Sand and Marl Output Grows

Thousands of Tons of Minerals Produced in Southern New Jersey

Statistics just compiled by Dr. M. W. Twitchell, Assistant State Geologist, based on the data collected jointly by the New Jersey Department and the U. S. Bureau of Mines, show that the mineral industries of Southern New Jersey are of considerable importance. The eight southern counties, Burlington, Ocean, Camden, Gloucester, Atlantic, Salem, Cumberland and Cape May produced in the year of 1925, 2,126,552 tons of sand, gravel, clay and marl valued at $2,226,554. This was about half of the total output of the same products in the state.

The eight counties together produced 2,047,501 tons of sand and gravel valued at $1,903,244; 56,495 tons of clay, sold as clay, valued at $171,985 and 14,955 tons of green sand marl valued at $151,325.

There were forty-five producers of sand and gravel, ten producers of clay and five producers of marl. Most of the clay was reported as "fire clay," although there is some sold as "stoneware" clay and some as "terra cotta" clay.

The five counties in this section of the state mining and selling raw clay were Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Ocean and Salem. All of the marl was produced by Burlington county.

Of the sand and gravel output Burlington produced 971,934 tons valued at $1,019,934; Cumberland produced 484,103 tons having a value of $543,103; Cape May 107,198 tons valued at $297,567; Atlantic county 187,284 tons valued at $158,409; Camden county 95,154 tons valued at $125,620, and the combined output of Gloucester and Ocean counties was 21,530 tons having a value of $27,557.

The production of the eight southern counties by varieties was as follows: Building sand, 728,982 tons with a value of $471,267; molding sand, 359,586 tons valued at $483,507; paving sand, 328,934 tons valued at $196,512; glass sand, 184,831 tons having a value of $28,297; grinding and polishing sand, 43,962 tons valued at $42,599; fire and furnace sand, 25,578 tons valued at $13,881; engine sand, 12,612 tons having a value of $7,083; filler and other sand, 27,295 tons valued at $27,171; building gravel, 240,911 tons valued at $225,459 and paving gravel, 91,010 tons having a value of $26,559. The total for sands was 1,915,950 tons, value $1,591,948 and for gravels, 411,911 tons valued at $113,915.

There were nineteen producers of building sand, twenty-five producers of molding sand, thirteen of

Fire in Kanikau National Forest

Charred ruins are all that remain in the wake of the forest fire that for the last month have been sweeping the Kanikau National forest in northern Idaho. More than 75,000 acres have been covered by the fire. Valuable stands of white pine and cedar, and reproduction stands that have reached a growth of 50 to 80 years have been razed. The conflagration, started probably by a careless camper, sweeps through the forest at the rate of 15 miles an hour.

paving sand, five of glass sand, three of grinding and polishing sand, five of fire and furnace sand, five of engine sand, five of filler and other sand, eleven of paving gravel and eight of building gravel. Burlington county led in the production of building sand, paving sand, engine sand and building gravel. Cumberland led in molding sand and glass sand and Cape May led in filler sand. Similar statistics for other sections of the state are in the process of compilation.

NEW ROADS

Contracts representing $440,701 were awarded by the State Highway Commission at its meeting last week. The largest project is that for paving of four and two-and-a-half miles of Route 5 between Stockholm and Beaver Lakes, Sussex county, the work to be done by Winston & Company, of Midvale, for $220,297.

The Hill Construction Company, of Mount Holly, was given the contract for building two small bridges over Walkill Creek and Beaver Brook on Route 8, Sussex County, for $9,985.

The Commission also approved the plans for the widening of Route 7 between Freehold and Hightstown and estimates for the grading will be received on September 15.

TO REGILD DOME

Jersey State Capital Will Be Redecorated

The gilded dome of the State Capital at Trenton is about to receive a new coat of gold leaf, the last having been applied in 1927.

Workmen have constructed the scaffolding and the rehabilitation of the cornice work, together with the application of the gold leaf, will be completed within a short time. It will cost the State $3700 for the gold leaf work.

The State House Commission also is preparing plans for the re-enforcement of the Assembly gallery with supporting beams on the curves of that structure in the chamber. Because of the large gatherings in the galleries last winter it is believed that the under-structure became strained.

Although several estimates have been received for refurbishing Governor Moore's large reception room, the State House Commission anticipates the cost will be upward of $4,000. New chairs, tapestry, tables, and rugs will be included in the refurbishing plans.

Two radio broadcasting stations are going to be merged. That's nothing. We have a receiving set that merges all of them.—New York American.

Silver Fox Farm at Brown's Mills

County Clerk Reeves is Head of Unique Fur Raising Project

Not satisfied with cranberry growing, politics and a dozen other uncertain activities, William H. Reeves, of New Lisbon member of the Republican State Committee and clerk of Burlington County, has gone into the fur business.

Mr. Reeves has become the president of a company that has established a silver fox kennel at Brown's Mills, and from now on the county clerk will have to use basty coat in getting away from the ladies who will be begging him for one of the silver beauties for a fur coat.

Others in the company are William B. Crozier, of Mount Holly, secretary and treasurer; Henry I. Worrell, New Lisbon; A. A. Anderson, Mount Holly; W. Charles Madison, Brown's Mills; Daniel R. Lemon, Brown's Mills; J. Morton, Brown's Mills, and H. Stakins, of Wyncote, Pa. All these are directors.

The kennel is located on the Abram Brown farm on the road from Pemberton to Brown's Mills. The foxes will have wire-enclosed runs on a five acre tract. The capital stock of the company is said to be $100,000. One would think that this heat sum would buy all the foxes in the country, but it won't. The Reeves foxes are animals of another breed. They are the kind one sees the ladies wear at grand opera, even though they don't wear much of anything else.

Already there are five pairs of the silver foxes at the kennel which set the company back $10,000. Just think of a fox costing a thousand dollars, and prize heaven that we don't have to eat them instead of beef. Tea foxes are not enough. The birth rate is not much higher than it is in Paris, and ten more pairs will be added. That's another twenty thousand dollars.

Apocryphal Anecdotes
Looking at the silver foxes, Mr. Worrell must bark back a bit and sigh. When he was the county auditor men from the pine zone used to cart foxes into his office and collect a three-dollar bounty for putting them out of the chicken catching business. Incidentally Mr. Worrell would tip a piece of the fox's ear so that the pine gent wouldn't keep coming back with the same fox and try to brow beat the county treasurer.

A meeting of the stockholders was held at the fox kennel last week and the place was inspected. Everything, it is said, looked like big money. And it will be big money when it gets under way. Extraordinary large prices are paid for the skins and nobody but a millionaire's wife or daughter can have them stitched into a coat. And even again Mr. Worrell is an enthusiastic hunter, and it must make his sportsman heart ache to look at foxes too valuable to shoot.

Enjoy K. C. Picnic Despite Downpour

Thousand Children Take Part in Varied Program at Rancocas Park

The Knights of Columbus of Burlington county held their postponed picnic at Rancocas Park Wednesday of last week and a good time was enjoyed by all present.

The unfavorable weather conditions made it necessary to cut down the program and the outing was nothing like it would have been under different circumstances, but there was almost wild enthusiasm among the hundreds of children to whom all of the good time effort was devoted.

It is believed that there was at least a thousand children from the various Catholic parishes in the county to engage in the activities that had been arranged for their enjoyment. There is no thought that they did not have a good time, even though at times they had to sit between the rain drops to save themselves from being too badly soaked.

Race in Rain
Several of the races regularly on the program were held under the direction of Miss Alice B. Carlin, of Monmouth, who stood out in her rubber coat, dished the elements and imparted to the children the right spirit. During the afternoon these races were run under the direction of Miss Carlin: 50-yard dash for boys under 15—Won by Tony Frisco. Three-legged race for boys under 15—Won by John Widmeyer. Funnet race for girls under 15—Won by Marjorie Kusan. 50-yard dash for girls under 15—Won by Rita McLaughlin. 75-yard dash for girls over 15—Won by Elizabeth Harvey. Base ball throwing contest for girls under 15—Won by Gladys Reed. Potato race for boys over 15—Won by Harry Foreman.

Amusements finished After the completion of this program the children crowded the park amusements to such an extent that the attendants almost had to cry for help. The merry-go-round was so overloaded at times that there was not enough power to move it and some wheeling out had to be done.

The swings and all the other amusements were given their full share of attention. Everybody feels that so far as the children were concerned the picnic was a howling and somewhat noisy success. The young people were full of cheer and they made their own sunshine in the face of the rain.

The members of the general committee greatly appreciate the services of those who helped to direct the activities, and they have a special thanks for Miss Carlin for the very important part that she had.

TOLL AND LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE SERVICE AND RATE CHANGES

Effective October 1, 1926

These changes in Long Distance rates and service will not apply to calls between New Jersey points, but will apply to calls between a New Jersey point and a point outside the state.

CHANGES in Long Distance Rates

To points 150 miles or more distant the rates will be substantially reduced. The greater the distance, the greater the reduction.

For example, from Trenton to Pittsburgh the basic station-to-station rate will be $1.50 instead of $1.85; to Chicago, $3.25 instead of $4.45; to San Francisco, $11.15 instead of $16.30.

A few rates for distances between 24 and 110 miles will be adjusted to make the schedule consistent throughout, but in these cases the increase of the basic station-to-station rate will be only five cents.

REVERSED CHARGES on Station-to-Station Calls

Heretofore the reversal of charges has been available only on person-to-person calls. As a further convenience to the public this privilege will be extended to station-to-station calls where the rate is 25 cents or more.

LONGER Reduced Rate Hours

Reduced rate hours on Station-to-Station calls will begin at 7 p.m. instead of 8:30 p.m. as formerly.

Between 7 and 8:30 p.m. the rates will be approximately 75 per cent of the day station-to-station rates.

From 8:30 p.m. to 4:30 a.m., they will be about 50 per cent of the day rate.

These discounts will apply where the day station-to-station rate is 40 cents or more, with a minimum reduced rate of 35 cents.

Because of the unsatisfactory service conditions which it brought about, the existing midnight discount will be discontinued.

These changes are made in the interests of public convenience, to relieve the burden now imposed by the congestion of business at midnight and to furnish still better long distance service.

These service and rate changes are a part of a broad plan for service improvements which, with similar changes to be made in other parts of the country, will result in a saving to the telephone users of the United States of approximately $3,000,000 a year.

Tomato Crop Short, Due to Weather

Early Prospects Good and Satisfactory Returns Anticipated, But Yield Is Cut

Growers of canning tomatoes in Burlington county are now able to figure definitely that they will be many tons short of their anticipated crop on account of a combination of pests and unfavorable weather conditions that in some cases made handling their patches far beyond their control.

The shortage in the yield in Burlington and other South Jersey counties will have an effect on can-house packs and the outcome is going to be a stimulating of market conditions throughout the period of buying the raw crop and selling the prepared products during the season that will not cut until next year's pack begins.

In addition to the shortage, the farmers have been put to a lot of extra expense to produce the crop they have. Cut worms affected early plants, and this made replanting necessary and brought on the expense of using poisoned brand mash to destroy the worms.

Mosaic Prevention
Mosaic has been very prevalent everywhere, and this has resulted in the usual weakening of plant vitality and the consequent cutting of production. Green tomato worms have been bad and the sprays that have been used to destroy them have been washed off by the frequent rains almost as fast as they have been applied.

Blossoms and rot, which attacks the fruit and makes it worthless as a marketable product, has been quite severe in spots. The Greater Baltimore crop will be reduced on account of rainy weather during blossom setting time.

While these unfavorable conditions have been general, there are a few growers who have escaped such destruction as has visited other places and they will gather better than ten tons to the acre.

Tremendous Losses
These, however, are no exception that they do not begin to make up for tremendous losses in the less favored areas. In these cases spotted plants were cut early and the vines were sidedressed and the crops came on in good shape before the recent bad weather conditions got the upperhand and prevented ordinary protective operations.

Inspection by Leonard R. Smith, one of Burlington county's farm agents, has satisfied him that the inability of some fields to return a profit has been due to the setting of poor plants, and he strongly recommends to the farmers that they have their own seed. He realizes that many farmers are not equipped to grow their own plants, but in such cases he suggests that the seed be taken to reliable growers who are to be found and will give honest service.

SEPTEMBER
The sultry summer days have flown. And mild September's here. While goldenrod and asters, too. On nature's gown appear. And softly glow the harvest moon Above the tranquil earth. While balmy, sweet September eves Teach us what life is worth.

Love seems to find such sweet delight In mild September days, And finds rare beauty in its life In many charming ways. September gathers in her arms So many charms to hold. That it takes all the balmy month. Its beauty, to unfold.

REAL AMERICAN

Atlantic City Pageant Will Have Indian Beauty

No Miss America contest could be complete without a real, red-blooded American present. That requisite has been taken care of for the pageant of September 7 to 11, inclusive. Jennie Jim, Okanagan Indian girl selected to be the honorary officer of Princess America II at the 1936 National Indian Congress in Spokane, will be a pageant guest.

It will be the first time an Indian has appeared in the famous boardwalk demonstrations. But, then, this is an unusual pageant. For it has become international in character in its inclusion of an Australian girl and two Canadian girls in the beautiful tournament and in the enrollment of children from many nations in the baby and juvenile show.

Princess America II, chosen as the most beautiful Indian girl in the country, is the daughter of Chief Long Jim.

MOTOR CASES FEW

The New Jersey State Motor Vehicle Inspectors, when they make their annual visit to the offices of the Magistrates in South Jersey this year, will find that the squires have handled few motor vehicle cases since the new law went into effect reducing their fees.

Once a year the inspectors visit the office of each magistrate and check up their dockets to see that they have made the return to the state of all fines collected.

Under the new law squires can only collect fifty-five cents in each case and few of them will handle cases of this kind except when it is really necessary.

Power arrest of automobile violators have been made the past six months than in years. Most of the cases are now handled by police officers in each city or borough.

The state will get hundreds of dollars in fines this year. The money goes into the state road account because of the new act.

The $200 fines collected in many cases where drivers are arrested for driving while intoxicated will help to make up for some of the minor fines, which were collected in the past.

Cranberry Harvest 720,000 Barrels

Estimates of County's Crop Reported at Growers' Meeting at Brown's Mills

Over 120,000 barrels of cranberries will be produced in the United States this year, according to the reports made at the annual summer meeting of the American Cranberry Growers' Association held at Brown's Mills last week.

This estimate is based on a survey that had just been finished on Friday and was divided as follows: Cape Cod district, 125,000 barrels; New Jersey 295,000; Wisconsin, 65,000; Northwest district, 21,000; Rhode Island, 4,000. This is considerably more than last year, when there was a short crop throughout the country.

This is accounted for to some extent by increased acreage coming into bearing, but on the whole it is due to better control of growing conditions and more favorable weather at critical periods. In connection with the situation in New Jersey, H. B. Weiss, statistician of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, presented the following detailed report:

See Growers' Report

We have reports from eighty-six growers, representing approximately one-half of the acreage in the state. Last year these growers produced 53.2 per cent of the total production for the state. Their average yield last year was 10.5 barrels per acre, giving for the state a figure of 115,406 barrels which checks very well with our estimate of 115,000 barrels, and the railroad car lot shipment figures of 110,000 barrels.

These growers expect an average yield per acre this year of 15.4 barrels which indicates a total production for the state of 213,400 barrels. If these growers grew 53.2

MAN ON DEATH-BED DRAWS ODD WILL

The will of John R. Ross, of Greenwich, died last week with George A. Whyte, surrogate, was declared to be the one of the oddest and smallest to come into the office.

The will, executed by Ross the day before he died, reads: "I hereby appoint William G. Himmer to be the executor of my estate. In this all right with you all? Are you all satisfied? Whatsoever he does for Jack is all right."

Jack is the five-year-old son of Ross. The will, written on a single sheet of paper, in pencil, values the estate at $1500. The child's mother is dead.

per cent of the total crop last year, it is reasonable to expect that on the same acreage, being a fairly representative sample, they will grow a like proportion in 1936.

From their expected production figure then we obtain a total for the state of 210,000 barrels. This same group of growers gave as an average condition figure of 75 per cent of a normal as the condition of the crop not only of their own bags but on all those in the state. This condition indicates a total production of 200,400 barrels.

200,000 Barrels
Based on the information given to us by the eighty-six growers, the results of which you have just heard and provided that average conditions prevail from now until harvest, we forecast the New Jersey crop this year at 205,000 barrels.

There was an attendance of perhaps seventy-five at the meeting, considered very good in the face of unfavorable weather, and much interest was shown in the addresses that came under the guidance of Theodore H. Budd, of Pemberton, vice president of the Association.

Dr. Dorrance On Advertising
THAT advertising not only does not increase the cost of the advertised article, but, on the contrary, makes economies possible that benefit consumers, dealers, manufacturers, and producers of raw material, is the statement recently made by Dr. John T. Dorrance, President of the Campbell Soup Company.
In 1898 the output of the Campbell's Soup Company was 500,000 cans for the entire year.
Now—18,000,000 cans are produced in one week.
In 1898 the expense for salesmen was 7½ per cent and for advertising 14 per cent of the selling price.
Now—the cost for salesmen is 2½ per cent and for advertising less than 3 per cent, making a total selling cost of 5 per cent, or 2½ per cent less than it cost for salesmen alone in 1898.
The advertised price of Campbell's soup is twelve cents a can anywhere in the United States. This pays for the cost of the materials, the manufacturing charges, the transportation cost, and the profits of jobbers and retailers.
The cost of advertising in a single can of soup is seven-tenths of one hundredth of one per cent.
As Dr. Dorrance puts it: "Advertising has assisted us to stabilize our business, to guarantee the consumer a product of uniformly superior quality at a low price, to make sure that whatever profit is made on our raw materials is made by the farmer and not by the middleman, and to keep our manufacturing organization employed at steady wages throughout the year."
Advertising and advertising alone has made this possible.

McAllister, Mr. Milton Korn, Mr. Francis Brann, Mr. J. Windsor and Mr. Arthur Pollock of Palmyra.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mayor and Mrs. James T. Weart, 4th and Chestnut streets, last Friday evening when the various members of the Mayor's family were entertained at dinner. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Bonnell and family, Upper Merion, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wilkinson, Audubon; and Mr. and Mrs. James M. Weart and son, Palmyra.

Bruce Beahm is back from his summer's hike to California. According to his "Big Brother," Councilman Warren Beahm, Bruce is the picture of health, the same being the result of much hiking, working and sleeping in the open. Bruce made the return trip by train, but only arrived in West Philadelphia with only seven cents in his jeans and would have had to walk to Palmyra if the same kind hearted brother hadn't met him with a car.

Texas appears to have decided that Mr. Ferguson's place is in the home.—Indianapolis News.

METHODIST WIN

Churchmen Overwhelm Firemen, Securing Twilight Game

The Methodists are the champions of the Palmyra-Riverton Twilight League for this season by virtue of an overwhelming victory over the Firemen Tuesday evening by a score of 15-2.

The new champions had won first baseman, while the Firemen were capped in the second half. The M. M. boys took the first game in the playoff series, and their streak came back to even it up with victory in the second. There was no doubt as to the superiority of the Methodists Tuesday night, however.

Brain Fells, former Mercantile High and Staunton Military Academy star, did most of the winning, and he held the bases for two runs in the five-inning contest. On the other hand, his team-mates were their batting tops and assaulted Gault and Weikman for 10 singles which, with seven errors, proved more than enough to win.

With a trio of safeties, including two triples, and Kammerer and Schumacher, with two each, led the attack for the winners. Feller and Fells secured the base-down credited to the Firemen. Baker hit a home run over the left field fence.

PLAY AT SHORE

Saturday the Palmyra baseball team will cross bats once more with Beach Haven at Beach Haven. The last time the boys were down there the weather was such as to place the field in a terrible condition for baseball and the spectators at the local boys attracted so much attention that the manager asked them to return Saturday afternoon, September 4th.

Monday a strong attraction is being arranged as a special part of the holiday schedule.

This will be a very good game and should attract a good amount of fans.

The locals were defeated 4-3 last Saturday by the Hagerdorf Pros.

NEW POLICE SHIFT

"Doc" is well-known in this section having served here two years ago. At that time being one of the dashing cavaliers patrolling this section on a beautiful black horse. "Doc" is now seen astride a "gas horse," commonly known as a motorcycle.

PASS ORDINANCES

Palmyra Borough Council met in a brief adjourned session Tuesday evening to pass the ordinance providing for improvements on a large number of streets.

After some discussion it was agreed that the property owners would be given until spring to do the work, wherever necessary, as winter will probably be at hand before all the local technicalities are taken care of.

There was still some discussion as to the necessity of laying walks on Seventh Street, but it was pointed out that this street is used by a large number of Palmyra people, especially those attending the services at the Christian Science Church in Riverton.

The sanitary cover for Sixth Street was formally approved.

Councilman Lees announced that he was preparing to enforce the ordinance concerning property owners to cut the weeds on vacant lots and also that he was taking steps to have the Pennsylvania Railroad do the same thing along its right of way.

The bride attired in a dress of tan Romaine crepe trimmed with lace was attended by Mrs. John Warner, of Riverton, as Matron of Honor, who carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The best man was Irving Engle, brother of the bridegroom.

The church was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns.

After an extended honeymoon in Niagara Falls and Canada the happy couple will reside with the bride's parents.

Medford Labor Day Program

Big Time on September 6 Arranged by Chamber of Commerce

Labor Day, September 6, will be a big day for Medford and according to arrangements made by the Medford Chamber of Commerce and the Union Fire Company, there is every reason to believe that the day's program will be the greatest ever witnessed in the town.

There is outlined for the morning a "Baby Parade" and the committee in charge is leaving nothing unturned to make this a greater success than last year. The parade will be assembled at the corner of Main and Branch streets and is scheduled to move promptly at 9:45 o'clock daylight saving time.

A certain portion of Branch street will be set aside for the parade grounds, and so protected that parents should have no fear for the safety of the little ones in the line of march. The committee composed of Everett H. Haines, Warner S. Smith, George Davis, William T. Fickell and Floyd K. Brannin, is now ready for entries and parents are requested to send such a member at the earliest possible date.

Prizes for Babies
The committee would like to have every baby in town enter in the parade and to this end an earnest appeal is made to the parents. To assemble this parade, it will take some time with details outlined by the committee and for the reason parents should have the little ones at the assembling point not later than 9:15 o'clock. Competent judges have been secured and prizes will be awarded to the winners as follows:

Prattiest baby under 2 years of age, $3.50.
Baby, under 2 years of age, best representing character or figure, $3.50.

Best decorated coach with baby, under 3 years of age, $3.50.
Most original vehicle with baby under 3 years of age, $3.50.

Baby coming greatest distance, $3.50.
Finest pair of twins, $3.50.
Finest triplex, $3.50.

Gift for All
Besides the prize list, every baby in the parade will receive a gift. While the parade is being assembled and in the line of march will be music, that is sure to supply plenty of snap.

The greatest part of the afternoon will be devoted to the housing of the new American LaFrance 600-gal. combination pumper and booster of the Union Fire Company, which will be ushered in with a parade, that is to move forward promptly at one o'clock daylight saving time.

The parade will be headed by a marshal, followed by members of the Township Committee and Medford Chamber of Commerce. The Union Fire Company, of Mount Holly, the oldest organization of its kind in the State, that will have the honor to assist in the housing will come next, followed by visiting companies from all parts of the county.

1926 Apparatus
In the year will be the Union Fire Company with the new piece of apparatus, besides the old hand pumper and the ladder wagon, that dates back to 1881 and the chemical apparatus. This parade will also have added spirit and attraction with good music.

The committee in charge of arrangements has selected the prizes that will be awarded to the winners by competent judges in the following classes:

Largest number of uniformed men in line.
Best equipped apparatus.
Company appearing with best band.

Tallest fireman in line.
Shortest fireman in line.
Patience fireman in line.

Housing Ceremonies
The housing ceremonies will follow the parade with an impressive program in which the Relief Company with the assistance of Marston, will present the apparatus and the acceptance part of the program will be in charge of the home company.

Arrangements have been made to feed all visiting firemen, besides, prompt service will be given to all emergency calls for firemen or apparatus.

When the ceremonies come to a close, the next in line that will mark the closing of the program will be a baseball game on the home grounds where Medford will clash with either Delanco or Riverside.

SWIMMING MEET

Moorestown Water Works Park Has Big Program for Labor Day

Water Works Park will be the scene of another interesting swimming meet Labor Day afternoon at three o'clock. Walter Truduen, life-guard, has arranged an extensive program and the many people using this popular recreation center for holiday excursions will find ample opportunity for enjoyment. Besides the swimming attraction, a volleyball court is in action, quoit pitching is available, and a number of good boxing bouts are promised. The swimming events will consist of sprints and fancy diving for all classes, a relay and swimming under water for the men. The sprints will be fifty yards for all classes but the younger girls who will only do thirty.

In the fancy diving two dives will be required, the jackknife and swan, with two optional. Lenses and Maple shade will be represented in the 250-yard relay.

Securine is so sweet that one part is dissolved in 10,000 parts of water is easily tasted.

BREAKS ELBOW

Moorestown Lad Breaks Elbow in Fall

James Macbrook, of Mill street, broke his elbow Thursday afternoon of last week while playing with several other boys in the Rev. W. J. Casworth's yard.

The boys had a rope thrown over a high limb of a tree in the yard and had planned to jump from the fence nearby and they successfully getting hold of the hanging end of the rope, while the other boys held tightly to the other end, enjoy a swing. In turn James jumped from the fence attempting to catch the rope and he either lost his grip or the boys accidentally jerked the rope. As a result of act the lad fell landing flat with his arm caught under him breaking his elbow. The patient was rushed to Doctor Ulmer where his elbow was set. James' mother took him to the Cooper Hospital the next morning where X-ray showed that the elbow was properly set. James will have his arm in a sling for about six weeks and is undecided whether he will go back to school when it reopens next week.

BUS "SANDWICHED"

Moorestown Line Figures in a Slight Accident

One of the Moorestown-Philadelphia Transit Company buses figured in a slight accident at Maple Shade Tuesday afternoon when it was "sandwiched" between two trucks. The bus became tangled with the two trucks as it passed one of them going in the same direction. Each of the machines received badly bent fenders, otherwise escaping damage, and none of the bus passengers suffered injuries or discomfort of being thrown about as usually occurs in a bus crash.

Joseph Goodwin was the driver of the bus while the truck which he was passing when the accident occurred was driven by S. R. Sharp, of Masonville.

The Pioneer of Progress

Of course, minor improvements in oil heating will be developed as the years pass. That is the way of progress—and the price of leadership.

Kleen-Heet will pioneer them. Just as Kleen-Heet has done in the past.

But, fundamentally, the Kleen-Heet of ten years hence will be the Kleen-Heet of today! Just as the Cadillac or Pierce-Arrow or Rolls-Royce of today is, fundamentally, the same as ten years ago.

For Kleen-Heet is a product of sound engineering practice. Developed by the Winlow Boiler and Engineering Company, its engineering superiority among oil burners is accepted.

Attested by the fact that—again in 1925, as in 1924 and in 1923, more Kleen-Heets were installed in the home of the oil-burner industry—Chicago—than burners of any other make.

Based upon the last estimate of population, the number of motor vehicle licenses issued in New Jersey during the first seven months of the present year averaged approximately one for every six and a third persons in the state.

The number of registrations was 580,465 or 42,752 more than during the corresponding period last year. The last estimate of population made by the State Bureau of Vital Statistics is 3,697,622.

The registration figures, as shown in a table prepared by Commissioner Dill, include 462,123 passenger vehicles, 103,107 commercial vehicles and 15,235 omnibus licenses. Among the number are 5,731 non-resident licenses. There are made up of 5,856 passenger registrations, 2,856 commercial vehicles and eight omnibuses.

From this county, with a population of 50,385, there are 17,012 registrations.

NEW P. S. GENERATOR

Fourth of Five Big Units Put in Service August 27

The fourth of the five big electric generator units that will provide the capacity of the first section of the new Kearny generation station of Public Service Electric and Gas Company was put in service on August 27. It has a capacity of 43,500 kilowatt amperes and brings the total present capacity of the station up to 165,000 kw-a. The last unit, work on the installation of which is progressing rapidly, will have a capacity of 39,200 kw-a. so that the final capacity of the station will be 205,100 kw-a. Since January 1 last, the total generation capacity of the company has been increased by 115,050 kw-a. or more than one quarter and on December 31 next, it will be double that of December 31, 1921, five years ago.

What this growth in electric resources means to industry in the section of New Jersey served by the company, may be judged by the fact that the increase so far this year, renders available energy amounting to 125,240 horsepower. Calculating the power of a horse at times times that of a man, this means 1,252,400 man-power, which because it is capable of use during twenty-four hours a day, represents the energy of 3,757,200 men on eight-hour shifts.

New Jersey's industrial and domestic demands are absorbing this increased power almost as fast as it is rendered available, and greater production in factories, and more comforts and convenience in the home are the results.

Artificial "Sunshine" Makes Hay in Rain

Walker-Gordon Co. Completes Installation of First Dryer For Curing Alfalfa

It is now just as easy and economical to make hay while the rain pours as when the sun shines. In fact, the time-old adage regarding the making of hay while the sun shines is being relegated to the discard, and by introduction of the kiln drying method of the curing of crops this branch of farming bids fair to become revolutionized.

Making hay while it rains, if necessary or desired, can be accomplished just as readily as in fine weather by what experts say is a revolution in farming. The new method has been introduced by the Walker-Gordon Laboratory Company, operating a 1,400 cow dairy at Plainsboro, in close proximity to Trenton and Princeton. The cost of kiln drying crops is declared not only to be less than that of human labor but much quicker and just as good.

Up to the present time kiln drying of farm crops has been a theory tenderly nursed by agriculturalists and socialists, but the Walker-Gordon Laboratory Company, at an expenditure of $30,000, has completed and installed the first dryer that has been established for the commercial drying of such products as forage crops. The plant, especially designed and made at the direction of the company is now in operation.

U. S. interested Because of the innovation in the harvesting of forage crops the United States Department of Agriculture is very much interested and persons high in that branch of the United States government have been in consultation with H. W. Jeffers, president of the Walker-Gordon Company. Likewise, the New Jersey State Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with the United States government, has arranged to make studies of all the costs connected with the operation of the machine, the hope being that alfalfa meal can be produced at a much lower cost than through shipping of alfalfa from the West. Alfalfa is the only crop so far sent through the kiln and dried by artificial heat.

The process as introduced by the Walker-Gordon Company is the first attempt to industrialize harvesting and the artificial curing of forage crops. The alfalfa under the new method, is never touched nor handled in any way by man from the time it is ready to harvest until it is reduced to meal, placed in bags and ready to be trucked away.

All the work heretofore done by hand or with the aid of some machine, is now done by special machinery. The alfalfa, growing in the field, is cut by a mower drawn by a tractor. The cut crop is loaded automatically on a dump truck and it is then hauled to the kiln. It is made into a uniform mattress which runs thru the hot oven on a conveyor, at the rate of four tons per hour, while the moisture is removed by heat and currents of air.

Operations Complete When dried it comes out at the other end of the kiln and continues automatically into a milling machine which cuts it into meal. It is then once more automatically conveyed either to a place of storage or to a loading bin. If to the latter the meal falls into bags and after they are filled the first hand operation comes in—putting the bags on trucks.

It requires a crew of only eight men to operate the complete outfit, which is electrically driven. The machine will handle 500 or 750 acres of alfalfa per season. The product from the dryer is a pea green and the vitamin in the feed has not been destroyed by the slight fermentation that occurs by curing in the natural way and, it is contended, will have a greater feeding value than any product that is now produced by the ordinary method.

NASH ANNOUNCES NEW SPECIAL SIX

Heralded as introducing the "world's smoothest type of motor" Nash today places on display nationally the newly developed Special Six line comprising five models in open and closed body styles and powered by the new seven bearing crankshaft motor, termed by engineers the "ultra-modern type of six cylinder motor."

The debut of the new Special Six Series has been awaited with extreme interest in view of earlier reports that Nash would disclose a significant achievement in motor engineering as well as a long list of important, new betterments with no change in price despite the greatly increased quality and value incorporated in these new models. The first distinguishing attribute of this new motor is the superlative power smoothness achieved by the use of the big seven bearing crankshaft, in addition to great power and exceptional accelerative ability.

Duo-Tone Finish The exterior attractiveness of these new Nash models is artistically heightened by the use of a new duo-tone finish of contrasting colors. Both the open and the closed models are toned in superbly beautiful polychrome combinations and all models have the gracefully sculptured new winged emblem surmounting the radiator cap.

It is immediately evident that Nash has expended emphatic effort to warrant achieving new standards of engineering refinement throughout both the motor and the chassis. In these new Special Six cars—as has been standard Nash practice for some time—the motor is heavily insulated from the frame through the use of rubber insulation at the motor supports. This practice intensifies the operative quietness and the almost absolute vibrationless character of Nash performance.

There is also featured on these new motors a new crankcase "breather," an ingenious device which functions to prevent crankcase dilution. This "breather" also serves to keep the driving compartments free from heat and odor.

New Motor Muffler

Bigger and Better Than Ever

Nash likewise draws attention to a new design motor muffler which contributes importantly to the quietness of the engine because of the way it leads hot exhaust gases around the outer surface of the shell thus allowing them to cool and contract before entering the inside manifold.

The new instrument board is directly illuminated and all instruments, including a new hydrostatic gas gauge, are deftly grooved in a single panel under glass. Nash provides with these new models double filament headlights controlled from the steering wheel, enabling the driver at will to throw a strong beam straight ahead or downward directly in front of the car. A new thermostatic device regulating the circulation of water functions to control the motor heat so that the proper driving temperature is maintained continually. Also the oil pump is now equipped with a new oil screen "agitator" which revolves under the intake screen and prevents conglomeration of oil on the screen even in coldest weather.

DETROIT ORDERS 50 MORE DODGES

New 21-Passenger Graham Brothers Units To Supplement Trolley Lines

The Department of Street Railways of Detroit has ordered 50 additional Graham Brothers 21-Passenger motor coaches, bringing the total number in use by the street railway system up to 198.

Eighteen coaches, according to the contract, are to be delivered within twelve days of receipt of order and the remainder at the rate of fifteen per week. Only as a result of Graham Brothers extensive manufacturing facilities, wide experience and advanced production methods was it possible to meet the urgent need for quick delivery. The first 30 Graham Brothers Motor Coaches were placed in service early in 1925. In September 24 more were added. Many of the individual units have traveled in the excess of 60,000 miles. The total mileage of the first 148 coaches recorded since June 20 was 6,249,325 with over 21,500,000 passengers carried.

The new units are to be operated on Woodward and East Jefferson Avenues, Detroit's two busiest streets, to supplement with high speed express service the transportation furnished by the electric lines. In this field of supplying more rapid service the competition in Detroit is not to such an extent with the electric lines as with privately owned seven-passenger touring cars operated as "jitneys."

In the interest of supplying the best possible high speed service parallel to the existing car lines, 21-passenger coaches were selected in preference to larger units because the lower investment per unit and lower cost of operation permit more frequent service and the superior ease of handling and more rapid acceleration make faster schedules possible.

"This high speed express service on the same streets with existing trolley lines which has been inaugurated by the street railway in Detroit," declares C. Ridgley Sweeney, Palmyra Dodge Dealer, "opens a new and wide field of service in which motor buses will soon be found in operation in cities both large and small throughout the country. In Detroit these buses are regarded with favor because of the safe, frequent, rapid economical service they are rendering the public. The opinion of the street railway officials is clearly reflected in the fact that this is their sixth order and that during the last year alone orders placed for motor coaches of this capacity have been with Graham Brothers. The ability of these Graham Brothers buses to run on schedule with heavy loads through congested traffic, snow and other unfavorable operating conditions is convincing evidence that embodied in Graham Brothers buses are the endurance and stamina long recognized in all Dodge Brothers products."

There's too much talk and too little action on the part of most men. Talk is cheap and action costs, it is true. But if hands would fly as fast as tongues there would be accomplished very much more than now is done.—Grit.

War on Reckless Drivers Declared

Maple Shade Police Chief Plans To Protect School Children

Chief of Police Clarence Ward has issued a warning that he will clamp down the lid on speeding and reckless driving through Maple Shade, further stating that the school is for all drivers, not necessarily bus and truck operators who are considered the chief offenders.

The school zones are located along Moorestown Pike, Maple Shade's main artery of traffic, and the chief says it is imperative that the motorists use precaution and drive with great care.

"We have 1000 children in the Maple Shade schools and we're not going to stand by and see any one of them injured by some heedless driver," declared the chief.

The Maple Shade police department has notified the superintendents of the various bus lines which operate through Maple Shade and any of the drivers caught cutting in and out of the line of traffic will not only be arrested but lose their positions.

"We are going to be reasonable," added Ward, "for we don't ask anyone to keep strictly within the law which states that no motor vehicle shall go through a school zone at a speed greater than six miles an hour, but we do demand that the cars keep within the line of traffic which usually travels twenty miles an hour which is plenty fast enough for anyone to go through town."

Last year for the first few weeks after school convened the Maple Shade police warned the drivers, but the admonition was without avail, so the police were forced to take drastic steps and the violations were finally reduced to a minimum after twenty-four arrests had been made within two weeks.

This year the only warning is through the newspapers, for the police declare that if the motorists will not cut down their speed after reading warnings it will take more than a friendly word of advice to curb the lawlessness which menaces the lives of Maple Shade's children.

WORK DONE AT ITALIAN MISSION

Admission showed us "her family." Each morning these babies were brought to her in their home clothes, and one by one they were bathed, dressed in clean white clothes (provided by the school), and kept until late afternoon, when they were dressed in their home clothes again and returned to their mothers.

Supervised Play
Out on the school grounds we saw the spirit of fair play taught through the playing of games, and the little bodies developed through the physical training exercises, which all but the babies entered.

Before we left, every one gathered in the nursery, where the older girls very proudly served us with dainty sandwiches, lemonade, and fudge, all of which they had made themselves.

Every day during the "picking season" this little scene is repeated at the summer school for Italian children which was started in the neighborhood of Cinnaminson, Burlington County, New Jersey, by the Council of Women for Home Missions.

Their work for the migrant women and children laborers covers groups in the fruit-picking and canning sections of Delaware and Maryland, and this one station in New Jersey.

The central motive of the work is a religious one—"To make America Christian for the friendly service of the world," thus they care for the very little ones, and give Christian teaching to the older children along with training in habits of right living for both mind and body.

In the neighborhood of Cinnaminson, the picking of fruits and vegetables is largely done by Italian families who come from Philadelphia, the same groups returning for years in succession, though this is not always the case. Therefore it is not migrant but summer labor.

Whole Families in Fields
Men, women, and children who are old enough, pick, and it is the babies and little ones left in a corner of a field to play or squabble, who make the special appeal. Sometimes three times in one day, in showers, weather, we have seen the mothers run to pick up their babies and carry them to the nearest shed or shelter of any kind.

When the summer school is established, the children are cared for and taught from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. by devoted young women who give freely of themselves. In the Cinnaminson School of 25 or 35 children, ten of which last year were babies, three teachers were needed.

One for the babies, doing the washing for them and preparing the food.

One to teach cooking to the older girls, and also to prepare the lunch for the children, for which a charge of three cents was made daily.

One teacher who taught sewing, music (or memory songs), and games.

These children were in scattered farms and the transportation was a problem.

The Council of Women for Home Missions pays the salaries of the teachers. The local committee must provide a place for the school, to be carried on, the building must have cooking facilities—in this case the Cinnaminson Board of Education granted the use of one of the smaller buildings. The local committee must also provide the food used in the school, and when necessary the transportation. Places for the teachers to board must be provided.

The work at Cinnaminson is carried on under the supervision of the Parent-Teacher Association, financed by local subscriptions from persons who see the value of the undertaking.

As a rule the employers of Italian labor thoroughly believe in this work, and one farmer said "These children get something in this school that they could not get in a public school or in their homes." The farmers believe in it because of its rightness and from an economic point of view.

One Big Difference In Car Values

One of the big outstanding differences in car values today is in the measure of local responsibility delivered to the owner with the car.

All cars show changes and improvements from time to time, but as heretofore, the basis of satisfaction in automobile ownership lies in the responsibility of the local dealer for the car he sells.

The recognized merit of the Nash line has made it a pleasure rather than a task for us to assume that responsibility in this community.

Drop in and look us over.

Just Because He Changed His Mind

Frankly we can't find a single practical reason why many of our used cars were given up by their first owners. But some people are always changing their minds. Whoever buys this car, for instance, will profit by it:

RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1926

RIVERTON WINS FROM U. G. I. UNDER CLOUDY SKIES, 4-2

Team Seems To Do Better When Sun Does Not Shine; More Rooters Wanted

LABOR DAY GAME WITH ARMY QUEERED BY RAIN

The Riverton baseball team does not seem able to play good ball in clear weather as the score of the Dunkirk game will indicate. Again last Saturday the sky was full of dark clouds but the home team kept the bacon in Riverton by the small score of 4-2 when the U. G. I. team bowed to "Doc" Hinkle's pitching.

Only seventeen batters faced Doc in the first five innings, while thirteen of local sluggers faced Black in the first three frames, scoring a two-run lead for Doc. Willie Hebrew, who played right field in Painter's absence, came up first in the third. He flied to short. Hinkle who was next up slammed one to deep center but T. Gilroy was there to catch the sphere. Gilroy was a pitcher for the visitors until he lost his left arm at the shoulder.

Sticks to the Game
This lad deserves all the credit that can be given him for sticking to the game. Although Gilroy fanned three out of four times at bat he worried Doc more than the other eight men from Philly. Danny Hyllon singled and went to third on Jimmy Burr's hit to center. Jimmy stole second. Jimmy Gaffney poked a timely single to left scoring Hyllon and Burr. Johnny Faye fanned.

In the fourth the locals came through with one more run. Bennett singled and Mendenhall moved him on with a neat sacrifice bunt down the first base line. Truman singled sending the "Mayor" to third. Hebrew forced Truman at second was scored on a late throw to first. Bennett scoring. Doc took three strikes.

In the sixth the U. G. I. boys got one marker on four singles.

The two new faces on the team had something to do with the victory. Jimmy Burr scored one to right and was responsibly for another while Willie Hebrew batted one run home.

Truman Scores
Riverton scored one in the ninth. Buck Truman was safe on Moffet's fumble. Hebrew poked one to right for a base hit. Doc walked for the second time in the game. Hyllon singled, Truman being out at home and Hebrew was run down between third and home. Doc scored on an overthrow. Burr hit to third and Danny was tagged out at home.

The Philly boys pulled one run over in the last frame. Moffet fanned. Mulray walked. Kelly flied to Gaffney. Carney singled. R. Gilroy was safe at first when Mendenhall dropped the third strike. T. Gilroy, the arm named "Ace" was thrown out at first by Johnny Faye to end the rally and the game.

Moffet walked off with the batting and fielding laurels for the visitors with two hits, one run, three assists, two putouts and no errors.

Hyllon and Burr shared the batting honors with three bingles apiece. Johnny Faye took home the fielding glory with six perfect assists and two putouts.

Need Support
Each week a few more supporters appear at the games but still the attendance is not what it should be. There are only a few more games this season but unless the team gets the proper support it will be in debt at the close of the year. Come out to the games and have a good time for thirty-five cents.

SNEAK THIEF ROBS WILLIAMS' HOME

Enters Through Second Story Window and Takes $50

The home of George Williams, next to the A & P store, on Main street, was entered between ten-thirty and midnight last night by a thief, while Mr. and Mrs. Williams were entertaining their son E. L. Williams, their daughter, Mrs. Frank Beauchamp and husband, and Miss Anna Williams. Mrs. Beauchamp was in the front room, was awakened by the sound of the door being unlocked and the top drawers of the bureau had been ransacked. It is supposed that the intruder climbed up over the front porch. A pocketbook which belonged to Mrs. Williams was given because several new shoes had been seen in the town during the past few days.

The police officers have been ordered to hold all persons who are seen acting suspiciously after a certain hour at night. This order was given because several new shoes had been seen in the town during the past few days.

LIONS Palmyra Club Enjoys First Evening Meeting

The Palmyra Lions held their first evening meeting in the basement of the First Lutheran Church Tuesday evening and a bang-up meeting it was, too.

Fourteen roaring Lions were on the job, including the latest cub, W. Rex McCrosson, and what the animals did to the luscious steak which the Lutheran Ladies had prepared as the piece d'reistance was sure and to relate.

Al Mundorf, the organizer, was there. He got mixed on his dates and showed up at noon, but when he heard the first evening meeting was scheduled for that day, he hung around all afternoon so he wouldn't miss it.

Al is arranging a joint meeting with the Merchantsville club which is expected to be held at the Merchantsville Country Club about two weeks hence. There will be a special speaker and a rousing good time is promised for all. Later the Palmyra club will entertain its brother Lions from Merchantsville.

A surprise feature is promised for next Tuesday evening.

Jean D'Autrechy Swims 10 Miles

Palmyra Girl Covers Distance From Philadelphia To Riverton

Jeanette D'Autrechy, 15-year-old Palmyra girl, is the latest recruit to the ranks of the long distance swimmers.

On Labor Day she swam from the Race Street wharf, Philadelphia, to the Riverton Yacht Club pier, a distance of ten miles or more, in three and one half hours. She started her swim at 9:45 a. m., accompanied by Roy Lyder, of 3828 North Thirteenth Street, Philadelphia.

Both the swimmers were greased with a preparation known as "Best Food Shortening," and Miss D'Autrechy felt in such fine fettle at the end of the swim that she said she could have gone at least five miles farther.

This was the first long distance swim the Palmyra girl has attempted, although she has been swimming in nearby waters for several years and has covered considerable distances up and down the Pennsylvania Creek.

She is a friend of Miss Maxine Meltzer, the noted Riverton girl swimmer, and the two have done much training together.

Miss D'Autrechy now plans to do considerable training at the Philadelphia Yacht Club and will probably attempt a swim from Philadelphia to Chester in the near future.

For her feat Labor Day, the girl swimmer was awarded a purse of $25 and a silver cup.

ARMY WILL TRY AGAIN SATURDAY

Twice Prevented From Playing By Rain Will Make Third Attempt

Labor Day the U. S. Army team from Fort Washington came to Riverton to make their second attempt at staging a ball game but owing to the fact that Pluvius did not wish to see the service boys defeated, he interfered in their behalf and all bets were off.

A third attempt to play this game will be made this Saturday afternoon.

The Army band and the rooters did not show up Monday because Mayor Kendrick ordered all serious men stationed at the Sequi to be on parade in honor of the Japanese Ambassador. Corporal Bainsbridge expects to be able to bring all the men he wants, players, rooters and band; this week as no foreign dignitaries are on schedule for a visit to the exposition.

The season is just one week shorter and the fans have just one week less to show their loyalty to the town's stadium by attending these few remaining games, buying a tag and rooting for the home boys.

If the Army and the Navy ever race on heaven's scenes, they'll find the streets are guarded by United States Marines!

Escape Injury in Collision

William Ewald and daughter Elsie accompanied by Dr. Spangler and his wife, of Germantown, ran into the rear of a car which stopped suddenly in front of Ewald's car at Taylor's Lane Monday evening about six o'clock. Mr. Ewald was unable to stop his car on the wet road. One fender was bent and the windshield broken by the impact. Dr. Spangler was the only occupant of the car who was not injured, and his injuries consisted of a small cut on one ear.

HEART TAG DAY IN TWO TOWNS

Attractive Prizes and Free "Movie" Tickets Offered Local Collectors

WORK HEADED BY PROMINENT PEOPLE

A representative of the Volunteers of America, of which General Booth and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth are national presidents, has received permission to hold a "Children's Heart Tag Day" in Riverton and Palmyra.

Mrs. Booth's many years of service in behalf of the men behind prison walls in both State and Federal penal institutions, as well as looking after a prisoner's family left destitute when the husband and father is taken away to serve his sentence, is too well known to need comment.

The "Heart Tag Day" will be held on Saturday, September 11th, and will be sponsored by the following prominent citizens of the two towns: Rev. J. W. Lee, Rev. William M. Erhard, Mrs. James R. West, Mrs. F. E. Hemphill and Mrs. Charles T. Bates.

Headquarters in Both Towns

The headquarters in Riverton will be in the Council Chamber at the fire house, in charge of Miss Ruth Miller.

In Palmyra, Miss Ruth Hemingway will have charge of the headquarters in the American Legion Home.

Tags and instructions will be given to those who call at headquarters after 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

Invitations to assist in the sale of tags have been mailed to a number of grade school girls and boys and as contest incentives, as well as rewards for their efforts, three useful and pretty prizes and a number of movie tickets will be offered by merchants and theatre manager, for those securing the largest amounts for their tags.

Attractive Prizes Offered

In Riverton, the first prize will be a Hawk Eye Eastman camera, given by L. J. Keating's Modern Store; second, a two-pound box of chocolates given by W. H. Stiles, druggist; third, three imported linen handkerchiefs given by Mrs. A. Smith's store.

The first prize in Palmyra will be a No. 2 Browne camera given by Buoh's Drug Store; second prize, a twin compact, given by Luke K. Eberly's Pharmacy; third prize, a box of chocolates given by Schilling's Sweet Shop.

Those who do not win prizes, but who secure at least $3.00 or more for their tags, will receive passes to the Broadway Palace Theatre.

SOOY FOR JUDGE

Attorney Well Known in This Section Boosted for Circuit Position

W. Frank Sooy, of Atlantic City, a former Mayor of that city and now City Solicitor of Atlantic City, one of the leaders of the Atlantic city bar, is being boomed for appointment to the Circuit Court judgeship, left vacant by the death last week of Judge Theodore W. Schimpf, of Atlantic City. He has been endorsed by the members of the Atlantic County Bar Association and the members are quite confident that he will be the next judge in the circuit formerly presided over by Judge Schimpf.

It is expected that the Bar Association will make a determined effort to swing the judgeship to an Atlantic City man.

That the judgeship will go to a Republican seems a foregone conclusion, in view of the major parties' practice of equalizing as far as possible appointments to the bench. Judge Schimpf having been a Republican, his successor, undoubtedly will be of the same political affiliation, even though the appointment must come through a Democrat Governor.

Should Sooy's friends succeed in having him named to fill the vacancy, it was said that Assistant City Solicitor Perkale would be elevated to the City Solicitorship, and Deputy County Clerk Glens would likely step into the assistant's post.

Mr. Sooy is the eldest son of the late Mark R. Sooy, of Mount Holly, who in his day was rated one of the ablest lawyers in New Jersey. He is a brother of Mrs. Irving A. Collins, of Moorestown.

WILFRED POWELL LIPPINCOTT

Wilfred Powell Lippincott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Lippincott, of Lawrence street, Burlington, died in Jacksonville, Florida, on Sunday.

Mr. Lippincott had been ill for some time with diabetes. He died after an operation for mastoid.

Mrs. Lippincott received a telegram Sunday stating her son was critically ill and she left immediately for Florida. The body was brought home to Burlington late Tuesday night.

The young man left Carnegie Institute to join the army during the World War. After his return to this country he was employed by the John Mansville Company.

About two years ago he went south to work for a New York engineering firm.

The deceased was a charter member of the Palmyra American Legion. His family formerly lived in Palmyra.

Interment will be made at the Odd Fellows' cemetery, Burlington.

GOVERNOR VISITS BEETLE LABORATORY

Moore and Commissioner Duryee Guests at Riverton Station

On Friday afternoon, September 3rd, Governor A. Harry Moore, accompanied by Commissioner W. B. Duryee and the former's official retinue, paid the Japanese Beetle Laboratory at Riverton a short visit.

He was received by L. B. Smith, Entomologist-in-Charge, and was conducted through the various laboratories of the project where he met the Division Chiefs and attained a brief insight into the main projects.

The governor was particularly interested in the importation of parasites from foreign countries, the physiological researches, and the question of arsenical deposits on fruits. He appeared favorably impressed with the extensive studies now being conducted.

The visit to the laboratory was planned in connection with the governor's trip to the Exposition of Southern New Jersey where he addressed the fairgoers during the Governor's Day exercises.

Palmyra Firemen Win Two Prizes

Independence and Parry Volunteer Companies Cash In on Labor Day

Both the Palmyra and the Parry fire departments won prizes in Labor Day parades.

The Palmyra Seagraves pumper took part in the Medford Labor Day program and won first for being the best equipped. The prize was two La France hand fire extinguishers. The way it fared on the trip home the boys figured they didn't exactly need fire extinguishers.

The Palmyra truck was a bit late in arriving, and had to take its place after the parade was under way, but when the score keeper made his inspection and added up the points, the truck had 56 points to 48 for its nearest competitor.

The Parry truck took part in a parade incident to the dedication of a new firehouse at Delaware Gardens and was awarded silver cake dish and a silver cup as prizes.

The Palmyra company will demonstrate the turret nozzle on its new ladder truck next Thursday evening at the Pensauken creek in West Palmyra.

Two giant pumpers, Riverton's and Palmyra's, will both force streams of water into the turret to see just how much distance and pressure can be obtained.

The use of the ladders on the new outfit was satisfactorily demonstrated last week with tests at the High School building and P. O. S. of A. Hall.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR HERB TROUT

Bank Directors Help Celebrate Anniversary Friday Evening

A surprise party was sprung on Herbert Trout, of Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, by his associates of the Board of Directors of the Palmyra National Bank on the occasion of his birthday last Friday evening.

All the directors and officials were there, including George Wimer, Woodie Brideman, John Hoepfner, Harry Rudduck, Horace Finney, William McCamy, Al Stewart and George W. Shaner.

Three huge boxes were delivered during the evening. After much laborious unwrapping, the first was found to contain merely a birthday greeting card. The second required even more unwrapping and in the center of all the paper was found a diamond studded Shrine pin. The third wasn't so difficult. It contained a wonderful bunch of flowers.

Compliments Fly Thick and Fast

Governor Moore and Kendrick Eulogized at Sequi's "New Jersey Day"

An exchange of compliments between the states they represented and between the men themselves marked the addresses of Governor A. Harry Moore, Mayor Kendrick, State Treasurer William T. Read and Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee at the "New Jersey Day" celebration at the Sequi-Centennial Wednesday of last week.

The addresses were given from the balcony of the New Jersey Building to a large crowd gathered on the lawn in front of it.

Newton A. K. Bugbee, in charge of the celebration, introduced Governor Moore. He said it was a pity "Moore could be Governor for only three years" and that he ought to be Governor "for a lifetime."

Governor Moore said that Philadelphia was "the finest host in the world," praised Mayor Kendrick and said that New Jersey was a great state "as jealous of liberty in 1926 as she was in 1776."

State Treasurer William T. Read, who was to have given a learned address on William Livingston, first Governor of New Jersey, the anniversary of whose inauguration was celebrated Wednesday, said that he had not had time to do the research necessary for the speech and would talk about "our living Governor instead."

He made a long eulogy of Governor Moore and said that "we ought to support our Governor in spite of all party distinctions." Read is a Republican.

Mayor Kendrick said that "the Sequi is the world's greatest exposition," complimented Moore and New Jersey and awarded a medal to Benjamin Tillman Moore, of Atlantic City, winner of the contest conducted by the New Jersey Exchange Club for the best essay written by a schoolboy on the Declaration of Independence.

The speeches were followed by luncheon at 2 o'clock and a reception at three. An afternoon tea and reception was also held by the Governor and his party at 4 o'clock.

OYSTER SEASON

Cool Weather Promotes Brisk Business at Bivalve

Shippers at Bivalve Wednesday of last week said that orders were coming in much more briskly than on any opening day of the season for several years. They attributed that to the cool, brisk weather. The first deck loads of oysters dredged from the beds in the Maurice River cove were quickly floated, graded and shipped off to the markets.

Some eager buyers sent their trucks there for the first oysters of the season and they were rushed into the nearby markets. The larger shipments will go out by rail. Later in the season two oyster trains will go out of there daily. While more of the crews of the three hundred oyster schooners were dredging the opening day in the cove than is usual for the first day of the season, planters and shippers are not expecting the cool weather to last. Accordingly, they will be cautious about the amount of stock taken from the beds, as oysters sour easily and spoil in hot weather.

Hundreds of men have arrived during the last week to man the oyster schooners and to work at the long oyster sheds on either side of the mouth of the Maurice River. There is somewhat of a shortage of good boat hands as many of the experienced hands are still working on the Cumberland County farms where the season for harvesting crops is late this summer. They will turn from the fields to the oyster beds after the first sharp frosts kill remaining vegetable crops and further sharpen the public's appetite for the succulent salts.

NEW PALMYRA BRIDGE APPROVED

Plans for a new bridge to be built across Pensauken Creek near Palmyra, to replace the present bridge, have been approved by the War Department.

The application for permission to build the bridge was filed by the State Highway Commission of New Jersey. The War Department is required to approve plans for all bridges over navigable streams and tributaries.

When the meek inherit the earth, they'll need a lot of help to retain title to it.

Patti's Private Car Now a Bungalow

The private car of Adeline Patti, for years acclaimed the world's greatest songstress, is now a bungalow and perhaps the oldest in the country. A railroad official moved the car to Stockton Springs, Maine, had connection made with the city lighting and water systems, and finds that it makes a wonderful summer home.

Summer YMCA Camp For Boys Prove To Be of Splendid Worth

More Than 3000 Lads From State of New Jersey Enjoyed Benefits of Outdoor Life and Supervised Play

As was prophesied in the early summer the Y. M. C. A. camps for boys have been better attended than ever in the history of camping. Every camp but one has been filled to capacity and in many cases it was necessary to pitch additional tents to provide for the larger number who made application. Over 3,000 different boys were in attendance and the personnel of leadership was stronger than ever.

This summer will go down into history as a summer of dedication, for many impressive and memorable ceremonies were conducted by State, County and City Camps when valuable property and equipment were dedicated to the upbuilding of Christian character among boys.

The Christian citizenship of New Jersey realized more than ever the multiplying influence of the summer camps and have deeded hundreds of acres to the Association for the recreational, educational and religious development of the youth.

The Morristown Association received a well equipped rustic lodge through the generosity of Frederick R. Kellogg for the use of the youth of the community.

Camp Ockanickon, conducted by the joint Committee representing Burlington, Gloucester, Camden and Monmouth Counties dedicated 400 acres located near Medford, to the welfare of youth.

At Camp Wilson the Trenton Association Camp, a massive steel flag staff set in a rubble settee with a bronze tablet was presented by Mrs. Eleanor Terradell Shepard in memory of her brother Russell Terradell and the other Trenton boys killed on the field of honor during the World War.

The formal dedication of the Kilborne Memorial Chapel at the Jersey Boys' Camp at New Wawayanda also took place during the summer. The chapel is beautifully located in the woods of evergreens and oaks with a rock formation as the background of the pulpit. This outdoor cathedral was paid for and constructed by the leaders and boys as a fitting memorial to a pioneer in work with boys and on the pulpit is a bronze tablet bearing the inscription, "In Memory of Charles T. Kilborne, A Friend of Boys" which was unveiled by Donald and Dorothy Kerr of Seoul, Korea, grandchildren of Mr. Kilborne.

Col. BAY BRIDGE REPAIR TO COST $358,000

Expressing surprise and disappointment that an expenditure of $358,000 is now regarded as imperative for the rebuilding of the Toma River-Seaside Heights, Ocean county bridge, the State Highway Commission has deferred final action on the project.

This structure was taken over by the state at a cost of $116,000 only four years ago under legislation directing the freeing of bridges and toll roads and since that time $100,000 has been expended for repairs upon it.

"This impresses me as a gouge upon the state," was the declaration of Commissioner Walter Kidde.

General Hugh L. Scott, chairman of the commission, and Commissioner Abraham Jelin also said that they regretted the necessity of taking the money for this purpose when it could be used for laying concrete on state routes. As the bridge was taken over by a former commission, however, it is the expectation that the money will have to be appropriated for the rebuilding.

The bridge is of the trestle type one and one-half miles in length and Major W. C. Sloan, State Highway engineer, upon the report of Morris Koodkind, bridge engineer, is recommending that it be reconstructed with a roadway twenty-four feet wide and a carrying capacity of twenty tons. Major Sloan ascertained that the piling of the present span had never been properly driven, and it had settled, even during the days of its construction, from the weight of the lumber which had been piled upon it.

The bridge roadway is filled with bumps and resembles a scenic railroad track. The bridge is very dangerous to life and limb. Motorists are compelled to proceed with utmost precaution, as they run a danger of being swerved into the bay.

The Moorestown Senior Club has arranged to have Richard Haliburton present his popular lecture, "The Royal Road to Romance" at the High School Auditorium in Moorestown on October 7th at 8.15 P. M.

Mr. Haliburton is a young American of remarkable ability and originality and his visit to Moorestown will be of interest to the people of Burlington County.

The Presidents of the Business Girls' Clubs of Burlington County met with Miss Sallie Sumner, at her apartment on Ridgeway street, Tuesday evening. Plans for the reorganization of clubs and the County Council of Business Girls were discussed. September and October are the reorganization months on the Association calendar. Judging from the way the business girls are starting their work, this will be the first department of the Y. W. C. A. in action.

Mrs. Edward Harmer, chairman of finance of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A., called a meeting of the committee at her home in Moorestown on Friday afternoon. A policy and plan for the year's work were selected and each member of the committee has been assigned definite work for the year. A study course entitled, "Funds and Friends" will be followed through the year.

The Y. W. C. A. of Willingboro will entertain their mothers at a mother and daughter picnic on John

S. Perkins' lawn, Saturday September 11th from 3 to 7 o'clock. Many interesting activities have been planned for this event and mothers and daughters will have a happy time playing together.

USE MORE WOOL

July Consumption by Mills Increased Over June 1

Raw wool entered into manufacture in the mills of the United States during July reached a total of 38,235,717 pounds, when reduced to grease equivalent, as compared with 35,249,220 pounds in June and with 40,780,356 pounds in July last year, according to the report of the census bureau.

The total quantity of wool consumed by 523 manufacturers reported for July was 32,487,979 pounds, as compared with 32,373,359 pounds in June, and 34,795,712 pounds in July 1925. The consumption shown for July included 25,528,182 pounds in the grease; 4,741,709 pounds of scoured wool, and 2,418,000 pounds of pulled wool.

Of the total consumption in July 51.3 per cent was domestic wool, 54.2 per cent were reported from the New England State; 37.9 per cent from the Middle Atlantic, and 6.9 from the Pacific Coast States.

NEW SPORT ROADSTER BY DODGE BROTHERS

The new sport roadster with rumble seat which is now being displayed in the showrooms of Dodge Brothers dealers everywhere offers an unusual combination of beauty and service. The dashing appearance and smart rakish lines of this new addition to Dodge Brothers line will win the instant admiration of everyone who takes pride in a touch of individuality in the appearance of the car he drives.

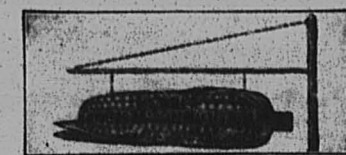

There is a striking contrast between the tan colored top, the brilliant pheasant green lacquer of the body and hood and the lustrous black of the fenders and shields. The highly polished nickel of the bumpers, lamp rims, radiator shell, windshield stanchions and top bow trimming adds a distinctive touch.

The cushion and back of the rumble seat, like the front upholstery, are of hand buffed gray Spanish genuine leather, constructed over spring frames to insure maximum riding ease. The back is high and well pitched. The deck is so constructed that when the seat is folded the rear compartment is absolutely waterproof, even in the rainiest weather.

Exceptional space, easily accessible through a large covered opening behind the driver's seat is provided for carrying golf clubs, tennis rackets, parcels or luggage.

After you buy, the only place where you and your car are not regarded merely as sources of profit is the establishment of the dealer who sold the car to you.

The right kind of dealer regards your satisfaction as one of the assets of his business. And for this reason the wise motorist buys his car from a dealer who is not only disposed, but able, to assume full local responsibility for his satisfaction in ownership.

We take no little pride in the feeling that we fully measure up to this responsibility.

County Farm Agents Give Valuable Suggestions To Our Agriculturists

From the County Farm Bureau
A recent bulletin issued by the United States Department of Agriculture says the per capita apple consumption ranges from two to four apples a week in the United States, and around two apples a week in the British Isles. If such high consumption affords distribution for the huge apple crop grown in the United States each year, increasing the apple consumption by one apple per week per person ought to move the annual crop into consuming channels at such a rapid pace it would remove all chill from the deal and apple distributors always could sleep at night.

Two to four apples a week seems a mighty light supply for any person. There are men, to whom a supply of wood apples is easily available, like they used to be in the old cellar at home, who will eat three or four big apples at night, go to bed and sleep like a child and wake up hungry.

The average American is the best sales prospect in the world. He'll buy anything that is attractively presented to him, and which has real quality, if the price is anywhere within reason. Further, the average American, the salaried man and the wage earner, perhaps is more free with his small change than is the man in the same walk of life in any other country in the world.

This being true, it looks like apple consumption could be increased by at least one apple a week, and a few more apples consumed each week would make a whole of a difference. The Department of Agriculture at Washington says there has been no sustained increase in apple production in 25 years. So it appears that whatever limp is in the trot of the industry could be cured with the ointment of only a little larger consumption.

Grain Moth in Wheat

This is the insect which eats the inside of the grain and leaves a hole where it emerges. Several years ago it was quite numerous in this county and there is more or less of it around nearly every year. The best method of control is by early threshing. When this can be done by September 1st, the third generation which appears about that time will not be able to attack the grain in the stack. It is the later generations that do most of the damage.

After threshing, the grain should be stored in tight bins or bags. If the grain is badly infested it may be fanned and screened, which removes about half the infested grain. Fresh grain should not be exposed to attack by being placed in bins that are already infested.

To kill the moth in the grain after it is stored fumigate with carbon bisulphide. Full directions on the use of this material may be obtained from the County Extension Office, Mount Holly.

What Value Cover Crops?
Beginning in 1921 a demonstration was started at the State Home for Boys at Jamesburg to find out the value of cover crops. Four plots were used. One had a cover of rye on it every winter; another a cover crop of vetch or clover with rye; another no cover crop of any kind; and another no cover crop but liberal application of manure. Market crops were grown every year on these four plots, usually sweet corn. In 1923, after the demonstration had been going two years, yields of sweet corn of the four plots were obtained, and in 1925, after 4 years, yields were again taken.

The result of these two years are given in the following table:

	1923	1925
Rye alone	287lbs	292lbs
Rye and legume mixture	394lbs	299lbs
Check no cover crop	178lbs	175lbs
Manure no cover crop	388lbs	245lbs

It should be stated that all plots were fertilized uniformly each year with both complete goods and with a side dressing of nitrate. There is ample proof in this demonstration that yields may be maintained at a high level with cover crops and fertilizers and without manure.

Using First Year Sweet Clover
Quite a few fields of sweet clover were sown in the county this past spring. These fields may be put to use during the latter part of this season if done carefully.

One method is to pasture the crop. Since the plants have not yet reached their full growth as yet, they should not be pastured closely or the stand of next year will be injured. There is no danger, however, in pasturing the crop from this date on at the rate of one cow to the acre, taking the animals off if they appear to be tramping at too much or eating it too closely.

If not pastured, a cutting of hay may be taken off about September 1st. This cutting is usually not heavy, but it is high quality hay and its removal does not injure the root in the least.

Primrose Fruiting
Professor Blake advises that Primrose, a seedling of Belle crossed with Elberta, will be ripe at the horticultural farm at New Brunswick, the first of next week. Primrose is a large yellow-fleshed freestone of good quality, ripening at New Brunswick just before the middle of Georgia. It is recommended as a variety to replace Belle, and to precede Elberta.

This variety is fruiting at the Del Bay Farms, Bridgeton, for the first time this year, and at that place, in all probability, it will ripen with Elberta.

The oldest trees of the Primrose variety in this county are planted on one of the farms of Lester Collins, Moorestown. These trees were set in the spring of 1924, and they should give us some idea of the ripening season of this variety in this section.

"We boarded the S. S. Minnedosa, for home, and after a short stop in Southampton, were on our way to America. Time has not permitted to tell of the city of Helsingfors or the republic of Finland. The former is one of the cleanest cities that I have ever visited. It has many large buildings, as well as fine homes. The country itself is a growing, prosperous republic. Breaking away from Russia at the time of the revolution in 1917, they were immediately confronted with the necessity of ridding their country of the "Red." That led to a revolution of their own in 1918, the outcome of which was the complete suppression of the "Red" movement in that country. From that time on they have made great progress educationally, industrially and economically. At the present rate of progress, we will hear from Finland in the days to come.

"It was wonderful to visit these countries of the old world, and to see so many wonderful and beautiful things, but as we rolled through the

GIRL HIT BY CAR

Riverside Girl Ran in Front of Virginia Woman's Auto

Emma Snow, 16-year-old Riverside girl, narrowly escaped death Saturday when she was struck by an automobile at the intersection of Burlington Pike and Chester avenue.

Miss Snow was a passenger on the Riverside to Camden bus and alighted from the bus at the crossing. Being in a hurry she ran around the front of the machine and started across the road. A car driven by Mrs. Ruth Mallory, of Norfolk, Virginia, was passing the bus and the girl ran in front of it. Committeeman Charles Krug and Chief Voshell called to investigate. The girl was brought to the Zabrugg hospital, where an examination the doctors said that no bones were broken. Miss Snow was suffering from shock and bruises and was kept at the hospital for observation until Tuesday.

Charges were not preferred against Mrs. Mallory as witnesses present claimed that she was not responsible for the accident. They said that it was impossible for her to keep from striking the girl, as she ran in front of the car when it was only a few feet from her and the car could not have been brought to a stop in time to avoid the accident.

NOT A GOOD YEAR FOR PRESIDENTS

What with "Rudy" Valentino dying, Gertrude Ederle returning home, the Hall-Mills crime being solved in a new way every day and Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney getting ready to annihilate each other in celebration of the Sesqui-Centennial, a mere President does not stand much chance to figure heavily on the first page of the daily newspapers nowadays.—Exchange.

Evans Tells of Trip to Finland

County "Y" Industrial Gives Fine Account of World Conference at Helsingfors

In an excellent address delivered at the weekly dinner-meeting of the Burlington Kiwanis Club last week, D. Stanley Evans, secretary of the organization, told of his trip to Helsingfors, Finland, where he went as a delegate to the nineteenth annual world conference of the Young Men's Christian Association.

Mr. Evans, who is the industrial secretary of the Burlington County Young Men's Christian Association, left Burlington on Thursday, July 15, and arrived in Montreal the next morning where he joined a party of thirty-one delegates from the Middle West. The ages of the young men ran from sixteen years to twenty-one years.

"From Montreal," said Mr. Evans, in his address, "we proceeded to Quebec where we boarded the S. S. Minutroyal, of the Canadian-Pacific Lines sailing about six o'clock in the evening. The scene along the St. Lawrence River was one that almost beggars description. The beautiful low lands, the green hills and the picturesque towns with their grey stone churches and tall spires, was a sight not soon to be forgotten.

Many icebergs
"At Father Point Light we dropped the pilot, and were then on our own until we reached the other side. We passed through Belle Isle Straits on Sunday, the first ship of the season to take that course, and there we saw many icebergs. One that had recently turned over was the most beautiful shade of light blue that one could imagine. As there was no fog, we felt quite safe sailing among the icebergs.

"On the following Friday morning we entered the mouth of the Mersey River, and picked up the pilot. The sun was shining brightly, for the first time since we left the St. Lawrence River. Shortly after eight we docked at Liverpool, and were soon ashore and through the customs.

"While the rest of the party visited interesting points in England, I went to South Wales to see my father's people. While there I was able to get an idea of the status of the coal miner's strike. From what I heard I am led to believe that it will not only be a fight to the finish, but it will mean the men in the various collieries will make separate agreements with the managers. Some think that the men will return to work as soon as cooler weather sets in. Even in the meantime, the producers will lose a large part of their market, due to the fact that so much American coal is now being imported.

Ball for Helsingfors
"Rejoining the party in London, we left for Hull on the afternoon of July 28, and sailed that night for Helsingfors, Finland. We passed through the Kell Canal Thursday evening and Friday morning, July 29 and 30, and were off across the Baltic to our destination. Arriving on Sunday morning, we found an enthusiastic group on the dock to welcome us. We proceeded to headquarters, where we were registered and assigned to our places of lodging, and then we proceeded to settle down for the week.

The first gathering was in one of the city parks, of which there are several in Helsingfors, to be officially welcomed by the representatives of the city. After the addresses of welcome were delivered, we were served ice cream, cake and coffee, and then we had the responses to the addresses of welcome. Judge Adrian Lyon, of Perth Amboy, New Jersey, made the response for the United States.

"At six o'clock in the evening, the opening session of the conference was held in the Johannes Church, attended by the President of the Republic of Finland. Between eight and nine thousand people seemed to be gathered either in or about the church, and when it came time to sing of music arose from the throats of that vast gathering, mostly men, the opening hymn, a great volume in six different languages.

Mott Speaks
"Dr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the National Council of the Young Men's Christian Association in the United States, and afterwards made chairman of the World Committee and president of the conference, delivered the opening address. The program for each day was a devotional service at 8:45 each morning, discussion groups at 9:30 A. M. and 2 P. M., and inspirational addresses in the evening. It was in the discussion groups that the work was done, for each group was made up of representatives from twelve to twenty different countries. The theme was "Youth, and the Christian Way of Life, in a Changing World." Using three languages, English, French and German, this question was discussed from the angle of all the countries represented.

"The closing session of the conference was held in Johannes Church on Friday evening, August 6, followed by an international camp-fire for the boys from twenty different nations present. This was an inspiring occasion, for it brought home to us the fact that if there is to be world peace in the future, we must begin to build world friendships among the youth of today.

"On Saturday afternoon we left for Reval, Esthonia, where we boarded another boat for Stockholm, Sweden. We entered the harbor of Stockholm Sunday morning, and greatly enjoyed the beauty of the scenery as we wound in and out among the islands. We had less than a day in Stockholm, which was a most delightful city, one that we greatly desired to see at close range.

Visits Berlin
"From there we went by rail and ferry to Berlin, where again we were able to see but a small portion of the interesting city. Going from there to Cologne, we got a sleeper to Brussels, where we again had to change for a train to Antwerp. The few hours in that city again led us to believe that we were missing very much by not being able to stay longer.

O'ROURKE HURT

Popular State Trooper in Motorcycle Accident

The popular State trooper "Jimmie" O'Rourke, who was recently transferred from Moorestown to Magnolia, is confined to the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, suffering from injuries received when his motorcycle crashed into an automobile.

The accident occurred on King's Highway, near Ellensburg, Wednesday afternoon of last week while O'Rourke was rushing to answer an emergency call to Lumberton. A few hours previous to the accident O'Rourke figured in saving a woman's life.

About halfway between Ellensburg and Haddonfield, while answering the call enroute from Magnolia barracks, the trooper collided with the car. The machine was being backed into Munn's lane previous to making a turn and the cycle of the officer struck the front wheel.

The impact threw Trooper O'Rourke 30 feet into the air and he landed near a tree, dazed and injured. Dominick Eryskewicz, 1140 Lewis street, was driving the other car, owned by Policeman John Michalak of Camden.

The driver took Trooper O'Rourke to the Haddonfield Emergency Hospital and he later was driven to the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital by Chief Baxter. At the hospital he was reported as suffering from lacerations of the head, which required several stitches. The trooper also received injuries of the thigh and leg.

Chief of Police John Brannin, of Delaware township, notified the state police and held Eryskewicz. The driver was released on his own recognizance.

Earlier in the day, the injured trooper telephoned the Loving Service at Haddonfield for the ambulance to rush Mrs. Elizabeth McCue, of Somerdale to the hospital.

Plattsburg Camp Had Great Season

1700 Youths From All Over County Profited From Military Training

The August Plattsburg Citizens' Military Training Camp is now history. The 1700 youth from all parts of New York State, New Jersey and Delaware, who, for the past month were in training, last Saturday morning scattered to their homes.

The exodus from camp started immediately after breakfast. Shedd their olive drab Army uniforms and stacking the last of their military equipment, the candidates boarded two special trains, shortly after nine o'clock.

A last cheer for the camp and their officers and the C. M. T. C. youths got under way. One of the special trains was routed through to New York City, while the other was to complete its trip at Albany, N. Y.

As the young men journeyed homeward, they carried with them the story of citizens' military training and of the Plattsburg "idea." They return to their parents and families, broadened by contacts made with other young men from a hundred different communities, and better citizens in their home cities and towns for the lessons learned by them during their month here at Plattsburg.

Look Like Soldiers. Their athletics, military bearing and set-up, and clear-eyed, confident assurance, as they boarded the trains for home, told this story for them.

The August Plattsburg Citizens' Military Training Camp was a big success, this year. Colonel John H. Hughes, Inf. U. S. A., camp commandant and also of the Post, declared that the training period just completed, was one of the most satisfactory since the inauguration of the camps at the close of the World War.

"I am gratified," Colonel Hughes said, "The candidates did well, in fact, splendidly. It has been one of the best camps in years."

Perhaps two hundred of the candidates made the journey to their homes by automobile, many of these driving all manner and makes of motors that they had brought with them to camp.

Camp was humming with activity Saturday morning before the call. Enthusiasm with the thought of "home," the candidates awakened early, and set about breaking camp of their own accord, and on their own initiative. Olive drab uniforms were shifted and neatly folded, bedding piled in orderly stacks at the head of each company street.

Many Farewells. First call and reveille sounded; a few minutes later, "chow" call, and then all trooped away for breakfast. The last meal in camp.

The candidates, with this over, hurried to company streets, finished final packing to be done, and then gathered to bid goodbye to their officers and the Regular Army non-commissioned officers, assigned to their companies as instructors. Speeches were made. There was much cheering. Then everyone leaving by train, marched out of camp, carrying bags.

Swinging out of their company streets in the Pine Grove back of the Post, to the trains placed on a siding about two hundred yards away, the CMTC candidates, even in their civilian dress and informally carrying their bags, showed the official officers of their month training out in the open. All were tanned. Faces had a healthy look to them. And the lusty cheers for those left behind could not mean anything but a healthy spirit and body.

Colonel Hughes reports the August CMTC made amazing progress in its training program. The CMTC candidates were doing remarkably well in their drill, and caught onto the spirit of the training, he said, within a very few days of their entrance to camp. The youths had hardly been in camp a week when they went out for parade, marching and counter-marching like veterans.

Target Shooting. On the target range the shooting of the candidates was above average. Many of the youths made record scores, while hundreds qualified for marksmanship, sharpshooter's and expert's medals. Three and four hours of sports and athletics, the greater part of which was voluntary with the individual candidate, through the past month, built up the young men into sturdy, physical specimens, and sent them all home, greatly benefited, by their stay in camp.

Statistics on the physical condition of the candidates, who left Saturday, given out by the medical staff of camp, state that on an average each youth here for the past month, under the well rounded program of sports, exercise, regular hours and good food and plenty of this latter, gained for 3 1/2 to 4 pounds during his stay. Many candidates who came to camp underweight were built up during the month while others, much overweight were benefitted, and trained down during the camp.

The medical officers also report that during the month there was not one case of a serious illness among the CMTC candidates. Before any of the young men were permitted to leave, all were examined by the doctors and records taken of their physical condition.

During Friday morning, Colonel Hughes, camp commandant, at a review of the entire Citizens' Military Training camp regiment, presented the winners of the various sport events during the past month, and the candidates, recognized for their fine drill, discipline and shooting, with several severe medals. The New York City Rotary Club was present for the ceremony, and also the Civilian Club, of New York City, both donors of many of the medals.

The Twenty-sixth Infantry, U. S. A., stationed here at Plattsburg Barracks, this year, as in others, was charged with the training of the Citizens' Military Training Camp candidates. Company officers from the Regulars commanded the CMTC companies; the staff personnel directed the training program, excepting in a few extra-military activities, and the non-commissioned and enlisted personnel of the 26th Infantry, acted as instructors to the candidates.

Much credit for the showing made by this last camp here at Plattsburg, deservedly should go to those tireless and conscientious Army men. The good record of the camp reflected creditably upon the entire 26th Regiment.

ment. The old Pine Grove, with the candidates gone, is now deserted. Tent canvas stands, flapping in the breeze. It will come down soon. The tramp of hundreds of marching feet possessed by youthful, eager young men, no longer are deadened by the soft pine needles of the camp area. But it has been thus since 1918.

Here at Plattsburg Barracks the "Plattsburg idea" was born twelve summers ago, the first of the training camps was held; and since that day, each year has seen a new training camp come and go. Veterans know the old Pine Grove, thousands of CMTC boys have gotten their first taste of military training here. For many it holds many pleasant memories, and for all it has been the cradle of a new and finer citizenship, in the lessons learned from duty and discipline.

TRYING TO CHECK CUTTING OF TREES

U. S. Government to Have Trenton Fair Display on Value of Woodland.

"We cut our forests four times as fast as they grow. This is the warning the United States Department of Agriculture is planning to effectively give by an exhibit at the Trenton Fair during the week of September 27 to October 2. Located as it is in the center of the great metropolitan area, the approaching Trenton Exposition was chosen by the Federal representatives as an exceptional opportunity to convey helpful information to a large percentage of visitors in the event. The Fair has a weekly attendance in excess of 250,000 persons and as they fill practically every vacation in life it is hoped by the Department of Agriculture that the lesson for trade will prove beneficial.

In a section of the Grand Stand Building a scenic pictorial booth is to be set up showing the progress of forest destruction in the United States, the causes, the results and some of the remedies. One of the outstanding contrasts is that giving progress of one tree growing while four others are being cut.

"Although the ratio between growth and harvest is somewhat disheartening," the Department of Agriculture points out, "there is a note of encouragement in the assurance that new growth will grow if we give the trees a chance to start and if we protect them from fire until they mature. Nature will replace the trees we require to supply our economic needs if we properly care for the forests while harvesting our periodic crops. The present problem has been created by complacent short-sightedness and can be solved only by a radical change in public attitude."

The suggestions which are given to increase the output of lumber are: Make your idle forest land work, treat your timber as a crop and prevent the burning of your woods.

As an incentive for better achievement, the benefits of forests are described as: An aid to industries, the encouragement of transportation movement, a contribution to the development of communities and the welfare of the nation.

During the Exposition suggestions will be made to those interested in forestry and information disseminated as to the procuring of relative literature, and the Report of the Senate Committee on Reformation.

If you want something out of the ordinary in printing we shall be very glad to go over the matter with you. We may have some suggestions that will help. Telephone New Era office, Riverton 712, and our representative will call.

LIVE STOCK SHOW JUDGES SELECTED

Special Awards Will Be Made by Association at the Trenton Exposition.

Judges have been named for the Live Stock Department of the Trenton Fair and the dates selected for the showing in the Coliseum which is expected to be the largest in many years. The exposition will be held this season from September 27 to October 2 and Colonel Mahlon H. Margorum, the secretary, has announced that applications for entries of cattle, sheep and swine exceed those previously received.

Professor J. W. Bartlett of the Experiment Station at New Brunswick is superintendent of the live stock; W. M. Nelson, Jr., of the Experiment Station, superintendent of the dairy beef and cattle, and W. C. Shelley, of the Experiment Station, superintendent of sheep and swine.

In the program for Thursday, September 28, John Cochran of Haverburg, N. J., will judge the Ayrshires; H. L. Garlick of Storrs, Conn., the Beef Shorthorns and Aberdeen Angus; H. H. Haver of State College, Pa., the Berkshires, Poland Chinas and Spotted Poland Chinas. Wednesday, September 29, G. O. White of Storrs, Conn., will judge the Jerseys; George M. White of Coxsackie, N. Y., the Guernseys; H. L. Garlick of Storrs, Conn., the Herefords; W. J. Britts of Galatin, Tenn., the Duroc Jerseys and Chester Whites. Ward Stevens of Syracuse, N. Y., will judge the Holsteins on Thursday, September 30; H. L. Garlick, of Storrs, Conn., the Milking Shorthorns; H. H. Haver, of State College, Pa., the Hampshire Swine; Arthur Janks, of Allamuchy, N. J., the Sheep.

Catalogues have been issued listing the money premiums which will be awarded by the Fair Association and the organizations especially interested in the different classes. Among those who are placing special awards are the American Shorthorn Breeders' Association for breeding and stock classes; the American Hereford Association for Hereford classes; the Holstein-Friesian Association of America for Holstein-Friesians; the American Oxforddun Record Association for Oxforddun sheep; the Chester White Swine Record Association and the New Jersey Berkshire Association.

The classes in the Live Stock Department number 652 and the catalogue which has been issued is larger than the general premium list of many other fairs. As Trenton is in the center of a rich agricultural section the exhibitors at the Fair have opportunities to come in contact with a large purchasing public and large sales of surplus stock are made on the grounds each year.

PASTOR FALLS DEAD

Stricken with heart disease during the celebration of the forty-third anniversary of his church on Sunday of last week, the Rev. Harry J. Holmann, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Sea Isle City, returned to pronounce the benediction over his congregation and died a few minutes later.

Mr. Holmann, who was in his seventy-first year, was stricken shortly after Dr. P. Kulp began the anniversary sermon. Quickly he left the church by the rear door, telling no one of his condition, and visited Dr. C. W. Way, his physician.

"Go right home to bed and remain quiet," Dr. Way told the pastor. Instead, Dr. Holmann returned to his church, resumed his seat until the conclusion of Dr. Kulp's sermon, and then brought to a conclusion with the benediction.

GIFTS FOR THE TABERNACLE

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 25:1-9.
GOLDEN TEXT—Honor the Lord with thy substance and of the first fruits of thy increase.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Gifts for God's House.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Willing Gifts to God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
Liberality in Giving.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Generous and Systematic Giving.

I. What the Tabernacle Was.

It was a rectangular structure 30 cubits long, 10 cubits wide and 10 cubits high. This was divided into two rooms, the holy place and the holy of holies. The two rooms were separated by the veil. The tabernacle was within a court 100 cubits long and 50 cubits wide. Within the court, before the door of the tabernacle, was situated the brazen altar. Between the altar of sacrifice and the door of the tabernacle was placed the laver. Inside of the holy place was found the candlestick and also the table of shewbread. Directly in front of the veil was found the altar of incense. The altar of incense was closely connected with the brazen altar in the contact of fire and blood. In the holy of holies was found the ark of the covenant, the most sacred object of the entire tabernacle. This ark contained the table of stone, the pot of manna and Aaron's rod that budded.

II. The Meaning of the Tabernacle.
The tabernacle was the symbol of God's dwelling place. This tabernacle typified the incarnation of God in Christ. John says that the Word became flesh and tabernacled among us (John 1:14). The furniture of the tabernacle, beginning with the brazen altar symbolizes the spiritual history of the worshiper, making clear the sinners' method of approach unto God. The position of the brazen altar at the door of the tabernacle indicated that no one could draw nigh to God without going by the way of the altar. The question of sin must be met before man dares approach God. The laver typifies the sanctification of the believer. The sacrifice at the brazen altar signified atonement. The altitudes of the laver prefigured sanctification. Atonement was made by the sacrificial death of Christ. Sanctification was effected by the washing at the laver, prefiguring the influence of God's Word, His ordinances and the operation of the Holy Spirit. The candlestick, with its central shaft and its extending branches indicated the unity and diversity of God's people. The candlestick also shows the purpose of the sanctification of the believer, namely, to shine for God. The table of shewbread was for a memorial unto God of His chosen people, one loaf for each tribe. What the bread was for Israel, Jesus Christ is to the church. The altar of incense symbolized communion with God in worship. The putting of the blood from the brazen altar on the altar of incense shows that acceptable prayer rests on the ground of the atoning work of Christ. The veil symbolized the flesh of Christ. The rending of the veil at the time of Christ's crucifixion shows that the death of Christ gives access to God. The mercy seat upon which the blood of the sin offering was sprinkled indicates that the claim of God's law had been satisfied.

III. The Offerings of the Tabernacle.

1. The motive of giving (v. 1).

"Whoever is of a willing heart, let him bring it, an offering of the Lord." Giving which meets God's approval must spring from the heart. The offering must not only be made of a willing mind but it must be as unto the Lord, an expression of love and godly fear.

2. Who had part in giving (v. 2).

"They are, both men and women." It was God's purpose from the beginning that women should unite in the support and care of the worship of God.

3. What was to be given (vv. 25-28).

Under this heading two interesting things stand out—measure and variety.

(1) Measure. They brought what they had to bring.

No one is under obligation to give that which he does not possess. Capacity in the measure of responsibility.

(2) Variety.

Some brought jewelry (v. 22); some brought gold (v. 22); some brought fine linen (v. 28); some brought goat's hair and rough skin (v. 23); wise-hearted women did spin with their hands (v. 25); the rulers brought the expensive things that were needed (v. 27). This shows what a variety of things are needed in the Lord's house.

Sentence Prayer

O God, we come into Thy presence and confess the many sins we have been guilty of, and we pray that Thou wilt forgive them all.

The Only Safeguard

The only safeguard against error is a full knowledge of Christ.—The Gospel Minister.

Unselfish Prayer

God loves an unselfish prayer.—Hoshea.

The ordinary fellow does a number of good things during his lifetime, but people don't make much fuss about 'em until he dies.

This is a world of extremes; you must be either on your toes or on your back.

Burlington Indifferent Toward Its Famous Historical Figures

No Real Tribute Paid Captain James Lawrence, Boudinot, Bradford, Talbot, and Other Great Men of Old Days, Charges Newspaper

The Burlington Enterprise, in a recent issue, laments the fact that its people seem highly indifferent toward paying tribute to its famous figures whose deeds help make up early American history. The article follows:

Up to the present time only a few people have spoken favorably of the suggestion that a statue of Captain James Lawrence be erected in this city, and one cannot help wondering whether the residents of the town are indifferent to the heroic role played by the Burlington boy in the War of 1812.

True it is that nobody has spoken against the suggestion which might lead to the belief that they have given little or no thought. This, if the conjecture is correct, is to be deplored, for Lawrence is a historical figure that should stand out prominently in all the years to come.

Boudinot Forgotten.

There is a fear that the Burlington people do not place the proper value on the importance of the men who did big things in this city in the days long gone. For instance, we never hear of Elias Boudinot except when reference is made to the school that is named for him, and yet Boudinot was the president of the first congress and as the president of the United States. Recently attention was called to the first presidency of Boudinot by a resident of New York city.

And then there was William Bradford, Washington's attorney general, who lies in St. Mary's Churchyard, almost forgotten by people who should pay tribute to his memory as a Burlingtonian. Somewhere beneath the Old St. Mary's Church or in the churchyard also lies John Talbot, the first bishop of America, who but for the splendid work of the late George Morgan Hills, D. D., rector of St. Mary's Church, might never have gotten the credit that was due him.

Besides these there were Samuel Smith, the historian; James Fenimore Cooper, the novelist; Stephen Grellett, the educator, and dozens of others who played great parts in the earlier days and gave Burlington a place in history.

No Statues

Despite the greatness of the men in question, despite the things they did to make their home town great, there is not a statue of any of them in this city today. And except in two cases there are no tablets telling where they were born or where they lived. The exception are the James Fenimore Cooper House and the Captain James Lawrence House, High street, which were marked by the Chamber of Commerce three or four years ago.

Only one other tablet may be found in the town, that on the surveyor-general's office of the West Jersey Proprietors, West Broad street. The tablet was placed there by the New Jersey Board of Pensions on a historical pilgrimage to this city. Think of permitting a Pennsylvania organization to perform a duty that obviously was ours.

Historically rich.

Others towns jump at an opportunity to erect statues to celebrated people, while Burlington more rich in historical atmosphere than any of them indifferently let the opportunity pass.

Picked Up About the County and State

The Hammonton Board of Education took an unusual step in voting to postpone the opening of all classes in the Hammonton High School from September 7 to September 15. It was suggested that the board postpone the opening of the schools, so hundreds of the pupils might assist the groves in picking the great crop of peaches which has ripened unusually late this year. The board voted to open the other schools on the date originally designated, but postponed the opening of the high school.

Statistics compiled by Dr. M. W. Twitchell, assistant state geologist, in relation to the output of mineral industries of South Jersey in 1924, show that the sand and gravel output of Burlington county was 571,234 tons, valued at $682,705. The five counties in this section of the State mining and selling raw clay were Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Ocean and Salem. All of the marl was produced by Burlington county. This county led in the production of building sand, paving sand, engine sand and building gravel. Cumberland led in molding sand and glass sand, and Cape May led in filter sand.

The Mount Holly Theatre began operating under the direction of the Mount Holly Company of America on Labor Day. The new change in management, but there is to be a great improvement in the pictures to be shown. Elizabeth Yoder, thirteen years old, of Glenolden, Pa., was drowned in a lake near Brown's Mills Monday night of last week while in bathing with several companions. She had gone into deep water beyond other bathers and went down for a third time before lifeguards were able to reach her. Her body was recovered a short time later.

The swimming pool at the Camden Yacht Women's Christian Association, Stevens street near Broadway has opened after it being closed two weeks to undergo complete renovation. A new plumbing system has been installed and the tank now is one of the finest of its kind in this section of the State.

Two motorists adjudged guilty of driving while intoxicated, along with 33 others, were permanently deprived of licenses by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill Wednesday of last week.

REUNION

Members of This Section Will Attend Gathering of State Sanatorium

Preparations are being made for the fifth annual reunion of patients, nurses, social workers and others interested in the State Sanatorium which will take place at Glen Gardner on Saturday, September 11. Prominent speakers will be present.

A general invitation has been extended to join the reunion. Those who intend going should notify Dr. S. B. English at Glen Gardner. A train will be taken from Trenton at 9:25. There is a fine automobile road to the institution. It is expected that a number of people from this section, members of the Burlington County Tuberculosis Society, will attend the reunion.

Advertising is the education of the public as to who you are, where you are, and what you have to offer in the way of skill, talent or commodity. The only man who should not advertise is the man who has nothing to offer the world in the way of commodity or service.—Elbert Hubbard.

Many Accidents In Auto Traffic

Damage To Machines Is Chief Result of Labor Day Crashes

Moorestown was the witness of three auto crashes Labor Day and although the human toll did not mount up, as it did in many sections of the country, bumper fenders, headlights and tire carriers were the chief sufferers.

Monday afternoon an auto driven by Mrs. John Moore, of 112 Spruce Street, Audubon, piled into the rear of a machine driven by Oscar L. Gordy, from Florida, on Main street just about Union. Gordy was forced to jam on his brakes when a car in front suddenly slowed up to turn in a driveway. The Florida car suffered bent fenders while the Audubon auto received a punctured radiator. Officer Frank Bolton was called on the scene. Arrests were not necessary, as the parties agreed to settle for the damages out of court.

Another crash occurred Monday afternoon when an auto driving out of the Water Works Park driveway was hit by a machine coming down Haddonfield Road. Reports had it that four persons lost their life in the collision, but in reality only one woman fainted. Both autos received bent fenders.

Monday evening, Gus Scarmallo, of 539 West Fifth Street, New York, was fined $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace Walter C. Middleton after he piled into a machine driven by W. F. Baxter, of East Main street.

Scarmallo was passing Baxter when the wheel of his machine caught in the trolley tracks. In an effort to get out of the tracks, his machine skidded on the slippery road, turned completely around. The bumper of the Baxter machine was ruined while the rear mud guard and tire carrier were damaged and the two back tires were ripped from the wheels of the New Yorker's auto.

The accident occurred at Main and Union streets. The arrest was made by officer Ralph Marks.

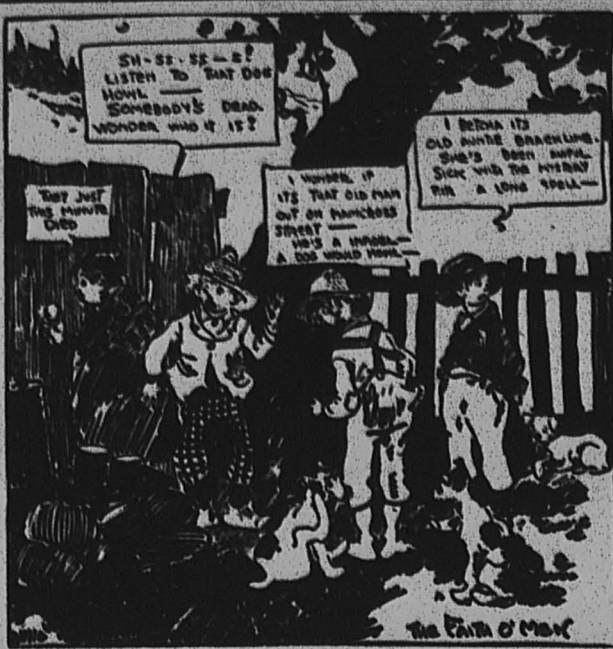

WIFE DESERTER

Moorestown Man, Behind in Payments, Is Arrested

William Herbert Mackintosh, of Moorestown, at a hearing before Justice of the Peace Harry Wolf in Moorestown Town Hall Friday was committed to the Burlington County Jail at Mount Holly in default of payment of $180 for the support of his wife and three children.

Mackintosh, who has been sought by the local police for some time, was arrested near Trenton by

SCHOOL DAYS

Chief of Police John Bradshaw, who was accompanied by Recorder Wolf, Thursday night, and brought back to Moorestown for trial.

About a year ago the offender was arrested for non-support. After spending a few months in jail, he prevailed upon the authorities to release him and was ordered to pay $3.00 a week toward the support of his family.

He left an old broken-down automobile as security for the first few weeks' payment while he obtained employment. Immediately after his release, he disappeared, and the sale of the auto only brought a few dollars and at the time of his arrest last week he was $150 behind in his payments.

The local police obtained a clue to his whereabouts early last week. Thursday evening, with the assistance of detectives from Trenton police department, they learned that Mackintosh's boarding place was just beyond the Trenton line. Accompanied by a member of the Hamilton Township police department they descended upon the boarding house and took the deserter into custody.

The weather prophet who said we wouldn't have any warm weather this summer is now getting ready to predict a mild, open winter.

PEIRCE SCHOOL BUSY

Registration Is Largest in History of Institution

That the new generation has the vision of America's Commercial supremacy is indicated by the crowds which besieged the Pierce School of Business Administration in Philadelphia on the opening of the 62nd year of that school Tuesday.

Future business leaders were there with all kinds of parchments from the Grammar school certificate to the University diploma. They came, too, from many foreign countries to study American business customs.

The registration of new students was the largest in the history of the school. The registrar was unable to give the exact number enrolled for the different courses, but reports that the largest enrollment is for the longer college grade courses indicating that both young men and women realize that thorough training will be necessary for the ever increasing intricacies of business procedure.

H. E. Bartow, Registrar.

Why don't they improve the detours a bit before closing up the main roads for repairs?—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Al LeConey Wins Dash at Sesqui

Moorestown Fleet-footed Athlete Again Shows Heels To Rivals

Al LeConey, Moorestown's famous athlete, gave a remarkable exhibition in the century event when he won the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds in the Middle Atlantic States track and field championships at the Sesqui-Centennial Saturday, Al, although pitted against one of the best fields America could produce, was quick to leave the pack far in the rear and took things easily during the last half of the race. Several sports authorities declare he could have done the century in much less time if he had been pushed or had felt the inclination to run against "time."

Al started off like a bullet and pulled away from the rest of his competitors from the beginning. At the half-way mark, he looked back and saw that he was enjoying a big lead over the field, so took things easy over the last fifty yard stretch.

May Retire Soon

Charley Rogers, the University of Pennsylvania football star, who also ran in the championships, placing second in the quarter mile, in a recent article said Al may never run again. Al could not be located to verify this statement, but his father, who, although he declared he had not heard of it, said Al's retirement at any time would not surprise him.

Pressure of business makes it almost impossible for Al to train properly, and without being in proper condition, track work is liable to prove ruinous to the runner.

health, declared Mr. LeConey. Despite his spectacular performance, Al had not trained for the Middle Atlantic States. In fact, he has only run twice since the Fourth of July and as late as Thursday of last week the former king of the sprinters was suffering with a heavy cold, which made it almost impossible for him to speak.

What Rogers Says

Rogers' tribute to Al follows: This race may be LeConey's last. He declares that he may not put on another pair of spiked shoes, as he feels that he has had enough of the cinder path. The passing of LeConey will be marked by regret on the part of every track fan in the country.

"During the last four or five years he has been one of the most prominent sprinters in the world, and at one time was premier of them all. His records will stand long after he hangs his shoes on the wall of his den and it will be a long time before his deeds are forgotten."

"Moorestown is proud of its fleet-footed son and on a number of occasions has honored him for the brilliant feats he has performed. Now that he is about to pass out of active competition there will be many to lament the fact in the town."

"LeConey has not gone back. With a little practice he could be just as fast as ever, and if he wanted to he could easily make the next Olympic team. Al states that his business is taking more and more of his time, however, and he declared that this season is likely to be his last."

"This section has boasted of many sterling athletes in its day but a cleaner, and more versatile performer than LeConey has never been known to South Jersey. Al LeConey will be missed if he retires."

The Russian government made the Russian ruble out of platinum in 1828.

TRUCK RUNS WILD

Trees and Lawn of Edward Woodward's Property Damaged

A truck, driven by Harry J. Trullit, of Seaford, Del., ripped up the lawn in front of the residence of Edward Woodward, Chester avenue, Moorestown, Thursday morning of last week when the steering gear became locked and the driver lost control of the heavy machine.

The truck was headed into Chester avenue, coming off Bridgeboro Road, when the faulty apparatus threw the machine out of control. It skidded and ran up on the Woodward lawn, tearing the side of the body from the truck chassis, ripping considerable bark from a fine old tree and playing havoc with the well-kept grass. Trullit, who told the police he is insured against such accidents, posted $100 security for appearance at a later date when he is to make good for the damages to the Woodward property.

JEWEL PAD INVITES THEFT

A new British fad, of wearing necklaces with strings hanging down the back, is viewed with alarm by Scotland Yard. Detectives assert that precious stones are thus offered temptingly to the thief, who can snatch them much more safely than when worn in the regulation manner with the strings of jewels at body from the neck, rippling the front.—Minneapolis Tribune.

USED CARS

Don't Get the Idea That Nobody Wants 'em

Lots of fine used automobiles come into the market because of conditions which have nothing whatever to do with the car. Don't think that used cars are discarded cars that have failed to give satisfaction to their first owners. That's far from being the case with the ones we are offering. For example:

Studebaker, 7-Pass. Touring, 1922. Has had exceptional care and shows it. Good rubber, paint good, mechanical condition excellent.

N. J. Copper Ore Not Radio Active

Scientists Discredit Rumor That State Has Source of Radium

Rumors that the ore in the old copper mine in the vicinity of Flemington, Griggstown and Somerville is radio active and that there are possibilities of producing radium from it were discredited by Dr. Henry Kummel, State Geologist. Dr. Kummel after investigation and laboratory tests, is sure, it is stated, that there is no basis for this belief.

"So far as I have been able to learn there is no evidence to support the rumor that the ore in the Jersey's copper mines is radio active and the possibility for the production of radium from this ore is very doubtful," Dr. Kummel declared in answer to inquiries on the subject.

"Specimens of the mineral have been submitted to me for my opinion and after careful investigation and laboratory tests, I have failed to discover one that shows the slightest evidence of being radio active."

"The test is a simple one. Place a coin on a plate holder, containing an ordinary, unexpected photographic plate, on the coin place the mineral to be tested, wrap them in some light-proof material and let them stand for a period of two or three days.

"At the termination of this time, develop the plate. If the mineral contains radio activity, the outline of the coin will appear as a white disc on the negative with the surrounding surface black or cloudy."

"There are, however, certain specimens or minerals that when brought in direct contact with the coin create an electrochemical action that will produce the outline of the coin as a black disc on the negative and the surrounding surface will appear white. This is reverse to the effect of the rays of radio active minerals and is an error that has led many to honestly believe that they have discovered radium-bearing ore."

"This error may be avoided by insulating the mineral from the coin by placing a clear piece of glass between them. If the mineral is radio active, the coin will appear as a white disc on the negative, despite the fact that they have been separated by the glass. Otherwise the plate will develop the same as any other unexpected negative."

When queried as to the possibilities of New Jersey's copper mines being a profitable venture Dr. Kummel replied "Since early in the eighteenth century, the copper deposits of New Jersey have attracted more or less attention, and have been the object of repeated attempts to mine and smelt them. In the early days some of these efforts were quite successful for the times; but for seventy years, at least, they have had to disappoint and failure. In the aggregate probably much more money has been sunk in them than has been taken out."

REVISE BLUE LAWS IS CONVENTION PLAN

Commission to Draft Amendments and Repealers to Old Acts

Revision of the ancient New Jersey "blue laws" to suit modern requirements, will be undertaken within a few weeks by a commission of the State legislature.

With $500 to spend in gathering evidence, the commission will undertake an investigation and draft amendments and repealers to the old laws, in order to eliminate the famous "Vice and Immorality Act" of 1854, the archaic and unenforceable provisions in the act.

Proponents of Sunday baseball are in the approaching opening of the commission's work an opportunity to present a plea for elimination of that section of the law which prevents the playing of wholesome sport on the Sabbath. They intend to point out to the body the need of drafting a law which will meet modern customs and also will be enforceable in all cities of the State.

The commission is composed of Senator Henry A. Williams, Republican, of Paterson, who introduced the resolution for appointment of the board; Senator David H. Agass, Democrat, of Hightstown; Senator A. Crozer Reeves, Republican, of Trenton; Assemblyman Ralph W. Chandlee, Republican, of Bergen; speaker of the House; Assemblyman Albert Comstock, Republican, of Paterson, and Assemblyman May M. Carty, Democrat, Jersey City.

COMBINE OF B. of A.

Independent and Main Orders To Unite at Masonville Annual Session

It is expected that a proposition will be carried at this year's annual convention of the Brotherhood of America, which will be held at Masonville beginning September 20 and lasting until all business has been concluded, whereby the Grand Circle of New Jersey, operating as an independent body, will become reunited with the main order from which it seceded in 1914.

Committees representing the national organization, together with other committees representing the Grand Circle of New Jersey, have been in conference for a couple of days with that end in view, inasmuch as an agreement has been reached between the two, there is apparently nothing standing in the way and nothing is needed but the formal reorganization, as the local circles have ratified the agreement.

If such an action takes place, as there seems every reason to believe, it is confidently expected that it will have a wholesome effect upon the order, which has been more or less dormant since 1914, when the present Grand Circle of New Jersey formally seceded from the main body and set up an independent order, having under its jurisdiction most of the largest and thriving circles in the State, including one in Masonville; one in Pemberton, one in Mount Holly, one in Burlington, three in Trenton, three in Camden, one each in Berlin and Vineland, one in Atlantic City, besides several in Pennsylvania which left the Grand Circle of that State and became affiliated with the independent body.

County News of Fifty Years Ago

Interesting Items Published in the Mt. Holly Mirror During Centennial Year

Following are some items published in the Mount Holly Mirror fifty years ago.

Edward Busby, of Woodland, has received a patent for a cranberry separator; and S. Semple & Sons, of Mount Holly, for a trade mark for wool cotton and thread.

The H. B. Smith Military Band gave a concert at Smith's forest, Smithville, on Saturday afternoon and night that was a great success. There was a large attendance and the fine music was much appreciated.

Mount Holly's concert hall or opera house was opened last night under favorable auspices. The entertainment was exceptionally pleasing and amusing. Miss Julia Snyder was especially pleasing in her rendition of the Star Spangled Banner, which was the opening selection; Sam Hemple, of the Walnut Street Theatre, Philadelphia, as Seth Swamp in Our Country's Flag, and Cousin Joe, in the Rough Diamond, were received with shouts of laughter. The same company will appear tonight in an entire change of program.

A citizen who was seen pacing the distance between the new opera house and the Arcade and Washington hotels, on Main street, Mount Holly, yesterday, when asked the object of his efforts, said he wanted to determine which hotel is nearest the theatre, to save time when getting drinks between the acts.

New Jersey Day at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, was well attended, not less than 25,000 of our people being present. Governor Bedle with his staff arrived at about 11:30 and were received by a committee of distinguished Philadelphians. The orator of the day was Hon. Abm. Browning, of Camden, who told about the increase of population in New Jersey, its wealth and resources.

For President, Rutherford B. Hayes, of Ohio; for Vice President, William A. Wheeler, of New York. Vote that ticket and you will be doing your duty to your country.

Mount Holly family market prices: Butter, 35c; lard, 18c; eggs, 30c; corn, 12c; sugar, 12c; cantaloupes, 5c; watermelons, 10c to 25c; best rib roast beef, 25c; sirloin steak, best, 25c; chickens, 25c and 28c; wheat flour, $3.75 cwt.

Howard White, son of Barclay White, of Mount Holly, has been appointed Indian agent at the Southern Ute agency in Colorado.

The annual census of children between the ages of 5 and 16 in the Mount Holly school district, taken by the district clerk, shows a total of 1,181.

At a meeting of the Historical Society, of Mount Holly, Saturday, the librarian reported the whole number of books in the library to be 1,125. Books taken out during August, 749.

The annual excursion of the Riverton Yacht Club took place on Saturday. The yachts started from Riverton at about eleven o'clock under command of Commodore E. H. Ogden and proceeded up the river to a point opposite Delanco, where they came to anchor.

fresh wind caused double reefing of sails. The party landed at the grove at Delanco, where a sumptuous repast was served. The fleet returned to Riverton at about six o'clock. Everybody had a good time.

Benjamin Rudderow, 50 years of age, farmer near Merchantville, committed suicide on Sunday by hanging himself because he had been rejected in a marriage proposal made to a lady, aged 35, Saturday night. Mr. Rudderow was despondent because he had been turned down in his initial effort at getting married. He owned the farm upon which he was living and accumulating a respectable bank balance. The affair caused the greatest interest and excitement. No one doubts the reason, as he was seen on his knees pleading his cause the previous night. It is said the lady is sorry now that she refused his offer.

The annual meeting of the Board of Assessors of the county was held at the court house on Monday. Joseph Abbott, of New Hanover, was elected chairman. The total of real and personal valuations in the county was reported to be $27,278,238, a gain of about $55,000 over last year. It was ordered that $50,000 should be added to the assessment of Pierre Lorillard, owner of the Rancocas stock farm in Springfield township. It was reported that the budget of the Board of Freeholders was $225,000 for the year. The county tax, including State and State school was fixed at 51 1/2 cents, a decrease of about 3 cents over last year.

The elder presses at Evanville are running at full capacity. Mr. Evan will distill but little of his elder, having made a contract to ship most of it to Washington for vinegar.

Col. C. M. Sloan is giving attention to military matters but is not neglecting his insurance business. Delays are dangerous, he says, get insured at once. A man about your size and age died the other day, he reports.

Costume Jewelry Trends to Elaborate Designing

Fashion's latest sensation registers in the form of a jewelry ensemble which matches the earrings to the elaborate pendant necklace. Just how strikingly beautiful such a composite set can be is told in this picture of lovely Estelle Clark, whose success on the screen has been no flattery. The necklace which she wears is of antique Florentine workmanship, each pendant, with matching earrings, being exquisitely wrought in gold filigree—and the best of it all is that this beautiful ensemble was a gift from Estelle's father, who brought it to her from Venice, Italy.

Language Purist Had Something to Learn

"It looks like rain."

"What? What does?"

"The weather."

"The weather, my dear sir, is a condition. Rain is water in the act of falling from the clouds. It is impossible that they should look alike."

"What I meant was that the sky looked like rain."

"Equally impossible. The sky is the blue vault above us—the seeming arch by dome that we mistakenly call the heavens. It does not resemble falling water in the least."

"Well, then, if you're so blamed particular, it looks as if it would rain."

"As if what would rain?"

"The weather, of course."

"The weather, as I said before, being a condition, cannot rain."

"The clouds then, hang you!"

"Ah, here it comes. And I have wasted so much time in talking to you that I shall get wet to the skin before I can reach my street car."

"I may not know so much about rain as you do, but I've got sense enough to prepare for it and you haven't," said the other as he raised his umbrella and walked off in a huff.

Ideal Lunch Company

Winnowed Down to Two

Stephen Leacock, in his book, "Winnowed Wisdom," indulges in these philosophical remarks: "A hundred men is too many. A group of fifty would be better. As a matter of fact, a more compact luncheon of, say, twenty would be better still. Twenty men around a table can all converse, they can feel themselves in actual personal contact with one another. With twenty men, or say, fifteen men, you feel you are among a group of friends. In fact, I am not sure but that ten or eight would be a cozier crowd still. You get eight or six men together and you really exchange ideas. You get a real mental friction with six men that you can't get with a larger number. And moreover with six, or four, men sitting down like this day after day you get to know one another and in point of service and comfort there is no comparison. You can have a luncheon served for four, or three, men that is really worth eating. As a matter of fact, if it comes to that, two is a better number still. Indeed the more I think of it the better I like two—myself and a darned good waiter."

"Kicking" Habits Strong

The tendency to kick on the part of a few suggests the chronic kicker and not the philosopher.

This chronic kicking can be better illustrated by a little story. A man was led to the electric chair. Before he was seated he was asked: "Is there anything you would like to say before the death sentence is carried out?"

"Yes, there is," he answered with that surtiness that comes from chronic kicking. "The man I killed for kicking my dog for biting him ought to be shot. My lawyer was a crook and it took three appeals and two reviews to break me. When I came here I thought I would get decent treatment, but you gave me a bed with bum springs, and the food has been force, and," pointing to the electric chair, "and," pointing to the electric chair, "I'll bet that a— a thing don't work."

Mrs. Giebel Gives Talk on Millinery

One of Women's Chief Worries Ably Discussed By State Bureau Specialist

By Mrs. Catherine Giebel, Extension Clothing Specialist

As hats grow softer millinery becomes more and more difficult to teach. Of course, if it is possible to meet groups of women during a course of eight or ten lessons, that is quite another matter; but to gather around a table at 9:30 A. M. and to expect to go home at 4:30 P. M. with a quite up-to-the-minute bonnet is something else again.

There are still sailors in the shops—thanks to the little Spanish lady who sang in New York for a few weeks. They are smart as smart can be, but for every one of the sailors, there are a hundred other hats as limp as the sailors' own hair. And it does seem as if the more one pays for a hat the limper it is.

Some brims this season are absolutely soft—just bias folds of velvet or silk with, at most, a bit of crinoline to hold them in shape. Now and then there is a wired edge but the wire is light in weight so that the edge is not hard looking. The hats with the soft or semi-soft brims often have no stiffening in the crowns at all. These are sometimes draped of velvet or felt or silk or they are cut in sections of lovely Estelle Clark, whose success on the screen has been no flattery. There have been much talk of large hats and there are such to be seen in the shops. These have broad brims—about like the straw hats being worn now. The brims of these are fitted, upper and under, and finished with wired edges. Just the kind of brims we learned to make a few years ago. Some even have flanges. There are hats of this type in velvet, satin and moire or combinations of these fabrics and these there are felted too, combined with velvet. Personally I have no faith in the reports that women will wear them generally. A few will no doubt about it. The small hat is too comfortable and too becoming to let us cast it aside.

If you plan to block felt hats this fall, try cutting a tip perfectly round and with its circumference just you'd headsize. Then overhand to it a deep side-crown with the pleating at the back. Put it over your block, steam so the pleating is smoothly but while still damp, take hold of the tip and pull it up to a moderate peak with your fingers. Let it dry with the finger prints showing as this is quite the thing at present. When the side-crown is steamed, put in some crosswise drapes at the back and when these are set, the crown is ready to be sewn to the brim. I saw such a clever yellow felt made like this with a narrow brim turned up at the back and decorated with a band and flat bow of black gros grain ribbon.

There was another hat in shades of red velvet. This had a folded velvet brim turned up at the back. The crown was made with plain sides, about four inches deep, and a tam effect set on top of this. The whole thing was pushed back slightly toward the left side and was very lovely due in part to the exquisite shades of the velvet.

Beige Faill Trimmed With Rich Black Velvet

Here is an attractive outfit that is chic for fall wear. Given Lee, the popular motion-picture actress, wears this smart frock of beige faill trimmed with black velvet in her latest picture, "Up Stage." The hat is a wrapped turban of ribbon.

There has been much talk of large hats and there are such to be seen in the shops. These have broad brims—about like the straw hats being worn now. The brims of these are fitted, upper and under, and finished with wired edges. Just the kind of brims we learned to make a few years ago. Some even have flanges. There are hats of this type in velvet, satin and moire or combinations of these fabrics and these there are felted too, combined with velvet. Personally I have no faith in the reports that women will wear them generally. A few will no doubt about it. The small hat is too comfortable and too becoming to let us cast it aside.

If you plan to block felt hats this fall, try cutting a tip perfectly round and with its circumference just you'd headsize. Then overhand to it a deep side-crown with the pleating at the back. Put it over your block, steam so the pleating is smoothly but while still damp, take hold of the tip and pull it up to a moderate peak with your fingers. Let it dry with the finger prints showing as this is quite the thing at present. When the side-crown is steamed, put in some crosswise drapes at the back and when these are set, the crown is ready to be sewn to the brim. I saw such a clever yellow felt made like this with a narrow brim turned up at the back and decorated with a band and flat bow of black gros grain ribbon.

There was another hat in shades of red velvet. This had a folded velvet brim turned up at the back. The crown was made with plain sides, about four inches deep, and a tam effect set on top of this. The whole thing was pushed back slightly toward the left side and was very lovely due in part to the exquisite shades of the velvet.

COUNTY SOLICITOR PASSES BUCK BACK TO PROSECUTOR

Hillman, Criticized For Not Running Down Recrunt Husbands; Asked Advice

EX-JUDGE WELLS SAYS "USE YOUR JUDGMENT"

A month ago, Prosecutor Hillman, in a quandary between those who did and those who did not want him to spend county money to bring erring husbands back from other states and those who support their families, asked the advice of the board of freeholders. The board passed the letter over to County Solicitor Wells, who submitted a copy of his reply to the prosecutor at the board meeting last Friday.

The Prosecutor's letter to Burlington County Board of Freeholders:

There is a matter concerning which I would like to have your opinion.

As you doubtless know, there are numerous cases of husbands deserting their wives in some instances the accused goes to another state. It is a criminal offense for a man to thus desert his wife and family and where the defendant is in this state of course, upon complaint being made he can be arrested. In cases where he has gone to another state he can only be brought here upon extradition.

I have made it a rule not to extradite the recrunt husbands in such cases until after an indictment had been returned by the Grand Jury, and not always then.

My reasons for this course are that to bring an accused back from another state entails no little expense and when the man is brought back here if he is put in jail he obviously can do nothing for the support of his family. If he is released from jail he is apt to run away again. Very often the deserted wife does not know of the exact whereabouts of her husband. She thinks he may be in New York City or in Buffalo or some other place.

Expense Business

It is unnecessary to say that to send our officers to a distant city to investigate the whereabouts of an accused is more or less expensive and to bring the accused back adds more expense.

My idea in declining to take measures to extradite every husband who had thus deserted his wife and family is solely to save expense to the County.

Some well meaning philanthropic persons throughout the county criticize me for not taking proceedings to bring back the deserters. But I would like to have an expression from your Board as to whether or not you think I should pursue a different course from that which I have indicated.

I have no objection to taking proceedings for the extradition of every man who deserts his family and goes to a distant state; neither have I any objection to having our officers make an extensive search to find the whereabouts of deserters. I have felt that it was not the part of wisdom to put the county to the expense attendant upon such action.

You are the custodian of the funds of the county. If you think I should incur these expenses, as I have said I have no objections to doing so.

I would be very glad to have an expression of your opinion in this matter.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) George M. Hillman, Prosecutor.

The Holder's Reply

August 20, 1936.

Hon. George M. Hillman,
Mt. Holly, N. J.
Dear George:

Your letter directed to the Board of Freeholders concerning the wandering spouses who loved but were lured away, was referred to me by the Board for reply, with no intentions as to the kind of a reply to make.

Having found you to be a man endowed with good common sense, I am going to suggest that you use your own judgment in this matter. The question as to whether or not the county should expend money in locating, apprehending and returning husbands who have deserted their wives and families, depends largely upon the circumstances of each particular case. It would seem to me that if a man leaves a wife and a number of dependent children in destitute circumstances, that the county ought to be willing to incur some expense and effort in finding him, even if he is in some other state, and return him to the jurisdiction of the state where his family reside. In order that he might be dealt with by the court. On the other hand, however, if the forsaken one is a healthy, happy, husky fellow, who is able to support himself during his husband's absence, it would seem to me that he should be advised to find his beloved with instructions as to what to do after she had located him. He could be apprehended where he is found, brought before some magistrate and dealt with in that jurisdiction. This is only my viewpoint and I am giving it to you for what it is worth. You, as the representative of the state, will have to act according to the dictates of your own good judgment and tender conscience in both of which I have the greatest confidence.

Yours sincerely,
Harold B. Wells,
County Solicitor.

WIENER ROAST

Straw Ribs To Rancocas Park Held In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Saul

A happy wiener party was held at Rancocas Park Tuesday evening. The young folks were transported to the scene of revelry in a large truck filled with straw. The party was composed of the Rev. and Mrs. Harry L. Saul, Mrs. John and daughter, Miss Marie; Mrs. Walling, Mrs. William Howe, Mrs. Margaret Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Smith, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ripka, Mr. and Mrs. Schaff, the Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Ehrhard, the Misses Randolph, Rebecca Buchholz, Ruth Ehrlich, and Messrs. Houston Ingram and Thomas Hettel.

During the course of the evening it was discovered that the day was the third wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ripka's wedding. These young people were showered with confetti and bound with streamers, while their friends wished a continuance of their happiness. Wieners and marshmallows were enjoyed round a fire, as blood-curdling ghost stories were told.

ROTARY HEARS ABOUT "DREAMERS WHO WALK"

W. Russell Green Gives Inspiring Talk on Great Men

Rev. Harry Saul gave the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary a fine surprise by attending the regular meeting, September 9. He moved to Bedford, Pa., soon after the club was formed, and has helped establish a club in Bedford which will receive its charter this month. Rev. Harry is a live wire. He is missed by the local club and we are sure the Bedford Rotary will be a success.

Joseph G. Seal, classification printing, was formally inducted into membership. W. Russell Green, of the Charles E. Hines Company, was the speaker of the evening. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania and was for several seasons one of the platform managers for the "Dreamers Who Walk," a series of lectures by several speakers and travels extensively for his company, giving educational talks. This was his one hundred and seventh address to a Rotary Club. His subject, "Dreamers Who Walk," was developed by several illustrations of men with new and startling ideas who, by persistent effort and in the face of ridicule, gave the world many things we take for granted. Our own Constitution, the trans-Atlantic cables, Temple University, all were born first in the minds of great men who, though dreamers, walked with their feet on the ground, and worked without thought of self for the good of mankind.

The club has been deeply concerned for several weeks about Paul Burr and news of his improvement was received with sincere thanksgiving.

PRESENT FLAG

Ladies of P. O. of A. Hold Ceremony at Lutheran Church

The Lutheran Church was crowded last Saturday evening with people who came to see the presentation of the flag. At seven forty-five the orchestra started to play and shortly after the members of the Patriotic Order of America were ushered into their reserved seats in front of the church, while the congregation stood.

After a sermon by the Rev. William M. Ehrhard, pastor of the church, Mrs. Anna Blackburn, Past National President of the P. O. of A., made the presentation speech. The key-note of this splendid speech was that no place was too good for the American flag and it is ever to be respected in the highest degree.

Mr. Schriver, of the church council, then made the speech of acceptance, in which he expressed on behalf of the congregation gratitude for the gift and drew a comparison of the principles of the church and those of the flag. While standing, the congregation took the pledge to the flag which they had just received.

The Boy and Girl Scouts were present in uniform and took a prominent part in the demonstration.

Boys Accused of Thieving

Operations Supposed To Have Been Carried on Since Last December

Riverton police believe that in the arrest of Joseph Roberts and Amos Patterson, two 14-year-old colored boys, they have found the ones who have been committing a series of petty robberies since early in December of last year.

Roberts was arrested at the home of his uncle, George Roberts at Moorestown, and on information given by this lad, Patterson was apprehended Monday morning.

According to the police, young Roberts tried to take money from the cash register at the Coddington store on Howard street, Riverton. Frank Coddington, who was in the store, heard the bell ring and saw Roberts moving away from the counter. Coddington told a boy who was in the store to watch Roberts, which he got the police, but while the proprietor was in quest of an officer the Roberts boy left by a back window route. He evidently kept going until he arrived at his uncle's place in Moorestown.

Written Confession
In a written confession which is now in the hands of the police department young Roberts admitted several robberies, all of which he flatly denied when placed on the witness stand at the hearing in Riverton before Justice of the Peace J. M. Coddington Monday afternoon.

From previous conversations with the boy the police believe that he robbed the residence of Mrs. Jessie Pittinger on Seventh street, Riverton, last December, as well as being responsible for several other petty robberies since that time.

When first arrested young Roberts said that Patterson was with him in many of these escapades, but after the two boys had been together in the cell, and after a thorough lockup for a few hours on Monday this was all changed. Patterson denied being implicated in any of the robberies and his denial was confirmed by Roberts, notwithstanding his previous statements which resulted in the arrest of his chum.

Cash Was Stolen
About four months ago $20 in cash was taken from the Keating store in Riverton. Roberts owned up to this. There was also a watch stolen from Francis Keating's coat which he left lying in his taxi while he took a passenger's bag in the Lavin House. Roberts said that the watch was stolen by Patterson who told him that he sold it to Cecil Brown for $5. Patterson vigorously denied taking the watch and Brown was present at the hearing denied he bought it. Roberts sustained both of their denials.

The magistrate and Officer Quigley, who arrested the boys, were quite surprised at the change of front of young Roberts which was explained by Patterson who claimed that Roberts had been so scared by the officers that he was willing to admit anything like "Topsy" in Uncle Tom's cabin.

Boy Is Identified
Patterson was sure that he had not been with young Roberts around the home of William Cox on Lipscomb avenue in Riverton within the last two weeks, but he was positively identified by Samuel Rudderow as the boy he seen there with Roberts.

Albert McCombs, who was present at the hearing, said that he was acquainted with the Patterson boy and that he was one of the best boys he ever knew. He believed the lad to be entirely innocent of the charges brought against him. Among the lost found in possession of Roberts was a service ring said to belong to Oliver Willets. Roberts' father, Oscar Roberts, accounted for the ring being in the possession of the boy by saying that they carried away. He admitted that he had made an attempt to find out from Mr. Willets whether or not he owned the ring.

Revolver Stolen
Among the articles taken from the Pittinger home last December were a revolver, camera, six pieces of silverware, old-fashioned necklace and a jewel case. The jewel case was later found near one of the cellar windows.

State Trooper Bading told the Riverton police at the time that he believed this robbery to be the work of boys. Roberts claimed that Patterson had the revolver. When accused of it at the hearing, however, Patterson indignantly denied having the weapon and exclaimed theatrically, "Revolver, why I don't even know what a revolver looks like." He was also accused of taking some 25 short cartridges from the Coddington store which he likewise denied.

Both boys were held for court without bail and were taken to Mount Holly Monday afternoon by Officer Quigley.

SCHOOL IS OVERCROWDED

Riverton School Board Asking Room Outside For Overflow

NEW SCHOOL MUST SOON BE ERECTED

The pressing need for more rooms was stressed by Miss Hannah H. Chew, supervising principal, at the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education, Tuesday night.

Miss Chew pointed out that there are 41 pupils in the kindergarten, 51 in the first grade, 49 in the second grade, 37 in the third, 35 in the fourth, 50 in the fifth, 35 in the sixth, 35 in the seventh and 31 in the eighth.

When the school was designed and built fifteen years ago, these rooms were intended to accommodate 25 pupils, so that it will be seen they are overcrowded from 56 to 100 per cent.

Miss Chew's report said in part: "It is not possible for either teachers or children to work to advantage. Some relief should come immediately. I have already brought to your attention the probability of needing another room and teacher for first and second grade children, and the need is now apparent in fifth and sixth grades."

Our present quarters cannot care for additional pupils. As I see the conditions there are three ways of adjustment:

1. Utilizing space in our own building.
 2. Renting rooms outside.
 3. Using a portable building.
- Of the three propositions presented by Miss Chew, the board favored the plan of renting rooms outside, and Messrs. Boyer and Warren and Mrs. E. C. Sullivan were appointed a committee to see if the school could be made to use the Parish House of Christ Church.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Marjorie Hein, second prize, $10.00;
Catherine Williams, third prize, $3.81.

The leading Riverton collectors and the amounts they obtained were:
Ruth Patterson, first prize, $9.47;
Mary Roodie, second prize, $8.35;

The other youthful workers were made happy with "movie" passes.

LIONS

Big Joint Meeting With Merchantsville to Be Held Soon

Palmyra Lions will hold a joint meeting with the Merchantsville Country Club on Thursday evening, September 30. This was all decided at the meeting of the local club in the basement of the First Lutheran Church Tuesday evening.

It had been advertised that at Tuesday's meeting Lion Song Leader Frank Kates would have a special stunt. Frank tried to duck the issue and slip the burden onto the shoulders of the Rev. W. M. Ehrhard and the Pastor replied with a toast, aqua pura, which ran like this:

"Here's to the health of Lion Kates."

Noisest Man in Seven States.
Dr. Bauer won the attendance prize which was donated by Dr. Voorhis.

The Lions plan to erect Lion signs at the entrances to the town and Lion Bill Lynch will order stencils from which to have them painted.

The meeting Tuesday was well attended, only two members being absent, and several more new members are to be in a hand in the near future.

AUTO TRIP TO CANADA

Two Riverton Families Enjoy Long Ride and Beautiful Scenery

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Wolf-schmidt and Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cole have just returned from an automobile trip to Canada. They left Riverton on Monday in Mr. Wolf-schmidt's car and returned Saturday. They averaged 240 miles a day and the entire trip covered a distance of 1121 miles.

Mr. Wolf-schmidt suggests to tourists that when passing over the bridge to the Canada side, they ask for a permit which is issued for thirty days instead of having their registration card, and they can return by another route if they so desire, instead of having to go back for their card.

The party thoroughly enjoyed their trip which was unmarred by trouble of any kind, and found the same inspiration at Niagara Falls that has thrilled the pulses of so many thousands of tourists.

The view from Queenstown Heights Park, from which the coast- guard is visible for forty-five miles is one of the sights they will long remember.

P. H. S. Grid Team Ready for Fray

Will Tackle Camden For First Game on September 24

When Coach Kenneth C. Diamond announced Palmyra High School would open its grid season against the strong Camden High School football team on September 24, the remark was made that Palmyra will need a good team to make a showing in its opening conquest.

"Good team?" asked the new mentor, who was quite a star griddle himself. "Why certainly we're going to have good team. At odds very confidently." "Absolutely."

And the coach should know. He has been out every afternoon working the thirty-two boys who constitute the squad their hardest with scrimmages and various other games, and work that brings out the skill and fight in the lads and develops them for the stiff contests that are to come.

Diamond has an excellent assortment of veterans around which he may mould the bang-up eleven he predicts. All of the elect, booted athletes who have had seasoning with the local squad are clever gridders, and form a bulwark which should bring joy to the heart of any tutor.

Captain Mathers is working zealously at the fullback position. "Hank Jenkins, the clever center, is back in the snap-back position and running true to form and there is that brilliant, sure-to-gain Atkins ready to dash off with the pigskin from the halfback position in a scintillating fashion.

Among the other veterans who may be relied upon for real football are George Hutchins, end; Hartley, tackle; Albright, end, and Miller, quarterback. The new material which looks exceptionally promising is Paul Keena and Vernon Adams, guard candidates, and Harry Little, the famous swimmer, at tackle.

Manager Jack Eick in rounding up his schedule, which includes many of South Jersey's outstanding teams, and will probably announce the complete lineup of games next week. Starting with next week, Coach Diamond will write a sports article each week for this paper.

DID AND HE DIDN'T

George Rogers Ran, But Wasn't Running Away, Quite

Being a politician, and a real estate man, George W. Rogers, former Freeholder, does not object strenuously to publicity, but sometimes he does insist that it be the right kind.

Just now he is a wee bit sore at the Courier for stating that he was in a Palmyra ambulance driven away after a little smash at the West Jersey Hospital last Sunday.

George was driving the machine out of the gateway when a swiftly moving ambulance containing two colored fellows from Berlin smashed into the rear end. As the crowd started to collect, the colored driver suddenly decided he was wanted elsewhere and ran down an alley.

George ran after him. The colored fellow was considerably out and was taken into the hospital and patched up. The authorities got the name and due measures are being taken. The damage to the ambulance was not extensive.

The trip had been made to take Mrs. Werner Horton, of 407 Elm avenue, to the hospital for an appendicitis operation. At last reports she was doing well.

SOME EQUIPMENT

New Turret Nozzle Thrown Water 300 Feet

Palmyra's new fire apparatus has been thoroughly tested out during the past week.

Friday evening both Riverton and Palmyra pumps were hooked onto the turret nozzle on the new Palmyra ladder truck. The result was a supply of 1500 gallons of water a minute at 300 pounds pressure.

A stream was thrown at least 200 feet in the air and carried from P. O. S. of A. Hall to Society Hall, a distance of more than 300 feet.

The demonstration of the use of the ladders Monday evening at the High School also was very successful.

RIVERTONIANS PROTEST AGAINST CURBS AND WALKS

NEED FUNDS

Drive Will Be Made To Help High School Athletic Association

A drive for increased support for the Palmyra High School Athletic Association will be made next week. The Athletic Association finances the various teams in the school and during the past few seasons its treasury has been very low, greatly handicapping the teams.

Not only will the students be asked to get behind the association 100 per cent, strong, but contributions will be gladly accepted from parents and other interested friends and boosters of Palmyra High School athletics.

More funds will greatly assist in the furthering of good, clean athletics, which are far from a detriment. They teach fair play, clean living, and give the pupils a fine prospectus of honorable and straight competition.

Such equipment for the various teams is needed. Your contribution will help.

Memorial Lake Plans Progressing

Sonny Wright Tells Chamber of Commerce of Work Already Done

Forty-five members of the Riverton Chamber of Commerce and their friends, present at a dinner meeting held at the Lawn House last night, listened to Sonny Wright tell of the plans under way to convert the creek at Memorial Park into a magnificent lake. Sonny told how permission of the War Department had been obtained, that the State had no objections, and that within a few days, probably this week, the consent of the balance of the owners of the property bordering on the creek would be secured.

The plan is to construct a dam on the river side of the county bridge at East Riverton about six inches higher than the old dam. This would cover the flats to a depth of two feet and would create a splendid lake reaching as far back as Hunter's pond. The estimated cost was between $800 and $1,000.

Sonny said that he believed when the plans were completed the Borough authorities would be willing to undertake the construction of the dam. With this area covered constantly with water the growth of grass and weeds would die out, thereby making the lake a body of water free from obstruction. It was also thought that later on the walls creating what is known as the "illy ponds" might be leveled off, giving a greater depth for swimming.

President Albertson of the Chamber of Commerce assured Sonny Wright of the hearty co-operation of that body when his plans had progressed to the point where it could be of assistance, and Sonny said that the Chamber could help by securing public sentiment which would warrant the Borough authorities in taking on the construction of the dam.

The speakers of the evening were Francis Wallin, a jeweler of Broadway, Camden, and William Kennedy, secretary of the Camden Chamber of Commerce. Both men gave inspiring addresses which were listened to with keen interest by their auditors.

Zoning System Proposed

The subject of establishing a zoning system in Riverton to prevent business institutions from encroaching on residential areas was discussed, and the following committee was appointed to prepare plans to be submitted to the Chamber for approval and later laid before the Borough council: Ernest Chew, J. M. Coddington, John Holwick, H. E. Compton and J. M. Roberts.

Ross Mattis offered a resolution which was unanimously passed that the Borough council be requested to enforce the laws against reckless driving within the Borough. Several instances were cited of dangerously reckless conduct on the part of the bus drivers and other motorists.

William H. Buck and L. G. Rogers called attention to the fact that the street numbers on houses in several sections were badly mixed up and asked that the condition be remedied. The matter was referred to William H. Lynch, member of the Borough council, who said he would take it up with that body.

Big Delegation Waits on Council and Ask That Ordinance Be Dropped

COUNCILMEN DEFEND THEIR STAND ON CURBS

At a meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night, a delegation of eighteen citizens appeared before that body, twelve of whom were present to object to the final passage of the ordinance requiring the construction of curbs and sidewalks on Howard street, Cinnaminson street, Fulton street, Second street, Third street, Fourth street and Fifth street.

This delegation consisted of Dr. Harry L. Rogers, C. P. Mayfield, E. K. Merrill, S. J. Allen, John A. Ruppert, Odoor Steedle, George D. Steedle, Lawton Steedle, Frank Stroehlein, Josiah Conwell and George A. Stroehlein. Four were in favor of the measure, John R. Nalbey, F. W. Robertson, E. J. Bush, and Robert W. Knight. Clarence N. Hubbs' nomination for council dropped in to see how things were done. H. L. Unland was present merely as a spectator and James S. Coale appeared on behalf of the Shade Tree Commission asking for an additional $1,000 with which to remove old trees and plant new ones on Main street from the river to the borough line.

Rogers Spoke
Dr. Rogers was the chief spokesman for those who were opposed to the passage of the ordinance. He said that a poll of the property owners affected, had been taken and he read the names on the petition showing the following results:

On Fifth street, where pavements existed and only curbs were required, the opposition was unanimous.

Second street was divided on opinion, some wanting nothing at all and some pavements only.

On Third street three opposed the improvements and one was in favor. Fulton showed one in favor of improvement and ten against.

On Cinnaminson street those in favor outnumbered five while the opposition polled twelve; Howard four against and one for the improvements. Fourth street was not completed owing to inability to get action in time by the vestry of Christ Church and the directors of the Poreh Club.

Object to Expense
Dr. Rogers said that the first objection was the expense which he did not think was warranted at this time owing to the condition of the roads. He said that many were willing to lay pavements but objected to paying for curbs when such prominent avenues as Midway, Highway and Eighth street were not completely curbed.

"Why pick on us," said the doctor. "Why pick out a few insignificant streets for these improvements when other more important ones remain uncurbed?"

Warning up to his subject the doctor continued, "It is nice to sit up here and vote our money away, but we are the fellows who have to pay for it, and if we do not want sidewalks, and curbs along our properties, why should we be forced to lay them? There is no crying need for curbs at this stage of the game."

"Councilman Williams asked the doctor if he didn't think the curbs would make the streets look much better to pay for putting them in."

"No," said the doctor, "not if the weeds are allowed to grow up over the curbs as has been done on Fourth street and Fulton street

Since the news of President McKinley's death was received in Mount Holly many business houses and residences are draped in mourning and flags are at half mast everywhere. There is universal grief on account of his demise. Convict Murderer

It was shown that Young, a former farm hand at the Hunter place, went to New York where he got into the company of three thugs, whom he told about Hunter keeping money in the house. The quartette went to the Hunter place and three entered the house, Young being stationed at the garden gate to keep watch. Hunter put up such a desperate fight that the three men were compelled to kill him. Although Young did not enter the house and did not know of the killing, he was found guilty of murder of the first degree, in compliance with the judge's charge as to the law relating to homicides.

IMPROVE ROADS

Bids Authorized For Concrete King's Highway

Improvement of more Camden County roads was ordered last week by the Board of Freeholders.

Bids were authorized for concreting King's highway from Haddonfield to Mt. Ephraim; the Haddonfield road from Marlton pike to Moorestown pike and also the hard-surfacing of the Cedarbrook road to Winslow Junction. Plans were also ordered drawn for concreting the road from Gibbstown to Berlin.

Petition requesting the widening and repaving of Church road, from Moorestown pike to King's highway, were referred to the road committee. This road is improved east of King's highway as far as Vincetown.

The board assigned a room for use of the United States District Court which will begin sessions in Camden in December.

Many Soldiers Are Now at Dix

Public Warned To Keep Away From Camp's Rifle Range

Scenes at Camp Dix these days are reminiscent of earlier times in the cantonment's existence. Scarcely, soldiers are everywhere once more in those portions of the big camp which have been retained by the War Department for use of the troops. There are more soldiers at Dix now than for a long time past and everyone connected with it seems to be convinced that the future of the cantonment as a permanent military post is assured.

The First Brigade of the First Division, consisting of the 16th and 18th Infantry Regiments, are at Camp Dix under canvas. The First Ordnance Company and First Tank Company will come later. Brigadier General Hugh A. Drum, commanding the famous First Division, arrived on Sunday, September 5th, to command the camp.

General Drum will be remembered as the officer in charge of the rescue work in connection with the disastrous magazine explosions at Lake Denmark recently. It was hazardous work and called for courage of a high degree, both on the part of the officers and the men engaged in the task of trying to save those who were within the area under bombardment from the terrific cannonading of shells set off by the great fire.

The students and faculty of the Quartermaster Corps School located in Philadelphia are also at the camp for a two-weeks' stay and instruction.

The troops are at the camp for their annual target practice and field training. Firing on the range will be continuous during September and October with all classes of infantry weapons, including machine guns, rifles, one-pounder guns and trench mortars.

The public is warned that it is dangerous to be on the target range or on the military reservation in the rear of or adjoining the target range.

Some time ago when the work of dismantling the camp was started and the shipment of military stores to other posts was under way, there was a great sacrifice of new stores to civilian purchasers. Almost everything conceivable, from heating systems to hand axes and from glass doors to socks, was disposed of at knock-down prices.

The great warehouses were stripped to the boards, some of the

NAMES OF STREETS TELL NEW ORLEANS' STORY

Names of New Orleans streets present a mixture of French, Spanish and American influences of other days and impress strangers instantly as one of the oldest of the interesting features of the old city.

The city itself was not named, as many think, for the French city of Orleans, but the duke of Orleans, Charles street bears the name of his son, the Duc de Chartres. Royal street is said to have been named for Madame Royale, eldest sister of the king.

Bourbon bears the dynastic name and the dauphine is remembered through Dauphine street. A group of streets is named for the muses, Calliope, Clio, Erato, Thalia, Melpomene, Terpsichore, Euterpe, Polyanna, and Urania.

The Napoleonic influences left Napoleon avenue, Josephine street and a street for each of Napoleon's victories, Austerlitz, Jena, Cadix, Constantinople and Berlin. Berlin passed during the World War in favor of General Pershing street.

Goods being shipped away by carload and some sold on the ground to dealers and others, "as is." This was all very well, as the army officers saw things then, but it is proving costly in the light of later developments, for it has become necessary to buy many of the very kinds of articles which were sold a few years ago at quick disposal prices.

All this is proving profitable to store keepers and farmers of the surrounding country. Instead of getting in stores of flour, potatoes, and other provender by the carload, as formerly, the food for the men is being purchased from the farmers and stores in the vicinity.

Charles B. Wolner, of Mount Holly, who has the lease on the ice plant and also furnishes meat for the cantonment, is said to be having a profitable contract and others are also making money as the result of the new policy of the camp authorities.

Under the present plan it would not be surprising if the camp were now of more advantage to the people of the surrounding community than it was in former days when fifty times as many men were stationed there.

Perhaps, as Paul Whitman says, jazz is a suspension bridge to better things. Meanwhile, the suspense is something awful.—Boston Globe.

Electric Supply For The Farms

Shortage of Labor Has Resulted In Seeking Apparatus For Crop Production

Economical use of electricity in farm work is the subject of a study being made by the New Jersey State Department of Agriculture. Direct information from the farmers of the state will form the basis for determining the extent to which electrical energy is now used, and its future possibilities. The possibilities of rural electrification have been making the attention of officials of many states for several years. A number of the states are making similar surveys which will result in definite knowledge of the advantage and disadvantages of the use of electrical power on farms.

"The serious shortage of farm labor has resulted in seeking mechanical and electrical apparatus for crop production and harvesting," said Secretary William B. Duryee of the Agricultural Department in connection upon the proposal today.

"There is a great field for electrical power on farms at reasonable rates, not only from an economical standpoint but also in making the farm home a more desirable place of residence."

"The New Jersey survey will cover the principal producing areas of New Jersey, including the dairy, fruit and vegetable sections and general farming areas. Data will be secured regarding the acreage of the farm, source of power, farm illumination in house, barn, poultry houses, etc., the heating units used, the amount of wood sawing, grain grinding, pumping, milking, etc., done by electricity and the total energy utilized. One large New Jersey farm has recently installed an electrically driven machine for the curing of hay."

"Of the 30,000 farms in New Jersey, less than 5,000 reported the use of gas or electricity in the 1925 Federal Census. This very small proportion is the more surprising in view of the fact that many of the farms are located within a radius of 50 miles from the metropolitan districts of New York and Philadelphia, with their huge power plants."

"The plants companies of New Jersey have exhibited interest in the appeal and are cooperating by furnishing maps of their lines and substations. After the preliminary reports are in, further investigations will be necessary to determine the economy of using electricity, as opposed to other forms of energy, for certain farm operations."

LOSES APPEAL

Ernest C. Ristow, former guard at the State prison, last week lost his appeal to the Civil Service Commission for reinstatement. Ristow was discharged for alleged dereliction in connection with the escape of Richard Hammock, a life termer, and the commission sustained the action of Principal Keeper Hoff in dismissing him.

In his appeal, Ristow claimed that the guns with which guards at the institution were furnished were defective and that his weapon had failed to discharge when he attempted to shoot at Hammock. He argued too, that the prisoner should have been intercepted by other guards before reaching the wall over which he fled.

News of Interest By Farm Bureau

County Agents Smith and Thompson Supply Timely Information

As old as Adam is the question which hives about this time of year from fruit growers everywhere. Is it better to plant fruit trees in the fall or in the spring? It all depends upon the kind of fruit and the locality in which it is to be planted. Cherries, for instance, which make their growth early in the season and then stop for the year, are better suited for fall planting. When set late in the spring, they not only fail to make much growth, but a considerable number are likely to die.

Apples and peaches, on the other hand, often make a late fall growth in the nursery if weather conditions are favorable, and if transplanted late and subjected to severe weather conditions immediately afterward, are quite likely to be severely winter-injured. Also, in districts where the frost heaves the soil in winter, fall planted trees may be so loosened and thrown upward that the roots dry, freeze and are dead when spring opens.

Favorable Conditions
Soil and climatic conditions in central and southern New Jersey are much more favorable for fall planting than in localities farther north. The surface of the soil seldom freezes until after November 1st, and the sandy loams remain in a mellow, workable condition. This often permits planting of well ripened trees in the fall under very favorable conditions.

Don't forget these two precautions in fall planting, however. Never set trees in soil so wet and sticky that it packs into lumps and clods, and don't fail to pack dry soil very firmly about the roots. Air spaces left about the roots either by the soil being too wet and lumpy or too dry, are almost certain to result in dead trees.

REBUILD BRIDGE

Highway Commission Plans Replacement of Toms River—Neuseville Span

Rebuilding of the bridge between Toms River and Neuseville Heights, across Barnegat Bay, is being planned by the State Highway Commission. This action is necessary because of the bad condition of the structure, which has deteriorated rapidly this summer.

The statement that $358,000 is the sum necessary to rebuild, seems to show that it will be replaced with another timber and trestle structure, not with concrete, as had been hoped, and as would be the more economical in the long run.

The bridge was taken over by the State at a cost of $188,000 only four years ago under legislation directing the freeing of bridges and toll roads, and since that time $109,000 have been expended for repairs upon it. "This impresses me as a gauge upon the State," was the declaration of Highway Commissioner Walter Kidde.

General H. Scott, chairman of the Board, and Commissioner Abraham Jellin also said that they regretted the necessity of taking the money for this purpose when it could be used for laying concrete on State routes. As the bridge was taken over by a former Commission, however, it is the expectation that the money will have to be appropriated for the rebuilding.

DEALER WORTH GIVES CONFIDENCE IN CAR

"There is no gainsaying the fact that the man who drives a car is more comfortable with the knowledge that he bought that car from a dealer who is disposed, and able, to accept complete responsibility for his satisfaction," says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company.

"Even if the manufacturer of the car goes out of business and the car becomes an 'orphan,' if it was bought from a permanently established responsible local dealer, the owner rides comfortably in the knowledge that the dealer will care for his wants."

"But if the dealer goes out of business, then indeed is the car an 'orphan,' for the good policies of the maker cannot be felt locally except as the dealer makes them locally effective."

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE

While a victim of a disturbed mental condition during his recovering from a debauch from some of Roebing's kick-off rum, Frank Steiner, 24 years, of Roebing, attempted suicide at the county jail on Tuesday morning of last week by slashing both wrists and his throat and stabbing himself in the abdomen with a pocket knife.

Prisoners in the same corridor discovered the man's condition almost immediately after the cutting yelling attracted the attention of Sheriff Fleetwood and Day Warden Gaakill. When the officials could see what had happened and what a serious condition the man appeared to be in they lost no time getting him to the Burlington County Hospital for treatment.

The attention he received there has saved his life up to this time. He was greatly weakened by loss of blood and it was necessary to operate on him on the point of the abdominal wound, but everything done appears to have been successful and the last report is that Steiner is resting comfortably.

Steiner was committed to jail on Saturday on a charge of assault and battery on his wife. He had been drinking heavily and Mrs. Steiner had reached the point of not being able to tolerate him any longer.

There did not appear to be anything unusual about his condition at the jail and he was given no special attention. It sounds very much like a case of delirium tremens. In addition to his wife Steiner has two young children at home.

FIGHT INSURANCE

"Self-Drive" Concerns Refused Surety by Thirty-Eight Companies

William L. Dill, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner, has declared war against the "self-drive" automobile companies throughout the State in an effort to compel them to comply with the compulsory insurance law.

Eighteen of the companies, comprising the New Jersey Auto Renters Association, will appeal to the Court of Errors for a permanent injunction against Dill if a pending decision in a suit for that purpose by one of the members is unfavorable. It is reported.

The act requiring the insurance was passed by the last Legislature. It requires accident and injury insurance be carried by all public carriers. The "self-drive" companies have been refused insurance by thirty-eight companies.

The Assembly repealed the bill at its adjournment session last June, but the repealer never reached the Senate.

Tax Board Gets No Raise

According to an opinion given by County Solicitor Harold B. Wells, John B. Tilton, of Mount Holly, secretary of the Burlington County Board of Taxation, will not have his salary boosted from $1,500 to $3,000 under a law that was passed by the New Jersey Legislature last winter.

The members of the board are Joseph L. Thomas, Riverton; Clifford Emmons, of Pemberton, and Mrs. Florence Jacoby, of Edgewater Park. The board members are paid by the State. The secretary is paid by the county.

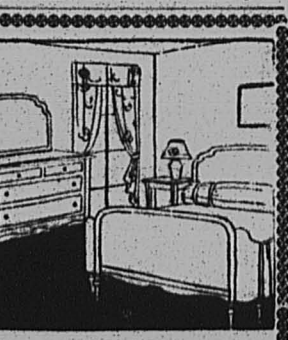

The question that appeared the most puzzling in this matter was whether Burlington county borders on the Atlantic Ocean. Solicitor Harold B. Wells stated that he had made an exhaustive search to find out just whether Burlington county did border on the Atlantic, and he was of the opinion that it did not. He stated that the Board of Conservation and Development of the State was of the same opinion, namely, "that the county of Burlington does not border on the Atlantic Ocean within the meaning of the act."

Previous to the salary-raiser passed by the 1925 Legislature the salary of the members of the Board of Taxation in this county was $1,400 a year and the secretary's salary was fixed as the same amount with the consent of the freeholders. Under the law of 1925 the Board of Taxation was increased to $3,000 annually, and it was recommended by the members of the Tax Board that Mr. Tilton's salary be similarly advanced. The law regarding this increase applies to officials residing in counties that border on the Atlantic Ocean, and the past several weeks the question has been under consideration as to whether this county does border on the Atlantic. Mr. Wells says that it does not.

It was also stated that since the salary of the Board of Taxation has been increased an order had come from the State Comptroller, "that the salary of the members of the Board of Taxation be withheld until such time as sums overdrawn had been made up." Judge Wells denied any responsibility for this action.

If it had been found that this act applied to Burlington county, Prosecutor Hillman's salary would be boosted from $500 to $750 a year, and naturally that official has been hoping that it would be discovered that just a teeny-weeny bit of salt water lapped the shores of Burlington county somewhere, but, as Solicitor Wells graphically phrased it, "if Burlington county borders on the Atlantic Ocean, so does Camden, for Camden is on the banks of the Delaware, and the Delaware flows into the ocean; and Missouri borders on the Gulf of Mexico, because the Missouri river flows into the gulf."

Will Rebuild Hainesport Bridge
The clerk of the board was instructed to advertise for bids for the reconstruction of the Hainesport bridge, but Mr. Fisher, head of the department, said work would probably not be started before the farmers had finished hauling tomatoes to market.

Public Service to erect 75 poles on Columbus-Wrightstown road for service distribution.

Under the terms of a resolution introduced by Mr. Stout the Bordentown and Chesterfield road will be built before cold weather sets in if possible, the work to be done by the county. It is estimated that the work will cost about $25,000, which will be a saving of about $5,000 over the contract work. It is to be a penetration macadam construction. The city of Bordentown will co-operate with the county in this work, as the former is anxious to have several blocks in Bordentown improved from curb to curb.

Mr. Lippincott wanted to know when it was proposed to start this work, and Mr. Stout replied, "In five or six weeks." Mr. Lippincott said that he did not want to be understood as being opposed to the construction of this road, for he was not, but it did seem to him that the roads all over the county were in such bad shape that they should receive the attention of the road department before any new work was attempted. Mr. Stout replied that work on repairing the roads had been held up by the unusually stormy weather, but that with favorable skies this work would be caught up in about six weeks. By that time, objected Mr. Lippincott, would it not be too late for penetration macadam construction? "In that case," replied Mr. Stout, "the work being done by the county road force, it could be stopped until spring." "And keep the roads torn up all winter," said Mr. Lippincott. At this juncture H. B. Smith, the county engineer, said the foundation could be put in without any fear of cold weather, and the top put on in the spring after the foundation had settled.

Mr. Fisher said he thought the county road machinery and workmen ought to be utilized as much as possible for such work. He said there was no question about the road department being able to do the work well and pointed to the splendid job it made of Church road stating that he had been over this road will several freeholders from other counties and they had all been high in their praise of its construction.

County Buys Ground
County Treasurer Bright was authorized to pay to William Elslinger, Sr., of Clermont, $2,500, and Fred R. Boyd, $1,000, for the ground recently purchased from them in Clermont, which is to be used by the county for the erection of a garage and other buildings for the use of the road and bridge departments, just as soon as title to the property is passed upon by Solicitor Wells. The road department was also instructed to have plans and specifications prepared for the buildings to be erected there. Permission was granted to the Kaser, of Mount Holly, superintendent of county schools, Miss Helen Benckert, of High and Wall streets, Burlington, will take Miss Sara VanSelver's position in his office and receive Miss VanSelver's salary, $1,500 a year. Miss Benckert now gets $1,302. Miss VanSelver gave up the position to study nursing. The recommendation was approved by the board.

BREAKS WINDSHIELDS

Craved Farm Hand Drives Fence Rails at Glass in Autos

A demented farm hand created considerable excitement at Hancock's Corner, near Columbus, when he broke windshields of passing automobiles by thrusting fence rails through the glass. He had gathered a dozen rails about six feet long, which he placed at the roadside. The first car attacked was that of Clifford Stillwell, of Trenton. Shattered glass cut the legs of Miss

May Gleason, who was in the car.

The next windshield smashed was that of Charles L. Carslake, of Columbus, who drove on and summoned aid. Before the maniac was overpowered by Constable George Shaeble, of Columbus, he had attacked another automobile, the driver of which put on speed and got away.

When arraigned before Justice Kingston at Mount Holly, the man was incoherent in his talk. He alleged that someone had stolen two watches from him and he was trying to find the thief.

A New York employment agency called in his pocket gave his name as Joseph Pariletsky. After being committed to jail on a charge of assault and battery the prisoner said he had been working on a farm on Long Island, and after losing his job there, sought employment in New Jersey. He said he was given free rides part of the way, walking the balance of the distance to this county.

He is under observation by physicians to determine his sanity.

Another charge, that of malicious mischief, was preferred against the prisoner by Detective Arthur Carabine, who also was summoned to Hancock's Corner. The complaint of assault and battery was entered by Miss Gleason.

Do Animals Reason?

Mary had brought a kitten home, where there was already a dog. The children were much interested to know whether the two animals would make friends. One morning they fed them out of separate plates, but only a few feet apart. The dog gulped down his breakfast and then stood and looked thoughtfully and longingly at a bone lying near the kitten. He looked at the bone, at the kitten and then at the door. The door was closed and a look of disappointment spread over the dog's face, and with almost an audible sigh he walked away and laid down to dream. He had evidently figured out that with the door closed he had no chance to grab the bone and make a getaway before puss could get in her claw work.

A newcomer to Riverton surprised a fish dealer the other day by asking him if he would scale a mackerel for her. The man with difficulty kept a straight face while he assured her that mackerels did not have scales. But when she asked him to "break a bone" it was too much, and with a wide grin he asked her what she meant. She wanted him to cut the fish in half!

Three small children playing together the other day showed a great play of imagination and ingenuity. The two older ones took a small wooden box and turned it upside down. They placed an empty flower pot upside down on it, and then placed a little three-year-old on the flower pot for a seat, gave him a stick as a steering wheel, and they had a wonderful automobile. Every couple of minutes they would stop for more "gas" (not gasoline) and one of the kids said "it is terrible the amount of gas we are using." Soon they had "flat tires" on the box which was being pushed flat on the ground! Then I went on, leaving them in their fairy world, where to wish and it is!

Making Friends

I used to be a quiet chap
Who stayed in my room;
My very shadow frightened me,
Like some mysterious elf!

I often wondered why I was
That I should be so shy,
When in my heart I longed to know
The folks who hurried by.

And now I shudder when I think How lonely I might be,
Had not the years, in passing, left
This little thought with me:

If you would make some worthy Friends,
Then here's the surest way—
Just go, yourself, and be a friend
To some one every day.

Don't wait for folks to clasp your hand,
Or bid you time o' day,
But hurry forth and lend a hand,
Upon the Friendly Way!

NEW SCHOOL

$80,000 Grammar Institution Opens at Mount Holly

Mount Holly's new educational institution, the $80,000 Samuel Miller school in Andersonville, was formally opened with dedicatory exercises on Tuesday of last week under the direction of the Northampton Board of Education, with its president, Samuel A. Hart, presiding.

The Mount Holly public schools opened the same day and it is expected that the registration of pupils will number 1,200. Teachers assembled for a conference, and pupils reported this morning, when they were assigned to their various rooms.

Opening of the new Samuel Miller school on Clifton avenue has relieved the crowding in the grade rooms and there is plenty of accommodations now for all the scholars.

As a rule, the keynote in a campaign is the first one in the scale—"Dough."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Sleeves Features of New Frocks for Fall

Sleeves are the features of many new frocks for fall. Though the long, tight-fitting sleeve of tailored lines remains, many of the smart models recently introduced by famous Parisian houses distinctly feature sleeves of novel cut and trimmings. Interesting and novel are the loose peasant sleeves in this frock worn by Estelle Clark, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player. It is hand-painted in futuristic designs to match the designs on the frock.

MRS. GRIEBEL'S ADVICE ON NEW FROCK

A friend asked my advice about a made-over frock the other day and it worked out so well that I decided to write you about it.

In the first place the material—a crepe printed in blocks—had been carefully cut. I wrote you about prints some weeks ago, but I am afraid I did not call your attention to the prints that are handled in the same way that plaids are. This type of print is difficult for, with the design stamped on the material one cannot follow a thread in cutting as is possible when one has a woven plaid.

I could not make out what cutting method had been used in this case for the lower edge of the dress followed neither design nor thread and the result was an uneven line that just couldn't be made to hang right. So we ripped the whole thing apart, pressed and straightened the material by the design to find that the dress was too short as an inch and a half had been taken off in spots.

But there was a cape included with the costume—quite a large cape too—and for a frock of this sort, I feel that a small cape is much nicer so we ripped it up and used the lining for piecing down the skirt. This was of plain-colored crepe and we cut a straight hand, about 6 inches wide and double, and set it under the edge of the printed dress which had been cut in blocks to follow the design of the material. The fold of the plain piece formed the lower edge and the blocks were hemstitched to the upper edge. It was most attractive. We cut the dress across the front at the hip line, and, including the extra fullness from the cape, we kept the plain cuffs and added a vestee and inner collar of the plain material, and, with a small unlined cape with a picoté edge, we called the costume complete. And the girl who owns it is delighted with it—thinks it much nicer than it was in the beginning.

I was glad that our work was successful but it is a pity to have to make over a new frock, so I am warning you all to consider the design of the fabric from which you intend to make your dress before you set your shears into it. I saw a pattern lately that, on first thought, seemed to require no attention. There was a row of large oval dots of white on black—about 1 1/2 inches long I'd say—then a row of small dots less than a half inch long. A pulled thread showed that the design was off grain about 1/2 of an inch but as I said in the beginning of my letter, I'd sacrifice grain to design in such a case. In cutting both shirt and blouse, I took pains to have the dots match at the seam joinings, and the whole effect was much better than if the large dot had come against the small dot or the line at the lower edge of the skirt had wandered up and down, quite lost in the maze of dots.

I know that some do not trouble to match designs. There are many garments both homemade and ready-made that show no attempts to do it. That does not make it right, however, and it is for those who do try to have their clothing as nearly right as is possible this letter is intended.

Palmyra C. of C. Resumes Meetings

Civic Body Backs Old Home Day Plans With Enthusiasm

The Palmyra Chamber of Commerce resumed its fall sessions Tuesday evening with an enthusiastic meeting in Legion Hall.

It was suggested that signs indicating where the main roads out of Palmyra lead should be erected and Councilman Lees said he would have the street department of the Borough Government put this suggestion into effect.

Recommendation was made that all stores close at 8 o'clock on the evening of Old Home Day. On the motion of Ed Patterson $50 was donated to the Old Home Day Committee.

Thomas McCrosson's suggestion that the Riverton Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club be specially invited to attend Old Home Day was unanimously adopted and invitations will be dispatched at once.

A committee to receive these guests was named as follows: Thomas McCrosson, Franklin Warner, Frank Johnson, Wilmer Roberts and M. P. Atkinson.

Mr. Patterson, chairman of the Society Hall Association offered the use of the Hall for the day.

George N. Wimer called particular attention to the unhealthy condition of the town's shade trees and warned that unless something is done in the near future, one of the town's chief attractions will be lost.

The Chamber was deeply impressed with Mr. Wimer's remarks and the subject will be seriously considered in the future.

TIME OF PLANTING TREES ON FRUIT AND LOCALITY

As old as Adam is the question which rises about this time of the year from fruit growers everywhere. Is it better to plant fruit trees in the fall or the spring?

It all depends upon the kind of fruit and the locality in which it is to be planted, says Prof. M. A. Blake, horticulturist of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. Cherries, for instance which make their growth early in the season and then stop for the year, are better suited for fall planting. When set late in the spring, they not only fail to make much growth but a considerable number are likely to die.

Apples and peaches, on the other hand, often make a late fall growth in the nursery if weather conditions are favorable, and if transplanted late and subjected to severe weather conditions immediately afterward are quite likely to be severely winter-injured. Also, in districts where the frost heaves the soil in winter, fall-planted trees may be so loosened and thrown upward that the roots dry, freeze and are dead when spring opens.

Soil and climatic conditions in central and southern New Jersey are much more favorable for fall planting than in localities farther north. The surface of the soil seldom freezes until after November 1st, and the sandy loams remain in a mellow, workable condition. This often permits of planting well ripened trees in the fall under very favorable conditions.

Don't forget these two precautions in fall planting, however. Never set trees in soil so wet and sticky that it packs into lumps and clods, and don't fail to pack dry soil very firmly about the roots. Air spaces left about the roots either because the soil is too wet and lumpy or too dry, are almost certain to result in dead trees.

MOTORISTS IN COURT

At a hearing in the Moorestown Town Hall Thursday evening of last week Miss Rose Goldberg of Philadelphia, brought charges against John Lundy for reckless driving.

The cause for the case came about when Miss Rose Goldberg and John Lundy going in opposite directions, approached a standing truck at Main street and Lenola road, at the same time, and in attempting to pass the truck the cars sideswiped.

Mr. Lundy was fined $25 and costs by Justice of Peace Harry Wolf. There will be another hearing in the near future. The case has been appealed by Edward S. Sharpless, attorney for Lundy.

DR. BARNES ON RUSSIA

Dr. Earl Barnes will give his lecture on Russia, Wednesday evening, September 22, at eight o'clock at the Porch Club, as was stated last week, unless the seating capacity of the club room should prove inadequate. In that case the lecture will be given in the Public School auditorium. If a change is necessary, notices will be posted at the library, the post office and Stiles drug store.

P. S. Officials Renew Contract

Conservative Heads of Union Rule As Radicals Urge Stand-Pat Policy

The new three-year agreement covering the wages of the operating forces of Public Service Railway Company and Public Service Transportation Company was signed Monday afternoon by President Thomas N. McCarter on behalf of the companies and by the presidents of the nine locals of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America on behalf of the men.

The agreement provides a wage scale of sixty-five cents an hour for all operators in service a year or more, the rate now prevailing, for classification and uniform wage scale for employees other than trainmen and makes several modifications in working conditions asked for by the men.

With the assurance that officials of the Public Service Company would renew the present contract on the same basis, the union, which took place at Newark last week, a general rally of all the trolley and bus operators was conducted in Camden last Friday night and early Saturday morning.

At the two meetings, the eight points of contention were discussed between the union officials and the scale for employees other than trainmen presented the offers of Public Service.

Saturday from 6 a. m. until 6 p. m. a general poll of the opinion of the more than 300 car and trolley operators in Camden was taken.

At the same time votes were being cast in eight principal cities in the State.

At the close of the polling places, the ballot boxes were sealed and sent to union headquarters in Newark, where they were opened, and counted in the presence of the Public Service officials and union executives.

Under the direction of Raymond J. Adams, president of the local union, No. 889, various officers of the International Bus and Trolley Operators' Union were brought to Camden to attend the meetings and offer advice to the men.

While some more of the radical leaders of the union wished to hold out for an increase in salary, instead of accepting the renewing of the present wage contract, the more conservative heads of the union and leaders of the employees felt that victory was achieved with the renewing of the contract and the accepting of the eight points, which will do much to better the working conditions of the men.

At the car barn of the Public Service Corporation, the men expressed satisfaction that the trouble had been settled by the union officials and felt satisfied with the renewing of the contract.

The eight points in the new agreement are:

1. The present wage contract which will provide a maximum wage of 65 cents per hour, with a renewing of a three-year contract.

2. Salaries of all shop workers in all parts of the State shall be uniform.

3. A two-hour guarantee for men who report for extra work and are forced to return home because no "run" is provided. (This is an increase of one hour for extras.)

4. Bus drivers will no longer be forced to pay for their own permits. A proposition will be worked out whereby the company will pay for the permits. (Bus drivers in some sections of the State are forced to pay from $10 to $12. In Camden, the fee is $2.)

5. No "miss" will be charged against a man if he is on duty in time for his run. (A man had been obliged to report for work fifteen minutes before his scheduled time or lose the time of his run.)

6. All cars will be adequately heated and provided with equipment for climbing to the roof.

7. The posting of the working list shall be discontinued.

8. Suspensions of operators for accidents before an investigation is made shall be discontinued.

The eight points have been regarded by the men as victory, while point No. 2 is regarded as most important by the men and garage mechanics.

This has been a matter of contention for some time with the men, in regard to the big differences mechanics were paid in various parts of the State.

When the latest offer of the company was given to the union officials the conference board of the union, with the company, recommended that the latest offer be accepted.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Rubber

The usefulness of rubber was discovered by natives of South America hundreds of years ago, although it was not introduced into Europe until 1820, where it sold for $1.50 an inch. Its real value was not realized until Charles Goodrich, an American, perfected the process of making it into a hard substance by adding to it heated sulphur. (© 1926, Western Newspaper Union.)

TO BY FORESTS

Salem Senator Appointed to Purchase Land for State

Temporary appointment of Senator J. Gilbert Borton, of Salem, as field agent for the State Board of Conservation and Development in the purchase of land for the state forest purposes has been approved by the Civil Service Commission.

The position pays $250 a month. The 1926 Legislature appropriated $50,000 for the purpose of forest lands, the money being available during the current fiscal year. Should the next Legislature vote an added sum, which would tend to make the work of Senator Borton permanent it is the plan of the Civil Service Commission to hold a competitive examination for the place.

N. J. SPECIALISTS SUGGEST MEALS FOR SCHOOL CHILD

The average school child six to ten years old gains in weight and height steadily if enough of the right kind of food is eaten to supply the body with growth and energy material. The food for the child between these ages is best when simple and easy to digest. We are told by the New Jersey extension specialist in foods that breakfast and dinner should be the heavier meals with a light supper before going to bed.

After boys and girls reach the age of ten, growth becomes very rapid and a great amount of food is necessary to supply them with sufficient nourishment. Boys beyond ten are especially active and are likely to need more food than their fathers.

The choice of food for these growing boys and girls is important. Milk is still essential and a quart a day, if possible, should be drunk. It is best to limit the amount of liquids taken with meals to allow more space in the stomach for solid foods. Cooked cereals are more nourishing than the ready-to-serve varieties. A little thin cream added to the milk used on cereals adds more food value in a concentrated form. Cheese for the noon meal is another rich food, but should be combined with others. Vegetables and fruits are essential for the minerals and vitamins they contain; without them the bones and teeth cannot grow as they should. Fruits are generally liked, but vegetables are often not such favorites. Salads are popular with girls and may be served with a simple dressing. Boys will generally eat vegetables if they are told how necessary the minerals are to build strong bony framework for their body. Eggs and fish are excellent; meat is also, but the tendency is to eat too much of it. Meat once a day is enough. Cereal puddings, custards, one crust pie made of fruit, and milk and egg combinations may be given on occasions.

A lunch between meals of fruit, sandwiches, or milk is often required by growing boys and girls. The time will depend upon the school hours, but it should be kept regular from day to day. Sweets may be given at the end of meals, but the munching of candy between meals should not be encouraged.

Suggestion that women will soon wear suspenders makes us wonder whether their shoulders are broad enough to assume that responsibility.

Home-made beverages are older than written history, but the habit of blowing the side off the house is a later development.—Detroit News.

Eagle Knights Will Convene

Annual Session of the Grand Castle Will Be Held in Manasquan, Sept. 20

The 43d annual session of the Grand Castle of New Jersey Knights of the Golden Eagle, will be held in Manasquan on Monday, September 20, beginning at 10 o'clock, daylight saving time.

For the first time in many years the State body will therefore meet elsewhere than in Trenton, the revised laws allowing each Grand Castle to fix the place of the next session.

Special preparations for the occasion have been made by Clyde Castle, of Manasquan, and a large attendance of past chiefs from the many castles of the State is expected. The Masonic Hall, corner of Main street and Taylor avenue, will be the place of meeting. Business will be disposed of as rapidly as possible. There will be an adjournment of only half an hour at noon for a light lunch and at 4 o'clock the Grand Castle will adjourn that the members may participate in a clambake, which will take place in a grove. Wives of the sir knights may take part in this and an elaborate meal is promised.

Grand Chief Fred G. Jublou, of Millville, who completes an active year in behalf of the order, will preside at the session of the Grand Castle and will be the election of new officers will become past grand chief and eligible to enter the Supreme Castle. Mayor Lloyd Riddle, of Manasquan, will officially welcome the sir knights.

Grand Vice Chief Clyde C. Oakley, of Madison, a member of Newark Castle, is in line for the post of grand chief and Grand Sir Herald Norman E. Kline, of Flemington, will become grand vice chief. F. Edgerton Reynolds, of Bradley Beach, who has proved himself an efficient and popular grand master of records in the short time he has held the office, will undoubtedly be reelected. Grand High Priest Lewis M. Wolf, of Manasquan, and Grand Keeper of Exchequer Charles A. Compton, of Bridgeton, hold over, having been elected at Trenton last year for five-year terms. Who will become grand sir herald, the post which leads to the chair of grand chief, is uncertain but it is said that there are several candidates for the honor. The new officers will be installed by Supreme Chief Walter C. Baus, of Philadelphia.

Several questions of interest and importance are scheduled to come before the Grand body and some earnest debates are expected.

MARMALADE AND CONSERVES WILL PLEASE THE FAMILY

Peach and orange marmalade, grape conserve, and plum conserve are three preserves that are likely to be appreciated by most families, says Marie Doormann, New Jersey Extension Specialist in foods. All three of them are easy to make.

For peach and orange marmalade take 30 peaches, peel and cut them into slices and add an equal amount of sugar. To this add the juice of 3 oranges and the rind of one which has been cut in a food chopper. Cook until the mixture thickens—about two hours. Pour in hot sterilized glasses, cool, and seal with paraffin.

Grape conserve is made by using 4 cups of grapes which have been washed and the stems removed. Cook a few minutes and rub through a strainer to remove the seeds. Slice two oranges—very thin or cut them in the food chopper and mix with the grape pulp, then add 1 cup of seeded raisins and 3 cups of sugar. Cook the mixture until thick and when about finished

CONSTITUTION DAY

By formal proclamation Monday Governor Moore requested observance of Friday as Constitution Day.

"Constitution Day will be celebrated on Friday, September 17, and marks the one hundred and thirty-ninth year of this great document," said the proclamation. "Celebrating as we are, the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the birth of our nation, it is eminently fitting that we should emphasize Constitution Day, and pay a fitting tribute to the fundamental law of our land, and to its framers."

"I direct that the national flag be displayed on all public buildings and business places in the state of New Jersey on that day, from sunrise to sunset, and urge upon all citizens of the state to likewise display our national emblem on that day."

add 1 cup of chopped walnut meats. Pour in hot sterilized jars and seal.

For plum conserve take 3 pounds of blue plums, 3 cups of sugar, juice of 1 lemon, 1 pound of seedless raisins, 1 orange and 1 cup of nut meats. Slice the plums and orange, add the sugar, raisins, and lemon juice. Cook this mixture until thick, add the nuts and cook 15 minutes longer. Pack in sterilized glasses and seal with paraffin when cold.

Marmalades, jams, and conserves, when well made have a bright color and retain the flavor of the fruit. Rapid cooking over a hot fire is essential to retain a good color, but great care must be used to prevent the mixture from scorching.

NEW VICE PRESIDENT FOR NASH COMPANY

M. H. Pettit Will Also Become General Manager

Effective October 15th, C. W. Nash, president of The Nash Motors Company, announces the appointment of M. H. Pettit as Vice-President and Assistant General Manager of the Company. In referring to the addition of Mr. Pettit to the executive personnel of the Company, Mr. Nash says: "Mr. Pettit comes to the Company from the Simmons Company of Kenosha, Wisconsin, and New York, with which company he has been associated for the past three years, working his way up to his present position of Vice-President and General Manager."

"When Mr. Pettit made connections with the Simmons Company three years ago, he resigned the position as Vice-President of the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company of Racine, Wisconsin, with which company he had been associated for twenty years, being responsible for the manufacturing activities of that company."

"The addition of Mr. Pettit to the executive force of the Company in no way changes the responsibility of the present executive but will help relieve their present heavy burden."

"The very substantial development of The Nash Motors Company, and the prospect of continued opportunity for further sound growth, has brought to the executive management of the Company increasing responsibility, and it is the policy of the management to maintain executive strength in proportion to the Company's needs."

"This addition of Mr. Pettit to our present unchanged executive group makes a strong contribution to our ability to continue the prosperous and growing development of the Company in the automobile industry."

He—"I love you and want you for my wife." She—"But are you sure your wife will like me?"

Haddonfield Net Star Victor in Tournament Held at Moorestown

Charles P. Orr, the Haddonfield net star, annexed the West Jersey singles tennis championship in the tournament which opened at the Moorestown Field Club Saturday, September 11, and wound up the latter part of last week.

E. W. Palmer, of Moorestown, gave the champ the biggest fight in the second round when the concluding set went to 10-8 after the local favorite had gone down to a 6-2 defeat in the first set.

Orr downed C. S. Mears, Riverton, 6-2, 6-1. In the opening round, set back L. L. Glover, Haddonfield, 6-3, 6-2, in the semi-finals and easily won over H. Furness, Haddonfield, in the finals, taking both sets by easy scores, 6-2, 6-3.

E. W. Palmer, John G. Pettit, and C. Brook Wallace, Moorestown Field Club representatives, survived the first round of the tourney. All three were dropped in the next bracket, Palmer losing to Orr, Glover taking Pettit's measure and Wallace dropping his match to the other finalist.

Miss Margaret Jones, of the local club, won in the first and second rounds, but was defeated by Miss L. Pittinger, Haddonfield, in the semi-finals, 6-4, 6-3. Miss Pittinger and Miss L. Glover, both of Haddonfield, were scheduled to meet in the ladies' finals.

Moorestown was not represented in the girls' tournament and H. Stokes, the only local contestant in the boys' match, lost his initial set to D. Bower, a Merchantville lad, won the boys' crown by defeating L. Warner, Riverton, 6-4, 6-3.

FOOTBALL

Mount Holly Expected to Have Fine Grid Team This Year

Football enthusiasm in Mount Holly is now right up to the boiling point and this year the town is going to have a fine representation of the platoon chasers, according to reports.

This much was settled last week when thirty candidates for consideration, more than enough for two teams and some to spare, reported for the first practice and tryout to be directed by Mount Holly's old-time foot ball player and coach, "Daddy" Linton.

It was such a fine showing that Linton is having a terrific time to keep his enthusiasm within bounds and save himself from an examination such as the law requires two physicians to make. He is not wholly crazy about the response given, but he feels that he may yet have to order a straight jacket, says one of the County Seat enthusiasts.

COUNTY CONFERENCE

Young People to Gather at Mt. Holly September 17 and 18

Young people and adults interested in young people's work in the country will assemble at the Mount Holly Presbyterian church on September 17 and 18 for a conference that will be of country-wide importance.

The theme of the conference will be "Knowing, Doing and Being." The challenge will be followed by discussion groups. After this form of discussion the subject "Knowing" will be presented by the speaker of the evening.

The Saturday session opens with morning watch at seven thirty, followed by cafeteria breakfast at eight. Recreation is a feature that has been amply provided for and holds surprises for each delegate. After the recreation period the subject "Doing" will be presented.

Immediately after the lunch the various denominations meet in their respective groups to discuss problems of special interest to them. The main feature of the conference, the banquet, is at six o'clock. At this time the installation of officers and various other reports will be given. The final subject "Being" will then be presented. The conference will close with the Friendship Circle.

DUDLEY-REYNOLDS

Maurice H. Dudley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Justus H. Dudley, of West Second street, and Josephine Reynolds, of Lumberton, were married Saturday, September 4, at New York City.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Gordon Kristead.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Dudley left on a two-weeks' auto trip through the New England States and Canada. They will return by way of Niagara Falls.

News Tid Bits

Items of General Interest Picked Up About the County and State

After getting bad gashes of the face and neck when the car in which he was riding collided with another car on the road from Brown's Mills to Pemberton on Monday night of last week, Charles Hicks, age 75, of Hanover Farms, had the misfortune to receive the additional injuries when the automobile in which he was being conveyed to the Burlington County Hospital lost a wheel and was ditched.

Charles Edison has succeeded his father, Thomas A. Edison, as president of all of the Edison companies. The inventor has become chairman of the board of directors.

Fire caused damage of $30,000 in the Wainwright Building at Ocean Grove Wednesday night of last week. The spectacular blaze left only the skeleton of the three-story structure. The building located in the heart of the resort, housed a department of the Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Association, a Masonic club room and a mattress plant.

A communication has been sent to the Public Service Company by

Woodbury city council asking to fix its trolley terminal in Woodbury at the city park. Residents of the east side have complained that some of the cars have not run all the way to city park but have unloaded at Broad and Cooper streets and started from there for the return trip to Camden.

According to reports coming from the reading of the will of Henry Cowperthwait, eight-four years, after he had been buried from his residence in Columbus on Tuesday afternoon of last week, there is left an estate estimated between $50,000 and $100,000 to be distributed among his surviving relatives, mostly cousins.

The chiropractors of New Jersey will seek to have the State examine and register all those who wish to enter the profession. The tentative outline of a bill which would empower the State to do this was drafted at a meeting of the directors of the New Jersey State Chiropractors Society in Camden last week. It will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature.

Wet weather that flooded the meadow lands during most of August and caused a mosquito and fly plague along the entire New Jersey coast has revived in Ocean County towns and resorts a campaign for Federal, county and local effort to more effectively combat the pests in that section.

When Alfred C. Miller, former principal of the Wesley Avenue School, Ocean City, went to the building Thursday of last week, as schools reopened for the term, he found he had been assigned to no position. He called over the telephone to Professor James M. Stevens, superintendent of schools, asking whether any assignment had been made for him. He was told that his connection with the school system terminated with the close of the session in June. Miller asked Superintendent Stevens to put this statement in writing and the superintendent referred him to City Solicitor Baswell, local representative of the Board of Education.

It was could be conducted on the "pay as you enter" plan, maybe there wouldn't be so many of them.

FOR RIVERSIDE TEAM

Last Saturday the Riverton baseball team lost its fifth game of the season by a 7-4 score, the victors being the Riverside A. C. of the Burlington County League. Eight errors by local boys in reason enough why the "mill-town" boys won the contest.

With two down in the first, Riverside scored a run when Hydon dropped Young's pop fly. Truman dropped Faye's throw allowing home to be safe. Truman threw to Gaffney in an effort to catch Young at third but Gaffney missed the pill hitting Young's legs.

Things looked bright when the home boys came back in the first to score a run. Green fanned. King walked, took second on Gaffney's sacrifice, stole third and home so fast the Riverside lads never saw him coming.

Again in the second Riverside scored one run when Gotta was safe on Truman's error, after Hoffman singled and was out between home and third. King came in from center to play first. Bennett pegged to home plate and Jimmy Burr played right. This change helped Truman on duties at first. Hughes singled, scoring Gotta. Nelson walked. Edge hit to center but the "Mayor" was under the pill. After catching Edge's hit, Bennett pegged to home plate and between Mendenhall and Hinkle Hughes was tagged out.

The Riverton boys were helpless during the second frame. Five batters in the third scored four markers for the Riverside tribe. Young singled. Horne doubled sending Young to third. Orfe slapped a single scoring Young and Horne. Headman was out at first. Hoffman walked and Gotta was out at first. "Rube" Grill, of Philadelphia, relieved Hinkle at this time. Hughes bounced a lucky single through the infield, scoring Hoffman who took second on Gotta's sacrifice. Edge fanned.

Riverside was helpless in the following inning, except for one run in the sixth.

The fifth frame brought one more run to the local boys. Grill singled and Green sent him to second with a bunt. King fanned. Grill stole third and home when Heits Young missed a pitched ball.

In the seventh Grill flied out. Green walked, stole second and third and scored on Faye's single.

The ninth also produced a run for the local boys. Young singled, stole second, went to third on Grill's infield hit and then stole home when Young was not looking.

Bennett and Mendenhall led the Riverton boys at the bat with two hits each, while Orfe led the visitors with three singles. Hughes, Hoffman and Young each had two bingles.

Edge had six assists at short. Hughes and Orfe each had four assists.

Hughes fanned six of the Riverton batters while Hinkle fanned one invader and Grill turned back eight men on strikes.

ROTARIANS TOLD OF OLD HOME DAYChairman Wimer Outlined Plan of Big Event on 20th

George N. Wimer, Walter Lamon and Fred G. Fromm were guests at the weekly Rotary Club dinner, September 15. The members were pleased to have these prominent Palmyra men meet with them, and the invitation to participate in the Old Home Day program was heartily accepted. George Wimer outlined the plans for the day, and it was evident that a lot of thought and work has been done to make the day a big success.

Another surprise in the form of vocal selections by Walter Campbell, one of the members of the Camden Rotary Club quartette, was enjoyed and sincerely appreciated by every one.

Dr. Elwood A. Harrar then gave a most interesting and thought-provoking talk on "Cultivating Vacant Lots." Dr. Harrar is a member of Rotary at Camden, and an active minister. He was first successful in business, and since taking up the ministry, has combined his business and his practical experience in a very effective manner. His thought was that we should provide the com-

The Riverton Baseball Club will stage its last battle of the season this Saturday when the local aggregation meets the U. S. Army team from Fort Washington for the second time this season.

After catching Edge's hit, Bennett pegged to home plate and between Mendenhall and Hinkle Hughes was tagged out.

The Riverton boys were helpless during the second frame. Five batters in the third scored four markers for the Riverside tribe.

Young singled. Horne doubled sending Young to third. Orfe slapped a single scoring Young and Horne. Headman was out at first. Hoffman walked and Gotta was out at first.

"Rube" Grill, the portlander who stopped Riverside after the third frame last week will be on the mound for the local aggregation. He has plenty of speed and an abundance of "stuff" with which to bamme the Army boys.

Joe Luciano, the star third sacker, who was taken by Connie Mack earlier in the season, will appear in the local batting line-up. Joe has been playing first class ball with the Dover, Delaware team in the Eastern Shore League. Joe is keeping his promise to play with Riverton if the local team had any games scheduled after the Dover team finished its season. Now it is up to the people of Riverton to show their appreciation of Joe's faithfulness by turning out 100% to root for the future "big leaguer."

Next spring Joe will accompany the A's to their southern training camp.

In order to close the season at full speed the local management wants a big crowd to attend the battle and every one to wear a yellow tax to show his loyalty to the town of Riverton, the management, the players and to themselves.

MISS MEITNER IS NOT DISCOURAGEDDetermined to Have Try at Home where She is Born as Weather Permits

Miss Maxine Meitner, of Riverton, who had been planning all summer for a trial at the Delaware Bay, has met with a series of disappointments owing to weather conditions. The contemplated swim was from Cape May to Lewes, Delaware.

August 21 was one of the dates set, but was postponed on account of the heavy weather. The next date was September 2, but the trial was again deferred to the next day owing to the same conditions. The weather not improving, however, the swim was taken until September 17. Still old Neptune was in too rough a mood. Miss Meitner decided to wait until Tuesday of this week.

In the meantime along came the cyclone which devastated Florida and culled up the waters as far as Delaware Bay, and the event was again called off.

Miss Meitner's swimming instructor, George Corner, of Riverton, says that his pupil is determined to make the trial as soon as weather conditions permit.

UTOPIA IN
THE MAKINGDr. Barnes Portrays Working Out of Communistic Idea
in Russia

The Porch Club was not large enough to hold the men and women who desired to hear Dr. Barnes tell about his recent trip to Russia, and the meeting was held in the Public School auditorium. Wednesday night, under the auspices of the League of Women Voters section of the Porch Club.

Dr. Barnes started out by saying that nearly all the statements published in this country about Russia were untrue or misleading, and that it was highly desirable in his opinion for Americans to watch the development of the governmental experiments in Russia with an open mind.

He said that under the Communist regime in that country, there had been a great leveling of material possessions. That is, while some were very well dressed, neither were any in rags. He said the greatest drawback to the country getting going again was the fact that capital and skilled labor had been driven out of industry, and without these factors could not resume operations, and no one could lend Russia money because she had repudiated the debts incurred by the regime to the Czar.

Dr. Barnes said that while he was in Russia, he had asked a great many people whether or not the Soviet Government was going to meet the public obligations of the previous government. They countered, he said, by asking him when the United States Government was going to reimburse foreign investors for the destruction of the property value of the slaves when they were liberated, and for the breweries which were rendered non-productive by the passage of the Prohibition amendment.

Referring to family relations, in Russia, Dr. Barnes pointed out that in all of Russia last year, there was only one-fourth as many divorces in proportion to the number of marriages as there were in our own state of Illinois.

NEW "Y" SECRETARY

Clifford Ergood, of Camden Co.,
"Found" by Secretary Scott
Will Help Hendry

Clifford W. Ergood, of Mt. Ephraim, Camden county, New Jersey, has accepted the invitation of the Burlington County YMCA Committee to join its secretarial staff on a full-time basis, to be associated with Secretary Hendry in the promotion of work with boys.

In addition to four years at high school, Mr. Ergood has just completed another four years at Colgate where he graduated last week. Mr. Ergood first came to the attention of Secretary Hendry through the recommendation of Secretary Scott.

When Secretary Scott learned that Mr. Ergood had accepted the Burlington County Committee's invitation, he pointed out what a fine illustration that was of "casting one's bread on the waters and having it return after many days." Mr. Scott at one time was a teacher of Manual Training at the Mount Holly High School, and while doing this, led a group. As the result of this interest and the interest of Secretary Shoemaker and Chairman Overman in Mr. Scott he later decided to go into the Association work which he commenced in Camden county.

Mr. Ergood became interested in the "Secretaries" through Mr. Scott. Burlington County discovered a man for Camden county, and that same man, in turn, discovered a high school fellow who, by the County Secretary, is inspired to go on to college and prepare for the ministry, and now comes to Burlington county.

Again this season Mr. Ergood will be at Ocean Grove, after which he will begin making acquaintances around the county preparatory to the opening up of the fall work. A further bit of training which Mr. Scott will have will be received during two weeks in August which he will spend at the YMCA Summer Training School at Silver Bay, Lake George.

The County Committee, then, takes this opportunity to present to you Clifford W. Ergood as a member of its staff.

Mr. Ergood will make his home in Riverton for a short time, to get acquainted with this section of the county.

Twenty Chinchilla Rabbits To Be Added To The Farm Stock

The Brown's Mills Silver Fox Farm, situated on the stone road leading to Fumerton, and but a short distance from the popular all-year-around resort among the pines, is attracting a great deal of interest these days.

Since announcement was first made recently concerning the new and unique venture in which a number of well-known Burlington county and Pennsylvania men are investors, there have been many inquiries for additional information, in most cases with an eye to investment. If the project appears as practical after investigation as it does at first sight.

Carpenters are busy putting up more pens for the reception of the additional ten pairs of foxes to arrive next month from the Silver Fox Ranch, at Wyncote, Pa., the owners of which are heavily interested in the new Brown's Mills enterprise. There are now the five pairs of foxes with which the "farm" started last year.

The newcomers have grown quite accustomed to their new surroundings and seem to like the Jersey environment.

An additional shipment of ten pairs of Chinchilla rabbits is expected from the West in the near future, and the new building is also being under construction.

There are visitors every day to see the new ranch and its interesting livestock.

Dr. C. B. Shore, of Wyncote, an authority of national reputation concerning fox breeding, and one of the ten national inspectors of fox ranches, has become interested in the Brown's Mills ranch will keep a supervisory eye over the foxes.

He knows the fox-raiding business from beginning to end and he is also a much-sought-after judge at fox shows, which are held in some other parts of the country more than in the Philadelphia district.

Rev. A. W. Boswick, of Vincetown, has been employed as a stock salesman by the company, and he REPORTS AN AMAZING AMOUNT OF "IN-TEREST" BEING SHOWN ON THE PART OF THE PEOPLE IN THIS SECTION.

GET GOOD BODY WEIGHT FOR BEST OUTPUT OF EGGS
A study of the body weight of pullets entered in the International Egg Laying Contest at Vineland, N. J., reveals the fact that production during the first winter may be greatly hindered because of the lack of development of body weight of the pullets. Underfed birds, weighing from 2½ to 3 pounds on November 1, averaged 35 to 38 eggs during the four winter months (November to February), whereas birds weighing 4 to 5 pounds produced 45 to 50 eggs or more during the same period.

A weight of four pounds on November 1 has been found to be a good standard. It may be slightly lowered in the case of some strains of light-weight Leghorns but, says the college, it would be better to breed towards the heavier type if satisfactory long-time results are to be expected.

Investigation has shown, says the State College of agriculture, that smallness is an indication of poor nutrition, parasite infestation, hereditary weakness or other factors which render a pullet unfit for producing a profitable number of eggs.

Observation shows that development of the desired weight in a strain capable of attaining the proper size largely depends upon proper feeding. A normal developing ration is fed until the birds reach the weight desired. Heavy grain feeding is important. Laying machines that in any way tend to cause premature egg-production are to be avoided. Toxics, however, should be avoided. Under good management, the body weight of a pullet continues to increase slightly throughout the entire fall and winter, even after laying begins.

The Life That's Led in the World of Journalism Getting out a newspaper is no picnic.

If we print jokes, people say we are silly.
If we don't, they say we are too serious.
If we publish original matter, they say we lack variety.
If we publish things from other papers, we are too lazy to write.
If we are rustling news we are not attending to the business of our own department.
If we don't print contributions, we don't show proper appreciation.
If we do print them, the paper is filled with junk.

Items of General Interest Picked Up About the County and State

Gains in employment were noted in many major industries in August and prospects for full fall employment are bright, the Department of Labor reports in its survey.

The question of the appointment of a Republican lawyer to the Circuit Court Judgeship made vacant by the recent death of Judge Theodore W. Schimpf, is reported to have narrowed down to Robert Peacock, of Mount Holly, and W. Frank Booy, of Atlantic City. Each is said to have influential backing for the post which carries with it a salary of $10,000. The term is seven years.

The wedding of Ernest Edgar Johnson, member of the pitching staff of the Mount Holly baseball team, and Miss Evelyn, daughter of Mrs. Alice Mary Malins, of White street, Mount Holly, took place at the parsonage of the M. E. Church, Brainerd street, at 5.30 Saturday evening of last week. Rev. Franklin Haley officiated.

John Gerald Austin and Miss Louis J. Kiefer, both of Mount Holly, were joined in marriage on Thursday evening of last week at the residence of Rev. Curwen M. Fisher, who performed the ceremony. The attendants were Miss E. Young and J. Elwell Gaskill. The bride formerly resided at Burlington.

State motor vehicle inspectors have started their annual tour of South Jersey districts to ascertain whether drivers have license cards and if the lights comply with the law. There was a big roundup of drivers in the vicinity of Vineland Thursday.

It has been found that some of the bus and truck drivers are using licenses from across the Delaware River with New Jersey license tags on the vehicles. Many drivers declare that they are busy to take the examination for a license.

Charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and non-support of his family, William Kee, special policeman in Burlington, was given a hearing before Mayor Mooney, of that city, last week. The money charge was preferred by Leon Kayson, of Riverton, a bus driver in the employ of Harry McCloskey. The non-support charge was preferred by the county officials. Kee was given an opportunity by the Mayor to make good the five dollars he had borrowed, and a sum was fixed which he must pay weekly on the non-support charge.

Trooper Herman Bading, well known in Burlington county, has been assigned to investigate new clues that have been obtained relating to the murder of Caroline Turner at Lakewood in 1911. William J. Leehan, now a resident of Philadelphia, who was tried and acquitted at Toms River in 1913 for committing the crime, has presented some new evidence that may be of value in solving the mystery. He desires complete vindication through apprehension of the murderer. He says his arrest, years ago, was a frameup, and although he was quickly freed by the jury, the stigma has hindered him in business affairs. Mrs. Turner, 35 years of age, employed as a seamstress in the Gould family, was found in some woods in the rear of Leehan's home, which then was at Lakewood, with her skull crushed. She had mysteriously disappeared from home two days before the body was found.

Reports of a typhoid epidemic in Haddonfield were denied last week by the State Department of Health. The rumors, it was stated, probably were based upon the issuance of instructions by the Haddonfield Board of Health that water should be boiled before using it for potable purposes. Those instructions followed a discovery that the water supply of Haddonfield, obtained from artesian wells, had become polluted. As a precautionary measure, pending discovery of the source of pollution and its correction, the local board suggests boiling the water. It was stated at Trenton that the nearest point to Haddonfield at which typhoid had been discovered was at Collingswood, where an isolated case occurred. The patient being a man who actually worked in the waters of the Delaware.

Miss Mildred Worrell, aged 20, of Mount Holly avenue, had a car wrecked while driving her Ford roadster from Burlington to Mount Holly and ran into a ditch, striking a tree and overturning the car, which was badly wrecked. Miss Worrell was taken to the Burlington County Hospital, suffering from a dislocated hip, lacerations of the forehead, bruises of the body and shock.

While parked at the corner of Main and Broad streets, Mount Holly, Wednesday afternoon of last week, the Overland car belonging to Mrs. Mary Weston, town nurse, was struck by a Buick automobile driven by a man who did not stop to learn the extent of the damage he had caused. Witnesses, however, got the number of his license and the Buick car belonging to Joseph Sadel, of Trenton. The Trentonian has been summoned to make an explanation of his action. The Overland car's principal damage is a broken spring.

Sidewalks and curbs for nearly a mile and a half of Bay Boulevard, on its entire course through Brant Beach, will be laid this fall under provisions of an ordinance drawn up by the Long Beach Township Committee. Electric arcs and incandescents lamps also will be used in a brilliant illumination plan on the boulevard. Extensive developments and a big program of building have made these municipal improvements a necessity. The busiest fall and winter in the history of Long Beach resorts is predicted by contractors.

Wet weather that flooded the meadow lands during most of August and caused a mosquito and fly plague along the entire New Jersey coast, has received in Ocean county towns and resorts a campaign for Federal, county and local effort to more effectively combat the pests in that section. Except under extreme conditions of dampness, such as have existed during the present summer, Ocean county resorts, according to engineers, can be made as free from insect pests as any other section of the coast.

500,000 MILE AUTO

Busk With Unique Record Has Already Covered 454,700 Miles

A Buick of the vintage of 1917, yet "still going strong" visited Moorestown Motor Company last Thursday.

The automobile relic, which is out to establish a new long-distance record for automobiles by putting 500,000 miles on its speedometer, has already traveled 454,700 of the miles.

Now it's merely the skeleton of the machine which was new in the World War days. The chassis and motor remain almost intact, but the body is now a miniature home, used by the driver, Walter B. Adams, his wife and two-year-old son as their housekeeping quarters on their jaunts across America.

Adams says he has made 58 trips from coast to coast and on his 48th from border to border, which he claims is a record for one automobile and one driver.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams said they made their livelihood by writing and selling songs and proved it by insisting that spectators purchase copies of their recent song his, "My Old Violin." They carry a typewriter in their traveling home and when the inspiration comes, they stop and type off another hit.

Adams says the next car he buys will be a Buick. It will climb hills, give service and fun and will serve him faithfully until he wins a wager by driving it the 500,000 miles.

Out of an appropriation of $725,000 for the schools of St. Louis County, Minn., a balance of $80,000 remained at the end of the year. This county covers 4,600 square miles, and is one of the largest in the United States. Three of the State are smaller.

Start Razing Coles' Hotel

Work on $250,000 Bank Building To Be Completed in Nine Months

Work is now underway and within nine months a fine stone building will replace old Coles' Hotel on East Main street, Moorestown. Roberts & Rollin, Philadelphia contractors who have been awarded the contract to erect the new Burlington County Trust Company at a cost of approximately $250,000, started this week on the work of razing the old hotel.

Completion of the new building is scheduled within nine months from the time the work started.

The exterior of the building, which will be about sixty feet in width and ninety feet in depth, will be of Green River limestone, a clear white rock with much the appearance of marble, except for the fact that it has a slight crystallized effect.

Nothing has been slighted in the plans. Everything will be the best, and the result of much diligent investigating by the directors who have made a sincere effort to make it one of the finest banking houses in this section.

The roof will be of copper and leaded.

The interior finish will be light walnut and the specifications call for bronze in the hardware and grills. Revolving doors will be at the main entrance.

According to the plans, the general space in the center of the building, will have a marble floor. Fire egresses will be on one side and the officers' desk spaces and offices on the other. There will be women's rooms, an office for the Workmen's Building and Loan Association, various officials' offices, work rooms, board and committee rooms on the second floor.

The building will be heated with warm air and will have motor-driven fans for ventilation.

The vault will be sixteen feet square, divided in two compartments, for use of safety boxes and the other for the private use of the Trust Company.

BATHER DROWNS IN RANOCAS

Unable to Swim and Unable Out Into Deep Water

William Mertino, 24 years old, of Philadelphia, was drowned in the Ranocas creek, at Leeds' Wharf, Sunday of last week. He and two other young men had come from the city that day to visit relatives and went down to the creek. Mertino, despite the protests of his companions, decided to go into the water, although he couldn't swim.

He waded into the stream and soon got into deep water, where his friends saw him struggling and bear him calling for help. One of the young men tried to rescue him, but was unsuccessful, owing to the strong current at that point, where the creek is narrow and deep.

The body was recovered near the wharf about two hours after the drowning. Coroner Bolton made an investigation and certified it was a case of accidental drowning. The remains were sent to Philadelphia.

Traffic fatalities in this country now amount to 24,000 a year.

Dog Field Trials Held in October

Setters and Pointers at Bedford Farm, Douglas at Birmingham Farm

Field trials of setter and pointer dogs, to be held on the farm of the Friends of the Hunting Dog, near Bedford, beginning on Monday, October 18th and continuing until finished, were arranged for at a meeting of members of the Burlington County Game Protective League, held at the court house on Monday night. Dr. M. W. Newcomb, president of the league, presided at the meeting.

There will be two classes—the all-age class and a derby class. The latter class will be restricted to puppies whelped January 1, 1935. The entrance fee will be $2 in each event a dog starts. Dogs that have won or been placed in other field trials will be barred.

Entries are open to members of the Burlington County Game League, wherever they reside, and to non-members who live in Burlington county. No dog will be allowed to be handled by a professional.

The entries, which positively will close on Friday, October 15, must be accompanied by the entrance fee. Drawings will take place at the court house on Saturday, October 18, at 5 p. m.

Entry blanks can be obtained from William W. Worrell, Mount Holly, to whom all entries are to be sent.

Mr. Worrell will donate the trophy for the all-age class and John W. Davis, of Burlington, for the derby class.

Single trials October 20

Preliminary arrangements also were made for single trials to be held Wednesday, October 22, on the Norcross & Edwards said farm at Birmingham.

There will be two classes, the same as in the setter and pointer trials, and the same other rules will prevail. The entrance fee will be 50 cents and entries are to be mailed to Lewis Mantel, Pemberton, who also will supply blanks upon request. Entries will close on October 15 and drawing will be made at the court house on the night of October 16.

"Chicago principals secure 100 per cent in arithmetic computation from every child," is the statement in a letter to the United States Commissioner of Education from the superintendent, Dr. William McAdams. The annual report of the Chicago public schools relates how it is done, he says.

The main street of any town over a hundred thousand is a bad place for the week to wait to inherit the earth.

VICTOR STOCK SOARS

Persons in this vicinity interested in the Victor Talking Machine Company, either as stockholders or as employees, were gratified by the very encouraging statement issued last week concerning the present business and earnings of the company, which seems to have come through its trying period and now to be on the high road to a restoration of its position on the stock. The stock reached a new high mark for the present movement on Saturday when it was quoted at $103 asked and $101 bid.

Steadily increasing business of the Victor Company is the reason assigned for the advance.

The Wall Street Journal states that the Victor Talking Machine Company's earnings for the first six months of 1936 were between $2,500,000 and $3,000,000, or more than $10 a share on the outstanding common stock of approximately $25,000,000.

A Pioneer of Development!

ELECTRIC railways were pioneers in the extension of traffic arteries. In many instances they built their own right of way without waiting for the public to provide paved streets for their operation.

Throughout the Public Service system there are many evidences of this spirit of initiative and enterprise testifying to the great work of community development accomplished by utilities for the public.

Viaducts, bridges, subways, terminals and other structures which are a part of the plant of Public Service Railway show some of the advantages gained by the people when their transit service is rendered by transportation companies financially able to do their work.

THE QUESTION BOX

Thunder of Lightning
K. D. East Riverton—I see you answer any kind of question, so I am going to ask you why we have lightning in summer and not in winter?

Ans.—The heat of summer produces great evaporation, and the conversion of water into vapor always develops electricity, which lightning is composed of.

Book of Ruth
C. Y. Riverton—Please tell us who wrote the book of Ruth in the Bible and what is the date?

Ans.—The author of the book of Ruth and the date are not known.
In the Bible it has been placed between Judges and Samuel, because it appears to be an appendix to the former and an introduction to the latter.

Mourning of Sabotage
F. D. Five Points—What is the mourning of sabotage and moron?

Ans.—Sabotage is the willful destruction of machinery and material by workmen through apparently accidental means. Tradition has it that a workman in France threw his wooden shoe (sabot) into some machinery and that others adopted similar means and called it "accidental" hence sabotage. A moron is a person with an unnatural desire for the companionship of a child.

Self-Examination
H. R. Cambridge—I wish to ask if it is a bad characteristic to criticize oneself? At times I can see my own faults and mistakes, but I am told it is not a good thing to be self-critical.

Ans.—Occasionally self-examination is helpful, but to make it a habit renders one self-centered. He then becomes egotistical and too well satisfied with himself, or else he becomes sensitive and timid and unable to do his best.

"Eight Bells"
S. C. Palmyra—Last week I heard a fellow say it was "eight bells" when it was 8 o'clock. Was he right?

Ans.—He was right if it was 8 o'clock in the morning, but not in the evening. Eight bells means 8
a. m., 12 noon, 4 p. m. and at midnight.

Home Sweet Home
F. F. Riverton—I have always been anxious to know who wrote
"Home, Sweet Home." Can you tell me in your question column?

Ans.—The words were by John Howard Payne, and the melody is said to be of Italian or Sicilian origin.

Great Chinese Wall
R. C. Five Points—I wish you would answer in your question column how high and how thick is the Great Chinese Wall?

Ans.—The Great Chinese Wall ranges in thickness from 10 to 25 feet, and in height it ranges from 10 to 30 feet.

U. S. Mints
R. D. Riverton—Can you tell me where the five mints are in the United States?

Ans.—At the present time there are only three mints—San Francisco, Denver and Philadelphia. Previously there were five when Carson City and New Orleans mints were in operation. But these latter two have been discontinued.

Weight of Hay Varies
F. L. Riverton—Will you please tell me how many pounds of hay it takes to make a bushel?

Ans.—Fifty-six in all the states except Louisiana and California.
In the former 32 pounds of hay makes a bushel, and in the latter 34 pounds to a bushel.

May 18, 1917
S. S. Palmyra—Will you please answer when the first American arrived in Europe for service in the World War?

Ans.—On May 18, 1917, the first contingent of American soldiers arrived at a British port. It was a unit of the medical corps.

107th Psalm
F. P. Palmyra—I have been told there are verses in the Bible exactly alike. If this is true can you tell me what they are?

Ans.—The 107th Psalm contains the same verse in four places.

Origin of Dollar Sign
H. S. Palmyra—Can you answer in your paper what is the origin of the dollar sign ($)?

Ans.—It is not definitely known.
There are two strong theories. One is that the dollar sign in this country came from the time of the pillar dollar of Spain. This was known as the "Piso de España" (meaning silver piece), the curve being a partial representation of the figure 8, and the two vertical strokes are thought to represent the Pillars of Hercules. The other theory is that the dollar sign is a monogram of "S" with the lower part of the "S" left off in order to be easily made.

YOUR OPPORTUNITY, PERHAPS A rollable New York concern has written to the editor asking him to suggest a man with the following qualifications: age, between 30 and lege education desirable but not clean, high-grade man with a record of success in his previous business or professional experience; must be ambitious, anxious to get may even be a man now employed who has come to a realization of the income limitations of his present occupation or employment.

If any reader of this paper would like to learn full particulars of the proposition, he may send his name

INDUSTRIAL MEETING

Washington, D. C., September 23, 1926

The first meeting of the Industrial Association after the summer vacation was held in the Washington Hotel, Monday evening of this week. An excellent dinner was served by the hotel, and afterward, convention reports and an address by Milton H. German, vice-president of the John B.
Stetson Company, constituted a most interesting program for the evening.

Edward M. Stevens, of the Stetson Process Company, Burlington, reported on the conference on Human Relations in Industry at Silver Bay, August 25 to 29 and the first new business meeting was held at Washington, the state Y. M. C.
A. camp, June 19 and 20, and speaking of "Business and Society," Mr. German traced the policy of the Stetson firm toward its employees from the beginning and briefly described the profit-sharing plan, the bonus plan, stock ownership, the savings fund, weekend outing, health and recreation plan, the cafeteria which has facilities for bathing, 1200 employees, rest room and first-aid, factory physician, dental department, the factory hospital, sick benefits and group insurance, the athletic association, system for visiting employees who are ill, insurance and to dependent employees and their families, educational classes to teach English to foreign-born employees, and many other points in the Stetson system which has developed an unusual closeness in the relation between the employer and the employee.

After his address Mr. German took his hearers on a film trip through the Stetson factory showing the various steps in making a hat, from removing the fur from the skin to the finished hat.

RECOVERS BIKE
William Quigley, of Riverton, Palmyra Force, found his bicycle, which was stolen by Patterson.

"Bill" is some sleuth. When Adams Patterson, chained on his bicycle, which had been repaired at Coddington's store, two weeks ago at the hearing at which time Patterson and Joseph Roberts were accused of several robberies, Officer Quigley was skeptical as to his ownership. As a result of a little detective work Quigley found that William Quigley of Palmyra had lost a wheel answering the description of the one in question and on Thursday of last week young Quigley identified his property.

Quigley brought about the arrest of Patterson and Joseph Roberts, 19 years old. At the hearing, the boys admitted to twelve robberies, and signed a confession. They are being held for court.

The robberies, the boys confessed, took place during the past six months. All the robberies were cleared up with the exception of the robbery of the bicycle repair shop, where two "wheels" were stolen. Quigley quickly solved this mystery when he took the bicycle before Quigley, who made the identification through the maker's number of the machine.

State Meeting of Freeholders

Senator Reeves Takes Stand For Close Regulation of Motor Bus Traffic

Burlington county's Board of Freeholders, with the usual outsiders, other county officials and invited guests of individual members, went down into Cumberland county last week to attend the monthly meeting of the State Association of Freeholders, of which Freeholder Charles R. Stout, of Florence, is president.

At the business meeting a vehement demand was made by Senator F. W. Reeves, of Cumberland county, one of the speakers, for closer regulation of the big passenger motorbuses now preempting our most traveled improved roads. The Senator called attention to the growing number of inter-State buses which come into New Jersey and seem to imagine themselves above State control. Speed laws are violated and all rules of caution are disregarded, while the rights of citizens are flouted. The Senator also urged the State favorable to Senator Arthur N. Peterson's proposal to bond the State for another $50,000,000 with which to build a secondary system of improved roads. At least, not until ample study had been given to the Peterson plan and it had been made sure that this was the best way to handle the important subject.

Secretary John J. McHugh, of Jersey City, one of the insiders in the Hudson county Democratic organization and counted to be close to Mayor Frank Hague, reported that trustees of the association at their meeting held at Trenton, had recommended to the organization of Freeholders that before taking any definite stand with regard to Senator Arthur Peterson's proposition, the members study the road problem from every angle, take a census of traffic, especially of foreign cars, and obtain the drift of public sentiment concerning the proposition to impose a gasoline tax in New Jersey.

For two years the Association has espoused gasoline tax bills which failed to get by the Legislature in the face of stiff opposition. Some people estimate that New Jersey could realize $4,000,000 a year from a gasoline tax—and that is just the reason that a lot of automobile owners are opposed to it. They say that the general public comes in for the benefit arising from improved roads, real estate having increased almost phenomenally in some sections, due to improvement of the roads in their vicinity, and it is fair that the public at large should bear the cost, not saddle it on a single class the owners of motor vehicles. President Stout disavowed any intention of the Association to attempt to influence legislation unduly in this respect. He said the most the State Freeholders' organization could do would be to act in an advisory capacity. Commissioners of Institutions and Agencies Ellis made a short ad-

The meeting and dinner were held at the Coham County Club, just outside of Bridgeton.

County Court Levies Fines

Judge Slaughter Enriches County $975 by Imposing Penalties on Bootleggers

Very few criminal matters had been set down for last week in the County Courts due to the uncertainty of whether Prosecutor Hillman would be present, he being away on his vacation last week, but the prosecutor having returned, several matters were disposed of with considerable benefit to the county from a financial standpoint, no less than $975 in fines being levied in three cases, while the officers received the added information that they had been highly commended for cleaning up a nest of bootleggers in West Palmyra.

Paul Altadonna, of West Palmyra, charged with the possession of liquor, pleaded guilty and was fined $250.

Millie Fabritore, also of West Palmyra, similarly charged, pleaded guilty. She too was represented by Mr. Powell. Evidently the fact that she was a woman saved her $50, for she was assessed but $300.

John Benci, proprietor of a notorious house in Bordentown township, pleaded guilty to maintaining a house where liquor was kept, possession of liquor, sale of liquor and keeping a disorderly house.

His wife, Anna Benci, was charged with obstructing an officer and also with keeping a disorderly house.

The Court listened very attentively to the remarks of counsel and then sentenced Benci to pay a fine of $250 for maintaining a disorderly house and sixty days in jail on the charge of sale of liquor. Sentence was suspended on the disorderly house charge provided he sell the property and leave the county just as soon as his jail sentence expires.

Mrs. Benci was sentenced to pay a fine of $75 for attempting to obstruct an officer and sentence was suspended on the disorderly house charge.

All sentences carried the additional stipulation that the defendants should go to jail until the fines are paid.

Rose Gital, a sixteen-year-old Burlington girl, who her mother charged with incorrigibility, will come back in one month.

SUPREMACY CAMDEN EDITION

The Camden edition of the Philadelphia Inquirer today ceased to exist as a separate newspaper. Instead of the usual six page Camden special section the Inquirer this morning appeared with two inside pages of the Camden and South Jersey news.

Employees at the Camden headquarters of the Inquirer were notified, over the weekend, that the office would be closed in two weeks. Some of the staff will be transferred to Philadelphia and others were given the usual two weeks' notice.

$1410 A Year To Support Girl

Mother Asks For Maintenance Order of $50 Per Month To Be Raised To $250

The claim of a mother that it cost $1,410 to maintain a fifteen-year-old daughter for one year, apparently was discounted by Vice Chancellor Learning in Chancery at Camden last week.

The mother, Mrs. Edna Pettis, of Lakehurst, requested that a maintenance order of $50 a month be raised to $250 a month. The suit was opposed by her husband, Sidney, a road inspector, who also lives in Lakehurst.

In asking for $250 a month, Mrs. Pettis asked that the court allow her claim so that the future of her daughter would not be injured. The Court disallowed the claim, but ordered the maintenance raised to $50 a month.

To prove that she needed the additional money, Mrs. Pettis cited the "high cost" of supporting a daughter. Among the items she listed as necessary for a fifteen-year-old girl during one year were: Two coats, $150; twelve pairs of stockings, $40; twelve dresses, $250; ten pairs of bloomers, $30; undervests, $25; five pair of shoes, $50; pin money, $150; night dresses, $15; club dues, $50; school lunches, $150; board, $500. Other items composed the rest of the list.

In addition to the maintenance fund for her daughter, Mrs. Pettis asked $1,270 a year for herself. When she and her husband separated in 1913, she was allowed $35 a month. Pettis voluntarily raised this amount to $75 a month, but recently cut it to $50, she said.

Mrs. Pettis told the court that her husband was well able to pay the increase, that his home in Lakehurst was the show place of the town. She said that he received $4,200 a year from the State and receives in addition the interest on an estate left him by his father.

The Latest Method for Repairing BALLOON and HIGH PRESSURE TIRES

We Use the Inside Curing Arms and Electric Spot Patchers

Stop in and see the complete operation at our station. By the NEW WAY the heat is directed from the inside to the outside of the tire, which is the correct way to make a repair. The result is that THE DESIGN ON YOUR TIRE IS NOT DAMAGED OR BLEMISHED like in the old style cavity molds.

We Put Back the Same Tread Design

Only the injured part is heated, there is no chance for overcure. The tread is cured by an electric spot patcher.

The Newest Style EQUIPMENT

We have installed the most modern repair equipment that is made. Factory trained experts do the work.

MODERN REPAIR METHODS

The Firestone Method which we use, produces a repair as strong, light, flexible as the original tire. It keeps the tire in balance and the repaired section does not pound.

FINEST REPAIR MATERIAL

Tire repair materials must be of high grade or repair sections will not hold up. We use Gum-Dipped Cords, Tire Building Fabrics, Tread Stock, Cushion Gum, Vulcanizing Cement, etc., made by Firestone of the same quality that goes into the tires.

SKILLED REPAIRMEN

Our repairmen are especially appointed and trained by Firestone. With this knowledge we repair your tires so you can hardly distinguish the repaired section, inside or outside, from the rest of the tire, but we build back into the tire the same original strength and flexibility, without any appreciable addition of weight. This gives you the mileage you expect from your tire.

Lesson for September 26

REVIEW—EARLY LEADERS OF ISRAEL

GOLDEN TEXT—Let us run with patience the race set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith.—Heb. 12:1, 2.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Favorable Stories of the Quarter.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Stories of the Leaders of Israel.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Striking Incidents of the Quarter.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Main Teachings of the Quarter.

It is strange that the lesson committee should have selected the title "Early Leaders of Israel" when only Moses appears. A better title would have been "Moses, the Leader of Israel." In such a case consideration should be given to Moses' life, character and teaching. Indeed, a good method of review would be to use this plan for the quarter's lessons. Another method of review would be to give a synthetic view of the book of Exodus, since all the lessons of the quarter are taken from that book. However, for the senior and adult classes the best method will be to recall the principal fact and then state the leading lesson of each Sunday's lesson of the quarter. To aid in the following suggestions are given:

Lesson for July 4.

When the time drew nigh for God to deliver His chosen people He caused them to multiply greatly. Envy and alarm incited the new king to institute measures to check Israel's increase. The attempt to carry these measures out not only displayed their futility but brought to be sheltered and nurtured in the king's palace the very one who later upset Pharaoh's throne.

Lesson for July 11.

When Moses was born, his mother perceived that he was a child of destiny. The king's edict was that every male child should be destroyed, but the faith of his mother moved her to hide him. When no longer able to hide him he was preserved in an ark of bulrushes and taken in charge by Pharaoh's daughter. At the suggestion of Miriam, his mother was called as a nurse. He was educated both at his mother's knee and in the Egyptian court.

Lesson for August 8.

Before going far into the wilderness the people lusted for the fleshpots of Egypt. God answered their murmurings by giving them quail and manna to eat. Christ is the true manna sent down from God to man. Those who eat of his bread shall never die.

Lesson for August 15.

Jethro, seeing Moses completely occupied with the judging of Israel, advised that Moses should be to the people Godward and that all the weightier matters should be cared for by him and that suitable men should be appointed to judge the smaller matters. God's work should be carefully organized so as to relieve his ministers of unnecessary burdens.

Enameling Plant Unique in Palmyra

Standard Corporation Is One of the Leading Companies of Its Kind in U. S.

All signs of the times point to the porcelain enamel kind and Palmyra has the distinction of having one of the comparatively few porcelain enamel sign factories of the country located within her borders. The Standard Enameling & Manufacturing Co. was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey in 1922 with a capital stock of $125,000. The corporation owns the valuable properties at Broad street, Orchard and Weikman avenues, where its plant is located.

The land parallels the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad one hundred and fifty feet and has a depth of two hundred feet. Ample railroad siding makes possible the unloading of carload lots at the door of the factory while shipments in small lots can be made from the freight station less than two blocks away.

Orlando S. Watts, who is the organizer, president and general manager of the concern, states that the factory is running on full time and that the indications are that the plant will begin the new year by running night and day. He stated that the business world is turning to porcelain enamel signs as a deliverance from its renewing and repainting problems. The porcelain enamel sign, according to Mr. Watts, can be made in any combination of colors, has the highest visibility, especially at night, keeps its color and brilliancy for years and never needs repainting.

"The business world is turning to porcelain enamel signs," said Mr. Watts, "and because of this fact we are already facing the necessity of additional equipment, the development of a large operating force and the acquisition of more floor space."

The floor space of the two buildings is approximately 10,000 square feet, every inch of which is used to prosecute the ever increasing business of the company. Departments are in accordance with the enameling process used in the manufacture of the enameled goods turned out by the company. The factory includes the following departments: Stamping, Pickling, Dipping and Spraying, Drying, Burning, Stenciling, Brushing, Sorting, Wrapping and packing, Shipping, and a fully equipped laboratory.

The sales department operates from the company's sales office, Eleventh and Arch Streets, Philadelphia. The company's artists' studio, show room and main stencil cutting department is maintained at this address. This office is operated under contract and the force includes an office manager, stenographer, bookkeeper and sales manager. The factory office is adequately equipped and is manned by two graduate stenographers and bookkeepers.

The corporation's list of customers include jobbers, traction companies, automobile manufacturers and dealers, gas and oil producing concerns, street and highway officers and the varied trades and industries. Such classes of old line and substantial businesses usually prefer porcelain enamel signs, such as is produced by this concern, because of its lasting qualities and practically unending brilliancy.

"The everlastingly good looking sign that lasts without repainting for many years" is the selling argument of the company. Although a young concern but recently enrolled on the nation's manufacturing record, yet the products of the company's factory is finding a ready and eager market and inquiries for quotations have been received by the company's sales organization from points as far away as Porto Rico.

Machinery and Equipment include one giant thirty ton combination oil and gas fired enameling furnace, including double speed burning forks, capable of a temperature in excess of 2,000 degrees and designed to turn out the highest grade vitreous enamel signs of any shade or color and of any size, three portable furnaces for the economical production of small enamel specialties and novelties, spraying machines, pickling equipment, six motors, a fifty horse-power steam boiler, steam heating plant, two elevators and metal cutting machinery.

Due to the ever increasing use of porcelain enamel in the manufacture of signs, stoves, table tops, cabinets, refrigerators, and the coming use of it in the making of auto bodies, the company anticipates an overtaxing of its productive capacity within a few years. It has therefore already purchased adjacent ground sufficient for the expansion of its factory for at least a quarter of a century.

P. H. S. NOTES

The cake sale given by the P. H. S. Hockey team was a huge success. The proceeds of this sale will help furnish necessary equipment throughout the coming season. The hockey girls wish to thank all those who contributed cakes, candy and etc. By giving this sale the girls greatly helped the Athletic Association.

The drive for increased support for the Palmyra High School Athletic Association met with great approval. The first day's proceeds netted nearly $150. At this rate the membership is expected to reach 100% before long. Not only did the students contribute, but money was received from parents, interested friends, former pupils and other boosters. The proceeds from this drive will furnish the much needed equipment for the various teams. At present football and hockey are in full swing.

The regular monthly business meeting and social of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will be held in Epworth M. E. Temple on Monday evening September 27, at 8 o'clock. TWO ROBERT BROWNS

In regard to the case of the two young Palmyra men who were arrested last week as the result of two Riverside girls jumping from their car and suffering injuries, it is desired to state that the Robert Brown involved is not the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. He is at liberty under bail, but his companion, George Padgett, it is understood, is still being held at the county jail.

Ladies' Auxiliary Does Fine Work

History of Women's Organization Shows Many Accomplishments

Frederick M. Rodgers, a splendid young man in his early twenties, was killed in the Argonne, September 27, 1918. In his honor, the local organization of the American Legion was named Frederick M. Rodgers Post No. 134.

Through the efforts of Mrs. William Buck and at the request of Commander J. A. Boehme, notices were sent to all the women of Palmyra who were eligible to membership in the Auxiliary of the American Legion. The first meeting, held October 25, 1920, at Legion Headquarters was conducted by Vice Commander Thomas R. Bromley. There were thirty-four prospective members present and the following temporary officers were elected:

Mrs. F. A. Mathews, Sr., president; Mrs. Charles Voorhis, vice president; Mrs. George Albright, secretary; Mrs. William T. Miller, treasurer. These officers were later re-elected and served through the following year, 1921.

The temporary charter was applied for in November, 1920, and was granted January 1, 1921. The permanent charter was granted September 1, 1922.

The present officers are: Mrs. Stanley Lippincott, president; Mrs. Vera Brower, vice-president; Mrs. William T. Miller, secretary; Mrs. Lucy Kreeker, treasurer.

Much of the work of the Auxiliary is accomplished through committees on Americanization, Hospitalization, Legislation, Sick, Membership, Poppy, Entertainment, Liaison and Publicity.

The most serious efforts of the local organization have been directed toward Hospitalization and Welfare work. During 1924 the Unit helped several families by giving each a certain sum of money every week. It gave one hundred dollars to the Convalescent Home at Clarksboro. The Clarksboro Home has, within the last two years, been turned into a Home for orphans of ex-service men and is now maintained by the national organization. The amount received from the Poppy Day sale each year is used, eighty percent, toward the maintenance of the three Convalescent Homes in the State, and twenty percent, for Hospitalization and Welfare work in the local unit.

It is understood throughout the town that the Legion rooms are open every Christmas and Easter to receive donations of smoked and good things to eat. The first year they were taken to Camp Dix and distributed personally to the disabled soldiers there. Other years they have been distributed to disabled soldiers at Camp Dix, New Lisbon and Brown's Mills.

Mrs. William Buck deserves much credit for her splendid work as the first Hospitalization chairman. She found employment for ex-service men in the community and cared for sick and needy families of service men. Mrs. William Traman ably carried on that work during her term of office, and Mrs. James Weart, Sr., the present chairman, is always ready with help, financial or otherwise, for ex-service men or their families.

Along with the work done within its own organization, the local auxiliary contributes to as many civic demands as possible. Contributions of five dollars each were sent to the Ambulance Fund and to the Primary School for the purchase of books for the school library.

Our auxiliary was honored by having Mrs. Carl J. Jefferson serve as second vice president of the State, also on the State Advisory Board.

The auxiliary has thirty-three members in good standing and of these, there are two gold star mothers and seven gold star sisters. There have been two deaths, that of Mrs. Charles Voorhis, and that of Mrs. Mary Weikman.

Riverton Girl Wins WIP Prize

Uncle WIP, of Gimbel Brother's Radio Station, held a flower show last Saturday in which about twenty-five children took part. The kiddies were given talks on how to plant and care for flowers, by Uncle WIP over the radio. The members of the Uncle WIP Flower Club purchased their seed from Mitchell's at a reduced price, planted and raised by the children themselves. Marie Chambers, of Riverton, was the only entrant from this town. She exhibited zinnias, asters and dahlias. Her prize was a pair of roller skates. The Riverton grammar school feels quite proud to have a prize winner in its enrollment. This was Marie's first attempt at raising flowers for a show but she deserves credit for her effort and a good luck wish for better results in her next attempt.

CHINESE JUNK AT RIVERTON

Oriental Craft Will Arrive Tomorrow and Remain Over Weekend

The Chinese Junk "Amoy," with Captain Alfred Nilson, will arrive at Riverton tomorrow and will remain over the weekend. This is the boat on which Douglas Fairbanks and his bride, Mary Pickford, spent part of their honeymoon. It is 68 feet long, 20 feet wide and draws only three and a half feet of water.

It sails under the American flag and has covered about 19,000 miles since leaving its home port, the town of Amoy, south of Hong-kong, China. The vessel crossed the Pacific Ocean and entered the Golden Gate in 1923. After that she passed down the coast and visited South America, thence through the Panama Canal. Since that time she has been cruising along the Atlantic coast and up the various rivers.

This craft is a most interesting one in many ways and well worth the time it would take to pay it a visit. The "Amoy" is visiting Riverton at the invitation of E. K. Merrill.

FOOTBALL OUTLOOK GLOOMY

Unless the players themselves undertake to carry out the plans for the coming season, the Field Club will not be represented on the gridiron this year. At the present no one is anxious to back the squad as the local fans do not support the team to a very great extent. However, some of the local boys are very interested in football and will do their best to give Palmyra a strong eleven for the coming season.

COUNTY FREEHOLDERS AWARD BRIDGE CONTRACT

Daniel Lemmon Lowest Bidder For Reconstruction of the Hainesport Draw

$2,295.50 BETWEEN HIGH AND LOW BIDDER

Opening bids and awarding the contract for the reconstruction of the Hainesport drawbridge was the principal business transacted at the semi-monthly meeting of the board of freeholders last Friday. There was a difference of $2,295.50 between the high and low bids for this work.

The bids follow: Hill Construction Company, Mount Holly, $5,899.66; Daniel R. Lemmon, Brown's Mills, $3,704.16; William C. Cook, Mount Holly, $4,777; Rancocas Construction Company, Delanco, $5,109.64; Frank P. Marter, Westville, $3,805.58. The contract was awarded to Daniel R. Lemmon, of Brown's Mills, the low bidder.

C. B. Fisher, of the bridge department, and County Engineer Smith stated that unfavorable conditions had caused quite a delay in the work on the new bridge on Washington street, Mount Holly. They thought with the pouring of the concrete this week the work would be speeded up, and with good weather conditions the structure will be completed in a short time.

Lights for Bridge
The proposition to place electric lights and guard rails at the bridge at Brickyard Hill near Maple Shade, has been taken up with the Public Service Electric Company by County Solicitor Wells. He reported that he had been assured that the company would look after the installation.

The Public Service Electric Company applied for permission to erect 70 poles on the road from Masonville to Fosterstown, for a better distribution of service, and the request was granted.

Walter W. Marra, city clerk of Burlington, in a communication to the board, stated that the city council of Burlington was ready to proceed with the improvement of South High street and Washington avenue, that city, and requested a conference with the board.

Detour Abandoned
A communication from W. G. Sloan, state highway engineer, notified the board that the State had abandoned the detour route in use while State highway route No. 2 was being rebuilt, and the detour would not be responsible for any further expense for its upkeep. The communication stated that the detour had been left in as good condition as when it was abandoned.

Frederick Wright called attention to the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is removing all of its small stations between Medford and Haddonfield, and that it desires permission to use the county road for the removal of the small shed which has served as a station at Melrose. The company will be granted a permit.

The following bills from the various departments were ordered paid: Roads, $24,218.36; bridges, $4,485.24; buildings, $7,731.99; electric affairs, $4,856.64; finance, $1,751.02, making a total of $53,050.15.

RED CROSS GIVING AID IN FLORIDA

More than $5,000,000 is needed for Relief Work in Hurricane Section

A letter from John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross to the Burlington County Chapter states reports received relative to the Florida hurricane are even more serious than the Midwestern tornado of March, 1925, on which the Red Cross spent $3,298,000. In the Florida disaster at least 4,000 persons were injured, many very seriously; in Miami alone 1700 were injured and are in hospitals.

Moore Haven is under two or three feet of water. The estimated there are 240 dead there. The danger of typhoid is great and serum was requested; on September 24th, the Red Cross sent by aeroplane 50,000 units of typhoid serum and other surgical supplies.

The chief need is money; food, water, clothing and medical supplies being now available for immediate needs; not less than $5,000,000 is needed and $2,987,000 has been collected. The National Red Cross is advancing money from its own treasury and the demands upon it have been great.

The American National Red Cross is at the present time also handling the disaster situations following the Southern Louisiana Hurricane of August 27, 1926, the Eastern Kansas Flood of September 11, 1926, and the Northern Iowa Flood of September 15, 1926.

Mr. Henry M. Baker, National Director of Disaster Relief, American Red Cross, is in the disaster area and the Red Cross has entire charge of rehabilitation.

PALMYRA FOOTBALL

Locals Will Play Camden Cardinals Saturday, October 2, 3.30 p. m.

The home town will be represented on the old gridiron this season with the best team in many years. Many of the players from last year's aggregation will be there strutting their stuff and these will be augmented by Jack Diamond, present coach of P. H. S., Ivory, a past football tutor of the old high school; Ed. Atkinson of the Navy, and George Sheuck of Delaware.

The boys have been giving considerable attention to details regarding the attack and the spectators are assured of real first-class ball toting. Remember Palmyra teams under Hartley and Kates have always been noted for their defense and this plus the new offensive makes every one of more than their money's worth.

This year's aggregation has the support of the town's leading citizens and the entire town should be out on Saturday to see the lid go off.

Paving Agreement Not Satisfactory

Kingdon Brings Suit To Prevent Freeholders From Releasing Trolley Company

Proceedings have been started in the Court of Chancery to compel the Board of Freeholders to rescind a resolution recently adopted by the freeholders, by which the sum of $1,500 is accepted from the Burlington County Transit Company in settlement of any claims the company may have against the company for paving obligations in Northampton on sections of streets which are under control of the county. Those streets are High, from the corner of Garden, to the fair ground, and Washington street, from the corner of King, west to the township line. The balance of those streets, from Garden to King, are under the township control.

The resolution which accepts $1,500 from the Transit Company was adopted by the freeholders at a recent session as being sufficient to cover the cost of placing an asphalt surface on the tracks and roadbed of the trolley line, which some time ago the freeholders agreed to sell out to the Public Service at a cost of $115,000. After that agreement was made trolley service between Moorestown and Burlington was replaced by motor-buses, and direct communication was with the Transit Company, before distributing the proceeds to its stockholders, is required to arrange about removal of its tracks through Mount Holly, and the first move in that direction was with the freeholders. Settlement with Northampton township has not been completed because of a dispute as to the amount to be paid to the township.

The trolley representatives of the township, however, at that sum, Township Engineer Benjamin A. Sleeper says, is $1,000 short of the lowest possible estimate of the cost of taking up the rails and bricks, the type of paving, and the balance of the township streets involved.

The bill in Chancery, filed by Lawyer Herbert S. Killie, charges that the sum of $1,500 is totally inadequate to cover the cost of properly doing the paving work on the county sections involved, and is unfair to the taxpayers. Fraud also is charged. The complainant is Joseph C. Kingdon, a Mount Holly taxpayer, who was selected to start the proceedings. Estimates prepared by Engineer Sleeper, for properly doing the county work, place the cost at a considerably higher sum, probably $17,000.

Final transfer of the franchise to the Public Service Company is being held up by Northampton township, of which Mr. Killie also is a solicitor, by objections filed with the Public Utility Commission until settlement of paving obligations in the township are settled.

MAYOR'S AUTOMOBILE WRECKED BY TRUCK

Truck Smashes His Honor's Auto and Injures Woman

Mayor James T. Ward's Studebaker sedan was smashed by a Mack truck on the morning of Palmyra's Old Home Day.

Earl Cooper was driving the Mayor's machine, when a truck driven by Oliver Conover, of Cranberry, and owned by James Courtney, of Yardville, crashed into the car.

The whole side of the Mayor's car was smashed in by the force of the impact.

Conover, whose truck was laden with tomatoes, was coming down Broad street and the Mayor's was coming across the railroad on the mainline avenue. The truck knocked the Mayor's machine into the traffic light at the intersection of the two streets and moved it about three feet. The borough tractor had to be used to pull the light back into place.

Mrs. M. E. McDonnell, of Pleasantville, an Old Home Day visitor who was in the car, was slightly injured. Monday she was taken to the West Jersey Hospital.

Joseph Roberts, who was arrested three weeks ago charged with committing a number of petty robberies to several of which he pleaded guilty, has been sent to the reform school at Janssboro by Judge Magister of the County Court. The case is related to the

WOMAN HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

George Smith, of 1111 North Twenty-sixth street, Camden, ran into the "silent" policeman, at Broad and Main streets and then into a telephone pole directly opposite the silent cop, last Saturday night. Smith had stopped for the traffic light at the corner and was on his way towards Riverside when the radius rod on his car broke, throwing the car sharply to the left. In the car were Smith, his wife and four children. Mrs. Smith was thrown through the windshield, receiving a lacerated scalp and a fractured kneecap. Neither Smith nor his children were injured. Mrs. Smith was taken to West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital in the Palmyra Ambulance and was removed to her home Sunday.

Porch Club News

The Riverton Porch Club will open its first season on Tuesday, October 5th, at three p. m. After a short business meeting, including a report of the Bi-annual Convention at Atlantic City, a reception will be held by the House Committee.

Annual Dinner of Men's Club

Fourth Banquet Opens Season's Activities of Popular Organization

More than two hundred members attended the fourth annual banquet of the Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, held in the Parish House Monday evening.

The Rev. Jack Hart, Episcopal Chaplain of the University of Pennsylvania, and Henry Corneau Diller, were the chief speakers of the evening.

The Rev. Mr. Hart, who is very busy just at this time, as the fall term of the university has just begun, in addition he said he had to burn a lot of midnight oil and consume quite a bit of black coffee yet that night due to the fact that he was preparing to write a Doctor of Philosophy's thesis in the morning.

Despite this weighty burden, Mr. Hart was able to tell some highly entertaining stories and then launch into the serious part of his message.

True Religion
True religion, he said, is the fullest expression of life. He believed in the conservation of the great religious truths but apparently was not fully sold on "the old-time religion." He was not a fundamentalist, not a modernist, but rather "fundamentally modern."

There is no such thing, he said, as a one-act, all-sufficing "conversion" which gives a person a certain ticket and a rain check for heaven. Holiness must rather be a continuous progressive thing. There must always be a better self which man should seek to develop. Each day, each year, should bring forth a higher and truer expression of the best that is in one.

Dr. Diller was a poet. He recited one of his clever and original verses and then launched into a humorous essay on "Women I would like to meet," in which he gave a laughable description of the advertiser's art in portraying twelve different types of women for each of whom an individual type of perfume was offered.

Hospital Drive
At the close of the two addresses the president of the club, William T. J. Pagnell, gave high praise to Richard E. Wilson and his committee, which put over the Burlington County Hospital fund, and then gave Palmyra a memorial tablet in the waiting room of the new building.

Mayor Ward, who arrived somewhat late, received rousing reception. Everybody sang "The Old Gray Mayor" and gave him round after round of applause.

The Christ Church Quartette, composed of Mrs. Luther Turner and Mrs. Rivers, John Ward and William Wilbraham, sang several beautiful numbers.

Mr. Pagnell announced that next month there would be an address on "The American Indian," the Ladies Night in November and a Forum in December.

The splendid dinner was ably served by the Ladies of St. Agnes Guild to whom fell the hearty appreciation of all present. The Ladies Music for the evening was ably rendered by "Sid's Six," the orchestra conducted by J. J. Siddall.

FUNDS ASKED FOR FOOTBALL TEAM

Manager Sonny Wright is soliciting contributions toward defraying the expenses of the Palmyra football team this year, and contribution lists are in Keating's Drug Store, Zisk's cigar store and Schneider's cigar store. Contributions will be greatly appreciated. Manager Wright has run the team successfully for a number of years only with a great deal of attention and work on his part, and in addition has always had to defray considerable of its expenses from his own pocket at the end of the season.

The expenses of running a football team are considerable, as the cost of insuring the men against accident, buying equipment, uniforms, upkeep of the field, etc., means an initial outlay of between $300 and $400, which the team has to earn in ten or eleven games during the season, besides earning at the same time an average of about fifty dollars a game to pay guarantees to the visiting teams, and small incidental running expenses.

RIVERTON WINS FINAL GAME

Moist Wind-up Fails To Mar Palmyra's Celebration For Old Residents

The U. S. Army team liked the treatment it received the day Riverton's diamond demons defeated the service boys from Fort Washington so much that Corporal Balbridge asked for another game with the local sluggers. Manager Marty Welsh agreed and the service boys sent another team up last Saturday. The corporal had picked a team to bring up for the game but some dignitaries showed up at the Sequi and the Army boys had to parade. Consequently the picked team Balbridge had was unable to play ball. But rather than disappoint the Riverton people the Army manager sent a team to play. This team was by no means as good as the first team which Riverton defeated, but they put up a fair battle when the age of the players is considered.

Kings sent the sphere sailing out to left center for two bases in the first frame, after which Grill slammed one for three bags. Grill came home when Sobel the Army backstop missed a pitch.

Two or three times in the fifth frame the Army's scoring because it did not score until the ninth, when Jack Faye played with the service boys allowing them two runs just to make them feel good.

Single by Hylton and Green, a base on balls to King and a single by Grill netted the home boys three more runs in the second. Jack Faye walked in the third. Benet sacrificed him to second, Faye stole third, scored on Mendy's single. Hylton walked. Green singled scoring Mendy.

The fourth was fruitless as the home boys did not try to manufacture runs.

Hylton singled to start the fifth. Truman singled to keep Dunny company on the base path. Green singled scoring Hylton.

In the sixth the boys laid down again and did not score any runs. Three more runs were marked up in the seventh by Truman Green and King were a total of five hits and a base on balls.

Pressed Into Service
After the seventh frame the score book is blank because the score keeper was called to duty to relieve the fatigued second baseman.

Riverton's pitcher, a series of pitchers, not because of a tight game but because of the heat several hurlers were used. Hinkle twirled the first three innings, Grill the second, then Grill caught and Mendy pitched one frame. Jack Faye caught the eighth and our old friend Joe Luciano hurled a quick eighth inning. The tables turned in the ninth, Jack Faye toyed with the home boys and allowed the two runs just for fun.

The home team has had a very successful season winning 12 out of 17 games played. The people of Riverton have given the team fair support throughout the season which is greatly appreciated by the management and players. The Riverton baseball club is not going to say good-bye until next spring, in the least, you are going to hear from the club every little while during the winter. Palmyra Loses To Camden High

Locals Hold Big Town Team To One Touchdown In Bitter Struggle

Palmyra Hi traveled to Camden Friday and although they gave the "Purple Avalanche" stiff opposition, when the dust had cleared, Brook's eleven emerged victorious.

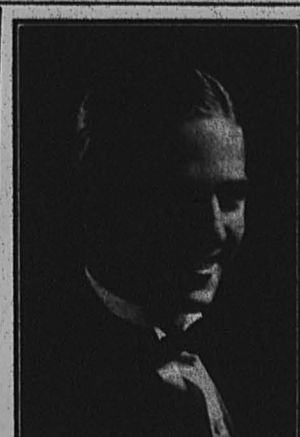

Camden scored early in the first quarter, after they covered a Palmyra punt with a 10-yard line. The Purple and Gold could not penetrate the Red and White line, so an end run was tried. This proved successful and Camden scored its first and only touchdown of the hard struggle.

Kalinowski put up the best defensive game for Palmyra. He was assisted greatly on the line by Jenkins and Hartley.

Atkinson was the best ground gainer for Palmyra. Time and time again he skirted the ends for long gains. Meyers, too, played a bang-up game. His interference was ultra-satisfactory.

Captain "Pop" Mathers played his usual great game. He was a tower of strength in backing up the line. Palmyra kept the ball well in Camden's territory during the second and third quarters. At times they had the ball within the shadow of Camden's goal posts, but could not push it over.

Says Weight Shouldn't Count

Press Thinks County Solicitor Should Not Discriminate Against Plumpness

We cannot refrain from expressing our mild surprise at the tone of Judge Wells' letter to Prosecutor Hillman about "wandering spouses" who loved but were lured away.

The Judge, "Ex," we should say, has ever been the devoted champion of righteousness and honor, of the highest ideals and of that sacred institution, the American family, and to hear him intimate that a "healthy, happy, husky female" is not so needful of the sympathy and succor of the law when the light of her particular life has been "lured" or otherwise induced to depart hence, gives us pause.

Indeed, the Judge's long experience at the bar and on the bench may well have persuaded him to think lightly of human frailties and the vagaries of life and love, but just why the distinction between the husky female and her more slender sister?

Kipling's "Rag, a bone and hank o' hair" probably weighed no more than mere pounds and most any manly man could probably testify that the featherweights of Eve's progeny pack a deadlier punch, with that undefeatable something that lands quick and sharp and, in the parlance of the prize ring, on the button, producing equally quick, sharp and sudden results, than their slower, full-appealed sisters.

Now what could be more worthy of your judicial sympathy than two hundred pounds of weak and helpless femininity, weeping lugubrious crocodile tears for some 120-pound male shrimp who has heard the siren's call?

But the Prosecutor, of course, may, as the Judge concluded, act according to the dictates of his own good judgment and tender conscience.

He, apparently, hasn't committed himself on the subject and if he is a good lawyer, he won't—Riverside Press.

K. of C. OFFICERS DISCUSS PLANS

New Indoor Baseball Among Sports For this Winter

On Monday evening the officers of St. Joseph's Council met in the K. of C. hall to discuss activities for the coming year.

Plans were outlined by Grand Knight Yearly which include many forms of entertainment and educational features for members, and the cooperation of all officers and members was urged.

As to the athletic events for the fall and winter months, Bro. John Holvick and Joseph Schuler, Jr., gave some interesting talks about tournaments in quoits, pool and shuffle boards. A new form of indoor baseball was also discussed and the first game will be played in the near future.

As a surprise feature, at the meeting a luncheon served by Harry Bradshaw and Frank Stroheim was enjoyed by the officers, and of course some cooperation of all officers and members was urged.

Clinders are not suitable for use in mixing concrete that is to be subjected to heavy loads or abrasion. Cinder concrete, on account of its light weight, is commonly used for filling between sleepers of floors and grading roofs and for sloping, for which it is very effective. Select cinders composed of hard, clean, vitreous, clinkers, free from sulphides, soot, and bituminous coal or ashes. As a precaution against the presence of weak spots, cinders should be soaked thoroughly with water 24 hours before used. If cinders they will not discolor the sands.

PHILBURCO BUS HIT BY TROLLEY CAR

All Bus Passengers Taken to Hospital for Treatment. Only One Seriously Injured

Wednesday September 22 at 9:25 a. m. Philburco bus which struck a P. R. T. trolley at Lehigh street and "Torredale" Avenue in Philadelphia. The intersection of these two streets is a safety point at which all vehicles are supposed to stop, but the trolley, before crossing the corner, the bus had come to a full stop and was on its way over. After taking the safety precaution when the trolley struck the bus, it was pushed back about 100 feet, the trolley was pushed back to its original position. The trolley had almost hit the bus.

Continuation of Progressive Policy Which Will In End Cover Whole Town

COMMISSION MAY ACT TO SAVE SHADE TREES

At the adjourned meeting of the Riverton Borough Council held Monday night, the report of the borough engineers and to further consider the ordinance requiring the construction of curbs and sidewalks on Second street, Third street, Fourth street, Fifth street, Howard street, Cinnaminson street, and Fulton street, both of these ordinances were finally passed after considerable discussion.

George A. Stroheim was the only citizen to appear before council to protest against these ordinances. Mr. Stroheim represented the Dror's Nurseries. He pointed out that this firm had always kept the sidewalks along its property in good condition and stated that if they were compelled to put down curbs and cement walks, they would lose their hedge and many of the trees on their side street would be seriously damaged.

Mr. Stroheim's contention in this respect was sustained by the following letter from the Shade Tree Commission which was read at the meeting:

Shade Tree Commission Letter, September 21st, 1926.

Mr. Fred P. Hemphill, Mayor, Riverton, N. J.
My dear Mayor:—

On Saturday you requested the members of the Shade Tree Commission to express an opinion regarding the probable effect upon the trees of the laying of the proposed sidewalk and curbing along the Dror's Company property in Fulton street. After making such an examination, we find that several trees will certainly be killed by the obvious necessity of bringing the sidewalk down to grade, while the others will be much hurt by the cutting of the feeders. It is our opinion that the laying of this sidewalk and curbing will cause the speedy destruction of at least eight very fine trees, and the serious injury of nearly all the rest. I may add that on yesterday this opinion was confirmed by the representative of the Shade Tree Expert Company.

Very truly yours,
ARTHUR S. ELLIOTT,
Secretary of the Shade Tree Commission.

At a previous meeting of council, it was stated that in some sections of Cinnaminson street, the roadway was higher than the sidewalks, this statement being advanced as a reason for not putting in curbs. This matter was taken up with the borough engineers and their opinion was given in the following letter:

The Engineers' Report, September 16, 1926.

Game Wardens Set New Mark

A Total of 1129 Convictions Out of 1156 Arrests For Violation of Laws

With a total of 1129 convictions out of 1156 arrests, a new record was set for New Jersey fish and game laws during the last fiscal year as the most effectively enforced of all State statutes. So effectively did state wardens do their work that only 25 of the alleged violators they arrested were acquitted and two cases are still pending.

In addition to penalties for fines and in the cases of ten violations, of imprisonment, 44 licenses were revoked. Mercy tempered justice in 64 cases, however, where because of youth or old age, extreme poverty of the prisoner or other mitigating circumstances, sentence was suspended. Survey of the court records indicate that neither wealth or influence of violators availed them anything in efforts to escape penalties for deliberate infraction of the laws that defend outdoor sport and conserve hunting and fishing resources.

The number of arrests for fish and game law violations is 97 in excess of last year and sets a new mark in the work of wardens. Fishing and hunting without license led in the number of violations, while other chief causes of arrests were gunning on Sunday, allowing dogs to run at large, illegal possession of game, carrying firearms in woods out of hunting season, killing game and taking fish out of season, hunting after sunset and violation of deer laws.

Wardens leading in the number of arrests were John W. Graham, with 217; Howard Mathis, Jr., 123; J. H. Everham, 123; Roy Carson, 122; John R. Hugg, 109 and Arthur Davison, 95.

AWARD CONTRACT FOR DISMANTLING CANAL

Hyde-McFarlin Company Are the Lowest Bidders and Land Job

The contract for dismantling a twenty-mile stretch of the Morris Canal, extending from the southern boundary of Allamuchy Township to the northern boundary of Franklin Township, Warren county, has been awarded to the Hyde-McFarlin Construction Company of Madison, New Jersey, by the Directors of the Morris Canal and Banking Company.

The Hyde-McFarlin Company was the lowest of twelve bidders. Their bid was $99,061 or 73.6 per cent. of the Engineer's estimate. The next lowest bid was 75 per cent. and the highest bid 104 per cent. The section of the Canal to be dismantled passes through Hackettstown and Washington. There are twenty-eight bridges to be taken out and replaced with roadways. Two planes are to be removed and about twenty drainage cuts to be made.

LIME FOR WHEAT

Additional light is shed on the cause of winter-killing of wheat. A. W. Blair, Soil Chemist, writing in the September number of "New Jersey Agriculture," states that soil acidity is a potent condition for this loss.

Experiments conducted by Professor Blair at the New Jersey Experiment Station showed that plots receiving sufficient lime to overcome the natural acidity of the soil came through the past winter with a good stand of wheat. Plots not receiving lime were practically devoid of wheat because of winter-killing.

Religious Workers Meet in Palmyra

49th Annual Convention Will Be Held in M. E. Church, Thursday, Oct. 14

Sunday School workers are preparing to attend the forty-ninth annual convention of the Burlington County Council of Religious Education, formerly the Burlington County Sunday School Association, which will take place in the Methodist Church, Palmyra, on Thursday, October 14. The sessions will be held in the Sunday school room of the church and will begin at ten o'clock in the morning.

The speaker at the morning session will be Dr. W. A. Weber, professor of religious education in the New Brunswick Seminary. He is said to be an authority along his particular line. Dr. Weber's address, it is said, will be vitally important to those engaged in Sunday School work.

The afternoon session will partly be given over to special groups for suggestions and discussion of better methods of conducting departmental and class work in local Sunday schools. The afternoon program also will include the business session of the County Council.

The speaker at the evening session will be Dr. Milton Stauffer, educational secretary of the student volunteer movement. Here again, it is said, the address will be an especially important one.

The year just closing is declared to have been a profitable one, and even greater success is expected of the year that is coming.

MAY FURNISH ROOM

Junior Mechanics Plan Aid to Hospital Patients

When the Past Councillors' Association of the Junior Mechanics of Burlington county met in Bordentown there was a report from the committee appointed to consider the advisability of furnishing a room in the new Burlington County Hospital and it appeared that the movement was making satisfactory progress.

Nothing absolutely certain could be stated at that time, but the committee indicated that they felt encouraged in everything that had been done up to date.

The meeting was quite interesting and in addition to the Burlington county councils represented there were delegations from Mercer county, Newark, Gloucester and Millville. The next meeting of the organization will be held at Burlington on October 5 and it is expected that this will be quite a big time.

Burlington Loses Railroad Suit

City Council Attempts To Force R. R. Company To Remove Tracks

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has won the first round of the fight that is being made to have it remove its tracks from Broad street, Burlington. In an opinion just handed down by Circuit Court Judge Frank E. Jess, who heard testimony in the suit brought by the City of Burlington, he upholds the constitutionality of an act of the legislature, passed in 1903, which gives the right to cities other than those of the first class, to grant railroads the privilege of laying tracks in city limits and also validates previous franchises granted by such cities.

About two years ago the City Council of Burlington, in response to complaints of residents that the passing of many trains through the city is a nuisance, determined to ascertain if the railroad has the right to maintain tracks on Broad street. Suit was brought to compel removal of the rails and the case was heard before Judge Jess last spring.

The allegation of the city is that the common council of 1833, which granted to the Amboy Division the right to lay a single track road through Burlington, exceeded its authority. That contention was upheld by the Supreme Court and Court of Errors and Appeals when, in 1887, the railroad attempted to place double tracks on Broad street. The courts at that time granted a permanent injunction against the railroad on the ground that it had no legal right to have any tracks through Burlington, the franchise given by the old common council being unconstitutional.

After that, namely in 1903, the legislature passed an amendment to the general railroad act, extending to cities the right to grant such franchises, and also validating previous franchises that had been given to railroads.

Ernest Watts and V. Claude Palmer, counsel for the city, contend that the retroactive clause of the 1903 act is unconstitutional, particularly in view of the decisions of the higher courts when the injunction proceedings were adjudicated in 1887.

The case will be appealed to the Supreme Court for review. George Bourgeois, of Atlantic City, is counsel for the railroad.

1937 LICENSE PLATES

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill announced on Thursday that the manufacture of 1937 automobile registration plates has been completed.

Issuance of the plates, which consist of white numerals on a green background, will begin on November 15. Under an act passed at the present session motorists will be permitted to use the 1937 plates after December 15 of this year.

Former Judge Wells Delivers Inspiring Address at Moorestown Centre

The first fall meeting of the County Y. M. C. A. committee was held in the Moorestown Community House Tuesday evening. William F. Overman, of Moorestown, presided at the meeting. After an enjoyable dinner, arranged by a committee headed by Harold Page, and prepared by the capable hands of Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, Mr. Overman introduced as speaker of the evening Former Judge Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown.

Judge Wells gave an inspiring address in which he stressed especially the fact that, while most of the "Y" leaders are busy men, God always calls on busy men to do His work. It is an old saying that if you really want something done and done on time, get a busy man to do it.

PUBLIC SERVICE

NUMBER SEVENTEEN

Reducing Street Congestion

COOPERATION with state and municipal authorities to relieve traffic congestion and to secure the most efficient use of streets is a basic principle of the policy of Public Service transportation units.

One evidence of the assistance given is found in the provision of bus terminals and in the arrangement of schedules in order to do away with waiting vehicles in public streets and important highways.

Public Service recognizes that good local transportation is dependent upon the united efforts of the public, public authorities, car and bus riders and the companies and is constantly striving to do its full share in the provision of service that will meet public requirements.

Christmas Seal Relay Race

Message To Be Carried From New York To President Coolidge, Nov. 26

At a meeting of local representatives of Tuberculosis Associations, in the Robert Trent Hotel, last week it was decided to join in the National Christmas Seal Relay Race which will carry a health message from New York to President Coolidge in Washington. The date set for the race will be Friday, November 26. It is proposed to start from the Public Library on 42nd street, New York, proceed down Fifth Avenue to Washington Square, to Canal street, through the new vehicular tunnel to Jersey City and then follow the Lincoln Highway through Newark, Elizabeth and Trenton and from there continue on the Jersey side to Camden, crossing the New Bridge to Philadelphia.

At this point it will be taken up by the Pennsylvania Society and carried to the Delaware border where the Delaware Society will carry on to the Maryland border and there to be taken to the District of Columbia by the Maryland Association. A special runner and delegation will deliver the message to the President who in turn will be asked to send a message to all of the participants in the race.

On or before November 10, each local association through whose territory the race will be run is to provide the National Association with the names of each participant and an alternate who is to cover each half mile of the race. Previous to this date the physical training departments of various high schools in the State will be asked to select runners for each lap and to see that they have the proper training. Each contestant will be required to have a thorough physical examination before entering the race. Athletic associations and other groups will be asked to participate. Governors and mayors along the course will cooperate by holding special receptions and by sending messages and greetings from one state or town to the next. State and local police will be asked to provide escorts. Members of the National Association as well as the A. A. U. and reporters will accompany the runners keeping a time record.

Although this undertaking originated with the National Tuberculosis Association, it has the endorsement and assured cooperation of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States and the Physical Training Department of the State Department of Education, Trenton, N. J.

Those present at the meeting last week were: Philip P. Jacobs, Ph.D., Managing Director, National Tuberculosis Association, New York; Mr. Ernest D. Easton, Executive Secretary, and Miss Emily S. Sargent, Field Secretary, N. J. Tuberculosis League, Newark; Mr. P. A. Mariette, Executive Secretary, Hudson County Tuberculosis League, Jersey City; Mr. J. L. Lawrence, Executive Secretary, Union County Tuberculosis League, Elizabeth; Miss Jane J. Packard, Executive Secretary, Middlesex County Tuberculosis League, Perth Amboy; Miss Margaret L. Johnson, Executive Secretary, Mercer County Health League, Trenton; Miss Charlotte M. Borden, Executive Secretary, Camden County Tuberculosis Association, Camden; Miss Ethel Grosscup, Assistant, Health, Hygiene & Physical Training Department, State Board of Education, Trenton.

KILL PEACH BORERS

Peach trees 3, 4 and 5 years old and older should be treated with 1 1/2 to 1 ounce of P-C Benzene, depending on the size of the tree, applied in South Jersey between October 1st and 10th.

Method of Application: Apply the P-C Benzene crystals about the tree in a narrow continuous ring approximately 2 inches from the tree. Do not allow the chemical to touch the tree. Cover the application with 3 or 4 inches of earth free from trash. Pack the mound with shovel or foot. If the trees are heavily infested with borers below and above ground divide the application into 2 parts. Apply half the amount of the material at soil level, and mound with dirt to a level even with the highest galleries of the borers and then apply the remainder at this level. Cover the upper application with 3 to 4 inches of soil. When P-C Benzene is used on trees 3, 4 or 5 years of age, remove the mound after the worms are dead and throw fresh earth about the trunks. It usually takes three weeks to kill the worms.

Curly endive, wrongly called chicory, may be boiled as greens, as may lettuce. French endive may be finely cut and added to each hot dish as creamed eggs or potatoes a moment before serving. Baking or boiling it develops bitterness.

It is time for the silo to be made ready for the silage crop. Air leaks will cause loss of silage by mold.

Court Cases Heard Last Week

Boy Sentenced to Reformatory, Father Ordered To Pay State Board

Before Judge Slaughter last week Attorney V. Claude Palmer, representing Thomas Chafey, of Mount Holly, committed to the county jail recently for a term of three hundred days on a charge of being a "common drunk," applied for the release of his client on the grounds that the law had not been complied with in making out the commitment, he stating that the sentence of three hundred days and a fine of $150, was irregular and that the commitment should have read either one or the other and not both.

The Court granted the petition and Chafey was ordered discharged. Joseph Roberts, colored, of Riverton, the boy who changed his mind about pleading guilty after he had confessed to numerous petty robberies in Riverton, was again in Court and this time he pleaded guilty to all the charges and was sent to the Reformatory School, at Jamesburg.

The Court being convinced the parents were at fault as well as the boy, had the father come before him also, and he was instructed to see that his son's board of $3 a week was paid to the state.

Peter Giehl, of Mansfield township, pleaded guilty to having a still, several gallons of liquor and several barrels of mash in his house when the officers called but, ex-Prosecutor Kelsey, who defended him, said he had learned Giehl had just embarked in the business of his first distillation. Mr. Kelsey also said Giehl had been inveigled into the business by some friends who had promised to stand by him.

Being charged with the manufacture of liquor, maintaining a house where liquor was kept and possession, he was sentenced to sixty days in jail, while Mrs. Clara Giehl, the wife will pay a fine of $200 on a charge of furnishing liquor, or stay in jail with her husband until it is paid.

Orphan's Court matters consumed the balance of the morning. Two Cases Before Judge Slaughter

On Wednesday the case of John Wiggins, of Philadelphia, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of William Snyder, of Moorestown, was to have been heard by Judge Slaughter, but Prosecutor Hillman was not ready to move the case, owing to the absence of a very important witness and it went off indefinitely.

Wiggins, accompanied by Clarence E. Stone, of Philadelphia, who owned the car, ran over Snyder in Moorestown on May 21, and it is claimed that they kept right on going and were arrested only after a chase. Snyder was badly injured and was taken to Cooper Hospital Camden, where he died on June 7.

In the meantime Wiggins, who was driving the car, and Stone, were arrested to await the result of Snyder's injuries, and Stone succeeded in getting bail, but Wiggins was held on a charge of manslaughter, and has been in jail ever since. As it will be impossible for Attorney Fenech, who represents Wiggins, to prove the case before October 13, the date of the opening of the deliberations of the October Grand Jury, the complaint will now go before that body in the regular way and the waiver which Wiggins signed, in which he surrendered his rights of a trial by jury, will be superseded by the action of the Grand Jury.

John Jackson, a sixteen-year-old colored boy from Burlington, represented by Mr. Fenech, was before the court on a charge of larceny, he being charged with stealing an Underwood typewriter from the office of the United States Post Office and Foundry Company.

He pleaded non vult and was sentenced to pay a fine of $30, after it had been shown that he had never been in trouble before.

Be Generous With Good Cows It pays to feed good cows liberally. Balanced rations fed according to production pay well in increased return over feed cost.

On July 1, 1925, there were 777 active cow-testing associations in this country. By July of this year 840 such organizations were in active operation.

DEALER MUST HAVE OWNERS GOOD WILL

Owner Gets Better Attention at Time Where He Bought His Car

"There is only one place in the world where the car owner is not regarded as merely a source of profit," says Frederick E. Rein, of the Rein Motor Company. "And that is in the establishment of the good dealer who sold him the car. Everybody else looks upon the owner of an automobile as a prospect for something. The good dealer regards the car owner's satisfaction in ownership as one of the most valuable assets in his business, and he is more interested in saving him money than in charging him for things."

For this reason the car owner usually gets better service and better attention at the place where he bought the car. When other shops can give the motorist better service or better counsel than the man who sold the car, the dealer is far below the level required of present-day dealerships. Dill pickles are made by putting them in a mild salt solution with all herbs to give distinctive flavor. The United States Department of Agriculture will tell you how to do it.

STATE SEEKS DATA TO MAKE HUNTING SAFE

Wardens Ordered To Make Investigations and Report on All Accidents

Further decrease in the number of hunting accidents is sought by the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, in ordering its wardens to make a careful investigation and report, in future, on all such events. Educational work of the commission, in instructing the public in the careful handling of firearms, already has made hunting, in proportion to the number of persons engaged, one of the safest of the outdoor sports.

Data which the commission hopes to obtain through a survey of the reports that wardens will file, is expected to show the greatest contributing factor to hunting accidents. This information will be invaluable to hunters and to the state in seeking to make the risk of accidents less for all participants. The dashpot in the southern equivalent for the Irish potato. It makes especially good chips or crisps.

PROHIBITION HEARING

The hearings in Washington in April for and against prohibition were widely published. Less publicity has been given to the results of those hearings by the public press.

Senator Rice W. Means, Chairman of the Subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee, empowered to conduct those hearings, is sending out to the thousands from whom he received communications, the following statement from the report of that committee.

"It is the opinion of this committee that the eighteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution is both morally right and economically wise. It is the duty of every officer—Legislative, Executive and Judicial, to aid in its enforcement. The hearings have strengthened my beliefs."

OUR MOVIE HILL

Figures have just been given out by the government, based on its war revenue collections, showing that the people of this country spend one billion dollars a year on moving pictures. This is a vast sum, especially when one reflects that it is paid out in small sums, and yet we know of no other luxury which gives any more in return.
While much that is flashed on the screens of this country is foolish, and much is not morally elevating, there is still much that is useful and educational. Too much work and no play shortens life, so the moving picture is doing its bit to lengthen life by entertaining us and easing our minds and bodies after a hard day's work. It is a backward turn or hamlet that can't appreciate the value of clean movies and citizens will agree with us when we express the belief that money spent to see the right kind of movies is money spent sensibly.

ARTISAN BOWLING

The Artisan Bowling League, of Palmyra, N. J., opened its season on Monday, September 27th.
Matches will be played on Monday and Thursday of each week until April.

The usual pep and enthusiasm was in evidence and the matches were good for the first night. Arle Simons, championship contender of last season went down to defeat to Hermann's Highwaymen by losing two out of three games.

Harry Williams, Bandits lost all three matches to Russ Hammelman's Bootleggers although this is no sign that Harry's team will be the goat for the rest of the season. Watch out for the Bandits!

As can be expected, through lack of practice, no one entered the Hall of Fame by knocking out a 200 score or better, but wait until later on, they will be flying in all directions.

Several new faces appeared this first night among which were Jack Smith, Bill Letford, Art Wright, N.
Ruggles, and P. Hammelman, and on Thursday night of this week the final matches for the season will be in action. Clint Gibson's Buc-caneros stacked against Frank Harvey's Demons, while Jim Rapp's Private (aka Bill Meyers) Outlaws, with their famous Cannon Ball
Hansen in the line up.

Dad's old elk top is the official

WCTU Essay Contest 1926-27

The Quickest Way

The Joke That Backfired

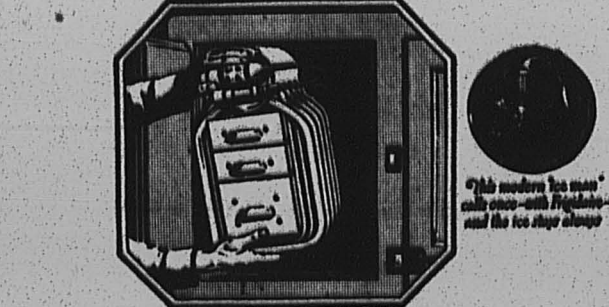

Congratulations are being extended Mr. and Mrs. Foster H. Fowler, of Gettysburg, Pa., formerly of Palmyra, on the arrival of an 8 1/2 pound son. Joseph Miller and Harold Stern, of Riverside, graduates of the Palmyra High School class of '26 are now attending the University of Pennsylvania. Josef E. Martin, who graduated from Palmyra High School in June, has been awarded the Schleicher Four-Year Scholarship at the University of Pennsylvania. The townspeople were much pleased with the manner in which Mr. Shockey, the carpenter, "cleaned up" the corner of Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue, where the Warner building is being completed, for Old Home Day. Miss Sadie Flynn, Miss Helen Lynch, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Wildrick, Miss Shirley Wildrick, Miss Clara Mae Rutan, all of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hilton, of Media, were Old Home Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fowler, of Lincoln avenue. D. H. Lamont, an amateur gardener of Palmyra, has arranged a display of dahlias which is now on exhibition in the windows of Walter D. Lamont and Co., Broad street. Mr. Lamont has won many prizes at dahlia shows. A slight automobile accident occurred on Old Home Day at Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue when a car driven by Stewart Dobbin, of Atlantic City, struck that of Percival R. Howard, of Lenola, damaging the fenders of the Howard machine.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnson and family who recently went to Miami, Fla. to reside, report coming safely through the storm. Their home was destroyed and they lost all of their belongings. The owner of the Keystone Restaurant of Riverside will open an up-to-date restaurant and high lunch in the store formerly occupied by Lutz's Flower Shop. This will be Palmyra's first all-night restaurant with 24-hour service. Miss Hilda and Michael Manieri, of Hopewell, Virginia, spent Old Home Day and the weekend with Mrs. Alfonso Tagliabue. Miss Hilda Manieri is now attending Temple University where she is taking a special course in Physical Training. She has already completed two years study at the Fredericksburg, Virginia State College and will finish her term at Temple. The time required is 2 years. As the essays are completed and forwarded, please send them to the Director, 105 Main street, Mount Holly, New Jersey. On each essay have the scholar write distinctly his school and grade but not his name. Either keep an accurate list of the names of the writers or attach it to the essay on a separate slip of paper. The name of the writer will be known to the Director only, as the essays are known to the judges by number. The winners will be notified promptly, and the prize money paid before schools close. The management of the Local Essay Contest is in the hands of the local committee that has been appointed to attend to this. This committee should consist of teachers of the local school where the contest is held and citizens of the community. This committee should determine what grades are to be offered, what prizes are to be offered, who are to be the awarding judges when, where and how the essays are to be given, and many other details that will make the local essay contest of great interest and benefit to the community. Local prize winners will compete for county prizes. If any local winning prize is to be read at a public meeting or school commencement, a copy of the same should be made before sending it to the County Director, as the original cannot be returned. A great deal of interest, pleasure and instruction can be derived by holding local essay contests, and poster contests on the subjects of alcohol and tobacco can also be held which will give the students a chance to win a prize. It is especially requested that each teacher report the number of essays written in her school, as the Director is required to report the whole number of essays written in the county and much other detail. Send all essays and requests for further information in reference to the essay work to: ELIA WOODSTON, Director, 105 Main Street, Mount Holly, N. J.

Improved Uniform International Sunday School Lesson

REV. F. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of the First Presbyterian Church,
New York City

Lesson for October 3

ISRAEL JOURNEYING TOWARD CANAN

LESSON TEXT—Numbers 10:11-36.
GOLDEN TEXT—Come thou with us and we will do thee good.
PRIMARY TOPIC—A Journey of Long Ago.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—
What Israel Learned in the Wilderness.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—
How God Guides His People.

Israel remained almost one year at Shittim. It was a veritable schooling for them. Their stay was necessary.
1. To allow them to recuperate from the effects of many years of slavery.
2. To train them morally and spiritually for the great work before them.
The wonderful transactions at Sinai served to inspire them with courage and hope, for through them they came to know God as their King and their Savior as His covenant people.

2. To have them thoroughly organized.

This was not only necessary for the march, but for the warfare in gaining possession of the land of Canaan.

3. Marching From Sinai at the Hand of Moses (vv. 11-28).

The nation had now grown to a great host—the army itself of 600,000 strong. Allowing three persons to every soldier, there would be 1,800,000.
The army was organized into four great sections or divisions with three tribes to each division. The Levites were organized on the basis of the three sons of Aaron—Gershom, Kohath and Merari. The Kohathites had the charge of the most precious things.
The Gershomites had the most place of honor, while the drugery fell upon the Merarites.

1. The signal given (v. 11).

The lifting of the cloud from off the tabernacle was the signal for the camp to be broken and the march to begin.

2. The signal given to rest (v. 12).

Just as the signal to march must be recognized, so the signal to rest must be obeyed.

3. The Commander (v. 15).

God was the Commander through His servant, Moses.

4. The order of the march (vv.
14-18).

As they marched the division led by Judah went forward, followed by Gershom and Merari bearing the cover part of the tabernacle. Then marched Reuben's division, followed by the Kohathites bearing the sacred utensils of the tabernacle. These were followed by the division of Ephraim and Dan. The ark occupied a central position with the moving caravan.

5. Moses Seeking the Help of Hobab
(vv. 29-32).

Hobab was a shrewd child of the desert. Moses thought therefore that his knowledge thereof would be helpful. The children of Israel were going forth under the guiding care of the Almighty. Surely He could be trusted.
Certainly He knew that dreadful wilderness.

1. "We will do thee good."

Moses had faith in God's promises to Israel and could well assure Hobab that good would come to him by identifying himself with God's covenant people.

2. "Then mayest be to us instead of eyes."

Moses still insisted that Hobab should go along, not only for the good he could get but for the good he might do.

3. Marching to Canaan With the Lord as Leader (vv. 33-36).

Even though Hobab did go with Israel, we never hear of his leaving the people. The Lord had not lent him so.
Observe:

1. "The ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them" (v. 33).

The ark, the symbol of the divine presence, moved out of its place in the midst of the camp and took its place at the head.

2. The cloud of the Lord rested upon them (v. 34).

This was an indication that God was not only leading, but governing
His people and protecting them.

3. The Lord's protection (vv. 35, 36).

Moses' unbelief caused a reproach unto the Lord. This action on the part of God vindicated His leadership.
Moses gave recognition to this act of God in identifying himself with His people. When the ark rested and set forth, he exclaimed, "Rise up, Lord, and let thine enemies be scattered,
and let thine enemies be scattered before thee; and when it rested—Return, O Lord, unto the many thousands of Israel."

God's Love

We are taught to think that God's love is the biggest thing in the universe. Let us think of some of the biggest things we know, and then we will lift our eyes upon one that is bigger than all.—J. I. Jowett.

Happiness Counts Most

The will of God respecting us is that we shall live by each other's happiness and life, not by each other's misery. . . . men help each other by their joy, not by their sorrow.

Housewives are often disappointed when cream fails to whip or when the whip does not "stand up" stiffly. Sometimes this fault is due to the dairymaid's furnishing cream with too little fat. Cream should contain at least 30 per cent fat in order to give a satisfactory whip.
In some cases the housekeeper probably has not kept or whipped the cream at a low enough temperature. Cream for whipping should be thoroughly chilled. In hot weather the bowl of cream may be set in a pan of ice water during whipping.

Seven Murderers Seeking Pardon

Unusual Number of Appli- cations Made To Court of Pardons

Seven convicts in State prison, sent from Burlington County for murder, are among those who have petitioned before the Court of Pardons, at its present session, for pardon. This breaks all previous records of similar appeals from prisoners from this county. The list is as follows:

Harry C. Mohr, sentenced January 9, 1923, to life imprisonment for the murder of his brother-in-law, T. John Brunen, at Riverside.
He was convicted of murder of the first degree and the jury recommended life imprisonment.

Charles M. Powell, sentenced January 9, 1923, to 20 to 30 years for murdering R. John Brunen.
Powell was shown at the trial, was hired by Mohr to commit the crime and shot Brunen while the latter was sitting in a chair beside the kitchen window at his home.
After the shooting Powell and Mohr escaped to Philadelphia in an automobile. Powell confessed and was the chief witness against Mohr.

Solomon Williams, colored, sentenced July 10, 1925, to life imprisonment after conviction by a jury for the murder of his housekeeper, Anna Jones, with whom he was living as man and wife on a farm near Montford.

Colbert Fontaine, Camp Dix soldier, sentenced February 26, 1920, to life imprisonment. He pleaded guilty to killing John Wormwood, jitneyman, while enroute from Camp Dix to Trenton. Fontaine shot Wormwood in the head near Bordentown, and then robbed the body of about $300.

Frank Haines, freedman January 28, 1919, to 20 to 30 years for second-degree murder. He shot Kate Harley, with whom he had been on intimate terms, and then tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat. The crime, which took place at Palmyra, followed his refusal, on complaint of the woman, on a charge of assault and battery, to accept a reconciliation and then he shot her. He was convicted by a jury.

Charles S. Haywood, sentenced July 3, 1924, to 20 to 30 years, for second-degree murder. Haywood an Englishman, aged 49 years of age, married a German woman aged 44. It was a bad combination of nationalities and frequent quarrels ensued. After an altercation at their Brown's Mills cottage, Haywood shot his spouse. He pleaded guilty.

Rosario Pital, sentenced September 24, 1924, to 5 to 10 years, for an attack on a nine-year-old girl in Cinnaumason township, after accusing her into the woods. He narrowly escaped lynching at the hands of indignant residents of that community.

Col. Bibb Graves

Col. Bibb Graves, attorney and former adjutant general of the state, was the Democratic nominee for governor of Alabama after a bitter contest. Democratic nomination in Alabama is considered equivalent to election.

He admitted the crime.
James Wills, sentenced April 1, 1926, to 1 to 3 years, for larceny of $105 at Burlington. He just completed a term in State Prison for indecent assault on a little girl.
He pleaded guilty to the larceny charge.

James Broadway, colored, sentenced April 2, 1926, to 1 to 3 years for atrocious assault and battery on a colored man at Riverside, who had given Broadway a home when the latter was down and out.
William Coleman, sentenced November 12, 1925, to 2 to 5 years for breaking and entering and robbing burglar at Brown's Mills.
John Dobash, sentenced January 25, 1925, to 10 to 30 years for abuse of girls from 8 to 12 years of age, whom he enticed with candy and other presents to visit his home in Burlington.

Robert Garley, sentenced June 25, 1925, to 3 to 5 years for an attack on a 16-year-old girl at Burlington.

POLITICAL

The next and last registration day will be Tuesday, October 13.

Surrogate Matlack, who was renominated without opposition last June, a very unusual tribute to his efficiency and popularity, is settling around among his constituents as he can find time with the duties of his office, and meeting with a cordial reception at the hands of the voters wherever he goes.

County Auditor William H. Heisler, Jr., is having a valuable year of training in his present responsible post, for performance of the duties of Freeholder, for which he is the Republican nominee. It is the consensus of opinion that Mr. Heisler will make a valuable addition to the Board of Freeholders.

Congressman Bacharach is back from his European trip and ready to enter the activities of his campaign for re-election. He looks and feels ready to fight for his seat in House of Representatives, but there is nobody in sight on the Democratic side capable of State Police Will Display Weapons

Confiscated Arms To Be Shown at Trenton Fair—Give Information

Weapons confiscated by the New Jersey State Police in their apprehension of criminals are among the exhibits to be made at the Trenton Fair this week. The Police Department has taken space in the New Jersey Building on the exposition grounds chiefly to impart information on the work of the organization for the benefit of the thousands of visitors from the rural districts who visit the Fair.

By means of an electrically lighted map of the State the troops will point out the location of their stations throughout New Jersey and will give instruction in the speediest manner of placing calls for them in case of emergency. The display to be made in their section of the exhibition will include a machine gun seized in a raid on a roadhouse. Other dangerous weapons are in the collection.

All the space in the state building has been taken, and in it is shown the product of different agencies, including the State Highway Commission, the Department of Institutions and Agencies in the State-use system, the Department of Conservation and Development, the Deaf School, the Colony for Feeble-minded and others.

The Highway Department display includes cores cut from concrete construction jobs for tests in the laboratory to determine the strength of the mixture used in the paving.
Maps of the State were also distributed at the exhibit.

Through miniature stage settings and an ingenious arrangement of electric lights the story of the work of the Department of Conservation and Development was graphically portrayed. One of its interesting features is that devoted to State forestry and the forest fire service.
In one scene will be pictured a virgin forest as it appeared before two careless picnickers left glowing embers from their camp fire in it.
The havoc of a fire is next presented, with the wardens battling to check the destructive force.

CONSPICUOUS GARB FOR STATE CARVETS

Blue Uniforms Will Be Worn By Inmates of State Penal Institution

Convicts at the New Jersey State Prison at Trenton hereafter will be garbed in a uniform that will make them conspicuous in case of escape.
The color will be a light blue and on the left sleeve will be triangular insignia carrying the initials N. J.
S. P.

The change from the present non-descriptive attire of the prisoners was approved at a conference of Principal Keeper Joseph S. Hoff, State Institutions Commissioner Ellis and members of the State Board of Control of the Department of Institutions and Agencies.

The coat will be without pockets and the collar designed somewhat after the style of a military jacket.
The sleeve insignia will be inset and any attempt to remove it will result in the garment even more conspicuous.

Adoption of the new garb is in line with a suggestion advanced by Governor Moore at an inquiry which he conducted a few months ago into the series of escapes and other scandals at the State Prison. He gave it as his opinion at that time that the coddling of prisoners had reached a point where it must be checked and suggested, in addition to a distinctive uniform, that it might be a good idea to return some of the convicts to a bread and water diet. The latter suggestion has yet to receive the favorable consideration of the prison authorities.

Bowker's Reminders

Now is the time to look up your old ferneries. Have them

Man Dies In Auto Crash

Drunk Driver of Death Car Faces Charges of Manslaughter

One man is dead and another is severely injured and facing a charge of manslaughter as the result of an automobile accident on the Burlington Pike between Bridgeboro and the Fairview Road, about nine o'clock Saturday evening.

Albert Murphy, of York street, Burlington, died at the Elizabeth hospital, Riverton, at 1:35 Sunday morning from the results of the crash he received when thrown through the windshield of the car driven by Samuel Richardson, of Fenwood avenue, Burlington, when it struck the car owned by Herbert Clark, of 923 Washington street, Fairview, which was parked at the side of the road.

Immediately after the accident Murphy was placed in Harry Budin's car and brought to the town hall. As soon as Chief Voshell saw him he realized that Murphy was seriously injured and rushed him to the hospital. Doctor Wagner was called and gave the man all the attention possible. The fatal injury had been severe and the injured man had lost so much blood that he had no hope for his recovery was held.

As soon as Murphy was placed under the care of the doctor, Chief Voshell went to the scene of the accident and arrested Richardson, who had not made any attempt to get away and had waited at the wreck for the officer to arrive. He was lodged in the jail overnight and given a hearing before a Riverside judge the following morning.

The charges placed against the man were reckless driving and manslaughter. He pleaded guilty to the reckless driving charge and not guilty to manslaughter.

At the hearing several witnesses were called. Clark, the owner of the car that was hit testified that he was not present when the accident occurred but had gone up the road to telephone for help, as he was having trouble with his car and could not get it to run. He said that the car was parked with one wheel on the gravel and one on the pavement with the rear light burning.

Clark's testimony in his testimony said that as far as he could determine Richardson had been driving carelessly and was under the influence of intoxicating liquor. This was verified by Doctor Wagner who examined the man.

Richardson claimed that he was driving at a moderate rate of speed but due to the rain that had begun to fall he did not see the tail light of the other car until too close to stop, but set his brakes and skidded into it. The prisoner was held on the manslaughter charge and committed to the county jail from which he was released Monday morning.

Both men are well known in Burlington. Richardson is a widower and has one small son, his wife died several years ago. Murphy was single and lived with his brother on York street.

difficult to negotiate the turn with in the time given. He said that several accidents had been narrowly averted when traffic from the other direction was given the full light before cars making the left-hand turn could get out of the way. Councilman Lynch reported that at a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, attention had been called to reckless driving on the part of bus operators and to the fact that buses do not always come to a full stop when discharging passengers. Mr. Lynch said he had been asked to take the matter up with the borough council. There is a borough ordinance requiring trolley cars to stop on the near side of all crossings, and it was thought that the borough authorities might be in a position to require buses to do the same. The mayor said he would take the matter of stopping up with Commissioner Dill, but that the remedy for reckless driving and speeding was entirely in the hands of the police department.

Councilman Showell suggested that we had better clean our own skirts before going after the bus drivers. He said that there were drivers in Riverton who race through the streets faster than any bus driver ever thought of going. Mr. Williams said that the proprietors of the McCloskey bus line had told him to arrest any driver he found violating traffic regulations, that they had been ordered to use every care and precaution and that failure to do so meant instant dismissal.

Will Ask for State Police While speaking on the subject of violation of traffic laws, Councilman Williams suggested the passage of an ordinance which would prohibit all-night parking of cars on the streets.

Mayor Hemphill said that if any serious attempt is going to be made to break up speeding and reckless driving, it would be necessary to enlarge the police force, that the two men now on duty twelve hours a day directing traffic and performing other police functions, could not also patrol the town in search of violators of traffic laws. A suggestion was made that Palmyra, Riverton, Riverside and Cinnaminson Township join in a request to have a state trooper detailed to operate between Riverside and Palmyra and also on the Burlington Pike, and the matter will be taken up with the authorities of those municipalities.

Mr. Lynch also called attention to the fact that there was need for re-numbering houses on some of the streets in Riverton, this subject having also been discussed at the Chamber of Commerce meeting. The Borough Council will meet on

Chief of Bureau of Markets Retires

Resignation Believed Due To Friction Among Officials of State Bureau

Forced retirement of Alexis L. Clark, of Crosswicks, as chief of the State Bureau of Markets has caused under the breach between farmers' organizations of South Jersey and the State Department of Agriculture, as recently reorganized. Resolutions strongly condemning the action of the board was adopted this week by Burlington county growers' associations, and hearing farmers are openly demanding the removal of William B. Duryee, secretary of the board, Duryee is said to have waged a fight to oust Clark since the secretary several months ago, was selected to succeed Alva Agee as the department's executive officer.

Trouble has been brewing in the department, farmers say, since the appointment of Duryee, which was never popular with the farmers, themselves. Chief Clark could not be located at his home near Crosswicks last week. The house was closed and neighbors said that Clark, with members of his family, is spending a brief vacation in New England.

Neighboring farmers feel keenly the action of the board against Clark, many declaring it is a personal affront to every fruit and produce grower in the state. They declare it has been an "open secret" among farm organizations and the subject of many meetings of growers, that Duryee, as department secretary, has been seeking to force out Clark, as bureau chief for several months. At a meeting in Mount Holly, last week, it was openly charged that personal ambitions and jealousies had become paramount in the president's departmental regime to the bread-and-butter interests of the state.

Fred B. Lippincott, of Moorestown, board member and a Burlington county freeholder, is credited with throwing the balance of pressure in the state board against Clark, a man from his own county. Jeffers, however, led the opposition to the recent action of the board, asking for Clark's resignation. Clark flatly refused to resign, saying he took this action on the advice of and at the request of many farmers. The board then gave him three months' leave of absence with pay and a discharge.

In addition to his prominence in state and federal marketing developments, Clark is active in numerous civic enterprises. He is president of the Burlington County Sunday School Association and a director of the County Y. M. C. A. Before entering the state service to organize the agricultural marketing bureau, he was an instructor at Rutgers.

MOORESTOWN GOLF

The Moorestown Field Club Golf Championship game is still in progress. Saturday of last week, E. Russell Perkins defeated William B. Overman in their match, and Robert Rogers won from William Roberts. Both of these matches were close, especially in the match between Rogers and Roberts there was a chance for either one to come out victor.

Dr. A. B. Stokes and Robert Rogers played a match yesterday afternoon (Tuesday) and the game ended with Dr. Stokes one up. James Brown and J. R. Uimer will play off in a match Saturday afternoon.

"Please give me Mr. Dill's telephone number." "Is the initial 'B' as in 'billy'?" asked the operator. "It's Dill as in pickles."—Telephone Review.

Old Home Day Big Success

Most Windup of Day's Programs Falls To Mar Celebration

Palmyra's 8th Old Home Day, held last Saturday, proved a most enjoyable occasion and was a success in every sense of the word, despite some interference from the Weather Man.

Nearly 500 old timers and 300 visitors were registered at the Grove by the reception committee and the figures, of course, did not include the hundreds of people who did not take the time to register. The crowd was somewhat less than in the big Old Home Days of 1921 and 1922, due largely to the fact that rainy weather had been forecast for the day. The weatherman was largely wrong in this respect, however, as the greater part of the day was admirably fitted for the celebration. It had rained a bit before dawn, but the sun soon broke through the clouds and the afternoon was perfect.

Storm clouds began to gather in the evening, however, and it was deemed advisable to advance the hour for the fireworks, which began at 8:30 instead of 10. Despite this precaution, it began to rain in earnest shortly after 9 o'clock and the remaining fireworks were let go almost all together while the crowds scurried for shelter.

The events of the day were carried out as planned with satisfaction to all. The various lodges held open house and gave food and refreshments to hundreds. The exercises in the Grove were quite impressive and various bands discouraged music all day long. In the evening the crowds reached their height, with street dancing at three points, an open air moving picture show, a Punch and Judy and a merry chase all adding to the general merriment of the occasion. The parade in which the General Committee, the Lions Club and the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce welcomed the Riverton Council, the Rotary Club and the Riverton Chamber of Commerce, was one of the feature events of the evening.

The baseball game between the "old-timers" and the Palmyra Field Club, which was one of the events of the day, Jack Wood hurled for the veterans, while Winger occupied the mound for the younger players. The final score was 5-2 for the Field Club.

Bill Wimer, second-sacker for the veterans, played a whirlwind game. He developed a fondness for his base, sliding into it three times head first. Once he made a spectacular stop in that manner. Another time he broke a bat. When Berry, of his team, hit a three-bagger with Wimer on first, "Bill" puffed home while the band played "The Old Gray Mare She Ain't What She Used to Be."

George Nellins, who is now sixty-six years old, played right field for the veterans. He used to be the best catcher in Burlington county, but that was the time when his waistline could be held in by a size 30 belt. Saturday he wore the same suit that he had worn when he played with Palmyra. Every time he swung at the ball the pitcher had to wait until he tucked his shirt in. Len Baker, managing the veterans, asked Nellins to catch. The veteran refused, saying that if he stopped over in that suit he wouldn't have any.

ATKINSON LOST TO PALMYRA

Joe's Athleticism and Skill in Football and Baseball

"Joe" Atkinson, star halfback of the Palmyra High school, left Palmyra and entered Camden High on Wednesday. He will be in the Camden-Woodbury "battles," an important Class A game on the South Jersey card for Friday.

Last year Atkinson beat Princeton High almost single-handed. Time and time again he ripped off 30 and 40 yards on his end runs. "Joe" will be a great help to Camden and they are pleased in getting him.

Joe is not only a triple-threat football player of note, but an all-around athlete. His work on the track field is stellar. He is not only fast in the dashes but good at distance and a burly runner of note. Atkinson is a great pole vaulter. He proved this when he carried off the honors at the South Jersey Scholastics at Atlantic City last year.

Joe also played baseball at Palmyra. He covered first base and played in the outfield. He is a hard hitter and fast on the bats. Atkinson is very good at basketball, too. He has already been offered a scholarship at Swarthmore, but he says he will consider Rutgers as the college where he is more than likely to matriculate.

SELECT SEED IN FALL

Sweet potato seed should be selected in the fall at harvest time. Selecting the seed at this time will enable the grower to note the yield per hill, the relative size and shape of the potatoes, and the presence or absence of disease. Only medium sized well-shaped potatoes from productive hills free of disease should be saved for seed.

Sweet potatoes are subject to a number of diseases, the worst of which are stem rot, black rot, foot rot, and, in the southwest, root rot. The presence of these diseases can be noted at digging time, the names being descriptive of the condition to avoid either in the potato or the vine and underground parts of the stems.

The fungi or organisms causing these diseases live over in sweet potatoes in the storage house and grow from the diseased seed potatoes into the plants developed from them. In the early stage these diseased plants are hard to detect, and, consequently, many of them are set in the field, where the fungus continues to grow. Setting out diseased plants can be largely avoided by careful selection of disease-free seed at harvest time while the potatoes are still attached to the vines. Only sound, healthy potatoes should be selected, and only from vines the stems of which are not rotted or otherwise abnormal.

The selected seed should be stored in baskets or crates, in a part of the house where they will not come in contact with the general stock. Cucumbers are good steamed or boiled and served with white sauce or savory butter.

GEO. N. WIMER HURT IN FALL FROM HORSE

Profound Palmyra Citizen Suffers Broken Arm and Shoulder

George N. Wimer, Palmyra Borough Councilman and long prominent in local as well as state and county affairs, suffered a broken arm and serious bruise in a fall from his horse early Monday morning.

Mr. Wimer was taking his regular morning ride with Chester Watson when his horse stepped on a loose gutter covering at Fifth and Morgan avenues. The horse fell, throwing Mr. Wimer heavily to the ground. Watson's horse passed over the injured rider, but did not strike him.

Mr. Wimer was assisted to the steps of a nearby home while Mr. Watson ran for Dr. Voorhis. When they returned he had fainted, but shortly afterward was able to start walking home, assisted by the physician. While the ambulance was being called, he had almost reached home by the time the ambulance arrived.

Dr. Voorhis made his patient as comfortable as possible while X-ray pictures were taken and developed and during the afternoon the broken bone was set and placed in a cast. The patient is now reported resting comfortably as to be expected and on the road to a slow but certain recovery.

A peculiar part of the accident is the fact that the injured arm is the same one which was broken in Mr. Wimer's childhood and in almost the same way. When he was five years old, he stumbled at a street crossing and fell, breaking his left arm. The physician failed to diagnose the cast properly and it was months before it was found that the bone had been fractured, with the result that the arm never grew normally.

Be Care of the Sire The quality of the sire at the head of the dairy herd is important. It may be lowering the production of his daughters as compared with the production of their dams. Not Indian pudding with vanilla ice-cream on the side is a popular New England combination.
