"BOSS" AGAIN OCCUPIES CENTRE OF STAGE

When Director Lippincott Presents Bill for Seven New Cows for Almshouse, with Allowance of Only $175 for Two Returned, Auditor Fisher Objects

What seemed to be a good chance for a harmonious meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Friday morning, was speedily wrecked when Fred Lippincott, director of public buildings, presented a bill of $1150 from Engle Haines for seven new cows for the almshouse, showing a credit of $175 for two cows returned. Auditor Fisher said he could not approve the bill for payment until he knew more about it. On the face of it, he said, it looked as though Mr. Lippincott had sold the cows back to Mr. Engle for less than he paid for them, the county being out of pocket the amount of the difference. Mr. Lippincott partly replied that Mr. Fisher did not know the facts. He was talking about, and could not possibly have any knowledge of what these particular cows cost, as no one was in possession of this information but Mr. Engle and himself. He was the steward of the almshouse, and Mr. Engle, Mr. Lippincott said, had agreed on a price in exchange. Mr. Fisher maintained that the people had a right to this information, and that the whole thing looked like a very shady transaction. This brought forth a request for an itemized bill for the cows in the original purchase, showing the price paid for each. Mr. Lippincott said he would furnish this at the next meeting. Mr. Fisher stood by his guns and the bill was referred back to Mr. Lippincott. In discussing the subject of the cows, Mr. Lippincott said that one of the two returned had developed a lump on her jaw, and the other had fallen off in milk production.

The clerk of Mansfield township sent a communication to the board stating that the township was ready to proceed, in the improvement of Main street, Columbus, but made a stipulation that the township would only be responsible for $22,000 the amount the county had advanced. The board of the township's part of the work would cost. The members of the board objected to this qualifying clause, and the matter was referred to the county engineer and the solicitor.

George H. Potter, of New Egypt, appeared before the board to get the payment of a bill for $125 for repairing his car which was damaged when it ran into a washout in the road while he was on his way to work one morning last Friday. Mr. Potter said that the hole in the road had been caused by a cloudburst, and asked for favorable consideration of Mr. Potter's claim. He thought that Mr. Potter was entitled to the modest sum he asked, which he had actually paid out for repairs, and more especially as Mr. Potter was asking no compensation for personal injuries received in the accident. Mr. Lippincott suggested that Mr. Potter be present at a bill at the next meeting of the board.

On a resolution by Mr. Wright the contract for building the wing wall at the Broad Street bridge, Burlington, was awarded to Comar & Burby, Burlington, at $1,325. There were four other bids. The highest was that of the Costello Construction Company which wanted $1,700 for the job. The Burlington firm agrees to complete the work in twenty-five days.

Another resolution by Mr. Wright gave William Cook, of Mount Holly, the contract for building a bridge at Brown's Mills, for $1,275. The highest bid in this case was $2,450.

A resolution by Mr. Lippincott gave William Cook a contract to build section one and two of the connection between the Lower Bank Bridge, now in course of construction. The changes were made through the recommendation of the Burlington County engineer and the County Commissioners, and with the approval of the Camden County Board of Freeholders.

Still another resolution by Mr. Wright authorized the clerk of the board to advertise for bids for ten small pipe culverts for the Church road.

The clerk also was authorized to advertise for bids for two Dow spiral fire escapes for the County Insane Hospital at New Lisbon.

The action was taken under a resolution by Mr. Lippincott. The spiral slides were asked for by Robert Cox, superintendent of the insane hospital.

A communication was received from Walter W. Mays, city clerk, Burlington, enclosing a resolution adopted by Common Council on Tuesday, April 21, relative to the improvement of the Jacksonville road.

The communication was received and filed. The county board is now waiting for Common Council to take action on the agreement outlined in the resolution.

A large sheet of bids, having to do with the alterations of the Folwell building, Main and Union streets, Mount Holly, recently purchased by the county, for office purposes, were opened and referred to the director of public buildings. The bids covered heating, plumbing and electrical work.

Bids to the amount of $13,836.53 were read and ordered paid as follows: roads, $3,517.24; bridges, $79.26; county buildings, $7,262.47; public affairs, $2,041.83; finance, $934.73.

"TURN TO RIGHT" BIG HIT

Palmyra High School Juniors Show Splendid Ability in Play

In giving "Turn to the Right," a comedy with a plot and three acts, the Junior Class of Palmyra High School presented what might be termed an all-star cast. The show made a big hit when given in the Palmyra High School auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings before large audiences.

Jimmie Hires, in playing the part of McGee, kept the crowds in an uproar from start to finish. The young star is a natural actor, and his extremely humorous lines presented in a dry manner won him the honors of the production. William Colby, as Gilly, Muzen, pal, was another big success.

In completing a role which would be hard to excel in clever acting, Portland Merrill won the crowd in playing the part of a youth who had strayed from the straight and narrow path, but who, after being in jail, came out with a firm resolution to do the right thing. The manliness and sincerity shown in Merrill's acting was acknowledged as unusual, and he was rarely found in the role of a comedian.

Watching the trio, which had formed an acquaintance while serving terms in jail, rise to fame and fortune by "playing the game on the square," gave the audience a deep interest in the plot from prologue to the final curtain.

In enacting Mrs. Maccom, the mother of Merrill, Mary Dickinson, portrayed a dignified, yet sweet and motherly character, which made a big impression on the more serious side of the audiences. The other mature part, that of Deacon Tillinger, was played with honors by Spencer Davidson.

Rosalie Roberts, as Betty Maccom; Anna McDermott, as Jessie Strong and Dorothy Jones, as Elsie Tillinger, all won honors as young ladies. Leslie Revere made a big hit in presenting the character of Sam Martin, a youthful store clerk who quickly rose to the top and became a member of New York's "400" by his industrious and business-like methods.

William Revere, as leader, the Pawshooker and Ernest Williams, his old tailor, admirably filled their character roles. The two remaining players who made hits were Elmer Wagner as Tom Callahan, a detective and Helen Mauer, as Katie, a domestic.

Made between acts was furnished by the high school orchestra and the direction of Louis R. Richards. The cast was coached by Mrs. Olive V. Lockley, a member of the faculty.

To quote comments made in the crowd, Lockley is either an unusual clever director or she had a cast of natural stage luminaries. No matter who gets the bulk of the honors, the show was a huge success and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended and voted in the "best ever."

DR. BRANDIFF DIES SUDDENLY

Popular Young Palmyra Dentist Victim of Acute Heart Disease

The sudden death of Dr. John Wesley Brandiff, from an acute attack of heart trouble at 3 o'clock Monday morning, came as a shock to his many friends in Palmyra.

The popular young dentist, who was 27 years old, died at his home, 600 Highland avenue. He had only been ill for a few days, not stopping his practice until last Wednesday.

Dr. Harry W. Bauer, was called in at the time, and immediately realized the seriousness of the dentist's condition and shortly afterward went into consultation with a specialist.

Funeral services were held at the home of the doctor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brandiff, 55 Walnut street, Salem, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The Rev. William A. Boyer, of the Greenwood M. E. Church, Trenton, officiated. He was assisted by the Rev. Fred B. Morley, of the Epworth M. E. Church, of Palmyra, and the Rev. Mr. Able, of Salem, with Funeral Director Frank A. Snover in charge.

The loss of the doctor is felt by the many friends who he quickly made in Palmyra and Riverton as the result of his charming personality and his ability to make friends wherever he went and was a man of keen insight and shrewd judgment.

Dr. Brandiff was a graduate of Salem High School and Philadelphia Dental College. In college he was one of the most prominent and popular men on the campus, being president of his class and fraternity Xi Psi Phi. He was graduated in 1922.

Shortly after graduating, he went into the office of a Philadelphia dentist for experience and before long patients were demanding the young dentist to do their work. After filling the allotted time at an assistant, Dr. Brandiff went south for his health and located in Palmyra two years ago. In an office above Schwering's Hardware Store on East Broad street.

His practice grew quickly and in the early spring of 1924 he purchased the property at Broad street and Highland avenue from Mrs. Norman C. Graham, built an office at the corner of the house and moved into it on June 2 of that year. From that time on he was extremely busy and overwork is attributed as partly the cause of his death.

On April 17, 1922, Dr. Brandiff, married Miss Mary E. Hummel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Hummel, of Salem.

Dr. Brandiff was a member of the Masonic fraternity, P. O. S. of A., Riverton Country Club and the National Dental Association and all of its branch organizations.

ALL SET FOR OPENING RACE

The Riverton Yacht Club Will Open Its Racing Season May 23rd

While the racing season will open May 23rd, the Club House will not be ready for full accommodation of members until May 30th, at which time it will be filled to capacity, many of the members having already made reservations to spend the summer here.

Several improvements have been made which will add to the pleasure and comfort of the guests. The yachtsmen are tuning up their racing craft, and with a new boat in the fleet, the competition is expected to be more interesting than ever.

ARTISANS WIN FROM LEGION

Close Contest in Twilight Game at "Razberry Park"

The Palmyra-Riverton Twin City Twilight League opened its season at "Razberry Park" Monday evening when Jim Rapp's Artisan nine clinched first honors of the year by trouncing the Legion in a hard-fought battle, as the score, 32 indicators.

A large crowd was on hand to witness the initial contest and showed great enthusiasm at the finer brand of ball displayed by the "evening entertainers" at the famous park.

The two teams kept up and tuck with scoring and the end of the sixth found them deadlocked in a 2-2 count. Rapp's clan got a couple of hits and then, with a run in the seventh, a pretty single drove over the winning tally and ended the initial fracas.

Tony Boehm was on the mound for the ex-servicemen, and although the former President star had not tossed a ball this season until he went on the hill, he had some nice stuff and kept 'em guessing.

Van Hansburg, of Delanco, twirled the first four innings for the Artisans, and then was relieved by Joe Gorman. They call Gorman "four ball Joe," but he failed to live up to his reputation on this occasion and it was almost impossible for the Legionnaires to touch him during his three-roun reign on the hill.

Public Utility Service—POWER!

POWER—where wanted, when wanted, in the amount wanted, is the first requirement of industry, and because the need is best met by Central Station service, the "power load" of utilities, like Public Service Electric and Gas Company, one of the subsidiary companies of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, grows rapidly

In 1924, the demands of manufacturers, large and small, engaged in many diverse branches of industry, increased the connected load of the company by some 77,000 horse power.

ARTISAN'S BOWLING LEAGUE

Interest at Fever Heat as Season Comes to Close

The Outlaws still cling to first place, closely followed by the Pirates, who have won their last 18 games. It is now a race between these two teams. The Outlaws have 9 games to play, and the Pirates have 6. With any kind of luck the Pirates should pull under the wire a winner for their team is all in good shape and bowling high scores.

Gibson made an alley record last Thursday, by making in 28 consecutive frames, followed by Jobe, who registered in 18. These records will be hard to beat.

Schroepfer and Thurer, the two comedians, entertained the large crowd with a special dance. These clever entertainers are in much demand, over the bowling circuit.

TWIN CITY NINES TO MEET

Baseball Season Will Be Opened at Memorial Park Saturday at 3:30

The baseball season will be formally opened this Saturday afternoon in the twin cities when the Riverton and Palmyra nines will clash at Riverton Memorial Park. The big game is scheduled to get under way at 3:30.

After several months of discussion and ballyhoo, the fans of the two towns are now all set for the big battle, the opener for 1925. The enthusiasm of the fandom is pitched to a high key, for this is always the case when Palmyra and Riverton meet in any line of athletic endeavor.

Of course, a big event like this needs financing, so the public is requested to dig deep and buy tags when they are approached some time in the latter part of this week. The supporters of each town will have their special colored tags, so this will be a handy way for the fans to show their colors. The receipts will be divided between the two teams and will help to promote clean athletics in the community.

The affair is being run on a big scale and both teams have announced their lineups. Manager Joe Slack, of Palmyra, says he will pit the following against Riverton's best: Rodgers, H. Matthews, B. Andrews, B. King, B. Worrell, C. Bennett, R. Harder, C. Workman, as, and Vanbrun picher. Harper, Manager Slack and Harry Burns are Palmyra substitutes.

Clarence Hufsch, charge d'affaires in Riverton, gives the following lineup: Captain Steddie, C. Herbert, P. Rush, B. D. Hyton, B. Pippitt, as; Gibson or Zisk, B. Holvick, H. Manager Hufsch, of and J. Hyton or Hebert.

Riverton will open its season in the Burlington County League at home Saturday May 16, against Medford a strong aggregation and one of the league's best. There will be a pomp and ceremony to preliminary of this affair and Mayor Fred P. Hemphill, will toss out the first ball. The members of the Borough Council will be on hand to help get things under way for a successful season.

EXECUTORS NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that an order has been made by the Surrogate of the County of Burlington, requiring the creditors of Emily Kelsey Lane, deceased, late of the County of Burlington, to bring in their claims against the estate of said decedent under oath, on or before November second, 1925, or they will be barred of any action thereon against the said executor.

HAND EMBROIDERY ENRICHES
INFORMAL AFTERNOON FROCKS

It is not that embroidery is a new decorative theme, but it is its unique placement which gives it unusual prestige in the scheme of things fashionable. Just as the poet clothes old and familiar truths in language different, so the stylist lending a new and distinctive appeal to hand embroidery by softening it in novel ways.

The informal afternoon frock shown in the picture owes much of its charm to the fact that the embroidered border is not merely a stereotyped border but is designed so as to panel high at one side. One recognizes at a glance that only hand-stitching can carry out such charming vagaries, and this fact in itself stamps the frock with that indefinable something called "atmosphere" which bespeaks the exclusive.

Another pretty example of skilled fingers and artistic insight is to embroider a bouquet at some unexpected vantage point on the frock. For instance, a cluster of flowers worked in nature-true colors may find lodgment somewhere on the front bodice as if it were a corsage bouquet. From it drop petals and half-blown flowerets in a shower which is of realistic aspect, accomplished, of course, all in embroidery stitch. This imparts the exclusive touch, for only the better gowns show individual treatment of this sort.

Very handsome is a black satin straightline frock carrying embroidery done in white silk floss, the same putting unobtrusive dashes, roses and foliage in the form of a border down the side fastening of the gown.

It is also the fashion to embroider in tones related to the gown itself. For instance, the original of the frock pictured uses blue-colored flat crepe as its medium, with the floral pattern in darker shades of blue.

The long streaming necktie which adds so much grace to this one-piece frock invites special mention for it is a distinguishing characteristic of a majority of the newest gowns. These ties become a part of the gown itself and not an accessory for they are made of the same fabric as the frock.

A clear soup, a bit of fish, a couple of oysters and a nice little roast. That's my kind of a dinner. —Thackeray.

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

Fritters may be served as an entree or as a dessert, depending upon the kind. A vegetable friter is always enjoyed. Mashed parsnips and vegetable oysters are among the favorites.

Pineapple Fritters.—Take one and one-third cups of flour, two teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth of a teaspoon of salt, two-thirds of a cup of milk, one egg, one-half cup of sugar, and one cup of crushed pineapple. Mix well and drop by spoonfuls into deep fat. Cook until brown, drain on brown paper and serve with.

Richest Sauce.—Boil one cup of sugar and one cup of water five minutes. Add a teaspoonful of cornstarch, moistened with a little water; cook until the starch is well-cooked. Remove from the heat; add one-half cup of grated pineapple and a tablespoonful of maraschino syrup. Mix well; add two tablespoonfuls of chopped maraschino cherries and serve.

Sponge Pudding.—Take one and one-half cups of milk, four tablespoonfuls of flour, a pinch of salt and cook until thick; add two tablespoonfuls of sugar and, when cooled a little, the yolks of three well-beaten eggs. Fold in the beaten whites and bake in a buttered baking dish until well-puffed. Serve a sauce prepared by creaming two tablespoonfuls of butter, adding powdered sugar until thick, then a tablespoonful of thick cream.

Barbecued Lamb.—Reheat slices of cold roast lamb in the following sauce: Two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half tablespoonful of vinegar, one-third cupful of currant jelly and one-fourth teaspoonful of mustard. Cook until the lamb is well-heated.

Mutton Stew With Peas.—Take a neck piece of mutton, cut into serving-sized pieces. When well-browned season with salt and pepper; dredge with flour. Simmer with water to cover, and one onion, until tender, then add a can of peas; thicken more if needed and serve the peas and gravy poured round the meat.

The skin from mutton should be carefully removed, as in the skin is the objectionable flavor of wool.

PUBLIC SERVICE Men and Women

The Gas Construction Man

Some 600,000 New Jersey families cook their meals with gas, largely because of the labors of the Gas Construction Man.

He has gridironed the State with more than 3,600 miles of main through which some twenty billion cubic feet of gas are annually distributed. He has tunneled rivers, overcome mountains, blasted the way through solid rock and floated his pipe on quaking marshlands in order that the section of New Jersey served by PUBLIC SERVICE might have gas for fuel.

He has constructed connecting mains that reach across the State from Jersey City to Camden and has provided a wider urban and rural distribution of gas than is possessed by any similar community anywhere.

In the average year the Gas Construction Man lays approximately 100 miles of new main and runs more than 15,000 services to provide adequate gas supply.

Glycerine Mixture for Gas on Stomach

Simple glycerine, buckthorn bark, etc., as mixed in Adierika, helps any case of gas on the stomach in TEN minutes. Most medicines act only on lower bowel but Adierika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and removes all gases and poisons. Brings out matter you never thought was in your system. Excellent for obstinate constipation. Guards against appendicitis. L. L. Keating, Riverton.

ADMINISTRATOR'S NOTICE

Notice is hereby given that an order has been made by the Surrogate of the County of Burlington, bearing date on the sixth day of March, 1925, upon the application of the executor, administrator, requiring the creditors of William C. WEEKLY MENU SUGGESTIONS

By NELLIE MAXWELL

Bananas are a fruit in the market all the year. Some day we will know more about serving them. Baked bananas, baked with butter and lemon juice while cooking, are a most delicious dish to serve with broiled beef steak.

SUNDAY—Breakfast: Bananas cereal, cream, toast, bacon, eggs. Dinner: Spareribs with dressing, lettuce salad, mashed turnips, pumpkin pie. Supper: Oyster stew, cabbage salad rolls.

MONDAY—Breakfast: Stewed prunes, oatmeal, griddle cakes. Dinner: Pork chops, scalloped potatoes whole wheat bread, raisins, nuts. Supper: Baked potatoes, fried dried beef, cake, tea.

TUESDAY—Breakfast: Oranges bran, top milk, omelet, toast. Dinner: Broiled beefsteak with baked bananas lima beans in butter. Supper: Hash water, cream, baking powder biscuits.

WEDNESDAY—Breakfast: Fruit waffles, doughnuts, coffee. Dinner: Potato pancakes, sliced cold meat, pickles, raisin pie. Supper: Cup cussards, bread and butter sandwiches, fruit, cookies, tea.

THURSDAY—Breakfast: Grape fruit, cracked wheat, buttered toast, coffee. Dinner: Boiled dinner, fruit jelly pudding, cheese crackers, coffee. Supper: Milk toast, hot frankfurts, jelly, cookies.

FRIDAY—Breakfast: Oatmeal, bananas with cream, griddle cakes. Dinner: Boiled fish, Hollandaise sauce, apple pie, cheese. Supper: Omelet with jelly, hot rolls.

SATURDAY—Breakfast: French toast, marmalade. Dinner: Boiled dinner, hash, water cress salad, steamed pudding. Supper: Baked beans, brown bread.

Hollandaise Sauce.
Wash one-half cupful of butter, divide into three pieces; add one piece to two egg yolks and a tablespoonful of lemon juice; mix until smooth, set the pan into hot water, stir until the butter is melted and well mixed, then add another piece, mixing well and removing the saucepan to keep the egg from curdling. Add the third piece and beat well with a Dover beater. If it curdles add a tablespoonful of thick cream and beat well with the beater.

Surplus
Hubby was evidently worried and wife was trying to cheer him up. "Cheer up, John, and don't worry," she said. "It doesn't do any good to borrow trouble."
"Borrow trouble," echoed her husband. "I don't care a cent for it. I don't borrow trouble; I've got it to lend."

Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. King and the Misses Mary E. Young, Lucille G. Rehopp and Mary C. Brown, spent the week end at the Chalfonte Hotel, Ocean Grove.

Word comes from C. F. Sleeper, former owner of the Palmyra News, who has been spending the winter in North Carolina, that Mrs. Sleeper has been seriously ill and now is in a hospital in Charlotte.

The Riverton and Palmyra Water Co. has improved its property around the standpipes at the top of Highland avenue by terracing, grading and sowing grass seed, in keeping with improvements in that section.

One of the movie hits of the season, "The Sea Hawk," featuring Milton Sills, is playing at the Broadway Palace Theatre, Monday and Tuesday evenings. Due to the extreme length of the picture, the first show will start at 7 o'clock.

The Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will meet on Tuesday, May 12th, at 2:30 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Thomas Murphy, 630 Lippincott avenue. All members are cordially invited to attend. Please bring thimble, needle and cotton.

A telephone extension from the police headquarters was installed on a telephone pole at the corner of Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue, Monday morning. This will save considerable time in making calls.

Mrs. Frederick L. Shill, of Morgan avenue, is visiting her brother, Col. William L. Shill, U. S. Marine, in Washington. While there she will attend the quinquennial meeting of the International Council of Women as a representative of the Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild.

At a meeting held by the Burlington County Council Boy Scout Executive Committee Tuesday evening, plans were formulated for a meeting of the entire county council to be held Tuesday, May 26, at Burlington, and also for a county Boy Scout Field Day to be held at Robbing, June 6.

Palmyra was represented by C. Oswald Melcher. Mr. Melcher announces further details of the affair will be given at a later date.

While the family was away over the week the home of Marvin Bradley, 508 Orchard avenue, Palmyra, was entered and $40 stolen from a bureau drawer. The bedroom in which the money was found was the only one which had been ransacked. Apparently no attempt was made even to search the other rooms and the thief seemed to be familiar with the house. Mr. Bradley and his family left early Saturday afternoon and discovered their loss on their return about 9:30 Sunday evening.

George Fletcher, son, Justice of the Peace and Mrs. William L. Fletcher, is the winner of a five dollar gold piece. So is William H. Cook. Several weeks ago the Blue Anchor Inn (inger Ale) company, placed placards in various store windows and each was numbered. Monday evening the Blue Anchor people held a radio party at Station WLIT, Philadelphia, and during the course of the evening broadcast several of the numbers. Included in them was one given the former postmaster, so according to arrangements, George, who was first to report to the grocerman, wins five dollars and so does Mr. Cook, as the result of holding a lucky number.

Palmyra P. T. A.

At a meeting to be held in Cronewick, Wednesday, May 13, a new county chairman of the Parent-Teacher Association will be elected to succeed Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, of Riverton. As this is an important election, Mrs. John Moffitt, president of the Palmyra association has issued an appeal for a large local attendance at the meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Palmyra Association will be held in the grammar school auditorium Tuesday evening, May 19. It is also important that all interested in the work of the organization should attend this meeting. The annual election of officers is scheduled and a number of other important matters are slated. At the conclusion refreshments will be served.

The association is selling tickets for a movie benefit to be given at the Broadway Palace Theatre Thursday evening, May 21. The main picture features Baby Peggy in "Helen's Baby."

TO HONOR H. S. RELAY TEAM

Tickets Being Sold for Entertainment to be Given May 14th

Tickets, at 35 cents, are now being sold for the big public reception and entertainment which will be given in honor of Coach Harold H. Lever and members of the Palmyra High School relay team in the high school auditorium, Thursday evening, May 14.

The proposition of giving an appropriate celebration for the boys who brought fame and a national title to Palmyra is backed by Mayor James T. Weart, members of the Borough Council, members of the school faculty, the student body and a number of public-spirited citizens. Tickets are being sold by high school and grammar school pupils.

The remainder of the proceeds, after defraying the expenses, will go toward the purchase of suitable awards for the boys whose attainment of the American Class B High School one-mile relay title is a most unusual accomplishment and is worthy of any reward the town may be able to obtain.

Mayor Weart, in outlining tentative plans for the meeting, says that the finest talent which can be obtained in Philadelphia will help provide entertainment. The program will include short talks by prominent citizens, entertainment by local talent, selections by the high school orchestra and other interesting features. There will also be the school songs and cheers.

And, of course, the record-breaking quartet, Captain Sacks, Sullivan, Wood and Dean and their ensemble, who is now considered the Lawson Robertson of the schoolboy track, will be present.

Mayor Weart says he wants at least 1,000 out to honor the team. Buy your tickets early.

Epworth Church Notes

Mother's Day will be observed on Sunday at the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church. At the morning service there will be a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Fred R. Morley, on "Mother." There will be musical selections in keeping with the day.

In the evening Covenant Lodge, Free and Accepted Masons, will assist the service in a body. The pastor will preach an appropriate sermon. As a special musical feature, Harold Mueller, of the Philadelphia Civic Orchestra will play the following selection: "Adoration," by Borovsk; "Bereave," by Godard; "Vision," by Macdonald and "Thine," by Massenet.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Schwarz, will sing "Calm As The Night" by Goggs. The chorus will sing "The Radiant Morn," by Woodward.

The church school meets at 2:30 in the afternoon. At the Epworth League devotional meeting at 4:45 the topic will be "Mother" and the leader Clifton Taylor. A G. Wilson will sing. Each member is requested to bring his mother.

At the mid-week service on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock the topic will be "Paul at Corinth."

On Thursday at 10:30 o'clock the Methodist Hospital Auxiliary will meet. A luncheon will be served at 12:30. Mrs. William Powers and Mrs. Wilberham are the committee. The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will meet at 2 o'clock.

The Woman's Guild is arranging for the annual sociability luncheon for Thursday, May 21, at one o'clock. Mrs. A. W. Karnell has been secured as the speaker.

Alois Mueller

Alois Mueller died suddenly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. August E. Meyer, 116 Lincoln avenue, early Sunday morning.

Funeral services were held at the home of his son, Louis Mueller, 2408 South Lambert street, with religious mass in St. Alphonsa Church, Philadelphia, at 9:30. Interment was made in Holy Cross cemetery, Philadelphia.

Mr. Mueller is survived by the one son and daughter.

When the Business Started

No. 17—WILL K. BOWEN

Twenty-five years ago there lived in a small town in South Jersey a young man who felt there was a future in the upholstery business for one who could express his thoughts in workmanship. Therefore he sought one of the masters of the craft of that day and arranged to "labor diligently" for the production of quality, rather than quantity. After he had finished his apprenticeship he had decided to gain a wider and more varied experience by spending some time as a journeyman. Accordingly he spent several years working in the best shops in Pittsfield, Mass., Washington, D. C., and other cities.

In 1913 Will K. Bowen opened "Ye Upholstery Shoppe" in a small room at the rear of the second floor of the Roberts building, where he remained four years, and then moved to 106 Broad street. This place answered for three more years, and again Mr. Bowen was obliged to seek larger quarters. In 1920 he leased the entire second floor of the Roberts building, where he has remained since that time.

Ye Upholstery Shoppe has had a most pleasing growth from the very beginning. The equipment at the outset consisted of a modest amount of upholstery tools, while now he has everything necessary for a well-rounded establishment, including a number of electrically-driven machines. His reputation for fair dealing and quality production has spread so that he now draws his patronage from a number of the surrounding towns, and recently completed an order for a party in Milwaukee, who came East to make their purchases, and then had the upholstery and finishing done at Ye Upholstery Shoppe.

True Story of this Baby Is Stranger Than Tale of Fiction

These pictures tell a true story that sounds like a wild yarn of fancy. One shows a tiny skeleton, in which the breath of life is almost extinct. The other shows that skeleton to-day, three years after the first picture was taken. In the first, Zadi, a refugee Armenian baby is being held in the arms of Dr. C. R. Gannaway, a Near East Relief worker, a few hours after she was placed in the Near East.

by a dying refugee mother in Turkey. The other was taken after a recent dinner of the Near East Relief in Washington, when Zadi, now the adopted daughter of Dr. Gannaway and his wife sang orphanage songs to an audience which included President Coolidge. She received the personal congratulations of the President.

Zadi's story is an epic of American relief work in the Near East.

NEAR EAST CANVASS SUNDAY

Workers Will Meet Friday Night in Presbyterian Chapel, Riverton

Everything is in readiness for the house-to-house canvass to be made next Sunday afternoon in Riverton and Palmyra in behalf of the Near East Relief. Mayor Wear is the chairman of the committee in Palmyra and Mayor Hemphill is in charge of the Riverton committee.

Workers from both places will attend the meeting Friday night in the Presbyterian Church chapel, Riverton, at which time a secretary of the Near East Relief will be present to answer questions concerning the work. A moving picture showing 12,000 children in the largest orphanage in the world, will be shown.

The canvass on Sunday will be to continue the support of some of the 40,000 children in the American orphanages of Near East Relief. It costs $60 a year, or $5 a month to feed and clothe one of these children. Each year, of course, some children, although at a pathetically tender age, are pronounced "self-supporting" and are subsequently placed as wisely as possible, considering the difficult circumstances to be met in that devastated country. But there are still thousands too little to be turned adrift, not to mention other thousands in the refugee camps, who inadequately clothed and fed, suffer terribly from the intense cold, who must be nurtured for a few years more, and it is for these little ones that the committee seeks the aid of the people here.

The visitors will be glad to tell of the wonders already accomplished; how disease has been lessened, even checked; how skillful the children have proved themselves in their manual training work; how great and fine has been their response to the spiritual efforts put forth in their behalf; how they have absorbed the high ideals, altruistic motives and real spirit of universal love which heroic Americans have brought to their land. Thousands of them will take up the problems of their country, their hands skilled in American methods, their vision fired by American inspiration, their hearts filled with gratitude for America and all Americans who have shared in this opportunity to helping these little ones.

THE QUESTION BOX

Born on Friday

Betty, Palmyra—I was born on April 29, 1881. What day of the week was that? What is my fortune?

Ans. You were born on Friday. Persons born at this time of the month of April like things orderly and appreciate whatever is best in life. They are fond of music and usually make good music teachers. However, they are likely to be frivolous.

Flint Arrow Heads

Harry, Cambridge—May I ask in your paper where the Indians got their flint and how could they make arrow heads if they had no tools?

Ans. Flint heads are numerous over most of North America. In making arrow heads, the flint flakes were chipped off by striking it with harder stones.

How Breakfast Foods Originated

Curious, Palmyra—How did cereals originate?

Ans. The cereals are members of a great family of grasses which have been cultivated by man from time immemorial. Originally, no doubt, they were wild plants that attracted the attention of man owing to the comparatively large quantities of food stuffs they yielded, and the ease with which they could be collected. In most cases now the original wild form is no longer known.

I. W. W.

Worker, Delair—What is the meaning of "I. W. W." and what is their aim in life?

Ans. "I. W. W." means Industrial Workers of the World. The preamble of the organization states that the working class and the employing class have nothing in common; that a struggle must go on between these two classes until the workers take possession of the earth and abolish the wage system.

Mermaids

W. R. S., Westfield—To decide an argument, will you kindly answer if there is such a thing as a mermaid—half woman and half fish?

Ans. No. That is a myth. This medieval fancy probably grew out of the fact that certain marine animals resemble human beings when seen at a distance. The sea cows of East Africa also resemble humans at a distance. The fertile imagination of the marines probably invented many of these mermaid stories on this base for the amusement of children and other gullible people.

Thirtieth Wedding Anniversary

Susie, Palmyra—Can you please tell me what is the 30th wedding anniversary?

Ans. The 30th wedding anniversary is pearl.

Bet She Don't

Mabel, Riverton—My slick's birthday is next week. What can I surprise him with?

Ans. Just tell him your right age.

NEW BOOKS AT LIBRARY

"Food for Thought"

One of the busiest men in the country, Dr. S. Austin Allibone, some years ago, sent this little card to "The Critic" for publication, and reflection. May it teach contributors and readers the value of that most important article—time:

What does it matter if we do lose a few minutes in a whole day?

Answer—Time Table.

Days in a year, 313; working hours in a day, 8.

Minutes lost each day is, in a year:—

5 minutes is in a year 3 2 5

10 minutes is in a year 6 4 10

20 minutes is in a year 13 0 20

30 minutes is in a year 19 4 30

60 minutes is in a year 39 1 60

Why not devote a certain number of minutes each day to the reading of something profitable, and which will later bring pleasure as well as profit to the reader?

Fiction

"Matilda, Governess to the English." Sophia Cleugh.

"Spanish Sunlight." Anthony Pryde, whose novels are always well worth reading.

"Drag." William Dudley Pelley.

"Dominant Blood." Robert E. McClure.

"Roads of Doubt." William MacLeod Raine.

"The High Priestess." Robert Grant.

"Arrowsmith." Sinclair Lewis.

Non-Fiction

"The Care and Feeding of Children." Emmett L. Hold.

"Happy Baby." Ed. by Emmett L. Hold and others.

List of books not new, but worth reading a second time.

"The First Violin." Pethergill.

"Twice American." Ingram.

"The Pagan's Cup." Hume.

"The Wings of the Morning." Tracy.

"The Golden Silence." Williamson.

Y. W. Girl Reserves

The Girl Reserves held their weekly meeting on April 29th at the home of Christine Smith. We had with us Mrs. Hendrickson, superintendent of the Mount Holly hospital. She gave a talk on her profession. After refreshments the girls gave her a rousing cheer and departed.

On Monday evening a meeting was held in the parish house. After the opening exercises business was discussed. Plans were made for the county "get-together" to be held in Moorestown, and it was learned that many expect to be present at the Mother-Daughter banquet.

HELENE GREENE, Publicity Committee.

Americus R. Russell

Americus R. Russell, 41 years old, died suddenly from an attack of apoplexy last Thursday afternoon at his home, 15 New Jersey avenue, Palmyra, a few hours after he was stricken.

Funeral services were held at his late residence Monday afternoon with the Rev. Harry L. Bass, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, officiating. Interment was made in Northwood Cemetery, Philadelphia, with Funeral Director Frank A. Snover, in charge. The deceased is survived by his wife, Mrs. Daisy Russell, and a ten-year-old son. The Russells moved to Palmyra from Philadelphia three years ago.

Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McKinley, of West Pearl street, Burlington, has announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss C. Blanche McKinley, to Thomas A. Cashin, of Philadelphia.

Miss McKinley was formerly visiting in Palmyra and during the past year was public school nurse at Metuchen. Mr. Cashin, has an important position with Taubel's, of Riverside.

The report percolates that the Ku Klux Klan has purchased the grounds of the Burlington County Fair Association at Mount Holly. It is said a holding company for the Klan will be the real owners of the property.

DIRECTOR ROGERS TAKES ORDERS FROM WRIGHT

On Wright's Dictation Refuses to Sign Contract, and Road Department is Without Authority to Buy Materials. "Dirty Trick," Says Stout

Just before the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders convened last Friday morning, Director of Roads Charles R. Stout learned that the contract for the tar for road work had not been signed. During the course of the meeting he learned that Director Rogers, who the contract had not been consummated, J. Lloyd Wright, who directed Stout and Rogers and went over with Lippincott and Rogers at the meeting, had signed the first of the year, replied, "I told him not to." The cat was out of the bag. The director was being directed by Wright. Then Director Rogers had to hunt cover, and he sought refuge in the plea that he could not sign any contract that was objected to by a member of the board. "Then," said Mr. Stout, "Why didn't you tell me you were not going to sign, so that I would not have gone ahead and ordered my material?" Rogers did not answer, and Mr. Stout said, "This is the dirtiest piece of business I ever saw. It looks to me as though you were trying to lead the road department into something."

The situation in reference to this contract is as follows: On February 13 a resolution was unanimously passed by the board to award a contract to Theodore Tobish, of Trenton, for ninety thousand gallons of cold gas tar and one hundred thousand gallons of hot water gas tar for Mr. Stout's department and the director and clerk were authorized to sign the contract, subject to the approval of the State Highway Commission, which was to pay a portion of the bill. The day after the resolution was given, and Stout, supposing the director had carried out the instructions of the board, went ahead and ordered such amounts of tar as he needed for the work in hand. Naturally he was considerably surprised when he found that the director, at the dictation of one member, and without bringing the matter before the board, had decided not to sign the contract.

Wright defended his action on the plea that asphalt oil could be bought about two cents a gallon cheaper than the tar product that had been decided upon when the road program was made up. This oil, however, had been tried out thoroughly by the road department and discarded four or five years ago because it did not give the desired results. When asked by Mr. Stout why he did not kick up all this fuss when the road schedule was made up, Mr. Wright replied that he was not then in the county and that had since been brought to his attention. Then Mr. Stout demanded to know what was the nature of the information, and who gave it to him, but Mr. Wright said that the man who came to him in good faith and wanted to be "kept out of it." "When information such as I received is brought to a member I feel that it is his duty to try to get it before the board," said Mr. Wright. Mr. Stout said that statements made by anyone who was ashamed to have his name known should not be considered by the board. Mr. Stout demanded that the man be produced at the next meeting of the board to make his statements in person. While Mr. Wright refused to divulge the name of his informant, it is strongly suspected that it is the same one who is alleged to have made the grand jury last year to explain or substantiate some reckless statements he had been making, and who presented a rather sorry spectacle when questioned by the grand jury in order to demonstrate the truth of a single one of the malicious stories he had so glibly spread.

Mr. Lippincott is "uncomfortable" Fred Lippincott contributed the concluding act to the farce when he said that it was not only the price involved, but that he had heard some things which the last two weeks that had made him feel very uncomfortable. Wright said, "me too." But when Stout said, "see here, I don't like these insinuations, and if you gentlemen have anything on your minds now is the time to relieve yourselves," Lippincott followed Wright's lead and sat tight, refusing to tell what he had learned that made him so unhappy.

Mr. Russ offered a resolution that the director be instructed to sign the contract, but it was defeated by the usual three-two vote. Lippincott, Wright and Rogers voting against it. The fact that the State Highway Commission was in on the contract, too, complicated matters a little, and Engineer Smith was asked to call the office of the commission and see how they felt about it. He returned with the laconic reply that "the whole county board of freeholders is liable to indictment." Director Rogers paled perceptibly around the gills, but masked his discomfort under a show of bravado and said, "What are they trying to do, Smith, scare you?" But he and his colleagues could not muster the courage to pass a resolution rescinding the resolution of February 13 directing the consummation of the contract, which Solicitor Peacock advised them was the next logical step.

Twenty Carloads of Stone May Be Wasted As the matter now stands Stout will be obliged to cancel orders for tar not actually delivered or in transit, and hold up his roadwork. About twenty carloads of stone suitable for use with the tar binder has been distributed along thirteen miles of roads. If the board forces the road department to use asphalt oil this stone will either have to be distributed and replaced by stone suitable for use with asphalt oil, or it used will not make a satisfactory and durable job.

Friday's action is interpreted as another attempt to place the director of the road department in a false light before the public and jeopardize his chances for re-election. A few weeks ago Wright and Lippincott tried to hold up his bills for work done on the roads, on the plea that he had not done the work directed to be done by the board, but when the minutes were referred to and failed to show any record of the supposed orders, the scheme fell through, and now Wright and Rogers have made another attempt to handicap the road department by cutting off a necessary part of its supplies. Meanwhile the road work waits, the traveling public suffers, and the money of the taxpayers is tied up if not actually wasted in twenty carloads of stone strewn along the roadside, while the triumvirate plays politics. It is reported that certain interests have said they would spend large sums of money to defeat Stout. With him out of the way, they would have a four-to-one vote in the board, which would enable them to get Engineer Smith out of the way, and they would have plain sailing from then on.

A rather significant thing happened when the bids were called for on Church Road. This is the road which the road department and the county engineer claim can be built from twenty to thirty per cent cheaper by the county road forces than by the contract plan. When it was announced at Friday morning's meeting that the road was ready to receive bids for this work, Lippincott moved that the bids be returned unopened. He explained his motion by saying that the culverts that had been ordered were not yet in position, and he did not think the road contract should be given out until the culvert work had been done. This brought a smile to the faces of those who knew the situation. The culverts in question are a few ten-inch pipes that can be put in position within a few days' time, and would not interfere in any way with the road work. It was like a play for time, the reason for which was not apparent, but which became plain when the attempt was made later to hamstring the road department by holding up its materials, and when the Public Service Commission, which was not a party to the contract to construct this road, and the only way to get it done would be to give it out to contract. Besides, there were three other resolutions submitted in addition to the Union Paving Company. Mr. Lippincott's motion to return the bids unopened was seconded by Mr. Wright and carried.

Two Road Contracts Awarded Two other road contracts were awarded, one for Church street, Moorestown, (not to be confused with Church Road) and Broad street in Palmyra. Walter S. French Company, of Trenton, was awarded the Church street contract for $41,894.10, and the Palmyra road for $41,894.10, the construction to be of concrete, as suggested by the Palmyra Borough Council. The other bids on these two roads were as follows: South Church street, Moorestown, Fish, Rutledge Co., $46,675.40; William Eisenberg, Camden, Union Paving Company, $49,404.75; Joseph E. Burke, Plainfield, $50,294.30. Broad street, Palmyra, Fish, Rutledge Co., concrete, $47,449.16; Walter S. French Co., concrete, $48,216.27; William Eisenberg, Camden, concrete, $44,045.10; Joseph E. Burke, Plainfield, concrete, $45,897.40; asphalt, $43,077.30.

The contract for the Hudson street bridge, Moorestown, was held out until next week. The bids were as follows: Kohn Construction Company, Trenton, $53,393.00; Costello Construction Company, Camden, $50,660.00; Hill Construction Company, Mount Holly, $47,000.00.

Delanco Bridge Declared Unsafe Attention was again called to the unsafe condition of the Delanco bridge, and the county engineer was instructed to post the structure as being unsafe for trucks over one ton, and to indicate a detour. The bridge has not been repaired owing to the fact that the Public Service Traction Company has not lived up to its agreement to pay for half of the maintenance. Repairs necessary at this time will cost about $15,000, and the Public Service was opposed to putting any more of the taxpayers' money into it until the Public Service had paid what it already owed.

The subject of the county taking over more roads came up again and resulted in a lengthy discussion when propositions were received from the Moorestown, Hainesport and Lambertown townships for the county to take over the road from Masonville to Fostertown, a distance of about four miles. Mr. Russ objected that the road had been taken over already, and Stout said he thought so, too; not that he was opposed to road improvement by the county, but that he could not see where the money was coming from this year. Mr. Wright said that with all the roads that had been improved the last few years, the cost of maintenance should be enough less to permit of considerable expansion in the mileage of county roads. Mr. Stout replied that increased travel during the last few years had advanced the cost of upkeep on the roads in the county high to an extent that would offset the saving on roads that have been improved. Mr. Lippincott said that the money in the end came from the taxpayers, and that in the work being done by the county the burden was simply shifted from the municipalities and distributed all over the county. If the road equipment is idle, as stated by Mr. Stout when he wanted to build Church Road with the county road forces, contended Mr. Lippincott, then the mileage of county-owned roads ought to be increased. Mr. Russ said that his position in the matter of the county taking over roads was not political, and the sponsors of the new deal hastened to assure him that politics had nothing to do with their attitude, either. Mr. Russ dryly remarked that if politics had not been in it the mileage of roads taken over by the county this year would have been considerably less.

Three More Roads "Given to County" The proposition made by the three townships was that Mt. Laurel pay $200 toward the maintenance this year,

CLARENCE HASN'T BEEN AWAY

They're telling a good one of Manager Clarence Hubbs, of the Riverton team, that Clarence is quite a "kicker" about the time he had this year. One of the Manager's friends happened to be passing his home this week, and called "when did you get back, Old Man?" Clarence perfectly innocently replied, "why I haven't been away," and the friend responded, "thought were still playing that game with Palmyra."

For once in his life, the plumber-manager was stumped and couldn't think of a "come-back."

Political Notes

The Mount Holly News says, Freeholder George Rogers is hiding things as smoothly as he can in campaign for re-election. Just what does the News mean by "grace"? The contest over State Committee in the Republican primary between Green Clerk Reeves and Mercer County Treasurer Pine is looming large on the political horizon. Someone has termed it another "batle of the century."

TRUCKS COLLIDE

Smashup Occurs Between Riverside and Bridgeboro

Two trucks collided on the road between Riverside and Bridgeboro Friday afternoon. One was driven by John Glass, of Riverton, and the other by Ray Bishop, of the George W. Beck Truck Company. Glass was making an effort to turn around Beck's truck to come in the opposite direction. There was room for one car to pass and Bishop, thinking Glass was waiting for him, continued on and struck him full force.

Both cars were seriously damaged and Glass assumed all responsibility for the accident.

Hainesport $300 and Lumberton $500. Mr. Stout said that he was a strong believer in road improvement, and since some of the members of the board had solicited the presentation of requests to have these roads taken over, in order not to disappoint them, he would "go along" and vote for the proposition. Mr. Stout immediately denied that he had solicited anybody to bring in these petitions, and the smile went around.

In order to finance the county's share of the construction of South Church street, Moorestown, and West Broad street, Palmyra, it was necessary to pass a resolution authorizing the issuance of bonds. A resolution was presented, the amount of $62,000, which included $200 for engineering expenses and inspection. This brought a vigorous protest from Mr. Lippincott, who wanted this item taken out of the sum, the engineer claimed, was not sufficient, and said, "cut it down as low as you want, but do not try to blame me if the road is not built right, if you do not allow me sum sufficient for proper inspection."

Mr. Lippincott has been most eager to have the county take over more roads, but when it came to a matter of spending $2000 to see that the roads were well expended, he couldn't see it, and raised the familiar hue and cry about saving the taxpayers' money. After a lengthy discussion, in which Mr. Lippincott failed to make his penny-wise-and-pound-foolish argument very impressive, the resolution was passed for the sum of $62,000. Russ, Stout and Rogers voting for it, Lippincott against, and Wright not voting.

That was a tight job in the usual smooth working of the Rogers, Wright, Lippincott combination when Mr. Rogers introduced a resolution that the matter of financing the improvement of roads be taken up with the State Highway Commission and the sum of $15,000 asked for. The resolution provided that a copy be sent to two members of the commission. To this Mr. Lippincott objected, and asked Mr. Rogers whose suggestion it was to do this. Mr. Rogers admitted that Mr. Hall had asked him to do it that way. Mr. Lippincott said that he was opposed to addressing individual members of the Commission on a matter of this kind, and insisted that the communication be sent to the Commission as a whole. Mr. Rogers said he had failed to consult his colleagues beforehand. Mr. Rogers retired and had the resolution revamped to meet Mr. Lippincott's requirements, after which it was unanimously passed.

Bills were ordered paid as follows: Roads, $2,250.01; bridges, $1,908.54; public buildings, $5,897.03; public affairs, $2,340.14; finance, $174.73. Mr. Stout did not vote on the bills for public buildings because they contained the disputed cow bill, held over from last week for investigation. This bill was for seven cows purchased for the almshouse, and a credit for two cows returned. At the last meeting Auditor Fisher claimed that allowance had not been made in keeping with the cost of the cows. Mr. Lippincott maintained that Mr. Fisher did not know what he was talking about, and the upshot of it was that Mr. Lippincott was instructed to bring in an itemized bill showing the individual cost of the cows in the original purchase, which would make it possible for the board to determine whether or not the allowance was in keeping with the purchase price. Instead of doing this, Mr. Lippincott brought in an itemized bill for seven cows recently purchased, which, of course, did not give the desired information. This bill however, was included with the others for public buildings, and under a new ruling by which only the lump sum for each department, and not the separate bills, are read, as heretofore, it slipped through.

Klan Purchases Fair Grounds

Deed for Big Transaction Signed Last Week: Price Was $30,000

The Burlington County Progressive League, is now officially the owner of the fair grounds at Mount Holly. The deed for the property was signed last Thursday and the purchase price was $30,000.

Negotiations for the purchase took definite form about two months ago when a deposit of $10,000 was made, but considerable secrecy about the transaction was maintained and few knew who the buyer was until last week.

County Kiegle James R. Bennett Thursday evening explained that while it was contrary to the laws of the order for the Klan to hold property in its own name, the stockholders of the League were Klansmen transacting business under the incorporated name and not as members of the order.

The directors of the fair were represented by Attorney V. Claude Palmer, of Mount Holly, and the incorporation of the Progressive League was looked after by Attorney Francis L. Stone, an Asbury Park lawyer.

Incorporated for $100,000

The League is incorporated for $100,000, $50,000 of which has been paid in and it is the intention of the owners to spend $15,000 on improvements to the buildings and painting the same. The stock is divided into 10,000 shares of $10 each.

The League was incorporated on April 3, and the articles of incorporation filed in the Burlington County Clerk's office on April 2, 1925. The articles of incorporation call for the election of fifteen directors, five to be chosen for one year, five for two years and five for three years. A president and two vice-presidents are to be chosen by the Board of Directors, the corresponding secretary to be known, but the recording secretary's name will not be given out.

Mr. Bennett, Columbus, will be the agent in charge and will attend to the renting of the grounds, etc.

Will Rent Grounds

The grounds are to be used as a County Klavern, where meetings of the Klan and Women of the Klan will be held and they will be for rent for excursions, horse and automobile racing, etc. The League will conduct general museum and certain times (which may mean a county fair) and it will be let free of charge for Sunday school or church picnics. Religious and church activities will always be given preference.

The articles of incorporation authorize the League "to buy and sell real estate, to conduct amusements and to enter into any such other project as it may deem best."

In addition to acquiring the Fair Grounds, organizations similar to the Burlington County Progressive League have purchased the Marconi Station near Belmar, consisting of about 400 acres with numerous expensive buildings; Elkwood Park near Long Branch; Tumbling Dam Park, at Bridgeport, and others.

At Belmar a $50,000 broadcasting station is to be installed before fall.

BANKERS ELECT

George J. Pitman Chosen Treasurer of County Association

John H. Hutchinson, of Borden town, vice-president of the Borden town Banking Company, was elected president of the Burlington County Bankers' Association at the annual meeting of the organization which was held last Friday in the Traymore Hotel, Atlantic City, co-incidental with the annual convention of the New Jersey State Bankers' Association.

Edward Ridgway, vice-president and treasurer of the Burlington City Loan and Trust Company, was made vice-president of the county organization. George J. Pitman, treasurer of the Riverside Trust Company, was elected treasurer of the county association.

At the same time Walter E. Robb, president of the Burlington City Loan and Trust Company, was elected vice-president of the New Jersey State Bankers' Association.

ATTACKS YOUNG GIRL State Trooper Arrests Palmyra Youth Who Is Held Without Bail

James Miles, 21 years old, of 1005 Morgan avenue, Palmyra, was arrested by State Policeman Wilbur Cline last Thursday afternoon, accused of an attempted attack on Miss Elizabeth Galloway, 16 year old daughter of Charles Galloway, 402 Cleveland avenue.

BOWLING SCORES

The Close of the Bowling Season at the Country Club

The Riverton Country Club has again concluded a successful bowling tournament and as usual the winning team was in doubt up to the last few games played. Harvey Hirst's team of 21 stars led during almost the entire four months that the tournament lasted but could not keep up the pace and was overhauled by Yost's team at the end and beaten out by three games.

The highest game bowled was made by Harvey Hirst with a score of 284, he making ten straight strikes and then getting a split on the eleventh ball. He also bowled the highest three games in any one match making 149, 249 and 284 or a total of 682, four of these scores are new records at the Club.

Wayne Ayers again proved the most consistent bowler making an average of 182 during the entire tournament. The standing of the teams was as follows:

| Team | W | L | Per. |
|--------------|----|----|------|
| 1. Yost | 38 | 13 | 745 |
| 2. Hirst | 35 | 16 | 686 |

Electricity Gains On Gas

At the close of business March 31, last, there were 1,199,374 electric and gas meters in service in Public Service Electric and Gas Company territory throughout New Jersey. This shows an increase in a year of 131,858, or 99,189 electric and 34,669 gas meters.

For the first quarter of this year the number of electric meters increased by 17,452; while the gas meter increase was 3,299.

In the same period in 1924, the increase in electric meters was 17,235 and in gas meters 2,535.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS FOR BURLINGTON COUNTY

Boys and Girls to be Given Chance to Learn Trades. Canvass Now Being Made to Learn the Need. Teachers Are Enthusiastic.

Recognizing the right of each child to enter the industrial world with the best preparation which the public can afford, the Federal and State Governments have provided in our school laws for the establishment of vocational schools. The purpose of these schools is to educate children for profitable occupations and their underlying principle is to create in young America a spirit of work. The method of these schools is to devote one-half of the pupil's time to the study of the subject which is being taught, the balance of the time being placed on related academic subjects similar to the training now received in our grade and high schools.

Realizing the value of such a school to Burlington County with its various industries including agriculture, the Burlington Industrial Association, an organization to promote work among the foremen of the industries of the county, which was instituted through the efforts of the County YMCA some four years ago, has been carefully considering the question of just how we, in Burlington county, could avail ourselves of the privilege now being granted to us through certain State laws providing for vocational education. Early last fall a conference of men prominent in industries on the river front was called together to hear a representative of the State Department of Public Instruction who is specializing in vocational education. The result of the conference was the appointment of a committee to make further study. This committee finds that the law provides for the establishment of vocational schools, either by a county under the direction of the County Board of Vocational Education, or by one or more school districts. The laws of New Jersey further provide for the financing of such a school by the State paying the whole question and has issued a questionnaire which they have endeavored to get into the hands of every voter they could reach. This questionnaire calls for an expression of opinion as to whether or not the county should establish such a school, and if so, whether or not they have any members in their family of school age (14 years or over) who would probably attend this school, and if not, to give the names and addresses of any other persons whom they believe would be interested in attending. Naturally one of the first questions that some would ask is if there is to be a free school, and the answer is very simple. It is to be very similar to our present public schools in that all instruction is provided without cost to the pupil. Another question that naturally arises is how great the burden would be upon the taxpayers were such a school established in Burlington County. The answer to that question is rather difficult to answer because of the fact that no one is in position to tell the amount that would be required the first year of its operation. The general tendency is to start with such a count as $200,000, and then grow as the demand for other courses increases. If, for instance the amount necessary for establishing and operating the school for the first year should be $200,000, the State would pay one-half or $100,000, leaving the County to pay the balance. With the present net taxable property in Burlington County amounting to $57,871,258 it can readily be seen that the increase in taxes to cover establishment of the school would be very small. When the fact that more boys and girls would remain in school for a better preparation for life as a result of being able to learn the things they care to do most, the cost of such school would indeed be very small. The committee is very anxious to have expressions of opinion from all who are interested in this question and would be glad to send out questionnaires to any persons who have not already received a copy. Communications addressed to George W. Shon, chairman of the committee, 23 East Union street, or D. S. Evans, secretary, Box 301, Burlington, will receive immediate consideration.

Vocational schools are now operating in many parts of this and other States in this country, and we have in New Jersey seven schools operating successfully along the lines mentioned. The majority of the graduates of these schools is based on the fact that their graduates have a practical working knowledge of their chosen occupation, have learned the value of work and have acquired a steady earning power so often necessary to life.

Palmyra F. C. Beats Riverside

"Babe" Flynn Twirls Team to Victory; Volkman Makes Fine Catch

The Palmyra Field Club, fresh from its triumph over Riverton, traveled to Riverside Sunday and trimmed Riverside A. A. to the tune of 32-14. Babe Flynn, who shouldered Palmyra's pitching responsibility, was rather wild in the initial canto. Several walks on the part of Martini coupled with some clean bingles gave the home outfit a twin-cylinder lead.

The Palmyra momentum, after a lightened up and sent twelve men back to the bench via the strikeline route and his work throughout was flawless. Flynn was well supported by time and a beautiful fielding on the part of the Stackmen. Worrell, of Medford, Palmyra's new catcher, played a bang up game. Joe's most recent acquisition is a "real find."

Volkman Riverside's initial sack pulled the thriller of the contest when he made a star catch with two on base and one out, making a double play unassisted, and retiring Palmyra.

This Saturday, at the Field Club, Palmyra will clash with the Tulpehocken Reds, the all-star aggregation which trimmed the Field Club twice last week. This still will be a real trial for the Palmyra nine which seems to be the best aggregation the town has had on the diamond in the past six years.

From all indications, Joe has assembled a fast hard-hitting team. 1925 should be a red letter in Palmyra's baseball, as well as track history.

At the present time the club is in debt approximately $300. This money was spent for new equipment, repairs on the diamond and new uniforms. Chance books are out to help make up the deficiency.

Joe Flynn, for the first time in many moons, to put the game on a paying basis, but he must have the support of the public. This, however, is expected to come, for a winning team, as Palmyra no doubt has, not only wins the moral but financial support of the fanboys. See the team in action this Saturday afternoon.

When Thames Bridge Was Lighted By Gas

More than a century ago a great crowd gathered on Westminster Bridge, in London. A new chapter was about to be written in the world's history of inventions. The famous bridge was about to be lighted by gas. Suddenly the bridge was flooded with light. The crowd fell back, bewildered and engrossed stepped forward and touched the gas pipes. He invited a members of Parliament to likewise. This gentleman refused until he had borrowed heavy gloves. He believed that the pipes contained fire and would burn him.

When electricity supplanted gas as an illuminant, people believed that gas was doomed. But today it is one of the great heating agents of the world and is used in 5,000 different ways in industry and is produced in greater quantities than ever

Public Utility Service—HEAT!

HEAT—produced by the burning of gas enters into hundreds of industrial processes and its use is increasing each day. Gas supplied by a utility company from a central source is dependable, clean, convenient, and is available whenever heat is required. That is why the industrial gas load of Public Service increased by more than 650,000,000 cubic feet in the four years 1921-1924, and why manufacturers in rapidly growing numbers are adopting its use in many of their manufacturing processes.

Gas, no less than electricity and transit, is essential to modern communities, and steady demand for service gives stability to securities of this industry. Invest in

LAY CALL SENATE
SPECIAL SESSIONGovernor Silzer Desires to Have
New Commissioner of Education Confirmed.

BERRY ON CHANCERY BENCH

South Jersey Lawyer Named Vice Chancellor to Sit at Newark and Long Branch—Former Judge in Ocean County.

Trenton.—It is very probable that the Senate will be called into special session by Governor Silzer to consider his appointment of a State Commissioner of Education to succeed John Enright, who resigned several weeks ago and speculation as to the course the Republicans will take when the name is received is having its usual run. The Governor has not been able, apparently, to put his hand upon the right man for this responsible post, which presents its holder with the next salary of $10,000 a year, which equals that of the Governor himself, but he is expected to find one shortly. Since the Governor has but seven months of his term to occupy the executive chair he is somewhat concerned over the selection of a commissioner, especially since the Republicans last winter came so near taking the appointive power out of his hands and placing it within the grip of the State Board of Education.

Such a move was seriously contemplated with the earnest support of a number of women's organizations, but it failed for lack of support in the legislative caucuses. It is presumed that the effort will not be abandoned by reason of that temporary failure since the post is looked upon as legitimate pickings for the party organization, although efforts have been set forth to keep the educational system out of politics as far as possible.

What the Republicans would like to see, therefore, would be the Governor's appointment of a man whom the Senate could reject with some degree of reasonable excuse so that it might be held over to the next session when, they fancy, there might be a Republican Governor to make the appointment.

In its last meeting the State Board of Education defeated a resolution urging the Governor to make a temporary appointment to the office pending the final selection, because several of the members perceived the possibilities for harm in such a move. The department, it was held, can function with reasonable celerity and efficiency with the several assistant commissioners on the job. If called in special session the Senate could act upon nothing save that specific matter, but those in touch with the situation believe that it would turn down any appointment the Governor might make.

Maja Leon Berry Succeeds Foster
Appointment of Maja Leon Berry of Toms River, former Common Pleas Judge of Ocean County, as vice-chancellor to succeed the late Vice-Chancellor John E. Foster of Red Bank, was announced at the state house by Chancellor Walker. In making the appointment the chancellor stated:

Judge Berry, like his predecessor, resides in one of the seashore counties and like him will be assigned to the transaction of litigation arising in that locality and will continue the Chancery chambers at Long Branch besides sitting in Newark. Judge Berry is one of the leading lawyers of South Jersey, maintaining offices in Toms River and Camden.

He was graduated from the law school of the University of Pennsylvania in 1902 and was admitted to the New Jersey bar in November of that year. Judge Berry has ever since been actively and extensively engaged in the practice of his profession in all of the courts, both civil and criminal, besides having been retained as counsel of its Board of Chosen Freeholders.

Judge Berry is a brother-in-law of State Senator Thomas A. Mattis of Ocean County, who also lives in Toms River.

Active in Ocean Politics
Mr. Berry is a native of Ocean County and has long been active in Republican politics there, his latest office being that of solicitor of the Board of Freeholders. He served one term as county judge, from 1907 to 1912. He was thirty years old at the time of his appointment and was then ranked as the youngest county judge in the state. He was born at West Creek January 2, 1877, attended the public schools there and then became a teacher. Later he received an appointment to the railway mail service, and while serving in that capacity he studied law in the office of Norman Grey of Camden.

During stormy times in Ocean County politics Mr. Berry has been a prominent figure. His name was brought into the legislative investigation of excise affairs in 1908.

Tunnel Viaduct Compromise
The engineering department of the state Highway Commission will be put to work immediately in the solution of engineering problems incident to designing a proposed compromise approach to the entrance of the Holland Tunnel which, in effect, it is understood will preserve the Twelfth street route, but will extend the highway and viaduct along the south side of the south side of Twelfth street.

It is understood that upon the report of the engineers will depend action to be taken by the Highway Board at its meeting Tuesday. It is understood that adoption of the compromise route, a proposal of the Erie Railroad, would not involve higher cost to the state because any added expense is expected to be offset by concessions to be made by the railroad in return for being allowed to retain the land necessary for its expansion program in Jersey City.

Agreement to make a study of the proposed compromise was the result of a prolonged conference between the highway commission and representatives of the Erie. At the close of the conference former Judge Mark A. Sullivan, as spokesman for the commission, announced briefly that a tentative plan of the approach was under consideration which it was hoped might result in an amicable settlement of the difference between the commission and the railroad.

Commissioners Silent
Members of the commission took the position that until a study had been made of the engineering problems to be overcome the proposed compromise plan should not be made public. Officials for the railroad expressed a similar unwillingness to discuss details.

Inquiries in other quarters, however, elicited information as to what seems to be the general plan presented by the Erie for solving the problem without taking from the railroad a thirty-foot strip of land along the south side of Twelfth street, between Jersey avenue and Monmouth street, and also preserving to the Erie a right of way at grade, paralleling the proposed viaduct, as an entrance to the railroad's contemplated warehouse development to the southward of Twelfth street.

Roughly stated, the compromise plan is understood to include acquisition by the Highway Commission of a forty-foot strip of land on the north side of Twelfth street, instead of a thirty-foot strip from the Erie property on the south side. The present width of Twelfth street is sixty feet. Under the new plan the route of the viaduct will be shifted to the northward and will leave the Erie a twenty-one-foot strip of what is now Twelfth street, paralleling the base of the viaduct as an approach to its warehouse or other development on Twelfth street. The railroad will lose none of the property on Twelfth street it has been acquiring for future development.

Many Workers Neglected
Living conditions for transient farm laborers in New Jersey are in many cases "deplorable," the United States Department of Agriculture declares.

Study of the farm labor situation on 375 representative truck farms in New Jersey, made by Government officials, revealed that steady employment and better living conditions are necessary to attract capable employees to farm work in the State, it was asserted. It was found that on many farms the laborers are given the most meagre accommodations.

Some cases were found where only a board set on edge marked off family spaces on the floor of shacks used for common sleeping quarters, where straw and rough bedding were laid. Sanitary facilities were sometimes conspicuously by their absence, and, when found, were usually primitive and inconveniently located, the department charges.

Farmers who can use labor only part of the year are likely to be hardest pressed for help when they need it, and to get only a poor class of labor, it is stated. Other things being equal, the department points out, the farmer who diversifies and can employ his laborers all the year can more easily secure and hold an efficient class of workers. With added crops and livestock, some farmers might be able to provide year-round work for their help to mutual advantage, it is declared.

State Police Zones Designated
Under a redistricting of State Police zones in New Jersey Captain John J. Lamb, commander of the State Police training school at Wilburth, near here, is placed in charge of the central section of New Jersey comprising an area of about one-third of the State. Captain Lamb will have thirty men under his command, and will continue his headquarters at the Wilburth School, which will remain under his supervision.

Previous to the change, the territory coming under Captain Lamb's command consisted of the districts surrounding Trenton and other parts of Mercer County. His territory will now extend south to a line running through Burlington, Brown's Mills, to Forked River on the coast. The territory will include the land lying north to a line touching Raven Rock, Flemington, Middleburgh, New Brunswick and Perth Amboy.

Lieutenant W. O. Nicol, Captain Lamb's associate at the Wilburth Station, will assume practical charge of the training school. Sergeant Tighe, another trooper who is well known here, has been assigned to command the Freehold Station, and has charge of a district covered by 16 troopers. Sergeant Thomas H. Cunningham will continue his duties at Wilburth. Sergeant A. L. Smith, who has been stationed at Wilburth for some time, has been given supervision of various sub-stations, which he will cover from Wilburth.

Stations now under Captain Lamb's command include those at Kingston, Bordentown, Hightstown, Lambertville, Freehold, Toms River, Point Pleasant and Shrewsbury.

Probers in Highway Fight
The Bright probe committee announced that it desired to have before it members of the State Highway Commission and State Engineer William G. Sloan, together with officials and representatives of the Erie Railroad, for the purpose of discussing "questions of the outlet for the Hudson vehicular tunnel."

Mr. Bright and Senator Simpson pointed out that there is an expenditure of $20,000,000 involved and that unless something is done to settle the current controversy between the Highway Commission and the Erie over land of the company that the commission seeks to condemn traffic from and to the tunnel will be blocked by litigation, perhaps for several years.

The investigation committee will request the appearance of General Hugh L. Scott, chairman of the commission; Abraham J. Ellis, of New Brunswick; Walter Kilde, of Montclair; and Percy H. Stewart, of Plainfield. Senator Alexander Simpson instructed the committee stenographer as to whom to send the letters and took an active part with Senator Bright in arranging the details for next Wednesday's session.

Tunnel Date Also Demanded
Data on the vehicular tunnel between Jersey City and Manhattan will also be submitted to the committee sloners have been $15,000 since inception of the work, McEnroe testified.

Political maneuvering of the New Jersey commission was inquired into by Senator Simpson. He elicited the information that before the incumbency of Attorney General Edward L. Katzenbach, Democrat, of Trenton, a deputy attorney general acted as counsel to the commission.

McEnroe testified that New Jersey had spent $750,000 for the purchase of property in New York City for the tunnel work. The sum of $156,000 has been spent by Jersey for purchase of tunnel property in this State.

The proposed ventilation system, McEnroe testified, has been experimented with to its theoretical and practical satisfaction of the commission, the witness said.

"It comes out all right to the satisfaction of the commission on a model," McEnroe said in answer to a question from Senator Simpson.

Stokes' Tribute to Dill

Edward C. Stokes, chairman of the State Republican Committee, and president of the Mechanics' National Bank of Trenton, where the State keeps heavy deposits, was called before the investigating committee to give information about the State's funds. There were mentioned in testimony by State Comptroller Newton A. K. Busby, Colonel Harry B. Satter, assistant to Mr. Hughes, and Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill.

Stokes voluntarily paid tribute to the "probity and accuracy" of Motor Commissioner Dill. The committee, through Senator Simpson, of Hudson, declared it was not questioning Dill's handling of $27,000,000 in the last few years, but wanted to know the system followed by Dill in checking up such enormous sums.

Senator Simpson has devoted considerable time to the activities of Commissioner Dill, also a Democrat.

The committee asked Stokes to produce at a later hearing the accounts of the Motor Department for the State fiscal year from July 1, 1923, to June 30, 1924, to show what sums were turned over to the State Treasury and what checks were drawn for the maintenance of the State House Motor Bureau and the 55 agencies in various cities.

RECEPTION TONIGHT

"Boots" Lever anxious to have Big Crowd Out At Entertainment

"Everybody out," says Boots Lever.

The Palmyra High School track coach is anxious for a large attendance at the reception and entertainment which is to be tendered the stars of the cinder path in the High School Auditorium this Thursday evening, May 14.

Dr. M. Francois D'Elison, president of the Middle Atlantic Association of the A. A. U., one of the biggest men in the track world, who is to deliver the address of the evening, will also present Palmyra High with a trophy symbolic of its national championship.

According to the little coach who has done so much for Palmyra, it is a mighty big honor to have Dr. D'Elison speak and it is a still bigger one when the A. A. U. recognize a mere high school to the extent of presenting it with a trophy.

So therefore it is up to the people of the town to show the amateur athletic representative that Palmyra too, appreciates the work of her wonderful relay team.

Palmyra Castle No. 22 K. G. E.

On Friday evening, May 15th, the members of Palmyra Castle will visit Riverside Castle for the fourth of a series of friendly and good games. The score of the games played so far is two for Palmyra and one for Riverside. The members will meet at Palmyra station for the 7:45 train.

On Memorial Day the members of Palmyra Castle will again travel to Riverside to participate in the parade with Riverside Castle. All members that possibly can are urged to make these two trips and help lead the Castle.

RED CROSS MEETS

Monthly Session Held At Headquarters in Burlington

The regular monthly meeting of Burlington County Chapter, American Red Cross, was held Monday at headquarters, No. 7 West Union Street, Burlington, Miss Virginia L. Roberts, chairman, presided and the county branches were well represented. Miss Mary W. Samson, secretary and treasurer, gave very satisfactory reports.

The report of the Home Service work showed four new cases had been investigated and assisted during the month of April and seven cases had been continued and helped in various ways. $142.58 had been expended on this part of the work during the past month.

Fifty layettes have been contributed by the branches and plans to be sent to the Virgin Islands. Caps are still being knitted for the disabled ex-service men in the Government hospitals and there are requests for more. The chapter still has some work to be given out and made into these articles.

National Headquarters has requested that all ambulances, hospitals, etc. bearing a Red Cross, not owned and operated by the Red Cross, have some removed and a green cross substituted which is the emblem of the National Medical Association. This is to comply with the act passed by Congress January 5th, 1905, being followed by the American National Red Cross.

MEN'S CLUB WILL HOLD LADIES' NIGHT, MAY 25

Excellent Program Arranged for Meeting in P. O. S. of A. Hall

The Men's Club (non-sectarian) of Christ Church, Palmyra, will hold its May meeting at the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Monday, May 25th, eight p. m., with a program especially arranged for the occasion.

Features will be the Hudson Student Orchestra; Joseph S. Hughes, humorist; vocal selections by local talent; a special character sketch by four Palmyra ladies and a twenty minute address by one of the Club members.

Admission will be by membership card only, which may be obtained from Geo. W. Shoemaker, the financial secretary, admitting member and ladies of his family.

Y. W. C. A.

At the last meeting of the "Y" the club was entertained by a quartet singing from the Riverfront. The early part of the meeting was devoted to choral practice. Mrs. Collins, who is directing the singing, expressed pleasure at the results.

Next week we hope to have Miss Helen Wallace, of Moorestown, give a talk on "Art."

A hike is being planned for the 23rd. Entreat the weather man to send fair weather.

Everyone is counting on a glorious time. An outdoor supper on route is part of the program.

Members are privileged to bring friends. Please notify Miss Jeanette Soast if you choose to invite others to the hike. The more the merrier will be the slogan.

SEND YOUR MONEY

Impossible to Cover Whole Town in Near East Drive

Mayor Weart, chairman of the Palmyra committee of the Near East Relief, announces that it has been impossible for the volunteer canvassers to reach everyone to ask for their contributions.

The committee urges upon those interested to send their pledges of cash to the local treasurer, W. T. J. Purnell. Five dollars a month or $60 a year will take care of one of the 40,000 children in the protection of the American relief organization in Middle East.

The work of the Near East Relief is largely among children. The appeal is really a children's appeal. The money it brings in will be used to help build the present generation of youngsters into useful manly citizens, who will develop order, freedom, good government and progress, not chaos, disorder, and misery and literal slavery that now exists in that part of the world.

Lutherans Win Opening Game

Twilight Baseball Season On At Palmyra With Big Crowds Out

Lady Orcutt won his initial start in the Twin City Twilight League for the 1925 season when he pitched Sammy Rodgers, Lutherans to victory over the Baptists by a 10-2 count Thursday night.

The Baptists, considering it was the first time they have played together, put up a dandy game against last year's pennant winners who were using practically the same team which won the coveted honor of the community.

McGraw was on the mound for the newcomers and pitched an excellent brand of ball, but due to spots holding behind him, the game went by a top-sided score. Pete, of the famous Orcutt-Jenkins battery, not only shone behind the bat, but walloped his way into the honors of the fray with his rusty war club. Two timely hits, a single and a two-bagger, were the fruits of Pete Boy's well-gauged swings.

Friday night the fans were given a tighter game when Len Baker's Methodists walked away with the Field Club second team, another entry into the League, by a score of 6-3.

Effective twirling on the part of Ray Lamont and Walter Smith on the part of his team mates, put the same on ice for the Methodists, who appeared on the diamond with crack-jack lineup.

Just to bring back fond memories of the past, the old club Harry Kemmerle, one of the Methodist garden tenders, drove a four-timer over the right field barrier. There was one Methodist on at the time of the thriller.

George Graham, of the High School pitching squad, started on the mound for the Field Club, and was replaced by Richman, of last year's K. C. of C. team. Horace pitched a nice game, and should have brought with wins for Tommy Schwinn's nine.

The crowds are much larger at Riverton Park than they have been in the past, and apparently they will continue to grow with the season. The teams seem more evenly matched and the general result is pleasing. The nines are playing better ball and as soon as the new teams get under way, there will be three hard-fought diamond battles for the local devotees to witness each week.

As George B. Synder, secretary of the League says, "better ball is being played, and still better will be played as the season grows older."

LEGION MEMORIAL POPPY

Last month a series of District Councils of the American Legion Auxiliary were held in Newark, Paterson, Trenton, Burlington and Atlantic City. A feature of these conferences was an account from each unit of hospitalization and welfare work.

From all over the state came details of the intimate things we do. Medical attention for the sick, food for the hungry, clothes for the needy, layettes, and money for some urgent demand, and every kind of assistance as the needs arise.

Where does all the money come from to meet these demands? We are not a wealthy organization. The answer seems rather incredible. It comes largely from the annual sale of poppies. It is because we know what help, what happiness these little red blossoms bring that we love and reverence them.

We sell them just at one time during the year. This year May 23 is Poppy Day. Every cent goes to constructive work. Any amount you can give we are grateful to accept. It is an investment in mutual happiness.

Be proud to wear the Poppy.

Its beautiful color is significant of the sacrifice that was made. Its petals are in the form of the Cross. Our Poppy grows more hallowed every year.

Buy a Poppy and wear it. The Memorial Flower of the American Legion.

OPEN LEAGUE SEASON

Riverton A. A. to Play Medford This Saturday Afternoon

The Riverton A. A. will open its season to the Burlington County League against Medford at Riverton Memorial Park this Saturday afternoon.

Riverton will present a stronger team than the one which fell beneath the valley of Palmyra hits last Saturday and Mayor Fred P. Hemphill and members of the council will be on hand to lend an official air to the proceedings.

The exercises will start at 2:15 and the game will get officially under way when the Mayor tosses out the first ball.

According to plans, two league games will be played each week. One will be a twilight tilt on Wednesday evenings and the other a regular Saturday afternoon affair.

Riverton's circuit schedule for the first half of the season is as follows:

First Half

Saturday, May 16, Medford at Riverton.

Saturday, May 23, Riverton at Rocking.

Saturday, May 30, Memorial Day, morning, Riverton at Mount Holly; afternoon, Mount Holly at Riverton.

Wednesday, June 3, Riverton at Delanco.

THE PRIDE THAT WAS RIVERTON'S

Riverton has fallen upon evil days. Time was, when it was known as the town with the prettiest river bank between Camden and Trenton. The lawn on the bank was always well kept and tidy. The stone wall presented an unbroken front to the wash of the water. The roadway was the best in town.

Today we have a sadly different condition. The roadway is the worst in town, by far; intentionally so, to prevent motorists from using it. The stone wall is broken in several places, and the lawn is filled with dangerous holes. The beach is strewn with tin cans and other rubbish. And, to cap the climax, the air reeks with offensive odors from the open sewers that empty their noisome contents there. The river bank is the only part of the town where the residents dump the sewage from their homes right out in front of the house.

The unspeakable condition of the beach at the river is sufficient reason for instant action by the board of health. Such conditions would not be tolerated for a minute in any other part of the town. In other sections where the sewer had not been laid at the time houses were built, it was necessary to construct wells to take care of the sewage, which the bank folks are content to dump at their own front doors, to the offense of all who pass that way, and to the menace of public health.

Here is an opportunity for the present Mayor and Borough Council to distinguish itself by tackling a job that none of its predecessors have had the courage to seriously attempt.

This "dog in the manger" attitude of the bank residents should not be longer tolerated by a self-respecting community. They will not improve conditions, nor will they allow anyone else to do so, claiming that bank avenue is "private property" and they can do with it as they please.

This assumption was more readily endurable in the years gone by, when the residents pleased to do well, but it has now become insufferable.

It is high time that a show down was called for, and that it be determined, once for all, by a court decision if necessary, whether or not the disgraceful conditions existing there must be endured for all time.

McCRAN WILL WIN

Thomas F. McCran will receive the Republican nomination for governor of New Jersey. He is backed by Walter Edge, who is a power in New Jersey politics, as was shown in the Runyon campaign. He is also glad that he is opposed by the Anti-Saloon League, which is equivalent to saying that he is running on a wet platform—which fact was already acknowledged by friends and foes alike before he took this gratuitous fling at law-abiding folks.

But it is not the influence of Walter Edge, nor the power of the liquor ring that will nominate McCran for governor.

It is the 286,000 Christian men and women who Judge Wells told a YMCA group at the Country Club a few nights ago, failed to vote when Runyon ran for governor.

It is this sort of Christianity, and this sort of patriotism that holds back the forces working for righteousness more than the machinations of the opposition. It is the "good people" who "take no interest in politics," to whom "politics" are too "dirty" to be dabbled in, who will nominate McCran.

The New Jersey Mirror Says:

"His vote for the foisting of the Tom Brown road on the county, giving his sidekick, Fred Lippincott, a stone road past his farm, will be sufficient, alone, to beat Frecholder George Rogers for re-election," is the way a river-front man expressed himself while in Mount Holly on Monday. And as the taxpayers fully understand the outrage perpetrated on them by the "Three Musketeers" in the Board, when the latter "swapped" the Stanwick avenue road for the Tom Brown road, for no good reason discernible except that the road wished on the county runs past Frecholder Lippincott's farm, Rogers' chances of re-election become slimmer and slimmer. And that is only one of the numerous high-handed things which the new combination in the Board has put over to the joy of the contractors and the loss of the taxpayers.

A well known local political worker wore a smile that stretched across his visage like a rainbow over the evening sky, as he came up Main street yesterday afternoon. "Did you see the 'other Fisher'?" was his greeting to "The Mirror man." "Yes; what about it?" was the response. "Did you pipe his long-tailed coat and his general get-up?" queried the worker. "What's the answer?" the writer shot back. "Why, can't you see it?" said the worker. "He was dressed up like a preacher; wants to make people think he's THE Fisher." And then the light broke in on us. The thought had not occurred to us as we saw the mysterious gentleman from Eastampton, sauntering down Main street a few minutes before, wearing a sombre men and a long-tailed cut-away coat. He had other clothes on, of course, but his mien and his cut-away were what attracted our attention. And yet there was nothing about the combination which suggested the preacher to us. The present campaign surely has its comedy as well as its pathos.

Every man's character ought to be so spotless that he could "run for office," and foil the opposition by his "clean record." Blessed is the man who uses no liquors, no tobacco, contracts no debts, spends his evenings at home and prays with his family. He is happy now, and will be hereafter, and his children will rise up and call him blessed.

THE DANGER

Read this from the address of Attorney General Sargent to the Daughters of the American Revolution.
Read it, regardless of personal predilections for or against specific law.
"Allegiance to country means obedience to its laws—whole-hearted loyalty, in the market place and in the home, where the next generation will see and learn it daily and hourly until it becomes a part of their very selves."
"I make this appeal to you now. I take this opportunity to present this subject in this bald way, because, as I go about among people of refinement, of wealth, of power, I, from time to time, hear things said which show me there is a lack of thought, of consideration and realization of whither leads this view, this notion, that a law of the land, made by and for all, is not binding upon the consciences of those who have the means and the desire to violate it in private."
"It leads toward anarchy."

The Little Boy on the Train

He had a wooden dog that ran on wheels.
And stopped to show it to me as he passed.
I saw his little face again at meals,
And once he took my hand and held it fast.That night he shyly brought his woolen doll
To see me, and he chattered for a space.
He seemed a little sunshine to us all.
The train was brighter for his baby grace.Across my chair he climbed so he could see,
And as the train began to lurch and start,
For that brief moment he clung close to me,
I held my absent baby to my heart.
—Anne Campbell.It is a sign of progress and better understanding that the leader of American labor can safely mention not only the rights of workers but also the rights of employers.

At the meeting of the Cinnaminson Parent-Teacher Association held on Wednesday, April 29th, a Life Membership in the State organization was given to Mrs. Benj. Lippincott in appreciation of her unselfish service to the Cinnaminson School and the Parent-Teacher Association. This is being done in most of the Associations in the State, not only as a gracious compliment for faithful service but the $25 membership fee is sent to the State Fund for Child Welfare Work. May 14th will be held day at the school. There will be games for boys and girls, and ice cream and cake for sale. Parents and friends are cordially invited to attend.

Meetin' up With You

When I'm sittin' in the twilight,
Sort a dreamin' dreams so fine,
And thinkin' of the folks I love,
For the sake of Auld Lang Syne;
Then I see you, plain, I see you,
And my courage comes anew—
I've found the travelin' easier
Since a meetin' up with you.And I'm thinkin' that it's better,
When you love folks, not to wait,
But tell 'em so, and let 'em know,
Friend, before it gets too late.
So I say the stars shine brighter
And the sky's a lighter blue,
And the birds are singin' sweeter
Since a meetin' up with you.
Yes, I'm glad the gods decreed it,So together we could see
That there's greater joy in livin'
Than there otherwise would be;
And I'm speakin' to you this way
Just to let you know it's true,
That I have been made happier
By a meetin' up with you.

New Pastor at Moravian Church

On Sunday, May 3rd, Rev. Albert J. Harke began his pastorate at Palmyra Moravian Church, at Five Points. He was introduced to the congregation at the opening of the morning service by the Senior Elder, John Siebke, after which the new pastor took charge of the service, and preached to a well-filled church.

The Rev. Harke and his family arrived in the community on April 30th and were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sperber, until the following day, when they took possession of the parsonage, their household goods having by that time arrived and been placed in the house.

The new pastor and family were warmly received and welcomed by the members of the congregation. Rev. Harke comes to the church at Five Points from the Hopedale Moravian Parish, at New Foundland, Pa., where he closed a successful pastorate of five and a half years.

He succeeds the Rev. C. Nelson Sperling who in turn became his successor at New Foundland.

On Sunday, May 17th, the Palmyra Church will celebrate its sixty-second anniversary, with special festival services at 10:30 a. m. The anniversary sermon will be preached by the new pastor. At 2:30 p. m. the Love Feast service will be held. The speakers at this service will be Rev. S. E. Raub, of Philadelphia, and Rev. A. E. Franke, of Riverside.

The pastor of a colored church noticed a new face in his congregation and after the service he hurried down to greet the newcomer. "Mr. Johnson, this is the first time you've been to our church. I'm mighty glad to see you here." Mr. Johnson replied: "Ah had to come, pashon. Ah needs strengthenin'. Ah's got a job white-washin' a chicken-coop an' buildin' a fence around a watermelon patch."

NOTICE
Penalty $50 Fine

Owing to the occurrence of a proven case of Rabies in the Township of Cinnaminson, the Board of Health, in a special meeting held at Westfield on the evening of May 12, 1925, has resolved upon the following course of action:

1. All owners of dogs must confine said dogs to the premises until released from quarantine by the Health Officer. This release can be obtained by issuance of a certificate stating that the dog has been immunized against Rabies by a Veterinary Doctor; said certificate to be issued in duplicate, one to be retained by the owner, the other to be given to the Health Officer, Dr. Harry L. Rogers.
2. Immunization against Rabies in dogs can be done by any Veterinary Doctor at a very small expense to the owner.
3. After May 20th, all dogs found running at large in the Township of Cinnaminson, unprotected by inoculation against Rabies (indicated by the lack of the proper tags,) may be killed on sight.
4. Penalty—liability to a fine of $50.00.

By order of Board of Health of Township of Cinnaminson, HOWARD G. TAYLOR, Pres.

SYMPTOMS

1. Sudden change in disposition.
2. Unusual nervousness, or irritability.
3. Tendency to leave home.
4. Change in voice.
5. Difficulty in swallowing, particularly of fluid food.
6. Tendency to snap or bite without provocation.
7. Weakness or paralysis of the legs or lower jaw.
8. An increased flow of saliva.
9. Swallowing abnormal substances, such as wood, stone, etc.

CHARITY BALL

Riverside Masonic Association Will Give Annual Dance

The annual Charity Ball, of the Riverside Masonic Association will be held in Moore Hall, Monday evening, May 18. The music for the occasion will be furnished by the well known Goodman's Orchestra, of Camden. The Riverside Lodge, L. O. O. M. has donated the hall each year to the committee in charge to be used for charitable purposes. These dances have been very successful, due to the untiring efforts of the committee in charge.

Funds obtained are used in any charitable manner that the committee sees fit. They have dispensed charity to the poor and needy in many instances and their good work is growing.

The committee in charge this year is: Jacob Klevan, Raymond Johnson, Russell Spencer and George Christie. Tickets may be obtained from any of the committee.

Dear to me ever is the twilight hour.
When shadows deepen and the day is spent;
Then sorrow and care seem to lose their power
And over my soul comes a sweet content.

GOOD THINGS FOR EVERY DAY

A nice luncheon dish for the family when there is leftover mashed potato is the following:

Nest Eggs.—Take two cupfuls of mashed potato, well-seasoned and made into flat cakes, hollowed in the center to hold an egg. Wrap strips of bacon around the edge of the potato cake and fasten with a toothpick. Drop an egg into the center and place them in a hot broiling oven, turning the pan or cakes carefully to brown the bacon well. Serve on a hot platter, garnished with parsley.

Southern Shortcake.—Take squares of corn bread, toast and butter them; on each place a slice of ham, then a slice of chicken, and pour over a white sauce to which has been added one teaspoonful of minced parsley and one-half cupful of broken pieces of mushrooms that have been sautéed in butter. Serve very hot. Cheese may be added, but if so, sprinkle with the grated cheese and set in the oven to melt.

Spanish Toast.—Cut up two green peppers, a slice of onion, two sprigs of parsley and a cupful of thick tomato sauce. Simmer the mixture until smooth. Toast rounds of bread, butter them and put a spoonful of the tomato mixture on each round of toast, then add a poached egg.

Stuffed Onions.—Take good-sized onions, parboil and take out the centers. Then the centers and mix with sausage meat, onion and bread crumbs, or any chopped meat. Fill the centers, pour around them any good broth, or add butter and water. Bake until the onions are tender, basting often. When nearly ready to serve, sprinkle with buttered bread crumbs and bake them until brown.

Serapelle.—Cook corn meal in the broth left from any meat, adding a cupful of the chopped cooked meat. Turn out into a small breadpan to mold and, when firm, use fried, after cutting into slices. Pork is the best liked meat for this dish.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale
By Mary Graham Donner

JOLLY JERBOA

"I am the Jolly Jerboa, I am," said the Jerboa. "Of course if I should feel sad I'd be the Sad Jerboa, but I feel merry and gay and jolly so I call myself the Jolly Jerboa."

"I heard you were coming to see me, Billie Brownie. I'm sure I'd like to have a jumping match with you."

"Well, that's hardly a compliment," said Billie Brownie, "for it means that you would like to get away from me. You can jump so quickly and get so far."

"Dear me, dear me," said the Jerboa. "I did put my foot into it, as the saying is."

"I didn't mean to at all. I wonder why it is that they speak of putting a foot into a thing when a person makes a mistake."

"Now I didn't put my foot into anything then. I simply said something which sounded a little tactless and rude and which I really didn't mean."

"But the saying always is that one puts one's foot into a thing."

"I suppose," said Billie Brownie, "it means that a person spills something over—a mistake or a tactless speech just as though one put one's foot into a mud puddle."

"Still it is rather a foolish expression. Sometimes it means that a person has stepped into something which would have been better not noticed at all and they speak of putting a foot in as though they knew they would have been better off if they had kept quite clear of it all."

"Sometimes they mean they have stepped into a thing with conversation and sometimes with just a little action."

"Pray do continue chatting, how ever," said Billie Brownie. "I do not think you meant you would like to jump away from me. I know you'd like to chat and you simply spoke of a jumping match because to you a jumping match would be such fun."

"Oh, that's the very thing I meant," said the Jerboa. "I do think you're very sensible."

"Some creatures would have got mad and then I would have felt upset, and they would have, too—all because of a silly mistake."

"It's so nice to be sensible and not be too sensitive."

"Now let me see. I was going to tell you a little about myself. I am the smallest of all jumping animals."

"I have very long legs as you see, and my tail is very long, too."

"In fact, when the Jerboa family were setting the tail style for all of us they decided it was best to wear them long."

"You know with people styles change. They look different at different times."

"When you see a picture album of any family, I've heard that there is always great laughter and that they say, for example:

"Oh, don't you look funny in that big hat. I remember when hats were worn just that shape."

"But should a Jerboa ever keep a family album of Jerboa pictures the style would never change and we'd never look at all queer and amusing to our grandchildren."

"We haven't started a family photograph album as yet, but it is as well to keep the same style."

"Then we thought we'd be generous with tails and legs—or feet, if you'd rather call them all feet."

"The family said:

"While we're having tails, let's have good ones." So we did.

"I've a queer, huddled-up little body, and I can equal as well as any mouse."

"Oh, I forgot to tell you that we're members of the Egyptian Mouse family."

"It's an old family—it is. We're proud of it."

"We don't jump from nervousness, but from pride. We just jump and jump with delight."

"We can jump ten times further than the length of our own body."

"I bet so boy or girl could do that."

"Oh well, that's one of the things that makes me so jolly. I'm such a good jumper."

"Must you be going? Well, I'm glad you called, as the saying is."

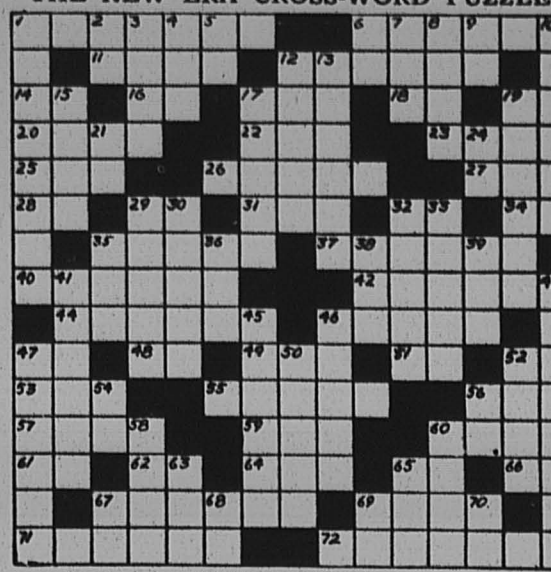

"I'm getting quite used to these sayings."

"Good-by, and a thank-you," said Billie Brownie.

Give Reception To Relay Team

Fine Entertainment at High School Auditorium This Thursday Evening

Tickets are selling like hot cakes and apparently there will be a record-breaking crowd attend the testimonial reception and entertainment which will be tendered Harold B. Lever and his Class B American Championship relay team. The people of the community will honor Harold and his first-footed quartet this Thursday evening in the Palmyra High School auditorium. The affair is given under the auspices of Mayor James T. Weart, members of the Borough Council, faculty and students of the High School.

There will be an admission charge of thirty-five cents and the money realized will go to defray the expenses of the affair and the remainder into the fund for the purchase of awards for the national champions. There will be no reserved seats, so it will be the case of those who arrive on time, which is eight o'clock, having the best seats.

PAINTER A CROOK

Collects Money for Supplies and Then Disappears

Police in this vicinity are on the lookout for a man who is posing as a painter, and after landing jobs, collects enough money to buy supplies for the work and then skips. He has been operating in this locality and it is alleged that his receipts in Maple Shade were in the neighborhood of $100.

His description, as given by Chief Ward, of the Maple Shade police is as follows: German, 54 years old, 5 feet 6 inches, red mustache, glasses, brown suit, black overcoat, light brown hat, uses good English, claims to come from Virginia and displays picture of wife and himself.

Asbury Notes

Mrs. Francis E. Sievers and children, Alice and Eugene Sievers, of 318 N. Howard street, Philadelphia, were Sunday visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Southwick.

Rev. Sherman G. Pitt, district superintendent, and Mrs. Pitt, of Trenton, attended the Asbury M. E. Church on Sunday evening, when the Brotherhood of St. John, 27th verse. It was a very good service. The first quarterly conference for the year was held at the close of the church service.

Miss Thelma A. Slade, nurse at Cooper hospital, Camden, spent Friday at the home of Miss Ada M. Southwick.

Miss May Ward entertained Miss Esther Matchett, of 150 East Second street, Moorestown, last Wednesday evening. Miss Matchett is a former teacher of the Westfield public school. She has been very sick for several weeks. Her many friends will be glad to hear that she is better, and able to be around again. Miss Ward also entertained Mrs. George McCann, of Collinswood, last Thursday, and Mrs. Wallace M. Kleckner, of Broad street, Palmyra, Monday.

Please do not forget the all day meeting to be held in the Christian Church, Bridgeboro, on Sunday, May 17th, commencing at 10 o'clock in the morning. There will be special music, singing and good speakers all day. Everyone is welcome.

GIBBON VS H. & R.

The Gibbon A. A. will play the strong H. & R. Service Station team on Saturday. This is Gibbon's first game, but they have many veterans back in their line and their prospects are good for the coming season. The game will be played at the old ball grounds opposite the Delanco Public School. Gibbon players are requested to meet at the club house at 2:30.

THE QUESTION BOX

Civil Service Examinations

John, Riverton—When and where are U. S. government Civil Service examinations held for this part of the country and also for government jobs at Washington?

Ans. Federal Civil Service examinations are held twice a year by boards chosen from persons in the government employ. The places for holding these examinations are located in the most convenient places in each state and territory. The dates are usually announced through newspapers or other means. Those who desire to take examinations are advised to write to the Civil Service Commission at Washington, D. C., for the "Manual of Examinations," which is sent free to all applicants.

CAMP 22 ANNIVERSARY

P. O. S. of A. to Celebrate 32nd Birthday With Church Service and Banquet

The annual reunion, celebrating the thirty-second anniversary of Camp 22, P. O. S. of A., Palmyra, will be marked by the order attending services at the Central Baptist Church Sunday evening and with a social session and banquet in the hall Monday evening.

All members have been notified by circular letter the time these events will be started. A large attendance is expected both evenings, and social held at the home of Mrs. Herbert Richman, of Linden avenue, Monday evening.

Plans for the observance of Memorial Day, cooperating with Post Rodgers, American Legion, are well under way. A flag raising in both the Palmyra and Riverton school districts will be an added feature. A good band has been obtained for the parade and further details will be announced later.

Palmyra Wins Shore Meet

Atlantic City Bitten By Squad of Ten Pitted Against Sixty

Coach Harold B. Lever's Palmyra High School track team again proved itself the class of the scholastic cinder pathmen when it downed Atlantic City High at the Playground of the World last Saturday. Palmyra topped 33 of the 41 possible points on the track events. Atlantic made a better showing in the field numbers and took 24.2 of the possible 36 counters.

Lever's Flashers romped off with six of the nine places, and in doing this captured all of the first places in the track events. According to dope, Atlantic will be Palmyra's nearest competitor in the New Jersey state championships to be held in Newark June 6.

The big event of this meet was the bringing out of two more bright lights on Boots' field squad. They are Joe Atkinson, who won the pole vault with apparent ease and El Wagner, whose hurdle of the shot put gave him second place.

Both are improving rapidly under Director Lever and look like coming champs, which will be a big asset to the squad. Palmyra has experienced some trouble in the past. She could clean up in the track events with ease, but had no sure point-winners in the field.

The Palmyra squad consisted of ten men who were pitted against the shore's flock of sixty spike-shoemen. The team made the trip to Atlantic in automobiles furnished by its friends. After the meet the party was entertained over the week and at Charles Davison's cottage in Avalon.

The summaries follow:
100-yard dash—won by Sacks, Palmyra; second, Hogan, Atlantic City; third, Brown, Palmyra. Time 10 2/5 seconds.

220-yard dash—won by Sacks, Palmyra; second, Brown, Atlantic City. Time 23 1/5 seconds.

440-yard dash—won by Sullivan, Palmyra; second, Wood, Palmyra; third, Davison, Palmyra. Time 56 4/5 seconds.

880-yard dash—won by Sullivan, Palmyra; second, Sherman, Atlantic City; third, Shannon, Atlantic City. Time 2 minutes 12 4/5 seconds.

Mile relay—won by Palmyra (Sullivan, Wood, Brown, Sacks); second, Atlantic City (Perry, Jamieson, Sherman, Byerly). Time 3 minutes, 45 seconds.

Pole vault—won by Atkinson, Palmyra; second, Hogan, Atlantic City; third, Fleming, Atlantic City. Height, 9 feet 6 inches.

Shot put—won by Bew, Atlantic City; second, Wagner, Palmyra; third, Byerly, Atlantic City. Distance 28 feet 3 inches.

High jump—won by Bew, Atlantic City; second, Fleming, Atlantic City; third, the between Wagner, Palmyra and Gaskill, Atlantic City. Height, 5 feet 4 inches.

Broad jump—won by Byerly, Atlantic City; second, Sacks, Palmyra; third, Perry, Atlantic City. Distance 21 feet 1 1/8 inch.

BITTEN BY DOG

Martin Lamont Attacked While Riding Bicycle

Martin Lamont, of Garfield avenue, an employee of H. Chester Watson, was bitten by a dog while riding his bicycle along Park avenue at noon Tuesday. Being unable to locate a doctor, Mr. Lamont was taken to a drug store, where the bite, which was on the left leg, was treated. Later in the day the wound was cauterized by a local physician.

The dog, which is supposed to have bitten several other people recently, was shot by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck Monday afternoon. The police, continuing their war on stray dogs, shot three more as a precaution against rabies.

People are urged to keep their pets penned up as all stray dogs must be shot at this season of the year. According to the chief, the canines have very little chance of escaping, for he says the new pump shot gun, which they use, works very quickly and effectively.

WRIGHT FAILS TO PRODUCE "INFORMATION MAN"

Attempt to Discredit Director of Roads Blows Up When His Erstwhile Friend Fails to Produce "Evidence." Opposition Surrenders Without Firing Shot

A little man, faultlessly dressed and of quiet mien, "sat in" on the meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Friday, observing the proceedings and saying nothing. In the morning he saw the attempt of the Medford Council to man, chief engineer at the State Highway Department, who stayed all night at the home of the ill for a garage and a place to sleep. The result was a rainstorm and a landslide in a draw. He was back again in the afternoon and listened patiently to the routine business which occupied the attention of the board and the county clerk, and then he went home to the man who he was and what his errand they gave no sign. When the motion to adjourn was made he arose to his feet, and after introducing himself as O. J. Lippincott, he asked the attorney for Theodore Tobish, of Trenton, who was going to be done about the contract for tar. There was an embarrassing silence which was finally broken by Director Rogers who said that he thought he would like to have the last meeting directing him not to sign the contract. "If that is to continue to be the fact," said Mr. Oliphant, "that is the information I want." Mr. Lippincott then asked the Director Rogers asked if anyone had anything to say. Mr. Russ suggested that the resolution passed last Friday be reconsidered, and Mr. Lippincott said he would like to have the vote on the previous resolution be counted. The motion to reconsider it. Mr. Stout said that before going further into the matter he would like to have the so-menor opponent, Solicitor Trebeck had asked the board whether it existed a bona fide obligation to Tobish on the part of the county by virtue of the resolution passed by the board awarding him the contract. He said: "I said: 'I don't know.' It doesn't matter whether I sign the contract or not," but the solicitor heartlessly robbed him of that crumb of comfort. He said: "I am sure that the State Highway Commission was also a party to this contract and could not consummate its part of the bargain without the signature of me."

He said that the action of the board had been to pass a resolution directing the director and the clerk to enter into this contract, and that it was his duty that it be signed by the director of the board. I Lloyd Wright had failed to produce his "source of information" and he was now in a position to be the triumvirate, facing the dilemma of rescinding their action of the week before or suffering the consequences.

He said that he had been asked to the rescue with the same resolution

ARTISANS' BOWLING LEAGUE

Pirates and Outlaws Tie—Final Game of Season This Week

After assuming the lead of two games the Outlaws came back strong and won two out of three games from the Buccaneers and are now tying the Pirates for first place. The final game of the series will be rolled Thursday night, and the winner will decide the championship of the season. The Pirates are in the lead in the series they will then play off with the Outlaws for the championship of the league for the season of 1925. The best of both teams are a regular crowd is anticipated for Thursday evening. Both teams are rolling strong and have made some high scores. The Buccaneers had a high score in the season record, an average of 205, which record had been held by Howard Ayle.

that he offered last week instructing the director to sign the contract, and it was passed without a dissenting vote. That is no one voted against it, the vote by acclamation, and when the director growled, "the resolution has been passed, hasn't it? What need is there of an all call?" Stunt let it go at that.

At the Jersey City docks of the Lehigh Valley Railroad, Public Service electricity operates a giant crane that scoops up sixteen tons of iron ore from a vessel's hold in one operation.

THE MIGHT OF ELECTRICITY!

From the driving of a delicate dental tool to the lifting of the heaviest loads, electricity provides the ideal energy, and the demand for industrial POWER increases as civilization progresses. That is why there is no visible limit to the development of public utilities that produce electricity, which is POWER in its most efficient form.

And it is the realization of this economic fact which gives investors confidence in the securities of enterprises which, like Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, control electric utilities.

In 1924, some two per cent of all electricity generated in the United States by either steam or water was produced in Public Service plants, while the Public Service record of growth and expansion is nowhere excelled. Partnership in this enterprise is open to you through the purchase of

TIME FOR A CHANGE

The controlling three members of the Board of Freeholders continue their tactics of playing politics at the expense of the Burlington County public.

Their latest attempt to "get Charlie Stout" resulted in a fiasco which would have been ridiculous had it not been so serious. It is none the less reprehensible because it failed of execution. They placed themselves in a most questionable position, compromised the dignity of the County, held up necessary road work and wasted the taxpayers' money. The weakness of their position was strikingly shown when they capitulated without a word when the attorney for the party to whom the contract had been awarded asked them what they were going to do about signing the contract. Had they been in the right they could have given battle.

There was no suggestion that there was anything wrong with the contract, nor with the preliminary steps leading up to the resolution awarding it, which was unanimously passed by the board on February 13. Wright tried to make it appear that a road binder "just as good" could be bought for less money, though he knew this material had been tried out and abandoned several years ago because it was not satisfactory. When it came to a show-down he failed to produce his source of information, and his case collapsed.

Lippincott, who claimed at the last meeting that since the contract was awarded he had learned something that "made him feel very uncomfortable," and that he was opposed to the consummation of the contract for reasons other than the mere difference in price, was as silent at the critical moment as his colleague Wright.

Director Rogers found he was leaning on a broken reed when he fell back on the fact that the resolution directing him to sign the contract failed of passage at the last meeting, for his two partners in the scheme promptly voted to reconsider their action, and passed the resolution.

Had the three controlling members of the board been in possession of the information they claimed to have at the last meeting, they could have spared themselves that humiliation of rescinding their previous action, and served the interests of the taxpayers of Burlington County as well, by producing it. The fact that they did not produce it, is a pretty good indication that they did not have it!

If these men would spend in really looking after the interests of the county the energy they waste in trying to "hamstring" Stout, they would reflect more credit on themselves, the taxpayers would be better served, and there would be fewer "phony" bills for the auditor to hold up.

As the primary election draws nearer the efforts to defeat Stout are growing more frantic. As each attempt to discredit him fails, various and devious ways are invented to defeat Auditor Fisher, who is seeking election to the Board of Freeholders to strengthen Stout's hands in his fight for a decent, honest and efficient administration of county affairs.

Fisher has been valuable as an auditor. He is needed as a member of the board to help defeat improper measures which he is impotent to prevent as auditor, as long as the proceedings have been technically correct.

For instance, as auditor he could do nothing to save the county from being saddled with the expense (estimated by the county engineer at $130,000 to $150,000) of improving the road in front of Lippincott's farm, which was recently forced on the county by the two-three vote, and the Tom Brown road leading to it. As freeholder his vote could prevent this.

Fill your car with representative men next Friday morning, and visit the Board of Freeholders, and see for yourself how things are done. Their meetings are open to the public and are held at eleven o'clock, daylight saving time. It may be that the contract for Church road will be awarded at that time. This is the road that the controlling three members are so anxious to have built by contract, in face of the statement made by the county engineer that the county road department can construct it at a saving of 20 per cent to 30 per cent. It will be recalled that Engineer Smith is the man whom a road-building concern is so anxious to get rid of that they offered a freeholder a certain number of votes in the last election if he would agree to vote to oust him. If it were worth that much to them to have Smith out, it is worth more to the county to keep him where he is.

The re-election of Stout and the election of Fisher will not only break the strangle hold of the triumvirate on county affairs, but it will insure the retention of Engineer Smith, whose services are invaluable.

Another Fisher has been injected into the fight. If you have any difficulty in remembering which is Auditor Fisher, just recall that his initials "C. B." stand for "Can't Beat" Fisher.

H. E. Brown is able to be about again following an illness of five weeks.

H. McVane Biddle returned to Riverton Saturday from a two weeks' Western trip.

Mr. R. M. Hollingshead, Sr., went to Atlantic City Thursday, where he will spend several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cole who have been spending several weeks in Wildwood, left on Sunday for Miami, Florida, the trip will be made by boat.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Smith, Jr. returned to Riverton on Saturday from Cleveland, Ohio, where they purchased a home. They moved on Monday of this week. Mr. Smith has accepted a position with the White Motor Company there.

The yacht "Spook," built by R. M. Hollingshead, Jr., Stewart Hollingshead and Walter and Arthur Wright, was launched at high tide Sunday morning. The sponsor was Mrs. J. D. Clark, who christened the yacht with real champagne champagne.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Barry and Miss Margaret Barry, were among the passengers arriving on the S. S. Berkshire of the Merchants' and Miners' Transportation Company, which sailed from Miami, Fla. and arrived in Philadelphia last Friday.

The annual meeting of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom will be held on Wednesday afternoon, May 27th, at 2:30, at 309 Bank avenue. The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. Maud Richards, member of the National Board and chairman of the Southern section.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Cook, of 620 Lippincott avenue, attended the funeral of Mr. Cook's uncle, Harry A. Cook, who died suddenly on Tuesday. They motored home with Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Cook, of Philadelphia.

Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Cook, who have been in the States since July, speaking in various cities and attending a Bible school in New York, sailed on Saturday from New York for a visit of several months abroad, later returning to Manchuria, China, to continue their teaching of the Koreans.

That part of the Howard Taylor, Jr. farm at Taylor's Lane, East of the Railroad, and bordering the Draper River, Nursery, has been sold to real estate men in Camden, who will probably form a corporation and develop the land into building sites. The sale, covering 105 acres, was made through the office of George Jessup, Camden.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Davis, of Dayton, Pa., are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter at Jersey Hospital, Camden, Wednesday morning. Mrs. Davis is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. W. Field, of Fourth street.

W. H. Mingle and family, of South 49th street, Philadelphia, rented, 508 Main street, Riverton, through the office of E. B. Rudderow. They will take possession on July 1st. In the meantime extensive improvements will be made by the owners, Ellis M. Clifton. The Cox apartment, on Lippincott avenue, has also been rented through the office of E. B. Rudderow, to Mrs. Ida Lee Follett and son, of Haverhill, Pa.

Dr. H. L. Rogers has purchased the property at Fifth and Main streets, recently occupied by George W. Smith, Jr. from Dr. A. M. Marcy. He will take possession the first of July. Little Virginia Wheeler, of New Brunswick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Wheeler, was given a party at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. O. H. Martin, on Saturday in honor of her 10th birthday. Mrs. Martin and Virginia spent last week with Mrs. Mattis.

Floyd, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Smith, of 406 Linden avenue, received severe lacerations and bruises of the head, hip and shoulder, when he was struck by a load coupe driven by William Friscoe, Tuesday evening. The boy was riding his bicycle on the sidewalk, and was three feet from the curb, when the accident happened. The Riverton fire company had just sounded their alarm for the weekly practice, and the rumor spread that a car had run over a child at Arthur Dorrance's, and Friscoe was on his way there when he struck the boy. Floyd was taken to Dr. Marcy's office by Leon Sloan, where he received treatment, and later brought home, and is now confined to his bed.

Water the Trees

The Shade Tree Commission requests the residents on Main street to water the young trees which have been recently planted in front of their property. Some of the trees are now dying for want of water. The cooperation asked for will be greatly appreciated by the Commission.

Riverton Boy Scouts

Riverton is soon to have a troop of Boy Scouts, nineteen boys having already made application for membership. The troop will be sponsored by Christ Church, Riverton, and the troop committee will make application for a scout master and two assistants. The scoutmaster will be William M. Shoemaker, his assistants will be Jack Graff and Malcolm Dickinson. The first meeting of the boys and their parents will be held at eight o'clock Friday evening in Christ Church parish house. A cordial invitation is extended to all who may be interested in any way in the movement.

WHITNEY FOR GOVERNOR

Editor of The New Era:
In the excitement attendant on the local and county contests at the coming primary elections, do not let every upholder of the more important State election, when a Governor is to be nominated and elected.

There is no contest for the Democratic nomination, but for the Republican nomination there is a sharp contest, with the lines of battle clearly defined. On one side is the Edge organization back of Thomas McCran. On the other side are the forces of good government, law enforcement and patriotic principles, back of Senator Arthur Whitney, of Morris County.

Every believer in law enforcement, every upholder of the Eighteenth Amendment, and every member of patriotic societies, should quickly align himself in this fight, and come out squarely for the right as exemplified in the candidacy of Arthur Whitney.

Riverton Opens League Season

Locals Defeated by Medford in First Game of County Circuit.

A large crowd was at the Riverton (Hewitt) Park Saturday afternoon to see Clarence Hubbs' Riverton team in its opening game in the Burlington County Baseball League against the strong Medford aggregation. Although Riverton did not win, she put up a much better game than she did against Palmyra the previous Saturday. Medford won by a 5-0 count.

After the exercises, which marked the formal opening of the county circuit, the game got under way for what was expected to be a run-away for the fast visiting team. Herbert was on the mound for the home team and allowed one hit in the opening inning. A hit off Herbert, a steal and error, netted the visitors their first counter in the second.

Again in the third Herbert's delivery was noted for a single and a two-bagger, giving Medford its second run. A pair of two-baggers and a one-timer increased the lead to four runs in the sixth and the last counter went over in the eighth.

Although Riverton's fielding showed a marked improvement, the offensive department proved to be even weaker than in the Palmyra game. Not a Rivertonian reached second and Vaughn was only touched for two hits and did not issue a pass. Riverton's pair of safe clouts were divided between Manager Hubbs and Pippitt.

"Hubbs' Spook" kept up his debut with the team in left field. The banker can still chase flies and promises to drive out his share of the hits before long. In the other corner of the outfield, the Warren Smith, who always has the appearance of being able to produce the goods.

Captain Pat Steedle is getting warmed up to the game and showed an improvement in his work, especially in "pecking." The bus magnate got away with two beautiful throws and would have cut off a couple of men's attempts to steal to first. If his infielders hadn't dropped the sizzling pill on both occasions.

This Saturday Riverton is scheduled to travel to Roanoke for its second League game. Quite a crowd of rooters plan to accompany the boys.

DEDICATE LEGION

HOME FOR ORPHANS

First Arrivals Have Big Time During Celebration at Clarkboro

Johnny and Freddy, five and two years old respectively, orphan sons of a soldier of the World War, had a big party at Clarkboro Saturday when the American Legion dedicated its first child welfare bill in the East and the second in the United States. These two boys were the first arrivals.

National officers of the Legion and the women's auxiliary participated in the dedication ceremonies, featured by the laying of poppies upon the threshold of the new building. The poppies, freshly plucked, were laid at the threshold by Dr. E. B. Brotemarkle, state chairman for child welfare for the Legion in New Jersey, in dedicating the building to the children of those who died in the World War.

In accepting the responsibility of caring for the children of war victims, Eugene Patterson, state commander of the Legion in New Jersey said rehabilitation of the disabled veterans and care for the destitute offspring of World War veterans, no matter whether they are members of Legion posts or not, are the two main objects of the American Legion.

PALMYRA HIGH BEATEN

Vaccinations Planned For Trimming

According to Coach Craig B. Morse, vaccinations played havoc with the members of his Palmyra High School baseball team when the team went down to defeat at the hands of Paulsboro last Friday afternoon. The local boys, practically all members of the swollen arm crew, traveled to Paulsboro and were trimmed unmercifully, 13 to 2.

West and Williams were pounded to the extent of the unlucky number, and then Morse sent George Graham to the mound. Graham twirled the last two innings of the fray and stopped the home town boys scoreless in the pair of brackets in which he reigned.

Captain Jimmie Burr, who was detained in school for senior exams, left a big hole in the infield. The absence of the field leader at short not only allowed some hits to go through, but pulled down the morale of the club.

Palmyra pounded out seven hits, but they were scattered and only gave the locals one run in each of the third and fourth cantos. Paulsboro's thirteen runs were the result of an even dozen safe singles coupled with a flock of errors.

News! News! News!

Another big Bridge! To be engineered by the public spirited citizens of Riverton and vicinity. We will not have to wait until 1926 for its completion, nor will it span the Delaware. This Bridge will start at the Porch Club, Wednesday, June 3rd, promptly at 2 p. m. It will be an accomplished fact before the close of the afternoon. Free Library. Each $50 will enable free distribution of good books to continue, and knowing the pride we all take in this splendid work in our community, we look to the sturdy group of "50's" to contribute its usual support, and also our foreign friends, the "Mah Jongers." There is no greater social service than a Bridge spanning youth and age, from fairy tales to philosophies within the reach of all.

Let us then continue our share in the up-keep. Save that fifty cents to buy Bridge, five Hundred or Mah Jong on Wednesday, June 3rd at the Porch Club.—Advertisement.

NEW ALBANY NOTES

S. Manco entertained fifty members of a Philadelphia lodge, of which he is a member, at his farm on Sunday. Mrs. Charles H. Mullins spent the weekend with friends in Philadelphia. Last Monday afternoon during the rain, an airplane landed in the meadow on John Heiner's farm, where it remained until Tuesday, when it started for New York.

LUTHERAN NEWS

A Memorial Day sermon will be preached by the pastor Sunday morning, with the theme "The Reason for Our Failures." A children's sermon will also be preached, following along the lines of Memorial Day. Bring your children.

In the evening the fifth sermon in the series on the Lord's Prayer will be given, with the words "Thy Will Be Done, On Earth as it is in Heaven" as the theme. This is proving a very profitable series and will serve you well to hear it.

The young people's meetings are held Sunday evening at 8:30. The subject for discussion this Sunday will be "Christian Traits Worth Striving For."

Thursday evening at eight o'clock is the regular weekly meeting. The officers and teachers of the Sunday School will meet this Thursday evening after the service. Business of convenience.

The summer months are coming on apace. Let us set our house in order that there may be no interruption. Keep your envelopes at work.

Weekly Sermonette:—"To Serve is to Live."

BABY SMALLPOX VICTIM

Palmyra's only smallpox victim, Nelson F. Peterson, 3-month-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson F. Peterson, died at the home of his parents, 114 Garfield avenue, just before noon Wednesday.

The child had been ill with the dreaded disease for almost three weeks and was thought to be recovering when the end came. The child was buried in Moravian Cemetery Thursday afternoon by Funeral Director Frank A. Snover.

When Shadows Creep

When the busy day is ended
And my labors are suspended—
When the shadows creep around our humble door—
Then there comes a fund of pleasure
That my spirit cannot measure,
And I find what every man is searching for.

The KITCHEN CABINET

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)
We have not fulfilled every duty unless we have fulfilled that of being pleasant.

THE FAMILY FOOD

During the cold weather the body can use fatty foods and needs them to keep up the heat of the body. This is the season when the hearty foods, boiled dinners, soups and baked Indian puddings, as well as rich cakes, may be used with good results.

Pork Cake.—Take one cupful of finely chopped pork, one cupful of boiling water poured over it; add one cupful of sugar, three eggs, one teaspoonful of soda, two of cream of tartar, one of cinnamon and one-half teaspoonful each of cloves and nutmeg, with flour to make a rather thick batter. Into two cupfuls of molasses put two cupfuls of chopped and soaked dried apple and one-half cupful of raisins; add the spices and simmer three hours on the back of the stove. For the boiling water used in the cake, the water in which the apple was soaked should be used. Mix well and bake slowly like any fruit cake.

Ice-Box Cookies.—These are easily made, as they may be mixed up and rolled one day and sliced and baked the next. Take one cupful each of brown sugar, white sugar, butter, two well-beaten eggs, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of salt and four and one-half cupfuls of flour and one cupful of coarsely chopped nuts, and flavoring to taste. Mix and roll into a roll as round as possible, put on ice or in a cold place over night. In the morning cut into very thin slices and bake while the mixture is still chilled.

If it is possible to get the liquor from well-made sauerkraut, be sure that very tablespoonful is used. It is an invaluable food for the digestive tract, and there is nothing better for the blood. Taken a tablespoonful or two before meals, it is a tonic.

Rabbit Pilaf.—"First catch your hare." Prepare and cut into serving-sized pieces and brown in four tablespoonfuls of lard and butter, adding salt and pepper and one finely chopped onion. Cook ten minutes, then add six (tablespoonfuls of) cream, one and one-half pints of boiling water. Cover and cook slowly until the rabbit is tender.

A Protector for Tubes
To protect expensive vacuum tubes from burning out place a fifteen or twenty-watt electric lamp of the common incandescent type in series with the "B" battery, so that the current must pass through the lamp before going to the set. This will protect the tubes in case of a short circuit.

Capacity of Grid Condenser
Practice has found that either .0005 or .00025 microfarad condensers are the best for radio reception. The latter is the capacity most commonly used.

Riddles
What holds its hands in front of its face all the time? A clock.
Why are bookkeepers like chickens? They have to scratch for a living.
What is the riddle of riddles? Life, because we must all give it up.

Solution of last week's Puzzle

Humble Socket Is Important to Set

Attachment Should Be Made of Best Material—Contact Springs.

The humble socket, used to hold the vacuum tube and to provide the means of making an electrical contact between the prongs of the tube and the rest of the circuit, receives less attention from the radio fan than it should.

The socket should be carefully scrutinized, for it is at this point that the plate and grid wires and filament leads come very close to each other. If the socket is made of poor insulating material these currents will leak across the base between the binding posts, and become lost. The volume and distance of the receiver will suffer. Nothing less than bakelite should be used.

Do not accept a socket made of material that can be easily cut with a knife, or will leave a black mark when rubbed across a piece of white paper. Material that will do this has lamp-black in it, which is a very poor insulating substance. As a rule this class of material will melt under the heat of a soldering iron.

Of next importance are the contact springs. Poor contact springs cause a great deal of the noise that is attributed to static. Due to the short distance available on the inside of a socket, and the need for keeping the dimensions of the socket as small as possible, the contact spring must necessarily be short. Due to the shortness of the spring, most of the sockets at present are unsatisfactory, because the springs become permanently bent.

This requires frequent bending back into their former position so that a good contact can be obtained with the prongs of the tube.

One manufacturer has solved this problem by making the spring longer, then bending the tip of the spring backwards and upwards. This eliminates the short leverage on the spring, allowing it to bend in two places. Springs are made of phosphor bronze and always keep a firm upward pressure against the tube prongs.

The socket should also be non-microphonic. In a receiver which uses ordinary sockets, a loud rattle will be heard whenever the set is jarred. Often removing the hand from the tuner dial will be sufficient to cause the tubes to set up this rattle. This is caused by the elements of the tubes vibrating.

To cure this, many set builders fasten their sockets on soft rubber sponges to absorb vibration. The chief objection to this method is that if you use screws to hold the socket down to the baseboard, or use bus bar wiring to the binding posts, the socket is mechanically connected to the baseboard, and the rubber support does not help a great deal in reducing noise.

A new type of socket has appeared on the market, which overcomes this difficulty. The socket is made of two pieces of molded bakelite. On one piece is mounted the binding posts and a pad of soft spongy rubber is glued on in the center. The shell of the socket contains the contact springs and this is glued to the top of the rubber pad. Connections are made from the binding posts to the contact springs by flexible stranded wire leads underneath the shell of the base. These wire leads are "dead" as far as vibrations are concerned, and the tube is therefore completely floated.

The socket can be mounted directly on the back of the panel or on the baseboard. The soft rubber pad allows for the absorption of side jars as well as those in a vertical direction.

Poor Connections in Jacks Cause Trouble

Sometimes a set will cease functioning or will function poorly on the last stage of audio-frequency amplification. This is almost always due to a poor connection in the jack that precedes the last stage or in one of the preceding jacks in other stages.

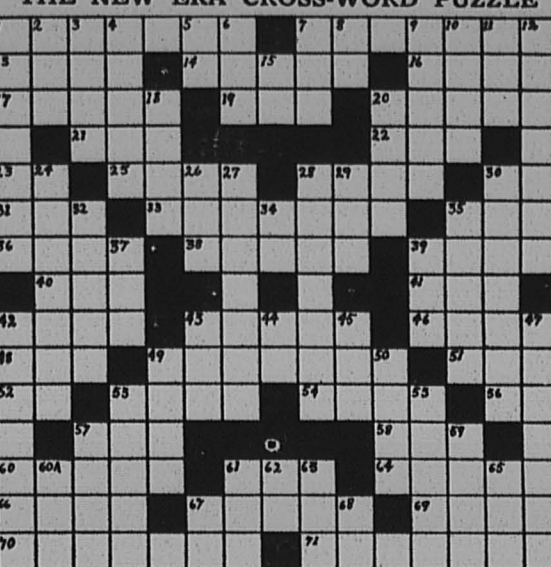

If you have this trouble, look in between the small silver contacts in the jacks and notice whether or not they close properly when the plug is withdrawn from them. Sometimes the springs weaken and do not allow them to close as they should.

The remedy is to take out the jack and bend the offending spring back into position, and then to replace the jack.

Winter Weather Hard on Aerials and Grounds

Because winter storms mean heavy strains on aerial and ground installations, it is a good idea to make a thorough inspection of the outdoor wiring system. See if the guy wires holding the aerial masts and the aerial wires in place are all taut and tight. Look over all soldered connections and try to determine if they have become corroded.

SAY GOVERNOR'S HANDS ARE TIED

Forced to Make Appointments From Prepared Lists, the Bright Investigating Committee is Told.

LIMITED COMPETITION HINT

Information as to Medical and Other Boards Imparted by Witnesses—Detective Trio on Architect's Pay Roll, Committee Informed.

Trenton.—Turning its explorations into new fields, the Bright Investigating Committee scrutinized the allied operations of six State boards whose function is to license doctors, dentists, nurses, optometrists, pharmacists and undertakers. The major purpose of the investigation was to determine whether the boards were attempting to create "trusts" by making the entrance requirements so rigid that competition would be kept to a minimum through the exclusion of new practitioners.

An important disclosure was the fact that notwithstanding the Governor in the constitutional appointing power, his functions are, in effect, virtually usurped by the dental, pharmaceutical and kindred associations. The committee learned to its surprise that the Governor is compelled to select board members from lists submitted to him by these organizations. It likewise learned that, in many cases, members of the State boards have not hesitated to lobby in the legislative halls for pet bills and amendments, most of which are designed to make it increasingly difficult for newcomers to get in.

The committee, which resumed its sessions at the State House, delved only once from its examinations of the officers of the several boards. That was when it called Charles F. Messick, secretary of the Civil Service Commission, to try to find out the peculiar duties of Investigator No. 1 and Investigator No. 2, the twin sleuths of the Department of Institutions and Agencies.

All the committee was able to find out was that the private Sherlocks of Commissioner Lewis have already cost the State about $6,000 and that William C. Mullin, of Paterson, has annexed himself to the State payroll permanently at $3,600 a year as chief investigator. Incidentally, it was disclosed that Commissioner Lewis is the only departmental head who seems to need private detectives. What he needs them for nobody seems to know, but the committee will try to find out and Mr. Mullin will be subpoenaed to testify in the near future.

After the Institutions and Agencies Department came the undertakers. John F. Martin, secretary of the Undertakers' and Embalmers' Board, was called as the main witness before the committee. He told of his board's activities—one of which seemed to be losing examination papers, with the official answers attached.

Says There Had Been "Slip"

A copy of the examination papers was produced at the hearing by Senator Woodruff. He exhibited it and asked Martin how it got out of his possession. Mr. Martin said he did not know and declared that only the board members, himself and his stenographer had access to the document. He wanted to know where Senator Woodruff had obtained his copy and the latter replied that a "man" had given it to him. Mr. Martin commented that there must have been a "slip" somewhere and the committee solemnly agreed with him.

Mr. Martin said he would like to investigate the mystery of the vanishing papers and Chairman William H. Bright intimated that the committee expected to do that very thing itself.

"This leads to a very interesting situation," remarked Mr. Bright. "I'm wondering if there is a possibility of these questions getting out before examinations are held."

Mr. Martin said he was at a loss to understand the matter and intimated that he had been offered bribes on occasion to part with copies of the questions and answers used in the State examinations.

"As much as $500?" asked Mr. Woodruff.

"Oh, yes," responded Martin, "as much as $1,000."

When pressed by the committee as to the requirements for prospective embalmers, Mr. Martin suddenly interrupted the interrogation by exclaiming:

"I don't want you gentlemen to think that there is any effort to make a closed monopoly of embalming."

In order to become an embalmer, applicants must have a grammar school education and three years' apprenticeship. Martin explained, in answer to questioning, that an undertaker's license could not issue unless the candidate was an embalmer. One exception to this rule, however, was in the case of an individual who incorporated and placed at the head of his business a duly licensed embalmer.

It was brought out during the day's hearing that Adolphus H. Corwin, who for years was an official investigator for the medical and dental boards is no more. Dr. John C. Forsyth, of Trenton, secretary of the State Dental Board, informed the committee that Corwin had been dropped "on suspicion." Dr. Alexander MacAllister, secretary of the State Medical Board, said that Corwin had "resigned."

Members of the committee inquired about Corwin's official activities while he was connected with the State boards, and Senator Simpson wanted to know if the Medical Board had communicated its suspicions of Corwin to the Attorney General. He was informed by Dr. MacAllister that no such action had yet been taken.

Dr. Forsyth testified that after Corwin had been dropped, Warren T. Bonner, of Trenton, was appointed in his stead and that subsequently several violations of the dental law had been uncovered which the deposed inspector had failed to report.

No "Dental Trust" Exists
Senator Bright questioned Dr. Forsyth about the severity of the dental examinations and the witness admitted that candidates have been back for tests as often as 12 or 13 times. In answer to a question as to whether or not there was a "dental trust" in New Jersey, Dr. Forsyth declared there was not.

Members of the State Board of Pharmacy, when called before the committee as witnesses, denied just as vehemently as other State licensing bodies that restrictions put upon prospective members, and prosecutions against alleged violators of the particular acts relating to pharmacists, had anything to do with the fostering of a "trust" on behalf of druggists already established.

Edgar R. Sparks, of Burlington, secretary, and William H. McNeill, of Paterson, treasurer of the board, the two members examined, were subjected to the most searching questioning of any of the witnesses summoned. The investigating committee was particularly interested in circumstances surrounding raids by the board's underlings on so-called "patent medicine stores," which compete with druggists in certain articles of merchandise.

Witnesses, however, denied there was any preconcerted plan to kill competition through driving these stores out of business or through restricting the number of candidates licensed through examinations. It was brought out that all State Board members belong to the State Pharmaceutical Association and that in certain instances officers of the State Board also hold official positions in the association.

Board Is Own Court

Sometimes, it was admitted, the board does not trouble to have alleged violators tried before a court. As Senator Woodruff put it, these men are haled before the Pharmacy Board and confronted with alleged evidence secured against them and told that "it is better to pay than have the Attorney General set after them." Members of the committee at this disclosure remarked that the board sits in judgment of its own competitors.

At this point it was remarked by committee members that every applicant for a pharmacist's license was a prospective competitor of the board and the State Association and that every patent medicine store driven from the field was the elimination of a competitor.

The committee was also interested in revelations having to do with the treatment accorded ex-service men who desire licenses. Formerly, ex-service men could secure licenses simply by studying four years with a pharmacist. That act was repealed recently at the behest of the association, and after July 4 of this year former soldiers will be treated exactly like any other applicant. They must have a four years' high school education and must have a three years' course in a college of pharmacy.

Explaining this, Mrs. McNeill declared the Armistice was signed seven years ago, and asked the committee whether they did not think that was enough time for ex-soldiers to take advantage of the lowered requirements. Senator Simpson responded to this by declaring the committee was functioning to ask questions, not to answer them.

It was developed at the hearing that last year, out of 851 candidates taking the pharmacy examination, only 175 passed. Senator Bright, chairman of the investigators, declared that the figures were appalling, and intimated that they savored rather strongly of an attempt to make the practice of pharmacy a "trust" for the members already in the business.

Nurses' Board Probed

When the committee late in the afternoon got around to giving the State Board of Examiners of Nurses a chance to explain the reason for its existence a situation even more striking presented itself. It was Mrs. Elizabeth J. Higbid, of Paterson, president of the board, who was spokesman for the board.

Apparently the board's sole excuse for functioning, according to testimony, is to give nurses a chance to add "R. N." after their names. The initials signify, it was said, "registered nurse." Just what efficacy this title has on the nurses' efficiency, was not brought out. Unlike other professional examining bodies, however, this board is not insistent and nurses in New Jersey are not required to take an examination and be registered. Their standing in the calling is not affected, it was stated, nor are they forbidden to practice without the two letters. It is purely optional, said the witness, whether or not a nurse wishes to take the test and be formally pronounced as "registered."

Notwithstanding this, members of the nurses' board, of which there are five, receive $5 a day when engaged on business of State. The secretary receives, in addition to the per diem salary, remuneration of $100 a year for her labors.

Animal Intelligence

According to William T. Hornaday, director of the New York Zoological park, the chimpanzee is the most intelligent of all animals below man. He can learn more by training and more easily than any other animal. A high-class horse is a very wise and capable animal, but this is chiefly due to its age-long association with man and education by him. A high-class dog is the animal that mentally is in the closest touch with the mind, the feelings, and the impulses of man, and the only one that can read a man's feelings from his eyes and his facial expression.

Award Contract For Storm Sewer

Cynwyd Company is Lowest Bidder For Drainage of Boulevard

The contract for the constructing of Palmyra's new storm sewer, along the Boulevard from Elm to Leconey avenue and down Garfield avenue to the river was awarded by Borough Council Tuesday evening to H. R. Fernow, of Cynwyd, for $35,147.

This is less than the estimated cost of the improvement.

Other bidders were: Albert Ellis, $38,379; Penn Engineering and Construction Company, $35,819; Ralph F. Reilly, $46,861; Walter French, $38,006; and E. R. Moorehouse, $42,132.

William Galloway, of Cleveland avenue, asked that Council make an investigation of the circumstances which prevented the Palmyra police force from answering his call when his daughter was attacked on the Golf Links last week.

He reported that some one answered from police headquarters when he called at five minutes of six, saying that the officer on duty had just left for West Palmyra, but would be sent immediately upon his return.

Mr. Galloway waited thirty minutes without result and then called the state police who captured the man.

Chief Beck did not hear of the occurrence until the next day and it has not been announced as to who took Mr. Galloway's message.

Mayor Weart promised an investigation by Council's police committee and the Chairman of that committee, Councilman Davis, set a date for a hearing of the matter.

Mr. Galloway had called earlier in the afternoon. Officer Wallace answered the phone and she asked for Chief Beck. Upon being informed that the Chief was not on duty at that time she hung up the receiver without telling Wallace that an officer was wanted.

Complaint also has been made about not from the Jensen factory. Mayor Weart said it had been promised that the nuisance would be abated, but that the promise had not been kept.

The matter was referred to Solicitor Low with the suggestion that an ordinance be prepared to prevent such an occurrence.

Elvin Powell requested steps be taken to open and improve Sixth street from Vine street to Delaware avenue.

Joseph L. Stack complained of dirt on the trolley tracks on West Broad street. This will be taken up with the Public Service people.

The Building Inspector reported that permits for six dwellings costing $25,700 had been granted during the month.

The Board of Health reported there had been twenty communicable diseases during the month, seven of scarlet fever, four each of measles and chicken pox, three of diphtheria, two of whooping cough and one of varicella.

Raymond Warner complained that someone had appropriated all the available numbers in the 800 blocks on Garfield avenue, leaving none for his two new houses.

Council plans to pass an ordinance strapping out this situation.

The West Broad street improvement and sidewalk ordinances were finally passed.

A resolution also was passed giving those property holders who had not yet paid anything on sewer assessments 30 days to pay the first installment, otherwise the whole amount will then become lien on their properties.

Inquest W. Lutz resigned as detective collector and this job was given Auditor Roy E. Williams.

The police committee is considering plans to install a gas tank to supply the town cars and also to build a lock-up and hearing room in the rear of police headquarters next to P. O. S. of A. Hall.

P. O. S. of A. Holds 32d Anniversary
Washington Camp Has Attendance of 300 At Big Birthday Party.

Pretty girls, handsome matrons, tastefully arranged decorations and a 20-piece band furnished inspiration for the 32d birthday party of the anniversary of Washington Camp, No. 23, in P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, Monday evening.

Five of the original founders of the Camp were the guests of honor. They were Brothers Wimer, Knodle, Giberson, Hinckle and George J. Seal, Sr., the latter giving an interesting account of the conversation between him, William H. Cook and George Wimer, which led to the formation of the Camp.

State Vice-President, William H. Fisher, with Brother A. F. Brown at the piano, started vocal harmony with "The Old Gray Mare" and by skillful balling, lured State President Jamieson into the position of leader in a "lung contest" between two factions, with great rivalry for the greatest amount of "oume, but not for much money."

Short, pointed talks by Mayor James T. Weart, State Secretary Smith and State President Jamieson, preceded the presentation to State Vice-President Fisher a little token of respect by the Camp 23 degree team. "BUT" followed with a suit-and response and then Brother A. G. Morse made a marked impression by his analysis of our principles and the practical application.

The ladies of Camp 3, P. O. of A., surpassed all previous efforts in preparing and serving a roast chicken dinner with all the "fixin's" which tickled the palates of all.

Musical Director Clarence E. Smith and his band furnished a program of excellent music. The degree team received high praise, well earned, for the impressive manner in which a class of eight were initiated.

Church service at the Central Baptist Church Sunday evening attracted about 100 members who were well repaid with an instructive discourse by the Rev. Frederick Blaser on "Three Bulwarks of American Home, School and Church."

A pleasing feature of the service was a solo by State Vice-President Fisher, "Open the Gates of the Temple."

MARRIED SIXTY YEARS
Well Known Palmyra Couple, Married Three Score Years, Still Youthful in Spirit

While some of the younger Palmyra and Riverton couples are hoping, another couple celebrated their wedding anniversary this week.

This couple may not be young in year, but they are still youthful in spirit, even though they did celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary Monday. They are Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Snyder, of 105 Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

Nobody forgot the couple on their anniversary. Their living room table was filled with greeting cards, friends and relatives stopped in to see them, and they were the recipients of every imaginable kind of a gift, including many beautiful bouquets and presents of more enduring nature.

Mr. Snyder, when quizzed about his age, said, "I'm not so keen about that," and then went on, "I was 83 years old at the 4th of April and my wife is 82." The bride of sixty years ago wasn't given an opportunity to show a womanly trait and refuse to give her age. She's a good sport and didn't offer any objections.

On May 18, 1865, Miss Mathilda R. Pierson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Pierson, of Camden, became the bride of Charles H. Snyder, oldest son of the late John Snyder, also of Camden, in the Camden Presbyterian Church with the pastor, the Rev. V. D. Reed, officiating. Both the families originally moved to Camden from Philadelphia.

The couple came to Palmyra in 1892, and after living at Fifth street and Garfield avenue for about a year, built a home at 412 Garfield avenue.

They sold their old home and moved across the street to their present address.

Mr. Snyder retired from business about eighteen years ago. For many years he was connected with the drug and sundry and specialty business as president of the Walter F. Ware Company, Philadelphia.

He has long been affiliated with the Masonic fraternity and is the only living charter member of Ion Lodge, F. & A. M., Camden. He has been a member of Silome Chapter, Cyrene Commandery and Lu Lu Temple, Philadelphia, for thirty years.

He served as organist for these orders, and churches in Camden, for at least twenty-five years.

When asked if she was a member of any lodge, Mrs. Snyder replied, "I have enough to do right here at home." Mrs. Snyder, with the assistance of her husband, still does her own housekeeping and cooking.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Horace H. Smith, of Orange, N. J., and Mrs. C. Ellsworth Engle, of Drexel Hill, Pa., and one grand daughter, Mrs. Raymond W. Stricker, of Lakewood, Pa. A son, Charles F. Snyder, died in 1906 at the age of 27.

"You can say we are both in good health and happy," said Mr. Snyder.

POPPY DAY SATURDAY
Poppy Day will begin bright and early Saturday morning at the Palmyra and Riverton stations. Our friends, the Girl Scouts and the Girl Reserves, will be there and all over our community with the Poppy Day campaign.

Members of the Legion Auxiliary will likewise canvass the town.

The Poppy Drive of the past made possible last November's dedication of the Clarksville home. The continuation of this wise investment for the future of America, the proper care of these little orphans, in no small measure depends upon the success of the Poppy Drive.

Buy a Poppy and wear the Memorial Flowers of Flanders Field.

"BOOTS" LEVER AND HIS CHAMPIONSHIP RELAY TEAM

The picture was taken just after Palmyra had won the National Class B High School One-Mile Relay Championship with record time at the recent Penn Relays.

Y. W. C. A. News

On Thursday evening, May 14th, the choral organizations of Moorestown, Beverly and Riverton (white) and Moorestown, Mount Holly and Riverton (colored) met at the Friends' High School at Moorestown for the final contest. The room was crowded with friends anxious to help their group carry home the cup.

The Riverton group under the direction of Mrs. S. W. Collin, won the Parker cup for the second time. This was the first time the colored groups had competed. Moorestown winning the contest, then by Mrs. James Perlin, of Edgewater Park.

The contest numbers for the groups were: "Homing" which had been arranged by Miss Isabel Forth, of Beverly, who was the leader of the Beverly group, "Lift Thine Eyes" and "In the Land of the Sky Blue Water" being the other numbers used for the white groups. This is the second contest for the white groups. Riverton being the fortunate group each time. If they win the cup again it is theirs. The groups singing these numbers were: Beverly, conducted by Miss Isabel Forth; Moorestown directed by Mrs. William French and Riverton, led by Mrs. S. Collin.

The numbers used by the colored groups were: "In the Time of Moses," "Deep River," and "Mother of Mine." The last two were composed by a negro. The groups all sang very well. The Moorestown group led by Mrs. Gertrude Williams carried home the cup. Last year when the choral groups were organized here in the contest, there was just one aim, that of acquainting a group with good music and teaching them to enjoy singing together. But many other values have been obtained and it is hoped that more communities will enter the contest next year.

The Willingboro Girl Reserve club held a mother and daughter banquet in the Willingboro Y. M. C. A. hall on Tuesday, May 12th. A hundred mothers and daughters were present. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers. The banquet was served at six o'clock and songs were sung between courses. Miss Elizabeth Stuart, the president of the high school club, was the toastmistress of the evening. Several girls and a mother responded to toasts. Mrs. William Roberts, Sr., of Moorestown, then spoke, taking as her theme "The Greatest Companion in Life." Miss Sealie gave a brief talk on the meaning of the Y. W. C. A. The evening closed with a pageant entitled "The Rainbow Trail" given by both clubs.

The Riverton-Palmyra Senior club united with the Sunday School Association in putting on a Mother and Daughter banquet. The banquet was held Friday evening, May 14th, in the Methodist Sunday School room of Palmyra. A hundred and twenty-five were present. Following the toasts by mother and daughters, Mrs. Fred Morley, of Palmyra spoke, her message being "The Great Women of History." A very effective candle-lighting service including all mothers and daughters, closed a most enjoyable evening.

On Saturday morning members of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. met with the board members and officers of the association at the Friends' Academy, Moorestown, where the yearly business meeting was held. It is the custom of the association to give a day in May to the business and fellowship of association. Since there was a desire to in some way observe "Good Will Day" it was decided to meet with various other organizations at the Criterion in the afternoon. The Girl Reserves of the county contributed a pageant in which girls from all over the county took part. Dr. Leyton Richards, of Birmingham, England, was the speaker of the afternoon.

The business session was conducted by Mrs. Edward S. Harmer, president. The report of the last annual meeting was given by Mrs. Hilda S. Beckwith, secretary. C. Helen Woodman, treasurer, gave her annual report which was most encouraging. Three-fourths of the budget for the coming year has been raised and the fiscal year does not close until January. Mrs. Marcus Newcomb, chairman of membership reported a sum total of over two thousand members and contributors. Mrs. Wallace Armstrong, chairman of finance, gave a challenging report in which she told the members how to bring the association before the public. Mrs. Henry Stockwell, chairman of the girls' work, gave a very interesting report of the development and growth of the club work. Mrs. Louis Tanner reported upon the condition of the car. Mrs. Alexander Wood, chairman of camp, gave a brief report telling the membership that the Trenton and Philadelphia camps would again be open to our girls. Following the reports matters of new business were taken up, and then the group adjourned for luncheon.

At three they gathered in large numbers at the Criterion Theatre. Due to the fact that Dr. Leyton Richards had to be at Princeton in the evening he was introduced at once. He gave a very challenging talk "How to Rid the World of War!" It was a talk that even the children enjoyed. The way to rid the world of war is to build friendship. "Friends are stronger than War Ships," is a statement Leyton Richards had the group repeat several times.

Following this talk the Girl Reserve gave a pageant, "Girlhood of the World." This was a simple little pageant in which the various countries were represented by groups of girls who came to Girlhood, the part played by Betty Sholl, of Burlington, asking how the girls of the world might serve the girls of the world and fulfill the Girl Reserve purpose: "To find and give the best." There were eighty girls in the pageant representing eleven countries. The pageant closed with the song "In Christ there is No East or West." The audience joined in the singing and as they sang "In Christ there is No East or West" the girls from all countries joined hands with their neighbors and so it closed.

The last program feature was Kipling's "Recessional" by the Y. W. C. A. Chorus.

Asbury Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Strayer, of Pennsylvania, are viewing the country by traveling since the last of March, and they expect to stay out in their car until cold weather. They are stopping in Asbury. They camped here last year, and expect to visit here again.

The all-day meeting which was held at the Christian Church, in Bridgeboro, on Sunday, was very good. In the morning the services were in charge of Brother Sanders, of Stratford. In the afternoon in charge of "The Assembly" of 660 Grant street, Camden. Elder John Dodd gave the message from the 9th chapter of Acts, speaking on Christian Service. A private bus took them back. Over eighty people were present at the afternoon service. Brother Poinsett, of Palmyra, delivered the message in the evening. Those present from Asbury were Mr. and Mrs. Thornton Southwick, and Misses Lopia, Ada and Helen Southwick.

Miss Mary Ward celebrated her fifth birthday on Wednesday, May 13th. Those who helped her celebrate the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Wagner and grandson, Theodore Kessler, Jr., of near Maple Shade, Peter Lewis, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Wallace Kleckner, of Palmyra, Mr. and Mrs. George McCann, of Collingswood, and two friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Hewitt and daughter, Anna, of Bridgeboro; Mrs. Thomas Hunter and Rev. and Mrs. Fred E. Tansley, and Helen Southwick, of Asbury.

ODD FELLOWS

The activities of Cinnaminson Lodge are now centering around the plans for the coming outdoor season. It seems altogether fitting that their beginning should be with the thoughts for others and to that end a benefit Strawberry Festival and Cake Sale will be held in the Grove, Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue, Saturday afternoon and evening, May 23rd. Tickets 15 cents for strawberries, ice cream and cake. On Saturday, June 6th, comes the first of the back-to-nature picnic at Brown's Mills in the Pines where during the past year several very successful outings were held by this lodge.

THE QUESTION BOX

Newcomer, Riverton. Your questions were referred to Director of Public Safety Williams, who replied as follows:

The Chief of Police of the Riverton police department is the chairman of the Police Committee, composed of three councilmen, and takes the oath of office as Chief. The Department of Public Safety offers a better opportunity for police work, and for that reason changed the title. However, titles do not mean anything. An officer trying to enforce every ordinance in the Borough and to fulfill my oath of office.

Officer Walter G. Miller is not the chief of police, but like Officer Quigley is always willing and ready to serve you day or night. Their official title would be, according to the Borough ordinance, "Marshal."

Over Three Thousand Languages. Linguist, Riverside—Can you tell me in your Query and Answer column how many different languages and dialects are spoken in the world? Will you please name them?

Ans. There are 3,424 spoken languages and dialects in the world. Angola Cats. Pet, Beverly—What is an Angora cat and where did it originate?

Ans. An Angora cat is a variety of the domesticated cats with long silky hair. It is said to have originated in Angora in Asia Minor.

Poor Biddy! Kidder, Palmyra—I read in a paper this week that a fish was recently caught in the Atlantic which had 29,000 eggs in it. Do you suppose that is a fish story? It is too bad chickens can't read.

Page Mr. Volstead

Worried, Edgewater Park—Can you tell us why it is our baby has such a hankering for his bottle all the time?

Ans. No. Probably just taking after his dad.

Jointed Snakes

Any, Cambridge—Is it true there are joint snakes that can fly apart and then unite again? Also is it true there are squirrels that can fly?

Ans. The so-called "joint snake" is a myth that got its origin from a bedtime story. The flying squirrel is that specie to which the skin of the flank between the fore and hind legs extends, and imparts the faculty of supporting themselves for a few moments in the air, like a parachute, when making long leaps from tree to tree. It gives them the appearance of flying, but in reality they are briefly soaring.

The Blue Laws

Dorothy, Delair—May I ask in the question column just what are the "blue laws," and why were they thus called?

Ans. The code of 1660 is a compilation of the earliest laws and customs of Connecticut. After the restoration of Charles II of England "Presbyterian true blue" became a term of derision applied to anything that smacked of Puritanism, and "blue laws" simply meant Puritanical laws, or laws with a blue tinge. These laws inflicted the penalty of death for worshipping any god but the God of the Bible; for speaking disrespectfully of the Bible, Christ or the Holy Ghost; for witchcraft, adultery, theft, false swearing and disobedience to parents. Hence, present-day fanatic and absurd laws are derisively called "blue laws."

Universities in Spain

Curious, Cambridge—How many universities in Spain—Madrid, Barcelona, Granada, Oviedo, Salamanca, Seville, Santiago, Valencia, Valladolid and Saragossa.

Lost in Quest of North Pole

Mabel, Cinnaminson—Has anybody ever got lost and perished in trying to locate the North Pole?

Ans. In 1897 Andree, a Swedish explorer, set out by balloon to explore the North Pole. As nothing has been heard of him since, it is presumed that he perished in the frozen regions of the Arctic.

Pope Need Not Be Italian

Churchman, West Palmyra—Is it necessary that the Pope at Rome should be an Italian?

Ans. No. The Pope is elected by the Cardinals of the church, any of whom are eligible to the papacy. In 1154 A. D. Adrian IV, an Englishman whose surname was Nicholas Breakspear, was elected Pope. He died in 1159, after a pontifical reign of five years.

EXHIBITION OF DANCING

Dorothy Warner's Pupils To Give Exhibition May 29

The annual exhibition of dancing by Miss Dorothy Warner and her pupils will be given in the Palmyra High School auditorium Friday evening, May 29, at 8:15.

Approximately thirty pupils will take part in the exhibition. The program of twenty-five selections includes group numbers and solos by Miss Warner and her pupils. The different types of dancing technique as taught in Miss Warner's school will be illustrated.

Among the various styles of work which will be displayed in a finished form are toe, tap and athletic dancing. Many of her pupils have had several years' experience in classic dancing and are well known soloists.

On previous occasions the exhibition was given in the Porch Club, Riverton, but due to its smallness, it was impossible to accommodate the large crowds which have always been anxious to attend, so this year the high school, where there will be available seats for all, has been selected.

Music for the exhibition will be furnished by Harold Plaff's Orchestra, of Philadelphia, which specializes in this kind of work.

BOOKS AT THE LIBRARY

"All art is after all a form of illusion." "The statue simulates the living form, the canvass simulates the sunset and the movements of the sea and clouds; the one point with which the onlooker is concerned is that the illusion shall be perfect."

"The supreme test of the novelist is whether he makes his illusion perfect. It is because the true novel is a work of art that it is never likely to lose its power over the human mind."

—W. J. Dawson.

Fiction

"The Sleeper of the Moonlit Ranges," Edison Marshall. "The Riddle of Three-Way Creek," Ridgewell Cullum.

Two interesting tales of the extreme west. "Beau Geste," Percival Christopher Wren.

A very unusual story, scene laid mostly in Africa.

Non-Fiction

"My Crystal Ball," a book of Elizabeth Grey, Sr., deceased, will be sold at the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. library, 125 E. 2nd, 1925.

NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT

Estate of Frederick Stanley Groves, Sr. First Account. Notice is hereby given that the first account of the subscriber, executor, of Frederick Stanley Groves, Sr., deceased, will be settled and stated by the surrogate and reported for settlement and allowance to the Orphans' Court of the County of Burlington, on July 2nd, 1925.

Big Reception for Relay Team

"Boots" Lever and His Palmyra High School Stars Honored By Citizens

Coach Harold B. Lever and the Palmyra High School relay team received a tremendous ovation at the testimonial reception and entertainment tendered them in the High School auditorium by Mayor James T. Weart, members of the Borough Council, faculty and students of the High School Thursday evening.

A large crowd with its enthusiasm keyed to the 10th degree turned out to honor Lever and the team which won the American one-mile Class B High School relay championship at the Penn Relays in the record time of 3 minutes, 42 and 1-5 seconds, clipping the previous mark by 2 and 4-8 seconds.

Each member of the team, Captain Harris Sacks, Wallace Sullivan, Bruce Beahn and C. Harold Wood received beautiful gold wrist watches, a token of the town's appreciation of their wonderful work on the cinder path and honor which they brought the community. Spencer Davison, the team's substitute who ran in the New Jersey indoor championships, which was also won by the local quartet in record time, received a gold pocket watch.

Lever Too Modest

Boots, who was instrumental in preparing the arrangements for the reception, told the committee to forget him and give the presents to the members of the team. The committee wouldn't let Lever's modesty prevent him from sharing in the awards, so Mayor Weart presented him with a handsome cigarette case.

No doubt every person who was in the high school auditorium now has a soft spot in his heart for the "radio doctor," Francois D'Eliscu, who made the address of the evening and received almost as much applause as Boots and his champs.

Dr. D'Eliscu, who is president of the Middle Atlantic Association of the A. A. U., came to Palmyra as an amateur athlete official, but soon dropped that title, for he is one of the town's keenest supporters, and began to pay enthusiastic tributes to Boots and his boys. He said Lever is known the country over for his fairness and willingness to "stand defeat rather than win by any but a 'straight game.'" In paying an honor to the team, the doctor said the boys typified real clean American athletes and not only their track work, but their characters also were a credit to any community.

Boots for Fair Play. Boots, he said, personified the American ideal for fair play and clean athletics, and the town should consider it a big honor to have such a personage at the helm of its athletics. Dr. D'Eliscu presented a huge loving cup, symbolic of the national championship from the A. A. U. He again attributed the boys' success to proper training and clean living, for without these qualities and proper instruction, he said, Palmyra would never have been able to overcome the big odds with which they were confronted when competing with the largest and best school in the country.

Another interesting feature brought out by the speaker, was the fact that every year track athletes show more speed and yet there is a steady decrease in collapses at the finish. "Why," the doctor said, is the result of physical training from the time school is started. Reserve strength is not forced to overwork. Power comes from years of consistent training daily in the public schools.

The development in public schools enabled American soldiers to show marked superiority over all other countries' armies during the war. The Americans made better soldiers and were more physically fit than even the young manhood found in the armies where there was enforced military training, said Dr. D'Eliscu.

Dr. D'Eliscu, who broadcasts setting up exercises from Station WIP, Philadelphia, at 7 o'clock every morning, promised the crowd the first thing he would do when he "went on the air" Friday morning would be to greet Palmyra.

And like the regular fellow he is, he kept his word. The doctor also told how he had to appear before the board of directors of WIP because he, the announcer, allowed Palmyra to monopolize the air when the Penn relay races were broadcast from Franklin Field.

The doctor said: "Another I saw Boots' team go out of its class in the American championship event and run such a wonderful race, why I was so thrilled that I forgot I was in front of the mike," talking to thousands of fans and just had to leave out a few lusty cheers. "Doc" has already proved himself an ardent Palmyra booster.

Splendid Program

The entertainment was opened with selections by the Palmyra High School orchestra under the direction of Louis R. Richards. Miss Alma Stack rendered two beautiful soprano solos and was then called back for the third.

This was followed by a program furnished by a Philadelphia entertainment bureau, including acts headed by "Man From Dixie," Homer Sibley, Bits of Musical Comedy, Jack Potter and Ada Boulton; Comedy Juggler, Lorette; Military Oddity, "Over There" Potter and Russell. All the cast made big hits.

Miss Thelma Jones, high school student, added a versatile touch to the program by delightfully rendering two readings. The second part of the program was opened with a line by the high school orchestra, followed by the presentation of awards to football team members and girls from the high school who played on the South Jersey all-scholastic hockey teams in 1924 and 1925.

Members of the Borough Council, high school faculty and members of the board of education were seated on the stage when the testimonials were presented to Coach Lever and the relay team. The evening's schooling celebration ended with school songs and yells accompanied by the orchestra.

Anna Shill Hemphill

Mrs. Anna E. Shill Hemphill, wife of Herbert W. Hemphill, prominent in Chelsea and Atlantic City, and granddaughter of Harry J. Shill, who introduced the boardwalk rolling chair, died suddenly last Thursday morning, as she was preparing for a motor trip to Wernersville. Death was caused by a heart attack and occurred as she was dressing for the trip at her residence 20 S. Raleigh Ave. Chelsea. She was 50 years old.

Her husband, who is vice president of the Marine Trust Company, and secretary-treasurer of the Shill Rolling Chair Company, had prepared to accompany her on her trip and her sudden death came as a great shock to him.

Beside her husband, who is a brother to Fred P. Hemphill, of Riverton, she is survived by a son, Harry J. Hemphill, a graduate of Princeton, class of '24, who is now a student at the Boston University of Technology. She also leaves a mother, Mrs. Annie E. Shill.

Services were held at the Hemphill home at eight o'clock Friday evening, burial being made on Saturday in North Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hemphill was one of the most favorably known women of Atlantic City and had always been active in movements for civic betterment, particularly among women. She was an accomplished pianist and her services as accompanist were always in great demand. For eight years she was president of the Crescendo Club. She was one of the organizers, as well as president, of the Festival choir and a sponsor of the March musicales. She was vice-president of the Woman's Club of Atlantic City. During the world war she devoted much time to working with and aiding the Red Cross and the YMCA. She often organized entertainments at her cottage for the benefit of the soldiers.

Mrs. Hemphill has many friends here, being a resident of Riverton about fifteen years ago, living in the residence now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Fred P. Hemphill, at 406 Lippincott avenue.

HOME PAPER TURNS

AGAINST ROGERS

The Weekly News, published at Palmyra, Freeholder Rogers' home town, had this to say editorially last week:

POOR TACTICS

Our fellow townsman, Freeholder Rogers, has not materially enhanced his chances of re-election at the June primaries by his latest bit of political chicanery as Director of the County Board.

Realizing that Charles R. Stout and Curwen Fisher will be a hard combination to defeat, because the voters of the county have learned beyond peradventure that these two officials can be relied upon to protect the people's interests, the contractor combine has stopped at nothing in an effort to discredit them.

Ignoring what damage might be done to the county road program and regardless of the dubious position the County Board would be placed in by his action, Director Rogers, obeying the mandate of former Director Wright, secretly withheld his signature from an oil contract passed unanimously by the Board back in February and waited until Freeholder Stout, who is Director of Roads, had ordered and started using the oil, before springing the startling news that the oil contract was not in effect.

The trick proved a boomerang and Rogers found himself in such hot water within a week that he was forced to alter the contract.

Such tactics cannot be tolerated among our county officials.

The Palmyra man is also in a delicate position regarding the Medford Concrete Company, of which he is a selling agent.

This concrete company has been doing some of the county work. On a recent job at the almshouse, the costs were cleverly subdivided so the main contract would come under the $1000 mark, to evade the law requiring competitive bidding when the price is above that, and then the job was awarded to the Medford Company without competition.

Harry L. Knight, former county boss, is head of the concrete company.

The almshouse contract was awarded by Freeholder Lippincott, who, with Freeholders Wright and Rogers, forms the combination which seems to be checked by Stout with the three contracting outfits that are accused of trying to control the county.

A vote for Stout and Curwen B. Fisher on primary day will be a vote against the contractor combine.

The Question Box

Churchill Was Correspondent
Doughboy, Riverton—Did the Hon. Winston Churchill of England serve with the Spanish forces in Cuba during the Spanish-American war? If so, was it not a violation of England's neutrality?

Ans. The Hon. Winston Churchill served with the Spanish forces in Cuba as a war correspondent and "freedom" contributor. His credentials carried this evidence and therefore no violation of neutrality can be charged.

The Liberty Bell
Patriot, Palmyra—When and where was the Liberty Bell made? Also did it get cracked when it rang out the declaration of Independence?

Ans. The famous Liberty Bell was made in London, England, in 1735. As the bell had been re-cast in Philadelphia in 1753 on account of a defect in sound, it is thought that it was cracked in 1776 when it rang out two hours, may have had something to do with it cracking in later years. In 1835 it cracked under a stroke of the hammer and has remained impaired ever since. While it has been transported to a number of exhibitions it is now kept at Philadelphia as one of our most hallowed national relics.

Western Reserve
Curious, Cinnaminson—Occasionally daily papers refer to a certain district in Ohio as the Western Reserve. Can you tell me where that place is?

Ans. When, by the treaty of 1783, Great Britain relinquished the territory south of the Great Lakes and east of the Mississippi River, dispute arose among the states of Virginia, New York, Massachusetts and Connecticut as to the right of occupancy. The difficulty was finally settled by ceding the whole to the United States Federal Government. Connecticut, however, reserved a tract of 4,000,000 acres on Lake Erie, which included the city of Cleveland. At that time this territory was considerably west of the center of population, and hence was called the Western Reserve.

"Hobson's Choice"
Isabelle, Delair—Can you tell me the origin of the expression "Hobson's Choice?"

Ans. Tobias Hobson was the first man in England to let out hack horses. When a man came to him to hire a horse he was led into the stables where there was a great choice, but he would insist that he take the one next to the stable door so that every customer was alike well served according to his chance. Hence, when something which ought to be one's own selection is forced upon him, we say he took Hobson's choice.

Garden of Hesperides
Student, Delair—Will you please state where the Garden of the Hesperides is located?

Ans. It is supposed to be located in the western part of the mythological world.

Belongs to the Cat Family
A. C. West Palmyra—Is a lynx and a wild cat the same?

Ans. They belong to the same family. While not in the same term under which several species of wild animals are known, among which are the lynxes.

Gymkhana
Sam, Riverton—What is the meaning of the word "Gymkhana" used on the posters advertising the Cinnaminson Home Pete held at Moorestown last Saturday?

Ans. "Gymkhana" is defined in the dictionary as "a meeting for athletic contests, mainly of a racing kind." As worked out at Moorestown was largely made up of contests in which horses were used, such as egg and spoon race, cup and water race, appearing the potato and a night shirt race. These games were played very much in the usual way except that the contestants were on horseback.

WHO READS YOUR LETTERS?
There is something of sacredness about the contents of a letter. The writer often reveals more of himself in the written page than he would in direct conversation. This revelation of course, is designed only for the eyes of the correspondent.

In this country a wholesome respect has been built up for the sanctity of a letter, but is not so respected in many other countries where the opening and reading of sealed mail becomes, at times, so prevalent that the practice has earned the appellation "cracking seals."

The average American would be filled with wrath and the timid soul would shrink with horror at the thought of a third person, and a stranger at that, reading his "personal correspondence."

Yet, that is exactly what happens to 21,000,000 letters, a year and will continue so long as letter writers fail to put return addresses on their envelopes.

When a letter, without a return address, can not be delivered for any reason it is sent, after a certain time to the Dead Letter Office.

MISS FITLER HAS NARROW ESCAPE
According to the Camden Courier of Tuesday night, Miss Margaret Fitler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Cecil Fitler, had an exciting time while enroute from Philadelphia to her home here. As she was driving past Fourth street, Camden, so the story goes, a bullet crashed through the left side of the windshield, barely missed her face, and passed out through the right side of the rear wall of the car. The incident happened several days ago, but the affair was kept secret until Tuesday. Investigators have found no clue to the identity of the person who fired the bullet, which it is believed was a stray bullet that accidentally passed through the car.

TWO FIRES
A field fire back of the plant of the Allied Paper Company, at East Riverton last Wednesday called out the Riverton and Palmyra fire departments, but the most efficient fire fighting was done by Frank Hunter who turned out with a pair of mules and plowed a strip around the burning area. The Riverton company used the chemical on the flames, and Palmyra used the "booster" apparatus on their new truck.

The following day hot ashes thrown into a barrel at a home on Penn street set fire to the stairway, but the flames were quickly extinguished by the Riverton fire company.

MRS. MARY C. ROBERTS
Mrs. Mary C. Roberts, wife of Joseph Roberts, of Moorestown, passed away Sunday morning, at their cottage in Pocono Manor, Pa., following two weeks' illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Roberts was in her 74th year. Funeral services were held at her late residence in Moorestown on Tuesday afternoon. Interment was made in the Westfield Friends' Burying Grounds. The deceased was survived by her husband and two children, Mrs. Howard G. Taylor, Jr., of Riverton, and Alfred Roberts, of Hooten Road, Moorestown.

If you find yourself face to face with an impossible task regard it as a compliment God has paid you. He knows you are the person who can do that task.—John Andrew Holmes.

STATEMENT BY SENATOR ARTHUR WHITNEY
In this primary fight I am more convinced every day that the few public voters throughout the state do not want to nominate as their candidate for Governor one who is hand-picked or controlled by any man or selected group. This attempted domination is splitting the party and threatens to disrupt it. It is a serious matter for our United States Senator to drag the question of religion into this campaign, and to insinuate that it is the issue upon which his candidate is opposed. There are many other reasons why the Republican voters will not support Senator Edge's candidate at the Primary Election.

I have no quarrel with any man, whether he be United States Senator or a leader in a local community who endorses and actively works for any candidate for office. I feel he could be reformed if he did not take active part. What I am fighting is intimidation of the voters and attempts to read them out of the party because they do not support a candidate selected for them by the United States Senator. I am conducting my campaign free from personal allusions, on issues of economy, business principles in government and maintaining the best traditions of the Republican party free from domination.

An interesting example of attempted centralization of control has been shown lately when Mr. McCran recently advocated a constitutional amendment which would place financial control in the hands of the Governor. The Governor of New Jersey has more power than in many other states. The farmers of our constitution wisely placed in our constitution a clause preventing him from succeeding himself. Even so with the great appointive power which he has, it is possible for him to build up—as we have seen done in the past, a powerful personal political machine. If, as Mr. McCran urges, financial control greater than is possessed at present is given to the Governor, the people will find it has created a situation which will ultimately destroy the freedom and democracy of New Jersey.

In conclusion I wish to state that I sincerely regret that Senator Edge has seen fit to inject into this campaign the religious issue which I have steadfastly avoided and which I regard as an outrage to the Republican party. What possible right has he to insinuate that that is the reason for opposition to his candidate? There are many reasons. Republicans are rebelling over the attempted domination of their party. They resent a hand-picked, one-man candidate and they will, I believe, show this in unmistakable fashion at the polls on Primary Day.

It's too bad somebody can't start a fight between the Gypsy Moth and the Japanese beetle.

Petitions Filed By Candidates

Seven Republicans and Two Democrats in Race for Freeholder

Seven Republicans and two Democrats will be in the running for Freeholder at the primary election on Tuesday, June 16, according to the petitions filed with County Clerk William H. Reeves in Mount Holly.

The candidates for the Republican nomination are:—
Charles R. Stout, Florence Township.
George W. Rogers, Palmyra.
Harry J. Ziegler, Riverside.
Curwen B. Fisher, Mount Holly.
Charles C. Parker, Burlington.
William Harry Fisher, Unionville.
Howard Cobb, Springfield Township.

The Democratic candidates for Freeholder are R. Frank Atkinson, of Burlington Township, and Harry Barcalow, of Moorestown.

Two candidates filed petitions for Republican State Committee, William H. Reeves, of New Lisbon, and Warren C. Pine, Riverside. The women candidates for Republican State Committee are Mrs. Ella V. Decker, of Burlington, and Mrs. Nellie Russell, of Springfield.

The Democratic candidates for State Committee are William B. Vandegrift, of Burlington, and George M. Gibson, of Moorestown. Three women will contest for a place on the Democratic State Committee, Mrs. Florence Jacoby, Edgewater Park, Mrs. Amor Gault, Jobstown, and Mrs. Eleanor Earl, of Roeboling.

The candidates for governor are Arthur Whitney, Thomas F. McCran, Cornelius Doornyns, all Republicans, and A. Harry Moore, Democrat.

For Assembly: John H. Pancoast, of Riverside; Clifford L. Powell, of Mount Holly; Republicans, and Harold D. Hunt, Delanco, Democrat.

Leaving road enough alone may often result in missing something better.

Curwen B. Fisher
Republican Candidate for Chosen Freeholder
PRIMARY ELECTION
TUESDAY, JUNE 16, 1925

Since it became my privilege to serve you as County Auditor, I have tried to protect the interests of the taxpayers. In many instances I was able to defeat the sinister purposes of the treasury raiders, but not always. There are limits imposed by statute, which have impeded my fight against the contractor conspirators and those who co-operate with them in official station.

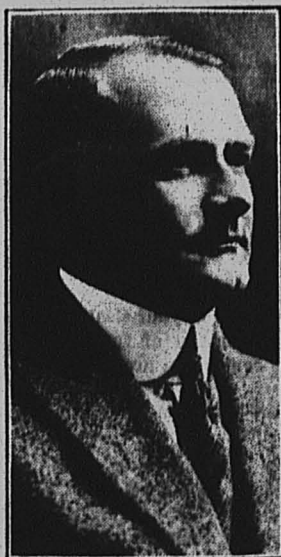

As a member of the Board of Chosen Freeholders I would be in more influential position to protect you from the interests which have become so bold in their raiding. I would have a vote when the question of contracts was under consideration. I would be in position to prevent improper transactions imposed upon the taxpayers under the guise of legality, before they got started.

I am content to leave the decision in your hands, to be voiced at the Primary Election, Tuesday, June 16. I am fighting your battle and mine, taxpayers all, to the end that waste shall be eliminated and county affairs placed on a basis of sound business administration. Let no tricks of similarity of names or misleading propaganda deceive you.

There is but one Curwen B. Fisher. I entered this fight after four months of intimate insight into the methods through which your affairs and mine, as taxpayers, are now being conducted. I have no ulterior purposes to serve. I am not a factionalist. I nominated and elected I shall perform my duties with the single purpose of serving you faithfully and justifying the confidence reposed in me.

County Firemen Hold Meeting

Gloucester Association Leaders Compliment Burlington County's Firefighters

Firemen from all over the county attended the monthly meeting of the Burlington County Firemen's Association on Wednesday evening of last week in the auditorium of the Palmyra High School. The meeting was in charge of David A. Brotherton, of Burlington, president of the organization. An excellent address of welcome was made by James T. Weart, mayor of Palmyra. Dr. Carroll T. Rogers, of Swedesboro, president of the Gloucester County Firemen's Association, gave an interesting talk in which he complimented the Burlington County Association for the great progress it had made since the Gloucester County Association had assisted in its inauguration. The Gloucester County Association was the first to be organized in the state. The Burlington County Association is nine years old.

Hon. John Stratton, of Mount Royal, assemblyman from Gloucester County and vice-president of the Gloucester County Firemen's Association, was present and made an address. Assemblyman Stratton had a wealth of interesting stories which he used to illustrate his remarks. He told of the great work being done by the various firemen's associations, how through the association a spirit of co-operation existed instead of antagonism as in the past. During his remarks he told the firemen what a great friend they had in Speaker Clifford H. Powell and how he always worked for their interests in the legislature.

Another interesting talk was given by a representative of the North American Fire Insurance Company, of Philadelphia. He took "Fire Protection" for his subject.

The committee in charge of securing funds for the hospital at the State Firemen's Home, Boonton, reported that $469 had been received to date. It was said that efforts would be made to raise the amount to $600.

The newly organized fire company at Rancocas was represented and was received as a member of the county association. During the evening selections were given by a colored quartette at various intervals.

At the conclusion of the meeting a luncheon was served in the Palmyra Fire House by the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fire Department.

NEW COUNTY HOSPITAL

Modern Building Planned at Dinner in Moorestown

The organizations directing the conduct of the Burlington County Hospital have definitely decided to build a modern hospital building. Such action was taken through the passage of a resolution to that effect adopted at a combined meeting of the board of Council, Board of Managers, and other citizens interested, at a gathering at the club house of the Moorestown Field Club last week, when they were entertained at a dinner given by Mrs. Esther Strawbridge-Brophy.

Plans for the building are only in the making and it is not definitely known just what the cost will be or the exact location of the new building. The meeting last week was presided over by F. Wallis Armstrong, of the Board of Councilors, who spoke on the project, as did the Rev. R. A. Brotemarkie and the Rev. John W. Gummere, of Mount Holly.

It is easy for nations to be friends; the hard part is to get the people to like one another.

Artisans Honor Walt Charriere

Big Parade in Honor of Most Excellent Leader Held in Palmyra

Between 400 and 500 hundred Artisans participated in the celebration of "Walter Charriere Night" under the auspices of the Palmyra Assembly last Saturday.

The celebration opened with a big parade from the Riverton firehouse down Broad street to Delaware avenue and then to the High school. In line were visiting delegations from the New Jersey assemblies and several Philadelphia chapters. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Artisan Brass Band and St. John's Assembly String Band. As an added feature St. John's uniformed drill corps, accompanied the paraders.

Like celebrations are being staged by every Assembly in New Jersey this year in honor of Charriere, who is the Most Excellent Artisan and comes from Jersey, being a member of the Collingswood Assembly. The guest of honor was accompanied by Most Excellent Superintendent Bertram Smith and Most Excellent Recorder Allen B. Cox.

After the adjournment to the high school auditorium, Palmyra initiated twenty candidates. The initiatory work was followed by several acts of vaudeville and selections by the Palmyra Assembly orchestra under the direction of Joseph J. Siddal. Palmyra's crackerjack Glee Club also assisted with the entertainment. The Glee Club is directed by Alfred S. VanDusen.

Another big yearly feature of Palmyra Assembly was given Monday evening when sixty-five bowlers and friends attended the annual Bowlers' Banquet at Debnhardt's, East Dauphin street, Philadelphia.

It was a typical Artisan gathering, and all enjoyed every minute of the evening that celebrated the closing of a most successful and interesting bowling season. According to Chairman Simons, "The cats were fine and everybody had a great time."

Prizes were awarded the Ontlows, the winners, who are captained by Dr. Thomas Craig, and the Pirates, whose leader is George Kaufmann. These successful bowlers were presented with fine umbrellas.

Other prize winners were: Clinton Gibbon, high individual score; Eddie Williams, high score for three games; Billy Meyers, winner of Class A; Chaborn, who led the Class B rollers and George Winn, the "conquering hero" of Class C. The evening's fun was interspersed with several high class vaudeville acts.

The local Assembly is scheduled to send a large delegation to Trenton by automobile Thursday evening.

PUBLIC SERVICE Men and Women

The Trackman

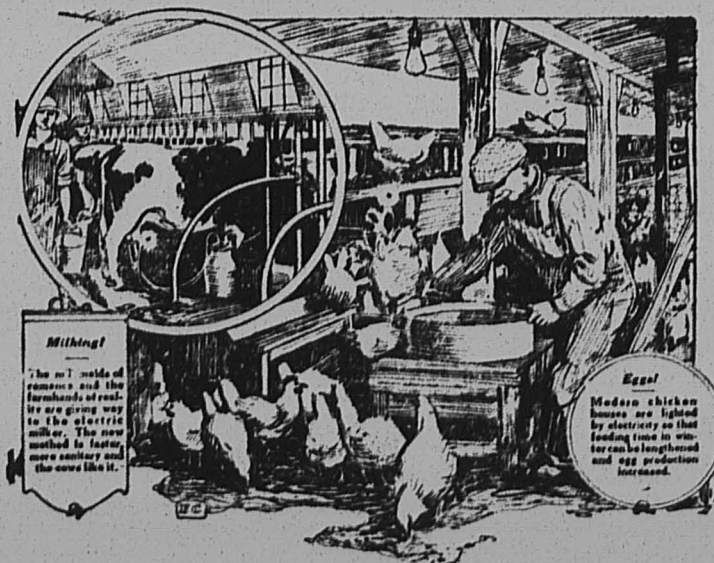

It is the job of The Trackman to keep in repair and renew when necessary the nearly 900 miles of track over which PUBLIC SERVICE street cars operate.

In a year he reconstructs with old rail an average of seven miles, lays an average of seventeen miles of new rail and renews thousands of joints and ties.

Of all the vehicles that use the public highways, the street car is the only one that provides its own track without expense to the general public, yet street cars transport more passengers than do all other vehicles combined.

Of the millions of dollars expended each year to maintain streets and roads only a small part is spent because of the use of public streets made by street cars.

From the standpoint of the general public and of the rider street cars are the backbone of the transit system and The Trackman helps to make them so.

ELECTRICITY ON THE FARM!

Economists say that the United States is prosperous above all other countries because America does mechanically so many things that other people do by hand. In other words, greater production provides wider distribution of property and wealth. Typical of the American spirit is the extension of mechanical operations to the farm, in which electricity, the power PAR EXCELLENCE, is playing an ever-increasing part. With its network of transmission and distribution lines covering the Nation's highway between New York and Philadelphia, Public Service puts electric energy at the service of cities, towns, villages and farms in the territory it serves.

As long as man has need of POWER, the production of electricity will be a basic industry. Wise investors realizing this truth are turning more and more to public utility securities as safe and sound. The opportunity to secure an unusually attractive public utility investment is open to you through our offer of

Camp 23

As detailed in other columns of this issue Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., is taking an active interest in the Memorial Day ceremonies. To the usual features, the presentation of American flags to the Palmyra and Riverton schools, has been added.

In order to make this presentation impressive and interesting, we urge our members to turn out in goodly numbers. We have always claimed our public schools occupied a large part of our interest and we can prove it in this case by sacrificing a little time and swelling the number in line.

A very interesting event is scheduled for the near future. It will be a visit to Camp 71, Mount Holly, and the presentation of a lantern to be used in the initiatory work. It will be recalled that the Mount Holly Camp lost all of its paraphernalia in the large fire which destroyed the Kelsey-Killie building some months ago. To cement the fraternal spirit existing between the two camps, the offer was made to furnish a lantern and it was accepted by Mount Holly with the provision that a large delegation from Camp 23 attend the presentation.

Date and details of the trip will be announced later. The publicity committee.

Riverton Loses to Roebing

Wiremakers Defeat Jumbled-Up Local Team in Second League Game

Clarence Hubbs took a jumbled-up team to Roebing Saturday and was defeated 7-0 in the second Burlington County Baseball League game of the season. Riverton's aggression was rather shaky in the early part of the game and two runs were tallied on it in each of the first three frames.

Herbert pitched an excellent brand of ball, only allowing eight hits. His work after the third was superb and it was impossible for the Roebing bunch to solve his delivery which was well balanced with speed and hooks. Pete Jenkins made his debut in the catcher's box and played a dandy game.

Roebing's defense was airtight. Time after time the Hubbsmen would clout what looked to be perfect hits and a Roebing man would make a dive and pull in the horsehide. Manager Hubbs says you can't get through a stone wall, but at that his bunch is credited with six clean bingles.

Four regulars were out of the game. The absent players were, Captain Pat Steele, Dunny Hilton, Paul Holvik and Warren Smith. Two games are scheduled at home with Mount Holly Memorial Day. The first will start at 10 o'clock and the second will get under way at 3:30. A shakeup in the team, with hopes of producing a winning combination, will be attempted by the management.

PLAN FOR THE FOURTH

Palmyra Committee Gets Busy on This Year's Celebration

The Palmyra Fourth of July Committee has started plans for this year's celebration.

Chairman J. Edwin Lees addressed Independence Fire Company at its meeting Monday evening, with the result that the company and its Ladies' Auxiliary resolved to act in conjunction with the Fourth of July Executive Committee.

All other organizations which wish to cooperate are urged to name representatives to meet with the committee.

A meeting will be held this Thursday evening at Police Headquarters and any citizen wishing to attend is invited. A further meeting will be held next week.

PALMYRA CASTLE, NO. 22, K. G. E.

The members of Palmyra Castle have been invited by Riverside Castle to participate with them in the Memorial Day parade to be held in Riverside, May 30th. All the members that care to do so are urged to take this trip to Riverside and help them make a good showing.

The parade starts at 8 a.m. On Wednesday evening, June 3, the fifth of a series of entertainments given to the members of the Castle by the Ladies of the Golden Eagle will be held. The members are asked to attend this event with their wives and sweethearts as a jolly get-together evening is expected.

A special invitation is extended to the members of the L. G. E., who did not attend their Temple to hear of the plans being made, to attend this entertainment with their husbands and sweethearts.

SCHOOL EXHIBITION

Work Done by Palmyra Pupils to be Shown June 5 and 6

An exhibition showing the work accomplished in the Palmyra grammar and high school grades during the past school year will be given in the Palmyra High School Friday and Saturday afternoons, June 5 and 6.

According to Professor A. S. Griffith, supervising principal, no special work is being prepared for this exhibition, as merely the work of the pupils as done in class room will be shown.

The display promises to be one of great interest to the parents and friends of the students and will include samples of penmanship, mechanical drawing, manual training, domestic science which will be shown in the various class rooms where the work has been produced.

This will be the first exhibition given by the Palmyra schools in several years and the faculty and pupils are anxious to have a large crowd inspect their work.

EXHIBITION OF DANCING

Given by Miss Dorothy Warner and her pupils, Friday evening, May 29th, high school auditorium. Tickets now on sale. Telephone Riverton 752. Advertisement.

Speaking of Common Sense

Workmen employed on a repair job in an insane asylum doubted the accuracy of the clock and asked an inmate if the clock was right.

"If it was, do you suppose it would be in here?" demanded the inmate.

In the old days, making faces was simply making faces. Now it is called registering emotions.

Small-town people are funny. They gossip about a neighbor's character instead of his income tax.

When the Hurley Machine Company designed this little wonder Ironer, it corrected all the faults that ironers used to have, and added all the things that women demanded in a good ironer.

Housekeepers wanted a smaller ironer that could be moved around, one that didn't take up much room when not in use. Here it is!

Only thirty inches wide, the Thor can be easily wheeled about. It folds up so that it needs only about two square feet when not in use.

Folding Thor Features

Aluminum shoe—only one-third the weight of cast iron, from which ironing devices are usually made. Specially treated for ironing purposes.

The roll has specially prepared patented padding that need only be hung up to air occasionally, to restore all of its resilience.

MOORESTOWN MOTOR CO.

MOORESTOWN, N. J.

PETITION

To the Honorable Mayor and Council of Riverton, N. J.

We, residents of Riverton, respectfully ask your consideration of a suggestion which would abate a very dangerous nuisance, and restore the river bank to its former use as a playground to which all were free to resort.

Under present conditions it is, all too frequently, used as a "speedway" (largely by out-of-town motorists) to such extent that its former use as a playground has been destroyed. Danger from speeding cars and discomfort from intolerable dust have not only ruined it as a pleasure ground, but damaged all adjoining property.

The proposed plan would free the river bank from all but a very inconsiderable number of cars, leaving Bank Avenue virtually as a promenade. It would add to the beauty of the bank and restore it more fully than ever to its former use.

It would seem well within the jurisdiction of the Mayor and Council to regulate traffic within the Borough limits, for the general welfare of all the people. If so it is earnestly hoped that action can be taken with sufficient promptness to make it possible to restore the river bank to its original condition and use this summer.

The entire cost of the proposed change will be borne by the property owners on Bank Avenue. The future maintenance of the "Traffic regulating plots" and of Bank Avenue, can, we believe, be safely left to the civic pride of the adjacent property owners.

Sketch showing method proposed for regulation of traffic submitted herewith.

TWO OPPOSING PLANS TO IMPROVE BANK AVENUE

River Bank Residents Want to Restore It As Promenade and Pleasure Ground at Their Own Expense. Other Plan Contemplates Borough Taking It Over

An article in a recent issue of The New Era on the decadence of Riverton's "play ground" has resulted in two petitions to Council, both of which are published herewith. It may be safely assumed that our Mayor and Councilmen desire, as far as possible, to carry out the wishes of their constituents. On their decision depends the restoration of the river bank as a safe pleasure ground for all of our citizens for all future time on the one hand, or, its final destruction by making Bank Avenue a speedway for out-of-town cars.

The decision is in the hands of the people. It is important that they act promptly and let their Mayor and Councilmen know their wishes definitely by petition or otherwise.

The petition appearing at the left has been signed by practically every property owner on Bank Avenue, and many other prominent residents throughout the town. It proposes to restore the river bank to its original use as a pleasure ground free of all cost to the town, and by the elimination of through traffic make Bank Avenue a safe promenade and the lawns reaching to the river a playground.

The accompanying sketch shows clearly just what is proposed. The idea is to place a triangle on Bank Avenue at the foot of each of streets shown in such a position as to prevent continuous driving on the bank, making it necessary for motorists to turn up the first street they come to. This will allay the dust nuisance and the danger attending speedway practices.

Under present conditions pedestrians cannot safely use the roadway, and few parents would be so reckless as to allow their children to use the bank as a playground. It should be remembered that Riverton has no park with natural advantages equal to the river bank. If you do not want this ruined for all time, act promptly.

The second petition appears to have been circulated by a citizen not living on the river bank. It should be given careful consideration, as it again opens up a question that has given rise to much difference of opinion for several years, with no prospect of settlement. The appearance of this petition within forty-eight hours after the first petition was circulated is providential, in that it puts the question of a playground versus an expensive speedway, squarely before the people. On account of inherent conflicting features it is impossible to have both.

Such is the argument of those who desire to close the river bank to through automobile traffic. Those in the opposite camp maintain that Bank Avenue has been considered "private property" long enough, and that under the changed conditions of today most of the people who formerly used the bank as a playground now have cars and would not sit on the bank, however extensive it might be made. They say that the claim of speeding is greatly exaggerated, and that to open up the river bank to travel would attract desirable residents to our town, to the benefit of all the people.

To adopt one plan is to virtually eliminate any chance of the road ever being taken over by the borough. To pursue the other course will mean to destroy whatever value the bank may still have for pleasure and playground purposes.

This is a question intimately affecting all the people of Riverton, and they should take advantage of this opportunity to make their wishes known to the Mayor and Council.

Whatever action is taken at this time will probably be final.

PETITION

I hereby request the Council of the Borough of Riverton to take the necessary action to incorporate Bank Avenue as a public street, and place it in as good condition as the majority of roads in the Borough.

The above petition was mailed to the residents of Riverton with the following letter:

Dear Sir: Believing that the time has come when Riverton should take proper action to have Bank Avenue put into at least as good condition as the other highways in the Borough, and also believing that our governing body would welcome an expression of public opinion which would warrant them to take action, I take the liberty of asking your co-operation to bring about this forward step by signing and forwarding the attached petition.

It is very unlikely that Bank Avenue could ever be closed to the public, as it has been open and used for a public roadway for such a long time. It has never been taken over by the town as a highway, and therefore the Council cannot assume care of it, until it is dedicated. A very small minority of Bank Avenue residents have opposed this action, wishing to keep it as private as possible by making it nearly impassable. Many people riding over it do not know this, and improperly attribute it to neglect.

This is merely intended as an opportunity to express your opinion, not as propaganda to influence your action. If you are opposed you are just as welcome to state so.

Very respectfully,
ROBERT W. KNIGHT.
