Moorestown Plans Testimonial Dinner

Citizens to Stage Testimonial Affair for Retiring Director Next Tuesday

NO SUCCESSOR YET

Edward A. Meehling, chairman of the Moorestown Recreation Commission, Tuesday afternoon reported that the Commission has not as yet appointed a successor for Ian Forbes who has resigned as director of recreation to accept a similar position at Conshohocken, Pa. Mr. Forbes will take up his new work on July 15.

"Scouty," as the genial director is best known by the hundreds of friends in Moorestown, came here from Huntington, W. Va., Feb. 1, 1926. The Forbes family will move to Conshohocken on July 15.

Citizens of Moorestown will express their deep appreciation for the much good Mr. and Mrs. Forbes have contributed to this community at a testimonial dinner for the retiring director of recreation and his wife at the community house Tuesday evening, July 12.

The only anxiety felt by the committee in charge is that there will undoubtedly be many friends of this splendid couple who will be unable to attend, due to lack of accommodations.

There is a widespread interest in the affair. Deep regret in the loss of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes is strongly evidenced on all sides and many have already indicated that they wish to participate in the fitting farewell.

Everybody Cooperating

Hans Froelicher, Jr., chairman of the committee in charge of the testimonial dinner, says the event is backed by no particular group, but apparently by everyone. "It's a sort of a spontaneous combustion affair," says Mr. Froelicher. "Everybody favored some kind of a community-wide tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, and the plan of the citizens backing the dinner has met with hearty cooperation on all sides."

Both men and women of Moorestown are invited and will attend the dinner in large numbers. Senator Emmor Roberts, Jonathan W. Powell, William T. Walker, Mrs. Ethel Burr Dudley, J. Alfred LeConey and Roy D. Cole are to speak and the entertainment will include solos by H. Prescott Herr and selections on the marimba by Joseph Conway. Dr. Howard C. Curtis will be asked to lead the singing and Mrs. Emily French will assist with the musical program and be the accompanist. The Rotary quartet will probably be on the program, too.

Make Reservations Now

All reservations, which are $1.50 a plate, must be received by Henry H. Stiles, treasurer of the testimonial dinner committee, by Saturday, July 9. Owing to the great interest expressed in the event and the limited capacity of the Community House gymnasium, reservations will be entered strictly in accordance with the order in which they are received; therefore, it will be wise to communicate with Mr. Stiles immediately. Applications may also be made in person at Stiles' Pharmacy.

Invitations which have been mailed out by the committee say "The dinner is being arranged by a volunteer committee with the thought that many groups in Moorestown whose work has been made more possible and more worthwhile through the fine spirited help of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes, will want in some way to express their appreciation." The committee is:

Hans Froelicher, Jr., chairman; Henry H. Stiles, treasurer; William T. Walker, Clarence E. Worrell, Donald Donovan, J. Alfred LeConey, H. F. Stockwell, Jr., John G. Pettit and James J. Tomes.

JOHNSON—WILKINS

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the Medford Methodist Episcopal church Thursday of last week, when Helen Flora Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilkins, of Medford, became the bride of Edwin M. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, of Medford, at 12 o'clock noon.

Edna Lloyd, of Riverton, attended the bride as maid of honor and Herbert L. Cochley, of Medford, acted as best man. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles J. Champion, pastor of the church.

A reception followed at the new home of the bride and groom on Union street, Medford, where they will reside upon their return from a short wedding trip.

Miss Wilkins was the principal of the Vincennes school while Mr. Johnson is a representative of the Real Silk Hosiery Co.

PROF. BUNCE MEMBER OF RUTGERS' SUMMER FACULTY

Prof. Edgar F. Bunce, supervising principal of the Mount Holly public schools, again will be a member of the faculty of Rutgers' University during its six-weeks summer course. He will be at the head of the Observation Course, which is arranged for those who are particularly interested in obtaining instruction in methods of teaching, class management, etc., and will be an instructor in the Course of Supervision and Criticism of Instruction, designed for principals and teachers, and instructor in the advanced Course on Educational Administration, for principals and superintendents.

Prof. Bunce has held similar assignments at Rutgers' the past two summers. His ability in filling the Rutgers' faculty position was referred to in complimentary terms by Assistant Commissioner of Education Charles J. Strahan, in his address to the graduates of the Mount Holly high school on Friday.

Quick now—answer us this: Who was the THIRD man to make a non-stop flight across the Atlantic? Aw—we thought so. Don't you know? Such is fame. Well, it was Lindbergh. Alcock and Brown were the first two.

Glowing enthusiasm, even though unguided, is better than languid unconcern.

How quickly a large family adjusts itself to an increase in the breadwinner's income!

IN NEW HOME

Burlington County Trust Company Completed Moving Friday

Immediately following the big reception Thursday, the Burlington County Trust Company started conducting business in its new home. Seven o'clock Friday morning found all of the employees, the officers and several of the directors or hand to assist in moving into the new building. The operation was expertly performed and all of the securities and assets of the company were transferred under special police guard who were armed with short-barreled shot guns.

The company also took the added precaution of a holdup insurance policy amounting to $500,000 to further protect the valuables in moving.

Officers report that within the next couple of days every detail will have had the required attention and the company will be operating on its usual well-regulated routine.

BLUEBIRDS WIN

Defeat K. of C. Ball Team in Twilight Game

The Riverton Bluebirds took a three game series from the Palmyra Knights of Columbus by easily trouncing the Casey's at Memorial Park last Thursday night. The score was 12-6.

The Irish hopped into the lead in the first inning by scoring one run. The tail end of the Bluebirds batting order started things off in the second inning. With two on and but one out Stocker, the Bluebirds new right fielder, tapped a pretty angle to right scoring two runs. This started the Bluebirds bats ringing. The result was a six run rally. After this uprising the Bluebirds were never in danger.

Time and time again Chick Foulke, the Bluebirds right hand ace, breezed third strikes past his opponents' bats. Even when the Casey's were lucky enough to hit the ball it would always be captured by one of the Bluebirds flawless fielders.

Scouts Win Medals For Their Bravery

Five Boys Are Awarded by National Honor Court for Conspicuous Behavior

Five more Boy Scout Honor Medals and seven additional Certificates of Heroism were recently awarded by the National Court of Honor, of which Daniel C. Beard is chairman.

These awards bring the total since Jan. 1 to seventeen Honor Medals and twenty-eight Certificates of Heroism that have gone to Boy Scouts for conspicuous behavior in the saving of life.

Scout Harold Herrman, 13 years old, of Portsmouth, Ohio, gave his life trying to save a friend. On March 12, Herrman, who was a fair swimmer, plunged fully clothed into Pong Creek, Ohio, to rescue Harry Eckfield, 13, who had slipped from shallow water to the swift channel. He started ashore and when two feet from his goal his strength gave out and the other boy got a strangle hold on young Herrman and carried him down.

Another medal will go to William Sutherland, 18, of Danvers, Mass., who rescued Mrs. Louise K. Clarke and her sister, Mrs. Mary P. Dempsey, from drowning in a mill pond near Danvers, Jan. 18. The two women had broken through the ice. Sutherland, though afraid of the water, called a 14-year old lad, William Monti, to help him, lay prone on the ice and worked his way out to the women, though the ice was hardly more than an inch thick. The temperature was below zero. He succeeded in dragging both women to safety.

Scout Archie Howell, 13, and Scout Samuel Lancaster, 16, both of Hoonville, Mo., will get medals for rescuing 6-year-old Brownie Neimeyer from drowning in Kemper Lake, Missouri, on Jan. 17. The boy had broken through the ice forty feet from shore. Howell and Lancaster heard his shouts and lay down on the ice. Howell got hold of Lancaster's feet. Lancaster got hold of Brownie's hair and hauled him up on the ice. Eagle Scout Richard Fitzmorris, 17, of Rosindale, Mass., will get a medal for rescuing John C. March and 15, from drowning in the Charles River June 17, 1924. March and had fallen into a spring hole while wading. Fitzmorris carried him out and revived him through the artificial respiration method. Seven scouts received Certificates of Heroism.

(Published in the interest of scouting in Burlington county.)

CUSHMAN—JONES

Miss Alice Lovell Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Jones, of Moorestown, and S. Frederic Cushman, Jr., of Monson, Massachusetts, were married by Friends' ceremony at the home of the bride's parents Thursday afternoon of last week.

The bride was charming in a gown of white satin with lace. Her veil was of tulle and lace, and she carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Margaret and Miss Grace Jones, sisters of the bride, were her only attendants. They wore chiffon creations of combined colors and carried matching bouquets of gladiolus and mixed flowers.

Only members of the immediate family and close friends attended the ceremony.

On their return from their honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Cushman will reside in Agawan, Mass., which is situated across the river from Springfield.

MOORESTOWN MEN RESCUED IN TIME

Albert Ellis' Employee Buried in Cave-in at Mount Holly

Administering oxygen from a tank as soon as men uncovered their heads after they had been buried in a caving trench ten feet deep, Dr. Longsdorf, of Mount Holly, saved the lives of Newlin Haines, white, and Bernard Fletcher, colored, of Moorestown, at the new Burlington County Hospital operation at Mount Holly Wednesday of last week. The men are employed by Albert Ellis, of Moorestown, on plumbing work. When the earth caved both were caught. Workmen saw their plight and Harold Lippincott and Charles Gotwald began feverish digging, aided by others.

Dr. Longsdorf drove along, saw the excitement and inquired the cause. Running to the old hospital across the street, he got a tank of oxygen and waited for a chance to work. Fletcher's head was uncovered first and the oxygen administered immediately revived him enough for the hospital physician and nurses to complete the treatment necessary to save his life. It was ten minutes before Haines could be reached and Dr. Longsdorf was obliged to apply all the treatment known to his skill.

While the men worked desperately to release Haines' body the physician gave the oxygen treatment. Haines' left arm is broken and both men suffered slightly from shock.

DORAN OPPOSES BRIDGE

William H. Doran, of Bristol, is one of the opponents of the proposed bridge to be built across the Delaware River at Burlington as its erection will sound the knell of his ferryboat line, which has been in the Doran family for over a century. Other opposition is expected from proponents of the Tacony-Palmira bridge, for which a permit has been issued by the war department. Those interests frown upon too many toll bridges across the Delaware river. The application for the Burlington bridge will be given a hearing in the offices of Colonel F. C. Boggs, of the war department, in the Bourse building, Philadelphia, on Friday afternoon, July 22.

CAR MILES HOME TOWN PRODUCT

"Too many automobile shoppers ignore the fact that practically the entire life of the car is usually consumed in the town where the car is bought," remarked Frederick E. Rein, of the Rein Motor Company. "They do not look carefully enough into the local source of those indispensable elements of operation and maintenance without which no car delivers more than a mere fraction of its potential utility. A good car is made wholly good by a responsible local dealer who has ample facilities for serving the car owners as well as the car shop."

Romance is Seen In Will Contest

Woman Sought Divorce In Order to Marry Palmyra Widower

Contest of a will in Orphan's Court at Mount Holly last Thursday revealed the love story of a prominent Palmyra widower and a married woman who sought to get a divorce so that they could wed.

The suit was brought by Florence and Albert Koppenhoefer, children of Charles Koppenhoefer, who died May 4, to break his will, which left his entire estate to Mrs. Emily Doane, also of Palmyra. They charged Mrs. Doane, who is housekeeper for Clifford R. Roray, 708 Park avenue, with using "undue influence" when their father made his will.

On the stand Mrs. Doane revealed the romance. She said she had left her husband in Philadelphia and came to live in New Jersey for two years so she could get a divorce. She stated they had met for the first time May 8, 1926, and were never alone the times they met thereafter.

Planned to Marry
"He promised to marry me as soon as I could get a divorce," she said, adding she had a letter which contained his intentions.

The children lost their first fight when Judge William A. Slaughter ruled the will was legally drawn and witnessed. David Schwartz, an insurance agent of Palmyra, who witnessed the will was the principal witness for Mrs. Doane.

Several criminal matters were disposed of by Judge Slaughter on Tuesday as follows:

Harry Ruseakow, of Burlington, indicted for possession of liquor, transporting liquor and having utensils in his possession for the manufacture of the same, was found guilty by a jury on all the charges. Constables Bate and Smith were the principal witnesses against Ruseakow.

Annie Benchl, of Bordentown, charged with the unlawful possession of liquor, suffered the same fate as Ruseakow, the jury deciding she was guilty.

Detective Arthur Carabine and the state police were the witnesses for the state.

Pleaded Non Vult
There were two other indictments against the Benchl woman, who is an old offender, and she retracted her plea of not guilty to these charges, which included the sale of liquor and maintaining a house where liquor was kept, and pleaded non vult.

She will be sentenced on July 21. Alfonso Meadows, of Chesterfield, charged with larceny, had the indictment against him nolle prossed.

Joseph Sudol, of Bordentown, indicted for assault and battery and also with sale, possession and maintaining a house where liquor was kept, retracted his plea of not guilty to assault and battery and will be sentenced on July 21.

The liquor indictments were nolle prossed.

George Carriel, of Riverdale, charged with malicious mischief, also made a retraction and pleaded non vult.

He was placed on Probation Officer Frank A. Hendrickson's list and must pay the costs at once.

Fish and Game Cases
Three fish and game appeals were heard by Judge Slaughter at the Court House on Friday, the first being that of Edward Burns, of Lumberton, who was fined $200 by Justice Throckmorton, of Mount Holly, on a charge of permitting a dog to run at large.

The complaint was made by James

RIDICULE WILL CURE ONE LAMP HEADLIGHTS

It was left for Oritley Beach, a small community of Ocean County, to devise the remedy for the dangerous single lamp headlights that make motorists shudder as they see them approach.

Oritley Beach is greeting every single head light with taunting horn toots. The one-eyed driver may wonder what it means at first, but he soon learns, and in most cases stops at the first service station and gets a new bulb.

Police encourage the Oritley Beach remedy and believe it will soon be common practice for a driver a foot derisively as he sees a single-lamp car approaching. The practice will warn the driver who doesn't know his lamp has failed, as well as shame the lazy and indifferent driver.

Greenwald, of Lumberton, on April 27, 1925, but the offense was so slight that V. Claude Palmer, counsel for Burns, moved for the dismissal of the complaint, and it was not opposed by Grover C. Richmond, of Camden, assistant attorney general, who represented the State Fish and Game Commission.

The case of George Taylor, of Lower Mills, was also heard, he being charged with carrying a gun in the deer woods on February 1, 1927, the gun being loaded with shells charged with buckshot. He was adjudged guilty and fined $100 and costs.

George Smith, of Columbus, had been fined $50 by Justice Charles E. Black for permitting two hound dogs to run at large on April 4, 1926. The evidence was very contradictory and Smith was declared not guilty.

Warns of Change in Mortgage Law

Procedure to Check Fraud in Cancelling Records Now in Effect

Greater precaution is placed about the method of cancelling property mortgage records at the offices of New Jersey County Clerks and Registers of Deeds under the new law which took effect on July 4.

The law now requires that no mortgage, except one given to a corporation, shall be cancelled of record unless the mortgage shall be produced, to the County Clerk or Register, cancelled, or a receipt thereon signed by the mortgagee, or his executor, administrator or assigns. The new provision is that the signature "shall be certified to as genuine, by one qualified to take acknowledgments of deeds, said officer to designate his title and affix his seal, if any he has."

Only a lawyer, commissioner of deeds or notary public is empowered to certify to the genuineness of the signature, it is said, and the new law suggests a definite legal form to be used for the certification. Heretofore it was not necessary to have the signature certified to in the cancellation of mortgage records and frauds were made easier.

The new law further provides that no mortgage given to any corporation, other than a building and loan association of this State, shall be cancelled of record "unless there shall be endorsed upon said mortgage an authorization to cancel the same over the signature of the president or vice-president and secretary or treasurer or cashier of said corporation, or any one of their respective assistants, with the seal of said corporation affixed thereto."

Heretofore any clerk or other individual claiming to represent the corporation holding the mortgage could appear with the deed to the property involved and order the mortgage cancelled of record. Now only certain high officers of the corporation may order such cancellations and the concern's official seal must appear on the order.

Who says we have equal suffrage. Citizens of Nyack, N. Y., are all excited because a woman had trousers made for her old bay mare.

PLANS TAG DAY

Riverside Free Library To Use Fans For Upkeep

Plans are being made by the Riverside Free Library for a tag day on Saturday, July 23. The proceeds will be used for the upkeep of the library and form a nucleus for a new building.

The finance committee is composed of Miss Eunice Warner, chairman; Mrs. Edward Bushin, Mrs. Gus Gerkins, Mrs. George Reedy and Mrs. James Carruthers. Mrs. R. I. Downs is the chairman of the library board. Mrs. Gerkins is the chairman of the tag day committee and Mrs. Baines is the vice-chairman. The free library has 1150 subscribers. The book committee chairman is Mrs. Paul Hermsdorf and Mrs. Reedy is the publicity chairman.

Introducing the WELSBACH ~ Electric Refrigeration at its best

THE new Welsbach has all the advantages of modern electric refrigeration. It furnishes an ideal means of preserving food; it is convenient, self-acting; storage in the Welsbach improves food flavors; it provides squares of sparkling ice for table use.

And it has much more to offer.

The Welsbach Company in its big laboratories at Gloucester has been making extensive experiments for the purpose of uniting the advantages of electric refrigeration with a quieter, more enduring mechanism—to house both in a finer box.

The marks at which these experiments aimed were, in chief, the reduction of service interruption; the absence of vibration and noise. They resulted in the application of the low pressure principle to electric refrigeration.

Approved by Public Service Testing Laboratories

The Welsbach Electric Refrigerator has been thoroughly tested in Public Service laboratories and has received the endorsement of our engineers.

In the attractive Welsbach we present to our customers an aristocrat among electric refrigerators. Inside and out, in looks, mechanism, and in superiority as a refrigerator, it is a fitting complement to the modern model kitchen.

Public Service
Electric and Gas Company:

You may send your representative to give me more information about Welsbach Refrigeration, with the understanding, of course, that this request places me under no obligation.

DON MELLETT'S VINDICATION

(From The Indianapolis Star.)
The many Hoosiers who knew Don R. Mellett in his high school and university days and later as a newspaper publisher in his native state have been augmented by millions who applauded him as the crusading editor of Canton, O., engaged in a campaign to break the unholy alliance which existed between the police department and the underworld. His name was familiar to every reader after an assassin's bullet snuffed out his life almost on his own doorstep. That act revealed the blind fury of the criminal elements against the continuous charges of corruption which Mellett's paper hurled against the supposed law-enforcement agencies and a realization that the editorial tocsin eventually would arouse the better class of citizens.

So closely was the veil of mystery drawn about the murder that for a time good citizens everywhere deplored of bringing to justice the actual slayers and the instigators of the crime. The police department had been charged with collusion in underworld crimes, so that little co-operation was expected from that source. Investigators found barriers placed in their way which seemed to preclude the successful pursuit of the slayers and through them the discovery of the higher-ups. Not only Canton but law-abiding communities everywhere are indebted to those who persisted in their investigations in spite of handicaps and the desperate character of the criminal alliance.

Don Mellett has been completely vindicated. Slowly but surely the long arm of the law reached out and seized the slayers and conspirators. Pat McDermott, the "trigger man," is in the penitentiary for life. The same sentence was imposed on Ben Ruder, the "pay-off man." Louis Mazer, who effected the necessary liaison between the police and the underworld, was the first man indicted last July. He was permitted to plead guilty to manslaughter in return for his evidence against Floyd E. Streitenberger, a police sergeant, and has just been sentenced to a term of from five to twenty years. Streitenberger has been convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

One more man has been indicted for first degree murder, Seranus A. Lengel, Canton's chief of police when Mellett was murdered. It was against this official that the editor directed many of his scathing rebukes. The grand jury believes the evidence justifies the charge against Lengel. He is entitled to his day in court and under the law must be presumed innocent until proved guilty. It is hoped that the present city's law-enforcement chief being involved in the murder of one who fought editorially for the order and decency he betrayed.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

by Edson R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

That it rightly used, advertising is the power that is the real factor in making better business.
That it costs a whole lot of money to lose old customers and it costs money to get new ones. Why not keep the old ones and get the new ones by quality, service and truthful advertising?

That good advertising catches the eye.
That it commands attention.
That it is read in every home.
That it brings the customers to the store.

That modern business methods build a business.
That modern business methods meet competition.
That modern business methods embrace truthful advertising.

That modern business methods keep the old as well as attract new business to a store.
That truthful advertising is not bait; it tells you of articles of real value for your money.

HEILBRON-DOTTER

Miss Ruth Dotter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dotter, of Carlisle, Pa., and Stanley K. Heilbron, of Mount Holly, were married at the home of the bride's parents last Thursday.

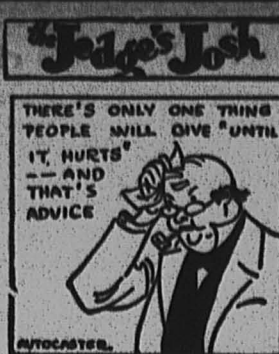

The bride is a former member of the faculty of Mount Holly High School, and for the past two terms has been an instructor of French in the Moorestown Friends' School. Mr. Heilbron is a prominent young attorney.

On their return from a wedding trip, the happy couple will reside in their new home on Broad street, Mount Holly.

Niece—"No, it isn't a new piece; the piano has been tuned!"

Not That Kind of a Boy
"Let me get you a job as a hotel clerk."
"What does one do?"
"Put up people for the night."
"I don't care for put-up jobs."

Decreased Overhead
"Splendid, Aloysius, I see by the papers that the price of gasoline has come down."
"That's right, Hepsibah, but I had no idea you had a car."
"I haven't, but I've got one of those trick cigar lighters."

Rather Unique
A charming young lady, from Manhattan, was performing some neat "pones plastique."
She departed with speed.
Of a pin being in need,
One can never depend on elastique.

BLAZE INTERRUPTS DANCE

About half-past eleven Monday night, while the firemen's dance was in progress, the fire alarm sounded. In about a minute the boys were at the fire house and had both of the trucks out. It was found that a hole had been burned in the roof of the old Holland restaurant, recently purchased by the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company for the site of its new building. The fire was caused by a roman candle in the hands of a small boy. It was put out in a few minutes by the use of an axe and the chemical hose.

Then the boys returned to the dance.

"SLIP-ON" BODIES

Latest Commercial Introduction in Pontiac Six Line

For the benefit of merchants and business that do not have a sufficiently large volume to warrant a special delivery vehicle, and traveling salesmen who must carry a large stock of samples, the Oakland Motor Car Company now introduces two cars especially adapted to fit such needs—the Pontiac Six Coupe and Roadster suitable for mounting two types of "slip-on" commercial bodies. The cars are ideal for combination business and personal use.

The open express body or the closed panel body may be slipped on either the roadster or coupe in a very short time; in the case of the roadster by simply removing the rumble seat rear deck cover, and in the case of the coupe by removing the rear deck cover. Both these cars in the Pontiac Six line are adapted to this purpose because the rear decks extend to the floor. Each type can be used interchangeably with or without the "slip-on" bodies.

The inside dimensions of the open express body on the Pontiac Six Roadster are: width, 27 inches; length, 58 inches; height of panel, 45 inches. The Roadster is finished in durable Duco and has a folding top which is completely removable. Small lots of goods and packages, requiring protection from dust and rain are conveniently carried in the closed panel body. Although this body may also be used on the Roadster.

DOCTORS FIND NEW USE FOR TELEPHONE

Prescription Bureau Started by Pharmacists Proves Popular

A telephone service for the convenience of doctors and their patients has recently been devised and installed by a leading Philadelphia druggist.

It consists in the establishment of a so-called telephone prescription bureau by means of which a physician can telephone his prescriptions from the bedside, check them back over the telephone and have them delivered to the patient by messenger.

The plan eliminates much of the delay that often occurs between the writing of the prescription and the delivery of the medicine. There is frequently no one on the premises who can go to the drug store immediately after the physician writes the prescription and leaves. As a consequence the medicine cannot be used as soon as it should. The drug store equipped with such a bureau eliminates this delay. Such a store also does a larger business and has a greater supply of drugs on hand, even those that are comparatively rare. For these reasons, the new plan now means fresh prescriptions, careful preparation and quick delivery.

The idea of handling sales of this nature by telephone can be extended to include other businesses catering to the household. If the success with which the new department is meeting is any criterion of what other businesses may expect, a new door to greater sales is being opened to the merchant.

The committee will welcome suggestions relative to subjects for discussion, bearing in mind that the entire meeting will be limited to one hour, immediately after lunch. Your suggestions as to subjects for discussion should be sent to Arthur J. Farley, Agricultural Experimental Station, New Brunswick, N. J.

The Produce Agency Act Effective July 1 Penalizes Unjustifiable Dumping and False Returns by Commission Merchants

The Produce Agency Act approved March 3, 1927, became effective July 1, 1927. This act makes it a misdemeanor for anyone receiving perishable farm products in interstate commerce for or on behalf of another to dump, abandon or destroy the products so received without good and sufficient cause therefor, or for anyone receiving such products for or on behalf of another in interstate commerce to fail knowingly and with intent to defraud, to account truly and correctly therefor, or to make any false statement concerning the handling, condition, quality, quantity, sale or disposition thereof. The products concerned include fruits, vegetables, melons, dairy or poultry products, or any other perishable farm products. The persons interested are those who ship on consignment and commission merchants or others who receive such goods as an agent for another.

Regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture for the enforcement of the Act and the statement under taking to answer questions which may arise as to when and under what circumstances the Act is applicable have been issued. All persons, firms, associations, or corporations handling consigned perishable farm products, therefore, should inform themselves of the provisions of this new law. Copies of the regulations, the law and the explanatory statement may be obtained by addressing the Chief of Bureau of Agricultural Economics, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

MAN'S PARADISE

A wife and child and happy home is man's eternal bliss. He, nothing finds, in life so sweet as his beloved's kiss. It fills his soul with tenderness, When going home at night, To think of his dear loved ones there, To fill his soul with light.

How sweet his dear wife's smile well be, And little, baby arms Enfolded around his neck, each night.

Fill home with such blissed charms. How can he ever wish to roam Away from this dear place? He's rather watch contentedly His dear beloved's face.

While caring for her little one, She loves so tenderly, He, such a picture, nowhere else, Can ever expect to see. It fills his heart with tenderness, As she looks up and smiles; And home will be the sacred place Where, his spare time, he wiles. Martha Shepard Lippincott.

When you ask yourself, "Who will ride in them," remember that when the French built the railroad from Paris to Versailles, actors and actresses were hired to sit in the train looking out of the windows, smiling as though they enjoyed it. And when the first elevator with a steel column under it was installed in the Grand Hotel in Paris, about sixty years ago, old

Their pioneers ate three meals a day, slept all night, worked all day and, most of them died of old age—not of "heart disease" nor at the steering-wheel; they wore sensible foot-wear and clothing; they ate plain food, lived temperately. These are traits which our modern generation seems to have forgotten.

Mr. and Mrs. Hallett returned to their homes and told their parents but kept their marriage a secret until Mrs. Hallett completed high school studies. Meanwhile she lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Worth, of 311 Main street, Mount Holly, while her husband, connected with a Philadelphia trust company, lived with his mother, Mrs. Rose Hallett. On their return from a honeymoon the couple will make their home at Moorestown.

Man, put your hand in your pocket and locate one of those foamy little things that come with your taste to the most smoke-pure measure be ever bought! A fresh, molten, bubbling, foaming, frothy morsel. News? You bet it's news! Maybe you've tried a lot of old cigars that were "said to be worth the price" but had to be sold at a higher price for years! And if it weren't for those same volume sales, the present price of few wouldn't be so high. Now, you can get a really a fine cigar in every sense of the word. Mellow-as-they-make-em! Made of pure tobacco. Just a little full of... and a satisfying body. Now—be. But say—just try it. Walk into the nearest cigar store and say, "Havana Ribbon!" You'll be down and light up there on the spot. Only a nickel—but it'll net you a taste as purring to pure contentment right from the fruit pulp.

ONE LAW FOR ALL

Freehold seems to be earning a reputation in handling the traffic violation cases either envious or otherwise according to how one views the rights of a citizen and his proper attitude toward the administration of the law. In Freehold a summons means an appearance before the Recorder. Such an appearance is not a very unpleasant experience. The Recorder is a gentleman and treats those who come before him in the same manner. He is not very severe and the fines imposed are reasonable. Yet from what he and the other town officials say at least seventy-five per cent of strangers receiving traffic summons attempt to and expect to have the summons torn up without answering them by the simple expedient of having some influential person or official in their own community call up one of Freehold's officials or some politician.

Many and varied are the expressions of amazement when informed that a summons in Freehold means just what it says on its face. Those seeking to have a "ticket pulled" simply cannot understand what kind of a government we have in Freehold when informed that their request cannot be complied with. They argue that it is done everywhere else, and that have never been refused such a request before. That Mr. Emptydum is much too big a man to have to appear in traffic court, that they will take it up with some "higher-up" unless it is done.

All of which is a pretty good commentary of our supposed democratic government which guarantees to all an equal standing before the law, at least if we may believe the "fixers." According to their story the only ones who have to answer a summons are those who have no influential friends, or who have no particular standing in their own community. It is simply the old story of the privileged against the ordinary man. If more municipalities would take the attitude that a summons once issued had to be answered by the alleged offender we have an idea that many drivers would be more careful to the good of everybody and the safety of the road as well.—Freehold Transcript.

Your sole contribution to the sum of things is yourself.—Frank Crane.

Squibs
A perfect day, a big crowd, a fine program, and no accidents!

And didn't the Bremen look native in their new uniforms! Riverton has a right to throw out the chest over a bunch of fire fighters like that.

Among the former residents of Riverton who were seen in the borough Fourth of July were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Tucker, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Thayer, Frank Bower, William Bower, Benny Hulings, Mrs. James Bowers and family, Terry McDonald and John Epple.

The Boy Scouts were right on the job as usual—leading a band wherever opportunity offered.

And, by the way, it was noted that the American flag carried by the Scouts had seen better days—in fact, it was so shabby that they were ashamed to unfurl it. Here's a good chance for some public-spirited citizen to present the boys with a new one.

Seven hundred and twenty children in line carrying flags—the largest parade Riverton ever had!

STATE POLICE NEWS

Constabulary at Columbia Station
Have Busy Week

In addition to investigating numerous accidents the state police stationed at Columbia have made the following arrests during the week:

Norman Bright, of New Egypt, charged with the larceny of a tractor from Joseph Zimmerman, of Chesterfield, was arrested by Trooper Doyle. He was held under $200 bail for Court by Recorder Kingdon.

George Ray, of Kinkora, while intoxicated, caused his wife with a knife and Troopers Horn and Doyle answered a hurried call and arrested Ray. Later, he was fined $25 and costs by Recorder Kingdon and still later his loving spouse, Melvina Ray, who is well known at the Court House, paid the fine and took "her man" home.

Charles Leming, of Cassville, driving a car with fictitious license plates, was arrested by Troopers Doyle and Huns and fined $15 and costs after his case had been heard by Recorder Kingdon.

George Mantell, of Johnstown, charged with reckless driving, paid a fine of $5 and costs. Trooper Doyle made the arrest and Recorder Kingdon heard the case.

Walter R. Perkins, of Trenton, was traveling through Mount Holly at a 55-mile-an-hour clip when he was arrested by Sergeant Hauseling and Trooper Doyle. He paid $5 and costs.

In an effort to discourage drunkenness at Harker's Grove near New Egypt, the troopers spent some time near there with the result that Edwin Anchor, of New Egypt, paid a fine of $10 and costs; James Britton, of Chesterfield, $10 and costs; William Coleman, New Egypt, $5 and costs; and Edwin Boone, a sailor from Lakeside, went to the Ocean County Jail at Toms River for thirty days. These arrests were for drunkenness, and in addition Blagie Maronito, of Burlington, and James V. Dunster, of Clarkburg, paid fines of $25 and costs for having fictitious license plates. Recorder Rawley, of New Egypt, heard these cases.

A Hudson coach, stolen from Camden on Monday, was located near Potomac, Md., and turned over to J. H. Kruse, of Oaklyn, who established ownership.

A Ford sedan, stolen in Trenton, was located on the State Highway near Fieldboro, and turned over to its owner, H. M. McDevan, of Trenton.

Another Ford sedan, stolen in Trenton, was located on the back road near Kintonville, Mercer county, and turned over to its owner, Joseph Harvey.

Edgar Travers, of Camp Dix, was driving without a license when Trooper Leon overtook him, and he paid a fine of $5 and costs before Recorder Kingdon.

William Eastwick, a Camden newspaperman was arrested for speeding by Trooper Brown, and after a hearing he was fined $10 and costs.

A man without mirth is like a wagon without springs, in which one is caused disagreeably to jolt by every pebble over which it runs.—Henry Ward Beecher.

As good almost kill a man as kill a good book; who kills a man kills a reasonable creature, God's image; but he who destroys a good book kills reason itself.—John Milton.

RECORD CROWD AT OPENING OF BANKING HOME

the lobby of the main banking room. Here, surrounding a public space, twenty-seven feet wide and forty-six feet deep, with a ceiling height of twenty-six feet, is the officers' space, the trust, safe deposit and ladies' departments and the tellers' windows.

Walnut screens and paneling enclose the public space. This treatment, expressive of the best of the simple sturdy days of the country's beginnings, achieves a simple dignity entirely consistent. Large bronze framed windows, and plenty of them, insure an abundance of natural light throughout the building.

Check Desk
In the center of the public space is a check desk of walnut with glass top, convenient for customers. The tellers' screens are provided with bronze wickets above a paneled base. Plate glass with lower portion etched about the wickets. The officers' space is enclosed by a paneled low rail.

Adjacent to the rear of the public space are departments devoted to trusts, safe deposit and building and loan. The safe deposit department is entered through a bronze grille giving additional security, yet affording an interesting vista. The vault door containing 12 inches of solid steel is supported to a nicely polished steel crane hinge. Delicate time controls check the bolt work. The vault door and walls, the latter of reinforced concrete with a steel lining, are further protected by a closed circuit electric alarm system, and the system is extended to afford the officers and tellers protection against daylight holdups.

Beyond the safe deposit vault, facilities are furnished for the safe deposit box clients; four commodious coupon booths and a committee room.

Night Depository
A night depository for the convenience and safety of customers of the bank who desire to make deposits after hours is located to the right of the main entrance.

Special accommodations for ladies are afforded adjacent to the public space of the bank, comprising a vestibule, a lounge and a retiring room.

The work spaces, well lighted and capable of future expansion, assigned for the use of the staff, are located at the rear of the tellers' cages and also upon the upper floor.

Particular study has been given the problem of quieting, and acoustical materials have been introduced to absorb the noise resulting from typewriters and other sounds.

The company's cash and securities vault is on the main floor using a common wall with the safe deposit vault. This vault is protected from attack by construction similar to that of the safe deposit vault.

The second floor of the building provides space for a directors' room of a character and dignity consistent with purposes. Certain departments of the company are also located upon this floor.

In the basement are located the silver storage vault, employees' locker rooms and lavatories, storage spaces, and the mechanical and heating plant. This plant comprising a combination heating and ventilating system, supplies fresh air throughout the building in all seasons.

Palmyra's Fourth
Somewhat Noisy

Sham Battle With Fireworks
Staged in Center of Town
Sunday Midnight

Although there was no regular celebration scheduled for Palmyra over the Fourth of July, things were not as quiet as expected.

About Sunday midnight the young men of the town had a little celebration all their own. After ten o'clock they armed themselves with large firecrackers, torpedoes and torpedoes at each other, the affair ended in a fight.

After the younger boys had exhausted their supply of fireworks by throwing cannon-crackers and torpedoes at each other, the affair ended in a fight.

Little Ralph Freeman caused some excitement when he chased several of the larger boys around the Palmyra station. Young Freeman was armed with a Roman candle.

Three casualties occurred. Two of them happened at the Palmyra side of the ferry. A Tacony boy, about 13 years old, had his hand torn open when he attempted to pick up a lighted cracker. Another boy at the ferry took a cap flash-gun and deliberately set off a large cannon-cracker. The explosion from the firecracker ignited other fireworks at the stand operated by Charlie Hahn and several dollars worth of damage was the result.

The third accident took place on East Broad street when Johnny Kraus, of Highland avenue, poured the powder out of a firecracker and ignited it with a match. The lad was burned about the hand but was not seriously hurt.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy and kindness and for sending cars to the funeral on the occasion of our recent bereavement.

The Mullen Family.

Staged in Center of Town
Sunday Midnight

Although there was no regular celebration scheduled for Palmyra over the Fourth of July, things were not as quiet as expected.

About Sunday midnight the young men of the town had a little celebration all their own. After ten o'clock they armed themselves with large firecrackers, torpedoes and torpedoes at each other, the affair ended in a fight.

After the younger boys had exhausted their supply of fireworks by throwing cannon-crackers and torpedoes at each other, the affair ended in a fight.

Little Ralph Freeman caused some excitement when he chased several of the larger boys around the Palmyra station. Young Freeman was armed with a Roman candle.

Three casualties occurred. Two of them happened at the Palmyra side of the ferry. A Tacony boy, about 13 years old, had his hand torn open when he attempted to pick up a lighted cracker. Another boy at the ferry took a cap flash-gun and deliberately set off a large cannon-cracker. The explosion from the firecracker ignited other fireworks at the stand operated by Charlie Hahn and several dollars worth of damage was the result.

The third accident took place on East Broad street when Johnny Kraus, of Highland avenue, poured the powder out of a firecracker and ignited it with a match. The lad was burned about the hand but was not seriously hurt.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all our friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy and kindness and for sending cars to the funeral on the occasion of our recent bereavement.

ERRICKSON—SEITHER

The Central Baptist Church was the scene of a very attractive wedding last Thursday evening when Miss Anne Elisabeth Seither, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Seither, became the bride of George E. Erickson, of Camden. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the church.

The bridal party included Miss Ruth Nevinger, maid of honor; Beatrice Tallman and Dorothy Griffith, bridesmaids, and Anna Lightenberg, flower girl. Allen Erickson, a brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, while the ushers were Walter Johnson and Albert, William and James Seither, brothers of the bride. Mrs. Edith Paany played the wedding march and Mrs. James Seither was heard in vocal selections to the ceremony.

The bride was attired in a white beaded georgette, made with tight bodice and full skirt with a veil of tulle arranged in a coronet and fastened with orange blossoms. Her flowers were a bouquet of bridal roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The groom wore a tuxedo and a white bow tie. He carried a sword and a Roman candle.

County Clerk Gets Bill Paid

Held Up by Freeholder Because Sanction Was Not First Secured

When the Board of Freeholders gathered for their semi-monthly meeting last Friday, there was a general discussion over a bill presented by County Clerk William H. Reeves, for $64. The amount was made up of $50 for counsel fee of Prosecutor George M. Hillman and $14 for stenographic notes in a suit in the Supreme Court brought by the Title Abstract Company against Reeves as county clerk, and which suit was defended by Hillman for Reeves.

The suit was brought as the result of a transfer of names in mortgage given by John Thiel to the Haddonfield Trust Company, but in which the names of the mortgagee and mortgagor became reversed. This was through the error of the county clerk or members of his office, but came to the office in that manner, and it was later discovered by a lawyer interested in the case.

It was found that the bill had been presented some time ago, but held up by Auditor Ziegler when Solicitor Wells decided that the county of its corporate body, the Board of Freeholders could not be held responsible for any of the transactions of the county clerk, surrogate or sheriff's office, and Solicitor Wells still adhered to that opinion very forcibly.

While it appeared to some of the freeholders to establish a bad precedent, the bill was ordered paid by a vote of three to two. Fisher, Lippincott and Russ voted in the affirmative. Stout and Heiler voted "no," contending that the clerk should have secured the sanction of the board of freeholders before contracting a bill which he expects them to pay.

Charles R. Stout reported that the work on the Bordentown-Chestersfield road had been completed, and that the cost is about $12,000.

Rufus Holzbauer presented a bill for $15 for removing a still and other paraphernalia confiscated at a raid in Springfield, the articles having been brought to Mount Holly at the request of Charles L. Carslake and the state police, who were on duty in this section. The indictments against the defendant were nolle prossed, due to faulty papers, but Holzbauer's bill has never been paid. It was referred to County Solicitor Wells.

The director of roads asked for and was granted permission to ask State aid in finishing one-sixth of a mile of road at Chesterfield.

The township of Riverside asked permission to open a still and other paraphernalia confiscated at a raid in Springfield, the articles having been brought to Mount Holly at the request of Charles L. Carslake and the state police, who were on duty in this section. The indictments against the defendant were nolle prossed, due to faulty papers, but Holzbauer's bill has never been paid. It was referred to County Solicitor Wells.

The following bills were ordered paid: Roads, $22,410.56; bridges, $3,142.73; finance, $1,305.68; public buildings $10,218.23; public affairs, $1,389.51. Total, $38,466.71.

MATLACK'S "WHITE MULE"

M. Edward Matlack, son of Surgeon and Mrs. M. E. Matlack, is the owner of a fast new racing boat of a type recently introduced at Barnegat bay and of which there are ten in this waters this season. The speedy craft has an outboard motor and is said to be capable of making 32 miles per hour. It flies the flag of the Seaside Park Yacht Club. A new organization has been formed at Seaside, known as the Outboard Motors Association. The officers are: Shade Dale, chairman; Thomas Horrocks, vice-chairman; M. Edward Matlack, secretary, and Frank Doan, treasurer. The boats belonging to the members of this new club are all named after the various kinds of drinks, most of them now supposed to be but a memory. The Matlack boat is called "White Mule."

AUTO DROPS 15 FEET

Three Pemberton Women, Occupants Receive Only Slight Injuries

Mrs. Chester Gauntt, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Walter Gauntt, and the former's mother, Mrs. Walter Cliver, all of Pemberton, wrecked her automobile and all the ladies had narrow escapes from injury or possible death on Wednesday of last week when the car the former was driving became unmanageable and plunged down a fifteen foot embankment into a meadow, at the concrete bridge near the North Pemberton station.

Those who saw the accident and went to the rescue were greatly surprised when the ladies had been extricated from their perilous position. They were seriously injured, and that beyond a few cuts and bruises all were practically unhurt. Mrs. Walter Gauntt was cut about the limbs and Mrs. Cliver had her hand lacerated. They were taken to Dr. L. B. Hollingshead's office, where a few stitches and bandages made them comfortable, and they were returned to their homes.

The ladies' escape from the accident without dire consequences was almost miraculous.

State House Gossip

Forty-three New Jersey banks have been awarded the $6,000,000 issue of State Highway 15 year, 4 per cent road bonds, by the State House Commission. The issue was over-subscribed four times. The bonds will be allotted to the banks in premiums ranging from 101.259 to 102.85.

The Juvenile Probation Study Commission has been named by Governor Moore. It consists of County Judge Walter D. Van Riper, Essex; William M. Seufert, Hackensack; Juvenile Court Judge Thomas F. Meany, Jersey City; Joseph P. Murphy, chief probation officer of Essex, and Percy A. Sharp, chief probation officer of Hudson. Under the resolution passed by the last Legislature creating the commission, introduced by Senator Mackay, of Bergen, Chancellor Walker is also a member of the body, and names a vice-chancellor to represent him. He selected John Bentley, of Jersey City. Civil Service Commission—Secretary Charles P. Messick is also designated under the resolution. Governor Moore has appointed Dr. Arthur W. Belton, of Trenton, to the State Board of Medical Examiners.

The State Board of Institutions and Agencies has gone on record for a new State hospital for the insane and will ask Governor Moore to make a recommendation to this effect when the 1927 Legislature convenes. The board has taken the position that the new State asylum is warranted in view of the insane population of 3,500 at Greystone Park; 2,500 at Trenton State Hospital; 1,400 at Laurel Hill, Hudson county; 2,000 at Overbrook, Essex, and several hundred at the Camden County Institution for the Insane. The thought that the Legislature might see its way clear to authorize the new State hospital, which might be operated as a parent institution for the other two State institutions, Greystone Park, Morris County, and Trenton. The plan for psychopathic wards in public clinics or a separate psychopathic hospital for inquiry into mental cases before becoming acute has for years been a program intimately connected with the institutional development ideas of the State board.

SHADE TREE DEVELOPMENT

Shade trees were planted early in the Spring on every improved lot project is yet in its experimental stage but sufficient advance has been made to convince resort and State Forestry Bureau officials that trees can be successfully grown on the island. A large percentage of trees have survived replanting and tree specialists believe that there will be a fine showing of shade trees on Orley Beach. This beautification next summer.

Rancocas Rum Case In Court Once More

Plan Trials Under Indictments Charging Possession and Transportation

The Rancocas rum case, the one that brought objectionable fame to Burlington county, is now being resurrected so those who are charged with the possession and transportation of liquor before the State Police broke up the party at Bridgeboro can be brought to trial. Prosecutor Hillman is now laying his plans for that kind of action, but before the trials begin it will be necessary to dispose of a notion to quash the indictments to be made by lawyer Robert Peacock, who now represents the various defendants in this initial step toward what is hoped will be the finish.

This much of the situation was made known in Judge Slaughter's court last week, when the matter was brought up and Mr. Peacock announced his intention. It was agreed that the notice should be heard on Thursday, and at that time Prosecutor Hillman and Lawyer Peacock will present their arguments.

Mr. Peacock contends that the State has no foundation on which to proceed, his claim being that the question of possession and transportation was covered in the verdict of acquittal for all of the eight defendants, and under which circumstances was settled at that time. He will argue that the men cannot be tried a second time on the same charge.

The conspiracy defendants were: Nathan Klawansky, of Philadelphia; Wilmer Raff, Paul Duedagish and Addison Binliff, of Bridgeboro, and Thomas Davis, Samuel Cutter and Edward Everett, of Trenton, as well as Charles Sharp, of Bridgeboro, but Sharp is not included in the proposed new proceedings.

Others charged with possession and transportation were Ralph Woodington, and two sons of Binliff, and if the case goes to trial again there will be eleven defendants. Louis Perach is also understood to be included in the proposed list, but he is serving time in Mays.

TRUCK IN CRASH

Bus Hits Chester Township Machine Passengers Escape Injury

A truck belonging to the Chester Township Road Department was badly damaged when hit by a bus at Main street and Maple avenue, Maple Shade, Wednesday afternoon of last week.

According to witnesses, the truck was parked on the wrong side of the street and turned in the path of the bus without warning. John Peirce, Center avenue, Maple Shade, was driving the truck, while the bus, filled with passengers, was driven by Joseph Moran, of Brown's Mills. No one was injured and no arrests were made.

Associates Honor Fred Lippincott

Moorestown, Plainsboro Men Retiring from Agricultural Board Given Dinner

Freeholder Fred Lippincott, of Moorestown, and Henry W. Jeffers, of the Walker-Gordon Laboratories at Plainsboro, were guests of honor at a luncheon that was a part of a recent meeting of the State Board of Agriculture at the home of Laton M. Parkhurst at Hammonton. They are retiring as members of the Board and the luncheon was arranged as a tribute to the valued and faithful service they have given to the agricultural interests of the state since they were named among the original members twelve years ago.

President Joseph S. Frelinghuysen presented them with tokens of esteem and made a short address complimenting them upon the excellence of their service. They are succeeded in membership by William Tomlinson, of Kirkwood, and Henry Miller, of Princeton Junction.

Present in addition to those mentioned were Clifford Snyder, vice president; George Roberts, Keyport; Elmer Wene, Vineland; Fred Day, Passaic, and Secretary William Duryee, Trenton.

The business session brought out the information that Warren Oley, manager of the Del-Bray Farms at Bridgeton, has accepted a position of assistant to Albert Merker, Chief of the Bureau of Markets of New Jersey.

Speaking of marketing in this state, Mr. Duryee said: "The future of the marketing problem is great and New Jersey does not propose to be left in the rear. The marketing of eggs, potatoes, milk and fruit will receive special attention by the Board, and special instructions in grading and standardizing will be given wherever asked for."

More than 70,000,000 quarts of milk are used in New Jersey than are produced there, and a special effort will be exerted to procure a home market for this product. The demand for milk from tuberculosis tested cows exceeds the demand for pasteurized milk in the cities of northern New Jersey, and the prospect for the new tuberculosis testing law are bright. Atlantic county, Cape May county, and a part of Cumberland county being the first sections to be entered for the area Tuberculin testing."

Mr. Duryee has accepted an invitation from the United States Government to visit the areas of gypsy moth infection in the New England states during the fore part of July. A few years ago the government, with the state aid, nearly eradicated the gypsy moth in this section, and soon afterward dropped their precautionary methods. Now the infection is so bad that experts have been able to do little in combating it. It is because New Jersey has been so successful in this particular branch of work that the government invitations was extended to Mr. Duryee.

If you don't believe it pays to discount your bills by prompt payment, listen to this: the government saved $4,298,448 in four years by paying promptly and getting the cash discount.

House Breakers Get State Prison Terms

Judge Slaughter Hands Out 7½ Year Sentences for Convicted Robbers

Several important criminal matters were disposed of by Judge Slaughter in the Burlington County Court at Mount Holly last Thursday, chief among which was the sentencing of the young desperadoes who broke into and robbed at least three houses in the county on Sunday, June 26.

William J. Hegel and Herman E. Splitter were the men and they came into Court and pleaded guilty to breaking, entering and larceny at the homes of Frank H. Ellis, near Mount Holly; Carl Young, near Georgetown; and Ryland Gibson, of Indian Mills. They also pleaded guilty to carrying concealed weapons.

Splitter was given a sentence of two and one-half years on each charge of breaking and entering, making seven and one-half years in all, while Hegel will serve the same length of time, with a fine of $1,500 added.

Both young men, who appeared more like bank clerks than burglars, have been in trouble before and Hegel has served time, but Splitter has previously managed to escape punishment.

Splitter had just secured a position in a New York bank and had come back to Trenton, his home town, for the weekend, when he met his old chum, Hegel, and the robberies were planned.

Count Suspended
The charge of carrying weapons against both men was not forced and sentence was suspended on this count.

Frank Meservey, of Chesterfield, charged with stealing 210 baskets of peaches from Charles Parent, of Bordentown, pleaded not guilty. His case will come on later.

Benny Wada, Michael Denzeran, Louis Veres and George Refitky, young lads from Roebling, were before the Court on a charge of breaking into the freight station at Roebling and stealing some canned goods.

Attorney Peacock volunteered to represent them, with the result that the boys admitted their guilt to him, and after he had made a statement to the Court, Wada, who had been out of Reform School but nine months, was sentenced to return to that institution; Denzeran and Veres were placed on probation and they must go to work and earn at least $1 a week to pay the costs of $12 each.

Goes to Mother
Refitky was permitted to go home with his mother, he being the smallest of the lot and it being shown that he had been dragged into the case by the other boys.

Russell Thompson, Paul Thompson and Andrew Johnson, three of a quartet of Camden young men who burglarized the home of George Erickson, near Palmyra, and took a number of wedding gifts, the complainant having been married, pleaded guilty and they will be sentenced this Thursday.

John Wesley Hewitt, the fourth member of the gang, did not sign a waiver and his case was laid over until the second Thursday in September.

James Bevely, colored, came in on a waiver and pleaded guilty to striking Benjamin Robin over the head with a stick of wood during a fight on West Washington street, Mount Holly, on the Fourth of July, and he was placed on probation for two years and will have the costs of $50 to pay.

Hears Appeal Cases
At the Court House on Wednesday, Judge Slaughter heard the appeal cases of Alex. Wilkins, of Locust street, Burlington, against John Schelly and Abraham Goldstein, and also that of Edward Smith against the same defendants, the cases being tried as one by agreement of counsel.

Wilkins and Smith brought suit against Schelly and Goldstein for damages resulting from a tree which was being removed from the Goldstein property by Schelly falling on their porch and practically crushing them.

Schelly was supposed to be an expert tree doctor engaged by Goldstein to remove the tree, and while he was so engaged the tree fell, without warning.

Schelly is somewhere in the south and cannot be located, so Mr. Goldstein was left to face the music alone.

The Court decided the cases in favor of the plaintiff and awarded Wilkins $81.87 and costs and Smith $52.89 and costs.

Judge Slaughter and Prosecutor Hillman disposed of four more criminal matters on Friday of last week, as follows:

George Tischentlicher, of Woodland, charged with breaking, entering and larceny, retracted his plea of not guilty and pleaded non vult, and later sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation for two years and will have the costs of $50 to pay at once.

Edwin Markiewicz, of Burlington, a persistent offender against the prohibition laws, there being no less than four indictments against him, evidently saw the handwriting on the wall and he, too, made a retraction and threw himself on the mercy of the Court.

After he had pleaded non vult to two indictments the other two were ordered nolle prossed.

Markiewicz will be back for sentence on July 21.

Charles B. Gould, of Burlington, charged with neglect and non-support of his wife, had his support order amended to $7 a week, and his bail was continued.

Alfred Marchese, of Burlington, another offender against the prohibition laws, had his case heard by a jury and the verdict was guilty.

ISSUE ON BUS LAW

Gloucester Seeks Definition of Special Rights for Vehicles

Mayor Anderson, of Gloucester City has requested City Solicitor Letzgas, who is a member of the New Jersey State Legislature, to define the meaning of an act of the Legislature permitting drivers of motor buses certain rights over other drivers.

Bus drivers have been giving traffic officers in Gloucester City considerable trouble, and it is alleged have endangered the lives and property of other motor car drivers because they have persisted in pulling out of line, when passing along Broadway. It is also said they have driven past traffic lights and have openly defied police when reprimanded.

The society is unique in that it exists, like the famous Federal Club, of Trenton, without constitution or by-laws. It will meet once a year unless otherwise called in special session and while its aims are social, its members will cooperate with municipal officials to promote the civic interests of the various Long Beach resorts. Residents of Burlington county owning property or summering on the island are eligible for membership. The dues of $2.50 a year admit to the shore dinner and other functions of the society and likewise a dinner ticket, at the same price, is accepted in lieu of dues.

Officers of the society are Charles B. Durbin, of Riverton, president; Armitt Coate, Moorestown, Joseph R. Chesman, Burlington and Herbert Zeigler, of Riverside, vice presidents; Franklin Gaunt, Burlington, treasurer; Carleton E. Sholl, Burlington, secretary. Prominent residents representing practically every community in Burlington county will act as a Reception Committee at the reunion.

The celebration promises to be one of the high spots in the social season of Long Beach. The complete program will be announced within a few days and will include prominent speakers, fine music, excellent entertainment and a dinner that will be an epicurean delight. A dance will follow the dinner.

Burlington and Ocean county residents desiring to attend the dinner can order tickets up to July 20 or until the supply is exhausted. Orders and checks for tickets can be sent to the Society of Long Beach, care of the Hotel Oceanickon, Brant Beach. Attendance at the dinner will be limited to 200 and already more than half of the tickets have been subscribed.

Long Beach Society Plans Annual Feast

Reunion and Shore Dinner to be Held on Saturday, July 23

Prominent state and county officials will be guests at the first annual celebration of the Burlington Society of Long Beach, which will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, July 23. The big feature will be a reunion and shore dinner in the evening at the new Hotel Oceanickon, at Brant Beach.

The society has an extensive membership among Burlington countians who are property owners or summer visitors in the resorts between Beach Haven and Barnegat City. While it may not be possible for every such potential member to attend the various events, the committee of arrangements has requested every Burlington county resident owning property or summering on the island to display the American flag in front of his Long Beach residence on the day of the celebration.

The society is unique in that it exists, like the famous Federal Club, of Trenton, without constitution or by-laws. It will meet once a year unless otherwise called in special session and while its aims are social, its members will cooperate with municipal officials to promote the civic interests of the various Long Beach resorts. ## PLEAD GUILTY

Three of Four Accused of Robbing House Admit Guilt

Three of the four men charged with breaking into the home of George Erickson, Columbia Avenue, Palmyra, on Thursday, June 30, pleaded guilty in criminal court at Mount Holly last Thursday. They were Russell Thompson, 25, of 28th and Federal streets, Camden; Paul Thompson, 21, of 131 North 22nd street, Camden, and Andrew "Chapman" Johnson, 23, of North Merchantville.

Sentence was deferred until the meeting of the grand jury on the second Tuesday in September by Judge Slaughter.

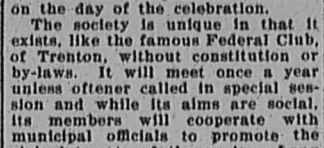

A fourth man, John Wesley Hewitt, 20, of Park avenue, Pensauken, pleaded not guilty and was returned to jail to await trial.

STUDY—THEN VOTE

Lively interest and free public discussion should be maintained in all the proposed amendments to the State Constitution throughout the Summer months. It is the hope of the State Bar Association that the citizens will go to the polls on September 20 fully prepared to render a well-informed judgment.

There is nothing about these suggested changes which their advocates need to cover up. In each case, increased governmental efficiency and economy are the aims.
Here they are in a nutshell:

1. Term extension—Governor, four years; State Senators, four years; Assemblymen, two years;
biennial sessions of the Legislature.
It is estimated that these changes will save the State $750,000 a year, and that they will result in economy of legislation.

2. Zoning—municipalities to be empowered to enact zoning ordinances; enforcement to be within the police power. Community development is bound to be haphazard without Constitutional provision for protection of residential and industrial sections according to local will.

3. Sewage, drainage, water—legislative authorization to establish districts for effective solution of these important civic problems.
Increasing population demands centralized control agencies which minister so directly to the needs of State-wide citizenship.

4. Referenda—permission to obtain expressions of public sentiment at general elections. This will eliminate the cost of holding special elections. It also will mean time-saving for the voters.
5. Appointment of judges—Plea Judges—the Governor to be empowered to make such appointments with the confirmation of the Senate. This is not a new move.
It merely clarifies an existing constitutional inconsistency—Trenton

BE CIVILIZED

Are you civilized? Be careful now before answering, because there is a gauge by which you can judge at the findings. Answer accurately yourself—and you may be surprised.
"How tolerant are you?"—and you will know to what degree you are civilized.

It has been aptly put by one writer that: "The measure of your tolerance is your distance from the jungle." Schooling and manners have nothing whatsoever to do with tolerance. These are only veneer.
Many people never develop a sufficient degree of tolerance to qualify as civilized people. It is those who cause most of the trouble in the world. They crucify, they burn, they are their answers to logic.

How may I know whether I am tolerant or not? You may ask.
Here are a few characteristics:
When a man says he will not argue, he usually means he will not listen. He has opinions and he delights to make them vocal. But when he has told his side of the story, nothing remains to be said.
He construes any discussion of the matter as an effort on your part to "argue." He is the distance from the jungle. The subject should be one of intense interest to every person.
Vesper service in the evening at

The Ladies Aid Society is giving a quaint and queer social Thursday evening, July 22d, at eight o'clock, a feature of which is a "Womanless Wedding." About 20 men will give a dramatization of a wedding, depicting many humorous situations and conversations. The little comedy has been staged at other churches with very great success. One woman wrote from Chicago to the effect that it met with such great approval at their church that they hoped we would put it on as soon as possible. It is the vogue in new church entertainments. The playlet is to be held in the basement of the church. There will be no admission charges, but a silver offering will be lifted. Refreshments will be served after the "wedding", and tickets will be sold at the church on that evening for these dainties which you will need to cool you off after the hearty laughs.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Is a "summer slump" necessary?
Business men, industries and church leaders are proving that the proposed "summer slump" is largely a mental attitude—a state of mind.
The work of the church and the kingdom of God is just as important and as necessary during July as during January or any other month.
Let Central Baptist Church carry on through the summer months in good services, interesting and inspiring messages, and good attendance.

"God's Protecting Power" will be Pastor Lockett's message on Sunday morning.

In the evening the pastor will have a helpful talk on "Human Sympathy."

Spend these short hours in the church!

Those who attended the Bible School picnic at Knights Park last Saturday returned home "weary and content" after a good time in the open.

The Samaritan Class had a very interesting meeting in the church on Tuesday evening, at which several contributed to the round of speaking.

The young people from our church who attended the sessions of the BYPU convention in Philadelphia returned home filled with inspiration and enthusiasm which was evident in the devotionals at the sessions in the Baptist Temple and at the Arena.

Members of the Philathea Class and the church share deeply the sorrow of the class teacher, Mrs.
Moore, in the sudden loss of her husband this week.

"This is my church.—Here I find comfort in my sorrow, courage in my struggle, joy in my victories.
Here I gain strength by which I become a man which I have learned I ought to be."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. William M. Erhard, Pastor
Sunday School at ten in the morning, the subject for study being "Samuel Anoints David." Men elect some public servants to office;
God elects some. David was one chosen by God, whose criterion of choice is the heart; while that of men is more superficial. Man looketh on the outward appearance, but God looketh on the heart. In Isaiah, therefore, there is a selamo-logical register, a part of which is a block of stone twenty-four solid feet in depth sunk in the ground.
On the top of this is a delicate instrument, which actually writes with pencil a record of vibrations in every part of the globe. While this instrument will not record the loudest surface noises in the very city of Palestine itself, it will record the vibrations of an earthquake on the other side of the earth. It measures the depths. So does God.
And though we may be able to fool others into thinking we are all right, God is probing the heart and finding vibrations of selfish and sinful desire or of abounding selfish love and purity.

At the service at 11:15 in the morning, the pastor will preach from the text: "Thy speech bewrayeth thee," Matthew 23:27. The writer of Proverbs gives us one side: "Words fitly spoken are like apples of gold in pitchers of silver."
James the other side: "And the tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity, so is the tongue among our members, that it defileth the whole body." The subject should be one of intense interest to every person.

STOP FIRE WASTE

We save the cost of a battleship or two in limitation of Armament Agreements between nations. The public may well take some pride in this achievement and figure out the saving in pennies to every man, woman and child in the country.
But, there is a still bigger tax—
FIRE—going on with only a feeble voice here or there trying to limit the cost. Where the saving to each of us in the case of battleships can be figured in pennies, the cost of unnecessary fire loss must be figured in dollars.

The National Board of Fire Underwriters in a little booklet just published points out thirty-two ways in which our children may help to prevent fire. It is equally as desirable to save life and property from fire waste as from war waste.

wealth doesn't bring contentment, and many people are sure that poverty doesn't.

FLYING FIELD

Effort Being Made to Locate Airport at Mount Holly

John Kelly, Camden realtor who owns seventeen farms in the vicinity of Mount Holly, and who recently acquired the Carlton Jones farm, near the Children's Home, and a portion of the J. Aquilla Jones farm, will make an effort to have one of the talked of Government aviation fields located at Mount Holly. It is said.
Mr. Kelly will bend all his energies toward interesting Senators Edwards and Edge and Congressman
Bachrach in the merits of Mount Holly as a favorable site for such a field and he will no doubt have the backing of many of the citizens and business interests in his efforts to push the project.

Our work is important business or only a daily grind, just as we look at it; but in one case it is interesting and worthwhile and in the other way only drudgery.

the Coward." Give your heart a rest by joining in our Song Service.

The Methodist Sunday School
picnic will be held at Cedar Lake, Saturday, July 16. Buses will leave the church at 9.30 a. m. and 1.45 p. m. There will be all kinds of sports, including races, baseball games, etc.

There is a good lake for swimming for anybody who loves the spot and it is hoped we will have a large number to attend the picnic.

An American writes us from Paris that he now knows why the French bartender named that drink
"Lindberg." He says, once inside, it opens up like a parachute.

Taking the horse and buggy out on the road for a Sunday ride these days is a far more hazardous voyage

Essential Characteristics of Various Forms of Government

Essay, Written by Ruth Thompson, Won Second Prize Offered to Moorestown High School Seniors by Burlington County Trust Company

The following essay, entitled "The Essential Characteristics of Various Forms of Government," was written by Ruth Thompson and won second prize offered by the Burlington County Trust Company to the graduating class of Moorestown High School this year.

The famous Greek philosopher, Aristotle, classified good governments under three heads, monarchy, aristocracy and democracy, and monarchy, aristocracy and democracy, as to which he held three different opinions, namely, monarchy, aristocracy or democracy, oligarchy and democracy.

A monarchy is that form of government in which the authority is exercised by one person or in his name. It is not hard to see the first form of government known to man was a monarchy, the rule of one man. In the ancient or primitive state, the strongest, or perhaps the most cunning, held leadership.

If the head of the organization has entire authority, the government is called an absolute monarchy. If his power is checked in any way, it is called a limited monarchy. In the sense in which they used to exist, there is no absolute monarchy in the world today. In many cases, the king or monarch had life and death power over his subjects. But the great authority of the monarchs has been steadily decreasing, till finally the Great War destroyed several that survived until then.

Many countries, like Great Britain and Italy, still keep the custom of having a king at the head of the nation, but he is little more than a figurehead.

Kings Lose Power When more and more men become strong and crafty, and as more and more force was needed to keep their power, the people came to despise the king. Power gradually passed from the king's hand.

From this we have the development of the aristocracy.

Aristocracy, from the Greek denoting the rule of the "best," "Arista" in Greek means high birth, wealth and personal excellence. An aristocratic government is one in which the power is in the hands of the wealthy noble class. To the Greek mind, aristocracy appeared as the best form of government.

In that it was free, unlike from despotism and mob rule. No government now is entirely aristocratic, although some of them are, not entirely free from such features.

The third form of government named by Aristotle was the republic, or democracy. A republic is that form of government in which the people elect through officers whom they elect.

The United States is a federal republic; but not all republics are federal. The form of government provided into parts only for administrative purposes, as our states are divided into counties. France is an example of this, a centralized not a federal republic.

Absolutism or autocracy is the first of Aristotle's bad governments. The theory of autocracy has been most clearly stated by Bismarck, the learned and upright bishop of France. Of all forms of government, said Bismarck, autocracy is not only the most usual and ancient, but the most natural, the strongest and most efficient, and therefore the surest foundation of the monarch over his people may be compared to the authority of a father over his family. Like a father, the king should provide for the welfare of his people and watch over them in their activities. In religious as well as political matters, the king is supreme. The

FERTILIZATION OF ASPARAGUS There are many different practices in this state in regard to methods and dates of application of fertilizer on cutting asparagus beds. Some growers apply nitrate of soda alone early in the spring at the rate of 200 to 400 lbs. per acre, and when the cutting stops they make their regular application of a high-grade fertilizer.

The practice is different in other states. It is definitely known that phosphoric acid and potash, in coming in contact with other elements of the soil, will lock themselves up to some extent and become slowly available during the summer. This theory is quite plausible on the heavier types of soil, especially in the northern part of the state, but on the sandier soils in South Jersey there is not much body to the soil.

Here it would be better to apply a complete high-grade fertilizer at the time of breaking down the ridges after cutting stops, so if you have not already applied your fertilizer it would be highly advisable to make a generous application as soon as possible so that the roots can store up plant food for heavy cutting next spring.

HOME GARDENERS MAY SECURE PROTECTION AGAINST THE JAPANESE BEETLE

This year the sprays for the control of the Japanese Beetle should be applied during the first week in July. When the beetles once begin their attack upon a plant, it is hard to control them by spraying. It is very important, therefore, to apply the coating of spray in advance of their appearance.

For apples and pears, use 3 table-spoonful of powdered arsenate of lead and 2 table-spoonful of flour. Mix the ingredients together dry, make into a paste and add enough water to make 1 gallon of spray. Avoid spraying within 2 weeks of time of harvest.

For cherries, after crop is harvested, and non-bearing fruit trees, drawn to a community where only a few hundred would be present under ordinary conditions. This material has been developed to be used in connection with a Pyrethrum contact spray, which is adaptable to community work where the beetles are attracted to a central point and then killed with a contact spray. The use of traps alone is condemned.

The County Extension Office (Phone Mt. Holly 128) will be glad to reply to any personal inquiries regarding control measures for the Japanese Beetle.

Mother's Cook Book

Labor is wholesome for all. Joy by it is sustained, and sorrow the greatest sorrow. It means that the good God made it for each of us.

THE FAMILY MEAL

ALL rich cakes, puddings, pies and preserves should be eaten sparingly after the age of sixty. All green vegetables, such as spinach, peas, lettuce and cress, should find a place in one meal each day. These are especially valuable for growing children and equally valuable for the aged.

Orange Sauce.

Mix one cupful of sugar, rind of one orange and two table-spoonfuls of lemon juice; when well blended add two cupfuls of boiling water and cook until thick and the cornstarch taste is removed; then add a table-spoonful of butter, one-third of a cupful of orange juice and a pinch of salt. Serve hot over plum or cottage pudding.

Fruit Sandwiches.

Finely chop well-washed figs, add a small quantity of water and cook in a double boiler until a paste is formed. Sweeten to taste and flavor with grated lemon peel; cool and spread on slices of buttered toast or nut bread. Press together in pairs and cut into four small triangles. Garnish each with a large seeded raisin.

Prune and Nut Sandwiches.

Remove the stones and finely chop one cupful of prunes, add one-half cupful of chopped English walnuts, moisten with mayonnaise dressing and use as a filling between thin slices of buttered bread. Cut into any desired shapes and serve with coffee.

Chicken Pie With Oysters.

Cut into pieces a nice fat chicken, put into a saucepan, cover with boiling water, season highly with salt and pepper and stew until it is tender. Line the sides of a baking dish with a nice rich crust. Remove the largest bones from the chicken and place the meat in layers with oysters, salt and pepper and pieces of butter. Pour in the chicken broth and some of the oyster liquor. Cover with a top crust and bake.

Seniors Said.

Take one cupful of grated fresh coconut, one pint of cubed apple, one cupful of finely cut celery, one small onion cut into fine cubes; mix all well and moisten lightly with milk and the coconut, let stand until well chilled; add a light seasoning of French dressing, and when ready to serve add plenty of mayonnaise.

Christ's mercy, sweet, to know.

How souls, so innocent of crime, have saved, so unjustly known.

And those who held controlling hands.

So little mercy, shown.

'Tis sad how avarice and greed have, so much sorrow brought.

Were all bright each happiness, Have Christ's sweet lessons taught.

Oh! when shall love e'er rule the world.

And make life sweet, indeed.

To fill our lives with peace and joy

And blessing that we need

When shall man's inhumanity, To kindness e'er be changed.

So that for love and happiness, Our lives may be arranged?

Florence Champs

Take First Place

Playoff May be Necessary in Co. League; Locals Lose to R. D. Wood

Whether or not a playoff will be necessary to decide the disposition of first-half honors in the Burlington County League will be decided tonight (Wednesday) when Burlington and Vincentown meet on the latter's diamond.

After holding the lead throughout the first half, Burlington relinquished it Saturday when Austin "Pat" Vaughn hurled Medford to a 7-6 triumph. The defeat was the second in 12 starts for Burlington. Similarly, the Burlington team was administered by Medford.

At the same time, R. D. Wood, of Florence, completed its schedule by knocking off Moorestown, 6-1, for its fourth win in fourteen starts. If Burlington wins Wednesday, R. D. Wood and Burlington will meet in a one-game playoff to decide the championship. It was announced by Secretary Albert W. Staley, Burlington, that R. D. Wood both its losses.

Morrie Lippincott allowed Moorestown only three hits and R. D. Wood copped a 6-1 decision with ease at the South Church street grounds on Saturday.

Ernie Potts, who twirled for the locals, weakened in the eighth and ninth and was hammered freely by the Woodmen.

Bordentown dropped Mount Holy in a close tilt at Bordentown by a 4-2 score, while Vincentown topped Delanco to a tune of 6-2 in the other league conflict.

PALMYRA BOYS WIN

St. Joseph's Catholic Club Defeated By 8-6 Score

The Palmyra Boys' Club made it two in a row Saturday afternoon when they downed the St. Joseph's Catholic Club of Riverton by the score of 8 to 6, at the Palmyra grounds.

Gatinsky, third base for Palmyra, was the hitting star for his team with three wallops. He also scored three runs. Eschman, the Riverton pitcher, twirled a good game in holding Palmyra to seven hits besides getting three bingles himself and tallying two of his team's six markers.

County History of 25 Years Ago

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror, July
9, 1902

At a recent meeting of the Cranberry Growers' Association, held in Mount Holly, it was the opinion of the members that the cranberry crop had been injured 60 per cent. by frosts.

William H. Hinkle, of Mount Holly, underwent an operation last week for the removal of a bone from his foot, recently badly injured by a fall from a ladder.

A raid on crap shooters at White Hill was made on Sunday and twenty violators of the gambling law were arrested.

Era C. Engle, of near Masonville, left a basket of unusually fine Early Rose potatoes at The Mirror office this morning. He reports a yield of 450 baskets per acre.

William Burtis, a brother of Harvey Burtis, of Mount Holly, passed through town on Monday, enroute from Philadelphia to Freehold in a new automobile.

In order to save their crops from rot, on account of the heavy recent rains, farmers in this vicinity have been digging their potatoes. They have been getting 70 cents a basket for them, but the price is gradually going down.

Holly Physician Weds
The wedding of Dr. J. Hume Carter, of Mount Holly, and Miss Katherine Kump, of Vincentown, took place at the home of the bride on Monday evening. Rev. William H. Harris officiated. Dr. and Mrs. Carter are living in their newly furnished home on Brainerd street.

There was plenty of noise in Mount Holly on the Fourth, but aside from that the day was without special observance. Many visitors were in town and there was more intoxication on the streets than has been seen for a long time. Members of Shriners Post O. A. U. had a picnic in the court house yard. Music was furnished by the Metropolitan band, of Burlington, and an orchestra.

The Mount Holly Trust ends its first month of business with several estates placed in its hands for administration and between fifty and sixty accounts opened with it.

Burlington Shoe factory operator, who recently organized a union, went out on strike on Thursday, 600 men and women quitting work. The trouble is reported to be that the manufacturers refuse to recognize the union but insist on keeping open shop.

A record-breaking crowd visited Seaside Park on the Fourth. The resort's popularity is widespread and on the increase.

From July 10
Relief Fire company, of Mount Holly, celebrated its 100th anniversary on Friday, 11th inst., by holding appropriate exercises in the Mount Holly Opera House. Representatives of fire companies from New Jersey and Pennsylvania were included in the audience. Col. Charles M. Sloan, president of the company, presided. A carefully prepared paper on the history of the company was read by Joseph C. Cowell, for many years a member of the company. Among those who made addresses were Charles Ewan Merritt and Joseph C. Kingdon, Mount Holly; Henry S. Haines, Burlington; John G. Heath, West Chester, Pa.; Levi French, Atlantic City; John C. Clay, Philadelphia; and Evan F. Benner, Moorestown. Instrumental music was furnished by an orchestra and Stacy B. Lippincott, of Mount Holly, sang two solos.

The Farmer's Telephone Company, recently organized, has begun erecting poles and wires. The company will operate in the rural section of Brown's Mills.

The contract for erecting a theatre building in Burlington has been let to James W. Lanning of Trenton. It will be known as the Burlington Auditorium.

The Peoples Traction Company was incorporated in Camden on Monday to operate a trolley line between Mount Holly and Burlington. The capital is $175,000. The incorporators are Josiah K. Bougher, Philadelphia; I. H. Schweigard, Atlantic City, and Dr. William C. Parry, Hainesport.

At a meeting of the Board of Freeholders on Wednesday, a resolution was adopted providing that the solicitor, Charles K. Chambers, be directed to bring suit against cities and townships in arrears for taxes and also against property owners for stone road assessments due the county.

BARNEGAT BAY BRIDGE

Driving to Ortleigh Beach and other Island Beach resorts via Toms River this summer, motorists will roll out from the country seat over a broad concrete highway, beautifully shaded by fine trees to the bay's edge and thence over the State's new bridge to the beach. This splendid entrance to one of New Jersey's most magnificent seashore resort districts will be a big factor in drawing increasing thousands to this recreational paradise. The Sloan Plan of state highway improvement, the State bond issue for which every motorist and seashore owner will back in the Fall election, contemplates three more great trans-state roads feeding this bridge route—one from the country seat over a broad area, one from Trenton and one from Camden. Every one of these highways will become a new tributary of prosperity's stream flowing to Ocean county's shores.

SNAP WILD BIRDS
Under the direction of Carleton E. Sholl, of Burlington, moving and still pictures were made of the pheasants, wild turkeys and other birds at the Game Farm at Forked River. The farm is maintained by the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, of which H. J. Burlington, of Montvale, is the head. There are 8,000 pheasants at the farm. The pictures are a part of reels being prepared by the Fish and Game Commission for use of schools, gun clubs, etc.

THE REAL REASONS FOR CAR OWNERSHIP

"If the man who owns a car will seriously analyze his feelings about it, he will find that what he really bought the car for was to provide the means of getting to and from places quickly and economically," says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company.

"Yet we find any number of car shoppers ignoring the fact that automobile transportation is the prime consideration in car purchase. Popularity of make or model, body lines and colors, unusual specification features, are often allowed to influence the judgment of the car buyers to the exclusion of more important considerations. When he realizes that the car is a part of his daily life and business, then he knows that dependability and local responsibility are the biggest factors in car ownership."

NEW TEST PLANNED FOR STATE POLICE

Hold Examinations July 22 To Complete Authorized Strength

To complete the authorized strength of the State Police an examination to establish a list of eligibles will be conducted by Colonel Norman Schwarzkopf, the superintendent, at the State House, Friday, July 22, at nine o'clock in the morning. All applicants reporting for this test should come prepared to stay two days.

Candidates must be citizens of the United States, preferably New Jersey, between the ages of twenty-one and forty, and of good moral character. The examinations include a mental, medical, physical, structural and oral test. The applicants must be over five feet six inches in height and proportionate in weight.

The period of enlistment is for two years, carrying a salary for troopers at the rate of $1,200 a year after six months service. Recruits in training receive $50 a month for three months and $75 a month for the following three months. Beginning the seventh month the base pay is at the rate of $1,200 a year. Food, lodging and equipment are provided by the department.

All applicants will be required to complete a three months' period of training and qualify for service on the road. After successfully completing their training they will be further required to complete a three months' probationary period on the road and to demonstrate their capabilities. Pay and allowances start from day of reporting for duty at the police training school near Wilburtha.

Big Extension to P. S. Terminal Bldg.

Fourteen Story $2,500,000 Addition Being Built at Newark Headquarters

We are demolishing the old building preliminary to the construction of the East Park Street extension of the Newark Terminal Building of Public Service is under way and it is expected that the foundations will be started soon. This will be followed by the structural steel work.

The addition will contain fourteen floors, two of which will be mezzanines. Therefore, only three of the floors proper will extend above the ninth floor of the present building. The mezzanines will be added in order to maintain the floor designations in keeping with those of the present structure. As there is no necessity for continuing the train floor level through the new extension, one of the mezzanines will be placed between the street level and the second floor. The second mezzanine will be between the eighth and ninth floors and will be known as the eighth mezzanine floor.

The main floor on the concourse will be used as a display room for the Industrial Fuel Department; the first mezzanine and second floors by the Vice President in Charge of Sales; the third, fourth and fifth floors by the Accounting Department of the Electric, Gas and Railway Companies; the sixth floor by the Welfare Department and Railway Traffic and Timetable Departments; the seventh floor by the Electric Distribution Department; the eighth floor, the corporation executive vault and a part of the Railway Claim Department attorneys; the eighth floor by the Railway Claim Department; the eighth mezzanine, ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth floors by Public Service Production Company, part of the quarters of which are now located outside of the Terminal Building.

The exterior architectural treatment of the extension will conform to that of the present building, the East Park Street front being faced with limestone. Bridges will connect the north and south wings at the eighth and ninth floor levels. The interior will conform to that of the present building so far as the extensive use of steel and glass partitions, hollow metal doors and electric lighting will permit. Elevator service will consist of four additional elevators.

A feature of the design will be a fire tower stairway in accordance with the building code, with an exit directly on Pine street. Special attention has been paid to ventilation and lighting facilities.

The estimated cost of the new extension is $2,500,000 and an additional net floor space of 97,500 square feet will be provided. It is expected the building will be ready for occupancy by October, 1928.

Bradstreet's and Dun's are the world's greatest fortune tellers.

Y. W. C. A. CONFERENCE

Eleven Burlington County Delegates Leave For Silver Bay

Eleven happy and enthusiastic delegates left on Monday morning, July 11th, for the Eastern Community conference at Silver Bay on Lake George, New York. Burlington County is being represented by Misses Mildred Purnell and Grace Atkinson, Mrs. John Love, Mrs. Lottie Kirby, Mrs. Clarence Davenport, Mt. Holly; Mrs. Florence Lowden, Misses Reba Troxell and Flora Cassidy, Burlington; Mrs. Edward Harmer, Mrs. William Mathack, Moorestown; and Miss Bessie Sumner, executive secretary of Burlington County.

Mrs. Davenport will be the accompanist during the conference, while Mrs. Harmer will have charge of the volunteer training course and Miss Sumner will lead one of the discussion groups.

These delegates met at the county office in Mt. Holly last Thursday evening and made final preparations for their participation in the conference. Miss Helen Hoff, Girl Reserve Secretary, left Burlington County on Wednesday morning, July 6th, with four happy and enthusiastic girls for the Girl Reserve High School Conference at Camp Whelan, Harvey Cedars, N. J. Those going were: Ellen Alpihl, Moorestown; Phyllis Bosarth, Mt. Holly; Eleanor Gordon, Burlington; and Lola Johnson, Riverton.

TO PENSION POLICE

The ordinance authorizing the pensioning of police officers who had served the city twenty years and had reached the age of sixty years, at a salary of $60 per month, passed last reading at a meeting of the Burlington City Council last week.

Most people go to extremes; they either laugh at life or cry at it.

Grant Charter for Bank at Marlton

Organization Plans Go Forward as Application Meets Treasury Approval

A National Bank, long needed and much desired institution for Marlton, is now nearly a reality. Last week approval of the application for a charter was received from the Comptroller's office of the United States Treasury Department and plans to comply with all requirements to secure charter are already under way.

The bank will be known as the First National Bank of Marlton with a capital stock of $25,000 and surplus of $10,000. The stock is to be divided into five hundred shares with a par value of $50 with an additional $25 for each share to provide the $10,000 surplus.

Efforts will be made to dispose of the stock to local people and everyone will have an opportunity to secure a portion. All subscriptions will be subject to allotment.

The organization committee will make a canvass for subscriptions for stock. The committee is as follows:

John Harff, Herbert R. Snyder, Mark Lippincott, Isaac R. Farrow, A. William Haines, Lewis C. Peters, William G. Fowler, Alfred B. Middleton, Edward H. Wells, J. W. Snyder, Marlton; Robert H. Jagard, Berlin; Warner S. Smith, Medford; George R. Abrams, Vincentown.

The committee has secured option on several desirable locations for the bank which will be decided during the coming week. The location, also, the temporary officers of the bank will probably be announced within a few days.

MRS. COOLIDGE, COMMON SENSE
POLITE GOV. MOODY
REAL FLYING AUG 1.

Mrs. Coolidge, in South Dakota, sees women of all kinds, young girls and grandmothers, wearing knickerbockers. Mrs. Coolidge respects them and probably admires their common sense, but she will not wear knickerbockers. Rubber boots when she goes fishing and a skirt of reasonable length—never mind if it gets wet.

Clothes, as Carlie shows in "Barter Resartus," make all the difference between a man of grandeur and a "featherless biped."

Two hundred and seven Americans reported incomes of $1,000,000 a year or more in 1925.

In 1924 only seventy-five reported incomes of a million dollars or over.

Once a man owning a million was a wonder. Now 207 have a million or more INCOME and some have fifty millions of income and a good deal more through corporation ownership.

And the billion a year income will arrive before earth's phase of industrial feudalism shall pass.

Mrs. Freeman, whose unhappy mother whose husband was killed by an automobile, killed herself and her five children when told they must go to an orphan asylum. "Better dead than without a mother," said the poor woman, and went with them.

She was careful to protect two canary birds, putting them where the deadly gas could not reach them. She knew that canary birds have a value, somebody would buy them and treat them kindly. She knew that children have no value; that she could not be sure that strangers in an asylum would treat them kindly.

Visiting New York City with a party of distinguished Texans, welcomed and looked up to, literally and in other ways, Governor Moody listens and thinks.

He hears that New York City is the biggest American factory town, turning out five and a half billion dollars worth of products a year. Governor Moody is too polite to mention the fact that any State he has seen on his way East, including New York, could be tucked away in Texas, and not attract much attention. Texas alone, intensively cultivated, could feed every one of the 1,900,000,000 human beings on earth and have room left to raise cotton.

While Hyrd was flying east across the Atlantic, and two young Army men went across the Pacific at 110 miles an hour, our interesting visitor, the comet Pons-Winnecke, was leaving the earth behind, passing through various constellations at the rate of 66,600 miles an hour.

released from service on this earth, make some such journey? That would be more interesting than going into the ground to stay there.

The VERY DRYS plan a dry ticket in 1928, if neither party supplies them with a candidate dry enough.

It would be enlightening to nominate at least one independent dry. The result would be instructive. Few candidates dare defy the dry, few would want an out and out dry nomination.

At this moment of flying enthusiasm, one word of caution is necessary, and expert fliers remind you of it.

Don't go up "just to know how it feels" unless you know the pilot and the machine.

There are unsafe machines, plenty of them, including many bought second-hand from the United States Government. There are unskilful pilots and other skilful, but reckless.

Barring dangerously bad weather, bad pilots and unsafe machines, flying is now safe. But BE CAREFUL.

Beginning on August 1, air passenger service from the Atlantic to the Pacific is promised, the trip to take thirty hours.

First will come a straight line air trip from San Francisco to Chicago, with transfers to Los Angeles and Seattle. Then a San Francisco to New York line, with the same transfers. Passenger ships will carry the mails, and flying will have started.

FULL STOP STREETS

Public Service Instructs Operators; New Law in Effect

M. R. Boylan, vice-president in charge of operations, Monday morning issued the following bulletin to all operators of Public Service trolley cars and buses.

"The 'through street' law enacted by the New Jersey Legislature at its last session as a measure of safety and to speed up traffic is now in effect.

"The law provides that certain streets and highways, including those upon which street cars and trolleys operate, shall be known as 'through streets' and imposes upon the driver of any vehicle approaching them from side streets, the duty of coming to a full stop before proceeding across or into them. The designation of such streets by suitable markers is also provided for.

"Where a similar law has been in effect, notably in Cleveland and Detroit there has been, as reported by the Manager of the Newark Safety Council, a material reduction in accidents, while delays to traffic have been reduced, and the regulation is favored by drivers of all classes of vehicles.

"We are desirous of doing our part in making it as successful and popular in this state. Please note, therefore, that the law is not an excuse for relaxing in any way your care and vigilance or for undue speed of cars and buses.

"You will as usual observe all the rules of your company in respect to safety and speed and you will continue to operate your car or bus with caution, having it at all times under control.

"In case of an accident resulting from failure to observe the law, you will note on your report such failure and give the full details thereof."

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Results Are What Count

Discussion has been going on recently in the press about George Bernard Shaw's remark that a woman ought to be a mother in order to be a good teacher.

This remark was made opposing the tendencies in many places to have only unmarried teachers.

Many educators have expressed themselves upon one side or the other of this question.

After all it is merely a point of view.

One side looks at the question as to whether a woman can do a good job of teaching or not.

The other side looks at the question as to whether the woman ought to have the place or not with the salary attached.

In many places of business a job is looked upon as a sort of special privilege and certain classes are favored in giving jobs out, such as world war veterans, old people, unmarried people and so on.

If a man can do the business, or a woman either, what difference does it make whether he or she is married or not or young or old?

What people want in business is results. Who attains them or how they are attained is a matter of indifference so long as it is done honestly.

I remember once that a presiding elder in the Methodist church gave as his reason for sending a man to a certain place the following:

"If I send that man it will kill the place and if I don't send him it will kill him, so between the two I will send him and save the man."

This is a good example of care for the individual ranking above care for his work. Every man must be judged by the kind of work he does and not by whether he is deserving of the job or not.

The other side of civil service is to select men competent for the position, and not to give the positions out to certain groups of men.

In considering an applicant for the job, common sense tells us to consider his ability to perform the

A NICKEL IS ENOUGH!

Now It Will Buy You A Smoke That Is A Smoke. Read All About It!

When men begin talking about a good cigar for five cents, somebody always says, "Not any more—it can't be done." No wonder smokers talk that way when there are so many near cigars on the market at that price. Well, men, in spite of all that, there is a good cigar, made from ripe tobacco, selling at a nickel right here and now! It's Havana Ribbon.

People say, "How can you do it?" The answer is volume. We used to sell Havana Ribbon for more than a nickel. Now we sell so many that five cents is the price. And, believe it or not, the cigar is better than ever!

All we ask is that you spend one lone nickel to find out for yourself. A five-cent piece won't break you or make us—but it will start you on Havana Ribbon for keeps. You'll get flavor, fragrance, a really satisfying smoke. Do it today!

NEW CLUBHOUSE

Ortleigh Beach now boasts one of the finest beachfront clubhouses on the upper Jersey coast. A beautiful building on the ocean side of Ocean avenue has been completed and is now open as a community center for Ortleigh Beach property owners, who automatically become members without cost. Their families and also friends personally introduced by them are entitled to all club privileges. The unique building is attracting the attention of every visitor to the resort. Between the Boulevard and the entrance is a pretty little oasis of lawn and dwarf evergreens. A wide portico overlooks the resort and bay beyond. Inside one finds a delightful assembly room, beautiful furnished, with a cozy alcove and a big fireplace at the north end.

There are rest rooms for men and women and offices of the resort development superintendent. Facing the strand and the tumbling breakers is the broad veranda, screened and furnished with a score of divans and easy chairs. Beach chairs and umbrellas are available for those who wish to rest on the sands. Bathhouses also have been erected for the use of club members.

The most we can get out of life is its discipline for ourselves and its usefulness for others.

NEW HOME ON BOULEVARD

A beautiful new home of semi-Colonial style of architecture has been built on Ocean boulevard by Charles B. Durborow, of Riverton and Philadelphia, prominent financier and president of the Ortleigh Beach Company. Mr. Durborow's new home sets an example for type and beauty of Ortleigh's future building program. In keeping with restrictions that will make this resort one of the most beautiful summer home communities on the coast.

When there is a particularly laborious household task to be done, call on electricity. Command it by the touch of a button, to wash, iron or clean house. Keep a little electric motor at hand to run the sewing machine, clean the silver, or sharpen knives.

Can Fruit in Gas Range Oven

FRUITS and tomatoes bought at summer prices and canned right in the box in a self-regulating gas range oven will be welcome next winter as a pleasing variation to the menu.

Fruits canned in this way stay whole. They retain most of their natural flavor and color. They are ideal for use in winter salads and compotes.

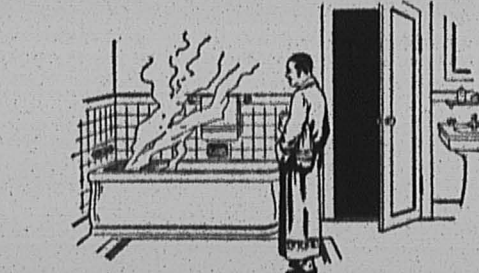

With the dial of the oven heat regulator set for the correct time and temperature, a whole meal, mess, fish, vegetables, dessert, may be prepared unwatched. The homemaker who uses a self-regulating gas range oven need not worry over burnt or underdone foods. Proper use of the regulator eliminates baking and cooking failures.

Public Service stores carry a line of oven heat regulated stoves in many models and sizes, suitable to the requirements of every type and size of home. Prices from $19.50 up.

Our easy payment plan is open to all customers who wish to take advantage of it. Public Service gas range prices include delivery and connection to gas outlet in kitchen. Every range sold by Public Service is equipped with an automatic top burner lighter.

Standfast cold at 50 degrees or lower that's refrigeration. The electric refrigerator maintains this temperature automatically.

Midsummer HOME-MAKING runs smoothly when Electric and Gas Servants are on duty.

Sale of Kompak Automatic Water Heaters Ends July 18

AFTER the day's work, after a lively match on the tennis court, or full eighteen holes of golf, a warm shower is cooling and refreshing.

Without automatic hot water service the effort necessary for a shower or bath offsets this pleasure and comfort.

The Kompak gas water heater, automatic storage type, has tank of copper, and pipes and valves of bronze. Water drawn from the Kompak tank is always clean. Kompak baths are inviting. The safety pilot shuts off all gas should regular pilot light go out.

The special sale on Kompak water heaters at Public Service stores ends Monday, July 18th. For this sale, all sizes of the Kompak automatic storage water heater have been reduced in price by $17.

The payment terms are convenient, $7 with order and 18 months to pay.

ELECTRIC Health Helps

The soft flexible electric heating pad brings comfort wherever heat is needed to allay pain. Will keep a compress hot indefinitely. Price $7.50 up.

The electric immersion heater brings contents of tumbler to boiling point in three minutes. Price $6.75 up.

The use of the electric vibrator is effective in relieving neuralgia, neuritis and similar ailments. Price $5 up.

ON YOUR RADIO

Electrically Operated Thor Appliances Improve Laundry Work

THE homemaker who is postponing the purchase of electric equipment for her laundry for reasons of economy, should consider that the Thor electric washer provides a complete successful washing service. The washer takes care of the regular weekly washing and will also clean all the extras that are usually sent out at an additional expense.

The Thor washes everything, even the heaviest blankets, perfectly. Dirt is loosened by the constant force of hot soap suds water, making the blankets clean, soft, fluffy. Corsets, rag mats, motor rugs, and any number of other things can be washed in the same way. All for a few cents worth of current.

The Thor is simple to operate. Its gears are a special patented feature, guaranteed for wear resistance.

The Thor Electric Washer may be purchased on the divided payment plan at Public Service stores, $5 down, 18 months to pay balance.

The THOR Folding Ironer

The Thor Ironer is self-acting. A touch of the finger at either end of the roll starts or stops the motor, opens and closes the heated ironing surface. The homemaker is comfortably seated while she irons. She simply smooths the pieces as they pass under the shoe and her ironing is completed before she realizes it.

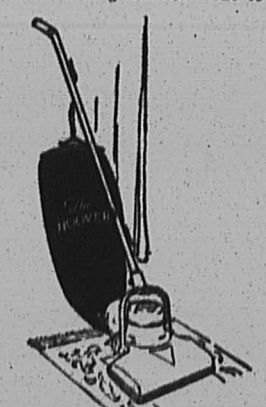

The Thor can be used in any room, and on any electric outlet. Electrically driven, it can be had either electrically or gas heated.

Convenient payment terms—$5 down, 18 months to pay the remainder.

Hoover Makes Cleaning Easy

THE Hoover electric cleaner with its unique feature—Positive Agitation—is right hand man to the homemaker in combating dust and dirt. Cleaning, without a Hoover, is one of summer's heaviest tasks. The Hoover makes short work of it and sets a new standard of rug and carpet cleanliness.

The vibration produced by Positive Agitation brings to the surface the sharp heavy grit not affected by other cleaning methods. The result is cleaner floor coverings that last longer.

Public Service stores will appraise your old electric cleaners and make you an allowance on the price of a new Hoover.

There are two models of the new Hoover—Number 700, the deluxe model at $75, and Number 143 at $59.50—both have the Positive Agitation feature. The payment terms, $5 down, $5 a month apply to both models.

Getting Them Up In the Morning

One reasonably sure way of getting the family up on time is to serve hot waffles for breakfast. These may be made electrically on the table with little effort.

Electric waffle irons come in several designs and finishes, each adapted to table use. Delicately golden in color, crispy edged and tender, electrically made waffles are deservedly popular.

—the aristocratic Wedgwood, $15.50.

—the sturdy Manning Bowman, $15.00.

—the pleasingly simple Universal, $15.00.

Moorestown Leads Battle on Beetle

Whole Town Being Sprayed to Protect Trees and Shrubbery

Moorestown has responded almost 100 per cent strong for a battle to the finish with the Japanese beetle. Capitalizing on the experience of the last three years, this town expects to drive the beetle from its midst during the next few weeks when the beetles are at their height.

Every effort of the town to combat the beetle is bent on spraying. Backed with ten years of experimental work in the Beetle Laboratory, Riverton, this town is following the recommendations of the entomologists who advise spraying as the most practical method of meeting the beetle problem.

Use Power Sprayers

The bulk of the work however is being done by the supervision of the Home Improvement Association which is having the work done at cost. This hustling and progressive organization has secured two of the big power sprayers owned by the state in carrying out the gypsy moth. It was through the efforts of William B. Duryee, Secretary of Agriculture, that it has been made possible to secure the loan of these sprayers for the Japanese beetle work.

The town is furnishing the water free of charge, the spray ingredients have been purchased in large amounts and distributed at cost, and experts at spraying working under the supervision of the Beetle Laboratory entomologists are carrying out the work on the most improved plan.

Based on three years experience it is costing only 75 cents to cover an average sized tree with a film coat of spray that will protect the foliage from the ravensous attacks of the beetles. This includes the cost of the material, labor and expense of operating the sprayer.

In an interview with John G. Pettit, treasurer of the Moorestown Trust Company, as well as a leader in the Home Improvement Association, the writer was told that the entire cost of protecting some 2000 of the biggest trees in the town last season was only $1,600. The cost of spraying the trees on the curb lines was borne by the Home Improvement Association, while other trees on private property was sprayed at the expense of the property owner. Mr. Pettit also mentioned that no premium was entered without the consent of the owner.

In the opinion of Earl R. Van Leuven, entomologist in charge of all spraying, an average sized tree will measure about 60 feet high and with a spread of 30 to 35 feet. From Mr. Van Leuven's data on the actual cost of spraying was also secured. He told the writer that the complete cost of spraying was not over 1 1/2 cents per gallon for material delivered on the tree and 50 gallons would be sufficient for a film coat to cover the entire tree. The success of Moorestown in controlling the beetle, according to Mr. Pettit has been due largely to the following: the recommendations of the entomologists at the Riverton Laboratory. "We have been so successful in this work that we have not lost one tree in three years that has been carefully sprayed," said Mr. Pettit.

Based on present day valuations, the shade in Moorestown is worth at the least $2,000,000 to the community. This figure was considered conservative by Mr. Pettit and was later corroborated by some of the tree experts now working on private estates in the town. At an annual cost of $1,600 the town has been able to preserve its shade with a value running into the millions. Moorestown is again following the advice of the entomologists and is using exclusively the lead oleate coated arsenate of lead, the new spray developed at Riverton to combat the beetle. A warning label has been issued not to use this material on vegetables and trees bearing fruit intended for food.

This new spray is proving doubly valuable in the fight against the beetle. It not only kills the beetles in large numbers, but it sticks to the foliage throughout the entire season. It eliminates the need for more than one application despite heavy showers and the hot sun.

Moorestown is not alone in the work of combating the beetle. Beverly and Edgewater Park are also working along the same line and have done so for years. They too have reduced it to the point where the beetle is not given serious consideration as a pest.

These towns are content in having a perfect control for the beetle even though situated in the most heavily infested region. Apparently have no more concern over beetle injury in their towns than if the beetle had never left the Orient.

BILLION DOLLAR BOULEVARD

Construction of New Jersey's great coastal highway, popularly referred to because of the value of the resort lands through which it will pass as the "Billion Dollar Boulevard," is practically assured by the action of legislative and highway authorities at Trenton. The first two links of this ocean-front highway have been authorized by the Legislature and both are of prime importance to Ocean county. The plans for a bridge from Tuckerton to Little Beach, connecting with Brigantine and shortening the present distance from New York to Atlantic City by at least 15 miles have been approved by state and Atlantic county officials. The other improvement of immediate and vital interest to every resident and property owner in Ortley, will place a broad, concrete State Highway along Island Beach, from Bayhead to Seaside, passing directly through Ortley Beach. It will be the first unit of the world's greatest ocean-side boulevard and the advance in growth and prosperity that it will bring to this section are incalculable.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

RHUS POISONING

In the rural districts of our middle latitudes, the "poison ivy" grows luxuriantly, to the sorrow and pain to those who are susceptible to its influence. Only last week a victim came to my office, with face so swollen, that both eyes were almost shut out from light; with difficulty could he see to go about, because of the greatly distended eyelids. Having no relatives near, or intimate friends, I sent him to the hospital for two days, until the inflammation could be subdued.

I wish to warn my readers against the mistake this man made, using ointments on a case of rhus poisoning; he had, to use his expression, "piled on the salve" for two days and nights, only to intensify his suffering. The ointment actually keeps the active poison beneath the layers of the skin—the very thing that should not be done, no matter how "soothing" the salves are reputed to be. I have seen small sores result in rhus dermatitis, when ointments were used erroneously.

Being an acid poison, our success lies in neutralizing the acid with an alkali, as soon as possible. The best remedy I have ever used, is alcohol and lime water—equal parts, applied on cloths or gauze wet with the solution. The lime counteracts the acid, and the alcohol consumes the water from the swollen tissues; the treatment does not exclude air, nor does it keep the poison in. If any of the solution should accidentally get into the eye, it does no particular damage.

Solutions of lead salts are used with good effect—but lead is harmful, unless used under the careful direction of the physician. The alcohol and lime water are equally efficient and can be applied continuously without danger. The patient above mentioned was cleared of his affliction in seventy-two hours.

Next Week: Plain Common Sense

FIREMEN'S DAY AT MOUNT HOLLY

Big Parade Planned Saturday At County Seat

Firemen of Burlington county will be largely represented in the parade which will be staged by the Mount Holly Fire Department this Saturday.

Thus, the closing day of the old home week at the county seat, promises to be the biggest event of the kind ever started in this county. Surrogate Michael E. Matlack, an experienced military man, who has had charge of the arrangements for many military and civic demonstrations will be grand marshal. He will have a large corps of aids and there will be need of them too. Already sixty fire companies from this state and Pennsylvania have accepted invitations to parade and it is expected that nearly one hundred companies will be in line when all the acceptances have arrived. There will be a band for nearly every three companies.

Marshal Matlack is already at work on the details of the big parade. He has given out information that there will be four divisions, one each to be under the special care of a local fire company. Thus, the honor of the parade is being made in celebration of its birthday, will march in one division and have as its particular guests a number of the visiting organizations. Good intent will do likewise, and so will Union and America companies.

A committee of fifty Americans and fifty Britishers has been suggested to investigate and determine just what is correct and official English. This committee should include at least one baseball official.

BILLION DOLLAR BOULEVARD

Construction of New Jersey's great coastal highway, popularly referred to because of the value of the resort lands through which it will pass as the "Billion Dollar Boulevard," is practically assured by the action of legislative and highway authorities at Trenton. The first two links of this ocean-front highway have been authorized by the Legislature and both are of prime importance to Ocean county. The plans for a bridge from Tuckerton to Little Beach, connecting with Brigantine and shortening the present distance from New York to Atlantic City by at least 15 miles have been approved by state and Atlantic county officials. The other improvement of immediate and vital interest to every resident and property owner in Ortley, will place a broad, concrete State Highway along Island Beach, from Bayhead to Seaside, passing directly through Ortley Beach. It will be the first unit of the world's greatest ocean-side boulevard and the advance in growth and prosperity that it will bring to this section are incalculable.

"Free Lot" Fraud Again Practiced

State Real Estate Commission Warns Gullible Folks Against "GFT"

Despite the constant warnings of The New Jersey Real Estate Commission, Chambers of Commerce and Better Business Bureaus, certain really promoters are using the time-worn, catch-venture of free lots on land developments for the "choice or lucky few." New Jersey cities including Trenton are now being circled by promoters of such developments and a number of these letters have been forwarded by citizens to the Executive Office of The Real Estate Commission. Many newspapers decline to publish advertisements of these developments because of the misleading statements of the promoters.

Various explanatory articles on questionable methods of these land companies have been sponsored by The New Jersey Real Estate Commission, the New Jersey Association of Real Estate Boards and local real estate boards throughout the State, but some promoters in an endeavor to stay just within the law continue to mislead the unsuspecting public.

The usual plan of these realty concerns when trying to prey on the gullible public is to notify an individual by mail, the promoter enough to win a lot in "Ocean Acres" or tract with a similar name. If the one receiving the letter will send in the names of six or more prospects for the same development and the "nominal" charge of $25.00 for title searching, deed drawing and surveying costs, a deed for the lot will be delivered. Usually the lot is worth less than the cost of drawing the papers and the size of it is small another lot at a higher price must be purchased if a house is to be constructed. Besides, the name of the individual awarded the lot is used when letters are sent to the person whose names the developer has prospects which letter states the person supplying the name is delighted with the tract and has recommended it out of a feeling of friendship that lots be purchased on the tract in question.

When you receive letters of this type telling you some land development company will award you a lot for a nominal charge, the New Jersey Real Estate Commission urges that you go to your banker, local Chamber of Commerce or write the Commission at One Exchange Place, Jersey City, for reliable information before you invest.

NOMINEE UNDER INDICTMENT

Joseph L. Holman, of Lakewood, former sheriff of Ocean county and present nominee on the Republican ticket for the same office, is under indictment for embezzling 42 cases of whiskey that disappeared from the county jail while he was sheriff. The indictment was returned by the grand jury a few weeks ago but was kept sealed until after the primary election in order that there could be no allegation that the charge was made for political purposes. The liquor was seized about three years ago at Clam Island and placed in the custody of the sheriff for safe keeping, but it is alleged to have disappeared while in his charge.

MAPLE SHADE BENEFIT

Money to equip the police department in the new municipal building will be raised through a motion picture benefit to be given in the Capitol Theatre, Maple Shade, Wednesday evening, July 27. "McFadden's Flat" will be the attraction. Tickets may be secured from policemen.

HORSE, MULE SHORTAGE

There were 21,013,000 horses and mules in the United States January 1, 1927, according to the estimates of the Department of Agriculture. The figure represents a decline of 17 per cent, since 1920. Unless breeding is resumed the department says the present number will be reduced 30 or 40 per cent. In the next five years. This will mean an acute shortage on the farms.

CRASH AT CHURCH

Visiting Churchman's Auto Damaged in Accident

Two automobiles, one driven by a Moorestown man, were considerably damaged in a crash in front of the Moorestown Methodist Episcopal Church, East Main street, Sunday, shortly after noon at the close of the morning service. George J. Bernasco, of Mount Holly and Drexler avenues, Springfield, attempted to pull away from in front of the church and turn around on Main street. A car driven by William H. Leallen, of 263 West Third street, Moorestown, was coming along Main street. Leallen did not see the Bernasco auto until it drove out in front of him. The Leallen car crashed into the Bernasco auto and much damage resulted with both cars suffering. Bernasco was slightly injured in the accident. No arrests were made, as the owners agreed to settle for the damages without court action.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edison H. Waite Shawnee, Oklahoma

Thomas H. Denning, Editor of The Warren (Ohio) Tribune-Chronicle, says:

That stopping to think is about the best and safest thing you can do. Did you ever stop to think that our failure to do so has perhaps caused more trouble and woe than anything else in the world? Our ability to think was given to us for a purpose. Like any other organ it must be used if it is to live. Ignore it, don't use it and your ability to stop and think will cease to function.

How many speeders would now be living if they had only exercised this attribute?

The ability or habit or whatever you desire to call it, of stopping to think before going forward in the break or safety valve upon human actions.

How much better most of us would be if we stopped to think before spending foolishly money we have earned for?

Too many of us are prone to rush in where wisemen reflect. Stop and think. A little reflection may show you the mistake in the course you contemplate.

Stop and think. You will find it great character discipline.

RACE MEET AT FAIR GROUNDS

There will be a race meet at the Mount Holly Fair Grounds on Thursday afternoon, July 14, beginning at 2 o'clock. Four races are on the program, as follows: 2:15 and 2:30 trot and 2:15 and 2:20 pace. There will be a breeders' meeting at 12 noon, that day, at the Fair Ground.

Admission will be 50 cents to the grand stand and 25 cents to the grand stand. Half the receipts will go to the Burlington County Hospital Social Workers' fund.

Kean Enters Race For U. S. Senator

Committeeman Says He Will Formally Announce Candidacy in Fall

Hamilton F. Kean, national committeeman from New Jersey, has announced that he expects to be a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States Senator next year. He said that he preferred to defer a formal announcement until after the election of a Legislature in November.

"As a member of the Republican National Committee and desiring to assist my party in every way, I have thought it best," said Mr. Kean, "to defer becoming an active candidate until some of the pending important matters have been disposed of."

Mr. Kean said he had always been in favor of submitting the prohibition question to a vote of the people and would abide by their decision. The declaration establishes Mr. Kean's stand as in line with the plank adopted by the Republican State Convention last week favoring a prohibition referendum.

It is the belief of Mr. Kean that the next Legislature should provide for the appointment of a commission to study the necessity for airports.

His idea is that there should be two in the state—one near Newark and another near Camden. These ports, he said, should be located near the waterfront and should have a field of at least two miles. They would cost so much money that they should be a state rather than a municipal undertaking, he said.

THOMAS AVENUE ROADWAY WILL HAVE TO BE OPENED

Resident Wants to Cut Street for Gas, Water and Sewer Connections

HUBBS FIGHTS FOR RIGHTS OF TOWN BOYS

At the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night Councilman William B. Lynch, chairman of the highway committee, brought up the matter of opening the improved roadway on Thomas avenue between the railroad and Park street. He said that a property owner wanted to place a house on one side of his lot, and would require sewer, gas and water connections. No "Y" had been installed at this point when the sewer was laid, Mr. Lynch said, because it was not anticipated that a house would be erected between the two already there.

There was some discussion as to what would be a proper charge to make for opening a street of this character. Mr. Lynch said that the county required a deposit of $100 which was retained until the roadway was put back in proper condition.

Some suggestions were made that the desired connection could be made with the gas, water and sewer service already installed for the property of the man who desires to erect the new building adjoining his, but it was thought this might not be feasible.

The Mayor finally told Mr. Lynch to take the matter up with the other members of his committee and an adjourned meeting of council would be held when the highway committee was ready to make a definite recommendation.

Weeks Are Being Cut
Mr. Lynch also reported that notice had been served on property owners whose sidewalks were overgrown with weeds, and that many of them had remedied the condition. Those who had not done so by the expiration of the time limit set in the notice would be dealt with according to the law, said Mr. Lynch. The supervisor of highways has full power under the borough ordinance to do what is the situation, commented the Mayor.

Councilman Howell, chairman of the sewer committee, asked Mr. Hubbs, also a member of that committee, to report on the work done in repairing the outlet of the Main street sewer, since the regular had been made under his personal direction and supervision. Mr. Hubbs said that the work was done under several feet of water and the workmen had to use a diving suit. The outlet had been properly made this time, he said, and he anticipated no further trouble. The cost was about $225.00.

New Light for Broad Street
Director of Public Safety Williams reported the need for a gas lamp on Broad street, South of the railroad between Thomas and Lipplow avenues. He said that many residents used that portion of Broad street to get their homes, and that it was both inconvenient and dangerous. The Mayor and Councilman Lynch agreed to have a section of the town under present conditions. The Mayor told Mr. Williams that there were no gas pipes laid on that portion of Broad street, and the matter was referred to the lighting committee for investigation.

Mr. Williams also reported for the police committee that four arrests had been made for violation of traffic laws during the month, and that there would be no letup in the effort of the department to make the streets of Riverton safe.

Mr. Williams said that he had taken the liberty to give the officers a day a week in addition to their ten-day vacation, and asked the approval of council of his action. He said that this was done in Palmyra and most other places. Mr. Williams pointed out that to expect the officers to work seven days a week was more than was required in other lines of employment, and added that he believed the men would do better work if they had a little recreation—that they would not be so likely to get stale on the job.

After some discussion a motion offered by Mr. Williams and seconded by Mr. Hubbs that the officers be allowed a day off every week in addition to their vacation, was unanimously passed.

In the absence of William Welsh, chairman of the fire and water committee, Councilman Bartley, who is a member of the committee, reported that the new fire apparatus had been officially accepted and turned over to the Riverton Fire Company for use, and that the addition and repairs had been made on apparatus No. 2 (the old American LeFranc machine). Mr. Bartley's resolution providing for the issuance of notes to pay for the new truck was unanimously passed.

Some repairs had been made to the old truck amounting to $44.45, and the Mayor called attention to the fact that the committee was not allowed to spend more than $50 in any one month without first getting permission from council. Mr. Lynch who is a member of the committee, wanted to know if the trucks broke down were they to be allowed to remain out of service against a council meeting. The Mayor admitted that in an emergency like that it was different. "The ordinance makes no exceptions," replied Mr. Lynch.

The ordinance widening Howard street from Main street to Fifth street passed final reading and was adopted unanimously. This clears the way for the enforcement of the curbing and sidewalk ordinance passed more than a year ago, and which was held up last fall owing to the approach of cold weather, and again this spring when it was found that it would be necessary to widen the street in order to make a break in the curb line. The Mayor asked that a report be submitted.

FARM "STRIKE"

Justice Fichter Settles Trouble on Schmierer Farm

A near riot occurred Saturday morning among the colored workers of a Palmyra farm. A colored man by the name of Fitzgerald, who worked for John Stockley, operator of the Schmierer farm, tried to get the rest of the colored workers to quit while the manager was at the bank getting the payroll. Stockley wanted Fitzgerald arrested and took the case to Judge Fichter. When the Justice of the Peace saw the Fitzgerald man pass his office on West Broad street Saturday morning, while Stockley was there making the complaint, he called the young colored man in and settled the matter then and there, and very peaceably too. The Justice of the Peace told the operator of the farm not to hire Fitzgerald to work for him any more and if the man happened to trespass upon his premises to have him arrested. Fichter then warned Fitzgerald not to harm Stockley any more and the case was settled.

Burke's Pontiac Sedan Wrecked

New Car Hit by Pennsylvania Driver Cutting Out of Line

Last Sunday evening the new Pontiac sedan, belonging to Paul Burke, Sr., of Palmyra, was badly damaged when an Oakland sedan crashed into the side of his car in front of Keating's Hotel in East Riverton. The car had just been delivered to Burke Friday night by Warren W. Veaney.

Paul Burke, Jr., had just closed the McCoy Service Station No. 12, at Riverton and started for a ride to Riverside when the accident occurred. Burke was travelling east on Broad street at 20 miles an hour, with the new car, when the Oakland cut out of line, hit the Pontiac and turned completely around, sliding over into trolley tracks.

The left fenders and running board of Burke's car were dented beyond repair, the left front tire was torn off and the right front wheel bent over nearly flat. The Oakland, which bore Pennsylvania license number 233-517, had its front system damaged and the left front fender dented.

Officer Miller was notified of the accident but did not make any arrests. In the back of the Oakland were several bottles and it is reported that some still contained the "real stuff."

Palmyra Council Handles Routine

Several Matters of Municipal Administration Are Discussed

Palmyra Council attended to several details of municipal administration at its regular meeting Tuesday evening.

A new flagpole was ordered for the corner of Hylton Road and Broad street to help protect the Palmyra Foundry, the Jensen Manufacturing company and other nearby plants.

A freepole which is in the way of William H. Truman's driveway on West Spring Garden street will be moved, and the question of who shall pay for the work will be threshed out with the Water Company later.

An ordinance was passed vacating a section of Highland avenue which never existed in fact, but which is shown in old maps. This measure was necessary to perfect the title of the Himmelpark property which is being sold.

The Board of Health was instructed to inquire further into the question as to who should pay the Camden hospital bill for a child who was taken ill with diphtheria while visiting Tony D'Amato, on West Broad street. The child was sent to the hospital by the Board of Health and the bill has been presented to Palmyra for payment.

It was decided to enter suit against a party living on the Riverside of Morgan avenue who has failed to pay his rent for use of the Palmyra sewer for a year or so.

The engineers were instructed to prepare plans for the extension of the sewer system up to the end of Lincoln avenue and also on West Boulevard.

The meeting ended with a discussion of the peddler nuisance. Accounts were given of an agent who was taking orders for tailor-made men's suits, two for $21, and his samples of cloth were of such good quality that the whole proposition was thought to be a fraud.

Several cases of sharp practices were referred to, but it was suggested that some "bargains" were offered, especially in the line of fruit and produce.

The only solution brought out was that the people should learn to discriminate against crooks, possibly through the experience of getting "stung" a few times.

Councilman Joe Davis announced that he would celebrate his 75th birthday once more on July 21. He says he isn't ever going to be any older than that.

Council adjourned to meet in special session on August 2.

8 DOGS IN ONE HOUSE ADJUDGED NUISANCE

Millville, July 20.—Eight dogs under one roof are sufficient to create a nuisance, according to Mayor Harry Jones. Mrs. Mary Maginias, who admitted having that many pets, was adjudged disorderly and was held in bond to keep the peace.

Neighbors charged that the dogs howl throughout the night, and that Carl Murphy, a boy, was knocked down and bitten on the thigh by the largest of the pack, as he was hurrying home with ice cream covered by the dogs. Mrs. Maginias said she would sell her home and move away, if necessary to protect her pets.

LIONS UPROARIOUS

Energy Stored Up for Baseball Game Explodes

The Palmyra Lions Club had a rather uproarious session Tuesday evening. A baseball game with Riverton Rotary had been scheduled, but the weather man interfered.

The Lions, however, had been rearing their boyhood vigor and spirits for the purpose of "clawing up" the Rotarians, and the stored-up energy had to be expended some way or other. The result was quite noisy, to say the least, with George Rogers, George Zeisner, Gus Conlow, Dave Schwartz and others muttering "Far Away, Far Away," so often that when "Doc" LaFavor started tickling the ivories, he rendered every possible variation of the same tune.

When the noise subsided it was announced that the ball game would be played at Memorial Park next Monday evening. The proceeds would go to the Cardea fund. The Club also made arrangements for a special contribution to the Cardea fund on its own behalf.

Ten boys are to be sent to a camp for one week with the proceeds of the money derived from the recent movie benefit.

Will Make Canvass For Drowned Hero

Two Service Clubs Will Seek Contributions to Cardea Fund

The Rotary and Lions Clubs will make a special canvass of Palmyra and Riverton next Friday evening for the Cardea fund.

Demetrius Cardea sacrificed his life in a valiant attempt to save two girls from drowning in the Pennsauken Creek. He leaves six small children and a widow who is physically unable to support her family.

It is hoped that a fund large enough to take care of the family for some time to come can be raised through the generosity of the citizens of the twin towns.

BUS DRIVER FINED

Triple Collision on Broad Street Brings Charge

Paul Holvick, of Riverton, a driver of a P. R. T. bus was fined $5.00 and costs for reckless driving by Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter last Thursday morning.

Holvick bumped into the Buick car owned by Mrs. Morrell Parry, also of Riverton, at the Broad and Morgan crossing, Palmyra.

Another car, a Ford driven by Thomas White, a traveling salesman from Camden, crashed in front of the Parry machine to pick up two passengers who asked for a lift. White stopped suddenly and did not give Mrs. Parry any sign that he was going to do so. Mrs. Parry slammed on the breaks of her car and then was smashed into by the bus. The cause of reckless driving was brought by A. B. Cramer, Palmyra's special vehicle inspector, who happened to be coming out of an East Broad street store.

A representative from the P. R. T. Company was present at the trial but did not think Holvick should be fined. Going to the fact that about $300 damage was done to the rear of Mrs. Parry's car, Fichter fined the bus driver $5.00 and costs, the lowest fine possible, because he thought that if Mrs. Parry could stop her machine in time to avoid hitting White, who gave no signal at all, Holvick should have had time to apply his brakes and avoid the collision.

WAXED FLOORS

NEW PUMPER WINS PRIZE

Riverton's New Truck Captures First Award at Mount Holly Celebration

ARMSTRONG DECLARED HANDSOMEST CHIEF
Last Saturday the Riverton Fire Company sent a delegation of 35 uniformed men to participate in the firemen's parade which was a part of the big celebration of the 175th anniversary of the Relief Fire Company at Mount Holly.

The local firemen came home with a cup for the best appearing pumper over 500 gallons capacity, and Walter Armstrong, the Riverton Chief Engineer, got a $5.00 prize for being the best looking chief in line.

Everywhere along the line the Riverton Company received a big hand for the manner in which they marched—every head was up, shoulders back, chest out, and the boys stepped out as if they had been through a stiff course of training.

Credit for the appearance of the Company is to be shared with Sonny Wright and Joseph Keating who drilled diligently in drilling the boys for the big event.

The Palmyra Fire Company won a silver cup for the best service truck in line. Moorestown won as the best chemical engine in the parade.

The Palmyra American Legion Bugle and Drum Corps, which led the Palmyra and Riverton fire delegations in the parade was a cup for being the largest drum corps.

Chief Joseph L. Stack, accompanied by Assistant Chief Freeman Truman, led the Palmyra department. Then came the fourth division composed of a marching band, N. Wimer, Charles Stout and Chester Watson, followed by 40 uniformed firemen.

The largest band, other than brass, in the parade was the Headman String Band of Riverside, who marched in the parade with the Palmyra American Legion while the Moorestown company had its Community Band in the parade.

The companies included in the parade were: Endeavor Company, of Palmyra; Mitchell Band of Burlington; Burlington, with Smith's Band of Lindenwald, South Amboy, South Wood, Strickland, of Riverside; Hope of Bordentown, with own band and auxiliary, Delaware and Humane, of Bordentown; Bonardale; Cornwells Heights, Pa.; Lambertville, Palmyra, with Palmyra American Legion Band; Red Bank, Oaklyn, Lumberton, with Burlington Band; Union, of Mt. Holly, with Lyric Band, of Camden; Collingswood, with Collingswood Municipal Band; Island Heights, Lakewood, with Lakewood Band; Pennsauken, North Merchantville, with 9th Street Artillery Band, New Egypt, Philadelphia, Brooklawn, Bradley Beach, West Collingswood Heights, Good Intent, of Mt. RIVERTON FIRE CHIEF PLANS DRILL FOR MEMBERS
Chief Walter Armstrong of the Riverton Fire Company will call the active members together in the near future, and some real fire drills will be held at regular intervals—probably once a week.

It is also planned to have new operators for the pumpers instructed by a former member of the Philadelphia Fire Department, who is now a member of the Riverton Fire Company.

PRODUCERS' BANQUET

P. O. S. of A. "Member Getters" Enjoy Big Feast

Palmyra Camp 23, P. O. S. of A. held its "producers' banquet" at the Hotel Walt Whitman in Camden last Wednesday evening with 40 members attending.

The forty producers enjoyed themselves to the fullest extent as the seats were all that could be asked for despite the funny names given each dish. A producer of the Washington Camp was a member who had brought in a new candidate within the past three months, during the intensive drive by the Camp under the direction of William "Dad" Davison.

The automobiles which carried the men to Camden banquet left by 2 P. M. A. Hall at about 6 P. M. The Palmyra Camp now has a total membership of 941. The drive for 1,000 members ended officially July 1 after ninety-eight new members were taken in since March 14 when the drive started.

At Monday night's meeting most of the discussion pertained to the baseball team. The nine that represents Camp 23 in the P. O. S. of A. League wanted to borrow $200.00 from the Camp treasury but several members protested to the loan as the team has not been going so good lately, only about an average of $3.00 being collected at each contest.

Riverton Downs Tulpehocken 11-3

Visitors Get Away to a Flying Start, But Riverton Soon Overtakes Them

Riverton walloped the Tulpehocken Reds from Germantown on Saturday before a large crowd by heavy slugfing.

Tulpehocken started off well by scoring 2 runs in the first inning on Platt's single and Payne's home run.

Riverton came by strong when Bearint, Riverton's slugfing pitcher, hit a home run with 2 on the sacks.

This attack put Riverton in the lead and they steadily increased it to 11 runs.

Bearint, with 5 hits, lead the hitting.

The game was marked by some marking and holding plays—Cuek, Reeves and Burton turning in the best ones. Bearint and Linton for Riverton and Payne for the visitors all had home runs.

Andrews, Riverton's star second baseman, captured his first home run by playing with Vincentone, in the Burlington County League. His teammates wish him the best of luck in his new connections.

On this Saturday Merrill Professional League of the strongest clubs from Philadelphia. Everyone came out and root.

JOHN SAAR ENJOYS HIS 70th BIRTHDAY

Big Party at Firehouse Marks Three Score and Ten Anniversary

John Saar, of West Broad street, Palmyra, celebrated his 70th birthday with a big party a week ago in the Palmyra firehouse. About 150 guests attended. The firehouse was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

The Lutheran Church orchestra furnished the music. Mr. Saar was the recipient of many useful gifts. He was also presented with a purse of $87.00 by various relatives. Howard Dudley, one of his sons-in-law from Camden who is engaged in the furniture business, made an appropriate speech along with the presentation. Mr. Saar was also called upon to make a speech, but he was so stunned by the much unexpected gift that he hardly knew how to thank the giver.

Chief Morris Beck, of Palmyra police, presented Mr. Saar with a box of cigars. Mr. Saar is a charter member of the Palmyra Fire Department, having joined the company in 1887. He was president of the Relief Association of the Palmyra Company for 26 years. Mr. Saar has also been vice-president of an Atlantic City department and at various times was chief, president, foreman and a member of the Board of Directors of the Palmyra Company.

The huge gathering wished Mr. Saar many returns of the day with many more happy birthdays to come.

COLUMBUS CADETS
Training of Second Unit Nearly Finished—Boys Pleased

At the last meeting of the directors of the Columbus Cadets an order was approved for the purchase of a cadet banner, the local unit's insignia and an American flag. It is expected that these colors will be on hand for the installation of the second unit.

The boys are now busily engaged in training for the cadet and cadet events to be held in conjunction with the annual Burlington County K. of C. picnic to be held at Rancocas Park on August 10.

DAILY VACATION SCHOOL
The graduation exercises of the Daily Vacation Bible School will be held this Thursday evening at 7:30 in the Methodist Temple.

As far as possible, the daily work will be illustrated, with the worship service, playing some of the stories the children have heard, and an exhibition of handwork done in class.

Two hundred and forty children have been registered this summer, with an average of about fifty per cent.

On Friday the children will be taken on a picnic to Knights' Park.

DIRECTOR WILLIAMS ASKS FOR FUNDS TO PROTECT CHILDREN

IN HARNESS AGAIN
Paul C. Burr Returns to Business, Associated With H. B. Williams

Paul C. Burr, long known as the genial manager of J. S. Collins and Son's Riverton branch, has resumed business activities after a year's lay-off occasioned by a serious illness.

Mr. Burr was forced into retirement by poor health on July 1 of 1926. He had been connected with the Collins company for seventeen years.

For a large part of the year his condition was extremely serious, but the complete rest, coupled with his strong constitution and vigorous will has brought him back to health again.

Mr. Burr has now become associated with Harry B. Williams, who has been conducting the coal, feed and building material business originally founded by L. A. Walker, for the past several years.

Both Mr. Williams and Mr. Burr are popular business men with hosts of friends and the combination should be a happy one.

Little Sleep-walker Found by Officers

Had Left Bed and Gone for Ride on Velocipede; Still Asleep When Taken Home

"Perot, Perot," called Mrs. Nevin, "wake up, there is someone trying to get into the house."

"Wassamatter?" mumbled Mr. Nevin sleepily, "go to sleep."

There was no further sound down stairs and Mrs. Nevin thought the boys must have been mistaken. So, there it was again! She was sure this time she heard a door close softly.

"Perot, there is someone down there, I hear them."

Mr. Nevin and his wife tiptoed quietly down stairs. A careful search of every closet and corner failed to reveal the intruder, but just as they were about to give up the search the police car charged up to the curb in front of the house and stopped.

"There WERE burglars here, exclaimed Mrs. Nevin in triumph. See, Perot, the officers have captured one of them."

But the burglar was rather diminutive in size and there was something strangely familiar about the little figure being led up the walk by the policeman.

"Mother, recognize him?" Mrs. Nevin was the first to discover the truth.

It was Perot, junior.

And the other policeman was bringing his velocipede.

He had been hurt!

But how in the world did he get on the street that time of night? (It was four o'clock in the morning.)

The excited parents could scarcely wait until Officer Carlson, the new police officer, deliberately told his story.

"I found the lad riding his velocipede up the street with his eyes closed," said Carlson.

"It was this way. I was making my rounds about half an hour ago when a fellow at Broad and Cinnaminson street called out of the window, 'Mr. Officer, I see right up the sidewalk on a velocipede but this lad, with his eyes tight shut!'"

"Said I to Miller, 'Whose boy is it, do you suppose, and what on earth is he doing out at this time of night?'"

"He's Nevin's kid," said Miller, "and lookit, he's got his clothes on backwards!"

"And," said Carlson to the relieved parents, "here's your boy safe and sound, which is rare luck for you and him, too, for if that fellow at the second story window hadn't thought somebody was after his silver and sent us on that wild goose chase where we ran across this little fellow, there's no telling how far he'd been by now or what would have happened to him—bless his little innocent heart."

TWILIGHT BASEBALL
The management of the Riverton Baseball team has arranged for a twilight game, Tuesday evening of next week, 6:15 sharp, at Memorial Park. The visitors will be the Delaware team which is playing in the Burlington County League. If the attendance and financial support warrant, the management will arrange for a twilight game every week for the balance of the season.

CARD OF THANKS
Mrs. Bridget Cardes and family wish to take this method of thanking all who have extended aid in their recent bereavement.

The Maharajah of Rattam from India is in the U. S. to play polo. Can you imagine rooting for a name like that?

Attendant Can be Provided For Memorial Park if Citizens Will Give $200

SUPERVISOR NEEDED FOR THE LITTLE TOTS

Unable to get his proposition through the Riverton Borough Council to employ an attendant to be on hand at the swimming hole every day and to supervise Memorial Park generally for the balance of the season, the director of public safety, Edward H. Williams, makes an appeal to the public-spirited citizens of Riverton to contribute funds which will enable him to give the boys and girls this protection.

The small sum of $200 will turn the trick.

An increasing number of children are using Memorial Park as a playground as well as a bathing beach, and many mothers and older sisters are also taking advantage of the clear, cool water of the creek these torrid days.

In order that these women and children may enjoy the Park unmolested, and as a safeguard against possible drowning accidents, it is deemed essential by Mr. Williams and many others that a supervisor should be in attendance all day.

The ample shade at the Park makes it an ideal place for children of all ages to find pleasure and recreation from the infant in the baby couch to the bigger boys and girls.

For the comfort of those using Riverton's public playground the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company has installed a certain amount of the bubble type ensuring an abundance of fresh, clear, cool water.

All these advantages can only be guaranteed equally to large and small alike by the presence of an attendant.

Those who desire to assist Mr. Williams in providing this protection are requested to send their contributions direct to him, or leave them at the New Era office.

The New Era will list the subscription with a contribution of $5. Who will be next.

OFFICER QUIGLEY AS PEACEMAKER

Assists Riverside Officer Make Arrest by Explaining to Mute What It Was All About

Last Sunday afternoon two drivers of Pennsylvania cars saw three men in a mix-up at Broad and Flinton streets, Riverton. One man seemed to be resisting the attack of the other two. It had all the earmarks of a hold-up or kidnaping and the Pennsylvanians notified Officer Quigley, who was at the traffic booth.

When Quigley arrived on the scene he recognized one of the men as Constable George Meyers of Riverside, who, with the assistance of a friend

SNOVER IMPROVES FUNERAL HOME

Has Increased Size of Establishment and Added Private Room for Family

Frank A. Snover, prominent funeral director, has been making very extensive alterations and additions in the Snover Funeral Home on Broad street, during the past few weeks.

The front porch has been enclosed. The funeral parlor has been enlarged and now has an alcove for the caskets during the funeral. In the rear of the funeral parlor is a large room which may be occupied by the family during the services, known as the private family room.

Two dressing rooms have been added to the funeral home. The entrance hall has been made into a large reception hall. Mr. Snover's old office room will be the clergyman's room. He will have a new office.

The funeral home has a new operating room and receiving vault. An elevator has been installed from the basement to the second floor.

An excellent show room for fully equipped caskets has been built on the second floor. A smoking room for the men in the rear of the basement has a fireplace and will be attractively furnished.

The floors will be covered with rubber tile throughout.

Rancocas Rum Case Quash Meets Denial

Attempt to Prevent Further Prosecutions Ends With Heated Arguments

An attempt to prevent further prosecutions in connection with the famous Rancocas rum case, which was held under charges of transportation and possession of liquor was stopped last Thursday by Judge William A. Slaughter, in the Burlington County Court, Mount Holly, when he overruled a motion made by Lawyer Robert Peacock to quash the indictments against Nathan Klawansky, of Philadelphia; Addison Bluntiff, Wilmer Huff and Paul Duesendach, of Bridgeboro; Edward Everett, Samuel Cutler and Thomas Davis, of Trenton.

The motion was based on the argument that the charges of transportation and possession of liquor were merged with the indictments for conspiracy under which the defendants named were acquitted and that there could be no further prosecution on the same charge under their indictments after there had been an acquittal to cover all crimes involved.

Mr. Peacock argued that an acquittal in the conspiracy case shows innocence in connection with the other charges because the whole situation was gone over in the conspiracy trial. He contended that prosecution of the higher crime barred trial on the lesser crime when the two were related and combined. His proceeding was on a plea of former jeopardy, meaning that they could not be jeopardized in criminal processes of this kind a second time.

Prosecutor George M. Hillman argued that in handling the conspiracy case under the statute upon which the charge was based it was necessary to prove an overt act and that was the reason for the inclusion of the charge of transportation and possession in the conspiracy indictment, which was brought under the section of the crime and procedure act, designating the violation alleged as an misdemeanor.

Both lawyers cited numerous cases and their arguments were quite lengthy. At their conclusion Judge Slaughter said that in this case the charge of transportation and possession was not included in the charge for conspiracy to the extent that it could be considered the defendants had already been tried on the lesser charge. He said that one was not merged with the other and they must stand on a separate foundation.

ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH

The word "birthday" has two recognized meanings. It may mean the day on which a person is born, or it may mean the anniversary of his birth. It is equally correct to speak on February 23 as Washington's birthday or as the anniversary of his birth. This meaning of the word birthday was accepted already in the time of Shakespeare. The poet as Cascaius says in "Julius Caesar": "This is my birthday; as this very day was Cascaius born."

BEACH SQUATTERS

Heated Protest Made To Ocean City Officials By Property Owners

Protest against the presence of "squatters" in tents on Ocean City's beach was made to City Officials last week by E. G. C. Bleakly, prominent Camden lawyer, a cotager there, and Raymond Rouscher, Ocean City, who represented property owners along the beach front between thirty-eighth and forty-seventh streets.

Bleakly demanded that the campers be forbidden to pitch their tents on the shore in front of other properties, and asked that automobiles also be forbidden on the beach. It is asserted that campers present a health menace because of the unsanitary conditions under which they live. Their presence also interferes with the sale of beachfront properties, Bleakly said.

Ocean City officials assured the complainants that steps would be taken to relieve the situation at once.

$300,000,000 INVESTED IN JERSEY FARMING

Although New Jersey ranks high as a manufacturing state and her urban population is large, farming is still a large and important industry, according to figures obtained in the special agricultural census of 1925. The total farm investment in the state amounts to more than $300,000,000. Fixed capital in the form of land and buildings makes 83 per cent of this total and 17 per cent is in farm machinery and livestock. A large amount of wealth is produced by this agricultural investment. In 1925, dairy products alone amounted to $15,000,000 and chickens raised were valued at $7,225,000.

Forty per cent of the total land area of the state is in farms. Hudson county is at the bottom of the list with 1.8 per cent in farms, while Hunterdon county at the top with 12 per cent of its area in farms. New Jersey farmers own 4,419 tractors, or an average of one tractor for every 6 1/2 farms. Dairyman own 1,871 silos for storing green stuff for winter. The census reports 4,335 radio outfits on the farms of the state. New Jersey farm expenditures for feed in 1924 amounted to $10,469,000; for fertilizer and lime over $8,500,000; for labor over $14,000,000, and for lumber, posts, etc., over $2,225,000.

INVITES "LINDY"

Asked To Dedicate New Aviation Field At Trenton

The Trenton Chamber of Commerce yesterday invited Charles A. Lindbergh to dedicate the new aviation field at Trenton Junction during his proposed tour of the United States in the Spirit of St. Louis, the plane in which he flew across the Atlantic Ocean.

The date of the dedication will hinge solely upon Lindbergh's acceptance. The field, near the outskirts of Trenton, is on state property. It is supposed that the field will be utilized by the National Guard for the proposed aviation unit.

Haines' Conviction Sustained by Court

Pemberton Man Loses Liquor Appeal in State Supreme Court

Harry "Bowler" Haines, of Pemberton, who was convicted in the county court before Judge Blougher some months ago on a charge of violating the liquor laws, has lost in his appeal to the Supreme Court to have the conviction set aside. Justice Trenchard, having cited an opinion sustaining the proceedings had in the county court, there is an understanding that Haines will have the case carried to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

He is represented by former Prosecutor J. M. Kelsey.

There is considerable importance being attached to this decision, because it deals with the question of legality of warrant under which Haines was arrested and charged, and it is one that is being raised almost daily in the courts. Mr. Kelsey proceeded on the contention that the whole case against Haines grew out of a fictitious warrant, and a legal proceeding under a fraudulent paper could not stand. Justice Trenchard says that evidence in evidence, now matter how it is secured. The decision reads that "Evidence obtained in any raid, regardless of the legality of the warrant, is just as strong as it would be under any other circumstances. If the raiders were wrong, this does not reflect upon the guilt or innocence of the defendant; it is the evidence that counts."

Justice Trenchard then ruled that he would not pass upon the legality or illegality of the warrant; that if the defendant believed it to be illegal he could start a separate proceeding in the criminal court against the officers who raided his place. It is understood to be the first time in New Jersey that a high court has upheld a raid upon a warrant alleged to be doubtful.

After Haines was convicted he was sentenced to serve three months in the county jail and pay a fine of $100, and this punishment will come to him if in any further proceedings he fails to get a favorable decision. It may be one form of his comeback to institute proceedings against the raiders.

The decision is looked upon as giving officers an opportunity to make raids on most any kind of warrants for which they can establish a reasonable basis, without fear of having their evidence thrown out because their papers were illegal.

GYPSIES ELOPE, BUT FATHERS SETTLE; $100

In answer to an alarm sent out by radio, the state police of Columbus station located three young gypsies, two of whom had eloped, to Harker's Grove near New Egypt, on Tuesday night of last week.

Huey and Willie Harrison, both aged nineteen years, had taken Miss Stanley, aged fourteen years, of Missouri, to a gypsy encampment at Short Mills, near New Egypt, and it was announced by radio that Willie Harrison and Missouri had eloped.

The police of Passaic and Paterson were notified, and through them the state police at Columbus, with the result stated above.

The young couple were arrested and taken to Mount Holly, where they spent the night in the lockup, and later the fathers of the young gypsies settled the case by the father of Willie paying the father of Miss Stanley $100.

Carl Fischer Wins West Jersey Title

Woodbury Man Annexes Title in Moorestown Tennis Tourney

Dr. Carl Fischer, of Woodbury, retained the West Jersey Field Clubs singles tennis championship at the Moorestown Field Club, Saturday afternoon when he again defeated Sam Gilpin, of Merion, last year's finalist, 6-0, 6-2, 6-2.

Gilpin and Dornheim succeeded in keeping the doubles crown by vanquishing Harold Lane and Norman Bramall, 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

In gaining the singles laurels Fischer played with that supreme confidence and skill which once gave him a ranking position among the Nation's leading players.

Observers recalled the days when he was the intercollegiate king. His southpaw service was effective at all times, breaking sharply to Gilpin's backhand, which is the weakest part of his armor.

Fischer also showed fine judgment in placing his shots, driving to all corners and keeping Gilpin chasing the length and width of the court. He knew exactly what to do and he did it with a perfection that amazed the gallery. They looked on astounded as Fischer directed his fire, his ricocheting shots being difficult to handle at all times.

He started off determined to prove his superiority over his Merion rival. There was an earnestness about his play that angered him for his adversary. In the first set Gilpin was outclassed, failing to steam the tide which swept against him with ever increasing vigor. At a result he was unable to win a single game. In the second and third sets, he did succeed in breaking through, winning two games in each.

In his triumph, the former college king showed that he has come back. It was a wonderful achievement for him to win so decisively for in taking the measure of Gilpin, he defeated one of the outstanding players in the Middle States district.

If Fischer continues to play with the same skill against the Nation's leading players at Seabright he undoubtedly will be asked to enter the Nationals.

He has natural ability, but his professional duties have kept him from taking an active part in recent years and as a result has not been able to do himself justice. But since the opening of the season he has given more time to his play; his concentration has resulted in an improvement in his game which should enable him to scale the heights again.

His workouts with his brother, Dr. Herbert Fischer, and Lieutenant R. Morgan Watt, another Woodbury player, have helped him to keep in physical condition.

Anticipate Many Honors West Jersey fans feel confident that Fischer is destined to play an important part in all the national tournaments.

Two games in the first set, the third and fifth, went to deuce, but Dr. Fischer won the others without extending himself, two of which he snatched by love scores.

Gilpin took a slight brace in the second set, but never went into even a momentary lead or a tie.

Dr. Fischer took the first two games at 30 and Gilpin won the third to make the score 2-1.

Three deuce games followed, and Dr. Fischer came through in each to gain a substantial 5-1 advantage. Gilpin got in some fine placements to capture the seventh game, but his rally was cut short when Dr. Fischer won his service at 15 to take the frame and lead 2-0 in set score.

Wins Four Love Games In the final set Gilpin flashed some fair tennis at long intervals but was helpless after taking the opening game. Four of the six games won by Dr. Fischer were love games.

One went to deuce twice and the other he won by dropping only one point. The point score:

FIRST SET
Dr. Fischer . . . 4 4 6 4—27-6
Gilpin . . . 2 0 2 4 0—11-0

SECOND SET
Dr. Fischer 4 4 5 5 2 4—32-6
Gilpin . . . 2 2 3 3 4 1—23-2

THIRD SET
Dr. Fischer 4 4 4 4 1 4—28-6
Gilpin . . . 4 1 0 4 0 4—13-2

Gilpin realized some consolation when he and Dornheim successfully defended their doubles championship which was won on the same courts last year. The vanquished singles finalist and his partner turned back Harold Lane and Norman Bramall in straight sets. The scores were 6-3, 6-3, 6-4.

The team work and steady playing of the title holders spelled defeat for the Cynwyd and Idle Hour stars. Gilpin and Dornheim outdrove and thoroughly outplayed the contestants for the crown throughout the match. Lane and Bramall stood slightly rally at the beginning of the third set when they took two of the first three games, both Lane and Bramall winning their service. The champs took the next game and thirty.

Summaries of Doubles
Lane and Bramall—
4 1 4 2 2 1 4 1—20-3
Gilpin and Dornheim—
2 4 0 4 4 1 4 4—27-6

Gilpin and Dornheim—
5 6 4 2 4 5 1 7 4—38-6
Lane and Bramall—
3 4 1 4 1 7 4 5 1—30-3

Lane and Bramall—

Gilpin and Dornheim—
2 6 1 4 2 4 4 4 9 5—41-6

Regret was expressed on all sides that more tennis fans at the Seabright grounds would be able to witness the superb matches which were played every afternoon and evening last week. Only a very small number of spectators enjoyed the brilliant court work of the main Saturday afternoon.

The tournament which was sanctioned by the Lawn Tennis Association of America was held under the auspices of the League of West Jersey Field Clubs. The committee in charge was C. S. Morris, Riverton, chairman; Lt. R. M. Watt, Woodbury C. C.; Charles Orr, and Edward Hall, Haddon Field Club, and C. Brook Wallace, Moorestown Field Club.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Copyright © 1927

Whatever has happened you, don't give up. Do not admit that circumstances are more powerful than you are.

Though your head be bloody it should not be bowed.

You may have had financial losses and the accumulations of years may have been swept away, possibly by the treachery of some friend. What of it? Tighten your belt and get it again.

You might be impaired. What of it? Other people have had discouragements and have lived bravely through them. The world is full of unassuming heroes who have met with reverses and yet kept up a brave front.

Keep your flag flying. The bankrupt merchant or the disillusioned youth may see no escape but suicide, but those who are wiser tackle the problem again.

There is no great teaching that does not instruct us that we can rise upon our faulty past and climb the stairs to a finer future.

No more damnable gospel was ever preached than that for you or any man or woman there is no hope.

If you have sinned, if you have made mistakes, rise up! Shake off the past and face the future. There is no man living but what has committed some errors. We can allow the burden of life to plunge us

This Week

By Arthur Brisbane
WILLIAM HOWARD TAFT
FATHER PLAYS BEAR
AND REASON TO BE THANKFUL
IF I HAD SOME MUSH

Justice Taft says he like the law better than the White House and, nearing his seventieth year, announces he will not retire. He certainly should not retire, for he owes to the public many future years of good effort. His mind and his smile are as young as ever, and every well informed man in the United States, big or little, would gladly submit any issue to the judgment of Chief Justice Taft.

In six hours New York's National Guard laid out an airplane base, ready for use, with radio, telephone and all other requirements. A fine achievement.

The United States Government should take as much time as necessary to provide an airplane base for every great city.

Governors Island in New York Harbor should be given up entirely to flying, with a big dock for submarines.

The richest city, New York, containing the United States Sub-Treasury and all its gold, is unprotected from the air.

There ought to be an air field there from which swift United States pursuit planes would rise like mosquitoes from a stagnant pond, to meet any invader.

Human beings are like children. A father plays "bear" with his little child, and the child is relieved when the bear stands up and becomes, once more, "father."

In England, when the sun came out the sun, changing day to night, and everybody knew that it was only make-believe night. Nobody feared that "the devil was eating the sun." Nevertheless, when the eclipse passed and the sun came out, the crowds cheered. They were glad to have mother nature stop playing bear.

When Uncle Sam's fiscal year ended last week, he found a surplus of $655,000,000. Secretary Mellon had "rumored" $625,000,000, a good prophecy.

Uncle Sam really is a rich person and can afford anything he needs. He ought to dig canals, harness water power, build the greatest air and submarine fleets in the world. He should stop trying to persuade Europe to do what it doesn't want to do, attend to his own business and be in a position to make other nations mind their own business. Until this nation is prepared to defend itself against any ten other nations the Government will not have done its duty.

"Well done, but what did you do the next day?"

Fokker, airplane builder, would have an answer ready for Napoleon's favorite question. On Wednesday a Fokker plane flew to Honolulu. Next day a Fokker plane reached France. Now Fokker announces a plane to fly, non-stop, for seventy-two hours, and go from Seattle to Tokyo, 5,000 miles. This Government should contract with Fokker to keep him here for life building airplanes. Ancient Monarchs and Popes offered any inducement that would bring great artists to their courts. The great artist of today is the airplane artist.

On the Hudson, not ten yards from shore, off Sing Sing prison, three boys were struggling. Prison guards could not leave their duty to save them. One boy begged permission to save the boys, but the guards, rifles leveled, forbade them to follow their impulse, jump into the river and pull the drowning boys ashore.

The three boys drowned while guards and convicts looked on, some of the latter weeping.

Once more these convicts feel that they never had a chance, not even a chance to help others, at risk to themselves.

They had a bad start in life, most of them, and things have gone wrong with them ever since. When they missed the opportunity to save life they again felt cheated.

If the prisoners had no chance in the beginning is not the fault of society, whose fault is it?

LAWYERS MARRIED AGAIN

Lawyers Stanley K. Heilbron and Harold T. Parker, of Mount Holly, weren't satisfied with being married once recently, but had to try it again at the Mount Holly Exchange Club meeting last week.

These coming Chief Justices of the United States attended their first meeting since returning from their wedding trips and gave their fellow members one of the surprises of their lives. It would not have been any shock to them if the club had put over some foolish reception for such an important occasion, but there was no chance for anything of this sort. The young lawyers turned the tables in great shape by entering the room arm in arm with Heilbron as the groom and Parker as the bride, while the club musicians touchingly played the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin.

Why go all the way to Geneva for a disarmament conference—with Chicago right here at home?

DRIVE ON FOR NEW FIRE TRUCK FUND

Marlton Company Hopes to Pay For Apparatus Through Public Contributions

The committee appointed to solicit funds for the new fire truck, purchased by the Marlton Fire Company, have started the campaign and will make a house-to-house canvass in the entire community.

The amount aimed to be raised is $6,610, which is the purchase price of the new truck. Fifty per cent of the purchase price is to be paid when the truck is delivered and the balance when approved by fire underwriters. The truck will be delivered before September 1.

The method devised by the Fire Company to raise the amount is a three-year payment plan, payments to be made on September 1 of each year. They are confident that through this plan the amount necessary will be obtained and feel that the taxpayers and residents approve this method, rather than asking the township committee to appropriate money to pay for the apparatus and thereby increasing the already high tax rate.

The people of Marlton and community have always liberally supported their fire company and there is no reason why they will not, and every reason why they should give unstinted support in this matter.

HARRISON CANDIDATE

Newark Lawyer Out For Governor Nomination

James Henry Harrison, Newark lawyer and former State Senator from Essex County, is the first aspirant for the Republican nomination for Governor next year to formally announce his candidacy. In his declaration he says that he is not the candidate of any group or faction of the party, but hopes for the united support of all Republicans.

Prior to his election to the State Senate in 1922 Harrison served a term as county prosecutor for Essex county, being appointed to the office by Governor Edge.

Harrison took no part in the recent contest between the Edge and Keane forces over the election of a county chairman.

An effort will be made to line up Republican forces in Essex county solidly behind Harrison's candidacy. "The State of Essex," as it was once known, has more than a fourth of the population and wealth of New Jersey and has had only two Governors in forty years.

When the Essex candidate played on the Princeton baseball team in his college days they called him "Beck" Harrison and his class voted him its best athlete. He has been practicing law in Newark for twenty years. His first law partners were the late Joseph L. Munn and Alonso Church, now vice chancellor. The present law firm is Harrison & Roche.

Harrison is a bachelor and lives with his aged mother in Caldwell, Essex county, where he was born and which is also the birthplace of Grover Cleveland.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Calmes, M. D.

PLAIN COMMON-SENSE

We hear much about "vitamines": I overheard a vociferous diet expert recently broadcast from a local station, a discourse on the subject; said he in substance: "Nobody has ever seen a vitamine, nor has any one ever tasted one; we do not know just what they are like, whether solid or liquid; but we do know this: that greens, milk and wholegrain bread are among the richest in vitamine content."

Then, why tangle the layman up with a profundity which we cannot even demonstrate ourselves? When a man or woman talks to me about vitamins and hormones, I feel sure that I am up against the eleventh page of the Sunday newspaper. This is embarrassing to both the patient and myself. There are enough well known facts in the hands of the faithful physician, that he does not need to confuse the patient with calories, vitamins and hormones! The more the patient is befuddled with endocrinology and metabolism, the more likely is he to be suspicious of good, plain, sensible food.

Nobody but a fool would take away from the shrewd manual laborer, the friend beset with which is required to keep him physically fit for his job—even if frying does kill all the miracle-working vitamins supposed to reside in the succulent protein. But it is entirely another thing to feed the swivel-chair veteran of sixty summers and a blood pressure of 190, on the same sort of fuel. One man's antidote can, in truth, be another man's poison.

Science abounds in mathematical precision; common-sense is exercise of that most wonderful endowment of the sane—judgment. And, judgment may save life, though the geometric line that reaches from somewhere to nowhere be completely forgotten. Cornbread and milk, with greens on the side, need no "vitamins" to commend them.

Next week: Acute Digestive Disturbances.

BAGGINESS PLUS

Baggy knickers for the woman rollers are being designed by Worth in fullness that rivals brother's plus-fours.

It may be true, as physicians claim, that more than 85 per cent. of the population use only one eye. We, for one, are afraid to risk any more than that—with women's styles what they are.

BRISTOL COUNCIL FAVORS BRIDGE

Resolution Offered By Joseph R. Grundy Adopted

Bristol's Borough Council has adopted a resolution favoring the proposed bridge between that city and Burlington. The resolution was offered by Joseph R. Grundy at a meeting of the Council last week. It follows:

Whereas for a long period the citizens of Bristol have been committed to the desirability of a bridge across the Delaware river at Bristol; and likewise to the Federal Government's partially completed system of inland waterways, and Whereas the Federal Government and several of the States, through which this Waterway is to be built; and

Whereas a definite proposition looking to the construction of a bridge across the Delaware river at Bristol is to be presented to the Government Engineers on July 22, next; therefore be it

Resolved by Borough Council of

Bristol in regular meeting assembled, that we endorse the principle looking to the construction of a bridge across the Delaware river at Bristol, insofar as it will not unduly jeopardize, or interfere with, the project to which the Federal Government is already committed, namely, a deeper waterway's system for inland coastal trade along the Atlantic Seaboard; and be it further

Resolved that a copy of these Resolutions be forwarded to the Government Engineers in charge of the Delaware river improvement, with our assurances to the Federal Government of every aid and co-operation in any practical plan for the construction of a bridge across the Delaware river at Bristol, subject to the commitments as above set forth.

Nowadays it is no reproach to a young man to be spoken of as flighty.—Virginia-Pilot.

It Can Be Done!

Often persons will say they have nothing left from their income that they can save.

If such persons could see the way some others continually put aside just a small amount at a time and could see those small amounts grow into a considerable amount it would be a revelation.

It can be done.

Why not try it?

Mechling Finds Lead Arsenate and Soap Best Jap Beetle Spray

Prominent Moorestown Chemist Says Foliage is Unhurt by New Solution; Fruit Must be Washed Carefully

"Anybody that 'poohpoohs' the menace of the Japanese beetle and the efforts being made to combat it is either sadly misinformed as to the facts or is badly off for joke material."

That, to put it mildly, is the opinion of Edward A. Mechling, of the Mechling Brothers Chemical Works, Lime street and Cooper river, and prominent Moorestown man.

"And I think I know a lot about the beetle," said Mechling. "I have a lot of farmland within a short distance where the Jap beetle first entered the country and made its first home."

Then the chemist answered the question that many people have asked themselves, their friends, or their neighbors: Where and how did the beetle get started?

Arrived Unnoticed
It is supposed that the Jap beetle entered this country with some shipments of Japanese iris, brought here and planted at the Dreer nurseries in Riverton. They are thought to have made that entry a dozen years ago.

Of course, at first, Mechling said, they weren't noticed much. Nobody knew what they were and if their interest was aroused, they dismissed it with the remark, in most cases, "Just another new-fangled bug."

But those years at the beginning were disastrous and the real cause of the beetle's quarantining area of today. When their propagation became alarming the government experimental station was located at Riverton.

Early Dangers
The first means taken to exterminate the pest were almost as dangerous as the beetle itself. There was at once a wide-spread broadcasting of solutions, Mechling said, which did nothing but chase the beetle and move it on, possibly protecting some foliage in a small area, but leaving the spread of the pest unhindered.

Mechling said he was a member of the State Board of Agriculture when the appropriation was obtained from the Legislature to fight the beetle.

"Any number of officials, even then, thought the money was being wasted," he said. "They said they had heard a lot of wild alarms about this or that bug, but things seemed to have come out all right. They told us we would never be able to exterminate the beetle and advised our trying to control it."

Double-Barreled Remedy
"Now we've at last hit on a solution that will do both, something that will protect the foliage and fruit and kill a large number of the pests at the same time. This solution that has been offered as exterminators in the past have done one or the other, but they have failed in accomplishing both."

"Where they have protected they have merely sent the beetle on. Where they have killed they have endangered foliage and fruit. Most of the old remedies were purely temporary. You had to be spraying all the time, and even a light rain would fix things for the beetles to stage a comeback."

The new preparation, a mixture of arsenate of lead coated with a soap compound, protects the foliage and is palatable to the taste of the beetle, the insect succumbing in a short time after its consumption.

GOIN' FISHIN'

Holly Business Men to Stage Annual Outing at Beach Haven

The committee appointed at the last meeting of the Mount Holly Business Men's Association to make preparations for the annual fishing trip of members of the Association and their friends has set Wednesday, July 27, as the date, and Beach Haven as the place.

An early morning start will be made for the fishing grounds, and upon the return from the bay at 5 o'clock the fishermen will enjoy a dinner at the Beach Haven House, prepared under the direction of the proprietor, Richard Lamb, a county seat man.

Suitable prizes will be awarded for the biggest catch, the biggest fish, etc., and the members are privileged to invite their friends to accompany them.

AVOID MONTREAL

Tourists Warned of Typhoid Peril At Canadian City

Tourists are advised by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey, to eliminate Montreal and vicinity from their itinerary this summer because of the prevalence of a typhoid fever epidemic described by the United States Health Service as "probably unprecedented by any other large city in the world within the present century."

Thousands of requests have been received by the club's Touring Bureau for routes to Montreal, always a popular resort for tourists from Pennsylvania and New Jersey. In every instance the motorists have been advised of the typhoid danger there and have substituted other places for their vacation trips.

In order to obtain the most accurate information on conditions in Montreal, the Club has been in communication with the United States Health Service and is strongly advised to dissuade tourists from going anywhere near the stricken city.

Infection of the milk supply caused the epidemic and experts of the health service have found that much of the milk that formerly was shipped to the company whose product spread the disease now is being distributed through other plants without being officially controlled in such manner as to preclude its possible menace to public health.

This, coupled with the fact that

5c—BUT GOOD!

A Famous Old Cigar at a Nickel Now. Here's News

There's a cigar on sale in this town today that will convince the most hard-boiled skeptic who ever said "all nickel cigars are alike." This cigar sold at over a nickel for years. It was so downright good that the sales went up and up. We were able to bring the price down to a nickel. Then we made the cigar even better. Now it's selling in the millions.

Any smoker who gives that cigar a work-out will revise his ideas about five-centers. He'll get flavor, aroma, ripe tobacco, mild fragrance—everything that makes a good cigar good. He'll find that he can smoke it all day and every day and never get tired of it. He'll forget how little the cigar costs. The name is Havana Ribbon, men. It's been a good name for thirty years. No matter what you think of five-cent cigars, park your prejudices and invest a single nickel in Havana Ribbon. You owe that much to yourself as a smoker.

NEW ATTORNEY

Fryling Succeeds Judge Coult in P. S. Claim Dept.

Henry H. Fryling, counsel to the Claim Department, has been named to succeed Judge Joseph Coult as claims attorney for Public Service companies. Mr. Coult resigned to take up the practice of law with David Satz under the firm name of Coult and Satz.

Mr. Fryling is a native of Essex County and lives in South Orange. He studied law in Newark and was admitted to the bar in February, 1897, as an attorney and three years later as a counselor-at-law. He carried on a general practice in Newark since his admission to the bar and until he came to Public Service May 1, 1921.

As trial attorney he has tried cases for Public Service subsidiaries in every county of the state in which they operate. On January 1, 1926, he succeeded Leonard J. Tynan as counsel to the Claim Department continuing since, however, to try cases in the Essex County courts.

As counsel to the Claim Department he had charge of all appeals to the Supreme Court and Court of

When Is a Bargain?

The home-maker who pays a visit to any Public Service store on one of these fine summer days will be well rewarded. At this season, while we are making room for new stock, bargains abound. A low or reduced price does not always constitute a bargain, but with Public Service every appliance is tested before it is offered for sale, and a Public Service bargain is a real bargain, since only the best appliances are sold.

Gas Range Prices Are Reduced

THERE are opportunities at Public Service stores these days for the home-maker who is looking for a new gas range. Several models that are to be discontinued as part of our regular stock have been lowered in price for quick clearance. Price reductions have been extended to certain ranges where only one or two of a line are left.

Over heat regulator gas ranges and the all enamelled stoves so much in demand are included in the reduced price group. If the home-maker has put off the purchase of a gas range with oven heat control for purposes of economy, this sale will enable her to secure one of these time and work saving ranges at a substantial saving.

Although reduced in price, every range meets the high standards of Public Service.

Our convenient easy payment plan applies to these appliances and the privilege of using it is extended to all our customers.

Light the Gas Water Heater from Upstairs

The Time-O-Rate does for your hot water service what the self-starter does for the motor car. If you use a tank water heater, it saves many steps. Set the dial at the number of minutes you want the gas to burn. When the time is up the gas shuts off automatically.

Turn on the Breeze With Electric Fan

Combat the heat and humidity successfully with an electric fan. Be comfortable at noon—sleep in comfort by night, no matter what the thermometer says. Order a quiet, good-looking fan from Public Service today, and have a breeze where and when you want it.

A Real Mazda For Every Socket

All sizes and shapes of Mazda lamps are on display at Public Service stores. We will be glad to help you select the right lamp for your particular requirements. Six Mazda lamps (not exceeding 40 watts capacity) in a carton for $1.38.

Four Tragedies at Maple Shade

Two Drownings, Auto Fatality and Suicide in Single Week

A weekend of tragedies in which Maple Shade figured very prominently was climaxed Monday evening by the suicide of a 62-year-old woman. Four lost their lives. The victims are:

Mrs. Esther Sobo, of Maple avenue, Maple Shade, death by suicide early Monday evening. Columbia Dabbunda, seven-month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dabbunda, Lincoln avenue, Lenola, who was killed when an auto driven by her father crashed into a parked auto in Maple Shade late Sunday night.

Peter Curtis, 52-year-old farmer, of Fork Landing Road, Maple Shade who drowned in Pensauken Creek, near Palmyra, Sunday.

Goldy Paskas, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Paskas, South Fork Landing Road, who drowned in Crystal Lake, Delaware Township, late Friday evening.

The death of Mrs. Sobo was reported to Clarence L. Ward, chief of Maple Shade police department, at 7 o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. Sobo was found in a half-reclining position beside an iron bed. She hung herself with a small piece of rope from the top of the bed.

Destroys Policy
Mrs. Sobo was housekeeper for her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James Harveth, Maple avenue, Maple Shade. Both Mr. and Mrs. Harveth are employed out-of-town. When Mr. Harveth returned home about 2:30 in the afternoon he stopped for a while to chat with Mrs. Sobo who seemed in fairly good spirits. Later in the afternoon, about 6 o'clock, Mrs. Sobo, during the course of a conversation with her grandson, 14-year-old James Harveth, Jr., told him she was going to destroy her insurance papers.

When Mrs. Harveth returned home, shortly after 6:30, she went to her mother's room and found the door locked. She knocked several times, and then broke open the door and found her mother dead beside the bed.

Contrary to the reports of newspapers, thorough investigation by Chief Ward and Coroner John Bolton, 3d, Moorestown, revealed that there had been no quarrelling in the family. The only reason advanced for Mrs. Sobo's decision to end her life was due to pain which she had suffered recently from her foot which was operated on a short time back.

The charred remains of the insurance policy, which was payable to Mrs. Harveth, and the insurance payment book, were found in an iron pot. The Harveth family is well liked and respected by all of the neighbors.

Baby is Victim
The Dabbunda baby was killed when a car driven by her father crashed into the rear of a parked car, owned by B. Hirschblond, of Mount Holly. The accident occurred at Fellowship road and Moorestown pike.

Hirschblond's car was parked at the side of the road without a tail-light, according to Dabbunda, whose machine turned over following the impact, pinning his wife, Mary, and the child, beneath the wreckage.

Hirschblond aided in extracting the child from the wreckage and they were taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden. Physicians declared the child died instantly. The father was unhurt. Mrs. Dabbunda suffered from loss of blood due to cut in her face at the time of the crash, but escaped injury. No arrests have been made but an investigation is under way directed by Chief Ward.

Although Dabbunda contended Hirschblond's car light was not lit, Hirschblond said he had stopped merely to fix an inner light on his machine.

The child's body was removed to Philadelphia before Coroner Bolton arrived to investigate and give a certificate of death.

Trapper Drowned
Curtis, who was a muskrat trapper in winter and a farmer in summer, borrowed a roadster from Joseph Kunz and rowed toward Burlington pike. Stephen Keller, of Allegheny street wharf, and Isaac Madden, of 2638 Livingston street, Philadelphia, were cruising up the creek in a motor boat when the screams of two boys attracted their attention. The boys said a man had just drowned.

The men cruised about in hope Curtis might come to the surface, but without success. He was later found by a boatman and taken to the hospital. Captain Harry Wheeler soon arrived with grappling irons and in ten minutes, with the aid of Keller and Madden, the body was recovered. The body had been in the water an hour and there were no signs of life. Coroner Charles T. Murray was summoned and had the body sent to the Camden morgue.

Curtis had lived at various farms along the creek for about 14 years. He had sometimes spoken of a brother and sister living in Philadelphia. An effort is being made by the police to locate them.

Goldy Paskas was drowned in Crystal Lake about 11 o'clock Friday night. For hours, police searched for her and finally dragged the lake but without result. Not until 4:35 o'clock Saturday morning was the child's body found, after the lake had been partially drained.

Body Finally Found
According to Nellie Bouden, one of the children with Goldy, all were playing in the water together when suddenly Goldy left the group and started down the bank, unnoticed by the others.

Most of the children thought that Goldy had returned home, they said. The father reported the child as missing late Friday night and when the circumstances were explained, it was decided to drag the lake. Chief Ward notified Merchantville and Delaware Township police, the lake being located in Delaware township near Merchantville.

Policemen George Helts, Walter Roy and Edward Coney, of Merchantville, enlisted the aid of Allen Stokes, Howard Robertson, John Schaub, Nelson Schaub and Staker Alcott, and the party met Chief Ward at the lake. Delaware township officers arrived at the same time.

At 4:35 o'clock Ward noticed a child's arm protruding from the surface of the water. The body was found at a point about 20 feet from the shore. The water at that point had been about 12 feet deep. Chief Ward is high in his praise for the assistance rendered by the Merchantville police.

Charles T. Murray, Camden county coroner, was notified and issued a certificate of death by drowning. Goldy was one of four children. Her three brothers are Peter, Jr., 21 years old; John, 13, and Fred, 3 years.

George J. Dean, of Derosse avenue and River Road, Delair, was rushed to the Cooper Hospital, Camden, following a crash on Fork Landing Road, opposite Fifth avenue, Maple Shade, 3 o'clock Friday morning. Dean lost control of the large sedan which he was driving and crashed into a tree. Dean suffered cuts on his lip which required three stitches and lacerations to the chest. His car was considerably damaged about the front.

The man doesn't live who is disappointed in his obituary notice.

ROTARIANS AND LIONS STAGE BIG BALL GAME FOR CHARITY

Old Timers "Come Back" and Give Exhibition of Game As It Ustawas

LYNCH HITS HOME RUN; LAMON GETS 2-BAGGER

Monday evening of this week at Memorial Park, Riverton, the Rotary and Lions Clubs staged a comedy of errors that has the famous Shakespearean masterpiece eclipsed. The Rotarians and Lions put on this battle for the benefit of the bereaved family of Demetrio Cardua, and although many of the willow tofers had not played for years a lively and hard-fought game ensued.

Lion Bill Lynch showed the spectators that Jimmy Dykes, the A first sacker, was not the only one who could face out a homer. Lynch knocked the apple into the left field garden for a round trip. The only other extra base hit also went to the Lions by virtue of a twopenny wallop under the direction of Walt Lamon.

A play by play description of this game is well worth the time as it shows that some of the "has-beens" can "come back."

Geta Hit, But on Neck

Frank Chambers, first man up for the Lions, walked and went to second when Rev. "Blah" Lockett muffed a throw from Hubbs. Fred Fromuth missed three swings and retired. George Conlow, last one of Hubbs' speed balls on the neck, and Umpire Griscum issued a free pass to first. A mighty swat from Lamon's wagon-tongue scored both runners. Buohi walked and "Geeky Elliot" Erhard was safe on Richmonds miscue, thus filling the sacks. While Bill Lynch was making up his mind to fly out to Hubbs, Walt Lamon became impatient and stole home, making a dash for it under Pat Steedle's hands. Heck walked, filling the bases again. George Zeisner, the Bellevue developer, hit to Hubbs who tossed Buohi out at home.

The Rotarians could not rotate their entire batting order, but with six batters in their half they tied the score. Pat Steedle walked, took second on Heck's bad throw and moved to third on Zeisner's fast one to second in an effort to catch Pat asleep. The old time receiver for several local teams made a clean steal of home. While Pat was busy entertaining the crowd with his spectacular come back, Clarence Hubbs walked, stole second, third and home. Clarence may look as if he is aging but he can still give most young players a good race at base running.

"Blah" Lockett, as he is known among the Rotarians, obliged the crowd by gracefully fanning at three of Zeisner's dew drops. "Hidge" Sweeney, who has been having lots of experience at "Dodgy," waited for one to his liking and was safe when Zeisner tried three times to pick up the ball.

There's tricks in all trades but Richmond had been tricking the Jap. Beetles instead of baseballs so long that he fanned. Heck dropped the third strike on Ike Rogers but threw Rogers out at first. Well three runs, without a hit, in one inning is better than Connie Mack can get out of his team with a flock of hits.

Chambers up again to start the second frame was safe on Lockett's error. Hubbs caught Chambers asleep off first and to everyone's surprise "Blah" Lockett held the throw and tagged the runner. "Fordson" Fromuth could not connect and again retired on strikes. Conlow singled but was doubled off first when Sweeney caught Lamon's fly and threw to first.

The Rotarians also went scoreless in the second frame. Zeisner threw Fish out at first. Horace Finney singled and went to second on Eberly's infield out. Pat Steedle socked one into left but Conlow gathered it in and pegged to home, and Heck tagged Finney for the last out.

Two bases on errors and a good single could not produce a run for the Lions in the first half of the third.

Murderer's Row

The Rotary must have sent up "murderer's row" in their portion of the third for they scored four runs on two bases on errors and three hits. Hubbs got on first on an error and immediately stole second. Sweeney singled, scoring Hubbs, and took second on Lynch's miff, then stole third. Richmond's bludge scored Sweeney. Top Beetle Expert stole second in his good old college form and went to third while Ike Rogers was taking three strikes. Ed Fish was safe on the "sky pilot's" misplaying of a hard hit ball. The plumber promptly laid a line to second and scored on Frank Coles' peppy single. "Coal Heaver" Williams fanned to end the inning.

Once more the Palmyra News Editor was first up in the inning. Much to his surprise the Editor connected for a safe hit and went to second on Fromuth's infield sacrifice. Conlow, having fully recovered from the effects of the last one he caught on the neck, brought Chambers home with a single. So elated over his good fortune at getting two safe hits was Conlow that he stole second and never blushed. Lamon singled Conlow home then proceeded to put on an exhibition of base running by stealing second and third while Buohi and Erhard fanned and let Lamon die on third.

To start the second half of the fourth frame Pat Steedle fanned—but more than that he asked "Dodgy" Griscum if he wanted a candle to see by. Hubbs walked. Becker was safe on Lynch's error. Sweeney walked, filling the bags. Hubbs showing some more of his speed on the base path stole home again. Becker scored on Lamon's (Continued on Page 5)

FUNDS COME SLOWLY FOR PARK ATTENDANT

Only Three Have Sent in Subscriptions, But Supervision Will Start Next Week

The appeal for funds with which to employ an attendant all day every day at Riverton Memorial Park made by Director of Public Safety Williams last week has brought four responses—three besides the one with which The New Era started the campaign off.

Surely there must be enough public-spirited people in Riverton to give the pittance $200 for which the director asks in the name of the little folks of Riverton.

Perhaps some who approve of the plan have just neglected to send in their contribution. Perhaps some have thought that others would do it and there was no need for their subscription.

Two accidents happened this week which might have been avoided if the boys had had a place to play under supervision. One little chap was cut in the head by a ball thrown by a smaller child, and another boy very narrowly escaped fatal burns when a can of blazing gasoline was kicked over by a playmate.

The streets are becoming increasingly unsafe as a playground, and it is most providential that some serious accidents have not happened to the children who play there.

Riverton has an ideal playground. All it needs is a few dollars to pay an attendant to make it safe as well.

Will you do your part? Send your subscription to The New Era office or direct to Mr. Williams.

Those who had contributed up to Wednesday night of this week were:

S. L. Warren 1.00
J. L. Jackson 1.00
Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cole 1.00
Director Williams will start the attendant the first of next week on the money already in hand. How long this protection is continued will depend entirely on the interest and support of the people of Riverton.

JERSEY HAS 25,000 TANKS

Department of Weights and Measures Claim They Are Big Problem

DEPARTMENT DENIED NEEDED LEGISLATION

The fifteenth annual report of the Department of Weights and Measures of the State of New Jersey for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1927, has just been issued.

The statistics which fill its pages contain some very interesting information.

For instance, the total number of weighing and measuring devices tested numbered 262,205. Of these, less than 5 per cent were found to be incorrect. There were 274 prosecutions and the money collected for fines amounted to $8,700.

Of gasoline pumps the report says:

"The gasoline pump situation continues to be a trying one and the testing of these devices constitutes one of the most arduous tasks with which our officials are confronted. The number of pumps in New Jersey is 25,000. Competition among the various oil companies is undoubtedly responsible to a great extent for this condition."

The Department of Weights and Measures asked for the following legislation which, however, was not passed:

A bill to license dealers in fuel.

A bill to amend the existing sale-by-weight law in order to clarify an exemption of the act in question.

A bill to regulate commercial laundries where service is sold on the basis of weight.

A bill providing for the sale of ice cream by weight.

A bill requiring that all commodities in packages shall be marked with a declaration of the net contents.

The present act requires that only food and drugs shall be so marked.

A bill providing for sale of bread in loaves of standard weight.

In connection with the failure of these bills to become laws the report pointedly says:

"The failure of the more important acts proposed was, no doubt, due in great measure to the fact that the public does not take the trouble to interest itself in projects designed for its protection, yet they are not hesitant in criticizing when playing around the scene are taken our power to control through lack of adequate legislation."

In Burlington county sixty-three units of weighing or measuring equipment were condemned but there were no prosecutions.

SLEEPLESS NIGHT DUE TO DISABLED "LIZZIE"

Party of Eight Stranded in Pines All Night When Car Breaks Down

The Vancovers and the Hardings of Cinnaminson street, Riverton, spent an anxious night Sunday.

In the afternoon George Harding, who was about to take his mother, other members of the family and some of the neighbors out for an automobile ride, asked Albert Vancover, junior, to go along. That made eight in a Ford touring.

When the party did not return by dark the fathers Harding and Vancover became anxious. As the night wore on and still no word their anxiety increased. They saw a light of a wrecked car and mulattled occupants. Daylight came and still no tidings. But work must be done, and the men went to their jobs filled with gloomy forebodings.

About eight o'clock Monday morning the car and its weary passengers wobbled into Riverton. It had broken down about 20 miles from Mount Holly, in the pine region, and the party was unable to get help until morning. They spent a sleepless night in the car, while the fathers spent a sleepless night at home.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS WILL CUT FIVE MILES FROM SHORE ROUTE

COLLISION

Ford Truck Hits Chevrolet Sedan on West Broad Street

A Chevrolet sedan owned by Salvatore Fabricatore, of 316 West Broad street, Palmyra, was struck by a Ford truck owned by Palmyra Concrete Company and driven by Carmela Ruben, of 756 Park avenue, at West Palmyra, Saturday. Ruben was fined $5.00 and costs at a hearing before a Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter for reckless driving and the Fabricatore sedan was taken to Marshall's garage.

The sedan was coming up Broad street and the driver stopped it in order to let two other cars go by before it turned. The Ford truck was coming down Broad street too fast to avoid hitting the other machine and before it was brought to a complete stop was upon the sidewalk.

A complete new front, including mudguards, headlights, and wheels, was necessary to repair the Chevrolet at Marshall's garage. The truck was not as badly damaged.

REWARD FOR CAPTURE OF BURLINGTON ASSASSIN

There is good news for motorists in the action taken by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday when that body decided to take over a stretch of road on the highway between New Lisbon and the Harneget and improve it. The section to be improved lies between the Budtown road and the Cedar Bridge road, and will do away with the triangle running to Chatsworth, saving motorists about five miles in their trip to the shore.

Woodland township, in which this strip of road lies, has refused to improve it, even though the State and County are willing to help defray the expense, owing to the fact that it would mean more travel away from Chatsworth.

State Aid for Improvement

The matter was laid before Major Sloan, of the State Highway Commission, and he recommended that the county take the road over and improve it. The State being willing to give $10,000 toward the work. On this advice the board on Friday passed a resolution introduced by Freeholder Staut, director of roads, taking over the road.

The improvement will consist of gravel, with an oil surface, and will cost about $25,000.

Another road improvement decided upon in the completion of six-tenths of the highway leading from Bordentown to Chatsworth.

The county and state have just finished resurfacing this highway with oil-penetration macadam, except a portion of the distance between these two towns, and it then was decided to do the entire distance. The cost of the additional six-tenths of a mile is about $12,000, of which the county will pay $7,000 and the State Highway Commission $5,000.

Plan Farm Exhibit

At the request of Charles A. Thompson, county farm agent, the Board of Freeholders gave permission to the County Board of Agriculture to hold an exhibit of farm products and a dairy show on the farmhouse farm at New Lisbon next fall. Thompson said a county of the agricultural importance of Burlington should not allow a year to go by without permitting the public to see down a opportunity to see exhibits of its products. This proposition is to be a big event and it has the backing and co-operation of the freeholders.

Notice was given that the next meeting of the State Association of Freeholders, of which Director of Roads Charles R. Stout, of Florence, is president, will be held at High Point, Sumner County, on August 8. Request for a county of the repairs be made to the trolley bed throughout that city, was referred to the road department with power to act.

County Officers Rewarded

A communication was received from Governor George M. H. Hillman calling attention to the murder of Charles Alexander at Burlington on July 8, and the fact that the murderer has not been caught. He recommended that the Board of Freeholders offer a reward of $200 for the arrest and conviction of the assassin. The recommendation was endorsed by Judge Slaughter, and a resolution by Mr. Stout that the reward be complied with was unanimously passed.

Harry Ford, of Green Bank, sent a letter to the board calling attention to the fact that the sum of $10, due for services at the drawbridge, rendered between the death of his father and the appointment of a new attendant, had never been paid, and on a resolution of Mr. Fisher the bill was passed for payment.

Dinner at Osmead

Miss Margaret S. Haines, executive secretary of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League, rendered a statement to the board concerning the 36 children which the appropriation by that body financed at the present time for two weeks, and invited the members of the board to dinner at Osmead at their convenience. The invitation was accepted for July 29.

Added to the list of children asked the board in reference to children being sent to his institution. He related that he had no proper facilities for caring for them and that if they were to be sent there he should have additional room for them. Mr. Worrell said he had asked the Children's Home at Mount Holly to help him, but they could do nothing.

During the last month fifteen children had been sent to him. He had induced the overseers of the poor of the municipalities from which they came to take ten of them back, but five, belonging to parents who are in the toils of the law—the husband being in jail for beating his wife.

The following departmental bills were read and ordered paid: Roads, $17,889.49; bridges, $9,291.70; finance, $278.72; public buildings, $15,844.62; public affairs, $5,479.94; total, $45,516.47.

SUCCESSFUL FISHING TRIP

Last Friday William H. Bishop and his son, accompanied by Russell Rubrecht, Ross Evans, J. L. Jackson and John Bollerjous, went to Tuckerton on a fishing trip. The party was quite successful, bringing home 125 nice trophies of their prowess and skill. The trip was made in Bishop's car.

Barn Burned in Electrical Storm

$7500 Loss From Fire at Moore Farm 3.30 Saturday Morning

The heavy rain which was accompanied by a violent electrical storm early Saturday morning brought much relief to the farmers of South Jersey and also caused considerable damage. During the height of the storm lightning struck a barn on the Moore farm, Haines Mill Road. The loss is estimated at about $7,500.

The farm is owned by George N. Wimer of Palmyra and leased by Arthur Siebke.

Cattle and horses were rushed to safety by firemen and farm hands, but the damage to grain and farm machinery caused the loss to mount considerably.

A deafening crash of thunder accompanied the bolt of lightning which struck the barn. Ralph Phelps, who resides on the Moore farm, was awakened by the heavy thunder and saw the barn burst into flames. A small building which housed the farm's electric light plant also caught fire and was completely destroyed before the firemen reached the scene.

An alarm quickly brought aid from the Moorestown, Riverside and Bridgeboro fire departments.

Men who aided in the release of the stock stated that one cow was found dead and had apparently been struck by the bolt of lightning which caused the fire.

The barn had just been moved to the farm from Moorestown a short time ago. Alterations were only recently completed. A barn on the same site was burned about eighteen months ago.

BLAZING GASOLINE BURNS SMALL BOY

Clothing Takes Fire When Can of Flaming Liquid is Overturned

An incident that happened at Steedle's storage house, Riverton, Monday afternoon had all the makings of a catastrophe and the fact that two boys were not burned to death was due more to good luck than good management.

William Bassett and Jack Haley, two lads not yet in their teens, were playing around the place and had drawn some gasoline from the supply tank into a can when they were chased away by Joseph Points, an employee.

Shortly after, Points was called away for a few minutes and the lads, who had been awaiting an opportunity, poured some of the gas into a bottle and set fire to it. In transferring the liquid from the can to the bottle some of it was spilled on the ground, and when one of the boys struck a match to the bottle, the flame was instantly carried to the contents of the can.

The youngster was alarmed and after upsetting the can attempted to stamp out the flames. The blazing liquid splashed on Haley, whose clothing caught fire. Fortunately he had the presence of mind to throw himself to the ground where he succeeded in rolling out the flames which had burned through his clothing and scorched his skin. He ran home and his burns were treated by Dr. Harry S. Rogers.

The fire at the garage was contained by firemen from the fire station at the Riverton freight station, who beat it out with a coat.

While this was going on, a quote game was in progress at Memorial Park, during which Alfred Harding received a gash in the scalp and was sewed up by Dr. Rogers.

LIEUT. SPARLING VISITS RIVERTON

Agrees to Move Newstead Into Station and Have Grass Cut Along Tracks

Lieutenant Sparling, of the P. E. R. line, stationed at Trenton, was in Riverton two days this week. While here he took occasion to warmly commend the quick action of Herbert Anderson, gatekeeper at the Main street crossing, whose ready wits saved a woman from being struck by the Nelly Bly when her engine stalled on the tracks Tuesday afternoon.

Lieut. Sparling was also in conference with Director of Public Safety Williams in reference to improving conditions around the Riverton railroad station and along the tracks. He was entirely agreeable to the suggestions of the director that the newstead be moved into the station, thus doing away with an untidy condition back of the building it now occupies, and also that the Main street crossing, where grass cut along the tracks is the borough.

RIVERTON BOYS AT CAMP PAHAQUARRA

Scout Troop No. 1 Left Riverton Monday Morning for Two Weeks

Troop 1, of Riverton, B. S. A., left for Camp Pahaquarra on Monday. The trip was started at 7 o'clock standard time and was made by truck from the Pennsylvania side of the ferry, arriving at 1.30. Camp Pahaquarra is located about six miles above Shawnee-on-the-Delaware. It is owned by the Trenton Area Scout Council and is one of the finest camps in the State. The councilors in charge are thoroughly efficient scout men of very high order.

The trip to and from the camp is easily made, and the benefit to be derived by the boys is well worth the effort.

REAL NEWS IN THE CLASSIFIED COLUMN

Have you read the classified column in The New Era this week? There you will find advertised a Peerless "8," a Ford truck, a Chevrolet coach and several other used cars for sale, rooms and apartments for rent, and several houses for rent or sale, besides a lot of other things you may want to know about.

WILL EXPLAIN WORKING OF NEW TRUCK TO FIREFMEN

A drill for all the active members of the Riverton Fire Company will be held Thursday evening.

This is the first time the operation of the new pumper will be explained to the men, and Chief Armstrong argues that every one who possibly can, to be on hand.

COMMUNITY SERVICE AT WESTFIELD

A community service of worship, which will be participated in by the residents of Moorestown, Palmyra, Riverton and vicinity, will be held at the Westfield Friends meeting-house next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The service will be in charge of the Rev. J. F. Danvers, Presbyterian pastor at Moorestown. A special invitation is extended to all to attend.

Buick Broadcast Scores Great Hit

Moorestown Motor Entertains Large Crowd with Radio; 5 1928 Cars Sold

Moorestown Motor Company joined hundreds of other Buick dealers in the country in celebration of the introduction of the 1928 Buick line of automobiles last Saturday.

More than 150 enthusiastic "Buick fans" from Moorestown and vicinity gathered at the show room of the Moorestown Motor Company to enjoy the radio program broadcast as a special feature of the 1928 introductory. The broadcast, which engaged the full facilities of the National Broadcasting Company, spanned the entire United States and Canada with the 1928 message of Buick and established a precedent in nation-wide automotive announcements over the radio. Reception at the Moorestown Company's office was exceptionally fine and clear, due to the efficiency of the R. C. A. No. 28 receiver, which was installed especially for the occasion by Billie Music Store.

The crowd which enjoyed the three programs at Moorestown Motor Company represents a very small majority in this section who received the announcement over the radio. Hundreds enjoyed the broadcast at their homes and since then have visited Moorestown Motor Company to inspect the new models.

Models brilliantly displayed. Five models of the 1928 line were attractively displayed for the occasion. The display will be brightly illuminated by huge spot lights. Norman Lippincott and his corps of salesmen were present to point out the many features of the new cars.

Sales were closed on two new models Saturday evening and by Monday morning the sales had mounted to five of the 1928 models.

Howard Knight, Sr., of West Second street, Moorestown, and Nathan Roberts, of West Main street, Moorestown, both placed orders for 1928 Buicks Saturday. Mr. Knight purchased a 5-passenger sedan and Mr. Roberts' new car is a 2-passenger sedan.

Fred A. Bailey, of 227 West Main street, is the proud owner of one of the new 5-passenger coupes. Other new-car buyers are Benjamin Lippincott, Riverton, and Miss Caroline B. LeConey.

Beauty, style and luxury which create a new vogue in motordom distinguish the entire line of Buicks for 1928. Low-slung and rakish, the new Buick elicits gasps of admiration at first glance, and the deeper the investigation, the warmer the response.

Luxurious as Drawing Room. In the models which Buick is presenting today, it sets a precedent. Every model of the 16 comprising the Buick line is as luxurious as a fine drawing room—as tastefully appointed, as painstakingly executed, and as comfortable.

Seat cushions and backs have been shaped with the same regard for comfort as makers of high grade furniture bestow upon their finest offerings. The upholstery is selected by the world's foremost body engineers, in keeping with the highest dictates of modern interior decoration, and is applied in a manner of which the most fastidious owner may justly be proud.

A striking improvement in the general appearance of every Buick interior results from the new color scheme adopted for the Buick line for 1928. Contrasting colors are used, the seats taking a different shade than the side walls and head lining. The material used is a special fine quality mohair plush, with short and very durable close-woven nap. All of the models are fitted with arm rests which add to the car's comfort as well as to its completeness.

Harmoniously combined Duo colors, emphasizing the stylish low contour of the cars, and resplendent with heavy nickel on radiator, bumpers, lamps and trim—this is the exterior of the Buick for 1928. Greens, blues, tans, gray, brown and maroon, all used in combination with black, and set off tastefully with brightly-striped moulding, make up the Buick color list.

Handsome Washable Tops. A new development adding to the beauty of the new Buicks is the handsome washable top material, of light color, applied to several of the de luxe models.

One of the pleasing features on the new sedan bodies is the elimination of the vertical moulding at either side of the rear body panel. This change produces a sweeping effect which emphasizes the car's low-slung grace, a result to which relaxation of other mouldings also contributes.

All Buick models for 1928 are wider and roomier, and all present new roof lines which help to account for their stylish appearance. All have clear vision fronts, achieved by narrowing the windshield side pillars and the horizontal top bar. As with its other improvements, Buick has gained better vision without sacrifice of any desirable quality. The pillars are still of the famous Fisher wood and metal.

Viewed from any angle, Buick for 1928 displays a beauty, grace, and thoroughgoing luxury destined to extend its already remarkable conquest of the automobile. Yet beauty is only one of the new Buicks outstanding qualities. Performance, long life, and riding comfort entirely consistent with this beauty give Buick stronger ground than ever for its claim to value beyond compare.

ROBBED BY BANDITS

New Egypt Man Loses $200 and Diamond as Result of "Lift"

Because he had a kind heart and gave two bandits a "lift" along the road from New Egypt to Green Ridge early Wednesday evening of last week, Mr. Benjamin Jacoby, of Brooklyn, N. Y., was robbed of sixty dollars in cash and a diamond stick pin, and left unconscious in his car. The pin was valuable and was a family gift.

Mr. Jacoby says the two men were of fair size, one was neatly dressed and the other was dressed like a farmer or mechanic. One was about 5 feet 10 inches tall and would weigh about 160 pounds, the other was smaller in every way. They hit him with a black-jack, or some hard instrument on the side of his head. He thinks he was unconscious about two hours.

Mr. Jacoby is a guest at the D. L. Weiss Belfane Hotel, a summer boarding house near Cream Ridge. Fifty dollars in cash was overlooked by the bandits in a small watch pocket. The State Police were notified, but no trace of the bandits has been reported.

POPULARITY CONTEST

Smith Pharmacy Reports Much Interest Created

R. B. Smith, of the Smith Pharmacy, Chinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, reports that the big popularity contest being staged by his store is creating a great deal of interest among the younger set of the community. The next voting day is today, July 28.

The contest will officially end on Thursday, August 11. The contestants are each given a number but neither the names or numbers of the leaders are given out each week as several of the entrants hold back their coupons. This is done to stop a trailer from purchasing a large amount of goods and thus winning the contest at the last moment.

Scores are kept by offering a certain amount of points for various articles purchased at the store, the points varying with the value of the article purchased.

W. C. T. U. STATE CONVENTION. Announcement has been made that the preliminary arrangements for the five-day State convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union are being made and the event will take place in Camden October 14-18 inclusive. The delegates will make their headquarters at the Walt Whitman Hotel and the business sessions will be given in the Centenary Baptist Church. A banquet will mark the opening of the convention. The plans for the convocation were made this week at a meeting of the New Jersey State Executive Committee in the Young People's Temple, in Ocean Grove.

After the proposed college course in marriage the next thing, no doubt will be a correspondence school in divorce.—Chicago Daily News.

Accused of Theft of Eggs from Mail

Palmyra Railroad Employee Arrested in Curious Case

Eggs had been mysteriously disappearing from points in South Jersey where they had been shipped by farmers from Norristown, Pa., and vicinity. After investigating the matter for eight weeks, postal inspectors last week arrested Edward A. Perrine, 40 years old, of 118 Garfield avenue, Palmyra.

In accusing Perrine, a railroad baggageman, of the serious offense of theft from the United States mails, the inspectors declared he had been removing the eggs from the crates sent by parcel post for many weeks. The arrest of Perrine revealed one of the most unusual investigations ever undertaken by postal inspectors in this section.

Long Investigation

The long-drawn out investigation which lasted eight weeks began when Mrs. Margaret Trimble, of Norristown, complained to post office officials that eggs she had shipped to customers in South Jersey had vanished mysteriously in transit, that the crates containing the eggs had been returned to her, but that the persons to whom they were shipped, saw neither crates nor contents. Metal egg crates which Mrs. Trimble uses are equipped with reversible tags, arranged so that the containers may be returned quickly to the shipper after the eggs are removed.

Postal inspectors McVicker and Getchell, of the Philadelphia office, who conducted the investigation, declared that Perrine had made a practice of removing the eggs from the crates during his run on a train between Camden and Trenton, and then returned the empty crates to Mrs. Trimble by the simple process of reversing the tag.

Method Was Simple

Simple as was the method which the inspectors accuse Perrine of using, a long and complicated investigation was necessary.

Shipped by parcel post from Norristown, the eggs passed first through the Norristown postoffice, then by rail to Philadelphia, across the ferries to the Camden postoffice, thence to the railroad station here and finally toward Trenton by way of the line on which Perrine was employed.

Passing through many hands, the eggs might have been removed at any point along the line. It was up to the inspectors to find out the exact point of disappearance.

Questioning all trunk drivers, railroad conductors and what not, the inspectors set about their task. Beginning at Norristown, they followed Mrs. Trimble's eggs from the point of shipment all the way down.

Eliminates Suspects

One by one, the various persons, who, at one time or another, had handled the egg crates, were eliminated from suspicion. Finally, the suspicion settled upon Perrine, the last man through whose hands the eggs passed.

Last week, a crate of marked eggs were sent from Mrs. Trimble to Mrs. Russell Page at Edgewater Park, near Burlington. The eggs were closely trailed by McVicker and Getchell. They were still in the crate in Camden. They were not when the crate arrived in Trenton, empty and with tag reversed, ready for shipment back to Mrs. Trimble. Later, the inspectors declare they found marked eggs in Perrine's possession when they went to his home in Palmyra and arrested him.

Perrine has been released in bail.

NEW FERRY RECORD

2000 Cows Crossed Ferry Between Palmyra and Tacony

The Palmyra-Tacony Ferry Company again surpassed its old mark and set another new record for transporting automobiles across the river last Sunday when nearly 2000 were carried.

Chief of Police Beck also reported the largest amount of traffic, including trolleys, buses and cars that has been handled for some time in Palmyra. Beck was extremely busy Sunday evening attending to the traffic sign at the intersection of Broad and Chinnaminson avenues, where the main flow of cars runs toward the ferry. In spite of the heavy traffic over the past weekend not an accident was reported.

Blue Ribbon Club Plans Field Day

Colored Baseball Stars Will Play Jim Rapp's Nine

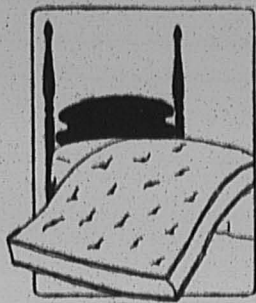

A baseball game between Jim Rapp's Palmyra Field Club nine and the Palmyra Colored Giants will feature the big program arranged for the first annual event of the Blue Ribbon Club, of Palmyra, which will hold its Field Day at the Palmyra Field Club ball park this Saturday, July 30. There will be something doing every minute from noon until nine in the evening. The baseball game will take place at 8:30.

Both teams are ready to go and can hardly wait until Saturday. The colored stars are confident they will win. It is reported that they have engaged one of the fastest batteries in this vicinity but Jim Rapp's outfit is just as determined to come out victorious. The committee in charge of arrangements of which John H. Williams is chairman has prepared a very interesting program, including a bag race for boys, three-legged race for all, 50 and 100 yard dashes, a pie-eating contest, drills and parades. Two prizes are offered for the best dressed club entered by July 29 to John Williams, Broad and Arch streets, Palmyra. Others on the committee in charge are Virgil King, Emma Gales, Wallace Meyers, Mattie Stevenson, John Pratt and George Cherry.

The Hon. Mayor James T. Weart and others will speak at this Field Day. There will be dancing from seven to nine and music will be furnished throughout the day by the band.

Phonograph Nears Golden Birthday

Great Discovery of Thomas A. Edison Was Born August 12, 1877

Fifty years ago, on August 12, 1877, Thomas Edison scribbled four crude line diagrams on a scrap of paper, wrote across the bottom the famous message, "Kreusi, make this," and the phonograph was born!

Almost half a century later, on his eightieth birthday, says Popular Mechanics Magazine, the greatest inventor the world has probably ever known picked up a scrap of paper on which a reporter had written, "By what would you prefer to be remembered?" and the same lucid, brilliant, wrote beneath the question the two words—"The phonograph."

The reason why the man who conceived the carbon-filament light, created the central-station generating system, invented the non-aud storage battery, brought out multiple telephony and gave a host of other inventions to the world, should pick the phonograph, whose greatest development has been in the field of entertainment, as his premier achievement is two-fold. First, he believes the surface of the sphere of usefulness has hardly been scratched. Secondly, and probably the most compelling reason, the phonograph was not a discovery but a true invention. No man had ever conceived recording the human voice for mechanical reproduction.

Wanted Telegraph Repeater

Curiously enough, Edison did not set out to invent "talking machines," but was trying to invent a telegraph repeater to record incoming messages and later repeat them mechanically to another station. Having started in life as a telegraph operator, his first interest was in that field, and the phonograph was more or less of an accident. The repeater with which he was experimenting bore a remarkable resemblance to the modern disk phonograph. In his notebook for that day he wrote:

"Just tried experimenting with diaphragm having an embossing point and held against paraffin paper moving rapidly. The speaking vibrations are induced nicely and there's no doubt that I shall be able to store up and reproduce automatically at any future time the human voice perfectly."

The telegraph repeater was forgotten. In his mind he could see exactly how a phonograph should look. The only question was the best material to use. Paraffin was too soft; the record wore out too quickly. A hard wax would have been ideal, but it would require months of research, and he wanted immediate action. Tinfoil suggested itself—something soft and pliable, yet more durable than coated paper. In August 12, the rough diagram was drawn, with a note to John Kreusi, his instrument maker, to "make this." The mechanic was also told he could spend up to eighteen dollars on the model!

"Crazy Idea" Works

The model was completed within a few days and carried to the "old man," as the thirty-year-old inventor was even then called. The laboratory staff, curious to see the outcome of what Kreusi had freely branded as a "crazy idea," gathered around. Edison turned the crank to test its friction, wrapped a sheet of tinfoil on the cylinder, fastened the ends down with a strip of lead, laid in a groove cut for that purpose, and adjusted the mouthpiece.

He grasped the crank, the first phonograph was hand-operated, and began to turn, at the same time shouting into the mouthpiece:

"Mary had a little lamb,
Its fleece was white as snow,
And everywhere that Mary went
The lamb was sure to go."

The laboratory wits were convulsed with laughter at the picture of Edison shouting childhood rhymes at a piece of tinfoil. Amid their shouts and jokes, Edison calmly substituted to reproducing diaphragm, turned the cylinder back to the starting point, and spun the crank. Back from the tinfoil, in a high, thin voice, came the words:

"Mary had a little lamb..."

SUNDAY "STROLLER"

Messengers to Motorists, Declares Exchange Editor

The Sunday "Stroller" is a nuisance. It never has been customary to anticipate problems. Generally we suffer annoyances for a long time before we get rid of them. That is the reason the automobile "stroller" is at large and nothing is being done about it.

The "stroller" is the chap who goes out on a Sunday or other holiday for a ride. Fortunately he is not numerous because most of us have gotten over the idea that a ride, for the sake of passing time is far from enjoyable in these days of congested traffic. We ride, but we are going somewhere.

The "stroller" thinks of nothing but drifting along the roads at about fifteen miles an hour, or less. He uses the middle of the road instead of keeping over on the side. That others are bound for some place and want to get there is of no interest to the "stroller."

He is common on the White Horse Pike and other busy roads, including our new boulevard. He is responsible for much of the hold-up to traffic, because there is usually a long open space ahead of him, and a long line behind him.

Some day it is going to be a traffic violation to be a "stroller" unless you keep out of the way of traffic.—Exchange.

GYPSIES ELOPE, BUT FATHERS SETTLE; $100

In answer to an alarm sent out by radio, the state police of Columbus located three young gypsies, two of whom had eloped, to Harker's Grove near New Egypt, on Tuesday night of last week.

Huey and Willie Harrison, both aged nineteen years, had taken Missouri Stanley, aged fourteen years, of Passaic, to a gypsy encampment at Snuff Mills, near New Egypt, and it was announced by radio that Willie Harrison and Missouri had eloped.

The police of Passaic and Paterson were notified, and through them the state police at Columbus, with the result stated above.

The young couple were arrested and taken to Mount Holly, where they spent the night in the lockup, and later the fathers of the young gypsies settled the case by the father of Willie paying the father of Missouri $100.

Would American aviators be making such marvelous history were they drinking men?

New Jersey Termed Social Laboratory

Survey of Child Welfare Activities Gives State Honored Place

New Jersey is characterized as a "great social laboratory" in a report completed last week by William J. Blackburn, who recently made a survey of the state's child welfare activities for the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor.

The survey was undertaken by the children's bureau at the request of the New Jersey State Board of Control through the Commissioner of Institutions and Agencies.

Blackburn's report points out that New Jersey holds an honored place in many lines of social welfare, such as health, education, and administration of charitable and correctional institutions, public and private research, provisions for the feeble-minded and insane and various fields, but that in some respects, as a poor-relief administration, its practices have fallen behind its ideals.

Information was obtained in the course of the survey from Essex, Mercer, Monmouth and Burlington counties which were selected by the state board of control as typical of the various regions of the state.

The New Jersey State Board of Control may well be proud of the measure of success achieved in its various lines of effort; the report states, and points out that its program calls for much valuable constructive work in the future which will tax its best efforts, but which will also contribute materially to the raising of social-welfare standards.

Recommendations for improved organization and operation of the work are outlined in the report, the most important of which are as follows:

More complete understanding and more effective cooperation in the division of labor should be worked out with each state department whose interests touch those of the state board.

In matters concerning the internal administration of state institutions and agencies, full recognition should be given to the responsibility of the local boards of managers and to the value of developing the initiative and interest of the superintendents.

Friendly supervision of both public and private local social agencies and institutions should be more thorough.

Unlike most progressive departments of public welfare, New Jersey has no unit even closely approximating a bureau of child welfare, the report states, adding the suggestion that the state board cannot hope to render the greatest possible assistance to children until some satisfactory coordination under one responsible head of all the functions relating to child welfare has been effected. It is noted, however, that New Jersey has virtually completed plans for a child welfare bureau at the present time.

LEAVES LARGE SUM TO HIS BOOKKEEPER

A codicil to the will of the late Sherman Parker, of Stevens Station in Burlington Township, who died on June 12, and which instrument has been admitted to probate by Surrogate Matlack, leaves ninety shares of the Burlington Supply Company of Burlington, to Miss Mary B. Camp, bookkeeper of that concern, of which the testator was one of the partners and who acted as manager. The codicil directs the bequest to Miss Camp "in recognition of her long and faithful service." The ninety shares are believed to be worth approximately $10,000.

The sum of $5,000 is left in trust to the decedent's sister-in-law, Mrs. George W. Horner.

The estate has not been appraised as yet, but is believed to amount to about $75,000. The residue goes in trust to the widow, Ella G. Parker. At her death the money goes to the surviving children if they have arrived at the age of forty-two years, otherwise their respective shares are to be held in trust until they reach that age. The Mechanics' National Bank of Burlington, is the trustee.

378 Arrests By State Troopers

Four Months Report Shows Big Range of Work by Efficient Officers

The report of the activities of the state trooper barracks at Columbus during the third of a year it has been established shows a great amount of work accomplished as follows: 48,654 miles covered on patrol; 299 complaints received; 378 investigations; 489 warnings given; 378 arrests; 3 stolen cars recovered; $35,329 property confiscated; $14,457 recovered property; $350 worth of property saved from destruction.

Within a week a second non-licensed car attempted to pass the barracks in Columbus. The driver, Arthur A. Reed, of Columbus, was summoned by Trooper Doyle to appear before Justice Kingdon at Mount Holly. Reed, who was driving a Ford minus a tire, failed to appear, and left for parts unknown. Another charge, of failing to answer summons, awaits Mr. Reed when he strays into the hands of the police.

William Francis, of Jobstown, was arrested by Trooper Doyle and fined $15 and costs by Justice Kingdon for driving without a license.

On Sunday the premises of John and Ann Bench, known as the Halfway House at Personville, was raided as disorderly by Sergeant Haussling and Troopers Doyle and Horn.

On Saturday, Michael Hargrove and Firman Throckmorton, both of Mount Holly, attired as veterans of a past war and who intended to participate in the firemen's parade, fined two freely in booth and were arrested by Sergeant Haussling upon complaint of fellow firemen. The two men were fined $15 each.

by Justice Kingdon.

Charles Pierson, of Bordentown, arrested by Trooper Leon and summoned to answer for driving a car without lights about July 1th and who failed to appear, was apprehended on Thursday by the same trooper and was fined $20 and costs by Justice Kingdon.

John T. Johnson, of East River-ton, a one-arm driver, the other arm being engaged in the pleasant occupation of hugging a girl, thereby causing the car to take up the entire road, was apprehended by Trooper Hove and arraigned before Justice Abston, at Florence. Johnson was fined $5 and costs.

It is believed that England wishes her navy limited only by her needs, but wishes the American and Japanese navies limited by treaty. Philadelphia Record.

FISHHOOKS NIP TOES

Dr. Frank Denniston, proprietor of a private hospital at Point Pleasant has suggested the authorities there that something be done about the fish-hook situation. Since the beginning of this season, he said, more than 30 bathers had been brought to him with fish-hooks in their feet. The hooks had been thrown away by fishermen out at sea, and washed ashore. None of the cases was serious, the physician said.

ENGAGED

The engagement of Miss Elizabeth H. Rogers, daughter of Willard H. Rogers, of near Mount Holly, to Robert L. Read, of Merchantville, has been announced.

Amazing increase in Pontiac Six value made possible by the economies of the world's newest and finest motor car factory

The announcement last week of a smarter, more beautiful Pontiac Six at surprising price reductions was an unexpected sensation. Due to increasing production in the new $12,000,000 Pontiac Six plant, savings were being effected. And these were passed to the public together with the additional value of new Duo colors!

Now the Pontiac Six is the only low-priced six offering Bodies by Fisher—the largest engine used in any six priced up to $1,000—and an oiling system which forces 250 gallons of oil an hour through the engine at 35 m. p. h.!

These are only a few of the features which reveal how much MORE you get in the Pontiac Six at new low prices!

THE MARINES AT NICARAGUA

Whenever the United States government comes into conflict abroad violent critics of the American position and defenders of the alien attitude may be expected to become vocal. This is not entirely a new development. During the American Revolution we had our Tories, during the War of 1812 we had a Hartford convention, during the Civil War we had our "copperheads," during our Spanish-American war we had our "anti-imperialists," and during the World War we had our seditionists. So it is not surprising, when a hand-full of American marines attacked by an army of bandits in Nicaragua, the ravagers and assassins who found they had monkeyed with a buzz-saw in staging an attack on an inferior force of American "devil-dogs" are painted by certain pseudo-Americans as patriots struggling for liberty, while the gallant defenders of our flag in American uniform are described as the tools of American imperialism and capitalism.

It is announced that during the next session of Congress the policy of the American government in defending American rights and legitimate property interests abroad will be made the target of attack by certain elements. It is of some significance that these elements are tinged with a radicalism more or less out of sympathy with American ideals and principles of government, that they are habitual foes of national preparedness against insurrection or invasion, that several members of the group have in the past manifested a certain degree of tenderness toward soviet Russia, with its program of overthrow of all non-communist governments. The question may well be asked whether those who habitually join in the chorus of detraction of America may not want to disarm and denature the United States government because of a deep-seated antagonism to much or all that their country stands for.

The knowledge which this episode in Nicaragua will disseminate throughout the disorderly nations of this hemisphere that the American flag may not be fired on with impunity, will do more to inculcate respect for the American government than any pronouncement it would be possible for peace societies or wobbly-spined American executives to issue. American prestige has never recovered from American abandonment of the campaign to capture the bandit Villa, or to compel a demanded salute for the American flag at Vera Cruz, and the penalty has been paid in strained relations, and in vast loss of life and property, in Mexico. No man and no nation can escape danger by exhibiting pusillanimity.

The American marines are in Nicaragua under an agreement signed both by the existing Nicaragua government and by the Liberal forces which were in rebellion against it. The bandit force which attacked the American marines for their own discomfiture stand in the same position as the Tripolitan pirates punished by the American navy under Admiral Decatur.

BULLIAM BUSINESS

The world marvels at the growth of the American telephone system. Nothing has done more to put telephones in practically every American home than advertising.

Government owned telephone systems in Europe see no need for advertising. The taxpayer has to cover deficits, and there is no incentive for officials to maintain a growing telephone business and pay dividends to hundreds of thousands of stockholders.

To show why the American system grows, it is only necessary to read some of the advertising of local telephone companies. A good illustration is advertising appearing in Maryland newspapers during a recent month.

One advertisement appealed to the young person at school to ring up the folks at home and keep up the personal contact. Another, pointed out the cheer that is brought to parents when their young people who have gone out in different walks of life, make a little "phone visit" instead of merely trusting to an occasional letter. Yet another, suggested that a young person away from home, when confronted by problems, gets comfort and help by ringing up the home for advice.

All the advertising had the human touch and appealed to every member of every family. The American telephone system grows and gives the best and the cheapest service in the world, largely as the result of continuous and intelligent advertising.

THE VANITY OF MEN

Once my wife and I took note of a tablet on a church in London which I remember about as follows:

"This church is dedicated to the glory of God by GEORGE SMITH." "George," said my wife, "is it that he should have the best of it on that tablet." My wife said: "Well, but George needs the big type more."

A lawyer alumnus of the Normal School at Charleston, S. C., is one of the thousands who adore their great president, Dr. Lord. Said the lawyer to the president: "Doctor, you don't see the newspaper notice that a lot of other lesser men get." Said the Doctor: "They stand to it." Then he added: "When a notice appears about me that is too good, I send it to my mother, she is the only person who will believe it."

President Bissell of the State University of Oklahoma gave another edition of this story. At his inauguration, he was drenched and drowned in adulation. When his turn came he said: "My mother but the boy."

ONE'S HAT ESTIMATE

The worst is happening. Burlington county is about to spend a trunk full of money building hard roads through the pines.

In ten years One's Hat, Mount Misery and other picturesque communities will be laying out new subdivisions. They will become as commonplace as Magnolia Heights or Rottelwood.—Exchange.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"Lord, in faith our hearts would bleed,
Teach us how to pray;
Help and strength from Thee we need,
Bless our lives each day.

Lord we come to seek Thy face,
Show us Thy love and grace;
Bless our waiting souls each day,
Teach us how to pray."

"Prayer" will be the important topic of Pastor George Lockett on Sunday morning at 11:15. Let us make it a prayerful service. Attendance and interest in the Bible School continues at a high degree during these summer Sunday mornings. Do not wait until the "eleventh hour" for Bible School lessons at ten.

The pastor will be the leader of the BYPU meeting this Sunday at 7 p. m.

At the evening service the pastor will be the leader of the Bethel, an interesting Bible story. YOU are always welcome at "Central Baptist."

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Medford Man Only Slightly Injured
When Car is Hurled 50 Feet

Harry Brick, well known retired farmer of Medford, had a miraculous escape from serious injury last Thursday when the car he was driving collided with another driven by P. L. Gaunt, veterinary surgeon of Mount Holly and was hurled a distance of 50 feet by the impact.

Brick's scalp was cut by broken glass and he was bruised and shaken up by the accident, but, as far as is known, was otherwise unhurt. He was treated at Burlington County Hospital. Dr. Gaunt completely escaped injury.

The accident happened as Brick attempted to turn into the driveway of his home off North Main street, Medford. Dr. Gaunt was just behind him was apparently trying to pass Brick when the latter made a sharp left turn and Gaunt's car hit him. The impact drove the Brick machine a distance of fifty feet along the pavement and the car landed at the curb with Brick still at the wheel.

SPORTS AT SURF CITY

Surf City, which is enjoying the most rapid growth of any of the seashore developments, has just organized a canoe club and a yacht club.

Charles B. Durbrow, of Riverton, Philadelphia, Surf City, Brant Beach and Coral Gables, has been elected commodore of the yacht club, and Carlisle Sholl, of Burlington, heads the canoe club.

Victors at Surf City last Sunday were told that the open pavilion on the bay side of the island is to be enclosed in glass as a clubhouse for the yachtsmen, and an adjoining building is to be fixed up for the canoeists.

Those who have not seen Surf City for a year would not recognize it as the same place—in fact it isn't, except geographically. Cement walks and curbs have been laid, a cozy little hotel of the Spanish type has been erected, several gravel streets put down and a number of very attractive houses erected.

The shallow beach on the bay side of the island makes an ideal playground for children.

THREE PLEAD GUILTY

Men Who Tried to Steal Wedding Gifts Are Fined

Three of the four young men who pleaded guilty in criminal court at Mount Holly last Thursday before Judge William Slaughter for breaking into the home of George Erickson, Columbia avenue, Palmyra, on Thursday, July 20, were fined $150 each. The men pleaded guilty to breaking into the home of the newly married couple to steal wedding gifts awaiting the return of their owners from the wedding trip.

The three fined were Russell Thompson, 25, of 28th and Federal streets, Camden; Paul Thompson, no relation to Russell, 21, of 131 North 22nd street, Camden; and Andrew "Chapman" Johnson, 23, of North Merchantsville. A fourth, accused by the other three of aiding them, is John Wesley Hewitt, 20, of Park avenue, Pennsauken. Hewitt pleaded not guilty and was held for trial.

It is believed by C. Morris Book, Chief of Palmyra police, that Hewitt will not get off easy as he was the one who worked with the contractor who built the house and took the other three to the Erickson home the night of the wedding.

Park Tryats Lead to Divorce Suit

Stanley Black Names Camden Married Man as Co-respondent

Stanley Black, Palmyra mail carrier and well known musician, has filed suit for divorce against his wife, Alma, as the result of a detective's investigation which revealed the wife had been secretly meeting a married Camden man in Fairmount Park.

Black's suspicions were first aroused, he says, when he noticed his wife arriving home late at night, alighting from an automobile which would stop a short distance from their home.

With a friend who was in the habit of working on stamp collections with him late at night, Black hid one night near the point where the car stopped, obtained its license number and notified Detective Miller of Camden, who soon discovered the Fairmount Park trying place.

Mrs. Black was formerly Miss Alma Johnson, of Camden. Her husband is the son of Martin Black, North Camden milk dealer.

William Hale, 35 years old, 931 North Front street, Camden, will be named as co-respondent. Robert Pascoe, Mount Holly lawyer, has been retained as counsel by Black.

The Blacks were married in 1913 and, according to the husband, were happy until Hale came into their lives. Then, Black says, his wife began her semi-weekly journey to Fairmount Park. Every Sunday, and sometimes during the week, Black asserts, his wife for several months has been leaving home with a basket plentifully supplied with a picnic lunch.

Detective Miller arrested Hale and Mrs. Black and took them before Magistrate John Dugan in Philadelphia and both are now out on bail for a further hearing. Hale is the father of five young children.

Universal Brotherhood

I know not when the time will come That man shall learn to know Of universal brotherhood And, seeds of kindness, sow, Instead of selfishness and crime And endless misery; But still I know, although not when, The time will surely be.

Mankind shall learn to live through love.

And not through selfishness; And when, the lesson, all shall learn How many lives 'till then, O' harken, Lord, that happy day, Transform the world for joy, And leave, way back in the sad past, Life's causes to annoy.

The dream of noble life is here, And soon must be fulfilled, To so that the anguish of the world, By love's voice may be stilled. O' lose not hope, my brethren, dear, But bravely work, and pray That we may help to bring around The glorious, happy day.

To which Christ showed mankind The way, The Golden Rule, he gave, That through the power of its love, Our brother man, we'd save From bitter sorrows of the world; That all might learn to see The beauty of God's perfect love, And live in unity.

Martha Shepard Lippincott.

"Feather" Says:

People talk of changing their habits "later on." They promise themselves they will become broad, generous and noble when conditions are more favorable.

Then they excuse present stinginess, meanness, narrowness. A man has a right to be as he wishes to be, but if he thinks he can change his character as a dog changes his coat, he might as well be told it can't be done. Cowards determine the direction of streets, and brooks the direction of rivers. As you think and do today so you will be tomorrow.

I realize this advice is entirely impractical, but I am writing as much for my own good as for the reader's.

If we ever expect to have an independent income the time to start saving is now. If we can't save $1 a month out of $100 a month, the chances are we will be unable to save $50 a month when our salary reaches $500. If we can't find time to read, to exercise, to enjoy the companionship of our children now, it is unlikely we ever will. We shall always be "too busy."

I have often thought there was a good opportunity for a novelist to develop a character who was always going to do better, the sort of man who makes large promises to himself, who writes down his resolutions, effective at a distant date.

The habits we have, good and bad, were acquired long ago, and they are being reinforced every day of our lives.

Any changes we contemplate should be made now. Anything that can be done next year can be done now; perhaps not so well, but a start can be made.

As a matter of honesty, let us not, therefore, fool ourselves with idle thoughts of what fine citizens we would be if we had a million dollars. Our friends would still recognize us as the same old four-fushers—or tightwads—that we are today.

Big Crowd at Twilight Game

Tuesday Evening Games at Riverton Will be Continued If Interest Keeps Up

Riverton opened its twilight season at Riverton Tuesday night by defeating Delancey of the Burlington County League.

Delancey broke into the run column in the second inning by scoring one. With Hunsbury pitching airtight ball this run looked big.

Again in the fourth inning they scored giving them a two run lead. Reeves for Riverton opened the fifth inning with a walk, but the next two batters were retired and the chance looked over. Hughes came through with a triple, scoring Reeves.

Riverton then jumped on Hunsbury and scored seven runs before the side was retired.

Delancey scored one in the seventh inning. A fine crowd turned out and next Tuesday evening we will play another local team to be announced later.

This Saturday Ocean Gate will be the attraction.

Mother's Cook Book

If we could do something worth while we must first realize that we must be something. We must be able to think, plan, create, not be a mere echo of what some one else has done.—Lloyd.

A FEW DAINTIES

HERE are a few dainties that will appeal to the majority of tastes:

Matin Puffs.
Beat two eggs, one cupful of sugar creamed with one-half cupful of butter, one cupful of milk, two cupfuls of flour sifted with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, mix and add one cupful of raisins. Steam in buttered cups for forty-five minutes. Serve with liquid sauce or cream and sugar.

Best Custard Pie.
Take two cupfuls of milk, three eggs, reserving the whites of two for the meringue, one tablespoonful of flour mixed, one-third of a cupful of sugar, add nutmeg to flavor and bake in a pastry-lined pan. Cover with the meringue slightly sweetened and brown in a moderate oven. Serve cold.

Ginger Cookies.
Take one cupful of sugar, one-fourth cupful of molasses, one and one-fourth cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of cold coffee, two tablespoonfuls of ginger, two eggs, one teaspoonful of soda and one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Dissolve the soda in the coffee and add salt. Mix with flour as soft as possible and let stand one hour in the ice chest or a cold place to stiffen before rolling and baking.

Chocolate Cake.
Take one cupful of brown sugar, one-fourth cupful of shortening, one-fourth cupful of sour milk, one teaspoonful of soda, one teaspoonful of vanilla, one egg and one and one-fourth cupfuls of flour. Add two squares of chocolate melted in one-half cupful of boiling water the last thing. Bake in layers and put together with orange filling or with plain buttered frosting.

Indian Pudding.
Add three-fourths of a cupful of corn meal to a quart of boiling milk, cook for twenty minutes, stirring occasionally, add one-half cupful of molasses, a teaspoonful of salt, two eggs well beaten and one cupful of chopped sweet. Put in a baking dish, add a quart of cold milk and one-half cupful of raisins. Stir for the first half of the cooking, dredge with flour, which with the sweet will make a rich brown crust over the pudding when done.

Non-Skid Cakes.
Patron: Walter, there is sand in the bread.
Waiter: Yes sir, that's to keep the butter from sliding off.

NOTARIANS AND LIONS STAGE BIG BALL GAME

must and Sweeney moved to third. Richmond singled again and Sweeney, not to be outdone by an old-timer like Hubbs, stole home. Sid Headington and Clarence Mattis took three strikes apiece.

Lynch singled to start the Lions half of the fifth but was thrown out at second. Steeds to Erhard, McCamy and Zeisner fanned.

Frank Cole singled the second time and Erhard relieved him of the running duties and scored by stealing second and third and coming in on Steeds' single. H. B. Williams was safe. Sweeney's misplay, stole second, scoring ahead of Erhard on Pat's single. Sweeney gathered in Hubbs' hit and tagged Pat out. But while Becker was fanning Hubbs stole second, third and home. Erhard's only move was two but Pat, the big hearted fellow that he is, made the motion that they call it three outs. The motion was seconded and unanimously carried. The Lions then came to bat.

Becker Stars
Bill Becker had all three putouts in the sixth. Hubbs threw Dave Schwartz, of the Philadelphia Market House, and Fromuth out at first and Richmond tossed out Bates at the initial sack.

Sweeney singled to open the Battery half of the sixth, stole second to third on Richmond's scratch hit. Headington hit one to Lynch. He fielded the ball perfectly and nailed Sweeney at home with a pretty peg. Hugh tossed Mattis out at first and Cole flied to Erhard.

The big-hearted Notarians gave the juniors a chance to win by giving them their bat in the seventh in which the Lions scored three runs. Lamson was safe on Becker's misout but was forced at second by Buchi. "Doc" stole second. Erhard hit safely, scoring Buchi, and took second when Pat missed a pitch. Then came the mightiest swing of all the fence-destroying ones by Bill Lynch (only there was no fence to crash) and in any other game "it would have been nothing but a single. Bill smashed the fielder so with his speed that they could not find his ball for some time and even after it was found they knew not what to do with it. McCamy and Zeisner were both tossed out at first by Hubbs and Steeds respectively.

And thus ends the Comedy of Errors written best as can be except by a Mark Twain or Lynn C. Doyle. Any additions or corrections will be out of order as the manuscript has been approved and accepted.

Proceeds are $88.66

The proceeds of the game, amounting to $88.66, were turned over to the Carden Fund Committee. The two clubs are to be commended upon their efforts to raise some additional money for the stricken family and those who gave so freely to the cause are thanked by the family and the committee.

The Lions were not particularly well pleased with the score of the game and at their meeting Tuesday evening resolved to challenge Rotary to another contest for a week from next Monday evening, the game to be played at the Palmyra Field Club park.

It is understood the Lions are going to practice hard and turn their batting order upside down in the hopes of doing something with Clarence Hubbs' delivery.

JOE BROWN IN JAIL
Joseph Brown, of Palmyra, was sentenced to 30 days at Mount Holly by Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter Tuesday morning after being arrested by Officer Nelson Wallace, of the Palmyra police force, Monday.

Brown was formerly employed by William Black, Palmyra expressman, and after being warned not to take the express truck he did so anyway. "Joe" thought that he might as well make a good job of it, so after taking the truck last Friday he asked a Palmyra merchant if he wanted anything from Philadelphia, because he was going to the city and would have it back on the truck for him.

After being paid in cash for the hauling, Brown never showed up with the goods and spent the money besides. It was charged.

Brown is said to have owed a board bill extending over a period of five or six weeks but would not try to earn money enough to pay it.

K. of C. Picnic at Rancocas Park

Annual Event Will be Held August 10; Everything Free for Children

The annual picnic and outing of the Knights of Columbus of Burlington County will be held at Rancocas Park on Wednesday, August 10.

The plans call for the biggest and most entertaining outdoor event that the "Knights" ever staged. The various committees are working over time so that no one will leave the park disappointed in not having a good time.

Competitive games for every one are on the schedule which include quoits, running, broad and high jump, shot-and and baseball throwing contests, and many other games with some special events for the children.

A baseball game between teams composed of members of the six councils will be a feature of the day's events.

A team picked from the "Riverfront" councils, St. Joseph's, Riverdale and Burlington, will play the "Backwoods" aggregation composed of Moorestown, Mount Holly and Bordentown. Individual prizes for the best and the winning team will be awarded.

Every one of the six councils have entered their best "Iron horses" in the quoit tournament. This year is one of the most attractive of the kind and handsome prizes will go to the victors.

Columbus Cadets on Parade
The newly-formed Columbus cadets of the different councils will parade in the afternoon in public and display their various habiliments in drill, first aid, knot tying and rescue work will be promptly staged for mother, father, and brother. Special athletic events for the cadets have been arranged.

The Knights have adopted their old war slogan for the benefit of the kiddies in making "everything free." This includes the merry-go-round, swings, slides and anything that the park has to offer. Each young one will also be given a number of refreshment tickets and they can come back for more.

A first-class orchestra has been secured for the dance to be held in the pavilion starting at 7:15 o'clock.

Everybody is invited to attend this dance and the "Burlington County Council" will see that all have a good time.

Clara Parker Found Guilty Fifth Time

Mount Holly Woman Repeatedly Convicted of Liquor Violations

The fifth conviction of Mrs. Clara Parker, of Mount Holly, for violation of the prohibition enforcement statute, was staged at the court house last week when a jury found her guilty on two indictments charging sale and illegal possession of liquor and maintaining a house where liquor was kept. Her previous record consists of four convictions, including padlocking of the Mill street hotel, which she formerly owned and conducted. Sentences for the former offenses were one and a term of three months in the county jail.

Mrs. Parker, who now lives on Woolman street, according to the testimony of Harry Burr, aged 50, Mount Holly laborer, sold him a half pint of liquor last January for one dollar. After he was arrested for drunkenness he told the police where he obtained the liquor and signed an affidavit to that effect. Upon this information a search warrant was issued and the Parker home was raided by Police Constable, Gaskill, Hooper and Claypool and Superintendent of Police Dismore.

The officers found three gallon bottles containing about two gallons of liquor, four empty containers and a funnel.

Makes Denial

Mrs. Parker denied that she sold rum to Burr, alleged that the liquor found in the house did not belong to her; that she was a boarder in the house, which was kept by her daughter, Mrs. Helen Lloyd; that the rum was paid to Mrs. Parker's mother, aged 87, and that Burr told her, after the raid, that he was sworn into making the complaint by "Jake" Gaskill, policeman.

When a receipt book was produced by Mrs. Parker's daughter, Mrs. Lloyd showing rent paid by the latter, Mrs. Parker admitted that she sometimes paid the gas and electric light bills and water rent.

Miss Charlotte Parker, daughter of Ella H. Parker, produced books of the Mount Holly Water Company to show that the water rent was charged to and paid by Mrs. Clara Parker. Miss Parker is bookkeeper for the company.

Burr denied that he told Mrs. Parker about being sworn into by "Jake" Gaskill. He said the rum he bought from her was a concoction of liquor and iodine.

In reply to a question from the court, Mrs. Parker inadvertently admitted that she furnished her mother, found guilty.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty on both indictments.

Prosecutor Hillman represented the State; Robert Penock defended Mrs. Parker.

Mrs. Mary Gardowski, alias Maria Yankovsky, of Trenton, indicted for committing abortion on Mrs. Anna Lawrence, of Hightstown, was convicted by a jury, after considerable testimony had been taken. The defense contended that if the crime was committed, it took place in Mercer county, as according to Mrs. Lawrence's testimony, she went to see the defendant in Trenton, where the alleged act was committed. The case may be heard before Judge Swackhamer, Salem county, sitting in the Burlington county court house on Monday, was declared to be an insolvent debtor. Mr. Stiles thereupon was allowed from jail to which he had been committed on a capias that was issued some months ago when a verdict was obtained against him by the British Foreign Marine Insurance Company to repay new since he had collected twice for the loss by fire of a motor-truck while it was in a barn on a farm in Southampton township.

Chickens Thief Guilty
Frank Hendel, of Mount Holly, pleaded guilty to stealing three chickens from Frank Ulmer, of Westampton township, and was sentenced to forty-five days in jail.

Hendel is an old offender who was just recently released from jail after having served time on a serious charge.

John Morris, the young Philadelphia who burglarized the residence of John Perkins in Riverton, pleaded guilty to the charge, and also to one of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Morris is the fellow who broke out of the Riverton lockup after he had been captured, and Constable Harry Tate saw to it that he was securely handcuffed when he brought him over from the jail.

In order that further investigation may be made, sentence was deferred in this case.

Annie Bench, of the "Half-Way House," near Bordentown, was in court for sentence, after having been tried and found guilty of liquor violations for the third time and she went to jail for six months on the charge of sale of liquor, and will stay in jail until she pays a fine of $500 on a charge of maintaining a house where liquor was sold.

Annie is an old offender who has no regard for the law, and she was arrested again only this week by the state police, who charge her with keeping a disorderly house. In the case, she was also up for sentence for an assault committed upon James McShay and William T. Burke, at the "Half-Way House," and she was sentenced to pay a fine of $250.

Edward Markiewicz, proprietor of the notorious liquor joint at Green and Linden streets, Burlington, and an old offender, will stay in jail until he pays a fine of $500, and in addition the court recommended that the prosecutor see that the place is padlocked. This place has been raided fifteen times by county and federal authorities.

Albert Marchese, of Burlington, another old offender against the prohibition laws, was fined $500 which he paid.

Harry Sluskey, of Burlington, charged with possession of liquor and the utensils for the manufacture of same, was fined $450 on the utensils charge and $500 on the possession charge.

His counsel, Harold T. Parker, argued for a writ of error, and the defendant was admitted to $1,000 bail.

Girl Killed When Motor Overturns

Mount Holly Is Scene of Tragic End to Auto-Trip Vacation

Instant death came to Ruth Cunningham, 17 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Calvin Cunningham, of New Brunswick, when the automobile in which she was riding with her sister, Naomi, 17 years, was overturned by the collapsing of a wheel of her car as they were entering Mount Holly on Garden street about 8:30 Wednesday morning of last week. Her neck was broken and skull was fractured. She was taken to the Burlington County Hospital and an examination here showed that instant death had followed the injury. The younger girl was injured slightly about one hand and wrist.

The accident happened while the young ladies were on their way from New Brunswick to Baltimore on a vacation trip. They were following a truck to be shown the route to Pennacroft ferry, where they wanted to cross to Wilmington. The car was driven by the girl who was killed. When she was slightly off to the side of the road a front wheel of the car broke and this caused the machine to turn over completely and land back on its wheels. The car was thrown out of the body of New Brunswick by automobilists along the road and people from the Hornor farm in front of which the accident happened.

They made an early start in order to complete most of their trip before the heat of the day came on. Word was sent at once to the parents and in a little over an hour they were in Mount Holly making arrangements for the transfer of the body to New Brunswick. The slightly injured girl accompanied her parents home. Coroner Farmer issued a burial certificate on the basis of accidental death.

This is the fourth such case to be recorded at the Burlington County Hospital within a month. The other three were Frank DePalma, of Newark, who died in about ten days after being admitted following an automobile accident between Mount Holly and Lambertown; Charles Grimm, of Moorestown, who still lives, from injuries received when he fell down stairs at his home, and Bernard Keating, of Bordentown, who died a few hours after being admitted following the breaking of his neck when he made a dive in shallow water while bathing at Cedar Lake.

Two "Original Jurisdiction" matters were disposed of by Judge Slaughter on Friday, the first case being heard by a jury.

Girl Killed When Motor Overturns

Mount Holly Is Scene of Tragic End to Auto-Trip Vacation

Instant death came to Ruth Cunningham, 17 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Calvin Cunningham, of New Brunswick, when the automobile in which she was riding with her sister, Naomi, 17 years, was overturned by the collapsing of a wheel of her car as they were entering Mount Holly on Garden street about 8:30 Wednesday morning of last week. Her neck was broken and skull was fractured. She was taken to the Burlington County Hospital and an examination here showed that instant death had followed the injury. The younger girl was injured slightly about one hand and wrist.

The accident happened while the young ladies were on their way from New Brunswick to Baltimore on a vacation trip. They were following a truck to be shown the route to Pennacroft ferry, where they wanted to cross to Wilmington. The car was driven by the girl who was killed. When she was slightly off to the side of the road a front wheel of the car broke and this caused the machine to turn over completely and land back on its wheels. The car was thrown out of the body of New Brunswick by automobilists along the road and people from the Hornor farm in front of which the accident happened.

They made an early start in order to complete most of their trip before the heat of the day came on. Word was sent at once to the parents and in a little over an hour they were in Mount Holly making arrangements for the transfer of the body to New Brunswick. The slightly injured girl accompanied her parents home. Coroner Farmer issued a burial certificate on the basis of accidental death.

This is the fourth such case to be recorded at the Burlington County Hospital within a month. The other three were Frank DePalma, of Newark, who died in about ten days after being admitted following an automobile accident between Mount Holly and Lambertown; Charles Grimm, of Moorestown, who still lives, from injuries received when he fell down stairs at his home, and Bernard Keating, of Bordentown, who died a few hours after being admitted following the breaking of his neck when he made a dive in shallow water while bathing at Cedar Lake.

Two "Original Jurisdiction" matters were disposed of by Judge Slaughter on Friday, the first case being heard by a jury.

The Pennacroft Motor Car Company, of Philadelphia, brought suit against the Hill Construction Company, of Mount Holly, for a balance which it was claimed was due on the purchase of parts for a truck purchased by the defendant company.

The jury rendered a verdict for $195.50 for the plaintiff.

Judge Slaughter heard the case of the United Fire Stone Company of Trenton, against Joseph Pupkin for a balance on a book account, and a verdict of $121.49 was given the plaintiff.

CAN'T HEAR CASES

Burlington J. of P. Records Importation of Florence Recorder

When Mayor Thomas S. Mooney, of Burlington, left for a trip to Cincinnati, recently, he made arrangements with Recorder Frank S. Abelson, of Florence township, to act for him as committing magistrate during his absence, but this did not meet with the approval of Justice J. Leedom Smith, of Burlington, who, it is said, has acted in the absence of the mayor on numerous other occasions, and he questioned the rights of Recorder Abelson to act in Burlington.

As a result of Smith's contention, Captain of Police Wilson Johnson and Harold V. Holmes, president of City Council, took a part in the argument. City Solicitor Ernest Watto was appealed to and he decided that Recorder Abelson had no right to hear police cases in Burlington, upholding Mr. Holmes' views in the matter.

It is said there is a law prohibiting justices of the peace from hearing criminal matters outside of their own offices, but it is not being lived up to very closely in some parts of the county.

Mr. Abelson was in no way involved in the controversy, he only being willing to help the mayor out, during his absence.

If it be true that 807 Americans paid taxes on incomes of more than $1,000,000 last year, it doesn't show just how rich we are, but how many of our rich are that honest.—Louisville Times.

Big Future Seen For Long Beach

Senator Richards Predicts Rapid Growth for Newer Shore Resorts

A future as great as that of Atlantic City was predicted for Brant Beach and its sister resorts on the Island of Long Beach, by Senator Emerson Richards, of Atlantic county, in an address last Saturday, before the Burlington Society of Long Beach. With their geographical advantages and with the early advantages of several new highways, connecting it with the nearby centers of population, Senator Richards declared the present growth to be but a mere ripple to the flood of prosperity this section of seashore will see in the next decade.

The newer coast resorts, he said, have the advantage that they can profit by mistakes of the older seashore towns. He pleaded for development that would preserve as far as possible the natural charm of ocean front and bay shores.

Driving through a terrific storm, more than 100 guests, representing nearly every Burlington county community, enjoyed the initial celebration of the society, that proposes to number in its membership all those from Burlington county who have learned "The Lure of Long Beach." The reunion and dinner will be made an annual affair, it was announced by the society's president, Charles B. Durbin, of Riverton.

Excellent Program

Senator Richards' address was the closing feature of a splendid program that followed an excellent shore dinner. Musical numbers included solos by Miss Dorothy Parks, of Philadelphia, soprano, with Miss Gladys Burr, of Burlington, accompanist, and by Julius Caesar Nardella, of Burlington, famous tenor and protégé of the late Enrico Caruso. Mr. Nardella has just closed a season with the Rochester Grand Opera Company and has signed a new contract with the San Carlos Opera Company.

President Charles B. Durbin acted as toastmaster. The toast covered subjects bound up with the varied interests of summer residents on the island. The address of welcome was made by Augustus H. Kell, president of the Long Beach Board of Trade. Charles R. Stout, of Florence, director of roads of Burlington county, president of the State Association of County Boards of Freeholders, told of the plans for the immediate improvement of the old Budden road, that will insure a good highway from New Lisbon to Barnegat and a shortening of the present route through Chatsworth.

Former Burlington Man Speaks

Another address of timely interest was that of President H. J. Burlington, of the State Fish and Game Commission. He told of the growth of fishing and hunting in New Jersey where each year sees the sport improving, despite the increases of population. With the largest fish hatchery in the world and with two of the largest game farms, all supported by income from sportsmen's license fees, the state is demonstrating, he said, that healthful outdoor sport of this kind can be conserved indefinitely. He spoke of the campaign to check pollution of inland streams and ocean beaches and urged the cooperation of every seashore visitor to back with sentiment and support, all measures to keep the public waters clean.

Assemblyman Arthur R. Smock praised the high type of modern developments along the Ocean county coast. In old days, he said, many a fly-by-night development scheme was foisted on the public and few of these schemes, he said, have survived. Today, instead of the "go-getter" who got his and got out, he declared the county was fortunate in finding a new type of developer in high type business men—men of the "go-giver" type, he called them, who are willing to spend millions in building right and who are giving the public real development.

"Billion Dollar Boulevard"

The assemblyman told of the plans for the development of the "Billion Dollar Boulevard" through Ocean county, an endeavor last week by the Ocean county board of freeholders, and said this link of thirty miles in the great coastal highway system would be the creating of the greatest asset of the county. The state is said to be ready to back the county in this project and private interests are ready to build the bridges over the inlets as toll spans.

Music was furnished during the reception and dinner by Phillips Orchestra, of Burlington, under leadership of Harold del. Phillips.

ONE ERROR IN 100,000

P. S. Points With Pride to Efficiency of Meters

Only one error per 100,000 meters billed—one one-thousandth of one percent of errors. That's a record, the billing department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company points to with pride.

Public Service has over 1,400,000 meters in service, gas and electric, and the department completes the billing of customers' accounts the next working day after the meters are indexed. An average of over 85,000 meters are indexed and billed each working day.

About seventy percent of the bills rendered are for both electric and gas service while the remainder are for either single electric or single gas service. Nearly four and one-half tons of paper are used each month for billing purposes. Bills, together with the ledger record and two coupons, are made up on specially designed billing machines at an average of 150 per hour.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Remember—All Is Not Lost

Because something has happened to you which interferes with your efficiency is no proof that all is lost.

There is nothing unconquerable to the human spirit.

There is no truer saying than, "Where there is life there is hope." The great problem is to utilize what remains of your life and keep up a bold front.

It never pays to give up.

Life is like a coin stamped on both sides. On one side is the face of smiling fortune, on the other the image of frowning reverses. Sometimes one side lies up and sometimes the other, and sometimes the two seem to spin, alternating continually. But the two are always there in every life, side by side.

So one-half of the art of life is knowing how to meet misfortune and the other half understanding how to treat prosperity.

Near Lincoln, Nebraska, a nineteen-year-old boy named Edward Smith lost both his arms in an accident when he was helping shuck corn on his father's farm.

With that accident most of the means of earning a living open to him the day before were obliterated.

There were few things that he could do. Yet one of these he did superlatively well.

Providing himself with artificial arms, he became a salesman for a Kansas City manufacturer. Later he was sent to Europe to open a branch factory. He became a success in spite of a well-nigh insurmountable handicap.

In New Buffalo, Michigan, on the shore of Lake Michigan, lives Joe Jones. From childhood he has had a crippled leg, with one ankle that is stiff and without feeling. Yet he has saved five people from drowning at the beaches near his home.

For nineteen years Magdalena Beas, of Pittsburgh, has been confined to one room with a nerve center in her back, so that the slightest movement causes agony. During this time she has written stories and poems that have been widely published and have given robustness, enjoyment and encouragement.

Such men bring strength to those meeting our own trouble and enlarge our respect for the spirit of human nature.

"HIT-RUN" DRIVER

Moorestown Police Nab Escaping Motorist Sunday

The Moorestown police department proved its efficiency Sunday by quickly apprehending a "hit-and-run" driver and the driver, Joseph Pavallina, of Edmund street, Philadelphia, paid an extra $15 and court costs for being indiscreet in attempting to escape after he had damaged another man's automobile. The extra $15 and costs was a fine which Pavallina would have escaped if he had stopped after the accident.

Pavallina, driving recklessly along the road near Brown's Mills, attempted to cut by another auto and in doing so sideswiped a car driven by Wallace Steward, of Rancocas Heights. A front wheel and several other parts on the Steward machine suffered, but undaunted, Pavallina kept up his reckless pace.

Steward took the number of the license plate on the escaping machine and notified police. The number was forwarded to the officers of other municipalities along the road to Philadelphia.

Chief of Police John Bradshaw "spotted" the car as it passed Borton's Landing Road and relayed the word to Special Officer Frank Bolton who arrested the offender at Chester avenue.

The one was paid at a hearing in Town Hall Sunday evening. Pavallina was also ordered to pay for the damages to Steward's auto.

HOW MUCH MONEY? ELIZABETH AND ESSEX.

MAN'S A POOR FISH CANNER AND THE 3rd EYE.

If you have $81.16 in your pocket you have twice as much cash as the average. The Treasury tells us that money circulating July 1 amounted to "only" four billion eight hundred and thirty-four millions, one hundred millions less than last year, $40.55 for each inhabitant.

The real wealth is credit. Four men in the United States, Rockefeller, Ford, Andrew Mellon and George F. Baker, could, with ease, borrow more money than all the cash that is in circulation.

Long ago Queen Elizabeth gave a ring, her face engraved upon a stone set in it to her lover, the Earl of Essex. No matter what he did, he would be forgiven if he returned that ring.

Accused of saying that Queen Elizabeth's mind was as crooked as her body, which was probably true, she was a great queen and a hard woman, he failed to return the ring and his head was chopped off.

The Countess of Nottingham dying, confessed that she failed to deliver to the Queen the ring that Essex gave her.

Elizabeth, in despair, spent her time sitting on the floor weeping, and died at the end of twenty days. That's the story.

Now the ring is sold at auction for $2,700. It has dropped in value. Elizabeth would have given $1,000,000 for it.

Bobby Jones, golf wizard from Atlanta, Ga., defending his open golf champion title, made the first round of eighteen holes in 68 strokes, five under "par."

The secret in golf is control of head and nerves. In the air, flying, or on the grass, playing golf, young Americans seem able to do that.

A well-meaning politician suggests a law admitting children to all baseball parks for twenty-five cents per child. A better law would supply city baseball parks in which children could play baseball. That is what they need, not the right to sit on a bench, paying twenty-five cents to watch somebody else play.

If young and old men of this generation played MORE, and watched LESS, it would be better for them.

British scientists use moving pictures in war against cancer. The camera records cancer growths, slowly, for two days. Then the film is speeded up, nine hundred and sixty times, and scientists see cancer actually growing. That's important.

Man can outrun a horse in time. An Irishman, afterwards elected Mayor of Long Island City, ran more than 600 miles in six days. But, in water, man is literally "a poor fish," a most inferior fish.

Edward Keating finished first last week over a 24-mile fresh water course in 18 hours 47 minutes. In that time a shark could swim half way across the Atlantic.

Miss Constance Talmadge, excellent moving picture actress, requesting a divorce, says of her husband: "He is the nicest man, but I am out of love."

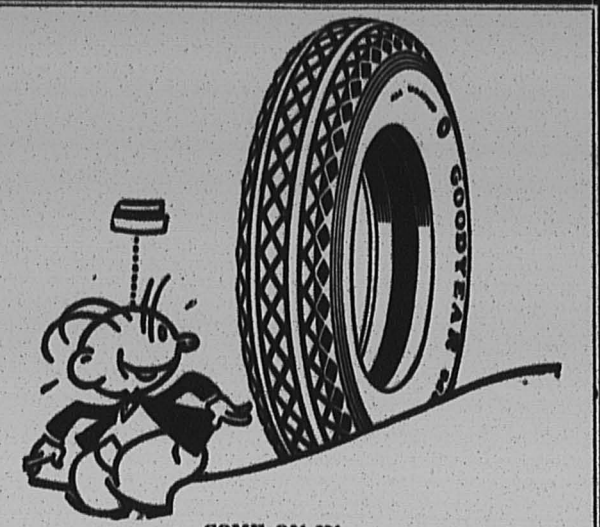

"Out of love" is modern, typical of our day. Strict logic might confirm the view that if you marry when "in love" you should unmarry when "out of love." There are other considerations, however, that still influence many.

Otto Koenecke, German flier, prepares for his trip from Berlin to San Francisco, with interesting ease. Every part of his motor was being X-rayed yesterday in search of defects in the metal. Old statues of goddesses with three eyes, one in the forehead. Science has given to men a real third eye, the X-ray, that looks through solid metal, and we hardly appreciate it.

MORRIS PLEADS GUILTY

John Morris, the young Philadelphia man who robbed the home of Sara Perkins, Riverton, several weeks ago, and then gave the police force a lively chase before he was recaptured after breaking out of jail, was brought to trial in the county court last Thursday. He pleaded guilty to the burglary charge and also to carrying concealed deadly weapons. The county authorities wanted to make a further investigation of this man's record and sentenced was deferred.
