RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

By a 4-1 Vote Borough Council
Accepts Resignation of Mr. Geiss

Following his annual custom of several years past, Mayor Kilian E. Bennett entertained members of council at dinner at his home on Bank avenue, for the last meeting of the year, Monday evening of this week. After dinner the regular business was transacted which consisted largely of transferring balances from accounts having a surplus to those having a deficit, and preparing the budget for next year.

The resignation of John C. Geiss as a member of council, action on which was deferred at the last meeting, was accepted. The motion was offered by Mr. Flagg, and seconded by Mr. Lynch. The vote was Flagg, Lynch, Showell and Williams for, and Flower against accepting the resignation. After this action was taken, Albert H. Hawkins and Joseph Hyton appeared before council and presented a petition signed by a hundred and six citizens of Riverton requesting that body not to accept the resignation of Mr. Geiss, but the matter was not re-opened.

The auditor's report was received and filed.

When making up the budget, salary increases were provided for as follows:

Assessor from $550 to $700;
Collector from $500 to $600;
Clerk from $450 to $550;
Officers from $1,300 to $1,600

Over Three Hundred Deer Killed In County

Game Warden Mathis, of Mount

Holly, had 302 deer reported to him as having been killed in Burlington county during the four days of the hunting season. The number killed was about one hundred less than last year, notwithstanding that there were probably more hunters in the woods.

The shortage, however, is probably accounted for by the fact that this year the season was one day short by reason of the last day fixed by law falling on Sunday, when it was illegal to shoot.

Some parties were made up of as many as sixty men, who camped the entire four days, while the camping parties were so thick in some places that it was difficult that one traversed the woods without running across them on their stands.

Not a running accident was reported in this county, but two men were seriously shot in Atlantic county, not seriously, however. This is considered remarkable when one stops to think of the number of men and youths who took advantage of the sport during the four days of the

CHRISTMAS AT COUNTY FARM

Donations and Christmas Greetings
Add to Cheer of Inmates

In the great work of making everybody happy on Christmas, the residents of the Burlington County Almshouse were not overlooked.

Some time ago the members of the Young Women's Republican Club began to take an interest in the welfare of those in the almshouse, and arranged to add to their work and pleasure. To this end various functions were staged and money was raised to improve the rest room, where many of the women at the institution spend much of their time.

Not only was the room refurnished, but there were Christmas gifts for the inmates and Yule-tide in a measure was the same Yule-tide they enjoyed in better days.

The new furnishings include Ax-minster rugs, six comfortable rocking chairs, a library table, an electric lamp, and a leather upholstered divan-ette. And besides these many attractive pictures hang on the wall and add to the "hominess" of the room.

The Sunday before Christmas a party of young men and young women from the Methodist Church co-operated in the excellent work of making the Christmas happier for the residents by going to the institution and singing the Christmas carols. In connection with the carols there were gifts for each inmate.

Henry I. Worrell, steward of the almshouse, and Mrs. Worrell, the matron, are doing much to improve the condition of their charges. When Mr. Worrell assumed charge of the county house some months ago, he declared that it was his purpose to make it a home and not merely an institution, and since then he has been working along those lines.

ATTACKS SENATOR EDGE

Rev. Paulson Claims He Carried
Hooch in Car with President - Harding

Rev. Marna S. Paulson, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New Jersey, has sent to United States Senator Walter E. Edge a letter in reply to one received from the Senator in which the latter characterized as "repulsive and contemptible" the charges made by Paulson at the recent meeting in Mount Holly for the formation of a prohibition enforcement league.

Among the allegations made by the new head of the Anti-Saloon League was that Edge had liquor secreted in his automobile on an occasion when he loaned the machine to convey President Harding and Senator Fre-linghuysen from Atlantic City to Washington a few years ago. In his letter of reply Senator Edge evidently thought the car referred to was a railroad car.

Mr. Paulson's reply in part follows:

"My dear Senator:

"Your letter contains two outstanding charges; one that I am not a gentleman and the other is that I am not telling the truth.

"Inasmuch as I am employed by a group of Prohibition churches here in New Jersey, numbering 1357, I am likely to be discharged just as soon as they are satisfied that your two charges are true. In the meantime the public probably will be misled by knowing that I was elected to this office by men who have known me intimately for more than ten years."

"You say that my story is entirely false because my party went to Washington in automobiles and not by train. You either received an incorrect report or you are emphasizing a minor matter and ignoring the major charge contained in my address.

Lesson for January 4

CHRIST'S TRIUMPHAL ENTRY

LESSON TEXT—Luke 19:28-44.
GOLDEN TEXT—"Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord."—Luke 19:38.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Great Crowd Praising Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Triumphal Entry.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Making Christ Our King.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Kingdom of Christ.

The title given this lesson is somewhat misleading. Strictly speaking, this was far from a triumphal entry. It was rather the official presentation of the King of the Jewish nation. Back of the cry, "hosanna," the awful word, "crucify," was uttered by the same persons who cried "hosanna." Though they were utterly blind to the fact, God was about to carry out His plan of hosanna, which means "have now," through the crucifixion of the Son of God.

1. The Presentation (vv. 28-34).
 1. Sending the Disciples for the Ass (vv. 30-31). He told them just where to go to find it and told them how to answer the inquiry of the one who owned it. This shows how perfectly the Lord knows all our ways. He knows our whereabouts by day and night. He even knows our thoughts. He uses unlikely means and insignificant things in the accomplishment of His purpose.

2. The Fulfillment of Prophecy (Matt. 21:4, 5). Some five hundred years before Zechariah had predicted this event. Christ's entry into Jerusalem was an exact fulfillment of this prediction. This is highly instructive to those who would understand the prophecies as yet unfulfilled. Since the prediction of his first coming was literally fulfilled, we can be assured that the prophecy of His second coming will be likewise fulfilled. The first is established beyond a doubt. The second we should as heartily believe. The prediction of Zechariah 14:3-11 will be just as literally fulfilled as that of Zechariah 9:9.

3. Obedience of the Disciples (vv. 32-34). Though the request may have seemed strange, and even unreasonable, they fully obeyed. The true disciple will render glad obedience to the Lord no matter how strange His commands may seem. Obedience to that which seems reasonable is not obedience at all. May we prove that we are real disciples!

II. The Entry of the King (vv. 35-40).
 1. The Disciples Set Jesus Upon the Ass (v. 35). This act of putting their garments upon the ass and setting Jesus upon it showed that they recognized Him as their King (II Kings 9:15).

2. Acclaimed as King by the Disciples (vv. 36-38). Some spread their garments in the way. Others, perhaps having no garments to spare, cut down branches of trees and strewed them in His way, which was no doubt just as acceptable to Him. They praised God for all the mighty works which they had seen and cried out, "Blessed is the King that cometh in the name of the Lord."

III. The Critical Pharisees (vv. 39, 40).
 Although swept along by the demonstration of the multitude they deemed it prudent to ask the Lord to rebuke the disciples, as such behavior might be interpreted by the Roman government as an insurrection. To their demand Jesus replied that such homage was not only fitting but necessary. He declared that if the multitude were silent, the very stones would cry out in adoration of him.

IV. The King Rejected (vv. 41-44).
 Christ knew what awaited Him in Jerusalem. Though surrounded by loyal hearts, He knew that the rulers of the nation had no heart for Him. His coming trial and death loomed before Him so that He wept over Jerusalem. He knew that awful days awaited it and that loyal hearts would gladly welcome Him. If they only knew. He showed that their inability to see Him as their King and Savior would result in bringing upon them the awful horrors of the destruction of their city. He entered the city and rebuked the rulers for allowing the house of God to become degraded by carrying on traffic for gain. The cleansing of the temple only increased their hatred and opposition to Him.

A REAL "HAPPY NEW YEAR"

Fifty-four business men and women of this neighborhood join with The New Era in wishing you a Happy New Year, and that prosperity which comes from cooperation.

The growth of a community is greatly influenced by its transportation facilities. With the completion of the bridge only a matter of a few months, adding another easy means of access, to the already fine train, trolley and bus service, this section of Burlington County is bound to benefit by the influx of people in adjacent large cities seeking a happier place in which to live and raise their boys and girls.

What other place is there within such easy reach of the business section of Philadelphia to invite their attention? Here they will find all the conveniences and comforts of city life—minus its drawbacks.

We have a water supply that in itself is a most valuable inducement, grade and high schools, churches of all the leading denominations, stores that fill almost every human need, skilled artisans to build, equip and repair, improved streets and sidewalks, sewer system, country club, with as fine a golf course as can be found anywhere, yacht club—the oldest on the Delaware and the ninth oldest in the United States, athletic grounds, memorial athletic park, baseball teams, football teams, basketball teams—everything in fact that could make life easy, pleasant and attractive.

With everybody pulling together for a bigger, better town, 1925 will see greater progress than has been made in a decade.

Opportunity knocks at our door. Let us greet it with a hearty welcome and determine to make the best of the gifts it brings. All together now—buyer and seller, artisan and citizen, employer and employee, for 1925—the year of opportunity!

Greetings for the New Year*1925*THIRTY-SIX YEARS have passed since the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company started to furnish water to the inhabitants of this neighborhood. During that time many changes have taken place, both in the plant and equipment, greatly improving the capacity of the company to serve its patrons. When the Company was incorporated in 1888, the capital stock was $50,000. Today it is $175,000.

The equipment consists of one steam triple-expansion Duplex 2,000,000 gallon pump, two electric centrifugal pumps of 750,000 gallon capacity each, one 1,500,000 electric centrifugal pump, and one gasoline-driven centrifugal pump of 900,000 gallon capacity as an emergency auxiliary. These plants are separately located so that if any one of them should become incapacitated, the water supply would go on without interruption. Equal pressure in the high district is maintained by an additional electric pump, constantly running, which gives about fifty pounds pressure over this district. This is done to avoid excessive and damaging pressure in the low district.

To supply one's neighbors with one of the necessities of life, is at once an opportunity for service and a responsibility which is greatly valued by the stockholders, officers and directors of this company, who join in wishing you, one and all,

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE

New Year Will Be Ushered in with Services at Epworth Church

The annual watch night service will be held on Wednesday evening, December 30, at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church. The program will begin at nine o'clock with a social hour under the direction of the Friendship Circle class. This will conclude with refreshments by the Calder class. There will be a service of song beginning at 10:30, following which a watch night message will be delivered by the Rev. J. B. Whitton. The old year will pass out and the new year come in with the beautiful candle light service. The entire evening promises to be one which every one should enjoy, and one in which the community is invited to join.

On Sunday morning at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church the New Year devotion will be observed. In the evening the pastor, Rev. Fred B. Morley, will preach from the topic, "Opportunity." The Sunday School meets at 2:30. The Epworth League devotion meeting is at 7 o'clock. Also at 7, the intermediates meet. Some new features are to be introduced this week, which will be very interesting. All boys and girls 12 to 16 years of age are invited.

On Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock the regular monthly meeting of the official board will be held.

On Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the mid-week prayer meeting will be held.

On Thursday the meeting of the Methodist Hospital Auxiliary will be held at 11 o'clock. At 12:30 a luncheon will be served. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet at 2 o'clock. Both of these societies are doing splendid work. Not only their meetings interesting, but they afford a good opportunity for Christian fellowship.

I. O. O. F.

At the last meeting of Cinnaminson Lodge the semi-annual election of officers was held. The office of warren was hotly contested, five candidates being in the running, but G. Ellsworth Hall, Jr., proved the winner on the first ballot. Those elected to the other offices are as follows:

Noble grand, Joseph Seal; vice grand, W. Raymond Bailey; recording secretary, R. A. Woolman; financial secretary, Howard Elliott; treasurer, Eula Roach; trustees, Alexander M. Miller, Jr., Howard Elliott, Sylvester Reigel.

At a joint meeting of the entertainment committees of the lodge and the Ladies' Auxiliary to be held on Wednesday evening, New Year's Eve, at the home of Brother Alex. Murphy, Jr., 405 Elm avenue, Riverton, final plans are to be discussed for the annual banquet, Friday evening, January 9th. A record-breaking attendance is already indicated from the returns coming in, among them being many members who have grown old in their service and loyalty to the lodge.

On Friday night last the Ladies' Auxiliary tendered a Christmas party to the lodge, one of the real merry kind, ending with a "spread" as only our ladies can provide.

Mrs. Mary Miller

Mrs. Mary Miller, 74 years old, died suddenly at her home in the Stewart Apartments, Fifth street and Garfield avenue, early Sunday afternoon.

Funeral services were held at Hickey's funeral parlors, Camden, Tuesday afternoon. The deceased and her daughter, Miss Helen Miller, have been residents of Palmyra since the latter part of September.

Inheritance Taxes Can Actually Swallow Up An Estate

IT is not probable that the Death Taxes which will be levied against your estate will actually exceed the amount of the entire estate—yet such a thing is theoretically possible, thanks to overlapping taxes of the Federal Government and the several states.

It is highly probable that on certain securities which you hold, your estate will be called on to pay not only a Federal tax but more than one state tax.

Regardless of the size of your estate, prudence suggests that you should be thoroughly informed as to the Death Taxes to which your estate is liable and as to the legitimate methods of avoiding multiple taxation.

We are glad to advise our clients and prospective clients, without charge, on the complicated, but important matter of Taxes.

Much so-called stomach trouble is really chronic appendicitis. This can often be relieved by simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adlerika. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, and removes all gases and toxins.

This day in honor I have toiled;
My shining crest is still unsoiled;
But on the mile I leave behind
Is one who says that I was kind;
And someone has a cheerful song,
Because I chanced to come along.

Director of Board

An interesting upset in the arrangement of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders is forecast when the Board meets Friday to reorganize for the year 1925.

At a caucus last Saturday, George W. Rogers, of Palmyra, was chosen for director, or chairman, of the Board. This was brought about by the shift of J. Lloyd Wright, of Medford, from the ranks of the Charles R. Stout organization. Stout, heretofore supported by Freeholders Russ and Wright, for the last several years has held the balance of power in the Board, the other two members, Fred B. Lippincott, of Moorestown, and Mr. Rogers forming the minority. Now a new coalition, that of Rogers, Lippincott and Wright, has apparently been concluded.

In last year's organization, most of the important positions on the Board were divided between Stout, Russ and Wright, the latter being director of the Board, while only minor duties were assigned to Rogers and Lippincott.

Now that Rogers and Lippincott, aided by Wright, have the upper hand, the situation evidently is to be reversed. According to advance information, Mr. Rogers is to be director of finance, Mr. Lippincott director of public buildings and institutions, Mr. Wright director of roads, while Stout is to be director of bridges and Russ director of public affairs.

No changes of consequence are to be made in the small commissions.

Lippincott and Rogers have generally been credited with belonging to the former county organization, headed by former county boss, Harry L. Knight, of Medford, while Stout, Russ and Wright were in the new county Republican organization with Stout as the head.

The Stout organization was considerably weakened by defections during the recent campaign, when Stout supported Hamilton Kean for United States Senator against Walter E. Edge. At that time County Clerk Reeves deserted the Stout organization and campaigned for Edge.

SETTLES ACCIDENT CLAIM

P. R. R. Awards $19,500 to Bush and Haines Children, Whose Parents Were Killed on Railroad

To the extent of $19,500 the surviving children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bush, of New Lisbon, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Haines, of Pemberton, who were killed when their automobile was struck by an express train at the New Lisbon station crossing on August 5 last, will be benefited through a settlement that their counsel and guardians have been able to effect with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. This settlement was reported on Friday. There are six of the Bush children with Victor Bush, their grandfather, as their guardian, and they will receive $12,500, while the three Haines children, whose guardian is Alfred L. Stevenson, of Chatsworth, will receive $7,000. James Mercer Davis is the representative of the Bush children, while Robert Peacock is the counsel for the Haines children.

It is understood that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company did not feel an absolute responsibility for the accident, but was willing to make a settlement under the belief that a box car on the track between the roadway and the approaching train and also the station building might have obstructed the view to the train.

SEWER BONDS TANGLED

Palmyra Borough Council in Difficulties Over Award

Palmyra Borough Council has encountered difficulties in its recent award of sewer bonds to the Palmyra National Bank.

At the time the bids were opened, the bid of the M. M. Freeman Company was highest, but this bid contained a condition that it was subject to the approval of the Freeman company's attorneys as to the legality of the issue.

Inasmuch as the Borough needed to be positive of receiving the proceeds of the bonds with which to meet $140,000 of temporary notes falling due January 2, the Freeman bid was rejected as conditional and the next highest, that of the Palmyra National, accepted.

Now the firm of New York bond lawyers employed by the Borough to provide the legal opinion backing the bonds says it is unable to approve the award. The Freeman company has withdrawn its condition, demands the bonds and threatens suit if it does not receive them.

The Palmyra National Bank, it is understood, has already resold the bonds to Ristine and Co., of Philadelphia. The Borough faces suit from Freeman on one hand and possibly suit by the bank or by Ristine if it complies with Freeman's demands. And the cash is not likely to be available January 2.

No decision could be reached at the council meeting Tuesday evening and another was scheduled for this Wednesday evening, when further information on the matter was to be available.

A Bright and Happy New Year

Where Bad Boys Thrive

Bad boys are thickest where playgrounds are fewest.

At least, that is the case in Cincinnati, where a survey of every ward in the city shows that juvenile delinquency is highest where public playgrounds are lacking.

Court records show that in one case, covering a period of three years, delinquency was reduced more than 67 per cent after the opening of a playground in that neighborhood.

"Such evidence as this," says Hygeia, popular health magazine, in its April issue, "seems to prove that money expended on playgrounds will make many returns on the original investment, so far as it helps not only to prevent wrong doing, but also to create a better class of citizens."

If You Think It Is—It Is!

If a man thinks everyone is against him, he will soon begin to treat them so they will be. If he thinks everyone is his friend, he will treat them right, unconsciously, and they will soon be his friends. The man who lives his daily life according to this formula has in his makeup a spark of sound and true philosophy that will make his life brighter. If we put into all the relations with our fellows a full measure of friendliness and good will, we are pretty sure to get it back, full and overflowing. On the other hand, if a man is suspicious of everybody, everybody will be suspicious of him.

The world needs friendliness, and kindness and good will. Not Sunday only, but every day of the week, and every hour of the day. Think friendly thoughts. If you've got a soul, don't be ashamed of it. Bring it into the office with you. For the soul is the source and fountain-head of every good and worthy impulse. Put your faith in men. Believe they are your friends and they will be.—Kablegram

National Congress Withdraws from Film Committee

I desire to take this opportunity to inform you that in view of the continued release of films of undesirable character and of screen adaptations of books and plays unfit for general circulation, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers has withdrawn from membership in the Committee on Public Relations. This committee, of which Mr. Lee F. Hamner of the Russell Sage Foundation is Chairman, was organized by Mr. Will H. Hays with the avowed object of bringing public opinion to bear upon the motion picture producers to the end that high standards of film production might be reached and maintained. It is our belief that the effectiveness of this committee, which at first seemed to open the way to a solution of some problems, has been steadily decreasing, and that our organization is deriving no benefit from a co-operation which has ceased to operate, while our position as being apparently satisfied with its activities as now carried on subjects us to criticism in view of the standards of child welfare and of recreation which we endeavor to uphold.

National President

HORNED TOAD BIGGEST BLUFF

Swell Up and Squirt Blood From Its Eyes, but Is Said to Be Harmless.

Although the horned toad, specimens of which have recently reached this country, is one of the most repulsive and formidable-looking of all creatures, it is really quite harmless.

No animal is a more thorough "bluffer." It can inflate its skin to twice its normal size, presenting an appearance of extreme ferocity. When it is angry it hisses and rattles its tail, while it is further endowed with the astonishing gift of squirting blood from its eyes. Actually, however, the horned toad is incapable of inflicting injury as the ordinary garden frog.

Its ability to emit blood from its eyes without damage to those delicate organs has lately claimed the attention of scientists, who have discovered that the toad squirts blood as a safety valve ejects steam. When the creature is disturbed its blood pressure rises, filling with blood the tiny pockets round its eyes. As the pressure increases the walls of these pockets give way and the blood shoots forth, frightening away its enemy.

The blood is slightly acid and causes a certain amount of discomfort to the person or animal whose skin it touches. The horned toad can squirt its blood 15 inches at intervals of from one to two minutes, and has been known to repulse even rattlesnakes by this extraordinary means.—London Times

On the Kitchen Floor

Haven't got a lot o' things
Other folks has got.
Keeps a teller scrapin' too.
Kids need sech a lot.
Ain't no Oriental rugs
Stretchin' door to door;
But there's something twice as nice
On the kitchen floor!
Oh, there's something beautiful
Money can not buy.
Bound to bring me happiness
Till the day I die.
I kin spare the paintin's grand
That won't make me sore,
Jest as long as babies play
On the kitchen floor!
Sunshine streams through cotton drapes
Same as through the silk.
Gee, I'm lucky I kin buy
Lots o' food an' milk.
Haven't got the heart to kick—
Tof you that before—
Jest to healthy children play
On the kitchen floor!

in which it believes it is destined to play no inconsiderable part. During the three years it has been in operation the service it has been able to render in the transportation of the citizens of two great States has far exceeded the anticipation of those who conceived the idea of a ferry at this point, and, with the assistance of those living on both sides of the river, carried it to completion.

Improvements and additions are contemplated which will enable the ferry to render even more efficient service during the coming year.

The Philburco Bus Line has proven a most welcome and convenient means of reaching all parts of Philadelphia.

During December an average of 1300 passengers were carried daily, or a total of 37,000 for the month. Some months as many as 45,000 persons have been transported.

Inasmuch as facilities for safe and easy travel from one point to another among our fellowmen is one of the greatest agencies for the development of profitable business transactions and amicable and friendly social relations, the management of the ferry feels that it has the privilege of performing a valuable service, and the further extension of this capacity to serve is looked forward to with much pleasurable anticipation.

The Ferry Company holds it a privilege as well as a duty to do its full share in promoting all the good things for the coming year which it sincerely wishes for you, everyone.

MORE ROOM NEEDED IN RIVERTON SCHOOL

All Rooms Overcrowded. Pupils Facing Half Time Unless Relief Is Given Soon

The subject of greatest interest that came before the Riverton Board of Education at its January meeting Monday evening of this week was the necessity for providing additional school room. It was brought out that the seating capacity of the school is now taxed beyond its original requirements, and that immediate relief is necessary.

Miss Chew, supervising principal, read her report which was in part as follows:

Medical Cards
The medical cards were returned to the school by Dr. Rogers, and the notices calling attention to defects were sent home by the pupils. If response is not forthcoming from the home, another notice will be sent later on.

As the cards went out just before the holidays, it is too early to report on attention given to the first notice.

Christmas Activities
Christmas was the inspiration of the extra activities of the school, which culminated in a program given to the Parent-Teachers' Association, December 22nd. Six dozen Christmas stockings were made by the sewing classes and filled by the Junior Red Cross. The Colony at New Lisbon, thirty baskets filled with clothing, foodstuffs and toys for the Home Service Committee, Christmas Seals to the amount of $40.26 sold for the Tuberculosis League, and $25.00 sent to the Near East Relief. The following letter was received which you may be interested to hear:

Letter from Near East Relief
December 29th, 1924.
Miss Harriet L. Parker, Treas.
Riverton Public School Jr. Red Cross.
Riverton, N. J.
Dear Friends:

We appreciate your contribution of $25.00 toward the support of the work of the Near East Relief.

I wish you could have been with me, my good friends, at Alexandropolis where is located the largest orphanage in the world. When I was there, there were 2500 children, and if you could have stood with me, as I did on a stepple of one of the buildings, you would have seen these children pouring out from the orphanages and assembling, and for a few minutes as they stood there, you could hardly know that below you were these children. They were standing still waiting for the bugle call, and as the bugle call was heard, one could hear the song which they sang in English as though they were born here.

I could hardly realize that I was six thousand miles away from home, and yet these children who were saved by America from starvation could sing the songs in English as though they were born here.

These children depend entirely upon us, and I am sure that you fully realize what your contribution means to these children. It means life itself.

Nations cannot change unless the individual changes, and so as you and I follow the Golden Rule and practice it, our own lives are bound to reflect upon the lives of others.

May I take this occasion to thank you, my good friends, for this manifestation of the true idealism of America.

Very Sincerely Yours,
Julian Zelchenko,
State Secretary.

This work was done without interfering with the regular school program, in which no changes were made until the last two days before dismissal for the holidays.

New Pictures Placed
The pictures obtained from the proceeds of the Elson Art Exhibit are assembled for your inspection, and are to be hung as follows:

Kindergarten, "The Angel and the Lute," Carpaccio; Grade 1, "The Shepherdess," Lerolle; Grade 2, "The Age of Innocence," Sir Joshua Reynolds; Grade 3, "The Coming of the White Man," G. A. Reid; Grade 4, "The Indian and the Lily," George DeForest Brush; Grade 5, "The Boyhood of Raleigh," Millais; Grade 6, "The Statue," R. Kinsling; Grade 7, "The Mayflower," Johnson; Grade 7b, "Colombo Breakwater," "Concord Bridge," Grade 8, "Cloister of St. John," Lateran; Office, "St. Anthony of Padua," Murillo.

We have reached a place where expansion is physically impossible. All children cannot advance at the same rate. In the last four years every child in Riverton school has had equal opportunity to advance, but the range of ability is wide, and where a few children are able to finish the grades in less than eight years after Kindergarten, and many to advance steadily year by year, there will always be a number who must go more slowly.

There are 35 pupils enrolled in our 8th Grade, 37 in the 7th, 39 in the 6th, 36 in the 5th, 40 in both 4th and 3rd, 36 in 2nd, and 48 in 1st, while the Kindergarten, with 41 students, will enroll 2 more tomorrow, and possibly more during the week.

All Grades Overcrowded
We are facing over-crowding in some grades next September. The first grade is overcrowded this year, and when the large class in the Kindergarten moves forward, boys first and second grades will be overcrowded, and there will be no place for the over-flow. If we continue to take in more children in the grades above, the same condition will prevail throughout the school.

I would ask therefore that this question be carefully considered before we have to follow the example of our neighbors and have classes on part time.

Announcement was made that the annual school meeting will be held Tuesday, February 10th, at which time the budget for the coming year will be voted on and three members of the board elected. The members whose terms expire this year are J. W. Sylvester, George H. Baker and Fred F. Hemphill.

A budget committee was appointed and a meeting will be held on January 27th to consider its report.

Permission was granted Franklin

P. States, who has recently moved from Fram Collinswood, to attend the conference of Superintendents and Supervisors to be held at Atlantic City Thursday and Friday, January 15th and 16th. Miss Chew will be one of the speakers and her subject will be "Is There a Need for Cooperation with Organizations for Better Health?" Another speaker will be Edgar F. Bunce, supervisor of Mount Holly schools, who will talk on "What the Teachers Are Doing to Promote Better English."

Palmyra's Mayor Announces No Permits Will Be Issued For These Affairs in Future

Palmyra Borough Council reorganized for 1925 on New Year's Day. Mayor Warrant addressed the councilmen and visitors, expressing his appreciation for the good work done during the year and the cooperation given by the officials of the Borough.

The Mayor's outstanding announcement was that there would be no more carnivals in Palmyra. Instructions were given the police that no licenses for such purposes would be issued hereafter.

Councilman Joseph A. Davis, whose term expired with the old year and who ran twice for reelection last election, being defeated each time, is now assured of two more years in Borough Council. The removal of Councilman John S. Warrant to Riverton resulted in his resignation last week and Mr. Davis was appointed to fill his unexpired term.

Julius R. Fisher, the new member of council who was elected last fall, was sworn in by Clerk Spencer.

George J. Spencer, re-elected clerk last fall, was sworn in by Councilman Wimer, and the clerk then administered the oath of office to all the other newly-elected officials.

The following appointments were made for the year 1925:

President of Council, J. Edwin Lees.

SCHOOLS REOPEN
Coach Morse Issues Call for Track Candidates

The Palmyra schools opened with full force Monday morning after almost two weeks vacation.

To start the new year off right, Coach Morse issued a call for track candidates to start the indoor practice in preparation for a number of indoor meets which are scheduled in February. A squad of more than twenty reported. It included Harris Sacks, 1925 track captain and last year's premier honor winner; Wood and Reahn, both bright lights on the cinder path last season.

The prospects for big things from Reahn are exceptionally good. He was a new man on the squad last year, but was soon finishing with honors.

Harold B. ("Boots") Lever, 1923 Penn track captain, will do the major part of the coaching. Boots has excellent material this season and is expected to turn out a record-breaker for Palmyra High.

The basketball teams are beginning practice in earnest to get in shape for a big season. The season opens on the home court with a double header. The boys' and girls' teams will meet the Langhorne, Pa. high squads in the initial contest Wednesday afternoon, January 14.

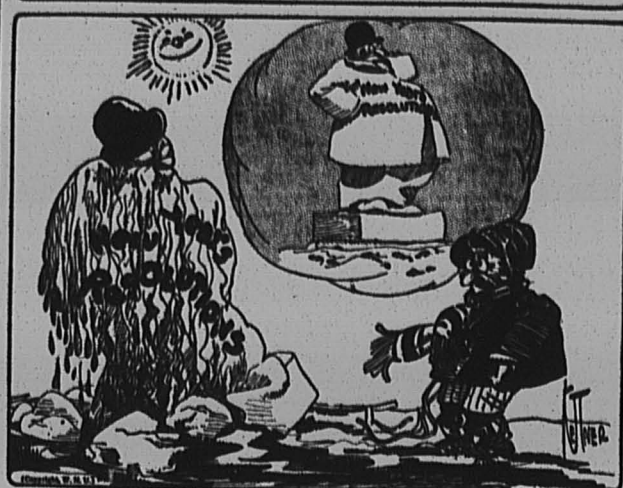

Several improvements were made in the gymnasium during the holidays.

Girl Reserves
The weekly meeting of the Girl Reserves was held on January 5th, in the parish house. First were the devotional services and then the business matters were transacted. The remainder of the evening was spent in planning a program for each week. The meetings have been planned for a good time, so as to get all the members to come each week.

The election of our new officers for this year will be January 26th, and following this election will be a candle light celebration. All members come if you want your share in the election.

ESTHER YARDLEY,

MORE DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Commissioner Dill Urges Local Chiefs of Police to Help Check Increase

Trenton. — Drunken driving shows an astounding increase in 1924, as reported by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill to all police chiefs of New Jersey asking co-operation in checking the evil. The same notice sets forth the regulations governing the use of 1925 license plates and requests the aid of the police in this connection.

"Every imaginable scheme has been resorted to to thwart the administration of justice in the matter of prosecution of intoxicated automobile drivers," says Mr. Dill. "Where a doctor is called upon to examine an intoxicated person it is, of course, essential that the doctor immediately issue a certificate setting forth the condition of the prisoner as disclosed by the examination. This certificate, however, is not accepted by the trial court in lieu of the presence of the physician at the trial. In other words, in addition to the certificate, which becomes an exhibit at the trial, the doctor should in all cases be subpoenaed."

The necessity of all motor vehicle restrictions being observed is emphasized, asserts Mr. Dill, by the fact that registrations during the past year have been increased by approximately 80,000 cars and 80,000 additional drivers. Only through a rigid compliance with the law, he declares, can highway congestion be limited and a reduction effected in the number of automobile fatalities.

No Special Privileges
In no instance, it is added, are motorists to be allowed special privileges. All violators are to be punished to the fullest extent. The statement of Mr. Dill to the police on this point reads:

"There is an impression in the minds of some of our people that a low number registration is a license to violate the law and to demand special privileges. Let me impress upon you that every motorist, regardless of his or her registration number, should be punished if they violate our laws, and I want no courteous extended to holders of low registration numbers that you would not extend to every other motorist."

In asking a strict enforcement of the statute regulating the use of new tags, Mr. Dill suggests that the police likewise give heed to the requirement that all plates be so placed that they can readily be deciphered. This suggestion is intended to eliminate the practice of many motorists in obscuring the numerals by bumpers, tire racks, etc.

NEW YEAR'S DANCE SUCCESS
1925 Royally Welcomed by Celebrators at P. O. S. of A. Hall

The Tau Sigma Kappa's New Year's Eve dance given in the P. O. S. of A. Hall was well attended and proved to be a rousing success.

A real spirited crowd was on hand for a big New Year's celebration and helped to make the affair one of the jolliest given in the town for many months. The music, which was furnished by the Royal Orchestra, Palmyra's own, was exceptionally fine and the boys won a big hand every dance.

Neither pains nor expense were spared to make the hop the huge success it was, and just prior to the jolliest hour of midnight when good old '24 went out and the youngster '25 appeared, paper hats, whistles, horns, confetti, and serpentine, were given the celebrators.

There may have been whistles and other noise makers sounded in the town, but no one in the hall heard them, for the racket created by the dancers made it impossible to even hear the orchestra when it attempted to play fifteen minutes later.

The lucky number dance was won by Charles Hahn and Fred Fier danced off with the prize in the spot dance.

The wonderful music, many novelties, dancing until 1 o'clock and attractive decorations all helped to make this affair such a popular and much talked of hop.

Thank You!
The Board of Managers of the Cinnaminson Home wished to thank the citizens of Riverton for the very generous contribution received from them through the Community Chest Collection.

VOLUNTEERS REMOVE SNOW

Highway Department Unable to Secure Labor, Mayor Calls for Squad of Volunteer Shovelers

When Mayor William E. Bennett arrived in town Saturday he found the streets filled with slush and water and many of the crossings impassable owing to flooded gutters. Conditions were particularly bad around the railroad station. His honor called upon the highway department and learned that the chief of that department, William B. Lynch, and Robert Clelland, supervisor of streets, had tried all day to get laborers to work on the streets, without much success. Clelland had donned rubber boots and with the few men he could muster, tackled the mass and managed to clear some of the street crossings, but could make no headway with the slush which flooded the streets from curb to curb.

The mayor, realizing that some unusual means would have to be adopted to clear the streets, decided to call for a volunteer shovel squad to help the highway department in its dilemma. The response was instantaneous. Councilmen, business men and just plain citizens of the home garden variety turned out to help the highway department. In less than two hours had the plaza in front of the station in pretty good shape. When a halt was called by Highway Chief Lynch and Street Supervisor Clelland, under whose direction the work was done, homemade doughnuts and hot coffee were served at the fire house. The coffee was provided by the Mayor and made by Officer Walter G. Miller, the chief who prepares the "cats" for the little blow-outs the firemen have once a month. The doughnuts were provided by another citizen.

Among those who responded to the Mayor's call for volunteers were: Chief of Police, C. Morris Beck; Ex-Sheriff Edward H. Flagg, Jr.; G. Rex Shovel, president of Council; D. M. Clifton, borough clerk; Herbert Evans, borough collector and treasurer; Ex-Councilman Robert W. Knight; Chief of Police, Frank Holvick; and Charles Lemmon, a constable from Cinnaminson township, who were standing nearby, to assist him.

It took the combined efforts of the four men and Miller was obliged to use his black jack on Payton before he could be landed in the lockup. A physician was called to examine the prisoners and pronounced Payton to be intoxicated. Charles, the doctor said, had been drinking, but was not in such bad condition.

That night Mayor Bennett held court in the fire house. No charge was made against Charles, who had offered no resistance. Against Payton Officer Miller preferred a charge of disorderly conduct and the mayor discharged him without a fine, on the payment of costs amounting to $6.25.

SYRIAN LECTURER
Madam Barakat to Speak at Epworth Methodist Church

Madam Layyah A. Barakat, the noted lecturer on the Holy Land and a native of Syria is to speak at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church at ten thirty and at the Sunday School session at two-thirty.

Madam Barakat escaped years ago from a massacre in Egypt. Since coming to this country she has devoted her life to the promotion of Christianity. She gives first hand information about conditions in this most interesting section of the world. Her talks are illustrated by many objects brought with her from the Near East.

In the morning the topic will be, "The Reality of a Forty Year Dream." In the afternoon in a vivid way Madam Barakat will tell of the privations and suffering she encountered in escaping from Egypt and coming to America.

This is an unusual opportunity to hear a wonderful speaker. A cordial invitation is extended to all who can attend.

The evening at seven o'clock the Epworth League will have its devotional meeting. The leader is Miss Rae Green and the topic, "New Minds in an Old World." The intermediates also meet at the same hour for their devotional meeting.

At 7:45 the service will begin by the singing of some of the great hymns of the church. The pastor will preach on, "The Church in the World Today." This service will be of special interest to men. The Wesleyan Men's Bible Class has been invited to attend in a body.

DRIVER ESCAPES PENALTY
Resists Arrest and Officer Uses Black Jack—Released on Payment of Costs

On New Year's afternoon Payton Gray and his brother Charles, colored, both of West Palmyra, were arrested by Officer Walter G. Miller. They passed the semaphore at Broad and Main streets at too great a speed. When they returned, in response to the officer's whistle, some words were exchanged and Miller undertook to place them under arrest. Payton resisted and the officer called on Ex-Chief of Police, Frank Holvick, and Charles Lemmon, a constable from Cinnaminson township, who were standing nearby, to assist him.

It took the combined efforts of the four men and Miller was obliged to use his black jack on Payton before he could be landed in the lockup. A physician was called to examine the prisoners and pronounced Payton to be intoxicated. Charles, the doctor said, had been drinking, but was not in such bad condition.

That night Mayor Bennett held court in the fire house. No charge was made against Charles, who had offered no resistance. Against Payton Officer Miller preferred a charge of disorderly conduct and the mayor discharged him without a fine, on the payment of costs amounting to $6.25.

NO PENALTY PROVIDED
Joker in New Jersey Law Forbidding Employment of Women Omits Punishment for Offense

A joker has been found in the law prohibiting night work for women in industrial plants, laundries and bakeries, which went into effect December 31. Although the act states that women are barred from working at night in these places, there is nothing in the act to provide a fine or a penalty for violation. The original act contained a fine of $200 for the first offense. A supplemental act was passed by the Legislature of 1923, but it failed to provide a maximum or minimum penalty.

State Labor Commissioner McBride has asked Attorney General Katzenbach for an opinion as to the operation of the new law. While the act has gone in to effect, it is impossible to penalize violators. The act was backed by the leading Republican women of the state.

The New Jersey manufacturers say they will have the act repealed because it is unconstitutional. A movement is being started to have the Supreme Court pass on its constitutionality.

Dog Licenses for 1925 Are Now Here
Owners of dogs are required by law to register all dogs running at large. Failure to do so may cause the loss of a valued pet. Register and obtain your dog tag from the Borough Clerk, Daniel M. Clifton. Cost $1.00.

Better Milk at Beverly
The city of Beverly, Burlington County, has joined the "Better Milk" communities of New Jersey, by adopting a model health ordinance, governing the grades of milk that can be sold in that town. This ordinance follows the specifications adopted in numerous other communities, where the campaign for a safe and sanitary milk supply has materialized into city ordinances. The aim of such ordinances is to eliminate numerous confusing grades and to protect both the public and the honest dealer. "Women's clubs, health departments and county farm agents have aided in procuring the protective legislation in several counties."

It is understood that steps have been taken by the Riverton Board of Health looking toward the passage of a similar ordinance here, and with an increasing number of towns adopting such ordinances, it will probably be necessary to soon have a county inspector to see that these laws are enforced.

PALMYRA MAN NOW HEAD OF FREEHOLDERS

George W. Rogers Raised to Chairmanship of County Board. Harmony Now Said to Prevail

The re-organization of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders took place at Mount Holly on Friday, January 3rd, along the same lines as forecast in this paper last week.

George W. Rogers, of Palmyra, became director of the Board, thus being elevated to one of the most influential political offices in the county. In addition he was made director of finance, one of the important divisions of the Board's duties. Rogers was nominated for that position by J. Lloyd Wright, and was elected to the duty by Freeholders Wright and Lippincott, after his unanimous election. In his speech of acceptance, Director Rogers felicitated his fellow members on the new condition of harmony and expressed hope that director of roads, one of the more important freeholder jobs, when the division of duties was made last Friday. It had been forecast that he would be "demoted" to director of bridges, one of the lesser positions.

Lippincott was made director of county buildings, Wright director of bridges and Russ director of public welfare, which is said to be the least important of the freeholder jobs.

At the conclusion of the organization Dr. Emile P. Darlington, of New Lisbon, was reappointed a member of the board of managers of the Tuberculosis Hospital. The other members are Charles E. Jones, of Vincentown; Dr. Elmer D. Pickett, of Mount Holly; Dr. David Baird, Jr., of Florence; and Warren C. Pine, of Riverside.

George T. Williams, of Burlington, Dr. Robert W. Carter, Mount Holly; Joseph S. Bright, Riverside, and J. Lloyd Wright, Medford were re-appointed sinking fund commissioners. Another re-appointment was that of Mrs. Mary R. Wood, of Riverton, as a county library commissioner. The other members are Miss Sarah Budd, Mount Holly; Mrs. Alice Morris, Bordentown; Mrs. Helen R. Bishop, of Columbus; Mrs. Ann Collins, of Moorestown.

County Budget Increased
The hearing on the County budget, will take place in the hotel room at Mount Holly next Tuesday, the 13th. The amount of the budget this year is $1,054,710.00, as against $1,007,774.11 last year.

The amount to be raised by taxes is $703,210.04, while last year it was $657,978.11.

The anticipated revenues this year will total $351,500. Last year the total was $349,796.

There are several increases in expenses. One is due to a new clerk found necessary in the county clerk's office owing to increase of business in this department. Salaries this year will amount to $106,530, while last year it was $102,310.

The library will get $1,500 this year, the increase of $1,000 being provided for by law.

Repairs to public highways are expected to cost more, but the appropriation for bridges will remain the same. The cost of caring for the court house and grounds are listed showing $3,500, an increase of $1,000. The county almshouse, the insane asylum and the Burlington County Tuberculosis Hospital all show increased costs. Elections are listed for a decrease of $4,000. Last year the cost was $38,000. Keeping patients in State institutions will also be more expensive. This year the total is listed at $20,000, while last year it was $4,000 less. The appropriation for the Burlington County Hospital is cut from $13,000 to $12,000.

Freeholders Lippincott and Wright were appointed a committee to prepare rules and present them at the next meeting.

The hour for the weekly meetings hereafter will be eleven o'clock, this being changed from ten o'clock to give the Freeholders a chance to look over their affairs before the public sessions.

Proposed New Rates of Postage
The increase in postal rates recommended to Congress this week by Postmaster General New, to yield additional revenue of $6,750,000 a year for increases to postal employees, would include:

Price of post cards, one and one-half cents instead of one cent.
Parcel post rate increases an average about two cents a package on all zones.

Rates on circulars and direct mail advertising, one and one-half cents for each two ounces instead of one cent.

Registered letter rate, fifteen cents instead of ten.

Rates on newspapers and periodicals under the new schedule would be about double the present rates. The rate, The American Newspaper Publishers' Association says, would absolutely forbid daily papers going through the mail.

A Broader Broad Street by July, 1926

The regular meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held Tuesday, January 13th, at Society Hall.

In the interests of the Boy Scouts, Clayton Hunsicker will address this meeting and R. V. Anderson, Regional Scout Executive, will also be present.

The election of officers for 1925 will take place at this meeting. As all members are vitally interested in both the election and the future citizens of the country a large attendance is expected. An invitation is extended to all residents of the Borough whether members or not to attend this meeting and learn about the Boy Scout work and future plans for that organization.

A WORD OF APPRECIATION

Phew! That's over—and with the first full breath which the editor has had time to draw since the holiday rush began, he wishes to express his sincere appreciation of the many favors and kindnesses that have been shown him during the past year. He has found Riverton a good place in which to live. Business has been good, and the fine courtesy and consideration of those with whom he has dealt has made the doing of it a real pleasure. The editor is not a Pollyanna—there have, of course, been incidents which were not altogether happy—but they were so few—and so comparatively unimportant—that they only served to increase his appreciation of the many fine things that came his way.

It is with unlimited confidence in Riverton and its future that we greet the new year.

JUSTICE TOO WELL TEMPERED WITH MERCY

On New Year's Day a car passed the semaphore at Broad and Main streets at a speed considered excessive by the officer on duty, who blew his whistle. The car came back, and one of the occupants (there were two in the car) when cautioned about exceeding the speed limit is said to have made an insulting remark to the officer. Words followed, and an attempt was made to arrest the offender. Before the arrest was accomplished, three citizens were called on for assistance, and the officer had to use his black jack. Both men seemed to have been drinking. In order to make sure, a physician was called in. He pronounced the man intoxicated who had been driving the car.

Three charges could have been preferred against this man—disorderly conduct, the maximum penalty for which is a fine of $200; resisting an officer which is punishable by a fine or jail sentence, and driving a car while intoxicated, which carries a sentence of from one to six months in jail, and revocation of license.

The case was heard before the Mayor.

The officer who made the arrest preferred but one charge—the least serious—that of disorderly conduct.

No fine or other penalty was imposed and he was discharged on the payment of costs.

The chief function of government is to safeguard life and property.

If these fundamental rights are not assured, government fails.

The people have a right to expect that laws will be enforced.

Policemen are sworn to perform the duties of their office. It is not optional with them whether or not they will make charges against those whom they arrest. Under the law they are required to present to the court all the evidence they have, and to make against the prisoner such charge as is warranted by that evidence. A policeman who does less than this is liable to indictment for malfeasance in office.

The plea that "it was New Year's Day" carries no weight. If this man had struck and killed someone, the victim would have been just as dead as though it had occurred on January 2 or any other date. The State Legislature considers driving a car while intoxicated so serious an offense that the minimum penalty has been made a jail sentence.

In this case justice was too well tempered with mercy.

TO SAFEGUARD RIVERTON'S MILK SUPPLY

The Riverton Board of Health is to be complimented on having taken steps looking to the protection of Riverton's milk supply. It is understood that this body is considering the passage of an ordinance requiring that all milk sold in Riverton shall not only come from tuberculin tested cows, but that it shall be handled in a cleanly and sanitary manner from farm to kitchen. This movement in no way reflects on the local dealers, but local dealers have no control over the source of supply. The importance of having cows tuberculin tested is apparent when it is remembered that 30% of tuberculosis in children is due to the use of milk from cows not tuberculin tested.

LAW AND ORDER WINS IN PALMYRA

On New Year's Day Mayor Weart, of the Borough of Palmyra, announced that no more licenses would be issued for bazaars. While George N. Wimer, at that time chairman of the police committee, was not supported by the Mayor last fall when he attempted to prevent games of chance being run at the firemen's carnival, it would seem that the seed of civic righteousness he sowed by the stand he took, is beginning to bear fruit.

Senator Roberts said at a Law Enforcement meeting in Palmyra some months ago, that Palmyra would be just as good as its citizens wanted it to be—and no better. The citizens of our neighboring Borough are evidently determined that Palmyra shall line up with the forces of law and order.

—When Albert Hawkins returned home from a party at 145 New Year's morning, he found an attempt had been made to force open a window in the living room. He notified the police department and both Officers Quigley and Miller responded to his call. No trace could be found of the would-be intruders. It was reported the following morning that two colored men had been seen attempting to break up another man on the River Bank but were scared off by an approaching automobile.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Citizens of Riverton:

I desire to express my sincere thanks to those who showed their confidence in me by requesting me not to resign as a member of the Borough Council, and by signing a petition to that effect, and also to those who stood by me in my fight for that which I believed to be right.

I am still a citizen of Riverton, with its best interests at heart, but under existing conditions I believe I can be of more help outside of Council than as a member of that body.

Sincerely,

JOHN C. GEISS.

KELSEY PROBE BEGUN

Burlington County Prosecutor Loses All Authority

At the request of Supreme Court Justice Lloyd, Attorney General Katoenbach on Wednesday took over all the duties of the Burlington County Prosecutor's office.

Theodore Baches, of Trenton, an assistant Attorney General, was assigned to take over Kelsey's office.

Proble has been brewing about Prosecutor Jonathan Kelsey's head for some time, there having been several instances during his ten years as prosecutor when the manner in which his office handled cases aroused considerable criticism.

Failure to convict four bandits recently led to direct charges that Kelsey was negligent and inefficient, and an investigation has now been started by the state.

That which constitutes the supreme worth of life is not wealth, nor position, nor ease, nor fame, nor even happiness; but service. Nothing at last counts but service, and that counts always.—Alfred W. Martin.

Edward Bowers, of Riverton, was arrested in Camden New Year's morning about one o'clock, and given a hearing before Judge Cleary, charged with driving a car while intoxicated. He was sentenced to thirty days in jail but an appeal was taken and he was liberated under $500 bail furnished by Frank A. Snover, of Palmyra. The immediate cause of his arrest was the fact that he ran into a traffic sign. Bowers and those who were with him claim that he was not intoxicated. One of the evidences of his alleged intoxication, pointed out by the officer who arrested him, was the manner in which he walked, but Bowers said that his peculiar gait was caused by an injury to his knee while playing football sometime ago. He explains striking the traffic sign by saying that he had just leaned over to pick up his cap, which had fallen to the floor of the car and did not see the sign.

The immediate cause of his arrest was the fact that he ran into a traffic sign. Bowers and those who were with him claim that he was not intoxicated. One of the evidences of his alleged intoxication, pointed out by the officer who arrested him, was the manner in which he walked, but Bowers said that his peculiar gait was caused by an injury to his knee while playing football sometime ago. He explains striking the traffic sign by saying that he had just leaned over to pick up his cap, which had fallen to the floor of the car and did not see the sign.

Failure to convict four bandits recently led to direct charges that Kelsey was negligent and inefficient, and an investigation has now been started by the state.

Edward Bowers, of Riverton, was arrested in Camden New Year's morning about one o'clock, and given a hearing before Judge Cleary, charged with driving a car while intoxicated. He was sentenced to thirty days in jail but an appeal was taken and he was liberated under $500 bail furnished by Frank A. Snover, of Palmyra. ## WISDOM CLOTHES FOR GIRLS TIDE OVER THE AWKWARD AGE

"DIFFICULT" and even "awkward," have been applied to the age of the young miss who has passed eleven and is still on her way to seventeen, and sometimes "difficult," at least, is merited. But those who make it a business to create clothes for the young have turned out such winsome things for this between-times period that charm replaces awkwardness and difficulties disappear.

To begin at the beginning, they start out with carefully selected patterns in popular materials. This season they are giving much attention to plain and striped flannels, twills, velveteen, velvet and many dependable woollens. After fabric they consider color, which must contribute a cheerful note to the little girl's winter garb. Girls in many color combinations, red and gold (or silver) embroidery on dark, plain backgrounds, and other colorful embroideries, sparingly used, tone up the day frocks. The elements of neatness and, above all, simplicity are never forgotten when children's clothes are considered. Collars and cuffs which may be kept fresh are everywhere present.

Simple one-piece straight dresses in brilliant plaids usually fasten to one side and are bound at the edges with black braid. Narrow black leather belts are worn with them. Plain skirts with plain bodices worn with velvet jackets make a fine combination for girls in their teens and plain, round linen collars contribute the neck treatment. On younger girls flaring skirts of velveteen, buttoned to long blouses of colored linen (finished with collar in the same material) are found to be becoming. Plain straight overblouses, in many patterns and cheerful colors, like the one pictured, vary the wardrobe of Miss Earlyteens and are worn with linen collars and cuffs as a finish.

GOOD THINGS YOU WILL ENJOY

In one of the attractive spots in Philadelphia there is served an unusual dish which is not only beautiful but tasty.

It is:
Jellied Eggs.—Prepare a quart of lemon jelly, using only one-quarter of a cup of sugar and a dash of cayenne and paprika. While the jelly is cooling cut six hard-boiled eggs into rings, slice one small bottle of olives, one or two pimientos, and four slices of pineapple cut into strips or ornamental pieces. As soon as the jelly begins to stiffen arrange the eggs and other things in layers in a mold and the thickening jelly around them. Set away to become firm and serve sliced on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing.

Peach Fancy.—Take one cupful of shortening, two cupfuls of sugar, three eggs, one-half teaspoonful of salt, three-fourths of a cupful of milk, three cupfuls of pastry flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and one teaspoonful of vanilla. Bake in a sheet or in individual layer cake pans.

Cook together over hot water, one cupful of milk, one-half cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, and when well cooked add two well-beaten egg yolks, and one tablespoonful of butter. Return to the fire and cook a few minutes longer. When cool spread over the cakes, flavor delicately with vanilla. Beat the whites of the eggs very stiff, add one-half cupful of powdered sugar and beat again. Flavor and spread over the filling, then brown lightly in the oven. Cool the cakes, top with whipped cream unsweetened and garnished with sliced peaches. If the cake is baked in a sheet it is cut into rounds.

Cornflake Macaroons.—Cream one-half cupful of butter, add two cupfuls of brown sugar and one well-beaten egg; whip until creamy. Chop one cupful of walnut meats coarsely, mix them with one cupful of coconut; combine with the sugar mixture and quickly mix. In little heaps on a greased baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven six to eight minutes. Put together in pairs as soon as finished and serve cold.

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "Horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white squares up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "Vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares in the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

HOW TO MAKE LOVE

AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE
(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

JOHN FISKE AND ABBY BROOKES

THE American historian and philosopher, John Fiske, was a rather bashful lover and when he met the girl of his heart his first proceeding was to ask her permission to write to her. This being decided on we have the following letter addressed by Fiske to Miss Abby Brookes:

"Nothing almost compels me to write this, though I readily imagine how assuming I may appear in doing so. But I can sincerely say that were the state of things now to exist, of which we read in the fairy fables, and were some beneficent genius to ask me what boon of all I would have chosen, I should at once answer this: that you might deign to bestow upon me the favor, for which I have just asked (permission to write). Should you think best to refuse this request, I beg you to think no more of it."

Miss Brookes consented, and later consented to a greater favor asked by John Fiske. They lived happily ever after, so happy that Fiske could send a letter like the one below, after eleven years of married life:

"Eleven years ago was the day I asked you to write to me up at Peterham. Oh, if only we were in Peterham now (dearest spot on earth) with our precious little flock! I am aton with homeliness and think I can ever see New England again. I shall be content never to travel at all. I once every year from Peterham a drunken craves his liquor and the kindest thing you can do for me will be to write a little almost every day, even if it is only half a page, so that on my way an envelope directed by you will find its way to me."

Copper Used in One Year by Two New Jersey Utilities Would Link Atlantic to Pacific

Six million pounds of copper, sufficient in quantity, if reduced to the size of ordinary trolley wire, to make a rope of copper long enough to stretch entirely across the United States from the Atlantic to the Pacific. That is the approximate amount of copper bought every year by Public Service Electric and Gas Company and Public Service Railway Company. Copper, on account of its high electrical conductivity, its tensile strength and the ease with which it may be worked, is used extensively in electrical and mechanical apparatus. Most of the copper Public Service buys from various American firms is mined in the United States, principally in Montana, but some of it is mined in Chile. The copper is received at the fifteen store-rooms in reels and coils. The reels, encased in wooden frames, are of various sizes and weigh from 250 to 3,000 pounds; the coils weigh 250 pounds each. The electric department uses copper in various forms of substitution work and in underground and overhead wiring. The Railway Company buys annually approximately one-fifth as much copper as the Electric and Gas Company has a multitude of uses for it in addition to trolley wire. The Railway Company uses it in cables, track bonds, signals, armatures, motor parts, switches, castings, sleeves and in numerous other ways.

MAKING GOOD IN A SMALL TOWN

THE WOMAN WHO SEWS

ARE you "handy with the needle?" For the woman who is, but who finds general dressmaking wearisome, with its demands that she adapt herself to the varying moods of her customers, there are many less exacting and more lucrative side lines and specialties.

"Most every woman likes to sew for little babies," declares one woman who has chosen to do so, "and the making of layettes is a well-paying business. I believe in giving the customer a chance to help, if she wants to, for often she, too, likes to have just a hand in making the little garments."

It is a good plan for the layette-maker to avoid confusion by standardizing her business, making, say, three different types of outfits. She could have their descriptions printed on correspondence cards, to send in answer to inquiries and to insert in some well-known local paper or woman's publication. The cards might read something like this: Number one—a cheap outfit, durable and well-made, but very plain; Number two—a medium priced outfit, made like number one, but with lace and little tucks; Number three—an elaborate outfit, made from an extra fine quality of goods and hand embroidered. The woman who is "handy with the needle" might make small boys' suits her long suit. Handwork, desirable on many types of wearing apparel, is particularly apposite here. In fact, the woman who can do handwork is lucky, whatever her specialty. She can make an excellent income embroidering bedspreads, dresser scarves, table-runners, tablecloths, napkins and centerpieces. At Christmas time she will be able to use the small pieces of left-over flannels for dollies, pin-cushions and couch-cushions. She might embroider some of these, and simply crochet a pretty edge on others. A "make-over" shop is usually more profitable than a regular dressmaking establishment. The proprietress may buy old clothes of good materials, too worn-out than out-of-date. These may be cut down, combined if necessary, and made over into up-to-date models. The public mender, darning and sewer-on-of-buttons, too, is almost sure to "make good" financially. In any of these projects, a little advertising at the beginning through newspapers and personal communication will help. But the woman, who sews—and specializes—need not worry about the market.

WHY PAT WORE THE VICTORIA CROSS

"In Memory of Pat" we read on one of the miniature gravestones of the Regimental Pals' cemetery at the castle in Edinburgh, Scotland. The guide told us this story about the dog:

"When trouble arose between the British and Afghans in India, Sergeant Tim MacPherson and his dog Pat went with the Seventy-second Highlanders. In a fight before Candahar, Tim was hearing the colors of his regiment, when a bullet struck his right hand. He had barely time to seize the staff of his flag with the wounded hand, and to grasp his sword with the left, when a powerful Afghan rushed upon him to capture his flag and had raised his sharp teeth for the fatal blow, when Pat rushed at him and made his sharp teeth meet in the bare leg of the enemy. The Afghan missed his blow at the soldier, and turned in fury on his smaller assailant. The dog lunged on through wounded, until his leg was laid low by a chance bullet. Tim's strength was failing, but he made a last effort to reach his officer's side with his colors, and in spite of his wounds he carried them off safely, then fell unconscious.

"Next morning he was awakened by the doctor and found a muddy looking bundle by his bed: 'Why, it is Pat,' he exclaimed. 'Do for him first, doctor; but for him I should be lying out yonder; it was he who saved the flag.' Tim and his dog both recovered and the sergeant, when telling this story always wound up by saying: 'If I ever get home again and hold the Victoria Cross you are all talking about, Pat shall have a share in the honor. For four and twenty hours he shall wear it in the streets of Edinburgh hanging from his collar.' And Tim kept his word."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
By MARY GRAHAM BONNER
THE GROWING CITY
"I'm tired," said the city, "and discouraged."
"What's the trouble?" asked the Queen of the Fairies as she perched upon one of the high buildings.
"Oh, it is hard," said the city, "to be a city. You never seem to please anyone."
"They build you up and tear you down and change you about until you are worn out."
"Oh, but they do like you, City. I know they do," the Queen of the Fairies said.

awhile. I feel so like a child during the ages when he or she is growing so very fast.

"I feel as though they were constantly letting down my skirts, or taking something over again for me. And I will not have any change of my own, any particular attractiveness of my own, if I have to be rushed so."

"Now there was a lovely building down one of the streets and it would always have been beautiful to see. "I was very fond of that building. It was a 'touch' to my city costume that I liked immensely. "But they tore it down—or partly tore it down. They did enough to it so that none of its beauty was left. And they changed it all about—did horrible things to it. And that was one of my very best buildings."

"What's the Trouble," Asked the Queen.

"And it does tire me so. Of course I am growing, and of course my city limits are being stretched and added to, all the time. "But when they destroy what few beautiful old (old to me, at any rate) landmarks I have, I feel so sad. "I feel so weary then. "I feel like giving up the whole job of being a city and moving out to the country myself. I feel as though I could just let them shift for themselves, so that it would be neither city nor country."

"But I suppose I'll keep on being a city, though it is a rushing, hard life at times. "Particularly when they won't let me have nice manners. They will pull me down and build me up and make me appear awkward and ill at ease. "I appear awkward and ill at ease then. "Oh, I am so very tired. "And the city sighed a great sigh. "Poor City," said the Queen of the Fairies. "Don't sigh. So many love you, so many love to poke through your queer, dear, different streets. "So many love to wander all about you, to know you well, they say. "You are growing still. You must be patient for a time. For you're having growing cities and pains now. ## IT SNOWED

Streets All Over Town Nearly Impassable

Yes, it snowed in Palmyra last Friday just the same as it did in every other city, town and hamlet in this section of the country. And our streets and crossings were flooded the same as they were everywhere else.

None of us like to "slap" about in the slush, go over our shoe tops and have wet feet, but it seemed almost impossible to avert this minor disaster unless the pedestrian wore boots. T. Winfield Land, overseer of the Palmyra streets, and his force were on the job before the snow stopped falling and kept at it until Tuesday of this week.

Three pavement scrapers and six men were used Friday night. Six men were hard at work cleaning the crossings Saturday, the force was increased to seven men Sunday and eleven Monday. In addition to the force, a truck was used in hauling the snow away.

While an attempt was made to clean out all of the crossings about town, much of the time and force was needed to keep Broad street in a passable condition.

Chief of Police C. Morris Beck also got out his shovel and worked like a Trojan at the job.

Sunday it was necessary for the police department to hire two special officers to notify local residents to clean their pavements.

The police will now take the names of all persons who have not yet cleaned off their sidewalks and they will be proceeded against before Justice Fichter.

1,087,859 votes cast for Presidential Electors.

27,520 voters, or 2.46% of the total who went to the polls and cast good ballots, failed to vote for any Presidential or Vice Presidential candidate.

983,233 votes cast for U. S. Senatorial candidates.

Small Car, Crowded Into Ditch, Upsets

A large automobile going at a fast rate of speed forced William V. McLoughlin, who was driving a small sedan, off the River road, just outside of Riverton, Monday night. The sedan skidded and turned over.

McLoughlin, accompanied by a lady, was driving to Beverly when the accident occurred. The speeding auto forced the Beverly boy to pull over to the trolley tracks. McLoughlin lost control of his car when the wheels got caught in the tracks. The machine was smashed to the well-known "smithereens." All of the glass in the car was broken, the mudguards, body and hood were twisted.

McLoughlin did not get the license number of the man responsible for the accident. Neither driver nor his friend were hurt beyond a few scratches and a general shaking-up. The car was not covered by insurance and is a total loss to its owner.

It seems that the two wings of the Democratic party have come near making an angel of it.

KOREA LAND OF QUEER HATS

Old Custom That Still Prevails That Only Married Men Must Wear Headgear.

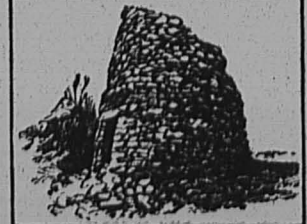

In Korea the period of mourning for a parent or grandparent is three years. For the empress the mourning period extended over five years. When abroad the mourner is expected to go with his head bent down, and to draw his hat as far as possible over his face. Where the white gauze hat wasn't available, the etiquette of mourning was observed by wearing the black one with a great patch of white paper pasted over the crown.

The gauze and horsehair hats ordinarily worn are tied under the chin by means of ribbons or stripes of cloth. The Korean gentleman is extremely particular about this. It is the odd custom of Korea still prevailing in many portions of the country, that only married men must wear hats. In Korea until a man marries, never mind how old he is, he is looked upon as a boy, and entitled only to the boy's privileges. The two chief privileges denied him are the arranging of his hair in the top-knot and the wearing of a hat. While he is a "boy" he must wear his hair in a pigtail hanging down his back, and go bare-headed even on the streets. But after early marriages prevail in Korea, and there are numerous boys at the beginning of their teens who have become husbands, it is seldom that a young man bare-headed is seen on the streets in Korea.

It is considered in accord with Korean etiquette for men to wear their hats in the house. A missionary tells us each Sunday, during the hour of worship, he looks out over a forest of hats, "horsehair coronets, mourning caps, mushroom, bowel, and umbrella shapes," all on the heads of the male members of the congregation; for in Korea, except in rare cases, the women wear hats.

Technical Error

"Jerusha, did you cook some cloves into this, round steak?" a Kansas City man asked his darkey cook one night last week.

"No, sub; no, sub," that personage exclaimed. "Why I be cookin' cloves wif a round steak?"

"I don't know. But—here the man of the house turned the steak over and found a dozen clove buds imbedded in the meat as if they had been deliberately stuck there. "But they smell like cloves and look like cloves and taste like the devil, so—"

"Oh, I remember now," cried the cook, ready to confess. "It's ham you stick cloves in, ain't it?"—Kansas City Star.

PROGRAM AWAITS JOB ADJUSTING

TAX REDUCTION TO FORE

Governor Sizler's Message Likely to Stress Demands of State's Taxpayers—Whitney May Figure in Some Inaugural Activity.

Trenton.—It is altogether probable that taxation will eventually come forth as the outstanding problem for the forthcoming session of the legislature, preparations for which appear to have been put across by the Republican majority with so little visible friction. It is certain that if the majority gets the drift of public opinion in the state it will be seeking to remove one large cause for unrest and dissatisfaction. And yet the conference committees named by the selected presiding officers of the two houses after last Tuesday's tame balloting have sent forth no outlines of the program for the session, and nobody appears to have any clear idea of what is projected.

Perhaps the committees will give consideration to the most pressing matters to command attention and to answer some of the demands as represented in the platform adopted by the state convention. They will probably make report in two weeks when the senators and assemblymen-elect return to get an idea of what is likely to happen with respect to the division of the patronage. That matter appeared to have been more serious import to the Republicans than any plan of action for the session.

There are so many of the faithful to be rewarded with soft berths in the legislature and so many members to be appeased that the "steering committees" will have their work cut out for them. Eighteen senators and forty-seven assemblymen will present their lists to the committees and exert all the power they can command to get their followers on the payroll. That, to be sure, will consume some little time, not to mention the jockeying and wire-pulling, so that the program for the session will probably have to await the outcome of the scramble.

Nevertheless the taxpayers of the state expect from the law-makers early and effective attention to the pressing problem to which so many minds are directed at this time. What with federal, state, county and local taxes, the average home-owner finds it difficult to keep himself square, and those who are striving to clear off mortgages are obliged to make many twists and turns.

Taxation Question Again

No doubt Governor Sizler in his message to the legislature will touch upon the taxation question again, as he did last year, following up his inaugural address; but as this is the governor's last year what he may have to say will fall lightly upon the ears of the Republican legislature. Still, it will have the strict attention of the taxpayers, and they will give the law-makers plenty to digest during the session. The governor has been convinced that the people of the state are justly entitled to reductions, and he has had his own ideas of how that can be achieved, presenting the ideas in his messages, but with a legislature politically disinclined to tune in with his wave nothing has come of his suggestions. In view of the importance of the next state campaign, with so much at stake, it is very likely that the governor will return to the subject and press it with all his power.

Nor is that the only subject which the governor will probably give attention in his message. Last winter he arranged a special joint session, at which he made a long, somewhat sensational address urging a survey of the whole public school system of the state, with the purpose of discovering what was wrong and whether the people were getting a fair return for the enormous sums of money spent upon education every year, with a strong trend upward and no corresponding improvement in results. He called sharp attention to widespread charges that graduates of the high and normal schools had displayed woeful ignorance of the fundamentals of education; that extravagance in the construction and equipment of schools had been called to his attention, citing several conspicuous instances, and he desired to learn if the educational system of the state was reaching the standard which it should reach under the liberal appropriations by the state and the municipalities.

The governor's quest was futile. The legislature declined to take the survey he suggested. It would have cost some money, to be sure, but the governor felt that it would be well spent, even if it proved that a high grade of efficiency had been reached in the school system and that it was functioning at 100 per cent. The Republican majority balked at the plan, but a good many people in New Jersey have been wondering to what extent the governor was right, believing that he had obtained information upon which he had based his request, and that they should have the facts before them to foot the bills.

There have been many criticisms of the "luxurious" part of the educational authorities. It is true that the state, as school trustees seem to have the upward inclination all the while, there is possibility of a great public demand for a showdown sooner or later. Perhaps the governor will resume consideration of this subject in his message, and that will add some zest to the session, which, so far as now can be seen, gives little promise of rising above the level of last year, which was dull, indeed.

Expect Little Friction

The Republican leaders appear to believe that there will be little or no friction during the session so soon to start, and they base that belief upon the smoothness with which the states for organization of senate and house were put over recently, but those who are familiar with the personnel of the two bodies are inclined to suspect that a party break may come at any time. There is an element of insurgency which may lead into full flower when the warmth of opposition sets into action. United States Senator Edge, acknowledged party leader, with practically as much power as the late General Sewell ever enjoyed, showed the quality of his leadership when the assembly caucus put over Chandler of Bergen for the party whip. It was a mighty close call, to be sure, but it went. The Essex men, while not directly antagonistic to the senator, expressed the belief that, as they had one-fourth the vote of the house, they should be respected in their desire to name one of their own number for the leadership. They lacked a couple of votes, but accepted defeat with rare grace.

It is suspected, however, that the Essex men do not feel so good about it as they would have if they had won, may not display any temper just now, but there are twelve votes to reckon with during the session, and if they shall decide to do a little "insurgency," they may make the situation mighty interesting. Then there is always the Morris senator, Mr. Whitney, who led the eight "insurgent" senators in the memorable battle on the State Highway Commission mix-up in the session of 1923. Mr. Whitney, independently rich and with some lurking desire to win the nomination for governor, was chairman of the very important committee on appropriations for two years, but was not retained last session after the futile effort to defeat the Edge line-up for organization. There is no doubt the Morris senator has keenly felt the setback, and it is possible that he may figure in some insurgent moves during the coming session. But the party watchword just now is: "Everybody be good, for we've got to elect the next governor and get back some of the best plums now enjoyed by the peppy Democrats."

Loss by Poor Seed

Leaf-roll, mosaic, spindle-tuber and other degenerative diseases cost New Jersey potato growers $1,000,000 this year, according to estimates obtained from a state experiment station, New Brunswick.

"This serious loss in the industry could be prevented through the planting of disease-free seed," asserts W. H. Martin, potato expert at that institution, who goes on to say: "Many fields of the state lost over 50 per cent of their crops. Tubers infected with these diseases cannot be detected and cannot be treated. Therefore it is necessary that seed be secured from fields which have been thoroughly rogued of plants showing signs of the diseases."

"This year in New Jersey 700 acres of potatoes were certified by the state department of agriculture as being relatively free from these diseases. No field is certified by the department unless it is less than half of the average of the state. Seed from these fields will certainly give better results than those which have merely been given special attention by the grower. The purchase of seed from such certified fields is a gilt-edge investment because of the large yields whereas seed from 'wildcat' fields will give very uncertain returns."

"The State Potato Association is ready to co-operate with any potato growers in locating certified seed. All the potato dealers of Central Jersey are so convinced of the value of certified seed that they are prepared to furnish growers with such stock."

"New Jersey potato growers are meeting with more active competition from other states, and the only way of winning this competition is to produce a high quality product. One of the first steps in accomplishing this is in planting only vigorous, disease-free seed."

Advice on Bridge Tolls

It may be, says a news dispatch from South Jersey, that the attorneys general of New Jersey and Pennsylvania will be asked for opinions on the question of tolls on the new Camden-Philadelphia bridge. The question is one on which wide diversity of views is held in the two states.

T. Harry Rowland, counsel for the New Jersey members of the Joint Bridge Commission, is preparing a summary of the law involved, and counsel for the Pennsylvania is engaged in a similar task. Philadelphia is very much opposed to the tolls.

Pennsylvania is inclined to take the view that the cause in the referendum calling for disapproval of Jersey's $5,000,000 bond issue by toll revenue can be repealed. The power, it is held, rests with the legislature.

Against this contention is the claim of opponents who declare that the state is solemnly obligated to the people and must insist on the collection of tolls or break faith. An amendment could be voted, according to their view, only with the consent and approval of the electorate—in other words, a second referendum.

Must Have Better Water Supply

The entire water supply system in New Jersey, and especially the situation in South Jersey, where the growing population will shortly make necessary an additional source of supply, was considered when members of the North Jersey District Water Supply Commission conferred with Governor Sizler for the purpose of getting representation on the Tri-State Commission which has under advisement the feasibility of developing power from the Delaware River, under a joint agreement between New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The conference had the effect of clearing up a number of misunderstandings growing out of the water problems. The District Commission seemed to be under the impression that the tri-state body was encroaching upon its field of activities and that the result might jeopardize extensive water projects in New Jersey which have already cost many millions.

Governor Sizler explained that this was not the case, as the Tri-State Commission deals only with the waters of the Delaware and its tributaries, its function being to formulate an agreement under which each state will be protected in the distribution of water from that source. He assured the commissioners that New Jersey's interests will be fully proacted by the two members from this state and that after an agreement has been reached it will be time to develop a state-wide policy for the conservation of water in New Jersey.

The Governor told the commissioners that it has been intimated that the North Jersey Commission is seeking to perpetuate itself and to assume functions not delegated to it by legislative authority, but this was denied.

In the discussion of other problems of water supply the south situation came in for consideration and Governor Sizler expressed the belief that it will shortly be necessary for the state to acquire the Wharton tract in Camden and Atlantic counties as a source for that section. Completion of the bridge over the Delaware between Camden and Philadelphia will, in the Governor's belief, in rapid growth in population of the southern section and will make increased water supply imperative. This opinion was also shared by the members of the commission.

New Water Rates

With some modifications as to charges for fire hydrants, the Public Utilities Commission has authorized the Cranbury Water Company to put into effect a schedule of increased rates calculated to produce an annual return of 8.5 per cent on a valuation of $28,000 fixed by the board.

Under the schedule, the present base charge of $15 for 80,000 gallons of water used during the year will be increased to $20 for the first 40,000 gallons. In excess of that the rate will be twenty-five cents per 1,000 gallons.

Issuance of securities by three utilities corporations has been approved by the commission as follows: Atlantic City Gas Company, $400,000 first mortgage 5 per cent bonds to be sold at not less than 80 per cent of par; People's Gas Company, $1,300,000 6 per cent bonds under a mortgage to the Pennsylvania Company for insurance on lives and grants; Annapolis, trustees; Eastern New Jersey Power Company, amendment of the terms of its preferred stock and of the issuance of $1,250,000 preferred stock of the 8 per cent series in exchange for the present outstanding 7 per cent preferred. All of the present 7 per cent stock is to be canceled.

Treatment With Chlorine Gas

With a view to further determining the efficacy of chlorine gas for the treatment of colds and other respiratory infections, the State Health Department has had apparatus constructed for its administration and is offering its use free to all employees of the state and other persons desiring to try the treatment. The apparatus admits of the treatment of only one person at a time.

In announcing its willingness to provide the treatment, Director Henry R. Conitt, of the health department, sent the following communication to directors of state departments: "This is the treatment recommended by the Chemical Warfare Service of the United States Army. Of course, it is in an experimental stage, and we are not certain that it is of benefit. Vedder and his associates have had such success with it that we are offering it in order to test its value. The person being treated sits for one hour with his nose and mouth covered with a paper funnel through which a stream of air containing the chlorine is passed."

State Will Help River Road

Mercer county will be granted $25,000 by the State Highway Commission for the repaving of the River road above Washington Crossing, provided the Board of Freeholders regard that thoroughfare as the most important on which aid is sought. The cost of the paving is estimated at $75,000.

The request of the county officials for state aid is based on the fact that the road was improved in 1917 under state specifications. It is claimed that the paving was in the nature of an experiment and did not stand up as well as expected under traffic.

From funds remaining in its maintenance account, the commission has appropriated $300,000 for the improvement of five and one half miles of road between Flemington and Ringoes, Hunterdon county. This sum represents an unexpected balance in the budget for road maintenance and is said to be available because previous repairs to state routes were of such a permanent character that upkeep has been reduced to a minimum.

Hunterdon County is to contribute $32,220 toward the cost of the paving, which will be done with concrete. The road is a section of the route approved by the Legislature as a state thoroughfare and carries a large volume of travel.

Five Women Lawmakers

Five fair lawmakers, the largest number yet elected, will grace the chamber of the Assembly when the New Jersey Legislature begins its session at Trenton next week. All five are women of exceptional abilities and they will take an active part in the work of the body. Three of them are present members who have a year's experience to add to them in their efforts. They are Mrs. Lolla Thompson, Republican, of Ocean county; Mrs. Catharine Finn and Miss May Carty, Democrats, of Hudson. The two new members are Republicans, Miss May A. Thropp, of Mercer, and Mrs. Madge Irene Ebert, of Essex. In the last session four of the fair sex were representatives and some political managers predict that within a few years there are likely to be a third or more women members of the House, with possibilities of one or two Senators. No woman has so far been chosen for the Senate.

KEEPING WELL

WHAT CAUSES MALARIA

DR. FREDERICK R. GREEN
Editor of "HEALTH"

MANY of us can remember, as children, when our mothers, summer evenings, used to tell us to "keep out of the night air."

The idea at that time was that "night air" was dangerous, although why night air should be any worse than day air, no one knew.

For the same reason, people used to shut doors and windows tightly, especially in their sleeping rooms, so as to "keep out the night air."

Of course, there isn't anything bad about night air. Yet people have suffered for centuries, that staying out doors in the twilight or after dark or leaving the windows open was often followed by some kind of fever. Most of these were some form of malaria. The name itself—malaria, or bad air—shows the ideas which were then held.

It wasn't the night air that caused the fever. It took the human race thousands of years to learn that the fever was due to mosquitoes that came out of their hiding places at twilight to hunt for food.

Malaria belongs to the large group of diseases which are caused by living bodies too small for the naked eye to see. One of these minute, living bodies is the malaria germ. It has killed a thousand times more human beings than have fallen in all the wars of history.

In 1880, Laveran, a French scientist, went to Algeria to study malaria, which had existed in northern Africa for centuries. He found a microscopic germ in the red blood cells of malarial patients. This germ is less than 1/2000 of an inch in diameter. The germs bore into the red blood cells, which they destroy. This is why malarial patients are pale and anemic.

The red blood cells rupture and the germs escape into the blood, setting free the poison which they have made and causing the patient to have a chill, followed by fever.

Quinine, taken into the stomach or injected into the blood, kills the parasites and cures the malaria.

CHAUTAUQUA JANUARY 16th

Four-Day Program to Be Given in High School Auditorium

The Swarthmore Chautauqua, which delighted hundreds of Palmyra and Riverton residents with its instructive and entertaining programs last year, will open its 1925 appearance in Palmyra on Friday, January 16, giving afternoon and evening performances in the High School auditorium for four days.

The afternoon programs will begin at 1:30 o'clock and the evening entertainments at 8 o'clock.

For the opening session is scheduled an interesting lecture, music by the Victorian Maids and a Junior Chautauqua for the children. In the evening will be another concert by the Victorian Maids and a lecture by Harry Hirschman on "The Redemption of Modern Civilization."

Saturday afternoon will bring another lecture, a concert by the Happy Hawaii Company and a Junior Chautauqua. At night the program includes an illustrated Travelogue, "Happy Hawaii," by Mildred Leo Clemens and Company.

Sunday a program suitable to the day is to be arranged and details will be announced later.

On Monday, the closing day, the Jolly Juniors and the Emerson Winters Company will perform in the afternoon and a delightful comedy, "The Bubble," will be presented in the evening.

Harry Hirschman, the lecturer, is described as a "real Chautauqua," a sound social critic with a sane American faith and a fearless defender of American ideals. A unique feature of Mr. Hirschman's lecture is the open forum at the close. Everybody is urged to ask questions and take part in the discussion.

The Victorian Maids are composed of Helen Sheppard, contralto and cellist; Mabel Pontham, pianist and soprano; Ella Dahl, reader and drummer; and Merle Munson, violinist. Their teamwork is perfect and each member in their repertoire a proven success.

"Happy Hawaii" is directed by Mildred Leo Clemens, a cousin of Mark Twain, who recently returned from a successful tour of England. Her company of Hawaiian singers and players, unspoiled native musicians, personally selected by Miss Clemens, are considered the most skillful exponents of their native music and dances ever appearing in America.

The Emerson Winters Company has been on the Chautauqua platform for over ten years, its long record proving its worth beyond question. This season they will feature an original play of two acts, "Happiness through Sacrifice," and will give many other entertaining numbers.

"The Bubble," which ends the Chautauqua program, is a three-act comedy by Edward Locke. It convulsed New York for a year and has been termed a "great laugh contest," with everyone a candidate.

Season tickets are now being distributed by the guarantors. The cost of these tickets is less than half the cost of single admissions to all the entertainments and the same ticket can be used by various members of the family for different programs.

TIME FOR BONUS TO BE EXTENDED

Bill to Be Introduced to Give Veterans Further Opportunity to File Applications.

HIGHER FARES ARE GRANTED

State Board of Taxes Sustains County Tax Boards in Six Decisions.

State Educational Board Announces Joint Meetings.

Trenton.—World War veterans of New Jersey who have not received the State bonus will have another opportunity to make application for it, should a bill which Speaker Clifford R. Powell, of Burlington, will present, be adopted by the Legislature. The allotted time in which the bonus could be applied for ended December 31, 1923. Since then, according to Mr. Powell, more than 1,000 applications have been filed. In addition, he said, there are 2,700 valid claims on file which have not been acted upon.

Under Mr. Powell's proposed bill there would be an extension of time until July 1 of this year. He discussed his measure following the meeting of the Republican joint conference committee at the Staty-Trent and, although it was not acted upon formally by the committee, Mr. Powell anticipates no serious obstacles to its enactment.

There were only three proposed measures which received the definite approval of the conference. Foremost of these was the proposal of Senator William H. Mackay, of Bergen, that a building and loan probe be conducted by a legislative committee. The sentiment in the conference committee was unanimous that such an investigation be undertaken as speedily as possible so that building and loan investments can be adequately safeguarded.

The committee likewise approved Mr. Mackay's suggestion that a commission of experts be appointed to revise the election laws. It is proposed that two members be appointed by the speaker of the House, two by the president of the Senate and two by the Governor. If the conference committee's plan is followed, the commission will not be composed of members of the Legislature. Among other things, the commission will determine whether a shorter voting day is desirable.

Repeal of Chapter 228 of the laws of 1924 is recommended by the committee. Under this law, appeals from assessments for curbs and gutters and street widenings are taken by the taxpayer to the judge of the circuit court instead of to the governing body of the municipality as has been the practice heretofore. In some counties the courts are jammed with such appeals and it is the belief of the committee that protestants should be heard first by the City Commission or by the town council. Then if the taxpayer still desires, an appeal may later be taken to the circuit court.

State Chairman E. C. Stokes sat with the members of the conference committee, but it was stated that no appointments were discussed.

Higher Fares Granted

Increases in trolley fares were granted by the Public Utility Commission to the Atlantic Suburban Railroad Company, operating between Atlantic City and Pleasantville, and to the Five Mile Beach Electric Railway Company, which operates in the vicinity of Wildwood.

The fare of the Atlantic and Suburban Company was raised from fourteen to sixteen cents between Atlantic City and Pleasantville, with a corresponding increase in the fare between the intermediate points. The local fare in Atlantic City was raised from six to seven cents. The board declared that the company was entitled at least to the rate asked for, in view of the fact that the increase will not equal the deficit of 1923 and the probable deficit for 1924.

Approval was also given by the utility board to a car trust agreement between the Coast Cities Railway Company, operating in Monmouth County, and the J. G. Brill Car Company. Lease warrants totaling $77,634.69 will be issued in part payment for seven safety cars purchased by the railway company.

Auto Tag Rules

The new New Jersey automobile registration plates and licenses became effective at midnight Wednesday, December 31. The same applies to New York and Pennsylvania plates, though Pennsylvania drivers' licenses issued during 1924 will be valid until March 1 next.

By agreement with motor vehicle officials of Delaware, registration plates of that state for 1924 may be used in New Jersey until January 7. Virginia and Michigan also are exceptions to the general rule. Virginia plates and licenses for 1924 may be used until January 31, and the 1924 tags and licenses of Michigan will be good until March 1.

Tax Boards Sustained

County tax boards have been sustained by the State Board of Taxes and Assessment in six decisions involving disposition of appeals. The Essex board was affirmed in sustaining an assessment of $65,200 on the grounds and building of the Y. M. C. A. of the Oranges for the year 1924. The decision is based upon the fact that the building was in course of construction October 1, 1923, the date of the assessment, and hence was not then being used for the purposes which would entitle it to exemption.

If the building had been completed, said the board, "and actually and exclusively used in the work of the association at the time fixed for the levy, there is no doubt that the appeal would be well taken."

The Burlington County Tax Board was affirmed in refusing to cancel an assessment upon the Y. M. C. A. building in Palmyra. Refusal to exempt was based upon the ground that parts of the building were rented and used for purposes other than those of the association.

In sustaining a decision of the Essex board affirming an assessment on property of the Kingsley School in Essex Falls, the State board based its conclusions upon the fact that the legal title to the real estate and personal property did not pass to the school until October 23, 1923, this being after the date of the levy. For that reason the State board found it unnecessary to pass upon the debated question of whether the school is conducted for profit within the meaning of the exemption act.

Finding that the lands and personal property in Point Pleasant, known as St. Joseph's-by-the-Sea, are used exclusively for religious and charitable purposes the State board sustained the action of the Ocean County Tax Board in cancelling an assessment levied upon the property by the Borough of Point Pleasant. The property is used as a home for children and women and is maintained by the Order of St. Dominic of the Roman Catholic Church.

The Ocean County board also was upheld in cancelling an assessment levied by Dover Township upon the Wilanda, a yacht owned by Maja Leon Berry. The yacht was taxed in Bay Head, where it was lying at the dock of the Bay Head Yacht Club on the date fixed for making assessments. Mr. Berry paid the tax in Bay Head and appealed from the assessment of the township.

The State board affirmed the Camden board in refusing to cancel an assessment of $53,000 on the personal property of the Delaware River Discharging Company.

Bus Routes Approved

As the result of a rehearing, asked for by the Public Service Railway Company, the Public Utilities Commission has affirmed its previous approval of local permits granted to Leo Loeb for the operation of an auto bus on the Paterson-Singapore route. The board held that additional evidence offered in behalf of the railway did not indicate that the public can be adequately served without the operation of the Loeb bus.

Upon the ground of lack of jurisdiction, the commission has dismissed an application of Charles H. Andreas for approval of a municipal permit to operate an auto bus between North Camden and the Camden High School for the transportation of school children. The board held that the operation of the bus for the purpose set forth in the application did not bring it within the meaning of the Kates act, conferring jurisdiction upon the commission.

Disposing of a complaint of the Salem and Penna Grove Traction Company, the board has issued an order directing Stephen Allen to refrain from operating auto buses between Penna Grove and the townships of Upper and Lower Penna Neck, paralleling in whole or part the line of the traction company.

Issues of $250,000 of first and refunding mortgage bonds by the Monmouth County Water Company, and of $1,000 of capital stock of the Atlantic Coast Transportation Company have been approved by the commission.

Educational Discussions Planned

Three meetings for the discussion of education problems, participated in by all county and city superintendents of schools, supervising principals and helping teachers in New Jersey, will be held during January. It was announced by the State Department of Education.

The State has been divided into three sections of seven counties each the school officials from the respective counties coming together in the city designated for them. The north Jersey meeting will be held in Newark, the central in Trenton and the southern in Atlantic City. At Newark the conference will include Hudson, Essex, Bergen, Passaic, Morris, Sussex and Union counties. This meeting will be held in the Newark State Normal School on January 23.

The first meeting will be in Atlantic City on January 15 and 16 and the second in Trenton on January 19. Hudson and Bergen County officials are scheduled to submit papers on important subjects for consideration. At the Newark session the morning topic will be arithmetic. Elmer K. Sexton, assistant superintendent of Newark, will discuss the responsibility of the supervisor, supervising principal or principal for improvement in the teaching of this subject.

The responsibility of the helping teacher on the same subject will be discussed by Mr. Florence Le Parber, of Sussex County and Superintendent Herman Dressel of Kearny will discuss it from the angle of the superintendent.

Commissioner John Enright, of the Department of Public Instruction, will deliver an address of greeting at the afternoon session. Superintendent W. Burton Patrick of Orange will speak on "Are the Costs of Buildings, Equipment and Teachers' Salaries Excessive?"

TWO BIG EVENTS

Fine Programs at Lutheran Church

Thursday evenings, January 8 and 15

The Rev. Carl Acee will be present at the big Thursday night service at the First Lutheran Church this Thursday night. He is minister of the First Christian Church, 10th and Boulevard, Philadelphia. This church is noted for its splendid men's organization, and there are about twenty of these men coming over to help put this service over. Their splendid male quartet will be present. The name of which "Scrap-Iron" does not indicate the quality of the songs sung. You will miss a real treat if you miss this service.

Next week, January 15, J. Duncan Spaeth, Ph. D., head of the Department of English at Princeton University, will be the speaker. Dr. Spaeth is also coach of the crew, and is nationally known as an educator and athlete. Too much could be said about him, but we will let you be the judge on hearing him. A rare opportunity is here offered you.

The music for January 15 consists in the presentation of the world's famous harpist, Francis J. Lapitino, who for years has been a Victor artist, and who plays with the Florentine Quartet, Neapolitan Trio, and the Venetian Trio. This will be a service extraordinary, and should attract all the music lovers of the community.

Basket Ball

The Lutheran basketball team won its fourth straight game last Saturday night on the Lutheran court when the Burlington Methodist Church quintette was downed by a 43-20 count.

The feature of the game was the shooting of Eiseley and Griffenberg. McKee, at center, although shorter than his man, got the ball on every jump. Ponsett and MacCorkle played a bangup game while Severn and Cook started for Burlington.

The local fix is coached by Dan Schultz, of Lansdowne, who has developed a fast combination.

The Lutheran Reserves lost to the Burlington second squad, 27 to 16. The Burlington boys outwitted Palmyra, but the locals held the lead until the last ten minutes of play. Jenkins, Griffenberg and Seither were the Lutheran bright lights and Neiser and Hostler featured for Burlington.

COUNTY ROAD WORK DONE ECONOMICALLY

Report of County Engineer Smith Shows Cost of Supervision to be About 3%

Doing $350,000 worth of road and bridge work at an engineering cost of 3-1-10 percent, or a total of $11,000, is the fine record that was made for Burlington County last year by County Engineer H. B. Smith, of Mt. Holly, as shown by his report submitted to the Board of Freeholders last Friday.

This covers the work that was done under the direct supervision of the county's organization so far as bridge and road construction was concerned and also the cost of supervision on contract work. The items of expense are made up of salaries, inspection costs and chemical analysis, covering such operations as laying 95,858 square yards of roadways, of which 3102 yards were concrete and the balance was asphalt.

George W. Rogers made his debut as director, and the work of the board was transacted with celerity.

Rules for the government of the board during the year were adopted. The rules are the same as last year with the exception that the department of public welfare and the department of courts and charities have been moved into one. This was a return to the old order of things. The public welfare department was split last year.

Howard Russ, of Delanco, the new director of public welfare, submitted a report showing that there now are thirty-five prisoners in the Burlington County Jail, Mount Holly. This is about the average. Three of the number are women.

On a resolution by Charles R. Stout, of Florence, director of roads, the Public Service Corporation was given the privilege of erecting poles for a certain distance on Columbus avenue, Burlington. The resolution stipulated that the work must be done under the direction of the county engineer and the road department.

Another resolution by J. Lloyd Wright, of Medford, director of bridges, authorized the clerk to advertise for the purchase of a Buick coupe for the use of the bridge department. All the members of the board voted for the resolution.

A communication from Aaron Shadaker, clerk of the Burlington Township Committee, stated that Burlington Township had made provision in the annual budget to pay fifty per cent of the cost of the improvement of the Jacksonville road from Burlington to Masonic Home at the junction of the Jacksonville and Oxmead roads. The communication did not state the amount that Burlington Township had appropriated for the road improvement purpose, and the communication was returned, asking for a more definite statement.

Director of Roads Stout was instructed to get some definite figures from which amounts could be determined and there would be something to work on in presenting the case to the State Highway Commission for some township aid money. Sometime ago there was an understanding that Burlington township would contribute $12,000 toward the cost, and the Freeholders want to know in black and white if the same understanding exists.

BIG BLAZE AT BEVERLY

Masonic Hall Burned for Second Time in Ten Years. Loss $30,000.

The Beverly Masonic Hall in which was housed the box office for the group of Calvary Y. M. C. A. Group January 8th, was completely destroyed by fire Thursday night and several volunteer firemen were overcome by smoke.

The fire was discovered at nine o'clock and it took the fire company about five minutes to get to the burning building. The origin is unknown.

The building was a two-story frame structure. The post office and the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company store was on the first floor.

Post office employees ran to the building and removed all of the mail. It was placed in vaults in the First National Bank at Beverly.

Adjoining buildings were threatened by the fire. Immediately next to the hall is the office of the Beverly Banner, a weekly newspaper. While printers removed everything possible from the building fire companies took a stand between the blazing hall and the newspaper building and managed to save the plant.

The Second Alarmers Association responded when the fire companies from other towns reached the scene and aided by the auxiliary of the Hope Hose Company served sandwiches and hot coffee to the firemen under the direction of Mrs. George Vanderveit.

The building was totally destroyed at a loss of about $30,000. This is the second time the Masonic Hall has been destroyed by fire at Beverly. A more disastrous fire occurred on January 22, 1915, and several adjoining properties were destroyed.

RIVERSIDE TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE ORGANIZED

William Mathias Selected as Chairman for 1925

The Riverside Township Committee had a meeting on Wednesday evening and elected the following officials: William Mathias, chairman; George M. Brewer, treasurer; George H. Hillman, solicitor; Dr. R. L. Downes, physician; George Lambert, sewer plant superintendent; Miss Julia Arndt, visiting nurse; William Vosell, constable, and Thomas Wilkinson, township engineer.

At the same meeting the new Board of Health was organized, with William Mathias, president; Charles Heins, secretary, and Dr. R. L. Downes as head of the sanitary department. It was decided to enforce the ordinance relative to charging buses a fee of $50 per year.

The day is coming when every man will learn to treat as his own country all the countries of the earth, to recognize in any country he goes to, one of the sacred homes of the human family.—Paul Richard.

DR. FLEMING ON "BUGS"

Government Chemist Tells Calvary Group About Fighting Insect Pests

Those present at the meeting of Calvary Y. M. C. A. Group January 8th, were accorded the privilege of hearing Dr. Walter Fleming, a chemist in the Government Entomological Bureau at Cinnaminson, speak on "Insect Physiology and Insecticides." His interesting and instructive talk was highly appreciated by the boys of the group.

Dr. Fleming's chemical action of the spraying of a young salesman who went to a hotel to engage a room for the evening, and was told by the clerk that he was to be honored by being permitted to sleep in the room that had been occupied by William Jennings Bryan the evening previous.

The young fellow was a staunch Republican, but being worn out from his day's work raised no special objection, and he went to bed. In the morning the clerk asked what sort of a night he had spent, and the salesman, scratching several angry red lumps on his face and neck, answered, "Well, I didn't mind sleeping in Bill Bryan's bed, but I didn't expect to be attacked by the whole Democratic Party."—From which it can be judged that the discussion had a rather insectian flavor; the result of Dr. Fleming's illuminating discourse.

At the next meeting of the group, Thursday the 15th, G. Ellsworth Hall, Production Manager of the Keystone Watchcase Works, is scheduled to talk on "The Romance of Watch Making." Mr. Hall has promised to satisfy the prevalent juvenile curiosity as to "what makes it work," and put an end to the present wanton destruction of timepieces.

SCHOOL ROW AT RIVERSIDE

Less Than Ten Percent Vote on Expenditure. Now Others Want Another Election

The state board has been asked to act as arbitrator in the Riverside controversy over the plan of the board of education to spend $190,000 for new schools.

The faction in opposition to the board declared in the recent election, by which the school plans were ratified, to be unfair because less than one-tenth of the citizens cast their ballots. The board, on the other hand, maintains the election was legal and denies charges of extravagance.

With that as the situation, the opposition wrote on Friday last to the attorney general at Trenton to decide whether the election might not be called illegal, inasmuch as only 279 out of 3000 voters went to the polls. This was revealed by Benjamin R. Faunce, druggist, who criticized the board for asking the town for money when, he said, it had no definite plan for the new structures it proposed to erect.

Mr. Faunce also stated that if the present plans of the board are carried out, the colored children, for whom a new school is planned, will be in a building far inferior to that occupied by the whites. In the opinion of the druggist, the majority of the residents of Riverside would prefer a new addition to the Washington street school, an entirely different kind, one which he says, would cost less, yet be better suited to the needs.

A petition has been drawn up, which reads as follows: "To the Riverside Board of Education:

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Riverside, feeling that a great injustice has been done us, do hereby petition the members of the Riverside Board of Education, to rescind the vote on December 17, 1924, for the $190,000 school appropriation, rescind it and order a new vote cast. The reason being that only 9 per cent of the voters had knowledge of the large appropriation ever asked for in the history of Riverside. To substantiate our plea, to prevent the downfall of Riverside, we do hereby submit proof of the opinion of the people, expressed by their bold signatures."

It is the belief of the Citizens Committee that the already high tax rate of $6.93 will jump to over $8.50. Thomas Wilkinson, chairman of the building committee of the board, briefly stated that the main trouble with the opposition is that they have not gone into the board's plans carefully enough to fully comprehend what is planned.

In speaking of the increase in taxation that will be caused by the new school, Mr. Wilkinson said, "The bonds for the loan will be extended over a period of nineteen years. These bonds will be taken by the state. The interest will probably not be due for two years yet, so the taxes will not be affected until that time. The bonds will not be floated and the school will probably not be built until next year."

ICE PLANT AT RIVERSIDE

Pennsylvania and Iccmen's Association to Join in Erection of $70,000 Plant

Plans have been made and the site purchased for a $70,000 ice and cold-storage plant to be erected in Riverside by August Wrelin, of Lancaster County, Pa. Backing the project are the Riverside Iccmen's Association and Iccmen of other towns in Burlington County along the river and inland.

The building is to be of the largest type, in which all ice is made by electricity and which is considered evidence of great progress in the ice industry in the towns in this vicinity. Each ice dealer purchasing ice from the new plant will have a box of his own, in which ice will be manufactured over-night by the electrical process.

The site of the new plant is just below the Zurburg Hospital, along the railroad, and across sold by Wrelin by Thomas W. Wrelin. It is understood that the men who will be employed to build the plant will be obtained entirely from Riverside and nearby towns.

RIVERTON BUDGET $14,000 MORE THIS YEAR

Recent Street and Sewer Improvements Responsible for $11,000 of the Increase

Much of the time at the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday evening was given to consideration of the budget for the coming year. The treasurer's report showed a balance from 1924 of $9,379.88, and it was decided to appropriate $5000 of this amount to apply on next year's expenditures.

$750 Extra for Salaries

The sum of $750 was added to the borough organization account to take care of the increase in salaries and compensation of the delinquent tax collector, which will be in lieu of all fees. Roy Williams, who makes the audit of the borough treasurer's books every year, was appointed delinquent tax collector at the last meeting in December.

Mr. Bartley, one of the new members of the clerk, assessor and collector had been increased—was the raise sought or offered? The Mayor said that only the clerk had asked for a raise. Mr. Shawell said that Mr. Flower and himself, members of the finance committee, thought that the assessor and collector had more work to do, as well as the clerk, and that they should have an increase, too. Mr. Welsh, another new member of Council, said he knew nothing of the work done by the other two officers, but from what he had observed of the duties of the clerk, he certainly thought he was entitled to the raise. The Mayor said the clerk received a larger raise than the other two owing to the fact that he was not raised at the time the others received an increase.

Salaries Should Be Based on Work Done

Mr. Flagg called attention to the fact that at a previous meeting the assessor had said he was satisfied with his salary, and he (Mr. Flagg) did not see why all three should be raised because an increase was granted to the clerk. He thought salaries should be put on a business basis and determined by the amount of work done. This brought a question from Mr. Welsh if the finance committee had recommended raises for all three officials. The motion covering the increases was then unanimously passed.

Further Improvements at Park

Mr. Williams expressed the thought that something might be saved from the $1000 suggested for the committee having in charge the Memorial Park, but the Mayor recommended that the committee spend a little more this year in keeping the grounds in good condition. Mr. Flagg wanted to know what the $1000 would be spent for. Mayor Bennett replied that the Borough last year secured a comprehensive plan for the improvement of the park, and it was the intention to do a little each year, so that in a short time the borough would have a fine park.

The fire and water committee asked for and was granted an increase of $400 over the amount thought to be necessary when the tentative budget was made up.

Highway Gets $800 More

The chairman of the highway committee asked for $8500. Last year this committee had $7700. The amount asked for by the highway committee this year covers the same items as last year, but the committee requested a larger sum to keep them in good condition, and the purchase of a tractor.

The amount of taxes required to be raised this year for municipal purposes is $14,000 more than last, an increase of 66 2-3%. Of this amount, $11,000 is for bonds and interest.

A public hearing on the budget will be held in the fire house, Friday, January 17, at 8 p. m.

Mr. Lynch, chairman, said that the highway committee had been busy for several days removing snow from the streets.

Permission Granted for Poles

Mr. Lynch also reported that the Public Service Electric Company had asked permission to place five poles on Cinnaminson street between Broad and Fifth streets. Helen Kague, Mrs. W. Charles Williams, Ogden Steele and Joseph Schuler, Jr., appeared before council to ask that the desired permission be granted, as five families were without light representation candles. After some discussion a motion offered by Mr. Shawell that the desired permission be granted was unanimously passed.

Bills for improvements amounting to $2,236.45 were reported for payment, and as the money has not yet been secured from the State for sale of bonds, a motion was passed to borrow the necessary amount.

Curbs Will Be Fixed

Mr. Flagg wanted to know if the curbs damaged by the construction company had been repaired, and the clerk replied that a sum sufficient to cover the damage had been held out and would not be paid until everything was made good.

Mr. Lynch reported that a previous bill from the Union Paving Company amounting to $900 had been revised to $795. William M. King, representative of the company, was present at the meeting and agreed to accept the amount of the bill as first submitted—$900.

Mr. Lynch further reported that a bill of Constable & Busby had been revised to conform with the estimate given, and payment had been made. The fire and water committee submitted a report of borough property in charge of the company, and a list of requirements for the coming year.

The police committee reported that on December 30 August Zurburg ran into and broke a traffic signal, and had paid for having it repaired. Also that on January Payton Gray, of West Palmyra, had been arrested and given a hearing before Mayor Bennett charged with disorderly conduct. The prisoner was discharged on payment of $6.25 costs.

The ordinance and printing committee reported that the ordinance regulating trolleys would be ready for the next meeting.

RESIGNATION OF MR. HUGHES

The resignation of Secretary of State Charles Hughes has caused unusual regret. It is also regretted that our laws do not provide adequate compensation to public servants who, under present conditions, can only serve their country at a great personal financial sacrifice. For nearly twenty years Mr. Hughes has given himself to public service, and the reason of his resignation is that he feels it to be his duty to his family to retire to private life and resume the practice of law.

THE COMMITTEE OF ONE THOUSAND

Judge Elbert H. Gary, chief executive officer of the United States Steel Corporation, with nine other men of national reputation and influence appeared before President Coolidge last week representing the National Citizens' Committee of One Thousand on Law Enforcement to present the views of that body, and to endorse the stand taken by the President on the Eighteenth Amendment.

Besides Judge Gary there were John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Frederick A. Wallis, Commissioner of Corrections of New York City; Clifford Barnes, of Chicago; V. Everit Macy, Commissioner of Public Welfare of Westchester County; George A. Plimpton, Colonel Patrick Henry Callahan, W. F. Cochran, of Baltimore; S. S. Kresge, of Detroit, and Frederick B. Smith, chairman of the Citizens' Committee.

Mr. Rockefeller said, "The enforcement of the prohibition laws has reached the stage where it is a question of arousing public opinion by means of education. Law observance, rather than law enforcement, is most needed. Much more effective work can be accomplished by inculcating the proper attitude toward all law in the public mind."

In this brief statement Mr. Rockefeller hit the nail squarely on the head.

The Eighteenth Amendment is not unenforceable. It will only be difficult of enforcement as long as the better thinking and more influential Americans remain indifferent.

The formation of the Committee of One Thousand, and the personnel of the delegation appointed to call on the President, are of deep significance. When such men interest themselves in Law Enforcement it will soon cease to be fashionable to disregard our plain duty as loyal American citizens.

At the time of the change new officers will be elected but the old board of directors will hold over.

All members of the League of Women Voters in New Jersey and neighboring states were urged to speak or write immediately to their State Legislators urging them to vote for ratification.

Bus Line Not For Sale

—It was rumored this week that the Philburco Coach Line of buses had been purchased by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. When interviewed yesterday, George D. Steedle, proprietor of this line, said there was absolutely no truth in the report and he was at a loss to know how it got started. Mr. Steedle has an application before the Public Utility Commission for permission to operate two more buses, which will be put in service as soon as the grant is made—probably within a month's time.

Only One Kick

A public hearing on the budget for 1925 as prepared by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders was held on Tuesday of this week. George E. Lippincott, of Moorestown, was the only taxpayer present to object to the appropriations and he took exception to the increases in salaries, which amounted to about $2000 over last year.

On motion of Director Rogers a few changes were made in the budget as published last week, including a raise of $2,000 for asylum maintenance; $1,000 on maintenance of the tubercular hospital, and $6,000 on the principal bonds account. The budget, as adopted, totals $1,038,170.04, an increase of $50,395.93 over last year. The amount to be raised by taxation this year is $706,670.04, which is $48,691.11 higher than in 1923. The balance of the income to make up the total budget comes from State aid for roads, income from the clerk's, surrogate's and sheriff's offices, fines, board of patients, etc.

A Correction

By the omission of two lines in our report of the school board meeting last week, a rather misleading statement was made. The part of the article referred to read:

"Permission was granted Franklin P. States, who has recently moved here from Collingswood, to attend the conference of Superintendents and Supervisors to be held at Atlantic City Thursday and Friday, January 15th and 16th."

It should have read this way: "Permission was granted Franklin P. States, who has recently moved here from Collingswood, to attend Palmyra High School. Miss Chew was authorized to attend the conference at Atlantic City, on Thursday and Friday, January 15th and 16th."

BACK FROM SUNNY SOUTH

William Gootee Enjoyed His Month's Vacation, But Is Glad to Get Back to Riverton

A month in the sunny South was quite enough for William Gootee, who went to Miami, Florida, with the expectation of spending the winter there. He says Florida is the finest place in the world—to spend your winter vacation.

Mr. Gootee left Riverton the first day of December at seven o'clock in the morning on icy roads, and reached Fredericksburg, Virginia, at four-thirty. Having covered 218 miles he decided to call it a day.

The second day he went from Fredericksburg to Raleigh, North Carolina, 235 miles in nine and three-quarter hours.

The third day from Raleigh to Augusta, Georgia, he made 296 miles in eleven and three-quarter hours, notwithstanding a puncture which held him up for about fifteen minutes.

On the fourth day of the trip he covered 204 miles from Augusta to Waycross, Southern Georgia, in nine and a half hours. Another puncture, however, held him up for 24 miles in eleven hours from Waycross to Titusville, Florida.

The sixth and last day he left at eight o'clock in the morning in a heavy rain and took him eleven and a half hours to cover the 221 miles to his destination, Miami, Florida.

The roads from Richmond, Virginia, to Florida, were of gravel and had been in pretty good condition, but Mr. Gootee had to make detours, aggregating about 60 miles on account of roads being shut off for repairs.

On his return trip, which was started on Tuesday morning, December 30th, he was accompanied by Mrs. Gootee and her son, Sherman, who went to Miami to come back with him in the car.

The first day out was a perfect one, weather fine and no mishaps. They made 254 miles, arriving at New Smyrna, Florida, at six o'clock, having been on the road ten and a half hours, but then their good luck seemed to desert them.

The next day they drove in a driving rain from New Smyrna to Waycross, and the next day the roads from Waycross to Augusta were from six inches to a foot deep with yellow mud.

The balance of the homeward trip was uncomfortable but uneventful, with the exception of a slight accident about thirty miles below Washington, when the Gootee car was sideswiped by a Pittsburgh driver, no serious damage being inflicted, however.

The party arrived in Riverton at eight-thirty Sunday night, January 4. Mr. Gootee expressed it, "darn glad to get back in God's own country."

Mr. Gootee says the sleet storm through which he drove in North and South Carolina was the heaviest he ever saw. Thousands of pine trees, telephone, telegraph and light and power poles were down.

In the short time he was there Sherman made a record for himself as a coconut hunter. Coconut trees are used as shade trees. Coconuts sometimes fall to the ground during the night, but Mr. Gootee had failed to find any. The boy, however, managed to gather up nine of them in the morning and brought them home as choice prizes to be distributed among his friends.

Old Property Changes Hands

What is said to be the oldest house now standing in Riverton, the J. C. W. Frishmuth property at Bank and Linden avenues, has just been sold by the Camden Safe Deposit & Trust Co., to the Tarter Realty and Financing Co., of Camden.

The property is more than a hundred years old, but none of the older residents seem to know just when it was built. Joseph Lippincott made it his home when he was married in 1804, it being the farm house on what is now spoken of as the Thomas farm, and was adjoining on the west by the Elias Morgan farm and on the East by the Edward Lippincott farm, of which it was originally a part, and extended back to the woods which are just beyond the Country Club, containing about 250 acres. The property later passed into the hands of William F. Thomas who lived there until he built the house at the corner of Bank and Thomas avenues, after which it became the property of John C. W. Frishmuth.

FROM FAMOUS COOKS

The following salad is both very good and a whole meal in itself:

Italian Salad.—Boil spaghetti or macaroni in ring-shape. It can be obtained; if not, use the elbow or shell, or even the plain, breaking it into inch-pieces. Boil until tender in salted water, then drain and rinse in very cold water, drain and chill for several hours. For six servings mix two cupsful of the spaghetti with two-thirds of a cupful of cooked chilled peas and two canned pimientos to give color to the combination. Moisten well with mayonnaise, add one-half of a tiny onion grated, and serve on lettuce arranged on individual plates. Sprinkle with finely chopped parsley.

Chicken a la Drake.—Cut the raw breast of chicken into pieces of convenient size to serve, saute in butter until brown and well cooked. Drain large slices of pineapple from the juice and saute them in butter. When brown arrange on a platter and on each place a piece of chicken; then over the whole pour a rich white sauce, to two cupsful of which add one-half cupful of mushrooms cut into shreds, and enough paprika to make it slightly pink. Garnish with finely chopped parsley. Shredded Virginia ham and truffles added to the white sauce makes a dish fit for an epicure.

Angel Pie.—Make a flaky, rich crust and bake on the outside of deep pans, individual or larger, as one wishes. For the filling beat six eggs to a light fluffy froth, add a cupful of granulated sugar and beat again vigorously, then whip in the juice of one and one-half lemons and cook the mixture over hot water until it thickens. Cool slightly and fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Fill the pie shells, then top the pies with the remaining egg whites beaten stiffly and mixed with six tablespoonfuls of granulated sugar and a tablespoonful of lemon juice. Brown delicately and cool before serving.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

GOOD NEWS

"I have good news," said Billie Brownie as he came back to Fairyland and Brownie-land.

"Hurrah!" they all shouted.
"In the first place," said Billie Brownie, "there won't be so many traveling monkeys as there have been—there won't be so many traveling with hand-organs, I mean. There will be some but not quite so many."
"Of course I don't like to disappoint the children, but I know they will understand that it is much kinder this way."
"Poor little monkeys who travel with hand-organs have to work too hard and their lives are too hard. They can't play and swing and enjoy themselves when they feel like it as monkeys in a zoo can do."
"They have to dance on hot pavements and hot walks in the summer when their little feet are tender and tired—for a monkey's feet are tender."

The Brownies and the Fairies were sitting under the light of a canoe-shaped moon and their little faces looked bright and happy in the moonlight as Billie told them this news.
"I passed through the city and there was a fog there and every one in while you could see two bright little lights from an automobile as the car came through the fog. You couldn't see these until they came close, but they looked so interesting in this curious light."
"I heard there that my friend the Alfreddo dog who sits by the window with his paws and head out and looks up and down the street to see what is going on, has a new trick of folding his paws together—folding his hands, the children in the neighborhood call it."

"Then I saw that the nuthatches and the other birds would be given out in ever and over so many places."

THE WOLVES AT ROME

Rome, known even in antiquity as the "Eternal City," once the capital of the ancient world and now the capital of the kingdom of Italy, is situated on a plain and on the far-famed Seven Hills of Rome.

Romulus—legendary founder and first king of Rome—and his twin brother Remus, being abandoned in infancy, were suckled by a she-wolf, and later found by a shepherd. In 753 B. C. they founded this city on the Tiber. Hence the wolf has always been the emblem of Rome.

The Romans for centuries have set up images of the she-wolf, sometimes alone, but nearly always suckling the twin babies. In Rome the wolf with the children, Romulus and Remus, appears in effigy in all places, on signposts, banners, gateways, fountains, signs, coats-of-arms, clocks, heraldic emblems and many pretty toys of all kinds. The group of the wolf with the little boy babies is seen everywhere in paintings, prints and fine statuary of marble, bronze or copper. A large statue of the she-wolf with Romulus and Remus adorns the top of the Porta del Popolo, the north entrance to the city and the beginning of the main highway which was known as the Via Sacra.

For generations the loyal citizens of Rome have kept a cage of live wolves on the slope of the Capitoline hill near the lofty Araceli steps. These wolves bark and snap and snarl and yelp, and at night they howl and yowl like wild wolves in the wild forests.

(©, Western Newspaper Union.)

This is probably the wolf which originally stood in the Capitoline temple and was injured 65 B. C. by lightning, of which traces are evident on the hind legs. The twins, Romulus and Remus, were not added until the sixteenth century.

For generations the loyal citizens of Rome have kept a cage of live wolves on the slope of the Capitoline hill near the lofty Araceli steps. These wolves bark and snap and snarl and yelp, and at night they howl and yowl like wild wolves in the wild forests.

"More and more children are putting up with the birds. Then little Mr. Nuthatch will have good meals to carry to his mate and she will carry goodies home to him and to the little ones."

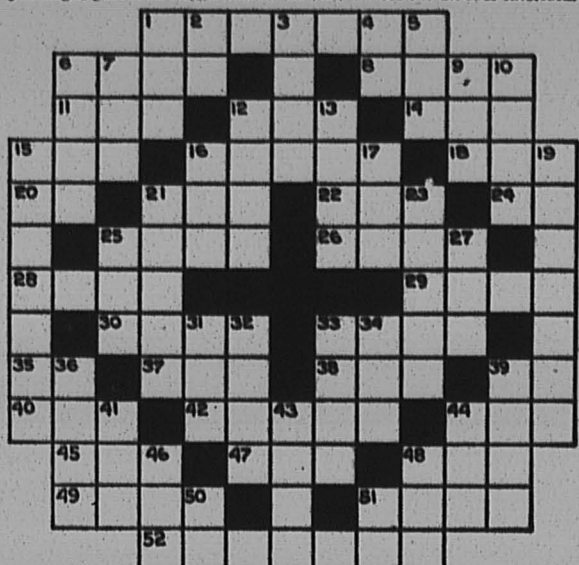

"The nuthatches are so generous with what they have—always wanting to share it with others. And they aren't in the least greedy."

"The chickadees and the woodpeckers will enjoy these meals, too. The sparrows won't bother about such which is as well for the other birds, and even when the robins come again they will not care for such meals."

"Then I heard that people were going to cut the tails of horses or dogs for style."

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE
When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces (this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally). The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white squares up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, plurals, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

"Now the truth is that a crow is something like a parrot about learning to talk."

"If a crow is around people he will pick up words, but cutting his tongue has absolutely nothing to do with it—it is merely cruel."

"Once a crow was around a house and his tongue was cut and the people said it was because of this that he learned to talk."

"But that was not the reason at all."

"Only that story grew as many a false story often does grow. But now they say the truth is being known about that story."

"And that makes me so happy."

"Oh, the news was good that I heard on this trip."

"I should say it was good," said Billie Brownie, and he hugged his brother so that they both rolled over.

"Oh, good news!" said Fairy Princess Twilight Bell.

"Wonderful news!" said Fairy Princess Jay.

"Gorgeous news!" said Fairy Yvonne. At the Queen of the Fairies started a great big cheer in Fairyland and Brownie-land over the marvelous news which Billie Brownie had heard.

"Yes, quite a few," was the reply. The boy grinned and remarking that it was so monopoly he went out.

Orange salad.
Slice oranges which have been carefully peeled, and lay in overlapping slices on a bed of lettuce. Dress with French dressing and serve at once.

German Cabbage Salad.
Take a three-inch slice of salt pork cut into small dice and fry until brown. Meanwhile chop half a head of cabbage or a pint, with one small onion. Pour over the very hot fat with the pork dice and mix well, adding such salt and pepper as one's taste dictates. In the frying pan heat one-fourth cupful of vinegar, and when boiling hot pour that over the cabbage. Set in the warming oven until time for serving.

Shredded Cabbage and Cream.

FINES FOR ICY PAVEMENTS

Palmyra Starts to Enforce Ordinance Imposing Fine of $7.50 on Delinquents

Sixty-five summonses have been issued to property holders in Palmyra to appear before Justice Fichter in the firehouse next Monday afternoon at two o'clock, to answer for failing to comply with the ordinance requiring the removal of snow and ice from sidewalks.

The summonses have created quite an uproar and considerable ill feeling. Sunday a week ago the Chief of Police and his deputies went all over the town serving notices on citizens that the sidewalks must be cleaned at once. The snow quit falling late Saturday and the ordinance gives twelve hours for the work of shoveling off the walks. Hence the notices on Sunday.

Nearly everybody complied with the Sunday notices, but several didn't. On Thursday following another inspection was made and those who hadn't cleaned their walks received summonses. The chief defense is that the freeze-up the first of the week made it impossible to remove the snow and ice.

A fine of five dollars and costs is provided for violation of the ordinance and Justice Fichter says that if this is not paid it will become a lien on the property, which will cost additional money to have cancelled at Mount Holly.

Several organizations and some prominent citizens received summonses.

Among these were the Methodist and Baptist churches, the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Masonic Association, the Methodist cemetery and Borough Solicitor Joseph S. Low, whose sidewalk in front of the new house he is building on Morgan avenue was not cleaned. Mr. Low doesn't live there yet.

Councilman George N. Wimer also received a summons, but it was for a property which he had his real estate sign on and didn't own, so his summons was in error.

Dr. H. W. Bauer got a summons and came down to Justice Fichter and admitted his guilt very cheerfully. "I was just too lazy," he said.

Others are not so good natured. In fact there is a good deal of bitterness against the officials, and a lot of foolish charges, such as that the fines are going into the pockets of the officials, etc.

The Mayor and the solicitor will be present at the hearing and no doubt all who have valid excuses will be given consideration.

Lutherans Lose

The Lansdowne basketball team last Saturday evening defeated the strong Lutheran A. A. by the score of 49 to 39. The Lutherans were handicapped by the absence of Captain Bud Griffenberg, forward, and Bill MacCorkle, guard, which, of course broke up the team work. The features of the game were the playing of Jack Shultz and Bill Young for Lansdowne. Shultz tallied 27 points. The all around playing of McKee, Poinsett and Kisley featured for the home team.

The Lutherans outplayed Lansdowne on the floor but the shooting of the Lansdowne team overcame their defensive work. The Lutherans expect a return game and hope to have their regular lineup.

Ass't Coach Tom Griffenberg will have the boys out practicing so that they will be in shape for that night after a weeks lay off and hope to get started on a string of victories. The team has made a good showing, winning five and losing one, which is no mean record. The Lutheran Team will have its new uniforms for the game Saturday night. So show your Lutheran colors by coming out and rooting for the boys.

Saul's old timers defeated Beahn's Rascallier row quintet by the score of 6 to 4. The shooting of Saul and Councilman Buckholz featured for the Old Timers and the guarding of Renshaw, who also caged one for the Old Timers. Burkhardt and Schriver featured for the Razers. Burkhardt's guarding was very good. He played like a professional, holding Saul and Buckholtz to one each. Beahn's jumping and his sensational shot from the middle of the floor was another feature of the game. Grafton, Fry, Ingram and Reeves also played a wonderful game on the floor.

Loses Right Hand in Paper Cutter

J. H. Mills, of Garfield avenue, met with a distressing misfortune Tuesday while at his work in a printing concern in Philadelphia. While demonstrating some paper cutting machinery, it was accidentally started in motion, severing his right hand at the wrist. Mr. Mills was taken to the Pennsylvania hospital where he is still confined.

Every opinion reacts on him who utters it.—Emerson.

WESLEYANS ELECT

New Officers Chosen for the Year 1925

The Wesleyan Men's Bible class which meets every Sunday afternoon in the gymnasium of the Epworth M. E. Church, has organized for 1925 with the election of the following officers:

I. U. Kershner, president; E. Edward Smith, secretary, and Samuel B. Johnson, treasurer.

The president announced he had been very fortunate in securing the services of the Rev. Mr. Whitton as teacher of the class. He also appointed the following chairmen of committees:

Alfred S. VanOsten, song leader; Grover F. Fox, historian; Charles W. Wanger, program; J. Horace Finney, entertainment; James H. Hartley, glad-hand; Augustus L. Wilson, music; Thomas W. Beideman, welfare; Edwin Patterson, attendance; R. E. Stager, house; G. F. Fox, publicity.

It is the intention of the officers and committees to have some programs decidedly worth while every Sunday and those who have attended the class can testify that such has been the case.

Next Sunday, in addition to the talk by the teacher, which is always very interesting and the short biography by the historian, Miss Aline McConnell, soprano, will sing as a special feature.

The Wesleyan Class offers a fine opportunity for the investment of our time that will yield large dividends.

THURSDAY NIGHT MEETINGS

Big Crowds Attend Gathering at Lutheran Church

A service "extraordinary" is the only way to characterize the splendid service of last Thursday night at the First Lutheran Church, when the Rev. Carl Agee, of the First Christian Church, of Philadelphia, was the speaker, and his men's club musicians furnished the music. A violin solo, vocal and cornet solos, and a duet made the evening musically pleasant, and when the speaker finished, the service was voted the finest ever.

Those who miss these Thursday evening services are missing rare opportunities of hearing most prominent men, and some of the finest music rendered in this community.

This Thursday evening, Dr. J. Duncan Spaeth, of Princeton University, is the attraction, and the same musicians that played last week will again furnish the music.

Next week the speaker will be Dr. H. W. Elson, of Long Island, and the music will be furnished by the Gettysburg Seminary Male Quartet, nationally-known singers and broadcasters over the radio.

These attractions are drawing crowds, and we are justly proud of the name of the towns of Riverton and Palmyra.

WELCOME DR. BLASER

Big Crowd Attends Reception to New Baptist Minister

More than three hundred people braved the weather Monday evening and attended the reception tendered the Rev. Frederick W. Blaser, the new pastor of Central Baptist Church, and his family. The large crowd gave the pastor and family one of the heartiest receptions ever tendered a new pastor in the church.

The Rev. Mr. Blaser took over his new charge January 1st after enjoying an unusually successful pastorate at the Linden Baptist Church, Camden, for more than six years.

Clarence T. Yerkes, the church council president, was chairman of the meeting. Welcoming addresses were made by A. J. Brooks, for the deacons; William McConnell, for the trustees; Miss Ethel Griffenberg, representing the young people; Thomas C. VanOsten, the Sunday School superintendent, and George N. Wimer, for the church. Pastors of the various other churches attended and extended greetings to their colleague. They were the Rev. Fred. B. Morley, of Epworth M. E. Church; the Rev. Harry L. Saul, of the First Lutheran Church; and the Rev. William H. Higgins, the new pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, Palmyra.

The Artisans' Glee Club, composed of twenty men under the direction of Alfred S. VanOsten, accompanied by Lee Milton, rendered several enjoyable vocal numbers. The music for the occasion was furnished by the Sunday School orchestra.

Pastor Blaser responded to the many words of greeting, after which he and his family received the members of the congregation, which was followed by the serving of refreshments by the Woman's Society of the church.

Russ Blackburn Starts Shaping up His 1925 "Champs"

Russell Blackburn returned home Tuesday after spending a week attending to his new official duties as the manager of the Arkansas Little Rock baseball team, of the Southern League.

Russ left last Monday for Kentucky where he inspected his teams spring training camp. From there he went to Kansas City and signed up several good players and then on to Chicago where the names of several other diamond luminaries were affixed to contracts.

Although the Little Rock team finished last in 1924, Lena expects to be way up the list when the curtain lowers on the 1925 season. He is confident he can turn out a winning nine with some of the new material he has obtained, which will be worked in with some of the old reliables.

COUNTY COUNCIL B. S. A.

Palmyra Chamber of Commerce Hears Advantages Presented by Two Prominent Scout Men

The movement to organize a County Council of the Boy Scouts in Burlington County, and to include Palmyra in the Council, was discussed before the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

R. P. Anderson, County organizer, and Clayton Hunsicker, a prominent Philadelphia insurance man who has long been active in the Delaware and Montgomery County Boy Scout activities, explained the advantages of the plan.

The National Boy Scout organization consists of: first, National headquarters, organized under a charter from congress, then comes the County Council and third is the individual unit, the local board, having charge of the various scout troops in a single town.

The County Councils are supervisory bodies, promoting new scout troops, overseeing and coordinating the work done locally, and awarding the various merit badges.

As explained by the speakers, the big necessity of such organization is to see that all scout work is done according to national rules and regulations and that the scout movement may be progressively extended.

Such councils organize county camps, conduct county competitions and weld the scout activity of a county into a single unit.

Members of the Palmyra Scout Auxiliary present seemed opposed to the movement, although the members of the Chamber of Commerce as a whole approved the movement as one making for bigger and better scout activities in Burlington county.

The big bone of contention was the fact that it would be necessary for Palmyra to raise several hundred dollars a year to support the county organization, in addition to the amount needed locally for the equipment of the troops and the rent of their meeting places.

Charles W. Davison, of the Scout Auxiliary, thought it couldn't be done, but Richard E. Wilson, W. S. C. Roy, William Cook and David Schwartz, members of the Chamber, all took the stand that Palmyra had never failed yet to back up a worthy movement and that it wouldn't be any trick at all to solicit $500 or $600 for the good of the boys of the town.

When a vote was taken on the question of whether to approve or disapprove the plan Mr. Davison was the only Chamber of Commerce man to vote no.

The Chamber's connection with the matter is only that of a civic body endorsing a project. Final decision no doubt will be up to the Scout Auxiliary and others who have been active in local Scout work.

I. O. O. F. Banquet

The annual supper and reunion of Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 201, Palmyra, held last Friday night was a splendid success. The supper, roast turkey with all the trimmings, as prepared and served by our Ladies' Auxiliary was voted the best that old Cinnaminson had ever enjoyed.

The toastmaster, Brother Joseph Seel, kept the diners in a constant roar of merriment with his wit and well-prepared program. Grand Secretary Brother Harry S. Pine was to have been with us but was unable to do so, owing to other pressing Grand Lodge duties intervening at the last moment.

Many an old friendship was renewed during the course of the evening by those older members who carried on the work of the lodge many years ago, and who are no longer active. Theirs was the story of the beginning with all the attending struggles and disappointments, but their work has been fruitful, as the splendid membership of today denotes.

The Ladies' Auxiliary who made possible the wonderful success of the evening, were given three rousing cheers by the happy crowd present.

FAST BASKETBALL GAMES

Baker Blue Sox Win and Lose to Strong De Lite Club

In the most hotly contested basketball games played in Palmyra for many a moon the Baker Blue Sox teams won and lost to the strong De Lite, of Philadelphia before a crowd of excited fans Tuesday evening. The De Lite club's first team had not lost a game this season and are leaders in the Germantown Junior League. This record did not daunt the Palmyra team, however, and spectators knew they were in for a hectic battle from the start of the game. The locals were leading at half time, score 17-13.

Immediately after the whistle starting the second half the visitors ran up a lead of five points which they held for half the last period. Then the Bakerites showed class and by great team work and excellent passing they spouted ahead of the visitors and were holding a slim lead of four points until the final minute of the game when, with time almost up, the visitors dropped in the last tally of the game. The final score was 26-24 favor the Blue Sox. The individual star of the locals was Clay Weikman, who scored 17 points.

In the preliminary game it was nip and tuck all the way with the decision in doubt at all times. The score at half time was 14-11 in favor of the Blue Sox. During the last half the score was tied five times, and at the end of forty minutes of play the winner was still in doubt, as a dispute arose over a field goal scored by De Lite during the last ten seconds of the game. The referee ruled De Lite the winner, however, score 18-17. The game was well played throughout and no individual players could be singled out as stars, both teams displaying real teamwork.

Next Tuesday the locals take on the strong Greystock Club, of Philadelphia. Two games are scheduled, the first to start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Interesting games are assured the fans and the Palmyra boys would be glad to have a real turnout of basketball rooters to back them.

Mr. and Mrs. James Fox and daughters, Reba and Emma, have returned home from spending the week with friends in Dundalk, Baltimore, Md.

When the Business Started

No. 1—JOSEPH T. EVANS

Many of the business houses in Riverton and vicinity have an interesting background, and in a weekly series of articles of which this is the first, The New Era will tell about them as long as the material holds out.

The middle of the nineteenth century, in other words about 1845 or 1850, saw the beginning of the coal and lumber business which is now conducted by Joseph T. Evans in Riverton.

Israel Heulings, who lived on the road between here and Riverside, just above Taylor's station, opened a coal and lumber yard on the Rancocas creek at Centerton, which he placed in charge of his eldest son, William, and also one on the Pensauken creek at Fork Landing, where his sons Albert and Isaac were associated with him.

In the early eighties he opened a yard in Riverton and another at Moorestown, both of which were conducted under the firm name of A. C. Heulings and Bro. Albert and Isaac having charge of the two yards.

In the summer of 1883 lightning struck one of the buildings at Fork Landing, and all the buildings were destroyed by fire. Samuel Rudderow was the first to arrive. Mr. Heulings, of his loss, and in doing so, he remarked "I told you to hurry up and get my window frames finished for I wanted to use them, and now they're all gone." Mr. Rudderow was in the building business at that time. This spectacular fire is well remembered by the present owner, who was then a small boy living on the farm now occupied by Charles Schaffer, at Fork Landing.

Scott Dumphrey, foreman of the yard, was sitting in a chair in the office putting on his slippers when the building was struck and he was thrown out of his chair so forcibly that for a few seconds he didn't seem to know what had happened, but soon pulled himself together and helped to rescue the books and papers from the office.

The business in Riverton was continued by A. C. Heulings and brother until 1900 when Albert Heulings met a tragic death on the railroad near his office. It was Mr. Heulings' custom to go from his lumber yard at the rear of the office across the tracks to take a train for Camden. He did not usually leave the yard until the train was almost due and at the time of the accident he miscalculated the distance of the approaching train and was struck while attempting to cross the tracks. When he fell the head of his head came in contact with one of the rails on the opposite track and he suffered a fractured skull and other injuries. He was carried into the house at the corner of Broad and Main streets, owned by the railroad company, and at that time occupied by Joseph Remine and family, where he died in a few hours. From the time the office was opened in Riverton Samuel Shin served the Heulings brothers in the capacity of clerk. He continued with Samuel Rudderow, who purchased the business after the death of Mr. Heulings, until 1905, when Mr. Rudderow sold out to Joseph T. Evans, the present owner, under whose successful management it has developed until it is now considered one of the best in this part of the state. Mr. Evans has about twenty employees.

Camp 23

Those who attended the meeting of Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., Monday night enjoyed the opportunity of renewing their youth thru contact with the Boy Scouts. The visit was a novel event in the history of the camp and a real treat to all.

Thirty-five members of Troop 1 under Scout Master Elwood Hoopner and eighteen of Troop 2 under Scout Master Albert E. Fry gave an instructive demonstration of scout activities and ideals.

Athletic stunts, troop drill and stirring music by the band of Troop 1 kept things on the jump.

Brother Edward H. Flagg, of the camp in a brief talk spiced with witty anecdotes gave an impressive lesson on Good Citizenship, Good Fellowship and Good Citizenship.

Mess call found the "cats committee" ready with a substantial luncheon of sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cake, to which both young and old came and did justice.

The report of the auditing committee shows a good financial gain but a drop in membership which must be recovered this term in order to hold the commanding position in the state council, which we kept for many years.

District President Bandwin has called a meeting of his camps to be held in our room on the 19th. A large turnout is requested to view the installation work and discuss plans for the coming term.

The New Telephone Rates

Effective January 1st

ON DECEMBER 31st the Board of Public Utility Commissioners of the State of New Jersey approved new schedules of rates for the service of The Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph & Telephone Co., effective January 1, 1925.

These new rates were filed in March, for application on and after April 1st. They were suspended by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners until December 31st, pending an investigation by the Board, which investigation has now been completed.

The January 1st bills are being rendered at the new rates.

This much-needed relief to the Company from earnings which have heretofore been entirely inadequate will make possible the continued expansion and perfection of the service as a whole, and is therefore in the broad interest of the telephone-using public served by this Company.

FERRY CO. DIRECTORS REDUCED TO ELEVEN

Proposal to Move Ferry to Eight Mile Point Meets With Opposition. New Board May Be More Favorable

The annual meeting of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company, held Thursday afternoon, January 15, was attended by many encounters between Charles A. Wright and his supporters, and those who are opposed to him.

One of the chief causes of difference of opinion was the proposal to move the ferry ship on the New Jersey side from its present location to eight mile point, one half mile down the river. Mr. Wright was in favor of making the change because it would shorten the route to be traveled by the ferry boats from 4800 feet to 2000 feet per trip, thus enabling the boats to make a greater number of trips at no greater cost—in fact at a saving of $10,000 a year for coal alone. Over the present route the boats make 114 trips daily, aggregating 547,200 feet. Over the proposed route they could make 152 trips a day, covering a distance of 304,000 feet, thereby increasing the revenue of the company $63,000 a year in addition to the saving of $10,000 in fuel.

"Let Well Enough Alone"

Opponents of the plan pleaded that the company was now making money, and it was better to let well enough alone. The opposition also made use of the fact that Mr. Wright and some of his associates had purchased land where the proposed new ferry slip would be located, and land adjacent to it, in the hope of making a good thing of it if the change in location of the ferry running on the side of the river would be brought about.

How Eight Mile Point Came to Be Considered

For more than two years there has been a standing committee known as the Eight Mile Point Committee, composed of R. M. Hollingshead and Charles A. Wright. This committee has had eight meetings, and has made six or eight reports to the present president of the Ferry Company and his predecessor.

When Eight Mile Point was first considered as a landing place on the Jersey side, it was intended to build a roadway or boulevard in front of the Albert S. King property from Eight Mile Point to the fill leading to the present ferry house at the foot of Cinnaminson avenue, and route the passengers from the ferry over the new roadway recently built on Cinnaminson avenue by the State Highway Commission. It was eventually demonstrated that it was impractical to build a roadway of this nature, and the government requirements that any roadway would have to be ripped up, and the lowest estimate received was $50,000 for that alone. The present plan of the Eight Mile Point as a landing place is accepted, is to send passengers up Market street to the Arch street station, West Palmyra.

Palmyra Realty Company Organized
Finally Mr. Hollingshead and Mr. Wright and their associates thought they had at last solved the problem in the interest of the ferry company. They organized the Palmyra Realty Company with Mr. Hollingshead president and Mr. Wright vice-president, and bought up the farm directly opposite Levick street, Tacony, and offered the ferry company the right to use its own terminal or build a bridge for $1 a year, which was refused by Mr. Sinex sitting as chairman of a later committee composed of Sinex, Coate, Thomas and Wright. Another proposal made by the Realty Company to erect a new ferry slip at Eight Mile Point and rent it to the Ferry Company for $12,500 a year, which Mr. Wright asserted would increase the net profits of the Ferry Company at least $25,000 annually, was also rejected.

New Board of Directors Elected

With three issues before them—(1) To move the ferry to Eight Mile Point; (2) For the Ferry Company to build its own terminal and pay a rental of $1 a year for landing packages to the Palmyra Realty Company; (3) To have the Realty Company erect a terminal for which the Ferry Company would pay a yearly rental of $12,500, and with a pretty accurate knowledge of the results of the election, the directors stood in these various matters, the stockholders then proceeded to vote.

Board Members Reduced to Eleven

Before the balloting began William A. Welsh, of Riverton, offered a resolution that the number of directors be reduced from 21 to 11. George D. Steele, also of Riverton, then placed in nomination the following ticket for directors to serve for one year: John H. Sinex, Andrew Peoples, E. L. Williams, Charles A. Wright, William D. Roland, Morgan H. Thomas, R. M. Hollingshead, Charles L. Asam, Samuel S. Daniels, Armit H. Choate and William A. Welsh.

When the tellers reported, it was announced by the chair that the resolution amending the By-Laws was carried, and the above-named gentlemen were elected.

Those who were eliminated from the board of directors by reducing the number from 21 to 11, by the success of Mr. Wright's ticket, and by the fact that some of the members of the board were not candidates for re-election, were Frank Peoples, Joseph Rieder, F. M. Glazier, Caspar M. Titus, Elmer S. Holmes, Herbert K. Dobbs, John B. Stowe, William Miller and Oscar Rutschman. H. T. Gruninger and Joseph A. Seguire had resigned six months or more ago.

It is understood that the election of a board of directors favorable to Mr. Wright greatly improves the prospect of moving the ferry to Eight Mile Point.

Sharp Debates Enliven Meeting

It was during the hour which it was required to keep the polls open that the fireworks started, and in the acrimonious passages between Mr. Wright, Mr. Sales, promoter of the

$45,000 TO FIGHT BEETLE

State Board of Agriculture Hopes to Control Japanese Beetle Eventually

After outlining some of the other activities of the State Board of Agriculture at the annual convention, January 14, Joseph S. Freilich, president, had the following to say about the fight being waged against the Japanese Beetle:

"Another item in the budget for the present fiscal year is $45,000 for Japanese beetle. This is the only item of the kind that has been included in the budget of the State Board of Agriculture. The insect came into the country without any parasites and we know that in the insect world chief control is exerted by parasites. However, this insect was repelled by poisons in sprays, and for years little headway could be made through poisons. Chemists in the laboratories, finally succeeded in finding the poisonous sprays that are less repellent and great numbers of various kinds of parasites have been introduced from Japan and give promise of bringing this pest under control in the course of years. However, the beetle has broken out of all bonds and the greater part of our expenditure is an absolutely necessary one to carry on inspection work of products of insects being barred from markets in other states. Each state has the sovereign power of quarantine, and knowing that our inspection work holds back the beetle in great measure, the states insistently demand that we inspect certain classes of farm products in the southern half of New Jersey, or else railroads may not carry the goods into New York and other markets, and trucks would be barred from the state. This is a necessity placed upon us by other states.

Few Tubercular Cows Now
The work of Dr. J. H. McNeil, Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry, in the extermination of tuberculosis is permanent in character. He now has 1778 herds under supervision and where the average percentage of reacting cattle upon initial test in these herds has been about 30 percent, the subsequent tests given at stated intervals developed only about 2 percent of reactors. However, the state had undergone their first test by the veterinarians of the Bureau, and we need not count upon more than 2 percent of reacting cattle in future tests, the entire amount needed for indemnification of owners would be considerably less than the present appropriation, and the danger to children from milk produced in this state would be nearly wiped out. It is a great piece of constructive work, and its efficiency has secured nationwide recognition.

DR. POULSON COMING

Anti-Saloon League Head to Speak at Epworth Church

Dr. M. S. Poulson, the new State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, will give an address Sunday evening at the Epworth M. E. Church on the present status and the plans for a law enforcement subject just now and there is not a better informed man to be found in the state.

In the morning the pastor the Rev. Fred B. Morley will preach from the subject, "Worship." The Epworth League devotionals will be held at seven o'clock. Dr. Grey Schwartz is the leader.

The Sunday School afternoon attendance last Sunday was 497. Visitors are always welcome.

On Wednesday evening Carl Peterson, the class leader of the church, has arranged for a class meeting rally with Dr. Edwin L. Hyde, of Philadelphia, as the speaker. Dr. Hyde is well known in these parts and there should be a large number of people to enjoy the service.

Thursday evening, January 29, at 8:45, the Woman's Guild will hold their concert by the Pitman Community Male Chorus, with J. Lincoln Corns as director. This chorus consists of forty voices.

NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

One of Riverton's Younger Set Ends Life in Fit of Despondency

Ruth, 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert M. Morris, of Fulton street, committed suicide by shooting herself in the temple with a revolver at her home about 3 o'clock last Friday afternoon.

Miss Morris, who was a social favorite in the younger set, was noted for her cheerful and sunny disposition and her parents are at a loss to account for her act. She had been suffering with a nervous breakdown and had been in bed two weeks, but was improving.

At 3 o'clock, her nurse gave her medicine and then stepped into an adjoining room to get some elixir, returning at 4 o'clock to administer another dose of medicine.

The nurse found her patient huddled down under the bedclothes, turning down the covers to awaken the girl, the nurse found her in a pool of blood with a bullet wound in her temple and a revolver clamped in her hand. Miss Morris graduated from St. Mary's, Burlington two years ago.

Funeral services were held in St. John's P. E. Church, Camden, Tuesday morning at 10:30. Interment private.

TIME PIECES—

YMCA Boys Hear History of Telling Time, from the Burning Rope to Modern Watches

The meeting of the Calvary Y. M. C. A. Group, held January 15th, was one of the most interesting and instructive of the season.

G. Ellsworth Hall, production manager of the Keystone Watchcase Works, addressed the boys and told the story of the origin and development of the watch, from the burning rope and water wheel of ages past, to the fine jeweled movements of today, some of the parts of which are so small that, according to Mr. Hall, twenty thousand could be placed in a thimble.

Some of the group members were inclined to doubt when it was stated that in weighing gold and other precious metals at the Keystone Works, scales were used that would register the weight of a pencil mark on a piece of paper, and it was suggested that some of our tradesmen were almost as careful when weighing meats and groceries.

A valuable lesson in economy was pointed out, when Mr. Hall mentioned that even the water in which the mechanics wash their hands after a day's work was saved and boiled down to salvage the gold dust that would otherwise be lost.

Mr. Hall has been added to the YMCA's list of speakers and is expected to address other groups in the county shortly.

Bring an Old Broom

Announcement for the January Conference of County YMCA Group Leaders, which was held in the Willingboro YMCA Hall, Saturday evening, January 17th, started off as follows: "Bring an old broom."

"Not a blessed soul gets past the door at the next Leaders' Conference, in Willingboro's fine, big Hall, without an old broom! And it's got to be an old one, or he won't get in any more!"

Never mind why—we'll show you good and plenty when you get there! Better wear old clothes, too!"

After a most interesting program of talks, came the period under the direction of Samuel R. Jones, Jr., leader of the Calvary Group at Riverton, when the old brooms came into play. These were used for playing Broom Poles, a game invented by Mr. Jones. He also introduced the game of Dead Horse and Lights Out Skirmish.

Will Use Riverton Talent

Through arrangement with Loren B. Smith, Director of the Government Japanese Beetle Laboratories at Riverton, men connected with the Laboratory have been secured to give several practical talks out of extensive experience before different "Y" groups of the county. Mr. Smith talks on Hunting Big Game in Canada. One of his associates has done extensive research work in Japan and has many fine lantern slides with which he illustrates some of his experiences there. All of the men whom Mr. Smith has named as speakers have had college training, and have chosen subjects out of their experiences which will appeal to boys and young men of Group membership.

There is no good in arguing with the inevitable. The only argument available with an east wind is to put on your overcoat.

—James Russell Lowell.

NO FINES IMPOSED

At Hearing on Monday, Mayor Weart Talks to Violators of Snow Ordinance, and Prosecution Is Dropped

The much talked of "snow trial" was held in the courthouse Monday afternoon and resulted in more of a "goodfellowship" meeting, with everybody promising to support the Mayor and Council in the enforcement of the town laws, instead of the bitter scrap anticipated.

No one was fined and everyone had a jolly good time. The firehouse was crowded. Apparently every one of the thirty-five witnesses, and believed the monies for the violation of section one, ordinance 30, the "snow ordinance," had representatives or were on the scene themselves.

The court was presided by Justice of the Peace Fletcher. The borough solicitor, Joseph S. Low, read the ordinance and made the charges. Mayor James T. Weart was then called on the stand.

Mr. Weart briefly outlined the case, telling how he had ordered the police committee to notify citizens to clean their pavements Sunday, January 11, the snow having stopped falling the Friday night prior to this date. He stated that another survey of the town was not made until the following Thursday, more than 120 hours after the offenders had been notified.

Then only 10 per cent of the sidewalks remained uncleared. Mr. Weart pointed out how everyone had been given a fair chance to clean their pavements, the temperature rising to 56 the Tuesday after the notification.

The ordinance has been in effect for more than 30 years, but has been enforced in only a few cases. Many complaints were made that the sidewalk crossings were impossible, being covered with slush. The people insisted that since there was a law concerning this, it should be enforced also.

The Mayor said he was not in favor of fining citizens for not cleaning their pavements, but believed the town should clean them in case of neglect on the part of the residents.

He stated that a new ordinance would be drafted and that in the future, the sidewalks would be cleaned twenty-four hours after the end of the snowfall, would be cleaned by the borough at a charge of three cents per lineal foot.

Mr. Weart said the town was not anxious to go into the snow removal business and requested the people not to take advantage and figure it would be cheaper for the town to do the work. Everyone promised to support the new move and do the work or have it done, if possible.

The Mayor closed by saying it would be unjust to fine those who had not cleaned their sidewalks, as it had been impossible to notify all the offenders, and suggested that the case of all who had complied with the law be dropped.

Solicitor Low requested that charges be continued against the Methodist Cemetery, Martha Dickerson, Howard Haines, Wesley W. Davies, Louise Axtmann, W. Miller, Estate of Samuel Haines, Mary A. Joyce and the Young Men's Christian Association. These people were given twenty-four more hours to clean their pavements and most of them promised to do so at once.

The violation of the ordinance regarding bicycle riding on the pavements was brought up by former Township Committee Chairman John M. Davies. The Mayor and solicitor promised steps would be taken to enforce this law and keep the riders off the sidewalks.

H. S. GIRLS LOSE

Basket Ball Team Defeated by Haddon Heights

The Palmyra High School girls' basketball team lost to Haddon Heights, last year's New Jersey State champions, by a 34-14 score, in the Palmyra High gym last Thursday afternoon.

Although the local lassies put up a hard fight, the champs showed superiority at every stage of the game and easily romped away with the honors of the fray. Moore's proteges suffered lack of practice, and this made odds which could not be overcome against the championship team.

Helen Enskat, also of hockey fame, was the local star. This fair athlete scored nine of Palmyra's fourteen points.

The team is not scheduled to play again until the end of the month. The girls are practicing diligently and expect to bring home the bacon the next time.

The following participated in the initial fracas: Helen Enskat and Cora Elliott, forwards; Irene Snelson and Rosalie Roberts, centers; Helen Galt and Margaret Jenkins, side centers; Captain Marie Sexton and Catherine Cornman, and Helen Perkins, guards.

Charles R. Stout Heads State Association of Freeholders

At the annual meeting of the Association of Freeholders of New Jersey, held at the Court House, Trenton, on Monday of this week, Charles R. Stout, chairman of the Committee on Roads of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, and chairman of the County Republican Committee, was elected president of the Association.

Mr. Stout was the first secretary when the Association of Freeholders was organized five years ago, and has been a member of the Legislative Committee from the beginning. Fred Lippincott, member of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, was confirmed, members of the Board being as follows: Russ, Stout and Wright for confirmation, Lippincott against it, and the Director declining to vote.

Some time ago Judge Slaughter appointed as county adjudge Mr. Mary C. Fromm, of Edgewater Park, the Democratic candidate who contested the election for the office of County Clerk with William H. Reeves. The Board, however, having already appointed Mr. Stackhouse, refused to confirm the judge's appointment. It afterward became apparent that the appointment should come from the County Clerk and be confirmed by the Board of Freeholders and this action was taken at the meeting on Friday last.

Want Columbus Street Improved

Isaiah Haines, of Mansfield Township, asked the Board of Freeholders if the County would cooperate with his committee in improving Main street, Columbus. Freeholder Lippincott asked Mr. Haines to bring a resolution from the Township Committee setting forth just what is wanted and the length of the road to be improved. The matter will be further taken up next Friday.

Freeholder Lippincott also was delayed somewhere enroute, but arrived in time to sit in on the most important part of the business transacted.

To Improve Jacksonville Road

Under a resolution offered by Charles R. Stout, the Freeholders will take over the Jacksonville road from the Masonic Home to the Burlington City line and improve and maintain it as a county highway.

Burlington Township Will Pay $12,000

This resolution was passed after the Burlington Township Committee had agreed to appropriate $12,000 toward the cost of the improvement. The distance is nine-tenths of a mile. The road will be improved with the oil penetration system which is cheaper by some ten thousand dollars a mile than asphalt, and is said to make an excellent highway.

The resolution also provided that there should be a conference with the State Highway Commission with a view to getting state aid to improve the remainder of the road from the Burlington City line to the junction of the Jacksonville road with the State Highway.

Burlington Township Will Pay $12,000

This resolution was passed after the Burlington Township Committee had agreed to appropriate $12,000 toward the cost of the improvement. The distance is nine-tenths of a mile. The road will be improved with the oil penetration system which is cheaper by some ten thousand dollars a mile than asphalt, and is said to make an excellent highway.

The resolution also provided that there should be a conference with the State Highway Commission with a view to getting state aid to improve the remainder of the road from the Burlington City line to the junction of the Jacksonville road with the State Highway.

JESUS COMFORTS HIS DISCIPLES

LESSON TEXT—John 14:1-31.
GOLDEN TEXT—"I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father, but by me."—John 14:6.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Heavenly Home.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Walking in Christ's Way.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOP-IC—How Jesus Comforts His Disciples.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOP-IC—Sources of the Christian's Comfort.

The hopes of the disciples were utterly shattered when Jesus told them about the cross. Jesus had told them that He was going away, and that they could not follow Him. Their hearts were flooded with grief. He comforted them by

1. Pointing to the Reunion in the Father's House (vv. 1-3).

1. He Asks Them to Trust in Him
Even as God (v. 1). Faith in the God-man, Christ Jesus, will steady the heart, no matter how intense the grief or how great the sorrow.

2. He Informed Them That He Was Going to the Father's House in Heaven to Prepare a Home for Them (v. 2).
He assured them that there was an abundant room for all. Heaven is an eternal dwelling place.

3. He Assured Them That He Would Come Again and Escort Them to Heaven (v. 3). Jesus will not wait for His own to come to Him, but will come and call forth from the graves those who have died, and transform living believers, and take them all to be with Himself in the heavenly home forevermore (I Thess. 4:16-17).

II. Revealing the Way to the Father's House (vv. 4-11).

Jesus informed the disciples that they knew the place to which He was going and the way. To this Thomas interposed a doubt in answer to which Christ asserts that He is

1. The Way to God (v. 6). He is something more than a mere guide or teacher. He is the way itself. He is the door of the sheep-fold.

2. The Truth (v. 6). He is not merely the teacher, but the truth incarnate.
In His incarnation the spiritual and material worlds were united, therefore every line of truth whether spiritual or material converges in Him. No one who does not have Christ can ever have the real truth about anything. In Him we have the truth about man what he is, what he ought to be, and what he shall be in eternity. In Him especially we have the truth about God.

3. The Life (v. 6). Christ is not merely the giver of life, but He is the source of life. Only those who receive Christ have life in the true sense.
Since He is God incarnate, to know Him is to know God.

III. Assuring Them That His Work
Was to Continue (vv. 12-14).

Jesus' going away was not to end the work which He had begun. This no doubt meant that through the ministry of the Spirit-filled disciples, the work which Christ began would assume larger proportions. There would be a much greater number of conversions than under His ministry. After the Day of Pentecost the gospel did take a much wider range. During His ministry the message was confined to the Jews, while under the ministry of the disciples it was only limited by the world itself. The disciples' ministry was ushered in by the conversion of three thousand in one day.

IV. Promises Another Comforter
(vv. 15-17).

The word comforter means literally one called to the side of another to give help, protection and deliverance.
This comforter was the Holy Spirit.
Jesus was the Comforter while here in the body. The Holy Spirit was to be "another comforter."

V. Assuring Them of His Return to Them (vv. 18-24).

Although Christ went away He did not leave His disciples as orphans.
The Father and the Son make their abode with the disciples who love and obey Jesus Christ.

VI. Assuring Them That the Holy Spirit Would Aid Them in Remembering and Understanding His Words
(vv. 25-26).

This the Holy Spirit does by illuminating the minds of the disciples.
VII. Giving the Legacy of His Peace
(vv. 27-31).

By His peace is meant the serenity of soul which one enjoys who is reconciled to God, who knows that his sins are forgiven.

Doing Better

It is not a question of how much we are to do, but of how it is to be done.
It is not a question of doing more, but of doing better.—John Ruskin.

Duty

To the duty that lies nearest thee; which thou knowest to be a duty! The second duty will already become clearer.—Carlyle.

Tomorrow

Where is tomorrow? In another world? No, it is here. It is certain.
Thy reverse is sure to come.

Sorrow and Joy

Worldly joy ends in sorrow; godly sorrow ends in joy.

Faith

Faith in the holiness of God is the first uplifting force in religion. There is hope for the greatest sinner who can see the immaculate purity of God in contrast with his own sin. The vision of the sinless One reveals to us the sinfulness of our sins.—Christian

In the Love of God

You must grow in the love of God by means of the root, rather than the branches.

COMMUNISM AND RELIGION

The communist warfare against American institutions and ideals has not ceased with the election, disastrous as that was to the La Follette's socialist third party cause. It is still being waged and with increasing vigor. During the last campaign the Republicans pointed out the fact that the communists, socialists, and other radicals supporting La Follette had sinister designs upon the institutions of our country. The Republicans pointed out that communism stood for everything that was un-American, that it struck at the sanctity of the home, that it would take away the right for the wage earner to build himself a home and even to own it if he had built it, or to own property; that it would take the rights of education from his children and would greatly diminish, if not destroy, his earning power, thus bringing misery and suffering to his wife and loved ones.

It was also pointed out that the communists hated religion. The truth of these statements has been most forcefully confirmed by the statement of M. Zinovieff, head of the Third Internationale of Russia, who from Moscow, on Christmas Day, while admitting that the communists had gone ahead a little too vigorously in their campaign against religion and that they must hereafter proceed more subtly and cautiously, said they must go on. His exact language was as follows:

"We shall pursue our attacks on Almighty God in due time and in an appropriate manner. We are confident we shall subdue Him in His empire. We shall fight Him wherever He hides. Himself, but we must go about such a question as antireligious propaganda more carefully. Our campaign against God and religion must be carried out in a pedagogic way, not by violence or force."

Those who helped fight communism and its foul teachings must be ever on the watch against this thing which would destroy that which is clean and decent.

$25.00 FOR AMBULANCE

Several Contributions Received and Six Names Added to Honor Roll

Evidently many of the taxpayers were saving their money to pay fines in case of another snow during the last week, for the ambulance drive slowed up considerably.

Since Mayor Weart was lenient and did not fine the offenders who were summoned Monday, the people should now show their appreciation by contributing to a worthy cause. At least twenty-five names should be added to the honor roll by next Wednesday. Surely there are twenty-five people in Palmyra and Riverton who could afford to contribute one dollar each.

Large contributions by private citizens and organizations are big factors in the purchase and maintenance of the machine.

"We thank you"

Fire at Home of Albert L. Hawkins

The Riverton and Palmyra fire companies made a quick response to a blaze in the kitchen at the home of Albert L. Hawkins, 202 Elm avenue, Wednesday morning. Mrs. Hawkins was cleaning the gas range with gasoline, when the can caught fire from a small pilot light. She threw the can in the kitchen sink and the gasoline splashed and soon the wall caught fire. The firemen quickly checked the flames with small chemical extinguishers. Part of the wall, the sink and two small rugs were ruined.

CHAUTAUQUA SUCCESS

Program Will Be Given in Palmyra Again Next Year

The Chautauqua which opened in Palmyra last Friday afternoon and closed Monday night, was a huge success from the day of the kiddies' entertainment to the Friday afternoon to the play, "The Bubble," which drew a large crowd as the final feature Monday evening.

The high water mark in attendance was reached Monday night when more than five hundred people enjoyed the concluding entertainment. The Sunday evening entertainment was voted a huge success by all who attended.

In response to many requests the Chautauqua will be presented in Palmyra next year. It is planned to hold the affair later in the season, probably the latter part of February. Twenty-one guarantors have already been signed up.

The regular monthly meeting of the Burlington County Firemen's Association was held in the Bridgeboro fire house last (Wednesday) evening. Those attending from Riverton were Chief Ozden H. Mattis and Delegate Edward H. Flaz, Jr.

Chief Adams and William Crammer, of the Beverly Fire Company, thanked the companies who assisted them in extinguishing Beverly's fire on the 6th of January.

One of the subjects discussed at the meeting was the danger from the explosion of chemical tanks. Three instances were cited: one in Camden and two in Pennsylvania, where one man lost his life and two other men were seriously injured, when a tank exploded.

When the meeting adjourned refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bridgeboro Fire Company.

Three states now have woman governors: Texas, Wyoming and the State of Matrimony.

Pavements Quickly Cleaned

Last Friday afternoon the notices issued by the Director of Public Safety requiring the owners or occupants of properties to clear the snow and ice off their sidewalks, were distributed in every house in Riverton. The response was prompt and very general, nearly everyone showing a willingness to cooperate with the Borough authorities to get our pavements in passable condition. Tuesday morning's contribution of snow and slush was more promptly removed from sidewalks than has been done for a long time. The municipal snow plows were out on Tuesday before it stopped storming, clearing sidewalks and gutters.

Painted Their Way to Bright Future Ahead

(© 1924, Western Newspaper Union.)

ALAN DEANE felt in harmony with the world as he left the little vine-embowered cottage where the treasure of his heart was bestowed—Edna Wilton.

Alan was something of an artist. For a few months he assisted a scenic artist in getting up the scenes for a grand spectacular drama.

This led to his introduction to a successful manufacturer, who was making a specialty of his celebrated "Red Rose Soap." The man had got the idea of advertising the same on all the cliff sides he could find in Idaho. The more inaccessible the place, the more daring the feat of thus giving his soap publicity, the more liberally he was willing to pay.

With all arranged and a surety of good money ahead, Alan went to Edna and proposed. He had hesitated before because there was a rival in the field. There was one Burt Ridgeway. Edna had entirely disabused Alan's mind of the fear that she ever dreamed of Ridgeway as a possible suitor.

So he was very happy as he left the Wilton home in the early twilight. Suddenly, at a lonely spot, he heard a suspicious rustle, then quick footsteps. Alan turned just as some one fairly leaped upon him.

"Ridgeway, I've found you at last!" was blazed in his ear.

Alan was strong, his assailant no match for him. He twisted free of his feeble clutch, gave the man a push, and the latter fell to the ground.

"Oh, I've made a mistake," he said, quickly, regarding Alan more clearly. "It seems as if I've mistaken you for my rival."

Alan, with curiosity and pity commingled, regarding his assailant. "You spoke the name of Ridgeway, though. Were you looking for him? and is Burt Ridgeway your man?"

"Yes it is. I've been watching to come across him."

"Well, Ridgeway is away from the town; has been for a week," explained Alan. "You didn't have a very friendly welcome waiting for him, it seems."

He intimated "I guess not my usual news, though. See here, my man," added Alan, as the other arose and, in trying to keep his feet, staggered somewhat as though from sheer weakness, "you look and act as if you need help."

Alan was surprised, as the man, instead of replying in words, turned away from him and, leaning against a tree, seemed to be incoherently something about "great wrong," "ruin," "done to him—'diagnose,'" "ruin," a long tramp, the need of food and shelter.

Through it all ran a secret, bitter strain connected vaguely with Ridgeway, but the man did not explain further. Alan, in a kindly, considerate way, made a proffer of assistance. The result was that the poor wretch was comfortably housed at the little hotel in the village that night.

When Alan started out on his unique painting trip, the stranger, who was named Jim Prevost, accompanied him.

During a month bright, cheering letters followed Alan in his wilderness course. Then, although he wrote regularly, there came no replies.

One afternoon Alan and his companion had been working since day-break on a particularly perilous undertaking. Alan had left Prevost to put on the finishing touches and had gone to the near settlement to arrange for the removal of their traps.

Returning, his heart stood still as he neared the cliff. A man was hacking at the ropes sustaining the frail platform a hundred feet down. He sawed them through; there was a crash below a blood-curdling shriek.

"Ridgeway!" exclaimed Alan, in amazement and horror, and rushed at the villain. The latter, unmoved, as though he saw the wrath of the god he had intended to plunge to his doom, went down like a shot as Alan hit him, his head striking a rock. There he lay senseless.

Alan peered over the edge of the cliff. Clinging to a trailing cable swinging to and fro was his hapless rival. It was the work of a moment to descend, to venture down the swaying cable till Prevost could climb over him. Alan insisted that the terrified Prevost precede him to the cliff top. When he arrived there he found Prevost bending over the senseless man, his hands full of papers.

"The coward! the murderer!" cried Prevost, "The thought to murder you, to get you out of the way, so he could win your young lady, for see, I have found some of your letters in his pocket, which he must have intercepted. Documents, too, that will aid and clear me of a crime imputed to me, which made me so fugitive and of which he was solely guilty."

One month later, armed with a written confession from Ridgeway and the knife eliminated from their lives, Alan and Prevost completed their strange trip.

The one wedded to the beautiful girl he so loved, for the other, the man whom Alan Deane had so unwittingly defeated, the dark past cleared; there was to both a bright, promising future ahead.

Baffin Island Found to Contain Two Big Lakes

That the southern part of Baffin is land contains two lakes comparable in size with Lake Ontario, and that the island, which is almost 1,000 miles long from north to south, is nearly five times as large as Cuba, are some of the striking facts brought out in a report by F. D. Henderson, D. L. S., of the geological survey of Canada, says a writer in the Detroit News.

Mr. Henderson, in the capacity of surveyor and topographer, accompanied the 1923 Arctic expedition of the northwest territories branch, department of the Interior of Canada, under J. D. Craig, D. L. S. His duty was to survey lots for posts for the royal Canadian mounted police, the Hudson's Bay company and other private interests at the points at which the Canadian government steamer Arctic called, and to take magnetic observations and make topographical surveys wherever possible. Work at Craig Harbor, in latitude 70 degrees 11 minutes, is probably the most northerly survey of a parcel of land in any part of the world, certainly the most northerly part in Canada.

Music Hall Owner Asks for Jazz at Funeral

To the tune of "Yes, We Have No Bananas" and "At the Devil's Ball"—songs which have just reached rural France—the body of Pierre Tanto, music-hall proprietor of Ambiens, was laid to rest in that town recently, writes the Paris correspondent of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

In his will Tanto insisted that no lugubrious music be played at his obsequies.

"I want the best jazz band from Paris and the liveliest tunes they can find," he said. "If it is possible, I should like the musicians to have a dance in the cemetery."

Scandalized officials prevented the last request from being carried out, but 10,000 people followed the "jazz funeral" from the church to the cemetery.

In the church a minor concession had been made by the organist playing the "Cortege Triumphant" instead of the customary march from Chopin.

To Grow Eucalyptus

The culture of eucalyptus trees may be largely extended in this country if experiments now being conducted by the United States forest service prove successful. A forest service agent recently found a species of the eucalyptus known as the "Snow Gum," growing in Australia under conditions that are fatal to the usual varieties of the tree. The "Snow Gum" is said to be able to withstand freezing temperatures as low as 10 degrees below zero.

The tree is now being raised at the forest service station at Asheville, N. C., and if it survives winter conditions other trees of the same species will be used to plant arid slopes in the Southwest where native trees have difficulty in becoming established.

One Type of Snake

Perhaps the only snake of importance that has been recorded in Porto Rico is of the non-venomous type. This can be partially explained by the fact that owing to the density of population many forms of animal life that once occurred are now extinct. It is known that this fact is true of some of the forms of bird life.

The monitor or sea cow is found rarely, and turtles are rare except in the east end of the island, where the hawk's-bill and green turtles are found. The lizards, on the other hand, are very prevalent. There are ten common types of lizards, ranging from the small tree lizard to the larger ground lizards.

HOLES LEAD FOR AFTERNOON GOWN

AMONG other two-faced but pretty things that go to make up this mysterious and enchanting world there is much admired and adds greatly to its popularity. Designers seem to find pleasure in contrasting its bright satin side with its dull silk side, and by this means they add interest to the frocks made of it. For the simplest afternoon dresses this use of two surfaces is often the only decorative element. In these the satin surface is used outside in one-piece frocks, which are banded by the material with the dull surface outward. Bands usually extend across the front and sides of skirts and sometimes are introduced in the sleeves.

When greater elaboration is required with this double-surfaced material, furnishings and fancy buttons, or cabochons, or narrow fancy braids may be introduced. An attractive two-piece frock, shown in the picture, is an example. Its skirt, made with crepe side out, has three inverted plaits at each side. The front portion, which wraps across from right to left, is turned back, revealing the satin side, which forms a panel. The bodice is an over-bodice, in which bands are set together, alternating the two surfaces. It has a round neck and fastens at the left side, where it is bordered with a band of fur. Inside the fur band a border of small jet cabochons is placed. The sleeves are finished in the same way. Long loops of the material, satin side out, hang from the shoulders at the back, contriving to add the flowing and graceful lines that give the costume unity.

Because of its two surfaces and for other very good reasons, crepe satin lends the procession of fabrics popular for afternoon gowns, and for fun it disputes supremacy with crepe de chine. Even in expensive grades it is rich looking, highly lustrous on the satin side and not easily wrinkled. Added to these are dependable wearing qualities.

GOOD THINGS YOU WILL LIKE

Here is a pudding that you will enjoy when the cool days whet the appetite for rich food:
Grateful Pudding.—To a pound of flour add a pound of white bread crumbs, finely grated. Take eight eggs, but half of the whites; beat well and mix with a pint of new milk. Stir in the bread and flour, a half pound each of raisins and currants, one-half pound of sugar, and a little minced candied ginger. Mix well, pour into a baking dish and bake until firm. Cream instead of milk will make a much richer pudding.
Philadelphia Pepper Pot.—Wash a small knuckle of veal, slice one large onion and cover both with three quarts of cold water and place on the back of the range and let slowly come to the boiling point. Simmer for several hours, then strain and set away to cool. Skim free from fat, add two potatoes cut into small pieces, half a bay leaf, a few sprays of parsley chopped fine, and the meat from the veal joint cut into small pieces and freed from gristle. Boil slowly, just long enough to cook the potatoes, then season to taste with salt, pepper, and thicken with a heaping tablespoonful each of flour and butter rubbed to a paste. Add dumplings or noodles to the soup and serve.

Schnitz and Kneep.—Soak a pint or more of sun-dried apples over night; these are the schnitz in the morning; place a ham bone on which there is some meat in cold water to cover and simmer for an hour; then add the soaked, drained apples and cook until they are very tender. Sprinkle with a little brown sugar to make slightly sweet and continue to simmer another ten minutes or more. Now the kneep, which are very nice dumplings, are prepared thus: Beat two eggs well, one cupful of sweet milk, a pinch of salt, a tablespoonful of melted butter and a teaspoonful of baking powder sifted with enough flour to make a stiff batter. Drop by teaspoonfuls into the boiling schnitz and cover closely, cooking ten minutes without removing the cover. Serve in a deep dish with the apples and liquor over the dumplings.

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE
When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill all the white squares to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

KITTIE AT THE SODA FOUNTAIN

Colorado Springs, Colo., on an elevated plateau (6,000 feet) near the east base of Pike's Peak, is pleasantly laid out with wide shaded streets. It is the principal health resort of Colorado, and people come here from many other countries to enjoy its fine climate. From November until March the average temperature is 20 degrees Fahrenheit.

The town is sheltered by foothills except to the southeast, where it lies open to the great plains, and being situated where they meet the mountains, it enjoys an openness and free supply of fresh air like the sea-shore, without its dampness.

It is also a favorite pleasure resort in the summer time, being in the midst of some of the grandest scenery in the world. The Manitou springs are near, and five miles away is the famous Garden of the Gods. The view of the mountains from Colorado Springs is magnificent. Pike's Peak (14,108 feet) dominates the scene, rearing its snowy crest about six miles to the west of the town. While in Colorado Springs a few summers ago we were interested one morning in a pretty black and white cat. We went into a drug store for a soda. There on the counter was Kittie and in front of her a glass with a bit of cream in the bottom. The glass was too small for her to get her head down into it to lap up the cream. So she just took her little black paw, put it down into the glass, covered it with the yellow cream, and so on until the cream was all gone. The clerk told us that Kittie had her "soda" in "it" every day.

LOOKING AHEAD

Dolly was thinking. She was looking ahead. Of course she could not actually see ahead but she could think ahead and that was almost the same as seeing.

She could think of the Christmas tree and of how much she would enjoy it.

She would enjoy it not only at Christmas time but through into the New Year for the tree would last that long.

She remembered the tree they had had last year.

At the top there had been a little, bright, toy bird. And the lights from the tree showed in the ceiling and danced there.

There had been decorations on the tree which had looked like icicles and there had been so many different colored lights and tinsel all over it.

Then her neighbor Danny would have a tree too. She remembered last year Danny had been given a waterproof coat and hat for Christmas, but for a long time afterward there had been no rain.

So Danny's father had let Danny put on his waterproof coat and hat and had taken the watering can and had poured water over Danny to make believe it was raining.

Dolly had enjoyed that. Danny had too!

There had been many decorations on Danny's tree as there had been many decorations on Dolly's tree—pretty little toys, all sorts of fancy things.

They had kept these and they were going to put them by the tree this year.

Then when Santa Claus came he would use these with which to decorate the tree too. They would all help.

And it was fun both to help Santa Claus and to see any of the lovely Christmas decorations again and again. They became "favorite" decorations.

Then there was Fred who lived down the street. He was thinking, too, what sort of a tree they would have this year.

Sometimes the tree had been a tall, thin one, and sometimes it had been a shorter, fatter one.

He thought of all kinds and he talked to Dolly and wondered with her what kind they would have this year.

He, too, loved thinking ahead about Christmas.

He spoke of the tree which would stand up in the square of the village. It would be lighted up and it would be a lovely sight. Of course there would be no toys on that tree, for that tree would just be for the village and the village itself didn't want toys.

Plenty in the village did—but not the village itself!

He wondered if the trains would come in and look as though they too had been decorated for Christmas. They had looked that way last year.

There had been icicles hanging down from the trains and there had been snow on the pieces of coal in the coal cars. It seemed as though they, too, were celebrating Christmas!

Dolly looked ahead and thought ahead, too, of New Year's Eve when the bells in the village would ring at the midnight hour and she would awaken for a few minutes and hear them. There would be a great deal of noise for a little while—then all would be quiet again.

You would be able to hear the voices of people, too, as they sang out New Year wishes to each other.

Then Dolly's mother would give her a crisp dollar bill on New Year's morning.

There would be skating and pond-sliding and they would have to make a very handsome snow man so he could see the holiday excitement too.

The sleds would all be brought up from the cellars or down from the garrets and there would be all sorts of out-of-door fun.

There wouldn't be any lessons, nor would there be those days when somehow or other you didn't feel so very bright and when the lessons seemed so stubborn.

For it would be holiday time. And the chipmunks and the birds—some sitting as sentinels and guards for others, would play. Many of the birds had gone south.

But there would be the nuthatches and the woodpeckers. The woodpeckers would be as greedy as ever, but they were wonderful birds even if they did stuff themselves with the sweet lady put out for them.

Oh, it was fun to think ahead and look ahead!

OPPOSES FEDERAL RAIL OWNERSHIP

Government Operation Would Mean Increased Taxation for General Public, Says Rail Head.

Opposition to Government ownership of the railroads, not because of the interests of the present owners but rather because of the burdens and disadvantages the change would impose upon the people as a whole, was expressed by C. H. Markham, president of the Illinois Central Railroad, in an address before the recent convention of the American Bankers Association.

"We have never favored Government ownership as a national policy," Mr. Markham said. "If the railroads are taken over by the Government, we must face the fact that the big step in reversing our old and settled policy will be taken. If there is no particular reason why the Government should not own and run the railroads, is there any reason why it should not take over also the banks, the stores, the factories, the farms, until all of us are Government employees and the ideal of the soviet is attained? The railroads are the first line of defense against those who would make this country a second Russia."

"The railroads have about 2,000,000 employees, approximately as many employees as there are in all the Government services—Federal, State, county and municipal—put together. If the railroads are taken over by the Government, there will be one Government employee out of every ten wage earners in the country, instead of one out of every twenty, as at present."

Doubling Taxation

"Then, too, there is the matter of taxation. The railroads, under private ownership, are among our heaviest taxpayers. Last year they paid taxes amounting to $5 for every man, woman and child in the country. Some counties, particularly in the Middle West, the railroads pay from 10 per cent to nearly 50 per cent of the taxes collected. Under Government ownership, the railroads would be no more subject to taxation than the post offices now are. In some way the Government would have to make up the difference of $5 a head for every person in the country. In many counties the taxes on the railroads properly would have to be nearly doubled. The result would be an unbearable burden that might force many of our local governments to stop payments on their bonds and go into bankruptcy. The tax problem would be a great deal more vexatious than it is today."

Moreover, too, the acquisition of the railroads would add more than twenty billion dollars to our national debt. If Government railroads in this country were no more successful than they are elsewhere today in the world, the interest on that twenty billion of purchase price would be the cause for additional burdens on the taxpayers left to carry it. As the tax burden developed, it would not be surprising to see other industries welcoming Government ownership for themselves. They would gain immunity from taxation in turn, and their owners probably would be protected from loss. The Constitution prevents the confiscation of private property, and Government ownership can be accomplished only by paying a fair price for the properties taken over.

Bad for Public

"I do not oppose Government ownership of the railroads on behalf of the present owners of the railroads, many of whom would obtain safety in Government bonds in return for securities which have not paid a return in years. I oppose Government ownership of the railroads because I believe that it would be bad for our people as a whole. It would open the way to Government ownership of everything, and at the same time it would certainly lead to the wrecking of our highly essential railway service, if the lessons of experience offered by other nations mean anything at all to us."

The Missouri Bankers Association inter-county contest for boys' and girls' clubs is the result of action taken at the annual convention, when $1,600 was provided for premiums. The premiums, not less than $25 each, are to be awarded to counties to pay the expenses of club winners in junior farmers' week at the Missouri College of Agriculture. $100 is to be used to pay the expenses of the state championship demonstration team to the meeting of the Bankers Association, where the team will present its winning demonstration.

STEPPING AHEAD OF THE BANK CROOK

Bankers Association Official Gives Rules to Foil Criminals and Avoid Loss.

By JAMES E. BAUM,
Manager Protective Department
American Bankers Association

The direct cost of all crimes in this country has now reached its highest peak. Statistics reveal startling increases in nearly every type of crime during the past ten years. The total financial loss through the operations of criminals is estimated at more than $3,000,000,000 for this year. A few of the items follow:

Embezzlement	120,000,000
Auto theft	100,000,000
Burglary, larceny, and petty thefts	250,000,000
Forgery, including worthless and bogus checks	100,000,000
Swindling, including insurance frauds	100,000,000
Railroad thefts	25,000,000
Stock frauds	1,700,000,000
Insurance frauds	1,000,000,000
Treason	25,000,000
Miscellaneous	25,000,000

I am giving cold figures, not to startle any one unless it be toward more extreme care in handling and safeguarding funds and valuables. Right here let me quote rules to help foil criminals known as "check passers" or "scratchers"; they will help you to avoid serious loss:

1. Never write checks with a pencil. Use pen and ink or, if possible, a check printer.
2. Fill in all blank spaces.
3. Don't erase. Errors should be corrected by writing a new check and destroying those incorrectly written.
4. Never give a blank check to a stranger and never cash a stranger's check without an indorsement which you have received.
5. Make checks payable to "cash" or "bearer" only when you personally present them at your bank. Otherwise use the name of the person you intend shall receive the payment.
6. Never place your signature alone as an indorsement on checks you intend to deposit. Write above or below your signature the words "For deposit only."
7. Never sign blank checks. If you expect to be absent any length of time open a separate account subject to check of your employees or agent.
8. Guard your cancelled vouchers as you would a valid check, leaving none where they may be easily taken.
9. Keep your check books securely locked up and be careful how and where you sign or exhibit your signature.
10. Beware of the magic of the word "certified." Ordinary certification stamps can be duplicated almost as easily as any other rubber stamp, which apparently bears the makers' "O. K." or other form of approval. These stamps more easily forged than the full signature.
11. Watch the upper line of your checks. If the words "For deposit only" are written there, they should be destroyed as otherwise your signature will prevent loss by first writing the date of amount deposited and then printing your account name.
12. Safeguard your checks as you would your money. They are more easily lost than cash.

The bankers' campaign for everybody to "pay by check" has borne fruit. It has been estimated that today more than 95 per cent of the business of the U. S. is transacted by the use of checks or other credit instruments. That means about six and one-half billion checks will be written by bank depositors in this country during 1924 and they will total about $200,000,000,000 in amount, or one hundred times the money in circulation.

Bankers War on Crooks
The average bank depositor when queried as to what his bank does to protect his deposits, will probably tell you they are kept in a great vault and that armed watchmen are employed, as well as an elaborate and efficient burglary and robbery alarm system. He may not know that the $3,000,000,000 banks comprising the American Bankers Association have constantly and conveniently available an army of highly trained specialists who wage a continuous and relentless warfare against the bank criminal. These operatives are within easy reach of any member bank. Criminals know that if they attack a member bank they are attacking one of the most powerful and effective protective organizations in existence.

Another medium by which bankers prevent many financial crimes or losses is the warnings continually broadcast from the American Bankers Association and forty-eight state bankers associations. These warnings keep the trap constantly set and carry out the Association's plan of crime prevention as contrasted with detection.

Danger Ahead

American farmers should not increase their wheat acreage for 1924. If they increase the acreage by three million acres, as is indicated by the Intentions to Seed Wheat Survey of the government, and normal conditions again prevail in other wheat producing countries, next year's wheat market will be glutted and once more wheat prices will be ruinously low. The present high price of wheat is due to poor crops in other countries and in certain sections of the United States.—W. M. Jardine, Advisory Council, Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association.

Simple Battery Charging Outfit

Method Which Will Give Satisfactory Service at Small Cost.

By J. L. RIFKIN

More and more storage B batteries are now coming into general use as fans are realizing that it is cheaper to buy a storage B battery once than to buy dry-cell B batteries every few months.

Many fans who have such storage B batteries, however, have some difficulty in charging them correctly.

If you have direct current lighting in your house charging your storage B battery is a very simple matter. The illustration shows how it is done. A 15-watt tungsten lamp is placed in series with the B battery and the battery is left "on charge" for about sixteen hours, or until the hydrometer readings show the battery to be fully charged. The exact charging time cannot be given, as it varies with the size or make of the particular battery. If the house wiring is of the A. C. or alternating current type, a rectifier will be needed to convert the alternating current into direct current, since B batteries cannot be charged on alternating current.

Tungsten Lamp Is Placed in Series With B Battery.

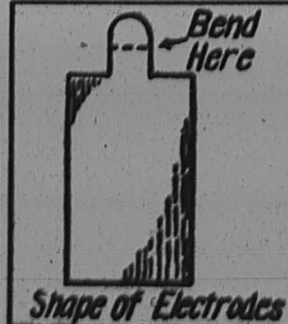

nating current. This rectifier can be easily made by the fan at a very small cost.

Get a mason jar or other wide-mouthed jar and fill it with water. Into this water dissolve pure borax powder until an added ounce falls to the bottom of the jar without being dissolved. This solution is then said to be "saturated."

The plates for the rectifier are now made. These plates are simply a strip of aluminum and a strip of sheet lead. The ends of the plates are looped over the top of the jar and serve as connection posts.

One A. C. terminal is connected to the negative terminal of the battery. The positive terminal of the battery is then connected to the aluminum plate of the rectifier. The lead plate is connected to one terminal of a 25-watt tungsten lamp, the other terminal of the lamp going to the remaining A. C. terminal. The illustration will clear up any points you may not understand.

The first time the outfit is used the lamp will light up brightly for ten or fifteen minutes and will then dim. This does not mean that the charges is not working. On the contrary, it shows that the battery is charging correctly and that the rectifier is functioning properly.

A whitish deposit will be formed on the electrolysis of the solution and should be scraped off the electrode with a sharp knife. The electrode will also be slowly eaten away by the action of the rectifier, but it can be replaced with a fresh plate when ever necessary.

If you wish to charge the battery at a quicker rate a 40-watt tungsten lamp is substituted for the 25 watt. The 25-watt lamp, however, will give a better charge and is to be preferred. The B battery should be left to charge overnight or longer if news ary, about once a month. Do not neglect to replace used-up electrodes with fresh ones and to change the borax solution from time to time.

The writer believes this method of charging storage B batteries the simplest yet devised, giving good results. By its use, one can save the expense of a costly new dry-cell B battery every once in a while. A fully charged B battery is also much more efficient and noiseless than the average dry-cell type of B battery after a few weeks of use.—New York Herald

Sound Volume Is Less With Loose Coupling

Many fans know that a single-circuit receiver is regarded as one of the worst types of radiating receivers—that is, receivers which send out radio waves of their own and thus spoil concerts for neighbors of receiving sets in the neighborhood of at least five city blocks.

But not all fans are aware of the fact that tightly coupled double and triple circuit sets are just as bad (if not worse) radiators of radio waves. Tightly coupled circuits are circuits in which the induction coils (such as the rotor and stator of a vacuum tube, etc.) are very close together—that is, the "clearance" between them is very small.

The looser the coupling between the coils, the less likelihood of radiation and also the more selective the tuning of the set. Of course, it is also true that the sound volume is less with loose coupling than with tight coupling.

Study how to reduce the evil of radiation.

Large Dials Best

Three-inch dials are about as small as will afford suitable grip for operating and, four-inch dials are better. Even a three and a half-inch is better than the smaller size. If small dials are used, however, the principal tuning control might have a large dial and knob. Fine adjustment is impossible with a tiny knob.

Where Bankers Come From

The smaller localities are to a large extent the recruiting ground for the profession of banking. A recent survey discloses the fact that of 693 senior bank officers in the largest cities of the United States, 466, or 66 per cent, were born in the country or in small towns.

Of the 692 senior bankers of large cities, 527, or approximately 75 per cent, had a high school or college education. The conclusion is reasonable that the smaller environment, coupled with an education, makes for success in the banking field.—American Bankers Association Journal.

Christ Church Wins

The boys' basketball team of Christ Church, Palmyra, won its first game by defeating Masonville, 12-6, Sunday morning at the Zurbrugg hospital, Riverside, and Tuesday morning at 8:30 Mrs. David LaBianco, of Garfield avenue, was taken to the Meriden Chiropractical hospital, Philadelphia.

Joseph L. Stack was the driver on each of the trips and he was assisted by Mrs. Stack as the nurse.

TAX RATE LOWER

Borough and School Rates Both Reduced. Probable Cut 80 Cents

There was cheering news for the citizens of Palmyra at the meeting of Borough Council Tuesday evening, when announcement was made that the tax rate for 1923 would probably be 40 cents lower than last year.

Palmyra's tax rate last year was $4.76 per hundred of assessed valuation, the highest point ever reached in the history of the town.

A considerable saving was effected in Borough expenses when the budget for this year was arranged, and in addition to that, the amount of taxable property will be greater.

A decrease of about 20 cents is forecast in the Borough tax, and another saving of like amount is expected in the school tax. While the exact figures on the State and County tax is yet to be given, it is not likely they will be greater than last year.

This tax rate reduction is accomplished despite the fact that a new item of $3000 for garbage and ash collection has been added.

Street Commissioner Lees called attention to the newspapermen present to the fact that the increase of $500 in the street fund was not really an increase after all, inasmuch as it represented the paying back of a like amount loaned to the shade tree commission last year.

New Policeman

Increases were made in the salaries of the police officers. Chief Beck will receive $1900 a year, Officer Rodgers $1700, Officer Wallace $1500. In addition to this there will be a new policeman, Lawrence Retty, Jr., who will receive $1300.

Protest Flimsy Buildings

Quite a delegation of citizens was present on Delaware avenue to protest against some of the building operations of Dr. R. H. Lamb. He said Lamb had turned a barn into a house, which had been rented to a family for a while, and that the Doctor had turned a fire-truck into a house, which no insurance company would insure, and consequently was a menace to the neighborhood.

New Snow Ordinance

The new snow ordinance, promulgated by the Mayor at Monday's trial, was passed on first and second readings, with minor changes. Instead of a $500 fine for each case, the borough has to do the work, it was found advisable to fix no definite figure, and assess charges according to the amount of labor necessary. Then a fine of $500 was provided, which Mayor Weart explained, would be levied in case the offender was a tenant instead of owner. Liens can be placed against properties occupied by owners, but it would not be fair to clean his works.

Mayor Resents C. of C. Letter

Mayor Weart read a communication from the Chamber of Commerce, in which that body termed the action of town officials in relation to the snow situation as "hasty and ill-considered." The Mayor considered this letter entirely uncalled for, and as showing very little consideration to the Mayor and Council. He registered an official protest against the communication and offered a motion that the Chamber of Commerce be requested to expunge it from the Chamber's minutes. This resolution was unanimously passed by Council.

Under the new garbage ordinance the following commission was appointed: Mayor, George N. Wimer, chairman; George N. Wimer, and Joseph A. Davis.

RECTOR FOR RECTOR

Rev. W. H. Higgins Greeted at Christ Church Parish House

A hearty reception was given the Rev. William H. Higgins, the new rector of Christ Church, Palmyra, in the parish house Monday evening.

The Rev. Frederick Blaser, of the Central Baptist Church, delivered the address of welcome, and the Rev. Mr. Higgins responded in a fitting manner.

An appropriate musical program was rendered by Mrs. Stanley Lippincott, soloist; a quartet composed of Mrs. Ralph Rivers, Mrs. Luther Turner, Alfred Van Osten and John Ward; a harp solo by Anthony Geanetti, and selections by the orchestra.

Miss Caroline Higgins, the new rector's daughter, assisted her father in receiving.

The parish house was beautifully decorated, refreshments were served, and all the hundred or more present spent a most enjoyable evening.

DEATHS

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Clover

Mrs. Elizabeth C. Clover, 84 years old, a resident of Palmyra for many years, died at her home, 332 Garfield avenue, early Tuesday morning, after a long illness.

Funeral services will be held from her late residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with the Rev. Harry L. Saul, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, officiating. Interment will be made in Moravian cemetery with funeral director Frank A. Snover in charge.

Mrs. Clover, who was the widow of Manning R. Clover, is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth R. Kummer, who made her home with her mother, and a son, George B. Clover, of 514 Garfield avenue.

Property Transfers

The Edward Sexton property, 735 Garfield avenue, has been sold to Robert Lambert, who has been occupying it.

The Charles Rosenberg property, 617 Cinnaminson street, Riverton, has been purchased by Mr. and Mrs. William McCreedy, after making repairs thereto, will move in. Both of these sales were made through John S. Warner, of Palmyra.

F. G. Sterling has purchased another property through the F. E. Chambers agency. Mr. Sterling and his family will move into their new home in the spring and will sell their large bungalow on Leconey avenue.

SENATE FAVORS BANK INQUIRY

Upper House Passes Motion of Essex Man to Probe Handling Loan Bodies by Department.

STILL FEAR DRY LEAGUE

Simpson's Repealer Thrown to Leaders—Legislation Realizes Potency of Leader's Bill—Governor Slicer's Suggestion Likely to Be Delayed.

Trenton.—An investigation of the State Department of Banking and Insurance is provided in a joint resolution passed by the Senate. The resolution, introduced by Senator J. Henry Harrison of Essex, provides for a committee of six members, three to be named by the president of the Senate and three by the speaker of the House. Attorney General Katzenbach was named counsel to the committee and $15,000 was appropriated for the work.

The resolution was a substitute of that of Senator Mackay, of Bergen, introduced last week. Senator Simpson of Hudson, commenting on the new resolution, said he did not know why a substitute was put through, and that while he was not against an investigation because he believed confidence should be re-established in the department, he believed there was too much rush and hurry about it.

The proposed investigation is the result of the alleged shortage of $250,000 recently found in the accounts of a Hackensack building and loan association and which covered a period of at least ten years.

A resolution providing for a referendum on the Child Labor Amendment to the Constitution at the coming November election was referred to the committee on Judiciary of the Senate. The resolution was presented by Senator Larson of Middlesex, majority leader, as a result of a conference of the Republican Senators. The proposed referendum was advocated by Speaker Powell of the House.

Among the bills introduced was one providing an appropriation of $15,000 for two bridges, one between Elizabeth and Howland Hook and one between Perth Amboy and Tottenville, R. I. The bill provides that the appropriation be made in five annual installments of $300,000 each.

Senator Roberts, Burlington, introduced a resolution providing for the ratification by the House and Senate of the Child Labor Amendment. He said it was the plain duty of the Senate to pass on the ratification, adding that a referendum was an evasion of responsibility. He declared he intended to press his resolution for passage.

A bill offered by Senator Harrison, Essex, would give banks and trust companies the right to establish branch offices with the consent of the State Department of Banking.

A resolution by Senator Larson, Middlesex, memorializes Congress to pass an act to prevent lynching. Another resolution asks Congress to adopt an act which would provide for co-operation in fighting pollution of waters along Jersey coast resorts.

A letter was received by the Senate from the Grand Jury of Union County calling attention to the violation of the old blue law by the opening of Elizabeth theaters on Sundays. The communication was referred to committee.

In the planning of the letter before the Senate is forecast an attempt to amend the old law and thwart prosecution of offenders by the Elizabeth Ministers' Association.

Senate Bill No. 1 by Senator Mackay, Hudson, which authorizes the Port Authority to build a bridge across the Hudson from Manhattan to Fort Lee, with an appropriation of $150,000 for borings and engineering plans, was reported favorably out of the Highways Committee.

An Assembly measure, known as the Bible Bill, which authorizes the reading of the New Testament in the public schools of the State, was reintroduced by Assemblyman Bruno of Monmouth. The bill, introduced last year by Kenworthy of Essex, was defeated. The fight on the measure was headed by Harrison of Essex and Richards of Atlantic.

Majority Leader Chandler, Bergen, introduced a joint resolution providing for an investigation of working conditions for women in the State. About 100 other bills were introduced.

Simpson's Repealer Discussed

Of course nobody expects the Republican Legislature to give serious consideration to Senator Simpson's bill, introduced at the opening session, repealing the State dry enforcement law. The Senator himself, leader of the tiny minority of three in the Senate, has no hope that it will even emerge from committee, but he does believe that it represents the desire of a decided majority of the people of the State as expressed at the polls upon diverse occasions and that it will place the Republicans on record for the coming campaign for Governor. Perhaps that is the underlying purpose of the measure, but if it was the majority will be obliged to show its hand.

That, to be sure, will bring the issue directly before the legislative session at a time when the Republican leaders had rather hoped to get it shelved more or less effectively. Not a few of them are mindful of the fact that it cannot successfully be evaded in the coming campaign and that it may be necessary to name a candidate for Governor who cannot be put in the ultra-dry class, as has been the case in two successive and disastrous defeats.

In the thoughtful consideration of the outlook the party leaders will be forced to the conclusion that the voters of the State will not stand for a candidate backed by the Anti-Saloon League, but in a dash as to

BAKER BLUE SOX LOSE

Both Teams Defeated by Greystock Club

After eight consecutive wins on the home court, the Baker Blue Sox basketball team dropped a double header to the strong Greystock Club, of Philadelphia, Tuesday night at the Temple gym. Baker's varsity colors were lowered with a 22-19 score and the reserves did not fare so well, being trounced by a 25-10 count.

Captain Russ Davis played a bang-up game and romped away with the local honors, also pocketing the majority of the local tallies. He was ably assisted in his brilliant work with flashy passing by "Clay" Weikman. Woods was the visitors' bright spot, entering ten points for his quintette.

Greystock finished third last year in the Strawbridge & Clothier tournament, in which eighty teams competed. The Quaker City boys displayed great form which was almost matched by the local passers. The first half of the big game ended 14-11 in favor of Greystock.

Next Tuesday the Blue Sox take on the strong St. Winifred's Club, of Camden. Many crackerjack teams are booked and the fans are always assured of a snappy exhibition. DeLancey is scheduled for the following Tuesday.

What to do without the support of the dry vote others will probably exert such influence to prevent the nomination of a more liberal candidate. United States Senator Edge had no hesitation in standing unequivocally and bluntly for modification in his campaign for re-election, and his majority was more than 800,000, in a contest with Mayor Dennis D. DeLoach, who was just as openly, and probably a bit stronger, for the moist side of the controversy.

With that result standing out so clearly and conspicuously the Republicans will have some difficulty in composing their differences upon the important question and the legislative session will undoubtedly give it emphasis. The Simpson bill, therefore, may seem doubtful, but the Senator will be in position to keep it before the people to the very end.

As had been expected, Governor Slicer opened the way for further discussion of the tax reduction problem in his annual message to the Legislature, but nothing is likely to come of it. The Governor offered no new form of solution, but referred back to his plan of having the Board of Taxation and Assessment clothed with power to review county and municipal bond issues and annual budgets. That power, it was then argued, might result in healthy reductions of debts and, per sequence, taxes. It was a bit too much, however, for the lawmakers, who heard from the municipal bodies, and nothing ever came of it.

It was evident from the tenor of his message that the Governor entertained no false fancies with respect to his plan, but referred to it merely as a suggestion to which the people might turn if they felt there was any possibility of lighter tax burdens.

Renew Bobolink Protection Fight

With the convening of the Legislature comes the announcement from the headquarters of the New Jersey Audubon Society in Newark that the fight for right and justice in behalf of the bobolink, or reed bird, and its beneficiaries is to be renewed with vigor. It was in the session of 1916 that the society first launched its campaign to correct what it described as a cruel and economic anomaly in the New Jersey laws, whereby the bobolink is designated as a game bird, although pre-eminently a song and insectivorous bird with no game qualification. Since that time, with the exception of the brief period when the regulations of the Federal Migratory Bird Law protected the bobolink in New Jersey, and the equally brief protection of the 1911 Audubon Law, repealed the following year, the society has fought the battle for the bobolink continuously to the limit of its resources.

The society declares that propaganda against bobolink protection rests entirely on misrepresentation. Quoting from United States Department of Agriculture experts, it shows that in the five months the bird is to be found in New Jersey insects form an average of 87.1 per cent, vegetable matter (chiefly weed seed) 42.9 per cent of its food. In May and July insects form 80 per cent and in June 90 per cent, falling off rapidly through August and reaching a minimum in September. In August, however, the food is from 65 to 70 per cent weed seed, and from the first of September this increases rapidly to nearly 100 per cent.

Expenditures of $18,705,522 were made by the Governor Slicer in his budget message. This is an increase of $1,709,924 over the corresponding appropriation of last year, though $3,844,052 less than the requests received by the Governor from various State departments and institutions.

Of the total recommended $14,819,000 will be appropriated from general State funds, the balance being represented by appropriations from school funds, fees of the motor vehicle department, fish and game receipts and other sources of income reappropriated on the basis of amounts collected.

Governor Slicer again protested against the practice of providing for automatic increases of salaries as a stumbling block to the conservation of State funds. He said he felt obliged to reduce the application for legislative employees in the hope that that body would see the wisdom of abolishing "the deplorable custom of spending State funds for political favors."

Of the appropriation recommended $6,437,770 would go to State institutions and agencies, $4,437,854 to educational purposes, $2,413,321 to regulatory branches of the government; $1,501,652 to executive and administrative branches; $902,690 to judicial branches; $229,739 for military purposes; $729,846 to agriculture; $300,000 to special funds; $258,826 to pension and retirement funds; $103,341 for legislative expenses; $216,000 for constructive purposes, and the balance for various general governmental needs.

Mink is pre-eminently an American fur-bearing animal. It is found in almost every part of the American continent from the eastern part of Canada, where it is a small, silky animal, to Arizona, where it is much larger and its fur is coarser, with yellowish tones near the skin. A mink-fur expert can tell from just what locality the fur comes.

Concerning Rat Names

The pet name for Mary is Polly, and although this may seem rather a jump, it is a curious fact that the M initial is often changed to a P. Maggie, from Margaret, becomes Peg or Peggy, while the pet name for Martha is either Matty or Patsy. Pet names seem to know no law.

When the Business Started

No. 2—Riverton Ice and Cold Storage Company

The transition from the use of natural ice, cut from the Delaware river and nearby ponds, with all the attendant danger of sickness from the pollution of the source of supply, to the use of clean, sanitary ice, manufactured from pure artesian well water, is but a short step, yet it is sometimes years before the dreams of the pioneers in this and other lines of endeavor come true.

After having felt for a long time that Riverton should have a modern ice and cold storage plant, the hopes of J. Lawrence Lippincott were realized when the Riverton Ice and Cold Storage Company was incorporated in 1907, with an authorized capital stock of $10,000. The incorporators were J. L. Lippincott, C. R. Lippincott and W. H. Chertoff. The first officers of the company were W. H. Chertoff, president; J. L. Lippincott, secretary and treasurer.

When the plant was first placed in operation it had a capacity of 20 tons of ice daily, which was felt would more than meet the demands for many years to come, but it was soon necessary to run the plant continuously day and night and in 1910 additional space was added, increasing its capacity to 45 tons daily. Demands for its product continued to come from an ever-widening territory, until the plant was finally supplying all the towns from Beverly to Delair, and during the summer months it was taxed to its full capacity. It has, however, always been able to supply all the local demands and also take care of the surrounding towns.

In addition to the manufacture of ice the company does a large cold storage business, which has been a benefit not only to the farmers of this territory but to all users of food products as well, making it possible to keep for winter use fruits and farm products which would either have become a glut on the market at harvest time, or have been shipped to more distant markets. The plant has a storage capacity of approximately 100,000 bushels of products, which has been sufficient to care for all the local demands, and also accommodate storage in carload lots from more distant points.

The officers for the ensuing year will be:

C. R. Lewis, president; H. B. Macklin, treasurer; and E. D. Frank, secretary.

The concern has given a contract for new ice-making machinery and by April first will be putting out the highest quality of ice that modern manufacturing methods can produce.

MUSIC AND DRAMATIC CLUB

Calvary Presbyterian Church Organizes Its Musical Talent. Cellist Wanted

The Music and Dramatic Club of Calvary Presbyterian Church met in the Parish Church January 16th for the purpose of formally organizing and electing officers. The result of the election follows:

Director of orchestra, J. J. Siddall. Assistant director of orchestra, Miss Marion Macfarlane. Treasurer and manager of orchestra, Paul Good. Manager of dramatic club, David Magowan. Assistant director of dramatic club, Mrs. Paul Good. Secretary, John Crawford. Manager of chorus, Mrs. J. J. Siddall. Chairman of committee on associate membership, Miss Harding. General business manager, S. B. Jones, Jr.

While the club had its inception about a year ago, and has produced two fine entertainments, the need of formal organization and departmental direction was not felt until a few weeks ago, and the election resulted. The orchestra now consists of fifteen pieces and the chorus has twenty voices. The orchestra is specially desirous of obtaining a cellist. Should there be a cellist in Riverton or Palmyra, who desires to connect with Calvary Church orchestra, he is invited to get in touch with Mr. Siddall. An invitation has been received from the Frankford Baptist Church in Philadelphia to provide an evening's entertainment, which the club has accepted, and plans to stage an extensive program there January 29th.

Two of the more recent additions to the orchestra are, Arthur H. Burns, a well-known pianist, formerly of Worcester, Mass., and Miss Emma Price, Riverton music instructor, who plays the French horn.

Burlington County's Well-Kept Roads

During the first hard snow storm of the winter the public highways were buried under a blanket averaging seven inches and in many places by drifts several feet in depth. The suddenness of the unusual storm might have caused a panic among the unpreparedness on the part of Burlington County's Department of Roads, but none was needed. Long before the storm abated Road Director Charles R. Stout, of the Board of Freeholders and County Road Supervisor Macfarlane, their usual road gangs largely augmented by temporary recruits, were out directing the opening of the most important arteries of travel. It was a big undertaking, for Burlington County's mileage of improved road overtops that of any other county in the state by many miles. Yet, in an incredibly short space of time, the most important roads were scraped and shoveled clear of snow and travel resumed.—New Jersey Mirror.

"$4,000,000 for Hogs, Nothing for Children," Says Speaker

As the result of the bad weather, a very small crowd attended the regular monthly meeting of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association in the Palmyra grammar school auditorium Tuesday afternoon. Miss Janet McKay, of the Bible Institute, Philadelphia, was the speaker and made an interesting address, using "The Child Labor Amendment" for her subject. She told of how many Philadelphia children lost several months of school each year because they would seek employment on the farms and cranberry bogs throughout New Jersey. Many of the children, according to Miss McKay, leave school early in March and do not return until December.

While some of the children quit school entirely for employment in factories others do work at home before school in the mornings and far into the night, imperiling their health, and sadly neglecting educational duties. Miss McKay termed it "the sweat shop" will, exploiting work in our home.

During her talk she criticized the government, stating that while the United States appropriated $4,000,000 yearly for the betterment of hogs, it would that each one present receive $25,000 for child welfare work.

The Rev. Frederick Blaser, the new pastor of the Central Baptist Church, made the opening prayer.

The other entertainments which included the cantata songs, Mrs. Caroline Jermon McCarty and a piano trio by Florence Harvey, Ruth Abdlil and Rosaline Sperling, was roundly applauded.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY ON SAVING AND INVESTING

Aunt Emmy and Maud were talking about saving money.

"What does a savings bank do with the money people put in it, Aunt Emmy?" inquired Maud.

"It is invested in sound mortgages, perhaps, or government and corporation securities. You see, the men who run savings banks are trained financiers. They know what securities are good and what are questionable, so they invest the bank's funds—that is, the money they receive from their depositors—in the best securities in such a way that they will be able to pay you interest on your deposits and be able to return your money to you when you want it. In order to do that they must invest in securities that pay a higher rate of interest than they give you to cover the bank expenses and set aside a surplus against emergencies."

"But, Aunt, if the banks invest our money, why can't we invest it ourselves?"

"We could if we knew as much about investments as the bank does. Bankers are not likely to make the mistakes made by the ordinary person. They are not deceived by impressive looking stock certificates, plausible letters from brokers or charming voices over the telephone urging them to buy this or that. Your banker is a hard-headed business man who investigates thoroughly before he invests the bank's money. For this reason many conservative persons prefer to keep their savings in a savings bank, knowing that their money is in wise hands and that even though the rate of interest they get may be moderate their money is far safer than it would be if it were invested less skillfully."

"Surely, though, it must be possible to get more than 4 per cent on your money and yet be safe," Maud said.

"It is under certain conditions," Aunt Emmy agreed. "The trouble is that so few people are frank about their money matters with men who really can be trusted for advice. They would rather take the advice of a glib stock salesman. No matter how small a sum a person is thinking of investing, advice should be sought from a trust company or bank. Women especially don't seem to realize this."

"The savings bank is always safe. It is a good plan to keep putting money in the savings bank until you have a good sum. Then withdraw part and invest it in some security paying a higher rate of interest. But be sure to seek good advice before you buy in this way you can always have some cash on hand in the bank, yet gradually convert most of your savings into high grade securities."—ANNE B. ARMSTRONG.

THE BURDEN OF GOVERNMENT

The financial burden of government has become increasingly heavy in recent years. It has, at times, reached the point of oppression. The Federal tax of 1920 aggregated more than five and one-half billion dollars. This year, after strenuous efforts to reduce the war-time peak, the total still exceeds three billion dollars—a sum far greater than the entire burden of funded debt accumulated as a result of the Civil War. State and local taxes have increased at an even greater rate. The government has become more than a problem; it is a threat of impending disaster.

Nor is the burden of government limited to taxation. We are oppressed by a multiplicity of restrictive laws and administrative regulations. It is estimated that there are over two million laws and ordinances in the records of nations, states and municipalities. One adult person out of every twenty engaged in business or industry is a government official, agent or employee.

In the face of this record, despite the general recognition of the overwhelming burden of government, we find ourselves constantly waging a defensive battle against plans and programs which would transfer still greater duties to government, which would hamper individual initiative still further, which will—if put into practice—crush individual ambition and destroy individual opportunity.

Under these circumstances it is our right—it is our duty—to affirm and defend sound principles of political faith as we have, on other occasions, supported sound principles of economic progress. The Constitution of the United States has stood for 135 years as the bulwark of our individual and our collective liberties. The Constitution has been and is now the greatest existing restraint upon an arrogant majority. It has been and is now the greatest existing defense of the very minorities which, at this time, are being led to denounce its restrictions.

One of our greatest needs is to repel the attacks now being made upon the integrity of this charter of our freedom. We should, we must—oppose vigorously all efforts to give Congress the power to override decisions of the Supreme Court—and thereby destroy the division of governmental power which is the inherent strength of our constitutional system.—WALTER W. HEAD, American Bankers Association.

An Open Letter

January 16, 1923.

Mr. Joseph Rieder,
128 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Sir:—

In the Philadelphia Inquirer of January 16th, 1923, there appeared an article titled "11 Tacony-Ferry Directors Ousted" reporting the Annual Meeting of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company held January 15, 1923, which you attended, and stated within my hearing and now recorded on the minutes, quoting you literally, "The Palmyra Land was purchased from Wright for $25,000 cash" etc.

As president of the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company, which sold this land to the Ferry Company, I am in position to know, and I positively state that the Water Company received $5,000, the Board of Commerce and Navigation of New Jersey $5,000, the Ferry Company paying $10,000.

Should the many stockholders of the Riverton & Palmyra Water Co. believe your statement, they would naturally be justified in believing that I had defrauded them to the extent of $20,000.

As there was no necessity for your making this blunder, the facts all being available to you as Director, merely for the asking, and as I value my name, and reputation for honest dealing, I therefore notify you that unless you publicly retract this statement and apologize for the insidious personal remarks you made at the meeting, by publishing it as prominently in as many papers as the original article appeared in, and do so within five (5) days after this article appears, I will proceed as I deem fit.

I am this day, January 16, 1923, mailing you by registered mail, a copy of this letter.

Respectfully,

CHAS. A. WRIGHT, President,
Riverton & Palmyra Water Co.

KEEPING WELL

WHOOPIING COUGH IS NO JOKE

DR. FREDERICK B. BLASER

Editor of "HEALTH"

WHOOPIING COUGH is generally regarded as one of the mildest and least important of children's diseases. It is often regarded almost as a joke. Sometimes mothers, ignorant of the danger, deliberately expose their children to it so they can "get it and have it over with."

But whooping cough is no joke, as most mothers and all doctors know. Any disease which kills one-half of all the babies under one year who take it is rather a grim joke. During the second year 27 per cent die. Between the second and fifth years 18 per cent die. Over 80 per cent of all cases and about 97 per cent of all deaths from whooping cough are in children under five years of age.

The great danger is not in the disease itself but in the pneumonia that often follows it. Whooping cough is caused by a germ which grows in the lungs and throat. When the sick child coughs, it throws out drops of moisture which contain quantities of these germs. The well child breathes them in and in from seven to ten days develops the disease. It can also be carried from the sick to the well child by state pencils, lead pencils, apples, candy, especially all-day suckers, gum or anything else which is passed from one child to another.

The symptoms are those of an ordinary cold with a slight cough and fever. Soon the cough changes to the peculiar "whoop" from which the disease gets its name. This is due to the choking up of the throat with mucus. There may be but a dozen or as many as forty or fifty of these spasms in twenty-four hours. The disease usually lasts for about six weeks but may last for four months. The danger is in the pneumonia which may develop in the weakened child and cause speedy death.

Whooping cough is a dangerous disease. Don't take any chances. Keep your child away from children who may have it. Don't let it play with infected children. If your child does get it, protect it from cold and exposure until the disease has run its course.

LESSON NO. 8

LIGHTING THE BATH ROOM

Have you ever watched your father shave? Does he try to keep shadows away by turning his face this way and that? Or can he shave comfortably and easily with a smile on his face like the man in the second picture? Shaving is really the best test of lighting in bathrooms. A man shaves each side of his face and under his chin, and if he is to see well, he needs a light on each side down low enough to light underneath the chin.

Wrong

Lighting the mirror in the bathroom is exactly the same problem as lighting the mirror in the bedroom, and two bright fixtures are needed for good lighting—one at either side of the mirror at eye level or a little above. The fixtures should point upward and should have long dense milk-white shades open at the top to conceal the 60-watt "buds" inside.

If the bathroom is large, you may have a fixture in the center of the ceiling just like the fixture used in the kitchen. If this is properly put in and equipped with a bulb of 75-watts or more, it will furnish good general lighting all over the room on occasions when the mirror is not being used.

When sister goes to curl her hair in front of the mirror, does she find it necessary to take the bulb out of the light to connect her electric iron?

If she does, she probably does not

COUNTY BRIDGES NEED LOT OF REPAIRING

Director of Bridges Wright Lays Before Freeholders Whole Bridge Situation. May Have to Issue Bonds to Pay for Necessary Work

Some scientists, with an inquiring turn of mind, says that it takes sixteen muscles to smile and sixty-six to frown.

Director Rogers, of the Board of Freeholders, is always a friend of the smile—even when the frown is on him. When he opened the meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Friday morning, he turned to the clerk and said, "We will now hear the minutes of the last 'communication'."

The Director's terminology had a familiar sound to the other members of the Board, most, if not all, of whom are Masons.

County Adjuster Still Unsettled

The appointment of a County Adjuster, which was "settled" at the last meeting, bobbed up again when Solicitor Peacock advised the Freeholders that he had been consulted by the State Board of Children's Guardians in reference to a number of widows' pensions, and the Solicitor stated that the Court had advised him that no matters pertaining to this department would receive a hearing until the matter of County Adjuster had been settled according to law.

Director Rogers asked the solicitor what he was going to do about it. "I'll" smiled and said, "sit tight."

Bertrand Files Suit Against County

The solicitor further advised that James R. Bertrand had filed suit against the County for damages to his automobile, to be heard in the April term of court.

The solicitor reported that he had been in communication with the Public Service about the $935 due the County for road work done in Moorestown, along the County trolley tracks, and the Board authorized him to arrange a conference between representatives of the Public Service and the members of the Board at Mount Holly next Friday at one o'clock in the afternoon.

To Improve Main Street, Columbus

The clerk of Mansfield township presented in proper form a petition asking the County to improve Main street, Columbus, the township agreeing to pave the distance between the county improved roadway and the gutters. Referred to Director of Roads.

An extension of time was granted to Charles E. Moses, of Edgewater Park, the contractor who is building the Hall of Records, in Mount Holly, to get materials, and certain changes that had been made had caused delay and made it impossible to finish the building in the specified time.

Mr. Moses was given five more weeks in which to complete the building. He says it can be done in that time.

Two bids were received for the Buick coupe asked for by the Bridge Department. The bid of the Zelle Motor Company of Burlington, for $1500, less an allowance of $300 for the old machine, and another from the Moorestown Motor Company, which offered $275 for the old machine. The order was given to the Zelle Motor Company.

Ground Secured for Burlington Armory

Solicitor Peacock reported that the differences between Miss Caroline Haines and her brother, I. Snowden Haines, of Burlington, over the ownership of the land on which the armory was to be built, would be settled between those individuals in the Court of Chancery. The county will pay to the clerk of that court the purchase price, $8,000, and the court will decide how it is to be divided between the Haines contestants.

More Money Needed for Bridges

Lloyd Wright, Director of Bridges, laid before the Freeholders the whole bridge situation in the county. He said that the survey of these structures was started last year. There are in the county about two thousand bridges, big and little, of which four hundred have already been inspected. The work shown to be necessary on these four hundred, Mr. Wright said, would more than exhaust his appropriation of $70,000. The first proposition to be met this year, said Mr. Wright, was the repairing of the draw bridge at Delaware, at a cost of $15,000, one-half of which is to be paid by the Public Service.

Russ Approves of Survey

Mr. Russ said that when the survey proposition was taken up last year he was elated to think that at last the county was going to be able to know just where its bridges were, their type of construction, etc. He thought the survey was a most excellent thing and should be continued. It was to cost a lot more money it should have been anticipated and provided for when the budget was made up the first of the year. Mr. Stout was of the opinion that the survey should be completed by all means, and that the Freeholders should help the Bridge and Engineer Departments finish the work.

Director Rogers refused to know how it was going to be financed and in reply Mr. Stout offered a motion, seconded by Mr. Wright, that this part of it be referred to the Finance Committee to find ways and means to raise the money. This was not exactly to the liking of the Director, who is also Director of Finance, and he said that the survey had better be dropped, but after some discussion the question prevailed by a four to one vote, the Director voting in the negative.

Engineer Explains How It Works

Engineer Smith took one of the finished surveys and explained to the Board how it worked. All of the data connected with the bridge in question was pasted on a card, showing its location, how it was constructed, its dimensions and weight capacity, also what repairs were needed. This, the engineer pointed out, would enable the Director of Bridges, when word came to him that a bridge needed repairing, to get all of the information necessary for issuing the order at the engineer's office instead of driving perhaps thirty or forty miles to measure two or three planks. The engineer said that he had been recently called upon by the telephone company to give the carrying capacity of a certain bridge. This happened to be one of the bridges that had been surveyed, and from the records in his office he could give the desired information instantly and accurately. The bridge inquired about had a carrying capacity of eight tons, and the telephone company found that it would be necessary to divide the loads and make more trips to avoid the danger of breaking through.

May Issue Bonds for New Work

Freeholder Lippincott suggested that as soon as a County official stated a bridge had a carrying capacity of so many tons the County became liable for damage in case a heavy load broke through. The engineer said that this was not the case, nor was the County absolved from responsibility in such an accident by reason of not having given such information. He further said that many bridges marked in 1917 did not now have the carrying capacity indicated on the signs erected at that time. Mr. Wright said that the immense amount of work required on the bridges had not been realized when the budget was made up for this year, and in consideration of this Mr. Russ suggested that emergency notes might be issued covering the necessary work. The solicitor said that bonds could be issued for new construction.

No New Home for Nurses

The request of the commissioners of the Burlington County Tuberculosis Sanatorium at New Lisbon, for a new home for the nurses in that institution, came up for discussion in the executive session, and it is understood that the Freeholders could not see their way clear to make this improvement, involving an expenditure of $20,000 or more at this time. Mr. Lippincott, Director of County Buildings, suggested that the present almshouse hospital might be turned into a home for the nurses, and a new wing built to the almshouse to provide hospital facilities. Mr. Lippincott was authorized to get his ideas in shape for presentation at the next meeting.

Hills were ordered paid as follows:

Roads	$ 560.23
Highways	29.88
Public Buildings	3,028.31
Public Affairs	677.16
Finance	1,363.16

MORE CHRISTMAS SEALS SOLD

Returns Not All In, But Amount Will Probably Exceed Last Year by $40,000

Increased activity on the part of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League and its affiliated organizations in New Jersey working toward the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, is assured by the successful sale of the Christmas Seals held throughout the State during December. With returns still incomplete the sales totalled $220,200.25 as compared with $220,281.50 for 1921. It is expected that the complete returns will bring the total sales between $300,000 and $400,000.

One of the activities to be increased will be the nutrition program in the schools, which will be in charge of Miss Edna Young Bond, connected with the League's office in Newark. For the first time a nutrition course will be given to the graduating class of the State Normal School at Trenton.

Another feature under consideration is the addition of a colored nurse to the League's staff for work among the colored people of the State. The great influx of negroes from the former climate of the South to the rigorous Northern winters, together with their changed living conditions, has caused many to develop tuberculosis and the death rate has been exceedingly high.

FINED AS DISORDERLY

Youth Gets into Trouble after Drinking Some Hooch

Joseph Brown, a young man residing on West Sixth street, Palmyra, was arrested by Officer Nelson Wallace late Thursday evening on charge of being disorderly. After complaint had been made by Lester Cronmiller, of Riverside, proprietor of the Takahashi Shop, in the Broadway Palace Theatre building.

Cronmiller charged that Brown had shown evidences of intoxication, had caused considerable trouble while dickering over the purchase of a box of candy.

At a trial before Justice of the Peace, William L. Fichter, Saturday morning, Brown was fined ten dollars and costs. The offender admitted his guilt and said it was the first time he had been drunk. It is alleged that he had been drinking since he was arrested, and that he had been drinking since he was arrested.

Telephone Directory Has Next Largest Circulation

Next to the Bible the best circulated book in America is the telephone directory.

Never mentioned as "A Best Seller," 25,000,000 copies of the American telephone directory are published and circulated each year.

A telephone dollar is expended thus: Rents, three cents; taxes, ten cents; miscellaneous, eleven cents; material, fifteen cents; wages, sixty-one cents. Few other great industries show so large a proportion of their earnings expended for either wages or taxes. Net plant additions to the Bell System in 1923 required $240,000,000.

We waken when we exaggerate.

Basketball Team Wins Thrilling 12-8 Battle

Last Wednesday, in a thrilling basketball game, the Palmyra High team maintained its clean state by defeating Pitman in the second contest of the season, 12-8.

The game was nip and tuck from start to finish, both quarters being on the edge and all set for a hectic battle. At the end of the third quarter, the score stood 8-8. Palmyra then rallied and Godley dashed down the floor, caged a field goal, and Captain Jimmie Burr shot two fouls, giving the locals a four-point lead, which they maintained.

Brilliant team work was the keynote of the local success, the boys showing clever passing and floor work. Captain Burr came to the fore with accurate shooting and walked off with the honors of the fray. Jimmie has a wonderful start on the 1925 season, having shown brightly in both contests, and will probably be an important factor in the many victories promised by the Morsenmen.

Godley, a comparatively green man on the squad, is easily walking off with second honors and is playing a long-up game. "Stan," who won a citizen's marksmanship medal at one of the military training camps last summer, has apparently developed a sharp shooting eye for the basket.

This Friday afternoon Princeton High will be tackled on the local court. Palmyra will have to display championship basketball to come out the victor of this battle, for Princeton was the 1924 New Jersey State High School champion, and has its entire veteran squad back this year.

The girls' team tackled Haddonfield High, at Haddonfield, Friday afternoon. Coach Morse says it will be a tough job for the girls.

Expensive to Take a Drink on Cinnaminson Avenue

A party of weary travelers headed for Parry Sunday were unable to withstand the demands of their thirst and one of the poor fellows was fined five dollars and costs.

It seems that John McCluskey, of 2624 Thompson street, Philadelphia, and a party of four friends were on their way to Parry to have a party at their club house. The boys got thirsty after Palmyra was reached, and stopped on Cinnaminson avenue for a drink of the firewater they carried with them.

Unfortunately Chief of Police C. Morris Beck was in the neighborhood and happened to spy the thirsty travelers. He promptly pounced on the party and without ceremony arrested McCluskey, who happened to be the custodian of the hooch.

McCluskey was hustled before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter, who fined him five dollars and costs. To make it worse, the police confiscated the party bottle from which the party was quenching its thirst, and shattering the boys' dreams of a regular party.

FARMERS PLAN PROGRAM

Arrange for Aggressive Work on Surveys Pertaining to Taxes and Rural Schools

Following the annual meeting of the New Jersey Federation of County Boards of Agriculture, at Trenton, in mid-January, the new executive committee organized for consideration of the 1925 program. Tentative plans for the coming year include an extension of the legislative work of the organized farm groups in New Jersey, active support to cooperative marketing and aggressive work in the field upon surveys pertaining to taxation and rural schools.

The executive committee is composed of representatives from seventeen rural counties. Burlington County's member is Edward E. Logan, of Mount Holly.

Favors Gasoline Tax

The question of the gasoline tax in New Jersey, which will shortly be ready for serious consideration by the New Jersey Legislature, is desirable, according to H. C. McKenzie, Director of Research in Taxation for the American Farm Bureau Federation, providing it is worked out in an equitable way, as apply to motorists. The principle of an equitable gasoline tax, as written into the statutes of a number of States, provides for a more reasonable license fee and a tax upon roads with greatest frequency.

If a tax of two cents a gallon is placed on gasoline in New Jersey it will mean to Burlington County about $200,000 for roads, which will enable the Board of Freeholders to lay down a progressive program of road construction without burdening the County, thus saving interest charges.

PIONEER RIVERTONIAN DEAD

Albert G. Cook, Born on River Bank 62 Years Ago, Passes Away at Atlantic City

Albert G. Cook, one of Riverton's pioneer residents passed away at his home at 124 States street, Atlantic City, last Saturday. He was 62 years of age, and was born in the old Cook mansion, which faced the river on the plot of ground extending from Howland to Elton street, and from the river bank to Front street, and which was destroyed by fire in 1875. The ruins of the property remained untouched for many years. The site is now occupied by the properties of S. C. Woolman and J. H. McClellan, Killam E. Bennett and Mrs. Robert Biddle.

After the fire, Samuel C. Cook and his family moved to the property at Third and Market streets, which they occupied for many years.

About six years ago Albert Cook moved to Atlantic City in hopes that the salt air might relieve his asthma. He has been ailing for the past year, but recently seemed much improved and was able to return to his business in Philadelphia. He contracted another cold, however, the latter part of November, and suffered a relapse. His wife was Miss Laura Flanagan, daughter of Stephen Flanagan, and sister of Charles L. and Louis A. Flanagan. Mr. Cook is survived by his widow, two daughters, Miss Mabel Cook, secretary of the Atlantic City Y. W. C. A., and Miss Ethel Cook, of Atlantic City, and also by two sisters, Misses Julia and Elizabeth Cook, who reside here at the Maples.

When a young man, Mr. Cook was very active in civic and social work, and was a member of the Riverton baseball nine, which was considered one of the best amateur teams in the country, at that time (about 1888). He was also a member of the Riverton racing, and owned and sailed one of the first "one-designers" on the Delaware, with which he succeeded in carrying off more trophies than any other man in his class on the river. When he moved to Atlantic City he took his boat, the "Laura," with him, and it was while standing on the dock at Gardiner's basin, where he kept his boat, that he contracted the cold that was the immediate cause of his death.

Mrs. Elizabeth Barksdale, sister of Mrs. Flanagan, made her home with the Cook family.

Mr. Cook was associated for many years with the Fruit Auction Co., and as auctioneer, disposed of hundreds of ship loads of bananas, as well as vast quantities of California fruits.

FIELD CLUB HOP

Casper's "Weyman Five" to Play at Affair this Saturday

After a layoff of several weeks, the Field Club dance, which has been looking forward to the monthly hop which will be held in the P. O. S. of A. hall this Saturday night.

In an effort to maintain its reputation for the best possible orchestra, the Field Club has engaged the "Weyman Five," which will furnish the music. Without a doubt, Casper's jazz boys are one of the most popular outfits in this vicinity and a big crowd is assured, as these boys are a first-class dancing card in Palmyra.

According to Russ Gibson, who is in charge of the affair, the decorations will be novel and will help to add beauty to the affair.

Gibby says "everybody out," especially some of the old timers who have only appeared at a few of the recent dances.

Special Telephones for Deal

A new type of telephone equipment for people of impaired hearing has been developed by the engineers of the Bell System which will make it possible for many persons to hear who are at present cut off from the world of telephone speech.

Trial equipment has been installed by the Bell Company at several points in the State where persons who may be benefited by this apparatus will have an opportunity to test it before an installation is made for them.

The new apparatus is intricate but compact, and includes batteries, vacuum tubes and regulating devices which make it possible for the user to control the loudness of the speech sounds given out by the receiver.

YOUR INCOME TAX

Your income tax for the year 1924 is less, in proportion to your income, than the tax for 1923. A rate reduction, however, is not the only benefit afforded by the revenue act of 1924. Increase in the exemption for married persons, a 25% reduction on earned income, and other changes in revenue legislation are of immediate interest to every taxpayer.

The revenue act of 1924 requires that every single person whose net income for 1924 was $1,000 or more, and by every married couple whose aggregate net income was $2,500 or more, or whose aggregate gross income was $5,000 or more. Last year returns were required of married couples whose aggregate net income was $2,000 or more. Husband and wife living together, may include the income of each in a single joint return, or each may file a separate return showing the income of each. Net income is gross income less certain specified deductions for business expenses, losses, bad debts, contributions, etc.

The period for filing returns is from January 1 to March 15, 1925. The return, accompanied by at least one-fourth of the amount of tax due, must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or his principal place of business.

The Board of Directors reported that during the past year a billiard table had been added to the equipment and that $900 had been paid off on the indebtedness incurred at the

GEISS PRESIDENT OF RIVERTON FIRE COMPANY

Fight Was to Have Been Between Flagg and Geiss. Lynch Sprung as Surprise Candidate. Increase in Membership 131%

The contest for president of the Riverton Fire Company brought out between seventy-five and a hundred firemen at the annual meeting last Monday night.

In the absence of President Killam E. Bennett, the meeting was called to order by Fred P. Hemphill, vice president, who read a letter from President Bennett, saying that he could not continue to fill the office owing to press of business interests, and recommending that Edward H. Flagg, Jr., be elected to serve in his place.

Mr. Bennett's Letter

To the Riverton Fire Company,

Riverton, New Jersey.

Dear Fellow Members:

About three years ago you honored me by electing me President of your organization, an honor which I have always fully appreciated, and an office which I have endeavored to fill to the credit and upbuilding of the Company. Due to the fact that my many business interests make it absolutely necessary to be out of the State at least half of the time, I, therefore, do not feel that I should continue at the head of your organization. Under the circumstances, I take this opportunity of informing you that in justice to the office, I should not succeed myself.

Please be assured that I shall always stand ready to co-operate with my successor for the best interests of the protection of the community, as well as to the future growth of the organization itself.

I do not think at this time it would be amiss for me to jot down some accomplishments and developments that your co-operation has made possible during my regime:

1. The installation of the LaFrance pump, which is not only a much better protection to life and property than what we had previously, but has been a source of great satisfaction to the active firemen to operate.

2. The advent of the new pump, made it necessary to provide more commodious quarters, which has been provided and I know permeates a more comfortable atmosphere to the courageous firemen who use it.

May I not also mention a break-a-word in commendation of a fellow member, whom I would be pleased to have succeed me, one who is beloved by many in this organization and out of it, one who has proven over and over again to be an executive and a leader, one who has always taken a real personal interest in the Fire Company and all of its members, one who has at all times done as much as any one man to further the growth of the organization.

I speak of the Hon. E. H. Flagg, Jr., and ask that you make him your President at this time. In so doing, I believe that you will materially advance the interest of the Company, and at the same time confer an honor on one who is worthy of the office.

Yours very truly,

KILLAM E. BENNETT.

After reading the letter, Mr. Hemphill said that it gave him great pleasure to nominate Mr. Flagg for president of the fire company.

Mr. Flagg replied that while it would give him the greatest pleasure to serve the members of the fire company as their president he felt that there was another man who, by reason of his long faithful and efficient service as an active member and director, should receive favorable consideration for this office, and he placed in nomination William H. Lynch.

At this juncture John C. Geiss was nominated. The injection of Mr. Lynch's name into the contest came as a surprise, as it had been pretty generally understood that the fight would be between Flagg and Geiss.

When the ballots were counted Geiss received thirty-eight votes and Lynch thirty.

There were five members of the Board of Directors to be elected out of a field of seven, and the balloting resulted as follows:

Charles Cole, 63; Wm. B. Lynch, 48; Lloyd Major, 47; George D. Steele, 45; Walter Armstrong, 43; William Gooter, 36; Clarence Hubbs, 33.

John Carhart was elected vice-president, D. M. Clifton, secretary and Ross E. Mattis, treasurer, without opposition.

Mr. Lynch was also elected a member of the State Firemen's Relief Association.

In his speech of acceptance, Mr. Geiss said: "I want to thank you for the confidence you have shown in me by electing me president of the Riverton Fire Company. There is only one thing I ask of you to make my presidency a success, and that is cooperation from each and every one of you. I am with you, boys, three hundred and sixty-five days a year, twenty-four hours a day, if necessary."

Committees were appointed as follows:

Executive—Lynch, Armstrong, Carhart.

Finance—Ross Mattis, Clifton, Lynch.

Assistant Foreman—Charles Cole.

William Mattis Made Honorary Member

The following resolution was passed:

WILLIAMS: William N. Mattis, Chief Engineer of the Riverton Fire Company, elected to membership in said Company, May 21, 1890, and elected to Chief Engineer of said Company by its Board of Directors February 26, 1912, having served and performed active duty for thirty-five years past, therefore be it RESOLVED: That William N. Mattis be placed on the Honorary list of the Riverton Fire Company.

STEEDLE SELLS BUS LINE

Line Absorbed As Part of Plan Taking in Suburbs of New Jersey and Pennsylvania

George D. Steedle, has sold the Philbur Coach Line to the Philadelphia Rapid Transit, a subsidiary company of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company. The transfer was made the first of the year, but is subject to the approval of the Public Utility Board of the State of New Jersey and Pennsylvania. It is understood that the purchase price was $125,000. It is proposed to substitute a new type of gasoline electric buses for the ones now in use, and run them on a fifteen minute schedule. It is probable that the route, which on this side of the river will be known as Route M, will be extended to Burlington and Trenton, and will also include a line between Riverton and Moorestown.

If the Philbur Coach Line is taken over it will become part of a fleet of 250 cars feeding into Philadelphia from the suburban districts of both States.

It is expected to have the complete plan in operation by the first of April.

Miss May Ward entertained Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Wagner, of near Maple Shade, last Wednesday.

Mrs. Lillie Ward and daughter, May, were visitors at the home of Miss Sarah Coles, of near Moorestown, last week.

Read Re-elected State Treasurer

By a unanimous vote of the Legislature, in joint meeting at noon on Tuesday, William T. Read, of Camden, was re-elected State treasurer for a fourth, or fourth term, of three years. Mr. Read is borough attorney for Riverton.

Joshua E. Borton was re-elected State director of railroads.

After the Legislature adjourned the members, State officials, and legislative correspondents were entertained at luncheon at the Stacy-Trent Hotel by the re-elected treasurer.

Buttons for P. S. Employees

In recognition of long service records of employees of Public Service, gold buttons were presented to more than 600 men and women Wednesday evening of this week. Every employee who has served twenty-five years or more continuously in Public Service or its predecessor companies received a service button. In the list were many women who received pins instead of buttons. The Public Service emblem is engraved on each button and pin.

Until the years have taught you that evening misfortune is an asset often rather than not, you haven't learned much.

THE VINE AND THE BRANCHES

LESSON TEXT—John 15:1-17.
GOLDEN TEXT—"He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit."—John 15:5.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Being Friends of Jesus.
JUNIOR TOPIC—The Vine and the Branches.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Fruit-Bearing Lives.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Union With Christ.

Under the beautiful allegory of the vine and the branches Jesus set forth the spiritual oneness of Himself and His disciples.

I. The Relationship of Jesus and the Father to the Disciple (vv. 1-3).

1. Jesus the Source of the Disciple's Life (v. 1). He is the true vine. Through the incarnation Jesus identified Himself with humanity, and by virtue of His atoning death and resurrection it is possible for the believer to be a partaker of His life so that between the disciple and his Lord there is a community of life. As the vine pours its life into the branch, so Christ pours His life into the believer. Our salvation is eternal life because it is the life of the eternal Son in us.

2. The Father Has in His Hands the Discipline of the Disciple (v. 1). The "Father is the husbandman." Just as the culture of the vine is in the hands of a husbandman so the discipline of the believer's life is in the hands of the Father. In this disciplinary process he

(a) Removes the unfruitful branch (v. 2). He does not take the trouble to prune the fruitless branch. The nominal church member, the mere professor, He removes.

(b) Purges the fruitful branch that it may produce more fruit (v. 2). He restrains our natural tendencies and desires in order that the virtues of the Lord, the fruits of the Spirit, may shine forth.

3. The instrument by which the pruning is accomplished is Jesus' words (v. 3). The disciples already were cleansed by Christ's words, for Judas the traitor had been cast out. If the believer's life is to be fruitful in character and service the pruning knife, Christ's words, must be intelligently and regularly applied.

II. The Conditions of Fruit Bearing (vv. 4-7).

The supreme object in pruning, the culture of the vine, is fruit.

1. Abiding in Christ (vv. 4-6). As the branches draw sap and life from the vine, so believers must abide in Christ, from whom they derive their purity, strength and wisdom. Indeed, it is a mutual abiding, the disciple in Christ and Christ in the disciple. It is Christ's life expressing itself through the believer. The one thus indwelt by Christ will bear much fruit. So great is the displeasure of the Lord with lifeless, unfruitful branches that they are to be "cut forth," "withered," even burned (v. 6).

2. Christ's Words Abide in Us (v. 7).

So mighty is the power of the one who abides in Christ and in whom His words abide that Heaven can withhold no gift from him.

III. The Blessed Issue of a Fruitful Life (vv. 8-17).

1. The Glorification of the Father (v. 8). Through much fruit-bearing, the Father will be glorified (Matt. 5:16).
2. Credentials of Discipleship (v. 8). The only way to prove that one is a child of God is to manifest the characteristics of God in one's acts and service.

3. Abiding in Christ's Love and Keeping His Commandments (vv. 9, 10). The way to abide in Christ's love is to keep His commandments. The one who neglects the words of Christ is destitute of His love. It is folly to talk of being in the love of Christ while disobeying His teachings.

4. Fulness of Joy (v. 11). The way to have fulness of joy is to have Christ's joy in us.

5. Loving one another (vv. 12, 13). The one who abides in Christ and has the life of Christ flowing into him, will live a life of love, will love his fellowman, especially his brother in Christ.

6. Friends of Christ (v. 14, 15). Christ's friends do whatsoever He commands. Being thus obedient He takes us into His confidence and makes known unto us the Heavenly Father's will.

7. Perpetual Fruit-Bearing in Love, With Power in Prayer (vv. 16, 17).

Physical Vigor

Physical weakness is not a sign of spiritual power. All other things considered, the man or woman who enjoys physical vigor will be able to accomplish more than those who are puny and ill.

How Many?

"How many people," says Jeremy Taylor, "are busy in the world gathering together a handful of thorns to sit upon?"

Our Fears

What we fear most is not today's trouble, but that which may happen tomorrow.

Dumb Love

A dumb love is only acceptable from the lower animals.—Doctor Van Dyke

The Gas Plant Superintendent has been on the job in the territory now served by PUBLIC SERVICE since the state's first gas works was started in Newark in 1847.

Every year he has grown in usefulness, so that today gas made under his direction is distributed to some 630,000 homes, business places and factories.

The Market Street, West End, Paterson, Camden, Trenton, Consumers, Front Street, Hoboken, Plainfield and New Brunswick plants, together with the Seaboard By-Products Company works, the gas output of which Public Service absorbs, produces more than twenty billion cubic feet of gas a year, which is distributed through 3,600 miles of main to users in 166 different New Jersey municipalities.

Nowhere in the United States is there more universal distribution of gas than in the territory served by PUBLIC SERVICE.

A BOUQUET

President Coolidge's tribute to the American newspaper which he delivered at the dinner of the American Society of Newspaper Editors was a sincere recognition of the services which newspapers are giving to the nation as a whole. American newspapers, the President said, are particularly representative of the practical idealism of our people. They are the best newspapers in the world. They print more real news and more reliable and characteristic news than any other newspaper. Then with a fine appreciation of the struggles for excellence and fairness which daily and weekly goes on in the editorial offices of all the papers great and small throughout the union, he said: "I believe their editorial opinions are less colored in influence by mere partisanship or selfish interest, than are those of any other country. Moreover, I believe that our American press is more independent, more reliable and less partisan today than at any other time in its history."

When there is so much said about the "depravity of the press," it is refreshing to hear a word of commendation—and it is especially gratifying coming from a man like President Coolidge.

THE FRENCH DEBT

The dignified yet constant reiteration on the part of President Coolidge that the debts owed to the United States by foreign nations must be paid and cannot be cancelled, is making its impression in all foreign capitals.

The attitude of the United States is not merely that of a creditor nation which with a sheriff at hand is demanding that a forced sale be conducted in order that the money due may be paid, but rather a nation which, in the case of France, is demanding that a fair acknowledgment of the debt be made and that a disposition and willingness to pay be put upon the record. Even in this the American attitude is not based alone on the desire to secure a return of money honestly loaned, but back of it is a feeling that the rebuilding of Europe can only be successfully accomplished if the moral stamina of the people is sustained.

NEW ELECTION REFUSED

Riverside Board of Education Decides Those Who Did Not Vote on New School Building Have No Right to Ask for Another Election

At the meeting of the Riverside Board of Education Monday night a petition was presented by Benjamin Panner, a local druggist. It contained 703 names of Riverside citizens. They objected to the outcome of the last election on school building propositions because only 276 of the 2,900 voters in Riverside showed up at the polls, at that time. Louis J. Kaser, the superintendent of schools, answered every question put to him by the leaders of the opposition, led by Benjamin Panner, William McCaffery and William Mathis. Mr. Kaser explained that the best way to lower the taxes in the town would be to have equal taxation. He quoted an instance of a farm bought for $30,000 by a member of the community, who was assessed this year at $6,000. He also named some stores along the main street that had been reduced $500 in assessment for the past year, while every other property in the neighborhood had been raised.

After all the arguments had been carefully considered the board voted on a motion made by Clifford Meeks, to reject the petition.

William C. Stevens

Stricken with acute appendicitis while at his office last Wednesday afternoon, William C. Stevens was hurried to the National Stomach hospital, Philadelphia, where he was found to be in a critical condition, and an immediate operation was deemed necessary. Mr. Stevens lingered until Sunday afternoon, when he passed away. He was 56 years of age.

Mr. Stevens was always much interested in the development of the County Club. He was a member of the Sons of the Revolution, the Naval Reserve, and the Military Order of the Legion of the United States. For the past twenty-five years he has been associated with the International Printing Co., Philadelphia.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Anna E. Stevens. They resided for many years at 307 Bank avenue.

BIG FIRE AT MOUNT HOLLY

Early Morning Blaze Destroys Several Buildings and Many Valuable Records

Fire swept Mt. Holly's two largest office buildings, damaged the post-office, drove several families in night clothes to the street with the thermometer at zero, and destroyed irreplaceable criminal and other county records early Wednesday morning.

Estimates of the damage run over $250,000. One fireman was severely injured, and four others slightly hurt. Thousands of dollars worth of costly costumes in the Masonic Hall, and all the paraphernalia of the Mt. Holly lodges of Elks, Knights of Pythias, P. O. S. of A., and the P. O. of A. were destroyed.

Besides the records of 30 years accumulation in the office of County Detective Ellis Parker, 130 gallons of alcohol and other liquor confiscated in recent raids were destroyed. The explosions were so forceful that firemen from nine companies were driven back and again, in their battle against the flames.

The postoffice on the ground floor of the Masonic building was the least affected of all the offices in the two buildings. The firemen were successful in saving it from the flames, but the place was flooded with water.

The fireman injured was "Buddy" Shinn, of the Mt. Holly Relief Volunteer Company. He suffered a broken thigh and wrist when he fell off an ice-covered first story window sill, while trying to get into Parker's office to find a man who was thought to have been sleeping there. Later it was learned the man had not remained at the office. Several other fire fighters were slightly hurt.

Four Riverside firemen were badly frost-bitten. They are Harry Denning, William and Edward Oberholt and Harry Zeigler.

FOR LAW OBSERVANCE

Burlington County Citizens Organize League to Create Public Opinion for Law Observance and Law Enforcement

The Burlington County League for Law Observance and Law Enforcement met in the Central Baptist Church, Mount Holly, on Thursday, January 22nd. A constitution was presented and adopted which calls for a membership of all citizens interested in its objects—chief of which is the strengthening of the hands of officers of the law and those having to do with administration of justice—by the creation of a unified public opinion, favorable to the observance and enforcement of our laws.

Judge Slaughter endorsed the motives of the league and said he received such an organization would be of great benefit if kept non-partisan and non-political, and that it would have his backing only on those conditions. He further said that every citizen should do his part in the clean-up work at home. He talked at length on the duties and responsibilities of citizenship and told many stories of recent court decisions. Where the law allows it, and the evidence is sufficient, boot-leggers are being given jail terms and maximum fines. A jail term was recently given to the operator of a gambling device in Columbus, where formerly he was fined $30.

All rallies and "wheels of fortune" are illegal and should not be tolerated. He said that the honest conviction of duty in the hearts of men will cause them to furnish evidence and information of law violations and will make them entirely without fear; we do not want a citizenship of spies, but we do need a citizenship willing and ready to do its duty if Burlington County is to be a fit place in which to live. The Judge urges all citizens to share the burden of responsibility of government by actively cooperating with all officials, both high and low, toward the enforcement of existing laws. These laws were made by the people—for the people—and in a Democracy can only become effective through cooperation.

A BOUQUET

President Coolidge's tribute to the American newspaper which he delivered at the dinner of the American Society of Newspaper Editors was a sincere recognition of the services which newspapers are giving to the nation as a whole. American newspapers, the President said, are particularly representative of the practical idealism of our people. They are the best newspapers in the world. They print more real news and more reliable and characteristic news than any other newspaper. Then with a fine appreciation of the struggles for excellence and fairness which daily and weekly goes on in the editorial offices of all the papers great and small throughout the union, he said: "I believe their editorial opinions are less colored in influence by mere partisanship or selfish interest, than are those of any other country. Moreover, I believe that our American press is more independent, more reliable and less partisan today than at any other time in its history."

When there is so much said about the "depravity of the press," it is refreshing to hear a word of commendation—and it is especially gratifying coming from a man like President Coolidge.

THE FRENCH DEBT

The dignified yet constant reiteration on the part of President Coolidge that the debts owed to the United States by foreign nations must be paid and cannot be cancelled, is making its impression in all foreign capitals.

The attitude of the United States is not merely that of a creditor nation which with a sheriff at hand is demanding that a forced sale be conducted in order that the money due may be paid, but rather a nation which, in the case of France, is demanding that a fair acknowledgment of the debt be made and that a disposition and willingness to pay be put upon the record. Even in this American attitude is not based alone on the desire to secure a return of money honestly loaned, but back of it is a feeling that the rebuilding of Europe can only be successfully accomplished if the moral stamina of the people is sustained.

NEW ELECTION REFUSED

Riverside Board of Education Decides Those Who Did Not Vote on New School Building Have No Right to Ask for Another Election

At the meeting of the Riverside Board of Education Monday night a petition was presented by Benjamin L. Kaser, a local attorney, containing the names of 703 residents of Riverside. They objected to the outcome of the last election on school building propositions because only 276 of the 2,900 voters in Riverside showed up at the polls, at that time.

Louis J. Kaser, the superintendent of schools, answered every question put to him by the leaders of the opposition, led by Benjamin L. Kaser, William McCallery and William Mathis. Mr. Kaser explained that the best way to lower the taxes in the town would be to have equal taxation. He quoted an instance of a farm brought for $30,000 by Rev. A. S. Lewis, which was assessed this year at $6,000. He also named some stores along the main street that had been reduced $500 in assessment for the past year, while every other property in the neighborhood had been raised.

After all the arguments had been carefully considered the board voted on a motion made by Clifford Merks, to reject the petition.

About 200 citizens were present at the meeting, and many of them took part in the discussion.

The Scrap Book

Untaught Fiddler Is Best in Three States

Uncle Am Stuart, champion of the old-time punchoon floor fiddlers of the South, smokes cigarettes, drinks corn likker and likes the girls. Uncle Am is in New York for a few days and he is having a lot of fun. His business here is to make gramophone records, and he is doing a little broadcasting on the side.

Uncle Am doesn't read music. He can't. But he knows every tune that has been heard at southern barn dances "cho' th' wab." And he can play them all.

"Ah jest natchly had to fiddle," Uncle Am explains. "Ever sence Ah was big enough to hold a fiddle Ah've been fiddlin'." Ah used to fiddle around th' kitchen till mah mother she'd chase me out of there; then Ah'd go down and fiddle around th' nigger camp till they'd chase me out of there. Then Ah'd go into th' bahn all alone an' fiddle there. Ah guess Ah learned most of my fiddlin' in that ol' bahn.

"Why, man, Ah guess if Ah should go out into th' woods an' go down on my knees to git religion in th' same spirit of determination Ah went about my fiddlin', why, Ah wouldn't be surprised if Ah should just natchly get religion."

There were 80 fiddlers in the fiddlers' convention which picked Am as the finest exponent of fiddling. They came from Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina, and the show lasted for three days and took in $1,500 at the door.—Frederick B. Edwards in the New York Herald Tribune.

SCARF TO MATCH IS POPULAR SWEATER THEME

THE popular theme, the fashion world over, being "a scarf to match" what other can we expect than that Madam Mode should decree a sweater with every scarf and a scarf with every sweater? It is a vogue rich with possibilities, this of relating neckpieces to sweater through color, design and stitch.

Fancy the color glory of a smart bonneted sweater knitted in almond green with decorative bandings in deep watermelon, the graceful scarf asserting its relationship in that its coloring and stitch are ditto. It is this very effective combination which imparts an unusual charm to the original of the model sweater-scarf ensemble here pictured.

Advance displays of knitted togs for resort wear, where society will "spend the summer" this winter" give noteworthy prominence to partnership sweaters and scarves, featuring most gorgeous color schemes. Exquisite indeed, are the sheer rephryknit sweaters in monotone flower colorings with broad filmy scarfs carried out in deeper tones. Such, for instance, is an orchid colored alpaca, over which is posed a wide fairylake lace-knit scarf in color a handsome panny purple. By the way, purple, dahlia and fuchsia are considered quite the smartest colorings for the season throughout costumeing, and these wondrous shades are of striking beauty as interpreted in modish knitted outerwear.

All-white knitted outfits unrelieved by a contrasting color are scheduled for resort wear. Most appealing is a rephryknit alpaca, banded and scarfed with a knitted "woolen fur" the ensemble carried out entirely in white.

For tourist and street wear, suits, coats and sweaters knitted in pheasant colorings are the order of the day. Many of the ultra-modish garments are lavishly trimmed with knitted fur-like bandings, collars and cuffs.

Oh, for a new generation of day dreamers! They will not ask whether life is worth living—they will make it so. They will transform the sordid "struggle for existence" into glorious effort to become that which they have admired and loved.

SOMETHING TO EAT

A little bread helps out in many dishes, making more expensive foods go farther, and gives one a virtuous feeling of being economical. Add a half cupful of bread crumbs to two cupfuls of fried potatoes, a cupful, more or less, to meat loaf, salmon loaf, hamburger steak and such dishes.

Cheese and Bread Omelet.—Take a cupful of crumbs of white bread, soak in enough milk to cover them for an hour, adding a little more from time to time if the bread becomes dry. Beat three eggs, adding six tablespoonfuls of grated cheese with pepper and salt to taste. Beat steadily for five minutes. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in the omelet pan, pour in the mixture and cook like any ordinary omelet. When it is done slip a knife under it to loosen it from the pan but do not turn out; cover instead with a plate, draw the pan to the back of the stove and let it cook gently for five minutes. This is to give the bread a little more time to swell without spoiling the egg. Turn out and fold the omelet in the usual way.

Hashed Brown Potatoes.—Try cut fat salt pork cut into small cubes, remove the scraps; there should be one-third cupful of fat. Add two cupfuls of boiled potatoes finely chopped, salt and pepper to taste. Mix thoroughly with the fat, cook three minutes, stirring constantly; let brown underneath then fold as an omelet and serve on a hot platter.

Pressed Beef.—Wipe, remove superfluous fat and roll a flank of beef. Put into a kettle, cover with boiling water and add a tablespoonful of salt, one half teaspoonful of peppercorns, a bit of bay leaf and a bone or two. Cook slowly until the meat is in shreds; there should be very little liquor in the kettle when the meat is done. Arrange the meat in a deep pan, pour over the liquor, cover, press with a weight and serve thinly sliced when cold.

TEDDY SEEKS REVENGE

One summer we took the Mississippi river trip from St. Louis to St. Paul. For natural scenery this is a most beautiful river. It flows with many bends and curves between lofty and picturesque bluffs, and frequently through lakes, rapids and dense forests.

From St. Paul we went north by rail to Duluth, Minn., ambitiously termed the "Zenith City of the Unsalted Sea." It is beautifully situated on a bay at the west end of Lake Superior and the mouth of St. Louis river. This city is at the head of navigation of the Great Lakes and has one of the finest harbors in the United States, protected by a natural breakwater known as Minnesota Point. About 40,000 vessels enter and clear the harbor annually, bringing coal, and taking away flour and iron ore. The Boulevard Drive on the terrace at the back of the city

One day while in Duluth we noticed a handsome Scotch collie dog sitting on a corner as if waiting for some one. Our chauffeur then told us the dog's name was Teddy and it had, until recently, a companion called Beale. These dogs were always together and were very devoted to each other. They had a fine little family of pretty puppies only a few weeks old.

Several days before, Beale was run over and killed by a street car and since then Teddy was on that corner each day, leaping high as the cars sped by and often managing to grasp the trolley pole rope with his teeth, pulling the pole off the wire and stopping the car. Efforts of the dog's master and the car crews to stop the dog's habit were of no avail.

Some weeks after we heard that poor Teddy had to be shot.

enormously rich that they would never have such things as rainy day clothes—but I suppose all of us have our troubles, and not being popular at all times is one of ours.

"Oh," said the first rubber boot, "maybe some feel that way at times, but not often."

"The joy of rainy day clothes is that those who wear us can have a good time in spite of the weather. They don't have to worry or fret."

"They can just enjoy the puddles and the swishing, sloshing, delicious rain."

"I don't know whether there are any such words. But even then you know a rubber boot doesn't get much education."

"When I and my partner here go to school we aren't taken into the classrooms."

"We're left right outside with the other coats and rubber boots in the coatroom and we just don't say anything or think anything or learn anything."

"Oh," said the old hat, "I like the rainy days. And I'm glad I am a rainy day hat."

"I'd be so nervous in a wind if I were a hat. I was a hat hat once."

"So you see I know. My time was always spent wondering if it would rain or if it would blow or if the clouds meant this or that."

"Now I am entirely carefree—yes, an entirely carefree hat."

"I have no responsibilities, and I can enjoy myself."

"Good for the rainy day clothes," shouted the two rubber boots.

"Good for the rainy day clothes," they repeated, and then they jumped about before they were taken from the corner of the back hall where they stood.

After that they jumped about just as their owner told them to do, which was really most obliging of them, most extremely obliging.

MAKING GOOD IN A SMALL TOWN

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN

BROLLERS BRING BIG REWARDS

PICK up the menu in a city hotel or restaurant, any time from February to June, and you will see, opposite the words "spring broiler" such figures as $1.50 or $2.00.

"And that means," says a small town girl who helps to make possible this table luxury, "that the girl who raises spring chickens or 'brollers' will have good returns for her work."

"In fact, the industry is so lucrative that I know of many people who are carrying out the venture on a large scale, with huge capital invested," she declares. "But almost any girl has room on the premises where she can start in a small way. Her profits will grow to delightful proportions from year to year."

An interesting side-line of (yet a distinctly different undertaking from) the ordinary poultry industry, is this business of raising spring broilers. The idea is to raise young chicks in the winter, and sell them in the early spring.

The girl who decides to undertake the work at home must have, for equipment, an incubator which can be run in the cellar of the house, or in an unused room where there is no other heat; and a brooder—or nursery house—for the baby chicks. One brooder will take care of fifty chicks until they reach the broiler age.

Wyandotte eggs are a good variety for broilers. The chicks weigh, when hatched, two ounces, and, if all does well, they should weigh two pounds by the end of the eighth week.

Few of the rules for raising ordinary chickens apply when it comes to broilers. The caretaker must push them along as rapidly as she can, for the broiler that has developed quickly and that has plump, juicy meat brings the best price. Many growers never give their broilers water to drink, substituting scalded milk, since milk is a strong factor in making the flesh juicy and tender.

Marketing problems are not serious. If the town is large enough to support a good hotel or country club, her spring broilers are almost as good as sold. She is still luckier if her town happens to be a summer resort—for the "cityites," hungry for home-grown meats, will be flocking out at about the time her chicks are ready to sell.

At all events, the girl who raises spring broilers will make the best financial returns by selling "direct to consumer," or, in less elegant terms, "peddling her own."

Indians Like Night School

Night schools for adult Indians have been instituted by the bureau of Indian affairs of the Department of the Interior during the last year, according to an article by Commissioner Forke in the School Life, a periodical published by the bureau of education.

The school is conducted in northern North Dakota, and another is in a small village on the Papago reservation in southern Arizona. The latter school was established at the request of Marjorie Hendricks, the chief of the village, who attends the school herself and encourages her people to do so.

The Indians are greatly interested in the school and it is all the more successful because they initiated the plan.

"OLD-SALT" TALES

By CAPTAIN IRA PERKINS

When the President Passed

THE President was ill. Captain Ira had begun a tale of Central America with those words. The ten boys of the "Skippers' Club" sat listening. On went the story.

"Not many outside the President's mansion knew that he was ill. Few in the house itself knew the gravity of his sickness. And this was as well for all of us there, or things might have had a different ending."

"Yesterday the President had called in his three loyal cabinet ministers. Of the three, Zelala, 'The Gray Head,' was said to be the craftiest. To him was given credit for a large share of whatever small success the President's administration had won. Into his hands the President now put the duty of defending the nation's capital against the rebel armies."

"Back of this rebellion against the President was a net of intrigue and petty bickering which would have done credit to the Court of the King of France in the days of the De Medici."

"It was through one of these plots that the men of my ship had been drawn into the present affair. Our boat was the property of an American company which had bought certain trade rights from the President. These rights included a monopoly of a number of very profitable items and our business was flourishing."

"The money paid for these rights, however, had gone into the personal bank account of the President. The state had received none of it. Our rights were valid, only so long as the President stayed in power. Let him be overthrown, and we were through."

"The boat on which I sailed had made port loaded with a mixed cargo. It was just at this stage that the rebellion broke out. Our problem was to pick the winning side. If we stayed and the rebels succeeded, they would at once confiscate all our goods as contraband of war; while if the President won, then our position would be stronger than ever."

"We'll stick it out," said our skipper. And we did. That's the part I'm coming to."

"The rebellion itself was headed by the vice president. From what I could find out, he was a man of better type than most of the others; a planter and not a politician. But for the cunning and deceit of the President, the vice president would long before have been put in full power. The people loved him. Pay alone held the President's followers to his cause."

"But we were little concerned in the merits of the thing. Our interest lay in our own affairs, and in the property we were duty bound to guard. Our captain offered the services of his entire crew to the President's representative, Zelala. 'The Gray Head,' Zelala accepted. To each of us a duty was given."

"One morning the rebel army, with the vice president in command, moved forward and occupied the town just outside the walls of the mansion. A few scattered shots were fired, but it was plain to see that neither faction took any great heart in their work, and it seemed a pitched battle might yet be kept away from. There was more than a little parleying back and forth."

"Then the talking stopped. The only way to settle is appeared to be with bullets. We got ready. The attack might come at any minute. There was a deal of scampering to and fro. When I saw the rolls of fresh bandages which were made ready and which I was employed to carry into the surgeon's quarters, my heart lost a bit of its buoyancy. It had raised my spirits to think of a battle being fought here before my eyes. But this sight of bandages brought up sympathetic pains in all parts of my body."

"All at once, a great silence settled over everything. Then a whispering crept about the place. Men ran rapidly to and fro. A soldier clambered to the roof and lowered the flag to half-mast. In the town there was a half-sound of cheering and lamenting. The gates to the courtyard were swung wide open. In came the rebel army, and not a shot was fired. The vice president entered the mansion as a victor. He was the new President. The old President was dead."

Even if all the world is a stage, the best way is to act natural—Fitzed.

RAINY DAY CLOTHES

"I love a rainy day," said the first rubber boot.

"Why wouldn't you?" said the second rubber boot. "A rainy day is the only day you get a chance to go out."

"That's true," said the first rubber boot. "I didn't say that that was not perfectly true. It is one of the reasons why I love a rainy day."

"I love a rainy day, too," said the old skirt.

"Well, I have a nice time on a rainy day," the old hat said.

"And so do I," said the old coat.

"Why, I'm such a wretched old rag that I wouldn't have any wearing any more if it were not for a rainy day."

"Of course," said the old skirt, "it isn't nice to belong to Rainy Day Clothes family all the time."

"I mean every once in a while it is hard to know how very little you're really liked."

"I don't suppose there is a creature who doesn't hate her rainy day clothes once in a while."

"I mean that every now and then people will say."

"Oh, wouldn't it be wonderful not to have to wear rainy day clothes on a rainy day?"

"It would be so nice to feel one could wear one's good clothes then."

"So do I," said the old coat.

and took just as nice on a rainy day as on any other."

"But of course they realize their good clothes would not be good clothes for long if they did that."

"And so they always wear us."

"But at times we're not so popular, as they wish we weren't so old in appearance as well as in months and often years."

"They wish, too, they could be so."

HOW TO SOLVE A CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

When the correct letters are placed in the white spaces this puzzle will spell words both vertically and horizontally. The first letter in each word is indicated by a number, which refers to the definition listed below the puzzle. Thus No. 1 under the column headed "horizontal" defines a word which will fill the white spaces up to the first black square to the right, and a number under "vertical" defines a word which will fill the white spaces to the next black one below. No letters go in the black spaces. All words used are dictionary words, except proper names. Abbreviations, slang, initials, technical terms and obsolete forms are indicated in the definitions.

NEED JERSEY'S JUSTICE BRAND

Governor Silzer Advises Old-Fashioned Prosecution to Stamp Out Crime in State.

CONFERENCE WITH POLICE

Prosecutors, on initiative of Silzer, Plan Drive on Crime—Act on Constructive Suggestions From Governor—Bridge Bill Passed Senate.

Trenton.—Following the conference of all twenty-one prosecutors in the state with Governor Silzer, which he had summoned as a step towards the adoption of a systematic method of securing a reduction of crime in the state, the prosecutors adjourned to one of the Supreme Court rooms in the State House here and informally considered the proposals put up to them by the executive.

The meetings will be followed up with another one when heads of state, county, municipal and railroad police departments will have a conference with Colonel Norman Schwartzkopf of the State Police. After that session, at which the prosecutors will be represented, it is planned to lay out detailed plans for more effective operations against criminals.

The Governor called the prosecutors into conference at the executive offices as the first step in his campaign for a "return of Jersey justice in simple and original form."

Other suggestions by the Governor in his address included:

Revocation of suspended sentences in aggravated cases.

Setting bail bonds at high enough figures to prevent escape of criminals.

Prompt grand jury action and speedy trial.

Evidence before later grand juries when it seems justice has miscarried.

Wider exchange of thumb prints and rogues' gallery pictures.

The Governor asked the prosecutors to give close scrutiny to jury lists selected to hear cases. It is important, he declared, that the members chosen for such service be beyond reach of the criminal element.

The burying of petty jealousies that exist sometimes between law enforcement agencies and inquiry into the practice of some magistrates in treating criminals with too much consideration in imposing sentence or fixing bail, also were stressed by the executive.

"In my time, I have known professional pickpockets to be let go on small bail, or fined a small amount. Thus they escaped, as they could not be heard thereafter."

Check Escape of Criminals

Another need pointed out by the Governor was the establishment of better methods of intercommunication as a check against the frequent escape of criminals.

Declaring that he did not expect the county officials to admit the existence of a crime wave in their respective communities, Governor Silzer said that in many cases it was nevertheless a fact. He said:

"There is no doubt that all over the United States crimes of violence have increased and are prevalent in great number. A perusal of the daily papers shocks us and is a running account of what is happening."

"There are a number of well-known 'gangs' scattered throughout our state, known to many of you. They should be placed under surveillance and broken up. You know, as I do, that crime, following the tendency of the time, too, has organized. This must be broken up."

"I would suggest that you call in your counties a conference of all chiefs of police, and arrange for an interchange of opinion and the development of better ways of enforcing our criminal law."

"Every citizen must be assured that when he travels upon the highways, or goes about his usual pursuits, he is safe. As I have said upon a former occasion, a return to old fashioned Jersey justice will soon restore normal conditions."

After the Governor had concluded the talk in his office, the prosecutors agreed to the suggestion to take up among themselves the matters the Governor had brought to their attention. At this session, Prosecutor James H. Bolitho, of Morris county, president of the Prosecutors' Association of the state, presided.

Commendation for the activity of the Governor was expressed by a number of the conference. The tenor of the talks indicated the officials are willing to co-operate to the limit with the other authorities who have to deal with crime. As to the capacity of their own offices to deal with crime, attention was called to the fact the staffs of prosecutor's detectives are small and that they can act only in a supervisory capacity.

Those who took the most prominent parts in the discussion were: Prosecutors Ethan P. Wendt, of Camden; Joseph E. Stricker, of Middlesex; William H. Gerachy, of Mercer; and Alfred H. Jayne, Jr., of Ocean.

Senate Adopts Bridge Bill

While Senator Mackay was able to secure passage through the Senate of his bill making provision for preliminary work on the proposed bridge across the Hudson, between Fort Lee and Washington Heights, his resolution for a probe of the building and loan bureau of the Department of Banking and Insurance met with another delay in the House, where it was referred back to committee.

The bridge bill was passed after the Senators had spent about an hour in discussing various features incidental to the project. Senator Simpson, of Hudson, backed the Bergen County Senator in advocacy of the bill and in the end it was put through without an adverse vote.

The measure carries an appropriation of $150,000 for borings and the ascertainment of other data required on which to secure bids for its construction.

Senator Harrison of Essex, Whitney of Morris and Case of Somerset, were the principal inquirers into details of both the construction and the financing of the bridge. Inquiries as to the borings brought from Senator Mackay the information that preliminary data showed that at Washington Heights the foundation was ideal, and that a perfect foundation on the New Jersey side was located at a depth of about eighty feet.

Senator Harrison expressed doubt regarding the proposal to grant unlimited rights of condemnation to the Port of New York Authority, under whose supervision it is planned to have the bridge constructed.

To this Senator Mackay replied there was no other way to make the power of the Port Authority effective in the matter of both construction and expedition of construction.

Senator Case expressed doubt about assurance of financial returns to pay for the bridge and without calling upon this state and New York to make up a possible deficit. The Bergen Senator answered that financiers who had made a close scrutiny of conditions were confident the bridge would not only pay maintenance expenses at once, but would more than meet the amortization charges. He referred to the financial success already achieved with the Bear Mountain bridge.

Essex Objects to Probe

The Mackay-Harrison resolution for the building loan probe was sent back to committee on the motion of Majority Leader Chandlee as a matter of strategy after strenuous objection to the composition of the commission had been made by the Essex delegation. Instead of the commission composed of Senators and Assemblymen, the Essex people, headed by J. Glenn Anderson, who was a rival of Mr. Chandlee for the leadership, proposed a new personnel.

The Essex proposal was for a commission of six members. One member would be chosen by the state banking interests, another by the State League of Building and Loan Associations, the third by the Certified Public Accountants' Association; the fourth to be a representative of insurance companies which have their home offices in this state would be selected by the State Chamber of Commerce, and the other two would be a Senator and an Assemblyman.

The Essex people would retain the attorney-general as counsel for the probe.

All the Democrats were ready to vote in favor of the Mackay-Harrison resolution. With their help, the Republican leader felt he could secure enough votes to pass the resolution, but he decided not to take any chances and decided on recommissioning.

The resolution goes back to the judiciary committee of which he is chairman. There Mr. Chandlee will have control of it.

Fight Child Labor Move

The Council of State Organizations, composed of delegates from virtually every woman's organization of any importance in New Jersey, held a ratification luncheon in the Sterling Hotel here to discuss plans to push the child labor amendment through this session of the Legislature.

A resolution has been introduced in the Senate providing for a referendum on the amendment at the next general election.

The resolution came as a surprise to the women as passage of the amendment was practically assured. The Democratic platform endorsed the amendment and the majority of the Republican legislators had pledged to vote its passage.

The women contend that a referendum, based on the experience of Massachusetts, will be unfair because of the wealth and influence of powerful industrial interests opposed to the amendment. Congress of the power to regulate labor of persons under eighteen years of age.

Jersey Oyster Above Suspicion

"Nobody anywhere need have the slightest fear of eating New Jersey oysters because all that are gathered in this state have the official certification of the State Department of Health and there is no danger of typhoid or any other germs in them."

This was the statement issued by the research bureau of the State Department of Shell Fisheries after a conference with Director Mott and other officials of both departments. The Health Department, the statement declared, maintains in the Maurice River Cove district all the year around a complete floating laboratory with careful and experienced investigators making frequent tests of the waters and the shellfish by which the presence of disease germs would be instantly detected and the source of contamination removed at once. This is not new and emergency work. It has been conducted for more than ten years and has resulted in giving the New Jersey product a clean bill of health for the extensive markets it enjoys.

People are often surprised to find that the goods they bought "unsight unseen" from a catalogue can be seen and examined in the local store!

A Catch-up Year

2,185 miles of Bell pole lines are used for telephone service in Southern New Jersey. 140 miles are placed annually in response to the service into newly developed areas.

Today there is nearly 330,000 miles of wire used in South Jersey's Bell Telephone service. About 175,000 miles of it have been installed since the war.

40,000 miles of new wire is being added to the Bell System in South Jersey this year, some underground, some aerial and much of it in cables.

AS has been said before, the war-time demand for telephone service, particularly in the cities of size, came very close to swamping this company. It failed to, but it came close!

In less than a year our reserves of plant were exhausted, and it became a scramble to keep pace with a rush demand that seemed endless. It was an unfavorable time for expansion, but it had to be done.

1924 was a catch-up year, and fine progress was made.

December 31 saw 8500 more telephones in service than at the beginning of the year; wire mileage was increased from 265,000 to 330,000 miles, and switchboard positions from 500 to 600.

Last year saw four new buildings and one major building addition completed.

We have one foot out of the woods, and the rest seems to be a certainty for 1925. There are a few points where facilities are "tight"—where major construction has not yet progressed to the stage where all of the varied demand can be met.

But it has been a very satisfactory year in this respect, to us and to our patrons.

CHILD KILLED BY AUTO

Little Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hutton Meets Death in Philadelphia

Jeanne, the two-and-a-half-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hutton, of 907 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, was fatally injured by an automobile on Chestnut street, near Twelfth, Philadelphia, last Saturday morning.

The child had slipped from her mother's grasp while Mrs. Hutton was standing at a shop window. The mother did her utmost to save her little daughter, but the child dashed to the curb and fell beneath the wheels of a passing car before she could be overtaken.

Mrs. Hutton had gone to Philadelphia on a shopping trip and had stopped for a minute to admire a window display. Jeanne, child like, quickly tired of the window shopping, left away from her mother and ran for the street.

The child was rushed to the Jefferson Hospital and succumbed to her injuries early Saturday afternoon.

The funeral was given by Robert Daily, colored, of 13 Roberts street, Norristown, who is being held for a hearing.

Funeral services were held at the home of the child's parents, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Fred B. Morley, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church, officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery, with Funeral Director Frank A. Snover in charge.

Donated to Ambulance Association;
$50.50 Is Week's Total

While only six people had their names placed on the Ambulance Association Honor Roll over the week-end, $44.50 was realized in two big donations.

If there were not for the big subscriptions, the fund would be very low indeed. The association deeply appreciates the large sums, but would rather have more people play a part in the purchase of the ambulance.

Don't think that you can't subscribe until you can give five or ten dollars, but send that one dollar bill in and have your name placed on the Honor Roll.

There is at least one member in every family who could and should give one dollar, and in many cases there are several who could join the Honor Roll.

IMPROVES FUNERAL HOME

Elevator and Other Conveniences to Be Added

Funeral Director Frank A. Snover, who has been continually improving the Snover Funeral Home on East Broad street, one of the show places of Palmyra, reports that work is being started on much needed improvements.

About a year ago Mr. Snover built a complete show room, extending across the rear of the second floor, and made some additions to his parlors and operating room. He now plans to install an elevator in the rear of the home, running from the basement to the show room. In addition to this, he will make interior improvements such as fixtures and modernize the food and comfort and keep it up to the minute as a modern funeral home.

Palmyra now enjoys the distinction of having the finest plant of this type between Philadelphia and Newark. Mr. Snover says the home is always open for inspection. He also has a few dainty interior thermometers which may be obtained by calling at the home.

Davison, vice president; Richard E. Wilson, recording secretary; Charles K. Mervine, corresponding secretary, and Edward W. G. Borer, treasurer. A new office of financial secretary was created and D. W. Shoemaker was elected to serve in this capacity, pending the passage of an amendment to the constitution.

If William H. Bottger made the accompanying address and the machine was operated by William B. Colsey. Among the interesting things brought out by Mr. Bottger was the admirable way the company cares for its women employees, with a list of the rest homes for them near Pittsburgh. All offices are equipped with modern rest rooms for the operators.

The rapidity with which the poles are hand moved and planted with mechanical devices was one of the features. The company's own auxiliary power houses which can be used should the commercial companies fail to furnish the "juice" was explained. The dynamo, which is run by gas engine, and there is one power house near Pittsburgh which is capable of generating enough electricity to light a town of 5,000 inhabitants.

The Rev. W. H. Higgins, the new rector of the Christ Episcopal Church, was elected to honorary membership in the club on his first appearance at a meeting. The Rev. Mr. Higgins made quite a hit with the men when he gave a short talk in which he included interesting remarks and a few amusing tales.

In order to lighten the work of President Purnell, entertainment, social and house committees were appointed to assist him in his work.

DR. ELSON PLEASURES

"Christ in History" Proves Interesting Theme

Dr. Henry W. Elson, Historian, greatly pleased his audience at the Thursday night service in the Lutheran Church, when he took as his theme, "Christ in History," and gave a rapid review of history from ancient to modern times in such a manner that it was extremely pleasing to hear it.

Too often historical resumes are tiresome, but with an ease born of real knowledge, and a grace of diction which is rare, he presented his theme in a most happy and interesting way to the end.

His love for the "League of Nations" was brought out with great force, and found a response in the hearts of many present.

The Gethsemane Seminary, a quartet rendered seven numbers, the last of which was "Invictus." Every number was well received, and enough cannot be said of the splendidly coordinated voices in their renditions. Truly they rank with the best in male quartets.

This Thursday William H. Enhardt, president of City Club, will speak. Mrs. Bertha Brinker & Abites, soprano, of Philadelphia, will sing.

Christ Church lost its first "official" basketball game Monday when the Olney Presbyterian quintette won a last game by a 32-15 score.

Major's Man Knows How to Deal With Scorpion

The major acquired a body servant named Garrino while he was soaking up malaria in the hills back of Santiago. One day the major was stung by a large scorpion—stung through his leather leggings at that. Major Latimer was probably one of the world's greatest technicians in the art of profanity. He tore loose with his entire vocabulary when the virus of the scorpion made itself felt. Then he concluded he was going to die, as many other scorpion stings had.

Garrino dug around till he found another scorpion. He broke the critter in two, tore off the major's leggings, rolled up his pants and drawers and applied the raw end of half the broken scorpion to the spot on the major's leg where the sting had entered.

After Garrino had performed this operation the scorpion was helpless to sting, though his locomotion was not interfered with.

Another little trick of Garrino was to catch a scorpion, hold it by the head from beneath with thumb and finger, and with his other hand tear out the muscle that actuated the scorpion's sting. You know the scorpion must flip his tail up over his head to strike. After Garrino had performed this operation the scorpion was helpless to sting, though his locomotion was not interfered with.

Writing on Pinhead
No Longer Novelty

Wandering about town one might get the idea that America had developed a new industry—that of engraving the Lord's prayer on pinheads. The impression is strengthened if one takes to visiting the regions in which sidewalks flourish, near town or along the rustic routes of the traveling shows.

Considering that the man who engraved the prayer on a pin a few years ago was reported to have gone blind and insane as a result of his three years of application, one might almost pause to ask if all this pin engraving were not dangerous. There is no fear, however; the engraved pin business has been placed on a safe humane basis, remarks the New York Times.

The original pin was all that has been said for it. On a disk forty-seven one-thousandths of an inch in diameter there were engraved 45 words with 264 letters, and nearly 2,000 lines had to be cut in doing it. The original might conceivably have got lost in a sewing basket and gone the way of all pins. But a die was made of it—no inconsiderable job in itself—and the market is now supplied from the die.

Legend of Pontius Pilate
Among the Swiss Alps is a mountain named after Pontius Pilate. Country people say that it is haunted by Pilate's ghost. According to legend, Pilate's ghost appears after the Crucifixion of Pontius Pilate fell from imperial favor and killed himself in prison, whereupon his body was cast into the Tiber, which immediately rose and almost burst its banks. The body was taken to a lonely pool at the top of the mountain which now bears his name near Lucerne. According to another version Pilate retired there during his lifetime and was thrown into the pool by the Wandering Jew. In any case his presence caused terrible trouble, avalanches and floods devastating the district amid a thunderous noise in the recesses of the mountains. In the sixteenth century the ghost was finally laid, and a procession went up every year, headed by the viceroy of Lucerne, to cast stones into the pool.

Gehenna Place of Horror
The word Gehenna is translated "hell" in the Bible. Gehenna, strictly speaking, was the valley of Hinnom, a deep narrow gully south of Jerusalem, where, after Abrah introduced the worship of the gods, the Sun, Baal and Moloch, the Jews, under Manasseh, made their children pass through the fire and offered them as burnt offerings. "So Judah defiled the valley making it a receptacle of carcases and criminals' corpses, in which worms were continually gnawing." A perpetual fire was kept burning to consume this putrefying matter; hence it became the image of that awful place where all that are unfit for the holy city are supposed to be cast out.

During a severe thunderstorm in the Baltic sea, seagulls were observed flying about with small blue electric flames on their backs and at the tips of their tails and wings.

Many Things to Consider

It seems necessary in the choice of persons for greater employments to consider their bodies as well as their minds, and ages and health as well as their abilities.

Fishing Industry Big

The bureau of Fisheries says that there are about 200,000 people engaged in commercial fisheries in the United States and about $190,000,000 invested in fisheries.

Red Stick Indians

The Creek Indians were called Red Sticks by early Americans because in their principal village they set up a large red-painted pole as a sign of their devotion to the blood of the whites.

When the Business Started

No. 3—J. S. COLLINS & SON, INC.

The coal and lumber business now owned by J. S. Collins & Son, Inc., has changed hands a number of times. It was started in the seventies by Louis Corner, who also conducted a business in connection with coal and lumber. After several years Mr. Corner sold the coal and lumber part of the business to James Brown in 1879, retaining the ice trade for many years thereafter. In 1881 Brown sold his business to William M. and Howard Thomas, who traded under the firm name of Thomas Bros. until the present owners came into control.

Charles H. Mattis became associated with William Thomas in 1885 and remained with the firm for several years. George W. Spaul, of Palmyra, was also associated with Mr. Thomas for a while, and Jonathan G. Cottrell was with the firm for more than a decade. After James Brown sold out the business, he moved to Merchantville and later went south, where he met his death from a bullet wound. The present owners came into possession of the business in 1909, and twice within the next three years they suffered loss by fire. In 1912 the company was incorporated, Irving A. Collins, of Moorestown, is president, and Paul C. Burr is the local manager. ### Odd Fellows

With the passing to his Heavenly Home of Brother Moses MacCready on Wednesday of last week, Old Cimmunishun has suffered a keen loss. One of the most earnest and best loved members, regular in attendance and always jovial, he is sadly missed around the lodge room as well as in the community.

The lodge declared a recess during its regular business meeting last Friday evening and journeyed to the home of the late Brother at Bridgeport, where private services were held.

The Radio Club and the Ladies' Auxiliary have their benefit night at the Fox Theatre, Riverside, this Thursday evening.

On Friday evening the ladies again will entertain the lodge. This feature has now become the most eagerly anticipated event in the social activities of Cimmunishun Lodge. A splendid evening is always assured.

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE

By JOSEPH KAYE

By Wheeler Wyndgate, Inc.

GARIBALDI AND ANITA

IN ONE of the most critical points of his career love for his wife Anita was yet so predominant in his heart and mind as to move Garibaldi to send this exquisite letter to her:

"Your face, my little one, is with me every hour, encouraging and soothing me when my heart sinks low with fears of what may be. I thought I had loved all the sweetest of love, but when I first embraced my Anita, the mother of my children, in a silence that was an ecstasy, but now I know that there are quivers higher than the Alps and that there is a heaven higher and purer and sweeter than any I first explored in the arms of my youth.

"And keep you, my darling, and restore to me your arms."

Garibaldi, Italy's idealized patriot, met his Anita when he was campaigning in South America and she was his inseparable companion until her death.

Mythological

Cytherea is another name for Venus, so called from Cythera, a mountainous island of Laconia, noted for the worship of Aphrodite (Venus). The tale is that Venus and Mars, having formed an illicit affection for each other, were caught in a delicate net made by Vulcan, and exposed to the ridicule of the court of Olympus.

Tree "Blazes" Lasting

The forest service says that the blazes which are put in trees never grow out, provided that the blaze is put in properly. One of the members of the forest service cites an instance of a blaze that was made in 1901 and states that it is possible to stand 15 feet from this blaze and distinguish it clearly.

Accepted Plan of State Normal School Proposed for Jersey City

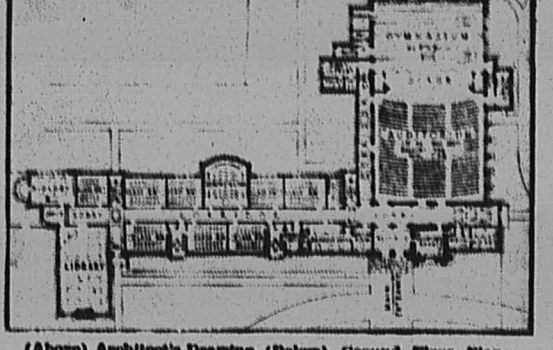

Handsome Modern Building on Hudson Boulevard Site Now Owned by State Will Accommodate 1,000 Students

The architect's drawing of the proposed state normal school, plans for which were accepted by the New Jersey State Board of Education at a recent meeting, is published here for the first time, together with the plan of the ground floor. These plans were prepared at the direction of the State Legislature with a special appropriation for the purpose provided at the last session.

This magnificent structure, designed according to the most modern developments in the science of school architecture, is to be built on Hudson Boulevard, Jersey City, about one mile south of Summit Avenue station, on the site purchased for the purpose by the Legislature in 1921. The site has 675 feet on Hudson Boulevard and 910 feet on Culver Avenue. The plan provides for tennis courts and other recreation space and will be developed with landscape gardening so as to make it one of the attractive properties on the Boulevard.

The site was selected for its convenience to residents of Bergen, Hudson and Monmouth counties. It will be easily accessible also to many students from Middlesex and Union Counties. It is in this locality that the State Board of Education is constructing a new normal school to do the most toward solving the serious problems of teacher shortage. The building as planned will accommodate 1,000 pupils, but provision has been made so that it could be easily enlarged to accommodate an additional 1,000. The rapidity of the growth of population in these counties makes this provision for the future necessary. The building, which will cost $1,000,000, was designed by Guilbert & Bertelle of Newark, architects for the handsome normal school in Glassboro, N. J., completed in 1920.

"It is highly desirable that the Legislature of New Jersey provide for the construction of the building this year," said Robert Lynn Cox, President of the Board. "The need of well-trained teachers is acute in New Jersey. These three counties constitute a population center which is the most likely source of supply of any large group of teachers native to New Jersey. By placing such a well-equipped Diagram of Regenerative Circuit Using Two Variocouplers—Has Good Distance Qualities and Gives Strong Signal.

By J. S. CAULFIELD
The variocoupler is used more for a single circuit regenerative set than for any other use and most experimenters are inclined to feel that it all can be used for. There are other uses for it besides acting as a primary and plate coil. Two variocouplers may be used in one set and will make a selective as well as a sensitive regenerative set.

A regenerative circuit using two variocouplers is shown herewith. It will be fairly new to the young fan, but it is a circuit that is very familiar to a great number of radio hogs. It has very good distance qualities and gives a very strong signal. The parts for this circuit are as follows:
1. 00025 mfd. variable condenser.
1. grid leak.
1. tube.
1. 100 mfd. fixed condenser.
1. rheostat.
1. A battery.
1. 22 1/2 volt B battery.
The primary of the variocoupler (P) is connected to the antenna and ground. The side of the secondary (S) is connected to one side of the primary (L1) of the second variocoupler. The taps are brought to a switch and the switch is connected to the grid through the 00025 mfd. grid condenser (C2). The secondary (L2) is connected to the plate and one side of the telephone. A 0005 mfd. variable condenser (C1) is connected across the switch on L1 and the filament return of the secondary (S). The filament is connected in the conventional manner. The following tuning pointers may be helpful to those who try this circuit. With both rotors set at an angle of 45 degrees, and about one-half of the wire on L1 tapped in, varying the secondary condenser (C1) help locate the broadcasting stations. When a station is located tune in as loud as possible with the rotor of the first variocoupler, and the secondary condenser. Then try varying the condenser of the rotor of the second variocoupler; this is where you will encounter a squeal, which is typical of the tube when in an oscillating condition. Make this adjustment to the point where you get the strongest signal without distortion.—New York World.

Should Know Tricks of Favored Crystal Set

Those who have the future of the radio amateur at heart are worried. They are not worried over the permanency of radio as an art or as a public utility. That is assured. But the future of the amateur phase of radio is not assured; there is a dark cloud hanging over it at the present time which threatens its very existence.

The tendency of the present-day novice is to run along the wing track, and unless he reverts to the position of the amateur of radio's early days, in a few years he will be a professional factor in radio development, he will become a mere incident, without the glory and credit that has belonged to him in the past.

The buyer of an automobile who buys with the idea of driving it himself and to a large degree caring for it himself, if he is wise buys a car of relatively small cost and simple construction. He studies it until he becomes intimately acquainted with its merits and its weaknesses—finds out how to get the most and the best out of it. By the time he has mastered his first car, he is naturally cautious to possess one of greater attainments; one that will do bigger and better things. And he is fit to be trusted with such a valuable piece of machinery. He is almost sure to remark that he is glad that he had sense enough to learn on the junior.

But the tendency of the radio novice is not to climb the ladder of experience but to reach the top by one big bound. To plunge into elaborate and costly apparatus. This leads to poor results in receiving, and the rendering of "horrible examples" to the neighbors—the flouting of the radio idea of many who might become enthusiasts and of benefit to the art.

The amateur may well start with the crystal set. It presents a fascinating field for experiment. He should make his own set if at all mechanically inclined. Should learn the how and why from A to Z. To know when he is getting all that is in it, and if not, why not.

There is a lot of fun and a lot of efficiency in a well-built crystal set, and a lot of joy in receiving over what you have made yourself; of showing off your own child. It is doubtful if receiving over any costly outfit will ever give the genuine satisfaction to the owner that comes from reception over the outfit that cost a few dollars and that he has himself put together.

Let's get back to the old ways, radio friends. Let's start with the crystal set, make a friend of it and learn all of the tricks. If we must have a set of greater capacity, let's try one of simple construction, with a built-up not over our heads. Let's try a single tube set and
