GROVES' HORSES CAPTURE MANY PRIZES AT GYMKHANA

Annual Children's Home Benefit at Moorestown is Great Success

NOVELTY RACES ADD TO AMUSEMENT OF PATRONS

Ralph L. Freeman, his family and his stables "ran away" with the horse show and gymkhana held under the auspices of the Cinnaminson Home at the Moorestown Field Club Saturday afternoon.

The Freeman horses and Freeman's two sons won five firsts and any number of seconds and thirds. Freeman, who is one of the foremost breeders in this section of the country, rode his entries in several of the events.

One of the big surprises of the affair, however, was the way in which both Eldridge J. Freeman and Richard L. Freeman, the sons, took first and second places in the Green Hunters' class. Richard L. Freeman, a youngster eleven years old, mounted on his pony "Mustard" cleared everyone of the jumps. His brother repeated the feat, but the differences in the horses was so marked that first place had to be given to Eldridge.

F. S. Groves, Jr., took two first prizes and a number of seconds with his stable. His three daughters, Charlotte Elaine, May Theresa and Constance, rode the horses.

Mrs. John B. Bishop's horse, "Snow Storm," was judged to be the best horse in the affair. The horse, a pure white, won first in the third class, "Five Gaited Saddle Horses," and was again first in the sixteenth class, which was composed of winners from the other show classes.

Media Man is Judge

L. W. Riddle, of Glen Riddle, near Media, was the judge of the show. This is the first time that there has been only one judge at the shows. The chairman in charge of the affair, W. F. Reeves, declared that the show was speeded up with only one man to make up his mind about the qualities of a horse. The entire event was carried through on time. At one time in the show they were actually five minutes ahead of schedule.

Ralph L. Freeman was the ringmaster. There were more than three thousand of the river front towns society at the show. The lawn of the field club was dotted with picturesque booths, under vari-colored canopies. An art student, occupied one of the booths, and painted portraits. Her booth was crowded from the beginning of the show until the end. This was a novelty not seen at previous Moorestown shows.

The investment in horseflesh present was more impressive, and the interest shown in the affair has seemed to be growing with each successive show. The proceeds will be used for the benefit of the Cinnaminson Home, a charitable organization in Cinnaminson, near Riverton.

Prize awards were:

FALLS FROM ROOF

Herbert Pratt, 21 years old, who lives on a farm on the Burlington Pike at Cinnaminson, fell 30 feet from the roof of a barn Tuesday afternoon and suffered serious injuries. He was repairing the roof when he slipped and fell. His brother, John, took him to Cooper Hospital, where he was found to be suffering from a fracture of the arm and possible internal injuries.

Mrs. ELIZABETH RUSH WHITELY

Mrs. Elizabeth Rush, wife of Charles E. E. Whitely, of Mountain Lakes, N. J., died suddenly Saturday morning at the home of her brother, Eugene J. Bush. Mrs. Whitely had come Friday evening to visit her brother and passed away in the early morning, while sleeping.

Services were held Tuesday in Wilmington, with interment at Wilmington.

Young Ball Tossers Show Hitting Power by 16-5 Win

Last Thursday evening at the Riverton Memorial park the K. of C. Boys' club fattened their batting averages at the expense of the Parry YMCA and scored an easy victory. It was a slug feast throughout and both teams contributed many extra base hits during the nine innings.

Joe Minnick was the leading hitter for the "Caseys," getting a triple, two doubles and a single, while Scherer led the YM in hits, getting a pair of doubles.

St. Joseph's Visit Ocean City

Many members of the local council visited Ocean City last Sunday to attend the cornerstone laying ceremonies of the seashore Knights. An unusually large crowd was present to hear State Deputy Whalen of New Jersey and State Deputy Barett of Pennsylvania, who were the principal speakers.

The work of the South Jersey Knights was highly praised and the progress of the order in this section of the State noted with much interest by the visiting State Officers.

"Caseys" Planning Stag Card Party

At the regular meeting of St. Joseph's Council next Tuesday night a committee will be appointed to handle the first stag card party to be staged by the Knights sometime in the near future, and the announcement of this affair is creating much interest in the local council.

Mr. Pfaff, director of boy activities, promises to have the boys in readiness for their demonstration of camp and military activities; also the young musicians are tuning up their instruments.

A meeting of the Home association will also be held after the regular council session.

BOXING ALLOWED AT STATE PRISON

Affords Convicts Opportunity To Adjust Grievances, in Harmless Way

Principal Keeper Murphey, of the State Prison, Trenton, has adopted a unique system through which he strives to eliminate the bitter enmities which frequently develop among the prison population and find expression in deadly attacks with whatever weapons may be within reach at the time of provocation. Prisoners who may be evenly matched from a physical viewpoint are not permitted to nurse grudges which might flare out into violence. Saturday afternoons they have athletic exercises in the prison yard, and on these occasions men with grievances are encouraged to clear the atmosphere.

"We send them to the doctor on Friday to be examined," Keeper Murphey explained." The next day, after three two-minute rounds under strict supervision, they usually have all the fight taken out of them." These bouts, the keeper believes, have contributed to a reduction of the clashes between convicts in the prison shops.

The problem of maintaining discipline, Murphey said, is made increasingly difficult by the fact that the institution is greatly overcrowded, containing 11,714 prisoners, about 500 more than can be accommodated satisfactorily, and 681 men are without employment.

DURBOROW WILL MOVE TO EDGEWATER PARK

Charles B. Durborow has purchased the George W. Rhawn property on the river bank at Edgewater Park. This is a portion of the E. Burd Grubb estate and contains seven acres of ground.

The building will be remodeled and the Durborow's expect to occupy it in the fall after they return from their trip to California and a sojourn at the seashore.

DR. MARK MEMBER OF HOSPITAL STAFF

a member of the staff of the new Children's Hospital opened in Camden last Saturday as an addition to the West Jersey Hospital.

Dr. Lee E. Griscom, a member of the West Jersey Hospital staff for year, has been appointed director of the new building. Dr. Griscom has been specializing for some time in diseases of children. Dr. Mark will be one of his assistants.

AN OPEN LETTER

May 31st, 1927

To the Editor of New Era:

It was with a great deal of interest that I read the letter of Mr. H. H. Murray in your issue of May 26th concerning our Borough problems, and while I heartily endorse his statements, I want to emphasize to the voters of Riverton the importance of securing at this time capable men to fill the vacancies created by the retiring of our present Mayor and one of the members of Council.

In addition to the problems presented by Mr. Murray's letter we must realize that sooner or later the Borough will be confronted with the expenditure of thousands of dollars for the construction of a sewerage disposal plant and we will need all the ability and brains available to plan and supervise the construction of this great enterprise, as well as other problems, that will come before our Borough Council.

We are very fortunate in having as a candidate for Mayor a successful graduate Engineer, who is a good organizer and an indomitable worker in the person of Howard M. Rogers.

For Council to fill the vacancy, Mr. Henry L. Randall has been persuaded to be a candidate, who if elected, I am sure will give of himself unselfishly and contribute to the Borough some of the ability that has made him what he is in the business world.

Of course, we would not consider retiring our present councilman, Mr. Joshua S. Bartley, who has contributed much to Borough affairs during his three years of service.

I, therefore, heartily endorse this ticket and sincerely hope that Mr. E. R. Williams, who has served us so well as Chief of Police, will see his way clear to remain in Council and support this ticket and thus contribute to the election of a good working combination that will be a credit to our town.

Camping Scene Given by Scouts

Realistic Reproduction of "A Night in Camp" in Parish House

One of the most creditable "shows" that has been staged in Riverton in many a day was given by the members of the Riverton Boy Scout Troop in the Parish House of Christ Church on Friday evening last. The stage was most realistically "set" to represent a woods scene, decorated with large maple bows which had recently been cut from some of the trees in various sections of the town, so arranged as to appear to be growing, and amongst them tents such as are used in scout camps, and out in front a "stage" camp fire—which looked very much like the real thing. The scene was really beautiful.

The boys—some eighteen of them, were sitting on large logs or lying about the fire just as they would be in a regular camp. They sang various popular songs, told jokes on themselves, played solos and duets on harmonicas, danced the tango with vim, vigor and grace—gave exhibitions of Scout "stunts" such as knot-tying, life-saving, and fire making without matches and thus contributed to the greater part of the program.

Just to make it the more realistic they, too, were entertained by a very clever "minstrel act" given by Reuben Corey and "Bob' White, who trained the boys and planned the entire entertainment.

John Tallis, Scout Executive of Burlington County, appeared in full Indian regalia, heralded by a warhoop, which was fairly blood-curdling. He first told a story in the Indian sign language which was interpreted by Assistant Scoutmaster Malcolm Dickinson as it progressed so that the audience knew what it was all about, and after that he told them a very beautiful Indian tale which both the boys and the audience thoroughly enjoyed.

If Mr. Tallis' "act" was a sample of how he is helping the Scouts throughout Burlington County it is quite evident that the County Scout executive has constructive efficiency—more power to him.

The audience was large and appreciative, there being standing room only and many compelled to use it.

The Scouts and all those "grown-ups" who helped them are to be congratulated and it is particularly gratifying to learn that the financial returns were sufficient to enable the troop to purchase additional equipment which they needed.

The majority of Riverton citizens don't begin to realize what a power for good the Scout training has been, and is, with these boys who have really taken it seriously, and it is to be sincerely hoped that more and more of them will watch the further development of this wonderful movement among the boys which undoubtedly means better boyhood, better manhood, better and more actively loyal citizens—may their tribe increase.

RIVERTON WINS TWO STRAIGHT

Wallops Tacony Saturday and Holds Camden to One Run Decoration Day

EDDIE WILLIAMS SEEN ON COACHING LINES

Last Saturday the Riverton sluggers broke up a pitching battle between Schrode and Robinson which had gone four innings by scoring three runs in the fifth inning. From then on the game developed into a free scoring match with Riverton holding a safe lead till the end.

Manager Zeisner and Captain Hughes has succeeded admirably in getting the boys to play together and everyone was on their toes all through the game.

Himes had his batting eye on the ball and came through with three timely hits, followed by Brogan and Richmond with two each.

Decoration Day Game

Riverton scored their second triumph in two days by walloping Camden on Decoration Day afternoon before a large and enthusiastic crowd.

Riverton filled the bases in the first inning but failed to break through for a run.

In their second they quickly filled the bases and before the side was retired five runs had been chalked up. Andrews' home run drove in two ahead of him.

They scored two more in the third inning which made the score 7 to 0.

Give Good Support

In the meantime Camden was having trouble locating H. Young, the pitcher for Riverton.

He was backed up by gilt-edge support and Camden, although making nine hits could not bunch them until the ninth inning when they scored a run thereby escaping a whitewash.

Andrews, Hylton, Linton and Richmond all hit for extra bases.

It was gratifying to see Eddie Williams, our jovial Chief of Police, on the coaching lines pepping the boys up.

Next Saturday, June 4, Bridgeport, Pa., will be played.

ROTARY-ANNS

Ladies Surprise Members of Palmyra Riverton Club

Last Thursday evening the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club was given quite a surprise by the "Rotaryanns" when they invited themselves to dinner. Thirty-five wives of Rotarians came in cars. Mrs. Frank A. Snover and Mrs. John S. Warner were responsible for getting the women together to attend this meeting.

Frank A. Snover, chairman of the entertainment committee, made arrangements for the club to hear "Uncle Wip" of bedtime story fame, who gave a 15-minute talk on the experience he has had during the past five years working among the "kiddies."

At this meeting a picnic was scheduled for some time in July. This is the annual outing for the Rotarians and their wives. A movement is also on foot among the ladies to form a "Rotaryann" club in connection with the regular club.

The Rev. and Mrs. George MacCormack were guests, the Rev. Mr. MacCormack giving a very humorous talk.

The attendance for the past month was 95%.

PHS Baccalaureate at Lutheran Church

Special Services for Class of 1927 to be Held Sunday Morning

The 1927 graduating class of Palmyra High School, teachers, and officers are to be the special guests at the divine services next Lord's Day morning at the First Lutheran Church.

An elaborate program has been arranged for this occasion. The First Lutheran choir, under the leadership of Lee Mitton, will render the anthem "Send Out Thy Light," by Gounod. We are also fortunate in securing Miss Amy Mitton for a solo, while Mr. Magee, of Camden, is on the program for some instrumental numbers. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by the Rev. William M. Erhard, the pastor of First Lutheran Church, on the theme "The Gift That Is In Thee."

This will be a practical message, dealing with the opportunities, problems, and the hopes, which become the lot of the graduate. High school graduation marks a very distinct epoch in the life of the student. He can exclaim with St. Paul, "Old things are passed away, behold all things are become new." God has graciously given to mankind a feeling of great and hopeful expectation, when the new and unknown are entered.

That is why a high school graduation exercise gives every one of us, adult or child, a fresh, glowing inspiration, such as no other occasion may give. "Commencement" is an aptly chosen word for the exercises of graduation; a great number of new relationships have their beginning at graduation time.

The pastor and people of First Lutheran most cordially welcome these guests, as well as the parents of the graduates and other students, and all others who may find it convenient to worship at this service. The ushers will be very glad to conduct you to a seat.

Attention is called to the fact that this service is scheduled to begin at 11.00 o'clock in the morning instead of 11.15, our customary hour for worship.

Prayer Meeting Thursday evening at eight o'clock. The theme of the discussion is "Jude, The Man and His Book." Luther League will meet at 6.45 p. m. Sunday, followed by the regular Vesper service.

Haines Withdraws From Senate Race

Burlington Candidate Convinced He Cannot Be Nominated

I. Snowden Haines, Burlington man with pronounced "wet" or "personal liberty" views, has abandoned his candidacy for State Senator, leaving the field open for the contest between State Senator Emmor Roberts and Assemblyman Clifford Powell.

The withdrawal of Haines had been freely predicted from the start of the Senatorial race and he was regarded as having sung his "swan song" at the recent luncheon of the League of Women Voters in Moorestown, when he said he did not expect to be elected.

Not many weeks previous, however, he issued a "damn the torpedoes" statement in which he averred he had "nailed his flag to the mast' and was in the fight to the finish.

Mr. Haines' statement follows:

"Gentlemen of the Press:—

"Since filing my petition for nomination for the Senate, I have determined to withdraw my candidacy, having convinced myself that the circumstances are such that I cannot be nominated, and I have no desire to complicate the situation.

"My sincere thanks are due and are thus publicly extended to those who signed my petition and to all who have so generously expressed their friendly interest in my candidacy.

"I was the first to announce myself and I did so in good faith, and in the belief that neither Senator Roberts nor Assemblyman Powell would enter the contest. I am withdrawing in like good faith, in the interest of the Republican party, making a clean-cut contest between two clean-cut men, both worthy of the honor, and both my personal friends."

POST RODGERS HOLDS BIG MEMORIAL DAY PROGRAM

Palmyra Fittingly Observes Day of Reverence to Nation's Soldier Dead

COL. WM. S. CARLTON DELIVERS THE ADDRESS

MEMORIAL DAY PARADE CHEERS INVALID BOY

In order that a little invalid boy could look out the window and enjoy a parade which he had been anticipating for weeks, the route of the Palmyra Memorial Day march was extended to Thomas Avenue, Riverton.

There the son of E. H. Flagg 3d., who is crippled, lay in his bed by the window and waved an American flag at the marchers.

Palmyra enjoyed a fine program Memorial Day. The celebration was held under the auspices of Post Rodgers, American Legion No. 146. The Legion Bugle and Drum Corps in new uniforms had its first public appearance in a parade and made a great showing. Much credit is due these men as they have worked hard for several months in order to make this occasion a great success.

The weather in the afternoon was ideal for a parade. The celebration started shortly after one-thirty from the Legion Home on East Broad street. Marshall George N. Wimer led the procession mounted on his horse. He was followed by the Palmyra Police Department, then came the massed colors of most of the organizations of Palmyra, the Legion Drum Corps, the American Legion, the Howitzer Company, 114th Inf. N. J. N. G., with 37 M. M. guns, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, the Palmyra Artisans and other organizations, followed by the school children and the Palmyra Fire Department.

The parade crossed the railroad at Morgan avenue, marched down Broad street to Elm avenue, across the railroad to Morgan cemetery where the graves were decorated with cut flowers by the school children and the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church Palmyra, led in prayer.

Here a salute was fired by the two gun squads of the Howitzer Company. The salute was timed perfectly and accurately. The demeanor of the National Guards was that of real trained soldiers. The manner in which they conducted themselves was ultra-satisfactory.

Taps were sounded by the Post's Bugle Corp. The Corps did nobly in its first appearance with "spic and span" new uniforms and shiny "tin" hats. Palmyra has something to be really proud of in this new Bugle and Drum Corps.

The parade then went to the Palmyra Cemetery where the Rev. William M. Erhard, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Palmyra, led in prayer, followed by another salute by the Howitzer Company and taps by the Bugle Corps.

The crowd then assembled in the Community Grove where everybody sang America and the invocation was given by the Rev. George J. MacCormack, pastor of Christ Church, Palmyra.

More singing followed the invocation and Colonel William S. Carlton, U. S. A., gave a regular Memorial Day talk that was both interesting and educational. This was followed by more singing and selections by the Drum Corps.

The benediction was given by the Rev. Mr. Harke.

In the morning at Riverside the Bugle and Drum Corps received much applause as it passed along the crowded streets. The corps sounded taps at the various cemeteries. The Howitzer Company also handled itself in fine style at the Riverside celebration.

NEW PUMPER ARRIVES

With Addition of Equipment to Old Machine Riverton Now Has Two Triple Combination Trucks

Riverton's new fire engine arrived Tuesday. It is an American LaFrance, the same make as the last one purchased, which gives the borough two pumpers. The new truck has a 75-horse power engine and a pumping capacity of 600 gallons. It is equipped with a 75-gallon chemical tank and carries 200 feet of chemical hose in addition to the 1000 feet of regulation hose. A 40-foot ladder is also a part of the equipment.

The old truck has been fitted up with a chemical tank of the same capacity as that carried on the new machine, and a 30-foot ladder.

The Fourth of July committee is arranging to make the formal "housing" of the apparatus a part of the program of the day—probably in the afternoon.

"Drive Slowly" Says Director Williams

Children Will Do the Unexpected and Drivers Must Be Prepared

"While a child is taking a single step, an automobile traveling at the moderate speed of 20 miles an hour, is covering the width of a 30 feet street. The stopping distance of a car traveling at this rate, provided the brakes are in proper adjustment, is 37 feet. What chance has a child, or even an adult, if he steps suddenly into the path of a motor car, and what chance has the driver to avoid killing or injuring walkers if confronted by the impossible task of stopping in 20 feet when the best his approved brakes can do is to halt the machine in 37 feet?"

"In our campaign to reduce motor car accidents, I wish to point out the hazard attendant upon operation of an automobile, and the necessity for care on the part of both pedestrian and motorist.

"If a car can be stopped 'instantly', as many motorists profess to believe," says a statement by a motor club, "the rapid covering of ground would not be so menacing. But it is an established fact, incorporated in the rules of State highway departments, that rear-wheel brakes, in perfect working condition, should bring a car to a stop in 37 feet when the vehicle is proceeding at 20 miles an hour.

"I believe that if all drivers of motor cars will give serious thought to speed in terms of seconds, it will have a sobering effect on those who are inclined to be careless or over-confident of their ability to stop under any circumstances.

"The only safe rule for any driver when children are in sight is to slow down to 15 miles an hour, or less, and drive with the greatest caution. Childhood is irresponsible and children probably will do the unexpected. Therefore, the duty develops upon the motorist to be prepared for any contingency, and the only way he can be prepared is to drive slowly when children are playing on sidewalks or in the street."

SWINDLING "ADS" MUST BE HALTED

Federal Commissioner Tells Confectioners to Work To Protect Public

Federal Trade Commissioner William E. Humphrey, of Washington, D. C., speaking before the annual convention of the National Confectioners' Association in Atlantic City last week, declared that unless publishers voluntarily keep their columns clear of fake ads, the commission would be obliged to step in and do so. Commissioner Humphrey took occasion to say that it was time to stop treating business men as though they were all violators of the law. In support of his contention he stated that ninety per cent of all companies upon which notice had been served that they were not observing the law had voluntarily agreed to suspend at once the objectionable practice.

Remedy for the evil of fake advertisements that are robbing the people of this country of hundreds of millions of dollars annually lies with the publishers," said the commissioner. "Some of the glaring instances of fake advertisements are the various 'anti-fat' remedies, medicines, soaps, belts and other articles—all of them fakes—and all of them dishonest and many of them harmful.

"We hope and expect to put this vast army of crooks and parasites out of business. We know of no other way than by stopping publication and circulation of their advertisements.

"If the publishers and the advertising agencies of the country will clean house we will rejoice. If they will not do so, we will clean it for them. We hope that they will voluntarily achieve decency. If they do not, we will thrust decency upon them."

Men are rapidly overtaking women as the candy-eaters of the nation. Walter C. Hughes, secretary of the association declared. "The male long ago overcame that slight reticence he had in buying candy for himself," said Mr. Hughes. "A recent survey of Chicago druggists, cigar stores and confectioners, showed that of 9102 steady customers purchasing candy, 6084, or sixty-six per cent., were male and 3102, or thirty-four per cent., were women and girls.

JOINT FIREWORKS BEING CONSIDERED

The subject of Palmyra joining with Riverton in the fireworks display in the evening on the Fourth of July has been revived this year and it is understood that the celebration committee in the two towns are considering some plan by which the money for fireworks that has heretofore been spent by each town separately can be pooled for a better single display, to be shown from the pier at Riverton and enjoyed by the residents of both towns.

Palmyra Baseball Team Loses Opener

The Palmyra town nine opened its baseball season Saturday at Pensauken when it dropped a brilliant pitchers' battle. Wingert was on the mound for Palmyra and Tracy pitched for the "Indians." Palmyra was nosed out by one run, the final count being 2 to 1.

Harder and Reeves each smashed out a pair of hits for Palmyra. Palmyra collected a total of nine hits, every man crashing the pill but two, while Pensauken made 14 bingles.

Palmyra played airtight ball, not being charged with an error. The "Indians" also played good baseball afield.

Reeves and Bucholtz shone in the Palmyra infield, handling seven and five chances, respectively, without a slip. King handled nine chances at the initial sack. Heppard took care of Wingert's hooks in fine style.

Patterson, Pensauken center-fielder, was the individual star for the winners, making three hits.

SPORTING FANS NOTICE

The Palmyra Athletic Association, composed of all local Palmyra boys, were going to put a fast team on the grounds. They negotiated with the Palmyra Field Club for rental of the grounds. We asked for the month of May free as a trial to see if we would get support. They told us we could have it for a nominal charge (only). The following couple of days the Field Club called and said, "you better get busy as another aggregation is after it."

Palmyra Athletic Association got busy and saw a few business houses in town and they told us we would get their support. So last Sunday we went to a director of the Field Club and told him we would take the grounds under their conditions and rental each week. He in turn told us we were too late as they had rented it to a local lodge every other week. Their argument why they wouldn't let us have it free for the month of May was, "We are after all the revenue possible." Yet they rent it out every other Saturday and we were willing to take it for the entire ball season.

That is the reason why you don't see a ball game every week in Palmyra.

Yours in sport,
Palmyra Athletic Association.

REV. JOHN W. GUMMERE AWARDED COURSE DEGREE

The Rev. John W. Gummere, rector of St. Andrew's church in Mount Holly, was awarded the degree of Bachelor in Sacred Theology at the General Theological Seminary in New York last week. This degree comes to Mr. Gummere in connection with his Seminary course in his preparation for the ministry. He attained a high average that entitled him to this recognition upon his completion of a thesis. He has just recently finished this work and the degree was conferred when the opportunity was afforded. It is not an honorary degree, but one that comes as a reward of merit. It is necessary to attain a stipulated average to receive this reward.

Accompanying Mr. Gummere on the pleasant trip to New York were Mrs. Gummere, Dr. and Mrs. Raymond S. Clarke and Mr. and Mrs William C. Wetherill.

State House Gossip

Republican State Chairman Edward C. Stokes has announced a meeting of United States Senator Edge, Republican congressman, and G. O. P. State officials for this week to discuss the amendments and plans to put them across. One of the speakers will be professor Starr Myers, of Princeton.

On the other hand, a meeting of Democrats, participated in by State Chairman Harry Heher and Democratic County Chairmen and Vice-chairmen will be held in the near future to discuss how these same amendments can be defeated. The Democrats contend that they are a Republican trick to break into the Democratic dynasty of Governors. The G. O. P., however, disavow any ulterior motive and point out that New Jersey is about the only State which has an odd term for Governors. They also contend that the proposed Constitutional changes will be in the interest of economy in the State government.

The overcrowded condition of the New Jersey State Prison has no influence on the Court of Pardons. Governor Moore, Chancellor Walker and the six judges which compose the Court of Pardons only granted 13 paroles after investigating 400 applications for clemency. The prison population, including the Leesburg Farm, is 1,800, a high-water mark in prison records. The lucky 13, however, were cases deemed to be worthy of paroles. One of them, however, will not be paroled until February next. Among those given their freedom were: Joseph Costello, Atlantic City, breaking and entering; Jonas Sims, Burlington county, sentenced in 1904 to 49 years for assault; Vasili Railean, Cape May county, 18 to 30 years for assault, sentenced in 1921; Edward Shields, Cumberland county, stolen goods, 1 to 3 years; Morris Cohen, Essex county, concealed weapons, Angelo Montano, Hudson county, second degree murder in 1913, 15 to 30 years; John Garner, Morris county, 10 to 15 years for assault in 1926; Charles Spencer, Sussex county, larceny, 2 to 7 years, who was paroled before entering prison; Joseph Simon, Union county, embezzlement, 2 to 3 years.

Railean was exonerated by his daughter who made the serious charge which cost him six years behind prison bars. Railean's wife divorced him after he transferred his property to her, and the accusing daughter and mother married boarders of the household who continued their abode there after Railean went to prison. Garner's unfortunate predicament was due to the perjury of a daughter who later admitted her false testimony.

Members of the Grand Chapter, Royal Arch Masons, of New Jersey, have elected a new slate of officers at a meeting held in Trenton. The officers chosen were: Charles D. McCracken, of Lambertville, grand high priest, Victor Pugh, of Somerville, deputy grand high priest; Matthew Armstrong, Rahway, grand king; Robert McCormick, of Arlington, grand scribe; George Kite, of Atlantic City, grand captain; Charles Rhinehardt, of Maplewood, principal sojourner; Howard Carter, of Haddonfield, royal arch captain; Abraham Reeger, of Somerville, grand secretary; Richard Woodward, of Bordentown, grand treasurer.

A supreme Court decision of interest to motorists and pedestrians alike was handed down last week in which sixteen year old Rosina Delucia, of Franklin township, Somerset county, although crippled for life, is unable to recover damages from Anton and Edward Bleha, of Somerville, because the child ran in front of the Behla machine. The car was traveling on the New Brunswick-Millstone road at a moderate rate of speed and warning of its approach was given. The child, in company with some other youngsters, dashed into the path of the machine. The driver made heroic efforts to stop and brought the car to a stand-still within its own length. A trial jury dicided the case in favor of the driver and the Supreme Court, disposing of the appeal, said the jurors handled the various questions of fact in justice to the litigants.

Flood Refugees Aided in Palmyra

Family Traveling From Louisiana to Long Island in Ford is Given Help

A Louisiana family who were victims of the recent floods in the South stopped at Palmyra last Thursday and asked for aid. They had been owners of a gas station in Louisiana and one night the water came up high enough to take their home, which was built on pilings, and sweep it away. The gas station and a new Dodge sedan were entirely ruined.

The mother of the family was lucky enough to drive a Ford touring car away and save it from the flood. The family made the trip to Palmyra in twelve days in the Ford, starting with only $30 in money. They were on their way to Long Island where relatives live.

The officials in Louisiana thought the water would not rise high enough to cause trouble, said the refugees. As a result the family lost all its belongings and furnishings and even the children's clothing. The family consisted of the man and his wife, two children and a 19-year-old boy who was helpless, being blind and crippled.

The family was given food and clothing by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Saar and Councilman Arthur Cramer and Mrs. Cramer. They also took the flood victims home and gave them supper and breakfast. The automobile was filled with gas and oil and several dollars collected and given to the refugees. Plenty of clothing was also given by members of the Epworth Church.

The refugees had a tent and were allowed to camp near the Field Club grounds. When the family left they said that the help given must have been "An Act of God." They were more than pleased with the aid and hospitality given and said, "We will never forget the town of Palmyra.'

FECKENGER—CLARK

Mrs. George Clark, of Maple Shade, got the shock of her life Wednesday of last week.

She needed some groceries from the store, and as usual she called her daughter, Lydia, to run the errands. Lydia balked and because there was no precedent for that Mrs. Clark, in amazement, asked the reason.

Whereupon the girl replied: "My husband won't allow me to run errands any more, mother." And the secret was out.

It was related how Lydia and John Feckenger, who lives across the street, had gone to Elkton the preceding Saturday, and had come back man and wife. John is 18 years old. His bride is 15.

They say that Lydia's mother cried a little over the sudden revelations and then wished her daughter all the happiness in the world. The girl's father has not been placated yet, according to indications.

When a reporter called at the Clark home to ask for a picture of the daughter of the household, he was chased with no uncertain intent from the porch, by Mr. Clark. So the story ends just there.

"Young Eagle" Lindbergh went up 10,000 feet trying to get above the sleet storm in his record flight, New York to Paris. Whereby the Minnesota boy busted another old saw—"that high flying does not pay."

PARRY WINS THREE

Ellisburg and Belmont Rubber Company Victims

The Parry A. A. won 3 games over the holiday. Sunday's game the score was 6-5 against Ellisburg and Memorial Day, 5-0 to 3-1. The Belmont Rubber Company was the victim of the holiday. Gordon, the Belmont pitcher, did iron man duty, but lost both games.

Malley pitched the first game, gave five hits and fanned 15 batsman, while Rjeski pitched the afternoon game, allowed six hits and fanned eight batters. Gorden struck out nine in each game and played good ball.

MOTORIST "PINCHED"

The new motorcycle which was added to the Palmyra Police force recently was used Sunday for the first time in making an arrest in the drive against speeding through town. The victim was Frank Thomasson, of 186 Edison street, New York, and the arrest was made by Officer Lawrence Betty.

Thomasson passed the traffic light and when he refused to heed several whistles, Betty gave chase on the motorcycle and arrested him. He was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter and fined $3.00 and costs.

FERRY BUSY

More Than 7000 Cars Crossed River Over Weekend

The Palmyra-Tacony Ferry Company had one of the busiest weekends in its history during the Memorial Day holidays. More than 7,000 cars were taken across the river. Over 2,300 were carried Monday. Cars were lined up nearly to the station on Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, shortly after six o'clock.

Late Monday afternoon, a chain broke on the rudder of the ferryboat "Tacony" and the boat drifted down the river a short distance but was soon gotten under control and docked without much trouble. The boat missed but one trip.

O. K. PALMYRA SPAN

Philadelphia City Council Consents to Building of Bridge Here

Consent to plans for construction of a $4,000,000 bridge across the Delaware between Palmyra and Tacony was granted by Philadelphia City Council, Thursday of last week. The span has received New Jersey's sanction. Construction awaits final action by the War Department.

The Palmyra-Tacony Bridge Company, outgrowth of the company operating the ferry, will operate the span as a toll bridge. One provision is that the States of New Jersey and Pennsylvania may purchase the bridge at any time.

Philadelphia lawmakers said they were taking action in advance of Federal authorities so that no time would be lost in construction of the bridge.

The greatest of all natural laws is the law of love. Noisy conventions of hatred cannot destroy the good works of love. A car for her, too!

In thousands of average American homes there are now two automobiles—"a car for her, too," so there may be transportation for the family while "he" drives away to work.

And the family car has such an infinite degree of usefulness! Downtown shopping, taking the children to school, afternoon calls, meeting trains and the many additional trips that must be made to and from the house as a part of every day's routine.

No other car is so admirably suited to a woman's requirements as the Most Beautiful Chevrolet.

With striking new bodies by Fisher, and finished in pleasing colors of lustrous, lasting Duco, it provides in abundant measure the comfort, charm and elegance that women admire in a motor car. It is easy to start because of its Delco-Remy electric starting system—famous the world over for its excellence. It is easy to stop because of powerful, over-size brakes. And it is easy to drive and park because of a modern three-speed transmission, smooth-acting disc clutch, and a semi-reversible steering gear that gives finger-tip steering.

Women Endorse Senator Roberts

Enthusiastic Meeting Held At Home of Riverton Woman Last Week

The importance of returning Emmor Roberts to the Senate of the State was stressed at a meeting of the Republican Women's Club held at the home of Miss Helen Lippincott, Riverton, Tuesday afternoon of last week.

Mrs. Ellen G. Terry, of Edgewater Park, vice chairman of the Republican County Committee, was chairman of the afternoon, and introduced as the first speaker, Mrs. William J. Adams, of Merchantville, chairman of the Council of Republican Women of Camden county.

Mrs. Adams said that this year the women of Burlington county had one thing to do and that was to nominate and elect Senator Emmor Roberts to the State Senate. She said that in her work in Camden county, at Trenton and at various State conventions, it became increasingly evident that Senator Roberts was one of the outstanding men who are absolutely dependable; and that the better type of Senators from other counties were very anxious that Roberts be returned, as his influence was needed.

Works Quietly

The statement is sometimes made that Senator Roberts doesn't "get enough" for Burlington county, but sincere workers know that Roberts can get things done, in a quiet way, without a lot of bombastic talk about himself. Mrs. Adams read an extract from a women's magazine which stated that Assemblyman Powell had introduced the bill for limiting night work for women, and was thought to be favorable to it, but later waylaid it to a less favorable committee.

The greatest danger to the government was thought to be apathy. What will arouse the church people, the "better" people to the necessity of working and voting for the right? This is a natural question, but right in Burlington county now there are enough of the "better" people who have not bothered with politics before, to give Senator Roberts an overwhelming majority. The feeling was expressed that a greater activity among the women of the county and the agricultural districts would give a decisive victory for Senator Roberts. Politicians always get their voters out, and now is the time for the right-thinking people to show their strength.

There are at present 36 lawyers in the Legislature and 3 representatives from the agricultural districts. Surely it would not be wise to increase the number of lawyers.

At the conclusion of Mrs. Adams' talk Senator Roberts received a most hearty welcome from the hundred assembled women. He spoke but little of himself personally, but more of good government and of the needs of the county. In answering questions it was brought out that the Senator had introduced 20 agricultural bills, the county library bill, and been instrumental in the legislation for open specifications (or competitive bidding for county work).

A rather important question discussed was, "Why was Assemblyman Powell on more important committees than was Senator Roberts, and what would be their relative importance as Senators?" It was shown how this was really true this term, as Senator Roberts' staunchness for the right was so well known, that were questionable bills were to be considered, all that was possible was done to keep him out of the way.

Wimer Speaks

Mr. Wimer, who was appealed to for a final answer to the question as to why Senator Roberts was kept off of the important committees, said that there did not seem to be a doubt that if the Senator was returned for the next term, his senority rights and force of character would so dominate that he will receive important assignments.

Miss Lippincott served tea to her guests at the close of the afternoon, and women who have not taken an active part in politics left with an enthusiasm to take up the work in behalf of Senator Roberts, and those who have been working, realized the desirability and importance of returning Emmor Roberts to the Senate, and plan to work to that end.

EPISCOPAL

Christ Church, Parry Ave.
Rev. G. J. McCormack M. A., L. Th. Rector

The Day of Pentecost, or Whitsun Day, is the birthday of the Christian Church. On that day the Divine Society was constituted. Not until Pentecost were Christians a distinct corporate body. On that day the Divine life, the life of the Holy Spirit of God, was infused into its members, and the first cry of the new-born Divine Society was praise—"They spake in other tongues the wonderful works of God."

It was harvest time in Palestine, suggestive of the great Spiritual harvest of both Jews and Gentiles through the Holy Spirit, offered unto the Lord Who had redeemed them. It was moreover the anniversary of the giving of the law from Sinai. Praise—Redemption—Fulfilling of the law of God as revealed in Jesus Christ. There is no Society like the Christian Church either in its wonderful historic record, unmatched by any other organization on earth or by its charter and its world-wide program. What a priceless privilege to work of its extension, whan an honor to be called to its service, what a reward for so short a service.

Beloved, yield thy time to God, for He
Will make eternity thy recompense;
Give all thy substance for His love, and be Beautified past earth's experience.
Serve Him in bonds, until He set thee free;
Serve Him in dust, until He lift thee hence;
Till death be swallowed up in victory
When the great trumpet sounds to bid thee hence.

The Gift of God's Holy Spirit enables us to rise to the fulness of spiritual power and service.

And every virtue we possess,
And every conflict won,
And every thought of holiness
Are His alone.

MEDFORD RR. TROUBLE NOT YET SETTLED

Public Utility Commission Hears Witnesses on Application to Discontinue Service

Whether the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad Company is to be permitted to abandon service on the road from Haddonfield to Medford, affecting Marlton, was not determined by the Public Utility Commission when a hearing on the application for permission to discontinue that operation was given in Camden last week. After several witnesses had been heard the hearing was continued to June 6 and it is presumed that the decision will come quickly after that date, if not immediately.

Several Medford citizens headed by J. Maurice Garwood, president of the Chamber of Commerce, were at the hearing to oppose favorable action on the application with a contention that the road could be made profitable with good service and it should not be abandoned on the plea that it is a losing proposition. Perhaps one of the strongest witnesses for Medford was Dr. Bernard Smith, president of the textile manufacturing company in that town and of a similar concern at Frankford. He said that discontinuance of railroad service would likely result in a curtailment of the operations at Medford, and it would certainly completely upset plans for closing the Frankford business and having all the manufacturing done in Medford. Without shipping facilities, he said, such a move would not be advisable.

The Medford delegation was given an opportunity to go in the railroad business by sharing future losses with the company, but this was turned down. Superintendent L. K. Marr had a proposition whereby the company was to continue operation of trains, let everything be lovely if the business showed a profit, and have the communities of Medford and Marlton share equally with the company any losses shown by a public statement. Mr. Garwood said that the communities were not going in the railroad business, especially when the participation deals solely with the matter of losses.

A Philadelphia minister died leaving an estate of $36,000—which should help prove that not all Pennsylvania money is spent at the election polls.

PHS Loses Fray in 12th Innning

Burlington Ties Score in Ninth and Wins Out in Extra Innings

Palmyra High dropped its last game of the season, a twelve-inning pitchers' battle between West, veteran moundsman, and Arenz, of Burlington, at Burlington, Friday afternoon. The final count was 4 to 3.

West held the Burlington batters scoreless for six innings of the duel. He had nine strikeouts in the first eight frames while Arenz had eight. West's final record was ten strikeouts while Arenz fooled 12.

A. Zoll spiked the rubber for the first Palmyra run in the fourth frame and when Meyers and Harry Litle sprinted across in the seventh Palmyra held a 3-0 advantage.

Arenz gave his mates a run in the seventh round, and it looked as though that would be the day's quota, when Burlington took up the sticks for the last half of the ninth. Arenz again led his mates by tapping a single to left field. Bill Rinker caught one on the nose and it sailed out to right field for three sacks, Arenz scoring.

Tied in Ninth

Bill Steape lifted a long fly to right field, back far enough for Rinker to tally after the ball had nestled in Litle's glove. The side was retired before any further damage and the game went overtime.

Palmyra failed to get anyone around for the next three innings, while West held Burlington safe in the tenth and eleventh. In the twelfth Lenin's fly to right meant one down. Vandergrift was sent to first base when he failed to avoid one of West's fast ones. Lewis sacrificed him to second and Hunt drove the ball over the short right field fence for two bases according to ground rules, and Vandergrift tallied the winning marker.

West and Arenz were the individual stars for their teams, both by pitching and hitting. Meyers played a bang-up game at short for Palmyra until the twelfth when he made a couple of mishaps, put West in a hole and Burlington in a position to win the game.

Outfield Changed

Coach Dimond changed the entire Palmyra outfield after the first three runs were tallied. Palmyra enjoyed a very successful season under the first year's tutelage of Coach Dimond, winning the majority of its games.

Control Rabies by Inoculation

State Department of Health Urges Preventive Measures to Check Spread

A state-wide law requiring the inoculation against rabies of all dogs before issuing licenses for them is advocated by the Department of Health, Newark, N. J. As there has been an increase in rabies among dogs in northern New Jersey for some time past, with a spread of this dangerous disease to other parts of the state, it is felt that comprehensive steps should be taken for its elimination. It is recognized that muzzling is an effective though harsh method of control, but difficult of enforcement. As an alternative, inoculation with an immunizing dose of rabies virus under the skin of the dog is suggested. This method, developed in Japan, has been tried out in Connecticut, with an attendant decrease of rabies, and several municipalities in the neighborhood of Newark have inoculation ordinances. Comparative data bearing on the results of these ordinances are as yet meager, but tend to show their effectiveness. In a few instances paralysis has followed the inoculation of a dog, and the period of protection from a single inoculation is not definitely known; but as against these objections it is claimed that the inoculation method:

1. Does not interfere with the liberty of the animal, which can run at large as an immune dog.
2. Gives protection from possible infection by bites from rabid dogs for one year.
3. Is painless and does not produce any lasting disability.
4. Protects family from possible bites by rabid family pet.
5. Is cheap, and can be given by any veterinarian.
6. Does not require a large field staff for its enforcement if no dog license is issued until an inoculation certificate is presented.
7. Is humane, and in line with modern procedures for the control of epidemic communicable diseases.

It is dangerous to drive in a fog—especially if it is mental.

GIRL RESERVES

The weekly meeting of the Girl Reserves was held at the home of Eleanor Richmond. The meeting was opened by the president. Songs were sung and the code given. The minutes, which were written by Mildred Kerrigan, secretary pro tem, were read and approved.

The chief topic was the play, the characters which were missing have been chosen.

We have decided to give a cake sale on June 11th.

The practice for the play will be at Miss Davis' home at 3.30 this Friday. The meeting was then adjourned.

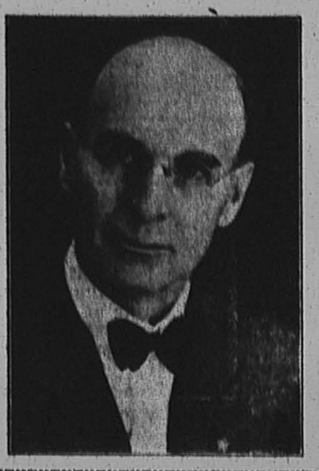

JANE BLACKWELL,
Secretary.

SENATOR ROBERTS

On Tuesday, June 21, the voters of Burlington County will have an opportunity to nominate Emmor Roberts for his return to the Senate.

Burlington County is second to none in the character of its citizenship and Senator Roberts is an ideal representative of such a County.

The record of Emmor Roberts warrants returning him to the Senate for further service. He has been faithful in the performance of his public duties. He has missed only one session of the Legislature since he became a member, and that was due to the death of a relative.

This record is unequalled by any other member of the Legislature.

Senator Roberts has assisted in every piece of constructive legislation enacted during his membership in the Assembly and Senate.

He has strenuously opposed every bill offered in behalf of special and selfish interests.

He has stood firmly for the enactment of legislation to uphold the Constitution and enforce the laws of the State.

While a friend of the working man, he has at the same time insisted on fair play to the employer of labor.

Both Capital and Labor have always found in Senator Roberts a staunch champion when their cause was just.

He is still a young man and willing to serve his County in the Senate.

Will the voters of Burlington County show their appreciation of the fine work he has done by returning him for another term?

There are undoubtedly enough men and women in the County who approve of Senator Roberts and the things for which he stands to elect him by a handsome majority. It is merely a matter of getting the vote out. And those who want him returned to the Senate should not leave it to the "workers" to see that every possible vote is polled.

Let them, each and every one, make it their personal responsibility to see that their own ballot is deposited, and urge their neighbors to do likewise.

GEORGE ROGERS' "ITCH"

A campaign without George W. Rogers running for something or other would be all wrong. Voters have come so used to seeing his name on the ballot that they accept it as a necessary—we were going to say, "evil," but that would not be quite fair to the urbane George. Suppose we say, "they have come to accept it as an inevitable symptom of a bad case of office itch?"—Mount Holly Mirror.

INSURANCE SAFEGUARDS AMERICA

In times of great disaster, the newspapers and private business in America can be relied upon for cooperation to meet any emergency. If it were not for the newspapers, the Red Cross would be helpless in raising money to aid suffering people. Along with the newspapers, other lines of business and industry offer their assistance.

Following a great fire or flood, insurance is one of the stabilizing forces which helps bring order out of chaos. This was illustrated after the recent Florida hurricane, and was again illustrated on May 2, when The National Board of Fire Underwriters addressed the President of the United States, as follows:

"The devastation caused in the states bordering the Mississippi River is of such scope and character as to call for the assistance of every agency equipped to cooperate with the government and the afflicted citizens of the cities and sections affected by the flood.

"In 1917, previous to the declaration of war, The National Board of Fire Underwriters placed its services, resources and facilities at the disposal of the United States Government and was able to lend aid not readily available from other sources, governmental or private.

"We now offer the government, and through the government to the citizens in the stricken area, the full services of our engineering staff which is equipped to give the flooded communities expert engineering assistance to restore the water supplies, reorganize fire departments and fire alarm systems, and advise regarding the rehabilitation of dwellings and mercantile buildings.

"For many years The National Board of Fire Underwriters has maintained a corps of engineers to survey water supplies, fire departments, fire alarms and building conditions of cities, and it is these men supplemented by the engineering staffs of other organizations, under the direction of the fire insurance companies, members of this board, who we believe will be of immeasurable assistance at this time in bringing order out of the chaos which will follow the recession of the flood.

"In the event these services are desired, we shall be pleased to place ourselves in contact with whomsoever you may designate, either in Washington or elsewhere, and arrange for entering upon such plans as may be expedient to render the best possible service promptly and effectively."

TEN DOLLARS—AND LIFE

Six hundred thousand Americans are homeless. Five hundred thousand are destitute and dependent upon charity for each succeeding meal in the Mississippi valley.

"There was never in our history such a calamity," says Herbert Hoover. Henry M. Baker, Red Cross National Director of Disaster Relief, calls it "the most staggering disaster the country has ever suffered."

Our people still do not appreciate its magnitude or significance, else they would DEMAND for National action.

In the Urgent Deficiency Bill, which fell by the wayside in the recent Congress because of a partisan filibuster, was an appropriation of $8,600,000 to buy seeds, fertilizer and forage for districts stricken by crop failure.

It was not a crisis item—the flood had not yet happened. It was a routine precaution, such as any prudent Congress would take.

The entire fund of $5,000,000 at present in sight for the rehabilitation of the half million absolutely destitute victims of the greatest disaster in our history is only a little more than HALF of the emergency sum which Congress meant to appropriate as a matter of course.

This $5,000,000, bear in mind, is not relief money. The Red Cross has nearly $15,000,000 with which to feed, clothe and shelter the flood victims during the peak of their suffering. Private generosity has responded magnificently to the call upon its mercy.

Five millions for rehabilitation? Why, it is only $10 apiece—ten dollars with which to start life anew from scratch and win to comfortable American citizenship in a land where the per capita wealth is THREE HUNDRED TIMES as much.

And this, while the Treasury at Washington is bursting with idle money. Give these pitiable flood victims a decent lift and the future protection to which they are entitled.

NOT GUILTY!

A prominent worker in the Democratic party went to Bridgeboro a few days ago for the purpose of trying to get two people to run for the Democratic County Committee. After making several inquiries about the village the candidate seeker was informed that "there were no Democrats in Bridgeboro." This brought forth a quick retort: "Thank goodness for that then, they can't blame the Democrats for the Rancocas Rum Scandal."—Mount Holly Herald.

RUTGER COURSES

Summer Session Will Open on June 27th

When the fifteenth summer session of Rutgers University opens on June 27th there will be offered for the benefit of the citizens of the State, its teachers and students, an extensive program. In planning the summer session the officers of the university have endeavored to serve a large clientele which numbers among its members teachers, college students and persons engaged in various fields of work who desire to improve their training.

The Rutgers program is based upon the idea of offering differentiated courses of study which shall satisfy many needs. For teachers the offerings range from the usual courses in English, modern languages, history and the elementary fields to the more recently developed lines which include vocational guidance, the study of subnormal children, the making of intelligence tests and studies of the curriculum. In addition the institution offers one of the most complete programs in music in the East which includes vocal music, public school music, and orchestral training. Other fields are vocational education, manual arts, and the history and appreciation of fine arts.

CINNAMINSON P. T. A.

The annual meeting of the Cinnaminson P. T. A. was held as usual in May. Some of the high spots of the past year have been, the Annual Supper in October, the reception for parents and teachers in November, the Christmas treat to the children, $50.00 toward the purchase of the slides for the school lantern, $25.00 toward buying braces for an infantile paralysis child, serving the Father and Son Banquet, a talk on Americanization, $25.00 toward the expenses of starting the hot lunches at the colored school.

We joined the national campaign for the Summer Round-Up of the children who are to enter first grade next year. We feel very grateful to Dr. Rogers and the nurses for their splendid cooperation in giving the children a thorough physical examination. Not many defects were found, these, we hope to have rectified during the summer so that the little first graders can be as nearly 100% perfect as possible.

Mrs. Nathan Conrow was elected president in place of Arthur L. Richie, the retiring president, the new secretary is Mrs. George Dorworth and Mrs. Edward S. Wood continues as treasurer.

The dreariest people in the world are those who merely want to be good.

Two Schools of Thought

Fundamentalists believe that the canon of the Scriptures is closed and that revelations are not now made. They also affirm belief in the miraculous happenings which are related in the Scriptures; that they are of divine origin and that the Bible was written through divine inspiration and is not subject to modern interpretation. Modernists believe that revelations are still being made and that it is quite possible according to developments of modern science to account for the so-called miraculous happenings in the Bible. They do not accept such doctrines as that of the virgin birth without question.—Washington Star.

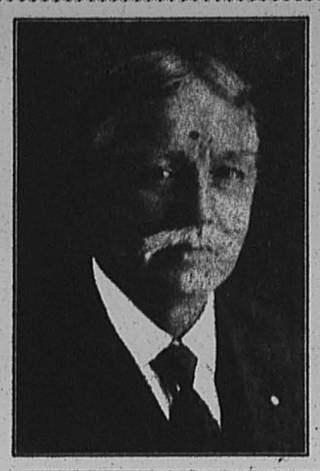

Egg for Radiator

Does your radiator leak? Try white of egg—an old farmer's remedy, which several motorists have used with success. The theory is that after the white of egg is poured into the radiator the hot water carries it to the leak and cooks it there until it becomes virtually hard boiled. The remedy has lasted in some cases for two or three years at a stretch, indicating that the egg does not rot even in that length of time, or else attracts enough sediment to keep the hole plugged up.

Not a Farmerette

Little two-year-old Anita went to the country to visit her grandparents and was taken out to the rabbitry to see the New Zealand Red rabbits. When she saw the red rabbits, her eyes fairly danced and reaching out her little hands and beckoning with her fingers, she exclaimed, "Come on, little cows. Come on, little cows."

Obey that impulse—quit your foolishness!

Judge's Josh

Not So Good

Prisoner—Im sorry, your honor, I took the money; but you know the more a man gets the more he wants."

Judge — Well, you're getting seven years. How much more do you want?

Lucky Guy

Him—"There is one word that will make me the happiest man in the world. Will you marry me?"

Her—"No."

Him—"That's the word."

Misspelled, But—

"Shear robbery," complained the man as he protested at the excessive rate the barber had charged him for a haircut.

Too Much Territory

She—Do you think I go out with every man?

He—Mylor' no, not with the population of the world the way it is now.

Advice From Dora

Dumb Dora saw an ad in the paper the other day. It said "How a Girl Can Keep Her Youth. One dollar postpaid." Dora says the only way a girl really can keep her youth is by never introducing him to another girl, especially a pretty one.

Fair Enough

"Why are you scratching yourself, Tommy?"

"Because I'm the only one who knows where I itch."

There may be "many a slip between the cup and the lip" as claimed—but there no longer are many "twixt the flapper and public gaze."

Anniversary Plans Gaining Interest

Mount Holly Fire Company Celebration Becoming "Greater Every Week"

More people are beginning to realize that the 175th anniversary celebration of Relief Fire Company in Mount Holly during the week of July 11 is going to be about the biggest affair of the kind ever held in this section of the state and they are getting themselves all stirred up with interest in the developments that are coming through the leadership of Miss Helen MacHugh, whose office in the Krupnick Building on Main street is about one of the busiest places that will be found in a day's travel about town.

From the time that the celebration begins on Sunday, July 10, with a memorial service for William H. Hinkle, of Mount Holly, the oldest fireman in the United States at the time of his death recently, there will be a program of activity that will almost make the participants dizzy with excitement. The firemen of the town and county are going to realize that a big time has been all set to music for them. Parades, pageantry, contests, and the like will make up a program that will take all the dull moments out of life in these parts for a whole week. It means something when the oldest fire company in the United States with a continuous record breaks loose on its 175th birthday. The spirit is all here and it is beginning to work in wonderful shape to the accompaniment of Miss MacHugh's direction. There is no doubt about her being a hustler who believes in action and gets results.

Perhaps one of the most interesting things at this time is the popularity contest, that is now in progress among young ladies of the county who are getting after that Essex Super Six Coach as the grand prize and the other prizes that are rich inducements. The announcement is made that the preliminary contest closes on June 18.

At that time the young women to represent the Fire Companies entered in the contest will be selected by the number of votes to her credit that date at midnight. Votes collected by other contestants for the same title will be credited to the winner of the Company Title. The contestants losing in the Preliminary contest will be designated as maids of honor of the fortunate winner. The winners of the Company Titles are the only contestants eligible for competition in the Major Contest for the title of Miss Burlington County with the accompanying awards, chief among these being an Essex Super Six Coach. Entered now are:

Miss Miriam A. Prickett, Medford, N. J.
Miss Adeline Ford, Mount Holly.
Miss Beatrice Taliman, Columbus.
Miss Eleanor Frazier, Mount Holly.
Miss Eleanor Hoffman, Birmingham, N. J.
Miss Gertrude Voight, Mount Holly.
Miss Alice Myers, Mount Holly.

PENSAUKEN PAVING

Fifteen Miles of Streets Planned; Will Cost Large Sum

Advertisements for bids for the laying fifteen miles of hard street paving was authorized at a special meeting of the Pensauken Township Committee last week. The improvement will cost nearly $500,000.

The bidders will be asked to submit estimates on both vibrolithic and normal concrete streets of equal strength and thickness of seven inches. Where streets are more than thirty feet wide longitudinal joints will be required.

Six or seven ordinances have been passed providing for the streets. The include nearly all the streets in Delaware Gardens and State Highway Manor and several highways scattered throughout the township. The contracts will be let separately on each ordinance.

An ordinance was passed on first reading which provides for the regulation of traveling carnivals and circuses. The ordinance gives the police authority to regulate such shows and provides the managements shall pay a license to the township.

RECORD BUSINESS

Graham Brothers Trucks Establish New Sales Mark

Retail sales of Graham Brothers trucks and commercial cars together with overseas shipments during the first two weeks of May broke all previous records for the year, according to figures just released by the company. The record figure for this period of 12 working days is a total of 2957 units—2354 retail deliveries to customers by dealers in the United States and Canada and 603 shipped overseas.

Graham Brothers truck sales throughout the world have shown increasing volume since the first of the year which demonstrates the growing popular demand for a high quality transportation equipment of the speedy, pneumatic-tired type with medium load capacity. This trend also is indicated by National Automobile Chamber of Commerce figures just released which show that 91.9 per cent. of all trucks produced in the United States and Canada during 1926 were of 314, 1, 1 1-2 and 2-ton capacities. These are exactly the same capacities in which Graham Brothers trucks are built.

The Sandman Story

By Martha Martin

THE BOSSY COW

"I BELONG to Mahalia," said the cow, "and I can tell you I'm mighty fond of her.

"She's just the dearest little girl in the whole world. Her voice is so sweet and her manners are so sweet and she is kind and gentle.

"She laughs, too, and she knows how to have a good time. She is a great one for a joke and everyone around her always feels merry and gay.

"Why, even though I am only a cow, I feel better the minute Mahalia comes around me."

"Don't you belong to the farmer?" asked the neighbor cow.

These two cows were talking to each other.

One was in a pasture on one side of the fence and one was in a pasture on the other side of the fence.

For these cows did not belong to the same farm. They were chatting across the fence in a most neighborly fashion.

"I am owned in a way by the farmer, of course," said the first cow. "But my real owner is little Mahalia. Her Chatting Across the Fence in a Neighborly Fashion.

Daddy said she could call me her cow.

"For I have always been her favorite cow, and she says I will always be her favorite cow.

"She can milk me, too. Oh, yes, and she says that the milk and the cream and the butter I give are the best in the world.

"But I must tell you of the little girl who came to see Mahalia. The little girl's name was Nelly.

"Nelly was being shown over the farm by Mahalia.

"'And now,' said Mahalia, 'I am going to show you the most wonderful animal on the whole farm, and she is my animal, too. She is my dear Bossy Cow.'

"Then Mahalia pointed to me, and she said:

"'She is my pet. She knows me when I call her. She will follow me, and you know a pet cow isn't usual.

"'She is most certainly not usual. She is too wonderful to be usual.'

"I was just as proud as could be when I heard this, and then, what do you suppose that Nelly said?"

"I can't imagine," said Neighbor Cow. "I'm sure I can't possibly imagine. Moo, moo, moo, do tell me."

Nelly said, continued Mahalia's cow:

"'I wouldn't want a cow for a pet. I've a kitten at home, and the kitten is my pet.

"'Why, there's nothing pretty about a cow. You can't take a cow in your lap. And a cow isn't cute. I wouldn't want an old cow for a pet.'

"Well, you should have heard Mahalia. I didn't know what she would be able to say, for I knew she would want to stand up for me, and yet the words that Nelly had said were true, though I didn't like them at all.

"Mahalia spoke up quickly, and said:

"'I wouldn't have a kitten in exchange for my cow. I wouldn't have any pet in exchange for my cow.

"'Why, a kitten drinks milk, all right, but a cow gives milk.

"'Just think of the number of lives a cow saves every year. Yes, a cow gives milk so that babies and children and grownups, too, may be strong and live long.

"'That's what my Bossy does, too. I can't take her in my lap, but I can put my head close to hers, and I can pet her just as well standing up.

"'I don't care for a cute pet. I want a pet just like my cow, a pet who thinks of others and a pet who is good and gentle and sweet.'

"Well, Nelly had nothing to say to that, but when Mahalia came to me and kissed me, and I smiled at Mahalia in my cow way out of my big eyes and gave Mahalia a kiss, Nelly said:

"'Well, your cow is nice, though she's a funny old thing for a pet.'

And Mahalia said:

"'She may be a funny old thing for a pet to you, but to me she's my own dear Bossy Cow.'

"And I can tell you, Neighbor, that made me happy. Sometimes I used to think I was a big clumsy, stupid sort of a creature, but since Mahalia spoke as she did, I know that I, too, am of some account in this life.

"It has certainly put new life, as they say, into me, and given me heart to go on with my work.

"And oh, above all, it has made me a happy, happy cow, for Mahalia—the sweet Mahalia—loves me!"

SOME CHEMIST

Bill Tries Mixture; Holly Rocked By Explosion

Young Bill Harrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin G. Harrison, of the Harrison apartments and patent drug business, Mount Holly, believes thoroughly in the idea that action in life is better than theory. He demonstrated this one night last week when he made a mixture of chemicals in a barn in rear of his home and caused an explosion that shocked part of the town and made a report heard fully three blocks away. He had with him his little sister, Nellie, and brother, Bert. All were somewhat burned and hurt, but not seriously. Bill had his hands scorched by the flash and Bert got a balck eye and a bump on the head when he was given his hurling. Other kids in the barn at the time were not injured.

Bill refuses to say what he was using, but fumes indicated that he had sulphur as one of the ingredients of his mixture. It is presumed that he was applying some of the chemistry that he had learned at the Mount Holly high school or was experimenting to find out if what he had been told was really true.

When the explosion occurred, men in the vicinity ran to the barn and a general fire alarm was sounded. There was no fire worth mentioning and the services of the firemen were really not needed. Bill somewhat resented their appearance on the scene, indicating with strong words that what he was doing was none of their business. It is somewhat surprising that the building was not blown to pieces and that some of the children were not killed.

Fire Chief Assay ordered that the building be locked and Police Lieutenant Goldy complied with the instructions. It was not long after the lock had been placed that Bill was found prying it off. The Harrisons were out of town at the time, but Mr. Harrison later returned and took charge of the situation.

DEMOCRATS NOT PLEASED WITH HAGUE'S SELECTIONS

That there are Democrats in New Jersey who are not wholly pleased with the choices the Hague Machine has made for the most important offices under the control of the state's voters is a fact to which we respectfully call the attention of the Democratic leaders.

They are loyal to the fundamental principles of the party but they have often felt themselves unable to endorse the candidates, especially those for the senatorship and governorship, which have been presented to them for approval at the polls.

We believe the number of Democrats with this attitude is greater than those who guide the destinies of the New Jersey Democracy from somewhere in Hudson county realize. In the days when Woodrow Wilson was candidate for the governorship, they helped considerably in swelling the Democratic totals. We do not believe they have all died or moved out of the state since.—Freehold Transcript.

Burlington Firm Will Build Bridge

Conard & Buzby Submit Lowest Price at Freeholders' Meeting Friday

Bids were opened for rebuilding the bridge at Flourtown, on the Hainesport and Mt. Laurel road, the construction to consist of two 60-inch pipes with concrete headwalls, at the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday as follows: Conard & Buzby, Burlington, $1,698.75; William C. Cook, Mount Holly, $1,723.25; Frank B. Marter, Clermont, $2,357.30; Medford Concrete Company, Medford, $2,238.06. The contract was awarded to Conard & Buzby Company of Burlington, which concern was the lowest bidder.

A dangerous situation which has existed at New Lisbon for several years, the grade crossing of the Pennsylvania railroad near the station at that place was called to the attention of the board by Walter H. Stull, of Brown's Mills, clerk of Pemberton township, who stated that repeated efforts to have some protection at the crossing had been unsuccessful and requested the cooperation of the freeholders.

Its the suggestion of clerk Stull that a flagman, bell or flash, be placed at the crossing. The freeholders have some responsibilities in this regard as the county road crosses the tracks at that point. The matter was referred to Charles R. Stout, head of the road department, with power to act.

County Engineer H. B. Smith and his assistant, F. L. Branin, were given permission of the board to go on the annual inspection trip of the county engineers of the state on June 3 and 4, at which time new bridge construction and road building will be gone over in various parts of the state.

Bills from the various departments were presented and ordered paid as follows: Roads, $8,166.66; bridges, $4,054.36; finance, $250.71; public buildings, $11,207.39; public affairs, $1,275.43; making a total of $24,954.55.

NEWSPAPER 'ADS' BEST, CANDY MAKERS ARE TOLD

Newspapers are the most valuable advertising medium, Harry R. Wilson, of St. Louis, director of advertising of the National Confectioners' Association, declared in an address at its 44th annual convention at the Steel Pier, Atlantic City, last week.

Wilson said his statement on the value of newspaper advertising was based on investigations in every district. He stated candy manufacturers had spent $600,000 in the last year on newspaper advertising, in addition to what had been spent by the association.

Exception To The Rule

"I have always maintained," argued Mr. Newlywed, "that no two people on earth think alike."

"You'll change your mind," said the wife, "when you look over our wedding presents."

COTOXEN PARK

Nearby Rendezvous Has Many New Features; Expect Big Season

Cotoxen Park, becoming more popular each year, has made preparations for a big season. In addition to the Community House, Bathing Beach, Picnic Grove and Bath Lockers, there will be a new restaurant, penny arcade and other new features. The restaurant, with entrance on Church road, will have a full menu at reasonable prices.

The management is importing a real Southern Mammy from Old Virginia who will cook those delicious waffles and fried chicken.

The Penny Arcade will contain about 50 assorted automatic machines from which you get anything from a mint ball to a pearl necklace all for a penny.

The Cotoxen Serenaders will furnish dinner music every Saturday and Sunday. There will be a special Band Concert every Sunday from 2 to 7 p. m. Also on Sunday afternoons there will be souvenirs for the kiddies and six special number prizes for grown ups.

Cotoxen Park, formerly Kirby's Mills, is located on Church Road, between Cross Roads and Vincentown. It has been a favorite bathing place for many years and since the many improvements have been installed, it has rapidly grown into a popular summer resort.

BUS TOLLS JUMP

Fifty Cents Single-Deck and Seventy-five Cents for Double Deck Effective on July 1

Increases in the toll rates for single-deck and double-deck buses were voted by the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission at its final meeting in Philadelphia yesterday.

The commission boosted the single-deck bus rate to fifty cents and the double-deck rate to seventy-five cents. P. R. T. single-deckers now pay twenty-five cents and the independents pay forty cents. Double-deckers, all operated by the P. R. T., pay forty cents.

The new rates will become effective July 1, when the present rate contract with P. R. T. expires. The commission voted to abolish the preferential rate at the last meeting, and the boost in the bus tolls was forecast at that time.

The toll rate increase was discussed in executive session. At the conclusion of the secret session, the new rates were announced without comment.

Members of the commission explained that the damage done by the buses to the bridge roadway makes it necessary to charge as much for a passenger carrying vehicle as for freight trucks of equal weight.

The man of experience knows how they used to do it.

THE BEST AD MEDIUM
A SIXTEEN HOUR ATLANTIC
NEW FREEDOM OF PULPIT
SHYLOCK SAM IN POST OFFICE

When Uncle Sam advertises, he ADVERTISES. The Treasury announcement, recalling $1,650,000,000 of Second Liberty Loan four and a quarter per cent bonds will be published in fifteen thousand American newspapers, daily and weekly.

Mr. Mellon shows good judgment, putting the advertising in thousands of country weeklies and small dailies. In proportion to their circulation, they are THE best mediums.

Before General Mitchell was put out of Army flying, for telling unpleasant truths, he had under way plans for a giant flier, with wheels twenty feet high, that could take a running start over fences and tree trunks.

And this week Professor Rumpler, head of a German airplane company, announced plans for a plane, many times the size of any ever built, to carry many engines, and cross the Atlantic in sixteen hours, carrying 170 passengers.

Transatlantic flight will soon be commonplace, but the little machine must show the way, as did Columbus's little boats.

Miss Spencer, seventy years old, rode to work at the Treasury Department and back on a bicycle, saved and made more than $100,000. She leaves small sums to relatives and the balance $100,000, for a tombstone. Relatives object, the court is asked to decide.

The foolish waste should be forbidden. But it is interesting to think of that old Treasury clerk pushing her bicycle back and forth, meditating on the grand figure that she would cut in death with her $1000,000 tomb, she, who in life had been only a $1,200 year spinster clerk. Happiness is largely imagination.

It is suggested unofficially that Mr. Hughes, formerly Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, will be chosen by Governor Fuller of Massachusetts as head of a commission to investigate the Sacco-Vanzetti case.

Such a choice would be satisfactory to the country, and the decision conclusive. It is more important by far than executing any two men, to make sure that there was no mistake or prejudice in conviction.

The views of clergymen each Sunday present interesting contrasts, such as would have been unsafe for the clergymen one hundred years ago.

The Rev. Dr. Walter Duncan Buchanan says we are ignorant about heaven and our uncertainty is a blessed thing. It gives us something to hope and work for.

The Rev. Dr. Minot Simons, Unitarian, says we must look for our "compensations' in this life. Old ideas of heaven and hell "are now inadequate and futile."

The Rev. Dr. Straton says Mrs. Snyder, convicted of helping to murder her husband, in an atheist. She couldn't have committed the crime had she believed in God.

If that is so, there have been atheists in high places throughout history.

Republicans and Democrats are planning a 1928 campaign in which the wet and dry question will be shelved, forgotten.

Some wets say, "If you do, we shall start a third party, dripping wet."

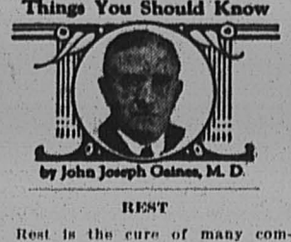

That would not hurt the feelings of Republicans, who have decided the Democrats may have the wet issue.

If, as seems likely, a wet Democrat is nominated, the wets will know his wetness and vote for him. A separate wet party would get as few votes now as a separate prohibition party used to get, in the old wet days.

Congressman William W. Cohen says the Government's treatment of letter carriers and mail clerks is a disgrace, which is accurate. Mail workers are underpaid as regular, and shamefully treated as substitutes. For the Government to compel men, perhaps with children, to waste an entire day waiting for one or two hours' work, and for the richest country in the world to pay its post office force as miserably as ours are paid, is unworthy.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

REST

Rest is the cure of many complaints—and is within the reach of every man and woman; the trouble is, we do not treat the subject with intelligence.

Since my last letter to this paper, I note the deaths of two distinguished men; one a statesman nationally known, 65—and the other a politician of state-wide notoriety, 67. Both endowed with all that make for long life; neither knew how to rest. Neither of these men used the muscular body one hour out of the twenty-four; both burned the nerve-candle to the vanishing-point. Neither knew the meaning of mental or digestive rest. The newspaper diagnosis was, of course, "heart disease."

When shall we learn that, the nervous and digestive systems are the universally overwrought of the body? Our digestive apparatus, which is really governed by the nerves, needs rest, must have it; otherwise, food swallowed is absorbed without digesting, hence is at once poisonous to the heart and brain. A spurt of protracted over-mental-work, and, the curtain goes down. Heart-disease!!!

Some men practically never allow the nervous system to rest; especially is this true of the more brilliant of men and women. They love work—revel in accomplishment, and—die before their time. Eating too much and toiling with the brain incessantly, affords the most certain passport to the great beyond.

The average worker, whether with brain or brawn, invariably receives ample warning of the danges ahead; a nervous system that will stand six hours of activity, will crack at ten or twelve. The heart is driven and regulated by nerves—the digestive system, also is activated by the same force. If all the nerve energy is expended on the business, there will be a deficiency left to digest the pork-and-beans, and to drive the heart

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Let's Stop This Endless Race

Representative Butler, chairman of the House and Naval Affairs Committee recently asserted that the United States ought to build practically a new navy to cost more than $400,000,000.

We are lagging steadily behind other nations and from being along toward the front we have dropped to fourth place.

This he holds to be a great danger.

Just where the competing nations in armament are to stop he does not suggest.

About the only way we can be made to stop it is for one nation that is undoubtedly strong to cease competing with the others.

The danger in this course is that the others will take advantage of it. It will be looked upon as a trusting and lamblike sucker. A lamb among the wolves, and the danger is that the other nations may eat it up.

This is a favorite idea among a certain class of people, the idea that our own nation is trusting, gentle and kind and harmless and all other nations are evil-minded and grasping.

There is no nation in the world in which this idea is not common.

The notion is not peculiar to nations. There are many individuals who have it. Many people in a family refuse to be kind and gentle because they think the other members of the family will take advantage of them.

It seems to be an absurd idea that was in the mind of Christ that the way to beget kind treatment on the part of others is to give them kind treatment first.

Many people believe that doing unto others as they would have others do unto them is all right, but they neglect to add the corollary that you must do it first.

It looks as if it would take some time yet to get the idea in the minds of people that the way to keep from being attacked by others is not to attack them and not to be able to attack them.

The idea of the United States arming itself to the teeth is quite a popular one among certain classes. They do not take into account the utter futility of this program as proved during the late war and the fact that preparation for war in the way of armament can easily become an intolerable burden.

The best way to get rid of war is deliberately to turn our back upon it and the only thing we should do in the way of armament is to so arrange our affairs that the forces of peace can be quickly mobilized in the event of national danger. Our Army and Navy, for instance, cannot be too big if they are all employed in constructive peace-time work and can be easily switched into war at short notice, but to maintain them as a force merely drilling and preparing to destroy is to subject ourselves to the old-world burden of armament.

ROAD CONTRACT

Phila. Company to Build Lakewood-New Egypt Highway

The Benjamin Foster Company of Philadelphia, was awarded the contract for the construction of a cement road on the county highway, sections 9 and 10, from Lakewood to New Exypt, at the regular weekly meeting of the Ocean County Board of Freeholders at the Court House in Toms River, last week. The bid received from the Benjamin Foster Company was the sum of $117,353,.29.

The S. S. Thompson company with a bid of $177,451,85 came next in line to the successful bidders and the Grant & Driver Company of Trenton put in the third low bid. Their estimate was $178,611.93.

J. Fred Stephenson, president of Shade Tree Commission of Lakewood, and W. H. Fisher appeared before the board and requested that a shade tree commission be appointed in Ocean county.

STARTS DAMAGE SUIT

Burlington Man Seeks Redress For "False Arrest"

Charging his arrest for possession of liquor was illegal, and that his good name has been ruined, Reuben Dubrow, a Burlington merchant, has brought suit against Supreme Court Commissioner Ralph Haines, of Vincentown and Mount Holly, for $10,000 damages.

Dubrow's father-in-law, Samuel Goldstein, who lives with him, has brought suit for $5,000 against Constable Harry Bate, who conducted the raid on Dubrow's store and apartment on March 18. Goldstein charges there was great noise and disturbance during the raid and that the officers damaged a door to the extent of $50, and that his family was annoyed and his business damaged.

Bate and other officers who raided the Dubrow apartment and store, were armed with a search warrant issued by Commissioner Haines. They broke down a door in Goldstein's apartment, finding a quantity of wine and some liquor.

At the hearing before Commissioner Haines, Dubrow's attorney argued that the warrant was invalid because it did not contain the name of the defendant. Dubrow was nevertheless held under bail.

The raid was made under instructions of Sheriff A. Engle Haines, who says he believes the sole purpose of the suit is to find out who is making "buys" for his office in various parts of the county. This information, he declares, will never be revealed, suit or no suit.

P. S. EARNINGS

A comparative statement of combined results of operation for the twelve months ending April 30, 1927 issued by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey shows gross earnings of $109,030,234.94 as against $99,050,203,00 for the twelve months ending April 30, 1926 an increase of $9,980,031,94.

Operating expenses, maintenance, taxes and depreciation for the period were $78,859,728.37 an increase of $7,147,749.72, leaving a net income from operations of $30,170,506.57 as against $27,338224.35 for the twelve months ending April 30, 1926 an increase of $2,832,282.22.

Other net income amounted to $1,128,373.12 and income deductions to $18,808,631.99, the balance for dividends and surplus being $12,490,247.70 as compared to $12,172, 416.95 for the twelve months ending April 30, 1926 an increase of $317,830.75.

Gross earnings for the month of April 1927 were $9,945,319.52 as against $9,180,437.32 for April 1926 an increase of $764,882.20. Operating expenses, maintenance, taxes and depreciaiton were $6,827,971.64 an increase of $487,337.76. Net income from operations was $3,117,347.88 an increase over April 1926 of $277,544.44. Other net income showed an increase of $51,686,88 over April 1926 and the total net income was $3,139,226.33 an increase over April 1926 of $329,231.32. Income deductions were $1,551,440.01 or $49,702.78 more than for April 1926, leaving the balance available for dividends and surplus $1,587,786.32 as against $1,308,257.78 for April 1926 an increase of $279,528.54.

5-CENT CIGAR REWARD FOR RETURN OF $1200

It was the late Vice-president Marshall who said "what this country needs is a good five-cent cigar," but Frederick D. Rankin of Boston is not convinced. Mr. Rankin was in front of his store, when he saw something which looked either like a roll of dollar bills or cigar coupons. He picked it up. A few minutes later a man came, almost incoherent, explaining that he had just lost $1200. Mr. Rankin smiled and pulled out the missing roll.

"Say that's great," grasped the stranger. "Say"—he stammered, "do—do you smoke?" Mr. Rankin took the cigar proffered. He sniffed the gift and looked at the label. It was a five-cent cigar.

P. S. DIVIDENDS

The Board of Directors of the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey last week declared dividends on the various classes of stock as follows:

Monthly dividend of fifty cents a share on its six per cent. cumulative preferred stock, payable June 30, to stockholders of record June 3.

Quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on its seven per cent. cumulative preferred stock, payable June 30 to stockholders of record as of June 3.

Quarterly dividend of $2 a share on its eight per cent. cumulative preferred stock, payable June 30 to stockholders of record as of June 3.

Quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share on its common stock, payable June 30 to stockholders of record as of June 3.

The board of directors of the Public Service Electric and Gas Company declared a quarterly dividend of $1.75 a share on its seven per cent. cumulative preferred stock and a quarterly dividend of $1.50 a share on its six per cent. cumulative preferred stock, 1925 series. Both are payable June 30 to stockholders of record as of June 3.

We have just read that a "hick" town is a place where over fifty per cent of the deaths are from natural causes. A prohibition barometer, no doubt.

TO HAVE OLD FASHIONED 4TH

The members of the Northampton Township Committee have not forgotten that they were boys—some of them in the long ago—and so, instructions have gone out to the members of the local police force to be conviently blind on the Fourth of July when the youngsters and those older ones whose patriotic ardor is still running strong, set off fire-crackers. The ordinance forbidding the sale or discharge of fire-works, crackers, etc., will be strictly enforced, however, both before and after the day we celebrate. In other words, the growing disposition to make the observance of the Fourth, a week-long affair, is to be discouraged.

Favorite Fruits and Vegetables made doubly delicious when chilled Electrically!

"For we are very lucky with a lamp before our door,
And Leerie stops to light as he lights so many more."

Leerie, the lamplighter, no longer comes 'posting up the street' to the delight of little watchers in the window, but a whole army of lamplighters stand guard through the long watches of the night at Public Service power stations, to see that the lamp before your door burns brightly. And these brightly burning lamps spell safety for the way-farer and for wee folk tucked away in bed, alike.

Dry Cold Refrigeration Improves the Food We Eat

THAT "dry cold that keeps" restores the crispness of delicious vegetables and fruits. Lettuce may have lost its garden freshness after a morning on the market stand, but an hour in Kelvinator's dry cold will make it temptingly crisp.

In warm weather keeping food fresh and appetizing is a big problem, yet the home-maker who owns a Kelvinator electrically equipped refrigerator experiences a comforting sense of security, for she knows that foods stored in it will be safely preserved.

Kelvinator can be purchased at Public Service stores on a convenient monthly payment basis. The Kelvinator refrigeration cabinet complete can be had from $210 up, or the Kelvinator unit to fit any standard refrigerator can be bought separately.

Public Service Kelvinator terms provide for a small sum down, and 17 months to pay the balance.

Daily Meal Getting Simple With Excel

The Excel Electric Cooker has proved successful in cooking foods in a way that requires little attention from the housekeeper. She puts the food in the compartments, keeps the electric current on until food is partly cooked, and then turns it off, and the cooking is completed by the retained heat. It is an ideal convenience in the home, especially during summer months.

The Excel is moderately priced and may be purchased on the convenient payment plan for $7.21, $1.25 down, $1 a month. Cash price $6.89.

Automatic Water Heaters An Aid to Housekeepers

No woman of today is willing to undertake the task of keeping her household comfortable and well, without a dependable supply of hot water to help her.

She needs hot water all through the day, because it permits her to perform household tasks more thoroughly and quickly and so helps to relieve the drudgery of housework.

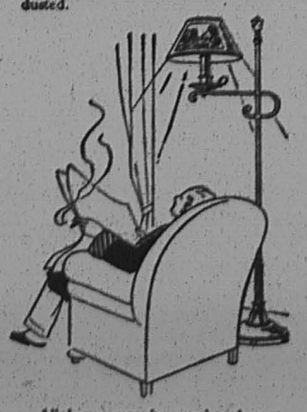

Public Service stores are offering a liberal allowance for old water heaters traded in on the purchase of a gas automatic storage water heater. These heaters come in several sizes, several makes, and at various prices, suitable to the size of the home and the means of all classes of purchasers. Prices begin at $90.75, and the terms are $5 down and 12 to 18 months to pay.

Simplicity Marks Correct Porch Lamps

The porch should be the family living room in summer, and lamps add to its liveability. A Bar Harbor chair with a lamp beside it takes on new comfort—a swing is more inviting if a softly glowing lamp permits the lounger to read while he sways.

Public Service stores are showing attractive floor and table lamps suitable for porch use. They are simple in design and have parchment shades which are easily dusted.

All lamps may be purchased on the convenient payment plan at Public Service stores.

Ada Bessie Swann's Frozen Cheese Salad

1½ cups cream cheese
½ cup chopped pecans
½ cup chopped green pepper
2 tbsp. salad oil
½ cup chopped pimento
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup cream, whipped stiff
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. paprika

Cream cheese and blend with salad oil, salt and paprika. Add nuts, green pepper and blend with mayonnaise, put in the whipped cream. Place in a mold and pack in equal parts of ice and salt for 3 hours. Serve on lettuce leaves garnished with cress or parsley.

There's a Different and Better Taste to Food Cooked Slowly

THERE are two good reasons for simmering. The first is that slow cooking at a low temperature brings out certain rich flavors that rapid cooking does not. The second reason is that the tough fibres of meats and vegetables are made tender by slow cooking over moderate heat.

Vegetables cooked with little water and steamed in their own juices develop a new flavor and tenderness.

The Smoothtop gas range is designed to enable the home-maker to employ long slow cooking economically. One lighted burner will keep its entire smooth cooking top hot.

Public Service stores will give $10 for old ranges traded in on the purchase of a new Smoothtop. Payment terms are $5 down—18 months to pay.

VOL 2 JUNE 2, 1927 No. 13

Oh! how anxious we are in June,
We wish it wouldn't come so soon
For promotion we are seeking,
Without words to tell our thinking.

When the fatal day is near,
And the glad news we hear,
Our hearts are full of cheer,
For we have worked all the year.

PORTO RICO PORTFOLIO

The seventh grade is sending a Portfolio to Porto Rico. Many of the grades contributed to this Portfolio. In our room we wrote about our town, while other grades wrote about their lessons and their rooms. In this portfolio there are some snapshots of the Seventh Grade doing exercises, and some of our art work. We are hoping we will get an answer from this other school showing some of their contributions. We have sent other portfolios to other countries and received answers from them.

In Assembly on Friday, May 27, we had a Memorial Program. Assembly was opened with a few songs, directed by our music teacher, Miss Lucas. The morning exercises consisted of the Bible Reading and the Lord's Prayer.

The third grade started the program by giving a song called "Memorial Day." This was followed by a short story about an old war veteran and his brother called "A Fire Rekindled" read by Alice Bartley from seventh grade.

In Assembly on Monday the eighth grade presented the school with some slides of birds and wild flowers. On Friday they were shown to the rest of the school in assembly. The class earned the money for these slides by selling candy. As each picture was shown on the screen, a pupil from the eighth grade described the flowers and birds. Some of the flowers are

1. Dutchman's Breeches,
2. Jack in the Pulpit,
3. Skunk Cabbage,
4. Lady's Slipper,
5. Trailing Arbutus,
6. Evening Primrose.

Some of the birds were the

1. Red headed woodpecker
2. Bluebird
3. Heron
4. Robin
5. Blue Jay
6. King Fisher
7. The flag, salute and one verse of "The Star Spangled Banner" closed our Assembly period.

Two Essay Contests

The American Railroad Association is giving $250.00 for a 250 word composition on "Cross Crossings Cautiously." Both the seventh and eighth grades have entered this contest, but only the best compositions are to be sent to New York. Some of the pupils have taken part in the WCTU contest also. This was to write an essay on "Tobacco" or on "Alcohol." We are hoping that some of the compositions from Riverton School will receive a prize.

The Sixth Grade has been on two excursions in May. The first was to visit the Riverton & Palmyra Water Works where Mr. Kerrigan and Mr. Buck told and showed us many interesting facts about our water supply. The second trip was a visit to the Zoo in Philadelphia. Needless to say we had a wonderful time. Mrs. Bush counted us (38) to make sure no one was kept as a real specimen of boy or girl of Riverton School.

Music Appreciation Lessons

Music Appreciation is one of the lessons enjoyed most in our class. We listen to compositions composed by some of the world's noted men, such as Chopin and Beethoven. We learn to distinguish instruments by their music as well as their appearance.

A list of the compositions and composers is kept by each pupil. These are referred to when one doesn't recognize the composition that is played. We enjoy this lesson because it is the only entrance to a higher world of knowledge.

The Camping activities center in this area, with the famous new "Ockanickon Inn" at the extreme left. There is a fine play ground area, shaded by great giant white oaks, between the Inn and the Headquarters Buildings. On over the bridge a little distance is the gradually sloping sanded swimming beach, and back of that, the beautiful wooded Camping area. Here the tents in which the boys live are pitched in semicircle formation.

From "Flag Pole Point" one has an excellent view of the lake in three directions; the east arm which extends for half a mile up toward the mount, the Mountain Run branch which extends nearly to the main highway, and the expansive area seen in the above sketch.

The boys' Camping period for fellows 12 to 16 years old opens June 23, and extends for a six weeks' period, to August 4, with a very nominal cost of $8.00 a week.

Last Sunday, June 22 was very generally observed throughout Burlington County as "Visit Camp Ockanickon Sunday" and there were some six or seven hundred persons who took advantage of the fine day and enjoyed either a tramp over a portion of Ockanickon's 492 "Acres for Character" or enjoyed canoeing on the lake—many enjoying both.

IOOF AUXILIARY

With the advent of the summer season the outdoor activities of Cinnaminson Lodge, Palmyra, will be inaugurated with a Strawberry Festival given by the ladies auxiliary on Saturday afternoon and evening, June 11th, at Broad street and Garfield, avenue.

The first picnic of the lodge, the initial outing of a series planned for the summer months, is also creating great interest among the ladies of the auxiliary who are busy planning for one of the largest attendances yet. The date is Saturday, June 25th, the place Grenlock Park and a bus picnic at that, for lodge members families and friends only.

Boxing is Feature of Big 'Men's Night'

Snappy Bouts Enjoyed by Crowd at Moorestown Community House

A big crowd was on hand at the second "Men's Night" which was held in the Moorestown Community House Tuesday evening.

The evening's program was full of action, starting with a flashy tumbling and gymnastic exhibition, some clever wrestling and winding up with seven exhibition boxing bouts in which the leather pushers certainly gave the fans a treat.

Not only did the men of Moorestown and vicinity enjoy the exhibition to the full, but there were several ladies, chiefly wives of the committeemen, who showed a keen interest in the peppy program.

Fred Russo and H. Juliano displayed their progress on the mat and showed that they had not been slow in learning the tricks of the trade as taught by Ian Forbes. Their bout was adjudged a draw.

Kublick and Schadle, of the Philadelphia Turngemeinde, famous gymnasts, gave a thrilling exhibition of tumbling and other mat work.

The boxing bouts opened with a snappy session between George Nuckols, 135 pounds, and Johnnie Carey, 137, both of Moorestown. Carey won all three rounds.

Next came a fast 3-round draw between Johnny Griffith, 115, of Moorestown, and Win Estilow, 120, of Riverside.

Vic Morgan, 134, of Moorestown, quickly succumbed to the onslaughts of Vet Johnson, 135, of Riverside, the bout ending in the first round.

"Kid Towell" Wins

Kid Mitchell, 131, of Moorestown, worked too fast against Jack Wallace, 132, of Maple Shade, lost his wind and "Kid Towel" stopped the bout in the third.

Old Man Towel again went into action in the next setto, when "Reds" McGann, 110, Moorestown's aggressive little battler, gained a decision over Steve Ferry, 118, of Beverly, in the second.

Bill Stevens, 124, Community House boxing instructor, stepped four fast rounds with "Chippie" Dill, also 124, of Riverside. Both boys displayed a lot of real boxing and shifty footwork, with snappy punches and clever ring generalship. As a result of their boxing skill neither suffered much damage and the bout was called a draw.

Another pair of experienced boxers put on the wind-up. Jimmie Russell, 125, of Beverly, formerly South Jersey amateur featherweight champ, who has been knocking off boys of his class with much regularity in the professional ring, and Tommy Boylan, rugged Beverly scrapper who generally puts his opponents away with smashing left hooks to the body, staged a remarkable exhibition of how boxing is done between a couple of friends either of whom could do real damage if he wanted to.

Jimmy had wonderful speed with his hands and feet. Tommy showed how to shed punches from any direction with a slight swaying of the body, and then in one of the final rounds he showed how to take them without minding when he put down his hands and allowed Jimmy to smack his jaw from both port and starboard without batting an eye.

Tommy's "act" was so cleverly done that some of the fans thought he was all in and was in the process of getting knocked out.

The Community Band, for whose benefit the exhibition was given, played snappy selections between bouts.

The committee in charge was composed of Bob Rogers, Al Leconey, Sonny Wright, Ian Forbes, Wid Conroy, Harry Middleton, Walter Scherbaum and Bill Stevens.

The ladies served "eats" to the boxers and the committee workers after the program was over, and then everybody took a hand with the dishwashing, etc.

One nice thing about this fickle spring weather is that if you don't like it, all you have to do is to wait a few minutes and get something else.

The popular song writers are now busy trying to find out how many words there are which will rhyme with Lindbergh.

IN CONFIDENCE

BY MISS FLO

Husband Wants To Know—

Dear Miss Flo:—

Oh for the life of a bachelor—for that's the only time in a man's life that he can "be himself" with nobody to nag him about it! I am beginning to find married life intolerable, because my wife is always finding fault about something. She thinks that to be a good housekeeper is to be an ideal wife, and it never occurs to her that goodfellowship and companionship are more important to a man than a spotless home. I haven't a minute's peace while I'm in the house, and if I go out without her she nags about being neglected. How do women get that way?

K. L.

Why do women "nag"? I wonder! I suppose it is because their natural impulse is to manage and take care of people. A woman likes order and neatness, and she wants her house and her children to be a credit to her. When they aren't up to the standards she has set for them she feels that it is a reflection on her. And as she considers her husband more or less another one of her children, she proceeds to bring him up, to train him in the ways and manners of the perfect husband, and to keep him in order generally.

And why do men hate to be corrected, criticized and regulated? Probably because they love peace, inaction and want to be left alone, once inside the home. They expect it to be a haven of rest, from whence all petty annoyances have been banished. And they feel that their personal liberty is being interfered with if friend wife suggests they drop their ashes in the trays provided for that purpose. If they are comfortable, that's enough. Why always be bothering about the house. They simply cannot understand why women set such store by these things.

The only way to correct a situation is to understand it. If a husband can make his wife understand that his careless ways about the house are not deliberate attempts to irritate her and make her work a little harder, she might let up a little on the "nagging."

On the other hand, if a husband can be made to realize that his wife's nagging is really only an indication of her deep interest in him, he will not be so irritated by her well-meant efforts. And he will understand that it is her inherent feminine love of all that is home.

While it is highly desirable that a wife be a good housekeeper, we agree that good-fellowship and companionship are far more important. Cleanliness and order are two domestic virtues that may easily be converted into vices that become a fetish that makes life anything but comfortable.

We all know houses that are spick and span but that are no more homes than a shiny box would be. Nobody would dare disarrange a sofa cushion in one of them. Nobody would have the courage to move a chair from its appointed place, and to leave anything around would be a high crime and a sacrilege unspeakable. Naturally a husband must feel a perfect stranger in such a home—like a bull in a china shop. His one impulse is to flee this place of order and cleanliness as he would a chamber of torture, and he lives in dread and fear of the woman who has become cross and irritable in her struggle to attain her ideals of perfect housekeeping.

No real home is ever too bright and good for daily use. To be a real home it must be run on a flexible schedule and kept only reasonably clean and orderly. Foolish is the woman who doesn't realize this and spends her time keeping her house clean instead of making it a home, for she is literally driving her husband away from her with the handle of a broom.

Beacon for Mount Etna

Winds which sweep the magnificent summit of Mount Etna, Sicily, soon will be harnessed to light one of the world's most powerful beacons, a million candlepower light which will guide flyers on the Mediterranean air routes, according to Popular Science Monthly. Experts estimate that the power it will draw from the winds will exceed the power which is generated by the huge plants at Niagara Falls.

Seek Sunken Treasure

Tenders for salvage work on any vessels sunk in the Aegean and Ionian seas, including those in Navarino bay, have been invited by the Greek government. It is estimated that there is about $50,000,000 worth of gold and silver lying at the bottom of the sea in Navarino bay. This vast wealth was lost when the British, French and Russian squadrons sank the Turkish fleet in 1827.

Go easy on the man with an axe to grind. He made civilization.

The dreariest people in the world are those who merely want to be good.

RIVERTON BOARD PLANS NEW SCHOOL AT MEMORIAL PARK

Temporary Building Disapproved by County Superintendend and State Board

WILL SUBMIT PROJECT AT PUBLIC MEETING

"Resolved, That the Board of Education have plans prepared for the erection of a new school building."

This resolution was presented by District Clerk Hemphill, seconded by D. M. Clifton and unanimously passed by the Riverton Board of Educatich in session Monday evening of this week.

This action was taken after the special building committee had submitted a report to the effect that it would be a mistake to build an addition to the present structure and that in order to provide three additional class rooms by September 1 two plans had been considered. (1) By the erection of a temporary three-room building. (2) By getting a price on adjoining property and the cost of adapting it to school purposes.

After this report had been read President Murray C. Boyer said County Superintendent Kaser had informed him that he did not approve of a temporary structure and it was Mr. Kaser's recommendation that the auditorium be divided by sliding partitions, giving two more class rooms. Mr. Kaser said that the Riverton School Board would receive an additional $2000 from the state school money this year.

Should Erect Building

Mr. Hemphill reported that Assistant Commissioner of Education Strahan had said that Riverton should immediately start the erection of a suitable new school building.

Miss Chew added with some point that the situation seemed to have developed into a consideration of buildings, and not the children.

She said she had proposed a temporary building because it would enable the children to receive proper instruction, and she did not feel the children should be deprived of the very best teaching methods while the grown-ups of the neighborhood were making up their minds what to do about a building.

Miss Chew agreed that it might be well to make two class rooms out of what remains of the auditorium after enough being taken off for a manual training room but that if this is done she wanted assurance that the school could go as a whole to some building in the neighborhood for assembly. Miss Chew emphasized what she has often said before—that the assembly room is not just a place for entertainments but a very necessary part of the school work.

Borough Will Give Ground

District Clerk Hemphill, who is also Mayor of the Borough, said that the municipal government was ready to deed to the school board a portion of Memorial Park, on which to erect a school building.

Mr. Clifton, who is Borough Clerk, produced a map of Memorial Park showing its dimensions, and the various improvements it is contemplated to make as time goes on.

Mr. Boyer pointed out that an ideal location for the school building would be on the Eighth street end of the park facing toward the railroad. The many advantages of such a plan were thoroughly discussed and it was at the close of this discussion that the resolution was passed to prepare plans for a new building.

The proposition will be submitted to a public meeting of the voters after the details have been worked out.

A resolution was passed to adjourn to June 23 to close up the business of the school for the year.

The supervising principal's report was read as follows:

The highest percentage of attendance was in the 5th B grade, 98.3% and next highest in the 4th grade, 97.6%. The girls of 5 B and 7 B made 100% attendance. The attendance in the Kindergarten was 84.1% and in 7B, 89.2%, which low figure is due to one member of the class being quarantined. In all other rooms the record was above 90%. There are forty-eight children who have not been absent nor tardy during the year from grades as follows:

First grade (Miss Justice's room)	2
Second grade	5
Third grade	5
Fourth grade	6
Fifth grade (Mrs. Murgatroyd's room)	5
Fifth grade (Mrs. Williams's)	4
Sixth grade	5
Seventh (Mrs. Browers's)	4
Seventh grade (Miss Lippincott's)	3
Eighth grade	9
Total	48

The books have been purchased to be given as prizes to the children represented by the above figures.

Twenty-eight children have completed the grammar school curriculum and are prepared for High School, which all expect to enter next year. Wesley Hemphill has the highest standing in the class and Jane Blackwell the next highest.

I wish to express my gratification at the splendid co-operative spirit shown by the members of the Board, the P. T. A. and the members of the Borough Council over our Field Day Exercises, and to extend sincere thanks to all who helped to make it a success. The Park is an ideal place for out-door sports and we thoroughly enjoyed the privilege of using it.

The 8th grade has presented two sets of lantern slides to the school, one set being pictures of birds and the other of flowers. The school used the balance of their money raised from selling seeds, together with the amount raised by a special collection, for a contribution to the Riverton Public Library, amounting to $40.00.

Respectfully submitted,
HANNAH H. CHEW,
Supervising Principal.

NO WEDDING BELLS

Couple Fails to Show Up at Justice's Home

Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter, of Delaware avenue, Palmyra, was scheduled to marry a young couple at his home Monday evening. Everything was ready for the ceremony but the marriage did not take place.

Mr. Fichter waited for the young couple until past ten o'clock but neither showed up. The parties to the contract were Miss Lillian Wood, 18, of 603 Arch street, Palmyra, and Francis Grandel Reynolds 21, of 512 North Fifth street, Camden.

Whether or not the young couple were married elsewhere is not known. The marriage license was issued by "Dad" Davidson, of Palmyra.

Hold Scout Field Meet at Palmyra

700 or More Boys Will Take Part in Competitions This Saturday

Between 700 and 800 Boy Scouts will participate in the third annual field day exercises to be held at the Palmyra Field Club grounds Saturday, June 11. Palmyra won the meet last year.

The program will start with a parade, which will leave the Palmyra American Legion Hall at 2.30. The Legion Bugle and Drum Corps will lead the parade.

Scouts from all over the county have been asked to take part in the meet. Representatives will be present from troops from all the riverfront towns, and from Green Bank.

The field meet will be open to Scouts of all ranks. They must be registered active members in good standing in a Burlington county Troop. Scouts of more than 18 years of age at the time of the meet, Scoutmasters, Associate Scouts and Assistant Scoutmasters are not qualified to compete.

Program

Event No. 11—Chariot Race.

Medals to be presented immediately after the Meet.

The Business Men of Palmyra will award a Shield to the Troop in the County having the largest percentage of scouts in line making the best appearance. Palmyra will not compete in this event.

Men, women, and children are cordially invited to attend.

AN OPEN LETTER

Riverton, N. J. June 7, 1927

To the Editor:

It is with deep interest that I have read the open letters in the NEW ERA regarding the coming Primary Election.

In every respect I agree with Mr. Murray and Mr. Robert Biddle, on the necessity for making a thoughtful choice of men, who are best equipped, through their business training, breadth of vision and executive ability to carry on the business of the Borough.

The PRIMARY ELECTION, June 21, 1927, I hope, will demonstrate that RIVERTONIANS have awakened to the full realization of the opportunity at hand.

Heretofore, the candidates for Borough Officialdom — have been chosen by a very small minority, whose political apprenticeships were rewarded only by the fascination that is a natural bi-product of such activity in a small community.

In the main, painstaking care and prudence featured Administrations to date; they have done surprisingly well despite the lethargy of a large proportion of our citizens, who, because of their peculiar personal interest in the community, should have backed the local government with more attention, time and support.

NOW, in the face of rapidly changing conditions, and serious problems to be met, in the near future, it is most gratifying that the candidacy of Mr. Howard M. Rogers, for Mayor, and the two associate candidates, Mr. Henry L. Randall and Mr. Joshua S. Bartley, if elected, will muster into the service of the Borough, the advice, experience and enthusiastic support of many individuals, whose willingness heretofore to assume responsibility and leadership, has been conspicuous by its absence.

INITIATIVE, EXPERIENCE, COURAGE, open-mindedness and broad vision are the essential requisites for a progressive Riverton.

With these qualities enthroned, together with the earnest co-operation of those who have heretofore faithfully served the Borough, a deep reason is born for the wish that new blood may be infused at this time, that we may now confidently forsake the threadbare practice of mechanically OKEYING what has been done.

I sincerely hope that the WOMEN who heretofore have refrained taking part in the choice of candidates, will exercise their privilege of suffrage on June 21st, by going to the polls.

Very truly,
EFFIE W. CORRY.

Paid for by
Effie W. Corry.

POWELL MEETING

Palmyra Organization Formed at Meeting in Warner Building

A Palmyra "Powell for Senator" organization was formed at a meeting held in the Warner building Monday evening. Another meeting was also held last night. At the meeting Monday, James T. Weart was chosen chairman; Frank Mathews, secretary; John Warner, vice-chairman, and Ralph Rivers, treasurer.

About thirty-five men were present, including Assemblyman Powell, Edwin Lee, Edwin Patterson, Syd Sneison, Ed Hoff, Wilmer Randel, William Jenkins, William Donaghy, Joseph Seel, William Miller, E. H. Flagg, Jr., George D. Steedle and Walter C. Wright, the last three being members of the Riverton Powell organization.

A speech was made by Mr. Flagg and ways and means of promoting the Powell campaign in Palmyra were discussed.

Mrs. Matilda Worthington, 73 years old, died at her home, 5th and Market street, Palmyra, last Wednesday, June 1.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. at the Snover Funeral Home, with the Rev. J. William Lee, pastor of the Epworth M. E Church, officiating. Interment was made at the Morgan Cemetery.

MAY CHANGE PARADE ROUTE

No Water Sports on Fourth; May Hold Athletic Events at Memorial Park

FLAG RAISING AND DEDICATION PLANNED

At a meeting of the Riverton Fourth of July Committee Monday night it was proposed to held the athletic events in the morning at Memorial Park instead of on the riverbank as heretofore. Those who favored this plan pointed out that it would be dangerous to attempt to do any running there, while the conditions of the park are ideal.

This was demonstrated by Field Day of the public school held there two weeks ago. If this is done, it will change the course of parade, and instead of going from the station to the river, the children will march to the park.

It has been decided to do away with the water sports, so that there will be no attraction during the morning except the athletic sports by the children.

The committee also hopes to have a flag pole erected so that a flag raising ceremony can open the day's exercises at the park. Many people were surprised when the school children went to the park for their Field Day events to find there was no flag and no flag pole on a piece of public property.

Further surprise was expressed when it was learned that the park had never been dedicated, and the Fourth of July Committee will endeavor to arrange dedication exercises as a part of the days program on the Fourth.

P. H. S. Exercises Held This Evening

1927 Graduating Class is Composed of Sixty-four Members

The Commencement Exercises of the 1927 Graduating Class at Palmyra High School will be held this (Thursday) evening in the auditorium of the school. Sixty-four pupils will be graduated this year.

A prize of $10 will be given by a friend of the high school to the freshman pupil using the best English. The winner of the first prize is John Fuller. The second prize of $5 will go to Helen Trudel. Two prizes were also offered by Mrs. Edward Becton for the two leaders in penmanship. First prize of $10 will be given Vincent Kalinowski and second prize of $5 to John Kerr.

The graduate from Riverton who receives highest honors will also be given a prize by the Riverton Board of Education. The winner in this case is Edward P. Sordon, who is valedictorian of the 1927 class. He will give an oration on "The United States under a Third Term President." The salutatorian, Alfred R. Bayer, of Riverside, will give an oration on "Benjamin Franklin and the Constitution." The banner oration will be given this year by Lester G. Johnston, of Bridgeboro. His topic will be "Footprints on the Sands of Time." The banner will be accepted by Edward Hutchins, president of the junior class.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra. The address of the evening will be given by Dr. Samuel W. Grafflin, Y. M. C. A. of New York City. The presentation of the diplomas will be made by William A. Donaghy, president of the Palmyra Board of Education and the Rev. J. William Lee, Pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra, will give the benediction.

The class motto is "Non est vivere sed valere vita." Class colors, blue and gold, and class flower, the red rose.

AN OPEN LETTER

Riverton, N. J.
June 1, 1927.

To the Editor of The New Era, and Citizens of Riverton:

Having served in the capacity of councilman or mayor for fifteen years, I cannot help but appreciate the importance of the Primary Election to be held on Tuesday, June 21st. I have seen the Borough grow and expand and know the necessity for keeping pace with the requirements imposed by the State and County not to mention the improvements which are constantly required and thrust upon us. It is necessary for us to go forward, but vitally important that we should do it in a constructive and conservative way. Without careful consideration of the expenditures which may be necessary, we can easily develop a debt and high tax rate which it will take years to liquidate and lack of proper management at the present time will leave a burden upon the future generations for which we may be responsible.

We are about to choose a mayor and two councilmen for the Borough, which is even more important at the present time than it used to be because of increasing obligations, increased receipts and expenditures.

By analogy with the ordinary busines corporation, we are choosing a president and two members of the Board of Directors. The president being the executive officer, and directors with power to over-ride him with their control of the board. It is therefore equally important not only to choose a mayor qualified by experience and ability, but also councilmen likewise qualified by experience and ability to manage the affairs of a large corporation; and to use judgment that will be necessary to cope with the problems that we are sure to have in the next few years.

The ratable or assessed value of the property in Riverton is now about $3,000,000.00, which means that about $120,000.00 is raised by taxation of which $50,000.00 is for Borough purposes, besides the other revenues of the Borough in the nature of franchise taxes, etc.

Only a short time ago, as time may be considered in connection with municipal affairs, the entire budget of Riverton was less than $15,000.00; and by comparison, looking forward instead of backward; it may be likewise only a short time before the budget will be $100,000.00, and it therefore becomes necessary to conserve our resources and our taxing power so that no expenditures shall be made except for conservative progress and development.

In choosing officers corresponding to the president and directors of a corporation we should not for a moment give any weight to political ambition, but to business ability and experience in handling corporate affairs.

Appreciating the importance of having such a man as mayor and as members of council. I want you to know that I believe Howard M. Rogers for mayor, and Henry L. Randall and Joshua S. Bartley for council are not only qualified by experience and ability, but eminently fitted for the office for which they have been nominated.

Mr. Rogers is at the head of a successful corporation; has proven himself a diplomatic executive, and is qualified to conduct a successful business.

Mr. Randall has likewise for sometime been the head of a large organization, and is now president of the Riverside Metal Company. Mr. Bartley is connected in an executive way with one of the largest corporations in this country and has already had several years' experience as counciliman and chairman of the Finance Committee. This speaks volumes for Mr. Bartley's conduct of the finances of the Borough; for while most taxes have elsewhere increased, the taxes in the Borough of Riverton have decreased under his able management.

We are extremely fortunate in having three such citizens who are willing to serve for mayor and council. These men deserve your support, and if you are interested in a truly business administration in the best interest of our local government, I sincerely hope every citizen will indicate it by voting at the coming primary.

There is frequently an utter lack of interest in choosing candidates at a primary election, but in this instance the primary election is really a final election and your only opportunity for a choice of candidates.

Sincerely yours,
KILLAM E. BENNETT.

CAMP 23

Twenty-three Members Initiated at Monday Night Meeting

Camp 23 held another interesting meeting on Monday night which was largely attended and showed much enthusiasm.

One of the features of the meeting was another large class of twenty-three new members initiated. The Camp is greatly pleased with the interest taken in the effort to again reach the one thousand mark and it can be done with a continuation this month of that effort and the assistance of all our members.

We are now within reach of our goal and the cooperation of our members at this time will land us big winners.

LET'S ALL HELP!

On Monday next, June 13th, the Camp will hold a New Members Night at which time they will entertain those new members taken in since March 1st. A large attendance is expected. This includes all members of the Camp.

The Entertainment Committee under the direction of Edwin A. Griscom will look after the refreshments in their usual effective manner.

RIVERTON RED CROSS GIVES $1461 TO FLOOD SUFFERERS

REV. OWENS SPEAKS

Moorestown Pastor Addresses Burlington Kiwanians

The Rev. Marshall Owens, pastor of the Moorestown Methodist Church and one of the most able men of the New Jersey Methodist Episcopal Conference, was the speaker at the weekly dinner-meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at noon. Mr. Owens told of a trip that he took through the Holy Land.

Mr. Owens formerly was the pastor of the Broad Street M. E. Church, Burlington. He has many friends there. The pastor is the possessor of one of the finest Bible collections in the United States. The Bible represent many countries and all ages.

Riverton PTA Has Successful Year

Membership Increased and Many Activities Fostered; Officers Elected

The Riverton Parent-Teacher Association activities for the year 1926-1927 consisted of:

9 executive board meetings
6 afternoon meetings
2 evening meetings

There are 257 paid up members. Of these 143 are mothers, 7 are teachers, 89 are fathers, 18 are life members.

The October meeting was an evening reception given to the teachers which was well attended by both mothers and fathers. Senator Emmor Roberts was the principal speaker of the evening.

The December meeting was given over to the children's Christmas entertainments. The P. T. A. furnished baskets which were filled by the children with food stuffs and clothing as Christmas cheer to poor families. A collection was also taken at this meeting for the Visiting Nurse Association. Because of the necessity of reducing the size of the school auditorium the meeting was divided into two sessions, morning and afternoon. As a treat to the children the P. T. A. gave the upper grades Dixie Cups and the lower grades apples and oranges.

The March meeting was our Fathers' Night, anad was a great success. Over two hundred parents attended, more than half of whom were fathers.

The April meeting was "Talent Day." The idea was to have every member take part by displaying a talent of some kind. Some furnished a very interesting and enjoyable program, while others contributed hand work of various kinds and many good things to eat. The hand work and food stuffs were sold from which was realized over $50.

The May meeting will be the final reports of committees and the election of officers.

During the year the association served milk to the class rooms during the morning recess to those wishing it, and furnishing it where it was needed and the children were unable to buy it.

Pictures were given to the grades having the highest percentage of mothers present at the monthly meetings.

The association contributed toward victrolas given to rural schools under the county work, mimeograph for the county, the National Birthday, Riverton Library, scholarship fund, and other worthy causes.

The By-Laws were revised during the year.

Mrs. Alfred Roberts, our state vice president, addressed one of our meetings, and we had other outside speakers.

Every meeting was announced by printed publicity, which proved to be very successful.

Plans are being carried forward for a savings system in the school, and we are trying to establish a student loan fund through our Life Membership dues.

The State Convention, Southern Council, the County Council Meetings, and neighboring association meetings were attended by the President and other members.

In every way possible we are endeavoring to advance the educational interests of the children by the co-operation of the parents and the teachers.

Respectfully submitted,
ESTELLA A. MAYFIELD,
Pres.

The above report was submitted to the county council and read at the last business meeting of the local association.

At the final meetings the report of officers and chairman of committees were submitted to the association.

The election resulted in the following members being chosen for office:

Mrs. Frederick Blair, President.
Miss Hannah Chew, First Vice-president.
Mrs. C. P. Mayfield, Second Vice-president.
Mrs. Everett Wolcott, Secretary.
Mrs. H. K. Rutherford, Treasurer.

BOYS SCATTER HARDWARE

A group of boys have been "having fun" at the new Presbyterian church which is in course of construction, to the great annoyance of the contractor and his workmen. Parents have been complained to with no savil. The last prank consisted of opening boxes containing hardware supplies and strewing them about the building. Monday night the young offenders had session with Recorder Troth. No legal action was taken, the contractor and church officials being satisfied with the assurance given that they would not be molested in the future.

Borough Lives Up to Reputation for Generosity in Time of Distress

MRS. J. DOUGLAS CLARK CHAIRMAN OF ROLL CALL

At a meeting of the Executive Board of the Riverton Branch of the American Red Cross held Monday, June 6, at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Alexander Marcy, the first business discussed concerned the money raised for the Mississippi flood sufferers. The original quota for Riverton was $700, later doubled as the distress from the flood increased. An idea of the splendid response made by the people and organizations in Riverton may be had from the following report from the Treasurer, Mrs. J. Carl DeLatour:

Boy Scouts' canvass	$409.03
Colored Baptist Church	6.25
Fortnightly Reading Club	5.00
Golden Hour	12.50
Ladies Aid Society Presbyterian Church	3.00
Polly Anna Sewing Circle	25.00
Riverton Public School, Junior Section Red Cross	41.00
Riverton Porch Club	25.00
Rotary Club	50.00
Westfield School	55.00
Women's Missionary Society Presbyterian Church	15.00
People of Riverton, individually	814.22

This makes a total of $1461.00 which the Executive Board of the local branch gratefully acknowledges on behalf of the American Red Cross.

In addition to the money raised for the flood, there has been assembled by Miss Elizabeth B. Campbell, chairman of production, materials for filling our quota of the Christmas bags which the Red Cross distributes each year to the sailors of the United States Navy.

Plans for the annual roll-call in November were also discussed and Mrs. J. Douglas Clark, chairman of membership, announced Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., Mrs. Charles Yost, Mrs. Ralph Flower, Mrs. Joseph Morgan as her committee.

FLOWER SHOW

Many Prizes Awarded In Annual Event at Porch Club

The doors of the Riverton Porch Club opened Tuesday, June 7th, to exhibit the beautiful flowers grown by the citizens of the town. The display, which included all the outdoor growth of the season, seemed a veritable bower. The fine specimens, arranged in fascinating bowls and baskets, were models of beauty. In the background, although not subject to prizes, were shown masses of peonies, iris, roses etc., which were sent in by Henry A. Dreer, Inc.

The exhibit was arranged in eight classes as follows:

Class I Roses
a. pink
b. white
c. red
d. yellow
Class II Peonies
a. pink
b. white
c. red
Class III Iris
a. Germanica
b. Orientals
c. Sibirica
Class IV Arrangement of Cultivated Flowers
a. basket
b. bowl
c. vase
Class V Greatest variety from one garden
Class VI Arrangement by children
a. over 12
b. under 12
Class VII Wild Flowers
Class VIII Home Grown Vegetables

First, second and third prizes were awarded in each class. The following are the names of those who received first prizes: Mrs. Jacob Eisele, Mrs. Joseph Beck Tyler, Mrs. Joseph J. Biddall, Mrs. B. S. Mechling, Mrs. Murray C. Boyer, Miss Julia Lane, Miss Edith Coale, Elizabeth Woolman, Andrea Van Steenberg and Homer Johnson.

The judges for the Flower Show were Mrs. Henry C. Parrish and Mr. William Taplin.

The committee in charge were: Mrs. H. McIlvain Biddle, Mrs. Harry L. Rogers, Mrs. J. Douglas Clark, Miss Edith Coale, Miss Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. G. Singleton Mears, Mrs. William A. Hendrickson, Miss Beulah A. Parry, and Mrs. Joseph Beck Tyler as chairman.

PALMYRA LIONS

Interesting Talk on "Lionism" Features Meeting

The Lions of Palmyra and Riverton enjoyed a very interesting talk on "Lionism" last Tuesday evening by Lion L. D. Horner, an officer of the Camden Lions Club. Lion Horner also outlined the activities of the State Convention and said it was the most interesting convention he ever attended.

Merle B. Schaff was conducted into membership as the latest "cub" and Lion Frank A. Kates had as his guest Carl P. Hurlock.

Election will be held next Tuesday night and 100% attendance is requested.

WHOSE DOG?

Last Sunday night Director of Public Safety Williams, discovered a fine dog running the streets in Riverton. The animal was part shepherd and part collie, and from his well-kept appearance evidently belonged to someone who prized him highly. Instead of a collar he wore a "harness" to which was attached several feet of rope. The dog is being cared for by the police department until the owner can be found.

Go easy on the man with an axe to grind. He made civilization.

State Police Report Activities of Week

Troopers of Columbus Station Continue Relentless Work Against Law Violators

The state police stationed at Columbus have had a busy week and have been kept going day and night making investigations and reports on the many complaints received by them, and incidentally have been very successful in following up clues of reckless driving and other delinquencies and arresting the offenders.

William Cramer, of Camden, reported that his Ford roadster had disappeared. Later it was found on the Pointville road near Camp Dix and returned to the owner. Trooper Doyle investigated this case.

Hugh O'Donnell and George Loveland, of Columbus, were drunk and annoying residents of Columbus, and they were arrested by Sergeant Haussling and Trooper Doyle and later were given four days each in the county jail by Recorder Kingdon, of Mount Holly.

Trooper Doyle charged Gabriel Morris, of Chesterfield, with reckless driving and he was fined $5 and costs by Recorder Kingdon.

Clifford Jobes, of Mount Holly, was charged with driving forty-seven miles an hour by Trooper Doyle and he paid a fine of $5 and costs assessed by Recorder Kingdon.

As the result of an accident on the Hightstown road, Newell Lenning, of Trenton, was arrested on a charge of reckless driving by Trooper Doyle and later paid a fine of $20 and costs when his case was heard by Recorder Chance, of Hamilton township, Mercer county. Lenning struck a car driven by Edward Downs, of Bordentown, and also wrecked a highway traffic beacon.

George Nixon, of Fieldsboro, was fined $10 and costs by Recorder Kingdon, after he had been in collision with a car belonging to Thomas R. Davis, of Hornell, N. Y. The arrest was made by Sergeant Haussling and the accident took place at the junction of the Smithville and Mount Holly roads.

Gertrude Minor, of Fieldsboro, was arrested on a disorderly charge by Trooper Doyle on complaint of Mary Taylor, of Pottery Row, Kinkora, and Gertrude paid a fine of $10 and costs when her case was heard by Justice Reese, of Roebling. Trooper Doyle made the arrest.

On Monday Trooper Brown arrested William Hale, of Hightstown, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly at Wrightstown. He was sentenced to thirty days in jail by Justice Remine, of Wrightstown.

George Ondo and Joseph Halque, of Trenton, staged a celebration all their own on the Columbus-Bordentown road on Monday with the result that the two men paid fines of $10 each after Recorder Chance, of Mercer Co. had heard their cases.

Lee Coughlin, of Philadelphia, was burning up the Mount Holly-Medford road at a fifty-five mile an hour rate on Wednesday when Trooper Leon hove in sight, and Justice Riley, of Medford, fined the young man $5 and cost.

P. S. EMPLOYES BUY

More than 10,500 of the regular 18,000 employes of the Public Service companies subscribed for 18,511 shares of the six per cent. cumulative preferred stock of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey in the twenty-fifth anniversary offer to employes which opened May 20 and closed yesterday. Taking into consideration the many employes who have subscribed for previous issues of Public Service stock it is estimated that three out of every four employes of Public Service are stockholders.

FLAG DAY—JUNE 14

Governor A. Harry Moore has suggested rousing Flag Day celebrations in all parts of New Jersey this year. His proclamation calls for a general display of the colors and the holding of appropriate celebrations throughout the state. The closing paragraph of his proclamation is as follows:

"June 14, 1927, will mark the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Our Flag, and this sesqui-centennial event in our history deserves general and public recognition."

GOLD BUTTONS

Seven Public Service Men Are Honored

Seven employes of the Public Service Railway and Transportation companies received gold buttons last month in recognition of having completed twenty-five years of continuous service with Public Service and predecessor companies. The men are:

William Sharp, Newark, who started his long term of service May 8, 1902 with the North Jersey Street Railway Company; he is an operator assigned to the Big Tree Carhouse, Newark.

Thomas Lantry, Camden, who started May 11, 1902 with the Camden and Suburban Railway; he is an operator in Camden.

John C. Moldenhauser, Union City, who started May 13, 1902 with the North Hudson County Railway Company; he is an operator in Union City.

James Nicholas, Maplewood, who started May 15, 1902 with the North Jersey Street Railway Company; he is depotmaster at Sixteenth Avenue carhouse, Newark.

Reaves Rudderow, who started May 25, 1902 with the Camden and Suburban Railway; he is a second fare inspector in Camden.

William Holzworth, Leonia, who started with the Riverside and Fort Lee Ferry Company May 2, 1902; he is a ferry boat pilot for the ferry company, a subsidiary of the Public Service.

James Smith, Camden, who started with the Camden and Suburban Railway May 25, 1902; he is an operator in Camden.

NEW THEATRE

$400,000 Walt Whitman Opened Last Week

With Senator Edwards and Congressman Wolverton and others as well known if not so prominent, lauding its builders and congratulating the large audience, the new $400,000 Walt Whitman Theatre, Burlington Pike and Cove Road, spread its lights upon its first gathering Wednesday night of last week. Flowers and applause for the builders and owners, Joseph Varbalow his brothers and other associates, had a prominent place among the features that made it an evening long to be remembered.

The opening had been anxiously awaited by an interested and proud community, and to the residents of the nearby district who swarmed to the new show house, were added hundreds who came from Camden and greater distances.

To Pensauken township, it was an event of importance and a milestone in its progress; the most impressive milestone, probably, in its career. Officials of the township were prominent among the guests of the owners.

The opening had been timed to fall upon the 107th anniversary of the poet whose name the new show house bears.

New Jersey State Government Costs

Figures Show Forty-three Cent Jump Over 1925; Now $11.98 Per Citizen

The cost of running the New Jersey State government last year was $11.98 per resident, or just 43 cents more than the per capita cost in the preceding year.

The per capita indebtedness was increased to $15.76 last year from $14.80 in 1925. This probably was due to the fact that the total expenditures for all purposes during 1926 was $4,951,697 in excess of the total revenue and it was, therefore, necessary to meet this deficiency from the proceeds of debt obligations.

Total expenditures by the state for all purposes last year amounted to $73,566,902. Of this sum $43,277,237 was spent for the maintenance departments of the state government, $16,310,928 representing apportionments for education to the minor civil divisions of the state. Interest on the public debt amounted to $2,754,156 while outlays for permanent improvements totalled $27,535,509.

New Jersey spent $30,229,334 for highways, $6,481,799 for construction.

The per capita cost of running the government was less in New Jersey than in New York state. The per capita cost in the Empire State, while reduced $2.95 from 1925, was $12.01 as compared with $11.98 for New Jersey.

Comparable figures for 1926 are not yet avaible, but in 1925 the per capita government cost in Pennsylvania was $8.04.

Total receipts for New Jersey last year were $68,615,205, or $18.85 per capita. This was $22,583,812 more than total payments of the year, exclusive of payments for permanent improvements, but $4,951,697 less than the total payments for all purposes. Property taxes represented 62.7 per cent. of the total revenue, the per capita property and special taxes being $11.81.

Receipts from business licenses, consisting chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies, constituted a fair proportion of the total revenue and when taken with taxes on motor vehicles and amounts paid for hunting and fishing licenses, amounted to 19.7 per cent. of the total revenue.

The net indebtedness of the state, funded or fixed debt less sinking fund assets, was $57,350,885.

For 1926 the assessed valuation of property in New Jersey subjects to ad valorem taxation was $5,771,603,846; the amount of state taxes levied was $32,779,872; and the per capita levy, $9.01. In 1925 the per capita levy was $9.29.

"PREACHER BILLY"

Burlington Blacksmith Ordained By N. J. Christian Conference

Billy Young, of Stacy street, Burlington, the blacksmith evangelist, is now a full-fledged preacher. He was ordained by the New Jersey Christian Conference in the Christian Church, Bridgeboro, last week, and is now entitled to the prefix "Rev." The ordination work was done by Rev. William H. Mainer, of Newark.

There was a musical program in connection with the ordination. Mrs. Mildred Young, Wesley Young, all of Burlington and Miss Lila Chambers, of Moorestown, sang. Delegations came from several towns where the blacksmith evangelist has had revivals.

Billy is a candidate for one of the Freeholder jobs at the County primaries.

GAME GAINS

New Jersey Census Shows Hunting and Fishing Increases

Game census figures for 1925 compiled by the New Jersey State Board of Fish and Game Commissioners discloses that 29 1-2 per cent. of the licensed sportsmen made no report of their hunting and fishing activities that year. Of the remainder, 34 1-2 per cent. brought in bags and creels with a total food value of close to one million dollars and 26 reported that they used a rod and gun without reward.

The kill of pheasants, rabbits and trout for the year 1925 shows an increase over 1924 of 11,597, 58,875 and 17,025, respectively.

Burlington Man Slashes Throat

Worry Over Illness Causes Peter L. Vandegrift to End His Life

Suffering from temporary dementia caused by worry over illness, Peter L. Vandegrift, one of the best known and most highly esteemed residents of Burlington, went into the bathroom of his home, Wednesday morning of last week, at 239 East Pearl street, drew a razor across his throat, and in less than fifteen minutes was dead.

Mr. Vandegrift had not been well for two years. As a matter of fact, his despondency dated from the death of his wife on April 28, 1922. In 1902 Mr. Vandegrift had had an operation in which his left arm was removed, and recently he has feared a recurrence of the trouble which necessitated surgical treatment. He brooded considerably despite the fact that Dr. William E. Rink, his physician, assured him there was no ground for worry.

Many times during the past two years Mr. Vandegrift has threatened to end his life, and while the members of the family were much shocked when the dreadful moment came, they were not greatly surprised.

Mr. Vandegrift, who was seventy-five years old on March 29, was born in Burlington and always had lived there. He was the son of Joseph B. Vandegrift, of Burlington, and Mary Lamaselle, of Bordeaux, France. His wife, previous to her marriage, was Miss Mary E. Brown, of Richmond, Virginia. He is survived by an only son, William B. Vandegrift.

The deceased was in the ice business, as was his father before him. He retired a few years ago and the business was taken over by his son. He was a member of two organizations, Hope Lodge, No. 13, Knights of Pythias, and the Hope Fire Company, High and Pearl streets. He has been associated with the fire company for fifty years. At one time the deceased served as state food and dairy inspector.

Private funeral services were held on Tuesday.

DISCOVERS HUSBAND TO BE A BIGAMIST

Medford Woman Has Spouse Arrested at Pensauken After Surprise

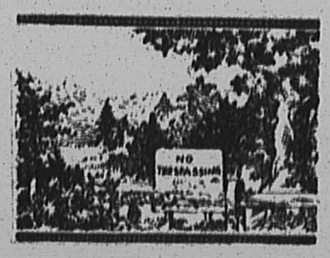

A pleasure ride through Pensauken, by Mrs. Bertha Mortland, of Medford, with some friends, proved the undoing of William Mortland, Jr., of Marlton, the woman's husband, for she discovered that Mortland was a bigamist.

As they passed a man trimming a hedge one of the party remarked: "Look, that is the Ritchie girl's husband." Mrs. Mortland No. 1 looked and discovered that it was her husband. The next day she called at the Pensauken house and accused the woman of the house with harboring her husband, and learned that the woman was not only harboring Mortland but was married to him.

Mrs. Mortland No. 1 then had her husband arrested on a charge of bigamy, which he did not deny, and he was placed in the Camden jail.

Mrs. Mortland No. 1 has a certificate showing that she was married to Mortland in Gibbsboro on June 7, 1924, and she has two children, a girl of two years and a boy nine months old, while Mrs. Mortland No. 2 produced a certificate showing that she became the man's wife at Franklinville in October of last year.

Prizes Are Awarded by P. H. S. Alumni

Doris Barber Wins With Essay on "What Constitutes a Good Time"

Some time ago the Palmyra High School Alumni Association offered a prize to the senior in the high school who did the most to promote athletics at Palmyra High. The winner was Harry Little, of Bridgeboro. A large cup, given to the school, was engraved with the winner's name and Little received a smaller cup for his own.

The Alumni Association also offered a cup for the best short story or essay from the following topics: "Habit, Our Best Friend," "What Constitutes a Good Time," and "Moral Influence of Moving Pictures." The winner of this cup was Miss Doris R. Barber, a freshman taking the classical course in the high school. John R. Lennon received honorable mention, his topic being "Habit, Our Best Friend."

WHAT CONSTITUTES A GOOD TIME
By Doris R. Barber

What constitutes a good time? Books have been written and much has been said about what constitutes a good time. Many have spent their entire lives searching for it, only to be disappointed. Like all good things, it has cheap imitations, with which some have been content, but when the real thing is found, it should be guarded and cherished like the jewel that it is; for, surely, to be a good time, it must satisfy, and bring lasting happiness.

We are all human, but all different. Pleasure for one is utter boredom for another. Age cannot appreciate the rollicking good times of youth, and those of age would prove very tiresome to youth.

Infancy desires only Mother. Youth demands beauty, music and animation, while Age is content only to be near the one who has understood and loved.

Let us consider what constitutes a good time for Youth; for one particular flapper, Miss 1927.

There is the dance. Youth must dance. It is as essential as breathing. It forms a natural outlet for all that surplus energy and bubbling joy of being alive. The lights, the girls' sparkling eyes and pretty faces, their dainty dresses, all represent beauty. Youth is carried away by the music and one forgets everything else. The blood tingles from the exertion and he, who is so big and yet so gentle, makes her smile happily.

Is this a good time? Yes, but—Enough! There should be no "buts." Again we must seek; still deeper.

It is dawn—grey dawn, and Miss 1927 is leaving the fair, sleeping town far behind. By her side is "That Old Pal of Hers," a shaggy dog, who thinks she is a queen in her old red sweater, shabby knickers and galoshes.

Soon they reach the open spaces. The sun is beginning to peep up from the fields, just beyond the Old Stand Pipes.

Spring has touched the trees and ground with her magic wand and the Girl and the Dog find themselves in Fairyland.

In a few minutes more, the sun continues its course across the rosy sky and the Dog and Girl make a dash for the "Letterbox." The Dog unhampered by heavy boots, could have beaten the girl easily in the race, but, unlike a human opponent he comes back and comes back, till in the end, they reach the big stone, together. From an inconspicuous hollow beneath this stone, the Girl takes a white piece of paper. The Dog cocks his head on one side as the Girl reads aloud the date of the previous day and this simple message, "Whistle if you are near us," signed with three familiar initials.

They follow the main trail of "Dead Man's Woods" to the end, loving the sweet, fresh, odor of the place. Once the Dog leaves the Girl. By the motion of his ears and tail, she knows that he has seen something. Investigation proves it only to be a long, fat, black snake, sleepy from its meal of a field mouse the night before. The natural desire of the Dog is to worry the odd creature, but this is overcome by his love for the Girl, who calls him away. Her will is his pleasure.

Returning, they keep to the edge of the wood. The air is heavy with the smell of apple blossoms. One dainty butterfly flits here and there, and overhead a lone hawk soars majestically about, lending a certain amount of solemnity by his presence.

The "Wishing Stone" is not far ahead, now. When they reach it, the Girl will seat herself for a moment and wish for "lasting happiness."

The minutes fly by. A walk would not be complete without a little time spent in "Paradise," so they cut diagonally across the orchard.

Did you ever smell the day, out there, when it is new—the damp earth, the bedewed grass and foliage, the blossoms, the violets? Ah! It is invigorating! Life giving!

A few minutes they rest in Paradise; beside them runs the "Laughing Brook," over their heads whisper the tall trees.

Golden notes arrest the Girl's attention. A few yards away, on a blackberry bush, with the sun shining on its glossy cinnamon colored coat, is perched a Brown Thrasher. Sweet liquid tones issue from the trembling little throat. The songster is proclaiming to the World the fact that a sweet little brown lady-bird counted four speckled eggs in the nest this morning.

Homeward bound — wind-blown, rosy, and happy. She has seen matchless beauty and heard incomparable music, which will often flash before her inward eye and touch her very soul.

Stop! Seek no farther. A good time has been found, which will not be easily forgotten by Miss 1927.

Colored Man Held as Hit-Run Driver

Cecil Brown, of East Riverton, Strikes Car of Riverside Doctor

Cecil Brown, colored, of East Riverton, was fined $100.00 for being a hit-run driver and was held under $250.00 bail for court in striking a car at Broad and Market streets, Palmyra, Saturday night.

The car, a Hudson sedan, was driven by Dr. Russell D. Geary, of 337 Bridgeboro street, Riverside. Brown was driving a Ford roadster and had three other colored passengers with him.

The accident occurred at about 8.20 at the Arch street station. Dr. Geary had just approached the station when Brown came tearing out of Market street. In order to try to avoid the crash, Dr. Geary swerved out into the trolley tracks but Brown followed him and forced his sedan into the railroad tracks. Before Geary brought his automobile to a stop, he had travelled for the distance of a block in the railroad tracks. Instead of staying to find out the extent of the injuries or damage done, Brown made a get-away.

Chief of Police Beck, of Palmyra, sent Officer Lawrence Betty after Brown. Brown was brought back and locked up in Palmyra. When arrested Brown was found to be wearing a suit of clothes that he had stolen from the home of Theodore Patterson, of Union Landing, on Tuesday, May 21, while the Patterson family was absent. Brown was also held in $200.00 bail on this charge.

Both Dr. Geary's and Brown's cars were damaged considerably. Mrs. Geary was injured, but was somewhat better Monday morning.

The car Brown was driving was not paid for and this was not the first offense for him. He had been arrested by Chief Beck for stealing tires from a car at Union Road belonging to a West Palmyra man, but the owner did not press the charge. Brown was arrested in Riverton for larceny and not long ago was in another accident in Merchantville which he tried to run away from.

Brown could not pay his fine or bail, so he was sent to the County Jail.

When Luther Burbank decided to destroy his old letters, it was discovered that he had accumulated $5,000.

WINS HONORS

Miss Rennie Wins First Honors in Dramatic School

Miss Isobel Rennie, of Burlington Pike, Cinnaminson, was graduated with first honors from the National School of Elocution and Oratory, Philadelphia, in the commencement exercises held in the school Saturday night.

Miss Dora Adele Shoemaker, principle of the school, declared that Miss Rennie proved herself throughout the year to be the best in her class in general work. Miss Shoemaker especially praised Miss Rennie's delivery of the one-act sketch, "His Japanese Wife," which the young student gave as her final recital last Monday night.

Miss Rennie has appeared in numerous comedies in the riverfront towns. She is a member of the Associated Players of Riverside, a semi-professional stock company, which gave "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" through the riverfront during the past season. As an eccentric old lady, Miss Rennie was seen in the Riverside Kiwanis Follies of 1927. The young woman was also member of the cast of "The Patsy," given by the Camden Players during their short stay at the Temple Theatre, Camden.

THE GROWTH OF THIS RESORT IS THE TALK OF THE SEASHORE!

BRANT BEACH

"THE GEM OF THE OCEAN FRONT"

In twelve months has become the most quickly popularized and populated sea coast development in recent years.

The public has come to realize what this company visualized when in 1926 it laid out the most beautifully located town site on the New Jersey coast. And to the public has come the knowledge that there is only one Brant Beach, where ocean and bay offer such combined attractions of real seashore atmosphere, scenery and sports, and where homes may be safely built with restrictions to protect these advantages.

Every promise of this company to investors has been more than fulfilled. The company takes this opportunity to express to its investors its appreciation of their own interest and enthusiasm which has been one factor in bringing about great public improvements, creation of which was beyond the realm of the company, itself. And this same enthusiasm, daily bringing new friends to inspect Brant Beach, is adding fresh impetus to the growth and success of the resort.

IN ONE YEAR

Brant Beach can boast of more progress than any older resort on the coast can record in a decade. In its new development, a mile of ocean front land has been transformed into a community that can offer practically every modern advantage to the summer home seeker without losing any of the attraction of the real seashore. Here is an unequalled record of progress inscribed on its first milestone:

A new Ocean Boulevard. Wide, graded and graveled streets.

Extension by the State of New Jersey of its great Inland Waterway right along the bay front of Brant Beach, with dredging now in progress, a wonderful boon to lovers of boating and aquatic sports.

New hotel built and soon to be opened under efficient management.

Fine summer homes built and others under contract.

Electricity for light and cooking at low rates now available.

Artesian water mains the length of Bay Boulevard and contracts awarded for extension to lateral streets.

Telephone service.

Beautiful shade trees planted on all completed streets.

Extension of local and Atlantic City bus service. Opening of a new speed bus line to Philadelphia.

A STATEMENT FROM THE OWNERS

The Brant Beach Realty Company, owners and creators of the modern development of Brant Beach and backers of its splendid progress announce that they have placed the direction of sales, this year, in the hands of the Ocean Realty Company. Charles B. Darborow, of Riverton and Philadelphia, is president of both companies.

The management pledges continued development along the most modern and attractive lines and with wise restrictions safe-guarding every buyer in this development. Contracts to complete the grading of the ocean front and to begin the filling and development of the beautiful bay side of the resort are well under way. . . . The company that has made this development both possible and successful is marketing it under management that will uphold its promises and ideals, both in spirit and letter, thus assuring to present owners and to future investors a strong program of growth and increasing values.

This company owns and controls all but a small fraction of land under development in the entire resort of Brant Beach. ITS SALES ARE HANDLED THIS YEAR ONLY THROUGH THE OCEAN REALTY COMPANY AND ITS ACCREDITED REPRESENTATIVES.

Whether you are looking for the site for a seashore summer home or for a safe and profitable investment, Brant Beach is the answer. Today's prices are low for such development and the terms are very reasonable. Bankers, lawyers, noted physicians and prominent business men now own property in Brant Beach. Ask any of them what they think of this resort and its future.

Then ask us by phone or mail for further information on what Brant Beach can offer you as an investor today and for details of our free inspection tours for guests.

Plan to Visit Beautiful BRANT BEACH

Before the summer is much older, turn your automobile to the scenic trail across "The Plains," down to old Barnegat and thence to the resort that is becoming the beauty spot of the coast.

"The Lure of Long Beach" has been told in song and story. It "gets you" after you have spent a day or two on this delightful island. Here is the real seashore at its best, with the finest of fishing, bathing, boating and in season wild fowl hunting. Someone has called it "the island of golden dawns, glorious sunshine and star-spangled sunsets."

Nature has made it the most attractive island on the coast. Man, having built good roads to make it more accessible, is adding just those touches needed to complete at Brant Beach the picture of the ideal Summer-home-land-by-the-sea.

Brant Beach is now one of the nearest points along the seashore to the Philadelphia metropolitan area. The State's new road program will further shorten the distance by at least ten miles.

"ONE VOTE"

Marcus Morton was elected governor of Massachusetts in 1840 by only one vote. In 1852, Virginia discussed a plan to do away with slavery in that State and colonize the negro. It passed in the House by a good majority; it lost in the Senate by one vote. Had that been passed it might have changed the history of the world.

Over twenty-five millions of voters had not enough interest in political and social issues to go to the polls to vote, in the election of 1916. In that year, Hughes was defeated for President by such tiny majorities in several states that for a time, the vote was in doubt. Had a couple of thousand of the slackers in California gone to the polls, the electoral vote of California, a nominally republican state electing Hiram Johnson by over 200,000 purality, might have given us a republican president. To think that we have a state of affairs where out of fifty-two millions of voters, only twenty-seven millions take the trouble to vote.

The church, the school, the educative forces of America must assist to better this condition. It may be that the other twenty-five million would not have voted much differently in the ratio but they should at least vote. The apathy is the danger. The indifference is the social menace.

Frank T. Kent says, in "Nation's Business":

"* * * The thing can be summed up in the single statement that in every community the weakness of government and the power and evil of political machines are exactly equal to the inertia, indifference and inactivity of the intelligent people of that community to the primaries.

"It isn't worth while to say that 'nothing can be done,' or that 'It makes na difference, for the politicians will run things anyhow.' That is silly."

In Burlington county this year voters who are interested in clean politics, law enforcement and efficiency in the legislature have an opportunity to return to the Senate a man who stands for all these things—Senator Emmor Roberts—a man of unquestioned integrity, a splendid record, and valuable experience.

And remember—all the good wishes in the world will not count as much as one ballot in the box!

THE UNANSWERED QUESTION

At a meeting held in Moorestown three weeks ago under the direction of the League of Women Voters to hear from the various candidates, Ex-Judge Harold B. Wells, campaign manager for Emmor Roberts who is candidate or re-election to the Senate, asked a question to which no answer has been given.

The Judge said: "Is there any reason why Senator Roberts should be retired at this time?"

The supporters of Senator Roberts claim that this very pertinent query remains unanswered because no good reason for asking the Senator to step down at this time exists, while, on the other hand, there are many very good reasons why he should be retained in the office where he has rendered such splendid service.

They meet the claim that "he has served long enough" by pointing out that his experience in the Senate is a most valuable asset to a legislator, and to the fact that a majority of the members of the State Senate have served as long or longer than has Senator Roberts.

It is not the practice of other counties to dismiss Senators who have been rendering faithful and satisfactory service, and the friends of Senator Roberts ask, with unanswerable logic, "Where in business, or in any other human activity where common sense rules, is an honest, efficient and successful man turned out, simply because another man aspires to his place?"

THE FIGHT FOR ASSEMBLYMAN

In the heat of the campaign for State Senator, an office only second in importance—that of Assemblyman, has all but been overlooked. There are two aspirants for this office—Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb of Browns Mills, medical director of the County Tuberculosis Sanitorium at Fairview, and George W. Rogers, of Palmyra.

Dr. Newcomb will bring a trained mind and much executive ability to the office of Assemblyman if elected. When he was elected medical director of the Sanitorium in 1919, there were four patients, and the cost of running the institution was $12,000 a year.

In 1926, due to the amount of money ($28,454.20) collected from patients and the State and paid to the county treasurer, it cost the taxpayers only $13,497.99, with an average of 46 patients per day.

Dr. Newcomb is fearless and conscientious in the performance of his public duties, and is of the calibre to make a good Assemblyman.

He is opposed by George W. Rogers, who served as a member of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, and was twice subsequently defeated in his efforts to return to the board "on his record." A man whom the voters of Burlington county have twice refused to return to a county office is now asking at their hands elevation to a State office.

WHY FARMERS FAVOR RETURN OF ROBERTS

BECAUSE Burlington County is a great agricultural county—the largest in the State, and one of the leading agricultural counties in the United States.

BECAUSE there are 36 LAWYERS in the Legislature, and only 5 FARMERS.

BECAUSE Emmor Roberts is a farmer — depending entirely upon farming for his livelihood.

BECAUSE he is chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, and has been every year but one during his membership in the Legislature.

BECAUSE he is the father of the following laws affecting agriculture:

New Jersey Seed Law—protects farmers in the purchase of seed by requiring statement of purity and germination analysis.

New Jersey Nursery Tree Law—protects farmers in purchase of fruit trees by requiring that they be true to name.

Providing for bonding and licensing of retail milk dealers.

Law putting teeth in Milk Act and making it enforceable, thereby protecting both the consumer and producer of milk.

Standardization of farm products.

Extension of Civil Service to include employes in Department of Agriculture.

Law providing for sale of dry commodities by weight—interest of honest sales.

BECAUSE he has protected the farmers as taxpayers.

Introduced the Open Specification Bill—in interest of honesty and economy in spending of Highway funds by requiring open competitive bidding.

Introduced the new law protecting taxpayers from increase in salaries by County Officers.

Opposed most salary increase measures.

Secured financing of program that drove gypsy moth from New Jersey, thereby saving New Jersey from an insect that had cost Massachusetts $20,000,000.

Opposed Tax Exemption Measure, which if enacted would place a greater burden on the farmers.

Is working hard for the distribution of State School funds on basis of teachers employed and days attendance, rather than on basis of ratables, as at present.

He was a leader in the fight to prevent Federal Embargo on Japanese Beetle section.

BECAUSE he has stood for good roads.

Secured $80,000 State aid for County roads of Burlington county in addition to the State's regular allotment.

Secured passage of law permitting Burlington county to finance building of 80 miles of permanent county roads.

Secured amendment to the State Highway System by adding Burlington County routes.

BECAUSE Senator Roberts as Chairman of the Committee on Agriculture, together with Senator Agans, Master of the New Jersey State Grange, and member of the Commitee on Agriculure, has borne the brunt of the farmers' problems at Trenton for more than ten years.

Senator Roberts is a former member of the Burlington County Board of Agriculture, and a former President of the Horticultural Society, and was elected honorary member of the E. B. Vorhees Society because of his contribution to agriculture in New Jersey.

Editor The New Era:

It is quite apparent that a deolded indifference is shown in the manner in which people allow their children to willfully destroy valuable property and it is quite necessary to hereby give notice, that should the culprits be caught, who are responsible for the mutilating of trees and bushes on my property, on the corner of Midway and Elm streets they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

I also wish it to be known that the individual who took the privilege of removing top soil, without even being decent enough to ask for it, is known to me.

It would appear that it is anyone's privilege to use this piece of property as a dumping ground as well.

As there is a limit to patience, it becomes necessary to warn those who are without principle or indifferent to the value of other people's property. On this plot of ground, over forty beautiful rose bushes were taken last year, and at the present rate I will not be surprised if someone does not attempt to take the Pergola.

Very truly yours,
T. B. HAYWARD.

COMBINED FIREWORKS

Editor of The New Era:

I was very much interested in the proposition published in your paper last week to have your town and my town pool the money for fireworks for one big grand display instead of two smaller ones.

I hope the Fourth of July Committees of the two towns will be able to work it out so that we can try this plan for one year at least.

PALMYRA CITIZEN.

FORD ON PUNISHMENT

Henry Ford, in an interview with Norman Beasley in the current issue of Collier's Weekly, declares he is unarterably opposed to capital punishment for convicted murderers.

"I believe in punishment, a whipping if necessary," he says, "but I do not believe in executing anyone. Capital punishment isn't the solution for murder. If we must have a hangman, we cannot say that 'our state killed a man.' We must say, 'You and I killed him.'

"Everyone shares the moral responsibility for every condition to which he consents. Also, that which the state considers proper to do every citizen of the state should stand willing to do. We cannot rid ourselves of the responsibility of killing a man by merely passing the job into the hands of a paid executioner.

"The Mosiac law of a 'life for a life' is an excellent rule, but it does not mean 'a death for a death.' If a man murders and is executed, we have a situation by which everyone loses. The murderer should be made to pay back his debt to his victim's family through supporting that family, to pay back his debt to society, to pay back his debt to himself through work."

Mr. Ford went on to say that there is no crime problem in the United States. "Poverty, disease, unemployment—these are the real problems—Give people work to do and crime will disappear. Alongside every college there should be a factory. There should be an industry near every school so that the student will be able to learn through the hand and arm as well as the eyes and ears.

"I have many ex-convicts working for me, but they are not criminals. Idleness and booze got them into trouble. Steady work, regular living, and economic opportunity straightened them up."

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

"GREENS"

At this wonderful spring season, tender plants are springing up everywhere. Our ancestors, those long-lived fellows, welcomed the springtime that brought the "wild greens." The home-cured bacon made ideal seasoning for them; in food-values they were one hundred per cent. Young, tender plants are rich in vitamines, readily adaptable to the human system. Necessary minerals for blood-making are here to be taken, not as medicine, but as palatable, satisfying food. If we only could realize all that Mother Nature does for us, and how human greed is striving to take over her processes and sell the manufactured stuff as a better article—for cash!

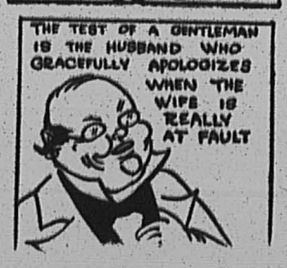

"Greens" are within reach of everyone. Our gardens are better than ever before; let's not ignore the fragrant spring onion. Why can't Dame Fashion decree that, only select circles can afford the exquisite "onion-breath"—and note her devotees in the rush to acquire one? In the country the fence-corners are literally alive with "dock," "dandelion" and other edible wild plants. Mustard, as grown in our back-lots, horse-radish tops, turnip-tops—O, there's no end of the health-giving diet, right from nature's pantry.

Brown breads, a minimum of meats, buttermilk, early strawberries, new string-beans, lettuce, cottage cheese, fresh eggs once daily, with plenty of pure drinking-water, with abundant out-door exercise in the way of useful employment—tell me, ye wise men, what's the idea of anybody getting sick?

I cannot think of any sub-acute or chronic condition that the above dietary, moderately indulged, can aggravate in the least. On the contrary, getting away from the tin can and the coprighted menu, is a blessing for which we cannot render enough thanks. Now laugh, you!

RIVERTON ITEMS

An attempt was made Monday night to break into the home of George D. Steedle while Mr. Steedle was attending a meeting of the Fire Company at the fire house. Mrs. Steedle telephoned to the fire house and all the members there assembled hastened to the rescue. The premises and the surrounding neighborhood was thoroughly searched, but no trace of the would-be intruder was found.

George Corner, Riverton deep sea diver, made an inspection of the bottom and the rudder of the ferry-boat Tacony for the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company Sunday afternoon, while the boat was tied up at the ferry terminus. While under the water he recovered many tools which had been lost when workmen were repairing the rudder of the boat, which broke last week.

Mrs. F. B. Elwell and children have gone to Connecticut for the summer.

Jeremiah "Daddy" Lautz celebrated his eightieth birthday on Tuesday. Mr. Lautz has been a familiar figure in Riverton for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Smith, of Gloucester, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sauers on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton B. Woolston entertained at dinner last Thursday evening in honor of Miss Ethel Mongeau, of Montreal, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeGraw are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son on Monday, June 6th.

Miss Mary Morrow and niece, Miss Rebecca White, will sail from New York on the S. S. Cameronia on June 11th, to visit relatives in Ireland.

Mrs. G. W. Smith, Jr., of Cleveland, has been visiting Mrs. R. V. Townend in Newark, Delaware, for ten days. Both were former residents of Riverton.

VANDALISM!

For several months someone has been destroying the trees and shrubbery on the T. B. Hayward property at Midway and Elm Terrace, Riverton. One of the trees is said to have been worth $800. After putting up with this annoyance for a long time, Mr. Hayward finally decided that patience has ceased to be a virtue and reported the matter to the police department.

SERVICE AND DEALER

"The successful automobile dealer today must concentrate on the requirements of operation and maintenance even more than upon car sales," is the way Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company, expresses his "slant" on the changing conditions in the field of automotive merchandising.

"The car registration anywhere today has reached figures that put squarely up to the car dealer the daily needs of the man who owns a car. And car buyers are increasingly conscious of the fact that merely buying a car does not always mean satisfactory daily automotive transportation.

"The car dealer who would grow must serve the man who has bought a car as well as the man who wants to buy one."

Thinking About a Car?

A chance to let someone else pay for the first depreciation. Essex coach, one year and nine months old, carefully driven, and properly serviced thruout its life.

Car has run only 18,000 miles and new motor installed six months ago has run only 3,000 miles. Goodyear service man estimates five tires will average 5,000 to 7,000 more miles. Complete 1927 insurance coverage goes with car which is fully equipped.

To anyone who would consider a used car if they could be sure of its history this car at $400 is a good buy. Car is being offered because owner is negotiating for larger car under conditions which do not permit trade-in.

Address letter to "ESSEX COACH," New Era Office, Riverton and full trial can be arranged.

BAPTIST CHURCH

All the services of Sunday will be in honor of "Children's Day." Beginning in the Bible School sessions at 10 a. m. the children will hold the center of interest.

At the morning service at 11.15 Pastor Lockett will preach a special sermon entitled "Lost or Found."

Because of the younger children taking part, the evening church service will commence at 7.30 instead of 7.45. This will be devoted to the annual Children's Day Program in charge of the Bible School. In addition to music by the Bible School, the program will include a short sketch, "As Unto Him," by girls of the Junior Department; a sacred pageant entitled, "June Blessings," by the Primary Department; and recitations and songs by the tinier tots of the Beginners and Cradle Roll Department.

In the pageant Weston Blaser will take the part of "Father Time," Helen Green will represent "June," and Helen McConnell will portray "Children's Day." The kiddies will appear as "Raindrops," "Sunbeams," "June Flowers" and "Children of Father Time," all easily recognized by their costumes.

If you enjoy seeing and hearing the messages of the children, come out on Sunday evening. Extra chairs will be provided. The offering will be added to the building fund.

The last rehearsal for the pageant will be held on Friday evening at seven.

This week the BYPU service has been changed to Friday evening at eight o'clock when the local society will have representatives from the Italian Mission, in Camden, as its guests. The meeting will be followed by a social. Any member of the BYPU will be glad to take your order for a cake to be ready on Saturday afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon, from 3 to 5 o'clock, the Primary Department "Party" will be held in the church basement. This is to be the biggest and best party yet and all the kiddies of the department are invited.

The "Mock Trial" which was announced by the Baruca Class for this Thursday has been postponed until next Thursday evening, June 16, by agreement of the "attorneys" and with the consent of the "judge."

The date for the Philathea Food Sale approaches. This will be on Saturday, June 25. Early orders should be placed by calling Riv. 258-W or Riv. 552-W.

"When our business is to do God's will, God will take care of our business."

Mr. Marshall will be buried from the Oliver Bair Funeral Home, 15th and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia, this Saturday, June 11, at 2 p. m. The remains may be viewed Friday after 6 p. m.

Mr. Marshall is survived by his widow, Anna, and three children.

Governor Moore Luncheon Guest

Praises Mothers and Urges Proper Training of Children

Governor Moore visited Mount Holly Tuesday of last week to be the guest of honor at the luncheon given by the League of Women Voters in the First Methodist Church. His presence was a fulfillment of a promise to attend the anniversary celebration of the League some months ago, at which time he was prevented from coming, by reason of sickness.

The luncheon was attended by about a hundred men and women of the county seat and the surrounding country and it was a highly enjoyable and successful affair. Mrs. Clifton E. Lord, president of the Women's League, acted as toastmaster and did it in her usual happy way.

After the gastronomic feature of the program, in which everybody semed to participate with zest, and presenting Miss Hale and Mrs. Custer, who bowed with acknowledgement, Mrs. Lord introduced Mrs. Abbey, the first president of the Women's League, who spoke feelingly and eloquently of the League in the days when the few noble women banded together for the beneficent purposes to which the organization was dedicated. She mentioned Mrs. Richard P. Holeman, Mrs. Charles H. Folwell, Sr., and Miss Priscilla Clothier, all since having crossed the great divide, to whom the League owed much of its success. Mrs. Abbey stressed service and good fellowship as the key-notes of the organization's mission in the field of work in which it is engaged. She expressed gratification at the good that it had been able to accomplish and confidence in its continuance in that sphere of usefulness in which it so long served the community.

Governor Moore was next introduced and proved to be in his usual good form as a public speaker. He prefaced the more serious part of his address with a number of anecdotes and then paid a beautiful tribute to the mothers, not forgetting to speak freely of what his own splendid mother had meant to him in fitting him for the battle of life and the responsibilities with which he was to be faced in later years. He also impressed on his hearers that the greatest asset to the country is to be found in its children—the men and women of tomorrow. Their health, spiritual well-being and opportunity were three points he dwelt upon, being well qualified to speak thereon by reason of the fact that for more than a quarter of a century he has been actively interested in the welfare of the children of his home city and is looked upon as the especial friend of the little folks. As director of Public Parks in his municipality, while serving as a City Commissioner, he did much to promote health and happiness of the youngsters but he only modestly referred to the part that he had been able to play in making the boys and girls of Jersey City better and healthier by reason of their opportunity in healthful sports and recreation in the city's playground.

The Governor said that it is not like coming among strangers when he visits Mount Holly for he has many friends there. At that moment, he saw in the gathering, several judges, prosecutors and other officials, some of whom, he added, were of his creation.

With the conclusion of the address by Governor Moore the luncheon came to an end, the guest of honor returning immediately to Trenton.

APPOINT COMMITTEES FOR BIG FIREMEN'S PARADE IN JULY

At a meeting of the Relief Fire Company of Mount Holly, committees were named to arrange for judges and prizes for the big firemen's parade that is to be part of the celebration of the company's 175th anniversary in July. The committee on judges is R. C. Tiger, Harry W. Kempte, and Thomas Randall; on prizes, John Throckmorton, Jr., Ralph Throckmorton and Raymond W. Sprow.

Another committee is named to arrange for serving lunch to the many visiting firemen on the day of the parade. It is composed of E. Walter Leonard, Randall Maser, George Frake and William Mincer.

Saturday, June 4, was fixed as tag day for raising funds to pay for prizes for the parade. The committee in charge of celebration week has received acceptances from 2 fire companies for the parade. Fifteen bands will accompany these companies.

IT HAS STARTED!

Friday evening of last week the Riverton police department had a hurry-up call to the riverbank by one of the residents who complained that a crowd of boys had come from across the river and were making use of the swimming beach clad in September Morn costumes. Officers Quigley and Carlson were detailed on the case but the boys, with that uncanny instinct which is so prevalent and so surprising in juveniles, scented danger and made a getaway.

Vacation season is here again. Have you done your Christmas shopping yet? Dad will know what we mean.

AT LAST—ONE FINAL AD

The editor of a country weekly remarked the other day as he held up a copy of his paper: "See that big advertisement of a 'closing-out' sale of hardware? I tried for years to get that firm to advertise, but it would not. Now it is advertising, but for a much different purpose. Its rivals have its business."—Kansas Editor.

HONORED

Palmyra High Student Gets Swarthmore Scholarship

Joseph L. Atkinson, a member of the 1926 graduating class at Palmyra High School, was one of the four men to receive the Swarthmore College Open Scholarship, as announced by Dr. Frank Aydelotte, president of Swarthmore College, at the fifty-fourth annual commencement exercises on Monday.

The scholarship pays $500.00 a year for four years and follows in general the provisions of the Rhodes Scholarship as to qualities of leadership, scholarship and physical vigor.

Atkinson entered the Friends' Central School, of Philadelphia, last fall after taking a post-graduate course at Palmyra High. Here he made a name for himself on the football field.

Atkinson was an all-around athlete at Palmyra, excelling on the gridiron. He also played baseball and basketball and was prominent on the cinderpath. Atkinson was a fast runner and a pole-vaulter of note. His athletic work at Palmyra was ultra-satisfactory.

OFFICER CARLSON MAKES 2 ARRESTS

Drunken Driver and Speeder Ensnared in Meshes of Law at Riverton

Officer John E. Carlson received a "tip" from a motorist passing through Riverton about 6.45 p. m. Tuesday that a car being driven by an intoxicated person was approaching the borough. The town's new officer waited for the car at Broad and Main streets where he took its three occupants into custody.

The driver, Joseph Metrow, 7208 Edmond street, Tacony, was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. M. Coddington who fined him $200.55 and revoked his license. Dr. Harry L. Rogers declared Metrow intoxicated.

In the car with Metrow was his mother and his grandfather.

Squire Coddington fined Bigger $10.50.

The new officer is in earnest about the violations of motor vehicle laws and is aiming to make Riverton a safe place for all drivers and pedestrians. Officer Carlson is "warring" against speeders and drivers who cut out of line, but he is not overlooking those whose lights are not in proper working order and other minor violations of the laws.

"Safe travel in Riverton means, driving slowly, staying in line, observing the boulevard stops and general cautiousness in the operation of your car," says Officer Carlson, "and I am drawing my salary to see that it is done."

CIVICS CLUB OUTING

Palmyra Pupils Enjoy Day at Riverview Beach

Fifty-nine members of the Franklin Civics Club of the Eighth grade of the Palmyra grammar school, were on an outing Saturday at Riverview Beach. Despite the inclement weather all the youngsters had a great time.

The expenses for this trip were paid from the proceeds of recent entertainments and bazaars.

ARRESTED AS INTOXICATED

William H. Bailey, of Parkside, Camden, was arrested Wednesday morning by Officer Nelson Wallace, of the Palmyra Police force. Bailey was found drunk, lying in the street at Broad and Arch streets, Palmyra. At the hearing before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter he was fined the costs of the trial and discharged.

Mrs. LINDA WEBB

Mrs. Linda Webb, colored, of Fifth and Market streets, Palmyra, died at the West Jersey Hospital, Monday. The funeral will be held today (Thursday) at one o'clock, from the Snover Funeral Home, East Broad street, Palmyra. Mrs. Webb is survived by her husband.

The Section has worked with interest and enthusiasm in whatever it undertook.

JAPANESE BEETLE LABORATORY NOTES

Items of Interest About the Men at the Entomological Station

H. C. Hallock has been transferred from the Japanese Beetle Laboratory at Riverton to a new substation at Westbury, Long Island for the purpose of conducting biological work on Anomale orientalis.

Dr. C. H. Kennedy, of Ohio State University, visited the Laboratory during the last week in May. Dr. Kennedy has been arranging for the transfer of the Wentzel collection of Coleoptera from Philadelphia to Columbus, Ohio.

The following men have joined the parasite project of the Japanese Beetle Laboratory: J. K. Holloway and M. C. Swingle of Columbus, Ohio; E. T. Lundberg of Storrs, Connecticut; and R. W. Burrell of Amherst, Massachusetts. Messrs. Holloway and Swingle, who have been doing graduate work at Ohio State University during the past year, have been at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory for several weeks. Mr. Lundberg, who graduates at Connecticut Agricultural College this year, and Mr. Burrell, who graduates at Massachusetts Agricultural College, will report for duty early in June.

J. L. King and H. W. Allen recently visited the Gypsy Moth Laboratory at Melrose Highlands and the Corn Borer Laboratory at Arlington, Massachusetts. While there they made a profitable study of the methods used in parasite work at these institutions. Dr. Allen spent a few hours examining type material of North American Tiphia in the collections of the Cambridge Museum of Cooperative Zoology as well as the Connecticut State collection at New Haven.

T. R. Gardner, who left Riverton early in May, has arrived at his station in Yokohama, Japan. He will continue collecting Popillia parasites in Japan, Chosen and, so far as conditions permit, in China.

Dr. Benjamin Porter, of Vincennes, Indiana, visited the Laboratory on May 26 and conferred with E. R. Van Leeuwen relative to codling moth investigations.

Max R. Osburn who recently completed his work at Ohio State University for an M. S. degree, has been appointed Field Assistant of the Bureau and assigned to beetle insecticide studies at Riverton, N. J. Mr. Osburn was formerly affiliated with the Ohio State Agricultural Experiment Station, at Wooster, Ohio.

E. R. Van Leeuwen recently conferred with the citizens of Langhorne, Pa., who are interested in the protection of their garden plants and shrubs from attacks of the Japanese beetle. Possible control measures were discussed.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

The coming Sunday, June 12th, will be one of the big days in our calendar for the year.

At eleven o'clock in the morning, we have our annual Children's Day exercises. There was a splendid attendance at the entertainment given one year ago, and the enthusiastic manner in which the Children's Day celebrations are attended is a great credit to the children who perform, to those who train them and to the parents who lend their encouragement and influence. This program will not be the least bit behind the programs of previous years. In connection with this service, our choir will render: "That Sweet Story of Old," by Rockwell.

There will be a baptismal service during the exercises of Children's Day. All those who have infants to be baptized should present them at the altar at that time. There will be no Sunday School session preceding the Children's Day program.

We are much pleased to announce that for the evening service, which is a celebration of the First Anniversary of the present pastorate, we shall have with us the Hillyard vocal and instrumental quartet. This quartet of outstanding musicians is known to Palmyra audiences, and to those of you who have heard them, they need no word of commendation in this writing. You will be there, if at all convenient. But to any who may not have had as yet an opportunity to enjoy a program given by this talented family of artists, we urge you to come. The Hillyards are not only exceptional in vocal music, but given an instrumental concert of the same high order, on the saw, bells, piano, harp, violin and flute. A program of such quality and variety should not be missed, when presented at our very doors. We welcome all. Our First Lutheran Choir, under the leadership of Lee Mitton, will render "Hark, Hark, My Soul" by Shelley.

The regular monthly meeting of the church council will be held in the Choir Room at eight o'clock Monday evening, June 13th.

Thursday evening, June 16th, we shall have our regular mid-week prayer service; the topic of the brief discussion will be "Peter, His Later Life and Works." No prayer service this evening.

On Thursday evening, June 30th, there will be a district Luther League Rally in our church, at eight o'clock in the evening. Further details of this rally will be published later.

Baking cakes around a hot stove in summer time is not at all pleasant. If any housewives in our vicinity would like to be relieved of that unpleasant duty, there is a way. Just have someone go to the Lutheran Church basement this coming Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, or later, and purchase some of the dainties to be had at the Ladies Aid Society strawberry and cake sale. You will want to come back for more when the Primary and Junior Teachers have their cake sale the following Saturday morning, June 18th.

The attention of all children is called to the sessions of the Daily Vacation Bible School, to be conducted in the basement of our church, under the direction of Rev. George Lockett. This school opens June 20th at nine o'clock in the morning, and a jolly, yet instructive and profitable time is assured to all.

STRAWBERRY FESTIVAL

A Strawberry Festival and cake sale will be given by the Ladies Aid of the First Lutheran Church, of Palmyra, Saturday, June 11. Ice Cream and berries, 15c, in the basement.—Adv 6-c

EPISCOPAL

Christ Church, Parry Avenue
Rev. G. J. McCormack, M.A., L.Th
Rector

On Sunday we enter the Trinity Season. The longest season in the Church's year. The Word "Trinity" is derived from the Latin word Trinus, which signifies "Three fold," or "Three in one;" and thus it exactly expresses the profound mystery of three Persons in the unity of one God-head. On Trinity Sunday the Church brings the doctrine of this mystery specially before us. St. Paul in that beautiful benediction "The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the love of God, and the Communion of the Holy Ghost be with you all" is giving expression to the teaching scattered from the beginning to the end of the bible, and an expression which of course is a radical departure in thought. The Christian revelation is in entire accord with the first page of the Bible "And God said, 'Let Us make man in Our image, after Our likeness,'" The word God is, in the original, in the plural number. Our task of believing in The Trinity while not an easy one, is certainly forced upon us by passage after passage in God's word.

It is a call to use our God given powers of thought, to realize that the Gospel of Our Lord, Jesus Christ while simple, is yet profonded, that to be strong in the faith is for most of us a life long task, with fresh light and wonder even breaking forth.

Holy, Holy, Holy, Lord
God of hosts, eternal King,
By the heavens and earth adored;
Angels and archangels sing,
Chanting everlastingly
To the blessed Trinity.

Since by Thee were all things made,
And in Thee do all things live,
Be to Thee all honour paid,
Praise to Thee let all things give Singing everlastingly
To the blessed Trinity.

Services next Sunday, Trinity Sunday:
Holy Communion 7.30 a. m.
Holy Communion 10.30 a. m.
Sermon "The Mystery of The Trinity."
Sunday School 2.30
Evenson 8.00
"Belief in God"

The Sunday School Picnic will be held on Saturday June 11 at Burlington Island. A wonderful time is anticipated.

The Girls Friendly Society meets every Tuesday at 7.30 p. m. The local branch shows very healthy signs of growth. A visit to the Diocesn Holiday House at Island Heights is planned for June 18th.

MORAVIAN CHURCH

Rev. A. J. Harke will leave on Wednesday for Bethlehem, Pa., where he will attend the Commencement of the Theological Seminary, Moravian College.

A new quartz lamp, recently perfected, is said to detect good pearls from bad.

ANNUAL OUTDOOR PLAY AT WESTFIELD

Pupils of Friends' School Present "The Royal Playmate"

Kindness to a poor gypsy woman brought unexpected joy to a little princess, and was the occasion of festivities and a celebration by her father's court and attendants—at the Westfield Friends' School, Thursday, June 2.

It was the annual open-air play given by the pupils on the lawn near the school. Under a cloudless sky and with a large audience of parents and friends looking on, the little folk danced and sang—all six grades of the school taking part.

The play was entitled "The Royal Playmate," and the scene was the garden of the King and Queen of Flowerland. Samuel Biddle took the part of the king and Mary Eastwood the queen. The princess (Peggy Reese), longed for a playmate. She was so hemmed about by court customs and regulations that she had none to romp with as other children had.

One day a gypsy woman, (Jane Welsh), was befriended by the princess and gave her in turn a ring. By rubbing this ring, she was told she would be entitled to two wishes, and whatever they were they would surely be granted.

The first wish she made was that she made was that she could have a party, attended by lots of children, and the second was that she should have a real playmate to be with her constantly, and join in her fun and games.

The two wishes came true, and the playmate proved to be none other than the gypsy woman herself, who, casting aside her shabby garments became a young and beautiful princess like the Princess of Flowerland herself.

Following is the complete cast of characters:

Big Flowers—Henrietta Durborrow, Betty Eastwood, Margaret Jane Heisler, Laetitia Parry, Elizabeth Smith, Doris Mae Taubel, Rebecca Taylor, Frances West.
Little Flowers—Myrtle Fox, Peggy Jessup, Mildred Schmidt, Olivia Steiner, Mollie Tolan, Peggy Willits.
Princess—Peggy Reese.
Pages—Huston Coe, Charles Muller, Kenneth Arnott, Robertson Coe, Thomas Moffitt, Levick Tolan, Edward Richie, Frank Haley, Lewis Robbins, Dicky Barclay.
Peddler—Ralph Fish.
Minstrels—Petter Rodman, Bayard Brunt, Edwin McVaugh.
Shepherdess—Anne McVaugh.
Goatherd—Harry Jones
Court Messenger—Joseph Siddall.
Gypsy Woman—Jane Welsh.
King and Queen of Flowerland—Samuel Biddle, Mary Eastwood.
Attendants—Howard Conover, Buddy Robertson, Dawson Ransome, John Parry, William Watkins.
Fairies—Nancy Clark, Morette Gausler, Dorothy Sargent, Coleen Shaner, Elaine Sheble, Abby Shoemaker, Marlyn Slater.
Elves—Harry Brunt, Jack Dennin-ger, Lauren Dickson, John Lane, John Rennie, Herbert Ziegler.

The school will soon close for the summer vacation and Miss Naomi Rausman announced at the play that with the reopening in the fall, it is expected to establish a kindergarten. This will be done owing to the general demand for such an addition to the Scool, by parents who wish their children to start there at an earlier age.

The six grades at present composing the school, and which are in accordance with the six elementary school grades prescribed by modern educational systems, will, of course, be maintained. Pupils graduating from Westfield enter other schools in the seventh grade, which is the first grade of the so-called Junior High School.

Calvary Presbyterian

Services of worship of Calvary Presbyterian Church will all be held in the Sunday School room of the new church building.

EPWORTH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. J. William Lee, Minister

Sunday will be observed as Children's Day in all the departments of the Church. The Church School will have special program in each department, flowers, happy songs will prevail. The session will open at 10 a. m.

Morning Worship at 11.15 a. m. The order of Music will be as follows: Organ Prelude, "Spring Song," by Mendelssohn; Processional, "Love Divine," Anthem "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven; Offertoire "Melodie," by Massenet, Object Sermon "How Much do you Weigh?" Infant Baptism. Reception of members.

In the evening at 8 o'clock under the direction of Miss Ethel C. Morton, Mrs. Rachel Lord, pianist, the Sunday School will present a beautiful pageant "Gretchen's Wondrous Adventure." Come and enjoy a delightful evening with us. The Evening service will be held in the Temple.

MORAVIAN CHURCH NOTES

Next Sunday the fifteenth anniversary of the ministry of the Rev. A. J. Harke will be held at the Moravian Church. The Rev. E. S. Hagen, of Bethlehem, Pa., president of the Provincial Elders Conference of Moravian Church, will have charge of the service.

Mr. Harke was ordained in the Bethlehem Church on June 9, 1912, by the late Bishop Morris Leibert. He arrived at the field of service on June 12th near St. Charles, Minnesota. Since then he has served in the Moravian Church in Pennsylvania and for two years has been pastor of the Moravian Church at Five Points.

Next Sunday evening there will be a special Children's Day Service at eight o'clock. The primary department will give a short program. The Rev. E. S. Hagen will give a special Children's Day talk. One of the features will be the promotion of a class from the primary department into the main department.

NEW FORD CARS

Under present living conditions every family needs an automobile. But it should be an automobile that will give the highest possible return for the money invested. It should be a family asset and not a burden.

Ford cars offer you the greatest automobile value. You can enjoy the advantage of motor car ownership and continuous operation without denying yourself the many other advantages which must sometimes be sacrificed through excessive automobile expenditure.

By saving time and conquering distance the Ford car makes work easier, time more productive, business more profitable, and living more convenient. It is easy to drive and to park economical, universally serviced, and possesses the highest resale value. It is the logical car for the American family.

LINDBERGH AND COLUMBUS
A WONDERFUL MOTOR
NO JUMPING
LUNGS TOO GOOD

By the way, fathers and mothers, sad because their sons lack college education, will observe that Lindbergh went to no university, and his "prep school" was a plow on his father's farm. He was a solitary boy, thinking, enjoying danger and new things. Robert Westover, a garage owner in Montana, who once hired Lindbergh to make parachute jumps, says, "I don't think he was lonesome on that trip. Slim Lindbergh was a peculiar guy. He did not care for company or any excitement, except daring stuff. Everything he had he carried with him, helmet, goggles and toothbrush stuffed in the big pockets of his overalls."

Lindbergh's difficulty now will be to find something worth doing that will not kill him.

Lindbergh proves that deeds of daring "mad-cap audacity," seeming reckless at the time, are of great, permanent value. It was called reckless folly when Columbus made his transatlantic "hop" in the opposite direction. Cool heads told him he would fall over the edge of the ocean, and his crew wanted to turn back.

Fulton's experiment with steam, and Franklin's with the kite, seemed foolish. Congressmen that voted to spend money on Government experiments with telegraph messages were beaten for re-election. The voters "had no use" for a Congressman that would vote to waste money.

Lindbergh's feat will find an echo in the next Congress. It will occur to some Congressmen that if one man, alone, could fly from here to Europe, some thousands might fly from Europe or Asia here, and be less welcome than Lindbergh was in Paris.

The record shows that Lindbergh's Wright motor used less than twelve gallons of gasoline per hour of flying and did better than 100 miles per hour. At twenty cents a gallon that means about $81 worth of gasoline, plus twenty gallons of oil. Not expensive for a trip to Paris.

Anybody who doubts that airplanes will carry passengers across the ocean for less than $50, "all daylight route," has little confidence in human ingenuity.

Statistics show this country's income in 1926 totalled seventy-eight billion, six hundred and forty-nine million dollars, from all sources—the ditch digger's wages, the coupon cutter's toil.

That means $671 for every man, woman and child, or $1,805.37 for every person engaged in earning money.

Professor Nash, teacher of physical education in New York University, justly criticises violent exercise for young girls.

To permit competition for girls in hurdle races, high jumping, broad jumping, etc., is a crime against the girls now, and against the future generation.

Girls are not made to JUMP. They are made for motherhood, and should be taught to respect and protect their complicated machinery.

In the Fall, "medical whiskey" bourbon and rye, made of corn and rye, will be manufactured under supervision of the Treasury Department.

No whiskey should be suggested for medical purposes. If doctor's say alcohol is necessary, they should use brandy made of grapes. Many poisons are in grain whiskey, even carefully made. Real brandy is free of poisonous oils and other poisons, unless you call pure alcohol a poison.

Wood alcohol is deadly, potato alcohol is very poisonous, grain alcohol less poisonous, grape alcohol safest.

Those that sent threatening letters concerning the Sacco and Vanzetti case, to Governor Fuller did not frighten the Governor. He rejects the suggestion of a commission to review the Sacco and Vanzetti case, saying that the responsibility is his.

The Governor cannot delegate his authority. The law provides that the decision must be made by him.

ROBS MEDFORD HOME

Sporty Young Woman Traced to Atlantic City; Now in Jail

A few weeks back a sporty appearing young woman, accompanied by a man slightly her senior, arrived in Medford and secured board as man and wife at the home of Mrs. Julia Haines, where they remained for a few days, and then for some reason changed their quarters to the home of Mrs. Maude Riley.

While the young woman stayed in Medford she excited no little comment by the rich texture but flimsiness of her dresses, and then again she would appear garbed from head to foot in male attire. She left rather suddenly, however, and with her went a diamond ring and some silk lingerie, the property of Mrs. Maude R. Montgomery, a daughter of Mrs. Riley.

The young woman finally was traced to Atlantic City, and she was located working in a restaurant by Trooper Cox, of Hammonton, and later brought before Justice Riley in Medford. She gave the name of Madeline Joyce but refused to give any address or any information concerning herself, and later was committed to the county jail for Court in default of $500 bail.

HOLLY DOCTOR ENGAGED

At a bridge party held at the home of Mrs. J. Morgan Read, Atlantic City, last week, announcement was made of the betrothal of Mrs. Read's daughter, Miss Mary E. Read, to Dr. Andrew M. Smith, of Mount Holly. The bride-to-be is a sister of Dr. Hilton S. Read, who recently became the husband of Miss Eleanor Louise Warrick, of Mount Holly, and she is a graduate of Dickinson College. Dr. Smith is a popular young physician who is practicing with Dr. D. F. Remer, in Mount Holly.

A local man has discovered a method of getting to work early each morning. He has made arrangements with his daughter to call him when she comes in.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

YOU CAN SEE IDEALS OF PEOPLE

The other evening I ran across this human paragraph in a volume otherwise largely technical:

"A man, as he walks in the crowd, feels himself to be an ordinary individual. But in the back of his mind is a more than half-formed phantasy: 'I seem to be an ordinary man, but I am really a man of great importance. People take me for just one of themselves; dressed like anyone else, they don't realize what an extraordinary man they have in their midst. But let an emergency arise—a crisis, an accident to the King—I spring to the rescue and everyone exclaims, "Who is this? A prince incognito! A genius in rags!" At last I come into my own.'"

This is as true to human nature as scratching a mosquito bite.

Everyone has enacted such beguiling little dramas of the mind in which he plays the hero and "comes into his own."

Every crowd of people is a stage whereon meek homeward bound clerks are enacting in their minds just what they would do if a burly rowdy should insult a beautiful girl or an insane man run amuck with a razor.

They strike the villain down, "come into their own."

On all sides we catch glimpses and flashes of what people imagine "their own" to be like.

"I've played golf for thirty years and have never been on my game yet," a man is quoted as saying. His idea of what "his game" was like was something superlative and unattainable. The actual game he played was merely a failure to come up to "his own."

When a woman says, "I have had dozens of photographs taken and have never had a good picture yet," it indicates that her conception of "her own" includes an idea of personal pulchritude which her features, struggle as they will, can't live up to.

It is a truism that, in this world, sooner or later we get about what we deserve. We really "come into our own."

The reason we so rarely realize that what we get is "our own" is that our conception of what it is like is based on our desires instead of our deserts.

To The Voters and Taxpayers of Burlington County

J. LLOYD WRIGHT
Director of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders

As a former Director of Finance of the Board of Freeholders, J. Lloyd Wright instituted methods which opened new sources of revenue without imposing any additional burden upon the taxpayers. He goes before the voters of Burlington county for re-election with an excellent record.

When Mr. Wright took charge of the county finances, he made an intensive study of the financial situation from every angle, with the result that he has secured for the taxpayers of Burlington county revenue amounting to $39,547.82, from sources which never before had yielded anything. This money was derived from the sale of county bonds at a premium and interest on daily balances in the county's checking account in the various banks. Before Mr. Wright's administration, no interest was allowed on daily balances. Prior to Mr. Wright's administration, the county bonds were sold at par, bringing to the county no profit. Since he has been Director of Finance, these bonds have been advertised and sold to the highest bidder. The income from the premium on these sales has amounted to $28,049.84.

As Chairman of the Road Committee at the time the progressive system of road improvements was inaugurated, Mr. Wright had a conspicuous part. In less than five years seventy-five miles of permanent roads were built, until now all the towns of any considerable size in the county are connected with improved highways.

If nominated and elected Mr. Wright's vote and influence in the Board will be exerted on the side of an extension of the progressive and permanent road program as rapidly as the finances of the county will permit.

While in office Mr. Wright was widely recognized as one of the most efficient members of the Board of Freeholders, both by reason of his long experience in public affairs and his progressive attitude toward the problems now facing the taxpayers of Burlington county.

Keeping Up with Appearances

NEARLY everyone takes on migratory habits in the summer. One of the greatest drawbacks that this pleasant practice has for a woman is that she must leave behind her favorite beauty specialist.

Equipped with electric beauty helps, however, she can retain all the niceties of coiffure and complexion that are hers in town.

Public Service makes careful tests of every electric beauty aid it places on sale. Women may use electric dressing table appliance bought of Public Service confident of the efficiency of their work and the safety of their use.

Electric curling irons — from $1.50.
Electric marcel wavers — from $6.50.
Electric vibrators—from $9.
Electric hair dryers—from $12.50.
Health Ray—from $12.50.

Cherries Are Ripe, Try This Dessert!

ADA BESSIE SWANN

Cherry Pudding

2 cups cherries
½ cup shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1½ cups flour
2 tsp. baking powder
1 cup milk

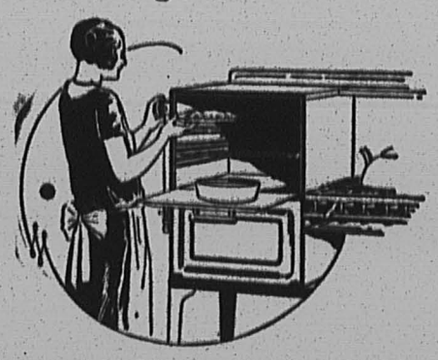

Cream the shortening and sugar and add the beaten eggs. Sift together the flour and baking powder and add to the first mixture, alternating with the milk. The cherries should be stoned and the juice drained off. Stir the cherries into the dough, turn it into greased molds or pan. Steam for one hour or bake in the oven covered, for 2½ hours at 300 degrees.

Cherry Sauce

1 cup sugar
½ cup butter
1 tbsp. cornstarch
½ cup water
½ cup cherry juice

Cream the sugar and the butter, add the cornstarch and the liquid and boil over hot water for 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Continue cooking for 25 minutes.

New Low Prices on Gas Ranges Will Be Interesting News to Homemakers

THE attractive design of the New Process Gas Range makes it a favorite with the home-maker. This range has no projections or bolts to catch dirt or mar its smooth enameled finish. It has a full size sixteen inch wide oven.

The special sale of New Process Gas Ranges now being held at Public Service stores presents interesting, new low prices on several New Process models. All feature the quick action whirling-flame burners peculiar to New Process construction.

New Process R40X is an attractive range finished in white enamel. Has four top burners and is equipped with an oven heat regulator. It is an exceptionally good buy at $61.95. Its terms price is $65.72. Without regulator the same model may be had for $47.95 cash, or $50.96 on terms.

Several other New Process gas ranges are reduced in price, including a single oven box cabinet type, also a de luxe model enameled inside and out.

Electric Waffle Irons Make Pleasing Gifts

Waffles, prepared on an electric waffle iron offer a quick way to appease appetites. Hot waffles, crispy-edged and golden brown in color, served with butter, syrup or honey, make a satisfying dish and can be quickly and easily prepared.

An electric waffle iron is a welcome answer to the June wedding invitation. Waffle irons are priced from $9 to $16 at Public Service stores.

Cooling Breezes For Warm Days

When warm days come, so warm that a shimmering haze seems to lie over everything, the home can be made comfortable by turning on a Westinghouse electric fan. These fans keep the air moving. They work quietly and give, at a surprisingly small cost, a breeze when and where it is needed.

Gas Incinerator Burns All Rubbish

To make the home safe from the danger of trash and the garbage can, all rubbish should be burned. The gas incinerator reduces all waste to fine ashes and solves the problem of garbage and rubbish disposal in a safe, sanitary way.

A gas incinerator may be purchased from Public Service on terms as low as $5 down—12 months to pay.

When Gas Heats Your Home

—less scouring and scrubbing, less scraping and painting. No dirt, dust or grime.
—two trips to the furnace each season, instead of four to six trips a day.
—uniform temperature all the time, automatically lowered at bed-time, and increased in the morning.
—no noise, no odor, and the certain knowledge that the safest of all fuels heats your home.

Change to gas for housecleaning, and let our gas holders be your fuel bin.

The Kelvinator Will Keep Food Supply Fresh for a Week

PLANNING the meals for a week in advance is a time and labor-saving practice recommended by leaders in the domestic science field. This can be accomplished best when electric refrigeration is employed for food storage.

Bacteria can not exist in the dry cold atmosphere maintained in an electric refrigerator. This advantage, combined with the convenience of an automatic cooling system, makes electric refrigeration a necessity in the home.

Public Service stores offer an attractive Kelvinator (electric refrigeration) cabinet finished in gray enamel for $210. Any standard refrigerator can be equipped with a Kelvinator cooling unit. Cabinets or separate Kelvinator units can be purchased on the Public Service divided payment plan. A small sum for the first payment and seventeen months to pay balance.

To Add to Home Comfort Install Gas Water Heater

THE morning rush to work; the careful preparation for hours of recreation; many of the home-maker's tasks about the house are all executed more promptly and more satisfactorily, if the hot water supply responds to every demand.

A gas automatic storage water heater assures such a supply. Day and night it maintains plenty of hot water, the temperature of which is controlled automatically by a thermostat. This device keeps the cost of operation to the minimum figure.

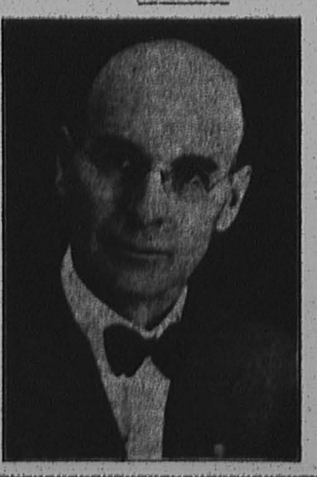

Public Service stores sell gas automatic heaters for as little as $90.75. All makes may be purchased on the easy payment plan, $5 down—12 to 18 months to pay.

Build for Safety Urges Fire Chief

Fire Prevention Just As Important as Fire Fighting, Says Armstrong

In reviewing measures now being taken by the International Association of Fire Chiefs to combat the appalling loss of life and property by fire in the United States, Fire Chief Walter Armstrong of Riverton, points out that one of the most effective ways to reduce the fire danger is to give such buildings as we erect the highest degree of incombustibility.

"It would be impracticable, of course, to build an all-fireproof structure," Chief Armstrong continued. "In a residence of this nature the beds would have to be steel or concrete slabs and furniture would have to be of a similar material. There could be no draperies, rugs, linen and clothing. But it never is impracticable to construct a building as fire-safe as is compatible with comfort.

"Take the average wood frame house as an example. When the wood frame is covered with a sheathing of wood, and this in turn is covered with wood siding; and when the lath under the plaster and the shingles on the roof are of wood, you have a highly combustible, conflagration-breeding type of construction—one that would put surrounding structures in jeopardy if a fire should break out, particularly if there were a high wind blowing. For a high wind would carry burning embers to adjoining roofs and scatter sparks far and wide.

"But it is probably a long way off before wood frame houses will be altogether abandoned, particularly since the development of modern building materials has resulted in a protected type of wood construction that retains all the good features of the all-wood house.

"In building such a fire-protected wood house the wood frame is erected in the regular manner. But instead of sheathing of wood being applied over the frame, an incombustible type of sheathing is now used. This protects the frame from the outside. To protect it from the inside a metal or rack lath is used in place of wood lath. With a roof-covering of asbestos or other fire-resistive material, a house so built possesses as high a degree of protection from fire as is possible in a frame structure."

Chief Armstrong feels that preventing fires is just as important a part of the Fire Department's work as fighting fires, and along with the thousands of other fire chiefs throughout the country, he is actively cooperating with the International Association of Fire Chiefs in its great "1927 is Fire Prevention Year' movement which it is hoped will acquaint the public with means for reducing the annual fire toll.

ENDORSEMENTS

Broadway Theatre,
Palmyra, N. J.

Gentlemen:

Heartiest congratulations due you for getting this wonderful picture for our community.

JAMES T. WEART,
Mayor.

I will gladly endorse "THE FIRE BRIGADE," a picture not only entertaining but educational.

Every man, woman and child should see it.

C. MORRIS BECK,
Fire Chief.

I wish to thank you for putting forth your efforts in getting "THE FIRE BRIGADE," a picture which will benefit this community.

Wishing you success,

MAYOR FRED P. HEMPHILL,
Riverton, N. J.

In endorsing "THE FIRE BRIGADE" I am doing so not only for myself but for the community at large.

My advice to the people of this community is to go and see it.

WALTER A. ARMSTRONG,
Riverton Fire Chief.

ARTISANS

Local Members Will Honor Ball Players

Artisans in this community will journey to Shibe Park next Saturday to help pay honor to three members of the fraternity who are identified with the Athletics.

The three Artisans who are to be thus honored are Thomas S. Shibe, of Progressive Assembly, identified with the management of the club; Jimmy Dykes, of Main Line Assembly, one of the infielders, and Edwin A. Rommel, pitcher.

The affair is begin given under the auspices of the Artisans Extension Committee of which John Lipsey is chairman. A special committee directing the event includes Victor I. Ridenour and Tarry Kendig, past most excellent masters of the fraternity; Daniel J. W. Gilson, of Union Assembly and James T. Hall of St. John's Assembly who is especially associated with the committee for this event.

The Artisans Band will be in attendance and will play before and during the game. Another Artisan musical organization in attendance will be the String Band of St. John's Assembly. Gifts will be presented to the three members of the fraternity who will be honored by presence of their brothers. Several thousand members of the Order took part in Artisans' Day at Shibe Park last year and a great crowd is expected to be in attendance for the 1927 observance.

GIRL RESERVES

The weekly meeting of the Girl Reserves was held at the home of Mildred Kerrigan. The meeting was opened by the president. The secretary protem read the minutes and were approved, which were written by Jane Blackwell. The treasurer's report was given. Margaret Weiler gave a talk on Reverence to God. We talked about the cake sale. We also talked about the practice for the play which will be given at 10.30 on Friday morning at the home of Miss Davis.

The meeting was then adjourned.

MILDRED KERRIGAN,
Secretary Protem.

RESULTS OF THE RUM REFERENDUM

Elections In Many States Last Fall Show Gain In Sentiment For Law Enforcement

The boast of the wets that the dry law is losing in popularity fails to stand up in the face of official election figures. The following from The Outlook is worthy of attention: "Last November several states held referendums on prohibition. A comparison of the results with previous referendums reveals a remarkable trend of public sentiment in favor of the dry laws.

Missouri voted for prohibition by a majority of 265,543, as compared with a majority of only 61,299 in 1920.

California voted for prohibition by a majority of 63,617, as compared with a majority of 33,943 in 1922.

Though Illinois registered a wet majority on its prohibition referendum, the vote reveals a great slump in the number of wet ballots since 1922, when a similar proposition was submitted. The vote was 840,631 to 556,592, while in 1922 it was 1,065,242 to 512,111. The dry vote, therefore, increased by 44,481, while the wet vote fell off by 224,611.

Massachusetts in 1922 voted wet by 103,876, but in 1924 it reversed this result and gave a dry majority of 8,183.

New York re-elected Alfred Smith, widely known wet, for a fourth term as governor. His majority, however, was only 247,478, as compared with a majority of 358,945 in 1922.

These figures should effectually dispose of the wet claim that prohibition is losing in popularity. On the contrary, the sentiment in favor of law enforcement is stronger today than ever before."—Facts.

ALUMNI BANQUET

Dinner and Dance to Graduating Class Next Tuesday

The second annual banquet of the Palmyra High School Alumni Association, held as a reception to the graduating class of 1927, will take place in the high school lunch room, Tuesday evening, June 14, at 7.15.

All Alumni are urged to attend this affair where one can mingle with old friends and enjoy interesting speaking. But this is not all in the way of entertainment as a peppy dance will follow the banquet, the syncopation being furnished by a well-known orchestra.

All graduates of the high school who are not members of the Association will automatically become life members of the Alumni Association.

All friends of graduates are also invited. The charge will include the dinner and dance. You may attend the dance only if you so desire. Come out and enjoy yourself.

"THE FIRE BRIGADE"

Spectacular Film at Broadway Palace Next Week

A spectacular orphanage fire, which excels in magnitude and thrills any fire scene ever photographed, is one of the thrilling sequences included in "The Fire Brigade," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer special playing at the Broadway Palace next Monday and Tuesday evenings.

Dozens of motion picture stars and directors were present the night of the fire at the studio, and all declared it the most perfectly handled big scene ever made.

Director William Nigh worked with Fire Chief Ralph Scott of Los Angeles and Chief Jay W. Stevens, under whose supervision the blaze was staged, in planning and filming the fire. More than fifty motion picture cameras were trained on the scene to catch every possible movement of the flames.

Perhaps the most thrilling event in the picture comes when Charles Ray leaps from the top of the burning building into a nine-foot net held by fifteen firemen on the ground. Many other spectacular jumps and rope rescues are negotiated from other windows in the structure.

"The Fire Brigade" has just finished a very successful run at Philadelphia Theatres.

The Triangle Group met at the home of Robert Borer, Main street, Riverton, Friday evening June 3rd. The meeting was opened with prayer by William Krause. As we were late in opening our meeting we did not have the responsive ritual or minutes. We had a Bible Study on "Christ's Sermon on the Mount." We then talked over plans for our picnic the following day which was held at Mr. Ashbrook's (our leader's) farm, after which refreshments were served and we closed with the Friendship Circle.

235 Attend Tenth Annual YW Banquet

Anniversary of Movement in Burlington County Celebrated at Moorestown

Two hundred and thirty-five men and women from all sections of Burlington County met at the Community House in Moorestown on June 3rd, to celebrate the tenth birthday of the Young Women's Christian Association. The banquet hall, exquisitely decorated in white peonies, blue lupine, and blue and white candles, furnished a beautiful setting for this festive occasion.

Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, of Cinnaminson, as toast-mistress extended a cordial welcome to all present and introduced Mrs. Frederick Paist, of Wayne, Pa., who was the speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Paist said, "The Y. W. C. A. is a movement, not an institution. Because it is a movement the Association has dared to do pioneer thinking in regard to the responsibility of women in the light of the new freedom that is their's today.

"Even so great an ideal as world peace cannot be achieved after all until we understand family, personal, and denominational peace. Then may we expect true world fellowship." Mrs. Paist charmed her audience will her wide range of experience, her keen sense of humor, and her knowledge of the Association work.

Mrs. J. W. Davis, of Edgewater Park, president of the county organization, fittingly greeted the guests in behalf of the county Board, and explained the plan of having the adult membership present for this occasion, while the younger club membership had had their annual gathering at a county-wide sing. It is impossible to secure in the county a room that will accommodate the entire membership at a banquet.

Mrs. Edward Harmer, of Moorestown, former president of the county organization, told of the work being accomplished by the YWCA in rural America.

Miss Marguerite Lippincott, of Moorestown, Miriam Coombs of Burlington, and Mrs. E. J. Young of Riverton, gave interesting interpretations of what the YWCA means in the lives of the business girl, the school girl, and the colored girl.

Sallie Sumner, county secretary, gave an interesting report showing the many activities and great progress in the work throughout the county during the past year. The membership has reached 2750 the largest number enrolled since the county has been organized.

An excellent musical program, consisting of vocal solos by Mrs. Ethel Dudley, of Moorestown, accompanied by Mrs. William French, added much to the evening's entertainment. Miss Miriam Markham, of Mt. Holly led the singing, using the new YW song book which has recently been published by the music committee.

The Moorestown Junior and Senior high school Girl Reserves served at the banquet.

The Mother-Daughter banquet in Medford on May 27 was a decided success. One hundred and fifty-four mothers and daughters were present and enjoyed the excellent address by Miss Edith Moon of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harold Hornor, of Mt. Holly, spoke at a banquet in Indian Mills on the same evening where fifty mothers and daughters were present.

At the last meeting of the "Be Square Club" of Girl Reserves in Moorestown, final plans and arrangements were made for a Mother-Daughter banquet. Tuesday evening, June 14, was the date set. The banquet will be served in the colored YWCA club house.

Genius looks better in one color than mediocrity in four.

The attitude of some men toward progress is that they simply won't stand for it.

Court Happenings of the Past Week

Many Criminal Cases Disposed of by Action of County's Legal Machinery

Judge Slaughter disposed of several miscellaneous matters at the Court House on Thursday morning, among them being several Orphans' Court cases. Criminal business was then taken up, as follows:

Herbert Snyder and Francis Steele, young Philadelphians who came to Mount Holly late on Friday night in an intoxicated condition and were arrested by the police who later found their car parked on Main street with a quart and a pint of liquor in it, came in on a waiver and pleaded guilty to transporting liquor and were fined $75 each.

This is the pair that was held under $300 bail each by Recorder Kingdon, after they had announced "that no hick cop could arrest them."

John Eleutere, of Bordentown, who had pleaded guilty to maintaining a house where liquor was kept, was fined $300.

Edith Lowe, a Mount Holly girl, arrested for incorrigibility, was sent to the State Home for Girls at Trenton.

Julie Jossabon, of Mansfield township, before the Court for sentence for the fourth time charged with liquor law violations, went to jail for three months and will stay there until she pays a $500 fine additional.

There were several other defendants present for sentence but owing to some misunderstanding as to their pleadings they will have another week in which to think their fate over.

The case of the state against George Kellogg, of Mount Holly, was the first criminal matter moved last week, the defendant facing statutory charges by Edith Lowe, a young Mount Holly girl.

Kellogg was ably represented by Robert Peacock, who introduced evidence to show that the whole proceedings was a frame-up and that Kellogg had been made the goat.

It was also shown that the girl had been the means of getting Kellogg in a similar trouble before and that he had been acquitted on the previous charge.

The jury acquitted Kellogg.

John Bell, of East Riverton, charged with assault and battery on his wife, did not fare so well, he being adjudged guilty by a jury.

Gilbert Palmer, of Burlington, retracted his plea of not guilty to an assault and pleaded guilty.

He received a suspended sentence but was placed on probation for two years and must pay the costs.

William F. Lowden, also of Burlington, who faced statutory charges retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded guilty to one charge, which was accepted by the state and the Court sentenced him to pay a fine of $50.

While it had been expected that several criminal matters would be heard on Friday, the case of the state against Samuel Martin, proprietor of a sanitorium in Vincentown, consumed the greater part of the day, and the other cases went over until Tuesday.

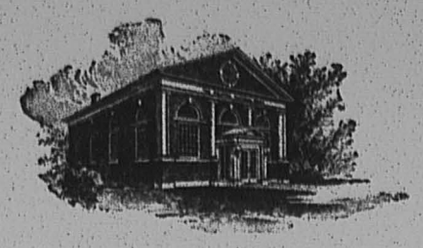

Martin had been indicted for larceny on two counts, and receiving stolen goods, and the action came about as the result of his occupying a furnished house in Vincentown belonging to Miss Mary Haines, from which it is said he moved and took some of the furniture with him.

It was testified that a search warrant was issued and the goods located and that then Martin still refused to return them.

The jury was out until about 9.30 when they failed to agree and were discharged.

JUDGE WELLS REFUTES FALSE STATEMENTS MADE BY RIGGS

Shows That Statements Laid to Roberts Workers Were Made By Powell Partisans

"SMOKE SCREEN" TO FOOL PEOPLE SAYS THE JUDGE

In a strenuously contested primary fight, such as is now being waged between Senator Roberts and Assemblyman Powell for the nomination of State Senator on the Republican ticket, it is inevitable that false and even malicious statements be made by a certain class of irresponsible supporters of the candidates.

If a campaign manager undertook to deny every rumor and report spread against the candidate whose cause he is espousing he would have time for nothing else but the making of denials. With such a class of self appointed scandalmongers no controversy should be had, and to them no explanations or denials should be made.

The campaign manager of a candidate, however, is the official representative of the candidate and anything he publishes, or permits to be published over his signature, is understood as coming from the candidate himself, and if it be false or malicious, may require a reply on the part of the campaign manager of his opponent.

Mr. Charles A. Rigg is the campaign manager of Mr. Powell. There appeared over his signature an article, published in certain newspapers circulating in Burlington County, accusing me, as the campaign manager of Senator Roberts, of conducting a mudslinging campaign, and stating among other things that money and vilification seemed to be the weapons that were being used in the attempt to defeat Mr. Powell.

Accuses Wells

The article was headed "Charles A. Rigg defends Powell against untruth." The opening sentence shows that it is aimed at me personally and refers to me specifically as the one guilty of the charges set forth therein.

The inference sought to be conveyed by Mr. Rigg in his article was that I, as the campaign manager of Senator Roberts, was conducting a campaign of lying, deceit, villification and corruption of the ballot.

Mr. Rigg has often expressed, publicly and privately, a high regard for me, and I could not believe that he wrote the article. My first thought was not to answer the statement, but Mr. Rigg, not being satisfied with the first, broadside hurled, later issued over his signature another article, classifying the supporters of Senator Roberts (among which I am proud to be numbered), as a domineering and corrupt "machine," which sought through the use of money and falsehood to ruin all who dared to resist it.

So far as I am personally concerned, I would not even now dignify these false statements and insinuations of Mr. Rigg, by undertaking to answer them, for I have lived my life in Burlington County and if it does not defend me against these accusations, nothing that I can say will. I am informed, however, that my continued silence is being used by the supporters of Mr. Powell as a basis for propaganda that the things said must be true or I would deny them, hence this reply.

Wells' Answer

I am asking the newspapers which published these articles, whose editors and owners are acquainted with me, to give as great publicity to my answers as they gave to the articles in question.

THIS IS MY ANSWER:

(1) Neither Senator Roberts nor I, nor any one authorized to speak for us, has directly or indirectly thrown any mud at Mr. Powell, nor have we lied about nor vilified him. Nor have we illegally raised nor expended one penny of money in this campaign, nor have we broken any law, as implied in the article.

(2) The charge that Mr. Powell is supported by the worst elements of the county was not made by Senator Roberts, by me, nor by his suporters, as intimated by Mr. Rigg in his article. County Detective Ellis Parker, a most ardent supporter and active worker of Mr. Powell, is the man who has to numerous people made the statement that the "underworld would elect Powell."

(3) It is absolutely untrue that a prominent Freeholder or any supporter of Senator Roberts made the statement that $25,000, or any other sum of money, would be spent to bring about Mr. Powell's defeat and that strenuous efforts would be made to ruin his reputation.

Those who know Senator Roberts and myself resent this accusation.

(4) There is no "machine" supporting Senator Roberts in the sense sought to be conveyed by that term by Mr. Rigg. The only "machine" operating in this campaign is the machine headed in this county by William H. Reeves, County Clerk, who is running it at full speed ahead for Mr. Powell.

Mr. Reeves frequently boasts of his "private machine" and has stated on numerous occasions that he would spend a part of his fortune to defeat Charles R. Stout, who is backing Senator Roberts, contrary to his orders and those of his "machine." This may explain the "rumors" that Mr. Rigg has heard about the huge fund that is to be used in this campaign.

A Political Trick

It is a favorite method of politicians to accuse the opponent of the thing or things he is doing himself.

Not being able to say one word against Senator Roberts, his ability, his character, his splendid record of public service and achievement, Mr. Rigg and Mr. Powell's supporters are seeking to tie Senator Roberts up to some mythical "machine" and then hammer the machine, hop-

RIVALS CONCEDE VICTORY FOR RUSS

The other five candidates for the Republican Freeholder nomination are said to be agreed that it would be futile to try to defeat Howard Russ for a place on the ticket. It is through no friendly interest in his desire to succeed himself that the admission is made by the men who are also running for Freeholder, simply recognition of the self-evident fact that Mr. Russ has given such excellent service during his incumbency that the voters, almost without regard for party affiliations, are desirous of having him returned to office.

Throughout his official tenure there has never been a question raised concerning Mr. Russ's integrity or the fidelity with which he guards public interests. This, coupled with his unfailing courtesy to friend and foe, explains his popularity among the voters and the conviction among the others in the field that it would be wasted energy to try to defeat him. That, also, is why we have the spectacle of five aspirants to membership in the Board of Freeholders bending their efforts toward winning the second place upon the party ticket.

AN OPEN LETTER

June 13, 1927

To the Editor, New Era,
and citizens of Riverton:

Apropos of the coming Primary Election June 21, 1927, and the several candidates for Mayor, I have read the various communications in the interest of Mr. Howard M. Rogers for Mayor.

Mrs. Effie W. Corry's article seems to infer that we have been governed by the choice of a minority instead of a majority of our citizens. Surely this is an error, as evidenced by the efficient manner our Borough has been governed in the past, and in all instances have those men who were elected Mayor formerly, served as Councilmen. Stoughton, McCarroll, Flagg and Bennett and as Mrs. Corry's article states, "They have done surprisingly well."

Then why not continue as a Borough policy the rewarding of our faithful public servants by tendering them the greatest honor that we have at our command? Or, on the contrary, will we say to a public servant that has served us faithfully in Councils, "Thus far can you go, for we intend to elect as Mayor a gentleman who has taken little or no interest in Borough affairs."

Would it not stifle ambition, a human attribute that has done more for mankind that all other agencies?

Ex-Mayor Bennett's article in the New Era of June 9, 1927 infers that it is important to choose a Mayor qualified by experience and ability, qualifications that Mr. Edward R. Williams not only possesses, but has given ample demonstration that he possesses, and in addition, has the admirable trait of having a sunny and affable disposition and is therefore more representative of the whole people and not any certain class, and he will undoubtedly fulfil his duties as Mayor as creditably as any of his predecessors.

For the above reasons, many of we citizens believe that it is fortunate that we have a gentleman with Mr. Williams's qualifications who is willing to burden himself with the numerous duties of this office, and a vote cast at the Primary, June 21, 1927, for Edward R. Williams for Mayor and E. Earle Perkins for Council, will assure us a good and efficient administration of Borough affairs.

Sincerely yours,
CHAS. A. WRIGHT.

Four Hurt in Bus Accident

Cause of Collision is Not Known; Injured Taken To Zurbrugg

About quarter after ten Monday morning a McCloskey bus ran into the rear of a truck belonging to J. S. Collins & Sons while the truck was standing on the side of Broad street just above Pompess avenue, East Riverton. Two women and two men were injured in the collision and were treated at the Riverside Hospital.

Louis Hodson, the bus driver, can give no reason for running into the truck. He said he did not know how the accident happened. Hodson lives on Seventh street, Riverton.

Harry Sommers, the driver of the truck, is also a Riverton man and lives on Lippincott avenue.

The radiator on the bus was split into two pieces, the engine pushed back into the body of the bus and the right-hand seats were pushed back out of their position. The windshield was broken by the impact.

AN OPEN LETTER

June 7, 1927

Mr. Edward R. Williams,
Riverton, New Jersey.

Dear Mr. Williams:

You probably are aware of the fact that the supporters of your opponent for nomination of mayor of Riverton are making a house-to-house canvass of the town in the interest of their candidate.

You may not, however, realize that the basis of their appeal appears to be, not upon the qualifications of Mr. Rogers for the job, but rather they ask the support of their candidate because, in their opinion, you hold views detrimental to Riverton's best interests.

For instance, it was stated to me that you were not particularly interested in securing the office but were only permitting your name to be placed before the people until someone better qualified could be selected. If this is true, why [since Mr. Roger's endorsements]—do you remain in the field as a candidate?

You state publicly you are for a progressive Riverton. Does this mean, as your opponents state, the annexing of East Riverton as a part of Riverton? Does this mean, as they also state, bringing factories to Riverton? If not, what do you mean by "a progressive Riverton?"

What is your attitude as to the future of Bank Road? Is this roadway, which should be an asset to every Rivertonian, to remain in its present unsightly and dangerous condition?

What is your attitude on the enforcing of ordinances, the laying of sidewalks and curbing throughout all of the town? How do you stand on the question of permanent roads?

It seems to me, Mr. Williams, that you owe it to yourself as well as to those interested in Riverton's welfare, whose support you are asking, to state your platform and your qualifications for the job of Riverton's Chief Official.

Very truly yours,
HARVEY HIRST.

Ordered and paid for by Harvey Hirst.

THE REPLY

Dear Mr. Hirst:

I appreciate the frankness and directness of your letter, and will endeavor to answer your questions in the same spirit.

First. Why did I not withdraw when Mr. Rogers became a candidate?

Answer. Having only the best interests of Riverton at heart, I stated that I would gladly withdraw if a man better qualified to fill the office became a candidate. To date nothing has been produced to indicate that my opponent is better fitted for the position he seeks—and he certainly lacks the advantage of experience in municipal affairs.

Second. What do I mean by a progressive Riverton?

Answer. By a progressive Riverton I mean the promotion of a civic pride which manifests in good streets, proper curbing, suitable street lighting and an efficient police department. I have no thought of bringing factories or any industrial plants to Riverton. I believe I value and appreciate Riverton as a town of homes as much as any one. As to the "annexation" of East Riverton, I do not think of the subject in just that way. For several years residents of the Borough of Riverton and Cinnaminson Township have seen advantages to both municipalities which would result from combining under one form of government. When the time comes I shall be glad to see this union brought about, and, of course, East Riverton will probably be included in the new order of things, as it is a part of the township.

Third. What is your attitude as to the future of Bank Road?

Answer. The river bank is one of the beauty spots and breathing places of our borough, and will become even a greater asset as time goes on. In my opinion it should be kept in condition for public use and enjoyment. The roadway should be as well kept as other streets in the borough, and the lawn and wall should be maintained in a manner that will reflect credit on a self-respecting community. If the residents of Bank Avenue continue to fail to do this, then I believe the borough government should take over the roadway, lawn and wall and become responsible for their maintenance.

Fourth. What is your attitude on the enforcing of ordinances, the laying of sidewalks and curbing throughout all of the town? How do you stand on the question of permanent roads?

Answer. I believe absolutely in the impartial enforcement of all laws and ordinances. This has been demonstrated by my record. I approve of laying pavements and curbs in all sections of the town which are not already so improved.

The subject of permanent streets is too large to be decided by one individual. It should be submitted to the taxpayers of the borough. I approve of keeping our streets in good condition, and favor some durable type of road construction which will reduce upkeep to the minimum, but just what kind of roads should be built, or what method should be adopted in financing them, whether a street or two each year, or the whole town at once by means of a bond issue, have not been sufficiently considered by any of us to make it practical to announce a definite program at this time.

Sincerely,
EDWARD R. WILLIAMS.

AN OPEN LETTER

To the Citizens of Riverton In Answer to Mr. Killam E. Bennett

As a most interested citizen of Riverton, having been Councilman for more than seven years, I feel it incumbent upon me to call your attention to the open letter which appeared in your issue of June 9, 1927, signed by Mr. Killam E. Bennett, former Mayor of the Borough of Riverton.

This letter is not only one that is most misleading, but in some instances, it is entirely contradictory and a personal affront to the Present Mayor of Riverton and his staff of five councilmen.

In the first place, you state that your choice for Mayor, Mr. Rogers, has both experience and ability along this line.

While Mr. Rogers is no doubt a man of ability as you state, yet we cannot agree that he has had experience and is qualified for Mayor. It is my thought that to qualify for this position, first Mr. Rogers should have taken at least one term as Councilman in order to familiarize himself with this work.

Secondly, we cannot concur in your statement that the tax rate in Riverton was reduced through any effort of Mr. Bartley's. It is quite evident to every one who knows of the work of Mr. Bartley's office, that he cannot authorize, but can only carry out the instructions given him by the chairmen of the various committees who O. K. the different bills, and then he assigns them to the proper department, for reductions from that budget.

We are not writing to condemn your candidates, but while Mr. Rogers has been a resident of the Borough of Riverton for probably 18 years, we do not know of any civic work he has ever done, nor has he ever associated himself here in matters of this sort, and we cannot therefore agree with you as to his ability to handle this office.

Would you as a business man, care to employ and entrust the management of your business interests to a man who is entirely unfamiliar with its workings? Would it not be far wiser to select one from our midst who has served his apprenticeship as a Councilman and therefore is much better qualified to hold the office of the Mayor of Riverton?

May we not emphasize the qualifications of a man like Edward R. Williams, who has done a splendid work preliminary to this office, and who Mr. Bennett himself properly commended for his excellent services?

For Councilman, I know of no one better suited than E. Earle Perkins, whose letter appears in another column.

All we ask is that the readers of this paper will read and digest the above, for we know full well that if they realize just who the candidates are and their qualifications, they will vote for Mr. Williams, who has had long experience in Borough affairs.

Riverton Loses To Bushwicks

Locals Out-hit Visitors But Many Runners Die on Bases

Riverton suffered its third loss of the season on Saturday afternoon to the strong Bushwicks of Philadelphia. Riverton started off well by scoring two runs in the first inning. Their lead was only enjoyed for two innings for the visitors in their half of the third inning scored five large and juicy runs when Young suddenly lost control of his curves, and a couple of passes mixed with several long hits did the damage.

The visitors were still hungry for runs and helped themselves to two more in the fourth inning. From then on Young settled down, and backed up by steady support, kept them from visiting the plate for the rest of the afternoon.

In the meantime Riverton was having trouble locating Archibald when a hit meant some runs. Nary an inning went by unless there were some men left on bases.

The visitors accorded their pitcher excellent support and Riverton could only score one more run in the ninth inning which only served to make their total three.

Pep Young who played with Ed Williams' Ocean City Rivieras last year, covered the first base bag in big league style for Riverton in the absence of Cusack, who was unable to get here.

This Saturday Tinicium from Philadelphia will be here. Another good club, and the boys are bent on getting back in their winning stride again.

Mysterious Stranger Robs and Assaults

Fire Company Called Out To Join in Search, But Man Escapes

A stranger who has been operating in Riverton for the last two weeks has been causing residents and police department considerable uneasiness. About ten days ago he tried to force his way into the homeof George Steedle on Seventh street.

Friday night of last week an unsuccessful attempt was made to jimmy open a door at Steedle's garage. Saturday night a man sneaked up behind John Markel, of Riverside Park, one of the night men at the garage, while he was washing a car and knocked him over the head. Otis Harrison, also of Riverside Park, a fellow employee, came to his rescue and the stranger ran off. Harrison called the police booth on the telephone and officer Miller, after calling Fire Chief Walter Armstrong and asking him to sound the fire siren to summon assistance, hastened to the garage. A number of firemen answered the alarm and joined in the search but no trace of the stranger was found.

Sunday night the home of Harry Wenger, of Cinnaminson street was broken into and a watch and thirty-five dollars were taken from the room in which Wenger was sleeping.

It is thought that all of these escapades were perpetrated by the same individual.

Graduation at Riverton School

Many Books Given for Attendance; Edward P. Sordon Wins $20 Gold Prize

The graduating exercises of the Riverton Public School were held in the auditorium Wednesday evening of last week.

The address was made by William R. Murphy, A. B., Registrar, Rider College, Trenton.

The certificates were presented by Murray C. Boyer, president of the Board of Education, and in the absence of Sherman L. Warren, vice-president, books for perfect attendance were distributed by Francis B. Elwell.

Edward Preston Sordon, receiving the highest mark of the pupils from Riverton attending Palmyra High School, was presented with twenty dollars in gold by President Boyer on behalf of the Riverton Board. Sordon was valedictorian of the class of 1927 Palmyra High School.

CAMP 23 BASEBALL

Last Saturday afternoon the Palmyra Camp's "willow totera" went down to an 8-7 defeat at the hands of the strong league team at Collingswood in a ten-inning game.

Although the hits were rather plentiful for both teams, the game was really a pitchers battle. Les Daniels, the local's twirler, fanned 13 of Collingswood's "Babe Ruths," while Knipper, the firing end of the Collingswood battery, sent 15 back to the bench by the strike-out route.

"Sparrow" Freed was in the local's lineup and showed the Collingswood populace some classy fielding. Schmierer and Rhoades each hit home runs in the sixth frame. A man was on base when Schmierer hit the pill for a circuit run.

This Saturday the team from Camp 23 will play the strong Camp 2 team on the Pyne Point Field in Camden.

JUNIORS AID AMBULANCE

The Juniors of the Riverton Porch Club are proud to announce that through their efforts a check for $105 has been turned over to the Palmyra Ambulance Fund. The raising of this money, by means of a card party and cake sale, marks the maiden effort of the girls. The Junior Section was organized this winter with Mrs. Joseph Morgan as director. The Section has worked with interst and enthusiasm in whatever it undertook.

NEW FIRE EQUIPMENT ACCEPTED BY RIVERTON BOROUGH COUNCIL

Pumper Will Go Into Service at Once So That Old Truck May be Refitted

MAY USE BARGE FOR FIREWORKS DISPLAY

Mrs. H. Mellvain Biddle, member of the Shade Tree Commission, appeared before the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night to report on the work being done by the commission, and to state that owing to work it had been required to do in excess of its schedule, about $650 more would be needed. The extra work consisted of the removal of trees on Fourth street to make room for new curbing, and the removal of a large tree at Fourth and Lippincott where the highway department plans to raise the sidewalk to overcome a muddy condition. The Mayor assured Mrs. Biddle that the matter of funds would be taken care of by Council.

Councilman Lynch reported progress in the matter of the storm sewer at Broad and Cinnaminson street.

Mr. Lynch also reported that he had received word that the holes in the roadway on the river bank had been repaired.

Sewer Outlet

Councilman Hubbs reported that work on repairing the outlet of the Main street sewer had been held up for a week, waiting for better tide conditions. The end of the line had been disconnected and cleared of an accumulation of sticks and debris. When the repairing is done the U-shaped section will be taken out, and this, Mr. Hubbs believes, will prevent a reoccurence of the same trouble in the future.

Councilman Welsh reported that the new fire apparatus had arrived and that it conformed to the application. As the alterations to the old machine were included in the same contract, however, the Mayor suggested that the machine should not be accepted until the other work was done and the contract could be accepted as a whole. A representative of the American LaFrance Company, which sold the apparatus to the borough, explained that the new machine could not be put in service until it was accepted, and that as the old machine would be out of commission while alterations were being made, the non-acceptance of the new truck would leave the town without fire protection. In view of this fact the new apparatus was accepted.

Plans for Fourth

Councilman Hubbs reported progress on the Fourth of July celebration plans. The Mayor said he had seen in the newspaper that Palmyra wanted to join in the fireworks part of the program, and suggested that the Fourth of July committee, of which Mr. Hubbs is chairman, be given authority to make such arrangements as it saw fit in this matter, and the committee was so empowered.

Mr. Lynch said that if the vote on primary election day decided that the fireworks should be shown at the river, a barge would be hired and anchored off shore so as to show the display to the best advantage.

Mr. Hubbs started to say something about grass and weeds on the sidewalk, but the Mayor told him that this was in the hands of the supervisor of streets, who should give notice to property owners where this condition exists, and if it is not remedied, report to Council for action.

Councilman Lynch presented an ordinance to widen Howard street from Main to Fifth, and it passed first reading.

Plan Ordinance

Attention was called to the fact that in many places an open space had been left in the curbing for automobile driveways into the property, but that no driveway had been constructed. This leaves an unsightly breach in the curb line and allows the soil to wash down into the street. The highway committee was instructed, on a motion by Mr. Shuwell, to have an ordinance drawn taking charge of driveways.

The Mayor asked the property committee to look into the matter of having a flag pole erected on Memorial Park.

The building inspector submitted a report covering $11,000 worth of building operations and fees amounting to $28.50.

The health inspector remitted fees amounting to $8.00.

The Mayor appointed John Carlson member of the borough police force as of May 17, at which time he entered the service.

NEW FLAG POLE FOR MEMORIAL PARK

The Borough Property Committee of the Riverton Borough Council, Edward R. Williams chairman, has purchased a 60-ft steel flag pole for Memorial Park, and expects to have it erected before the Fourth of July. Flag-raising ceremonies will be part of the program on the Fourth.

The pole will be set in concrete, and will have a gilded ball at the top. Below the American flag at the top of the pole will be flown a pennant in the town colors, blue and yellow, bearing the inscription, "Memorial Park."

SENTIMENT GROWING FOR JOINT FIREWORKS DISPLAY

The proposal to have the Boroughs of Riverton and Palmyra pool their money for fireworks in one big display for Fourth of July night seems to meet with general approval.

The Rotary Club, the Lions Club, and the Chambers of Commerce in both towns are working toward a closer co-operation of the two communities in civic and governmental affairs, and this may be the starting point, for it is well known that if folks learn to play together they can learn to work together.

LETTER BY MR. ROGERS

A letter from Howard M. Rogers, candidate for Mayor of the Borough of Riverton, is published on the last page of this issue.

Chairman Urges Parade Change

With No Water Sports This Year, Interest Will Centre at Memorial Park

At a recent meeting of the Riverton Fourth of July Celebration Committee, the proposal to divert the parade from its accustomed course down Main street to the riverbank to a new line of march up Main street with Memorial Park as its objective, was given careful consideration. The new plan proposes to assemble the children at Fourth and Main streets, bring them up Main and across the railroad under careful police and scout protection, to turn left on Seventh street and march directly to the park grounds.

There seems to be every reason in favor of adopting the new scheme, which will be placed before the citizens at an open meeting to be held Wednesday June 22nd. Everyone interested in our local Fourth of July celebration is strongly urged to come out and express himself at that time. A majority opinion is what is wanted.

The plan was first advanced because of the present unsafe condition of the riverbank as a place for holding the athletic contests which are to be such an important part of the day's program. The Chairman of the Athletic Committee expressed himself as delighted with the idea of staging the events under his supervision in Memorial Park, where conditions are ideal both for spectators and participants. If the new plan receives the citizens approval, he promises to make his part of the program the most lively and interesting Riverton has ever seen.

Mr. Fred Hemphill, representing the Borough, expressed himself as heartily in favor of the plan, and the Celebration Committee as a whole put their endorsement of it in the form of a promise that a flagpole of suitable size would be erected on Memorial Park in time to make a formal flag-raising part of the ceremonies. A Memorial Park Dedication is even spoken of and surely no time could be more appropriate than on the coming Fourth.

In view of these facts it would seem foolish to so scatter our ammunition as to separate the Parade from all the other festivities of the day. So bearing these things in mind, come out on June 22 and add your vote of approval to the new plan.

Mrs. CHARLES YOST,
Chairlady of Baby Parade Committee.
CLARENCE HUBBS,
Chairman Fourth of July Committee.

CARLSON GETS TWO SPEEDERS

Officer Still Warring On Those Who Insist On Speeding Through Town

Monday evening of this week Officer Carlson "nailed" two more violators of the speed regulations in the Borough.

Harold A. Jaques, of Palmyra and Walter Smith, of Riverside, were arrested by Carlson at Eighth and Main streets, and were given a hearing at once before Justice of the Peace Jesse M. Coddington, who fined them $5.00 and costs.

Officer Carlson says "the motoring public is beginning to realize that speeding through this town is a thing of the past. There is still a lot of room for improvement in the driving of some of the Borough's own citizens, and they will be arrested and fined like the others if they continue to violate the automobile regulations."

The new officer does considerable patrol duty afoot, and he has all the motorists guessing where and when he will turn up next. Main street and Thomas avenue above the railroad are always good "hunting grounds." Another place that has not been all "worked out" by any means is Fourth and Thomas avenue.

FREEHOLDERS HAVE SPEEDY SESSION

The Burlington County Board of Freeholders broke all records for speed in handling its business last Friday, finishing the whole operation, including the payment of bills amounting to more than sixty thousand dollars, in less than half an hour.

Permission was granted the Moorestown Water Company to extend its line on North Church street, Moorestown, while the road is torn up, and the new service will be extended to the New Albany road.

It was learned that the Public Service Railway Company was tearing up its tracks on High street, Burlington, without having first gained the consent of the board, it being a county road and there being a question of whether the improved road would be damaged by the operation. The report was referred to Charles R. Stout, of the road department, and Solicitor Harold B. Wells.

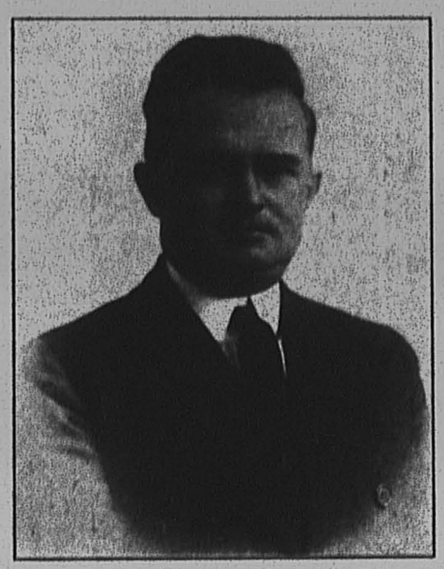

The following bills were ordered paid: Roads, $35,013.71; bridges, $4,799.87; public affairs, $14,485.46; finance, $950.57; public buildings, $6,214.31; making a total of $61,373.92.

Beauty Contest Ball of Honor

Big Dance to Eete Girl Entries at Mount Holly This Saturday

A dance in honor of the girls who are entered in the popularity contest being staged in connection with the firemen's celebration and old home week in Mount Holly in July, will be held in the handsome ballroom in the new Kutner, Bass & Kutner building, corner Main and Brainerd streets, Mount Holly, on Saturday night, June 18.

That date marks the closing of the preliminary contest that has been conducted by fire companies of the county. At the ball on June 18 the young women will hear the names of the fire companies they represent and will be introduced to those present. The contest is for the title "Miss Burlington County."

Bill Ford's County Club orchestra will furnish music for the ball, which will be open to the public. Tickets are 75 cents each and the proceeds of the ball will be used to entertain and buy prizes for the contestants during the week of the celebration.

The contract for decorations to be placed in Mount Holly in July, during the 175th birthday week of Relief Fire Company, has been awarded to Ancker Decorating Company and will be under the personal attention of G. V. Ancker, who is furnishing the decorations for Shrine Week at Atlantic City.

The Nat Reiss Shows has been awarded the contract to furnish the midway attractions for the firemen's celebration and old home week in Mount Holly, July 10 to 16 inclusive. Although the Nat Reiss shows are now in their 29th consecutive year, this is their first appearance east of the Mississippi. Before making a decision in the matter, Miss MacHugh, who is in charge of the celebration here, carefully investigated the Nat Reiss Shows and was gratified to learn that they are known as one of the few outdoor amusement organizations which have received favorable editorial endorsement from the press as to the character of their attractions and personnel. There is no doubt that the selection of these shows by Relief Fire Company to help celebrate its 175th birthday will meet the approval of the thousands of visitors to Mount Holly in July.

It is assured by the management of the Nat Reiss organization that their show this year, will have many new and novel features. Some of the attractions listed are the Georgia Minstrels, the monkey circus, mystification, auto and motordome, circus sideshow, Jolly Dixie, fairland, Main Street, the buggy ride, laughland, the joy ship, the tinymites, Diana, the End of the Road, the skooter, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, whip, the merry mix-em, the caterpillar and heyday.

The Nat Reiss Shows also carry two brass bands and several free acts.

Last Friday evening sixty-five pupils were conferred with the diploma of the Wilbur Watts High School at the commencement exercises which were held in the Fox Auditorium, High and Broad streets, Burlington, and well attended by the relatives and friends of the graduating class. The event likewise marked the end of the term for all the other schools in Burlington.

An excellent program was arranged in connection with the graduation, the big feature of which was an address by William T. Ellis, of Swarthmore. Mr. Ellis is a speaker of nation-wide fame and a traveler who has been to many parts of the globe. His address was both entertaining and informative, especially to the members of the class who were supposed to be particularly benefitted by it.

Admirers Banquet "Lena" Blackburne

Dinner Promoted by Len Baker Given at Walt Whitman Hotel

Russell "Lena" Blackburne, of Palmyra, now coach of the Chicago White Sox of the American Baseball League, was banqueted last night, Manager Ray Schalk and several other members of the Chicago White Sox team attended the banquet at the Walt Whitman Hotel, Camden, which was sponsored by Leonard R. Baker, a close friend of Blackburne.

Baker recently journeyed to Chicago, where he completed arrangements and received the assurance of Schalk and other players that they would be on hand. Chicago invaded Philadelphia to open a series with the Athletics.

Blackburne was signed by Ray Schalk last winter shortly after the veteran catcher assumed the managership formerly held by Eddie Collins, now with the Mackmen.

The Chicago White Sox, despite the loss of Johnny Mostil, fleet-footed outfielder, have been one of the surprises of the 1927 campaign. Both Schalk and Blackburne have instilled considerable fight and confidence into the team which is now figured to continue up among the leaders.

Schalk was one of the speakers at last night's banquet. The present leader of the White Hose first met Blackburne when both were playing with Chicago in 1914 and 1915. Three years before Blackburne had been instrumental in Schalk making his way to the big leagues when he was sent with Catcher Jimmy Block to the Milwaukee American Association Club as the price for Schalk's services.

Blackburne during his big-time career, cavorted in the infield for the White Sox, Cincinnati Reds, Boston Braves and Philadelphia Nationals. He retired from active playing last year after being with Little Rock of the Southern League.

Liquor Causes Double Arrest

Centreton Man Charged With Drunken Driving and Possession of Rum

David Meeks, of Centerton, was arrested twice during the last week, both times on account of liquor. Saturday afternoon his place in Centreton was raided by Troopers Doyle and Leon and Policemen Gaskill and Smires, and two bottles, partly filled with hooch, were found under the dog house. At a hearing before Supreme Court Commissioner Richard B. Eckman, on Monday, Meeks entered bail for appearance at Court on a charge of illegal possession of liquor.

Sunday night he was caught operating a car while intoxicated. He was arrested by Trooper Leon after having collided with another car. When arranged before Justice Kingdon, Meeks admitted his guilt and paid a fine of $200. His driver's license was sent to Trenton for revocation.

Alexander Lisiewski, of Camden, who was arrested in Riverside by trooper Brown, for reckless driving of an automobile, was given a hearing before Justice Kingdon, at Mt. Holly. The defendent admitted that this was his second offense. He was fined $200, which he paid promptly.

John Siamon, of Olney, Pa., was arrested by Officer Sires in Mount Holly for speeding. He was fined $10.

John Nutt, of Wrightstown, arrested by Trooper Brown for operating a car without a driver's license, was fined $10, and Ralph J. Wright, of Vincentown, was penalized $5 for speeding in North Hanover Township. The latter was arrested by Trooper Doyle. Both men were given a hearing before Justice Kingdon.

Harold R. Barratt, of Trenton, arrested by Policeman Shaedle, of Columbus, was fined $10 for speeding.

John Hutchinson and William Ware, both colored and both residents of Burlington township, were arrested at Fieldsboro by Trooper Doyle and were committed to jail on charges of being drunk and disorderly.

CHAMBERLIN IS WELL KNOWN IN NEW EGYPT

Clarence D. Chamberlin, who flew from New York to Germany, and is the holder of the world's long distance and duration air flight records, is well known at New Egypt.

"It was Mr. Chamberlin, who bought the Foulks Brothers' plane about a year ago and made his "take-off" on the Gaskill farm near New Egypt. Mr. and Mrs. Chamberlin made several visits to New Egypt, while Stuart and Milton Foulks, Joseph Watson, Joseph Davis and several others "had the flying fever."

Employed by a Lakewood man, Chamberlin last year incurred the displeasure of Interlaken police by flying over the Asbury Park suburb dropping handbills advertising a shore realty development.

A warrant subsequently was issued charging Chamberlin with disorderly conduct, but it was announced upon completion of his famous duration flight a few week's ago that the warrant would be withdrawn. Chamberlin evidently took the charge humorously, for he never bothered to go there to see what it was all about.

FARMS AND MACHINES.
OIL WASTE—PAY LATER.
OUR CIGARETTE TAX.
FORD NO. 15,000,000.

The hope of the farmer is in better machinery and more intelligent use of it. It is not alone the selling price of a bushel of wheat that counts but the amount of farm time and labor used to produce the bushel. A man working with pick and shovel could not afford to dig up and sort out gold bearing gravel if it paid him five dollars a ton average. But giant dredging machines in the Sacramento Valley are making millions working gravel that pays less than twenty cents a ton.

Edwin J. Clapp shows what machinery is doing and will do to help solve farm problems, and why United States farms can compete with European cheap labor, and even survive high railroad freight rates.

On American farms, one worker on the average produces twelve tons of cereal. In Europe one worker produces one and one-half tons.

From 1910 to 1920, American farm population increased only four per cent, while production of wheat increased fifty-eight per cent, corn thirty-five per cent, cotton forty-seven per cent, cattle thirty-seven per cent, hogs sixty five per cent.

The farm problem is not to be solved, according to Mr Clapp, by "keeping the boys on the farm," but by letting the boys go to the factories, using more machinery on farms and thus reducing cost of production.

"Light automobiles and trucks are being produced in greater volume than ever before." Such is the official report. There is only one cloud on the automobile horizon, and that's an oil cloud.

Reckless production and reckless price cutting in the oil industry mean trouble ahead for motor owners. Oil is being wasted, poured out and squandered on sandy roads, wherever public officials can be persuaded to buy it at public expense.

Oil production is wastefully managed, prices are low but today's low prices will be paid for with high prices later.

The country needs a continuous oil and gasoline supply, at fair prices, which the Government should regulate.

The nation now is acting like a drunken youth, squandering a rich inheritance.

Lindbergh has good ideas. An enthusiastic French lady intended to spend 150,000 francs for a cup to celebrate his flight. He accepted gratefully and asked that the 150,000 francs be spent instead on children of French aviators who lost their lives promoting aviation. Lindbergh is a good representative of this country in Europe.

* * *

When Count Witte was in this country, representing Russia in the peace arrangements with Japan, he told this writer the national monopoly of vodka, the Russian drink, forty per cent alcohol, and sixty per cent water, which he originated, gave a profit just big enough to pay the cost of the Russian army.

It would interest Witte to know that the United States tax on cigarettes just about pays the cost of our army. Uncle Sam collected $227,000,000 in ten months this year from cigarette smokers.

A full fiscal year's cigarette tax will about pay all army costs.

If Government could collect the tax that the public pays to bootleggers it might pay ALL Government expenses.

Henry Ford last week watched his machinery grind out Ford car No. 15,000,000, and celebrated by taking a ride in the first car he ever built. Old car No. 1 with its two cylinders was taken out of the Ford museum and driven by Henry Ford with car No. 15,000,000 driving beside it.

A new Ford car, with a different gear shift, double the old Ford power and a speed of sixty miles an hour and more, will be seen in the late Summer or early Fall. That will begin a new Ford family.

How much have 15,000,000 Ford cars meant in happiness to this country — through freedom of movement? How many BILLION miles have they traveled?

YOUNG VOTERS HIT BY REFERENDUM

About 5,600 In State Eligible To Ballot in November Affected

About 5,600 persons in New Jersey eligible to be registered and to cast ballots in the general election November 8 will be legally disfranchised so far as the special constitutional referendum election September 20 is concerned.

The bar is raised against them by Section 10 of the Makay act of this year providing machinery for the referendum. This section provides that "all persons entitled to vote in this state for members of the General Assembly at the time of the said special election shall be entitled to vote in their respective election districts or precincts, provided they shall have been registered as herein provided."

In other words, persons who reach their twenty-first birthdays between September 20 and November 8 are not entitled to vote for members of the Assembly.

The names of these prospective general election voters will appear, however, on the registry lists for the special election, and, unless they voluntarily abstain from attempts to vote, the only effectual check upon them would be by challenges.

Vital statistics gathered by the state indicate that approximately 3,500 persons reach the age of 21 each month. One month and nineteen days will intervene between the two elections and, on this basis, the number of new voters who, of registered for the November election is 5,609.

The women in the mountains of southern Serbia have trimmed their hair with sheep shears in a "childish bob" since antiquity.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

We Are Biscuit Cutters

The charge is brought against America that it represents a biscuit cutter civilization.

That is, that goods which are manufactured, as well as the minds of the people generally, are in a set form. There is too much unanimity and sameness about life and not enough individualism.

Well, the biscuit cutter idea has something to be said in its favor. It means standardization of products. It means that parts shall be made by machinery and shall be of an interchangeable nature. Almost all the reduction in price and the enormous product of our concerns have been due to the elimination of waste and expense by standardization.

In newspaper columns it is said that in five years the industrial output has increased 40 per cent. One manufacturer says: "One man working steadily for 8 hours used to turn out 60 pieces an hour, or 480 a day. He got $65 a week. Then we put in machines. We have 30 men on the job and we put out 14,000 pieces a day."

This story has been multiplied by many.

Cotton seed, once a waste product, has been used in many ways. In Wisconsin they are making paper from peat. Because of this standardization and our immensely increased products we have become the wealthiest nation in the world. We are producing not only surplus cotton and wheat, but surplus industrial products and we have a surplus of money.

We are richer than ever was a nation before.

We own 20,000,000 motor cars, millions of homes and we travel and live luxuriously.

Savings deposits in banks are twice as much as they were twenty years ago.

We are supplying the world with capital. New York has effectively challenged the financial leadership of London. Our people now hold bonds to the extent of six billion dollars and the foreign indebtedness to the United States is now in excess of sixteen billion dollars.

Mr. Welton says: "The fact that American is not only the richest country in the world, but richer than any country ever was before and it is destined to become still richer."

The biscuit cutter civilization, reduced to its lowest terms, simply means that our people have learned to cooperate and to save waste as well as utilize the forces of nature.

In agricultural Kansas in sixteen hours, 17,196 motor vehicles were counted on seven highways leading out of Topeka and only thirty-five horse-drawn vehicles.

SOCIETY WILL MEET AT SALEM

Historical Association Social Event At Friend's Meeting House

Keen interest is being taken in the special meeting of the Burlington County Historical Society which will be held in the Friends' Meeting House, East Broadway, Salem, on Saturday afternoon, June 18, because of the close association of Salem and Burlington at the time of the settlement of the two towns.

The program will include a box lunch at one o'clock and a historical talk at two o'clock. Another feature will be a visit to the immense oak tree which stands in the meeting house yard. The tree is over four hundred years old.

Few people go to Salem without visiting the oak, which majestically covers a large part of the burying ground. There is a tablet on the burying ground wall, which was placed by the New Jersey Society of Pennsylvania during the quarter millennial anniversary of the town a year ago.

To The Voters and Taxpayers of Burlington County

J. LLOYD WRIGHT

As a former Director of Finance of the Board of Freeholders, J. Lloyd Wright instituted methods which opened new sources of revenue without imposing any additional burden upon the taxpayers. He goes before the voters of Burlington county for re-election with an excellent record.

When Mr. Wright took charge of the county finances, he made an intensive study of the financial situation from every angle, with the result that he has secured for the taxpayers of Burlington county revenue amounting to $39,547.82, from sources which never before had yielded anything. This money was derived from the sale of county bonds at a premium and interest on daily balances in the county's checking account in the various banks. Before Mr. Wright's administration, no interest was allowed on daily balances. Prior to Mr Wright's administration, the county bonds were sold at par, bringing to the county no profit. Since he has been Director of Finance, these bonds have been advertised and sold to the highest bidder. The income from the premium on these sales has amounted to $28,049.84.

As Chairman of the Road Committee at the time the progressive system of road improvements was inaugurated, Mr. Wright had a conspicuous part. In less than five years seventy-five miles of permanent roads were built, until now all the towns of any considerable size in the county are connected with improved highways.

If nominated and elected Mr Wright's vote and influence in the Board will be exerted on the side of an extension of the progressive and permanent road program as rapidly as the finances of the county will permit.

While in office Mr. Wright was widely recognized as one of the most efficient members of the Board of Freeholders, both by reason of his long experience in public affairs and his progressive attitude toward the problems now facing the taxpayers of Burlington county.

WHAT IS BACK OF THE SENATORIAL FIGHT?

The most active campaign for the State Senatorship that has been waged in Burlington County for many a year is gaining velocity as the Primary Election draws near.

Within the last week or ten days there has been a rapidly growing realization that a great deal more is involved in this contest than a simple fight between two men who aspire to the same office, and with this realization has come a tremendous swing of public sentiment toward Senator Roberts.

Many who were carried off their feet by the whirlwind campaign of the Powell supporters have had time to get their second wind, so to speak, and on sober reflection have decided that Senator Roberts is not only entitled by his record to be returned to the Senate, but that he is just the type of man to represent Burlington County, all the vociferous spellbinding to the contrary notwithstanding.

The cry raised by Roberts' opponents that he "has been there long enough" is evidence that they have no good reason to present to the voters why he should be retired.

Their plea that he does not accomplish things is completely disproved by a list of bills as long as your arm which he has been instrumental in having passed. Among other things, he sponsored legislation which enabled Burlington County to finance eighty miles of permanent road construction, and in addition secured $80,000 State aid for County roads.

On the other hand we have in Clifford R. Powell, his opponent, an enterprising young man who seeks to oust Roberts from the Senate in order that he may have his seat.

But back of it all is a much deeper reason than a young man's ambitions. Burlington County, always voting dry, and doing the best it can to obtain law enforcement under the handicap it suffers in quarters from which co-operation could be rightfully expected, has been a thorn in the side of powerful interests and influences which would have it otherwise.

The New Jersey Mirror says editorially this week:

> "Frankly, it is not so much a question any longer, whether Senator Roberts shall retain his seat or whether Assemblyman Powell shall supplant him, as it is whether the discredited crowd which has long been knocking at the door of party domination, shall at last "get Charley Stout" and the others identified with him in party affairs for several years past.
> "It has been said that this is the crucial campaign of the decade in Burlington county politics. For some men it is all of that. Upon the decision to be rendered at the Primaries next Tuesday will depend the ability of men now in official station for the suppression and detection of crime, to continue the use of their offices for the furtherance of selfish ambitions and desire for revenge. On that popular verdict will depend in no less measure the future of the Republican party—whether it will continue to be maintained on the high plane of recent years, led by men whose public and private life is above suspicion, whose service to the county both in official and private capacity, has been clean and above board, or whether it is to be run on the basis of protection to boot-leggers and dive-keepers, and the ability to hire enough political pan-handlers to buy elections over the will of the respectable element among the party voters."

Pretty strong language! But the editor of the Mirror lives in Mounty Holly, right in the midst of the things of which he speaks, and ought to know what he is talking about.

There isn't even a QUESTION as to the motives of Senator Roberts and the principles for which he stands.

Why turn out a man of proven worth? Why take even a small chance?

If you believe in the things Senator Roberts stands for, you KNOW he will be loyal and steadfast.

If you REALLY care about these things, vote for Senator Roberts next Tuesday and get your neighbor to do likewise.

THE LOCAL POLITICAL POT

The approach of the Primary Election finds two camps in Riverton, each valiantly doing battle for the nomination of their favorite candidates. Both sides solemnly assure the inquirer that "things look good."

It is difficult to determine which group has made the greatest progress during the past week. For the last three or four weeks friends of Candidate Rogers and the two councilmen running on his ticket (Messrs. Randall and Bartley,) have been laying before the voters of Riverton the qualifications of the men of their choice.

Councilman Williams, who is also a candidate for Mayor, has held his fire until the last week, and in this issue he virtually states his platform in an answer to a letter addressed to him by one of the residents of the borough.

Mr. Rogers also makes a declaration of principles in an open letter addressed to the voters of Riverton.

Both sides also publish letters signed by their supporters.

E. Earle Perkins, independent candidate for member of the Borough Council, states his platform in a half-page advertisement, embellished with his picture.

The Riverton Civic League again appeals to the voters on behalf of its candidates with the same advertisement that was published a month ago, carrying pictures of the men and a brief statement of their qualifications.

And so, with their forces all primed for the conflict, both groups await with equal confidence the issue of the big battle of ballots next Tuesday.

Whatever the result, this much has been accomplished—men and women who have for years failed to take their part in civic affairs have been aroused to a realization of the peril that lurks behind the banner of General Apathy, and to a more lively sense of their duties as citizens of the borough—and this is no small thing.

In the contest for Freeholder the nomination of Howard Russ, veteran of many political battles, is conceded by both sides, and of the remaining five in the field Charles J. Meyers of Maple Shade, is rapidly forging to the front and may be expected to win the remaining seat next Tuesday.

C. Kenneth Davis and Robert C. Ayres are contestants for the office of borough collector.

NEXT TUESDAY?

Will County Detective Ellis Parker's boast that "The Underworld will defeat Senator Roberts" be made true?

DISAPPROVES OF NEW FOURTH PLAN

June 14, 1927

My dear Mr. Bowen:

Since The New Era was published last week, and the plans for July 4th were made known, I have heard nothing but adverse criticisms concerning them. The general opinion is that for Memorial Day, school sports, baseball and football, Memorial Park is admirable. But for a celebration such as on the Fourth of July, when Riverton keeps open house, there is no place like the River Bank.

I am sure that a small amount of labor will smooth and level the place where the children's races are held, and the comfort of the band, under the trees, where so many can listen to the music all day, is not to be questioned. I, as one of the residents there, will guarantee safety to passersby, and, I am sure the others will also.

Many people have suggested more sports, particularly some canoe events, and not such expensive prizes. It used to be the custom to give a useful article, and all were pleased, though little was spent on each.

Yours truly,
MARGARET F. J. REESE.

Thinking About a Car?

A chance to let someone else pay for the first depreciation. Essex coach, one year and nine months old, carefully driven, and properly serviced thruout its life.

Car has run only 13,000 miles and new motor installed six months ago has run only 3,000 miles. Goodyear service man estimates five tires will average 5,000 to 7,000 more miles. Complete 1927 insurance coverage goes with car which is fully equipped.

To anyone who would consider a used car if they could be sure of its history this car at $400 is a good buy. Car is being offered because owner is negotiating for larger car under conditions which do not permit trade-in.

Address letter to "ESSEX COACH," New Era Office, Riverton and full trial can be arranged.

MUSICALE

A Rose-time musicale was given by the younger pupils of Clara B. Person in her studio at 4th and Cinnaminson avenue, Saturday last.

It was a very pleasing and varied program that an enthusiastic audience heard, as beside a number of piano solos, songs and readings by these young artists, an instructive little sketch entitled "The Lesson Hour" was given by Mrs. Person, Charles Heck and Helen Friberg.

As a surprise for her pupils, Mrs. Person presented Mrs. Robert Handforth, a talented soprano singer, whom she accompanied in "Sing Me To Sleep" by Edwin Greene. Robert Handforth, violinist, played the violin obligato.

This is the fourth and last musicale of the season and those who have been fortunate enough to attend each of these musicales can easily see the improvement in the work of these young artists.

ALUMNI BANQUET

Dinner and Dance Given in Honor of PHS Seniors

The second annual banquet of the Palmyra High School Alumni Association, a dinner and dance, held as a reception to the 1927 graduating class, Tuesday night in the high school, was a huge success. It was a "wow" according to Calvin Boal, president of the Alumni Association.

A large crowd turned out, mingled with old friends and had a jolly good time. The first part of the entertainment was the banquet held in the lunch room. Dr. Francis S. Voorhis was the speaker of the evening and those present were entertained immensely by his talk.

After the banquet was over the crowd retreated to the gym of the high school where a peppy dance was held. Here the music was very good, the syncopation being furnished by the well-known "Vagabonds."

MEANS—CROWELL

A beautiful June wedding took place last Saturday, June 11th, at four-thirty o'clock in the afternoon, in Christ Church, Riverton, when Miss Helen Keen Crowell, daughter of Mr. James Gardner Crowell, became the bride of Mr. James MacGregor Means, of Boston, and Manchester-by-the-Sea.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sarah Yarnall Crowell, as maid of honor, and the bridesmaids were: Miss Helen Capron, of Edgewater Park; Miss Katherine Bankson Roach, of Philadelphia; a cousin of the groom; Miss Helen White, of Riverton, a cousin of the bride; Miss Mary Dennison, of Dobbs Ferry, N. Y.; Mrs. J. Beresford W. Waller, of Philadelphia, and Manchester-by-the-Sea, a sister of the groom.

Mr. Lloyd B. Means, a brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were Mr. James Gardner Crowell, a brother of the bride; Mr. Joseph H. Roach, Jr., of New York; Mr. Isaac Roach, of Philadelphia; Mr. William H. Baker, of Riverton; Mr. John Churchill and Mr. Ludwig Morehead, of Andover, Mass.

The bride wore a gown of white satin, with a lace veil over tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of brides roses. The maid of honor was gowned in yellow georgette crepe and carried yellow roses and blue larkspur. The bridesmaid wore blue georgette and carried yellow roses and blue larkspur.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's cousin, Rev. Frederick B. Halsey, of Germantown, assisted by Rev. A. S. Lewis, rector of Christ Church.

The organist was Edward B. Halsey, of Haverford, Pa.

The church was decorated with daisies and summer flowers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbes White, of Fulton street.

After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Means will reside in Hartford, Conn.

CRIPPLED KID'S CLINICS

At the semi-monthly clinic for crippled children at the Burlington County Hospital, seventeen patients were examined or received treatment. This work is being done under the auspices of the Elk's fraternity, and seems to be increasing instead of diminishing, as might be supposed. Children from all parts of the county are included in the charitable work. Dr. Francis S. Chambers, of Philadelphia, is the orthopedic specialist at these clinics.

Roberts' Detractors Called to Account

Article in Burlington Enterprise Shown Up by Senator's Campaign Manager

The Burlington Enterprise, June 13th, contained an article "Reasons Why Roberts Should Not Be Returned."

1. He has been in the Senate long enough.

Ans. A majority of the members have been in the Senate as long or longer than Senator Roberts.

2. He has sponsored no important legislation.

Ans. Unfair and untrue. He has a record of constructive achievement.

Reference: Senate Journal

Pamphlet "Why Roberts Should be Returned"

Letter—"Why Farmers Should Return Roberts."

3. He was for the doe bill and then against it.

Ans. He was never for the doe bill.

4. He passed but one law in 1927.

Ans. To pass a bill a Senator must have the cooperation of the assemblyman. This he did not have. On the other hand Roberts in a sportsmanlike way secured the passage of all of Mr. Powell's bills that came to the Senate.

In his service in the Legislature Mr. Powell has not secured the passage of a single law that was not sponsored and defended in the Senate by Senator Roberts. Mr. Roberts has always given full cooperation in the passage of Mr. Powell's bills. When he could not approve he quickly advised Mr. Powell. (Example—Assembly Bill No. 251—1923—known as the Ellis Parker bill—which would have terminated the term of Colonel Schwartzkopf, Superintendent of State Police, and provide for the appointment of one who had served ten years as County Detective or Police Officer, thereby enabling Ellis Parker to secure the position.)

"HOLD THAT LION"

Service Club Benefit to be Held Next Wednesday

Don't forget the motion picture benefit for the Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club, to be held at the Broadway Palace, Palmyra, Wednesday evening, June 22. There will be two shows, at 7.45 and 9.30.

The feature picture will be Douglas McLean in "Hold That Lion." McLean is a member of the Pasadena, California, Lions Club and is at his best in this picture. "Hold That Lion" is a side-splitting, laugh-a-minute comedy and is bound to drive away your blues. McLean will thrill you with stunts that are not in the books. He is miles ahead of so-called western stars. Romance, action and thrills! Don't dare miss it. If you are afraid to laugh, you had better stay away. A real side-splitting comedy, there's no getting away from it.

McLean goes on a real "Cat Hunt" in this picture, but is fooled as he thought it was a "pussy" hunt. As this is the first time that the Lions are raising money outside the club and as the proceeds go toward their summer work for the children of the two communities, everyone should help by buying a ticket.

The admission is 35c for adults. Children's tickets are not on sale but may be purchased at the box office the night of the show for 15c. Don't forget, two shows. Come early.

ing that the voters will be hoodwinked into voting against Senator Roberts in order to show their disapproval of the so called "machine."

Senator Roberts has never been controlled by an individual, clique or machine. He is regarded in the Senate as one of the most independent men in that Body.

(5) The statement made by Mr. Rigg in his article that I had thrown into the campaign the war record of Emmor Roberts is absolutely untrue and unfounded, and was made by Mr. Rigg as an excuse to speak in glowing terms of the war record of Mr. Powell against which record not one word has ever been spoken by Senator Roberts, by me or by any other Roberts supporter.

The war record of Mr. Powell, splendid as it was, has nothing whatever to do with this campaign. He, like thousands of other boys, did his duty and merits our praise.

That, however, does not justify the inference contained in Mr. Rigg's article that Senator Roberts who was no slacker in the war, should be cast aside in order to make a place for Mr. Powell, who has a field of service in the House of Assembly.

Those Salary Grabs

(6) The statement made by Mr. Rigg that Mr. Powell deserves credit for killing all the salary grab bills is also untrue. While Mr. Powell may have voted against certain salary increase measures, yet he has also supported many such bills.

Why do the supporters of Mr. Powell make these false statements and then accuse Senator Roberts and his supporters of lying and deceit?

Why do they insist on repeating the lie that there was a promise on the part of Senator Roberts not to run against Mr. Powell for the Senate?

Why does Mr. Rigg falsely state that Mr. Powell has refused a tender of either the judgeship or prosecutorship as bait to withdraw from the Senatorial contest?

He knows that no such promise was made or could be made by any one authorized to do so.

The statements made in the papers giving Powell credit for all the legislation of beneficial character, affecting Burlington County, that has been passed by the New Jersey Legislature is too ridiculous to notice, and the accusation that Senator Roberts has done nothing to deserve our commendation is also contradicted by a long list of achievements for his constituents.

Has Served Faithfully

He has served faithfully and well and the object of this statement is not to praise Senator Roberts but to deny the many false and malicious statements made by those in charge of Mr. Powell's campaign.

The question in the campaign is why should Senator Roberts be dishonorably dismissed by the Republicans of Burlington County from further service in the Senate? I have repeatedly asked this question but thus far it has not been answered.

I know of no reason why Burlington County should place the stigma of disapproval upon Senator Roberts by defeating him at the Primaries and hence I shall do all I honorably can to send him back with the Scriptural commendation, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

HAROLD B. WELLS.

FIREMEN PARADE

Last Friday evening the Riverton Fire Department and the Palmyra Fire Department paraded the streets of the two towns as a means of advertising "The Fire Brigade" which was shown at the Broadway Palace this Monday and Tuesday evenings. The show was for the benefit of the Palmyra and Riverton departments.

Palmyra had its three pieces of equipment in line and Riverton had its two pumpers and the firemen in their new uniforms.

ORDINANCE

An Ordinance providing for the increase of the width of the roadway of that section of Howard street between Main Street and Fifth street, from twenty-eight feet to twenty-nine feet seven and one-half inches, by moving the curb on the easterly side of said section of Howard street the distance of one foot, seven and one-half inches toward the property line, thereby reducing the width of the sidewalk on the easterly side of said section of Howard street from sixteen feet to fourteen feet, four and one-half inches.

BE IT ORDAINED, by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton:

1. That the roadway of that section of Howard street between Main street and Fifth street be increased from its present width of twenty-eight feet to twenty-nine feet, seven and one-half inches, by moving the curb on the easterly side of said section of Howard street the distance of one foot, seven and one-half inches toward the property line, thereby reducing the width of the sidewalk on the easterly side of said section of Howard street from sixteen feet to fourteen feet, four and one-half inches.

2. That in all cases where curbs have heretofore been constructed on the easterly side of said section of Howard street, on a line sixteen feet from the property line, said improvements shall be made as a general improvement, to be paid for by general taxation.

3. All acts and parts of acts in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed and this act shall take effect immediately.

NOTICE is hereby given that the foregoing ordinance was introduced at a regular meeting of Council of the Borough of Riverton held on the 9th day of June, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, and that at a regular meeting to be held in the Council Chamber of the Borough of Riverton, on the fourteenth day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, at the hour of eight o'clock in the evening, Daylight Saving Time, the said Council will consider the final passage of said Ordinance.

By Order of the Council.
DANIEL M. CLIFTON,
Borough Clerk.

Dated 6|9|27.

The Campaign In Palmyra

George N. Wimer is Opposed by John S. Warner for Office of Mayor

The local campaign in Palmyra has almost been lost sight of in the heat of the Senatorial fight.

Two candidates are out for Mayor on the Republican ballot.

John S. Warner, former councilman and prominent real estate operator, is contesting the Republican nomination with George N. Wimer, councilman and real estate man.

Mr. Warner has been very successful in his business affairs and has gained a county wide reputation for his shrewdness and business ability. He has long been the leading real estate operator in Palmyra and Riverton and is now interested in large developments in both towns.

Mr. Wimer, a man of past sixty, has been identified with the growth and development of the town since boyhood. He has always taken a prominent part in all civic and municipal movements. He recently retired from active business.

Both men have hosts of friends and some enemies.

First in Field

Mr. Wimer was first in the field for Mayor, having yielded to the request of a committee of citizens who called to urge him to make the race. He has made no active canvass and is said to feel that he would not care for the office unless the majority of citizens voluntarily support him.

Mr. Wimer's chief political activity in this campaign has been in the support of State Senator Emmor Roberts for renomination and he believes that the election of Roberts is of more importance to good government and high political ideals than his own election as Mayor.

For Borough Council four men are contesting for two places. The fifth candidate, Arthur Cramer, has no opposition, inasmuch as he filed his petition for the unexpired term of J. Warren Beahn and the other candidates are all running for full term places, of which two are to be filled.

Councilman Julius Fisher is a candidate for re-nomination. Mr. Fisher is a citizen of the solid, conservative type. He is a hard and conscientious worker and is well acquainted and experienced with the sewer department of which he has charge.

New Candidates

Fred G. Fromuth is one of the new candidates. He filed his petition for the vacancy created by the expiration of Mr. Wimer's term.

Mr. Fromuth has been active in civic and municipal affairs for several years and has a reputation for clear thinking and conscientious work. He is a man of unusually high ideals of service and patriotism and talks with a modesty and conviction that leaves no doubt of his sincerity.

Fred W. Seeber is another real estate man in the field. Formerly manager of the Lester Fortnum Agency, the position now held by Mr. Fromuth, Mr. Seeber turned from that activity to the buying and selling of real estate and the development of local tracts. He has found time to devote much energy to civic projects, having been active in the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations.

Mr. Seeber is also known for his energy and constant application of effort to any proposition in which he becomes interested.

His First Plunge

Edwin F. Patterson is another man who has ventured into the more or less turbulent waters of politics for the first time with ambitions to sit in Borough Council. He has lived in Palmyra a number of years and has been chiefly known for his interest in the work of fraternal organizations, but has also been active in the Chamber of Commerce. He has a likable personality and has many friends among the lodges.

As far as any "ticket" has been formed, it is understood that Fromuth and Fisher are considered as running mates of Mr. Wimer for Mayor.

Mr. Fisher's name also appears on the Democratic primary ballot and Elvin I. Powell has likewise filed for the Democratic nomination.

PALMYRA NOTES

The report of the Palmyra Building and Loan Association for May 31 shows that the assets are now more than one million dollars, of which $930,350 is in the form of mortgage loans in this vicinity. The total shares are 13,662. This represents quite an increase over the figures shown in the February report.

Prof. Philip Vollmer delivered two lectures on "Christ's Idea of the Kingdom of God" at the Atlantic District Conference, Irvington, N. J.

Dr. and Mrs. Clement Vollmer arrived last Friday from Durham, N. C., and are staying with Dr. Vollmer's parents, 101 Memorial avenue.

Mrs. Milton M. Klotz of Highland avenue witnessed the Shriner's parade held in Atlantic City on Tuesday.

Dr. and Mrs. Dean H. LeFavor of 802 Morgan avenue, are now occupying the Zimerman property at 608 Highland avenue.

The Epworth Sunday School will hold its annual outing and picnic at Cedar Lake on Saturday, July 16th. Keep the date open.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lorenz of Lincoln avenue, visited relatives in Philadelphia on Sunday.

Mrs. Bennett Longfield, of Philadelphia, formerly Miss Rebecca Stiles, of Palmyra, was operated on for appendicitis at the Northeastern hospital, Philadelphia, last Thursday morning.

Mrs. Bada Wright and children, the Misses Verna, Doris and Stella, and Lloyd, Herman and Elvin, of Indian Mills, visited with relatives in Palmyra on Sunday.

Miss Margaret Giberson spent Sunday at Glassboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbett Ruggles are spending a week at Altoona, Pa.

Mrs. E. S. Childs returned to her home in Brooklyn on Monday, after spending a month with Mrs. George M. Becker.

Miss Helene Johnson has returned home from Juniata College for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Wilbraham and son, Henry, attended the graduating exercises of the Friends' Select School, at 17th and Parkway, last Friday afternoon. Their niece, Miss Louise H. Bowen, was one of the graduates and took part in the program. Miss Bowen lived in Palmyra several years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Giberson attended the annual outing of the Pioneers of the Bell Telephone Co., at Wernersville, Pa., last Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Himelspark, of 735 Highland avenue have moved to 735 Morgan avenue.

Sol Romm left last Saturday for Saratoga Springs, N. Y. and expects to return home Friday.

Mrs. George Snyder and son, Junior, have returned after spending a few days at the Oceanic Hotel in Ocean City.

The Fire Company held a fire drill Monday night. These drills are held every second Monday in each month.

Thirty-five ladies of the Friendship Circle of the Epworth M. E. Sunday School were children once again on Monday evening when the class held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Rose Leach of Cinnaminson. Delightful circus refreshments were served and renewed youth was evident by the disappearance of everything eatable. The class will dispense with the meetings until September.

Miss Alyce Walton of Merchantville and Miss Dorothy R. Ives of West Philadelphia, were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Wilbert L. Rich on Friday evening last.

The Person's School of Music at Fourth and Cinnaminson avenue closed a very successful season June 11th. Some excellent work has been done in this school the past season by all pupils. Dorothy M. Mays, 313 Leconey avenue, held first place on the honor roll for the entire season as she was never tardy or absent. Her report shows the highest percentage for good lessons. She received over two hundred gold stars and six reward cards and also completed the first grade of the Hamilton Writing course for which she received a certificate of award. She held third place in Club work. Vera Wooldridge, 501 Cinnaminson avenue, has the record of having the best monthly tests for the entire season. She received 100% and a silver star each month. She holds first place in club work for which she received first prize. Jane Fluck, 402 Cinnaminson avenue, holds second place in club work for which she received second prize. Of the younger pupils, those who have made the most improvement in expression are: 1st, Jane Fluck, 2nd, Charles Heck and 3rd, John Marshall.

AN INVISIBLE PART OF EVERY AUTOMOBILE

"When a man buys a car he is buying something more than the various parts and materials that make up the machine," says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company.

"The ability of the dealer to assume full responsibility for the local performance of the car is something that the shopper doesn't see, but which he buys none the less. How much or little he gets depends upon the kind of dealer he patronizes.

"If this were not true there would be no place for automobile dealers in the great world of motordom."

Chicago has a clock that registers the time of twelve of the great cities of the world.

ARE THE RAILROADS ASLEEP AT SWITCH

The first of a series of articles dealing with observations of the transportation facilities along the Trenton Division.

The cynical gentleman who recently shared my seat in one of the coaches of a commuter's train on the Trenton Division, declared emphatically and somewhat lugubriously that the railroads were asleep at the switch."

However, I could not submit entirely to his abstract view point. I concluded that the railroads were, in certain phases of the situation, dozing. In view of this condition, I decided to dig up as many facts as I could, myself.

To begin with, the Trenton Division derives its motive power from steam; that means that for each and every train which traverses the rails a steam engine or locomotive must be provided with engineer and fireman to operate it.

After the peak hours, night and morning, have been passed, there is a sudden falling off in the number of passengers and an attendant shrinkage in the number of coaches. Some of these light inbetween trains are eating into the revenue of the heavies.

The scooter type was recently tried on this and other divisions. It was taken off. Why, we do not exactly know, but we presume that it did not pay. The scooter has six gears in train, which means a slow getaway and a wastage of fuel.

If the gasoline electric drive has stabilized the bus industry why can't it make for economics in the operation of inbetween trains? Instead of building special cars of light construction for scooter service, why not take a standard stock, steel baggage and passenger coach and place in the baggage section two gasoline electric generating outfits. All coaches of course to be provided with meters. When only two coaches are required one generating outfit would be sufficient to operate the train; when three, four or possibly five coaches are required, both generating units would generate sufficient current to haul the train. Of course, when the traffic gets over these limits, steam operated trains would be necessary. In this manner, the Trenton Division would have a mere flexible motive department to meet any and all conditions. It might be possible, in fact it should be possible, to operate more trains and to win back some of the traffic which has swung over to other means of transportation.

In a large number of industries there seems to be a downward trend in material costs, but commutation rates have remained the same. To my mind, the ticket selection is not sufficiently large enough to meet all requirements. You may purchase a single trip at a high rate; a slight economy is gained in the purchase of a hundred trip ticket; the same way with the fifty under given conditions; the old standby, the sixty trip ticket, is the most used, but there is nothing between it and the ten trip ticket. If commutation rates can be reduced and we are obliged to pay government taxes on the pasteboards under the thirty mile limitation, possible a twelve or fourteen ride ticket good for one week at one fourth of the cost of a sixty trip, plus a surcharge of fifteen cents would encourage some of the summer transients to tarry a little while longer and thereby deposit additional shekels in the railroad treasury. Family tickets, fifteen or twenty rides, good for one month are logical and would in a large measure help to fill the gap in the ticket situation.

Several of our Sunday trains have been removed. The first train for Camden now comes down long after breakfast on Sunday morning, that is, if you do not postpone the first meal until the noon hour. It didn't pay . . . too many deadheads, says the railroad, but it could be made to pay, by pushing it ahead forty-five minutes and advertising at every station, that this train connects with all excursion trains for the seashore. "You can purchase your excursion ticket right at this station and it will be good on both trains." Instead of providing the inhabitants of the various towns with an occasional excursion service to the seashore on some of the Sundays during the summer months, a year round service could and would be provided.

Where there is accessibility there is growth. Nothing can hurt really values quicker than a curtailed train service, for the railroads are the first and logical means of transportation.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

Nate Otterbein, editor of the Klamath Falls (Oregon) News says:

That if you would only count your blessings you would have no room for a grouch.

Our standard of living in this golden age is so far ahead of the "good old days" and our numerous improvements and inventions have made such a difference in the mode of life, that one has only to "Stop and Think" to realize that it must be a warped nature, indeed, that can find room for discontent.

Tune in on the radio after dinner and listen in on the doings of the world seated in your "comfy" chair; call up the folks across the continent and learn how things are with them; bring out the car and visit the neighbors anywhere within thirty miles, spend a pleasant hour or two and return home by bedtime. Imagine a mother in olden days having time to care for home and belong to society clubs, library clubs and card clubs, as does her successor of today, and still have time to keep her home in first-class shape with her modern implements, neat and shining, for father's pleasure.

COUNT YOUR BLESSINGS AND YOU'LL NEVER GROUCH!

PHILADELPHIA FIRE CHIEFS GUESTS OF ROTARY CLUB

Anthony McGramm, Instructor of the Philadelphia Training School for Fire Service, and George Ferrier, Battalion Chief of the Fourth Battalion of the Philadelphia Fire Department, were guests of the Rotary Club last Thursday evening, and delivered addresses. While in Riverton they inspected the Riverton fire department and spoke very highly of the equipment and the personnel of the company.

Down to Facts

"In my business, the harder I work the lower I get," bemoaned the trench digger.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

The pastor and people of First Lutheran Church most cordially invite to Sunday School and church services all newcomres in our vicinity, who have not as yet found a church home. Our services both in Sunday School and church schedules will be continued throughout the summer.

Sunday School at 10 in the morning. The last of the series of lessons on the life of Peter will be studied next Sunday: "Peter Teaches Good Citizenship" (Temperance Lesson). Temperance means not only the proper use of the large issues of life, but of small things as well. Temperance means timeliness. The time to use certain things may come often; the time to use others, never. Many things which are useful in one way, may be abused in another.

When Pompey could not prevail with a certain city to admit and feed his army, he persuaded them to admit a few weak and maimed soldiers, who soon recovered their strength and opened the gates to the whole army. Evil by insinuations gains entrance to our hearts with a few small sins. Profanity begins with little oaths. Thieving begins with "Pins and pence." Drunkenness begins with one cup. Lust begins with a glance of the eye.

Church service at 11.15. The pastor will preach on the theme, "Losing a Crown," while the choir will have special music.

Luther League at 6.45, with Miss Rebekah G. Buchholz as leader. The topic for discussion: "Our Need for a Christian Sunday."

On Thursday evening, June 30, at eight o'clock, the Luther League organization of the district will hold its monthly convention in our church. Here is something which is "going over big." Our young people will be hosts to a large group of Luther Leaguers who will attend the convention. Every person who likes good music, vivacious speeches, and an uplifting gathering, should be present. It will be sad, if many others come from a distance to enjoy our hospitality and then we do not turn out in large numbers to greet them, and enjoy their program. The program will be quite unusual, let us have an unusual audience.

Mid-week prayer service at eight on Thursday evening, at which time the pastor will discuss the writings and later life of Peter. The following Thursday evening, will close our prayer service series for the season.

Candy and cake sale by the Junior Department of our Sunday School. The proceeds of this sale will be used to purchase new Sunday School hymnals for the Junior Department. The sale will be held in front of the American Store, at the corner of Broad Street and Garfield avenue, Saturday, June 18, at ten o'clock in the morning. The cakes will be delivered to your homes.

All children of Palmyra and Riverton are invited to attend the Daily Vacation Bible School, which is to be held in our Lutheran Church building, but under the auspices of all denominations. We are fortunate in having the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Baptist Church, to supervise the work. Here's a place where you can do two things at once: learn much that is useful and have a jolly time also.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Tonight (Thursday), at 8 o'clock, a Mock Trial will be held by members of the Baraca Class. Joseph Seel is the unfortunate prisoner, charged with a surprising number of offenses around the church. Be sure to hear Attorney Van Osten in his efforts to send "Joe" to the hoosegow, and Attorney McConnell wax eloquent in his defence. See full account in another column.

Sunday is to be observed as "Fathers' Day." "Dad" will receive due recognition at the various services.

The Primary Department of the Bible School has invited the fathers of all the kiddies to accompany them to the department and observe its workings. A special program has been arranged. Don't disappoint them.

The pastor will preach at both the morning and evening services. The morning subject will be "The Power of Man." In the evening the church will have the local lodge of Knights of Pythias as its guests and Pastor Lockett will have for his text, "The Test of a Friend."

Next Wednesday, June 22, the Women's Society of the church will take a day's outing on the Wilson Line steamer to Riverview Beach. They will leave on the 8.30 a. m. boat. All the women of the congregation are invited to swell the crowd.

On Thursday, June 23, the Philathea Thimble party will be held in the afternoon at the home of Mrs. Beahn, on Spring Garden street.

This will be followed, on Saturday, June 25, by the ladies' mammoth food sale. Be sure of getting some tasty and satisfying things to eat at this annual occasion.

On Tuesday evening Pastor Lockett was elected secretary and treasurer of the Theological Alumni of Temple University for the twelfth consecutive year.

All children will be interested in the coming Daily Vacation Bible School which opens June 30th in the basement of the Lutheran church. All the local churches will cooperate. "A Trip Thru the Holy Land" will be the interesting feature, conducted by Miss Green, of Camden.

WANTED—100 men to attend the M. E. Church services, Sunday night, with the Wesleyan Class.—Adv.

EPWORTH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Rev. J. William Lee, Minister

The Church School will begin its session at 10 a. m. with a feast of good things.

Public Worship at 11.15 a. m. with the following musical numbers:

Organ Prelude "Meditation," by Kinder; Processional "Soldiers of Christ, Arise"; Anthem by Choir; Offertoire "Invocation," Mailly; Postlude "Song Without Words," Engleman; Sermon "The Things Worth While."

At 7.45 p. m. the Orchestra of the Immanual Lutheran Church of East Lansdowne, Pa., under the direction of Lieut. Albert W. Eckenroth, 25 Instruments, will give a delightful musical under the auspices of the Wesleyan Men's Bible Class. One hundred men will sing "The Ninety and Nine."

Sermon "A Good Man, or the Gospel of Character." Fourth sermon in series "Royal Manhood." Enjoy the evening with us.

The Sunday School will hold its final meeting for the summer, Monday 8 p. m.

Calvary Presbyterian

Children's Day will be observed at Calvary Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning. The congregation will meet with the Church School in the new Church School building at eleven o'clock. An attractive program has been prepared by the various departments of the School, and every member of the congregation is urged to be present. As part of the service there will be baptism of children. Parents who wish their children baptised will please bring them at that time.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet on Friday evening, June 17, at the home of Mrs. Hoover, 606 Elm avenue, at eight o'clock.

The Church School will hold its annual picnic on Monday, June 27, at Knight's Park, Collingswood. Details will be announced later.

This church joins with the other churches of Riverton and Palmyra in the Community Daily Vacation Bible School, which is held under the direction of the Palmyra-Riverton Council of Religious Education. Sessions will start on June 20th, in the First Lutheran Church, under the direction of experienced teachers.

Charles T. Bates, Minister.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD

Members and friends of the Palmyra Needlework Guild will meet in the Baptist Church on Tuesday, June 21, at 10.30 A. M. Come and bring a box luncheon or come for a short time and sew with us.

"OK THAT COUNTS"

Thomas Dolly & Sons, Moorestown, local Chevrolet dealer, are advertising many attractive used cars, all of which have been carefully checked and reconditioned.

In the regular columns you will find their large "ad" telling you why you should buy "used cars with the OK that counts", and a list of offerings will be found in the classified columns.

Drive the car that established 10 world records—
5000 miles in less than 5000 minutes!
The* COMMANDER
A STUDEBAKER BIG SIX
Only by owning a Commander can you avoid taking Commander dust on hills and highways

FROM one Coast to the other, The Commander is smashing records of speed, records of hill climbing, records of sales!

5000 Miles in Less Than 5000 Minutes

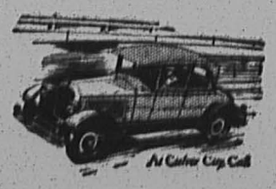

In a recent sensational test at Culver City, California, under the auspices of the American Automobile Association, Harry Hartz and three other noted pilots drove The Commander—a strictly stock, fully-equipped enclosed car—5000 miles in 4909 minutes, total elapsed time, establishing ten new world records.

This is better than mile-a-minute speed for 81 consecutive hours and 49 minutes—the fastest speed for the farthest distance ever attained by any stock car!

The Commander Out-Climbs All Other Cars

In another public contest, five automobile dealers in Batavia, N. Y., challenged Studebaker's repeated statement that The Commander will out-perform any car selling within a thousand dollars of its price. The scene of the contest was a long hill near Batavia with an average grade of 10%.

The Commander won every test made—creeping test, standing start and flying start. Then, to cap the climax, The Commander carried seventeen men, weighing 2794 pounds, to the top in high gear, the speedometer reading 35 miles at the start and 22 miles at the finish.

Climbs 10-Story Building

In Washington, D. C., the Capitol Garage dedicated its new building by inviting all the automobile dealers to engage in an indoor hill-climbing contest—a climb of twenty ramps, ten stories in height.

The Commander wound its way easily up the steep ramps in high gear—and 5000 people cheered its victory over the field. After the contest, 102 drivers of different cars tried to equal The Commander's time-record—but every one failed!

What These Records Mean to You

You probably will never need mile-a-minute speed for 5000 miles—you may never want to enter a hill-climbing contest. But these remarkable records are further proof of what we have demonstrated time and again on Studebaker's 800-acre Proving Ground—that The Commander in every phase of every-day driving will out-perform and out-live any other car, six or eight, selling for less than $2500.

Harry Hartz wired us, after setting 10 new world records in The Commander:
"Based on my experience driving my personal Studebaker Commander and in making the recent record run at Culver City Speedway with a Studebaker Commander strictly stock model, it is my opinion that it will maintain any given speed, up to 65 miles per hour, longer, more smoothly, and at less expense per hour expended for gasoline, oil and repairs, than any other stock automobile now being built in the United States."

The best evidence for you of the thrilling performance of The Commander is what the car will do in your own hands. Get behind the wheel of a Commander as our guest—without strings or obligation. Learn for yourself why the Studebaker Big Six now far out-sells the combined totals of all other cars in the world of equal or greater rated horsepower. 'Phone us now and take command of The Commander today!

County History of 25 Years Ago

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror June 11, 1902

Prosecutor Samuel A. Atkinson has sold his cottage at Seaside Park to Mrs. Rachel B. Sailer, of Mount Holly.

Cranberry growers report that the crop was badly damaged by the recent frost and only about one quarter yield now is expected.

William A. Townsend, of Columbus, yesterday was elected a director of the Mount Holly National Bank, to succeed Amos Gibbs, deceased.

An automobile which operates at Bordentown, and carries passengers to points near this city, visited Mount Holly yesterday and attracted considerable attention. It is a neatly designed machine and carries sixteen persons.

Fast driving of horses on the streets of Mount Holly is of too frequent occurrance and so many complaints have been made lately that the authorities probably will put a stop to the practice. In several instances children have had narrow escapes from being run down.

Trolley Line Progressing

Work on the Mount Holly-Moorestown trolley line is progressing rapidly. Already four miles of roadbed has been graded and work on bridges is moving along satisfactorily.

The re-union of the Second-Regiment, New Jersey Cavalry, of the Civil War, was held in the Red Men's Hall, Mount Holly, on Monday. There was an attendance of about fourty members. Rev. N. J. Wright delivered an address to the veterans. At the election of officers, Henry C. Claypool, of Mount Holly, was chosen president. The next annual meeting will be held in Plainfield.

At a special meeting of the Board of Freeholders on Wednesday the sum of $300,000 was voted to cover all appropriations for the ensuing year. A contract to improve the Burlington-Columbus road, seven miles, with macadam surface, was awarded to the J. R. Shanley Company for $34,000.

Charles Earling, aged 70, storekeeper at Mount Laurel, was instantly killed at the Mill street, Moorestown, railroad crossing on Friday, where he was struck by the Long Branch express train as he was driving his horse across the tracks. A coroner's jury exonerated the engineer from blame but censured the railroad for not having safety gates at that and other dangerous crossings in Moorestown. He leaves an estate of $30,000.

20,000 Quarts of Strawberries

Twenty thousand quarts of strawberries were picked on the farm of William R. Haines, near Marlton, last week.

Representatives of the Moorestown Field Club went to Riverton on Saturday and played a match of golf with the Country Club team of that place. The river town players were at top notch and disposed of their guests quite easily by 51 up.

A handicap tournament for members will be held by the Mount Holly Golf Club on Saturday.

Charles H. Gardner, who conducts a dairy near Moorestown, could not understand a noticeable decline in the quantity of milk produced by his cows until he caught a number of little pigs enjoying the motherly care of the cows. The pigs now are kept penned up, but they are doing an awful lot of squealing about it whenever the cows pass the pen.

June 18, 1902

A number of farmers are engaged in gathering their hay crop which is very light in this section this year.

A scarcity of asparagus has caused Mount Holly canners to put up only a limited supply this season.

Eugene L. Burns, of Mount Holly, was graduated from the DeLancey School, Philadelphia, on Wednesday.

George Hendrickson, of Mount Holly, passed his final examinations in the law department of the University of Pennsylvania on Friday.

The exhibit buildings and refreshment stands at the Mount Holly Fair Ground are undergoing repairs. The work is in charge of Director William Wright.

The stork brought twins, a boy and a girl, to the residence of William L. Wilkinson, Mill street, Mount Holly, on Monday.

Want Whiskey Tax Cut

The Burlington County Liquor Dealers' Protective Association has filed a petition with Senator Kean at Washington for a reduction of the tax on whiskey.

Articles of incorporation were filed in the county clerk's office on Thursday by the Farmer's Telephone Company, former to operate a line between New Lisbon, Wrightstown, Cookstown, Pointville, Juliustown, Jobstown, etc. The capital is $100,000. The incorporators are Henry M. Black, M. Warner Hargrove and William H. Reeves.

The Burlington County Trust Company, of Moorestown, has made the following change in officers due to the recent death of its president, William N. Paul: President and trust officer, William W. Stokes, the present cashier of the Moorestown National Bank; treasurer, William R. Lippincott; secretary, L. Hartman Burr.

The commencement exercises of the Moorestown high school were held in the town hall there on Thursday night. There were eight graduates.

MADE EDITOR-IN-CHIEF OF SWARTHMORE YEAR BOOK

Milton H. Atkinson, Mount Holly student at Swarthmore College, has been named editor-in-chief of the "Halcyon," the junior year book.

Young Atkinson, son of Mrs. J. Alvan Atkinson, of Mount Holly, has specialized in journalism in college and is well-equipped for the exacting work ahead of him.

To reach this position it is necessary to be an outstanding student, and when the prize fell upon Atkinson there was a well-deserved recognition of his ability.

He secured admittance to Swarthmore with ease on the basis of his attainments as a student at the Mount Holly High School, from which he graduated in 1926.

"Who told you that? I am not going to be married."

"Congratulations!"

They're Like That

Sorority—Billy proposed to me last night. I wonder if he loves me? He's only known me a few days.

Fraternity—In that event, he probably still does.

Special Service

The boss came in early one morning and found his bookkeeper kissing the stenographer. "Is this what I pay you for?"

"No," was the unanimous reply, "We do this free of charge."

She was only a laundryman's daughter, but she certainly was a washout!

Well, er—'er—Nice Girl

"Say, Bill, your're not still engaged to that Thompson girl, are you?"

"No Bob, I'm not."

"Lucky for you, old man. How did you get out of it?"

"I married her."

Take Your Choice

Doctor—"My dear young lady, you are drinking unfiltered water, which swarms with animal organisms. You should have it boiled; that will kill them."

Patient—"Good gracious, doctor I think I'd sooner be an aquarium than a cemetery!"

Her—Have any of your family connections been traced?

Him—Yes. They traced an uncle of mine once; but he got away.

Oh Mabel, Mabel

Abel—"Dang it! I left my watch on the dresser upstairs! I feel too tired to run up after it."

Mabel—"If you wait long enough, it'll run down!"

$11,000 COLLECTED

County Red Cross Still Needs $2,000 for Flood Victims

At a meeting of Burlington County Chapter, American Red Cross held Monday, it was reported that $11,000.10 of the county quota of $13,100.00 had been received, leaving $2099.90 still to be collected. Small amounts are coming in every day and it is hoped the county quota may be reached. Much of this money has been collected by the Boy Scouts of the county and the Chapter desires to thank that organization for its good work in this particular.

Thirty-one of the quota of fifty Christmas bags have been received for the soldiers, sailors and marines in foreign possessions.

The Home Hygiene class in connection with the Mount Holly Y. W. C. A. has completed its course and certificates will be presented to its eighteen members by the County Chapter Chairman when received from National Headquarters.

The Emergency Relief Committee made arrangements to assist one family and articles from the Emergency Closet were reported as having been distributed.

Already arrangements are being made for the Eleventh Roll Call and a County Chairman was selected.

After the transaction of various other matters of business, the Chapter adjourned to meet the second Monday in September.

TO GRADUATE 49

Mount Holly High Commencement Friday Evening

The graduating class of the Mount Holly High School this year consists of 49 students. Of these 39 have taken commercial and others academic courses. Commencement exercises will take place in the Mount Holly theatre on Friday afternoon, June 17, beginning at two o'clock. The address will be delivered by Charles Strahan, assistant commissioner of education of New Jersey.

Members of the graduating class will attend the Presbyterian church next Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock to listen to a baccalaureate sermon by the pastor, Rev. W. Clarence Wright.

A number of the graduates will enter higher educational institutions next fall; others will seek business employment, and a few are undecided as to their future course.

STATE TUBERCULOSIS LEAGUE TO MEET IN BURLINGTON THIS WEEK

Plans have been completed for the conference of the tuberculosis workers of New Jersey which will take place in St. Mary's Hall, Burlington, Thursday and Friday of this week. All of the sessions except one will be held in the school building. The exception will take place in the preventorium of the Burlington County Tuberculosis Society on the Parrish place, Oxmead road.

The conference will open with registration at noon on Thursday and following there will be lunch, an address on "High points of emphasis in the tuberculosis campaign," by Philip P. Jacobs, of the National Tuberculosis Association. There also will be reports.

In the afternoon at two o'clock there will be a trip to the preventorium at the Parrish place where Edward K. Frankhouser, of the Paterson Tuberculosis and Health League, will speak on "Summer Camps and Preventoria." Other addresses will be made by Miss Jane J. Packard, executive secretary of the Middlesex County Tuberculosis League; Miss Edna Bond, child health and nutrition worker of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League, Miss Margaret L. Johnston, of the Mercer County Health League, and P. A. Mariette, of the Hudson County Tuberculosis League.

At six o'clock there will be a dinner meeting in St. Mary's Hall. The principal speaker will be Dr. Isadore Kaufman, assistant medical director of the Phipps Institue and associate profession of medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

At eight o'clock there will be a scenario, "Selling a nutrition and medical inspeciton program to a rural board of education," arranged by Miss Margaret Haines, of Burlington, executive secretary of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League. Moving pictures will follow.

On Friday morning at nine o'clock there will be an address by H. S. Pollack, superintendent of the Hudson County Tuberculosis Hospital at Secaucus, Miss Katherine Wells Whipple, of the New York Tuberculosis and Health Association, Earnest D. Easton, executive secretary of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League, and A. M. Dewees, of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society.

There will be a board meeting during the luncheon at 12.30 o'clock, and following there will be group meetings.

"DIDN'T KNOW THE GUN WAS LOADED"

Man Killed When Friend Pulled Trigger of "Unloaded" Shotgun

The old story of "didn't know it was loaded" was repeated at Burlington Tuesday of last week and resulted in the instant death of Jacob Pijanik, aged 66 years. The man who fired the "unloaded" shotgun is a fellow boarder of the victim, in the home of Gabriel Zanski, and has the unpronounceable name of Adolph Szevgielski.

While Adolph was engaged in cleaning the gun, Pijanik came in and jokingly remarked that the weapon was no good. Adolph pulled the trigger and the explosion followed, the load taking effect in Pijanik's chest near the heart.

Adolph immediatey summoned a physician and then reported the accident to Captain of Police Wilson Johnson.

An investigation was made by County Detectives Parker, Cain and Carabine and Coroner Farner, and it was learned that the two men were the best of friends and that there was no evidence other than that the shooting was entirely accidental.

After Adolph has been questioned and the investigation was completed, he was released from custody. The body was taken to Gallagher's morgue, Burlington, and Coroner Farner issued a certificate of accidental death.

WOMAN'S CLUB VOTES

Merchantville Women Favor Of Assuming Obligation

Merchantville Woman's Club voted last week to purchase a property to be converted into a club house. The proposition was carried by a vote of two to one in favor of the purchase.

The action was decided at a special meeting of the club, afternoon after two hours discussion.

The property to be acquired is on West Cedar avenue, at present the Patterson home.

Mrs. W. J. Adams, chairman of the committee which has been investigating various sites, recommended that the property be purchased.

Miss Dorothy Hower presented a comprehensive survey of the finances of the club and of the responsibilities which it would assume upon purchasing the property.

It is planned to turn the first floor of the house into an assembly room and rest room, converting the second floor into an apartment which the club plans to rent.

It is expected to have a well-equipped kitchen and every possible facility to permit the club to be used for luncheon or dinner parties, for which a revenue may be derived.

Following the adoption of the resolution, Mrs. Edward H. Stout presented a piano to be used in the new club house. Various other articles were pledged by individual members.

EDITORIAL DEFIANCE

I have been criticised quite a little by some of the town smart aleeks for using poor grammar. Now I have three good reasons for this. In the first place, I don't know any better. Second, half of you wouldn't understand it if I did use it. Third, if I did speak and write correctly I might be managing some big New York paper at a large salary and you farmers would lose the best editor in Graham County.—Moreland (Kan.) Monitor.

OUR PROGRESS

WILLIAM A. LAW, President of Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company, reviewed the progress in material things in five years.

"These difficulties are often attributed to overproduction. However, inventories generally are small and competition keen, and the margin between success and failure is narrowing. Business, for the most part, is being conducted economically, and large amounts are going into the comforts of life that formerly were spent for drink."

NEARER TO GOD

"Nearer my God to thee,
Nearer to thee."
Oh! how can it be so
When, war, we see?
How, when mankind will fight,
Can it be right?
Oh! why should they e'er go,
Their homes, to blight?

Can we be nearer thee
When doing wrong,
For thy sweet righteousness,
Shall we then long?
O' Lord, in pity hear,
Hear thou my song,
Teach us to e'er do right
And do no wrong.

"Nearer my God to thee."
O' let it be
That we shall all learn how,
Thy light, to see.
Let evil's darker ways
All pass away,
And let us soon behold
Thy brighter day.

Let peace on earth appear,
And bring to thee
The souls of all mankind,
Thy love, to see.
Teach us that war and strife
Are not thy will,
That we, our brother men,
Never should kill.

Teach us that love alone,
Thy law, will be,
To ever bring our souls
Nearer to thee.
Then let us, through thy love,
Come close to thee,
Ever, each day, to seem
Nearer to thee.

Martha Shepard Lippincott.

DELAWARE SPAN IS MONEY MAKER

The Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission will have net earnings of at least $800,000 at the close of business on June 30 to divide among the states of Pennsylvania and New Jersey and the City of Philadelphia, as their respective shares in the profits resulting from operation of their bridge during the six months ending June 30. Of this amount Pennsylvania and Philadelphia will each receive $200,000 and New Jersey $400,000, or in the same proportion as each contributed to the cost.

That the profits for the second six month period of operation will reach at least $800,000, was the opinion expressed yesterday by General Manager Joseph K. Costello. As a matter of fact, it would not surprise the Joint Commission if the six-month net would reach $830,000 or more. In that event the net return from the first year's operation would be from $1,746,682 to $1,776,682. The original estimate made by the bridge engineers of the first year's net return was $1,112,500.

The net for the first six months of operation was $946,682.83, about $146,000 more than the net for the second six months. This was expected, owing to the fact that in the second period there are the months like February and March when there is a normal decrease in traffic. The first six-month period, from July 1 to December 31, includes all the really "fat" months. The gross tolls on the bridge from July 2 to December 31, 1926, were $1,100,058.40.

SMALLER CURRENCY

Paper currency in the United States is to be reduced in size, probably within the coming year, under a plan made public by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon a few days ago.

The bills will be cut down in size about one and one-third inches in length and three-quarters of an inch in width, with a lowering in manufacturing costs of about $2,000,000 annually.

Changes in the design of notes will not be material, the new currency retaining practically all of the major characteristics of the present bills.

Portraits appearing on the notes will be reallocated in some instances in order to avoid repetition, the plan being to restrict the use of a particular portrait to a given denomination, so that in time each denomination will be immediately recognized from the picture it bears.

One-dollar notes will carry the likeness of Washington and $2 certificates that of Jefferson. The faces for the larger denominations have not yet been selected.

The $1 certificates will be the first of the new currency to be issued, with the present notes retired as speedily as practicable. Currency in larger denominations will then be issued to gradually replace that now in circulation.

On time and material basis the most expensive things we make are mistakes—THINK!

The shell of the hawk's bill turtle can be welded and made into various articles after being heated in oil.

High School Class Receives Diplomas

Sixty-four Are Graduated at Exercises Held at Palmyra High

A capacity house taxed the Palmyra High School auditorium last Thursday evening when the 1927 graduating class held its commencement exercises. Sixty-four students received diplomas.

The main address of the evening was made by Dr. Samuel W. Graffin, head of the YMCA of New York City. Dr. Graffin dwelt on "Success" and brought out that education was the first preparation necessary to get ahead in life. His talk to the graduating class was very humorous as well as educational.

The exercises were opened with the invocation by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Palmyra Central Baptist Church. The first oration of the evening was by Alfred Bayer, salutatorian. He took as his topic, "Benjamin Franklin and the Constitution" and told in an interesting manner what Franklin had done for the foundation of the country. Music for the exercises was furnished by the High School Orchestra. The audience was also favored with several selections by the Girls' Glee Club of the grammar grades.

"Footprints on the Sands of Time," by Lester G. Johnston, was the topic of the banner oration which was given with much expression. At the end of his talk, Johnston recited the poem "Life" by P. J. Bailey. Edward Hutchins, president of the Junior Class, accepted the banner for the 1928 class.

Third Term President

Edward P. Sordon, valedictorian of the 1927 class, delivered an appropriate oration and took as his topic, "The United States Under a Third Term President." The Riverton Board of Education presented Sordon with $20.00 for receiving the highest honors among the Riverton graduates.

Professor A. S. Griffith, Supervising Principal of the Palmyra Schools, who had charge of the exercises, then called upon William A. Donaghy, President of the Palmyra Board of Education, to make the presentation of the 64 diplomas. The graduating students were presented with many beautiful bouquets of red roses, the class flower, and other flowers during the evening. Edward Hudson, president of the 1927 class, was given a head of cabbage by his friends.

The Rev. J. William Lee, Pastor of the Palmyra Epworth M. E. Church, then asked his audience to rise while he delivered the benediction of the evening to close the exercises.

List of Graduates

Those who were graduated this year are:

Henry Tegert Albright, Elizabeth Mildred Arndt, Mafgery Belle Atkinson, Grace Dorothea Bauer, Alfred Richard Bayer, Bruce Hill Beahn, Henry Weston Blaser, Palma Bonatelli, Gladys Elsie Booth, Anna Virginia Brown, Muriel Elaine Burgmann, Gertrude Ella Crouch,

WESLEYAN CLASS

Sunday evening, June 19, will be Wesleyan Class night at the Epworth M. E. Church. At one of the evening srevices in January, the Wesleyan Class attended with 100 members and they are out to better this record next Sunday evening.

Through the kindness of Paul Bauder, a former member of the class, the East Lansdowne Lutheran Church Orchestra of twenty-five pieces will play at the services.

This orchestra is led by Lieut. Albert W. Eckenroth, bandmaster of the P. R. T. Band, and stands high in musical circles. There will be special musical features, one of which will be a xylophone solo by Paul Bauder.

The pastor, the Rev. Mr. Lee, will deliver an address particularly suitable to the occasion.

Mrs. MAGDALENE SMITH

Mrs. Magdalene Smith, 75 years old, died at the home of her son, Adolph Smith, 21 Henry street, Palmyra, last Saturday.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Snover Funeral Home with the Rev. William M. Erhard, pastor of the First Lutheran Church, Palmyra, officiating. Interment was made at the Forest Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, with funeral direction in charge of Frank A. Snover.

Palmyra Defeats Ocean Gate, 6-2

Winger's Airtight Pitching Backed by Splendid Support Afield

With Winger pitching airtight ball in the pinches, Palmyra defeated Ocean Gate by the score of 6-2 in a hard fought game.

Frabitore's spectacular stops and catches with King's double, driving in two runs in the first inning were features of this game.

Palmyra will travel to Pitman this Saturday and will try to hang up another win. The team is playing good ball.

THOMAS J. KERRIGAN

Thomas J. Kerrigan, 42 years old, died at the Hahnemann Hospital, Philadelphia, last Thursday, June 9. He was the son of Martin Kerrigan.

High Mass was at 9 o'clock Monday morning at the Sacred Heart Church, Riverton. Interment was at Mount Carmel Cemetery, Moorestown. Mr. Kerrigan was buried from the home of his brother, John Kerrigan, 518 Main street, Riverton. He also had two other brothers, Martin Kerrigan, Jr., and James Kerrigan. One sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Connell, also survives.

Y. M. C. A.

The Triangle Group met at the home of William Krause on Wednesday evening, June 8th. The president called the meeting to order and prayer was offered by Lloyd Gladney. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved. We had a fine Bible Study given by our leader. After that we talked about the good time we had last Saturday on our picnic at Mr. Ashbrook's farm.

Our next meeting will be at the Episcopal Sunday School, Palmyra, and we will go on a "doggie roast." Refreshments were served and we closed with the Friendship Circle.

P. O. S. of A.

Washington Camp No. 23, P. O. S. of A., held a very enthusiastic meeting Monday evening. The meeting was called "New Members' night." About sixty five new members took part in the entertainment and the Camp was entertained by "Doc" LeFavor who played the famous "Bells of St. Mary's."

William H. "Dad" Davison commended the new members on their loyal support and spoke about the possibility of reaching the one thousand mark by the end of June.

Edwin A. Griscom, chairman of the entertainment committee, served the usual delightful refreshments. This was one of the most interesting meetings held for some time and a real spirt prevailed.

Palmyra Lawyer Gets Jail Term

Judge Slaughter Gives Arnold Beckenbach Three-Month Sentence

A criminal matter which has been deferred from time to time for several months was up for final disposition by Judge Slaughter on Thursday of last week, the case in question being that of the state against Arnold Beckenbach, a former practicing attorney of Palmyra.

The charge against Beckenbach was the misappropriating of funds belonging to a client, the amount involved being about $2,500, and the defendant pleaded guilty to the charge several months ago, but the matter has been postponed on several occasions in the hope that restitution might be made.

In the meantime Beckenbach has resigned his commission to save disbarrment.

James Mercer Davis made an able plea for his former fellow attorney, but he was unable to show any mitigating circumstances which would condone the act complained of, and the Court sentenced Beckenbach to three months in the county jail.

It had been expected that Mrs. Clara Parker, of Mount Holly, a persistent offender against the prohibition enforcement act, would be sentenced, but her counsel gained another delay when he withdrew her plea of guilty and elected to go to trial of the case at a date to be set later.

Mrs. Parker, at the time of her first arraignment before the Court, pleaded not guilty; then when her case was called for trial she changed her plea to guilty of possession of liquor and the prosecutor asked to have nolle prossed the indictments of sale and maintaining a house where liquor was kept.

Now, her plea is guilty again and the prosecutor gave notice that he also withdrew the nolle prosses and Mrs. Parker will have her case heard by a jury, who will have all the charges to consider.

Liquor Violator Fined

John Beebe, of Mount Holly, who had pleaded guilty to liquor law violations, was fined $150.

Dominick Mallario, of Pemberton, convicted of receiving stolen property, will pay a $100 fine.

John Bell, of East Riverton, convicted of assaulting his wife, was assessed $125.

Bert Carpenter, of Southampton township, who had pleaded guilty to having two stills in operation in his house and also to sale and possession of liquor, received the maximum for first offenders, $500 fine.

Madeline Joyce, the young woman charged with stealing a necklace, watch and silk underwear from the home of Mrs. Maud Riley, in Medford, came in on a waiver and pleaded not guilty.

She was represented by an Atlantic City attorney, who practically acknowledged that Joyce was not the young woman's name, but said that she had refused to give detectives her name and address because she did not want the news to reach her parents.

She was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail.

Charles H. Codow, or Schaffer, who had pleaded guilty to converting to his own use a check belonging to another man in Florence township by the same name, had sentence suspended and was placed on probation for two years, with no costs.

He has secured a position on a nearby farm and will make restitution for the amount of the check, $80.

In the Juvenile Court, Clarence Keller, of Burlington, was placed on probation for a term of three years. He was charged with incorrigibility.

James Williams, another Burlington boy charged with breaking and entering and larceny, also with truancy and incorrigibility, went to the State Home for Boys, and Clarence Heller, a third Burlington boy, charged with incorrigibility, was placed on probation for three years.

Friday Jury Trials

The case of the state against Albert "Puss" Stevens, colored, of Mt. Holly, was moved on Friday, on the indictment charging him with burning a building.

James E. Davis, colored, was the principal witness against Stevens, and swore he saw the defendant coming from the direction of an outbuilding in the yard of Frank Magee, a neighbor, and shortly afterward the building was discovered to be on fire.

Stevens made a fine witness in his own behalf and his testimony was supoprted by half a dozen witnesses.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Dominick Marcilario, of Pemberton township, charged with receiving stolen goods, also had his case heard by a jury but he did not prove so fortunate, the verdict being guilty.

Another case heard by a jury was that of the state vs. Mary Kanzias, of Burlington, an old offender against the prohibition laws, and notwithstanding that the officers presented the evidence of their raid to back up their testimony, the jury thought she was not guilty.

Peter Belfiori, of Florence, charged with larceny, had the case against him nolle prossed.

Mary Taylor, colored, of Columbus, charged with larceny of chickens, was before the Court to plead, and she entered a plea of not guilty.

Harry W. DuBell, of Burlington and Wrightstown, made a retraction of not guilty to one charge each of unlawful conversion and passing worthless checks. Other indictments against him were nolle prossed.

BURLINGTON MAN FIRST PATENTED PLOW

In 1797, Charles Newbold, of Burlington county, New Jersey, was granted the first patent for an iron plow. Although its advantages over the wooden plows then in vogue were manifest the farmers would have none of it. They said the iron poisoned the soil, and that crops would not grow on ground that had been stirred by an iron plow. Newbold spend $30,000 trying to get his plows adopted and then abandoned the attempt. Not until twenty years later was the prejudice overcome.—News, Call.

The first beet sugar was put on the market about 1769 in Austria.

"MY MARYLAND"

Romberg Musical Play Breaking All Attendance Records

An interesting theatrical event is taking place now at the Lyric Theatre in Philadelphia where "My Maryland," a new Sigmund Romberg operetta based on Clyde Fitch's "Barbara Fritchie" is breaking all records for attendance and length of engagement in Philadelphia. The work is about to start its fifth month at the Lyric Theatre and is another of those big national successes with which the name of its producers, the Messrs. Shubert is being constantly associated.

Prior to the advent of "My Maryland" the length of run record for Philadelphia was held by "Blossom Time," which presented by the Messrs. Shubert at the same Lyric Theatre, ran for 29 weeks. "My Maryland" undoubtedly will break this record. Incidentally it may be noted that Sigmund Romberg wrote the music for "Blossom Time" and "The Student Prince" just as Dorothy Donnelly wrote the book and lyrics. So "My Maryland" is seeking the length run record for Philadelphia in competing against the record held by the composer and author of "My Maryland," since that work is also theirs."

"My Maryland" is based upon the most famous and most tender of the love dramas of the late Clyde Fitch "Barbara Fritchies." It tells the story of the Southern maiden who loving a Union officer during the Civil War hung out the union flag as Stonewall Jackson's army marched past her home. The Fitch play was based upon the Whittier poem.

The romance is appealing and stirring and there is constant suspensive dramatic interest. Musically "My Maryland" is superlative. Sigmund Romberg has taken the themes of many southern songs of the period and worked them into his score. For instance "Your Land and My Land," one of the hit ensemble numbers of "My Maryland" is a combination of the themes of southern song "My Maryland" and "Glory, Glory Hallelujah."

The company is one of the best ever assembled of acting and singing artists. There is a male chorus of 60 young men, advanced voice students from the leading music studios of New York.

"My Maryland" is presented by the Messrs. Shubert under the personal direction of J. J. Shubert. It was staged by J. C. Huffman. The large orchestra is under the direction of Oscar Radin, one of the best known of the interpretative musicians of the country.

Nobody knows your ability—you must demonstrate it.

Beverly Lads Win Boy Scout Meet

Palmyra Troop Comes Second, With Riverton Boys in Third Place

More than a thousand persons, including five hundred Boy Scouts, say Beverly Troop No. 5 win first place in the annual field meet of the Burlington County Council, Boy Scouts of America, held at the Palmyra Field Club baseball grounds Saturday afternoon.

The Beverly troop won first in knot-tying, second in signalling, both Semaphore and Morse, first in tent pitching, second in archery and third in first aid. Beverly's total score was 24 points.

SHOULD RETAIN WORRELL

Steward Henry I. Worrell and his estimable wife, who is the matron, have given the taxpayers an economical and efficient administration at the county farm. They have shown a humane regard for the county's wards and entered into the work of the institution over which the steward and matron preside, in a way that has brought well-earned praise from those who are familiar with the manner in which the almshouse and county farm are conducted. It would be poor judgment on the part of the Republican voters not to renominate Steward Worrell or for the voters not to re-elect him at the general election in November.—Exchange.

How May We Serve You Best?

Electricity and gas are faithful servants, always ready to serve you. Gas heats the water for the morning shave and bath — electricity lights the mirror you dress by. Gas cooks your breakfast — electricity carries you via the street car to your office in the morning.

At home, electricity and gas do the laundry work, cook, clean house.

In industry, these partners are equally busy.

And if you are a sportsman electricity will flood-light the court, green or swimming pool when darkness falls, so that your play time may be longer.

Gas Water Heaters For Modern Homes

So much comfort may be derived from a warm bath that it is no wonder that the demands on a water heater morning and evening are heavy.

Where gas is available, the question of a hot water supply is simple. With a gas automatic storage water heater of proper size installed in the basement, every call for hot water, whether it be a cupful or a tubful, is answered.

Gas as a fuel for heating water is efficient, convenient, economical, and dependable.

Gas automatic water heaters are on sale at Public Service stores from $90.75 upward.

Keep Home Lights Burning Brightly

The Mazda lamp family of six takes up little room and is helpful in an emergency.

Keep a supply of Mazda lamps on hand, so that you may escape the inconvenience of having to change a lamp from one socket to another. A package of six lamps (up to 40 watts) $1.38 at all Public Service stores.

How Thor Washers and Ironers Reach High Laundry Standards

THE home-maker who is looking for an electric washer that will wash clothes and linens thoroughly finds it in the Thor.

After testing many washing machines, Public Service selected the Thor, because the turbulent action that is brought about through the combination of the revolving-reversing cylinder movement and the perforations in the cylinder produce such good results in washing. Row upon row of little streams of warm soapy water constantly play upon the fabrics. As pieces are lifted up and dropped back into the swirling water, every piece receives the same thorough cleansing.

In the Thor cylinder there are no moving parts to catch and tear the linens. From big double blankets to scraps of fragile lace all can be washed in the Thor with equal success and safety.

The Thor washing method is safe, clean and quick.

Public Service stores have arranged a plan whereby their customers can purchase the Thor for $5 down and pay the balance over 18 months.

How Folding Ironer Works

The Thor Ironer stands on easy-rolling casters—this means that one may iron where the temperature is best suited to it, on the porch on warm summer days, in the kitchen on a cold day.

A light touch on a lever at either end starts and stops the motor, opens and shuts the "shoe." To start the motor and smooth the materials as they pass through is all that's required of the housekeeper when she uses a Thor Ironer.

It works quickly and the ironing results it obtains are highly satisfactory.

The Thor Ironer folds up and can be stored in small space.

The Thor Ironer can be purchased at Public Service stores for $5 down and 18 months to pay balance.

Prices on New Process Gas Ranges Reduced at Public Service Stores

EVERY home-maker of today is eager to own a gas range with an oven heat regulator so that she may cook by time and temperature, and so obtain successful cooking results.

Public Service stores are having a sale on New Process gas ranges, many of them equipped with the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator. New low prices and low terms make this sale an opportunity for every home-maker who would practice economy in her gas range purchase.

The attractive model R40X (front and top finished in white enamel) is specially priced at $61.95 or $65.72 on terms, while the same range without the regulator may be had for $47.95 or $50.96 on the divided payment plan.

Every gas range offered in the sale is sturdily built and possesses many or all of the New Process features, including the speedy whirling flame burners. All are well finished and have no bolts or screws on the outside.

This special sale ends June 18th.

Lamps in Tune With the Season

Whether the home follows the lovely simplicity of Colonial American furnishings or takes after an ornate French period, Public Service stores have lamps and shades that will be in harmony.

The simple standard with shade of parchment is suggested for summer lighting. Individual styles are to be had for living room, porch or sleeping room, all moderate in price.

Fromuth President of the Lions Club

Palmyra-Riverton Service Organization to Attend Lutheran Church, June 26

Fred G. Fromuth was elected president of the Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club at its meeting Tuesday evening. William B. Lynch was chosen vice-president; Walter D. Lamon, secretary; W. A. McCamy, treasurer; Augustus Weber, Lion Tamer and Frank A. Kates, Tail Twister.

The new president, Mr. Fromuth, made his "inaugural address' in which he pledged his administration to the advancement of Lionism in the Twin Towns and declared that an earnest effort would be made to achieve the goal of real service to which the club is dedicated.

The other new officers also made eloquent addresses and the retiring president then spoke of the things he hoped the club could accomplish. Mr. Wimer told of the great lessons and the inspiration which every American could draw from a visit to Valley Forge, Gettysburg and Arlington and suggested that the club would be doing a real service if it could award as prizes to the boys and girls of the town most proficient in school work a trip of this kind each year.

An invitation to visit the Lutheran Church in a body on Sunday evening, June 26, was accepted. The Rev. Robert Williams, of Bordentown, Lions District Deputy, will maked the address of the evening and will deliver a great message on Lionism which will be of interest to townspeople as well as to the Lions.

Two new members, George J. Heck and Paul J. Kelly, both of the Jensen Manufacturing Company, were unanimously elected.

NEWSPAPER MAN DIES

Edward C. Stokes, Mount Holly, Succumbs After Short Illness

Death came to Edward D. Stokes, a prominent resident of Mount Holly, and who, until his retirement some years ago, was one of the most popular and outstanding newspaper men in the State of New Jersey, last Friday. Paralysis was the cause of death. The deceased was seventy-one years old.

Mr. Stokes, who lived at Main and Prospect streets, was stricken on Wednesday. He and Mrs. Stokes had just returned from a trip around the world. While on the ship Mr. Stokes was seized with what seemed to be vertigo, but it was not thought at the time that it presaged the end of a long and active life. Dissolution was rapid once paralysis had taken hold of the patient.

For twenty-five years Mr. Stokes was associated with the Mount Holly Herald, then owned by the late William B. Wills, and it is doubtful if any weekly paper in the county or state was more widely read. The deceased not only was able to see the humorous side of a thing, but he had a mastery of the pen that enabled him to put his stories in a shape that was especially entertaining. He gathered his matter from Mount Holly and adjacent towns, and even went down as far as Chatsworth and the sea. And in those days one couldn't hop in an automobile and reach distant places in an hour or so.

Mr. Stokes was a member of the Pen and Pencil Club, of Philadelphia. Here he found many kindred spirits, and he was well liked by all. He had a charm of personality that was appealing, and he had no trouble in making a prominent place. Mr. Stokes not only wrote for the Mount Holly Herald, but also covered much of Burlington county for the New York and Philadelphia papers and was known in the editorial room of many of the big metropolitan dailies.

The deceased was the president of the Mount Holly Water Company and a director of the Farmers' Trust Company. He was a member of the Mount Holly Lodge of Elks and numerous other organizations.

Mr. Stokes' recent trip around the world was the third that he had made. For a time he was a member of the Circumnavigators' Club.

The deceased was born in Moorestown, but left there early in life. He is survived by Mrs. Stokes and two unmarried sisters.

The funeral was held from the residence of the deceased on Monday afternoon at two o'clock. The services were private.

STACKER RETURNS

Missing Maple Shade Tax Collector is Back Home

Ernest Stacker, Chester township tax collector, returned to his family in Maple Shade Monday night, after an unexplained absence of almost two months. Stacker mysteriously disappeared April 23, and no word as to his whereabouts was received until last week when he communicated with his family from Omaha, Nebraska.

When his disappearance was first reported to police it was feared that he had met with foul play or had become temporarily demented because of the failure of a patent of his to receive recognition from automobile manufacturers.

The mother and four children were jubilant, over the return. Prior to his disappearance, Stacker had placed his tax books in perfect order.

SPECTACULAR FILM

"Fire Brigade" Draws Big Attendance at Broadway Palace

"The Fire Brigade," the spectacular film shown at the Broadway Palace Monday and Tuesday evenings, was a big success. Capacity houses attended both evenings.

The Palmyra and Riverton Fire Departments both turned out strong last Friday evening to parade in advertising the picture. The Riverton department had new uniforms and both companies had all trucks and men in line.

Making a Race of It

"The only reason I am behind in my studies," said Oscar Whimplepoof, "is so that I can pursue them better."

To the Voters of Riverton:

I am a candidate for Mayor of Riverton in the Republican Primary Election to be held June 21st. I did not seek this office but consented to run after being urged to do so by a number of my friends. Having entered the race I want everyone to know that I am in the fight to win, and solicit your votes.

If elected, I pledge my best efforts to give Riverton a sound business administration, without prejudice for or against any group or faction.

Riverton is in a growing section and many problems confront us which must be given consideration by those most capable of solving them. I, therefore, ask you to cast your ballot for Messrs. Bartley and Randall for members of Council, as men best fitted to keep Riverton in her rightful place.

HOWARD M. ROGERS.

Class of '28 Gives Delightful Farewell to P. H. S. Seniors

Wednesday, June 8, the Junior Class of Palmyra High School bade farewell to the Senior Class at the "Prom" given in honor of the Class of '27. The Prom was given at the Lawn House, the river bank adding greatly to the effect, especially as the weather was wonderfully clear. The hall was decorated in Senior Class colors very tastefully. The music was provided by the "Nashville Five" who are well known in the twin cities.

The chaperones included Miss Brower, supervising principal of the High School, Miss Fromm, Miss Bell, Mr. Dimond and Mr. Richmond. The entire faculty was invited but only Miss MacDonald accepted the invitation.

The success of the dance is entirely due to the cooperation of Miss Bell and the committe which were selected by the cabinet of the Junior Class. The committee included: Decorations, Johnson, Wonfor, Branson, Cole, Bitting, Hummel and Evans: Refreshments, McCord, Deacon and Reeves; Tickets, Lennon, Cahill, McKee and J. Keenan; Colors, King, Jones, Price, and Arndt; Chaperones, M. Jenkins, Hutchins and Parker); Renting Hall, Hagstoz, Knight; Music, Elwood Branson.

After the dance everyone partook of the cakes and punch which were standing in the corner. Of course the "eats" are never neglected at a dance. Everything taken into consideration the Junior Prom given by the Class of '28 was a huge success, surpassing all other proms ever given. The Seniors were quite pleased, while the Juniors complimented themselves on their ability.

PALMYRA AMBULANCE ASSOCIATION

The ambulance nurses on duty for the month of June are: Mrs. Edward E. Fox, Mrs. John C. Noone and Mrs. Clement A. Hines. The ambulance committee is composed of Mrs. John C. Hoepfner and Mrs. George J. Spencer.

MEMORIAL COMMISSION

Governor Moore named the members of the New Jersey-France War Memorial Commission on Thursday, to consider the question of erecting a state memorial in France to World War heroes of New Jersey. Assemblyman Powell, of Mount Holly, is one of the commissioners. Other appointees are Lieutenant Colonel Stephen S. Barlow and Major George F. Fleming, both of Trenton; State Senator Blase Cole, of Newton, and Frederick A. Brodesser, of Elizabeth, clerk in the House of Assembly.

URGED TO RUN

Friends Want Frelinghuysen To Be Senatorial Candidate

Former United States Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen has announced the receipt of numerous congratulatory messages on the completion of his 22nd year of official life in the service of the people of New Jersey and urging his candidacy for the 1928 Senatorial nomination.

Resolutions pledging support because of his constructive public record as State Senator, President of that body, President of the State Board of Education and of the State Board of Agriculture, which position he now holds and as United States Senator during the World War period accompanied the communications received from various groups of citizens throughout the State.

In reply Senator Frelinghuysen has expressed his sincere appreciation of these complimentary testimonials assuring those who have so kindly offered their support at this early date that he will give their suggestion his serious consideration and that he felt that no higher honor can come to any man than to serve New Jersey in the United States Senate.

Three Liquor Raids Made in Palmyra

Sheriff Haines' Enforcement Squad Seizes 100 Gallons at Bakery Shop

Sheriff Haines' law enforcement squad, headed by Constable Harry Bate, of Bordentown, raided three establishments in Palmyra last Saturday afternoon.

The biggest haul was made at the bakery of Paul Villari, Fifth and Market streets, where twenty five-gallon cans of bootleg whiskey were seized.

The hotel of Charles Kern, at Park avenue and Spring Garden street, and the Palmyra Hotel, operated by Thomas Coffee, were also visited and a miscellaneous lot of liquor was found.

All three proprietors were held in $500 bail at a hearing before Supreme Court Commissioner Ralph W. Haines, in Mount Holly.

The effect of the raids was to create an unsual "drouth" in Palmyra over the weekend, for not only was the sale of liquor stopped at the places visited, but at several other places also. As soon as it became known that the raiders were in town, other liquor sellers made haste to dump their available stock into the sewer.

Special officers serving in various sections of Palmyra over the weekend reported that conditions were unusually quiet and that certain habitual drunkards who hadn't been sober on Saturday night for months were on their good behavior.

The Sheriff's squad also raided two places in Burlington, one of them being a colored resort in which twenty-one persons were arrested. A raid also was made in Lumberton Monday.

LUCKY LINDY HOP

Sport Clothes at Unique Dance Saturday Evening

Moorestown has the "Lindbergh fever," too, and is going to celebrate the great trans-Atlantic flight with a dance at the Community House this Saturday evening.

The dance committee of the Community House Association has announced a "Lucky Lindy Hop" as follows:

"Let's 'hop off' in honor of 'Lindy' in a 'flight' of enjoyment and an 'ocean' of fun. Time of flight, 8.15, accompanied by happy smiles and the orchestra. Wear sport clothes, for we are going 'high' and there will be many surprises—that's 'plane' enough. First-class cabin passage for the air trip, 50 cents."

The decorations will be appropriate to the occasion. Hanging above the center of the floor will be a model of the "Spirit of St. Louis," the stage will be decorated to represent the skyline of New York, with the outline of Brooklyn bridge in the foreground, and plenty of American colors. To complete the scene of the New York-Paris hop, the opposite end of the room will represent Paris, with French flags and the Eiffel Tower looming in the distance.

The men will wear knickers and white flannels while the fair dancers will add much color to the affair with their summer sport frocks.

Crowds from all of the neighboring towns are expected to attend the big "Lindy" hop.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. James B. Elliott of Morgan avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Cora, to Elwood Wagner, of Riverton.

WANTED—100 men to attend the M. E. Church services, Sunday night, with the Wesleyan Class.—Adv.

Announcement

June 14, 1927

Irrespective of any statements that may be made to the contrary, I am going to vote for Mr. Howard M. Rogers for Mayor, Joshua S. Bartley for Council and Henry L. Randall for Council, believing that these three men are best qualified to serve the people of Riverton, and I sincerely trust that all of them will be elected.

JAMES CUNNINGHAM.

POWELL DEFEATS ROBERTS FOR SENATORIAL NOMINATION

Loses Strenuous Fight by Narrow Margain; Burlington City Big Factor

RUSS AND WRIGHT ARE CHOSEN FREEHOLDERS

Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell, of Mount Holly, won the Republican nomination for State Senate over Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, by a majority of 1000 to 1100 votes at the Primary election held Tuesday.

Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, of Brown's Mills, was nominated for Powell's Assembly seat over George W. Rogers, of Palmyra, by a lead of 1,000 or more.

Freeholder Howard Russ, of Delanco, led the race for the two freeholder berths, being renominated by a fair plurality, while the second place was won by former Freeholder J. Lloyd Wright, of Medford. Freeholder Fred Lippincott, of Moorestown, came in third.

Wimer Wins

Councilman George N. Wimer won the nomination for Palmyra Mayor in easy fashion over John S. Warner, the total vote being 1187 to 431. Mr. Wimer's running mates for Council each won handily, Julius Fisher receiving 1114 votes, Fred G. Fromuth 893 against 504 for Edwin Patterson and 370 for Fred Seeber.

Palmyra only gave Roberts a bare majority of 28 votes, Powell winning the first district in West Palmyra by a big margin and the fourth district by a few votes. The second and third districts went strongly enough for Roberts to overcome Powell's majorities in the first and fourth.

The county vote for the leading contestants, almost complete, is as follows: Powell, 12,186; Roberts, 11,127; Newcomb, 10,508; Rogers, 9,383; Russ, 9,856; Wright, 8,316; Lippincott, 8,052.

Wins in Riverton

Riverton gave Roberts a majority of 185, while his home town of Moorestown supported him splendidly with a majority of over 1,000. Heavy Powell votes in the riverfront towns of Riverside, Beverly, Burlington, Florence and Roebling, and the county seat of Mount Holly gave the victory to the young Assemblyman.

Assemblyman Powell was supported by the Edge faction of the Republican party in Burlington County, of which County Clerk Reeves, County Detective Ellis Parker and others are leaders. He also had the support of the American Legion and the volunteer firemen. Roberts was the candidate of the regular Republican organization, led by Freeholder Stout, and supported largely by the church people, the drys and the "good government" people in general.

Newcomb and Russ were regular organization candidates while Wright and Rogers ran more or less independently, although they drew votes largely from the Powell faction.

APPRECIATION

To the Editor:

I am indeed grateful to the people of Riverton for the very liberal and encouraging vote polled at the primary, June 21, for my nomination to the office of Borough Council. Having already served a term I am not unmindful of the importance of the office and pledge my earnest effort to merit the honor, if reelected.

JOSHUA S. BARTLEY.

To the Voters of Riverton:

I desire to express my thanks to the voters who have nominated me for the office of Mayor of Riverton. If elected, I shall endeavor to merit the confidence of the entire Borough.

HOWARD M. ROGERS.

To the Voters of Riverton:

Please accept my sincere thanks for the splendid vote given me on Tuesday. If elected I shall give my best effort to the duties of the office.

C. KENNETH DAVIS.

To the voters of Riverton:

I should like to express my appreciation for your support in the recent Primary Election, and particularly desire to thank those whose untiring efforts before the election brought about the results obtained.

It was very gratifying to note the active interest of the voters of the Borough, and the extensive amount of work which was done in behalf of all the candidates. There was no evidence of the apathy which has marked many previous elections—a condition detrimental to the best interest of any community—and one which the voters of Riverton should not permit to exist.

In the event of my election to Council, I pledge myself to administration of Borough affairs on a basis of business efficiency and constructive principles.

HENRY L. RANDALL.

FAMILY BUDGET NOW MAKES ROOM FOR CAR

"There is more room in the family budget today for an automobile and the benefits of automotive transportation than there has been for several years," says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company.

"Financial authorities say that the purchasing power of the dollar as applied to general commodities has practically doubled since 1920. The purchasing power of the automobile dollar has risen at a vastly greater rate. So today everyone has more money with which to buy a car and gets more car per dollar of cost. Today no one can really afford not to own a good automobile."

These short skirts flappers wear have made American men handsome—or, perhaps "good lookers" would express it better.

WATER SPORTS IF MONEY IS RAISED

Chairman Says Lack of Funds Is Only Reason for Dropping Them

The chairman of the Riverton Fourth of July Committee announces that it was not owing to any desire of his that the water sports will be discontinued on the Fourth of July. It is merely a matter of finances.

Previous to last year this feature of the day's celebration was financed by private subscriptions collected by a committee. Last year the Fourth of July Committee of the Borough Council had an additional $500 added to its appropriation, which enabled it to buy the prizes for the water sports. This year the appropriation has gone back to the original sum, which is not sufficient to cover the water sports, according to the chairman.

If there is sufficient interest taken in these sports on the part of residents of Riverton to prompt them to contribute money for prizes, the chairman says he can arrange to include them in the program.

Those interested in having the water sports continued this year should communicate at once with Clarence N. Hubbs, chairman of the Fourth of July Committee.

Parade Will Go To River Bank

Course Decided by Committee in Session Last Night; Sports Held There, Too

At a meeting of the Riverton Fourth of July Committee last night, it was decided to have the children's parade march to the riverbank as usual, and to hold the athletic sports there.

The prospect of dropping water sports from the program was discussed and a number of the members of the committee thought they could raise the money for prizes by popular subscription.

Chairman Hubbs reported that nothing more had been heard of the proposition from Palmyra to cooperate in the matter of fireworks, and it looked as though nothing would come of it this year. It will be necessary to get immediate action if anything is to be done, as the fireworks must be ordered soon, said Mr. Hubbs.

It was decided that, since the parade would not march to Memorial Park in the morning, there would be no flag-raising ceremonies, but that the flag would be hoisted on the new pole just erected by the borough property committee.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Francis X. McGarrigle, Riverside, Wins Award to Villanova

At the graduation exercises of the Camden Catholic High School held Sunday evening at the Stanley Theatre, Francis Xavier McGarrigle, of Cleveland avenue, Riverside, was awarded a scholarship to Villanova College.

This scholarship is for proficiency in studies and is awarded each year as a gift from the college.

Mr. McGarrigle is also a graduate of St. Peter's Parochial School, Riverside.

Among others from this section who were graduated from Camden Catholic High School Sunday night were: Miss Mary Gross, Victor Joseph Kraus, and William Schneider, of Riverside and Miss Rose Catherine Maguire, of Delanco.

First Unit, K. of C. Cadets in Training

Director Pfaff Aims to Have Every Eligible Boy Enrolled Soon

The initial corps of the Columbus Cadets was formed from the members of St. Joseph's Boys' Club last Thursday evening in the K. of C. headquarters.

The formal initiation and acceptance into the corps will take place before the Council during the next few weeks, and as soon as this is completed a second unit will be formed.

Director Andrew J. Pfaff promises to have every eligible boy in the Sacred Heart Parish enrolled in the Boys' Club or Cadets before many months.

Baseball Team Continues To Win

Last Monday evening the ball tossers of the club turned in their fourth straight win, defeating the Palmyra-Riverton Blue Birds, 4-0.

The next game will be played at Memorial Park, Thursday evening, June 23rd, at 6.30 and a strong team from Moorestown Catholic Club will try to end the winning streak of the local club.

Ladies' Auxiliary Dance

A large attendance is looked forward to at the dance to be held under the auspices of the Auxiliary next Saturday night, June 25, at the K. of C. Hall. The younger members of the auxiliary have had numerous requests to hold dances more frequently, so they will endeavor to stage one at least every week or two.

NEW SERVICE STATION SIGN

The McCoy Service Station No. 12, formerly known as the Albertson Drive-In Station at Broad and Linden avenues, Riverton, has erected a large new sign advertising Good Year Tires and McCoy service.

The new sign was installed Tuesday and when lighted at night may be seen from either the Riverton or the Palmyra station.

RAID IS FAILURE

Mistaken Address On Search Warrant Leads Officers Astray

Saturday afternoon another raid was scheduled for Palmyra by the sheriff's enforcement squad from Mt. Holly. The raid, however, came to naught as there was a mistake in the address on the search warrant.

The "rustlers" from Mt. Holly entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Love, of 513 Delaware avenue, in mistake for the home of John Mento. Mr. Love wishes to take this method to let the public know that the warrant was intended for Mento and not for himself.

CAMP 23 BASEBALL

Last Saturday afternoon the boys from Camp 23 travelled to Pyne Point Field in Camden to administer a 21 to 7 trimming to the Camp 172 boys.

Spencer Johnson slammed out a homer in the second with none on. This was the starting signal for the Palmyra boys to start the fireworks. With bases full Jim Reeves connected for three bases. And still they came to the plate with a bat in their hands, and they continued to walk up there until six runs had been scored.

Again Les Daniels was the ruling twirler. As he had plenty of margin Les more or less played with the Camden boys and let them score seven runs just to make them feel that they were still in the game.

Sparrow Freed played his usual brand of ball at second base making three sensational stops all of which required a "spill" for the wind up.

This Saturday the Camp 23 boys play the Audubon team. Come out and support the local Camp.

ALBERT V. HORNER

Albert V. Horner, formerly of Palmyra, died at his home in Philadelphia last Friday. The deceased was 53 years old. He was the husband of Addie C. Horner. Many friends and relatives called Monday evening to view the remains.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 1 p. m. at his late residence, 5353 Walnut street, Philadelphia, with interment private.

LIONS SERVICE BY LUTHERANS

General Public Urged to Attend "Mutual Understanding Rally"

The Lions Club of Palmyra-Riverton and the First Lutheran Church have planned a "mutual understanding rally" for the public, especially the church people and the Lions clubs of West Jersey, to be held next Sunday evening, June 26, at 8 p. m. It is felt that with each backing the other in the worthy projects they undertake there will be greater success and efficiency in the work.

Lions may not always understand the motives of the church's activities, especially those of a civic or practical nature and the work for children; while on the other hand the church people may have a very poor idea of what Lionism really is, and so fail to give it their full support when a project is undertaken which demands the support of the community as a whole. The public needs to be appraised of the real purposes of service clubs.

The Rev. Roberts Williams, who stands high in the organization of the Lions Club, being deputy district governor, and who also stands high in the work of the church, as pastor of a large Presbyterian Church in Bordentown, will deliver the message of the evening on the theme: "The Service Club in the Upper Room." The Rev. Mr. Williams is a graduate of Princeton University and of Princeton Seminary. He is State Chaplain of the New Jersey Commandery, Military Order of Foreign Wars, and has been associated with the Bordentown Military Institute. He served as a Captain overseas, though he enlisted as a private in the 17th Engineers.

He is one of the few men in American history to have been commissioned a chaplain from the ranks and who was recommended for the Distinguished Service Cross by his commander, Lieut.-Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., for refusing to leave his wounded comrades after he had been gassed in the fighting near Soissons. After being commissioned a chaplain, he spent forty-four days on the Picardy Front, where the fighting ended in capture of Cantigny, first planned American offensive. During battles in the Marne salient, he was gassed, and it was here he was cited for bravery. Chaplain Williams has conducted the funeral services for over five hundred American soldiers.

Other special features on the program will be the vocal and instrument numbers of the famous Hilyard Quartet of Camden. These musicians use bells, saw, harp, violin, flute and piano. Only a short time ago they appeared in Palmyra and played to a packed house and all those who have heard them will want to be present this coming Sunday evening. The First Lutheran Choir, under the direction of Lee Mitton, will render a suitable anthem for the occasion.

The Rev. William M. Erhard, pastor of the First Lutheran Church and also a member of the local Lions Club, wishes to announce the service is to be non-sectarian in the broadest sense of the word. The service is one of a very practical nature and will be of interest to anyone who has the subject of the community service at heart. It must be carefully born in mind that this service is not only for the Lions, but for the general public as well.

Lions Clubs at Atlantic City, Oaklyn, Camden, Clementon, Collingswood, Westfield, Merchantville, Bordentown, and other cities are expected to send delegations.

ADOPTS CHILD

Margaret Burke, nine years old, was legally adopted by Mrs. James G. Beemer, of East Main street, last week. Judge Slaughter gave the legal sanction to the adoption in the Burlington County Court at Mount Holly.

Mrs. Beemer and her foster child are greatly attached to each other as will be seen in the following paragraphs.

"It was 18 months ago," said Mrs. Beemer. "I had decided to adopt a child. I went to Philadelphia and visited the Children's Aid Society and all the institutions. There were lots of lovely children. I could not seem to decide.

"Then, as I was leaving a friend's home one day, a child ran toward me. She was Margaret. It was love at first sight. Immediately I knew that this was the girl I wanted as my daughter.

"Whether it was fate or not I don't pretend to know, but I sought out the family with whom Margaret was living and learned she was an orphan. Both of her parents had died before she was old enough to know them, and she had gone to live with relatives."

Mrs. Beemer has a son, Billie Jimmy. Jimmy and Margaret are both in the fourth grade.

Catholics Discuss Parochial School

Members of Sacred Heart Parish Subscribe $5000 More to Fund

A very successful meeting of the members of the Sacred Heart Church was held in the K. of C. hall on Monday evening last, June 20th. A large audience was present, with Messrs. Adolph Strohlein, chairman; Frank Holvick, vice-chairman; William H. Rowan, chief secretary; Rev. Father Rigney, treasurer; Mr. Charles Caul, editor of the Campaign paper; John O'Loughlin, of Philadelphia, advertising agent and Dan O'Loughlin, campaign manager.

Rev. Father Rigney and Dan O'Loughlin addressed the audience showing the benefits to be gained from a parochial school in connection with their parish and the necessity of increasing the already established school fund. Mr. Dan O'Loughlin finally addressed the audience and showed himself to be an excellent Catholic gentleman and an able and learned lecturer. The audience was immensely delighted throughout his whole discourse.

At the close of the meeting the sum of $5000 was raised in amounts of $25, $100, $500 and $1000.

The next meeting will be held at the K. of C. Hall, Broad and Elm avenue, Monday evening, at 8.15. All are invited.

Parasites to Fight Japanese Beetles

Wasps and Flies to Wage War on Grubs of Foreign Pest

In its fight against the Japanese Beetle the laboratory at Westfield is trying out a number of parasites. The wasp, Tiphia popilliavora, which was liberated some time ago, has become established in the vicinity of the laboratory and other points in Cinnaminson Township.

In 1925 a number of parasites involving two species were released at the edge of the Riverton Country Club. These included a yellowish nocturnal tachinid fly, Ochromeigenia, and a dexid fly, Prosena. They have not been recovered up to this time and it is too early to make a definite statement of what results they will accomplish toward the extermination of the beetles.

Other favored sections include Berlin, Merchantville and the Philmont Country Club grounds near Philadelphia. These sections were selected, because of the very heavy infestation of beetle grubs found in the soil and sections where the beetles are likely to be exceedingly numerous for some time to come. The parasite liberated is one of the Tiphia species and one which attacks the grubs in the soil and turf of lawns and golf courses.

Approximately 400 of the adult parasites were liberated in a specially selected section about one mile south of Berlin where the beetles are very thick. Another colony was established on the golf course at Merchantville while a third colony was established on the Philmont Country Club golf green. Each colony contained about 400 parasites. In addition to liberating the parasites the entomologists in charge also left sufficient food with the newly liberated parasites until they can become firmly established in their new home. A honey water solution is sprayed on the grass and foliage for food. These parasites are a part of the big shipment received from Korea during the early part of the week.

A ten-fold increase is to be expected during the coming season, according to Dr. H. W. Allen, Riverton, in charge of placing the colonies. There should be at least 12,000 active parasites next spring in these localities taking up the fight against the beetle. If the parasite becomes established there is a possibility of an annual ten-fold increase. In making these predictions, the entomologists have taken into consideration the mortality among the parasites arising from natural causes and loss in becoming acclimated to conditions in this latitude.

Other colonies are to be established in thickly infested regions in the near future, according to Dr. H. W. Allen, who is supervising all of this work.

ROGERS, RANDALL, BARTLEY WIN FOR MAYOR AND COUNCIL

Score of Workers Combed Town for Voters and Rounded Up About 75 P.C.

WILLIAMS AND PERKINS ALSO POLL LARGE VOTE

The sharp contest for Mayor and members of the Borough Council in Riverton and the strenuous fight for Senatorship resulted in polling about 75% of the registered voters in Tuesday's primary election.

Howard M. Rogers won over Edward R. Williams for Mayor by a majority of 210. Joshua S. Bartley and Henry L. Randall running on the ticket headed by Rogers were also elected. E. Earle Perkins, independent candidate for council received 571 votes. C. Kenneth Davis, candidate for collector won over Robert C. Ayres by a little more than two to one.

As a place to hold the fireworks Fourth of July night the river bank received 751 votes and Memorial Park 242.

Meeting Thursday Night

About the last gun fired in the campaign was a political meeting held in the Riverton schoolhouse last Thursday night. George D. Steedle, local campaign manager for Clifford R. Powell, acted as chairman.

Claude Palmer, of Mount Holly; James T. Weart and Frank A. Matthews, Jr., of Palmyra, spoke in the interest of Mr. Powell. James J. McCormick, of Burlington; Fred Lippincott, Moorestown; J. Lloyd Wright, Medford, and Howard Russ, of Delanco, spoke for themselves as candidates for freeholder.

E. Earle Perkins, candidate for council in Riverton, said that to his mind the important question was whether or not the people of Riverton were going to select their officials, or would that responsibility rest on a few, as in the past. In asking for the support of Riverton's voters he said that he was an independent candidate and would serve all the people impartially.

"Had Gained Experience"

C. Kenneth Davis, candidate for Borough Collector, said he was no orator but believed he was qualified to fill the office he sought, and that if elected he would give his very best efforts to the work.

Edward R. Williams, candidate for Mayor, said that when he ran for office seven years ago he was told by the group of gentlemen who are now backing Mr. Rogers that he (Williams) should first "get some experience." "I got the experience," said Mr. Williams, "and believe that I am now qualified to be your Mayor. I have added ability to affability—and experience."

Mr. Williams claimed that he had been instrumental in lowering the tax rate, was in favor of curbs and sidewalks all over town, had no thought of bringing factories to Riverton, approved of a new school building on Memorial Park where children would not be exposed to the dangers along main line traffic, thought firemen should have a firehouse that would compare favorably with those in other towns.

Replies to Firemen's Critics

Speaking of the firemen Mr. Williams said that the volunteer firemen rendered prompt and efficient service whenever called upon and saved the taxpayers a lot of money which would otherwise have been paid for fire protection. He said that he had heard some criticism of the boys selling tags to raise money for uniforms. In his opinion the shame was that the boys should have to resort to this means to secure the uniforms which the town ought to buy for them in recognition of their valuable service.

The speaker referred to the fact that Fulton street had been closed to the public from Second street to the river and that on Thomas avenue a portion of the sidewalk had been closed. "Stealing property that belongs to the people" is the way he put it. "As long as such things are permitted," said Mr. Williams said that he had be continued."

Mr. Williams said that he had been charged with representing the "common people." He admitted it, and quoted Lincoln's famous saying, "God must have loved the common people—he made so many of them."

Linton and Richmond Star at Bat for Locals by Clouting Homers

Riverton, playing splendidly behind the fine pitching of Brennen, shut out Tinnicum on the local grounds last Saturday.

Brennen, just out from Camden Catholic high, made his debut before the local fans and showed a splendid assortment of curves and fast balls.

The locals started off by scoring two runs in the first, two in the second and three in the third inning, put the game on ice.

Tinnicum tried hard to score but could not get a man around to the plate.

Linton, Riverton's spectacular left fielder, starred with a home run and a triple, and topped it off with two sensational catches of hard flies in the outfield.

Richmond, our local product, caught one to his liking and made a circuit of the bases also.

Keep it up, Everyone was pleased to see the return to winning form.

The management is endeavoring to give the fans some first-class baseball and want to see all the baseball lovers out rooting for the home club.

This Saturday we will play the Frankford Indians.

CHURCHES JOIN IN OPEN AIR SERVICES

As in former years the churches of Cinnaminson Township will again hold three Community Open Air Services on the last Sundays of June, July and August. The churches cooperating are the two Friends Meetings of Westfield, the Asbury M. E. Church and the Five Points Moravian Church. The place of meeting is the grove at the Friends Meeting House at Westfield.

The first of these meetings will be held next Sunday evening from 7.00 to 7.45. The speakers will be Mr. Max I. Riech, of Morrisville, N. J., the noted Hebrew Christian Bible teacher.

A cordial invitation is extended to all the people in the community to attend this and the succeeding meetings.

THREE GIRLS WILL GET SCHOLARSHIPS

County Council of Parents and Teachers Send Three to Normal School

Miss Myrtle Grimm, of Maple Shade, a student of Moorestown High School, is the winner of the Scholarship awarded annually by the Burlington County Council of New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers. Miss Grimm will attend the State Normal School at Glassboro.

There being no available room in either the Trenton or Glassboro dormitories for this year's student, Miss Grimm decided to commute. This left enough money to pay carfare for two other girls, which made it possible to place three students in Normal schools this year.

The other two girls who will benefit by the Scholarship plan this year are Miss Claire Dinges, East Riverton, a student of Palmyra High, and Miss Louise Taylor, of Chesterfield, a student of Pemberton High.

The Scholarship fund will not quite cover the transportation expenses of the three girls, but the difference is being made up by friends interested in the work.

LIONS CLUB

"Mike" Jubanyik Tells How Fellowship Wins

Michael J. Jubanyik, president of the Camden Lions Club, gave an eloquent address before the Palmyra-Riverton Club Tuesday evening.

Mr. Jubanyik asserted that most of the troubles among mankind comes of misunderstanding and lack of sympathy, that to know a man well brings understanding and appreciation, so the function of a Service Club in bringing men of different businesses, different religions and different views into friendly relationships does wonders in promoting human amity.

With such good feelings established between men of a community, the speaker declared, it is easy to accomplish great things for the welfare of that town and the people in it.

MARY FISHER IS MARRIED TO H. T. BROWN, JR.

Many Notables Attend Wedding at Pennsylvania Executive Mansion

ROBERT P. BROWN IS THE BEST MAN

To Live in Haverford on Return from 3 Months' Trip

Miss Mary Miller Fisher, daughter of Governor John S. Fisher and "First Lady" of Pennsylvania, became the bride of Henry Tatnall Brown, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tatnall Brown, of Chester avenue, Moorestown, in the executive mansion at Harrisburg at four o'clock last Thursday afternoon. The Rev. Dr. J. C. Pinkerton, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church, of Indiana, Pa., performed the ceremony, which included parts of the Presbyterian and Episcopal wedding rites.

Ferns, Easter lilies and palms were used to decorate the alcove on the east side of the drawing room, where the ceremony, witnessed by two hundred guests, was performed. Yellow and blue was the color scheme carried out in the dining room and halls.

Governor Fisher gave his daughter in marriage. Her bridal gown was a lovely creation of traditional white satin and carrickmacross lace fashioned with a train of tulle. Carrickmacross lace formed her veil and white orchids and lilies of the valley her bouquet.

Equally lovely gowns were worn by the bridal party. Mrs. Vernon F. Taylor, of Indiana, Pa., the matron of honor, appeared in a stunning model of white lace over yellow chiffon. Her picture hat was of lacey braid and her bouquet of yellow roses.

Sheer frocks of organdie over taffeta in pastel shades costumed the bridesmaids. Velvet streamers trimmed their picture hats of lacey braid and delphinium and roses formed their bouquets.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. W. J. Clarke Agnew, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Lorna Conwell Brown, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Lloyd Montgomery Clark, of Great Neck, Long Island; Mrs. Gilson Colby Engel, of Philadelphia; Miss Dorothy Hiniti, of Briarcliff Manor, N. Y., and Mrs. William Burney Thomas, of Ben Avan Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miss Ruth C. Taylor and Miss Virginia Taylor, daughters of the matron of honor were the flower girls and wore exquisite frocks of white organdie and carried delphinium and roses.

Robert P. Brown, 2nd, of Moorestown, was best man and the ushers were Robert Miller Fisher, of Indiana, Pa.; William Warder Bacon, Jr., of Ardmore, Pa.; John Carter Borton, of Moorestown; Garrett Scattergood Hoag, of Saybrook, Conn.; Robert West Leeds, of Atlantic City; Gordon W. Strawbridge, of Chestnut Hill and Alfred Langstaff Test, of Philadelphia.

Ellis Clark Hamman, of Philadelphia, accompanist for the Orpheus Club, of which Mr. Brown is a member, played the Wedding March and played selections pianissimo during the ceremony. The LemerTrio, of Harrisburg, rendered numbers before and after the ceremony.

Three hundred additional guests attended the reception which was held in the executive mansion following the marriage. The wedding party was entertained at a dinner in the library of the mansion.

After the reception and the dinner Mr. and Mrs. Brown kept the destination of their wedding trip a secret, Mrs. Brown admitted they would be gone several months. It is believed they are going abroad and will be back in time for the opening of Haverford College in the fall.

Mrs. Brown's traveling outfit was composed of a dark blue ensemble suit of georgette with a red belt, a dark blue croche straw hat with a red band, and she wore a bouquet of cornflowers at her shoulder.

On their return from their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Brown will reside at Haverford, Pa. Mr. Brown will be dean of Freshmen at Haverford College next year. He has been teaching at Penn Charter School, near Philadelphia.

The Governor's daughter will not relinquish her duties as "First Lady," however, for at the more formal state affairs at the capital she will preside.

Among the more notable guests who attended the wedding were Secretray of the Interior Hubert Work, Secretray of Labor and Mrs. James J. Davis, of Washington; State Republican Chairman W. L. Mellon, Pittsburgh; Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Arthur H. James, Plymouth, former Governor and Mrs. William C. Sproul, Chester; Major General and Mrs. W. G. Price, Jr., Chester; President Pro Tem. of the Senate and Mrs. H. W. Schantz, Speaker and Mrs. Thomas Bluett, Philadelphia; Joseph R. Grundy and daughter, Bristol; Mr. and Mrs. George H. Lorimer, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. H. Ewing, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Ogden, Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Massey, all of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Sinclair, Altoona; the Rev. Dr. F. W. Hinitt, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, R. A. F. Penrose, Jr., Philadelphia; Senator and Mrs. W. S. Vare, former Senator and Mrs. George Wharton Pepper, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Scranton, of Scranton) and Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Scattergood, Philadelphia.

"Don't Remember What Happened"

Yes, They Do Know the Fine New Car Was Badly Damaged and Abandoned

Although the car was found overturned and a complete wreck the next morning—they "don't remember what happened."

Such is the plight of a Merchantville family.

Some time during Monday evening or the wee hours of Tuesday morning a fine new Dodge sedan which had only been driven 500 miles was almost completely wrecked and abandoned, overturned, on North Lenola Road.

Shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday morning Officer Walter Errickson, of the Moorestown Police Department, was called, for the machine laid across the road obstructing traffic.

Errickson notified Merchantville police that he had found the driver's license of Helen I. Warren, 27 Ellwell avenue, Merchantville, in the machine.

The Warren family reported: "Yes, we know the machine is up there. No, we can't remember what happened."

The car evidently sideswiped a small bridge, plunged ahead 100 feet and then crashed into a pole and overturned.

No injuries were reported.

Reckless driving on the part of Norman West, Borton's Landing Road, caused a triple accident on Camden avenue just below Pleasant Valley Sunday afternoon shortly before five o'clock.

West, headed toward Camden, sideswiped an auto driven by Bernard Gershenfeld, of Philadelphia, with his car, and then plied head on into the front of a large Long Branch sedan. Both of the cars West crashed into were headed east.

The fenders and running board on the left side of the Gershenfeld machine were considerably damaged and the entire front of the Long Branch sedan, which was driven by Benjamin Vantine, was demolished.

West and a passenger in his machine and Vantine all suffered slight injuries.

At a hearing before Recorder Joseph Johnston in Moorestown Town Hall West was fined $17.50, charged with reckless driving. The owners agreed to arrange for settlement on damages to the autos out of court.

PAYN—HETTMANNSPERGER

Miss Elizabeth Hettmannsperger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hettmannsperger, of Taylor street, Riverside, and Harold E. Payn, of Moorestown, were married in Elkton at 12 o'clock noon Tuesday.

After spending the remainder of this week touring the south, the happy couple will be at home to their many friends at the West End Apartments, West Main street, Moorestown.

The bridegroom conducts a radio shop on Chester avenue, Moorestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Payn have a large circle of friends in both Moorestown and Riverside.

DENNIS—BERRY

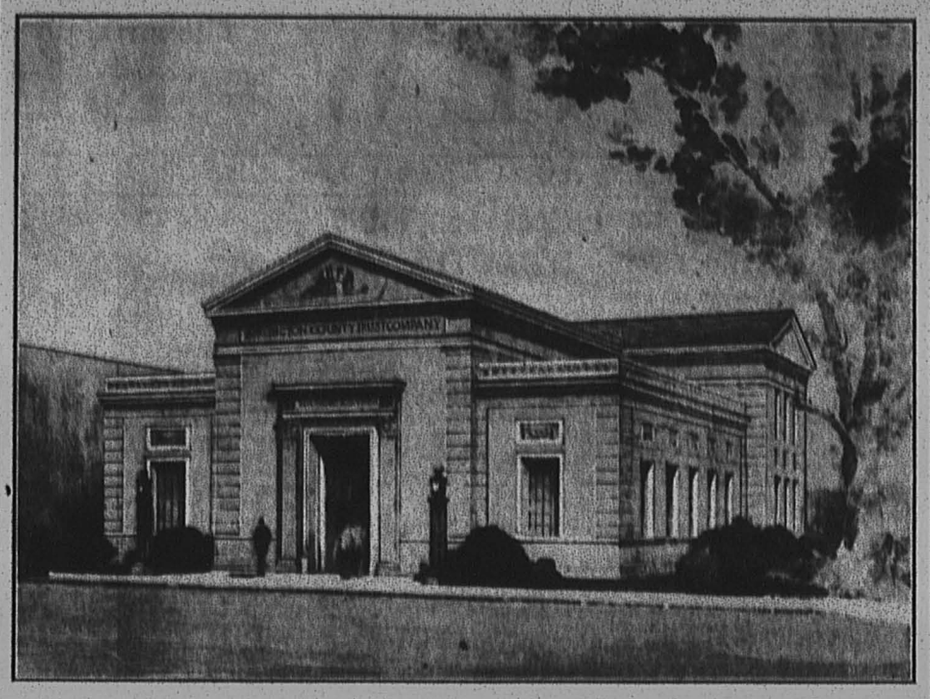

Miss Lillian H. Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Berry, of East Main street, and Harvey H. Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin M. Dennis, of Delanco, were married by the Rev. Dr. G. H. Humason at his home on East Second street at 6 o'clock Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dower, of Medford, brother-in-law and sister of the bride, were the only attendants.

LARGE GRADUATION FOR MAPLE SHADE

51 Members Receive Diplomas At Commencement Held Last Week

Dr. Calvin O. Althouse, of Philadelphia, was the principal speaker at the commencement exercises of the Maple Shade School, held in the auditorium of the new municipal building Wednesday evening of last week. A class of 51, the largest ever graduated from Chester township schools, was presented with diplomas.

Mark K. Lewis, president of the Board of Education, presented the diplomas, while Laura G. Swain, supervising principal of School No. 2, presented prizes won by studnets during the year. Dorothy L. Arbogast, Anna Azoff, Miriam E. Kaipainen and Marietta E. Kelly comprised the honor group of the class.

Other students presented with awards for meritorious work were Joseph Cunningham, Anna Azoff and Miriam Kaipainen, winners of the arithmetic awards; Rosa Francen, eighth grade; Elizabeth Stein, sixth grade; Helen Nelson, fifth grade; Mildred Mardin, fourth grade and Earl Makin, third grade, winners of spelling prizes.

Prizes were awarded Miss Carrie L. Sites and Mrs. Mary Welch Greene, teachers in the school, by the Parent-Teacher Association for having the most mothers present at P-T meetings throughout the year. The Rev. George Crane, pastor of the Baptist Church, offered the invocation and Mr. Rennell, pastor of the Episcopal church, the benediction.

Graduates included: Dorothy L. Arbogast, Anna Azoff, Freda Azoff, Evelyne I. Beale, Marie A. G. Benethum, Jennie W. Blaetz, Hattie A. Bristow, Floyd D. Burke, Vera I. Burke, Ella M. OLD TYPE CEMENT

Maple Shade Petitions Oppose Vibrolithic Roads

Supporters of normal concrete were victorious in their fight to include that type of construction in the paving of Fork Landing and Mills roads, Maple Shade, at the meeting of the Chester township committee last week. A flood of petitions were presented and the result was so evident that the engineer was asked to tabulate them for footage.

The fight over the use of vibrolithic and normal concrete has been a bitter one. Members of the township committee favored the new method, while the residents of the two streets fought for the use of the old method. Representatives of the two methods debated the issue at the last committee meeting.

The specifications for the roads were made as seven inch reinforced concrete. Work of construction will start as soon as water and sewer mains are in place. The contract had been awarded to the F. A. Canuso & Son Construction Company, of Philadelphia.

Another improvement was authorized by the governing body. Maple avenue, one of the first streets to file petitions for sidewalks, will be included in the sidewalk construction program. It was shown that this petition had been mislayed when the ordinance was passed, and individual action became necessary to provide for the walks.

Stokes is in Race For U. S. Senator

Former Governor Announces Candidacy for Republican Nomination Next Year

Edward C. Stokes announced his candidacy for the United States Senate Saturday. The platform upon which he will seek the nomination next year is "Sterling Republicanism and a continuation of Calvin Coolidge."

The announcement makes Mr. Stokes the first avowed candidate in the field for the Republican nomination. From a party viewpoint it is perhaps one of the most significant declarations of recent years.

Not only will it mean the retirement of Mr. Stokes as chairman of the State Republican Committee, a position he has held since the Buglee campaign of 1919, but it will go far toward forcing a definite alignment of groups in the Republican Party, the exact affiliations of which have been more or less in doubt.

Mr. Stokes made it clear that the announcement of his candidacy was in a measure forced. He would have preferred that the party should select its own candidates for Governor and United States Senator, rather than resort to the policy of self-announced aspirants. With the end in view Mr. Stokes said he had held a conference with former Senator Frelinghuysen and National Committeeman Hamilton F. Kean, both rated as unannounced aspirants for the nomination, and had suggested that all three withdraw, leaving the field open for a virtually unanimous choice of some other person.

When his conferees declined to follow such a course, Mr. Stokes said he felt he had done all that could be asked of him in the interest of party harmony. The sacrifice he offered, he said, would, in effect, relinquish his last chance to reach the United States Senate, an ambition he had cherished since his term of Governor from 1904 to 1907.

FRELINGHUYSEN'S STATEMENT

"In announcing his candidacy for the United States Senate, I note that ex-Governor Stokes referred to the recent conference which was held at his suggestion with Mr. Kean and myself, presumably to prevent bitterness and party discord in the 1928 senatorial campaign, but in reality with the object of presenting the proposition that the three of us should retire and someone else be selected as a substitute candidate," said former U. S. Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen in a statement Tuesday afternoon.

"When the purpose of his visit was thus revealed, I asked Governor Stokes whom he had in mind and he answered, 'no one'. I then asked him who would select a man to run and he conveyed the impression that the leaders of the party would select someone to run. This was the parting of the ways between Governor Stokes and myself on the subject matter of the conference because I have stood steadfast for the principle that the people should select the candidate and not the party leaders. He evidently still is opposed to the retention of the open primaries and favors the return of the discarded machine system.

"Obviously the suggestion at that time to retire from a contest before anyone had publicly announced his candidacy was premature to say the least. It practically amounted to a declaration on the part of three members of the Party, not that they would withdraw, but that they would agree not to become candidates."

Palmyra Drops One to Pitman, 6-4

Bunched Hits by the Opposition Spells Defeat For Local Nine

Palmyra dropped a 6-4 decision to the Pitman team at the latter's field last Saturday. Winger pitched his usual good game for Palmyra but airtight support was not given him at the right times.

Pitman bunched its hits at the moments when most needed and tallied three runs in the third and two more in the sixth luning to cop the verdict. Palmyra got the lead by tagging one in the very first frame and two more markers in its half of the third.

Palmyra's first three men in the batting order featured. Buckholtz had three blows and one run while Krause accounted for two hits and two runs. Rogers came through with two hits and crossed the pan on one occasion.

Nicholson, Radcliffe and Beebe, with two hits apiece, led with the stick for the victors.

Palmyra was scheduled to play at Bristol Sunday but the game was called off on account of rain. Palmyra will travel to Pennsylvania this Sunday.

HEADS LIONS CLUBS

Irving L. Camp, of Johnstown, Pa., International President

Irving L. Camp, of Johnstown, Pa., was unanimously elected president of the International Association of Lions Club in the convention assembled at Miami, Fla., last week.

Mr. Camp was born in Waterbury, Conn., and has since that time lived in New York City, Long Island, N. Y., and Johnstown, where he now resides.

He began his business career as a clerk in his father's retail coal yard, and since then has devoted his entire time to either the production or distribution of coal.

Mr. Camp is president of the Producers Coal & Coke Company of Johnstown, Pa., and is an officer or director of other coal mining and distributing companies. He has also served as director of important political, charitable, social, and civic bodies in both his city and state.

The newly elected president of Lions International is a member of the Methodist Church, Masons, Odd Fellows, and Elks.

President Camp believes that every man owes society an obligation, which can be paid only by service to others and he himself is an example of the busy business man leading in civic affairs.

BOOMS REAL ESTATE

Palmyra-Tacony Bridge Means Much To This District

The proposed bridge between Palmyra and Tacony will boom real estate in Palmyra, Riverton and vicinity. Valuable home sites being offered by three separate concerns are all in the pathway of the new structure. The bridge will begin at Levick street, Tacony, and end at Eight Mile Point, Palmyra, which is the narrowest point in the river between Philadelphia and Trenton.

This anticipated construction of the bridge, which real estate men say will boom land values here more than any other single event in the history of this district, has already started preliminary real estate booms through Palmyra, Riverton and Pensauken township.

The Pensauken township boom is along the Burlington Pike. A new development is already busy selling lots in the path of the new bridge. Thomas R. Bromley, of Palmyra has started "Morgan Heights," in anticipation of the bridge. The Walter D. Lamon Company has a development on the Burlington Pike called "Cinnaminson Heights."

Although the bridge is being held up pending the issuance of a permit from the War Department, it is a certain thing. The department has held the plans for the bridge under advisement for more than two months.

The bridge will cost more than $4,000,000.

DRUNK PUT OFF BUS

A man under the influence of liquor was put off one of the buses now being operated by the P. R. T. at Palmyra, Monday afternoon.

The driver of the bus turned the drunk over to Chief of Police Beck for being disorderly. The man, who disturbed the passengers on the bus, was on his way to the Frankford "L." He was locked up in the Palmyra jail and while there, talked and growled until he was tired. After he sobered up he was turned loose and allowed to continue on his way.

Gas Tax To Go In Force Next Month

Dill Perfects Plans for Collection of Two Cents Per Gallon

Plans for collection of the two cents a gallon tax on automobile gasoline in this State beginning July 1, under the provisions of an act by the last legislature, have been about perfected by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill. Inspectors of the department are now engaged in checking the number of gasoline stations throughout the State preparatory to the extration of the two dollar license fee, beginning January 1.

The gasoline revenue will be collected from the wholesale distributer, all the larger companies having obtained licenses. This system will prove a marked advantage, it is believed, over the method employed in some of the other States, notably Pennsylvania, where tax is levied by nearly 30,000 stations. Dill expects to handle the extra clerical work involved by the employment of three additional bookkeepers. Reports will be filed monthly by the collection agencies.

"We do not anticipate the slightest difficulty in enforcement of the law," said Dill. "The administration, which is the most simplified, safeguards the state against the tax-dodging. There is no doubt that the motorists favor the imposition of the gas tax, but I regret the legislature did not see fit to decrease the registration fees, as recommended by the department, instead of eliminating the personal property tax on automobiles."

MOORE—VAN BIBBER

A swift courtship and early marriage followed the meeting of Miss Margaret Van Bibber, 15, and Elmer Moore, 17, at Red Lion six weeks ago. It was a case of love at first sight with the young folks, and when Elmer drove up to the Van Bibber home last Friday and suggested that they elope to Elkton, Margaret readily agreed. The bride is the youngest of seven children of Mr. and Mrs. N. V. Van Bibber, caretakers at the Campbell Soup Farm, Riverton, and Moore is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Moore, of Red Lion.

Mrs. Van Bibber was away at the time of the elopement, and the girl left a note saying she had gone to Wilmington to visit friends and would be back Sunday night.

TO COL. CHARLES LINDBERGH

He soared on high across the sea
He soared on high to victory,
The Ace of all the world is He,
Who crossed the never ending sea.

He landed amid the shouts and cheers,
The greatest hero of all the years,
His daring voyage has brought him fame,
But, He accomplished his one great aim.

His first great thought was for another
It was for his most beloved mother,
She taught him what clean living was worth,
And he grew to be the greatest son of Earth.

ISN'T RELATIVE

Girl in Jail Denies She is Daughter of Newton Joyce

Miss Madeline Joyce, age 18, who is serving sixty days in the county jail for having committed larceny, and about whose identity there has been much speculation because of her reticence about her family connections, indignantly denies published reports that she is the daughter of Newton Joyce, of Pemberton township, who recently pleaded guilty to manslaughter. The report, it is understood, emanated from Joyce, who is alleged to have stated that she is his daughter but that he had not seen her since she was five years of age.

Miss Joyce, who because of the reticence mentioned, has been termed a "mystery girl," said she never before heard of Newton Joyce; that she never was in Pemberton township, and that she never visited Mount Holly until she was taken there on the charge of larceny. Furthermore she suggests in no uncertain language that it might be well for busybodies to attend to their own business.

Miss Joyce, it will be recalled, was arrested in Atlantic City for having stolen jewelry and silk from Mrs. Maude R. Montgomery, at Medford. The girl had been boarding a short time with Mrs. Montgomery's daughter, Mrs. Maude Reily and when she left, the articles were missing.

When arrested she admitted her guilt and returned the stolen articles, but positively refused to give any clue as to her identity except the name of Madeline Joyce.

STREET SIGNS IN BURLINGTON

The streets and highways committee of the Burlington Common Council, headed by W. C. Jones, has ordered 329 new street name signs, which will be distributed at every unmarked intersection throughout the city.

The Burlington Chamber of Commerce cooperated with the committee in tabulating the streets to be marked. In 1921 the chamber put up 90 signs, of which 76 are still in use. The committee plans to put four signs at every intersection, except where there are blind streets. There are 51 intersections in the city.

The Eskimos heat their snow huts with lamps and as long as the supply of blubber lasts the place keeps so warm that the children go about naked.

Penn-Jersey Buys Philburco Lines

P. R. T. and Public Service Subsidiary Takes Over Riverfront Bus Line

The sale of the Philburco Coach Company, owned and operated by George D. Steedle, of Riverton, to the Penn-Jersey Rapid Transit Company, a subsidiary of the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company and the Public Service Transportation Company, of New Jersey, was made on Saturday last. The price paid for the line was not disclosed.

The independent line was taken over by the transit company Sunday morning and incorporated in the Penn-Jersey system. There was no change in the rates of fare and for the present, no change in schedule. Within the next few weeks, when more buses become available, the service will be increased.

The Penn-Jersey lines are owned by the P. R. T. and Public Service. The P. R. T. had an option on the Philburco Company for the past year, which expired Saturday. Steedle started the coach company, running first from Riverton and Palmyra to the Frankford "L" via the Palmyra-Tacony Ferry, and then expanded his line to Riverside. Recently, another line, running from Riverside to the Philadelphia City Hall, via the Camden bridge, was started.

All the bus drivers formerly employed by the Philburco Company must pass new drivers' examinations.

It has been reported that Steedle has been offered a position by the Penn-Jersey Company, but refused, to devote his time to the hauling service he operates between Philadelphia and the river-front towns.

The Philburco buses have been replaced by the Penn-Jersey buses of green and yellow. The former buses will be repainted and reconditioned and put back into service.

HITS TREE

Colored Man Knocked Unconscious on Moorestown Road

John Loper, colored, was knocked unconscious when the car he was driving smashed into a tree near Lippincott's farm on the Moorestown-Riverton Pike, Monday morning. The injured man was taken to the Cooper Hospital, Camden. He regained consciousness and was able to tell who he was and about the accident.

He said he was driving along the pike and when he came to the road he wanted to turn into he could not make the left swing in time to avoid crashing into the tree.

At the hospital it was found that Loper was driving without a driver's licence.

THE COUNTY PRIMARY

The result of the primary election Tuesday was a great personal and political victory for Assemblyman Clifford R. Powell and the leaders who supported him.

While the margin of victory was small, it was enough, and the bitterness with which the campaign was fought, made any majority, however slight, a signal triumph.

It is useless, however, to pretend that the battle is over. For the time being, it pauses. The Republican majority in Burlington County is such that nomination is equivalent to election.

Another Fight Coming

But the artillery for the great state and national political struggle of next year is already being trundled into position, and although Burlington County will be but a small section of that great battlefield, every point of vantage will be closely contested.

Edward C. Stokes, representing largely the same forces who carried Powell to victory, has already announced his candidacy for nomination on the Republican ticket in New Jersey for United States Senate. The lines for the state battle of 1928 may be expected to form rapidly.

Forecasters and interpreters of the political situation in Burlington County following Tuesday's primary are numerous and varied. Some see the removal of certain party leaders from the stage of importance and others herald the development of a new county organization and new county leaders.

Principles Live On

To us, however, it seems that the issues and the lines of cleavage remain much the same. The principles for which the Roberts forces fought will live throughout the future of mankind and there will ever be men and women willing and eager to fight for them.

The battle must go on. In another year and another campaign men and issues and political alignments may be altered but the fundamentals of political ideals and hopes in Burlington County will remain the same.

For the Senatorial nominee, Mr. Powell, there was a loss as well as a victory, which his own keen eyes will not overlook. It is not well for the political future of an ambitious and able young man to have a divided party back of him in his home county.

It will be brilliant and commendable political strategy for the future State Senator to so conduct himself during his next three years in office as to heal some of the wounds left by the hectic struggle for his nomination and to establish confidence as to his motives and political alliances in the minds of those who so bitterly opposed him in the recent primary.

PALMYRA'S NEXT MAYOR

The nomination of George N. Wimer for Mayor of Palmyra comes as a fitting reward for a lifetime of civic patriotism and service.

Already entered upon the final decade of his allotted three-score and ten, Mr. Wimer has been a commanding figure and devoted worker in the interests of his own community since boyhood and the honor of heading the municipal government comes as a gracious tribute from the town he has served so long.

The Mayor-designate stands for clean government, law enforcement and the highest ideals of private and public life. The pilot of the destinies of the town for the next few years has been well chosen.

CONGRESS IN 1928

President Coolidge is now in the Black Hills of South Dakota prepared to rest, recuperate and get himself fit for official duties which promise to be as strenuous as any pre-election year the nation has seen since Teddy split with Taft. The Seventieth Congress will be summoned into session during October or November or at least a month in advance of its regular convening date in December—because the legislative calendar is already crowded with momentuous matters — virtually every one of which will no doubt be jockeyed into 1928 campaign issues.

Permanent Mississippi flood relief; seating of Vare and Smith; tax reduction; and, the fact that every member of the House and one-third the Senate member will be up for re-election in 1928 is promising of much action.

In the Senate, only one vote separates the Democrats and Republicans. If either Smith or Vare fail to be seated—the Democrats can organize the Senate in the way they want. A real party fight is in prospect over the next tax slash. With Secretary Mellon already estimating a surplus of $600,000,000, a reduction of at least $300,000,000 is expected by the taxpaying public and naturally a struggle will be made by each party to have a bill of its own drafting enacted.

Political leaders in both parties are fully aware of the fact that 1928 is not going to be any pink tea affair. Added to the grief in the agricultural situation. Party leaders everywhere have at last commenced to realize that the farmer must have some attention else he can and will spill the beans.

Maybe the President will get some rest at his western summer camp—but it is doubtful. Conference after conference will be held there this summer on major problems which even now are clamoring for attention and action.

ACCIDENT PREVENTION

Compelling every automobile owner to carry liability insurance will not in itself prevent accidents. Indeed there are those who contend that a reckless driver, insured, becomes more reckless than before.

Instead of constantly striving to make it easier for the reckless driver to operate a car to the detriment of the public, why not make it more difficult by imposing obligations based on the character and ability to drive.

During 1926 there were 7,000 accidental injuries and 246 deaths every day in the United States. Motor cars were the largest single contributor to the death, hospital, and the $400,000,000 money loss.

Some accidents seem unavoidable but by far the greater majority are easily avoidable; by car inspection, by reasonable driving, by fair consideration of others, by pedestrian decency and care. The speeder and the jaywalker are twin perils; the foot hog and car hog are other twins, alike deadly; the get-out-of-my-way driver and the don't-you--dare-touch-me pedestrian run neck and neck in the fatality list, for themselves and for others.

Safety is largely an individual matter; it must be taught to every person, every succeeding generation—there is no hereditary or racial caution to save anybody.

The best contribution any man can make to public safety is to be careful himself, and to demand caution in his own family whether it walks or rides. This loss of $4,000,000,000 a year in accidents, most of them avoidable, is everybody's business; and until everybody does his part, the slaughter and the loss will continue.

GOOD OLD DAYS"

The millions who saw, or struggled to see, Lindbergh, witnessed the beginning of a new era. The boy who breakfasted in Washington and hopped off to attend a noon reception in New York, where his every movement and gesture and smile were recorded by radio observers and announcers to millions of people more. Meanwhile, escorting airplanes circled overhead and dropped roses down toward the flyer.

The next generation is going to speak of the generation before the airplane as the "good old days."

There never were any "good old days." In the "good old days" one hundred and twenty-five years ago wives were expected to die off at forty, and at fifty most men were broken down. The majority of the working mankind was engaged in the back-breaking labor that is now done for us by railroads, machinery, automobiles, and, more recently, electricity in the home. Central water, central light and central gas systems have relieved us from endless drudgery.

The physicial hardships in the "good old days" were only exceeded by their intellectual poverty, banished for the humblest of us by the modern newspaper, magazine, book, movie, grapophone. Just so these "good old days of 1927" will seem primitive and stupid and unendurable to our grandchildren.

Those who have welcomed Lindbergh have participated in the beginning of a revolution in social and business life comparable with the revolutions introduced first by the railroad and then by the automobile.

THE AMERICAN BOY

That we have a right to expect of the American boy is that he shall turn out to be a good American man. The boy can best become a good man by being a good boy—not a goody-goody boy, but just a plain good boy. I do not mean that he must love only the negatives virtues; I mean that he must love the positive virtues also. "Good," in the largest sense, should include whatever is fine, straight forward, clean, brave, and manly. The best boys I know—the best men I know—are good at their studies or their business, fearless and stalwart, hated and feared by all that is wicked and depraved, incapable of submitting to wrongdoing, and equally incapable of being aught but tender to the weak and helpless. Of course the effect that a thoroughly manly, thoroughly straight and upright boy can have upon the companions of his own age, and upon those who are younger, is incalculable. If he is not thoroughly manly, then they will not respect him, and his good qualities will count for but little; while, of course, if he is mean, cruel or wicked, then his physical strength and force of mind merely make him so much the more objectionable a member of society. He can not do good work if he is not strong and does not try with his whole heart and soul to count in any contest; and his strength will be a curse to himself and to every one else if he does not have a thorough command over himself and over his own evil passions, and if he does not use his strength on the side of decency, justice and fair dealing.

In short, in life, as in a football game, the principle to follow is: Hit the line hard; don't foul and don't shirk, but hit the line hard. —"The American Boy," by Theodore Roosevelt.

THE VOICE OF AMERICA

The great voice of America does not come from the seats of learning. It comes in a murmur from the hills and woods and farms and factories and the mills, rolling and gaining volume until it comes to us from the homes of common men. Do these murmurs echo in the corridors of the universities? I have not heard them. The universities would make men forget their common origins, forget their universal sympathies, and join a class—and no class can ever serve America. I have dedicated every power there is in me to bring the colleges that I have anything to do with to an absolutely democratic regeneration in spirit, and I shall not be satisfied until America shall know that the men in the colleges are saturated with the same thought, the same sympathy, that pulses through the whole great body politic.—Woodrow Wilson.

POWER OF PUBLICITY

There are narrow-minded individuals who claim that the cost of publicity is not a legimate expense of public service corporations. Publicity which encourages the widest use of an article is the most potent influence to reduce the expense of that article to the consuming public. Without publicity, the demand for an article is small and the cost of production high. With proper publicity the demand for an article becomes universal and the cost of production drops to a minimum.

That is why Americans enjoy the best public utility service in the world—utility companys are constant users of advertising space. They have acquainted the people with every phase of their business and shown them the advantages of using electricity, gas, the telephone and street railway service. Their success is an outstanding example of the fact that advertising does pay when applied to an article of service or merit.

SPARE HOURS ON FARM

President Coolidge predicting more "intensive farming," told 200 scientists gathered on a "soil congress" that the bigger crops per acre, rather than more acerage, will solve the agricultural problem.

Already the President's prediction begins to come true. Fewer stay on the farms but farms produce more. One wheat harvesting machine has reduced by 25,000 the number of extra harvest hands needed in Kansas.

Henry Ford who proves his theory in a dozen places along the River Rouge, says improved machinery will let the farmer do his farming in eight weeks and give him a chance to rest and do other lucrative work during the other forty-four remaining weeks of the year.

WORK!

My share of the work of the world may be limited, but the fact that it is work makes it precious. Darwin could work only half an hour at a time; yet in many diligent half-hours he laid anew the foundations of philosophy.

Green, the historian, tells us that the world is moved not only by the mighty shoves of the heroes, but also by the aggregate of the tiny pushes of each honest worker.—Helen Keller.

The character and qualifications of the leader are reflected in the men he selects, develops and gathers around him. Show me the leader and I will know his men. Show me the men and I will know their leader. Therefore, to have loyal, efficient employees—be a loyal and efficient employer.—Arthur W. Newcomb.

To me it seems as if when God conceived the world, that was poetry; He formed it, and that was sculpture; He varied and colored it, and that was painting; and then, crowning all, He peopled it with living beings, and that was the grand divine, eternal drama.—Charlotte Cushman.

You can dissolve everything in the world, even a great fortune, into atoms. And the fundamental principles which govern the handling of postage-stamps and of millions of dollars are exactly the same. They are the common law of business, and the whole practice of commerce is founded on them. They are so simple that a fool can't learn them; so hard that a lazy man won't.—Philip D. Armour.

I live on the sunny side of the street; shady folks live on the other. I have always preferred the sunshine and have tried to put other people there, if only for an hour or two at a time.—Marshall P. Wilder.

BAPTIST CHURCH

The thimble party of the Philathea Class is to be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Beahn, on Spring Garden street below Cinnaminson avenue.

All day Saturday the mammoth savory and delicious Food Sale will be in progress in the church basement. This is the Philathea ladies prize event. Many delicacies will be on sale including bread, pies, cakes, rusks, ham, potato salad, etc., etc. The food sale will offer an opportunity for everybody to treat the family over the weekend. Orders may be placed by calling any member of the Philathea Class or Riv. 258-W, Riv. 552-W, or Riv. 718.

Sunday morning at the 11.15 service, Pastor Lockett will preach a helpful sermon entitled, "God is Near."

At the twilight service at 7.45 the pastor will speak on "Divine Ownership."

The Daily Vacation Bible School held in the Lutheran Church basement, under the direction of the Palmyra-Riverton Council of Religious Education, opened with a flying start on Monday.

The sessions are held five days a week from 9 a. m. to 11.30 a. m. Four experienced teachers are supervising the School. These are the Misses "Kay" Green, Margaret Fields, Helene Johnson and Mrs. Rachel Lord.

Let your kiddies take a cool, summer trip "Thru the Holy Land" with them.

Calvary Presbyterian

Service of worship of Calvary Presbyterian Church will be held next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. The pastor will preach on the theme "Well Done," and will have a talk for the children about "Clover and Cats."

The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 7.15 o'clock. As this is the last service until September every member of the Society is urged to be present.

There will be no evening service of worship and no mid-week service until September.

The Church School picnic will be held on Monday, June 27th, at Knights' Park, Collingswood. All members of the School and congregation are urged to come and make this a real church picnic. Buses will leave Riverton Station at 10 a. m. and 1 p. m. No charge for members of the School; others 35 cents.

The Presbytery of Monmouth will hold its summer meeting at Sayreville on June 28th, starting at 9.30 in the morning.

Minister.

AIRY FAIRY FOUNDATION CAKE

1-3 cup shortening	1-2 cup milk
1 cup sugar	1 3-4 cups Airy Fairy
2 eggs	2 teasp. bak. powder
1 teasp. vanilla	1-4 teasp. salt

Cream shortening until it is very soft. Add sugar gradually, beating it in well so that the mixture will be light and creamy. Add well beaten eggs and flavoring. Add milk alternately with the flour, baking powder, and salt which have been sifted together. Beat the batter until the ingredients are thoroughly blended—about two minutes. Turn into a greased cake pan and bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees F—for 50 or 60 minutes.

Mother's Cook Book

"If every one were wise and sweet,
And every one were jolly;
If every heart with gladness beat,
And none were melancholy;
If none should grumble or complain,
And nobody should labor
In evil work, but each were fair
To love and help his neighbor—
Oh, what a happy world 'twould be
For you and me, for you and me."

GOOD THINGS TO EAT

WE ALL have some recipes which we enjoy preparing again and again. One of these is a good cooky recipe, for in most homes the cooky jar is a very important part of the household equipment, and it is wise to keep it well stocked.

Martha's Cookies.

Take one cupful of shortening, add two cupfuls of sugar, three well-beaten eggs, salt and one-half cupful of milk. Sift two cupfuls of flour with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and add lemon flavoring, or the grated rind of a lemon. Let stand an hour to chill, then roll with as little flour as possible.

Raisin Pie.

Take one cupful of raisins, chop fine and cook in one cupful of water five minutes; add three-fourths of a cupful of sugar well mixed with a tablespoonful of cornstarch; add the yolks of two eggs and the juice and grated rind of a lemon.

Jelly Roll.

Beat three eggs until light, add one cupful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of water and a pinch of salt, stir in one cupful of flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, adding the flour gradually. Bake in a dripping pan well greased. Turn out on a towel wrung out of cold water. Trim the edges, spread with jelly and roll up while warm.

Apple Roll.

Make a rich biscuit dough, roll out and cover with one cupful of chopped apples well sugared and flavored with either cinnamon or nutmeg. Bake one-half hour, then pour over some cranberry sauce and bake ten minutes more.

Chocolate Pudding.

Beat one egg, add one-half cupful of sugar and one cupful of milk, pour over one and one-half cupfuls of flour sifted with three teaspoonfuls of baking powder; when well blended add two squares of chocolate, melted, a pinch of salt. Steam one and one-half hours.

TAKING NO CHANCES

Councilman Clarence N. Hubbs, of Riverton, believes in seeing to it personally that borough work for which he is responsible is done right. As a member of the sewer committee it fell to him to inspect the repairing done to the outlet of the Main street sewer. After the work had been finished Councilman Hubbs donned the diving suit of George Corner and went down to make a personal inspection. He found everything to his satisfaction and believes that there will be no more trouble at this point.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

YOUR WEAK SPOT

A GIGANTIC ship of the air, carrying a burden of human freight, crumpled and fell, carrying with it to destruction a score and more of lives.

Examination of the wreckage showed that in the center of the great framework there was a weak spot which, when the strain of actual operation was placed upon it, could not stand the test and, failing, caused disaster.

Few of us realize on how precarious a base our success reposes until we dare summon courage to look upon our weakness.

Self-examination to most of us is not a pleasant bit of duty to perform, and for this reason we are apt to put it off with an "oh, don't bother me" attitude, and turn to something more agreeable.

In humans the perilous weak spot may be in temper, perverseness, indifference, untidiness, selfishness or inefficiency, all productive of a fatty degeneration of the moral fiber.

The thing to do is to discover just what our shortcomings are, and, having determined their nature, we must then proceed to overcome them—to patch them up, as it were, and resolve that they shall not again be permitted to imperil our progress.

It will cost tremendous will-power to do this, but the reward in the end will compensate liberally for all the effort.

When in command of the American army, Washington was conscious of his weakness and sought strength through prayer in the silence of the forest. When he comprehended his lack of education, Lincoln became an earnest student.

These two beloved men learned where to press forward in the fullness of their strength.

And in such acts as these lies mastery.

If you imitate them, you, too, can overcome whatever weakness you may have before it becomes a settled habit and drags you down.

It is never too late to retrace steps, even though you may be "down and out."

If you are genuinely serious in your desire to rise in the world, to win respect, to put money in your purse, to write your name beside the successful, resolve today that you will no longer be impotent through frailties of your own.

Summon all your energy and with a heart of oak march on to victory.

By imploring Faith and Patience to help you, you will find the battle comparatively easy, the good results being in most instances out of all proportion to your anticipation.

(©, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Do You Know ...??... That: ...??...

"HAND and Seal" originated when writing was not as generally understood as today, but was limited to a few clerks. Documents were then confirmed by the impression of the hand dipped in ink, and then the seal was duly added. As dipping the hand in ink was dirty and bothersome the thumb was later substituted. We are told that "scores of old English and French deeds are still in existence in which such signatures appear." Later the name was written and this writing came to be known as "the hand."

Hence the expression "Hand and Seal" has come to mean to confirm; to keep secure or secret.—Anna S. Turnquist.

Burlington Man is Suicide in Office

Despondency Said to be Cause of Harry C. Firth's Action

Despondently sitting in the office of his grocery store at High and Union streets, Burlington, Sunday night, Harry G. Firth, a well known resident, of that city, placed the tube of a gas stove in his mouth and breathed the asphyxiating fumes until he was dead.

There was no reason why Mr. Firth should have committed suicide. His finances are said to be in excellent condition and everything else argued against self-destruction.

Mr. Firth left home about nine o'clock, and when he did not return at one o'clock, Mrs. Firth telephoned to the Police Department at the City Hall. Captain Wilson Johnson immediately started an investigation.

Dr. William E. Rink was summoned, but the physician soon saw that his services could avail nothing. The body then was taken in charge by Coroner Benjamin F. Farner.

Mr. Firth who was about sixty years old, was a nephew of George W. Anthony, Burlington. He always had been connected with the grocery store at High and Union streets, first as an employe with Mr. Anthony; next as a member of the firm of Wilson & Firth, and lastly as the sole proprietor of the business.

Mr. Firth sold the building on June 1, to Benjamin F. Farner, real estate dealer, but he did not intend to give up the grocery business. Mr. Farner was building him a store in the rear of the old building which he was to have occupied on July 1.

The deceased leaves a widow and two daughters. Mrs. Firth, previous to her marriage, was Miss Fanny Boyd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Boyd, of Willingboro. One of the daughters is Mrs. Alexander Ross, of Stevens, and the other is Miss Elizabeth Firth, who is still attending school.

Mr. Firth is the third prominent Burlington man to take his own life within a few months. The first was Peter Turnbull, of High street, and the second was Peter L. Vandegrift, of East Pearl street.

THIRD GRADE PUPIL WINS $5.00 POSTER PRIZE

The two $5.00 prizes offered by the Burlington County Tuberculosis League for the best health posters presented for exhibition at the recent Conference of New Jersey Tuberculosis Workers were awarded by the judges to pupil of Riverside school in 7th grade and to pupil of Cinnaminson school in 3rd grade.

The posters judged were for originality and execution. The judges were Mary Carter Nelson, Field Nurse of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League; Mr. J. L. Monigomery, Executive Secretary, of Monmouth County Tuberculosis League, and Mr. J. L. Lawrence, Executive Secretary, of Union County Tuberculosis League.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Trout entertained the Directors of the Palmyra National Bank and their wives at a dinner in Atlantic City on Saturday evening last. Wimer, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Shaner, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence T. Yerkes, Mr. A. Harry Rudduck and Mr. Wm. H. Cook.

Mistaken Identity

After waiting long and patiently for his waiter to appear with his order of ham and eggs, the nervous Mr. Wollop accosted another waiter and asked: "How long have you been working here?"

"Two weeks, sir," replied the waiter.

"No," said Mr. Wollop, sadly "You are not my waiter."

TWO LIGHTS

Young men, life is before you. Two voices are calling you—one coming out from the swamps of selfishness and force, where success means death; and the other from the hilltops of justice and progress, where even failure brings glory. Two lights are seen in your horizon—one the fast fading marsh light of power, and the other the slowly rising sun of human brotherhood. Two ways lie open for you—one leading to an even lower and lower plain, where are heard the cries of despair and the curses of the poor, where manhood shrivels and possession rots down the possessor, and the other leading to the highlands of the morning, where are heard the glad shouts of humanity and where honest effort is rewarded with immortality.—John P. Altgeld.

ORDINANCE

An Ordinance providing for the increase of the width of the roadway of that section of Howard street between Main Street and Fifth street, from twenty-eight feet to twenty-nine feet seven and one-half inches, by moving the curb on the easterly side of said section of Howard street the distance of one foot, seven and one-half inches toward the property line, thereby reducing the width of the sidewalk on the easterly side of said section of Howard street from sixteen feet to fourteen feet, four and one-half inches.

BE IT ORDAINED, by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton:

1. That the roadway of that section of Howard street between Main street and Fifth street be increased from its present width of twenty-eight feet to twenty-nine feet, seven and one-half inches, by moving the curb on the easterly side of said section of Howard street the distance of one foot, seven and one-half inches toward the property line, thereby reducing the width of the sidewalk on the easterly side of said section of Howard street from sixteen feet to fourteen feet, four and one-half inches.

2. That in all cases where curbs have heretofore been constructed on the easterly side of said section of Howard street, on a line sixteen feet from the property line, said improvements shall be made as a general improvement, to be paid for by general taxation.

3. All acts and parts of acts in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed and this act shall take effect immediately.

NOTICE is hereby given that the foregoing ordinance was introduced at a regular meeting of Council of the Borough of Riverton held on the 9th day of June, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, and that at a regular meeting to be held in the Council Chamber of the Borough of Riverton, on the fourteenth day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, at the hour of eight o'clock in the evening, Daylight Saving Time, the said Council will consider the final passage of said Ordinance.

By Order of the Council.
DANIEL M. CLIFTON,
Borough Clerk.

Oust Burlington Official

Quo warranto proceedings have been started to oust Joseph R. Flanigan from the Burlington City Council, on the ground that he has moved to Philadelphia.

In St. Andrew's burial ground, Mount Holly, in a northwesterly direction from the chapel and under the shade of a large oak tree, there is a hearstone with this inscription: "Ann Briggs, died February 2d, 174 2-3, aged 27 years"; and nearly opposite is another with this marking: "In memory of John Woolston, who died Feb. 10th, 174 7-8." Who can explain the fractions?

Company F, National Guard, Mount Holly, elected the following officers: Captain, Walter A. Barrows; first lieutenant, F. W. Kelly; second lieutenant, Charles H. Estill.

At a meeting of the directors of the Burlington County Agricultural Society on Saturday, an offer from Pierre Lorillard of $100 as a prize for running horses at the fair, was accepted, and the society decided to add $75 for the same purpose. A premium of $10 will be offered for the best and cleanest kept fences on a farm of not less than 100 acres.

Holy Priest Ordained

The ordination of Rev. A. B. Crawford to priestly orders took place in Trinity Church, Mount Holly, on Tuesday. The ordination sermon was by Rev. J. H. Eccleston, of Newark, and the candidate was ordained by Bishop Scarborough. Large congregation attended each of the services and the church was beautifully decorated with flowers.

The early crop of potatoes bids fair to escape serious injury from the depredations of the potato beetle. Paris green and perseverance apparently have won the day. A large quantity of the poison has been used in this county with excellent results.

Grace Church, Crosswicks, has as its rector, Rev. Ezra Isaac, a man of superior intellectual attainment and Christian culture. He was educated as a Hebrew, but became converted to Christianity through the efforts of Episcopalian missions among the Jews in London. He came to Philadelphia where he was prepared for the ministry in a divinity school.

William C. Dryer, of Medford, has a turtle weighing 120 pounds.

The Carbon Stove Company, of Burlington, is now making mowing machines.

Mr. Beswick, of Beverly, caught a sturgeon weighing 150 pounds last week, in the Delaware River.

There will be no six-cent cider in Burlington county this year, judging by the poor appearance of the apple orchards.

Robert Harkley, of Medford, left for England last week to obtain a fortune alleged to be waiting for him.

One day last week the New Jersey Southern Railroad collected $1000 freight on strawberries.

Our Burlington neighbors are talking of celebrating the bi-centennial of their ancient city. Let it not end in talk. The event is worthy of a grand commemoration.

Lightning on Wednesday destroyed three venerable white pine trees in Bonapart Park, Bordentown. These were among the first trees planted by Joseph Bonapart's farmers and they towered far above their ancient companions.

Dates on Tombstones

We have received replies to our query last week relative to dates on tombstones in St. Andrew's cemetery. The explanation is that the dates are given to conform to the old et new style of reckoning time-the Julian or Gregorian calendar. According to the first named, Ann Briggs died in 1742; under the latter, in 1743.

The schedule of premiums for the fair of the Burlington County Agricultural Society is now completed and is being printed. The fair will be held October 9, 10, 11.

Henry Wilkinson, colored, escaped from the county jail for the second time this morning. He was confined in a cell upstairs, the door of which contained a window 10½ inches square. This was left open to give the prisoner air, and through this small opening he got into the corridor, then went to another cell, cut a hole in the ceiling plaster and escaped by way of roof, letting himself down with a rope of bed ticking.

LINDBERGH AIR STAMPS WENT ON SALE JUNE 18

Lindbergh air stamps were put on sale in four cities June 18, Postmaster General Harry New announced.

The cities were selected because of the connection either with the lives of Colonel Lindbergh or his mother. They are St. Louis, Detroit, Little Falls, Minn., and Washington.

The young flier was presented with the first stamp from the new plates upon his arrival in Washington.

READY TO ADMIT IT

After his experiences since first landing on the French flying field near Paris, Colonel Lindbergh probably is ready to admit that there are a lot of things harder than flying across the Atlantic Ocean in an airplane.

YE EDITOR'S PERIL

There is an ancient legend which tells us that when a man first achieved a most notable deed he wished to explain to his tribe what he had done. As soon as he began to speak, however, he was smitten with dumbness, he lacked words, and sat down. Then there arose—according to the story—a masterless man, one who had taken no part in the action of his fellow, who had no special virtues, but afflicted—that is the phrase—with the magic of the necessary words. He saw, he told, he described the merits of the notable deed in such a fashion, we are assured, that the words "became alive and walked up and down in the hearts of all his hearers." Thereupon, the tribe seeing that the words were certainly alive, and fearing lest the man with the words would hand down untrue tales about them to their children, they took and killed him. But later they saw that the magic was in the words, not in the man.—Kipling.

ABDILL—FAIRBAIRN

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Marie Fairbairn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Fairbairn, Edgehill road, Cleveland Heights, Cleveland, Ohio, to Everett W. Abdill, ensign, U. S. Navy, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Abdill of Palmyra, was solemnized in Trnity cathedral, Cleveland, Saturday evening by Canon R. R. Mallett. A small company of guests, relatives and close friends of the couple attended the ceremony.

Miss Fairbairn's wiedding gown was of satin, in period style with a flounce of Alencon lace, V-neck and long tight sleeves. The same lace trimmed her tulle veil and she carried valley lillies.

The couple had but two attendants, the sister and brother of the bride, Miss Charlotte and Mr. Donald Fiarbairn. The former was frocked in a peach taffeta bouffant dress and carried an arm bouquet of snapdragons. Messrs. Norton Brainard and Robert Ward of Akron ushered.

A small reception and supper followed at the Alcazar. Mrs. Fairbairn was wearing a gold lace gown with Ward roses for her banquet and Mrs. Abdill, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in rose chiffon.

The couple will motor east on their wedding trip and after July 1 will locate in New London, Ct., where Mr. Abdill will be stationed at the submarine school with the rank of lieutenant, junior grade.

The bride attended both the College for Women, Western Reserve university, and Sweet Briar college in Vorginia, having been graduated a year ago from the latter.

Guests from out-of-town included Mrs. W. J. Fairbairn, Mrs. R. S. Gaskill, Mrs. Martha Benson and Miss Mary Jane Benson of Chicago, Mrs. Charlotte McCaul and Mr. Wilfred McCaul of Toronto, Ont.

Strange that with all the medals bestowed upon "Lindy" that none thought of an M. D.—because, like most of our doctors—he never starts anything he can't finish.

Predicts Great City of Sixteen Million

Burlington Speaker Sees Greater Philadelphia Embracing Three Cities

Sixteen million people for the future Philadelphia, a Philadelphia that will extend thirty-five miles in three states and include all of this section to Burlington, is the prophecy of Colonel Samuel P. Wetherill, of Philadelphia, the speaker at the dinner-meeting given by the Burlington Chamber of Commerce last week.

The new Philadelphia, the speaker said, may not come tomorrow, nor the next year, nor for several years, but the coming is inevitable, and and preparations are being made for by the Philadelphia Regional Planning Committee in order that we may not make the mistake of our forefathers in not providing proper and adequate breathing places and protection for those who build.

Colonel Wetherill, who is the head of the Regional Planning Committee, explained how the work of his organization is being carried into every city and town that will be included in the great amalgamation, and that there was an understanding that the Regional Planning Committee of New York as to where the activities of the two organizations should meet. The meeting point is the northern boundary line of Princeton.

All of the towns are being urged to adopt zoning ordinances, establishing parks and see to it that houses are not jammed one against the other and that there is the proper kind of sewerage disposal plants and water that is fit to drink without offensive chemicalization.

Colonel Wetherill showed a number of slides in demonstrating the growth of Philadelphia and the force of his argument easily was seen. One of the slides was the original plan made by William Penn when Philadelphia was a wilderness that extended from the Delaware River to the Schuykill River; a plan that showed remarkable foresight and largely was followed throughout all the years that followed.

All of the slides necessarily pictured the Delaware River and its tributaries, and the Colonel told how the majestic river had been reduced to the function of a sewer, and that shad refused to come much further north than the bay. We get, the speaker said, not only the sewage from Trenton, but the sewage from Bethlehem and other towns on the Lehigh River, which empties into the Delaware at Phillipsburg. The Colonel told how the dumping of sewage into the Lehigh by the towns along the river might be obviated by building a common sense disposal plant that could be used by all the towns in that section.

The Colonel also told how traffic which would increase in proportion to the growth of population, must be cared for.

ANOTHER HERO

In the recent disastrous hurricane off Bermuda the "Eastway" was one of the many vessels which foundered.

Foot by foot the water crept up the metal plates of her hold. From a tiny cabin somewhere in the interior of the ship the wireless operator sent forth the appeal to every vessel on the seven seas.

Dot-dot-dot! Dash-dash-dash! Dot-dot-dot! "S. O. S.!" "S. O. S.!" "S. O. S.!"————!"

The last of the ship's boats was lowered and the remaining few members of the crew climbed in. They called to the wireless operator. It was the last of the boats—and the "Eastway" was doomed. But the operator heard not. Had he not his duty to fulfill? "S. O. S.!" "S. O. S.!" "S. O. S.!"————!" He must not desert his post.

With a shudder, the "Eastway" lifted her bow to the sky and plunged down.

Who was the wireless operator? Only a Scout — Ralph James—a member of the first Leighton Buzzard Troop. Perhaps, as he sank beneath the waves, he might have been heard to murmur, "I promise to do my duty . . . . ."

The Scout, London.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

THAT the development and expansion of the trade territory of a city depends entirely upon the interest or indifference displayed by its business men.

THAT in these competitive times if you want business you must go after it.

THAT if you don't some other fellow will.

THAT while you are resting in an easy chair he may slip in and get it —LOOK OUT! DON'T WAKE UP TOO LATE!

THAT many jobbers have sold merchants for many years whom they have never seen. They should get personally acquainted with them.

THAT the salesmen have told the customer about "the Boss" and have told the boss about the customer. They should meet face to face; they might like each other better if they did, and it would help all around.

THAT acquaintance and square dealing makes a house known as a friendly house.

THAT to be known as a friendly house means orders.

THAT orders are needed to keep any jobbing business growing.

THE LIVE JOBBER GROWS AS HIS SECTION OF THE COUNTRY GROWS AND HE SHOULD USE EVERY MEANS TO KEEP IT GROWING.

MOTOR CAR NEARING 100 P. C. OWNERSHIP

Survey of 4,000,000 Families Reveals That 55 Per Cent Are Car Owners

The average family in America has a telephone, a motor car, phonograph, a piano and a radio. Statistics bear this out.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs recently canvassed 4,101,581 families, living in every classification of cities and towns, and on farms. Of the number interviewed, 56.5 per cent have telephones. A total of 2,285,739 of the families canvassed have motor cars—a 55.7 per cent ownership. Forty-six and two-tenths per cent. have phonographs, 40.4 pianos and 24.1 per cent. radios.

It is an interesting fact that the largest percentage of families owning cars is in towns of 1,000 and less. The survey discloses that 60.5 per cent. of all families so located enjoy motor car ownership. The lowest ratio was found in cities of 100,000 and up, but even here 54.9 per cent. have one or more cars.

Figures just available reveal that California now has a registered motor vehicle for every 3.1 persons. Iowa has one for every 3.73 persons. On the other hand, Alabama has one for every 12.75 persons and Georgia one for every 12.79.

Florida last year enjoyed an increase in new car registrations of 40.2 per cent. Oklahoma was second with 17.8 per cent. Conversely, Colorado, showed a gain of 3.5 per cent and South Dakota 0.1 per cent.

New York Leads

New York continues to have the largest number of registered motor vehicles of any state—1,815,434. California follows with 1,600,475. Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, and Texas each now have more than 1,000,00—the last two joining that class during 1926. Delaware, with 44,834 cars, and Nevada, with 24,014, are on the other end of the list.

New York added 189,851 cars to its registration in 1926 and California 159,934.

Registrations for the United States at the close of 1926 gained more than 2,000,000 over those at the end of 1925. There are now more than 22,000,000 motor vehicles registered in this county. The year 1926 was the largest in the history of the automotive industry.

There always will be a certain percentage of the total sales to those who have never owned a car. Then there will be sales to families already owning one or more cars. This is becoming an increasingly important market. Realtors have learned that the average house, when equipped with a two-car garage, is easier to sell than one with only a one-car garage. Ten per cent of all families already own more than one car. Eighteen per cent of car owning families have more than one. This country can prepare now for the day when there will be from 30,000,000 to 35,000,000 cars, trucks and buses on our streets and highways.

Replacement

But the automobile industry's real backbone will always be the replacement business, just as it is the backbone of the clothing industry or the shoe business. Imagine what would happen to the shoe manufacturers were they compelled to depend for sales solely on those who have never owned shoes bfeore! The parallel with the automobile business is a sound one. Motor cars wear out. Cars are being improved constantly. They become obsolete. Then, too, it is typical of the American that he wants something better constantly. The automobile business owes much to this American spirit. How many persons become car owners, dispose of their cars and never get another? Once a car owner always a car owner. How many drop back from one price group to another? The average man owns the best car he can afford. His constant ambition is to own a better one.

The export market is growing rapidly. Foreign countries are coming to realize more and more that America owes much to the automotive industry. While it is true that the automobile industry's prosperity reflects good times in other businesses, it is also true that good times in the automobile industry help make good times in other lines of business.

The automotive industry is today a stabilized one. There is reason, indeed, why manufacturers of motor cars are optimistic.

The Prince of Wales advised a blind soldier what horse to bet on in the grand national, The Herald says. Few persons had had better tips on horses than the Prince of Wales.—El Paso Times.

FLOOD RELIEF SESSION

LESSON FOR UNCLE SAM

YOUR IMPORTANT CELLS

WOMEN NATURAL TEACHERS

The President will call a special session of Congress for October, to take up the Mississippi flood disaster and the prevention question. The sooner prevention is discussed and arranged the better. The American Congress and people have a great faculty for forgetting—even a two billion-dollar calamity and 700,000 people being made homeless.

Twice in succession, American fliers have crossed the Atlantic at one "hop," Lindbergh flying to Paris, Chamberlin, with Levine, almost to Berlin.

What will military and naval gentlemen say now about their theory that "The airplane is no real menace to this country?"

Out of two attempts to fly across the ocean by American fliers, both succeed.

What would be the probable percentage of success of five thousand foreign aviators, with full government backing and unlimited expenditure of money, should fly the other way on a hostile errand?

Americans should take to heart the lesson that Lindbergh and Chamberlin have taught us and get ready to keep hostile fliers away from this continent.

Five or ten thousand first-class planes, carrying mail parcels and passengers in peace, ready to take on machine guns in war, would be the best investment this rich nation could make.

Golf, according to accident insurance companies, comes third among "dangerous sports." Victims of 451 golf accidents collected insurance last year. Twelve for "cuts with sharp instruments." The instruments were bottles, on the "19th hole." However, for one man injured at golf, one hundred die for lack of exercise, so play golf.

A German scientist says your heart is less important than the billions of cells that make up your body. The heart is important, of course, but the cells, eating, drinking, digesting, each living a separate life, are more important than the heart, even in blood circulation.

The human body is like a nation. Brain and heart are the government. The cells are the citizens, and most important.

Dr. Mendelssohn, of Berlin University, says, "The secret of life is the ability of living cells to effect change of matter and absorb and eject fluids. This change of fluids seems to be the principal cause of blood circulation."

The secret of making life worth while is the ability of the living brain to accept and absorb new ideas. That is the principal cause of human progress.

Students at Oxford worry because women are to teach there. "Isis," read by the Oxford young gentlemen, says that will eventually lead to a sex war, and is "a social revolution of the utmost significance."

Women are natural teachers; teaching has been their business from the beginning; teaching children, teaching husbands.

Hypatia, a better mathematician and philosopher than her father, Theon, was one of the greatest teachers that ever lived, until fanatical early Christian monks tore her from her chariot, as she was going to her school, and murdered her, more than 1,500 years ago.

The college boy or adult citizen lacking respect for women or confidence in their power, judgment and goodness, pays a poor compliment to his own mother.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

INQUIRIES

Sometimes my readers write me, asking that the little things not made clear in my letters to this paper—I thank them for the indirect confidence—sometimes for criticisms indulged. I cannot, of course, undertake the treatment of diseases by mail; have all I can do at home; but, a self-addressed, stamped envelope will bring an immediate reply from me, in the interest of good newspaper service.

I have been asked recently what foods are most likely to make a "lazy" liver worse. Sometimes a lazy liver is an over-loaded, tired liver, not a lazy one. Hence I reply that, an overload of any kind of food will aggravate an over-loaded liver—fruits being the least harmful. The specific article of diet that I forbid, when dealing with an engorged liver is, starch, in its many forms, such as boiled or mashed potatoes, dry beans, white bread and the like. The liver functions largely as a starch-transformer, and cannot do more than it is able to do.

One writer remonstrates — that fat works harm in "liver troubles"; referring to animal fats, I suppose. I have forbidden all meat-fats in gall-ladder conditions, but these are not "liver-troubles." Fat meats are not good in gall-bladder infections; dairy fats, buter, cream, etc. in small quantity, do much less if any harm. And, the vegetable oils, olive oil particularly have a reputation for being beneficial, among the older clinicians.

Every liver case is a law unto itself, and should be referred to the family physician, whether acute, subacute, or chronic. Especially after forty-five should all suspicion of liver disease be investigated. A stitch in time may save several yards of catgut.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Our National Duty is Obvious

A recent report to Congress for an appropriation for the Interior Department included some $750,000 for a dam in Arizona and some $2,500,000 for road construction with other items of a similar character.

This is proper business for a government. It does not pay for a government to be paternal and to foster certain special interests, but it does pay for a government to engage in public works, the benefit of which shall accure generally to the people.

When the Lord made Adam and Eve it is said that he put them in the garden in order to tend and keep it. Man's work ever since upon this earth has been in improving upon the natural conditions of nature.

He is to reclaim deserts, improve rivers, perfect harbors and make tunels, etc., so that the earth will be a fitter place in which to live.

It is this kind of work in which the army should be engaged. In other words, be put upon constructive labor as well as to be kept in readiness for destructive operations.

Such a program might well call for the services of every boy and girl at some time in their lives, say from the years of 20 to 22, when they would be required to give their services to the government.

Everybody ought to be made to realize that the nation is greater than the individual and has prior claims upon a man, claims that come before his individual needs.

This would maintain an immense army of constructive workers who could be changed in a moment's notice to an army of defense against an enemy.

If this plan were adopted I should be in favor of compulsory military training and in compelling boys and girls to be trained not alone in the bearing of arms, but compelling them at a certain period in their lives to work for the government.

The United States has vast stretches of land which need improvements. Much of the West is barren and needs only the proper use of its water courses in order to water it. Arizona might be as rich as Egypt if it were properly watered.

The use of the natural supply of power that is found in falling waters opens up tremendous vistas and in the application of this our youth might well be employed.

The making of good roads also is a contribution to the permanent welfare of our nation. Roads need to be constantly worked upon and new roads need to be built.

Altogether it is quite proper for a government to go into the business of improving the natural resources of the nation.

SERVICE BUTTONS

13 Public Service Men on Job For 25 Years

Thirteen more Public Service men will receive gold service buttons this month in recognition of having completed twenty-five years of continuous service with Public Service and predecessor companies. Nine are employes of Public Service Railway Company and the other four are employed in the electric department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company. The men are:

Martin Gould, 706 29th Street, Union City, an operator, assigned to Union City carhouse.

Harold Keggan, 1075 Lafayette street, Elizabeth, an operator, Elizabeth carhouse.

Augustus Hodge, 38 West Second street, Bound Brook, an operator, Dunellen carhouse.

Lawrence McCarty, 68 Avenue C, Bayonne, ferry-master, Port Richmond and Bergen Point Ferry.

R. S. Hill, 25 Walter street, Bloomfield, wiring inspector, Orange district, electric distribution department.

William F. Harrington, 14½ S. Spring street, Elizabeth, line foreman, Elizabeth electric distribution department.

Michael B. Caffrey, 426 Orchard Place, line foreman, Plainfield Electric distribution department.

R. C. Borchers, 14 West High street, Bound Brook, district superintendent, Bound Brook electric distribution department.

Peter W. Reis, 927 Charlotte street, North Bergen, supervisor, Union City carhouse.

Mr. Borchers started his long term of service in 1900 and Mr. Reis in 1896.

Byrd now plans an air hop to Paris—and return, with only a twelve-hour lay-over in Paris. It's too bad—but some French official will have to go without his kiss this time.

To a Groom-To-Be Who Wonders

Dear Miss Flo:

I am engaged to be married to a very nice girl with whom I am greatly in love. She has always seemed wholesome and fine, and I have never known her to say or do a coarse thing. However, I met her family recently for the first time, and since then I have been rather doubtful that we can be happy together. I have been brought up in a home in which modesty and refinement were insisted upon, both in person, speech, and action. I have never heard anything coarse or vulgar in our home. However, in my finance's home they seem to know nothing, or care nothing about these things that are generally considered the decencies of life, and I was more than shocked at the things they said and did. I hate to be prudish, but I wonder if I will be happy with a girl who has lived in such surroundings?

F. W.

In plant and animal life, there is occasionally what is know as a "sport." That is, there is a sudden and spontaneous variation from the normal type. At first glance, perhaps the offspring in every respect is like the parent plant—but closer inspection reveals many differences—perhaps in the shape of the leaf, the formation of the petals, or in the coloring of the flower.

And so it is with human beings sometimes. The girl you love may resemble her family in every apparent manner, but deep in her soul she may be an utter stranger to them. She may have finer thoughts, finer sensibilities, and a finer sense of character than all the rest of her family together. And if you love the girl you will remember that you are not marrying her family. If she has proved herself over a period of time to be wholesome and clean-minded and decent I think it most unfair to judge her by her family.

Judge her, rather, by the things she does—the things she says—the things she thinks.

However, I do advise you to study the girl a long time before you marry into a family whose ideals are so different from your own. Know for a certainty that the girl whom you love has not merely assumed a pose of fineness that she does not possess, for if she has, sooner of later she will revert to type. There is no saying so true as the one which tells us we cannot make a silk purse out of a sow's ear, and there would be small congeniality between you and the girl if you are always going to be shocked with her, or if she jars your ideas of decency.

Remember that your home must not be merely a place of shelter and food. It must be a thing of beauty, with no less of the spirit and soul. A woman must put into it the beauty of her heart just as truly as a poet must put it into his song, and if she has no beauty in her heart, if she is coarse and vulgar and common—you cannot hope for happiness.

And remember that when the china vase and the earthenware pot undertake to float down the stream together, it is always the fine vase that gets smashed.

MAKING AN EASY LIVING

Five hundred people in Hollywood who live well, have automobiles and bank accounts, are said to be supported by trained pets in films. There is a trained skunk, in constant demand for comedies, which is sending two girls through college. A life of ease is being spent by a former property man who taught a white mouse to run up a man's trouser leg. A trained goose is one of the biggest wage earners in the pet line, and there are canaries, cows donkeys, horses and numerous other dumb beasts, to say nothing of a couple of hundred dogs and several cats serving as mighty fine meal tickets.

GAS AUTOMATIC WATER HEATER makes Hot Water Supply SURE!

Gas Excels As a Househeating Fuel

IT does away with dirt, noise, work and maintains even temperature.

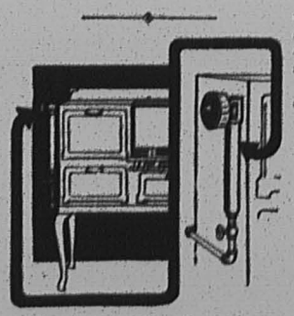

It assures healthful and satisfying heat, when and in the measure wanted.

It reclaims the space used for storing fuel.

It cuts down on bills for painting, redecorating, cleaning, since no dirt or even dust accompanies gas heating.

It is noiseless and odorless.

It costs more to heat your house with gas than with other fuels, but you receive more in comfort and convenience.

Canning No Longer A Trying Task

SUMMER housekeeping can be made easier by the use of time and labor saving equipment in the kitchen.

A new and simple way to can fruits and vegetables is provided when there is an oven heat regulator on the gas range.

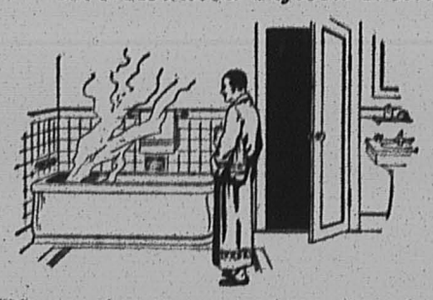

Canning fruits and tomatoes in the oven of an oven heat regulator gas range is simple, quick, safe. Fruits and tomatoes keep their form, color and flavor when canned by this method.

The regulator is a device that is built into the oven of the better gas ranges, with the various cooking temperatures marked on its dial. The regulator automatically maintains the temperature at which the dial is set until the gas is turned off. It means successful baking and cooking.

At Public Service stores gas ranges with oven heat regulators are to be had in sizes and types to fit every kitchen, at prices, too, within the means of nearly every one. Prices from $99.50.

Public Service regular gas range prices include the convenient push button top burner lighter, delivery, and connection from the gas outlet in the kitchen.

Kompak Gas Water Heater Prices Are Reduced Fifteen Dollars

THERE are several requisites to satisfactory hot water service—high temperature, freedom from rust, continuous supply, and economy of fuel.

The Kompak Copper Gas Automatic Storage Water Heater, on special sale at Public Service stores during the next four weeks, has all these requisites.

The Kompak boiler is copper and all other parts touched by water, hot or cold, are of copper, brass, or bronze, so that water from the Kompak heater is always clean.

Automatic devices light the gas and turn it off, as temperature falls and rises. The Kompak uses gas only when necessary, not each time the hot water faucet is turned on. The Kompak safety pilot keeps all gas shut off should regular pilot go out.

New and Broader Fields for Gas

A little more than a century ago, Londoners saw old London town emerge from the gloom, its streets and some of its bridges lighted by a new agent, gas.

In time gas dominated the lighting field. Then electricity came and some people felt that the day of gas was passing, but Edison, the Wizard of Electricity, stated "Gas is destined to be the heating agent of the world."

And today gas is put to a thousand different domestic and industrial uses. And new avenues for its use constantly present themselves.

Kelvinator Cools Foods Electrically

IF the temperature of a refrigerator climbs to more than 50 degrees food is not protected against spoilage.

Every home needs Kelvinator (electric refrigeration) that keeps the temperature of the refrigerator well below 50 degrees all the time.

Public Service has made it possible for each home-maker to own a Kelvinator. Small sum down, 12 months to pay.

Delicious! Chicken Fried in Electric Cooker

SELECT a fricasee fowl, have it cut at the joints (15 pieces), wash thoroughly, sprinkle each piece with pepper and salt and roll in flour. Pre-heat electric cooker 15 minutes. Place in cooker 4 tablespoons of butter and lay in bottom of cooker the pieces of chicken, cover, cook 30 minutes with the cover on, turn pieces of chicken and cook 15 minutes longer, then add 1 cup of water and cook 45 minutes at second heat and 30 minutes without heat.

Vegetables may be cooked in pans over chicken while chicken is cooking. Prepare in usual way, place in pan, add salt and 1/2 cup boiling water. Potatoes may be cooked in bottom of cooker with the chicken.

Rich juices left in the bottom of cooker after chicken is removed, can be seasoned and thickened for gravy.

Excel two-heat electric cooker $6.89.

LESSON FOR JUNE 26

PETER DELIVERED FROM PRISON

LESSON TEXT—Acts 12:1-17.

GOLDEN TEXT—Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the Lord delivereth him out of them all.—Ps. 34:19.

PRIMARY TOPIC—God Takes Care of Peter.

JUNIOR TOPIC — God Answers Prayer for Peter.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How Does God Deliver Us?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Power of United Prayer.

I. Peter's Imprisonment (vv. 1-4).

1. By whom (v. 1).

Herod, the grandson of the wicked Herod who slew the innocent children of Bethlehem.

2. The reason (v. 3).

It was to gain the favor of the Jews. Herod was not a Jew, but an Edomite, therefore knew that his success was dependent upon his having the good will of the Jews. Herod for the sake of popularity manifested a deep sympathy for degenerate Judaism. It was but the sympathy of the politician. Since the church had developed so as to be a successful rival of Judaism, indeed was already displacing it, he saw an opportunity to curry favor with the Jews by putting forth his hands against it.

3. The method (v. 4).

He was arrested, put into prison and guarded by four quaternions of soldiers. A quaternion is a guard of four soldiers. Humanly speaking, it was impossible to escape. They had doubtless heard of Peter's escape from jail before, so they thought they would take no risks this time. However, they made one fatal mistake—they left out God.

II. The Church of God in Prayer (v. 5).

The church was at a crisis. Her situation was most grave. James, one of the brethren of the church, was dead, and Peter, the most prominent of all, was in prison. In this desperate strait they did the wise thing—they betook themselves to prayer. It was a noteworthy prayer.

1. It was unto God, not unto men, or to be heard of men. This is a very common fault today. All true prayer is unto God.

2. It was united prayer.

There is peculiar power in the united prayer of God's people.

3. It was an intensely earnest prayer.

It was more than unceasing prayer. It was the earnest desire of the soul as it stretched itself out toward God.

4. It was definite prayer.

They specifically offered prayer to God for Peter. Their prayer was concentrated, definite and specific.

III. Peter Delivered by an Angel (vv. 6-11).

1. Peter sleeping (v. 6).

This shows that he was not greatly disturbed over the matter. The Lord keeps in perfect peace those whose minds are stayed on Him. (Isa. 26:3).

2. Peter leaves the prison (vv. 7-10).

A heavenly light shone in the prison. The angel smote Peter on the side; the chains fell off. Peter put on his clothes and passed by one guard after another through the iron gate out into the city.

3. The effect upon Peter (v. 11).

Although the matter was so wonderful to Peter, even outside his consciousness, when he came to himself he was assured beyond peradventure that God had miraculously delivered him from Herod's wicked hands.

IV. Unconscious Unbelief (vv. 12-19).

1. Behavior of Peter and the church (vv. 12-17).

Peter went to the house of Mary and knocked. The knock was answered by Rhoda who was so overjoyed that she forgot to open the gate, and ran in and told them that Peter was at the gate. The disciples were not prepared for such good news, and even accused her of madness. She, undaunted, insisted. They offered as an explanation that perhaps it might be Peter's guardian angel in his likeness. They got more than they expected. Peter rehearsed unto them the Lord's dealing with him, and instructed them to make these things known unto James and the brethren.

2. The behavior of the soldiers (vv. 18,19).

There was great agitation among them as to what had become of Peter. This was a serious matter since they were responsible for him. Not being able to account for Peter's escape, Herod commanded that they be put to death. After this Herod went down to Caesarea. Here he was adored as God. Because he arrogated this honor to himself, the Lord smote him. Herod died, but the Word of the Lord grew and multiplied.

Life and Death

It is good when the garden of life and the sepulcher of death are linked with Him who was crucified. He makes the garden tenfold richer and more beautiful. He robs the sepulcher of its terror and gloom.—Rev. Alex. Smellie, D. D.

Cynicism

I hate cynicism a great deal worse than I hate the devil; unless, perhaps, the two were the same thing.—R. L. Stevenson.

Rutgers Scientists Take Part In World Meeting

The First International Congress of soil Science opened at Washington on June 13, with New Jersey well represented in the largest and greatest group of soil scientists ever assembled.

Dr. J. G. Lipman, Director of the State Experiment Station at Rutgers, took charge of proceedings in his capacity as president of the Congress. It is through Dr. Lipman's efforts that the meeting is being held in the United States. In addition of having given the presidential address, he will present several papers describing new developments in soil chemistry and microbiology.

Accompanying the famous New Jersey scientist are thirteen coworkers from New Brunswick who will present scientific papers giving the results of experiments with soils.

At the conclusion of the Congress on June 22, a number of the New Jerseymen, together with the foreign delegates will tour the country for the purpose of studying experiments under way at agricultural institutions and of observing soil types in other states.

New Jersey's participation in the meeting was made possible largely through contributions from manufacturers, bankers and business men in the state.

Thinning Fruit

Such orchard practices as pruning, spraying, cultivation and fertilization are readily accepted by progressive fruit growers, as being necessary to production.

The value of thinning the fruit, however, it not so readily recognized as being a limiting factor in the production of quality fruit, and it is often omitted, even in the orchards where all other operations are performed.

There are some conditions, of course, under which thinning might be considered as an uncertain practice. In some seasons, for instance, the same number of apples on a tree will average much larger than on others. In the year of the light crop, good prices are often received for the smaller sized fruit, and the larger fruit secured as a result of thinning may not command a sufficient increase in price to pay for the cost of thinning.

Such other factors as age and vigor of the tree, the amount of fruit set, kind of soil, variety and cultural practices employed all contribute a part in determining whether or not the grower should thin.

Burlington County has a rather light setting of apples this year, but there are certain varieties such as Yellow Transparent, Wealthy and Old Winesap that should receive some attention as to thinning.

The Yellow Transparent in the Cassiex Orchards operated by Forbes Brothers, Mount Holly, are always thinned when the size of the crop warrants it. In 1925 84.5% of their Yellow Transparent crop averaged better than 2½ inches. Thinning has paid them to such an extent that it has made the growing of Yellow Transparents every bit as profitable as the growing of Staymen, which would be a most unusual statement for a majority of growers to make.

The cost of thinning, of course, varies with conditions. At Mr. A. J. Roberts', Moorestown, last year, 14-year-old Wealthy trees were thinned by inexperienced labor, at a cost of 29c a tree.

At Locust Grove Farm at Westville, Old Winesaps that were thinned increased the amount of marketable fruit form 7.3 to 9.9 bushels per tree, and the amount of fruit less than 2½ inches in diameter was reduced from 45% on the unthinned trees to 19% on the thinned trees. Some of the points to be considered in thinning apples are (1) that it is more important to thin spur-bearing varieties like Yellow Transparent, Wealthy, Grimes, etc., than terminal-bearing varieties like Rome Beauty, Starr and Williams. (2) Thin early varieties first and thin them early. (3) Have thinning done by the middle of July, even on late varieties. (4) Thinning later than this date has shown little effect. (5) Space apples 6 to 8 inches apart along the branches and twigs. (6) In thinning, remove the apple from the stem, leaving the stem attached to the spur; take hold of the apple and pinch the stem off with the fingers or use thinning shears. (7) Reduce apples to one to a spur. (8) Thinning alone cannot be considered as overcoming biennial bearing.

Producer and Distributor Exchange Ideas at Meeting in Beverly

What might be termed "a discussion on better understanding" was held in the Masonic rooms at Beverly last Saturday afternoon, June 11th, by the Beverly Cooperative Growers' Association. Some 150 producers, members of the Association, and approximately 20 of New York's leading commissionmen who handle Burlington County produce, were in attendance.

Mr. French, of the Foods Research Council of New York City, opened the discussion with a talk on marketing conditions in the metropolitan area. He gave some rather startling facts which were substantiated by figures that he had obtained in making a study of New York's food demands. He stated that the average hauling distance of all produce in the New York market was 1500 miles. The state of California ranks first in the amount of produce shipped, with Florida second, New York third, Virginia fourth and New Jersey fifth.

Mr. French stated that the New Jersey growers were getting approximately 50% of the consumer's dollar, with 5% going to the commissionman, 8% to the jobber and 37% to the retailer. On first appearance it would seem that those who handle what the farmer produces are getting too large a percentage of the profits, but Mr. French in each case itemized the accounts and showed the items of expense. He stated that the producer should be concerned primarily with the price he gets from the commissionman, and showed that this price reflected the quality of the produce shipped. The retailer who actually opens the container and who has to hold the produce until it reaches the consumer's hands has to stand the bulk of the loss. Mr. French stated frankly that as he saw it, the only hope of the New Jersey grower was to standardize and put on the market a better quality product. If it were not for the freight differential, New Jersey growers would not be able to compete in the large eastern markets. The consumer came in for his share in contributing to the present marketing system, which is rapidly changing. More and more the housewife is buying produce in small lots and requiring, whenever possible, that the food be prepared for immediate use. In surveys conducted in the tenement section of New York it was very common to find persons buying eggs by the piece, ¼ pound of butter, 2 or 3 ounces of coffee, sugar, etc. In other words, hand-to-mouth buying.

Mr. Henry Keller, Professor of Economics, Rutgers University, New Brunswick, spoke on the present economic condition of agriculture in New Jersey. His talk gave considerable thought for discussion. He took an optomistic view for the farmer who would adapt himself to present conditions. Efficient management, proper acreage, and diversification, insofar as it dealt with related crops which did not interfere with the principal crop produced or necessitated the purchase of additional machinery. Proper utilization of labor and machinery, and the proper handling of finances were some of the things to which Professor Keller called attention. He stated that many farmers were over-equipped, or had purchased machinery for which they had litte use. The tractor, for example, was cited as being used, on an average, 1 month out of a year, undoubtedly running higher than that in this section where a succession of crops is grown.

Professor Keller deplored the lack of better understanding between the farmer and his banker, the farmer, as a rule, not being a very good business man, and the banker generally not having an understanding of the farmer's problems. Had New Jersey farmers paid off their debts with money they received for foodstuffs produced during the war, instead of investing in more land, they would have been better off today.

Mr. A. E. Mercker, Chief of the State Bureau of Markets, then gave a short talk, giving a report of the condition of the fruit and vegetable crops in competing areas, and calling particular attention to the value of standardization and inspection service which his department is fostering.

Following the talks, individual growers and commissionmen exchanged ideas regarding some of their problems, after which the group was treated to an informal luncheon provided by the Beverly Cooperative Growers' Association.

Maple Aphis Very Abundant in Mt. Holly and Vicinity

This aphis frequently occurs in large colonies during much of the summer, on the under side of maple leaves, Norway maple evidently being its favored food. It is an abundant producer of honey-dew which accumulates on the leaves and on the pavement beneath the trees. This has become quite noticeable on the walks adjoining the property of the Mt. Holly National Bank on Main street. Many of the leaves either develop brown blotches or fall off prematurely, usually seriously checking the growth.

The presence of the insects is noticed by the leaves being off color with honey-dew—a sticky, sweetish liquid—on the leaves and on the ground beneath the trees, and many mostly wingless, yellowish-green, brown marked lice-like insects of various sizes, with reddish eyes and long hairy antennae, found on the under side of the leaves. The insects may be readily killed by making an application of spray, using nicotine sulfate at the rate of ¾ of a pint to 50 gallons of water, to which has been added 2 or 3 pounds of soap to insure spread and adhesion of the spray. For small quantities, use 1 tablespoon of nicotine sulfate to 1 gallon of water. The spraying should be done in a thorough manner, and should be directed especially to the under side of the leaves.

Unfortunately, however, spraying shade trees will be unpractical for the individual property owner to follow. Mt. Holly and certain other municipalities of the county have municipal shade tree commissions, who have jurisdiction over such matters, but in this case it requires a high power spray machine with three men to operate it, and do the spraying, and the use of expensive materials. Such commissions, as a rule, are lacking in funds for the purchasing of such equipment. Some cities have found, however, that the control of injurious insect pests under city conditions is possible, and at the same time, highly practicable. The shade trees growing in the towns, especially in the residential districts and public parks, have a value far above their worth as lumber, by reason of their influence on nearby property values. The expenditure of a few dollars at the critical period may be the means of saving many splendid trees which might require a century to replace.

The matter of insect control in municipalities is not one of individual endeavor, but one that justly belongs to the community. The matter of fighting noxious insect pests in a town should be considered in the same light as that of fighting fires, since the two have many points in common. We do not think that each man should be responsible for the control of fires on his premises. Now we take pride in our highly perfected fire fighting equipment and our especially trained men to handle it. With respect to the control of the insect pests, only the larger cities have even reached the bucket brigade stage of controlling insects.

While the problems of insect control and fire control have many points in common, in one respect at least they are dissimilar. A building may burn and within a few months be replaced by another, larger and better, simply through the expenditure of a few thousands of dollars, whereas, if a magnificent tree is lost, no amount of money can replace it immediately, but a century of time and attention may be required to produce another to equal it in size and beauty. However, lacking these facilities, anything that can be done by the individual property owner to contribute to the general vigor of his trees is an indirect help in controlling the pests. Many times trees would be able to withstand the ravages of insect attack were a little assistance given them in the maintenance of vitality by the furnishing of adequate moisture and plant food. With the area normally available to the tree but now greatly restricted by over-lying pavement and sidewalk, the artificial supplying of these materials becomes quite essential. Sometimes a 3 or 4 inch tile is placed down into the root system, and this is occasionally filled with water. Sometimes commercial fertilizers are dissolved and introduced to the roots of the trees by this method. A safer method is the working of manure or commercial fertilizer into the soil over the tree roots. Until a better method of taking care of our shade trees is provided, this practice should be followed: Applying fertilizer in the spring and watering during dry, hot periods.

Control of Ants on Lawns

A numebr of requests have been received during the past week relative to the control of ants on lawns and pavements. The small mound builders in brick walks or between flaggings can usually be reached by pouring kerosene or gasoline into the openings. Sufficient quantities should be used to thoroughly penetrate the ground, and reach all the underground passages of the insect. The large ants that sometimes make considerable nests in lawns may be reached with carbon bisulfide, a poison, which forms a heavier than air gas. To apply this material, punch 3 or 4 holes 5 or 6 inches deep with a sharp stick into as many different places in the nest. Pour 2 ounces of the bisulfide into each and close the opening with dirt. The fumes of the bisulfide follow the galleries and kill off larvae and pupae, as well as the adults. A very large nest may require more material than recommended, and as the grade of bisulfide that may be used for this purpose is not expensive, a liberal application will do no harm. The bisulfide acts better when the ground is somewhat damp than when it is very dry, but it should not be waterlogged, as after a heavy rain.

Very often ants become troublesome in the house, in which case different control measures should be employed. If you are having trouble with ants, communicate with the County Extension Office, Mount Holly.

New Jersey Vegetable Growers Insure Against Drought

Over $900,000 worth of sprinkling irrigation equipment is working for New Jersey vegetable growers, a recent survey by the State College of Agriculture at Rutgers indicates.

Growers report that in addition to protecting them against droughts, irrigation enables them to produce two to five crops a year. Quality of the produce is improved also. In answer to a questionnaire, 291 growers expressed entire satisfaction with irrigation. Dissatisfaction was reported by 36.

The average cost of installing an acre of irrigation equipment in this state was found to be $354. Operating expenses, exclusive of depreciation, take $28, and repairs $45. The average length of life of an irrigation outfit is twenty years.

Growers have found that an ample water supply is essential. Where soil is fertile and water plentiful, irrigation machinery has generally proved a profitable investment.

Nurserymen and flower growers also are using irrigation to an increasing extent.

Let's Get Better Acquainted

Why don't you come into this store and just look around? You will be surprised to see the hundreds of articles, many of which you probably have never seen before, that we carry in stock to make life more profitable. Men will be interested in tools, cream separators, builders' hardware, and can learn a lot of tricks and ideas that will be valuable. Women will find new kinds of pots and pans, new ideas in ranges, and hundreds of little specialties from a water filter for the faucet to cooking thermometers that they would like to know about. We are always glad to show our merchandise and to explain its use.

Long Life KITCHEN WARE

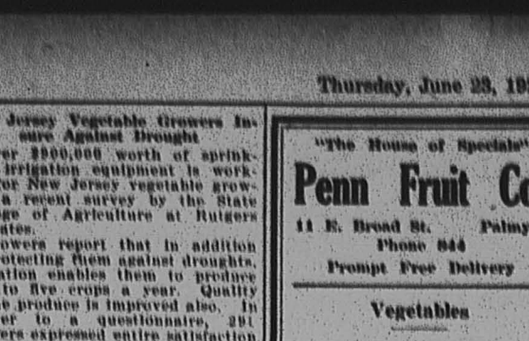

It is easy to get fooled on enamel and aluminum ware. Some kinds of enamel chip easily. Some have rough spots, due to poor manufacturing methods or large production at a very low price for clean sales. We have been very careful in selecting the enamelware, both white and gray, which we offer to you, stocking that of a reputable manufacturer whose goods have proven satisfactory and of the highest uniform quality. Come in and make a personal selection of such pieces as you need to make your kitchen work more convenient and to replace worn-out pieces. We also want to show you our excellent quality aluminum ware. Remember your hardware store is the best place to buy kitchen utensils and cutlery because you can see and handle things to help you decide which ones you like best.

Actually seeing the goods before you buy saves money and disappointment

JAPANESE BEETLE CONTROL PROMISED BY NEW POISON

End of Pest Seen by Entomologists Who Have Spent Years In Research Work

TOWNS PROTECT TREES BY COMBINED EFFORTS

A control measure for the Japanese Beetle has been found. The solution of the problem lies in effective spraying and it is now possible to bring to an end the immense losses that have been forced on property owners during the past few years by this pest, is the announcement made public by Entomologists in charge of the Beetle Laboratories, Riverton.

The discovery of a new spray material by chemists in the employ of the laboratory and the successful completion of experiments in the field has proven the effectiveness of this powerful weapon against the beetle. During the past year farmers have been able to protect their crops from the ravages of the beetle, and such towns as Moorestown, Beverly and Edgewater Park have worked out cooperative plans for spraying that has brought the cost of application per tree to a very few cents and has given complete protection to everything that the beetle likes to eat.

The discovery of coated arsenate of lead and its production on a commercial scale large enough to supply the needs of the entire infested area has brought the problem to the point where relief can be secured by the property owners in thickly or sparsely settled districts.

Experiments conducted during the past year have proven the effectiveness of these modern sprays as a practical means of control. The secret of the problem lies in covering all trees, shrubs and plants with a heavy coating of these lead sprays. Both forms of lead are effective in killing the beetles, but the newly discovered coated lead arsenate has proven the most satisfactory.

Besides killing more beetles per gallon of spray, the coated lead has been found to stay longer to the foliage. It has been proven that it will stick to the foliage for the entire season. Experiments have proven that 50 to 60 per cent of the beetles entering a tree have died within forty-eight hours after eating the foliage. These tests in the field and the laboratory have checked the effectiveness of this control measure. It is the opinion of the entomologists in charge of spraying that a 60 per cent kill should be secured by anyone who uses average means of control on his property.

All beetles do not die immediately after taking poison. Tests have proven that forty-eight hours are required to kill some of the beetles. Beetles usually leave the tree in a sickened condition and die later, frequently hidden under mats of grass, under stones or burrowed in the ground. A sick beetle never eats. Tests in the laboratory has proven that these beetles have died days after eating foliage covered with the recommended sprays.

After many years of experiments with thousands of suggestions and ideas on beetle control, the entomologists are convinced that spraying offers the only effective method of control for the home owner to follow.

NOW is the time to apply sprays for beetle control. The pest is due to appear in large numbers within the next two weeks. The spray should be on the foliage by July 4 to insure full protection.

There is no one best method of applying the spray. The secret of success depends on getting the foliage covered. Use the sprayer that is close to hand. The spray gun, the knapsack sprayer, the barrel sprayer, or the power outfit will all be effective.

Communities desiring to protect their trees should follow the example of Moorestown, Beverly and Edgewater Park in hiring powerful sprayers and have the work done at cost.

Traps and geraniol are condemned as a means of control. Geraniol is not an insecticide. It draws beetles to a locality where a trap may be located but gives no assurance that a majority of the beetles will go into the trap. Tests with traps have proven that tens of thousands of beetles have been drawn to a community where only a few hundred would be present under ordinary conditions. Geraniol, however has its use when used in connection with the new pyrethum contact spray to draw beetles to a central point. This method of control is adaptable to community work.

Spray recommendations are: For apples, cherries and grapes, 3 lbs powdered arsenate of lead, 2 lbs ordinary flour, to 50 gallons of water.

For peaches, 1½ lbs powdered arsenate of lead, 2 lbs flour, milk from 2 lbs, stone lime, 50 gallons of water.

On all shade trees and shrubs use the coated arsenate of lead and follow the manufacturer's instructions on the package. The department claims this material is superior to powdered arsenate of lead, but if impossible to obtain, use the common lead as recommended above for apples on all shade trees and bushes.

TRAFFIC OFFICERS HAVE BUSY SUNDAY

The crusade against the violation of motor vehicle laws in Riverton continues. Last Sunday night officer John Carlson was stationed on East Main street and "blew" a score or more of motorists for speeding, cutting out, having only one headlight and various other infractions of the laws.

Officer Walter G. Miller was kept busy in a like manner in the traffic booth.

PALMYRA BOYS WIN

Riverside East End Team Defeated in Slugfest by 19-4

The Palmyra Boys' Club enjoyed a slugfest this week at the expense of the Riverside East End Team, winning by a score of 19 to 4. Sacca, with five hits, and Burke, with four, two of which were home runs, led the attack for Palmyra.

Riverside was completely outclassed, making but four hits during the entire nine innings. Palmyra scored most of its runs in the fifth, sixth and seventh frames.

The winners played good baseball while the outclassed losers had a total of 11 errors marked against them.

Will Strengthen Riverton Team

Several Changes in Lineup; Hughes, Linton and Stampf Among New Men

Riverton was severely trimmed by the visitors from Frankford on Saturday.

Frankford turned the game into a rout when they scored eight runs by hard hitting mixed with errors and passes in the second inning.

Riverton managed to score three runs in the second inning but they were unable to reduce the visitors' lead any further.

On Saturday, July 2, St. Michael's will invade Riverton, and on July 4 at 3.30 p. m., Dunkirk will pay their second visit of the season. They opened the season with the local club and emerged victorious. Riverton is going to try and reverse the result with them this time.

New Players

The management has decided that the local team is in urgent need of additional strength at several positions in order to cope with the teams scheduled, and with this in mind have made overtures to several new players to bolster up the club.

Johnny Hughes, of Beverly, a general utility man, has been secured. Jimmy Linton, brother of Johnny Linton, our star left fielder, has been secured for the infield along with Stampf, of Collingswood.

Several new pitchers, whose names we cannot announce at this hour, will be on hand ready for action.

Expect Improvement

The management hopes to see a decided improvement in the team this Saturday and wants each and every fan to turn out and root for the club.

It has been very gratifying to the management to receive the many contributions from our local citizens.

We will be glad to hear from anyone who has not already donated, as the additional strength we expect to add to the club will naturally increase the financial burden.

Palmyra Firemen Name New Officers

Joseph L. Stack Succeeds C. Morris Beck as Department's Chief

At a meeting for the election of officers of the Palmyra Fire Company Monday night, C. Morris Beck resigned as chief of the department. Joseph L. Stack was elected to take his place. Mayor James T. Weart, who had been an active member of the fire company for the past 25 years, also resigned as an active member of the department and was made an honorary member. This is the general custom for members who have served for 25 years.

Ex-Chief Beck was presented with a gold wrist-watch by the firemen in appreciation of his efficient services for the past 15 years. Mr. Beck will still continue to be an active member of the fire department. He felt that his duties as chief of both the fire and police departments were too much of a responsibility.

Morrie has been chief of the Palmyra Company and has performed his duties faithfully and in an ultra-satisfactory manner ever since the department had only a hand-drawn hose outfit. He now thinks that Palmyra has grown in such a progressive manner that the fire company should be a separate unit from the police department.

Other officers elected were: Fremont Truman, Assistant Chief; Melvin Cromwell, Foreman; Edward Bennett, Assistant Foreman; George Truman, President; Joseph Rodgers, Vice-President; Lewis Wallace, Treasurer and George J. Spencer, Secretary.

The Board of Directors elected were Harry Kemmerle, Sr., William Scully, Edward Bennett, Walter Horner and Fremont Truman.

On Saturday, July 16, the Palmyra Fire Department accompanied by the Post Rodgers American Legion Drum Corps, will participate in the Burlington County Firemen's Parade at Mount Holly. There will be a contest between companies presenting the most beautiful girl on its float, but Palmyra will not be represented.

SOAST HEAVILY FINED

Harry Soast, of Fourth and Berkley avenues, Palmyra, was fined $220.65 by Recorder George W. Diehl, of Pennsauken, for driving his car when intoxicated. Soast is about 24 years old and was accompanied by John L. Gill, 21, of South Fifth street, Camden. Gill was fined $5.00 and costs. The arrest was made by Pennsauken township policeman Thorpe on the Burlington pike as the two men were on their way from Camden to Palmyra.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whartnaby Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Whartnaby, of 611 Linden avenue, celebrated their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary in Society Hall, Palmyra, Saturday evening.

The hall was attractively decorated with white crepe paper, crimson ramblers and daisies. From the middle of the room was suspended a beautiful bell of silver crepe paper and silver tinsel.

The music for dancing was furnished by the Spanish Troubadors and the grand march was led by the bride and groom. Many handsome presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Whartnaby.

A large wedding cake and ice cream were provided for refreshments.

About eighty guests were present from Philadelphia, Camden, Collingswood, Riverside, Palmyra, Riverton and other places. Twenty-six of the guests were entertained at Sunday morning breakfast.

GOODWIN—RICE

An attractive June wedding took place at the Sacred Heart Church this (Thursday) morning at nine o'clock when Miss Anna E. Rice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rice, of Cinnaminson street, became the bride of Mr. Francis J. Goodwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Goodwin, of Moorestown. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph A. Rigney.

The couple were attended by Mrs. Walter Stroupe, of Palmyra, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, and Mr. James Goodwin, of Moorestown, brother of the groom, as best man.

The bride was attired in nile green beaded georgette with Leghorn picture hat and carried a bouquet of white rosebuds.

The matron of honor was dressed in honeydew georgette with Leghorn picture hat, and carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds.

After a short wedding trip to Atlantic City, Mr. and Mrs. Goodwin will reside at 309 Howard street, Riverton.

Valuable Patterns Destroyed by Fire

Blaze at Palmyra Foundry Company Causes Loss of $25,000

The pattern department of the Palmyra Foundry Company's plant at West Palmyra caught fire late last Thursday afternoon.

According to E. F. Thum, president of the company, the damage is estimated at $25,000. The building was partly covered by insurance.

The patterns in the storage-shed burned like paper and were destroyed in five minutes, according to Chief Beck, of the Palmyra Fire Company. Both the Palmyra and Riverton companies responded almost immediately after the alarm was sent in shortly after four o'clock. Palmyra had all its fire equipment at the blaze while Riverton sent its new pumper.

Several other patterns belonging to people whom the company did work for as well as those owned by Mr. Thum were destroyed.

When Chief Beck interviewed Mr. Thum, the president of the concern said he had no idea just how the fire started as the cupola, the structure in which the iron is melted, had not even sparkled when the fire was discovered.

Although very little damage was done to the building, the loss was great because the patterns destroyed were very expensive.

The company intends to build a more modern fire-proof building on the order of that owned by the Jensen Manufacturing Company.

Within a minute after arrival the Riverton firemen had one line of hose using a pressure stream on the flames and shortly afterwards two more lines of hose were playing upon the flames.

While it lasted the fire was one of the worst that has occurred in either town for some time. The smoke was of the heavy black variety which is always dangerous to firemen.

The men in both the Palmyra and Riverton companies spared naught in order to check the fire. They were often walking in water half way to their knees and fighting their way further into the burning structure in order to get closer to the root of the havoc. Twenty-two men reported with the Riverton trucks for service.

Chief Armstrong, of the Riverton Fire Company, received a slight burn on the forehead by glowing embers which dropped from the roof of the building.

IMPUDENT DRIVER FINED AT MOORESTOWN

Frank H. Bertholet, of 1435 Olney avenue, Philadelphia, was arrested by Officer Ralph Marks Sunday night. Bertholet deliberately made a right hand turn against a red light at the Church street intersection of Main street after Marks had cautioned him not to. The Philadelphia man also proved an impudent offender and was fined $5 and costs at a hearing before Recorder Joseph Johnston.

HERBERT T. SMITH

Herbert T. Smith, who resided on Central avenue Moorestown, for several years, died at his home on Burlington Pike, Cinnaminson, late Saturday night. He was 52 years old.

Mr. Smith, who was formerly assistant treasurer for the Lippincott Publishing Company, Philadelphia, had been ill for about two weeks. He had relatives and many friends in Moorestown. He is survived by his wife, Maud Herr Smith.

Funeral services were held at his home at 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with the Rev. Edgar L. Sanford, rector of the Trinity Episcopal Church, Moorestown, in charge. Interment was made at Westfield Cemetery.

STOUT LEADS REPUBLICANS

Complete Harmony Prevails at Organization Session in Mount Holly

NO OPPOSITION TO POPULAR CHAIRMAN

Complete harmony prevailed at the organization meeting of the Burlington County Republican Committee in Mount Holly Monday afternoon.

The regular Republican organization, headed by Freeholder Stout, seemed to have full control and the "slate" of officers and committees went through without a hitch or a single protest.

George N. Wimer was chosen temporary chairman with Freeholder Heisler temporary secretary and the 1926 rules were adopted pending the formation of new ones.

Heisler nominated Stout for permanent chairman and he was elected unanimously.

Mr. Stout than made a short speech in which he called attention to the harmony which now prevailed in Republican ranks despite the bitterness of the recent primary and called upon all Republicans the support the party nominees.

Other Officers

Mrs. Elizabeth Terry was chosen first vice-chairman and Mrs. Anna Newcomb as second vice-chairman. Mr. Heisler was chosen permanent secretary, with Alfonsa Adams as assistant secretary. George N. Wimer was unanimously re-elected treasurer.

A committee of three on rules was appointed, comprising Joshua Matlack, Ida Calley and William Fryer.

A letter from State Senator Emmor Roberts was read in which he thanked his friends for supporting him in the recent primary and urged all Republicans to give their wholehearted support to his successful opponent, Clifford R. Powell. This letter was enthusiastically applauded.

Powell Speaks

The Senatorial nominee, Mr. Powell, was then called upon to speak. He said he was very tired and very happy and that the only "fly in the ointment" was that his victory had to be won at the cost of the defeat of his friend, Emmor Roberts.

The young Assemblyman declared he would always stand for the things that Burlington county stood for and that he hoped the unkind things which had been said in the recent campaign would soon be forgotten.

The Senatorial nominee especially urged the Republican voters of the county to support the constitutional amendments which will be voted upon at a special election in September. These amendments provide for zoning laws in which many of the towns of the county are interested. They also provide for biennial sessions of the legislature and for the governors to be elected in presidential years.

Mr. Powell said the State Democratic boss, Frank Hague, had sworn to defeat these amendments, because the latter one especially will make it difficult for the Democrats to elect their governor.

Other party nominees, including Dr. Marcus Newcomb, Howard Russ, J. Lloyd Wright and Henry I. Worrell, also spoke.

The following executive committee was appointed: Joseph Hylton, Riverton; Elwood H. Russell, Burlington; Mrs. Marion C. Roberts, and Mrs. Deborah Stratton, Moorestown; Joseph B. Fleetwood, Mount Holly; Evelyn Belcher, Medford; Mrs. Glenn A. Lindabury, Burlington; M. E. Matlack, Mount Holly; Carlton Haines, Tabernacle; Helen B. Stone, Beverly; Killam E. Bennett, Riverton; Caroline H. Haines, Burlington; Walter D. Lamon, Palmyra; Mrs. Mary Krupsick, Mount Holly; Radford Van Pelt, Roebling; Frank Brown, Bordentown; George C. C. Stout, Moorestown; Bertha Atkinson, Riverside; Ellis F. Godfrey, Moorestown; J. Lloyd Wright, Medford; Ella N. Johnson, Maple Shade; Mrs. Caroline H. West, Edgewater Park; Cora Carson, Burlington; Roland J. Beazley, Columbus Road.

BAYSIDE UNDER DEVELOPMENT

Work has been started on the filling and development of a mile of bayfront at Brant Beach. The fill from the State channel will be utilized in building the first unit of this improvement. The plans for the bayside of the town contemplate an ultimate extension of 800 feet toward the deeper waterway, the shore line following the natural curve of the island. A broad Sunset Boulevard immediately on the bayshore will complete in Brant Beach the picture of "The Resort Beautiful."

LAW SUIT?

Legal Action Threatened in Maple Shade Paving Controversy

The battle in Maple Shade between the Portland Cement interests and the Vibrolithic patent holders may be carried into court, according to the statement of J. R. Bailey.

Bailey, who represents Vibrolithic in the East, has been investigating the methods employed by his competitors in having the paving of two highways in Chester Township changed from his type to the normal mixture and method.

The township committee specified Vibrolithic and let the contract. Later petitions were presented demanding a change of the specifications. A check-up showed the majority back of the petitions and the specifications were changed.

Bailey says the methods used were unfair in business practices and that the loss of anticipated profits gives his company good grounds for a suit against the Portland Cement Manufacturers. It was at their instigation, he declares, the petitions were circulated.

Noted Visitors From Other Lands

Poland and Australia Send Their Entomologists To See Beetle Control

Representatives of agriculture from all parts of the world are daily visiting this section of South Jersey to make a close-up study of the work being done here to combat the Japanese Beetle.

The Beetle Laboratory, Riverton, is conducting a line of work in the control of the beetle that is possibly unique in many ways over anything else ever tried in this country or abroad.

During the past week, representatives from Poland and Australia have visited this section of the world to make an intensive study of the plant, and the methods used in combating the pest. These countries have sent their most noted entomologists here to study our methods of insect control and the beetle laboratory is proving most interesting to them.

The Polish Government is represented by Hamilton Minkiewicz, Palway, Poland. Dr. Minkiewicz is spending the entire week with the entomologists at the laboratory in studying the latest methods. He reports that the work here is a marvel in insect control.

Australia is represented by Stanley Garthside, the forest entomologist of that country. While conditions are similar in many respects with both countries, yet the work in insect elimination in this country has advanced very rapidly and leads all other nations of the world, was the opinion of this noted entomologist.

Among the other noted visitors at the Laboratory during the week were A. E. Stene and Harry Horowitz, Rhode Island. Both of these men are connected with the Department of Agriculture and were here getting acquainted with the work on fighting the beetle.

Rapid Growth Seen In Palmyra Future

Lions Club Hears of Problems Soon to be Faced Here

The Palmyra Lions Club held another enthusiastic meeting in the basement of the Lutheran Church Tuesday evening and heard an interesting talk by J. J. Ruster, traffic expert of the Camden Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Ruster emphasized how the growth of Camden, now the fastest growing city of New Jersey, would affect all the communities within a radius of twenty miles. In addition to this, the new bridge here will have a vast influence on Palmyra.

This town is likely soon to have its factory problems and if the kind of industries that are wanted are to come here, some civic body should take an interest in the situation.

One remarkable fact which the speaker cited was that when concerns who found ground prices too high in Camden came to seek sites in West Palmyra, they discovered that prices asked here were even still higher. It was hard to understand, he said, why owners should ask greater prices along the Pensauken Creek than are asked on the Camden waterfront or near the Boulevard in Philadelphia.

The development of the Delaware River from Camden to Trenton as a channel for ocean going vessels will soon give all the towns on the riverfront an opportunity to become "seaports" and share in the advantages of cheap water transportation, said Mr. Ruster.

RIVERTON READY FOR BIG FOURTH of JULY CELEBRATION

FIREMEN'S ACTIVITIES

Will House New Apparatus on Fourth; Plan Carnival in September

The Riverton Fire Company has re-elected Walter Armstrong Chief Engineer and John W. Carhart assistant chief.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors Tuesday night arrangements were made for housing the new apparatus on July 4, at which time there will be a parade accompanied by the Bugle and Drum Corps of the American Legion of Palmyra.

Plans were also discussed for a three-day carnival to be held at Fifth and Howard streets the first week in September. The boys plan to put on this carnival themselves, and not to hire any outside concern.

A new floor is being laid in the engine room of the fire house this week.

Inspiring Address on Service Clubs

Rev. Roberts Williams Gives Splendid Sermon at Lutheran Church

The Rev. Roberts Williams, of Bordentown, delivered a very pleasing address to a large audience gathered at the "Mutual Understanding Rally" held in the First Lutheran Church, in which the Lions Clubs were the guests of honor.

Mr. Williams said in part: "Jesus founded a service club. The story of the last supper and much else in His life and teachings are essentially His dealings with the small groups of laymen He chose to carry out His mission. He chose men of various businesses, not professional priests or scholars. He conducted no formal school. They lived, ate, talked with Him. Jesus built His church upon the common things of life. The animal necessity of eating should be raised to dignity by the joy of brotherhood, by the spirit of mutual service, by the sense of sharing with Him the gifts of God.

"The difficulties Jesus had in forming this service club we can appreciate because we have the same troubles in beginning and keeping true to its ideals any social organization today, whether church or service club. His best prospective members were too proud and selfish. Worst of all one, Judas, lost faith in the cause and tried to salvage thirty pieces of silver out of the wreckage. We condemn Judas as a traitor, but we forget the real tragedy was his lack of faith.

"Like the service clubs of the Apostles, the modern service clubs fill a personal need, that of fellowship of lonely city men at lunch time. They have become vast international organization for service to communities and to wider spheres.

"What is the justification of a Lions' Club? First, there is the good the members receive. By codes of ethics and the more valuable method of practical example, they are taught that business is not a selfish grab game. For the communities they are not rival organizations to churches, lodges, chambers of commerce or other social bodies. Then, the service club works for the community, and may act as a kind of executive committee for furthering work of Red Cross, Boy Scouts, Playground Associations and many other such things and then again the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs give toward the solution of that vital world problem, the reconciliation of a fervent national patriotism with a spirit of respect leading toward cooperation with all mankind.

"Conversely and more emphatically, the church needs you and you need the church. Do not let your love for fellowmen be limited by the sphere of the service club."

ASK FREEHOLDERS TO SELL COUNTY LOT

Board Thinks It May Be Needed For Extension to Office Building

The meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday was about the shortest on record.

The only business to come before the board was the payment of bills and a request of some citizens that the county sell the lot on which the county barn stands at the corner of Main and Union streets, so as to improve the conditions in that neighborhood. The old building is an eyesore.

William C. Wetherill and Nelson D. W. Pumyea on behalf of Union street residents asked that the land be sold to the owner of the adjoining property. They said he had promised to build a two-family dwelling on the site. Members of the board, however, were of the opinion that the land might be needed some time in the future for the erection of an annex to the county building. They suggested that the barns be torn down and grass sown on the site and that it be left unoccupied until needed. No decision on the matter was reached.

Director Ruse was authorized to see that the county buildings on High street be decorated for the coming firemen's celebration during the week of July 10.

The following bills were ordered paid: roads, $21,179.15; bridges, $3,889.98; public buildings, $8,517.00; public affairs, $1,287.46; finance, $562.18; total, $35,435.77.

The list of events includes: Swimming races for boys and girls up to 16 years of age, swimming races for men, tub races for boys.

The canoe events will include, pig-headed race, men's four, tandem standing on gunwale, tandem over-board, one man single blade, and the popular tilting contests. Other events may be added.

BIG DEMAND FOR COTTAGES

Visitors to Brant Beach quickly fall in love with this resort. The attraction of the location and the beauty of the development have created a big demand for cottages to rent. All available homes have been leased. Some idea of the demand is shown by the fact that a pretty cottage on Forty-ninth street near the beach, owned by Eugene R. Scattergood, of Burlington, was rented before the roof was on the building, with the provision that the summer residents could occupy it as soon as contractors could complete the building, early in July. Owners who build in Brant Beach are assured quick sale or rental of their cottages.

County History of 25 Years Ago

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror, June 25, 1902

Grading of the new trolley road has been completed to a point between Hainesport and Mount Holly.

Horses will be stationed in Relief and Good Intent fire houses, Mount Holly, on the Fourth of July, to be in readiness to answer alarms.

Harold B. Wells, of Pemberton, well-known in Mount Holly, was admitted to the bar on Wednesday and will practice in Bordentown, where he bought the library and fixtures of the office of Isaac E. Antrim, deceased.

Thomas Cromwell, the negro desperado, who with John Williams was wanted for the murder of John Hencke at Burlington in 1896, was hanged at Lebanon, Pa., yesterday for a similar crime.

An inspector from the post-office department at Washington, arrived in Mount Holly this week and is engaged in laying out three proposed rural delivery routes with Mount Holly as the central office.

Enforce "Fourth" Laws

The Northampton Township Committee has instructed the police to strictly enforce the state law against firing fire crackers, fireworks, etc., before the morning of the Fourth of July.

Ripe tomatoes were picked in Marlton last week and there is promise of an exceptionally large potato crop.

A new clubhouse is among the improvements contemplated by the Moorestown Field Club.

July 2, 1902

Josiah W. Ewan and Ezekias W. Eaham, of Mount Holly, have arranged to erect double cottages in Seaside Park.

Charles Wainwright has sold his farm of 136 acres, near Columbus, to Andrew Wainwright for $6,800.

Forty-two yearlings from the Hancocas stock farm, Jobstown, were sold at Sheepshead, N. Y., last week, at an average price of $600.

A forty-pound snapper was captured at Hanover pond last week and exhibited in Mount Holly by Joseph Risley, who now is employed in Pointville.

A lodge of Masons was organized at Medford on Monday night by Grand Master W. Holt Apgar, of Trenton, and grand officers from other parts of the state. Frank A. Braddock was elected master of the new lodge. Fourteen signed as charter members.

Moorestown Pastor Celebrates

The tenth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. William P. Finney, at the Presbyterian Church, Moorestown, was celebrated last week.

The Seaside Park flyer from Broad street station, Philadelphia, is now running. It does not stop in Mount Holly. It is scheduled to go through here 29 minutes after leaving Germantown Junction, a distance of about 23 miles.

The women's golf team of the Riverton Country Club decisively defeated women from the Bellfield Club, of Philadelphia, on Monday, by 37 up.

The death of Dr. Alexander M. Mecray occurred at his home in Maple Shade on Thursday morning, caused by apoplexy. He practiced in Camden until about three years ago, when a stroke unfitted him for attending patients and he removed to his country home in Maple Shade.

News Correspondent Dies

William Henry Koons, a well-known newspaper correspondent of Trenton, and for many years a resident of Burlington county, died in Trenton on Sunday. His wife is the former Margaret Sisom, of Burlington.

The annual reception to members of the Moorestown Equal Suffrage Association was given on Wednesday afternoon by Miss Susan W. Lippincott, of that town. Many guests were present from Moorestown and nearby communities.

With the sale of the toll house on the Mount Holly pike next Saturday, the Mount Holly and Moorestown Turnpike Company will end its career. This will be the last of the toll roads in this section.

Ed. Stowe, Moorestown farmer, had remarkable success with strawberries this season. From five acres he received $2,600, netting about $1,800. On one acre of the William Belt variety he gathered $850 worth of berries. These are about the best results reported in New Jersey this year.

Florence Plant Busy

The Florence Shirt and Waist Manufacturing Company is very busy and is in need of about 25 more hands at good wages.

Drumfish in Tuckerton and other bays along the seashore are playing hob with oyster beds and dynamite has been resorted to in an effort to exterminate the intruders.

Miss Bessie D. Adams, of Edgewater Park, and Hugh B. Miller, of Palmyra, were married at the home of the bride on Wednesday, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends.

Contractor John S. Rogers has begun the erection of a handsome new stable for John D. Johnson, of Mount Holly. The structure will be of mottled brick, to conform in style with the Johnson residence.

FERRY BUSY

2,656 Cars Cross River at Palmyra Over Weekend

The Palmyra-Tacony Ferry Company enjoyed its old "summer crowd" Sunday when it transported 2,656 cars across the river. The Palmyra police force was kept busy all day directing traffic and up until past eleven-thirty at night. Boats plied across the river until twelve-fifteen.

There was a double line of cars up Cinnaminson avenue waiting to get across the ferry. If the line had been single instead of double the cars would have stretched up to Broad street, according to Chief of Police Beck. Most of this traffic was handled shortly after supper.

PARRY SPLITS EVEN

Defeat Westfield A. A. But Lose to Peerless Giants

The Parry A. A. split even over the weekend, losing to the Peerless Giants 5-4 but won from the Westfield A. A. 5-3. The game with Westfield was a thriller. Menkevich's single knocked in the winning run and Schuck's home run put the game on ice. Malley pitched good ball for Parry until the seventh when three runs drove him from the mound.

WARRINGTON DARNELL

Warrington Darnell, of 733 Washington avenue, Palmyra, died at the West Jersey Hospital Monday evening at 6 o'clock in his eighty-first year.

Mr. Darnell spent most of his life as a farmer near Masonville and moved to Palmyra when he retired seventeen years ago.

He is survived by his widow, Sarah, and one daughter Alice, of Media, Pa. The funeral will be held this Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his late residence, with interment in the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Medford.

The MacMullins Write from Alaska

Capt. George MacMullin and Family Are Stationed at Haines; Few Whites

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel MacMullin recently received a letter from their son, Captain George MacMullin, who, with his family, was transferred from Plattsburgh, N. Y. to Chilkoot Barracks, Haines, Alaska. The following extracts will be of interest to their many friends in Riverton:

"We had a glorious trip. Lovely weather nearly all the way, and the scenery was magnificent—beautiful mountains and valleys, lovely lakes and canals.

"This Post is situated on a salt water called Lynn Canal, which meets the Skagway River. There are huge mountains around us. It is dark for about an hour around midnight, and then it isn't very dark. In fact we couldn't sleep the first few nights, it was so light. The mountain across the way is 6,000 feet high, and there are big ones on all sides of us.

"We have a house twice as big as the one we had in Plattsburgh—it is enormous. We have a coal range for cooking and have to use soft coal, which is very dusty and dirty, but makes a wonderful fire.

"We are allowed electricity on Tuesdays and Thursday from 1 to 5 p. m. for zoning purposes. Other times it goes on from about 9 p. m. until midnight.

"We get no newspaper daily. They come in bunches on mail boats. It seems funny to be cut off from the world and not know what is going on. Do send The New Era, as we enjoy it so much.

"Our drinking water comes from a glacier and is like ice water.

"There are only three or four white families in Haines. The rest are Indians."

NAUS—BENCE

The Rev. Alfred Raymond Naus, of Delaware Gardens, took as his bride Miss Josephine Aileen Bence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Luther Bence, of Marion Center, last Thursday morning.

Following a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride, the Rev. and Mrs. Naus left for a wedding trip camping along the Susquehanna river.

They will take up their residence in Delaware Gardens on their return where Rev. Naus is pastor of the Temple Lutheran Church. He is a graduate of Gettysburg College and of Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary.

The bride is a graduate of Gettysburg College, also, and has been teaching in the Bedford High School. She is a member of the Gamma Phi Sorority of the college.

Calvary Presbyterian

Services of worship of Calvary Presbyterian Church are being held in the new Church School Building.

The morning service next Sunday will be at 11 o'clock, at which time the pastor will give a talk appropriate to Independence Day. There will be no evening service.

Sunday School: Main school at 10 a. m.; primary divisions at 2.30 p. m.

The Christian Endeavor Society will meet at 7.15 o'clock Sunday evening.

The Mid-week service will be discontinued until September.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. John Moffett, 7th and Lincoln avenue, at 2.30 p. m. Thursday, July 7th.

Charles T. Bates, Minister.

RECKLESS DRIVER FINED

Alfred A. Ladner, of Camden, was arrested last Thursday by Officer Lawrence Betty, of the Palmyra police force, for reckless driving on Broad street. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter, Ladner was fined $5.00. The driver of the car was coming down Broad street and when Officer Betty blew for him, he got excited and drove the machine upon the sidewalk in front of the Coombs & Bush store.

P. O. S. of A. CAMP 23 TRIPS AUDUBON

Palmyra Boys Victors in Battle of Pitchers; Score 4-3

Last Saturday afternoon the Palmyra Camp of the P. O. S. of A. sent the Audubon Lodge to a 4-3 defeat in a pitchers' battle between Les Daniels of the Palmyra team and Peacock of the visitors.

The Audubon players banged five hits from Daniels' delivery while the Palmyra boys garnered six from Peacock's twisters.

The game was played in such a manner as to make the famous "White Elephants" shudder with shame. Each player on their respective teams played good, hard, clean baseball and delivered every ounce of the game he had.

Pete Weart, Palmyra's center fielder, led his team at bat with two safe bingles and Albright of Audubon led his aggregation with two bingles.

TROLLEY STOPS

Cars Will Pause at East End of Palmyra Railroad Station

As a result of Chief of Police Beck's plea to the Public Service Commission, the trolleys will discharge and take on passengers at the east end of the Palmyra station. If the traffic light happens to be against the trolley when it is coming from Camden it will stop at the west side of the station, opposite the Coombs and Bush store.

The new ruling was made in an effort to help take care of the heavy traffic at this point over the weekends. Public Service representative was in Palmyra Monday and told Chief Beck that the change would go into effect immediately.

At the Other Fellow's Expense

There are thousands of miles of riding in the reconditioned cars which we are now offering buyers who want a good automobile at the lowest possible cost. Virtually every one of these cars came in—not because they were worn out—but because some men are vain and must have a new car ever so often. See the values here—pick out the model you like—and then be surprised at the low price we are quoting. Get the miles the other fellow overlooked.

344,679 car owners say Buick will be their next car

A general and impartial survey of automobile owners recently conducted by a great organization, shows that 344,679 owners of other cars intend to change to Buick next time they buy a car.

These owners have compared their cars with Buick—in performance, in economy, in comfort, luxury and dependability. And they have decided that Buick offers greater value.

Examine a Buick at your earliest opportunity. Find out why so many owners of other cars are changing to Buick every day. A-46-15

LINDBERGH.

BULL WHALE AND ATHEIST.

HE WHO FIGHTS ALONE.

THANKS BE FOR LINDY.

Deeds of individual courage still arouse the world more than any other achievement. Lindbergh's welcome proves that men feel, today, as they did about Grillon, Duguesolin or Perseus. The individual fighter doing it himself, is the man adored by the crowd.

Any man is courageous with many around him. With a crowd, it is easier to go than not to go. But, by yourself, it is different.

The great crowds that howl for Lindbergh, and that were asleep when he started off in the fog, alone, at daybreak, know why they applaud him.

A lookout on the cruiser Memphis, bringing Lindbergh home, called out, "There she blows, broad on the starboard bow." Lindbergh, on the bridge, saw a big bull whale accompanied by his "cows," keeping close to their lord and master as he rolled and spouted.

Nothing could have made that bull whale believe that the tiny man on the bridge had flown across the Atlantic Ocean, in the other direction.

How can you hope to make an atheist believe that there exists a Divine intelligence flashing from one universe to another, pervading all space? The bull whale and the atheist KNOW. You can't fool them.

Thank heaven for Lindbergh. He may make this Government realize that to be defenseless in the air IS TO BE ABSOLUTELY DEFENSELESS. He told the Chamber of Commerce in New York: "We don't want war, and the way to avoid it is to be prepared for it. We need greatly enlarged commercial air service, greatly increased air mail service, to develop good pilots. It takes longer to make a pilot than to make a flying machine."

He reminded New York of the disgraceful fact that the richest city in the world has no air port, and must travel far off to Long Island to find one.

And he said in substance this: "They talk about anti-aircraft guns as a defense against airplanes. A hundred fast planes would soon clear a battleship's decks of its anti-aircraft guns. Then a dozen bombers would sink it. The anti-aircraft guns might, but probably wouldn't, bring down a few pilots, destroy a trifling sum in airplanes. But airplanes would wipe out a $20,000,000 battleship and its great crew of men."

Many people, including the Government, must listen to Lindbergh. That's the advantage of climbing to a high place among men. You can MAKE others listen.

Much of woman's trouble has been caused by her prejudice against her own sex, her lack of mercy for other women that go wrong, her contempt for women generally. Miss Bessie Mack, of Chicago, accused of flirting by two large policewomen, "beat them up" when they sought to arrest her. She surrendered peacably to a very small policeman, saying, "No woman can arrest me."

Sir Oliver Lodge, who believes in ghosts and spirits, says that with synthetic protoplasm life can be created in the laboratory. This says Lodge, does not belittle God's power, for man is God's creation and might well imitate his Maker on a small scale.

He MIGHT, but he WON'T. That is, he will not create the only life that counts—the life that THINKS.

Real life is THOUGHT, not MATTER.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

HOT WEATHER HINTS

Assuming that there will be some hot weather this summer, it behooves the "fats" as well as the "leans" to get all the comfort out of it that is possible. Perspiration, a most valuable process, should not be arrested, but its discomforts should be dealt with intelligently, if it becomes disagreeable.

Light, airy clothing is indispensable; it permits free access of air to the person, which is effectual in carrying away excess moisture. Some people have sweat-glands that are excessively active, especially the fat bodies with nervous temperaments—these may attempt to limit skin-drainage, by maintaining more free action of bowels and kidneys. It is not always advisable to cut down water-drinking in hot weather, unless it be the intake of ice-water, which for many reasons is not good for the human system. Neither should plenty of exercise be neglected; exercise and plenty of good, cool water, are among the best conservers of health.

If your perspiration has a very offensive odor, your elimination by bowels and kidneys is insufficient; lessen your dietary of animal and saccharine foods.

Locally, bathing, especially the cool shower is tonic; the coarse dry towel is a faithful ally. Many powders are used for dusting remote surfaces: know the quality of the stuff you buy. If the skin presents a "greasy" surface, the stearate of zinc is excellent—may be used freely without danger of poisoning in any way. The only precaution to be observed, never dust baby so that he inhales the powder—and this applies to any dusting powder on the market. The stearate of zinc is a good face-powder after shaving, especially if the cuticle is oily in appearance. Borated powders are very useful on irritable skins, and, entirely harmless. No dusting compound should contain lead.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Play the Averages and be Safe

A young man by the name of Orrell, who was cashier for a brokerage firm, has recently been arrested on a charge of swindling his employers out of some $244,000.

He took this money a little at a time and always hoped to pay it back by making favorable plays in the stock market. He pinned his hopes on the advance in prices of breakfast foods and steam locomotive stocks. They didn't lead him to the hill of prosperity as he imagined they would, but they dumped him in the ditch.

He now says to himself, according to the newspapers, that he is "just another sucker."

There have doubtless been many great fortunes made by lucky chances and many people have struck oil wells or gold veins or diamond pockets. Others have had rich uncles die and leave them a lot of money.

There is no discounting this and no attempt to prove that it is not so. Gambling does not always lead to misfortune. Some players at Monte Carlo come away with a pile.

But the point is, the chances are all against them. For every one man who succeeds and who you hear about, there are thousands who fail and who are never noted.

The shrewd man bases his acts of life upon averages. He recognizes that there is much luck in human affairs. But there are certain laws of averages and life is a balance of probabilities.

The difference between a clever man and a fool is that the former pins his hope upon general laws and the chances are in his favor, while the latter fatuously believes in the exception and usually gets stung.

If life means anything to you, don't unnecessarily risk it.

If you want fame and fortune, don't pit them on the turn of a card.

Study to find out what the law of averages is and follow that law.

The wicked sometimes prosper and unjust and tyrannical people are successful, but the average is against them, and in the end they usually suffer.

The man who minds his own business and never takes chances unless he has to is running along with the laws of the universe. He is trusting to the cooperation of events and they do not fail him in the end.

Being good is merely having confidence in the laws of average.

IN CONFIDENCE

BY MISS FLO

On How to Win a Girl

Dear Miss Flo:—

What I would like to know is this—do girls like men who pay a great deal of attention to them—or do they prefer men who seem rather indifferent? My system is to let them do the fussing, but some of my friends tell me that I'll never get anywhere that way.

C. C.

Unquestionably, there are some girls upon whom indifference acts as a spur to conquer and bring to their feet new worshippers, but I don't believe those girls are in the majority. Girls today do not place undue value on the admiration of every man, and they are too engrossed in the business of living to waste a great deal of effort on any one man.

When woman had more time to play—they expected and demanded attention, admiration, and pursuit from all men of their acquaintance, and if one man displayed indifference, the girl's vanity was hurt; her business was to teach him that he was not so immune to her feminine charms as he thought. An amusing pastime!

But girls of today have a broader range of interests. Not that they do not yet demand attention, admiration, and pursuit of men—they still expect men to fetch and carry for them—and like it, but if they don't—well, what is one scalp more or less! There are so many other interesting and amusing things in life!

They rather expect men to accept them on their own terms, so to speak, and most men have been willing to respond to this franker and healthier understanding of friendship between the sexes.

There might come a time in the affairs of a courtship when indifference on the part of the man toward an incorrigible girl might be an effective threat that she would lose him if she didn't behave. But in starting out to conquer, I wouldn't recommend indifference as an incentive to a girl's interest. Your modern miss is a bit too honest, herself, to be intrigued by subtle methods.

Perhaps the best working principle at the moment is on that might be placed under the heading of comradeship—that is, treating the girl as a human being, respecting her for her intelligence, ability, good qualities, and thereby winning her respect for years; developing common interests until you grow so close together that you find life would be dull without her.

Of course, everything depends upon the girl's individual personality. A man who gets there most quickly studies the girl and applies his knowledge deftly. After all, it is impossible to suggest a line of conduct for winning a girl without knowing anything about her.

Catalogue her. Find out to what type she belongs and adapt your tactics to the situation, for all women do not rise to the same line of courtship. There are some feminine hearts that can be taken only by assault and battery and others that surrender to patient seige. There are women whose love is for sale to the highest bidder, and others bestow it in pity.

So there you are, and your success will depend upon your ability to psycho-analyze the particular woman and upon the skill with which you suggest to her that you are the great unsatisfied need of her soul.

But when the right girl comes along, you'll forget all about "system"—and set out to win her according to the dictates of your heart.

NEW HOTEL TALK OF SHORE

The new hotel on Long Beach Boulevard at Fifteenth street is nearing completion and contractors hope to have it ready for formal opening July Fourth. In all of the adjacent resorts one hears many favorable comments on this building with its type of Spanish mission architecture that is new to Long Beach. The building is of stonetile, semi-fire proof and will be elegant in its appointments. One feature is a three-story observation tower, open on four sides and afforded a wonderful view of the central part of the island, the Atlantic ocean and Barnegat bay. Shore dinners that will make its dining rooms famous with coast motorists will be featured by the management. George Heeley, famous as a Rhode Island chef will manage the new hotel.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

That newspaper advertising is just as essential in retail business as having quality merchandise for sale.

That advertising, if wisely placed and if the merchandise has the merit represented, never fails to bring satisfactory results.

That through advertising you can vision to the people of your trade territory your merchandise and even your personality.

That advertising not only tells others things you want them to know, but it gives others an opportunity to find out things they want to know.

That while good appearance of the merchandise is essential in the sale, quality is of the greatest importance. The unusual quality of well advertised lines is so well known that advertising advertised lines in local papers keeps old trade and assures new.

That many business concerns have failed because they overlooked the tremendous power of advertising.

Continuous advertising of quality and value in home newspapers is what brings in a bumper crop of customers.

Newspaper advertising carries sales messages into every home. It reaches those who read, and everyone reads.

Advertising is a science so highly developed that when properly used brings sure returns.

ELECTRICITY CLEANS HOUSE

Thoroughly, Quickly and Dustlessly

Hoover Sets New Cleaning Standard

IT is important to comfort and health that we walk on rugs that are clean, and rest on upholstered furniture that is free from dust. The New Hoover cleaner with its exclusive cleaning feature, "Positive Agitation," removes deep-set dirt that no other cleaning method reaches, as well as the surface lint and dust, and gives a new meaning to the word "thorough" as applied to cleaning.

Hoover dusting tools are designed to reach every nook and corner easily, and to dust quickly and well.

Public Service stores will appraise their customers' old electric cleaners and give a generous allowance for those traded in for New Hoovers.

$5 down, $5 a month, constitute the payment terms for New Hoover.

Kelvinator Model for Every Need Of Large Home or Small

IT is the aim of Public Service to place the best refrigeration within the reach of every home in the territory it serves. After thorough testing of many electric refrigeration systems, we are selling the Kelvinator. There is a Kelvinator adapted to the needs of every home for sale at prices within the means of almost everyone. They may differ in appearance, but lasting satisfaction is built into each of them.

Electric refrigeration is an improvement over older methods of food preservation, and the Kelvinator is in the front rank of electric refrigerations with a well established reputation for good service back of it. There have been satisfied users of Kelvinator since the earliest days of electric refrigeration.

Kelvinator established a new standard in refrigeration. It provides dry frosty uniform temperature for food storage. It is easily maintained, requires little attention, and can be depended upon to refrigerate day after day.

Public Service payment terms are convenient. A small sum down and 17 months to pay the balance.

Gas Water Heater Prices Reduced $15

THE growing popularity of the automatic type of gas water heater is shown by the increase in the number of such heaters installed by Public Service each year.

And at this season, when furnaces are out and the services of a gas automatic water heater is most necessary, Public Service has reduced the prices on all Kompak copper automatic storage heaters by fifteen dollars.

Kompak water heaters have copper boilers and brass pipes. They will wear for years and the water that comes from them is never rusty.

The Kompak safety pilot keeps all gas shut off should regular pilot go out.

The Kompak is economical in its use of gas—its burners lighting only when necessary and not whenever a hot water faucet is turned on.

In addition to the price reduction on these heaters Public Service offers an easy payment plan of $5 down, 18 months to pay, on all Kompak copper water heaters, gas fired, automatic storage type.

Presto-Vac Is of Convenient Size

ALMOST everyone at one time or another has need for just such an electric cleaner as the Presto-Vac. It is hardly larger than a whisk broom and weighs less than the average electric iron.

It goes into difficult corners and cleans thoroughly many places and materials.

A woman finds it successful in quickly and easily cleaning tufted furniture, window draperies, quilts, heavy coats or other garments.

A man finds the Presto-Vac ideal for cleaning the upholstery of his car—in fact, were this cleaner's only mission the cleaning of car interiors its popularity would be assured.

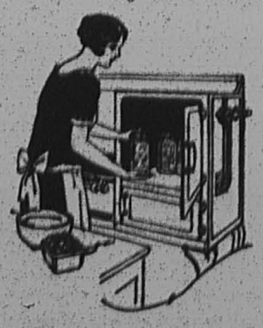

The Presto-Vac may be purchased at Public Service stores on the divided payment plan, 10 per cent down and 10 per cent a month. Its terms price is $26.25 and it is sold at $25 cash.

Oven Heat Regulator Simplifies Canning and Improves Its Results

THE canning season need not mean long hot days in the kitchen. Fruits and tomatoes may be canned right in the jars when the oven canning method is used.

An oven heat regulator on your range measures and automatically holds the temperature needed for cooking fruit.

The process is simple. Place the fruit in sterilized jars, add boiling water or syrup, place rubber rings in position and adjust covers loosely. Then place the jars in the oven, light the gas, and set the regulator according to the canning chart.

When the time as given on the chart is up, remove jars from the oven, tighten their covers, and the canning is finished. The color, form and flavor of the fresh fruit is retained when fruits are preserved by this oven canning method.

Gas ranges with oven heat regulators can be purchased at Public Service stores from $59.50 upward.

Personal Appearance During Vacation Days

THE woman on vacation need not do without those electric appliances which add so much to her comfort and personal appearance. Public Service sells:

—an electric vibrator for facial massage. Five dollars and up.

—an electric curling iron to bring wayward tresses into subjection. Priced at $1.50.

—an electric marcel waver to give that flat ripple to the hair that most women find becoming. Priced at $6.

Recipe for Cherry Pie

By Ada Bessie Swann

1 pint pitted cherries
1 1/2 cup sugar
3 tbsp. flour

Mix flour with sugar and mix with cherries.

Line a deep pie pan with pastry, fill with cherries.

Cover with an upper crust which should be rolled as thin as possible. Perforate top crust to allow the escape of steam. Press the edges lightly together so that juices will not escape during baking. Bake at 400 degrees for 35 to 45 minutes.

Gas Househeating Does Away With Furnace Worry

GAS can be used with any heating system — steam, hot water, vapor, or warm air. No need to change pipes or radiators if these are adequate and in good condition. It takes only a short time to remove the old boiler and furnace and set the gas equipment in its place.

The gas boiler or furnace is guaranteed for long life—to wear as long as pipes and radiators. Public Service will give you free inspection service as long as a gas boiler is used. The successful operation of your gas heating equipment is assured.

With summer here, why not decide to change to gas for househeating now? This is a particularly good time to have the work done.

THE PRIMARY

"What," asks a paragrapher in one of our exchanges, "has become of the old fashioned politician who seemed to care something for political principle?"

The old fashioned politician who put principle above personality is not extinct. His number is still legion, but he is temporarily "in a corner," so to speak. And the country has suffered from the fact that he has been compelled to take to his corner. The shift from the delegate convention to the primary system has brought about the changed condition—personality has taken the place of principle in far too many elections. The ambitious candidate, responsible not to his party, but to the minority of the voters who nominated him in a light primary, and that minority perhaps made up in part of the voters of the opposition party, is in reality responsible to nothing but his own conscience, if any, or his own personal ambition.

The temptations therefore to disregard party principles and to play to what he regards as the will of the organized minority which supports him, is often too great to be overcome. As a result of this, party lines become disorganized and constructive programs of party government are made very difficult to accomplish.

"IT"

Well, "IT" did!

"IT" stood in front of the historic court house in Mount Holly, in the wee' sma' hours of Wednesday morning, after the primary returns indicated how the nomination for State Senator was going—scores of "IT"—and openly drank from bottles, cursed and blasphemed, shouted "down with the ministers, down with the churches, we are the underworld of Burlington county—who said we couldn't elect a senator?"

"IT" proclaimed its existence—and proved it.

"FOR ITS OWN SAKE"

It is most unfortunate that we are so strongly under the impression that to do a piece of work and not get the credit for it is little less than calamity. This habit of making the work secondary and the recognition primary is unfair to the work. It encourages a peculiar kind of ambition which is neither lovely nor productive. By doing the thing for which you may get no credit, you are building certain qualities which cannot be hidden.

COMMUNICATED

Riverton, N. J., 6|27|27
Editor The New Era:

There seems to be two outstanding nuisances in our borough at present—viz: promiscious throwing of advertising matter in the hedges, on the lawns and porches instead of in the mail boxes which most of our homes have. The nature of distribution is probably caused by the inducement given the distributors by their employers—so much per hundred. No business enterprise can get along today without advertising along the right lines, but neither can improper distribution that trespasses on peoples time and property draw trade—it rather gives them an antagonistic state of mind in having to clean up this litter and set fire to it on hot summer days.

In the neighborhood of Harrison and Thomas avenues, the leaves are falling like fall of the year, due to a lice formation. The Norway maples seem to be mostly affected. I understand there is a tree commission to take care of these matters. A spraying of these trees may bring good results.

AN OLD CITIZEN.

GRAY'S LETTER TO EDGE

From Edward W. Gray
Military Park Building
Newark, N. J.

AN OPEN LETTER TO HON. WALTER E. EDGE, UNITED STATES SENATOR

Newark, N. J. June 25, 1927.

Dear Senator Edge:-

My deliberate advice to you is to keep your hands off Essex county.

Under the leadership of County Chairman E. Garfield Gifford, the Republican party in Essex county, for the first time in years, is united, rehabilitated in the public confidence, and representative solely of Essex county interests.

Continuance of the policies which have brought about this condition promise a return of Essex Republicanism to its former prestige and power, and to the old-time Republican majorities which enabled Essex to take the lead in State affairs.

The one threat which menaces fulfillment of this promise is the candidacy of Harry B. O'Connell for County Chairman.

Everybody who knows anything of Republican politics in this county knows that Harry B. O'Connell is merely a puppet in the hands of Jesse R. Salmon, who takes your orders from Washington.

Under your leadership, YOU are the only Republican who has been elected Governor since 1916.

Under your leadership, YOU are the only Republican who has been elected United States Senator since 1918.

Salmon's return to power, with O'Connell as his puppet chairman would mean inevitably a renewal next year of the bitter factional differences which have split and weakened the party in this county in years past.

Do you, Senator Edge, really desire the rehabilitation, unity and success of the Republican party in Essex county?

Or, are you interested only in the election of Democratic governors and United States senators, and does the disintegration and wrecking of the Republican party best suit your purposes?

Sincerely yours,
EDWARD W. GRAY,
Former Member of Congress,
Eighth District of New Jersey.

WIDOW GETS JUDGE WESTCOTT'S ESTATE

The entire personal estate of the late Judge John W. Westcott, former Attorney General of New Jersey, is bequeathed to his widow, Mrs. Frances L. Westcott, it was revealed when his will was admitted to probate last week at the office of George S. Whyte, Camden county surrogate.

The will stipulates that the estate, valued at upwards of $40,000, is to be divided among his three sons upon death of the widow. The sons are: Ethan P. Westcott, prosecutor of Camden county; Ralph Westcott, Court Commissioner, and Harry D. Westcott, of Drexel Hill, Pa. Ethan P. Westcott was named as executor of the estate when the will was drawn in May, 1925.

Judge Westcott died at his home in Haddonfield on June 11, following a series of heart attacks. He was fondly called the "Grand Old Man of the South Jersey Bar" and attained the height of his career when he twice nominated Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency in 1912 and 1916. He later wrote a book dealing with the life of the war-time President. He was a director of the Wilson Memorial Foundation.

Palmyra Camp Makes Visitation to Tabernacle

Camp 23, P. O. S. of A. of Palmyra, attended the 28th anniversary of the Tabernacle Camp Tuesday night. There were delegations present from several towns in the state. Palmyra had 23 members of their camp in attendance at Tabernacle, which was the largest delegation present.

State Master of Forms, Chard, of Woodbury, gave a very interesting talk and several other members gave short addresses.

Delightful refreshments were served by the Tabernacle Camp and a general good time was had by all.

At the meeting Monday night the following were elected as delegates to the P. O. S. of A. Convention to be held at Bridgeton in August: Wm. B. Branson, N. A. Coombs, John White, Walter M. Horner, Leslie B. Reeves, Jr., Edson Carhart, E. A. Griscom, W. D. Lamon, John Marshall, Wilbur Jones, Melvin P. Davis, Harvey Trauger, David B. Coles, John Banaff, George Rogers, John Kepner, George T. Bailey, George Rhodes, and Charles A. Matlack.

More Parasites Come from Japan

Three-and-a-half Tons of Tiny Warriors Arrive to Battle the Beetle

Another huge shipment of Japanese Beetle parasites has just been received at the Beetle Laboratory, Riverton, from Japan. This is the largest shipment of parasites received at the Laboratory in three years. Only once, and then in 1924, has a shipment ever equalled this one for size.

In the shipment received were fifty cases, weighing three and one half tons, containing over 5,000 parasites of the Prosena fly. This particular fly is considered one of the most promising of the natural enemies of the beetle, and is now being imported in large numbers to cope with the present situation.

A large force of men are busy at the laboratory working on the shipment, unpacking the cases, and carefully placing the tiny parasite flies in cages preparatory to distribution in heavily infested districts of the beetle area.

The Prosena deposits in the ground tiny living maggots, which burrow down in the soil in search of the beetle grubs. On finding a tender beetle grub, it immediately takes up the work of destruction on its host, finally emerging next spring as a fly to deposit another brood of maggots. This parasite lays the maggots which will attack the brood of beetle grubs that will result from the beetles now emerging from the ground.

This particular parasite is very prolific, each fly depositing hundreds of living maggots to attack the beetle grubs. These maggots are so small that they can hardly be seen with the naked eye. They are perfectly harmless to everything but a beetle grub.

Experiments have been going on with the Prosena for a number of years, and the entomologists are convinced that this one should prove a big aid in controlling the spread of the beetle.

INVITES "LINDY"

Sea-Girt Hopes To Entertain Lone Eagle August 4

If plans now in the making, go through, New Jersey will get another sight of Colonel Lindbergh—when Jerseymen can look at him on the level instead of gazing up at him a mile in the air, as he sped across the state on his way somewhere else. The first tenative move has been made to have the much feted Lindy come to Sea Girt on August 4, during the National Guard encampment, where he is to be presented with a Distinguished Service medal, with Governor Moore pining the decoration on the already medal-covered chest of the young aviator-hero.

The decoration will be somewhat similar to that authorized under the act of 1924 and under which Brigadier General Bird W. Spencer was recently decorated for meritorious service in the New Jersey National Guard.

D'AUTRECHY—McELAINE

Last Wednesday, June 22, at nine o'clock, the Sacred Heart Church, Riverton, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when Miss Anna McElaine, daughter of William McElaine, of Philadelphia, became the bride of Joseph D'Autrechy, son of Mrs. Helen D'Autrechy, of 11 New Jersey avenue, Palmyra. The Rev. Joseph Rigney performed the ceremonies.

The attendants were the bride's brother, William Leon McElaine, a student at St. Charles Seminary, Overbrook, Pa., and the bridegroom's sister, Miss Jeanette D'Autrechy. The flower girl was Miss Margaret Drier, of Palmyra. The bridegroom's nephew, James D'Autrechy, of Beverly, was train bearer, while Joseph Ryan and another student at the Cornwell Seminary assisted at the mass.

The bride wore a white crepe dress and carried a bridal bouquet of sweet peas and roses. The bridesmaid was attired in blue satin trimmed with gold, wore a yellow trimmed hat and carried yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was held at the bridegroom's home on New Jersey avenue, after which the happy couple left for Washington. At present they are staying at 9 Bergen avenue and River Road, Cramer Hill.

CAR HOME IS WHERE THE OWNER LIVES

"When a man buys a car he ought to consider that it has to live in the same town with its owner," says Frederick E. Rein, of the Rein Motor Company. "The car must depend upon local facilities for operation and maintenance, and the owner must depend upon local responsibility for satisfaction in ownership. It is a pretty well accepted fact among motorists today that no car is better than the dealer who sells it, because the owner and the car must both look to the local dealer for cooperation, responsibility and service.

God gave man an upright countenance to survey the heavens, and to look upward to the stars.—Ovid.

What "Aged 6 Months" means to you!

It means that the Clicquot Club Ginger Ale, produced by the Clicquot Club Company, and which has been America's finest ginger ale for forty years, is prepared with a care which insures absolute purity—and that in addition it is "aged" for six months after it is made, giving it that distinctive mellowness which is found only in Clicquot products.

If you have not been using Clicquot, try a bottle and note the difference.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor

The attention of all Lutherans, young and old, is directed to the big rally tonight of the young people of our district Luther League. The speaking will be very short. The music will be very good. The fun will be very great.

The program is of three parts, the short devotional service starting at eight o'clock this Thursday evening, June 30th; the business session following that; and the big social hour with an excellently prepared program of entertainment—something different. The "last stanza" will be refreshments. As we shall have so many visitors with us, you will have a great opportunity to learn what others are doing in their churches and to make new acquaintances.

The program for the picnic on July 9th at Wissinoming Park, Philadelphia, is almost completed. The committee in charge has decided to have a boys' baseball game. (So, boys, dust off your gloves and get your bats shined up!) a baseball game between the married men and single men (provided some of the stars on the single men's team can stay single that long), balloon races for boys and girls, and many other kinds of contests, most of them quite new. Prizes galore! and for young and old! How many prizes can you win?

In order that you might not be bothered with packing baskets and worrying with them at the picnic, but may go free to enjoy yourself to the utmost, an organization of the women of the Sunday School have volunteered to furnish the meals at a cost lower than any could be packed for—a 25-cent ticket will give a child two meals, while the tickets for the adults will be 50 cents. It is felt a much better time may be had under this arrangement of all eating as one family. Further details of the picnic will be given later.

Regular services of worship next Sunday morning and evening, with Sunday School in the morning at ten o'clock, followed by the service of divine worship at 11.15, and vesper services at 7.45 in the evening. There will be no Luther League meetings during the summer months.

Holy Communion will be observed both morning and evening on July 10th, with short preparatory services preceding the communion administration.

CHARGE DISCRIMINATION

Complaint that the Penn-Jersey buses are discriminating against Merchantville has reached Merchantville Borough Council, and the clerk, at last week's meeting, was instructed to investigate. It is charged that signs are changed in Philadelphia to read "Moorestown or Maple Shade" during the rush hours and no buses serve Merchantville. Those carrying the names of towns further east refusing to take other passengers or stop in Merchantville. It is further charged that the practice is for the purpose of carrying busloads for higher fares.

TURN ON ELECTRICITY

One of the greatest boons to Long Beach resorts is the extension of service to the island by the Atlantic City Electric Company. Poles have been erected and wires strung through Surf City and current is now available. New rates soon to become effective it is promised, will make it possible to cook with electricity at less cost than with oil stoves.

Moore May Attend Boulevard Opening

Dinner at Mohican Club and Parade, Features of Event; Edge Accepts

Governor Moore may help Pensauken township celebrate the opening of Crescent Boulevard, July 1. Influences are at work which it is hoped will result in his acceptance of the invitation.

Even without the Governor the celebration is going to be something to be remembered and a proper recognition of the great mark of progress in this section of New Jersey, of which Pensauken is an important unit.

Announcement was made last week by Robert V. Peabody, clerk of Pensauken township, appointed to act with the township engineers in preparing for the event, of a program of which most of the details have been completed.

A dinner of prominent personages interested in the new boulevard will precede the actual opening. The dinner will be held at the Mohican Club on the Delaware in Pensauken Township. The guests will include Governor Moore, if he accepts; Senator Walter Edge, who has accepted; members of the State Highway Commission and their leading engineers; members of the present and former Commissions of Camden; and their city planner; officials of municipalities through which the boulevard extends, the local officials and other persons of prominence.

At the dinner a number of addresses will be heard, all of course, on the boulevard.

A parade of motor vehicles will traverse the length of the boulevard with much blowing of horns and other appropriate noises. The buildings along the new highway will be decorated and as much color given to the affair as is possible, considering it is mostly through open land. Local fire apparatus will take part in the procession and add to its interest.

In the parade will be a number of floats telling of local industries, and others probably more impressive will be entered by Sears, Roebuck Company, the Victor Talking Machine Company and the highway contractors.

At the club house of the Pensauken Township Republican League there will be a public gathering at 7.30 p. m. It will be necessary to hold the ceremonies there on the lawn to accommodate the crowd, and such addresses as will be made, will be heard from speakers on the porch of the clubhouse.

BOY DROWNS

Lad on Church Picnic Loses Life at Cedar Lakes

One of Burlington county's first drowning accidents of the season took place at Eayrestown on Thursday afternoon of last week, when Edward Cook, fifteen years old, son of William Cook, of East Burlington, slipped into the water from the diving board and never came up.

Young Cook was picnicking at Cedar Lake for the day with the Union Street Methodist Sunday school, of Burlington, and two of his sisters were in the party when the drowning took place.

Friends of the boy immediately started diving for him but without avail and in about fifteen minutes grappling irons were procured and a few minutes later the body was located and brought to the surface.

Young Cook had eaten a hearty lunch and as he had finished his meal just a few moments before he donned his bathing suit, it is thought he was attacked by acute indigestion, causing him to fall into the water.

Coroner Belton, of Moorestown, viewed the body and later it was removed to the morgue of William W. Slack & Sons in Burlington.

The Cooks buried a daughter a few weeks ago, and the mother is seriously ill at her home.

CARD OF APPRECIATION

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY

To Emilie Didden and William Didden, her husband:

By virtue of an Order of the Court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Christine J. Koehler is complainant and Florence C. Smith, also known as Florence K. Smith, and others are defendants, you are required to appear and answer the bill of said complainant on or before the 23rd day of August, next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to partition certain lands and premises in the Borough of Riverton, in the County of Burlington and State of New Jersey, of which one Otto Koehler died seized, and you Emilie Didden are made defendant because you are one of the tenants in common therein and you William Didden are made defendant because you have some inchoate right of curtesy or other interest in said lands and premises.

ORDINANCE

An Ordinance providing for the increase of the width of the roadway of that section of Howard street between Main Street and Fifth street, from twenty-eight feet to twenty-nine feet seven and one-half inches, by moving the curb on the easterly side of said section of Howard street the distance of one foot, seven and one-half inches toward the property line, thereby reducing the width of the sidewalk on the easterly side of said section of Howard street from sixteen feet to fourteen feet, four and one-half inches.

BE IT ORDAINED, by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton:

1. That the roadway of that section of Howard street between Main street and Fifth street be increased from its present width of twenty-eight feet to twenty-nine feet, seven and one-half inches, by moving the curb on the easterly side of said section of Howard street the distance of one foot, seven and one-half inches toward the property line, thereby reducing the width of the sidewalk on the easterly side of said section of Howard street from sixteen feet to fourteen feet, four and one-half inches.

2. That in all cases where curbs have heretofore been constructed on the easterly side of said section of Howard street, on a line sixteen feet from the property line, said improvements shall be made as a general improvement, to be paid for by general taxation.

3. All acts and parts of acts in so far as they are inconsistent with the provisions hereof are hereby repealed and this act shall take effect immediately.

NOTICE is hereby given that the foregoing ordinance was introduced at a regular meeting of Council of the Borough of Riverton held on the 9th day of June, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, and that at a regular meeting to be held in the Council Chamber of the Borough of Riverton, on the fourteenth day of July, nineteen hundred and twenty-seven, at the hour of eight o'clock in the evening, Daylight Saving Time, the said Council will consider the final passage of said Ordinance.

By Order of the Council.

BROMLEY—OLSEN

A very pretty but quiet wedding was performed by the Rev. Mr. Stuart, pastor of St. Johns by-the-Sea Episcopal Church, at Atlantic City, Saturday, June 18, at 2.30, when Miss Gladys Rebecca Olson, of Jenkintown, Pa., became the bride of Thomas R. Bromley, civil engineer, of Palmyra. Mrs. Bromley was formerly a teacher in the Abington, Pa., High School. She was given in marriage by Ray L. Olson, her brother, of Washington.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Develon, of Philadelphia, and Lincoln Roden, of Palmyra.

EXTEND BRANT BEACH WATER MAINS

First of the water mains on lateral streets at Brant Beach are being laid by the Long Beach Water Company and running water already is or soon will be available in all new homes on the tract. The big service main was laid the length of Bay avenue last winter. New wells supply the resort with fine artesian water.

Three New Series Offered by Nash

Lower and More Sweeping Body Lines and Brilliant Color Combinations

Three entirely new series of cars including 21 models on four different chassis lengths are announced today by The Nash Motors Company.

The new series will be known as the Advanced Six, the Special Six and the Standard Six and despite a wide array of costly improvements these cars are also featuring new lower prices, the reductions ranging as high as $195.00.

A new radiator design, lower and more sweeping body lines and a brilliant array of new color combinations make these new models without question the most beautiful ever produced by Nash, and the cars fully justify reports which have been current for the past week that Nash would introduce an array of cars which would command nationwide praise.

Important mechanical refinements and improvements are also announced at this time, keeping pace with the progress which has been made in increasing the beauty of the cars' appearance. Outstanding among these are the introduction of new springs of a secret alloy steel which is said to increase riding comfort in amazing degree.

New Body Lines

The new body lines are lower and more sweeping than ever before and the wheels are smaller, giving an additional appearance of lowness to the cars although interior roominess has not been sacrificed in the smallest degree.

Matching the beauty of line is the new array of color combinations which Nash has adopted for these cars. Many striking new harmonies are used, giving these cars a brilliance of appearance which is unexcelled in their fields.

The radiator design of the Standard Six causes this series, now to posses a beauty of appearance which not long ago was confined entirely to cars costing two or three times as much.

The size of the motor in the Standard Six has been increased, giving this car a degree of performance ability which, according to Nash officials, is entirely new in this price field.

In addition to increasing the size of the motor, the size of the crankshaft has also been made larger to achieve greater motor smoothness. The crankshaft will, of course, continue to be of the 7-bearing type which has made Nash smoothness famous.

Secret Alloy Steel

The new springs of secret alloy steel which Nash now introduces will be used on the Standard Six as well as on the Special Six and the Advanced Six for increased riding comfort. And another contribution in this respect is the use of shock absorbers at the front as standard equipment.

The Standard Six motor is now insulated from the frame at all points of contact with rubber, providing a quicker operation and saving the motor from road shocks.

Other important refinements are the carburetor heat control valve on the instrument board, a new type of head lamp, a new 4-blade fan, a new stop light switch, a heavier oil pump cover plate, new parking lights, new instrument panel indirectly lighted, new remote control door locks, a new light control on the steering wheel and new body hardware of special Nash design.

The Advanced Six

As far as the Advanced Six series is concerned, the most important change is, of course, the adoption of new lower body lines, new body colors and a deeper radiator. A number of important refinements in the interior and under the hood have also been made, however. The clutch, flywheel and crankshaft are now balanced as a unit on a highly sensitive machine for increased smoothness in operation. Body quietness is increased by the use of a fender welt consisting of a contoured piece of heavy fabric-covered felt between the body and the fenders of the car. Springs are of the new secret process alloy steel type for increased riding comfort.

Other refinements are: complete encasing of battery and tool boxes, preventing entry of dust or water; new friction pads on front brake support plates, preventing rattles; new carburetor heat control valve; new heat indicator on the instrument panel; new reinforcement of the frame for rigidity; new heavier and longer parking brake lever; new nickel steering column; new improved horn and new type of foot accelerator.

New and more beautiful body hardware for the interior is also adopted throughout the Advanced Six series to match the beauty of the new exterior colors and new upholstery.

The improvements which have made in the Special Six series are very similar to those which have been made on the Advanced Six. The body lines are lower and more sweeping and the wheels are smaller. New alloy steel springs have also been adopted.

And the other refinements including balancing of the clutch, flywheel and crankshaft, the fender welt, the nickel steering column, the new accelerator, etc., are now a part of all Special Six models.

PROFITABLE INVESTMENT

According to the Trenton Times-advertiser, the Mercer County Board of Freeholders has found the Mercer County Farm a good investment. After it had been demonstrated to their satisfaction that the County Farm could be made more than self-sustaining, through good business management, the Mercer Freeholders increased the capacity of the stone crushing plant. Today the output of the county's stone crusher is approximately 20,000 tons annually, and that at a cost per ton, substantially less than the price that would have to be paid to private concerns. Distribution of the stone is based on the relative amount of taxes paid by the several municipalities, the only direct cost to the latter being the freight or cartage charges.

Mercer's experience offers convincing argument in favor of Sheriff Haines' humane proposal that Burlington county establish its own workhouse or stone crushing plant at the county farm. It can be made profitable to the taxpayers and at the same time, employ in healthful occupation prisoners who are now maintained in enforced idleness in the county jail.Exchange.

ACTIVITIES OF THE STATE POLICE UNIT

Investigations, Raids and Patrol Work Furnish Troopers With Plenty of Work

Troopers Brown, Doyle, Leon and Horn, stationed at Columbus barracks, which is in charge of Sergeant Haussling, have had their work cut out for them the past week, for with investigating fires, conducting raids, patrolling the roads for motor law violators and looking into sundry minor complaints their days and nights both have been well employed.

Trooper Doyle found Budd Sooy, of Juliustown, driving with fictitious license plates and he was fined $25 and costs by Recorder Rawley, at New Egypt.

Trooper Leon, arrested Leland Jones, of Sharon, on a serious charge preferred by Marie Sager, of Chesterfield. He could not post a $1,000 bond, so he was sent to the county jail by Justice Pointsett, of Columbus.

Last week it was reported to the troopers that a spotted gray horse, the property of Pasquale Ruzzute, living on the back road from Brown's Mills to Wrightstown, had been stolen, but later the animal was found dead in a marsh in the rear of the owner's farm. It evidently had been chased there by dogs.

In a collision between a car driven by Alvin Edgar, of New Egypt, and a truck belonging to Joseph L. Haines, of Bordentown, the truck was thrown against a Ford sedan belonging to George Hartshorn, of New Egypt, and all three vehicles were damaged. Edgar, seemingly being under the influence of liquor, Trooper Leon placed him under arrest and took him to the office of a New Egypt doctor for examination but it is said the doctor refused to examine him. Later, a charge of reckless driving was preferred against Edgar by the trooper and Recorder Rawley fined him $15 and costs. The defendant is a member of the Coast Guard and was home on a leave of absence.

Troopers Doyle and Horn arrested Henry Horner, of New Egypt, with a small quantity of liquor in his Ford car, and he was held under $500 bail on a charge of transporting liquor, and also under $500 for possesson of liquor. His car was released under $500 bond.

BUYS MOUNT HOLLY HOME

The fine residence of Horace B. Conrow, on Madison avenue, was purchased last week by W. A. Jones, of the Mount Holly Garage. Mr. and Mrs. Jones have been lifetime residents of Lumberton and are quartered for the summer in a cottage at Seaside Park. It is understood that upon their return in the fall they will move to Mount Holly and reside in their new purchase.

A Clean Record

"A woman will go through a lot for a man when she marries him."

"Yes, the one I married went through my trousers, my bank account, and a divorce suit."

Life Sketch of Arthur H. Sapp, New President of Rotary International

When Arthur Sapp of Huntington, Ind., who was chosen president of Rotary International at the annual convention of the organization, held at Ostend, Belgium, this month, isn't in court trying a law suit, it is a fairly reasonable assumption that he is trying to convince some trade association to adopt a code of ethical business practices. Mr. Sapp got into the habit of inducing business men to standardize their practice and go on record as to what should and should not be considered ethical when he was chairman of Rotary's Business Methods committee in 1924.

He took the job seriously and, filling suit-case with facts and figures and a hand-bag with clothing, started out in search of trade associations. He found them in Mexico, Canada and the United States. He traveled from coast to coast, for the privilege of appearing before a trade convention and explaining his idea of ethical business methods. Before they heard him, many of the trade associations were willing to get along without even a talk on business ethics, but before the end of the year, half a hundred trade bodies and professional associations had adopted codes of standard practice.

Standard Codes Now

He talked with lawyers, doctors, manufacturers, retailers, jobbers and wholesalers. As a result of his work and his successor's in the chairmanship of this committee, a majority of the leading business and professional bodies have now started codes of ethical practice.

As a result of the record he established as Chairman of the Business Methods Committee, Mr. Sapp was named the first vice president of Rotary International at the Cleveland convention in 1925 and the following year he took over the chairmanship of the Constitution and By-Laws committee.

Mr. Sapp was born in Ravenna, Ohio, and spent his childhood and early manhood on his father's farm. He graduated from the Ravenna High School in 1903 and worked his way through Ohio Wesleyan University, from which he graduated with a degree of A. B. in 1907.

In order to become a lawyer, Mr. Sapp explains, it was necessary for him to learn tree surgery and boarding house management. He was a member of the first gang of tree surgeons which operated in this country. In this way, and by managing a boarding house, he acquired enough money to complete his education.

Taught in High School

After graduating from college, he taught Latin in the high school of Chattanooga, Tenn., and later engaged in educational work in Kansas City, Mo., and Huntingdon, Ind. He obtained his legal education from the University of Chicago Law School and at the Indiana Law School. He was graduated from the latter institution in 1912.

He has practiced law in Huntington since his graduation. Three Times the voters of his judicial district elected him prosecuting attorney.

Mr. Sapp is a trustee of Evansville College and has been prominently associated with DePauw and Ohio Wesleyan University. He is a member of the Board of Directors of the National Laymans Missionary Movement.

He has served as a director of the Y. M. C. A. in his home city and is a member and has taken a prominent part in the local and state and American bar associations.

Mr. Sapp joined the Huntington Rotary Club in 1917. He served successfully as secretary, president and a member of the board of directors of his club. He has also served Rotary International as governor of the 20th Rotary district which comprises the state of Indiana.

The Judge's Josh

Group Conviction

District Attorney—"What possible excuse did you fellows have for acquitting that murderer?"

Juryman—"Insanity."

District Attorney—"What! The whole twelve of you?"

Couldn't Go There

"Did you take her home after the show?"

"No, my folks were home."

Obliging

Manager—"Why did you strike this young lady?"

Waiter—"Well, she asked me to fetch her a wrap. And all I done wuz to fetch her a good one over the right eye."

Confident Miss

"Did you ever go home from an automobile ride with a college boy?"

"Yes, I'm no snob."

Frosh—"Do you notice any improvement, Professor, since last week?"

Professor—"Yes, now that you call my attention to it, I think your hair is parted."

Fifty-Fifty Grandpop

Old Gent—"When I was a lad I didn't think anything of chopping up a woodshed full of logs."

Youngster—"Well, I don't think so much about it, either."

At the Box Office

"Well, I finally got into the movies."

"You really did! And how?"

"Oh, I paid the usual fifty cents."

A Natural

"And how do you like school?" asked the kind old lady.

"Closed,' answered the little lad.

HOLLY WINNERS

Committeemen Mayer and Walters Are Re-nominated

There were two contests in the primary election in Mount Holly, but they did not stir up any great enthusiam.

Two township committeemen were to be nominated and the voters chose Albert G. Mayer and Albert B. Wallace, both committeemen at this time. They were opposed by Christian J. Krayer, but got substantial majorities over him. Mr. Walters was the high man.

For tax collector Albert C. Worrell was opposed by Loren M. Fryer. Mr. Fryer did not conduct a very extensive campaign and Mr. Worrell was an easy winner.

The only other person's name appearing on the local ticket was Joseph C. Kingdon, who was a candidate for re-election is justice of the peace. Nobody thought it worth while to bother with opposing to him.

VERY SMALL VOTE

Merchantville had little interest in the primary election unless more than half of the Democratic votes being cast in one district could be accepted as interest. The borough has 1700 registered voters of which 222 Republicans cast ballots with 50 Democrats.

Few Cases Before the County Court

Judge Slaughter's Time Consumed in Consideration of Many Minor Matters

Chief among the business transacted at the Court House at Mount Holly last Thursday was the reconsideration of the sentences of Fred Ghaul, of Burlington, indicted on statutory charges, and Lizzie Champion, of Florence, similarly charged.

Some months ago Ghaul and the Champion woman were arrested for keeping a disorderly house in Burlington, but later this charge was dropped after both had pleaded guilty to the statutory charges, and they were each sentenced to six months in the county jail.

Time has hung heavily on their hands since their incarceration on March 23, and through their counsel, Stanley K. Heilbron, they asked Judge Slaughter to reconsider the sentences, particularly as they both claimed they had learned their lesson and said that if permitted to go they would sin no more.

The Court reluctantly acceded to the requests but placed both on probation upon the woman's promise to go back to her mother's home in Florence, and upon Ghaul's agreeing to keep away from her forever and anon.

They will have costs of $30 each to pay within six months and will be probationers for the next two years.

Fred and Bertha Mella, who claim to be Portugese, came in on a waiver and pleaded not guilty to keeping a disorderly house in Burlington.

Neighbors testified that the place was noisy, that drunken men were seen about the place, and that the language used there was such that it was unbearable now that it has become warm and the neighbors like to sit out on their front stoops.

Naturally, the defendants denied everything that the witnesses said, but the Court decided that Mrs. Malla was guilty, but discharged her husband.

Mrs. Malla was then fined $100.

Malla's freedom was short lived, however, for he was immediately arrested on another charge, it having been brought out that the man and woman had lived together for eight years as man and wife without having gone to the trouble of getting legally married.

He succeeded in getting bail.

HOTEL IS RAIDED

Scene of Attempted Suicide Near Medford Visited by Carabine

The Cross Roads Hotel near Medford, where Vera Loveland, a white waitress attempted suicide recently, was raided last week as a disorderly house by County Detective Arthur Carabine.

William M. Duers, colored, alleged proprietor, was held under $500 bail on a charge of maintaining a disorderly house by Justice of the Peace Joseph Kingdon, of Mount Holly.

The Loveland girl attempted suicide after William Schofield, a friend, was successful in his effort to die in Camden.

The officers have been watching the place for some time with a certain feeling that there was something wrong going on inside but their check-up did not satisfy them that they could substantiate a charge until after some Saturday night performances.

Carabine got the hotel register and it bears some interesting registrations. One couple registered is "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of Ong's Hat." This amused the officers dealing with the case when they knew that Ong's Hat can boast of nothing more than mosquitoes in the form of habitation. It is a designing point down in the pines and can lay claim to no greater prominence.

NEW CALENDAR

A young man, Ralph Conner Dahlene Britton, of Moorestown, N. J., has worked for many years on a calendar to replace the one now in use. His idea is to have all months alike in the number of days.

In the calendar arranged by Mr. Britton there are twelve months which are given names corresponding with the signs of the Zodiac.

January, or rather the first month being named Cancer, then Leon, Virgin, Liber, Scorpy, Sagitary, Capricorn, Aquary, Pice, Ary, Taur and Gemin.

The week of seven days is not used, the decade, ten days, being used instead, the days of the decade not being named, but being numbered.

Holidays occur every five days throughout the year, and all other days are business days.

Under this system one calendar fits every year with the exception of the addition of a Leap Year Day. Mr. Britton starts his time from the Julian date of July 3, 777 B. C., and consequently this year would be 2703-04.

Mr. Britton says he knows full well that such a radical change can not come about suddenly, but that he believes his modest effort may at some later period help in the formation of a calendar system somewhat simpler than the one now in use.—The Philadelphia Sunday Inquirer.

VACATION

The vacation season is again here, and many people are leaving their homes, offices, or workshops to seek rest or recreation at the mountains, seaside, and other summer resorts. This means that many postal patrons will change their post office addresses, and in order that their mail may reach them with certainty and promptitude it is necessary that it be properly addressed.

Much annoyance, inconvenience, or disappointment results from the failure of vacationists to advise their friends and others, including the postmaster, as to their correct post office addresses while temporarily absent from their regular addresses.

It is important, that persons temporarily leaving their homes for a vacation period, give a proper, specific, and complete post office address in order that their mail may be promptly transmitted or forwarded and thus add to the pleasure of their vacation a goodly portion of the joy which results from receiving letters from friends and relatives at home.

The Postmaster.

BRIDGE APPROACH APPROVED

Philadelphia's Council's Committee on Public Works last week approved three measures providing necessary facilities for the approach to the proposed $3,000,000 Tacony-Palmyra drawbridge over the Delaware river.

The measures authorize the construction of a supplemental bridge and the revision of lines and grades and opening of streets in the vicinity of the approach. It is understood a start will be made on construction of the bridge over the river soon after passage of the necessary legislation by Council.

TO OBSERVE FOURTH

Celebrations at Delaware Gardens, Pensauken and Hillcrest

If Merchantville has made no plans for a formal celebration of Independence Day, its neighbors will provide entertainment sufficient for all. Delaware Gardens, Pensauken and Hillcrest have all prepared programs that will be safe and sane and leave few hours for any one to wonder what to do next.

The Pensauken Improvement Association will give the community and countryside the usual treat of a fine purotechnic display on the night of the Fourth. That will be but part of a full day's program being arranged by the association.

The celebration will start Sunday evening with patriotic religious service, held on the grounds of the community house. If the weather is not clear, the service will be held in the auditorium.

The usual salute will be fired at 5.30 on the morning of the "Fourth" when a truck will make a tour of the town arousing members of the committees. At 10.30 there will be the morning baseball game between the Pensauken team and some live rival. At 1.30 the program of sports will precede another baseball game.

A musical program will precede the fireworks at the community Park, and dancing in Community Hall will follow.

MOONEY RE-NOMINATED IN BURLINGTON PRIMARY

Mayor Thomas S. Mooney won the three-cornered race for the Republican Mayorality nomination in Burlington. The Mayor held a clear lead over over a thousand over Tryon, his nearest rival, with Bosshard coming in a poor third. The vote in the ten voting districts was, Mooney, 2,086; Tryon, 1,065, Bosshard, 223.

MOONEY'S SUCCESSOR

Mayor Thomas S. Mooney, of Burlington Lodge, No. 996, B. P. O. Elks last week completed his term as president of the New Jersey State Elks' Association at the annual convention of the organization in Long Branch, turning the gavel over to Henry A. Guenther, past exalted ruler of Newark.

Date Fixed for Bridge Hearing

Application for Burlington-Bristol Span Before War Department July 22

Announcement has been made of C. F. Boggs, one of the engineering corps of the United States War department, that a hearing on the application to build a bridge between Burlington and Bristol will take place in the assembly room of the Bourse Building, Philadelphia, on Friday, July 22, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

The application to build the bridge was signed by Joseph R. Cheeseman, Burlington, and Clifford R. Anderson, mayor of Bristol. There already has been some favorable action on the part of the Senate and the House of Representatives in Washington.

The hearing in the Bourse Building will have to do with the approval of the plans which call for a bridge from the foot of St. Mary street, Burlington, to the foot of Market street, Bristol, going by the way of Burlington Island.

The bridge as proposed will have five spans between the foot of St. Mary street and Burlington Island. The centre span will be a two-leaf bascule bridge, which will give a clearance between the fenders of one hundred feet. There will be a minimum clear height above water of fifteen feet, increasing to twenty-two feet at the centre of the span.

Between Burlington Island and Market street, Bristol, there will be three spans in the river, the centre one to be a vertice lift bridge with a clear space between the fenders of three hundred feet. The clear height above water will be thirty-five feet. With the bridge open the mean height above high water will be one hundred and thirty-five feet.

Plans showing the location of the bridge, the type of construction and the clearance proposed may be seen at the office of engineer Boggs, Schaff Building, 1505 Race street, Philadelphia.

POSTER CONTEST

Cinnaminson and Riverside Pupils Win Prizes

The two $5.00 prizes offered by the Burlington County Tuberculosis League for the best Health poster presented for exhibition at the recent Conference of the New Jersey Tuberculosis Workers were awarded by judges to a pupil of the Riverside school in the seventh grade and to a pupil of the Cinnaminson school in the third grade.

The posters were awarded for originality and execution. The judges were Mary Carter Nelson, Field Nurse of New Jersey Tuberculosis League; and J. L. Montgomery, Ex-Secretary of Monmouth County Tuberculosis League, and J. L. Lawrence, Ex-Secretary of Union County Tuberculosis League.

Aquatic Events for Celebration

Champion Swimming and Diving Girls in Exhibition at Mount Holly, July 13

Another big attraction which has just been announced is coming to Mount Holly the week of the firemen's celebration, and that will be the diving and swimming girls who attracted more than 3,000 people to the Woolman Lakes last summer.

The date has been fixed for Wednesday night, July 13, and the exhibition will take place at the Lakes about 6.30, or just previous to the start of the big fraternal parade.

Among the swimming and diving stars who will appear will be Miss Margaret Ravior, Middle Atlantic free style and back stroke champion, holding records for from 100 to 880 yards. The young woman was seen at Mount Holly last summer and it is said she is in a strong position to represent the United States at the Olympic races in Scotland this year.

Miss Marie Hillegass, former champion of the low board diving and present champion of the Middle Atlantic high board, and second to the present national champion of the high board dive, will also be there in swimming and diving feats.

Miss Helen Cotter, a fancy diver; Miss Helen Zweir, runner up and in second place to Miss Ravior; Miss Julia Wick and Miss Irene Jones, both expert swimmers and divers, will be present, as will a host of others.

The meet has been sanctioned by the Middle Atlantic Amateur Union and competent officials representing the Union will be present to referee all contests.

The admission will be free and all lovers of swimming and diving will no doubt be present to witness the wonderful ability of the young women.

Nat Reiss' Monster Carnival Company is due to arrive early on Monday morning, July 11, and all the many attractions will be in motion on the same night.

Maple Shade Twice Victorious Over Merchantville

Maple Shade continued its fast pace over the weekend when Merchantville Gardens succumbed twice the Saturday figures being 8 to 4 while Sunday's score was 9 to 8.

Jolles hurled the first game for the Feliner crew, while "Rube" McAllister worked Sunday. Although nicked for ten hits, McAllister fanned 15 batsmen. Errors helped the losers in their scoring.

IT IS LOVE

'Tis love that makes the world so bright,
And takes away life's care,
It plants the blooming roses, too,
On cheeks, to make the fair
And bids the luster in the eye
To shine with wondrous light,
And drives the coldness from the heart.
To warm it with delight.

It clothes the criticising tongue
With words of mercy, sweet,
And little faults will be unseen
When loving hearts shall meet.
The whole world, brighter, seems to grow
When love, appearing, speaks,
And love warmed hearts find peace and rest,
For which mankind e'er seeks.

Plan for Golf Club Announced

Professional Men to Establish Residential Colony in Chester Township

Plans for a modern country club and residential colony in Maple Shade Gardens were revealed by Dr. Louis Jacobs, of Philadelphia, at the annual outing of the Professional Club of Philadelphia held on the Haines farm, Fellowship road, this week.

The plans include a golf course, artificial lakes, clubhouse, tennis courts and dance pavilion besides 1,000 homesites, it was stated. Approximately 175 acres have been acquired by officers of the club to promote the development.

The picnic was held on the site of the new colony and word of its development was received with enthusiasm by the club members. More than 500 are members of the club at this time and a drive will be made to increase the membership to 1,000, with each member a property owner.

Charles Meyers, chairman of the Chester Township Committee, delivered the welcoming address at the outing and promised the members the cooperation of the township committee in furthering their plans.

The proposed colony is located on Fellowship road close to King's Highway and can be reached from Cedar avenue. Present buildings on the tract would be renovated to meet the plans of the committee, and new buildings would be erected where advisable.

Several members of the club have announced plans to start building next spring and those behind the project stated that they anticipated no trouble in disposing of the entire tract this summer.

How Abstinence from Alcoholic Liquors Benefit Community

Prize Winning Essay, Written by Effie Bowen, of Delanco, Member of This Year's Graduating Class of Moorestown High School

The following essay, written by Miss Effie Bowen, of Delanco, won the $10 prize offered to the graduating class of Moorestown High School by the Moorestown Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

Carved in the marble of the Nebraska State capitol building are two sentences—"The salvation of the state is the watchfulness of the citizens," and "Political society exists for the sake of noble living."

Those indifferent to the welfare of our country insist that the enforcement of the Prohibition amendment is jeopardizing the right of personal liberty of the men and women of our country.

What is "prohibition" anyway? A "prohibition" law applied to the liquor traffic is not an end or an aim. It is a tool for removing a traffic whose results are an obstruction to individual, social, industrial and national life. Henry Ward Beecher once said, "Laws are not masters, but servants; and he rules them who obeys them."

Was Not Put Over

Some of the boys who went to France to fight for America's flag have said that the Eighteenth Amendment was 'put over' on them!

As a matter of fact, the Congress which proposed this was elected, with the amendment as the main issue, five months before the United States entered the war. When the United States entered the war, twenty-six states had voted "dry," and over eighty-five per cent. of our area, inhabited by more than sixty million people, was "dry" territory. No other amendment was so overwhelmingly approved by state legislatures. No amendment was ever approved in principle, and put in operation by so many towns, cities, counties and states prior to its adoption by the Federal government. In a speech made by Senator Summers at Washington, he said, "After seventy-five years of active agitation, education and organization, the Eighteenth Amendment was enacted. We slipped up on the blind side of nobody."

The liquor traffic may have been possible in the agricultural world in the age of the horse plow and the mule teamster; but it is not possible in the age of the tractor and the auto truck. In these days of modern machinery, we cannot afford to use those whose intellect is dulled by liquor. The operator must be keenly alive to the whole system of working, and not lose a minute. He may lose his hand, arm, or even his life by not working in time with the machine. No man whose brain is not functioning properly can keep in time with these perfectly timed, rapidly working machines. When we realize how deep-rooted the demands of modern industry are, it is then we see the absolute impossibility of mechanical advancement going hand in hand with alcoholism. John Barleycorn has been caught in the fast revolving machinery of American industry. There is no hope for him.

Teach The Child

"If you would write anything into the life of the nation, you must write it into the minds of the children." If told in the right way, children could be a big force in solving this problem of prohibition. The Greatest Teacher of All said, "And a little child shall lead them." Appeal to the children and you will get their parents. You probably also will get the children for your faithful followers. Then, too, the children of today are the rulers of tomorrow.

The "wet" propagandists are spreading their news far and wide over this fair land of ours. Even if we, as individuals cannot make our personal influence felt 'round the world, we can at least make it felt in our own community. Our duty seems plain. If we, even by our silence, have countenanced the breaking of law, the time has come for us to "about face" and to take our full share in trying to arouse public opinion to the necessity of observance of the law. We should not only abide by it ourselves, but permit no joking to pass our lips concerning its violation by others. This may be far from easy. We shall probably be called "wet-blankets" and "joy-killers;" but if we take our stand, and remember the ruling of Kipling, "Don't look too good or talk too wise," we need not be afraid of the results in the long run. We may never know how much good we do by going about in this way, but the little candle did not know how much good it had done. Others noticed, however, and said. "How far that little candle throws his beams. So shines a good deed in a naughty world."

Dr. John W. Elliott said, "Let the individual remember his part in bringing about prohibition, realize the weakness and the strength of the present position, and then highly resolve to carry on the splendid work until prohibition shall succeed in all sections, and temperance shall prevail."

Raising of Standard

It has been said that no nation rises higher than the average of its citizens. You and I are its citizens, and are taken into consideration when the average is made. If your standard is high and mine is high, this will raise, even if ever so little, the average standard. Then, if you and I influence others, their standards will be raised, and they in turn will influence others. This will continue indefinitely, because we will always find those with lower standards than our own; and if we look toward Christ, we can always find One whose standards are higher. Above all, keep your own self-control. Some one has said, "He who lacks self-control lacks one of life's greatest agencies, but he who possesses it holds the key to his own happiness and the happiness of others."

"Loyalty to self implies loyalty to country since we are every one responsible for the conduct of the government." "We, the people.... do ordain and establish this constitution of the United States of America." Shakespeare said, "To thine own self be true. Thou canst not then be false to any man."

One of America's greatest orators, Daniel Webster said, "Let our object be our country, our whole country and nothing but our country. And by the blessings of God, may that country itself become a vast and splendid monument, not of oppression and terror, but of wisdom, of peace, of liberty, upon which the world may gaze with admiration forever."

CAMP DIX GRAFT SUIT ABANDONED

Federal District Court Judge John Rellstab at Trenton last week ordered a discontinuance of the $6,500,000 suit brought by the government against the firm of Irwin & Leighton, Philadelphia contractors and builders of Camp Dix at Wrightstown. The motion for dismissal was made by Assistant United States District Attorney James S. Curp, prosecutor in the suit.

The dismissal of the suit, expected to bring about other discontinuances of suits of the same order, was prompted by the failure of the government to obtain judgment in similar suits against contractors who built Camp Funston and Camp Lee, other great war time concentration centers.

The government sued Irwin & Leighton on charges of fraud, alleging the firm was guilty of a long line of malpractice, including misappropriation of funds; overcharging; paying of excessive wages; failure to construct properly; employment of workmen without regard to their skill, allowing materials to be wasted, and selling quantities of goods to the government which were repurchased and resold.

"I would be true, for there are those who trust me,
I would be true, for there are those who care;
I would be strong, for there is much to suffer;
I would be brave, for there is much to dare;
I would be friend of all—the poor; the friendless,
I would be giving, and forget the gift.
I would be humble, for I know my weakness;
I would look up, and laugh, and love, and lift."

Moorestown Boys Wallop St. Joseph's

K. of C. Boys' Club Suffers First Loss of Season; Juniors Win from Palmyra

The first defeat of the season was handed to the young "horsehide chasers" of the St. Joseph's K. of C. Boys' Club last Thursday evening by a strong, well-trained team from the Moorestown Catholic Club.

Although the young "Caseys" played excellent baseball the boys from the Quaker village had things their own way through the nine innings and collected a total of thirteen hits.

Score:

Moorestown C. C.	7
St. Joseph's B. C.	1

Palmyra Juniors Defeated

Last Monday evening the local boys came back and were on the top of an 8-7 score at the expense of the Palmyra Juniors. The game was hard fought throughout and both teams played errorless ball. St. Joseph's boys bunched their hits in the sixth inning which enabled them to push four runs across the rubber, but a rally by the Juniors in the eighth made things look a little shaky for the winners.

Columbus Cadets Receive Uniforms

The arrival of the uniforms for the first unit of the Columbus Cadets has created quite a stir amongst the boys of the club and many applications for admission into the second unit has been received during the past week.

Mr. Pfaff promises to have the second unit organized as soon as the initial unit is placed under the guidance of one of the director's lieutenants.

At present the membership of the Boys' Club is 53, and as soon as any of these boys are eligible they will be transferred into the cadets.

DECISION RESERVED

Verdict of Medford Railroad Case Still Pending

The Medford and Marlton railroad case dealing with the question of abandoning service by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company came up before the public Utility Commission in Camden last week, and after the arguments had been heard and it was believed that all that could be said was on record the Commission announced that it would reserve decision. The people along the line of the road would be affected by the abandonment of service were representated by counsel and the railroad company had all the legal talent necessary to balance that kind of appearance. It has been a battle extending over a period of several weeks, with numerous adjournments so there could be no claim of partiality, and the final blows were delivered on Monday.

Representatives of the railroad company said the branch carried but 15,30 passengers in 1926, and has continued to operate at a decided loss. They claimed that 476,000 passengers stopped using the railroad branch and became bus patrons.

Representatives of the two towns, the Medford Chamber of Commerce and the La France Textile Company attempted to refute this testimony. They stated that in 1917 the railroad killed its freight businessby compelling the farmers to load milk on the trains themselves.

They declared that the railroads reduced its facilities, removing its stations and compelling patrons to wait for trains in the rain and other disagreeable weather.

The textile concern guaranteed the railroad an increase of $20,000 in its freight business. The company just established a large concern in Medford. It has repeatedly asserted that the branch could be made to pay if authorities really wanted to.

INJURED IN CRASH

Woman and Child Lacerated When Car Hits Parked Auto

A woman and a child were lacerated about the arms and faces when an auto, owned by Everett Dilsworth, 415 High street, Pensauken, in which they were riding, crashed into a parked Pennsylvania machine on Riverton Road, just within the Township limits, 10.30 Monday evening.

The Pennsylvania car, which suffered only slight damages, escaped shortly after the accident. The police however, have the number of the license tag and are investigating the ownership. The Pennsylvania machine was in total darkness, not showing a light of any description.

The front and fenders on the Dilsworth auto were considerably damaged. The injured woman and child were rushed to Dr. Nathan Thorne for treatment by Officer Ralph Marks, of the Moorestown police department.

ENGAGED

Penn-Jersey Line Extends its Service

Riverfront Towns Now Served by Total of 31 Buses

The extension of the Penn-Jersey bus line to Burlington from Philadelphia Sunday increased the bus service in the riverfront towns to an average of one bus every five minutes.

There are three bus lines now making the Burlington-Philadelphia run. Besides the Penn-Jersey, there is the McCloskey Line, of Beverly, and Harry McCloskey's line, an independent concern, also with headquarters in Beverly.

The McCloskey Bus line was first in the field, beginning operations more than a year ago. The addition of four new buses to this line makes a total of 18 red and green buses making the run.

The Penn-Jersey corporation bought out the Philburco Coach Company two weeks ago. The Philburco formerly ran from Riverside to Philadelphia, via the Camden bridge, and from Riverside to the Frankford "L," over the Tacony-Palmyra ferry.

Many persons look upon the extension of the Penn-Jersey line to Burlington as the first step in a bus war which will result in reduced fares along the riverfront. Managers of both the McCloskey and Penn-Jersey lines deny this is expected.

Harry McCloskey, the independent bus owner, operates one machine over the route. William L. Worth, majority stock holder of the McCloskey Bus Line says that the Penn-Jersey's green and yellow buses have not taken away any of the trade of the Beverly line.

The Penn-Jersey is operating twelve buses over the route. This makes a total of 31 buses in service along the riverfront. The Penn-Jersey is still operating the Coach Company's Riverside-Frankford "L" line.

A bad man is wretched amidst every earthly advantage; a good man—troubled on every side, yet not distressed; preplexed, but not in despair; persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed.—Plato.

BUILDING NEW HOMES

Contracts have been awarded for several new homes at Brant Beach. Contractors from inland cities are visioning the opportunities at this resort and an extensive building campaign is anticipated during the next few months. Several new homes will go on the upper section of the development which is now being graded and its streets gravelled.

THE "FRAILER" SEX

Not since women won the vote have they taken such an active part in politics in Burlington County as in the primary campaign which ended last week. One might have thought their husbands, fathers, and sons were rather interested in the struggle within the Republican family, with the Democratic neighbors throwing brick-bats now and then to help along the family row; but in some towns that I know of the women out-politicianed the men to a standstill.

All of which goes to prove what oft-times I have said, that the frailer sex, taken as a whole are better politicians and far more diplomatic than are the men.

They are tireless when once they start out to work; they have the courage of their convictions, whether right or wrong, and when they begin to "organize," the men had better watch out or they will find themselves voting just as the feminine politicians have asked them to, whether they feel that way about it or not.

During the recent campaign the women did wonders in the way of organizing and getting out the vote. They were not all on one side, by any means, but on whichever battle front they fought they did good and conscientious work and it was not the kind that many men gave—at so much per day.—Exchange.

FINE COMMUNITY CLUB

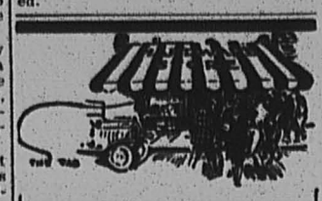

To provide a center for community social and civic activities Charles B. Durborow, president of the Ocean Realty Company has announced plans for making the administration building on the beach at Fourteenth street the headquarters for the new Surf City Club. This building has a fine, big room for dances and meetings. In an alcove is a great fireplace and across the wide front of the clubhouse is a splendid screened porch overlooking the strand and the tumbling surf. There are rest rooms for men and women.

Beach chairs and umbrellas are provided and there are bath houses adjacent to the club building. Under the club organization plans owners of property in the Ocean Realty Company development automatically will become charter members of the club and with their immediate families will be entitled to all of its privileges. A committee will decide on the dues and fees of non-resident members.
