Palmyra Girl is Champion Speller

Ruth Helen Young, 11 Years Old, Sixth Grade Student
Wins County Contest

Ruth Helen Young, a sixth-grade pupil of the Palmyra School, won the exciting Burlington County spelling bee at Mount Holly Saturday.

It was the Burlington County semi-final of the Trenton Times series this year. At the conclusion of a contest which went to 60 rounds the 11-year-old winner burst into tears, the result of the nervous strain under which she had been laboring. A few minutes later, however, she was smilingly munching a big red apple given her by her mother.

For the last 17 rounds of words sorted out by John R. Summerfeldt, principal of Rider College, who was the pronouncer, the contest lay between little Miss Young and Mary Dillon, 15 years old, of the Burlington district. Four times during the part of the bee, a word was missed, only to be missed again by the remaining speller. On the fifth such occasion, Miss Dillon spelled "girdle" with a "u," and the occasion was seized upon by her rival to win the crown.

Seventy-one spellers started in the contest at the Mount Holly High School. Each was numbered. The winner received number 71. By means of a written test all but 35 of these spellers were eliminated, and those thirty-five spelled orally for more than two hours before the decision was reached.

Tension at High Pitch
Tension reached a very high pitch as the spellers went down one after another until only two were remaining on the platform. Then as one went down, only to be followed by the other, applause was almost un-restrained. The first miss was by the eventual winner, Ruth Young. She went down on "accommodate," only to be called back when Miss Dillon likewise failed to spell the word.

A few rounds later the smaller girl missed "animosity," but her older rival was unable to seize her opportunity to win. The word "capitalist" was next misspelled by the youngster, who was laboring under a great strain to maintain her composure, but still her rival was unable to properly spell the word. On the fifty-ninth round Miss Dillon failed to spell "incorporate" and Ruth also failed. The next word given out was "girdle."

and Miss Dillon went down to stay because her rival had recovered sufficient composure to repeat the proper combination of letters.

The winner will be crowned in the Trenton Times Final Bee to be held in the Trenton Junior High, No. 3, auditorium, West State street and Parkside Avenue, on Friday night, May 14. She will there test her skill against Machine Sather, champion of Mercer County; William J. Coughlin, Jr., champion of Trenton; Wilbur E. Fargo, champion of Hunterdon County; Stanley Miller, champion of Bucks County; and a champion still to be selected in the Monmouth County Bee at Long Branch this Thursday evening. These six semi-final winners will compete for the right to represent the Trenton Times in Washington during the week of June 14, when the Second National Spelling Bee will be staged.

Prizes Distributed
During the afternoon Louis J. Kaser, Burlington county superintendent of schools, distributed Trenton Times championship certificates and spelling medals to the 11 contestants who represented all the schools of the county. He also presented the county champion with a leather-bound copy of Webster's Collegiate Dictionary and a $10 gold piece. Other cash prizes went to the 3 additional spellers making the best records.

Little Miss Young is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Young, of 305 Columbia Avenue. Her father is a traveling station auditor for the Pennsylvania Railroad.

In addition to little Miss Young's award of $10 for first prize, two other Palmyra grammar school students "placed in the money." Helen Parker, of the seventh grade, was eighth, and won $2.50. Russell Dills, of the sixth grade, was tenth and won one of the $1.00 winners.

Grace Kersey, of the eighth grade, also represented Palmyra.

In 1922 Marie McDermodt won first prize for Palmyra. Augustus Sack and Jane Price were also on the top of the list that year. In 1923 Palmyra was awarded three prizes. Jane Price placed second in the 1924 contest with Margaret Stockdale, fourth, and Miriam Hitting seventh. Doris Barber and Charlotte Aspel placed for the local school last year.

NEW BUS LINE
Service Established Between Moorestown and Burlington

Buses now are operating between Burlington and Moorestown by the way of Mount Holly.

The buses are large and comfortable. They are painted gray, but up to the present time there is no coloring on them to indicate that they are owned and operated by the Public Service Company. This will come later when the details finally have been arranged.

MEN'S "FRUIT OF THE LOOM" SHIRTS, $2.00 and $2.50

Generations back "Fruit of the Loom" Muslin won the reputation of highest quality. Today, it boasts of the same reputation it had when granddad was a boy.

Tailored into Men's Shirts—shirts for discriminating men. Beautiful patterns in colors that simply can't fade.

The buses are maintaining a half-hour service between Burlington and Moorestown. This may be augmented if the traffic demands it. The trains, especially heavy early in the morning and about 5 o'clock in the evening. Most of this traffic, which is composed of business people, goes only as far as Springfield and to intermediate streets, and it may be that special Springfield service will be provided.

The bus, which was almost unknown a few years ago, seems to be a step in the march of progress. First the railroad between Burlington and Mount Holly faded and disappeared, and now the trolley line is going. Even though the bus is here many are wondering if it is here to stay.

Eventually the matter of right of way over the public roads will come up and in fancy one easily can see numerous disturbing problems only a few years hence.

WILL TRAIN YOUTHS

Government aid is in sight for those mothers of the land who despair of initiating their growing sons into the mysteries of dish-washing, fire-building, and other irksome chores around the house.

An official decree affecting 35,000 youths who will attend this summer's Citizen Military Training Camps says each must do his bit as a kitchen police, mess attendant, or table waiter.

It was different when the C. M. T. Camps were first opened. The youthful campers romped to the mess table, were waited upon by paid attendants, and departed to their after dinner relaxations without a thought as to how their meal was prepared and with a certainty that supper would be steaming when the bugle blew.

But this year the C. M. T. students will do everything but the cooking. And "everything" is a large order, as any graduate of the Army Kitchen Police Academy can tell them. Still it's all a necessary part of the outdoor man's training, the Government says, and lack of knowledge of this essential unit of the trainee for his outfit either in the barracks or field.

"Standard" Has New Motor Fuel

Should Cause Development of Higher Compression Motors for Practical Use

An entirely new motor fuel which is predicted will now make possible the greater development of the higher compression motors for practical use, and which will also give ordinary cars increased power has been produced by the Research Laboratories of the Standard Oil Company (N. J.).

It is more powerful than gasoline and may be the forerunner of a sensational improvement in the design of automobile engines.

This announcement was made today by Frank Howard, head of the Development Department of the Standard Oil Company. His staff members more than 100 men who have devoted a large part of their time for the past six years to perfecting this new giant power fuel.

"This new fuel is a compounded motor fuel," stated Mr. Howard, "and represents the crystallized results of all that is known today with regard to the production and selection of crude oils, the refining of natural gasoline, the blending of synthetic gasoline, the blending of non-petroleum hydrocarbons, and the modification of these factors by tetraethyl lead and other chemical agents."

"The possibilities of this new motor fuel are bound to have an interesting effect upon the design of motors for the future. This new motor fuel will be marketed under the name ESSO and will entirely permit the successful operation of automobile engines delivering full 25 per cent. more power for the same size and weight than the best commercial engines of today."

Eliminate Motor Knocks
"As to present day motors, we found that in numerous tests that the consistent use of this giant power fuel gives all the power in a motor, elimination of motor knocks, greater flexibility, less gear shifting, freedom from crankcase dilution, instantly starting, no battery waste, faster pick-up, better speed and pull on the hills, and new and longer life to an engine."

According to Mr. Howard, ESSO is the result of long experimenting. Six years ago the Standard Oil Company began an extensive study of modern motor conditions. It was found that the increased traffic congestion in the city streets and on the highways along with the increasing constant demand for more and greater power from the motor placed a new responsibility upon the motor fuel.

Throughout New Jersey, Maryland, Virginia, District of Columbia, North Carolina, West Virginia and South Carolina where the survey was conducted, the trend was toward a fuel that would bring out the best in an engine.

Following this field report by its engineers the Standard Oil Company immediately began experiments at their Bayway Refinery, Bayway, N. J., to find the superior motor fuel. Long special tests with all kinds of chemicals were made. All of the "Standard's" large refining facilities were employed and the best minds in the industry consulted before ESSO was finally produced.

More Proven Satisfaction
Actual road tests with motors of various types and ages were then run through. In these preliminary road tests ESSO proved a sensation. In the grueling drives which the engineers made, ESSO literally ate up the hills and the longer the hill, the better ESSO seemed to like it. On the straightway ESSO had power that fairly shot the car along.

Several tests of ESSO were held in Newark, N. J., where traffic is extremely heavy, yet the results were equally encouraging. The engineers always found a ready response from their car. The car's pick-up was astonishingly quick and the usual frequent shifting was no longer necessary. In all these tests, as motor knocks were heard.

Mr. Howard further stated that the new motor fuel would not displace the regular "Standard" gasoline, but would be manufactured only to meet certain conditions such as motor knocks, high compression, old cars, and engines operating under excessive loads.

Plans are now under way at the Standard Oil Company refinery located at Bayway, N. J., Charleston, S. C., Baltimore, Md., and Mayaguez, N. J. to have ESSO ready for public use shortly. It is now in production. The various "Standard" branches are making extensive preparations to handle the new motor fuel and large immediate distribution is assured.

Exposition Gains Federal Aspect

South Jersey To Have Many Nationally Known Attractions

With Congress having adopted a resolution authorizing an exhibit from the United States Mint, and U. S. Army Engineers reporting they have selected the site for their two-weeks encampment has taken concrete form.

Meanwhile North Jersey interest in the Exposition has increased to the point where a change in name to "New Jersey Exposition" is being continually demanded.

The Exposition idea continues to grip the South Jersey as the opening of the bridge over the Delaware between Camden and Philadelphia, draws nearer.

The management of the bridge celebration which will open July 1 and continue to September 8, is now in the hands of a committee with owners of shows and attractions who are desirous of having a place at the "Jersey World's Fair."

Efforts are being made to have some nationally known attractions booked for the entire ten weeks of the Exposition with others to change of weekly or semi-monthly. In addition plans are about complete for having a series of spectacular demonstrations in fire fighting and rescue work by firemen's associations of the lower eight counties of the State.

The proud past of South Jersey will be depicted in historical pageantry which will continue through the ten weeks of operation. Music and fireworks with athletic contests, all have been arranged for to the extent that the attractions and amusement features of the Exposition now assure intense interest being maintained for the period of the Exposition.

Communities and industries, along with commercial and financial institutions have proven with their demand for exhibits spaces, that the Exposition will present an almost complete picture of the greatness of South Jersey.

The big Convention Hall and Annex on the Camden Civic Center, is about sold out on space. So are other structures. Now a new feature has been incorporated. That is the "Tented City."

The Ivan L. DeBray Expositions Co., has signed a contract with V. Bennett, president and A. E. MacKinnon, director of the Exposition, to bring to the grounds, the greatest spread of canvas ever presented in New Jersey.

The tents to be used are almost as large as those occupied by the main structures of leading circuses. In fact, one of the DeBray canvas "buildings" is the second largest in the United States. They are equipped with brass railings, wide carved pillars and other features which caused them to be named the "California de luxe type."

President Bennett recently returned from a trip to the Pacific Coast. While there he found that the deluxe type of commodious tent was preferred by large exhibitors over the temporary variety of building usually presented at Expositions. Recently they were used by the famed "Orange Show" at San Bernardino, National and State advertisers will present their products in the tents as well as the local type of exhibitor.

A half million persons are expected to attend the Exposition on the first four days. This is because of the opening of the Delaware Bridge and a visit from President Coolidge, with the Fourth of July wedged in.

The Exposition grounds are but five blocks from the Camden Plaza of the bridge and on the direct highway to the shore resorts. In fact, the new highway cuts off a small corner of the fifty-seven acres tract where the fair will be conducted.

July 15 has been set as the date when the mayors of twelve other Camdens will gather at the Exposition grounds to dedicate a

Something given it such a very

I dislike the imputation
Of its ladylike design,
For it bears no close relation
To things no closer and less fine.

But I like to hear it spoken!

Then it seems a happy token
Of what friendship ought to be;
Then I feel that I've been greeted
As a comrade and a pal,
And I'm sure that I'll be treated
Just like Jim and Tom and Al.

Yes, I'd rather have men hail me

Dream to Become General Realized

Visions of Doughboy 33 Years Ago Come True; Rethers Has Thrilling Career

The youthful dream of a doughboy, formed thirty-three years ago when he was a private in the First United States Infantry, came true with the appointment of Colonel Harry F. Rethers as assistant quartermaster-general of the Army, with the rank of a brigadier. He succeeded Brigadier-General John B. Heilinger, who was retired from active duty due to having reached the age limit of 64; it was learned today.

This signal reward, coming after long and persistent effort, was hailed in Army circles as being well worth the many years of service. It was in 1893, shortly after he had graduated from the University of California, that Rethers joined the First Infantry. In this regiment, where he won rapid promotion, first to corporal and then to sergeant, he served for three years.

The knock of opportunity was headed by Sergeant Rethers early in 1896. He grasped it, and in March, that year, won a commission as second-lieutenant in the Regular Army.

In the war with Spain, after he had been a second-lieutenant for two years, young Rethers won recognition. He hurried himself into the battle of San Juan, near Santiago, July 1, 1898, with such effect that he was cited in orders for gallantry. Three months afterward he became a first-lieutenant.

Two years later found Lieutenant Rethers in China. As a member of the Ninth Infantry in the Boxer rebellion, he distinguished himself on July 13, 1900, at Tientsin, where he was again cited and rapidly advanced to a captaincy. He served with distinction in the Philippine insurrection and on the Mexican border, moving up through the grades of major and lieutenant-colonel. He was made a full colonel during the World War. In 1918 he was transferred to the Quartermaster Corps.

Colonel Rethers served as chief quartermaster of the base section in Great Britain during the World War. Following the armistice he had charge of the liquidation of war stocks and the cancellation of War Department contracts in that country. For this work he was awarded the Distinguished Service Medal by the United States, while the British Government conferred upon him the order of St. Michael and St. George.

During his tour of duty in Europe he was also assigned to duty with the graves registration service in France, then occupied in sending home the remains of thousands of soldiers killed in action and the gathering of the remaining dead into eight permanent cemeteries in Europe. In recognition of this work the French government made him an officer of the Legion of Honor.

Brigadier-General Rethers returned to America in 1922. He has since been on duty as quartermaster of the Ninth Corps Area, at San Francisco, and is now in the Quartermaster General's office in Washington.

Haddon Heights Team Swamped in Open Air Meet on Local Grounds

Palmyra High School's track and field squad overwhelmingly defeated the visitors, athletes of Haddon Heights High School, in a dual meet at the Field Club Park, Thursday afternoon of last week.

The protégés of Harold "Boots" Lever, erstwhile Penn captain and former intercollegiate champion, piled up a total of 48 points against 8 of the visiting team. First place in every one of the seven events was captured by Palmyra, and in three of the events a clean sweep was registered by the winning team.

Outstanding in the brilliant triumph was the all-around work of Bruce Beahn, captain of the Palmyra team. Beahn was clocked in at 19 and 2-5 seconds in winning the 100-yard dash and ran anchor on the victorious relay quartet. Al Mueller ran second to Beahn in the "century" nosing out Bob Mathews, who also scored third in the running broad jump.

The "440" went to Palmyra, both Spencer Davidson and "Hank" Jenkins, finishing one, two. First and second places in the shot put also went to the winners, Henry Mathews and Art Hatterbury hurling the shot farther than Spach, the best Haddon Heights thrower.

The summary:
100-yard dash—Won by Beahn, Palmyra; second, Mueller, Palmyra; third, Mathews. Time, 19 2-5 sec.

220-yard run—Won by Davidson, Palmyra; second, Jenkins, Palmyra; third, Johnson, Haddon Heights. Time, 57 4-5 sec.

One-mile relay—Won by Palmyra (Hengert, Atkinson, S. Davidson, Beahn); second, Haddon Heights (Lilient, Kirsch, Turnbull, Fry). Time, 3 min. 47 sec.

Running broad jump—Won by Rubreck, Palmyra; second, Stall, Palmyra; third, Mathews, Palmyra. Distance, 10ft. 2 1/2 in.

GATES BEING MOVED
Railroad Company Making Improvements at Main Street, Riverton, Crossing

Several months ago, Director of Public Safety Williams was promised by the railroad company that the gates at the Main street crossing would be moved back and the crossing widened. This week the company's workmen started the operation. The westerly gates are to be moved westward ten feet, part of the eastbound platform cut away, and a section of the fence between the tracks removed and the roadway in this section repaved. The telephone pole on the westbound side of the tracks will also be moved. New and better gates will be installed and the paving of the crossing between the rails repaired.

This will make a fine improvement, and coming as it does just before the rush of summer traffic, it will be a great convenience to the traveling public.

The work is in charge of Frank Ehrbridge, foreman of gates on this division.

THE QUESTION BOX

Jesse James

J. O. B. Palmyra—When, where and how was Jesse James, the outlaw, captured?

Ans.—Jesse James was not captured. He was assassinated by his supposed friend at his home near St. Joseph, Mo., on April 3, 1882. His "friend," Bob Ford, did the act in order to reap the reward of $5,000 offered for James dead or alive.

Biggest Nut in World
Cracker, Cincinnati—You are so good at answering questions you tell me what is the biggest nut in the world?

Ans.—In our opinion the biggest "nut" in the world is the person who asked this question.

"Besides" and "Except"
B. E. B. Cincinnati—Do the words "besides" and "except" have the same meaning? If not, explain the difference with an illustration.

Ans.—"Besides," taken as a preposition, expresses the idea of addition, thus: "Others there besides me." "Except" expresses the idea of exclusion, thus: "No one was there except me."

Elfin Tower
Ruth, Riverton—A soldier who was overseas told me the Elfin tower was 1,000 feet high and was the highest structure in the world. Is he correct?

Ans.—Very close. The Elfin tower is 984 feet high—the highest structure ever made by man.

Who is Healthiest?

W. H. Y. Palmyra—I would like to know which is the healthier of the two—a fat person or a thin person?

Ans.—Usually a thin person is healthier than a fat individual, although the percentage drops in both cases the farther they are removed from the normal.

Long Way to Go

J. E. Y. Riverton—Will you please settle this dispute by answering if the percentage of intelligence is higher in Canada and the United States than it is in the European countries?

Ans.—Obviously it is, although we have no data on this point in the European countries. According to official psychological tests in Canada and the United States the percentage of intelligence is about that of a normal 12-year-old boy. Therefore, we have a long way to go before we are 100 per cent intelligent.

Best Kind of Potatoes

Jack, Cincinnati—Can you tell which are the best kind of potatoes to raise?

Ans.—That depends altogether on the locality. As a rule, the early variety for this part of the country is the Early Ohio, the Early Rose, the Irish Cobbler and the Bliss Triumph. The late variety should be the Rural New Yorker, the Mountain, the Peerless and the Burbank.

Warren Gamaliel Harding

Mary, Riverton—May I ask you in your question column what was the middle name of Warren G. Harding?

Ans.—The deceased president's full name was Warren Gamaliel Harding.

Singer Building the Tallest

H. J. G. Palmyra—Will you please settle an argument by stating if the Singer Building in New York is the largest in the world?

Ans.—The Singer Building is the tallest building floor space, but the Hudson Terminal in New York is the largest. It has fifty elevators to take care of its tenants and employees.

Ann, Palmyra—Why do so many dance orchestras play jazz music instead of something more refined?

Ans.—Probably because they can play the same thing over and over without anybody recognizing it.

Has Your Dog Been Vaccinated? Rabies in dogs seem to be unusually prevalent this year, and stringent measures are being taken by many municipalities to protect the public. Last year many people who owned dogs had them vaccinated against rabies. This vaccination is still in the experimental stage as to the length of time of immunity. It is, therefore, recommended by veterinarians that dogs be vaccinated every year.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The Girl Reserve Club Advisers met on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Cochley of Medford for an evening of work, play, and fellowship.

Mrs. Cochley opened the meeting with an inspiring talk of the joy and privilege it was to be a leader of girls. All the leaders took part in a discussion on the question: "What Do Our Girls Need Most?" This discussion not only brought out what the needs of girls were, but ways of meeting these needs.

Miss Mildred Farnell, Girl Reserve Chairman, told about the Burlington County reading list for Girl Reserve Leaders. Three of the leaders have already read the suggested number of books. Recognition of this will be made sometime in June.

The last hour was spent out-of-doors on the beautiful lawn in front of the Cochley home. A large fire illuminated the space and every one enjoyed roasting frankfurters and marshmallows over the fire.

The evening's program was concluded with a very effective fire ceremonial. (Miss Mary Rhoads of Moorestown told about the significance of fire in all times. Miss Dorothy Melinger, Miss Anna Haines, Mrs. Alice Stevens, and Miss Margaret Thomas brought offerings from Nature to the fire.)

Everyone expressed great appreciation of the hospitality of the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Cochley.

Hiking is the newest hobby. The Girl Reserves of Mount Holly, Moorestown, and Chesterfield enjoyed the beauty that is rampant everywhere. Flowers, birds, trees, and camp fires are only a few of the joys that are to be had for the taking.

At the meeting of the Jobstown Girl Reserves on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Margaret Lippincott led a discussion on the Girl Reserve Code. The girls told what they thought the phrases of the code meant, and the great responsibility that was theirs in living up to those ideals.

Reservations are now being made for the Burlington County Business Girls' Banquet to be held in the Burlington Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, May 15. All the members of the business girls' clubs and their friends are invited to attend the banquet. A good dinner, a good speaker, and a good time are a few of the reasons why every business girl in Burlington County wants to go. Tickets, at the price of seventy-five cents per plate are on sale at the County Y.W.C.A. office.

In either upper corner under the words "Sesqui-Centennial Exposition" appear the dates "1776-1926." All the lettering on the stamp is white-faced roman.

The new sesqui-centennial stamp will first be placed on sale on May 10, 1926, at the post office at Philadelphia, Pa. Boston, Mass., and Washington, D. C., and for the benefit of collectors and stamp dealers, it will also be placed on sale the same date in the philatelic agency, Division of Stamps, Post Office Department.

"HARD COOKED" EGGS

"Hard Cooked" Eggs Not Necessarily "Hard Boiled" Says Specialist

Many hotels are now listing on their menu cards soft-cooked and hard-cooked eggs in place of soft-boiled and hard-boiled eggs. Commenting on this, Marie C. Doerman, a food specialist, remarks, "The expression 'hard-boiled' is a term 'hard-boiled' is well deserved whether used in connection with men or eggs. An egg becomes 'hard-boiled' when it is cooked at a high temperature for a long time, and therefore harder to digest. This tends to discourage many people from eating them."

"To get the most benefit of the iron, lime, phosphorus, vitamins, protein, and fat furnished by eggs we should cook them at a low temperature. Take an egg and place it in a pan of boiling water and boil 3 minutes, the usual method of preparing 'soft-boiled' eggs. Now take an egg and place it in a pan of boiling water, immediately removing the pan to a place where the water cannot boil, on the back of the range or over a very low flame. Allow the egg to remain in this water 8 minutes, open both eggs and compare the results."

"Another day boil one egg for 10 minutes; and put another in a pan of water that is kept just below the boiling point. Let this egg stand 30 minutes. In both cases the eggs cooked in the boiling water will be more leathery and tough than the egg placed in the boiling point. A jelly-like consistency in eggs is desirable if one wishes to have them the most palatable and digestible."

CLEMENS A. HAAS, SR.

Clemens A. Haas, Sr., one of Riverside's pioneer business men, died Sunday at the Lankenau Hospital, Philadelphia, following a short illness, in his 72nd year of life.

Mr. Haas, well known throughout the state, was an ardent and active Democrat. During Grover Cleveland's administration as President of the United States, he served as postmaster at Palmyra for two consecutive terms. An ardent and unassuming friend of the needy his loss will be deeply felt.

At his bedside during his last hours were his sorrowing wife and ten children. Hundreds of persons paid silent tribute to their departed friend Tuesday evening as they filed past his bier.

A requiem mass at St. Peter's Church, Riverside, was held Wednesday at 10.00 a. m. The Rev. John E. Caton celebrated the mass, assisted by the Rev. John Luciti, of Riverside, and the Rev. Leo Denim, of Moorestown.

Other priests present at the services were Rev. James F. Hendricks, of Moorestown; Rev. Joseph A. Hines, of Riverton; Rev. John B. Conway, of Merchantville, and Rev. John J. West, of Hopewell, N. J.

He is survived by his wife, Mary C., four sons, Theodore, Clement, John, Joseph and six daughters, Mrs. J. Galt, of Highland Park, Pa.; Mrs. Robert Robinson, and Mrs. Alphonsus Jordan, of Riverside; Mrs. Katherine Musselman, of Watertown, N. Y., and the Misses Anna and Loretta.

JOSEPH F. SCHMIERER

Joseph F. Schmierer, after an illness of less than two days, died while under an operation at the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, Sunday morning.

Mr. Schmierer, who was 53 years old, was stricken Friday with what physicians say was a most unusual attack of illness. When his condition became worse Saturday evening he was rushed to the Camden Hospital and Sunday morning surgeons operated for what was diagnosed as a blood clot in the intestines.

Although he was not a member, the deceased was a regular attendant and worker of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church and the Wesleyan Men's Bible Class. He was a very active member of Camp 25, P. O. S. of A. and had rarely missed a meeting for years. He was also a member of the Palmyra Eagles and K. of P. Lodges.

He had lived in this locality practically all of his life, having spent his last seven years in the Schmierer home on Cinnaminson Avenue, just beyond the Palmyra line. Prior to that time, Mr. Schmierer had lived in Palmyra and on the Burlington Pike.

Mr. Schmierer is survived by his wife, M. Ada, and six children, Harold, Joseph, Jr., Harris, Elsie, Marie and Wilson, all at home.

Funeral services were held at his late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 with the Rev. J. W. Lee, pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church, officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery with Funeral Director Frank A. Snover in charge.

Mrs. Sarah Morley, of Trenton, is spending a few days with Mrs. William Powell.

Thirty-five Boy Scouts from the Palmyra, Riverton, Riverside, Burlington district spent Saturday and Sunday in Washington. The boys report they had a very enjoyable time in helping to inaugurate the new hall at the national capital.

Scout Executive John H. Tullis, of Burlington, and Scoutmaster Shoemaker, of Riverton, accompanied the party.

Government to Make Permanent Army Base in Jersey

Some mighty good news was broadcast among the members of the Mount Holly Business Men's Association at the regular business meeting of the organization last week, when it was stated on good authority that the United States Government has at last decided to make a permanent army camp of Camp Dix and that next year a huge sum of money will be available for its improvement.

This was made known when Secretary Herbert S. Killie announced that he had received letters from Senators Edwards and Edge and Congressman Bacharach, all of which gave assurance that Camp Dix was to be made a permanent camp. The letter from Senator Edge contained quotations from a letter received by him from Secretary of War Weeks in which it was stated that $1,029,000 had been appropriated for the purpose of making the camp permanent and that the money would probably be available next year.

ABRAHAM AND THE KINGS

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 14:1-24.
GOLDEN TEXT—In all these we are more than conquerors through Him that loved us.—Rom. 8:37.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Abraham Saves
Lot From Danger.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Abraham Rescues
Lot.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Abraham's Courage and Generosity.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Victory Through Faith and Courage.

I. Lot Taken Captive (14:1-12)
Lot's misfortune was due to his selfishness in choosing the best land regardless of the moral risks in his associations (13:10, 11). The Jordan valley was very fertile, but a place of moral snare because Sodom was there. Frequently the pasture for cattle contains poisonous growths.
Lot's trouble was not primarily because he was a bad man, but because of his aspirations. The steps taken by Lot as shown in chapter 13 were:
1. He lifted up his eyes and beheld
(v. 10).
2. He chose him all the plain (v. 11).
3. He dwelt in the cities of the plain
(v. 12).
4. He pitched his tent toward Sodom
(v. 12).

5. He dwelt in Sodom (14:12).
6. He sat in the gate of Sodom (19:1).
II. Abraham Rescues Lot (14:16)
1. News brought to Abraham (v. 13).
Abraham was in a place of safety.
Just why the man who had escaped came to Abraham with the news we do not know. Perhaps Lot had requested him to tell Abraham of his misfortune, making known the fact of his kinship and through him appealing for help.
2. Abraham in pursuit (v. 14, 15).
Abraham, the gentlehearted, forgot Lot's selfishness and ingratitude, organized his servants and by a night attack defeated the enemy. Abraham might just have left Lot to his fate, but because Lot was his brother he forgot his wrongs.
3. Lot rescued (v. 16).
Not only was Lot saved, but the women and his goods were rescued.
Because Abraham was separate from Sodom he was able to save his brother.
The one who is separate from the world has power to overcome it, while the one who is joined to the world is helpless and is carried away with its ruin.

III. The Ministry of Melchizedek
(v. 17-20)
Melchizedek, a mysterious person, suddenly appears on the scene. His name signifies "king of righteousness."
He was also king of Salem. Salem means peace. The name is descriptive of his office, rather than a proper name. He is a type of Christ. The following features are suggested by A. T. Pierpont:
1. He represents a primitive universal faith, antedating, outranking and surviving the Levitical.
2. He was the priest of the Most High God—a more comprehensive name than Jehovah.
3. His order of priesthood was not local or temporary, but universal and permanent.
4. He outranked even Abraham, who paid him tithes as to a superior.
5. He was prophet, priest and king —all in one, a sort of threefold personage.
6. He was not reckoned according to human genealogy nor limited course of service.
7. He was both king of righteousness and king of peace. Righteousness pertains to the name of the nation and peace, to the realm. Abraham gave tithes to Melchizedek, and this was the standard of giving in the Old Testament, but the New Testament puts giving on a higher plane. In 1 Corinthians 16:1 the believer is instructed to give as the Lord prospers.

IV. Abraham and the King of Sodom
(21-24)
The king of Sodom offered Abraham reward. Abraham was quick to discern his ploy in receiving gifts from him. He knew that what he had done was through the grace of God upon him. He would not use this grace for private gain, would not complicate himself with the world for the sake of money. He anticipated this temptation and had covenanted with God not to yield to it (v. 22-23).
Ministers and evangelists have made grave mistakes in receiving and even seeking financial help from godless people. The God who is possessor of heaven and earth does not need the help of the world. The world must not have opportunity to boast.

Our Punishment
The seeds of our punishment are sown at the same time we commit the sin.—Hebrews.

Tears
Tears are often the telescope through which men see far into heaven.

RE-ELECT McCARTER

Public Service President Continues; Financial Statements Shows Gain

Thomas N. McCarter was elected president of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey for the twenty-fourth time by the directors of that organization at their annual meeting last week. All the other officers were re-elected. P. M. Ladd, Ludlow, who has been stock transfer clerk, was made an assistant treasurer of the corporation.

Resolutions were adopted on the death of Randal Morgan, who died March 20. Mr. Morgan had been a director of the corporation since its organization and at one time was a vice-president.

A comparative statement of combined results of operations of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and subsidiary companies for the month of March and for the twelve months ending March 31, 1926 shows that operating revenue of subsidiary companies in March 1926 amounted to $3,852,272.56 as against $7,690,861.84 for March 1925 an increase of $1,161,410.92.
Net increase in surplus before dividends for March 1926 was $1,470, 125.65 as against $820,074.46 for March 1925, an increase of $650, 051.23.

For the twelve months ending
March 31, 1926 operating revenue of subsidiary companies was $37,
700,718.13 as against $39,171,
644.17 for the twelve months ending March 31, 1925 an increase of $8,529,073.96 and net increase in surplus before dividends, $11,878,
254.74 as against $7,377,525.25.

In view of the fact that many western states have made great progress in supplying farmers with electric current at reasonable cost, the State Board expressed the opinion that New Jersey offered similar opportunities in this direction. A survey looking toward the Farm Projects Under Survey

Agriculture Board Probing Credit Situation and Power-Light Facilities

Two constructive projects, including a survey of the credit situation as it affects the farmers in the state and a study of electric light and power facilities for communities, have been endorsed by the State Board of Agriculture. At a meeting of the Board for agricultural improvement, and Secretary William B. Duryee was instructed to conduct a rigid inquiry of the subjects and report at a subsequent meeting on the progress made in their development.

In connection with the credit situation, work has already been started in cooperation with the State Bankers' Association. A questionnaire will be sent by the bankers' agricultural committee to all banks in the state serving the farmers, completely covering their credit activities. The Agricultural Department will also forward to the farmers a questionnaire for the purpose of securing an expression on the needs for credit and the development of a more constructive policy in making loans.

Expansion of electrical energy has been started under the direction of H. B. Weiss, chief of the Bureau of Statistics and Inspection of the State Department.

With increasing competition from producing areas outside the state, the Board felt that every available opportunity should be seized for developing rapid transit of fruits and vegetables so that Jersey producers could be transported to the markets early and, therefore, bring satisfactory prices. This project contemplates a demonstration in combined rail and truck shipments, the trucks serving as feeders to important stations, thus enabling fast express trains to make fewer stops and bringing the produce to the markets more quickly and in better condition. This project is also under way under the direction of H.
B. Bamford of the Bureau of Markets.

Nearly 3,000 herds of cattle are now under supervision as the result of intensive work carried out in the last few years in testing individual herds. It was decided by the State Board, however, to take a step forward whereby the work could be carried out on an area basis, eradicating tuberculosis from counties and townships by united action of all herd owners where public sentiment will bring about the desired result. Plans for this project are now being carried out by the Bureau of Animal Industry, and actual work will be started in the near future.

Secretary Duryee stated that in carrying out these projects the resources of the State Department will be fully utilized, and other agricultural agencies of New Jersey and nation will be asked to cooperate where joint action is desirable.

The early switchboard made it possible for one "private line" to be "switched" to another, thus making intercommunication of a sort possible. The modern telephone switchboard has become possible only through thousands of improvements developed during the fifty years since the telephone was invented.

INTER-COMMUNICATION

The first two telephones in New Jersey were on a "private line," each connecting only with the other.
So it was with the next two; and the next.
Intercommunication between all telephones in the community came only with the first switchboard, in the late Seventies.
To many people the continued development of this switching apparatus is the outstanding accomplishment of fifty years of telephone history.
They shake their heads at the thought of an ordinary conversation between two cities three or four thousand miles apart, and wonder at the strides of Science. But perhaps their sense of mechanics is most confused in considering the switchboard complications involved in the connection of any two telephones—"anywhere, any time"—without interference or confusion of the thousands of other calls being made simultaneously.
In cities like Atlantic City, Camden, and Trenton the most ordinary local call may pass through two "private branch" and two "Central Office" switchboards. A toll call from any point in South Jersey may pass through three or four central office switching mechanisms.
To match with improvement and simplification the inherent complexities which accompany telephone growth is an undertaking which becomes more difficult each year.
Yet, at the present time, the general speed and reliability of connection are continually climbing, and the next ten years will show further attainment that should make the present service seem only commonplace.

CHILDREN'S BANK

The only children's bank, conducted exclusively for children is operated at Moonheart, Ill.

This children's bank at this time has deposits totalling $12,000, and these deposits are guaranteed by the assets of the Loyal Order of Moose, which total $35,000,000.00. Everyone of the 1300 children there is depositor in the bank.

This unique bank is operated like any national bank, yet it has no president, directors or officers. All phases of banking are carried on, including all kinds of deposits, and the making of loans. The bank is a part of the school curriculum, so that the children will have gained a thorough knowledge of how to deal with banks, for their benefit after they have completed their school career.

Loans of money are made to the older children, who wish to buy articles which are called luxuries. All necessities of life are provided for the Moonheart children, yet bicycles, roller skates and the like are listed as luxuries and children wishing for them may get them with their own money. If their bank account would not warrant making the expenditure they are permitted to make a loan, providing the superintendent grants permission. No interest is charged for the use of the money, although a phantom charge for interest is made so let them know that it cost money to use money of others.

The children's bank is the means of teaching the children thrift, and they are taught how to spend money judiciously. Money is accumulated by the children in various ways. There has never been corporal punishment here. The merit and demerit system is used. The smaller children are given a gold star for each day they violate no rule in either their cottage or the kindergarten and low seems in the school. For each gold star a penny is deposited in the bank to their credit. If they lose a star, they lose the credit of 14 cents for the week. Of each 14 cents deposited in the bank they are permitted to spend four cents the week.

Older boys and girls, who are employed at tasks outside of their regular assignments are paid a fixed hourly salary, and earn money that way.

All accounts in the children's bank are divided equally, between the checking and savings accounts. After a child has accumulated $10, a savings account in its name is opened with a bank in an outside city, so that the account can draw interest.

HIGHLAND CATTLE

From Oban to Inverness, through the "Great Glen of Scotland" on the Caledonian canal, is a most delightful trip. Few will forget the sylvan beauty of these shores, in the land of bluebells and heather, of clans and kilts.

We reached Inverness on a fine evening just at sunset. This capital of the Highlands is set in a landscape of purely Highland splendor. The picturesque castle on its elevated site, the broad, clear river winding its way to the sea, and the hills in the background gay with purple heather and green fern form a beautiful picture in the soft light.

While at Inverness we spent a day at the "Highland Show." This is the principal stock show in Scotland and meets at the different centers each year. It is a hundred years since the first Highland Show was held, and ever since it is worthily celebrated annually.

It was most interesting for Americans to see the exhibits of live stock, the cattle, horses, ponies, sheep and goats, so very different from those of our own country. Handsome Clydesdale and other horses, fat cattle of many kinds, and pretty sheep with broad backs and coats of thick, creamy wool. Here were a hundred and more Shetland ponies from the Shetland Islands off the coast of Scotland near by, little beauties of all sizes, some tiny ones, harnessed to carts, driven by children, and others larger, ridden by boys. Especially beautiful were the Highland cattle, with their long, sweeping forms, slightly curved horns, broad brows and coats of red, light yellow, brindle or white. They have a wealth of thick hair to protect them from the cold of the severe winters in the mountains. Some, indeed, have hair five and six inches in length.

These creatures remind one of the pretty cattle pictures we see painted so wonderfully by Rosa Bonheur, but of course the Highland cattle in life are still more beautiful.

REORGANIZE GUARD

Captain Long Recruiting New Unit For Mount Holly

An effort is being made to reorganize Company M 114th Infantry of Mount Holly, recently disbanded, and Captain J. F. R. Long has been commissioned by the state military authorities to take charge, pending an election of officers which will be held after the reorganization has been perfected.

The minimum number of enlisted men required is fifty, and already twenty-five of these have been secured, as a result of two meetings that have been held.

Members are paid for all drills, uniforms are furnished, opportunity is given to spend fifteen days in camp at Sea Girt, with pay, and also to use at will the $50,000 armory as a club house.

The crazy man succeeds. We saw, normal, standard, regular fellows spend all night reading his biography to learn how he did it.

SPRING FESTIVAL

Drexel Institute Will Stage Celebration May 6, 7, 8

An elaborate three-day Spring Festival is to be conducted by the students of Drexel Institute, as their contribution to the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition. More than five-hundred Drexel students, many of them representing foreign lands and different sections of the country, will participate in the celebration which will be held May 6, 7 and 8.

One of the most important and interesting features will be the Historical Pageant of Revolutionary Philadelphia, to be given in the Drexel Auditorium on Saturday evening, May 8. Four hundred students, in costumes prepared by students in the Home Economics Course, under the direction of the English Department, will present a number of tableaux. The script for the pageant was prepared by members of the English faculty, after much study and research.

Another feature will be the May

Fete in the Great Court on the afternoon of Friday, May 7, when more than a hundred students, representing the various people who settled in America, will appear. Drexel's prettiest girl student, to be selected from the Junior Class by vote of the Freshman Class, will be crowned Queen of the May at this Fete, the participants entertaining her.

The Festival, the result of many months of study and work, will open May 6th with the Senior Ball for students and alumni. The following morning a Musical Festival will be held in the Auditorium, to be followed by the May Fete. A formal dinner for student house girls and their parents will then be given by the college authorities. In the evening the Engineering Exposition will be opened. The following day, Saturday, Drexel will hold open house, with visitors welcome to visit classes. The Engineering and the two Home Economics Exhibits will be open to the public throughout the day.

"Plantation inn," a cafe and dining room appropriately decorated,

will be conducted within the college for the convenience of visitors.

Will Select Slogan For Hospital Drive

Five Thousand Ideas Have Been Submitted by County School Children

Work began early this week on the task of selecting a slogan for the hospital drive being conducted on behalf of the Burlington County Hospital which will from June 1 to 11 conduct a cooperative effort to raise $250,000 for a new hospital. Over 5000 slogans were submitted by school children from all parts of the county and the task of selecting the one most fitting for the campaign will occupy the time of the committee for several days, with the winner being made known next week.

Firm in the conviction of the need of a 100 bed hospital centrally located, prominent citizens from all parts of Burlington County have sought opportunities to serve on behalf of the hospital. From the volunteers, the following have been chosen to direct activities in their various communities: Dr. Joseph Stokes, Moorestown; Alfred E. Bell, Medford; Edward H. Lewis and Morris K. Perinich, Mount Holly; James S. Coale, Riverton; William J. Irick, Vincentown; Joseph S. Evans, Marlton; John D. Johnson, Jr., Hainesport; George F. Reid, Lawnerton; David S. H. Croshaw, Cookstown; John V. Bishop, Columbus; Theodore H. Budd, Pemberton; A. Engle Corrow, Ranococas; Charles J. Carpenter, New Lisbon; George Pfeffer, Florence; Alfred Johanson, Smithville; John H. Hutchison, Bordentown; W. J. Chataworth, and others.

Organize Campaign

Many meetings will be held under the direction of these men with other prominent citizens in an effort to make this the most intensive and most successful campaign ever undertaken in the county. They appreciate and are thoroughly in the need of a hundred bed institution and are bending their efforts to have everything ready for the opening of the campaign on June 1, when Burlington County will be given an opportunity to provide that which has long been needed, a commodious and modern hospital.

With the plans of the hospital well under way for a new structure, many interesting facts have come to light concerning the tremendous and beneficial work it has accomplished in the past. One of these is the fact that during the half of its existence, it has passed through 43 years without a deficit, there having been none in the past 30 years. This is one of the most unusual records ever attained by an institution in which half of its patients are free patients and in testimony of the care exercised in its management.

With but one or two exceptions, the hospital has shown a constantly increasing number of patients annually. The highest number treated was in 1925 when 648 patients received treatment at the hospital. The influenza epidemic and the proximity of Camp Dix resulted in the next highest number, 610 being received in 1918. The lowest number of patients received in any of the past ten years was in 1923, when 448 patients were cared for, this figure amounting in 1924 to 603, placing the year in third position in the number of patients cared for.

Additional Services

With the erection of the new hospital, there will be afforded many hospital services which have heretofore been denied the residents of the county, through lack of a maternity ward, fully equipped to meet the needs of the county and with sufficient accommodations for all. Private rooms and ample space in ward will make possible the extension of hospital service to many who would otherwise find it necessary to go to outside hospitals or else remain at home.

Competent authorities are predicting much greater automobile traffic through the county this year than ever in its previous history, brought about by the opening of the new bridge between Philadelphia and Camden, the Sequel Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia, the new Speedway at Hammonton and a greater influx into the shore resorts than in past history. Increased automobile traffic will mean a greater increase in accidents and it is felt that the inadequate facilities of the present Burlington county Hospital will be greatly overtaxed throughout the summer. This can mean but one thing, that many residents of the county desiring hospital service will find beds already occupied by others and the need for greater facilities will be emphasized more clearly than ever. Under the contemplated plans, the number of beds will be increased to 100, will give a broader scope and greater service to the hospital, a service which it has desired to give for many years and which is now in sight.

WIFE WINS

Husband Failed to Support Her, Says Mrs. Edward Abell

Some West Palmyra family difficulties were settled in the office of Justice of the Peace Elmer Shane, Delanco, Monday night. Edward Abell, of West Broad street, charged that his wife had deserted him about a month ago. Squire Shane issued a warrant for her arrest.

When Frances, the wife, who had been living in Atlantic City, heard she was "wanted" she immediately returned to Palmyra and reported to Chief of Police Beck, in whose hands the summons had been placed.

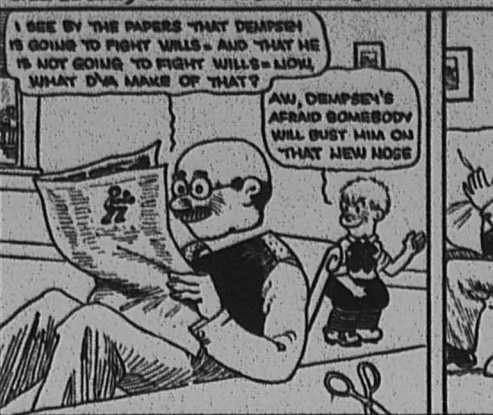

The young wife charged that her husband did not properly support her and she refused to live with his parents any longer. Justice Shane ruled that unless the husband supported his wife and provided a home without the woman's "parents-in-law," she might continue to live where she chooses, and dismissed the case.

Cinnaminson School News

MAY 6, 1926

No. 1

Our percentage of attendance for April was 94%.

The Junior Boys of our school are very grateful to the members of the Rotary Club for the "movie" tickets. We are glad that Boys' week comes around once a year. Many thanks!

This is "Clean-up Week" at Cinnaminson. The playground is getting its Spring housecleaning. The boys of the eighth grade measured the playground. Then they drew a map of the grounds using the scale 1/4 in. = 1 yd. The playground is now divided into 7 zones. These zones have been marked with white line. Each grade is responsible for the condition of a zone. Inspectors have been chosen from the eighth grade. Every day these boys will check up and if the zones are clean and in good order the grades will be a "credit." At the end of the season the grade which has the most credits will be rewarded. No more banana peels, we hope.

Dr. Hulce has examined the teeth of all the children in the school. Last week the school nurse took a load of children in for dental treatment. When the children left school they looked more as if they were going to a picnic than to the dentist. More children will be taken for treatments soon.

Thursday, June 3rd is the day set for frolic and fun at Cinnaminson. Children from near-by districts, and those from Westfield Public School will meet for a match of skills and wit in races, three-legged events, and other games, drills, and other events. Come out and see the clowns. The entire athletic field will be the main tent. Admission will be free.

The boys who are doing carpentry work in the Manual Training shop have recently turned out an interesting assortment of bird houses. Take a look around Five Points, East Riverton, Cinnaminson, Fork Landing and Taylor's Lane.

Margaret VanBibber represented our school at the spelling contest at Mount Holly on Saturday.

Miss Heister Phillips who has been in Cleveland and Sandusky, Ohio has come again to Jersey and Riverton. Altho' she will not resume teaching until the Fall term, she will, 'tis said, frequently visit Cinnaminson.

The shrill ring of the new electric clock bells has replaced the old ding-dong of the hand rung bells. Lines are rapidly formed. Those from grades 1 to 4 are supervised by "Special Officers" from the Fourth Grade.

The Seventh Grade made $18.00 selling magazine subscriptions. They expect to buy some more athletic equipment.

We have been to Yellowstone Park!

We have also had quite delightful trips to the Haunts of "Early Spring Birds" and "Early Spring Wild Flowers." As a change we decided to go to the places now visited by Amundsen and Wilkins; so we took a trip through "Eskimo Land." Home industry finally claimed us and we went to Pateron after journeying through Japan to see the "Making of Silk."

These trips, of course, were made possible by our lantern and slides obtained through the courtesy of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Resources at Trenton.

More Money From State

Burlington County Gets $8,250 From Emergency State School Fund

Distribution of $39,000 of emergency State School funds to needy districts, recommended by State Commissioner of Education John Logan, has been approved by the State Board of Education, and this county will get $8,250 the largest amount allotted.

After investigation Commissioner Logan reduced the amount to $8,250. The emergency fund total, approximately $100,000 annually and unappropriated balances lapse into the general fund for school purposes. Commissioner Logan secured approval of the emergency requests at Saturday's meeting so that his statisticians may submit at the June meeting the allotments of 1926-1927 State School moneys to the various counties.

Atlantic county was allotted $2,500 of the emergency funds and the balance of the county is: Bergen, $8,000; Burlington, $8,250; Cape May, $2,500; Cumberland, $4,250; Hunterdon, $1,000; Monmouth, $2,000; Ocean City, $7,500; Salem, $2,000; Union, $1,000. For the current school year the State Board distributed $31,550 as emergency funds.

Dr. Charles H. Elliott, of New Brunswick, recently named to the Board by Governor Moore, was appointed to the finance and housing and health committees. Dr. Elliott, a professor at the State University at New Brunswick, succeeds to the vacancy of Dr. Logan, now State Commissioner.

The board voted to penalize Hope Township, Warren county, for ignoring a ruling to provide transportation by withholding school moneys. Rebe Troxell was reappointed attendance officer for this county at an annual salary of $1,500, an increase of $200.

ADDED HORSE POWER

No Lizzie and Blind Steed Get All Tangled Up

Nearly everybody knows Josh Clark, the former garbage collector, hauler, and according to latest reports, farmer. Well, anyhow, Josh has a son, Charley, who has a most unusual experience last week.

The Clarks own one of those brand of tin-can type automobiles. It is more or less a dispirited sort of a vehicle, naturally, and is of the vintage of—well, we'll leave that to your imagination or intelligence.

To get back to the yarn, Charley was coaxing the more or less balky auto down Delaware Avenue one day last week and it stopped dead. Pretty talk, abusive language, tinkering and what not was without avail.

Then Charley resorted to ingenuity, dashed down to the farm and returned shortly with their old, blind horse. Then the sightless steed was hitched up to the dormant lizzie.

For some unknown reason, something seemed to suggest to Charley that the car might have taken offense to the additional horse power and possibly would be in a humor to run should he try to start it. And run it did!

Charley soon was in a terrible plight, the auto was running, and was hot on the heels of the blind nag, which was still attached. Forseeing a terrible accident, Charley directed the car in the direction of the driveway, the "nag" placed solidly into a lamp post, Charley made a wild leap from the machine, glass flew in every direction and the blind horse wrapped itself around the street light with the rather sickening noise.

Alarm clocks are altogether too efficient.

LAUDS "COOP" FRENCH

Moorestown Boy's Work on Diamond Praised by Charlie Rogers

In a contemporary newspaper, Charles Rogers, the famed University of Pennsylvania athlete, highly praises the work of "Coop" French, former Moorestown High star athlete, and brother of Connie Mack's brilliant outfielder, "Pete" French.

"Coop" is well known in the Twin Cities. He is a cousin of Leonard R. Baker, of Garfield Avenue, Palmyra, and played with the Methodist team in the Twin City Twilight League last season.

Rogers' comment on "Coop's" work follows: "Coop" French, played a great game of baseball at shortstop for Staunton Military Academy on Franklin Field, Saturday, when the Virginia School played Penn. French. The Moorestown boy gave a great exhibition of scooping up the ball and handling the bat.

Fans, who were present at the game were amazed at the skill and dexterity with which the local boy handled himself on the diamond. Time after time, Coop nailed the runner at first after making a sensational stop and shooting the ball to the initial sack with the speed of a Bender.

French also gave a splendid exhibition with the stick, having a batting average for last season of 500 per cent. This, by the way, is not anything new for the Moorestown boy as he has been hitting the ball for an average of 520 per cent. for the games played thus far for Staunton.

Since French has been at the Military School he has become one of the best athletes they have ever had. He is by far the best man on the diamond nine and also starred on the court and gridiron last season.

TIRE THREE CAUGHT

About two o'clock Wednesday morning Officer Quigley saw a man emerge from the rear of Joseph T. Evans' coal yard carrying a load of something. The officer investigated and found Penn Scott, of East Riverton, carrying off some automobile tires. He placed him under arrest and at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Coddington Wednesday afternoon Scott admitted his guilt. He was committed to Mount Holly in default of bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Mr. Evans has been using automobile tires for sometime.

POSTPONE ALUMNI DANCE

Due to the fact that its dance would conflict with the Palmyra-Riverton group of the Y. W. C. A. Hop, the Palmyra High School Alumni Association has postponed the date of its dance from Saturday, May 15, to Saturday, May 22. The dance will be held in P. O. S. of A. Hall and the music will be furnished by the popular Royal Commodores, Palmyra's dance orchestra.

The flivver has become so universally used that men and boys with real sporting instincts have resorted to the bike. A bicycle club of a score or more riders passed through Riverton Sunday morning.

Riverside Kiwanis To Give Big Show

Follies of 1926 Will Be Staged on Saturday, Monday, and Tuesday Evenings

The Kiwanis Follies of 1926 are all set to go. The annual production of the Riverside Kiwanis Club, which will be held in St. Peter's Hall this Saturday and the following Monday and Tuesday evenings, is expected to surpass all previous successes of the Riverside Club.

The proceeds of the big show go into the Kiwanis public welfare fund and will help provide the wherewith for the many charitable enterprises in which the club engages.

The cast of the Follies includes fifty-five people, all at performers in amateur productions. The orchestra comprises nineteen musicians, including the famous Charlie Schwartz, saxophone soloist with Sousa's band.

The Follies Director, Dr. J. L. Edwards, president of the Kiwanis club, and Edwin Cox, Jr., U. of P. Mask and Wig star, who is training the dancing choruses, are much pleased with the fine progress made by all members of the cast and are confident that every member will rise to the occasion in the great show when the curtain rises Saturday evening.

Final touches are being put on the scenery and costumes and many of the striking effects of the production will be due to the skill and taste of the committees having these matters in charge. Everybody is requested to be in his seat at 8 p. m. sharp so that there will be no interruptions after the show starts. There will be no dull moments or long waits during the progress of the plot. The brisk action of the dialogue and the variety of songs and dances that never lagged for a minute have always been attractive features of the Follies shows. The production is also kept clean of any objectionable forms of wit and humor, so that no one's sense of propriety will be offended.

Number one chorus will appear in costumes comparing favorably with that of the big musical comedies.

Palmyra High School Notes

On Friday, May 14, Palmyra High School will hold its tryouts to select representatives for the Burlington County High School oratorical contest which will be held May 21.

Each high school is entitled to two entries, a boy and a girl. Palmyra High has won several first prizes in this annual contest.

The Palmyra schools contributed $46.65 toward the fund raised in Burlington County each year for the Parent-Teacher Association scholarships. The money is raised by the sale of tags to the pupils.

The Palmyra High School senior class will go on its three-day trip to Washington, D. C., this week. There will be sixty in the party which will be chaperoned by Miss C. Elizabeth McDonnell and Carl P. Hurlock, members of the Palmyra High faculty. The party will leave 8:30 Thursday morning and return Saturday evening. The seniors will visit all of the points of interest at the capitol and will stop at the Hotel Lafayette while in Washington.

READY FOR PLAY

"Miss Somebody Else" to be Presented Friday and Saturday

The stage is "all set" and everything is in readiness for "Miss Somebody Else," the four-act comedy which will be presented in the Palmyra High School auditorium Friday and Saturday evenings of this week by the Friendship Circle Class supported by the Goodfellowship Class.

Director David Shanks will conduct the dress rehearsal of his well balanced cast Thursday night to put on the final polish for the two night run.

Solos by Miss Dorothy Warner, Palmyra's premier danseuse, and Mrs. Benjamin Turnock, soprano, will be among the attractive features of the show. Music will be furnished by the Palmyra High School orchestra under the direction of Louis R. Richards.

The cast includes Fred W. Metzger, Lawrence B. "Toots" Parker, Clifton Taylor, Harry K. Strang, Raymond D. Lamont, James J. Thomas, Mrs. Wesley Davies, Miss Elizabeth V. Hires, Mrs. Benjamin R. Leach, Mrs. Clarence N. Hubbs, Miss Josephine Hannold, Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. Elsie Smith, Mrs. Spencer Johnson, Mrs. Ethel Jones and Miss Gladys Locke.

Although a splendid sale of tickets has been reported, John White and Mrs. Russell Hamelman, the committee in charge of tickets, say there will be plenty of good seats on sale at the door both nights.

We are peculiar creatures. No man is satisfied to find the present as good as he hoped it might be. It must be better than he ever imagined it.

WILL BUILD GRAND STAND

Contributions Coming In and Plans Laid for Big Season in 1936

MANAGEMENT WANTS ROOTERS TO TURN OUT

The committee financing the Riverton baseball team announces that sufficient funds have been raised to start the erection of a grandstand on the field at Memorial Park with the assistance of Joseph T. Evans and J. S. Collins & Son, who contributed the lumber, and Allen P. Deacon and Walter G. Miller who will do the work.

The committee extends on behalf of the club sincere thanks to all who have contributed funds, time and effort to the organization of the Riverton baseball club, and hopes that those who have not yet contributed will fall in line, as it will take considerable money to put a first-class team on the field and maintain it during the season.

Liberal attendance at the games is also urged, not only for the financial returns, but also for the encouragement it will give the boys. Nothing heartens a ball player like an aggregation of enthusiastic rooters.

Following are the names of those who have contributed and the names of the collectors:

M. Sontheimer—W. R. Latch, John Wilson, Charles Wanger, Henry Randall, Ralph Flower, William Blythe, H. M. Kieckhefer, Robert Biddle, F. B. Elwell, Mr. Shocker, H. F. DANCING EXHIBITION

Miss Dorothy Warner, Palmyra's popular dancing teacher, will hold her annual exhibition on Friday evening of next week in the high school auditorium, beginning at 8.15. Thirty-five of Miss Warner's pupils will take part in the program, illustrating all the best types of group and solo dancing. There will be tap dancing, character work, nationality or folk dances, together with much toe and ballet work.

Many of the number will present beautiful and spectacular effects. Miss Warner has several advanced pupils who have been under her training for a number of years and have presented splendid exhibitions in previous entertainments.

TENNIS BEGINS

Field Club Courts Ready for Play This Week

The tennis season of the Palmyra Field Club will be opened this week. "Pop" Mathers has been busy getting the four best courts in condition for play and the tennis committee is working hard for a successful season.

A big effort will be made this year to increase the membership more than ever and special inducements may be offered in the way of reduced fees. While tennis expenses have always been lower in Palmyra than elsewhere, it is felt by the committee this year that so many additional members may be obtained as to reduce the cost to every player and place the club on a better financial basis than for several years.

The committee wants to get in touch with everyone in Palmyra and Riverton who likes this form of summer sport and recreation and anyone considering playing is requested to get in touch with any of the following: Monty Simmons, Artie Simmons, Harold Baker, Bill Burgess, Harry K. Strang, James J. Tomen, Bert Marple (at the bank), Frank Chambers, Wilbur Crane, Francis Durgin, Jim Rustie, Elmer Loughery or any other Field Club tennis members.

It is also hoped that the girls will be out in full force this year and it is planned to form a committee to make a special drive among the young ladies.

Palmyra Plans for Big Fourth

Proposition To Do Away With Celebration Owing To Sequel Quashed

Plans for Palmyra's 1936 Fourth of July celebration were discussed at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday evening.

Councilman Edwin Lees, chairman of the Fourth of July committee, opened the discussion by stating that he had doubts about the advisability of attempting a celebration this year, inasmuch as there will be so much doing in connection with the Philadelphia Sesqui-Centennial celebration at that time.

The Fourth is the date set for the formal opening of the bridge and the Camden South Jersey Exposition, also will be running full blast at that time and Mr. Lees felt that most of Palmyra's population would be attending those celebrations on Independence Day.

Another thought introduced by Mr. Lees was that it had been five years since an Old Home Day celebration had been held in Palmyra and that it might be an opportune time to stage a big celebration of that nature later in the summer or early fall, after the Sesqui had lost its novelty, than to expend the energies of the committee in a Fourth of July program.

McCrosson speaks. Most of the members agreed with Mr. Lees until Thomas McCrosson arose to make a rousing speech in favor of holding the Fourth celebration as usual. Mr. McCrosson said he saw no reason whatever for laying down on a good proposition. The Fourth program has been a great success every year and it has meant much to Palmyra. To omit the celebration this year would dampen the ardor of patriotic citizens who support such movements.

Furthermore, he declared, why should Palmyra forget its own identity and depend on other towns for something to do to celebrate the nation's greatest anniversary. No matter how many go to Philadelphia, declared Mr. McCrosson, there will always be plenty of people who would prefer to have something doing right at home. The crowds and perhaps the heat will make conditions almost unbearable in the city during the height of the celebration there and it would be a welcome relief for home town people to have an interesting celebration in their own cool, quiet little town.

This splendid address made quite an impression on the Chamber and a committee was appointed to confer with the Fourth Committee on the subject. The Chamber's committee was named as follows: Thomas McCrosson, W. E. Jenkins, M. P. Atkinson.

Endorse Bridge. A resolution was passed endorsing the proposed bridge across the river here and a copy will be sent Charles A. Wright, president of the ferry company.

Walter Lamon reported that all the plans and specifications for concrete streets had been prepared and would be submitted to interested citizens at an early date.

The proposition of widening and improving Broad street in the business section was also discussed and a petition will be addressed Borough Council urging that body to consider the situation.

Since the June meeting of the Chamber will be the last until fall, it is the desire of the officers to have something unusual in the way of entertainment and refreshments, so the following members were appointed to cooperate with the entertainment committee to arrange matters: Walt Lamon, George Wimer and Robert Gallegary.

The standing committee is Dave Schwartz, Ed Patterson, Frank Shover and Bert Horner.

At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments consisting of strawberries and ice cream were served.

The boosters are making such big heads of the growth of their town, that they must be counting in the near built by the birds.

WIMER IS HOST ON BIRTHDAY

Entertains Grammar School Children on Sixtieth Anniversary

SAYS THE YOUNGSTERS ENJOY LIFE MOST

George N. Wimer celebrated his sixtieth anniversary Tuesday with a "Kids" party in P. O. S. of A. Hall.

Two hundred children, comprising all the pupils of the Palmyra Sixth, seventh and eighth grades, were invited to be Mr. Wimer's guests at 2.30 in the afternoon and they all showed up at the appointed time, under the chaperonage of their teachers and Professor Griffith wondering who in the world was in store for them.

As they filed into the hall each "kid" was presented with a colorful hat, a toy balloon and a general assortment of efficient noise making apparatuses.

Mr. Wimer started things with a little speech, saying that he had long planned to celebrate his 60th birthday with a real party, where there would be plenty of fun for everybody, and he had decided that nobody on the world could enjoy a party as well, or make him as happy, as a bunch of youngsters.

He took a moment to tell the youngsters what a great country they live in, how America is full of opportunity and happiness for everybody, and then asked the youngsters to sing "America" which they did with vim and vigor.

Harry White, the entertainer, was then introduced. He and his supporting cast showed the youngsters a wonderful time with tricks of magic, a punch and Judy show and several fancy musical numbers.

At the end of the program a perfect afternoon was topped off with ice cream and cake for everybody.

Mr. Wimer was assisted by Walter D. Lamon, Miss Irma Rich, Chief of Police Beck, the teachers and others. He certainly had a wonderful birthday.

P. H. S. Nine Wins Over Temple High

Home Run by Captain Scheer in First Inning is Feature

The Palmyra High School baseball team traveled to Philadelphia Tuesday afternoon and defeated Temple University High by the score of 12 to 10.

This was Palmyra's seventh game of the season. The record to date is five won, one tied with Mt. Holly, being called in the eleventh inning on account of darkness, and one lost. It is hard to find a better record among the High School teams.

In the game Tuesday Palmyra began her harvest of runs early. Captain Scheer, the first man up in the first inning, knocked the first ball pitched over the left field fence for a home run. The next man up lined out a two-bagger and then the Temple pitcher realized that he was pitching to real ball players and settled down to work.

An Coach Morse says, "The boys went into the game with a determination to score at least one run in every inning and more if they could get them." They nearly succeeded, scores were made in six innings out of nine. Two double plays featured the game.

West, the regular Palmyra pitcher, was out of the game with a bad arm. It fell to the lot of Jack Smith to carry the burden for his school, which he succeeded in doing in great shape. Paul Mueller held down first and gathered in everything that came his way. Jack Blakey took care of center field in fine style and caught some hard chances.

In the eighth inning the game was tied 10-10, Palmyra made two runs in the first half of the ninth making the score 12-10 in favor of Palmyra. Temple failed to score in the last half giving our boys the game.

Friday Palmyra plays Haddon Heights at Haddon Heights.

Officer Lawrence Betty Digs Out Two Little Children in Nick of Time

Ruthie Schwartz, five-year-old daughter of Maurice Schwartz, and little Margaret Dror narrowly escaped death Saturday afternoon, while playing in the cellar excavation at the corner of Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue, where the ruins of the building are being rebuilt.

The children had gone down in the cellar to play. Since it was Saturday afternoon no workmen were there to warn them or keep them out.

Without warning one of the side walls caved in, completely covering both children.

Mrs. Fred LaPiere, who lives nearby was in an upstairs room dressing. Mrs. LaPiere had been watching the children playing and saw the accident. Realizing the necessity for quick action, she ran down stairs and called to a boy to run to the corner and tell Officer Lawrence Betty, who was on duty at that time.

Officer Betty ran to the place and dug the children out with his hands. They were rushed to the office of Dr. Voorhis, where it was found that they were uninjured, except for slight bruises and shock.

Only a few seconds longer under the dirt and the children would have been suffocated, but due to the quick thinking and acting of Officer Betty and Mrs. LaPiere their lives were saved.

Police Not Law Week Found Only Law-Abiding Drivers. One Had Numbers Mixed

Two members of the State Police Force, Officers Quigley and Miller and Director of Public Safety Williams got together to check up on violators of traffic laws last Friday afternoon. For three hours in the afternoon they stopped every car that passed Broad and Main streets.

Only one man was caught without a driver's license, which he left home in another coat, and another driver's registration number did not correspond with his license tag. Investigation proved that the mistake had been made at the office issuing the tag in Burlington.

RIVERTON'S MOVIE FILM BIG BOOST FOR BOROUGH

PLANT COMING TO EAST RIVERTON

Auto Equipment Corporation Has Purchased Ground for Erection of $70,000 Plant

In a conversation with Councilman Edward R. Williams this week, E. A. Borgard, sales director of the Motor Requirements Corporation, of Camden, said that his concern had decided to come to Riverton anyway, and erect its plant at East Riverton, notwithstanding it did not receive the sanction of the Chamber of Commerce.

The advantages of coming to Riverton, Mr. Borgard said, were sufficient to outweigh the offers made by other places. A site for the plant has been purchased from J. L. Lippincott at East Riverton, and it is expected to break ground next week.

The films for the "Romance of Riverton" were taken with a Bell and Howell camera costing $175.00, and they were shown with two Holmes projectors, the best type of portable machine made.

The picture that was shown with the "Romance of Riverton" was "The Man Without a Country."

The co-operation of the business men and others in producing this film was most gratifying to the committee having it in charge and to Mr. Cooper, who "shot" it.

A feature of the plan which grew in interest as the days went by was the prizes offered by the merchants and which were awarded each night of the show. Riverton never does things by halves and the prizes given by Riverton dealers were well worth winning.

The prizes, the donors and winners were as follows:

Mrs. Alfred Smith, boys sport socks, won by Ted Hohn; man's shirt, won by Morris Farrow; silk step-in, won by Mrs. S. A. Davis.

Clinton B. Woolston, three Vaseline mirrors for automobiles, won by William A. Welsh, Dr. H. R. West and Charles A. Wright. It was a peculiar coincidence that all the winners' names commenced with the same letter as Mr. Woolston's—"W."

Taylor's karras, calculator, won by John A. Stroblom.

Lawrence L. Keating, Shaffer sterling silver pen and two boxes of stationery, won by Samuel Jones, Miss Frances Kuppert and Mrs. Huff.

Albertson's service station, 25 gallons of gasoline, won by David Land.

Chew Bros. Bakery, ten-pound cake, won by Mrs. John Glass.

Compton the Grocer, basket of groceries, won by Albert Vanciver.

Wheaton Market House, $5 order of groceries, won by Mrs. John B. Patterson.

New Era, emergency kit, won by Edgar Shauer.

Joseph M. Roberts, aluminum bath and three other utensils, won by James Westcott.

S. J. Coddington Estate, baseball bat, won by William F. Becker; baseball glove, won by John Crawford.

Will K. Brown's upholstery shop, Windsor chair, won by George B. Shauer.

Plans for Bridge Rapidly Advanced

Company to be Organized Within Two Months, Says Charles A. Wright

Preparations are under way to form a company to erect a toll bridge over the Delaware river, from Palmyra to Tacony, according to a statement made this week by Charles A. Wright, president of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company.

Mr. Wright gave a brief resume of the plans of the company. He said that they picked Palmyra as a possible location for a bridge because any such structure above Delair would only have to have 50-foot clearance, while a bridge below Delair must have a headway of 135 feet. The up-river bridge could be a draw, while a cantilever or suspension bridge would be needed down river.

The organization of the company will be affected within the next two months, declared the president of the ferry company. The personnel of the company will be chosen, for the greater part, from the directors of the ferry company. The whole purpose of the bridge will be to protect the ferry, he asserts.

"The greatest harm in the life of any ferry is a bridge," declared Mr. Wright. "Eight-Mile-Point is a bit of ground owned by the ferry company. It is at the narrowest part of the Delaware below Trenton. At this place the river is only 200 feet wide."

"A bridge across the river at this point would connect the richest part of Jersey with the most productive section of Philadelphia. Actual statistics show that 90 percent of the productivity of Philadelphia lies above Race street in Philadelphia."

"The Burlington-Bristol bridge will not interfere with the proposed one in Palmyra because the residents of the riverfront towns need some means of entrance into Philadelphia. They surely will not take the trouble to go to Burlington, then cut back from Bristol."

ALMA STACK STAR

Palmyra Songbird Entrances Audience at Kiwanis Follies

Alma Stack, a little Palmyra girl with a wonderful voice, was the hit of the Riverside Kiwanis Follies when that annual production was presented in Riverside Saturday, Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Miss Stack has a beautiful soprano voice with a wonderful range and perfect control and the liquid melody of her songs, entranced the whole audience every time she appeared.

While Alma has sung occasionally during the last two or three years before local audiences, every new appearance brings added surprise at the rapid development of her art and there are many who predict that she will go far in the musical world.

The Kiwanis Follies were a huge success. The house was sold out each of the three nights and the show was such a tremendous hit that everyone marvelled at how amateur talent could possibly produce such a wonderful entertainment. Many Palmyra and Riverton folks attended, including a full representation of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club at the big Inter-Club meeting Tuesday evening.

FILM NOW BELONGS TO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

"The Romance of Riverton" has passed into history, and the film recording the activities of the borough and Cinnaminson township reposes in the archives of the Riverton Chamber of Commerce.

The picture was a huge success from every point of view. It afforded entertainment, it brought together in a pleasing form an illustration of what this community possesses and it will be a splendid reminder of the progressiveness of Riverton in the outside world.

This is a new form of civic advertising, and Riverton has the advantage of being one of the first places to adopt it.

The films for the "Romance of Riverton" were taken with a Bell and Howell camera costing $175.00, and they were shown with two Holmes projectors, the best type of portable machine made.

The picture that was shown with the "Romance of Riverton" was "The Man Without a Country."

Radio Training In Army Camp

Uncle Sam Wants 300 Youths
For Month of Wireless Instruction

Attractive, up-to-date radio laboratory, ideally situated, with spacious grounds and dwelling adjoined—free to suitable tenant. Modern and complete sending and receiving sets, with expert engineers furnished to explain operation, without charge. Meals, clothing, and laundry service supplied free during occupancy. Travel expenses from home and return given tenant. Available for thirty days.

The radio-godfather who could advertise such a bargain would have to appeal for police reserves to keep back the rush of fans, yet there really is a radio laboratory which fits the above specifications. And instead of a single tenant, its facilities will accommodate almost three hundred radio enthusiasts.

This extraordinary place, let it now be told, is located at Fort Monmouth, N. J., where Uncle Sam will pitch one of his Citizens' Military Training Camps for the exclusive use of radio and communication amateurs, opening August 6 and continuing for thirty days.

Admission to the camp is offered young men between the ages of 17 and 24 who are interested in modern methods of electrical communication, especially radio. American citizenship, or first naturalization papers, a physical examination, and a certificate of good moral character are the only requirements.

For thirty days those who attend will be under the instruction of the Army's leading electrical engineers. The students will be put to no personal expense. Uncle Sam pays for wholesome food, uniforms, athletic equipment, laundry service, medical attention, and railroad fare to camp and return.

Experimental Laboratory
At Fort Monmouth, until recently known as Camp Alfred Vail, the United States Army has its greatest radio engineering and experimental laboratory. These unparalleled facilities will form the major basis for practical and theoretical training which the C. M. T. C. candidates will receive. Fort Monmouth is also the national headquarters of the Army-Amateur Radio Net Control System, Station 2CKL.

Much of the instruction will employ the short wave loop set operating on the band from 68 to 75 meters, with which Army radio experts have made phenomenal progress recently. Other experiments which are constantly under way to bring Signal Corps practice to the highest pitch of efficiency will also give the amateurs who attend the C. M. T. Camp a splendid opportunity for technical instruction.

Two chief divisions of the radio instruction have been made for the C. M. T. C. training. The official designation of one is the Radio Operator Course, which is explained as one of the most thorough and popular of the C. M. T. Camps. It has for its object the training of students to become competent operators and the demonstration of all types of Signal Corps radio sets.

The purpose of the Radio Electricians Course, says the Signal Corps Bulletin, is to develop radio specialists who not only will understand the efficient operation and electrical principles of all types of Army radio sets but who will be competent to locate and remedy any trouble which may develop in those sets.

How the Army Does It
Besides the purely laboratory work the C. M. T. C. students at Fort Monmouth will be shown how Army signalmen establish radio communication from complete field stations within six minutes from the time they reach the location.

Another feature will be the use by the C. M. T. C. students of the giant super-heterodyne set developed by the Signal Corps for communication between airplanes and the ground.

While at Fort Monmouth young men of the C. M. T. Camp will be given the opportunity to see the working out of the new plan to develop a nationwide amateur radio net to be known as the Army-Amateur Net, centering on Station 2CKL. Those who desire it and can pass the Government tests will later be given a certificate for their home stations designating them as Official Army-Amateur Radio Stations.

The civilian amateur who thinks that four or five high-power broadcasting stations operating in close proximity are a nuisance, if he takes the course at Monmouth will come back with a greatly altered view of his home radio problems. For he will learn that within the area occupied by a field army it is necessary to employ more than two hundred separate transmitting wave lengths for the radio system. There are more than a thousand transmitters and an equal number of receivers, all of which must function without interference during an engagement.

MORE P. S. BUSES

Following its order for 888 gas-electric buses some of which are now in operation, Public Service Transportation Company has placed an order with the same Chicago Company, the Yellow Truck and Coach Manufacturing Company, for fifty-four additional chassis of the same make. They are expected to arrive in the next two or three months.

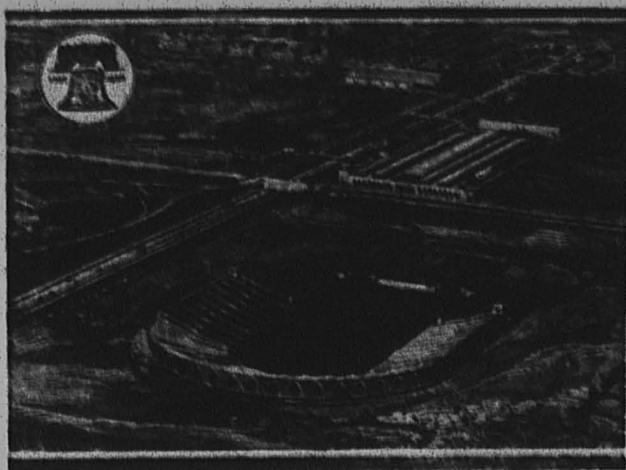

The chassis will be shipped directly to the Newark Shops of the company and there the bodies will be built. Of the original 88 buses ordered, it was stipulated that 500 were to arrive fully equipped with the exception of a final coat of yellow paint which is put on at the shops. The contract provided that the chassis only of the remaining

An idea of the size and scope of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which will be held in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1, to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the Declaration of American Independence, is given in this photograph. In the foreground is the great Municipal Stadium, which seats 100,000 persons. North of the stadium can be seen two of the vast exhibition buildings. The first is the Palace of Agriculture and the second the Palace of Liberal Arts. Opposite the latter building is the big auditorium, which seats 20,000 persons on a single floor. To the left of the stadium can be seen the world famous Indian building, the Taj Mahal.

County "Y" Drive Meets Big Success

Fund of $15,000 is Oversubscribed by Nearly One Thousand Dollars

There was a high pitch of enthusiasm among nearly four hundred men and boys who attended the annual convention and dinner of the Burlington County YMCA at the Baptist church, in Burlington, last week. Every part of the program was enjoyable and was especially pleasing when the announcement was made that the coming year's budget of $15,000 had been overdone at least $1,000 through the liberality of the people of the county interested in this phase of boy work. It was felt that the money-raising campaign had been moving along satisfactorily, but it was not until the convention was a general report of its complete success was made. Cheers went up when County Secretary Hendy announced a total of $15,900 and more to come.

The evening's program was directed by County Chairman William F. Overman, of Moorestown, Treasurer Frank W. Thacher made his usual pleasing report to the effect that all bills of the past year had been paid and the slate was clean.

John W. Thacher reported on the new Camp Okanilchon site near Medford and told of the things that had been done and what the promoters hoped to do. Credit was given to Henry F. Stockwell, of Moorestown, for the very forward work he had done toward clearing this site. Franklin S. Chambers of New Lisbon, chairman of the Burlington County Hospital Board of Council, made a fine address appealing for support in the campaign to raise funds for a new hospital to begin on June 1.

In recognition of his twenty-one years of service as a member of the County Committee, S. Roger Oliver, of Burlington, presented a bouquet to Mr. Overman. In response, Mr. Overman said that he appreciated this thoughtfulness and wanted all to understand that he had never been connected with a work that gave him more pleasure.

Seeks Immunity in Run Running

Petition in Behalf of Charles Sharp Presented by James
Mercer Davis

Immunity for Charles Sharp was the subject of a petition presented to Judge Saenger by his counsel, James Mercer Davis, and which was argued by that attorney and W. Holt Appar, representing the state last week.

Sharp was employed by Wilmer Hake, of near Hancocks, and it is claimed was driving the latter's truck on the night of the raid on the rum barge, William Blades, but he shook the dust of Burlington county from his feet and fled to Maryland, where it is said he lived at the expense of somebody, until the latter part of December, when he was apprehended by Department of Justice men.

Sharp was indicted by the October grand jury on charges of conspiracy, possession of liquor, transportation, etc., and after his capture he is supposed to have made a statement over his own signature which will prove valuable to the state in the prosecution of the conspiracy cases.

After being locked up in the county jail he was subpoenaed before the December Grand Jury and gave certain evidence.

It is in this fact that caused the petition to be presented, as Mr. Davis argued that Sharp has certain rights under the Fifth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, which says "that no witness in a criminal case can be a witness against himself" and he argued that this applied to a witness before a grand jury as well, particularly after said witness has been indicted. He submitted numerous citations to back up his arguments.

Mr. Appar took the stand that Sharp was a voluntary witness, that no evidence he had given either before the grand jury or in the statement he made was used to form an indictment against Sharp or any of the other defendants, as they were all indicted by the October Grand Jury, while Sharp appeared before the December Grand Jury several months later.

Mr. Appar also took exceptions to the petition of Mr. Davis and said it was not true in fact, as the petition cited, that Sharp appeared before the same grand jury that indicted him. Mr. Appar took the stand that there must be some benefit derived by the state before a prisoner is entitled to immunity and in this case Sharp has not assisted the state thus far.

Mr. Davis also claimed that the defendant had not been advised of his rights before he testified before the Grand Jury, but Mr. Appar replied that he had Judge Loder's word that such was not the case.

Machine Unwinds Cocoons

An Italian inventor, Doctor Fiorini, and an industrialist, Signor Baldani, have invented a device that is expected to revolutionize the silk industry. It automatically presents the cocoon to the spinning machine, holds it while it is being mechanically unwound and twisted into thread, removes the remains and presents a fresh cocoon. It is asserted that the thread is in no wise inferior to that obtained by hand methods, while the saving of labor is great.

Smart Effects in Milady's Neckwear

Scarfs Are Worn From One Shoulder or Wrapped About Throat.

The number of scarfs and scarf effects in the new spring collections is quite noticeable. Dresses of lace and chiffon destined for evening at Palm Beach, have trailing filmy scarfs of chiffon in pastel colors, or of lace tinted to match the frock. A dress of white silk crepe has side panels and a long shoulder scarf of black chantilly lace. These scarfs are worn from one shoulder or wrapped about the throat and hung over one or both shoulders.

The dress in the sketch shows Chanel's new treatment of a scarf collar. What begins as a trimming band in crepe de chine, ends as a scarf that is brought around the neck and hangs down in back! This two-piece frock has a yoke-back and a skirt that uses the theme of the flare in an original manner. This skirt wraps around and is caught at the side by a real pocket placed rather low. Like the skirts of so many of the new two-piece frocks, the lower edge of this one is bound. Jersey in blue de rose is used for this smart little frock.

Even coats have scarfs sometimes of self material, sometimes made of the lining silk, scarfs that tie in front under the chin or are allowed to hang loose on either side of the center-front opening of a coat.

Speaking of coats leads one to a contemplation of the new wraps shown for southern wear. A great number of the coats in the southern collection show the flare, from the hips or from the shoulder, the capelet, the under-arm cape and the shoulder cape. In this collection of flares and capes the few straight-line coats stand out with great distinction. Almost every material is represented—homespun, tweed, kasha and kindred fabrics, fine wool rep, frills. Several coats were indicative of the coat styles that will appear on our beaches next summer. These were straight coats of flannel or printed linen with flat white lapel collars. And such prints—stirring black, blue and red designs on an oyster ground, designs employing every color under the sun and adding a metallic thread to give the glitter.

Coats of India Prints, Flowered Peasant Cotton

Some of the specialty shops show gaily colored coats of India prints and flowered peasant cottons in vivid dyes. They are picturesque affairs that will be seen more at the Southern resorts and in the country during the coming summer than in town. In the same effect as to design, but of more important fabric, is a coat of which Lanvin is the creator. It is made of tapestry cloth of conventional pattern, in blue, green and beige. The model flares sufficiently to give generous width at the bottom, is lined with beige crepe, and has a deep turn-over collar and a band of summer crease all around the bottom and at the edge of the cuffs. Another coat of Paris authorship is of several shades of white. The geometric pattern, resembling stitching, is done with narrow braid on taffeta.

Some Odd Combinations

Among the odd mixings of materials used are cretonnes combined with lace. A cretonne afternoon frock for wear about the home is trimmed with insets of black lace or with waterfall skirt frills of lace, net or chiffon. More ornamental still are black lace frocks trimmed with appliques of cretonne flowers set on with gold or silver thread.

Made in Jewels

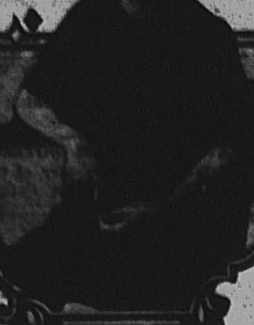

Copies of early Victorian jewelry lead the mode in smart things to wear in jewels. Designs of quaint charm and originality are to be found in the pieces which faithfully copy the mode of our grandmothers.

Y. W. C. A.

The Y. W. C. A. Choral will sing at Rancocas Friday evening, May 14. Everybody wishing to attend is requested to be at the Palmyra or Riverton Railroad station, at 7:30 prompt. Cars will be provided for all.

The local group will hold a banquet at the First Baptist church in Burlington on the evening of May 19. Those wishing tickets will notify Helen C. Stebbins. Party will leave Palmyra on the 6:55 train.

AMERICAN YOUTH

Elizabeth ("Betty") Clark, 13, of Cedara, Delaware, is one of that state's girl candidates for the American Youth Award, established by the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, to be held at Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1 in observance of 150 years of American independence. If "Betty" is finally chosen to represent Delaware she will be given a week's trip to the Exposition and to Washington and the White House, where she will receive a medal from the hands of President Coolidge.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The Kiyugo club of Mt. Holly led by Miss Ruth Armstrong, enjoyed a chicken and waffle supper at the Y. W. C. A. on Wednesday evening. This group of young women has made some very attractive lamp shades in the club this winter.

The camp committee has been working for some months on plans for a camp for the Girl Reserves of Burlington County. For several years the girls of Burlington county have camped with the Trenton Y. W. girls at New Hope. However, this year a camp will be provided in Burlington county and every girl above the age of twelve will have the opportunity of spending her vacation in camp.

The eighth annual meeting of the Burlington County Young Women's Christian Association will be at the home of Mrs. John Blum in Ridewater Park, on Saturday, June 5th. The beautiful lawn and gardens will make an artistic setting for the program which will be put on by the Girl Reserves. The business meeting will be held in the morning at 10:30, a picnic luncheon at noon, and a program consisting of music songs, drills, and a pageant in the afternoon.

The meeting of the Captain-Lawrence Girl Reserves of Burlington on Thursday afternoon opened with the Girl Reserve ceremony. After singing several songs the girls divided into groups for charades. Each group acted out some phrase of the Girl Reserve Code while the rest guessed the answer. The last half-hour was spent out-of-doors playing ball.

The Chataworth Girl Reserves met on Monday afternoon for the purpose of preparing for a Mother and Daughter program to be presented the latter part of May. The girls practiced the songs which they will sing at that time, and planned a program of appreciation of mothers. The Girl Reserve candle lighting service will conclude the evening's program.

Mother Goose will visit the Y. W. C. A. of Mount Holly on the Saturday and evening of May 29th. She will bring many of her favorites such as Simple Simon, Jack and Jill the Little Bo-Peep, with her. These miniature friends will bring samples of their wares to sell to their many admirers. At stated intervals all business will stop, and the children of Mother Goose will perform on the lawn between the Y. W. C. A. dining room and the Burlington County Y. W. C. Office.

"Miss Somebody Else" Provides Much Amusement on Two Evenings

"Miss Somebody Else," the four-act comedy given by the Good-fellowship and Friendship Circle Classes of the Epworth Church, was presented to large and appreciative audiences Friday and Saturday evenings at the High School Auditorium.

Mrs. Wesley Davies, the leading woman, scored a success both evenings, ably supported by Fred Metzger, who played the opposite role. Miss Elizabeth Hires lived up to her reputation as a charming ingenue with "Tootsie" Parker as the villain of the piece.

The audience was kept laughing throughout by the drolleries of the two old maids, portrayed with much skill by Mrs. Clarence Hubbs and Miss Hannold.

All the members of the cast proved their parts well under the able direction of David Shanks.

Surprise Party Held on Funeral Director's 39th Anniversary

The members of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club were the guests at a surprise party given at the home of Frank A. Snover last Thursday evening in honor of his thirty-ninth birthday.

The members were instructed to meet at the club room the same as usual. On gathering there it was found that no preparation had been made for the meeting. The caterer had not prepared the table, nor was there any evidence of his intention to do so. The members soon began to think it was going to be a disaster meeting.

At 6:30 Dr. Mills, the president of the club, advised them to jump in their cars and follow him. Dr. Mills led them to Mr. Snover's home, where the table had been prepared for thirty-two guests. Occupying the place of honor on the table was a large birthday cake bearing thirty-nine candles. Mr. Snover proudly states that he was able to blow out thirty-seven of them at one puff.

There were thirty members of the club present at the dinner and two honorary guests, who were May or James T. Weart and the Rev. J. W. Lee. At the close of the dinner Mr. Snover was presented with a beautiful bronze desk set by the entertainment committee of the club.

George Wooten and George Steele made a report of the proceedings of the Rotary International Fiftieth District Conference, which they attended at Reading two weeks before.

The spirited song leading of Pat Steudte added cheerfulness to the meeting. The meeting was adjourned at 9 o'clock and was voted a huge success by everybody present.

The free movie tickets given to the boys under 14 years of age by the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club were greatly appreciated by the youngsters. William Cooper, Jr., Victor Lee Washington, and Horace Young, of the 4th grade in the Palmyra Grammar School, wrote letters of appreciation to the club.

HOW TO RAISE GOOD SMALL FRUITS

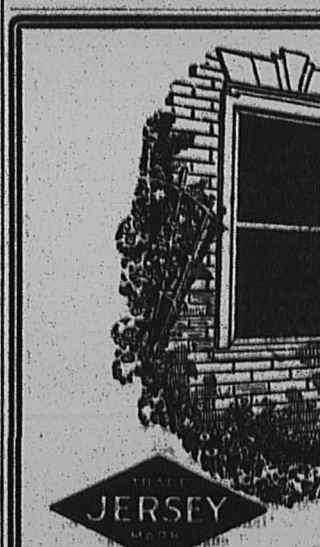

Small fruit plants, such as currants, gooseberries, raspberries and blackberries may be grown to perfection in the average back yard garden in New Jersey. J. H. Clark, assistant professor of pomology at the State College of Agriculture, states that the success of these gardens lies in careful cultivating and proper fertilizing.

Weeds and grass, he says, use large quantities of water and plant food and must be hoed and pulled out. Frequent cultivation not only keeps weeds down, but helps to conserve moisture by forming a mulch of fine dust. A good substitute for cultivation is a layer of straw material, at least a couple of inches thick after it is well packed down.

The fertilizer question has been more or less thinged with mystery especially to the suburban gardener, but is in reality very simple. The only three fertilizer materials likely to be needed and the form in which they can be most cheaply purchased are as follows: nitrate of soda or sulfate of ammonia; acid phosphate; and muriate or sulfate of potash.

On the average soil, the following amount in pounds sufficient for 500 square feet or 100 feet of row, would probably give good results: nitrate of soda 3 pounds, acid phosphate 6 pounds, and potash 2 pounds. This material should be broadcast in the spring, before the kind of May, unless taken that the material does not fall on the leaves if the plant has started growth.

The same quantity of fertilizing elements bought ready-mixed would undoubtedly be more expensive. Some good fertilizers, which will probably be more expensive than the above, although this depends on local conditions, are: barayed manure, sheep manure, poultry manure, ground bone, dried blood and tankage. If poultry manure is used, one bushel would be enough for a 100 to 150-foot row of small fruit plants. Very little fertility will be added by using wood ashes, wool waste or leather scraps. Coal ashes, soot and lime will not enrich the soil, but may improve its physical condition.

Screens for a Good Looking Window

Don't imagine that the cost of copper screen cloth is prohibitive, for this is not the case. It costs from 25 to 50 cents per window more than ordinary wire cloth. Its great superiority in appearance and durability far outweighs the increased first cost. We have a large stock of 16 mesh Jersey wire cloth awaiting selection.

Playing Safe

In so many business ventures and other activities there is an element of chance that cannot be eliminated.

To some extent the risk involved may be attractive but it is well to have such ventures backed up by a sound investment elsewhere.

An account in a bank, or securities, or other articles of value in a safe deposit box furnish such backing.

New "Esso" Gas Is Now on Sale

Standard Oil Company Has Perfected New Fuel for Motors

The entirely new motor fuel recently developed by the Standard Oil Company will be available to motorists this week. This new fuel is more powerful than gasoline, and besides giving greater efficiency to present motors, will make possible further practical use of higher compression motors.

According to a statement today by Frank Howard, head of the Development Department, and who was responsible for its production, the new fuel will be marketed under the name of ESSO. It is red in color, and will be dispensed only from silver pumps at "Standard" Stations and dealers.

"This new fuel," said Mr. Howard, "is not intended to displace the regular 'Standard' Gasoline, but it has been developed and will be manufactured to meet the special motoring conditions such as motor trucks, carbon accumulation, high compression motors, old cars and engines operating under excessive loads.

"The continued use of ESSO will give a motor greater flexibility, less gear shifting, freedom from crank case dilution, instant starting, faster pick-up, better speed and pull on the hills, more power and longer life.

"It is our aim to put the test of ESSO's efficiency directly up to the motorists. After a trial he can determine whether his car needs ESSO or whether he should continue to use the regular gasoline."

During the past three weeks, all of the Standard Oil Company's refineries have been busily engaged in the production of this new motor fuel and now report that they are ready to distribute it in their respective territories.

An enormous volcanic crater in the middle of a greater glacier was recently discovered in Iceland. Most hazards can grow new tails if the original member is broken or torn off.

THE QUESTION BOX

Horse Power of an Engine

John, East Riverton—Will you please be so kind as to tell me what is a horse power and how it is reckoned?

Ans.—Horse power is the measure of an engine's power as originally settled by James Watt. A 1-horse power is the lifting power equal to 33,000 pounds raised one foot high per minute. To ascertain the horse power of an engine multiply together the pressure in pounds on a square inch of the piston, the length of the stroke in feet, and the number of strokes per minute, divide the result by 33,000, and the quotient, less one-tenth allowed for loss by friction, will give the horse power.

Allamo a Mission

E. D. G., Palmyra—In reading about Davey Crockett, mention is made of The Allamo. Can you tell me what that is? Thank you.

Ans.—The Allamo was a mission church in San Antonio, Texas, which was converted into a fort in the war between Mexico and the United States. It was occupied by 150 Texans when it was attacked by 4,000 Mexicans. All were murdered, except one man that escaped and reported the affair. David Crockett was in this little garrison, and he perished with the others.

"Mother Goose" a Real Person

Mary, Riverton—Are "Mother Goose" rhymes and "Mary Had a Little Lamb" written by the same person and are they based on facts? Ans.—"Mother Goose" was a real person who lived in Boston. Her rhymes were published by her son-in-law, Thomas Fleet. The "Mary" that had a little lamb was Mary Elizabeth Sawyer, who lived in Massachusetts. The incident described in the poem really happened and was put into verse by a young student named Hawthorne, who died without ever knowing the fame his simple poem was to have.

No Month Ever Had 32 Days

Frances, Palmyra—What month in the year once contained 32 days and then was shortened two days by a Greek philosopher? Ans.—No month at any time had 32 days. Julius Caesar and Emperor Augustus of Rome each stole a day from February and added them to July and August respectively. You appear to be twisted about a Greek philosopher.

Bluebeard Hero of Story

H. S., Riverton—Will you kindly answer who Bluebeard was and was he a real person? Ans.—Bluebeard was the hero of a story of the same name. He marries Fatima, a beautiful young woman, leaving with her the keys of his castle. He forbids her to enter a certain chamber, but she, out of curiosity, enters it and discovers the remains of his six previous wives. A bloodstain on the keys betrays her to Bluebeard, but she is saved from death at his hands by the timely arrival of her brothers, who slay him.

Troy in Asia Minor

Helen, Cinnaminson—Will you please tell me where the ancient city of Troy is located and what is the population? Ans.—Ancient Troy is one of the lost cities. It was located somewhere in Asia Minor, but the exact place is not known. However, in 1873, Dr. Schliemann discovered the ruins in Asia which he considers to be Troy.

Roar of Niagara Falls

M. A. B., Cambridge—After being at Niagara Falls last summer the thought comes to me what causes that awful roar as the water falls over the high precipice. Can you tell me?

Ans.—The roar of Niagara is caused by the simultaneous bursting of millions and millions of minute air bubbles.

"Emigrant" and "Immigrant"

C. S., Riverton—What is the difference between an emigrant and an immigrant? Ans.—An "emigrant" is a person leaving a country, while an "immigrant" is a person coming into a country.

Eggs

H. B., Palmyra—Why is it that some hard-boiled eggs peel nicely and smooth while others become all scarred and hard to remove the shell?

Ans.—Eggs that become scarred and hard to peel when hard-boiled are usually eggs that are less than two days old. After two days eggs will shrink sufficiently to allow the shell to be removed easily when boiled. Immature hard-boiled eggs immediately in cold water will have the same effect.

There are 55,000,000 books in libraries in the United States.

Time's Changes Shown in Methods of Travel

Our outstanding mistake as we approach the problem of communication in South America, whether we refer to personal transportation, or freight, or electrical transmission and contact, is to speak in terms of long ago.

To illustrate: If you were a man to go to Bogota, which was for so long the very ultimate of South American travel, the chances are overwhelming that you may find him entertained with the tedious recital of William Henry Harrison of Tippecanoe and the forty-four days he spent on the Magdalena in a comfortable "bunga." The victor over Tecumseh did not know that his diplomatic mission was leading him by a circuitous route to the White House, says Stephen Bessie in the Christian Science Monitor.

Blame Rays of Sun for Mysterious Fires

Among the many causes of costly fires the sun is one that must be reckoned with, according to a general agent for the Chicago Fire Underwriters' Laboratories.

"In an Illinois city not long ago a fire broke out in the display window of a jewelry store," says the same authority, in Popular Science Monthly. "Among the window decorations was a round ball of glass with a picture under it. The glass had focused the rays of the sun so that it acted like a prism and set fire to tissue paper streamers hanging at the back."

Another natural firebug he says, is static electricity. "The other day a big garage burned. Thirteen men were injured and 10 cars burned to cinders because a garage workman didn't know that charcoal skin and gasoline are a dangerous combination. He was filling a gasoline tank and used a chain which inside the funnel to strain out the water. Friction of the gasoline falling on the skin caused static electricity. One good spark was enough to start things going."

Sheridan Supreme as Prophet of Weather

The hope to be an accurate weather prophet is one which springs eternal in the human breast. Many people who have won fame in various walks of life aspired to add to their other accomplishments that of forecasting the weather. Richard Brinsley Sheridan was no exception. Sheridan's fame as a dramatist is secure by virtue of "The Rivals" and "The School for Scandal," but not content with that Sheridan must be famed as the prophet who made the nearest best prophecy of meteorological conditions for a period of a whole year. Being a poet, Sheridan had the advantage of the scientific predictor. Poetry science may be unable to tell what the weather will be for a longer future time than twenty-four hours, but poetic fancy knows no bounds and may take its unrestricted flight a good twelve months ahead. Although Sheridan was predicting British weather, his forecast suits the Middle West, and we may rely upon it in making our plans for the year.

MICKIE, THE PRINTER'S DEVIL

Asks Support for County Hospital

Outside Institutions May Soon Bar Local Cases, Says Campaign Chairman

In a letter of congratulation to George N. Wimer, president of the Palmyra Ambulance Association, Franklin S. Chambers, general chairman of the campaign to raise $250,000 for a new and modern 100-bed hospital for Burlington County, June 1st to 11th, pointed out the need for a destination within the county limits for the ambulance. His prediction that the time will soon come when hospital service in outside hospitals will be refused patients from Burlington County is one to which consideration should be given by local residents and efforts should be made to lend every support to the establishment in this county of a hospital adequately equipped and manned with a skilled staff to meet any emergency.

In part, Mr. Chambers' letter said: "Your success is but reflection of a desire which exists throughout the county for adequate hospital facilities within its borders. This cannot be provided in the 35-bed hospital which is now in service on Mount Holly, consequently it is planned to erect a larger and modern fireproof structure to replace it. To do so, means the raising of a fund of $250,000 for which purpose a campaign will be conducted June 1st to 11th.

"The time is rapidly approaching when hospitals outside of Burlington County will be compelled to refuse admittance to residents of our county. Camden is certain to do this. It is the policy of the Delaware River Bridge and this will mean an increased demand for hospital service. It is necessary then for Burlington County to take steps at once to provide a greater hospital of its own. If the people in the county are to be afforded the hospitalization which is their inherent right.

"The provision of a new hospital is an obligation in which the entire county shares and it should be Palmyra's ambition to give the same generous support to a destination for its ambulance that it has given to the ambulance, and I am confident that when the time comes, Palmyra will appear in its true light, a progressive and humanitarian community."

When the Burlington County Hospital campaign is under way, the watch word will be "Give the Gift that Keeps on Giving," a slogan submitted by David Richle, of Mount Holly. It was one of more than 5,000 sent in by school children from all parts of the county and he will be awarded a prize of $25 at the dinner which will mark the formal opening of the campaign on June 1st, in the First Baptist Church at Burlington.

The object of the campaign of the hospital is the provision of an institution that will replace the present inadequate 35-bed hospital in Mount Holly. Under the proposed plans a modern and well equipped 100-bed hospital will be constructed with many features which are now missing in the present building. There will be X-ray rooms, two operating rooms, a maternity wing to accommodate both private patients and patients of the hospital, as the revenues derived from private rooms are the main sustenance of a hospital. The campaign will be carried on simultaneously throughout the county and every resident will be given an opportunity to participate in this great humanitarian movement to the end that the hospital service of Burlington county will be equal that of any of the adjacent counties or cities.

There will be a Children's strawberry Festival on the lawn of the Lutheran Church, June 12. Mrs. Elvin Powell entertained her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Philip Vollmer, her brother, Dr. and Mrs. Clement Vollmer, of Oakmont, and Mr. and Mrs. William Powell, at dinner on Sunday.

W. D. VANDEVER
Washington D. Vandever, 70 years old, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Vandever, 1005 Perry avenue, Saturday, May 8. The funeral was held Monday at two o'clock with the Rev. J. W. Lee officiating. Interment was made at Forest Hill Cemetery.

For Chinese Students

Sun Yat-sen university for Chinese students has opened in Moscow with an attendance of 500, 50 being from the United States. The university course is for Chinese who want to study abroad. Some of the students are from Canton and southern China, but most of them are from Mongolia and the north. Inquiries among them to ascertain their potential or bourgeois origin showed that nearly all of them came from well-to-do families or had been attracted to Moscow for adventure and excitement. One student's son mentioned that his father had 350 acres and 20 cows—plainly a bourgeois in China.

Ancient Trade Symbols

Now Almost Forgotten

The glowing red and green bottles in the drug store window are a heritage from the medieval days of Lucresia Borgia, when the drug store was a convenient place to pick up your favorite poison for some unattractive dinner guest. The well known red and white striped barber pole is the reminiscence of the days when the barber's principal occupation was blood-letting and the white stripes represented bandages. The three balls over a pawnbroker's shop were the Imperial insignia of the Mongolian conqueror, Timur the Lame, who in 1300 was called the Scourge of Europe. Later they were adopted by the Medici family of Florence, who, before they were dukes, princes of the church, and kings, were the medieval world's greatest wool merchants and money lenders. A huge wooden boot for a cobblers and a mammoth wheel for a locksmith were once familiar trade symbols for people who could not read. The classic wooden Indian, hacked out of a broken mast by some retired sailor, commemorated the fact that Indians first taught Sir Walter Raleigh to smoke. But even tobacco sellers now find it easier to attract customers with more sophisticated window displays.—Everybody's Magazine.

Idea of Submarine Warfare Is Ancient

Experimentally, of course, the idea of the submarine goes back into a very remote past. Aristotle speaks of some kind of submarine vessel used in the siege of Tyre more than 2,000 years ago, and there are occasional mentions of the idea through history. In the sixteenth century one comes to the bishop of Upsala's claim to have invented a boat for scuttling ships from below, and in 1628 Charles I gave a Dutch inventor an order for "boats to go under water," though they do not seem to have been used against the French. There were the rudimentary and unsuccessful "turtles" of Bushnell in the eighteenth century. But an ill fate visited the early inventors. Fulton's submarine was rejected by France, England and America in turn, and he set himself to the more usual work of designing boat engines. Johnson's submarine which was to have rescued Napoleon from St. Helena came to nothing. Bauer, who was taken up by the prince consort, drowned the crew of his submarine.—Manchester Guardian.

Fishes' Radio Beacon

The simplest and most constant sound in nature, the washing of the sea, serves as a radio beacon to warn whales, porpoises and many fishes to keep away from the shore and below the surface in rough weather, according to Dr. Austin H. Clark of the United States National Museum and formerly naturalist on the scientific ship Albatross.

Being high-pitched, the hissing sound of breaking waves has a marked directive quality—that is, it is easy to locate its point of origin. Being unceasing, it is distressing and repellent, and all the more sensitive sea creatures try to keep away from it. Whales, porpoises and dolphins and many fishes always keep well off shore, Doctor Clark stated, and they are apparently guided by these repellent sounds, while on a windy night various other types of life which normally come up to the surface stay well beneath it.

Wolves Make Trouble

As a consequence of the recent bitter cold and the heavy snowfalls many wolves and wild boars have descended from the mountains and made their appearance on the Carro and in other parts of the Julian Alps, says a Milan correspondent of the London Times.

One night wolves besieged the station of Prentice-Mattegnia, near Trieste, where the employees defended themselves. The wolves disappeared only at dawn. At San Pietro del Carro two big wild boars were killed. One of them weighed more than 600 pounds. A number of wild boars appeared in the province of Savona, along the Riviera. Two were killed. In Umbria wolves are reported to be ravaging the countryside. A reward of 400 lire ($16) for each wolf shot is being offered by various municipalities.

New Musical Devices

A Russian musician, S. Otter, has invented a new musical instrument which, he hopes, will replace upright and grand pianos. The instrument, which has an ordinary keyboard, is in the form of a box one yard wide and weighing only eight pounds. The usual strings are replaced by steel coils, and the little hammers by tiny pinchers which touch upon the teeth of the coils. Russian composers and musicians, including Spilietto-Ivanov and Avramov, who have played the instrument at the Moscow Conservatory of Music, testify that it is capable of replacing existing pianos and that it is a stronger tone and better intonation than the ordinary piano. The new instrument has been named "otter."

ABRAHAM AND THE STRANGERS

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 18:1-15.
GOLDEN TEXT—All nations of the earth shall be blessed in thee.—Gen. 12:3.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Abraham is kind to strangers.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Abraham Welcomes Three Strangers.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Abraham's Hospitality.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Why God Chose Abraham.

I. The Lord Appeared to Abraham (vv. 1-8).

While Abraham sat in his tent door, he lifted up his eyes and lo, three men stood by him. His reception of these three men is a beautiful picture of oriental hospitality. These beings, while called men, are also called angels (v. 10:1). When the men arose to depart, Abraham according to custom, accompanied his guests some distance on the way. One of the men was the angel of Jehovah, or Jehovah manifest in human form. The Jehovah angel remained behind to converse with Abraham. This is clear from the fact that three started out—one talked with Abraham and only two entered Sodom (v. 19:12 and 19:11).

II. God's Promise to Abraham Re-affirmed (vv. 9-15).

The Lord communed with him about his personal interests, showing how Sarah should have a son in her old age according to the covenant promise. This conversation being overheard by Sarah from her place in the tent only provoked laughter on her part. Although she thus expressed unbelief, it doubtless was a great comfort to Abraham who had been awaiting the fulfillment of the promise for years. "Is anything too hard for the Lord?" is a striking rebuke to Sarah's unbelief, and shows that the Lord is able to discern even our inmost thoughts.

III. The Doom of Sodom and Gomorrah Revealed to Abraham (vv. 16-21).

The Lord now communed with Abraham about Sodom and Gomorrah. Though Abraham had no personal interest in Sodom, the Lord revealed unto him its secret purpose concerning it. He did not hunt up Lot to make known unto him his purpose concerning Sodom. He never goes to the persons who are entangled with the things of the world. The only way to know God's thought touching the age in which we live is to remain separate from it. "The secret of the Lord is with them that fear Him." (Ps. 25:15). The reason for this disclosure may be stated as follows:

1. Because he was his friend (Jan. 5:23; John 15:15). Friends confide in each other. The master reveals his purposes to his friends, not to his servants.
2. Because he was to be the head of a great nation (v. 18).
3. As such he was to be the medium of blessings to them. The interests of humanity were at stake in the destruction of Sodom. It was good that Abraham should know that he might be able to instruct coming generations.
4. Because of the responsibility of instructing his own family aright (v. 18). God is always careful that His judgments have a rational explanation, leading to duty where from the same sin. The Lord declared that His purpose was to go down and see whether the Sodomites had done according to the cry which had come up from it (v. 21).

IV. Abraham's Intercession for Sodom and Gomorrah (vv. 22-28).

The two men departed for Sodom, leaving Abraham alone in the presence of the Lord. He stood there as an intercessor. In this unselfish act Abraham represents our High Priest (Heb. 7:25-28; Rom. 8:34; 1 John 2:1). Jesus possesses the divine right to stand before the Father. Abraham, using his line of the ground of justice to the righteous who might be in the city, because of the iniquity whereby which Christ made by His blood for our sins, He can plead our cause before God on the ground of strict justice. He ventured his plea six times, each time diminishing the number. We should learn from this that petitions granted give encouragement to ask for others. Abraham's power as an intercessor was limited. He was afraid of oversteering his account with the Lord. This is not the case with our High Priest. His credit and influence with the Father are infinite. He is able to save unto the uttermost those who come unto God by Him, seeing He ever liveth to make intercession for them (Heb. 7:25).

HEALTH OF CHILDREN IS WEALTH OF NATION

Healthy, happy children are one of America's greatest assets. "For this reason," points out Marie C. Doermann, state foods specialist, "the conservation of child life is the keynote of the efforts of most health workers."

"May, with its excellent weather that promotes outdoor activities, is truly a fitting time for every community to think of all its children; whether or not they are able to take part in these activities. Many a child looks wistfully out of the window because family feeding has weakened its strength and vitality. Frequently some minor change in the diet would bring about health and vigor, and save the child from a life of misery and suffering."

"To arouse interest in healthier children, contests might well be arranged in some localities and prizes awarded for the most healthy child of a given age. This was tried by a number of communities on May Day."

"But the interest aroused by a special health day should not be

MODEL POST OFFICE

The Post Office Department will have a model post office at the Sesqui-centennial International Exposition which is to be held at Philadelphia, Pa., June 1 to December 1, 1936. The office will be furnished with standard post-office equipment, and mechanical conveyors and labor-saving devices will be in operation to show modern methods of handling mail in the larger post offices.

There will be a visitors' gallery overlooking the workroom, where the various mailing operations and devices in use will be explained by attendants. Letters may be mailed direct from this gallery and their handling observed.

Mail will be delivered over the exposition grounds by better curriers, and all the usual postal facilities will be provided for the accommodation of visitors and those connected with the exposition. There will be windows for general delivery, the sale of stamps, registry, postal-savings, and money-order business, and for the mailing and delivery of parcel post. A number of lock boxes will be installed and available for renting.

This post office will be operated as a station of the Philadelphia post office, and will be known officially as the "Model Post Office, Sesqui-centennial International Exposition, Philadelphia, Pa."

SPEEDING THE SPOKEN WORD

Two telephones as invented by Alexander Graham Bell would, if connected by wire and charged with battery, furnish simple intercommunication.

But that portion of the present telephone plant represented by Bell's invention comprises but about two per cent. of the whole.

The instrument on your desk is only the inbound and outbound terminal.

You measure its performance not in terms of the receiver and transmitter, or of the intricate switchboard mechanisms and circuits that lie in between it and the telephone you call, but rather in terms of the facility and dependability with which it responds to your directions.

That a local call shall be practically instantaneous, within the limit of machines and human hands to function, is not an unreasonable expectation.

That on average calls across the state or the continent relatively longer intervals are now required is probably understood.

Yet there is reason to expect that as time goes on, with the further development of operating equipment and methods now of practical use, the placing and completion of calls to distant points will more and more closely approach the facility and speed of local connections.

So great has been the recent improvement in these respects that comparison of 1926 with 1906 or even 1916 would make the accomplishment of those earlier years seem rather ordinary.

Only by such progress does telephone service keep pace with the increasing reliance which American business puts on it.

Burlington C. of C. Prints "Booster"

MODEL CITIZEN MAKES MOST OF OPPORTUNITIES
Whenever the citizens work in harmony, support movements for the common good, strive to be of as much service to their neighbors as to themselves, and live useful, helpful lives—then they are moving co-operatively toward higher and better things. There is a practical and spiritual side. In a good town values are higher, homes more in demand. Every cottage cannot be a show place, but every man can keep his yard clean, take care of his premises and make the most of his opportunities. If they have the right spirit and the willingness to serve, their town will earn a good reputation fast enough, and after it is earned the rest of the world will be looking in hearing about it.—Exchange.

CLEAN-UP AND PAINT-UP WEEK
MAY 17th to 22nd

Deeper Delaware River to Come
The U. S. Legislature just recently made an appropriation for the deepening of the channel of the Delaware River from Philadelphia to Trenton. This was part of the subject discussed at the Spring Forum Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, J. Hampton Moore, President and William E. Bernard, Treasurer, of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, together with Hon. Mayor Frederick Donnelly of Trenton, were the speakers of the evening, each giving illustrations why Burlington should assist in the bringing this project about. In the near future dredgers will start work just off of Burlington's shore, making it possible for ocean going vessels to navigate the stream at our front door, and at the same time giving Burlington the opportunity of commercializing an invaluable asset, which heretofore has been given little consideration.

The Chamber of Commerce is co-operating in this work with the District Army Engineer's Office, Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association and the Delaware Port Commission.

Campaigning for Cleaner City
May 17—22 is the week set aside by the Chamber of Commerce Clean-Up Campaign Committee as the "Clean-Up and Paint-Up Week." Plans are now being formulated by the committee for the inauguration of this extensive campaign. Every school in Burlington, together with the Mayor, City Street Committee, Boy Scouts, Civic League, and Kiwanis Club are co-operating with the committee in furthering the idea that "a clean city is a city beautiful."

The campaign will be opened on Monday, May 17th with a street parade in the afternoon, in which the school children of Burlington will be the main participants. Each public school will be headed by their school band, followed by the student body and floats made by the pupils themselves.

The committee in charge consists of: Joseph R. Cheesman, Chairman, Samuel Deaton, Bernard Leonard, Miss Lydia Rogers, Mrs. Mary B. Smith and John R. Tallia.

Report
A short time ago you were mailed a copy of "Progress," the Annual Report of the Burlington C. of C. While you were reading it over, did it occur to you what "Progress for 1936" might contain? A Chamber of Commerce is as strong as its membership, and by continuing to work together much can be accomplished.

Boating Conference to be Held
With the appointment of a committee from Common Council to meet with the City Planning Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, it is hoped that some plan may be adopted which will safeguard the future building of Burlington.

Farmers' Market Will be Continued
The Farmers' Market this year will be controlled by Common Council with Messrs. C. W. Jones, J. P. McConnell and Charles Lucas in direct charge. As yet the director has not been announced, however it is possible that the services of C. B. Davenport will be secured again this year.

Bills for the second quarter of the current fiscal year have just been mailed. Make sure you get your individual membership card, which is based upon payment of your dues, before you go on your vacation—you may have a need to call at another Chamber of Commerce office for some information while you are away. Let your own Chamber introduce you.

Rooms for Rent
The new branch of service started last year, listing available rooming and boarding houses in Burlington, has proven to be a success. Many inquiries have been received and suitable quarters or meals found. This is still being maintained and members are requested to inform strangers of it.

Members knowing anyone wishing to avail themselves of this service, it will be appreciated if they will call the C. of C. office and we will send them one of our regular blank forms to fill out. The only request is that after listing the vacancies with us that they call us when these are filled and again when vacant, so that our files may be corrected.

The H. A. Manning Company, directory publishers, who have been collecting information for the new Burlington City Directory, will soon complete its research work and start compiling the books, which will be distributed in the early part of June.

Automatic Signals Barred by State

Only Hand-Operated Traffic Lights Allowed on State Highways

The traffic light at High street and the State Highway in Burlington must go.

Automatic signals for the control of traffic on state highways will not be permitted under a decision of the State Highway Commission, adopted upon the recommendation of State Highway Engineer William G. Sloan.

The resolution of the board is retroactive and the first automatic signals to be ordered down and out under the authority of the commission are those already installed on State Highway Route No. 2, Burlington, and on the White Horse pike.

The commission is on record in favor of traffic signals operated by hand and these will be continued on roads over which the board has jurisdiction.

hindrance rather than a benefit to the movement of vehicles.

The main objection of the highway engineer to them is that they operate whether there is traffic or not, and that in some instances where there is no movement of vehicles across the main road, the main line is held up merely because of the automatic operation of a light and not because of any demand of the traffic stream on the main line.

Motorists have been complaining of this situation ever since adoption of the automatic lights in the smaller communities where traffic is nearly one hundred per cent. on the main highways. The driver of a car has no authority to exercise discretion when a light is against him, without traffic demand, but must wait for the period of the operation of the signal which is usually thirty seconds or more.

Action of the board is based upon a law passed by the 1935 legislature giving highway officials jurisdiction over such mechanisms on state roads. Disapproval of the board also affects automatic controls already installed, as evidenced by a request made to Attorney General Katsenbach, that he take action for the removal of such regulators on route two in this city and on the White Horse pike.

The action of the board against the automatic signals does not affect highways or streets that are not a part of the State Highway system.

Because of its effect on traffic, a London man was recently arrested for whistling to stop a taxi driver.

"The Romance of Riverton"
On Thursday, May 4, 1926, the children of Riverton Public School were permitted to see "The Romance of Riverton" free of charge. It was very interesting. The first thing that flashed on the screen was a short Indian scene taken in the vicinity of Riverton. Next came a scene of the colonial days, and then the popular Charleston step. After this, a young man arrived in Riverton. Very soon he met a Riverton girl, whom he married, and then it showed the different stores she liked. It also had a picture of the children of Riverton School, Cinnaminson School and Westfield Friends School and one of the Riverton Fire Department. After the "Romance of Riverton" there was a show called "Man Without a Country." This was also very interesting and I am sure the children are very glad to have seen it.

"Our Trip to the City Hall"
On Friday afternoon the Seventh Grade of Riverton Public School enjoyed a bus ride to the City Hall of Philadelphia.

This party was under the supervision of Miss Wagner and Mrs. Flowers, teachers of this grade. The trip was enjoyed by all. We saw many interesting views, some of which were educational, such as the reservoir, which supplies Philadelphia with water, and the Fairmount Park, which is the largest of its kind in the world. We also saw many other interesting things.

If you haven't had the opportunity to experience this trip, I am sure you would enjoy it if you did. Our class liked it immensely.

"State Exams"

This week, beginning May 10, 1926, the pupils of the Eighth Grade took their State Examinations. These "Exams" are very important, because they decide if the pupil is worthy of graduation, and admittance to High School. If they do not pass them, they must stay in this school until they do.

Exercise

Exercise makes healthy boys and girls. The way to get plenty of exercise is through physical training, sports, work, and play. I like exercise because it gives me an opportunity to get plenty of fresh air. There are several kinds of sports and other means of getting exercise. Some of the sports I enjoy are boxing, swimming, tennis, baseball, football, yachting, lacrosse and racing.

OUR SKY STUDY—SIXTH GRADE

The sun is composed of burning gases. It is ninety-three million miles away from the earth. If the sun stopped giving light, we could not live, because we wouldn't have food, and we wouldn't get any rain, and it would become arid. The sun draws water from the rivers, and when the clouds get full it falls in the form of rain drops. The sun's heat is so great that if a comet gets near, the comet turns around and goes back.

Mary Kenney.

The Meteor

Meteors are pieces of comets. The comet goes so rapidly it flings the meteor off, which then starts to fall. When the meteor comes within the earth's gravitation it lights up. Meteors travel about twenty eight million miles in ten seconds. We saw the first one on May 10, about six or seven million miles away, and when it disappeared, it is about twenty seven million miles away. Sometimes these meteors fall upon the earth's surface in the shape of clinders or cooled iron. When this occurs, the meteor tears deep holes in the earth.

Charles T. Woolston.

"Planets"

Some important planets are Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Neptune, the Earth and several others. We do not know whether planets are inhabited or not. Scientists are now trying to find this out. Some have been trying to do it in planes, others are using brilliant search lights with powerful lens. Some are trying to shoot arrows to planets. When we look at planets with the naked eye, we see five points. If you look through a telescope we see a round ball.

The Moon

The moon is a cooled off piece of the sun. It is like a frozen glacier. The temperature of the moon is four hundred degrees below zero. It would take sixty-six and one-half days to reach the moon. The moon has no light, but the sun reflects on the opposite side of the world lights it up at night. The moon is not out on some nights because the clouds go over it and cover it. The moon is made up of precious metals. The moon is two hundred forty-six thousand miles from the earth. Some times you hear of an eclipse. That means the moon has gone in front of the sun and the sun's rays can only shine out on the edge of the moon.

The law preventing the sale of Alcoholic Drinks should not be changed.

Why the present law should not be modified to allow the sale of light wines and beer is a common question which occurs frequently among the people of the United States. It is stated our country is facing a crisis. Prohibition cannot go backward and must go forward.

Any weakening of the law will mean a question of our country losing the respectability which has established by years of hard work.

Then looking at it from a different view point, we can see by the following facts, why the sale of light wines and beer should not be legalized.

Intemperance cuts down youth in its vigor, manhood in its strength and age in its weakening. It not only disturbs the youth and man, but breaks the parent's hearts.

Any one may see that it will shatter affection and blast hopes and ideals. The worst effects of it are weakness, sickness and death.

When we think of this harmful drink we can see the most pitiful sight that its effects offer. One is the picture of little children lying on sick beds in the slums of the city, hungry, cold and begging for bread.

Another of its terrible results is the leading of men to be thieves and a menace to the community. It is said to be one of the main reasons for our penitentiaries to be so crowded.

When people get accustomed to this drink, it changes all their ideals of love to hate, and makes them take with scorn, the word innocence.

Liquor does all these things and more. It breaks the soul and when it is summed up, it is found to be the father of all crimes and an enemy of love.

A good deal of the general disregard for the Volstead Act has been brought about by some of the citizens of the country that do not know their duty and by their remarks cause other people to disregard the law instead of respecting it. These same people ignore the respectable law abiding folks and seem to regard the law as an obstacle to their pleasures and bootleggers, a great number of which are foreigners.

Shall America be ruled by Americans, or a small number of law-breakers? Some of the people say a great deal about rights of citizens, but they should remember that citizens have duties as well as rights. Those who do not care for or respect the laws of the nation should leave the country which would make less trouble for law enforcement. Those who would modify the Eighteenth Amendment seem to have only their own selfish desires as their guide. The present law should not be changed.

MAY HOP

Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association to Hold Dance

The Parent-Teacher Association will give a May Hop in the gymnasium of the High School Building Saturday evening.

The purpose of the Hop is to raise a fund to meet the second instalment on the stereo scope and slides which were purchased by the Association.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock the association will hold its last monthly meeting of the season in the High School auditorium. An interesting program has been arranged and all members are requested to make a special effort to be present.

TEMPLE QUARTET

Palmyra and Riverton lovers of good singing will have the opportunity of hearing the "Temple Male Quartet" again at the Central Baptist Church on Saturday evening, May 15.

The members of the quartet, each excellent as a soloist, and superb as an ensemble, delighted an audience of over three hundred in the Baptist Church last year and the return engagement, under the auspices of the Barron Class, has been in recognition of a popular demand.

The quartet is composed of Harry F. Harrison, first tenor, William S. Johnson, second tenor, W. Howard Todd, first bass, and Joseph E. Hatcher, second bass. Miss Christine Messinger will be the solo accompanist at the piano and Miss Helen McHenry will add to the diversification of the program as a reader.

This group of artists are highly entertaining not alone for the high quality of their work, but for their dramatic ability in "putting over" their songs into the hearts of the audience.

Saturday night's main program will consist of the following numbers:

1. "Carmen" Quartet
2. Tenor Solo Harry F. Harrison
3. "Heaven, Heaven" Quartet
4. Reading Miss McHenry
5. "O Genevieve" Quartet
6. Tenor Solo William S. Johnson

7. "Gospel Train" Quartet
8. Reading Miss McHenry
9. "Wild Irish Rose" Quartet
10. Bass Solo Joe E. Hatcher
11. "Rhapsody" Quartet

CHRIST CHURCH

POPPY DRIVE

Annual Drive of Legion Auxiliary To Be Held May 20

The annual sale of Poppies for the Convalescent Homes and Welfare Work of the American Legion and Auxiliary in the Department of New Jersey, will take place, Saturday, May 20.

The local unit to the Fred M. Rogers Post No. 155 is busily engaged making its usual quota of 3000 poppies.

Since the Clarkboro Home which was to have been the Convalescent Home for this District has been taken over by the National Organization of the American Legion, as a Children's Bldg., all the counties comprising this district have allied themselves with District No. 6 for the maintenance of the Monksie Convalescent Home. This Home has been in operation for several years and has done notable convalescent work among the ex-service men.

A peculiarly fitting emblem it is with the brilliant dash and color symbolizing courage and the deeper significance of the blood shed in Flanders Fields. Wear it for our honored dead!

BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday morning the pastor's text will be "In the Beginning, God."

In the evening at 7:45, the P. O. S. of A. will attend in a body as guests of the church. All members of the church and congregation are urged to be present to welcome this large patriotic organization.

Extra chairs will be provided to accommodate a large crowd. Pastor Lockett will deliver a special patriotic sermon.

The "Happy Hour" kiddies and the B. Y. P. U. will meet as usual on Friday at 4 and 8, respectively.

On Saturday afternoon, in front of Mr. Wimer's home on Broad Street, the Junior Philathea Class cake sale will be held.

Saturday night will be a big night when the Temple Male Quartet, assisted by Miss McHenry, reader, will be heard at the church. This musical and literary entertainment is being offered again by the Baroco Class in response to popular request since the quartet's big hit at the church last year. Don't be absent!

Next Thursday evening the young people will travel to the Haddonfield Baptist Church to attend the Rally of the Camden County Federation of B. Y. P. U.

Last Tuesday evening was a most enjoyable occasion for the Samaritan Class at their first annual banquet in the church. Mr. Dietz, Mr. Wimer, His Honor, the Mayor, Pastor Lockett and the Bible School superintendents made inspiring speeches, while the Junior Philathea Class catered to "the inner men." The class business meeting followed. Thirty-six men were present.

DRUNK AGAIN

William McLaughlin Reprimanded by Squire Fichter

William McLaughlin, of Parry, was arrested Sunday in Palmyra by Officer Nelson Wallace and charged with intoxication.

McLaughlin had some guests from Philadelphia at his home Sunday. During the day Bill partook of some bad liquor and you can't tell when or where this stuff is going to get you. So in the evening he decided to drive his friends to Palmyra to catch the bus back across the river.

Everything was lovely till Bill got out of the car. After he had walked around a little, he began to realize that he needed assistance. Just at this time Officer Wallace appeared on the scene and took him in tow.

To make his visit complete, Bill was asked to pay a visit to Squire Fichter Monday morning. He found the Squire in a congenial mood, and due to the fact that Bill had been on his good behavior for the past nine months, the Squire let him off with a severe reprimand and requested him to pay the costs.

MRS. JOHN FLEITH

Mary A. Fleith, wife of John Fleith, died Thursday afternoon at the West Jersey Hospital at the age of 28. One small son and the husband survive. CITIZENS PROTEST AGAINST HIGHWAY ROAD METHODS

County Clerk, Surrogate and Sheriff Advanced to $6000; Population Over 80,000

DETECTIVES ASK FOR THEIR BACK SALARIES

It looked like reception night when the Riverton Borough Council met last Thursday evening. Ten visitors graced the council chamber by their presence. They were H. L. Murray, Robert Biddle, Edgar Lippincott, James S. Coale, R. Kendall Archer, John R. Nalaby, George D. Steedle, Clarence Hubbs, Clarence Mattis and R. W. Knight.

Messrs. Biddle, Lippincott, and Archer and Coale were present to voice their protests against the present method of road repairing as practiced on Highway No. 1. Nalaby wanted to see what had become of his petition for sidewalks on Howard and Second streets, and Mr. Knight was there on a like errand. Mr. Murray was present as chairman of the citizens' committee on fire apparatus. Messrs. Steedle, Hubbs and Mattis wanted to see what became of Mr. Murray's recommendations in this matter, though Hubbs might also have some interest in the general proceedings of the governing body, since he is a candidate for a seat among the borough fathers.

Mr. Coale, chairman of the Shade Tree Commission, reported on the work now being done by that body before taking up the matter which brought him to the council chamber. Coale said that the Shade Tree Commission had been working on the shade trees of the borough and that their work was about finished. It is proposed to spray the trees later with a machine loaned by the State, which will send its own force of operators. The commission will pay the operators. The spraying will start about June 20.

Protests Tearing Up Highway

On suggestion of Mayor Hemphill the regular business of council was suspended to hear from the citizens. Mr. Biddle brought with him a basket containing a lump of gravel. This he deposited on the table around which the councilmen were seated. It was a sample of the roadway on Highway which had just been torn up by the borough road department which had "scarified" the street preparatory to resurfacing it with gravel such as had been put on several of the streets in the borough. Mr. Biddle went back to the time when he was a member of the borough council. He had never asked for anything for the street on which he lived, he said, while a member of that body, but just as he was going out of office the residents of Highway offered to subscribe half the amount necessary to gravel that street if the borough would pay the other half. This arrangement was made and the street was constructed of a high grade of gravel, nine inches thick at the crown and five inches at the gutters. This gravel was so good that not until the last year was it found necessary to do anything to the street. It was laid about fourteen years ago, and at that time, Mr. Biddle said, it was the desire of himself and some others to bond the borough and improve all the streets while this excellent road material could be had. The plan was not generally approved, however, and was not put into execution. That time was wasted by other municipalities and the county, and the supply entirely exhausted. This splendid street, Mr. Biddle said, had been virtually ruined by the highway department. A year ago the crown of the road had been scraped off. He called up the chairman of the committee at the time and entered a protest, but was told that he did not know anything about modern road building—that that road was now in order. "Yesterday," continued Mr. Biddle, "they put a harrow on the street, tore off the top and scraped it into the gutters. In the operation they also tore out a tar base approach which I had laid for the runway and covered it with gravel. I had installed to carry off the surface drainage."

Had Helped to Build Road

Mr. Biddle said that his neighbors and himself were very much dissatisfied with the way the road they had helped to build had been treated and had come before Council to see what could be done to remedy the damage. Now that the road has been all torn up, he said, it will disintegrate with the rains and the frost, and will never be what it was before. The gravel with which the road is being re-dressed, said Mr. Biddle, was not to be compared with the material that had been ruthlessly torn up.

Mr. Lippincott corroborated what Mr. Biddle had said, and added that he was one of the heaviest contributors to the fund for building the road in the first place. He did not think the highway department should have torn the gravel that had been scraped into the gutters be replaced on the crown of the road and rolled.

Gravel Just as Good, Says Lynch
At this juncture Councilman Lynch, chairman of the Shade Tree department, who had taken this grilling without a word, turned to Mr. Biddle and said, "Mr. Biddle you have talked about this gravel and seem to know a lot about it, but I can take you right down to the gravel pits and show you some packed just as hard as that is." "True," replied Mr. Biddle, "gravel will pack very hard in its natural state, but when disturbed and used for road building that red gravel you are using will not pack like this sample I have here. It does not contain the right proportions of pebbles and binder."

Councilman Flagg asked Mr. Biddle if it was good to use oil on gravel roads. Mr. Biddle replied that it was, if properly done and followed up. He said it should be applied in two coats, the second following the first within the first year, and after that a coat every year.

Chairman Lynch said that last year he had been criticised for doing more on the roads. He had tried the oil, he said, and found that the little oiling he did cost nearly $900. At that rate, he said, if he oiled all the streets in the borough in four years he would spend enough to pay for permanent road construction.

"Suffocation With Dust" Feared

Mr. Coale again took the floor and said he had investigated the gravel now being used and feared he would be suffocated with dust and dirt when he drove over it. He believed the addition of the new gravel would be a detriment to the street, and that it would be better to simply replace the old material, which was nearly dustless, roll it down and try to be satisfied with the heat that could be done to repair the mischief. It would never be like the old street, but would be better than the gravel now being put on.

Mr. Lynch said that the idea of scarifying the streets was not his but that he had heard of it. The streets with a road inspector who had to do with the building of roads all over the state, and who had said that all the streets that had been oiled would have to be scarified before the new material could be put on top would knit with the old.

Mr. Biddle suggested that since the mischief had been done, it would be better to suspend all operations on the highway until a conference could be arranged between the highway committee, a committee from Highway No. 1, and the citizens to determine what had better be done. This action was agreed upon and Henry Sherman, of the firm of Sherman and Sleeper, borough engineers, will be called into consultation.

Nalaby Wants Sidewalks

Mr. Nalaby wanted to know what had become of the petition he sent to council two months ago for sidewalks on Howard street and Second street. He said that he had purposely omitted curbs as he did not consider them absolutely necessary, but that he thought he had a right to ask to have anyone forced to put in curbs unless everyone is obliged to do it.

Mr. Showell said that when the petition was presented some of the members of council had "taken it on their own hook" to hold up the petition, because it did not include curbs, though he had voted against laying it on the table. Mr. Showell said he wanted to know right then and there whether or not this petition was going to be turned down because it did not also call for curbs. The Mayor said that the action of laying it on the table was not a proper procedure, as council had no alternative but to take some action on it, and for a few minutes it looked as though the petition was going through. Mr. Lynch said that it had been referred to the highway committee to see what could be done about including curbs. The Mayor asked Mr. Nalaby if the property owners along the line would be willing to put down the sidewalks without an ordinance. Mr. Nalaby replied that they would not. The Mayor added that he hoped to see an ordinance presented at the next meeting in requiring sidewalks and curbs on all streets where they do not now exist.

Murray Recommends New Pumper
In addressing council Mr. Murray said he was present as chairman of the committee of firemen to suggest what should be done about the fire apparatus. He had handed his report to Mr. Flagg, chairman of the fire and water committee. Mr. Flagg said that the matter had been fully discussed with the firemen's committee, and while the recommendations made were not in accord with what he had in mind, under the circumstances he thought that what the boys who used the apparatus wanted should have great consideration in arriving at a final decision. No one, he said, realized better than he the value of a volunteer fire company.

Mr. Murray said the fire and water committee had prepared figures for repairing the old Mack truck, which would cost about $3500, but that after this money had been spent Riverton would still have but one pumper. As a member of the Burlington County Firemen's Association it was Riverton's duty to co-operate with neighboring towns. In such cases, he said, we must send out our apparatus—our pumper—leaving Riverton dependent for fire protection on Palmyra and our own chemical. He recommended that the two old pieces of apparatus be sold and a new pumper of not quite such large capacity be purchased. This plan, which would always leave one pumper in Riverton, had been fully discussed with the directors of the fire company, and he had received a tentative proposition from the American-LaFrance Company which had been embodied in the report handed to Mr. Flagg. The figures quoted, however, not to be made public at this time. The balance of the report, he said, could be laid before council, but on suggestion of the Mayor it was withheld. Councilman Showell wanted to go into executive session to consider the recommendations of the committee, but Councilman Welsh said there was nothing to hide and moved that the matter be openly discussed, which was done to some length.

Mr. Showell started the ball rolling with a recommendation that a new pumper be bought as recommended by Mr. Murray, but the matter as it finally took shape in a motion by Mr. Welsh, was that the fire and water committee take up with the manufacturer the matter of preparing specifications and asking for bids covering the recommendations of the fire and water committee and the fire company for the purchase of a new pumper, and placing present pumper chemical tanks and ladder.

Mr. Lynch said that he did not think another pumper was necessary and was opposed to spending $12,000 for something that was not needed. He was also opposed to doing anything to the present pumper. If a new pumper was bought, he said, it should be a modern, in-line type, that is, containing pump, hose and chemical tanks. Mr. Murray explained that this was just the type of pumper proposed and that the cost would not exceed $11,000. The resolution was unanimously passed.

On motion of Councilman Lynch a vote of thanks was given to Mr. Murray and all those who had worked on the problem.

Treasurer Is Legal Paymaster

Councilman Bartley, chairman of the finance committee, offered a resolution that the disbursement of borough funds for the payment of men who worked for the borough by the day be made by the collector instead of the clerk, as in the recent past. Collector Evans objected to this, and the subject was referred to the extra work involved. He said he would rather pay someone for it than do it himself, as he wanted to devote his whole attention to the treasurer's and the collection of taxes. He said he had been doing a lot of work on the subject, and that they were coming along nicely.

Mr. Showell said that the clerk did not have so much to do—why not let him continue to do it? Clerk Clifton wanted to know why burden the clerk with something that did not belong to him. Mayor Hemphill cut the Gordian knot by declaring that since the law made the collector, who is also the treasurer, the disbursing agent for borough funds, he would have to do it regardless of his other duties. The Mayor said he did not understand why this work had ever been handed over to the clerk. Councilman Bartley and Welsh thought that the clerk, being in town practically all the time, was in a better position to handle this particular work, and in answer to a question by Councilman Lynch Mr. Clifton said he would do it if paid for it, and it was within the power of the council to pay him.

Mr. Flagg seconded Mr. Bartley's motion and it was passed, and Collector Evans will fill the role of paymaster. Last month the demands on Mr. Clifton amounted to over $300 more than was set aside by council for the payment of these bills, and he made up the difference at the next meeting. This month the appropriation is the same as last.

Chairman Lynch, of the highway committee, reported that gravel had been placed on Lippincott avenue between Broad and Fourth. Fourth street between Main and Elm, Seventh street between Main and Linden, Linden avenue between Second and Broad, Eighth street between Main and Thomas, and that Highway had been scarified preparatory to resurfacing with gravel. He said that on Highway he believed the right thing had been done, as he was acting under the advice of a man who had built roads all over the county. Mr. Welsh expressed the opinion that the residents of Highway should have waited until the improvement on the street had been completed before making complaint.

Mr. Lynch called attention to a driveway which existed into the street. The pipe under it, which is supposed to carry off the water, is broken and filled up so that surface water is forced into the street. He was instructed to see that this condition is remedied.

Councilman Lynch asked for insurance for the men working on the streets, the tractor, the scraper and the police car. Already, he said, a slight accident had happened to the tractor. The chairman of the highway and water committee was instructed to secure the necessary insurance.

Chairman Showell of the sewer committee reported that the end of the sewer at the wharf had again been broken and that this time the repair was being made with iron pipe instead of terra cotta as heretofore. Director of Public Safety Williams reported that the crossing gates at the station had been moved back and that the telegraph and railroad danger signals would also be moved to conform.

Mr. Williams reported, too, that Mrs. Edman Thomas, of Philadelphia, who tripped over a culvert on Cinnaminson street and was injured, several weeks ago had made a claim for $100 for personal injuries, damage to her clothing and loss of time. It was referred to the collector.

The director said that two fake magazine collectors had been run out of town by William E. Lynch, member of the police committee, and Officer Miller. He asked what jurisdiction the borough had in such cases, and the Mayor said the police officers should satisfy themselves that strangers collecting money in the town for any purpose were O. K. Director Williams said that on the previous Friday two State police officers had been in town.

Respectfully,
CLARENCE N. HUBBS.

CAMP NO. 23 ANNIVERSARY

Local Organization Urged To Fight to Maintain State Leadership

SPEAKERS LAUD IDEALS OF ORDER

Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., celebrated its thirty-third anniversary with a big banquet Monday evening. And it was some banquet, served by McCallister's of Philadelphia, in great style. The menu went through about a half a dozen courses, and included a big helping of fine roast chicken, winding up with salad and ice cream.

Enthusiastic talks. The evening was full of high powered oratory. State Vice-President Magnum opened up the fireworks with a stirring address that created great enthusiasm. Then a whole lot of speakers did their "three minute men" stunts during the banquet.

Samuel Thompson, Jr., first president of Camp 23, made the opening address. He gave a vivid description of conditions prevailing in Palmyra when it was but a small village, being part of Cinnaminson Township, back in '93. In those days there used to be "accra" between boys of various nearby towns and the grove by Society Hall was the battle ground for the youngsters who came down from Riverdale and Riverton to "clean up" Palmyra.

One young man, said Mr. Thompson, who was very much interested in everything going on in those days, grew interested in the flag, the constitution and everything that stood for Americanism. He organized Camp 23, and converted the fighting spirit that formerly agitated itself in gang fights to a fighting spirit of Americanism.

This man, said Mr. Thompson, was George N. Wimer, founder of Camp 23, and he called on the present to join in three rousing cheers for the organizer of the camp. The audience responded with enthusiasm.

Welcome to Mayor

Mayor James T. Weart, a past President of the order, was then introduced and he welcomed all the members of the various camps in the name of the Borough of Palmyra.

Neal Jamison, National Master of forms, followed with a stirring address in which he called attention to losing its place as the biggest camp in New Jersey to Camp 3 of Philadelphia. The Palmyra Camp now has 879 members, while Philadelphia has 831 and is working hard, while there has been some complaint of a lack of enthusiasm in 25.

Pastor at Odds
Much amusement for the diners was furnished by two Palmyra pastors, the Rev. J. W. Lee of the Methodist Church and the Rev. George W. Lockett of the Baptist Church. Each clergyman made some good humored remarks about the other and kept the audience laughing throughout their talks.

State Master of Forms Albert E. Carr and State Treasurer Howard W. Mercer both made interesting addresses.

Dad Pine, one of Palmyra's few remaining Civil War veterans, was on deck with a real appetite, despite the fact that he was just starting that day on the last six months of his ninety-first year. To celebrate the occasion he smoked cigars, although lamenting the fact he had left his pipe at home.

CONN PAROLED

Mayor of E. E. Hatch in 1921 Set Free By Pardon Board

George Conn, twenty-one, Bridgewater, slayer of Edward E. Hatch, mayor of Riverton, in 1921, at Delair, was paroled by the New Jersey State Board of Pardons on Wednesday.

Conn, who offered no defense at his trial in 1922, was sentenced to from eight to thirty years. He was confined in the Rahway Reformatory where he contracted tuberculosis. His parole was recommended by State Supreme Court Justice Katzenbach.

Hatch, a wealthy brick manufacturer, chased Conn and two other boys from his bathhouse at Delair on May 7, 1921. The boys had a revolver loaded with blank cartridges. When Hatch chased them, Conn picked up the revolver and fired the blanks at the manufacturer.

Another pistol in the canoe was loaded with bullets and Conn picked that up and fired at Hatch when the latter started to wade in the river after them.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Voters of Riverton: I desire to announce that I will be a candidate for nomination for member of the Borough Council at the Primary election, June 16.

If nominated and elected I will devote my best endeavors to advancing the interests of our town, and to keeping the expenses down as much as can be done and still have a live town.

If you want a place in, and not a place to die in, I ask for your vote.

Respectfully,
CLARENCE N. HUBBS.

TWO CARS WRECKED IN ROAD SMASH

George Johns Collides With "Chick" Steedle; Johns Gets Broken Arm

Two cars were wrecked and one of the drivers badly hurt in a collision in front of Steedle's garage at East Riverton about 6 o'clock last Monday morning.

Morris Steedle, better known as "Chick" was on his way to work at the garage and turned into the driveway just as George Johns, of East Riverton, was on his way to work at Dreer's. Johns was coming along at a pretty good clip and when he saw Steedle turn across his path applied the brakes to his car, but the roadway being wet the wheels skidded, turning his car almost completely around. He crashed into the rear of Steedle's car, demolishing the rear. Johns car was totally wrecked and Johns was pinned under his car, which turned over when it hit the other car.

Edward Steedle, who saw the accident, helped Chick to get the injured man out of the wreckage and took him to Dr. Rogers who could be reached by a fracture of the left arm and severe cuts and bruises about the head.

Both men drove Essex cars, and while neither of them were new it is a peculiar coincidence that they both had received them the previous Saturday.

Followed Women, Is Now in Jail

John Spickler, Arrested for Annoying Women and Attempting Robbery

John Spickler, who took a department coin from the home of Mrs. H. H. Ruppert several months ago, and who was under parole, was arrested by Director of Public Safety Williams and Officer William Quigley about 2 o'clock last Friday morning. He was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Coddington and committed to the county jail on the charge of attempt to break and enter.

For some time past the police department has been receiving complaints about a man snooping around the streets in the neighborhood of Seventh and Elm avenue, peering into windows and following women and girls.

Last Friday night as Miss Frances Ruppert, Riverton's noted tractor operator, was returning from Palmyra, she was accosted by a man at Broad and Linden who attempted to grab her by the arm. The electric light at that point was not burning at the time, which was about half past nine.

Miss Ruppert stepped aside and quickened her pace to a fast walk (not a record-breaking run as was reported in the daily papers), and at Lippincott avenue the man crossed Broad street and ran toward the railroad station. Miss Ruppert did not notify the police but told the family about it when she got home. "I was not frightened, and did not run," said Miss Ruppert. "I had my referee's whistle with me which I could have blown had I been scared."

Later in the evening a man was seen peering into the window at the home of J. Lewis Jackson, Broad and Linden. Mrs. Jackson telephoned to the police booth and Director Williams and Officer Quigley immediately started to look for the fellow. They found him trying to get into the Jackson home.

Spickler, after he was committed to jail, said he would like to see his wife before being taken to Mount Holly, but when Officer Quigley went to get her she refused to see her husband and said jail was the best place for him.

There was no money of fifty "indignant citizens" nor anything of that kind. The case was handled entirely by the police department.

Hospital Drive On in Two Weeks

Intensive County-Wide Campaign for $350,000 Opens June 1

Only two weeks remain until the Burlington County Hospital will make its appeal to "Give the Gift that keeps on giving" by asking residents of Burlington County for $350,000 with which to provide a new and modern fireproof 100-bed hospital. The intensive work will be inaugurated Tuesday evening, June 1, when a dinner of more than 400 workers will be held in the First Baptist Church of Burlington.

At this dinner, final instructions will be given to the various workers and an address will be made by Charles S. Evans, of Riverton. Mr. Evans is a thoroughly familiar with hospital work as he is now a member of the board of directors of two of the largest hospitals in Philadelphia. Brief remarks will also be made by Franklin S. Chambers, general chairman of the campaign, Dr. Joseph Stokes and others.

Miss Lydia M. Parry, president of the board of Managers of the hospital, announced yesterday that the by-laws had been changed to permit the appointment of men to the board. Miss Parry stated that the board realized the responsibility in administering the fund of $350,000 and erecting a new building, and while the names of the six men who were to be added to the board could not be made public just yet, the new directors will be citizens of the highest type and men in whose confidence the county could repose the utmost confidence in an economical and careful administration of the funds.

Need Long Realized

Interest during this week centered on the meeting held Wednesday night in Moorestown Community House, at which one hundred and fifty men and women were in attendance. Information concerning which will be given next week. Dr. Joseph Stokes, who will serve as chairman of activities in Moorestown, was unable to make any strides toward providing a new building. Year after year has passed without a deficit but the margin has been so small, it has been impossible to put anything aside for a building fund. In fact, according to the records of the institution, the only money now in the building fund is a sum slightly over $900, a contribution of the Burnt Cork Association of Burlington toward a new hospital.

Many Ladripped Cases
The need for the hospital was more clearly emphasized than ever this spring when the uncertain weather of March and April brought about an unusual number of cases of la grippe. Hospital authorities say that had the 100 bed hospital been available it could well have been filled. As it was, many who desired hospital service were refused admission.

The capacity of the hospital has been so limited that it has been impossible to accept, except in extreme emergency, any maternity cases, only one such having been accepted in 1925. In the new hospital an entire wing will be devoted to this service, with a number of private rooms provided, in addition to the ward beds. Thus will be afforded the mothers of Burlington County a place near home when passing through this trying period, a place to which husbands can come without hours of travel to a distant home. The new hospital will be located in so strategic a place that it can be reached in 30 minutes or less by 95 percent of the population.

Much Accomplished
Handicapped as it is with inadequate equipment, crowded quarters and insufficient space, the hospital is extending a variety of service which is the marvel of hospital authorities. A recapitulation of the work done shows the following service rendered: Operations performed, 869; medical cases, 120; surgical cases, 473; gynecological 45; orthopedic operations 23; orthopedic treatments 23; orthopedic clinics 18; orthopedic clinic patients 300; dispensary cases 555; physiotherapy treatments 147; X-ray patients 296; X-ray exposures 642; venereal disease treatments 86; laboratory tests 1434; house dressings 1975; and dispensary treatments 1434. During the year 48 deaths occurred, 13 taking place within 24 hours of admission to the hospital.

Of the treatments extended, there were 1981 days treatment of private patients; 2804 days of ward patients and 4886 days for free patients. Over 60 percent of the treatments were given to free patients and the inability of many of the ward patients to make full payments makes the amount of revenue from patients only 25 percent of the entire cost.

Stewart McFarland, supervisor of roads, asked for a new truck for the road department. He submitted prices as follows: Mack, $6,782; Federal, $6,400; White, $6,340. Mr. Wright said that since the road department already had two White trucks, he thought it would be advisable to keep the equipment uniform, and offered a resolution that the road department be authorized to buy a White, which was unanimously passed.

The Mount Holly Water Company asked permission to lay a six-inch water main out East Mill street on the Smithville road, and also for the privilege of laying an eight-inch pipe south of the Pine street bridge on that thoroughfare. There will be about 1,000 feet of the six-inch pipe laid and 1,800 feet of the eight-inch pipe. The applications were referred to Mr. Stout.

The following bills were passed and ordered paid: Roads, $6,285.50; bridges, $6,174.65; buildings, $11,359.38; public affairs, $6,261.94; finance, $2,472.38; making a total of $36,515.82.

Residents of Highway Claim Street Has Been Ruined; Not So, Says Lynch

COMMITTEE ON FIRE TRUCK MAKES REPORT

Under a resolution introduced by Curven B. Fisher, of Mount Holly, at the regular meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Friday, William C. Cook, Mount Holly, was given the contract to rebuild the London bridge on Washington avenue. The figure named in his bid was $3,434. Several other contractors sought the job.

Other bidders were: Conrad & Busby, Burlington, $3,836.70; Kolra Construction Company, Trenton, $5,490; Hill Construction Company, Mount Holly, $4,114.75.

The London Bridge is to be widened to meet the requirements of the sidewalk improvements on Washington avenue. With the completion of the bridge there will be an improved sidewalk all the way to the Farnersville section.

Pemberton bridge bids: Hill Construction Company, Mount Holly, $2,368.85; Daniel R. Lemon, Browns Mills, $1,919.88; William C. Cook, Mount Holly, $2,183; Richard D. Garon, Mount Holly, $2,198.45; Ramocas Construction Company, Delanco, $2,483.56. The contract went to Mr. Lemon.

New Floor on Bridge

The Hill Construction Company, of Mount Holly, was given the contract to put a new floor in the Groveville bridge over the Cross-wick Creek. The cost will be $1,737.93. Mercer county will pay half of the bill.

A resolution by Charles R. Stout, of Florence, approved the plans and specifications made by H. B. Smith, the county engineer for the improvement of the Stevens road from the State Highway to the Florence Township line. The plans will be sent to the Burlington Township Committee for the approval of that body and when a resolution has been adopted by the township officials covering their cost of the improvement, Alfonso Adams, the clerk of the Board of Freeholders, will advertise for bids for the work.

Two types of construction are being considered, for this road, penetration macadam, which would cost about $71,100, and sheet asphalt which would cost about $82,000.

Salaries Increased

Official notice was sent to the board that under an act of the New Jersey Legislature the sheriff, surrogate and county clerk of Burlington county are now entitled to a salary of six thousand dollars a year. A resolution was offered by J. Lloyd Wright, of Medford, authorizing the payment of that amount to the officers in question.

Mr. Smith, the engineer, asked authority of the board to attend the annual inspection of the County Engineers' Association on May 21-22. He will be accompanied by the assistant engineer. The cost will be twenty-five dollars a piece. Authority was given under a resolution passed by Howard Russ, of Delanco.

Fred Lippincott, of Moorestown, reported that he had visited the Skillman institution and found everything in excellent condition. The food was good, he said, and the surroundings were clean and in good order. There are twenty-six patients in the institution, which is able to Burlington County, Mr. Lippincott said.

A letter was received from Clifford D. Cain and Arthur Carabine asking the freeholders to promptly pay them salary due as county detectives from February 1 up to the present time. The men were suspended when charges were made against them in connection with the Bridgeboro booze case. Recently they were acquitted and returned to their positions by Prosecutor George M. Hillman. The letter was referred to County Solicitor Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown, for an opinion.

Work at Almshouse

There were seven bidders on the work of remodeling the tenant house at the almshouse, which will consist of new windows and door frames, new roof, stuccoing, etc., and there was a difference of about $4,000 between the high and low bids. H. E. Elechner, of Palmyra, $6,958; John Toth, Trenton, $3,778; T. G. Cook, Mount Holly, $2,600; J. E. Koister, Bay Mills, $2,400; William C. Cook, Mount Holly, $2,439; Hugh B. Miller, Edgewater Park, $2,433; Richard D. Garon, Mount Holly, $1,943.95. The contract was awarded to Mr. Garon, the low bidder.

Stewart McFarland, supervisor of roads, asked for a new truck for the road department. He submitted prices as follows: Mack, $6,782; Federal, $6,400; White, $6,340. Mr. Wright said that since the road department already had two White trucks, he thought it would be advisable to keep the equipment uniform, and offered a resolution that the road department be authorized to buy a White, which was unanimously passed.

Boy Hit By Car, Mother at Wheel

Dominick Tagliatela Injured When He Jumped Off Bumper at Picnic

Dominick Tagliatela, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Tagliatela, of West Broad street, Palmyra, is lying in the West Jersey Hospital as the result of riding on the bumper of an automobile. Physicians have been unable to determine how seriously the lad is injured.

While on the way to a picnic at Taylor's Lane Tuesday afternoon the lad was injured when he jumped from the front of the machine. His mother was at the wheel of the car.

The fourth and fifth grades of the Palmyra grammar school went on their annual hike and picnic Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Tagliatela followed the party in her auto and overtook the crowd of youngsters just as they turned up Taylor's Lane.

Several of the boys boarded the machine to ride the short distance to the picnic grounds and among them were her son, Dominick, who perched himself on the bumper in front of the car.

As they approached the grounds, the machine slowed down and several of the boys jumped from the running board. Dominick, filled with excitement in anticipation of a joyous outing, failed to notice that the car had not come to a dead stop, and he too, jumped.

As he fell in the path of the machine there were screams and his mother quickly stopped the car. The boy was picked up in an unconscious condition and in the excitement no one noted whether one of the front wheels passed over the boy's body.

Mrs. Herbert Trout, whose little daughter was unable to make the hike with the other kiddies, pulled in at the picnic grounds in her car with her daughter just before the Tagliatela machine arrived.

Mrs. Trout says she saw the machine approaching but had turned her head with a shudder when she saw the boy on the front of the machine as she feared such an accident might occur. One of the other boys, however, says he saw the front wheel of the auto pass over the Tagliatela lad's body.

Mrs. Trout rushed the injured boy and his mother, who was in a hysterical condition, to Palmyra in her car. From the Palmyra firehouse the lad was taken to the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, in the Palmyra ambulance driven by Clayton Weikman.

Mr. Tagliatela says the lad regained consciousness before reaching the hospital and only complained of a slight pain in his chest. At last report Wednesday physicians at the hospital had not determined how seriously the lad had been injured. Internal injuries were feared.

The accident cast a gloom over the entire party of kiddies and teachers.

NEW CANDIDATES

Francis B. Elwell out for Place in Riverton Council

It was announced on Tuesday of this week that Francis B. Elwell would be a candidate for member of the Riverton borough council.

Mr. Elwell was born in Wilmington, Del., and is forty years old. He is married, has three children and owns his home at Seventh street and Elm avenue.

Mr. Elwell spent a year in France during the World War, took part in the offensive at Meuse-Argonne and was cited for bravery. He is at present engaged in the advertising business in Philadelphia. Mr. Elwell would doubtless make a valuable addition to the borough's governing body.

U. of P. TO EXHIBIT

Many Phases of University's History To Be Presented at Sequel

The alumni and friends of the University of Pennsylvania in Palmyra and Riverton will be interested in the historical exhibit which the University will have at the Sequel-Centennial.

The exhibit will be most comprehensive and will bear upon many phases of the University's history from 1740 to 1926. It will contain relics and objects of all kinds pertinent to University history and material concerning discoveries, inventions, research and other accomplishments of alumni or officials.

The authorities also hope to have at least 15,000 books in "The Memorial Library of the Publications of the University and her Sons," produced entirely by persons connected at some time with the University of Pennsylvania, whether students, alumni, teachers or officers. This collection alone will make a most impressive exhibit.

After the exposition closes it is proposed to keep all this historical and other material together for purpose of establishing (probably in the foyer of the new Ivin Hall) a permanent collection bearing upon the history of Penn which would acquaint visitors with its age and present position in the educational world; with the lives of eminent men and women who have been connected with it, and with the contributions which these have made in the fields towards the progress of mankind in the last two centuries.

Moorestown Youth Wins Slogan Prize

David S. Richie Captures $25 Award; Many Other Merit- ous Slogans Submitted

"Give the Gift That Keeps on Giving" will be the slogan of the Burlington County Hospital in its effort to raise $250,000 for a new hospital, according to the decision of Judge Harold B. Wells and V. Claude Palmer, judges of the slogan contest. This has been brought to a close one of the most interesting contests staged by school children for many months, with David S. Richie, of 15 Main street, Moorestown, a senior in the Moorestown Friends' School, as the student to whom the prize of $25 will be awarded.

In the contest, more than 5,000 slogans were submitted with a uniformly high degree of merit to a vast majority. Mingled with the serious were a number which caused the judges to smile, as some bright thought became garbled when set to paper. Following a perusal of all the slogans submitted, 25 were finally selected as the ones more nearly fitting the thought of giving to the hospital and these were eliminated for one reason or another, with that of David Richie being the final choice.

Among other slogans submitted which were rated as of high merit by the judges were the following: "Let us give that others might live," by Emily F. Umstead, grade 5, Crosswicks school; "A treasure which lives forever," by Joseph J. Parker, grade 3, Vincentown school; "Your duty, my duty, our duty," Ellnor Watts, Moorestown Junior High; "By good will, good will be done," Elizabeth Stoddard, grade 2, Chesterfield school; "Bigger County Hospital, better county health," Florence Frazier, grade 2, Riverside school No. 1; "We must, we can, we will," Elizabeth Burham, Delanco school; "Build for years," Wilmer Chance, grade 6, Mount Holly; "Heed our Need," Olive B. Grovatt, grade 4, Willingboro school.

The thoroughness with which hygienics are being taught in the public schools of the county is well indicated in many of the slogans submitted, although the result was humorous, as attested by the following: "It Cleans the Teeth"; "Pour Glasses of Water each day keeps the lungs clean," and "Don't be false to your teeth or they'll be false to you." Some of the other slogans received were "We were your spare tire, now you be ours," "Mortgage Floats," "Honk Honk, Automobile—now rush to the hospital," "We ride them in and walk them out," "Be Santa Claus to a wonderful cause," "Give until it hurts, then go to the hospital," "When you give, don't be a sieve," "If you're in a wreck, we'll find you by heck," "Say it with a hospital and save the flowers," and "If you get knocked out, we bring you in."

Mr. Richie will be given his prize on the occasion of the dinner June 1, at the First Baptist church, Burlington, which will precede the intensive work which will be carried on to afford the hospital sufficient funds with which to erect a new hospital.

METHODIST

Rain failed to dampen the ardor of the members of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday and two unusually large crowds braved the inclement weather and turned out to hear splendid sermons by the pastor, the Rev. J. W. Lee.

This Sunday morning Pastor Lee will take "Things That Cannot Be Shaken" as his sermon theme.

The evening topic is "The World's Greatest Orator." The period of song has become very popular with the evening congregations and is attracting an unusual amount of interest. This fine service and the helpful sermon by the pastor increases the spiritual value of the evening worship doublefold.

Clifton Taylor will be the leader at the Epworth League devotional service at 7 o'clock Sunday evening. His topic will be "Spasms versus System." All young people will receive a hearty welcome. Get the "League" habit.

The Women's Guild will hold a sociability luncheon in the Temple Thursday afternoon, May 27, at 1 o'clock. An appeal has been made for all ladies of the church to attend. Matters of great interest of the church will be discussed.

"Prophecies and Predictions" will be the Rev. J. B. Whitton's subject for the lesson of the Wesleyan Men's Bible Class Sunday. All men are welcome. Last Sunday a delegation from the Moorestown Men's Class paid the Wesleyans a surprise visit and arrangements are being made for a return visit.

The monthly business meeting and social of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Schroepfer, 418 Leconey Avenue, Monday evening, May 24, at 8 o'clock.

The Mission Study will be under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Snow. All the ladies of the church are invited to attend. Kindly note the change of date to May 24, on account of Memorial Day being celebrated on the last Monday of the month.

L. O. O. F. INTERVISITATION

On Monday evening, May 24th, Cinnaminson Lodge will repay a visit of Amity Lodge, of Merchantville, by a pilgrimage to their lodge room. A large caravan is now being organized to partake of their extended hospitality and witness a degree demonstration.

Justice Threatens to Take Up Target Practice; Lawn Being Destroyed

When the ordinance was passed prohibiting dogs to run at large in Palmyra without a muzzle, Mayor James T. Weert said the dog catchers could locate any number of dogs on his lawn most any morning of the week, as they seemed to find his yard an excellent spot to congregate.

Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter says his honor is by no means singly honored. The judge, however, has taken offense to the visits and has threatened to resort to drastic action to oust his early-morning callers.

Mr. Fichter, who lives opposite Fifth Street on Delaware Avenue, declares his street is over-run with canines. They are very destructive, says the judge, and he threatened to shoot any dog he finds in his yard.

Monday morning he chased five dogs from his yard, but not until they had dug up several young plants in his garden and raised havoc in general with the little plot which Mr. Fichter spends perfectly good money and an effort to farm. And none of the animals were muzzled, declared the justice.

He says the flock of dogs which run rampant over his garden has become a nuisance which he will no longer tolerate and if the owners will not make some effort to comply with the law, and prevent their dogs from destroying property, he will shoot the animals.

"I hate to arouse the ill will of people, but unless they keep their dogs home I am going to shoot any I find prowling about my yard. I don't believe there is a law which will prevent me from doing it either," said the squire.

"When you ask people who you know own dogs if their animal was among the pack they say 'no,' or else, 'yes, but I can't watch my dog all the time to keep him out of other folks' yards. I believe one should train them to stay at home, for the man who lives next door to me has had a dog for years and it knows better than to leave their yard."

"Furthermore, I can't see why the town passes ordinances, issues public notices to the effect that they will be enforced, and then never does it. The town has a law prohibiting dogs to run loose without muzzles and dog catchers were to round up stray animals. They also bought a big net and had a wire top made for one of the trucks, but neither have been used."

"Well, I'm not going to wait for delinquent dog catchers. I'll shoot any dogs I find in my yard," concluded the squire with much emphasis.

When asked about the dog problem, Chief of Police Beck verified Fichter's statement that the dog catchers have not been around yet. Morry said from what he understood Chester Watson guaranteed to hire the dog catcher and then had difficulty in obtaining a man for the job.

BIG SALE ON

2,000 Customers Visit Freeman's Economy Store

Samuel Freeman, proprietor of Freeman's Economy Store, West Broad Street, Palmyra, which opened a 10-day dollar sale Friday of last week says they are receiving a tremendous response. More than 2,000 bargain hunters visited the store Friday and Saturday alone.

Mr. Freeman says customers came from Moorestown, Medford, Mount Holly, Riverside, Palmyra, Riverton, Ferry, and even from across the river, a large number of bargain hunters coming from Frankford.

Women wait weeks for one of the Freeman sales, declares the proprietor, and as soon as one is announced they quickly get in touch with friends and relatives in the various surrounding communities. The 10-day sale has proven the most popular of all.

"We will continue to keep up our high standard of bargains and those who were not able to get everything they wanted last week will have another opportunity to do so this Friday and Saturday as I expect to have $3,000 worth of new merchandise in real bargains to offer the public this weekend," said Mr. Freeman early this week.

When asked to what he attributed his unusual success in the dollar sales, the proprietor said "We always give what we advertise. The public knows and if you are truthful in your advertising and really offer something worth while you are bound to get results."

One hundred and twenty-five business men of Tulsa, Oklahoma, recently visited the grounds and buildings of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition which will be held in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1. Like all "first time visitors" they were astonished at the magnitude of the Exposition and the fact that it is so near completion.

NEW YORK TRAIN

Through Service Early in Morning Started by P. R. R.

The new through train from Camden to New York made its first run Monday morning, carrying two regular passenger cars, a combination baggage and smoker car and a pullman.

The train leaves Camden 7:40 a. m. daylight saving time. Its next stop is Palmyra, at 8 o'clock. This is the only Camden-New York train which runs direct through to Manhattan without the inconvenience of a change at Trenton.

It also stops at all of the important stations along the line as far as Trenton and arrives at New York at 10:20 a. m.

Station master Cross of Palmyra, says the train will be very popular with Palmyra people, although only one passenger boarded it on the inaugural trip. The demand for a through train has been often voiced.

Although the Camden Chamber of Commerce is given credit for obtaining this added service, it was backed in its campaign by several influential railroad men such as Mr. Cross.

Mr. Cross says he expects another train, such as the 8 o'clock east bound, will be put on later in the day making it possible to return from New York on a through train. Later, it is also planned to include a diner on this new train, which is known as Train No. 2554 in railroad circles.

Every activity of the United States Coast Guard service, from the chase of rum runners to the routine patrol of the coast, will find some part in the government exhibit which has been assembled for the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition which will be held in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1.

In these days of quick deliveries the man who watches the clock gets the raise in pay.

"Varsity" Letters Awarded at PHS.

Twenty-eight Coveted Insignias Presented; Coach Morse Gets Gold Basketball

Coach Craig Morse awarded twenty-eight varsity letters to Palmyra High School athletes at assembly exercises Friday morning of last week. Those who received the awards were members of the girls' basketball and hockey teams and boys' basketball team. Twenty of the winners of the coveted "B" were fair athletes.

Much to his extreme surprise, and gratification, the little mentor also received an award for his splendid services in connection with Palmyra High athletics.

The boys achieved a crackerjack record on the court this season and in recognition of the fine results the passers who helped pile up the long line of victories were given an additional award to the regular letter in the form of a gold basketball to be worn as a charm on watch chains.

After Mr. Morse had made the presentation of the letters and gold basketballs to the boys he was called to the front of the auditorium by Manager Lamont Roberts and presented with the surprise token, also a gold basketball on which was engraved his name and the date. The youthful manager, in presenting the coach with the fine tribute, lauded him for his untiring work with the boys which paved the way for many victories and commended the excellent system of basketball leagues which enable all boys to compete.

Palmyra's court stars were considered the high school champs of this section for the current season, says the coach. The boys did not suffer defeat at the hands of a high school combination, and ran up a total of twelve victories. Two business schools, Ridge of Trenton, and Taylor's of Philadelphia, did conquer the Morsemens, however, but that did not count in interscholastic circles.

Those who won varsity honors were Clifford West, Edward (Ted) Hudson, Stanley Godley, William McKee, Captain Adolph Bright, Vincent Kalanowski, Jack Easley and Manager Lamont Roberts. As Palmyra High only enters into two recognized major sports for girls, it is only possible for the fair athletes to exhibit prowess in the two divisions and can only win a pair of letters. And Palmyra High boasts of a quintet of active members.

The section of map covering the Metropolitan area has been continued and in addition valuable information has been included to give the distances on the State Highways between the larger centers of population.

A new and interesting feature of the 1926 map is a panel showing by width of line the traffic volume on State Routes.

"THE OLD RELIABLE"

Cinnaminson Bank & Trust Co.

Riverton, N. J.

"I can hear you! I can hear the words!" It was March 10, 1876, the day the telephone was born. Alexander Graham Bell patented at that early day a nation-wide telephone service. But not even he could foresee the great modern long-distance switchboards which make one community of the state and the nation.

SPEEDING THE SPOKEN WORD

Two telephones as invented by Alexander Graham Bell would, if connected by wire and charged with battery, furnish simple intercommunication.

But that portion of the present telephone plant represented by Bell's invention comprises but about two per cent. of the whole.

The instrument on your desk is only the inbound and outbound terminal.

You measure its performance not in terms of the receiver and transmitter, or of the intricate switchboard mechanisms and circuits that lie in between it and the telephone you call, but rather in terms of the facility and dependability with which it responds to your directions.

That a local call shall be practically instantaneous, within the limit of machines and human hands to function, is not an unreasonable expectation.

That on average calls across the state or the continent relatively longer intervals are now required is probably understood.

Yet there is reason to expect that as time goes on, with the further development of operating equipment and methods now of practical use, the placing and completion of calls to distant points will more and more closely approach the facility and speed of local connections.

So great has been the recent improvement in these respects that comparison of 1926 with 1906 or even 1916 would make the accomplishment of those earlier years seem rather ordinary.

Only by such progress does telephone service keep pace with the increasing reliance which American business puts on it.

"ROOKIES" HOLD FIRST TEAM 2-1

Practice Game Between First and Second Teams Reveals Promising Youngsters

Last evening (Wednesday) Manager Martin Welsh called a practice game for all the candidates for the Riverton Baseball team. Due to a shortage of catchers our versatile athlete "Sonny" Wright, acted as back stop for both teams. By his actions behind the bat, "Sonny" showed that he had been there before. Sonny caught a very commendable game considering he had worked with neither of the pitchers before. The more experienced players formed the First team and the younger and inexperienced formed the Second.

Hinkle, formerly of the Atwater-Kent team of Philadelphia, pitched for the first team. The youngster who toiled as moundman for the second team was Harvey, of Gloucester. Harvey is a former Camden Catholic High pitcher.

The game lasted five and one half innings but it was interesting and thrilling throughout. Hinkle had nine strike outs to his credit while Harvey had four, a very good record considering the players the youngsters pitched against.

A two-bagger on a single with a strike out in between scored the Second team's only tally in the fourth. The First team let a triple and two one base singles go to waste during the first four innings but in the fifth they scored two runs. The First team scored on a single, a double and another single in succession.

Leon Sloan, Jr., playing left field for the Second team made a beautiful one-hand running catch in the third round. Nick Wallace, known to the boys as "Southern Hospitality" made a hard catch easy by a little fast sprinting in the fourth.

Paul (Narrow) Holvick third baseman for the rookies, looked like Jimmy Dykes when he stopped a couple of hard ones and made perfect throws to Tom Carroll at first.

With nine S. O.'s in their favor the First could not show much stuff in the field, but they played an errorless game.

The showing made by the candidates would indicate that Riverton is going to have a real honest-to-goodness baseball team this year. Manager Welsh is trying hard to whip a team into shape that can play a brand of ball that will be worthy of the newly built diamond.

With such a fine start as this practice game it will be a blot on Riverton's reputation as a town of up and downers to let the team fall through lack of support. Let the slogan of the fans be "Everybody at every ball game this season." The first game will be played Saturday, May 29.

Palmyra Extension Growing Rapidly

Former Eval-Wimer Farm Being Developed; Sixty Houses Planned

William T. Harker, prominent Camden realtor and developer, has opened the tract on Cinnaminson Avenue opposite Morgan Cemetery, the former John Eval farm, on which sixty houses will be started immediately. The farm was owned by George Wimer up to last year. The plot is about 800 feet long and in depth extends from Cinnaminson Avenue to Public Road. It contains approximately 275 building lots.

Work has begun and the entire tract will be fully developed with streets, grading, sidewalks and all of the usual conveniences including gas, electricity and water. Four streets will extend the full depth of the development. Palmyra Extension, as it is called, and one will run parallel with Cinnaminson Avenue. The streets have been named Fairfax Drive, LaJeune Road, Cuthbert Road and Oxford Road.

Since the tract is located in Cinnaminson Township the developers are waiting for word from the township committee before final decision as to the surface material of the streets. It will either be gravel or cinders.

About twenty-five percent of the lots in Palmyra Extension have been sold, according to Irving E. Harker, the sales manager, who is a brother of the developer and is on the development at all times. All lots with frontage on Cinnaminson Avenue are to be business sites and Mr. Harker says practically all of them have been snatched up.

Several houses are already under construction. A combination home, auto service station and accessories shop of the newer type with gasoline pumps under a porch is being erected along Cinnaminson Avenue and will open July 1. The place has already been sold, says Mr. Harker.

Square, two-story houses, of the colonial type, will be built along Cuthbert Road while the homes along LaJeune Road will be of the Spanish type.

Fred Green, the contractor who is erecting the LaJeune Road houses says "The real Spanish Homes I am building in Palmyra Extension will be constructed of the best material and labor obtainable and will be complete to a degree way beyond what we will charge for them. The flooring will be of unusually heavy oak, there will be built-in tubs and showers in the bathrooms, fireplaces in the living rooms, laundry tubs, and all windows will be metal sash. The construction of these homes will make them almost fireproof and the best non-conductor of weather."

The Harker organization is the sole developer and sales agent for properties and lots in Palmyra Extension.

Work of School Nurse Is Fully Praised at May Meeting

The last meeting of the season of the Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association was held Monday evening, May 18, in the grammar school auditorium. Dr. H. W. Bauer and Mrs. Carl J. Jefferson spoke about the good work being done by the school nurse, Miss Olwell; the monthly examination of pupils, the follow-up work in the homes, the excellent result of personal contact and the pleasing number of corrections of physical defects.

Her mark in the Well Baby Clinic was also praised and both the physician and Mrs. Jefferson wished to impress upon the Association the importance of keeping Miss Olwell in Palmyra.

The Palmyra Parent-Teacher Association has registered with the State Office to engage in the "round-up" of children that will go to school for the first time in September, to be examined, physically, so that any defects may be corrected during the summer, which will promote better attendance during the school term. This is not only being done in New Jersey, but it will be taken up by the Association throughout the United States. While there will be no more "regular" monthly meetings until Autumn there will be much done during the vacation months.

The P. T. A. May Hop held in the high school auditorium Saturday evening proved to be a very enjoyable affair and was well attended by local dance lovers.

Mrs. William Miller will favor with a solo and the usual refreshments will be served by the members of St. Agnes Guild.

East Riverton "Bad Man" Stages Bombardment in W. Palmyra Sand Hills

William Johnson, 37 years old, colored, said to be East Riverton's "bad man," went on the warpath Monday afternoon and staged a bombardment in the sand hills, Pennsauken, that landed him in the clutches of the law and he is being held without bail for trial in Camden County courts.

The dusky desperado was captured by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck and Officer Joseph Rodgers, of the Palmyra police force, after he had taken a gun away from Alonzo Ray, also colored, of the sand hills, and blazed away at a house and routed two men from the hills with a stream of the lead pellets.

Negro acquaintances in East Riverton and West Palmyra declare he is a "bad man with a nasty disposition."

Shoots Up Windows
Last week Johnson sold Ray a 32-caliber revolver. Monday afternoon he called at Ray's home at the sand hills and took the gun away from him, broke a window pane and then fired several shots in the direction of another colored woman's home, Mary Hill, who lives nearby Ray.

Stanley "Ike" Hilton, of Riverton, who was employed by the Riverton street department hauling gravel, was in the gravel pits at the time and ran toward Ray's home to investigate the shooting. Johnson saw Hilton coming and fired four shots which Hilton declared "missed him by inches."

Hilton quickly retreated and ran for his brother, Russell, who also was at the gravel pits. When the pair returned, Johnson had disappeared. With Ray, Charles Prickett, colored, who also had had several bullets directed toward him by Johnson, they formed a searching party but could not find the incensed man.

Policeman Called
Chief Beck and Officer Rodgers were then called and the second search revealed Johnson lying asleep beneath a bush. The police quickly unloaded Johnson's garments while he was held under cover by a gun and found the revolver and several rounds of ammunition.

As the officers were taking Johnson to the Palmyra police station in Chief Beck's roadster the colored man became abusive in his language to Officer Rodgers and the policeman drew off and planted a solid blow over his left eye. Johnson made an attempt to return the blow. Chief Beck, who was driving, quickly quelled the disorder, driving the colored man to submission with a tap on the head with a blackjack.

Palmyra police turned Johnson over to the Pennsauken police, as he had stirred up his rumpus in Pennsauken Township.

He was tried by Recorder Rot-ell there Tuesday morning and held for court proceedings without bail. In his testimony, Johnson declared it was Ray, and not he, who had done the shooting. The statements by the Hiltons, Palmyra police, Ray, Prickett and Mrs. Hill wiped out Johnson's charges.

Chief Beck says Johnson had been drinking before he staged the shooting, but had not had enough to make him drunk. It is understood he is a desperate character and only last week he threatened to kill a colored man over a slight misunderstanding.

He has only lived in East Riverton a short time, but quickly gained the reputation as a "bad man." He is said to have come from the South.

SESQUI TO ENTERTAIN BOY AWARD WINNERS

Exposition Arranges To Have Successful Entrants Occupy Exclusive Private School

Plans for the entertainment of the representatives of American youth and teachers who will be guests of the directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition from June 25 to July 5, have been perfected. They include the taking over of one of the most exclusive private schools in the vicinity of Philadelphia, with a campus famous for its beauty, tennis courts, swimming pool and all other advantages. One of the large and well equipped dormitories will be used for the boys and another for the girls and teachers. The quarters are spacious and beautifully furnished.

In selecting the staff, including attendants, chefs, chauffeurs and others, great care has been taken to insure the welfare and comfort of the visitors. They will be taken to the Exposition grounds for public receptions and slight seeding in private houses, which also will be employed in taking them to Washington, the national capital, where medals will be conferred upon them by President Coolidge.

The American Youth Award and American Teacher Award have been established at a tribute to American youth and teachers by the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which will be held in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1, in celebration of one hundred and fifty years American independence. The boy and girl and woman teacher chosen to represent each state will have their expenses paid by the Exposition's directors, from the time they leave home until their return. They will arrive in Philadelphia June 25, when private houses will take them to the beautiful home which will be theirs during their stay. The assembling of the staff and preparation of the school for the coming of the honored guests already is under way.

The Exposition directors plan to make the trip of the visitors a memorable one in every way, as a worthy tribute to the youth and teacherhood of America.

FINE HOUSING FACILITIES ARRANGED FOR THE SESQUI

Excellent housing facilities have been arranged in Philadelphia for the millions of persons who will visit the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which opens in Philadelphia June 1 and continues until December 1. In addition to the usual accommodations offered by hotels, the Official Housing Bureau of the Exposition has listed available rooms in Philadelphia homes where visitors will find a hearty welcome. Each home has been carefully inspected regarding religion, nationality, occupation and character of the occupants recorded. Similar classification of visitors applying for accommodations also will be made.

Visitors may make reservations in advance of their trip to the Exposition by communicating with the Official Housing Bureau, Sesqui-Centennial Visitors' Accommodation, Inc., 2401 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A REAL HEROINE

Miss May Adams of Burlington, N. J., the first American School girl to be entered as a candidate for the American Youth Award. The American Youth and Teacher Award was established by the Board of Directors of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia as a tribute to the youth and teachers of the nation. Miss Adams is a candidate for the Golden Badge, the highest gift in the hands of the Girl Scouts. She was cited recently for exceptional bravery for remaining inside a blazing building helping physicians to give first aid treatment to injured firemen.

Shortly before Columbus discovered America, sugar sold for $2.75 a pound in London.

IDENTIFIES GUNMAN

Mount Holly Policeman Recognizes Man Who Shot Him

Officer Norman Gaskill of the Mount Holly police force, has positively identified Frankie Doris, one of the men arrested in Philadelphia in connection with a recent holdup and the murder of a policeman, as the man who shot him in Mount Holly on January 25, 1924.

It will be remembered that Gaskill, while doing traffic duty at the foot of Main street, stopped a car containing four men who acted suspiciously like criminals, and they quickly stepped on the gas and sped down Washington street with the officer standing on the running board. When about opposite the Union fire house Doris, who was on the back seat, shot at Gaskill and then shoved him off into the street, the car continuing on at break-neck speed out West Washington street and later was found abandoned near Riverton, where it was discovered on fire and practically burned up.

Gaskill's life was probably saved by the fact that the bullet struck his belt and glanced off. Once since that time the officer has identified Doris, but before a detainer could be lodged against him in Philadelphia he was discharged.

Doris has a record of being arrested on numerous charges from petty larceny to murder, but he appears to bear a charmed existence and always manages to escape the meshes of the law, or if he is convicted gets away with light sentences.

It appears now that the charge against him in Philadelphia will hold him for awhile, and later he may be brought to Burlington county for attempting to take Officer Gaskill's life.

COAST FLAMM IN INVITED TO COMPETE AT THE SESQUI

Phil Barber, captain of the University of California track team who last week was timed for the 100 yards in 8 5-16 seconds, has been invited to compete in the national A. A. U. championships July 2, 3 and 4, in Philadelphia. Most of the leading sprinters in this country have announced their intention of competing in the Sesqui-Centennial Exposition meet, including Charley Faddock, Roland Locke, Jackson Scholz, Loren Marchison, Frank Hussey, Delfort Hubbard and Al Le Coney. All have done under 10 seconds repeatedly for the century. The Exposition opens June 1 and continues until December 1.

"MIRACLE" IS SESQUI FEATURE

Morris Gest, noted theatrical man, will produce "The Miracle" in Philadelphia as one of the features of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which opens in Philadelphia on June 1 and continues to December 1. This production, which has been termed the world's greatest music drama spectacle, will be given in the Metropolitan Opera House, Philadelphia, for five weeks, starting October 4.

TOOTING

Members of C. M. T. C. Will Develop Own Music

Young America will toot its own horn this summer.

When the 35,000 bronzed youths to be trained at Citizens' Military Training Camps throughout the country swing past the reviewing stand on their last day of camp, it will be to the strains of martial airs blared forth by real military bands of the boys' own creation.

Beat the drum or shrill the fife and develop your self-reliance seems to be the keynote of the Government's latest policy requiring C. M. T. C. students to organize full-blooded regimental bands as part of their training.

Back of this decision, Army officers say, is the conviction that the young men will become better defenders of the country for being schooled to cope with every factor which would confront them in an actual campaign. And to the soldier stirring music is as necessary as food and clothing.

The Base Ball Season has opened! The game with Mount Laurel on Friday was a real game. At the beginning of the ninth inning the score was 12-13. Even though the visiting team scored 2 runs in the last inning we are not discouraged in defeat but are determined to win when we play again next week at Mount Laurel.

The colored boys played River-side on Monday and came home with the laurels. The final score was 5-3.

Until last week we did not realize that we have an "Author" in our eighth grade. The Friends' Temperance Committee offered a prize for the best Essay on Law Enforcement and Theodore Blakely won first prize. He came to school today with a letter from the committee of judges commending him for his good work and enclosing a check for $5.00. We surely are proud of Theodore.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOLS AND THE CANDIDATES

Turned Down by Board of Freeholders, Friends of Project May Make it a Campaign Issue

A meeting of the Burlington County Industrial Association was held in Burlington Monday night and the chief topic under consideration was the attitude of candidates for member of the board of freeholders toward the proposition of establishing vocational schools in Burlington county. Louis J. Kaser, county superintendent of schools in Burlington county was one of the speakers. It was stated that one of the candidates for freeholder had already pledged his support to the project and that the other had expressed his willingness to meet with a committee from the association to discuss the matter.

The Burlington County Industrial Association represents practically all of the leading industrial interests in the county, and has been working on the vocational school for several months. Some time ago a committee from the Association requested the board of freeholders to appoint a county board of vocational training to prepare plans and estimates of the cost of going into vocational training as a county project, but the board refused to take this action at that time. Since that time there have been some indications that vocational schools might be made an issue in the present campaign.

Keep Off The Grass! This is what everyone is thinking just now at our school. Why? Well! Just ride by and see the grading of the school grounds and you will understand. Some day when all the shrubs are in bloom and the grass is green we will feel regret for the care we have been taking of the front lawn. We think that the grounds around a school should be pretty to look at and we are working hard to keep everything clean and in order.

Don't forget our Field Day. The following schools will join with us at 1 o'clock June 5th. Springfield, Mount Laurel, Bridgeboro, Cambridge, and Willingboro. If it should rain the Meet will be held the following day. There will be a Grand March, Formal Gymnastics, Folk Dances, and Athletic Events. The school which earns the highest number of points will get a prize. Of course we hope that school will be CINNAMINSON.

Can you imagine children really wanting to go to the dentist? We have some. David Bauer keeps asking every day when Miss Blair and Miss Cook are going to take him to have his teeth fixed. Wouldn't it be fine if all the children took such good care of their teeth?

Monday was International Good Will Day. Mr. Taylor, the president of our Board of Education brought Mr. John Morris out to our school to talk to the children about the war and what it really meant to the people in Europe and to our own soldiers. Mr. Morris saw things just as they happened. All the things he told about were true and most of them made us feel that war is a pretty terrible thing and not just fine uniforms and brass bands.

PRIZE ESSAYS
The awards of cash prizes of $5, $3 and $2 by the Riverton Chamber of Commerce for the best essays written on "The Romance of Riverton," the motion picture film shown in the Riverton public school May 4, 7 and 8, will be awarded on Saturday, May 22.

Contestants in Riverton will send their essays direct to The Essay Contest Committee at The New Era office.

Cinnaminson township pupils have received their instructions through their teachers.

This contest was advertised to have closed last week, but since no essays were received from Riverton children, it has been held open another week.

Surely the boys and girls of Riverton will want to try for these prizes, both for the prizes themselves and as a matter of civic pride.

FIELD DAY AT RIVERTON SCHOOL

Riverton school's annual field day exercises will take place on the school grounds next Tuesday May 25th, at 2:00 p. m.

The first part of the program will consist of gymnastic exercises and drills in which all the pupils of the school take part, under the direction of Miss Lucas, supervisor of physical training.

"Good-bye, Hot Kitchens"

A HOT oven usually means a hot kitchen. But now comes the Glenwood Insulated Oven to make your kitchen cooler in summer than it has ever been before. You can keep this oven at a roasting heat and three feet away you would hardly know the gas was turned on. Thick walls of mineral wool hold the heat inside where it belongs and prevent the waste radiation.

You won't find any scorching hot spots or half-heated corners in this oven. Put the food in anywhere at the top, sides or bottom and it will be cooked through as evenly as in an old-fashioned Dutch oven.

An insulated Glenwood will give you a new idea of the year-round comfort and economy of doing all your cooking with gas.

Of course the Glenwood Insulated Oven Range has an oven heat regulator, and is enamelled inside and outside. Sizes to fit big and little kitchens.

Easy monthly payments make owning the Glenwood easy.

Karl W. Latch Dons Shirts and Follows Pair to Atlantic City; Cop Gets Him

TOO MUCH CONFIDENCE PROVES DOWNFALL

Time—Saturday afternoon. Scene—Wedding. Characters—Bride, groom, minister, attendants, ushers, "men and ladies in waiting," (the latter destined to take a prominent and wholly unexpected role as the play develops).

Wedding over, newlyweds and guests departing, enter Karl W. Latch, prominent Chamber of Commerce worker and promising young realtor, disguised as a girl—down to the last detail.

Karl took an active part in the recent filming of "The Romance of Riverton," and it is just possible that he had some idea of turning Palmyra into a miniature Hollywood.

But, like many lads and lassies with "movie aspiration," Bud found there was much more in the glitter of the limelight, and when his little sister wound up in Atlantic City's police station, he was about ready to return to real estate.

Bud, who is one of Riverton's recent additions to the Benedict Honor Roll, was given a "rousing reception" on return from his honeymoon.

Saturday, Riverton's youthful realtor fulfilled his duties as usher at the Moffitt-Curry wedding, made his initial bow at the reception at the home of the bride's parents, and then dropped completely out of sight. When it came time to photograph the bridal party, Bud was nowhere to be found. And, of course, none of his friends knew what had become of him.

Mysterious Personage. The photo was "shot" without the missing usher and the happy couple prepared to start on their honeymoon. But, still, Bud failed to put in his appearance. Just as they were pulling away from the house in a taxi a small racer came dashing wildly down the street driven by Charles Cole and carrying a very blonde appearing maid as its passenger.

No one, in the excitement of bidding farewell to the newlyweds, paid particular attention to the other machine except Mrs. Harry Curry, mother of the bride, who recognized the notoriously ardent dandy to be none other than the missing usher in disguise.

According to other parties which followed the couple, the racer, fair passenger and all, quickly took up the race, being in the lead, taking after a wild ride, on which the racer passed a red traffic light in the heart of Camden, both the taxi and the Mile. Latch arrived at the Reading terminal, Camden.

The newlyweds had watched the racer all the way to Camden but did not recognize their pursuer until after she had purchased a railroad ticket and had returned to her vigil. Then the bridegroom discovered the identity of the flapper, and much to her dismay, took her hat from her head.

Not discouraged by the recognition, Mile. Latch boarded the Atlantic City express and took her seat in the smoker. During the course of the trip, she took off her hat. The conductor who took pity upon the happy couple, also "spotted" the masculine female and made arrangements with young Mr. and Mrs. Moffitt to embark from the train from the rear coach, and on the opposite side from other passengers, to give them an opportunity to escape Mile. Latch, who evidently was bent on avenging the boisterous reception she received after her marriage.

The Plot Thickens. Her quarry spotted, and safe within the taxi, Mile. Latch sought to further engage the cooperation of the taxi driver by taking him more fully into her confidence. To this end she removed her hat in proof of her claim to the masculine sex, and was about to undress the beauties of the plan concerning the newlyweds when the driver became suspicious and called a cop. From then on it was all off. The officer was polite, sorry and everything an officer should be to a lady in such an embarrassing predicament, but in the line of his duty he had no choice but to take her to the police station. He rang for the patrol at the nearest box.

Before the wagon arrived the flapper was the centre of attraction and much curiosity. Men, women and children appeared as if by magic, and in less than two minutes traffic was blocked by the crowd which ventured many wild guesses as to what the trouble might be, ranging all the way from "nuts" to "wings."

At the station house the story told by the "prisoner at the bar" failed to make much impression on the magistrate, and two precious hours were wasted in investigation, which included a number of telephone calls to Riverton in an endeavor to identify the suspect.

When they were finally convinced that they had spotted a perfectly good joke, the detectives at the police station entered into the spirit of the occasion and tried to help locate the newlyweds, who, however, still played in luck and escaped detection. Nearly every hotel in Atlantic City was called on the telephone except the one selected by the Moffitts.

According to arrangements, Bud was to follow the Moffitts and after locating their hotel, was to make a quick dash to the Plaza Hotel where he would meet his wife, Newton Morton and the Misses Laura Jones, Hope Kershner and Helen Schmitt, and then prepare to serenade the

MOTOR CORPORATION ERECTS NEW SIGN

Paraphrases Chamber of Commerce Slogan to Read, "Riverton Got the Preference"

The Motor Requirements Corporation, of Camden, which appeared before the Riverton Chamber of Commerce a short time ago to demonstrate its products and explain its method of selling stock, has decided to locate at East Riverton, where a plot of ground has been bought from J. Lawrence Lippincott for the purpose of erecting a plant. Prices have already been asked from local builders, it being the expressed desire of the officers of the corporation to keep as much of the work in the immediate vicinity as possible.

In a sign erected on the site of the proposed factory the corporation has paraphrased the slogan of the Riverton Chamber of Commerce, "Give Riverton the Preference," to read "Riverton Got the Preference."

An office has been rented at 514 Main street, which will be open for business as soon as some necessary alterations have been made.

The first prize of $5 went to Robert and Richard Biddle, who worked together. The second prize of $3 was won by William Quigley, son of Officer Quigley, and the third, $2, went to Charles Woolston, better known to his schoolmates as "Chus."

The prizes for the best essays on "The Romance of Riverton" will be announced next week, and the winning papers will be published.

ROTARY CLUB WILL ERECT ROAD SIGNS

Officers Services in Fourth of July Celebration and Suggests Joint Effort

At the regular dinner and meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club last Thursday evening, Evan W. Stover, as chairman of the public works committee, was instructed to have road signs placed at the entrance to the ferry at Palmyra, at River Road and Ponsauken creek, River Road at Taylor's Lane and Burlington Pike at the Riverton Road.

The secretary was instructed to write the Palmyra and Riverton Chambers of Commerce and the Borough Councils and offer the suggestion of the Rotary Club committee on any arrangements that have been made for the Fourth of July celebration, and also suggest that the two boroughs combine on the two works display.

John B. Warner, vice president, was in the chair in the absence of Dr. Mills and presented a speaker of the evening L. D. Odhner, Department of Exhibits of the South Jersey Exposition. Mr. Odhner gave an inspiring talk on the past and future of Greater Camden, including this vicinity. Camden, in 1920 had a population of 200,000 inhabitants, and from reliable sources it is predicted that the population of Camden in 1930 will be 300,000.

Rotarian Clement B. Lewis described what he found on his recent trip to Florida and made a comparison with conditions of today and when he first visited Florida.

A suggestion was made that the living G. A. R. men be invited to attend meeting of the club on the 27th, it being the nearest one to Memorial Day.

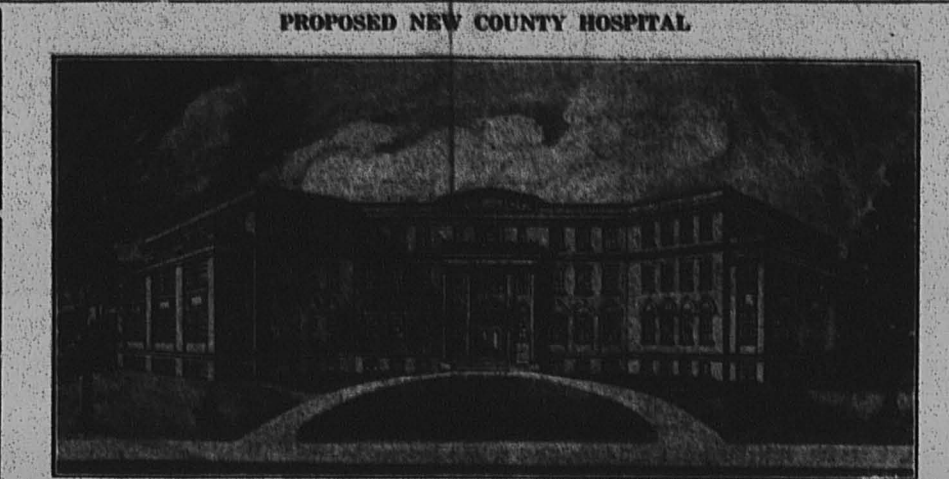

Vice President Warner and Secretary Beebe attended the conference of the 50th District Executives on May 26th at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, Philadelphia.

Leg Broken While Helping Unload Heavy Elevator

George B. Shaner, Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, of the firm of George W. Shaner and Sons, prominent Palmyra Contractors and Builders, is confined to his home suffering from a compound fracture of the right leg below the knee as the result of an accident Monday afternoon.

Mr. Shaner was assisting six men unload an elevator from a truck at the shops, Washington Avenue and Spring Garden street, Palmyra, when the bulky article slipped from the truck, striking Mr. Shaner.

Above is the architect's conception of how the proposed $250,000 building for the county hospital will appear.

Men's Club Told About Hospital

Dr. Longsdorf Tells Members About County Drive For New Building

The Men's club of Christ Church, Palmyra, held its final meeting of the Spring in the Parish House Monday evening.

The celebrated "Forum," founded by "Dick" Wilson, was the program for the evening, six members of the club being scheduled to speak for ten minutes each.

Six interesting and snappy talks resulted, the subjects being taken for the most part from the personal experiences of the speakers.

William Carson, who has made a study of birds and their habits, upon them, opened the program with an interesting talk on our feathered friends and quoted some very beautiful poems dealing with the Skylark and Nightingale.

J. J. Siddall, who is connected with the Johns-Manville organization, spoke on "asbestos" and described the mining of this substance, followed by its manufacture into many useful materials, ranging from paper to roofs.

James Thompson, who was with the British Camel Corps in Egypt during the world war had as his subject "Life in the Camel Battery." He gave an interesting account of the camel as a beast of burden and travel, described its unique habits and related many thrilling stories of his warlike experiences.

Richard Dallett told of his trip through the Caribbean Sea and his life in Dutch Guiana. It's all very beautiful in the tropics and tropical fruits are really delicious, tasting a hundred times better than they do when imported here, for in that case they are all picked too green to have their true flavor. The climate, however, is best described, said Mr. Dallett, by an amusing poem which he quoted and which was largely composed of a rapid succession of "Damns."

J. L. Mettler, a watch expert, gave an interesting account of the manufacture of gold watchcases, comparing the modern process in which machinery plays so large a part with the old time methods of hand manufacture. One feature of his remarks was an account of how much gold is lost through gold dust being lodged in clothing and on shoes and working its way into the floors.

Modern methods eliminate most of this waste and nowadays even the water in which the workers wash themselves is filtered in such a way as to prevent thousands of dollars worth of gold being lost each year.

Alfred E. Fowler wound up the Forum with a collection of witticisms. Among other things he said, "Women are like angels. They are always up in the air, always haphazard on something, and never have anything to wear."

Many Definitions. The novelty promised by Mr. Wilson consisted in exhibiting a number of words such as "Patriotism," "Fair play," etc., but few attempted "fair play" and nobody tackled "Patriotism."

A plea was made by Dr. Longsdorf, of Mount Holly, for the Burlington County Hospital Drive, and also a talk by Mr. Toy, as the result of which Richard E. Wilson had the task of heading the campaign in this vicinity bestowed upon him.

Mrs. William Miller sang several beautiful solos, with Mrs. Frank Matthews, Jr., at the piano, and music was furnished throughout the evening by Lee Milton's orchestra.

AIDS WOMAN

Maurice Schwartz Finds Aged Lady Lying in Road

Maurice Schwartz, proprietor of the Two-City Fruit Market, perhaps saved the life of an aged woman early Wednesday morning.

Early in the morning Mr. Schwartz was making a trip into Philadelphia and when he reached the section known as Delaware Gardens he saw a lady lying in the ditch that runs along the road. He stopped and investigated and found the lady to be in great pain.

She murmured she lived at 812 Riverside Drive, Camden. Mr. Schwartz took her to that address but in his haste failed to inquire as to her name or the cause of her lying in the road.

GRAND STAND BUILT

Field Club Wins Opening BB Game

Locals Defeat Philadelphia Post-office Nine by Score of 9 to 8

The baseball season was opened in Palmyra Wednesday evening of last week when a "pickup" team of former Field Club stars conquered the strong Philadelphia Terminal R. P. O. nine, of the Philadelphia U. S. Post Office League, by a 9-8 count.

Palmyra opened with a furious attack and garnered her entire collection of markers in the first two innings. One run was tallied in the opening frame and an onslaught of local bats, coupled with a complete blowup on the part of the visitors, which resulted in a rare collection of miscues, netted the double quartet of counters.

Harder gave an excellent account of himself on the mound and also came through with a timely hit. Each aggression lambasted the horseshoe to the extent of seven safe bumps.

Bigger, started on the knoll for the visitors and was replaced by Frankfield after the grand crash. The second twirler proved to be a whirlwind on the mound and kept the locals well under control during the remaining five innings.

Tommy Schwin's long famous call for the "crying towels" rang out loud and long when Hutnyan, of the Postal Clerks, jumped into the fray in the closing moments to catch the crack Frankfield, whose speedy shoots proved very elusive in the semi-darkness. "In ignorance there is bliss," therefore we still have our Bambino to throw at Palmyra on our next visit," proclaimed one of the mail boys. The "Bambino" was a fine new gray suit as he took his place behind the bat.

"The Palmyra boys must be commended for the fine, clean-cut game they put up and I cannot understand why a team of their ability cannot win the support of the fans in Palmyra," declared the Postal manager at the close of the fracas.

COALE HEADS RIVERTON DRIVE FOR COUNTY HOSPITAL

AMBULANCE NEWS

Donations of $22 Received During Week

Mrs. John C. Hoepfner, treasurer of the Palmyra Ambulance Association, reports that she has received $22 as donations during the past week.

Twenty-five dollars of the above amount was received from Dr. W. S. Winters, of Palmyra; five dollars from George C. Baker, of Palmyra, and two dollars as late returns from the recent cake sale.

Two calls were also made by the ambulance. One was to New Lisbon, to take Mrs. Ethel Gibson to the Hillcrest Sanitarium, Berwyn, Pa., and the other to take Dominick Tagliatela, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Tagliatela, of Palmyra, to the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital.

Assisted by 30 Workers He Will Open Drive Wednesday; Cinnamonson Included

$350,000 IS TOTAL SOUGHT IN COUNTY

The campaign committee for the new Burlington County Hospital has appointed James S. Coale as chairman of the committee to collect in Riverton and Cinnamonson Township. Already thirty men have volunteered as team workers and Wednesday Mr. Coale said:

Complete plans for the campaign will be announced at a mass meeting to be held in Burlington, Tuesday, June 1.

With the advent of next Tuesday, Burlington county will engage in one of the most humanitarian undertakings in its history, when nearly 100 men and women in all parts of the county will start forth to raise a fund of $350,000 with which to erect a modern 100-bed hospital of fire-proof construction. The work will continue to June 11th at which time the county will be assured of a structure in which will be provided adequate hospital service.

The opening move in the cooperative effort to raise the fund will take place Tuesday night when all of the workers will gather at a complimentary dinner in the First Baptist Church at Burlington. This meeting will be addressed by Charles S. Evans, of Riverton, who is thoroughly familiar with hospital work, as he is now serving as a director of one of the largest hospitals in Philadelphia. Other speakers will include Franklin S. Chambers, general chairman, and men who will emphasize the need of the hospital. Final instructions will also be given the workers prior to the start of the active work the following morning. With the approach of the actual campaign, various district chairmen are being asked by individuals for permission to assist in the work and the interest of these people in providing a new hospital is spreading rapidly throughout the county.

Considerable interest was aroused in the campaign and Wednesday night in Moorestown when 150 men and women of the county gathered in the Community House at the invitation of Dr. Joseph Stokes. The evening was marked with short talks by Dr. Stokes, Franklin S. Chambers, Miss Lydia M. Parry, president of the Board of Managers, Dr. M. W. Newcomb, Dr. Emlen S. Stokes, Dr. E. R. Mulford, of Burlington, and Judge Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown. Dr. Mulford spoke of the difficulty which he experienced with his own family to gain admittance to hospitals in Philadelphia, saying that it was necessary to go to four hospitals before having his own child entered as a patient.

Hospitals crowded. Dr. Emlen Stokes pointed out the crowded conditions of other hospitals in the vicinity of Burlington county and told of several cases which had to be cared for at home because of inability to have the patients entered in nearby hospitals. Dr. Newcomb told of the need of a 100-bed hospital for the county and suggested that the advice of a famous doctor who believed that every man over forty be chloroformed be applied to the present Burlington County Hospital and a new one provided.

Dr. Joseph Stokes quoted statistics showing that each year a few number of medical graduates were entering county practice and stated emphatically that this lack of adequate coverage by physicians must be made up by providing more and larger hospitals, while Mr. Chambers and Miss Parry dealt with the past history of the institution. Mr. Chambers, in addition, quoted statistics gathered in a survey which left no doubt as to the support of the new institution once it was in operation.

Notables Present. Included among those present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Caleb S. Ridgway, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Biddle, of Riverton; Senator and Mrs. Emmor Robert, Moorestown; Frank W. Thacher, Edgewater Park; Mr. and Mrs. E. Russell Perkins; Mr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, Jr., Moorestown; Mr. and Mrs. George F. Rios, Lambertson; Mr. and Mrs. V. Claude Palmer, Moorestown; Mr. and Mrs. William C. LEVI S. CLARK

Levi S. Clark, a pioneer Palmyrian and veteran farmer, died Sunday at his home, 12 New Jersey avenue, Palmyra, following a brief illness of ten days. A heart attack caused the death of Mr. Clark, who was 78 years old.

The deceased had been a resident of this locality for the past sixty years, first farming a tract that included much of the present Highland and Washington avenues and later the farm at the foot of Delaware avenue.

Previous to his retirement several years ago Mr. Clark lived on the Evald Farm, Cinnamonson avenue, where Joseph F. Schmierer recently died. Then he moved to a house he owned at Fourth and Delaware avenue. Six months later his wife died and he broke up housekeeping, taking up his residence with a daughter at Ashbury Park.

About a year ago Mr. Clark purchased the New Jersey avenue home where he died.

He was a member of the Epworth M. E. Church, Knights of the Golden Eagle and Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., all of Palmyra, and Haddon Grange, Haddonfield.

Dance Exhibition Charms Audience

Dorothy Warner's Pupils Show Wonderful Training and Ability

Surpassing by far the fondest anticipations, the pupils of Miss Dorothy Warner danced their way to a splendid success in their annual exhibition at the Palmyra High School auditorium Friday evening of last week.

Every number was presented in a thoroughly skilled manner and well merited the round after round of applause given by the crowd of relatives, friends of the class and dance lovers who flocked to the exhibition in large numbers. Many in the audience expressed genuine surprise in the fine work of the little tots.

The local audience proved it was far from adverse to the ultra-modern phase of the terpsichorean art by giving five-year-old Marie Haines a tremendous ovation at the conclusion of her clever Charleston act.

Hill Hop Applauded
Grandson Layton, who has been under Miss Warner's instruction less than a year, scored a big hit in his Hill Hop rendition, a typical soft shoe number.

Dainty little Jane Fluck scored a big hit in her jazz toe act and was enthusiastically applauded. The Sequel-Centennial and Blossom Time numbers of group dancing proved especially pleasing.

A solo by the youthful instructor proved one of the brilliant features of the revue. It was ably described as follows:

Barefooted, elusive, bewitching, Miss Dorothy Warner, Palmyra danceuse, charmed the audience in her "Gypsy Blood" dance. Her lithe body swaying to the rhythmic gypsy music, clad in the real, not the conventional gypsy costume, Miss Warner was the personification of the care-free, joyous soul of the gypsies. The pantomime of the dance was excellent. Now the gypsy girl was listening to the wooing of her lover, now she was swaying to the song of the wind in the treetops. Wild, delightful, the audience frantically applauded for an encore, but Miss Warner only took numerous curtain calls.

Costumes Wonderful
The costumes worn throughout the exhibition proved to be a sensational array of "fine things," so appealing to the members of the audience and were unanimously voted by far the most beautiful, both in color effect and design, ever seen in the Twin Cities.

The youthful dancers were literally showered with floral tributes, which were presented over the footlights. More than 100 bouquets and baskets of flowers were received from admiring friends and relatives.

"Really, it was a most delightful surprise—the way everyone performed," said Miss Warner. "Only did the numbers appeal to the untrained eye, but those who are authorities on the technique declare everyone, even the wee bits of tots, were very admirable. And the reception accorded the entire class was perfectly wonderful," concluded the popular danceuse.

IGNORE POLICEMAN

Camden Man Fined $25 For Passing Traffic Light

George Little, 705 Second street, Camden, was arrested Sunday evening by Officer Wallace, of Palmyra, charged with reckless driving.

Little was coming from Riverton toward Camden when he suddenly turned out of the line of traffic, passed the traffic light and continued calmly on his way.

Officer Wallace blew his whistle several times but Little failed to heed the call.

Wallace, gave pursuit and caught him before he had reached West Palmyra and placed him under arrest.

With Little were Benjamin and James Smith, both of Camden, seated in the back seat of the car. They were arrested on a charge of drunkenness.

They were tried Monday morning before Justice of the Peace William Fichter, of Palmyra.

Little was fined $25.00 and costs and the Smith boys were fined $4.55 each with costs. They were committed to jail while friends tried to raise their fines.

SCHOOL MOVIES CLOSE

Parent-Teacher Association Plans
Something Better Next Year

The series of motion pictures given by the Neighborhood Motion Picture Corporation of New York, under the auspices of the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association, ended with the May showing.

The Association feels that some good was accomplished. The scenes were very good. The educational features were good. The gang comedies always popular, but the experiment failed to serve the purpose for which it was undertaken. The story pictures were below the standard that parents and teachers would endorse for their children.

Inappropriate pictures were included in some programs and there seemed no way to rule them out, so the Association has refused to repeat the contract for another year, and hopes to find a way to provide for the school children the pictures they should see.

At present the way seems to indicate school ownership of a machine, and to this there are financial obstacles. But a way must be found, for motion pictures will increase in importance as educational methods evolve.

CIVICS CLUB PLAY
Youngsters Will Present "Patty Saves the Day" Friday Evening

The Civics Club of the Palmyra Grammar School will present its annual play Friday evening, May 28, in the High School Auditorium.

The play is called "Patty Saves the Day." The plot is cleverly laid out about the challenge of the freshman class of private school who have hidden the spade with which the foundation to the school was started. They issue a challenge to the eighth grade class to find the treasure and it is finally located in the last few hours of the contest through the aid of one of the students' luck ring.

Many humorous incidents occur and the fun that results should prove a real attraction to the older folks and it is hoped that a large attendance will be received to encourage the youngsters in their efforts before "the footlights."

The Glee Club will render several selections while Miss Doris Barber will give a reading between the acts.

The cast is: "Miss Nelson," a teacher, Elizabeth Hudson; "Mabel Marsh," Ruth Lutz; "Helen Hilton," Grace Kersey; "Sidney Marsh," Edwin Orubb; "Oliver Prescott," Arthur Torrell; "Baba Hill," Emily Bohne; "Kate Dean," Edith Wonnor; "Bob Wright," George Lee; "Dave," Calvin Kerr; "Tillie," May Galloway; "Patty Steele," Catherine Williams.

A dollar bill that will wear longer in all well enough, but what we are looking for is one that will spend longer.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

THANK YOU

Speeder appreciates Courtesy of Riverton Safety Director

The other night Director of Public Safety Williams "blew" a speeder as he passed. He backed up, expecting the "bawling out" which follows being "blown" in many places.

To his surprise the genial director smiled upon him and asked his co-operation in making Riverton safe for its citizens and their friends and the stranger within our gates.

Mr. Williams explained that the police department had set out to see that the motor vehicle laws were observed in every particular and that if drivers generally would do their part it could easily be done.

The speeder thanked the director for his courtesy and went on his way.

BALKING FRUIT FLY

A recent visitor at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory was H. F. Willard, who is in charge of the Government Entomological Station at Honolulu, Hawaii. Mr. Willard visits the United States about every five years to confer with officials at Washington and observe the work at the various field stations. He is chiefly interested in parasites and spent considerable time at the laboratory with the Parasite Division.

Mr. Willard has complete supervision of the work being done in preventing the spread of the Mediterranean fruit fly from Hawaii to the United States. This pest is found in many parts of the world but constant efforts on the part of government workers have prevented it from reaching this country. All fruit shipped from Hawaii to California and other places is carefully inspected at shipping point and destination, and thus far none of the insects have succeeded in escaping the vigilance of the Federal inspectors.

Mr. Willard states that at the present time only hard-shelled fruits such as pineapples and green bananas are permitted to be shipped from the islands to the United States, as larvae of the fly are often present in soft-skinned varieties and can not be detected.

Palmyra Scouts Win Big Meet

Local Boys Victors in Nearly Every Event at Moorestown

The annual Scout meet of the Burlington County Council was held last Saturday at the Moorestown Country Club.

Troop 2, Palmyra, of which J. Houston Barron is Scout-Master, walked away with the meet, taking practically everything except the Club house and a couple of wheelbarrows.

It looked for awhile as though the Palmyra boys would have to walk to Moorestown, as enough cars could not be obtained to transport them, but once again C. Oswald Melcher came to the rescue with a truck, borrowed from John Henshaw.

Richard E. Wilson took his group of six picked signallers, Mr. Wilson has been training these six boys in a special course of Morse signalling for the past two months.

The first event was knot tying. In this event the boys tie eight knots. The world's record for this event is 17 seconds. Walter Poulson, Palmyra, took first place in 25 seconds. Jack Fry, placed second in 28 seconds. Hayes Brady should have had third place. His time was 30 seconds, but unfortunately he dropped his last knot which disqualified him and third place went to a Roehling boy.

In the bugling event each contestant must be prepared to blow any five out of sixteen calls. Moorestown took first place and "Bob" Finney, Palmyra, took second. Al Friberg, Palmyra, took third place.

The judges had a hard time deciding on second place and the boys blow seven calls before a decision was reached. Both of these boys have only been blowing a bugle about four months and besides learning the sixteen calls, know several marches. "Bob" Finney has not even had an instructor.

Palmyra had two teams in the First Aid events and the team composed of Walt Poulson, F. Bailey, Horace Finney, Jr., Jack Fry and Jack Fleming captured first place with 100 per cent score. Maple Shade, Troop 1, was second and Moorestown, Troop 3, won third honors. The judges of this event remarked that the work of the boys compared more than favorably with the work done by some of the telephone company's good first aid teams.

In the Wig-wag signal event, using the Morse Code, Palmyra entered three teams. They used the method as instructed by Mr. Wilson and proved its superiority in sending and receiving the messages in about half the time of the winners, but because the method was different from regular Scout practice, the judges penalized them.

The Tent Pitching and Water Hauling was an interesting event.

PRONUNCIATION AID

June Webster, descendant of the famous lexicographer, Noah Webster, presents a copy of her ancestor's work to the Publicity Department of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition Association to help them in pronouncing properly the name of the big events which opens June 1 to celebrate the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. There are many types of pronunciations heard but there is just one proper way Noah says. It is "See-qui-centen-ee-ah" with the accent on the first syllable of the "Sesqui" and on the second syllable of the "centen-ee-ah".

The contestants presented themselves at the starting line with an army shelter tent and blanket rolled over their shoulder. Five yards away was a pile of timber three feet long and a two quart pail with a pint of water in it. At the signal, the entrants ran its five yards and pitched their tent, built a fire with flint and steel and boiled the water. Time was taken when the water boiled over. Charles Kupper and Jack Fry won first honors and Walter Poulson and George Woulter placed second. Bordentown scored third.

In the Fire and Friction event they went back to before the days of flint and steel and made a fire by rubbing two pieces of wood together. The winners were, first place, Jack Fry, forty seconds, Palmyra No. 2; second, Moorestown; third, Beverly.

Teams from Roehling, Bordentown, Riverside, Beverly, Moorestown, Maple Shade, Burlington and Palmyra competed in each event. The final score read, Palmyra, 20 points; Moorestown, 9 points. This gives Palmyra the trophy to be held for one year.

LAYING NEW MAINS
Mount Holly Water Company Improving Service at County Seat

The Mount Holly Water Company has mapped out an extensive plan for the improvement of the town's water service during the next few months.

Its workmen are at present engaged in installing six hundred feet of new 6-inch water main on Mount Holly avenue between Garden and Mill streets.

As soon as this work is completed the Water Company expects to lay approximately twelve hundred feet of 6-inch pipe on Mill street, from Branch street west. For this installation a new kind of pipe will be tried out that is being used in many up-to-date water supply systems.

The new feature about the pipe is that it is lined with cement, the outer iron being slightly thinner than commonly used, but the inner cement wall keeps the strength the same and prevents corrosion and the consequent narrowing of the diameter of the pipe after a few years of use, as is the case with the old style of water main.

AUTOLESS MAN IS FIGHTING
The practically universal use of the automobile in all professions, business and social circles today has established a new and faster pace in both work and play, says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company.

"The man who does not own a car is definitely positioned among the constantly diminishing slower group of people. He must work harder to earn the same income and spend more time in merely coming and going. The motorist arrives on the job or at the dance on time, full of pep, and ready to go. The autoless man is apt to be tired out when finally he gets there."

NEW BANK

A new national bank is about to be organized in Burlington, through the activities of Benjamin F. Farver and a number of business men of that city, who have spent considerable time the past two weeks in soliciting for stock sales, and it is announced that they have had wonderful success in their efforts.

Temporary quarters have been secured on High street and a meeting will be held within a few days at which a board of directors will be elected and an organization completed.

As soon as the legal formalities have been complied with and equipment procured the new institution will open for business.

THE QUESTION BOX

"Confidence Man"

J. S. Palmyra—I would like to ask through your question column how the term "confidence man" originated?

Ans. A number of years ago a man in New York, well dressed and exceedingly genteel manners, went about saying, in a very winning manner, to almost every gentleman he met, "Have you confidence enough in me, to lend me $5.00 for an hour or two." In this way he got a good deal of money, and thus came to be known in the Courts and elsewhere as the "confidence man."

Leather Wedding Anniversary

G. L. Riverton—Will you please be so kind as to answer in your question column what the third wedding anniversary is.

Ans. Leather.

Combination of Lights

Inquire, Cinammon—Will you please state in your Q. & A. whether or not, red, yellow and blue, light rays will form a white or semi-white light when combined?

Ans. Yes, when combined in the proper proportion.

Roman Pace is Five Feet

H. G. Palmyra—To decide a bet we would like to have you print in your paper how much a pace is?

Ans. A pace is reckoned by the Romans as five feet. That is about the distance of a double step; that is, the distance when one foot leaves the ground until it is placed down again by an ordinary sized man in a march-time walk.

No Harm in Both Giving

Reader, Five Points—When a boy and girl go to church together should both drop a coin in the collection box? Or should one of them? And which one?

Ans. Both of them may contribute if they wish.

The Diamond

D. R. Riverton—Will you please tell me what is the birthstone for April?

Ans. The diamond.

Highest Type of Animal

J. C. East Riverton—What animals rank in intelligence next to a man?

Ans. The higher apes, which live on fruits and nuts.

A Minor League

L. L. Palmyra—Will you please tell me exactly what is meant by bush league?

Ans. In baseball parlance a bush league is a minor league of professional or semi-professional baseball players.

About Twenty Million Jews

Reader, Riverton—How many Jews are there in the world?

Ans. It is not known. However, it is estimated there are between fifteen million and twenty million.

Sign Own Name

D. M. Cinammon—Is it proper for a married woman to use her husband's initials when signing a paper or should she use her own initials? What is the law on it?

Ans. A married woman should sign her Christian name. Otherwise it would not be legal.

Sponges

T. J. Ashbury—Please answer in the query column where sponges come from?

Ans. Sponges are almost exclusively marine being generally found attached to the under side of rocks or clinging to the roofs of submarine caverns and are found mostly in the Grecian Archipelago, Florida and the Bahamas.

"Less" Before or Quantity

Student, Palmyra—I was criticized by a High School student about using the word "less" in the following sentence: "There were not less than 2,000 present." Wasn't I right?

Ans. No. Fewer refers to number and "less" to quantity. Therefore you should have said: "There were not fewer than 2,000 present."

CANDIDATES

Fight For Riverton Council Does Not Materialize

CHESTNUT ST. TO WELCOME RETURN OF VETERAN FIRM

The firm of Williams, Brown & Earle, Inc., makers and importers of scientific instruments and supplies, will soon re-occupy its store at No. 913 Chestnut street. This firm occupies an important place in the business life of the city, serving as it does as a most valuable source of information as to the educational and industrial side of Philadelphia.

Founded in 1888 by Henry S. Williams and N. Howard Brown, of old Philadelphia Quaker stock, and joined a few years later by Morris Earle, there has developed an organization which is looked upon as an authoritative source of supply for the demands of school and college equipment and for scientific industrial work.

The intimate fund of scientific information, the knowledge of sources of supply, has resulted into years of experience by individuals trained in the business. Each department has a specialist in his line who has been connected with the house from periods ranging admission to the hospital.

MORRIS CURRY

Miss Margaret Ann Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curry, Horace Avenue, Palmyra, and J. Gordon Moffitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Moffitt, of Palmyra, were married at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at a pretty church wedding held in the Epworth M. E. Church, the Rev. J. W. Lee officiating.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white flat crepe, trimmed with georgette and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Catherine Curry, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor and wore a pretty dress of pink georgette and carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Eleanor Moffitt, sister of the bridegroom, was the bridesmaid and was attired in an attractive dress of orchid georgette, carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

Douglas Klosterman, of New York, was best man; Karl W. Latch and Gordon Andrews were ushers. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Rachael Lord and Mrs. D. Gray Schwartz, soprano, sang "The Serenade" and "O Promise Me."

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 412 Horace avenue.

The happy couple left for an extended honeymoon in Atlantic City and will be at home to their many friends at 818 Garfield avenue after June 15.

Many friends from Philadelphia, New York and Alabama attended the wedding.

Dominick Tagliatela, 10-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Tagliatela, of West Broad street, who fell from the bumper of an automobile driven by his mother while on a school picnic at Taylor's Lane Tuesday of last week, was able to leave the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, Thursday evening of last week. Thorough examination by physicians at the hospital showed the lad only to be bruised and suffering from the shock. The boy says the front wheel of the auto did not pass over his body, as was first thought.

The John S. Warner building at the corner of First and Cinnaminson, the former William H. Cook property, has been moved over to the Cinnaminson Avenue line to allow a nine-foot driveway space in the rear of the structure for the new stores which will face on Cinnaminson avenue. Although the gang of workmen spent more than a week in preparation, the actual moving of the building was accomplished in a very few minutes Monday morning.

METHODIST

The pastor, the Rev. J. W. Lee, has picked "The Longing of the Human Heart" as his topic for the sermon at the morning service of the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday.

Memorial Day services will be held in connection with the evening service. One of the features will be an organ recital of old war songs with Mrs. Rachael M. Lord, the organist, at the console. Pastor Lee's sermon topic will be "The Pride of Liberty." At the close of the evening service a living picture entitled "We Are Tenting Tonight on the Old Camp Ground," which promises to be very unique and inspiring, will be presented.

All young people are urged to attend the devotional service of the Epworth League Sunday evenings at 7 o'clock. An interesting topic and speaker is assured.

A "Memorial and Historical" lesson will be discussed by the teacher, the Rev. J. B. Whitton, at the meeting of the Wesleyan Men's Bible Class at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. The Wesleyans are planning to hold a social Thursday, June 10, at which the ladies are invited to attend.

Those who attended the evening service of the Church last Sunday were greeted with a very impressive sight. At the close of the sermon, Pastor Lee called for the men to form a circle about the church auditorium, and standing shoulder to shoulder they led the congregation in singing "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder I'll Be There."

Last Sunday was known as "Devotion Day" in the junior department of the Sunday School and thirty-six of the scholars responded. Pastor Lee will organize a class for instruction before taking the young people into probation membership of the church.

The Sunday School students are preparing for a pageant which will be presented in connection with the evening church service on Children's Day, Sunday, June 10.

The annual rally of the Friday Night Class, of which Carl A. Peterson is the leader, will be held Thursday evening, June 3. The pastor will preach and will be assisted by the Rev. John Norberry, of Delanco. Good singing and special music will be among the many delightful features of the rally.

A sociability luncheon will be held by the Women's Guild, to which every woman member of the church is entitled to membership, in the Temple this (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock. Pastor Lee will deliver an address on "The Church Beautiful." An unusually large crowd of ladies is expected to attend.

The regular monthly business meeting and social of the In-As-Much-Bible-Class will be held at the home of Mrs. Reed, 444 Delancey Avenue, Palmyra, Tuesday evening, June 1, at 8 o'clock.

Denied Admission

Despite the fact that the hospital friends are about to ask for a new institution, the situation remains the same at the present building, with applicants being denied admission through lack of accommodations. During the last 10 days it has been necessary for a number of prospective patients to be taken to another institution because of the occupancy of all the beds in the county hospital. How long this condition will remain is to be determined by the results of the county in the ten days between June 1st and June 11th and a generous subscription on the part of all will see it a thing of the past. In the words of Judge Wells, "It is not what somebody else does, it's what you do and I do that counts."

The work in the Palmyra district will be under the direction of Biber and E. Wilson, of 704 Morgan Avenue, having been chosen unanimously at a meeting of the Men's Club Monday night. In the Bridgeboro and Delran township district the work will be under the direction of Lester S. Fortnum and associates.

Realty Co. Finds Business Growing

Walter D. Lamon, president of the Palmyra-Riverton Realty Company, has reported sales of property in this immediate locality amounting to $195,000 since March 15.

Of these transactions, $135,000 represents real estate on a farm. Five houses, netting $23,000 were sold and a large deposit has been placed on a $25,000 business property. The remainder of the amount was involved in the sale of lots.

Mr. Lamon says with the improvement of weather conditions, the fact that the Delaware River Bridge will be open within a month and the housing conditions in Philadelphia, the number of prospects inquiring for homes and home sites is increasing in a very encouraging manner.

County Service Clubs to Meet

Riverside Kiwanians to Furnish Entertainment at Brown's Mills, June 2

A better foundation for the promotion of their good work on a unified and more effective basis will be laid by the various service clubs in Burlington county when they hold an inter-city meeting at Brown's Mills on Wednesday, June 2nd. Arrangements for the affair are now being made under the direction of the past presidents of the clubs having a similar meeting at Fieldsboro last year.

Dinner will be served at the Plu'n Whistle Inn. During the evening there will be a program of speaking and entertainment. One of the speakers will be Dr. Gilbert J. Palen, of Philadelphia, district governor of Rotary Clubs, and another speaker is yet to be decided upon.

The entertainment for the evening will be under the direction of the Riverside Kiwanis Club and it is expected that among the main features will be a presentation of some of the thrillers at the recent Kiwanis Follies at Riverside.

Dr. Jonas L. Edwards, of Riverside, will be the main director of the music and entertainment. The clubs to participate will be the Lions, of Bordentown; Kiwanis, of Burlington and Riverside; Exchange, of Mount Holly, and Rotary, of Mount Holly, Moorestown and Riverton-Palmyra.

In view of the success of last year's first outdoor meeting and the pleasure had at some indoor meetings during the winter season, it is expected that the coming affair will attract most of the service club men in the county.

FULL TICKET

County Democrats Present Candidates for All Jobs

The Democratic party in Burlington county, while it realizes that it will be hard work to overcome the normal Republican majority of from 6,000 to 12,000 in the county, has unhesitatingly named a full county ticket and will work for its success.

The candidates named are some of the county's best business men and citizens and they will make an aggressive fight against the hand-picked candidates of the Republican organization.

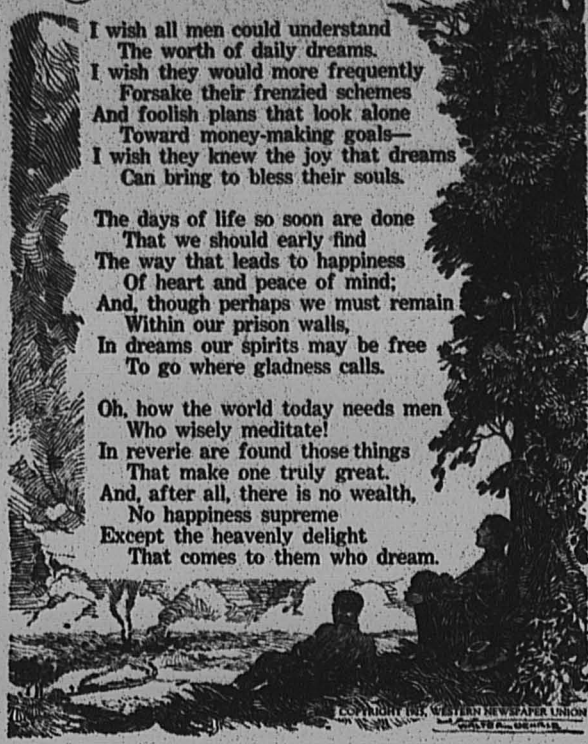

Petitions of the following were filed on Thursday: Assembly, Hunt Froelicher, Jr., of Moorestown; surrogate, George D. Alloway, of Vincentown; sheriff, Walter W. Van Selver, of Beverly; freeholder, A. Engle Conrow, of Moorestown; auditor, Annie T. Martin, of Bordentown.

To them who dream

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

I wish all men could understand
The worth of daily dreams.
I wish they would more frequently
Forsoke their frenzied schemes
And foolish plans that look alone
Toward money-making goals—
I wish they knew the joy that dreams
Can bring to bless their souls.

The days of life so soon are done
That we should early find
The way that leads to happiness
Of heart and peace of mind;
And, though perhaps we must remain
Within our prison walls,
In dreams our spirits may be free
To go where gladness calls.

Oh, how the world today needs men
Who wisely meditate!
In reverie are found those things
That make one truly great.
And, after all, there is no wealth,
No happiness supreme Except the heavenly delight
That comes to them who dream.

county is building and it will all be completed long before the heavy traffic of the farmers to the Philadelphia and Camden markets begins.

Last year about five miles of this road extending to the Camden county line were laid, the work not being started until late in the summer, owing to some conflict among the members of the Board of Freeholders, but that the work was done right is proven by the fact that not a loose stone has ever been reported as being found since its completion.

This spring the remaining three miles on this end are being built and at present the base has all been laid and it will be but a short time before the top dressing of penetration macadam will be finished.

ROGER W. THOMPSON

Roger W. Thompson, three-months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Thompson, East Riverton, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his parents.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon by the Rev. Mr. Foster, of East Riverton.

Interment was made in the Wrightville Cemetery, with Funeral Director Frank A. Snover in charge.

Treasury officials at Washington believe that the treasury surplus at the end of the fiscal year, June 30, will be higher than it was last year, when it reached the sizable sum of $225,000,000.

The receipts from income taxes are greater than were expected, showing that the country is really prosperous. It is significant also that customs receipts are maintaining a high level reaching the $500,000,000 figure early in May, and it is believed that they will set a new record. This means that our imports are increasing in value, and might justify the question of what has become of the free trade theory that our present tariff must render us unable to do foreign business because the other countries would be unable to pay us either in money or goods. Beautiful theories are often tarnished by facts.

Nowadays when you see a girl in knee dresses standing on the corner with a bunch of posies in her hand, you can't tell whether it's a little flower girl or a June bride.

A New York judge says that sixty per cent of the dry law violators are aliens. But he was probably referring to the producers and not to the consumers.

War Strength of Great Nations

U. S. Leads in Submarines, But Has No Battle Cruisers; Britain's Plan

In an article on "Disarmament" the May 24 issue of "Time" printed the following interesting facts about the war equipment of the seven great nations.

The nations have at their disposal the following indisputable subjects of disarmament:
Fighters: ("Regular Army"):
France—733,707; Russia—562,967; Great Britain—520,948; Italy—308,000; Japan—235,056; The U. S. 136,500; Germany—99,086.

Warboats... Significant facts: 1) The U. S. possesses more submarines than any other power: 113. 2) The U. S. possesses no "battle cruisers" (superdreadnaughts with almost destroyer speed) while Britain and Japan have four each. 3) The famed "5-5-3" naval ratio among the U. S., Britain and Japan holds good for capital ships only. Should capital ships be abolished (as Britain desires) the ratio would become 1 1/5-5-2 1/2 (i.e., Britain would be four times as strong as the U. S., twice as strong as Japan.) Since the U. S. is strong in submarines and capital ships and weak in cruisers of all classes, the scrapping of submarines and capital ships—now widely mooted—would greatly weaken the position of the U. S. from a naval point of view.

Costs. The appalling increase in cost of wars may be judged from the fact that the U. S. Government spent as much during every four days of our participation in the World War as it spent in fighting the entire Revolutionary War ($105,000,000). Though the U. S. actually participated in the World War for but 19 months, its loss in men was 120,136. The Allies lost 5,146,251 men, the Central Powers 3,385,200. The World War grand total of killed and wounded was in excess of 46 million men. (There are now 27 million adult males in the U. S.)

JOURNALIST POOR BURGLAR CHASER

"Bucky" Wallace Called to Help Leon Nab Guest of Wind Blowing Curtain

Leon Reasly, of Riverside, the effervescent journalist, is no burglar chaser. And Officer "Bucky" Wallace will vouch for the statement.

Leon is perfectly willing to admit his weakness and does not hesitate to call an "offisher" in a time of trouble.

Returning home with a girl friend who lives in Palmyra, somewhere in the unspeakable wee hours of the morning Monday, Leon and his lady friend decided there was an intruder in the second story of the home.

Leon stole himself for the ordeal, and with a heart that was already pounded at the executive speed, the correspondent partly climbed the stairs, peered around the landing, and sure enough a curtain moved, thus proving the presence of an intruder, no doubt a cold-blooded murderer.

The attacking party retreated and the investigators made a hasty trip to the police station, where the assistance of "Bucky" was obtained. In the meantime, the brother of the house returned, and retired. When the policeman, reporter and fair member of the party started the second probe, the brother was awakened.

He quickly proved that the party behind the curtain was a gust of wind from an open window. No other signs of an intruder were to be found and the gallant gentry of the press sighed with relief.

PARADE BRIDGE

One of the outstanding features of the school parade that was staged in connection with the opening of the clean-up campaign in Burlington last week was a float representing the proposed bridge over the Delaware River between that city and Bristol.

The bridge was built after an idea originated by Miss Lydia A. Rogers, principal of the Captain James Lawrence School, St. Mary and Barclay streets, and was cleverly done. It was carried by pupils of the Lawrence School, which had an excellent representation in the parade.

A telephone on either end of a telephone wire comprised the first "long distance" line. Today these intercity talkways, on which the cables are continuously adding new circuits, often several hundred in one great cable, reach from ocean to ocean.

"Long Distance," then and now

The first public demonstration of "long distance" telephone conversation was held in November of 1876 between Boston and Salem, fifteen miles apart. At both points were posted notices commanding absolute silence of those present, lest the experiment fail.

As lines were established between more distant cities, the struggle with "outside" and "inside" noises increased. Those who used the toll service in the Nineties and even later will recall how they had to shout to drown out the buzz and crackling on the wires, if possible.

In fair weather, all went well—sometimes. But the storms of winter, and even of summer, put the crude lines out of service in wholesale fashion.

It is not unnatural that fifty years of telephone history should have marked great progress in these respects.

That the ordinary tone of voice now carries to the Pacific or to Cuba perhaps causes no public wonder—certainly not so much as to the thousands of technicians who worked so many years against great obstacles to accomplish it.

We are fast approaching a practically storm-proof plant in southern New Jersey, in which over three hundred thousand miles of exchange wire and nearly seventy thousand of toll wire are now in cables.

In many ways not consciously observed by the users of the service it is being surrounded by continually increased protection and dependability. And today, greater effort is being made along these lines than at any previous time in our fifty years of history.

MARSHALL B. DOWNING

Important change in the organization of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and Associated Companies will become effective May 1, 1928, when Marshall B. Downing, now general manager of the Eastern area, which will include Pennsylvania, Delaware and New Jersey, will become general manager of the entire company. Mr. Downing is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and has been in the telephone business since 1904. He has held various positions of increasing responsibility, and has been in charge of the telephone business in the city of Philadelphia for the past five years. He is a member of the American Telephone and Telegraph Association and the National Association of Public Service Companies.

Mr. Downing left New York in November, 1912, to go to St. Louis as a general traffic superintendent of the Missouri Bell Telephone Company. Four years later he was transferred to the Michigan State Telephone Company.

He entered the service of The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and its Associated Companies—The Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph & Telephone Company and The Diamond State Telephone Company—in December, 1919, where he was general superintendent of the entire traffic department.

Three years ago he was made general commercial manager and placed in charge of the entire commercial department of the three companies.

ANCE AND PEACE

ed Lowry, Paris Representative of American Friends' Service Committee

France go Fascist? Certain—hence the rumblings of Fascism among the parties of the right, or conservative parties. There are those who look regretfully across the border of Italy, and remember regretfully the days of Clemenceau and Poincaré. No government seems able to stay in power, or to be vigorous enough to straighten out the financial tangle and stabilize the franc, in the face of those who for their own reasons definitely want neither the tangle resolved nor the currency restored. The prejudice against foreigners is often only too evident, and the presence in the country (according to the monthly Progress Civique) of some 35,000,000 foreigners is a source of deep anxiety to many Frenchmen. Of this foreign element, some 400,000 are Italians and an equal number are Poles. These are mostly laborers who have come in during recent years to rebuild the districts damaged by war.

For these reasons, the appearance of a "strong man" would certainly gather some support for a dictatorship. But how far the country as a whole would accept a dictator is another question.

There are many other tendencies to be observed in France besides this backwash of reaction. Some of these are gaining strength. The reasonableness of living in real peace with one's neighbors, on a basis not of armed force but of genuine international goodwill, is looming larger in the consciousness of the intelligent and thoughtful public. As in other countries, the slow realization of the real causes of the Great War forces home the conviction that no nation is black or white, but that we are tarred with the same brush, with only varying shades of gray as the result.

One of the most significant signs of the times is the marked increase of interest in the problem of the rights of those with conscientious objections to military service. In a country where conscription has hitherto been accepted as a matter of course, like death and taxes, and where any opposition was generally regarded as the basest human depravity, no change of opinion could be more significant of the growth of a will to peace.

During the last nine months, many meetings have been held in which the question of the conscientious objector was the chief topic. George Pioch, literary critic and distinguished orator in a land of orators, has courageously exposed the cause of the Conscientious Objector. Articles keep appearing in the daily press and in the more thoughtful journals, both for and against, of course. Ligue de Droits de l'Homme, which has done so much for oppressed individuals, has recently opened the columns of its journal to the problem, and its valiant president, Ferdinand Buisson, has changed his attitude and seems now to be favoring the recognition of the conscientious objector.

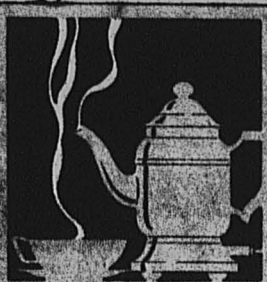

Among the masses of the people, both in the cities and in the agricultural or mining communities, one finds, if not a thought-out, positive peace policy, at least a hatred of war and a realization of its consequences. These people know what war is and what it has brought them. They have fought in the trenches and wasted years in the prison camps. They have buried their dead and borne the grievous burden of their disabled, their widows and their orphans, under economic conditions that grow steadily more difficult. They know that even Fritz, the individual, is not a bad sort after all. "Live and let live, even the Boches!" is their desire. Of course the dread of invasion continues to play a part in their thinking. But this is apparently subsiding; at least one hears much less said about it. Slowly the idea is penetrating that security is to be purchased far more cheaply, and with far greater certainty, through understanding and goodwill, and the confident application of the "spirit of Locarno," than by occupying the Ruhr or crippling Germany economically.

State-wide distribution of Gas, Electricity and Transit to a population of 3,000,000 people.

The Oranges are typical of the thousands of attractive residential communities that have given New Jersey wide fame as a state of comfortable, prosperous homes. As the crowded population of New York City has overflowed into the northern counties of the State, so are the people of Philadelphia in increasing numbers finding in the territory surrounding Camden the better living conditions they seek. In addition, the State's normal growth is rapid. Public Service gas, electric and transit helped create and is improving such conditions.

Lesson for May 30

JACOB AT BETHEL

LESSON TEXT—Genesis 28:10-22. GOLDEN TEXT—I am with thee and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest.—Gen. 28:15. PRIMARY TOPIC—Jacob Dreams at Bethel. JUNIOR TOPIC—Jacob's Vision at Bethel. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—A Young Man's Dreams and Vision. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Place of Vision in Human Lives.

I. Jacob's Flight to Haran.
He fled from an outraged brother. His deceit and cunning got him into trouble. His long exile from home was the result of his selfish ambition. "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap." Rebekah made her plan before Isaac for sending Jacob away, stating her fear of Jacob's probable marriage with a daughter of Canaan, when in reality she feared that Esau would kill him. Isaac at once recognized the wisdom of her suggestion. He knew that the success or failure of one's life is largely determined by his marriage. It was clear that if Jacob were to continue in the line of the covenant blessing care must be exercised in his marriage. Besides, it is a parental duty to see that children are well married. Among Christians only marriage in the Lord is allowable (1 Cor. 7:39). Isaac, alive to Jacob's destiny, issued his command and bestowed upon him the covenant blessing which had come from God Almighty to Abraham (Gen. 28:13). The elements embraced in this blessing are:

- (1) Numerous offspring (v. 3).
- (2) Possession of the promised land (v. 4).
- (3) And everything that is included in the Abrahamic covenant (Gen. 12:1-3 and Gen. 15:1-8).

We should learn from the experience of Jacob.

1. Be sure your sin will find you out.
- Jacob deceived his father. He in turn was deceived by his children.
2. That wrong home life has its perils.
- Isaac knew that the blessing was to be Jacob's, yet he planned for Esau to have the place of preeminence. He was willing for the sake of a little venison to give to Esau that which God had planned for Jacob.

II. Jacob at Bethel.

1. The Lord meets Jacob at Bethel (vv. 10-15).

With a spirit clouded by homesickness on the one hand and by fear on the other, he had a dream that night in which God appeared to him. In this dream Jacob beheld a ladder or stair reaching from earth to heaven, upon which angels were ascending and descending. Above the ladder stood the Lord who spoke to him. This ladder suggests a means of communication between earth and heaven, between man and God. Jesus Christ is the ladder which provides us a means of communication with heaven (John 1:51; 14:6; Heb. 10:19-20). Jesus became a real ladder to us, bridging the chasm between earth and heaven. He was a real man that He might identify himself with the race. He is very God, really divine, that He might lift us up to God and secure a reconciliation with Him. Earth and heaven, man and God, were separated by the introduction of sin, but through Christ a means of intercourse is reestablished. This vision suggested to Jacob that the only approach to God was through a mediator. The angels ascending and descending are heavenly messengers which are sent to minister to man through the mediatory work of Christ (Heb. 1:14). God spoke to him from the top of the ladder and assured him that He is the God who entered into covenant with Abraham and renewed the same unto his father Isaac (v. 13). This assurance embraced the following:

- (1) The possession of the land (v. 15).
 - (2) A numerous offspring (v. 14).
 - (3) The promise of His personal presence and preservation (v. 15).
- This promise was fulfilled in a marvelous way with Jacob and is still being fulfilled with His seed.

III. Jacob's Vow to the Lord (vv. 16-22).
He set up as a monument the stone which he had had for a pillow. He named the place Bethel, which means the house of God. Jacob now vowed that since God had so graciously obligated himself to perform all this for him, he would enthrone God as the Lord of his life and give back to Him one-tenth of all that was given to him.

Is This Your Choir?—Old Lady (to choirmaster).—"And how many are there in the choir?"
Choir.—"Twenty-five."
Old Lady.—"Is it a mixed choir?"
Choir.—"Yes, all boys."
Old Lady.—"How come it be a mixed choir if they are all boys?"
Choir.—"It is; 'Whosoever' some can sing, and some can't."

Street Fine New House

Announcement has been made by officials of the Union National Bank of Mount Holly, that a contract has been awarded to a firm of New York architects and builders for the erection of a fine new banking house which is to occupy the present site of the bank and the adjoining building on Main street.

The Union National Bank was incorporated in 1871 and the present banking house was built at the corner of Main and Mill streets. For several months the directors have been considering the erection of a new and more commodious building, and one which will properly house both the Union National Bank and the Mount Holly Safe Deposit and Trust Company, organized a few years back, which is also maintaining a steady growth.

LABOR SAVING

Only Four Men Required for Coal and Ash Handling at Big Plant

Interesting features of the new Harrison Gas Works now in process of erection for Public Service Electric and Gas Company are the coal-handling and ash-removing systems. Only four men are required to operate the two systems.

In eight hours the coal-handling apparatus can move more than 1,000 tons of coal or coke from barges and deliver the fuel, either to the generator house where the gas is made or to the boiler room. When the barges tie up to the dock, a clam shell bucket, of three-ton capacity and operated by one man, unloads the coal or coke into a hopper, from which a motor driven belt conveyor carries the fuel to a point where it is screened. After the screening, the large coal or coke continues on a conveyor belt to the generator house bunker and the fine coal or coke moves on another conveyor belt to the boiler house bunker.

At this juncture the human element again enters, for one man each is needed at the boiler bunker and at the generator house to operate the motor-driven lorries. In the boiler house the lorries carry the fuel to the chain grate stokes and in the generator house to the generators.

Removal of the ashes from the boiler house is accomplished by washing them along a sluice way to the ash pit. The water used is on its way back to the river after having cooled the gas in the condensers. From the generator house the ashes are removed by traveling lorries to the same pit. The pit is so designed that a clam shell bucket, operated by a fourth man, can load the ashes on railroad cars or trucks.

The first unit of the Harrison Gas Works is fast assuming shape. The generator house is well under way and the boiler house and compressor and exhaustor house are now on a preliminary test and will be ready for operation about June 1. Public Service Production Company is the contractor for the work.

1926—All silk—and as narrow as you can get into it.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Burlington county camp committee has made final arrangements with the Trenton Y. W. C. A. to share its camp for the week beginning June 26th. Camp Camarade is located two miles south of New Hope, Pa., on the River Road. It is an ideal location for a camp for girls, with a large recreation hall, dining room, tents with floors, shower bath, etc.

The camp executive will be Miss Susan G. Thomas, of the Trenton Y. W. C. A. staff, who has had six years of experience in camp work. Miss Helen Hoff, Girl Reserve Secretary of Burlington county, and Miss Florence Ives, Girl Reserve Secretary of Trenton, will assist Miss Thomas in planning and carrying out the camp program. There will be six counselors, namely swimming, recreation, nurse, handicraft, nature study and business.

There will be hikes through the woods, swimming, baseball, tennis, quoits, weiner roasts, camp craft, handicraft, first aid, Bible study, nature study, stunts, discussion, songs and friendly fires.

Burlington county girls are asked to register for camp at the county office in Mount Holly. Camp folders and registration cards will be mailed upon request.

Business Girls Banquet.
One hundred and thirty girls and women representing the business women's clubs of the Y. W. C. A. of Burlington county, attended the banquet at the First Baptist Church in Burlington on Tuesday evening. Mrs. M. C. Pierce, of Burlington, and Mrs. William Smith, of Bridgeboro, made arrangements for the banquet, and the Blue Triangle Club of Burlington made the favors and decorated the festive banquet tables.

Miss Ruth King, president of the County Council of Business Girls, acted as toast mistress. Toasts were given by Mrs. Gladys Johnson, of Willingboro, Miss Beatrice Shadle, of Mount Holly, Mrs. Carey, of Burlington, and Helen Sterling, of Riverton. Helen Jones of Burlington led the songs, using the new Y. W. C. A. song book which is so very popular with business girls.

Mrs. Edward Harmer, president of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A., spoke of the place of the business girl in the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Harriet Cunningham, National Secretary of the Business and Professional department of the Y. W. C. A. was the speaker of the evening. Miss Cunningham made an inspiring address on the five senses necessary for a successful career in the business world. These five senses being the sense of direction, sense of belonging, sense of responsibility, sense of proportion, and sense of value. In concluding the speaker gave the audience the rare privilege of hearing an ode to women which she had just completed.

Annual Meeting.
All over Burlington County women and girls are planning for June 5th, the date of the annual meeting of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. The lovely home and grounds of Mr. and Mrs. John Shlex, of Edgewater Park, furnish an ideal setting for the program planned.

One of the most interesting features of the program will be the banner parade when every town in the parade.

The Riverton choral directed by Mrs. Collins will sing the three numbers selected for the choral content, and the cup will be awarded by Mrs. Parker.

The Girl Reserves of the county will present an attractive candle ceremony.

The Girl Reserves and Business Girls of Mount Holly will present a Mother Goose Fete on the Y. W. C. A. lawn on Saturday afternoon, May 29th from two to six o'clock. There will be a cake, candy, ice cream, sandwiches and punch for sale. The entertainment to be presented by some of the Girl Reserves is very clever and shows much original talent among the younger set of Mount Holly.

Colored Girls.
The colored Girl Reserves of Moorestown, under the leadership of Mrs. Margaret Baylor, had a very fine Mother and Daughter banquet on last Friday evening. Dallas Johnson acted as toast mistress for the banquet. A toast to the mothers was presented by Miss Mary Coleman to which Mrs. Kate Bounds responded with a toast to the daughters.

Miss Ruth Smith made a toast to the Girl Reserves. A beautiful address upon "The Immortal Tie" was given by Mrs. E. S. Young, of Riverton. Mrs. Young brought out very clearly how the tie between mother and daughter could not be severed even though little differences might appear.

The Columbus Girl Reserves had a recognition service last Tuesday afternoon. Five new girls were formally recognized as Girl Reserves, each one giving her pledge to live out the ideals of the Girl Reserve Code to the best of her ability. The last half-hour was spent in playing games.

HELPING THE CHILDREN.

The latest American of note to point out the insidious activities of the communists in the United States is Governor A. Harry Moore of New Jersey, who told the people of Atlantic City how the reds are working among the children of America, trying to render them dis-

Married women in New Jersey cannot sue their husbands of injuries received as the result of auto accidents. Vice Chancellor Leaning so decided in Camden recently in dismissing a suit for $10,000 brought by Mrs. Anna May Von Laszewski against her husband, the claim being made for injuries received by the wife when the Von Laszewski car ran off the road in Cumberland county.

Neither law nor agencies nor anything devised by man will save America," Governor Moore said. "America will only be safe as the boys and girls of the present measure up to the standards set by the founders of the country."

The governor added that it is the duty of the parents to give their children the right start by training them rightly in their duties as citizens of the republic. This is certainly sound advice and, if it is generally followed, the organized efforts of those who seek to abolish patriotism in America will be unavailing.

PER JUMPS

The cost of getting married in New Jersey will be increased after July 1, 1926. The State Department of Health has called attention to the passage of the 1926 Legislation of Senate Bill No. 98, which doubles the marriage license fee, effective on and after July 4, when it will be $2 instead of $1, as heretofore.

No Worry Over COAL ASHES GRIME DUST LABOR STRIKES

ONE of the most burdensome duties is keeping the house warm. For at least seven months of the year, heat is needed in every home.

No other fuel can equal gas for heating homes, stores, etc. It is clean, convenient.

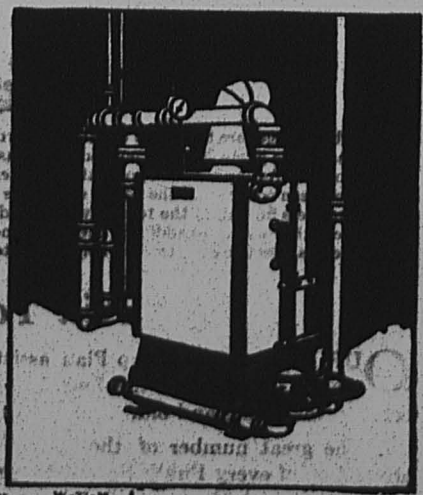

Owners of gas househeating equipment have heat that requires no care. No dirt nor ashes, no noise, no odor, no fuel shortage. When burned in properly-designed heating furnaces the cost of gas for househeating is moderate. Thousands of home owners could afford and would use gas to heat their homes if they knew the facts.

ALONG LIFE'S TRAIL

By THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
Dean of Men, University of Illinois

TALKING TOO MUCH

WHEN he was ambassador to the court of St. James, the late Mr. Walter Hines Page, in a letter to Colonel House, tells the story of two colored citizens one of whom was doing his utmost to pick a quarrel with the other without apparent progress. The active member, in the attempted altercation stormed and swore and went the limit of his lung power and vocabulary without getting a rise out of his unresponsive listener. When he had reached the breaking point of his endurance, he blurted out, "Look here, you kink-headed, fat-nosed, slab-footed nigger, I warn you, 'fore God, don't keep givin' me some of your d—d silence."

There are few things more disconcerting, more confusing, more difficult to meet or understand than silence. It is the one thing, perhaps, that gives death its chief terror, for excepting for a few insane and incoherent sentences, a few mysterious and meaningless physical manifestations not very convincingly attested by nervous, overwrought witnesses, nothing has ever come from the great beyond but silence—a silence that sometimes leaves us awestruck and uncertain.

You can't quarrel with a man who says nothing, you can't sell him anything; he disarms you and leaves you following a blind trail. He has a strength that cannot be overcome. Nothing can cover up ignorance so successfully as silence, accompanied by a look of intelligence, when silence is possible. Nothing is more impressive than silence, nothing so weak as talking too much.

A physician I knew years ago acquired a considerable reputation for his knowledge and his skill. He had a fine figure and no little art in putting his clothes on. There was a look of wisdom on his face when he entered a sickroom. He exercised more than usual care and deliberation in questioning and examining his patients, but other than this he seldom said anything, made no predictions—no specific statements as to what would be the result of his treatment. He never had anything, therefore, to take back, and he got credit for being tremendously wise. In point of fact he was probably below average. He simply had judgment to keep his mouth shut, and his silence brought him the reputation of having wisdom.

HOW GREAT MEN MAKE LOVE

AS REVEALED BY THEIR LOVE LETTERS

By JOSEPH KAYE

(© by Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

HENRY GEORGE AND ANNIE FOX

IF EVER a man knew what the very dregs of poverty were that man was Henry George, the founder of the single tax. To what depths a man so intellectual and gifted as George was could be driven can be seen from the following entry in his diary, made at a time when he was living in San Francisco trying to make a living through printing jobs, and when his second child had just been born:

"I walked along the street and made up my mind to get money from the first man whose appearance might indicate that he had it to give. I stopped a man—a stranger—and told him that I wanted $5. He asked me what I wanted it for. I told him that my wife was confined and that I had nothing to give her to eat. He gave me the money. If he had not, I think I was desperate enough to kill him."

And the bravery of the young wife who had to stand this! To her great credit it is to be recorded that she bore her trials with cheerfulness and lived the life of a gypsy, with no complaint to make her husband's lot harder than it already was.

In this darkest moment of Henry George's life his wife was a beacon which upheld and guided him safely to the port of better times. And a note which he sent to his wife during this period shows how greatly he treasured her:

"Times seem pretty dull here but I think I can get along. Anyhow, we will try. I stayed at the 'What Cheer House' last night. My darling, I don't know how much I love you until I am separated from you. I don't believe I could live without you. And the dear little fellow—how I love him!"

Henry George was born in Philadelphia in 1839 and had a varied career until he came to his life-work. At fourteen he left school and worked for a time in a store. Then he shipped as a foremast boy on a ship bound for Australia. Returning to America he learned printing and the desire for traveling seized him again he went on a U. S. lightship and worked his way to California.

Hearing of gold being struck in British Columbia, Canada, he turned his attention next to prospecting in that country but returned to California and engaged variously as a printer, reporter and editor in coast cities.

His journalistic success was meager because of his uncompromising stand against monopolies. From this period on, however, he began to develop his theories of the single tax and a well paying position in the California state civil service being obtained for him, he had enough leisure to write his celebrated book, "Progress and Poverty," which brought him the recognition of the world as an economist.

George ran twice for mayor of New York city. The first time he was defeated and the second race, entered into against the advice of his doctor, resulted fatally for him. Already in a weakened condition, the campaign requirements proved too strenuous for him, and, only four days before the election he died.

Among the most famous of George's followers was the Russian writer and reformer, Tolstoy.

How Hans Andersen Wove Fairy Dreams

Hans Andersen, whose fairy stories have brought happiness to thousands of children, was a stickler for form. So states Mrs. Marie Busch, who was a general servant to the author and the two spinsters, the Misses Ballin, who shared a house with him.

"Andersen was very particular," she said. "He insisted upon my addressing him in the third person with the title conferred upon him by the king—Kontertsmand. This was a much coveted title given to retired cabinet ministers and merchant princes, but never before to a mere poet."

The story teller also had his meals at a specified time in a certain way and when he read his newest work to the Misses Ballin and Mrs. Busch they had to stop their needlework. No matter where Mrs. Busch went outdoors, she had to wear a coat and when Andersen gave her tickets to the theater he also presented her with a pair of white gloves.

"All nice people," he remarked, "wear white gloves to the theater." Andersen had a soft couch upon which he weaved his tales of the fairies. "He was a tall and painfully spare man," Mrs. Busch said. "He could only find rest on a bed made up of soft pillows."

Yellow Fever Halted Revolution in 1793

John Adams wrote Thomas Jefferson that only the yellow fever in Philadelphia saved the nation from a revolution in 1793. Ten thousand people in the streets of Philadelphia day after day threatened to drag Washington from his house. The coolest and firmest minds, even among the Quakers of Philadelphia, have given their opinion that nothing but yellow fever could have saved the United States.

Philadelphia was the capital when that riot surged through Market street, ready to rend President Washington and Vice President Adams.

The very last sentence in any letter of a long correspondence between Adams and Jefferson was this penned by the former about two months before that Fourth of July, 1820, when both died:

"Our American chivalry is the worst in the world—it has no laws, no grounds, no definitions."—Detroit News.

Word of Grecian Origin

The word "Ichthys" is Greek, and means fish. It was frequently used as a symbol of Christ by the early Christians, because its letters form the initials of Christ's name and titles as the Son of God and Savior. The word is found on ancient seals, rings, lamps and tombs, and came into general use in the fourth century. It is said that Apollonius, bishop of Mileta, was the first to construct the acrostic from which the symbol derived. Bap-tismal fonts were often ornamented with the figure of a fish, several of which may be found in French cathedrals at the present day. Augustine says that "Ichthys" is the mystical name of Christ, "because he descended alive into the depths of this mortal life, into the abyss of waters." Julius Africanus speaks of Christ as "the great fish taken by the fishhook of God, and whose flesh nourishes the whole world."—Exchange.

Notaries Public

The following are regulations for the appointment of notaries public which hold good practically over the United States: A citizen of the state, over twenty-one years of age, and a resident of the county in which he or she desires to be appointed, may be appointed as notary public for such county on making application to the governor in writing, indorsed by some member of the legislature, circuit or probate judge of the county, district or circuit in which the applicant is a resident. A bond must be filed with the county clerk in the sum of $1,000. In the District of Columbia notaries public are appointed by the President of the United States. Application should be made through the office of the President, addressed to the secretary to the President.

Fish's Great Vitality

Messrs. de Beer and Huxley have conducted a series of experiments on the vitality of the jellyfish. They found that the common jellyfish, Aurelia aurita, could be kept alive without food in a laboratory aquarium for as much as 88 days, living at the expense of its own tissues. During that period it underwent a progressive decrease in size. The bell began to shrink first, the oral arms later, the tentacles and thread-cells disappeared, and the gastro-vascular cavity closed up. The bell continued its pulsations until an advanced stage of the process had been reached.

Early Libraries

From manuscripts discovered by French explorers throughout China and Turkestan it would seem that Houei Tse, a wealthy Chinese merchant of the fifth century, originated the idea of establishing libraries, an extract from one of 20,000 or more rolls of manuscript being as follows: "Libraries I have given by the score. I have scattered them over all the land, that the light of learning may never be dimmed and that the grateful may do honor to memory as long as Buddha lives. Into dark places have I thrown the light, and the light will be with me forever."

Palmyra Fifth In South Jersey Meet

Rubrecht Excels for Lever's Squad Winning High Jump Event

Although Vineland High School won the intercollegiate track championship of South Jersey at Atlantic City Saturday the representatives of the Palmyra High School track team made an excellent showing in all the events in which they participated and tied with Trenton High School for fifth place.

R. Rubrecht, of Palmyra, won the medal in high jumping. Rubrecht tied for first place and it was decided to toss for the prize which fell to the Palmyra boy. Bruce Beahn, captain of the track team, won his heat in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, but was only successful in placing third in the 220 and fourth in the 100. His time in the 220 was only two-tenths of a second less than the winner's time.

Albright was considerably out of condition when the team arrived at Atlantic City, due to his having had to run from the high school to the station to catch the train. He made a very good showing, nevertheless, and registered ten feet in the pole vault.

Stanford "looked good" in the half mile race but failed to place. Atkinson wrenched his arm in one of the other events and this is thought to have been the only reason why he did not place in the pole vault.

Coach Harold "Boots" Lever, expressed great satisfaction at the excellent progress and showing his team made. "Practically all material was comparatively 'green' this year."

Captain Bruce Beahn is the only member still in school of Palmyra's famous winners of the national class B one-mile relay title last year.

The final results of the meet were Vineland High School, 29 points; Atlantic City, 12 points; Middle Township, of Cape May Court House, 7.5; Collingswood and Camden, tie 6 points; Palmyra and Trenton High Schools, tie, 5 points.

June 4 the Palmyra athletes will compete in the Burlington County track meet to be held at Mount Holly and June 5 at the State Inter-Scholastics to be held at Newark.

MOTOR FUEL

STOPS KNOCKS

Turns Mountains into Mole hills

FOR many years mechanical engineers struggled to build automobile engines of higher compression. As compression is increased the power line goes up and the fuel consumption line goes down—ordinary gasolines would not withstand this higher compression without knocks, clicks, or detonations—accumulated carbon deposits increased this compression by decreasing the size of the combustion chamber—and the audible sounds of the engine distress grew louder.

It has been our good fortune to produce a gasoline that positively eliminates clicks, pings, and knocks.

Gulf No-Nox and Carbon are Power Twins

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel withstands compression to a high degree; carbon, increasing the compression of the engine, ceases to be a nightmare as long as it does not interfere with valve action. In other words, it puts carbon to work. More power and greater efficiency is thereby accomplished, resulting in greater mileage.

With GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel in your tank—step on it—you will get the story better than we can tell it.

This Guarantee goes with it

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is Non-Noxious, Non-Poisonous and no more harmful to man or motor than ordinary gasoline—that it contains no dope of any kind—that the color is for identification only—that it positively will not heat the motor summer or winter.

GULF No-Nox Motor Fuel is priced three cents per gallon higher than ordinary gasoline—and is worth it.

Field Day
On Field Day the third grade and fourth grade are going to do a flag drill. Every boy and girl has two flags. Mary Peterson.

We are going to be in a little group, then we will march out in a big group. We will do our exercises with the fourth grade. We have flags to do our exercises with. Newell Hann.

First we will march to the grounds. Billy, Clarence, Maude, and Mildred are the leaders. We salute the flag and sing "America." We do the flag drill with the fourth grade. We will watch the other grades do their dances.

On Field Day the third grade and fourth grade will do the flag drill and salute the flag. The leaders are from the fourth grade. We are all in one group.

On Field Day we are going to have a flag drill. There are five people in a row, and six rows across. If you do not watch the leaders you will make a mistake. Annie Glud.

FOURTH GRADE
Field Day
On Tuesday, May 25th fourth grade will take part in the Field Day exercises. Their part will be a flag drill. We have been practicing three weeks and we know our part well.

Fourth Grade Field Day
In starting our exercises we march on the grounds five abreast with hands on hips. The first exercise is holding the flags in front of us and then to our sides. Our second is to hold the flags to our sides with outstretched hands and our left foot forward. The third is almost the same as the second only we have our hands up-wards and our left foot back.

Fifth Grade.
Field Day
I am going to tell you what the Fifth and Sixth Grades are going to do on Field Day. On Field Day most of the Fifth and Sixth Grades are going to do the May Pole Dance. We are working very hard to make you like it, as well as you did when the Seventh and Eighth Grades did it. The Fifth and Sixth Grades are also going to do a dumb bell drill. We are practicing every day so as to make it a success.

FROM PALETTE TO MORTAR BOARD

A LECTURE ON Christian Science

Christian Science:
Progressive Christianity

by
Dr. John M. Tutt, C. S. B.
Kansas City, Mo.
A member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The following lecture was given in the auditorium of the Riverton public school, Friday evening, May 21st, under the auspices of First Church of Christ Scientist of Riverton.

The lecturer was introduced by Mrs. Fred Fromuth, second reader, who said in part:

Profound: In the eighth chapter of John, we read, "Then said Jesus to those Jews which believed on him, if ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed and ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." Through the teachings of Christian Science many today are learning of that Truth, and step by step are gaining that freedom. Many are receiving an understanding of God, and man's relation to God.

Infinite progression is the evolution of man's destiny. Destiny is what God has in store for man. That fate alone waits each of us, a fate inexorable but benign. There is no evil destiny. "Fear not, little flock," for it is your Father's good pleasure to give you the kingdom. "To do what God has for us to do, to receive what God has for us to receive—that is evolution. Such is man's free moral agency."

True progress is the attainment and maintenance of man's reflected dominion over all. Man's obedience to divine power and wisdom is his reflection of that power and wisdom. Man knows he has by reflection God's dominion over the spiritual works of His hands and also over the material centerfold of those works. My friend, assume that dominion. Are you averse to giving up some cherished bad practice or perhaps some enslavement, through hesitancy to use will power? Remember, the will to do right is the human mind's nearest approach to the divine dominion. Government by divine Principle fosters the determination to do right. Be willing to do right. Be unwilling to do wrong. Remember Jesus who stood steadfast in the face of temptation. Remember Mrs. Eddy who would not be swayed from her course unless God turned her; God alone could change her mind. Steadfastness in the truth is an essential of true progress. Make up your mind to do right and you will enlist all the forces of omnipotence on your side. In such determination human will has no place. Are you waiting for God to remove an obstacle or a bad habit? Go out after it, act, work with God and expect great things. To the extent that you immerse yourself in the divine Mind, you will emerge the victor over evil, for all moral fault is of the human mind and requires human will to commit it. The will to do right is a defiance of human will. Out of temptation overcome, not yielded to, comes spiritual strength. After the victorious argument Jesus had in the wilderness with personal sense he "returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and there went out his fame of him through all the region round about."

The fame of Jesus was based upon his spiritual power to heal the sick and the sinning and to comfort the sorrowing. My friend, would you, too, be strong in spiritual mind? Would you be more useful to suffering humanity? Then wrestle with the arguments of error and prevail through reliance upon Christ, spiritual Truth.

A Christian is no stronger than at this point of contact with the world. Also he is no more useful than at that point. There is neither isolation or segregation in Christian Science. In obedience to Christ's command, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature. On! blast assurance that "and with the preparation of the gospel" we may reach our way along the whole of the road with few snarls. Christ's healing and saving virtue will go out to whomsoever touches Truth's garment on life's highway.
