' with that kind o' an army, he druv the British out o' Boston. With a little bunch (continued on page 7)

BOYCE-ITE is a secret oil compound, instantly soluble in gasoline. It should be poured directly into the gas tank.

Four ounces of BOYCE-ITE will treat ten gallons of gasoline. This proportion produces, without mixing, a rapid firing, carbon-destroying fuel—in every way superior to plain gasoline.

Motors using BOYCE-ITE treated gas continuously in the above proportions will be kept constantly in the very best of condition. They will have more power, greater flexibility; give from one to six miles per gallon greater mileage, and will never develop carbon trouble.

Would Re-Nam Opals

Though opals are much admired and are commonly worn in this country, there is a popular superstition in Europe and other parts of the world that these beautiful stones are unlucky and bring misfortune to the owner. For that reason South Australia is seeking to exploit this product under another name, "Iridots," after the Greek word for rainbow.

—Mrs. J. M. Quinn and daughters, Mary and Dolores, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Buzzard, of Westmont, were guests over the weekend of Capt. and Mrs. Sidney Albertson.

—George N. Wimer is spending this week at Washington, D. C., where he is attending the National Real Estate Convention. Smiling Eddie Lamon is in charge of the realtor's office.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. King entertained the following at dinner on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Buckeye, of Indian Mills, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker, of Avalon, and Mr. and Mrs. William Powell, of Palmyra.

—The baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of the Palmyra High School will be preached at the morning service at the Central Baptist Church by the Rev. Dr. Charles W. Williams, this Sunday at 10:45.

—The Palmyra schools will close for the summer next Friday, June 13. Examinations started this Tuesday. The graduation exercises of the High School will be held in the High School auditorium Thursday evening, June 12.

—Invitations have been issued for the marriage of Miss Helen Seel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Seel, Jr., and Mr. Russell Guldin, of Philadelphia, to take place in the Methodist Church, on Saturday, June 14th.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Sleeper, former Palmyra residents who now spend their winters at Mariner, North Carolina, and their summers at Ocean Grove, returned to their shore cottage Monday. Mr. Sleeper writes that his health is somewhat improved.

—A party composed of Mr. and Mrs. A. Harry Rudick, Mr. Elmer Horner, Mrs. Henry C. Thomas and Henry Wilbraham spent Memorial Day and the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Smith, former residents of Riverton, at their farm in Cape May county.

—Mrs. Harry Holister, Mrs. Edward Becton, Miss Verna Guest, Mrs. Leon Guest, Mrs. George Harold Baker, Mrs. George J. Seel, Jr., Mrs. Leonard R. Baker will attend a garden party which will be given in Haddonfield this Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Victor Clymer and Mrs. Ralph VanHart.

—The annual election of officers of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Epworth M. E. Church was held at the parsonage Monday evening. The following officers were elected: Mrs. William H. Powers, president; Mrs. Clara Jewett, vice-president; Miss Edith Mills, secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Roberts, treasurer. The meetings will be discontinued until September.

—The following program will be presented at the strawberry festival given by the ladies of the Central Baptist Church this Friday evening in the church building: Piano duet by the Misses Ruth and Florence Harvey; reading, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine," by Miss Helen McConnell; soprano solo by Miss Helen Sterling; sketch, "Answering the Phone," and an alto solo by Mrs. A. W. King.

—Harold Mueller, of Morgan avenue, is rounding up a very busy musical season. This Saturday afternoon he is leading the Hyperion School of Music orchestra at the graduation concert in the Witherpoon Hall, Philadelphia. He will be led an orchestra for a play given by the Kilgore Players at Philadelphia. He was heard as a violin soloist at an organ recital in the Third Baptist Church, Germantown, and wielded the baton for an orchestra which played at a strawberry festival given by the Oxford Street Church, Philadelphia.

TENNIS DANCE BIG SUCCESS

Many Prizes Awarded at Field Club Affair Saturday Evening

The tennis dance held by Palmyra and Riverton Field Club in the P. O. S. of A. Hall last Saturday evening was a huge success. It was attended by 64 couples.

There were a large number of "lucky number" dances. Two expensive tennis racquets, 12 tennis balls, in sets of 3 each, and four pairs of tennis shoes were awarded as prizes to the winning dancers. All of the prizes, with the exception of the two racquets, were donated by supporters of the club.

The music which was furnished by Irwin Casper and Co., first-class jazz artists, known as the Weyman Five, was clever enough to make most anyone want to step about the floor a bit. It was said by many who attended to be the most wonderful dance music heard in Palmyra during the season.

The hall was attractively decorated. The most unique part of the decorations was the tennis net hung at the front of the hall. Attached to it was a large Field Club emblem.

This was the last Field Club dance of the season.

Graduating Class of P. H. S. to Be Entertained at a Dance by Next Year's Seniors

The Junior Prom, one of the big social events in the life of a high school student, will be held in the Palmyra High School this Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The next year's seniors have made elaborate preparations and the stage is now set for one of the most brilliant occasions of this season. It is expected that the majority of those attending will dance, so the famous five-piece Carmen orchestra, of Burlington, has been selected to furnish the music.

Arrangements have also been made to furnish other means of entertainment for those who do not dance. The gym will be beautifully decorated in blue and gold.

Young Electrician Hurt

Lewis Sharp, Palmyra's youngest electrical contractor, was taken to the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, Saturday night in the Palmyra ambulance by four Legion buddies. Sharp was repairing one of the large fixtures in the Central Baptist Church, when one of the immense globes fell, just missed his head, but then broke on his right leg, cutting a number of tendons just above the ankle in the back of the limb. Dr. Harry L. Rogers administered first aid. The ambulance, manned by four Legionnaires, then appeared on the scene and took him to the hospital. Eddie Lamon was at the wheel and Larry Polis rang the bell. Warren Neithercott, the Post Rodgers commander, and Harry Shaffer, acted as the attendants. Sharp returned home Sunday, but will not be able to walk for some time.

Camp Ivory Awards Medals

Harry Ivory, physical training director of the Palmyra schools, ran a contest for the student physical training directors during the present school term. The contest was determined by their attitude in classes, costuming and leadership. The contest for the girls was won by June Mueller, and her honors were proudly contested by Margaret Jenkins, Beryl Buchanan, Sarah McKee, Mildred Meyer and Beatrice Mueller. William Horner, who is exceptionally clever at this work, won the boys' contest easily. The two winners were awarded medals donated by Mr. Ivory.

Camp 23

The Black and White Minstrel Troupe, composed of members of Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., made another big hit when it presented a show for Washington Camp No. 3, P. O. of A., at P. O. S. of A. Hall last Thursday evening. A large crowd attended, as the ladies' order was celebrating its 30th anniversary and a large number of national and district officers were present.

After the show the large audience was entertained by the Misses Eunice Miller and Helen Markward who gave "Russian," "Doll" and "Jazz" dances. The National officers were called upon for a few remarks. Refreshments consisting of ice cream and cake were served. Dancing was the concluding feature on the big program.

Mrs. Jeanette Soast held the winning ticket for the annual ice cream and cake sale of Camp 3, P. O. of A., Memorial Day.

A class of 25 candidates was initiated by the Camp 23 degree team at Audubon Monday evening, May 26. Five of these were from the local Camp.

The Rev. Charles J. Faunce, of Camp 199, of Philadelphia, presented the local camp with a handsome portrait of the late President Theodore Roosevelt at the meeting Monday evening. The Rev. Mr. Faunce's presentation was accompanied by an eloquent talk on the life and character of this great American. The donor was representing the American Defense Society of New York. This was also one of the famous "pinchle" nights. The last "pinchle" night will be Monday, June 16.

The last two initiations for the fiscal year will be held June 9 and 23. Nomination of officers is also scheduled for the 23rd. Don't forget the nomination of delegates for the State Camp at Princeton, is on for the same evening.

Where is that candidate you promised this month? Publicity Director.

Palmyra A. C. Defeats Delanco

The Palmyra A. C., a baseball team composed of a number of local boys, defeated the Delanco team in a twilight game 7-2 Tuesday evening. Hepper featured with the bat, pounding out a triple and two singles. Harry Burne, of Palmyra High fame, was on the mound and pitched wonderful ball. He had 16 strikeouts in the eight innings which the game went. The local team played errorless ball.

The following relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Seese and daughter, Mrs. Elvira S. Craig, of Horace avenue, motored from Philadelphia and Brooklyn, N. Y., and spent Decoration Day and the weekend with them: John Metzger, Jr., Mrs. John Metzger, Miss Louise Booth, the Misses Lulu Charlotte and Minnie Fizenmayer, Mr. and Mrs. B. Briner, Mr. and Mrs. George Briner. All motored to Willow Grove Saturday afternoon and on Saturday evening Mr. Seese's daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton F. Rhoads, of Delaware avenue, gave a party at their home in honor of the guests.

WEEKLY MENU SUGGESTIONS

By NELLIE MAXWELL

It is in the every-day preparation that we need variety. It is not difficult to create some dainty for an occasion, but the daily grind of three meals a day takes real energy.

SUNDAY—Breakfast: Wheat cakes, doughnuts. Dinner: Goldsmith salad. Supper: Fruit sponge drops.

MONDAY—Breakfast: Baked mackerel. Dinner: Steamed brown bread. Supper: Cream of celery soup.

TUESDAY—Breakfast: Toast, orange marmalade. Dinner: Boiled fish, chowder. Supper: Canned pears, cookies.

WEDNESDAY—Breakfast: Bacon and liver, toast. Dinner: Lemon pie. Supper: Boiled dinner, hash.

THURSDAY—Breakfast: Waffles. Dinner: Pot roast with vegetables. Supper: Cocoa, sponge cake.

FRIDAY—Breakfast: Scrambled eggs, toast. Dinner: Codfish or fresh fish, chowder. Supper: Layer cake, whipped cream.

SATURDAY—Breakfast: Muffins. Dinner: Broiled beefsteak. Supper: Parker House rolls.

Goldsmith Salad. Take one-half cupful of apples finely minced, one-fourth cupful of celery and one-fourth cupful of hickory nut meats or other nuts, one-fourth cupful of minced green olives and a green pepper, chopped. Mix with mayonnaise and serve in apple cups. If for an extra occasion, otherwise a bit of lettuce will make a plain salad.

Fruit Sponge Drops. Bake small sponge cakes in gem pans. When cold cut off the tops and carefully remove the centers, fill with any preserved or canned fruit. Garnish with a spoonful of whipped cream.

Baked Mackerel. Take a large, fat salt mackerel weighing three pounds at least. Soak overnight skin side up, the salt then sinks to the bottom of the pan. In the morning drain, place in a hot oven, cover with cream and bake for twenty to thirty minutes. Bake with the skin side down.

TOWNS NOTED FOR NEATNESS

Cleanliness Results in Property Owners Getting Fabulous Rents for Their Homes.

Could every homeowner but sweep his own walks before his door, care for his own premises to a point of tidiness, what a great improvement.

When in Williamstown we heard a criticism of a Maine college "if it would only sweep the leaves off its campus and make its loveliness more apparent" was the comment. "I would not like to send a boy to a school that did not care for its lawns."

Riding through the countryside we estimate the thrift of towns by their neatness. The town advertises itself by its own housekeeping. It pays in business, homekeeping, desirability as place of residence. There are in Vermont certain country places that have no other commendation to the summer visitor except their spotlessness. Their homes are desired and rented. In such places as Great Barrington, Lenox, Manchester, Vt., the residents are able to take summer vacations away from home; renting their own homes at fabulous prices to summer visitors, solely because these cities and towns regard cleanliness, beauty and good care as paramount.—Lewiston Journal.

New Street Number System.

Tentative plans have been drawn for the extension of the street-numbering system of Detroit, Mich., throughout Wayne county. The system will greatly simplify the delivery of mail and merchandise and make it easier for strangers to find their way about.

City Without Rainfall.

The little city of Manter, the terminus of the Santa Fe branch west of Santa Fe, bears the distinction of being probably the only city in Kansas that has never experienced any rain or snow.

To Help Home Owners.

New Zealand expects to raise $5,000,000 to aid persons desiring to build homes. The new fund, if approved by the government, will allow an advance up to 85 per cent of construction costs.

To Be Successful.

To be successful in anything, one must cultivate the habit of thinking completely around his problem, little or big. To be satisfied with thinking two-thirds or three-fourths of the way around is to stand back deliberately while some one else gains greater efficiency, prestige and leadership. Many people fail because they do not think their problems through and take time enough to do it properly.—Selected.

THREATENS GAS ATTACK

Mayor Plans Smoke Screen to Break into Chamber of Commerce Meeting

Mayor James T. Weart was late in starting for the meeting of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce, scheduled to be held on the second floor of the Chamber of Commerce building. The Mayor found the door to the meeting room locked, which was unusual for a Chamber of Commerce session. He concluded some one had been coming and was playing a joke on him.

The room is used ordinarily for lodge meetings and there is a small round hole in the door through which pass words are whispered.

His Honor pounded vigorously on the door. A whisper came through the hole asking, "Who's there?"

"It's me," replied the Mayor. "What's the big idea?"

Again came the whisper, "You can't get in here."

"Get out," said the Mayor. "I'll blow smoke in your eye."

His Honor was smoking his customary cigar and started to carry out his threat, when the door opened and the door keeper of the colored Masonic order appeared.

The Mayor apologized and beat a hasty retreat. He turned out that the Chamber of Commerce had got its dates mixed. The lodge had prior claim on the hall, and the Chamber meeting had to be called off.

Epworth Church Notes

Children's Day will be observed on Sunday at the Epworth Methodist Church. In the morning at ten-thirty there will be baptism of infants. The pastor, the Rev. Fred B. Morley, will preach from the topic, "The Child in Missions."

At six o'clock in the evening at seven-thirty, the pastor will give an illustrated address entitled "As the Twig Is Bent." There will be about fifty hand-colored pictures thrown on the screen showing how the Methodist Church is ministering to child life.

In the afternoon at two-thirty o'clock the Children's Day exercises will be given by the Epworth League. An interesting program has been arranged. A cordial invitation is extended to all. At the Epworth League devotional meeting at seven o'clock Mrs. John Lamon is the reader. The topic is "The Trinity of Friendship."

The regular prayer service will be held on Wednesday evening at eight o'clock.

A congregational meeting is called for Thursday evening at 8 o'clock for the election of trustees, etc. Members of the church over 21 years of age are entitled to vote.

Baptist Church Notes

Red Frog of British Guiana

In the wilds of British Guiana is found a bright-red frog with a voice of astonishing volume, according to Miss Ruth Rose of the tropic research station. The native Indians regard these strange creatures as charms of great value. When one is caught the Indians cut it up into many pieces and there are warriors in the village and each man rubs a piece on his arrows under the assurance that his aim will be infallible.

In the matter of the estate of William J. Hooker, deceased.

On petition for sale of land to pay debts. Order to show cause.

E. H. Mathilda Hooker, administratrix of the estate of William J. Hooker, deceased, having exhibited under oath a true account of the personal estate and debts of said intestate, whereby it appears that the personal estate of the said William J. Hooker, deceased, is insufficient to pay his debts and requesting the aid of the court in the premises.

It is thereupon on the 24th day of April, 1924, ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said William J. Hooker, deceased, appear before this Court at the Court House in Mount Holly on the 26th day of June, 1924, at ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said William J. Hooker, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts.

It is further ordered that this order be published in THE NEW ERA, one of the newspapers of this State, published in the Borough of Riverton, Burlington County, for six weeks at least once in each week.

Why it is Safer to Bank with a Trust Company

IN BANKING nothing is more important than the safety of the client's funds.

"Is it safe?" That is the first question you ask yourself when contemplating placing your account with any bank.

All other things being equal, a trust company is the safest banking institution in the world. In addition to being protected by the ordinary banking laws, the trust company's clients are safeguarded by special statutes which apply only to trust companies.

Under the law a trust company is allowed to lend money only on the very safest type of security.

We invite your account—it makes no difference how large or small.

June Brides

of 5,000 unpaid, barefoot, ragged-backed devils, he drove the British out of Jersey and they had 12,000 men in that neighborhood. He's had to dodge around an' has kep' his army from bein' et up, bide, hew an' taller, by the power o' his brain. He's managed to take kear o' himself down thar in Jersey an' Pennsylvania with the British on all sides o' him, while the best fighters he had come up here to help Gates. I don't see how he could 'a' done it—d—n if I do—without the help o' God."

"Gates is a real general," Burley said. "Washington don't amount to a hill o' beans."

Solomon turned quickly and advanced upon Burley.

"I didn't 'spect to find an enemy o' my kentry in this 'ere camp," he said in a quiet tone. "Ye got to take that back, mister, an' do it prompt, or ye're goin' to be all mussed up."

"Ye could see the ha'r begin to bristle under his coat," Solomon went to say of Burley, in speaking of that moment. "He stepped up eus an' growled an' showed his teeth an' then he began to git rooked."

Burley had kept a public house for sailors at New Haven and had had the reputation of being a bad man in a quarrel. Of just what happened there is a full account in a little army journal of that time called the Camp Gazette. Burley aimed a blow at Solomon with his fist. Then as Solomon used to put it, "the water bust through the dam." It was his way of describing the swift and decisive action which was crowded into the next minute. He seized Burley and hurled him to the ground. With one hand on the nape of his neck and the other on the seat of his trousers, Solomon lifted his enemy above his head and quitted him over the tent top.

Burley picked himself up and having lost his head drew his hanger, and, like a mad bull, rushed at Solomon. Suddenly he found his way barred by Jack.

"Would you try to run a man through before he 'a' draw?" the latter asked. Solomon's old sword flashed out of its scabbard.

"Let him come on," he shouted. "I'm more to hum with a hanger than I be with good vittles."

Of all the words on record from the lips of this man, these are the most immodest, but it should be remembered that when he spoke them his blood was hot.

Jack gave way and the two came together with a clash of steel.

A crowd had gathered about them and was increasing rapidly. They had been fighting for half a moment around the fire when Solomon broke the blade of his adversary. The latter drew his pistol! Before he could raise it Solomon had fired his own weapon. Burley's pistol dropped on the ground. Instantly its owner reeled and fell beside it. The battle which had lasted no more than a minute had come to its end. There had been three kinds of fighting in that lively duel.

Solomon's voice trembled when he cried out:

"Ary man who says a word ag'in' the Great Father is goin' to git mused up."

He pushed his way through the crowd which had gathered around the wounded man.

"Let me bind his arm," he said.

But a surgeon had stood in the crowd. He was then doing what he could for the shattered member of the hot-headed Colonel Burley. Jack was helping him. Some men arrived with a litter and the unfortunate officer was quickly on his way to the hospital.

Jack and Solomon set out for headquarters. They met Putnam and two officers hurrying toward the scene of the encounter. Solomon had fought in the bush with him. Twenty years before they had been friends and comrades. Solomon saluted and stopped the grizzled hero of many a great adventure.

"Blinkus, what's the trouble here?" the latter asked, as the crowd who had followed the two scouts gathered about them.

Solomon gave his account of what had happened. It was quickly verified by many eye-witnesses.

"Ye done right," said the general. "Burley has got to take it back an' apologize. He ain't fit to be an officer. He behaved himself like a bully. Any man who talks as he done orto be cussed an' Blinkusd an' sent to the guardhouse."

Within three days Burley had made an ample apology for his conduct and this balleta was posted at headquarters:

"Liberty of speech has its limits. It must be controlled by the law of decency and the general purposes of our army and government. The man who respects no authority above his own intellect is a concealed ass and would be a tyrant if he had the chance. No word of disrespect for a superior officer will be tolerated in this army."

"The Blinkusd of Burley"—a phrase which traveled far beyond the limits of Putnam's camp—and the notice of warning which followed was not without its effect on the propaganda of Gates and his friends.

Next day Jack and Solomon set out with a force of 1,200 men for Washington's camp at White Marsh near Philadelphia. There Jack found a letter from Margaret. It had been sent first to Benjamin Franklin in Paris through the latter's friend, Mr. David Hartley, a distinguished Englishman who was now and then sounding the doctor on the subject of peace.

"I am sure that you will be glad to know that my love for you is not growing feeble on account of its age," she wrote. "The thought has come to me that I am England and that you are America. It will be a wonderful and beautiful thing if through all this bitterness and bloodshed we can keep our love for each other. My dear, I would have you know that in spite of this alien king and his followers, I hold to my love for you and am waiting with that patience which God has put in the soul of your race and mine, for the end of our troubles. If you could come to France I would try to meet you in Doctor Franklin's home at Passy. So I have the hope in me that you may be sent to France."

This is as much of the letter as can claim admission to our history. It gave the young man a supply of happiness sufficient to fill the many days of hardship and peril in the winter at Valley Forge. It was read to Solomon.

"Say, this 'ere letter kind o' teches my feelin's—does sart'in," said Solomon. "I'm goin' to see what his be done."

Unknown to Jack, within three days Solomon had a private talk with the commander in chief at his headquarters. The latter had a high regard for the old scout. He maintained a dignified silence while Solomon made his little speech and then arose and offered his hand, saying in a kindly tone:

"Colonel Blinkus, I must bid you good night."

P.H.S.

Competing in the second annual invitation meet held by the Millville High School on Memorial Day, the Palmyra High School track team cleaned up for its fifth meet championship for the current season. Millville and Vineland High Schools finished second and third, respectively.

Honors of the day were shared by Sacks and Beahn, the freshman sensation. Sacks, as usual, won the 100-yard dash in 10.4 seconds. Competing in the broad jump for the second time this season he succeeded in finishing first with a record jump of 20 feet 8 inches. This is an exceptional good leap under any circumstances, and when it is considered that Harris has had little or no practice in jumping this year, the work is all the more phenomenal.

Beahn continued his brilliant work, finishing third in the 100. His best work was displayed while running as third man on the relay team. Wood started the relay. He finished third. Captain Boal, who ran second, held this position. Their work was very good, considering they had just finished the quarter and half-mile events. Beahn took the baton from Captain Boal with five yards separating him from the leading man. He ran the best race of his career and when he handed the stick to Sacks, the anchor man, Palmyra was in first position. It was an exceptionally fast field and Sacks was just about able to hold his own with the pride of Millville High until the home stretch was reached. Here Sacks made an extra burst of speed and crossed the tape with a one-yard margin. Millville, of course, was second. She was closely followed by Vineland. It was one of the most thrilling high school relays witnessed this season. Boal led the fast field in the half mile event, until the last few yards were reached. Here he was nosed out by a few inches by the Millville man. Wood placed second in the quarter. He ran a smooth race and like Boal, only lost by inches.

Not content with seeing his protégés clean up, Coach Harold B. (Boots) Lever entered the special invitation 220-yard event. Naturally, Boots was not forced to extend himself in order to win.

The boys close the best season in the school's history when they compete in the Princeton (state) interscholastics this Saturday.

Varsity Men Get Letters

Coach Harry Ivory issued varsity letters and certificates to members of the basketball and baseball teams on Wednesday.

Five basketball players received the coveted letters. They were Jim Burr, Russ Davis, Paul Burr, Paul Kumpel and Henry Freynick.

Baseball honors were awarded Captain Harry Burns, Russ Davis, Carl Lutz, Adolph Broght, George Graham, Horace Richmond, Jim Burr, Bill Hebrew, Tom O'Donnell and J. Sheer.

Readjustment of Public Service Mortgage Bonds

Formal notification was given to holders of the 5% general mortgage bonds of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey today that the company was prepared to go forward with the proposed readjustment of its security structure in accordance with the plan recently approved by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners. One of the first moves will be to put into effect the offer to exchange new 5½% bonds of the proposed Public Service Electric and Gas Company for the outstanding five of Public Service Corporation.

Just as soon as the plan becomes an actuality the companies will be in a position to go forward with important development work which has been awaiting the outcome of the merger.

July 4th Committee to Meet

The Fourth of July celebration committee will hold its first meeting of this year at the police headquarters next Tuesday evening, June 10, at eight. All organizations are requested to have representatives present. Considerable details of previous years will be eliminated as it will not be necessary to solicit contributions due to the appropriation from the Borough Council.

Election of officers for this year will be held at this meeting.

Charles A. Bowne Laid to Rest

Nearly every public official in Burlington County on Wednesday afternoon attended the funeral of Charles A. Bowne, superintendent of the almshouse at New Lisbon which took place from the institution over which he had presided for more than fourteen years.

The honorary pall-bearers were J. Lloyd Wright of Medford; Charles R. Stout of Florence; Howard Russ of Delanco; George W. Rogers of Palmyra; Fred Lippincott, of Moorestown, members of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders.

The active pall bearers were William H. Reeves, New Lisbon, member of the Republican State Committee and County clerk; Thomas Gauntt, Paul B. Kemple, Wilson Hunt, Howard K. Ballinger, and Thomas C. Shreve, all of Pemberton. Mr. Bowne died at his home in New Lisbon on Sunday night May 25, after an illness of two weeks. Heart trouble was the cause of death. He leaves a widow, Mrs. Amanda Bowne. Interment was made in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Burlington.

FINE OUTLOOK FOR NEW JERSEY FRUIT

Cold Weather Has Delayed It, but Prospect is for Apples and Peaches Aplenty.

ABANDONING TROLLEY LINES

Passaic Board Votes to Stop Job Taken by State to Cut Price—Belleville Will Take Up His New Militia Duties at Once.

Trenton.—The busy housewife may expect an average supply of early apples and a generous amount of peaches from New Jersey this season, according to the report on late May orchard conditions by the Jersey Fruit Growers' Co-operative Association. Cold wet weather of the last four weeks has delayed the crop in the central and southern New Jersey fruit belt by five days to a week, but frost damage is reported negative, and insect injury has been considerably reduced by weather conditions unfavorable to the development of orchard pests.

The detailed orchard survey of the association, the members of which produced last year a third of the apples and a fifth of the peaches grown in New Jersey, indicates an early apple crop at about 80 per cent of last year, with conditions spotted throughout the state. The total peach prospect, however, is for 90 per cent of the large crop of last season, with midseason and late varieties promising a production fully equal to that of last summer.

The outlook for a quantity crop of both early apples and peaches is indicated in the report of James E. Klahre, manager of the Jersey Fruit Growers. He says:

"Anxious consumers need have no doubt about a good crop of New Jersey fruit this summer. Cool weather, although delaying the progress of the bloom and the set of fruit, has retarded the usual spread of insect pests which comes with a warm spring.

"In addition, the leading growers throughout the New Jersey fruit belt have sprayed their trees as consistently and thoroughly as weather conditions permitted. Unless unforeseen developments take place, the quality of both early apples and peaches, when properly packed and promptly marketed, should be excellent.

"The organized growers have increased their membership this year to the point that they may secure the joint services of their association in the improvement of production methods, as well as in their efforts to eliminate the waste in old-fashioned marketing. This will enable eastern consumers to secure the products of eastern producers with the same assurance of quality, grade and pack as in the case of apples from the northwest and citrus fruits from California and Florida."

Abandoning Trolley Lines

In the application of the Trenton and Mercer County Traction Company to the Public Utility Commission for permission to abandon operation of its trolley line between Pennington and Hopewell is to be found evidence that the trolley companies realize that the motor-bus is more economical and quite as efficient for transportation service in the rural districts and are acting promptly in making the change which will save to them the business they have established.

The local traction company says it has been losing money yearly in operating the Pennington-Hopewell branch, the deficit last year amounting to $7,000; that continued operation of the branch line will mean the spending of $50,000 within the next few years for building pavements in the two boroughs, and that there is no hope of an appreciable increase in traffic between them. Under the circumstances the company has pursued the wise course.

Pennington and Hopewell and the residents along the five-mile stretch of road between them will not be left without transportation service. The trolley company will operate motor-buses, and in addition the service of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Company, besides the automobiles of the residents. With all these facilities there is little danger that the people most interested will be put to serious inconvenience if the abandonment request is granted.

Thirty years or more ago there was a craze on the part of promoters of electric railway companies to secure franchises covering suburban towns as well as city streets. Trenton suffered seriously because of this craze, which was abated only when the promoters found themselves in financial difficulties. At present the trend is in the other direction, and several branch trolley roads in the State have been abandoned, and there are others to follow.

Passaic Board Moves

Another conflict between the road committee of the Passaic County Board of Freeholders and the State Highway Department developed at the freeholders' meeting in Paterson, and as a result County Engineer Garwood Ferguson was given authority to stop the paving work being done by the state department in Main avenue, Clifton, if he saw fit to do so. The authorization was on the engineer's charge that the department was using a plan which does not meet with the specifications which the department expects private concerns to meet in the manufacture of asphalt top dressing.

This action follows that taken at the last meeting, when Mr. Ferguson was empowered to hire a paving if necessary to make certain that the dressing being laid by the state department conformed with all specifications.

Friction has existed between the two bodies ever since the state department refused to sanction contracts let by the freeholders for the paving, pointing out that the private concern charged $2.00 a yard for the asphalt surface, while the department estimated that it could be done for $1.75 and offered to do it for that amount. The state department had later sublet part of the work to the Union Building and Construction Company of Passaic. This also met with the criticism of the county engineer.

Mr. Ferguson claimed that he had tested three samples of the binder being used on the paving job and found that two of them were not up to standard. In the discussion Mr. Ferguson expressed the opinion, however, that the State Highway Department was "trying to give us a good job, for they have twice as many men on the job there as they would put on a similar job."

In his charges against the plant in which the asphalt is being manufactured, he said that there were no means to weigh the material being used. The Highway Department would not permit a contractor to use such a plant, he claimed. He had taken the matter up with the department and expected a reply, he said.

The authority was given Mr. Ferguson by a vote of 5 to 2. Director William W. Stalter, one of the dissenting freeholders, said that he didn't favor the motion for the reason that the department may be just finding its stride in the work. "There is no use sitting here and fighting with the State Highway Department, for we, and not the State Highway Department, are getting the blame," he declared.

Aide to General

Robert C. Belleville, 34, of Trenton, has been appointed aide-de-camp to Brigadier General Winfield S. Price of the Fifty-seventh Infantry Brigade, National Guard of New Jersey, with headquarters in Camden. The brigade includes, among other units, the 113th and 114th Infantry Regiments. Mr. Belleville will start upon his duties at once. The brigade headquarters will be at Sea Girt from July 5 to 28, inclusive.

Mr. Belleville enlisted in the National Guard as a private and was advanced to the office of second lieutenant of Company H, 114th Infantry, the old Company A, of which his grandfather, the late Robert C. Belleville, was captain during the Civil War.

The appointment of Mr. Belleville will not interfere with his other duties. He is secretary of the Real Estate League of New Jersey, vice president of the Exchange Club and treasurer of the Seaboard Storage and Sales Company of Cornwall, Pa.

N. J. Guard School Opens

Brigadier General Winfield S. Price, of Camden, and a staff of regular army officers and sergeants opened the annual camp of instruction for officers, non-commissioned officers and selected enlisted men of the New Jersey National Guard. One hundred and fifty enlisted men and fifty officers of the guard also arrived in camp to begin the week of instruction.

Immediately after their arrival the guardsmen were called to a conference by General Price, who urged the men to make this encampment the best. Colonel Alexander McNab, of Trenton, gave a talk on marksmanship, and Major John J. Reddy, also of Trenton, spoke on camp hygiene.

Following the conference officers went through a period of saber drilling, and took up equitation. Colonel John B. Schoffel, of Trenton, is senior instructor. South Jerseymen among the officers and sergeants who will act as instructors are: Captain William A. Brady, Captain Dallas R. Alfante, Sergeants Irving C. Hughes, John P. Nalley and Henry B. Wilson, all of Camden.

State Rifle Range

Final preparations are under way for opening the New Jersey State Rifle Range at Sea Girt. The activities will include a school of instruction in small arms firing for members of the National Guard under command of Brigadier General Bird W. Spencer, inspector general of rifle practice, and Colonel Alexander J. MacNab of the United States Army.

Organizations of the National Guard encamped at Sea Girt during July and August will be trained in rifle, pistol, automatic rifle and machine gun practice and the use of a thirty-seven millimeter gun and trench mortar firing. From August 28 until September 6 the annual rifle and pistol shooting tournament of the State Rifle Association will be held. This will include two matches open to competition between teams from the army, navy, marine corps, the National Guard of the several states and individual matches open to all.

May Put Silzer in Race

John W. Westcott, former state attorney general, may be called upon once again to nominate a Jerseyman for President in a Democratic National Convention. Having twice placed Woodrow Wilson before Democratic conventions, Mr. Westcott is going to appear next month in New York to offer the name of Governor Silzer, it is said.

Mr. Westcott had a long conference with the governor. Convention details were discussed. The governor would like to see Mr. Westcott and been selected to do the speech-making or not, but others said it was a safe prediction.

P. H. S. COMMENCEMENT

Sixty-five Members in Graduating Class. Riverton Girl Salutatorian

The commencement exercises of Palmyra High School will be held in the auditorium this Thursday evening. It is one of the largest classes ever graduated in Palmyra, there being 65 members.

Hubert W. Logan is the valedictorian and Margaret M. Field the salutatorian. Carl W. Lutz will give the banner oration. The speaker will be Dr. John G. Wilson, of Philadelphia. Dr. Wilson made the address at the commencement exercises here a number of years ago.

The first baseball game on Riverton's new Memorial athletic field, played last Saturday, resulted in a victory for Riverton after an exciting and hard-fought contest of eleven innings with the Field Club of Palmyra.

This opening game had been looked forward to with much interest in the two towns, and a large crowd of rooters for both teams was on hand. The decision came in the seventh inning when Manager Eddie Williams hit a three-bagger, and Holvick came in with the winning run.

The occasion was enlivened by the famous Irons Band, of Burlington, which paraded the town in one of Steedle's buses before the game, and played on the grounds during the afternoon.

The field had been purchased by the Borough of Riverton as a permanent memorial for the Riverton boys who served in the World War.

Mayor Killam E. Bennett made the opening address. He told how Riverton officials had decided at the time of the signing of the Armistice that the town should pay a worth-while tribute to our soldiers, and the park was finally decided upon as being the most suitable form of memorial.

After briefly outlining the plans which would develop the ground into a thoroughly equipped athletic field and probably mark a new era in the town's athletic life, the Mayor threw out the first ball and started the big contest.

Mr. Bennett said that the Park would be formally opened at a later date with appropriate ceremonies.

Joe Stack was Palmyra's leadoff man, and so had the honor of being the first man to wield the willow on the new diamond. Rider, who will be remembered as the youthful twirler who worked under the Field Club colors last year, was the mound for Riverton. He politely robbed Joe Stack of the opportunity of being the first to get a hit in the new park by walking the ice man, but Joe did score the first run.

Donaghy then drove a hot one to Ross Borden, an old-timer who was for many years the Delanco's manager, at first. Mr. Borden failed to handle Donaghy's hit successfully. Both runners advanced and when the next man up, King, came through with a single they scored. King was caught off first for the initial out. Rider settled down and pitched harder, fanning Bennett. Woods, made the last out with a popfly to Rider.

Eddie Hoyt was on the mound for the visitors and performed like a big leaguer, only having six men face in him the first two frames and not allowing a hit. Eddie fanned the first two in the third. Rider was the third and singled. Next came a walk.

"Skeets" Goldsborough, another former Delanco man, was at short for Williams and followed at bat. He drove the ball to Stack who then caught Rider going to third for the last out, thus ending Riverton's chance to tally.

Joe Stack crossed the plate for second time for Palmyra when he was driven home with a single from King's bat in the third. Pete Leibert, who also pitched for Palmyra last season, was in left field for Riverton. He got a two-bagger in the fourth with one out. Clarence Hubbs followed Pete to bat but fanned. Pat Steedle came next and connected with one of Hoyt's offerings for a triple, driving home Pete for Riverton's first counter. Holvick ended Riverton's chances in this inning, when he drove the pill to Woods for the last out. A walk and an error by Mathews, coupled with a sacrifice game, gave Riverton another counter in the sixth. Eddie Williams crossed the plate and tied the score in the seventh.

Neither team did any more scoring until the tenth. Then they both drove over another run and the score was still tied. Rider brushed off the Palmyra men in one, two, three order in the eleventh, only Bennett, Woods and Mathews going to the plate.

Paul Holvick was the first man up for Riverton in the eleventh canto. He singled. Next came the husky manager, Eddie Williams. Eddie looked over a few of Harder's offerings who had replaced Hoyt in the seventh, and gracefully laid all his weight behind the bat and connected with the pill. Naturally, it traveled, and traveled far enough to allow Holvick to tear around the bases and cross home plate for winning run.

Ed Bennett and Sammy Rodgers were the bright lights in Palmyra's defense. They snatched pills from the air that were almost sure hits. King featured for the visitors on the offensive. He got three singles. Stack and Hoyt drove out a single. Doubles came from the bats of Evans and Buddy Mathews, while Donaghy connected for a triple.

Batting honors for the new team were divided. Rider and Leibert each getting two hits. Both of Rider's were singles while Pete got one single and a double. Hubbs singled and Steedle got his triple. The big hit from Eddie's trusty war club closed the game.

Large Field in Golf Championship Tournament

The qualifying round for the Golf Championship of the Riverton County Club brought out a large number of players last Saturday, June 7th. It was an ideal day and whatever alibis were offered for poor scores, the weather could not be included among them.

Dr. S. E. Stokes, of Moorestown, turned in the lowest score in the qualifying round, requiring but 81 strokes. It seemed to be an off day for most of the players, but three making the journey under 90.

One of those events that may not happen in a lifetime occurred on the course during this tournament last Saturday when C. W. Fischer, of Merchantville, holed out on No. 2 green in one stroke from the tee.

The best sixteen scores qualified for the championship, with three added sixteen for added prizes. The first round of match play takes place this Saturday and succeeding rounds will be played in succeeding weeks until the championship and the winner of each other sixteen is determined.

Big Time at the Fete

The annual lawn fete of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League falling on June 14th this year, which is Flag Day, an interesting feature of the afternoon's program will be a flag raising at 5.15. The fete will be held on the attractive lawns of the Larchmont Farm, at Masonville, home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haines, beginning at two o'clock.

This year's hot supper will be served from 5.30 to 7.30 at one dollar a plate. There will be good music and the usual bazaar, cake and candy booths and new attractions for the children.

If raining at 11 a. m. the fete will be held at the Friends' school house, Moorestown.

There is probably no institution in the County performing more valuable work than is being done by the Burlington County Tuberculosis League and the management is fully warranted in asking for generous support from the public.

Expect great things of yourself.

When He Has Tried

for Grace E. Hall

Blame not the man who has done his best
In the thing he has tried to do,
Who has given his strength and measured his length,
However it looks to you,
For his best is all that a man can give—
A fair mind holds this true.

Oh, hail not alone the one who wins,
Ignoring the ones who lose,
For they may gain a lap o'er handicap
That no one would ever choose;
Then if with the rest they have done their best,
How dare we praise refuse?

Though he crosses the line a bit too late,
Give the racer plaudits loud,
Withhold your cheer—he has earned a cheer
By facing the scoffing crowd;
For it takes more courage to bear defeat
Than to carry laurels proud.

If he does his best, then the one who wins
Has given no more than he,
The best is the limit of each man's worth,
Whatever that limit may be;
And the man who goes to his utmost goal

ANIMALS ARE GOOD LINGUISTS

Horses and Dogs Learn and Remember Meaning of Words in More Than One Tongue.

Can horses and dogs pick up a foreign language and still remember that of the land of their birth? This subject was broached by one of the speakers at the World Service exposition in Liverpool and it was declared that a British horse can recognize its own language abroad.

The experts who have been consulted agree that this is so. They emphasize the fact, however, that it is primarily the inflection of the voice that the animal learns to understand when sent to a foreign country. It pays much closer and quicker attention to the tone than to the sound of the words.

Dogs, like horses, remember the sound of the language of their masters, and even after many years in a foreign land can remember the meaning of sentences.

A clear proof of some dogs' cleverness is to be found in the way they pick up several native tongues and dialects when they leave their British masters in India and Africa, in places where several languages are spoken. Cats, on the contrary, seem incapable of picking up more than their names in the language of the country in which they live; they do not seem to comprehend the human tongue, and a cat that does is exceptional—Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE RETURN AND THE REBUILD- ING OF THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 1:1-11; 2:1-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God."—Isa. 40:1.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Building a House for God.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Love for God's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Rebuilding of the Temple.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Significance of the Return.

I. The Return From Captivity Predicted (Jer. 29:10-14).
It seems that false prophets were flourishing in Babylon, telling the people that they would speedily be restored to their own land. To counteract this the Lord moved Jeremiah to send a letter to the captives in Babylon (Jer. 29:1-14). In this letter he advised them to settle down and quietly pursue their regular callings of life and not to be led astray by false prophets.

1. The Length of the Captivity (v. 10). Their coming back was to be "after seventy years." From Daniel 9:2 it is clear that seventy years means a definite time. It dates from the time when the first company was taken captive among which Daniel was found.

II. The Prediction of Captivity Fulfilled (Ezra 1:1-11).
1. The Proclamation of Cyrus (vv. 1-4). This was not by accident, but that the word of the Lord, might be fulfilled (v. 1). God never forgets. What He has promised He will do. It was by divine initiation—the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus in his proclamation he ordered that all who desired should go back and build the house of the Lord God, and those who lacked this inclination should lend assistance by making gifts of silver, gold and beasts.

2. The Response to Cyrus' Proclamation (vv. 5, 6). The company which returned was largely made up of representatives of Judah and Benjamin.

3. Royal Power (v. 7-11). Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and placed in the house of his gods. This, no doubt, greatly encouraged the Jews, for there were 5,400 vessels returned.

III. The Temple Rebuilt (Ezra 3:1-10:15).
1. The Foundation Laid. This was an auspicious occasion and was celebrated with impressive ceremonies.

(1) The priests in their apparel (v. 10). The priests' garments symbolized their consecration to the Lord's service.

(2) The priests with trumpets (v. 10). These trumpets were made of silver and were used in calling the people together.

(3) The Levites with symbols (v. 10). These were to furnish the instrumental music of the sanctuary, in accordance with the arrangements made by David (I Chron. 16:10-21).

(4) They sang together by course (v. 11). This means that they sang to one another responsively. The one company sang, "The Lord is good." The other responded, "For his mercy endureth forever."

(5) Mingled weeping and shouting (vv. 12, 13). Some of the older men, who had seen the magnificent and glorious temple of Solomon, which had been destroyed, wept much when they saw how far short the present foundations came from the former temple.

2. The Building Hindered (Ezra 4). The leading adversaries were the Samaritans, a mongrel people the offspring of the poor Jews who were left in Palestine and the foreign people who were sent into Palestine after the Jews were taken captive.

(1) An unskillful pessimism (Ezra 4:10). Under the circumstances this was a glorious beginning and gave promise of great things for the future. Therefore it was no credit to the priests, Levites and chief of the fathers to mar this occasion with their weeping.

(2) Worldly compromise (Ezra 4:2, 5). They said, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God." This is Satan's most common and effective method today.

(3) Open opposition by the world (Ezra 4:24). When refused a part in the work open opposition was resorted to.

IV. The Temple Finished (Ezra 5:1-6:15). Through the ministry of the Prophets Haggai and Zechariah the people were encouraged to resume the work of building the temple.

IV. The Temple Dedicated (Ezra 6:10-22).
The people were united in this building program and came together upon its completion and solemnly dedicated it to God.

The Executive

According to an efficiency expert, an executive is a man who decides things in a hurry and sometimes gets them right.

When He Has Tried

By Grace E. Hall

Blame not the man who has done his best
In the thing he has tried to do,
Who has given his strength and measured his length,
However it looks to you,
For his best is all that a man can give—
A fair mind holds this true.

Oh, hail not alone the one who wins,
Ignoring the ones who lose,
For they may gain a lap o'er handicap
That no one would ever choose;
Then if with the rest they have done their best,
How dare we praise refuse?

Though he crosses the line a bit too late,
Give the racer plaudits loud,
Withhold your sneer—he has earned a cheer
By facing the scoffing crowd;
For it takes more courage to bear defeat
Than to carry laurels proud.

If he does his best, then the one who wins
Has given no more than he,
The best is the limit of each man's worth,
Whatever that limit may be;
And the man who goes to his utmost goal

ANIMALS ARE GOOD LINGUISTS

Horses and Dogs Learn and Remember Meaning of Words in More Than One Tongue.

Can horses and dogs pick up a foreign language and still remember that of the land of their birth? This subject was broached by one of the speakers at the World Service exposition in Liverpool and it was declared that a British horse can recognize its own language abroad.

The experts who have been consulted agree that this is so. They emphasize the fact, however, that it is primarily the inflection of the voice that the animal learns to understand when sent to a foreign country. It pays much closer and quicker attention to the tone than to the sound of the words.

Dogs, like horses, remember the sound of the language of their masters, and even after many years in a foreign land can remember the meaning of sentences.

A clear proof of some dogs' cleverness is to be found in the way they pick up several native tongues and dialects when they leave their British masters in India and Africa, in places where several languages are spoken.

Cats, on the contrary, seem incapable of picking up more than their names in the language of the country in which they live; they do not seem to comprehend the human tongue, and a cat that does is exceptional—Philadelphia Inquirer.

THE RETURN AND THE REBUILDING OF THE TEMPLE

LESSON TEXT—Ezra 1:1-11; 2:1-6:22.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Comfort ye, comfort ye my people, saith your God."—Isa. 40:1.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Building a House for God.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Love for God's House.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Rebuilding of the Temple.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Significance of the Return.

1. The Return From Captivity Predicted (Jer. 29:10-14).
It seems that false prophets were flourishing in Babylon, telling the people that they would speedily be restored to their own land. To counteract this the Lord moved Jeremiah to send a letter to the captives in Babylon (Jer. 29:1-14). In this letter he advised them to settle down and quietly pursue their regular callings of life and not to be led astray by false prophets.

1. The Length of the Captivity (v. 10). Their coming back was to be "after seventy years." From Daniel 9:2 it is clear that seventy years means a definite time. It dates from the time when the Babylonians were taken captive among which Daniel was found.

11. The Prediction of Captivity Fulfilled (Ezra 1:1-11).
1. The Proclamation of Cyrus (vv. 1-4). This was not by accident, but that the word of the Lord might be fulfilled (v. 1). God never forgets. What He has promised He will do. It was by divine initiation—the Lord stirred up the spirit of Cyrus. In his proclamation he ordered that all who desired should go back and build the house of the Lord God, and those who lacked this inclination should lend assistance by making gifts of silver, gold and beasts.

2. The Response to Cyrus' Proclamation (vv. 5, 6). The company which returned was largely made up of representatives of Judah and Benjamin.

3. Royal Power (vv. 7-11). Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord which Nebuchadnezzar had carried away from Jerusalem and placed in the house of his gods. This, no doubt, greatly encouraged the Jews, for there were 5,400 vessels returned.

111. The Temple Rebuilt (Ezra 3:2-6:15).
1. The Foundation Laid. This was an auspicious occasion and was celebrated with impressive ceremonies.

(1) The priests in their apparel (v. 10). The priests' garments symbolized their consecration to the Lord's service.

(2) The priests with trumpets (v. 10). These trumpets were made of silver and were used in calling the people together.

(3) The Levites with symbols (v. 10). These were to furnish the instrumental music of the sanctuary, in accordance with the arrangements made by David (1 Chron. 15:10-21).

(4) They sang together by course (v. 11). This means that they sang to one another responsively. The one company sang, "The Lord is good." The other responded, "For his mercy endureth forever."

(5) Mingled weeping and shouting (vv. 12, 13). Some of the older men, who had seen the magnificent and glorious temple of Solomon, which had been destroyed, wept much when they saw how far short the present foundations came from the former temple.

2. The Building Hindered (Ezra 4). The leading adversaries were the Samaritans, a mongrel people the offspring of the poor Jews who were left in Palestine and the foreign people who were sent into Palestine after the Jews were taken captive.

(1) An unintelligent pessimism (Ezra 4:10). Under the circumstances this was a glorious beginning and gave promise of great things for the future. Therefore it was no credit to the priests, Levites and chief of the fathers to mar this occasion with their weeping.

(2) Worldly compromise (Ezra 4:2, 5). They said, "Let us build with you, for we seek your God." This is Satan's most common and effective method today.

(3) Open opposition by the world (Ezra 4:24). When refused a part in the work open opposition was resorted to.

3. The Temple Finished (Ezra 5:1-6:15). Through the ministry of the Prophets Haggai and Zechariah the people were encouraged to resume the work of building the temple.

IV. The Temple Dedicated (Ezra 6:16-22).
The people were united in this building program and came together upon its completion and solemnly dedicated it to God.

The Executive

According to an efficiency expert, an executive is a man who decides things in a hurry and sometimes gets them right.

True Courtesy

True courtesy contributes fully as much enjoyment to the giver as to the receiver.

Veto President Appreciated

Within certain definite lines the people of our country appreciate a president who vetoes appropriation bills not provided for by existing taxation.

The public, generally, appreciates very much federal taxes about 25 per cent in the interest of the people.

Cutting that amount from the budget, President Coolidge should veto every new burden put on the people by Congress, right down the line.

Fred L. Kent, vice president of Bankers' Trust Company, says there are 2,700,000 employees on the payrolls of the federal and local government and 700,000 former employees drawing pensions—3,400,000 persons who are being provided for by government with the living.

There are 41 to 42 million persons in the United States "gaily employed," so that every 12 citizens are supporting one in office.

The amount paid for services by government—federal, state and local—represented 6 1/2 per cent of the national income in 1922.

This sum was nearly one-half that paid out in wages by all manufacturing plants in this country in 1921.

This sum represents an average payment of $91 by each person over ten years old engaged in a gainful occupation.

Corner Stone Will Be Laid Sunday

There will be a corner stone laying of the new Catholic Lyceum on Main street, Moorestown, on Sunday, June 15th, at 3 o'clock. The speakers will be Thomas J. Walsh, D. D., L. L. D., Bishop of Trenton, Rev. Dr. J. F. Hendrick, rector of The Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, of Moorestown, Monsignor William McKean, of Bernardsville, New Jersey, Rev. Maurice Bric, of Gloucester, and Rev. Father Branton, O. S. A., of Villa Nova, Pa., and Rev. Leo Dineen, assistant rector of The Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Moorestown.

Perkins-Coles

A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin H. Coles, on Wednesday evening, June 11th, at 7:30 o'clock, when their daughter, Florence, was given in marriage by her eldest brother, Franklin Coles, Jr., to Charles A. Perkins, of Mississippi.

The Rev. F. E. Tansley, of the Asbury M. E. Church officiated at the ceremony.

The bride wore a white georgette dress and trailing lace veil. She carried a large arm bouquet of white roses, lilies-of-the-valley and orange blossoms. The bridesmaids were the Misses Edna and Laura Coles, sisters of the bride. Miss Edna Coles wore a stunning gown of yellow georgette and carried roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Miss Laura Coles was attired in a dress of orchid georgette, and carried roses and sweet peas.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns, daisies and roses. Dinner was served to fifty guests immediately after the ceremony. The young couple are on a wedding trip to the shore, and on returning will reside at the home of Mrs. Perkins' parents, in Cinnaminson.

Hospital Superintendent Resigns

Miss Elizabeth Ancker, for several years superintendent of the Burlington County Hospital in Mount Holly, has resigned her position and will leave about September 1. She feels that she must take a rest for the benefit of her health. There is much regret over Miss Ancker's leaving, as she has done much in a faithful and conscientious way to raise the standard of the hospital.

Mrs. Daisy Hollingshead, who has been connected with the hospital for some time, will succeed Miss Ancker. She was selected by the Board of Managers.

Queer Clock in Cathedral.

A gallery below the dial across which heathen deities drive in chariots is but one of the remarkable features of the clock constructed in 1842 for the Strasbourg cathedral. Diana drove on Monday, Mars on Tuesday, and so on.

After was a second gallery, with a figure holding two bells. At each quarter hour a second figure appeared and struck one of the bells. At the hour an old man walked across, striking the four quarters, and after him came the figure of Death, which struck the hour with a bone.

At noon in the top gallery the Twelve Apostles walked in procession around. Our Lord, who at the close made the sign of the cross. While this went on a cock on a pinnacle on the left of the figures flapped his wings and crowed three times.

A famous clock possessed by one of the emperors of China boasted a fully equipped automatic orchestra playing 40 foreign and 20 Chinese musical selections. A similar piece of genuinity is owned by a man in England.

This clock's "orchestra" consisting of a flute, a cello, two violins, two dancers, and three singers.

Edgar F. Bunce Makes Address to Graduating Class. Flowers Presented to Miss Chew and Departmental Teachers

The graduating exercises of the 1924 class of the Riverton public school, were held in the auditorium on Tuesday evening.

The platform was attractively decorated with roses and the figures 1924 made of daisies, were arranged across the front.

The address was made by Edgar F. Bunce, superintendent of schools of Northampton township. Certificates were presented by Charles W. Kipp, president of the Board of Education, and forty-five books for perfect attendance were presented by Murray C. Boyer, vice president of the Board. Music was furnished by the school orchestra.

The dresses worn by the girls in the graduating class were made by them under the direction of Miss Bozarth, as the completion of the course in sewing.

Many of those who attended the exercises visited the class rooms where school work was on exhibition.

Pupils of the graduating class presented flowers to Miss Chew, supervising principal, and the departmental teachers: Misses Staman, Barrett, Taylor, Lucas, Bozarth and Foulke.

The graduates were: Lewis Bell, Ernest Bishop, Irene Christine Burrey, Marion Burrey, George Cyril Clark, Dorothy R. Cole.

Elizabeth E. Evans, Gordon Frederick Foster, William Harold Foulke.

TO MAKE CURRANT OR CINNAMON BUNS

May Be Baked Without Any Top Coating.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Take a portion of dough for light rolls; when it is ready for molding, place on a floured breadboard and roll into a rectangular sheet one-half inch in thickness. Pin down the corners to keep in shape. Spread lightly with softened butter, sprinkle with powdered (or soft) sugar and stew with currants or cinnamon. Roll up the sheet as for a jelly roll, cut into inch slices and place on a greased sheet about one inch apart. Let rise until about trebled in bulk; sprinkle the top with chopped nuts, or brush with a mixture of sugar and milk, and bake about twenty-five minutes in a fairly hot oven. If desired, these buns may be baked without any top coating and feed just a few minutes before taking from the oven, suggests the United States Department of Agriculture.

Vegetable Chowder Makes Most Substantial Dish

Here is a mixed vegetable chowder that is good. It makes a substantial dish. Rice and okra may be substituted for potatoes and carrots, suggests the United States Department of Agriculture, indeed almost any vegetables may be used with or in place of those mentioned.

4 potatoes 1 tablespoonful fat, or a piece of salt pork

3 carrots 1 level tablespoonful flour

1 pint canned tomatoes 1 cupful skim milk

1 teaspoonful salt

Cut potatoes and carrots in small pieces, add enough water to cover, and cook for 20 minutes. Do not drain off the water. Brown the chopped onions in the fat for five minutes. Add this and the tomatoes to the vegetables. Heat to boiling, add two cups of skim milk, and thicken with flour.

Celery tops or green peppers give a good flavor to the chowder if you happen to have them, so do finely chopped chives.

Creamed Peanuts and Rice

The United States Department of Agriculture recommends the following for a change. It can be easily and quickly made when boiled rice is on hand.

1 cupful rice (uncooked) 1/2 cupful milk

1/2 cupful chopped peanuts 1/2 cupful milk

1/2 cupful salt

Boil rice. Make white sauce by mixing flour in melted fat and mixing with milk. Stir over fire until it thickens. Mix rice, peanuts and seasoning with sauce, place in greased baking dish and bake for 20 minutes.

Brighten Faded Carpet

And half a cupful of vinegar to half a pint of water, wring a large, clean cloth out of this and go over your carpet with wide strokes. You will be greatly pleased with the improvement in the color.

Onions Good Crop for Small Garden

Staple That Should Be Considered for Summer and Winter Use.

Onions are one of the most generally grown garden crops of the whole list and yet very few gardeners produce more than enough for green onions in the spring, and possibly a few mature onions for winter use. This is due largely to the fact that gardeners are in the habit of going to the seed store and buying a quart of onion sets, planting them and calling the job done. As a matter of fact, there are onions for almost every purpose and those that mature at different times of the year. First, the little multiplier or top onions can be planted in the fall and in cold sections given a little covering of straw during the winter. Farther south they will need no protection whatever. These are ready for use as green onions just as soon as the first warm days of spring arrive and later produce sets to be planted the following autumn. Then there are the old-fashioned potato onions which multiply by division of the bulbs. These can be planted in the fall or in the spring as desired, and are used both as green and as mature onions. They are very mild in flavor and of excellent quality.

Bermuda and Spanish onions can be grown by sowing the seed in the hotbed and transplanting the sets to the open ground when they are about the size of a slate pencil and the soil is in condition to work. This is known as "new" onion culture. There are a number of standard varieties of regular summer onions such as Silver Skin, Yellow Globe, Red Globe, Prize Taker, Japanese, and so on, that are suitable for producing onions that are to be stored and used during the winter. Very little space is required to grow enough onions for family use, as a bushel of mature bulbs may be grown on a space 10 by 11 feet in size.

RESEEDING LAWNS

If you haven't reseeded the lawn, you must get busy at once. There has been enough growth of grass now to show you clearly those bare and killed-out patches. Make up your mind that grass will not grow on these bad spots unless you plant seed quite generously in the barren spaces and enrich the soil with fertilizer. Sheep manure (pulverized) is particularly good for this purpose.

SUNSHINE AND WATER

Sunshine and water are the two hardest working and most important factors in the growth of our garden crops. Too much or too little of either is injurious, but blended in just the right proportions they work wonders.

Camels on Russian Farms.

Peasants in some districts of Russia are importing camels to take the place of horses in the regular farm work, according to recent reports. These animals are desired, it is said, because they will eat almost anything and thrive. Difficulty is experienced in transporting them, however, as the desert beasts of burden can be persuaded to enter a freight car only with the greatest difficulty. Some of the farmers are using their cows for draft purposes, but incorrect handling is said to ruin them for milking.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

LET THE PUBLIC BE MY JUDGE

PROTECTING THE PUBLIC

If the State Medical Board were really interested in protecting the public, and not merely in protecting the pecuniary interests of the members of the medical profession, it might find a fertile field in investigating the havoc wrought by prevailing medical fads—the wanton use of the knife for "enlarged" tonsils (removing the tonsils instead of removing the cause), the reckless manner in which people are told to have their teeth out, for a wide variety of ills, with no sound basis for believing they will be benefited; the experimental use of powerful drugs, often resulting in permanent harm to the patient; needless operations, and other unscientific practices on the bodies of trusting patients—all at an ample price.

An impartial investigation would convince any unbiased person that even a Chiropractor of mediocre ability is less dangerous to the community than a highly skilled "Medic." Here is a medical opinion quoted from the book "Science and Health," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Dr. James Johnson, surgeon to William IV, King of England, said, 'I declare my conscientious opinion, founded on long observation and reflection, that if there were not a single physician, surgeon, apothecary, man-midwife, chemist, druggist, or drug on the face of the earth, there would be less sickness and less mortality.'"

GRIND TOUGH END OF PORTERHOUSE STEAK

Putting Tail-End Through Meat Hopper.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

The flank end of the porterhouse is to be cleaned with the toughest of cuts and with those which, when cooked alone, are with difficulty made tender even by long heating, and yet people quite generally broil this part of the steak with the tenderloin and expect it to be eaten. The United States Department of Agriculture says the fact is that to broil this part of the porterhouse steak is not good management. It is much more profitable to put it into the soup kettle or to make it into a stew. In families where most of the members are away during the day the latter is a good plan, for the end of a steak makes a good stew for two or three people. This may be seasoned with vegetables left from dinner, or two or three olives cut up in gravy will give a very good flavor; or a few drops of some of the bottled meat sauces, if the flavor is rolled, or a little chili sauce may be added to the stew. But if the tough end of a porterhouse is needed with the rest, a good plan is to put it through a meat grinder, make it into balls, and broil it with the tender portions. Each member of the family can then be served with a piece of the tenderloin and a meat ball. If the chopped meat is seasoned with a little onion juice, grated lemon rind, or chopped parsley, a good flavor is imparted to the gravy.

What is it? The answer is that it is a Land-Otter Man from Sitka, Alaska. The old warriors of the north used this figurehead on their great war canoes. Today it reposes quietly in the University Museum, Philadelphia.

Fresh Eggs Hatch Better, Healthier Chicks, Says Leading Poultry Expert

By EARL M. WHITNEY

Many good hatching eggs are spoiled through improper handling. An egg may be strong in fertility when laid and still fail to hatch through lack of proper care prior to incubation. Eggs for hatching should be gathered every few hours, so as to prevent them from becoming either chilled or heated. The one condition is as bad as the other.

Growth and development of the germ in an egg will start at summer heat. Eggs for hatching should be kept in a cool place at a temperature of from 50 to 60 degrees. The practice of keeping hatching eggs very long, however, should be discouraged, as the fresher an egg is the better it will hatch—the stronger and healthier the chick. A week to ten days should be the limit to be perfectly safe. Fertility weakens as the eggs become older.

If eggs are to be kept more than a few days before incubation it is well to turn them once or twice a day to keep the yolk from settling and sticking to the shell.

Character of Egg Affects Its Hatchability.

The character of the egg itself has a very important influence on the success or failure of the hatch. Only eggs that are normal in size and shape should be considered in the selection of eggs for hatching.

Make it a set rule to know the history of the stock from which hatching eggs are selected. This is extremely important. If disease in any form is prevalent in the parent stock, it may be communicated in the offspring through the germ in the egg. Don't take chances. Make certain that the eggs you incubate are from fowls with a record of health and vigor.

No matter how good the parent stock is, the eggs for hatching should be graded. The healthiest stock of birds will occasionally lay eggs of irregular sizes and shapes. Eliminate all eggs abnormally round or long, small or large. Do not include in your selection eggs that have rough shells or shells that are ringed or ridged. The shells that are unusually porous should also be avoided.

Test Eggs Seventh Day of Hatch.

A test of hatching eggs should be made at least once and preferably twice during the period of incubation. The first test should be made on the seventh day, and the second on the fourteenth day.

It is an easy matter to detect the infertile egg. A cardboard with a round hole in the center, cut to about an inch in diameter, makes a good egg tester. Conduct the test in a room that is dark, excepting for the light used in testing.

The cardboard should be held between the operator and the light and the eggs placed one at a time before the small hole in the cardboard. The germ can then be located very readily. The dead germ is easily distinguished from the live germ, as it will show a grayish, lifeless appearance. The infertile egg will appear as clear as an ordinary fresh egg. On the other hand, the fertile egg will show a dark spot in the center, with numerous blood vessels radiating from it. The eggs which do not show a live germ should be removed.

The second test on the fourteenth day is advisable, as sometimes the germ dies in the course of development.

Nature Controls Last Incubation Period.

In the final stage of hatching, the chick, as a rule, breaks a hole about a third the way from the large end of the egg. It is then that the lungs begin to act. After this first struggle and exertion, the chick generally goes to sleep. Nature seems to make this provision to give it strength to finish the job.

The last action of the chick before breaking the shell, is to take in through the body, the remainder of the yolk sac to form its food supply for the first 48 hours to 72 hours of its life. This explains why you are urged not to feed chicks until they are 72 hours old. The yolk sack which the chick absorbs at hatching time is sufficient nourishment for that period.

The care and feeding of baby chicks is a subject in itself. This will be discussed in a later article. Should the reader desire detailed information on the subject at once, however, a bulletin dealing with the care and feeding of chicks may be secured from the Pratt Institute of Philadelphia. This bulletin points out the easy road to successful chick raising and shows how modern methods simplify the poultry raiser's problems by reducing chick mortality to a minimum.

Try This Yourself

"When a man is trying to catch your eye and interest you," says Fenwick, "and you don't want to be interested, all you have to do is to look with both your eyes straight at the bridge of his nose. Then he can never hook you. But if you want to hook the other fellow, look with both your eyes into just one of his. This simple little trick has relieved me of many terrors of self-consciousness and embarrassment."—George Allan England.

CHAPTER XXII

The Greatest Trait.

Jack Irons used to say that no man had known such an uncommon amount of common sense as George Washington. He wrote to his father: "It would seem that he must be in communication with the all-seeing mind. If he were to make a serious blunder here our cause would fall. The enemy tries in vain to fool him. Their devices are as an open book to Washington. They have fooled me and Solomon and other officers but not him. I had got quite a conceit of myself in judging strategy, but now it is all gone."

"One day I was scouting along the lines, a few miles from Philadelphia, when I came upon a little, ragged, old woman. She wished to go through the lines into the country to buy flour. The moment she spoke I recognized her. It was old Lydia Darrah who had done my washing for me the last year of my stay in Philadelphia."

"Why, Lydia, how do you do?" I asked.

"The way I have allus done, lad-die buck," she answered in her good Irish tongue. "Workin' at the tub an' fightin' the devil—had 'cess to him—but I kape me hilt an' lucky I am to do that—thanks to the good God! How is me fine lad that I'd never 'a' knowed but for the voice of him?"

"Not as fine as when I wore the white ruffles but stout as a moose," I answered. "The war is a sad business."

"It is that—may the good God defend us! We cross the sea to be rid o' the devil an' he follies an' grabs us by the neck."

"We were on a lonely road. She looked about and seeing no one, put a dirty old needle case in my hands."

"Take that, me smart lad. It's fer good luck," she answered.

"As I left her I was in doubt of the meaning of her generosity. Soon I opened the needle book and found in one of its pockets a piece of thin paper rolled tight. On it I found the information that Howe would be leaving the city next morning with five thousand men, and baggage wagons and thirteen cannon and eleven boats. The paper contained other details of the proposed British raid. I rode post to headquarters and luckily found the general in his tent. On the way I arrived at a definite conviction regarding the plans of Howe. I was eager to give it air, having no doubt of its soundness. The general gave me respectful attention while I laid the facts before him. Then I took my courage in my hands and asked:

"General, may I venture to express an opinion?"

"Certainly," he answered.

"It is the plan of Howe to cross the Delaware in his boats so as to make us believe that he is going to New York. He will recross the river above Bristol and suddenly descend upon our rear."

"Washington sat, with his arms folded, looking very grave, but made no answer."

"In other words, again I presented my conviction."

"Still he was silent and I a little embarrassed. In half a moment I ventured to ask:

"General, what is your opinion?"

"He answered in a kindly tone: 'Colonel Irons, the enemy has no business in our rear. The boats are only for our scouts and spies to look at. The British hope to fool us with them. Tomorrow morning about daylight they will be coming down the Edgely Bye road on our left."

"He called an aid and ordered that our front be made ready for an attack in the early morning."

"I left headquarters with my conceit upon me and half convinced that our chief was out in his judgment of that matter. No like action will enter my mind again. Solomon and I have quarters on the Edgely Bye road. A little after three next morning the British were reported coming down the road. A large number of them were killed and captured and the rest roughly handled."

Snow and bitter winds descended upon the camp early in December. It was a worn, ragged, weary but devoted army of about eleven thousand men that followed Washington into Valley Forge to make a camp for the winter. Of these, two thousand and ninety-eight were unfit for duty. Most of the latter had neither boots nor shoes. They marched over roads frozen hard, with old rags and pieces of hide wrapped around their feet. There were many red tracks in the snow in the Valley of the Schuylkill that day. Hardly a man was dressed for cold weather. Hundreds were shivering and coughing with influenza.

"When I look at these men I cannot help thinking how small are my troubles," Jack wrote to his mother. "I will complain of them no more. Solomon and I have given away all the clothes we have except those on our backs. A fierce enemy that the British is besieging us here. He is winter."

"There are many here who have nothing to wear but blankets with armholes, belted by a length of rope. There are hundreds who have no blankets to cover them at night. They have to take turns sitting by the fire while others are asleep. For them a night's rest is impossible. Let this letter be read to the people of Albany and may they not lie down to sleep until they have stirred themselves in our behalf, and if any man dares to pray to God to help us until he has given of his abundance to that end and besought his neighbors to do the same, I could wish that his praying would choke him. Are we worthy to be saved—that is the question. If we expect God to furnish the flannel and the shoe leather, we are not. That is our part of the great task. Are we going to shrink it and fail?"

"We are making a real army. The men who are able to work are being carefully trained by the crusty old Baron Steuben and a number of French officers."

That they did not fall was probably due to the fact that there were men in the army like this one who seemed to have some little understanding of the will of God and the duty of man. This letter and others like it, traveled far and wide and more than a million hands began to work for the army.

The Schuylkill was on one side of the camp and wooded ridges, protected by entrenchments, on the other. Trees were felled and log huts constructed, 16 by 14 feet in size. Twelve privates were quartered in each hut.

The Gates propaganda was again being pushed. Anonymous letters complaining that Washington was not protecting the people of Pennsylvania and New Jersey from depredations were appearing in sundry newspapers. By and by a committee of investigation arrived from congress. They left satisfied that Washington had done well to keep his army alive, and that he must have help or a large part of it would die of cold and hunger.

It was on a severe day in March that Washington sent for Jack Irons. The scout found the general sitting alone by the fire in his office which was part of a small farmhouse. He was eating a cold luncheon of baked beans and bread without butter. Jack had just returned from Philadelphia where he had risked his life as a spy, of which adventure no details are recorded.

The general arose and went to his desk and returned with sealed letters in his hand and said:

"Colonel, I have a task for you. I

HOW TO STUDY THE NOSE

The altruistic nose has the faculty of sublimity well developed in the wide nostrils. He has a lofty, noble personality, bright, shiny and very large pupils, loves scenery, especially the big—the sublime. He is not given to petty gossip, but will talk with a full voice on travel, big new discoveries, and great undertakings.

The nose of sordid gain has a tip that goes back far on the face, and in the lower portion, just above the wings. It is also large, showing the faculty of acquisitiveness.

The optimistic, dramatic nose is built with upward, hopeful lines. It is lacking in serious reason and logic; and is cut off at the septum where the reasoning faculties are located in the nose.

With the nose of scientific truth goes a deep-set eye, large combative nose in the upper region, yet the largest part of the nose is in the mental region at the tip.

The nose of trachery is lacking in the motive region at the tip. Its mental development at the tip shows curiosity rather than a search for knowledge. It is lacking in important development which attracts the honest chemical calcium to the eyes.

could give it to no man in whom I had not the utmost confidence. You have earned a respite from the hardships and perils of this army. Here is a purse and two letters. With them I wish you to make your way to France as soon as possible and turn over the letters to General Franklin. The doctor is much in need of help. Put your services at his disposal. A ship will be leaving Boston on the 14th. A good horse has been provided; your route is mapped. You will need to start after the noon mess. For the first time in ten days there will be fresh beef on the tables. Two hundred blankets have arrived and more are coming. After they have eaten, give the men a farewell talk and put them in good heart, if you can. We are going to celebrate the winter's end which cannot be long delayed. When you have left the table, Hamilton will talk to the boys in his witty and inspiring fashion."

Soon after one o'clock on the 7th of March, 1778, Colonel Irons bade Solomon good-by and set out on his long journey.

CHAPTER XXIII

In France With Franklin.

Jack, shipped in the packet Mercury, of 70 tons, under Capt. Simon Sampson, one of America's ablest naval commanders. She had been built for rapid sailing and when, the second day, they saw a British frigate bearing down upon her they were ship and easily ran away from their enemy. Their first landing was at St. Martin on the Isle de Rhé. They crossed the island on mules, being greeted with the cry:

"Vive les braves Bostoniens!"

In France the word Bostonne meant American revolutionist. At the ferry they embarked on a long galbasse for La Rochelle. There the young man enjoyed his first repose on a French lit built up of sundry layers of feather beds.

In the morning he set out in a heavy vehicle of two wheels, drawn by three horses. Its postilion in frizzed and powdered hair, under a cocked hat, with a long queue on his back and in great boots, hooded with iron, rode a lively little dilet. Such was the French suggestion of those days, its running gear having been planned with an eye to economy, since vehicles were taxed according to the number of their wheels. The diary informs one that when the traveler stopped for food at an inn he was expected to furnish his own knife. The highways were patrolled night and day, by armed horsemen and robberies were unknown. The vineyards were not walled or fenced. All travelers had a license to help themselves to as much fruit as they might wish to eat when it was on the vines.

They arrived at Chantenay on a cold rainy evening. They were settled in their rooms, happy that they had protection from the weather, when their landlord went from room to room informing them that they would have to move on.

"Why?" Jack ventured to inquire.

"Because a seigneur has arrived."

"A seigneur!" Jack exclaimed.

"Oui, Monsieur. He is a very great man."

"But suppose we refuse to go," said Jack.

"Then, Monsieur, I shall detain you here. It is a law of le grand monarque."

There was no dodging it. The coach and horses came back to the inn door. The passengers went out into the dark, rainy night to plod along in the mud, another six miles or so, that the seigneur and his suite could enjoy that

THE PUBLIC GARDENS AT VENICE

We spent the month of June in Venice, Italy, the ideal month of all the year to be in this city of canals and gondolas.

Venice, the "Queen of the Adriatic," lies two and a half miles from the mainland in the Lagoon, a shallow bay of the Adriatic. It is twenty-five miles long by nine wide. Its houses and palaces, chiefly built on poles, stand on one hundred and seventeen small islands, formed by canals and connected by bridges. The city is intersected by innumerable canals, from which most of the houses rise direct, though some of them are flanked with narrow paved foot-paths, alive with picturesque and busy throngs. The gondolas are the taxicabs of Venice. They are all painted black in conformity with a law passed in the Fifteenth century.

Oh one of these numerous islands is the Public Gardens, a pretty place laid out by Napoleon in 1807. The Venetians of the better class are rarely seen here; it is abandoned to the poor classes.

On one of our walks we stopped to see the Public Gardens. While looking at some caged animals in his park, we were surprised to see a horse in one of the enclosures, just an ordinary old horse. We could not think at first why it was there. In a few minutes a Venetian came along with two little children. He gave some round, and the little ones seemed very delighted with their horseback ride. We realized then, of course, that the poor little children of Venice never see a horse except this one in the park.

The horse is as much of a curiosity to them as a camel or a zebra is to the island children.

NO OPPOSITION TO SCHOOL SURVEY

State Federation Boards Refuse to Go on Record as Inimical to Siler Plan

AGAINST GOVERNMENT WORK

Taxes Assessed on Jersey Railroads—Largest Amount Is Against Pennsylvania Lines—Ten Changes Made in Election Boards.

Trenton. — By an overwhelming vote the State Federation of District Boards of Education at its business meeting defeated a resolution that aimed to place the organization on record as opposed to Governor Siler's plan for a survey of the state school system.

The resolution, offered by Edward Livingston of Paterson, chairman of the legislative committee, provided that the United States commissioner of education be requested to make the survey and the legislature appropriate $15,000 to defray expenses in connection with the work.

"The resolution would serve as the opening wedge for federal interference, and God forbid that the federal government should enter into New Jersey and tell us what we should do with our schools," said Murray C. Boyer of Riverton in opposing adoption of the resolution.

I. Edward Harrison of North Hanover township characterized the resolution as a "slap" at the governor, "who seemed to be sincere." "If the papers are anywhere near right, it appears to me," said William H. Hill of Hillsboro, Somerset county, "the people in Washington have enough to do taking care of their own affairs. We had better settle the question ourselves before we call on the government."

President Wilbur Zimmerman said the resolution was not intended as a reflection upon the governor, adding that it was prepared some time previous to the delivery of the address by the governor earlier in the day. The government officials, he added, had already made surveys for several states and municipalities, and it was not unusual that they should be asked to perform a similar work in New Jersey.

Exception to the remarks of Mr. Harrison were taken by Mr. Livingston, who declared that no one in the state had more regard for the governor than himself. He said his resolution was introduced because of the belief that the government authorities were better equipped to perform such a survey, and he expressed doubt whether nine men, satisfactory to all interests, could be obtained who would serve upon the proposed commission.

Mrs. I. W. Thorn of Rahway offered a resolution, which was adopted, instructing Mr. Livingston to confer with the governor on the plan proposed in his resolution.

Highest Railroad Tax
Completed assessments against the railroads of New Jersey for 1924 taxes have been filed with the state comptroller by the Board of Taxes and Assessments. The total assessment is $40,637,876, which is an increase of $22,433,721 over the 1923 assessment. This is the tax on what is known as first and second class railroad property.

The tax to be paid by the railroads will amount to $16,292,684, an increase of $1,086,655 over the 1923 tax. The tax levied this year is the highest in the state's history. Of the total received $2,472,746 will go for state purposes and $6,818,684 will be paid back to the local taxing districts for purposes of local budgets.

The largest assessment against any one railroad system is the Pennsylvania railroad, which will have to pay a total tax of $4,553,751 on a total valuation of $125,255,979.

The second largest assessment is against the Central Railroad of New Jersey, with a total valuation of $95,062,565, against which a total of $3,465,802 in taxes will be paid. The other large assessments against railroad systems, which do not include the unclassified roads, are: Philadelphia and Reading, valuation $20,468,508, tax $790,034.35; Erie, valuation $39,898,342, tax $1,432,749.60; D. & W., valuation $71,814,760, tax $2,757,131; Lehigh Valley, valuation $39,468,502, tax $1,548,461.35, and the New York Central, valuation $21,000,619, tax $846,138.32.

The "average rate" for 1924, which is $3.671, is applied to the valuations of the first class property, while the local rates are applied to the valuation of the second class property. This is the largest "average rate" the state has ever established, and the valuations are also greater.

The increased "average rate" was brought about by the Board of Taxes and Assessments in forcing south Jersey counties to place a new valuation upon the railroad properties.

County Election Board Changes
Seven changes in the personnel of Democratic members of county election boards and three of that of the Republicans are shown in the appointments of new members for the present year, made by Governor Siler, in conformity with recommendations submitted to him by Harry Heher and former Governor Edward C. Stokes, respective chairmen of the Democratic and Republican state committees. The terms of the appointments are two years, beginning July 1 next.

In Essex county Richard J. Franz of Newark was again named as the Democratic member and William F. Christensen of Orange as the Republican. The two remaining members will continue in office for another year.

The counties in which there were Democratic changes were Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Ocean, Passaic, Somerset and Warren. Republican members were changed in Cape May, Hunterdon and Salem.

The Democratic appointees other than in Essex are as follows: Atlantic, Josephine Godfrey, Atlantic City; Bergen, P. William Meyer, Ridgewood; Burlington, William R. Murphy, Bordentown; Camden, Emma E. Hyland, Camden; Cape May, John Graham, Wildwood; Cumberland, Thomas H. Hall, Vineland; Gloucester, Harriet E. Hauck, Clayton; Hudson, Charles Wagner, Jersey City; Hunterdon, Anderson Y. Kinney, Sunnyside; Mercer, Orlo S. Hatton, Hamilton township; Middlesex, Walter J. Kelly, Perth Amboy; Monmouth, William F. Lefferson, Manasquan; Morris, Robert E. Burke, Morristown; Ocean, William S. Johnson, Point Pleasant; Passaic, Robert Barr, Clifton; Salem, James J. Sullivan, Salem; Somerset, E. Wade Clark, North Branch; Sussex, Edward Arnold, Stanhope; Union, John P. Duffy, Elizabethtown; Warren, Mahlon N. Kinney, Delaware.

Jersey Wars on Tree Pests

Officials of three New Jersey counties joined Westchester county and Long Island authorities in urging concerted war against the hordes of tent caterpillars which are damaging the eastern coast foliage to the greatest extent of recent years. Pamphlets and letters have been sent out by the farm bureaus of the various counties calling for destruction of the caterpillar nests.

The farm demonstrator of Middlesex county described damage done by caterpillars as severe. He said trees along many country roads were virtually bare of foliage. In some sections there are said to be twice as many caterpillars as last year, and an appeal has been made to local newspapers to print items showing how they can be exterminated by burning.

In Passaic county trees are being sprayed by Harold Wetten, county farm demonstrator, and a crew of men. Fruit trees, especially, have been damaged there by the pests, and farmers have resorted to unusually heavy doses of poison spray to kill them. The farmers have been warned by Mr. Wetten that they must kill off the vermin before they lay the eggs or the damage may be even greater next year.

H. C. O'Dell, manager of the Nassau County Farm Bureau, said that the north shore of Long Island was most infested by caterpillars, although they were prevalent throughout the island. "The caterpillars were quite bad last year, but they are much worse now," he said. "Damage to shade trees and shrubbery has been extensive, and a united effort is needed to kill them off. We are asking the farmers and suburbanites to fight the caterpillar and they are doing so in earnest."

Mr. O'Dell has no explanation for the unusual number of tent caterpillars this spring other than that they travel in cycles and this year seems to be a "caterpillar cycle." He said it was probable the parasites which usually feed on caterpillars or their eggs were fewer this season.

Through the agencies of the Farm Bureau in New Jersey, Long Island and Westchester, a general warfare against the caterpillar has been declared in order to save the foliage and, in some sections, the fruit crops. So much damage has been done in Westchester that the Board of Supervisors has made an appropriation to fight the caterpillars and a committee is co-operating with John G. Curtis, manager of the Westchester Farm Bureau. It is believed that intensive destruction of caterpillar tents during the next few weeks may save endless trouble next year and preserve the beauty of the country.

Hague Is Re-elected
Unanimous re-election of Mayor Frank Hague and Mrs. James J. Billington, both of Jersey City, as members of the Democratic National Committee was the outstanding feature of the meeting of the Democratic State Committee.

The State Committee abolished the Standing Organization Committee of five men and five women, and substituted therefore a Campaign Committee of ten members having executive power. Upon this committee will devolve the duty of managing the campaign in New Jersey, which will open immediately following the National Convention in New York.

—Young men between the ages of 17 and 35 wishing information about enlisting in the Navy should write or visit the Navy Recruiting station, Post Office Building, Third and Arch streets, Camden.

—The Rev. Harry L. Saul, pastor of the Lutheran church, attended the commencement exercises at Gettysburg College, Gettysburg, Pa., last week. The Rev. Mr. Saul graduated from this college in 1918.

—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Alloway entertained Miss Hallie Bowman, of West Chester, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCullough, Miss Miriam McCullough, Miss Carrie Bowman, all of Philadelphia, on Sunday.

—Miss Ruth Hollinshead entertained the following on Wednesday evening: Miss Helen Miller, of Beverly; Miss Rae Hutchins, of Riverton; Miss Josephine Hannold, one of our public school teachers, who will leave the latter part of the month to spend the summer in the Kentucky mountains.

—Gus Sohke, prominent theatrical producer, formerly of Philadelphia and New York, died at his home in London, Monday. He was the father-in-law of Mrs. Philip Sohke, of Elm avenue. Mrs. Sohke was called to New York where she is attending to the affairs of the deceased and will receive the body which is being shipped there.

—The regular monthly business meeting and social of the Friendship Circle class was held at the home of Mrs. George Cornall, Elm Terrace, Monday evening. At the conclusion of the business meeting the ladies were entertained in a very novel manner at a Japanese party. The home was beautifully decorated with oriental scene effects.

—The Palmyra police were relieved of some rather unnecessary work when the carnival, which had been on Broad street near New Jersey avenue for two weeks, packed up and left town the latter part of last week. Every evening during the carnival's stay in Palmyra the police were called on to the scene to quiet a few disorderly boys or stop a fight.

—Several members of the Central Baptist Church attended the twenty-seventh annual session of the Camden Baptist Association held in the First Baptist Church, Collingswood, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. They were the Rev. and Mrs. Charles W. Williams, Mrs. George H. Wiggins, Mrs. Walton Taylor, Mrs. Joseph H. Pike and Mrs. Emma Kane.

—On Thursday night of last week the Ladies of the Golden Eagle celebrated their fiftieth anniversary. Visiting temples from Florence, Gloucester and Camden were present, numbering about a hundred. A play was presented by members of the Golden Eagle Temple, and songs and recitations rendered, after which refreshments were served. Wednesday night members of the Palmyra Temple visited Gloucester.

—The Rev. J. B. Whitton, of 501 Vine street, a retired Methodist minister, occupied the pulpit at the Riverside Methodist Church, substituting for the pastor, the Rev. John R. Mason, last Sunday. On Sunday, June 22, he will preach at the Trinity Methodist Church, Trenton. The Rev. Mr. Whitton has volunteered to speak at any meetings or do anything within his power to be of some assistance to anyone in the community.

—William T. J. Purnell, president of the Palmyra National Bank, has received a telegram from L. C. Williams, A. Carleton, head of the Citizens Military Training Camps of the Second Corps Area, to the effect that there are still vacancies in the Signal Corps and Engineers camps. Any young men in Palmyra or Riverton desiring to make applications to go to camp this summer should get in touch with Mr. Purnell at once. Seven men have already signed up from this vicinity.

—The Woman's Guild will hold an indoor picnic at the regular meeting in the Methodist Church Temple Thursday evening, June 19. A short business meeting will be held promptly at 8 o'clock. This will be followed by an interesting program which has been arranged by an enthusiastic committee under Mrs. E. O. Wolcott and includes games, stunts, live movies, etc. The gym, in which the social will be held, will be decorated as a wood scene, so as to make the picnic seem more realistic. An evening's fun is assured and it is hoped that the women will avail themselves of the opportunity of attending.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL PRIZES

Palmyra Students Receive Awards at Close of Term

The members of the Palmyra Board of Education offered a number of prizes for essays in the grammar school grades during the school year.

Mayor James T. Weart gave a $10 gold piece for the best speller. This was won by Ethel McCord, Marjorie Spahr, of the fifth grade, won the $5 prize offered by Charles W. Davison for "Accuracy, Understanding and Best Work in Arithmetic."

Frank S. Day offered a $5 gold piece to the student for the "Best Work and Use of English." This was won by Elizabeth Hassell. Five essays were written by the students, one each month, for the $5 prize offered by Mrs. A. C. Giberson for "Best Ideas on Good Citizenship."

The winning essay each month was read at the opening exercises of the school. Jack Easley was the winner of the series.

William A. Donaghy, president of the Board, offered a $5 award for the best essay on "The 18th Amendment." Doris Barber won with an essay favoring the amendment. Postmaster George I. Harvey gave a $5 gold piece to the pupil who showed the best attitude and had the greatest school interest at heart. The award was won with honors by Robert Matthews.

Mrs. Carl Jefferson and George Clover donated a gold and a silver medal to be awarded as first and second prizes to the two students with the highest scholarship averages. The gold medal, first prize, was won by Ruth Lutz, of the sixth grade. The second prize, the silver medal, goes to Mildred Meyer, sixth grade.

JUNIOR PROM SUCCESSFUL

Big Crowd Attends Dance When Graduating Class Is Entertained

At least fifty couples attended the dance given in the high school gym last Saturday evening. The affair was the Junior Prom, one of the big social events in the life of a high school student. It was attended by a number of members of the graduating class, in whose honor it was given, the juniors and few friends of the students.

Everyone seemed to be well acquainted with the other dancers and this helped to make one of the most congenial crowds seen at such an affair for some time.

The music was excellent and was furnished by the famous Carmen orchestra, of Burlington. This is a five-piece jazz-producing organization and is very popular with the dancers in this vicinity, having played here many times.

Harold Wood and his committee won much praise for the beautiful manner in which they had decorated the gym. It was decorated in blue and gold, with shaded lights, which rendered a very pleasing appearance.

The role of patron and patronesses was filled by Prof. and Mrs. A. S. Griffith, Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Lever and a number of members of the faculty.

Norman Thompson, of Riverside, was the winner of a $5 prize offered by Miss Marjorie Hornung, a member of the Palmyra High School faculty, for the best original English paper of 500 words. Norman won the contest for the sophomore class and Ruth Shelson, of Palmyra, was second, winning $2.50. His brother, Cecil Thompson, was the first prize winner in the junior class contest. Another local girl won the second prize for the juniors. She is Marie McDermott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McDermott, of Leconey avenue. Miss McDermott won the county spelling contest a few years ago.

Young Haas Wins High Honors

Joseph B. DeP. Haas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Haas, student in the Medical Department at LaSalle College, was awarded the two highest honors of the college, when he was successful in winning the oratorical contest and the prize for the best English essay. The topic of his oration was "The United States and World Peace," and the subject of his essay was "Private Interests Should Be Subordinate to the Public Welfare."

—Be sure and see "Scaramouche," the famous "mo" which is playing at the Broadway Palace Monday and Tuesday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Royston D. Engle have moved to their new home on Melrose avenue which they purchased recently through Frank E. Chambers. Mr. and Mrs. Engle were married early this month. The bride was formerly Miss Ruth Nichols, of Bustleton. Mr. Engle is from Masonville. He is connected with the Garrett-Buchanan Paper Company, of Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Williams on Tuesday moved into their new home on Pear street, which they purchased recently through Frank E. Chambers, who sold their former home, 314 Leconey avenue, to Mr. and Mrs. John W. Marshall, of Camden.

HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Trenton Men Skid Into Pole at River Road Crossing

Three Trenton men making a fast trip to Maple Shade via Palmyra and Camden early Sunday morning came to grief when their Ford touring car struck a trolley pole at the River Road crossing.

The driver failed to notice the turn until too late to negotiate it successfully at the rate of speed he was traveling, so the rear wheels skidded, throwing the body of the car against the pole with great force.

John Jobinski suffered a fractured skull when he landed on the trolley tracks. The impact tore loose the trolley signal light which fell on John Salinski and broke his arm in several places.

Victor Shandys, the driver, was not hurt. A revolver and a quart of wine were found near the scene.

Officer Wallace and Sidney Snelson took Jobinski to a Camden hospital in the ambulance, while Dr. Bauer treated Salinski and then drove him to the hospital. All will recover.

Twilight League

Some stirring battles have been witnessed on the diamond at "Razberry Park" by fans of the Twin City Twilight League recently. On Tuesday evening, June 4, the Lutherans defeated the Artisans 6 to 3. The following evening the Legion trounced the K. of C. by the top-sided score of 14-4.

The Artisans reversed the tables and came back and defeated the K. of C. for its second loss of the week Friday evening. The Catholics were shut out by a 9-0 score. Another shut-out was registered this Monday evening when the Artisans administered a most stinging defeat. Their victims were the boys of Post Rodgers, who were beaten 8-0.

The league standing:

Team	Won	Lost	Avg.
Lutherans	5	0	1.000
Artisans	2	2	.667
Methodists	3	2	.600
Legion	3	3	.500
Knights of Columbus	1	4	.200
P. O. S. A.	0	5	.000

Odd Fellows

Plans for the old-fashioned picnic of Cinnaminson Lodge, Palmyra, on Saturday, June 28th, are being enthusiastically carried forward by the lodge members. Browns Mills in the Pines is the spot chosen for the festival, which will include all sorts of games and amusements for the young and old.

At the last meeting of the Lodge, four new candidates were initiated in full form, among them the Rev. Russell Gibbon, a rising young live wire from our own town. The others were Donald C. Cook, of Palmyra, and Clifford H. Foster and William R. Barber, who won with an essay favoring the amendment. Postmaster George I. Harvey gave a $5 gold piece to the pupil who showed the best attitude and had the greatest school interest at heart. The award was won with honors by Robert Matthews.

Mrs. Carl Jefferson and George Clover donated a gold and a silver medal to be awarded as first and second prizes to the two students with the highest scholarship averages. The gold medal, first prize, was won by Ruth Lutz, of the sixth grade. The second prize, the silver medal, goes to Mildred Meyer, sixth grade.

Scout News

With tents all inspected and packed for shipment and pots and pans all shined up and ready to do heavy duty on the annual camping trip which starts next week the Palmyra scouts feel like they have the world by the tail on a down hill drag.

"What time do we get there?" "How often do we eat?" "Shall we take our pink pajamas?" and a host of other questions by the rookies is the problem that is facing the non-coms from now until the twenty-first, while the officers are wrestling with the problem of making fifty scouts, a truck load of tents and duffle bags, freight and express shipments of provisions and the baker and butcher converge on one point at one time.

The Palmyra scouts made good with the folks along the Perkiomen last year, so they feel sure that all their friends up there will cooperate with them. Twelve or fourteen boatloads of scouts will pull off from the slips at Graterford at noon on the eventful day with the confident knowledge that the cooks can get right on the job.

The scout motto is "Be prepared," and while the annual camping trip is the big event of the year for every scout, the boys are also going to make their camping trip a means to an end. The troop makes it a point to be prepared for any job they undertake. This year the boys know that the troop auxiliary expects them to set up their tents and field kitchen at Broad and Garfield to the dinner and supper can be served to the families that do not want to go to the trouble to cook meals during the Independence Day celebration. With that knowledge in mind the scouts will come home with a determination to show some of their mothers that the ladies are not the only ones who know how to swing a frying pan or bring a juicy roast of beef to a nice brown.

Corner Stone Laid

A large crowd attended the cornerstone laying exercises of the First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton last Sunday afternoon at four o'clock. As usual, refreshments were served at the ceremony to a certain extent.

The Rev. William J. Miller, Jr., pastor of the Tabernacle Church, Philadelphia, was the speaker. He made an eloquent address in which he spoke of the duty of the church to the community. He also emphasized the necessity for this church organization to continue with its mission work, even though the edifice will soon be completed, and the church will be housed under its own roof.

Enclosed in the stone was a history of the church, the original list of signers of the church, a copy of the Palmyra and Riverton papers, church papers, the Holy Bible and a hymn book.

The new building will be completed about November 1st.

Legion Cake Sale

The Auxiliary of Post Rodgers will hold a cake sale on Saturday, June 21, with a table in Palmyra and one in Riverton.

FIND ODD REPTILIAN BIRD

Resembles the Pheasant—Young Have Claws Instead of Wings—Climbs Trees and Swims.

Just as some remote ape is supposed to connect man with the quadruped, a newly discovered reptilian bird links denizens of the air with some animal that crawled on four legs.

In its native habitat certain waters of Colombia and Bolivia, its Spanish name, when broadly interpreted in "talking pheasant." Like the American skunk, explorers have little difficulty of being aware of its proximity.

It is described as a beautiful bird with brown, white and olive markings. There is a tuft back of the head which makes it resemble the pheasant quite markedly.

The young birds have claws instead of wings. At the tip and the "elbow" in the wing are two large, finger-like hooks, making the wing as useful as a hand. With this they are able to climb trees and go from limb to limb for all the world like a quadruped. They are able to swim with amazing agility and can submerge for remarkably long periods.

The adult bird has none of these qualities. It is not web-footed and cannot swim. The claws gradually disappear and in their place wings in no way abbreviated, but entirely similar to the wings of the average game bird, develop.

The bird is believed to be the lone survivor of a great group of reptilian birds that once inhabited the globe.—London Tit-Bits.

BURLINGTON COUNTY ORPHANS' COURT

In the matter of the estate of William J. Hooker, deceased.

On petition for sale of land to pay debts. Order to show cause.

E. H. Mathilda Hooker, administratrix of the estate of William J. Hooker, deceased, having exhibited under oath a true account of the personal estate and debts of said deceased, and that the personal estate of the said William J. Hooker, deceased, is insufficient to pay his debts and requesting the aid of the Court in the premises:

It is thereupon on the 24th day of April, 1924, ordered that all persons interested in the lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said William J. Hooker, deceased, appear before this Court at the Court House in Mount Holly on the 26th day of June, 1924, at ten o'clock a. m., to show cause why so much of the said lands, tenements, hereditaments and real estate of the said William J. Hooker, deceased, should not be sold as will be sufficient to pay his debts.

It is further ordered that this order be published in THE NEW ERA, one of the newspapers of this State, published in the Borough of Riverton, Burlington County, for six weeks at least once in each week.

RECORDING HOUSEWIFE'S DAILY ACTIVITIES

DAILY TIME RECORD

Day of week: _____
Date: _____
At end of time spent on each activity, draw a line from center to outer circle and in space note kind of activity, number of minutes, and remarks. Daily activities may be designated by abbreviations.

In space below, the amount of time spent on each activity during the 24 hour period may be listed. By comparison of these figures, the average amount of time spent on the various kinds of work, recreation and recreation can then be determined.

Charts for Keeping Record of Daily Work.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

A chart, illustrated herewith, designed like the faces of two clocks, one for the forenoon and one for the afternoon, with the hour spaces divided into five-minute periods, has been made by the bureau of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture for recording and studying a housewife's daily activities.

The advantage of the dial form is the clarity to the face of the clock. A minimum of time is required to keep a record of work done by this chart. The time does not need to be written for each task accomplished and only an abbreviation of the name of the task need be used. For instance, dw.—for dishwashing done between eight and eight-thirty—could be jotted down in the space the hand of the clock would pass over during this time; or the space covered by a crayon of a color used to designate dishwashing.

Some of the things that a chart like this will show are time spent in sleep, in actual housework, in such enterprises as gardening, poultry raising, picking of fruit for market and home use; in community affairs, in recreation and companionship with the children and in other activities. This will give the homemaker a basis for judging the importance of her different tasks and the amount of time that should be given to each.

Data already secured from farm homes shows that from six to sixteen hours per week, with an average of ten hours, was spent in doing laundry work. The difference in time used for this task in homes having similar conditions indicates that better management either in equipment, methods, or both, in some homes might shorten time and energy consumed in washing and ironing clothes. A daily time record will prove many other facts when used and analyzed.

Prints of the chart may be obtained upon application to the bureau of home economics of the Department of Agriculture, Washington.

"Nothing, nothing, my dear; only I think I've married about all of them now."

morning on their way to the capital. There were few people traveling at that hour. Suddenly ahead they saw a band of horsemen riding at a wild gallop. They were the king's couriers. "Clear the way," they shouted. "The king's hunt is coming."

All travelers, hearing this command, made quickly for the sidings, there to draw rein and dismount. The deer came in sight, running for its life, the king close behind with all his train, the hounds in full cry. Near Jack the deer bounded over a hedge and took a new direction. His majesty—a short, stout man with blue eyes and aquiline nose, wearing a lace-collared hat and brown velvet coat and high boots with spurs—dismounted not twenty feet from the stagcoach, saying with great animation: "Vite! Donnez moi un cheval traie!" Instantly remounting, he bounded over the hedge, followed by his train. (Continued next week)

Spin Colored Thread

By injecting dyes in cocoons, a French scientist has caused silkworms to spin colored threads. Silk is usually dyed after it is wound and twisted into floss.

Early Use of Penknives

The penknife is a hold-over from the days before steel pens were known. Originally a penknife was a small knife used to make and mend quill pens. It was then customary for each man to cut his own pens as he needed them. Nowadays almost any kind of small pocket knife is called a penknife.

County YMCA Notes

At the organization meeting of the County YMCA Committee held in Mt. Holly Thursday evening, June 5, the following officers were elected: chairman, William F. Overman, Moorestown; vice chairman, Henry F. Stockwell, Moorestown; treasurer, Frank W. Thatcher, Florence; clerk, William H. Heiser, Jr., Pemberton.

The finance party went to the Ockanickon Camp site June 11th to get things ready for the fifteenth camping season which opens June 24th. Previous to that time a conference of Town and Country Ministers will be held at Ockanickon June 19, 20, 21, and the annual County Workers' Institute June 20, 21, 22. The Men's Brotherhood of St. Andrew's Church will visit the Camp site Sunday, June 15th. Over that same weekend there will be a conference of representatives from Burlington County Sunday School Association, the YWCA, and the YMCA to plan a correlation of program and events for the coming season.

Fitter-MacEwan

Miss Elsie R. MacEwan, niece of Mrs. Eldridge Reeves Johnson, of Moorestown, N. J., and Nathan Myers Fitter, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Myers Fitter, of "In-Wood," Wynnewood, were married on Thursday, June 5, in the Memorial Church of St. Paul, Overbrook.

Mrs. Fennimore Johnson, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Margaret Elizabeth Sandt, of Easton Pa., attended as maid of honor for Miss MacEwan, and the bridesmaids included Miss Faith Fitter, Miss Nancy Fitter, Miss Margaret Fitter, cousins of the bridegroom; Miss Eleanor Clark Wesley, Miss Anne D'Olier and Mrs. Samuel Bisham, Jr.

H. Biddle Fitter attended his brother as best man, and the ushers were Carl de la Cour, Biddle Atlee, Walter A. Woolman, Jr., of Riverton, George Fennimore Johnson, Eldridge Fennimore Johnson and Eldridge John MacEwan, brother of the bride. A reception followed the ceremony at the Merion Tribute House, formerly "The Chimneys," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, which they gave to Merion as a tribute to the Merion men who fought the war.

On their return from an extended wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Fitter will be at home at The Wellington, Nineteenth and Walnut streets, Philadelphia.

County Red Cross Activities

Burlington County Chapter American Red Cross held its monthly meeting at Headquarters, No. 7 West Union street, Burlington, on Monday, June 9th. Mrs. Rogers, chairman, presided.

Pemberton, Burlington and Crosswicks Branches were represented. It was unanimously agreed that the Red Cross should pay the expenses of a diver to try to find the body of Francis Wade, drowned in Assiscunk Creek last Thursday night, and whose body was found by Capt. Stahler of Burlington, just before the Red Cross diver was ready to go down. The assistance offered the Burlington YWCA to start a class in Home Hygiene and care of the sick was refused, as they did not feel able to do their part at present.

Much valuable work has been done among the ex-service men and four new cases are to be investigated this month. The Branches will be assisting for the ex-service men in Government hospitals this summer; sweaters, helmets and sleeping caps and other articles being needed. Wool and directions may be obtained from Mrs. Malcolm Douglas, East Union street, Burlington, later in the month. It was also agreed the Branches should make and fill their quota of Christmas bags.

The appointment of J. Arthur Jeffers as manager of Washington Division has been announced. Announcement was also made that blank applications for bonus will be forwarded to the secretaries about July 15th, after which time she will be ready to assist the ex-service men in filling out their applications.

No meetings of the Chapter will be held during July and August, but the Home Service work will go on as usual.

Lutheran News

"The Home-Like Church"

The people who attended the cornerstone laying ceremonies on Sunday are high in the praise of the address of the Rev. William J. Miller, who spoke most eloquently. We hope our church will be all that he asked it to be in this community.

All Luther Leaguers who expect to take the trip down the Delaware next Saturday, meet at the Palmyra station at seven o'clock in the morning. A day of rest is promised.

The Ladies Aid will hold a strawberry festival Saturday, June 14, on the YMCA grounds.

Sunday, June 15, the speaker at both services will be the Rev. W. H. Reimer of St. Marks, Trenton, N. J. Also the time of the services change this Sunday. The Sunday school will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the morning service at 11. The evening service will be held from 7 to 8.

The annual Sunday School picnic will be held Saturday, June 21. Come out this Sunday and hear the details. Every one of the Sunday School is welcome. Little tots and grown-ups. The choir will hold a very important business meeting Thursday June 19 at the home of Mrs. Grafton.

CLASS DAY TUESDAY

The graduating class of the Palmyra High School held its Class Day exercises in the High School auditorium Tuesday evening. A large crowd, including the near seniors, the present junior class, attended the meeting.

"The Last Will and Testament" was the work of Harriet Ruster and Frances Griffith. This was exceptionally clever. The class poem was written by the president, Robert W. Logan, and Helene Johnson. The "Prophecies" were from the pens of Gladys Trudel and Isabel Shill. Elizabeth Hires and Amanda Hutchins made the "Fresno" of the class. The Super M. Field was the author of the class history.

The writings of the 1924 class members were very funny and a few "knocks" were made having all parts of the country represented. Some children will be taken from the members of the nutrition classes, held during the winter months, others from lists provided through schools and nurses. No sick child will be accepted, but the hope is entertained that those who are underweight will be built up to normal during the two months at Browns Mills. Mrs. J. Porter Ashbrook will be the home mother, and two counselors will assist with the program for each day.

The League will be glad to receive names of children who need this care and children will be accepted until the quota is reached.

Camp for Undernourished Children

The Burlington County Tuberculosis League will open Sycamore Hall, Brown's Mills, June 25, for a summer camp for undernourished children.

It is the desire of the League to accommodate twenty girls, and an effort has been made to have all parts of the county represented. Some children will be taken from the members of the nutrition classes, held during the winter months, others from lists provided through schools and nurses. No sick child will be accepted, but the hope is entertained that those who are underweight will be built up to normal during the two months at Browns Mills. Mrs. J. Porter Ashbrook will be the home mother, and two counselors will assist with the program for each day.

The League will be glad to receive names of children who need this care and children will be accepted until the quota is reached.

Presbyterian Church News

There was a large attendance at the reception given by the Golden Hour Circle to Dr. and Mrs. N. F. Stahl last Friday evening. One of the pleasant features of the evening was a brief address by W. H. Taplin, one of the elders of the church, who in a few well-chosen words assured Dr. Stahl of the warm friendship and affection felt toward him as the result of his twelve years' pastorate of this church, and ended by presenting him with a purse containing $761 in gold as an expression of regard from the congregation. Dr. and Mrs. Stahl will soon remove to their new home at Wilmington, Del.

The Children's Day exercises of the Sunday School will be held in the church next Sunday morning at 10:45. At this service the pastor, E. L. Bennett, will give a short object talk on "Taking Out the Trash." The Sunday School orchestra will render several selections, and there will be other features of interest not only to the children, but to all parents and friends, who are cordially invited to this service. On this occasion the occasion will go to the support of Rev. James Russell, a Sunday School missionary located in southern Colorado.

There will be no afternoon Sunday School service next Sunday.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold its devotional meeting at 7:15 p. m., and at the evening service beginning at 8 o'clock. Mr. Bennett will preach the second sermon of his series on the subject "After Death—What?" his topic at this time being "Hell—What About Future Punishment?"

For the Wednesday evening prayer service at 8 o'clock, the subject will be "Jesus Christ His Only Son Our Lord," the third of a series on the Apostles' Creed.

Facts About the Bonus

Cash payments will not be made before March 1, 1925.

Adjusted service certificates will be issued and issued as far as possible, on January 1, 1925.

Applications for adjusted compensation must be sent to one of the following places, depending on whether the veteran's last service was in the Army, Navy, Coast Guard or Marine Corps.

For the Army—Adjusted Compensation Branch, Adjutant General's Office, Washington, D. C.

For the Navy or Coast Guard—Adjusted Compensation Branch, Bureau of Navigation, Washington, D. C.

For the Marine Corps—Adjusted Compensation Branch, S. Marine Corps, Washington, D. C.

Letters written to either this office or the offices of the services listed above will very materially retard the progress of the machinery which is being set up to take care of the claims.

Application blanks are not yet ready for distribution. As soon as they are delivered by the Public Printer, the blanks will be sent to ex-service organizations, Bureau Offices, American Red Cross, Post Offices, Recruiting Stations, etc.

Chilly Evenings—Stole Sweater

Last Saturday Officer Quigley was called to "Locust" Farm to arrest a colored man by the name of Albert Riley, who was charged with stealing a sweater, suit of clothes and pair of eye glasses from George Frazer, another farmhand, with whom he boarded. Riley worked on Monday and Monday night disappeared taking the missing articles with him. On Saturday he returned to the farm to collect the pay for Monday's work. He was wearing the sweater he took from Frazer. Frazer demanded the return of the stolen articles and an argument followed. Riley was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Coddington Saturday night and committed to the Mount Holly jail awaiting the action of the Grand Jury.

Public Service Will Show Industrial Motion Picture

Stockholders of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, employees of Public Service companies and the friends of both, will have an opportunity on Wednesday evening June 18th at YMCA auditorium (Camden) at 8:15 o'clock to see the motion picture "New Jersey and Public Service," which is announced as the most comprehensive and complete industrial film that has ever been produced in the United States.

Public Service Corporation caused the picture to be made in order to give the public a graphic representation of the operation of Public Service utilities and the part that they play in the industrial activities of the State.

If at first you don't succeed, try hard work.

Asbury

Miss Edith Slade, of Campbell's Farm No. 2, is suffering from a nervous breakdown.

There will be a strawberry festival held on the lawn of the Asbury Church on Saturday evening, June 14. Miss Martha Easkat, of New Albany, was a visitor at Wildwood on Sunday.

Mrs. John Grob, of Riverside Park, is spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Southwick.

Miss Mary W. entertained Mrs. George McCann, of Collingswood, on Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Klemm, of New Albany, Miss Henrietta Klemm, of Riverton, had their tonsils removed at the Zurburg Memorial Hospital, Riverside, on Friday, by Dr. M. A. Schurter, of Scott street, Dr. J. W. Brice, of Morton avenue, Riverside, and Dr. Wells, of Delanco.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grob, of Riverside Park, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Southwick, and Helen Southwick motored to Masonville on Sunday to visit Mrs. Hannah Robinson and Mrs. Maud Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt, Peter Westervelt and friend, of Englewood, N. J., motored one hundred and seventy-five miles on Sunday to visit Rev. and Mrs. Fred E. Tansley. Mrs. Westervelt is spending the week in Asbury.

Charmion First

The fourth race of the season of both the L. I. Class and Sixteen-Footer was sailed on Saturday afternoon, with a stiff westerly wind. The L. I. Class boats sailed over a triangular course, with four entries, and the finish was as follows:

"Charmion" Gardner Crowell; "Lewanna" F. W. Robertson; "Bob" Ogden H. Mattis, Jr.; "Bellerose" G. Rex Showell.

There were six entries in the sixteen-foot class, finishing as follows: "Man-of-War" Edgar Miller; "Big Hurry" Owen Merrill; "Captain Kid" John Dungan; "9 Bells" Roy Bishop; "Adnama" Malcolm Dickinson; "Nancy Hanks" Robert Wilson.

In the L. I. class the points to date are: "Charmion" 6; "Lewanna" 10; "Bob" 10; "Bellerose" 1.

The points to date in the Sixteen-Footer class: "Man-of-War" 9; "Big Hurry" 13; "Captain Kid" 5; "9 Bells" 3; "Adnama" 7.

All the boats started finished in both classes.

Annual Outing

The Franklin Civics Club of the Palmyra Grammar School, with Prof. Griffith as its guests, spent a very pleasant day at Riverview Beach, below Wilmington, last Saturday. The party was chaperoned by the Misses Sawyer and Patterson, eighth grade teachers.

Baptist Church Notes

Next Sunday begins the summer schedule of services at the Baptist Church. Sunday School in the morning at 10 o'clock. Morning worship and sermon by the pastor, "Our Lord's Last Command," 11:15 to 12:15. Evening prayer service at 7, continuing to 8 o'clock. Sermon subject, "Paul's Pride and Humility."

Prayer meeting Wednesday evening of next week at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "The Growing Christian."

John 15: 1-17.

The annual Sunday School picnic will take place on Saturday, June 21, at Knight's Park, for a big day under the trees. Something doing every minute. Come along.

On Friday evening of this week there will be a special meeting of the young people. Monthly business and social. All the young folk are urged to be present.

Pennsylvania Railroad Issues an Attractive Seashore Folder

With a view to familiarizing the public with the attractive features and the development of the many Seashore pleasure resorts located along the New Jersey Coast, the Passenger Department of the Pennsylvania Railroad has just issued a profusely illustrated 192-page folder, describing in detail the varied facilities and advantages of all vacation Seashore resorts from Long Branch to Cape May, and their facilities for a week-end trip or a pleasurable vacation.

A free copy of this attractive folder may be had upon request to D. N. Bell, Passenger Traffic Manager, Pennsylvania Railroad, Broad Street Station, Philadelphia, Pa.

EARLY SPEEDER NABBED!

Motor Vehicle Inspector Catches Pennsylvanian Testing Car on River Road before 9 o'clock Sunday Morning

Motor Vehicle Inspector Edgar A. Robie, of Woodbury, was coming up the River Road early Sunday morning in preparation for a day's work against the reckless drivers in this vicinity when a large car shot out of a street in Delair and continued to come up the River Road at a high rate of speed. The car was followed by Robie until it had crossed the railroad in the Palmyra Annex. Here the inspector stopped the machine and arrested the driver, who was Charles O. Mayer, of Bethlehem, Pa. Mayer was taken before Justice of the Peace William L. Richter. Judge Richter imposed a fine of $25 and costs. The offender was unable to pay the fine and said he must return to his home in order to raise the necessary funds. The car was taken into custody and will remain at Rutschman's Garage until payment is made. It seems that the Bethlehem man was a visitor in Delair and had risen early to make some minor repairs on his car. After completing the work he thought he would test the car on an open road. It was early, not 9 o'clock, so taking it for granted there would be no officers on the road he had his throttle "wide open" while he was being followed by the inspector. Robie charged him with going 45 miles an hour, while it is said he was "doing over 50."

FERRY SMASHES RECORDS

2712 Cars Cross Delaware Here on Sunday

A record-breaking number of cars, 2712, used the Tacony-Palmyra ferry as a medium of transportation between Pennsylvania and New Jersey Sunday.

The previous record, 2416 cars, was established August 16, 1923. The total number of foot passengers was large, too, 3566, having crossed, 2116 using the Philburco Coach Line.

The addition of the large ferry boat Tacony during the winter enables the ferry company to handle the long line of cars much more quickly than last year. No one was in the line-up more than one hour yesterday, while people were often forced to wait two or more hours during the rush periods last season.

The congestion had been completely cleaned up by midnight. The rush started at 6:30 in the evening. Eighty-five cars were carried every 25 minutes. Fourteen hundred automobiles crossed from the Palmyra side from 3 o'clock in the afternoon until 12.

The percentage of cars carried in one day by the ferry is the greatest of any ferry operating between Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Guldin-Seel

A beautiful spring wedding was solemnized Saturday evening, at 7:30, in the Epworth Methodist Church when Miss Helen Wilhelm Seel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Seel, 2nd, became the bride of Mr. Horace Russell Guldin, son of Mrs. Diana F. Guldin, of Philadelphia.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles W. Williams, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, of which the bride is a communicant. The Rev. Mr. Williams was assisted by the Rev. Fred B. May, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church. The wedding march was played by John Sharpe Wilson, a prominent Philadelphia musician. His wife, Ethel Righter Wilson, who is well known in musical circles for her solo work, rendered three beautiful vocal solos, "O Promise Me," "At Dawning" and "Perfect Love." Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are cousins of the bride. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The bride wore a gorgeous gown of ivory white satin trimmed with pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. Mrs. George J. Seel, 3rd, of Maplewood, N. J., was matron of honor. She wore flowered chiffon trimmed with lace. Her bouquet was of pink sweet peas. Miss Adeline A. Seel, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Miss Seel was attired in yellow georgette over orchid and carried a bouquet of sweet peas.

The bridesmaids were Miss Martie Neuman, of Mt. Airy, Mrs. Jean Blundin Campbell, of Ocean City, and the Misses Virginia E. and Muriel Ginter Seel, sisters of the bride.

The bridesmaids wore flowered georgette over metal cloth. They carried bouquets of pink roses.

The flower girls were Mildred Thomas, a cousin of the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Stanley Thomas, of Narberth, Pa., and Betty Huyett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Huyett, of Palmyra. They wore white crepe de chine and carried baskets of orchid pinks and pink rose buds.

A nephew of the bride, George J. Seel, 4th, acted as the ring bearer.

The groom was attended by Joseph G. Seel, brother of the bride, as best man. The ushers were W. C. Rudolph, of Riverton, Leroy Beaver, of Philadelphia, James Letton, of Frankford, and George J. Seel, 3rd, also a brother of the bride, of Maplewood.

The wedding was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents at 313 Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra. The happy couple left immediately after the reception for their honeymoon. They will be home at 313 Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, after September 1st.

Italian School Notes

The committee in charge of the school for the children of the Italian pickers, expect to open the doors next week.

After several years we no longer feel that this is an experiment, but a most helpful work, both morally and physically.

We cordially invite all who are interested in social service to visit the school and see the children at work.

Money in any amount will be most acceptable. Checks may be made payable to Mrs. Herbert Smith, treasurer, Riverton.

FIELD CLUB LOSES IN NINTH

Club Takes Flight in Final Session and Gets Trimmed by Oaklyn

6-4

After displaying wonderful brand of ball Saturday for eight innings and having the lead on the opposing team, the Oaklyn A. C., the Palmyra Field Club baseball team blew up long enough in the ninth to allow Oaklyn to register three times, thus giving them the game with a 6 to 4 score.

"Bub" Harder was on the mound for the locals and was working well until this memorable ninth arrived. He was nipped for four singles and a sacrifice, which netted the visitors their winning counters. There is one player on the Oaklyn team who will not forget "Bub," however. That is Miller, the left garden tender. He led his team on the offense for nine games. During these nine he had used the willow to a good advantage and had a batting average of .560. He also enjoyed the distinction of being the only man on the team who had not fanned during the course of the season. The first thing that he did when he faced "Bub" was to take three healthy swings at the pill and return to the bench a victim of Harder's slants and curves. Mister Miller did not get one weak hit during the entire game.

Sammy Rodgers, the local fly chaser, was one of the Field Club bright lights. Everyone knows that Sammy is clever when it comes to pulling down the pills in the outfield. He has robbed many players of hits with his speed in chasing flies and his arm is superb. He proved this when he made a wonderful peg to home plate from deep left field Saturday. In fact Sammy has long been known as a wonderful ball player with one exception. He is a weak batter.

In order to correct this mistake, Sammy went to Philadelphia and spent many hours in a sporting goods store. Upon his return it was found that he had purchased a nice new bat. Well, it was used, and used to a good advantage against Oaklyn. On his first trip to bat Sammy singled. The next time up he laid on the pill to the extent of a three bagger and the third time came through with another single. Sad to relate, he fanned on his fourth, which was the last trip to bat. He led Palmyra on the offense, starred on the defense and was the hero of the game. His batting average for the contest was .750.

Harder only allowed the visitors eight singles, two doubles and walked two. He only had the one strike-out to his credit.

Palmyra also got ten hits. They were in the form of seven one base hits, two doubles and Sammy's triple. The locals had five strikeouts.

Manager H. Russell Gibbon was the only man to err on either team. Gibby only made one on these mistakes.

ARTISANS TRIM LEADERS

Lutherans Defeated 4-3 Monday Evening and Lose First Game for Season. Church-Goers Come Back and Get K. of C.

Tuesday

The strong Lutheran aggregation of the Twin City Twilight League lost its first game of the season when the Artisans won at the "Razberry Park" with a score of 4 to 3. "Tin Man" Orcutt and Company got two counters in the third frame and their last in the fifth. The winners got a good start and started the scoring of the game by making a run in the second. They drove in three runs in the third. Roy Hardy featured in the frame with a triple which pushed over the entire flock of tallies. The old reliable Herb McGinley opposed Orcutt on the mound.

The Lutherans staged a comeback Tuesday evening and proceeded to trounce the Knights of Columbus to the tune of 6 to 3. The batters are kept well under control by Pitchers Gorman and Orcutt. Neither moundsman allowed more than a few singles.

The losers pushed over two runs in the first and one more in the third canto. The church-goers rallied in the third, after having been held scoreless for the first two frames, and clouted the apple to the extent of three counters. Their scoring finished with one in the fourth and two more in frame number six.

How they stand:

Lutherans	6	2	.857
Artisans	5	2	.714
Methodists	3	2	.600
Legion	3	3	.500
Knights of Columbus	1	5	.167

LOCALS WIN AGAIN

Riverton Defeats Riverview After Hard Battle

Riverton added another game to its list of victories on Saturday, when they defeated the Riverview (colored) team by the score of 7 to 6. The game was a thriller from start to finish, and the large crowd present showed plenty of enthusiasm. At the start of the game it looked like a walk-over for Riverton. Canady, former U. of P. captain, playing third base for the locals, lined a sizzler to left field. Goldsboro laid down a perfect bunt, and both men were safe. Borden hit sharply to the infield, and was safe on a fielder's choice. Steedle hit to short, who tried for Canady at home, but he slid safely over the plate on a low throw. Old Fox Goldsboro attempted to score, on the same play, but Meyers caught him a foot from the plate. Williams struck out and ended the inning.

The visitors came back in the second and through lively hitting by Johnson, Foulks and Campbell, they crossed the pan three times. Reitter's arm went bad and the seventh inning opened with Lefty Herbert, an importation from Philadelphia, on the mound for Riverton. He fanned the first man to face him on three pitched balls. But the next man slammed a terrific liner to left, and then the noise started. There was hitting aplenty, and the visitors added three more runs to their total, making the score 3 to 6.

It looked gloomy for our boys till the eighth, when Canady again stung one to left. Goldsboro hit, Borden stung one to right and the score was 4 to 6. Up came our hero "Pat," who looked one over, and then shot one in the trees for a triple and scored on an infield out, making the score 7 to 6.

A heavy storm came up and the game was called.

Manager Williams is giving all local boys a chance to make good. On Saturday he used Burns at second base. With more confidence he will make good. He stands at the plate well and takes a good cut at the ball.

The crowd attending the games are very encouraging to both the management and players, and first-class attractions are on the card for future dates.

Presbyterian Notices

This Sunday we begin our summer schedule. The Sunday School meets in the morning at 10 o'clock, and the church service begins at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Bennett's topic at the morning worship will be "Has Christianity Failed?" An object talk, "The Minister's Bugbears" will also be given for the boys and girls. Childhood is the time to start the church-going habit.

Don't stay at home because of the light fellows coming in with you. We're glad to have him. An opportunity will be given the children who wish to do so to leave or go back to sit with their parents before the main sermon. All boys and girls wishing to join our Junior Congregation should give their names to Miss Edith Crawford or the pastor. Come this Sunday and sit up front.

Beginning this Sabbath the evening service will be held at 7:30 on the church lawn. Come and bring your friends to worship God in the beauty of His great out-of-doors. Mr. Bennett will speak on "The Kingdom of God is Within You."

Because of the change in hour the Christian Endeavor Society will hold its meeting at 6:45 instead of 7:15, the discussion on the subject "The Pledge—The Foundation of C. E." being led by Miss Edith Crawford.

At the mid-week prayer hour Wednesday at 8 o'clock the pastor will deliver his last talk on the Apostle's Creed—"I believe in the Holy Ghost."

We plan to study next together some helpful and practical blackboard outlines of the books of the Bible, based on lectures delivered by Dr. Charles R. Erdman at Princeton Seminary.

Don't forget the Daily Vacation Bible School to be held in the chapel beginning Monday morning, June 30, at 9 o'clock. The school meets five days a week during the month of July. All boys and girls from three to fifteen are most welcome.

There will be a strawberry festival under the auspices of the Golden Hour Circle on the church lawn June 19th, afternoon and evening.

Please notice carefully all these changes and help us put the summer program across. Thank you.

Navy Enlistments

Young men between the ages of 17 and 35 years wishing information about joining the Navy can receive same by writing or calling at the Navy Recruiting Station, Post Office building, Third and Arch streets, Camden, N. J.

LOST: A FRIEND

by GRACE E. HALL

I loved you well. You seemed so very near
I fancied, oftentimes, you read my mind,
So much alike we were, so close and dear,
Finding our ideals always of one kind;
Seeking the self-same channels in our thought,
Our ideas just a little odd, maybe,
Our mental paths by others left unsought,
Though dearly cherished both by you and me.

Years merged like links within a chain and we Seemed destined still to tread life's paths together;
Neither had thought of what might sometime be Sufficient cause our loyal faith to sever;
Then came a test that tortured mind and soul—
I watched and waited while the acid burned,
Nor had one doubt 'twould leave you true and whole,
Though others laughed and all my trusting spurned.

Within one hour a life-time friendship died,
The ideals you had voiced all slipped away;
I found a stranger standing by my side,
And you meet one when I pass by each day;
There is no sadder notice on life's road,
Posted by travelers journeying toward its end,
Than that which bears—adding to each grim load—
The simple wording only: "Lost: A Friend."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for June 22

REVIVAL UNDER EZRA AND NEHEMIAH

LESSON TEXT—Neh. 8:1-18; 13:1-3; 15:1-21.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the Lord of hosts"—Mal. 3:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Learning From God's Word.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Value of Bible Study.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Bible in the Life of a Nation.

The lesson committee has designated this as a reform, but it was more than reform. It was a revival. It requires the quickening of God's spirit to induce men, especially a whole nation, to turn to God from their sins. This is a fine illustration of the right place of God's word in the life of a nation.

I. The Word of God Being Read (Neh. 8:1-3).

1. The Eager Assembly (v. 1). The people gathered themselves together and spake unto Ezra to bring the book of the law. The people with yearning hearts requested the reading of God's Word.

2. A Representative Assembly (v. 2). It was made up of men, women and children. The men did not leave the spiritual affairs to the women, neither were the children left at home.

3. An Appreciative Assembly (v. 3). So eager were they to know God's Word that they did not get tired, although the lessons lasted for five or six hours. Their ears were attentive from morning until midday.

II. The People's Attitude Toward God's Word (Neh. 8:4-6).

1. Reverence Shown God's Word (vv. 4, 5). When Ezra opened the Law, all the people stood up out of respect for God's Word.

2. They Joined Heartily in the Prayer. As Ezra led them in prayer they joined heartily in saying, "Amen, Amen," bowing their faces to the ground.

III. God's Word Being Interpreted (Neh. 8:7, 8).

The attitude of the people toward God's Word largely depends upon the minister.

1. He Stood Up Where the People Could See Him. (v. 5).

2. He Read Distinctly (v. 8). Much Bible reading is greatly to the discredit of the Word and the reader.

3. Caused the People to Understand the Reading (v. 8). The supreme business of the minister and teacher is to make the Word of God so plain that all—old and young—can understand.

IV. The Effect of Applying God's Word to National Life (Neh. 8:9-13).

1. Conviction of Sin (v. 9). The Word of God is quick and powerful (Heb. 4:12). It brings conviction of sin (Acts 2:37). God's method of convicting men of sin is to have His Word applied by the Holy Ghost.

2. Weeping Turned Into Joy (vv. 10-12). When sins have been perceived and confessed God would not have His children to be sad. Continued mourning will not stone for the sins that are past. It unfits one for present tasks and dishonors a pardoning God.

3. They Shared Their Blessings With Others (vv. 10-12). True joy manifests itself in giving to others.

4. The People Obeyed (vv. 13-18). In their acquaintance with the Scriptures they found that the Feast of the Tabernacles had been long neglected. They went to work and kept this sacred feast in a way that it had not been kept since the days of Joshua (v. 17).

5. Separation From the Ungodly (Neh. 13:1-3). As soon as they had heard the Word of God, they separated themselves from the mixed multitude.

6. The House of Worship Was Cleared and Order Restored (Neh. 13:4-14). No nation can be strong which neglects its worship of the true God.

7. Restoration of the Sabbath (Neh. 13:15-22). Israel had long violated the Sabbath. Unnumbered evils follow in the wake of Sabbath desecration. To ignore the essential law of the Sabbath is national suicide.

8. Restoration of God's Law of Marriage (Neh. 13:23-31). When those who had intermarried with the heathen were brought face to face with their sin, they separated themselves from their ungodly companions, because they could not have God's favor while living in disobedience to His Word.

Pearls and the Soul

By NELLIE MAXWELL

The planning of three meals a day for three hundred and sixty-five days takes some brain activity. To have the meals well balanced and avoid monotony takes study and thought.

SUNDAY—Breakfast: Scrambled eggs and bacon. Dinner: Sliced ham, baked. Supper: Rarebit with crackers.

MONDAY—Breakfast: Oatmeal, cream, French toast. Dinner: Meat with vegetables in casserole. Supper: Potato pancakes.

TUESDAY—Breakfast: Graham gems. Dinner: Cornish pastry. Supper: Baked potatoes with codfish gravy.

WEDNESDAY—Breakfast: Cornflakes with top milk. Dinner: Spare ribs and sauer kraut. Supper: Waffles with maple syrup.

THURSDAY—Breakfast: Drop doughnuts. Dinner: Beefsteak with onions. Supper: French toast.

FRIDAY—Breakfast: Eggs and muffins. Dinner: Corn bread. Supper: Potato salad, sardines.

SATURDAY—Breakfast: Buttered toast, bacon. Dinner: Breaded veal chops. Supper: Baked pork and beans.

Slices of Ham, Baked.

Have a two-inch slice of the center cut of smoked ham, parboil it, turning until well-sealed through. Cover with brown sugar, five tablespoonsful of sugar to one teaspoonful of mustard, add a very little water and bake in a deep granite pan, adding more water as needed. Some like milk poured over the ham prepared in this way.

Meat With Vegetables en Casserole.

Cut a slice of mutton into serving-sized pieces, brown in a little sweet fat, add a cupful of diced carrots, two or three onions and half a dozen potatoes. Place in a hot casserole, add enough water to keep from burning, cover and cook in a moderate oven for several hours. Serve from the casserole. This is a nice dish for a busy day as it will be meat and vegetables all in one dish.

Cornish Pie.

Take a slice of round steak, cut in half-inch cubes, adding a generous amount of suet. Prepare sliced potatoes enough for the family and an onion or two thinly sliced. Prepare a rich biscuit, line the plate with the mixture rolled half an inch thick, place the meat in the bottom, vegetables on top, dot with bits of butter and add plenty of salt and pepper. Cover with top crust, leaving a vent, and bake slowly until the vegetables are tender. Remove from the oven, wrap in a cloth and steam ten minutes to soften and flavor the crust. Serve cut in pie-shaped pieces.

Permanently Wise Man

Wisdom is like electricity. There is no permanently wise man, but men capable of wisdom, who, being put into certain company, or other favorable condition, become wise for a short time, as glasses rubbed acquire electric power for a while.—Emerson.

Determination

This is an age of competition. If you want anything you must go after it, not in a half-hearted way, but with a determination that will brook no interference. The one thing that you may as well understand right in the beginning is that you will get no more than you are willing to pay for, but you can have almost anything you want, when you want it bad enough.—A. Behold the Man!

The outstanding feature of the eighteenth National Convention of the Republican party, held in Cleveland last week, was the election of the delegates to their faith in Calvin Coolidge. The President and his running mate, Chas. G. Dawes, another striking example of sterling American manhood, go before the voters on a platform which should win for the Republican ticket the votes of many Democrats. The platform is free from political bunkum. It is an honest straightforward statement of the things for which the Republican party stands.

A brief summary of the platform shows that the President and his party are pledged to governmental economy; to tax reforms that will still further reduce the burden of taxation; that the strictest scrutiny will be made so that the integrity of the Budget System may be preserved. It declares that the Republican administration slashed $200,000,000 from the cost of government and eliminated 50,000 employees from the payroll; that the Administration lifted the tax burden some $1,250,000,000; that at the same time reducing the public debt by over $2,500,000,000.

The platform refers to the fact that in 1920, when the Republicans took office, that there were about three million men out of work in the country and that today there is little if any unemployment. The party is pledged to give to the farmer all necessary government assistance in organizing and establishing a system for the co-operative marketing of agricultural products. It promises to aid and simplify as well as the cheapening of our marketing and distributing machinery. It promises to give mental help in diversified farming and, if necessary, direct financial aid during the transition period of diversification. There is also a pledge to continuous and vigorous efforts to strengthen and broaden the export markets.

In the matter of railroad rates, there is a declaration for a revision with a view to reduce the rates on agricultural products. The new immigration law is endorsed. In the matter of prohibition, there is a declaration in favor of law enforcement. There is also a declaration that guilt is personal and a pledge to publish every individual found guilty of fraud against the Government.

There is a declaration to extend every aid, financial and otherwise, to the disabled veterans of the late war. There is a provision asking that the President be given power, in time of war, to draft every citizen of the United States, so that the national arm, in fact, every resource of the Nation will do its part, share and share alike. This would mean elimination of the profiteer and the slacker during the periods of national strife. The World Court Plan is endorsed, but there is a renewed announcement that the United States will have no participation in the League of Nations.

The Republican party, through Temporary Chairman Burton, called attention to the fact that during the Republican Administration taxes have been reduced; peace restored with Germany; the suffrage amendment ratified; millions of dollars have been spent on the disabled soldiers; the tariff has been revised so as to produce more revenue and lessen taxes; that there is a lack of unemployment; that good wages obtain; that more legislation has been enacted for the benefit of the farmer than during any session of Congress for 50 years (even William Jennings Bryan has publicly admitted this fact); that peace in Europe has been aided by the Dawes Commission; that the Budget System, a Republican measure, in the first year of its being, resulted in the reduction of $600,000,000 from the estimates submitted; that the Republican Party does not stand for the cancellation of war debts owed to us by foreign countries and for which our people paid that a packing bill to protect the stock raisers was passed; that a co-operative marketing act was passed.

The dominant note of the entire convention proceedings was as Mr. Burton voiced it, "the people—and in the voice of the people—have confidence in Calvin Coolidge."

If you failed to read Dr. Burton's address nominating the President, you will find it well worth your while to do so. If you haven't saved the paper get one. It was published in the evening papers of June 12 and the morning papers of the 13th.

Change P. S. Bonds

According to Vice President Young of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, the holders of the 5% general mortgage bonds of that company are rapidly accepting the offer to change the same for the new 5 1/2% bonds to be issued in connection with the merging of Public Service Electric and Public Service Gas Companies. A very large percentage of acceptances have already been recorded and the remaining bondholders have until July 1, under the merger plans, to make the exchange.

—That the Riverton flower shows are becoming popular was attested by the large number of interested visitors during the afternoon and evening.

ACTION ON DRAINAGE

Special Meeting of Riverton Borough Council Called to Hear Plan for Relief of Fourth Street

At the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night Mayor Bennett reported that the Borough Engineers, Sherman and Sleeper, had found that it was not feasible to carry the surface drainage down Fourth street from Lippincott, as directed by Council at the previous meeting, and that it would be necessary to return to the original project of taking it from Thomas avenue, the accumulation of water at Lippincott avenue and Fourth street to be otherwise taken care of. At this juncture Councilman Geiss made a motion for some action in this matter. He said that several months ago the residents of that section of the town had been promised that something would be done, but that the Council had met month after month and talked it over, but never accomplished anything. The Mayor replied that since Council had instructed the engineers to prepare a plan that would take care of the water on Fourth street from Lippincott avenue, he did not feel he had the authority to direct them to bring in a different plan, and said that he brought the report made to him by the engineers so that Council might take such action as it saw fit. Mr. Geiss replied that he thought the engineers should have been there at the time to lay before Council a plan that was feasible so that action could have been taken without further delay. It was decided to have the engineer present at a special meeting to be held on Friday evening, June 20, at which time the Council would complete data so that Council might take action to redeem the pledges made three months ago. (It has since been arranged to have the special meeting on Friday evening, June 20.)

Work Started on Streets

Councilman Lynch, chairman of the highway committee, reported that Stuart MacFarland, county supervisor of roads, had come to Riverton the day before and inspected the gravel at the Hylton pits below West Palmyra, and pronounced it to be as good as any in the county. He suggested that the best way to put the streets of Riverton in condition was to scrape off the top to the level of the bottom of the holes, and then mix the material scraped off with sufficient gravel to make the necessary depth. This he said, was his method of treating badly worn gravel roads in the county and would, he believed, put the streets of Riverton in splendid condition.

After the report of Chairman Lynch had been heard and discussed Councilman Earp wanted to know what immediate action was to be taken and was assured by Mr. Lynch that the advice of the county supervisor would be acted upon at once. (The recommended scraping was started the next day.)

Mr. Lynch further reported that permission had been granted to the Public Service to erect two electric light poles on Penn street, as requested at the previous meeting.

The sewer committee reported that the outlet of the Main street sewer had been broken at the wharf, and the chairman was instructed to secure the services of a diver and have the break repaired at once.

Dreer Her Visits Proposed Site for Disposal Plant

Mayor Bennett reported that Miss Dreer, one of the heirs of the Dreer estate and a representative of the Fidelity Trust Company, representing other heirs had been in Riverton on Tuesday, and that the Mayor, Councilman Lynch and Engineer Sherman had gone with them to view the proposed disposal plant for the borough sewer. The disposal plant had later gone to Merchantville to inspect in operation a plant similar to the one Riverton will build.

The ordinance for widening Main street from the railroad to Seventh street passed first reading. It will come up for final passage at the meeting on July 10.

Building Operations for Month, $23,205

George Williams, the building inspector, reported that twelve permits had been issued during the month, for building operations aggregating $23,205.

Bicycles Must Keep Off Sidewalks

Councilman Williams brought up the subject of violations of the bicycle ordinance. He said he had witnessed two very narrow escapes from serious accidents by boys riding on the sidewalks, and without lights on their wheels, and thought the law should be strictly enforced. The Mayor replied that the matter was entirely in the hands of the Police Commissioner and Chief Geiss said he would instruct the officers to arrest everyone they saw breaking the law.

Automobiles Greater Menace, Says Mr. Earp

Councilman Earp said the bicycle ordinance should be enforced by all means, but he thought the violation of traffic rules by automobiles was a great deal more serious menace to the safety of our residents. He said that racing on Broad street between the Riverton and Palmyra stations was a common practice, and that it was not all done by outsiders. Many Riverton residents, he said, were among the worst offenders, but escaped the penalty that should be imposed because we did not want to give offense to our neighbors. This was the wrong idea, and that the safety of the majority should not be jeopardized by the few. The Mayor said it required no municipal legislation to deal with this matter, as it was covered by a State law, under which the local police had full power and authority to act. Chief Geiss said that this matter would also receive attention.

Bill for Sporting Goods Turned Down

Considerable discussion was caused by the report of the finance committee that the bill of Theobald Schneider, approved by Mr. Williams, chairman of the borough property committee, for supplies for the baseball team, was submitted to council without recommendation for payment of certain items. The bill, after deducting the ten per cent. discount allowed by Mr. Schneider, amounted to over $100, and included a home plate, bases, pitcher's box, bats, balls, chest protector, face mask, shin guards, body protector, score book and bag. The committee recommended the payment of the first three items, (home plate, bases and pitcher's box) to the team, and the balance of the bill to be paid by Mr. Williams. Mr. Williams offered to withdraw the bill and pay it himself, but the members of Council felt that such part of the amount as belonged to the equipment of the ground should be paid out of the treasury.

Completed Plan of Memorial Park Highly Praised

Mr. Williams submitted the completed plan of Fletcher Street for the improvement of the borough memorial park, with blue prints showing the location of the proposed attractions to be added from time to time, and read the descriptive report which accompanied the plans. He was highly complimented for the report, and the Mayor and Councilmen expressed themselves as being greatly pleased with the layout.

KEEN RIVALRY ON LINKS

Golfers Complete First Round of Match Play in Championship Tournament

The golf tournament for the championship of the Riverton Country Club progressed through the first round of match play last Saturday, and eight men in each of the four sixteen holes were eliminated. Two leading contenders in the first, or championship sixteen, were unable to be present Saturday and therefore lost their matches by default. They were Dr. Emilen Stokes, of Moorestown, who captured the qualifying medal the preceding week, and E. S. Wood, the 1923 Club champion.

Great interest attaches to this, the most important of the season's tournaments, and the rivalry is keen among the players of the various sixteens. Prizes will be given to the winners and runners-up in each. The members of the first sixteen are playing from scratch and the others are according to their handicaps in effect when the tournament started June 7. The second round of match play will be played Saturday, June 21st. The results of the first round are as follows:

First or Championship Sixteen

J. S. Coale defeated Dr. J. L. Edwards 3 up and 2 to play.

J. M. Bartlett defeated W. W. Chambers 3 up and 2 to play.

Filson Graft defeated Tom Holloway 2 up and 1 to play.

H. K. Rutherford won from S. E. Stokes by default.

P. B. Teeple won from E. S. Wood by default.

E. S. Parry defeated F. N. Steiner 2 up and 1 to play.

R. Lippincott defeated V. Bush 6 up and 4 to play.

R. Eastwood defeated S. R. Macmullen 4 up and 3 to play.

Second Sixteen

C. M. Shreve defeated O. G. Willis 2 up and 1 to play.

F. E. Earp defeated D. C. Taylor 3 up and 2 to play.

B. D. Blair defeated A. L. Lewis by default.

W. L. Rogers defeated S. H. Bonsal 1 up.

F. F. Jones defeated H. N. Sheble 1 up.

H. B. Mark defeated T. B. McGinley 4 up and 3 to play.

Henry Parrish defeated W. S. Stevens 1 up.

Henry Clifton defeated W. F. Bilyeu by default.

Third Sixteen

F. G. Brown defeated G. H. Mealey 5 up and 4 to play.

J. J. Deveraux defeated J. D. Clark 6 up and 5 to play.

H. M. Rogers defeated W. E. Coe 5 up and 3 to play.

R. S. Charlton defeated S. H. Levin 1 up.

W. K. Woolman defeated C. W. Rodman 3 up and 2 to play.

W. T. Blyler defeated C. W. Fischer by default.

E. J. Bush defeated G. T. Seckel 1 up.

W. F. Bell defeated C. Tolson, Jr. 2 up and 1 to play.

Fourth Sixteen

E. M. Hirt defeated T. W. McGinley 7 up and 6 to play.

J. W. Brandiff defeated A. Shaner 3 up and 2 to play.

C. H. Prickett, bye.

R. L. Flower defeated Walter G. Lewis by default.

J. J. Siddall defeated F. W. Thacher by default.

R. L. Haus defeated W. E. Ayres 2 up and 1 to play.

H. L. Randall, bye.

Passed Worthless Checks

Last Saturday night a colored man, after making a small purchase at the American Store in Riverton, cashed two checks, one for $23.50 and one for $27.00, drawn on the Cinnaminson National Bank, payable to "Harry Taylor," bearing the signature of George W. Rogers, of Palmyra. When the checks were presented at the bank for payment on Monday morning, it was discovered that Mr. Rogers had no account there, and a little investigation soon revealed the fact that the signature on the checks was a forgery.

The man who passed the checks answered the description of the colored man who worked a similar game at the Amusements and Moorestown about six weeks ago, and against whom the merchants in this vicinity were warned at the time.

Officer Walter G. Miller was placed in charge of the case.

Piano Recital

A piano recital by the pupils of Miss Emma A. Price, assisted by Mrs. E. P. Mopper, soprano, and M. Ephraim, will be held at the studio, 416 Lippincott avenue, Monday evening, June 23rd, at eight o'clock.

No Fireworks Until July 2nd

The Riverton Police Department has announced that the sale of fireworks will not be permitted until July 2nd.

LET THE PUBLIC BE MY JUDGE

A FRANK MEDICAL OPINION

Dr. Mason Good, a learned Professor in London, said, "The effects of medicine on the human system are in the highest degree uncertain; except, indeed, that it has already destroyed more lives than war, pestilence and famine, all combined.—From 'Science and Health.'"

It is practitioners of this school who would prohibit harmless Chiropractic (spinal) adjustments, on the pretext of protecting the public. The medical men want to regulate Chiropractic for the same reason that the stage coach owners in the olden days wanted to regulate the railroads.

Who is the best able to judge of the efficacy of Chiropractic, those thousands who have tried it after medicine had failed to aid them, or the medical men, who hate Chiropractic because it has proved its merits in those cases?

"Clinical records show that there is hardly a recognized form of disease that cannot be successfully treated by Chiropractic adjustments."—D. T. Krudrup, M.D., in "Technical World Magazine."

The people should have a right to choose their own method of getting well. They should not be compelled to continue to suffer and die merely because one narrow-minded, egotistical and selfish profession cannot cure them.

A Card of Character

A Card is much like a man, after all! The more character, the more power he has. The more character in your card, the more power it has.

The Peerless Patent Book-form Card

has more character than any card you have ever heard of before! It can be beautifully engraved, or it can be neatly printed, as the user desires. It is necessarily always clean, because of the binding in book form with tissue paper between each card, and the book form also keeps it from becoming wrinkled or crumpled. Besides it is always "right there" when you need it.

Can you think of more character for a card?

These cases come in four sizes with cards to fit.

Will be glad to show you samples at our office.

Poultry Raisers Make Money to Tune of Two Billion Dollars

By EARL M. WHITNEY

There has been great growth and development of the poultry industry in recent years. Government statistics prove the truth of this assertion. One need only turn to the United States Department of Agriculture to verify the fact that poultry keeping ranks among the leading agricultural pursuits of the nation.

Would this healthy condition of the industry exist if it were a hazardous and difficult business to engage in? Most certainly not. And yet there are those who devote pages of manuscript to the insurmountable barriers that must be surmounted before success with hens can be attained.

Annual Output Now Exceeds $2,000,000,000.

On an industry thrive, grow and develop steadily year after year as the poultry industry has and by any stretch of imagination be considered an unprofitable undertaking? The answer is plain. Poultry raising is a paying business. No intelligent man will dispute the fact that an industry cannot grow to an annual value exceeding two billion dollars, as the poultry industry has, without being profitable to most of the people engaged in it.

Now let us consider the question of responsibility for this great growth and development of the poultry industry. What has made it possible? To what agency can be attributed the glad news that one does not need to be an expert to successfully raise hens? Where should go the thanks of the thousands upon thousands of men, women and children in all walks and conditions of life who have taken up poultry culture and can testify to the fact that it is an easy and safe undertaking, a pleasant and profitable pastime, a good paying business? The agency is none other than modern science and American inventive genius. Hen's Egg Yield Triple That in Grandfather's Days.

This condition did not exist in the old days when grandfather raised chickens, nor even twenty years ago. Then poultry raising was indeed a difficult undertaking. One had to be an expert to make hens pay. Modern poultry appliances were unknown. The balanced ration had never been heard of. The only scientific care and feeding which birds received was that which the individual figured out for himself. Small wonder the 100-egg-per-year hen was then considered a myth.

The situation is far different today.

however. Now the prospective poultry raiser can enter the industry with every chance of being successful. The business has been made easy. Modern science has overcome the difficulties of twenty years ago and American inventive genius has supplied the equipment so essential to the comfort of fowls. You do not have to know how to build a poultry house in order to raise chickens. There are many ready built portable houses on the market and plans prepared by experts are within the reach of everyone. You do not have to know how to mix a balanced ration in order to secure maximum egg production. The best balanced rations in the land may now be purchased ready mixed at a price that will produce a dozen eggs at less cost than the homemade mixture. Everything has been worked out by experts and all the poultry raiser of today has to do is to follow directions and use common sense. Even the remedies for possible ailments are at hand. In case of sickness in the flock, poultry supply dealers carry a complete line of reliable preparations to meet any emergency.

Dependable Advice Always Available.

There are a number of factors that have been the means of making poultry raising easy. The United States Department of Agriculture, the various state colleges, individuals who have devoted a lifetime of study to scientific poultry raising and some well-known and reputable manufacturers in the industry, have all contributed their share toward the development of these modern and up-to-date methods of poultry culture. And they have not stopped there. The information and advice of these various agencies has been placed within the reach of all. Take, for example, the Pratt Food Company of Philadelphia, a concern that has been in business since 1872. As this company's interest in the poultry industry developed, it determined to carry on scientific investigations. An experimental plant was established at Morton, Pa., and today the contributions from the experts of the Pratt Experimental Station are recognized the length and breadth of poultrydom. That is service. And service has come to mean a great deal in every business. The Pratt company believed that if it could help the poultry industry to grow, the company would grow with it. In this it has succeeded far beyond the dreams of its founders.

A letter from Jack presents all this color of the journey and avers that he reached the house of Franklin in Passy about two o'clock in the afternoon of a pleasant May day. The savant greeted his young friend with an affectionate embrace.

"Sturdy son of my beloved country, you bring me joy and a new problem," he said.

"What is the problem?" Jack inquired.

"That of moving Margaret across the channel. I have a double task now. I must secure the happiness of America and of Jack Irons."

He read the dispatches and then the doctor and the young man set out in a coach for the palace of Versailles, the prime minister, Colonel Irons was filled with astonishment at the tokens of veneration for the white-haired man which he witnessed in the streets of Paris.

"The person of the king could not have attracted more respectful attention," he writes. "A crowd gathered about the coach when we were leaving it and every man stood with uncovered head as we passed on our way to the palace door. In the crowd there was much whispered praise of 'Le grand savant.' I did not understand this until I met, in the office of the Comte de Vergennes, the eloquent Senator Gabriel Honore Riquetti de Mirabeau. What an impressive name! Yet I think he deserves it. DRY PRODUCE MEASURE BANNED

Fruits and Vegetables Are to Be Sold Throughout New Jersey by Weight or Count After July 1.

SETTLE OLD NAME DISPUTE

End of Controversy Over Designation of Royce Valley, on Lehigh Railroad, Formerly South Somerville, Near.

Trenton. — Beginning July 1, housewives will purchase their fruits and vegetables either by net weight or by numerical count, the dry capacity measure passing out of legal existence in New Jersey on that date. Dealers have been ordered to provide themselves with scales in order to conform with the new statute, which, while it makes a drastic change, provides a more just and equitable method of trading in dry commodities. Producer, merchant and consumer are all expected to profit by the act.

It is the purpose of the State Department of Weights and Measures to enforce the law to the fullest extent, and with this purpose in mind a campaign of education has been in progress since last winter when the new law was passed by the Legislature. Instructions have been broadcast to all parts of the State and no excuse will be accepted for any merchant attempting to use dry measures after July 1.

The penalties provided for non-compliance are $25 to $50 for the first offense, $50 to $100 for the second offense, and $100 to $200 for the third offense.

Under provisions of the new law certain commodities may still be sold in the manner customary as in the past. For instance, beets, radishes, onions, and other vegetables ordinarily sold by the bunch may still be offered for sale in that manner.

For the convenience of the producer and shipper, consideration has been given to the extent that they may dispose of their commodities in original standard containers, as packed in the fields, provided these containers are of the standard sizes legal in this State. In other words, the containers must be 32, 20, 16, 8, 4, 2, or a single quart, or one pint. Commodities reaching the dealer in such standard containers may be sold as original packages, though the packages must not be broken or repacked.

Famous Dispute Over Name
A land deed, given 216 years ago, may settle a controversy over what shall be the name of a farming community along the Lehigh Valley railroad, now known as Royce Valley but formerly called South Somerville. The name, if the suggestion of the Public Utilities Commission is accepted, will be Royston, as that was the name specified in the deed conveying 1740 acres of John Royce who had acquired the land through royal grant.

The suggestion of the commission brought to a close testimony on the respective merits of South Somerville and Royce Valley as names, during which a dozen or more witnesses testified. The commission told residents of the community to take a month and think over what name they wanted, but stated clearly South Somerville would not be acceptable because of its similarity to Somerville.

The disputants over the issue of a name were divided into three groups. Herbert M. Wright represented a number of the residents who wanted the old name, South Somerville, restored. A second group were shippers there, represented by J. Edwards Herrmann, former counsel for the utilities board, who were against South Somerville as a name. The Lehigh, represented by Edward H. Burgess, assistant general solicitor, also objected to South Somerville.

It appears that up to June of last year the name was South Somerville. On that date the railroad, acting on a request of shippers who complained their shipments were going to Somerville by mistake, changed the name to Royce Valley. Others in the place raised objections. The issue came before the utilities commission on the ground of possible impairment of railroad service due to the name, as it was contended that Royce Valley was being confused with Roycefield, on the Central Railroad and that, under the new name, shipments were still going astray.

It was the testimony of Trowbridge Callaway, a New York banker and gentleman farmer of Royce Valley, which turned the tide in favor of Royston. Mr. Callaway had been one of the leaders in the movement which caused the Lehigh to rename the place Royce Valley.

"We had had trouble," the witness said, "and it seemed that Royce Valley would be a better name than South Somerville. Other names were suggested, but there were objections to them. The shippers want some name which will not be confused with another place."

Mr. Burgess for the railroad had previously made it clear that the railroad had no particular name it desired, only objected to South Somerville.

Mr. Callaway when told of the land deed, dated 1708, in which the executor of the estate of John Royce sold the land "between the Raritan and Millstone rivers, east of Roycefield, to Royce Brook," for $5 an acre to Hedman. In the deed it is provided that the name of the land so conveyed should be Royston. However, the name was never used.

Assured Better Transportation
Closer co-ordination of efforts of all interests involved in the marketing of farm crops, agreed upon at a conference called by the State Department of Agriculture, assures to New Jersey farmers during the coming summer the best service yet afforded in the transportation of their crops. Such service, agricultural officials say, already is superior to that afforded growers in any other eastern state, but as a result of the conference there will be afforded an opportunity for greater efficiency at several points.

Traffic and claim agents of three railroad systems—the Pennsylvania, the Reading and the Jersey Central—were present at the conference conducted by Secretary Agee, of the state department. Representatives of the State Farm Bureau Federation also participated.

Every factor bearing upon the movement of perishable crops, was discussed in their relation to the transportation problem. Railroads have arranged schedules and service to meet every requirement in scientific transportation service, but it was also brought out in the discussion that the farmer himself can contribute much toward the speeding of his perishable products to the distant cities by studying how best to co-operate with the transportation company.

Decreased Infant Deaths
As a result of effective child hygiene work, deaths of infants between the ages of one month and one year have been so much decreased that the deaths under one month represent one-half of the total deaths under one year. This declaration was made by Dr. Julius Levy, consultant of the Bureau of Child Hygiene, in an address at the annual conference of teachers of child hygiene at the state house.

"The subject of the premature baby," said Dr. Levy, "has become of increasing importance as we have realized the great proportion of deaths under one year of age that are due to this cause and we have developed more effective methods of saving the lives of these handicapped infants."

"When we started the child hygiene work in New Jersey about one-third of the deaths under one year occurred in the first month, of which a very great proportion were properly ascribed to prematurity, immaturity and congenital debility. It appears that the measures that have been effective in saving the lives of infants under one year of age have not reached the infant under one month or are not applicable."

The conference also was addressed by Dr. Thomas B. Lee, of Camden, president of the State Board of Health, representatives of the New York City Department of Health, American Child Hygiene Association and child hygiene teachers employed in various municipalities.

N. J. Banking Houses Prosper
As compared with April 3, 1923, the resources of 155 New Jersey trust companies showed an increase totaling $58,738,301.81 at the close of business March 31 last, according to a report issued by the State Department of Banking and Insurance. Total resources now aggregate $790,542,474.

Included in that sum is the value of the banking houses, which is fixed at $15,641,998.38, and other equipment worth $2,466,039.73. Actual cash on hand at the end of March was $12,606,851.36.

With respect to the thirty-two State banks, the report likewise reflects a healthy condition. Total resources are placed at $74,405,554.94, and increase of $6,384,159.95. Cash on hand when the books were closed for March was $1,562,781.64.

Cheering Crop Report
Although excessive rains and continued cool weather have retarded the progress of many truck crops, indications from the report of the State Department of Agriculture are that New Jersey farmers generally are to have good crops.

According to the report, the preliminary estimate of the area of corn planted this season is 101 per cent of last year's acreage, or 238,000 acres. The condition of the wheat crop on June 1 was 85 per cent of normal, indicating a yield of 18.7 bushels an acre, and a production of 1,321,000 bushels.

The area of oats seeded is estimated at 92 per cent of last year's acreage, or 63,000 acres. The condition of the crop on June 1 was 85 per cent of normal, indicating a yield of 29.3 bushels per acre. Rye, June 1, was 92 per cent of normal, with indications that the yield will be 17.7 bushels or a production of 1,097,000 bushels as compared with 1,157,000 bushels last year.

Certain of Farm Market
Farmers of Camden and Gloucester counties inspected the old Reading terminal at Kaighn avenue, Camden, in company with Mayor King and Secretary Kennedy, of the Chamber of Commerce, with a view to establishing a public market. The proposition has met the favor of farmers in South Jersey and the market is a probability of the near future. It will be temporary, since it is proposed by President Bennett, of the Chamber of Commerce, to have a suitable structure located along the bridge plaza convenient to housewives in all parts of Camden and even those in the eastern section of Philadelphia. The farmers propose to sell direct to consumers.

DEATHS

Henrietta Brown McKim

Henrietta Brown McKim, 7-year-old daughter of Oscar McKim (color of East River), died Monday. Funeral services were held at the home of the father, 38 Reed street, East Riverton, Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Mr. Boyd officiating. Interment was made at the Pensauken cemetery with funeral Director Frank A. Snover in charge.

Edward Mills

Funeral services for Edward Mills, prominent in Masonic circles, were held at eleven o'clock Monday morning from his home, 223 Stevens street, Camden.

Mr. Mills, a past master of Ionic Lodge and holder of numerous other lodge honors, died Friday afternoon in the West Jersey Homeopathic hospital, after a long illness. He was 83 years old.

Three sons survive. They are Edward H., of Westmont, Dr. Charles S., of Riverton, and Dr. Morton Mills, of New York.

Mrs. Eliza A. Corry

Eliza A. Corry, widow of John C. Corry, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sidney C. Snelson, 506 Cinnaminson avenue, Monday at the age of 76 years, after an illness of some time.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her daughter. The Rev. Charles W. Williams, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, will officiate. Interment will be made at Oakland cemetery, Philadelphia, with funeral Director Frank A. Snover in charge.

The deceased is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Snelson, and two sons who reside in Philadelphia.

James E. Hicks

James E. Hicks, aged 80 years, died at the home of his son, Harry E. Hicks, Elm Terrace, Tuesday morning after an illness of about ten days.

The body may be viewed at the late residence, 602 Elm Terrace, Thursday evening between 7:30 and 8:30. An invitation to call at this time is extended to the P. O. S. of A., American Legion and G. A. R. veterans. Funeral services will be held at the former home of the deceased, Bridgeton, Friday, with interment at a Bridgeton cemetery.

Mr. Hicks moved to Riverton with his son about two years ago. He was a G. A. R. veteran, having been a member of the 126th New York Volunteers.

WOULD ENFORCE LAW

Palmyra's Commissioner of Police Creates Furore by Declaring Against Wheels of Chance

FIRE COMPANY INDIGNANT

Mayor Weart, Prominent Fireman, Says Company's Means of Raising Money Should Not Be Interfered With

Shall the Borough officials wink at violation of the law prohibiting wheels of chance in order to permit Independence Fire Company, of Palmyra, to raise the $1000 it hoped to realize from this year's annual carnival?

This question presented an unusual flare-up at the council meeting Tuesday evening and the reverberations of the argument threaten to be heard throughout the ranks of several organizations which had planned to hold carnivals this summer.

The matter has been agitated before, and a few years ago caused quite a bit of feeling between the American Legion and the old Township Committee.

George N. Wimer, Commissioner of Police, touched off the explosion in his report. He started off by congratulating the Borough on its having been singularly free from crime for some time. The Borough officials, he said, were determined to give their best efforts to maintain this happy state of affairs and would welcome any information from citizens which would assist the officers in performing their duties.

Will Enforce Law

Mr. Wimer then called attention to requests of organizations for permits to hold carnivals and stated that inasmuch as wheels of chance were against the law, his committee would refuse to K. them. He went on to say that it was a delicate question, since one of the organizations was a public necessity and had always counted on its carnival as a necessary source of revenue.

The report, signed by Mr. Wimer, Mr. Buchholz and Mr. Davis, was adopted, and then the discussion started.

Mayor Weart, a leading fireman, declared it very strange to him that this year had been chosen as the time to enforce a law whose violation had been condoned for years and that he took it for granted that the real reason was the suspension of the County fair. Heretofore when County officials threatened to stop carnivals, the organizations had come back saying that at the wheels at the county fair also would have to be stopped.

Fears Company Disrupted

The Mayor called attention to the $15,000 the firemen had spent on their new firehouse and the dire need for raising money this year. He intimated that the firemen would regard the action as an indication of the public's desire to appreciate their work and feared the agitation might lead to a disintegration of the whole company.

Councilman Davis, a member of the police committee, said he had not been in favor of the report.

Mr. Wimer reiterated his stand, saying he had only been elected for one year and didn't care what happened at the next election, but that as long as he was in office he would vote for law enforcement, no matter who was hit.

Mayor Weart then asked if council would far appropriating an additional $1000 for the firemen next year. Council seemed agreeable and Mr. Wimer offered to start a fund for this year's $1000, giving the first $100 himself.

Edwin A. Grismom also was of the mind that it would be better to find 200 men who would give $5 each than to countenance law breaking.

Opposes Appropriation

Fremont Truman, a member of the fire company, declared himself opposed to raising the money by subscription or appropriation. He said the firemen enjoyed the carnival and that the people enjoyed it. The company looked forward to it as a big event of their lives each year.

Furthermore he pointed out that the company already raises several hundred dollars each year from contributing members at $1 each and that it would be hard to get this money if another $1000 also was raised direct.

All the firemen were rather bitter at the turn the affairs had taken and talked as if they wouldn't be very enthusiastic about fighting fires if their carnivals were prohibited.

Picnics

On this Saturday, June 21st, the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church are to picnic at Cedar Lake. Cars will leave the church at three o'clock.

Saturday, the 21st, is the day for the annual Lutheran Sunday school picnic. There are going to be sports and games, and a ball game between the young men and the old men. Come and watch the "bald and gray" play the "younguns." We are going to Wissinoming Park on the bus.

Meet at Society Hall at 9:30 o'clock. Do not bring lunches, for your food will be provided. A special bus will carry the children, and the adults will take the regular busses.

The COTTAGE GARDENER

Insects, Diseases of Garden Crops

Bugs and Blights Are Sure; Prepare in Advance for Their Appearance.

Practically every garden crop has its enemies either in the form of insects or diseases, and in many cases both. It has now reached the point where it is just as important for the gardener to fight these enemies as to plant the seeds and cultivate the crops. The methods of control for both the insect and disease enemies of vegetable crops have, however, been pretty well worked out, and practically every dealer in seeds and garden implements carries a stock of nicotine sulphate.

Spraying to Kill Insects.

fish oil soap, lead arsenate, calcium arsenate and bordeaux mixture. The directions for using the various sprays and dusts are usually given on the packages. In addition, bulletins can be procured from the bureau of entomology of the United States Department of Agriculture, which tell how to spray and dust garden crops to destroy insect pests and similar publications are available on diseases.

Insects that trouble garden crops are divided into two classes, those that eat the leaves or stems of the plants and those that suck the juices of the plants. Insects such as cutworms, cabbage worms and potato bugs, and a number of others of the eating class, have to be killed mainly by poisoning. The sucking insects which include the plant lice of various kinds, have to be killed mainly by contact poisoning, which is accomplished either by dusting or spraying with nicotine preparations. There are also such insects as the striped cucumber beetle and the flea beetles, both of which are very destructive, but which can be destroyed or driven off by dusting with nicotine sulphate dust.

When it comes to controlling diseases certain of them can be handled by spraying with bordeaux mixture. Others, however, are of such a nature that they work within the plant, and, therefore, cannot be reached by spraying. Cucumber blight and the leaf blight of tomatoes can be reasonably controlled by spraying with bordeaux mixture. With these diseases which work in the tissues of the plant cannot be handled by spraying and must be safeguarded against by planting in clean ground and by using plants that are free from these diseases. The old adage "A stitch in time saves nine," applies in a double measure to the control of garden insects and diseases. In fact, every gardener should go upon the assumption that the bugs and blights will come and that it is necessary to apply the remedies often in advance of their appearance.

with Vergennes or other representatives of the king, or with the ministers of Spain, Holland and Great Britain. The greatest intellect in the kingdom is naturally in great request. Today, after many hours of negotiation with the Spanish minister, in came M. Dabourg, the most distinguished physician in Europe.

"Mon cher medecin," he said, "I have a most difficult case and as you know more about the human body than any man of my acquaintance I wish to confer with you."

"Yesterday, Doctor Ingenhous, physician to the emperor of Austria, came to consult him regarding the vaccination of the royal family of France."

"In the evening, M. Robespierre, a slim, dark-skinned, studious young attorney from Arras, wearing gold-rimmed spectacles, came for information regarding lightning rods, he having doubts of their legality. While they were talking, M. Joseph Ignace Guillotin, another physician, arrived. He was looking for advice regarding a proposed new method of capital punishment, and wished to know if, in the Doctor's opinion, a painless death could be produced by quickly severing the head from the body. Next morning, M. Jourdan, with hair and beard as red as the flank of my bay mare and a loud voice, came soon after breakfast, to sell us mules by the shipload.

"So you see that even I, living in his home and seeing him almost every hour of the day, have little chance to talk with him. Last night we met M. Voltaire—dramatist and historian—new in the evening of his days. We were at the academy, where we had gone to hear an essay by D'Alembert. Franklin and Voltaire—a very thin old gentleman of eighty-four, with piercing black eyes—sat side by side on the platform. The audience demanded that the two great men should come forward and salute each other. They arose and advanced and shook hands. "A la Francaise," the crowd demanded.

"So the two white-haired men embraced and kissed each other amidst loud applause.

"As we were leaving the table one day he said: 'Jack, I have an idea worthy of Demosthenes. My friend, David Hartley of London, who still has hopes of peace by negotiation, wishes to come over and confer with me. I shall tell him that he may come if he will bring with him the Lady Hare and her daughter.'

"More thrilling words were never spoken by Demosthenes," I answered. "But how about Jones and his Bonne Homme Richard? He is now a terror to the British coasts. They would fear destruction."

"I shall ask Jones to let them alone," he said. "They can come under a special flag."

"Commodore Jones did not appear again in Paris until October, when he came to Paris to report upon a famous battle.

"I was eager to meet this terror of the coasts. His impudent courage and sheer audacity had astonished the world. The wonder was that men were willing to join him in such dare devil enterprises.

"I had imagined that Jones would be a tall, gaunt, swarthy, raw-boned, swearing man of the sea. He was a sleek, silent, modest little man, with delicate hands and features. He wished to be alone with the Doctor, and so I did not hear their talk. I know that he needed money and that Franklin, having no funds, provided the sea fighter from his own purse.

"One evening our near neighbors, Le Comte de Chaumont and M. LeVillard, came to announce that a dinner and ball in honor of Franklin would occur at the palace of Comte de Chaumont less than a week later. "My good friends," said the philosopher, "I value these honors which are so graciously offered me, but I am old and have much work to do. I need rest more than I need the honors."

"It is one of the penalties of being a great man that people wish to see and know him," said the count. "The most distinguished people in France will be among those who do you honor. I think, if you can recall a talk we had some weeks ago, you will wish to be present."

"Oh, then, you have heard from the Hornet."

"I have a letter here which you may read at your convenience."

"My dear friend, be pleased to receive my apologies and my hearty thanks," said Franklin. "Not even the gout could keep me away."

"Next day I received a formal invitation to the dinner and ball. I told the Doctor that in view of the work to be done, I would decline the invitation. He begged me not to do it and insisted that he was counting upon me to represent the valor and chivalry of the New World; that as I had grown into the exact stature of Washington and was so familiar with his manners and able to imitate them in conversation, he wished me to assume the costume of our commander in chief. He did me the honor to say:

"There is no other man whom it would be safe to trust in such an exalted role. I wish, as a favor to me, you would see what can be done at the costume's and let me have a look at you."

"I did as he wished. The result was an astonishing likeness. I dressed as I had seen the great man in the field. I wore a wig slightly tinged with gray, a blue coat, buff waistcoat and sash and sword and the top boots and spurs. When I strode across the room in the mastery fashion of our great commander, the Doctor clapped his hands.

"You are as like him as one pea is like another!" he exclaimed. "Nothing would so please our good friends, the French, who have an immense curiosity regarding Le Grand Vaillant, and it will give me an opportunity to instruct them as to our spirit."

"He went to his desk and took from a drawer a cross of jeweled gold on a long necklace of silver—a gift from the king—and put it over my head so that the cross shone upon my breast.

"That is for the faith of our people," he declared. "The guests will assemble on the grounds of the count late in the afternoon. You will ride among them on a white horse. A beautiful maiden in a white robe held at the waist with a golden girdle will receive you. She will be Human Liberty. You will dismount and kneel and kiss her hand. Then the prime minister of France will give to each a blessing and to you a sword and a purse. You will hold them up and say:

"For these things I promise you the friendship of my people and their prosperity."

"You will kiss the sword and hang it beside your own and pass the purse to me and then I shall have something to say."

"So it was all done, but with thrilling details, of which no suspicion had come to me. I had not dreamed, for instance, that the king and queen would be present and that the enthusiasm would be so great. You will be able to judge of my surprise when, riding my white horse through the cheering crowd, throwing flowers in my way, I came suddenly upon Margaret Hare in the white robe of Human Liberty. Now I tell you after these years of trial, her spirit was equal to her part. She was like unto the angel I had seen in my dreams. The noble look of her face thrilled me. It was not so easy to maintain the calm dignity of Washington in that moment. I wanted to lift her in my arms and hold her there, as you may well believe, but alas, I was Washington! I dismounted and fell upon one knee before her and kissed her hand not too fervently, I would have you know, in spite of my temptation. She stood erect, although tears were streaming down her cheeks and her dear hand trembled when it rested on my brow and she could only whisper the words:

"May the God of your fathers aid and keep you."

"The undercurrent of restrained emotion in this little scene went out to that crowd, which represented the wealth, beauty and chivalry of France. I suppose that some of them thought it a bit of good acting.

"But we were to find in this little drama a climax wholly unexpected by either of us and of an importance to our country which I try in vain to estimate. When the prime minister handed the purse to Franklin he bade him open it. This latter did, finding therein letters of credit for three million livres granted, of which we were in sore need. With it was the news that a ship would be leaving Boulogne in the morning and that relays on the way had been provided for his messenger. The invention of our beloved diplomat was equal to the demand of the moment and so he announced:

"Washington is like his people. He turns from all the loves of this world to obey the call of duty. My young friend who has so well presented the look and manner of Washington will now show you his spirit."

"He looked at his watch and added: "Within forty minutes he will be riding post to Boulogne, there to take ship for America."

"So here I am on the ship L'Etoile and almost in sight of Boston harbor, bringing help and comfort to our great chief."

"I was presented to the king and queen. Of him I have written—a stout, fat-faced man, highly colored, with a sloping forehead and large gray eyes. His coat shone with gold embroidery and jeweled stars. His close-fitting waistcoat of milk white satin had golden buttons and a curve which was not the only sign he bore of rich wine and good capon. The queen was a beautiful, dark-haired lady of some forty years, with a noble and gracious countenance. She was clad in no vesture of gold, but in sober black velvet. Her curls fell upon the loose ruff of lace around her neck. There were no jewels on or about her bare, white bosom. Her smile and gentle voice, when she gave me her bon-voyage and best wishes for the cause so dear to us, are jewels I shall not soon forget.

"Yes, I had a little talk with Margaret and her mother, who walked with me to Franklin's house. There, in his reception room, I took a good look at the dear girl, now more beautiful than ever, and held her to my heart a moment.

"I see you and then I have to go," I said.

"It is the fault of my too romantic soul," she answered mournfully. "For two days we have been in hiding here. I wanted to surprise you."

"She lifted the jeweled cross I wore to her lips and kissed it. I wish that I could tell you how beautiful she looked then. She is twenty-six years old and her womanhood is beginning."

Couldn't Make Him Believe It.

She was a dear old lady with a rosy face framed in silver hair, and eyes that were all kindness.

She was being shown round the prison, and endeavored as she passed to say a few kind words to the unfortunate prisoners.

"Remember, my good man," she chirruped to one veteran, "that 'stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage.'"

"Well," said the old sinner, "they've got me hypnotized, then—that's all, ma'am!"—Stray Stories.

Safety Alarm for Miners.

To warn miners of the presence of fire damp, a lamp has been invented in England that sounds a clear musical note when the atmosphere contains 2 per cent of the harmful gas. As the quantity of this vapor increases, the pitch and intensity of the instrument's tone rise in proportion, sounding an unmistakable alarm.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Coldly Distant.

"Are they distant relations of yours?"
"Yes—the only wealthy ones we have."—New York Sun and Globe.

A Difficult Problem.

"You remember those gloves I bought the other day?" began the annoyed customer. "You said they'd last me two years."

"Yes, madam," replied the saleswoman.

"Well, I've lost them," said the customer. "What are you going to do about it?"

Making Herself Interesting.

"She is always talking about baseball. Does she understand the game?"
"No," said Miss Cayenne. "But she understands men."—Washington Star.

Where the Trouble Lay.

"Did you have any difficulty with your French in Paris?"
"No—but the French people did."—Karlaturen (Christiana).

In Demand.

"What becomes of the married flapper? Does she go on the shelf?"
"No, no. She is in great demand as a chaperon."

The Hardest Cure.

"Many of your patients, I suppose, have complaints that are imaginary."
"Yes, they are difficult, but we try to cure them."

Safe.

"Ernest—If I try to kiss you, will you call for father?"
"Ernestine—Yes, but he's not at home."

Light on the Subject.

"Is tobacco a weed?"
"Well, it won't grow itself," said the tobacco farmer.

Relapse.

"He—What do you say to a honey moon in Europe?"
"She—But dearest, you know how afraid I am of seasickness."

"Yes, but you ought to know that love is the best remedy for that."

"Perhaps—but—think of the return trip."

New Books at Riverton Library

"WERE I to pray for a taste which should stand me in stead under every variety of circumstance, and be a source of happiness, and cheerfulness to me during life, and a shield against its ills how ever things might go amiss, it would be a taste for reading."

—Sir John Hershell.

The following books have just been placed on the Library shelves.

Fiction

"The Education of Anthony Dare," Archibald Marshall.

This is a sequel to, or a continuance of "Anthony Dare" which came out last year. Mr. Marshall's earlier books still continue to be read with pleasure by his admirers.

"The Squire's Daughter," "The Eldest Son."

"Prudence's Daughter," Ethel Hueston.

"Jenny the Joyous," Cornelia Stratton Parker, author of "An American Idyll."

"Jim Mason, Backwoodsman," Elmer Russell Gregor.

A story, and a good one, of the French and Indian wars.

Non-Fiction

"The Log Cabin Lady," an anonymous autobiography.

To quote from the preface, "This story is one of the annals of America. It is a moving record of the conquest of self-consciousness and fear through a mastery of manners and customs. It reads like a delightful novel."

Baptist Church Notes

The various chapters in this very readable book appeared originally in "The Saturday Evening Post." One chapter is on our "Foreign Relations."

Another on "Armies and Obligations."

Another "Washington's Eternal Wisdom." Still another on "The Railroads, Their Evolution and Expansion."

It is brimming over with readable information on many things that we all should know—and don't!

Our Encyclopedia has added to its number of volumes still another, "The New International Year Book, 1923."

It gives most interesting and fascinating accounts of all things and everything up to date.

The latest news of "Airships and Zeppelins," "Dirigibles," etc. "Polar Research," "Delaware River Bridge," "The French in the Ruhr." It is in short "A Compendium of the World's Progress for the Year 1923."

The illustrations and maps are fine and many of them. We, the readers of the Library, are to be congratulated on having such an up-to-date Encyclopedia right at hand.

List of novels not new, but well worth reading, and re-reading.

"Drifting Waters," Macnamara.

"Peter and Jane," Macnaughtan.

"A Courageous Marriage," Marguerite Bryant.

"Bawbee Jock" and "With the Merry Austrians," both by Amy McLaren.

THE 10,000,000th FORD

Interesting Figures Given on Flivver's Transcontinental Trip

Ford car No. 10,000,000 leaving New York on its transcontinental trip occupied only a small space at Times Square, starting point of the Lincoln Highway, the route to be traversed.

But suppose all the other 9,999,999 Ford's had showed up for the cross country run. That would have been a different story.

The first problem to arise would be that of finding parking space for all of them. Removing all New York's skyscrapers and other buildings from Manhattan Island would provide twenty-two square miles of parking ground, but that wouldn't be sufficient to accommodate the 10,000,000 Ford's even if they were parked without any space at all between them.

It would be necessary to park a few hundred thousand over in Brooklyn or some other handy space.

If the cars started off four abreast and fifteen feet apart, maintaining that space throughout, by the time the last four were ready to start, the leading quartet would be more than 1,000 miles on its third trip across the continent. In other words by simply advancing fifteen feet each time a line of four Ford's was added the leading car would go to San Francisco, return and go nearly half way across the country before the last was even started.

Getting the cars off on such a parade would be real work, for if the stars worked twenty four hours a day and sent the cars on their way in detachments of four every minute he would have to be on the job five years.

VARIOUS PROCESSES NECESSARY BETWEEN CUSTOMER'S APPLICATION FOR ELECTRIC SERVICE AND CONNECTION OF HIS METER

Linemen making secondary connections on poles, preparatory to extending service to residence.

To distribute electricity to more than 200 communities in the state of New Jersey, from the generation plants to the consumers, requires approximately 25,000 miles of wire, equal in length to the circumference of the earth. Also, there figure in this task of supplying most of the people of the state with electricity, 33,255 transformers which regulate the amount of current flowing from fourteen huge generation stations, through eighty substations to upwards of 450,000 meters in the territory served.

Back of the button of Public Service Electric Company, before the mere touch of that little button can furnish light and power for many conveniences which it would be almost impracticable to live without, lie many processes that are necessary from the time the house owner makes application for service until his meter is connected. These various necessary steps take time, and from the viewpoint of the consumer's safety alone, they must be done thoroughly.

First of all, the customer, or prospective customer, signs application for service. This application, if possible, should be made at the nearest commercial office. When the application is recorded, the order for the new service is sent to the construction department. Here a survey is made of the work necessary to be done. If the customer wants service in a section which is being newly developed, the job will require the placing of poles, extension of wires, installation of transformers and service connections. There may be rights of way over private property to secure and unusual obstacles to surmount, all of which will take time.

What Transformers Do Transformers are necessary to reduce the voltage when the current is switched from the main wires to the house connection. These transformers give the customer protection by means of fuses, and in storms, or unusual conditions, the lights sometimes go out because these fuses have functioned and have blown. A corps of men is maintained to look after troubles of this nature.

After the transformer is installed a low voltage wire is extended along the poles and to this the service loop is connected. One transformer will often supply several homes. The service loop is carried to the customer's premises and joined to the wires where they have been brought out of the house. In making service connection from underground conduits, it is often necessary to extend a service pipe from the manhole to the premises, in which event the street has to be torn up.

When the wires are connected the meter is set. All meters are tested at the company's laboratory before being placed. Then, and this is most important, when the provisions of city bureaus and underwriters' boards have been complied with and the inspection has been passed, the customer is ready for his current. The ordinances regulating the manner in which electric light wires may be installed are for the protection of the public and the electric company has a corps of expert inspectors who work with the city bureaus and assist electrical contractors in this important step. In a company where 80,000 new meters are installed in a single year, it will be seen that much time and work are necessary in making service connections.

The applications are cared for as they come in, each in its turn, and every effort is made to hasten the work, not only for the convenience of the customer but because as soon as the current is turned on, the company's revenue starts.

A HIGH OLD TIME

"You've been having a high old time for two weeks?"

"Yep; just back from the mountains today."

So It Goes

He made a poor investment. Misfortune took its toll. He took it for an opening. But got into a hole.

Added Attractions. Landlord—Yes, this house surely ought to appeal to any woman. Prospective Tenant—In what way, low rent?

Landlord—No, it has mirrors on every wall.

Wise Postponement. "I understand that Maud has recalled her wedding invitations." "Yes, she has decided to postpone the wedding until the Christmas holidays are over and people have more money to buy presents."

Quick Thinking. Citizen—That's my car. The thief is just fixing a blowout. Policeman—All right, I'll go over and arrest him. Citizen—Sh-h! Wait till he gets the tire pumped up.

LET HIM DROWN

Dinner—There's a fly in this soup, waiter! Waiter—Well, if he can't swim, sir, let him drown! He's a nuisance, I'll say.

Look. He tried to cross the railroad track. Before the rushing train. They put the pieces in a sack. But couldn't find the brain.

TOWNS MAKE IMPROVEMENTS

Clarkburg, W. Va., Removes Awnings, Sidewalk Obstructions and Installs Modern Lights.

Main street, Clarkburg, W. Va., through a movement inaugurated by the chamber of commerce, has been transformed by the removal of wooden poles, awnings and other sidewalk obstructions, and the installation of a modern lighting system.

Boston, Mass., through the Boston conservation bureau and the citizens' committee on conservation, is conducting open-air meetings and picture shows in the parks to educate the people in the conservation of human life and public resources.

Stockton, Cal., has established a high standard in municipal administration by employing Charles E. Ashburner, now city manager of Norfolk, Va., for the city manager's position of Stockton at a salary of $20,000 per annum.

Plans for waterfront development have recently been adopted in Portland, Ore., which besides beautifying the waterfront, will help traffic, eliminate fire hazards and improve sanitary conditions.

Milwaukee, Wis., has organized a recreation council, with delegates from leading civic organizations and clubs, to assist the recreational authorities in the study and promotion of public recreation.

Pasadena, Cal., is to have an adequate civic center, $3,500,000 in bonds for that purpose having been voted at a recent special election.

Spring Lake, N. J., recently dedicated its Memorial Community house, erected at a cost of about $150,000 on a site valued at $40,000.

Ottawa, Ill., recently passed an ordinance providing means of establishing five playgrounds and a playground commission.

Child's Play

The somewhat peppery retired army officer was playing his dogged best for the club's summer medal, but at one hole he was kept waiting for a few minutes by a woman who sauntered carelessly down the fairway, crooning to her baby.

"Come away, madam," cried the major, testily. "Hurry up with that baby of yours."

The indignant mother turned and gave the major a look of scorn. "Baby yourself," she snapped, "playing with that little ball, and in those ridiculous short trousers, too."

PLAN PROMPT RELIEF

Riverton Borough Council Holds Special Meeting and Takes Action to Remedy Flooded Conditions on Fourth Street

At the special meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Friday night, two plans for disposing of the surface drainage on Fourth street between Lippincott and Elm avenues, were considered. The first presented by Borough Engineer Henry J. Sherman contemplated carrying the water from Fourth and Thomas avenue to Elm avenue and thence over the original watercourse through Palmyra to the river. This was deemed inadvisable owing to insufficient natural fall in the ground.

The other plan was to take the water to Elm avenue in underground pipes and thence to the river through underground pipes down Elm avenue. The water from Fourth and Lippincott avenue would be carried to Penn street and thence to the river in underground pipes. The latter plan, after some discussion, was adopted, and the Engineer will have the ordinance and other necessary papers ready to present at the regular meeting of Council on July 6. Under this plan it was proposed to make the pipe large enough down Morgan avenue, from the point where Elm avenue enters in to take care of such drainage from Palmyra as would naturally come to this point, Palmyra to pay a proportionate share of the cost of this section of the sewer, and arrangements have been made to lay the proposition before the Palmyra Borough Council.

Frank J. Holvick and a delegation of citizens from the section affected by the proposed improvement appeared before Council and on their behalf Mr. Holvick said that the people of the Third District approved of the plan of going direct to the river instead of over the old watercourse through Palmyra.

John Crawford, who lives at Fourth and Elm avenue, said that he had frequently watched the water at this corner during heavy downpours, and that most of it seemed to come down the Riverton end of Fourth street, so that the problem seemed to be chiefly Riverton's, and he thought Palmyra's contribution to the flooded condition was comparatively slight.

Horace Marshall, another member of the delegation, said that the water was frequently so deep that his wife and son waded in to their shoe shops in order to get into town, and hoped for speedy relief.

After listening to the deliberation of Council for some time the visitors were satisfied that prompt action would be taken, and withdrew. Mr. Holvick thanked Council on behalf of his fellow-citizens of the Third District, and stated that there had been some misunderstanding about his original request for drainage relief, which was from Fourth and Lippincott avenue, and not Fourth and Thomas avenue, as it was afterwards made to appear.

Councilman Showell's motion that Riverton proceed at once to construct storm sewers down Elm avenue and Penn street, was unanimously adopted.

Engineer Sherman, in speaking of paving Main street to the gutters when Main street is improved by the county, advised radius corners at all cross streets to provide greater convenience and safety for traffic, and said that brick gutters would be found more economical in the long run.

Councilman Lynch called attention to the fact that no sewers had been laid on Main street from Highway to the borough line, and suggested that this work be done before the roadway was improved, so that it would not be necessary to tear up the new paving in a short time. He also said he thought gas and water pipes should be laid now for the same reason.

The gas and water companies are now at work on Main street from the railroad to the river, relaying services which would soon need attention.

Frederick Charles R. Stout, chairman of the road committee, and County Engineer Henry B. Smith were present. Mr. Stout said the Board of Freeholders would like to know just how much work Riverton wanted done by the county contractors while they were working on Main street, so that bids could be secured and work started at the earliest possible moment. By getting a bid on all the work to be done, the aggregate of which, from Moorestown to the river, is about 80,000 square yards, Mr. Smith, the engineer, said a much better price could be secured for the whole job, in which the Borough would benefit for its part of the work. It was proposed to get a price on the same construction on Thomas avenue from Park street to the railroad, to be done at the same time.

Councilman Geiss offered a motion to the effect that Riverton work in conjunction with the county in this construction with the understanding that the unit price given to the county would also apply to the work done by the Borough. Motion unanimously passed.

With this resolution passed the county is ready to ask for bids at once.

CHECK FORGER NABBED HERE

Colored Man Using George Rogers' Name Arrested After Presenting Worthless Paper at American Store

The colored man who has been making a specialty of forging Freeholder George W. Rogers' name to checks was caught in Palmyra Saturday after he had attempted to repeat at the American Store next to the postoffice.

Before trying his game in Palmyra, the man had gone to Riverside and presented a check to an American Store there in payment for $1.06 worth of grocery. The check, was $25, made out to "Harry Pierce" and with Rogers' name forged. The American Store managers in this district had all been warned so Manager Fennimore refused the check but took no action to have the fellow arrested.

A short time later the forger appeared at the Palmyra store and bought $1.36 worth of goods, offering a $24 check drawn to "Harry Taylor." Manager Bob Livingstone refused the paper and followed the man who started for the railroad station. Chief of Police Beck was at the traffic signal, so Livingstone signalled him. When the suspect saw the Chief he ran into the waiting room, followed by Beck and Livingstone. He was seen to throw something behind the scales. Two of the worthless checks were found there and a third was found in the man's pocketbook.

The prisoner gave the name of Leroy Jenkins and said he was from Florida. He put up no defense at the hearing and was committed to the county jail by Justice William L. Fichter without bail.

Jenkins is believed to be the man who passed worthless checks in Moorestown, Maple Shade and Mount Holly some weeks ago. Pawn tickets for clothing also were found in his pockets.

Mr. Rogers believes his name was selected by the forger because he is well known throughout the county in connection with his work as Freeholder.

Humorist Writes Road Signs Better Than He Knows

"Bugs" Baer, a well known newspaper humorist, has written and published a series of "road signs," probably merely intended to entertain. But many of them might be erected with benefit to the safety of traffic.

"Don't run up your mileage with skids," contains a lot of real caution in tabloid form. "Don't do your thinking with your brakes," will strike a responsive chord in every man who has had near-nervous prostration at the sight of the reckless driver stopping in a hurry. "There are three grades of eggs, but only one grade of crossing and that's dangerous," ought to be pasted in the hat of all those who try to "beat the trail" across its right of way.

"The glass in your windshield is the same stuff they put in hospital windows. Which will you look through?" is a very pertinent query, and "Fifteen miles an hour may be a chill but fifty is fever," is not too medical to be understood.

To towns troubled with too much speeding by tourists, Mr. Baer suggests "Speed limit in this town fifteen miles an hour. One day for every mile over that!" or "We have seven hotels and one jail, take your pick!" "Don't try to score locomotives with your horn." "The minute you save may be your last one." "You wouldn't travel on a freight train, so don't try to travel under one," are all good to remember. Mr. Baer once succeeded; he may not have intended to be serious, but many can take his cleverness seriously with benefit to themselves and the general public.

In other words (Mr. Baer once more), "Accident insurance is a good thing to have without the accident."

ALL READY FOR PALMYRA'S FOURTH

Big Time Promised for Anniversary the Whole Nation Celebrates

Plans for Palmyra's Fourth are rapidly being whipped into shape and the residents are again promised a rousing celebration that will equal any in the past.

The parade in the morning, starting at 10 o'clock, will again be a feature as responses are coming in favorably. The Sunday Schools will take a part this year.

The afternoon sports will be another center of interest, and will be in charge of Boots Lever. It is requested that anyone desiring to donate prizes for races, please inform any of committee and the prize will gladly be called for.

The evening will be taken up with a band concert and fireworks, which promises to eclipse last year. Many beautiful prizes will be awarded, for the parade for best appearance, largest delegation, Fire Company making best appearance, best specialty, best adult costume, most original man or woman, most original boy or girl, etc. It is hoped that our people will enter into the spirit of the occasion and come out for some of these prizes. There are several already who have decided to enter the parade in some historical costume.

Let us make this Independence Day one that will truly be 100% American and give to those who must stay at home a thorough day of enjoyment.

"Big Hurry" Leads

Boats of the L. I. class and the sixteen footers sailed over a triangular course on Saturday. The results of the L. I. class were:

"Lewanna," F. W. Robertson, 1st; "Bellerose," G. Rex Showell, 2nd; "Bob," O. H. Mattis, 3rd; "Charman," Gardner Crowell, 4th.

Points to date: "Lewanna" 14; "Bob" 12; "Charman" 7; "Bellerose" 4.

The finish of the sixteen footers was:

"Big Hurry," Owen Merrill, 1st; "Man-of-War," Edgar Miller, 2nd; "Nancy Hanks," Robert Wilson, 3rd; "Adnana," Maholin Dickinson, 4th; "Captain Kidd," John Dengan, 5th.

Points to date: "Big Hurry" 18; "Man-of-War" 13; "Adnana" 9; "Captain Kidd" 6; "Nancy Hanks" 4.

PARK PLANS SUBMITTED

Detailed Blue Print and Suggestions Submitted to Council by Borough Property Committee

At the June meeting of the Riverton Borough Council, Edward R. Williams, chairman of the Borough Property Committee, submitted the following detailed report from Fletcher Street, who laid out the new memorial park, together with a blue print locating each of the proposed features.

The general plan includes the proposed location of the various features and activities which include:

Memorial Gates,
Base Ball Field,
Foot Ball Field,
Tennis Courts,
Quoit Grounds,
Children's Playgrounds,
Bathing Beach,
Skating and Water Sports,
General Recreation Space.

Memorial Gates—It is recommended that the principal entrance to the Park be from 7th St., and that this entrance be marked by suitable entrance gates. I would suggest that these consist of suitable masonry piers on which should be inscribed the names of those to whom the park is a memorial. It would be a fine thing to join these piers over the roadway with an ornamental iron arch of interesting character.

Base Ball Field—This has already been plotted but I suggest that it be sown in grass at an opportune time, with the exception of path from pitcher's box to back stop and base lines, which should be constructed of a clayey gravel.

A permanent grandstand should be built parallel with home plate and first base. The underpart of this should be filled in with dressing rooms and toilet rooms for participants.

Foot Ball Field—As planned this will overlap baseball diamond at one end, extending from Parking Space at 7th St. to vicinity of proposed grandstand.

Running Track—The running track is designed to circumscribe both baseball and football fields and to extend a sufficient distance to the rear of grandstand to provide a 1-5 mile track of sixteen feet width. This track should be of cinders. The plan indicates the points of starting for the 100-yard dash and the 220-yard, 440-yard, 1/2 mile and mile run. All these events would finish near the end of the grandstand. Permanent markers, preferably of cement, should be set in flush with the ground to indicate the various points of commencements.

Tennis Courts—These courts are indicated with a free space towards quoit grounds for an additional court if desired. The lines of wire backstops, if desired, are marked on the plan.

Quoit Grounds—Quoit grounds are laid out in accordance with municipal playground rules, using a distance of 30 feet from hob to hob.

Children's Playground—Playgrounds for small children are indicated near the rear of the plot away from the major activities, where they may be attended by mothers or guardians with as little disturbance from other sports as possible.

Space may be allotted separately if desired, for boys and girls and with this idea in mind I have indicated two each of see-saws, swings, bars and trapeze. The basket ball court is for general use for boys or girls.

Bathing Beach—I have accepted the present location of bathing beach which time has established for the bathing of Riverton youth. The facilities should be improved, however, by the erection of suitable bath houses and perhaps canoe houses covering these water activities.

Skating and Water Sports—The old aquatic grounds of Dreers Nurseries afford, after slight repairs, an excellent space for water sports, such as tub races, tilting, etc., and for winter skating. I would recommend the construction of suitable flood gates at point indicated to accomplish this purpose.

General Recreation Space—The higher ground next to the Pompeton Creek, and especially the area indicated as "The Ramble" offer an excellent opportunity in developing the aesthetic features of the park, already possessing beautiful trees and much fine shrubbery.

The Ramble should be left to grow free with its winding paths and natural shrubbery, but may be improved by the addition of more small trees, such as dogwoods and appropriate shrubbery.

The higher area should be accented by a feature, such as a pavilion or bandstand as indicated. This would serve its purpose well as a place of outdoor assemblage, providing facilities for outdoor concerts, meetings, dancing and recreation. Public toilet facilities should be provided in lower parts. Such a structure would be a focus for all the avenues or approach in the natural park area.

The triangular space towards the railroad might have an aquatic pool as indicated which could be maintained at practically no expense and which would be an appropriate feature as seen from the railroad.

I would recommend very strongly that dominant existing trees be marked with name plates, thus encouraging an interest and knowledge of the several species of trees. This would be a matter of small expense.

General Grubb's Home Burned

The house at Edgewater Park, formerly owned by the late General E. Burd Grubb, and lately purchased by a Philadelphia by the name of Levin, was totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin Sunday night.

During the life of General Grubb this house was the scene of many magnificent social events. One of the big yearly affairs was the reunion of the 23rd Regiment of New Jersey Volunteers, General Grubb's Civil War unit.

The Perfect Answer

Andrew Carnegie on one occasion was asked which he considered the most important factor in industry—labor, capital or brains?

Carnegie quickly replied, with a merry twinkle in his eye: "Which is the most important leg of a three-legged stool?"—Judge.

The GAME

by Grace E. Hall

Fate deals the cards—the spades, the clubs and hearts,
The diamonds—counting out the legal hand;
None may exchange, though, seeing, there departs
All hope of what we hoped to play—and planned.
Some hold but scattered suit, while others smile
O'er richer draw, which means that they shall win;
But Fate, unheeding, shuffles all the while.
Since every moment new games must begin

The players take the cards that have been dealt,
Count carefully the points they may secure,
Bid up, oftentimes, though serious doubt be felt—
For in this game of chance no bet is sure;
Unnumbered souls are sickening day by day,
Because of tricks caught up by those expert,
Because another, though a mere chance play,
Won what they crave with never-ceasing hurt.

REVIEW—REHOBOAM TO NEHE- MIAH

GOLDEN TEXT: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people."—Prov. 14:34.
PRIMARY TOPIC:—Selected Stories of the Quarter.
JUNIOR TOPIC:—Main Events of the Quarter.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC:—Chief Persons of the Quarter.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC:—From Rehoboam to Nehemiah.

Three methods of review are suggested:

1. Modern Application of the Outstanding Teachings of the Quarter's Lessons.

For adult classes qualified members may be asked a week ahead to present the teachings of the quarter along the following lines:

1. Patriotism. It should be pointed out how the nation suffered and was utterly ruined because of the lack of patriotism.
2. The need of real education. Because the people were not taught about God they went into idolatry. The real need of the nations of the world today is to be taught about God.
3. Evil which afflict society, such as luxurious indulgence, tampering with the occult, necromancy, etc.

II. Biographical.
This method is always interesting and can be adapted to all grades. The most outstanding men in the history of Israel and Judah appeared in this quarter's lessons, namely, Rehoboam, Jeroboam, Ahab, Elijah, Elisha, Amos, Hosea, Athaliah, Hezekiah, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Nehemiah, etc. These can be assigned to different members of the class the previous week to present the outstanding lessons associated with each character.

III. The Summary Method.

This means pointing out the central teaching of each lesson. The following suggestions to that end are offered:
Lesson 1. The kingdom of Solomon administered in David's time reached its climax under Solomon, but because his heart was turned from God through the influence of his heathen wives God determined that the kingdom would be rent from him. Rehoboam's wicked stupidity in refusing the counsel of experienced men caused the work of two generations to be undone in a moment.
Lesson 2. Elijah's struggle with Baal proves that the Lord is the true God and that because He does respond when called upon in sincerity He alone is entitled to be worshipped.

Lesson 3. The proof that Elisha was chosen by God to succeed Elijah was that his anointing of the Spirit was discernable by the sons of the prophets and that he did similar and even greater works than Elijah.
Lesson 4. Those who give themselves up to the practice of sin will ultimately come to ruin. The wages of sin is death.
Lesson 5. Israel went into exile because of her sins, according to God's announcement through Amos. God's word cannot fail.
Lesson 6. In spite of Athaliah's wicked purpose to destroy the seed royal, Josiah of Mesah's line was preserved and elevated to the throne. No purpose of God can eventually fail.

Lesson 7. Hezekiah, when threatened by the Assyrians, resorted to God's house and sought the prophet of God. God's house is the sure resort of His people when in distress and his ministers are best qualified to give help.
Lesson 8. Because Jeremiah faithfully declared God's word, God delivered him from his enemies.
Lesson 9. Judah, like Israel, went into captivity because of her sins. God never forgets the faithful ones nor fails to punish the wicked.
Lesson 10. Though Israel's leaders failed, and their failure involved the nation in ruin, the Good Shepherd will eventually come and deliver them and exalt them to their proper place among the nations.
Lesson 11. When the period of the captivity was fulfilled God caused a remnant to return. God never forgets.

He can even move the heart of a heathen king to fulfill His purpose.
Lesson 12. Through the reading of God's Word the people were revived and they put away their sins. The only way to bring a revival in righteous living is to bring the people to know God.

Rejecting the Truth

Has God predestinated some to be lost? Certainly not. There is no such thought in Scripture. The reason why some perish is their own deliberate rejection of the truth. "Because they received not the love of the truth, that they might be saved."

Will Not Accept

God will not accept the oily words of new thought for the sacrifice and atonement of Christ.—The Living Word.

The Controversy

A controversy with one who preaches the word of God, is with God—not the preacher.—The Living Word.

Christian Life

The Christian life is not knowing or earning, but doing.—F. W. Robertson.

By NELLIE MAXWELL

SUNDAY—Breakfast: Gema, marmalade. Dinner: Fried chicken, mashed potatoes. Supper: Bread and butter sandwiches, lettuce salad, cocoa.

MONDAY—Breakfast: Bacon, toast. Dinner: Potato dumplings with meat stew. Supper: Afternoon tea cakes.

TUESDAY—Oatmeal, cream, stewed prunes. Dinner: Duchess cream. Supper: Potato salad.

WEDNESDAY—Breakfast: Frittled ham, eggs. Dinner: Lamb chops, creamed peas. Supper: Strawberry shortcake.

THURSDAY—Breakfast: Buttered toast, cookies. Dinner: Stuffed onion, beef steak. Supper: Macaroni with cheese.

FRIDAY—Breakfast: Peached eggs, corn gema. Dinner: Fish chowder, apple pie. Supper: Nut bread, cream of celery soup.

Potato Dumplings.
Sift together one and one-half cups of flour, four teaspoonsful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonsful of softened butter, one half cupful of rice potato, one egg beaten light and three-fourths cupful of milk. Mix all the ingredients, roll in a sheet and cut in rounds. Set close in a buttered steamer and cook over water or heat fifteen minutes. Do not open the steamer during the cooking.

Afternoon Tea Cakes.
Beat two eggs until light, add one cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a pound of blanched almonds and two ounces of citron chopped very fine; add the grated rind of a lemon, one-fourth teaspoonful each of cloves, nutmeg, cinnamon, mace and cream of tartar and one and one-half cupsful of pastry flour. Use enough flour to handle, roll into a sheet one-fourth of an inch thick. Cut in pieces three by one and one-half inches, brush with egg white, decorate with half an almond in each corner, dredge with granulated sugar and bake.

Duchess Cream.
Soak one-half cupful of tapioca over night. Drain a can of pineapple from juice, divide one and one-half oranges into sections and cut the pulp in pieces. Add the juice from the oranges, and the pineapple juice to the drained tapioca, a few grains of salt, a cupful of sugar and cook until the tapioca is transparent, adding a very little water if needed. Cool slightly, add one egg white beaten stiff, then add the pineapple and orange bits, chill. Serve in sherbet cups with a garnish of cream and chopped maraschino cherries.

Do You Wear Stripes?

The zebra is by far and away the smartest member of the ass family. No one has ever been able to make him work. His stripes are no badge of penal servitude. You can kill him but you can't break him. He is in business on his own.

There are two varieties of zebras: those wearing narrow stripes, corresponding to our liars and intermediate term prisoners. Between the zebras of broad stripes and those of narrow stripes exists a blood feud. They fight with their teeth and hooves. They fight to the death—just like Christian nations that do not wear the same language.

Most of us have a zebra stripe running around us. We hate those who fail to conform to our own pattern. You can remember how we used to throw stones at the Chinamen because they did not stuff their shirt tails inside their pants.

There are "prominent and enlightened" bankers who are of so narrow a stripe that they will kick out a valuable employee if he dares openly differ with their stripe.

We are all ring striped and striped with prejudice. With some it is the color line, or other racial demarcations. Again it is a band of religious bigotry. There is bad blood under the hide.

Zebras, human and inhuman, simply do not understand each other, hence the hate. Herbert Spencer said: "Contempt, prior to investigation, is the greatest barrier to all human knowledge."

First impressions are apt to be unfavorable. Partial acquaintances are dangerous. The truth is, that notwithstanding their stripes, most men are better than they look—or speak. The fellow who growls as a matter of daily office routine, is often a first-rate companion when you meet him off the job. In fact, there are few you can heartily hate after several weeks of intimate association. How about? Aren't your pet aversions persons that you have seen or heard under unfavorable circumstances?

You do not really know them, do you? Analyze any individual in an off hour, and great or small, he will disclose broad or narrow stripes, indicating more or less animosity. Yet it is unreasonable to look for perfection in others, when we cannot produce the goods from our own stock.—Mark Dwight in The Paper Book.

Porch Club

On Tuesday morning, July 1st, at ten o'clock, the Porch Club will give the first of a series of three monthly bridge and mah jong parties.

These monthly parties are for the benefit of the building fund for the music studio, which the New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs has pledged to build for the New Jersey State College for Women in New Brunswick.

All those who wish to play or to get up tables please notify Mrs. Charles S. Ayres, phone Riverton 322-w.

Holvick Acquitted

Last October Walter Hoffman, of Riverside, one of the spectators at a football game in Riverton, got into an argument and was put off the field by Frank J. Holvick, whom he charged with undue severity, and entered suit for damages in the amount of one thousand dollars. The case came to trial in the Mount Holly Courts on Tuesday of this week, and the jury entered a verdict of no cause for action.

New Road Map Free

For the convenience of the traveling public, the State Highway Commission has issued a new road map of New Jersey.

All who desire to obtain a free copy can do so by writing to the New Jersey State Highway Commission, Broad Street Bank building, Trenton. Distribution will be continued as long as the supply lasts.

Mr. Watson Wins Suit

"Mr. Watson has been given the opportunity to show his good faith," said Vice Chancellor Leaming in Camden in granting the application of John B. Watson, of Riverton, to set aside an order of $8 weekly for the maintenance of his wife, Mrs. Mary Watson, of Philadelphia. In his application Mr. Watson said conditions to which his wife had objected did not now exist. He stated that Mrs. Watson protested against the presence of a girl who had been raised by him and the first Mrs. Watson. He explained that the girl is married and has a home of her own.

Opposing her husband's application, Mrs. Watson said that while she did object to the girl's presence, she also protested interference in the conduct of her home by her husband's sister. In granting the application the court advised Mrs. Watson to return to her husband and give him a chance to show his sincerity.

If you complain of lack of opportunities you'll miss what you have.

RIVERTON'S FOURTH

New Feature Added to Children's Flag Parade. Many Events for Children and Lots of Prizes

The Fourth of July celebration in Riverton will follow the same general lines as in recent years. The day's program will open with a flag-raising at 9.30, followed by the Children's Flag Parade at 9.45, the march to the river, the patriotic address, and the athletic events and boat races. The fireworks in the evening will be more elaborate than usual. Irons' Band will be the musical attraction.

A new feature of the Children's Flag Parade will be the comic and fancy dress section, for which prizes will be awarded.

The program in full follows:

9.30 a. m., Flag raising.

9.45 a. m., Children's flag, baby coach and velocipede parade. (Prizes) Comic section.

Address by Dr. N. F. Stahl.

Patriotic songs by children and citizens.

10.30 a. m., Yacht races.

10.30 a. m., Athletic events—swimming races, tub races, canoe races.

3.00 p. m., Band concert on the lawn.

9.30 p. m., Fireworks on the pier. Band concert.

Daylight saving time is used in this program.

Championship Tournament Reaches Semi-Finals

Four men now remain in the first sixteen to fight for the golf championship of the Riverton Country Club. The others have been eliminated by the first and second rounds of match play.

In each of the other three sixteen also the semi-final stage has been reached, and the contests in these are scarcely less exciting than in the championship flight, which is competing for the main trophy.

Following are the results of the second round of match play last Saturday:

First Sixteen

J. S. Coale defeated J. M. Bartlett 7 up and 6 to play.

Filson Graff defeated H. K. Rutherford 2 up and 1 to play.

P. B. Teeple defeated E. S. Parry 2 up and 1 to play.

Richard Lippincott defeated Raymond Eastwood 2 up.

Second Sixteen

C. F. Earp defeated C. M. Shreve 3 up and 1 to play.

W. L. Rogers defeated B. D. Blair 3 up and 2 to play.

H. B. Mark defeated H. F. Jones 1 up.

Henry Clifton defeated Henry Parrish 1 up.

Third Sixteen

F. G. Brown defeated R. I. Downs 1 up.

R. S. Charlton defeated H. M. Rogers 5 up and 4 to play.

W. K. Woolman defeated W. T. Blyler 4 up and 2 to play.

E. J. Bush defeated W. F. Bell 1 up, nineteen holes.

Fourth Sixteen

P. Thatcher defeated E. M. Hirst 5 up and 3 to play.

J. W. Brandiff defeated C. H. Prickett 7 up.

GLORIOUS DEED IN WAR FOR LIBERTY

How Maine Fishermen Beat Off British Warship.

Conflict That Was in Many Ways Unique in Battles on Land or Sea.

On the low-lying headland of Cape Porpoise, in the town of Kennebunkport, Maine, stands a symmetrical boulder marked by a bronze tablet commemorating a battle of the American Revolution which stands forth in the limelight of history as one of the most unusual and extraordinary fought in the great war for liberty.

The tablet, erected by Maine State Council, D. A. B., on the 150th anniversary of the battle, bears the legend:

"August 8, 1782, a British Ship of 18 guns attacked a small force of inhabitants gathered on Goat Island and was driven away by severe musketry fire, losing 17 men. Lieut. James Burnham of this town was killed."

The march of seven-score years has dealt gently with the cape whose rocky slopes echoed to the wild whoops of Indian warriors a century before they cast back the sullen bomb of British cannon. For this is historic ground.

Yonder on Stage Island, beleaguered fishermen fought long and desperately against overwhelming hordes of savages until heroic Nick Morey—crippled in battle, but stout of heart—made his perilous night voyage in a leaky skiff to Portsmouth, 25 miles away to summon reinforcements, which arrived when the last split bullet was rammed home on the last charge of powder.

Worthy of Remembrance.

Only the bare facts of the battle of August 8, 1782, have been recorded and few historians have mentioned the affair. Its effect on the nation's destiny was slight, indeed, and perhaps for this reason it has been ignored by many and briefly dealt with by others; but the battle of Goat Island is deserving of more attention, for it is perhaps the only instance of the Revolution where untrained soldiers, armed with muskets, defeated a ship-of-war whose crew outnumbered them ten to one.

Such information as is obtainable by exhaustive research leads one to believe that the day preceding the battle was clear and warm, with a north-westerly breeze ruffling the bay. People in the fishing village of Cape Porpoise had gone about their daily tasks as usual, and when the evening shadows lengthened they sat in front of their cottages or gathered in little groups to discuss the latest news from Washington's army, brought by courier from Falmouth or York, or gleaned from a Portsmouth fishing smack, which some one had spoken on the fishing grounds that day.

Careless Shouts Warning.

Suddenly a boat was seen coming across the bay. From the manner in which the carmen dipped his blade and bent his back, watchers sensed something unusual and conversation lagged as they walked down to the wharf to meet him. He saw them gathering, and when a hundred yards from shore the boatman turned his head to shout: "A British ship-o'-war off shore and heading this way!"

Where all had been peace and security confusion and alarm now reigned. Never before had Cape Porpoise been visited by the enemy. The very unexpectedness of the impending attack struck terror to the hearts of many. There could be but one meaning: the British had come to fire and ravage the village.

Defense there was none. All that remained was to save all they could and retreat to the woods until the enemy had departed, leaving smoldering embers of what had once been comfortable homes.

People rushed to their houses to gather such valuables and goods as they could save. No one dreamed of armed resistance until James Burnham assured them by calling out that the enemy would not dare sail boldly into an unknown harbor while the shades of night were fast falling, but would stand off shore during the hours of darkness and cautiously sound his way between the islands in the morning.

James Burnham was a brave man. He was from York and had played an important part in events of that time. He was a lieutenant in the militia and had seen some service in the war. His courage was communicated to others and in a short time his plans were perfected for active resistance. Many of the men were absent in the army, but he succeeded in organizing a force which appears to have numbered less than 25—about one man for each gun on the man-o'-war.

Burnham's prediction about the British ship proved correct. She hovered offshore and when night fell her lights could be seen on Goat Island.

Make Stand on Goat Island.

Burnham rowed across to Goat Island. There was little sleep on the island that night. They had brought food and drink—and needed both. When the sun peeped up from his bed in the ocean there was a curved line of rude earth-works on the island shore.

If they were noticed by the English commander, he seems to have regarded them with contempt. No man was to be seen on the island and thought of battle was remote from British minds when they stood cautiously in the channel and began throwing lead.

Deadly Musketry Fire.

Then came a puff of smoke from the rocks on shore and a puny musket shot echoed over the water. The leaders toppled and fell. Another took his place, and he dropped when a second musket spoke from shore.

Clear and loud sounded the British bugle. Sailors manned the guns and sent solid shot hissing through the air. Some screamed overhead, while others kicked up sand and stones or plunged into the breastworks.

There was no fear in the hearts of the brave old fishermen of Cape Porpoise. Hugging their cover they rained home bullets and drove them straight at sailors on deck or through open portholes. They were fighting for homes and loved ones these grim-faced, sharp-shooting sons of old Maine.

Twenty hours before every man of them would have ridiculed the idea of such a one-sided fight, but now they had forgotten all about odds against them and picked their marks with deadly accuracy. The big guns on board were thundering as they leaped from deck, almost pulling iron rings, bolts from oak with their recoil. Shouts, yells, curses and screams of agony came to their ears from the smoke-enveloped ship.

Women Pray for Victory.

On the headland old men and children watched with bated breath while women prayed silently for a victory none dared hope for. Out on Goat Island muskets were hot from firing and men were fighting who had forgotten all about numbers and cannon, even life itself, in their desperate, unshakable determination to prevent the British from destroying their village.

On board decks were running red with blood. Seventeen men had fallen when the British captain gave the order that sent his ship scurrying before the off-shore breeze—an 18-gun ship-of-war, driven off by a score of hardy, fearless sharpshooters.

The Americans lost only one man. Lieutenant Burnham, in his anxiety to find a good mark, leaped to the breastworks and stood, musket in hand, when a musketball sped by a marine pierced him and he fell.

As a battle the affair at Cape Porpoise was neither great nor long, nor productive of tremendous results. For stark fighting, muskets against cannon, land forces against naval, and untrained soldiers against overwhelming numbers of disciplined sailors, it should be treasured forever in the archives of American history.

Unique as a Battle.

Soldiers on land have fought sailors on water before and since; but perhaps this battle is unique. Ours is a glorious history, a history bright with deeds of heroism and devotion sublime, but it records few instances in which a handful of raw militia defeated a fully-manned and heavily armed man-of-war.

And so, as one stands by the boulder on Cape Porpoise and reads the inscription thereon, there comes with the tang of the sea and cries of low-flying gulls an inspiration. Eyes are lifted to rest on Goat Island and in fancy one visions the scene of long ago, and his pulse will quicken and his blood tingle with patriotic pride as he pictures the stirring spectacle of a handful of sturdy fishermen pitted in a death-grapple with scores of trained cannoniers.—Boston Sunday Herald.

In the Days of Poor Richard

By IRVING BACHELLER

CHAPTER XXV

The Horse of Destiny.
In Boston harbor, Jack learned of the evacuation of Philadelphia by the British and was transferred to a Yankee ship putting out to sea on its way to that city. There he found the romantic Arnold, crippled by his wounds, living in the fine mansion erected by William Penn. He had married a young daughter of one of the rich Tory families, for his second wife, and was in command of the city. Colonel Irons, having delivered the letters to the treasurer of the United States, reported at Arnold's office. It was near midday and the general had not arrived. The young man sat down to wait and soon the great soldier drove up with his splendid coach and pair. His young wife sat beside him. He had little time for talk. He was on his way to breakfast. Jack presented his compliments and the good tidings which he had brought from the Old Country. Arnold listened as if he were hearing the price of cod-fish and hams.

The young man was shocked by the coolness of the commandant. The former felt as if a pall of icy water had been thrown upon him when Arnold answered:
"Now that they have money I hope that they will pay their debt to me." This hint of talk Jack had not heard before. He resented it, but answered calmly: "A war and an army is a great extravagance for a young nation that has not yet learned the imperial art of gathering taxes. Many of us are going unpaid, but if we get liberty it will be worth all its costs."

"That sounds well, but there are some of us who are also in need of justice," Arnold answered as he turned away.
"General, you who have not been dismayed by force will never, I am sure, surrender to discouragement," said Jack.

The fiery Arnold turned suddenly and lifting his cane in a threatening manner said in a loud voice:
"Would you reprehend me—you d—upstart?"

"General, you may strike me, if you will, but I cannot help saying that we young men must look to you elder ones for a good example." Very calmly and politely the young man spoke these words. He towered above the man Arnold in spirit and stature. The latter did not commit the folly of striking him, but with a look of scorn ordered him to leave the office.

Jack obeyed the order and went at once to call upon his old friend, Governor Reed. He told the governor of his falling out with the major general.

"Arnold is a selfish man and a source of great danger to our cause," said the governor. "He is vain and loves display and is living far beyond his means. To maintain his extravagance he has resorted to privateering and speculation, and none of it has been successful. He is deeply involved in debt. It is charged that he has used his military authority for private gain. He was tried by a court-martial, but escaped with only a reprimand from the commander in chief. He is thick with the Tories. He is the type of man who would sell his master for thirty pieces of silver."

"This is alarming," said Jack. "My boy an ill wind is blowing on us," the governor went on. "We have all too many Arnolds in our midst. Our currency has depreciated until forty shillings will not buy what one would have bought before the war. The profit makers are rolling in luxury and the poor army starves. The honest and patriotic are impoverished while those who practice fraud and Toryism are getting rich."

Depressed by this report of conditions in America Jack set out for Washington's headquarters on the Hudson. Never had the posture of American affairs looked so hopeless. The governor had sold him a young mare with a white star in her forehead and a short, white stocking on her left fore leg, known in good time as the horse of destiny.

When he had crossed the King's ferry the mare went lame. A little beyond the crossing he met a man on a big, roan gelding. Jack stopped him to get information about the roads in the north.

"That's a good-looking mare," the man remarked.
"And she is better than she looks," Jack answered. "But she has thrown a shoe and gone lame."

"I'll trade even and give you a sound horse," the man proposed.
"What is your name and where do you live?" Jack inquired.

"My name is Paulding and I live at Tarrytown in the neutral territory." "I accepted his offer not knowing that a third party was looking on and laying a deeper plan than either of us were able to penetrate," Jack used to say of that deal.

He approached the little house in which the commander in chief was quartered with a feeling of dread, fearing the effect of late developments on his spirit.

The young man wrote to Margaret in care of Franklin this account of the day which followed his return to camp: "Thank God! I saw on the face of our commander the same old look of unshaken confidence. I knew that he could see his way and what a sense of comfort came of that knowledge!"

More than we can tell we are indebted to the calm and masterly face of Washington. It holds up the heart of the army in all discouragements. His faith is established. He is not afraid of evil tidings. This great, god-like personality of his has put me on my feet again. I was in need of it, for a different kind of man, of the name of Arnold, had nearly floored me."

"Sit down here and tell me all about Franklin," he said with a smile. "I told him what was going on in Paris and especially of the work of our great minister to the court of Louis XVI."

"He heard me with deep interest and when I had finished arose and gave me his hand saying:
"Colonel, again you have won my gratitude. We must keep our courage." "I told him of my unhappy meeting with Arnold."

"The man has his faults—he is very human, but he has been a good soldier," Washington answered.

"Solomon came into camp that evening. He was so glad to see me that he could only wring my hand and utter exclamations.
"How is the gal?" he asked presently.
"I told him of our meeting in Passy and of my fear that we should not meet again."
"Solomon is a man of faith. He never falters."
"He said to me: 'Don't worry. That gal has got a backbone. She ain't no rye straw. She's a-goin' to think it over.'"
"Neither spoke for a time. We sat by an open fire in front of his tent as the night fell. Solomon was filling his pipe. He swallowed and his right eye began to alim. I knew that some highly important theme would presently open the door of his intellect and come out.
"Jack, I been over to Albany," he said. "Had a long visit with Albany. They ain't no likelier women in Amer-

WHY YOU ARE WHAT YOU ARE

By EDNA PURDY WALSH

WHAT WILL PEOPLE SAY?

There is a faculty located on top of the head at the sides which sometimes keeps us awake at night. It is Approbativeness. A generous development of the head in this region sends people to the stage to be applauded. Sometimes it is so excessive that sleep is lost worrying about what people will say or think about us. We need some of this faculty to keep us looking our best, acting our best, but if it is excessive it sometimes crowds out other desirable faculties, and the individual is a bragger. The faculty is easily recognized. It brings a very flourishing signature with superfluous curves. The head is thrown backward, the manner is pleasing and affected. Though there is a seeming assurance of step, movement and speech, it is mostly pretension. The latest style of dress, a cane on the arm, small ears, and a raised upper lip midway between the center and the corner of the mouth—the upper lip in this region is usually drawn up so that the teeth show—are all indications of Approbativeness, in harmony with the development of the faculty on the head. (© 1922, Western Newspaper Union.)

Iky. I'll bet a pint o' powder an' a fish hook on that. Ye kin look fer 'em till yer eyes run but ye'll be obleeged to give up."

"He lighted his pipe and smoked a few whiffs and added: 'Knit seventy pair o' socks fer my regiment this fall.'"

"Have you asked her to marry you?" I inquired.

"No. 'Taint likely she'd have me," he answered. "She's had troubles enough. I wouldn't ask no women to marry me till the war is fit out. I'm liable to get all shot up any day. I did think I'd ask her but I didn't. Got kind o' skeered an' slittish when we got down together, an' come to think it all over, 'twouldn't 'a' been right."

"You're wrong, Solomon," I answered. "You ought to have a home of your own and a wife to make you fond of it. How is the Little Cricket?"

"Gummiest little shaver that ever lived," said he. "I got him a tenny wagon an' drew him down to the big garden an' back. He had a string tied on to his waist an' he pulled an' he hollered when an' at all he were about as house as a best time. When we got back he waird an' an' over me with a curry comb an' said my name!"

"He'd aint roared with laughter at the thought of the chit's day an' which he had had a part. He told me of my own people and next to their good health it pleased me to learn that my father had given all his horses—save two—to Washington. That is what all our good men are doing. So you will see how it is that we are able to go on with this war against the great British empire."

"That night the idea came to me that I would seek an opportunity to return to France in the hope of finding you in Paris. I applied for a short furlough to give me a chance to go home and see the family. There I found a singular and disheartening situation. My father's modest fortune is now a part of the ruin of war. Soon after the beginning of hostilities he had loaned his money to men who had gone into the business of furnishing supplies to the army. He had loaned them dollars worth a hundred cents. They are paying their debts to him in dollars worth less than five cents. Many, and Washington among them, have suffered in a like manner. My father has little left but his land, two horses, a yoke of oxen and a pair of slaves. So

STATE AWARDS ROAD CONTRACTS

Latest Action Brings Aggregate of $4,000,000 for Year, Exclusive of Bridges.

HIGHWAY BONDS AT PREMIUM

Best in Years for Issue at 4% Per Cent, Is Opinion of Officials—Total of $11,000,000 Taken—Average Price of $101.58.

Trenton. — Contracts aggregating $424,675, awarded by the State Highway Commission, brought the total allotment for road construction under the 1924 program up to $4,000,000. This involves approximately 73 miles of highways. In addition, the commission has awarded bridge contracts aggregating $800,000, exclusive of $1,000,000 set aside toward the cost of the new Amboy bridge spanning the Raritan river.

The largest award made was $284,208 to the Newark Paving Company for the construction of three miles of concrete highway on Route 9 from Westfield to the Lehigh Valley railroad in Union county.

Charles Kavanagh of Bayonne was awarded the contract for widening the White Horse pike from Berlin to Hammonton, a distance of 11 miles for $77,107. The contract for placing sheet asphalt on four miles of Route 2 from Burlington to Bridgeboro was awarded to the Union Paving Company of Philadelphia for $63,360.

Company to Make Repayment Upon recommendation of Major William G. Sloan, state highway engineer, the commission ratified an agreement with the Public Service Railway Company for the improvement of Washington avenue, Belleville. The state will do the grading preparatory to laying tracks in the center of the avenue and do the paving, including the concrete base. The railway company will furnish and lay rails and ballast, contributing $8,000 in lieu of maintaining a macadam pavement between the tracks. The job will be temporarily financed by the state, repayment to be made by the company within three years.

A resolution was adopted under which the state will bear half the expense, not exceeding $165,000, of constructing the Sussex-Port Jervis road in Sussex county.

The C. H. Wilans Company of Ellensburg was authorized to sublet to the Public Service Railway Company the trolley track work made necessary in connection with the improvement of Lincoln avenue, Plainfield.

Funds Given to Middlesex Middlesex county was granted a balance of $15,000 remaining to its credit in the 1923 account for highway repairs under the motor vehicle fund allotment. The acquisition of property required in connection with the proposed Morgan cut-off on Route 4 was referred to Commissioner Percy H. Stewart for investigation.

The commission considered a suggestion of the federal government that an additional coat of paint be given the steel work on the new Amboy bridge, the estimated cost of which is $7,300. The commission deferred action.

Commissioner Abraham Jellin submitted a report of the hearing he conducted at Somerville relative to the underpass on the Lehigh Valley railroad at South Somerville. Action was deferred. The question at issue is whether the underpass shall be constructed on the straight line followed by the present road or at a six degree curve, which would result in a saving of about $40,000.

Plans and specifications for a bridge on Route 8 at Pompton River were approved and bids will be asked. Approval was given an award of contracts by Essex county for materials for repaving and resurfacing roads in the county and for the construction of a storm drainage system in Stuyvesant avenue, Irvington.

High Bond Premiums Aggregate premiums of $162,894.70 will be received by New Jersey from the late sale of $11,000,000 of state bonds. This makes the average price $101.58. In the opinion of the issuing authorities the prices were the best obtained in years for 4% per cent bonds.

The premiums are made of $31,848.40 for $6,000,000 of highway extension bonds, commonly known as bridge and tunnel bonds; $47,454.20 for $3,000,000 of highway bonds to be used in road construction; and $83,592.10 for $2,000,000 of highway bonds to be used for construction of bridges.

The purchasers of the highway extension bonds, oversubscribed three times, included 53 New Jersey banks and Lehman Brothers, New York brokers, who were assigned $2,116,000 of the bonds, this being the largest individual lot disposed of. The price offered by Lehman Brothers was $101.09, this being equivalent to a 4.14 per cent yield on the investment.

The $3,000,000 of road construction bonds were bought in by 22 New Jersey banks, the price being equivalent to a yield of 4.11 per cent. Thirteen New Jersey banks and trust companies were the purchasers of the $2,000,000 of highway bridge bonds, on which the yield would be 4.09 per cent.

Successful Newark Bidders Successful Newark institutions in the bids for highway extension bonds were: Federal Trust Company, $400,000; Merchants' and Manufacturers' National Bank, $300,000; National Newark and Essex Banking Company, $300,000; Newark Trust Company, $100,000; Springfield Avenue Trust Company, $150,000; J. S. Rippel & Co., $250,000.

Among the successful bidders for the road construction bonds were the following from Newark: Federal Trust, $300,000; Merchants' and Manufacturers' $300,000; National Newark and Essex, $150,000; Newark Trust, $50,000; Springfield Avenue Trust, $150,000; J. S. Rippel & Co., $250,000.

Successful bidders from Newark for the bridge bonds were: Newark Trust, $500,000; Springfield Avenue Trust, $200,000; Federal Trust, $200,000; Merchants' and Manufacturers', $300,000; National Newark and Essex, $100,000.

The issuing authorities, comprising the governor, state treasurer and state comptroller, declined to receive bids for the entire $11,000,000 where the bids failed to set forth specifically the premium offered for each series of bonds. This course was deemed necessary because the bridge and tunnel bonds are issued under the act of 1920 and the state highway bonds under the act of 1922. It was, therefore, felt that it would be impossible properly to allocate the premiums offered where the bids were submitted in lump sums without particularizing the premiums and amounts for each of the three series.

New State Highway Map Advance copies of the state highway map for 1924 have been received by the State Highway Commission, and it is anticipated a sufficient supply will be on hand to begin distribution in a few days. In addition to the regular state map there is printed on the reverse side a more detailed map showing connections between north Jersey points and the metropolitan area of New York.

The map also includes a description of the 20 state highway routes, together with an explanation as to the dictionary and cautionary signs displayed on them.

Tighten Grip on Drunken Drivers Designation of an assistant attorney general who will devote his time exclusively to the handling of appeals of drunken automobile drivers who have been convicted by magistrates is requested by Commissioner William L. Dill of the motor vehicle department in a communication to Attorney General Katzenbach.

Discussing the subject, Commissioner Dill said his request was based upon the failure or refusal of many municipal attorneys, as provided in the act of last year, to represent the municipality in which the violation occurred.

Often, he declared, these officials take the position that it is the duty of the state to prosecute, which the commissioner characterized as an absurdity, and that in reality their attitude was because the cities do not profit financially. If the state's legal department would detail an assistant for the purpose Mr. Dill expressed the belief that no appeals would go by default.

"The frequency with which sentences for violation of Section 14 (the intoxicated drivers' section) are being set aside, because of errors on the part of committing magistrates, and the failure of the attorney for municipalities to represent the municipality when appeal has been taken to the court of common pleas, etc.," said Mr. Dill in his letter to the attorney general, "suggests the advisability of asking you to detail an assistant attorney general to devote his time exclusively in the handling of cases involving infractions of the motor vehicle and traffic acts."

Would End "Growing Menace" "I estimate that probably 60 per cent of the convictions for intoxicated driving are appealed to the upper courts, and recognizing there is no more serious offense today in this state than the operation of a motor vehicle by an intoxicated driver, it is imperative the provisions of the motor vehicle act be rigidly enforced if this growing menace is to be eradicated."

"If it is not possible to assign an assistant to us, of course we will have to get along as best we can, mindful and deeply appreciative of the splendid co-operation which you have given us and the frequency with which we have had the time of Joseph Lanigan, Esq., and Grover Richman, Esq., who have represented this department in the matter of appeals."

"With the state constabulary, in conjunction with the motor vehicle inspection force, greater vigilance is being exercised and in consequence more arrests are being made. I shall be very glad to have an expression from you."

Praise State Experiment Station Farmers from all sections of New Jersey, numbering about 700, attended the field day of the state agricultural college and experiment station at New Brunswick. A plea for greater use of the benefits extended by the college and station in solving their problems was made by Professor Helyar, acting dean and director of the college, who had charge of the field day. "The state experiment station acts as a police force for the farmer, the honest vendor and the buyer," Professor Helyar told the farmers, "in that it gives protection in so far as farm produce is concerned." Professor George Christie, director of the Indiana state experiment station, addressed the farmers in the afternoon.

LET THE PUBLIC BE MY JUDGE

A Challenge

To show my faith in the science of Chiropractic, I have just completed a thirty-day sentence in the Burlington County Jail rather than pay a fine that would go to the State Medical Board to be used in persecuting other Chiropractors. Now to still further prove my faith in my profession, I stand ready to wager that Chiropractic adjustment will produce greater benefit than any treatment the medical profession may use in ten different chronic cases of disease selected at random by an impartial committee. The ordinary local medical practitioner is debarred from this proposed test because I seek to demonstrate that a person of my limited knowledge can by the Chiropractic method get greater beneficial results than the most skilled members of the medical school of healing can secure by their latest modes of treatment.

Let the committee select ten patients, five (chosen by lot) to be treated by some noted medical man and the other five to be given nothing but Chiropractic spinal adjustments by me, all treatments and adjustments to be given without charge, and if the patients treated by medical methods show a better average improvement, and with less harm, than those adjusted by me, I will donate $500.00 to any charitable cause designated by my competitor. If the reverse should prove true, my competitor shall contribute a similar amount to the cause of Chiropractic.

NEW AMBULANCE HERE

$2850 Buick on Display at Firehouse this Thursday

The new Palmyra ambulance was in town last Saturday and Sunday. It was taken away early this week for a few minor adjustments before the final delivery. The new apparatus was on display at the firehouse late this Thursday afternoon and evening.

It is said to be one of the best and most thoroughly equipped in the State. It is equal to the best, and far superior to many of those used in Philadelphia.

The ambulance body, which is painted light green and is paneled with red cross windows on each side, is on a special built 6-cylinder Buick chassis. A complete first-aid kit and stretcher is carried. The patient lies in a rolling cot. There is a seat on one side which allows three people to accompany the patient. The equipment is completed with the minor necessities such as blankets, etc.

The total cost is $2,850. At the present time, $1,750 has been paid. This includes the allowance made for the old ambulance.

During the stay in town over the weekend it was put into service. Mrs. Allen of West Broad street, who has been seriously ill for some time, was taken to the Cooper hospital, Camden. The machine was driven by President Sidney Snelson, of the Ambulance Association. Mrs. Elias Morgan acted as nurse.

Maurice Allen, son of the patient, has written the Association one of the finest letters of appreciation it has received. Mr. Allen, highly complimented the members on procuring such an apparatus and is deeply impressed with its efficiency.

Vollmer-Hugo

A quiet home wedding took place Tuesday afternoon at four o'clock, when Miss Maud Hugo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor, of 5426 Walnut street, West Philadelphia, became the bride of Dr. Clement Vollmer, professor of German in the University of Pennsylvania, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Philip Vollmer, Sr., of St. Louis.

The ceremony was performed by the groom's father. The bride, who wore a gown of satin-bede crepe, carried a bouquet of bride roses. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor, and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Smith, of Morgan avenue, were present. After a short ocean trip, Dr. and Mrs. Vollmer will reside in Oakmont, Pa. Dr. Vollmer is a brother of Mrs. Elvin I. Powell, of Palmyra.

Musical at Epworth Church

A musical service will be given at the Epworth Methodist Church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. John Briggs will direct the chorus choir and Mrs. Rachel Lord will preside at the organ. Mrs. Helen Briggs Edwards and George and Howard Storey are the special soloists.

The musical program of the service follows: Processional, "The Church's One Foundation," male chorus; "Hark the Voice of Jesus Calling," by Stoddard King; soprano obligato, Mrs. B. R. Leach; contralto solo, Mrs. Edwards; anthem, "Fear Not O Israel," by Spicker; duet, "Holy, Holy, Lord," by Mrs. Edmund Turnock and Miss Rae Green; hymn, "O Master, Let Me Walk with Thee," quartette, "My Task," by Ashford; anthem, "God Be Merciful," by E. H. Brackett; anthem, "Love with Glowing Heart," recessional, "I Love Thy Kingdom, Lord."

Big Ball Games Coming

Manager H. Russell Gibson, of The Field Club baseball team, has signed up two games, which promise to be real contests, for the next few days.

Saturday afternoon at The Field Club Park, the Riverton Club will be met in the second of a three-game series for the championship of the Twin Cities.

The strong Tak-a-Boost Club, of Riverside, is the attraction for the Fourth. The game will start promptly at 4 p. m.

Carver-Weber

The marriage of Mr. Charles Carver, of East Riverton, and Miss Cecelia Weber took place at the Church of the Sacred Heart on Wednesday, June 26th. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. John Carver and Miss Helene Weber, accompanied by the little Misses Cecelia Casey and Teresa Brennan as flower girls.

The marriage ceremony followed by a nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Joseph A. Rigney. The choir assisted by rendering the various selections of the mass in a most delightful manner.

If you like mosquitoes throw old tin cans and bottles around the yard. Water will collect in them and provide an excellent place for hatching the broods.

Epworth Church Notes

"The High Cost of Sinning" will be the topic of the morning sermon at the Epworth Methodist Church. The service begins at seven o'clock. The pastor, the Rev. Fred B. Morley, will preach. In the evening at seven o'clock there will be a musical service. Those who attended the musical service given on Sunday, May 25, bear testimony of the fine quality of these services. A program of the service is found elsewhere in this paper.

The Sunday School at ten o'clock in the morning. There are classes for all ages. Visitors are always welcome.

Throughout the summer there will be two week-night services: the regular prayer service Wednesday evening at eight o'clock and the Epworth League service Thursday evening at eight o'clock.

The services throughout the summer will be found to be bright, brief and inspiring.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet Monday evening for its final meeting for the summer. The meeting will be at the home of Mrs. William Powers, 800 Parry avenue. Mrs. D. T. Mason will be in charge of the study program. The hostesses are: Miss Louise Harder, Miss Elizabeth Roberts and Mrs. George W. Cornall.

Lutheran News

"The Home-Like Church" On Sunday, June 29, at the morning service the pastor will preach on the subject "The World's Hate." A patriotic note will be sounded in the discourse because of the nearness of Independence Day. In the evening the subject will be "Man's Excuses," when the attitudes of men toward church will be discussed.

The Sunday School will hold its session at ten o'clock in the morning, when several classes will be moved into the newly organized junior department. We are getting ready for the new building, that we will be properly arranged when we enter in the fall.

Luther League at six o'clock. Mid-week service, Wednesday parish house of Christ Church, Parry avenue, Wednesday evening at eight.

Evening service Sunday at seven. The young people of the Luther League will hold a carnival on the YMCA grounds on Friday and Saturday evenings. Tables of fancy work, and cakes, candies and ice cream will be on sale. Also the secret tests of fortune and fun. Don't miss this opportunity.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid will be held Tuesday night, July first, at the home of Mrs. Beahn, 835 Columbia avenue.

Baptist Church Notes

The regular meeting of the Young People will be held on Friday of this week at 8 o'clock. The subject will be "The Missionary Work of Our Denomination." Nehemiah 3: 1-2; 4: 1-6.

Next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock will be the regular session of the Sunday School. All are invited. Morning worship at 11:15. The subject of the sermon will be "Disciples." This will be the first of a series of short talks on "The Names Given to the Early Christians."

Twilight service of song at 7 o'clock followed with a short sermon on "Paul's Indignation and Pleading." Next Wednesday evening at the regular prayer meeting the subject will be "God in our lives." Gal. 5: 16-26. Immediately after the prayer meeting will be the quarterly business meeting of the church.

Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company Establishes New Mark Sunday

On August 16, 1923, the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company carried the largest number of cars in its history. The mark was 2416 and stood until Sunday, June 15, 1924, when it was completely smashed by 2712 automobiles using it as a means of transportation.

It was thought that this record would hold until the middle of the summer at least. It didn't, however, for another mark was established last Sunday when 2786 automobiles were carried across the Delaware by the local company.

The congestion started about 7:30 in the evening and the last of the lineup was across the river before 12 o'clock. The foot passenger traffic was not quite so heavy as the preceding week. On 3200 people used the ferry while there were 3566 the Sunday previous.

The Palmyra police force has been highly complimented for the admirable manner in which the load of cars are kept under control. The purchase of the Tacony by the Ferry Company last spring has lightened the work of the officers to a certain extent. More cars, which used to be on the line, do not extend over Broad street. This frequently caused confusion last year.

Presbyterian Notes

We were glad to see so many children at the service last Sunday morning. Bring the boys and girls to church and help make our hour of worship a truly family gathering.

The object talk for the Junior congregation this Sunday will be "The Restored Place." The boys and girls will receive a tiny Star Spangled Banner. The subject of the Senior sermon will be "The Freedom of Service—An Independence Day Challenge." Gal. 5: 13.

Sunday School meets at 10 o'clock, morning worship at 11 o'clock and Christian Endeavor at 6:45.

An evening service on the lawn at 7:30 the pastor will speak on the topic "George Washington—Christian."

Wednesday evening Mr. Bennett will begin a short series of blackboard talks on the book of the Bible. This week we shall study "Hebrews—The Book of the High Priesthood of Christ."

Our Sunday School picnic will be held on Thursday, June 26th, at Wissinoming Park.

The Christian Endeavor has arranged a cake and candy sale, beginning at 11 o'clock at Broad and Main this Saturday morning. The proceeds will be for the purchase of a new piano for the church.

There will be a place waiting for each boy and girl to fill when the clock strikes nine on Monday, June 30th, at the Daily Vacation Bible School.

LEGION HAS BONUS BLANKS

Receives Offer of German War Trophies from Congressman Bacharach

Application blanks for the bonus have just been received by Post Frederick M. Rodgers, No. 156, American Legion. The Post is already making suitable arrangements whereby all veterans of the World War, irrespective of their membership to the Post, may receive assistance in the making out of these forms.

It is proposed that during the summer months, their regular monthly meeting night (the first Tuesday of each month) will be utilized for this purpose. As the cooler weather approaches, a more frequent schedule will be made.

Congressman Bacharach, in a letter received during the past week, extended the Post the opportunity of making application for German war trophies which have been brought to this country and are being distributed through the War Department.

On Tuesday evening next at the regular monthly meeting, delegates to the State convention will be elected. It is the duty of every Legionaire to be present and see that delegates who will represent the Post to the best advantage will be sent to this convention. So come out strong.

On July 4th, Independence Day, the Post will participate in the parade which is being arranged by the Fourth of July Committee. Here is where the Post should "shine," so to speak, and if you have not, don't let this interfere with your being in line. We don't want your uniform particularly.—We want you.

The COTTAGE GARDENER

Sweet Potatoes in Thirty-Six States

Popular Tuber Should Have Sandy Soil, Sunshine, Plenty of Heat.

Sweet potatoes can be grown in at least 36 states, according to the records of the United States Department of Agriculture, and there is every reason why a small planting of sweet potatoes should be made in every cottage garden within those states, especially where the soil is of a sandy nature. While it is true that the sweet potato crop is more or less uncertain in the far North, yet if the season is reasonably dry and warm and the plants given a good start, they will produce a fair crop. It is a great satisfaction to have a supply of sweet potatoes grown in the home garden.

Sweet potato plants are started in a hotbed and it is generally easier for the cottage gardener to purchase the necessary 100 or 200 plants rather than to grow them. The plants, however, should not be set in the open ground until all danger of frost is past and the soil is warm. Prior to the setting of the plants the soil should be thoroughly prepared. First, it should be spaded and thoroughly pulverized, then drawn up into flat beds or ridges with the hoe, a little fertilizer being worked into the soil as it is bedded. These beds should be about 8 inches in height and 15 inches in width, or sometimes they are made a foot in height and 18 inches in width. The beds are spaced about 3 or 3 1/2 feet apart, leaving rather deep furrows between them. The plants are set 12 to 15 inches apart on the top of the beds and each plant is given about a quart of water as its roots as it is set. The soil is then well drawn about the plants.

Sweet potatoes want plenty of sunshine and an abundance of heat, but not too much moisture. The surface of the soil should be kept loosened and all weeds pulled out, but aside from this, sweet potatoes require very little attention.

The crop should be dug just as soon as the vines are killed by frost; in fact, the potatoes should be dug before the vines are badly frozen. If the vines become frozen it is necessary to cut them off just above the ground before the frozen sap has a chance to go down into the potatoes. Sweet potatoes should be dug on a bright day.

Suppose you could delegate the care of your investments to a successful financier

SUPPOSE a man who had made finance his life study, who had specialized in the investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars a year, should offer to take personal charge of your financial affairs. Would you not gladly turn over to him the management of your investments and real estate?

That offer is made to you. By means of our Agency Service we can take entire charge of your estate including the making of investments, the collection of income, the preparation of tax returns and all clerical details. The fee for this service is so reasonable that many clients find it more economical to employ us as Agents than to manage their estates personally.

Spot Made Forever Famous

Here, at Cambridge, Mass., Colonial Patriot Soldiers Gathered for the Famous March to Bunker Hill and Freedom.

PATRIOTIC SHRINE AT VALLEY FORGE

Is a Memorial to Heroes of the Revolution.

Worthily Commemorates Services of Those Who Fought for Freedom.

There are many interesting features of the memorial chapel at Valley Forge. To the right of the Washington memorial door stands the Washington-Sullivan font, each face of the octagonal bowl bearing the crusader's cross, symbolizing the Christian's warfare against the world, the flesh and the devil. On the wall back of the font appears this quaint inscription: "George Washington was made a Member of Christ, the Child of God, and an Inheritor of the Kingdom of Heaven, in the Sacrament of Holy Baptism Ministered according to the Use of the Church of England, where of this Font is a Memorial, and this the Record: George Washington, Son of Augustine & Mary, his Wife, was Born ye 11th Day of February, 1732, about 10 in the Morning & was Baptized on the 3d of April following, Mr. Beverly Whiting & Capt. Christopher Brooks Godfathers and Mrs. Mildred Gregory Godmother."

The pews of the Patriots, unique in America for their conception and design, are twenty-five in number, and each a worthy memorial. On the base of each is carved either the family arms, the insignia of a patriotic society or the Colonial seal or state arms. The President's pew bears the arms of the United States and the seal of the President. It is given in memory of Washington and Monroe, who were at Valley Forge and later became Presidents, and commemorates the address of Roosevelt, the first President to visit this sacred ground.

Commemorative Pews.
In front of the Patriots are the Patriots are elaborately carved screens; that in front of the President's pew was given in honor of Washington and his major generals at Valley Forge; that in front of the Shippen pew was given in honor of Washington and his major generals at Valley Forge. As Washington spoke so frequently of the Providence of God as directing the destiny of the American patriots, this is symbolized by angels at prayer carved in oak and kneeling on the buttresses; below in the panels are thirteen flags of the Revolution carved and colored.

The Door of the Allies, opening into the Porch of the Allies on the right, is in honor of the foreign soldiers who aided the American patriots in their struggle for independence. The Inauguration Door, opening into the Cloister of the Colonies on the left, is in memory of Washington's inauguration as first President of the United States.

At the entrance to the choir is the Washington-Wood pulpit, lectern and perclose, carved with grace and dignity in Indiana limestone. On the steps is the inscription: "In Commemoration of George Washington, Warden of Truro Parish, Virginia, and Lay Reader in the French and Indian War."

Monument to British Soldier.
The lectern is the only monument at Valley Forge to a British soldier. It commemorates Washington's service as General Braddock's aide de camp in his ill-fated expedition against the French, and especially his last tribute to his dead chief, as recorded in these words: "George Washington read the Prayer Book Office for the Burial of the Dead at the Interment of Major General Edward Braddock, July 11, 1755." The Washington arms are carved on the center of the desk; on the left is an eagle holding the Bible, symbolic of the Church, while on the right is another holding a shield bearing the arms of the United States symbolic of the State.

In a richly carved, canopied niche in the lectern stands the Washington-Burk memorial statuette, given in memory of the late Abbie J. Reeves Burk, wife of the Rev. Dr. W. Herbert Burk. The memorial is of bronze, the work of the famous American sculptor, Franklin Simmons, and is pronounced the finest figure of Washington since Houdon's wonderful work preserved in the capitol at Richmond.

Altar Weighs Ten Tons.
The altar is one block of Indiana limestone weighing ten tons. In the face is set the plate from Washington's overbox, which fell to the floor of the vault and was overlooked when the sarcophagus was sealed. It bears the inscription: "George Washington, Born February 22, 1732. Died December 11, 1799." Cut in the steps leading to the altar is Tennyson's tribute to Washington:

"His work is done;
But while the race of mankind endures,
Let his great example stand
Colossal seen of every land.
And keep the soldier firm, the statesman sure,
Till in all lands, and thro' all human story,
The path of duty be the way of glory."

The Roof of the Republic, supported by carved oak angels with outstretched wings symbolical of the Providence of God, contains forty-eight panels, one for each state in the Union. In the floor under each bay of the roof is a bronze tablet with the arms of the state represented above, the names of the states and names of the donors. The Cloister of the Colonies, a unique monument of patriotism, forms a porte cochere to the chapel and one of the entrances to the Washington Memorial cemetery. The open air pulpit at the end of the cloister overlooks rows of stately oaks, which form a beautiful woodland cathedral where thousands of worshippers already have joined in patriotic services in memory of "The Father of His Country."

Colonies Represented.
Each of the thirteen original colonies is represented in the cloister by a bay, that of New Hampshire forming the entrance to the chapel and the choir. The ceilings are of oak and on the central boss of each are emblazoned the state arms. Over the arch of the Virginia bay are the arms of the Virginia company, consisting of the arms of England, Scotland, Ireland and France and the motto: "En dat Virginia gultam." This bay, erected in 1907, marks the three hundredth anniversary of the founding of Jamestown and the establishment of English life and institutions in America. Above the inner arch are the arms of Washington, the great Virginian. The New York bay contains the open air pulpit.

The Thanksgiving tower, yet to be completed, will be the most prominent feature of the memorial. Its entrance will be at the end of the Porch of the Allies, furthest from the chapel, and will form the approach to the large assembly hall and museum on the second floor of Patriots' hall. Each step of the stairway to the second floor will be a memorial to an American patriot; the memorial tablets will be set on the risers of these "Steps of Fame." There will be thirteen balls in the chime, each representing one of the original colonies.

Reality Beats Theory

The froth of the Fourth is passing. Oratory has enjoyed its place in our celebrations, but it has been only a pleasant incident to the whole. In theory there is no more reason for flights of rounded period on the Fourth than any other day; in reality there is something in the Fourth which sustains patriotic rhapsody with special strength.

I am too poor to give you a home in any degree worthy of you.

"Dear old Solomon has proposed to make me his heir, but now that he has met the likely women I must not depend upon him. So I have tried to make you know the truth about me as well as I do. If your heart is equal to the discouragement I have heaped upon it I offer you this poor comfort. When the war is over I can borrow a thousand pounds to keep a roof over our heads and a fowl in the pot and pudding in the twiflers while I am clearing the way to success. The prospect is not inviting, I fear, but if, happily, it should appeal to you, I suggest that you join your father in New York at the first opportunity so that we may begin our life together as soon as the war ends. And now, whatever comes, I would wish you to keep these thoughts of me: I have loved you, but there are things which I have valued above my own happiness. If I cannot have you I shall have always the memory of the hours we have spent together and of the great hope that was mine."

PAINT THAT ENDURES

Paint that resists the glare of summer sun and winter frost, of warm drenching rain and the cold blast of the blizzard, may be assured only from use of pure materials.

There are no worth-while substitutes for pure linseed oil, white lead and turpentine.

A Card of Character

A Card is much like a man, after all! The more character, the more power he has. The more character in your card, the more power it has.

The Peerless Patent Book-form Card

has more character than any card you have ever heard of before! It can be beautifully engraved, or it can be neatly printed, as the user desires. It is necessarily always clean, because of the binding in book form with tissue paper between each card, and the book form also keeps it from becoming wrinkled or crumpled. Besides it is always "right there" when you need it.

Can you think of more character for a card?

These cases come in four sizes with cards to fit.

Will be glad to show you samples at our office.
