A committee had been appointed to investigate the matters gs to whether the local high school had been conducting special classes for students who were to take state normal school entrance examinations. The committee, in its report, stated that the local school has been "remiss in this respect," George B. Clover took exception to the "remiss" phrase. "liow can we be remiss in something woon't know anything about?" asked Mr. Clover I was decided that the state board had been remiss in not informing the local board that it should conduct preparatory classes for pupils who planned to take normal school examination, so the committee's report was laid over for aniendment.

with the appointment of Carl P Hurlock as instructor of science in the high school, the board announced that the faculty was now complete for the conling school term. Mr. Hurlock will succeed Italph M Weaver who has resigned to accept the principalship of the Consholocken High School.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Boy Scout Troop No. 1 of Patmyra, which was recently re organized, has been taken over by the Epworth M. E. Church as sponsor with Robert A. English as scourmaster. All the boys of this troop are requested to be present at the church, 7:30 p. m. Friday, Angust 7th, so that we can get our equipment moved to new location.

It is also requested that all of the former Scouts please turn in any equipment they may have in their possession such as Boy Scout flag, American flags, tents and bugles.

There seems to be some misunder standing as to turning this property in by the former Scouts. All of the above equipment is absolutely the property of the Boy Scouts of America and we would ask that the parents kindly check up with their boys and see that all such property is turned in by August 15th, as atter that date action will be taken for the recovery of all the above mentioned articles.

MOUNT HOLLY BASEBALL,

HAS BIEEN DISCONTINUED LOCKED THE Construction of the school houses during the winter months that was a summand of the appropriation of $2400 set side by the Board for the purchase of coal during the school term.

It was announced at the meeting.

Arouse Enthusiasm is Reason

There will be no more regular Saturday baseball at the R. & P. Park in Mount Holly this season This was the decision reached by the meeting held last week. Lately the receipts at the gates have not been sufficient to meet the guarantees of the visiting team and the association has been losing an average of $150 a game. This is more than the members thought the town could afford, and the officials could see no reason for giving their time to the promotion of the sport with no more appreciation than has been shown.

The association is not bankrupt, but it has been wise to stop before reaching that condition. Money on hand will be used to keep the park in shape for athletic promotions, sanctioned by the grounds committee and it is expected that from time to time there will be baseball on that field, but it will not be a promotion of the Athletic Association. It was announced at the meeting Monday evening that the alterations on the Washington street school boller room would be completed by August 8 and that the alterations on the entire building would be fluished before or on September 8.

CHURCH MAKING PROGRESS Baptist Church Has Added Over Fifty New Members Since January 1.

Taking account of the progress made by the Central Baptist Church since the Rev. Frederick Blaser began his pastorate the first of this year, the records show that over fifty new members have been received up until August 2, when the pastor went on his vacation.

There was a record attendance at the Communion service last Suuday and four new members were received. Pastor Blaser and members of the Church feel very grateful for the excellent progress made in membership and many other directions.

for the excellent progress made in membership and many other directions.

Various organizations in the Church have, at recent meetings, been planning big things for autumn.

The Christian Endeavor Society which meets on Friday evenings, has mapped out a wider program under efficient leadership. This program will open with a social the first Friday in September and now is a good time to become identified with the work of the young people. Important events planned by the Briaca Class of the Sunday School include a survey of the community early in September, a light leadership the Maraca Class of the Sunday School include a survey of the community early in September, a light lease concert by the Masonle Temple Quarette. "Pote" Volpe, of West Palmyra, was acrested by Chier of Police C. Morris Beck on drunk and disorderly charges preferred by Volpe's wife Saturday afternoon. The chief took Volpe to the town lockup, where he was to stay until Sunday, morning when he would be recovered from his "spree" and be taken before Justice of the Peace William L. Fitcher.

About midnight Saturuay, Mrs. Volpe felt more kindly toward her husband, got Justice of the Peace Fichter out of bed and asked him to release the offender. The Judge told her "Nothing doing, I'm not going to let anybody out of fall at this time of the night, do your forgiting in the morning," and with that, the Judge slammed the door and returned to his bed.

The wife appeared at the hearing Sunday morning and withdrew her charges, so there was nothing for the Judge to do but release Volpe after he had collected the court charges.

TEACHER DRILLS NINE YEAR OLDS IN PRACTICAL USE OF TELEPHONE

Mrs. Agnes Connelly, teacher of the third and fourth grades at the Bigelow School in Shrewsbury, Mass., has recently introduced an ingenious course of instruction in the use of the telephone for her nine-year-olds.

At her own expense she has equipped each desk with a toy telephone, and on Friday afternoons she holds what she calls' the telephone drill. Such of the pupils at this time has a chance to use the instrument in a practical way.

"It is surprising how much a nine-year-old can do," says Mrs. Connelly. "Proper instruction in using the telephone means that these children in times of emergency have a 'means of procuring assistance that otherwise might be unknown to them."

Not only are the advantages of the course limited to the practical use of the instrument, but the pupils, according to the teacher, learn many of the sessentials of education from these Friday afternoon sessions.

Clear speaking and proper enunciation result, she says. In common with grown ups, the children exercise more care in the selection of words when laiking over the telephone. Looking

The hearing on this important matter which every shareman in the neighborhood feels is of vital importance because of the strong belief among all that it will seriously affect the bay in many ways, was before Colonel I. L. Brown, Engineer Corps, U. S. A.

Every yacht club and boating association on Barnegat bay had representatives to oppose the application. To these were joined the American Power Boat Association the Department of Shell Fisheries, the State Board of Commerce and Navigation, the oystermen's associations, captains of salling boats, commanders of bay cruisers, captains of party boats, individual owners of pleasure crafts, property owners along the bay shore, the business interests of Seaside Park and towns north. With Irons' Metropolitan Band engaged for the afternoon and evening, vandeville acts from Cotter's Entertainment Bureau, in Philadetphia, contracted for) entries for the baby parade and contest being received daily and bathing beauties from all parts of the county writing for information, the committee appointed by President Jones, of the Mount Holly Business Men's Association to make arrangements for the annual plenic of Mount Holly merchants on August 13; has numbered a particularly husy bunch of men during the past week, and prospects are that they will continue to be until the big festive occusion is over and once more a thing of the past.

The purpose of this camp conference is to discover and develop leadership, both voluntary and professional, for the work of religious education. The program is distinctive in that it is centered in the physical, social and religious expressional activities conducted in the afternoons and evenings rather than in the class work which is conducted in the mornings. The program aims at the development of a balanced four-fold life, without an over emphasis on either mental or physical or social or religious krowth.

While most victims of the disease are over normal weight, they are not necessarily so. Also one may be many pounds overweight, without the peculiar soreness found in Dercun's disease. So this is evidently something different and distinct from ordinary futthess.

In a recent issue of the Journal In a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, Doctor Pirle and Doctor Bird of Spokane, Wash, describe a case of this rare and strange disease. The patient, a woman of nineteen, weighed 192 pounds. But this weight was not evenly distributed. All over her body and hubs were bunches of fat. These masses were painful and tender, They felt like bunches of worms. Her flesh bruised easily, she could not lie down in comfort. She had to change her position constantly. She was dull and complained of a constant feeling of weakness.

By JOSEPH KAYE

WILLIAM PENN AND GUL-IELMA SPRINGETT

THE famous Quaker and founder of Pennisylvania married the beautiful Gulielma Springert, the daughter of a Puritan officer, and theirs was a happy life out of the ordinary. When Penn, harassed by religious prosecutions, secured the tract of land in the New World and was about to set sail for the great adventure, he left his wife one of the most affecting pieces in English literature, a farewell letter, the like of which it is hardly possible te find. This letter contains about seves thousand words and begins:

"My love, which neither sea nor land nor death itself can extinguish, or lessen towards you, most endearedly visits you with eternal embraces and will abide with you forever; and may the God of my life watch over you and bless you and do you good in the world and forever! Some things are upon my spirit to leave with you in your respective capacities, as I am to one a husband and to the rest a father, If I should never again see you in this world.

"My dear wife, remember thou wast

"My dear wife, remember thou wast the tove of my youth and much the joy of my life; the most beloved as well as the most worthy of all my earthly comforts; and the reason of that love was more thy inward than thy outward excellencies, which were many. God knows, and thou knowest it. I can say it was a match of Providence's making; and God's image in us both was the first thing and the most amiable and engaging in our eyes. Now I am to leave thee and that without knowing whether I shall ever see thee more in this world, take my counsel in thy bosom and let it dwell with thee in my stead while thou livest."

So farewell to thee, my dearly by loved wife and children—yours as Goe pleaseth, in that which no waters can quench, no time forget nor distance wear away, but remain for ever, WILLIAM PENN."

It is an interesting coincidence that this letter was written, almost to the mouth, on the tenth anniversary of Penn's marriage.

Award Trophy

The loving cup which the Burlington County District Association of the Knights of the Golden Eagle donated for the Palmyra or Burlington High School football team which was the first to win three games, has been handed over to Russell C. Holmes, Grand Chief of the State of New Jersey, for presentation.

There is a controversy between the Burlington and Palmyra Castles of the order, each saying that its respective high school won the cap. Burlington bases its claim on the fact that Palmyra won't play any more games for the cup, and the Palmyra boys say they won't play because they have already won the trophy.

The controversy between the two lodges has been carried on for three years. It will be settled in the near future when Edwin F. Patterson, District Grand Chief of the order, will call a meeting of the District Association for the purpose of awarding the cup. The meeting will be held in the Riverside Castle of the K. G. E.

Three Burlington People Injured by Inexperienced Driver

Three residents of Burlington were budly injured on the Roosevelt Boulevard, Philadelphia, Sunday afternoon when an inexperienced driver, holding only a bearner's permit, crashed his automobile into the Franklin machine owned by Carleton E. Sholl, 14 West Union street, Burlington, and overturned it in the roadway.

The injured were Miss M. E. Broome, who for thirty-five years ias conducted a dry goods and noion store at 333 High street. John i. Sholl, who has a florist's business t the same address, and Mrs. John Sholl.

Miss Broome suffered a fracture at the base of the skull besides being cut and bruised.

Mr. Sholl was cut by broken glass principally about the legs. Mrs. Sholl suffered a cut scalp and was badly bruised.

The injured were all taken to the Franklin Hospital where they received treatment. Mr. and Mrs. Sholl were able to leave the hospital Sunday night.

The driver of the Phitadelphia car gave his name as Marion Nicholas, of $24 North Fitth street. Both 15 and Mr. Sholl immediately was released and told to appear at a hearing in the Tenth and Buttonwood streets police station Monday morning.

At the hearing Monday Mr. Sholl was absolved of all blame in connection with the accident, and Nicholas was held in $800 bail for your the was given a severe lecture by the magistrate who told him that he was afterly unfitted to handle a car.

Washington, D. C.—August 6—Southern publishers, appearing before a Congressional subsommittee, at Atlants, recently, declared that Congress not only should not increase postal rates on newspapers, but on the contrary should reduce the rates on second-class matter. has virtually doubled since 1914 be stated.

Colonel Ewing submitted a brief prepared for the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association. It stated that newspapers are gradually ceasing to use the mails because of the present raies and that many publications are using freight services instead of postal service. It was contended that the present rates are ton high and should be reduced by Congress.

The brief declared that the Rural Route Service, which cost approximately $87,500,000 in 1923, and the Star Route Services that cost $12,500,00, "are services that are rendered for national growth and have no right to be charged as operating expenses to the Postomes Department."

The brief protested against any adjustment that would increase rates on second-class matter that were in effect in $920, after the second advance of the War Revenue set.

THOUGH Nine has a typically the French sound, the name is regarded as English. However, it came to us through the French by a lengthy process of evolution. The Hebrew Chananch was its earliest source and from this word it derived its significance of "grace".

Through the English Hannah, it came to France as Anne and was soon given the diminuitye, Annette. As Nanette, it appeared simultaneously, but the French love of variety changed the latter form to Nanon and finally Ninon.

The beauty and fame of Ninon de i Efficios, superwoman and court "vamp" in the reign of Louis Kiv, spread her name afar. It became almost a synonym for charmer and the maids of several countries coveted it. But Ninon is too Galife for English ears, so, is its transportation across the channel, the ending underwent a change and Nina was the final result, it has enjoyed extraordinary vogue in this country.

The diamond is Nina's talismante gem. It is the emblem of fearlesaness and invincibility and promises its wearer success in all undertakings and freedom from misgivings. According to an old superstition, it enhances the love of a husband for his wife. Sunday is Nina's lucky day and S her fucky number.

Found Rescued Boy Was Son His own little son was saved by a Walton (Bing.) man from the Thames unknowingly. While walking with his wife on the river sank a man heard shouts that a boy was drowning. He jumped in fully dressed and brought the boy eshera, and then found he was his own four-year-old son who had strayed from his parents' side. The water was about 20 feet deep, and the rescuer had some difficulty in regulning the bank, as a man who held out a stick toward him let go on his hold, and he felt backwards. When he reached the bank someons, said; "Why, it's Keith," and the rescuer only then found he had rescued his own son.

Pepsin Has Rival

Pepsin Has Rival

Pepsin, the digestive substance derived from the pig and largely used by medical men in treating cases of digestion, finds a rival in pharmacy in "pagain," a digestive ferment isolated from the juice of the half-ripe fruit of the papus free. This substance is said to digest fibrin and albumen more readily than pepsin does. The fruit is sometimes made into jam, though the necessary boding would probably kill the digestive ferments. Anglo-Indians say that a tough steak becomes tender when placed for a few minutes between two slices of papaw fruit, or even placed near a papaw tree.

Northern Lights

Prof. Lars Vegard, attached to Christiants university, by assuming that frozen nitrogen is responsible for the beautiful greenish fue that preceded any outbreak of the northern tights, has dissipated the mystery of the green hue that has always been unexplained by scientific men. The scientific world has not entirely accepted his assumption, but regards it as more satisfactory as an explanation than the old theory that certain luminous gases caused this exceptionally beautiful effect just before the fantastic flashes.

Wedding Is Delayed Whole Day by State License Law

Burlington Bridegroom Failed to Calculate Correctly When He Got Marriage Papers

Miss Dolores Pitman, of Vincentown, and Webster Shinn, of Pennstreet, Burlington, who were married in Florence last week, were just twenty-four hours behind the nuptial schedule previously fixed, but the wedding event was none the less enjoyable. As a matter of fact it gave their friends more time to trim automobiles and lay in a supply of horns.

Miss Pitman, who is the daughter of Mrs. Lida Pitman, of Vincentown, and Mr. Shinn, who is the step-son of Captain Wilson Johnson, of the Burlington Police Department, were to have been married on Wednesday night, but when it came time for the ceremony they learned that the marriage license had not sufficiently matured.

It takes a marriage license seventy-two hours to ripen in New Jersey. Mr. Shinn's license was only 24 hours old on Wednesday night, but wending for one day when he went to the City Hall and obtained the preclous document. The only thing to dows to hold back the wedding for twenty-four hours, and they did it. Needless to say that during those twenty-four hours, and they did it. SEER SCHOOL SITE Mount Holly Board Has Difficulty Finding Location George Stevenson All Excited About "Use Your Head"

Continuing his fight to have the town limit sign at the western end of Beverly changed, George Stevenson declares that the sign is "smart, flip and fresh, and a detriment to real estate in the town."

The sign that has aroused the condemnation of the citizen reads, "Beverly, Use Your Head and Brakes," and on the other side, "Say It with Safety and Save the Flowers."

Finding Location

That the Northampton Board of Education is still making an effort to comply with the instructions of the State Board of Education to provide better school facilities for the children of Mount Holly, nothwithstanding that two propositions to acquire land and build a new schoolhouse have previously been submitted and turned down, is evidenced by the fact that the members of the Board have called a special election to be held on Tuesday afternoon and evening, August 11, when two or more school sites will be presented for the consideration of the taxpayers of the district.

The State Board has decreed that the temporary rooms used the past few years for school purposes are not suitable and the Board has no other alternative than to erect a suitable building to house the children of the school district.

The Board of Education has estimated that an each result has a suitable and the school district. Plowers."
Stevesnon ironically said that the chief of police, Dillwyn Stevenson, should erect a sign on the eastern limit on the river road, reading like the sign that Lloyd Jones, of Beverly, saw while on a western tour. The sign was hung on the outskirts of a little town in Ohio and read as follows: "Warning—speed limit 100 miles an hour. Fords, do your damnedest."

nedest."

Stevenson, at the conclusion of his remarks about the signs, said that he has been informed that a movement is under way to have the Beverly sign torn down and a suitable one put in its place.

STEAMBOAT IN 1788

Ferry Operated Between Burlington and Philadelphia

The Burlington Chamber of Commerce has issued a bulletin telling of the little known fact that there was a steamboat operating as a ferry between Burlington and Philadelphia nineteen years before Robert Fulton launchea the Clermont on the Hudson River.

on the Hudson River.

These facts were first found by Dr. Glasgow, of Burlington, in a "History of Burlington County," written by W. W. H. Davis, A. M., in 1876. The facts were verified by the Burlington High School. The steamboat was made by John Fitch, of Bucks county, who made the trips between the two cities in 1788. Fulton launched his boat in 1807.

Mrs. Elizabeth Walther, widow of Jacob Walther, of Hainesport, died last week, aged eighty-one years. She had long been a resident of Hainesport having come to this country from Germany.

The marriage of John L. Elbersou and Miss Adeline Downing, both of Mount Holly, took place in a Phitadelphin Presbyterian Church, last week. The newly-weds will make their home in Haddonfield, where they have a new home rapidly nearing completion.

John Kelly, of Philadelphia, was arrested on Sunday charged with illegal fishing at Taunton Lakes. Under a law passed by the last Legislature no resident of any state is permitted to fish in streams of New Jersey on Sunday where a similar privilege is not accorded residents of this state" and it was this statute that caused Kelly to be arrested.

It is said to be the first arrest made in Burlington county since the law was passed. Game Warden Roy R. Carson and the arrest.

Recently some one conceived the idea of holding Japanese Beetle parties and since that time a number of Merchantville and Moorestown ladies have entered into the spirit of the movement and the giving of "beetle" parties in becoming quite a fad.

The hostess invites a number of her female friends to the house and then after they have all assembled they repair to the garden. Each guest is equipped with a small can of kerosene and the work of extermination of the beetle is begun, the lady killing the most beetles being awarded the prize.

A luncheon is afterward served and all go home agreed that they have spent a pleasant and profitable afternoon.

Burned Stables are Rebuilt at Flemington Grounds

The forty-eight box stables that were destroyed on the night of July 4 on the Flemington fair grounds by lightning, as well as the training barn, are rapidly being replaced and will be ready for the large number of horses that will compete in the numerous races at the Flemington Fair, August 25, 26 and 27.

There are 170 horses eligible to start in the eight races for purses of $1,000 each, The horses that will start at Endicott, N. Y., and race through the Metropolitan Circuit are entered at Flemington, coming there from Middletown, N. Y., the last week of the racing in Metropolitan Circuit. From there the horses will go to Connecticut and Pennsylvania to join the many circuits through the fall.

The stalls that are being constructed are up to date in every respect, and the horsemen will be agreeably surprised when they land at Flemington and see what arrangements have been made for the care of their valuable charges.

On August 25 and 29 the automobile speed flends will not need stabiling of this kind for their charges, as they will be quartered in tents on another part of the grounds.

THE QUESTION BOX

The Dardanelles

Anna M. Broad street—Will you please be kind enough to answer where the Dardanelles are located and what they are?

Ans. The Dardanelles are powerful Turkish forts that line both sides of the strait that leads up to Constantinople.

Lincoln Highway the Longest

Lincoln Highway the Longest Vacationist, Thomas avenue— What is the longest highway in the world?

Ans. The Lincoln highway is said to be the longest highway in the world. It connects New York and California as directly as possi-ble consistent with the topography of the country.

Boston Tea Party

Old Timer, Bridgeboro street—
Will you please ansfer in your question column the day and date of the "Boston Tea Party" as referred to in history?

Ans. That so-called "Boston tea party," in which a band of American patriots disguised as Indians, boarded three British ships laden with tea and dumped the cargo into the water, occurred on Thursday, December 16, 1773.

Egypt's Climate
Mary Jane, East Riverton—May
I ask if they have very cold winters in Egypt and much rain or snow?
Ans. No. Egypt Hes in an almost rainless area. The days are hot and the nights are cool. January is the coolest mouth. In winter they get some rain on the const, but they get no snow and it never freezes.

The First Novel

The First Novel

Sarah, Bank avenue Will you please answer how old art of novel writing is concerning the common people and the title and author of the first novel writing is approximately 300 years old. Before that time priests and cleries and a few royal ists were the only ones that could read or write and these brought out sport essays and romantic poetry. The common people were not mentioned in such writings because they could not read and their betters had no desire to read about them. In the early part of the seventeenin century Daniel Defoe, an English author, wrote a book which is regarded as the first complete novel. It was his "Robinson Crusoe."

Andrew, Linden avenue—What does "Vox populi" mean? Ans. "Vox populi" is Latin an I means "Voice of the people."

He was called to the telephone, the oath administered and his testinony was transmitted by wire and recorded by the Court Stenographer.

All Life a Struggle

All Life a Struggle

Life is a battle all through, physically as well as morally. Everything is struggling to endure, and the more successfully we struggle the stronger we become against a weakening engage. The plant that is badly nourished, that slacks and flags in the fight is the one all its enemies fasten upon. Thes weakly animal is the one that sickness most easily attacks. The battle of iffe is generally to the strong. The early wheat in the best prepared, flaest land makes the better stand, in most cases, against blights and other afflictions. FIELD CLUB WEASELS TO MEET LUTHERANS

Schwink's Men Now Ahead, But Championship Depends on Last Battle

The Twin City Twilight League will close its season this Thursday evening with what promises to be a rip roarin' pennant decidin' battle. The Field Club Scrubs will meet the Lutherans and it will be a battle for blood.

The Weasles are perched on the top rung of the ladder and are confident of staying there. The Lutherans are accustomed to winning pennants and have emphatically announced their intentions of repeating.

the lead by sellant same, sufficient to win any kind of an old tournament.

The Legion is the cellar champ. There's no doubt about that. In order to prove their claim to the lowest rung of the ladder, the Exservicemen dropped three during the past week. Each one of these, however, was a forfeit. For some unknown reason, the Legion finds it difficult to get nine men out on their scheduled evenings to swat the pill.

The Legion distributed the forfeits about as throughly as pos-difficult to get nine men out on their scheduled evenings to swat the pill.

The Legion distributed the forfeits about as throughly as possible. The Baptists, Lutherans and Methodiats all profited by non-appearance on the part of the Legion players. The only game that actually counted was Friday night's, wirely the Wessles downed the Artisans' 6-4. As the result of this loss and the forfeit victory, the Baptists exchange places with the Artisans and finish fourth.

Thursday night, after winning the game by forfeit, the Baptists met a tsam of the available Legionnaires and other diamond luminaries on the scene. The Legion & Co. these trimmed the Churchmen 6-1. The batteries were Gibbon and Kahill, Legion; Hoyt and Loghery, Baptists.

Bud Mathews made his debut as a twirler Friday night when he took the mound against the Field Club Scrobs. Bud's hurling was the feature of the game, and although in tow and held the heavy hitting leaders to eight hits. Harder and Hop comprised the winning combination. Earl only allowed the Artisans five scattered singles. Patrice Steedle, the bus magnate, acted as the Artisan receiver.

Monday and Tuesday night the Methodists and Lutherans each won from the Legion by the afore stated forfeits.

But the big scrap comes this Thursday night, It is understood that it will be an extra special affair with "foreign" umps' and all Fact is, it is expected that the entire community, including all the grandmothers, will be present. Everybody is anxious to see it Tommy Schwink's aggregation will clean up their first year in the circuit.

Twelve Local Trouble Hunters Have to Pony Up Hard Cash After Fight Over Girls

Palmyra's squad of trouble brevers had the pot boiling again last week. The usual gang, with a few added to its list, was charged with disorderly conduct in Pensauken last Friday. Saturday night the entire bunch was fined.

Twelve youths constituted the local aggregation. It was alleged that they beat up the plaintiff, William Dunbar, 19, of East Pensauken Pensauken for the visiting fighters nard Dinn, William Fisher, John Doholski, Frank Doholski, Walter Todd, William Fisher, John Boronan, Robert Gorman, Robert Brown, Charles Hunter, Charles Schroder and Thomas McGlocklin.

It's the same old story, Deep down into the mystery, it is found a couple of girls were responsible for the whole affair. Bernard Dinn and a friend were driving through, Pensauken Friday evening and they stopped to chat with a couple of girls who are reported to reside on Park avenue, Pensauken.

Mo—The Flesh Against the Spirit.

Having shown in chapters 3 and 4 of this episite that the believer is tree from the law as a means of justification, Paul makes practical application of this doctrine.

I. Christian Freedom (vv. 13-15).

I. It is Not an Occasion to the Flesh" (v. 13).

Liberty is not license. The notion that when one is free from the law he is free from constraint, is wickedly erroneous. License of the flesh means not merely the indulgence of the flesh actual material sins, but in the expression of a self-centered life in biting and devouring one another (v. 13). Bekering among Christians is an example thereof.

2. By Love, Serving One Another (v. 13). Freedom from the Mosaic law means

Freedom from the Mosaic law mems stavery to the law of love. "The smerging from bondage through Christ is the passing into a sphere of life in which all the powers should act under the dominion of the true motive,

(3) Lasciviousness. This means the wanton reckless indugences in the shameful practices of the flesh.

2. Irreligion (v. 20).

These acts take place in the realm of the spirit and are:

(1) Idolatry, which means the worshiping of idols.

(2) Witchcraft or Sorcery. This means all dealing with the occu't such as magical arts, etc.

3. Sins of the Temper (vv. 20-21. These take place in the sphere of

This indicates action in the realm of Bfe, the product of the Holy Spirit indwelling the believer.

1. Love, to God and man.
2. Joy, glad-heartedness because of what God has done.
3. Peace with God and fellowman.
4. Longsuffering, taking insuit and injury without murmuring.
5. Gentleness, kindness to others.
6. Goodness, doing good to others.
7. Faith, believing God and committing all to Him.
8. Meckness, submission to God.
9. Temperance, self-control in all things. Against such there is no law.

With the new Nash models welcomed everywhere by large crowds and very satisfactory sales, officials of The Nash Motors Company are making plans for the greatest production in all Nash history.

A total of 10,000 Special Six and Advanced Six models are scheduled to be produced during the month of August, and the same number during September in effort to meet the demand. The majority of this production will be on enclosed cars. In commenting on the trend of business conditions, C, W, Nash, president of The Nash Motors Company, said he regarded future prospects for the company as being very bright.

"There is nothing in general conpany, said he regarded future prospects for the company as being very bright.

"There is nothing in general conditions throughout the country as far as I can see to warrant anxiety with reference to continued satisfactory business," said Mr. Nash. "Industry in general should proceed in a prosperous manner. The outlook for this company in particular is more favorable than ever before. Orders on hand are greatly in excess of our ability to ship."

To keep pace with the fast-mounting demand on the new models, new buildings are to be added to the plant layout at Kenosha. Additional tools and machinery of the most advanced type procurable are to be installed. Other factory equipment that will contribute greater speed, greater volume to the output of Nash cars, is to be secured and put into operation. After these new facilities are available, another spring season should find the factory able to manufacture 100 more automobiles per day than was possible during the last period.

Official records show that the average monthly increase if Nash sales for the ten months ending June 30 exceeded 60 per cent. This is all the more remarkable in view of the fact that the rest of the motor car inustry showed a heavy average monthly decrease.

Pulling down your character to build up your reputation is poor business.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE

through all the stress of war, inflation, depression and revival, it served this country as no country was ever served by a banking system. We know that without it our nation would have had a financial disaster far more devastating than any that ever assailed it.

While we have this great loyalty and obligation to the System, we must recognize that among its friends there has risen serious controversy over many matters of detail. There are many demands for change in the methods of its management and in details of its operation. Where these demands represent broadly the greatest good of the greatest number we should support them. Where they represent merely narrow, diverse interests of one part of the country or one type of business or finance, they should be subordisated to the common good. We should speed on the great broad ground of the common welfare—first to preserve the system in general as it is now constructed, and secondly to bring about, carefully and soundly, such changes as are required to adjust it to circumstances of today. The task of considering, sifting, weighing and co-ordinating discussion and suggestions regarding the Federal Reserve System has been confided to welphing and co-ordinating discussion and suggestions regarding the Federal Reserve System has been confided to the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. It is hoped that thereby the Federal Reserve System will be given the best thought and the best support of banking. There is no greater service banking can render the nation than this. It goes right to the heart of good management of the public economy of America.

KEEPING WELL

TONSILITIS

DR. FREDERICK R. GREEN

THE tonsils are little glands, normally about the size of small hickery nuts. They lie in the mucous membrane in the back of the mouth, just above the base of the tongue.
They have little canals, called crypts, which secrete mucus to moisten the lining membrane of the mouth.

When the tonsils are healthy, we never know they are there. But if they become inflamed and swollen, they produce a severe and painful condition called tonsilitis.

This is one of the causes of what is popularly called "sore throat." The child may have a chill, followed by fever, a sore throat, pain and difficulty in swallowing. In inild, simple cases, the inflammation disappears in a few days. But it is liable to return, especially in weak, undernourished children.

If pus germs get into the little especially in weak, undernourished children.

If pus germs get into the little crypts, they produce deep Inflammation which may result in an abscess. This is called "quinsy." When this happens, the tonsils become greatly enlarged, sometimes filling up the throat so that breathing is difficult. After a few days of intense pain and discomfort, this abacess may "break," relieving the pain. The doctor, by lancing the abscess, shortens the disease and so prevents many hours of soffering.

Instead of forming an abscess, the infection may become chronic and the tonsils may then become permanently enlarged and so interfere with breathing.

consists may then become permanently enlarged and so interfere with breathing.

The constant absorption of poison from the infected and inflamed tonsils may cause "rheumatism," pain in the joints or muscles, fever or loss of appetite. The child is thin, pale, poorty nourished and subject to frequent and continued "colds." The poison may reach the heart, causing some form of heart disease, or may affect the kidneys.

Long continued inflammation of the consils, either in the acute form or in the milder but chronile form, desiroys the structure of the tonsils and converts the glands into masses of score tissue. They are then not only of no use, but they are a real danger. The best thing to do is to get rid of them. Their removal is a simple matter of little danger or discomfort to the patient, if done by a competent physician.

Origin of Expression

"Skeleton in Closet" "Skeleton in Closet"
"There is a skeleton in every house" is said to be an old saying taken from an Italian humorous story. But the expression "skeleton in the closet" has been popularized by an English story. A woman had an only son who obtained an appointment in India. One day the mother received a letter from her son with this strange request: "Pray, mother, get someone who has no cares and troubles to make me six shirts." The mother searched in vain for such a person, Finally-she called upon a woman who invited her to go with her to a bottoom. The strange woman then opened a closet which contained a human skeleton. "Madam," she said, "I try to keep my trouble to mysoif. human skeleton. "Madam," she snol, "I try to keep my trouble to myself, but every night my husband compels me to kias 'that skeleton, who was once my husband's rival and whom he killed in a duel. Think you that I am happy?" The mother immediately wrote to her son and told him her experiences and the son replied: "I knew when I gave the commission that everyone had his cares, and you, mother, must have yours. Know then

British Capital Once Site of Vast Forests

Large areas of the land on which the British metropolis stands once formed a great charcoal district from which practically the whole of the city's fuel came. Vast forests of oak, beech and ash trees covered these areas, which included Norwood—the Great North Wood—Croydon, Sydenham and Forest Hill. In those far-off days of the Fourteenth century coal was not allowed to be burned, as it was considered that the smoke was was not allowed to be burned, as it was considered that the smoke was dangerous to health. It is not exactly easy to see how this could be so, for the smoke from charcoal burning is, to say the least of it, most unpleasant. One bishop, who had his palace at Croydon, was greatly annoyed by a charcoal burner, who lit his fire right under his lordship's windows, filling the palace with the fumes of the smoldering wood. The charcoal burner dering wood. The charconi burner was regarded in those times as a sinister figure, and was often credited with being in league with witches and devils.

Betel Nut Mars Beauty

Betel Nut Mars Beauty
The country folk (of Java) themselves, conscious of their ornate setting, were dressed for the part. A group of those women, moving in a musical comedy, would give a theatrical manager complete assurance in the matter of his hox office receipts.

They are so modest and polite that they never stare at a stranger; though with such figures, eyes and coloring, I doubt whether he would object greatly if they did. Their manners are perfect, except that most of them greatly it they did. Their manners are pierfect, except that most of them chew betel nut, and casually make railway platforms and footpaths distressing with red maculations.

Building Trades' God

Building Trades' God

Lupan is the name of the god which the members of the Peking building trades worship. Lu is the name of a kingdom, in the Chow dynasty (1122-220 C.), and Pan is the name of a skilled mechanic of that time.
He is frequently mentioned in the classics as an inventor of mechanical devices. From him the guild of the building trade derives its name, says the Detroit News.

The guild includes carpenters, maizons, bricklayers, blacksmiths and painters. The meeting always takes place in the Teing-chung temphs, outside Chienmen, which was erected for the worship of Yo Fei. The latter is the famous patriotic general of the Sung dynasty (960-1276 A. D.) It is not known why the building trades chooses this temple for its meeting place.

Brings Good and Bad Luck
There are numerous superstitions associated with the hearing, of the cuckoo's first cail. In the maritime Highlands and Hebrides, if the cuckoo is first heard by one who has not broken his fast, some misfortune is expected. Indeed, besides the danger, it is regarded a reproach to one to have heard the cuckoo while hungry.
In France, to hear the cuckoo for the first time fasting is to make the hearer "an idle do nothing for the rest of the year," or "to numb his limbs" for the same period. There is a similing helief is certain parts of the west of England. In Northumberiand one is told, if walking on a hear road when the cuckoo first calls, that the ensming season will be full of calamity;
to be on west ground is a lucky omen.

Passage of Light Rays

The mirage is an optical illusion in which images of distant objects are seen as if inverted or raised in the air, says the Detroit News. This phenomenon was first explained by a Frenchman who went with Napoteon on his first expedition in Egypt, where mirages are very common

The phenomenon is due to the rays of light being changed in their direction when passing through colder or hotter strate of air. Layers of air is contact with the surface of deserts become greatly expanded and ratefied, while those immediately above remain denser, thus causing the light rays to be bent upward. However, over water the condition is just the reverse. The layers above are warmer than those next to the water. When an object appears to be lifted above its real position in the phenomenon it is called boming. In the case of looming the reflection is from the sky while in ordinary mirage it is from the earth. Hirages are common in Egypt, Persia, Turkestan, California, Nevada and Alaska.

It may be time to remark that a spite of the general uncovines thout you dindenburg's election, the caiser does not seem to be getting my nearer to Potsdam.—Bosto-franscript.

for Unwary Insects

for Unwary Insects

Certain plants, like certain people, require strong foods. Not satisfied with the nourishment derived from the not, they require stead and blood. Such plants exist by the constinution of insects and small animals, and are to be found in begs and marshes in tropical countries. All carnivorous plants are endowed with a sense of tiste, and a tasty morsel of meat is specifly devoured! The side-saddle plant, found in parts of America, sets water traps for its victims. This plant holds up to the smallght vase-like leaves, around the mouths of which are glands that secrete honey. Tempted by the scent, the insects make their way across the leaves to the mouth of the plant; farther and farther they wander down the tube, looking for the honey. Detentive hairs prevent their exit and, tired and weary, they eventhally fall into the pool secreted at the bottom of the leaf. The common sundew captures dragonifies and anns. Attracted by the gummy appearance of the rosy leaves, the feet of the visitors become securely fixed to the gum, and the red tentacles close in on the unwary insects.

Superficial Existence

We live in the sun and on the surface—a thin, plausible, superficial existence—not talk of music and prophet, of art and creation. But out of our shallow and frivolous way of life, how can greatness ever grow? Come now, let us go and be dumb. Let us sit with our hands on our mouths, a long, austere, Pythagorean lustrum. Let us live in corners, and do chores, and suffer, and weep, and drudge, with eyes and hearts that hove the Lord. Silence, seclusion, austerity, may pierce deep into grandeur and secret of our being, and so diving, bring up out or secular darkness the sublimities of the moral constitution. How mean to go blazing, a gaudy butterfly, in fashlomable or political salons, the fool of society, the fool of notoriety, a topic for newspapers, a piece of the street, and forfeiting the real prerigative of the russet cont, the privacy, and the true and warm heart of the citizeti—Emerson.

Farms Must Be Electrified To Solve Food Problems

Owen D. Young Says Power Service Must be Extended to opinion that the electrical industry is obligated to take the greatest part in reaching that solution. It is the electrical industry by the problem of that magnitude and character not as a new market. It must accept a problem of that magnitude and character not as a new market. It must accept it as a duty.

"The first question is, how can it be done profitably? How can a business of such dimensions and importance be developed in such a way that the electrical industry can neal its service for what the purchasers can afford to pay?

"Twenty-five years ago the light and power companies that a local business in each municipality. A generating station suited to the size of the community in which the franchise was granted, and a distributing system adequate to cover its needs was a newer companie.

at a disadvantage with regard to his living standard."

Mr. Young is an authority, not only on the subject of electric service, but on farming as well. He was born and reared on a farm in Van Horneaville, N. Y., which today he owns and operates.

"Intelligent young men with an upbringing and a store of knowledge peculiarly bestiting them for farm work leave the farm year by year," continued Mr. Young. "They leave because they crave the cultural advantages and creature comforts which farm life does not afford. They are repelled by the drudgery of the on the farm.

"The rural arch, all important in our economic structure, is progressively waskened by those losses. So the sociological factor is vlosely allied with the economic one. We can produce our food supply adequately and economically only by keeping the most intelligent people on the farm, men and women who will be able to manage the farm as a business to their profit.

**PRITARY OF HORRES**

Statistics seem to indicate that the addenoally bringing the American horse to the verge and the truck are gradually bringing the American horse to the verge of race suicide.

According to figures compiled by the Chicago Tribune there are now 17,000,000 horses in the United States while in 1918 there were as many as 21,000,000. Not only like, but the number of nules has decreased ten per tent since 1920 and the average age of horses and mules now in existence is greater than formerly. Porty-frace per cent of all horses on the farms are ten years of age. This shows that coil production has 3ropped of and it is said that only about one half as many were founded in 1942 as in 1918.

But the decline in number has not increased the value per lead for the average and the present time. In Missouri are only 123,000 horses as against 900,000 x year age and its average value of horses as against 900,000 x year age and its average value of horses as against 900,000 x year age and its average value for years of a state of production has 3ropped of songer age to 1 in the number has dropped to $0,000.

The general decline is number has not increased the value per lead its but store, and the average value of horses has a gainst 900,000 x year age and its average value per lead is but $45. In Neanse four years age and its average value per lead is but $45. In Neanse four years age and the average value of horses in his statement was in Oreen-last dropped to $50,000.

The general decline is the number has dropped to $50,000.

MAKING GOOD IN A SMALL TOWN

Real Stories About Real Girls

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN TEACHING FOREIGN-BORN TO SPEAK "AMERICAN"

Within making good means making money, try teaching foreigners to speak the Empths hanguage.

Ambitious foreign born men, maxious to make good in business? foreign born mothers, whose children are growing away from them with the adoption of a new tongue; foreigners who can't speak a word of English and foreigners who morely want to improve their speach—all those with be your prospective pupils.

No says a girl who, after graduation from college, speat nearly a year wondering "what to earth" she could do, since she didn't want to teach in the public schools, in her home rown of only 2,000.

"The fact that there is a targe element of foreign born people in here ment of foreign born people in here or only 2008.

"The fact that there is a large element of foreign born people in here gave me jug idea," she told me, "And I've made a good income ever since I started 'on my own' to give these people private lessons in English."

Since every small town is a part of the "melting pot" which is America, no matter where a girl lives, she is almost sure to find a good number of the foreign born who thock yearly to our shopes. Here are nor pupils. The would-be tencher should advertise for her pupils in the local papers. To those who answer the advertisement, she may say that the charge for each two-hour lesson is three dillars, and that two a week will probably be satisfactory. Of course, she may vary the price to meet the boen situation. She should supply herself with good text books, and should keep her advertisement running. If she obstate.

EXCELSIOR

With White in the Tyrol, five of its, three college students, enhanced to his imagneticneed it his school boy and t. We were holging at a qualit fittle hostely clinging to the side of the mountain that overbooked this breek. Those of you who have been there will remember it. I ansure. Behind us were the mountains seeining to rise from the root of the garden back of the lane and, scarced more than a step away, the snow capped summit easily within reach.

"We'll climb it after breakfast, Jabbe said, "and have a showhall tight."

Jabbe said, "and have a snowoal right."

I consented though I had elimber mountains before and knew something of their habits and eccentricities.

We started out after breakfast over an easy path, but the showbanks seemed to receive as we went on. The path grow steeper as we elimbed higher; the stones cut into our thin shoes, the precipices which we were forced to scale were disay and dangerous. We were weary and hot and perspiring; our miles seemed to stretch out endlessly, and still the show was negrond our reach. We strengted on, nowever, not willing to be defeated in our purpose, and thally we reached our goal, as everyone does who pushes ahead with courage and persistence.

"It isn't so easy as it geens, is it?" Jabbe said as he dropped down triumphant upon the snowbank. No more is success of any sort.

Nainey and I were staying for a few days at the Sweethriar at White Sulphur Springs. It's not a cheap place and we really could not afford it, but it's pleasant, even at fifty, to do some things one cannot afford.

"Doesn't it seem strange," Nancy remarked to me, as we sat out on one of the long plazaes and warded the procession of aristocrats go by, "that there are so few young people here?"

"No," I repited. "I can understand it. A man has to be middle aged before he has made mancy enough to come here."

To the young and inexperienced, success, financial and professional, seems only a step away. All that one has to do is to reached suit and grapp it. But it's not so. Real success, like the snowbanks on the mountain back of inabbruck, can be reached only through toil and strugile and a hard ellinb. There is joy in attainment, but it finds one usually weary and middle aged one to the long and an exchaiged and a hard ellinb. There is joy in attainment, but it finds one usually weary and

Queen Lover of Cherries
The rich and ruddy cherries for which England is famous, were in troduced litto that country from Find there in the year 1540. The establishment of their noquinetty was due in no small measure to Queen Elizabeth who had a great liking for cherries ripe. Whereby hings the tale of Sir Francis Carew, who delayed the ripening of his cherry tree until a month after the end of the season in order that the cherries might attain maturity when her imajesty stayed with him. This he accomplished by erecting a tent over the tree, and on the queen's arrival the fruit was at perfection.

Of all liquids, mercury possesses the greatest specific gravity, but another has been discovered which is also so heavy that stones of all kinds—granite, limestone, quarts, etc., float in it, it is a saturated aqueous softion of tungstoborate. Its specific gravity is 3.3, whereas that of ordinary rocks does not surpass 2.7. Only a few precious stones have a specific gravity greater than that of this liquid, for which grason it is proposed to employ it for the separation of such stones from the masses of broken rock.

URGE PLANTING OF TREES ON N. J. ROADS

e Shade Would Add Much Beauty of State's Highways

More shade Would Add Much to Beauty of State's Highways

There is probably no state where the highways are traveled by more people from all parts of the country than are those of New Jerrey. These people are getting their impression of our state partly from the conditions along our roadsides. There are few states whose own people use its roads in greater numbers or more continuously for pleasure as well as for business. Their comfort and pleasure are in considerable part dependent upon the conditions along the roadside. A great part of our highways are now bare, windswept, sunbaked stretches, monotonous and unstractive. Trees along the highways Prevent or remedy these conditions. Because of these facts, why not change things? Why not plant shade trees along the bare roads? Why not make them places of beauty and comfort, to be admired and projoved by all who travel them, as well as things of convenience and advantage for transportation? Can it be done? If oo, how? What will it involv? What will it cost? Who is going to do it?

1. Using The Natural Growth where there are already tree species along the right of way. There are many roadsides on which tree sprouts now come up annually and are mowed down each year. Intelligent selection by leaving enough of the thriftlest of these, choosing the best species, will shortly develop roadside shade at no cost but the trouble of leaving some of what is now destroyed. An occasional long gap in such places may need planted trees to fill it, but roadside shade need not and ofter should not be a solid regular line of trees to be best or most beautiful.

2. Planting Young Trees where the road is entirely or mostly bare. A should not be a solid regular line of trees to be best or most beautiful.

2. Planting Young Trees where the road is entirely or mostly bare. A wide variety of trees suitable for such planting so that every situation and preference can be met. The cost of such planting will vary the locations, and conditions, but will not be large anywhere. If solid rows of trees 60 feet apart are planted on both sides of the road the total cost will be less than $500 per mile. This is an outside maximum. In most locations such complete planting will be unsuccessary and the cost will be less than $500 per mile. This is an outside maximum. In most locations such complete planting will be unsuccessary and the cost will be far less.

Granting that highway shade is desirable, that can be secured and that the cost is not extravagant, who is to start it and see the matter through?

The Board of Freeholders, under authority given them by the State Shade Tree Laws, (Ch. 15, P. L. 1934) has the power to appoint a County Shade Tree Commission of three residents of the county. The members of this Commission serve without compensation for terms of three years, a new member being appointed each year. The Commission has full jurisdiction over all trees on the rights of way of the county's roads.

Any county or municipal shade tree commission has full jurisdiction over all trees on the rights of way of the county's roads.

Any county or municipal shade tree commission is offered the advice and assistance of a trained forester, to assist with their shade tree problems without cost.

arricle in Hearst's International is said to have admitted failure to find the cause.

Doctor Janeway died, but he set down enough or his study and observations while the malady was suppling his life's blood to act as a guide to the many who are not successfully fighting the read and studied tirelessly everything the aread affiction.

He read and studied tirelessly everything the was known about cancer. He found that every little was really known, scientifically. He found that some scientists thought that cancer was caused by a germ, but that closer was caused by a germ, but that closer research invariably showed the germ to be only a chance renident of cancer, not the cause of it.

"He found that other eminent doctors considered cancer to be caused by wrong diet, by eating too much meat. These doctors claimed that wild people who are vegetarians never have cancer, and that only civilized meat-eaters suffer from it. But Janeway was therough, and plodding through books he found that cancer occurs about as frequently in vegetarian people as among desh-eating ones. So that theory was wrong.

"He read that chronic irritations of many kinds seem to bring on cancer. A strange tribe of people in Kashmir carry little charcoal stoves next their bodies to keep warm in their chill mountain air. The stoves cause chronic burns of their skins and some of them get cancer—hut many of them don't.

"Also, many sufokers develop cancer of the tongue and lip, but then again many thousands of smokers never get if and besides, hundreds of thousands who don't smoke fall victims to the disease. In short, Janeway found that little or nothing is known about what is cancer, or what causes cancer."

Gladstone's Wise Hobby
Gladstone was a most strensous worker, yet he realised that to get the best out of life he must vary his occupations. To this end he went to the opposite extreme as compared with his daily life, and took up as a hobby the cutting down of trees, wielding the woodman's as with skill. And in this proved his wisdom; for what could have been more healthy and relaxing for a hard thinker than the physical exercise such a hobby entailed, together with the health-giving aromas of the woodland and the smell of newly peeled bark?

State Forester C. P. Wilbur has amnounced that during the past spring the Department of Conservation and Development distributed more than three-quarters of a million forest trees to planters through, out the state. This will add at least six hundred and twenty-six acres of timberland to New Jersey's future timber supply. The future value of these plantations both as a profitable asset to the owner and to help produce the forest products needed in every community throughout the state is immeasurable.

It is pointed out by the State Forester that nearly every New Jersey farm has some cleared land formerly used for farming. Furthermore linensive scientific farming allowing concentration on the better soils is yearly increasing the area of poorer soils abandoned from cultivation. For years the Department's foresters have been urging owners to put these felle lands to work producing profitable crops of timber, and to assist such land owners to secure the best possible trees for planting, the Department has furnished at cost tree seedlings of the most desirable species.

According to Mr. Wilber's announcement, tree planting as a means of redeeming idle and unproductive lands is rapidly growing appreciation of the service offered by the state, most of the planters are looking to the Department will continue to serve New Jersey people by distributing reliable forest planting stock for planting next spring at the lowest possible prices, it is expected that orders for more than a million trees will be placed with the Department this year for planting next spring. ### THIS MACHINE DIAGNOSES AUTOMOBILE ILLS AS DOCTOR EXAMINES THE BODY

If a wise man thinks his physical organism is not functioning property, he goes to his physician and submits to a diagnosis and perhaps to an X-ray examination to find out what is the matter with him. Now, it is possible, by means of a mechanical apparatus called a motor check to submit a cantanherous automobile to a mechanical diagnosis to locate its weak points without dismanting the car.

At its automobile maintenance building in irvington, where nearly 1,000 automobiles used by the various operating companies of Public Service throughout New Jersey present for major repairs, there has been installed a motor check. Its means of this new device an automobile can be given a complete examination in an hour. The car is run up on a steel stand and is connected with various checking units to record every phase of the engine's functionings. Results of the tests are indicated on a series of dials.

In Jules Verne's "Trip to the Moon" the story is told that when a few days on the way the dog dided and was thrown overboard. To their surprise the dog followed along after them. Could this be true? Why The question was asked at our school not very long ago and nobody seemed to know. Ans. It is fiction so well written that it sounds like a true story. Jules Verne was noted for this style of writing, as can be attested not only by his "Trop to the Moon," but by his "Round the Moon," but by his "Round the World to Righty Days" and his "Twenty Thousand Leagues Under the Sea." His dead dog following along behind is no more absurd than people living 60,000 miles under the ses.

The game decided the pennant winner and was a thriller from start to finish and ended a campaign that was as tight as Ban Johnson's affair. The teams were in the pink of condition and the crowd, the largest for many years, had its enthusiasm pitched to the highest degree.

enthusiasm pitched to the highest degree.

Bar none, Tommy Schwink, the manager, is the proudest man in a half dozen states. And he deserves to be, for did he not take hold of a bunch of youngsters this spring, enter them in the circuit as the Field Chib second, and then have them emerge victorious. Tom says he leads the World's Champs and is a second Jawn McGraw.

Speaking of joyous people, let us introduce "Mary" Freeman. Although dubbed "Mary," young Freeman is a regilar fellow and wants the world to know he is the Scrubs' mascot. All season, the youngster has been on hand for every game the second-string aggregation played. He has acted as but boy and idolizes every member of the nine. Neighbors Rally to Aid Deserted Wife Who Is So Cruelly Treated By Own Parent

Mrs. Lulu Harmon and her six children, one a day-old baby, was evicted from the home of her mother, Mrs. Ella Haines, of West Fourth atreet, Palmyra, last Friday morning. Neighbors immediately went to the rescue, and before long Mrs. Harmon and her brood were all under protecting roofs.

Mrs. Haines claims her daughter was a trespasser and paid no board for either herself or her children. Even if this were the case, neighbors still feel that Mrs. Haines act was unmotherly and are up in arms to think that she would be so cruel as to put the young mother, her one-day-old baby and the five kiddies out on the streets without home, money or anyone to care for them.

The children have been welcomed with open arms by various neighbors and the sick mother and her baby are now receiving care in the West Jersey Hospital, Camden. A fund of more than $175 has been collected for Mrs. Harmon and her family and the entire community is lending the destitute woman assistance.

i. Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to Preach the Word in Asia (vv. 6-8).

The inclination of Paul and his companions was to tarry in the provinces of Asia Minor preaching the Word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. There were many people in Asia who yet needed the Gespel. They might have reasoned, what difference would it make where we preach so the Gospel is preached? We have here a fine lesson on Divine goldance. The Holy Spirit is as active and faithful in closing doors as in opening them. "The stops as well as the steps of good men are ordered."

The missionaries first went to Philippi and spent several days in studying conditions there. The Jewish element in this city was comparatively insignificant. So much so that they could not have a synagogue. Therefore, the devout people were accustomed to worship by the river side. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women assembled there. A certain woman from Thyatira named Lydia, a proselyte, believed his message and was baptized. The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note, for they are typical:

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL | Colleges Planning Courses In Utilities, Committee Says

Educators Show Keen Interest in Recent Developments and Answer Demands for Instruction in Fundamentals,

Teaching of public utility management and economics is spreading throughout the United States, according to reports received by New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee, and college authorities are planning additional courses for the new year that begins next month.

The interest in the utilities has been stimulated in three ways, the Committee believes. Securities of public service companies are much in the popular eye these days. The companies themselves are besieging the universities and colleges for men trained for public utility work. Various state information committees are co-operating with the educational institutions in formulating curricula.

11. The Call to Macedonia (vv. 9-12). The Gospel having broken the confines of the Jewish city and country, the middle wall of partition having been abolished, the time has come for it to leap across the Aegean sea and begin its conquest on another continent. Christianity thus ceased to be an oriental religion, and through the centurize has been mainly occidental. 1. The Vision (v. 9.).

Being hemmed in on all sides, a vision was given to Paul of a man of Macedonia pleading for help. This made plain to him the closed doors about him. In finding the Divine will we should look both ways. Before there can be any great forward movement, there must be a vision.

2. The Advance (vv. 10-12.)

As soon as the Divine way was known, they moved forward therein. Visions must be quickly translated, and aggressive action taken or else they are blotted from our stics. Paul never questioned the wisdom of Gonor delayed action. This is characteristic of all God's true servants. With a straight course, Paul moved out of his own country to the strategic center of a new continent.

Rural sociology, rural life and education, the rural school and community—in all, 124 courses in rural education—are offered in 77 universities and colleges in the United States. These courses are planned for administrators and supervisors of rural schools as well as for teachers. Rural School Leaflet No. 37 of the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Education, lists the institutions and describes the courses.

More than 18,000 readers have enrolled in one or more of the 29 reading courses offered by the Department of the Interior, Bureau of Education. In many States groups of parents, usually members of parent-teacher associations, have organized circles for reading and study. Many circles use courses on the pre-school child prepared by specialists in child care and training and furnished by the bureau.

In his thorough search for a lidentification marks, Trooper Young opened the battery box and found the old newspaper. An address label pasted on one corner had stamped on it the name of C. J. Lewis, New Egypt.

Later the trooper went to New Egypt and interviewed Mr. Lewis if recognize that newspaper," said Mr. Lewis; if built the body of that truck in 1921; it belongs to Ovid Feaster." Mr. Lewis had stuffed the paper into the box to prevent rattling of the battery. Further investigation by Trooper Young corroborated Mr. Lewis report that the truck belonged to Feaster and that the latter had been living at Millville. In company with Troopers Rankin and Ross, of Bordentown, Young went to Millville on Monday and located Feaster. They placed him under arrest for atrocious assault and breaking and entering the barn at Tabernacie. Following up their investigation, after the arrest, the troopers learned that Feaster, a week or two prior to Saturday, had

How to Fight Jap Beetles

New Mixture Used With Great Effect by Experiment Station

Seventy-five persons interested in seeing the work that is being done by the investigators at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory at Riverton, accompanied a tour recently, visiting a number of farms in Burlington County, where investigational work is being conducted. The fruit interests of Burlington, Camden, Gloucester and Monmouth Counties were represented by their county agents and fruit growers. At the farm of Wallace Arm.

den, Gloucester and Monmouth Counties were represented by their county agents and fruit growers.

At the farm of Wallace Armstrong, Moorestown, a demonstration was conducted which showed wonderful possibilities for killing the beetles. A spray of Geraniol Emulsion, a very strong attractant, was first applied to the foliage of an apple tree. After a few minutes duration, during which time beetles could be seen leaving nearby trees and clustering on the trees to which the spray had been applied, a contact spray was applied. This material consisted of a mixture of oleo resin of pyrethelum floor, which causes paralysis, and sodium oleate, a poison. The beetles fell from the tree, to a canvas which had previously been laid down, in a paralyzed condition, and in a few minutes the dead beetles could be secoped up by the handful. This material has not been tried out on a large scale, but it has all the earmarks of becoming an established means of control.

The last stop was made at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory, Riverton. L. B. Smith, director of the Laboratory, spoke in general of the campaign that is being waged against the beetle. Dr. King, in charge of parasite investigational work, stated that in Japan 75 tos per cent of the beetles are killed annually by eight different parasites. Four of these have been liberated in this country and it is now definitely known that at least one of the parasites has become well established and has spread out well established and has spread out well from the point of liberation.

Questions often are asked, "After the beetles are kone what about the parasites?" and "May parasites be as troublesome as the beetle likelf?"

Dr. King states that there is no foundation for such a belief, The parasites will not enter homes and they will never become injurious to crops or to beneficial insects, he

This Time, Good Yarn

One good old yarn that is exhumed from time to time, or rather reincarnated, since it appears in a slightly different form, concerns the Scottish land law known as tenure by fex. which consists in the tenant beforming certain services, or making certain payments, failure in which may result in forfeiture of the tenancy.

Some time back it was decided to abolish feus on the Sutherland estates, substituting therefor a generous form of lease which would have the effect of making the crofter the owner, in all but name, of the land he tilled.

Primitive Homes

Lava blocks roughly quarried provide the rural Icelander with his building material. His farmstead consists of a group of small cottages joined to gether. The lava blocks are laid one on the other and the crevices are stopped up with moss or earth. Some of these houses have wood rafters, but the majority of them have whale ribs instead. These are covered with brushwood, on top of which turf is heaped. The turf bears a good crop of grass, which is carefully cut for hay. The houses have no chimneys, and a fire is never kept in any room except the kitchen, even in the coldest weather. The smoke passes out through a hole in the roof. The only windows are pieces of glass, or thin skin, four inches square. No attention is given to wantistion and the atmosphere of

Heavy Ascot Stakes

It is recorded that in 1791 George III witnessed a most sensational race at the famous Ascot track, for the Oatlands stakes. Nineteen horses ran for the then colossal stakes of approximately $150,000, and it is said that five million dollars changed hands. Five of the horses ran neckand-neck to within a few yards of the winning post, and Chifney, on the then prince of Wales' Baronet, snatched a seemingly miraculous victory by a bare half-length. "I made fourteen haronets list week," said George III to his son when congratulating him, "and your Baronet is worth all mine put together."

SOME FISHERMEN

Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell, Speaker of the House, had a highly enjoyable two-days' fishing party at Barrnegat where he and about forty others, chiefly Senators and Assemblymen, were guests of Senator Thomas A. Mathis, Ocean county's representative in the upper house.

Speaker Powell went out the built by contractor Charles Mose of Edgewater Park. The cost of the new building and furnishings is about $85,000.

Thomas A. Mathis, Ocean county's representative in the upper house. Speaker Powell went out in a dory with a Swedish fisherman for a try at the bluefish. There were no others in the boat and the Assemilyman, who is an ardent fisherman, and une Swede, who is in the business for a living, went about the day's work in a professional way. They struck the bluefish some miles off shore and soon were hauling them in as fast as they could throw their lines over. Speaker Powell kept count until he had landed forty fine blues and then became so busy that he lost track of his catch, but when they decided to turn shoreward the two men had about two barrels of bluefish, running from two to five pounds apiece.

Next day Senator Mathis's guests were taken out to see the pound fishermen at work and they assisted in hauling in the big nots which held nine barrels of fish of various kinds.

Those who enjoyed Senator Mathis's hospitality on the two days' outing had a fine time.

"Lewanna" Loses First Place By Stopping to Pick Up Man Overboard

Stopping to Pick Up Man
Overboard

The "Bob" sailed by Ogden Mattis, opened the fall series at the Riverton Yacht Club by winning the first race by a wide margin last Saturday afternoon.

The boats got away in a light northeasterly wind and it was anybody's race until the finish line was crossed. Each of the boats occupied first place at some time during the two trips over the course, which was from the pier to lower "Hen and Chickens" buoy off Torresdale.

Robertson was in the lead on the home stretch when the man tending his mainsail fell overboard, and Captain "Robbie" lost his place when he stopped to pick him up.

The other boats followed the "Bob" over the line in the following order: Lewanna, F. W. Robinson: Charmian, J. Gardner Crowell; Bellrose, G. Rex Showell; Lady Audrey, Edgar Miller.

In the 18-foot class Dewes Showell, in his "Man-o'-War" was the first to cross the line, with Owen Merril in "Big Hurry" second, and Laddie Dickinson sailing "Adnama" third.

LIVING LONGER

Twenty-five years ago the average life expectancy was 45 years and 7 months. It has since grown to 52 years and 10 months, a marked increase of 7 years and 3 months, almost unbelieveable figures to those not acquainted with the work of the public health officials.

Now comes the disclosure of the cancer discovery of Dr. Gye and J. E. Barnard, the British scientists, followed this week by the first importation of a stock of 'lipoldes' from the laboratory of Dr. Honriskovesco, which Dr. Hoffman states "has opened a new road of scientific hope towards the goal of every physician—the health and prolongation of life of his fellow man."

These, of course, are the spectacular developments of the day, and they are welcomed, but the real and constructive work going on every day throughout the year is that of the public health officials who are constantly widening their field of activities to the end that the masses might know something of the work of those charged with public health administration.

Two men who are making splendid reputations in this branch of public service are Doctors H. B. Costill, chief of the State Board of Health of New Jersey and Dr. A. L. Stone. Director of the Camden Hoard of Health. They are fast developing an organization that will further expand the program of health education while still fortitying the state from any contagion that may be introduced. The state is unfortunately situated in that it gets part of the overflow from the two greats ports of entrance, New York and Philadelphia, and this contributes to conditions for which this state is in no way responsible. Plans are underway at this time to present a public showing of the educational work of the health authorities during the South Jersey Exposition next year and the features will be displayed in such a manner that the taxpayers through this section of the state will be advised, not only of the work of their officials but the equally important need of full and complete cooperation with them.

What can be done?

When I was reading the June issue of The New Orient, I found the following:

Much of the poetry of the day (and there is a great deal of it) is simply a cultivation of form and is wholly lacking in human touch, that apparently simple thing for which the heart hungers more than anything else. How wonderful are these touches to which the soul gives instant recognition, making a line cling in the memory forever! Though filled with Chinese atmosphere and the rich imagery of the East, Pai Ta-shun's lyrics are general in their appeal, for the emoritons they so delicately express and the sure touch of their humanity make them the exclusive property of no race.

We have heard much of the "Brotherhood of Man," but seldom have we found anything so human and all-embracing as the following lyric of pure Democracy. It is prefaced by the saying of Confucious, "We are all Brothers between the Four Seas.

The One bethought Him to make man

Of many colored dust,
And mixed the holy spirit in
In portions right and just;
Each had a part of mind and hear
From One Himself in trust.

Thus came the brown and yellor men And black and white and red, So different in their outer look,
Alike in heart and head;
The self-same earth before their birth,
The self-same dust when dead.

Honor is a simple thing. Just a spoken word, and yet.
On its "yes" and "no" depends all we have and are to get;
All the progress we shall make, all the future's golden chance.

"FISHERMEN'S LUCK"

"PISHERMEN'S LUCK"

A story is told of the new baby which was weighed on the scales mad by a fisherman who was visiting the house at the time, and which lipped the beam at fifty-one pounds, but making full allowance for fisherman's optimism, it was truly a great trip that ten Rivertonians took to Fortescue last faturday. According to authentic reports 295 inh were booked and safely landed in a trifle less than four flours. The total catch was 420, but 25 of these were used for bait.

Dick Armstrong made the first catch, but Connellman William B. Lynch held the record for the largest hander family was compound of Jack Carhart and son Jack, William Miller, Albert Farrow, William Lynch Joseph Davitt, Theobold Schneider, Jack Reating, Dick Armstrong, Harry Messamer and Porcy Cramer.

What is honor anyway? Nothing but a spoken word.
Nothing but a mod or glance, yet of it so much is heard.
One man's 'yes' or one man's "no," one man's simple pledge: "i will:"
Yet in life those hold a place signatures can never fill.
Judgment is a fickle jade, oft the wisest go astray.
But when bargains bad are made honor walks the costly way. Head erect it takes the blow, head with moder at the thing it would not yield.

REOPENING OF VICTOR ENCOURAGES CAMDEN

There has lately been a very noticeable and rather widespread rejoicing over the fact that the Victor "is starting up again." It is not wholly true, as has been so generally thought, that the Victor Talking Machine Company has been completely closed. Quite a substantial portion of the big plant has, however, been inactive for some time now and to see it again busy is a splendid thing for this whole community. Fortunately, Camden county is commercially rather sound in that it has such a diversity of industries, the closing of any one does not have a tendency to leave the section stranded. Nevertheless no one would attempt to say that the Victor's closing has not been a very serious matter for Camden and all its outlying communities. It has been most serious, and especially so in the light of the Victor's unbroken record of nearly twenty years uninterrupted operation.

But as far as one is able to judge from the reports that are current and the plans that have already been announced, the closing of the big plant is all past history. The organization that has taken place within the company itself; the very marked changed commercial situation on the outside; and first and foremost, the marvelous new product that the company has sjust announced together with its radio combinations initiates an entirely new erafor the Victor. The whole new arrangements seems sufficiently propletious to warrant the risk of a prophecy. Camden and vicinity can safely look forward to another long period of Victor prosperity, and a prosperity too that is bigger and steadler than any it has herectore enjoyed.

The news of the Victor's starting up is being hailed with joy by many of its old employees who are coming back to their old jobs as rapidly as it is posssible for them to do so. And they are being taken on immediately. The Victor today finds it self with many more jobs than there men to fill them. This is an enviable position for any company for there is no truer gauge of properity than just that.

But not only are the former Victor

LUTHERAN NEWS

On Sunday morning, August 23, the pastor, Rev. Harry L. Saul, will preach to the children about an old Chinese woman called "Old Mother Wang." The children are cordially invited to remain after Sunday School to hear their own sermon. The subject for adults at the morning service will be "Concerning the Grace of God."

In the evening a short talk will be given on the Christian Life, together with some good old familiar hymis. Come enjoy these summer evening services with us.

Many plans for the fall and winter work are now being laid by the Pastor and Council which will interest many of the members and friends of our Church. Each organization also is ready for the fall term, and great things are anticipated for our future. He sure to answer the call of your leader when you receive your notices.

All stre GEORGE W. MOORE

The death of George W. Moore, 76 years old, Sunday at New Lisbon marked the passing of another old Palmyra resident and a ploneer business man. He had been a resident of Palmyra for twenty-five years and a great part of that time was spent as a storekeeper here.

The late Mr. Moore conducted a cigar and confectionary store in the McAllister building, opposite Palmyra station, for many years. During recent years, with his health declining and almost continually suffering with rheumatism, friends advised him to retire from business. But, as an old sea captain sticks by his ship, Mr. Moore refused to give up his stand until six mnths ago when he was forced to leave on account of poor health and was taken to a hospital.

He was a staid old character and many men in the town refused to buy their tobacco elsewhere as long as "George sold smokes." He was known by the youngsters as "Pat," or "Pop" Moore.

Funeral services were held at the Snover Funeral Home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with the Rev. Harry L. Saul, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, officiating, interment was made in Morgan Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by one brother, Edward Moore, of Philadelphia.

EPWORTH CHURCH

To Hold Hearing on Bridge Tolls

Bright Committee to Give Pub-lic Opportunity to Express Views on Sept. 2

September 2.

The decision of the committee to hear both sides of a question that has only been discussed from the "toll advocates" point of view so far, was announced at the meeting of the committee last week.

of the committee last week.
Senator william H. Bright, of Cape May, chairman of the committee, in making the announcement asked that it be given the widest publicity so that any New Jersey taxpayer or citizen with an opinion would know of the invitation to make his ideas known.
"Buth large and small transit

opinion would know of the invitation to make his ideas known.

"Both large and small taxpayers are welcome to come here with their opinion on whether New Jersey should hold out for a toll bridge or a free bridge," said Senator Bright. "This will give them their day in court.

"This committee is here to reduce taxes. If the taxpayers of New Jersey want the cost of the bridge added, let them come and say so."
Mayors of the larger New Jersey communities and large taxpayers throughout the state will be asked by the committee to attend the hearing, according to Senator Bright. Letters inviting each State Senator to attend, bringing with him prominent members of his consiliuency to express their opinjons on tolls, will also be written by the mimittee, the chairman said.

That there is a growing sonti-

by the semmittee, the chairman said.

That there is a growing sentiment in the state in favor of dropping the position the New Jersey Bridge and Tunnel Commission has taken favoring tolls collection on the span was indicated by Senator Simpson, of Jersey City, one of the committee.

"I understand," he said, "that the Atlantic City people are in favor of a free bridge. Will they be invited? They certainly ought to have representatives at the hearing."

"That is taken care of by our neral invitation," replied the

"That is taken care of by our general invitation," replied the chairman.

"Another thing," said the Jersey City member, "how much will it cost New Jersey if we do not have a toll bridge? I think that ought to be brought out now, so that these people coming to the public hearing will know."

Senator Woodruff, of Camden, another member of the committee, explained that the cost to the state, in the event that a "no-tolls" agreement is concurred in by New Jersey, would be $15,900,000. He said that sum was for construction, and that the maintenance figures could be got from the records of the Joint Briege Commission.

POKER RAISES DEUCE WITH ELECTRIC METER

Private Game In Drug Store Doubled Light Bill, Investigation

Shows

A Brooklyn druggist took pen in hand the other day and told the Brooklyn Edison Company just what he thought of it. Critics of literary siyle might have thought the letter lacked something of grace and refinement, but on the score of vigor and lucidity it was a masterplece. He wanted to know why he was being robbed and him a good customer "which always pays his bills and never makes no kick about nothin' except when some one throws the boots into him good and plenty."

The company was appalled. The implication of robbery struck it a blow in its deepest sensibilities. A trusted agent was lurried to the scene of the corporation hold-up. He found that the meter was all right and took the druggist's word for it that he opened and closed his place at the same hour and always used the same abount of current. Yet there was the billnearly twice the amount by months of all the preceding bills.

The company, ranking under the charge of larceny and ashamed to look its wife in the face, determined to clear its good name. It set a watch on the place that night. The druggist used the same amount of light and closed up promptly on scheduled time. But along about midnight four stealthy figures crept of light and closed up promptly on scheduled time. But along about midnight four stealthy figures crept to the back door, opened it and turned on a light. For the next three hours they played poker and the electric meter did its duty. The company men called up the druggist and he came to the store. There was his clerk with three cronies playing poker. They confessed that the game had been going on for a month.—New York World.

KEEPING WELL IF YOU HAVE TUBER-CULOSIS, STAY HOME

ONE of the common beliefs about tuberculosis is that climate is of great importance in its treatment. As mon as a person discovers that he has tuberculosis, his friends and relatives at once begin to plan to send him to Culifornia, Colorado, Arizona, Fiorida, the White mountains, or the Adiron-

the White mountains, or the Adirondacks.

This is not surprising when we remember that for many years doctors held the same opinion. A hundred years ago, when a young man went into a "decline," it was customary for the attending physician to order a long sea voyage. Sometimes the man came home well. Sometimes the man came home well. Sometimes the never came back. When the cause of tuberculosis was first recognized, about forty years ago, it was common for doctors to send their consumptive patients to California or Colorado. Later on.
New Mexico and Arisona became popular resorts for consumptives.

Many of these unfortunates have litthe money, most of which is spent to take them to the place where they yainly hope to regain their health Homesick, ill, mable to get the care and the comforts they need, they die far away from their loved ones, or return, exhausted, to die in a few weeks or months.

We know now that tuberculosis is not a disease of any one locality or climate. As it occurs anywhere, so it can be cured anywhere. A mild climate is not necessary. Cold air is better for consumptives than warm air one's chances of getting well at honoare hetter than anywhere else.

Just as we have learned that no medicine will care tuberculosis, so we have also learned that no climate will cure it.

there are four things which every consumptive must have if he wishes to have a chance to recover. These are rest, fresh air, good care and nour-ishing food. These he can get in any heality and in any climate. He can probably get them better at home than nywhere else.

If you have tuberculosis, don't spencour money on railroad fare. Save it for good food and opre. Sleep out doors wherever you are and rest unti-nature has overcome the effects of the

SOME DANCE

SPECIAL FORD SCHOOL

And some Patr Writer to Chronicle the Occasion

There's a young lady in the office of a Palmyra business man who has been hankering to try her hand at newspaper writing. Bhe went to the bug dance the other night and we concluded it would be a good subject for her to try her prentice hand upon. Not a bad job at all, as our readers may see by the following:

"On with the dance! Let joy be unconfined. The sentiment of the immortal Byron was apparently heartily echoed by the crowd which filled P. O. S. of A. Hall last Friday evening for the annual "Bug" dance.

"The affair was surely successful in every way. Wheever was the possimist who declared that it was foo hot to dance', wasn't reckoning with the fact that the Royal Commodores were supplying the music. This popular orchestra, as usual upheld its well-deserved reputation for providing Class A Jazz music. "The balloons, with which the hall was decorated, not only gave a beautiful and colorful effect, but supplied quite a source of enter-tainment, when, is the latter part of the evening, they were allowed to float down on the heads of the "Bug" boys for giving one of the "Bug" boys for giving one of the most delightful dances ever held here."

"The not loved a young girl, out, siass! she wasn't made for me."

"Then you didn't marry her?"

"Yes, I did. That's why I know."

Colored Lad at Burlington Church Said to Be Gifted With "Second Sight"

Paul Perkins, Burlington's colore

Paul Perkins, Burlington's colored boy prodigy, has transferred his evangelistic activities from the Second Baptat Church, Belimont and Lawrence streets, to the Zion Weeley A. M. E. Church, South High street, where many are now going to hear him.

The boy, who is now about thirteen years old, never has been a Bible student and does not use a Bible, it is said, in his pulpit work. All that he says, according to those who have heard him, comes to him as a revelation, and he speaks through inspiration.

In starting his sermon he tells what the text of it is and where it may be found. He has been checked up by those in the congregation and found to be accurate. His alleged second sight, or whatever it may be, is said to be amazing.

The other night Mrs. Lewis, wife of the Rev. John Lewis, 910 South High street, pastor of the Zion A. M. E. Church, of Burlington with whom the boy and his mother are staying, asked Paul what he intended to talk about that night. The lad said he didn't know; that he wouldn't know until he reached the pulpit and then it would come to him.

the pulpit and then it would come to him.

The boy's home is in Chicago. He began preaching at the age of three years and was baptized when he was four years old. He has been in great demand since his remarkable gift became known. He spoke to an audience of 18,000 in Kausas City and to an audience equally large in New York.

An attempt has been made to have the boy give a talk independent of his church program in some public hall, but the arrangements have not yet been completed. Mrs. Perkins, the boy's mother, says that she does not understand him, nor can she account for the gift that he enjoys. Just before he reached his third year he began to show a desire to speak along gospel lines and since that time the gift steadily has developed.

The boy, Mrs. Perkins says, has been examined by a number of prominent psychologists, but they were unable to explain the phenomenon.

Ultra-Violet Rays Put Pep in Pullets

Put Pep in Pullets

More and better eggs as the result of stimulating hens with ultra-violet rays have been reported by the British Illuminating Engineering Society, according to the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

Two groups of twelve pullets each, of the same age and breeding, were segregated for sixteen weeks. Rations were identical. The fart flock, kept under ordinary conditions, produced 124 eggs. The second flock, treated ten minutes daily with ultra-violet rays, produced 497 eggs.

At the end of sixteen weeks the two groups of pullets were changed with regard to the electric treatment and the egg production at the end of the period likewise showed a reversal in favor of the hen treated with the rays.

Eggs from the pullets treated with the rays contained more lime and were superior to the other flock in each case.

the conversation that followed it was developed that the inspector called upon to inspect, and the clerk was directed to instruct the inspector just what kind of reports council desires. Mr. Flagg suggested that the reports be filed in the Borough Council room for reference.

While the subject of inspection was up, Mr. Lynch asked about changing the fees for issuing licenses to plumbers. He said that in Riverton the same fee is charged local plumbers as plumbers outside of town, whereas in most other towns outside plumbers were charged a higher fee. He mentioned several places where the local plumbers were charged a fee of $5 while outside plumbers were required to pay $25. Mr. Flagg said he believed in protecting home industries and suggested that the matter be referred to the committee to see what could be done.

Mr. Williams said there had been referred to the committee to see what could be done.

Mr. Williams said there had been numerous complaints about the rain shed along the Main street side of the store of Joseph Roberts, and that he did not think the shed strong enough to carry a snowfair or to withstand a strong windstorm. The matter was referred to the building inspector with instructions to have the shed examined by an engineer and to determine its stability. Mr. Flagg said he had known Mr. Roberts for many years and did not believe there was a better citizen in the borough. He was of the opinion that if Mr. Roberts could be shown that if Mr. Roberts could be shown that the structure was not entirely safe, he would make it so. In a recent conversation Mr. Flagg said that Mr. Roberts had assured him that this shed had withstood the storms and winds for thirty years and he believed it was good for thirty more.

Attention was called to the dangerous condition of the sidewalk on Lippincott avenue below Fourth street where the required two feet is not maintained between the inner edge of the cement walk and the fence line, there being a sheer drop of six to ten inches right off the edge of the pavement. The clerk was instructed to write to the property owner giving notice to have this condition remedied.

Asia Like House's Roof

Asia Like House's Reaf

The continent of Asia, according to Dr. Sven Hedin, writing in Popular Mechanics Magazine, is like the roof of a house, irregular in shape, failing off gently in the various directions. From its crown rain water is posring down in all directions. "No matter where the watercourses arise they are still, as they sweep onward, crossed here and there and again by almost in numerable paths, and countless likewise are the bridges." The railway bridges, Doctor Hedin says, are built averywhere on the same principle, but the princitive bridges with which Asia abounds are of the most diverse character. He enumerates "bridges of stone, of tile, of iron and cement, of chains, ropes and cables, of wood, posts, plants and branches, and the natural rocks which in the course of time have broken asunder from a mountain and tumbled down into some wild ravine where they now serve as spans for the natives."

The exhibition ball game played Tuesday night for the benefit of Mrs. Lulu Harmon and family drew quite a crowd and the collection taken up amounted to $43.50. To prove their just claim on the Twilight League Championship, which they won last Thursday, the Field Club second team again defeated the Lutherans. This time it was more decisively, by a count of 5-1.

The champs hit Orcutt, the Lutheran hurler, freely. All told, Tommy Schwink's bunch pounded out a beautiful collection of a dozen safeties. On the other hand, "Bub" Harder, pitching superb ball for the pennant winners, held the Churchmen to three scattered hits. "Hep" the champs little receiver, and Richman, their clouting fly chaser, featured with the bat, having three hits apiece. Richman and "Stew" Buchholz, of the Lutherans each had a double to their credit.

Fire in Palmyra

RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 27, 1925

Fire Destroys Dreer Building

Dahlia Bulb Storage House Wrecked By Flames Saturday at Noon

at Noon

On Saturday last the cold storage house for dahlia bulbs at Dreer's Nursery was destroyed by fire. No signs of fire were seen at noon when the men went home from work. At 12:50 one of the watchmen was returning from lunch when he saw the smoke. He limmediately sent in an alarm front George A. Strohlein's home by telephone. Riverton and Palmyra fire companies arrived promptly and the Riverside company stood by ready to jump into action if it was needed. Palmyra pumped one stream from the fire plug at Fourth and Fulton streets while Riverton had two lines from the "illy" pond near the storage house.

The cellar of the dahlia storage house was divided into bins for the different kinds of bulbs. The upper part was used to store emergency repair sections for the green houses.

The glass in adjoining hot houses was cracked and broken by the heat.

Through the splendid cooperation between the fire companies under the excellent leadership of John W. Carhart, assistant chief; Charles Cole, foreman, and Clarence Mattis, assistant foreman, and the Dreer employees who fought the fire from the inside, the valuable paims nearby were saved.

The cause is unknown, and the nount of damage has not get been determined.

The following letter was sent by the Dreer Company to the Riverton Fire Company:

The firm of Henry A. Dreer wants to heartily thank your company for their prompt response to the fire at their Nurssery on Saturday, Au-gust 22nd.

at their Aurssery on Saturday, August 22nd.

A fire between glass houses is very difficult to handle and we certainly appreciate your efficient service and the extra care you exercised to prevent the unnecessary breaking of glass. If you had been specially drilled for this particular fire you could not have done better.

We are also indebted to the Riverton police force for controlling the crowd which was attracted by the fire.

Again assuring you of our appreciation, we remain,

Yours very truly,

BOXING FOR KIDDIES All Star Show to be Staged for Crip-pled Children

pled Children

An all-star boxing show is to be staged in Camden on September 1 for the benefit of the Krippled Kiddies fund of Camden Lodge of Elks. No. 293. The show is to be staged on the Fairview Athletic Field.

Eddie (Kid) Wagner, one of Philadelphia's classiest lightweights, is to meet Nick Claussen, Camden's battling Dane, in the 10 round winding of the show. Wagner has fought many of the leading lightweights of the country, including Bid Terris, Tommy Murphy, Cuddy DeMarco Jimmie Goodrich, Johnny Dundee, Pal Moran, Mickey Travers, Mike Dundee, Willie Ames, Johnny Leonard, Lou (Kid) Kaplan, Lou Paluso, and Babe Herman.

Claussen also has fought many so, and Babe Herman.

Claussen also has fought many top-notchers and has not lost a bout since he took up his headquarters in Camden some months ago. He is a rugged chap who will make Wagner extend himself to the limit. In the semi-windup, Battling Mack, of Camden, will box Buck Josephs, of Newark, in a New Jersey State Featherweight champion-ship tilt. This bout also will go 10 rounds or less.

The card is a most attractive one and the fact that the entire proceeds are to be turned, over to the Krippied Kiddles fund has aroused great interest in the show. Scores of the most important men in Camden County have purchased tickets.

BOYS' DORMITORY

He Built at Burlington

Arrangements are being made by the New Jersey Grand Lodge of Masons to add a boys' dormitory to the State Masonic Home, Jacksonville and Oxmead roads, Burlington, and the usefulness of the big institution, already one of the finest in the country, will be greatly enhanced.

The boys' dormitory will not be built to the home proper, but rather be an annex to it, and located on the opposite side of the Oxmead road. Plans for the building have been approved by those in authority and it is expected that the operation will be started at an early date.

The new dormitory will be a three-story structure and will be built of limestone and brick. Architecturally it will be in keeping with the home. It is naid that the loot will be in the neighborhood of $400,000.

Chamber of Commerce, Riverton, New Jersey.

Gentlemen:

New Jersey State Highway number two is now being used as one of New Jersey's chief thoroughfares. It is the principal connecting link between your section and the capitol city and North Jersey. It is a significant fact that that this highway also connects the three principal produce markets of South Jersey. Trenton, Camden and Burlington.

For the purpose of giving publicity to this highway and consequently this part of the State and also to keep Jersey's most productive agricultural section in its proper prominence the Burlington Chamber of Commerce is requesting of the State Highway Commission that it designate State Route number two as "The Garden State Highway."

The Burlington Chamber of Commerce feels that this project is of interest to all cities served by the highway in question, and is therefore taking the liberty of requesting of your organization that you too, if the proposal meets with your approval, lend your efforts in having the route named.

Your co-operation will be sincerely appreciated.

Very truly yours,

C. W. Tillinghast, Secretary.

i. Paul and Silas in Jail (vv. 16-20).

1. The Occasion (vv. 16-24).

As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accusted by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gains from her seothsaying. This act of the woman became a great annoyance to Paul, who in the name of Jesus Christ commanded the evil spirit to come out. The evil spirit immediately obeyed. When the demon was cast out of the maid, her supernatural power was gone, therefore, the source of revenue was dried up. This was so exasperating to her owners that they had Paul and Silas arraigned before the magistrates on the false charge of changing their customs. This was playing the hypocrite for it was not custom, but filled gains that had been interfered with. There is always trouble ahead when you interfere with wrong business. Without any chance to defend themselves Paul and Silas were stripped and beaten by the angry mob and then remanded to jail, and were made fast by stocks in the inner prison.

2. Their Lebavior in Jail (v. 20).

2. Their Lebavior and single 2. Their Lebavior in Jail (v. 25).

They were praying and singing tymns to God. It seems quite natural that they should pray under such conditions, but to sing hymns is astondishing to all who have not come into possession of the peace of God through Christ. Even with their backs tacerated and smarting, their feet fast in stocks, compelling a most painful position in the dungeon darkness of that inner prison, and with the morrow filled with extreme uncertainty, their hearts went up to God in gratitude.

8. Their Deliverance (v. 26).

The Lord wrought deliverance by sending a great earthquake which opened the prison doors and removed the claims from all hands. The earthquake was not a mere coincidence, but a miracle. Earthquakes do not throw all bolted doors open, and unclasp the fetters from men's hands.

11. The Genversion of the Jailer (v. 27-34).

The Jailer's sympathy did not go out year for for the prisoners.

The jailer's sympathy did not go out very far for the prisoners, for after they were made secure he went to sleep. The earthquake suddenly aroused him. He was about to kill himself, whereupon Paul assured him that the prisoners were all safe. This was too much for him. What he had heard of their preaching, and now what he experienced, caused him to come as a humble inquirer after saivation. He was convicted of sin and felt the need of a Saviour. Paul clearly pointed out the way to be saved. "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ." The proof that the jailer was eaved is threefold:

1. Transformation From Brutality to Tenderness (v. 38).

He who a little while ago could with

He who a little while ago could with impunity lay on the cruel lashes is and disposed to wash and mollify the wounds of the prisoners.

2. Confession of Christ in Baptism

III. The Magistrates Humbled Cvv.

1. Orders to Release the Prisoners (vv. 85-86).

(vv. 85-86).

The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates which moved them to give leave for the prisoners to go.

2. Paul's Refusal to Go (v. 87).

The ground of his refusal was that their rights as Roman citizens had been violated. They demanded public vindication. The magistrates were guilty of serious offense. Paul was willing to huffer for Christ's sake, but he used the occasion to show them that persecuting men who preached the gospel was an offense against the law of God and man.

County Firemen Hold Meeting

Appointment of Fire Marshal Discussed at Monthly Session In Bordentown

The regular meeting of the Burington County Firemen's Association was held in the Community House at Bordentown last week.

The business transacted was mostly of a routine nature. Secretary Ginglen, who had been appointed a committee of one, to confer with the Gloucester County Association relative to the law governing the appointment of a fire marshal and his duties, read a communication from the secretary of the Gloucester County Association. The law, however, is not applicable to Burlington County as it only covers third-class counties. The matter was discussed and it was decided that the best plan would be to appoint a committee to meet with the Board of Freeholders and should they feel favorably disposed, then to take up the matter with Senator Roberts and Assemblyman Powell and have the bill amended to apply also to second class counties.

It would be the duty of the fire marshal to keep a record of all fires occurring in the county, the loss, insurance and other matters of interest, to investigate all fires of incendiary origin or of a suspictious nature. He would also be required to make an inspection of all fire risks and hazards in the county and would be vested with authority to compel the removal of such lazard. It was believed a competent man could be obtained for a salary of not over five hundred dollars to be appointed by the Board of Freeholders each year.

Evan Benners, of Moorestown, an officer of the New Jersey State Firemen's Association, reported that of the $30,000 required for the new hospital $25,354 had been subscribed and there were still some organizations to be heard from who had not sent in their contributions. He also stated that the contract had been awarded but due to some misniterpretation of the specification, it was found necessary to rescind the action but the contract would be given out shortly. # HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE

REVEALED BY THEIR By JOSEPH KAYE

BEETHOVEN AND AMALIE

LUDWIG VAN BESTHOVEN, who may be considered one of the greatest componers of all times, was an ungainly man and almost ugly. His temper was hasty, his temperament uncongenial and added to his other troubles he became dent at the height of his fame and career. There is nothing quite so tragic as a deaf composer, a man unable to hear the master works he produces, and this worked so upon him that at middle age he was practically a hermit in his vienna home, constantly at war with his servants, scolding, complaining impatient and making himself intensely miserable.

Under the circumstances reciprocative love was hardly possible for Beethoven. He surely loved; the full secrets of his heart are not revealed. But whether he was actually loved in return is problematical, in spite of romantic stories to the contrary.

Love letters from Beethoven are extremely scarce, though he was a prolific letter writer. As a matter of fact amiable letters of any sort from him were scarce. There is, however, a small collection of letters written to Amaile Schald, a Viennese beauty, which indicate that she was one who possessed the sealed heart of the great genlus, Amaile was twentyfive and Beethoven forty-two when he became enamored of her. She later married a Councillor.

The following is one of the Amaile letters:

"September, 1812."

The following is one of the Amaile letters:

"September, 1812.

"Dear good Amaile, Since I isft you yesterday I have become worse, and since yesterday evening up to now I have not been able to leave my bed. I wanted to let you have the news today and then I thought that I should make myself appear too important, and so did nothing. What are you thinking about in saying that you can be nothing to me? We will talk over that, dear Amaile, when we are together. I have always wished that my presence might give you rest and peace, and that you would show yourself trustful towards me. I hope to be better tomorrow and that there will still be a few hours for us to spend and enjoy together amid the beauties of nature. . . . Goodnight, dear Amaile; many thanks for the proof of your kind latentions for your friend. Beethoven."

The following passage from a letter Heethoven wrote to his pupil, Ferdinand Ries, is explanatory of this episode:

"All kind messages to your wife; unfortunately, I have none; I found one who will probably never be mine; nevertheless I am not on that account a woman hater."

"One proven rule of life is that a man gains by giv-ing. By respecting the opinions of others he gains respect and a hearing for his own beliefs."

New Jersey's First Electric Railway Ran at Asbury Park

Gigantic Network of Trolley and Bus Lines Began With 15-Car

The mighty system of electric railways and connecting bus lines in New Jersey had a modest beginning in this Commonwealth 38 years ago, says the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

Asbury Park was the birthplace of the electric railway system and the rolling stock consisted of eleven open summer cars and four closed once for winter use.

The Seakhore Electric Railway, as it was known, began operation on September 19, 1837, in the presence of a distinguished array of engineers who had come to collect data on this new marvel of electricity.

According to officials of the Coast Cities Railway Company, which now operates it, the line has been in continuous operation since 1887.

The prisoner informed Gaskill and he ordered Petit out of his cell and made an investigation, finding a two inch piece of lead pipe about a foot in length and a heavy club, also. It is useless to say that Petit is now in murderers' row in close confinement and behind double doors. Why does summer begin June 21? Because that date is the summer. Authority

The Equipment Man

The care and maintenance of the rolling stock of a street railway company as large as PUBLIC SERVICE is a big job.

WATER COMPANIES FACE DISTRIBUTION PROBLEM

public is a four-sided business that comprises gathering, storing, puritying and distributing the product, says the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

A large sized city, for example, must transport 36,000,000 gailons of purified water every day. Carried in buckets or barrels, an army would be required to move that quantity of water.

In railroad tank cars, a train 22 miles long would be required. Such a train would have 3600 huge cars, carrying 10,000 gailons each, and 66 locomotives would be necessary to haul it.

F. C. Shuts Out Twelfth Ward

Fast Camden Nine Blanked By Palmyra In Classy Exhibition of Ball Playing
The Field Club routed the Twelfth Ward nine Saturday afternoon and shut out the fast Camden bunch 6-0. The locals, playing a masterful game of the national past-time, outclassed the highly touted opposition from start to finish.

Dave Wenger, the Stackmen's knoll artist, had his filinging arm well oiled for the occasion and was master of the affair from start to finish. Dave had every trick and shoot working to perfection and it was impossible to collect even the slightest resemblance of a hit when he tightened up in pinches.

Manager Joe has quite a find in Wenger, who has played a big part in the recent string of victories the locals have enjoyed. Dave has a twirling average of .857, having won six out of seven starts. The only team to down him since he has been sailing under the Field Club colors is the Tulpehocken To back up Wenger's superb timely bingles which amounted to nine bases.

Len Baker, the peerless initial sacker, led the attack with a batting average of 1.000. Len made four trips to the plate, and socked out a pair of singles and a double. An error on a drive down to the hot corner kept his slate clean. Frank King followed with three beautiful singles and Ed's work with the willow netted a pair.

The three boys all enjoyed a real b. b. festival and with a trio clouting the ball like that, no wonder the Camdenites were shut out. And they offered Wenger some real encouragement to "pitch his head off."

Manager Joe. "the ald timer."

they offered Wenger some real encouragement to "pitch his head off."

Manager Joe. "the old timer," went behind the bat himself and caught a bangup game. He and Dave formed a great combination and no more than four men faced them in any round.

Palmyra opened the affair by chalking up one in the first frame. They fattened the goose by hanging up a pair in the third and another in the fourth. The last two men crossed the pan in the fifth.

Such a decisive triumph over Twelfth Ward is quite a feather in the local bonnets. The Camdenites recently turned in a victory over the Camden County League leaders, Magnolia. And the Camden circuit is composed of some classy fines.

Twiffer Wenger will be given a real test Saturday afternoon when he opposes Camden City on the month at the local stadium. Camden City is one of the fastest clubs in this locality and is expected to prove a stiff opponent for the local diamond luminaries. Curren and Meade, of Philadelphia, is slated for Saturday a week. This is another classy aggregation and is a big attraction in any baseball community. The score:

The deceased had been in poor health for some time but there had been no thought on the part of his family that his lilness was of so serious a nature.

Walter Hart Semple was born in Mount Holly on December 9, 1898, the son of Robert A. and Jennie Hart Semple. He was educated in the public and private schools of Mount Holly and later matriculated in Princeton Theological Seminary from which he was graduated in May, 1896.

of christian labor he served with signal ability and success for ten years.

During his service in Mexico Mr. Semple married Miss Margaret Pease, eldest daughter of Rr. and Mrs. Horace Pease, of Mount Holly. When the enervating tropical climate began to tell upon his health and that of his family, Mr. Semple regretfully gave up his work in Mexico and returned north, taking up his residence in New York. There he became a charter member of the Fort Washington Presbyterian Church in 1907. For fifteen years he served that congregation as minister, associated with Rev. Daniel Hoffman Martin, D. D., and lived to set the congregation grow until it numbered eight hundred communicants. The long and close association of these two clergymen in their spendid work was terminated in a tragic way when Dr. Martia was run over by an automobile and died in a New York hespital.

Boon afterward, Mr. Semple, somewhat impaired in health, left New York and accepted charge of the Freebyterian parish a Manas.

interesting and informative lectures given to us while at Silver Bay this year.

The Rêv. Frank Morgan, of Washington, D. C., spoke to us on numerous occasions, giving us helpful suggestions for our endeavor to lead better lives. His farewell address impressed on us the strength and courage gained from adopting a creed and adhering to it at all times, and asked that we include therein, staunch loyalty to all our principles and ideals, and sympathy with all our fellowmen.

We also had with us for our evening lectures, Rev. Frank W. Hible, secretary of the Board of Foreign Missionaries, certainly a well-versed speaker on international problems. He tried to make us see the viewpoint of foreign countries, instead of the natural prejudiced opinion we sometimes adopt from patriotic presumptions that whatever course our country takes is the right one. He spoke most on the present situation in China, showing how her harbors had been taken over by foreign countries when China was still ignorant of their trade value. When desiring to enter into international trade, she discovered that her most important seaports were controlled by foreign nations. Therefore, when the present civil problem arose, and the adjustment of it was taken over by foreign courts on her own soil, China's pride asserted itself. No other country would tolerate foreign government in its own land.

After listening to Dr. Bible, one could not help having a sympathetic feeling toward the other fellow's plea. The Y. W. C. A. too, has a part in overcoming these natural prejudices, and in helping to establish the work of the Nazarine.

As we gathered every morning and listened to the beautiful harman and the nature, that suffice the manue, that suffice them have, that suffice the manue, that suffice them have, that suffic

the auditorium and resolve itself into one great desire to know more of the deeper things of life.

The first evening the general executive welcomed us most warmly. Especially do I remember what she said about where we might flud Christ for ourselves. Each of us would flud him in our own way. Some would find him in the beautiful things all about us—the trees, the mountains or the lake. Some might find him in the gatherings where 400 had come together from all over the Eastern States for that very purpose. But all of us would fail, she said, unless we were wilting to seek for him.

That sense of oneness with him grew as the days passed, until we felt that we had grown tremendously in many ways, and our outlook in life had broadened from the new contacts we had made. We felt, as most overyone feels who has ever been there—you want to say it with a different inflection somehow, full of love and almost awe—Silver Bay! A most fitting and inspiring service brought our conference to an end. The delegates, numbering 406, gathered in the auditorium to take part in a candie service. A leader representing each department of the Y. W. C. A. after lighting her candle at the altar, told how her department interpreted the purpose of the association. Then each delegate lighted her candle from the leaders, and singing the "Hymn of Lights," passed out double file to the campus, forming a giant circle, The giorious stars above, the twinkling lights below, the voices reverently shiging—it was a perfect experience, never to be forgotten.

Ex-Mayor of Beverly Reported to Have Received Adjustment From Public Service

From Public Service

It is understood that Thomas Lee, ex-mayor of Beverly, has recently received compensation from the Public Service Claim Department to the extent of a good many hundred dollars for damages received by trees on his property abutting Warren street in the west end of Beverly.

Mr. Lee states that he has now withdrawn all action against the company and is satisfied with the adjustment of his claim, believing also that the payment should in itself servo as a severe reprimand to Mr. Rush, the company's local line superintendent whose methods in placing poles and stringing lines without permits on the property in question was the direct cause of the action.

One day the major was stung by a large scorpion—stung through his leather legging at that. Major Latimer was probably one of the world's greatest technicians in the art of profanity. He tore loose with his entire vocabulary when the virus of the scorpion made itself felt. Then he concluded he was going to die, as many other scorpion stingees had. The original pin was all that has been said for it. On a disk forty-seven one-thousendths of an inch in dismeter there were engraved 65 words with 1964 letters, and nearly 2,000 lines had to be cut in doing it. ### THE PENCIL MAKES A FARM PAY BETTER

Farm Accounting Reveals Losing Methods and Points Way to Bigger Profits.

(From Banker Farmer)

A farm cannot properly be called successful unless it pays a fair rate of interest on the investment and returns fair wages for the farmer's labor. Agriculture is considered by all odds the most important industry in the world, and yet in no other industry is the business end so neglected.

It is common to find a farmer with an investment of fifteen to twenty thousand dollars, yet does be keep books? Perhaps he may jot down a note now and then of an important deal, but this is of no value in an analysis of his business as a whole No other industry, however small, is carried on without books of sorge sort.

Farming is a business and to be for the successful of the supplements of the payment of the payment.

sort.

Farming is a business and to be successful must be conducted in a businessilke way. The business man's mind should have indelibly printed upon it two questions: What profit is my business making? How can that profit be increased? To know the latter, one must find out the former; and to find out about profits requires the keeping of books.

It is not necessary for a farmer to keeping of books.

It is not necessary for a farmer to have a course in bookkeeping. Almost every agricultural college in the country has issued a simplified farm accounting book which it sells at cost, and only a few minutes are required each day to jot down the day's happenings.

and only a few minutes are required each day to jot down the day's hap penings.

Accounts increase Profits

Instances number a thousandfold where farmors have profited by knowing their business. Accounts kept by ninetees farmors in Illinois led them to improve the organization and operation of their farms in ways that added approximately $650 to their average net income in 1922, the seventh year they had kept accounts.

An lowa farmer found at the end of the first year he kept books that crops fed to livestock brought more money than when sold outright. His figures showed that his cows were poor; compared with other farms in the state, he found the number of acres cultivated per man on his farm, as well as the number of acres per horse were below average. He rented more land and remianned his failed as the woll as the number of acres per horse, were below average. He rented more land and replanned his fields, so that the crop areas per man and herse were increased. He sold some of his scrubs and bought good cows. The second year his income from the farm, after paying all expenses and interest on the money invosted, had been increased over $350.

Coste Can Be Regulated

"I have discovered," says one farm bookkeeper, "that the kind of man you have on a job, as well as the particular team, often makes quite a variation in the cost of performing certain tasks. I have learned from the pages of my book that if I could have increased the yield of my wheat field by two bushels and my corn by five bushels I would have realized a substantial profit from them."

five bushels I would have realized a substantial profit from them."

While the farmers may not be able to fix prices on their products, they do have a voice in determining the costs of production. To reduce this cost they must first know what the costs are.

The number of farmers who are keeping books on their business has increased remarkably in recent years, but the number of businessilks farmers is woefully small when listed alongside the sum total of the farmers in the country.

Inventory is indispensable.

The basis of any system of farm accounting is the annual property list or inventory. It is the starting point of the farm records. One must take into consideration decreases or inigreases in the value of all property owned to gauge the progress of the business. Lacking facts as to the value of his property, no business man can form an accurate estimate of how he stands financially. Increased cash may be due to property which was sold, or increased debts may be due to improvements made. If a farmer is failing behind, the inventory will emphasize this fact. Often when a iman is discouraged and thinks he is making its progress, his inventories will tell him that he is better off than the thought.

to thought.
At the end of each year a financial tatement is drawn off. This is the armer's rating and no farmer with a good financial statement need fear valking into a bank and asking for a

New York.—A new era lies ahead for agriculture because it now commands the best economic thought of the business world directed on its prime requirements of better distribution and marketing, President W. C. Gordon of the State Bank Division. American Bankers Association, declares in a recent communication to the thirteen thousand members of the division. He seeks to entils their interest in the work of improving the marketing of farm products.

"The farmer today finds himself far removed from his consumer-customer by a long line of intermediate agencies, which often leave him in a position of disadvantage as an individual producer." Mr. Gordon says. "It is, therefore, not strange that he should seek to apply to agriculture those principles of production and distribution found successful in industry. His rightful ambittion is to make, where feasible, a general application of successful business experience to the marketing of agricultural products. Commanding the best economic thought of the business world, agriculture undoubtedly stands on the threshold of a new era. In lies of fantastic panaceas, agricultural welfare—which, after all, is the Nation's welfare—make, after all, is the Nation's welfare—make need of a sane, long range program that is at once practical, constructive and economically sound."

He goes on to call attention to the "long view program suggested for agricultural distribution" at Washington by the Agricultural Conference, urging study of it. Herman Hollerith, Jr., of Riv-crton, and Stanley M. Babson, of West Orange, have been granted a patent for a data displaying de-vice. This relates to device for displaying and rendering readily available recorded or inscribed da-ta. The inventors assign their pat-ent to the Bates Manufacturing Company.

Riverton Loses 11-Inning Game

Error Decides Thrilling Pitcher's Battle With Medford

er's Battle With Medford

Last Saturday Riverton lost an eleven inning fracas to Medford by the score of I to 0. It was a pitcher's battle between Herbert and A. Vaughn with honors about even, neither side scoring until the eleventh inning.

N. Vaughn started the last inning by hitting through E. Coyle's legs. A. Vaughn started the last inning by hitting through E. Coyle's legs. A. Vaughn sacrificed, Herbert to Sharp. N. Vaughn sept on to third on the play, and when Sharp threw over Holvick's head in an attempt to head him off, Vaughn scampered home with the only run of the thrilling contest.

It was a tough game for Herbert to lose as he kept Medford's five hits well scattered and whiffed seven batsmen.

Riverion's whole team deserves a lot of credit for the game of ball they played. The team has been greatly strengthened with the addition of two new men in the line-up, Taylor at shortstop and Joe Pippitt in right field. Pippitt formerly played with Shamokin of the coal region until recently signed by Manager Hilton.

This Saturday, August 29, Riverton will play Robeling at Riverton, game starting 3:30 p. m.

Cedar Tree Crowned

Cedar Tree Crowned

In a swamp near Chatham, N. J., there is a cedar tree which has grown up through a feit hat, and from those versed in tree lore it is said to have worn its odd ornament for at least 25 years. The tree is 20 feet in height, and about 5 feet from the ground is the hat through which the young trunk thrust itself so long ago, and above which, beginning at a foot, are strong, thrifty branches, the same as would be on a normally grown tree.

The lows Fleece and Wood Growers' Association does an annual business of $2,236,250; the Ohio Shees and Wood Growers, $1,500,000; the Oregon wool growers, $500,000; while the New York, Texas and South Dakota. Associations are said to be handling about a quarter of a million dollars' business each.

Let us have our automobile laws enforced by all means, but let us have it done impartially. One day this week I saw a local car passible red light, and the error was not noticed. A moment later a car from another state passed by and he was called back and made to get into line and observe the proper regulations. I wonder why?

In rummaging through my desset the other day I found a copy of the Constitution of the United States, and it seemed as though a couple of the amendments were printed in words of gold—a safe guard to our country, our constitution and our people forever, "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof;" or sbridging the freedom of speech, or of the press, or the right of the people peace, aby to assemble, and to petition the government for a redress of griev ances."

Seems to me they have been pretty good foundation stones for a hundred and fifty years and any "patent medicines" labeled "just as good" should be handly rather warily.

LUTHERAN NEWS

At the First Lutheran Church, Broad and Garneld. Palmyra, the regular services will be held Sunday. August 30, with the pastor, the Hev. Harry L. Saul, preaching at both services, in the morning at 11 o'clock his theme will be "Right Emphasis on Right Things," for the adults, and for the children a short talk on "A Shoemaker." In the evening a helpful talk on Christian Life will be given, with the theme "Humility Versus Self-Complacency." Familiar hymns are sung at this service, giving all an opportunity of praising God in song.

The regular monthly meeting of the Laddes" Aid Society, Mrs. Essie Shanks, president, will be held at the Church Tuesday, September 1, at eight o'clock. The laddes are urged to be present at this meeting for the discussion of fall activities.

The Eden Bible Class of the Sunday School will hold a peach festival on the Church grounds this Saturday evening, August 29.

Because of the great demand made upon our Boy Scout leaders by boys seeking admission into the troop, it has been decided to organize a second group, Troop 3, which will be under the supervision of the same attention. Parents wishing to receive details please get in touch with Scoutmaster Fry or the Pastor, Pourteen boys have already signed.

Wealth and Position

Sacrificed to Belief A striking instance of a Buddhist devotee giving up wealth and position is reported in the Osaka Asehi. The particular control of the Cosaka Asehi.

per says: Yaunguchi Gendo, an Osaka million aire and a Buddhist devotee, being in-pressed with the unenduring character of worldly goods, has retired to lend a plous life in a shanty at Yokogawa, Sakamoto, at the foot of Mount Hiel, near Kyoto, leaving his entire business to the cause of his employees. At the same time he has decided to contribute to social and charitable enterprise 3,500,000 yen (about $1,404,200 at pres to social and charitable enterprises $,500,000 yen (about $1,404,200 at present rates). He has raised this sum by disposing of shares in spinning, paper and sugar mills, electric concerns and banks, and by selling his landed estates. He has intrusted the cash to Murachi Kyuliro, his friend and director of the Osaka Shoji Kaisha.

Mr. Yamaguchi is quite a self-mademan, having heen the son of a poor physician of Onomichi, on the Sanyo line. He was born in 1863, He settled in Osaka in 1877, taking a house at the rental of $1 per month.

Before retiring he had contributed about $,000,000 yen (about $1,208,600) for social and charity purposes. The water works and an elementary school in Onomichi (population 70,000) were completed with his aid. In 1917 he established a charity hospital called the Ysmaguchi Kosei hospital, which is situated west of the Osaka Medical university. It costs about $200,600. Mr. Yamaguchi has no children.

Even Parisian Expert

M. Palu Poiret, evidently feeling that he has done all that may be legitimately expected of him in the way of beautifying our women, has undertaken a similar task with relation to men. He is unflattering concerning our appearance in the current modes, likening us to sausages, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. The figure is far from precise, but no doubt it pleased M. Poiret in his bitter mood, since a sausage is certainly a disagreeable object to resemble. Among the reforms Poiret plans are capes of velvet, waist-coats of chiffon and trousers "of ethereal cut." One hates, of course, to seem to be reactionary, but only failure can be predicted for the designer's campaign. So many advantages sittach to the present modes that men will never be persuaded to relinquish them. To deny the existence of male vanity would be fatuous; but the compensation for our unbecoming fashions is their non-committal feature. Men go about in a species of disguise in which it is difficult to distinguish the olumber's assistant from Even Parisian Experi disguise in which it is difficult to dis-tinguish the plumber's assistant from the banker. This suits the notion of democracy, lending the plumber borpersonally, reading the plumber bor-rowed prestige and relieving the banker of the tedious obligation of nobility. The colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady are sisters under their skin; the colonel-in-civies and Judy O'Grady's man are brothers even in thei clothes.

Cassena Flavor for Drinks

Cassena Flavor for Drinks

A) wild plant, known as cassena, which grows abundantly in the Gulf of South Atlantic states from Texas to Virginia, resembles tea in many respects. In the laboratory of the Department of Agriculture experiments with the plant produced a delightful betweening. Cassens was drunk by the people of the South during the Civil war when tea and coffee were scarce and it is known that the Indians have used it. The leaves must be properly cured, which experiments have shown may be done in sufficient quantities to be commercially practical. A hot water infusion of the leaves has been used as a base of flavor in soda water fountain concoctions with satisfactory results.

Productive Effort Stops if Government Takes Undue Share of Profits, Says Treasury Official.

WEALTH IN RUSSIA FLED BEFORE THE TAXGATHERER

Men in America Prefer Golf to Giving Fruits of Three Days Work a Week to Income Taxes

The blighting effects of excessive taxation, leading to a nation's economic destruction, are described in the ers Association Journal by Garrard B.
Winston, Under-secretary of the Treasury. Citing possible effects on the Ford Motor Car Company, he declares that "the value is so large and its ownership so centered it is conceivable that collection of inheritance taxes may check, if not destroy, that unit of policy which has created and expanded that industry and thus prevent its future prosperity. Of what avail, then, is it to any government if it collects one hundred million dollars once in estate taxes and destroys a source of income upon which it can rely for revenue year after year?

"Success of the Ford Company does not mean simply that Mr. Ford and his son have grown wealthy. It means employment of tens of thousands of men and women; that mines, forests, railroads and vessels are brought into use; that the public has received an efficient and inexpensive means of transportation; that the farm is in touch with the city, and the worker with his office." Mr. Winston says in part;

Wealth Flees Oppfession

Wealth Flees Oppression
"Upon first impression it might appear that a nation could take all of the earnings of its citizens or all of their property. The Soviet government proposed to appropriate all instrumentalities of trade and commerce. Yet, when the state reached out to grasp this wealth, it disappeared and left nothing but a few tangible objects, such as gold and jewels, which were easily transported to other countries. Wealth in Russia ceased objects, such as gold and jewels, which were easily transported to other countries. Wealth in Russia ceased to exist.

"If income tax rates are placed so high that capital in productive business no longer gives a net return commensurate with the risk, capital will go out of productive business, lie idle, go abroad, go into tax-exempt securities, or find other ways of avoiding the tax. If income tax rates are so excessive that a man of ability finds he must work more than three days a week for the government, he will become discouraged and decide that the result is not worth the effort. Less income will be produced and less will be realized from the tax.

"Recently a letter came to the Treasury from a small farmer. He owned a few acres which in 1913 were assessed at $900 and on which a tax of $13 was levied. In 1924 the assessed value increased to $3,200 and the tax to $123, but the farm failed to produce any more. Taxes exceeded the rental value of the land and to produce any more. Taxes exceeded the rental value of the land and more than the net earnings of the property were taken by the state. The farm was abandoned and now produces no tax.

"Often there come to notice cases where a particular improvement is not made, or a particular business is not started, because after deducting taxes the risk exceeds the value of taxes the risk exceeds the value of the expected return. Men have dropped business, spent their winters in Florida and their summers abroad, because what they are permitted to retain under present tax rates is not worth the labor they must give to acquire it. They prefer golf to the further development of the country. Unscientific Taxes Destroy a Nation "Unscientific methods of taxation may actually desiroy the very earnings or property which it should be the principal interest of a government to foster. When it reaches the limits of what is known as its taxable capacity, a sation has begun to discuss the start of the same part of the same principal treasure of the same property of the same principal treasure of the same principal treasure of the same principal treasure registed too high.

ble capacity, a sation has begun to die. If taxes are raised too high, a country will slowly but surely de stroy itself. It will use for daily consumption the seed corn on which its future life depends, and the spirit of sumption the seed corn on which its future life depends, and the spirit of initiative and adventure in its people will finally disappear. One or more of three things happen: The quantity of consumption is cut down, which means a lowering of the standard of living; or capital accumulations for extensions, improvements and new undertakings must diminish, resulting in a slowing up of progress and lessening eventually of taxable revenue; or, thirdly, a slackening of effort on the part of the citizen will take place when too large a part of his earnings are taken in taxes.

"The effort in taxation should be to find the tax which will continue to raise money over a period of years invariably, with an excessive tax, its yield has fallen off year by year while each rate reduction is reflected in an increase of taxable income. If the Treasury is to be assured a continuance of revenue, our citizens must prosper. If they are to prosper, the appropriation by the state of their earnings and property must be based upon economically sound principles."

Local bankers have received a communication from William E Knox, president of the Americaa Bankers Association, calling their attention to the unusual importance of this year's annual convention of the organization. Dr. Knox says in part:

When a business celebrates its

"When a business celebrates its growth from resources of $3,000.000,000 on 600,000,000 to over $60,000,000,000 on fifty years it certainly is an event of great public significance in American history. This year's convention of your Association at Atlantic City will constitute just such an event The American Bankers Association was organized in 1875 when there were about 3,000 banks in the country, with aggregate capital and surplus of $850,000,000. Today there are about 3,000 banks, with capital funds of $7,000,000,000. Today there are about 3,000 banks, with capital funds of $7,000,000,000 and deposits above $50,000,000,000. More than 22,000 of these banks are members of your Association.

"The convention signaling the our people to become, the firmer will it build the foundations of own prosperity.

"Another great opportunity will present itself at this convention for organized banking to render significant public service. The present period is particularly opportune to support the administration in its economic program. Such questions as economy in public expenditure and scientific tax revisions can be discussed on their intrinsic merits without the confusing factors of campaign partisanship and radical agitation. The public spirited interest of bankers in these questions can now be made more clearly understood and influentially urged."

The convention will be held at Atlantic City, New Jersey, September 28 to October 1. General sessions and divisional meetings will be held on the Steel Pier. The Hotel Traymore will be headquarters, where delegates will register and receive credentials.

Public Service Sales Increase

Gain of 21 Per Cent In Electric Current Supplied for Year of 1925

Sales of electricity by Public Service Electric and Gas Company, which operates in more than 200 New Jersey municipalities, for the first six months of 1925, exceeded those of the corresponding period of 1924 by approximately twenty-one per cent. The increase in kilowatt hours sold amounted to 75,703,234 K. W. H., the figures for the first half of 1925 being 438,857,071 K. W. H.

K. W. H.

Greater demand for electricity for power purposes was largely responsible for this favorable showing, the power sales for the 1925 period exceeding those for the 1924 period by more than 50,000,000 kilowat hours, an increase of 23.25 per cent while the net gain in connected load was in the first six months of 1925, 46,983 horsepower as against a net gain of 42,148 horsepower in the first six months of 1924.

gain of 42,148 horsepower in the first six months of 1924.

Making up the total of nearly 47,000 horsepower connected, were the requirements of fifty-one customers, each of whom demanded 200 or more horsepower or a total of about 28,000, the balance of the increase being mad up by the requirements of concerns with a smaller demand.

In addition to the new customers actually connected during the first half of the year, contracts were closed with a number of others, the requirements of the twenty-nine whose load is 200 horsepower, The company also reports that in the first six months of 1925, 37,-622 additional electric meters were added to its lines, so that on July 1, the total in service was 563,200. The company's sale of electric appliances showed a satisfactory increase, revenue from sales amounting to $1,043,993, as against $447,518 in the first six months of 1924.

In the company's gas department customers as represented by meters in service showed a gain of 12,234 for the first half of 1925, as compared to a gain of 11,950 for the same period of 1924. On July 1, there were a total of 655,289 in service. Gas consumption for the period ending June 30, amounted to more than ten billion, thirty-seven million cubic feet, the use of gas for industry purposes showing a marked increase during the period. The sale of gas appliances was larger than during 1924, the total revenue from this source being $1,-100,000.

Among the larger consumers of

Among the larger consumers of power contracted to the company: lines were the Standard Oil Company, Jersey City; International Motor Company, New Brunswick; Radio Corporation of America, Bound Brook; American Bridge Company, Camden; Campbell Soup Company, Camden; Pennsylvania Railroad Company, Newark; Crescent Insulated Wire and Cable Company, Trenton; and the Union Smelting and Refining Company, Newark.

An automobile occupied by Dr. and Mrs. George H. Wilkinson and Mrs. George H. Wilkinson and Mrs. William Sharp, of Moorestown, was sideswiped by a locomotive while the car was standing at Third street and French avenue, that town, last week and all had a very narrow escape.

The doctor had driven down Third street, which runs parallel with the railroad track, and thought he had sufficient clearance, but the engineer asw that the car was too near the tracks and blew his whistle and applied the brakes at the same time but too late to avoid the crash.

The side of the engine caught the right rear mud guard of the car, turning the latter half way around. The back fender, right running board, and right rear wheel of the car were badly smashed.

Mrs. Sharp, who was seated in the rear of the machine, was seized with hysterics and had to be treated by Dr. Wilkinson at his office on West Second street, to which place he drove his car after the accident.

American visitors to England during the past year were able to hear every word of the addresses given in Westminster Abbey no matter in Westminster Abbey no matter in what part of the building they might have been, because the edifice has been equipped with special amplifiers of American manufacture. Likewise the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Paris now has an amplifying system which carries the voice of the preacher to all parts of the Cathedral. The completed portion of the new Cathedral of St. John the Divine, on Morningside Heights, New York, is also fitted with a system of the same type.

Real Stories About Real Girls

By MRS. HARLAND H. ALLEN QUEEN BEES BRING ROYAL

RETURNS

If T PAYS to specialize" when you are engaged in the art of apiculture. Bee keeping, always a specialized business, reaches its most highly specialized and most lucrative form in the raising of queen bees.

But the work of raising queen bees is difficult, and there are many faitures, admits a girl specialist in the industry.

"The girl who decides to undertake the raising of queen bees had best consider it, for a time, at least, as a side-line to the business of general bee keeping," says this queen of the queen bees. "She can realize profits off her honey, in that way, while she is learning to manage her queens."

The market of the specialist in queen-bee raising is formed by the general beekeepers of the country. The most readily sold queens are bred from the notable sweet-tempered golden-colored Italian stock.

The first step of the commercial queen bee raiser is to remove the established queen from one of the colonies. Next, she should remove some young eggs from another colony and place them, by means of a tiny metal spoon, into wax cups, or "queen cells," similar to the ones queen larvae naturally have, set the cups in a frame, and place the frame in the midst of the first colony. She can make these cups herself, or she can procure them from a good bee supply house.

The bees which have been deprived of their first queen set up a hum of Joy at the discovery of the new queen

The bees which have been deprived of their first queen set up a hum of joy at the discovery of the new queen egg, and immediately set to work to provide it lavishly with the special "royal jelly," which means that a queen will emerge in about sixteen days. Since a queen bee is jealous of her rights, and will fight to the death with any other queen that may hatch, the keeper must enclose each cell in a separate compartment, so that each queen will hatch in a little cage by herself.

When a queen bee is hatched, the keeper must remove her to a "mating box," five luches aquare and four inches deep, containing a couple of small frames of honey-filled comb. The keeper pours in with her about a cupful of bees and with them the queen bee sets up a temporary home. After preliminary short excursions which assure her that she can find her was hower the green makes her "mate how the state." which assure her that she can find her way home, the queen makes her "wedding flight," from which she returns mated for life. Soon she begins to lay—and then the keeper knows that she is successfully mated, that she will produce half a million eggs in the three or four years of her life, and that she is, therefore, ready for shipment.

Manufacture of Shot Really Quite Simple

Really Quite Simple
All stages in the manufacture of shot are interesting, yet some are quite simple. As explained by Science and Invention, a gas-heated cauldron melts the lead, which then passes through the "shot sleeve." As the motten lead passes through the sleeve it is broken up into small drops or pellets which fall to the water tank 154 feet below.

After being cooled the shot is taken to the dryers by means of conveyors. Then it goes to the polishers and from there passes to a series of revolving drums and acreens which assort the shot into the various sizes. Finally, conveyors carry the finished shot to the shipping or storage recem-

Experiment Station Produces Three Superior Early Peaches

Now Prepared to Distribute Seedlings After Ten Years' Work In Developing Them

Now Prepared to Distribute Seedlings After Ten Years' Work In Developing Them

An announcement that the State Experiment Station is prepared to supply commercial peach growers of this State with seedlings of three recently developed superior early peaches, and a tour of Monmouth and Middlesex County fruit farms were the two outstanding features of the 50th Anniversary meeting of the 50th Anniversary meeting of the New Jersey State Hortleultural Society at Rutgers University. Prof. M. A. Blake, horticulturist at the station, in telling of 19 years work involved in producing the new varieties, urged the visitors to use their influence in getting them established so that consumers can have a supply of better early Jersey peaches.

The constructive efforts of the Society in improving the horticultural industry in New Jersey were sudded in the opening address by Dr. J. G. Lipman, director of the Experiment Station.

Horace Roberts, father of State Senator Emmor Roberts, in reviewing personal experiences with the Society, stated that in his opinion the improved methods of marketing and production, and better varieties now existent make the future brighter for fruit men than ever before. Mr. Roberts has not missed a meeting of the Society since 1887.

Protect Sweet Folato
The three new disease-resistant varieties of sweet potatoes under trial on several New Jersey farms continue to make an excellent showing in the face of a severe attack of stem rot that is destroying over one-half the crop of old Jersey varieties, reports R. F. Poole, associate plant pathologist of the State Experiment Station.

Fields of these resistant varieties, white Yam, Yellow Yam, and Red Brazil, can now be seen in all sweet polato sections of the state and are practically unaffected by disease. On different farms, the number of hills

More Federal-Aid Highways Built

Good Roads Rapidly Increasing Prosperity of New Jersey Farmers

Prosperity of New Jersey Farmers

New Jersey farmers and tourists now enjoy 70 miles more of Federaliaid highways than they did a year ago, according to the Sears-Roebuck Foundation. This mileage completed in the year ending June 30, cost a total of $4,337,562, of which the federal government furnished $1,159,148. Highway construction under this plan now under way in the state totals 62 miles while the total mileage completed previous to last year was 148 miles. This additional mileage, while a convenience to the tourist in the state, is a godsend to the farmer, according to the Foundation. It is estimated that each and every farmer in this section of the country averages 32 tons of farm products hauled to market and 14 tons of feed, fuel, fertilizer, machinery, supplies, etc., from town. When good roads make trucks feasible this is not very burdensome, but it represents a good many hours labor where horses and poor roads must be used. And so while the tourists find inter-city roads mighty comfortable, to the farmer a good servicesble road from his farm to the nearest market is a downright necessity.

The expansion of hard road systems both in this and other states in recent years has given the farmer an added inducement for going into business for himself, the Foundation states. That he has not been slow to take advantage of the opportunity is testified in the increasing number of roadside markets on the more frequented highway. Figures show that each of these the soil so that the roots can function.

Turnips and rutabagns are also desirable fall crops and if planted now will attain the size of baseballs by the time cold weather is here and storage is necessary. The seed are sown in rows sixteen inches apart, and the plants thinned when 4 or 5 inches high.

Any fairly good garden soil will grow good-sized roots if they are given some attention and protected from the grasses and weeds which are so abundant in the early fall. Turnips and rutabagns are especially valuable for their winter keeping qualities and spinach is rich in Iron. PROGRAMME Shows start 7:15 and 9 P. M. Week-days saturdays—6:80, 8 and 0:80 P. Less than three per cent of the acreage in Florida is under cultivation. The Everglades are being drained now, and each year are more and more being made ready for the coming of the farmers.
Florida offers opportunity, it has been said, for 1,000,000 gardners and fruit growers and it has even been suggested that the immigration laws be let down to admit that amount of small farmers from Italy and France.

Government analysis shows that the soil of the Everglades is most fertile—as fertile as the soil of the Biblical valley of the Nile. The Northern farmer, however, might be compelled to change his methods to adjust his knowledge and experience to work in the right Florida soils.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

The Ford Motor Company has just made public announcement of marked improvement in appearance and mechanical design of the Ford Car.

While there have been many rumors as to what these improvements were to be, no one had knowledge that there was to be a change until public announcement was made.

Interest in the new model is very great and just as soon as it is possible to secure these cars they will be on display on our show room floors at 115 West Broad street, Palmyra, where every courtesy will be extended to permit inspection.

The Ford Car has always been the greatest value for the dollar spent for transportation as is proven by the fact that the 12th millionth Ford is now in service.

The improved Ford will go further to satisfy the owner in the matter of appearance as well as in mechanical improvement, and WITHOUT INCREASE IN PRICE.

ANNOUNCEMENT WILL BE MADE BY US SOON AS CARS ARE READY FOR DISPLAY

Wait for the Improved Ford!

To make room for the improved cars, every used car in our stock has been reduced in price, but not in guarantee. Slightly used demonstrators may be had at lower prices, some fitted with accessories. Do not delay. now is your opportunity to secure a good used car at a saving.

At the Hollywood hotels this summer have been registered men who said they had had experience in the East, many who because of low productivity or bad markets abandoned farms in New England.

Other farmers from many points in the Middle West and in the South have been making investigations into Florida agriculture with the idea of adjusting their training and habits of farming to Florida conditions.

These men have found that two or three crops of vegetables may be incorrected.

Student. Five Points. Why do they call ballots used at our elections the "Australian ballot?" Do all the states used this ballot?
Ans. Because the present form of our official ballot originated in Australia. In 1888 the system was adopted in Massachusetts, and it quickly apread over the United States. At the present time every state in the Union except Georgia and Loudsians, are using the Australian ballot system at their elections.

Miss Margaret Rhoads, nices of the bride.

The best man to the bridegroom was William Birkhead, of Beverly. The ushers were James J. Gallagher, of Burlington; Charles Degman, of Philadelphia, and William Gravino, of Glassboro.

At the conclusion of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to a large number of guests in the Hotel Pennsylvania, Fortieth and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left soon after for a wedding try. On their return they will reside on Broad street, Beverly.

The bride is well known in Philadelphia and Wildwood where her parents have a summer home. She has a great host of friends and is popular in the circles is which she moves. Mr. Smith also has many friends and enjoys a large measure of poptarity. He is a lawyer with offices on Federal street, Camden.

The much discussed bond issue of the Delanco Board of Education was sold last Friday evening to the Rufus Waples Company, of Philadelphia, at $125,142.55 for $123,500 worth of four and three quarter per cent bondss with accrued interest, representing a profit to the township of $1,642.55.

It had been necessary for the thoard to raise the rate of interest from four and a half per cent to four and three quarter per cent before a buyer could be obtained.

The R. M. Grant Company and H. L. Allen Company, both of New York, also bid for the bonds. Their figures were $125,217.59 and $125,262.50.

These two companies asked for $125,000 worth of bonds with accrued interest.

It was finally decided to place the matter in the hands of, and depend entirely upon the good Judkment of the architect, Herbert O. Zeigler. The rooms that were scheduled to be finished September 8 will be finished September 15.

Acting upon the advice of the architect, John A. Smith, Chairman of the Purchasing Committee, has ordered the installation of desks to be started immediately.

At the time of the planning of the new school building, the old board members visited different schools throughout the county and obtained the opinion of various educators as to the best possible arrangement of the doors and class rooms. They were advised in some instances that double doors between a few rooms would prove very valuable. However, the present Board, after considering the annoyances that would result from recliations in each room with adjoining doors decided that if it were possible, these doors would be built. The architect was instructed to take this matter up with the contractors immediately. The Janitor received the usual permission to employ any help that would be necessary in cleaning the school house prior to the opening of school, up to the amount of $20.

Miss Branson, Superintendent, desired the cierk to instruct the parents that any uppil who had not been successfully vaccinated report to a physician and have the work done before the opening of the school term.

There is said to be coal enough in China to heat the world for a century, but little of it is being mined or marketed. It is well to realize, however, that there will never be any genuine coal famine. ### Ford Announces Improved Line

Bodies Longer, Lower and All Steel, Colors in Closed Cars

Steel, Colors in Closed Cars

Hody changes and chassis refinements more pronounced than any made since the adoption of the Model T chassis have been announced by the Ford Motor Company. There will be no advance in price, it also was stated.

At the Philadelphia offices of the Ford Motor Company it was stated that production of the new line will begin early in September and improved cars will be sent to dealers for showing.

Outstanding features of the improvements in both open and enclosed types are lower, all-steel bodies on a lowered chassis, complete new design in most body types, a change from black to color in closed cars, larger, lower fenders, newly designed seats and larger, more powerful brakes.

Longer lines, effected through higher radiator and redesigned cowl and bodies are apparent in all the improved Ford cars, but are especially pronounced in the open types. Wide crown fenders hung close to the wheels contribute to the general effect of lowness and smartness.

While Runabout and Touring cars remain in black, the closed bodies are finished in harmonic color schemes, enhanced by nickel radiators. The Coupe and Tudor bodies are finished in deep channel green while the Fordor is rich Windsor marcon.

Greater comfort is provided for driver and bassants and bodies for diriver and bassants and substitutes.

are finished in deep channel green while the Fordor is rich Windsor maroon.

Greater comfort is provided for driver and passengers in both open and closed cars by larger compartments, more deeply cushioned seats and greater leg room.

Many new conveniences are also incorporated in the improved cars, in the Runabout, Touring car, Coupe and Tudor, the gasoline tank is under the cowl and filled through an ingeniously located filter cap completely hidden from sight by a coversimilar in appearance to a convenientar in appearance to a conventiant of the cowledge of the cowledge of the Coupe offer the driver greatly increased visibility and improved ventilation.

Driving comfort is materially increased visibility and improved ventilation.

Driving comfort is materially increased by lower seats, scientifically improved back rests and lowered steering wheel. Brake and clutch pedals are wider and more conveniently spaced.

Four doors are now provided on the Touring car and two on the Runabout permitting the driver to take his place from the left side of the car. Curtains, held securely by rods, open with the doors.

Most important in the mechanical changes are the improved brakes. The transmission brake drum and bands have been considerably increased in size which gives the foot break softer and more positive action as well as longer life. The rear wheel brake of self energizing type.

type. Cord tires are now standar equipment on all Ford cars.

"That's all right," replied the lawyer. "You bring me half that pig and I'll take on your case."
When the case came into the court the lawyer addressed the jury thus: "This man did not get any more of the pig than I did."

The verdict was "Not guilty."

Inventor Unknown

The history of the monkey-wrench is obscure. Even the origin of the term "monkey" in the name is unknown. It is commonly betieved, however, that a London biselsmith named Moncke (pronounced "Munko") made some of the first wrenches with movable jaws adjustable by a screw. Such wrenches were called Moncke wrenches. Owing to ignorance of the origin and spelling of the name it was easily corrupted into "monkey." But this story is not supported by any definite information. The United States patent office says it can find no record of a patent having been granted by the British government to Moncke for such a wrench.—Pathfinder Magazine.

Early New Englanders Fond of Their Beans

In the absence of positive informa-tion on the subject of the origin of Boston baked beans and their place on New England breakfast menus this conjecture is offered; in the early days of the Plymouth colony people did their baking in brick ovens. These did their baking in brick ovens. These ovens were heated on Saturday and enough baking for the week was done at that time. As the oven cooled off the temperature was just right for beans, which need long, slow cooking, so they were thus ready to be eaten on Saturday night and were probably put back into the oven to keep hat and these were enten for breakfast on Sunday morning. Many New England needs morning. these were eaten for breakfast on Sunday morning. Many New England people reheat them and eat them for breakfast each morning until they are gone, and some people who bake them on Wednesday continue to serve them for breakfast until the Saturday beams are baked. In northern New England beams have been baked from time immemorial in a hole in the ground, the hole having first been lined with stones and the stones made very hot with a fire built in the hole. In lumber camps the beams are usually put in to bake the night before they are to be served for breakfast.
