Court of Honor Meets in Delanco

Boy Scouts Receive Merit Badges and Special Honors Last Friday

The largest number of Boy Scouts ever present at a meeting in Delanco assembled at the Court of Honor in the new school auditorium last Friday evening. Delegations from troops of all parts of the county were present at the meeting witnessed the presentation of merit badges and scout emblems to a large number of deserving scouts. A very impressive scout ceremony was witnessed when the Delanco scout performed the traditional initiation ritual and inducted six candidates into the scout ranks.

Ralph Charlton, of Delanco, made the first class awards after explaining the requirements for a scout to become a first class scout and congratulated the boys for having passed the necessary test.

B. H. Johnson made the merit badge awards and Roy Deane the star scout awards, both of Delanco. Harold M. Wall, President of the Burlington County Council made the Eagle scout awards, which were given to only five scouts.

The Eagle Scout award is the highest merit obtainable by a scout and at the present time there is only about twenty Eagle scouts in the county. At the close of the presentation of the awards Howard Eastwood, Burlington Attorney, made a short talk to the boys and the court was closed by the singing of songs.

Those receiving badges and special honors at the court were: Irving Workman, Moorestown, Troop 3; Woodrow Vessel, Moorestown, Troop 5; Fred Fuhrer, Beverly, Troop 5; Andrew Rauch, Beverly, Troop 6; Robert Speare, Beverly, Troop 5.

Court Calendar is Cleaned Up

Judge Slaughter Finished Near-By All Cases on Hand Last Week

Judge Slaughter disposed of several Common Pleas cases last week and this practically cleaned up the calendar for the present, as no other cases listed are ready.

The first matter heard on Monday was the case of Ellen Ridgway, of New Egypt, who sued to recover the price of a tractor which he sold to Stephen and Kathia Korte. In this case a voluntary judgment was allowed with costs. John Meira and James Mercer Davis were the counsel.

The next case moved was that of George W. Harvey, of Palmyra, against Benjamin Kuhn, of Burlington, to recover damages as the result of an automobile accident in November of last year.

The jury returned a verdict of $125 for the plaintiff. Washington and Matthews and James S. Turp were the counsel.

The case of Elijah Anderson against Frances Bergman, both of Burlington, involved in the sale of second-hand car, and by direction of the Court the jury returned a verdict for $333.75, the full amount of Anderson's claim, with interest. The principals were represented by Palmer and Powell and Robert Paschick, but the case was uncontested.

MOORESTOWN CASE
On Wednesday the case of Myers Marmer vs. Harry C. Perkins, both of Moorestown, was heard by the Court and a jury. The suit was the result of an automobile collision in Moorestown and the jury returned a verdict of $500 for Marmer.

Howard L. Miller opposed each other in this case.

Another case heard the same day was that of Earl Bittow, of Mount Holly against Clarence Carmella, also of Mount Holly. Both litigants are plumbers and Bittow claimed he entered into an arrangement with Carmella by which there was to be a 50-50 division of the profits of installing several tanks and stand-ards for the Crow-Lewis Oil Company, and Carmella failed to live up to the bargain.

The jury evidently believed Bittow's statements, for he was awarded a verdict for $350. Bittow was represented by Robert Paschick, while Herbert S. Killis looked after the case of Carmella.

Short Court Notes
Martin Lee, committed on 4 charges of drunken driving, was released on Monday on a writ of habeas corpus.

Criminal cases will be taken up by Judge Slaughter on November 8, November 11, Armistice Day, and November 22, Thanksgiving Day, both falling on Thursday, the regular sessions of miscellaneous court will be held on the Wednesday preceding.

The cases of the State vs. Edward Burns and that of the State vs. George Smith, on appeal, set down for Friday, were continued. These are actions of the State Fish and Game Commission.

CUTS HIS THROAT

Alfred Port, eighty-eight years of age, died at the Burlington County Hospital in Mount Holly last week as a result of his cutting his throat with a razor in the garage at his home on Elizabeth street, Pemberton. About eleven o'clock he disappeared back of the garage and there did the cutting. Not having wholly accomplished his purpose and being weak from the loss of blood, he went into the garage and sat on a barrel, where he was found later by a member of the family. His son, Elmer, was summoned immediately and arrangements were made for hospital treatment. He had been in failing health for some time and this is attributed as the cause of his act.

Republicans Hold Campaign Rally

Barach and Wells Are Speakers at Big Dinner in Mount Holly

Party allegiance and the importance of exercising the right of franchise were especially stressed at the dinner given in the social hall of the Presbyterian Church, Garden street, Mount Holly, by the Burlington County Republican Committee, Thursday evening of last week. The principal addresses were made by Congressman Isaac Barach, of Atlantic City; former Judge Harold B. Wells, of Haddonfield; and Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell, of Mount Holly. All urged that every voter do his full duty in order that Republican supremacy might be maintained.

More than two hundred and fifty guests attended the dinner, representing nearly every section of Burlington county, and every one of them thoroughly enjoyed the well arranged feast. All of the candidates except Harry J. Ziegler, of Riverdale, and Benjamin Farmer, of Burlington, were present, and occupied seats at the dinner table. Mr. Ziegler, who is running for auditor, was seriously ill in a Philadelphia hospital, and Mr. Farmer, who is a candidate for coroner, was kept away by illness in the family.

The candidates present besides Mr. Barach and Mr. Wells, were: A. Edgar Holmes, who is seeking to succeed James B. Freewood as sheriff; Michael E. Matlack, of Mount Holly, who is a candidate to succeed himself as surrogate; and William K. Heister, of Pemberton, who is running for a place on the Board of Freeholders.

Mount Toastmaster
The dinner began with an invocation by the Rev. Curwen Fisher, of Mount Holly, who is a member of the Board of Freeholders, and at the conclusion of the dinner Mrs. Nellie Russell, of Springfield, a woman member of the Republican State Committee from Burlington county, introduced Charles R. Stout, of Florence, chairman of the Republican County Committee as toastmaster. Mr. Stout did the work in a pleasing manner, showing the same speed that characterizes his hustling from one end of his bailiwick to the other. Congressman Barach's address largely had to do with his work in Washington where, he says, he sought to serve, not only the people of his district but the people of the whole state and the whole country. That, he said, was what he believed his people elected him for.

In speaking of his work, he said that he was ordered by his dictators of his conscience and tried at all times to work in accord with the administration. This he said, was quite possible in most instances, but there were exceptions when there was a difference of opinion. One of the differences was the soldiers' bonus bill, which was not working out as some of its advocates expected, but was running true to the prediction of its opponents. Mr. Barach said that in a single day recently he had applications for help from twenty service men.

Gets Big Vote
Mr. Barach said he could not have independence of thought and deed in Washington but for the fine vote by which he has been sent to Washington six times and in certain to be sent the seventh time. That vote, Mr. Barach said, was large, and was received by any other Congressman in New Jersey.

The Congressman paid a fine tribute to President Coolidge for his sound judgment and adherence to duty; told of the necessity of maintaining a high protective tariff, and thanked the people of the Second New Jersey District for so loyally standing back of him.

Many people have heard Judge Wells speak many times, but they never heard him make a better address than the one he delivered Thursday night. The Judge was in excellent form, and, as usual, his talk was full of excellent advice and brimming with humor.

The predominant thought was the necessity of going to the polls and the Judge emphasized it in a dozen ways with fitting illustrations. He declared that Judge Runyon would have been elected governor four years ago had the Republicans in New Jersey not remained at home and permitted the Democratic bosses of Hudson county to run things to suit themselves. In speaking of Hudson county he said that the vote there was almost a hundred per cent, while the vote in the lower counties was hardly the half of it.

American First
The Judge said that he was an American first and then a Republican; that he was a Republican because he believed that Republicanism meant Americanism; and that he was sure that he was serving his country and working for its best interest by voting the Republican ticket. He said that too many of us were prone to dodge the business of politics until the urge became so apparent that we had to waken up and get busy. Indifference to voting, he declared, was nothing but political laziness.

The speaker said that every man and woman should be a politician; that political work was necessary in the making of the country as we would have it, and along this line he complimented the men and women of Burlington county who are giving their time and money to be helpful in political campaigns.

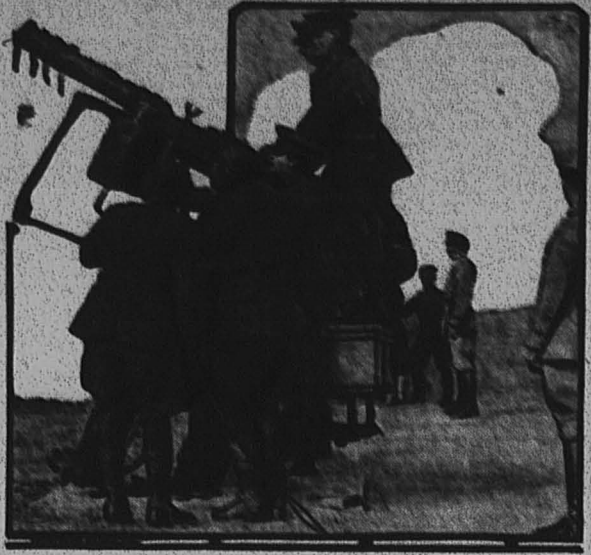

The Judge also paid a tribute to President Coolidge, declaring that his sound judgment had its birth on the farm and that the people of America were reaping the benefit of the economic ideas he gleaned from New England soil.

Powell Speaks
Assemblyman Powell told of the difficulties that a Republican Legislature had with a Democratic governor, and declared that as long as such a condition existed the best results could not be attained. He referred to the move being made by Governor Moore relative to the crime wave that is sweeping over the country, and said that remedial action lay, not in passing more laws, as the Governor suggests, but in the enforcement of those already passed.

The assemblyman plainly said that the Governor's move was trying to pass the buck.

The Assemblyman paid an excellent tribute to Harry Ziegler, saying that although he was the son of a German. He was an American and went to France with the Americans and was gassed by the Germans.

That was eight years ago and Mr. Ziegler still was suffering from the deadly fumes that were taken into his lungs and stomach. As a result of the gas, the speaker said, Mr. Ziegler now was in a hospital in a serious condition. Mr. Powell urged the prayers of everybody in the county in order that a man of such sterling worth might be restored.

Short addresses were also made by William H. Reeves, of New London, member of the Republican State Committee from Burlington county, and Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown. All the candidates present were introduced, bowed and smiled charmingly, but did not speak. Another who sat at the speakers' table was Mrs. J. Hormon Terry, of Edgewater Park, vice-chairman of the Burlington County Republican Committee. Others at the head table were officials and the wives of the candidates.

In connection with the dinner there was an excellent program of orchestral music and community singing. Souvenirs were given. Serve roast lamb or lamb chops piping hot, on a hot platter, and then on hot plates. The fat of lamb has the peculiarity of sticking to the plate when cool, also to the palate and roof of the mouth. To most people this is unpleasant and it can be easily avoided by serving the lamb on very hot dishes.

It is estimated it costs $6.187 to rear a girl until she is eighteen and $6.077 to bring up a boy, the difference representing about the cost of four permanent waves. Detroit News.

PATCH-LONDON

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Landon, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Thomas D. Landon, of Bordentown, and Robert Buckingham Patch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Patch, of Berkshire, N. Y., took place in Christ Church, Bordentown, attracting much attention. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles R. Dubell, of St. Simon's church, Philadelphia, with Rev. Edgar L. Sanford, Christ Church rector, assisting. The church looked pretty with its decorations of fall flowers, leaves and plants.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She was charmingly groomed in white chiffon velvet with duchess lace that came from her mother's wedding gown. A court train of velvet was supported on her shoulders and her cap fashion veil was held with a coronet of duchess lace. She had a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley, roses and sweet peas.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Margaret Landon, as maid of honor, who wore a lavender chiffon gown and gray picture hat, and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Landon was attractively attired in black velvet trimmed with silver lace, and Mrs. Patch wore a gown of gray.

The best man was D. Belmont Kennedy, of White Stone, L. I., and the ushers were Russell Barber, of Newark, John Cowan and John Asphorpe, of New York.

After a reception at the Landon home Mr. and Mrs. Patch left on a wedding trip. They will be at home after December 1 in Bloomfield.

Dog Contests at Birmingham Farm

Rabbit Hound and Beagle Trials Attract Many Interested Spectators

The hound and beagle contests at the Birmingham Farm last week attracted a large number of entries from owners of these rabbit hunters, and there were quite a few interested spectators present who found considerable pleasure in seeing the dogs work.

The sand farm is an ideal spot for trials of this kind, and there appeared to be quite a few rabbits in that vicinity.

The judges were John Meredith, of Marlton; F. N. Strutch, of Haddonfield; and Mr. Carson, of Trenton, and they worked hard to get the best out of the dogs, their decisions being very fair and well received.

The dogs were run in pairs, being grouped as follows:

All-Age Hounds
1. Warren Crammer, Jim; Elmer, both R. Newcomb, Haddonfield, Pa.

2. W. W. Woreck, Gasoline; Adam, Brown, King.

3. Dr. M. W. Newcomb, Mandy; Jesse E. Cramer, Drive.

4. Henry Warick, Jack; G. L. Warick, Rhoda.

5. William Bennett, Nellie; Lewis Adams, Joe.

6. A. Griffith, Panch; J. S. Murphy, Sue.

7. Mr. Jennings, Sport; Lewis Adams, Sport.

8. B. Conboy, Leader; J. E. Walton, Nellie.

Dr. Newcomb's Mandy scored the highest number of points, Jesse E. Cramer's Drive and Elizabeth R. Newcomb's Faithful were tied for second place. On Saturday morning the second series was run between Mr. Cramer's Drive and Miss Newcomb's Faithful and it was won by Mr. Cramer's Drive. The third and last series was to decide the championship of the all-age hounds, which was between Mr. Cramer's Drive and Dr. Newcomb's Mandy. After a good chase the judges awarded first and last in all-age to Dr. Newcomb's Mandy and second to Mr. Cramer's Drive.

Beagle Hounds
Florence Crammer, Dan; Clarence Carmella, Fanny; Elton Crammer, Don.

The derby hounds made an excellent run and first was given to Mr. Carmella's Fanny. Mr. Carmella refused an offer of $125 for Fanny and she will be in the all-age class next year, and it will take the very best to win over her.

Beagle Hounds—First Series
1. Harry Jones, Queen; William Paul, Fox (did not start).

2. Charles Carmella, Margie H.; Harold Parker, Baby.

3. Cyrus Bradley, Chump; Howard Erickson, Brownie.

AFFIRM CONVICTION

Court of Errors Sustains Sentence on Michael Chirco

Conviction of Michael Chirco, of Riverside, on a charge of receiving stolen goods has been upheld by the Court of Errors. Chirco was found guilty in the Somerset Common Pleas Court in October, 1924, and sentenced to the State prison for a term of one to three years.

The charge grew from a truck robbery between Kingston and Chalkville in August, 1924, the loot consisting of a quantity of cotton plush valued at $5,000 and three cases of dress goods worth $1,075. Chirco was later arrested by the State police upon complaint that he had received part of the goods.

FLOWERS OF LOVE

In the course of my travels I hear some wonderful stories and the one I heard this week was one of the most unusual ones.

Next door to Aunt Mary's was a little house which the neighbors had called the "house of light" while others thought of it as the "love nest." The house itself wore an air of making every one, who came to its doors, welcome; and the occupants expressed a hope and cheerfulness which made others happy.

One day several visitors came and the little house was more than full, so Aunt Mary arranged to have some of them sleep in her home. The visitors remained several weeks, and when they left for their sunny home in the south Aunt Mary and the occupants of the little house felt sorry to see them go. Some time after they had gone, the man in the "house of light" was talking with Aunt Mary over the fence, both expressing their pleasure on account of the loving people who had so recently been with them and had trod the path between the two homes. Then Aunt Mary's eyes took on a surprised look and she said "Why I never saw those flowers before." Then both looked and found the path between the two homes had grown up with beautiful, fragrant flowers. Then a man who had a room with Aunt Mary and was nearly blind, as the result of a recent illness, came out of the door and walked along close to the flowers. So close, yet he never stepped on one. When he reached the spot where the other two were talking, he looked keenly at them and then exclaimed "Why I can see as well as I ever could." These "flowers of love" have opened my eyes.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

Riverton, N. J.,
October 31, 1936

Last night at midnight I surprised a group of boys stretching two lengths of iron fence across Bank avenue from the lamp post. The light was nearly out, and I am quite sure that in some way I dimmed it, as it was burning brightly a short time before.

Just after I managed to drag the fence to one side a car with poor lights came past, hurrying to the ferry.

It may be that those boys were just thoughtless, but they were old enough to have stopped to think, and they had deliberately made it possible for a bad accident to happen.

Property damage is bad enough, but to obstruct a road and attempt to wreck a car is surely beyond pardon.

Yours truly,
MARGARET J. F. REBER.

APPRECIATION

To the Voters of the Second Congressional District:

Through the courtesy extended to me by the editor of this paper, I wish to take this means of saying a word of personal thanks to each and every voter in my District who supported me at the polls on election day. I appreciate very much the continued confidence reposed in me by my constituents as manifested in the very large majority which I received throughout the District, and I want to especially thank the voters of Burlington County for the very splendid support which they gave me. To me it is an expression of approval of all that I have done or tried to do, as your representative in the National Congress, and it will give me renewed ambition and energy to give even better service in the future.

ISAAC BACHARACH, M. C.

INSTALLATION OF K. & C. OFFICERS

George A. Strobel and Harry C. Strobel, of the K. & C. Council, were installed as officers of the Council.

At last Tuesday's meeting, the officers of St. Joseph's Council were installed by District Deputy Floyd of Woodbury. This was the first visit of the District Deputy to the local council since his appointment by the new State Deputy, William J. Brady, and the large turnout of the council showed that everybody was pleased that St. Joseph's Council is again under his guidance.

The history and progress of the council were briefly sketched by Mr. Floyd, and George A. Strobel and Harry C. Strobel were installed as officers of the Council. Since its inauguration, Mr. Strobel, one of the fathers of the council, has been trustee for the entire eight years, while Mr. Strobel has been the guardian and treasurer of the funds for the same length of time.

The books of the council were also inspected by the visiting officer and Andrew J. Paul, the financial secretary, was highly praised for his efficient handling of the accounts.

Grand Knight Yearly was highly commended for the progress and condition of the council and the District Deputy remarked that he could see no reason why St. Joseph's Council should not lead all South Jersey Councils in every activity in the Order.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a very tasty luncheon was served by Theobald Schneider, and of course the large number present certainly kept Mr. Schneider and his assistants busy.

Tournaments Popular
Many new names have been added to the list of tournament entries, and since the formation of the baseball league, there certainly is plenty of attraction for the use of the Knights' beautiful home.

FIELD CLUB WINS

Palmyra Football Stars Easily Defeat Clayton

The Palmyra Field Club won an impressive victory over Clayton Saturday with a 25-0 score. The Clayton team was composed of former Clayton High School stars but they could not do much against the Palmyra eleven. The local boys played excellent football in all departments of the game. Clayton was completely outplayed and the Palmyra lads gained almost at will.

Wagner was back in the line-up and played a wonderful game. The Field Club had several new faces on the line, Hebrew, Gorman, and Tuhowski, and all three put up a good game.

Wagner and Peditto were the real stars. Westcott handled the team in first class style. Two of the touchdowns were scored by Peditto, the planning fullback. On one occasion he crashed through the line for 30 yards and a touchdown.

Gross, Roscoe and Thomas were the stellar performers for Clayton. Summary of the game:

Governor's Program For New Legislation Against Bandits Endorsed

Law enforcement officials of New Jersey and members of Governor Moore's special crime commission met last week with the Governor in a general conference on the crime situation in this State. The Governor's program to have the Legislature immediately pass a law making banditry and habitual criminality punishable by life imprisonment was unanimously endorsed by the conference, as was his suggestion of new legislation to prevent delays in the prosecution of criminal cases through the various stages of appeals.

The conference at its own initiative went on record as favorable to a general revision of the penal code of the State for the purpose of providing severe punishment for major offenses. One of the suggestions made was that in the future the pardon power be exercised only in instances of first offenders; that there be greater care exercised in the selection of petit jurors; that roadhouses, cabarets and poolrooms, which were branded as the hatching places of crime, be subjected to more stringent regulation, and that machine guns now frequently used by criminals be matched by the use of similar weapons, together with armored cars, tear bombs and riot guns, by the police.

Prosecutor Westcott, of Camden, proposed that police be empowered to inspect road houses, cabarets and such resorts without the formality of a search warrant. He likewise called for a more drastic weapon law, and curtailment of appeals and the delays that frequently mark such procedure.

The State Association of Police Chiefs offered ten suggestions. They ranged from the utilization of radio in criminal apprehension and road patrols under county supervision to the appointment of a chief police to the Court of Pardons and the admission of more detectives and a fingerprint expert to the staff of each of the prosecutors.

Governor Moore announced that all suggestions would be carefully weighed by him and incorporated in his special message to the Legislature of November 15.

There's a Reason

Two small girls were playing together one afternoon in the park. "I wonder what time it is," said one of them at last. "Well, it can't be four o'clock yet," replied the other with magnificent logic, "because my mother said I was to be home at four—and I'm not."

STATE DEPARTMENT HAS COMPLETE MAPS

Copies Are On Sale and Will Be Mailed To Any Address For 50c

The State Department of Conservation and Development announces that copies of the latest revised edition of Sheet No. 27 of the State Topographical Atlas have been received from the engraver, and are now on sale. The maps cover an area of about 140 square miles bounded roughly by Palmyra and Mount Holly and Weartville on the east, and the Delaware River on the west. There is an inset showing Trenton and a portion of the surrounding area. These maps are drawn on a scale of one inch to the mile and have been revised to show conditions of the present year.

The new edition, in addition to showing the location of the various cities and towns, from the largest city to the smallest hamlet, gives accurate information concerning the location of all highways, railroads, waterfalls, forest areas, mineral deposits, agricultural lands, elevations above sea level and county, township and municipal boundaries.

Covering as it does, a territory in which many changes and developments have taken place since 1913 when the last previous survey was made, the new edition is of great value to engineers, realtors, contractors and other persons who desire an accurate knowledge of the territory.

Copies of the new map will be mailed to any address on receipt of fifty cents, which covers the cost of printing and mailing. Remittance should be made to the Department of Conservation and Development, State Office Building, Trenton, N. J.

County Y. M. C. A.

Fifty-three different groups are on the list at the County "Y" office. Many of these have already gotten well into their full and winter program. Others are just reorganizing, and some are being organized for the first time. These groups are located in twenty-six different communities throughout the county.

"A good time was had by all" and there was a capacity attendance too, at the meeting of the Burlington Industrial Association held in the Masonic Hall, Burlington, Monday evening, October 18, when Harry White, of the General Electric Company delivered his famous address on "Man Power."

Groups, Pioneer, Comrade, and Hi-Y Clubs, all over the county are becoming increasingly interested in the two contests announced this year by the County office: first, the Year Book Contest; secondly, the News Contest.

A quantity consignment of Friendly Indians, Pioneer, and Old-er Boys program booklets and material which come through from California, has just arrived at the County office, and a minimum order of these supplies can be secured there.

The weekend four-county Leaders' Get-Together held at the Ockanickon camp site, October 16 and 17, was an exceedingly profitable time. The combined attendance from the four counties was in the neighborhood of seventy-five.

Older fellows all over the county are inquiring about this year's State Older Boys' Conference. This will be held in the Oranges, December 3, 4 and 5. Again this season Burlington county will be entitled to about two dozen delegates. One of these will be Nathan Lane, 3rd, a student at B. M. L., who, during the past summer attended the World's Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association, Helsinki, Finland. "Nate" will give a report on his trip to the Conference at one of the Orange sessions.

Again this season J. Porter Ashbrook is on the County "Y" staff for part time service. Right now his evenings are occupied with visiting groups, and having conferences with leaders.

"CH" Ergood, our new assistant full-time County Secretary, in order that he may become more quickly acquainted in various sections of the county, has already spent some weeks residing in Palmyra and Riverton, and right now is living in Burlington and working out from there as a center.

Do you know kohlrabi, sometimes called turnip-rooted cabbage? Pare the globe or bulbous stem, discarding any stringy or tough portions. Slice it and cook for about half an hour in slightly salted water. Season with butter, salt, and pepper or serve with a white sauce.

RADIATOR SHUTTERS HUDSON-ESSEX CARS

The New Equipment on Cars Make Starting in Cold Weather Much Easier

In these cool autumn mornings and evenings, motorists can obtain first class performance and efficiency by making use of the heat of the motor itself, according to George Jones, Hudson-Exsco (dealer). The result to be desired, he said, is to get the motor and the motor compartment warm just as promptly as possible.

"When this warm temperature is reached," Mr. Jones stated, "the efficiency of carburetion is much increased, and we obtain better performance and improved economy. Until the motor is warm too, the use of the choke is usually necessary—and it is well known that this is harmful to the life of the motor. To warm the motor promptly, use of the radiator shutters, which are recommended by the manufacturer, is the best method. By closing these shutters, the motorist can prevent cold air from streaming through the radiator onto the motor. When this cold air is excluded, the engine will quickly bring itself to an efficient temperature, and the 'cold' period is reduced to a minimum.

"It is a mistake to think shutters are useful only in very cold weather. They are useful in all temperatures, and particularly when less than 60 degrees is registered. Because of their importance, they have long been supplied as standard equipment on both Hudson and Essex. A motorist is installed too to enable the driver to keep his car at a constant correct temperature. In driving into cold wind, for instance, the driver will doubtless wish to close the shutters—which by the way, will make it more comfortable for passengers in the front seats. It is also good practice, in cold days, to close the shutters entirely when stopping, thereby retaining and conserving as much heat as possible. On a long drive, the motor will warm itself up to a point where the shutters should be at least partly open for efficient cooling. By keeping this consistent control of his motor, the owner of a Hudson or Essex car is helping the performance and life of his automobile in highly important respects.

Mr. Jones said that local owners of the new Hudson Super-Sixes, with the improved carburetor and manifold, are reporting very satisfactory gasoline economy. He declared that he knew of no car, of anything like the Super-Six performance and riding comfort, which could excel it in this respect. Both in traffic and cross-country driving, he said, it is yielding better economy than ever before, with performance standards better than ever before.

Preparing Final Plans for Building of New Hospital

Minor Changes in Original Plans Made, After Conferences on Subject With Experts

Plans are now on their way to final preparation for the building of the new Burlington County Hospital and it is expected that within the next three weeks the architects will have them in shape for the last signature of approval and contractors will be asked to submit bids.

It has taken weeks for the building committee to make all of its investigations of hospital construction, conferences with the architect and hospital building experts and reach a working basis for a final conclusion. This building committee has been very industrious and those who have been in touch with the progress made are feeling sure that when the new hospital is finished no important details will be missing.

This much in the form of satisfaction was brought out at a meeting of the Board of Council recently, when the architect was present to show the exterior elevations that have been decided upon and explain the plans so those present could have a clear understanding of all that has been done up to date. The general plan is substantially the same as was shown in the reproduction of the architect's drawing for publicity during the campaign to raise funds for the new hospital, except that the front has been made straight and the building will be "Y" shape instead of taking a "V" formation. This change makes the front more imposing and carries out an idea that will make the building more acceptable to the public. It will certainly be fine to have such a hospital in the county. For several weeks people, especially those who contributed toward the new building, have been wondering just what the building committee was doing, and now that this much of a report has been made direct from the Board of Council it can be realized that there have been no unnecessary delays in laying a foundation for the movement towards construction. The expectation is that not much later than the first information about the bids and the week in December there will be some prospects of awarding a contract. The committee desired to have things move forward as rapidly as possible, as it is believed that it will take at least a year from the time a contract is awarded to get the building finished and ready for occupancy.

All of this fine new Burlington County Hospital is to be the result of the generosity of the people who have so willingly toward the building fund when the money-collecting campaign was in progress during the late spring. The hospital workers feel good about the liberal response made in this public cause, and the contributors must certainly have a similar feeling over the work that has been done toward creating this monument to their thoughtfulness for the sick and afflicted who will find relief through better hospitalization such as is needed now and will most certainly be needed in the future. There can be no hesitancy on the part of contributors in making their payments which were due on November 1. They can now see that during the coming year their money is to be spent for the purpose that prompted the contributions.

AN ITEM OF NEWS

The Reporter Who Proved a Smarty (From a Newspaper of 50 years ago)

He came into the office, and drawing a chair up close to a reporter's table, he said to the reporter:

"Take a bit of paper and I'll give you a good item."

When the reporter was ready the visitor began:

"Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Smith—my wife, you know—and my daughter drove out with my bay mare for a little ride. Jenny was driving the mare, coming down from Atry to the Wissahickon, when just below the crest of the hill she kicked off one of her shoes."

"Jenny did?"

"No, the mare. Mrs. Smith, however, concluded to go on, as the roads were soft and the mare quiet, so Jenny let her proceed slowly down the hill."

"Let Mrs. Smith or the mare?"

"The mare, of course. A few minutes later, however, while she was stopping to pick me some ferns for her mother, a fly or something bit her on the nose."

"Upon Jenny's nose; bit the mare upon the nose, and Jenny hardly had time to get back into the carriage before she began to rear and plunge in a most alarming manner."

"Not Jenny?"

"O pelaw, the animal, the mare. Mrs. Smith, of course, was very much frightened, for the mare seemed really excited, and she began to scream violently, and try to get out of the carriage."

"The mare did?"

"Mrs. Smith. But Jenny told her she could manage if she would sit still."

"If the mare would sit—"

"If her mother would sit still, but just then a buck broke, and Jenny was unable to prevent the mare from dashing down the hill at a frightful pace. When they came to the bridge over the creek, Mrs. Smith was overjoyed to observe the mare come to a dead stop; but, unhappily, the next moment a lot of blind stagers struck her and—"

"Struck Mrs. Smith, or the—"

"Don't you understand? Struck the mare, and before Jenny could comprehend the situation she reeled about upon the bridge in an uncertain sort of way, while Mrs. Smith was completely unnerved and without self-control, and the next moment she turned an entire somersault over the bridge into the water."

"Are you referring now to Mrs. Smith, or Jenny, or the mare?"

"Why, the mare! Of course she dragged the carriage with her, and Mrs. Smith and Jenny in it. All three sank to the bottom, but the mare almost immediately struck out for shore, and Jenny clasped her by the tail. As they swam past Mrs. Smith clutched at her dress—"

"Not the mare's dress?"

"At Jenny's dress, and this forced her to loose her hold upon the tail."

"I thought you said Jenny had hold of the tail; not Mrs. Smith?"

"So I did. Mrs. Smith had hold of the—"

"The mare's tail, yes, Jenny had hold of the mare's tail, and Mrs. Smith had hold of her dress."

"Whose dress—Jenny's or the—"

"You know very well what I mean. Mrs. Smith held on to Jenny, and Jenny to the mare, but Mrs. Smith let loose unintentionally of course, and as the mare swam off Mrs. Smith said to her—"

"To the mare?"

"You think your smart, now, don't you? You know well enough I mean Jenny."

"Well, then Jenny said to the mare—what?"

"I've got a notion to punch your head for you, you scoundrel."

MICHELLE'S BULBS

For Winter and Spring Blooming Hyacinths, Tulips, Daffodils, Crocus, Etc.

518-516 MARKET ST. PHILA.

The county office furnished a scene of great activity last week when the Board of Directors from all section of Burlington county assembled for the monthly meeting. Mrs. Henry Albertson opened the meeting with a very impressive period of worship. Reports from the districts in the county show that the clubs in each town are re-organized and the interest and enthusiasm are running high among the groups. Definite plans for the observance of the World's Week of Prayer, November 14-20th were discussed and vespers services will be held in several towns. Each club will observe the week in their program.

The policy for the year was presented by Mrs. Alexander Marcy. This policy is a carefully expressed and will be a guide for all Association activities for the year.

The discussion on "What makes up my mind on International Questions" was led by Miss Mary Thibault, of Moorestown. Miss Thibault provided a very able discussion leader and when the meeting closed there were still some women who wanted to discuss points further. These discussions are planned to increase interest in International problems.

Edna Geister, well known throughout the United States as a recreational leader, was the guest of the Senior Club of Riverton-Palmyra, Tuesday evening, November 2nd, at the Riverton Porch Club.

Miss Geister was employed as Recreation Director for the Y. W. C. A. in Hollywood, Cal., for several years. She is now working with the International Institute of New York City. Many who do not know her personally are familiar with her books, "Isobreakers," "It is To Laugh," "The Fun Book," and others. The Riverton-Palmyra Club was delighted to have this opportunity of hearing Miss Geister tell how to conduct an evening of recreation such as can be used in church socials, church schools, or any recreational evening, and also of enjoying an evening of recreation directed by Miss Geister herself.

The first meeting of "A Study for the Advancers of Girls' Activities" was held Saturday morning, October 20th, at ten o'clock at the Mt. Holly Y. W. C. A. club room. Miss Mildred Purnell, chairman of the Burlington County Girl Reserve Committee, presided at the meeting and opened with a short devotional period. "The Spirit of Modern Youth in the Life of Today" was presented by Miss Sallie Sumner.

Tree Planting

Idle farm lands in New York are being converted from a liability into an asset. The State forest nurseries in the Spring of 1926 sent out more than 7,000,000 young trees, or enough to plant about 20,000 acres. The year's output promises to be about 23,000,000 trees.

Fire losses in this country totaled $570,000,000 last year, and are likely to mount higher this year.

The world's most effective fire fighting system is claimed by Paris.

Fresh pyrethrum powder is advised in bathrooms or damp store-rooms where centipedes appear. These insects are more alarming in appearance than in reality, however. Centipedes destroy house flies, roaches, small moths and other insects and seldom bite human beings.

Kearny Station To Have Party

General Public Will be Guest at Reception Held by Electric Company

The Kearny Electric Power Station of Public Service Electric and Gas Company is to have a complimentary party. As befits a young lady of her importance it is to be a celebration of magnitude lasting over a period that extends from November 9 to November 20.

Everyone is invited and so that everyone can be given proper attention various days have been designated for the reception of various groups.

Tuesday, November 9, has been set aside for public officers, engineers and leading representatives of the electric industry in the state and throughout the country. Wednesday, November 10 and Friday, November 12, Thursday being a holiday, for Public Service security holders. November 15 for industrial power users, manufacturers and others, particularly interested in the power matters. Tuesday and Wednesday, November 16 and 17 for the ladies, members of Public Service Radio Cooking School, club women and others. Thursday and Friday, November 18 and 19 for the general public, while on Saturday, November 13 and Saturday, November 20, November 16 and 17 for the ladies, members of Public Service companies will be received.

For all the days, except those reserved for the general public, special invitations will be sent out by the company. Announcement of the reception arrangements for the general public will be made in the newspapers at a later date.

There is no record anywhere of just such a party as it is proposed to make this which celebrates the completion of Kearny. Other great electric power stations throughout the country have been put in service with due ceremony, but the invited guests have been confined to a comparatively small circle. In this case, however, as President Thomas N. McCarter put it: "The management of Public Service Electric and Gas Company believes that Kearny is a masterpiece of the industrial and civic progress of New Jersey, which favorably affects every citizen of the state, that every user of electricity whether in the home or in industry or in commerce has a direct and personal interest in the new plant and consequently that an opportunity to inspect the new plant should be given to everyone."

Kearny is an outstanding evidence of the development of the electrical art. It is capable of developing 250,000 horse-power, more than two and one-half times the primary or continuous supply that the much talked of Wilson dam development at Muscle Shoals can furnish. It costs in excess of $30,000,000 and its construction was planned with the idea in mind of doubling its capacity as the needs of the state demand.

Cinnaminson School News

NOVEMBER 4, 1926

No. 2

Yes, we went to the Sequel, and had a wonderful day and a splendid time. Mr. Steele took us in his great big bus. We saw too many things to tell you about all the exhibits, but we especially liked the "Trans-Building with the engines and airplanes. And the forestry display in the Pennsylvania building appealed to the boys. Of course High Street was interesting to everyone and some of the children are writing an account of "Dance School."

Hallowe'en began on the twenty-sixth at Cinnaminson. The grades all had parties Friday afternoon, and ghosts, clowns and all kinds of weird creatures prowled about after the masks were removed the "real parties" began.

You should see the fine Indian exhibit in the fourth and fifth grade class room. Philip Applegate has an uncle who lives out west and has loaned us many things which have been made by our Indian neighbors. There are some mats on looms, uncompleted, so that we can see how the Indians do the weaving, and the queer kind of wool which they use. There are arrow heads, hand made beads, jewelry and many other interesting things in the exhibit.

The special class made over $20 at the food sale. This amount paid our expenses to the Sequel. We wish to thank all those who helped us by donating things to be sold and also those who came to buy.

POULTRYMEN TRAINED AT UNIVERSITY

Prof. W. C. Thompson Will Give Instructions at Short Course in Poultry Raising

The twelve-week short course in Poultry Husbandry at Rutgers University opens November 15th. Since his return from England, where he has been for the last two years establishing the National Poultry Institute for the English government, W. C. Thompson, Professor of Poultry Husbandry, has been paying particular attention to the work of this short course. Professor Thompson believes that if one is to be successful with poultry he must know how to care for the many details of the business and that while some of them can be learned through reading or lectures, most of them can be gotten only through actual experience.

For this reason the work of the Poultry Short Course has been so arranged that each student in the course will be assigned a flock of poultry in the college poultry plant and will be directly responsible to Professor Thompson for its care and management through the twelve weeks. The students will be required to do all the essential work concerned with the management of their flocks during the winter season. This will include the feeding of the fowls, the trapping, the gathering of eggs, the sanitary care of the pen and the water supply, in fact every sort of job which is connected with the proper care of laying flocks during winter periods. They will incubate the eggs from their pens and brood the chicks. When they are not doing these things they will be building houses, judging, candling and grading eggs, killing and dressing poultry, studying poultry diseases and learning how to conduct the business side of the industry.

The course is free to residents of New Jersey and is open to men or women 16 years or over who have had a common school education.

Circular 46 which tells all about the course will be sent free on request to the Director of Short Courses, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J.

BAPTIST CHURCH

On Tuesday evening an enthusiastic gathering of Sunday-School workers met in the church for supper and the annual meeting. Reports were read by the various departments and organized classes, and officers were elected for the coming year as follows:—Superintendent, Thomas C. Van Outen; 1st assistant superintendent, Clarence T. Yerkes; 2nd assistant superintendent, David Wood; secretary, Cecil Thompson; treasurer, Frank N. Johnson. Pastor Lockett gave the association an inspiring address on "Evangelism."

Tonight (Thursday) is the occasion for "Ye Old Folk's Concert," to be rendered in the church under the auspices of the Philathea Class and the pastor. A silver offering will be taken during the concert, if laughter permits.

On Friday the "Happy Hour" kiddies will meet as usual at four, and the B. Y. P. U. at eight.

Next Sunday morning Pastor Lockett will deliver a sermon bringing to the congregation "Ereos" from the New Jersey Baptist Convention.

The evening service will be in commemoration of Armistice Day and the pastor's subject will be "The Way of Peace." This should be a very fitting service as the pastor is particularly inspiring in his patriotic themes.

Each following Sunday evening during November will be devoted to a special service. November 12 will be "Harvest Home Sunday," November 21 will be "Thanksgiving Sunday" and on Sunday November 28 the young people will have charge of the evening service.

WATER FAILING AT ATLANTIC CITY

Increased consumption is causing a gradual lowering of the water in the deep wells in the vicinity of Atlantic City and if continued, may eventually cause a serious depletion of the water supply of that region, was the statement issued today by the Division of Waters, State Department of Conservation and Development, after making an intensive study of the situation in that vicinity in conjunction with the U. S. Geological Survey for a period of over two years.

Almost the entire water supply for cities from Ventnor to Wildwood and for many hotels and other private establishments in Atlantic City is drawn from a great water-bearing sand bed that lies about 500 feet below the surface. When the first wells were drilled to this sand bed in 1892, the water rose in the standpipes 15 feet above the ground, and at ground level the wells flowed 100 gallons or more a minute. As additional wells were drilled and the drought on the bed increased, the water level dropped gradually and wells ceased to flow. In 1923 the water stood about 50 feet below the surface indicating an average drop of about 2 feet a year during 30 years.

In order to obtain accurate data, for more than 2 years the Department has maintained an automatic recorder on a well in Longport which gives a continuous record of the rise and fall of the water level, and daily observations have been made on wells at two points in Atlantic City. These observations all show that the water level fluctuates with changes in the amount of water pumped from the wells. During the summer months when the amount of water pumped from the wells increases, the water level drops. During the fall months when the demand for water decreases, the water level in the wells rises again.

A significant fact is that each summer the water level has dropped lower than during the preceding summer and in the following winter it has not risen so high as the winter before. There has therefore been a progressive permanent lowering of the water level. In 1925 the water dropped lower than in 1924, and the summer of 1925 was unusually dry and it was thought perhaps that the drop was due to lack of rain. In the summer of 1926 the water level dropped nearly five feet lower than in the previous summer, in spite of the fact that the rainfall in July and August was greater than normal. A careful study of the data shows little if any direct relation between fluctuations in rainfall and water level. On the other hand, a rather striking relation between the fluctuations in the amount of water drawn from the wells and the water level. It seems certain that as the resorts grow and the draught from the 400 foot sand bed increases, the water level will drop further.

If an average drop in the water level of 5 feet as in the past year is maintained, in ten years the water in Atlantic City will be about 130 feet below the surface. One result of this great drop will be an increase in the cost of pumping the water. The close proximity of the wells to the ocean makes possible the drawing of salt water, spoiling the supply for domestic use. Certain geological conditions in the Atlantic City region suggest that if this happens, it may be slow and not noticeable for some years. Because of the serious situation that would result if contamination occurs from too great an increase in the draft on the 400 foot water-bearing sands, the Department of Conservation and Development is continuing its investigation.

HAWLEY-FINLEY

A most attractive and brilliant affair was the wedding of Miss Eleanor Schuyler Finley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Finley, of Mount Holly, and Wallace G. Hawley, Jr., of Somerville. It took place at the Walt Whitman Hotel in Camden and the officiating clergyman was Rev. Eugene S. Booth, of New York, an uncle of the groom. The ceremony was held in the ball room, where there were brilliant decorations of chrysanthemums, autumn leaves and palms, with an arch formed for the bridal couple. In the assemblage amid these pleasant surroundings were about a hundred guests, many of them members of the families of the bride and groom.

The bride's gown was of white panopaeo satin with silver trimming, and her veil of lace in cap formation was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and roses. She was given in marriage by her father.

The matron of honor was Mrs. William E. Williams, of Westfield, and she wore burnt orange chiffon velvet and carried an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums and autumn leaves of matching hues. The bridesmaids were Miss Rita Finley, a cousin, of Mount Holly, and Miss M. Louise Hinkle, of Reading Pa. Maize maline was the material of their gowns, and they carried chrysanthemums and autumn leaves of harmonizing shades.

The groom was attended by L. Earle Bretz, of Bronsville, N. Y.

BAPTISTS PRESENT CHILDREN'S PAGEANT

A beautiful and instructive pageant was given in the Central Baptist Church last Sunday night entitled "The Voice of the Future." The theme carried effective lessons of what might be expected in the future of the children of today.

"I am the Voice of the Future," said Miss Helen McDonnell, who took the leading role. "What does he future hold for us, for our country, for the race, and for God's Kingdom? Shall we move on and on to greater heights and to yet greater glory, or shall we falter and stumble and fall? Will we in the future be richer and fuller because this present generation has lived, or will it sink to lower levels of selfishness, of emptiness of spirit, and of greed? I know that in the children lies the hope of the future or its deep gloom."

Members of the cast then presented characterizations representing achievement and retrogression.

The leading parts in addition to Miss McDonnell were as follows: The Community, Miss Martha Hirsch; The Day School, Miss Betty Dean; a father, William Cooper; a mother, Mrs. Rae Barber; and two children, Janet Barber and Billie Cooper.

The regular church choir with Mrs. Powell at the organ assisted with accompanying music.

The pageant was presented under the auspices of the Baptist Primary Department and proved to be a very novel and impressive means of carrying the message to the evening congregation.

PHS GIRLS WIN

The Palmyra Hi Girls surprised the Woodbury lassies Tuesday when they upset their rivals by setting them down for their first defeat in a league contest. The final count was 5-2. One of the largest crowds that ever attended a hockey game in South Jersey was present to witness the game. The defeat prevented Woodbury from entering into a tie for first place with Haddonfield, which is the only undefeated team in the league.

Miss Helen Enskat was the star for Palmyra, scoring four goals. Miss Enskat sparkled in her play along with the great passing game of Miss Gorman, who passed the ball on all occasions. Miss Riddle was a strong defensive star for the winners. The other Palmyra's tallies were made by Miss Burr and Miss Harding. Miss Avis score both points for Woodbury. Miss Chitt also played very good for the losers.

BIG LAND DEAL NEAR MOORESTOWN

The first real estate transaction of considerable magnitude that has been reported in Burlington county for some time has just been made public through the agency of the Spencer-Braslin Company, which negotiated the deal.

Sixty-two and a half acres adjoining and facing the Moorestown Field Club, on the Bridgeboro road and Stanwick avenue, Moorestown, comprise the tract which has just been acquired by a purchaser, yet unnamed. The price is said to have been approximately $200,000. The tract was purchased by a Camden syndicate last spring for about $100,000, as indicated by the revenue stamps which appear on the papers on file in the County Clerk's office at Mount Holly.

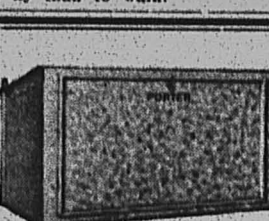

While nothing authoritative is obtainable yet as to the future of the valuable tract of land which appears to have doubled in value in a period of about six months, it is said to be the plan of the new owners to cut the tract up into two or three-acre lots and to re-erect the houses along it on the development to a cost of not less than $25,000.

A number of the homes to be erected on the ground will face the country club, others will front on the Bridgeboro road and others on Stanwick avenue. There are no houses on the farm land at the present time except tenant houses which will be torn down.

It is expected that building operations will be started in the spring and the houses will be completed before the end of next summer. The home of F. M. Johnson, son of the head of the Victor Talking Machine Company, is adjacent to the tract.

The Spencer-Braslin Company purchased the ground from the Camden syndicate, which was composed of the following: Nathan Fredenburg, Raleigh avenue merchant; Raymond L. Sris, attorney; Harry Tietelman, attorney, and Fredrick Sris, a real estate dealer.

Only two persons were killed in the carrying of the air mail last year in 2,250,000 miles of flying. Evidently it is getting to be safer to fly than to walk.

PRUNING METHODS HANDED IN NEW BOOKLET

Certain types of pruning which have been practiced by some peach growers are severely condemned in a booklet entitled "The Pruning of Young and Bearing Peach Trees in the Orchard," now being issued free to residents of New Jersey by the College of Agriculture, New Brunswick.

Referring to 3-year-old trees, M. A. Blake, Horticulturist and author of the booklet, says: "The severe cutting back of peach trees from one to three years old reduces yields and color of fruit, stimulates excessive form of wood growth, and is always to be avoided. A system of thinning and light cutting-back pruning is considered best."

"Peach trees in this state should be pruned and trained to a bowl-shaped form rather than to the old 'vase' form. The vase form too often means a tree with a narrow base and insufficient fruiting area within the 3 to 5-foot height zone."

The booklet emphasizes the importance of late fall and early winter pruning. Summer pruning, it insists, should be confined to special corrective measures for 2 and 3-year-old trees and occasionally for exceptionally large, first-season trees.

Trees with short trunks, 12 to 18 inches from the surface of the soil to the first main branch, are regarded as ideal.

Complete instructions for pruning young and bearing trees are included in the booklet, which may be obtained free on request sent to the Agricultural Extension Office, Mt. Holly.

NEED CLEAN BOTTLES FOR HIGH-GRADE CIDER

Cleanliness is important in producing cider of good flavor. Barrels or other containers which have not been sealed with hot water before being filled with cider are very likely to be the cause of bad flavors. Also, clean fruit in good condition must be used.

If cider is intended for immediate consumption no other precaution than cleanliness is necessary. If the product is to be kept for some time, however, a preservative or preservative process is necessary. For bulk handling it is permissible to add benzoate of soda at the rate of one-tenth of one per cent. by weight. This substance must not be used in cider that is to be bottled.

Bottled cider can be preserved by heating it to 150 to 175 degrees F. for 20 minutes and bottling and sealing while still hot. The lower temperature is satisfactory with very acid cider, and the higher temperature for cider of low acidity. If care is used not to heat the cider above the higher temperature there is little danger of spoiling its flavor.

Because of the large crop of apples this year there probably will be a plentiful supply of good cider on the market.

SERIOUS DISEASE SPREADING AMONG HOGS AND CATTLE IN NORTH JERSEY

Word has been received from William B. Duryee, Secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, that Vesicular Stomatitis is spreading among the horses and cattle in Sussex and a portion of Warren counties. Heavy losses have been sustained in this area with the result that a warning is being sent throughout the State for dairymen to be on the lookout for unusual cases of sore teats or mouths. Up to the present time the source of infection is unknown, and there is no known remedy.

It has been learned in the county is suspicious of any trouble similar to the above, he should immediately notify the County Agent.

The following quarantine has been issued by the State Board of Agriculture:

NOW, THEREFORE, we, the New Jersey State Board of Agriculture, under authority conferred by Chapter 283, Laws of 1916 and amendments thereto, do declare the same to be epidemic and do hereby quarantine the County of Sussex and the Townships of Atlantic, Frelinghuysen, Hardwick and Fagauary, in Warren County, New Jersey, and by this notice of quarantine do order that all transportation of live stock within, into or from the quarantine area is prohibited except under special written permit issued by the Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the New Jersey Department of Agriculture, where an emergency necessitates such action.

1932 POULTRY CALENDARS AVAILABLE

Since November 1st is considered the beginning of a new poultry year, the Extension Office in Mount Holly is in a position to furnish poultry calendars to interested poultrymen in the county.

POULTRY MANAGEMENT CLUB MEETING

For those poultrymen who wish to keep more detailed records and have a better knowledge of the poultry business, a meeting is being called for Monday afternoon, November 14th, at 2 o'clock, in the County Extension Office, Mount Holly, for the purpose of starting our Poultry Management Club.

At this meeting special record books will be furnished and L. M.

Black Assistant Poultry Specialist, will be present to give a talk that will be of seasonal value. For those who are not familiar with the Poultry Management Club it might be well to say that regular monthly meetings are held throughout the year at which time valuable information is given to those who attend. If you have not attended these meetings before, come on November 14th and learn of their value.

WEDDING AND PHOSPHATE CORN MANURE SUPPLEMENT

Many dairy farmers have found that acid phosphate used with manure is a rotation containing cover or alfalfa, produces good yields of grain and hay. Their practice is to mix the acid phosphate with the manure in the barn, mix it in the heap as it is piled for storage, or to put on the spreader as the manure is hauled out to the field.

When mixed with manure, acid phosphate helps conserve nitrogen in the form of ammonia, while the manure is rotting. No appreciable loss of phosphoric acid occurs from acid phosphate that is spread on the land in the fall.

In a feed-crop rotation on a dairy farm, it has ordinarily been found more profitable to put all the acid phosphate, 500 to 200 pounds to the acre for an entire rotation, on the land at the time along with the manure. Applying eight loads of manure to the acre, eighty to one hundred pounds of acid phosphate on each load puts on 500 to 800 pounds to the acre.

Because bulk acid phosphate is cheaper than that which is bagged, it is an appreciable saving to buy it that way. At the rate of six hundred pounds to the acre, a carload, with a minimum to twenty tons, covers 50 to 70 acres. A not uncommon practice is for three to five farmers to purchase a carload together.

SELECT SEED CORN NOW

Corn harvesting is well along in all parts of the state but the ears have a high percentage of moisture. Because of this moisture particular care will be needed to insure a supply of good seed for next year. It is advisable to bush some of the corn before freezing weather comes, setting aside some of the best ears for seed purposes.

Corn selected for seed should be well matured and show no indication of disease. A well matured ear is one which is heavy, solid (cannot be twisted) and has bright colored, plump grains. It should show no evidence of disease such as rotted, split, or discolored grains, or shriveled or discolored butts.

A SURE THING

A stranger stopped at a tumble-down barn shack to ask for a drink of water. In answer sat on his doorstep, hunched smoking a pipe.

"That's your cousin getting ahead," asked the stranger.

"Ain't got none. Trail o' the toll weevils."

"That corn?"

"None," said the farmer. "Heart it would take."

"Hm. Just put it all in position, I suppose," ventured the stranger, feeling sure he must be right this time.

"Noppe, don't plant none of these. Faint legs might get 'em thik."

"What did you plant?" The stranger felt that some bitter unknown crop must have satisfied this particular farmer.

"Nuthin'," said the farmer. "I just played safe."—Franklin Field.

Seed corn is best stored in a safe place the day it is husked. If possible the ears should be placed in such a way that they will not touch each other. One method of doing this is to put them on strings in the manner which has been frequently described, or they may be laid on wires or stuck on nails driven into uprights or cross pieces. The place of storage is of some importance. Preferably it should be indoors. A well ventilated attic is usually a good place. The object is to dry out the ears as quickly as possible. Good ventilation is a prime necessity in carrying off the moisture from the ears.

Mrs. Frantz Tells of W. C. T. U. Trip

National Convention in Los Angeles Was Full of Inspiration

The Shorefront branch of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a regular meeting at the Community House Tuesday afternoon. A heavy down-pour of rain did not prevent a good attendance, as the members were keen to hear Mrs. Frantz give a report of the National Convention recently held in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Frantz told how the women from the eastern and southern states met at Chicago, and were then accommodated on a personally conducted special train, in two sections, for the remainder of the trip across the continent. One section was made up of fourteen cars, and the other of sixteen. On the rear platform of the last section, there was a large glass disc bearing the letters W. C. T. U. This was illuminated at night.

The stops at Kansas City, Topeka, Emporia, Hutchinson, Los Vegas, Albuquerque and other points along the way gave opportunity for speech making, and these occasions resulted themselves into a series of orations when the white ribbon ladies were literally showered with flowers, candy and fruit. In some places they were met by local bands and city officials, and every courtesy shown them.

The city of Los Angeles was decorated with banners and bunting during convention time, and here the lavish hospitality of oranges, grapes, apples and flowers was a constant wonder to the visitors. There were six hundred and one voting delegates, and the Convention Church was frequently crowded to overflowing.

One of the most impressive features of the whole Convention was the pageant of children on Sunday afternoon, when thirteen hundred took part. The theme of the pageant was developed from the words of President Coolidge: "Every child should be taught reverence for his father and mother."

Eight grade pupils throughout the state competed in this interesting contest conducted by the Loyal Temperance Legion of New Jersey and the Shorefront people as well as the high school faculty and student body may well be proud of William Walker.

Palmyra Defeats Haddon by 2-0

Big Football Victory Scored By High School in Class B Struggle

Palmyra met Haddon Heights down to a 2-0 defeat Saturday at Haddon Heights. Coach, Palmyra's left end tackled William Haddon, quarterback, behind the goal for a safety, the only score of the game.

Just before the game Haddon Heights held ceremonies that dedicated their new athletic field. The score came in the first quarter after Captain "Pop" Mathers gained 50 yards. This was a decisive victory for Palmyra as Haddon Heights gave them the only setback in Class B games last season, when they beat them 7-0 on a field covered with six inches of snow.

Mathers and Richardson, the four backs did most of the work for Haddon Heights. Captain "Pop" Mathers played his usual great game, both in carrying the ball and backing up the line. Richardson played a stellar game at left guard. Lytle also put up a good game for Palmyra. Jackson and Mueller backs, made some nice gains for the Red and Blue. On one occasion Mueller carried the ball around the end for 30 yards on a pretty trick play. Captain Mathers' punting was one of the most interesting features of the game.

This Friday, November 13th, Palmyra will tackle Burlington at the local Field Club grounds in a game that will attract considerable attention in South Jersey scholastic ranks. At least it will affect the standings in Burlington county football circle. Coach Diamond says he expects his team to down Burlington, although Burlington defeated Haddon Heights 7-0 two weeks ago at Burlington.

Palmyra will hold a "Big Parade" and "pop" meeting before the game starts.

Summary of the game:

Palmyra	Haddon Heights
Kalnowski	left guard
Strocker	center
Koenna	right guard
Lytle	right tackle
G. Hutchins	right end
Richardson	quarterback
William	quarterback
Myers	right halfback
B. Smith	fullback
Robert

Substitutions—Haddon Heights: Joelen for Ryder, Palmyra: G. Hutchins for Koenna, E. Hutchins for Mueller, Johnson for Myers.

Referee—Smullen, Springfield. Head linesman—Morr, Springfield. Umpire—Smith. Time of quarters—15 minutes.

Pavements For Brant Beach

Palmyra Concrete Company Has Been Given Contract For Mile of Work

Award of the contract to the Palmyra Concrete Company, to lay nearly a mile and a half of concrete pavements and sidewalks at Brant Beach has been announced by the Local Beach Township Committee. The Palmyra firm, of which J. Horace Francis is president, was the lowest of several bidders for the job. Francis took on a building crew to laying the sidewalks. Mr. Francis said today, will be commenced this week and he believes the open fall will permit the laying of several blocks of pavement, under seasonable weather conditions, before the first of the year.

The contract project is the second big Brant Beach contract to come to Burlington County. "The Plantation," a fine new hotel and restaurant at Brant Beach, is being built by Robert Thomas, of Riverton, who

A REDUCTION OF $1,000,000 A YEAR IN ELECTRIC BILLS!

Consumers to Benefit to This Extent Under New Schedule of Uniform Lighting Rates Filed by Public Service

COMPANY SHARES PROSPERITY WITH CUSTOMERS

For the third time within five years it voluntarily makes substantial reductions in its charges for service—previous cuts having been made in May 1924 and December 1922. What other necessity of modern living can be bought so far below pre-war price?

AS THE SCHEDULE WILL BE

For the first 20 kilowatt hours of lighting current consumed per month the charge will be 9 cents per kilowatt hour; next 30 k. w. h. per month, 8 cents; next 700 k. w. h. per month, 7 cents; next 750 k. w. h. per month, 6 cents; next 6,000 k. w. h. per month, 5 cents; next 15,000 k. w. h. per month, 4 cents; all over 22,500 k. w. h. per month, 3 cents.

The minimum charge of $1.00 per month will remain unchanged. These rates have been carefully worked out on an equitable basis so as to do even justice to all classes of users of electric current for lighting.

A MORE LIBERAL POLICY

Supplementing the rate reduction a further liberalization of policy will be made to meet public convenience. This is in addition to, but not a part of, the new rate and is made so that the advantages of electricity in its many applications may become of wider availability.

Until further notice the company will waive deposit requirements for line extensions, including new connections, which do not show revenue sufficient to justify them under the rules of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners, in all cases where such deposit requirements are under $100.00.

New Rates Go Into Effect Beginning With Bills Rendered in January

The savings to be passed on to customers are the result of careful and economical management which has brought the electric properties of the company to a high state of efficiency and greatly increased the number of customers and the volume of business done.

It will continue to be the company's aim, as it ever has been, to give its patrons in the many New Jersey municipalities it serves, very good service at very low rates.

ARMISTICE DAY, 1926

Armistice Day. Eight years ago at eleven o'clock in the morning, the bugles sounded "Cease Firing." From the shattered forests of the Argonne to the bloodsoaked plains of Flanders, silence fell. The "War to End War" had ended.

But what a price! Ten million soldiers were dead. Twenty million civilians, old men, women, children, had died of disease and privation. The material cost was so tremendous that the mind fails to grasp it; only the pinched bodies of children feel it in most of the world, where unemployment, low wages and hunger are the price that is still being paid.

The "War to End War" is over, but the principal objectives for which it was fought have not been reached. How better can we show respect for the men who offered their lives, for the mothers who sent them, than by dedicating ourselves anew to achieving the ideals for which they suffered? How better can we celebrate Armistice Day than by renewing our determination to win, for ourselves and all men, peace, freedom and justice?

"It is the dawn—the dawn! The nations
From east to west have heard the cry.
Through all earth's blood-red generations
By hate and slaughter climbed this high,
Here on this height, still to aspire,
One single way remains untrod
One way of love and peace leads higher.
Make straight that highway for our God."

RED CROSS

Large Increase in Membership Expected to Result from Drive

At the regular monthly meeting of Burlington County Chapter Armies Red Cross, held Monday November 8th, plans for the Roll Call were made and it is expected there will be a large increase in membership this year. The Roll Call will be held in twenty localities, ten of which have Red Cross branches. The towns being Roll Calls independent of branches are Delanco, Bridgeboro, Moorestown, Marlton, Hainesport, Hartford, Maple Shade, Florence Crosswicks and Fieldsboro. It was planned to have a motion picture called "The Twis-ter" in the County Center on Wednesday, November 10th, to 8:30 p.
m. to illustrate the work of the Red Cross in time of disaster.

Wool for fifty sleeping caps has been distributed, the same to be sent to the disabled ex-service men in government hospitals. Twelve Junior Red Cross Christmas boxes were reported as having been shipped for children in foreign countries. It was decided to make efforts to secure the services of a Junior Red Cross Secretary in order to introduce this work in our schools.

The amount collected in Burlington County to date for the Florida hurricane fund is $384.80.
Problems of the disabled ex-service men and their families were discussed and plans made for their relief.

Old Times For A Night

"Ye Olde Folk's Concert Proves Delightful Entertainment"

Costumes with canoes, bagpipes and bustles, dating from the Centennial year, before and since, adorned the ladies of the chorus in "Ye Olde Folk's Concert," which was held in the Central Baptist Church last Thursday evening. The participants resembled the guests at "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party," as two-by-two they circled the audience to take their places on the platform.

The Rev. George Lockett, who was last to sing, in high with title and "butcher's" profession, was the leader of the chorus and master of ceremonies.

The program was rich in melodies of long ago and varied from the romantic to the ridiculous. Remarking with "Just a Song at Twilight" the chorus and soloists and quartettes covered an old-fashioned repertoire which warmed the hearts and recollections of the audience.

After "Seeing Nellie Home," a sketch by the ladies of the Philadelphia Class was announced, which proved to be a humorous travesty of Queen Marie's visit to an American Mountain hotel.

Outstanding features in the evening's varied entertainment were two recitations by D. Helen Johnson and a capricious duet by Thomas C. Van Ogen, (improvising)
"Aunt Sophie" and Mr. Lockett.

The entire audience of three hundred joined in singing "Should And Acquaintance Be Forgotten" as the entertainment came to a close, and the evening was voted the most enjoyable held in the Baptist church for many months.

Oakill on Friday. Ten persons convicted of setting liquor at the Fair ground without a license, during the recent fair, were fined from $25 to $50 each. The difference in amounts was due to the quantity each person sold. The fines in each case took a little more than the profits received from the illicit trade.

A well-known colored character died on Monday, when Adam Gibson of Timbuctoo, succumbed to dropsy

GRID ENEMIES FOUGHT

Robert C. Shinn, of High street,
Burlington, has been appointed to the position of deputy sheriff by Sheriff A. Hugh Haines, of Medford, who was elected to the shirvally
job last week.

Mr. Shinn's most recent work had to do with the inspection of the construction of the new nurses'
home at the Burlington County
Tuberculosis Hospital, New Lisbon.

According to report, Mr. Shinn will leave Burlington and take up his new residence in the dwelling connected with the jail now occupied by Sheriff Joseph A. Fleet-
wood. This will permit Sheriff Haines to continue to live in his home in Medford.

Mr. Shinn's appointment comes as a reward for faithful political service covering a number of years.
He has been one of the most honest of Charles R. Stout's workers for a long time.

Some time ago he was picked
to be the postmaster of Burlington,
but a political windstorm came along and blew him in another direction.

Not a bit discouraged because
he didn't make the postmasterhood,
Mr. Shinn kept right on working,
showing the steadfastness of his beliefs that if the sun don't shine
on Monday it will shine on Tuesday or Friday and that everything will come out right in the end.

Mr. Shinn is well known all over the county. That he will make an excellent deputy sheriff there is not a single doubt.

MAN IN THE HOUSE
"Intruder" Fails to Create Any Excitement in Parry Avenue Home

A man was discovered in the home of Charles B. Hinchman, Parry Avenue, Palmyra, last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Hinchman was the first to notice him, but retained perfect composure and informed Mr. Hinchman.

Mr. Hinchman, according to a friend of the family who gave the story to the newspaper, wasn't the least bit put out either, but calmly
led the way into the dining room where a sumptuous repast had been prepared, awaiting the "man's" arrival.

Sam Bill was twenty-one years old that day.

Burlington Man Deputy Sheriff

Robert C. Shinn to be Asst-and When Hugh Haines Goes in Office

Robert C. Shinn, of High street,
Burlington, has been appointed to
the position of deputy sheriff by Sheriff A. Hugh Haines, of Medford,
who was elected to the shirvally
job last week.

Mr. Shinn's most recent work
had to do with the inspection of
the construction of the new nurses'
home at the Burlington County
Tuberculosis Hospital, New Lisbon.

According to report, Mr. Shinn
will leave Burlington and take up his new residence in the dwelling
connected with the jail now occupied by Sheriff Joseph A. Fleet-
wood. This will permit Sheriff
Haines to continue to live in his home in Medford.

Mr. Shinn's appointment comes
as a reward for faithful political service covering a number of years.
He has been one of the most honest of Charles R. Stout's workers for a long time.

Some time ago he was picked
to be the postmaster of Burlington,
but a political windstorm came along and blew him in another direction.

Not a bit discouraged because
he didn't make the postmasterhood,
Mr. Shinn kept right on working,
showing the steadfastness of his
beliefs that if the sun don't shine
on Monday it will shine on Tuesday or Friday and that everything
will come out right in the end.

Mr. Shinn is well known all over the county. That he will make an excellent deputy sheriff there is not a single doubt.

Parry Avenue, Palmyra, last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Hinchman was the first to notice him, but retained perfect
composure and informed Mr. Hinch-
man.

Mr. Hinchman, according to a friend of the family who gave the
story to the newspaper, wasn't the
least bit put out either, but calmly
led the way into the dining room
where a sumptuous repast had been prepared, awaiting the "man's" arrival.

ARMISTICE DAY, 1926

Armistice Day. Eight years ago at eleven o'clock in the morning, the bugles sounded "Cease Firing." From the shattered forests of the Argonne to the blood-soaked plains of Flanders, silence fell. The "War to End War" had ended.

But what a price! Ten million soldiers were dead. Twenty million civilians, old men, women, children, had died of disease and privation. The material cost was so tremendous that the mind fails to grasp it; only the pinched bodies of children feel it in most of the world, where unemployment, low wages and hunger are the price that is still being paid.

The "War to End War" is over, but the principal objectives for which it was fought have not been reached. How better can we show respect for the men who offered their lives, for the mothers who sent them, than by dedicating ourselves anew to achieving the ideals for which they suffered? How better can we celebrate Armistice Day than by renewing our determination to win, for ourselves and all men, peace, freedom and justice?

"It is the dawn—the dawn! The nations
From east to west have heard the cry.
Through all earth's blood-red generations
By hate and slaughter climbed thus high,
Here on this height, still to aspire,
One single way remains untrod
One way of love and peace leads higher.

RED CROSS

Large Increase in Membership Expected to Result from Drive

At the regular monthly meeting of Burlington County Chapter American Red Cross, held Monday November 8th, plans for the Red Cross drive were made and it is expected there will be a large increase in membership this year. The Red Cross will be held in twenty localities, ten of which have Red Cross Branches. The towns holding Red Cross independent of Branches are Delmar, Hightstown, Marlton, Hainesport, Hartford, Maple Shade, Florence Crosswicks and Fieldsboro. It was planned to use a motion picture called "The Twister" in the county during the week from November 14th to 20th, to illustrate the work of the Red Cross in time of disaster.

Wool for fifty sleeping caps has been distributed, the same to be sent to the disabled ex-service men in government hospitals. Twelve Junior Red Cross Christmas boxes were reported as having been shipped for children in foreign countries. It was decided to make efforts to secure the services of a Junior Red Cross Secretary in order to introduce this work in our schools.

The amount collected in Burlington County to date for the Florida hurricane fund is $64.40. Problems of the disabled ex-service men and their families were discussed and plans made for their relief.

Old Timers For A Night

"Ye Old Folks' Concert Proves Delightful Entertainment"

Continues with cancan, haqueas and bustles, dating from the Centennial year, before and since, adorned the ladies of the chorus in "Ye Old Folks' Concert" which was held in the Central Baptist Church last Thursday evening. The participants resembled the guests at "Aunt Dinah's Quilting Party," as two-by-two they circled the audience to take their places on the platform.

The Rev. George Lockett, who was last to arrive, dressed in high silk and "button-buster," proved to be the leader of the chorus and master of ceremonies, warming the hearts and recollections of the audience.

After "Seeing Nellie Home," a sketch by the ladies of the Philanthropy Class was announced, which proved to be a humorous travesty of Queen Maria's visit to an American Mountain hotel.

Outstanding features in the evening's varied entertainment were two recitations by D. Helene Johnson and a capricious duet by Thomas C. Van Orton. (Interpreting "Aunt Sophie") and Mr. Lockett.

The entire audience of three hundred joined in singing "Should Aid Acquaintance Be Forgotten" as the entertainment came to a close, and the evening was voted the most enjoyable held in the Baptist church for many months.

New apparatus installed in the Mount Holly gas works, for the manufacture of a better quality of gas, was completed on Monday and placed in operation yesterday.

Twenty shares of stock of the Mount Holly National Bank, sold at public sale in Philadelphia on Wednesday, brought $25 per share. Work on a temporary dam to replace the one recently washed out on the upper creek, Mount Holly, was begun this morning. It will be four feet high. This will permit boating again.

On Monday evening at six o'clock, Miss Lottie Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Collins, was married to Edward Collins, of New York City, at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Stoddard.

The Mount Holly Golf Club held a tournament yesterday, open to members. The course is on the fair ground.

Samuel Cranmer, who lives near Smithville, has bought the John Brown farm, on the North River road, from the associates of the Brown estate, for $25 per acre.

Street Railway Meeting. The annual meeting of the Mount Holly Street Railway Company was held in the office of Amos Gibbs on Friday evening. Joseph Cross, who has leased and operated the road for two years past, gave notice of his discontinuance after January 1st. A committee was appointed to lease or operate the road after that date. The treasurer reported a balance of $118.

Burlington county remained true to traditions yesterday and elected the Republican ticket by substantial majorities. Murphy for governor, got 1,800 majority; Endicott for Surrogate, 1,700; Worthell for Auditor, 1,500; and Wright and Horner for Assembly, about 1,000.

Some fine bags of ducks and a few geese are being shot almost daily on Barnegat Bay. Black ducks are said to be unusually abundant.

The Township of Burlington has the Company in the latest illuminating concern in the county. Its capital is $10,000.

November 10, 1901. Early risers report ice a quarter of an inch thick on Monday morning. Thomas Emley, a well known resident of Coopersburg, was found dead from heart disease on Wednesday.

Riverton wants an extended sewer system and a petition is being circulated with that end in view. John Hytton, a well known citizen of Palmyra, died on Monday from Bright's disease. He was a large shipper of sand and employed many men.

Those driving over the Mount Holly and Moorestown turnpike and it is believed the road has been abandoned by the company. The residences of the late Mr. R. Booy, corner High and Second streets, Mount Holly, was offered again at an administrator's sale on Saturday and was sold to Frank Wright for $5,165. This is an extremely low price as the property cost over $10,000 when it was built a few years ago.

Ten persons convicted of selling liquor at the Fair ground without a license, during the recent fair, were fined from $25 to $50 each. The difference in amounts was due to the quantity each person sold. The fines in each case took a little more than the profits received from the illicit trade.

A well-known colored character died on Monday, when Adam Gibson of Timbuctoo, succumbed to dropsy and an attack of rheumatism which resisted all efforts at relief. When it became known that Gibson had the attack of rheumatism, the mules were filled with letters warning remedies, sent by persons in many sections of the east.

MOUNT HOLLY IN QUIET ELECTION

Republicans Win All Offices in Northampton Township

Mount Holly never passed through a quieter or more uneventful election day than it did last week.

It was as quiet as the grave around all seven polling places, with hardly a semblance of a contest anywhere. The Republicans in the majority of the districts did give some evidence of organization and succeeded in polling quite creditable percentages of their normal vote, while a few Democrats, notably in the second, sixth and seventh, displayed some activity in trying to stir the liveliest blow at the hands of the Republicans.

While light, the vote was somewhat better than many workers had anticipated. The Republicans, as usual, swept everything before them, winning every office on the ballot, county and local, and incidentally rolling up a splendid vote for Congressman Bacharach, whose popularity in Burlington's county seat seems ever on the increase.

For Township Committee, Francis O. Dunne, Republican, was elected in place of Maurice Rowan, the only Democratic member of the committee to hold office for many years. Bertram R. Orcutt, Republican, was chosen Assessor without opposition. Committeeman Richard M. Watson was re-elected.

NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Merchantville Voters Approve $255,000 Proposed Structure

A new high school for Merchantville is authorized by the action of the voters at the special meeting.

The vote was 152 for the proposition and 47 against it. With a total registration of 1,875, only 215 or less than nine per cent. of the voters decided the issue.

The total cost of the building, including equipment, and alterations to the present building is not to exceed $255,000. It will be of fireproof construction and will be erected on a plot of land owned by the board, adjoining the present building. The plans were drawn by Arnold Moss, architect.

TO THE PEOPLE OF BURLINGTON COUNTY

I beg to express my appreciation for the vote that was given me on election day, for a second term as Surrogate of Burlington County. I wish that I could call upon every individual voter who supported me and thank them personally, but this would be an impossible task. I assure the people of this county that I will give my entire attention to my duties as Surrogate during the coming term as I have during the term which is about to expire.

Respectfully,
M. M. MATLACK.

Endurance Piano Player in Contest

Prof. Bert Will Play at Jack's Showrooms in Burlington, Beginning Friday

George A. Jack, of Burlington, has arranged to bring a big attraction to that city, having engaged Professor B. G. Bert, the world's champion endurance pianist, to give an exhibition of continuous playing at his automobile showrooms on West Broad street.

The exhibition will begin at ten o'clock on Friday morning of this week and from that period Professor Bert will play until he becomes completely exhausted. He has recently given one of his endurance exhibitions in Camden and during the long period he stayed at the piano without stopping has playing he attracted the attention of thousands of people.

How long he will play in Burlington will depend upon his ability to defy nature, but it will not be surprising to see him stay on the job at least four days. He plays over 5,000 selections from memory and gives over 72,000 notes each hour without stopping.

A trained nurse feeds and shaves him daily and he keeps pounding away on the ivory and ebony keys until the piano is almost able to play itself. He uses no wrist bands or tapes on his fingers and takes no stimulants except such neatly digested food that will give him sufficient nourishment. He sits on a hard wood chair and is braced by two pillows to rest his back.

There is positively no cheating and Professor Bert will give $100 to any person who can show anything false or misinterpreted. He prefers to be watched by police and newspaper representatives.

In addition to the attention he receives from the nurse, he is examined daily by a physician. His eyes are watched and he is given every attention believed to be needed for the protection of his health.

AUTO HITS BOY

While driving a Marmon sedan, James Marshall, of Smithville, ran over and slightly injured Raymond Newkirk, of 117 East Second street, Moorestown, who was riding a bicycle along Main street in front of the Burlington County Trust Company, about 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

In attempting to dodge Raymond Marshall swerved around and ran into the cars driven by Frank Hara, of Moorestown, and Isaac Farrow, of Marlton.

The fenders and bumper on Marshall's car were badly bent.

An hour later Mrs. Preston Roberts had the fender bent and the head lights broken on her car in a collision at Second and Mill streets. The damage was done when an employee, driving one of Scott Brothers' trucks, of Philadelphia, failed to notice the sign light's being against him, and ran directly into Mrs. Roberts' car.

CARS IN CRASH

Street Wreckage and Other Roberts' Facts Collated

Two automobiles came together about 100 feet from Union Landing road, Riverton, Tuesday evening shortly after 7 o'clock. They were both Ford, one a model owned by Joseph Stollweg, of Riverton, and the other a truck, owned by Oscar A. Roberts, of Riverton. Luckily no one was injured but both cars were badly damaged. Stollweg's car turned turtle and one of the occupants was thrown through the roof, but not hurt. Stollweg's car was towed to the garage in Riverton by Joe Gilbert.

The accident occurred when Stollweg attempted to pass the Roberts' truck and the driver turned in front of his machine. Stollweg's car was occupied by George Leon, Stanley Elms, Joseph Stollweg and J. Murphy, all of Riverton. They were returning home from work, being employed by Drexel's warehouse.

All fruit, produce, etc., which will be donated this year to the Children's Home in Mount Holly, should be brought to the church either Friday evening or Saturday.

Pastor Lockett's sermon subjects for the day will be: Morning, "The Great Provider"; Evening, "The Joy of Harvest."

The "Happy Hour" for children will be spent at the church, as usual, on Friday from four to five.

The B. Y. P. U. meeting will be held in the evening at eight.

Also on Friday evening the members of the Boy Scouts will hold their business meeting in the church.

Friday and Saturday of next week, November 10 and 11, the Philathea Class will hold the "Grand Bazaar" in P. O. B. of A. Hall, for which the ladies have been working so consistently for over a year. This bazaar will be well worth a visit by every person in Palmyra and Riverton. Be sure not to miss it.

FIRST WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

The first wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Partelow was celebrated at the home of Mrs. Helen Kapus Monday evening. The house was beautifully decorated with white crepe paper and autumn flowers.

Guests were present from Riverton, Palmyra, Philadelphia, Camden, Olney, Bristol and Rhode Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Partelow, who are well known in Palmyra and Riverton, were the recipients of many pretty and useful gifts.

The music for the evening was furnished by Partelow's Spanish Troubadours.

So many of the Riverton teachers are desirous of attending the Convention of the State Teachers' Association, to be held in Atlantic City November 11-13, that there are not enough substitute teachers to fill their places.

The big day of the convention comes on Friday, the 12th. The Board of Education suggested that school be kept open on the 11th, and closed the following day. The teachers have consented to this plan, and Armistice Day will be observed in the school.

PLAY PAULSBORO

Field Club Team Has Big Attraction for Saturday

The Field Club will play the strong Paulsboro eleven at Palmyra Saturday. Last week, a game was scheduled with Wimsahickon but the latter team cancelled at the last minute. This might be called a lucky break for the home team as but about 25 spectators were on hand to witness the contest. Failure to support the home team has been a great handicap to the town's representation on the gridiron.

At any game of the current season not more than a handful of cash customers were present. This

The Paulsboro eleven is a strong combination composed of former high school and college stars.

On Thanksgiving Day, Rexall A. C. of Riverside will be the attraction at the Field Club. Now Rexall is one of the best teams in South Jersey. They have lost but one game this season and had but two touchdowns scored on them. This was accomplished by the heavy Penns Grove A. A. team at Penns Grove, Sunday, November 7th. Next Sunday morning the congregation will observe what is known in our church as the "Festival of November the 13th." Holy Communion will be celebrated in connection with this service. The evening service at 7:30 will take the form of an illustrated lecture on Galilee and Samaria by the Rev. M. A. Baldwin.

During the past week, two Y. M. C. A. groups have been organized among the boys of the neighborhood, meeting in the basement of the church. "The Comrades," a group of older boys, meets every Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. "The Daniel Boone Pioneer Club," a group for younger boys, meets every Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

At present the pastor has charge of these groups, until permanent leaders are secured.

Riverton Council

Councilman Lynch said that there was a bad drainage situation on Cinnaminson street south of Broad, caused by the fact that when the railroad company put the street siding for Evan's coal yard, no adequate provision had been made for carrying off the water which accumulates at this point. The borough engineer had said that relief could be had by running a culvert under the railroad tracks, and Mr. Lynch was instructed to get complete details.

About Burning Leaves
Councilman Showell brought up the question of burning leaves in the street. He said that he understood there was a borough ordinance prohibiting this practice, but the way it works out was that residents pushed the leaves from their lawns into the gutters and left them there for the borough to cart away. Under borough ordinance No. 23, the dumping of any kind of rubbish or refuse in the streets is prohibited, and this was interpreted to include leaves. It was suggested that the proper procedure for residents would be to burn the leaves in their back yards, but it was pointed out that some folks didn't have any back yards, and Mr. Lynch said that actual practice the leaves piled up in gutters and around the culvert entrances, preventing surface water from flowing off. Mr. Lynch thought that the borough should cart the leaves away as they accumulated. It was declared that to burn leaves on the improved highways on Broad street and Main street would mean the destruction of these pavements as this asphalt form of construction integrates under excessive heat. Under ordinance 23, a penalty of $5.00 may be imposed for either depositing leaves in the streets or leaving them there for burning them. The conclusion reached was that property owners must dispose of leaves that fall on their lawn by some method other than the two prohibited by the ordinance.

State Police Help Promised
Director of Public Safety, Williams reported that he had written to the municipal authorities in Riverside, Palmyra and Cinnaminson townships asking them to co-operate with him in a request that a state trooper be detailed for service on the River Road between Riverside and West Palmyra. He said that he had received no reply, and that he had taken the matter up for Riverton with Colonel Herman N. Schwartzkopf, superintendent of state police. Colonel Schwartzkopf had replied that the department would be glad to co-operate with Riverton in any way it could, and that his request had been referred to the adjutant, Captain Charles H. Schoeffel.

Mr. Williams further reported that the Bell Telephone Company had requested permission to either discontinue or change the location of street telephone boxes. These telephones, the company claimed were seldom used—the revenue averaging not more than $1.50 a month—and that it cost a great deal more than that to keep them in repair. The request was referred to the highway committee.

Gas for Police Car
The amount of gasoline used for the police car was the subject of some comment last month, and at the meeting Thursday night Director Williams produced the record of gas consumed between the October meeting and the November meeting. He said that forty-one gallons had been used this month, an average of about a gallon and a half for a twenty-four hour day. On November 9, Mr. Williams said, a patrol of the town had been made, at the end of which the speedometer registered a little more than ten miles. This patrol, he said, is made every day. The police car makes about thirteen miles on a gallon, and the daily patrol in addition to other work the department is called upon to do, satisfactorily accounts for the amount of gas consumed he thought.

The lighting committee reported that a survey had been made of Thomas avenue with a view to improving lighting conditions, but nothing could be done this year owing to the lack of funds.

The new building code ordinance was introduced and passed first reading. It will come up for a hearing and final passage on December 9.

George L. Record, attorney for the Novin Bus Line, operating between New York City and Camden asked permission to make a stop in Riverton to take on and discharge passengers. The application was held for further consideration. Councilman Welsh said that the bus situation was becoming something of a problem. Many of them, he said, run through town as fast as forty miles an hour.

A communication was received from the Riverton Baseball Club thanking council for the use of Memorial Park for its games this year and asking for the same privilege for next season. The request was referred to the property committee to arrange between what dates the grant should be made.

Should Ask Permission
Mayor Hemphill observed that any one desiring to use Memorial Park should first get permission from the borough property committee. He said that he had been informed that this fall stakes had been driven into the ground and poles erected without consulting the chairman of that committee. Councilman Lynch explained that stakes had been driven around the baseball diamond to protect it from being cut up by the spikes shoes worn by football players. Mr. Williams, chairman of the borough property committee, said that it usually cost about $40 to fill up the holes left after the stakes and poles were removed in the spring.

The building inspector reported permit fees during the month amounting to $6.00, covering less than $1000 worth of building improvements.

The medical inspector turned in fees amounting to $4.00.

Interesting citizens present during the meeting included: Charles D. Delaney, Earl Perkins, Harry Unland, Howard Coe, Gilbert Coe, I. S. Williams, L. J. Jackson, George D. Siedels and William Nesbit.

TURKEY TALK

When you select your turkey for Thanksgiving, one of the chief considerations is the amount and quality of the flesh of the body, especially on the breast, back, and hips. Plenty of flesh means plenty of meat for carving, and there should be also a generous amount of fat to insure a moist, tender turkey. The French always expose a turkey in the market with the back up so the housewife can better observe how plump the bird is. Feeling the end of the breast or keel bone and examining the spur of the feet may give some idea of the age of a turkey, but these tests are not infallible so far as picking out a good tender turkey is concerned. Almost any turkey can be cooked so that it is tender, but it is, of course, easier to roast a young bird. The best method of cooking a turkey is that by which the flesh is kept moist and juicy. Cooking it in a covered roaster with a little water in the bottom in a carefully regulated oven will prevent it from drying out. The time for cooking varies according to the age of the turkey and its size.

The custom of having a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner dates back to the early New England settlers, who found turkeys wild and highly recommended by the Indians. Domestic turkeys are at their prime in the fall, and their size makes them suitable for serving to a good many people, so that the custom, for practical reasons, has continued down to the present.

HANG ASH CAN ON RIVALS' FLAG POLE

Friday night a small group of fellows, chiefly players, gathered at the corner of Broad and Morgan avenues and discussed the Burlington game. The contest was played over and over again, play by play, mentioning every little detail. A small group then took a ride to Burlington's high school building. The result was that a large ash can was seen dangling from the very same flag pole from which Palmyra's colors were seen flying 24 hours before.

end, stepped back and smeared a pass. Palmyra's ball and Mathers got off another punt of at least 40 yards, which was brought back 15 yards. Time was taken out for Lewis who was slightly injured. Jenkins, who played a good touting center game, intercepted a Burlington pass. Mathers then punted 40 more yards. Lytle tackled the receiver so hard that he dropped the ball and Kallnowski snatched it and was downed from behind just as he was breaking loose into an open field. Meyers gained yards as the third chapter ended.

Fourth Quarter
Mueller, a quarter-back who played a half, made another 15-yard gain. Mathers stepped for 30 more. Palmyra was penalized again. Mathers got off another good punt of 45 yards. Burlington could do nothing on the defense so punted. Mueller gained 15 yards and Meyers scored another Palmyra first down. Mathers added five more. Kersey went in to relieve Lytle who was injured. The scrappy tackle received a big hand and loud cheers as he left the "battlefield." Captain "Pop" Mathers then tried another placement, this time from the 35-yard chalk mark but did not raise the ball high enough. Burlington then completed a 20-yard pass. Johnson and Probert were now seeing action in the backfield for Palmyra. Jenkins was at half and Krecker in as center. Just before the greatest battle in class B ranks of South Jersey ended, Captain "Pop" Mathers, runner up for all-scholastic fullback last season, intercepted another Burlington pass.

P. H. S. held the ball three-quarters of the game and completely outplayed Burlington in all departments of the contest. Mathers' punting, carrying the ball and all-around play was the brightest spot in the Palmyra victory. Others were Lytle, Kallnowski, Gillilan, Meyers, Sacks, Mueller, who played his best game of the season, Jenkins and E. Hutchins, who handled his team like a veteran. Morris, Vandegrift and Cook played well on the line for Burlington while Captain "Bud" Hunt, stellar fullback, Arenz and Lewis gave all they had for Burlington, but in vain.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Carlson, of Seaside Heights, have instituted a suit for $10,000 against the Monmouth Ice Cream Company, for damages sustained in an automobile collision. The Monmouth Ice Cream Company is operated by Samuel Fulton, Jr., and Sanford C. Flint, of Asbury Park. Thomas McDonough, aged 31, of Bordentown, was committed to the county jail last week on a charge of impersonating an officer and for attempting to extort $50 from a woman at Wildesboro. He was sent to prison by Justice Keating, of Bordentown.

Atlantic County Solicitor Demos A. Hughes handed down an opinion to the Board of Elections that Emerson A. Burdick was elected by a majority of thirteen as justice of the peace of Hammonton in the recent elections as a result of the mistake of 120 voters who pasted stickers for Russell E. Montgomery over Burdick's name on the ballots. The law requires that the stickers shall be placed in a blank space on the ballot, and Mr. Hughes reported his belief that the 120 votes for Montgomery were voided on account of the voters' failure to do this. Supporters of Montgomery, however, are reported contemplating an appeal to the State Supreme Court on the ground that the intent of the voters was clearly shown.

tendered his resignation to become effective on December 31. Mr. Eckman's appointment was made at the time so that the duties of Tax Collector shall not be interrupted. The new deputy is empowered to act as Collector in Mr. Goldy's absence.

Albert C. Middleton Awarded Full Amount of Claim for Damage to Auto

In the Burlington County Court, at Mount Holly, last week Albert C. Middleton, of Moorestown, was given a verdict of $161.32, the full amount of his claim, in his suit against Frank Strehle, employed by the State Highway Department, to recover for damage to his pleasure car when it struck a road machine in charge of Strehle along the Collingswood and Moorestown road. It happened July 16, 1925.

Middleton's car was driven by his chauffeur. It was shown that the Middleton car struck the truck because it had been stopped in the roadway and was without signal when the machine was disabled.

A verdict of no cause of action was given in the suits of Charles C. Pets and wife and Mrs. Evelyn P. England, of Moorestown, against William A. Nilson, of Maple Shade, car and personal injuries as a result of a collision in Moorestown in July.

The plaintiffs claimed that they stopped their car to allow Nilson to pass, but that he drove right into them. Nilson declared that the Pets car collided with him.

In view of the counter claims the jury let the responsibility be divided. Mrs. England has a finger with a still joint as a result of the accident, and Mrs. Pets had her wrist broken.

Matthew F. Perkins, husband of Grace W., died suddenly Tuesday evening from heart trouble, at his home, Linden and Harrison. Mr. Perkins, who is a traveling salesman, complained of not feeling very well when he came in to dinner. After eating he retired early and grew rapidly worse until the end came about 10:30.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. R. S. Johnson, 4849 Walton avenue, Philadelphia, conducted by Rev. George Lockett, of the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra. Interment at South Laurel Hill cemetery, under the direction of Frank A. Snover, funeral director.

The deceased leaves his widow, his mother and sister.

"DUNTLE" IN THE FLORIDA STORM

Read the "Duntle" advertisement on page 5 of this issue. This advertisement has interesting information about the way in which the "Duntle" buildings withstood the disastrous storm that swept Florida in September. "Duntle" homes are approximately the same in cost as a good frame dwelling, and are more beautiful besides being more economical in the long run. These facts are of vital importance to the prospective home builder. Probably there will never be such a storm here as there was in Florida but "Duntle" blocks will not decay, they are absolutely fire-proof, which gives a feeling of safety to the home owner.

The flames spread to the tractor which was slightly damaged. A Dodge sedan which was standing in the garage, owned by Mr. Barnes of Thomas avenue, was damaged to the extent of about $100.00. The fire was quickly extinguished with chemicals by John Jr., Edson Carhart and Pat Steele and the fire department.

Florida Hurricane Again Proves Wisdom of Building with DUNTLE

The fury of the terrible hurricane of September 17th and 18th, that swept from the southern tip of Florida in a northwesterly direction across the state, is history now. Time is healing the wounded hearts of those who lost loved ones and an indomitable spirit is rebuilding the stricken area in a more beautiful and substantial manner. In this rebuilding program they are using the knowledge gained, at so great a cost, in selecting only building materials that proved themselves worthy during those two memorable storm-swept days.

The devastated area did not exceed five hundred square miles, which, in a state comprising some 59,000 square miles, is not a tremendous proportion. The principal cities that bore the brunt of this hurricane were Miami, Fort Lauderdale and Hollywood.

When dawn broke over Fort Lauderdale on the morning of September 18th, it presented a scene of devastation by wind and water. Many of its buildings were roofless and many raved to the ground; its trees torn limb from limb, power and light wires draped in fantastic festoons over trees and buildings; acres of sheet iron roofing scattered far and wide. It was a haggard people which watched the dawn and counted its losses and it was a haggard town the hurricane had left in its wake, but—of the well built and substantial structures, not one was missing. There were forty-five DUNTLE buildings in Fort Lauderdale alone. Forty-three of them remained undamaged after withstanding blasts that man would find it impossible to create artificially. The two that were damaged were in course of construction. Mr. H. C. Brock's latter is typical of the expressions of home owners who had the foresight to build permanent masonry homes.

Fort Lauderdale, Florida,
October 6th, 1938

Ketchin Duntle Company,
Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Gentlemen:

My home is built of DUNTLE and during the storm was hit by a big timber which displaced thirty-one DUNTLE units. It is now repaired with the same size since not one was broken beyond use. Before the storm, there were fourteen houses in the surrounding five blocks—today, my house stands alone amid the wreckage of lumber, wire and city tile.

I am indeed thankful to the Almighty for the consideration bestowed upon my children and invalid wife. My DUNTLE home is the best investment I ever made.

(Signed) H. C. BROCK,
Royal Street, Victoria Park.

The building inspector of Fort Lauderdale, in checking up on the damage after the storm and noting the almost entire absence of damage to buildings of this type, wrote the following letter:

City of
FORT LAUDERDALE
Florida

October 8, 1938.

J. K. Huey,
Building Inspector,
Ketchin Duntle Company,
Fort Lauderdale Company,
Gentlemen:

In looking over the city and inspecting buildings since the storm of the 18th, I am pleased to report to you that of the more than thirty buildings erected in this city of DUNTLE, all of them have stood intact, except in a few instances where flying debris from other buildings broke a few of the tile roofs, which is an evidence to me of the splendid bonding qualities of your product.

Yours very truly,
J. K. HUEY,
Building Inspector.

Knowledge arises out of every disaster. The San Francisco of today is not the San Francisco of the days before the catastrophe which raised that city; Tokyo learned a new lesson in building construction that she is not forgetting. Miami, Fort Lauderdale and Hollywood withstood blasts of wind and water impossible to adequately describe, under the terrific battering of which some buildings faded away like feathers. The type which emerged whole will be the types upon which the new Miami, Fort Lauderdale and Hollywood will be patterned.

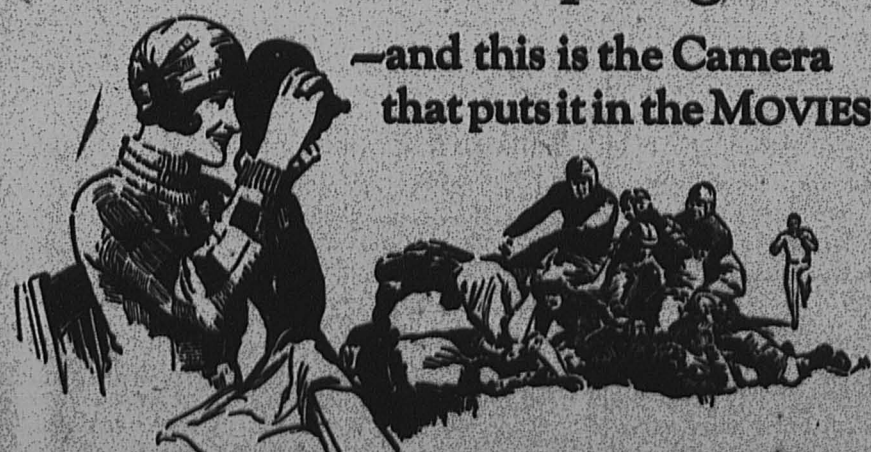

It is not likely that this vicinity will ever be visited by a storm as devastating as were the Florida Hurricane or the San Francisco Earthquake, nevertheless the law of self-preservation dictates that we build permanently and with an ample margin of safety.

Using the Bell & Howell

Filmo

AUTOMATIC MOTION PICTURE CAMERA

If you are tired of heading out the old snap-shot album when you want to entertain, try taking and showing your own motion pictures with Filmo automatic camera and projector. Easier than taking snapshots. Simply look through the eyepiece-viewfinder, press shutter, and "what you see you get" . . . in pictures that live. To show the pictures, just plug the Projector in at any electric light or wall socket, touch a button, and you are looking at your own movies, on your own wall of scenes, in home or on trip.

Bell & Howell professional cameras are used in making most of the feature pictures you see at the best theaters. So you'll want the Bell & Howell Filmo to take equally clear and perfect pictures of your own.

MAYBE you think you're not missing much, but listen! There's no reason why YOU shouldn't be getting your own MOVIES of that fighting, milling mass of do-or-die good fellows down there on the field.

With a Bell & Howell Filmo Camera to your eye you can shoot over the heads of the crowd and catch every play. The spy-glass viewfinder (an exclusive Filmo feature) locates the action in a jiffy and follows your hero down the field as easily as you would follow him with the naked eye. The lens is lightning fast. It gets the picture for you, even on cloudy days. And (another exclusive Filmo feature) you can use a special telephoto lens that will take closeups of action a mile away. Look around. Maybe you'll see some Filmo taking this game home, today.

We are ready to help you own a Filmo Personal Movie Camera and Projector. Send the coupon for descriptive literature on Filmo.

GOING ON PROBATION

THOMAS ARKLE CLARK
of Mass. University of Illinois

It always held that a normal man can accomplish about any amount of work that he sets out to do. Willing to work hard enough people fall in the accomplishment of a certain purpose because they are not sufficiently sold on it. It is easier if you are determined to get it done. Just now through the college year there is a great deal of talk about probation. To get on, or how to get off, through the proper manipulation, to get out of college, people seem a little vague as to the end and the proper and most procedure.

College course is planned for men of average intellect who can accomplish secondary training to work regularly and steadily. It is not strange, therefore, that all college students now at four years in a good high school coming to college, and not an average amount of matter, that they should more than otherwise escape probation. It is not strange, therefore, that they should more than otherwise escape probation. It is not strange, therefore, that they should more than otherwise escape probation.

1. Register late. A week will help, but two weeks is better.
  2. Load up as heavy a schedule as the dean will let you carry; you thus appear ambitious while more easily accomplishing your purpose.
  3. Be late to class or absent as often as possible. If necessary, cut out of a class.
  4. If you are registered for a course that you do not like or that you find difficult, do not work at it. Try to get the dean to let you drop it, and if he refuses, cut out.
  5. Have no regular periods of study.
  6. Do not keep your work up to date, but rely on the chance of getting it done during the last week or two.
  7. Take no notes in class, go to sleep occasionally, and show no interest in what the instructor says.
  8. Have as many dates a week as possible; the minimum is four. If you are in love, so much the better. The man in love is almost sure of probation. A girl will need to try some other additional method.
  9. Never enter the library for purposes of study.
  10. Take on a little outside work to earn a little spending money, or go into two or three rousing activities.
  11. Go out of town at every available weekend to help father in the store, taking no books with you.
  12. As often as possible disagree with the instructor in class.
- The results obtained from following these simple directions will be marvelous. If you fail to follow them you are very likely to pass.

7-Bearing Motors for Every Nash

Smoothness and Quietness of Power-flow Gains Wide-spread Popularity

The new smoothness and quietness in performance qualities which is gaining widespread popularity for all the new Nash models has been made possible by the introduction in all Nash cars of the 7-bearing crankshaft.

In this connection it is noteworthy that Nash makes these crankshafts in their own plants. Thirty-five operations are required and the closest limits of precision are rigidly adhered to, a degree of accuracy which gives them their "machines too" perfection.

This engine design reduces distortion in motor action to the very minimum by holding the crankshaft rigid throughout its entire length. Seven bearings are the maximum number of bearings it is practical or even possible to use on a six-cylinder motor crankshaft. This makes certain that the crankshaft is supported at every necessary point—not merely on the ends, but at one or two places in the middle—by sturdy main bearings.

This principle counteracts the constant downward motion in the pistons and connecting rods, a motion incident to every power-stroke, and produces a resulting smoothness which is characteristic only of the 7-bearing type of construction.

For it is the crankshaft which receives the pressure exerted on the pistons and transmits the power through the propeller shaft and the rear axle to the rear wheels which propel the car.

Absolute smoothness and quietness cannot therefore be achieved unless this power which leaves the crankshaft and goes to the flywheel and other driving members is absolutely smooth and noiseless.

Naturally enough, with six connecting rods ramming down on the crankshaft with ceaseless vigor, such forces would tend to cause deflection of the shaft. Deflection would, in turn, result in noisy operation and roughness.

Consequently, instead of trying to forestall noisy deflections through some other means, Nash engineers have absolutely assured the highest efficiency in the most vital unit of the motor, and have safeguarded its perfect smooth operation by supporting the shaft with seven main bearings.

When Albert D. Roebbling rides a motorcycle as an example of smoothness to his customers.

Sheriff Haines Assumes Office

No Fuss or Ceremony as Medford Man Steps Up From Deputy's Position

Without any ceremony or fuss A. Eagle Haines, of Medford, Wednesday afternoon of last week took charge of the sheriff's office in Mount Holly. In fact, all that the new sheriff had to do was to leave the deputy sheriff's desk, where he had been sitting for the last three years, when he was not serving official papers, and move over to the sheriff's desk.

At the same time Joseph B. Fleetwood, the retiring sheriff, arose from the shrievalty chair for the last time, and wishing Sheriff Haines all kinds of luck and happiness, he headed for the precipitous stone steps of the jail that lead down to the grass and made his way toward the office of the Fleetwood Motor Company, Main street, Mount Holly.

Even as Sheriff Haines took the seat vacated by Mr. Fleetwood, Deputy Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn of Burlington, took the seat vacated by Mr. Haines. In a few minutes the shrievalty machinery was running the same as ever. As a matter of fact, it never stopped. Nothing can get into the eggs while a man is walking across a room.

Sheriff Haines took the oath of office before Judge William A. Slaughter in Mount Holly and gave bond to the amount of $20,000. The bond was furnished by the National Surety Company, of New York. Deputy Sheriff Shinn also was sworn in by Judge Slaughter.

Mr. Fleetwood has served in the sheriff's department longer than any other official connected with that office. He went into the office with his father, Joseph Fleetwood, in 1890, and has been there continuously ever since except for a period of three years when Colonel Stone held the office of deputy. He will devote his entire time to the Fleetwood Motor Company, of which he is a part owner.

Sheriff Haines will continue to live in Medford. Deputy Sheriff Shinn will move into the sheriff's house connected with the jail.

The sheriff announced the appointment of Maurice Stevenson, a young farmer of Mansfield Township, to be day turnkey at the jail. He will

Young Man Killed By His Own Gun

Cartridge Discharged When Gunner Fell; Part of Chest Blown Off

Joseph Hood, 18 years, of 1011 West High street, Haddon Heights, was killed by his own gun while he was on his first gassing trip near Pine Grove, between Medford and Marlton, Wednesday morning of last week. This was the first fatal accident of the season reported in this section.

Young Hood was with four other gunners from Haddon Heights, one of whom, Horace P. Ward, who chaperoned the party on his Pine Grove farm. During the morning the gunners got separated and Ward left Hood shortly after ten o'clock. It was agreed that they should have their lunch at the farmhouse. All but Hood came in. When they had waited some time it was decided to make a search for him, and Ward found his dead body near the place where they had separated.

The gun lay across the boy's feet and the stock was caught in some briars, a condition that might have been caused by his falling. One shell had been exploded and part of the left side of his chest was blown away, leaving a wound sufficient to have caused instant death. His face was badly smeared with powder, indicating that the muzzle was close to his body when the shell was exploded.

Ward called State Trooper Oz at Medford and the latter in turn called Coroner John C. Belton, 2nd, of Moorestown. The case was thoroughly investigated and after the circumstances had been learned Coroner Belton decided that Hood's death was due to a self-inflicted wound. No suspicious circumstances surrounded the case.

The body was taken to the Belton undertaking establishment in Moorestown. After communication was had later the boy's father had the body removed to the home.

CONDEMNS "PETTING"

Physician Tells Girls Practice Lapses Respect of Boys

Petting among high school students was decried by Dr. Charles E. Barker, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, physician to former President Taft, in an address before the students of Atlantic City school. He spoke under the auspices of the Rotary Club.

"Girls who permit petting think they have to do it or they will not be popular," said Dr. Barker. "I am willing to admit that, but there is not a boy in the high school who does not know I am telling you the truth when I say boys lose their respect for girls who pet, although the boys will never tell you girls that."

Dr. Barker's theme was, "How to Make a Success Out of Life." He elaborated on three essentials, which he listed as a strong arm, clear head and brave heart.

MASONS BUY SITE

Mount Holly Lodge Will Build Its Own New Home

After being without permanent headquarters ever since the destruction of the Masonic Temple by fire early last year, Mount Holly Lodge, No. 14, F. and A. M., has decided to build a new home of its own.

To that end negotiations have been completed for the purchase of the former Thomas Bullock property on Garden street near High, on which the lodge eventually will erect a modern lodge building. Just when the transfer will take place has not been made known. Neither has there been any announcement as to how soon after acquiring the property, building operations will be started.

The store and adjoining dwelling which stand on the lot, were occupied for many years by the late Thomas Bullock, who conducted a grocery store, his family occupying the dwelling. Later the store had been used as a stationery shop. Mr. Bullock's grandson, the late Leonidas S. Boyce, moving his business there after the disastrous fire which destroyed the Masonic Temple and the Kelsey & Kille Building, in which latter structure the Boyce store was located.

SAVE always held that a normal person can accomplish about anything in reason that he sets out to do. If he is willing to work hard enough at it. People fall to the accomplishment of a certain purpose because they are not sufficiently sold on it. Anything is easier if you are determined upon it, and especially if you know how to get it done. Just now and all through the college year there is considerable talk about probation and how to get on, or how to get off, or how, through the proper manipulation of events, to get out of college. Most people seem a little vague as to the rules and the proper and most efficient procedure.

The college course is planned for the person of average intellect who with a reasonable secondary training is willing to work regularly and moderately hard. It is not strange, since practically all college students now have had four years in a good high school before coming to college, and have in addition an average amount of gray matter, that they should now show some evidence of college probation. The trouble is, they have not given the matter sufficient thought; they don't know the trick. It is quite an easy thing to accomplish even for bright boys or valedictorians if they will only follow a few simple directions. There is no real reason why anyone should stay off probation or remain in college long if he will only give a little thought to the way his work has been done.

If you want to fail a certain part of your subjects, to be on probation, or to be dropped from college, the following directions will help materially:

1. Register late. A week will help, but two weeks is better.
2. Load up as heavy a schedule as the dean will let you carry; you thus appear ambitious while more easily accomplishing your purpose.
3. Be late to class or absent as often as possible. If necessary, cut out of a class.
4. If you are registered for a course that you do not like or that you find difficult, do not work at it. Try to get the dean to let you drop it, and if he refuses, cut out.
5. Have no regular periods of study.
6. Do not keep your work up to date, but rely on the chance of getting it done during the last week or two.
7. Take no notes in class, go to sleep occasionally, and show no interest in what the instructor says.
8. Have as many dates a week as possible; the minimum is four. If you are in love, so much the better. The man-in-love is almost sure of probation. A girl will need to try some other additional method.
9. Never enter the library for purposes of study.
10. Take on a little outside work to earn a little spending money, or go into two or three roving activities.
11. Go out of town at every available week-end to help father in the store, taking no books with you.
12. As often as possible disagree with the instructor in class.

The results obtained from following these simple directions will be marvelous. If you fail to follow them you are very likely to pass.

7-Bearing Motors for Every Nash

Smoothness and Quietness of Power-Flow Gains Wide-spread Popularity

The new smoothness and quietness in performance qualities which is gaining widespread popularity for all the new Nash models has been made possible by the introduction in all Nash cars of the 7-bearing crankshaft.

In this connection it is noteworthy that Nash makes these crankshafts in their own plants. Thirty-five operations are required and the closest limits of precision are rigidly adhered to, a degree of accuracy which gives them their "machine tool" perfection.

This engine design reduces distortion in motor action to the very minimum by holding the crankshaft rigid throughout its entire length. Seven bearings are the maximum number of bearings it is practical or even possible to use on a six-cylinder motor crankshaft. This makes certain that the crankshaft is supported at every necessary point—not merely on the ends or at one or two places in the middle—by sturdy main bearings.

This principle counteracts the constant downward motion in the pistons and connecting rods, a motion incident to every power-stroke, and produces a resulting smoothness which is characteristic only of the 7-bearing type of construction.

For it is the crankshaft which receives the pressure exerted on the pistons and transmits the power through the propeller shaft and the rear axle to the rear wheels which propel the car.

Absolute smoothness and quietness cannot therefore be achieved unless this power which leaves the crankshaft and goes to the wheels and other driving members is absolutely smooth and noiseless.

Naturally enough, with six connecting rods ramming down on the crankshaft with constant vigor, such forces would tend to cause deflection of the shaft. Deflection would in turn result in noisy operation and vibration.

Consequently, instead of trying to forestall noisy vibrations through some other means, Nash engineers have absolutely assured the highest efficiency in the most vital unit of the motor, and have safeguarded its regular smooth operation by supporting the shaft with seven main bearings.

Sheriff Haines Assumes Office

Without any ceremony or fuss A. Eagle Haines, of Medford, Wednesday afternoon of last week took charge of the sheriff's office in Mount Holly. In fact, all that the new sheriff had to do was to leave the deputy sheriff's desk, where he had been sitting for the last three years when he was not serving official papers, and move over to the sheriff's desk.

At the same time Joseph B. Fleetwood, the retiring sheriff, arose from the shrievalty chair for the last time, and wishing Sheriff Haines all kinds of luck and happiness, he headed for the precipitous stone steps of the jail that lead down to the grass and made his way toward the office of the Fleetwood Motor Company, Main street, Mount Holly.

Even as Sheriff Haines took the seat vacated by Mr. Fleetwood, Deputy Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn of Burlington, took the seat vacated by Mr. Haines. In a few minutes the shrievalty machinery was running the same as ever. As a matter of fact, it never stopped. Nothing can get into the cogs while a man is walking across a room.

Sheriff Haines took the oath of office before Judge William A. Slaughter in Mount Holly and gave bond to the amount of $25,000. The bond was furnished by the National Surety Company, of New York. Deputy Sheriff Shinn also was sworn in by Judge Slaughter.

Mr. Fleetwood has served in the sheriff's department longer than any other official connected with that office. He went into the office with his father, Joseph Fleetwood, in 1896, and has been there continuously ever since except for a period of three years when Colonel Stone held the office of deputy. He will devote his entire time to the Fleetwood Motor Company, of which he is a part owner.

Sheriff Haines will continue to live in Medford. Deputy Sheriff Shinn will move into the sheriff's house connected with the jail.

The sheriff announced the appointment of Maurice Stevenson, a young farmer of Mansfield Township, to be day turnkey at the jail. He will

Cartridge Discharged When Gunner Fell; Part of Chest Blown Off

Joseph Hood, 18 years, of 1011 West High street, Haddon Heights, was killed by his own gun while he was on his first gunning trip near Pine Grove, between Medford and Marlton, Wednesday morning of last week. This was the first fatal accident of the season reported in this section.

Young Hood was with four other gunners from Haddon Heights, one of whom, Horace E. Ward, who chaperoned the party on his Pine Grove farm. During the morning the gunners got separated and Ward left Hood shortly after ten o'clock. It was agreed that they should have their lunch at the farmhouse. All but Hood came in. When they had waited some time it was decided to make a search for him, and Ward found his dead body near the place where they had separated.

The gun lay across the boy's feet and the stock was caught in some briars, a condition that might have been caused by his falling. One shell had been exploded and part of the left side of his chest was blown away, leaving a wound sufficient to have caused instant death. His face was badly smeared with powder, indicating that the muzzle was close to his body when the shell was exploded.

Ward called State Trooper Ox at Medford and the latter in turn called Coroner John C. Belton, 2nd, of Moorestown. The case was thoroughly investigated and after the circumstances had been learned Coroner Belton decided that Hood's death was due to a self-inflicted wound. No suspicious circumstances surrounded the case.

The body was taken to the Belton undertaking establishment in Moorestown. After communication was had later the boy's father had the body removed to the home.

CONDEMNNS "PETTING"

Physician Tells Girls Practice Lapses Respect of Boys

Petting among high school students was decry by Dr. Charles E. Barker, of Grand Rapids, Michigan, physician to former President Taft, in an address before the students of Atlantic City school. He spoke under the auspices of the Rotary Club.

"Girls who permit petting think they have to do it or they will not be popular," said Dr. Barker. "I am willing to admit that, but there is not a boy in the high school who does not know I am telling you the truth when I say boys lose their respect for girls who pet, although the boys will never tell you girls that."

Dr. Barker's theme was, "How to Make a Success Out of Life." He elaborated on three essentials, which he listed as a strong arm, clear head and brave heart.

MASONS BUY SITE

Mount Holly Lodge Will Build Its Own New Home

After being without permanent headquarters ever since the destruction of the Masonic Temple by fire early last year, Mount Holly Lodge, No. 14, F. and A. M., has decided to build a new home of its own.

To that end negotiations have been completed for the purchase of the former Thomas Bullock property on Garden street near High, on which the lodge eventually will erect a modern lodge building. Just when the transfer will take place has not been made known. Neither has there been any announcement as to how soon after acquiring the property, building operations will be started.

The store and adjoining dwelling which stand on the lot, were occupied for many years by the late Thomas Bullock, who conducted a grocery store, his family occupying the dwelling. Later the store had been used as a stationery shop. Mr. Bullock's grandson, the late Leonidas S. Boyce, moving his business there after the disastrous fire which destroyed the Masonic Temple and the Kiley & Kille Building, in which latter structure the Boyce store was located.

type of Pavement on Rural Highways" Smith's Topic at Conference

H. B. Smith, Burlington County engineer, was one of the speakers at the annual Asphalt Paving Conference in Washington, D. C. His address, in part, on "City Pavement on Rural Highways" follows:

"Many thousands of miles of bituminous pavements throughout the rural districts of the country attest to the fact that engineers are awakening to the possibility of using city type pavement on country roads. The splendid results obtained by this type of construction, as well as its great economy, is bringing it rapidly to the front. One of the outstanding characteristics of bituminous construction is its remarkable flexibility—a flexibility that allows many interesting types of both design and actual construction.

"One of the principal problems that confront the rural districts today is adequate highways with a minimum cost. Not only minimum cost of construction, but minimum maintenance. It is absolutely essential to the growth and development of a community that it have modern transportation facilities, and this means improved roads. A rural, or sparsely settled section of the country is dependent upon its highways and these highways must function the entire year.

Type and Construction

"The country is rapidly awakening to this need, but the question of the type and cost of construction calls for intensive thought. There are many types of bituminous pavements that fill this need but the city pavement type is principally confined to penetration, macadam, sheet asphalt, Toppack and bitulithic. These five can again be divided to some extent, but as my talk will be principally confined to sheet asphalt construction I will not go into the relative merits of the various types.

"And now let us turn our attention to Burlington County, a rural, agricultural county in southern New Jersey, that has constructed over eight-five miles of sheet asphalt highways through the county in the past few years, besides a considerable mileage of penetration macadam. About nine years ago Burlington County realized the need of immediately improving its highway system as its old macadam roads were being rapidly destroyed by the ever-increasing vehicular traffic, and the cost of maintenance was mounting to a prohibitive figure. Many types of highways were studied, but most of them involved the destruction and wasting of the old macadam roads, which was not thought expedient. After discarding first one type of pavement and then another, the field narrowed down to a type of pavement that could be laid upon the old stone road, using it in some way as a base. Finally the use of sheet asphalt suggested itself and an intensive study was made of the characteristics of this type of pavement. Again came the questions: Was it suited to the country roads? How long would it last? What was its cost? Would it be expensive to maintain? These questions were thrashed out pro and con, and at last it was decided to try it out.

was how to salvage the base and properly utilize the stone, or road metal. Most of the macadam roads varied in width from ten to twelve feet, and had much too high a crown for bituminous pavement. They were, also, variable in depth, and some even had an old telford center. It was decided that the first county pavement to be constructed should be eighteen feet wide and this included the widening of the existing stone road to conform with the new pavement width. This was done by forming a trench six inches deep and approximately four to five feet wide, on either side of the existing stone road, and filling it with 2 1/2-inch broken stone. This stone was then filled with a local gravel binder and thoroughly rolled until compacted. After this was done the center portion of the road was thoroughly scarified and the excess material in the crown evenly distributed over the entire width. Now stone was added where necessary to correct any fault in the contour, or to reinforce the base where necessary. The whole was then thoroughly covered with screenings, water-bound and rolled. This base was then subjected to traffic for a period of approximately thirty days, so that any weak portions would develop before the pavement was laid.

Completing Pavement

The engineer then went on to describe the methods of completing the laying of the pavement.

"Through most of our towns in Burlington County the sheet asphalt is laid on a six inch concrete base, but to date it is impossible for a stranger to tell which is laid on a stone base and where on concrete. Both type bases, when properly constructed, give excellent results, but usually where we find it necessary to completely remove the old stone base in a town, so as to correct the grade, etc., we consider it advisable to put in a concrete base.

"Burlington County has a total of 242 miles of county highways under its jurisdiction, exclusive of town, city and township roads. These roads are maintained by the county road department which bears all the cost of maintenance work. During the past few years this maintenance force has both grown and developed and now much of our stone base construction, as well as penetration macadam roads, are built by this department.

"After nine years of bituminous construction and with 85 miles of sheet asphalt pavement and many miles of penetration macadam we are satisfied that our judgment in selecting city-type pavements for country highways has been vindicated and that they are not only cheaper per mile as to first cost but materially lower in maintenance.

Vocational Schools Again to the Fore

Burlington County Industrial Association Hears E. T.
Franks

In addressing the meeting of the Burlington County Industrial Association Monday evening, November 12, E. T. Franks, member of the Federal Board of Vocational Training at Washington, said: "No high school curriculum is complete until it embraces courses for teaching boys and girls to labor with their hands."

Mr. Franks pointed out that 82 per cent of those in the United States who were manually employed labored with their hands, while of the three billions of dollars spent for education yearly, only one-tenth of one per cent went for vocational training. Eight per cent of the pupils in our schools are receiving the benefit of ninety-nine and one-tenth per cent of all the money spent for education.

The present method of training for a place in the industrial world, which he referred to as the "pick-up" or "contingency" system, he said, was wasteful and inefficient.

"The sign of welcome has been hanging out for centuries for those who desired a professional education," said Mr. Franks, "but it is only of late years that any serious effort has been made to provide for the great mass who elect to labor with their hands."

E. T. Franks on Earth

Warning up to his subject, the speaker continued, "The United States is the greatest country on earth. It can buy any four nations pay cash, and have some left. But our material progress in agriculture and industry has been to no small part due to our great natural wealth—our fertile soil, our inexhaustible forests and our rich deposits of oil and minerals. But our soil is not as fertile as it was. Fertilizer factories springing up everywhere attest this fact. Our forests are being rapidly consumed. We can no longer cut down in our back yards the lumber with which to build our houses. Coal and the other minerals lie deeper below the surface. The gospel of conservation is being preached on every hand. Conservation does not mean to stay using, but to use wisely, without unnecessary waste. And to do this, skilled labor is necessary. Better methods must be adopted. A few years back, iron ore containing thirty per cent of iron was considered too poor to pay for smelting. Today ore of fifty per cent is being profitably used."

Only One Per Cent Trained

Mr. Franks said that during the preliminary hearings on the vocational training bill, known as the Smith-Hughes Act, and which was finally passed in 1917, it was learned that taking the United States as a whole but one per cent of the workmen engaged in agriculture or in the industries were technically and skillfully trained. At that time the little province of Bavaria had more pupils in its vocational schools than all the United States. When the World War broke out Germany, France, England and Belgium all had trained men and women, who had to be called to the colors and assigned to their various jobs, whether at the front, or behind the lines at home keeping the soldiers supplied with food, clothing and munitions. In Germany every man and woman over twenty years of age had been trained in some manual occupation. In the United States, however, only one per cent of the population was so trained.

An illustration of the money-value of vocational training the speaker said that in Arkansas he trained 235 pounds of cotton to the acre, while the average of the farmer was 32 pounds, and that if the farmers of the State had produced on a par with the boys, they would have been 235 million dollars richer that year.

Mr. Franks said that in Massachusetts, known as "The Athens of America," the value of vocational training is greatly appreciated, and that they pay enormous sums for this type of education.

Bringing the subject right home to his hearers, the speaker said, "And the only way you will ever have a sufficient supply of trained men and women in Burlington County, is to make them. You can import skilled labor, but it will not stay. They will be with you for awhile, but in the end they will drift back to where they came from. If you train your own boys and girls they will stay with you. Their friends are here, they will marry and raise their families here."

Next War for Sea Supremacy

The speaker said that the next war would not be fought with poison gas, nor airplanes, but for the mastery of the sea, and that America must train its young manhood and womanhood not only in seamanship but in all the paths of industry.

In closing Mr. Franks paid a glowing tribute to American women—the home builders of the nation.

"For, after all," he said, "house building is the biggest job in the country. No matter how skilled our boys and girls become in using their hands, the same falls, at last, to a day and night's work in the home. Better wages—better means better homes—better homes—means better and happier homes—and happy homes are the backbone of the nation. Bohemian does not generalize in an atmosphere of contentment and well being."

Burlington County Says Big Asset

Frederick O'Leary, Assistant Commissioner of Education for New Jersey, spoke briefly in introducing Mr. Franks. He said that according to the statistics the 2500 boys in Burlington County between the ages of 15 and 17 years of age were valued at 55 millions of dollars as an economic asset, a greater sum than the gross income from all the industries in the county, and that vocational training was designed to realize on this asset.

At the conclusion of the address D. S. Evans, secretary of the association, asked whether the establishment of vocational schools had a tendency to keep boys from leaving the county, to which Mr. Franks replied that owing to the fact that the boys could go to school half a day and work half a day, the need for earning something which prompted many to leave school was met, and they continued their education. In many cases, too, he said, actually getting to work doing things that they liked to do, the necessity for more education, in order to be able to "carry on" in the work they had chosen. When a lad finds he cannot keep up with his fellows because he is "poor at figures" he soon realizes the need for a little more arithmetic. When the multiplication table helps him, to be a better carpenter or plumber he can see the use of it, it becomes something real to him. Mr. Franks cited the Central Vocational School in Milwaukee, where the boys, working half a day and going to school half a day, earned a sum greater than the cost of the whole educational system in that city."

WANT PAID FIREMEN

Merchantville Company Asks For Four Extra Men For Each Fire

Niagara Fire Company, in a letter to Merchantville borough council, asked that four more paid men be provided for local fire protection. There is now one man on duty all day, paid by the borough. The fire company would like to see a small paid department. The request was referred to the fire committee.

Members of the fire company, who are in business in Merchantville and respond to alarms as volunteers, claim they are subjected to considerable loss each year, and this loss would be avoided if a small squad of men could alone respond to small fires and those that start in grass fields.

Chief Ruderow, of the fire company, reported 21 separate places in the borough regarded as fire hazards at the council meeting. Three of them are rear yards of stores.

A petition, signed by 20 business men, asked council to repeal the ordinance prohibiting the sale of anything but necessities on Sunday. This was referred to the committee of records without much discussion. It is said the petition was circulated after it became known that Hori-lan's drugstore, where Sunday trade caused the complaint resulting in the ordinance, had been sold.

William Heggie, who was barred by an earthquake at Merthyl, Eng., was dug out alive 36 hours later and called for a half-dozen boiled eggs.

MYSTERIOUS FIRE DAMAGES HYLTON HOMESTEAD, PALMYRA

Fire Discovered By Gunners, Who Notify Inmates Who Are at Dinner

FIREMEN HANDICAPPED BY LACK OF WATER

The fire siren sounded at one o'clock Wednesday afternoon and the Palmyra apparatus and about 25 firemen rushed to the scene of the blaze, which was the old Hylton farmhouse on the hilltop, West Palmyra.

The farmhouse is divided into three parts. The fire broke out in the south end which is used as a storeroom. Hundreds of baskets were removed before they had a chance to burn.

When the engines arrived the pumper was put to work in the well next to the house. Water was pumped freely and the firemen were making great headway, having the fire almost under control, when the pumper failed to respond. The well had been pumped dry.

However, despite the handicaps, the firemen managed to stop the blaze from spreading to the main

When the flames burst out anew from the center portion of the storeroom, which was partitioned off from the rest of the house, the pumper was able to get a good stream of water from a second well, located 550 feet from the blaze. The fire was almost out at

Had the house been of wooden structure instead of strong stone walls and tin roof, the entire building would have been completely destroyed in half an hour. The firemen pulled the tin from the roof and stopped the blaze from entering the main section. When the blaze again sprang up stronger than ever, the firemen stood by for 10 or 15 minutes and let the roof of the storeroom, which was heavily built with thick lumber, fall to the floor in a great heap of debris.

After water was again available, the fire was soon extinguished.

Almost everyone that witnessed the fire helped by putting in a hand.

The origin of the blaze is unknown. Riverton Company Crippled
The Riverton company was able to get only one apparatus to their fire—the American-LaFrance pump—The Maccar would not start at all and the Packard "died" at Broad and Lippincott avenue. Each of the smaller trucks have

At the Dorrance fire last week the engine on the Maccarr ran hot and stuck at the Westfield public school. The chemical tank on the Packard was only about fifty percent efficient. One of the hand chemical tanks on the pumper was empty—and the other did not function properly.

Saturday night when Riverton attempted to go to the fire on Henry street, Palmyra, the Packard stopped at Lippincott avenue. The Magcar succeeded in making the run but the radiator was boiling over when it returned to the fire

When Riverton answered Palmyra's call for help Wednesday afternoon, the Maccar could not be started, the Packard got only as far as Lippincott avenue. The summer made the sun in good shape.

The Palmyra company, which had pumped out two wells, wanted River to supply water from the creek.

Many Legion Men Will Go To Paris

Reservations Already Coming In For Convention To Be Held in France

The Second A. E. F. of The American Legion will bring about the greatest reunion of fighting men the world has ever seen, reservations received by The France Convention Committee at National Headquarters, Indianapolis, show. It will be made of men ranging from "buck" private to the commander of the A. E. F., from men who didn't get across and men who got to the front. In the first batch of reservations received was that of Gen. John J. Pershing, the highest ranking officer on duty with the A. E. F.

Veterans of every rank in the first A. E. F. are seizing the opportunity to join the Second A. E. F. as the change of a lifetime for a trip abroad. Movement of such a large number of veterans overseas and the semi-official nature of The American Legion has made possible entertainment and transportation more attractive than known in trans-Atlantic service, according to announcement of Bowman Elder, National Chairman of the France Convention Committee. Governments, railroad companies here and overseas, tourist companies, veteran organizations of France, and private concerns are co-operating to show the Yanks the time of their lives on the second trip over.

Low Travel Rates
Extremely low travel rates have been obtained for the steamship journey. Round trip steamship fares range from $145.80 for the plainest accommodation to $370 on most of the ships. Contrasted to this are accommodations offered to Legionnaires who wish the most luxurious in ocean travel of a bed in premier suites on the Levantine, flagship of the fleet, at $1700. Foreign railroads have granted substantial reduction in fares which will enable the Legionnaire and his family to see Europe. Passport and visas will be eliminated by the use of a special Legion identification certificate which will save Legionnaires approximately $1,000,000.

Housing in Paris, including bed for seven nights and tips and taxes, range from $10 to $49 depending upon the grade of accommodation sought. For the first time complete tours to all sectors where American soldiers fought and to all cemeteries where the soldiers are buried in France and Belgium are offered. The battlefield and cemetery trips range in price from $5 to $16.50. By accepting the plainest accommodations throughout, the total of round trip steamship, railroad from foreign port to Paris and back, seven nights housing in Paris, and a battlefield and cemetery tour, without allowance for meals in Paris, will average only $175. Of course this is the minimum rate accommodation only, and the cost gradually increases for the better grade accommodations. The average trip will cost about $300 it is estimated.

May Take Side-Trips
Paris, located in the heart of Europe, being used as a convention city will enable Legionnaires to take many desirable tours at low rates. Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, England, Ireland, Scotland, Italy, and Spain are in easy striking distance of Paris. Extended time on railroad and steamship tickets will allow Legionnaires ample time to tour the continent while over.

The second trip over will be more comfortable than the first. Instead of being packed like sardines on a single deck there will be no crowding on the twenty-eight luxurious steamers that carry the Legionnaires over in the Second A. E. F. The big ocean liners will blaze with lights and resound with music and happiness instead of stealing unlighted through grounds of marauding submarines. The Legion convention will really begin as soon as the game gamblers at the ports of embarkation. The Legionnaires will be on the ship, band competition, dancing, athletic events, and masquerades. There will be no time to get seasick on the second trip over.

Although the officials of Paris have agreed to turn the keys of the city over to the Legionnaires from Saturday, September 17 to Friday, September 23, 1927, there is a definite limit to the number of Legionnaires that can make the journey. This is imposed largely by housing conditions in Paris. Legionnaires planning to go to Paris are advised by Mr. Elder, the national chairman, to get their reservations in early if they wish to assume a place with their state delegations. A definite quota of reservations has been assigned to each state or territory. Reservations and unfilled quotas will be recalled and re-assigned later in the movement. No reservation will be accepted after May 15.

The France Convention Committee has printed a two-color steamship folder, giving full information as to the Paris journey, the cost of reservations and how to make a reservation. This folder will be mailed to Legionnaires wishing to make the Paris journey upon request.

MOUNT HOLLY VILLAS

New Real Estate Corporation Opens Camden Office
A new real estate corporation, the Mount Holly Villas Corporation, has just been incorporated in Camden and will deal in general real estate, with an office in that city.
The officers are: President, Charles L. Guss, of Collingswood; vice president, William B. Darnell, of Camden; secretary-treasurer, Henry L. Cohen, of Atlantic City.
The company expects to close a deal for a 100-acre tract of ground near the center of Mount Holly which will be developed for building lots with modern improvements. The sale of the lots will carry building restrictions to insure a creditable addition to the town. Plans are to start the development work early in the spring.
Rumors are that the tract is located on the Mount Holly-Brighton road.

Alleged Rum Ring Chief Says Guilty

John Campbell, Suspected in Rancocas Barge Case, Admits Similar Charges

Defendants, counsel and inspectors alike were all astounded in the United States District Court at Newark last week when John Campbell, of Essington, Pa., who Federal agents have no hesitancy in saying is the head of a gigantic rum ring, pleaded guilty to nine indictments charging him with conspiracy and smuggling of liquor into Atlantic and Cape May counties, and also with the bribery of Coast Guards and other officers of the law.

Nine other defendants in the case, one of whom is a former state trooper, were perplexed by the turn in events, and scurried to their counsel for advice.
There was also a conference between Judge Clark and United States District Attorney Walter G. Wlanc, who is conducting the prosecution, and it was later decided to defer the trial of the other nine defendants, their bail being continued in the amount of $10,000 each. In the meantime sentence upon Campbell will be held under advisement.

Court is Crowded
The court corridors were jammed with Atlantic City men when Campbell made his spectacular pleading. It is said that Joseph A. Corio, police recorder, and John Haulten, of Atlantic City, will defend six of the nine accused men.

It is expected that the sudden turn of mind of Campbell will also have its weight in Burlington county, as it has never been questioned by those in possession of the facts, but that he was behind the transportation of liquor into Burlington county and was actually close at hand when Charles L. Carslake and the state troopers descended on the barge "William Blades" at Adams' Wharf on October 1, 1925.
It is also well-known who represented Campbell in Burlington county and those who are on the "in" say that the acknowledgment of his guilt may mean a scurrying to get in out of the wet on the part of some higher ups involved that will cause a sensation, particularly in this county.

Louis Peresh, of Philadelphia, who it is said, is the owner of the Pierce-Arrow car picked up at the time of the raid on the "William Blades" and which is still stored in Mount Holly, also pleaded guilty on Wednesday at Newark to another charge of conspiracy involving John Campbell and Phillip Utterstrom.
Samuel Mandell, of Atlantic City, another well-known defendant, also pleaded guilty.

The pleading of guilty by these defendants makes the verdict of not guilty by the conspiracy case jury in Burlington county look still more farcical.

Production of rayon, or artificial silk, now surpasses that of real silk.

Justice Charged With Extortion

Vincentown Clergyman-Squire Placed Under $500 Bond at Moorestown Hearing

The Rev. A. W. Bostwick, of Vincentown, who is also a justice of the peace, gave a bond in the amount of $500, after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Harry Wolf, at Moorestown, on the charge of extortion, brought by Lewis Ayer, of Camden. The complainant accused the clergyman-squire of mauling him to the tune of $75.40. On giving bail Squire Bostwick is quoted as saying, "the grand jury will find that I am right."

Ayer was advised by Justice Bostwick that a warrant had been issued for his arrest for "criminal trespass."

Answering the summons, Ayer visited Vincentown and was told by Bostwick that he had also been charged with stealing a sapling from the Concanon farm at Tabernacle. Ayer admitted that he had dug a sapling but said he did not think it was of any value. However he offered to pay for the sapling.
According to Ayer, Justice Bostwick dropped the criminal charge and informed him that damages would be assessed against him by civil procedure. Ayer objected and insisted that the criminal complaint be pressed. His objections were overruled.

Bostwick told him he had to pay $75.40. Ayer refused. He said Bostwick threatened to put him in jail. The defendant then said he would appeal.
"There can be no appeal from my court," Bostwick said, according to Ayer. "I may preside in a hick town, but I am a big time squire."

Paying the money Ayer said he was informed that $30.40 of the amount presented "court costs." Ayer paid the "damages" and engaged an attorney. The arrest of Bostwick followed. The accused squire took his arrest colly and insisted that he acted within his legal rights.

CAREFUL BUS DRIVERS WILL GET BONUS

As an additional incentive to careful driving on the part of car and bus operators, Public Service Railway and Public Service Transportation companies, will on December 2 put into effect a "No Accident Bonus Plan."
Under the plan one dollar will be credited to each operator for every week of the fiscal year in which his accident record is "clear," that is, in which no accidents are charged against him. The bonus will be paid him in a lump sum on or about December 15, 1927, and following years, so that it will provide a welcome Christmas fund. If the operator's record is clear for the entire fiscal year, he will receive $50 instead of $52, which one dollar a week would amount to.

Pontiac Building Nears Completion

Huge $7,600,000 Building Being Erected Will Contain 30 Acres

The entire steel structural frame of the new $7,600,000 Pontiac Six assembly building at Pontiac, Mich., that will contain 30 acres of floor space has already been erected, slightly ahead of schedule, and work is now being rushed to cover the skeleton steel frame.

Previous to the laying of the foundation, practically a month was spent in leveling down variable mountains of dirt to produce a flat, level terrain. From the start of operations two tracks were laid for carry in the more than 100,000 tons of raw material.

The quantity of material that is going into the construction of this mammoth plant almost staggers the imagination, even in these days of colossal figures. The 40 acres of cement tile roof that has been ordered is said to be the largest of this type ever placed in the cement tile industry.

For the framework, 12,000 tons of structural steel were required and 5,000 tons of reinforcing steel. A total of 500,000 square feet of glass and 500,000 square feet of steel sash and a mile of skylights will go toward providing the volume of light considered so essential today for healthful and cheerful working conditions. For the body of the foundation and of the building, 200 carloads of face brick, 3,000 carloads of sand and gravel, 100,000 barrels of cement, 5 carloads of nails, 25 acres of wood floor blocking and 40 acres of built-up waterproofing have been ordered.

To provide the drainage system pipes and two miles of drain tile, small city. When the factory has required, six miles of sewers were laid, three miles of vitrified sewer diameter—sufficiently large for a miles of railroad track under roof.

Dr. Lewis Talks To Lions Club

Work of John Leitch Interestingly Portrayed by Riv-erton Rector

The Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, rector of Riverton Christ Church, addressed the Lions Club of Palmyra-Riverton Tuesday evening, taking as his subject the work of John Leitch. Leitch, said Mr. Lewis, has done more than perhaps any other man in America toward the development of good feeling between employers and employees, all through his ability to create among each a proper outlook on life.

In many great industrial organizations, Leitch has put in effect a system which prevents strikes and increases the income of the employees as well as that of the employer. In creating this proper outlook, the things which have been emphasized are: real justice, cooperation, economy and energy. Mr. Lewis told how Leitch had saved a great velvet manufacturing concern $500,000 a year by inducing the workmen to be careful of their employers' interests, and the saving was divided equally between the men and the owners.

After Mr. Lewis' talk, Lion President Dr. Francis Voorhis told a story to illustrate one kind of cooperation. A cop stopped a motorist and after the driver had been informed that he had violated nearly every motoring rule in existence, his wife chimed in and said, "Don't pay any attention to him, officer, he's drunk."

Lion F. G. Fromuth gave a report on the work of the by-laws committee, which showed a great deal of effort and painstaking. The proposed by-laws were thoroughly approved and probably will be adopted at a succeeding meeting.

Winks Win 25-17 Against Burlington

Basketball Tilt With Niagara Team Proves To Be Thriller

Wink's Palmyra Scholastics won a hard fought game from the Niagara A. A. of Burlington Saturday night at the M. E. gym by a 25-17 count. The game was not only lively and fast throughout but proved to be a thriller and the large crowd that came to see the opening game on the home floor was well satisfied. A good brand of basketball was played by the locals and the spectators pledged to be "loyal rooters" in the future.

Burke was the high scorer for Palmyra with four field goals and 3 out of five fouls. Elsieley was a close second with 3 and 3 for 9 points. Bright tallied two nice shots from the field besides shutting his man out and playing a great floor game. The other points were made by Ted Hudson, a reserve playing with the first team. P. Burr also played a bang-up game for Palmyra. The locals were without the services of Captain Bill McKee, Lamont and Kalinowski.

Niagara, leaders of the Burlington City League, was composed of some of the best basketballers in the county. Bill Arens, high scorer of the Burlington County League last season and all-scholastic of South Jersey in his school days at Burlington High, was leading point winner for his team. Although playing a guard position he made 7 points. The Pitko brothers also played stellar basketball for the losers, Joe scoring 5 points and John 4.

Wink's Reserves played a good game but went down to a 28-12 defeat. Hannun and Griffenberg starred for the second stringers while Doonan and Lippincott, who both made four field goals each, starred for Niagara Reserves.

Saturday night the strong Garden Lake A. A. will play at the M. E. gym with the game starting at 8 o'clock sharp.

P. H. S. GIRLS WIN

Hockey Team Scores Decisive Victory Over Gloucester

The girl's hockey team of the Palmyra High School had an easy time with Gloucester High last Wednesday afternoon, shutting them out 5 goals to nothing. It was a league contest which moved Palmyra to one notch behind the teams tied for first place.

Miss Helen Enskat was again the star for Palmyra, scoring 3 of the 5 goals. Miss Burr and Miss Gorman tallied the other two markers. The 5-0 score shows Palmyra's superiority over the losers who were outclassed at all times of the game.

What Can a Modest Pay Envelope
Buy in New York?How to stretch the dollar of self-supporting girls and the buying power of a small salary in New York will be among the topics under discussion at the Young Women's Christian Association meet-

Pennsylvania, New York City.Recreation, and how to get it in tral Room Registry of the Y. W. C.

A., will be among the many speakers.The meeting of the County Council of Business Girls held at the home of Mrs. Henry Stockwell in Moorestown on November 17th, was well attended. In the absence of Ruth King, president, Mrs. William Smith vice-president presided. Mrs.
Stockwell opened the meeting with Bible reading and prayer. Short talks on club programs were given by Beatrice Shadel, Mount Holly; Jean Soast, Riverton; Mabel Schmerhorn, Burlington; Mrs. Florence Irwin, Rancocas; Mrs. Mary Goldy, Mount Holly; Marguerite Lippincott, of Moorestown.The discussion on "The Plan and Work of the Christian Woman in Business" led by Miss Sallie Sumner, showed that the young women of Burlington County were thinking.
The word "think" was used by Mr. A. D.
Sheffield, of Wellsley College, was used as a basis for discussion.
These tests are designed, first and foremost, as a help toward the ability to think straight, or rather to reveal the startling fact that almost no one can think entirely straight, so affected are our concepts by some childhood impression, by the possibly biased teaching of some text-book, by the steady infiltration of newspaper propaganda, by the traditions of "our crowd," or else they are warped by the strong emotional feeling growing out of some one experience or series of experiences.Following the discussion the meeting adjourned to the dining room where refreshments were served by Mrs. Stockwell and Mrs. Thresher.Women and Girls from Vincentown, Marlton, Evesboro, Taber-nash, and Medford came together at the Y. W. C. A. building of Medford on Friday afternoon, Nov.
19th, to hear Miss Michi Kawai of Japan.Mrs. Harry Evans, chairman of the Medford district, presided at the meeting. After an opening song and prayer, Mrs. Mary Cochley, whose untiring efforts were very instrumental in creating the Burlington County Young Women's Christian Association, told how the association began against many obstacles, and gave statistics of the first clubs. This was followed witha presentation of the scope of the Association at the present time by Mrs. John W. Davis of Edgewater Park who is now President of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. The Girl Reserves of Medford, Vincentown and Evesboro sang folk songs after which they repeated their code.Miss Kawai was then introduced and it was an interested audience which listened as she told of the beginning of a movement for women such as the Young Women's Christian Association in Japan, the struggles and obstacles to surmount, and the need of Christian leadership. Miss Kawai gave a graphic picture of the village life in Japan and many interesting customs and traditions of her people were explained. It is only as we really know about other people that we may rise above our prejudices and have a true appreciation of all personalities, the essence of true world fellowship.The Y. W. C. A. dining room was never so attractive as it was for the World Fellowship banquet given by the Y. W. C. A. on Friday evening, November 19th. The room was artistically decorated in evergreens, turkeys, pilgrims and candles were on each table. The halls, waiting room and parlor were crowded with people at seven o'clock.After the guests had found their places at the table and lights were turned off leaving only the soft glow of the candles. Every one then joined in singing "America the Beautiful," after which Mrs. R.
H. Mason led in prayer.Mrs. Harold Hornor welcomed the guests and told of some of the things the Mount Holly Board is doing for the girls of Mount Holly.
A delicious course dinner was served by members of the Girl Reserve clubs in uniform. Miss Kawai was deeply impressed with the lovely spirit which permeated the room, and the delicious American food served.Following the banquet the program was continued in the Friendship Meeting House. Girl Reserve from each of the Mount Holly clubs took part in the pageant "Gift Bringers All," which included girls from eleven different countries. The girls who took part were: Rena Worth, Phyllis Bozarth, Frances Durand, Dorothy Sine, Josephine Newford, the May "Sammole," Alice Lewallen, Marion Alloway, Janet Saltzman, Olive Myer, Daisy Johnson, Olivia Stidford, Miriam Pickard, and Elizabeth Stevens. Each girl represented some country of the world, showed what her land contributed to the civilization of the world.Miss Kawai told of her first visit to America, her experience while a student in Bryn Mawr College, and of what she had been able to do for her country after having obtained her education. She pointed out the fact that Japan needs Christian men and women from the west to help them become Christians and they are looking to us for help. In her travels through Europe, Asia, and America, she felt that the only thing that could bring out a world friendship was Christianity—living the life as shown us by Jesus Christ. America has a great opportunity in taking the lead in this great work, and the women of the land through such organizations as the Y. W. C. A.

PHS. vs. ALUMNI

Thrilling Thanksgiving Day Game
Promised at Field ClubOn Turkey Day morning at 10 o'clock on the Palmyra Field Club grounds the High School team will play the pick of the Alumni. This is the last game on the schedule and is bound to be a great battle.
The high school will have its strongest team on the field as they want to beat their much more experienced and heavier opponents.
Some of the players say that while the Alumni may be out of their beds in time to start the game at 10, they will be completely outclassed with the varsity aerial attack. The Alumni is just as sure of a victory as the high school, so a good game is expected. The game will have the following stars in their line-up, plus any others that are needed and want to play:
S. Godly, P. Burr, J. Burr, Prob-sting, Palphryman, Ehrlich, Bright, Sullivan, Becton, Richman, Burns, Hebrew and Sacks.

ial program after each meeting.
The committee consists of Carl Hur-

Auto Collision

Case in Court

Riverside Motorists Fall To Win Damages For InjuriesJudge Frank B. Jess sat in the Burlington County Courts all of last week and disposed of several Supreme and Circuit Court cases, as follows:The suit of Charles M. Johnson and Beale Imlay, of Riverside, against Charles A. McGuire and Charles A. McGuire, Jr., of Atlantic City, was heard on Monday. In this case damages accruing from an auto collision on the White Horse pike near Egg Harbor City in August, 1925, were asked by the plaintiff.Miss Imlay had her face cut and suffered the loss of five weeks' work as the result of being unable to use one of her arms.The verdict was no cause for action, as the McGuire showed that they were pecked by two other cars, and their only alternative was to strike the Johnson car.Palmer & Powell and William I.
Garrison were the counsel.
The case of Herbert Wollner, of Mount Holly, vs. John and Loretta
P. Clements, of Clermont, resulted in a verdict of $802.32 for Wollner.The suit of Wollner brought to recover the price of about two-thirds of an acre of land purchased by Wollner from the Clements, and which it was afterward discovered was the property of the Mount Holly Water Company. The dispute between Mr.
Wollner and the company had been settled amicably through ejectment proceedings.Landlord and Tenant Judge Jess heard a landlord and tenant case on Wednesday, the contestants being Herbert Shore, of Bridgeboro and Philadelphia, and Gottlieb Zeigler, of Riverside.
Walter S. Koenig and George M.
Bacon were counsel in the case and the jury rendered a verdict of $512.50 for the plaintiff.The next case moved on Wednesday was that of Bernard Yaturus vs. Frank and Magdalena Sinkler, all of Riverside. This suit being brought on a contract and had to do with the building of a house.The case was not completed until Thursday, when the jury returned a verdict of $299.50 in favor of the plaintiff.George M. Bacon and George M.

MUST REMOVE TRACKS

Northampton township, through proceedings directed and carried on by Township Solicitor Herbert S. Killie, has scored a victory in its dispute with the Burlington County Transit Company over the removal of the tracks and rails in Mount Holly, and in the decision filed the Commission states that it will not approve a transfer of the franchise from the trolley company until the work in question has been done to the complete satisfaction of the engineer of Northampton township and it is officially reported at Trenton. This means that the trolley company must remove all of its abandoned equipment and fix the roadways as they should be.

The decision is quite sweeping in its effect and it may be that the trolley company can be required to remove its tracks and restore the roadways to an approved condition along High street and West Washington street. There is no mention of any specific section of the roadway to be fixed; the designation applying to Northampton township, apparently leaving it to the township committee just how far it wants to go within the corporate limits of the township.

Riverton Defeats Wissahickon 13-0

Injuries Cripple Visiting Team's Chances for Scoring Victory

Under a cloudy sky and in a stiff breeze Riverton's gridmen, sent the Wissahickon eleven down to defeat last Saturday by a 13-0 score.

In the first few minutes of the opening period neither team could advance the ball very far. Cunningham and Graft gained most of the ground for the locals. Garreth, the visitors' plucky quarter, gained several yards for his team.

The second period was very different, as the regulars were inserted into the lineup. Stewart Holmgren relieved Cunningham who had made a couple nice gains. Jiddy Hyton replaced Schneider, a future star; Big Ben Wilke relieved Downs and Little Ben worked in Ike's place. Holvick and Bowers took the ends in place of Carhart and Kapus. On the first play Jiddy gained a first down by virtue of a 12 yard run around left end. Graft gained six on a criss-cross and then Jiddy made another first down around left end. Stewart Holmgren brought the ball within one yard of the goal line on a tear around right end. Obergfell gained a half-yard through right guard.

On the next play the visitors were looking for the same thing because the same formation was used, but Bill said through on the left side untouched for the first touchdown. Jiddy's try for the extra point went wide.

Visitors Get Broken Nose

Carhart and Kapus exchanged with Holvick and Bowers, while Russell Hyton replaced Obergfell. Wissahickon kicked off but Russell fumbled the ball. In the scramble for the loose ball, Long, a visitor, received a badly cut and broken nose. Oddy replaced Long. Haffner was hurt three plays later, and was forced to leave the game. Both of Haffner's legs were injured. The Wissahickon eleven gained 15 on a successful pass but Larry Vols intercepted the next forward. Stewart ran 35 yards around right end. This was followed by a 30 yard sprint around left end with Jiddy carrying the ball. Twill Cunningham gained a first down through right tackle by a 12 yard plunge. The visitors got the ball on Obergfell's fumble but were forced to kick. Stewart gained eight around right end but was penalized for running interference. Antrim replaced Oddy who received an injury to his leg. Stewart punted and the ball hit a Wissahickon player on the back and was recovered by Russell Hyton. Cunningham ripped the opposing line for 12 yards through right tackle. The next play advanced the ball about eight yards and resulted in a touchdown, the first Cunningham had made this season. Jiddy made the extra point with a drop kick. On the kick-off Scott ran the ball back 40 yards.

Better Teamwork Noted

Nothing important or exciting happened in the last period except the interception of two of the visitors' passes by Graft and Holvick, and a beautiful 30 yard run by Cunningham on a fake play.

No one starred for the visitors but Garreth was their best man on the field.

There was better teamwork on the local team this week than has been seen lately, which accounts for the peaceful way in which the game was played, that is comparatively speaking.

Starting Lineups:

Riverton	Wissahickon
Downs left tackle	Fisher
J. Hyton left guard	Griffith

Orcutt right guard	Oddy

LOSSES LICENSE

Charged with being a hit and run driver, Roy Johnson, colored, of North Church street, Moorestown, was fined $30 and had his driver's license revoked after he turned a sedan over twice, injuring a man and his wife, Friday night. The accident occurred in Delaware Township and Johnson was arrested at Moorestown.

Thomas Murray of Maple Shade, was driving a sedan on Moorestown pike near the Camden county line. He was accompanied by his wife. As Murray turned to the center of the road to pass a parked car the automobile driven by Johnson came from the opposite direction. It struck the Murray sedan and it turned over twice and landed upside down in a ditch.

Motorists claim Johnson stopped a second time but on full speed. He was accompanied by Edward Muse, colored, of Church street, Moorestown. Chief of Police Clarence Ward, of Maple Shade, gave chase. When Forked Landing road was reached Policeman Charles Bine blew his whistle for Johnson to stop but he ignored the signal, the police say.

Ward followed Johnson's car up Forked Landing road and fired several shots at the fleeing motorist before he stopped. Chief Ward turned Johnson and Muse over to Chief of Police John S. Branning, of Delaware township, when he learned the exact location of the accident.

Seriously injured, Mrs. Murray was removed to the home of Edward Berger on Maple avenue and a physician was summoned. Murray sustained injuries to his leg.

Palmyra F. C. Beats Cardinals

Undefeated Riverside Team Now To Drop Kicker From Drexel

Palmyra stopped the winning streak of eight straight of the East End Cardinals of Riverside, Saturday by upsetting the dogs at the Field Club grounds, score 3-0. Elmer, the well-known deposer, was not back a notch when he picked the Riverside eleven to win its third straight victory. This was also the first time the Cardinals have been scored upon, having gained over 100 points against their opponents this season.

Until this game the Cardinals had vision of the Class B Title of South Jersey, having defeated some of the best teams in this locality. The East Enders were kicking for a game with Reznal for the championship.

Palmyra had outplayed the Cardinals in all parts of the game, and this 3-0 victory does not show their real superiority over the losers. Although the East End eleven and some of the best players of Riverside in their line-up and put up a stubborn battle they stepped out of their class when they tackled the Palmyra team.

Palmyra scored more first down through scrimmage and by their aerial attack than East End. In the final quarter Hebrew snatched a pretty 30-yard pass from Schwartz. In various parts of the game Palmyra completed some nice passes while the Cardinals had trouble with their aerial attack, which was smeared almost every time an attempted pass was made.

Schwartz brought a couple of players along with him from Drexel which greatly strengthened the Field Club's lineup. Hebrew played a good game on the left side of the line, as did Wilson, of Drexel, who dropped back to the 30-yard line in the last two minutes of play to score a neat drop kick which won the game for Palmyra. Schwartz, also of Drexel, who played at quarter, handled the winning drive in great style and played a bang-up game all around. Williams, Wagner and Peddie, other backs put up their usual good game. More than once Wagner and Peddie hit the line for 5 and 10 yards at a time. In fact the entire team played great football to beat the undefeated Cardinals.

Freynick's punting was a big asset to the Cardinals as well as Captain Tankowski and Maloney. A. Roll substituted for Ketchel when he was taken from the game and rushed to the Barabrug Hospital. Riverside, in the Palmyra ambulance when it was found he suffered a broken collar bone. Elbe also played well for the Cardinals.

On Turkey Day the Field Club will tackle the strong Reznal A. C. of Riverside, who are fresh from their victory over Emerson. The Reznal team has one of the strongest combinations in South Jersey and the Palmyra lineup will have Schwartz and his Drexel stars with them, so if you want to see a great battle, come out to the game on Thanksgiving Day.

Summary of the game:

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Edwards, Pastor
The boys and girls of our Sunday School are to be congratulated upon their fine attendance last Sunday morning. We are surely going forward, and last Sunday's mark is not going to be our highest for the coming winter. Let's beat it this year, but we in plenty of time before you start that your chum is coming too. Bring him along. That's the way to boom a Sunday School!

In the morning service of public worship, the pastor will preach from the theme: "What will put our church on fire?" This theme will be dealt with in a very practical way. Perhaps you have your own ideas as to how church work ought to be done. Come out and think it over with us. The choir will render "A Dream of Paradise."

The annual Thank-offering Service will be conducted in the evening with the following program:
1. Opening Hymn, No. 455.
2. Light Brigade Exercises.
3. "Thanks-living"—a feature of the service in charge of members of the Women's Missionary Society.

4. Collection of Thank-offering boxes.
5. Anthem by the choir "The Day is Gently Sinking to a Close."
6. Sermon: "A God to be Extolled."
7. Prayer.
8. Offering.
9. Announcements.
10. Closing Hymn, No. 239.
11. Benediction.

Prayer meeting, Thursday, December 2, at eight o'clock in the evening.

Reserve the evening of December 7th to see the play given by the young people of our church. There will be a packed house in the High School building that night to see "A Full House." Our young people have made a reputation for themselves, and here is a production which will measure up to the best of them.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"LET US ALL GIVE THANKS"

Thanksgiving morn at 6 o'clock our young people are invited to join in the sunrise service at the Methodist Church. At 10 a. m. a union Thanksgiving service of all the churches will be held in the Lutheran Church. The Rev. J. Williams Lee will deliver the sermon. Friday afternoon the "Happy Hour" kiddies will meet in the Baptist Church at four o'clock. In the evening at eight o'clock the young people of the B. Y. P. U. will hold their regular meeting.

Sunday will be an unusual day at the church. In the morning at 11:15 Dr. Wilbur of the Baptist Institute for Christian Workers, in Philadelphia, will speak to the congregation as well as several girls from the Institute, who will be our guests.

The evening service will be observed as "YOUNG PEOPLE'S NIGHT." The B. Y. P. U. will have charge of the service and Miss Dorothy Randolph will discuss the subject of "Wedded Life." This will be in the nature of an echo from the recent B. Y. P. U. Convention which Miss Randolph attended.

The Philathea ladies are very much pleased with the success of the "Grand Bazaar" held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall last Friday and Saturday. Such diligent and persistent effort as the ladies gave the enterprise could not have been rewarded with less than great achievement. The next activity for the benefit of the new Baptist Church will be a big supper to be served some evening in January.

One hundred and thirty-eight members of the church responded to the roll call at the annual supper and business meeting on Monday evening. Many interesting and complete reports were read and officers for the coming year elected as follows:—President, Clarence T. Yarnes; Clerk, Harry Hough; Treasurer, Thomas R. Taylor.

Pastor Lockett announced as the church motto for 1927: "GO FORWARD."

EPWORTH M. E.

The business meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church will be held immediately after the close of the service in the church Monday evening, November 29. All the women of the church are invited to attend. Reports will be given from the Fall District Meeting held in Trenton, November 2.

A bronze bell, which has been used for church bells more than 200 years, is being kept in the church.

PRESBYTERIAN

Building operations at Calvary Church do not interfere with the regular church services. Next Sunday the pastor will preach at both services. In the morning at eleven o'clock and in the evening at eight o'clock. There will be a short sermon for the children at the morning worship. Sunday School: main school at ten in the morning; primary department at two-thirty in the afternoon; Christian Endeavor at seven in the evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Missionary Society will be held at the home of Mrs. Harry F. Davis, 104 Main street, Riverton, on Wednesday afternoon, December 1st; the Ladies' Aid Society at 2:30 and the Missionary Society at three o'clock. All women of the congregation are cordially invited to attend.

On Wednesday evening, December 1st, at eight o'clock, will be held the Preparatory Service in anticipation of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, to be held on Sunday morning, December 5th. Any who wish to unite with the church at this time will please arrange to see the Session at the close of the Preparatory Service.

OAKLAND HELPS RED CROSS

As soon as the appeal was issued by the Red Cross for help to alleviate the distress of the recent hurricane which struck Florida, A. H. Glancy, president and general manager of the Oakland Motor Car Company, Pontiac, Mich., wired the Oakland-Pontiac dealers at Miami to donate an Oakland Six touring car on behalf of the factory.

This car delivered by Claude Nolan, president of the Oakland Miami Company to the Red Cross for relief work in Miami. It was received by Henry M. Baker, national director of the Red Cross, and immediately put into a much needed service.

Mrs. M. A. McMichael of Poplarville, Miss., with a shotgun brought down a chicken hawk measuring four feet from tip to tip.

Thanksgiving

I have many things for which to be thankful. I am thankful for a mother and a father, also, a brother. I am thankful for a comfortable home. I am thankful that I have plenty of food and nice clothing. I am thankful that mother and father can give me an education.

Irene DeGraw, 5th Grade.

The Pilgrims

The Pilgrims lived long ago. Amid the cares of sin and woe. They sought for liberties far and near.

But hard they were to find I hear.

Holland was a land of peace. But to them it was the least. Their children dear were learning the customs of this land.

So they went to seek for another country near at hand.

America was the place they wished to find. To live the life they had in mind. Through cares and sorrows all the way.

Until one happy day.

They sighted the shores of this land. Ashore they rowed while the waves beat against the sands. They rejoiced together.

For the task was finished. And to this day, it has been distinguished.

Mary Kenny, Grade 7.

A November Day

When November days are getting near. My appetite grows stronger. And though the days are not so long.

Somewhat they seem much longer.

And so we have Thanksgiving. When the harvest time is over. When we always look for turkey. Just some and then some more.

Florence H. Grade 7.

Invention by Early Women

The inventions by early women are very important to us now. Women were first to weave baskets. These we used to carry food and supplies.

They also were first in making articles out of clay. They first found this when they baked fish and covered it with clay.

They gradually began to make things called earthen ware, such as pots and bowls.

They were the first to cut spoons, ladles and drinking cups from bones of the animals.

They were the first weavers and spinners. The women also ground the grain into flour.

In fact, nearly all of our household articles were made by the early women. In this way, they proved a great help to us.

Betty Sim, Grade 6.

A Quaver While Going to School

I wish I didn't have to carry these old books around," said James.

"As" said Tom, "You'll be glad when you get grown up."

"When I get large, I won't go around the streets adding up numbers and subtracting numbers, or doing grammar or singing," said James.

"What do you want to be when you grow up?" asked Tom. "I want to be a captain on a large ship," said James.

"Well, you have to know Geography and other studies to be a captain on a ship," said Tom.

"Do you mean to tell me that I need to know Geography or any other lessons to be in charge of the rest of the sailors and to pilot a ship?" replied James.

"Yes," answered Tom. "You have to be able to use English to tell the sailors what to do and to get the job. You have to know Geography to pilot the ship such as to know where a place is by Latitude and Longitude."

"Well," said James, "I guess you win, and I believe I will study hard from now on."

"We'll better hurry to school," said Tom. "Yes," answered James.

William Evans, Grade 7.

The Value of English

English is a very valuable study. It teaches us how to speak and write correctly. Good English will make your other subjects easier.

because you will know how to write and spell. A book-keeper must know English in order to keep the books. The great men were taught English, such as the poets. They had to know English in order to write poetry. English will make you be correct in your speech and you will never be embarrassed in speaking. Good English will get you a high position in life. Good English is the key to success.

Mary Kenny, Grade 7.

In the seventh grade we are making posters concerning good English. We are trying to drive bad English out of our town and school. The posters, which were made by the girls and boys of our grade, were original. Some of them explained reaching for good English and how it is falling. One of them is very original. It shows two race tracks, one bad English and the other good English. On it are the words "Take the One Going to Good English. But Don't Take the Road to Bad English." The titles of other posters are "Drive Bad English Out of our School," "Roll on to Good English," "Good English Outweighs the Bad" and others.

I think that we need good English in everything we do so we must all work very hard.

NEITHER WINS

Autobus Ashed Damages But Didn't Regain Cars

Samuel Elliott, of Bridgeboro, who gained considerable publicity from the fact that he discovered the ram barge "William Bladen" at Adams' Wharf and informed the authorities, was the defendant in a suit for damages heard by Recorder Kingston and a jury of twelve men in Mount Holly last week.

Norman Mingin, of Florence, was the complainant and he claimed that Elliott, while driving across Pine street, Mount Holly, at the intersection of the South Pemberton road and South avenue, ran into his Hudson car, occupied by himself, three other adults and three children, and while the occupants escaped injury the car was damaged to the extent of $80.

Elliott claimed the accident was all Mingin's fault and that the latter ran into him. He presented an estimate of $150 for the repair of his auto, which was also a Hudson, but it was brought out that neither of the cars had any work done on them yet, notwithstanding that the accident happened on Sunday night, September 25.

The jury felt that both men were more or less to blame and gave a verdict of no cause for action.

Elliott was represented by George M. Bacon, of Riverside, and Mr. Mingin by Stanley Heitbron, of Mount Holly.

ANNUAL CHORAL

County Episcopal Choristers' Guild Will Hold Services at Burlington

The annual choral service of the Choristers' Guild of the Episcopal church of Burlington county will be held at St. Mary's church in Burlington on Wednesday night, December 8, at 7:45.

This is the organization that was formed last year after the service for the combined choir of the county was started at St. Andrew's church in Mount Holly during the church's anniversary celebration two years ago. There is much inspiration to come from a service of this kind.

On the coming occasion the preacher will be the Rev. Dr. John Mockridge, of Philadelphia.

K. M. C. A. NEWS

The second meeting of the K. M. C. A. was held Tuesday evening, November 16th, in the Methodist Church, Palmyra.

After the prayer by Jim Reeves the Bible lesson was very capably read by Paul Burr. The business portion of the meeting was interesting and spirited. One of the members, Edson Hicks, was elected to represent the group at the next New Jersey State Conference in East Orange on December 3, 4 and 5.

The meritment of the evening was stimulated by the group quartet in which Charles Knight, tenor, Bill Baker, soprano, Leon Sloan, bass, Dewey Howell, second bass, sang, with Chas. Foubert at the piano. For some reason or other the music was not broadcast.

After electing Jim Reeves manager of the athletic teams the meeting adjourned for basketball practice.

Plan Crusade on Motor Violations

Moorestown Chief of Police Will Enforce Traffic Rules and Regulations

Chief of Police John Bradshaw has announced he will wage a war on motorists who are continually ignoring traffic rules and regulations in Moorestown. The chief declares his men have been showing the drivers leniency recently, and the majority have been prone to take advantage of the "let-down".

When the "war," which will start within a few days opens, a relentless drive will be made against violations of all kinds. The chief, offenses recently have been the disregarding of any kind visible on the machine, of the automatic traffic lights, speeding and parking along the streets at night without a light.

Since warnings, which have been issued during the lenient period, seem without avail, Bradshaw says he will have to take more drastic steps and has issued orders to his men that arrests will be necessary to curb the traffic violations which are increasing in number daily.

Not only do the drivers speed up Main street, but they will do liberally drive past a red light. Both acts are not only violations of the law but endanger the lives of pedestrians and other motorists who respect the law and take it for granted others will observe the regulations established in the light control zones.

Within the last few days a few violators have been summoned to appear before Recorder Johnston and fines of $5.00 and costs up have been imposed.

The police declare they are not attempting to start one of the notorious "speed traps," but merely insist that drivers use discretion and do not overstep the law to the extent of becoming a public menace.
