HEARING ON PALMYRA-TACONY BRIDGE DEVELOPS OPPOSITION

Former Mayor of Philadelphia Criticises Proposed Width of Draw

MANY DEFEND PLANS DRAWN BY MODJESKI

Boatmen condemned the proposed Palmyra-Tacony bridge as a snag to shipping and the designers and Philadelphia businessmen defended it at the official hearing in Philadelphia last Friday.

The draw was called "too thin, too small and too low," by ex-mayor J. Hampton Moore, of Philadelphia, as he led an attempt to stop the project.

He was joined in his opposition by the Masters, Mates and Pilots of America, who wrote a letter condemning the bridge as proposed, contending it would obstruct navigation.

The Northeast Chamber of Commerce, of Philadelphia; Charles A. Wright, president of the Tacony and Palmyra Ferry Company, and Clement E. Chase, associate engineer of Ralph Modjeski, engineer of Camden bridge, supported the project. Chase and Modjeski drew plans for the Tacony-Palmyra span.

Chase Defends Proposal

Chase declared that by 1930 there would be 13,500,000 vehicles crossing the river and supported the argument for a new bridge. He pointed out that the span would be 61 feet above mean high water, with draws sufficient to permit shipping to pass under.

A span of 216 feet, as provided in the plans, is insufficient for navigation, Moore declared. He continued:

"All towage business would be menaced if confined to a 200-foot span in a river nearly a mile across.

"As many as twelve or more barges are sometimes in tow at one time. If heavily laden, their passage would be difficult.

Put It Somewhere Else

"It would not be to the interest of navigation that the upper Delaware should be subjected to the treatment that might pertain over some shallow spreading spreading stream upon which navigation is practically non-existent.

"Construction of such a bridge in such close proximity to the great Philadelphia-Camden bridge and to the shipyards and big industries of the upper Delaware would not be adequate to the requirements of present and future navigation and commerce."

The bridge has been approved by Congress and President Coolidge. It awaits only the approval of the War Department before construction may begin. The bridge will cost $4,000,000.

The Borough of Palmyra was represented at the hearing by Mayor James T. Weart and Councilman George N. Wimer. Riverton, was not represented officially, but the Riverton Chamber of Commerce sent a letter to Colonel Boggs, who was conducting the hearing, endorsing the plan.

Freeholders Charles R. Stout and Fred Lippincott personally conveyed the colonel the resolution approving of the project passed at the Friday morning session of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders.

ALUMNI PLAY

Palmyra Grads Will Present "Mrs. Temple's Telegram"

At a meeting of the Palmyra High School Alumni Association last Wednesday evening it was decided to give "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," the play that was given very successfully given by the Knights of the Golden Eagles of Riverside the week before. The play will be presented by the same cast at the Palmyra High School, March 12.

The proceeds of this production will be used by the Alumni for cups they have planned to give to the students in the high school who has done the most for Palmyra athletics.

The winner of the award will receive a cup for himself, while a larger cup will be presented to the high school, with the name of the winner of the smaller cup engraved upon it each year.

Another cup will be given to the student who turns in the best piece of writing. This may be an essay, a satire, a short story, or anything the student choses to write about. The faculty will chose the winner of this award. All compositions must be in the hands of the supervising principal, Professor A. S. Griffith, at his office at the High School by Friday, May 13.

The Association also plans a moving picture in the near future. The committee in charge is composed of Miss Hires, Miss Belcher, Miss Stewart, William Colsey and John Crawford.

MacLEAN TRANSFERRED

Moorestown State Trooper Goes To Toms River

State Trooper James P. MacLean, who has been conducting a lone-handed crusade against motor vehicle law violators, was transferred from the Moorestown sub station to the Toms River barracks Saturday.

At the time of the recent "shake-up" in the ranks of the troopers, when nearly a dozen of the members were forced to resign, it was announced there would be several big shifts in the assignments and that many of the sub stations were to be abandoned. According to reports, a successor for MacLean will not be sent to Moorestown and this is one of the stations which will be eliminated.

The nearest state police stations now are at Bordentown and Berlin and there is much dissatisfaction among the farmers in this section who have learned to depend upon the state troopers for police protection.

HAYSEEDERS REMAIN IN FIRST POSITION

Post Office Crew Close Second Firemen Best Bankers

On Monday night the Post Office played the Hayseeders and lost, but they still hold second place in the Industrial Bowling League. Ross Mattis bowled with the Cinnaminson boys, and his fine playing kept them out in front all the time. George Gelfelian and Charles Jessup are certainly bowling a fine game now.

The Bankers lost to the Smoke Eaters and dropped to fourth place. Howard B. Conover, captain of the Bankers, stated that he feels confident his team will be up near the top when the first half is over.

There has been a fine cup donated for the winners of the first half, which will be displayed in one of the local stores soon.

Men's Meeting Hear of Lincoln

Lockett Delivers Eloquent Address on Life of Great Emancipator

The Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, had a splendid meeting Monday evening, featured by a wonderful address on Lincoln by the Rev. George Lockett, of the Central Baptist Church.

It was the first meeting under the direction of the new officers and the big attendance and enthusiasm displayed proved that the club is safely launched on another great year.

The club's quartet, composed of John Ward, Capt. Bond, Rector MacCormack and Alfred VanOsten, sang several old time melodies in honor of the speaker's subject, and Dr. LeFavor rendered some splendid piano selections.

Mr. Lockett in his address related many anecdotes showing Lincoln's homely humor, his unfailing honesty and steadfastness of purpose. He recounted how the great president made friends of his enemies, taking four members of the opposite party into his cabinet, in order that the country might have the benefit of its greatest minds during the national crisis.

One of the greatest pictures of Lincoln's life and character, Mr. Lockett said, was that where he remained by the bedside of a dying Confederate soldier, because the youth wanted a friend near him in his last moments.

Richard E. Wilson spoke of the growth of the Forum idea in Palmyra, calling attention to the fact that a great many other local organizations have adopted the system which the Men's Club originated.

Ten new members were elected into the club: Walt Lamon, H. H. Miller, H. T. Downing, H. G. Hough, Dr. LeFavor, H. C. Piel, Franklin Warner, William Holst, Harry Plesket and W. H. Humphries.

Snow Violators Again Escape

Twenty-seven Rivertonians Are "Excused" by Recorder on "First Offense"

The fates are "agin" it.

It seems that Riverton's snow ordinance just can't get a chance to use it's teeth.

The rain, snow, sleet and hail storm over the weekend looked as though it was going to make a good "teething ring," but when twenty-seven of Riverton's "best citizens" appeared before Recorder Troth Friday afternoon he beamed upon them and said, "Bless you my children, you are not guilty but don't do it again."

The fact that the recorder's own pavement was among those which had not been disturbed by broom or shovel had nothing to do with the action of his honor, who was willing to take his medicine along with the rest of them, but the matter had been previously talked over by the Mayor, the Director of Public Safety, and the Recorder and it was decided that owing to the fact that the pavements were in better condition than they ever had been, and that only two of the persons summoned were among those who had been cited to appear on the previous occasion, the ends of justice would be met by discharging the defendants without imposing a fine.

The police department has a precedent for its action in a recent case in Merchantville, and a similar situation in Palmyra a year or two ago.

In addressing the assembled citizens the recorder said that the leniency of the court must not be taken for weakness, and that future offenders would surely be fined, now that it had been demonstrated that it was the unswerving determination of the Borough authorities to enforce this ordinance—"and," said the recorder, "this applies to all other Borough ordinances as well."

SPELLING CHAMP

Miss Kitty Burr Leads at Palmyra High

Miss Katherine "Kitty" Burr, of Riverton, a sophomore at Palmyra High School, proved to be the best speller of the four grades at the high school. Miss Burr received a cup for winning the spelling bee. At the present time the cup is exhibitd at the Caldwell Jewelry store at Chestnut and Jupiter streets, Philadelphia. Each suburban High School was given a trophy by the Pierce Business School for the winner in the elimination contests.

On the morning of March 19 at 10 o'clock Palmyra will send five of its best spellers to the written qualifying test to determine the forty best spellers and the ten best teams. The four pupils besides Miss Burr will be Miss Jane Schmidt, a junior from Riverton; Miss Muriel Burgman, a senior of Palmyra; Miss Mary Malone, a sophomore, and Francis Kievan, a freshman from Riverside. The two alternates will be Ruth Hemingway, a senior of Palmyra, and Miss Josephine Malloy, a freshman of Palmyra.

After luncheon which will be served at the Pierce School in the afternoon the ten best spellers will compete in an oral test at Lit Brothers to determine the team championship. This contest will be broadcast from Station WLIT at 4.30 and the individual champion will be chosen.

We talked about the party which will be held on the 4th of March. Each fellow will bring a girl. The decorating committee promised to do their stuff. After the meeting we had a game of basketball and adjourned at 9.30 o'clock.

WILL ORGANIZE CHARITY BODY

All Organizations Invited To Send Delegates To Palmyra Meeting

MUCH ENTHUSIASM FOR PLAN IS SHOWN

This Thursday evening will be held the meeting to consider the formation of a united charities organization for Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson.

Three delegates from all the organizations, such as churches, lodges, civic associations and others have been invited to attend the meeting and from the amount of interest expressed, the meeting should be well attended and full of interest.

The movement was sponsored by the Lions Club some time ago, following expressions from many citizens that such an organization is much needed in the Triple Communities.

While much charity is administered in this locality throughout the year and especially at such times as Christmas and Thanksgiving, it has been felt there was an overlapping of effort and that there should be a central bureau to keep records and investigate cases so the good work would not be misapplied and that no worthy case be overlooked.

It has also been thought a combined organization would be able to benefit needy families permanently by obtaining employment and by giving more or less constant supervision where needed.

All the aims and purposes, as well as methods and form of organization, will be discussed tonight.

Delegates from the following organizations are expected to be present:

Epworth M. E. Church

FIRE HYDRANT IN WAY OF GAS STATION

Blocks Entrance to Driveway on Main Street; Work Held Up

When the engineer for the Sun Oil Company filling station came to Riverton Tuesday morning to start operations for the erection of the gas station at Broad and Main streets, he struck a snag in the shape of a fire hydrant located just where he wanted to place the driveway for the Main street entrance to the station.

Usually moving a fire hydrant a few feet one way or the other is a matter of small import, but in this case it is different.

To move the hydrant toward Broad street complicates traffic conditions, according to Director of Public Safety Williams. To move it the other way means that customers cannot park their cars in front of Schneider's cigar store, which would cause a big howl from "Theo."

In addition to this, to move this particular hydrant would mean tearing up the newly-laid roadway on Broad street, which the Borough authorities cannot see for a minute.

Caught Robbing Church Choir

Attempts Also Are Made To Rob Shaner Home and Two Store

Jack Miller, 14 years old, of East Fifth street, Palmyra, was arrested Monday for stealing $45.50 from the pockets of members of the choir at the M. E. Church Sunday night. Jack attended Sunday School in the afternoon and was hanging around the church the greater part of the day. In the evening while Wilson M. Hume, of India, was addressing the community service, the lad got up and walked out. Jack entered the basement of the church down the back way and went through the choir member's pockets.

When the losses were noticed, Chief Beck was notified by telephone and he went down to the church. When he was told of the robbery the Chief told Mrs. Beck that he felt sure it was the work of the Miller boy. This is not the first charge against the boy as he had stolen money from teachers at the grammar school, from his mother and once before at the Episcopal Church. Jack had been given other chances to go straight and when talked to he always promised not to steal again, but this did not do him any good.

Makes Denial at First

When Chief Beck went to the Miller home Sunday evening, the lad had just returned a half hour and had gone up to bed. The parents were told of the affair and when the boy was questioned he said he did not take the money. When Chief Beck returned Monday morning it was found the boy had hidden the money outside. Young Jack also made an attempt to leave town on a bus. When the money was counted it was found that there was about fifty cents missing. Jack was taken to the police station where he was kept Monday.

Chief Beck took the Miller boy to Mount Holly Tuesday morning and left him there for a hearing to be held today. The chief thinks the boy will be sent to Jamesburg.

Other attempts of robbery were at the home of Edgar Shaner, 912 Highland avenue, and the Acme and A & P Stores on West Broad street. Upon returning to his home Wednesday night Mr. Shaner discovered that his house had been ransacked sometime during the day or evening on Tuesday. Shaner did not return to his home Tuesday evening to fix the fire as was his usual custom. The housekeeper that Mr. Shaner employed reported that the back door was open when she arrived Tuesday night. A window of the Shaner home was broken and the contents of Mr. Shaner's desk were scattered about the room.

Nothing Taken

Officer Rodgers was summoned and an investigation made and it was found that the window had been jimmied. Shaner, after a check up, reported next day to Officer Rodgers that nothing of value had been taken.

Thieves broke into the Acme store on West Broad street last Wednesday night and after breaking the safe discovered that their attempt was futile as no money is left in the store safe at nights. Entrance was gained through the heater register in the middle of the floor. Entrance was also made in the A. & P. store on West Broad street through a small transom in the rear of the store. No money was found in this store either.

MARY ANN

Mrs. Kirkland, who is a wealthy New York society matron, plays the role of a fairy god-mother to Mary Ann, in the new play, "The Blossoming of Mary Ann." Under the tutorship of Mrs. Kirkland, Mary Ann blossoms forth into a very charming debutante. Mrs. Kirkland is capably portrayed by Ann Murphy.

Mrs. Simmonds, the sister of Mrs. Kirkland, with whom she makes a very striking contrast, is a quiet motherly woman, who owns a roadside tea house. This part is filled by Gertrude McFadden.

These characters are two of the many that compose the cast for the amusing comedy, "The Blossoming of Mary Ann," which will be staged on March 25th and 26th by the Senior Class of the Palmyra High School. The tickets for which will soon be on sale.

COUNTY FREEHOLDERS ENDORSE TACONY-PALMYRA BRIDGE PLAN

Resolution Adopted Friday; Delivered in Person by Stout and Lippincott

MRS. SMITH'S STORE ROBBED LAST NIGHT

Burglars Carry Off Rich Booty of Silk Stockings, Etc.

Mrs. Alfred Smith's store on Main street was broken into last night and several hundred dollars worth of high grade goods carried off. Entrance was secured by cutting the glass out of a door next to the adjoining residence.

The robbers took all the silk stockings, neckties, kid gloves, and several bolts of new yard goods which came in on Wednesday. The boxes containing the stockings, neckties and gloves were discarded and left in piles on the floor.

The robbery was discovered when the store was opened this morning. Owing to the frozen condition of the ground no footprints were visible.

Officers Quigley and Miller were notified and made an investigation after which County Detective Parker was sent for.

From the goods found in piles and not carried off it is believed that the intruders were frightened away before they completed their work—possibly by the blowing of the fire siren about 1.30.

Firemen's Card Party Successful

First Affair to Raise Funds For Uniforms Is Well Attended

The stag card party held in the Riverton Fire House last Tuesday night was a high success both from a financial and social standpoint. The affair marked the initial step in the drive for funds for new uniforms, and the encouragement that the "fire eaters" received by such a large attendance proved that they had the whole-hearted support of the majority of Riverton's citizens.

First prize for high score in pinochle went to George Rogers, of Palmyra. In 500 Joseph T. Evans captured the honors, while Clarence Hubbs turned the top score for euchre.

Through the generosity of the Knights of Columbus the Fire Company had the use of their cards, tables and chairs.

It is reported that the next card party is to be on a much larger scale and probably the K. of C. headquarters will be secured so that a dance may be held after the games.

A moving picture benefit to further boost the fund will be given in the Broadway Palace in the near future and the committee in charge promises to have a first class picture for the occasion.

A fine spirit of good fellowship and friendly cooperation among the members of the company was manifested by the enthusiasm displayed and every member has pledged his support in quickly reaching the desired goal to purchase the uniforms.

Each and every member feels that with the purchase of the much needed piece of apparatus, the Riverton Fire Company will be second to none in equipment and efficiency among the New Jersey volunteer organizations.

All members who have not sent their money in for the card party tickets will be doing a great favor to the fire lads if they will do so at once.

DEPARTMENT STORE DRIVER IS "PINCHED"

Repeated Warnings Having Failed Director Williams Takes Action

The driver of a Strawbridge & Clothier delivery truck was "given a ticket" by Director of Public Safety, Williams in Riverton Tuesday morning, charged with reckless driving. He will be given a hearing before Recorder Troth Friday afternoon of this week at 2.30.

This action is one of the steps it has been necessary to take in trying to break up fast and reckless driving in the Borough by department stores employees.

Director Williams has written to all the stores which operate delivery trucks in Riverton requesting that drivers be instructed to obey the traffic laws. In some cases he has made personal calls on heads of delivery departments, and in every case he has been assured that the desired orders have been issued.

Reckless driving, however, has continued and in order to bring the matter to a head the Director has cited one of the offenders to appear and stand trial.

50 YEARS

"Al" Stewart Retires After Half Century of Business

Albert N. Stewart, president of the Palmyra National Bank, retired from business on Tuesday, March first, with the unique record of having been in the same business in the same building for exactly fifty years.

Mr. Stewart and his brother, the late Charles E. Stewart, conducted a bookbinders' supplies business at the southeast corner of Sixth and Ludlow streets, Philadelphia, for the past half-century.

Now the surviving partner has sold the business to an employe, Charles D. Claus.

Mr. Stewart plans to devote more time in the future to his duties as bank president and also has hope of "Seeing America First." He plans to do some traveling this summer.

TOWNSHIPS ASK COUNTY TO TAKE OVER ROADS

When the Burlington County Board of Freeholders met last Friday morning, Director Russ offered a resolution which was carried endorsing the application to the Government for the erection of the Tacony-Palmyra bridge over the Delaware river at that point. Messrs. Stout and Lippincott were appointed to represent the county's interest in the plan and presented in person the resolution of the Board at a hearing before the War Department in the Bourse building in Philadelphia in the afternoon.

A proposition was heard for the county to take over the road running from Masonville to Centreton to Mill creek, near Rancocas, and then to Springside, near Burlington.

This plan had the endorsement of the governing bodies of Burlington, Mt. Laurel, Westhampton and Willingboro townships. The petitioners offered to finance the upkeep of the road for 1927 at the rate of $200 a mile, the road being five and a half miles long. The townships will pay the following amounts: Burlington, $450; Mt. Laurel, $250; Westampton, $450, and Willingboro, $100. The proposition was referred to the Director of Roads Stout for a report at a later date.

The Worrell Engineering Company, of Moorestown, was the lone bidder for the job of furnishing and installing a 200-horse-power, high pressure, return-tubular boiler at the Burlington County Hospital for the Insane at New Lisbon. The output of the boiler will be shared with the almshouse and the sanitorium. The amount of the bid was $11,983 and the concern was awarded the contract. The job was estimated to cost $11,000, $6,000 of which is to be assessed to the hospital account, while the almshouse and sanitorium will have the balance charged up against them.

The department of public buildings reported that the county officials are now located in the new offices in the courthouse annex, which was formerly the county clerk's office and vault. A directory which will ornament the walls of the main floor near the entrance will give the following information as to the location of each official:

First floor—Room 1, County Solicitor Harold B. Wells; Rooms 2 and 3, Prosecutor George M. Hillman; Rooms, 4, 5 and 6, Judge William A. Slaughter.

Second floor Rooms 1 and 2, County Detective Ellis H. Parker and assistants.

There are several other rooms, some of which will be used for jury retiring rooms and other general purposes.

Edward C. Stokes, chairman of the Trenton Chamber of Commerce, in a communication called attention to a public hearing to be held at Trenton on Monday in connection with the Tri-State Water Compact, and the board decided to be represented.

The Public Service Gas and Electric Company was granted the privilege of erecting 48 poles on the Bordentown-Yardville road for the betterment of the service and the lighting of Bordentown township.

Bills from the various departments were presented and ordered paid, as follows: Roads, $7,041.92; bridges, $4,683.34; public buildings, $12,396.40; finance, $6,536.16; public affairs, $3,615.42; total, $25,273.30.

ESCAPE INJURY IN AUTO CRASH

Cars Collide On River Road, But Occupants Not Seriously Hurt

While Gus Schaffer and brother Harry, George Lauer, of Riverton and George Siddal, of Palmyra, were on their way home from Camden late Monday night their car was turned over when another Ford sedan hit it from the rear.

Edward Lister, of Grenloch and Miss Hannah Stevens, 2803 Harrison street, Camden, were the occupants of the other car. They both received cuts and bruises when their car also turned over.

Schaffer and his companions were going east on River Road and Lister, who shot out of Harrison avenue from the west, could not negotiate the turn quickly enough to miss Schaffer's car.

The three injured persons were treated at Cooper Hospital.

Schaffer's car was wrecked.

The only thing that saved Harry Schaffer from serious injury was his brother's overcoat which was lying on the back seat, and which he pulled up around his neck when he saw that a crash was inevitable. This protected him from the flying glass.

County History of 50 Years Ago

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror February 22, 1877

The appointment of Mary J. Martin as postmistress at Burlington, has been confirmed by the Senate.

Oak wood can be bought for $2.50 a cord and whiskey for ten cents a drink. It is easy to answer which is better for family use.

Senator Ridgway, of this county, voted for the bill providing for the reduction of the legal rate of interest to six per cent. with the provision that present obligations shall be subject to seven per cent. until cancelled.

We understand that the fees for committing tramps to the county jail the past quarter aggregate about $1,600, which is also the approximate amount of their board after they were committed. Quite an expensive proposition.

A new corporation in Mount Holly is the Young Men's Christian Association, organized on Tuesday evening. This organization has existed here before but was not incorporated. The following officers were re-elected: President, Franklin B. Levis; secretary, Joseph H. Gaskill; treasurer, George C. Brown; directors, Rev. E. Hewitt, Rev. E. Braislin, Charles E. Merritt, Walter A. Barrows and Dr. Franklin Ashhurst.

85 Join Church

Up to Sunday last 85 persons joined the M. E. Church on probation during the revival services being held there. The interest is unabated and the church is filled nightly.

There has been a revival in progress in the Lumberton M. E. Church the past three weeks and about 20 persons have united with the church.

The public sale season was at its height about this time and among the well known farmers holding vendues are noticed the names of Abel H. Burr, on Burr's Road, in Westampton township; Clayton Lippincott, as agent for Joel Scattergood, at Moorestown; Silas Roberts, on the road from Newbold's Corner to Vincentown and Columbus road; and C. Ridgway Pancoast, on the Robert B. Engle farm, near Green Tree. A notice at the bottom of many public sales advertisements, even in those days, was "No intoxicating liquor allowed on the premises."

County Collector's Report

The report of Wallace Lippincott, county collector, for the term from November 13, 1876, to February 14, 1877, shows the cost of running the county for that period was $153,-651.22. The report of the county almshouse for the same period shows the whole amount of expenditures to be $4,733.68.

At a meeting of the Tax Reform Association, held in Mount Holly on Thursday afternon Samuel H. Chambers and Henry I. Budd reported their observations at the late meeting of the board. Some of the freeholders charge $35, some $40 and other $45 for white oak plank, and for nails, 4½ to 6½ cents per pound.

Beverly township polled over 600 votes at the last election so the township has been divided into two voting districts.

From the Mirror of March 1, 1887

Dr. J. Howard Pugh's official life as member of Congress begins at noon on March 4, although he may not be called to Washington until December.

Nathan S. Schuyler, expressman, brought to Mount Holly last week the first shad of the season, which came from North Carolina waters.

A hog weighing 818 pounds was slaughtered by Joseph Marlin at Burlington on Thursday.

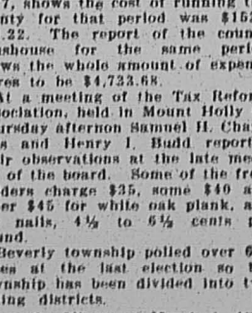

Temperance meetings being held every Sunday afternoon in Gauntt's Hall, Mount Holly, are very well attended. The next meeting will be held in Concert Hall (now Mount Holly Theatre) in order to accommodate the large audience.

Among the speakers at the Friends' Quarterly Meeting, held in the Meeting House, corner High and Garden streets, Mount Holly, on Tuesday, was Samuel J. Levick, Philadelphia; John Michener, Mount Holly; William Borton and Mary S. Lippincott, Moorestown; Martha Sheppard, Westfield, and Caleb Shreve, Mansfield.

1200 Votes in Bordentown

Bordentown township, having over 1,200 voters, has been divided into three election precincts.

At the annual meeting of the Concert Hall Company of Mount Holly on Friday afternoon, it was reported that the opera house property cost the company $21,414.59. The includes $7,000 paid for the lot. Charles Bispham was re-elected president and Isaac Goldsmith, secretary and treasurer. Other directors are Joseph Carr, Arthur R. Haines, Theodore H. Risdon, Charles Wills and Franklin B. Levis.

FIVE YEARS—GOING STRONG

Sen. Chas L. McNary, Oregon and Rep. Gilbert N. Haugen, Iowa, have been joint authors of four different bills since post-war deflation, all of which have aimed at relief of agriculture. Their present bill is the most important legislation of this session, having been jockeyed from defeat last year to passage by House and Senate. McNary and Haugen have been stars on the legislative stage for five years and still going strong, Washington admits.

Facts About the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief Bill

By ROBERT FULLER
Through Autocaster Service

"McNary and Haugen" to city folks might sound like the name of a vaudeville team but to the farmers of these United States it means pay day.

Again, "McNary and Haugen," the names that are on everyone's lips. Who are they—what are they—where from—what for—and how come?

Washington knows. Washington has come to respect the names—and the men. For five years, ever since the postwar deflation period, they have ruled the legislative boards; refused to give up the limelight; in all authors of four bills; differing somewhat in details, but looking to the same end, relief for the farmer.

One year ago McNary and Haugen took a good healthy bust in the beesser and went down to defeat—but here they are again with virtually the same bill—accepted by both House and Senate—but vetoed by the President.

The reader no doubt is acquainted with the present bill, which, if it becomes a law, will create a Federal Farm Board with a revolving fund of $250,000,000 from the U. S. Treasury to control and stabilize agricultural prices, even to the extent of buying up surplus crops and marketing them in foreign markets at the best possible price.

So much for the bill.

Charles L. McNary is Republican Senator from Oregon, 53 years old, and serving his second term. Representative Gilbert N. Haugen, Republican, is from Northwood, Worth County, Iowa, is 68 years old and is finishing his fourteenth term in the House. They are chairmen respectively of the Senate Committee on Agricultural and Forestry, and the House Committee on Agriculture.

Both are progressives—but neither McNary nor Haugen have leaned so far, even on Farm Relief, that they can be placed in the radical group. Mr. McNary has an ability that seems to make it possible for him to have more influence among the conservatives that Borah, Norris or Brookhart of the left wing—or Capper, Hiram Johnson and Goodling of the right wing.

Observed on the floor of the Senate and in action, Senator McNary belies his 53 years. He looks at least ten years younger; blond, slender and dapper; an effective speaker, but not the least bit oratorical. He can hold his own without fights or personal exchanges that usually leave scars.

McHaugen in the House is the rugged old warrior type. His shaggy silver locks and rough hewn countenance attract the visitor's eye. A massive head tops broad, though stoped shoulders. Except in matters concerning farm relief, he has become more and more conservative in his political theories through his twenty-eight years in Congress. Last year he supported the late Albert B. Cummings against Brookhart, and as a result, came near losing his own seat.

Senator McNary right now is having his name sounded in high places. This legislation is stirring things up—and one does not have to be around very long to hear gossip which links the Coolidge and McNary names as a possible 1928 G. O. P. ticket.

Right now the McNary-Haugen team rules supreme in the farm bloc circles. At this writing it must be admitted they are away out in front of the Curtis-Atwell combination for popular favor with the farmers of the land.

Combined Meeting of Service Clubs

Riverton-Palmyra Rotary Celebrates Anniversary With Fine Program

The Riverton-Palmyra Rotary Club celebrated its first anniversary with an inter-club meeting of the Service Clubs of Burlington County in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, last Thursday evening.

Nearly two hundred men were present, including large delegations from all the leading clubs of the county. Palmyra Lions and Moorestown Rotary attended in a body and there was a goodly representation from Riverside Kiwanis, Mount Holly and Pemberton Rotary and Burlington Kiwanis.

The meeting was full of typical service club pep, with all the clubs joining in song and representatives of each organization delivering characteristic speeches.

Famous Sextet

Moorestown Rotary favored the meeting with three selections by its famous sextet, composed of "Doc" Curtis, "Hen" Stiles, "Scotty" Forbes, "Stew" Maines, Cliff Worrell and "Doc" Lippincott.

They sang "Barcelona," "Mandalay," and "Roll dem Bones" with great fervor. To perform their stunt they had taken to the stage of the hall and added some picturesque costume touches. They had also made other preparations, as it was noticed toward the end of the singing that their hands were full of rolls and other missiles. The rest of the Moorestown club, being seated near the stage, had made a raid on the culinary department for something with which to bombard the singers at the end of their effort, and there was a wild bombardment back and forth as soon as the last note sounded.

Dr. Charles Street Mills, president of Riverton-Palmyra Rotary, presided over the meeting with his characteristic grace and efficiency. He spoke of the great problems facing the world today in which service clubs could be of great help. The Bolshevist movement and especially juvenile incorrigibility were touched upon and he urged the formation of a combined committee for the propagation of purer manhood and better childhood.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Samuel Steinmetz, of Trenton, rector of Old St. Michael's Church, who kept the crowd in an uproar of laughter for an hour and a half.

Dr. Sammy's Humor

Dr. "Sammy," as he was called, told one funny story after another, all of them pithy and appropos. He did not spare his congregation nor his vestrymen, but recited many humorous incidents of the side of church life which a minister doesn't often talk about in public.

The address was full also of high ideals, splendid advice and inspiration. Dr. Steinmetz warned his hearers that their businesses were not their real jobs, but that their great duty in life was making real men out of themselves and being regular fathers to their children.

Dr. "Sammy" was given a rousing vote of appreciation at the end of his talk.

At the suggestion of George D. "Pat" Steedle the combined service clubs went on record as favoring and endorsing the Palmyra-Tacony bridge.

Don't neglect colds, but don't be panic-stricken when told that Europe's influenza epidemic may come here. A wise doctor has said, "The best thing to atke for a bad cold is two days," which means two days of complete rest in bed, at an even temperature, drinking much water, eating as little as possible.

And Time to Think It Over

"That's a good gag," exclaimed the robber, as he stuffed his victim's mouth.

RUSS CANDIDATE

Delanco Man Asks Re-election to County Board of Freeholders

Howard Russ, the genial Freeholder from Delanco, this week announced his candidacy for re-election to the County Board.

ABOUT THIRD TERM DECENCY HERE AND THERE
SHAW'S BABY PRICE
SPIRAL, NOT JAGGED

There is no question of a third term for a man who has only been nominated and elected once.

If not President Coolidge, WHO for the Republicans? That question interests Washington. Three names interesting the wise are Secretary Mellon, Secretary Hoover and Frank Lowden, of Illinois Secretary Mellon, older than the two others, is young enough to manage admirably after-the-war finances for this nation and to work nine hours a day at his office.

Herbert Hoover has worked like a slave on development of national resources, including the Boulder Dam and waterways from the Great Lakes to the ocean and the gulf. The country appreciates that.

Governor Lowden, a practical farmer, has millions of farmers with him. But the main question is:

Does President Coolidge want the nomination.

If he does, it is his.

Montana's Senate last week voted in favor of the Constitutional Amendment against Child Labor. The amendment may be lost, child labor being profitable, and profits hard to give up. But it is comforting to see decency here and there. In the end, of course, the amendment will help every State, just as the end of slavery helped all—including States that had the greatest sacrifices to make.

Child labor cheats grown men and women of work and cheats the next generation of its chance in life, to say nothing of mocking Christ's warning, "The angels do always behold the face of my father, which is in Heaven."

Child labor sends plenty of little angels to verify that text.

There are fine women in America. A year ago Mrs. Myrtle Huddleston, of California, took up swimming "to reduce." Several weeks ago she swam the Catalina Channel, her eleven-year-old boy crying out to her, "Come on, Mamma, don't give up." When she finished the swim, the thirty-year-old mother was delirious, partly paralyzed and had been bitten four times by savage barracuda.

Too bad that such a woman should waste her marvelous vitality on a battle that pleased the morbid but does no good. The nation could afford to pay her to have twenty-one children instead if swimming twenty-one miles in icy water.

Bernard Shaw says mothers should be paid for having children and adds, "I would not have a baby for less than $10,000." He underestimates it.

If he were a woman, with only a man's courage, and had had ONE baby, he wouldn't have another one for a million dollars.

France builds dozens of tiny airplanes, smallest in the world; every French submarine will carry one. One of these submarine airplanes rose from the water nine seconds after the submarine reached the surface, went up 2,000 feet, descended and went aboard the submarine again.

A fleet of submarines coming up near a big city, discharging its swarm of mosquito-like airplanes, each carrying its gas or explosive bomb, could make the next war interesting.

The "jagged" lightning, making "sparks" in the sky is not jagged at all, Mr. Legg, Westinghouse engineer, shows with photographs 150 times faster than motion picture cameras, that the lightning bolt is a spiral. That interests those who know that the spiral, as opposed to the circle, is the emblem of progress.

Our earth, accompanying the sun in its journey toward space, travels ahead toward the star Vega, we going around it, following it; take a spiral course. You are many billions of miles from the spot in the universe where you were born, and probably will never go back.

TWO BILLION—NIX!

Fire Company Auxiliary Has Reason To Doubt Henry's Wealth

Members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Beverly Road Fire Company don't believe that Henry Ford has two billion dollars and that a million of so of the lump is in small change. If he has got a couple of billion he is hanging on to it like a Monday wash frozen to zero clothesline.

The auxiliary is getting ready for a carnival to be held in June. Contributions are being sought from various sources and many have been received. The other day one of the members read of Henry's billions. It was an inspiration. Henry could give something for the Fir Company and to him it wouldn't be a drop of water in the Atlantic Ocean.

So Henry got a letter. But alas! It never touched him. From Michigan came a polite note, not from Henry but from a secretary, breathing regrets and sorrow, but containing a turn-down that was as cold as a society stare.

Still the work of the auxiliary may bear fruit. They have the Henry letter and it may be chanced off. Lots of people would give quite a pile for a letter from a double billionaire, even though a secretary did write it.

MACHINE SHOP SOLD

Trenton Plant Will Be Moved to Fieldsboro

Sale of a large portion of the property formerly owned by the Bordentown Forge and Machine Company at Fieldsboro to the Duncan Mackenzie Sons Company, of Trenton, indicated renewed life and prosperity for Fieldsboro. The old forge, machine shops, machinery, extensive wharves and other holdings of the Bordentown Forge and Machine Company were purchased some time ago by the Delaware River Sand Dredging Company, of Trenton. This firm, in turn, has sold the upper end of the plant to the Trenton company, which will move its foundry and machine shops to this location as soon as necessary alterations have been completed.

The Mackenzie plant will occupy the former forge building, a structure over 200 feet in depth and 60 feet wide, with the adjoining large machine shops, in the two-story brick building.

The local company still holds the large machine shop at the lower end of the property, the building occupied by the Pennsylvania Railroad for its station and the river frontage of the entire property, with buildings between the railroad tracks and the river.

It is said 80 skilled workers will be employed at once, when the new plant is put in operation.

Why is the letter "F" nervous? Because it is always in "fear."

Splendid Military Demonstration

National Guard To Participate In Big Burlington Celebration

Burlington will have a great military demonstration in connection with the quarter-millennial anniversary celebration of the town next October. Senate Bill No. 50, introduced by Clifford R. Powell, of Mount Holly, has passed both branches of the New Jersey Legislature and is certain to be favorably considered by Governor A. Harry Moore.

The National Guard organizations expected to participate are Headquarters, Headquarters Company, Howitzer Company and Service Company, 114th Infantry, from Camden; 3d Battalion Headquarters and Headquarters Company from Woodbury; 114th Infantry, companies from Bridgeton, Salem and Burlington, and the Mount Holly company, if reorganized; 1st Battalion Headquarters, Headquarters Company, Company A, Company C and Company D, 114th Infantry, from Elizabeth; Company B, 114th Infantry, from Somerville; Company E, 114th Infantry, from New Brunswick; Company F and Company H, 114th Infantry from Trenton; the entire 119th Medical Regiment; 155th Hospital Company; 155th Ambulance Company and 159th Service Company from Trenton; Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Battery D and Battery E, 112th Field Artillery, from Camden, and Battery B, 112th Field Artillery, from Trenton.

A small warship from Camden, will sail up the Delaware River even as Burlington's first ship, the Shield, sailed up the river on October 10, 1678, and anchor near where the Shield anchored. The first ship arrived at Burlington a year after the first of the settlers.

The troops represent nearly every branch in the state service. Demonstrations will be given by both the soldiers and sailors, and the display will be of a character that will extend far beyond anything ever staged in a Burlington County celebration.

RUM STILL RUNNING

The following was published in last week's Mount Holly Herald:

Late drivers on the road between Beverly and Burlington report that five beer trucks were moving in the direction of Burlington on Thursday morning between 12 and 1 o'clock and as no arrests were made they evidently made the trip to the upper part of the State in safety.

What is that which, by losing an eye, has nothing left but a nose? Noise.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

NO NEED TO SEND DEVIL TO MARKET

In a brochure recently got out at Antioch College, Ohio, reference is made to the custom of the old-time Shakers, who generally observed the laws of Christian brotherhood, of sending their most unscrupulous members out into the world to do their trading. Hence originated the saying that the Shakers always send the devil to market.

The implication that while Christian living and principles were suitable for ordinary affairs and in family life, they were not suitable for the outside world. There you had to fight the devil with fire and deal unscrupulously with unscrupulous people.

A very common idea is that those people get along best in this world who do not strictly adhere to the moral law. You have to be crooked to get along and yet not crooked enough to fall afoul of the law.

Those who are old and experienced in this world's dealings know the fallacy of this reasoning.

The fact is that it pays to be honest—to be honest in little things as well as big, and to be honest in the privacy of your chamber as well as in the open forum of the market.

Honesty is not a thing to be put on and off and to be used for certain purposes. It is something to be adhered to all the time, and a man who is faithful in all his dealings both at home and abroad, has the best chance of success.

Ed Howe, the sage of Potato Hill, can hardly be accused of being a strict religionist, and yet in his homely philosophy and experience, he has discovered that doing right is one of the surest means of success.

If any boy or girl is knocking about seeking some secret of success, none better can be offered than strict integrity.

To be just and upright in all things may occasionally get you into difficulty, but as a rule and in the long run it pays.

A man who keeps his hands clean and his heart right is always prepared for any attack, and as it has been roughly expressed, "He can look any man square in the eye and tell him to go to blazes."

NOT A DESERTER BUT A REFUGEE

This may be as old as the hills but Congressman Fort led a speech with it the other day.

"A colored man was arrested down south for deserting his wife, and when he appeared before the judge and asked what the charge was the Court said 'desertion and are you guilty or not guilty?'

"The colored man seemed confused but finally said: 'Desertion, eh? Judge, has you seen my wife?'

"The judge said 'yes' and the negro replied: 'Well, Judge, then you know I ain't no deserter, I se a refugee.'"

And with that start Mr. Fort talked another 45 minutes against the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill. Incidentially he propounded a bunch of figures and facts that satisfied him, at least, he was correct in his argument. So cock sure was he in his attitude that he declared:

"I ask anyone who thinks he can disprove what I am saying." Then he paused. Nobody took him up and he journeyed on oratorically.

A Congressman has a nerve with him to make a challenge of that sort to 400 hungry and eager orators, and Mr. Fort got away with it.—Harvey Thomas in Newark Call.

P. O. BUILDING IS ASSURED TO HOLLY

The Mount Holly Business Men's Association held an interesting meeting at the Elk's Home last week, at which time a communication from Congressman Bacharach was read.

In it the Second District Representative conveyed the good news that Mount Holly is on the preferred list of towns to be given new post office buildings by the federal Post Office Department. It is not for certain, though, whether this town will get its Christmas present within the current year but it was stated that if not this year, then Mount Holly will surely be given a post office building the year following.

While bills are in Congress proposing the expenditure of $350,000,000 for post office buildings over the country it is thought possible that the total will be reduced to around $200,000,000.

Only towns with an annual business of more than $20,000 are more than eligible to this recognition by the government. Mount Holly did a business in excess of $35,000 last year.

Well, they have taken perjury from the marriage ceremony now that promise of the bride's to obey will not be refused. Or the association, other lyres failing, offers to accept a fee to help the prospect collect any debts.

"All self-respecting magistrates, recorders and justices frown upon such graft," said a State official investigating the latest drive. "Any theory or practice that indicates a court is entitled to sell privileges to lawbreakers is offensive to American ideas. Any person gullible enough to bite on such a bait and who might later exhibit such a 'membership card' when hailed into a Police Court ought to be given a double penalty to teach him a lesson in thrift and saving."

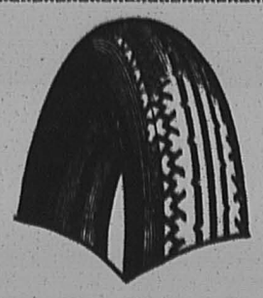

Another Scheme to Get Money From The Public

Another scheme to get money from the public is a bait offered last week to autoists of this county that if they violate traffic laws and are arrested, they will be immune from punishment if they have possession of a membership card of the South Jersey Magistrates' Association.

All solicitations to membership in the association were made by telephone, presumably from the headquarters of the alleged association in Berlin. The promoters, State police say, will not use the mail in soliciting for fear of running afoul of Federal postal authorities.

The way to "membership" is either through an advertisement at a cost of $20 to $100 in an alleged publication, but direct contributions

GENERAL MOTORS' LATEST ACHIEVEMENT
The New and Finer
PONTIAC SIX

SEDAN $775

Oakland today announces an entirely new line of Pontiac Sixes, notably enhanced in beauty, incorporating numerous refinements in design, and carrying new low prices.

New Fisher Bodies
Never in any low-priced six have been achieved such commanding beauty and luxury as in this latest achievement of General Motors. Lending luster to even the Fisher tradition of masterly craftsmanship, the new bodies by Fisher are longer, lower and superbly executed to the slightest detail.

All New Duco Colors
All body types are finished in new combinations of Duco colors. Original and fresh, these colors range from Beverly Blue and Black on the Sedan to Cherokee Gray on the Sport Cabriolet.

New Beauty and Style
Pontiac Six beauty has always been outstanding. But now in these new and finer models has been achieved not only new beauty but also an arresting rakishness—the results of a deeper radiator; larger, heavier, and more sweeping crown fenders; and more massive headlamps. Windshield and body pillars are narrowed to conform to the accepted custom-built vogue and to provide a wider arc of visibility. Window ledges are smartly recessed and finished in a contrasting color.

Mechanical Refinements
In addition to the numerous elements of greater beauty and style, the new and finer Pontiac Six introduces many new features and refinements in engineering design—such as tilting-beam headlights with foot control, new transmission and brake levers, steering wheel with aluminum spider, a clutch even smoother and more positive in action and an oil-sealed universal joint.

Two New Body Types
Two entirely new body types of characteristic beauty have been added to the Pontiac Six line. These are a dashing, youthful Sport Roadster, finished in Lucerne Blue, striped with Faerie Red; and a 4-passenger Sport Cabriolet, with Brevoort Green top and fenders, and body in Cherokee Gray, striped with orange to rival in smartness the highest priced cars of the day. Come in and see the New and Finer Pontiac Six!

Test of Linen

M. J., Asbury—Will you please answer in your question and answer column how I can tell the difference between linen and linen cloth?

A. A simple method is to moisten the cloth with the finger. If the moisture goes through at once it is linen. If it is slow penetrating then it is cotton.

Be Sure You Are Right

P. E. S., Cinnaminson—Is an argument over a trifling matter should a person "give in" just to be agreeable?

A. Probably. In disagreements on non-essentials, it's not a bad idea to make sure you're right—and then "give in."

Income Tax

H. L., Riverton—I would like to know how a fisherman figures his income tax?

A. He just gives in his net earnings.

No Blood Lemon

R. T., Cambridge—I am writing to ask you if there is such a fruit as a blood lemon?

A. No.

Sharks

S. H., Palmyra—I am told that sharks are blind and have pilot fish with them all the time. I would like to know positively if this is true?

A. No. Sharks can see and have large prominent eyes. It is probable that the fish known as the shark pilot is found near the sharks because both follow the wakes of ships to pick up food that is cast overboard.

H. B., Riverton—As Lent starts on March 2d, I have been wondering when fasting was first observed, and whether all churches keep it in some form.

Ans.—Fasting means to abstain from food beyond the usual time, or the abstinence from certain kinds of foods.

The origin of the custom seems to be at the time of man's first experience of the beneficial influence which abstinence exercises on health. Later it became a religious observance, surrounded with rites and ceremonies. Climate, habits of the people, and their creed, gave it at different periods different characteristics, but it may be called a recognized institution with all the more civilized nations, especially those of Asia, through all historic times. The Parsees of Irania, the Chinese and Hindus, principally the latter, carried fasting to unnatural excess. Egypt seems to have had few or no compulsory general fasts, but it is established beyond doubt, that for the initiation into the mysteries of Isis and Osiris, temporary abstinences, were rigorously enforced. In Siam, all solemn acts are preceded by a period of fasting, the seasons of the new and full moon especially being consecrated to this rite. In Java the manner and times of the observance vary according to the religion of the individual. Fasting is also observed in Thibet. Greece observed and gave a high place to occasional fast days, such as the third day of the festival of the Eleusinian mysteries, and those who came to consult the oracle of Trophonius, had to abstain from food for 24 hours. The Romans also had fasts as a part of their festivals and ceremonies.

As to the Semitic races, although the people of Nineveh underwent occasional fasts, to which even animals were made to conform, yet the Mosaic law set apart for fasting one day only in the whole year—called the Day of Atonement. This fast continues from sunset of one day to the sunset of the next day. In process of time five days of compulsory fasting were added, in commemoration of certain days of humiliation and national misfortune. Besides, fasting was frequent with those who wished to free their minds from all hindrances to meditation, as in the 40 days of Moses or the fast of Daniel. This fast of contemplation, as it might be called, seems also to have been the model imitated by the Cabbalists, some of whom are known to have fasted from Sabbath to Sabbath. Fasting with the Jews always implies entire abstinence.

In the time of Christ fasting was in high esteem. Christ himself neither approved or disapproved of the custom, but, as in all matters of ceremony, allowed His disciples Jews and Gentiles, to do as they wished. His own abstinence from food for 40 days was like that of Moses—an individual act.

The early Christians fasted in many instances according to their old rites, but changing the days for Christian observances, and as a preparation for holy acts and feasts, ordination and baptism. The time mostly observed annually were the 40 hours from Friday afternoon to Sunday morning, during which time Christ lay in the sepulchre. Bishops and councils gradually fixed times and seasons for the whole of Christendom. The 40 hours became 40 days, which time, in some manner, is observed throughout the world by all Catholic and most Protestant churches. Some churches consider it obligatory, others merely beneficial, and a few do not observe this period at all.

Islam, as a development from Judaism and Christianity, adopted fasts with many other celebrations from both churches. During the whole month of Ramadan, the fast is strictly observed from daybreak till sunset.

The followers of the Baha'i Movement, whose teacher was Baha'u'llah, a Persian, are scattered all over the earth, and observe nineteen days at a stated period, which comes in the spring in the northern hemisphere and autumn in the southern hemisphere. This period is observed by total abstinence from sunrise to sunset.

Explanation "i.e." and "e.g."

C. S., Cinnaminson—I will thank you very much if you will tell me in your question column the meaning of "i.e." and "e.g." I cannot find them in my dictionary.

Ans.—The "i.e." is an abbreviation of the Latin "id est," meaning "that is" The "e.g." is also an abbreviation of the Latin "exempli gratia," meaning "for example."

Where Jericho Is

M. G., East Riverton—Can you tell me just where in Palestine Jericho is located? I can't find it on my map.

Ans.—Jericho was the ancient name for a village now called Eriha. It is located just north of the Dead Sea.

East Wind Sign of Rain

H. B., Palmyra—Why is an east wind a sign of rain?

Ans.—An east wind is a sign of rain because it comes from the Atlantic ocean and is usually laden with moisture. The winds so converge as to force these moisture-laden breezes to a high altitude. This cools them. Cool winds deposit moisture and thus rain results.

Lions Learn How To Roar Properly

"Tom" Abbott, Noted Realtor, Greeted With Grunts During Performance

The Palmyra Lions learned how to roar Tuesday evening.

The teacher was none other than "Tom" Abbott, prominent Audubon and Camden real estate man.

The club started to adjourn without emitting the regulation roar, so Abbott called them to book and proceeded to illustrate.

According to rules and regulations, the Lion must bend over, touching the tips of his fingers to the floor without bending his knees, then as he straightens up he bowls "ROAR" then striking outward and upward with both fists, he yells "LIONS." This is repeated three times and at the end of the third roar, the cubs howl "Bite 'em, Bite 'em, Bite 'em," real ferociously.

Since some of the Lions have celebrated quite a few birthdays and others are a wee bit overdeveloped around the waist, it is reported that there were more grunts than roars Tuesday evening.

Mr. Abbott also delivered a splendid talk on his experiences as "Tail Twister" of the Audubon Lions and his trip to the International convention, giving many fine suggestions as to how the Lions Club can be kept on the up-grade.

Many other interesting things were brought up in the course of the meeting and several new members were proposed.

CHAUTAUQUA

Season of 1928 Will Open New Educational Era

Theodore Roosevelt one time declared, "Chautauqua is the most American thing in America; there is probably no other educational influence so fraught with hope for the nation."

It was Dr. Paul M. Pearson, a professor of Swarthmore College, who first conceived the change that was necessary in order to fulfill Roosevelt's prophetic words.

He founded a circuit Chautauqua based on the fundamental principle that it would not make any profit but would pay every dollar back into the work of giving your town the best program that could be obtained for the money.

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association of Palmyra and Riverton, the following chairmen of committees were confirmed:

John C. Mallory, publicity; Mrs. Cordelia P. Cann, tickets; Mrs. William F. Ietford, hospitality, and Ed. King, hall.

At the same time, plans were laid for a social gathering of the guarantors to take place at the home of Miss Emma Price on Saturday evening, March 26. Dr. Paul M. Pearson, the president of the Swarthmore Chautauqua, has promised to honor the guarantors with his presence on that evening, and, beyond doubt, will have something very interesting to say to his listeners.

CAMP 23, P. O. S. of A.

An invitation from Post Frederick M. Rodgers, American Legion, to take part in the Memorial Day exercises was received Monday evening and a committee appointed to meet with the committee from the Post to ascertain in what way they wanted the Camp to help.

This committee is composed of Brothers Wimer, Rogers and Patterson and is to meet the committee of the Post and report back to the Camp at a future meeting.

The Camp also appointed a committee to take charge of the decoration of the member's graves independent of the regular Memorial Day celebration. This committee is composed of Brothers Leslie W. Reeves, Harvey J. Trauger, Arthur C. Strang, John Marshall, and Charles Matlack.

David Coles won the monthly attendance prize.

Quoits was the feature of the past meeting entertainment. Dave Coles, George Strable, "Izzy" Groff and Ed Griscom were the leaders of the various teams.

It is planned to have an open night, Monday, March 14, for all men of Palmyra and Riverton. Ten minute talks by the different ministers of Palmyra on any subject that may appeal to them will prove very interesting to all members.

The regular weekly meeting will prove very interesting to all members.

The regular weekly meeting will be held at 8 o'clock and the open night will start at 9 o'clock. Tasty refreshments will be served after the various talks.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

Senator Emmor Roberts, of Burlington County, has announced that he will be a candidate for renomination and re-election for a third term. The same reason that influenced the people of Union County to re-elect Senator Arthur Pierson should impel the voters of Burlington County to retain the services of Senator Roberts in the Legislature—he is clean, honest, industrious and independent of boss control.

As long as such men are willing to serve their constituents they should be kept in the Legislature. Their influence increases as the years go by; they are generally to be found on the right side of any question in which the public is interested, and there need be no concern felt that they will be tied up in any jobbery. Roberts should not be retired while the water compact is pending.—Trenton Times.

NEW SERVICE MANAGER

The C. Ridgely Sweeney Dodge Agency service department has been greatly improved by Joseph Thomas, former service manager for the Norman G. Wilson Company, Camden, who is now serving the Palmyra agency in that capacity.

Delair Has Diphtheria

Fred Metzger, health officer of Pennsauken Township and Merchantville, is taking all precautions against diphtheria being spread in his districts. There is now one case in Delair, that of Anthony Sambucci of Derousse avenue. There are no cases reported among the school children.

KERSHNER DAY

Will Be Celebrated Next Sunday Morning By Wesleyan Class

Next Sunday morning "Kershner Day" in honor of our Brother Irwin U. Kershner, will be observed in the Wesleyan Men's Class in the M. E. Church. Mr. Kershner is moving from town soon on account of business and the Class which he faithfully served as Teacher and President has set apart next Sunday as Kershner Day; a day on which the men of the community will have an opportunity of showing their appreciation of what Mr. Kershner has done for the Class and the community. It is hoped that there will be a large turnout to greet Mr. Kershner and to do him honor.

The men who were present last Sunday morning had the opportunity of listening to an inspiring address given by Mr. Meeks—one of the best talks given before the class for sometime.

"SAVE THE TIRE"

A campaign with this as the objective would be next in order in this country if Mr. Albertson, of Albertson's Drive In, Riverton Firestone Dealer, had his way.

"We have had all kinds of campaigns," Mr. Albertson son, "to save the surface, to save the forests and to save most everything else, each one valuable in its way and all teaching the lesson of conservation.

"I believe that we should have a campaign to 'save the tire', that we should conserve the millions of dollars that are wasted every year through neglect (probably unintentional) of this most important motoring item.

"It is just as essential to give attention to the tires on your car as it is to attend to the surface on your house, for upon your tires depend motoring safety and economy.

"The first lesson that would be taught in my proposed campaign is the care of valve equipment. The valve is a very small part of the tire but nothing is more valuable to efficient operation. The best tire made will give a poor account of itself if the valve leaks.

"There are three rules to follow in looking after valve equipment: (1) Be sure the valve-inside, or the inner-door, does not leak; (2) always apply valve cap as in case of leak from valve-inside—this will form the second door for holding air; (3) use rim nut bushing tightly screwed against the felloe, which prevents creeping of tube.

"Above all, motorists should be brought to recognize the necessity of maintaining the right air pressure in their tires and this can be more easily accomplished if the valve equipment is in good order."

Court Busy With Criminal Matters

Riverside and Palmyra Cases Included in Last Week's Hearings

Several criminal matters were disposed of in the Burlington County Courts last week.

On Thursday the first case considered was that of William Ingram, colored, of Riverside, who pleaded guilty a week ago to entering the home of Mrs. Stella Kemp, at Riverside.

Ingram had been previously arrested on a charge of being drunk and was doing sixty days in the county jail when confronted with the charge of breaking and entering.

Mrs. Kemp identified Ingram as the man discovered in her house and he went back to the county jail for six months, his time to begin at the expiration of his sixty days. The Court further added that the man was to be put to work for the county.

Attorney A. Thomas Atkinson represented Charles King, colored of Palmyra, charged with desertion, who failed to appear on Monday and had his bail forefited. Mr. Atkinson explained that King has since made up with his wife and said they were living peaceably together, and further stated that King would have been here on Monday but for an auto accident on the slippery roads.

Palmyra Man Released

The explanation was accepted by the Court and the Prosecutor, and King will be relieved of the charge against him when he pays the costs of $50.

Joseph Lopez and Antono Rosales, evidently Spaniards, had both been in jail for twenty-four days on a charge of stealing a piece of silk of about two yards in length from the store of Sol Romm, at Palmyra.

The pleaded guilty to the charge, and Lopez explained that they had come up to Palmyra from Philadelphia in search of work and being "broke" had taken the silk with the idea of selling it for enough money to get back to Philadelphia.

They went back to jail in default of fines of $50 each.

Edward Arlington, colored, of Burlington, retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult to an assault charge Monday.

He was given six months in jail to date from the time of his original committment.

Frederick Cheesman, also fo Burlinton, charged with desertion and neglect, pleaded non vult and was placed on probation for two years and must pay the cost of $30 and a back board bill of his deserted spouse, amounting to $50.

Wrong Man Tried?

Argument was heard on the application for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Dominico Jiardini, of Philadelphia, indicted as one of the principals in a holdup staged near Chalsworth last fall, it being claimed that the wrong man has been arrested and that it was a brother of Dominico who was wanted. This case was heard on Wednesday.

The Court reserved decision.

Nicholas Giardino, an Evesham township Italian, was before the Court charged with committing a criminal assault on little eleven-year old Elizabeth Jess, and this case was heard by a jury, which rendered a verdict of guilty.

Prosecutor Hillman represented the State and James Mercer Davis the defendant.

The defendant's counsel intimated that he would apply for a new trial later on.

Adam Berkhauser, of Burlington, retracted his plea of not guilty of maintaining a house where liquor was kept and pleaded non vult.

It was explained that Berkhauser, who has been before the Court on several previous occasions on similar charges, was in the last stages of tuberculosis and confinement in the county jail would hasten his demise.

Berkhauser's appearance denoted the truthfulness of his attorney's statement and he escaped with a fine of $200, the indictment charging possession of liquor being nolle prossed.

Berkhauser Warned

In passing sentence the Court warned Berkhauser that if he sufficiently recovered to go into the booze business again and was caught his health would not be again considered and he would go to state prison.

Joseph Stackhouse, of Burlington, charged with desertion and neglect, then had his case moved and this took the balance of the day, it being concluded on Thursday morning.

The evidence in the case showed that Stackhouse had an argument with his daughter on August 1 of last year, during which the daughter threw chile sauce in his eyes and he afterward struck her, after which act he in turn was beaten up by his daughter's husband. His wife had him arrested and he was locked up in the county jail for four days and then secured bail.

Accompanied by Officer Wunder, of the Burlington police, he returned to his home and requested to be taken back into the good graces of the family and the answer of the wife was "that his clothes are up on the bed."

Attorney Rothermel, of Camden, who represented Stackhouse, claimed that his client was chased from the house by the wife and he did not desert her. He also showed that the woman in the case had considerably more earning power than her husband.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

NO, NOT MOORESTOWN

In glancing over a Tuesday morning's paper, we were greeted by the following headlines:

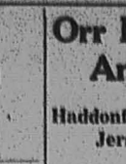

"Kendrick Entertained by Mayor of Havana—Officials of Wilkes Barre and Moorestown, N. J., Also Received."

But then the first paragraph went on to contradict the "Moorestown" part, as follows:

"HAVANA, Feb. 28 (A. P.) —Mayor Kendrick, of Philadelphia; Mayor Potts, of Morristown, N. J., and Commission Gibbons, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., were entertained by Mayor Gomez, of Havana, today."

What Price Beauty?

by Miss Flo

WHICH TYPE OF WOMEN ARE YOU

There are many varieties of woman, to be sure. But there are two outstanding types with which we are concerned today. The one who is calm, poised, and efficiently conducting the duties to which she has been assigned, and the other harried, strained, rushing futilely about, accomplishing little more than wrinkles with her poor system of management.

Invariably the woman who has no sort of a system for her work is the woman who finds her days so taken up with work that she has no time for anything else—not a minute to read or to play. She is the woman, too, who is cross and irritable and so worn out by the time night comes that she is too tired to do anything but go to bed. Naturally, her looks must suffer.

Tell the average woman that you have heard of a new cream that will erase from her face all the lines of worry and you will never know a minute's rest until you have told her where it might be obtained. But tell a tired, nagging woman that she can prevent tiny lines from creeping into her face by adopting a system for her work, and she will laugh at you.

It may be bromidic, nevertheless, it is true that system wins success. The difference between the hurriers and the people who really accomplish big things and hold to youth and beauty is in the system established in the latter's lives. Every big woman who has reached success has done it by conserving her energy for the important things, wasting nothing on fruitless rushing about. Not that she excludes play. No indeed, she provides for that as a necessary part of her upkeep.

Begin your day the night before by getting a full quota of sleep Get up in the morning and start the day right by first planning your work, that you will have time to read—time for friends—time for pleasure, and time for the observance of health and beauty rules; eating slowly, for one thing, relaxing the muscles of the eyes and the body occasionally during the course of a day's work, brushing the hair night and morning—all of which are very necessary in keeping alive the spirit of youth.

PLANT A GARDEN

For Pleasure and Profit, Says Michell's Seed House

There isn't any greater pleasure, once you start a garden, than to grow your own vegetables and to gather them crisp and fresh for your own table every day, for the greater part of the year and have them during the Winter as well. You will not only find it a pleasure, but profitable as well. The outlay is so small in comparison with the returns, with reasonable attention, that you will be delighted with the results, not forgetting the pleasure you will derive from your Flower garden, which must not be neglected.

A very important factor is to have good seed, so the farmer and the man with the small garden plot should place his order only with firms which he has reason to believe are thoroughly reliable.

Any reader can secure free of charge, an instructive 192 page illustrated Catalog from "Michell's Seed House," 518 Market street, Philadelphia. This book is a valuable source of information to all garden lovers. Everything needful from Seeds, Bulbs or Plants of all sorts to inexpensive Garden Tools and Implements, Fertilizers, Insecticides, Poultry Supplies etc., are contained therein.

Do not forget to write today to Michell's Seed House, 518 Market Street, Philadelphia, for this interesting Catalog; it's free for the asking.

MEDFORD

Efforts to create more interest in Medford Lodge No. 100, I. O. O. F., are believed to be successful. Due to non-attendance, meetings of the lodge had become infrequent because of lack of a quorum. Grand Master Fogg and Grand Secretary Pine attended a recent meeting to call attention of members to the importance of attending sessions and they were assured that no further neglect of that duty will take place.

March 3rd and 10th are the dates set for the annual performance of the Midnight Minstrels, to be given in Grange Hall, Medford, for the benefit of Union Fire Company. The cast includes Claude Branin, Lawrence Jones and Floyd Branin. The circle is composed of Austin and Norvan Vaughn, Bernard Horsfield, Roland and William Greenwald, of Lumberton, Charles Worrell, Philip Mingin and Samuel Kline. They will be accompanied at the piano by Lou W. Dyer.

The old Indian Chief Hotel, being remodeled into business places and apartments by the owner Harry J. Weiss, of Atlantic City, is fast nearing completion.

FEMINIST COMING

Mme. Susanne Grinburg, one of the most distinguished lawyers in France, is soon to make a two months' lecture tour of the United States. She is recognized as the leader of the woman suffrage movement in France.

MARLTON

Information has been received of the death of Caroline, wife of William Newell, of Berkeley, Calif., on February 12, from heart trouble. She was a native of Marlton, the daughter of the late Benjamin and Mary Kain, and a sister of Joseph S. Kain, Mrs. Emily Middleton and Mrs. M. Anna Brick, of Marlton, and Mrs. Deborah Sharp, of Collingswood. She has resided for many years in California and is survived by her husband, two daughters and one son.

Revival meetings in the M. E. Church were continued last week. These services were in charge of Rev. Charles E. Driver, evangelist, assisted by Prof. Lawton, song leader, and were very successful.

The Marlton W. C. T. U. will hold a food sale on Saturday afternoon, March 12, at the home of Mrs. Florence Cline.

The Baptist Church has started issuing a monthly bulletin known as the "Church Messenger," which contains information about local and other religious matters.

A class of twenty candidates is to be initiated by Marlton Grange at its March meeting.

Orr Ranked First Among Net Stars

Haddonfield Star Leads in West Jersey Tennis League Listing

Charles P. Orr, tennis star of the championship Haddon Field Club, is ranked No. 1 among the men playing in the West Jersey League of Field Clubs.

The official rating of the men and women net performers in the West Jersey circuit was announced last night at the Fortieth annual meeting of the organization held in the Hotel Walt Whitman.

Orr, winner of the men's singles championship last season, replaced Dr. Herbert Fischer, former Woodbury Country star as the ranking players of the West Jersey League.

Miss Laura Pittenger, also of the Haddon Field Club was placed No. 1 in women's singles, largely because of her brilliant performance in winning the women's singles crown last year. This is the second time in as many seasons that Miss Pittenger has proved herself without an equal in West Jersey women's ranks.

School League Probable

Seeking to increase juvenile interest in the net sport, a committee was selected to work out plans for organization of a West Jersey interscholastic tennis league. The committee includes Tom Salter, Charley Coles and Charley Johnson.

Haddonfield, Moorestown, Camden, Woodbury, Collingswood and Atlantic City High Schools are heartily in favor of the circuit and will more than likely enter it when organized.

C. Singleton Mears, former Swarthmore College court ace, now a member of the Riverton Country Club, in advocating the formation of a scholastic league, declared it was his opinion that such competition would foster tennis among the juniors.

Albert E. Burling, of Merchantville, was re-elected president of the West Jersey League. Other officers renamed include W. C. Cummings, of Haddonfield, vice president; Howard S. Coe, of Riverton, secretary, and E. W. Palmer, treasurer.

West Jersey Classic

The West Jersey League singles championship tournament will be held again on the Moorestown Field Club courts during the week of July 11. This was one of the dates ratified last night.

The singles champion of the West Jersey League will be decided at a tournament to be held September 3, 4 and 5 at the Moorestown Field Club.

The dates on the various club tournaments follow:

June 11—Woodbury Country Club.
June 25—Riverton Country Club.
July 9—Merchantville Country Club.
July 23—Haddon Field Club.
August 6—Moorestown Field Club.

C. P. Orr and Miss Pittenger were awarded the Courier-Post cups for winning the respective singles titles while David Bower and Betty Allen were honored with junior prizes bestowed by the league. They came off with first honors in the boys and girls singles events.

The rankings of the singles players in the West Jersey League for last season's performances follow:

1. C. P. Orr, Haddon Field Club.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

Our Sunday School meets at ten on Sunday mornings. For this coming Sunday, we have the subject: "Sharing the Good News" for our study. A Chinaman asked a statesman who represented the United States in China: "What right have you Christians to come over here to China and talk with these people about religion?" The diplomat replied, "The right to give others what is too good to keep." In our witnessing for Christ, we not only proclaim a message to the world for other's benefit, but strengthen as well our own souls. The services of the Sunday and church offer one of the greatest opportunities to witness Him. Your presence is a testimony. You will get inspiration from the study of this appealing lesson.

During the month of March, the pastor will deliver a series of morning sermons dealing with four contacts of Christ during the last few days of his earthly life. The first will be of His contact with a young man; the second, His contact with a learned man; the third, His contact with a group of bigoted men; and fourth, His contact with a faltering man. These episodes in the life of Christ too place chronologically as they are given above, the last one being made only a few hours before Gethsemane. The theme for the morning sermon will be "One Thing Thou Lackest." Special music by the choir.

Young People's meeting in the evening, with sermon by the pastor and music by the choir.

After the evening service, a congregational meeting will be conducted for the purpose of electing officers to council to fill vacancies.

Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at eight o'clock. We shall leave the study of the Acts of the Apostles until after the Easter season, and draw some reflections from the "Upper Room Discourses" of Christ. It is hoped that during this special session of the year, many more may attend these mid-week services of prayer and praise. Attending the mid-week service is a great help toward making this Easter the best ever.

Catechetical instruction in the church at seven o'clock on Friday evenings.

Calvary Presbyterian

Services of Calvary Presbyterian Church are being held in the auditorium of the Riverton public school building: Morning worship at eleven o'clock; Sunday School! Main School at 10 o'clock in the morning, and the primary divisions at 2.30 in the afternoon. There will be no evening worship.

The Golden Hour Circle will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening, March 4th, at the apartment of Mrs. Thomas Murphy, corner of Broad and Main streets.

On Sunday morning, March sixth, the pastor will have a special message of importance to the entire congregation. Every member is urged to be present.

Charles T. Bates,
Minister.

EPISCOPAL

Christ Church, Parry Ave.
Rev. G. J. McCormack M. A., L. Th. Rector

The man who learns to bring Christ into his every-day life is far more keenly appreciative of all lovely things than he ever could be without Him. With the springs of his being made new and clean, he finds himself in blessed harmony with all the beauties of earth and sky:

"O glory of the lighted mind—
How dead I'd been, how dumb, how blind.
The running brook, to my new eyes,
Was babbling out of Paradise;
The waters rushing from the rain
Were singing, Christ has risen again"....

To touch, and hold life's final certainties, you must give your soul a chance to grow—Then welcome the Lenten season and live it so that the Easter Joy may be in very truth your own; growing each day more sensitive and appreciative of goodness—truth and beauty.

"All lovely tales that we have heard or read
An endless fountain of immortal drink
Pouring to us from the heaven's brink

On Wednesday next, March 9th, Mr. and Mrs. Pancoast who spent a long time in China, will give an illustrated lecture on that fascinating country. Don't miss this opportunity. There will be a sale of work preceding the lecture. The meeting is under the joint auspices to the Auxiliaries of the Episcopal Churches of Riverton and Palmyra and will be held in the Parish Hall, at Riverton. Newark Reported Seeking State Commissioner of Education

The name of Dr. John H. Logan, State Commissioner of Education, is being given consideration by the Newark Board of Education as a possible successor to Dr. David B. Corson as superintendent of schools there. Nothing definite has been decided on by the board, but from reliable sources it has been learned that members are more favorably inclined to Dr. Logan than to any other candidate so far mentioned.

Dr. Logan was appointed State Commissioner of Education in September, 1925, by former Governor Silzer. He resigned from the faculty of Rutgers University to accept the position, which pays $10,000 a year. Dr. Corson's present salary is $12,000, but members of the school board have declared that they will pay as high as $20,000 if they can get the right man to fill the superintendent's office.

WHAT THEY NEEDED

A Sunday School class was studying a missionary lesson and the teacher was telling of customs among the Eskimos. She said

"I have read an article by a traveler among these people, and it is the duty of the Eskimo's wife to chew her husband's clothes to keep them soft and pliable, as the skins get stiff, and therefore a woman is chosen according to her chewing ability, every man endeavoring to get a wife with strong teeth."

One little boy with the look of nausea on his face blurted out:

"Well, why don't they get 'em a Bill goat?"

'SKEETER FIGHTERS' PLANS FORMULATED

Creosylic fuel is to be employed to spread fuel oil over the surface of the water and bring about the extermination of mosquitoes by thousands, it was announced at a session of the New Jersey mosquito extermination commission in Atlantic City last week.

The greater the spread of the film of oil, and the longer its duration the more mosquitoes will be wiped out, according to Dr. Joseph M. Ginsburg, biochemist of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Rutgers University, who spoke before the convention.

Dr. Ginsburg said that the twelve-ton ditching machine capable of traveling over any marsh, no matter how soft, will be tested in Burlington county this spring.

WILLIAM F. BELL

William F. Bell died Thursday of last week at the home of E. E. Compton, Riverton with whom he had made his home during the past two years. Previous to that time he lived for about ten years with his sister in Beverly. Bell's home and relatives are in Philadelphia.

Heart trouble was the cause of his death. Wednesday evening Mr Bell was not feeling very well and called in a physician who gave him some medicine. He retired early and was apparently all right but later in the night the Compton's were aroused by his heavy breathing and when they entered his room to tender their assistance they found he had already passed away.

"Tip," as he was known among his many friends in this vicinity, joined the Riverton Baseball Club in 1878 and was an active player at first base for fifteen years. He was captain of the team for several years and continued his membership after he stopped activity on the field. He was also a member of the Riverton Country Club and an enthusiastic golfer.

His first business experience was with his father, James Bell, who conducted a dry goods and sundries store on Callowhill street above 20th, Philadelphia. Forty years ago he was employed by the F. S. Hovey Company, at 248 Chestnut street. The last business in which Mr. Bell was engaged was with the Willimantic Spool Cotton Company on Filbert street, Philadelphia.

"Tip" was not known to some of his dearest friends by any other name than his nickname. He was very popular among men because he was always genial, cordial and never spoke ill of anyone.

His office associates sent a large and very beautiful floral blanket to the funeral. The Riverton Country Club also sent a handsome piece in memory of their deceased member. Bell is survived by two brothers and two sisters all of whom live in Philadelphia. The funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon from the Compton home.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Oatnes, M. D.

HOUSEHOLD REMEDIES

Beyond the question of a doubt, there are many old-fashioned methods of dealing with acute diseases that should be perpetuated. Water applied externally will reduce fever temporarily, and will contribute much to the patient's comfort, if applied with judgment. It should be applied warm—sponging—unless the physician is present and orders otherwise; it is free from depressing effect, which cannot always be said of drugs that reduce fever.

Mustard plasters should be kept in the home, or at least the material for making them. By irritating the skin, we may partially empty a congested or inflamed part beneath, thus relieving pain. The surface should be vigorously reddened to secure the best results. The "fly-blister," once a family measure, should be dismissed as a household resource; it might do exceeding harm.

Castor oil is almost too well known to mention—a very valuable agent, and should be kept in every home. I may say here that I have found it an excellent application to the skin in irritations that do not heal easily. It has cured cases for me—one a badly fissured lip wherein the patient and his physician suspected cancer; the doctor had applied caustics to kill the thing, thus keeping up the "anger" in it; a week's constant application of pure castor oil cured it!

Turpentine, in these days of kidney-disorder, should never be applied or given internally without the physician's advice. I once saw a fatal ending in a Bright's disease case, twenty hours after taking a dose of turpentine on sugar "to stimulate the kidneys." Turpentine is a valuable household remedy, but is dangerous, if used ignorantly.

Home Economics Extension Work

Complete Program Being Presented in County by Agent Thompson

In spite of the fact that Burlington county does not have a Home Demonstration Agent the same as about twelve of the other counties of the state, a rather complete program of Home economics work is being conducted in Burlington County. The work being carried on in the county at the present time has been organized by Charles Thompson, County Agent, who, of course, can do nothing further than organize communities and then secure help from the various specialists to conduct the actual program. Both Junior and Senior Home Economics work is being carried on.

On Tuesday, March 1, a meeting has been arranged for training leaders for Spring millinery. At the present time there are more applicants for this work than can be given help, but it is hoped that another date may be arranged with the state workers in the near future to give the help that has been requested.

Permanent Pattern work has been particularly popular among the women of the county and groups have received this help in many communities. However, according to Mr. Thompson, seventeen new groups are ready for help in Pattern work as soon as the state workers are able to give the time to Burlington County. Some of this help will be given during the two weeks following March 21. All groups are organized under the leadership of a local woman in a community who assumes the responsibility of her group.

One of the popular features of the clothing program has been the fashion show conducted by Mrs. Catharine H. Gribel in the spring and fall for the past three years. The Spring Fashion Show this year will be conducted by Mrs. Griebel on Wednesday, April 6. At this time the ladies of the county will have an opportunity to learn more of the clothing program which is available.

There will also be two Style Shows for the girls of the county to be held on May 18 and 19. The places at which these events will be held have not yet been decided.

The other phases of Home Economics work consists of Foods or Nutrition and Home Management, both of which departments are headed up by specialists from the College.

Through the co-operation of the Helping Teachers and Parent-Teacher Associations, Miss Doermann has given help with hot school lunch programs. A most excellent meeting was held at Hainesport on Thursday, February 3, when fifty-three ladies from various communities in the county attended at which time Miss Doermann gave some very valuable and helpful suggestions.

Past experience has shown that to become familiar with the Home Economics program has developed enthusiasm on the part of those who have been fortunate enough to receive some of the work.—Burlington County Educational News.

Advocates County Vocational Training

Educational News Says Industry is Sufficient and People Want System

The Burlington County Educational News, in its current issue, sets forth the following reasons for a vocational educational system in the County:

1. The County unit plan has been the most satisfactory plan not only in New Jersey but in the entire United States.

2. Because the future generation must be trained for good citizens. It is mighty fine and important to keep our institutions and roads in good condition, but it is far more important to train our youth for the vocations they desire.

Can't Educate Enmasse

3. Because we cannot educate our youth enmass. They must be trained individually and our school curriculum must have as part of it the opportunity to train for vocations. We wouldn't think of putting our tuberculosis cases in the asylum, or vice versa, and we must stop trying to have all of our boys and girls take the general high school course. Some must be trained for the vocations.

4. Because according to the 1919 census there were 5,019 young people in Burlington county between the ages of 14 and 17 years. Of that number 2,789 or 55% were in school; the remaining 2,230 had left school. Most of them were at work. Some of them were working on farms, but the majority were engaged in miscellaneous occupations which required little or no vocational training. About one-half of these 2,230 boys and girls left school because they had to go to work. The remaining two-thirds left for various reasons, the first of which was a lack of interest in school due to the fact that they could not secure the training for which they were best fitted.

Industry Sufficient

5. Because industry of the county is sufficiently large to be entitled to some form of training, pertaining to its needs. According to the 1919 census the factories of Burlington county produced $61,319,803 of products. The farms produced the same year $10,054,432. Industry is entitled to some form of training when we consider that wages paid to workers in that year amounted to more than $10,000,000. If industry continues to increase, and it will, it is certain you will gradually have better roads, better homes, better schools and better salaries. The factories and the farms cannot produce good products without raw materials and they have trained and efficient workers to change the raw materials to the best finished product.

6. Because a Vocational School means greater economic assets. Energy, thrift and intelligence of people are the greatest economic asset and unless we develop the great mass of workers by giving them the opportunity to learn more in the lines that they are going to pursue we are not developing the energy, thrift and intelligence that we should. To the manual minded boy and girl of normal intelligence we must give them a chance through a Vocational School to develop themselves into the best workers that it is possible for them to be.

People Desire Training

7. Because the people of Burlington county desire to have Vocational Training established in the county. The Vocation School idea has been endorsed by the following organizations and industries:

Burlington County Council of Parent-Teacher Associations.
Burlington County School Boards' Association.
Burlington County Industrial Association.
Vocational Education Committee of the Supervising Principals Association of Burlington County.
Burlington County Council of the American Legion.
Local Union E. No. 1185 United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners.
Burlington Kiwanis Club.
Number of Members of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce.

PEACE, NOT WAR

Have we not had enough of war
And all its misery,
With greed and hatred for mankind,
And all man's jealousy?
Will we keep on in murder fields
E'er slaying brother men?
All for the selfish love of gold
Would we e'er fight again?

O, now let love come in your hearts
And slay the monster, greed;
For love would bring the peace and
That we, so badly need. [joy
"Peace on earth, good will to men"
The Saviour's precepts, hear
Then all the horrors of cruel war
We need, no more, e'er fear.

We've had enough of cruelty
And sorrows war would bring;
Now of the higher aims of life
Let us begin to sing.
And teach the children to forget
All thoughts of war and greed;
But fill their little hearts with love,
And blessings that they need.

Then peace and joy will fill their souls,
And thoughts of greed depart,
When, love and happiness, they find
Is creeping in each heart.
Teach them the Savior's Golden Rule,
Which they should learn to live,
And know the blessings they would find
In pleasures they would give.

"Honor of Family" Is Big Success

Capacity House Greets St. Leo Dramatic Players; Miss Steedle Sings

A rare treat was given those who attended the performance, "The Honor of the Family" in Palmyra High School auditorium last Friday evening. St. Joseph's Council, K. of C., arranged for the presentation of this new comedy by St. Leo's Dramatic Players.

"The Honor of the Family" was upheld in such a dramatic manner and so many amusing situations arose that the audience was convulsed with laughter and felt how realistic it all was.

The audience was well satisfied with the performance and showed its appreciation in no unmistakable terms. When the members of the cast appeared to make their final bow, the other members of the organization, who were equally important in the successful rendition of the play, also made their appearance.

Between the first and second acts Miss Mary Steedle sang "Spring's Awakening," by Sanderson, and "Little Mother of Mine" by Burleigh and other selections. She was accompanied by Miss Eleanor Connell, who also rendered a piano solo. Both of the artists show remarkable talent and received the hearty plaudits of the audience.

The Cast

The cast of characters were: Henry Adams, the eldest son, Thomas I. Savage; Joyce Smith, whom he married, Jane Evans; George Adams, his brother, Bernard George Murray; Irene Adams, George's wife, Anne Gordon; Miss Priscilla Adams, the very precise aunt who had been as a mother to them, Isabelle A. Dorsey; Lucy Adams, a sister, Jane Jermyn; Penelope Adams, the youngest sister, Mary Darreff; Frank Owens, who was fond of the ladies, Frank J. Gercke; Martin Burke, a self-made man, John Redmond; Maggie, a much-imposed on "retainer," Nan Redmond.

The patrons of the evening were: Rev. Joseph A. Rigney, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Yearly, Mr. and Mrs. John McChesney, Dr. and Mrs. Charles F. Voorhis, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Strohlein, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Geiss, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. John Holvick, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCrosson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Sim, Dr. and Mrs. Harry L. Rogers, Mr Joseph T. Schuler Sr., Mr. Charles A. Wright, Mrs. Martha Haslam, Mrs. Mattie C. Musser, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Eck.

The Committees

The committees deserve credit for their very efficient work, which made possible such an excellent presentation.

The executive committee was composed of Harry C. Sim, Chairman; Thomas McCrosson, John A. Strohlein, William J. Eck, Harry R. Bradshaw.

The program committee was: Joseph T. Schuler, Sr., chairman; Adolph J. Strohlein, John Ruppert, Frank Kirschner, George Zink, John Ford, August Weber, Thomas Ford, Frank Shinkle, John Tait.

Raymond Bradshaw was chairman of the ushers' committee, and his assitants were Louis Weber, Chris Davis, Frank Strohlein, Misses Catherine Schuler, Elizabeth D'Autrechy, Jane Dougherty, Margaret Casey, Marie Gorman, Anna Braun Marie Brennan, Catherine Casey.

The ticket committee was under the direction of Harry R. Bradshaw, as chairman, and was composed of William J. Eck, Andrew J. Pfaff, John Strohlein, John Ogden.

The members of the property committee were: Francis Barr, Chairman, Joseph Schuler, Jr., Edwards Steedle, Horace Richman.

"I wouldn't let anybody wash my neck or comb my hair!" replied Tommy.

Electricity and Gas Play Large Part in Home-maker's Spring Cleaning Plans

Back of the Button

The wonders of electrical services have become so necessary to modern life that we have ceased to marvel at them. We take for granted the glowing safety of our streets, the convenient light that floods our homes, the power that runs the household labor-savers.

Back of the button you press on the wall to summon your electric servant, there are millions of dollars invested in wires and machinery in big generating stations. Thousands of men are on the alert day and night to see that there is always electric current to serve you.

There's No Work With the Gas Fire

All through the ages family life has centered around the hearth. Today everyone wants at least one fireplace in a home.

A gas radiant heater may be installed in any fireplace. It gives a warm and glowing fire without the aftermath of cleaning and polishing. Gas logs or a gas coal basket may be used and there are many charming styles of gas radiant heaters from which to make your choice.

Public Service will install a gas fireplace heater, (costing $35 or over) in any first floor room free of charge, and give thirty days' free trial.

Spring Brings Extra Washings

Blankets, curtains and covers represent an investment of considerable money. To replace them would be a heavy expense. They must be carefully handled, yet thoroughly cleaned.

The Thor washer comes to the housekeeper's assistance. This machine, which removes all the dirt from heavy blankets, may be trusted to wash safely the finest curtains. The rapidly revolving motions of the cylinder throw hot soapy water through the articles, loosen and remove the dirt, without injury to materials.

The wringer has smooth rubber rollers, which protect the most delicate laces and will not loosen buttons or fasteners.

A Thor washer makes a saving in laundry bills. Because of careful washing furnishings last longer and the cost of replacement is less frequent.

Washers may be purchased on the easy payment plan, $5.00 down and eighteen months to pay.

Thor Disposes of Ironing Quickly

The Thor ironer does its part toward making things fresh for spring and requires little work from the housekeeper. She need only sit before the ironer and guide the pieces through. An automatic spring adjusts the rollers to heavy or thin materials. The slip covers, shaped to fit furniture, may be as skillfully ironed as are flat pieces.

Many persons have the idea that unless they have a special laundry, they have not room to store an ironer, but the Thor may be kept in any small apartment, for it folds up and can be put away in cupboard, small closet or behind a door.

In a short time the Thor ironer will pay for itself in the laundry bills it saves.

The first payment is $5.00, eighteen months to pay balance.

Public Service maintains a staff of expert repairmen to adjust and put in first class working order all electric appliances.

Real Comfort Is Sure When Gas Heats the Home

When gas is used for house-heating there are no daily trips to the basement and the heavy work of shoveling coal and removing ashes is eliminated.

Gas heating gives the maximum of comfort. With gas there is no smoke or soot. The temperature of the rooms is automatically controlled and the service is never interrupted. Gas may be applied to any heating system, steam, hot water, vapor, or warm air. No change of pipes or radiators need be made, if these are adequate and in good condition.

Public Service housheating engineers will make a survey of housheating requirements and submit estimate of installation and approximate operation cost, without charge.

Best of Cooks Demand Oven Heat Regulation

The most successful cooks don't guess at time and temperature. They make certain that the oven they use registers the right degree of heat, and they cook their foods the required length of time.

For successful baking and cooking results they have learned to depend upon oven heat regulator gas ranges and they enjoy the freedom it gives them from kitchen duty. While a whole meal is cooking in the oven, they may turn their attention to other household duties.

Electric Aids for Hair Beauty

With a full schedule of business or social engagements, the home shampoo may be achieved with the assistance of an electric hair dryer. It is useful, too, for drying gloves and other small articles of clothing. Prices are from $12.50 up.

Even those endowed with curling locks must sometimes have recourse to the curling iron. The electric waver gives the hair that flat, loose wave which is becoming to most faces, and a curling iron is necessary for curling short, straight ends.

The waver is priced at $6.00 and the iron at $1.25.

Wink's Teams Run Into Hard Luck

Palmyra Quintets Trounced by Both Delanco and Marlton

Eastburn was high scorer for Palmyra as the locals were upset by Delanco for the first time at the M. E. gym Saturday night by a 31 to 16 score. The winners were ahead 11 to 7 at half time but only tallied eight field goals to Palmyra's five. Sloan played his first game with Palmyra and accounted for two field goals and a foul for five points. McKee made Palmyra's other goal from the field.

Howard Shipps and Tom Maguire led the way for Delanco, each collecting a trio of double-deckers. "Newt" Bright was next high scorer for the winners with a two-pointer and four of his eight free tosses from the complimentary mark for half-a-dozen tallies.

Some Foul Shooting

Brilliant foul shooting, making 19 of 24 tries from the 15-foot mark, failed to save the Palmyra Juniors from a defeat at the hands of the Delanco yearlings. Burke registered 10 of his 12 fouls and two field goals in the 30 to 25 setback. Conway sank one from the field and three of his four free passes for four markers and Lytle made three of four as Freeman made good both his foul tries.

Kalbach bagged five baskets as Robinson was credited with three and Johnson two. The game was closely contested throughout with Palmyra but a single point behind when the whistle blew to end the first half.

Palmyra dropped its game to the Marlton crew at Marlton last Friday night by a 54 to 14 count. Wink was greatly handicapped because he was without the valuable services of Jack Kisley, Vince Kalinowski, Cliff West and Ted Hudson. Several of the Palmyra players had to fill in and play both games. These players who are also members of the High School team are no longer allowed to take part in contests outside of school as Coach Dimond says too much basketball is not good for these athletes.

Davis and Reeves were stars for the Palmyra first team Friday night, Davis accounted for two and three for seven points as Reeves sank a pair of doubledeckers. For Marlton first, Barrett with 16 points; Bar Sheehan, former Camden Catholic High court ace and captain of St. Joseph's College quintet last year who made his debut with Marlton with a dozen markers, and Stockum, stellar guard, with 13 points to his credit, featured for Marlton.

Werner Features

"Al" Werner featured as the Reserves lost their game to the Junior team, 26-21. This game was much closer than the other contest as each team registered eight goals from the field. Marlton led at half time 10 to 9 and won out in the second half as they had the better of the argument in foul goal shooting.

Morrison was the big gun for the Marlton Reserves with 10 points.

NOTED "Y" LEADER

HUGH D. MAYDOLE
Member of the National YMCA Council who has been visiting Burlington County Groups this week.

"Y" SECRETARY HERE

Hugh D. Maydole, a member of the National YMCA Council staff, has been spending some time this week, together with the County YMCA Secretary, Guy Hendry, in Palmyra and Riverton in connection with a survey he is making of YMCA work throughout Burlington County.

Leaders of YMCA Groups in Palmyra and Riverton met Mr. Maydole Wednesday evening of this week at a County-wide Leaders' Conference, which was held at Mount Holly. On Thursday evening, Mr. Maydole and Secretary Hendry will be present at the regular monthly meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton YMCA Board.

Some years ago Mr. Maydole was a Secretary in the Camden City Association. He first organized Camden County for YMCA Work. He is a relative of Leon C. Guest, Secretary of the Palmyra-Riverton YMCA Board.

Commenting upon the survey Mr. Maydole is making, Secretary Hendry said that "of all the men of the Town and Country Field of YMCA Work, Mr. Maydole is, without doubt, the best man available to render this sort of service to any county." From similar services made in other counties throughout the country, Mr. Maydole, from his wide experience, is able to bring to County Committees, Boards of Directors, and staff members, suggestions and recommendations which very greatly increase the output of service the Association has been able to render in behalf of the Christian development of boys and young men. It is gratifying to know that he is at last able to schedule a study of Burlington County.

Y. C. of P. Men at Palmyra-Riverton Boys' Night

A gathering of about seventy boys and young men braved the rain of Friday evening, February 25, and assembled in the YMCA Building at Palmyra for an evening of fun, fellowship, entertainment, and to hear some good speaking. Seven members of the County "Y" Orchestra played, followed by mass singing and then came a pleasing four-reel movie put out by the Conard line entitled, "A Sea Going Senior."

Between reels the fellows enjoyed greatly the privilege of hearing John Ware, President of the Freshman Class of the University of Pennsylvania, and Charles Bentley, President of the Christian Association of the University. These men mentioned many worthwhile things for fellows to keep in mind in developing four-square lives. The evening wound up with a jolly pop vanishing contest and games.

Mr. Hume Back Again

Sunday morning, February 27, Wilson M. Hume, YMCA Secretary from India on furlough in America, spoke at the morning service of the Broad Street M. E. Church, Burlington. That evening he spoke at a Union Service in the Methodist Church of Palmyra, at which time members of the congregation of the Moravian Church at Five Points, and Calvary Presbyterian Church at Riverton were present. This evening meeting was arranged by the Religious Work Committee of the Palmyra-Riverton YMCA Board of which Rev. Charles T. Bates of Riverton is Chairman.

Two Palmyra-Riverton Groups the Hi-Y Club and the Calvary Group, united for a party and together with their "best girls," constituting a group of about forty in number, had a most enjoyable time Monday evening, February 28 in the Methodist Church, Palmyra, with Secretary Guy Hendry directing the games and activities of the evening.

PHS LOSES

Palmyra Hi lost a hard fought battle to the Radnor, Pa., team in an extra period game in its second round of the Penn Tournament, Tuesday afternoon, 36-31. The semi-final game was the toughest contest of the season for Coach Dimond's proteges.

An eleventh hour spurt enabled Radnor to upset the Red and Blue and beat them out for a game with Burlington, who were lucky to beat Collingswood at the Palestra, 26-25, after being on the short end of a 17-7 count at the end of the first half.

"Jimmie" West's difficult sideloog shot in the last two minutes of the regulation time gave P. H. S. a 28-26 advantage. Then a few seconds later, "Beth" Brown, Radnor's colored flash, was given two fouls as he grabbed the ball and flung it through the basket for a double-decker. However he failed on both of his free tosses, making the score 28-28, but in the extra session, "the dark horse" scored twice from the field as Lentz also caged a two-pointer.

Jack Kisley was again the high scorer for Palmyra with five field goals and a foul for 11 points. Kisley was followed by Branson who tallied four and one for nine points. Hennessey made two and one for five as West, Kalinowski and Miller each accounted for two markers.

Saturday P. H. S. will play its first round in the South Jersey Tournament against Swedesboro. Tuesday night the boys' first team will play Temple and the boys' second will play the Pennsauken Junior High School.

P. H. S. Basketball Team Sets Record

Kisley and His Mates Make Highest Score in Penn Tournament

The Palmyra High School boys set two records for the first day in the Penn Tournament of interscholastic basketball in the Penn Palestra Saturday when they were high scorers of the day, beating Hatboro High 56-7. Jack Kisley ran off with individual honors by making a dozen field goals while the Palmyra defense was holding Hatboro to a pair of double-deckers.

Kisley and his mates unleashed a lightning attack that completely snowed under the Hatboro combination in a rather easy fashion. Palmyra led at intermission 22 to 3. The winners continued their wonderful teamwork all through the second twenty minutes and tallied an even two dozen markers.

"Spike" Hennessey at center also had a big day for Palmyra. "Big Spike" made five field goals and all three of his foul tries for 13 points. West and Captain Kalinowski, Palmyra's star guards, both played bang-up ball for the winners. Each guard made two field goals each while West had a perfect eye from the foul mark, making four of four tries from the charity mark as Vince sank one of his two tosses.

Palmyra dropped its struggle with Moorestown at the Community House Tuesday night by a 50 to 13 count after trailing at half time 26-8.

The Palmyra Reserves also lost to the Moorestown Reserves, their score being 34 to 18 at the final whistle.

Moorestown will come to Palmyra this Saturday night and a great game is expected.

Burlington County Has Large Delegation at South Jersey Conference

The Burlington County YWCA was well represented at the Leadership Conference in Camden on February 25, having the largest delegation present. There were 31 delegates from the County Board, Mount Holly and Burlington Branches and committee members. Atlantic City stood next to Burlington County in number of delegates attending the conference.

From the morning worship led by Mrs. Harvey Borton on the Joy of the Task of Leadership, to the closing address by Miss Margaret Burton of the Education Department of the National Board, the day was filled with interesting talks, discussions and group meetings. The day was educational as well as inspirational and the people of Burlington County considered it a rare privilege to have the fellowship with South Jersey Associations.

Mother-Daughter Banquets

The date for the Mount Holly Mother and Daughter banquet is March 25th. Every mother in Mount Holly is asked to come and bring her daughter. If there is any one who would like to come but has no daughter to bring the YWCA will supply daughters.

The Board of Directors of the YWCA want this banquet to be a real community affair, and so they invite every organization of girls and women in the town to cooperate. The banquet will be held at the R. & P. auditorium.

Group Meetings

The County Council of Business Girls will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Stockwell in Moorestown on Tuesday evening, March 8th. Many matters of great importance will be brought before the council and every club is asked to send a good delegation to contribute their thinking to the group problems.

A joint meeting of the membership and finance committees will be in the county office on Friday afternoon at 1:30. At this time final plans for the membership drive will be completed.

Mrs. Edward Harmer, chairman of finance, and Mrs. Harold Hornor, chairman of membership, have planned a very interesting program for the meeting. If you are on either of these committees you can't afford to miss this program.

The Senior YWCA club and the Girl Reserve Club of Willingboro will meet at the home of Mrs. Sherman Borden in Cooperstown on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Girl Reserves

The True Blue Girl Reserves of Bridgeboro had a most interesting patriotic program at their regular club meeting of last week. Ruth Moore, president of the club, presided at the meeting. An interpretation of one phase of the code, loyal to friends, was given by Eleanor Chamberlain. Margaret Horner and Dolor King recited appropriate poems and the story of Abraham Lincoln's life was read by Louisa Fervour. A song "How Beste Made the Flag," sung by Eleanor Chamberlain, and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, recited by Anna Stratton, were also part of the program. The dramatization of "How the Flag Was Made" was very well done by Norma Landis and Ruth Fervour. The program was concluded with "The Star Spangled Banner" and the American Flag Salute.

The Riverton Girl Reserves are very enthusiastic in their preparations of a play entitled "The Scheming Six." Miss Grace Davis, the club adviser, and Miss Lippincott, a teacher in the public school, are coaching the play.

SCHOOL BUILDING COMMITTEE CONSIDERS SEVERAL PLANS

Must Look To Future Is Opinion of Members; Problem Complicated

COMMITTEE MAKES NO RECOMMENDATIONS

The following report was submitted to the Riverton Board of Education Monday night:

To the Board of Education,
Riverton, New Jersey:

A committee was appointed more than a year ago to consider the question of enlarging the Riverton Public School or of providing in some way increased facilities for school work, and that Committee had a number of meetings and considered various ways and means of solving the problem presented. Unfortunately, this Committee was handicapped by a number of things which prevented the submission of anything in the nature of a formal report.

As a matter of fact, the former Chairman of this Committee, Mr. J. W. Sylvester, secured from the Architects who had designed the original building, a sketch of a proposed addition thereto toward Howard Street, upon the assumption, from information furnished the Committee, that the building line occupied a certain position relatively to the curb. Unfortunately the addition proposed overstepped this building line by some sixteen feet. The Committee believed that while this might be a fact it was not an insurmountable difficulty, but whatever the situation may be on that point, the Committee did not press it and before any decision could be reached, Mr. Sylvester resigned from the Board.

Following his resignation the Committee reorganized and it was endeavored to consider this matter thoroughly with a view of presenting a program designed to carry out suggestions made by our Supervisor, and to give the Borough of Riverton such increased school facilities as the attendance requires, and as may be necessary to supply the needs for the next few years.

It may be noted at the outset that the school population has undergone no material change within the past four years. On January 20, 1927, Miss Chew reported enrollment as follows:

1923-24	375
1924-25	379
1925-26	377
1926-27 (to date)	379

Increase Slow

A recent census of children under Kindergarten age, indicates no material increase in the Kindergarten for the next few years; possibly a decrease. If a Parochial School is built, as proposed, it is understood that we might lose 50 scholars at the beginning of the next term, and it is reasonable to suppose that their places would not be filled for many years. If this Parochial School is built, it might reduce the school population to a figure as low as that obtaining in 1920.

Your Committee has also considered the possibility that there might be some advantage in a combination with adjacent School Districts. If this were done, the present site is not the best one for an enlarged school house. All of these conditions have a bearing upon any program that may be proposed, and it is quite necessary that all of these factors be considered.

The plan for extending the present school building considered by the former Committee, proposed a wing on the Howard Street side, with a new Auditorium; having in mind the idea that if an increase in size became necessary at some future time, a wing of the same character could be built on the Cinnaminson Street side. Aside from the fact that the extension proposed went beyond the building line, the estimated cost, $90,000.00 was considered excessive. From other figures available, it is believed that an extension substantially like that proposed could be erected for 25% less. This plan extended over the building line on Howard Street, and while this condition might have been adjusted if no other plan was available, your Committee does not believe it the wisest thing to do.

More Ground Needed

It has been suggested that the property directly adjoining the School toward the river be secured, so as to give the School the entire plot bounded by Fourth, Fifth, Howard and Cinnaminson Streets. The plot has an area of about 150 feet by 244 feet, and with the improvements thereon, is assessed at $12,600.00. If it were possible to secure this property for $30,000.00, it leaves the school site in the same place, and there are reasons to believe that a site on the other side of the railroad is to be preferred, if material increase in building is contemplated.

The Borough of Riverton has offered, as a site for a new school building, a portion of the Memorial Park property. Aside from the fact that there is some doubt that such site could be accepted, your Committee is of the opinion that the erection of a completely new school building at the present time is not advisable. The Commissioner of Education has gone on record as opposed to any great amount of rebuilding. If such building was erected, how could we dispose of the present school structure? While your Committee is fully sensible of the desire on the part of the Borough to assist the Board of Education in solving one of its most difficult problems, it does not seem wise to propose an entirely new building now.

The Committee recognizes, of course, that the temporary facilities provided by utilizing the Supervisor's office and a part of the Auditorium for school rooms, and the transfer of the office to the hall of the first floor, should not be allowed to continue, and that increased space should be provided to take care of this condition.

Your Committee has given careful consideration to ways and means for relieving the congested condition, hereinbefore outlined. The minimum requirements would seem to be four extra rooms, and two plans for providing this space are presented:

Otherwise proper announcement will be made of change of day in which the fire siren will be sounded or other means taken about ten o'clock of the the day of the parade if the weather on Decoration Day is not favorable.

Be sure to buy your postage stamps in either Palmyra or Riverton post office so your baby may be listed for special prizes given prior to the baby parade.

ENJOY YOUR OWN GARDEN

Nothing You Can Buy Will Taste as Well As the Things Picked Fresh From Garden

There isn't any greater pleasure, once you start a garden, than to grow your own vegetables and to gather them crisp and fresh for your own table every day. The outlay is so small in comparison with the returns, with reasonable attention, that you will be delighted with the results.

A very important factor is to have good seed, so the farmer and the man with the small garden plot, should place his order only with firms which he has reason to believe are thoroughly reliable.

Any reader can secure free of charge, an instructive 192 page illustrated catalog from Michell's Seed House, 518 Market street, Philadelphia. PHS GIRLS LOSE

Miss Helen Enskat Stars For Locals Despite Defeat

Miss Helen Enskat played the leading role as Palmyra dropped its basketball game to the Swedesboro High School girls' team last Friday afternoon in the Palmyra gym, the score being 43 to 29. Miss Enskat's twenty-seven of Palmyra's twenty-nine points established a record at Palmyra High but was not enough to overcome the winners' big lead. Miss Enskat tallied eleven of Palmyra's dozen field goals and all of their fouls, five out of five. Miss Margaret Jenkins accounted for the other goal from the field.

The Misses Glutting and Shoulders sparkled for the winning Swedesboro combination. The former made an even dozen field goals for 24 points while the latter made eight fielders and three of her four foul tries for 19 markers.

The Palmyra Hi girls beat the Temple maids in a one-sided game, score 38 to 6. The winners led at intermission 22-2. Miss Helen Enskat made ten field goals as Miss Margaret Jenkins tallied an even half dozen.

The boys will tackle Burlington tonight at the Camden Convention Hall in a South Jersey tournament contest, starting promptly at nine o'clock.

SAMARITAN CLASS

The Samaritan Class of the Central Baptist Church held its regular monthly meeting in the Church on Tuesday evening with the newly elected officers for 1927 presiding.

President Thomas R. Taylor appointed the following chairmen of committees: Welfare, Harry Haugh; Entertainment, Ernest Woodcock; Paper, Albert Taylor, and Membership, Joseph G. Reel.

Plans for the enlargement of the membership were discussed together with those for the annual banquet which will be numbered among their spring activities.

Dispensing the business of the evening the class enjoyed its regular luncheon and were delightfully entertained with piano selections rendered by Dr. Dean H. LeFavor, a recent enrollment of the class.

PHS FIVE WINS

Temple Team Defeated by Score of 32—19

Jack Eisley was again the high scorer for Palmyra Hi as he tallied half a dozen field goals and three of five fouls for 15 points against the Temple team in the Palmyra High School gym Tuesday night. Cliff West also played a leading role as the Red and White squad romped to the 32-19 win. West sank three from the field and made a foul goal for seven markers.

The wonderful passing ability displayed by the entire Palmyra squad was the outstanding feature of the contest. This advantage enabled the winners to outscore the Temple Five from the field, 14 to seven. Palmyra held a 16 to 10 lead at half time.

Markley, with three two-pointers, and Thorn and Keen a pair of doubledeckers starred for the vanquished team. Thorn also had three of five free tosses to his credit, being best man for the Owls with seven points.

The Pensauken Junior High School, coached by F. Craig Morse, former instructor at PHS, handed the Reserves a 27 to 18 setback. Frank Hengert with five of Palmyra's six field goals and four of five fouls for 14 points was the whole show for Palmyra.

Davidson, Johnson and Gottlieb, with a trio of twin-pointers apiece, sparkled for the winners.

Aged Resident. Dies of Exposure

William H. Jones Taken Ill While Out Walking; Laid Out All Night

William H. Jones, one of Riverton's oldest residents came to his death last Saturday under distressing circumstances.

Mr. Jones, who is eighty years of age, went for a walk early Friday afternoon. When he did not return by three o'clock his son, Wilbur, started out to look for him. His search was fruitless however, and when it commenced to get dark the family became thoroughly alarmed. At 7 o'clock Wilbur sought the assistance of Office Quigley in the search for his father and they worked together until nearly midnight, combing the town thoroughly and a part of Cinnaminson township.

Director of Public Safety Williams was notified and he telephoned to hospitals and police stations in Camden, and to the Riverside hospital but no trace of the missing man was found.

Director Williams also arranged to have the news of Mr. Jones' disappearance announced from stations WOO and WCAU. Many residents in Riverton got the message in this manner and joined in the search.

Found by Boy Scouts

The fire siren was blown and nearly fifty members of the fire company joined in the search.

The Riverton Boy Scouts had a meeting that night and when they learned of the situation about 30 of them immediately joined in the hunt, working until nearly midnight. The next morning Scoutmaster Shoemaker had the boys at it again and just before 7 o'clock they found Jones in the roadway near the old gas tanks on East Main street. He was exhausted and barely able to speak. The boys carried him into a nearby tenament house where he was given attention by Dr. Harry L. Rogers, after which he was taken to his home in the Palmyra ambulance. He was unable to stand the exposure and shock of the night's experience and died about 8 o'clock Saturday evening.

The funeral services were held at his late residence Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 conducted by Robert Cowan, a divinity student at the University of Pennsylvania, who is substituting at the Methodist church while the pastor, Dr. J. W. Lee, attends the conference at Asbury Park.

Services were held Tuesday evening by Washington Camp No. 23, P. O. S. of A., after which the members of the Riverton Fire Company in a body paid their last respects to the deceased. Interment was made at Asbury M. E. churchyard. Among the floral pieces were three very beautiful ones sent by the Knights of the Golden Eagle, P. O. S. of A. and the Riverton Fire Company.

Early Resident

Mr. Jones was born in Cinnaminson township in 1846, and followed the business of farmer there until 48 years ago when he entered the produce business in Philadelphia in which he was engaged at the time of his death. His father lived in one of the first two houses in Riverton, near the present location of Schneider's cigar store. Mr. Jones was a fancy boot maker by trade.

Mr. Jones' ancestral line runs back through the Lippincott branch of the Jones' family to the time of arrival of William Penn.

He was a descendant from the Jones family of Medford and came of Orthodox Friends stock.

He is survived by a widow and two sons, Wilbur and Clarence.

Fire Company Auxiliary Enjoys Big Success In Annual Event

The firemen's annual chicken supper was given by the Ladies' Auxiliary at the fire house last Thursday afternoon and evening between 5 o'clock and 8.30. The ladies of the fire company worked hard for this annual affair and several hundred tickets were sold before Thursday.

Although there was "good flock" of chickens left, the "fire eaters" cleaned up, as over 600 suppers were served. There were also many suppers sold that were eaten at home.

FORM UNITED CHARITY BODY

Riverton, Palmyra and Cinnaminson To Combine Welfare Work

GEORGE N. WIMER CHOSEN PRESIDENT

A meeting representing churches and organizations of Palmyra, Riverton, and Cinnaminson, was held in P. O. S. of A. Hall, Thursday, March 3rd. J. Edwin Lees was chairman and Mrs. Frederick Shill secretary.

Mr. Lees called the meeting to order, and asked George N. Wimer to explain its purpose. The idea of a general welfare organization originated through the Lions Club, and Mr. Wimer, Mr. Lamon and Mr. McCamy were appointed to notify the various churches and organizations in the Triple Communities to send representatives to this meeting to find out the will of the people, and get ideas as to the best way to go about accomplishing the desired result. After the roll call the meeting was open for discussion.

Mrs. Woolman, President of the Home Service of Palmyra and Riverton, explained the work they were doing and expressed their willingness to cooperate with a central organization.

Delegates Speak

In order to get a general opinion the representatives were called on for a few words. The following responded:

Central Baptist Church, Epworth M. E. Church, Christ Church, Palmyra, Compass Club, Order of Eastern Star, Artisans, P. O. S. of A., I. O. O. F., Ladies Aux. American Legion, American Legion, Home Service, Rotary Club, Independence Fire Company, Visiting Nurse Association, Ladies of Pocahontas, Shepherds of Bethlehem, Sons of Italy, Palmyra Chamber of Commerce, Riverton Chamber of Commerce, Riverton Porch Club, Friendship Circle, Knights of Columbus, Needle work Guild, Ladies of Golden Eagle, Ladies Aux. of Compass Club.

Organization Formed

Each one spoke of his organization's private charities, but expressed willingness to cooperate with a central organization. After the discussion Mr. Lamon moved that a "Community Welfare Association of Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson" be formed. It was seconded and carried unanimously.

The officers were then elected. They are: President, George N. Wimer (Palmyra); Vice-President, Joseph L. Thomas (Cinnaminson); Secretary, Mrs. Elwood Sawyer (Palmyra); Treasurer, Mrs. Charles Evans (Cinnaminson).

Mr. Wimer then took the chair. He thanked the delegates for the honor. He believes that every man should do what he is asked, to the best of his ability, and help in any way he can. He is looking forward to future success of this organization and feels that other towns will be moved to follow our plans.

It was moved and passed that the chairman, after due thought, appoint a committee to formulate plans of work.

The Rev. George Lackett dismissed us with a prayer to our Heavenly Father for help and guidance.

Respectfully submitted,
Isabell R. Shill,

CASEY'S DREAM

Baraca Class Will Present Irish Playlet Tonight

Tonight, in the Central Baptist Church, the Baraca Class will present an Irish playlet entitled "Casey's Dream," written and directed by Herbert Warren, a member of the class.

The scene is laid on Vine street, in Philadelphia, shortly before some of the old houses there had to be torn down for the Delaware River Bridge. Typical Irish characters form the family who occupied one of these houses and suddenly became rich through its sale.

The cast of the playlet is as follows:

Patrick Casey — Herbert Warren
Mrs. Casey — Mrs. Leslie Reeves
Patrick, their son — Norman Thompson
Mary, their daughter — Miss Florence Harvey
J. R. Tucker, Realtor — Russell H. Stiles
Angels — John W. Marshall, Mrs. Dugan — Miss Anna Yerkes

Angels and Mr Casey are workers in the construction of the Broad street subway, while the son, Patrick, works "way down town in a big lawyer's office."

The playlet is full of Irish wit and humor as well as some pathos and it is expected to be presented tonight before a large audience.

ANNUAL CAKE SALE

The Needlework Guild will hold its annual cake sale in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Saturday, March 26th.

Are you interested? Will you help? Phone to Mrs. Shill, Riverton 17-W, if you will donate something, or if you wish to engage a

MUELLER—STORICKS

A very pretty but quiet wedding was performed by the Rev. William M. Erhard at the Lutheran parsonage Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Virginia Storicks, of 734 Highland avenue, Palmyra, became the bride of George Edmund Mueller, of 5th and Huelings avenue, Riverside.

The best man was Joseph Brown, of Florida, and Miss Etta Biskman, of Palmyra, was bridesmaid.

The happy young couple spent their honeymoon at Atlantic City and will reside at 432 Stevens street, Camden.

COUNCIL MEETING

A regular meeting of the Riverton Borough Council will be held at the fire house at 8 o'clock of this (Thursday) evening.

PROGRESS

Pensauken Approves Improvements to Cost $65,000

Progress in Pensauken Township took another forward stride at the meeting of the township committee last week. Ordinances passed providing for several additional miles of concrete paving, and for the construction of an incinerating plant. The estimated cost of the incinerating plant, including the purchase of the property on which it will be built, is $65,000.

It is planned to erect the plant on a site containing approximately eleven acres, at present the property of the Merchantville-Pensauken Water Commission. This is situated on Park avenue, along the Pensauken creek, and according to members of the committee, is admirably fitted for the purpose. It is marsh land and contains a deep ravine on which the ash, which is approximately four percent of the refuse burned, may be deposited.

Palmyra's Rate Up; Riverton's is Down

Palmyra's 1927 tax rate is $4.78, an increase of 18c over 1926. Riverton's rate drops from $4.15 to $3.96. Cinnaminson increases from $3.00 to $3.38.

According to figures supplied by the Burlington County Board of Taxation, Lenola, in Moorestown Township, will have the highest tax rate in the county this year. The Moorestown rate, which has increased from $3.82 on the hundred dollars' valuation to $4.10 this year, is only part of the sum which property owners in Lenola have to pay. In addition, they have a district assessment of $2.70, which brings the Lenola rate up to $6.80.

The next highest is Willingboro Township, with a rate of $6.13. Last year the rate was $4.92. Part of the town of Rancocas is included in Willingboro.

Bordentown Township has the lowest rate in the county, $1.85. This has been true of the township for several years. The township has no school buildings to maintain, no fire department to support, and not much of anything else to look over. Franchise taxes supply enough for current expenses.

The total valuation in the county on which the taxation is based is $67,718,380. Last year it was $64,951,752. The rates for the entire county follows:

EMPLOYERS OF CHILDREN MUST OBSERVE THE LAW

Riverton School Authorities Will Act Where Children Are Working Illegally

ONE BOY STARTS AT THREE IN MORNING

At the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education, Monday night, Murray C. Boyer, chairman of the committee to consider the question of enlarging the Riverton public school or providing in some way increased facilities for school work, presented a report which was received and filed. The other members of the committee are Mrs. O. C. Miller and Daniel M. Clifton.

President Kipp, who was presiding at his last meeting before retiring from office, pointed out the necessity for giving the various plans proposed very careful consideration in view of possibilities which may not be very clear at this time. He pointed out, as he had done several times before, the probability that in the not distant future a tract of considerable size now used for commercial purposes within the borough limits would be opened for home sites. When this happens, he said, it will mean a very considerable increase in school enrollment.

Must Look to Future

Miss Chew, supervising principal, said that while she had asked for four rooms and an auditorium to meet the requirements of the present and the immediate future, she did not want her recommendations to be anything of a determining factor when the board finally decided what should be done. Miss Chew further explained by saying that while present arrangements in the school were merely makeshifts, the work was progressing satisfactorily and it might not be advisable to spend any considerable amount of money just at this time in providing more room if in the very near future changed conditions would render inadequate any addition to the school plan which might be built at this time.

Miss Chew pointed out that it must be borne in mind in speaking of school facilities that Riverton is a part of the community between Burlington and Palmyra and that changing conditions in other parts of this neighborhood might vitally affect school requirements in Riverton. A realignment of municipal boundaries might make it more desirable within the next few years to buy a larger plot of ground and erect an entirely new building than to add to the present one and buy the adjacent property to secure sufficient space for play grounds.

How to Get Together

Francis H. Elwell, the new member who was re-elected at the annual meeting to fill the unexpired term of J. Wilson Sylvester, inquired as to what steps had been taken to get together with Cinnaminson township in the matter of school facilities. Mrs. Miller replied that while several attempts recently made had resulted in nothing definite, she thought it was inevitable that some plan must be worked out within the next few years.

Miss Chew's Report

The highest percentage of attendance was in the 8th grade, 97.8%, and next highest in the 7th B grade, 97%. There was no tardiness in grades 1a, 3, 5b, 6, 7a, nor 7b.

Conditions have been good during the past two months. While a number of the children have been absent on account of illness, there has been no epidemic. A few light cases of whooping cough have been reported, but most of the illness has been due to colds.

On January 31st, a meeting of Supervising Officials and teachers of Physical Training was called to Mount Holly by the County Superintendent at which time Miss Ethel A. Greenup, Assistant Director of Physical Training and Hygiene spoke on the need of interpreting our course of study from the standpoint of health and citizenship, rather than the standpoint of preparation for military training, as was done immediately after the war. She advocated weighing the children every month and measuring twice a year, but said no special treatment was necessary unless a child was 7% under weight or 10% overweight. The subject of Health is receiving especial emphasis in all organizations dealing with children.

The Parent-Teacher Associations are urging the Summer Round-Up, a movement to have every child who will enter school in September examined in early summer, in time to have all defects corrected before enrollment in school.

School Nurse Necessary

The school nurse for follow up work is now considered essential for giving continuity to the health work of the school. There is little doubt in my mind that the attendance in our Kindergarten and First Grades could be increased considerably and in other grades helped by more definite follow-up measures.

A list of books has been posted in all the rooms of the Grammar Grades 5—8 and also in 4th grade. Book shelves have also been introduced in the Primary Grades. Children are expected to do some reading besides their text books and credit is given for reading of listed books outside of school. The Librarian of Riverton Public Library, Miss Campbell, has been most helpful in her co-operation.

Cooperation With Normal School

Four teachers were sent to us February 1st for training, two for their first year's and two for their second year's work. Their assignment was as follows:

Kindergarten—Miss Parker, Miss Mildred Olsen.
Grade 4—Miss Paulding, Miss Ruth Neville.
Grade 5—Mrs. Murgatroyd, Miss Margaret Chard.
Grade 6—Mrs. Bush, Miss Harriet Reiners.

LIONS ROAR

Six "Old Timers" Entertained By Palmyra Club

Palmyra Lions entertained six "Old Timers" at their weekly luncheon Tuesday evening.

The special guests of the evening were "Dad" Davison, John Saar, Ferdinand Sell, Charles Snyder and Benjamin Pine.

The club sang lustily under the direction of "Tail Twister" Frank Kates and the special quartette, composed of George Rogers, Bill Lynch, Doc Bauer and Rex McCrosson, rendered some tuneful numbers. To give a tony touch to the musical program, George Rogers sang a solo that received much applause.

Raymond Warner and John H. Ellis embarked upon their cubdom in the Palmyra den at this meeting.

The newly adopted closing ceremony was conducted by Tail Twister Kates, and, My, how those Lions did roar.

Suspects Pursued by Police Car

Director Williams and Officer Chase Three Men In Buick Touring

Following the robbery of Mrs. Alfred Smith's store, Wednesday night of last week, another attempt was made Thursday night but the burglars did not get in. Again Friday night three men in a Cadillac touring car drove up Church Lane with their lights out, but were apparently frightened off by the unexpected appearance of the police car.

Officer Quigley had just returned from a fruitless search with Wilbur Jones for the father of Jones, who had been missing since early afternoon, and Director of Public Safety Williams and the officer got in the police car to make the regular tour of the town. When the police car turned into Church Lane from Broad street a car with the lights out was seen feeling its way in the darkness up Church Lane having turned in from Lippincott avenue.

When the men in the strange car saw the police car coming they switched on their headlights, apparently in an attempt to blind the officers by the glare. Quickly switching off the lights again, the car backed rapidly out of Church Lane and sped down Fourth street to Lippincott avenue, turning left and reaching Broad street in a few seconds, then heading for Camden with the police in hot pursuit. Director Williams blew his police whistle to notify the Palmyra officers who, while they were too late to head off the fleeing car, joined in the chase.

Freight Blocks Officers

At West Palmyra the fugitives dashed across the track in front of a fast freight which barely missed striking them, and cut off the pursuit of the officers. After the train passed a search was made in the immediate vicinity but the Cadillac had made its escape.

Monday night it was thought the same trio or members of the same gang were again in Riverton, this time in a Buick roadster which it was afterward learned was stolen from Merchantville. About 9.30 the Buick passed the traffic booth at a high speed and was blown by by Benjamin Wills, the new police officer. Instead of stopping, the driver "stepped on it" and made a get-away. The officer gave chase in Thomas Downs' car but the Buick easily escaped.

An unusual number of strangers have been seen in town during the last two weeks. One day recently two men representing themselves as Philadelphia policemen called at a house in Riverton and told an incoherent tale about a collision, and attempted to collect a sum of money. While the conversation was going on they were making good use of their eyes by scrutinizing the interior of the house, the door locks, window fasteners, etc. When the lady of the house said she would call up the Philadelphia police station from which they said they came, the two men made a hasty exit, saying they would be back later.

The Men Escape

The woman immediately called the Riverton police department and told them of the circumstances, but in the meantime the two "Philadelphia policemen" had made good their escape.

Householders in Riverton can assist the police department and help to protect themselves by immediately reporting any suspicious characters seen about town. It is not necessary to wait until these strangers "do something." If they are acting in a suspicious manner notify the officers and put the burden of proof of their innocense on the strangers.

When there is so much devilry going on it is no time to be squeamish about the feelings of any strangers of whom there is suspicion.

BEETLE LAB NOTES

Arthur Gibson, Dominion Entomologist of Canada, recently visited the Japanese Beetle Laboratory at Riverton where he spent two days in conference with members of the laboratory staff.

Previous to his stop at Riverton, Dr. Gibson attended the Mosquito Conference held at Atlantic City.

E. R. Van Leeuwen addressed the Century Club of Philadelphia on February 16, and the Rotary Club of Rahway, New Jersey on March 2. His subject in both cases was "Control Measures for the Japanese Beetle."

Wink's Five Wins From Moorestown

Both Palmyra Teams Triumph In Exciting Contests at Epworth Gym

Wink's Palmyra team dropped the Moorestown passers in a great battle at the M. E. gym Saturday night. Palmyra led at half time 10 to 9 and continued throughout the second twenty minutes of play and when the final whistle blew the figures read, Palmyra 23; Moorestown, 18.

With the exception of Vernon, a Palmyra guard, every member of the winning quintet made two or more field goals. Palmyra outscored Moorestown from the field and also had the better eye from the 15-foot mark, sinking five of 15 shots while the losers could tally but twice out of ten tries from the complimentary chalk line.

Eisley was again high man for Palmyra with three field goals and three of five fouls for nine points. Shultz was next with a half dozen tallies by virtue of two and two while Davis and "Vince" Kalinowski each hit the cords on two occasions from the playing field.

Brodie, Richie and Carney were the brilliant stars for the vanquished "Quakers." Brodie made three field goals as Richie and Carney each tallied two apiece.

Burk led the Palmyra Reserves in their 19 to 12 upset of the Moorestown yearlings. Paul gathered three field goals and two of four fouls for eight points. Conway and Sloan each had a two-pointer but the latter sank four of seven charity throws. Seithers made two of his four fouls while Freeman sank one of his two tries.

Palmyra held the young Quakers to a trio of field goals. Not a man of the losing team gathered more than three points. The count was 13 to 9 in Palmyra's favor at intermission and the leaders held the Moorestown Reserves to three points throughout the second twenty minutes of play.

5,051,962 VEHICLES

Estimates of Experts Far Surpassed in Delaware Bridge Travel

In the first eight months of its operation the Delaware River Bridge has been crossed by 5,051,962 vehicles, according to figures made public by the Delaware River Bridge Commission.

The total is almost 1,000,000 above the estimates made by experts before the opening of the bridge. In February, 447,374 machines paid tolls, as compared with an estimate of 327,000 cars. Tolls collected totalled $109,518.95.

In January, which had three more days than February, 466,918 vehicles crossed the bridge. The total of tolls collected was $148,564.05. This included a payment of $35,000 in advance by Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company.

ORATORICAL CONTEST

Blaser, Johnston and Sordon To Represent Palmyra

Seven pupils competed last week for the honor of representing Palmyra High School in the Regional Oratorical Contest. After the Regional winners are chosen the affair becomes National.

Weston Blaser finished first, Lester Johnston, of football fame, second; and Edward Sordon, third.

Many people have the opinion that star athletes at schools are not the best of students. Johnston's record shows that this is not always the truth.

The four other contestants were Ruth Hemingway, Helen Green, Edward Kreeker and Alfred Bayer.

Dr. Butler on DEBATE vs Sen. Borah
April 8

The nation at large, Republican leaders in particular, will watch with interest the reaction of sentiment following the debate between Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler and Senator William A. Borah at Boston April 8 on Prohibition enforcement. Dr. Butler's recent statements about President Coolidge's third term hopes; the importance of facing the wet and dry issue; and things in general about his party, brought Senator Borah into the picture, with a challenge for debate.

Stage All Set for Debate Between Columbia President and Borah

Regardless of the politics that may, or may not be involved in the Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler—Senator Borah debate before the Roosevelt Club at Boston on April 8, the nation is going to be treated to a very interesting discussion by two able statesmen which may perhaps result in establishment of a preliminary lining-up of sentiment or factions in the Republican party as to whether or not the prohibition question is to be a national convention problem next year.

Senator Borah's quick throwing down of the gauntlet to Dr. Butler, and the latter's equally quick acceptance of the challenge to debate the prohibition enforcement question, brings together two party leaders, both qualified to ably present their side of the question in masterful manner.

Senator Borah's place in the party councils is well known. Now, as for many years, he is a factor which the party cannot afford to ignore. It should be remembered that he was President Coolidge's first choice for vice-president running mate in 1924. He refused it; would have none of it; but had his say in the Cleveland convention and today is always consulted by party leaders on all questions of importance.

While the Idaho Senator needs no introduction to newspaper readers, Dr. Butler, of Columbia University, New York, is quite often left out of the picture, as to his place in party councils.

No less person than Mark Sullivan, highly respected Washington political writer, says of Dr. Butler: Dr. Butler is no mere case of a university president taking an amateur fling in politics. He knows Republican politics high and low and with a minuteness that arrests attention. He keeps in touch with party leaders and workers all over the country. He has been for many years, and may yet turn out to be very powerful in the Republican national organization."

Dr. Butler has been in attendance at Republican National Conventions since 1880. At that first convention he was not a delegate, but a newspaper correspondent. However, he was a delegate at the 1880 convention and also to six of the nine conventions since then. It has been forgotten generally by the public that Dr. Butler was vice-presidential running mate with William Howard Taft in 1912. This came about through the sudden death of James S. Sherman, who had been nominated at Chicago. The Republican leaders then named Dr. Butler to fill out the ticket.

As to the scheduled debate with Senator Borah, Dr. Butler states simply: "I am ready to discuss the attempt to enforce national prohibition by constitutional amendment. The Federal Constitution was defaced and deformed by the addition of the Eighteenth amendment and its passage effected the beginning of a revolution in the American form of Federal government. This is the fundamental reason why the attempt to control the liquor traffic by these means has failed."

Maple Shade To Lay Cornerstone

Exercises For New $40,000 Municipal Building to be Held Saturday

The cornerstone of Chester township's new $40,000 municipal building will be laid with appropriate ceremonies at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Thomas J. Barlow, Sr., of Maple Shade, will lay the stone.

The new municipal building signifies the progress of Burlington county's infant township. Since separating from Moorestown township several years ago, many improvements have been completed. Principal among these are the water works, at a cost of more than a quarter of million dollars, obtaining of gas for residents, a modern sewer system and the expenditure of $170,000 for schools.

Maple Shade's new water works is rated among the best in New Jersey. The sewerage, will cost more than $400,000 and will be ready for use before the end of the year.

One new school has been built and additions have been made which makes it possible for all students to matriculate on a full time basis. The entire cost of the township's improvements will approach $1,000,000 and in spite of this taxes have decreased more than $.40 this year.

All civic and fraternal bodies of the town have been invited to attend the cornerstone laying Saturday afternoon. A delegation from the American Legion will be present as will delegates from the Chamber of Commerce, Red Men, Pocahontas, Independent Fire Company and other bodies.

Charles Meyers, chairman of the township committee, will preside over the ceremonies and addresses will be made by members of the township committee. Mr. Barlow will be presented with a silver trowel following the ceremony.

The building will be ready for occupancy by July 1, and when completed will house all township offices, the police department, fire company and will provide recreation quarters for the fire company.

St. Joseph's Will Meet Old Rivals

Baseball Luminaries Getting Ready For Clash With Moorestown

The Palmyra-Riverton K. of C. Headquarters at Broad and Elm has been the scene of much activity during the past months as it required much time and effort on the part of the various committees connected with the recent comedy show to make the presentation the grand success that it turned out to be.

The St. Leo's Dramatic players scored such a big hit that their services have been requested by several councils in Burlington County.

The shuffle board sharks, rubber tossers and cue artists of St. Joseph's have been tuning-up for their old rivals, Moorestown Council. The boys from the Quaker Village gave St. Joseph's baseball stars a severe trimming last summer and the desire for revenge on the part of Palmyra and Riverton Knights promises to make the games scheduled for next Tuesday the hardest the local boys have yet played.

Moorestown boasts of having the strongest shuffle board aggregation in Burlington County and they also claim to have a pair of "Ivory pushers" that will make even Riverside hustle in pocket billiards. The members from the "Watch Case Town" at present hold the championship in pool among the Burlington County Knights.

Grand Knight Carlin of Moorestown promises to bring some of his well-known singers and minstrel stars with him to show their wares and also a strong following of pinochle players to take part in the tournament.

In quoits the local Knights have not yet tasted defeat and in this particular department Moorestown is well-fortified and promises to make the home boys extend themselves to keep this distinction.

The kitchen also will be a center of attraction for the visitors as a nice little luncheon is planned by Lecturer Francis J. Barr who is making a reputation for himself in this particular line.

BASKETBALL RECORD

Eisley Was Leading Scorer For Palmyra High

In a summing up of the scoring of the Palmyra High School basketball team by Coach Kenneth C. Dimond, Jack Eisley is easily the leading point gatherer with 86 field goals and 34 out of 61 foul tries for a grand total of 206 points in 17 contests. Eisley had an average of 55.7 in foul goal shooting.

Cliff West was second to Eisley, participating in 19 games West sank 27 goals from the field from a guard position. The flashy guard also hit the cords of the baskets 15 out of 34 times from the free mark for a percentage of 44.1. West's total was 69 markers.

County History of 25 Years Ago

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror March 5, 1902

A large shipment of Canadian horses has just been received at the Rancocas stock farm, Jobstown.

Vivid lightning and heavy thunder accompanied the severe storm on Friday afternoon.

Albert H. Darnell, of Atlantic City, formerly of Mount Holly, was admitted to the bar as a counsellor at law last week.

Samuel C. Johnson, of Mount Holly, has re-enlisted in the U. S. regular army, and will shortly return to duty in the Philippine Islands.

There was quite an exodus from the county jail yesterday, when all prisoners whose time had expired were liberated. A number were held overtime because of the smallpox quarantine at the institution. Tramps are rejoicing because of the removal of the quarantine, as they now again can find comfortable quarters there as the county's guests.

A heavily-loaded freight train was kept standing on the bridge across Assiscunk creek, Burlington, on Sunday, to prevent the structure from floating away because of high water.

Smallpox Victims Recovering

The two strangers who have been suffering from smallpox and have been kept in the pest house along the creek, this side of Smithville, have recovered and probably will be released this week, when the period of quarantine will expire.

J. Howard Shinn was taken ill at his home on Main Street, Mount Holly, yesterday with pneumonia and an affection of the heart, and died at about seven o'clock this morning. He was on the street only a few hours before being taken ill and appeared to be in good health.

The steamer Florence, which has been plying on the upper Delaware for a number of years, was destroyed by fire, supposed to have been of incendiary origin, while at dock in Bordentown on Thursday night. The loss was placed at $10,000.

A certificate of incorporation was filed at the clerk's office last week by the Weaver Manufacturing Corporation, of Mount Holly, manufacturers of leather novelties. The company will continue the business heretofore carried on by Frank S. Weaver, who has accepted a position with the Cruiksbank Preserving Co., of Philadelphia. The incorporators are Mr. Weaver and George S. Rendell, of Mount Holly, and George W. Heyer, of Philadelphia. The authorized capital stock is $40,000 with $30,000 paid in.

Concert Hall Association Elects

The stockholders of the Concert Hall Association (now Mount Holly Theatre) in annual meeting on Friday, elected Franklin B. Levis, president; Joseph C. Kingdon, secretary and treasurer; manager Edward S. Troth. The directors are Henry C. Risdon, Horace Cronk, Edward B. Jones and Frederick H. Lee.

Unless some unforseen obstacle arises, the Mount Holly Water Company will have its filtration plant in working order before the arrival of hot weather. This was stated by B. F. Shreve, representing the company, at a meeting of the citizens' committee held in the office of Eckert P. Budd on Friday night. The committee has been demanding the installation of a filter to improve Mount Holly's water supply. The New York-Continental Filtration Company is putting in the plant, which is of the gravity type.

At the Republican primary, held on Friday, there were four contests. The ticket nominated is as follows: Township clerk, Walter T. Stewart; township committee, Joseph E. Ellertson; freeholder, William B. Ireland; overseer of the poor, John Throckmorton.

HIGH SCHOOL WINS

Palmyra Five Enters Second Round of South Jersey Tournament

Palmyra entered the second round of the South Jersey tournament for Class B scholastic honors by virtue of its decisive 33-15 victory over the Swedesboro High School last Saturday afternoon at the Camden Convention Hall.

Jack Eisley and Elwood Branson were the stars that played the feature roles for the winners who sank Swedesboro's plucky five in the rather easy triumph. Palmyra held a big advantage at half time and were at no time of the game in danger of being overcome by the losers.

Eisley made half a dozen field goals and one of four fouls for 13 points as Branson tallied four times from the field and made good on all three of his free tosses for 11 markers. Holton and Hunter were the individual stars for Swedesboro, each making four points apiece, one field goal and two fouls.

Swedesboro H. S. was held to four field goals while the locals accounted for a total of 14.

This sensational win gives Palmyra a chance to meet Burlington High today (Thursday.) Palmyra and Burlington would have met in the Penn tournament at the Palestra had Palmyra beaten the Radnor Pa. team. If Coach Dimond's squad wins over the Burlington team it will be well on its way to the Class B crown of South Jersey.

Income Tax Talk For Rotary Club

H. A. Walburn Explains Intricasies of Making Out Report

The Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club was addressed on Thursday evening last by H. A. Walburn, of Riverton, a member of the Camden Rotary Club and Expert on Income Tax Laws.

At the present time, when every business man is prateically suspending his business and devoting his valuable time to the solving of the puzzle of filling out his income tax return, Mr. Walburn's talk was very appropos.

It is quite difficult for the average person to keep posted on the ever changing laws regulating the tax on incomes. Mr. Walburn not only explained the new laws but also gave the Rotarians the fruit of his experience, pointing out the many mistakes that are made and which seem common to all.

Mr. Walburn was given a vote of thanks from the Club for his very helpful instruction.

Rotarians are known the world over for their many accomplishments but they met their fate on Thursday evening last when Joseph S. Low surprised them with a spelling contest. Assuming the role of a professor of English and with a very dignified air, Mr. Low called out a list of some commonly used but "trick" words to his "scholars." To every one having a correct paper he offered a prize of 50c each. But for every misspelled word each "scholar" was to give him 5c each No doubt "Joe" knew his "oats" for no prizes were awarded but quite a few dollars were received, the sum going toward the Boy's Work Fund.

The question that remains to be solved is whether there are a lot of philanthropists among the "professor's" scholars or a lot of "bum" spellers.

CHURCH PUBLICITY

The twin papers of our twin cities, Palmyra and Riverton, are to be congratulated along with many other "country papers" on the amount of space devoted weekly to information concerning the activities of the local church. Church publicity, along with modern, highly-specialized publicity and advertising in other fields, is a powerful creative force in arousing enthusiasm and stimulating dormant desires to fulfill our spiritual and social needs.

Modern commercial advertising and publicity is an art as well as a science. It calls to its aid, artists, painters, printers, poets, writers, psychologists and many other specially trained and skillful workers. It is an essential of present-day business success. It sells service and it sells merchandise.

Churches render a "service" in human organization which cannot be filled by any other agency and the church's use of advertising and publicity is but the use of these modern implements in the general effort to make the world a better place in which to live.

There is ample evidence in the scriptures to show that the leaders of the church of God in all ages appreciated the tremendous value of publicity. The prophets in the Old Testament "brought good tidings." They published salvation. The Apostles and Evangelists in the New Testament went from place to place bring the message of salvation through Christ to as many as they could reach. They wrote letters to the churches and sent them by special messengers, requesting that they be circulated among the people.

The believers themselves were admonished to make known the faith that was in them. This is sometimes called "bearing witness," but it was good publicity. It was making known, spreading knowledge over as wide an area as possible, causing people to think and prompting them to act on the information of the Christian faith.

In all ages since the early "tiding" the church has been advertising the "faith of the Fathers" in some form or other. The Christian Church was really the first to make use of movable type and it was employed to print the Word of God. The discovery of the use of movable type and its development was a great factor in aiding the Reformation of the sixteenth century. The church really developed that art of printing, just as the church has developed many of the fine arts, such as music, sculpture, painting, etc. But it seems that the "children of the world" are wiser in their generation than the "children of light," for it has remained for the commercial world to show the church the great possibilities for the use of the printed word in judicious publicity.

No intelligent person will deny the power of dignified publicity for the present-day church. The church makes use of the highways, the steamships, the railroad and nearly every other modern invention to carry on its vital work and it ought to make full use of all that is good in the modern mediums of publicity. Luther, we are told, was not slow to hurl the ink bottle at the devil. The ink spot can still be seen in the castle at Wartburg (although it has to be renewed occasionally.) Why should the present-day church hesitate to throw as much ink as it can into the face of the forces of evil that oppose the pure gospel of Jesus Christ?

Church publicity is perhaps still in its infancy and its full possibilites have not been discovered. But that there is an increased interest in this particular branch of the church's work is an encouraging sign. The unselfish cooperation of many of our newspapers is likewise highly commendable and is a real contribution toward the morality and stability of our communities.

A GRATEFUL BOOSTER.

BRANT BEACH

"THE GEM OF THE OCEAN FRONT"

Is entering its season of greatest growth. Continued developments make the holdings of present owners and of future buyers a very attractive investment in this beautiful ocean front resort.

EVERY PROMISE TO LAST YEAR'S BUYERS MORE THAN FULFILLED

Artesian water mains were laid the entire length of the resort during the winter.

Electric poles and wires are being erected for street and boulevard lighting and for domestic uses.

Local and long-distance telephone service is now available.

The Brant Beach link in the ten-mile system of concrete sidewalks and curbs on Long Beach is under construction.

The initial planting of shade trees, by which Brant Beach has launched a new idea in seashore town beautification, awaits only proper weather conditions.

The new hotel is completed and about ready for opening, with the assurance of the management that it will serve the finest shore dinners on the coast this season.

Numerous contracts already have been awarded for pretty, modern summer homes and many additional owners are planning to build this year.

The Island of Long Beach, with Brant Beach at its centre, figures prominently in the great program of Jersey coast improvements. The State's proposed highway developments will make the resort more accessible to New York, Philadelphia and all parts of New Jersey.

Safest on the Coast

We are delighted to report to owners and prospective investors that Brant Beach weathered through the great February storm without any damage to public or private property. It is the concensus of opinion among shore business men that this fact greatly enhances value of all resort property.

You can enjoy the advantages of ownership in Brant Beach by purchasing either for cash or on the savings plan. Public and private improvements indicate there will be continued advance in prices, this year, that will work to advantage of early Spring buyers.

Plan now for a trip this month to Brant Beach as our guest, to inspect, without obligation, its opportunities for a delightful summer seashore home and for profitable investment. Write for further particulars to

Owing to the robbery of Mrs. Smith's store last week and the increase of lawlessness in the form of reckless and drunken driving, the police department, with the advice and consent of the Mayor and members of council decided to put on an extra officer regularly and Albert Wille, of Cinnaminson street, Riverton, is filling the position.

Another drive will be made against leaving automobiles standing on the street at night without parking lights, and against reckless driving and speeding by local motorists. When the fire trucks were called out on Tuesday night they nearly ran into a car which had been left on Howard street without lights. This practice constitutes a menace to drivers to which they should not be subjected and the police department will have the backing of law-abiding citizens if they rigidly enforce traffic laws.

The driver of the department store truck who was summoned to appear before Recorder Troth, Friday, to answer the charge of reckless driving was reprimanded and dismissed without fine. The man told a harrowing tale of sickness at home, the loss of his job and so forth. It touched the heart of the "judge" and while his hnor is always willing to give first offenders te benefit of the doubt it will be just as well for this individual if he is not again brought before the court on a similar charge.

WORK STARTED ON FILLING STATION

The tanks for the new filling station, to be opened by the Sun Oil Company at Broad and Main streets were placed in position this week. The work will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible and will be one of the finest places of its kind in the neighborhood. The cost is said to be about $10,000. The offending fire plug which partially obstructs the proposed driveway to the station may or may not be moved. Up to the present time the Borough Council has not been willing to consent to the proposed change of location, but it may be that it is within the power of the property owner to order it moved. If this cannot be done, however, it is apparently the intention of the proprietors of the station to work around it the best they can.

ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT

Tuesday evening at 9.30 o'clock the Riverton police were called to East Riverton to arrest Mrs. Laura Bell.

Mrs. Bell returned to the Bell homestead Tuesday night and declaring the house belonged to her started, with the help of George Sitser, to throw the furniture and other property out into the front yard.

Maud Bentley, Bell's housekeeper, attempted to gather her possessions together when Mrs. Bell attacked and beat her so badly that she required medical attention.

Mrs. Bell had a hearing before Justice of the Peace Coddington and held under $500 bail for County Court. Andrew McIlhenney gave bail for Mrs. Bell.

CHAUTAUQUA

Swarthmore Chautauqua has completed the first stage of its growth. It has proved the value of its non-profit service to the Home Towns along the Eastern seaboard.

The second stage of its development means a greater service—one that no community can afford to be without, for its youth and its own sake.

Dr. Pearson, Swarthmore's founder, has already laid broad and firm foundations for meeting the future needs of your town. His vision calls for an endowed institution which will bring to you and your children educational, cultural and recreational advantages which, until now, have been available only to the people of the sky-scraper cities—an endowed institution for the 98 per cent. who do not obtain the advantages supplied by universities and other institutions of higher learning.

New Pontiacs Announced

Warren W. Yenney Tells of Two New Types That Are Popular

Announcing concurrently an entirely new line of Pontiac Sixes with new Fisher Bodies, new beauty and style, numerous mechanical refinements—the addition of two new body types, one a sport roadster, the other a four passenger sport cabriolet—together with emphatically lower prices is the triple treat accorded the public with the arrival and display of the new cars by Warren W. Yenney, 10 Broad Street, Riverton.

Oakland and Fisher engineers have contributed body designs to conform to the latest custom-built vogue, the bodies being longer, lower and superbly executed to the slightest detail. Recessed window ledges in contrasting colors, narrowed windshield pillars to provide a wider arc of visibility, deeper radiator, larger, heavier and more sweeping crown fenders and more massive headlamps all blend to give an arresting rakishness and symmetry of body design to be found only in the smartest custom built cars.

To emphasize the inherent smartness of the new cars, all bodies are finished in new combinations of Duco colors of fresh and original color blendings to bring out the individuality of each body type. Every desirable appointment has likewise been provided in line with the advanced design of these cars.

The foot controlled tilting beam headlights which have been such a marked success on the Greater Oakland Six for the last seven months are now standard on the new Pontiac Sixes, adding to both the comfort and safety of driving. A 17-inch steering wheel with aluminum spiders is another refinement adding to the beauty of the new line, while other new features and refinements in engineering design, such as new transmission and brake levers, a clutch even more smooth and positive in action and an oil-sealed universal joint, increase the mechanical efficiency and add to the ease of operation of the cars.

As the first open model to be added to the line, the Pontiac Six Roadster is an entirely new and distinctive body type, with a rumble seat in rear for two passengers. It is finished in Lucerne Blue Duco and striped with Fairie Red. The upholstery of Shark grain leather in harmonizing color, special equipment of nickel-plated windshield arms, nickel-plated rear deck bars and rumble seat side arms add touches of color and beauty so desirable in this type of outdoor, sportful car. The rumble seat is easily opened and easily entered by means of two aluminum steps on the right side—one on the frame and the other on the fender. The spare tire is neatly carried on the left front fender.

The body of this car is so constructed that the rear section may be removed to provide space ample for a panel delivery box.

The vogue for an intimate type of closed car is admirably expressed in the second new body type added to the line—the four passenger Sport Cabriolet. Nowhere is the Fisher craftmanship so excellently revealed as in this new car. This type likewise has the rumble seat in the rear, providing passenger space for two adults and likewise two aluminum steps mounted on the right similar to the Sport Roadster.

The leather top is soft and without slats, while nickel-plated landau bows add a distinguished touch to the completeness of this car. It is finished in Cherokee Gray Duco, striped in orange on the body, hood louvres, and molding; Brewster Green top and fenders and Green leather upholstery—all harmonizing in the latest mode of coloring.

The new Sedan has a longer, lower body and is finished in a color combination of Beverly Blue Duco, striped with Ivory white. The Coupe is finished in a striking combination of Ardsley Green Duco with Black top.

The Landau Sedan and De Luxe Landau Sedan—both ideal family cars for five passengers—with the many refinements added, are expected to be even more popular due to completeness of equipment and roominess.

The Landau Sedan is finished in Mackinaw Green on body, Black top and striping of Gold Bronze.

The De Luxe Landau Sedan has body finished in Peter Pan Blue, with a Robin Hood Blue top and Gold Bronze striping. On this body style is found all the deluxe equipment that is naturally expected on this luxuriously finished style of car, among them being American walnut steering wheel, garnish rails, cowl and dash of color similar to the window recess finish, hardware of period design, rear view mirror, nickel front and rear bumpers, automatic windshield cleaner, dome light, robe rail, foot rail and special deluxe springs covered with luxurious mohair in a shade of blue to harmonize with the exterior finish.

The new f. o. b. factory prices are as follows: Sedan, Coupe, Sport Roadster, $775; Sport Cabriolet (four passengers), $835; Landau Sedan $895; DeLuxe Landau Sedan, $975.

According to the Oakland Pontiac dealer the price reduction comes as an emphatic surprise, even more surprising than the price of the Pontiac Six when it was first announced 14 months ago and which has since proved the most popular new car ever introduced. Already more than 75,000 of these cars are in the hands of the users.

The new cars are being built in the vast new factories erected for a larger production schedule.

DRIVE FOR UNIFORMS CREATES MUCH INTEREST

First $100 Realized for Fund of $1000

At a meeting of the Riverton Fire Company last Tuesday night the financial report of the last card party showed that $115.00 was cleared on the affair, and judging from the enthusiasm displayed the members are determined to reach the desired goal before July 1.

Arrangements have been made to give a moving picture benefit in the Broadway Palace, Palmyra on Thursday night, March 24. A first class production will be received and the committee in charge will announce the name of the picture next week.

While last Tuesday's meeting was in progress an alarm came in from the home of C. S. Somerville, 201 Fulton street, and of course there was the usual promptness in responding to this alarm. Somebody remarked, "Just like a trained city company."

The fire was confined to the chimney and a small part of the roof, it being necessary to use only one small tank of chemical.

Two of Riverton's councilmen witnessed the quick action of the company and highly praised the efficient manner in which the men handled the situation.

Tickets for the moving picture show will be on sale in a few days and every member is giving their support to realize at least double the amount of the card party receipts.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Social activities such as baseball and quoits following the regular Thursday evening meetings are stimulating interest in the lodge as is shown by increasing weekly attendance. Come out and share these pleasures with us and also help support the new officers for the current term. They need your help!

Be sure to be on hand this coming meeting night to learn something about the District Convention to be held in Mount Holly on the evening of March 11th, which we are planning to attend in a body. Recollections of the past conventions which we attended at Mount Holly is sufficient proof that we may anticipate one more of those royal good times. We will expect you.

Publicity Committee

NOT OUR MILK MAN

An article in Tuesday evening's Camden Courier made it appear that it was a Riverton milkman who was in trouble with the school board for employing a boy outside of the legal working hours for children, and since Frank C. Cole is the only "local milkman" he felt that it reflected on him. We are glad to state for Mr. Cole that he was not the one referred to.

The party in question is an outside concern which sends wagons into Riverton for the distribution of milk.

LUCY JAMES

Lucy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James James, East Riverton, died Tuesday evening after an illness of several months. Last August she contracted a heavy cold and in November was taken to the tuberculosis sanitarium at New Lisbon.

Friends may call Thursday evening at the Snover funeral home. Services will be held there Friday at one o'clock, and at the St. Paul Baptist Church at two o'clock.

Many folks were not at home when the firemen called and anybody who was missed is asked to take out his membership at Mayor Weart's office. It will be appreciated.

Mayor Weart is in touch with a tree expert who will be glad to attend to any citizen's trees that need attention. His Honor recommends the man and will be glad to give you his name and address if you desire it.

MUST LEAVE COUNTY

Antonio Rosales, a Spaniard who went ot the county jail last week in default of a fine of $50, after he had pleaded guilty to stealing a bolt of silk from a store in Palmyra, was brought into Court again on Friday and had his sentence reconsidered, and this time he was commanded to leave the county. While he was in the jail it was discovered that he was a "moral leper," to say the least, and Sheriff Haines figured that his room was better than his company.

children whose school work was not up to standard, I found that two 8th grade boys and two 6th grade boys were employed before the hour of six o'clock every morning. Upon further investigation, I learned that a number of children are being employed but during legal hours. I therefore sent to the homes of the parents of these children a letter, together with a copy of the law and a form of petition for the signature of the parents.

I have interviewed one of the employers and the mother of two of the boys, who are still working before the hour of six in the morning, as required by law. I therefore bring the matter for your consideration.

Following the reading of Miss Chew's report Murray C. Boyer's motion that the clerk take the necessary steps to see that the law relating to the employment of school children be enforced was unanimously adopted.

Miss Chew read a call issued by the county superintendent, Louis J. Kaser, for a meeting to be held in Riverside on March 16, under the direction of Miss Ethel Groscup, assistant director of physical training, from Trenton, to consider physical training problems. It is understood that some changes will be discussed. School will be dismissed early in order that the Riverton teachers may attend the meeting.

The action of the board in granting permission to the Presbyterian church to hold services in the auditorium while alterations in the church building are being completed was unanimously confirmed.

Arbor Day, which falls on April 8, will be observed with suitable exercises, and a tree will be planted in front of the building to take the place of one planted there by the Shade Tree Commission and which died. The money for the purchase of this tree was raised by the pupils by selling vegetable and flower seeds.

Flowers for Mr. Kipp

At the close of the meeting Charles W. Kipp, the retiring president, was presented with flowers as a token of the high esteem in which he is held by his fellow members. The following resolution by Mrs. Miller was unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Charles W. Kipp, is about to retire as a member of the Board of Education of the Borough of Riverton, after twelve years of service, eight of which he has served as president, by reason of the expiration of his term, and

WHEREAS, this entire period has been marked by unswerving fidelity to the minutest details of his office, as well as the highest personal character, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we feel a sense of personal loss in the severance of our relations with one who has won our affectionate regard by his unvarying courtesy, generosity and kindly feeling, and be it FURTHER RESOLVED, That this testimonial suitably engrossed and framed be presented to Mr. Kipp.

Mr. Kipp in response to this demonstration of regard, expressed the joy it had given him to serve with the other board members and said that he would always cherish memories of the very pleasant relations that had always existed and hoped to retain their friendship. Mr. Kipp expressed a desire that the spirit of friendliness, helpfulness and cooperation which had been so valuable in the work of the board during his term of service would maintain throughout the coming years.

FIRE! FIRE!! FIRE!!!

To our Citizens:—

Were you ever awakened by the fire siren about two o'clock in the morning with the temperature on the outside at about zero? As you pulled the bed clothes closer around you and wondered where the fire was, did you feel thankful that you did not have to get up and dress and go out? Did you think of the fellows whose duty compelled them to answer the alarm and perhaps risk their lives in response to same? How much was your own comfort and security worth to you?

The Independence Fire Company has just made a drive for contributing members at $1.00 per year—two cents a week. About five hundred of our citizens have not responded. Why? Is it not worth this amount to you to have the other fellow suffer to give you protection? Think it over!

Every man and woman in town should be either an active or contributing member of the company.

George N. Wimer.

Plan 1—(A)

The easiest, and certainly the cheapest, way of providing four rooms would be the erection of a one-story and basement building on that portion of the present school plat which lies between the present building and Cinnaminson Street; the area available being approximately 78 feet x 150 feet.

A single story and basement structure of brick, of a finish comparable with the present building, with adequate heating facilities, but exclusive of equipment, could be erected for approximately $30,000.00. The heating and ventilating arrangements could be taken care of by a small plant located in the basement of such a building under the so-called "Universal Unit Ventilation System"; with a radiator for each room. Such building would give four rooms 21 feet x 30 feet each, with a central hallway, and a basement of a size that could be utilized for an indoor gymnasium.

The space provided by a building of this type should permit restoration of the present building to its former condition; that is to say, the Supervisor's office would be restored and the Auditorium placed in its former condition.

Plan 1—(B)

In lieu of the foregoing, a purely temporary structure of four rooms might be erected for a much smaller sum, without the basement.

Your Committee feels, however, that the erection of a structure of either type noted above would not present a happy grouping, and while it is reasonable to suppose that the addition of four rooms to our present space would supply the pressing needs it would destroy the unity of our school property and never be entirely satisfactory.

The other plans presented by your Committee comprise modifications of the plan suggested in the sketches prepared by the former architects, for an extension of the present building toward Howard Street. As your Committee deems it unwise to attemp to remove the building-line restriction on Howard Street, it has been necessary to consider such modification as would bring an extension within that building line.

Plan 2—(A)

One plan that has been considered would be the placing of an Auditorium with its major axis at right angles to and its entrance on Howard Street. This would necessitate rearrangement of the present lay-out of the building; replacement of the present heating space, the Manual Training room and both toilets on the ground floor; replacement of the kindergarten and the class room next to the office on the first floor (other space being provided for such rooms on the first floor), and would provide four rooms on the second floor, to which access would be gained through the present Domestic Science room. Such plan would require the tearing out of a great deal of the present structure, and this work might delay completion of the addition.

Plan 2—(B)

A modification of the foregoing plan would be to place the extension directly adjacent to the present building without material alteration of the interior; utilizing the main wall of the Howard Street side, and providing an Auditorium on the ground floor of such extension. In making such addition it would seem desirable to add to the present heating space now occupied by the toilet rooms, which could be relocated, and to utilize space at the rear of the Auditorium for coal storage.

The arrangement of the additional rooms on the first and second floors would be substantially the same as that proposed in the plan submitted by our former Architects, with greater economy in space. While this plan would cut off the light of the Kindergarten on the Howard Street side, the windows remaining would provide sufficient light to comply with the present school code.

Your Committee has been advised that such an addition, providing an adequate Auditorium and giving ample space for all requirements of the school for the next five years, could be constructed for approximately $70,000.00, exclusive of equipment.

Such extension toward Howard Street would present a single building of T-shape; entirely symmetrical, and it would place the Auditorium in a position where it could be cut off from the rest of the school, if that were desirable for any purpose.

It is believed that plan indicated at "2—(B)" would be somewhat cheaper than "2—(A)", since it does not call for as much tearing out of the present building.

In presenting the foregoing report, your Committee is making no recommendations, with the exception that it believes that an adequate Auditorium is of prime necessity; not merely for any use which the public might enjoy, but for carrying on a complete program of school activities. The present auditorium has never been satisfactory, and while it is capable of use when restored to its' former condition, such condition leaves a great deal to be desired. If an addition is placed at the Howard Street side of the present building, the present Auditorium can be utilized as an indoor Gymnasium.

Respectfully submitted,
MURRAY C. BOYER,
Chairman.

CALVARY Y. M. C. A.

The events of the evening were opened with a game of basketball between the Y second team and Gillfillan's All Stars. This was a very exciting and hard fought game, the final score being 27-12 in favor of the Y.

The next event was a basketball game between Fairbrothers of Riverside and the Y first team. This was a close game, the Y having the lead at the end of the first half. With only a few minutes to play in the second half the Delanco team put on a spurt and gained the lead which they held until the final whistle blew. The final score was 19-16 in favor of Fairbrothers.

After the game we held our meeting. The roll was called and the dues collected. It was then proposed that we discuss Student Government in the High School. This subject was discussed thoroughly with the members bringing out the good and bad points on the subject. We were asked to keep this subject in mind and see what we could do toward it. After more discussion on subjects concerning the school and its activities the meeting was adjourned. Every fellow went home feeling that something good was accomplished by the meeting.

Aimee and Tex
Doing Their Stuff

Aimee Semple McPherson, whom New York termed "The Vamp in Vestments," went, saw and conquered the Great White Way in her swing around the country, preaching the gospel which she served up at Los Angeles so successfully. Her first night in Gotham, she paid an early morning visit to the famed "Texas" Guinan night club. Saw wickedness, made a speech, got a round of applause, then invited "Tex" and her gang to come out to meeting the next evening. "Tex" said "Sure," and she went (as shown in insert below) and both of them held news spaces on the first page of every metropolitan paper for four days. That's advertising.

NOT A LADY "BOSS"

Mrs. Jacoby Tells Why She Opposed Absalom

Speaking of the appointment of Frank Absalom, of Florence, to the Burlington County Board of Elections, Mrs. Florence Jacoby, of Edgewater Park, a member of the Democratic State Committee, says that she has no desire to be the Democratic boss of Burlington County; that she dislikes the word "boss" as applied to politics, and that her only interest lies along the lines of bettering the conditions of her party.

Mrs. Jacoby says that she opposed Absalom for the appointment because of his high-handed methods in connection with the Democratic County Committee of which he is chairman, and supported Mrs. Mary E. Burke, of Bordentown, because of her excellent work for the Democratic party in Bordentown and her ability to fill the office.

LOOKS TO LOCAL DEALER

"Motorists who buy new automobiles place a great deal of confidence in the statements of the manufacturer and in his disposition and ability to assure the complete satisfaction of the owner," says Frederick E. Rein, of the Rein Motor Company.

"But the purchaser of a used car never considers anybody beyond the local dealer who sells it to him. Car dealers generally are coming to regard the used car buyers as the most important customer from the view point of good will and its influence upon a dealer's success in business."

MAYOR'S BIRTHDAY

Friends Help Palmyra Executive Celebrate Anniversary

Mayor James T. Weart, of Palmyra, was given quite a surprise on his 58th birthday when he stepped into his office Saturday morning. A large sign "Many Happy Returns of the Day" was in his office which had been decorated by "Boots" Lever and George N. Wimer.

The Mayor received many humorous presents, several of which were questionable as to their meaning. Of course the Mayor had a big birthday cake and he received many presents too, among which was a strongbox that had a slip in it which read, "To keep your money in to save toward the high taxes of Palmyra."

Mayor Weart received many congratulations from prominent people of the county and state. He and Mrs. Weart attended a theatre in Philadelphia in the evening.

The Mayor did not let his birthday interfere with his business as he was right on the job on Saturday morning.

Mr. Weart has been Mayor ever since Palmyra has been a borough. In fact, he is Palmyra's first and only Mayor and will have served

HAM SHOULDERS

Meat Huckster Arrested For Misrepresentation

On February 16, George Gail, of 3192 Emery street, Philadelphia, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter, on a charge of misrepresenting shoulders as country hams. Gail who was huckstering about Palmyra, was selling these so-called hams to the housewives at forty cents a pound.

When Chief of Police Beck was notified he took the man to the Williams and Evaul Meat Market and on the way to the store the man admitted his product was shoulders and not hams.

At the hearing Gail was released with a warning against further misrepresentation.

COMMUNITY NIGHT

Palmyra P. O. S. of A. Plans Big Time Next Monday Evening

A community night will be the feature at Camp 23, P. O. S. of A., Monday evening, March 14. Two hundred men are wanted to attend this meeting. Several local speakers are on the program and ten minute talks will be given. These talks will be of great interest to the members and their friends.

The lodge will be open to the public at 9 o'clock. Refreshments will be served and every member is urged to attend and bring a friend.

The baseball game last Monday turned out to be an 11 inning game, 4-3 in favor of Ed. Griscom's Giants who beat Walt Lamon's "Indians." Griscom's single in the eleventh did the trick. He also had a triple and a homer.

The quoit games were won by Nate Coombs, George Strable, David Cole and Edwin Griscom.

The Triangle group met at the home of Andrew Barker on March 9. The meeting was opened with prayer. The responsive ritual was read. Our Bible study was on Solomon, the strongest man in the Bible. This lesson was taught by Mr. J. P. Ashbrook, the leader. We elected one boy into membership. We then had movies and refreshments.

RIVERTON SHOE REBUILDING
Broad and Main, Riverton Frank Barone

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane

HORSES WILL GO
BABE RUTH AND MILTON
FAT GIRLS NOT WANTED
A KILLER AT ELEVEN

William Durland, president of a great riding school, retiring, says the automobile will never replace the saddle horse. Nevertheless, the saddle horse will vanish, and be only a memory to children of to-day's children.

When the musket came in, men thought it couldn't take the place of bow and arrow. And, of course, it couldn't replace the hawk that rode out on its owner's wrist and flew up to bring down the game bird.

The horse will linger on farms for a while and then disappear, as farming becomes really scientific. The work that required three hundred days of the former's time now, will be done in about forty days or less. And the "horse" will be a machine, run by gas, electricity or wireless power.

Many good investments in this world for those that hang on. When Edward Fitzgerald published his translation of the Rubaiyat, that first edition sold for one penny in England. Last week J. F. Drake paid $3,200 for a copy.

When John Bunyon's "Pilgrim's Progress" was first published, wise book people said, "Only servants will buy a book of that kind." One of the copies, originally sold for two pence, is worth thousands of dollars now.

Of 118,000,000 Americans, only 3,000,000 own stocks or bonds. This small number of stockholders, estimated by the American Banker's Association, is encouraging to the brokers and those who have good stocks and bonds for sale.

Wages are high, money is piling up in the savings banks, millions that own no stocks COULD own them, if proper inducements as to return and safety were offered.

If you like miracles, consider this. Peter Kraus, sailor on a freight ship in mid-ocean, drove particles of iron into his right eye while using a drill, and suffered agonies. Far away, Dr. Francis, ship's surgeon, picked up by radio, details of the sailor's trouble. He sent wireless directions, ordering them to stop using cocaine, telling them how to make a magnet. The magnet extracted the iron particles instantly, pain stopped, the man went back to work.

Mr. Burgert, bachelor member of a very "old family" in Ohio, leaves money to build a home for girls "between the ages of sixteen and twenty-eight, of small stature, bright, ambitious and good to look at." Fat girls are not to be admitted.

That will was made by a foolish bachelor. Young girls ought to be reasonably fat, with tissue and energy stored up for their duty as mothers. Girls of the skeleton type have barely energy enough for themselves, to say nothing of a family.

What counts is not how you start, but how you finish. Years ago, a boy named Bamburger took a job at $4 a week to run errands; glad to get the job, glad to run. It was a start. Now, to his $22,000,000 dry goods plant in Newark he builds on a $10,000,000 addition. And men from bigger cities go to Newark to study his ways of running a business.

The thoughtless may point out that Babe Ruth gets, in one year, for hitting that ball about a thousand times as much as Milton got for writing "Paradise Lost." That is no argument. For one American that wants to read "Paradise Lost" at least a million want to see Babe Ruth play baseball.

An eleven-year-old boy, Michael Ponkraskow, ran away from home after a beating, killed a shopkeeper in an attempted holdup, and is wondering what will be done with him. It is said that he cannot be treated as a youthful delinquent, because he refuses to say that he is sorry he committed the murder. A childish reason, for lack of repentance is only one more proof of youthful delinquency.

In any case, the boy will not be executed, even if put on trial for murder. Capital punishment survives, but killing children is no longer part of "civilization."

MORAVIAN CHURCH

Albert J. Harke, B. D., Pastor

The season of Lent with its gracious opportunities for the deepening of our Christian Life and the quickening of the fire of the Spirit within us, calls us not so much away from the world, as it calls us to a closer walk with God. The emphasis is not abstinence from this or that, but a spiritual putting on of Christ, a reconsecration of life to and for Christ.

We call attention of our members and friends to the Lenten messages which the Pastor will give at the Sunday services. Last Sunday morning the Pastor spoke on "Practicing the Presence of God." The theme next Sunday morning will be, "The Closed Door;" and in the evening, "Glorying in the Cross."

A special Church Council will be held next Wednesday evening, March 16, at 7.30 for the purpose of adopting the revised Constitution and By-Laws of the congregation.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Cecil Thompson, of Palmyra Awarded College Preparatory Course

Cecil G. Thompson, of 708 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, has won a Camden Courier scholarship at the College Preparatory Institute, Philadelphia.

Two hundred and six letters were received in the Courier contest, which ended February 19. Two scholarships were offered, one to be given to a boy and the other to a girl for the best letters on "Why I Want a High School Education."

After long and careful consideration, the judges chose Miss Roberts' letter as best among those submitted by girls, but when it came to deciding which of the boys' letters was most deserving, the choice was not so easy. Both Thompson and Goff wrote earnest, intelligent letters, and both wanted and needed the scholarship.

Finally Dr. I. Zamost, director of the school was appealed to for advice. Dr. Zamost quickly settled the problem. In addition to the two Courier scholarships he offered to give a third on his own account, thus bringing the monetary value of the awards up to $706, and bringing education to the door of another young man.

Young Thompson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson of Palmyra. He was born in England and came to this country with his parents six years ago. About a year ago the American Extension Institute of New York conducted a contest through the Courier, and Thompson won first prize in that—a complete home study course in accountancy. As a result of this, he now holds a position as clerk in the accounting department of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Fourth and Walnut street, Philadelphia. The training he will receive through the Courier scholarship will enable him to take the examination for a certified public accountant's certificate.

LIPPINCOTT—WILLIS

A pretty wedding was quietly solemnized last Saturday afternoon, March 5, at the Washington Memorial Chapel, Valley Forge, when Miss Grace E. Willis, of Palmyra, became the bride of Irving N. Lippincott, of Marlton.

The bride was attractively gowned in tan crepe-Elizabeth and carried a bouquet of marchonelle roses. She was given in marriage by her brother, Meachen W. Willis and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Herbert Burk, rector of the chapel.

After the ceremony the happy couple and their friends were entertained at a dinner at the Rittenhouse Hotel previous to a motor honeymoon through the South.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. E. Vivian Willis, of 829 Columbia avenue, Palmyra, and is a graduate of the Palmyra High School and has a number of friends in Palmyra and Riverton.

Irving (Bucky) Lippincott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey D. Lippincott, of Marlton, and is a graduate of George School and is well-known in Burlington county.

The newlyweds will be "at home" to their many friends, after April first, in their new home on the corner of Oak and Zelley avenues, East Moorestown.

EPISCOPAL

Christ Church, Parry Avenue
Rev. G. J. McCormack, M.A., L.Th
Rector

Most of us are far from irreligious, and some of us are still church goers; but few of us are competent performers in the sphere of every day religion. Applied Christianity is very often a matter of sheer will power—of bodily effort. We do not need to be taught, to have our feelings aroused, so much as "to fashion as we feel." Lent suggests effort, discipline, will power. Let us use this season to gather our weak desires into mighty impulses for Christ and His Church.

"Grant us the will to fashion as we feel
Grant us the strength to labor as we know,
Grant us the purpose, ribbed and edged with steel,
To strike the blow.

Knowledge we ask not—knowledge thou hast lent,
But, Lord, the will—there lies our bitter need
Give us to build above the deep intent
The deed, the deed.

The special services during Lent give an additional opportunity to receive effectively.

A service of intercession with an address every Wednesday evening commencing at 8 p. m."

Thursday afternoon at 4 p. m. there is a short service and address to which all are invited, especially High School students. We commence promptly at 4 o'clock finishing at 4.45.

The service for the children of the church on Sunday afternoon at 3.30 p. m. will feature special music by the orchestra which is under Captain Bond's genial management. The address at this service will be "The Story of Father Time." We invite the grown ups but cannot promise that they will find very much room.

Sunday evening's service is the eleventh in the series "The Miracles of Jesus," the subject will be "The Blind Beggar."

The Guild of St. Agnes invites orders for "Fish Cakes" at their food sale on March 18th. Orders can be sent to Mrs. W. J. Purnell, Mrs. B. L. Foster, Mrs. E. B. Day or any member of the Guild.

Miss Mildred Bass Anderton who will give her play recital "Cousin Kate" has presented it in various places from Canada to Florida. She is an alumnus of the Leland Powers College of Boston and some of the best organizations of the county look forward to her coming as annual events. Keep the date free—April 26th.

Vestry meeting on Monday evening at 8 p. m. in the Parish House. The Women's Auxiliary is meeting every Wednesday during Lent in the Parish House for Mission Study and Work.

Services Sunday Next

The Second Sunday in Lent
7.30 a. m. Holy Communion
10.30 a. m. Morning Prayer and sermon, "The Kingdom of God."
2.30 p. m. Church Service for Children. "Father Time."
8 p. m. Evensong and sermon "The Blind Beggar."

A cordial welcome is extended to all.

30 DAYS IN JAIL

Theodore Wallace, colored, of Wrightsville, Cinnaminson township, was arrested on complaint of his wife last Wednesday on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. Mrs. Wallace charged her husband with coming in at two o'clock in the morning and causing a disturbance. Wallace was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace William L. Fiehter and sent to Mount Holly for thirty days.

"ROMANCE OF RIVERTON"

"The Romance of Riverton," the Riverton Chamber of Commerce film taken in this vicinity last spring will be shown at the Broadway Palace, Wednesday evening, March 16. This film was shown on the three afternoons and evenings of May 6, 7 and 8 last summer to capacity houses and those who missed this feature will have another chance to see it.

RIDER COLLEGE NOTES

Miss Alice Hardeker is now president of the Phi Sigma Tau, an exclusive sorority at Rider College at Trenton. Miss Hardeker has been socially prominent ever since entering Rider College.

Miss Eleanor Moffitt was recently initiated into the Phi Sigma Tau of Rider College at the semi-annual banquet of the sorority, held at Hildebrecht's in Trenton. Miss Moffitt is quite prominent in the social affairs of the college.

Quebracho, which holds the record of being the world's heaviest wood, means "ax breaker."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

It gives the pastor great pleasure to announce for the coming Sunday evening, a most unusual and interesting service of divine worhip, to be conducted by the young people of our church. Although it is by the young people, it is a service of worship for all ages, and we wish to the older members, as well as the younger, to be out. Miss Mellhouse, who devotes all her time to the work of the Luther League, will deliver the message of the hour.

There will be special vocal music by our choir and instrumental music. Miss Mellhouse comes here from the headquarters of the offices of the Luther League in America and we may be sure that she will have something very interesting and inspiring for us to hear. The program of the young people of the United Lutheran Church should be of special interest to all. There will be no Young People's Meeting at 6.45 in the evening. Fifty young people would not be too many to expect for this big occasion, would it? Twenty-five members of the society, each bringing one, would make just that. Let's do it!

Sunday School at ten in the morning. Last Sunday a class of boys whit seventeen enrolled, had seventeen there in attendance! Some challenge for the rest of us. Perhaps some class can report a 110 per cent attendance next Sunday. "How is that?" Just have all the old ones and one or two new ones.

Divine worship at 11.15 with anthem by the choir and sermon by the pastor on the theme "Two Commandments"—the second of a series of Christ's impressive contacts with individuals, which are given the Sunday mornings of March. There will be some changes in the program of the services, which will be announced at that time.

Mid-week hour of Lenten Meditation, Thursday at eight. The second of the subjects based upon the Upper Room Discourses will be taken up, under the title, "The Way, The Truth, and The Life" John 14: 7 and following verses.

The catechetical class will meet Friday at seven o'clock to study the first and second commandments. If any of the catechumens do not know these, it is advised that they memorize them as we go along with the course from week to week.

Monthly meeting of the council next Monday evening at eight o'clock.

Famous English River

Caesar says that at the time of his invasion of Britain the River Thames in England was called "Tamesis." Other early writers call it "Thamesa." In early Saxon times the river was called "Thamis." The Thames above Oxford often is called "Isis."

BAPTIST CHURCH

Tonight (Thursday) the Baraca class presents "Casey's Dream," an Irish playlet in three parts, brimfull of wit and humor fresh from old Ireland, and followed by refreshments. A large number of tickets have been sold; come early.

Sunday morning at the regular church service at 11.15 Pastor Lockett will have for his subject, "Baptist Principles."

At the evening service the pastor will discuss in his sermon, "Things Money Cannot Buy."

The B. Y. P. U. meeting at 7 o'clock will be led by Mrs. Evelyn Weart and the subject is, "Taking the Curse Out of Money," a good companion topic to the pastor's evening message.

Pastor Lockett spoke on Tuesday evening at the annual Sunday School supper of the Richardson Memorial Presbyterian Church, of Philadelphia. On Wednesday afternoon it was his sad duty to officiate at the funeral of Wallace Todd, of Philadelphia, one of the pastor's old friends.

All people in our community who have no regular church home are invited to share the benefits derived from our regular services. "The man without a country" is no worse than "the man without a church."

"BLOSSOMING OF MARY ANN"

Everyone in the Senior Class at Palmyra High is on his toes to make the comedy, "The Blossoming of Mary Ann," a success. The play will make its first appearance before local audiences in the High School auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 25th and 26th.

Mary Ann, a demure country maiden, blossoms forth, under the guidance of her fairy god-mother, Mrs. Kirkland, to "the life of the party," much to the surprise and admiration of all the young men in the east, especially Dickie Stanhope.

Sunday School Lesson

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D.D., Dean of the Evening School, Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(©, 1927, Western Newspaper Union.)

Lesson for March 13

MAKING THE WORLD CHRISTIAN

LESSON TEXT—Matt. 28:16-20; Acts 16:6-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—Go ye therefore and teach all nations.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Telling Everybody About Jesus.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Winning the World for Christ.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How We Can Spread the Gospel.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Missions the Hope of the World.

I. The Great Commission (Matt. 28:16-20).

1. When and where given (v. 16).

It was shortly before the ascension in a mountain in Galilee where the disciples met Jesus according to appointment.

2. The foundation upon which the commission rests (vv. 17, 18).

In order to prepare the disciples to receive this commission, Christ declared to them that all power in heaven and in earth was given unto Him. Before the disciples would enter upon the execution of this commission they must be convinced of His Lordship. To create doubt in the minds of believers as to the deity of Jesus Christ is to cut the nerve of missionary endeavor.

3. What the commission is (vv. 19, 20).

1. "Go—teach all nations" (v. 19).

This means make disciples of all the nations, not Jews merely.

(2) "Baptize them in the name of the Triune God" (v. 19).

Those who have become disciples of the Lord should receive the rite which signifies their relation to him.

(3) "Teach them to observe all Christ's commandments" (v. 20).

Those who have become Christ's disciples should be taught obedience to all His commandments.

4. The promise attached (v. 20).

Those who obey the king in evangelizing the world have the promise of His unfailing presence.

II. Forbidden by the Holy Spirit to Preach in Asia Minor (Acts 16:6-8).

The inclination of Paul and his companions was to tarry in Asia Minor preaching the Word, but contrary to their inclination they were hurried along. We have here a fine lesson on divine guidance. The Holy Spirit is just as active and faithful in closing doors as in opening them. "The steps of a man as well as the steps of good men are ordered of the Lord." We ought as truly to recognize God's hand in the "shuttins" as in the "open-ons."

III. The Call to Macedonia (Acts 16:9-12).

The gospel having broken the confines of the Jewish city and country, the middle wall of partition having been abolished, the time has come for it to leap across the Aegean sea and begin its conquest on another continent.

1. The vision (v. 9).

Being hemmed in on all sides, a vision was given to Paul of a man of Macedonia pleading for help. This made plain to him the closed doors about him. In finding the divine will, we should look both ways.

2. The advance (vv. 10-12).

As soon as the divine way was known they moved forward therein.

IV. The First Convert in Europe (vv. 13-15).

The devout people were accustomed to worship by the riverside. To this humble gathering Paul came and preached to the women assembled there. A certain woman from Thyatira named Lydia, a proselyte, believed his message and was baptized.

The steps in Lydia's conversion are worthy of note for they are typical:

1. Attendance at the place of worship (v. 13).

Usually those whom God is calling are found at the place of prayer.

2. Listening to the preaching of the Word of God (vv. 13, 14).

The instrument used in the conversion of sinners is the Word of God (Rom. 10:17).

3. Her heart was opened by the Lord (v. 14).

Only the Lord can convert a soul. It is our business to preach the Word of God, and it is God's business to open the heart of the inquirer.

4. She was baptized (v. 15).

Every one whose heart the Lord has opened desires to confess Him in baptism.

5. Her household believed (v. 15).

When one is converted those in the home will find it out.

6. Practiced hospitality (v. 15).

Those who have experienced God's saving grace are thus disposed to have part in His work by rendering aid to His ministers.

Pursuit of Happiness

Many people are on the wrong scent in pursuit of happiness. They think it consists in having and getting, and being served by others. It consists in giving and in serving others.—Herald of Gospel Liberty.

Salvation

Salvation is not from you, nor in you, nor by you, nor of you, but only in Christ, and by Christ, and of Christ, but, thanks be to God, is for you.—Central Bible Hall Record.

County Leader in Growth of Shore

History of Resort Development Holds Many Burlington County Names

History of New Jersey seashore cities repeats itself in the growth of new resorts on Long Beach and Island Beach, according to a dean of shore hotel men, in that Burlington county men are again leading the way to the ocean front developments. Practically every important seaside resort had a Burlington county man at the head of it or prominent among its pioneers, declares this ex-Burlington countian, whose success is written in large letters in the modern history of the world's greatest playground.

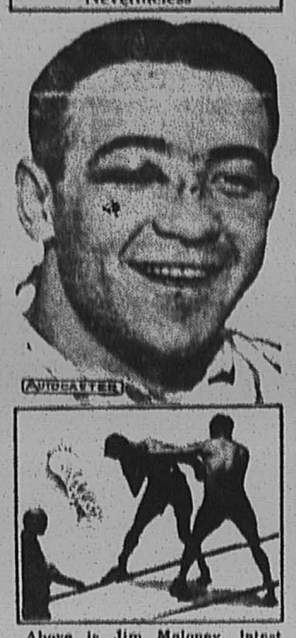

Commenting on the fact that where, less than a year ago a jungle of bayberry and sand plum spread its tangled growth over lofty sand dunes, today beautifully laid-out developments at Brant Beach, Surf City and Ortley Beach are becoming hives of industry in building of hotels, summer homes and creation of modern public improvements, this aged boniface says the automobile will help develop the newer resorts at twenty times the speed of growth of the older shore towns. Improved highways already constructed and those planned in the new State Highway system, he declares, are are the greatest single factor in creating seashore prosperity.

Burlington county men, it is shown, were prominent in the establishment of most of the big Atlantic City hotels during the last half century, and their families are still represented in a majority of these hostelories. The same is true to a lesser extent in Ocean City, Seaside Park, Wildwood, Beach Haven and some of the smaller resorts. The rise of some of these men from a small start to the rank of millionaire is part of the romance of seashore resort history.

Burlington county is playing a prominent part in the new resorts. Charles B. Durborow, of Riverton, widely known Philadelphia broker and banker, is president of companies that are developing Brant Beach, Surf City and Ortley Beach. Palmyra, Riverton and Burlington contractors are actively engaged in public improvement work and building of hotels and cottages at all three places. Burlington county bankers, public officials, business and professional men form a large percentage of recent investors and home builders.

Carleton E. Sholl, Burlington county sales for the Durborow companies, says all signs at the shore point to a busy season. Contracts have been closed, to date, for more than a hundred new summer homes in the three resorts, and there is big demand for cottages to rent for the season. General reports from the entire shore district show the demand for rentable property is in excess of that of any previous year at this date.

A Punk Fight Nevertheless

Above is Jim Maloney, latest Boston strong boy, with a black eye and a $40,000 smile after beating the famed Jack Delaney in a very punk fight of Tex Rickard's tourney to find a summer opponent for Tunney. Maloney is bound to be in the news, therefore we thought you would like to see what he looked like. Insert, Delaney taking a left on the jaw.

Bacharach To Keep on Work

Although Congress Adjourns, Will Continue To Serve Constituents

The following letter from Congressman Isaac Bacharach, of the Second New Jersey District, shows that he intends keeping on the job and serving his constituents even though Congress has adjourned.

"The Sixty-ninth Congress adjourned, by constitutional mandate, March 4. Unless summoned in special session, the Seventieth Congress will not convene until December next. For the convenience of my constituents and the prompt transaction of such business as they may have with the government, in the handling of which I may be of assistance, I wish to announce through the courtesy of the editor of this paper, that my Washington office will be kept open through the recess of Congress and will be in charge of my secretary, Robert J. Bourke.

"Communications addressed to me directed to the House of Representatives, Washington, D. C., rather than to my home address in Atlantic City, will receive immediate attention and save several days delay. While I shall be glad to see my constituents at any time on matters of importance it would be better, for those who may wish to see me at my Atlantic City office, to arrange a definite appointment so that there may be no disappointments. It is always well to state the nature of one's business as frequently it can be adjusted by correspondence without the necessity of going to the time and expense of a trip either to Atlantic City or Washington.

"A cordial invitation is extended to all who may visit Washington during the spring, summer or fall, to call at my office and take advantage of such service as we may be able to render.

"I wish at this time to bring to the attention of the widows of Civil War veterans the passage of an act which gives to those widows who have reached the age of seventy-five years, an increase of pension to forty dollars per month. No other general pension legislation affecting Civil War widows was enacted. It is not necessary to file an application to get the increased amount. It will be included in the first available pension check.

"Because of the many who will benefit by this legislation, it will take some time for the Pension Bureau to make the adjustments in the pension checks. It is possible that this will be done with the payment due in April or May. It will only delay matters to write letters to the Pension Office, so I ask those who are entitled to the increase to be patient and wait at least until they receive their May checks before making inquiry as to why they do not get the increase.

"ISAAC BACHARACH."

JOHN W. HARRIS

John W. Harris, aged 82 years, formerly of Mount Holly, died at the private sanitorium of Samuel Martin, at Vincentown on Tuesday of last week, following a physical and mental breakdown which has made him an invalid for the past two years or more.

The deceased was well-known in all parts of Burlington county, coming originally from Harrisville, near Batsto, where his family owned and operated a large paper mill. For a number of years he was engaged in surveying and conveyancing, being for a long time employed by the Joseph Wharton estate in looking after its large pineland interests.

Later, he was engaged as a search clerk at the county clerk's office and he was also the organizer and principal stockholder in the Burlington County Search Company, which was sold recently. At one time he was a member of the firm of Worrell & Harris, wholesale and retail tobacco dealers, but later sold his interests in this business when the South Jersey Tobacco Company was formed.

His widow, Mrs. Amelia Lynn Harris, of Merchantville, was at his bedside when he passed away.

The funeral was held Saturday from the funeral parlors of Edward R. Cline, at Vincentown, at 12 o'clock, and interment was made in the Harris family plot at New Gretna.

Besides his widow who is his second wife, he is survived by the following children of his first wife: Lieut. Jerome H. Harris, of Denver; Howard Harris, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Bessie Diehl, of New York, and Mrs. Anna Vanheyveer, of North Jersey.

Automatic Electric and Gas Appliances Put New Face on Whole Home-making System

Cooking With the Oven Heat Regulator

This device measures heat accurately, and when ingredients are correctly proportioned and mixed, guess work in cooking is eliminated and successful results are sure.

With the regulator it's possible to cook an entire meal in the oven, sure of an unvarying temperature; it's possible to bake cakes, biscuits, pastry with uniform success every time.

Best of all, with the heat of her oven assured, and the time necessary to cook the particular dish she is preparing certain, the home-maker is relieved from constant duty in the kitchen and has leisure for other duties or recreation.

The regulator is simple to use. The oven burner is lighted in the usual way and the regulator dial hand set at the degree recommended in the recipe.

The finest types of oven heat regulator gas ranges are shown at Public Service. Shown, too, are many smaller improvements such as utensil drawers, enamel oven linings, attractive easy-to-clean finishes.

Every range sold at Public Service has a convenient top burner lighter.

Public Service will deliver and connect any oven heat regulator gas range selected on payment of one dollar, a year is allowed to complete payment. Liberal allowance is made for customer's old cook stove.

Dry Cold Best For Food Storage

"Will it keep?" is frequently the worried question of the home-maker who, having purchased fine food at a high price, realizes that her refrigerator is not to be depended upon.

Stored in Kelvinator (automatic electric refrigeration) the housekeeper knows that even the most perishable of foods will keep long and that its flavor will be improved.

Kelvinator maintains a dry cold atmosphere that is ideal for food preservation.

A Kelvinator cabinet, unished in gray or white enamel, makes a pleasing addition to kitchen equipment, and, because it can be placed in the kitchen, saves the housekeeper many steps.

Kelvinator can also be applied to any square refrigerator that is in good condition. Kelvinator has an ice-making compartment, where convenient-sized cubes of ice are made for table use.

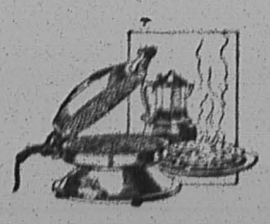

Kelvinator prices are surprisingly low and Public Service stores have attractive terms, whereby a small sum down with seventeen months to pay will install the Kelvinator in the customer's home.

Lamps Low-Priced At Season's End

Lamps and shades and price discounts go together at this time of year, and it's possible to find what's suitable now at a fraction of former prices.

Big lamps and little ones, floor and table styles, shades of silk or parchment, are selling at one-third off their usual price at Public Service—only one of a kind in most instances, but plenty to choose from.

Items of particular interest are the parchment shades in many sizes, colors and styles; the Colonial lamps in pewter or glass, appropriately shaded—also a large group of floor and table lamps of various attractive designs.

For the Leisurely Sunday Breakfast

What could be more desired than waffles, golden-brown, crisp-edged, and a-drip with butter or golden syrup? Add to waffles, bacon broiled dry, perhaps.

Public Service stores are selling attractive electric waffle irons with batter pitcher, syrup jug and tray for $16.95.

Electric waffle irons without other equipment range in price from $9 to $16.

An Automatic Toaster

During March the Westinghouse Electric Turn-over Toaster is on sale at Public Service stores for $5.45—and may be purchased on terms of $1.00 down—and $1.00 a month.

Ideals in Cleanliness

It is at this time of year that America prepares to clean house—that is, feminine America. Spring cleaning is said to be an American tradition, a manifestation of our native cleanliness.

As every housewife knows, living up to her ideals of cleanliness is a big task at spring housecleaning time. Therefore she calls upon gas service with its automatic storage water heater, its gas range that will cook food while she's busy with other things. While for the bumper washings and ironings that housecleaning produces, she turns to electricity with its washing and ironing services. Electricity will scrub the floors, clean the rugs, bring light into dark corners and make cleaning easier.

In every phase of housekeeping automatic electric and gas servants are showing the home-maker a shorter and pleasanter way.

Electric Percolator Improves Coffee

A stately electric coffee urn with tray, cream pitcher and sugar bowl is on sale at Public Service moderately priced at $17.75. The percolator is made by Manning Bowman, and the complete set is gracefully turned and attractive in finish.

A more pleasing gift for an April bride would be hard to find.

Ada Bessie Swann's Lenten Suggestion

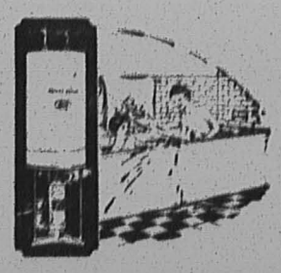

"Watercress and a slice of lemon should be added to all fish dishes if only for looks' sake," says Ada Bessie Swann. "Many of us find that they bring a delightful flavor, too."

Baked Fillet of Sole

1½ pounds fish
¾ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper

Clean and bone fish. Season with salt and pepper. Cut into strips 5 inches long and 2 inches wide. Roll up tight like jelly roll and fasten with toothpick. Brush over with oil or butter substitute and sprinkle with bread crumbs. Place in oiled baking pan and bake in a moderately hot oven, 375 degrees, 30 minutes. Serve with Tomato Sauce.

Slice tomatoes ¼ inch thick. Season, dip in crumbs, egg and crumbs again and saute in hot fat until browned and crisp.

Hot Water Lack Often Annoying

It's particularly aggravating to have cold water pour out of a faucet plainly marked hot, especially if this happens during the hurried getting-away hour in the morning.

A gas automatic storage water heater of adequate capacity will keep steaming hot water always on tap in your home. Each a heater consumes gas only as it is needed. The gas goes on and is shut off (except for a tiny pilot light) without attention from anyone.

On payment of one dollar with order Public Service will install a gas automatic storage water heater. The price may be divided into eighteen parts and paid monthly beginning May first.

Mazdas for Replacements

Mazda lamps are good soldiers. Many of them work long bright hours after they have reached the veteran age. When Mazda lamps retire from service they do so without warning. It's well to have a supply on hand for such emergencies.

Mazda lamps in many styles and sizes are for sale at all Public Service stores; four for a dollar.

Keystone Automobile Club Protests "Slaughter of the Innocents"

"Save the Children" is the slogan adopted by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey in its campaign among motorists for reduction of the fearful toll of child life through automobile accidents.

"More than 800 children were killed in the United States last year by motor vehicles," says a statement of the club. "Many of the victims were city children, but towns and villages are represented in the list, showing that the accident hazard is universal.

"There is only one answer to the question raised by this growing mortality rate, and that is more and more caution by motorists and increasing care by parents and teachers, whose duty it is to inculcate safety habits in children.

"Childhood is irresponsible. No motorist can afford to assume that a child playing on the sidewalk will remain there until the car passes. He should be on the alert, with his car under such control that it may be stopped instantly.

"As a safety measure the Keystone Automobile Club has placed thousands of signs in the vicinity of school houses, warning motorists of the approach to a school zone. Many more will be erected during the year. While these signs unquestionably have a beneficial effect, they are of no avail in the case of the reckless driver, who dashes along without regard to the safety of others. Curbing recklessness, keeping the automobile in good repute, and conserving child life are three of the major functions of the club."

Assembly News

Friday, March 4th, Mrs. Wheeler of New Brunswick gave us a talk on "Indians." Many interesting facts were told that were unknown to the audience. Monday the fifth grade gave a play called "The Belt of Atri" Marie Zimmerman and Jack Geiss played piano solos. The Eighth Grade is going to present slides in assembly soon.

Our Dutch Project

March is a windy month, so we are studying about Holland. We have a Dutch village on our sand table. We have little Dutch Cleanser ladies, houses and windmills on our front board. We are learning to spell many words that the Dutch children use.

March Winds

I

The March winds are coming,
Oh what shall we do,
Because they are blowing
And coming right through.
There are blowing very hard,
And Oh is the door barred?
"Why yes" came the answer,
From the merry dancer.

II

The wind is blowing and it's snowing,
We hear the wind through the cracks of the window,
We see it blowing from out of the window,
We see on the window sill, loads of snow,
And do you know,
Look at that wee little bird in that tree.

III

The spring was coming on very fast,
But the wind was blowing with an awful blast,
But that was the only bird that had come from the south,
Although singing and chirping with a wide open mouth.

Eleanor Richman, Grade 7

Our school belongs to a great organization called the American Junior Red Cross. Every pupil in the school belongs to this great organization. This organization helps the children to carry on the spirit of "Liberty and Service." There are also some other organizations which help carry on this spirit. Some of these are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and Girl Reserves. It is important that children of today learn to serve so that they may carry on this government of the people, by the people and for the people when they are men and women tomorrow.

Archie Seabrook, Grade 8.

Home Reading

The seventh and eighth grades of Riverton School are reading one book every month and making a book report. Many of the books are very educational and give us much joy as well. For extra credit we have been reading extra books. And our marks in literature have improved. Miss Lippincott has posted a book list containing the best books for us to read on our bulletin boards. A good book is the treasure house of thought, so we are trying to get acquainted with a number of good books. We hope every one will read during the summer and during leisure time. Just as Lincoln hoped to educate himself by reading, so are we trying to improve ourselves. We know that we need to read to get knowledge; so we are trying to increase our speed in silent reading and get the correct meaning as well. Through books we can travel to other lands. We can learn many new things about people, and have many experiences in the world of imagination. If we learn to enjoy a well chosen book now, we shall find joy in books always.

Elizabeth Sloan, Grade 7.

The Life of Washington

Washington's day of birth was on February 22, 1732. He was born in Virginia. He was not poor like Lincoln. Washington's boyhood was not at all like Lincoln's. He did not have to live in a log cabin and read by the light of a fire. He had many more books than Lincoln. When Washington chopped down the cherry tree, George said, "I did it, O I did it, father." His father said "My boy, I wouldn't mind it you chopped down ten cherry trees if you would tell the truth."

When Washington was a man, he was the commander of the Revolutionary Army and was also first President of our land.

Washington died in 1799.

APPRECIATIONS

The Brook

Outside of a little western town is a path, bordered with trees and low bushes. Dainty little flowers peep out and a sweet odor of violets floats on the balmy air. As you seem to be nearing the centre of the woods, you hear a small trickling or babbling noise. It sounds as though a million little fairies were tripping over some stones, but it is really only a small brook hiding its way from a higher elevation, traveling to the deep blue sea. Can you imagine yourself sitting on soft green moss and looking on the dearest little brook? Small stones make little whirl pools in the water. Larger stones cause misty water falls and here and there a shiny tadpole darts in the water or further down you hear the hoarse croaking of a frog. As the wonders of the brook cross you farther down, you see that the brook is forked and forms a tiny island. Then it joins again, forming a crystal waterfall.

Mary Rutherford, Grade 6

A Beautiful Spot of the Casco Bay

Perched upon a rock in a secluded harbor of the Casco Bay, I hear the gentle murmur of the green pines and can see the waves break against the rock-bound coast of Orr's Island, Maine. The distant whistle of a steamboat tells me of one of the daily trips made among the small islands and the mainland of Maine. Above the beach where little Myra played in quaint simplicity stands the "Pearl House" around which Harriet Beecher Stowe wrote her story "The Pearl of Orr's Island."

Dorothy Corneal, Grade 6.

My Back Yard

My back yard is very pretty in the summer time. All the summer flowers have burst into bloom. Roses entwine the arbor, joined by the late honeysuckle. The sweet cherries hang in luscious bunches on the tree and the pears are also ripe. Roses red, white, yellow and pink are in bloom. The beautiful lavender of the wisteria and the timid little portulacas, lilacs, flags, violets, blue, white and purple, daisies and lilies are all in bloom. The grass is green and thick. It is a very beautiful sight.

Doris Hampton, Grade 6.

Hardships of Washington at Valley Forge

At Valley Forge the American soldiers were starving while the British army in Philadelphia had food, clothing and warm quarters to sleep in.

Some nights the word went around there was no meat left, the men groaned, because sometimes they did not eat for two or more days.

Lafayette came over from France and he showed them how to use bayonets.

Jack Geiss, Grade 4

Boyhood of Washington

Washington was born in Westmoreland County, Virginia, on February twenty-second, in the year 1732.

When Washington was a boy his mother had a colt which she liked very much, but it was not broken in.

One day Washington's playmates dared him to ride the colt which he consented to do if they would help him saddle it. They did, and George got on. Away went the colt.

It did not want George on its back. The colt became very wild and jumped into the air with such force that it broke a blood vessel in its neck and died.

Next morning at the breakfast table Mrs. Washington asked the boys if they had seen the colt. They stared at each other, but George spoke up and told the truth.

"THEY WERE ONLY FOOLING"

Four youths, dressed like vagabonds and swathed in bandages gave the Riverton police a thrill last Monday night. When the quartet walked into town the officers had visions of an invasion by a squad of gunmen, with holdups, shooting and everything. The cops, however, were taking no chances, and Officer Quigley and the new officer, Albert Wille, promptly took the lads in charge. They were on their way to the lockup when the boys confessed that it was all part of their initiation into the fraternity of one of the colleges in Philadelphia. They produced credentials of their identity and confirming their story, and were allowed to go on their way. They had walked from Philadelphia.

ROMANCE OF RIVERTON

Don't forget "The Romance of Riverton," the picture filmed by the Riverton Chamber of Commerce last year, will be shown in the Broadway Palace Wednesday evening of next week, March 16.

Those who saw this picture when it was shown three afternoons and evenings in the public school last year will want to see it again, and those who missed the chance to see it should take advantage of this opportunity.

Early Electric Droplights

The first electric droplight, made in 1881, by Thomas A. Edison, was hung from the ceiling by a two-inch piece of webbing that looked for all the world like a piece of suspender webbing. Within the flat tube of textile ran the two wires feeding the lamp.

BIG IMPROVEMENTS AT YM BUILDING

Lounging and Reading Room Will Will Be Fitted Up, and Games Added

The regular monthly meeting of the Riverton-Palmyra Board of Directors of the YMCA was held in the YMCA rooms last Thursday evening.

A resolution was passed and a committee appointed to make arrangements for another "All Boy's Night", a mass group meeting, to be held Friday, March 25.

Another resolution was passed and committee appointed to carry out the plan of beautifying the first floor room in the "Y" building. The room will be fitted with large large leather-covered chairs, and appropriate drapings will be hung in the windows. This room is to be used as a lounging room by the YMCA members of Riverton and Palmyra. In this program will be included the purchase of new games such as chess, checkers, ping-pong, volley ball nets, indoor baseball equipment, chest weights, horizontal bars and floor mats.

Carl Hurlock will act as part time secretary and keep the rooms open after school hours in order that the boys of the community may have a place to go for supervised recreation.

MEMORIAL BOOKS

Volumes Bought by Rosalie Roberts Fund Arrive at, High School

Last June the class of '26 at Palmyra High School donated a sum of nearly $300.00 for books to be placed in the school library in memory of Miss Rosalie Roberts, a member of that class, who passed away during that term.

Last week the many volumes of books were received at the school and put to use by the pupils in the library. These volumes contain many very attractive as well as education lines in poetry, science, travel, etc.

In June, 1926, when Leo Terrell, president of the class made the donation by check to purchase the books, the audience at the Commencement Exercises burst out in tears. Many of Rosalie's classmates on the stage also wept.

Here's hoping the Federal Radio Commission will have at least one loud speaker who will tell the radio trust where it gets on—and off.

Frederick Miller, an expert on organ history, says that the oldest pipe organ in America is in an Episcopal church at Clyde, N. Y. It was built for Queen Anne of England and presented by her to Trinity church in New York, which eventually passed it along to the congregation in Clyde. It is a genuine antique, with only 116 pipes and no pedals.

Vol. 38. No. 9. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 1927 PRICE FIVE CENTS

EVERYBODY MUST LAY WALKS AND CURBS UNDER ORDINANCE

Measure Passed Last Fall Will Be Enforced; Work Held Up During Winter

ANY EXCEPTIONS? "NONE" SAYS MAYOR

At the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night Councilman Showell called attention to the ordinance passed in the fall requiring that curbs and sidewalks be laid on certain streets, and wanted to know what was going to be done about it.

Mayor Hemphill suggested to Mr. Showell that he should offer a motion that the clerk be instructed to notify the property owners affected to have the work done within thirty days or the borough would do it and charge the cost against the properties. Mr. Showell offered the motion, which was unanimously passed. Mr. Showell asked if there were to be any "exceptions," and the mayor laconically replied, "not any."

The streets included in this ordinance are as follows: both sides of Howard Street from Broad Street to Bank Avenue, on both sides of Cinnaminson Street from Broad Street to Second Street, on both sides of Fulton Street from Broad Street to Second Street on both sides of Second Street from Main Street to Fulton Street, on both sides of Third Street from Main Street to Howard Street, on both sides of Fourth Street from Main Street to Fulton Street, and on both sides of Fifth Street from Main Street to Fulton Street.

Seeks Permanent Paving

Councilman Lynch, of the highway department, reported that he had hoped before this time to have full particulars about some material for permanent road construction. He said that Mr. Williams and he had visited Fairmount Park to inspect paving used there, and it seemed to be pretty good, but that later Stuart MacFarland, county supervisor of roads, had said when this material was tried out by the county some time ago it was not found to be very satisfactory.

The material referred to was Kyrock, a Kentucky asphalt stone. This material was used for a time by the Burlington County Road Department for patching but was discarded owing to its high cost.

Director of Public Safety Williams reported for his department that it had been found necessary to put on an additional officer to provide for the residents of Riverton the degree of protection to which they are entitled. A small town, he claimed, needed better police protection than a large city for the reason that there are so many more avenues of escape for evil doers. At night, he said, the officers should travel in pairs, as the things with whom they have to deal go in threes or fours, and are heavily armed. He cited the chase of the four bandits in a car by Officer Quigley and himself the previous week. With three officers in Riverton, Mr. Williams said, and four in Palmyra there are seven

ROTARY ENTERTAINED BY TWO REALTORS

Members of Camden Board Prove Their Adaptability for the Stage

"A little nonsense now and then is relished by the best of men." This was emphatically proven on Thursday evening last when J. Harry Todd and Thomas Abbott, both dignified members of the Camden Real Estate Board, scored a hit with the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club as regular entertainers.

The versatility of these two important factors in the real estate field was highly appreciated by the club for their program consisted of (wo sketches "A Little Nonsense" and "School Room Musings," together with vocal solos. So interesting was the program, the Club with 90% attendance, was nearly one hour late in adjournment.

Starting with the sublime, the meeting opened by a talk on "The Relations of the Employer and the Employee," which was well presented by the Business Methods Committee composed of Joseph S. Low, Ned Richmond and Elwood Thum, Chairman.

A spirited discussion and expression of views by the members followed. Many phases of this so important problem were brought to light, resulting in a mutual benefit of all members.

One of the surprises of the evening was the presence of Paul Burr who for some time past has been seriously ill and whose absence has been the concern of every member of the Club.

STUDENTS HONORED

Palmyra High School Graduates Reported Making Good

Professor A. S. Griffith, of Palmyra High School received a letter from the Worchester College, Connecticut, Monday stating that Roscoe Bowers, member of the graduating class at Palmyra High School, had successfully passed the first semester of his college work. Bowers finished in the first part of his class, not having a deficncy in any of his subjects.

Mr. Griffith says this is no ordinary honor as the examinations at Worchester are the stiffest handed out in eastern colleges. Bowers is the third member of the '26 class to be honored. Recently Cecil Thompson won a scholarship to a Philadelphia Preparatory School and some time ago Josef Martin won a four year scholarship at the University of Pennsylvania.

Robert Baxter of the class of '25 won a scholarship to a western college. At present Baxter is following the engineering course and is making good.

QUARRELSOME

East Riverton Man Arrested For Conduct in Palmyra

Harry O'Niell, of East Riverton, was arrested Sunday night by Officer Lawrence Betty of the Palmyra force, on West Broad street, Palmyra. O'Niell was said to be intoxicated. As he was walking on West Broad street he met three colored women. O'Niell expected the women to move out of his way and when they didn't he bumped into them.

One of the women, who was carrying a small box, hit O'Niell over the head with it. As O'Niell walked on down the street he noticed three more colored people approaching him, one man and two women. Thinking the ladies were two of the three that he passed before, he stopped and started an argument. About this time Betty arrived and arrested the man. When arraigned before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter Monday morning, O'Niell was discharged after paying the cost of the trial.

Rev. Lee Returns To Palmyra Church

Popular Methodist Pastor Wasn't Sent To Africa, After All

The Rev. J. William Lee was returned to the Epworth Methodist Church at Palmyra when the appointments of the annual Methodist conference at Asbury Park were announced on Monday.

Mr. Lee's return to Palmyra was in no way surprising or unexpected, for he has proven to be one of the ablest pastors in the history of the Palmyra church and his popularity with his congregation is unbounded.

When preaching his last sermon prior to the conference the Rev. Mr. Lee informed the congregation that the conference had it within its power to send him to Africa but that there was going to be "something doing" if it did. He was assured by many at the close of the service that there wasn't the slightest danger of him being sent anywhere except Palmyra.

Other appointments of interest to people of this section follow:

N. V. Sargent returned to Ocean City.

S. M. VanSant returned to Salem Church, Pleasantville.

T. J. J. Wright returned to Swedesboro.

WINNERS IN BABY CONTEST

426 Garfield Ave.,
Palmyra, N. J., March 15, 1927

The New Era,
Riverton, N. J.

Gentlemen:

I am glad to announce that you have in your town the most wide-awake young lady to be found anywhere in New Jersey.

Miss Ruth Carhart, 612 Lippincott avenue, Riverton, read your latest news on March 10th, and at once after perusing your advertising columns, decided to buy 13 2c postage stamps and enter the lists for name of youngest baby born to Burlington county parents.

She is a winner not because the baby's name is the youngest baby, but because she was first to mail a postal card to me, regarding a real baby—a very pretty one too—Miss Virginia Ann Armstrong, 400 Linden Avenue, Riverton, N. J., whose arrival was looked after by Dr. Charles S. Mills also of Riverton. Miss Virginia arrived December 29, 1924, at 2 p. m. according to authentic sources.

The baby's eyes are blue and beautiful too.

The youngest baby, whose name I received from Buddy Stanton, 420 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, is Harry Sumner Fox, a very fine young man living on Cleveland avenue, Riverside. He was born March 7th, 1927 3.50 p. m., attended by Dr. Voorhis, Palmyra. The baby's other relatives live in Palmyra, proud grandparents.

Living on Cleveland avenue likely a Democrat (or if not may be some day), therefore a dollar for him too. (I am safe in only promising to pay one dollar to Democratic babies as I understand they are nearly all destined to be Republicans—when they reach voting age.)

A silver cup will be presented to town having most babies in baby parade May 30th, 1927. Watch for further announcements. If possible, will arrange with Governor A. Harry Moore, to present to mayor of winning town this lovley cup, in recognition of its progress.

Very truly yours,
WALTER H. CUMMINGS.

Mrs. E. V. Willis President of Mothers' Auxiliary to Girl Scouts

The Girl Scout Mothers Auxiliary of Riverton and Palmyra was organized Monday evening at the Methodist Church. Captain Green talked to the mothers about the work with the girls and the object of a Girl Scout Mothers Auxiliary.

After Miss Green's talk there was an election of officers which resulted as follows:

President, Mrs. E. V. Willis; vice-president, Mrs. H. Curry; secretary, Mrs. P. A. Bailey and treasurer, Mrs. Kiel, of Highland avenue.

Nurse Scanlon then talked to the mothers giving an outline of the talks or lectures on first aid, which will begin at the next meeting.

Meetings will be held in the Epworth League room of the Methodist Church on the second Monday evening of each month. All Girl Scout mothers are requested to keep this in mind and come and join us. We are going to have something that will interest you at each meeting and refreshments and social hour follows each business meeting.

Keep us in mind and help us grow.

Moorestown Guests of Riverton Council

K. of C. Home Crowded Last Tuesday Night By Knights of Two Councils

A delegation of forty-seven Knights journeyed from Moorestown last Tuesday night and almost crowded St. Joseph's boys out of their own home, as one of the best attended meetings of the local council was in progress when the visitors arrived.

The Knights from the neighboring town were headed by Grand Knight Carlin and Past G. K. Dugan, Mulraney and Dougherty and received a rousing reception on entering the hall.

While waiting for the entertainers from Philadelphia to make their appearance some of the members of Moorestown Minstrel troupe kept everyone in good humor.

The Harlequins Entertain

A few months ago a troupe of entertainers known as the "Four Harlequins" made their initial appearance in the K. of C. headquarters and they made such a big hit that Lecturer F. J. Barr again engaged this popular group of artists to help entertain Moorestown Council.

Instead of the "Four Harlequins" six were on hand and the best variety of jokes, songs, dances and musical numbers that was ever seen in the local hall were offered by J. Schluth and his laugh producers.

The entertainment took up so much of the evening that the scheduled games in pinochle, quoits, pool and shuffle boards has been postponed until some time in the near future.

Boy Work Started

The Boy work as earnestly sponsored by the Supreme Council is to be seriously undertaken by all the Councils in Burlington County and all of South Jersey. Within the next ten days the first class for the instruction of Boy Leaders is to be held in the local K. of C. headquarters and at present 7 of St. Joseph's members have signed up to take the complete course of instructions. The course will require two hours each week for a period of six to eight weeks. It is the earnest request of the state and Supreme Councils that each individual Council in Burlington County give their serious attention to this all important work. It is hoped that it will not be very long before a permanent camp be established somewhere in South Jersey such as is enjoyed by the boys in North Jersey.

Communion Breakfast

Next Sunday March 20th all the members of the local council will receive Holy Communion in a body at the seven o'clock Mass, after which, they will march in a body to the home and have breakfast. Some prominent clergyman has been secured to address the Knights. This is the second annual affair of this nature and is held at this particular time of the year to commemorate the Feast of St. Joseph, the Patron Saint of the local council.

Bishop Newman council of Riverside has extended a hearty invitation to the Palmyra-Riverton Knights to visit them on March 28th and the boys of the "Watch-case Town" promise to show the visitors something brand new in the way of entertaining a visiting council. Cars will leave the home at Broad and Elm at 7.30.

PROGRESS Y. M. C. A.

The meeting was opened by Marshal Young, our president.

We were led in prayer by Jack Reynolds.

Frank Alloway was elected reporter.

Oliver Bowen installed the group officers.

The meeting next Tuesday will be held at Master Sherman Gootee's home.

We played a game called scouting for words. Jack Reynolds won the game.

Our meeting was adjourned by the friendship circle.

Frank Alloway, Reporter.

THE WRONG MAN

In Monday evening's Camden Courier an article appeared on page 8 about three drunken drivers who were arrested and fined over the weekend. One of these men was Joseph Goodwin of Moorestown and not John Goodman as the name appeared in the Camden paper. There has been some confusion about the name and John Goodwin who is employed at Reichman's Garage in Palmyra is not the one arrested and fined by Recorder Dellit of Pennsauken, as was the belief of some people in this vicinity.

MAYOR NAMES A. B. CRAMER

Appointment Fills Palmyra Vacancy Caused by Beahn's Resignation

BONDS ARE AWARDED TO R. WAPLES and CO.

Arthur B. Cramer, of Broad and Walnut Streets, has been appointed Palmyra Borough Councilman to succeed Councilman Warren Beahn, who recently resigned owing to his removing to Chicago.

The appointment was announced at Council meeting Tuesday evening and was unanimously approved. Mr. Cramer has lived in Palmyra for several years, having moved here from Delanco. He is a traveling salesman in nearby territory and is well known and highly respected. Councilman Cramer is chairman of the finance and ordinance committees.

The first business of council was the award of the issue of improvement bonds for various work done last year to Rufus Waples & Co., of Philadelphia, who are represented in Palmyra by Theo. L. Morris, of Garfield avenue. The Waples bid was $103,438.20 for $102,000 in bonds at 4 3-4%, making the borough a neat profit of $1,438.20 and giving a low rate of interest.

Plumbers Protest

A number of plumbers were on hand to protest against their various difficulties. It seemed they would get permission to do certain sewer work from one borough official and then another official would come along and order the work opened up again for inspection or changes. The plumbers wanted to be set right as to who was the proper authority for any certain type of work.

The Mayor stated that permits to open streets should be obtained from Borough Clerk Spencer and that any trouble with the sewers between the curbs and the sewer mains should be referred to Chairman Fisher or Superintendent Strickenbein and that all private work must be inspected by Inspector Hoff.

Complaints about the railroad allowing cars loaded with fertilizer to stand on the West Palmyra siding resulted in the drawing of an ordinance prohibiting the railroad from parking such material inside the borough limits.

Arthur Carr asked for some work to be done on Memorial avenue in the Schafer extension and Mayor Woart promised that the Borough scraper would level off the street without delay.

Want Concrete Streets

The Palmyra Home Development Company again pressed Council to act on the concrete street which it proposes to build there. The work is to be done at the expense of the property owners, but various ordinances are needed to fix the legal status. Council promised to pass the necessary measures.

A question about the way in which the sidewalks in the development were standing up was referred to the Street committee which will investigate.

Councilman Randel was appointed Council representative on the Hygiene Nurse committee.

Inspector Powell reported 17 building permits had been issued during the month, six dwellings valued at $25,250; four garages, $1,250, and seven alterations and repairs, $3,885.

ALBERTSON TALKS ON FIRESTONE TIRES

Famous Gum-Dipping Process Removes Greatest Weakness in Tire Construction

"Your tires are no better than their cord structure!"

This terse statements was made today by William H. Albertson, Riverton dealer for the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. Mr. Albertson was emphasizing the need for greater thought on the part of every motorist for the vital factors in tire construction that control mileage and govern economy.

"Tires are, in reality, cord fabric structures heavily insulated and fortified with rubber," he said. "The back-bone of the tire, the frame-work, the skeleton of the tire, is therefore the cord material from which it is built.

"Firestone Gum-Dipped Tires retain their original flexibility, strength and endurance with remarkable tenacity, as proved by the most gruelling tests motoring, both on the speedways and the highways, can produce. This, of course, is due to the co-ordination between vital factors in their construction and quality of materials. Gum-Dipping spans the gap that ordinary tire manufacturers leave wide open."

NEW SCHOOLS

$170,000 Fund Helping to Relieve Maple Shade Classroom Congestion

With the $170,000 building programs of the Chester Township Board of Education virtually completed, Maple Shade pupils will have the advantage of full-time periods next year for the first time in many months. The new addition to School No. 1 has been completed and placed in use and School No. 3 now under course of construction on Mill road, will be ready for occupancy by September 1, according to present plans.

An appropriation of $170,000 was passed and two wings of four rooms each, were added to School No. 1, and the eight-room school on Mill road, which will be known as School No. 3, is rapidly nearing completion.

In less than 20 years, the local school enrollment has grown from less than 100 to more than 1100. In addition to this, nearly 100 students from here are attending the Moorestown High School.

DEBATE

Judges Tie on Question of a Traveling Husband

Well! Here's the outcome of the debate "A travelling salesman is the ideal husband" held by the Friendship Circle Class of the Epworth M. E. Church at the home of Mrs. Howard Alloway, Monday evening last! "Tie. Arguments on both negative and affirmative sides were such that no decision could be reached."

To say the least it was a "howling" success and the fifty-three ladies who were present at this meeting can vouch for it.

Next week we will print some of the speeches. They'll be interesting.

BOTTGER TALKS

Riverton Phone Expert Addresses Palmyra Lions

William H. Bottger, of the Bell Telephone Company and also a well known resident of Riverton, addressed the Palmyra Lions Tuesday evening and showed some highly interesting films concerning telephone work.

One showed the operation of the telephone pole industry as conducted in the northwest and the Lions were much surprised to learn of the many qualifications and specifications which must be filled by a good telephone pole.

Another film demonstrated all the main devices which the experts had devised to aid the deaf. Mr. Bottger also informed the club that the Orthophonic victrola had been a product of the genius of telephone engineers.

The speaker told of the great effort made by the company's organization to render good service to its subscribers and characterized the Bell system as one the world's greatest service clubs.

The Lions gave Mr. Bottger a rousing vote of thanks and concluded their meeting with the famous Lion Roar.

FIREMEN'S MOVING PICTURE BENEFIT

Comedy as Feature Will Attract Good Audience; Money to go for Uniforms

On Thursday night, March 24th, the Riverton Fire Company will give a moving picture benefit to further boost the fund for the purchase of new uniforms.

The picture offered by the smokeeaters is a bang-up comedy and Ed Zisak stated that it will surely make everyone laugh plenty.

Tickets are on sale at Schneider's Cigar Store, L. Keating's and Ed Zisak's Store, or ask any member of the fire company.

Name of picture, "The Midnight Kiss," starring Janet Gaynor with a wonderful supporting troupe.

RIVERTON RATE LOW

While Tax Rates in Neighboring Municipalities Soar Riverton's Rate Drops 19c

Taxpayers of Riverton are to be congratulated on having a tax rate this year of $3.96 as against $4.15 last year which was the highest in the history of Riverton. The borough rate is 25c less while some of the other rates are higher as will be seen by the following comparative table:

	1926	1927
State Road	.10	.10
State Institutions	.05	.05
State School	.25	.26
Soldier Bonus	.02	.02
State Bridge & Tunnel	.04	.03
County	1.18	1.27
Borough	1.36	1.11
District School	1.15	1.16
	$4.15	$3.96

This reduction in rate is partly due to the fact that $3,000 of last year's unexpended balance was appropriated to this year's expenses and the further fact that nearly $50,000 was added to Riverton's assessment. The amount asked for local purpose tax is over $6,000 less than last year.

PORCH CLUB

Miss Grafly Reviews Academy's Annual Exhibit

Miss Dorothy Grafly, daughter of the well-known Philadelphia sculptor, Charles Grafly, reviewed the Annual Exhibit of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts at the Porch Club, Tuesday, March 15th. Most of the members present were acquainted with the Exhibit, having previously visited the Academy, either separately, or with the Porch Club group under the guidance of Mrs. Murray C. Boyer.

Miss Grafly said the Exhibit, containing about 400 pictures and 200 works of sculpture, was collected by juries who combed the cities and towns east of the Mississippi, many of the works of interest coming from dealers. The works collected by the juries are not always the best from the point of view of art, but those which are the best sellers available. For that reason Miss Grafly calls the Annual Exhibit a commercial show and not soul stirring. In his criticism she says the Exhibit as a whole is a conservative show with but few modernistic tendencies.

The Exhibition contains many landscapes of a high order including a charming one by Gardner, who has just been awarded the Altman Prize of $1000 in a New York exhibition. There are a few prominent still life pictures, notably one by Jonas Lie; more portraits than usual, the best being the portrait of Elihu Root by Johansen, which received the Carol H. Beck gold medal; and sculpture which as a whole is poor. The best examples in the country have not been exhibited.

Miss Grafly announced that color in sculpture is coming, as will be seen in the pediments of the new Art Museum, which is being erected at the end of the Parkway in Fairmount Park.

BURLINGTON COUNTY GETS $25,000 FROM STATE FOR ROADS

Freeholders and Senator Roberts Visit To Highway Commission Brings Results

CO. WORKHOUSE LIKELY AS PLANNED BY SHERIFF

At the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday Freeholder Charles R. Stout made a report concerning the building of the Bordentown-Chesterfield road and stated that the conference with the state highway commission the previous Tuesday resulted in securing a special allotment of $25,000 to come to Burlington county for this purpose. The board has felt that this road should be improved for a long time but shortage of funds has caused delay. The board adopted the road schedule for the county for 1927. This will be forwarded to the state highway commission for the latter's approval.

Mr. Stout, Supervisor of Roads Stuart MacFarland and County Engineer H. B. Smith, and Senator Roberts attended the conference in Trenton last week, and Senator Roberts made a strong plea in his address to the commission in the interest of the people of Burlington county for some action in assisting the board of freeholders in the improving of the road in question, a distance of approximately 4.2 miles.

Carries Shore Traffic

This road is part of the county road system, and carries a large amount of traffic to the shore via New Egypt. It connects with Route 2 of the state highway system at Bordentown, and is used by many motorists as a short cut to the shore.

The board of freeholders of Burlington county have authorized a bond issue of $25,000 for the improvement of this road for a distance of approximately one and one-half miles. Senator Roberts made it clear to the members of the commission that the freeholders felt, if possible, the road should be reconstructed as far as Chesterfield this year. The existing road between the points designated is a water bound macadam road in extremely poor condition, and was not originally constructed to carry the heavy traffic of this date.

The type of construction contemplated for the road is a penetration macadam pavement, twenty feet wide with suitable shoulders, etc. It is estimated that the entire cost of the project will be approximately $70,000 or $17,000 per mile.

Freeholder Fisher reported that Freeholder Heisler and he had attended a meeting of the Federal Land Bank at Springfield, Mass., to which the New England and Middle States sent seventy-five representatives. Mr. Fisher was very enthusiastic about the good work being done for farmers through this agency.

New Road—New Bridge

Walter W. Stull, clerk of Pemberton township, sent a communication to the board, directing attention to the fact that the road from Whitesbog to Hanover has been re-opened and the old road closed. The re-opening of this road will necessitate the rebuilding of a 35-foot wooden bridge, costing less than $1,000, and the head of the department was ordered to proceed with this work. There were two bridges on the old road, so the taxpayers are the gainer by one bridge.

The War Department and the New Jersey State Board of Commerce have approved the plans for the reconstruction of the bridge over the Mullica river at Green Bank, and by a combination arrangement with the freeholders of Atlantic county, this being a county line bridge, bids will be opened for the reconstruction of the bridge in the rooms of the Atlantic county Board of Freeholders on April 13, when the Burlington county members will also be among those present.

May Have Work House

Consideration was given the idea of a workhouse to relieve crowded conditions at the county jail, recently advocated by Sheriff A. Engle Haines.

A copy of the resolution recently passed by the Medford Chamber of Commerce, was presented. The resolution followed an address delivered by Sheriff Haines, who advocated the erection of such a building at New Lisbon and placing many of the men who are confined at the county jail at work on the county roads or farms, with competent watchmen.

While the freeholders took no action, they though well of the suggestion. Since there was no knowledge that a workhouse proposition was to be presented there was no appropriation made in the 1927 budget for this purpose, so it is not likely it will be this year. The resolutions were filed.

An invitation was extended the members of the board by commissioner of institutions and agencies Frank Ellis to visit several counties where workhouses have been erected and the plan proved successful. On motion by Director Fisher, the board will arrange a date with Mr. Ellis for a visit to these counties.

The heads of the various departments presented bills which were ordered paid, as follows: Roads $7,776.09; bridges, $5,383.86; finance, $898.34; public buildings, $25,311.34; public affairs, $2,278.02 making a total of $41,617.65.

Basketball Team Defeats Wildwood in Finals of Camden Tournament

Palmyra High School won the Class B Interscholastic Basketball Championship of South Jersey by beating Wildwood Hi in the final game of the Tournament at the Camden Convention Hall on Saturday, score, 31-25.

Thursday the Red and the Blue eliminated Burlington High School from the tourney by defeating them 24 to 22.

Although not scoring a field goal in the Burlington game it is safe to say that Jack Elsley brought the first South Jersey Class B championship in basketball to Palmyra by virtue of his scoring seven field goals and five of his ten fouls for 19 markers against Wildwood.

However the sensational field and foul-goal tossing of Elsley's was the main factor in Palmyra's championship battle and 31-25 victory over the Wildwood team in the Class B finals. Elsley bombarded the basket from all angles of the court.

The game was soon developed into a two-man battle as Wildwood had a star of the highest rank in Sam Barrish, one of the leading scorers in South Jersey scholastic ranks, who made five field goals and six fouls. Nevertheless Elsley outshone Barrish in making 19 points.

Palmyra, who succeeds Millville High as Class B Champs of South Jersey, had the team's picture in the Camden Morning Post Monday.

As a result of winning the title of South Jersey, Palmyra will perform at Jersey City in the State semi-finals against Roselle Park, Friday afternoon.

Coach Kenneth C. Dimond deserves much credit in bringing the crown to Palmyra in his first year as coach here. As you will remember Palmyra also beat Burlington in football under the tutelage of Dimond.

Hennessey Star

"Spike" Hennessey played the stellar role as Palmyra Hi scored its first but most important victory over Burlington High School this season. Burlington had beaten Palmyra twice this season.

The final figures were 24 to 22, the closest game of the tournament. Palmyra battled Burlington toe to toe throughout the entire game, holding a slim 6 to 5 edge at the end of the first quarter, leading 13 to 9 at the half and seeing their lead cut to 19-18 at the end of the third quarter, but fought back with all their power to win out by two points.

After this great victory Palmyra's big delegation of enthusiastic rooters staged a huge celebration and all but "tore down the roof" with their yells. This was also followed by another celebration in the auditorium at the high school on Friday morning.

GAS STATION PROGRESSING

The Sun Oil Company Service Station being erected at Broad and Main streets is rapidly rising, and from all appearances the company is not sparing any expense to put up a desirable and attractive station in Riverton. It is expected that by the latter part of next week the station may be in operation. This station will cost about $11,000 and will be one of the best in this part of the country. Practically all of the construction work is being done by local business men.

Ellis Parker Loses Salary Boost Case

Justice Lloyd Sustains Slaughter Verdict in Refusing Pay Increase

Ellis H. Parker, who has been recognized by officials and people generally as chief of the Burlington county detective force, is not a chief or a county detective, according to the decision given by Supreme Court Justice Lloyd in his final consideration of the mandamus proceedings instituted by Parker against County Judge William A. Slaughter, after the latter had refused to approve a pay increase to which Parker claimed he was entitled under a 1926 law on the basis of being the detective chief.

Some months ago Prosecutor Hillman recommended an increase in pay from $3,500 to $4,000 a year under the law mentioned, but the matter was placed before Judge Slaughter and he refused to approve the recommendation on the ground that he could not find any record showing that Parker had ever been appointed county detective, had ever taken an oath required of such an official and ever been designated as chief. This situation caused Parker to start the mandamus proceedings to compel Judge Slaughter to comply with the law.

Parker Has No Standing

Everything that seemed to be available in the form of testimony and documents were presented to Justice Lloyd at his home in Merchantville, and after he had gone over the whole proceedings he reached the conclusion and announced his decision that Parker had no standing under the law because he could not show the designation required and specifically mentioned in the act under which he proceeded.

As the matter now stands, Parker is not even a county detective, as the best that could be produced in his behalf was a record showing that Former Prosecutor Samuel A. Atkinson had designated him as a special officer years ago and it had evidently been considered that when the county detective act came into existence he automatically operated under it in view of the fact that he was doing county work under the direction of the prosecutor.

Recognized As Chief

Parker's case was presented by Paul H. Wendall, of Trenton, and his principal argument was based on the fact that Parker had been recognized as chief of detectives and had been given salary increases with the approval of former judges and former prosecutors, and had also been permitted to use stationery naming him as chief.

W. Holt Apgar, of Trenton, handled Judge Slaughter's side of the case and argued that Parker was without any kind of designation as a detective, as there was no record in substantiation of the officer's contention, and former officials proving an advance in pay had acted under a misapprehension, apparently on the given consent basis.

Justice Lloyd heard these arguments and after combining them with the testimony in the form of depositions placed before him, announced that he was ready to give a decision, which was to the effect that Parker was not a chief and that there is nothing mandatory about the law under which the proceedings were taken, as the Legislature would not have provided for an approval by a prosecutor and a judge for the granting of a pay increase if it had not intended to make it optional with the controlling officials.

Attorney Denied Notation

Mr. Wendall asked for a notation of the decision for the guidance of Lawyer Martin P. Devlin of Trenton, in a proposed action to have the decision reviewed, but this was denied by the Justice on the ground that his decision is final and there is nothing further to be done after the mandamus.

Parker has since stated that he understands there is a right of appeal to have the entire proceedings reviewed by the full Supreme Court and it is this sort of action that Mr. Wendall referred to when he asked for a note of decision. Parker also states that this action is being taken by the State Association of County Detectives and his case is being combined with the case of a Monmouth county detective for the purpose of having a decision on the law, they being the only two men serving as county detectives who have been denied their increases.

It is understood that if Parker finally loses, his right to a pension under the state law for county detectives is destroyed.

POWELL ANNOUNCES HIS CANDIDACY

Assemblyman Will Enter Contest Against Emmor Roberts

Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell of Mount Holly, last Friday made definite announcement that he would be a candidate for state senator at the primary election in June, and what promises to one of the most spirited political battles ever waged in Burlington County is on.

Mr. Powell's opponent is Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown. Both are high standing men of unquestioned ability. Both have served considerable time in the New Jersey Legislature and are competent to take care of the legislative work that falls upon them.

Mr. Powell, however contends that he has spent his apprenticeship in the assembly, the same as Mr. Roberts did, and that it is only fair that he should be promoted to the senate, as Mr. Roberts was promoted.

Mr. Powell says that he has been assured year after year that Mr. Roberts would retire, thus giving him an opportunity to go to the higher position, but that the promises of the leaders in this respect never have been made good. He says if he expects to reach the senate he must take a stand on his own initiative and feels that now is the opportune time to do it.

COMRADE Y. M. C. A.

The Comrade Y. M. C. A. Group of the Palmyra Moravian Church held its weekly meeting, Tuesday evening, March 8th.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Arthur Sieike.

The regular period of Bible Study was held and the business meeting followed.

As there were three speakers for the evening, the first called on was Mr. Borer, who had to leave early for other engagements, but before he left had promised to take the group swimming at the new Pennsylvania A. C. some night soon.

The next speaker was an old friend, Mr. Ashbrook, who gave us a few pointers on the lesson.

After the business meeting adjourned, refreshments were served. All seemed to like eats the way they disappeared from the table.

After this a few games were played. The meeting was then closed with a short prayer.

Temple Telegram Roundly Applauded

Comedy Produced Here by Riverside Players Makes Big Hit

A capacity house witnessed "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," in the Palmyra High School auditorium Saturday evening. The play was presented by the associated players of Riverside who gave the show in Riverside some time ago for the Knights of the Golden Eagle. This production by the same cast was given under the auspices of the Palmyra H. S. Athletic Association. The proceeds will be used for awards to be given the outstanding students of the high school this year.

Jack Temple and Frank Fuller, as portrayed by Leon Raesly and Gene Robinson, proved to the audience how one lie will lead to another. These two liars were the big hits of the show.

The play was under the direction of Harry B. Lee and Mr. Lee as Wigson was a typical English butler who brought laughter from the crowd with his, "That's just what I was going to do" after being told to do something by anyone.

Miss Isabel Rennie, as Mrs. Temple, the star of the play, started things because she did not believe her husband, Mr. Temple, had spent the night at the top of a ferris wheel because the machinery had broken down. Then Mr. Temple lies and says he spent the night with a friend, an imaginary John Brown. Frank Fuller, Temple's friend, drops in and decides to help out by impersonating John Brown.

Miss Helen Belcher, as Mrs. Frank Fuller, calls on Mrs. Temple and then the real Brown shows up and he is under the impression that Mrs. Temple is in love with him. Then the fun began, Mrs. Brown steps in and the grand climax comes with the real and false Brown, Mrs. Fuller, Jack and his wife in a grand mixup.

The love story was portrayed by Miss Ruth Neville, of Delanco, as Dorothy, and VanHuren Hansbury, as Capt Sharpe, her sweetheart.

Paul Hermsteadt and Mrs. Alma Hunter were Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and played their roles to perfection.

Acquit Autoist in Moorestown Death

Verdict of Jury in Snyder Case Comes as Big Surprise To Public

A verdict of not guilty was returned by the jury in the Burlington County Court at Mount Holly before Judge Slaughter last week in the case of the State vs. John Wiggins, of Philadelphia, indicted for manslaughter. The acquittal was unexpected by a number of spectators who heard the testimony.

Wiggins, while driving an automobile on the road from Haddonfield to Moorestown at ten o'clock on the night of May 31st last, was charged with having struck William Snyder, a farmhand aged about 65 years, who was walking across the highway at the intersection of Pleasant Valley avenue. Taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden, Snyder died four days later from a fractured skull. The victim had been employed at Collins' nursery.

Clarence J. Anderson, of Barrington, testified that he was driving back of the Wiggins car and saw it strike Snyder on the left hand side of the road. The offending driver failed to stop but continued toward Moorestown. Anderson followed and hurriedly picked up Officer Charles Errickson. Continuing the chase, Anderson caught up with the other car and the three occupants were taken into custody. Anderson's testimony was corroborated by that of his brother-in-law, William Emerson, also of Barrington, who was a passenger in the Anderson car.

Magistrate Harry J. Wolff testified that the three men in the Wiggins car were partly intoxicated. This was corroborated by Chief of Police John Bradshaw.

There was evidence that when the Wiggins car was seized one of the front fenders was bent; that a headlight also was bent and that the radiator was slightly out of position.

The defendant denied that he struck Snyder; that it was a case of mistaken identity; that he was not intoxicated on the day in question, and that he was greatly surprised when put under arrest. He said he was driving on the Haddonfield-Moorestown road that day, but had not been in any accident.

Similar testimony was given by one of his passengers, Clarence Stone, of Philadelphia, who was the owner of the Ford machine.

The defendant, it was shown, had been in the county jail since last September, awaiting disposition of his case.

Robert Peacock represented Wiggins; Prosecutor Hillman appeared for the state.

Russakow was arrested just as he was leaving his home, No. 3 East Federal street, ostensibly to take liquor to his tailoring store at 227 High street. It is said that he had two gallons of liquor in cans under his overcoat when the officers arrested him.

According to report the officers found a still on the third floor of his home in full operation. The still was boiling over a gas stove. Eleven barrels of mash also were found, it is said. The mash was destroyed.

See America

This Union Pacific "Gold Coast Limited" is crossing from Wyoming into Utah, rolling over snow covered hills 7000 feet high.

This is real American country. Colorado, Montana, Idaho, the Dakotas, Oregon, Washington, Nevada are your neighbors in this part of the world.

It looks what it is—a great and powerful country. Straight walls of stone, capped with pine trees, tower hundreds of feet above you. Telephone and telegraph wires cross in all directions. Good automobile roads run beside the track.

One stops at Salt Lake City to get acquainted with the Angel Moroni and all the land that stretches around him. Moroni, very big in bright gold, stands above the temple built by Bringham Young, for "Latter Day Saints."

Just across the way is the Federal Reserve Bank, of solid stone, and beyond towers of snow covered Oquron Range, the wealth of the Utah copper mines hidden in it.

Many things are as Brigham Young would have them and as he left them. The Angel Moroni doesn't suspect that the real authority below is the Federal Reserve Bank, the gigantic copper mine on the mountain sides, and the Union Pacific railroad.

D. F. Spencer, general passenger agent of the Union Pacific system, says all intelligent human beings should see the famous "Death Valley." For $42, covering all expenses, you can spend two days motoring through the mysterious valley on your way east or west, inspecting in safety the strangest places on earth, stopping over night in a modern inn, built on Furnace Creek. In Death Valley, you stand on the warm sand, far below the level of the Pacific, and look to the west, at the high top of Mount Whitney, highest peak in the United States.

The trip must be made between October and the middle of May. In summer, Death Valley is the hottest place on earth. During the Death Valley season, you have your comfortable automobiles.

Death Valley has everything that anybody could want — you study brilliant colors of the appropriately named "Funeral Range" on the east, and on the west the tall panamints, Uncle Sam's most precipitous mountain range, rising from the floor of Death Valley, more than 800 feet below sea level, to a height of 11,045 feet to the perpetual snow of Telescope Peak.

Picturesque and convincing are the names of places in that valley, once the bed of an inland sea. Gold, silver, copper, onyx are in those mountains. Many have died searching.

What once were black molten streams of lava reach out into the desert, as they poured down from volcanoes, dead ages ago.

You walk over plains of salt a hundred feet deep. Life is scarce there, a few snakes in Summer, horned toads, the chuckwalla lizard, eaten by the Panamint Indians. Above puzzled vultures soar, wondering why the automobile doesn't die, as the donkeys did.

Brief and sufficient are the lines here and there on wooden tombstones, cracked by the heat, a name and "He Ran Out Of Water."

The Angel Gabriel has watched many struggles in that valley, when the temperature went to 140.

Traditions tell of Piute Indians, standing on the mountainsides, watching one party of white men fall and die three hundred yards from a water hole. One survivor, Bennett, "struggled to a spring, found a ledge of pure silver, broke off a piece and when he reached civilization had it made into a rifle sight." Many have tried to locate that "gun-sight ledge" of pure silver. You might find it.

Not far away is a beautiful date palm ranch, 178 feet below sea level. Anything will grow if you give it enough water.

And across the Amargosa Desert, you travel to the "Ghost City of Rhyolite." Once it had a population of more than 10,000, railroad stations, stores, dance halls, jail and church. All still stand at the foot of Bullfrog Hill, church, jail, mills that ground up ore from the rich gold mine, all abondoned now.

This is an interesting country, marvelously fertile fields, all the climates and all the products of the earth. Other Americans have prepared the way for you. See America.

Maple Shade Plans Road Improvements

Chester Township Will Pave Most Important Streets This Year

This year's road improvements for Chester Township will cost approximately $120,000 and the expenditure will permit a like amount for the next two years. The main arteries of the town will receive the attention of the township committee first and then the less important streets will be paved later, according to the plan.

A plan has been mapped out at the meeting of the committee last week whereby Fork Landing road from Main street south to Mill road and Mill road from Fellowship road to the county bridge will be paved during the coming summer months. An ordinance for this will be presented for first reading at the next meeting of the committee.

North Fork Landing road will be paved this spring but this will be done by state aid. Several other thoroughfares are eligible for state aid and this matter will be taken up with proper authorities.

A resolution passed the committee authorizing the clerk to communicate with Assemblyman Clifford Powell and express the township as disfavoring the passage of the Public Service paving bill.

An order for more than 25 street lights to be placed at needed spots about Maple Shade brought applause from the gathering of more than a hundred taxpayers as did the promise of gas mains for South Fork Landing road and Mill road prior to the paving of these roads.

What had the appearance of a peaceful meeting was suddenly changed when Chief Engineer Gibbs, of the water works, was granted the floor and immediately assailed the committee for its action in maintaining Alfred Brooks, former water works head, on the township payroll.

Gibbs demanded of the committee that they discharge him if they were going to place the responsibility of an economical water works upon his shoulders and at the same time keep Brooks on the payroll.

The committee told Gibbs that the only responsibility he is under is to keep the water flowing freely through the mains of the township and that the committee always had and would continue to regulate the township's business as it sees fit. Several expressed themselves as opposed to Gibb's method in the handling of the controversy.

Prior to the first of the year Brooks was recognized as the water works head and then Gibbs, who had formerly been Brooks' assistant, was placed in charge and Brooks demoted to assistant. One of Gibbs' first official acts was to fire his former boss, it is said, and this action did not meet with the approval of the township committee.

Brooks since the controversy has been attending to the collection of water accounts and to any other duties assigned him by the committee.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Do Not Be Ashamed of Worthy Ambition

In Abraham Lincoln's first political speech, he said to the voters of Sangamon county:

"Every man is said to have his particular ambition. Whether this be true or not, I can say, for one, that I have no other so great as that of being truly esteemed by my fellowmen, by rendering myself worthy of their esteem."

That was Lincoln's early ambition and one which subsequent events indicate he kept throughout life.

Contrast with that Napoleons professed life ambition:

"I propose to make the Mediterranean a French lake!"

In the two the whole life story of each is contained—their achievements and their places in the mind of posterity.

What is your ambition?

If you didn't have to tell anyone, but just by wishing after you had gone to bed could make it come true, what thing would you like to do most?

Would it be to make one hundred thousand dollars, put it into safe bonds, and have an income assured that would enable you to be protected from want for the rest of your life?

Would it be to be elected to a high office, to write a "best seller," or get in the movies, or what?

Would it to have something, to do something, or to be something?

Just what is you particular ambition?

Ambition of the right sort is one of the most valuable characteristics of a worthwhile man. It is nothing to be ashamed of.

The ready idea was put into words by one of the true gentlemen of the world, Sir Philip Sidney, who, in an age of hypocrisy wore the ideals of chivalry in his heart.

"To be ambitious of true honor, of the true glory, and perfection of our nature, is the very principle and incentive of virtue; but to be ambitious of titles, place, of ceremonial respects and civil pageantry, is as vain and little as the things are which we court."

1927 is going to be a prosperous year for wage earners. There is 53 Saturdays.

HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Stone Hurled at Motorist's Windshield Misses Target and Driver Escapes

Councilman Joshua S. Bartley, of Riverton, had a thrill last Friday night while driving home from Camden. He was coming up the river road when a man stepped out of the shadows at the edge of a road and hurled a rock as big as a man's head at the car, evidently meaning to send it through the windshield. The missile fell short, however, and struck the body of the car, doing no material damage.

Mr. Bartley stepped on the gas and was soon out of the danger zone.

Well, Uncle Sam is still in the oil business; Doheny is out ten million dollars—and Teapot dome is yet to be heard from.

"IT WAS ONLY A DOG"

Yes, it was "only a dog" whose little life was ruthlessly snuffed out on Thomas avenue the other night by a speeding fiend in a big car, but it was the playmate of a little boy, and the boy mourns a truer friend than the man who killed him can ever be, for a man who will run over even a dog and not stop to offer assistance lacks those attributes of which real friendship are made.

"It was only a dog," but some of these days, if this speeding on the streets of Riverton is not broken up, it is going to be a child—perhaps your child!

When the police department attempts to enforce traffic laws as to speeding, parking without lights, and the like, they are criticised for being over-officious, charged with wanting to "get into the limelight," and such twaddle.

But, by the immutable law of averages, unless reckless driving and speeding is stopped in our town, someone will be maimed or killed.

It is not so much "law enforcement" we need as "law observance," and every man or woman in Riverton who drives a car owes it to his friends and neighbors to drive with proper care.

THE FILLING STATION and the FIRE PLUG

A filling station is a filling station no matter how fine the office building, and the one placed at Broad and Main streets cannot but add considerably to the traffic problem at that point. Cars pulling into and leaving the station will be constantly in the way of cars running on the highway, particularly at the narrow portion of the road on Broad street.

When the engineer of the gas company, who was sent to Riverton to lay out the station, discovered that the fire hydrant on the Main street side of the property would be in the way of cars entering the driveway at that point, he requested permission of the borough council to move it a few feet out of the way. Now, the members of council well knew the objections that had been raised to having a filling station at this point, and refused the request.

If refusing the grant would have kept the filling station from locating on that corner, council would have been justified in sitting tight, but when it became apparent that such action would not produce this result, to hold out longer would have been taking a dog in the manger attitude, and it was the part of wisdom and common sense to permit the hydrant to be moved. Not to do so would have been to impose a useless inconvenience on the owners of the station and to create an unnecessary hazard for its patrons.

Council is to be congratulated on its ability to change its mind when additional facts warrant such a course.

THE SCHOOL PROBLEM

Those who read the detailed report of the committee appointed to consider means of providing more room for pupils in the Riverton public school published in full in The New Era last week, must have been impressed with the fact that a careful study of the subject had been made from the standpoint of a building.

There is, however, a more imporant phase of the subject to be considered, and this was plainly suggested by the supervising principal in her remarks to the board at the time the report was submitted.

What Riverton will need in the way of school buildings, and where they should be located within the next ten years will be determined somewhat by whether or not Cinnaminson township is to join the borough under one form of government, or pool their school interests in such a way as to solve several problems that are bothering both municipalities.

The question of the new member of the board of education at the last meeting, "Whose business is it to ascertain these facts?" was pertinent.

Up to the present time nothing has come of the proposition to have the two municipalities get together because "the right man" has not been found to present the matter.

Surely, if Riverton and Cinnaminson township have problems which they can better solve by some joint action, the men of affairs in these two municipalities should be able to sit down together and talk them over—no need to wait for the "right man."

If the project has sufficient merit to commend itself to both sections it has no need of a special advocate.

And it would be to the advantage of both the town and the township to determine whether such a merger is likely to be made before Riverton does anything much in the matter of providing additional school room.

THOSE ROAD SIGNS

Asked For Several Months Ago, But Nothing Done About It

What has become of the suggestion made by Riverton Director of Public Safety Williams several months ago that road signs be placed at Broad and Main streets, directing autoists to the seashore and other points?

At the time it was recommended by the Mayor that an effort be made to get signs from the county road department, but nothing has been done about it.

But isn't this a rather picayune proceeding anyway? Isn't Riverton able to buy its own road signs?

And wouldn't such signs be a big convenience to motorists?

Cummon! Let's buy a couple!

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

We most cordially invite into our church all those who have only recently moved into our vicinity and who may not as yet have located a church home. The Lenten and Easter season is a most appropriate time for you to take the step of making a profession for the first time, or of having membership transferred from some other Christian church where you formerly lived.

We are having a goodly number, but shall not feel that we have discharged the full requirements of our great trust, as a pastor and as a congregation, until we have every possible prospect lined up for membership in the Church of Jesus Christ. It is to this end, then, that we request the prayers of all members, that we may not overlook any for whom we are to be held responsible.

Sunday School at ten in the morning, followed by divine worship at 11:15. The morning theme deals with the third contact of Christ while he was meeting various friends and enemies before the fourth Passover. This time he asks a great question of his interviewers. There will be another children's sermon in the morning, based upon a true story of two little birds. There will be special music by the choir.

Young People's Society at 6.45, Miss Lillian Hall being the leader. Vesper Service at 7.45.

Mid-week service at eight on Thursday evening. Rev. A. R. Naus, of the Delaware Gardens Lutheran Mission will be with us and will deliver a message based upon the Upper Room Discourses of Jesus. It is hoped that a large number will turn out to welcome Rev. Naus, who is accustomed to large prayer meeting crowds.

Catechetical class at seven on Friday evenings. The pastor is getting a number of new catechisms, and wants to put a new boy or a new girl behind every one of them. It is not too late to start on this course. Be sure to come and join us this week. We are starting on a new division of the book, and a new class will fit in very nicely.

APPRECIATION

The family wishes me to convey through the medium of your paper our grateful acknowledgment and appreciation to the friends, neighbors and organizations for their thoughtful expression of service and sympathy in our late sorrow and bereavement. Prominently mentioned should be the Boy Scouts, Police Commission Mr. Edward R. Williams, Officer William Quigley, the Riverton Fire Company, Mr. Coward, Mr. D. B. Coles and Mrs. Lord, P. O. S. of A., K. G. E., the produce men and the farmers.

W. R. JONES.

PARENT-TEACHERS

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held at the Delaware avenue school, Monday evening, March 21st. A musical program by Mrs. Schwarz, soprano, and Dr. LeFavor, pianist will follow the business meeting. The Rev. George Lockett of the Central Baptist Church will be the speaker of the evening. We are hoping for a good attendance,

Publicity Committee.

PHS GIRLS WIN

Substitutes Put the Punch in Game With Collingswood

Entering the game as substitutes, Miss Helen Enskat and Miss Margaret Jenkins made enough points to give the Palmyra High School Girl's basketball team a 23 to 19 victory over the Collingswood Misses last Friday afternoon. The game was close from beginning to end with the lead continually changing from one team to the other. The Collingswood sextette were ahead at the end of the first half, score 12 to 11.

The Misses Enskat and Jenkins were the bright stars in the upset that greatly surprised the losers. Miss Jenkins tallied three field goals and four of six fouls for ten points while Miss Enskat accounted for two double-deckers and five of her six free tosses for nine markers.

Miss Miller and Miss "Kitty" Burr, the other Palmyra forward, each made a goal from the field.

For Collingswood, Miss Julia Knudsen and Miss Rena Adair, played the feature roles.

NEW PONTIACS WIN

Sedan Given Greatest Reception Ever Accorded Oakland Product

A deluge of orders ,the greatest in the history of the Oakland Motor Car Company, greeted the announcement and showing of the new and finer Pontiac Sixes by dealers throughout the country and bids auspiciously for another record breaking sales year for this car which broke all sales records for any new make of car during its first full year.

The new line has not only struck the public's fancy through its new beauty of lines and bodies and the completeness of the offering, now six body types, but also through the new lower prices announced.

Both the Sport Roadster the Sport Cabriolet have been attracting particular attention. These new models to the line are unique in that very few makes of cars in the low price field have these types, especially cars so completely and artistically equipped. Both cars have a rumble seat for two additional passengers, easily reached through aluminum steps and nickel plated rumble seat side arms.

It is expected, however, that the Sedan will prove the sales leader of the line throughout the year. It is the lowest priced car in the line, yet has an extremely long and roomy body. It is finished in Beverly Blue Duco, striped with Ivory white.

BOWLING

The Cynwyd men's and women's teams were entertained at the Riverton Country Club on Friday, March 11th. After dinner the bowling started with much enthusiasm and although the Riverton teams were defeated, the match was thoroughly enjoyed by players and spectators.

"PALS" BEATEN

Burlington-Holly Team Triumphs Over Wink's Five

The twin-city team of Burlington-Mount Holly downed the "Pals" in their contest last week, the count being 36 to 22. The winners held a 19 to 12 advantage at half time and continued their stride throughout the balance of the game.

This game was fast during both periods and at times had a tendency to get rough. Many sensational shots were made.

Griffenberg proved to be Palmyra's hero with a trio of field goals and two of five fouls for eight points. "Bud" was followed by Davis who tallied a pair of double deckers and one foul. Schultz also played well and sank a twin pointer from the field.

Gilbert, Vernon and Foster were the Burlington-Mount Holly stars. This trio accounted for three field goals apiece.

Eckert, Bennett and Donnelly ran wild as the Burlington-Holly Reserved triumphed over the Palmyra second, 51 to 15.

Wink's "Pals" had little trouble in trouncing the Marlton team Saturday night at Palmyra by the count of 30 to 20. Palmyra outscored Marlton from the field ten goals to five and had the better of the argument in foul goal shooting, sinking 10 of 16 tries while Marlton made only 10 of its 28 tosses.

Palmyra led 13 to 10 at half time and continued the fast pace during the second twenty minutes of play. "Bud" Griffenberg put pep into the Palmyra team and was credited with four field goals. Jack Eisley and "Vince" Kalinowski were back in the Palmyra lineup. Eisley sinking two from the field and four of five fouls to even matters with Griffenberg, while Kalinowski played an exceptional good floor game. Sloan and Eastburn each accounted for four markers apiece, Sloan had two field goals and Eastburn a perfect eye from the foul mark.

Sheridan and Mellugh each made a pair of two-pointers and Stockum and Steve O'Neil had four points to their credit for Marlton.

The Marlton yearlings were also easy prey for the Palmyra Reserves 30 to 21. Cliff West played the best game for the Palmyra team, sinking no less than five goals from the field. Although Burk accounted for 14 tallies, he had but three field goals and made eight of 11 fouls. Sheridan was the whole show for Marlton with 10 points.

CALVARY Y. M. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Calvary Y group was held in the Methodist Church on Monday evening. The meeting was opened with a prayer by Harold Fouiks. We then read the responsive rituals, after which the secretary called the roll. The Bible lesson was given by Laddie Dickinson, one of the members instead of our leader. The business of the evening was then brought up. After the business, Mr. Metzner, the speaker of the meeting gave us a very interesting talk.

Th meeting was then adjourned and everybody went out to the gym to see a couple of basketball games between the Lumberton and the Calvary Y's.

The first game was between the second teams of the Y's. In this game the Calvary Y trounced the Lumberton team by the score of 29-2. Then the first teams played. This game was very fast and interesting. When the final whistle blew the score was 24-15 in favor of the Calvary Y.

After the games we had our friendship circle and then left for home.

Mount Holly Herald Says Nice Things About The Enterprise

With every change of the moon the Burlington Enterprise lets out a howl about Mount Holly being the home of most of the county officials, "that Burlington never has a show," and a lot of similar statements, but now that they have a candidate right in their own town it will be interesting to see if he gets the support of that paper.

I. Snowden Haines, of that city, has shied his hat into the ring for the State Senatorial nomination, on a platform which we believe must be satisfactory to the Enterprise, as it is a very liberal one, and up to this time the name of their fellow citizen has never been mentioned, so you see, even the home paper cannot be depended upon to support home town candidates.

As to why so many of the county officials live in Mount Holly it might be explained that as a rule they are elected from some other township or municipality and then move to Mount Holly, and they like the town so well they never leave it.—Mount Holly Herald.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

DIABETES

My object in writing this article is to acquaint my reader with the symptoms of the disease, that he will recognize them, and consult a physician at once; otherwise the diabetes may reach a very difficult stage to handle, without exciting apprehension on the part of the patient.

To begin with, diabetes is not a kidney disease, though its first manifestions appear in that quarter. The patient notices at first, a very great over-action of the kidneys, with an output as clear as water in the majority of cases; it may reach one, two or three gallons in quantity per day. An inordinate craving for sweets may be noticed; severe constipation is the rule, though not constant—many people are constipated without having diabetes. Then, there is a "progressive feebleness"—the growing weaker and weaker, without apparent cause. I once saw a strong man begin to grow weak—"tired" all the time with no exertion to cause it; his limbs ached so much that he fancied he had rheumatism. Asked about his kidneys, he asserted that "they had never in life acted so well, two gallons or more a day!" This man died within three months—of diabetes, the disease having advanced too far to be remediable by any means known at that time, about twenty years ago.

Whenever this feebleness sets in, and the patient's muscles begin to grow flabby with loss of flesh, and the kidney discharge is increasing rapidly, with constipation and craving for sweets, and for more water than is naturally required, it is best to have the physician make an analysis of the renal evacuation, which in health amounts to about fifty ounces a day in the adult. No delay should be counteanced or indulged. The physician of today knows how to handle diabetes, the treatment of which would be out of place here.

Mrs. Caruso also asked that the child be granted $39,500 a year for living expenses. Decision was reserved by the Chancellor. The estate has been in Chancery Court for some time. CAMP 23

Local Speakers and Musicians Make Up Program

"Community Night" was observed by Washington Camp No. 23 on Monday evening last. About seventy members and guests were present and were favored with interesting talks by Rev. George Lockett, Rev. William M. Erhard and Rev. A. Harke. George N. Wimer, Frank E. Chambers and Walter D. Lamon also gave short talks which were appreciated by all present.

Dr. Dean LeFavor rendered several "old time melodies" on the piano, and D. Grey Schwarz led the singing. Refreshments were served and the meeting was closed with Dr. Le Favor playing "The Bells of St. Mary's." This was a very successful night and everyone present enjoyed the occasion.

The Camp regretted that all the ministers of the two towns could not participate in this affair. Due to previous engagements several could not accept the invitation.

A produce banquet is to be given by the Camp the last week in April to the members that have proposed and initiated at least one candidate between March 14th and April 25th. This banquet is open to all members of the Camp and we hope that all will make an effort to comply with the conditions to participate.

WINK'S LOSE

Wink's Palmyra team in the Burlington County League did not bring home the bacon in their game at the Delanco town hall Tuesday night, but they made the winners fight every minute of the contest. The final score was 43 to 29.

The result of the game kept Delanco in the running for the league flag but killed all of Palmyra's hope. Bill McKee proved to be the best scorer for the Palmyra team with four field goals and four of his five free tosses for a dozen markers. Bud Griffenberg was next with three and one for seven points. Shultz tallied a pair of two-pointers as Eastburn sank a double decker and three out of six fouls for five points. Davis played a good game at guard and made one of his two attempts from the 15 foot mark.

The Palmyra Reserves put up a stiff battle but went down to a 32 to 20 defeat at the hands of the Delanco yearlings in the junior fuss. Paul Burk ran wild for the Palmyra five when he scored five of their field goals and seven of 12 fouls for 17 of the loser's 20 points.

Our Father's Comfort

Dear Lord, what comfort thou wilt give
When we will humbly trust in thee,
Thou wilt uplift our trusting souls
Till we, thy wisdom, learn to see.
Thou wilt free us from many cares
And teach us of the nobler life,
Until our souls will seem to live
Above the world of care and strife.

O, let us, thy sweet power, feel,
Until we know that God is love,
And let us, by our loving deeds,
Lead other weary souls above.
Dear Father, shed thy gracious light
Within the hearts of everyone,
So, through the power of thy love,
Life's highest mission will be won

The soul can never come to harm,
When placing all its trust in thee;
It will be near the heavenly way,
In paradise will seem to be:
And sweet contentment bless the heart,
With happiness, it will be filled,
And those who rest within thy care
Will find their every trouble stilled.

policemen to serve 8000 or 9000 people, which he thought was about right.

New Policeman Named

On Mr. Williams' recommendation the mayor appointed Albert Wille to the police force, at a salary of $100 a month, until the appointment is annulled by council. The confirmation was unanimous.

Director Williams pointed out a laxity in the observance of the law against parking on the streets without lights had been noticed of late, and stated that it was the intention of the department to "go after" all violators of traffic laws. With an additional officer, he said, he hoped to be able to round them all up.

Councilman Welsh, of the fire and water committee, reported that the company installing the filling station at Broad and Main streets had requested permission to move the fire hydrant on the Main street side of the property it had leased from John G. Buehrer, but that after consultation with his committee and other members of council it had been decided for the good of the community not to recommend the removal of this hydrant.

F. M. Brantner, construction superintendent, and W. A. Cortnay, chief engineer of stations for the Sun Oil Company, appeared before council with maps and photographs and explained why it was in the interest of the public as well as their company to move this hydrant. The facts they presented threw a new light on the subject and Councilman Lynch suggested that the members of council talk it over again after the meeting.

This was done and the result of the discussion was that Councilman Welsh and Lynch decided to try running their cars into the driveway to see whether or not entrance could be made without difficulty if the fire hydrant remained in its present position. The test was made Friday morning and it became evident that the hydrant was a decided obstruction to the safety and convenience of patrons of the filling station, whereupon it was decided to permit it to be moved.

The Rotary Gateway

Councilman Williams, chairman of the borough property committee, reported that he had turned over to Ross Mattis, chairman of the Rotary Committee having the matter in charge, the plans for a memorial gateway supplied by Fletcher Street of Beverly. Mr. Mattis raised the question as to whether or not it was a suitable time to put up such a gateway. He said that to do so at this time would be making an entrance to a park which does not exist, as a park, there having been practically no improvements made to the tract since it was bought, except the construction of the baseball diamond. It was the thought of Mr. Matis that it would be better to spend the money at this time in making some other improvements to the park and let the gateway come later when the park idea had been more fully developed.

Mr. Williams said that to give the proper setting to a gateway, such as was proposed by the Rotary Club it would be necessary to construct a road from the entrance to the creek, and that provision for the cost of doing this had not been made in his budget.

The matter was referred to Mr. Mattis for further consultation with the Rotary Club.

The ordinance providing for the issuance of temporary notes to cover the cost of the new fire truck was unanimously passed on second and final readings and the notes will be issued after April 7 unless formal objection against doing so is filed.

Unsanitary Conditions

Councilman Williams reported that a prison inspector had visited Riverton recently and made the same recommendations that have been made for several years relative to improving the sanitary conditions in Riverton's lockup. The mayor told Mr. Williams to take the matter up with the fire company which owns the building, at the same time suggesting that the company should not be put to extra expense unless it is absolutely necessary to do so.

Mr. Williams has brought the lack of sanitary facilities in the jail to the attention of the borough council for several years but nothing has ever been done about it. When the subject was up a year or two ago a visit was paid to the Palmyra lockup, which had at that time just been made to comply with state regulations, and the comparison between the two places was striking.

Mr. Williams again called attention to the need for sidewalks and street lights on the east side of Broad street from Thomas avenue to Main street. He said that a considerable number of residents used that route to get to and from the station and that conditions were not safe for pedestrians as they now exist. The mayor told Mr. Williams to consult with the chairman of the lighting committee in reference to the lights.

The building inspector presented his report covering permits for $5500 worth of building and the receipt of fees amounting to $17.00.

Passed Back to Council

The secretary of the Board of Health submitted a list of its members and officers, according to its recent reorganization. The Board also stated that the complaint of Harry L. Unland had been carefully considered and since the matter complained of was not detrimental of public health it did not come under the jurisdiction of the Board, and the matter was referred back to the mayor and council.

The matter complained of is a kennel of dogs kept by a resident of Linden avenue which is said to be an annoyance to some of the neighbors, one of whom is Mr. Unland. Mr. Unland brought his complaint to the borough council several months ago which referred it to the board of health claiming lack of jurisdiction. The board of health took a similar view and referred it back to council. The matter is now just where it started.

Auditor's Report Accepted

The report of the auditor for the year 1926 was submitted by the clerk but not read. It was accepted and ordered filed.

Under the law this audit is now due to be published within thirty days from the time it was accepted.

Councilman Lynch raised the question as to the proper installation of gasoline tanks of various sizes, which, he said, was not clear to him under the new building code and asked for a legal opinion in the matter, which he was authorized to obtain.

The following bills were ordered paid:

SWARTHMORE CHAUTAUQUA '28

This Association has brought its resources and trained leadership to the boy and girl of your town. Taking advantage of the enthusiasm created at Chautauqua time it has started through "Junior Town" the training of youth in activities that will be of value to them in the future, and will be of value to your town.

Swarthmore has brought these national authorities and artists, and many others, to the Home Towns of its territory without making any profit; putting them back into the service rendered every penny the Association has made.

Junior Chautauqua is to be organized by the local committee under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. P. MacFarlane assisted by Mrs. C. Stockwell shortly. The classes will be visited and arrangements will be made for their activities during the coming year. A Thrift Club will be organized for the 1928 season. Details will be discussed with the children at those visitations.

It pays to establish a high ideal; study, work hard and keep everlastingly at it. A good school teacher gets $3,000 a year; the governor of the state gets $7,000 a year; cabinet officers, $10,000 a year; Ty Cobb, $75,000 a year—and Babe Ruth—complete returns not in yet.

It's true, charity begins at home—but it shouldn't be too weak to travel a bit.

IMPROVEMENTS

Frank A. Snover Will Enlarge Funeral Home

Frank A. Snover will break ground today to start an addition to his new funeral home that will cost more than $5,000. The improvement will be made at the rear of the home and will add 1600 square feet of floor space, making 3500 square feet in all.

The new addition will be two stories high and built of tile. When completed the upstairs of the house will be made into an apartment. The entire downstairs will be devoted to the funeral home as a funeral parlor only.

Mr. Snover intends to have one large room, 36 by 40, included in the improvement. In all, there will be four new rooms upstairs and two new rooms downstairs. The hall will be laid in rubber tile, nine inch blocks.

Mr. Snover also plans to enclose his porch and have a new morgue that will be much larger than the old one.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Only four weeks until the glorious reason of Easter! Both Bible School and Church are looking forward to this day of Resurrection. Easter music will be practiced beginning with this coming Sunday School session. Last Sunday proved a banner day for attendance in all departments. Seventy-five were present in the primary department alone. Let us make each of the next four Sundays larger and larger in attendance and interest.

At the 11.15 service on Sunday morning Pastor Lockett will preach an inspiring sermon on "True Values." The music will be unusually good.

In the evening at 7.45 the pastor will have for his sermon topic, "Some Objections."

The B. Y. P. U. meeting at 7 o'clock will be led by Cecil Thompson group, with "Religion and Life" as the subject.

Tonight, (Thursday) the men of the Baraca Class and their wives are to get together in the church basement for their annual St. Patrick's Day banquet. The success of last year's affair should insure an evening of even greater good fellowship this year.

Next Thursday afternoon, March 24, the Philathea ladies will meet at the home of Mrs. Thomas C. Van Osten, 813 Lincoln avenue, for their thimble party. The hostesses for the afternoon are Mrs. MacCormick, Mrs. Mays, Mrs. Tees, Mrs. Reeves and Mrs. VanOsten.

"There is a thief in every church named "Indifference." This is a good time of the year to apprehend him.

WESLEYANS

Popular Radio Speaker to Address Class Next Sunday

A real treat is in store for the men of Riverton and Palmyra who attend the Wesleyan Men's Bible Class at the Epworth M. E. Church, Sunday morning.

Charles P. Shoffner, one of the best known laymen in the Philadelphia diocese of the Episcopal Church, will address the class.

Mr. Shoffner's voice is well known to many in this neighborhood, through his popular series of weekly radio broadcasts "Short Agro Waves" from Station WLIT, and "Topics in Season" from Station WFI. Mr. Shoffner is in great demand as a speaker and the class is fortunate in having secured him for Sunday morning.

He has chosen for the subject of his address "Crosses," which contains a message of vital importance and interest to all.

"GINGER" KILLED BY HIT-RUN DRIVER

Pet and Playmate of Director Williams' Young Son Slain as He Runs to Greet Family

"Ginger" the fox terrier which was the constant playfellow of "Sonny," the five-year-old son of Riverton's Director of Public Safety, Edward R. Williams, was instantly killed last Friday night when he was struck by an auto speeding up Thomas avenue.

The family had been out for the evening and had just returned home. "Ginger" ran out to meet them and in his joy at seeing his little master, frisked across the street in front of the onrushing juggernaut. There was a yelp of pain, a quiver of a little white and black form and then a silence broken only by the sobbing of a little boy who cuddled in his arms the mangled body of his companion.

The driver of the car did not stop.

County History of 50 Years Ago

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror, March 8, 1877

There is some talk of erecting a bridge across the Delaware at Burlington.

Switches, puffs, frizzes and curls, made of human hair, are on sale by D. Wells & Co., High street, Mount Holly. Ladies will please make a note of this.

Charles B. Hornor is building a residence near his green house on the Jobstown road. Messrs. Kirkbride and Gale are doing the carpenter and mason work.

John Black, of the Wigwam Farm, delivered to H. B. Quicksall, at Mount Holly on Friday, two steers, the united weight of which was 3,940 pounds. They were splendid specimens of the bovine race and reflected much credit upon Farmer Black.

Branch Jail for Cook

During the past week, Alderman Cook, of Burlington, committed 40 tramps to the county jail, which is considerably more than all other magistrates in the county combined. Better build a branch jail at Burlington for Alderman Cook.

The largest of the Carter hog crop, which weighed 905 pounds on the day of slaughter, was sent to New York, where it was sold at auction for $9.62½ per hundred.

The famous ox grown by George Wildes, of New Hanover township, which was exhibited at the Centennial, was slaughtered for beef at Washington, D. C., on Friday and made the inauguration dinner at many a well-filled table. It weighed, dressed, 2242 pounds and had 350 pounds of gut fat. New Hanover leads alone in pork.

Wanamaker's "Six Acres"

John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia, is making a sensation not only in the clothing line, in which trade he has become famous, but in the dry goods field also. Every visitor to Philadelphia nowadays goes to see Wanamaker's "Six Acres."

The farm near Birmingham, belonging to the estate of Abraham Fort, consisting of 40 acres with buildings, was sold at public sale on Saturday to Thomas F. Satterthwaite for $139 per acre, subject to a mortgage of $600.

Joseph H. Gaskill and Mark R. Sooy have formed a partnership for the practice of law. Their office, after April 1st, will be located on High street, Mount Holly, third door above Regan's hotel.

William T. Potts, of Chesterfield, had another hog killing last week. His total crop of pork for the season is 24,377 pounds.

March 15, 1877

John H. Burr, of New Hanover, has marketed 36,363 pounds of pork this season.

The Camden Gas Company has fixed the price of gas to private consumers at $2.60 per 1,000 feet, less five per cent for prompt payment.

James D. Shreve presided at the temperance meeting held in Concert Hall, Mount Holly, on Sunday afternoon. There was a good attendance. Caleb Shreve, of Mansfield, and Rev. Dr. Dustin, of Philadelphia, delivered addresses.

If the oldest inhabitant can remember any year of the last half century when there was no bill pending in the Legislature, providing for "the better protection of clams and oysters," we would like to hear from them.

Baseball Score, 34—26

The Potato Bugs, of Pemberton, and the Dauntless Club, of New Egypt, played a game of baseball at Pemberton on Saturday. The Bugs won, 34 to 26.

Alfred Fort brought to Mount Holly on Saturday 45 very large capons. They weighed 451½ lbs. One pair weighed 26½ pounds. What has Camden county to say about this?

The annual town meeting for Northampton township was held in Arcade Hall on Tuesday. Appropriations voted total $10,180, which is a reduction of nearly $2,000 over last year. This includes $5,000 for debt and interest; Joseph C. Kingdon was elected township clerk; Thomas Taylor, assessor; William C. Lippincott, collector; George Harbert, freeholder. The Board of Freeholders stands 15 Republicans, 10 Democrats. The total poll in Northampton was as follows: First district, 439; second district, 400.

CONTROL IMPORTANT FOR SAFE DRIVING

Strength of Front Axle and Steering Connections of Vital Moment

Truly easy steering is becoming more and more important not only to the rapidly increasing number of women drivers but to every user of our streets and highways in the opinion of C. Ridgley Sweeney, Dodge Brothers dealer for this territory.

"Prompt response to slight pressure on the steering wheel together with clutch action and gearshifting which require minimum time and muscular effort are a vital necessity under present traffic conditions," Mr. Sweeney declares. "City traffic, becoming more and more congested year after year, places increased strain, both physical and mental on every driver. And on the country highways not only are more cars in use but the average operating speeds are increasing. All this spells need of easier control.

"The steering of Dodge Brothers motor cars which was made easier several months ago by improvements in the steering gear has been further improved since the first of the year for refinements in the design and construction of the front axle and steering knuckles. An improved anti-thrust bearing has been fitted above each steering knuckle.

"Between the two hardened, ground, polished races of each bearing are nineteen alloy steel balls, the races being completely filled to insure liberal load carrying capacity. The two races are enclosed in a stamped steel shell to exclude dust, grit and water and to retain the lubricant.

"The chrome-vanadium steel front axle I-beam remains unchanged and knuckles and knuckle steering arms are made of the same costly alloy steel, heat treated to give the maximum strength, toughness and ability to resist shocks. The knuckle pins as before are ⅞ inches in diameter."

Popular Trooper, O'Rourke, Resigns State Police Job

State Trooper James O'Rourke, who spent considerable time in Burlington county and became well acquainted with people throughout this section while stationed for service with Moorestown and Chatsworth as his headquarters, ended his State Police work on Saturday, March 5, having presented his resignation to take effect at that time.

Early in the fall he had his leg hurt in an accident along the King's highway beyond Moorestown and that handicapped him in his work in addition to giving him considerable pain when he undertook to get around in a hurry.

In addition to that, he has been ill with pneumonia during the past month since being transferred from Chatsworth to work around Berlin following the recent shake-up in the state organization and closing of the Chatsworth station.

The combination of injury and illness made him feel that he had better step out before the jinx threw him.

Congress closed with a singing-bee. No doubt the swan song for the McNary-Haugen Farm Relief bill.

Count Addresses Holly Rotarians

County Seat Club Hears Attache of Washington Italian Embassy

Mount Holly Rotarians felt that they were highly honored last week when Count Ernesto Russo, now of Philadelphia, an attache of the Italian Embassy in Washington when he came to this country, addressed them, and the Rotarians took advantage of the occasion to also have their wives as their guests, which they looked upon as another privilege.

The address he gave was a gem in support of patriotism, love of country and love of church, with a strict adherence to the golden rule as a guide for all work from which good results were to be expected.

Count Russo made glowing and brilliant reference to the constitution of the United States and Declaration of Independence and said they should be received and considered along more sacred lines than many people seem willing to apply to them. He would combine the Bible and these two documents and use them as a guide for the creation of true Americanism and the advancement of a glorious democracy that is made available in the United States through the declaration of government principles that provide for freedom of thought and action in the pursuit of happiness.

He deplored the exploitation of crime and society disgraces on the front pages of the newspapers and the neglect to give space for the aiding of civic advancement, but he did not let this condition affect his fine impression of the United States and the golden opportunities that lay before the people here.

USED CAR SHOPPER SHOULD BUY NOW

"Now is the time to go shopping fora good used car," says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company. "Right now practically every dealer has a large and varied assortment.

"Sixty days from now tourists and vacationists will be combing the market for used automobiles and the competition for the best bargains will be much keener than now.

"Also quite obviously the prices and terms are better now than they will be later in the Spring. There are always a lot of people who will buy latest models and the after-the-show trading has filled up used car stocks with some wonderfully fine buying opportunities."

COUNTY INDUSTRIAL MEETS MARCH 21

John P. Fallon Will Speak at Meeting to be Held in Burlington

The Program Committee of Burlington County Industrial Association announces that the speaker for the March Meeting will be John P. Fallon, General Superintendent of Contsruction, Bayway Refinery, Standard Oil Company, Elizabeth, N. J.

Mr. Fallon was one of the speakers at the first Foremen's Conference of the State of New Jersey, held at Camp Wawayanda in Sussex County last June. This conference was attended by a number of men from the Industries of Burlington County and they were so much impressed by the address of Mr. Fallon that they have already secured their tickets for the occasion of his coming to Burlington this month.

The meeting will be held in Grange Hall, Stacy street, Burlington, on Monday evening, March 21, beginning with dinner at 7 o'clock. In addition to the speaker there will be community singing, special numbers by a group from one of the river-front industries, who are keeping it a secret, and an attendance prize contributed by the president, Harry Reitinger, together with other surprises.

Dinner will be served by the ladies YWCA of Burlington, and the last call for tickets will be Friday, March 18th.

Henry Ford is now experimenting in baking a cracker which will suffice that day when Beef, Pork and Poultry are no more; which may indicate that he has some inside figures on just how fast the automobile is killing 'em off.

STATE GIVES $25,000 FOR COUNTY ROAD

Senator Roberts Heads County Delegation Which Secures State Aid

Going before the State Highway Commission in Trenton last week, Senator Emmor Roberts, Director of Roads Charles R. Stout, of the Board of Freeholders; County Engineer H. B. Smith and County Road Supervisor Stuart M. McFarland asked for a special allotment of State Raod funds being used by the county in the improvement of the Bordentown, Chesterfield and New Egypt road this spring. The work is to be done by the county, which will use its own road building equipment and laborers, thus reducing the cost of the operation to a minimum.

After hearing the representatives of this county the Highway Commission announced that a special allotment of $25,000 would be allowed. While the Burlington county officials had hoped that $25,000 might be found available by the State, the amount granted pleased them and they announced that no time would be wasted getting the road improvement work under way.

It is thought that with the economies which the Road Department will be able to effect by doing this work itself, the road many to be received from the State, plus the $25,000 which the county has already appropriated for the purpose, will enable the building of the proposed twenty-four-foot wide penetration macadam road from Bordentown to Chesterfield, a distance of about four miles. Next year the new road will be continued to the county line on the way to New Egypt.

Electric and Gas Servants, Wide-awake, Capable, Await Home-maker's Orders

Spring and the Home-maker

To the human heart, as well as to the garden, the mountain stream, the country road, comes spring. With it the lure of long paths that wind and the horizon's rim.

And the home-maker, once so chained to her pots and kettles, can marshal her family and with them gypsy through the long day, if she chooses.

For gas will cook the dinner, heat the water, keep a cheery fire alive in the fireplace. Electricity will keep the refrigerator cool, clean the rugs, wash the clothes and iron them—keep her house in order and help the home-maker to take her holiday.

Old Russian Dessert

For Care of Hair and Complexion

THE woman who uses the electric vibrator wards off the tiny lines and shadows that rob the complexion of youthfulness. The vibrator gently stimulates the skin, causes nerves to relax and helps to build up muscles and tissues. Prices begin at $5.

Untidy hair-dressing is ruinous to smart appearance. An electric marcel waver gives to the hair the flat, loose wave of the professional, and any woman can present a trim, modish coiffure to the world every day through its use.

An electric curling iron provides a quick means of bringing straight ends into curl. The waver costs $6 at Public Service and the curling iron $1.25.

Put New Range in New Home

MIDWAY in March is the time when plans for moving in late April or on May first, crystallize.

"Don't move your old cook stove" is the advice given customers at Public Service stores. "We'll buy it from you—no matter what make it is, what fuel it burns, or what its condition.

"Replace it with an oven heat regulator gas range, a range you can depend upon—one that will not burn or undercook your food, but will prevent shrinkage and improve food flavor.

"Let the price you get for your old stove act as first payment on the new range."

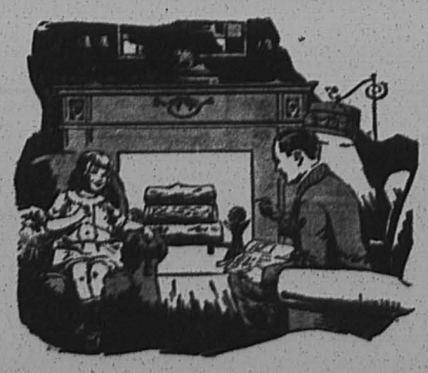

Range prices at Public Service include connection from the gas outlet in the kitchen. Every range is equipped with an automatic lighter for top burners.

A Year to Pay Balance

In Uncertain Weather Light the Gas Fireplace Heater

CHANGEABLE April complicates the matter of house heating. Running, often, the whole scale of temperatures from winter cold to summer heat, it's hard to keep the house comfortable.

The gas radiant heater in the fireplace will be found a splendid means of warming living room, hall or dining room during changeable weather. With the gas heater, heat can be turned on or off on the instant. These heaters are so constructed that all the heat pours right out into the room, warming even its furthest corners.

From the gas Radiantlogs, gas coal basket, and the period designs in gas fires may be selected the type most suitable for each room. The gas radiant heater will be found charming to look at, and entirely effective as a heating means.

Public Service offers its customers the use of any gas radiant heater for thirty days' free trial.

Public Service will install any heater costing $25 or more without extra charge in first floor fireplaces, or wherever there's a gas outlet in the fireplace.

Hot Water Demands Many in Summer

LATE spring brings a readjustment of water heating methods in many homes. A coil in the furnace is often used to heat water during the winter and when summer comes the household must depend upon more or less makeshift methods for this purpose.

A gas automatic storage water heater gives hot water service all year round without attention. It's controlled by a thermostat and the gas shuts off (except for a tiny pilot light) when the temperature of the water in the storage tank is high enough.

Hot water can be depended upon at all times and, gallon for gallon, gas is as cheap as other fuel for water heating, much cheaper when the comfort and convenience it gives are considered.

Public Service will install a gas automatic water heating system on payment of one dollar down, with eighteen months to pay, beginning May 1.

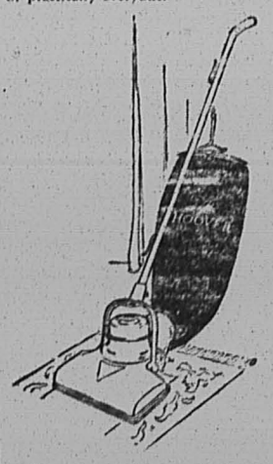

Electric Toaster Lowered in Price

THE Westinghouse Turn-over Toaster is being sold at Public Service stores at the special price of $5.40 during March—one dollar down—one dollar a month.

This handy toaster toasts the bread and turns it, too. It has ebonized feet, and little knobs of wood protect the fingers, when placing or removing bread. Its regular price is $6.

Old Cleaner Helps to Pay for New Hoover

THERE'S a new Hoover cleaner model on the market that is proving popular. It has the same famed "positive agitation" found in the Greater Hoover (No. 700), but its price is much lower, in fact, so modest that it is within the reach of practically everyone.

No other cleaning method approaches Positive Agitation in its ability to remove from rugs not only surface dust and lint, but also the deep-clinging dirt that cuts rug fibres.

Public Service will make liberal allowance for old vacuum cleaners, any make, on the purchase of a new Hoover model. Payment terms are convenient,— $5 down — $5 a month.

Winds Play Havoc With Clothes Lines

THE gas clothes dryer protects the clothing from soot and grime. It is made with ample space to hang a large washing, and even with the doors tightly closed, it is thoroughly ventilated. Clothes dried in it are as fresh and as clean-smelling as if they had been dried in the sun.

This convenience, which makes the housekeeper indifferent to wash-day weather and is such a protection to delicate garments, may be purchased from Public Service on the easy payment plan, $5.00 down, a year to pay.

Comfortable Dressing

DRESSING in the morning is often uncomfortable because the bedroom is cold after its all-night airing. The electric radiator quickly warms a small area or particular spot. It may be used to advantage in the bathroom or to help out when furnace fires are low. Its handle stays cool and it can be moved from place to place easily. At Public Service stores electric radiator prices begin at $4.75.

Cinnaminson School News

Vol. 2 MARCH 17, 1927 No. 6

Hurrah for the basketball season! Our boys have played two outside games and one on the home court. They are scheduled to play the choir boys of Grace Church rectory, Haddonfield, Friday night, March 18th, at 7.30, and will play the Marlton Y. M. C. A. boys again on the 22nd of March.

The boys on the school team are: Howard Schuck, Horace Anderson, Robert Mench, Woodrow Giberson, Stephen Bulvidas, Joseph Bulvidas, Harold Schuck and Rockie Bonatelli. Since the first game of the season these fellows have improved greatly and are anxious to whip themselves into better form before the game at Haddonfield. Mr. Lever of Palmyra has volunteered to assist the boys, in their athletics, so naturally they are enthusiastic to do all in their power to make good.

The scores for the games already played follow:

March 4, Mount Laurel, 12; Cinnaminson, 16.

March 8, Marlton, 7; Cinnaminson, 1.

March 11, Mount Laurel, 11; Cinnaminson, 12.

The girls are organizing a team under the direction of Miss Dorwart.

The boys in the Printing shop have been printing visiting cards this month. The profits will go toward paying for the lantern slides. Edward O'Neil is foreman of this shop and is doing very good work.

Every week a new slogan is printed for all the children in the school. So far there have been six:

1. Talk quietly in lunch room.
2. Keep halls quiet.
3. Keep halls clean(if you drop a piece of paper, pick up two).
4. Keep playground clean (don't forget the zones).
5. Clean feet before entering building—suggested by janitor!
6. Boys—don't forget to tip your hats.

Girls—remove coats in school. Some time soon there will be a party. Those who have forgotten these slogans will have a chance to practice them. Won't that be fun for the rest of us?

The architects have submitted the plans for the addition to school No. 4. The building will be like new when completed and very well equipped.

Every week Miss Bryan takes a group of children to the psychological clinic of the University of Pennsylvania, to be examined by Dr. Twitmeyer. Some of the children are receiving instructions to overcome speech defects. The nurses have taken several to the hospital for eye treatment, at the suggestion of Dr. Twitmeyer. We feel that it is a very remarkable privilege to have this expert advice without cost, and cannot speak too appreciatively of the splendid cooperation of the University in helping us solve our problems.

Junior Republicans Meet in Riverton

Interesting Discussion Heard at Home of Mrs. Hagstoz, Tuesday Afternoon

The Burlington County Junior Republican Club held its last meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Arthur Hagstoz, Riverton, with an attendance of sixty. Mrs. Lloyd Cross opened the meeting and various reports were given.

Mrs. Alice Roberts gave the secretarial report and discussed the Valentine card party. The profit on the party was $113.80, which will be used to send delegates to the Annual Convention at the Hotel Berkeley-Carteret, Asbury Park, on Friday and Saturday, April 29-30th. Details may be obtained from the local representatives. The delegates chosen are Mrs. Emily Irons, Mt. Holly; Mrs. Goodale, Moorestown; Mrs. Allen Baird, Beverly; Mrs. Hayward, Delanco and Miss Elizabeth Rapp, Riverside.

Mrs. Irons gave the treasurer's report. The club has in its treasury at the close of its season, $161.07. Fifteen dollars of this amount will be given to the Mount Holly Hospital towards buying a radio for the patients.

Nominations were made and accepted. Mrs. Lloyd Cross accepted the presidency for a second year. A vote of thanks was given Mrs. Cross for her past efficiency and a helping hand for the future. A two year term is a wise and better plan as the first year is really spent in learning and it is not fair to the club or offices to have novices every year.

Men in Politics

Mrs. Elliott Krusen, of Delanco, was the first speaker of the day. The topic being "Men in Politics."

The difference between men and women in politics is that women run it as a club, starting at the bottom and working up the ladder and the men as a fight, starting at the top and working down. The men's attitude toward women seems to be a fear that they will tranquilize the battlefield. Mrs. Krusen's talk was very enjoyable.

The next speaker was Mrs. Chas. Andrews, of Moorestown. Mrs. Andrews' topic was enlightening as well as amusing. "Unpolitical Politics." Civic improvements does not only mean beautiful homes and gardens, active clubs but also sanitation, such as garbage collections, winter as well as summer, sanitary sewerage, better roads, schools and better wives. Mrs. Andrews asked several questions of the women such as, "Do you sew buttons on and darn your husbands socks? Do you cook good hot appetizing foods and favorite dishes at all times whether you have been out to your favorite club or bridge and do not feel hungry yourself? Are you charming, agreeable and economical, etc? Old fashioned furniture is nice to look at but the modern is more comfortable, etc." One thing Mrs. Andrews forgot to elaborate upon was better husbands and a few rules for them, but no doubt the questions would be more numerous and the men more apt to err.

State Institutions

Miss Mary Atkinson came from Trenton in place of Miss May Thropp, who was unable to attend. However Miss Atkinson was a very able speaker. She spoke on the fifteen state institutions of New Jersey, the hospitals, reformatories, homes, asylums and institutions for wayward children and the like, the government and functions of each and cited many interesting phases of institutional life.

Mr. Kaser, County superintendent of schools, gave a wonderful vigorous and forceful speech. He stressed the need of a vocational school in Burlington County. One of the emphatic points of his talk was that it was no political issue and that as a personal proposition he did not care, but as superintendent of schools he was vitally interested. For the past six years, starting with 1921, the percentage of high school graduates in comparison with those starting as freshmen is as follows, 28%-27%-31%-39%-40%-37% ending with 1926.

The reason the pupils do not graduate is that the high school does not offer what those particular students want. A vocational school would surely eliminate a greater part of this trouble. Agricultural as well as industrial courses would be given. The approximate cost would be about $50,000. Of this amount, $20,000 would be given by the United States Government, leaving but $30,000 for Burlington County to raise. The tax rates would not be increased five cents. The Juniors, along with the many other organizations, endorse this school.

The annual convention and the South Jersey convention will take the place of regular meetings. The South Jersey Conference is Thursday, March 24th, YWCA building, Camden. Business sessions with reports from councils, 11 o'clock. Luncheon 1 o'clock and afternoon sessions with speakers and reports on Legislation from 2 to 4 p. m. Every one is urged to attend and swell the Burlington County representation.

This concluded the business meeting and an elaborate tea was served by the hostess, Mrs. Hagstoz. We wish to thank Mrs. Hagstoz for her hospitality. It was very nice of her to open her doors to us.

The club and board wishes to thank the editors and newspaper personnel, the various committees and all who have aided in any way, for their splendid co-operation which has helped the club to blazon the word SUCCESS.

"THE BLOSSOMING OF MARY ANN"

Everyone in the Senior Class at Palmyra High is on his toes to make the comedy, "The Blossoming of Mary Ann" a success. The play will make its first appearance before local audiences in the High School auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, March 25th and 26th.

Mary Ann, a demure country maiden, blossoms forth, under the guidance of her fairy godmother, Mrs. Kirkland, to "the life of the party," much to the surprise and admiration of all the young men in the cast, especially Dickie Stanhope, her young sweetheart.

The tickets for "The Blossoming of Mary Ann" have been placed on sale this week, and may be secured through any member of the senior class.

GRASS FIRES

Palmyra Fire Department Kept Busy Over Weekend

The Palmyra fire department was called out several times over the weekend to extinguish grass fires. The blazes occured at Lincoln and Elm avenue, one at Second and Arch, and another on the Schafer farm. All of these blazes were extinguished before any damage was done to nearby properties.

At about 2.45 Monday morning the company responded to a fire on the River Road in Pensauken township. This proved to be an old unoccupied house owned by the J. M. Paxon Company. Before the fire was put out the place was half des-

BELLEVUE NOTES

Tuesday evening the Women's Club of Bellevue met at the home of Mrs. George Zeisner, No. 5 Kern street. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed. Miss Peggy Inman, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. George Zeisner, gave a very clever demonstration of the "Black Bottom" dance and refreshments were served at the usual hour. Next week the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Harry Henderson, of No. 1 Kern street.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Henderson visited in Roebling at the home of Mrs. Thomas Carter over the weekend.

Miss Madeline and Master Georgie Howart, of Burlington, are visiting Mrs. Edward Faunce this week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Fahrner, of 14 Kern street, spent the weekend in Philadelphia.

LEGION PINOCHLE

Due to conflicting dates and in order to give those a chance for the Grand Prize who had other engagements Tuesday, the 15th, it has been decided that scores commencing with the March 29th pinochle will be the first for the grand prize.

It will be something worth while as one-half of the net proceeds from the five contests will be put toward the Grand Prize and expenses are being held to a minimum.

We desire your patronage next fall and our Grand Prize will be a beaut.

Come out and bring your friends.

Cornerstone Laid For New Building

Ceremonies Held for Chester Township $40,000 Municpal Home Saturday

In the presence of several hundred citizens Thomas J. Barlow, Sr., laid the corner stone of the Chester township's new $40,000 municipal building Saturday afternoon.

The building, which will mark the progress of Burlington county's youngest township, will be completed by July 1, and will house all township offices and the police and fire departments.

The ceremonies started promptly at 3 o'clock, with Charles Meyers, chairman of the township committee, as master of ceremonies. Rev. T. B. Rennel, pastor of the Episcopal Church, made the invocation. Chairman Meyers gave a brief history of Chester township.

Old Township History

"This township, formerly regarded as the infant township of the county, in reality is one of the oldest," stated the speaker. "Chester township was founded in 1688 by a group of Quakers, and its borders extended in from Rancocas creek to Pensauken creek."

This information was a surprise to even the oldest of the town's inhabitants. In 1922 Moorestown township incorporated and left Chester township without a governing body and it was then that the combining of Maple Shade and Chester township was conceived by Thomas J. Barlow and other citizens, it was stated.

Mr. Barlow was introduced and after putting the stone in place told of the work accomplished by the town and implored the citizens to co-operate with the township committee in making Maple Shade a place of beauty.

Roads Worst Feature

"The roads are the worst feature to contend with at this time and if the citizens will bear with the committee this evil will be taken care of in time," he stated.

Virtually every civic and fraternal body of the town turned out for the ceremonies and a representative of each organization was given a place on the speakers' platform. Members of the fire company and police department were in full uniform, as were also the Boy Scouts. The Masonic Lodge had a large delegation present and the Chamber of Commerce was represented by J. W. Kellner.

The Chamber of Commerce presented a review of its work in accomplishing the erection of the municipal building. It was through this body that the municipal building had its conception, it was stated. The ceremonies were brought to a close with a prayer by Rev. George W. Crane, pastor of the Baptist Church.

FINED $250

Joseph Goodwin Pays Dearly For Driving While Intoxicated

Joseph Goodwin, Locust street Moorestown, whose car was wrecked when he ran into a bus last Friday night and was arrested by Recorder Diehl, of Pensauken township, paid fines aggregating $250. He admitted to Recorder Diehl he was under the influence of liquor when his car hit a P. R. T. bus on Moorestown pike.

A physician, who examined him, pronounced his under the influence of liquor. He was fined $200 on the drunken driving charge, $20.60 costs, $25 more for not having a driver's license, and the costs of the doctor's examination.

When arrested, Goodwin told the recorder that Joseph Riley, of Moorestown, was driving the car. The police found Riley in bed at his home and arrested him. At the hearing Monday, Stanley Robinson, of Philadelphia, driver of the bus, declared that Goodwin was alone in the car when the accident occurred. This statement exonerated Riley and he was released. Goodwin paid the fines.

Prohibition Administrator Will Speak at Moorestown Tonight

Col. Ira L. Reeves, prohibition administrator for New Jersey, will be the principal speaker at a big rally of the Burlington County League for Observance and Enforcement of Law in the Moorestown high school auditorium, Thursday evening. The meeting will start at 7.45 o'clock.

It is stated that it will be the greatest county rally for law enforcement held in years. Col. Reeves will talk on the prohibition situation in New Jersey and he is expected to give out some rather fiery information that will be most interesting. When he speaks there is no difficulty in determining that he knows what he is talking about, and he will bring to the Burlington county people some things they never heard before.

The Rev. Parker B. Holloway, of Park Ridge, and Chief of Police Phillip T. Bell, of Kearny, will present some practical material right from the firing line of action in local territory and from different parts of the State.

Vol. 38. No. 10. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, MARCH 24, 1927 PRICE FIVE CENTS

WHAT? WHEN? WHERE? WHY?

This Is Your Chance To Help Local Firemen To Get Uniforms

"THE MIDNIGHT KISS" AT BROADWAY PALACE

WHAT?—Riverton Fire Company Movie Benefit.

WHERE?—Broadway Palace.

WHEN?—Tonight, Thursday, March 24.

Yes, this is just a reminder that tonight YOU have an opportunity to render a real service to the "Fire-Laddies" of Riverton. They never fail when YOU want THEM. Now it is YOUR turn to help the other fellow.

Riverton has always been proud of the appearance of its Fire Company and surely the people of this Borough want their firemen to look as well as the others when the firemen's gathering is held in Atlantic City this summer. If they can get those new uniforms the boys will try their best to "bring back the bacon" from the seashore gathering.

Let's get behind the boys this evening and give them a boost!

REPAINT TOWN HALL

Palmyra "Cooler" Also Shares in Redecoration

The Palmyra police headquarters was given the once over by way of a new coat of paint on the inside Monday of this week. The work was done by Harry Kemmerle, Sr.

The furniture in the two rooms adjoining the cellroom was all newly varnished. The police station was also equipped with new rugs and linoleum as floor covering. The cellrooms were painted white and refurnished. The floors were also newly repainted.

WOMEN APPROVE OF BALLOON TIRES

Greater Ease in Controlling Car and Improved Appearance Appeal to Fair Sex

A new reason for the popularity of Balloon tires was given today by Mr. Albertson, of the Albertson's drive-in service station, Riverton Firestone Dealer, who declared that women motorists are, to a great extent, responsible for the ever widening demand for this new type of equipment.

"The fair sex," he pointed out, "has had a big influence on the refinements and improvements made to motor cars, and their judgment is always taken into consideration by car manufacturers before new models are brought out.

"Never before, however, has the influence of the women been felt in the tire industry to a marked degree until the development of the Balloon tire.

"Women who do considerable driving are quick to notice the improvement in car control when using Firestone Balloons.

"Women are keen on appearance and know what these big, luxurious-looking tires mean to the car and they don't overlook the economy of Firestone Balloons in great mileage, longer car life and reduced gas consumption.

"It is but another sign of the keen intelligence of the fair sex."

BOYS' MEETING

A mass meeting for boys of Palmyra and Riverton will be held in the Palmyra YMCA building on Friday evening, April 1, at 7.45.

Harold "Boots" Lever will be the speaker. Slow motion pictures on athletics will be shown, followed by lantern slides on Camp Ockanickon, after which a treat will be given by one of the board members. Admission free to all boys over 12 years old.

RECITAL

A very pleasing recital was given by the younger pupils of Clara B. Person in her studio at 4th and Cinnaminson avenue Saturday evening last.

The program was rather unusual for a piano recital in view of the fact that a charming little playlet entitled "Betty's Music Lesson" was presented in the second part of the program by Mrs. Person and Ruth Brown. Several recitations were given and Jane Fluck closed the program with a graceful Goodbye Dance.

Mrs. Person was the recipient of some lovely cut flowers from the guests. Jane Fluck made the presentation. Guest from Palmyra, Riverton and Philadelphia were present.

As a surprise for her pupils, Mrs. Person presented a prominent violinist, Robert Handforth whom she accompanied in several numbers.

PHONE "CRANKS" TO GO

Word has been received by most Maple Shade telephone subscribers that they will be relieved from the arduous duty of cranking within the next few weeks. The old coffee grinders will be replaced with the modern telephones.

In conjunction with the change of service the Maple Shade telephones will be connected to the Merchantville exchange instead of the Moorestown exchange. This will give residents a five cent rate to Camden with free Merchantville connections while Moorestown calls will cost five cents. The change of exchanges will be made to relieve the heavy burden of the Moorestown exchange.

All numbers in use at present will be changed to conform to the shift.

Y. W. C. A. Campaign For 3000 Membership in Burlington County

The membership drive for the Burlington County YWCA began on March 21st. The past year's membership for the county was 2445. The goal for this year is 3000 and every place in Burlington County is working to increase its membership so that this goal may be reached.

The YWCA of Burlington County exists to serve the girls and women of the county. Its purpose is:

1. To associate young women in personal loyalty to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord;
2. To lead them into membership and service in the Christian Church;
3. To promote growth in Christian character and service through physical, social, mental and spiritual training;
4. To become a social force for the extension of the kingdom of God.

The work in Burlington County reaches thirty-six cities, towns and villages. There are 57 organized clubs in the county, with a total club membership of 2245. Enrolled in these clubs are teen age girls, business and professional girls, and young women, girls employed in industry, and mothers.

The Association has made possible for these girls and women a program that promotes growth in Christian character and service through physical, social, mental and spiritual training. The value of such a character building program cannot be determined in numbers, dollars, or cents, but those who work with girls can see results from such a program as that offered by the Y W. C. A. Therefore, when the men and women of Burlington County are asked for a contribution to the Y. W. C. A. they should feel it a rare privilege to add their contribution to this organization which means so much in the lives of the girls of Burlington County.

The High School Club of Palmyra is just about one month old, but during that short time quite a bit has been accomplished. This club is open to every girl in the high school whether she lives in Riverton, Palmyra, or Riverside. At their meeting last Thursday the girls had initiation for new members. This week a hike has been planned. Jane Price, one of the Burlington County delegates to the High School Girl Reserve Conference at Newton-Hamilton, Pa., last summer, is president of the club. Miss Lucile Sleight, the physical training director of the Palmyra Schools, is the adviser for this club.

The Junior High School Club of Riverton is making preparation for a play to be presented some time in April. The play is "The Scheming Six," the story of how six girls at a boarding school try to "put one over" on the head mistress. The dramatic ability of the girls in this club augurs well for the success of the play.

A Girl Reserve Club for older girls was organized in Lenola on Friday evening, March 18. Mrs. F. Nelson Maines will be the adviser of the club. The following officers were elected: Ada Sill, President; Virginia Doremus, Vice President; Edith Branin, Secretary; Mary Jane Flick, Treasurer.

GIRL SWIMMERS

Riverton Mermaids Make Fine Showing at Camden

Although Miss Ethel Brown of Haddonfield High was high scorer in the first YMCA swimming meet held in the Camden Y last Saturday afternoon, the Misses Grace and Irene Sippel, of Riverton, participating for the Camden Y, both made good showings.

Miss Sara Aspell, the noted swimmer from Clementon, was also forced to acknowledge defeat as Miss Brown carried off first honors. Miss Brown amassed most of her points by winning the free style and back stroke races at 20 yards' distance and swimming a dead heat with Miss Grace Sippel in the 40-yard free-style sprint.

Miss Sippel placed third among the high scorers for the senior meet with 12 points, or one less than Miss Aspell. The all-round exhibition of Miss Sippel marks her as a future champion, according to judges of the meet.

Pitted against Ethel Brown and Sara Aspell in the 40-yard free-style event, Grace Sippel forged into the lead at the start, but Miss Brown overtook her and the pair waged a hard struggle until the finish. Had not Miss Aspell collided with Miss Sippel on the last lap, Miss Aspell might have made matters very close at the tape. Both girls were clocked at 26 4-5 seconds. Miss Sippel finished but one-fifth of a second behind Ethel Brown in the 20-yard back stroke race, the winner making the distance in 14 4-5 seconds. Miss Aspell finished third in this event.

Miss Irene Sippel, the 12-year-old sister of Grace Sippel virtually annexed the junior girl's all-around championship. Miss Irene has a total of 103 points and despite the fact that two more meets remain in the junior department, she cannot be beaten out.

LIONS

Palmyra Club Has Another Enthusiastic Meeting

The Palmyra Lions club had another enthusiastic meeting Tuesday evening. Several guests were present and there was almost a hundred percent attendance on the part of the cubs themselves.

Charles W. Wanger, of Riverton, had been scheduled to address the club, but a sudden business call from out of town prevented, so Tail Twister Frank Kates and Lions George Zeisner and Arthur Lieb put on a humorous and musical skit which they had been "itching" to present for some time.

Plans for a big ladies' night in the near future are being laid.

From time to time each of the members will be called upon to give a thirty-minute talk on his profession and the first of the series will be given next Tuesday evening by Frank Chambers on newspaper work.

CHAUTAUQUA

What a College President Said About It Recently

I regard the Swarthmore Chautauqua as one of the very foremost dynamic educational factors in the country. Its platform declarations are prophetic and its program of community building effective. It labors on social, labor and municipal frontiers. It enlarges community horizon and brings the average citizen in contact with world currents. It is the finest expression of the college brought to the community minus the college's technical mystification. It has helped me to interpret education.

Coming Saturday the executive committee has arranged a social for the Guarantors to take place in the home of Miss Emma Price, 416 Lippincott Ave., Riverton. Dr. Paul M. Pearson will be present and address the assembly. Refreshments will be served and those who desire to attend the meeting are asked to notify the secretary.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The regular meeting of Palmyra Troop No. 2 was held on Wednesday, March 16th, and was opened with assembly blown by one of the troop buglers. The regular opening exercises then took place, conducted by Senior Patrol Leader Hayes Brady.

After the opening exercises the boys spent an enjoyable half hour singing Scout songs, the rest of the meeting was spent with James Davidson, Sr., who gave them instructions on one of the Merit Badges.

The meeting was then closed by a prayer and taps.

The Scouts wish to extend an invitation to their parents and all other persons interested in Scout work to a Court of Honor to be held in the First Lutheran Church on the evening of March 29th at 7.30 o'clock sharp.

Please come out and help swell the crowd.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE FOR RIVERTON FIREMEN

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of the Riverton Fire Company held last Monday evening the most important subject was the insuring of the truck drivers against accidents. Under the State Law fire truck drivers are directly responsible for all accidents while they are operating the apparatus.

W. F. Hawley, of the United States Fidelity and Guarantee Company, talked to the board about the blanket insurance that is sold to protect all drivers in one fire Company. This proposition was referred to a committee for further investigation.

The membership committee revised the active list and placed 19 new men in the service.

BRIDGE IN TWO YEARS

Engineer Modjeski Predicts Palmyra Span 1927 If Work Is Started This Spring

R. R. PRIVATELY OWNED; WHY NOT BRIDGES?

The Tacony-Palmyra privately-owned bridge across the Delaware will be completed within two years, if the present plans are approved by the U. S. War Department, Ralph Modjeski, chief engineer, told the Northeast Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce at its luncheon last week. He said he hoped such approval would be forthcoming within two weeks.

"I feel sure we can complete the work by the fall of 1929 if we get the government's permit to begin this spring," he declared.

"As long as railroads are privately owned," he said, "there is no reason why bridges shouldn't be owned privately."

Opposition to the bridge has been voiced by shipping interests in the Delaware River and by former Mayor J. Hampton Moore, as president of the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association, who contends that because of the span's inadequate height, it would serve to block navigation on the upper Delaware.

BISHOP'S CRUSADE AT CHRIST CHURCH

Rev. John Talbot Ward, of St. Mary's, Burlington, Will Preach Here

Christ Church, Riverton, will participate in the Bishop's Crusade during the coming week. The Crusader will be the Rev. John Talbot Ward, the rector of St. Mary's Church, Burlington, who will have entire charge of the services.

It will begin with the service on Sunday evening at eight o'clock, and continue during the week, ending on Friday evening. All these services will be held at the same hour, eight o'clock. There will also be celebrations of the Holy Communion on Monday and Wednesday mornings at seven o'clock and on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday mornings at half past nine o'clock.

Two special services for children will be held on Tuesday and Friday afternoons at half past four. During this week the usual Lenten services will be omitted.

PHONE MERGER

Two Branches of Bell Company in Jersey Plan To Combine

The New York Telephone Company and the Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company filed, on March 22nd, 1927, with the Public Utility Commission of New Jersey, at Trenton, N. J., a joint petition asking the approval of the sale by the New York Telephone Company of all its property in New Jersey to the Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company, the latter Company to issue approximately $73,000,000 par value of stock in payment for the property.

The petition states that the object is to consolidate all the property of both Companies in the State of New Jersey under one corporation, which will be devoted entirely to the telephone interests of the State of New Jersey, and thereafter there will be only one Bell Company operating in this State.

The New York Telephone Company which is incorporated in both New York and New Jersey, owns and operates the telephone property in the northern and eastern parts of the State. The Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company is a New Jersey corporation already operating in western and southern Jersey exclusively. If the plans are approved, it will change its name to the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, or some similar appropriate name.

The principal effect of the transaction is the localizing to the State of New Jersey of the executive management of the property and service. At the present time the headquarters of the New York Telephone Company is located in New York City, with a General Manager of the Operating Department located at Newark. The headquarters of the Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company is in Philadelphia, and its general offices and part of its engineering and supervisory organization are common to it and the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania and the Diamond State Telephone Company. With the rapid growth in the telephone business which has taken place throughout the State during the past several years, it is felt that the telephone property in New Jersey has reached a size where material advantages can be realized by establishing an organization whose attention will be devoted entirely to the management of telephone affairs in New Jersey. If the plans are approved by the Commission, it is expected that the official staff of the Delaware & Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone Company will be expanded to meet these increased responsibilities and that the new organization will locate its headquarters in the State of New Jersey, the exact location to be determined upon by the new management.

RUMMAGE SALE

The Palmyra Girl Scouts did very well with their rummage sale Saturday, considering the kind of day they had.

The sale started at nine o'clock and although we kept open the biggest part of the day, we did not dispose of all the things kindly donated by our townspeople.

We had four express wagons filled with articles left over which were taken to Captain Green's home. She disposed of these later by the lot.

We made $45.59.

Secretary.

Fuel Cause of Engine Knock

Experiments by General Motors Locate Cause and Point Way to Remedy

Eight years ago the General Motors Research Laboratories started out to find the cause of "knocking" in automobile engines.

Their first task was to see just what goes on inside an automobile cylinder. So they invented special instruments by which they found that what has been called an "engine knock" or a "spark knock" is in reality a fuel knock—due to the tendency of straight gasoline to explode too quickly beyond certain temperature and compression limits.

Once the character of the "knock" was fully known, General Motors research engineers began their long series of experiments for something which would eliminate it. These experiments resulted in Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound, or "ETHYL," fluid as it is commonly known, which when mixed in infinitesimal quantities with straight gasoline forms Ethyl Gasoline—the most efficient "anti-knock" fuel yet discovered.

Ethyl Gasoline means more power, quicker pick-up and less gear-shifting. It is used by racing drivers throughout the county. It is used by the latest type of airplanes of the United States Navy. It has increased the motoring satisfaction of hundreds of thousands of car drivers. And it is destined to play a much more important part in the automobile history of the future. TRY IT.

Ethyl gasoline is sold at Albertson's Drive-In Service Station, Broad and Linden, Riverton. — Advertisement.

ROTARY TRAVELOGUE

Clarence Worrell of Moorestown Takes Club on Gunning Tour

An educational and instructive illustrated travelogue was delivered before the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club at their meeting on Thursday evening last by Clarence Worrell, Rotarian, of Moorestown.

Mr. Worrell who has spent considerable time in Florida took his colleagues from the sunny climes of the developed sections of the State into the wilds and sparcely settled sections where were found some of the most fruitful spots for game seeking enthusiasts.

Although encountering considerable difficulty in travel to reach the interior, some of the most picturesque spots of the Country's grandeur were found in these unpopulated sections.

From the rolling country and thickly vegetated parts of the north, Mr. Worrell then took his listeners down through the everglades and thence to the eastern shores visiting the principle winter resorts. He pointed out many beautiful sections containing some of the most costly dwellings and hotels and added that the majority of these had fallen in the wake of the recent storm.

Charles Geelan, representing the Jensen Manufacturing Company, was welcomed to the membership of the Club, being the forty-second member.

On next Thursday evening Directors for the ensuing year will be nominated, the election of which will follow one month from that date.

This evening will also be observed as Fellowship Night and will be under the supervision of that committee in charge, with George D. (Pat) Steedle as Chairman.

Many of the International and District Officers are scheduled for the program together with representatives from various local clubs.

LOCAL K. OF C. WILL VISIT RIVERSIDE COUNCIL

On next Monday evening, March 28, the members of St. Joseph Council will meet at the K. of C. Home at 7.30 p. m. at which time automobiles will be waiting to convey the local council to Riverside Council where they will be entertained as their guests. A large delegation from Palmyra and Riverton is expected to be on hand, when the local council invades our neighboring council, who have a treat in store for those who attend.

CITIZENS MUST HELP IF ENFORCEMENT SUCCEEDS

Only Remedy for Speakeasy and Saloon Condition Says Dry Agent

MESSAGE DELIVERED BY MAJ. GEORGE LYON

"It's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Citizen," was the burden of the addresses made at the law enforcement meeting held in the Moorestown high school auditorium Thursday evening of last week.

The meeting was under the auspices of the Burlington County League for Observance and Enforcement of Law, and in the absence of the president, the chair was occupied by Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, vice president.

The principal speaker was to have been Col. Ira L. Reeves, the new Prohibition Administrator for New Jersey, but just before the meeting he wired that he was ill and would be unable to attend. In his stead he sent Major George Lyon, his right-hand man, who told of the operation of the department. The Major said that the prohibition enforcement agencies would never be able to enforce prohibition without the assistance of citizens.

Favors "Outside" Men

The first speaker was the Rev. Parker B. Holloway, of Park Ridge, who told "How we passed and have enforced our Baby Volstead Act."

Rev. Mr. Holloway, who has been behind successful raids on saloons in his community, declared emphatically that the feat is to be accomplished only by getting outside men to do the work.

"Don't get local officers to make the raids," he advised. "It only makes them less popular, and the results are less satisfactory. In a small place, keepers of these places know the local officers when they see them, and are on their guard."

Differing Views

Philip T. Bell, chief of police of Kearney, N. J., whose talk directly followed that of the minister, just as earnestly advocated "letting the local officers do the work."

"In Kearney," he said, "people don't go running to the minister. They come to the police department with complaints. And we don't have to go outside to get prohibition enforcement. We have a police force the people have hired to do such work, and we do it. There's not a saloon in town now.

"Today, we have 22 padlocks on these places, and our own men do the raiding," he declared. "I've succeeded in getting a 100 percent conviction—I've never been beaten on a booze case yet.

Don't Tell Ministers

"If you've got a police department and a police chief, they're the ones to tell your troubles to—not the minister," he advised. "Then when you do catch the culprits, don't say you feel sorry for Jim Jones and he should have another chance. He's had his chance—let him ride."

The proposal that the citizenry of South Jersey report speakeasies and saloons to local officers, thus leaving federal men free "to stop the flow of liquor at its source," was made by Major George Lyon, executive assistant to Colonel Reeves.

"There are a large number of stills in New Jersey," Lyon stated, "and we want to get them all, but it is not fair to expect the federal men to get at all your local saloons too. Federal men should be concerned primarily with the source of supply—stills, ships and trucks bringing liquor in."

More stills were taken in New Jersey during the last three months than in any other state in the United States during the same length of time, thanks to this policy of the Federal men, he said.

No "Good Stuff"

There's only a minute quantity of "good stuff" to be had—only a portion of one percent—declared Major Lyon as he described the unsanitary condition under which he said New Jersey stills are operated.

"The dupes who think they're getting 'good stuff' because the labels say so are listening to pure bunk," he said. "It's easy to get labels, but practically nothing is coming over from the other side. And suppose the bootlegger should, by some chance, get hold of a little, why should he let you have it?

"He can 'cut' or dilute it once, twice, three times or even four times, and make a 400 percent profit. It's a question of economics. A man is a fool who believes in the 'good stuff' bunk.

"What about the rest of the stuff, then, so far as New Jersey is concerned? Oh, they make it from all sorts of denatured alcohol, and usually mix in some anti-freeze for automobiles. Much sulphuric acid and charcoal is used, and then some flavoring, and the mess is run through the still. It comes out 'Johnny Walker' and 'Old Crow' and sells for $4, $5 and $6 a bottle.

Those who occupied the stage with Mrs. Frantz, in addition to the speakers were Freeholders Charles R. Stout, William H. Heisler, Curwen B. Fisher, Howard Russ and Fred Lippincott, Judge William Slaughter and Arthur L. Richie.

Music was furnished by the County YMCA Orchestra.

SCHOLASTICS WIN

Palmyra Five Defeats Willingboro In Rough Game

The newly organized Palmyra Scholastics won their basketball game from the Willingboro Y. M. C. A. team at Willingboro, Tuesday night, in a bitterly fought and rough game, final score, 27 to 24. The contest was more like a football game than basketball, nearly one hundred fouls being called. The game was staged before the largest crowd to witness a basketball game in the Y. M. C. A. building this season.

Jack Eisley played his usual great game and besides scoring quite a few points himself, managed to shut Willingboro's star center, Joe Kolster, out without a field or foul goal.

Bill McKee had his optic on the basket and went on a scoring spree, sinking several difficult shots from the sides of the floor. Vince Kalinowski displayed a wonderful floor game and shut Bintliff, Willingboro forward, out from the field. Bintliff is usually good for a dozen points or more.

A. Bright and West, Palmyra guards, both played exceptionally well. Stewart and Cravat were the stars that featured for Willingboro.

In another preliminary game the Willingboro Y Second team outclassed Bright's All-Stars. Perkins was the star for Willingboro while Doughy, Schwalber and R. Bright featured for the losers.

"CHARLIE" IS A BUSY, BUSY MAN

C. B. Durborrow, Erstwhile Swimming Champion Takes on More Activities

Charles B. Durborow has been elected first vice-president and a director of the Madras Gold Mine located in Greenville, California. Mr. Durborow will spend the month of June in California at the mine which is reputed to be one of the richest mines in California.

Mr. Durborow has also been appointed as the Philadelphia and vicinity representative of the Coral Gables Corporation. The offices will be at 1418 Walnut street, Philadelphia, where Mr. Durborow is located in business as President of the Ocean Realty Company.

The Ocean Realty Company, of which Mr. Durborow is president, has taken over the selling agency of Brant Beach, in place of Robert R. Osborn. Mr. Durborow is president also of the Brant Beach Realty Company and Mr. Osborn is a director. The change is merely to facilitate business as the Ocean Realty Company is the selling agent for the Ortley Beach Company and Surf City Realty Company, Mr. Durborow being president of both companies as well.

Mr. Durborow was elected president of the Barnegat Beach Company, a new development on Barnegat Bay, sponsored by nine men, all bankers and realtors of South Jersey.

Everett C. Sullivan is to become associated with the Durborow developments by being made grounds sales manager at Ortley Beach.

Louis C. Clelland is also connected and is regarded as one of the most valued men in the organization.

PROGRESS GROUP

The meeting was opened by our leader.

George Cooper led the group in prayer.

Our Bible study was in the form of a Bible treasure hunt. The leader gave out the book, chapter and verse and the fellow who found these references first the most times won the game. Arthur Reeves won the treasure hunt.

Scouting for Words is a game that all the fellows like so we played that for a while after our serious part of the meeting was over. We also had a boxing match which Alfred Harding's side won.

The meeting was held at the home of Sherman Gootee. For "eats" we had hot chocolate and cakes for which we all thanked Mrs. Gootee.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Frank Alloway.

Our meeting was closed as usual by the Friendship Circle.

HAVE YOU CHARM?

If your husband's second cousin married an oil painter and came to spend a few days with you would you know how to entertain him so he would think he was in Paris? Would you know how to plan a formal ball or what to say to him about the art galleries? Perhaps you would not and it may not be your fault but it would be your fault if you did not take the opportunity of seeing "Charm," a comedy in three acts to be presented by the Ladies' Aid of the First Lutheran Church at the High School on Friday, and Saturday, April 22 and 23.

Jack Eisley First on All-State Team

Palmyra High School Lad is Wonderful Basketball Player

Jack Eisley proved to be the class of forwards in scholastic ranks who played in the South Jersey Tournament at the Camden Convention Hall when he was picked first, by judges, for the all-state team.

Coach Dimond has a good prospect in Eisley. He is a junior and has another year in high school.

Eisley is 17, over six feet in height and ideally built for basketball. His work thrilled the spectators at all three games in which he took part in winning the Class B title for Palmyra High at the South Jersey Tournament. Jack is fast and clever and knows a lot of basketball and has a wonderful eye for the basket.

Although a wonderful scorer, his value is not confined to pointmaking. He plays a wonderful floor game, takes full advantage of his height at all times and knows how to use many of the clever little tricks so essential in the make-up of a first-class basketball player. Eisley is also a fine dribbler and an accurate passer.

In the three games which Palmyra High won at the Convention Hall, Eisley scored 13 field goals and made nine of fifteen fouls for a total of thirty-five points. He was also credited with six assists which is proof of his value as a team player.

Another proof of Eisley's wonderful ability on the court is the feat he accomplished in a game last Satruday night. In this contest, Jack tallied a total of 17 field goals against the Second Ward team of Burlington. Without doubt Eisley is one of the best basketball players in the state.

PHS BASEBALL

Fifty Lads Answer Coach's Call For Practice

Fifty boys reported to Coach Kenneth C. Dimond last week when he called for candidates for the baseball nine at Palmyra High School. Up until Monday of this week the candidates were not given any infield practice but had plenty of batting drill in order to get an eye on the ball. On Monday the infield at the Field Club grounds was put into shape by use of a heavy roller.

Captain Charles Zoll will more than likely hold down the third base position and his younger brother, Albert, will make a strong bid for the catching position. Others out for catcher who look good according to Coach Dimond are Louie Meunier and Harry Litle.

Cliff West will again bear the brunt of the pitching. Jack Simth, a veteran hurler, has left school. Bauer also looks good to Dimond and he is trying to develop Spike Hennessey, of basketball fame, into a pitcher. Spike was out for first base last season.

Other veterans who are back this season are Jack Eisley, an outfielder, and Johnny Mayers. Meyers played shortstop last year before he broke his ankle in a practice game, but Coach Dimond expects to switch John to second base this season. Paul Mueller and Windish are fighting it out for the initial sack.

Uniforms and other equipment have already been purchased and the manager announces that the season will open on Tuesday, April 12, at home with Paulsboro.

SPELLING BEE

Haddonfield Lad Proves Individual Champion

Donald Coutts, of Haddonfield, was individual winner, and Pennsgrove High School captured first team prize from 47 schools in the spelling bee held for South Jersey and Eastern Pennsylvania high schools on Saturday afternoon.

The entrants sent to represent Palmyra High School in the Pierce Business School contest Saturday afternoon did not come out as winners, but made a good showing. Between 200 and 300 contestants participated in this spelling bee. Palmyra's entrants did not reach the final oral test but took part in the written tests.

After the luncheon the final oral contest was held at the Lit Brothers Store and was broadcast from Station WLIT at 4.30 o'clock.

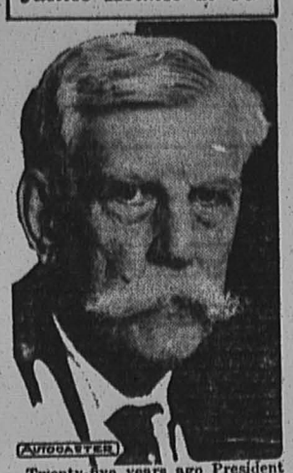

The entrants who represented Palmyra High were Miss Katherine Burr, a sophomore of Riverton, who proved to be the champion speller in the school in a contest held some time ago; Miss Jane Schmidt, a junior from Riverton; Miss Muriel Burgman, a senior of Palmyra; Miss Mary Malone, a sophomore, and Francis Kievan, a freshmen from Riverside.

Miss Ruth Hemingway, a senior of Palmyra and Miss Josephine Malloy, a freshman also of Palmyra, were the alternates for Palmyra.

NEW JENSEN PLANT READY FOR APRIL 1

Modern Factory Building in West Palmyra Soon to be Completed

The Jensen Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of large washing machines for laundrys, will begin operation of their plant opposite Arch Street station, West Palmyra, on or about April 1st.

The new plant has one building 100 by 150 and another one 60 by 100. The company intends to build another 40 by 100 in the near future.

These buildings were built by George W. Shaner and Sons, of Palmyra. They are not yet entirely completed, but men are still busy working daily in order to have the plant finished by the first of April.

The new Palmyra plant is contructed of red brick. It will have all modern equipment, with overhead cranes for carrying purposes. Everything will be operated by electric power. There will be a large railroad siding to furnish loading facilities.

The business was established in 1907 by Christian Jensen, but two years ago was taken over by Camden men, including John M. Kelley president; T. Yorke Smith, vice-president; Paul J. Kelley, secretary and George L. Heck, treasurer and general manager.

JACK ON PAROLE

Miller Lad Given New Chance to Go Straight

Jack Miller, the 13-year-old boy who took $45.50 from the lady members of the choir at the M. E. Church several weeks ago, was freed on parole last Thursday. He was given one year probation.

Two Palmyra men, D. Gray Schwartz, and Herbert H. Parsons, 35 Rowland street, pleaded for the Miller lad and agreed to assist him in any way possible in the future.

Winks Trim Second Ward, Burlington

Score of 82 to 16 Run Up by Palmyra Team Over Visitors

The Palmyra Scholastics had an easy win Saturday night at Palmyra when they trounced the Second Ward team of Burlington under an avalanche of field goals, winning 82 to 16.

Jack Eisley and Shultz ran wild as Palmyra crushed the Burlington City League combination.

Marlton was originally scheduled to play Palmyra in the last Burlington County League contest but inability of Marlton to secure several players resulted in forfeiting both league games to the Palmyra first and second teams.

Eisley scored at will in making his 17 goals from the field. Shultz broke loose and had a total of 15 double-deckers. Eisley and Shultz scored enough points each to beat Second Ward single-handed. Griffenburg had five baskets to his credit while Bright found time to sink a pair of two-pointers. Kalinowski did not score but played his usual great guarding and floor game.

Paul Burk was again the whole works in the Palmyra Juniors 20 to 15 victory over the Fourth Ward team, also of Burlington. Burk accounted for 12 of the 20 markers, four field goals and four fouls.

Lawrence featured for the losers with a total of nine markers.

MOVIE PRIZE

Broadway Palace Will Give Away Toy Auto

The Broadway Palace will give a beautiful toy automobile to the boy or girl holding the lucky number on Thursday evening, April 21. Starting last Thursday night each person entering the theatre is given a coupon with a number on it. The person must be in the theatre the night of the drawing in order to win the Packard, the sport roadster known as the "Car Wonderful." The drawing will be made at 9 o'clock on Thursday night, April 21.

The Car "Wonderful" is special made and entirely different from other toy autos. The sport roadster is a two passenger and has a rumble seat, with back and seat upholstered. The windshield has full nickled airflex wings, a wiper, a rear view mirror and spot light.

The automobile has a tilting wheel control box, two levers, and a door that opens. It has a chain drive just like a bicycle with two piece adjustable rubber pedals and has full balloon tires and roller bearings.

You are invited to inspect this automobile. Attend the theatre and get a lucky number but remember that you must be in the theatre the night of the drawing, Thursday, April 21, in order to win the automobile.

You may eat your cake and have it, too, by baking two cakes.

PHS Fails To Win New Jersey Crown

South Jersey Champs Are Beaten by Roselle Park by 25 to 22

Palmyra High School's basketball team, South Jersey Class B champs, were eliminated in the semi-finals at Jersey City last Friday by Roselle Park. Roselle Park was beaten by Ridgefield Park, which won the Class B. championship of the state.

Trenton High won the Class A championship by defeating Passaic's wonder team.

The final count was Palmyra, 22; Roselle Park, 25. Palmyra held a 9-8 advantage at half time, but weakened in the third quarter, and although making a final spurt, lost out in the last few minutes.

Jack Eisley kept Palmyra in the running throughout by scoring four of his team's eight field goals and four out of four fouls for an even dozen markers.

"Spike" Hennessey, who played such a wonderful game against Burlington in the South Jersey tournament, sank two double-deckers and one of two fouls for five points.

Branson and West sank the other two of Palmyra's goals from the field with pretty shots as Captain "Vince" Kalinowski played an exceptionally good floor game, holding his man from scoring a single point.

Rankin was the outstanding star for Roselle Park with four field goals. Kirket made three from the field and Conrad, two. Johnson, at center, tallied a two-pointer and four of four fouls for half a dozen points.

Friendly Thoughts by Frank A. Snover

One sought truth in the library, another in the field. The philosophers upon the shelves wrangled, and the man among books sighed with disappointment. In the field, the daisies nodded toward the east when the west wind whispered to them, and when the north wind roared, they turned their heads toward the south. As a gentle rain fell upon them they bowed their heads in thankful prayer—as did the man who went among them seeking truth.

Why shouldn't the Standard Oil Company make the best motor oil?...Well, it does.. and puts its name on it

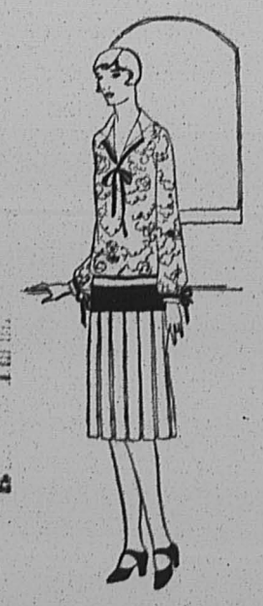

Our motor oil would not carry the name "Standard" if it did not possess the best qualities claimed for other lubricating oils, plus extra lubricating power of its own. When you buy "Standard" Motor Oil you can get the right grade for your motor. It is always uniform. It minimizes carbon. It resists heat. Can a motorist ask more from any oil?

"Valleyend" Latest Moorestown Tract

Bridge Way Realty Company Announces Fine Forty-Acre Development

Another bit of lovely Moorestown, Valleyend, a 40-acre tract just off East Main street, lying next to East Moorestown, is being developed. Hand in hand with the extraordinary activity in real estate this community is enjoying, comes one more opportunity for home owners and investors.

Eli S. Dies, of the Bridge Way Realty Company, Philadelphia, is sales director. Cole & Edgar, 25 E. Main street, Moorestown, is the local agent.

Mr. Dies' organization was responsible for Moorestown Heights being on the map today. This plot was first offered for sale a little less than two years ago and changed ownership completely in phenomenal time. Likewise, about a year ago the Bridge Way people started developing East Moorestown. It is now very largely sold. "Valleyend" is the latest tract to come into the limelight, and offers a most exclusive and choice number of home sites.

Mr. Dies said:—

"In view of the rapidly increasing ground value in this locality, it is a safe wager that Valleyend will be snapped up quickly. Doubtless those who had an opportunity to invest in Moorestown Heights, for instance, and passed it up, are wishing that they had this opportunity all over again. Neighboring ground is selling unsolicitedly, and with a millionaire's colony in sight, virtually next door, Moorestown Heights owners are hugging themselves for joy.

"Valleyend, like Moorestown Heights and East Moorestown, presents a 'lay of land' that is ideal from the standpoint of being high, dry and level—to say nothing of its superb surroundings." In conclusion he declared, "there's a big future ahead for Moorestown and every Moorestown investor. Those who are sticklers for the exclusive in home sites, will do well to weigh this matter well."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

Sunday School at ten o'clock in the morning with a review of the "Studies in The Christian Life" which we have been having during the first quarter of the new year. Golden Text: "If ye love me, ye will keep my commandments." There is an old fairy-tale about two brothers who were brought up in the same home. One fell into evil ways while away from home and was changed by a magician into a wolf. Years later the other brother met the wolf and was attacked, but by gazing steadfastly and lovingly into the wolf's eyes, the man had the joy of seeing the wolf features of his brother disappear, and his brother restored to manhood. The tale illustrates the truth that love tends to bring out the best of manliness and kill the animal nature in humanity.

Church services at 11.15 in the morning with special music by the choir. The pastor will deliver the fourth of the series on Christ's last day contacts—"The Contact with a Faltering Man." There will be a children's object sermon with lots of action.

Young People's Meeting at 6.45 followed by vesper services at 7.45. The choir will render an anthem.

Prayer services Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The thought of the evening will be based on John 16: 8-11 dealing with the relationship of the Holy Spirit and the World. After the service we shall have a meeting of Church Membership Committee. This will be a most important meeting, as we shall have reports and also make further plans. We can say with St. Paul: "Brethren, the time is short."

Catechetical instruction Friday evening at seven o'clock, at which time we take up the study of the sixth and seventh commandments.

CALVARY Y. M. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Calvary Y was held in the Methodist Church on Monday evening. The meeting was called to order by the president and Owen Bottger lead us in prayer. We then had the Bible lesson which was given by our assistant leader. After the Bible lesson the business of the meeting was attended to. Then we were given some red hot music rendered by Chick Foulke and Laddie Dickenson on their musical umbrellas. As the group was in a good mood after the music we decided to a debate. The subject was resolved: That school athletics should not interfere with scholastics. The judge decided that the negative side won by a point. The meeting was then adjourned.

We could not have the use of the Methodist gym because of a supper and meeting which was taking place there so we agreed to go up to the Y. M. C. A. building on Broad street. When we arrived at the Y building most of the fellows went upstairs to the basketball court and played basketball but there were a few who stayed downstairs and played ping pong, which is a game on the order of tennis. Owen Bottger starred at this game and captured the championship. While the ping pong tournament was going on downstairs, Sloan's Foul Eaters and Hutchins' Basket flangers were upstairs playing against each other for the basketball championship. When the final whistle blew the score was tie so the teams agreed to play off the tie some other night. As it was then late in the evening we decided to leave for home.

"THE SCHEMING SIX"

The Junior High School Club of Riverton is making preparation for a play to be presented some time in April. The play is "The Scheming Six" the story of how six girls at a boarding school try to "put one over" on the head mistress. The dramatic ability of the girls in this club augurs well for the success of the play.

EPISCOPAL

Christ Church, Parry Ave.
Rev. G. J. McCormack M. A., L. Th. Rector

The Christian is eminently a hopeful being; he has hopes for himself and his kind which surprize the non-Christian Society around him.—

His faith is not a blind faith for he has good grounds for his hopefulness and is always ready "To give answer to every man that asketh a reason concerning the hope in him, yet with weakness and fear"

He will not be satisfied with a delusion and so can use all the things of earth and yet recognize them even in the highest excellency as but temporary, with no sort of finality in them. In other words where men seek always—things—and vainly try to find contentment in that which has no power to give the sense of contentment—the Christian finds God, and has an abiding sense of values that last.

All men seek—some make the mistake of stopping short in their search—that is, of omitting to ask "What is it I am seeking."

Where the sun shines in the street
There are very many feet
Seeking God, all unaware
That their hastening is a prayer.
Perhaps these feet would deem it odd
(Who think they are on business bent)
If some one went
And told them, "You are seeking God."

And Lent gives an opportunity to think out abiding values and approach the Easter Festival with a sense of joy anad conviction, for we know that only the Risen Christ gives us the guarantee that the true seeker will find the power of God.

The Wednesday evening service at eight o'clock will have the Rev'd Harold Morse, Rector of Merchantville as the preacher.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet as usual on Thursday for an all-day session of work and study. The meeting will conclude at 4 p. m. with a short service and address lasting till 4:45. A very cordial invitation is given to all, especially to High School students.

The new roof on the church and the old parish house, is very much admired—Indeed the general surroundings of the church grounds together with the public park, and the immediate residences, form one of the "garden spots" of our town and make us justly proud of the location of Christ Church.

Services next Sunday at the usual hours:

Holy Communion 7.30 a. m.
Morning Prayer and Sermon 10.30
Sunday School and Bible Class 2.30 p. m.
Evensong and Sermon 8.00 p. m.

NEW USES for OLD THINGS

Someone has said, "There is nothing new under the sun." LACQUERS were used long before the Christian era.

Practically all automobiles today are finished with Lacquer, because of its durability and fine appearance.

These same qualities make Lacquer the ideal finish for furniture and interior woodwork. The housewife is finding new pleasure in the many beautiful effects she can secure by the use of this material which is so easy to apply, and gives the finished effect of skilled craftsmanship.

Wicker furniture, kitchen furniture, bathroom and all interior woodwork are made to look better than new with

CABRIOLET POPULAR

New Four Passenger Body Style Latest Addition to Pontiac Line

The diversified purposes for which the four passenger Sport Cabriolet, the new car added to the new Pontiac Six line, may be used has made this model one of the most popular in the line.

This comparatively new body type has enjoyed a tremendous vogue due to its many-sided utility. It has all the advantages of the coupe in that the front seat is entirely enclosed—and in addition has carrying capacity for two extra passengers in the rumble seat. It possesses, likewise, all the rakish qualities of design and equipment of the sport style of car. It has been found that those who desire the intimate type of car such as the coupe, frequently desire extra passenger space for outings or to give friends a lift home.

In probably no other model in the Pontiac line is the Fisher craftmanship so admirably revealed as in this car. The leather top is soft and without slats, while nickel-plated landau bows add a distinguished touch to the completeness of the car. It is finished in Cherokee Gray Duco, striped in orange on the bottom, hood louvres, and moulding. The top and fenders are finished in Bresvort Green, while the leather upholstery is in Green.

NEW NASH MODELS

That the new Nash enclosed models with their 7-bearing crankshaft motors, forward-sweeping French-type backs, and French-type roofs have met with instant public favor abroad as well as in this country, is borne out in the big increase in orders received by the company for February export shipment.

Although February, 1926, showed a Nash export sales increase of 42½% over the biggest previous February in the history of the company, orders and shipments for last month were 56% greater than for the same month a year ago and it is pointed out that February, 1927, although the shortest calendar month, was over 9% larger than September, 1926, the best preceding month in Nash export history.

On March 1, export orders on hand for shipment during the month indicated another record will be broken.

ASBURY NOTES

On Sunday evening, Fred W. Pegant, a returned missionary from Bolivia, South America, who is home on a furlough, having been in Bolivia five years and nine months, spoke in the Cambridge Union Mission, on Matthew 28: 17-20 and told of their work in Bolivia. It was very interesting and helpful.

Brother Pegant said there were about two and one-half million people in Bolivia and the place is made up of cities, towns, villages and ranges. This is the home of Oakrin, Peru Indians. They make their beds of mud. The Mission where he was working is from 11 to 13 thousand feet above sea level.

There were six stations, forty-five Missions, seven missionary societies working in Bolivia and one hundred converts. Only one-seventh of Bolivia is being touched by missionaries. Brother Pegant said that every four months of the year it rains in Bolivia. He also told many other interesting things about his work. Over sixty people were present at this service.

On Sunday, March 27th, at the Asbury M. E. Church will be Sunday School at 9 a. m. Preaching at 9.45 and 3.30 p. m. We expect to have Rev. John R. Mason, of Pearsonville, a former pastor, also Rev. Marshall Owens, of Moorestown. This is expected to be the formal opening of the Asbury Church after the renovation. We have the church painted on the inside and new Brussels carpet on the floor.

GAMBLING

Charles M. Schwab, able business man, leaving Europe, says he is never going back. Also, he knows he is getting old, "because I am losing the thrill of gambling." That is not a sign of getting old, only a sign of geting wise. They wonder is that as able a man as Schwab should ever have found a thrill in gambling.

Gamblers substitute false excitements for real achievement. Men that are real doers are rarely gamblers, and men that have no serious occupation are gamblers nearly always.

All savages and few philosophers gamble.

ANNUAL COMMUNION BREAKFAST, K. of C.

Addresses by William C. Carroll and Deputy Fred W. Floyd, Jr.

St. Joseph's Council K. of C. attended communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass at the Sacred Heart Church, Riverton, on Sunday last, after which the Council marched in a body to the Knights of Columbus Home for their second annual breakfast served by a local caterer.

William C. Carroll, of Philadelphia, a member of the Executive Board of the Travelers Insurance Company, and a member of the Reception Committee of the recent visit to the Academy of Music in Philadelphia of the Irish Republican Leader, Eamon DeValera, was the main speaker at the breakfast.

Carroll gave a sort of history of Ireland, and reviewed the duties that the members of the Knights of Columbus owe to their Council, their Order and the Country.

District Deputy Fred W. Floyd, Jr., commended the council on the inception of boy work in the council, and praised the men for their interest which they have shown in their council during the past year and a half.

Rev. Joseph A. Rigney, Chaplain of the council, commended the members on the large turnout at the early meeting and who officiated at the mass just before the breakfast.

Grand Knight Joseph F. Yearly gave a brief address and acted as toastmaster of the occasion.

Court Appoints Committee to Draft Resolution in Atkinson Death

Prior to the opening of the regular day's Court business on Thursday of last week, Attorney Robert Peacock appeared before the bar and called attention to the death of Samuel A. Atkinson, a former Prosecutor of the Pleas and a practicing attorney for a long term of years, and in a short but very proper eulogy suggested that resolutions of regret at his passing be added to the minutes of the Burlington County Bar, and the Court appointed Messrs. Peacock, Richard B. Eckman, Willard F. Lippincott and Stanley K. Heilbron a committee to draft such a minute. All of these young men studied law in the offices of the deceased and their appointment was very appropriate.

The Court disposed of several Orphans' Court matters including one adoption, and then delved into criminal matters, as follows:

Adolph Gold, of Roebling, charged in two complaints with having liquor in his possession and also with having utensils for the manufacture of the same, to wit, a still, pleaded guilty to both charges.

He was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 on the possession charge and sentence was suspended on the charge of having utensils. Gold is said to be a first offender.

Boys Given Six Months

Melcher Sharp and Samuel Cranmer, seventeen-year-old Mount Holly boys, pleaded guilty to stealing about $200 worth of miscellaneous goods from five or more bungalows along the upper creek, and they went to jail for six months each.

Lawrence Perry and Arthur Sterling, two young men who claimed New York state as their residence, pleaded guilty to entering the kitchen of Charles Winklespecht, at Beverly, and stealing articles of food. They went to jail for ten days each.

Essie M. Thomas, the young Mt. Holly colored girl, who forged the name of Adilla Evans, of Masonville, to a check for $15 drawn on the Moorestown Trust Company and cashed by Harry V. Shoop, of Mount Holly, also pleaded guilty.

The girl admitted that she had forged another check on a previous occasion but the matter had been settled without her being arrested.

The Court took into consideration the respectability of the culprit's parents and the fact that restitution had been made and sentenced the girl to pay a fine of $50.

Theodore Dempsey, the young suspect picked up in Riverside by Chief Voshell, with a revolver and a lot of cheap jewelry in his possession, pleaded guilty to carrying a weapon.

Dempsey Sentenced

Detective Parker's office had investigated this young man, as it was thought he knew something about the numerous robberies along the river front, but the investigators failed to connect him with any of them. They did find, however, that he had twice been sent to the State Reformatory from Gloucester and Camden for breaking and entering and larceny, and this report was bad for the young man, for the Court figured that he was one of the elements not needed in Burlington county society and sent him to the state prison for one year.

Antonia Damiani, of Riverside, was charged with having dangerous weapons and assault and battery. He was arrested by Chief Voshell and had a large carving knife with him, and the complainant, Frank Ambrose, claimed Damiani was out to carve up both him and his wife.

He went to jail for three months.

Jack Miller, the Palmyra boy who just can't keep from stealing and whose last escapade netted him $45 when he helped himself to money in the pockets of members of the choir of the Methodist church at Palmyra, after he found their coats unguarded in the cloak room of the church, was before the Court with his mother to hear the report of Dr. R. A. Brotemarkle, of Philadelphia, who had examined the boy at the suggestion of the Court and the prosecutor. Unfortunately for Jack, the report was not very rosy.

Jack Miller on Probation

However, two young men from the Epworth Methodist church, who are also interested in the Boy Scouts, came to his rescue, along with the mother, and the Court placed the boy on probation for one year, with the understanding that the young men and the mother must keep close tabs on him and report him the first time he departs from the straight and narrow path.

Thomas Peyton, a southern negro who had been in Burlington about five months, was before the Court charged with an attempt to steal clothing to the amount of $25 from the store of George Clayton, in that city.

He pleaded guilty and went back to jail in default of $50 fine.

Joseph Crain, sixteen-years-old, of Medford, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the store of Samuel Kline, the well-known baseball player, and stealing $18 at one time and $47 at another.

Young Crain has been before the Court before, for being with a gang of other boys who robbed a bungalow near Medford.

The Court gave him a severe warning and then taxed him with $25 costs and instructed him to pay Mr. Kline the amount of money stolen, all of it to be earned by himself.

All of the above defendants came into court on waivers.

Attorney James Mercer Davis appeared in behalf of Arnold Backenbach, the attorney indicted for misappropriating the funds of a client, and produced a doctor's certificate to shaw that Backenbach was ill and could not be present and secured two weeks more time, at the expiration of which the defaulting lawyer will be expected to be there for sentence.

Firemen Will Join In Holly Jubilee

County Association Will Assist County Seat Company on Anniversary Program

It is expected that nearly every fire company in the county will take part in a big parade that will be staged by the Relief Fire Company, Mount Holly, in connection with the week's celebration that the company is arranging in observing its one hundred and seventy-fifth anniversary in July. Action along this line was taken at the monthly meeting of the Burlington County Firemen's Association, the Union Fire House, Mount Holly, Wednesday night of last week.

Miss Helen McHugh, who is arranging the celebration, spoke at the meeting and explained the various details of the coming affair. The parade program that she outlined appealed to the firemen and they decided to get back of the proposition. Thus the parade will become a county affair and be similar to the one that took place in Burlington nearly three years ago.

The meeting was in charge of David A. Brotherton, of Burlington, president of the county organization. The session was one of the largest that has been held for some time and one of the most interesting. Some two hundred and fifty members were present.

An address of welcome was made by S. Earl Asay, chief of the Mount Holly Fire Department, who gave the glad hand to the visitors in a pleasing manner.

Legislative bills of interest to firemen were read at the meeting. They have to do with insuring fire apparatus and the men who drive the machines. Insurance for firemen in general is included. The bills were sent out by the Camden County Firemen's Association in order to secure Burlington County's support. The support was given. The bills will be presented to the legislature by Senator Forsythe, of Camden County.

Stephen J. Steinmann, of Riverside, spoke at the meeting in defense of the Riverside Fire Department. It was charged, Mr. Steinman said, that Riverside firemen had refused to answer a summons at a recent fire in the county, which was not true. The Riverside firemen investigated the summons, and on learning that the fire was in a barn, that several companies already were on hand, and that the condition was being well taken care of, they did not think it wise to go to the blaze and leave their own town without fire protection. The Riverside firemen were especially desirous of making this clear to the people of Burlington county.

Each of those running against me have designated "a Manager, but I am unmanageable, although I shall attempt to manage my own campaign and to keep within the provisions of the asinine legislation under which the man must seek the office instead of having the office seek the man as intended by the wise founders of our Government.

I. Snowden Haines.

ELECTRICITY and GAS OPEN HOME DOORS TO GREATER COMFORT and MORE LEISURE

WEDDING bells chime nearly every day in this lovely season of spring. Thanks to modern electric and gas service, no girl need marry today with the fear that domestic drudgery faces her. With an oven heat regulator gas range, a gas fired water heater, an electric cleaner and electric equipment for the laundry, the bride of today is guaranteed against the heavy unpleasant tasks that were her grandmother's portion.

Public Service is on watch every hour of the day and night to see that Electricity and Gas are ready for every call from the home.

Kitchen Dimensions Should Not Influence Size of Gas Range

THE kitchen of lesser dimensions that is now in favor has much to commend it. Among other things there's less walking to do in a small kitchen and it's easier to keep it clean.

In planning a new home, however, or in buying one, it's wise to be sure that kitchen equipment doesn't shrink to impractical size in order to fit the kitchen.

The home-maker wants a full sized gas range. It's hard to cook on a crowded cooking top. There must be room to move the pots and pans around, there must be enough burners to keep the contents of all the utensils cooking or at least hot. For practical purposes the gas range should have four full-sized top burners, and the convenient simmering burner. To avoid the dangerous clutter of matches and to speed up cooking, the gas range should carry an automatic lighter for the top burners.

A sixteen inch wide oven will accommodate the roast or whole meal of the average family. An oven heat regulator is a convenience that every home-maker would do well to use. Baking or cooking in the oven on a time and temperature basis improves food flavors, reduces shrinkage of meats, and makes all bakings turn out successfully, if ingredients are measured properly. The use of the regulator releases the housekeeper from watching the progress of her baking.

Enamel finish is another advantage that the home-maker likes in a gas range—it can be cleaned with a damp cloth, and can be had in light colors that make the gas range fit in with the kitchen color scheme.

At Public Service stores, every gas range sold is equipped with an automatic lighter for the top burners, without extra charge. Public Service prices also include delivery and connection from the gas outlet in the kitchen.

Public Service stores offer an easy payment plan that permits the customer to install the gas range selected and complete payment out of income.

Lighting Helps For Convenience

THOUGH a house may be well wired there are always little conveniences, which are easily installed and which make a vast difference in the comfort of the household. A switch in the lower hall that turns on an upstairs light and cellar lights that are controlled from the head of the stairs, may prevent some serious accident. Lights which may be reduced to half their burning power are convenient to have in bathroom, hall or nursery.

When passing from room to room with the arms filled, it is not necessary to stop and put everything down before turning on a light, if "toggle switches" are installed. The merest flick of a finger, or a slight movement of the elbow will put the lights on or off.

Convenience Outlets

Outlets in the baseboard of the living-room make it possible to plug in additional reading lamps wherever they're wanted. These outlets are especially necessary for best results with the vacuum cleaner. And it is convenient to have several outlets in the dining-room, so that toaster, percolator, or grill may be used on the buffet or at the table.

An ironing need not be completed before daylight fades for a double socket may be used for both the iron and the electric lamp. Two-way plugs are essential in the boudoir, so that the hair may be waved before a properly illuminated mirror.

Electricity Helps To Keep One Fit

SPRING days are apt to sap the vitality and bring a feeling of lassitude. Sometimes a home treatment with the Violet Ray will help to restore energy or relax tense nerves. It is not claimed for the Violet Ray that it is a "cure-all," but that it has proved beneficial to many persons in the treatment of various ailments.

The same electricity that lights lamps or runs an electric washer is used to create Violet Rays. The apparatus may be connected to any light socket.

Public Service has models suitable for private and professional use. Priced from $12.50 up.

Electric Radiators At Low Prices

IN the springtime, perhaps more than in any other season, the need is felt for an electric radiator. Furnace fires are allowed to lag a little. Windows are opened wide while housecleaning progresses. It is convenient then to be able to attach an electric radiator and let its warm rays take the chill off some particular corner while the temperature of the room is returning to normal.

The electric radiator is light in weight and the handle remains cool no matter how long the current is on, making it easy to move and to connect it to another outlet.

Public Service has reduced the prices of all electric radiators. They now range from $4.00 up.

Waffles Are Always A Popular Dish

THERE is usually hurry and scurry to see who will be first at the table when the delicious odor of waffles is detected and the cry of "Waffles for breakfast" is received with shouts of joy, for all the children love toothsome golden brown waffles.

Public Service has waffle sets for sale, which make it easy to cook waffles right at the dining-room table and to serve them piping hot. The set consists of griddle iron, a pitcher for the batter, a jug for the syrup, and a round tray on which the three utensils may be placed. The price for the complete set is $10.95.

Waffle irons without other equipment range in price from $9 to $16.

Breakfasts Quickly Made, Electrically

THE electric Percolator soon brews delicious amber-clear coffee, and its partner the electric toaster turns bread golden-brown in a moment.

A BEAUTIFUL SCENE

There is nothing more beautiful than the woods in the spring time. The flowers are all budding or blooming. The sky is blue and the trees are very green. The gurgling of the small brook is very lulling. There is a balmy breeze, which is gently swaying the dewy, green leaves of the massive oak trees. The daisies and violets border the crooked stony path, which winds between the trees.

Large trees shade the cool brook and the green grass. The humming bees and the flitting butterflies fly swiftly between the trees and over the bushes. The birds are chirping their sweet spring songs in clear sharp notes. The robin, bluebird and cardinal are the most beautiful. Here and there a nest may be seen on a branch of a tree, with some small eggs in it.

The woods in general have a very fresh, beautiful appearance.

SPRING IS HERE

When the sun is shining and the birds are singing,
People's voices are showing,
Spring is here.

When the children's voices are singing,
And the robins are flying,
Spring is here.

When the flowers are blooming,
And the bees are humming;
Butterflies are flying,
Spring is here.

COMPOSITION IN THE 7th and 8th GRADES

This year we have studied all the types of composition. Last week we had oral composition, while this week we were given a choice of subjects. This year we have learned to write stories, conversation, exposition, letters, invitations, personal experiences, poetry, plays and description.

It is important that we be able to stand on our feet before the class and give an oral composition, and it is equally as important to write one correctly. We are now trying to choose picturesque words, phrases and setting.

GRADE III

The 3rd grade carried off the honors in the recent setting project, disposing of $23.80 worth of seeds.

The class won a banner for nontardiness for the month of February.

March winds have inspired the class to poetry. Here are some of the verses:

March winds blow,
Away goes the snow,
Spring time is coming,
Ho, ho, ho.

MARY GREER.

The wind is blowing all day long,
It roars by my windows and it shakes my door;
And when I go out to play,
It bites my fingers and toes and chin.
The trees sway high in the air,
It looks so pretty when I go out to play

MARGARET FORD.

March winds make you shiver,
In a flivver.

EDNA BASSETT

March winds are blowing all day long,
Roaring like a lion, whistling like a bird.

HAROLD REYNOLDS.

March comes in like a lamb and goes out like a lion,
O, isn't it nice to hear a little rhym.

HAROLD BAKER.

I wonder if my girl friend is out today,
It is hard to get a friend to play
On a windy March day.

Mr. Uhler, one of the State Directors of Physical Training, visited our school on Monday. He had an opportunity to visit our classes and see what we are doing. At a meeting of all teachers at noon, Mr. Uhler gave some very helpful suggestions and criticisms.

There is a definite need for physical development as well as mental, and the State Department is urging the term Physical Education instead of Physical Training.

THE WOODS IN SPRING

This is a very mild sunshiny day; so we shall roam through the woods, and see the flowers that are awakening. We shall also notice the trees.

There is a narrow path, covered with patches of green grass. This path is a little crooked, with curves at different angles.

But look! What is this green spot? Yes, it is violets. They are the first messengers of spring." These violets grow close to the earth. They are various colors, but violet is the most common. They bloom in March and fade out of sight in June.

We can't lose too much time with the violet family, because we should like to visit its neighbors. The tall stately pussy willows are leaning down, and whispering to tell us not to forget them. Although they have been home a little longer than the violets, they want to be remembered. Their coats are of a soft brownish fur.

We hear a twittering above us. That is a bird. Mr. Robin is inviting us to inspect him. He has a brownish coat.

But we haven't noticed the trees. There are green buds appearing on the branches. This makes them look like little green buttons all over the trees. The grass is turning a delicate green also.

We return home after seeing some of nature's work, for her Mistress Spring.

MARY KENNY,
Grade 7.

A SPRING MORNING

As I looked from my room window, I could see that the beautiful sun was shining. It appeared to be one mass of gold away up in the sky out of everybody's reach. The clouds sailing across the sky looked like great sailboats. Up on top of a tree in front of my bed room window, a robin was singing which sounded as if he were calling to his mate. The flowers were beginning to bloom and the grass was getting green. The little knots on the branches of the trees were growing large and would soon become leaves.

A DESCRIPTION

In the northern part of New Jersey, there is a town called Franklin. One of the beautiful places near it is Lake Reuell. It flows from the mountains by small brooks. There is a fall about fifty feet deep. It comes down with ceaseless noise. At the foot of this fall there is a hole about five feet deep, washed by ceaseless waters. There are a few fish in this lake which are very beautiful. A canoe on a twilight evening with the strumming of a banjo breaks the still quiet evening.

Around this lake there are pine trees which rustle in the breeze. On the side of the hill you hear the lowing of a cow on its way to the farmyard. Just as the sun disappears, everything grows quiet and you walk back to camp and off to sleep, happy but tired.

BORTON RENAMED

Prominent Moorestown Man Re-Elected State Director of Railroads

Joshua E. Borton, of East Main street, was re-elected Director of Railroads at a joint session of the two New Jersey state legislative bodies at Trenton last week. This is a honorary position which the prominent Moorestown man has held for a number of years.

The Director of Railroads is the State's representative in the Directorate of the United Railroads of New Jersey, a position provided for under the terms of the charter.

There is no salary attached to the position, but to hold it is an honor which has always been highly regarded.

STATE HIGHWAYS

Part of Proposed System of New Roads For Burlington County

Agreement upon a six-year state road plan, together with a method of financing it has been reached by the Republicans of the Senate and Assembly.

A gasoline tax and bond issue will finance the plan.

Roads in which Burlington county is interested are as follows:

Camden to Tom's River, via Ellisburg, Marlton, Medford, Red Lion, Four Mile and Whitings. This route is said to be shorter than the road from Camden to Toms River, via Moorestown, Mount Holly, Brown's Mills and Lakehurst. From a point near Four Mile there will be a spur leading to Manahawkin.

Trenton to Hammonton, via Bordentown, Columbus, Chambers' Corner, Red Lion and Atsion.

Palmyra to Moorestown to Marlton to Berlin, where it connects with the White Horse pike.

The gas tax is the main feature of the financing plan, the Senate going on the theory that those using the roads ought to pay most of the building cost. The plan is:

Amount to be raised, $162,011,180.86.

To be expended on roads, $140,000,000.

Unexpended balance of state highway funds, $22,011,180.86.

Twenty-year bond issue of $30,000,000 for rights of way, bridges and viaducts.

Gasoline tax of two cents a gallon, effective July 1, next.

One mill direct state tax to be continued.

No reduction in state license fees for automobiles.

Program to be completed in six and one half years.

NEW AUTO SPRING

A Camden resident, Charles H. Buckler, of 814 North Eighth street, Camden, has been issued a patent covering a new automobile spring by the United States Patent Office at Washington, D. C.

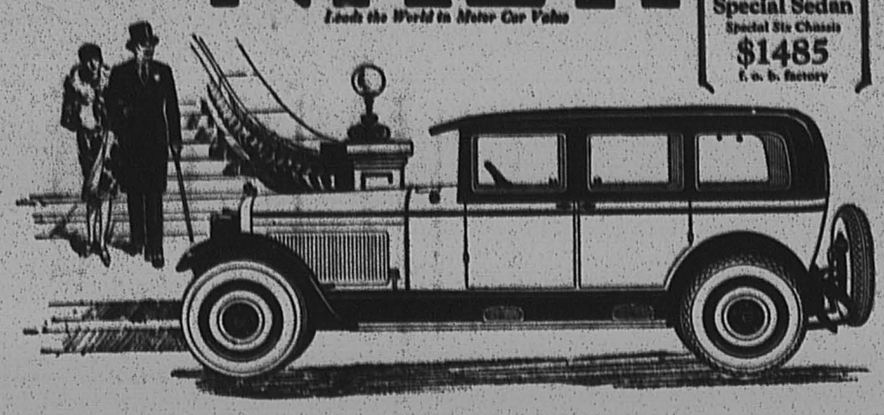

Buckler's spring is entirely different in principle from the automobile springs in common use. It is composed of a cylinder attached to the chassis with pistons operating in opposite direction. Resiliency is provided by means of a series of coil springs inside the cylinder and operating in co-ordination with the pistons.

At the end of each piston is attached a support, operating on a knuckle, and attached to the axle. The spring is smaller than the ordinary sheaf springs now in use.

f. o. b. factory

The Nation's New Vogue in Body Design
Styled by Nash

It is emphatically apparent today that Nash has created a new era in American enclosed body artistry with this arrestingly distinctive body design.

With its new symmetry of line, its classically beautiful French-type rear contour and French roof design, and its rich ensemble of costly car features, the new Special Sedan pictured above possesses magnetic appeal for those most keenly perceptive of motor car style and quality.

The steering wheel is of real walnut in fitting harmony with the handsome walnut finish of the inside window mouldings, door panels, the instrument board and the crowned panel which is above the instrument board. The gray toned upholstery is genuine Chase Velmo Mohair Velvet, deeply tufted.

And Nash powers it with a 7-bearing motor—the world's smoothest type.

So that in transcendent power-evenness and quietness, in lightning-fast "pick-up," and in easeful roadability on the straightaway or climbing, together with a world of speed, it stands out as the most notable car of its field.

As standard equipment there are Gabriel Snubbers at front; 4-wheel brakes, of special Nash design, with the front wheel brakes completely enclosed for safety's sake; and 5 disc wheels.

A larger Special Sedan on the Advanced Six Chassis, reflecting the same unsurpassed quality throughout, is offered at $1695 f. o. b. factory.

PROSECUTOR'S PLEA MAY GET AUTO FOR DETECTIVE PARKER

Detective's Request Some Time Ago Got No Response; Then Hillman Tried

WOMEN MAKE PLEA ENFORCEMENT OF LAW

County Detective Parker will get the additional car he has been requesting for his department. At least that is the construction placed on the action of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday when the request, made for the second time, and this time through the prosecutor, was referred to the department of public buildings with power to act. Howard Russ, director of the board, is also director of this department.

In his plea the prosecutor pointed out that the work of the detective department was being hampered by the need of another car. Sometime ago a Ford used by the department was reconditioned and put in shape for active duty, but this did not meet with the approval of the county sleuths and the demand for a new car has been insistent.

Urge Law Enforcement

A communication was received from the League of Women Voters of Edgewater Park which read as follows:

"At a meeting of the Board of the League of Women Voters of Edgewater Park March 7, the following resolution was passed:

"Be is resolved that whereas the enforcement of Prohibition in our county is most necessary, and

"Whereas this enforcement is not at present effectual, the attention of the Sheriff and Board of Freeholders be called to this situation, and that they be urged to take effectual means to remedy this condition."

Respectfully yours,
League of Women Voters
Edgewater Park.
S. C. HELANDER,
Secretary.

The communication was received and filed and the clerk instructed to send copies to the sheriff and prosecutor.

To Install Mammoth Gas Tank

The installation of a gasoline tank which will accommodate from 15,000 to 18,000 gallons of gas, will be installed at the new county garage at Clermont, at the edge of Mount Holly. County Engineer Smith and Supervisor of County Roads MacFarland, reported that they had inquired into the probable cost of installing such a tank, which would cost about $2,500, fully equipped with motor pumps, etc.

By the erection of such a tank the county could purchase gasoline in tank car lots at a saving of from 3 to 4 cents on a gallon. Last year the county used about 30,000 gallons of gas, while with additional motor apparatus this year the amount will probably be increased to 40,000 gallons. The expense of the installation could be saved in about two years by being able to get the lower rate.

The proposition looked good to the members of the Board and a resolution was passed which will give the head of the road department, Charles R. Stout, power to act. Bids will be advertised for the erection of the tank. After it is installed the gas used will be charged up to the department using it.

Charles R. Stout stated that he had received word that the government had granted permission to rebuild the Bridgeboro draw at the same location as the old one, and that the work would probably be started in about two months. This will mean that a detour will be necessary in that neighborhood for a long time, and the last of the old "covered bridges" will go out of existence.

The township committee of Lumberton township again made a request of the board to take over the road running through that township and which extends in a westerly direction from the Southampton township line to the Hainesport township line. The request, which was in the form of a resolution, was ordered received and filed.

Freeholder Lippincott reported that he had visited the Feeble-Minded colony at Woodbine and the epileptics at Skillman and found them being well cared for, and at the latter place a great saving to the state and county had been effected recently by the superintendent and assistants by having the inmates who were able to do some of the work about the place that was formerly done by laborers.

Mrs. Howard Goodale and Mrs. C. D. Gilpin, of Moorestown, and Mrs. Ella M. Johnson, of Maple Shade, representing the Burlington County Junior Republican Club, attended the meeting.

The following bills from the various departments were ordered paid: Roads, $5,115.13; bridges, $2,479.76; finance, $17.20; public affairs, $2,596.56; public buildings, $10,422.17; total, $20,480.81.

COMRADE GROUP

The Comrade Y. M. C. A. Group of the Palmyra Moravian Church held its weekly meeting March 29.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Arthur Siebke, the leader.

The group next had for their Bible study a Bible treasure hunt.

Following this was the business meeting. At the next meeting refreshments will be served and the following boys were chosen to furnish the eats: Leon Coles, Kenneth Ewers, Howard Schuck, Kenneth Winter.

Monday night the boys went down to the Pennsylvania A. C. for a swim. After the swim was over refreshments were served.

After the business meeting had adjourned games were played the main game being Sneeky Joe. Some of the boys got their heads bumped in the dark and a couple got skinned fingers. As it was getting late the meeting was closed with the friendly circle.

MAYOR BREAKS ANKLE IN FALL

Riverton's Chief Executive Badly Hurt When Ladder Slips

While reaching for some records in office at State House, last Monday afternoon, Fred P. Hemphill, Mayor of Riverton, slipped and fell heavily to the floor, breaking his right ankle and fracturing the bone above the ankle. He was taken to the office of Dr. Townsend in Trenton, who sent him to the hospital there where an X-ray of the injury as taken, after which he was brought home in an automobile.

Mr. Hemphill will be confined to his home for some weeks, but will be able to be about on crutches in a few days.

Wright Talks on New Bridge

Declares It Will Benefit This Section More Than the One at Camden

Charles A. Wright, of Riverton, director of the First National Bank of Riverside, president of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company, and promoter of the Tacony-Palmyra bridge, addressed the Riverside Kiwanis Club Thursday on "Great Minds of the Past."

At the conclusion of his talk Mr. Wright consented to give some facts concerning the proposed Palmyra bridge, which he declared would be of greater effect on this region than the bridge at Camden. Since the Palmyra route saves so many miles for traffic from Northern Philadelphia and Eastern Pennsylvania bound for South Jersey and shore points, Mr. Wright said an enormous patronage from this source could be expected.

Everything is in readiness to start operations on the bridge except approval by the War Department which is expected within reasonable time. The necessary legislation has been passed in both state legislatures and at Washington.

Present plans, drawn by Ralph Modjeski, designer of the Camden bridge, contemplate a knife bascule bridge with an opening of 200 feet. The bridge will be 60 feet above water.

The Delair railroad bridge has openings of 130 feet on either side of the centre pier supporting the draw and is only 50 feet above water.

The War Department, however, has recommended that the plans for the Palmyra bridge be changed to provide an opening of 250 feet.

Another feature of interest mentioned by Mr. Wright was that the proposed ship canal across New Jersey, from Bordentown to the Raritan Bay, was to have a 25 or 30 foot channel instead of the originally proposed 20-foot channel. Completion of this project is expected to have a vast influence on the future commerce and industry of the state.

THOMPSONS MOVE TO BRYN MAWR

Was Superintendent of Groves Estate and Active In Church and YM Work

James Thompson and family, who have made their home at 708 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, for the last four years, moved to Bryn Mawr on Wednesday of this week.

During the four years Mr. Thompson lived in our community he was superintendent of "The Evergreens," the F. S. Groves estate. Mr. Thompson will superintend the W. C. Janney estate in Bryn Mawr.

Mr. Thompson will be long remembered by the "Y" boys in this vicinity, as he was several times the speaker at their group meetings. The boys liked to hear of his adventures in the "Camel Battery" of the English Army. His talks were three-fold in purpose, being educational, religious and humorous. Mr. Thompson was also very active in the local church circles, being assistant teacher of the Baraca Class at the Central Baptist Church.

Thursday evening last week the Baraca Class tendered Mr. Thompson a farewell party. The class presented him with a handsome gold pencil as an evidence of their appreciation of his work in the class.

A gathering of friends at Thompson's home on Tuesday evening of last week as a combined farewell and birthday party, thoroughly enjoyed the Thompson's company. About thirty friends were present.

"BILLY"

Palmyra High School Junior Class Offers a Comedy

On the 29th and 30th of April, the Junior Class of P. H. S. will present a comedy in three acts, entitled "Billy," written by the well-known author, Geo. Cameron. "Billy," is a humorous romance that you will enjoy greatly and remember and chuckle over tomorrow and the next day. You will follow his adventures with keen appreciation and his many plights will provide you with hearty laughs.

Every act has its special interest, and each act is more humorous than its predecessor.

The settings are very unusual, as the whole play takes place on the Steamship "Florida." The cast already chosen and under the expert direction of Miss Mary Bell, is now busily rehearsing.

Don't forget. Buy your tickets early and look forward to an enjoyable evening.

The Philathea Class will make fish cakes again this Friday, April 1. Anyone wishing to order the same, call Riverton 718.

WOMEN'S SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Noted musical organization which will appear in Palmyra on April 25 under the auspices of Post Rodgers.

Women's Symphony Orchestra Coming

Post Rodgers Will Present Splendid Program on April 25

Post Frederick M. Rodgers No. 156, American Legion, in pursuance of its program of community service, announces the bringing of the Women's Symphony Orchestra, of Philadelphia, an organization of sixty artists conducted by J. W. F. Leman, and the only women's symphony orchestra in America, to Palmyra for a concert to be held in the auditorium of the Palmyra High School Monday evening, April 25.

The Post, confident that the people of Palmyra and Riverton are always desirous and deserving of the best in everything, has made final arrangements with this widely known, unique and artistic organization for this concert. It will be without question the best performance of its kind ever held in either of the two towns, and the price at which the Post is able to offer it to the public makes the accomplishment of the local service men an outstanding feature of community service.

The Women's Symphony Orchestra of Philadelphia was organized in 1921 by Mabel Swint Ewer as a result of a general impression among young women artists in Philadelphia and vicinity that sufficient material was available. Dr. Leopold Stokowski and Dr. Thaddeus Rich were consulted and heartily commended the idea of a Women's Symphony Orchestra. J. W. F. Lemon, who has just closed his fourth season on the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, was engaged as conductor. This orchestra gave thirty concerts last season. Their appearances at the State Normal School, Glassboro, N. J., Atlantic City, Union League, of Philadelphia, were greeted by capacity houses.

At this concert the Orchestra will have for its soloist the well-known coloratura soprano, Hilda Reiter, soloist with the Civic Opera Company of Philadelphia.

The tickets are seventy-five cents each and may be had only from patrons and patronesses of the concert, the present list of which is given below, and from the Chairman of the Post's committee, Frank A. Mathews, Jr., 609 Washington Avenue, Palmyra, 'phone Riverton 813.

Those who have already signified their willingness to assist this enterprise as patrons and patronesses are: Hon. James T. Weart, George N. Wimer, Walter D. Lamon, Richard E. Wilson, George B. Weigand, Charles C. King, Drexel P. Patterson, Carl H. Thomas, William T. Miller, Stanley S. Lippincott, Alfred H. Lippincott, Charles H. Yost, John A. Althouse, Jr., Harold F. Marshall, Theophile M. NOT SAME WASS

Palmyra Residents Embarrassed by Similarity of Names

Since their return to their home at 600 Washington Avenue Palmyra, Mr. and Mrs. David M. Wass have been caused considerable annoyance because some people think they are the same persons who figured in a divorce suit in the Camden courts about a year ago.

The Palmyra Wass is a dentist and has offices at 40th and Chestnut, Philadelphia. The Camden man, whose name is spelled M. J. Waas, is also a dentist and at present is said to have offices near 16th and Locust, Philadelphia.

The Palmyra family moved to Philadelphia in the fall of 1925, but recently returned to their home here. Shortly after their removal to Philadelphia the Camden man's name appeared in the newspapers as taking part in a suit and many local people, not knowing the difference in the spelling of the names or the initials, thought that it was the Palmyra family which was having difficulties.

GIRL RESERVES

On March 29 the regular meeting of the Riverton Girl Reserves was held at the home of Ella Bussell. A hike has been planned to take the place of our next week's meeting. It will be held April 9th at 10.30 a. m. We are to meet at Riverton station at that time. It was thought best to postpone the play until the middle of May when our new building will be finished.

A notice was given that the county dues were due April first. The dues are twenty-five cents for each member. The waiting list girls volunteered to contribute to the foreign mission. The meeting was then adjourned.

Don't forget April ninth at the station!

JANE BLACKWELL,
Secretary.

LIONS CLUB

Big Trial of Club vs. Lynch and Rogers to be Held Tuesday

The Palmyra Lions Club expect a big night next Tuesday evening when two "cubs," (Bill Lynch and George Rogers, are to be tried on the serious charge of having fallen down on their job of providing some entertainment for the meeting this week.

Fred Fromuth will be prosecuting attorney and George Heck will undertake the difficult job of defending the two well-known culprits. Lion President Wimer will be Judge and all the rest of the club will be jury, witnesses, etc.

At Tuesday night's meeting a new cub, John H. Etris, was initiated and Frank Chambers gave a talk on newspaper work in Philadelphia.

THEIR STAND ON P. S. PAVING BILL

Statements Issued by Senator Roberts and Assemblyman Powell

A daily news dispatch from Maple Shade, under date of March 23, says:

"In a letter to the Chester township committee Senator Emmor Roberts last night said he voted for the Public Service paving bill because he saw no particular hardship for the taxpayers.

"He said he studied the bill carefully and declared it does not relieve Public Service of its obligations as far as franchises are concerned.

"The letter was in reply to a letter sent by the township committee urging the senator and Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell, to vote against the measure, which was passed yesterday over Governor Moore's veto.

"Assemblyman Powell sent a letter also on the subject in which he said he was opposed to the measure but the township committeemen could not understand his attitude in view of the fact that he voted for the bill each time it came up in lower House."

TWO MORE WINNERS IN BABY CONTEST

Palmyra Girl and Riverton Boy Share Honors—Babies Get Dollar Too

Owing to pressure of other business no announcement was made for week ending March 22nd. Contest closes on Tuesdays during March.

Miss Helen Fromuth, 311 Morgan avenue, Palmyra, N. J., furnished name of Mary Elizabeth Van Sant whose arrival was safely vouched for by Dr. H. W. Bauer, 515 Maple Avenue, Palmyra. The doctor himself admits this beautiful little Miss has "blue eyes" and arrived at Spring Garden and Highland Avenue, Palmyra, N. J., six a. m., March 10, 1927.

For week following above ending March 29, name of baby boy was furnished by a progressive young man, Maynard W. Bowen, 408 Thomas avenue, Riverton, N. J. He reports like all good newspaper men that "James Flynn arrived March 11, 1927, at 4.45 a. m." Dr. Harry L. Rogers was in attendance and saw to young Flynn's safe arrival. Anyone who has seen young Flynn admits he is handsome (couldn't help it) and has beautiful blue eyes. He surely is some real boy and lives at 402 Thomas Avenue, Riverton, N. J., and likes Riverton very much—a real town as we all know.

Four dollars in prizes this week. $2.00 for babies, $2.00 for persons turning in names.

BIRD TALK

At the open meeting of the Porch Club, on March 29th, Mrs. Everett Griscom, of Roslyn, Pa., gave a delightful and instructive lecture on birds. Her slides impressed what she said, and gave much information to those who were anxious to receive it. Besides her knowledge of the care and keeping of birds she has a humorous vein which is most attractive. Mrs. Griscom was gracefully introduced by Mrs. Henry C. Parrish, chairman of the Garden Section of the Porch Club, who said that anyone who loved gardening was interested in birds, insects, and even worms and slugs. The lecture was well attended and a very pleasant hour was spent.

TRIANGLE Y. M. C. A. GROUP

On Wednesday evening, March 23rd, the Triangle Group met at the Y building, having as our guests the Pioneer Group of Cinnaminson. The meeting was opened with prayer by Rev. Albert J. Harke, followed by the responsive ritual and a Bible treasure hunt led by Mr. Ashbrook. Two basketball games were then played. The scores were 10-3 and 5-4 both in favor of Cinnaminson. After this we served ice cream and cake to all, and closed our happy meeting with a friendship circle.

"Mary Anne" Wins Much Appreciation

High School Senior Play Presented to Two Capacity Houses

Capacity houses witnessed "The Blossoming of Mary Anne," in the Palmyra High School auditorium last Friday and Saturday evenings. The play was presented by the class of 1927 and the four-act comedy by Sidnie Toler and Marion Short was roundly applauded. The proceeds of this production will be used for the senior class' annual educational trip to Washington.

Miss Gladys Booth, as the vivacious Mary Anne, bloomed in the presentation of this comedy. She portrayed her part perfectly, first as the bud, then as the blossom, and then as the full-blown rose, with the perfume of romance. It was the old story of the beauty and charm of the country girl captivating the blase society folk from the city.

Bruce Beahn, of track fame, played opposite Miss Booth and the love scenes between these two were declared by many critics that follow Palmyra plays to be ultra-satisfactory for amateurs.

Miss Ruth Hemingway as Elaine Jewett, made a charming villainess. Henry Mathers, captain of last year's football team, played the part of "Teddy" Farnum exceptionally well. Miss Anna Murphy as Mrs. Drexel Kirkland and Sarah Applegate Silssy as portrayed by Miss Muriel Burghman, both played their difficult parts to perfection. Miss Grace Bauer as Betsy Scroggins was "a scream" and followed her mistress' directions to the point. "Ted" Hudson as William Barclay also very cleverly presented his difficult part.

Many stars that shone in the musical play "Kathleen" were again at their best in this production. The cast of "The Blossoming of Mary Anne," was:

Lloyd Henderson	Henry Albright
"Teddy" Farnum	Henry Mathers
William Barclay	Edward Hudson
Richard Stanhope	Bruce Beahn
Charlie Mason	Harry Litle
Edgar Moon	Charles Earp
Frank Montgomery	George Hutchins
Mrs. Drexel Kirkland	Anne Murphy
Elaine Jewett	Ruth Hemingway
Trelle Webb	Andrea Van Steenbergh
Patty Ellison	Helen Enskat
Annabelle Larsh	Helen Greene

(Of New York's Social 400)

Felice, Mrs. Kirkland's French Maid
Gertrude Pancoast
Sarah Applegate Silssy
Muriel Burgmann
Betsy Scroggins Grace Bauer
Mrs. John Simmons
Gertrude McFadden
Mary Anne Simmonds, Gladys Booth

Every member of the senior class and teachers of the high school participated in making this occasion a huge success. Special credit is due Miss Lodge, who has brought success to the senior plays the past two years. The graduating class showed their appreciation to Miss Lodge with appropriate gifts.

The Junior play will be given at the high school on the evenings of April 29 and 30. Don't forget the dates and reserve them on your calendar.

SPRING TRAINING

PHS Track and Baseball Athletes Are Out

The boy athletes at Palmyra High School are very busy at the present time. On Monday all candidates for the baseball nine and the track squad were out and had stiff drills.

Coach Dimond called all baseball men to the mechanical drawing room Monday afternoon and gave them a good talking to. Fifteen pupils that were out for the nine were found to be ineligible on account of scholastic difficulties. These men will not be allowed to participate in practice until they are up in their lessons.

Fourteen fully equipped uniforms were given out by Coach Dimond Monday afternoon. This is a new idea and will make the candidates fight much harder for the various positions. The players, mostly veterans, to whom the uniforms were issued, must hold down their jobs in order to retain their outfits.

The track squad was out strong Monday. This squad is being coached by Harold "Boots" Lever, the famous trackman who brought the National Class B championship in track to Palmyra Hi.

THINGS BOOMING AT SHORE

With the approach of spring, activities at the seashore are on the increase. On the Durborow developments at Surf City, Ortley Beach and Brant Beach the boulevards are being planted with sweet gum trees, and at Surf City ground has been broken for the new Spanish Inn, something new and different. The sale of lots at all three places, which has been active during the winter, has taken a decided impetus the last few weeks.

RIVERTON LAYING PLANS FOR BIGGEST BASEBALL SEASON

Officers Elected and Details Discussed For Eclipsing Last Year's Success

GLORIES OF FORMER DAYS ARE RECALLED

At an organization meeting of the Riverton Base Ball Club held at the home of William B. Lynch, last Friday evening, plans were made for the coming season. The success enjoyed by the club last year has revived memories of years ago when Riverton was represented by one of the strongest clubs in the East.

It has been possible to interest several of our local business men in the affairs of the club, and with their efforts to help in the management, this season should be even more successful than last.

For a number of years Riverton was without a baseball field; consequently, there is very little home talent that can be used. Therefore it is necessary to seek the services of players from our neighboring towns. It requires money to conduct baseball, and if everyone will contribute a small amount, enough will soon be realized to place a first-class team in the field.

The following officers have been elected: President, Matthew Sontheimer; vice-president, Walter G. Miller; secretary, Albert C. Farrow; treasurer, Walter C. Wright.

Directors, Irving S. Williams, Herbert S. Evans, Hudson Huilings, Ezra Carhart, Edward R. Williams, Martin B. Welsh, manager.

LOSE SWIM MEET

Palmyra Girls Are Beaten By One Point

The Palmyra High School Girl's swimming team lost a hard fought meet to the Collingswood High School last Thursday afternoon at the YMCA pool in Camden. The final count was 30 to 29.

Miss Grace Sippel was again the individual star of the meet for Palmyra, finishing first in three of the main events.

Palmyra High ran away with the relay race, winning easily, being the length of the pool in advance of their opponents. Had Palmyra placed or even tallied one more point they would have tied or won the meet. Being defeated by a single point was a hard blow to the proteges coached by Miss Sleight the physical instructress at Palmyra High School.

Palmyra is entered in the South Jersey interscholastic league and has a regular schedule with the teams in this circuit. Haddonfield and Collingswood are also entered in the competition.

FIRE IN CLOSET DESTROYS CLOTHING

Bill Steedle Finds Fire, and Renders First Aid With Bucket of Water

Last Saturday morning the Riverton Fire Company was called to the home of Ogden Steedle on Cinnaminson street. The fire was in a closet on the second floor which contained the woolen suits and overcoats of the Steedle boys. "Ed" and "Ted" lost their complete wardrobes.

The fire was discovered about 8.30 by Bill Steedle. Bill smelled smoke and went to the cellar but there was no smoke issuing from the heater. There being but one other place to look, Bill took a bucket of water upstairs and opened the closet door. The smoke was so dense that he could hardly see. Bill turned in the alarm and the Riverton Fire Department soon extinguished the flames with chemicals.

ODD FELLOWS

Beginning with the April meetings Old Cinnaminson Lodge will inaugurate a new system in the scheme of events. Heretofore a new candidate could enter and receive all his degrees of Oddfellowship in the same month, but under the present arrangement it will require two months to work through. Every other meeting night will be given over to purely social activities to which end a big program has been arranged. Tournaments of various games, visitations to other lodges, lectures by various prominent men, are some of the plans for the enjoyment of the members.

Retired Palmyra Pastor Had Been in Methodist Ministry 51 Years

The Rev. John B. Whitton, 81 years old, of 501 Vine street, Palmyra, died at his home Tuesday evening at eight o'clock. Mr. Whitton had been ill for several months but was active until Christmas, when his health was so poor that he had to discontinue his work as head of the Wesleyan Bible Class of the Epworth Church. The Rev. Whitton has had pastorates in Camden, Trenton, Riverside, Florence and Barnegat.

He was ordained fifty-one years ago and was a member of the New Jersey Methodist Conference for forty years. He was pastor of the Bethel M. E. Church, Thirty-ninth street and Westfield avenue, Camden; Fourth M. E. Church in Bridgeton; Cadwalder M. E. Church in Trenton.

While at Bridgeton he was an active member of Welcome Council, No. 45, Jr. O. U. A. M., and a member of the Mariner Lodge, No. 50, F. and A. M., at Barnegat. He retired three years ago from the Riverside pastorate to reside in Palmyra, during which time he was president and teacher of the Wesleyan Bible Class.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Sarah C. Whitton; two daughter, Mrs. Elmer Nadara, of Harrisonville, N. J., and Miss Rebecca O. Whitton, of Palmyra, and three sons, Rev. Charles D. Whitton, formerly of Trenton, but recently transferred to Paulsboro; J. Harry Whitton, of Glassboro, and William Whitton, of Greenwich.

Funeral services will be held at one o'clock this afternoon at the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra. Rev. Sherman E. Pitt will officiate. Interment will be in Bethel Cemetery.

WILL EXEMPLIFY SECOND DEGREE

St. Joseph's Council, Knights of Columbus, have made final preparations for the exemplification of the Second Degree of the Order, which will take place at their next meeting on Tuesday, April 5th.

The local council degree team is rated as one of the best in South Jersey, and it is anticipated that every member of the council will be in attendance. The Major Degree will take place the early part of May.

APPRECIATION

I desire to express through the columns of your paper, my appreciation for the fine work done by the Riverton Fire Company at my residence on Saturday of last week, at which time the clothing in one of the closets took fire. Their efficient work and care to prevent unnecessary damage cannot be too highly commended.

OGDEN STEEDLE.

SCHOOL BOARD

William Donaghy Again Heads Palmyra Directors

The Palmyra Board of Education held its reorganization meeting in the high school last Thursday evening. William A. Donaghy was re-elected president and practically the same committees were re-appointed for the coming year.

George J. Spencer was reelected vice president, and Francis S. Day district clerk. Frank N. Mathews, who defeated Ralph Rivers at the school election in February, took Rivers' place on the committees. The other two members elected in February, George I. Harvey and George Clover, were former members of the board.

The committees appointed are as follows: Teachers, Clover, Rogers, Mathews; property, Davison, Clover, Harvey; supply, Harvey, Spencer, Brown; janitors, Clover, Davison, Mathews; sanitation, Brown, Rogers, and Spencer; rental, Harvey, Rogers, Mrs. Giberson; complaint, Rogers, Spencer, Clover; finance, Davison, Harvey, Clover; athletics, Mathews, Rogers, Brown; cafeteria committee, Mrs. Giberson, Clover, Rogers. Mrs. Giberson was appointed as the board's representative on the visiting nurse committee of the community.

At this meeting it was announced that all but one teacher in the school system would return next year. Every employee of the schools, from the janitor to supervising principal, has been given a slight increase in salary. The board also discussed the applicants for the vacancy in the teaching staff but no decision was reached.

CARS IN CRASH

Last Wednesday night the Buick car driven by William Baker, of Edgewater Park, hit the car of Cecil Brown, of East Riverton. Both cars were slightly damaged but no one was hurt. The accident occurred at the River Road railroad crossing just below the Arch street station, West Palmyra. Baker was driving his car on the inside of the road near the curbing and was on the wrong side of the road. He agreed to pay for the damage done to the Brown machine. No arrest was made.

Present Relic to the Rev. Mr. Owens

Bench Used in Asbury Church in Revolutionary Times Given Moorestown Pastor

A splendid service Sunday afternoon celebrated the completion of the interior renovation to the Asbury M. E. Church, Cinnaminson. One of the features of this delightful service, which was largely attended, was the presentation of a white bench to the Rev. Marshall Owens, the new pastor of the Moorestown Methodist Episcopal Church.

This bench was used in the pulpit of the little Church back in the Revolutionary War times when Asbury Church was founded by Bishop Francis Asbury, who is accredited as being one of the first Christian organizers and founder of Methodism in America.

The Rev. Mr. Owens, who is a great lover and student of Bishop Asbury's career, heard that the old bench was going to ruin in the Church basement and made a plea that steps be taken to preserve it. The official Board of the Church had the relic repaired and painted and presented it to the Moorestown pastor.

In his early youth, before coming to this country, the Rev. Mr. Owens was converted at the altar of the great Asbury Church, England, which was founded by Bishop Asbury. One of Pastor Owens' most cherished possessions is a nickle watch which was given Bishop Asbury by his mother in 1771. The old timepiece was on display at the Church Sunday and attracted considerable interest.

The Rev. John R. Mason, of Masonville, another favorite member of the New Jersey Methodist conference, delivered the address at Asbury Church Sunday.

The interior of the cuhrch has been completely renovated, electric lights have been installed and new carpet has been laid.

This Week Busy

Sunday evening, at the Church Federation meeting, Moorestown, this gathering took on quite a YMCA atmosphere because of the fact that the speaker was William Knoles Cooper, General Secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association of Washington, D C. Mr. Cooper spent a portion of Sunday and Monday in a conference with the Metropolitan Secretaries of the Nation in Philadelphia. A portion of Secretary Hendry's training for YMCA work was under Mr. Cooper in Washington.

Study Membership

Members of the Palmyra-Riverton Board, in their endeavor to define YMCA membership for use of their building in Palmyra, held a meeting of a special committee on this matter at the home of Nathan Lane, Jr., 305 Highway, Riverton, Monday evening, the 28th. Secretary Hendry was present.

Survey Report Heard

Hugh D. Maydole, of the National YMCA Council staff, New York City, who is related to the Town and County department, spent some time recently in making a study of Burlington county from the standpoint of YMCA work as carried on here. He presented his findings before a number of the members of the County Committee at a special meeting which was held at the County "Y" office, Mount Holly, Tuesday evening, the 29th. In his report Mr. Maydole made mention of many very commendable things and also included a number of very excellent constructive criticisms for the strengthening and betterment of the work.

Leaders' Conference

Such a conference was held in the Mount Holly YMCA club room adjoining the County "Y" office in the News Building, Wednesday evening at which time Secretaries Ergood and Hendry spent the evening going over a number of important matters having to do with the responsibilities, opportunities, and activities of the Group leaders.

Camp President Returns

Thursday, the 31st, Henry F. Stockwell, President of YMCA Camp Ockanickon returned from a three weeks' trip to Bermuda, with Mrs. Stockwell accompanying him. During his absence and since the last meeting of the Camp trustees, considerable progress has been made by a number of committees with reference to getting various plans and specifications for the installment of power, light, and sanitation in time for the opening of this summer's camping season. The next meeting of the Camp trustees is scheduled for Wednesday evening, April 6, when authorization for much of this work will be forthcoming.

State, County Men Together

Friday, April 1st, the County-Work Secretaries of the State are to convene at the YMCA in New Brunswick for the day in their regularly monthly conference. Announcement of the presence of Robert Shoemaker on the day's program has just been received in connection with this conference. Mr. Shoemaker, for four years, beginning back in 1914, was Secretary of Burlington county. He is now with the Personnel Department of the National YMCA Council, New York.

Marlton Banquet

This Friday evening, April 1st, Marlton is to have a Father and Son banquet under YMCA auspices, and this particular occasion will make the thirteenth banquet of this nature to be held in the County this year. Those that have preceded are Bridgeboro, Mount Holly, Columbus, Moorestown, Florence, Moorestown (colored,) Willingboro, Medford, Palmyra, Lumberton, Cinnaminson and Crosswicks.

Tent Raising Saturday

In determining just the kind of tent house that is going to best suit the various ideas of the large number of persons interested in the development of Camp Ockanickon, two or three styles of houses are to be erected at points around the Camp where they will serve various needs. The one finally selected will be taken as the standard for the construction of the number which will eventually replace the canvas tents. Before this time tents, of course, had to be used, even with the knowledge of the many superior features of the tent house, but now that the Camp is permanently located, these houses will be constructed as rapidly as the securing of necessary funds will permit. The sample house scheduled for erection Saturday will be constructed largely from lumber which was a gift of the Camp, and the labor will be performed by the Secretaries and their assisants from Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, and Monmouth counties. A skilled carpenter will direct the "gang."

BASEBALL LEAGUE

Managers Meet at Mount Holly to Launch County Circuit

Plans for the coming season were made at a meeting of the Burlington County Baseball League in Mount Holly last week. Burlington was not represented at the county seat session. Neither was Mount Holly, nor Roebling.

The representatives were Edward Crain, of Medford; Charles Haines, of Moorestown; Edwin Robbins, of R. D. Wood, Florence; Milton Blankemeyer, Riverside; C. C. Buckalew, Bordentown; C. B. Jones, Vincentown, and A. Snyder, Delanco.

Vice-president T. Percy Baker, of Florence, and Secretary Albert W. Staley also were present.

It was decided to play a twenty-eight game schedule. Each team will be required to post one hundred dollars as a forfeit. Two new towns were admitted, Bordentown and Vincentown. It was decided that home talent must be used with the exception of two players, and these two must be residents of the county.

The meeting was in charge of Jack Sweeney, of Florence, president of the organization.

Snowflake, lightly you fall down,
With your little jeweled crown
Gleaming in the sunlight air.
You fall on trees and everywhere;

Scatter you over the cities and farms.

You fall on each and love them all.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

PHYSICAL CULTURE

With millions of our people spending nine-tenths of their lives in offices, studios, sanctums and trade marts, some sort of artificial exercise becomes necessary to even moderate health. The reader will pardon me, if I devote this article to timely observations on the subject, rather than technique.

There is no substitue to take the place of out-door activity as a congener of long life and healthy function, and as remarked before, all violation of the law of right living is penalized in length of days.

Your daily dozen is capable of doing harm if over-indulged. My friend, sixty years old, carried his effort to extreme; he bathed every morning in near-ice-water; then he put in a half-hour of violent "crawls," "dips," and "swings," until almost exhausted to "produce reaction." He now has a stroke of paralysis which will disable him for life. He did no outdoor work, having retired; he followed all sorts of fantastic notions in eating the no-breakfast folly, and the two-meal-a-day vagary; at his age, he took walks in zero temperature; he was a faddist.

Arterial changes due to age will not stand violent exertion. The warm bath before retiring takes the strain off the heart; a few moments deep breathing when first up in the morning is always useful. Moderate exercise before breakfast—the best meal of the day—is a promoter of appetite and digestion; five of ten minutes of tip-toeing and swinging of the arms and limbs, taking deep breaths, is a fine tonic, if indulged several times a day; it will counteract the cramped position at the desk, the poring over "the books," the attitude at the linotype or other machine. It is against excesses of artificial movement that I would warn. And, no exercise will take the place of the proper amount of sleep!

Next Week: Intravenous Medication

The governor of Oklahoma is said to have a feminine Colonel House but we doubt whether she can be as silent as the original case.

LENOLA MAN ESCAPES AS TRAIN HITS AUTO

Frederick Hyde, Lenola, had a close call with death shortly before nine o'clock Wednesday evening of last week when a freight train on the Pennsylvania Railroad sideswiped his new automobile at Maple avenue crossing, Lenola.

Hyde failed to see the freight train until he was almost on the crossing. He turned the car quickly to the right and ran parallel with the tracks. The locomotive ripped off the fenders and running board on the side and Hyde was slightly injured.

PHS Will Have Fine Track Team

Five Veterans Will be on Local Squad for 1927 Meets

Palmyra High with five veteran trackman, looms as a formidable team to win the New Jersey State title in scholastic ranks this season. Palmyra has a strong schedule and is still coached by Harold "Boots" Lever, former University of Pennsylvania track captain who has been coaching the Red and Blue for several years.

Palmyra High won the national one-mile relay championship of Class B two years ago under the tutelage of Lever. Lever is confident his proteges will come through this year after losing out to Vineland High, who copped the Class B championship title of New Jersey last year. With five veterans back the team that shattered three records in two days at the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival two seasons ago will undoubtedly uncover a championship combination again.

Bruce Beahn, captain-elect of the 1927 team, is a sprinter of great ability. Beahn scintillates in the century, 220 and 440 yard dashes. Others back from last year are Henry Albright, Frank Hengert, Henry Mathers and Harold Mueller. Beside these athletes Coach Lever and Coach Dimond have at least score or more of promising prospects out for the team.

The loss of Spencer Davison, who is now attending Dickinson, and Joe Atkinson, who matriculates at Friends Central, will be keenly felt by the Palmyra squad. Albright will be called upon to bear the brunt of the pole-vaulting formerly done by Atkinson and Captain Beahn will compete in the running high and broad jumps.

Palmyra has entered the Penn relays and will be represented at Newark in the State Interscholastic championships in June.

The season's track slate follows:

April 20—Dual meet with Moorestown High at Palmyra.

April 27—Dual meet with Haddon Heights High at Palmyra.

April 29-30—Penn Relay Carnival at Philadelphia.

May 5—Triangular meet with Collingswood and Camden at Collingswood.

June 4—State Interscholastic championships at Newark.

BOOTS STILL FAST

Lever is Individual Star in National Guard Meet

"Boots" Lever was the individual star for the Howitzer Company, 114th Infantry, of which he is captain, at the Camden Armory last Friday night in the New Jersey National Guard events. Lever competed in three events and captured the 50-yard sprint, won the 220 yard dash and ran first for the victorious relay team. Lever's time in the 50 yard dash was 5 and 4-5 seconds.

"Boots" Lever's Howitzer athletes had a close call in the National Guard events, barely nosing out the 44th Division Signal Corps, 30 to 29, to win the handsome Major-General Gilmore trophy. Lever's own brilliant work offset the individual efforts of Reed, of the Signal Corps, and enabled the Camden soldiers to come through and win.

Lever's soldiers tallied in all events in which they were entered. Five points were made in the 50 yard dash, 8 in the equipment race, 7 in the mile relay, 3 in the 8-lap relay, 2 in the 220 yard and 5 in the broad jump.

Palmyra High was entered in the South Jersey meet for high schools but failed to place due to the fact that several of the runners were connected with the play given at the high school.

Miss Francis Ruppert, of Riverton, also participated in this meet but was beaten by her teammate, Miss Harriet Matthews, who got off to a fast start in the 50 yard dash for girls, thus beating the former Red and Blue star to the tape. It is claimed that Miss Matthews slightly beat the gun, which helped greatly in defeating Miss Ruppert. The winner's time was 6 and 2-5 seconds.

The Palmyra Grammar School entered this meet and competed against the Hatch Junior High School, the Collingswood Junior High and the Pensauken Junior High. This is the first time in the history of Palmyra that the Grammar School has entered competition with other Junior High Schools and winning first place in the 4-lap relay was a remarkable feat. Palmyra's time was one minute 14 and 4-5 seconds. These lads are also under the tutelage of Mr. Lever and he is due much credit in bringing this accomplishment about.

ORPHAN JENNY

They buried poor orphan Jenny
With a soap-box for a coffin,
And left her there, no-one doffin'
A hat, or caring a penny.
Jenny's mound is wet with the dew
No tears fall on her tiny grave,
It is weed-covered and bare—save
A flower where her soul shines thru.

Employment Topic of Rotary Members

Discussion Favors Cooperation of Employees and Employers

Some of the many questions and problems that confront the employer of today and which likewise are experienced by employees were presented for open discussion at the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club meeting Thursday evening last by Mr. Thum, chairman of the Business Relations Committee.

The general subject "Relations between employer and employee" was divided into five questions, namely No. 1—Should the pay of an employee be raised when he is worth more than he is getting, yet too timid to ask for it? No. 2—Should an employee be promoted to a position offering greater opportunity even though it would be inconvenient to fill the employees old position? No. 3—Should the employers duty to the community (if not his direct duty to his Company) require him to employ applicants on a basis of individual ability rather than because of certain affiliations? No. 4—Should an employee receive less than the going rate of wages even though there be a temporary excess of labor in your community? No. 5—Should an intimate and friendly relationship be cultivated between employer and employee?

These questions were selected for their importance and from those which are actually being encountered by every man in business.

Upon their presentation by Chairman Thum, Joseph S. Low spoke upon each question after which an open discussion followed. Those participating were: President Chas. S. Mills, Ross Mattis, George D. Steedle, Horace Finney, Clinton Woolston, Joseph Seel, Jacob Eisele, Frank A. Godley and Frank A. Snover.

A vote of the Club upon each question after the discussion revealed a harmonious desire upon the part of each member to co-operate with the employee in furthering high standard in business principles, which is naturally reflected in the community which they serve or the vicinity in which they operate.

POLITICAL JOTTINGS

Aaron Collins, a Democrat, of Moorestown, was renamed as a member of the Board of Visitors to the State Agricultural College at New Brunswick, by Governor Moore, last week.

Governor Moore has approved a bill extending the terms of members of the Bridge and Tunnel Commission to July 1, 1928. Thomas S. Barlow, of Maple Shade, is Burlington county's member in the Commission.

I. Snowden Haines, of Burlington, but who is living at present at Ye Columbus Inn, in the Mansfield town, is looking over the political field preliminary to the spring plowing it is presumed. Mr. Haines has no tyro in politics. He took a long course in Burlington council and was quite active in county politics not so many years ago. He says he has the time and inclination to be State Senator and he means to find out how the people of Burlinton county feel about his candidacy, at first hand. You don't have to ask him whether he is wet or dry. He'll tell you, by way of introduction, that he is frankly a wet.

Reports from Toms River are that about half the members of the Ocean County Democratic Committee resigned because Governor Moore refused to send to the Senate the names of men recommended by the committee for prosecutor and judge of that county. The committee repeatedly has requested the appointment of David A. Veeder, of Toms River, for county judge, and James Mercer Davis of Mount Holly and Seaside Heights for prosecutor. It is stated that Governor Moore will wait until the Legislature adjourns and then will make and interim appointments of Arthur G. Gallagher, of Lakewood Gallagher's appointment is opposed as judge, and Davis as prosecutor.

The next sixteen to one issue will doubtless be sixteen automobiles for every family.

by the Democratic Committee, and rumors are that Senator Mathis also is against Gallagher. It is stated that the Democratic party in Ocean county is split wide open as a result of the Governor's action.

ST. PATRICK'S PARTY

Mrs. William B. Fisher, of Philadelphia, was given a St. Patrick's surprise party in honor of her birthday at her daughter's home, Mrs. Clements Pagden, 25 Henry street, Palmyra. The home was very artistically decorated in green. Mrs. Fisher received many beautiful gifts from her children and friends.

The evening was spent in dancing and entertainment. The guests attending the party were Miss Nancy Russell, of Glasgow, Scotland; Miss Florence Dakin, of Hulmeville, Pa., Miss Avis Lamb, of South Portland, Maine; Miss Alma Mease, of Schuykill-Haven, Pa., Mr. and Mrs. William B. Fisher, Jr., of Camden, and Herbert Padgen, Palmyra. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Looks like Volstead also changed our standard measure scale. A quart of jin now means a peck of trouble.

Detective Declares That Jails Are Too Luxurious for Crooks

Head of Philadelphia Agency, Speaking to Mount Holly Rotarians, Says Prisons Are Too Attractive; One Man Went Back Sixteenth Time

As long as we make lounge lizards of murderers and other kinds of crooks and give them hotel luxuries instead of real prison life for highway robbery, killing and rape, crime will increase instead of diminish, is the opinion of Ralph Dudley, head of the Pinkerton detective Agency in Philadelphia.

"You will never stop crime," said the detective, "by turning prisons into sanatoriums and making penal institutions so attractive with more than the ordinary comforts of life that hardened criminals like to be in them to get away from worries and responsibilities."

Detective Dudley was the speaker at the weekly dinner-meeting of the Mount Holly Rotary Club last week. The talk was full of excellent material and was listened to with keen interest.

"But what happened in the past," continued Mr. Dudley, "is not so significant as realizing that under any and all conditions we have too much crime today. Putting the hardened criminals in jail and making them comfortable and happy, with good meals, sun parlors, recreation quarters, medical attention and all the examinations and inspections required to keep them physically fit prevents crime only so far as the opportunity is concerned. In almost no cases does it act as a deterrent or create any good moral effect for the future.

"The records at the Eastern Penitentiary show that there is an appalling number of repeat orders for accommodations in comfort, the figures showing that there are some criminals there now who are serving their sixteenth jail terms. This testifies to the pleasing character of the accommodation. An average of one-third repeats for more jail 'punishment.'

"Crime does not spring from want but it is the product of neglect in training and the opportunity to work out a program based on deficiency. Diminishing professionals is not the chief problem, but the big job is to stop producing criminals from an unhealthy element of society that needs a checking.

"Much of the work of prison reform organizations is commendable in that there is a sincerity back of the operations, but there is also from these societies a criticism that is far in advance of the knowledge of the conditions with which they are dealing.

"They criticize without knowing and then comes an interference with the work of those who have a direct connection with the more important side of research. Indolence and immorality figure above all else in making criminals, and proper education will quicken responsibilities and cause a turn to elevating influences."

INTOXICATED

Cleve Wallace, of Five Points, Palmyra, was arrested by Officer Nelson "Bucky" Wallace Saturday night at Broad and Leconey avenues for being under the influence of liquor. He paid the costs and was discharged with a reprimand.

New Homes!

Yes, we are building some more new homes at Palmyra Extension.

These new dwellings not only look well but are made well. Only the best materials are used and the most experienced hands are employed to construct our homes.

The new homes are of the two-story type with six rooms and bath. A "cozy" sun parlor, and "cumfy" breakfast nook is part of the interior beauty of these pleasant homes. All modern conveniences including hot water heat and hardwood floors. The stairways are all of the graceful "open" style. In the bath room there is a built-in tub and shower. Handsome cedar closets adorn the rooms. The housewife's delight is also enveloped in these new dwellings—the laundry chute. The roof is built for your protection—being covered with asbestos. The construction of these houses is either block or wood, stuccoed.

Lots are 40'x120', graded and grass seed sown.

A FUTILE GESTURE

A woman's organization sent a communication to the Burlington County Board of Freeholders urging a more stringent enforcement of law in the county.

The county detective's office asked (through the prosecutor, since a direct request some time ago bore no fruit) for another car for the department. It is probable that the car will be forthcoming this time.

But it will take a lot more than resolutions by women's clubs and additional cars for the detective's office to bring about law enforcement in a county where such a travesty on justice as the famous Rancocas rum scandal could be perpetrated.

This noisome case was before two as fine grand juries as Burlington county ever saw, but so powerful were the forces back of the rum-running outfit that the necessary evidence apparently could not be secured.

The law-abiding citizens of the county feel that their interests were betrayed at every step, from the inadequate bail when the rum-runners were arrested right on through until the farcical end, the net result of which was the conviction of two lads who stole a rope from the confiscated barge!

And it has been said, in extenuation, that "the county did not do so bad; look at value of the stuff that was confiscated!"

As though Burlington county was in the business of trying to enforce lay for the revenue it got out of it!

A judge addressing a public meeting one night recently "pointed with pride" to the amount of the fines that had been collected during the year. He seemed to think that it was a pretty good business deal!

Law enforcement will never be a success in Burlington county, or anywhere else, until there is greater regard for law observance. The spirit of true and patriotic Americanism which will prompt men and women to observe a law with which they may not personally agree, will also prompt them to assist the officers to enforce that law, and see that officials who do not enforce the law are removed from office.

And this holds true with all laws as well as the Volstead Act, and with municipal ordinances as well as Federal and State laws.

NO COMPROMISE WITH LIQUOR

The liquor business is like a deadly serpent.

It is about as easy to regulate or to make legal as it is to tame a hyena.

It is essentially a wild beast.

It is unfortunately aligned with conviviality. Many people seem to think that getting drunk is a joke and the consumption of alcohol is amusing. They speak condoningly of the use of whiskey by the youth.

Many people, and especially those engaged in wet proproganda, do not realize the deadly end of this peril.

It is an own brother to murder, hold-ups, burglary, smuggling and thuggism.

The man engaged in the business of enforcing the law of prohibition takes his life in his hands, for those in the liquor business do not hesitate to kill when it is necessary. It embraces not only low-brow thugs, but millionaires and social leaders.

While the common people have declared for the abolition of alcohol there are many who are determined to go on with their consumption of liquor.

The effort of the convivially inclined and those who think that their personal liberty has been interfered with are influenced by one of the strongest passions in the human breast—greed.

law when the breaking of that law

It is difficult to enforce any is backed by human passions. The laws against arson, murder, adultery and theft are thousands of years old, yet they are constantly violated no matter what their evil effects.

The law against the use of liquor is aimed at the greatest curse and greatest cause of crime that humanity has ever known.

Those who see the vileness of its effects, the moral degradation of youth and the danger to business have lined up solidly for prohibition, while against the prohibitory law are those who are subtly influenced by the traditional tolerance of the human race to the habit that is supposed to be genial and pardonable.

The trouble with bootlegging is that its pays big. Whoever will take the profit out of this unholy business will be doing a great service.

THE QUESTION BOX

Lee Surrendered April 9, 1865

H. R., Riverton—What was the day and date Gen. Lee surrendered to Gen. Grant in the Civil war of the United States?

Ans.—Lee surrendered on Sunday, April 9, 1865.

Height of Eiffel Tower

A. N., Palmyra—Can you tell me as soon as possible in your question column just how high the Eiffel tower is?

Ans.—The Eiffel tower is 984 feet from the ground to the pinnacle.

The Oldest Empire

H. P., Cinnaminson—What is the oldest empire in the world?

Ans.—This is a matter of some doubt. The Chinese claim to have history dating back nearly ten thousand years before the Christian era. The oldest nation we have any record of is Assyria, which was founded by Emperor Belus 1993 B. C.

About 3,000 Visible Stars

M. K., East Riverton—How many stars are there in the sky? How big are they? And how far away are they?

Ans.—The number is not known. There are about 3,000 visible to the naked eye. There are about 18,000,000 in the milky way that are visible by the telescope. The stars are mostly suns, the nearest one of which is about four hundred and sixty-five trillion miles away. It is believed that the smallest star is about 300 times larger than the earth.

"Salt River" Imaginary

G. S., Cinnaminson—Will you please say in your paper where Salt river is, as I have heard the expression "he went up Salt river"?

Ans.—It is an imaginary river, up which defeated political parties are supposed to be sent to oblivion. We know of no other Salt river.

The Wedding Ring

A. R., Palmyra—Why is a wedding ring always worn on the third finger?

Ans.—In the old English marriage service the wearing of a wedding ring on the third finger was regarded as an invocation of the trinity.

Armistice Signed at Senlis

S. F., Cambridge—Will you be kind enough to tell me through the columns of your paper just where the armistice was signed?

Ans.—The armistice was signed by the Germans at Senlis, a town about twenty miles north of Paris.

Mineral Products Are Mined

M. F., Riverton—To settle an argument will you please answer in this week's question column if there are such things as paint mines?

Ans.—All mineral pigments must be mined as other mineral products are taken from the earth. For instance, there are extensive yellow ochre deposits in various districts in this country.

PRESIDENT FACES WEST
THE DINOSAUR PARTY
STUDYING MUMMIES
MEN WILL DIG

President Coolidge will spend his vacation in the West, in response to many invitations. He should drive in a big automobile from Kansas City to Seattle down to San Diego, fishing here and there. He would see millions of Americans that like him.

The biggest wars are soon forgotten. Over a direct cable from the United States to Germany, opened last week, President Coolidge wired President Hindenburg his hope that "this additional means of communication will promote mutual understanding and good will between the two countries." And President Hindenburg replied most politely. Germany, rid of an expensive fleet, expensive standing army and extremely expensive Kaiser, attends to business and goes ahead more rapidly than any other country in Europe.

Mrs. Henry Fairfield Osborn entertained friends at the Museum of Natural History, in honor of the tyrannosaurus, in Dinosaur Hall.

That monster is 47 feet long from his beak to the end of his tail, 18 feet high at the hips, 21 feet around the waist, with bones that weigh more than two tons.

He was a powerful animal, but couldn't last because he didn't have a brain big in proportion to the size of his body.

Civilization has developed a more powerful creature, which is the two-legged billionaire, able to control and command the work of 200,000,000 for one day.

That billionaire will soon be numerous and the interesting question concerning him will be, "What about his brain?" Will it be big enough to keep him safe?

The learned Dr. Sack, of Heidelbery University, studying thousands of Egyptian mummies, finds that high living killed off rich Egyptians as it kills off rich Americans now.

Foolish eating, lack of exercise, especially lack of deep breathing have through the centuries been skimming the scum off the boiling pot of civilization.

Mummies of the fifty dynasty show signs of tuberculosis, affecting the spine, the gout, swelling the joints.

The Supreme Court decides unanimously that Texas' laws forbidding negroes to vote at Democratic primaries in unconstitutional. It is a most important decision, and not in the South only, since it may mean Federal control over local primaries.

Where money is, men will dig. It was proved in Italy, before architects had learned how to make great domes like that on St. Peter's hold themselves up as they rose in the air. One dome was built and filled with earth to support it, as it rose, until the sides met at the top. Putting in the earth would be much less expensive than taking it out. So they mixed the earth beneath the dome with small coins of a total value much less than the cost of removing the earth. When the dome was finished the population was told it could bear away the coin-bearing dirt. The great dome stood empty.

This country last year imported more than $80,000,000 worth of precious stones, $5,000,000 more than the year before. And those purchased were made without the assistance of the extinct race of bartenders, to each of whom a large diamond was as necessary as a white apron.

M. Millet, French scientist, would tear down the honey bee's reputation built up by Maeterlinck Lubbock and many others, back to Aristotle.

The bee is a dull, mechanical creature, says Millet; it does not know that it polenizes flowers and blossoms, does not even know which flowers have honey, thinks only of getting sugar.

You can say the same of our human honey bees of industry. They build up civilization, make wealth, leisure and culture possible, but they don't know it, or don't care. They also are "only looking for sugar."

But like the bee, they are doing the work for which the Lord created them, and that's sufficient.

Plant Poisoning

The qualities of a plant which are poisonous to us, and which are the source of various sorts of human ills, are very often the sole means of the plant's ability to endure in its struggle for existence. These poisons are either waste products given off or are nature's means of protecting the plant from harmful attacks by insects.

CHAUTAUQUA

First Social Feature Held at Home of Miss Emma Price

The Palmyra-Riverton Chautauqua Association held its first social last Saturday at the home of its president, Miss Emma Price. It is to be regretted that only sixteen of the guarantors made their appearance especially in view of the fact that Dr. Paul M. Pearson, president of the Swarthmore Chautauqua, honored the assembly with his presence and, in an informal address, explained the aims and purpose of Chautauqua.

He rehearsed briefly its past history and dwelt on the aspects of the future. He promised that the Association constantly endeavors to better its programs, that it is always on the lookout for talent, especially young talents and lecturers, and emphasized the fact that Chautauqua is what one might term an extensive educational course ready to give to those, desirous of education in all lines of public interest and art, valuable information through competent sources.

Its value to the community is recognized and it lends to that community its purpose for a higher civil, economic and moral standing. Within a radius of eighty miles of Philadelphia, one hundred and ninety-five individual towns enjoy Chautauqua festival seasons.

Following Dr. Pearson's address, Mr. Hoyt, accompanied by Miss Margaret Giberson, sang two compositions which were well received. Miss Giberson, a pianist of more than average ability and of an admirable conception and interpretation, played Ludwig van Beethoven's "Farewell to the Piano," fittingly remarking that Palmyra-Riverton Association may contribute its share to the memory of the "Giant" in music whose name is being celebrated these days throughout the civilized world.

Refreshments were passed and an hour or so was spent in pleasant conversation.

Closing, the members agreed that the next meeting should take place in the latter part of April in the home of Mrs. Corelia Cann. It is earnestly hoped and desired that a larger number of guarantors enjoy these gatherings which the committee in charge intends to provide at regular intervals. Serve your town and you serve yourself.

Modern Franklin's Way

What starts a lightning flash, and what determines the path of a lightning bolt through the atmosphere?

A modern disciple of Benjamin Franklin, Dr. V. V. Boys, British physicist, proposes to answer these questions by shooting a rocket up into a thundercloud, to see whether a lightning flash will follow the track of the rocket, either downward to the earth or upward from the earth to the cloud.

Doctor Boys explains that the track of a rocket contains countless electrified atoms which are discharged as the explosive drives the rocket upward. Knowledge of whether lightning would follow such an electrified channel through the air, he says, might reveal many unknown facts about the nature of thunderbolts.—Popular Science Monthly.

Teaching India's Farmers

Farmers of India are being taught modern methods of agriculture. The Bombay government arranged that leading farmers in different parts of the country attend the first Bombay Presidential Agricultural show, which was held recently at Poona, so that they might return home and set examples for their neighbors. In 14 sections of the fair were shown the latest methods and implements for use in different phases of agriculture. One exhibit, called the "Poor Farmer's Still," showed the cheapest of implements that might be used by the small farmer.

His Trouble

"On the train the other day I met a feller that I couldn't hardly make out," said Farmer Funter. "The car was crowded and he took a seat by me. He said he liked farmers better than any other class of men; they were honester, knew more, had better things to eat, made more money, and enjoyed life better than any other sort of men."

"Of course, he was a swindler!" returned Farmer Fumbigate. "How bad did he sting you?"

"That was the funny part. He didn't want to borrow any money, sell me a phony gold watch, or play any kind of a game of that sort. I couldn't make out anything about him except that he must be crazy. But he didn't look it or act it."—Kansas City Star.

Shepherds Fear "Devil"

Shepherds in the neighborhood of Machach-Kala, in central Soviet Asia, have gone on strike, declaring that the devil appearing in the form of a gigantic eagle has made their profession hazardous.

They report that in the course of a few days the eagle killed 42 sheep, carrying off the younger victims. The mountain eagles in the vicinity of Machach-Kala are noted for their size and ferocity. In this instance the shepherds were so intimidated by the great bird that they feared to come to the assistance of their flocks.

What Price Beauty?

by Miss Flo

LOOKING INTO THE MIND OF MAN

Dear Miss Flo:

Do you think it is good policy for a wife to let her husband see how much she loves him, and how necessary he is to her happiness, or is it better for her to appear indifferent? When a man knows for a certain that a woman's heart is his, is he likely to undervalue it?

I have only been married a short time, and I am anxious to keep my husband's love. Please advise me. C. A.

A man's attitude toward love undergoes a radical change on his wedding day.

We all know that before marriage that the more difficult a woman is to win the more a man persues her, and the more a woman throws herself at a man the more adroitly he dodges her.

During the period of courtship the thing that is of more importance to him than anything else in the world is the state of mind of the girl he loves. It's a wonderful sentimental adventure, and he follows all her moods. When she is coy and difficult it arouses all his sporting instinct, and when he succeeds in taking her away from his rivals, and she finally surrenders to him, he is thrilled with a sense of being a conquering, irresistible hero.

But marriage is a different story altogether. A man expects the capture to end the chase, and he doesn't want to have it run on the balance of his life. He expects marriage to finish all doubts, fears, heart aches and speculations about the woman he loves, so that he will be free to give his undivided attention to his work.

For that reason, the tactics that won a woman a husband will not serve to hold him, and the wife who tries to pique her husband's interest in her by her indifference is more apt to land in the divorce court than to strengthen her position in the man's heart.

For men do not want to be kept guessing about their wives. They want to be sure of them. The man who is married to a woman who keeps him in constant doubt of her affection, and keeps him on the verge of a nervous breakdown with jealousies and doubts and suspicions does not think he had drawn much of a prize in the matrimonial gamble. On the contrary, he is likely to think that he has been taken in, and isn't crazy about haveing been so badly mistaken in his judgment.

The wise woman never hesitates to let her husband know how much she loves him, how necessary he is to her happiness, because her love makes the strongest claim she can possibly have upon him. Many a man who has made an unsuitable marriage with a woman with whom he had no real companionship, and many a man who has outgrown the woman he married in his youth, is kept faithful to her by the knowledge of her devotion to him, for few husbands are heartless enough to hurt a wife who worships him, or leave the woman whose whole life is bound up in him.

Nor is there any lure of mind or person that appeals to a man so much as just the certainty of a wife's love and the knowledge that if all the world turned against him, she would still remain loyal and true.

Something Lacking in Men of Great Minds

Many great philosophers have shown an extraordinary inability to carry out their teachings in daily life. Their precepts are sound enough; their wisdom is undoubted. Yet they are fool ish fellows, after all.

The reason is not so obscure as it seems at first sight. A man may have a fine brain, so that, in the quiet of his study, he can put in words great wisdom. But along with that fine brain may go a weak character which balks him whenever he attempts to cope with stark reality.

John Stuart Mill was a great philosopher. But in his daily life he committed every conceivable blunder. Thomas Carlyle concentrated his profound mind on the causes of misery in the world, and made his own home utterly unhappy by an uncontrolled and irritable temperament. He could give the world a lot; but for his long-suffering wife, whom he loved in his own way, he had little but harsh words, scoldings, and churlishness.

Anatole France, greatest of modern French writers and commentators on life, said, shortly before he died: "I have never known a moment's happiness." Why had he not known happiness? Surely because, for all his wisdom, he had not, after all, mastered the art of life.

The great German philosopher, Schopenhauer, whose treatises on metaphysics are classic, was a fool in the affairs of life. While writing his monumental treatises on philosophy he yet contrived to be so peppery, suspicious, and quarrelsome that his own mother, with whom he lived, requested him to go away from her. It is said that he had not a single friend.

Many a simple, ignorant man possesses more real wisdom than a learned professor. The true test is action; those men are wise, who live wisely.

Successful Book Thief

Fortunately for our literary treasures, dishonesty among librarians is extremely rare, but the arrest of the curator of a Paris library for trying to sell a valuable Thirteenth-century MS. in his charge to a London bookseller recalls the depredations of the most successful book thief on record—Count Guglielmo Libri, for many years inspector general of public libraries in France. In the course of his visits of inspection Libri contrived to remove from the various collections a remarkable number of valuable books and manuscripts, and before discovery managed to accumulate some $300,000 by the sale of his plunder. In 1848 a warrant was issued for his arrest, but he had friends at court and was enabled to escape to England where he lived very comfortably for many years on the proceeds of his stolen treasures.

Franklin Gave Object Lesson of Time's Value

One morning when Benjamin Franklin was industriously preparing his newspaper for the press, a man stepped into his shop and consumed an hour or more browsing among the books displayed for sale. Finally, selecting one, he inquired the price from Franklin's helper.

"One dollar," was the boy's reply.

"One dollar!" said the customer. "Can't you take less than that?"

"No, indeed, one dollar is the price."

A little later, still unsatisfied, the customer accosted the boy again.

"Is Mr. Franklin at home?"

"Yes, he is in the printing office."

The boy called to Mr. Franklin, who was soon behind the counter ready for business.

"Mr. Franklin, what is the lowest you can take for this book?"

"One dollar and a quarter, sir."

"One dollar and a quarter? Why, your boy just said it was only one dollar."

"True," said Franklin, "but I could have better afforded to have taken a dollar then than to have been taken out of my office."

"Come, Mr. Franklin, you're joking. What is your lowest price?"

"A dollar and a half!"

"Why, you yourself, Doctor Franklin, only five minutes ago said the price was one dollar and a quarter."

"Yes, my dear sir, but that was five minutes ago, and I might better have taken a dollar and a quarter then than lose so much time. My time is money."

The young man took another look at Franklin, quickly paid the dollar and a half, and hastily retreated from the shop to circulate the story of the queer doings of a certain printer and his high-handed way of doing business.—Market for Exchange.

Truly Original

The teacher gave the following assignment to her spelling class: "I have here four words that I want you to use in your own original sentences. They are defeat, defense, detail and deduct."

One little fellow, nicknamed "Sleepy" by his schoolmates because of his lack of fondness for work, drowsily opened his eyes and asked lazily: "Well, won't it be all right if we can use all four of them in one sentence?" On being assured that it was just as well, he returned to his comfortable position.

The next day, when looking over the papers, she was amused but not at all surprised to find the following sentence on Sleepy's paper: "De feat of de duck went over de fence before de tail."

If women's skirts keep on getting shorter, we for one are going to quit worrying about this becoming a petticoat government.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

Sunday School at ten o'clock, the theme of the lesson being, "Peter Becomes a Disciple of Jesus." Golden Text: "Come ye after Me, and I will make you fishers of men." What more timely topic could we study during this Lord's Day preceding Palm Sunday and Easter, than that of "being fishers of men?" Every Christian should become a worker and throw his influence in such a direction as will lead others into the Kingdom of God. This will not be possible unless we prepare ourselves by study and devotion for the great, important task.

Church service at 11.15 with special music by the choir. The theme of the morning sermon will be along a very practical line, the subject being "Continuing Disciples." There will be a children's sermon in connection with the morning service.

Since it is the last children's sermon before Easter, the message will be one dealing with our part in having a glorious Easter. For an object lesson, the pastor is going to "show something which has never been seen by a human eye before." Don't miss lesson and demonstration.

Thursday evening, prayer service at eight o'clock. "Life in The Knowledge of God" will be the theme discussed. Let us urge that a good number turn out to this service. We shall be expecting to see you there.

Friday evening, catechetical instruction at seevn o'clock. As there are but two classes yet before Confirmation, I am sure that every one will be present, not only for the lessons but that details of the ceremonies may be thoroughly arranged and explained. Confirmation is the great step toward God, and we cannot afford to give Him anything less than our whole-hearted attention.

CALVARY Y. M. C. A.

The regular meeting of the Calvary Y was held in the Methodist Church on Monday evening. The meeting was called to order by the president and Robert Bartley led us in prayer. The secretary called the roll and the treasurer gave his report. The Bible lesson was then given by our leader. The business of the meeting was then taken up. We then had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Baker who gave us a very interesting talk. He told us some interesting and amusing happenings which took place at the White Sox training camp at Shreveport, Louisiana. After Mr. Baker's speech the meeting was adjourned.

A basket ball game between Bethany of Philadelphia and the Calvary Y took place. This game was one of the fastest games the Y has played this season. The score at the end of the first half was 12-8 in favor of the Calvary Y. The second half was the fastest part of the game. The Calvary Y could not seem to locate the basket and in a short time the teams were tied. The Bethany team then increased its score and when the final whistle blew the score was 28-14 in favor of Bethany. After this game the rest of the Y fellows had a game.

"If a man does not keep pace with his companions, perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer. Let him step to the music which he hears, however measured or far away." So wrote Thoreau to remind us fo the value of true and intent listening.

The myriad voices of God are calling to the soul at this tremulous spring time, each with a message of joy and wondrous hope. As you value your spirits welfare, sweep out of the way every hindrance to the reception of the glad tidings, and let the beauty of this joyous season of regeneration catch your very being in a rythmic march to God.

Today I have grown taller from Walking with the trees,
The seven sister poplars who go
Softly in a line;
And I think my heart is whiter
For its parley with a star
That trembled out at nightfall
And hung above the pine.
The call note of a red bird
From the cedars in the dusk
Woke his happy mate within me
To an answer free and fine;
And a sudden angel beckoned
From a column of blue smoke—
Lord, who am I that they should Stoop—these holy folk of thine?

"... all the advantages of Oakland's super-precision construction plus the rich beauty of New Colors in Duco"
In this great era of industrial precision, Oakland manufacturing processes stand out as a marvel of the day and age. Not in the entire history of the automobile has any car of its price embodied so many super-precision processes—so many practices previously used only in the manufacture of the costliest cars.
Oakland is going to unheard-of lengths to make certain that the Greater Oakland Six continues to be the finest built car of its price in the world.
Yet today's Oakland Six is winning an entirely new measure of popularity, offering all the advantages of Oakland super-precision construction, plus the rich beauty of new colors in Duco.
These original color combinations were developed in cooperation with Dupont, the world's leading automotive color authorities. They lend refreshing smartness to every Oakland body. They introduce into their price field a new note of modishness and luxury—one that you will instantly mark the moment you see the car.

Lesson for May 1

PETER'S DENIAL AND REPENTANCE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:53, 54; 66-71; Luke 22:61, 62.

GOLDEN TEXT—Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Grieves Jesus and is Sorry.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Story of Peter's Disloyalty.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Is Denied Today.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Danger of Sudden Temptations.

I. Peter's Downfall (Mark 14:29-71).

This began when he refused to hear about the cross and ended when he, with a foul oath, declared: "I know not the man." When the disciples would no longer hear Christ's message about the cross, they not only ceased to grow in knowledge, but they began to deteriorate in moral discernment and were exposed to the possibility of the shameful denial of their Lord. Steps in Peter's backsliding:

1. Overweaning self-confidence (vv. 29-31).

His unwillingness to face the cross alienated him from Jesus and when apprised of the fact that the disciples would all forsake Jesus, Peter declared that Jesus was certainly mistaken, saying: "Although all shall be offended, yet will not I." Our condition is most perilous when we are most sure of our safety.

2. Sleeping at the post of duty (v. 37).

In one short hour the very one who was so confident of his self-sufficiency had fallen asleep instead of watching. The only way to escape from backsliding is to watch.

3. Lack of prayer (v. 38).

The legitimate inference from the Lord's words "watch and pray" is that He had commanded them to pray as well as to watch. The reason there is so little prayer is due to the lack of the sense of need of God's help.

4. Misguided zeal (v. 47).

Peter drew a sword and cut off an ear of a servant of the high priest (John 18:10) when they came to arrest Jesus. He was thus zealous for the Lord. He was trying to make up in outward service his conscious lack of communion.

5. Followed Jesus afar off (v. 54).

Christ's rebuke for taking the sword and the awkward position in which his act had placed him, caused him to follow afar off. He keenly felt Christ's reprimand. Following Jesus afar off got him into trouble.

6. Warmed himself at the enemy's fire (v. 67).

This fire was built by those who had come unsympathetically to witness the crucifixion and even to mock in this tragic hour. For Christ's disciples to try to get comfort from the things prepared for the satisfaction of His enemies is sinful. Many professing Christians are living a life of compromise, even attempting to get pleasures out of the things which the enemies of Christ have prepared for themselves.

7. Open denial (vv. 66-71).

Step by step downward Peter went until the words of a servant girl provoked open and blasphemous denial. This even by one who had said: "If I should die with thee I will not deny thee in any wise." Peter's trouble began when he shrank from the cross. It was that shunning which separated him from contact with God. It should be remembered that there can be no backsliding until there be established a position from which to slip. Many of the so-called backsliders have never been born again.

II. The Repentance of Peter (Luke 22:61-62).

1. The look of Jesus (v. 61).

This was a most wondrous look. It was doubtless filled with pity and pain. Christ knew the trials through which Peter and the other disciples would pass and He prayed for them. This look brought to Peter the full consciousness of his cowardice and disloyalty and his blasphemous words of denial, and yet it displayed His pity and forgiving love.

2. Peter's bitter tears (v. 62).

The look of Jesus brought conviction of sin. It called to mind his boastfulness and cowardice. How awful must have been his condition as he went out that night into the darkness, little suspecting that there would be found a way to get back into communion with his Lord. Doubtless the message from the women as they came from the tomb brought the first good cheer to his heart. Christ said to them: "Go and tell my disciples and Peter." This encouraged him, no doubt, as it indicated Christ's particular consideration and love for him.

Two Things Needed

There are two things that they need to possess who go on pilgrimage; courage and an unspotted life.—John Bunyan.

Seeing and Talking

Men are born with two eyes, but with one tongue, that they may see twice as much as they say.—Cotton.

The Holy Ghost

No man is at his best until he is filled with the Holy Ghost.—Echoes.

Suzanne Lenglen, sailing for her own France, said of American men, "they are uniformly good looking—but seem a bit timid." We know our onions—"that the tennis racquet is mightier than the rolling pin"—especially in such hands.

"Tex" Guinan, famous New York night club proprietoress, and Aimee Semple McPherson, Los Angeles, "Vamp in Vestments," played return engagements at each other's show in Gotham last week—stunt stuff to which even the famous Old Barnum could not find fault.

Still Lives After Murderous Attack

Buckingham Victim in Hospital; Assailant in Toms River Jail

What appeared like another murder case for Burlington county was reported in Mount Holly Monday of last week, when Bernard Shaunessy, fourty-four years of age, of near Buckingham, was brought to the Burlington County Hospital with gun-shot wounds in the chest, arms and legs, and his head badly battered, apparently with some blunt instrument.

From Shaunessy's account of what happened it appeared that John Yannish, who lived near him at Buckingham, went to the Shaunessy hut early on Monday morning, just as the latter was about to leave the house for his day's work in the woods or on the bogs, and deliberately shot him. Shaunessy said he grappled with the fellow, but that Yannish succeeded in wrestling the gun from his grasp and then belabored him over the head with the gun stock.

Yannish then disappeared in the woods and Shaunessy walked and crawled over a mile to the nearest neighbor to whom he told his story and the latter brought him to the hospital.

Detective Parker's office was notified, and anticipating they might have to deal with a wild man in the woods, the detectives, accompanied by Game Warden Mathis and others, drove quickly to the scene and later found Yannish at his home. He made no resistance and returned to Mount Holly with the officers, but refused to make a statement, contenting himself with saying that he knew nothing about the affair.

Later, Yannish was turned over to Detective Ernest Burdge, of Ocean county, it having been ascertained that the assault took place in that county, and Yannish is now in the jail at Toms River, where it is said he still refuses to talk.

Shaunessy is still at the hospital and his condition is very grave. He says he knows of no reason why Yannish should have assaulted him, and that while the latter was always a queer-acting fellow they had never had any words.

Both men lived alone.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Speed of Light and Sound

You have perhaps noticed that light travels faster than sound—that you see the flash of a distant gun before you hear the report. This is because they have different modes of travel. Sound travels through gases, liquids and solids, while light is conveyed by ether which, being elastic, carries the waves at far greater speed.

$10,000,000 Pontiac Factory Opened

First Cars Come Off Line; Oakland Six Output to be Increased

Production started last week in the new $10,000,000 plant of the Oakland Motor Car Company that will be devoted exclusively to building Pontiac Six motor cars, when the first car rolled off the assembly line which extends a quarter of a mile in length. The second assembly line is practically completed and will be in operation just as soon as the first line has been speeded up to capacity.

The event was made a gala occasion by the attendance of practically all the officials of the company. It represented the culmination of a year and a half of planning and building, and is the opening of the first unit of a factory that has been heralded as one of the largest and most modern single motor car factories in the country.

The new factory is being tooled-up for a production of 750 cars daily for the present. The plant will have an ultimate maximum capacity of 1000 cars a day. Expansion will be made as quickly as possible due to the tremendous demand for the new Pontiac Six cars which were announced about a month ago. Each of the two assembly lines will shortly have a production output of 40 cars an hour.

The fruits of the $15,000,000 Oakland company expansion program are beginning to be seen in a larger output which has just been started. The March production of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes will be only slightly under the largest single production month ever recorded by the Oakland Motor Car Company, while the April production schedule of 19,000 Oakland and Pontiac cars will smash all previous monthly production records.

The beginning of operations in the new Pontiac factory also will provide facilities for a greater production schedule of Oakland cars in the original Oakland plant. A recent appropriation of $1,500,000 will be spent entirely for new Oakland machinery and equipment which will insure a capacity of 360 Oakland Sixes per day.

The first three cars off the line in the new factory were Pontiac Sedans. Bell Brothers, Philadelphia, have the distinction of receiving the first car off the new line.

State Highway Plan Approved

Requisitions for $8,000,000 for 1927 Road Construction Meet Endorsement

Requisitions for $8,000,000 were approved by the State Highway Commission last week for its construction program during the 1927 season. This sum will represent the final instalment in the $4,000,000 bond issue authorized in 1923. Legislation is now pending to provide further revenues for the road building program.

The board requests the State House Commission to sell bonds to the amount of $6,000,000 for roads and $2,000,000 for bridges.

Plans were completed by the State Highway Commission to place in use by July 1 sections of the entrance and connecting roads to the new Delaware River Bridge at Camden. The construction operations, which are to be pushed to completion by that time, will permit travelers from Trenton and other points north to reach the bridge over the new alignment of Route 2 and automobilists using Route 3, the White Horse Pike, to Atlantic City, and other points south, will also be enabled to travel over the new construction by July 1.

Upon recommendation of C. F. Hadwell, construction engineer, and Edward E. Reed, assistant highway engineer, the commission approved placing contracts for the masonry work and superstructure upon the underpass of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Mount Holly branch, in Pensauken township. This improvement will be made to eliminate a grade-crossing on the Camden connecting road to keep the new thoroughfare fre from danger of accidents with trains.

As the underpass is to be placed on a new right of way, the contract will be let by the Pennsylvania Railroad under an agreement for payment by the State Highway Commission.

Electricity with his partner, Gas, can perform nearly every task, big and little, connected with home-making, including house heating and perfect illumination.

Oven Heat Control Aids Every Cook

EVEN the women who like to cook and enjoy fussing about the kitchen complain of the tiresome waits while the dinner is cooking and the many trips from living room to kitchen to see how the roast or baking is progressing.

The oven heat regulator gas range is a help to the skilled chef as well as to the inexperienced cook. If the right ingredients are properly mixed and the oven heat regulator set at the required temperature, successful baking and cooking results are ensured, and the housekeeper is free for other tasks or recreation while the cooking goes on.

The enamel finish of the oven heat regulator gas range adds to the orderly appearance of the kitchen. It is easily kept clean and the push button top burner lighter and drawer for utensils speed up and make work lighter.

Ranges bought of Public Service are connected to the gas outlet in the kitchen without charge. All gas ranges may be purchased on the Public Service easy payment plan—small sum down, small sum monthly.

Gas for house heating is a most luxurious form of home comfort. Address Public Service for interesting facts.

New Kelvinator Model Is Priced Attractively

"Sealtite" is the name of the latest Kelvinator (electric refrigeration) model. It is well named for it is indeed sealed tight against heat or moisture, with a two inch cork board insulation. This is a most attractive cabinet, all steel on the outside with a seamless metal food compartment. It is finished in gray enamel.

The "Sealtite" is a particularly good model for the small home or apartment. It is light in weight and easy to move. Works on any baseboard outlet.

It makes ice in conveniently sized cubes for table use.

The "Sealtite" costs only $210 cash at Public Service.

Toast Has Place At Every Meal

FOR breakfast, luncheon and afternoon tea, sometimes for dinner too, the electric toaster is pressed into service. It is a handy servant to have at the table during a meal, so that fresh toast may be made and served hot.

The Westinghouse is a popular model. The bread automatically turns and little wooden knobs protect the fingers. Priced at $6.00. The Manning Bowman, too, is a sturdy toaster and will give excellent service. Priced at $3.75.

The Toastmaster (illustrated) has a heat control device that "ejects" the bread when it is toasted enough. A handsome toaster that is a particularly good choice as a gift. Its price is $12.50.

Give a Thought to Kitchen Lighting

REMEMBER the difference between lighting effects and effective lighting. The first are vastly important to the home as a whole, but effective lighting is paramount in the kitchen.

A well lighted kitchen is essential in a well ordered house. Do you realize that two-thirds of kitchen work is done facing the wall at sink, range or cabinet? This requires bright, cheerful, shadowless light.

It's so easy to have perfect illumination. A light in the center of the room up close to the ceiling, surrounded with a glass enclosing globe, floods the whole kitchen with light that illuminates every corner, softens every shadow, helps the tasks to go swiftly. In large kitchens additional lights may be required, at the sink or range, but in small rooms with light colored walls one central light is often sufficient.

Convenience outlets should be provided for attaching the dishwasher, electric egg beater and other appliances.

The public is invited to consult the Lighting Bureau at Public Service for help and advice in lighting their homes, factories or office buildings. A plan will be made and estimate given without cost or obligation.

Every Home Requires Plenty of Hot Water

A PILE of dirty dishes to be washed—a shampoo required before an important engagement may be kept—there is never any need to wait for water to heat in the home that is equipped with an automatic storage water heater.

This convenience automatically maintains a plentiful supply of hot water in the big insulated tank. When the water reaches the required degree of heat, the gas shuts off except for a tiny pilot light. When it is necessary to heat more water the gas automatically turns on.

At Public Service stores a small down payment will install an automatic storage water heater, any size or style desired.

Electric Cookers Are Labor Savers

FOR good cooking results with little effort the electric cooker does admirably. It bakes, boils, roasts and stews. It occupies but a small space and operates when attached to any electric socket. A whole dinner may be cooked in it with little attention from the cook.

When warm days invite everyone out of doors the cooker is doubly appreciated. The dinner may be prepared beforehand and the cooker and its contents put into the motor car, so that a hot meal may be enjoyed out in the country or by the shore. Even after the current has been disconnected, the food continues to cook on the retained heat.

Electric cooker prices begin at $6.89 at Public Service stores.

AN electric vibrator stimulates circulation and is particularly effective in improving facial and scalp conditions. From $1.00 up.

PETER'S DENIAL AND REPENTANCE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 14:53, 54; 66-71; Luke 22:31, 32.

GOLDEN TEXT—Let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Peter Grieves Jesus and Is Sorry.

JUNIOR TOPIC—The Story of Peter's Disloyalty.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Jesus Is Denied Today.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Danger of Sudden Temptations.

I. Peter's Downfall (Mark 14:29-71).

This began when he refused to hear about the cross and ended when he, with a foul oath, declared: "I know not the man." When the disciples would no longer hear Christ's message about the cross, they not only ceased to grow in knowledge, but they began to deteriorate in moral discernment and were exposed to the possibility of the shameful denial of their Lord. Steps in Peter's backsliding:

1. Overweening self-confidence (vv. 29-31).

His unwillingness to face the cross alienated him from Jesus and when apprised of the fact that the disciples would all forsake Jesus, Peter declared that Jesus was certainly mistaken, saying: "Although all shall be offended, yet will not I." Our condition is most perilous when we are most sure of our safety.

2. Sleeping at the post of duty (v. 37).

In one short hour the very one who was so confident of his self-sufficiency had fallen asleep instead of watching. The only way to escape from backsliding is to watch.

3. Lack of prayer (v. 38).

The legitimate inference from the Lord's words "watch and pray" is that He had commanded them to pray as well as to watch. The reason there is so little prayer is due to the lack of the sense of need of God's help.

4. Misguided zeal (v. 47).

Peter drew a sword and cut off an ear of a servant of the high priest (John 18:10) when they came to arrest Jesus. He was thus zealous for the Lord. He was trying to make up in outward service his conscious lack of communion.

5. Followed Jesus afar off (v. 54).

Christ's rebuke for taking the sword and the awkward position in which his act had placed him, caused him to follow afar off. He keenly felt Christ's reprimand. Following Jesus afar off got him into trouble.

6. Warmed himself at the enemy's fire (v. 67).

This fire was built by those who had come unsympathetically to witness the crucifixion and even to mock in this tragic hour. For Christ's disciples to try to get comfort from the things prepared for the satisfaction of His enemies is sinful. Many professing Christians are living a life of compromise, even attempting to get pleasures out of the things which the enemies of Christ have prepared for themselves.

7. Open denial (vv. 66-71).

Step by step downward Peter went until the words of a servant girl provoked open and blasphemous denial. This even by one who had said: "If I should die with thee I will not deny thee in any wise." Peter's trouble began when he shrank from the cross. It was that shunning which separated him from contact with God. It should be remembered that there can be no backsliding until there be established a position from which to slip. Many of the so-called backsliders have never been born again.

II. The Repentance of Peter (Luke 22:61-62).

1. The look of Jesus (v. 61).

This was a most wondrous look. It was doubtless filled with pity and pain. Christ knew the trials through which Peter and the other disciples would pass and He prayed for them. This look brought to Peter the full consciousness of his cowardice and disloyalty and his blasphemous words of denial, and yet it displayed His pity and forgiving love.

2. Peter's bitter tears (v. 62).

The look of Jesus brought conviction of sin. It called to mind his boastfulness and cowardice. How awful must have been his condition as he went out that night into the darkness, little suspecting that there would be found a way to get back into communion with his Lord. Doubtless the message from the women as they came from the tomb brought the first good cheer to his heart. Christ said to them: "Go and tell my disciples and Peter." This encouraged him, no doubt, as it indicated Christ's particular consideration and love for him.

Still Lives After Murderous Attack

Buckingham Victim in Hospital; Assailant in Toms River Jail

What appeared like another murder case for Burlington county was reported in Mount Holly Monday of last week, when Bernard Shaunessy, fourty-four years of age, of near Buckingham, was brought to the Burlington County Hospital with gun-shot wounds in the chest, arms and legs, and his head badly battered, apparently with some blunt instrument.

From Shaunessy's account of what happened it appeared that John Yannish, who lived near him at Buckingham, went to the Shaunessy hut early on Monday morning, just as the latter was about to leave the house for his day's work in the woods or on the bogs, and deliberately shot him. Shaunessy said he grappled with the fellow, but that Yannish succeeded in wrestling the gun from his grasp and then belabored him over the head with the gun stock.

Yannish then disappeared in the woods and Shaunessy walked and crawled over a mile to the nearest neighbor to whom he told his story and the latter brought him to the hospital.

Detective Parker's office was notified, and anticipating they might have to deal with a wild man in the woods, the detectives, accompanied by Game Warden Mathis and others, drove quickly to the scene and later found Yannish at his home. He made no resistance and returned to Mount Holly with the officers, but refused to make a statement, contenting himself with saying that he knew nothing about the affair.

Later, Yannish was turned over to Detective Ernest Burdge, of Ocean county, it having been ascertained that the assault took place in that county, and Yannish is now in the jail at Toms River, where it is said he still refuses to talk.

Shaunessy is still at the hospital and his condition is very grave. He says he knows of no reason why Yannish should have assaulted him, and that while the latter was always a queer-acting fellow they had never had any words.

Both men lived alone.

$10,000,000 Pontiac Factory Opened

First Cars Come Off Line; Oakland Six Output to be Increased

Production started last week in the new $10,000,000 plant of the Oakland Motor Car Company that will be devoted exclusively to building Pontiac Six motor cars, when the first car rolled off the assembly line which extends a quarter of a mile in length. The second assembly line is practically completed and will be in operation just as soon as the first line has been speeded up to capacity.

The event was made a gala occasion by the attendance of practically all the officials of the company. It represented the culmination of a year and a half of planning and building, and is the opening of the first unit of a factory that has been heralded as one of the largest and most modern single motor car factories in the country.

The new factory is being tooled-up for a production of 750 cars daily for the present. The plant will have an ultimate maximum capacity of 1000 cars a day. Expansion will be made as quickly as possible due to the tremendous demand for the new Pontiac Six cars which were announced about a month ago. Each of the two assembly lines will shortly have a production output of 40 cars an hour.

The fruits of the $18,000,000 Oakland company expansion program are beginning to be seen in a larger output which has just been started. The March production of Oakland and Pontiac Sixes will be only slightly under the largest single production month ever recordec by the Oakland Motor Car Company, while the April production schedule of 19,000 Oakland and Pontiac cars will smash all previous monthly production records.

The beginning of operations in the new Pontiac factory also will provide facilities for a greater production schedule of Oakland cars in the original Oakland plant. A recent appropriation of $1,500,000 will be spent entirely for new Oakland machinery and equipment which will insure a capacity of 360 Oakland Sixes per day.

The first three cars off the line in the new factory were Pontiac Sedans, Bell Brothers, Philadelphia, have the distinction of receiving the first car off the new line.

State Highway Plan Approved

Requisitions for $8,000,000 for 1927 Road Construction Meet Endorsement

Requisitions for $8,000,000 were approved by the State Highway Commission last week for its construction program during the 1927 season. This sum will represent the final instalment in the $4,000,000 bond issue authorized in 1923. Legislation is now pending to provide further revenues for the road building program.

The board requests the State House Commission to sell bonds to the amount of $6,000,000 for roads and $2,000,000 for bridges.

Plans were completed by the State Highway Commission to place in use by July 1 sections of the entrance and connecting roads to the new Delaware River Bridge at Camden. The construction operations, which are to be pushed to completion by that time, will permit travelers from Trenton and other points north to reach the bridge over the new alignment of Route 2 and automobilists using Route 3, the White Horse Pike, to Atlantic City, and other points south, will also be enabled to travel over the new construction by July 1.

Upon recommendation of C. F. Bedwell, construction engineer, and Edward E. Reed, assistant highway engineer, the commission approved placing contracts for the masonry work and superstructure upon the underpass of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Mount Holly branch, in Pensauken township. This improvement will be made to eliminate a grade-crossing on the Camden connecting road to keep the new thoroughfare fre from danger of accidents with trains.

As the underpass is to be placed on a new right of way, the contract will be let by the Pennsylvania Railroad under an agreement for payment by the State Highway Commission.

DIPPING INTO SCIENCE

Speed of Light and Sound

You have perhaps noticed that light travels faster than sound—that you see the flash of a distant gun before you hear the report. This is because they have different modes of travel. Sound travels through gases, liquids and solids, while light is conveyed by ether which, being elastic, carries the waves at far greater speed.

MRS. CLOTHIER DIES AT MOUNT HOLLY

Mrs Ernestine E. DeSousa Clothier, wife of George B. Clothier, succumbed in her home at Mount Holly, Tuesday of last week. She was sixty years old.

Mrs. Clothier, one of the best known women in Burlington county had been ill for about a year, suffering with kidney trouble and complications, but her condition was not serious until the Sunday previous to her death, when the crisis was reached suddenly. She was confined to her bed over the week-end, gradually sinking until Tuesday morning, when she passed away.

The deceased is mourned by hundreds of two generations of the entire county who have studied dancing under her direction. Upon the death of her father, U. I DeSouza, prominent dancing master, she continued in his footsteps, and conducted classes, later managing her school. Several years ago she instituted the annual carnival, in which her pupils participated, now one of the largest attended events on the county's social card.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Clothier is survived by her two children, Mrs. Walter Griffins, of Camden, and Miss Alice Clothier, of Mount Holly. Funeral services were held Thursday at the parlors of Morris K. Perinchief. Interment was made at Mount Holly Cemetery.

A WELCOME GUEST

A little human soul,
A tiny baby boy,
Came to a great man's home
To fill it full of joy.
He wasn't very large;
But oh! what joy he brought;
Such pleasures came with him,
As never can be bought.

He filled his parents' hearts
With such a sweet content
It made them feel that God
Had, his best angel, sent
To fill their home with love,
In little baby smiles.
Oh! is there aught in life
That, with such joy, beguiles.

Or can make home e'er seem
So much like paradise;
And is there aught so sweet
As little baby eyes:
Except the mother's smiles,
So filled with fond love-light?
There's naught, as babe and wife,
Can make a home so bright.

He who, these blessings, claims
Has won the best of life,
And will find happiness
Through all of life's hard strife.
His comforters at home
Can fill his soul with joy,
And he'll e'er find delight
In his sweet baby boy.

Grandmother's happy smiles
Are sweet and joyous, too,
She, anything for babe,
Is always glad to do.
Fond mother, wife and babe,
What can bring man more bliss.
For all the wealth of kings,
This joy, he would not miss.

Merchantville Mayor Wants Public Service Lines Underground

Following his scathing denunciation of the tactics of Public Service Corporation, Mayor Frederick L. Holman had the approval of Merchantville councilmen at the meeting last week to appoint a committee for an important mission. The object of the committee will be to endeavor to have Public Service bury all wires in Merchantville excepting those necessary for operating trolley cars.

Mayor Holman's opinion is that if the Bell Telephone Co. finds it better to lay wires underground, there is no reason why Public Service should not adopt the same process.

Councilman Antrim related that he had discussed the subject with Public Service officials and found them but mildly interested, in fact, he said, they expressed the opinion that it would be an expense too great to be considered.

Councilman Hawkes described Maple avenue as being an avenue of ugliness since the removal of old Maples has brought the Public Service poles into prominence. His voice trembled with emotion as he expressed his sorrow at the loss of the old trees and said it would be generations before they are replaced by slow maturing new trees.

It was then that Mayor Holman declared the time has come for municipalities to be represented at Trenton to combat the influence of Public Service lobbyists. The corporation, he said, seems to get what it wants and the municipalities are the losers.

"I have given serious thought to spending my own money for the necessary fighting it seems we must carry on at Trenton to protect our borough against legislation that means a gain to Public Service and a loss to us," said the mayor, who unquestionably was angry over the passage of the paving bill.

STOLE A PIG

Colored Men Have To Pay Cost of Porker

Last Wednesday, William Johns and Henry Seers, both colored, of Sheetstown, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter at Palmyra police headquarters on a charge of stealing and killing a pig owned by Herbert Scott, of Riverside.

The pig, which weighed nearly 200 pounds, was driven to its slaughtering grounds by a dog owned by one of the men. The animal was taken early at night and killed by the two men late Sunday evening.

When Chief of Police Beck was notified he got a search warrant and searched the two men's homes. When no trace of the missing animal was found, Chief Beck investigated the nearby property. On doing this Beck found some of the meat from the pig in a gravel pit on the Richie farm.

After the Chief had obtained this evidence against the men they admitted they had killed the animal for its meat. The two men had been questioned two days before but denied they had taken the pig.

"I hadn't much evidence to work on but after I found the blood I was most sure the men were the guilty parties," the Chief said.

When given the hearing before Fichter late last Wednesday afternoon, Scott, the owner of the pig, did not want to prosecute but agreed to let the men off with paying the cost of the pig, which was $35.00.

HYLTON'S TRUCK STRUCK BY CAMDEN AUTOMOBILE

Tuesday morning of this week, "Smiling Ike" Hylton was waiting for the traffic signal to change to a left turn when a Camden driver bumped into the tail board of the American Railway Express truck which he was driving. The radiator cap of the Ford sedan was knocked off, the engine hood badly bent and the radiator pushed back out of place. But it ran off under its own power. No damage was done to the truck.

Mrs. Pauline Burgess, 622 Pine street, Camden was driving the Ford sedan when it crashed into the truck.

STEAL POCKETBOOK

Colored Lads Take Girl Student's Handbag

William Hilton, 11 years old; Clyde Daniels, 12 years old, Thomas Allen, 11 years old, and John Person, 12 years old, all colored, were arrested Monday afternoon at the Palmyra school on a charge of stealing a handbag belonging to Miss Fennimore, of Riverside, a pupil in the Palmyra High School.

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter Tuesday night the boys admitted they had spent the money after dividing it equally, taking the pencils and throwing the train ticket away. However, the ticket was recovered and Mr. Fichter reprimanded the boys.

The parents of the boys promised that the children would be given a good spanking and making them earn the stolen money by doing some sort of manual work.

A European philosopher declares that Americans are deficient in real intelligence, but anyhow we know enough to keep out of European entanglements.

There is a lot of talk about radio legislation nowadays and we can't understand why some forward-looking statesman doesn't introduce a bill either in Congress or his state legislature, to eliminate static.

William Dill Speaker

William L. Dill, head of the State Motor Vehicle Department, was the speaker at a dinner session of the Mount Holly Business Men's Association held in the Parish House of St. Andrew's Church last Tuesday evening. A large number of members of the association attended to greet Mr. Dill and to listen to his address, which related to the business of his department and to traffic and other matters connected with motoring.

Legislature Manual for 1927

The 1927 Edition of the New Jersey Legislative Manual is off the press and, as usual, is full of information relative to State affairs. Carefully revised and brought down to date the book contains approximately seven hundred pages. The compilation, as in recent years, is the work of John P. Dullard, for over thirty years a Legislative Correspondent. The publisher is Josephine A. Fitzgerald, widow, of Thomas F. Fitzgerald, the original compiler and publisher. Copies of the Manual may be obtained by addressing Mrs. Fitzgerald at Trenton. The price of the book is two dollars.

Seek Pardons

When the New Jersey Court of Pardons sits in April it will have placed before it a number of applications from prisoners in the State Prison for freedom on parole, and these will be presented in behalf of convicts committed from about every county in the state. An application that will arouse particular interest in Burlington county is that of Harry C. Mohr, serving a life sentence, and Charles M. Powell, 20 to 30 years, both of whom were committed after being convicted of the murder of John Brunson, the Riverside carnival man. Both are making another effort to gain their freedom, while Jonas Sims, colored, of Burlington, who has served 24 years of a 40-year sentence passed upon him by ex-Judge Joseph H. Gaskill for a brutal assault on an estimable Burlington county woman, is also clamoring for release.

KEYSTONE CLUB OFFERS ROAD SIGNS

Willing to Mark Riverton's Intersections and Shore Roads Free

Trevor B. Mathews, manager of the Keystone Automobile Club for South Jersey, was in Riverton on Tuesday and offered to supply and erect such street and road signs as Riverton could use, absolutely free of charge. This is one of the many services the club renders to motorists to make travel safe and pleasant.

The signs furnished by the club include school signs, road signs giving directions to out-of-town points, etc.

Mr. Mathews was in touch with Councilman William B. Lynch, chairman of the highway committee, who said he would take the matter up.

If the club is permitted to erect these signs it will fill a need that has been felt for some time. On more than one occasion the subject was brought to the attention of council by Director of Public Safety Williams, but he was never able to get any real action. The present offer looks like a solution to the problem.
