There is some increase in road maintenance and repairs and in the maintenance of various county institutions and departments. The maintenance of the Court House, grounds and buildings is less than last year.

The public hearing on the budget will be held in the Board of Freeholders room in the collector's office on Monday morning, January 17, at ten o'clock. The budget is published in this issue.

KATHLEEN

Now that the holidays are over the Palmyra Schools are concentrating interest in the musical play, "Kathleen."

The committees which were announced last week are organizing for a period of intensive work. The Grammar School Committee, composed of Miss Mary Egan, Miss Patterson, Miss Sawyer, will work in conjunction with the High School faculty committee. Miss Egan will have charge of the sale of tickets for the Grades, and Miss Patterson and Miss Sawyer will select the talent from the Grades. Meeting of all these committees will be held during the week and the student members will become acquainted with their work.

The Student Body and Faculty of the Palmyra Schools are hoping to make "Kathleen" a signal success and this object should be easily attained since this is the first all-school play for several years, and the first dramatic effort for the present school year. It is hoped that all the friends of the school will assist by reserving one night on their engagement calendar to attend "Kathleen." Remember Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of January, 27, 28, 29.

ATKINSON—FABRITORE

A very pretty and attractive wedding took place at the home of the Fabritores on West Broad street, Wednesday, December 29, when Miss Rose Fabritore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fabritore became the bride of Edward Atkinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Atkinson, of 247 Rutland avenue, Mount Holly. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William M. Erhard, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, of Palmyra.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mildred Fabritore, as bridesmaid and the best man was Charles Cameron, of Philadelphia.

The couple will leave shortly for their honeymoon trip to San Francisco.

Jiddy Hylton and Eddie Morehouse, (the barber), attended the world's championship basketball game between the Phillies and the Celtics, Tuesday night. Jiddy knows all the Philly players and after the game he introduced his friend Eddie to "Soup" Campbell and Harry Rieonda.

Bottger Addresses Rotary Members

Noted Service Club Worker Gives Inspiring Talk at Weekly Meeting

The Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club met at the Porch Club last Thursday evening. At this meeting a very instructive talk was given by William Bottger, a Camden Rotarian, of Riverton, when he spoke on the "Joint Service Clubs of Camden County."

Mr. Bottger, who devotes a large portion of his time to Service Clubs throughout Camden county, is at present actively engaged in the promotion of a concert tour to be held this winter for the object of raising funds for the depleted treasury of the Boy Scouts of Camden. He gave some interesting figures on just what can be accomplished by combined efforts of Service Clubs, comparing the results with those obtained by individual effort on the part of each club.

On the program of the concert tour will be America's foremost comedian, Will Rogers, and his quartette and many noted artists of the Victor personnel. The series of four concerts will be held in Convention Hall, Camden, starting January 29 and will cost but $5.00. The Palmyra-Riverton Rotarians are back of it 100% strong. Let every Rotarian give it a boost.

The next meeting will be tonight, with dinner and meeting at 6 p. m. at the Porch Club. The speaker and subject to be announced at the meeting.

The Rotary has been invited to attend the Central Baptist Church, Sunday evening, January 23, to hear a message from Rotarian "Bishop" Lockett. The Rotary will hold a Ladies' Night in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Thursday, January 27. The first anniversary of the Tuesday night between the Celtics Club Night, Thursday evening, February 24, in the P. O. S. of A. Hall.

FIREMEN SEE NEW YEAR IN

Thirty-six Members Attend Second Annual Dinner; New Year Plans

The second annual dinner of the Riverton Fire Company was held New Year's Eve and thirty-six of the members watched the New Year in, while enjoying a fine chicken dinner prepared and served by John Waddington, proprietor of the new restaurant, the Clean Way Lunch.

President John C. Geiss asked Edward R. Williams to act as toastmaster which he did. Mr. Williams said that it was the desire of the mayor and council to co-operate with the Fire Company and that the mayor was in favor of purchasing the new apparatus recommended last May. Mr. Williams also paid a compliment to John C. Geiss, president of the company, to whom he referred as a faithful and efficient servant of the borough during the time he served as a member of council, and as being a good president of the fire company.

The toastmaster said that these get-together meetings were productive of much good. Many of the boys, he said, he had known since they were knee pants, and it was a real pleasure to meet with them on occasions like this. He suggested that such meetings be held more frequently in order to keep alive the spirit of fraternalism and co-operation.

During the evening plans for the betterment of the fire company during the coming year were discussed. Every member present was called on to give his views on the subject.

Walter Armstrong, chief of the fire company, urged the members to get together in a spirit of co-operation and select officers whom they would be willing to stand by.

Robert W. Knight, one of the directors, said that he felt the mayor was interested in getting the new apparatus the boys wanted, but first wanted to know who would be responsible for its care. He also paid a compliment to the efficient and satisfactory service being rendered to the borough by members of council.

Music was furnished by Walter McFadden, pianist, of East Riverton.

Local Scientists Attend Meeting

Eight Papers Read at Convention in Philadelphia By Laboratory Men

Several hundred scientists of the United States and foreign countries attended the meetings of the American Association for the Advancement of Science held last week at the University of Pennsylvania. This association is composed of a number of organizations which deal with almost every branch of science, among which is the American Association of Economic Entomologists.

The meetings of this society were attended by leading entomologists of this country, Canada and several other countries. One hundred and three papers were presented which included all phases of entomological work. Several members of the staff of the Japanese Beetle Laboratory contributed to this part of the program, the papers read by the local entomologists being:—

"The Inspection of Vehicular Traffic in the Enforcement of Plant Quarantines as Practiced in the Japanese Beetle Area," by C. W. Stockwell.

"The Present Status of the Work on the Parasites of the Japanese Beetle," by J. L. King, H. W. Allen and H. C. Hallock.

"A Method of Grub-Proofing Turf," by B. R. Leach and J. W. Lipp.

"The Present Range of the Japanese Beetle," by Henry Fox.

The banquet of the entomologists was held at the Hotel Walton on Thursday night with over two hundred in attendance. Dr. W. E. Britton, Entomologist of Connecticut, was toastmaster. A most excellent program for the occasion was arranged by a committee composed of members of the staff of the Japanese Beetle Laboratory in charge of Loren B. Smith. E. Avery Richmond of the laboratory took charge of the singing in a very creditable manner. Among the speakers were Dr. L. O. Howard, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology, Dr. Edith M. Patch, State Entomologist of Maine, Dr. G. W. Herrick, Ithaca, New York and Dr. W. E. Britain, Canadian Entomologist.

T. R. GARDNER HAS RETURNED FROM ORIENT

T. R. Gardner, who was formerly stationed at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory, arrived in Palmyra Tuesday night after an absence of three years in the Orient where he has been engaged in collecting and shipping to this country parasites of the Japanese beetle.

Mr. Gardner stated that, while life in Japan and Korea was very interesting, he was not at all sorry to return to this country and be with American speaking people again. For the next few days Mr. Gardner will be at the laboratory, preparing later to go to Dover for his home at Portland, Oregon, where he will spend

LEGION NEWS

Monthly Meeting Full of Pep and Action

About thirty-five members were present at the monthly meeting of Post Rodgers at the Legion Home Tuesday night. All of the men of the Bugle and Drum Corps were on hand and a rehearsal was held from 7.30 till 8.30.

As a special feature the Rev. George J. MacCormack, new rector of Christ Church, was a special visitor. The Rev. Mr. McCormack gave a very interesting as well as inspiring talk. He invited all the men to come to his church and gave them a special invitation to attend in a body sometime in the near future. The kind invitation was accepted but no date was set for the visit.

"Doc" LeFever was taken in as a new member. He is an excellent pianist and gave several selections, after which the boys gave talks and sang. Everyone was merry and a good time was had by all.

It was decided to give a cake sale some time in the near future and Bill Stucky was appointed chairman of the committee. It was also decided to move the equipment and furnishings of the visiting nurse who had her office upstairs in the Legion Home to the lower floor. The purpose of this change was to give the upper floor to the Bugle and Drum Corps so they would have more room.

He admonished the new member to keep his eyes open and his mouth shut, to be careful what he said to newspapermen and the language he used in saying it.

Organization of Palmyra Council

George N. Wimer Appointed Head of Police and Fire Committee

Palmyra Borough Council held its re-organization meeting on New Year's Day at noon.

Contrary to all precedent, Solicitor Joseph S. Low was not the last man to arrive. This honor fell to Councilman J. Warren Beahn, who pleaded a flat tire and divers other things as his excuse.

The re-elected Councilmen, Joseph A. Davis and Mr. Beahn, were sworn in first by Clerk Spencer. Oaths were then taken by other municipal officers, no change having been made in the personnel.

One important change was made in council committees. Mayor Weart announced that inasmuch as Councilman Randel had been the head of two important committees, garbage and ash collection as well as police and fire, and since he deemed it advisable to have a councilman at the head of the police and fire committee whose business allowed him to be in Palmyra at all hours, this chairmanship devolved upon Councilman Wimer.

J. Edwin Lees was reappointed president of Council.

Ralph S. Rivers appeared as spokesman for the citizens of Palmyra and delivered an eloquent address in which he praised the good work of the Mayor and Council and other officials during the past year and expressed the sincere appreciation which the whole town has for its officers.

Mayor Weart thanked Mr. Rivers and said it was a source of great gratitude that so little complaint and criticism is heard, indicating that the citizens really are well pleased with the conduct of affairs.

Police and Fire—Chairman George N. Wimer, Joseph A. Davis, Julius R. Fisher.

Sewer Disposal—Chairman, Julius R. Fisher, George N. Wimer, J. Edwin Lees.

Garbage and Ashes — Chairman Joseph A. Davis

Appointed To Fill Vacancy Caused by Resignation of J. W. Sylvester

At the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education Monday night Francis B. Elwell was appointed to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. Wilson Sylvester. Mr. Elwell will come up for election at the annual school meeting on February 8.

Fred P. Hemphill, district clerk, was unable to be present at the meeting owing to illness, but sent a note to President Kipp suggesting the name to Mr. Elwell for the vacancy.

Members whose terms expire this year are Charles W. Kipp, president; Mrs. E. C. Sullivan, and Sherman L. Warren. Mrs. Sullivan and Mr. Warren will be candidtes for re-election, but Mr. Kipp declined to run again, stating that he had served twelve years and thought it was time to make room for someone else.

A resolution was passed that Miss Chew, supervising principal, attend the State Convention of Supervisors at Atlantic City, January 21 and 22.

Murray C. Boyer was named chairman of the budget committee, with all the members of the board as members of that committee.

As the annual school meeting falls on February 8 the regular meeting of the school board on the 7th will be dispensed with.

Miss Chew's Report

Miss Chew's report read in part as follows:

"The highest percentage of attendance was in the seventh grade, the A division having 99.5% and the B division 98.5%. There was no tardiness in grades 4, 5b, and 7b.

"Health conditions were good throughout the month. Much of the classroom work centered about Christmas projects, though there was no deviation from program until the last two days before the holidays.

"Twenty-four baskets besides toys and clothing were filled for the Home Service Committee.

"Our entertainment was given in two sections, owing to the reduced size of the auditorium, the kindergarten and the first four grades using the morning and the grammar grades the afternoon. The spirit was fine and the work of the children in their plays, recitations, and songs was enjoyed by a large number of mothers present.

"The Parent-Teacher Association served fruit to the younger children and ice cream to the older ones, and all had a happy time."

LIONS BACK CHARITY PLAN

Club Takes Step To Form Permanent Organization in Twin Towns

The Palmyra Lions Club took steps at its meeting Tuesday evening to form an organization for the administration of united charity in Palmyra and Riverton.

The need of such an organization has long been recognized in the Twin Towns. Much charity work is done at Christmas and other time by individual organizations and citizens, but no measures have ever been attempted to survey the field carefully and see that only worthy cases are taken care of and that there is no duplication of effort.

Riverside has a United Welfare Association which has been functioning successfully for some time in this matter.

The action of the Lions Club is in response to a letter from George N. Wimer which was printed in the local papers last week.

The Lions will appoint a committee which will in turn issue invitations to each organization in the Twin Towns, requesting them to send representatives to a combined meeting at which a permanent organization will be formed and plans laid for future action.

The Lion's meeting Tuesday evening was well attended and full of interest. Elaborate plans are being formed for the Charter Night banquet to be held January 25.

K. of C. Ladies' Night Big Success

St. Joseph's Council Presents Fine Program; Invited To Moorestown

Last Tuesday evening the members of St. Joseph's Council, K. of C., Palmyra, gave a real treat to their ladies and children in the form of first-class entertainment and refreshments.

It was really supposed to be ladies' night, but before the affair came to an end many visitors from neighboring towns were on hand to see the fun.

Francis J. Barr as chairman of the evening first called on Grand Knight Yearly whose cordial greeting to the ladies and visitors was met with great applause.

With Miss Anna Braun at the piano Miss Anna Barr sang some of the latest popular songs. Jimmy Barr was next on the program and after five encores a broken string on his "uke" compelled him to quit. As far as music is concerned in the local council the "Barrs" certainly have an important part.

A feature part of the program consisted of a troupe of Philadelphia artists known as the "Harlequins." The three leaders in this cast were Francis C. Schluth, Wm. P. Plumley and Frank Reynolds. Songs, dances, monologues and impersonations kept everybody laughing for an hour and a half.

Tom Dolan from Burlington and D. Prisco of the local Boys' Club were roundly applauded for their various dances.

Word was given out that an executive committee to handle the big show that St. Leo's Dramatic Club will stage sometime in February in the Palmyra High School auditorium had been appointed. Harry C. Sim, chairman, John L. Strohlein, Harry R. Bradshaw, Thomas F. McCrosson and Wm. Eck.

A delegation from Moorestown headed by Grand Knight Joe Carlin were visitors, and extended an invitation to everybody to come over and see their new minstrel show which is to take place in the Catholic Lyceum on January 14th and 15th.

Theo. Schneider was chairman of the refreshment committee and said that 219 plates of ice cream and also that many cuts of cake were served.

O. K. BRIDGE BILL

House Reports Favorably on Tacony- Palmyra Span

The bill providing for construction of a $4,000,000 toll bridge between Palmyra and Tacony, was reported favorably yesterday by the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce and placed on the unanimous consent calendar of the House of Representatives.

The favorable action by the committee virtually insures the prompt passage of the bill, which was introduced by Representative James W. Connelly, of Philadelphia. The House is expected to pass the bill on January 17, when unanimous consent calendar is next considered.

The identical bill introduced in the Senate by Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, has not yet been acted upon by the Committee on Commerce, but action is expected at an early date.

Victim Was Walking Toward Moorestown on Pike Above Lenola

An unidentified middle-aged man died two hours after he was run down by a Penn-Jersey Transportation Company bus just above Lenola on Moorestown Pike early last Thursday morning.

The victim, of whom the authorities have been able to learn nothing, is thought to have been a farm hand or painter. His hands were calloused, showing signs of laborous work, while the old, worn hat which he wore was spotted with paint, which might indicate he had followed that trade.

The body has been in charge of the Camden County coroner, following his death in the Cooper Hospital, Camden, at 3.30 Thursday morning.

The man, headed toward Moorestown, was hit at 12.25 a. m. on the Pike just opposite the Catholic Cemetery by a bus which was headed in the same direction. The driver, George F. Kelly, 11 West Moreland avenue, Philadelphia, declares he was blinded by the headlights of a machine approaching from the opposite direction and did not see the man until the bus was but a few feet from him. Kelly says he had the heavy machine well under control and was driving at a moderate rate of speed, and although the man was run over by the front wheel, the bus was stopped before the rear wheels passed over the body.

Passenger Corroborates

The testimony of a reliable Moorestown woman, who occupied a seat near the front of the bus, corroborated the driver's statement.

The man was rushed to Cooper Hospital by a passing motorist. According to an orderly at the Camden institution, he only regained consciousness long enough to complain of intense pain in his back and hip before his death.

He is described by the police as being about fifty years old, thin sandy hair, a stubby sandy mustach; slim, being about 5 feet 9 or 10 inches in height and weighing approximately 130 pounds. His face was thin, and sunk in about the cheeks, due to the fact that he had no teeth.

He wore an old, brown Reid and Fort hat, round, with a black band; dark, mixed tweed overcoat which was well worn; brown Scout shoes, about No. 7; black shirt; light plaid vest; black pin stripe sack coat and dark trousers.

Seeking Identification

He carried a cheap watch and had about $3.50 in money. Tailor's marks and a chance for some "free real estate lots" from a Philadelphia concern are the only clues for identification, which are being carefully checked up by Moorestown police and Camden county authorities. It is feared, however, that the victim was wearing second-hand clothing.

Chief of Police John Bradshaw, who has been working on the case since the accident, says he remembered having seen the man in Moorestown on several occasions. He has had several pepole view the body in hope of gaining a clue towards identification of the victim.

The driver was placed under $1000 cash bond by Recorder Joseph Johnston immediately after the accident and was placed under the same bail for court hearing at Mount Holly later in the day when he was taken before Judge Slaughter.

Another P. R. T. bus, as they are generally known, figured in an accident in Moorestown Wednesday night. The bus ran up on the sidewalk at Main street and Stanwick avenue, striking one of the electric light poles and snapping it off at the ground. When the pole fell, it broke the wires, putting all of the street lights out on this circuit and the damage was not repaired until workmen arrived from the Burlington Public Service headquarters.

The bus was later pulled out by one of the P. R. T. wreckers and the driver escaped uninjured. Fortunately, there were no passengers in the bus at the time.

Maxine Meitzner Refuses to Enter Catalina Island Swim

Miss Maxine Meitzner, 16-year-old Riverton long-distance swimmer, has refused to desert amateur aquatic ranks to participate in the $25,000 Catalina Island Derby, on Jan. 15, in Catalina channel.

Announcement of her intention to remain among the "simon-pures," at least until next summer, was made last week by Miss Meitzner at her home in Riverton.

"I'm not going to turn professional and won't compete in the Catalina Island marathon next month," declared Miss Meitzner, who is a student at Palmyra High School and an outstanding all-around athlete.

"Up until several weeks ago I considered competing in the Pacific Coast swim, but the time I would lose away from my studies resulted in my giving up any idea of participating in the race.

COMPANY ON GOING THRU WINDSHIELD

Recently our publisher asserted "Jack" Naylor, Associate Editor of The Burlington Daily Enterprise, has a most novel and rather humorous way of writing news. Here's a fine example of Jack's style:

Driving a kicking Lizzie to a meeting of the Ocean County Board of Freeholders, the other day, William Magill, former editor of the Burlington Gazette, was ditched near Silverton and went through the windshield. Mr. Magill was accompanied through the windshield by a Mr. Wheatley, of Seaside Heights. Neither got much more than a bump.

After reflectively sitting in the wreck a minute or two and then commenting on the cussedness of Lizzies Mr. Magill and Mr. Wheatley crawled out and waited for another machine to come along with a cargo of helping hands.

When the help arrived the Lizzie was pulled out of the ditch, turned right side up and placed back on the pike. Nothing was the matter with her except that her cosmetics were rubbed off in places and her lingerie was a bit torn. She was quite ready to proceed when Mr. Magill and Mr. Wheatley once more climbed aboard and patted her on the clutch.

Mr. Magill is now a resident of Seaside Heights. He is the editor and proprietor of the Seaside Heights Review.

TO ASK A ONE-DAY SEASON FOR DOES

With the deer season just ended and from 500 to 600 bucks reported killed by the hunters, farmers are ready with their bill to present before the next session of the State Legislature to provide for an open season for does.

The New Jersey Federation of County Boards of Agriculture announces that its doe deer bill was prepared and ready for introduction into the State Legislature when it convenes early next month. The bill purposes to afford relief to New Jersey farmers who have suffered for some years by the increasing damage to their crops and property by deer.

The new measure would permit one doe deer to be shot on both December 27 or 28 in 1927 at which time no buck deer or fawns can be taken. The new measure in no way interferes with the usual open season on buck deer and it provides the usual penalties for failure to observe the provisions of the law.

If the new measure is passed by the 1927 legislature, a farmer upon shooting a doe must make a report to the New Jersey State Fish and Game Commission or to the proper authorities within 48 hours after the killing. There is a fine of $100 provided in case of failure to report or for taking deer in excess of the quota of one on each day.

Preparation for the bill follows concerted effort over a period of some years on the part of the farmers to bring about a legal means for reducing wild deer in many sections of the Central and Southern part of the state.

Damages running up to thousands of dollars are on record and have been brought to the attention of the Legislature and the Fish and Game Commission in past years.

By the time most of us find ourselves with money to invest the bargains are gone, and when the bargains are back on the counter we have no money.

A concrete addition to the Moorestown municipal water department filtering plant is under construction at the pumping station, King's Highway. The re-inforced steel has been placed and the concrete was poured yesterday (Tuesday).

According to Superintendent Edward P. Hyland, the addition will increase the filtering capacity to 750,000 gallons of water per 24 hours.

HOLIDAY HOP

Large Crowd Attends Dance at Moorestown Community House

The Moorestown Community House was a center of attraction Wednesday evening of last week when seventy-five couples enjoyed the holiday hop.

George Westcott, tenor, rendered several delightful solos including, "Because I Love You," Irving Berlin's new hit. Harold "Doc" Coxson favored with selections on the organ.

The next Community House dance will be held Saturday evening, January 15, and many attractive amusements will feature the occasion, says Lavando Pond, chairman of the social recreation committee.

TO THE TAXPAYERS:

Apropos of our application for an increased rate, we trust we may be pardoned if we take this opportunity to justify the Riverton & Palmyra Water Company in increasing their rates, but we hope all fair minded taxpayers will realize our position when we call their attention to several facts.

The Rapid Transit Company of Philadelphia now advertise in all their cars that ½c on each fare was paid last year in Municipal, State and National taxes. As the fare is 7½c, this means that a little over 6½c on each dollar they receive was paid in taxes. Evidently they regard this as a record, but IS IT?

The Riverton & Palmyra Water Company in the year 1926 paid out in taxes over 22c on each dollar received—More than three times the proportionate rate paid by the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company.

These excessive taxes bear very heavily upon our Company and make it imperative that we get additional revenue somewhere.

It is but fair to point out the fact that if the capital invested by the stockholders in this utility had been invested instead in a local Building and Loan, it would have returned to those stockholders a vastly larger profit.

Upon investigation we believe that the citizens will realize that no other organization has contributed more than this Company to the increased value of real estate during the thirty-nine years of their UNINTERRUPTED SERVICE.

Held for Contempt

For the first time in its existence the New Jersey Public Utilities Commission at Camden, before Vice Chancellor Leaming, prosecuted a contempt writ against a bus operater. The defendant, Joseph Matthews, of Fieldsboro, is accused of violating provisions of an injunction granted by Vice Chancellor Buchanan on the application of the Utilities Commission, who complained that he was still running his bus in spite of the fact that the commission had refused his application to engage in the transportation business. Matthews fought the contempt proceedings on the ground that he was operating as a private carrier. At the conclusion of the all-day hearing, Vice Chancellor Leaming ruled Matthews in contempt, but deferred sentence pending final hearing on the injunction proceedings.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

W. N. Clark, Vice President & General Manager of the Southern Colorado Power Company, says:

THAT electric light, power, and railway companies throughout the country went through the war period of high costs with little or inadequate increases in rates for service. By strenuous effort economies were made and advances in the art of reducing costs were eagerly seized upon. Those companies supported and owned by Investment-Managing companies were especially fortunate in securing adequate funds, engineering service, and encouragement in expansion and growth.

THAT the electric range and later the electric refrigerator and other domestic appliances have increased the gross production which has been a big factor in maintaining costs on a level or slightly lower level than pre-war costs.

Increased and modern power plants, built in accordance with the latest engineering standards, have been a great factor in counteracting the increased costs of labor and material. Furthermore the employees of these companies have been stimulated to greater efforts by reason of the difficulties which have confronted them. Now the industry and all operating personnel have a new and brighter outlook and look forward with confidence to the future.

FOLKS PROFIT BY OTHER FOLKS' WHIMS

"Most used cars come into the market for the sole reason that their owners get a notion that they want a new car every so often," says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company. "And that they pay a high price for the privilege is indicated by the ridiculous price at which a good used car is sold today.

"Many used cars are sold at half and less than half the original price. They have been driven often less than one-fifth of the mileage built into them, and the man who buys the car gets his miles for far less than half that which the first owner paid for the mileage he used.

MR. KIPP RETIRES

There has for some time been a growing feeling in Riverton that it might be well to have on the School Board more members with children attending the Riverton school. If those who have expressed this idea are really in earnest, they now have an opportunity.

Charles W. Kipp, president of the Board, who has rendered excellent service for the past twelve years and whose term expires this year, has announced that he will not be a candidate for re-election. Mrs. E. C. Sullivan and S. L. Warren, the other members whose terms expire, are willing to stand for re-election. Mr. Warren has a child in the school and Mrs. Sullivan has had until recently, when they graduated and went to high school. Both have rendered valuable service on the Board.

Francis B. Elwell, who was appointed Monday night to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of J. W. Sylvester, is acceptable to the other Board members and is said to have excellent qualifications for the office of school director.

This leaves one vacancy to be filled by a man or woman with children in the school. This, of course, should not be the sole requirement in selecting a candidate to fill this important position. The other necessary qualifications should be carefully scrutinized, but, other things being equal, the mere fact that a board member has a child in the school, gives more direct contact and a different angle of approach to school problems.

It now remains to be seen whether or not the folks who have been wanting this opportunity will avail themselves of it.

THE QUESTION BOX

The Riverton Calvary Y. M. C. A. Group would like to have you answer through your question column, the following:

(1) What is the procedure of Y. M. C. A. meetings in China.
(2) What games do they play?
(3) Is the Y. M. C. A. in China a popular movement?

Your questions were referred to the Burlington County office of the Y. M. C. A. which sent the following reply.

Fletcher S. Brockman was the first American Secretary to go to China to organize Young Men's Christian Association. He did this by picking out certain key cities and establishing the work in them. Boards of Directors were gotten together; moneys for buildings secured; and the kind of work started which seemed to meet the greatest needs, which included physical work in the gymnasiums, a great variety of educational classes; many of these, with the sole purpose of studying the Bible. Today, for instance, China has more young men who come together for that distinct purpose, Bible study classes, than we have even here in America.

The development of the boys' work came later on, and today thousands of boys in China are in groups similar to those in this country, with a program which is very much the same. China, for instance, has a great many Hi-Y Clubs. Boys in China work at a much younger age than here, and the service of the Association to this class of fellows is to provide them with opportunities for games, athletic contests, educational classes, and instruction in the importance of developing proper health habits.

You will be interested, I am sure, in a fundamental principle of the Association Movement in its work in any foreign country, namely, this: "That in sending any Secretary, the chief aim of any American representative upon the foreign mission field should be to gain and develop native Christian young men in the principles and methods of Association work, and to plant native understanding of Young Men's Christian Associations rather than to lay the basis of the call and coming of American associates in that work."

In the practical working out of this principle Brockman is no longer today in China, and yet there are planted all over China in key city centers in each of the provinces, strong, flourishing, growing Young Men's Christian Associations, which, for the most part, are manned by native Chinese.

Regarding your question, "Is the YMCA in China a popular movement?" when ones enemies concede that a movement is strong, it must be so, and such a pronouncement in very emphatic terms recently came through from Red headquarters in Russia saying that in China the most powerful influence that must be overcome in order that Red propoganda might be spread was that of the Young Men's Christian Association.

In answer to the second question, "What Games do they Play?" if you will refer the writer of that question to me, I will be glad to put him in touch with a Chinese in this country who can acquaint him first hand with this information.

Fletcher Brockman is to speak at the Sunday evening community service in Moorestown in the Criterion Theatre at eight o'clock on January 16.

If you want something out of the ordinary in printing we shall be very glad to go over the matter with you. We may have some suggestions that will help. Telephone The New Era office, Riverton 712 and our representative will call.—Adv.

STAR CARS TURNED OUT 700 A DAY

Durant Motor Company's Plant at Elizabeth One of Largest in World

The reporter blew into Clinton B. Woolston's garage Tuesday morning. After the usual, "Well, what's new?" and "Rotten weather, ain't it?" the conversation naturally drifted to automobiles, and Clint got to talking about the Star car and the eastern plant of the Durant Motor Company at Elizabeth, N. J., where the Star is made.

"Get these figures: The buildings are located on a plot comprising 37 acres and have a total floor area of 2,008,730 square feet. The dock area is 25,340 square feet and there are 3½ miles of railroad trackage on the plant grounds. The equipment represents an investment of $2,000,000. And this is only one of the four plants owned by the Durant Motors. The production capacity of the Elizabeth plant is 700 finished cars per day.

"Backed by a plant like that with an organization to match, it is any wonder I like to sell Star and Durant cars?"

AUTO CRASHES

William Dinn's Ford Roadster Struck by Ledger Truck

The Ford roadster driven by William Dinn, of Palmyra, was struck by the Philadelphia Ledger truck, on the River Road, Pensauken, early Sunday morning. A car was parked on the right side of the road as Dinn was driving toward Camden and the Public Ledger truck was coming from Philadelphia. The Ford's radiator, fenders and radius rod were badly damaged but hardly any loss was suffered by the truck. Luckily none of the drivers or the other passengers with Dinn were injured.

Another accident was that of the truck owned by Oscar Roberts, of East Riverton, and another Ford car containing four colored persons. The Roberts truck was badly damaged but no one was injured.

Two cars came together Saturday night when one was coming out of Garfield avenue, Palmyra, and the other going down Broad street. It was but a slight mishap and no damage was done, according to Chief of Police Morrie Beck.

LEON C. GUEST STRIKES SMALL BOY IN CAMDEN

Leon C. Guest, of 634 Thomas avenue, Riverton, ran into William Sheppard, a five year old boy living at 514 North Tenth street, Camden, when the lad dashed out in front of Guest's car Wednesday morning. The boy picked himself up and started to run away but Guest followed and took him to Cooper Hospital where he was treated for bruises of the body. The magistrate was evidently satisfied that it was not the driver's fault and Guest was released on his own recognizance.

A boy's sheep-skin coat was lost on the way to or at Lippincott's skating pond last Sunday. Reward if returned to The New Era office.—Advertisement.

PORCH CLUB NEWS

On January 17th at 8 p. m. in the Porch Club, Dr. Alexander C. Purdy, of the Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn., will speak on "Character Building." Those who heard Dr. Purdy at the Friends' Meeting House last winter will remember what a forceful and interesting speaker he is.

* * *

Thirty-one dinners with groceries to last several days, toys, clothing and gifts for one hundred and ten children were delivered.

The donations from the schools were a tremendous help. Palmyra Public Schools in their Thanksgiving offering gave over three hundred cans of vegetables, one hundred and fifteen jars of jellies and preserves and numerous other food stuffs together with twenty-three dollars in money.

The lower grades of the Riverton Public School furnished toys, fruit, clothing and useful gifts for seven large families, the upper grades giving their contributions to complete the baskets given to other families.

It was with the gifts from individuals and several organizations that a bountiful supply was given to the families.

It has been necessary during the past month to assist thirteen families with coal, food and clothing.

The committe trusts that every one will continue to assist this work in helping those who are unfortunate.

THE CHRISTMAS HOLY GRAIL

'Tis midnight, and the trees with snow
Are pearly, crystal white
A silence—Christmas holiness—
Pervades the air tonight.

The friendly stars appear again
To keep their watch till morn;
The kindly, faithful stars which led
To where Christ Child was born

Does not that thought of Christ's birth stir
Within one's heart a prayer;
Visions that will make some one
The happier to share?

In homes along the village streets
Lights shine with loving cheer;
Back of each window-pane there glows
A welcome most sincere.

Away from frenzied crowds, whose thoughts
Are bartering and gain,
Does not the thought of Christ, to-night
Lead to by-streets or lane?

Where children know so little joy,
There need and strife prevail.
The Holy Christmas grail.

—Blanche Chalfant Tucker.

FIREMEN IRON OUT DIFFERENCES

Active Members of Riverton Fire Company Held Get-Together Meeting

A special meeting of the fire company was held on January 2nd, at the firehouse. The meeting was called to order by the President, John C. Geiss. Frank J. Holvick was elected chairman and G. L. Major, secretary.

Mr. Holvick explained that the meeting was called for the purpose of ironing out any differences that might exist in the company, so that the New Year would find each and every member ready to cooperate with their officers, that Riverton would have the same efficient fire company that the citizens of our Borough were so proud of in the past.

Chief Walter C. Armstrong followed and explained many features, old and new, regarding the company. Numerous questions were asked of Mr. Armstrong which he answered to the full satisfaction of all who were present.

He appealed to the members to bury the hatchet and get together like the regular fellows which they really are. The chief received a great ovation. A general discussion followed during which many helpful suggestions were received.

The nomination of officers for the new year followed. The names of the men nominated will be presented to the members to be voted on at the next regular meting. Chief Walter Armstrong then called on the members to give the Chairman, F. J. Holvick, a rising vote of thanks for his co-operation towards bringing back the spirit of good fellowship.

THE MIKADO

In telling you from week to week about the beautiful and spectacular production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "The Mikado," to be given January 14th and 15th at the Palmyra High School Auditorium, for the benefit of the Riverton Free Library and the Music Studio Fund, there has been so much to tell that I have entirely neglected a very important and attractive part of our production, that is, the orchestra.

Harold Mueller, a member of the faculty of the Hyperion School of Music, Philadelphia, has assembled an eight-piece orchestra. Each musician has been especially chosen for his careful musicianship, an absolutely essential qualification in an orchestra accompanying a large chorus of voices. Only the most beautiful of the many voices of the orchestra have been chosen, the violins, the viola, the violincella, the double-bass viol, the flute, the clarinet, with the addition of the tympani and battery for attractive rhythm.

Close your eyes and fancy this: Attractive and appropriate Japanese setting, rich and beautiful costumes, an excellent orchestra, a large chorus of well-trained voices, lovely solo voices and action—lots of it. Open your eyes and remember that Frank Mathews is the stage manager. Do you know what that means? It means that you may be absolutely sure that every possible bit of drama and comedy will be wrung from a comic opera, which has lived for many, many years because ... and will live for many, many more.

Can you afford to miss it? Phone now either to Mrs. Frak Bell, Phone 758 or Charles Davison, Phone 478 to get your seat and thus become a booster for "The Riverton Free Library" which should be our especial civic pride.

CHAIRMAN,
Porch Club Music Section.

Milk Stains

In removing milk stains use cold or lukewarm water first, sponging carefully if the garment cannot be laundered. This removes the protein, which hot water coagulates and sets. Afterwards follow with hot water and soap on washable materials or with chloroform, gasoline, carbon tetrachloride or some other grease solvent if laundering would injure the fabric.

The door of opportunity is not locked or latched. The only opener you need is PUSH.

Thank You!

In starting the New Year we want to thank those whose patronage and consideration made the business of the old year so satisfactory.

For 1927 we have set an even higher standard, and it will be our constant aim to serve you even better.

Deliveries leave the store at 11 a. m. daily, and orders phoned before that time will reach you before 12.30.

Judge Discusses Murders, Concealed Weapons and Prohibition Enforcement

With Judge Frank T. Lloyd, of the Supreme Court; Judge Frank B. Jess, of the Circuit Court, and Judge William A. Slaughter, of the Common Pleas, all on the bench, and the former presiding, the December term of the Burlington County Courts swung into action on Tuesday of last week and with forty-two cases on the Supreme Court list, eighteen on the Circuit list, twelve on the Appeal List and forty-four on the Common Pleas, original jurisdiction list, not counting the numerous criminal matters. There is little doubt that the Court House will be in nearly constant use until the latter part of April, when the April term begins.

Little Interest

The opening of the December term attracted very little interest, the Court House being only partly full when Court Crier John M. Huff made the customary announcements, this no doubt being partly due to the extremely bad weather, both overhead and underfoot, and after the Grand Jury had been called and the witnesses to appear before the Grand Jury notified that their services would be needed on the second floor there were but a few lawyers and spectators left in the room.

The constables who will serve this term are as follows:

F. Carlton Dalton, Northampton township.
John D. Smith, Mount Laurel township.
Harry Bate, Bordentown City.
George Hahner, Delanco township.
Charles E. Gilbert, Northampton township.
Clarence L. E. Ward, Chester township.
C. Morris Beck, Palmyra Borough.
Nelson Peake, Medford township.
William A. McCormick, Burlington City.

Grand Jury

George B. Lippincott, Mansfield township.
Aaron R. Pitman, Southampton township.
Frank P. Jones, Edgewater Park township.
Charles S. Burley, Burlington City.
Carrie Y. Love, Moorestown township.
Charles Jessup, Cinnaminson township.
Stephen V. Lee, Woodland township.
Albert Linton, Moorestown township.
Alfred N. Simons, Pemberton Borough.
Joseph D. Bertrand, Willingboro township.
Aubrey S. Walton, Moorestown township.
D. Porter Oliver, Burlington City.
Herman Black, Chesterfield township.
David Baird, Jr., Florence township.
Charles S. Leeds, Moorestown township.
Robert W. Cox, Pemberton township.
Albert T. Andrews, Moorestown township.
George M. Gibson, Moorestown township.
Lillian Garwood, Medford township.
John C. Hopkins, Moorestown township.
Harry Pittenger, Pemberton Borough.
Clarence L. Hazzard, Beverly township.

Seven Moorestonians Serving

Moorestown is well represented in the personnel of the jury, there being seven of its citizens who will serve, while but two women are among the twenty-three selected.

After the above selection the others on the panel of thirty-five were excused, with the thanks of the Court.

Judge Lloyd then delivered a short but impressive charge, calling particular attention to the homicide cases which the Grand Jury will be called upon to consider. He said that all killings are murder, but where there was an absence of malice, where a kiling takes place in the heat of passion, either provoked or unprovoked, it might come under the class of what is known as manslaughter. From the information received from the prosecutor he thought the jury might have to consider at least two cases of murder and two in which manslaughter would probably be the result of their investigation.

Negligent Drivers

He cautioned the jury to give careful consideration to deaths by accidents on highways caused by negligent drivers, for they are not only answerable in civil damages but also answerable to the state. Where intoxication is the cause of the accident and death there should be no difficulty in concluding that driving a car while in a drunken condition is gross negligence. Reckless driving, where there is no intoxication, causing the taking of life, should also be considered, as these deaths are becoming quite numerous. In these cases it is perfectly proper that the Grand Jury should and will find indictments for manslaughter. With high-powered motor cars flitting here and there over our highways, he said careful driving should be one of the essentials of every motorist, and where the jury found that gross negligence was apparent an indictment should be found.

Weapons Dangerous

In conclusion Judge Lloyd called attention to the carrying of weapons, and he said there was nothing more dangerous in a community than a weapon in the hands of a person who is himself dangerous. Licenses are issued to persons by the Court to carry weapons, he said, and then he quoted the law on this point and said that justices of the peace had been cautioned against fining such persons as disorderly persons, but had been instructed to hold them for Court. He said this was far from a trivial matter but just the sort of a thing that makes footpads and highwaymen and which endanger every home.

In referring to the prohibition laws he told the jurors that no mater what their personal opinion might be about the law it was their duty to cast their own ideas of the law to one side when making investigations in the Grand Jury room.

The Grand Jury then retired, with Constables Harry Bate and Mrs. Elizabeth Burorughs in charge.

Judge Lloyd then called the Supreme Court and Circuit Court lists, most of which were marked ready, and later Judge Slaughter marked the Appeal List.

Judge Jess was present to begin the trial of Supreme Court cases but through an oversight Sheriff Haines failed to receive notice to notify the petit jurors to be present on the opneing day, so Judge Jess announced that the cases that were marked ready would be subject to peremtory call on Wednesday.

Judge Jess Hears One Case

Judge Jess, after hearing a number of arguments by counsel, took up the suit of Miss Catherine M. Peco, colored, of Moorestown, against George Vaugan, of Maple Shade. Miss Peco asked for damages as the result of being struck by an automobile driven by Vaughn as she was alighting from a trolley car in Merchantville.

122 Women Legislators

The New Year—the seventh of women suffrage—will witness the seating of 122 women in the legislatures of 34 states, a survey just completed by the National League of Women Voters reveals.

Eleven of the 122 women were elected to the state senates. Republicans outnumber Democrats by more than 2 to 1. The political division is: Republicans, 86; Democrats, 31; no party designation, 3; non-partisan, 1; independent, 1.

Connecticut leads all other states with 16 women in its 1927 law-making body. Wyoming, the first state to grant suffrage to women, will have only one woman legislator.

There are more women in the Eastern legislatures than in the West. At least five or more women are members of the legislatures of the following states: Connecticut Illinois, Maine, New Hampshire, New Jersey, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Vermont.

The 1927 record of women state legislators is slightly less than that of 1925 and 1926, when approximately 130 women answered the legislative roll-calls.

ORAL EXAMINATION FOR BAR CANDIDATES ABOLISHED

The Supreme Court has abolished oral examinations for candidates for admission to the bar. The order amending the rules is retroactive to the extent that it applies to candidates at the October term Five such candidates were held over temporarily for failure to pass the oral test after qualifying in the written examinations. They now will be admitted and in the future the written examinations will be the sole test exacted.

The oral examinations were inaugurated about two years ago to supplement the written examinations. At first they were conducted by the Supreme Court, sitting in three parts. Later however, this practice was abandoned and the oral tests were conducted solely by the bar examiners.

Crowds ... Trust Co. Home

Splendid Building Highly Praised by Admiring Throng of Visitors

Hundreds of people from Moorestown and visitors from all sections of South Jersey and Philadelphia inspected the fine new Moorestown Trust Company building on the opening day last Thursday.

From the time the new building opened at 11 o'clock in the morning until 9 o'clock that evening, throngs of admiring folks could be found in all sections of the building.

John G. Pettit, secretary and treasurer of the company, estimated the number of visitors to be between 250 and 300, but this figure was considered very conservative.

Among the delightful feature which won much praise was the beautiful mural map of New Jersey which enjoys the position of prominence above the vault, facing the main banking room.

Everyone was delightful with the beautiful furnishings, the spacious board of director's room, where the first meeting was held Monday afternoon of this week, and the thoroughly modern banking facilities which are found in every department.

Expressions of commendation could be heard on all sides for the skill which was displayed in the wonderful planning, both on the ...rope Barney, of Davis, Dunlap and Barney, Philadelphia, the first offense and not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25) for each succeeding offense."

the interior and exterior, by W Pope Barney, of Davis, Dunlap and Barney, Philadelphia, the architects.

Flood lights, concealed behind the huge pillars in the front of the bank, which brilliantly illuminate the front so htat it may be seen for some distance each way along Main street, delighted the large crowds. The flood lights will only be in use evenings when the Trust Company is open for the transaction of business.

Among the art notables who attended the opening were Miss Violet Oakley, of Germantown, Mrs. Jessie Wilcox Smith, whose work in ar portraying youth enjoys wide fame and Miss Edith Emerson, of Philadelphia, who painted the bank's ...ornments were served in the dining room in the basement, and fine musical entertainment was supplied by Walter Pew and included the violin, harp and cello.

The counters and desks were banked with baskets of gorgeous floral tributes from friends and other banking institutions.

The Trust Company will be permanently established in its new home not later than next Monday and possibly the latter part of this week.

STATE CORN SHOW

During the week of January 10th, at the annual Agricultural Week at Trenton, there will be staged the usual corn show, which is a competition among the growers of the various counties of the state. A banner is offered for the county having the best exhibit. Burlington county was defeated for first place by a very close margin last year. It is hoped that the growers will respond with exhibits in such a way as to assure as good or better showing this year.

Every good farmer makes some effort towards selecting the seed to be used for the next year's crop, and therefore from these selections, he should be able to pick out ten uniform ears. A good show ear of corn is primarily a good seed ear. This means, first of all, it must be well matured. The grains should be bright, plump and hard, indicating that they are capable of producing vigorous sprouts. Freedom from mould or discoloration in the kernels, germs and butts, is necessary. Grains must be free from cracks and blisters, and not too rough and chafey at the top.

Owning to the fact that farmers have had some difficulty in getting their corn husked this year, it will probably be somewhat difficult to get ideal show corn, but this should not discourage anyone who wishes to make an exhibit, because the same conditions prevail throughout the state. Anyone wishing to make an exhibit in this show should communicate immediately with County Agent Chas, A. Thompson, Mount Holly.

The late Dr. Eliot had inscribed over a gate at Harvard, "Enter to grow in Wisdom" and on the reverse of the gate, "Depart to better serve thy community and thy kind."

Girls Sextet Also Emerges Victorious in Scholastic Clash

"Jimmie" West was the whole show in Palmyra's victory over the Paulsboro High School at Paulsboro Tuesday night. West, who is the mainstay of the pitching staff on the baseball nine, scored half of the winner's goals from the field and more than half of the total points. The flashy guard made 12 of the 22 points, four field goals and four fouls, to be exact. Jack Elsley, lanky center, also played a good game for the winners, as did Captain "Vince" Kalinowski.

Kuenzler, at forward, was high scorer for Paulsboro, with four field goals and two fouls for a total of ten points.

Tomorrow (Friday) night Palmyra first and second teams will play the Burlington first and second at Palmyra. This is the first time Burlington has played Palmyra in basketball in several years and a great game is expected. Burlington won the last game three years ago by a two point margin 33-31, after an extra five minute period and Palmyra is out for revenge.

Grand Jury Quickly Finishes Its Labors

Returns 58 Indictments From Total of 62 Complaints Considered

The December Grand Jury, after a day and a half of hard, conscientious work made its presentment of indictments about 6.15 o'clock on Wednesday night of last weeek. It is understood that the Grand Jury considered about sixty-two complaints and they returned fifty-eight true bills.

Indictments for murder were found against Richard Sharp and Mrs. Ethel Wormley, both colored, the former from Arneytown and the latter from Crosswicks. They are charged with causing the death of Charles Wormley, the husband of Ethel.

It is to be noted that these indictments were found within twenty-four hours after it became known that the murder had been committed, which shows that "Jersey justice," so far as Burlington county is concerned, is still operating.

An indictment for murder was also found against Consengo Masci, alias Sammy Marsh, who killed James "Mustard" Clymer, in Mount Holly, about three weeks ago.

Louis McCord, of Beverly, was also indicted for the murder of William Trimble, of Riverside.

NEW COMMANDER

General McRae To Take Charge of Second Corps

Major General James H. McRae, new commander of the Second Corps area, comprising the States of New York, New Jersey and Delaware, will arrive at Governors Island on January 10th, according to Brigadier General Hugh A. Drum, who has been in command since General Summerall's departure.

During the World War General McRae made a brilliant record while in command of the 78th Division, composed of National Army troops from New Jersey. This division made a conspicuous showing during the Argonne offensive, one operation which forced the German evacuation of Grandpre.

In taking over the important Second Corps area he follows two other outstanding leaders of the war, General Robert Lee Bullard who retired in 1924, and General Charles P. Summerall present Chief of Staff of the Army.

New Jersey's License Tags

State Motor Vehicle Department Gives Out Interesting Information

Commissioner William L. Dill, in view of the fact that New Jersey license plates for 1927 could be attached beginning Wednesday, December 15, and that some of the other States have allowed days of grace after January 1, during which the 1926 plates will still be valid, forwarded instructions to all the chiefs of police in the State that shoud be of interest to motor car owners as well.

New Jersey 1927 license plates show a green background with white numerals, and are o f the regulation size prescribed by law, and it might be well to bear in mind that it is unlawful to mutilate the plates by cutting the corners or otherwise reducing the size of the plates.

Commissioner Dill, however, has made a few changes in the designations on the plates which were made necessary by experience during the present year, the first in which the system of lettering the plates by the counties was in use.

Ocean Allotted "O-N"

The only change in county letters was made in the case of Ocean. That county's designation was a "Q", because the letter "O" was used for omnibus regulations, but it was found that the tail of the "Q" could not be made plain enough so that it would be distinguishable from the "O" under all conditions.

Registration plates of Ocean county residents will now have the letter "O" and right underneath it the letter "N", both preceding the numerals.

Other changes affect the vehicles of the omnibus class only. The omnibus registrations have been divided into four classes, and separate and distinct tags have been assigned for each class.

The four classes are: U-Drive or Drive Yourself cars, taxi cabs, buses and private livery. All four will have the letter "O" precede the numerals, but U-Drive cars will have in the back of the numerals the letter "U" and underneath the U the letter "D," taxis will have the letter "T" in back of the numerals, buses the letter "L." Such plates will read O5317L or O5317B.

Undertaker's "U's" Abandoned

"U" tags, which were issued to undertaker hearses, have been discontinued, and, instead, regular passenger registration plates will be issued, but the charge will be made at the commercial rate. The "U" tags issued will apply to owners of passenger cars in Union county only.

There are no days of grace allowed in this State for the attaching of 1927 registration plates. While they may have been on the cars since Wednesday of last week, they must be on beginning January 1. The same applies to some of the continuous States whose license plates are often seen within our boundaries.

Commissioner Dill also called attention of the police authorities to the fact that all drivers' licenses and that new plates must be so placed on the car that they are readily deciphered. Many motorists place plates in such a manner as to have them obscured by bumpers, tire racks, etc.

70,000 New Cars Registered

"During the past year," said Mr. Dill in his instructoins, "we have increased the registrations by approximately 70,000 cars and 80,000 additional drivers, thus indicating the necessity for vigorous enforcement of the Motor Vehicle and Traffic Acts in order to lessen the congestion on our highways, and to reduce the number of automobile fatalities.

While New Jersey is among the States which require two license plates, there are eight which demand only one license plate, carried in the rear of the car. These States are Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Kansas, Louisiana, North Carolina, Oklahoma and South Carolina.

The number of States where no drivers' licenses are required is larger. There are twenty-seven of them, as follows: Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia Idaho, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Lioulsiana, Missouri, Montana, Minnesota, North Carolina Nebraska, New Mexico, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia and Wyoming.

Canadian drivers from the Province of Toronto also need no drivers' license. In some of the States mentioned above only chauffeurs must have drivers' licenses, like Arkansas, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Missouri, Minnesota, South Carolina and Virginia.

A—Atlantic county.
B—Bergen county.
N—Burlington county.
C—Camden county.
F—Cape May county.
Y—Cumberland county.
E—Essex county.
1-E—Essex county.
2-E—Essex county.
Z—Gloucester county.
H—Hudson county.
J—Hunterdon county.
L—Mercer county.
K—Middlesex county.
M—Monmouth county.
V—Morris county.
P—Passaic county.
O-N—Ocean county.
S—Salem county.
I—Somerset county.
R—Sussex county.
U—Union county.
W—Warren county.
4—Non-resident.

Tarnish

Tarnish on silver can be removed by the electrolytic method. Various commercial devices for this can be bought for use at home, or it can be done in the following way: Fill an enameled or agateware kettle partly full of water in which has been disoved 1 teaspoon of either washing soda or baking soda and 1 teaspoon salt to each quart of water, heat this solution to the boiling point, put in strips of aluminum or bright zinc, add the tarnished silver, and boil it. The silver must be covered completely by the water and each piece must be in contact with the aluminum or zinc, either directly or through other silver. When the tarnish has disappeared, the silver should be removed from the kettle, washed, and dried with a clean, soft cloth.

COUNTY FRUIT SURVEY TO BE MADE SOON

A fruit survey, in which detailed records will be secured from 100 to 150 fruit farms in Burlington county, will be taken by agricultural representatives of the federal department, state and county co-operating.

It was intended to start the survey last October, at which time two-year records were to be secured. However it soon became apparent that very few of the growers were keeping an accurate account of their farm operations, and accordingly, were unable to give reliable information regarding last year's crop. In addition, very little of the 1926 apple crop had been marketed, so that it was deamed advisable to discontinue the survey until January 10, when records will be taken only on this year's crop.

The fruit growers are asked to co-operate in the conducting of this survey, to the extent of giving whoever calls at their farm all the information possible. The information obtained will be considered confidential, and any recommendations made as a result of the survey will be made in general terms. However, an opportunity will be given any individual growers to discuss their personal problems with either Mr. Knowles or Mr. Waller, who will be in direct charge of the survey.

Pasteurizing

Milk and cream for ordinary use or milk for babies may be successfully pasteurized at home. The process is not difficult and requires only simple equipment. Farmers' Bulletin 1359 entitled "Milk and Its Uses in the Home" gives a full description of the method and equipment.

Extra Conveniences You Should Have

The old way of pressing a button when you want a light is out of date. Use Toggle switches. The merest flick of a finger puts the light on or off.

Keep plenty of new fuses on hand, so you need not be in the dark when a fuse blows out. It is as easy to put in a new one as to change an electric lamp.

Make use of double sockets, so that two appliances may be used on the same electric outlet.

It's Easy to Wash with a THOR

Have you always thought that a washing machine might be easier for you than washing by hand, but feared it would be harder on the clothes? Then come in and see a demonstration with the Thor.

This washer will not injure the most delicate materials or the finest laces. Smooth lifters carry the clothes to the top of the cylinder, while swirling water, hot and soapy, is dashed through the garments, forcibly dislodging the dirt.

The gears are patented and guaranteed against wear. The wringer rollers are of rubber, into which buttons sink and are not even loosened.

It is easy to clean the Thor inside and out. Finished with Duco, the new lacquer used on the finest cars, it does not show water marks. The cylinder need not be removed for cleaning. Just run in fresh water. Leave the electric current on; it will clean itself in a few minutes.

Improved Uniform International

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of Day and Evening Schools, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(©, 1927, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for January 9

THE STANDARD OF CHRISTIAN LIVING

LESSON TEXT—Luke 6:27-38.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.
PRIMARY TOPIC—How Jesus Wants Us to Live.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Marching Orders for Christians.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—What Christ Requires of Us.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christ's Life and Example for Us.

The context (v. 26) clearly implies what is elsewhere positively declared (John 15:18-21; Luke 21:17) that the followers of Christ will be hated and opposed. In this lesson Christ sets forth the principles governing the life of his followers.

I. "Love Your Enemies" (v. 27).

Love here is not a natural affection. To love friends is easy, but to love enemies is only possible to those who have been made partakers of the divine nature—been born again.

II. "Do Good to Them Which Hate You" (v. 27).

Love is positive in its nature. The true Christian will not merely refrain from doing injury to one who hates him, but will be concerned with and engaged in doing good to him. True love acts according to its own essential nature.

III. "Bless Them That Curse You" (v. 28).

To bless means to speak well of—to invoke a blessing upon. Injury by words is hard to let go unchallenged. The one who is a child of God and allows the Spirit of his Maker and Redeemer to express itself through him will return blessings for cursings.

IV. "Pray for Them Which Despitefully Use You" (v. 28).

We should pray for those who abuse us. The best commentary on this precept is Christ's own example (Luke 23:34), "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." When Christ was reviled He reviled not again. When He suffered, He threatened not, but committed Himself to Him that judgeth righteously. (I Pet. 2:23).

V. Patiently Endure Wrong and Injury" (v. 29).

The Christian is not to bristle a defense of his rights but rather to suffer insult, injury and even loss. This expresses the law which should govern the individual's actions, but should not be pressed so far that evil doers can go unchecked. Rightly constituted government has been ordained of God for the protection of the innocent and the punishment of evildoers (Rom. 13:1-8).

VI. Give to Every One That Asketh of Thee (v. 30).

God is the supreme example. He gives freely and generously but intelligently. This text does not authorize indiscriminate giving. There is a giving which injures the one to whom the gift is made. To give a man money to buy whisky would be wrong.

VII. Do as You Wish to Be Done By (v. 31).

This is called the Golden Rule. It is the sum total of Christian duty as it pertains to human interrelations. Human beings carry with them the consciousness which is the touchstone which teaches them their duty to others. If men were to live up to this rule the problem of capital and labor would be solved and end would be put to war. International relations would be peaceably adjusted and all profiteering in business would end. Practicing this precept proves that we are children of God. Loving those who love us, doing good to those who do good to us, lending to those who lend to us, is the common practice even among sinners. No new birth, no Holy Spirit needed to live this kind of life.

VIII. Be Merciful (v. 36).

This means to be filled with pity and compassion. To enter into sympathy with every need of others. The supreme example as to this is the Heavenly Father.

IX. Censorious Judgments Condemned (v. 27).

This means that we should not seek out the evil or faults in others for our satisfaction. We should not sit in censorious judgment upon the actions of others. However, it does not prohibit the just estimation of the character of others by their deeds.

X. The Compensations of Right Living (v. 38).

The one who gives freely of money, loves sincerely, makes the Golden Rule the standard of his life, shows mercy and kindness to others, and refrains from impugning the motives of others will be fully rewarded in kind. God will see to it that there be no loss.

Keeping the Mouth Closed

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ford Holt, of Lansdale, Pa., are receiving congratulations on the birth of their first child, a daughter, Virginia Arline, in the Germantown Hospital, January 4. Both mother and daughter are doing well. Mr. Holt is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Holt, 620 Elm avenue, Riverton, and is well known in the two towns.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. McFadden, of East Riverton, are being congratulated on the birth of twins, a boy and a girl, on December 27.

"EARTHQUAKE" IN RIVERTON

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Ridley Delightfully "Shocked" by Birthday Surprise Party

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Ridley, of 400 Main street, received the "shock" of their lives on Tuesday evening when summoned from a dinner engagement to the home of their son, Mr. Paul S. Ridley, for the ostensible purpose of hearing a radio address, by a "prominent divine." However, when ushered into a large room, which had been hastily abandoned by the twenty or more guests, they were rather incredulous over the silence of the radio and the general stillness that prevailed. This did not last long however, for with a massed attack that would do credit to "Red Grange" the whole works brushed aside furniture and other obstacles and overwhelming salutations made Mr. Ridley doubly conscious that he had grown older gracefully, which was evidenced by his reaction to the many gifts encased in coverings inscribed with sentiments of deep regard.

The guests immediately proceeded to attach match boxes to each others noses, and marathon races with fruit jars and peanuts and other amusements were indulged in until the wee hours when a wonderful breakfast was served and the party broke up physically tired, but mentally refreshed.

The guests were enabled to take a grasp and a new lease upon life out of the fond remembrance of old friendships that have been nurtured over a period of a quarter of a century in this community, and went home feeling that this is a good world to live in, and hoping that George L. Ridley will soon have another birthday celebration.

The guests present were as follows: Mr. and Mrs. George Stetoe Washington; Miss Christine Washington from West Virginia; Doctor Alexander Marcy and wife; Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Rainhard; Mr. and Mrs. Ross T. Elliott; Mr and Mrs. H. E. Moyer; Mr. and Mrs R. F. Corry; Mr. Charles L. Flanagan; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Blair; Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Ridley; Mr and Mrs. Paul S. Ridley.

BAPTIST CHURCH

This is the community "week of prayer" and most helpful services are being held each night in the Lutheran church. Tonight (Thursday) our own pastor, the Rev. George Lockett, will speak on "Christ As Savior."

There will be no B. Y. P. U. meeting this week because of the last meeting of the "week of prayer" being held on Friday evening.

Sunday morning, the pastor will have for his topic, "Why Join Church?" This will be a message to both members and non-members.

In the evening at 7.45, Pastor Lockett's subject will be "A Convincing Argument." Let us make this a big evening service.

Thursday evening, January 20, is the approaching date when the Rev. Dr. Forrest E. Dager will delight his audience with his famous humorous lecture, "The Shams of Society." Tune in Dr. Dager on your radio, then hear him at the Central Baptist Church. Get your tickets from members of the Samaritan class.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

The coming Lord's Day Holy Communion will be administered in First Lutheran Church at 11.15 a. m. and 7.45 p. m. Attending this service of the Lord's Table will be the best way of starting off the new year. We most strongly urge every member to be present at one or both of the services during the day. Your attendance will be a blessing to others as well as to yourself. A good attendance at this season will be a great impetus to our church to meet successfully the tasks which are to come later in the year. You can help in the success of our tasks by your influence and presence. Let us make "Every-Member Day" an every-member day in fact as well as in name. Special music will be rendered by our large choir under the direction of Mr. Lee Mitton. All Lutherans not affiliated with our church and all other Christians who find it convenient to attend, will be most welcome to all services of the church and to gather around the Table of the Lord for the celebration of the Holy Communion.

Sunday School at ten o'clock. At the beginning of the new year our school has taken two strides which are very praiseworthy. We have added to our staff of teachers, thus supplying the need which has arisen by the increased number of classes. We have also acquired a library in our school, through the generosity of Mr. Albert E. Fry, teacher of a large intermediate class of boys. The school and the church most heartily thank Mr. Fry for his very serviceable gift and his untiring efforts in completing the details of the library. All of the Sunday School pupils and all the Boy Scouts may have access to these books according to the rules governing their usage.

Junior catechetical class will meet at the parsonage, 718 Lincoln avenue, Friday afternoon at four. The senior class, which usually meets in the evening, is urged to attend Friday evening service of Week of Prayer, which will be held in our church.

Monthly meeting of the council will be held in the church basement Monday evening, January 10th, at 8.30 p. m.

Light Brigade at four Wednesday afternoon.

THE WESLEYAN CLASS

The Wesleyan Class of the Methodist Church got under way for 1927 last Sunday. The new officers for the year are:

President, Grover F. Fox; secretary, Louis Pike; treasurer, Harry Kemmerele.

The President announced that the Rev. J. B. Whitton would continue as teacher of the class, and appointed the following as chairmen of committees:

The Wesleyan Class is a Community Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Church and, while it has its own organization, it is a part of the regular Church Sunday School. All men of the community are invited to share in its benefits and are cordially welcomed. The plain, simple principles of right living are taught every Sunday morning, free from doctrine, so that it is in every sense a Community Men's Class. The motto of the class is "The Other Fellow" which is short for the Golden Rule, and the class has adopted this principle for its standard.

Next Sunday morning at 10 a. m., Rev. J. B. Whitton will teach on the topic, "The Child in Creation." As this topic is of especial interest to women, they are cordially invited to attend.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

J. E. Gorman, President of the Rock Island Lines, says:

THAT the prosperity of the United States rests to a great degree upon the continued prosperity of the railroads. If the railroads are permitted to earn a living return, they can meet the requirements for adequate transportation service. Necessarily, in providing that service, the railroads must spend many millions of dollars a year for supplies and labor, which money goes back into circulation for the benefit of industry as a whole.

THAT one of the biggest accomplishments of recent times has been the improvement in the railway transportation plant through increased efficiency in management, personnel, and equipment, from which the public is reaping the benefits in more and better service.

THAT there is today a more sympathetic co-operation between the railroads and their patrons than ever before, in which the Shippers' Regional Advisory Boards are performing a most valuable part, and whose activities should be encouraged.

THAT economies relative to operation are being studied more and more intelligently every year by railway management, and as these economies are applied, react in the interest of better public service.

The progress and prosperity of the railroads and the communities they serve are interdependent.

The principal difference between Capital and Labor is the question of who shall have the capital.

JUNIORS ELECT OFFICERS

After the regular monthly meeting of the Porch Club held Tuesday, January 4, a very enthusiastic group of young girls, under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Morgan, gathered together to elect officers for the coming year.

The following officers were elected: President, Andrea VanSteenbergh; vice-president, Lenore Showell; secretary, Elizabeth Shoemaker and treasurer, Eloise Boyer.

Meetings of the Junior Section are to be held twice a month. A party is being planned for the Juniors for Friday evening, January 7.

GIRL RESERVES

The regular meeting of the Riverton Girl Reserves was held on January 4th. The meeting was opened by the reading of the Bible by the president, after which hymns were sung. Old business was discussed. The report of the basket which we contributed to the poor was given. New business relating to an entertainment at the Parish House was brought up. This was put aside until the officers hold a meeting.

We then played "Mrs. Mulligan is dead." After this the meeting adjourned and we all went home.

Palmyra-Riverton School of Religious Education Plans Course of 20 Periods

NOMINAL FEE OF $2.00 FOR ENTIRE COURSE

Those who desire a more thorough and systematic knowledge of the Bible and of methods of Sunday School teaching and Christian leadership will welcome the announcement of the Palmyra-Riverton Council of Religious Education that a School for Christian Workers for this community will be held for ten Friday evenings, January 28th to April first inclusive, two periods each evening from 7.45 to 9.45. This is the first effort of the Council and it is hoped that it is just the beginning of the complete activity in religious education which the local Council is planning for the twin cities.

All work of the School, as well as of the other activities of the Council, is interdenominational, and is the result of the unity among the churches.

The Council has been most fortunate in securing the services of the Rev. Robert A. Brotemarkle, Ph. D., Dean of the Philadelphia School for Christian Workers, and Instructor in the University of Pennsylvania, to act as Dean of the School.

This year but two courses will be offered: "The Individual in Christian Education," which will be in charge of Doctor Brotemarkle, and "The New Testament," a survey of the development of the New Testament, with special emphasis upon significant moral and spiritual values in Religious Education The latter will be given by the Rev Philip Vollmer, D. D., Ph. D., recent professor of New Testament Religious Education and Sociology at Eden Seminary, St. Louis, and a well known author on books of the Bible and on religious education.

Doctor Vollmer is well known to the residents of Palmyra and Riverton. Both of these men are experts, and it is hoped that the residents of the community will show their appreciation of this opportunity by enrolling in the School The registration fee is nominal merely $2.00 for the entire twenty periods which will be offered this year.

The School welcomes all who are interested in the work, but especially four groups; first, those who at present are teaching in the various Sunday Schools; second those who are substituting as teachers; third, those who in the opinion of church officers should be preparing to teach; fourth, all those who desire to become familiar with the study and teaching of the Bible and Christian education generally This applies to members of Church Sessions, Church Councils, Missionary Societies, Christian Endeavor Societies and all young people's Societies.

All applicants should keep in mind that the School will be conducted on the most modern school methods, and not as a mere course of lectures, requiring regularity of attendance and a reasonable amount of preparation. Credits will be given for denominational and interdenominational diplomas, but the school will be open to all whether or not such credit is desired.

Throughout the entire world thoughtful Christian leaders realize the inadequate preparation which has been given to those who teach religion. Much emphasis has been placed upon the qualifications of our public school teachers while the field of Christian Education has been sadly neglected. It is in an effort to meet this need in our own community that the Palmyra-Riverton Council of Religious Education has been formed and has established this school. Wherever similar schools have been tried the result have been most encouraging by the decrease in religious illiteracy. It is sincerely hoped that our residents will recognize the value and importance of the school and will give to it their hearty cooperation and support. Details can be secured from any of the Ministers or Superintendents of the various Sunday Schools.

BUGLE CORPS

Legion Boys Make Big Hit in Surprise Appearances

The Palmyra Fire Company invited the American Legion Bugle and Drum Corps to play at the Firemen's Benefit last Thursday evening at the Broadway Palace. The invitation was accepted and the entire group responded. Between shows the Bugle and Drum Corps marched out upon the stage and played their first series of marches.

This appearance of the Bugle and Drum Corps had not been announced previously and when the boys made their first appearance, the audience did not know what it was all about, but in spite of this, the corps put it over big and everybody enjoyed the music very much.

The Bugle and Drum Corps is trying to get the use of the high school auditorium for its rehearsals as the American Legion Home is too small.

HIT BY CAR

R. A. Woolman Suffers Bruises in Accident

R. A. Woolman, of 825 Highland avenue, was struck by the car driven by Elwood Miller, of Riverton, Saturday night at 7 o'clock, as he was alighting from a McCloskey bus at Broad and Morgan avenues. Miller, who was driving slowly, struck Mr. Woolman as he came around the bus and although he stopped instantly the victim of the accident was knocked unconscious.

Miller, who turned himself over to the Palmyra police, offered to take Woolman to the doctor, but when the man gained consciousness he refused to go to a hospital, saying he was all right and not injured. He was taken home and put to bed when it was found he suffered from bruises and shock.

Palmyra Quintet Loses Close Games

Both Moorestown and Marlton Have Close Calls With Wink's Five

After trailing 24-6 at half time against Marlton Friday night at Marlton, Palmyra came back strong in the second half and threw a scare into the Marlton five by giving them one of the toughest battles of the current season. When the final twenty minutes had ended Palmyra was still six points behind thus being nosed out 44-38.

Palmyra was greatly handicapped by the absence of Jack Eisley and Vince Kalinowski on the first team who were playing with Palmyra High, and also Jimmy West, of the second squad, the boy who beat Paulsboro High last week single handed.

Shultz with 15 points did most of the damage for Palmyra. He was closely followed by Davis and Conway, who scored nine and seven points respectively. The work of Stockum stood out for Marlton. The high scorer dropped in nine field goals and a foul for a total of 19 points. Briggs, also played well for the winners, making ten points

Two "Iron Men"

The Palmyra second team went down to defeat at the hands of the Marlton Reserves, 26-6. The Palmyra five were up against it as two of their men, Burk and Conway, had to pull the "iron-man" act and play both games, because not enough players were available. These two men played exceptionally well, scoring both Palmyra's field goals and five of their six points while Stow and Wills set the pace for the winners.

Palmyra first and second teams will play Marlton first and second teams at the M. E. gym, Saturday night, Jan. 15, with game starting at 8 o'clock.

Lose to Moorestown

Palmyra was nosed out in the best game played in Palmyra in the Burlington County League this season by Moorestown, Saturday night, score, 27-26. Eisley, of Palmyra, had just tied the score when Brodie came through with a double-decker, thus defeating Palmyra out by a one point margin 27-26.

Poinsett and Shultz were high scorers for Palmyra with eight points each, while Jack Eisley accounted for seven. Kalinowski played a wonderful game at guard as did Davis at center. For Moorestown, Brodie and Ritchie did the heavy work.

INITIATION

Class of 14 to Receive First Degree at St. Joseph's K. of C.

Next Tuesday evening at the K of C. Home a class of 14 candidates will receive their initial degree in the K. of C. This is the first exemplification of the new year. Officers from some of the Burlington County Councils will assist the local degree team.

Some entertaining features for the evening are on the program, and among them is a lecture on the Mexican Situation to be delivered by John Burke, of Camden. Mr. Burke has traveled extensively in South America, The Canal Zone and Mexico and therefore some up-to-date news about the trouble across the border will no doubt make his talk an exceedingly interesting one.

Plans will be announced at this meeting for the trip across the river to St. Leo's of Tacony. Word comes from Grand Knight Clark of St. Leo's that the visiting Jerseymen are certainly in for a good time.

County Real Estate Board

Organization Effected In Mount Holly Tuesday Night; Sixty Present

Fifty-five real estate men and five women following the business gathered at the Imperial Hotel Tuesday night at a banquet and organization meeting, and as the result a permanent organization was effected, which will be known as the Burlington County Real Estate Board.

Representatives were present from Moorestown, Maple Shade, Medford Marlton, Vincentown, Mount Holly, Bordentown, Florence, Beverly Riverside, Palmyra and Delanco.

A permanent organization was effected by the passing of by-laws and constitution, and the election of the following officers:

The meeting place of the organization will be at Mount Holly on the second Tuesday of each month with a dinner at the Imperial Hotel

The object of the board is to establish and standardize the business of real estate brokerage, so that it shall obtain and hold the confidence and respect of both owners and purchasers, to maintain the dignity and respect of its members in their duty to the public, to institute rules for uniform commissions, customs and practices so far as they may be reasonable, to cultivate, and enforce fair dealing and foster good fellowship among its members in their business of buying, selling, renting and managing real estate and loaning money.

PALMYRA HIGH WINS

Locals Down Moorestown Five by 33—20

Palmyra High School's early lead proved to be too much of a handicap to the Moorestown team at Moorestown Tuesday afternoon, Palmyra winning by a score of 33-20 Everyone of the Palmyra players scored at least one field goal, outscoring the losers from the field 11 goals to five.

Eisley was again the high scorer for the winners, making three field goals and four of four fouls for a perfect average, his total being ten points. Captain "Vince" Kalinowski and Branson came through with eight points each, Branson tallying three field goals and two of four fouls while Kalinowski made two and four. West and Hennessey also played well for the winners scoring four and three points respectively

Carey, Moorestown forward, with two double-deckers, and Charley Juliana, with five straight foul tosses and a field goal, featured for the losers.

WIMER HEADS LIONS CLUB

Newest Cub Is Elevated To Leadership of Palmyra Organization

TAIL TWISTER AND LION TAMER NAMED

George N. Wimer was unanimously chosen president of the Palmyra Lions Club when the election of permanent officers took place at the weekly meeting Tuesday evening.

Mr. Wimer is one of the newest cubs to answer the call of Lionism, having just become a member of the local club, and the honor of the presidency was at once bestowed upon him.

Dr. Charles Francis Voorhis, who served as temporary president during the organization of the club was chosen vice-president; Walter D. Lamon secretary; W. A. McCamy treasurer and William B. Lynch W. M. Erhard and George W. Rogers, directors.

The honors of Tail Twister and Lion Tamer fell to Frank A. Kates and Augustus Weber respectively.

Much fun was had about the duties of the two last named officers, the Lion Tamer in particular being somewhat in the dark about just what his duties were.

Plans are practically complete for the big charter night banquet to be held January 25. Several of the leading officers of Riverton, Camden and other South Jersey Service Clubs are to be on hand, including the Mayors of the Twin Towns and other important officials.

After the business on hand was completed Tuesday evening, the Lions Club was turned into a school for public speaking, conducted by Walt Lamon and Frank Kates. Both these gentlemen had confessed a secret fondness for "Roaratory" or just plain public speaking and claimed that Frank Chambers had essayed to give them some pointers from a book he had read.

Walt said he had procured a set of books, nine volumes in all, from George Wimer, dealing with the subject and was going to try out the first set of instructions on his brother Lions

After Walt had inflicted the results of his oratorical growing pains on the club, he compelled every other cub to get up and say something. The results can best be imagined from the following advice, quoted from one of Walt's books:

"There are only two excuses for a public speech. One is when a man has something to say. The other is when he has to say something. Heaven help the man who has to say something, yet has nothing to say."

BUSY BASKETBALL

High School Boys and Girls on the Alert

Palmyra High School will be very active over the weekend as both the boys and girls teams will play some of their hardest games of the season. Friday, January 14th the boys will play the game that was formerly scheduled with the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy in the afternoon at 3.30 instead of in the evening at Palmyra.

The boys are out to gain their winning stride after losing to Burlington last Friday night, 22-13, after four straight in the win column, namely: Langhorne, 46-8 in the opening game of the season; Woodbury, 21-16; Alumni, 32-18; and Paulsboro 22-18. The girls have yet to taste defeat, their last win having been their decisive victory over the Burlington lassies on whom they doubled the score, 26-13.

Last Wednesday the Civic Club of the Palmyra Grammar School held a meeting for the election of officers for the coming year. The retiring president, Robert Finney was succeeded by Louis Sacks. Introducing Kathleen

We take pleasure in introducing a very remarkable young lady by the name of "Kathleen," who will make her debut over the footlights at the Palmyra High School, on the evenings of January 27th, 28th and 29th.

This role in the new musical comedy, "Kathleen," is ably filled by Miss Thelma Jones. Her opposite, the lively Jimmie Stanton, is portrayed by Edward Hutchins.

The romantic Arabella Wilkins of fifty sweet summers plays opposite of the "rural shiek," "Lem" Underduck. The parts are filled by Muriel Burgman and Leonard Lisk

Other characters are, Helen Enskat, as Flossie Neverset; Edward Arndt, as Teckley Bramble; Lester Johnston as Michael Flynn; Roy Wentzel as Hans Swindler; Bruce Beahn as Ned Rollingston.

The cast is completed by ten choruses which includes about two hundred of the pupils of the High and Grammar Schools. The High School Orchestra will supply the music.

DRUNKEN DRIVER'S LICENSE REVOKED

Fifty-Mile Speed on Broad Street Brings McCann to Grief

James McCann, of Park avenue and Forked River Road near Merchantville, was arrested at midnight Sunday, by Officer Quigley, after he had wrecked his car at Broad and Main streets, Riverton. The officer notified Director of Public Safety Williams, who called upon Dr. H. B. Mark to examine the man. Dr. Mark declared McCann to be intoxicated. He was given a hearing before Recorder Troth on Monday, who imposed a fine of $200 for driving while intoxicated and revoked his license for two years The car was held in lieu of payment of the fine.

A few minutes before being arrested in Riverton, McCann ran into the Palmyra station platform and careened across the street and up on the sidewalk in front of George N. Wimer's residence. Continuing his wobbly way to Riverton at a 50 mile speed he ran on to the sidewalk in front of Keating's and all but smashed one of the plate glass windows. When Officer Quigley reached the machine he found McCann slumped over the steering wheel in a drunke nstupor.

McCann could give no clear account of where he had been or what had happened. He seemed to recall three or four other men with whom he had been drinking, but of who they were or where he had left the mhe had no recollection.

Some of McCann's friends from Palmyra tried to get Director Williams to let the man off, but Williams stood firm declaring that such a menace to the traveling public must not be turned loose without punishment.

And the Director was perfectly right!

District Governor To Visit Rotary

Charlie Puff Will Address Palmyra-Riverton Meeting on January 20

The Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club will have as its guest of honor next Thursday evening, January 20 Rotarian District Governor Charles Puff.

The meeting, expected to be the largest and of greatest consequence to the local club, will be held in the Porch Club Riverton, starting with dinner at 6.15 p. m. promptly

To many Rotarians "Charlie" needs no introduction for he is a forceful speaker, a man of personal magnetism and full of inspirational ideas.

He will meet with the officers and chairmen of committees of the club in the office of President Dr. Charles S. Mills of Riverton at 5.30 p. m. and will be the guest of the Rotary in the evening.

As this is an exceptional honor conferred upon the local club they are very desirous of having a 100% attendance to welcome their visitor

At the last meeting of the Club, Morris Perinchief, Rotarian, of Mt Holly was the speaker of the evening. He kept his listeners' undivided attention during his discourse on what Rotary has meant to him and how it can be applied to the community, city, state and nation At the conclusion he was tendered quite an ovation as a demonstration of their appreciation of his presence at their meeting and the helpful message he brought to them.

J. S. Williams, of Riverton, as the guest of Rotarian Ross Matthews and Fred Sacks as the guest of Rotarian Fred Reeber were welcomed to the meeting.

Accepting an invitation to attend his church, the Club will attend the Central Baptist Church on Sunday evening, January 23rd at 7.45 o'clock when their "Bishop" Lockett will preach to them. This is probably the only time when the "Bishop" will have the opportunity of telling his fellow Rotarians just what he thinks of them without the fear of any talking back. For that reason every member of the club is being urged to attend

The first Annual Ladies' Night will be held in the P. O. S. of A Hall on Thursday evening, January 27th when all Rotarians and their families are invited to attend. An extensive program has been arranged by Chairman Everett Wolcott It will consist of a well catered banquet with noted speakers, followed by an entertainment and dancing.

BIG TIME PLANNED FOR FATHER AND SON BANQUET

Palmyra-Riverton YM Will Hold Annual Father and Son Event, January 21

BIG SPEAKERS AND THE COUNTY YM ORCHESTRA

The boys of this vicinity are looking forward with keen anticipation to the YMCA Father and Son Banquet to be given on January 21—and the dads are a whit less enthusiastic.

It will be held in the Methodist gym. A big dinner will be served by the ladies of the Inasmuch Bible Class of the Methodist Church—and they do say there are no better cooks in many a mile. Music will be furnished by the County YMCA orchestra and the speakers! Well, the committee is having a hard time to decide between three or four headliners, and oh boys, whichever one they finally book, there is a rare treat in store for you!

These occasions are always red letter days for boys and dads alike, and this one promises to be a bummer.

Count up the attractions. It will take all the fingers on both hands—big feed, fine orchestra, singing led by Porter Ashbrock, inspiring speakers, short talks by group leaders, Guy Hendry with his cornet and red necktie, Clifford Ergood, the new assistant secretary, and with the whole YMCA board of Palmyra and Riverton back of it to a man, this supper just can't help being the best ever!

Tickets will be distributed through the group leaders.

Contract Given For New Hospital

Philadelphia Firm's Bid Was $231,213; Other Work Not Yet Awarded

The contract for the new Burlington county hospital to be erected at Mount Holly has been awarded to the J. S. Rogers Co., of Philadelphia, on its bid of $231,213, subject to an advance of $6,000 should the building committee exercise authority given to change from stone interior to reinforced concrete construction. It is expected that this will be done.

There are several things in favor of concrete and the committee has gone into some of the details with favorable results reported. The plans call for a red brick exterior and the building will be practically four stories with 100-bed capacity.

Contracts for heating, plumbing, electrical and other necessary parts of the construction operation have not yet been awarded. For the new building and equipment Burlington county people have contributed upward of $435,000 and payments are being made at stated periods. All of the money is expected to be in hand in time to pay for the new work as rapidly as it is finished. The campaign was for only $250,000 but the people gave nearly $400,000 more.

The board of council of the hospital has organized for this year by electing these officers: President, Franklin S Chambers, New Lisbon; vice president, Alfred E Darnell Medford, and Edward H Lentz Mount Holly; secretary, Morris K Perinchief, Mount Holly; board treasurer, A Engle Conrow, Moorestown, building fund treasurer Charles A Rigg, Burlington, and solicitor, V Claude Palmer, of Mount Holly.

Palmyra dropped into last place in the Burlington County League by virtue of losing to Moorestown at Moorestown Tuesday night, score 43-29. Eisley and Shultz each made three goals from the field. The former also contributed five out of six fouls while the latter put in two of six from the complimentary mark.

CHAW-TAWK-WAY

Palmyra, N. J. 1-11-27

Mrs. Ida Liketago
Dear Ida

Guess you are wondering what has become of me as it is so long since you have heard from me, but to tell you the truth I have been so busy that I rarely have time to write letters.

If you lived in either Palmyra or Riverton you would realize that they are about the livest towns in this very rapid state of Jersey or any other state for that matter. In fact we who live here think we are in a state of constant activity.

If you can arrange to come and spend a few days with us and enjoy life that would be great. Come Thursday morning if possible and you will be just in time for the opening of Swarthmore Chautauqua in P. O. S. of A. Hall. Say! You'll love that too. Splendid programs all the way through, three days of them, can you imagine that now?

Two of the peachiest girls for Thursday afternoon and evening, one a coloratura soprano and the other a fine pianist, just wait until you see them. I'll bet all the men will be there, anyway its a men's night for the lecturer C. H Plattenburg is great and they say all business men should hear him. I have also heard that all the men from the Rotary Clubs and the Contrary Clubs etc. think he is just the thing.

Friday afternoon will be fine but listen! in the evening you get "Applesauce" handed out by a bunch of Pippins, we will have to go early to get a seat but never mind that.

But oh, girlie Saturday afternoon all the grand "pops and mops" will be out because that is Junior Chautauqua, even if you have no "kids" of your own you will love seeing them do their stunts, also that afternoon the Chautauqua Kut puts across his stunt in the form of a popular lecture. Say he's "English you know" and his name is Doboo, get that—but he is no Hodoo and if you want to attract his attention you just call "Too hoo" in a sweet clear high soprano voice. You are wondering if he is married, of course everybody wonders that, but I do not know.

Saturday night is the Bell Ringers' and people go so crazy over them. But what's the use trying to tell you everything. Come on down Thursday morning and will tell you al the other news between the programs.

Yours on the wing
Jennie Rooty.

PORCH CLUB NEWS

On January 17th, at 8 p. m., Dr. Alexander C. Purdy, of the Hartford Theological Seminary, Hartford, Conn., will speak at the Porch Club on the subject of "Character Building."

Plans Advance For Celebration

Burlington Arranging Big Four-Day Program for Quarter Millennial Anniversary

Although the quarter millenial anniversary of the founding of Burlington will not take place until October, work on the four-day program already is under way and every effort is being put forth by the committee to make the affair one of the biggest things ever staged in the city.

All of the chairmen appointed by Mayor Thomas S. Mooney at the recent meeting of the general committee to have charge of the events of the different days are getting their committees together and soon will make a report which will include the probable cost of the various activities.

This is an important step in view of the fact that Common Council will be asked to make an appropriation for the celebration and the information will be in hand before the annual city budget is prepared. One thousand dollars were appropriated by Common Council last year. This amount, of course, falls far short of the sum that will be required.

Burlington had a big celebration fifty years ago, when the bi-centennial anniversary was celebrated. The principal address was made by Henry A. Brown, a Burlington boy. That address still is being quoted as well as other addresses made by Mr. Brown. Quotations from Mr. Brown's speeches may be found on monuments at Valley Forge. Other events of the bi-centennial were similarly outstanding.

William H. Schermerhorn is preparing a history of Burlington which will cover all the salient features of the town from a point previous to the settlement by the English Quakers down to the present time.

Numerous fragmentary histories of Burlington have been written at various times, but they merely skimmed the surface and failed to uncover much important information. The Schermerhorn history will go deeper, and there is every indication that it will be the most thorough Burlington narrative written up to the present time.

At the recent meeting of the general committee it was suggested that Mr. Schermerhorn write the history and that the book be put on sale, thus helping to raise money for the celebration. Mr. Schermerhorn was offered pay for his services, but refused it. He said that he looked at the thing as a work of love, a love of Burlington, and that he was more than willing to do that much for his home town. The next day he started to gather data and he has been following the work ever since.

Federal Roads Increase

A net addition of 9,417 miles to the mileage of improved roads in the Federal-aid system was made through the completion of projects during the fiscal year 1926, according to the Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture. This brings the total of improved Federal-aid roads up to 55,902 miles. The improvement of several transcontinental routes is approaching completion. The entire Federal-aid system has an aggregate length of 182,134 miles.

HARD LUCK, BUD TAYLOR

It has developed that the eyesight of Bud Taylor, the clever little Terre Haute scrapper, has gone back on him and he will be compelled to retire from the ring for some months, if not altogether. Taylor was recently awarded the bantamweight title by the Illinois commission.

CLEARED BY A HAIR

When are deer horns "visible above the hair" is a nice question, one upon which sometimes hangs the guilt or innocence of the accused, charged with offending against the game laws of the State. That was the case when Charles J. Black, of Bordentown, and Louis Housel, of Stockton, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Throckmorton in Mount Holly on complaint of State Trooper J. H. Westphalen, who charged the men, who were deer hunters during the late season, with having deer unlawfully in their possession.

The men were arrested on the last day of the season, December 31, in Bass River township and there had been several attempts to hold hearings on the case but always resulting in a postponement. The carcasses were offered in evidence. The defendants maintained that the two young buck deer were legal prey, and Squire Throckmorton concurred, but he only arrived at that conclusion after carefully inspecting the heads of the slain animals and deciding in his own mind that the horns were "visible." It was a pretty close point and the Justice observed that the two men took desperate chances when they shot the animals for it hardly seemed likely that they could see the horns "above the hair" when they shot.

The Justice's decision resulted in a summary dismissal of the case against the two defendants. After they were cleared of the charges the two hunters had the deer carcasses returned to them.

To Change Jersey Dower, Curtsey Law

Legislation To Amend Statutes To Be Recommended 1927 State Session

Legislation to amend the dower and curtsey statutes will be recommended to the 1927 Legislature. Senator Case, of Somerset; Senator-elect Joseph H. Forsyth, of Camden; Assemblywoman Isabelle M. Summers, of Passaic county, and Assemblyman Wilton T. Applegate, of Middlesex, will submit the special committee's report.

The program of the committee as announced by Senator Case is:

"The right of dower, and the right of curtsey are to be equalized, so that they carry in each instance the same relative provisions.

"Dower and curtesy are both to relate to one-half of the real estate of which the other spouse died seized.

"In equalizing the provisions, the preliminary requisite of the birth of a child is eleminated from the curtsey provision.

"In view of the unforeseen application of the proposed legislation to property rights; the necessity for correlating the legislation pertaining to these subjects with other existing legislation; the necessity for a revision of court rules relating to the subject matter; the necessity for the preparing of new acturial tables relating to mortality and present value of dower and curtsey, it is deemed wise to postpone the effective date of the legislation until December 31, 1928, so that full opportunity will be given for the study of such legislation as shall be passed and for the preparation of such incidental statutes and court rules as are necessarily incident thereto.

"The amendments to the dower act, in order to accomplish the desired purpose, will be largely met by changing the existing provisions so that the references are to one-half instead of one-third.

"Inasmuch as there is no statutory provision for curtsey, it is deemed wise to prepare legislation based so far as possible on the provisions of the dower act as amended."

"Incident to the foregoing is the necessity for the repeal of the present common law provision relating to dower.

The committee has requested Assistant Attorney General Joseph Lanigan to prepare and submit legislative enactments covering the recommendations, and also to make a study, particularly of the descent and marriage settlement acts, with a view to any necessary amendments thereto for harmonizing legislation.

INVESTMENT VALUE IN AN AUTOMOBILE

"There is an increasing tendency on part of car owners to regard the normal life of a car as far greater than heretofore," says Frederick H. Rein of the Rein Motor Company.

"People are buying cars now with the expectation of getting not only a year but several years of use out of them. And this brings the motorist more squarely up against his need for adequate local responsibility for the car.

"When a man contemplates the purchase of an automobile in the same say he considers the investment of his money in other property, he is going to look more carefully into future conditions affecting his automobile. In other words, he is going to buy the car from a permanently established, responsible dealer."

Fires Scouted from Air

During the past fire season airplanes were used over the far western forests for patrol when the atmosphere was too dense for effective observation, and for reconnaissance of large fires.

Girls Will Camp at Ockanickon

Trustees Grant Application of New Jersey YWCA Committee for 1927

That YMCA Camp Ockanickon shall be made available for a girls' camp this coming summer was the most significant action taken by the Trustees at a meeting held January 5th at Bordentown.

This action grew out of conferences which have been held with various leading YWCA Board and Committee members, which finally resulted in a letter from the New Jersey YWCA Committee for Rural Communities Work in which was stated the desire of the YWCA to use the grounds of Camp Ockanickon for two weeks, "during which time we would run a camp typical of our general program." The letter goes on to say, "We would like to include the girls of the four Counties, Monmouth, Gloucester, Camden and Burlington, in this project."

By way of reply to this letter the Trustees of Camp Ockanickon passed a resolution at the meeting that "we respond with a hearty invitation to so use the Camp, without rental, and with the assurance of full cooperation." The Trustees also gave expression to their hope that this year's experience "may prove so happy that it will be found mutually desirable to continue it."

Looking forward to the completion of certain essential improvements to the camping property and equipment before the opening of the 1927 season the Executive Secretaries of the four participating Counties were constituted a committee to design a tent house which will serve as a sample for the some thirty or more which will eventually be constructed.

They will also prepare specifications for the kind of dining tables and seating arrangement in Ockanickon Inn to replace the many sizes and varieties of dilapidated tables which were moved from the other site. Plans which have been considered thus far call for using quantities of the white oak which is to be had from the woods on the property.

At this same meeting a report was made by Treasurer John W. Thacher of Burlington County, that upon taking up the matter of having Secretary Hendry serve as Camp Director for this coming summer, to which position he was elected at the last Camp Trustees meeting subject to the approval of his own County Committee, that such approval had been secured and that his election would become effective immediately.

GREAT LIGHT

Revolving Beacon Mounted on Van Sciver Factory at Camden

The J. H. VanSciver Company has just completed the erection of a revolving light in the Taj Mahal Tower on the top of its furniture factory store, Camden. The light is composed of sixty-four lenses, thirty-two of which are blue and thirty-two gold. It is equipped with 2,700 ten watt bulbs and is fourteen feet wide and thirteen feet high. It is the largest light of its kind in the United States and the only one of this particular construction.

It can be seen at a distance of twenty to thirty miles. The weight of the lamp is 3,500 pounds. Octagon in shape, it is made of structural steel supported by two thrust bearings capable of enduring a weight of 11,000 pounds each.

The installation of the light in the tower, which is one hundred and fifty feet from the ground, was executed with artistic taste to complete it. The revolving light in driven by a one and one-half horse power electric motor, and makes three revolutions a minute.

Moorestown Pool Open to Outsiders

Community House Extends Swimming Privileges to Burlington County Residents

The attractive natatorium at the Moorestown Community House will be open to the people of Burlington County hereafter, according to a recent ruling of the Moorestown Recreation Commission.

Heretofore pool privileges have only been extended to residents of Moorestown Township, and their guests. Because of numerous and increasing requests from residents of the surrounding communities for the use of the pool, the Moorestown Commission decided to extend the privileges to the residents of Burlington County in general.

Non-resident memberships may be secured by application at the Community House.

Other activities at the Community House have also attracted out-of-town visitors, notably the dances given by the Community House Association. The next dance will be held on the 18th of January.

More than one thousand cars of dressed turkeys were shipped from Texas for the holidays. The fowls were fed and fattened on the leaf worm of the cotton crop.

VALVE-IN-HEAD Buick MOTOR CARS

Buick Ahead Again in the Yellowstone!

Again in 1926, more Buicks toured through Yellowstone Park than any other car except the one of lowest price.

Buick has held this same honor every year since the Park was opened to automobile travel.

This year there were 4,756 Buicks in a total of 44,472 cars registered. 101 different makes were represented in the registrations. One in every ten was a Buick.

They know Buick will take them and bring them back comfortably, safely and splendidly—across the Continent—or around the World.

Naylor's Idea of Basketball Game

Jack Uses Up a Lot of Type Without Saying Anything

When Jack Naylor, of the Burlington Enterprise, writes up a sports story, he doesn't say much about the action of the game—he probably never saw such a game and wouldn't know how to describe it—but he throws in a lot of persiflage instead. This might be called a lazy way to write a sports story, if it weren't well done, but Jack usually hits the ball with his typewriter, as witness the Enterprise account of the Palmyra-Burlington High basketball game last Friday evening:

Tacony and Its Gum

"Despite the lusty crows of the Palmyra rooters the Burlington High School quintette last night put a basketball bump into the Palmyra High School team that looked like a dent in a new tin Lizzie. Score, 23-13.

"The game was played in Palmyra and nearly a thousand people joined the jubilee. They came from the old home town, from the town of Riverton, and from back in Cinnaminson. Even Tacony contributed a few. One always can distinguish Tacony by the way it shifts its gum. Two policemen were on the job to handle the crowd and readjust the faces when jaws were thrown out of gear in yelping too wide.

"But what Palmyra paid to see didn't come to pass. The commuter village was up against a bunch whose fathers were basketball players, whose grandfathers were basketball players, and whose great grandfathers were basketball players. Heredity counts. Excellent teamwork was done by Burlington and they kept the ball in their possession nearly all the time.

"Cook and Arenz were shining stars in the Burlington constellation Risley scored all of the thirteen points for the Palmyra team. The rest of the bunch just bobbed around the floor.

"And this morning the Burlington High School lawn is not mussed up. There is no garbage bucket at the top of the flagpole. No chalk marks are on the concrete sidewalk. Palmyra is not paying trolley fare to celebrate. The score:

WAITING FOR RELIEF

"Lady Battleships"

"Being built on broad battleship lines the Palmyra High School girls were able to defeat the yacht-like girls of the Burlington High School in a basketball game at Palmyra last night. Score, 26-13. The Burlington girls took the wallop sweetly. In fact they were so pleased over the Burlington boys' victory that they were willing to give the Palmyra chickens most anything."

NASH SALES SHOW INCREASE OVER 1925

Sales for First Eleven Months 45% Greater than Same Period Last Year

Again Nash sales and production have established a new high record and figures show that sales for November 1926 far surpass those of November a year ago.

And Nash sales for the first eleven months of 1926 have exceeded the sales for the first eleven months of 1925 by the large and impressive margin of 45%.

The eleven months' sales of 1927 represent a figure which exceeds by over 2,000 cars the total sales of the first ten months of 1924 and 1925—20 months—COMBINED

These figures emphatically prove that a discriminating motor car public is expressing more and more its approval of seven-bearing crankshaft motor performance.

RATS!

George W. Mitchell, High street merchant, has a cat whose head is full of wisdom. On cold days the cat finds a comfortable place on top of a radiator. When the radiator gets a little too hot he gets a newspaper, spreads it over the heater and again takes his accustomed position.—Burlington Enterprise.

Roadside markets made $25,000,000 in sales this year, according to official estimates.

WRONG CAR

Beverly Couple Drove Another Party's Essex Home

Desiring to see the movies last week at the Burlington auditorium, Mr. and Mrs. John Butler, of Putnam street, Beverly, went to Burlington in his sister's "Essex" coach. He parked the car on the east side of High street opposite the Public Service Company's office and showroom.

They went in the show came out, jumped in the car, drove home. John couldn't understand what had made the car run so much better coming home than it did going up. So much surprised was he that he asked his sister about it. She knowing the car was not just in its natural trim, that it needed going over, a fresh drink of oil, etc. went out to try it out.

In one glance she discovered it was not her car, though it was an Essex coach and the same model. Now, Johnnie was excited. He didn't know what to do—he saw officers, prison bars, heavy fines, all kinds of trouble.'

He immediately summoned Officer Budd Stevenson, who in turn called Captain Johnson at Burlington and inquired if any cars had been reported stolen. There was.

Butler and Stevenson jumped in the mysterious Essex and drove to Burlington, where they found the owner anxiously waiting. This man's name could not be learned but he is Public Service employee.

After a lengthy explanation the car was returned and John and Budd walked over to Miss Butler's car that was quietly waiting where it had been left and came home.

Jack London wrote 1,500 words a day, every day, seven days a week, 365 days a year.

Wild rabbits have a good, gamey flavor, but the domestic rabbits are even better, and are very similar in taste to chicken.

Leeds After Land Promoting Crooks

Former Burlington County Man Starts Crusade Against Real Estate Swindlers

Samuel P. Leeds, of Atlantic City, wealthy beach front hotel man, and formerly living in Burlington county, who, as president for years of the Atlantic City Chamber of Commerce, kept up unremitting warfare on all fake stores on the Boardwalk, is again on the warpath. In his new crusade he has the backing of the State Chamber of Commerce. The Newark Evening News recently said: An investigation of alleged fraudulent land promotions in New Jersey has been begun by the committee on fraudulent land and stock promotions of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce. Samuel P. Leeds, of Atlantic City, is chairman of the committee.

In a bulletin chambers of commerce, boards of trade and real estate boards throughout the State are requested to furnish the committee with a list of all land development in their respective communities, together with such information, confidential or otherwise, as they may have.

As soon as the list of land developments throughout the State has been prepared, the committee will give each company an opportunity to supply information which may be needed to determine whether it is engaged in a legitimate undertaking. The committee will in other ways also endeavor to ascertain whether land sales are in the hands of honorable promoters and to what extent investors are being protected.

The investigation by the State chamber was promoted by a continued flow of complaints from individuals within and without the real estate salesmen. Much of the real estate regarding which complaint was made was purchased without the purchaser seeing it; sales being made from maps.

A majority of complaints received have concerned lands along the seashore and in the southern tier of counties. Investigation of some of the complaints has shown the purchases to be almost impossible to reach either by rail or automobile. In some instances lots have been sold to which there was no access except by crossing others' lands.

The Middle West seems to have been a fertile source of customers for some of the developments, the salesmen stressing the opportunities to be reaped through the purpose of Jersey lands. One development company is said to have several hundred salesmen operating in that section.

SCHOOL CROWDED

Lenola Feels Need of Additional Facilities

The rapid growth of the Lenola section of Moorestown is reflected in the public school situation of that district.

For many years a one room school furnished ample accommodations, but a few years ago it was found inadequate to meet the demand and the school board erected a handsome eight room building with a mind toward supplying the needs for many years to come.

This building, however, has now become overcrowded and the one room abandoned school building has again been pressed into service.

If present growth continues, the school board will be faced with the necessity of supplying additional school facilities for this section.

1703 Deer Killed In New Jersey

Four Days' Toll Is 500 Higher Than 1925, Previous Record Year

There were 1703 buck deer killed in New Jersey during the recent open season of four days, a record for this State.

In addition to the deer killed legally, seventy-six does or fawns were found dead in the woods or in the possession of hunters and confiscated. The slaughter this year was more than 50 in excess of 1925 when the total was 1209.

Burlington and Ocean counties provided the best sport for gunners, the number of bucks shot in Burlington being 605, while in Ocean the total was 413. The toll in Mercer was 6. Reports from the other counties show 177 bucks bagged in Atlantic, 100 in Morris, 99 in Sussex, 68 in Bergen, 62 in Cumberland, 61 in Warren and 56 in Passaic.

Thirty gunners were arrested and fined for having does in their possession. They were assessed $100 for each animal, five paying $200 apiece. Three others were each fined $100 for the use of illegal missiles, the law prohibiting larger than buckshot.

There are thirty-nine known diseases that may attack rose bushes.

THE GOOD NEWSPAPER

A good newspaper is the community father; it advises, criticises and compels. The editors are teachers, preachers and statesmen combined, and my hope is they will exercise their great power as justly as possible.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

VICTOR AND JOHNSON

Eldridge Johnson steps out, Edward E. Shumaker steps in.

But Victor goes on, just the same. The company is recapitalized. The old stock is retired and a new issue takes its place.

But the machines go buzzing along and the workers won't know the difference, as they come on in the morning, punch out at night, and step up for theirs on pay days.

* * *

Eldridge Johnson, once a mechanic working humbly like thousands of others in this great industrial city, became head of a concern producing a talking machine known and sold all over the world.

He served well the city where he made his first dollars.

His splendid spirit of community service has a worthy memorial in Johnson Park, and his upholding of innumerable projects of community enterprise will keep his personality fresh in the minds of the present generation, as he enjoys his well earned rest, while his name must be honored by generations of workers to come.

A full, rounded life has been that of the founder of Victor, and thousands will wish him joy and happiness in his years of retirement from active business.

The Speyer-Seligman group represents tremendous power.

It is a score for Camden when one of its home industries attracts New York men, accustomed to the biggest kind of dealings.

It is just one more testimonial to the soundness of Eldridge Johnson's building.

A few years ago, the struggling mechanic. Now, people scrambling to buy at 155 a share the stock that stands for the mighty business structure he reared.

* * *

Officers and directors remain as before.

The one VISIBLE change will be Johnson's replacement by Shumaker.

And the new president has spent all his working life in the Victor plant, 23 years of it, from the bottom as an office boy, to the top, as president.

Regular Horatio Alger stuff!

Romance still lives in business.

Shumaker is not a high hat president, but one who has been through the mill. A man who can grin. And a man who can lead through a hard fight, and win.

* * *

It is one more step forward, one more item of life and progress.

And one of the finest things about it is that the Chief, retiring, did not leave the crowd to sink or swim, did not take care of his own personal interests, leaving the small stockholders to be frozen out, but took care of them, seeing to it that each fared as well, share for share, as he did himself.

In this, we see an act characteristic of Eldridge Johnson, a man who built his success upon honorable dealings and who steps out in his usual, honorable way.

—Camden Courier.

INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION

The Program Committee of the Burlington County Industrial Association announces the January meeting of the Association in the Masonic Hall, West Union Street, Burlington, Monday evening, the 17th, with dinner at seven o'clock. The speaker of the evening will be Charles W. Beeching, Chief Vocational Counsellor of the Curtis Publishing Company of Philadelphia. His subject will be "Building Men for Tomorrow," one that is very important to industry.

Mr. Beeching not only has an excellent address, but delivers it in a most pleasing manner. The Committee feels that they are very fortunate in having secured Mr. Beeching for this meeting.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Association's own orchestra, augmented by special vocal numbers. The dinner will be served by the ladies of the Burlington Y. W. C. A., which is, in itself, a reason for being present. The meetings are open to all men connected with the industries of the County, and any who have supervisory relations to others, or who are interested in industrial problems. Reservation can be made through representatives of the Association in the industries, or thru the County Y. M. C. A. offices in Mount Holly or Burlington.

Chickens may be infected with tuberculosis and spread it to hogs, according to recent tests.

RIVERTON ITEMS

Mrs. Rachel C. Power, of Yonkers, N. Y., is spending this week with Mrs. A. M. Bowker.

H. K. Marcy, of Wilkes Barre, Pa., spent several days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yost. Mr. Marcy is a former resident of Palmyra.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Albertson left Sunday for a four weeks motor trip to St. Petersburg, Florida.

The Phyllis Wheatley YWCA Club of Riverton had Mrs. Alexander Marcy for their speaker on Wednesday. Mrs. Marcy told of the Mediterranean trip which she enjoyed last winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bohs, of Cinnaminson, entertained at dinner Saturday evening. Covers were laid for eighteen.

C. A. Dunlap and family, formerly of Fairview, moved into Riverton Thursday of last week. The family is occupying the residence at 627 Elm avenue.

The Riverton Fire Department was called out about eleven o'clock Wednesday morning to extinguish a field fire on the vacant lot in back of the Catholic Church. The fire was quickly put out and no damage was done to any surrounding properties.

D. D. Bastian, of Plainfield, was visiting friends in Riverton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Hoffman, of Cape May, are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Chew.

A number of Rivertonians are attending the State Agricultural meeting being held in Trenton this week.

THE MIKADO—Jan. 14 and 15th

Have you purchased your seat for the Mikado? If you haven't, I wonder if your conscience doesn't prick you a bit? Here is an all Riverton-Palmyra production sponsored by the Riverton Porch Club for the benefit of the Riverton Free Library and the Music Studio Fund of the Woman's State College of New Jersey. Are you back of it an enterprise, peculiarly civic, which should be backed by every person in the two communities?

Are you one of those unawakened citizens who takes no interest outside of his own small coterie and infinitesimal ideas, hopes and plans, or are you one of the elect who enrich their lives by interest in others, such as giving one's support to projects like the Music Studio Fund? The Women of New Jersey found the music department and other allied cultural departments of the New Jersey State College for women at New Brunswick housed and working under such untoward conditions that they pledged themselves to raise $150,000 for the purpose of erecting a music studio as a part of the New Jersey State College for Women. Who knows possibly your daughter will be one of those to benefit the most; for scholarships will be awarded throughout the state? All girls who complete the music course will be fitted to become music supervisors in the schools of New Jersey.

When you buy a ticket for the Mikado, you give this worthy project your support, but do not think you will enjoy that self-righteous feeling one has after doing one's duty for long after you reach the auditorium. No indeed. It will soon change to one of complete and utter enjoyment and wonder—wonder that such a small community possesses the talent to produce a difficult comic opera in such a truly professional manner.

I cannot close without mentioning a really awakened citizen. Edward F. Black has planned and is executing by his own hand the setting for the Mikado, giving evening after evening of his precious time and strength to help make a success of our spectacular production. The setting is truly Japanese enchanced by beautiful lighting effects.

HERMAN HARRIS KILLED IN CALIFORNIA CRASH

Herman S. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harris, of Cinnaminson, met with an accident which proved fatal on Tuesday, the 21st of December, when the automobile which he was driving was struck by a train at Oakland, California. He was taken to the hospital but died two days later. He and his wife have been living at Oakland the past twenty years, where he has a well established business.

The Masonic Lodge, of which he had been a member for several years, took charge of the funeral.

RIVERTON CALVARY GROUP

The weekly meeting of the Calvary Group of Riverton was held in the Methodist Episcopal church, Palmyra. The business meeting was opened with a prayer by our president, W. Edward Hutchins. Then followed a lengthy discussion on our dance to be given February 4th, 1927, in the Porch Club. We had a little trouble about getting the gym to play basketball. The Epworth League of the church were planning to have some sort of meetings for six successive Mondays starting Jan. 10. After each meeting they were to have the gym to play games. Paul Burr, our staunch leader, stepped in and saved the day for us. He argued it out with a member of the Epworth League that he had not been notified of these meetings.

After the conflict was over Paul came out victorious and we had an hour of basketball. We had a fitting climax to our evening. Paul our leader, said that the team that caged the next double decker in our basketball game would win. Robert Horton got the tap off and sent the ball whizzing to Owen Bottger, who had a great night of committing fouls, took the pass perfectly and from the side of the floor zipped a nifty field goal through the net. Some fainted, some were stupified, but Bottger went around as if he meant it. We had our friendship circle and departed for home to get a much needed rest.

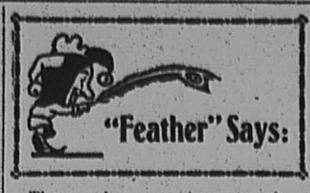
Whatever became of the old-fashioned girl who, at this time of year, had a dresser drawer full of doilies and fancy work prepared for Christmas giving?



Those who are given to slang have a way of referring to certain people as "half dead."

Psychologically, this is an exact description.

Almost a hundred years ago Arthur Schopenhauer stated that some men exist ten times as much as others.

The slangists also say "He's dead and doesn't know it."

Schopenhauer averted that some people "may be said to exist without really knowing it." So the philosophers seems to me on the side of the vulgarians.

I think it may be said that a person does not really live until his power of reflection and thought reach the point where he sees himself in relation to other people and ages.

Contrast the degree of existence in a scrubwoman, condemned to cleaning floors in office buildings, and a banker, engaged in international finance. The former is not alive in any sense comparable to the latter.

On the other hand, the average American laborer is probably five times as much alive as the average Russian or the average Chinese laborer.

Some people date the time when they began to live from the day they purchased an automobile. The automobile made their friends, the country, other cities, and even other states, easily accessible. The horizon of their lives was extended a hundred times.

I do not mean to say that globe-trotting necessarily indicates a high degree of existence. Some people never set their foot outside the village in which they were born, and yet, so keen are their observations and reflections, that they live in a very high degree.

Books open the lives of others to knowledge and emotions, and give them a feeling of aliveness.

THE POLITE LINEMAN

Somehow a man never seems to be able to think of an appropriate verse of Scripture or a beautiful philosophical sentiment with which to assuage his injured feelings when he smashes his thumb with a hammer, or otherwise suffers sudden and excruciating bodily pain. This curious and interesting masculine weakness appears not to have been known, or at least not fully appreciated by a spinster near whose apartment window two men were repairing telephone lines. She complained to the telephone company that she was inexpressibly shocked by the language used by one of the men. Whereupon the company demanded from them a written explanation of the incident. This was the explanation received from the foreman:

"Me and Jake Hopple was working on this job. I was on top of the pole soldering cables, and accidently spilled some hot lead on Jake who was down below. He looked up at me and said: "Good gracious! you really must be careful with that stuff, Harry."—Nuggets.

The wife and daughter of Colonel Berry, the camp commander, came to the gates after taps and demanded admission. The sentry objected.

"But, my dear man, you don't understand," expostulated the older woman. "We are the Berrys."

"I don't care if you are the cat's whiskers," retorted the sentry. "You can't get in at this hour."—Exchange.

Friendly Thoughts
by Frank A. Snover

A little ship puts out to sea,
Taking my heart away from me;
So I may suffer while I wait—
And pining, feel abused by fate.
That is not why this boat has gone

To leave me desolate and wan.
I'll know that when those sails appear
Again with all that I hold dear,
That little ship put out to sea
To prove the love and faith of me.

New Bank Building Is A Masterpiece

Magnificent Structure of Georgian Type Being Erected in Moorestown

Designed by Simon & Simon, of Philadelphia, who drew the plans for the Philadelphia Municipal Stadium and the thirty-story office building of the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company in that city, the architecture of the Moorestown edifice is distinctly Georgian in spirit, harmonizing with the associations of the town with early American history. It is expected that it will be ready for occupancy June 1. Roberts & Roller are the general contractors. The cost of the building and equipment will approximate $250,000.

The Georgian architecture expressed in the limestone exterior and impressive entrance, as well as throughout the interior, has been attained through carefully studied proportion and disposition of the major elements, rather than by any mere assembly of archological details.

Doorway of Bronze

The main entrance doorway will be of bronze, flanked by columns. It will lead through an ample vestibule to the lobby of the main banking room. Here, surrounding a public space, twenty-seven feet wide and forty-six feet deep, with a ceiling height of twenty-six feet, will be the officers' space, the trust, safe deposit and ladies' departments and the tellers' wickets.

Walnut screens and paneling enclose the public space. This treatment, expressive of the best of the simple sturdy days of the country's beginnings, achieves a simple dignity entirely consistent.

Officers of the institution are: President, J. Clement Hopkins; vice president, Joseph H. Roberts; treasurer, William R. Lippincott; assistant treasurer and trust officer, George B. Evans; secretary, Frank S. Herr; solicitor, William D. Lippincott; assistant trust officer, Armitt H. Coate.

Various Departments

Adjacent to the rear of the public space are departments devoted to trusts, safe deposits and building and loan. The safe deposit department is entered through a bronze grille, giving additional security, yet affording an interesting vista. The vault door containing 12 inches of solid steel is supported to a nicety by a polished steel crane hinge; delicate time controls check the bolt work. The vault door and walls, the latter reinforced concrete with a steel lining, are further protected by a closed circuit electric alarm system, and this system is extended to afford the officers and tellers protection against daylight holdups.

Beyond the safe deposit vault, facilities are furnished for the safe deposit box clientele; four commodious coupon booths and a committee room. A night depository for the convenience and safety of customers of the bank who desire to make deposits after banking hours, is located to the right of the main entrance.

Special accommodations for ladies are afforded adjacent to the public space of the bank, comprising vestibule, a lounge and a retiring room.

Working Space

The work space, well lighted and capable of future expansion, assigned for the use of the staff, are located at the rear of the tellers' cages and also upon the upper floor.

Particular study has been given the problem of quieting, and acoustical materials have been introduced to absorb the noise resulting from typewriters and other sources.

The trust company's cash and securities vault is on the main floor using a common wall with the safe deposit vault, and opening off the working space. This vault is protected from attack by construction similar to that of the safe deposit vault.

The second floor of the building provides space for a directors' room of a character and dignity with its purposes. Certain departments of the trust company are also located upon this floor.

In the basement are located the silver storage vault, employees' locker rooms and lavatories, storage space, and the mechanical and heating plant. This plant comprising a combination heating and ventilating system supplies fresh air throughout the building in all seasons.

MAKING OUR HOMES CHRISTIAN

LESSON TEXT—Eph. 5:22-6:4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Let us love one another for love is of God.
PRIMARY TOPIC—The Child at Home.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Obedience at Home.

I. The Importance of the Home.

The oldest and most important institution in the world is the family. It is the foundation stone upon which all other institutions are built. In the measure that the home is kept pure and strong will the church, society and the nation be pure and strong.

II. The Makers of the Home.

The foundation upon which the home is built is marriage, and the makers of the home are the man and the woman united in holy wedlock.

III. The Obligations of the Members of the Home.

1. The husband (Eph. 5:25-32).

(1) The husband is to love his wife (v. 25). Observe—

a. The measure of this love is the love of Christ for His church. Christ loved the church so that He gave Himself for it. His was a self-emptying love. The obligation enjoined then on the husband is to manifest that self-emptying love toward his wife.

b. The purpose of this love (vv. 26, 27).

c. The ground of this love (vv. 28-30).

After all, the ground of the husband's love for his wife is his own self. He that loveth his wife loveth himself.

(2) The husband is to be joined unto his wife (v. 31).

When the time comes for a man to establish a home, he leaves his father and mother and is joined to his wife. This results in the creation of the new unity of society.

2. The wife (Eph. 5:22-24).

She is to be subject to her own husband. This is not an arbitrary matter, but it is according to the divine arrangement. It is to be "as unto the Lord." It is important to inquire as to what kind of subjection is enjoined. In order to understand this, we must grasp the figure which the apostle introduces of Christ and the church. Christ's loving the church is without ulterior motive, as true love "seeketh not its own." Since Christ gave Himself for the church, He thus lifted the church into union with Himself and became to it Lord in the power of His love. The church responds to this love by lovingly recognizing the Lordship of Christ. Just as the church graciously comes under the guidance and direction of Jesus Christ does the wife respond to the love of her husband. Headship of the man is the divine order. Headship never suggests "boss-ship" nor governorship. Observe with reference to this subjection—

(a) The motive (v. 22). "As unto the Lord."

(b) The ground (v. 23). "The husband is the head of the wife."

(c) The extent of (v. 24). "In everything."

3. The children (6:1-3).

The divine purpose in the union of the male and the female in the bonds of holy wedlock is the propagation of the race. When God pronounced His benediction upon the first pair He said, "Be fruitful and multiply."

(1) Obedience to parents (v. 1).

The ground of this obedience is the fact that the parents stand in the place of God to the child.

(2) Honor the parents (v. 2).

Obedience to parents is limited to the period of immaturity. When the children take their place in the establishment of new units in society they are no longer under obligation to obey their parents. Two gracious promises are attached to this commandment, that it may be well with thee and that thou mayest live long on the earth.

4. The parents (v. 4).

(1) Provoke not your children to wrath.

This doubtless means that in the exercise of parental authority there should be avoidance of irritation.

(2) To bring them up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

Religious Instruction

PASS BRIDGE BILL

Senate Puts O. K. on Palmyra-Tacony Span

The Edge-Connoly bill, granting consent of Congress to the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Company, to build and operate a toll bridge across the Delaware river between Palmyra in Burlington county and Tacony in the outskirts of Philadelphia was passed by the Senate Tuesday.

The bill was introduced simultaneously in the house in December by Congressman James W. Connoly, of Philadelphia and in the senate by Senator Walter E. Edge, of New Jersey. It gives the bridge company, which was organized by the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company, authority to build a toll bridge to cost $4,000,000. It is expected the bill will be passed by the house shortly.

T. B. Declines

Coincident with the decline of tuberculosis among cattle and hogs is an official report of a decreasing human death rate from the disease, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The low mortality of children under four years may be attributed in part to the aggressive campaign for testing tuberculosis cattle and disposing of animals affected with the disease.

The soybean acreage of this country increased from less than 500,000 acres in 1917 to about 2,200,000 acres in 1924, says the United States Department of Agriculture. The product of 1,000,000 acres was used for hay, that of 700,000 acres for pasture and ensilage, and 500,000 acres was used for seed. This increase in acreage is largely due to the development of better-adapted varieties. The total value of the soy-bean crop in 1924, the last year for which data are available, was $18,360,000 and of this value the new varieties were responsible for a little more than half.

COUNTY DETECTIVES NOT IDLE LAST YEAR

Interesting Data Compiled to Show Results Obtained During the Past Year

That the County Detective's office has been busy during the past year is evidenced by the record of results compiled in the office for the twelve months ending December 31.

This compilation treats solely of cases passing through the County Detective's office, on which Detective Parker, Carabine and Cain were at work:

Five were committed to the Girls' Home.

Seven to the Reformatory.

Twelve received sentences to the county jail for violations of the Prohibition law.

Twenty-one received sentences to the county jail for other offenses.

For desertion and neglect, nineteen defendants were sentenced.

Sentences on four are pending.

There are five murder cases to be tried.

Total number of cases disposed of by the Prosecutor's office, 501.

Total fines for the year, $32,755. This sum does not include forfeited bail in the Bridgeboro rum cases, in the amount of $14,000. Of the above amount $20,535 is the total of fines for liquor violations, alone.

Two hundred cases were investigated by the County Detective force.

Michigan State College, founded in 1857, is the oldest agricultural college in the country.

Sheriff Lee on Saturday sold some tracts of land of Charles H. Robeno, in Mansfield township, to Elwood Parker, for $8,000.

The shipwrecked crew of the schooner Lydia, of Tuckerton, with J. E. Otis, who was on the vessel, have reached their homes.

John R. Howell has leased the residence of Dr. Haines, of Medford, and will not desert the village that stood by him so generously for Surrogate.

Jones (Edward B.) supplies the boys with skates—for a consideration. Examine his stock. Also pistols for the larger boys. There has not been a burglary in town since Jones laid in his stock of shooters.

A strange fact in family affairs—many are now doing without potatoes, or using them as a rarity, on account of the high price of this heretofore indispensable vegetable.

Our young people should not forget the night school opened by Professor Pfouts at his school building on Mount Holly avenue for their accommodation and benefit. The charge is 25 cents per week but none should be kept away on that account, for we have no doubt Professor Pfouts would willingly take in gratuitously any one who may feel unable to pay this small sum, as his object is to do the young people service.

Glancy To Give N. A. D. A. Address

Oakland President to Speak on Ethics of Auto Manufacturing and Marketing

A. R. Glancy, president and general manager of the Oakland Motor Car Co., is to address the National Automobile Dealers' Association at their annual banquet on February 2, 1927 held in connection with the 1927 Chicago Automobile Show.

Mr. Glancy's talk is eagerly looked forward to by everybody in the automotive industry on account of the unique and interesting position he holds in relation to this field in his seven years with the automotive industry he has built up a wide reputation as a sage interpreter of business signs and a shrewd forecaster of the future.

The banquet which features the Tenth Annual Convention of the National Automobile Dealers' Association, will be held Wednesday, February 2, at 6.30 p. m. at Hotel LaSalle, Chicago.

Mr. Glancy announces that he will give a general business talk about the automobile industry, picturing the industry as he sees it and stressing the ethics pertaining to the manufacture and marketing of automobiles.

This subject will be of special interest and importance on account of Mr. Glancy's amazing achievements during the past two years. Under his leadership the Oakland Motor Car Co. advanced from a minor position in the industry, nominally standing in thirteenth position, to one of the seven largest motor car manufacturers in the world.

His regime also saw the development and introduction of the Pontiac Six line a year ago, which in its first year shattered all previous sales and production records for a new car.

Mr. Glancy came to Oakland in the latter part of 1924 as vice-president and assistant General Manager. He advanced to the presidency and general managership, in January 1925, when George H Hannum, then president and general manager took up his new duties as mechanical assistant to Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of General Motors Corporation.

Mr. Glancy has been associated with General Motors since 1920 when he became general manager of the Samson Tractor Co., of Janesville, Wisconsin, then a General Motors unit. Prior to 1920, and since his graduation from Lehigh University in 1903, he has been constantly with E. I. duPont de Nemours and Company.

During the World War he had charge of construction of the Old Hickory Power plant of the du Pont Company at Nashville Tenn., the largest plant of this nature constructed in this country during hostilities. In the past 20 years Mr. Glancy has filed many high executive positions with the duPont and General Motors interests.

"Don't laugh at those who make mistakes,
And stumble on the way,
For you are apt to follow them,
And almost any day.
Don't think the others shifting sand
While you are solid rock,

"Co-Respondent" Falls Dead After Divorce

Man Named by Palmyra Husband is Victim of Apoplexy

Edgar Cunningham, fifty-seven years old, of 453 Mechanic street, Camden, who last Thursday, was named co-respondent in a divorce suit, fell dead of apoplexy early Friday night at Broadway and Kaighn street, one of Camden's busiest corners.

Cunningham testified in Camden Chancery Court in the divorce proceedings instituted by Edward Davis of Palmyra, against Irene Davis. The divorce was granted.

Davis' suit against his wife was based on the grounds that Cunningham kissed the plaintiff's wife too often. Cunningham claimed that his caresses were "fatherly," and that he had "thought nothing" of the kisses he so freely bestowed.

Davis charged his wife with desertion. Declaring that she left him without cause on April 24, 1924. Davis said his wife had long been friendly with Cunningham and that on one occasion he saw her sitting on his knees and kissing him. He further alleged that on another time he came home unexpectedly and found his wife and "Daddy" together in a bedroom but did not see anything out of the way.

"Daddy" denied that Mrs. Davis ever sat on his lap and in explaining his presence in the bedroom with Mrs. Davis said a radio set he had built for her had gone wrong and he had gone to the room to make the necessary adjustments the set being in the room.

In granting the decree Vice Chancellor Leaming said Mrs. Davis had the opportunity of making a choice between her husband and Cunningham and that she had chosen Cunningham.

Automobile thefts in the United States during 1925 amounted to $200,000,000. One-fifth of the stolen cars were never recovered.

THREE MILLIONTH CHEVROLET IS COACH

Third Million Cars Produced in Little More Than A Year

Marking the latest spectacular achievement in its history as the world's largest builder of three speed tranmission cars, the Chevrolet Motor Car Company today, announces the production of its 3,000,000,000th car. The epoch-marking model, which happened to be a coach, was driven off the production line at the Flint plant by W. S. Knudsen, president of the Chevrolet Motor Company. The first passenger was C. F. Barth, vice president in charge of production.

Finished in the St. James gray Duco and fashionably striped in Pistache green, the milestone car flashed off the production line with scarcely more formality than attended the debut of number 3,000,001, which followed nine seconds later.

Third Grade

The third grade is keeping a day-by-day health chart. Each row is striving for 100% on each of the four counts. Each day one count will be added.

A spelling chart showing individual progress has been started this week. The class is trying to decorate the Bulletin Board with winter pictures of their own choosing brought from home.

In our school we have been sending portfolios to other countries. Our grade has sent one to Hawaii. It is about the Sesqui-Centennial. Every person in our grade volunteered to write a composition about something which they thought was especially interesting. When all the compositions are finished, we are going to put them into the portfolio and send it to Hawaii. Last year's seventh grade sent a portfolio to Japan and received one in return. The school enjoyed this Japanese portfolio and we all hope to receive one from Hawaii, in return.

We have been notified that Japan has received the portfolio sent them by the 8th grade.

Alice Bartley, Grade 7

LETTERS

In composition the Sixth Grade are writing letters. At present we are trying to find the addresses of friends and relatives who live in Europe. Our idea is to write to one of these people. Our first question is "Why are we writing this letter?" We are writing this letter because we are studying about Europe in Geography. The next question is "What shall we write?" We decided we would writ about our school, the activities of our school and our town.

We thought we could get more accomplished if we worked in groups. These being formed each group was assigned one of these topics. We are to write paragraphs telling things which we think will be interesting. The paragraphs will all form one letter. A copy of it will be sent to each of our new friends in Europe. Our group topic is "The Activities of Our School." We are going to make our letter as interesting as possible, so that our letters will be answered. We can feel as though we have real friends in this continent which is the home of our ancestors.

Elizabeth Mayfield, 8th Grade

FIFTH GRADE SPELLING

During the month of January we have been paying more attention to our spelling. In December Miss Chew gave us a test of words we had not studied. Mrs. Murgatroyd made a chart showing our marks and how many passed. We had the same test again after we had studied it and another chart. Every test we have now we have a chart for it. There has been a great deal of improvement since Mis. Chew's test and we are getting along nicely in spelling and are trying to continue doing our best.

Estella Gale, 5th Grade

EIGHTH GRADE GEOGRAPHY

This year in Geography we have studied two very interesting continents, Africa and Australia. We studied Africa first covering the continent from Tunis to the Cape of Good Hope, so we feel we have the main facts for our state exams.

Australia also proved to be an interesting continent for study. Now we are studying our own country again after a brief review of North American physical features.

We have received a "New Jersey Supplement" from Miss Staman, our Geography teacher and are studying our native state.

Wesley Hemphill, Grade 8

PHYSIOLOGY

The Physiology class of the Eighth Grade is of no little importance to the students. Up to this time we have been studying about our body, our muscles and blood system. We have learned how to sit, stand and walk correctly and also how the heart works.

In our last lesson we wrote menus; This is to let us see what food contains, so that we can eat the most nutritious foods.

Irene Sippel, Grade 8

PHYSICAL TRAINING

Physical Training is one of our lessons. It occurs three times a week, Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday. On Monday we have a special teacher, but the rest of the day we have our regular teacher. The seventh and eighth grades have it together. When it is clear, we have our lesson out of doors. But when it is bad weather, we have it inside. Some times after our work is finished, we play games. One of our favorite games is Volley Ball. Both the boys and girls have special exercises in class. The girls are also learning some folk dances.

Irene Conwell, Grade 8B

MANUAL TRAINING

This year the boys have a new manual training shop. As the school is unusually crowded this year, part of the auditorium has been partitioned off and this is used as a manual training shop. The first grade is now occupying our old shop. I am sure the boys appreciate the valuable time given to them by their teacher Mr. Benner, who is a fine carpenter and an equally good instructor.

This year so far we have cut out and made pelicans, clothes trees, trays, sewing stands, book stands and now most of the boys are working on taborets.

Archi Seabrook, Grade 8

PROJECT WORK

The December Project Work of the fifth B grade was mostly based on good health habits. The children made cards and checked up on their rules for health. They tried to form good health habits that will be so strong as to remain with them for the years to come. Individual poster work contributed by different members of the class was exhibited on the Bulletin Board in the room.

Irene Sippel and Jane Blackwell, Grade 8

ENGLISH

The first things we studied in Grammar were kinds of sentences, phrases and clauses which we feel we have thoroughly delineated and analyzed as we have spent two months on them. We are now studying nouns and have learned the main facts.

In composition we have written essays, conversations, biographies, descriptions, short stories and are now writing expositions. We have also given oral speeches and critisms.

We have studied many different types of stories, poems and essays in Literature this year. One of the book we use contains classic literature and the other modern. On discussions in the class period are most interesting. A book list has been posted in each room of the seventh and eighth grades from which we choose a book to read and report on each month.

Wesley Hemphill,
Harold Sommer, Grade 8

ARITHMETIC

In our eighth grade we studied some of the simpler facts in geometry. We then learned how to find the areas of triangles and various quadrilaierals. This work gave us considerable trouble though we finally conquered it. We continually keep before us the need for review on fundamentals. Our most recent work covers areas and circumferences of circles.

Hilda Hellings.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

January 18th is the big important date, toward which the attention of all members of First Lutheran Church is directed. At eight o'clock in the evening of that day we shall hold our annual congregational meeting. Such business of the year as can be transacted only by the whole congregation will be presented. Among items of business will be the annual election of officers. Four councilmen are to be elected to serve for a three-year term. The council has made four nominations and the congregation is privileged to make nominations before the election in the congregational meeting.

What is the standing of our church? Are we going forward or backward? Along what lines have we progressed? Wherein have we failed as a congregation? For what are we to be commended? Questions similar to these may have passed through your mind. You may have often wondered about this and about that. The reports of councilmen and committees will be most interesting to any, even if they be only moderately interested in the church. The calendar year just passed has been a very eventful one in the history of First Lutheran Church. Within it two regular pastors have served and many supplies. There have been many changes in other ways. It has been a most interesting year and will receive a thorough summing up. But you are urged to be present at this important meeting not only for what you are to hear, but also for what you can do and say yourself, in the way of suggestion or motion. Remember the date, Tuesday evening January 18th, at eight o'clock.

The regular Sunday School period at ten o'clock next Sunday morning followed by service of public worship at 11.15. At this service the choir will render the anthem. "Even Me" by Warren. In the evening service at 7.45, the choir will sing Turner's "Sun of My Soul."

Young People's Meeting at 6.45 Sunday evening. The New Year has surely smiled upon our young people's society. In the last two Sundays the attendance has been almost trebled over that which it was formerly. "Zest for the Best" typifies the enthusiasm which has been shown in the meetings. Our church can well depend upon young people of such a spirit.

Mid-week prayer service at eight o'clock Thursday evening. We shall continue the studies in the history of the early church. The informal discourse for the coming meeting will be on the subject of the "First Christian Council." The church councils have played a very great part in the history of the church. Nearly every religious usage which we have, has been instituted or regulated by church councils, which have met from the earliest days of apostolic Christianity. Here we have an interesting study as to what the occasion, the transactions, and the results of this first Christian council, were.

The catechetical classes will meet on Friday as usual. The junior class at the parsonage, 718 Lincoln avenue, at four in the afternoon and the senior at seven o'clock in the church.

A big "Red Letter" day in our church's calendar of winter activities, will be the observance of "Boy Scout Sunday," February 6th, at which time our church's scout troop will be the special guests. The service and sermon will be in keeping with movement of Boy Scout work. We are justly proud that our church may share in this important work.

EPISCOPAL

Christ Church, Parry Ave.
Rev. G. J. McCormack, Rector

The Bishop's Crusade commenced on Sunday last and very encouraging reports are already to hand.

From coast to coast mass meetings are being held in every large centre and a real effort is being made by the whole church to bring the Gospel of Christ to men and women.

It is emphasized on all hands that this is the biggest thing the Episcopal Church has ever attempted, and we hope and confidently expect that every member of this great historic Church will eagerly respond. America for Christ is our watchword.

Six places in the Diocese of New Jersey have been appointed as rallying points. St. Paul's Church, Camden, Market at Fifth street, is our local centre. Sunday night at 7.30 p. m. we commence our week of endeavor in St. Paul's. Bishop Barnwell of Idaho, and Dr. Van Allen of the Church of the Advent, Boston, being the speakers. There will be no evening service at Christ Church in order that everyone may have an opportunity to attend the opening meeting.

The evening service during the week will commence at 8 p. m. Monday to Friday inclusive, all at St Paul's.

Make this a week of whole souled preparation that we may go forth and show to all men our love for and faith in Christ our Saviour and our King!

Services on Sunday as follows:
Holy Communion 7.30 a. m.
Morning Prayer and Sermon 10.30
Subject "Seeing and Worshipping."

THE WESLEYAN CLASS

The address last Sunday by the Rev. Mr. Whitton was very much enjoyed by the audience which taxed the seating capacity of the class room to the limit. Next Sunday morning, Ralph Rivers, Chairman of the Boy Scout Committee of Palmyra will address the class on "Service and the Boy Scouts." From his contact with the work, Mr. Rivers is well qualified to talk on this subject and it should be of especial interest to all fathers or men interested in boys, which would include all men in the community.

MRS. CLARA STELLWAGON

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK ?

By Edson R. Waite,
Shawnee, Oklahoma

THAT they shorten distance from farm to market.

THAT the delivery of farm products to the market at all times of the year is made possible by good roads.

THAT they bring the producer and consumer closer together.

THAT they develop communities.

THAT they bring in new people.

THAT they are an aid to farming

THAT they increase the value of both city and country property.

THAT they make it possible to use the motor truck for all short hauls.

THAT they cut automobile maintenance.

THAT they connect the large population centers.

THAT they increase the value of suburban homes and make it possible for the establishment of poultry, dairy and truck farms because of the convenience of transporting the products to market.

THAT good roads must be kept to the forefront as one of the most progressive enterprises to which any community can direct its energy and resources.

GOOD ROADS are the best investment any community ever made because good roads build good, prosperous communities.

Sheep and cattle herds need the little pasturage left in Montana and Oregon and because of this fact thousands of wild horses are to be hunted down and killed by ranchers.

More than 1,500,000 square feet of floor space are being added to the present plants of the Oakland Motor Car Company at Pontiac, Michigan, which will be devoted exclusively to the manufacture of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes.

$15,000,000 more
to meet the demand for Oakland and Pontiac Sixes

Scarcely twelve months ago Oakland was only one of many manufacturers striving for preeminence. Today it ranks among the largest builders of motor cars in the world. Responsible for this tremendous growth have been a continuous series of triumphs resulting in a record-breaking 212% increase in business over 1925.

212% Increase
1925 Production 43,018
1926 Production 134,089
Oakland and Pontiac Sixes

With the advent of the past year, came the introduction of the Pontiac Six. So great was the demand it created, that in six months Pontiac Six production had exceeded the greatest full year record previously scored by a new make of car. And by the end of the year, with Pontiac production reaching 76,523 cars, that record had been surpassed by more than 100%! In July came the Greater Oakland Six with 77 refinements, featured by that epochal engineering development—the Rubber-Silenced Chassis. And in every section of the land, Oakland sales leaped upward, necessitating the unprecedented production of 57,566 Oakland Sixes—nearly 15,000 more than in 1925—and surpassing any previous record in Oakland's twenty year history.

Now, with its position securely established, Oakland-Pontiac bids for new and greater heights—for over fifteen millions of dollars are being invested to provide for greater production.

In the strictest sense, this huge investment represents more than an expression of confidence by General Motors in Oakland principles of design, manufacture and distribution.

It stands as a tangible pledge to the public at large that in fundamental goodness and fundamental value Oakland Six and Pontiac Six will continue supreme in their fields!

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to 1295. All prices at factory. Bodies by Fisher. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

Fuel Engineering!

A REMARKABLE feature of modern industry is the extension of the use of gas in manufacturing processes where heat is required and efficiency, cleanliness and economy make for a more perfect product.

The use of gas permits a higher degree of temperature control than is possible with any other fuel and for that reason is in favor with a constantly increasing number of our more progressive manufacturers.

Public Service places at the disposal of plant operators who may desire to investigate the possibilities of gas as applied to their manufacturing problems the services of a corps of Fuel Engineers technically trained and experienced in their work, for consultation and advice.

DETECTIVE CITES JUDGE IN FIGHT ON SALARY BOOST

Judge Slaughter Asked To Tell Why He Refused To Sign Order

LANGUAGE OF LAW SAID TO BE AMBIGUOUS

Echoes of the mandamus proceedings brought by Detective Parker for an increase in salary and a recollection of the conspiracy cases tried last year were heard at the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday.

Freeholder Fisher called attention to the mandamus proceedings started by County Detective Ellis H. Parker, and citing Judge Slaughter to show cause why Mr. Parker's salary should not be increased from $3,300 to $4,000. He offered the following resolution: "Resolved, that the Board of Freeholders request the attendance of the county solicitor at Trenton on January 18, before Judge Frank T. Lloyd, in defense of such county interests as may be involved." The resolution was unanimously carried.

At the hearing on Tuesday the case was continued until March to give both sides an opportunity to present evidence.

When the bill of A. V. Manning & Sons, warehousement, of Trenton, was presented, it brought recollections of the famous conspiracy cases heard in Burlington county last year. The bill was for $50 and was for the use of the company's trucks in carting samples of the liquor taken from the "William Blades" and which were stored at the Wilburta Barracks of the state police, it being necessary to have the twenty-five or more cases of assorted liquors in court as evidence. The bill has never been paid. It was referred to Solicitor Wells for investigation.

Another old bill that was presented was that of Joseph S. Low, with offices in Camden, which was sent through the office of Prosecutor Hillman for searches the attorney made in Camden county in order to find out the financial standing of several foreigners who had become bondsmen in this county. The bill was for $50 and was incurred during the term of ex-Prosecutor Kelsey. This was also placed in the hands of the solicitor for investigation.

Should erring husbands who have deserted their wives and families be brought back at the expense of the county? This is a question that has puzzled Prosecutor Hillman for some months and for a second time he appeared before the Board of Freeholders and requested an opinion of the members as to how far he should go in bringing back these deserters. While he said that it was his duty to see that the laws are enforced, he felt that the board should share the responsibility with him as the county would have the bills to pay. Solicitor Wells, Mr. Heisler, of the department of finance, and Mr. Lippincott, of the department of affairs will decide the issue.

John W. Bottcher president of the Burlington County Board of Agriculture, requested an increase in the amount allowed in the budget for agricultural work from $8,000 to $8,400, the $400 representing an increase in salary of $200 for Charles A. Thompson and $200 for L. R. Smith, heads of the County Farm Bureau. The members of the board assured Mr. Bottcher that they would give the matter consideration.

Robert Peacock, representing the American Legion, again requested that the new Washington street bridge in Mount Holly, which was recently opened, be dedicated to all the young men who died in the service during the World War. He was informed that this was the intention of the freeholders. Mr. Peacock then suggested that the American Legion would be glad to take charge of the dedicatory program on any date the freeholders suggested, and announced that Gil Rob Wilson, of Trenton, an orator of note, had signified his willingness to come here and make the memorial address.

A few months ago John S. Haines, of Mount Holly, representing the local order of Moose, suggested to the board that the new bridge be dedicated as the "William H. Caldwell Memorial Bridge," in honor of a Mount Holly boy who was the first from this locality to make the supreme sacrifice during the World War. Caldwell was a member of the Moose lodge. The freeholders thought very well of the proposition but later a suggestion came to them from the American Legion to the effect that the bridge be dedicated to all the young men from Mount Holly who met death in France.

William S. Gingling, secretary of the Burlington County Firemen's Association, sent a communication to the board calling attention to the fact that the association, composed of forty-three fire companies in the county had indorsed Former Sheriff Edward H. Flagg, for county fire warden, as provided for in a recent law passed by the Legislature. On motion of Freeholders Heisler the communication was laid on the table.

County Superintendent of Schools Louis J. Kaser was granted permission to attend the National Convention of County School Superintendents, which will be held at Dallas, Texas, the last week in February.

Permission was given Riverside firemen to open a county road in front of their new firehouse for the installation of a water connection.

Bills ordered paid, follows: Roads $7,092.28; bridges, $385.67; buildings, $21,470.48; public affairs, $1,488.18, finance, $1,140 96; total, $41,577.57.

Mrs. Annie Brown and Mrs. Alice Perkins, representing the League of Women Voters of Moorestown, were present to see the board in action.

LEGION NOTES

Last Thursday evening the Post Rodgers American Legion Bugle and Drum corps held its regular rehearsal in the Legion Hall. Monday another rehearsal was held and a business meeting took place afterwards. At this meeting it was decided to have a regular business meeting once a month.

Plans to secure the High School auditorium for practice proved futile and now the corps is trying to obtain the gym of the Methodist church for its rehearsals.

Tonight the Bugle and Drum Corps will go to Mount Holly, where it was invited by the Mount Holly post to give a rehearsal as the County Seat boys plan to form a Bugle and Drum Corps.

St. Joseph's Will Visit St. Leo

Local Council K. of C. Planning Big Time When It Visits Across The River

The exemplification of the first degree on last Tuesday evening was witnessed by 60 members. The newly initiated brothers were warmly received by Grand Knight Yearly and in welcoming them to the Order the Grand Knight briefly outlined to them their duties as good Knights of Columbus.

John Burk, of Camden, gave a most interesting talk on the Mexican situation and stated that it was the duty of every Knight of Columbus to become well versed in the real facts concerning the cause of the disturbance in Mexico so that the truth may be spread among the people of the United States and consequently a quick solution of the problems brought about.

Final plans for the trip across the river to St. Leo's of Tacony were announced. The date is Thursday, January 20th, and buses and cars will leave the K. of C. home at 7.30 p. m. Up until Tuesday evening 67 Knights had promised to make the trip. St. Leo's Council has secured the new school hall for the occasion because plans have been made to take care of the entire membership of St. Joseph's Council which is 112. These along with a full turn-out of St. Leo's whose membership roll contains 342 names would make things a little crowded in their own headquarters.

One of the feature parts of the program for the evening will be baseball talks by Ira Thomas of the "A's" and with him will be some other members of Connie Mack's "White Elephants."

Harry C. Sim, chairman of the coming show, announces the selection of various committees to handle the affair:

Executive: Harry C. Sim, chairman, John L. Strohlein, Harry R Bradshaw, Thomas McCrosson, William Eck.

Programme: Joseph Schuler, Sr. John Ruppert, Frank Kirchner, August Weber, John Tait, John Ford, Theo. Schneider, George Zink Thomas Ford, Adolph Strohlein Francis Shinkle and Frank Holvick

The date for the presentation of the show is Friday, February 25th in the Palmyra High School Auditorium.

The challenge to Merchantville's Council to match their skill against St. Joseph's Council in pool, shuffle boards, quoits and pinochle has been accepted and the local Knights will meet those from Merchantville in the K. of C. Home, Palmyra on Thursday night January 27th.

SNOW ORDINANCE WILL BE ENFORCED

Fifty Riverton Residents Summoned To Appear Before Recorder Friday

Director of Public Safety Edward R. Williams said last winter that if he was given a snow ordinance with teeth in it he would see that the sidewalks in Riverton were completely free from snow and ice. He was given the ordinance and the sidewalks after one of the heaviest snows in many years are clean. Some pavements that in former years were guiltless of a shovel from the first snow fall until the robins sang in the Spring were cleaned this week.

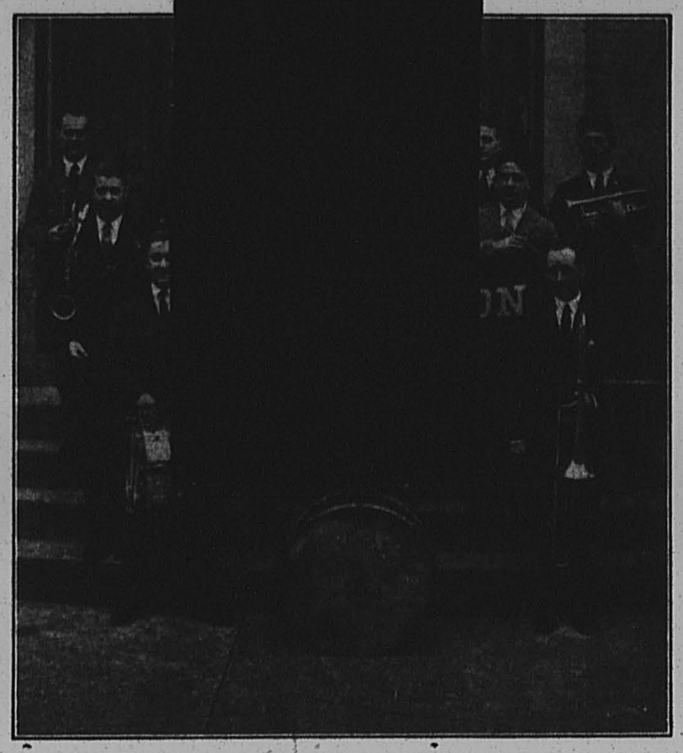
There were quite a number of residents, however, who either overlooked the teeth in the ordinance or thought the Director's pronouncement that its provisions must be lived up to was only a repetition of the cry "Wolf. Wolf," for they allowed the shining crystals to lie undisturbed, until they were served with a summons on Monday and Tuesday to appear before the Borough Recorder on Friday to explain why they had failed to join the ranks of "The Merry Shovelers."

Russell Hylton was deputized to carry glad tidings so that serving the notices did not interfere with the duties of the regular officers.

Of course there was a howl, and an exciting time is expected at 2 o'clock on Friday when an even half hundred violators of the snow ordinance will appear before Recorder Troth at the fire house.

Director Williams announced on Tuesday that the summons could be answered by the woman of the household if the man was unable to attend the hearing.

If you get the righ perspective, life is interesting even when it's the most perplexing.



The Burlington County YMCA Orchestra will be on hand at the Father and Son banquet Friday evening.

Colonel Carleton Addresses Rotary

Executive Officer of 78th Division Refutes Arguments Against Preparedness

"Falacies of Pacificism" was the subject of an address delivered by Colonel William Carleton, Executive Officer of the 78th Division, made before the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club in the Porch Club, Riverton, at an almost perfect attendance on Thursday evening last.

The Colonel very emphatically refuted the statements made against War Preparedness by the so-called pacificits, stating that the origin of such statements could be traceable to the territorial limits of "Moscow."

The fact that the United States is almost isolated by water is one of the reasons offered against the necessity of preparedness "With the vast navy of England and Japan alone, to which they are adding continually," said the Colonel, "our country with its small standing army could never prevent an attack."

That preparedness provokes war as was proven in the case of Germany was refuted on the grounds that Germany was preparing for war, with that as its objective and therefore was preparing for an offense rather than a defense. "If we will just turn back the pages of history" Col. Carleton remarked "we will find that in no case did our United States get into war through preparedness. We have never fought except for principle and in the case of the World War a vast number of lives could have been saved but for the lack of preparedness.

World Court

This is another reason presented by the pacificist. "Very few people realize just how the World Court functions" said the Colonel. "In a dispute between Nations, the matter is presented to the world court for its judgment and action. In any event where one country is exonerated and the other told that they are in the wrong, this does not settle the dispute. It only decides the right from the wrong and in no way prevents the nation being wronged to start a war. What we need is a board of arbitration which will listen to these controversies and offer a remedy.

"United States doe not, never did and never will want war. What we want is only what we need--a standing army of sufficient strength and well trained in order to meet the emergency.

"If every Nation could feel as does the United States, there would be little doubt as to the need of preparedness but so long as the chaotic conditions exist in the foreign nations, the interests of our country and the life of every American is endangered. Wars and wars and rumors of wars are current and we must believe and be prepared" reiterated the Colonel.

Colonel Carleton was tendered quite an ovation at the conclusion of his remarks by the Rotarians who pledged their support in rectifying the rumors and false statements that are being circulated against preparedness.

WOMEN BOWLERS IN EXCITING FINISH

Mrs. Ayres' Team Captures Roll-Off With Mrs. Mattis's Experts

The women's first bowling tournament at the Riverton Country Club ended January 10th. The interest was keen all through, and the final match was a tie between Mrs. Winfield Ayres' team and Mrs. Ogden Mattis's team.

In the roll-off of three more games Mrs. Ayres' team won two games, giving her a lead, and winning the tournament. Mrs. Mattis placed second, Miss E. R. Miller third and Mrs. H. S. Coe fourth.

The high game of 170 by Miss Miller was surpassed the last day of the tournament by Mrs. Dixon Taylor with 171.

There are some very good bowlers among the women and it is expected to give Cynwyd a good match a little later in the season.

The second tournament started January 17th and will end in April.

Ex-Governor Tells Women of Advantages of "Good Old Days"

The Porch Club was crowded to its doors Tuesday afternoon when the League of Women Voters of Riverton and Palmyra, a section of the Club, entertained the Club members and a number of distinguished guests.

Mrs. Joseph T. Evans opened the meeting and introduced Mrs. George Wonfor, of Palmyra, chairman of the day. Mrs. Wonfor introduced the following guests: Mrs. Herbert R. G. Mrs. Wonfor spoke of the desire of the League to entertain the Club members, and Mrs. R. F. Corry, president of the Porch Club, responded, expressing for the Club, their appreciation of the afternoon.

Mrs. George H. Becker, of Palmyra, rendered several piano solos and Mrs. William P. Chalfant, of Pitman, gave two vocal selections, accompanied by Mrs. Frank A. Bell, of Riverton.

After the luncheon Ex-Governor E. C. Stokes, candidate for United States Senator, and J. P. Salter, professor of political science at Ursinus College, Collegeville, Pa., spoke on the subject of Direct and Indirect Primaries, both giving reasons for and against this system, but the Ex-Governor advocating the convention system and Prof. Salter favoring the primary as we have it today.

A bill is before the present Legislature to change from the direct to the indirect primary, or convention method of choosing candidates, which if passed by the Legislature, will be presented for ratification at the next election.

Lions Ready for Charter Night

Service Club Notables Will Assist In Formal Institution Tuesday

Final plans were made Tuesday evening for the big Charter Night banquet of the Palmyra Lions Club which will be formally instituted next Tuesday evening in the First Lutheran Church banquet hall with much ceremony.

Leading State officials in Lionism will be present in force and the Mayors of Palmyra and Riverton and big delegations of Service Clubs members, such as Rotary and Kiwanis, from Riverton, Riverside, Merchantville, Camden and other South Jersey towns will help swell the number of those present.

An interesting program of entertainment and speaking has been arranged by Lion Tail Twister Frank Kates and a splendid menu is to be served by the Ladies of the Lutheran Church. The famous team of entertainers, "Four Lads O' Melodie" will provide the music. Altogether the occasion promises to be the most gala affair held in the Twin Cities for many a day.

Talks on Charity

At last Tuesday evening's meeting, Wesley S. Lane, chairman of the Riverside United Welfare Association, and Mrs. Alice G. Wentz, one of the most active workers in that organization, were present to explain how organized charity is administered in Riverside.

Since the Lions Club is sponsoring a movement to form a central charity organization for Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson, Mr. Lane and Mrs. Wentz had been invited down to explain just how the plan worked out in the Triple Towns of Riverside, Delanco and Bridgeboro.

Mrs. Wentz asserted that the United Welfare had been the most wonderful organization she had ever known. All the churches, whatever their denomination, and all the twenty-eight fraternal organizations of the Triple Towns were represented in the Association and all of them work together with perfect harmony and unity of purpose. There is no difference of race or creed when it comes to charity, she said.

Mrs. Wentz described a number of pitiable cases which had come to her attention and which the Association had aided in Riverside and stated in addition that she knew there must be need for such an organization in Palmyra and Riverton, inasmuch as she had received calls from this territory.

Three-Fold Purpose

Mr. Lane said the organization in Riverside had a three-fold purpose: first, charity; second, civic improvement, and third cooperation of all other organizations. He spoke of some of the difficulties which must be met and overcome, but was enthusiastic about the work already achieved in Riverside and offered his hearty cooperation with any similar movement in Palmyra and Riverton.

Both Mr. Lane and Mrs. Wentz received the sincere thanks of the Club for their kindness in coming to Palmyra to aid the Lions in their charity project and both were given a rousing vote of appreciation.

George N. Wimer, the new president of the Lions, made a brief address upon assuming his office.

He said he had heard much of service and service clubs, but feared that service was too often spelled "serve-us."

From what he had seen of the Lions club, said Mr. Wimer, Lions spell service correctly and he was proud to be president of an organization with such ideals at heart.

The real good citizen, declared Mr. Wimer, is not necessarily the man who merely supports his family well and is known as a decent sort of a fellow. Too often such a man never does a thing for his fellow man or the community in general.

The man who is willing to work and sacrifice for the good of the community at large is, after all, the really "Good Citizen" and of such types of men the Lions Club must be composed.

The new president asserted that he could accomplish nothing as the head of the club without the sincere and hearty cooperation of every member, but with such cooperation the Palmyra-Riverton Lions would be bound to do much for the real service of the community.

ASSESSOR PROTESTS RAISE IN SALARY OF BOROUGH CLERK

Says Boost In Pay is Unfair to Other Officials Who Have More Work to Do

"IS IT A GIFT, OR DOES HE EARN IT?" ASKS COLE

The $150 a year raise in the clerk's salary was the storm center at the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night.

Assessor Robinet Cole appeared before the governing body and protested against the raise on the ground that the work done by the clerk did not warrant the extra pay. The assessor, he said, who had a great deal more work to do, received only $700, the same as the new salary for the clerk, and the collector and treasurer got only $900.

"Is it a gift" said Mr. Cole, "or do you think he is really entitled to the raise?"

Mr. Cole pointed out that Beverly paid its clerk $300, Riverside $600, Palmyra, which is twice the size of Riverton, $600. In Palmyra the assessor gets $1000 and the collector $1250. This, Mr. Cole said, was more nearly the right proportion of pay based on the service rendered, as in every other town the assessor is paid more than the clerk. Mr. Cole further said that while his salary is $700 a year it only nets him about $620 for the reason that three months in the year he is obliged to hire extra help in order to keep the work caught up.

Cole Accuses Clifton

Mr. Cole created something of a sensation when he said that the last time Clerk Clifton tried to get a raise in salary he suggested to council that it be taken off the assessor and given to him. This Mr. Clifton denied, but "Bob" declared that he was present at the time the suggestion was made and heard it.

Mr. Showell defended the increase by pointing out that the clerk was required to handle the money for paying off the workmen employed by the borough, and Councilman Bartley said that the clerk had complained that the salary was not sufficient to cover the extra work.

Mr. Cole countered by saying that when the collector had this work saddled on him no extra compensation was paid.

Mr. Clifton said that Mr. Evans, the collector, had offered him $100 a year to take this work off his hands. This Mr. Evans promptly denied. He said that while he asked the clerk if he would do the work if he paid him for it, no amount was mentioned.

Councilman Lynch said he understood that Riverton was underpaying the clerk, but Mr. Cole replied that if the proposed raise went through Riverton would be paying proportionately more than any of the surrounding towns.

Councilman Williams said the collector, assessor and clerk had all rendered efficient service and should be paid what their work was worth.

Cole Not Seeking Raise

Councilman Bartley asked Mr. Bartley asked Mr. Cole if he was asking for a raise for himself. Mr. Cole replied that he was not, that he knew the salary when he became a candidate for the office, and that to make a contract with the borough and live up to it was one thing, but that to accept an appointment at a known salary and then "belly-ache" about the work was something else. When it came to extra work, Mr. Cole said, since he became assessor six pages had been added to the book of assessments. Council knew of the increase in his work, he said, and he felt if the members thought he was entitled to more pay they would give it to him.

Mr. Welsh told Mr. Cole that council thought the clerk was worth $700 a year, and suggested that if Mr. Cole would leave the whole matter with council the situation would be gone over to see what to do about the other salaries.

When the ordinance granting the raise in salary came up for final action it was unanimously passed. It was intended to add the duties of supervisor of streets to the clerk's office, and the original draft of the salary-fixing ordinance contained no fee for the supervisor. It was learned, however, that the clerk could not hold two offices, and the ordinance as finally passed contained $25 for a supervisor.

The "Extra Work"

The "extra work" about which all the discussion centered, is handling the money for paying off every week the men who are employed by the various departments of the borough, chiefly highway, sewer and borough property. Since council meets but once a month it is necessary to make some arrangement by which laborers can be paid weekly. The method adopted was to set aside at each monthly meeting a sum sufficient to meet the payroll during the month. Each week the one who handled this money paid for labor on certified bills from the various departments that had been served.

The problem arose the first of last year, when the highway department bought equipment and started to do its own work instead of having it done by local contractors as in the past. No provision was made for the clerical work connected with the new method, and when an effort was made to find out who should become "paymaster," Mr. Welcker, representing the borough auditors, advised that it belonged to the borough clerk, who handled it for one month. The mayor then announced that the disbursement of borough funds fell to the lot of the treasurer, and despite his protests that it took time he needed for the regular duties of his office, he was directed to perform this work. No additional compensation was provided for. The first of this year the work of paymaster was returned to the clerk, with a raise in his salary of $150 a year.

"FUNNIEST" NEWS ITEM

One of our readers handed us the following, the "funniest" news item they ever read.

"Surrogate Matlack became a cripple on Sunday when both feet went out from under him on an oiled floor at his home and he gave his left lower leg such a blow on the edge of a step that for a while he was sicker than he was well. Since then his locomotion has been done with the aid of a cane."

Safe Investment Day, January 21

President of Bank Points Out the Twelve Common Dangers For Investors

Commenting on the educational value of National Thrift Week, January 17-23, E. L. Williams, president of the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company, called attention to the value of National Safe Investment Day, January 21st. The wise investing of savings is often more important than acquiring the habit of systematic savings because one unwise investment may wipe out many year's savings. The campaign of the Better Busines Bureau throughout the country under the slogan "Before You Invest Investigate' is a good one. Any person with savings to invest should consult a reputable banker before buying securities offered by any salesman. Every progressive banker welcomes inquiries from small investors on such matters.

Beware of the salesman who uses urgent arguments. Twelve of the most common of these used by fake stock salesman usually come under the head of these twelve danger signals:

Twelve Danger Signals

If urged to invest your money, take warning from the presence of any of these conditions:

1. Promise of an unusually high rate of dividends.
2. Unauthorized use of names of successful men.
3. Opportunity to "get in on the ground floor."
4. "Inside tips" and "confidential information."
5. Artificial, fake advances in the price of shares.
6. Promoter who donates services in organizing.
7. Guarantee of profits or of repurchasing stock.
8. Need of funds for "reorganization" or merger.
9. Appeal to keep a good thing from "big fellows."
10. Comparisons with profits of successful firms.
11. Fine-sounding slogans that may not be true.
12. "Facts" in which you suspect exaggeration.

MASONIC MINSTRELS AT RIVERSIDE, JANUARY 21

The second annual minstrel show by the Riverside Masonic Association will be held Friday evening, January 21 and will be the first public performance to take place in the magnificent auditorium of the new Washington street school.

The show this year will be entirely new, with a larger and better cast, with new costumes, songs and jokes that will add lots of snap and color to te performance. The sketch entitled "Food," which made such a wonderful hit last year, will also be put on and will round out an evening's entertainment which promises to be one of the best that Riverside has ever

Brockman Speaks at Church Meeting

Member of National YMCA Councils Talks on Situation in China

Fletcher S. Brockman, of the National YMCA Council, was the speaker at the first Church Federation meeting of the year in Moorestown last Sunday evening. Mr. Brockman was one of the first Secretaries, some twenty-five years ago, to go to China, and in that great country planted the Young Men's Christian Association. In his Moorestown address Mr. Brockman spoke at length concerning conditions in Japan, particularly in connection with a trip he made there a year ago in company with Dr. John R. Mott.

Then he sketched present day conditions in China and his interpretation of their significance. In connection with his work there he told of how, at one time, his head had been ordered off, and also of experiences in connection with various revolutions. Mr. Brockman is now Executive Secretary of the Foreign Work Division of the National Council for China and Korea

Leaders in Conference

In the interest of discussing matters more particularly related to High School YMCA Clubs (known as "Hi-Y" Clubs), such a conference was held recently in Mount Holly with Secretaries Hendry and Ergood from the County "Y" staff in attendance. Following dinner at the YWCA, those present adjourned to the County YMCA office where their discussion was continued.

President George N. Wimer of the Palmyra-Riverton YMCA Board at its January monthly meeting, appointed a Group Work Committee composed of Nathan Lane, Jr., Howard Sordon, Harvey Fisher, and Benjamin Torbett. Chairman Lane issued an invitation for all the leaders of these two towns to come to his home Wednesday evening, January 19, for a conference with his Committee and the members of the County YMCA Secretarial staff, to go over a number of matters pertaining to the development of their work with the boys of their respective Groups. Mr. Lane is also a member of the County Committee and was Chairman for Riverton in the campaign last April for the County Committee's current expense budget.

Boys Lose to Girls

Secretary Hendry was called upon to judge a contest between a group of boys and girls at Jobstown, Friday evening, January 14, using questions which were based on Sunday School lessons of the last quarter The final score was 40-21 in favor of the girls. Following the "academic" feature of the contest, a very exciting game of basketball was played by the groups, and this, in turn, was followed by "eats" contest.

One of the first community-wide activities being sponsored by the Palmyra-Riverton YMCA Board is a Father and Son Banquet which is set up for this Friday evening January 21. The general Chairman for this event is Joshua Bartley who has announced as the principal speaker, Richard Casper Dillmore, Sales Manager of the Remington Typewriter Company. Mr. Dillmore has a very famous address entitled "That Something." J. Porter Ashbrook will lead the singing, and the County "Y" Orchestra will be on hand. The banquet will be held in the Epworth M. E. Church of Palmyra.

E. N. Roselle, Superintendent of the New Jersey State Home for boys at Jamesburg, writes a most appreciative letter for the part of the Burlington County YMCA in seeing to it that Burlington County boys at Jamesburg who would not be remembered Christmas time by friends or relatives were looked after by the County Secretaries.

Assistant County Secretary Clifford W. Ergood has announced his intention of taking unto himself a wife early in February, in fact Wednesday the 9th. Some time ago his engagement to Miss Eleanor Barbera, of Mt. Ephraim, New Jersey, was announced. Mr. Ergood's best man will be John Merwin of Haddonfield who was recently elected successor to Walter H. Scott as Executive Secretary for Camden County.

The next meeting of the County Committee, ordinarily due for the last week in January, has been put forward to Monday evening, February 14 when it is the plan of the Committee to have present the wives of the various members. This meeting will be held at the Community House at Moorestown. Plans are already under way for making it an exceedingly interesting and happy occasion. Some speaker of prominence will be present, and if he is able to accept the invitation already extended to him, that person will be Judge Adrian Lyon of Perth Amboy, Chairman of the General Board of the National Council of the YMCA.

STAGE CELEBRITIES PLAY IN MOORESTOWN

Miss Matthison, Notable Actress, Feature of Ramblers' Program, Tuesday

Next Tuesday, January 25th, will mark a most unusual event in Moorestown. On that evening the Ramblers, in their third program of the season, will present Edith Wynne Matthison, Charles Rann Kennedy and Margaret Gage in Mr. Kennedy's play "The Chastening."

Miss Matthison (Mrs. Kennedy) is generally regarded as one of the few great actresses that the modern stage has produced. It is most fortunate for Moorestown that an artist of her supreme ability can be seen by a local audience. Mr. Kennedy, author of "The Servant in the House," is, in adition to being a distinguished playwright, an actor of rare attainments. And Margaret Gage who is associated with the Kennedys, is one of the most talented young actresses of our day.

"The Chastening," to give its full sub-title, is 'A Play for Parents, Pastor's and Masters, setting forth in Significant Form by the aid of Three Players the Whole Duty of Childhood."

It is expected that the High School auditorium will be filled to overflowing for this event, and it is certain that all who come will be treated to an evening of consummate acting as well as a profoundly absorbing drama.

The performance will begin at 8.30. As at all Ramblers' programs the admission is free. Seats will be reserved for contributors until 8.30 p. m.

Burlington Man in Big Realty Deal

Col. Thomas H. Birch Heads Corporation That Buys Grand Central Palace

Through the efforts of Colonel Thomas H. Birch, of Burlington and New York, former minister to Portugal, and other outstanding men in big world affairs, a plan has been consummated to provide a great American center in New York for all Spanish-speaking peoples of Europe, Central America, South America and the Philippines.

The plan involves the sale of the entire block occupied by the Grand Central Palace and the Park-Lexington building, and is one of the largest real estate deals ever transacted in the history of New York. The sale was announced by Colonel Birch, who is the president of the Trust Company of North America.

Colonel Birch heads the corporation which has purchased the property. The property is to be known as the Casa de las Epsanas, Inc. The corporation includes many prominent Spanish and American business men.

The transaction is said to involve a sum larger than any sale in the real estate world in the past five years with the exception of the Equitable Building.

The plot comprises 81,500 square feet and is bounded by Park and Lexington avenues, and Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh streets. The actual floor areas of the unit comprise 800,000 square feet.

Almost overshadowing the importance of the actual real estate transaction is the foundation effected by this sale of an international liason between the United States and the Spanish and the Latin-American peoples. In the negotiations for the establishment of this project, the co-operation and full support of King Alfonso of Spain and prominent officials of many of the governments of Central and South America were secured. Those high in authority in Washington have also been informed of the significance of the undertaking and it is anticipated that the United States government will co-operate in every way.

To provide an Iberic city within the city of New York under the name of Spain, and to represent not only the 250,000 persons of Spanish descent in New York, but more than two hundred million persons throughout the world of Spanish descent, is one of the several aims of the Casa de las Espanas, Inc., which means "home of the Spanish speaking peoples." This project wil afford a new center of interest for those residents who are natives of Spain, or of any of the Latin-American republics, Porto Rico, Philippine Islands and the Portuguese residents of the city who are natives of Portugal or the Republic of Brazil, as well as those citizens of the United States who are particularly in sympathy with the Iberic peoples.

I've noticed that the farmers who are the most shiftless on regular working days always make a point of working noisily in a field near the road on holidays.

RIVER ROAD MENACE

Delaware Gardens Seeks Remedy on Busy Highway

Recalling the several accidents, some of which placed auto drivers close to death, Delaware Gardens Community Association, at the meeting of Pensauken Township Committee last week, asked the removal of one of the causes.

The association requested the committee's co-operation in having the board of freeholders remedy the bad condition of River road between Fiftieth street and Fifty-second street. At that point the road is undermined and several accidents have happened. The clerk was instructed to send a copy of the communication to the board of freeholders requesting the repair of the road.

An ordinance fixing the salaries of Pensauken township employes was introduced with few changes over last year.

An ordinance providing for the payment of salaries to township employes who may be sick or disabled was introduced. It provides that the full amount of salary be paid during the first two weeks and one-half the amount for the next two weeks. The salary will then be continued until the employe returns to duty.

Property and endowment holdings of the Young Men's Christian Associations in fifty-two countries of the world total more than a quarter of a billion dollars—$255,210,910, to be exact—according to a review of 1926 made public at New York by the National Council of the American YMCA, 347 Madison avenue.

Of the grand total, which is the latest international figure available, $184,033,300 is in the United States, the announcement said. Thirty-seven new buildings and additions to old ones, valued at $15,549,000, were completed and dedicated in the United States and Pacific Islands during 1926, and forty-one others, worth $19,731,000 are now under construction.

Several occurrences during 1926 were construed in the Council's review as indicating greater opportunities for cooperation between the YMCA and the Churches here and abroad, and a closer contact with youth problems.

Greek Archbishop Visits U. S.

Demonstrations by the Greek Eastern Orthodox Church of a desire to cooperate were regarded as especially significant in view of the conservatism of the Greek Church. The Metropolitan Athenagoras attended the 19th World's Conference of YMCA at Helsingfors, Finland, and the Metropolitan Gennadios made an extensive tour of the United States in the interest of the Salonica YMCA.

In the United States, the General Counselling Commission of the Churches, established three years ago to promote better working relations with the YMCA, found its ranks expanded to include twenty of the leading denominatoins. Dr. John R. Mott, who during the year was elected president of the World's Alliance of YMCAs, told the commission that the YMCA is in a better position than ever before to be of service in putting down "ignorance, poverty, disease, and strife."

Efforts by the Association to improve race relations were given public recognition when the Harmon Foundation voted the first of the William E. Harmon awards on religion to Max Yergan, head of the YMCA work among the natives in South Africa, and gave an additional prize of $500 to W. W. Alexander, of Atlanta, Ga., for his work as secretary of the YMCA's Interracial Commission.

At Odds With Communism

The expulsion in October of the Association's representative, Harry D. Anderson, from Moscow, thereby unceremoniously terminating the work in physical education conducted by him under Soviet authority among colleges and universities, was accepted as an indication of the complete "incompatibility of the Christian and Communist programs." No reason was given by the Soviets at the time.

Importance was attached to the World's Conference at Helsingfors because it was the first held since 1913 and because for the first time boys under age had a voice in the proceedings. The conference spent nearly a wek in efforts to "discover new and helpful moral standards" and to heal wartime differences, and colsed with an expression of faith in the ability of youth to solve its own problems.

OVERCOME BY GAS

Three Rendered Unconscious by Fumes Escaping From Main

Three people were rendered unconscious by escaping gas at the home of Frederick J. Waldes, Schooley street, Moorestown, early Monday morning.

Shortly before 2 o'clock Monday morning Ira Jacobs, who resides at the Waldes home, was overcome in attempting to notify the other occupants of the house. Miss Katherine Waldes, the housekeeper, who is a niece of the owner, heard Jacobs fall and aroused her uncle before she was suffocated by the escaping gases.

Mr. Waldes pounded on the wall of the house and aroused his son, Harry, who resides in the other side of the twin home, before falling to the floor unconscious.

The son smelled the fumes of gas as he was awakened by the knocks and first opened the windows of his own home before rushing to the rescue at his father's house. Failing to revive the victims, he summoned neighbors and Dr. B. B. Powell, who quickly brought them back to consciousness.

Employees of the Public Service Gas Company found the gas was entering the Waldes home from a leak in the street main. The first workman attempting to make repairs was nearly overcome and had to be relieved.

Information For Ex-Service Men

Information of Loan Certificates Issued To Veterans Explained

On service men's certificates issued January 1st, 1925, loan values varying between 8c and 9c per $1.00 of "face" became available commencing, January 1st, 1927.

Loan certificates issued at later dates will be available on the date two years from the date of certificate. These loans may be made by any National Bank or Trust Company. There is a severe penalty for any other person except those specified, who makes a loan on this certificate.

It is evident that a great many veterans are taking advantage of this feature of the certificate, without really understanding the certificate. We hope that the post members will discourage as much as possible the thoughtless use of this advantage, for we feel that resources of the veteran which may be very badly needed at some future date, are being dissipated because of the ease with which the loans are procured.

The veteran should take note of the A number which immediately follows his name on the certificate and the certificate number in red at the bottom before surrendering this certificate.

These certificates are to be retained in the bank or at Washington until the loan is repaid. The balance due the veteran is payable in twenty years or at his death, and he therefore should have some record by which he can claim this balance.

A loan of $100.00 if allowed to run for the whole period of eighteen whole years, would amount, with a compound interest charge, to only $285.00, meaning that at the end of the twenty years, the veteran, on a $1500.00 certificate, would still have coming to him $1215.0.

This loan value increases almost 50 per cent each year, in other words, in two more years the veteran would be able to borrow nearly double the amount which he now can borrow. If the certificate is offered as collateral now and the loan is not repaid, a new loan cannot be granted until the certificate is redeemed.

Three Officers Face Charges

Members of the Burlington Police Force Were Suspended Saturday Night

Charged with intoxication while on duty Ira Hance, Thomas Alcott and James Logan, members of the Burlington Police Department, were suspended by Mayor Thomas S. Mooney on Saturday night and must make answer before the police committee of Common Council.

Complaint was made to Captain Wilson Johnson relative to the condition of the men and the police head removed them from the street. Suspension by Mayor Mooney followed.

The police committee is composed of Nathaniel Johnson, of the First Ward; Joseph Brotz, of the Third Ward, and Gilbert Adams, of the Third Ward.

It has been known for some time that there was trouble in the Police Department. There have been numerous rumblings during the past few weeks and from unofficial source came the information that a shake-up was impending.

It has been quite a time since charges were brought against any member of the Police Department and there is keen interest in the outcome of the present case.

There are ten officers in the Police Department, including Captain Johnson. Eight of the men are on duty at night, and two are on duty during the day. The day men alternate at the traffic booth at High and Broad streets.

Monmouth County holds the distinction of having the oldest and one of the most active members in the present Legislature. Assemblyman Peter F. Dodd, of Neptune, is the "daddy" of the House. He will be seventy-four years old next June. A survey of the members shows that the runner-up is James A. McWilliams, of Gloucester County, and he is five years younger than Assemblyman Dodd.

Lloyd Hears Murder Cases

Five Suspects Arraigned at Mt. Holly Last Week Pleaded "Not Guilty"

Four men and a women were brought before Justice Frank Lloyd, of the Supreme Court at Mount Holly last week in a sudden, wholesale arraignment of prisoners who must face trial in four murder cases.

The prisoners, Charles Thompson, of Burlington; Raymond McCord eighteen years old, Beverly; Constanto Masti, fifty-four years old, Mount Holly; Richard Short and Mrs. Ethel Gormley, both colored, of North Hanover Township, were all arrested following investigations by Ellis Parker, county detective.

Justice Lloyd was en route to Toms River when he stopped long enough to hear the five Burlington County suspects enter their pleas to murder indictments. They all pleaded not guilty and were returned to the Burlington County jail to await the date of their trials.

Proceedings Consume 10 Minutes

The prisoners were brought before the court in a group and the entire proceedings consumed but little more than ten minutes.

Thompson will be tried for the murder of William Haywood, thirty-seven years old, of Burlington, who was stabbed to death under mysterious circumstances, May 31, last year. His body was found on the porch of a hotel in that city and three companions last seen with him were arrested and charged with murder.

Circumstantial evidence weighed heavily against them until Parker discovered that Haywood had an argument with Thompson at the latter's home. Thompson is said to have admitted that he stabbed Haywood, who sat in an automobile with his three friends. Haywood became unconscious and his friends became frightened and left the body on the porch of the hotel. Thompson said after the argument when the automobile was drawing away from his home and stabbed Haywood by mistake.

McCord Awaiting Trial

McCord is awaiting trial for causing the death of William Tremble twenty-six years old, Riverside. The man and youth worked side by side at the Beverly Wall Paper Company's mill. They argued on November 10, according to witnesses and McCord hit his older opponent over the head with a steel spindle. Tremble died later at the Zurbrugg Memorial Hospital, Rivreside, after he collapsed at work.

Masti is charged with the murder of his lifelong friend, James Clymer, whose dead body was found November 30, at the outskirts of Mount Holly. A neighbor of Clymer testified that she heard a shot after Masti and Clymer had climaxed a drinking brawl with an argument. Masti is said to have confessed to shooting his friend, whose body was found three days later, but said that the gun had exploded while he was showing the weapon to Clymer.

Short and Mrs. Gormley are accused of slaying the woman's husband, Charles Gormley, whose body was found beside a road in North Hanover Township on December 28.

SWIMMING TEAMS

Tuesday Nights Find Community House Natatorium Busy Center

The community swimming team is rounding into shape even faster than could have been hoped for. Tuesday night of last week the Community House natatorium presented a scene (sp?) of bustling activity. The only difficulty was to find space enough for all the candidates to practice their events.

There were twenty-five out, many of whom are non-residents who are availing themselves of the new out-of-town memberships, which the Recreation Commission recently authorized.

Last night the last practice the girls' team was held before their first meet, which will be with the Camden YWCA. The team is still handicapped by the small number of mermaids available, but a larger turnout is looked for at the matches.

Time trials for the men's team will be held Tuesday, Jan. 25. A feature of this meet will be a relay race which should prove an attraction to the public. Those who do come out will be rewarded by seeing the keenest competition yet offered in the local tank.

Paid Firemen For Bristol

Ordinance Finally Passed by Borough Council; Will Get Town Hall

By a vote of eleven to six the members of the Bristol (Pa.) Borough Council last week finally passed the ordinance that will put the volunteer firemen in the archives and give the town a paid and part paid fire department. They also will get a town hall costing one hundred thousand dollars, the gift of Joseph R. Grundy, Bristol manufacturer, and a big factor in Republican politics in Pennsylvania.

Under the terms of the ordinance two companies composed of paid and part paid firemen will be organized to replace the five companies that now comprise the volunteer department. The members of the five companies will have thirty days to allign themselves with two new units.

It was said at the meeting that the firemen will balk. It was further said that the volunteer firemen owned all the apparatus and hose and would hang on to it, and that if the town wanted a new department it would have to buy new equipment. The companies, it is said, also own the fire houses.

In the future, the apparatus will be housed in a central building, part of the new structure promised by Mr. Grundy in event of the paid fire department scheme being adopted.

Chief Gilkeson, of the volunteer department, fought in council against the ordinance. He and other firemen threatened reprisals at the coming elections. Others said that they are willing to wait and see how the thing works out.

The Borough Council's action was the climax of a bitterly waged firemen's fight that has extended over several months.

The Bishop of Exeter over in London says that America is responsible for the present unrest in China. We knew we would be blamed for it sooner or later.

There's only one Pontiac Six
—and only General Motors could build it

The Pontiac Six swept into the limelight because it came to the public representing all the skill, resources and experience of General Motors. And it has remained in the limelight from the very day of its introduction, because no other car has since appeared which offers so much for so low a price.

Only the economies of General Motors' vast purchasing power could make possible at $825—Fisher closed bodies of such commanding beauty, finished in distinctive Duco colors, and such unusual fine car features as 46 lb. crankshaft, honed cylinders, full pressure oiling, automatic spark control, and bronze-backed interchangeable bearings of the costliest type.

A full year has passed since the Pontiac Six was introduced—and the supreme satisfaction of 60,000 owners lends emphasis to the fact: There is only one Pontiac Six—and only General Motors could build it!

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Bodies by Fisher. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.

THE SNOW ORDINANCE

The Riverton Police Department is making a strenuous effort to enforce the provisions of the ordinance requiring that snow be removed from the sidewalks within a specified time. To this end a special officer was detailed to make a survey of the town Monday and Tuesday of this week and to leave police cards with all violators of the ordinance citing them to appear before the Borough Recorder on Friday.

Naturally there was a big howl from people who had disregarded the snow ordinance for years and who were indignant that they should be disturbed.

Some have claimed that their sidewalks were clean and that they should not have been summoned. There should be no difficulty in such cases for them to demonstrate to the Recorder that they were not violating the ordinance. It will simply be a matter of stating the facts which should be easily confirmed by their neighbors. If mistakes have been made the department will surely be reasonable.

On the other hand, every law-abiding citizen who has sufficient civic pride to make his pavements safe and convenient for pedestrians should stand solidly back of the police in their efforts to bring to book those who have persistently defied the mandate of the borough ordinance and the dictates of common decency.

THE DELAYED AUDITS

Summaries of the audits of the Borough's financial transactions for the years 1924 and 1925 are published in this issue of The New Era. These are the audits which were withheld from publication by the borough clerk acting under orders from the mayor. It is not deemed necessary at this time to trace all steps taken to get these audits published, It is sufficient to say that the trail led through recourse to the state law which makes it mandatory for the clerk to have them published, an appeal to the State Commissioner of Public Accounts and finally the taking of steps by the editor toward instituting proceedings in the county court.

The principle that the State laws cannot be brushed aside by borough officials has been established, but the summaries for the two years have been so abbreviated that they give the public little information. Those who remember the very complete audit published for the year 1923 will readily see the difference.

While the letter of the law has been complied with in part, the taxpayers of Riverton have not been given the information to which they are entitled.

Rules for Business Success

When a business man reaches what may be called comparative success he pauses eventually, looks back, and attempts to tabulate the things which contributed most to his success. Sometimes these things in view of the fact that the man is successful, appear just a bit puerile. Sometimes they an singularly sensible. In all cases they are worth something, for they represent the outstanding factors in one man's business life.

Here are seven rules for success tabulated recently by an important business man in New York.

"First—Never give up. The world is big, but it has no place for quitters.

"Second—Never let success turn your head. Success is only relative. There is no human accomplishment that cannot be improved upon.

"Third—Never stop smiling. The smile is a great maker of friends in business. Remember that your frown never put wrinkles on the other fellow's forehead.

"Fourth—Take some recreation. Have a hobby, but do not let your recreation or your hobby interfere with your business, and don't make your recreation lopsided. The brain needs exercise and pleasure just as much as your body does.

"Fifth—Use your imagination. The radio is the child of imagination. The steam engine, the telephone, the telegraph, the phonograph, in fact the very country in which you live, are all the products of some one's imagination. The man without an imagination can never succeed.

"Sixth—Interest yourself in public affairs and do your part in both civic and charitable work. Charity is a great stimulus to both the heart and the head.

"Seventh—Do you feel that you are over-educated? No matter what your educations has been, don't stop studying. There is much knowledge in the world, and even the most learned can, in a lifetime, only scratch the surface. Read good literature."

How Are Your Tubes Behaving?

Lewis O. Ford, of 509 Elm avenue, has rejuvenated more than 3000 radio tubes in less than two years.

Mr. Ford makes no charge for testing your tubes and will rejuvenate them, if needed, at a nominal cost.

Riverton, New Jersey.

To the Editor:

An article in the Camden Courier last week said that Riverton needs a fire marshall.

I am taking this opportunity of asking the citizens of Riverton their opinion regarding the office of Fire Marshall in Riverton. It looks as though an unnecesary office is being created for a politician's friend, and the taxpaying citizens are the ones who will be asked to pay the said Marshall's salary.

Merely as a point of information I would like to know why the audits of the borough's books were not published on time? At the present time we have men in office who are drawing so much per annum for services, which they are supposed to render to the borough. But upon investigation I find they are not always rendered.

It is time for the people of Riverton to arouse from their slumber and realize that this is not a one-man town, nor is it a town which should be governed by any certain clique.

By the time this article goes to press many of our law-abiding citizens will be served with a summons for not having their sidewalks cleaned, after the recent snow.

Riverton belongs to each and every one of us so lets have some say as to what's going on.

Let's have a few articles from our taxpayers, they are the ones that should have a voice in the matter of increasing salaries and the creating of offices.

Padmore, whose home is at Westfield, N. J., has been working on the installation of the tower on this side since October. On December 27th he went to London. On January 4th he called his wife, and as his mother was visiting there at the time, also talked with her. Mr. Padmore is employed by the American Telegraph and Telephone Company. GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Troop No. 1, of Palmyra and Riverton Girl Scouts, have just completed a year of scout work. The scouts have nearly all passed their tenderfoot test and are now preparing for their second class test. The girls are learning to signal, so that they may be able to communicate with each other when hiking.

First Aid is taught the girls in order that they may better serve their fellow citizens in case of accident. Fire prevention and what to do in case of fire play an important part in the scout program. The girls helped to make garments for the Needle Work Guild, also as a work for community they have sold tags for various organizations.

Don't think that all the scouts can do is work, for you are far wrong. One can not be a true scout and not know how to play. We had a wonderful week of camping at the shore and we are planning a trip to the mountains to camp. What fun to hike especially when you arrive at your destination and several tenderfoot scouts try to build a fire to cook the eats.

Can we eat, well you should see us at our scout parties.

This Sunday night the Scouts are starting the year by pledging anew their loyalty to God and are going in a Troop to the M. E. Church. "On My Honor I Promise to do My Duty to God and My Country. To Help Others At All Times and to Obey The Law of the Scouts."

We are at your service. Some time soon we are going to ask you to help us.

MARGARET YOUNG,
Girl Scout Scribe

PHS GIRLS LOSE

Defeated by Haddon Heights by 23-14

The Palmyra High School girls basketball team lost their game in the South Jersey League to the Haddon Heights lassies Tuesday afternoon 23-14. The Palmyra girls played great basketball in the first half and made the winners put up a stubborn battle to gain the edge, a one point margin, 8-7 in the first 15 minutes of play.

Miss Margaret Jenkins was high scorer for Palmyra with a trio of field goals and a one-pointer for seven points. Miss Helen Enskat also played a star role for the losers accounting for two double-deckers and two single pointers for a total of six points. The rest of the Palmyra team displayed good basketball but it did not equal the standard of the Haddon girls.

The Misses Welsh and Schwammle substitute forwards, were high scorers and thus carried off the honors for the winners. Miss Welsh tallied five field goals and Miss Schwammle made four goals from the field.

EAGLE GROUP YMCA

Our meeting last week was called to order by the President. Marshal Young opened the meeting with a prayer. We then took up our Bible study for the evening.

Due to the secretary's absence the minutes of the previous meeting were dispensed with.

There being no new business the meeting was adjourned and we went into our program of fun. After playing several games we tried a few tumbling stunts with which we were fairly successful.

After dismissal by the Friendship Circle we went to our homes tired from a strenuous evening.

ORDINANCE

I hereby certify that the foregoing ordinance was unanimously passed by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton at a meeting held at the regular meeting place of said Mayor and Council in Riverton, N. J., on January 13, 1927.

DANIEL M. CLIFTON,
Borough Clerk.

The foregoing ordinance approved by me January 13, 1927.

WILLIAM B. LYNCH,

SOME IMPROVEMENT!

Secretary Guy Hendry, in his talk before the Moorestown Rotary Club last Thursday, said:

"The Y. M. C. A. is the direct sponsor of the Father & Son banquet movement, which is a great improvement over the father and son meeting in the woodshed."

How's the Old Complaint

Dr. Forrest E. Dager tells of an ingenious use of the principles of psychology when meeting an old acquaintance whose name you have forgotten. "When such a person greets you by name and starts talking and all the while you cannot recall who the forgotten acquaintance may be, do not show your embarassment," says Dr. Dager in explaining his method. "Simply say, "I'm certainly glad to see you, how's the old complaint?' Your friend will then open up at the invitation to tell you his troubles his ailments or perhaps about his operation and before long you will suddenly recall who he is."

Dr. Dager is full of such bits of helpfull advice. One of his most delectable indoor sports is to have the opportunity to "set straight" a lady who has tried to "high hat" him as regards the proper use of certain words. Do you know the difference between being "sick" and being "ill?"

Many of these things form the subject of his rollicking lecture "The Shams of Society," which Dr. Dager will give this Thursday evening, January 20, in the Central Baptist Church.

Dr. Dager has gained thousands of new friends since he has been knocking "the shams" in his radio talks. If you want a good laugh, make it a point to hear him in person tonight and laugh with him at the expense of "the shams."

PRAYER IN CHRISTIAN LIFE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 1:35; 14:32-42
Matt. 6:9-13.
GOLDEN TEXT—Ask and it shall be given you; seek and ye shall find; knock and it shall be opened unto you.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Talking to God.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Jesus Teaches Us How to Pray.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Learning From Jesus How to Pray.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—What Jesus Taught by Prayer.

I. Jesus Praying in a Solitary Place (Mark 1:35).

After a series of most strenuous efforts Jesus retired to a lonely place to pray. He who the day before had shown His mighty power in casting out devils and banishing disease now needed to be alone with God. In order to do this He arose a long time before daylight. The very best time to pray is in the morning when our physical powers have been renewed. If the Son of God needed this time for prayer, this renewal of spiritual strength in communion with the Heavenly Father, how much more should we seek help by retiring to the solitary place.

II. Jesus Praying in Gethsemane (Mark 14:32-42).

In this time of crisis He took with him Peter, James and John.

1. The first prayer (vv. 35-38).

(1) His posture (v. 35).

He fell on his face prostrate on the ground. In the hour of great need we naturally prostrate ourselves before God.

(2) His petition (v. 36).

"Take away this cup from me." By the cup is meant His death on the cross. No doubt it was most grievous for Him to face this shame, but He pressed on knowing that for this cause He had come into the world (John 12:27, 28, cf. Heb. 2:14).

(3) His resignation (v. 36).

His will was in subjection to the Father. He knew that His death on the cross was the will of God, the Father, for He was the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.

(4) The disciples rebuked (v. 37).

He singled out Peter since he had been the most conspicuous in proclaiming his loyalty (John 13:38).

(5) Exhortation to the disciples (v. 38).

"Watch and pray lest ye enter into temptation." The only way to be able to stand in the time of trial is to be watching and praying.

2. The second prayer (vv. 39, 40).

He withdrew the second time from the disciples and uttered the same words in prayer. This was not vain repetition. It is proper to repeat our requests. He found the disciples asleep again. Their shame and confusion were more marked than at first.

3. The third prayer (vv. 41, 42).

He uttered the same words in the third prayer (Matt. 26:44).

He tells the disciples to sleep on and take their rest as the hour had now come for His betrayal. There is such a thing as being asleep when wanted and awakening when it is too late. If the disciples had been praying they would not have fallen asleep.

III. Jesus Giving a Model Prayer (Matt. 6:9-13).

This model was given in response to the disciples' request that the Lord would teach them how to pray (Luke 11:10). It is not therefore the Lord's prayer, but the model prayer for the disciples. It involves:

1. A right relationship (v. 9).

"Our Father." Only those who become children of God by faith in Jesus Christ (Gal. 3:26) can pray aright. One must be a child of God before he can be in communion with God.

2. A right attitude (vv. 9, 10).

"Hallowed be Thy name." When one realizes that he has been delivered from the power of darkness and translated into the kingdom of His Son (Col. 1:13) by being made a child of God, he cannot help pouring out his soul in gratitude and praise, intensely longing for the kingdom, the righteous rule of Christ to come on the earth.

3. A right spirit (vv. 11-13).

(1) That of trust which looks to God for the supply of daily bread. We are dependent upon Him for our daily food. With all man's boasted progress he cannot make a harvest. The marvels of modern chemistry are insufficient for this.

(2) That of love which results in forgiveness of others. God will not listen to the prayer of one who has an unforgiving spirit.

(3) That of holiness which moves one to pray not to be led into temptation and longs to be delivered from the evil one.

"Soiled" Language

The language of some men is so "soiled" that it seems a proof that they were formed of the soil.—King's Business.

Things to Give Away

The Lord has a few things to give away if you can get where you can take them.—Echoes.

Be a Gideon

God wants to make you a Gideon for His glory and His cause.—Echoes.

Isn't X An Unknown Quantity?

On his tour of the district an inspector of city schools came before a class of girls. He wrote upon the blackboard, "LXXX."

"Young lady, I'd like to have you tell me what that means."

"Love and kisses," the girl replied.—The Smart Set.

LEWIS FOR GOVERNOR

Possible Candidacy of Vice Chancellor Discussed at Trenton

Unofficially a boom has been launched for the nomination of Vice Chancellor Vivian M. Lewis as the Republican candidate for Governor in 1928. His possible candidacy was the subject of discussion among politicians who went to Trenton to attend the opening of the Legislature. He has made no comment on the matter.

Vice Chancellor Lewis, who is from Passaic County, opposed Woodrow Wilson for the Governorship in 1910, and at that time held the post of State Commissioner of Banking and Insurance. Two years later he was named as Vice Chancellor and has made an enviable record on the bench. His possible candidacy is taken seriously by political leaders, who feel that extreme difficulty will be experienced in contesting support upon any one of the numerous candidates now in the field.

OAKLAND HONORS FOOTBALL WINNER

Salesman Makes Noteworthy Record Against Great Odds

Ray LaRowe, Oakland-Pontiac salesman of Blue Earth, Minn., ran wild in Oakland's national "football game," a sales contest conducted November 1 and December 20—topping the entire field and winning the first grand prize of a trip to the New York Automobile Show, in addition to an Oakland Landau Sedan valued at $1295, a $250 Hamilton Masterpiece gold watch, and a special cash prize of $50.00.

Public announcement of LaRowe's victory was made by A. R. Glancy, president and general manager of the Oakland Motor Car Company at a banquet at Hotel Commodore, New York, on January 11, where 1500 Oakland-Pontiac dealers and salesmen were in attendance. President Glancy himself presented LaRowe with the watch and eulogized the sales punch that drove LaRowe to his goal ahead of salesmen from all over the country.

LaRowe registered his last sale at 11:45 p. m. on December 20, just fifteen minutes before the contest ended. His total of cars sold was just short of 100.

His struggle for victory is a stirring drama of triumph over heavy odds. Blue Earth is a town of only 3,000 inhabitants and most of that section of Minnesota has been snowbound during much of the contest. Blizzards and ice have made the roads more suited for travel by dog team than by automobile.

Against this formidable opposition, and against the further handicap of having to compete for the first grand prize on an equal footing with salesmen of New York, Chicago, and other big towns, went LaRowe with the single, determined idea to win the contest.

He first enlisted the aid of prospect Oakland and Pontiac owners, as well as the chief of police, the sheriff, ministers, section bosses and school teachers. Policeman stopped in off the beat to notify LaRowe that the Chief had a prospect for him, deputy sheriffs for miles around dug up likely buyers—the whole town of Blue Earth, in fact, made the Oakland contest a gala football occasion in which the home talent simply had to win.

LaRowe carried the same fight into this football game that he displayed in 1908 when captain of the Blue Earth high school football team, which defeated everything in that section of the country and numbered several colleges among its list of victims.

COMMITTEES

Senator Roberts and Assemblyman Powell Receive Important Appointments

The Senate and Assembly Committees for 1927 were announced at the opening of the Legislative Session. Senator Roberts and Assemblyman Powell, of Burlington county, were both named on various important committees.

Senator Roberts, Moorestown's prominent legislator, heads the Agricultural Committee and is also head of the Industrial School for Colored Youth Committee and Reform School for Boys.

In the House, Assemblyman Powell is chairman of the Banking and Insurance Committee and is also named on the following committees: Incidental Expenses, Interstate Relations, Militia and Industrial School for Colored Youth.

POLITICAL GOSSIP

Roberts and Lippincott Mentioned For Important Appointments

An exchange carried the following interesting items last week.

"A political writer of the State last week set forth an appealing plan for settling the conflict in Burlington county over the State Senatorial nomination, which some people think they foresee this year. The plan is Utopian. All that need be done to ensure peace in the Republican fold will be for Governor Moore to appoint Senator Roberts to the State Highway Commission, thus giving recognition to the farmers, and that, presumptively will leave a clear path for Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell to the Senatorial nomination. The wonder is that nobody had thought of it before.

"While no public announcement has been authorized, it is pretty generally known that Freeholder Fred Lippincott is a receptive candidate for appointment to the State Highway Department, two vacancies which will have to be filled by Governor Moore and confirmed by the Senate during the present term. The Moorestown man has had a number of encouraging assurances of support but he is not making an aggressive fight for the place until assured whether his candidacy will be looked upon with favor in those quarters from which the last word is naturally expected. Mr. Lippincott has had long experience in public affairs and he and his friends believe that he would fill the bill satisfactorily. One of the places to become vacant will have to be filled by a Republican.

Mount Holly State Motor Vehicle Office Reports Record Year

The annual rush is over at State Licensing Agent Francis H. Reeds' office in Mount Holly, and the chief of the branch office of the State Motor Vehicle Department and his augmented office force breathe more freely.

Again the past year was a record-breaker in the Mount Holly branch of the State Motor Vehicle Department's licensing bureau. Here are a few statistics which will prove interesting; they will also make some people open their eyes in amazement at the volume of the business passing through the Mount Holly office during the year:

Drivers' licenses, 7,800, an increase of 1,100 over 1926.

Approximate receipts during the rush to get 1927 licenses were $135,000, which is an increase of $20,000 over that during the corresponding period when 1926 licenses were being issued. Up to December 20, the local agency showed a falling off in receipts for 1927 licenses from those of the preceding year, but between that date and the end of the year, there came a record-breaking rush, which boosted the year's receipts as stated the total receipts for 1927 were approximately $175,000.

These figures are not inclusive of the licenses issued to motorcycle drivers and for their machines, to omnibus taxi's, private livery owners and to dealers. Neither do they cover the large amount of money taken in for licenses issued to residents of Mercer and Camden counties.

A cup of water placed in the oven when a fruit cake is baking helps to keep the right amount of moisture in the air and to prevent the cake from drying out.

Crime Body Urges Heavier Penalties

Governor Moore's Commission Demands Drastic Changes In Laws

Revision upward of prison penalties for serious crimes is recommended in a report on Tuesday by Governor Moore's Commission to Investigate the Subject of Crime in New Jersey. Mayor Raymond, of Newark, is chairman and the other members are Mayor Hague, of Jersey City; County Judge Caffrey of Essex; Circuit Court Judge Lawrence, of Freehold, and County Judge Charles M. Egan, of Hudson.

The present Crime Act was passed in 1918, and the report was supplemented and amended from time to time since. In the main, however, it stands as originally enacted. The penalties provided therein in many instances seem inadequate. We recommended, therefore, the following changes:

Carrying concealed weapons. To read "carrying weapons about the person or in any vehicle." To read "seven" instead of three years' imprisonment.

25 Years for Robbery

Robbery. To read "twenty-five" instead of fifteen years.

Define "banditry" and "hold-up" and make the maximum penalty life imprisonment.

Assault with intent to rob. To read "fifteen" instead of seven years.

Larceny from the person. To read "twenty" instead of seven years.

Breaking and entering buildings etc., with intent to kill, etc. To read "twenty" instead of seven years.

Entering buildings, etc., with intent to kill, rob, steal, etc. To read "twenty" instead of seven years.

Manufacturing or having burglars tools in possession. To read "ten" instead of seven years.

Burglary. To read "fifteen" instead of seven years.

Receiving stolen goods. To read "seven" instead of three years.

Assault with intent to kill, commit burglary, etc. To read "twenty-five" instead of twelve years.

Second Offender

"This commission further recommends a severer penalty for a second offender who had been at a prior time sentenced to State prison, without the necessity of setting forth in the indictment an allegation of the first conviction, which is necessary under our present statute," the report said. "This amendment would meet a condition wherein the prosecutor has learned of a prior conviction and servitude in State prison after plea or conviction in the instant case."

The Legislature should memorialize Congress to permit the State control through the various municipal units, in the distribution of firearms which come into New Jersey under the protection accorded to interstate commerce, the report urges. The commissioners recommended legislation so that no one could obtain a firearm without the same passing through the hands of the police department of the municipality wherein the purchaser resides.

The judicial six months resentencing law should be changed to permit the court to exercise the recall of a sentence only during a 30-day period, the commission recommends."

Police Cooperation

Urging close co-operation and a system of quick communication between the various police departments, the report recommends a signal system, whereby men on duty can be immediately notified as to the commission of a crime. The Legislature should appoint a committee to make a sufficient appropriation to enable a careful inquiry as to the best means available to bring about the result of complete co-operation and co-ordination of service throughout the State. The same committee should also study the creation of a central bureau in charge of a State commissioner of public safety, who shall have power to assume, at the direction of the Governor, the investigation of crime and bring about a closer co-ordination of police agencies throughout the State.

Because the automobile has been such an aid to the criminal, the report recommends that the State Motor Commission have authority to inquire into the fitness of an applicant for a license. To make it more difficult for automobile thieves, the commission suggests the advisability of the compulsory use of some locking device on all motor vehicles.

Licensing Road Houses

Licensing of clubs, road houses, cabarets, coffee houses, poolrooms, and restaurants, lunch wagons or stands by local authorities, is recommended in a discussion of criminal rendezvous.

Changes in criminal procedure to give the State the advantage of an additional number of jury challenges are recommended. Discussing delay in appeals in the higher courts, the commission suggests taking this subject up with the Supreme Court to expedite disposition of cases. The commissioners recommended that no writ of error be issued in a criminal case, except a capital offense, unless a certificate of reasonable doubt be issued by the trial court or by a justice of the Supreme Court on application. Further recommendation is made that no defendant be admitted to bail after conviction and pending the determination of the judgment on appeal unless good cause be shown to the trial court.

Prosecutor James Mercer Davis?

A story comes from Ocean county that James Mercer Davis, who lives in Mount Holly during the winter, occupies his cottage at Seaside Heights in the summer, and has law offices the year around in Camden, may be named as Prosecutor of Ocean County as the result of the present political mix-up down that way. Brother Davis would have preferred being Prosecutor in the county in which he spends the greater part of his time, but political exigencies interfering with the realization of that entirely laudable ambition, perhaps he would not sidestep the lesser appointment. He hasn't said, as yet.

County Hospital Contract Awarded

J. S. Rogers Company, Phila. and Moorestown, To Erect New Institution

The contract for the erection of the new Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly has been awarded to the J. S. Rogers Company, of Philadelphia and Moorestown, on its bid of $231,213, subject to an advance of $6,000 of the building committee decided to use reinforced concrete construction as provided for in the plans on which bids were submitted.

It is expected that the committee will make this change, as such authority was given when the board of managers and board of council held a joint meeting at Mount Holly and made the contract award. Concrete construction is favored because it is accepted as being more durable, of greater strength, and favorably effective on the insurance rate.

The change would also make it possible for the contractor, represented at the meeting by Clyde Rogers, of Moorestown, to begin work within a very short time, thus overcoming loss of time necessary to wait for steel work. On this alternate point the committee will reach an early decision, as arrangements have been made for a conference with the architect and contractor to go over details.

The building committee has been authorized to arrange for bids on plumbing, heating, electrical work and such other things as are needed to complete the building.

After the joint meeting had adjourned, the Board of Council held its annual meeting and the following officers were re-elected: President Franklin S. Chambers, New Lisbon; vice-presidents, Alfred E. Darnell Medford, and Edward H. Levis Mount Holly; secretary, Morris K. Perlnchief, Mount Holly; board treasurer, A. Engle Conrow, Moorestown; building fund treasurer, Charles A. Rigg, Burlington; solicitor, V. Claude Palmer, Mount Holly.

Mount Wilson astronomers are going to measure the speed with which the solar system moves through space. They are not, however, planning to "do anything about it."—Minneapolis Journal.

Miss Elizabeth Herring of New York City was the speaker at the Rancocas Woman's Club on Monday evening, her subject being "Adult Education in the Rural U. S. A."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William McHenry. The Rancocas Womans Club is one of the finest organized clubs in Burlington County, carrying out a well rounded program. The program consists of education civic social and recreational features. Mrs. Florence Irwin is president of the club.

Mrs. J. W. Davis, Mrs. Henry Stockwell and Miss Sallie Sumner met with the South Jersey Committee at the YWCA in Camden on Tuesday to plan for the "Leaders Training Conference" which will be February 25th. Women of Burlington County are asked to keep this date open so that Burlington County YWCA may have a large delegation.

• • •

February 4, 5 and 6, are the dates set for the mid-winter conference for High School Girl Reserves. This conference will be in Atlantic City as it was last year. The enthusiastic response which the girls in the county have already shown assures us that Burlington County will have as large a delegation as our quota will allow. The delegates to this conference come from Southern New Jersey, Delaware, Philadelphia and surrounding cities and towns, and Washington.

• • •

Representatives from each of the Girl Reserve High School Clubs in Burlington County met at the Mount Holly Club Room, Friday evening January 14, for the purpose of discussing the values of an inter-club council. After a few songs and a game that everyone might become better acquainted the business of the evening was discussed. Jane Price of Palmyra gave a very fine report of the High School Conference at Newton-Hamilton during the latter part of August. Each Club then reported what it had done this year, and some of the things it hoped to do during the winter and spring. The discussion which followed was to decide whether or not a council should be formed. The girls decided that such a meeting composed of girls from various clubs, to take place every six weeks, would be of great help to each club. Jane Price of Palmyra was elected president of this inter-club council; Laura Johnson, of Riverton, vice-president; and Phyllis Bozarth of Mount Holly, secretary. The date of the next meeting is February 25.

RATS NUTHIN'

Under the heading "Rats," last week we printed the following item:

"George W. Mitchell, High street merchant, has a cat whose head is full of wisdom. On cold days the cat finds a comfortable place on top of a radiator. When the radiator gets a little too hot he gets a newspaper, spreads it over the heater, and again takes his accustomed position.—Burlington Enterprise."

Friday afternoon Clarence E. Worrell called to us: "The rats must read The News; remember your item headed 'rats'?"

And he then pointed to another educated pussy which was perched upon the hood of an automobile, taking full benefit of the heat which was issuing forth from the radiator.

Now we're almost tempted to believe The Enterprise.

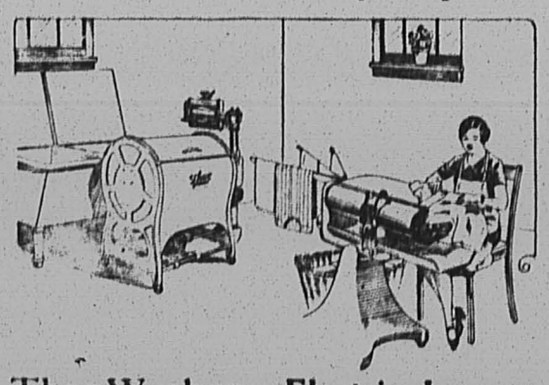
No Money Down Required on This Simplex Iron

The Simplex electric iron sells for $4.50. Order the Simplex, use it for thirty days, then pay 50 cents and one dollar monthly with your light bill for four months.

The Simplex is a well-balanced, nicely finished iron with an unbreakable plug and an air-cooled rest stand and plug guard.

This Laundry Equipment Is Preferred by Experts!



Thor Washer Has White Duco Finish

The Thor electric washer, 1927 model, is finished in white Duco the enamel used on fine motor cars. Duco will not streak, even hot soapy water leaves no mark on it.

In the Thor Washer, clothes and linens are made clean and fresh by the force of water and soap, no friction is used to endanger their wearing qualities.

Thor gears are a patented feature and are guaranteed against wear. The Thor is ruggedly built throughout, and its all white finish makes it particularly well-fitted for use in the up-to-date laundry.

Payment terms on the Thor—$5 down and 18 months to pay—permit the housekeeper to fit its purchase into her housekeeping budget comfortably.

"When a Feller Needs a Friend"

After too great indulgence in sodas and hot dogs, or other non-mixables, little "fellers" and big ones, too, will find help in the Westinghouse heating pad—warm, soft, comforting, whenever heat is needed to soothe pain. Three heats—low, medium, high, controlled by a switch on the cord.

Its regular price is $8.50—during January $6.95—95 cents down, $1 a month.

Electric Ironer Empties Clothes Basket Speedily

Even the most enthusiastic housekeeper never looked forward with great warmth to standing at an ironing board all day. But to be seated at the Thor ironer that rolls with such ease to the particular spot selected for ironing is a different matter. An ironing that would take a whole day to finish by hand can be ironed automatically in an hour or two.

The home-maker will rejoice to see the lovely sheen that the ironer imparts to her linens. She will note that fine needle work is brought out to advantage in embroidered things.

The best feature of the Thor ironer is that it irons everything—men's shirts, children's frocks, frilly things. When the ironing is done, the Thor folds up and can be tucked away in closet or pantry.

A five dollar payment brings the Thor ironer to work, and the balance may be paid in eighteen payments.

Exit Blue Monday

Ada Bessie Swann says:

"There's no hard and fast rule about washing on Monday. Monday's a good day to rest up in and to put your house in order. Sunday has an upsetting effect on the most orderly of households.

"When you have an electric washer, washing doesn't interfere with the housekeeping schedule. While you carry on the daily program of bed-making and dusting, the washer is busily employed in making the clothes and linens clean and fresh in a safe, sanitary way.

GasAutomatic Water Heaters Are Popular

A hot water supply that is kept hot automatically is a necessity in every household. Gas automatic storage water heaters answer the hot water demands of the household at moderate cost. Removes the burden of fire-tending.

$1 down installs the heater—12 months to pay balance.

Opportunities For Buying on Budget Plan

Well! our boys are surely interested in the printing shop. The instructor comes to us twice a week. The cases have been finished and most of the type sorted so that very soon they will be able to do some real printing. On Friday, January 7th, a man came from the Courier office in Camden and took a picture of Edward O'Neil and Ernest Mitchell at work. This picture and an article about our school was printed in Monday's paper. We think our school is very lucky to be able to have such a printing outfit and we surely will try to show our appreciation for all that is done for us.

Last year we bought a lantern. Now we have 600 slides to use in Geography, History and Nature Study. Thes selides show views of all places and all kinds of industries. To see these pictures makes our work much more interesting and we remember the work better, too.

Two practice teachers are coming to our school from the Glassboro Normal School, to do work in the first and sixth grades. They will be in ur school from February 2 to April 11.

Miss Dorwart, our fourth and fifth grade teacher, went to the Jefferson hospital dufing the Christmas holidays and had her tonsils removed. She was out of school the following week but has returned to us and, we are glad to say, feels prefectly well.

The boys are organizing a basket ball team. As soon as they are in training they will play a game with the choir boys of Grace Church Haddonfield.

A lunch room has been started in the colored school. At present, the food is prepared in School No. 1 and carried down to School No. 2 where it is served to the children in the basement. The boys in the manual training shop made the tables and benches for this new lunch room and they did a good piece of work.

When the lunch room was first started in school No. 2 the average weekly receipts were about $15.00 Now about $60.00 is taken in every week and $15.00 at the colored school. So you see our children are good eaters because they get good food. Everything is purchased wholesale.

Some time soon we are going to have an entertainment in our school. Watch for further announcements. And be sure to buy some tickets when the children come around.

The boys in the seventh and eighth grades have learned how to use the typewriter, mimescope and mimeograph. They are editing a school papr and are able now to do it all without help from the teachers. After the printing class has bee norganized well they may be able to help with the paper. The boys are much interested.

Borough Council

Filling Station Traffic Hazard

Director of Public Safety Williams submitted the report of his department for the month, and again called attention to the serious menace to public safety the proposed filling station at Broad and Main streets would be if permitted to be erected. He said that cars running across the pavement to get into Broad street would complicate traffic conditions at a point where it is already difficult to handle, and that pedestrians going east on Broad street in front of Buehrer's store would not be able to see cars coming out from behind the building in time to escape being hit. He stressed the very serious danger to children, especially at school time. While children crossing Broad street at Main would be protected by the traffic officer, he said, this much more dangerous point would be unprotected unless another officer is used at this point.

While the other members of council agreed that the new filling station was a bad thing, they believed that nothing could be done to head it off, owing to the fact that the borough attorney had said that council was powerless to prevent the erection of a service station in a residential section. Mr. Williams pointed out that this was not a matter of spoiling a residential section, but a positive menace to the safety of the public.

Geiss Asks About New Truck

John C. Geiss, president of the Riverton Fire Company, asked what steps were being taken toward getting a new fire truck.

William B. Lynch, president of council, who was occupying the chair in the absence of the mayor, who was ill, replied to Mr. Geiss that a committee would be appointed to take the matter up, but that the mayor had been sick and unable to do anything.

Mr. Geiss wanted to know if the report of the committee submitted last May would receive any consideration. Mr. Lynch replied that he thought it would.

Mr. Geiss pointed out that the matter had been held up seven months and urged immediate action, as he wanted to make a report at the annual meeting of the fire company which would be held on January 24. Mr. Welsh, chairman of the fire and water committee, assured Mr. Geiss that the new apparatus would be bought as soon as possible.

The annual report of the collector and treasurer was read and accepted.

The budget for 1927 was read and will come up for public hearing on February 3. The expenditures last year amounted to about $8000 less than the amount raised by taxes and other sources, $3000 of which will be applied to next year's expenses, reducing by that amount the sum to be raised.

Mr. Williams called attention to the fact that under the new building code a fire marshall would have to be appointed, and the matter was referred to Mr. Geiss, president of the fire company.

WESLEYAN CLASS

The talk last Sunday on the Boy Scout movement was highly appreciated by those who were fortunate enough to be out. Mr. Rivers outlined in a very interesting manner the aims and ideals of the Boy Scout movement in general and what it means to our own local community. It is a movement that the Class should encourage?

Next Sunday morning the Rev. Mr. Lee, Pastor of the Church, will address the Class. There is no doubt he will bring to the Class a message of vital interest and it is hope that there will be a large body of men present to hear it.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

All those who have decided to take the course in teacher training being conducted by the Palmyra-Riverton Council of Religious Education, which starts Friday, January 28th, are urged to send their blank for registration to Rev. C. T. Bates, 213 Lippincott avenue, Riverton, a quickly as possible. We feel that this school offers a great opportunity to help the Sunday School teacher fit himself or herself for the important work of teaching. Remember that if you do not desire to take the examinations or to receive training school credits, you are welcome to these class rooms. You may come to these lectures as you would to hear any other speaker or lecturer. No admittance charge and no obligations. The sessions will be held in the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church of Palmyra between the hours of 7.45 and 9.45 in the evening from January 28th to April 1st.

The regular Sunday School and Church services next Sunday morning. Young People's and vesper services in the evening. To all of these services we most cordially invite all those who have no church home. Perhaps you have lived here only a few weeks or months and have not yet had a chance to become acquainted. Make our church the headquarters for your religious and social activities. You will have a glad hand of welcome extended to you, and feel the pirit of cordial ity.

Light Brigade Wednesday afternoon at four.

Prayer service Thursday evening at eight. The subject is one of vital importance to us western Christians, as it deals with Paul's first entry into Europe. Christianity later was rejected in Asia Minor and Palestine, but found such soil in Europe as it had not found anywhere else. What was the secret of growth in Europe? What may we learn from Christian activity of this period and place to help us in our attempt to widen the activities and influence of the church?

BAPTIST CHURCH

Tonight the Samaritan Class offer you the treat of hearing Dr. Forrest E. Dager in his famous, humorous lecture, "The Shams of Society." Be there early for a good seat as many tickets have been sold.

For Sunday morning the pastor is preparing an inspiring service and will have as his sermon topic, "Time Well Spent." Come and spend a profitable hour with us, beginning at 11.15.

The members of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club will be the guests of Pastor Lockett on Sunday evening at 7.45. Rotarians are quite accustomed to hearing first-class speakers and addresses, and no doubt their "Bishop" will try hard not to disappoint them. His subject will be "The Influence of Christianity."

The B. Y. P. U. will meet this Sunday evening at 7 o'clock and each succeeding Sunday, instead of Friday evenings as formerly. Cecil Thompson will lead the meeting discussing "Problems of School Life" as the subject. The young people are expected to make the new Sunday evening meetings "real," both in attendance and enthusiasm.

Older members are urged not to overlook the Prayer Meetings on Wednesday evenings in charge of the Pastor. The prayer meeting is the spiritual thermometer of the church indicating whether its spiritual life is warm or cold. Surely our church needs the power that is promised through prayer.

Beginning Friday evening, January 28, and continuing until April 1, inclusive, the Palmyra-Riverton School of Religious Education will hold its weekly sessions. Details may be obtained from last week's paper, from the pastor or from superintendent Van Oaten. This School offers a rare opportunity to systematically study the Bible and the modern methods of Christian leadership.

The "Happy Hour" continues a flourishing group and the kiddies meet regularly on Friday afternoons at four.

Over 40 members of the Philathea Class attended the evening church service last Sunday in commemoration of the class's 16th birthday. Next Thursday afternoon, January 27, at 2.30 the ladies will hold their Thimble party at Mrs. W. F. Tees' home, 516 Morgan avenue. The hostesses will be Mrs. T. S. Morton Mrs. G. A. Murray, Mrs. H. F. Hummell, Mrs. M. Bailey and Mrs W. F. Tees.

The class is planning in its usual well-organized manner two big events for the near future. Details of these will soon be unfolded.

The men of the Baraca Class also are working on plans for a series of activities covering the next three months. They are sure to be worthwhile if up to past Baraca standards.

Meanwhile the airship "Evangel" speeds on visiting American mission fields. The trip will be over at the end of January—let us stick with the voyagers until they get back home.

"He who thinks he does not need Christ places too high a value on himself."

EPISCOPAL

Christ Church, Parry Avenue
Rev. G. J. McCormack M. A., L. Th. Rector

"Tremendous interest and enthusiasm has been aroused by the different speakers in the Bishop's Crusade" is the statement made from all the centres throughout the country where meetings have been held.

The services at St. Paul's Church Camden, have been splendidly attended—crowded buildings greeting the missioners, Bishop Barnwell of Idaho has roused the greatest enthusiasm by his forceful and eloquent appeals and Dean Lathrop of the National Council at New York has ably seconded his efforts. There still remain two evenings, Thursday and Friday, an opportunity to get out and hear the message both speakers have to impart.

On Friday afternoon at four o'clock there will be a mass meeting for children also at St. Paul's—why not plan to take your children to these inspiring gatherings.

A special feature in our Sunday School work will have its first start on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 in the Church. A children's service and sermon. We would love to invite all the adults to this service but remembering the crowded church when the children presented their advent-boxes we will content ourselves with saying if you come we will try and make room for you somewhere. The sermon will be entitled "The Gate Beautiful." Through the courtesy of the different broadcasting stations several of the Bishop's Crusaders were heard by thousands who were not present at the services.

The Coffee Klatch under the auspices of St. Agnes Guild proved a decided success. Nearly fifty being present. Requests have been received for a repetition of this social event.

A short but very important parish meeting to which all members of the congregation are invited will be held immediately after Evensong on Sunday night.

Services on Sunday as follows:
Holy Communion 7.30 a. m.
Morning Prayer and Sermon 10.30 a. m. Subject "Following a Star"

RIVERTON CALVARY GROUP

Unfortunately Monday night our leader, Paul Burr, did not show up 'till late and our president had some other engagement so we did not have a meeting. Instead we played basketball all evening much to our delight. Nothing unusual happened except a few arguments. We were told about the Father and Son banquet to be held Friday night, January 21, under the auspices of the Riverton-Palmyra YMCA. It is expected to be a success.

We had to be out of the gym by 9.20 o'clock to make way for the Epworth League.

CAMP 23

Twenty past presidents of P. O. S. of A. Camp 23, of Palmyra, were present at the celebration of "Past Presidents Night," in the P. O. S of A. Hall Monday night.

Fraternalism of the past and present as explained by past presidents George Rogers and Furman Wood won favor with the large audience.

Edwin Patterson, former president of the local lodge and present district president of Burlington county, told the members of the activities going on in the camp throughout Burlington county and congratulated the local camp for its work.

Walter D. Lamon was toastmaster.

WINKS LOSE

Palmyra Basketballers Defeated by Delanco, 41-29

Wink's Palmyra team dropped the game played at Delanco Tuesday night, 41-29. The game was fast and furious throughout both halves and had a tendency to get rough at times. Although Palmyra had the best of the argument on the foul goal route Delanco outscored them from the field, 16 goals to 8.

Jack Eisley, who has the best average, having an average of 9.8 points per game in the Burlington County League competition, was high scorer of the evening with 12 points, making four field goals and everyone of his tries for points from the 15-foot mark. Paul Burr and Earl Poinsett each made two field goals, Burr dropped in one of his five foul tries for five points and Poinsett four of his seven for eight points. Davis, at center, tallied four of his eight foul tries while "Vince" Kalinowski played an exceptional game at guard.

For Delanco, Russ and Bright were big men with 10 points each. Russ made five field goals as Bright had his uncanny optic on the basket three times from the playing field and four out of ten from the first white chalk mark.

Tonight Palmyra goes to Burlington-Holly and Saturday evening Delanco plays a return game at Palmyra. The game, which will be staged in the M. E. gym, will start at 8 o'clock sharp.

The Delanco Reserves took the measure of the Palmyra Juniors by a 31-20 count. A total of 62 fouls were called in this contest, Palmyra making 34 and Delanco committing 28 of the misdemeanors.

George Shaw was high scorer of the game with 10 points, three field goals and four of six fouls. He was closely followed by Jimmie West who ran up nine, two of Palmyra's four field goals and five of 11 fouls. Kumple took three more for Delanco while Kalbach came through twice and added two foul tosses out of four tries. Burk made the two other field goals for the Palmyra team besides two fouls while "Spas" Lytle, who made his debut with Palmyra in the Burlington County League, played well at guard.

The Palmyra Second will also encounter the Delanco Reserves at Palmyra Saturday night.

PHS GIRLS LOSE

Lassies Defeated By Moorestown High By 39-11

The Palmyra High School girls lost a hard fought basketball game to the Moorestown girls last Wednesday afternoon at Moorestown by a 39-11 score. The game was staged in the Community House gym floor which is one of the best in South Jersey.

This was the first game in the South Jersey League, which is composed of eight teams. The Misses Enskat and Jenkins were again the high scorers for Palmyra. Miss Enskat tallied two field goals and two out of two fouls, while Miss Jenkins made three goals from the field and a foul. The game was rough at times for girls' basketball, the refree calling 15 fouls against Palmyra and five for Moorestown.

All of Palmyra's games will be played away from home with the exception of the Camden game.

PALMYRA HIGH WINS

Win Easily Over Osteopathy Freshmen Although Eisley is Absent

Palmyra Hi, minus the services of Jack Eisley, who is high scorer in Class B scholastic ranks of South Jersey, and Branson, another veteran, had an easy time in defeating The Philadelphia College of Osteopathy Freshmen Friday afternoon at Palmyra score, 22-9.

This marks Palmyra's sixth victory in seven starts. The only contest lost was dropped to the veteran Burlington High Five week before last.

"Jimmie" West, the man who beat Haddon Heights single handed, was once more high scorer with ten points, four field goals and two fouls for a perfect average of 1.000 for the day. Captain "Vince" Kalinowski played his usual great floor game besides scoring two goals from the field and four of six tries from the 15 foot mark. Hennessey who filled in the position usually occupied by Eisely, and Sloan, who made the other four points for Palmyra, both played stellar basketball.

Grinold, forward of the Osteopathy quintet, caged three of the losers' four goals. Palmyra led at intermission, 18-7.

HI Y IN THE SWIM

Palmyra Boys Enjoy Splash In Camden Pool

In place of the regular weekly meeting last Thursday the Palmyra Hi "Y" visited the Camden YMCA pool and enjoyed a swim. During the dip the boys played tag and had a jolly good time. George Hutchins gave the fellows a rare treat with an exhibition of fancy diving. His submarine dive was perfect, they say.

Carl Hurlock, the leader, was afraid of the water and did not go in. One of the boys said he couldn't swim. Another remarked that he would never be able to swim the English Channel, being afraid of such a small body of water as a swimming pool. All the members had a great time, especially when they were sliding down the brass pole that they have at the "Y." Regular monkeys, some of 'em.

The boys who enjoyed the swim and the eats that followed were Leon Sloan, James Reeves, Chick Foulks, Fred Hoare, Winfield Lippincott, Henry Mathers, Lindall Schill, Paul Keanon, Henry Albright and George Hutchins.

Vol. 38. No. 2. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 27, 1927 PRICE FIVE CENTS

BRIDGE BILL IS SIGNED BY PRESIDENT COOLIDGE

Coolidge O. K.'s Span Over Delaware Between Palmyra and Tacony

ALL OBSTACLES TO PROJECT REMOVED

President Coolidge signed the Palmyra-Tacony bridge bill Tuesday morning of this week.

The way is now cleared for the actual construction of the bridge, its promoters announce. The necessary funds, estimated at about $4,000,000, are available from New York bankers and it is understood that the bridgehead sites have been acquired.

According to Edward W. G. Borer, who has been handling the financial end, the construction of the bridge can be accomplished in two years.

The head of the bridge company is Charles A. Wright, of Riverton, who organized the Palmyra ferry company and operated it successfully despite the gloomy forebodings of many who asserted that a ferry between Palmyra and Tacony would never pay.

Immediately after the marked success of the ferry had demonstrated the public demand for a crossing of the river at this point, Mr. Wright conceived the idea of building a bridge and with his customary energy and far-sighted genius, began at once to take steps toward that end.

Wright is a man who seems always to have travelled under the aegis of success, and with such a men as Borer, the financial genius, and Samuel S. Daniels, secretary of the company, behind him, no one doubts that the bridge will be pushed through to rapid completion.

Just what will be the effect of the bridge on Palmyra and Riverton and this whole section of New Jersey is a matter of conjecture, but the great boom which struck Camden as a result of the building of its bridge may well be taken as a criterion of what may happen in this vicinity.

Snow Ordinance Loses "Teeth"

Hearing Called Off Owing To Irregularities In Service of the Notices

The hearing set for two o'clock last Friday afternoon for residents of Riverton who did not clean the snow from their pavements did not materialize.

There was a storm of protest and the hearing was called off. The reason given was that the service of the summonses was not properly made owing to the fact that Russel Hilton, who did the work and who has frequently served the borough in the capacity of special officer, had not in this instance been appointed by the proper authority and had not taken oath of office.

Owing to this situation the Mayor instructed the Director of Public Safety to send the two regular officers to tell those who had been summoned to appear that the hearing was called off until further notice. This was done.

The reaction to the service of the notices was varied and in many instances amusing. One woman returned her card stating that she would not appear. Some were highly indignant and objected to being treated like "common criminals," others took a more philosophical view, agreeing that the ordinance was good and proper and should be enforced, but enforced with impartiality. One man said that it was perfectly right that the ordinance should be obeyed, but that it was the duty of his man about the place to attend to this little detail, and if he had to pay the fine it would come out of this man's wages.

Some of the alibies were very ingenious and showed a decided sense of humor.

Fight Looms For Senatorship

Assemblyman Powell Said To Seek Seat Held By Emmor Roberts

In political circles of the county there is more or less discussion just now of the fight that looms ahead over the Republican State Senatorial nomination. Senator Roberts is completing his second term and has not made any public statement, as yet, concerning his plans for the future. Whether he will be a candidate for renomination is a question which seems to be bothering some of the county politicians more than it does the Senator just at this time.

Assemblyman Powell, who is now serving his sixth term in the lower house, is at no pains to conceal his desire to go to the Senate, he regarding that honor as a deserved promotion after his six years in the house. While he has not made any formal announcement of his candidacy for the nomination for Senator, it is generally considered that his hat is in the ring.

Should it come to a fight between the Senator and the Assemblyman, a few months hence, it will be an interesting struggle between two legislative representatives of long experience, each of whom has given good service to his constituency. There has been some talk of Senator Roberts being a candidate for the Board of Freeholders at the June primaries, there having been representations made to him that he could serve the county acceptably in that capacity, but if he is considering such a step he has given no outward sign.

There has been a suggestion, also, that the Senator would make good timber for appointment to the State Highway Commission, as a recognition of the rural interests of the State, but the Senator doubtless knew, as did nearly everybody else, that the powers within the Republican party, who named the Republican appointee to Governor Moore, would no more have consented to the nomination of Senator Roberts than they would to the reappointment of Commissioner Kidde, who has just been placed on the skids.

Throughout his legislative career, Senator Roberts has been more or less in conflict with the so-called leaders of the party who are assuming the right to name the Republican appointee as a possible price of confirmation of the Democratic nomination by the Senate which is Republican.

Another rumor, which might be difficult to trace to its source, has it that in the event of Senator Roberts deciding that he does not want another term in the upper house, there will be a new candidate for the Republican Senatorial nomination who will prove formidable to any rival or rivals who might appear against him.

All this is mere rumor at this time, although in these days of more or less activity in politics they are being earnestly discussed by those who are impatiently waiting for the political pot to boil once more.

DREIER—ARMSTRONG

Albert Dreier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dreier, of 28 Pear street, Palmyra, and Miss Anna Armstrong, of Delanco, were married at Elkton Saturday.

They were accompanied on the trip by Eddie Beltz, a cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Elizabeth Dreier, the bridegroom's sister.

The happy young couple will reside in Riverside.

District Governor Charles Puff Addresses Twin City Rotarians

The many altruisms that are contained in the objects of Rotary were very forcibly and clearly defined to the members of Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club on Thursday evening last by Charles Puff, Jr., Governor of the 50th District Rotary International in his address to the Club of which he was an honored guest.

"The underlying object of Rotary is "Service above Self," said the Governor, "and service is the basis of all worthy enterprise." Mr. Puff made several applications of the rendering of service both from the employer and employee standpoint in business, which if adopted would inculcate higher standards and ethics and would eliminate to a large degree the strife that is often experienced in the industrial world and which is a menace to the world.

"But before we can hope to render such service" said the Governor, "there must be established faith in humanity, which is noticeably lacking in our country today."

Over 125,000 leaders of business throughout thirty-eight countries are now applying the objects of Rotary to their business and personal life and the pulse of the Philosophy of Rotary—Hope—ambition—reward—service, is being felt wherever Rotary has been established.

Merchantville Council Will Visit Palmyra Tuesday

Ever since St. Leo's Council visited the Home of St. Joseph's and also since the local Knights journeyed across the river to Tacony, an epidemic of visitations has broken out in Burlington County among the K. of C.

Next Tuesday night Merchantville Council will come to Palmyra to meet St. Joseph's in pool, shuffle boards, quoits, pinochle and baseball.

Harry Burns, Theo. Schneider, Horace Richman and Jos. Schuler are the quartet who will defend the local council in pool. Merchantville is also well fortified in this particular department and close matches are looked for.

Interest is rapidly growing among the boys of St. Joseph's in their big comedy show that is to be staged on February 25th in the High School Auditorium. The name of this sketch is called, "The Honor of the Family," a real comedy in three acts consisting of many funny scenes full of laugh producing episodes. Harry Bradshaw, chairman of the ticket committee, promises to have the "paste-boards" on sale by Saturday of this week.

Mrs. Ford Still Young at Ninety

Has More Endurance Than Many Women Half Her Age; Lived Simply

Mrs. Hannah L. Ford, who lives with her son, Lewis O. Ford, at 611 Elm avenue, Riverton, celebrated her ninetieth birthday by entertaining her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren at dinner on Friday, January 21.

Mrs. Ford is the daughter of Maria S. and David B. Looker, of North Broad street, Newark.

Mrs. Ford was married to George C. Ford on December 10, 1856. Mr. Ford was one of the leading undertakers in Elizabeth at the time. He was also patriarch of the Temperance movement.

Two sons and two daughters are the only ones living out of a family of nine children. They are Lewis O. Ford, of Riverton; Edward H. Ford, of Union, New Jersey; Mrs. Fannie Reeves, of Riverton and Mrs. C. W. Oakley, of Elizabeth, New Jersey. Mrs. Ford has 13 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

Enjoyed Fine Heath

The only serious illness Mrs. Ford has ever experienced was an attack of influenza about ten years ago.

Mrs. Ford was born in Newark, in the year 1837, where she lived for 29 years. The Ford family lived in Summit, New Jersey, for two years. From there the family moved to Elizabeth where the homestead remained for 55 years. Mrs. Ford and her son, Lewis, have lived in Riverton four years.

Mrs. Ford and a brother, I. Halsey Looker, of Newark, are the only living children of a family of eight.

When asked to what she attributed her long life Mrs. Ford replied, "I have always tried to take care of myself and not to strain my body by over-taxing it. I never eat candy or pastry and I think that has helped to keep me in good physical condition. Other than these things I have no recipe for long life."

Mrs. Ford's husband died 22 years ago.

The Horse and Buggy

"Speaking of automobiles being dangerous," Mrs. Ford said, "they are no more so than the old horse and carriage. One day my husband and I were riding from Elizabeth to Rahway when the horse became frightened. He bolted, throwing us both out of the carriage. I was under a doctor's care for a week but my husband was only bruised."

"Another day," she continued, "we were riding through the country when a carriage going in the opposite direction locked wheels with ours. The horse became excited and jumped over a low fence, taking the carriage with him. After circling around in a field he jumped the fence again and went on down the road. Mr. Ford was thrown into the briars and scratched and cut, but that time I only was shaken up a bit."

Traveled To Florida

Eighteen years ago Mrs. Ford traveled to Florida all alone. When she arrived a friend met her and together they traveled over the entire state.

There was a big parade in Newark when Lincoln was elected President and the nation's executive rode through the town in the state carriage. Mrs. Ford witnessed this patriotic demonstration.

I. Halsey Looker, her brother, fought in the Civil War.

Herbert Russell and Lewis D. Ford, grandchildren to Mrs. Ford, both fought in the World War. Herbert fought in nine major engagements and is confined to the Bonny Burn Hospital near Plainfield as a result of being gassed and shellshocked.

While William Henry Harrison was enroute to New York City for the inaugural ceremony, in 1889, he rode from the railroad station to the Governor's home in Elizabeth in Mrs. Ford's barouche. From the executive mansion the President took the boat at Elizabethport and went to New York City.

Family History

The family from which Mrs. Ford came dates back, in American history, to 1664. Three Looker brothers landed at Elizabeth in that year. These men came from England.

AUTO STRIKES AGED WOMAN

VICTIM TAKEN HOME BY DRIVER OF CAR

Last Friday evening about sixthirty Mrs. Mary Russell, 80 years of age, 712 Parry avenue, Palmyra, was struck by a car at Broad and Thomas avenue, Riverton.

F. J. Wilson, of Merchantville, was the driver of the car which struck Mrs. Russell.

Wilson was moving along Broad street very cautiously on account of the dense fog when Mrs. Russell stepped out in the street and started across. Wilson stopped immediately and put the injured woman in his car with the help of Paul Young and Ed Gross, of Riverton. Mrs. Russell was taken to Dr. Bauer who administered first aid, after which Wilson took her home.

Mrs. Russell was severely bruised and shaken up by her accident but suffered no broken bones or lacerations.

The railroad crossing watchman at Thomas avenue sent a boy to Officer Quigley's house and the "Old Reliable" officer went to work on the case at once.

Finding no trace of Mrs. Russell in the hospitals of this vicinity Quigley phoned to the local physicians until he found that Mrs. Russell had been treated by Dr. Bauer.

William B. Lynch, who resides at Broad and Thomas, heard the brakes on Wilson's car squeak and went out to see what had happened. When he went back to his home and phoned for the Palmyra ambulance, Wilson drove off. Had Wilson reported the accident to the police the whole matter would have been simplified, but as it was much phoning and questioning was necessary.

Three different license numbers were turned in to Director of Public Safety Edward R. Williams, who also went to work on the case with Quigley, and the Director phoned the authorities at Trenton in an effort to locate the "hit and carry" driver.

Pupils Entertain Riverton P. T. A.

Public Service Representative Demonstrates "Grilled Dinners;" Many Present

The pupils of the fifth grade afforded entertainment for the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association at its regular meeting January 20. Mildred Hirst and Clarence Hubbs played piano solos; Robert Borer gave a reading about Benjamin Franklin.

The report of the committee on revision of the local By-Laws was read. Its recommendations are to be acted upon at the February meeting.

The president read to the association an interesting article by Elizabeth Benson entitled "Are Children People?" Elizabeth, 12-year-old literary genius, brought home to parents some points often too easily passed by. She reminds them of their own childhood, the emotions, sensitiveness, ambitions, humiliations. She pleads for justice for children in place of "patronizing tags" and tyrannical parents. She says "Not until I am eighteen will I be admitted to the mystic shrine of grown-ups, where people treat each other with tact and courtesy." "If children are people," says she "they should be given three great gifts which make life for grown-ups so pleasant, namely, courtesy, justice and a tolerant understanding."

Miss Swan, supervisor of domestic science for Public Service Corporation, who had accepted the invitation to speak to the Association on the subject of "Grilled Dinners" was delayed in Newark and Miss Cahalan substituted with an impromptu, having at hand a dinner prepared for grilling, as a demonstration. All appreciated very much the hearty way in which she met the emergency. Just as she finished, Miss Swan came and added a few remarks, also passed to the members food charts and recipes for a grilled dinner. The Association gratefully accepts the provision made by the Public Service Corporation, as was evidenced by the large attendance.

The Riverton P. T. A. was represented at the Burlington County Council meeting in Delanco, January 19 by nine members: Mrs. Arthur Bagstos, county chairman; Mrs. Clifton Mayfield, Miss Hannah Chew, Mrs. Walter Bowen, Mrs. David Gould, Mrs. L. B. Wilcox, Mrs. H. D. Sorden, Mrs. H. K. Rutherford.

Mrs. Little, the State Vice-President, addressed the meeting in the afternoon. Being a wide-awake P. T. A. worker she was able to say many things helpful to those interested in P. T. A. work. The object of the P. T. A. being purely the advancement of children, the association stands unique as an organization, conducted not as a woman's club, but according to plans that have evolved and do evolve as it accomplishes the work for which it exists. She impressed her audience with the fact that it is the duty of parents to belong to the P. T. A.

Grade 2 and 6 had the highest percentage of mothers present at the January meeting. They received pictures as a reward.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Cole and family desire to express their sincere thanks for the many kind expressions of sympath and to those who sent cars to the funeral.

PALMYRA HI WINS

Moorestown Friends Beaten By a 28-15 Count

Palmyra High toppled the Moorestown Friends School combination at Moorestown last Friday afternoon by a 28 to 15 figure. Failing to stop the powerful quintet put on the court by Coach Dimond, the little Quakers were routed by eight points. Leading with an 18-10 advantage at half time, Palmyra showed up in the second half, accounting for but five points. Jack Elsley dropped in a trio of Palmyra's field goals and three fouls, again being high scorer with nine points. "Spike" Hennessey came through with a pair of double-deckers and both of his fouls for six points as West added four points via the field goal route. The entire squad displayed a fine brand of teamwork, but excelled in their foul goal shooting, making good seven out of 10 times.

Roberts, at forward, was the best man for the losers, tallying four of Moorestown's seven goals from the field and their only foul goal. Palmyra played scientific basketball, committing but five fouls throughout the entire game. Lippincott, Coles and DeCou each had a two-pointer for the Quakers.

Edward H. Flagg, Jr., expressed his deep appreciation of the kind thoughtfulness of the Fire Company during his illness which had been expressed through the medium of a magnificent basket of fruit.

Ross Mattis conveyed orally the appreciation of Paul C. Burr for the kindness which had been shown him during his long illness and Secretary Clifton read a short letter from Mr. Burr to the same effect.

On motion of Walter C. Wright a rising vote of thanks was given to Mr. Clifton, the retiring secretary, for his faithful services.

After the business meeting an address was delivered by Ross Davis, Chief Engineer of the Philadelphia Fire Department, who was present by special invitation of President Geiss. Chief Davis told of some of his experiences as Chief of the Philadelphia Firemen.

Following this address a vaudeville program was put on.

With the differences between themselves ironed out, and looking forward to the new apparatus which has been promised by the Borough Council, the Riverton Fire Company is anticipating a very successful year in 1927.

FRELINGHUYSEN POINTS OUT CONVENTION SYSTEM MENACE

Ex-Senator Exposes Plot To Rob People of Direct Primary

SEES THE HAND OF VESTED INTERESTS

Former Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, in an address delivered Monday, before the New Jersey League of Women Voters at Trenton, reviewed the history of the old convention system in this State, attacked the vested interests and machine bosses who are behind the move for the return to the closed convention, described the evolution of the direct primary, and specifically recommended ways and means to correct its alleged weaknesses and to insure its proper functioning as the best instrument yet devised to register the will of the people.

In his comprehensive presentation of the subject, Senator Frelinghuysen said, in part:

"The interesting story is not 'why I favor the direct primary' but why certain folks oppose it.

The Line-up

1. The political boss and his lieutenants.
2. The vested interests.
3. Potential candidates unwilling to submit to their candidacies to the people but perfectly willing to accept the nomination without a struggle at the hands of the boss-controlled convention.
4. A small minority of unsuspecting and uninformed individuals easily deceived by professional politicians.

1. The rank and file of the people.
2. The vast majority of the newspapers.

"The answer can be stated in four words: IT INSURES HIS CONTROL.'

The Shrewd Boss

"The shrewd political boss never opposes the will of the people as long as he can dominate the situation. The moment he feels that his control is slipping, he is ready to adopt any subterfuge to regain his power. Since the primary law was adopted in this State 15 years ago, no one ever heard a peep out of the party bosses in opposition to it until the debacle of 1925.

On the contrary, some of those who are now irreconcilable opponents of the direct primary were, prior to the primaries of that year, its most ardent advocates. It just took one good 'licking' to change their viewpoint. The machine politicians saw the handwriting on the wall and lost no time in marshalling their forces in an endeavor to prevent a repetition of such a humiliating defeat by the direct vote of the people.

The official record of the votes cast for the Republican nominee for Governor as compared with the vote given to the other Republican candidates for subordinate offices on the same ticket in the 1925 election speaks for itself. With Whitney defeated, the path was open to introduce a bill killing the direct primary and reinstating the discarded convention system. It was smothered in the Assembly.

Then followed the party convention, a packed jury, which steamrollered the convention plank through with, as I have said previously, the aid of eleven Hudson county delegates who were overwhelmingly defeated at the last election.

"Who do certain powerful vested interests favor the convention plan?

"Because it is the only way in which they can get their man in and block the nomination of any candidates who has not their expressed approval. I repeat, they cannot buy the majority vote of the electorate, they can buy the requisite number of votes of delegates to control the choice of a closed convention.

"The third class of pre-conventionists are those potential candidates who privately express their willingness to run for public office provided they are assured in advance unanimous party endorsement. Publicly, these same potential candidates are unwilling to voice their personal ambition, but are 'awaiting the call of the people.' Backed by the special interests, naturally, they favor the convention where unanimity of choice is a purchasable commodity and hand-picked nominations are dealt out on golden platters to favored individuals.

"Lastly, we have a certain number of well-meaning but misguided individuals who neither have the time nor the inclination to study the methods of the professional politicians. They blindly accept the argument of the latter in good faith that the open primary is a miserable failure and the convention is in the great public interest. The scandals of the primaries in other selected states are paraded before their minds but nary a word about the scandals of the old convention days. Nor can they point to any corruption in the Republican primaries or elections in this State since the primary law was enacted.

"I know that an overwhelmingly majority of the newspapers in the State are opposed to it. Recently, I sent a questionnaire to all our dailies and weeklies, some 239 papers.

"Seventy-five per cent of the publishers and editors of this State who replied to my questionnaire favor the retention of the direct primaries; fourteen percent favor the return to the old convention plan; five per cent favor a combination of the town systems; and three per cent are indifferent or indefinite in their responses."

Rev. George J. MacCormack is New President

The Rev. George J. MacCormack, rector of Christ Church, Palmyra, was elected president of the Palmyra Men's Club Monday evening, succeeding William T. J. Parnell, the founder of the popular organization which has flourished for several years under his leadership.

Other members of the executive committee are G. N. Bond, Sidney Albertson, William McConnell and A. E. Fowler.

A very enjoyable program was furnished by J. J. Siddall who showed a number of interesting reels on the manufacture of asbestos, from the time it is mined in Arizona and Canada until the finished product is completed at the factories in Manville, New Jersey.

The ladies of St. Agnes Guild served splendid refreshments.

WILLIAMS ATTENDS TRAFFIC HEARING

Problems of Standardization Discussed at Trenton Monday

Riverton's Director of Public Safety, Edward R. Williams, attended the hearing before the New Jersey State Traffic Commission in session at Trenton on Monday, to hear suggestions for the standardization of traffic control throughout the state.

The discussions brought out that there was a wide difference of opinion as to what light to use for left-hand turns. There was considerable objection to automatic traffic lights, particularly on state highways in rural sections, and their abolition is being considered.

Another meeting of the commission will be held on February 3 at Asbury Park. It is proposed to ask for the co-operation of New York and Pennsylvania in the matter of standardization.

WALTER JONES

Walter Jones, aged 39 years, died at the home of his father in Chester, Md., on Saturday, after being ill since August. Mr. Jones was the husband of Mrs. Ethel Jones and lived in Riverton until about two years ago. The funeral services were held Monday at two o'clock and were attended by Mrs. Ethel Jones, William G. Frank and Spencer Johnson from Riverton.

County Firemen Lumberton Guests

Fire Plug Parking and Fire Marshal Are Chief Subjects of Discussion

The Burlington County Firemen's Association opened the year 1927 by holding its first meeting in Lumberton with the Lumberton Fire Company and their friends as hosts.

The meeting was called to order by the president of the association, David A. Brotherton, of Burlington. The address of welcome was made by the Rev. Charles H. Anderson, pastor of the Methodist Church.

The address of the evening was made by Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell, of Mount Holly, who as a child called Lumberton his own and is still always ready to serve the little hamlet in any way he can. His address was very interesting and was filled with matter for deep thought and consideration directed to firemen in particular.

As an added attraction the Community Band of Mount Holly was present with full membership and the music they furnished was fine. There were over two hundred members of the association present to appreciate the efforts of the Lumberton firemen in their endeavor to make the visiting firemen feel at home.

Fire Plug Parking

The business meeting concerned itself chiefly with the action taken by the Board of Freeholders concerning the appointment of a county fire marshal, the association members thinking the matter did not have proper recognition at their last meeting when the name of Ex-Sheriff Edward H. Flagg, Jr., of Riverton, was proposed by the association.

Another very important matter was that of the parking space near fire hydrants. It was stated that since the advent of larger fire fighting apparatus a larger space was needed at the fire hydrants for the apparatus and that automobile drivers were not complying with the parking law which requires parking not less than ten feet from a hydrant.

A final decision was that no parking should be allowed within fifteen feet of either side of a fire hydrant. This action was taken after chiefs and drivers of apparatus of various companies stated their view points.

Special Lights

The subject of a light for the apparatus, especially designed, and that had been presented to the State Association for inspection and had met with the approval of the association was again brought up at this meeting and endorsed.

The light is designed and was invented in order that motorists might know of the approach of a fire apparatus when on its way to a fire. Firemen ever have to contend with traffic problems when going to a fire due to the fact that there are many curious people who enjoy watching flames eating their way through buildings and to destruction.

It was urged upon every person riding on a fire apparatus to take the license number of any car hindering the progress of apparatus while going to fires, and report the act to the proper officials so that the full penalty could be imposed.

After the business meeting tasty sandwiches, coffee, ice cream and cigars were served by the Lumberton ians and all firemen left rejoicing that they had again been in Lumberton to an association meeting.

INSPECTION PLANNED

Potato Improvement Committee Seeks Better "Spuds"

Developing inspection service on carload shipments of potatoes is the task set itself by the Potato Improvement Committee. Members of the committee are confident that the improvement of inspection service will put this important New Jersey cash crop on a sounder basis. An economic saving will be effected through the prevention of losses due to rejection.

The proposed plan was formed during Agricultural Week in Trenton, when a resolution was passed that the committee continue its work. This group of potato growers and specialists is working to secure the cooperation of all who will be benefited in the development of its program. Past work of the committee includes the increase of the use of high quality certified seed, more careful grading of the product; and improved marketing practice.

Its membership, which completely represents the potato producing sections of the state, is as follows: Dr. W. H. Martin, State Plant Pathologist, New Brunswick, chairman; W. C. Lynn, State Department of Agriculture; Ellwood Douglass, County Agent, Freehold; O. G. Bowen, County Agent, New Brunswick; A. C. McLean, County Agent, Trenton; H. E. Hulsart, Allentown; C. B. DADDY OF FOOTBALL

Here is Gerrit Smith Miller, eighty two years old, of Peterboro, N. Y., the daddy of American football. He organized the first grid team, the Oneida football club, 64 years ago, and won his letters as a star player. Mr Miller claims that college spirit alone can keep football going, and for this very reason he sees the failure of pro football games. Mr. Miller rates Jim Thorpe, famed Carlisle player, as the greatest player of all time, and as for present players, he rates Eddie Tryon above Red Grange.

BEETLE CONTROL

Tentative Regulations Submitted to State Department

Tentative regulations for the control of the Japanese beetle have been submitted to the State Department of Agriculture by the Federal authorities, announces Secretary W. H. Duryee.

In order to make effective the quarantine and to facilitate the movement of farm products out of the area it has been necessary to make stringent rulings. The Department states that there will be a flat embargo on sweet corn and beans, and that consequently this produce cannot be moved out of the quarantine area. The Federal regulations will prevent South Jersey growers from shipping their late canhouse tomatoes to Baltimore.

Farm products that can be handled in such a manner as to free them from beetles can be moved. No restrictions are placed on sweet or white potatoes when they are free from soil, and dried fruits, dried vegetables and grains will move without certification. When hay and straw are used as packing material it need not be certified.

During the past season, the beetle extended the area of infestation. As a consequence the infested territory now includes all of New Jersey and parts of Connecticut, New York, Pennsylvania and Delaware. Although the entire state is under quarantine there will be no interference with shipments of produce from New Jersey farms distantly removed from points of infestation.

MATHEWS MANAGER

Keystone Auto Club Appoints Representative in South Jersey

In furtherance of a comprehensive campaign for betterment of motoring conditions in South Jersey, the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey, announces the appointment of Trevor B. Mathews as manager of the Southern Division, with headquarters in the Walt Whitman Hotel, Camden.

Mr. Mathews has long been identified with automobile club work. He has a thorough knowledge of motorists' needs and the happy faculty of obtaining results through co-operation with agencies, legislative and civic, having supervision of roads, traffic and conditions vitally affecting the car owner.

The new manager will work under direction of the Club's Camden advisory board, of which Harry C. Sharp, salesmanager of the Esterbrook Steel Pen Company, is chairman. He will devote his attention to the railroad grade crossing hazard, the uniformity of traffic signals and the good roads program.

At the same time he will undertake an intensive membership campaign, on the old principle that "in union there is strength." A strong organization can accomplish many things for the good of motorists in general, and it is the purpose of the advisory board to make the Keystone in New Jersey as powerful a factor as the Keystone in Pennsylvania has proved itself to be.

"Square boys and not square miles determine the true worth of a community."

Would Keep Auto In Good Repute

National Motorists Association Urges Drivers Obey Common Sense Regulations

"Keep The Automobile in Good Repute," is the slogan adopted at the annual convention of the National Motorists Association held in the national headquarters of the National Motorists Association, Philadelphia, with representatives and delegates from most of the major states of the East in attendance.

The Automobile is just as efficient as the public interest will allow it to be, was the keynote of the convention. The convention went on record to the effect that the good will of the public must be won over and kept.

Every accident encourages criticism of the value of the automobile to the community and the country as a whole, and that while it is not possible for any form of transportation to be absolutely danger-free because of a small irresponsible element in the human equation, it is desirable that every organized automobile and motor club use its influence to eliminate in every way possible the violation of the common sense rules of traffic and to prevent a stigma being placed on the motoring public in general.

The convention went on record to support the movement for uniformity of traffic regulations, to promote cooperation, reciprocity and harmony among automobile clubs, the construction and maintenance of good roads systems, the accurate compilation and dissemination of touring and highway information, the enactment maintenance and enforcement of good and beneficial laws affecting the ownership and use of motor vehicles, the prevention of excessive or unreasonable charges for services and commodities used by motorists in the operation of motor vehicles, a more adequate and uniform system of road parking, and equitable taxation for motor car owners and tangible insurance for the public in event of accidents.

It reserved opinion on compulsory liability insurance until the committee appointed at the convention has had an opportunity to study and report on the experiment of this form of insurance which is now being tried in Massachusetts.

BUS SERVICE DID NOT CEASE

In the old days the trolley road would have necessarily been out of commission for perhaps a week following the recent heavy storm, but the motor bus, residuary legatee of the trolley between Moorestown and Burlington, kept bravely on the job, late at times, it is true, but doing so much better than the trolley cars, which were only able to trail along behind the power sweeper in time of heavy snow-fall. At no time was communication between this town and Moorestown entirely abandoned. Thus again it was demonstrated that the modern motor buses now plying between the towns mentioned, are a great improvement over the old-time trolley car.—The Mt. Holly Mirror.

HIGH POINTS OF SENATOR FRELINGHUYSEN'S SPEECH

The direct primary is for the people and the people are for the direct primary.

* * *

Any man who would not consent to run for office unless he is assured the nomination without opposition, and who is unwilling to present his candidacy to the electorate of his party in an open and fair contest is, to my mind, not worthy of being a candidate for any public office, high or low.

* * *

The shrewd political boss never opposes the will of the people so long as he can dominate the situation.

* * *

The vested interests cannot buy the majority vote of the electorate in New Jersey. They can buy the requisite number of vote of delegates to control the choice of a closed convention.

* * *

* * *

Why not let the people decide whether they want the Direct Primary or the return to the convention system?

The Girl Reserves of Maple Shade had a supper meeting on last Thursday evening. Even the rain and fog did not prevent the girls from joining in the good cheer and good fun. After the supper the girls had a regular business meeting, at which time plans for future programs were discussed. On February 11, the girls are planning to invite their mothers to visit the club. As this club is new this year, the girls are planning to have a program that will give their mothers some idea of what the Girl Reserves are. They will also have their recognition ceremonial.

Price of Haircut Falls

The price of hair cuts in Gloucester City were toppling from wartime peaks last week when one of the largest and most fashionable barber shops on North Burlington street announced a radical reduction. Formerly it cost men and boys thirty-five cents, but under the new tariff they will have to pay only twenty-five cents. Women who still cling to the boy bob can now get them at the reduced rate of thirty-five cent. It is expected that all other shops will be obliged to meet the cut.

Lofty Apartment Building

Plans for the tallest apartment building to be erected on the New Jersey side of the Hudson river on the Palisades, across the Hudson river from New York city, were announced last week. The building is to be 90 stories high and construction will be completed in about five years. The building will rise 1,000 feet above the Palisades, which are 500 feet high at its proposed site. It will be 16 feet higher than the Eiffel Tower. It will be erected north of the New Jersey terminal at the Dyckman street, New York, ferry, according to present plans. The proposed tower is intended to serve as an observatory and as a beacon for mariners coming in from the Atlantic.

Salter Champions Direct Primary

Ursinus Professor Clashes With Stokes On Big Political Issue

An interesting informal debate—between Ex-Governor Stokes and Prof. J. P. Salter, of Ursinus College, on the Direct Primary, was presented by the League of Women Voters Tuesday evening of last week at Moorestown High School.

Salter, as the first speaker, maintained that the Direct Primary, in spite of all the accusations now being hurled again it, should be maintained. It was because of the failure of the convention system, which had been tried for a hundred years, he said, that the Direct Primary was introduced.

Therefore when considering a return to the convention system one must always bear in mind the question whether the arguments that are being brought against the Primary are not also true of the older system; such as, that great expenditures of money are necessary for a man to be nominated by the Primary and that "no poor man need apply," to quote Mr. Stokes.

Salter pointed out that if it were true that money could more easily win the Primary nomination then the man who spent the most would be the one who would win and therefore Pepper instead of Vare would have been nominated in Pennsylvania. Pepper spent $1,800,000, Vare, $800,000 and Pinchot $195,000. Of this the greatest expenditure was for postal cards, placards, etc. The next greatest expense was for watchers. In Allegheny County Pepper had 25 watchers at each polling place. He polled two and one half votes for each watcher.

Expensive Watchers

There were 49,000 watchers in Allegheny County, costing $10 a piece. This $490,000 was spent in that county alone for "buying votes." If it is possible to buy the Primary election, Senator Pepper should have won.

In 1922 in Indiana, Senator New spent $15,000 and Former Senator Beverage $90,000; yet Beverage was nominated.

Wherever there is a fight vast amounts are spent under both systems. In 1904 in Illinois there was a fight over the Republican nomination in the Convention and vast amounts were spent. Salter maintained that it is because the rich politicians know that it is easier and cheaper to buy a convention than to buy the mass of the electorate that they are advocating a return to the convention system. He said the argument that since only a few use the primary it should be abolished, would apply equally well to the general election. He contended that the primary should be kept and its faults remedied by urging the people to use the opportunity given them, instead of taking this opportunity away, and that the people are much more likely to vote for a candidate, in whom they are interested, than for a delegate to a convention. Originally the plan was for the President of the United States to be chosen by electors—but this proved so repugnant to the people that for a century it has not been used—and the people vote directly for the man they want to be President.

Under the convention system Salter maintained neither Pinchot nor Beverage, of Indiana, could have been nominated because in both cases the machine controlled.

In proof that the direct primary does not destroy party leadership he pointed out that it did not prevent Wilson from being the party leader in New Jersey.

Stokes' Argument

Ex-Governor Stokes based his arguments on the thought that the present system has shown itself to be so capable of corruption that it is time to change it. He quoted many outstanding men who thought it should be changed, such as Roosevelt and Vice-President Dawes, and stated that the manufacturers association have sent out a strong appeal for a change. He claimed that it destroys party government, and that the bosses, like Hague, want it because they think that as long as the other party keeps fighting over candidates they can get their man elected. Stokes claimed that his party never could get a candidate elected as long as they keep this method.

"What right," he asked, "have you got to ask public servants to make a campaign all over the State which amounts to a campaign of character assasination?" And after the party leaders have said such things about their candidate as would make him unfit to be at large if these things were true, then they have to swallow their words and go about to prove why he should be elected. By then they have furnished all the ammunition they can to the Democrats.

He said you could not get decent men to run as candidates and go about the state telling people why they should be nominated and that you never could have had such men as Abraham Lincoln and President Coolidge nominated by the direct primary, that they were the product of the convention. The only candidate you get a chance to vote for under the primary is the egotistical man who puts himself forward or those who are chosen by the star chamber method by the machine.

Instrument of the Machine

The primary is the easy instrument of the machine. He quoted Henry Ford as saying, "when you pretend to give the people power without the machinery you take power from them."

"We are not going to destroy the primary," Stokes said. "We are going to reform the primary and remedy its abuses—allow the people to gather together and select proper candidates. What is the objection to the proper kind of a convention? All movements function by means of conventions—a system by which the people get together and agree upon a candidate. This primary is a pocket book primary. You cannot get the candidacy without money. It costs to send out one circular to all the voters of this state, $78,000."

Stokes showed that the cost of primary elections had been just as great in other states in proportion to the population as in Pennsylvania. For instance, $4000 spent in Wyoming is a greater amount in proportion to the population than $2,000,000 in Pennsylvania. There are thirteen States in the West that do not have 5 million voters.

Under this system he also contended there is no way to write a party platform. The people should write their platform and the candidates run under it. Now the candidates write the platform and every time the candidate changes the platform changes.

In rebuttal Salter answered this last point by stating that there are three methods of creating a party platform—(1) by state committee, (2) by state convention, (3) By the successful candidates in convention.

He urged as one of the best methods of strengthening the primary, the adoption of the short ballot. This will mean only a few men have to be voted for and their qualifications can be more easily learned by the electorate.

The whole issue, he said, resolves itself into the question, "Are the people capable of self-government?" It may be more efficient to have a King but do we want the people to have an opportunity to express their will?"

Newspapers and The Crime Wave

Editor of Paper Published In Prison Appeal To the Public Press

When considering crime and its cause, one is forced to wonder how great a part of the responsibility for the so-called crime wave may be chargeable to the sensational newspapers of today. Outside of the New York Times, the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Christian Science Monitor, and a few of that class, where could the young criminal find a better schooling in crime than from the front pages of the daily newspapers and the feature articles in the supplements of the Sunday papers? To speak of them as primers of crime would be mild. If one were seriously bent on compiling a handbook of crime, for the use of criminals, all necessary material could be taken from our average daily newspapers.

Let any unprejudiced person, who thinks the above is overdrawn, study the first newspaper that comes to hand, and read the headlines of the featured news. Then read the details with which every phase of any crime is described; the methods used in committing the act; the supposed manner of escape; and what the detectives have discovered in the way of clues and how they plan to catch the perpetrators. Then search for news regarding some of the worth-while things of life, some noble action, a deed of devoted self-sacrifice in the interests of mankind, any one of the things that help to make the world better and inspire emulation in the hearts of others. Do you find it on the front page, with a heading an inch high? Or is it most often found on an inside page, in an inconspicious place? What impression can the criminal mind receive when it sees crime hold the chief place in the daily news, other than the belief that it is the big thing of life and the "news" of the world?

Of course, it would be folly to attempt to remedy the conditions of the law, for the freedom of the press must ever be one of our great rights; but, almost without exception, the men controlling our newspapers are men of high character and vision, seeking the greatest good of our country and the people always. Why do they not make the question of newspaper influence on crime be one of the leading subjects of discussion at meetings of their association? For their next meeting, whenever held, may we suggest the question: "What influence are we, as newspaper men and citizens, trying to exert on our country?" The Echo (published by inmates of Western State Penitentiary, Pittsburgh, Pa.)

John W. Harris' Mind Affected

Former County Official Declared Mentally Unsound at Mt. Holly Hearing

John W. Harris, formerly of Mount Holly, who has been under treatment in a private sanitarium at Vincentown for a number of months, was declared to be of unsound mind and incapable of attending to his business affairs, by a jury which heard testimony at the court house, Mount Holly, last week. The petition for the appointment of commissioners to take evidence as to his sanity was made by his wife, Amelia L. Harris, now a resident of Merchantville, and Jonathan H. Kelsey represents all the persons interested.

The commissioners who conducted the inquiry were appointed by the Court of Chancery, were Blanchard H. White, Dr. Robert E. Haldeman and Harold R. Powell.

Dr. Daniel F. Remer, of Mount Holly, who has been attending Mr. Harris since last June, testified that in his opinion the patient has been mentally unbalanced since August 1. Mr. Harris has delusions and his general physical condition is bad, being caused by kidney and heart affections. This testimony was corroborated by Dr. H. E. Longsdorf, also of Mount Holly, who recently made a thorough examination of Mr. Harris' condition. Both physicians gave the opinion that he is not fit to attend to business affairs.

Testimony of Herbert S. Kille, who was appointed temporary receiver for Harris after the application for lunacy proceedings was made; Walter I. Dill, of the Mount Holly Trust Company, and the wife of Harris, was taken to determine the value of his estate ,which is all personal property. This, the jury decided, is $20,394.35.

"FITZ" SIGNS CONTRACT

Walter French, Moorestown's major league representative, ceased his hand-ball playing at the Camden Y. M. C. A. last week long enough to admit that he had signed for the coming season with the Philadelphia Athletics.

THE SNOW ORDINANCE FIASCO

Evidently the "teeth" in the snow ordinance were "store teeth," for they came out the first time they tried to bite.

Last week fifty-two residents of Riverton were summoned to appear before the Borough Recorder to answer to the charge of not having cleaned their sidewalks as required by this ordinance.

Protests began to pour in to the Mayor and the Director of Public Safety by telephone and calls in person. The attitudes taken ranged all the way from, "Well if it is a borough ordinance it ought to be enforced, and I am willing to pay mine," to "It is an outrage to summon law-abiding and respectable citizens to a public hearing and treat them like common criminals."

One man is reported to have said, "I am willing to pay my fine if every other person who was summoned is in the court room at the same time." Apparently he was not fully convinced that justice is always administered impartially in Riverton, and did not want to take a chance on some of his fellow delinquents escaping their penalty in a separate or postponed hearing, or by a hearing that was never to be held at all.

After the edict had gone forth that the snow ordinance would be rigidly enforced to the letter, there was a sudden change in front, just as there was in the Hallowe'en case. Following the buzz of protests it was rumored that there was something wrong with the way the summonses had been served. The man who served them, it developed, had not been sworn in as an officer, and so, those summoned were not bound to appear at the hearing.

The regular police officers were sent around to notify all those who had been cited to appear that the whole thing was called off until further notice. This order was issued by the Director of Public Safety, acting on suggestion of the Mayor.

So far as we have learned, there is no question as to the validity of the ordinance, nor, for the most part, as to the liability of the persons on whom notices were served. The failure to enforce the ordinance, therefore, seems to rest on the fact that the service of summonses was technically defective. If this was the only thing standing in the way of the enforcement of this ordinance, it could have been easily corrected.

The question naturally arises, "Why was not the time of the regular officers used to serve notices that would meet the legal requirements, instead of calling the hearing off?"

The action taken lays the authorities open to suspicion that they were glad of a technicality on which to escape from an unpleasant situation.

If traffic regulations and other laws are not enforced with absolute impartiality, and if borough ordinances can be brought to naught by the protest of those who are amenable under their provisions, then there is no justice in Riverton.

PRIMARY OR CONVENTION

The scheme of the Stokes-Edge combination to rob the voters of New Jersey of their political rights as exercised through the Direct Primary is one of the most palpable political steals ever attempted in modern times.

It is difficult to conceive how these gentlemen, of whose political cunning there has rarely been a doubt, could muster the effrontery to strike so boldly at the franchise rights of an intelligent electorate.

The political advance of mankind has been slow and painful throughout the ages. Every right has been won through desperate effort; in centuries past it required copious shedding of blood on the battlefield; later liberties were won through dire economic, industrial or political pressure; more recently the process has been more peaceful and parliamentary; but, won by whatever method or sacrifice they may have been, all these rights are equally precious and no thinking citizen will stand idly by and see any of them taken away.

In the old convention system the individual voter had only the power of choice between two, rarely more, handpicked candidates. The range of choice was really narrower than this. The republican voted for the republican candidate and the democrat for the democratic candidate. The voter had virtually nothing to do with the selection of the candidate whose identity was usually revealed after secret conclaves between party magnates and the so-called "vested interests."

Such methods of picking candidates made a sham of our republican theory of government and the awakening political conscience of the Twentieth Century called the Direct Primary into being.

The arguments advanced by Stokes are so childlike and naive as to be laughable.

He would not have dignified candidates for governor and Senator submit themselves to the humiliation of a state-wide campaign.

Yet in his convention plan the delegates to that convention are to be elected by the people.

Does any one believe there will be less campaigning to secure the election of favorable delegates than there has been to obtain the direct vote of the people?

Certainly not. Then, wherein is the difference?

The vital difference is that after the will of the people has been expressed in the election of their delegates, Stokes and the other bosses plan to come in and manipulate those delegates to suit themselves. Some will be barred by the credentials committee, which is generally under the thumbs of the political leaders. Some will be bought, some will be bribed with patronage, some will be bullied into submission.

And the will of the people will be ignored.

ROBERTS vs. POWELL

An interesting political situation is developing in Burlington County regarding our candidates for the State Legislature at the June Primaries.

There seems to have been no secrecy about Assemblyman Powell's impression that his six years in the Assembly automatically entitle him to try out his talents in the higher realms of the State Senate. Just what reward the Assemblyman considers due Senator Roberts, who has served faithfully and well in both houses, has not been announced.

With an apparently wellfounded impression that it is to be an open season for the Assembly, Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, of Browns Mills, has already cast his hat into the ring for the nomination to the lower house on the republican ticket. But Senator Roberts has made no gesture to indicate that he is willing to hand over the toga to his ambitious young legislative colleague. In fact it is reported that he has definitely made up his mind to run again.

A rumor is also on the wind that even should Mr. Roberts wish to relinquish the cares of legislation, another doughty candidate for Senatorial honors is all primed to step into the race.

The most positive fact of the situation is that Assemblyman Powell, by gazing with too ardent eyes at somebody else's job, has got himself into a fight either to keep his own or land the other.

There is probably no public official in Burlington County more highly respected and trusted than Senator Emmor Roberts. Not only has he given abundantly of his time and effort to serve his constituency faithfully, not only has he been notably competent to represent properly the varied interests of the county, but he has also been independent and fearless, defying the orders of political cliques and bosses, and serving only what he knew to be the best interests of his county.

The Senator's courageous independence may have given hope to others who aspire to his position, but that same courage and independence will prove a splendid investment in votes should he ask for renomination next June.

Politeness is the flower of humanity.—Joubert.

The New Era
Riverton, New Jersey
To the Editor:

Laws that have teeth can be a failure. The past week has proven this beyond a doubt. The reason is not known by many of our citizens at the present time. What did our little borough profit by all this talk? There was no profit, it was just a matter of bringing many of our best citizens and taxpayers into the limelight, that they might be humiliated. This was not the work of any one man; the ordinance was voted on by the Mayor and Council.

Seeing that Borough labor and equipment was used for removing snow from some of the private properties in Riverton, wouldn't it be nice if the rest of residents were served in the same manner?

The zero hour applying to the removal of snow from sidewalks should also be applied to crossings; sorry to say this matter was somewhat overlooked.

Why not forget politics? Why not reinstate our former supervisor and contractor of sewer and road work? The reinstating of our former contractor would mean service and efficiency at a minimum cost. To take this work away from our former contractor was manifestly unjust, particularly now that a portion of the work is being done by outsiders.

The summary of the audits of the Borough books besides being incomplete were very late in being published. The state provides a fine of ten dollars per day, for every day over thirty days, that the summary of the audits are withheld from publication, after the audits were completed. Merely acting on supposition, supposing that every citizen who had violated the said snow ordinance had been fined $5.00 apiece; this would be as naught in comparison to the amount of the fine for not having the summary of the audits of the borough's books published on time. This fine would amount to approximately $7,800.00. Why has not this amount been deposited in the borough's treasury? Why make fish of some and flesh of others?

The question of closing the Thomas avenue crossing was discussed by Council with a representative of the Pennsylvania Railroad company, but was never presented to a public meeting of the citizens. In our neighboring town, Palmyra, a similar question some time ago was dealt with in an entirely different manner. There the whole thing was discussed by the borough council in an open meeting with several citizens present.

Some of the present administration seem to be a pugnacious type, they are constantly antagonizing the citizens of Riverton. It will be remembered that Council considered taking over Bank avenue if the residents there did not improve the roadway. Council's attitude was again noticed when they failed to heed the requests of the citizens regarding the Fourth of July celebration. What real difference did it make to the present administration where the display of fireworks was held.

It is my belief after having spoken with many of our citizens that they are thoroughly disgusted with the tactics and policies of this administration, especially with the "passing of the buck."

Look out for the parking ban which many of the residents of Riverton think will be the next big thing that will be inaugurated in our town.

A CITIZEN.

THE FIRE MARSHAL

Riverton, N. J.
January 24, 1927.

Editor The New Era

I read with much interest the communication in the last issue of your paper signed "A Citizen."

I fully agree with him that the citizens of Riverton should take more interest in their town and the way it is run. Since the people pay the bills it is quite right that they should determine how their money should be spent.

There is one point, however, on which your correspondnet seems to be laboring under a mistaken idea, and that is about the fire marshal. The office of fire marshal carries no salary, and so would not be of any use to a "politician's friend."

The service is entirely without compensation, and the appointment, if made, will be made by the fire company.

Sincerely,
EDWARD R. WILLIAMS.

A SUGGESTION

Editor The New Era

Why not a note in the New Era preceding each Council meeting advising when held, where and at what time? This will, I believe, help to bring out some taxpayers and stir up interest.

What has happened to the Thomas avenue crossing proposition?

A RESIDENT.

(I do not know what has become of the proposition to close the Thomas avenue crossing. If you will attend meetings of Council regularly you will be in a position to get first-hand information if it comes up again. The next meeting of the Riverton Borough Council will be held Thursday evening, February 3, at 8 o'clock to hear objections to the budget. Editor.)

WALLACE W. BALCOM

Wallace W. Balcom, Past Exalted Ruler of the Camden Elks, died in the Presbyterian Hospital, Philadelphia, Monday night at 7.30 o'clock. Mr. Balcom, who was 50 years old, had been ill for several months. He was a former resident of Palmyra and enjoyed a large circle of friends here.

Mr. Balcom was connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad since boyhood. He was head of the Freight and Coal Department and Chief of the Auditor's Department at the time of his death and was at one time connected with the Denver office.

Until recently he lived in Camden, but moved to Stonehurst, Upper Darby, last April. He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Dorothy Fergusen, and a son, Carroll P. Balcom. The funeral will be held today at 3 p. m. from the Elks Home at 7th and Cooper streets, Camden.

RIVERTON ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Edwards have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lee Edwards, to Mr. W. Mifflin Large. The Edwards family were former residents of Riverton.

Two buggies, each drawn by a pair of handsome trotters, passed Main street Sunday morning and attracted more attention than a flying machine which passed overhead at the same time. Boys who were thrilled twenty years ago at the sight of an automobile, are now fathers of lads who stare in amazement at anyone driving a team of horses.

Francis Bailey of Linden avenue, is not pleased this week to have the grippe spoil his four year perfect attendance record at school. Betty Bailey is about again after being confined to the house by illness for the past three weeks.

Miss Elizabeth Coddington, of Arlington, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Coddington, on Elm avenue.

Mrs. Carl Thompson and daughter, Miss Margaret, of Glenside, Pa., visited Mrs. Lee Milton on Tuesday.

Mrs. W. Dunlap Fahnestock and son, Dunlap, Jr., have returned to their home in New York City, after spending a week as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dixon Taylor.

Clinton B. Woolston and family, accompanied by Mrs. A. Harry Kemmerle, left on Sunday for a motor trip to Miami, Florida, to visit his father who has been ill. They expect to be gone about three weeks.

Frank Barone, proprietor of the Riverton Elnectric Shoe Repairing is not able to carry on his business because of a broken arm which he sustained Sunday from a fall on the ice.

Clarence Westcott, of Riverton, and John Stafford, of Gibbstown, killed two gray foxes near Taunton Lakes last Friday.

MRS. FORD STILL YOUNG AT 90

One of these brothers went west and a recent governor of Ohio, bearing the name Looker, is a direct descendant of one of these brothers. The second brother went up into the mountains and was never heard from afterwards. The one remaining man settled down in Elizabeth and almost all the Lookers in New Jersey are branches of his family tree. The brother that stayed in Jersey was a sentinal in the army which existed at that time for the purpose of patrolling the shores of this new land.

Headstones in the Union cemetery bearing the names of Mrs. Ford's relatives are dated as far back as 1790, showing that her family is one of the oldest in the United States.

Olden Days

Mrs. Ford remembers when there were no streets cars in Newark, not even the old horse-drawn cars. The only means of public transportation was by Morgan's hack which ran from the railroad station to the park. In those days when the weather was wet and the walking bad, men would be stationed at the street corners and sweep the way across the street for you. After you had crossed a penny was his reward for his service. Mrs. Ford also can remember the time when only one train a day each way was operated between Elizabeth and Newark.

Although she has attained the age of 90, Mrs. Ford's eyesight is still good. She wears glasses only to read and sew. She still manages her home and does light duties about the house. She also has all her teeth, and they are in good condition.

LETTER FROM WILLIAMS

Director of Public Safety Explains What Went Wrong With Snow Hearing

To the Residents of Riverton:

The failure of the effort of the Police Department to enforce the provisions of the snow ordinance last week was due to an oversight on my part in not seeing that the officer who served the notices had been properly sworn in, and I freely take full responsibility for this phase of the matter.

I believe, however, that the people of Riverton as a whole want to see the borough's ordinances enforced.

Many citizens expressed their approval of the effort to have the pavements cleaned and regret that it should have failed on a technicality.

The next time this matter comes up there will be no technical oversights, and I request the citizens of the borough to co-operate with the Police Department in observance and enforcement of this ordinance thereby sparing themselves inconvenience and expense.

Sincerely,
EDWARD R. WILLIAMS,
Director of Public Safety.

THE CHRISTIAN OVERCOMING TEMPTATION

LESSON TEXT—Luke 4:1-13; I Cor. 10:12, 13.

GOLDEN TEXT—In that He Himself hath suffered being tempted, He is able to succor them that are tempted.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—How to Overcome Temptation.

Christ's temptation was Messianic. No one has ever been tempted just like He was—led into the wilderness by the Holy Spirit to be tempted of the devil (Matt. 4:11). While we are not tempted as He was, the devil uses the same methods on us. This temptation was not:

1. A preparation for His work, but rather its first conflict. In His baptism we have the symbolic act of the dedication of Himself to the work of redemption through the cross—the making full a righteousness.

2. It was not to see if Christ would stand fast, nor to see if He would fall under the most crucial test. He could not have failed.

3. It was to show Christ as an object upon which we may rest our faith with unshaken confidence. He came as the second man, the head of the new race. The temptation therefore was a demonstration of the inseparableness of the divine and human natures in the incarnation.

I. The Temptation of Christ (Luke 4:1-13).

1. The place (v. 1).

The wilderness of Judea. The first man, Adam, was tempted in a garden with the most pleasant surroundings. The second man, Jesus Christ, was tempted in a barren wilderness surrounded by wild beasts (Mark 1:13).

2. The method (vv. 2-12).

Christ as the world's Redeemer sustained a three-fold relationship. Son of Man, the Messiah and Son of God, therefore Satan made each one a ground of attack.

(1) As Son of Man (vv. 2-4).

Satan made his first assault upon Him as a man by appealing to the instinct of hunger. Satan urged Him to use His divine power and convert a stone into bread. Hunger is natural and sinless. Real human life experiences hunger. The temptation was in satisfying a right hunger in a wrong way. To have yielded in this case though His hunger was desperate, would have been to renounce the human limitations which He had taken for our sins. In the incarnation He became identified with humanity, so He chose to abide in fellowship with man.

(2) As Messiah (vv. 5-8).

Here the temptation was to grasp His rightful dominions by false means. The devil offered to surrender unto Him the world if He would adopt his methods—worship him. The force of this temptation was in the fact that the kingdoms of the world are Christ's by God's covenant with Him. God's method by which Jesus was to possess the world was the sacrificial death on the cross.

(3) As Son of God (vv. 9-12).

Here Satan tries to induce Christ to presume upon God's care. He quotes a Messianic Psalm to induce Him to so act. To do the spectacular thing in order to get notice is to fall into Satan's temptation. For Jesus to have placed Himself in danger in order to get God's special help in delivering Him would have been to sin.

(4) Christ's defense (vv. 4, 8, 12).

It was the Word of God. He met and repulsed the enemy with "It is written." Our defense is God's Word.

(5) The issue (v. 13).

II. The Temptation of Believers (I Cor. 10:12, 13).

1. Temptation is to be expected (v. 12).

From the appearance of Satan in the Garden of Eden on down through the ages men and women have been assailed by the tempter. These facts are God's admonitions unto us upon whom the ends of the world are come. Caution is always necessary. Overweening self-confidence is most perilous to those who rest in the security of their divine election while neglecting a life of holiness.

2. Divine help available (v. 13).

All temptations which come to us are those which are common to the race. No one should surmise that his temptation is peculiar. God is faithful and will not allow the temptation to go beyond the ability of the one tempted. He will provide a way of escape.

TOO CANDID

"Wonderful chap, your uncle," observed a friend when the old gentleman had disappeared. "So well preserved."

"OUR UNCROWNED HEROES"

There are uncrowned heroes about us;
We meet them each day on the street,
Sometimes we greet them quite friendly,
Sometimes we fail, even, to speak.

In the mad rush of life as we live it;
For the sake of just trying to live,
We forget there are others who give it,
That others about them might live.

The employed or "just volunteer,"

Booms out a midnight alarm,
The next sound you hear is our laddies,
On their way to save someone from harm.

They are ready to fight for our people
To their last ounce of strength, every one,
Till the fire demon of ruin is vanquished,
No matter how often it comes.

They alone know the hurt of the fire burns;
They alone know the risk they have run
To rescue some loved one from danger,
Or save something that someone has earned.

And then, when the roll book is opened
And each answers "Here" to his name,
There is scarcely anyone present
To praise them, or even to blame.

So let's say a good word for our laddies;
Let's praise them while with us they live,
Don't wait 'til in sorrow and sadness,
To speak praises that now we should give.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

That the Federal Government is already far too complicated to give real satisfaction. In no longer commands the respect of the citizens as it did a century ago. And yet many of our good friends who seek the betterment of the people would make it still more complex by adding to the duties and burdens of the administration at Washington.

One of the reasons why our system of Government has succeeded is that enough matters of real, vital interest have had to be decided by local officials to draw men of ability and ambition into local affairs. Life is too full of interesting jobs to permit able, intelligent citizens to accept willingly local offices which give them no chance of exercising their talents or of showing their ability as desirable representatives in executive or legislative positions.

If you take away from the State legislatures the responsibility for making proper laws relating to schools, roads, sanitation, and the welfare of the individual citizen, you take away the things in which the individual citizen is most interested. He will stop voting in State elections. You will eventually teach the citizen that these important matters are none of his business. Citizens for whom everything is done by an all-wise central political self-reliance or political self-respect.

The fathers of our country, the makers of our Constitution, learned how to govern, learned how to make laws, in the school of local self-government, in the Colonial assemblies, in the legislatures of their several States.

If you desire to develop good law-makers you must give them experience in the making of laws. If you wish to continue the blessings of representative government, you must give the representatives sufficient responsibilities to increase their capacity, to train their judgment, and to test their qualities.

TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM IS DOING EXCELLENT WORK

Dr. M. W. Newcomb, Head of Co. Institution, Presents Annual Report

CITES POSSIBILITIES IN "SURGICAL" CASES

Dr. M. W. Newcomb, medical director of the Fairview Sanatorium, at New Lisbon, submitted his eighth annual report at the meeting of the board of freeholders held in Mount Holly last Friday. This institution is owned and operated by Burlington county.

Excerpts from the paper, which was read by the doctor, citing the work being done at the institution in the cure and prevention of tuberculosis follows:

The past year was the best the Sanatorium has had since it was established. There was an increase in the number of patients admitted, and a corresponding increase in the number of patient days. There was a substantial increase in the amount of money collected from patients, and a corresponding decrease in the cost of running the Sanatorium.

Last year we admitted 70 male patients and 31 female patients, which is a gain of 13 over the year 1925. We discharged 24 male and 22 female, making a total of 46. We lost by death 31 male and 8 female patients. When noting the number of deaths in a county sanatorium, it must be remembered that no patient, however far advanced he may be, can be refused admission. The best we can do with these cases is to make them as comfortable as possible while they live.

I wish to call your special attention to the financial report.

Small Per Capita Cost

The amount spent for maintenance was $39,967.86; for improvements $1,984.33; total amount spent at sanatorium, $41,952.19.

Amount received from patients, was $20,876.11; from state, $7,578.69; total paid to county treasurer, $28,454.20. The total cost to taxpayers was $13,497.99; total per capita cost to county, $.784.

Central steam heat from the Asylum was installed, which is a big improvement, enabling us to do some cooking by steam, to sterilize our dishes with live steam, and affording us an abundance of hot water, which we have always been short of before. The new Nurses' Home is about finished and we hope to be able to occupy it in the near future. The Annex to the Sanatorium will be a great help, and will allow us to group our cases according to the stage of the disease. It will increase our bed capacity by fifty-five beds. When this is completed, the administration office will be moved to the new building, and the present office will be used as a reception room for patients' friends. We have added another Alpine sun lamp. We have purchased, together with the Asylum, a new moving picture machine, and show pictures every Monday night. This is a big attraction, and all patients look forward to the pictures each week.

Our X-ray department has been busy during the year, and we have a number of very interesting pictures in our files. Our equipment is always at the disposal of the physicians of our County.

Radio Boon to Patients

Our radio has continued to give good service. From the sanatorium standpoint, I consider this one of the greatest inventions of the age. I know of nothing that affords the amount of pleasure and recreation for patients as does the radio. In every new hospital or sanatorium being built, there should be included wiring to each bed for ear phones.

Some of the patients have been doing basketry work, which has netted them several dollars. This is a very satisfactory way for patients to pass the time away.

We have had many visitors during the past year. The Inspector from the Department of Institutions and Agencies visited us and gave us a very good report.

We have had many donations of every description from clubs, lodges and associations of all kinds in our County. These gifts have been very gratefully acknowledged by our Superintendent. I wish to take this opportunity to thank all who have in any way contributed to the cheer of the Sanatorium.

Each year I have called your attention to the need of a Preventorium in our County. There is an urgent demand for some place to send the under nourished child, and the child who is below par, having been exposed to active cases of tuberculosis. If these children could be placed under the proper supervision, they might be nursed back to health in a short time.

To Save the Children

There is one question which we must consider very carefully this coming year, and that is the question of surgical tuberculosis. When our new building is finished, giving us a large increase in number of beds, should we not admit some of these little ones who are destined to be cripples for life, unless they are taken in hand early? If taken in time, there is no doubt but that many of them can be restored to health with little or no deformity. Then they will be able not only to enjoy life, but to earn their own livelihood. The whole treatment is heliotherapy, or sun treatment, and on cloudy days we use the Alpine sun lamp. As a rule, very little surgery is required in these cases, but with the new Burlington County Hospital, which will afford surgical facilities for any orthopaedic work it will be a simple matter to transport the patient to and from the hospital by ambulance. I know of nothing more distressing than these cases of tuberculosis of bones and joints. We have admitted a few cases and the results have been excellent. In one instance a little boy about four years old, hardly able to move a hand or foot, was carried into the Sanatorium on a pillow with pus discharging from five different joints. In three years this child was discharged with all joints and abscesses healed, and with very little deformity. All the treatment he had was heliotherapy. It is impossible to get results like this in every case, but I am sure we can do much for these cases, if it is possible to admit them. I should be very glad to have some of the members of the Board of Managers take a trip to the Sanatorium in Perrysburg, N. Y., where they have two hundred or more cases of surgical tuberculosis.

The greater the number of patients we admit to the Sanatorium the greater the amount of work we are doing in the prevention of tuberculosis. The patient is removed from the home and ceases to be a source of infection for the children in that home.

While we are trying to arrest and cure disease of the lungs, we are also trying to educate the patients as to how to live, what to do and what not to do when they return to their homes, so as to keep themselves and other members of the family well. We cannot lay too much stress on prevention of disease.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will send you free for the asking, a bulletin on selection of cotton fabrics. Good, practical information you'll find in it for use at the January white sales.

500 at Meeting of Pomona Grange

Senator Roberts Gives Resume of Legislative Measures Affecting Farmers

One of the outstanding features of the meeting was a splendid resume of much of legislative action pending in the New Jersey State Senate by Senator Emmor Roberts.

The Grange, over which Clifford Emmons, of Pemberton, presided, passed resolutions opposing open season for doe and the Government's reclamation policy.

Various gunning organizations have been agitating for a day during the fall on which does may be gunned, but the Grange put its stamp of disapproval on the movement.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, the United States Government has been carrying on an extensive program of Reclamation, and

WHEREAS, there is already an overproduction of farm products in this country, and

WHEREAS, the Reclamation projects are not proving themselves economically sound,

We, the Burlington County Pomona Grange hereby respectively petition you to use your influence to prevent any further Reclamation work at this time.

This Resolution is to be sent to our representatives in Congress, to the President and to the Secretary of the Interior and the Secretary of Agriculture.

A very delightful luncheon was served at noon and the afternoon's program included entertainment and talks by the members. Guy Hendry, executive secretary of the Burlington County Y. M. C. A. favored with roundly applauded cornet solos. Mrs. Aaron L. Collins, of Moorestown, was chairman of the program committee.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the New Jersey Society of Architects learns from members returning from Washington of the demolition of the well-known Hay Residence on Lafayette Square, immediately opposite the White House, which demolition was made necessary in order to erect a business building.

THEREFORE, be it resolved by the New Jersey Society of Architects in regular meeting assembled January 13, 1927, that it believes all of the Lafayette Square frontage should be promptly obtained by the Government and reserved as sites for government buildings as they become necessary. The Society believes that private development should be curtailed and that business and commercial buildings should not be allowed to face the White House, the Treasury, the State, War and Navy Department Buildings.

BE it further resolved that the carrying out of this plan will only be in furtherance of the original plan of Washington with its well-considered developments and that the amendment which prevailed at the last session of Congress, which left private interests free to act was unfortunate and a mistake.

Be it further resolved that the Secretary of the Society be directed to forward a copy of these Resolutions to each Senator and Representative from the State of New Jersey with the request that they give this subject earnest consideration and if they find themselves in accord with these Resolutions, that they take such action as may be appropriate and effective in the greatest possible degree.

"IMPRORTED" SNOW FOR FLOWER LAND

Someone carted a truckload of snow into Los Angeles from the nearby mountains, and the children immediately set about having a lawn party. They fashioned a snow man with floral eyes and trimmings, and had a fine time with him while he lasted—which wasn't for very long.

DEFERS DECISION

Parker's Salary Plea to be Decided March 7

In response to a mandamus and rule to show cause why Judge Slaughter should not recommend payment to Ellis H Parker, county detective, an increase of salary of $700, the former went to Trenton last week and appeared before Justice Lloyd. Parker was not present, but he was represented by Paul Wendell, a Trenton attorney. It was stated that Martin Devlin was also to have appeared for Parker, but he was detained at home by the illness of his wife. Judge Slaughter was represented by W. Holt Apgar.

The detective's side of the case was called to the attention of the court by Mr. Wendell, who based his claim for an increase in salary on the law which was enacted by the Legislature of 1926 and which appears to make it mandatory upon the Judge of the Court of Common Pleas to grant the increase. Mr. Apgar did not agree with this idea and after some discussion Justice Lloyd decided that there were some points that needed further looking into and he deferred his decision until the seventh of March when the case will again be heard in chambers at Merchantville.

Mushrooms grown in centuries-old caves along the banks of the Mississippi river at St. Paul make that city one of the greatest mushroom producers in the United States.

Ancient Free Libraries

The free library is not an exclusively modern institution. There are proofs of the fact that Nineveh possessed a public library consisting of 10,000 distinct works on tablets of clay. There were Egyptian libraries 2,000 years before Christ, and at a later period the library at Alexandria was world-famous.

It was in 1852 that the first free library in England was opened at Manchester. Dickens, Thackeray, Bulwer-Lytton and Monckton Milnes, afterward Lord Houghton, were among the speakers at the opening ceremony.

"The chains of habit are generally too small to be felt until they are too strong to be broken," said Samuel Johnson. Help your sons form habits that work for them rather than against them.

BIG DODGE YEAR

1926 Showed Big Gain Over Previous Years

Dodge Brothers, Inc., last year sold to dealers 331,764 passenger cars and trucks, making 1926 the biggest year in its history. The gain over 1925, which was the company's best previous year, is 27.6 per cent. The 1926 record is remarkable as it surpasses the huge output of 259,967 cars and trucks in 1925 by 71,797 units and was made without the sales impetus which many companies gain from the introduction of new models.

Dodge Brothers, Inc., rate of growth last year was nearly nine times as rapid as that of the Automotive industry as a whole, which made a production gain of only 3.3 percent over 1925. Figures compiled by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce for 1926 place production of all automobile manufacturers at 4,489,000 cars and trucks.

Graham Brothers, the truck division of Dodge Brothers, Inc., also make a striking showing with a gain over 1925 of 55.7 per cent in sales to dealers. The rate of gain was approximately eight times as fast as that of the entire truck industry last year. National Automobile Chamber of Commerce figures show that the output for the whole truck industry was 7 per cent larger in 1926 than in 1925. Total sales of Graham Brothers trucks and motor coaches to dealers in 1926 amounted to 37,463 units.

Combined sales of Dodge Brothers commercial cars and Graham Brothers trucks to dealers last year totaled 67,293 units, an increase of 32.7 per cent over sales of 50,713 vehicles in 1925.

Despite factory production and shipments by Dodge Brothers, Inc., of a record number of passenger cars and trucks in 1926, stocks in dealers' hands and in transit December 31 were substantially smaller than at the close o fthe previous year.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS WILL CONDUCT CARD PARTY

The Burlington County Junior Republican Club announces a Valentine card party, "500" and bridge, to be held at the Community House, Moorestown, on Monday afternoon, February 14, beginning at two o'clock. The tickets are now ready for distribution and will be seventy-five cents each.

This affair is for the benefit of the club and it is expected that the attendance will be large, the aim being to have not less than two hundred present. This will require fifty tables and will make up one of the largest card parties ever held in the county. It will certainly be one of Burlington county's best Valentine day parties.

Home-making as Advocated by Domestic Science Leaders

The Harrison Gas Holder of Public Service Electric and Gas Company is one of the largest in the world. It is part of the great plant, extending over most of New Jersey that gives you gas service. At any minute of the day or night this service is available to you, no matter whether your demand be small or large. For cooking, for heating and for thousands of industrial processes, gas is the ideal fuel. Public Service is proud of the gas service it gives and is constantly striving to make it better.

Gas Incinerator Destroys Rubbish In Sanitary Way

The gas incinerator for domestic use has been found a most satisfactory means of destroying garbage, waste paper and other rubbish. It reduces garbage to ashes, without smoke or odor. Quick removal of such waste matter protects the health of the household. From Public Service a gas incinerator may be purchased for five dollars down with a year to pay balance.

The Open Fire Has Charm for Us All

Nearly everyone prefers for warmth the fire he can see. But no matter how gloriously the logs may snap, or how red may glow the coals, the wood fire means work in removing ashes, sweeping and dusting.

The gas radiant heater gives life to the fireplace. Its strong heat rays warm the whole room and its use involves no labor.

The Gas Radiantion, the Victorian coal basket, and gas radiant heaters in pleasing period designs are ideal for fireplaces.

Public Service offers its customers thirty days trial of any gas fireplace heater. One dollar down with a year to complete payment are the attractive terms offered. A gas heater bought of Public Service will be installed without extra charge in first floor apartments.

The Gas Heated Clothes Dryer

Wet clothes and linens that freeze as you attempt to pin them to the line make "hanging out" the worst feature of winter washdays. For which frozen hard, materials crack and are subject to much wear and tear.

The gas-heated clothes dryer does away with this trouble and is so well ventilated that laundered pieces dry as clear and fresh as by sunshine and fresh air.

The woman who is interested in modern laundry equipment will want a gas-heated dryer to make every washday a fine day.

Public Service is selling the clothes dryer on the divided payment plan—$5 with order and twelve months to pay.

Shadows Can Be Banished From Your Kitchen

There's an exasperating shadow that seems to haunt kitchens and comes between the woman and her work. It hovers over the range or the sink or lurks in the corners.

The shadow results from incorrect lighting and may be banished forever by the use of the special kitchen lighting unit.

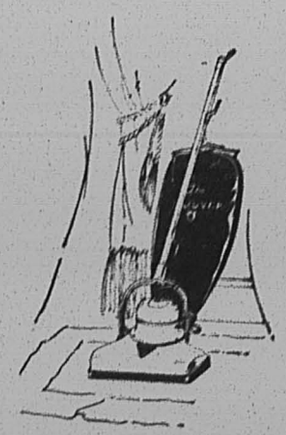
An outlet on the cord and within easy reach permits the use of any electric appliance. The unit costs $9.50 installed—$1.50 down—$1 a month with your light bill until paid. Its cash price is $8.00.

New Standards Set in House Cleaning Methods

The housekeeper has always used beating and sweeping to free her rugs and carpets from dirt and grit.

The "vacuum" cleaner introduced suction of air cleaning. The Hoover electric cleaner combined the three processes and the new Hoover has improved on each operation, bringing into play positive agitation, a new scientific cleaning principle.



The positive agitator lifts the rug from the floor, flutters it in the air and taps loose the dirt that has become embedded in its nap. The soft, swiftly revolving brush sweeps up lint and threads; the powerful suction whisks all dirt and dust into the dust tight washable bag. This new Hoover requires no oiling and with its attachments furnishes complete cleaning service for all rugs, carpets, hangings and upholstered furniture.

Public Service has arranged convenient terms for the purchase of the Hoover—$5 down—$5 a month.

Lovely lamps in the early American manner and in many other attractive interpretations are to be found in Public Service show rooms. Best of all, their prices have all been subject to sharp pruning, and any one of these charming lamps can be purchased at just one third its former price.

For a Light Meal Serve Hot Waffles

Served with butter, honey or syrup, hot waffles are well liked by nearly everyone. They make a particularly suitable dish for luncheon or Sunday night supper.

Waffles can be made electrically with little trouble. An attractive set, consisting of waffle iron, batter pitcher, syrup jug and tray. Cash $16.95. Iron alone, $9.95.

It isn't extravagant to leave a light or two burning when you're away from home at night. It's protective. Well-lighted homes are seldom burglarized.

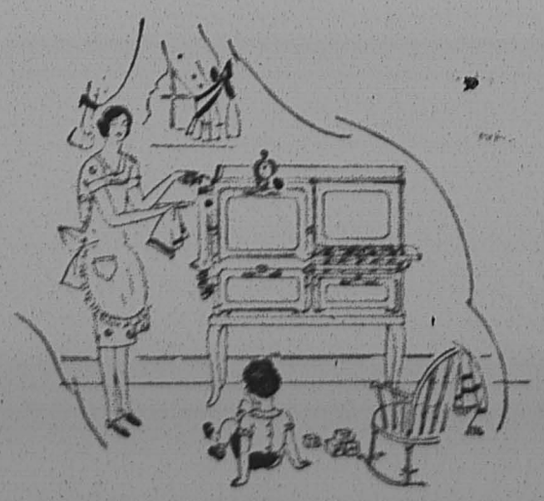
Time and Temperature Is Right Basis for Cooking

For successful results in cooking and baking, time and heat should be measured as accurately as the ingredients of the food you cook. An oven heat regulator on the gas range will assure any degree of heat for any length of time. Since there's no danger of scorching or under-cooking when this method is used, the time of the housekeeper is free for other duties or recreation while the cooking or baking is in progress.

It is important that your gas range should conform to the specifications of the American Gas Association. This guarantees fine materials, scientific construction and satisfactory cooking results.

At Public Service stores, a one dollar down payment will install any oven heat regulator gas range selected—a year is allowed to complete payment.

Liberal allowances will be made for all stoves, no matter what may be their kind or condition.



To Help You in Meal-planning

Do you know what constitutes a well balanced dinner? Tune in to Station W A A M Tuesday and Friday mornings at 11 o'clock, when Ada Bessie Swann, director of our Home Economics Department, broadcasts. She will give you menus for well balanced dinners and luncheons, and the recipes for the dishes suggested.

Be sure to have pad and pencil ready, for you'll want to serve some of these meals.

Easy Terms For Everybody

Whether it's a lamp or a gas range, an electric refrigerator or a gas heater for your fireplace, we extend to our customers the opportunity to purchase out of income—small down payment, with long periods to complete payments. There are twenty-one Public Service stores selling both electric and gas appliances. Call upon them for information and advice.

CORBIN Early English and Colonial HARDWARE

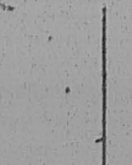
Such is Corbin Early English and Colonial Hardware. Expressive, authentic and—it can never rust.



Door handles with exactly the same appearance as those still in evidence upon our old historical buildings, lending the quaint dignity of Early America to the entrance. But Corbin Door Handles never make cruel strains to mar the doors after exposure to the weather

Knobs and escutcheons fairly reeking of the forge, presenting the same uneven but never deeply dented surface so laboriously and precisely effected by the artist-blacksmith of old.

Oft-times knobs with small key-plates were used in place of large escutcheons. Corbin has not overlooked these.

Our colonial ancestors took much pride in their entrance-door knockers, for they were ornamental as well as useful. Designed in simple beauty, elegant proportions and executed with disregard for time and labor. Corbin is reproducing these today.

Corbin makes a complete line—we sell it.

FIFTH GRADE GEOGRAPHY

The Fifth Grade pupils of Riverton Public School are preparing a Lantern Slide Geography Lesson. This lesson will be given on January 26, 1927, as a general review of the occupations of the North Eastern States.

Slides illustrating dairy farming, fruit and truck farming, mining, fishing, quarrying, transportation and manufacturing, which the leads have been selected. Each pupil has been given a slide and is preparing a few remarks to explain it.

GRAPHS IN OUR SCHOOL

Graphs are made in nearly every grade because it gives us an idea where we stand. By these graphs we know whether we are low or high and we are given a chance to improve ourselves.

It is also easier for the teachers to know just where each member of the class stands in relation to the others. The curve which results from the making of the graph is called a frequency curve. Graphs were made of the State examination, which were given in the eighth grade the past week.

ASSEMBLY NEWS

In Assembly January 21st, on Friday morning, we had a very attractive program. Dorothy Devitt entertained us first with a poem entitled "The Highwayman." Then Florence Harding played the piano. The seventh B then took over the rest of the program.

As January 17th was Benjamin Franklin's birthday, the whole class helped to celebrate it. William Evans, who is the President, took charge of the program and read the introduction. Each person read something about his life. They were as follows: 1. Birth and Family, Naomi Evans; 2. Boyhood, Ruth Bach; 3. Printer, Helen Geise; 4. Trip to Philadelphia, Mildred Schuler; 5. His Life in Philadelphia, Robert Mattice; 6. Poor Richard, Agnes McDermott; 7. Discovery of Electricity, Robert Haley; 8. Inventions, Russell Troutman; 9. In England, Betty Sloan; 10. At the Court of France, Carl Weniger; 11. The American Statesman, Edith Holvick.

FRANKLIN AT THE COURT OF FRANCE

After the Declaration of Independence was signed, Congress sent three commissioners to France, headed by Benjamin Franklin, who was now famous as a scientist and public man, to ask England's ancient enemy aid in their struggle for independence. The French hesitated at first because it was hardly worth while, they said, for France to waste her energies in a fight that was almost lost.

After Burgoyne's surrender however, the outlook was more hopeful and in 1778 France signed a treaty by which she recognized United States as an independent nation and agreed to lend her troops and money.

General Lafayette was sent in command of the French troops and did many brave deed that distinguished him. However, if we had not had so good a representative as Franklin the outlook of the Revolutionary War would probably have been slightly different.

Carl Weniger, Grade 7.

COOKING IN THE EIGHTH GRADE

In cooking class on January 20, Miss Bozarth, our teacher, gave a demonstration on the making of bread. She showed us several methods. Some of the kinds of bread are

1. Pocketbook rolls,
2. Three leaf clover rolls,
3. Swedish tea rings,
4. Small loaves of bread.

Louise Smith, Grade 8.

THE DEVELOPMENT OF TRANSPORTATION IN RIVERTON

When Riverton was first founded all the roads were sand or dirt. The farmers to get their products to the wharf, had to send them in horses and wagons. People of Riverton paid taxes to have all the important roads paved and fixed. The mail had to be carried by a man in a horse and wagon.

Now we have men to deliver the mail to us at the door. We now have all our important roads fixed. There are not many horses and wagons now. There are all automobiles today. The farmers now use trucks and cars to deliver their products to the wharf, where a huckster sells and delivers them to us. We also have good ports and boats to import and export products.

Riverton has now many grocery stores, where we can buy fruit and groceries. Long ago there was one small store on the corner where all things were sold.

Florence Harding, Grade 7.

THE POSITION OFFERED TO A GIRL OF TODAY

Years ago it was thought that girls were not fitted for a position in the business world. Therefore were not educated to occupy an important part. It was also considered unladylike to have any position except that of a governess or teacher and things that are not capable of being done by men.

Conditions during the "World War" proved that women could occupy successfully almost any position a man had formerly held on account of the men being released for war duty.

Now High Schools are adapting courses which prepare girls for use in our business world. Most any position is open for a girl nowadays and great opportunities are in store for the person who takes advantage of their school education. Our nation is demanding the one who has knowledge to fulfill his part in the world.

Irene Sippel, Grade 8a.

BAT BALL

Bat Ball is a very good game to play out of doors and it is easy to learn. Before you start, you have to have several girls or boys. Then two leaders and sides are chosen. You draw a line wherever you want to play. One side is in bats and the other has to catch the ball. You then pick a point from base. The side that is in bat, is in line on the opposite side of the line from the other. The ball is batted by one person and if it goes over the line, the person runs and tries to get to base without being hit, while the other side tries to catch him. If he bats the ball too high and is caught by the other person, he is out. If it does not go over the line, he is also out. If he is not hit with the ball and gets safely over the line, it counts one point for the batting side.

Florence Harding, Grade 7a.

ENFORCING THE RULE

The Eighth Grade Civics Club has decided there should be no snow balling going to or from school, nor on the school grounds.

Instead of being allowed to have a target as we formerly did, we shall go back to the old rule "No snowballing." We must think of others and rules are made for the good of the whole group. Each of us in Riverton School should do what is best for us all. Any one who is a good sport and a good citizen should obey this rule. A secret committee has been appointed by the Civics Club to enforce it. We hope every one will co-operate and obey this rule.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association was held on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 20th at 3.30 P. M. in the Public School auditorium.

The meeting was opened by Mrs. Mayfield, the President, who read the new Constitution. A Domestic Science leader talked to the mothers and teachers and passed around typewritten papers and booklets, containing new and delicious recipes.

Miss Swan from the Domestic Science Department of the Public Service Corporation, was detained and so she spoke only a short time, but I am sure every mother that was present enjoyed it thoroughly.

The picture was presented to the second grade for having the largest number of mothers present and the second picture was presented to the 6th grade.

Tea was served by the 7th grade girls and the meeting was adjourned.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET SUCCESS

Many Boys and Their Fathers Hear Thrilling Address at YM Dinner Meeting

One hundred and fifty boys and dads enjoyed every minute of the fine program at the Father and Son banquet given by the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. in the Methodist Gym last Friday night.

Joshua S. Bartley, chairman of the committee on arrangements, was toastmaster and is to be complimented on the fine corps of speakers he secured.

Thomas C. VanOsten spoke for the dads, and Edward Sordon represented the sons. J. Porter Ashbrook led the singing and the music was furnished by Guy C. Hendry and Wilmer Heffman, cornetists, with Mrs. Elvin Powell at the piano. It had been arranged to have the whole county Y. M. C. A. orchestra play but when they got as far as Masonville the fog was so thick that they were obliged to stop.

Russell Blackburn and Walter French "stars of the diamond," and well known to sons and dads alike were among the speakers. The principal address of the evening was delivered by Richard C. Dillmore, who told the thrilling story of "That Something" which gripped the interest of his hearers from beginning to end.

From every point of view the dinner was a decided success.

KNIGHTS AT TACONY

Members of St. Joseph's Council, K. of C., of Palmyra-Riverton, were the guests of St. Leo's Council, of Tacony, at an entertainment held at the St. Leo's home last Thursday evening. Ira Thomas, coach of the Philadelphia Athletics, was the principal speaker of the evening.

"Pennant Chances" was the subject of Thomas, and even those who had previously little time for baseball, left the hall feeling the Athletics were in for 1927. Thomas told of the baseball strategy of "Connie" Mack in strengthening his nine for the pennant chase of the current year.

The visiting delegation was welcomed by Grand Knight Clark, of St. Leo's, and Grand Knight Yearly, of St. Joseph's, expressed the thanks of his council for the reception accorded.

Short addresses were made by Father Bunn, of St. Leo's, who spoke on the new bridge between Palmyra and Tacony; Father Troy, of Tacony; District Deputy Dorsey, of Philadelphia; Harry Bradshaw, advocate of St. Joseph's; William Eck, recording secretary of St. Joseph's, and Andrew J. Pfaff, secretary of St. Joseph's.

Entertainment was provided by Leo Vincent and Harry Webb, of Philadelphia, with Leo Lynch at the piano. A buffet luncheon was served following the entertainment.

Charter Night at Lion's Club

Brilliant Addresses Feature Ceremonies Held in Local Club's Den

Palmyra Lions roared lustily Tuesday evening upon the occasion of the formal presentation of their charter by District Governor William A. Schlegel, of the Trenton Club.

The basement of the Lutheran Church, where the ceremonies were held, had been transformed into a jungle of evergreens which the busy Lions had brought from the country to decorate their den. Palms and ferns in profusion were banked in the rear of the speakers' table and a lifesize painting of the King of Beasts looked benevolently down upon the gathering from a place of honor.

The toastmaster was that silver-tongued orator Lion Charles Sullivan, of the Camden Club, and he kept the whole evening enlivened with his witty sallies.

The speaker of the evening was Lion Albert E. (Pete) Burling, former Assistant Prosecutor of Camden County, who delivered a splendid address on Lionism, punctuated with many humorous and appropriate anecdotes.

Charter Presented

Lion Schlegel was in a particularly happy mood in his presentation address and stressed the wonderful opportunities afforded Lionism in the Twin Towns of Riverton and Palmyra.

Lion Secretary Walter D. Lamon gracefully accepted the charter on behalf of the Palmyra club in the absence of President Wimer who was unfortunately called away before that point in the ceremonies was reached.

Among the prominent guests of the occasion were: Lion Rev. Roberts Williams, Deputy District Governor, Bordentown Club; Lion Carl Bannwart, District Secretary, Newark Club; Lion F. Herbert Fulton, District Treasurer, Camden Club; Lion Albert R. Mundorff, International Organizer; Hon. James T. Weart, Mayor of Palmyra; Hon. Fred P. Hemphill, Mayor of Riverton; Dr. Charles S. Mills, President Palmyra and Riverton Rotary Club; Burdette H. Johnson, President Riverside Kiwanis Club; Lion J. Edwin Lees, President Palmyra Chamber of Commerce; Postmaster Ross Mattis, Riverton Chamber of Commerce.

All of these delivered brief and entertaining addresses.

Two "Governors"

Mayor James T. Weart, of Palmyra, and Mayor Fred P. Hemphill, of Riverton, were referred to repeatedly as their Excellencies, the Governors of North and South Carolina, and there were many pointed suggestions that one of the duties of a service club would be to unite Palmyra and Riverton into one big town.

Remedy had an appropriate name all ready for the combined municipality and it was very appropriate to both the spirit of the idea and the occasion.

It was "PALriverton."

The Ladies of the Lutheran Church served a wonderful dinner that received favorable comments from all who were privileged to enjoy it.

The spectacular success of the Pontiac Six is as simple as A-B-C. When introduced it was a car such as no one had ever seen before—a six developed by General Motors, manufactured by Oakland and offering, at $825, qualities of performance, comfort, beauty, economy and reliability entirely new in the field of low cost sixes.

Yet revolutionary as it then was, the Pontiac Six is even farther in advance of its field today. For not only is it still the lowest priced six with Body by Fisher—not only is its power plant still the largest used in any six selling up to $1000——but the fundamental rightness of its entire design has been proved by actual service in the hands of over 60,000 owners!

Pontiac Six, $825 to $975. Oakland Six, companion to Pontiac Six, $1025 to $1295. All prices at factory. Bodies by Fisher. Easy to pay on the liberal General Motors Time Payment Plan.
