FREEHOLDERS LET CONTRACTS FOR IMPROVING COUNTY OFFICES

Mount Holly Man Successful Bidder; Work Will Cost About $20,000

MEMBERS OF BOARD DINE AT PREVENTORIUM

At an adjourned meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Friday, bids were received for alterations to the building formerly known as the Surgeons' office. This building will be extended in the rear several feet and otherwise renovated to meet the needs of Surrogate Matlack and his force.

Other bids opened concerned alterations to the second floor of the court house, where the old Grand Jury room, now used as an office by the county detective force is to be restored to its original condition, new toilets installed in the basement and other alterations for this improvement.

The bids for the alterations to the Surgeons' office were as follows: General work—Hugh B. Miller, Edgewater Park, $19,535; Barons Construction Company, of Philadelphia, $21,000; Theodore G. Clatts, Mount Holly, $17,300.

Heating—Albert Ellis, Moorestown, $1,925; J. E. Gandy, Burlington, $2,050; Alfred Fort, Jr., Mount Holly, $1,746; George D. Worrell, Mount Holly, $2,028; George H. Orfe, Beverly, $1,674.75.

Electric—Enterprise Electric Company, of Philadelphia, $699.75; Ernest E. Milligan, Mount Holly, $477.99; E. F. Janney Electric Company, Rancocas, $675.

Plumbing—Albert Ellis, Moorestown, $505; J. E. Gandy, Burlington, $395; Alfred Fort, Jr., Mount Holly, $454; George D. Worrell, Mount Holly, $500.

Mr. Holly Man's Bid Wins The contract for the general work went to Theodore G. Clatts, of Mount Holly, who is writing to Ernest G. Milligan, Mount Holly, and to George Orfe, Beverly, and plumbing to J. E. Gandy, of Burlington.

Theodore G. Clatts, of Mount Holly, was the only bidder for the building up of the freeholders' and county engineer's offices, his figures being $4,300, but the bid for the work was not given out, the freeholders deciding to pass it for the present.

Clatts submitted the only figures for the main work on the court house, $4,700. The plumbing bids for this building was as follows: George D. Worrell, Mount Holly, $174.50; Alfred Fort, Jr., Mount Holly, $184; Albert Ellis, Moorestown, $625.

These bids, both for the main work and the plumbing, were considered too high and were rejected, and the clerk will re-advertise.

The following bills were passed for payment before the meeting adjourned: Roads, $10,128.33; bridges $174.50; finance, $19,127; public buildings, $6,525.66; public affairs, $302.56; total, $14,848.24.

Freeholders Dine at Oxnard Following the meeting the members of the board were entertained at dinner at Oxnard, the preventorium maintained on the Oxnard road by the Burlington County Tuberculosis League in appreciation of their helpfulness in a worthy work and in order that they might see the importance of the campaign in caring for the undernourished child.

The freeholders present were Charles R. Stout, of Florence; Fred Lippincott, of Moorestown and Curwen B. Fisher, of Mount Holly. Howard Russ, of Delanco, and William H. Heister, of Pemberton, were compelled to send regrets on account of pressing business.

J. Lloyd Wright, who will return to the Board of Freeholders next January, was among the guests, and so were Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, medical director at the Fairview Sanatorium at New Lisbon, and Dr. Emory P. Dillingham, of New Lisbon, one of the board managers of the sanatorium.

Among the guests were Miss Helen Parrish, of Philadelphia, owner of Oxnard, and through whose courtesy the freeholders are entertained by the preventorium; Dr. and Mrs. Walter P. Darlington, of New Lisbon, Miss Sophie Adams, of New Lisbon, assistant to Dr. Newcomb, the sanatorium, and Miss Emily Lyndon, of Newark, field worker of the New Jersey Tuberculosis League, who spoke of the organization of the Burlington County League in 1917.

Others present were the following members of the Preventorium committee: Mrs. Hannah Blackburn, Hartford; Miss Emily Conly, Hartford; Mrs. Albert Haines, Masonville; Mrs. M. W. Newcomb, Browns Mills; Miss Helen N. Henderson, Jobstown; Mrs. L. M. Steenberg, Roberg; Mrs. T. M. Eastwood, Burlington; Mrs. Charles D. Gault, of Hainesport; Mrs. J. Porter Ambrose, housemother, of Lambertville; Miss Beatrice Phillips, nurse for the League, who visits the preventorium every day, and Frank Cook, superintendent of the farm, were also present.

The dinner, which was arranged by Miss Margaret Haines, of Burlington, executive secretary of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League, was served at 12:15 o'clock. At the conclusion of the meal, all of the vegetables of the farm, were grown on the farm, there were addresses by the freeholders and others in which Miss Haines was commended for the work that she is doing.

CHANGE SIGNS

Palmyra Traffic Guides Placed on New Posts

The new traffic signs, recently erected in Palmyra, showing motorists the direction to New York, other northern points, southern points and seashore resorts, have been ordered taken from their poles by the Public Service Company. The Public Service declared that these signs were dangerous to linesmen who had to climb the poles. The signs are made of galvanized iron and would cut a man if he fell on one.

The signs were taken down and changed last week. This week Chief of Police Heck erected the signs at the four corners that mark the intersection at Broad and Cinnaminson avenues. The signs are now erected on fifteen foot iron posts.

Richard D. Barclay Land Bank Agent

Appointed to Act for Federal Institution of Massachusetts in New Jersey

In line of extending its service to New Jersey agriculture, the Federal Land Bank of Springfield, Massachusetts, has appointed Richard D. Barclay, of Riverton, as field representative for that State. Mr. Barclay took up this work on July 1, and will co-operate with the 19 local National Farm Loan Associations in their work.

Mr. Barclay, who is President of the New Jersey Bee-keepers' Association, has been in the fertilizer industry for the past 15 or 20 years, being directly connected with the I. P. Thomas Company of Philadelphia. Mr. Barclay has always had the interests of New Jersey agriculture very much at heart and welcomes this opportunity to be of wider service to the farmers of New Jersey.

The Federal Land Bank, of Springfield, Mass., is a local association, represents the largest co-operative agriculture enterprise in the Northeastern States. The farmers who borrow from The Federal Land Bank are its stockholders and participate in its earnings. This bank has loaned nearly five and one-half million dollars on first mortgage to New Jersey farmers.

On February 1 of this year, this bank reduced its interest rate to 5%, which rate is now in effect. Any farmer who is interested in financing his long-term obligations should get in touch with the local Association in his county, with Mr. Barclay at the above address, or he may write to The Federal Land Bank of Springfield, Massachusetts.

"SHARKEY" IN TOWN

Collegiate Flivver Attracts Some Attention

"Jack" Sharkey is in town. Not Jack Sharkey, the heavyweight from Boston who was knocked out by Jack Dempsey in New York several weeks ago. This Jack is "Lazie," a collegiate Ford. The Ford may be seen running about town without any top, but with comical names written all over its body.

Jack is owned by "Mike" Maneri, a teacher at the West Broad street, Palmyra, and three friends from Hopewell, Virginia. The trip was made from Virginia without much trouble as Maneri is a mechanic and it is a firm belief that a Ford will take you there and bring you back. The boys expect to spend a couple of weeks in this vicinity.

CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

Palmyra Will Hold Three-Game Series With Riverside

The Palmyra baseball nine will open a three-game series with the Riverside A. C. for the independent championship of Burlington County, at the Riverside Park, Fifth and Chester avenues, this Sunday. The game is called for 3:15.

The second contest of the series will be played at the Palmyra Field Club Grounds, Wednesday, August 17, with game called at 3:15. A third game, if necessary to decide the championship, will take place at the Public Service Ball Park, Camden, at a date to be set later. Both teams are playing the best business in professional and semi-professional ranks and some great games are anticipated. Palmyra defeated Riverside last season and defeated the strong Palmyra Colored Giants this week. Riverside has beaten some of the strongest teams in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Harry Burns announces the marriage of her daughter, Mary, to Mr. Raymond Olson, of New York, on Tuesday, July 24th. The ceremony was performed in the Catholic Church at Croyden, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Olson will live at Edgely.

CHESAPEAKE CRUISE

L. I. Boats Take Annual Trip Down the River

Saturday, July 23, the three L. I. boats "The Wanderer," left the Riverton Yacht Club for a cruise down to the Chesapeake Bay. The "Wanderer," manned by A. Hopkins and his crew, were the "Lewanna" of which F. W. Robertson is skipper; Ogden Mattie "Bob" and "Allawah" piloted by "Jerry" Hotel.

Mattie and Hopkins arrived at the Riverton Yacht Club Thursday night of last week after a fine trip in good weather. Robertson and his crew "blew" in Sunday. Hatch and his companions experienced a little stormy weather as they did not arrive until Monday. There were no accidents throughout the trip and good weather favored the sailors during most of the cruise.

Fire Lads Show Speed in Drill

Riverton Company Instructed in Use of Hose and Handling Smoke Victims

Thursday evening last week the Riverton Fire Company started a series of drills under the direction of Jim McNeil who saw service in the Philadelphia City Fire Department. About twenty men turned out for the first drill.

At the sound of the siren both trucks left the house and went to the Westfield grammar school. The crew of the old truck took off a line of hose and hooked up to the pump while the picked crew on the new truck put, for the first time, the new 40-foot extension ladder. This was only six minutes from the sound of the alarm until a pressure stream was playing on the roof of the school building. This time, McNeil said, was very good. After receiving a few helpful hints about handling the ladder the company returned to the fire house for another run.

This time they went to the old building that stands at Front and Penn. The order of things were reversed on the second trip and the old truck took off the ladder. McNeil gave the firemen some instruction in carrying hose up a ladder and showed them how to keep their hands free for climbing. All the firemen seem interested and willing to take McNeil's advice about handling the equipment.

Another drill was held Monday night of this week with about twenty-five of the "fire-enters" participating. Again Jim showed the boys how to carry a line of hose up a ladder and also how to carry a section in case another section is needed on the nozzle end. It is the local firemen "get" what Jim tells them to do. Instead of doing it, because Jim certainly knows his work. Ed. (Fip) Kapsis went up on the roof of Collins' Building and McNeil carried him down as it should be done. After that, after Armstrong carried Jim Goodwin down the same building.

Riverton is fortunate indeed in having a man who so willingly gives his time and knowledge to the protection of lives and property in the Borough. The training they are receiving the firemen will have more confidence in themselves when the occasion arises for some difficult work.

A meeting of the Relief Association was held Monday night and William B. Lynch, John Carhart Sr., and Walter Armstrong were elected delegates to the Firemen's Convention to be held in Atlantic City sometime in September.

Committees were appointed to arrange for a carnival to be held, in August. There will be three days of fun and good times and the dates will be announced later. There will be dancing and fireworks every night. Every child attending will be given a souvenir.

STATE TROOPER NABS OFFENDER

Complaints by Cinnaminson Township Residents Brings Action by State Police

Last Thursday afternoon State Trooper Cook arrested Paul (Stogy) Bohn for driving a motorcycle without a motorcycle driver's license and he was fined $15.00 and costs by Justice of the Peace Jesse M. Coddington.

A dozen or more complaints had been received by the State Police head, from residents in the vicinity of "Bohn's Corner" at the intersection of the Moorestown-Riverton road and the Burlington Pike, about the speeding and driving with cutouts open, but when the Troopers happened around the boys behaved themselves, and an officer was detailed to patrol the troubled area.

NEW GRAPPLING IRONS

Palmyra Police Chief Prepares for Emergencies

Owing to the fact that several persons have been drowned in this vicinity lately and that the Palmyra police have had several calls for grappling irons, the latest being for the youth who was drowned at Cedar Lake this week, C. Morris Heck, Chief of the Palmyra Police force, took it upon himself to make a new pair of grappling irons Tuesday afternoon that are "good and strong" and will last a lifetime.

These irons are five feet in length and have five prongs, each containing three hooks, revolving from a nut and bolt with a iron chain. The other pair of grappling irons owned by the Palmyra Police Department were but three and a half feet in length. These new irons were attached by cords which decayed and soon broke. Now Palmyra is ready for any emergency calls.

RIVERTON TRIMS COUNTY CHAMPS

Bearint Master of Florence Throughout Game; Fans Eight

KERNER'S BAT SCORES 2 RUNS IN FIRST INNING

Last Saturday afternoon the Riverton Baseball Club committed a massacre by defeating the Ocean Gate team 20 to 3. Bearint was master of the shore boys from the beginning.

The Riverton Baseball Club's stock rose about 100 points after Tuesday night's game in which the locals defeated the Burlington County champions by a 4-1 score in a twilight fray at the Memorial Park grounds. The R. D. Wood team of Florence won the County League championship last year and took first half honors this year.

Riverton hopped onto Rhoda's delivery in the first frame to score three runs after holding the R. D. Wood scoreless in the first half of the first. Johnny Hughes, lead-off for Riverton, singled. Brogan pulled a safe bunt putting Hughes on second. Linton did something very unusual, that is strike out. Bearint, the slugging twirler, was safe on a fielder's choice when he hit to Rhoda who threw Hughes out at third. Kerner got hold of one to his liking and he did not let it go. He scored Brogan and Bearint. Kerner went to third on the throw to home plate to catch Bearint, Florence catcher, dropped the throw and could not find the ball which lay less than a yard from him.

In the fourth the Riverton team added one more to their score. Collins walked, Reeves sacrificed him to second and "Reds" Young brought Collins across with a single.

The visitors could not get into a scoring position until the eighth when Edge slammed one for two bags. Lippincott singled Edge across the pentagon.

Bearint fanned eight of the Florence batters, while Rhoda and Lippincott whiffed five of the locals. Box score:

Drer Outing Is Big Success

Store Employees Carry Off Most of Prizes at Annual Get-Together

The annual outing and get-together of the Drer employees was held Saturday afternoon at Camp Okanilikon as guests of the club and all of the youngsters were enjoying a wonderful time. The ladies are expected home today. They were conveyed to camp in one of the Jensen Company trucks and the Lester Portum company will bring them back.

Since it had been impossible to arrange to send some girls to camp, a substitute plan of giving a big picnic was adopted.

At a date to be set later, but soon, the Lions and their families will go on a picnic to some nearby picknicking grounds and take with them fifty or sixty girls as guests of the club.

Further details will be announced later.

MORRIS GETS SIX MONTHS IN JAIL

Philadelphia Youth Who Robbed Perkins Home Escapes With Light Sentence

John Morris, who broke into the home of Ezra Perkins several weeks ago and then caused a lot of excitement by escaping from jail after he was locked up, was sentenced to six months in jail and to pay a fine of $75 by Judge Slaughter in the county court last Thursday.

Samuel White, of Philadelphia, a carnival manager, told the county authorities that Morris was a collector employed by him and he must have been drunk when the theft occurred. The Riverton police, however, say that there was no evidence of Morris being intoxicated when he was arrested.

Morris was held on two charges, carrying concealed deadly weapons, that of breaking and entering. He carried a revolver when he was arrested, which was stolen from the Perkins home.

ALL READY FOR K. of C. PICNIC

Banner Crowd Expected at Annual Event, Rancocas Park, August 10th

Final arrangements have been made to take care of the largest gathering of Burlington County Knights of Columbus and their families that ever attended the annual picnic.

Reports from the six councils indicate that transportation committees will have their hands full in taking care of the many children and elders from the different parishes.

The buses for the local councils will leave the K. of C. headquarters at Broad and Elm, at 9:30 a. m. Another added attraction to the lengthy schedule is the music for the entire day which will be furnished by the boys' band of Hopeville Orphanage. They will also lead the march and drill of the combined units of the Columbus Cadets.

Dance in Evening Charles Schwartz, the well-known "sax" player of Riverside, who is the chairman of the dance committee, reports that a first-class orchestra has been procured for the dance, the "curtain" event of the picnic, and invites everybody to come and enjoy the dancing or the music.

Big Splash Made by Baseball Stars

Lions and Rotarians Enjoy Aquaplaning at Memorial Park

The Lions and the Rotarians will lock horns, note the false metaphor, in a baseball game at the Palmyra Field Club Park next Monday evening. Proceeds will go to the Cardea fund.

Last Monday evening the Lions and the Rotarians lay down together. That is they slipped and fell down together in the mud and pools at Memorial Park. It happened this way. The Lions had planned to practice for next Monday's game at the Field Club Park, but when they arrived they found that several Gonda would be necessary for the fielders, basemen and the like.

A dove was sent out from the ark to report whether any other practice field was available and an Olive branch was brought back from Memorial Park, for which the baseballs immediately embarked. On their arrival the Lions found two local Rotarians who were likewise looking for a place to practice. These lonely lambs were Clarence Hubbs, crossfire twirling artist of the Rotarian squad, and Horace Flinn, who hoped to have his concrete at home when he plays ball next Monday.

The Lions took the lambs into their arms and allowed them to practice with Zeisner's aggregation. A great time was had by all. The balls soon became so waterlogged that they handled like sixteen-pound shots and various arms went out of commission right away. The weakened covers were soon knocked off and felding practice was enjoyed with the remaining twelve covered spheres, as in boyhood days.

"Horace Flinn soon developed a 'Charley Finney' gun. Gus Busch took a moist slide, various and several of the players enjoyed impromptu aquaplaning, and all in all a lot of good water polo practice was obtained. Just what advantage it will be to the players in next Monday's game is a matter of speculation.

At the Lions meeting Tuesday evening, it was reported that seven boys had been sent to Camp Okanilikon as guests of the club and all of the youngsters were enjoying a wonderful time. The ladies are expected home today. They were conveyed to camp in one of the Jensen Company trucks and the Lester Portum company will bring them back.

CHICKEN THIEVES

Larchmont Farms Loses 150 White Leghorns

County Detectives Cain and Carabine are now working to locate a new type of chicken thieves.

Recently three cases have been called to their attention where chickens have been stolen and the thieves have not the heads of the fowls on the farms. Why they have done this cannot be figured out, but it is presumed that they are endeavoring to cover at least this much trace of identification. What is being done is a mystery, but there is a feeling among at least some of the officers that the thieves are working for hotels and restaurants and supplying them with cheap poultry to enable them to serve chicken dinners at "cut-throat" prices.

One hundred and fifty white Leghorns were stolen from the Larchmont Farms of Albert Haines & Son, at Masonville; 25 chickens were taken from the Henry D. Culin farm, near Hainesport, and 20 have been stolen from the farm of Freeholder Fred Lippincott, near Moorestown. They are pretty hard cases to successfully run out.

FIRST FATALITY AT PARK WHEN DIVER BREAKS NECK

Dodge and Ford Come Together on Broad Street

A new Dodge sedan driven by Mrs. Everett O. Wolcott, of 415 Linden avenue, Riverton, collided with a Ford sedan driven by Walter Wilbur, colored, of West Palmyra, as Mrs. Wolcott went to turn into the driveway of C. Ridgeley Sweeney, Dodge dealer, East Broad street, Palmyra, Monday afternoon.

In the automobile with Wilbur were Miss Clara Valentine, Miss Minnie Umphrey and Ernest Fitzgerald, all colored. All the occupants were shocked and bruised somewhat. Miss Valentine suffered slight cuts of the head and leg.

Before the Palmyra ambulance arrived she was treated by Dr. H. B. Marks where she was taken by Frank A. Shover.

Both cars were damaged considerably, but although the Ford got the worst of the bargain it was able to be driven home under its own power with one man steering while another held a set of wheels under the front.

Park Attendant Is Now Assured

Director Williams, Confident Funds will be Forthcoming, Places Man on Duty

Director of Public Safety Edward R. Williams put a man on duty at Memorial Park, Riverton, Monday morning of this week and will endeavor to maintain this protection to those using the park for recreational purposes.

The man appointed for this service is Russell Miller, who has been sworn in as a special officer. Had some one with proper authority been in supervision of the swimming hole last Sunday night it is more than probable that the first fatality to happen on the borough's playground could have been averted.

Director Williams says that a great many people in the town have expressed their approval of his plan to have an attendant at the park every day, and a few more have contributed money. Mr. Williams is confident that when the citizens of Riverton realize the value of this supervision there will be no trouble raising sufficient funds to continue it for the balance of the summer, and he hopes to have money appropriated for this service in next year's budget of borough expenditures.

Mrs. Frederick Blair, president of the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association, spoke for that organization when she expressed her enthusiastic approval of the plan and said that the association would be glad to contribute to the fund.

In his address before the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club spoke of the supervision at the park and Dr. Mills, ex-president of the club, made a contribution on the spot.

The necessity for removing small children from the menace of the streets and giving them a safe place in which they can play under proper supervision is becoming more apparent every day. Riverton has a wonderful playground, with natural surroundings, some of the very few towns, and it should be made fully available to the boys and girls, big and little, of the borough.

Those who desire to give their mite to the fund for paying a supervisor from the members of the streets and giving them a safe place in which they can play under proper supervision is becoming more apparent every day. GRANGE PICNIC

Burlington County Body to Have Outing at Rancocas Aug. 11

Burlington County Pomona Grange will hold one of its old-fashioned picnics at Rancocas Park on Thursday, August 11, and the word is going out to the subordinates from that effect. The decision was reached at Pomona meeting at Rancocas last week.

It appears that some of the farmers were not wholly satisfied with the idea of holding a joint picnic with the Moore County Grange at Hillwood Inn, because it came at a time when they didn't consider it advisable to take a day off and leave their important work, and, in addition to that, some of them wanted to go about their own thing in the old fashioned way.

Dive Into Shallow Water Causes Death of Frank Shields; Ignored Warning

PARK GUARD MIGHT HAVE SAVED HIM

The first fatal accident to happen at Riverton's Memorial Park occurred last Sunday afternoon about 6 o'clock when Frank Shields dove into shallow water and suffered a broken neck, which caused his death in the West Jersey hospital Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock.

Shields, who was 26 years of age, was a Penn-Jersey bus driver and boarded with his wife and daughter at the home of Mrs. Isaac Perkins. He was a veteran of the World War having served aboard the U. S. S. Nevada.

Accompanied by his family Shields went to Memorial Park to enjoy a dip in the swimming hole which has been so popular during the

Woodcraft Features Camp Ockanickon

Nature Trail Being Built by Boys is Full of Helpful Interest

There are many activities at Ockanickon one of the finest boys' camps in the state. The swimming, canoeing and water sports are unparalleled; the athletic activities always create interest and enthusiasm; the evening entertainments and stories are fine; the religious activities are designed to be practical and helpful and every boy is present when "camp" time comes around.

Then when it comes to real honest to goodness camping activities one always finds a real bunch of hard working, hard hitting youngsters doing the things that are making camps in many a day's travel.

This branch of the camping activities is known as the Woodcraft and Nature Trail work and when parents and visitors arrive they are immediately escorted by those who have had a part in this work to many points of interest.

The Nature Trail which was begun last year takes one through beautiful wood lands and swamp lands for over a mile. The trail has been cut and built through real wilderness and passes many interesting places and many objects of natural interest. Rustic bridges have been built through the beautiful swamp lands which have already acquired the name of the "Everglades" of the Trail. Trees, shrubbery and plants are being labelled.

Rustic cages are on the trail containing snakes, lizards, and even a great blue heron is encountered as one enters the trail; and then after traveling a short distance the woods suddenly opens and here a large number of boys are building a council ring. The construction of this is entirely of cedar, the seats are made in the form of a great circle with a place for the chiefs, seats for the three spirits of Ockanickon, and a bench for the Fire Builders. The more impressive ceremonies and challenges will be held in this ring and the whole setting will be one that contains the Christian spirit of Chief Ockanickon as well as Indian lore.

Coming back through the trail one crosses the bridge to "Chapel Island" where a beautiful out-door chapel is being built by the boys. It contains a stone pulpit, rustic benches for the Camp Choir, a place for the Camp Orchestra and rustic pews for the Campers and visitors. The setting of this place and the construction in the depth of the woodland and in God's great out-of-doors bring a response in the hearts of boys.

Erecting bridges, the constructing of an out-door theatre, the building of bird boxes, flower boxes, window boxes and rustic porch and lawn furniture have their place in these activities and it not unusual to find boys willing to forego swimming and athletics in order to continue this interesting work which is providing wholesome recreation and helping to make good the slogan adopted a number of years ago—"The Best Camp for South Jersey Boys."

CRASH AT PARRY

Two Occupants Injured When Car Hits Tree

A car owned by M. E. Jones, of 2418 Grassley avenue, Oakmont, Upper Merion, Pa., and a machine driven by Mrs. J. Hanle, of Robinsonville, were in an accident at Five Points on the Burlington Pike last Friday.

The Jones automobile was coming down Branch Pike and the Hanle machine was going down the Burlington Pike toward Camden. Mrs. Hanle attempted to make a turn and when she could not, she turned back on the pike again, crashed into a pole and then into a tree. Two occupants of the Hanle car were hurt. Mrs. Anna Karloff received a broken left arm. Selva Karloff suffered lacerations of the left leg which required four stitches, while Louis Karloff was uninjured.

The entire front of the machine, including the glass, radiator and wheels were damaged. All the patients were X-rayed and treated at Cooper Hospital where they were taken in the Palmyra ambulance. They returned to Palmyra again and afterwards took a train for their home.

HIT TRAFFIC LIGHT

Two Motorist Crash into Palmyra Signal

Last Thursday night Joseph Brown, of Camden, knocked over the small traffic light sign at the intersection of Broad and Cinnaminson avenues, Palmyra. As a hearing before Justice of the Peace William Fichter he was fined $5.00 and costs.

Brown passed the large traffic light at this point when the stop sign was against him. When Chief of Palmyra police C. Morris Beck "tooted" the whistle for him, he backed into the light and knocked it to the ground. This fine was given in accordance with a borough ordinance that fixes the amount for striking a traffic light.

Christy B. Delmas, of 210 Cypress avenue, Woodlynne, also hit the same light later in the evening Thursday and was also fined $5.00 and costs. Delmas struck the light head on.

"ROYAL" SURPRISE

Lumberton Girl Views King and Queen of England in Scotland

Miss Marjorie R. Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Reid, of Lumberton, had an unexpected pleasure on July 11 when she arrived in Scotland as a member of the one hundred and fifty young people Students' Travel Club, made up of from the United States.

Upon arriving at the Princess street station at Edinburgh they were informed that the King and Queen of England would arrive in about ten minutes, and naturally the train was held up for that length of time in order that the young people could gaze upon the important personages.

One member of the party from the United States waved a small American flag as their Majesties stood at the window of the compartment and the Queen acknowledged the flag by gracefully bowing at least three or four times. The event was not a prearranged one, but a delightful coincidence of train schedules which will live in the memory of Miss Reid and the balance of the party as long as they live.

One of the first remarks made by the new king of Roumania, aged six, after he was told that he had become king was that he wanted to go home because he was hungry. Which proves anyhow that he is a real boy.

Train Kills Three on Way to Shore

Philadelphians in Grade Crossing Tragedy at New Lisbon Friday Afternoon

Three Philadelphians, two men and a boy, were instantly killed and a fourth was seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by a fast freight train of the Pennsylvania Railroad at an unprotected grade-crossing at New Lisbon.

The victims were: Albert Seifert, thirty-seven years old, a hardwood floor contractor, of No. 2942 North Orianna street; Frederick Kluge, forty-one years old, a mechanic, of No. 2945 North Orianna street; and Fred Kluge, his twelve year old son.

Seifert, Kluge and the latter's son left about 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in a light touring car to spend the weekend at Beach Arlington, where Mrs. Seifert and the couple's eighteen year old daughter, Marie, have been vacationing for the past week.

They were taking a short cut through a back road that brought them out opposite the railway station at New Lisbon.

Seifert was at the wheel as the machine approached the railway tracks and got his machine across the southbound tracks and was in the middle of the northbound when the locomotive smashed into the rear of the touring car with a crash that could be heard for blocks.

Automobiles rushed the victims to the Fairview Sanitarium for Tuberculosis at New Lisbon, where doctors said that all had been killed instantly. They were later removed to Perincher's undertaking establishment at Mount Holly. The body of the youngest was horribly mangled.

Coroner Benjamin F. Farner, of Burlington, started on an immediate investigation. He first examined Frank G. Jones, of No. 37 North Thirty-fifth street, Camden, engineer of the train. Jones told the investigator that as he started to make the curve he blew several blasts on his whistle and got the signal giving him a clear track ahead. As he neared the New Lisbon station, he said, he saw two cars approaching.

"I was traveling between fifty-five and sixty miles an hour," Jones said, "and I realized that it would be impossible to bring the train to halt. I put on the emergency brake and saw the first car shoot ahead and make the crossing. The second managed to cross the southbound tracks, and was almost across when the locomotive struck."

FINED AFTER CRASH

Two Cars Damaged in Accident; Camden Musician Pays

Phillip Loosuk, of 1215 Decatur street, Camden, was fined $10 and costs by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston on charges preferred by Miss Mary E. Felton, of the Pig'n Whistle Inn, Brown's Mills, following a triple crash on Camden Pike, just below Moorestown Manor, Monday afternoon. A Camden boy was slightly injured in the accident.

Loosuk, a Camden musician, was arrested by Officer Walter Erickson of the Moorestown police department, on the complaint of Miss Felton, who charged the Camden man with reckless driving.

The collision is said to have happened when Loosuk, driving west on the wet Pike, was unable to avoid hitting a Public Service truck which was parked along the right side of the road. After Loosuk's machine crashed into the rear of the Public Service truck it then swerved around and sideswiped Miss Felton's car which was coming towards Moorestown. The Public Service machine was driven off the road by the force of the impact and both Miss Felton's and Loosuk's autos were badly damaged.

The injured lad, Edward Snyder, 8 years old, 751 Florence street, Camden, was cut and bruised when he was thrown from the truck in the accident.

Beetle Spray Demonstration

Federal and State Departments of Agriculture Have Arranged Trip Aug. 9

A public demonstration of the latest control methods for the Japanese Beetle will be staged near Moorestown on Tuesday afternoon, August 9, at 1:30 daylight saving time.

The object of this meeting is to show how the Japanese Beetle can be kept under control by careful spraying. Visits will be made to some of the big estates in Moorestown that have been sprayed as a part of their community spray program. Other stops will be made at nearby orchards where careful spraying has been followed and the beetles have been kept under almost perfect control.

Starting at the intersection of Chester avenue, Moorestown and the Bridgeboro road, the itinerary will be followed.

1:30—Inspection of the estates and shade trees in Moorestown that have been carefully sprayed under their community spray program.

2:30—Visit the Lester Collins Experimental Vineyard, where a start of results have been secured on beetle control.

3:15—Stop at the apple orchards on the farm of David Ballinger, Bridgeboro road. The results of three years of spraying work will be shown on this farm.

3:30—In the Edward S. Harmer orchard, also on the Bridgeboro road, a geraniol and pyrethrum soap demonstration will be staged. This will also show how communities can combat the beetle.

4:15—The experimental peach orchard on the E. J. O'Brien farm, Church road, will be visited to show various control measures that are being carried out.

This demonstration is being arranged by the Federal and State Departments of Agriculture cooperating to show the most effective methods of combating the beetle in New Jersey.

The public is invited to attend this demonstration to acquaint themselves with the best method of protecting their shade trees and foliage from serious injury.

Fine Tribute to Secretary Evans

Retiring "Y" Industrial Worker Honored by Burlington Kiwanians; Held Office

Fine tribute was paid to the high standing and good works of D. Stanley Evans at last week's dinner-meeting of the Burlington Kiwanis Club. Mr. Evans, who is the industrial secretary of the Burlington County Young Men's Christian Association also was the secretary of the Kiwanis Club.

Not only was Mr. Evans lauded in address by his associates, but he also was presented with a handsome bound set of resolutions by the Kiwanians and given a gold watch by the Keystone Athletic Club of Riverside, which he organized.

Several guests were invited to the dinner in order that all the organizations with which Mr. Evans was associated might take part in the testimonial. These guests included Walter Camenisch, of Philadelphia; Guy C. Hendry, of Mount Holly; Waldo Reiner, of Edgewater Park; John C. Evans, of Ridley Park, Pa.; William F. Overman, of Moorestown; Frank W. Thacher, of Edgewater Park; Nathan Lane, of Riverton; O. Granville Klotz, of Riverside; Victor Ritschard, of Riverton; Charles Green, of Trenton; John R. Shepard, of Florence; Noble Waggoner, of Burlington; Edgar Spang, of Burlington; Edward Simmons, of Burlington; the Rev. A. C. Brady, of Burlington; J. Hooker Matlack, of Burlington; and E. F. Wagner, of Riverton.

At the conclusion of an excellent dinner, William Hope, president of the Kiwanis Club, introduced Mr. Camenisch who told of the work that Mr. Evans had done in Riverside as the industrial secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association; how he had organized the Keystone Club; how he had staged one of the biggest dinners ever given in Burlington county and how he practically had carried the entire load of the organization. Mr. Camenisch said that he did not want his words to be merely ones and on behalf of the Athletic Club he presented Mr. Evans with a fine gold watch, saying that he hoped that every time Mr. Evans would think of his Riverside association.

Guy Hendry, secretary of the Burlington County Young Men's Association, told of Mr. Evans' work in that organization; of his untiring efforts to please; of the great love in which he was held, and said that no matter what activity there might be or no matter what the phase of love and devotion, beside it could be written the name of D. S. Evans. Mr. Hendry's tribute was an excellent one.

Overman's Tribute
Mr. Overman, president of the Burlington County Young Men's Christian Association, told of Mr. Evans' work as the industrial secretary of his organization. He said that Mr. Evans had been selected for a stupendous job and that he had done a wonderful work in what seemed like a chaotic condition. He said that the work that now confronted the organization was the selection of a man to take Mr. Evans' place. He declared that it would be difficult.

The Rev. A. C. Brady spoke of Mr. Evans in connection with the Broad Street M. E. Church. He said that despite his multiplicity of other duties he had taken the superintendency of the Broad Street M. E. Sunday School, and found spare minutes in a busy program to make a great success of the work.

Two letters were read by Dr. E. C. Steinsieck, in which the work of Mr. Evans in connection with the State Kiwanis was praised. One of the letters was from Will T. Bingham, district governor, and the other was from Stephen Pavley, lieutenant governor. Both spoke of the value of his work and the manner in which he accepted a responsibility.

Receives Resolutions

Loring S. Borton, spoke for the Kiwanis Club. He gave an allegorical address in which he showed how the love in which Mr. Evans was held and the work which he had done would unfold like the bud of a rose for the good and glorification of the Burlington organization. His remarks he presented Mr. Evans with an engrossed and leather-bound set of resolutions adopted by the club in which Mr. Evans' resignation was accepted with respect and a wish expressed for the success and happiness of his future.

In responding to the several tributes Mr. Evans said that his friends had placed him on a pedestal that did not fit him; and that he could not hope to measure up to their kind words. He spoke of the happiness of his association in the various organizations and urged a continuance of the work in which he had tried to be helpful. He said that he had found pleasure in the society of the men he had met here and that he was not leaving without heart pangs. He thanked all for their remembrance and said that he always would think of his Riverside friends as he would the watch.

Mr. Evans will go to Binghamton on August 1. He will do a work there similar to the one he did in Burlington county. The Binghamton field is larger.

Troopers Engage in Special Cases

State Police of Columbus Station Comb County in Various Activities

The State Police at Columbus under the guidance of Sergeant Hausling find plenty to do and get into new fields of action as each week comes and goes. In addition to all their patrolling they had handled nearly twenty special cases during the past week and given evil doers good reason to believe that they are strictly on the job when they are wanted.

Trooper Brown arrested Mildred A. Garwood, of Cream Ridge, when she was wanted by Atlantic City police for passing worthless checks and was turned over to a detective to be taken back to the scene of her offense.

Lester Moore, of Cookstown, was arrested by Trooper Leon for driving without a license and was fined $50 by Justice Kingdon in Mount Holly. Sentence was suspended on a charge of driving with fictitious plates.

John Driesback, of Trenton, was arrested by Trooper Leon on complaint of Peter Joy, of Crosswicks, who charged hit-and-run driving. He claimed that he was not aware that he had hit Joy's car and sentence was suspended by Justice Kingdon on the man's promise to pay for the damage done.

Going "67", Fined $10
John LeBar, of Washington, N. J., was speeding at the rate of about 67 miles an hour when Trooper Brown stopped him and Justice Kingdon applied a fine of $10 to let the man know that Burlington county does not care for that kind of driving outside greatest emergencies.

It cost William T. Lenox, of Merchantville, $5 after he had been arranged before Justice Kingdon in Mount Holly because he failed to stop when Trooper Horn signalled him along the Mount Holly and Pemberton road. Horn's successful chase for the man ended in Masonville.

William Roach, of Windsor, was caught by Trooper Horn driving with a learner's permit and without a licensed driver in his car, and Justice Kingdon made an assessment of $5.

Alvin Lippincott, of Beverly, was arrested by Trooper Leon, working with Policeman Hahner, for fishing at Delanco without a license and Justice Johnson imposed a fine of $20 and costs.

William Dennis, of Brown's Mills, was taken into custody by Trooper Doyle for having fictitious plates and driving his truck without proper identification name. Justice Kingdon suspended sentence after there was an understanding that the neglect would be remedied.

Didn't Stop: Pays Fine
Joseph Aaronson, of Mount Holly, did not see fit to stop when signalled by Sergeant Hausling, Justice Kingdon fined him $5 and costs for this infraction.

There was an investigation on a collision between the cars of Hudson M. Harris, of Mount Holly, and Julius Weigh, of Trenton, on the Crosswicks and Chesterfield road, but no police action was necessary. A child in the Weigh car had her head lacerated.

Morris Yanowitz, of Philadelphia, was caught by Sergeant Hausling and Trooper Doyle after a wild chase on the Mount Holly and Moorestown road, after the man was traveling at fifty miles an hour through Moorestown. Justice Kingdon put a fine of $10 in this case.

George Hill, of Trenton, paid a fine of $5 to Justice Kingdon after he was arrested by Trooper Doyle for speeding.

Clinton Estlow, of Beverly, drove a bus at forty miles an hour between Burlington and Beverly, and was arrested by Trooper Brown. Justice Kingdon announced a fine of $10. This marks the beginning of an active crusade against bus drivers who make speedways of the roads through the river-front towns. There have been several complaints about this situation.

Most of the folks who drive 70 miles an hour to get some place don't seem to have anything important to do after they get there.

Friendly Thoughts by Frank A. Snover

The music of life mounts from deep-toned depths of despair to scale the peaks of rapture. We climb to the crescendo, but remaining upon the crest would pall upon us. We are truly happy only in proportion to the miseries we've known. If it were otherwise we, ourselves, would be as unthinking and soulless as the violin we play upon.

JAYNE-STARR

Former Prosecutor Wilfred H. Jayne, of Ocean County, and Miss Edna Starr, were married at Freehold Friday, July 22, by the Rev. C. P. Newton, pastor of the Freehold Baptist Church. NO MORE "DULL" SEASONS

Once an ingenious merchant discovered that the logical time to advertise was when business was slow and in the periodic dull seasons of the year. Ridiculous as it may seem, before that discovery the average businessman slowed down in his advertising when business slowed down. He generally ended up the dull seasons with a quarterly sale, but as his newspaper advertising was concerned there was no advertising when there was no business.

The modern businessman holds a different conception of the purposes and uses of newspaper advertising. When business is not up to his satisfaction he brings it up through increased advertising so that now the merchant, schooled in productive advertising, knows no dull seasons nor diminished business.

There are a few phases of business which have always been known to all businessmen. Among these are the alternating busy and dull periods of the year, month, week, and day. A systematic, effective and economic plan of advertising had to be constructed upon a full knowledge of this business cycle. Business has ever come without coaxing before Christmas, at Easter time, and in the fall. Extensive advertising has been found to be the only remedy for the business depression epidemic between these three rush periods. People have a habit of confining their shopping to the last of the month, the last three days of the week and the last shopping hours of the day.

From experience merchants have learned that newspaper advertising has successfully eliminated the rush periods and spread the volume of business more evenly over the day, week, month and year. It has prevented congestion, simplified salesmanship and merchandising and increased business.

LIGHTNING

We saw a story in a paper last week about a "bolt" of lightning striking a tree and "exploding," etc.

Unless the scientists are all wrong there are a lot of absurd popular misconceptions regarding lightning.

One hears of bolts of lightning preforming much in the same manner of a TNT shell fired from a "rig." Hertha, Boya and others will tell you of having dug out of the ground hot flinty stones which were the lightning "bolts." Others will tell you of "balls of fire" rolling about the ground, coming in and out of windows and going up and down stairs, as if they were acrobatic animals.

All these things are entirely mythical, according to science, and due largely to the fact that a flash of lightning frequently dazzles the human eye and leads the beholder to believe that he sees strange things which do not exist in reality.

Lightning is only a surge of two opposite charges of high tension static electricity to meet each other. Some times it is between the ground and the clouds overhead, sometimes it is between the clouds alone. There have been cases of the clouds being of such light vapor as to give the impression of a "bolt from the clear sky."

Any well-equipped physical laboratory can give you a demonstration of lightning on a small scale with an ordinary static or high tension induction machine.

The charge of electricity breaks down the resistance it encounters along its path. Hence the damage done to trees, barns or other objects in the path of the electrical lightning leaps from one conductor to another, seeking the easiest path. Hence its frequent zig-zag course. It generates heat just as the ordinary house current. Hence the fires it frequently sets among buildings. It burns out and disturbs the air along its course, creating intense atmospheric vibrations, which is thunder.

But "bolts" and "balls of fire" are imagination: Lightning is but the surge of two opposite charges of electricity to meet each other.

THINKING

Professor James Kennell, Dean of New York University, says scientists take too much for granted that strange substance, water, which we understand "as little as we understood oxygen 150 years ago."

He tells you: "If the active constituents of air were hydrogen instead of oxygen, fire would be extinguished by sprinkling gasoline on those instead of water and fireproof buildings would be built of solid paraffin."

A drop of water is a mysterious thing. Magnify its diameter from an eighth of an inch to 100,000,000 miles in diameter, and the molecules of water would become visible, each made up of two atoms of hydrogen and one atom of oxygen, each atom a little solar system in itself, forever indestructible and existing from all time, as far as we know.

Because of vast distances inside that drop, you would need a telescope. With it you could see inside of the atom electrons revolving around a nucleus at the centre of each atom TRILLIONS OF TIMES

IN A SECOND, Water is mysterious, and so is everything—matter, force and consciousness. Things we do not know are more numerous than those we do know. It is not certain that we actually know anything. We are here and don't know how we got here—must leave and don't know where we are going. We harness and use the electricity, but don't know what electricity is, while we create it artificially by falling water or burning coal. We use a mind or soul and don't know what that is. We hope for immortality, but are not sure about it. We talk of solid matter, and know that it is made up of infinitesimal aggregations of electric particles.

Nevertheless, we get along fairly well. A little knowledge is enough.

CREED OF A FOOL

I am a fool. I believe that fire is a regrettable accident which occurs in the other man's house. I believe that my own house is free from danger, although I take no precaution of any kind. I would rather stop to think, I would rather that my house is even as other houses are, but it is unnecessary for me to think about such matters. The other man should think deeply.

I believe that fires are caused by carelessness, the carelessness of the other man. I believe that I am a privileged character. I may throw matches about, cast away half-lighted cigarettes, about without looking to see where they fall. I believe that I can do such things with impunity. So far I have not been arrested for arson.

I believe that the other man is negligent. He is culpable and deserves to suffer losses caused by his own stupidity. A special providence looks after my home and place of business.

I believe all this without any knowledge of immunity from the attack of fire. I have no surety that fate has not nominated me for membership in "the club of other men." But, as I have said, I am a fool.

SHOCKING THE SOIL

Donald Woodward, at Leroy, N. Y., is experimenting with a plow that enriches the earth by plowing into it a high electrical voltage as the plow moves through the field. Hamilton L. Roe, of Pittsburgh, who invented the plow, says the 103,000 volts of electricity that it carries destroys weeds and harmful bacteria, while restoring the fertility of depleted farm land and producing crops in record time. The tractor that pulls the plow generates electricity sent through steel blades into the earth.

Many a farmer will be interested in the statement that the use of this plow in a buckwheat field freed the land of quack-grass and weeds, the buckwheat seed germinated in eighty hours and buckwheat plants grew twice as high as those in one half the field that was plowed without electricity, and fertilized with "200 pounds of fertilizer to the acre." When time and money are applied to agriculture as they are now applied to industry some of the farmers' troubles will vanish.

PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS

are coming into more general use every day, not only among traveling men, but many women use them in the homes, where they have the great advantage of occupying no table space when not in use. They can be tucked away in their dust-proof case and put on a shelf in the closet, the bookcase, or any out-of-sight place until wanted again.

They are convenient, too, when the man of the house wants to do a little business writing at home. They often save a trip back to the office. Some men prefer at times to do certain parts of their work in the quiet of the home, where they are free from the constant interruptions of the office.

The most satisfactory and durable portable typewriter produced to date is the Remington. It has the full standard keyboard, and the carriage is wide enough to take a legal size envelope.

You can see one at The New Era office, or phone 712 and one will be left at your home for a ten-day free trial, with no obligation incurred.

BAPTIST CHURCH

On Sunday morning, August 7, Communion will be observed and Pastor Lockett will preach. The pastor will preach in the evening, having for his subject, "Sunrise and Sunset on Galilee." This is the last Sunday the pastor will conduct the services until after his vacation, which he will spend in Ocean Grove and later in New England. Let us make the days services full and inspiring ones.

Bible School activities are full of interest for this time of year. The Summer Class, in particular, at the meeting on Tuesday evening launched a well-organized program covering many phases of interest. Members are urged to help make this class one of the best in the country.

"Watch Us Grow" is the motto of many business houses. God's work is the biggest business in the world. Let us work and grow doing this business.

Baha'i Leader Confirmed Jews

Thirty Years Ago Abdul-Baha Wrote that Prophecies of Israel Would be Fulfilled

A letter written by Abdul-Baha in the year 1897 to a Jewish community in the Orient expressed thirty years ago full confidence in the successful outcome of his hope to establish a Jewish homeland in Palestine.

This letter, the importance of which escaped general notice at the time, has been brought to the attention of the American Baha'is by Mountfort Mills, recently arrived in New York after a visit of several months at Haifa, Palestine, as the guest of Shoghi Effendi, grandson of Abdul-Baha and present leader of the movement founded by Baha'u'llah to promote the ideals of world unity and peace.

Replying to an inquiry sent him by a community of Jews in Persia, Abdul-Baha wrote as follows: "You have asked me a question with regard to the gathering of the children of Israel in Jerusalem, in accordance with prophecy."

"Jerusalem, the Holy of Holies, is a revered Temple, a sublime name, for it is the City of GOD. The gathering of the Jews at Jerusalem indicates that Israel as a whole is gathering beneath the banner of GOD and will enter the Kingdom of the Ancient of Days. For the celestial Jerusalem, which has at its center the Holy of Holies, is a City of the Kingdom, a divine City. The East and the West are but a small corner of that City."

"Moreover, materially as well (as spiritually), the Israelites will all gather in the Holy Land. This is irrefutable prophecy, for the ignominy which Israel has suffered for well nigh twenty-five hundred years will now be changed into eternal glory, and in the eyes of all the Jewish people will become glorified to such an extent as to draw the jealousy of its enemies and the envy of its friends."

Another significant reference to the Zionist Movement, according to the secretary of the American National Spiritual Assembly, was made by Abdul-Baha shortly after the conclusion of the great war when he declared to a party of American visitors that the greatest accomplishment of the war was to make it possible for the free Palestine from Turkish rule Jewish people to realize their ancient hopes of a homeland on the hallowed soil of their mighty prophets.

be incurred were the child to be home sick and have to be treated at the Fairview Sanatorium.

The county appropriated one thousand dollars toward the prevention of work, which is only a small part of the amount needed. Other funds used in the work come from contributions made by generous-hearted people; from the sale of Christmas seals; and from the annual rummage sale at Brown's Mills.

But for the liberality of the people interested in the child-saving campaign the work could not go on.

Through the efforts of Miss Haines and those who are aiding her Osmend has been turned into an excellent setting for such an endeavor. A fine old mansion is surrounded by a beautiful lawn, and back of it rolls cultivated land for quite a distance. The lawn, which had become overgrown, has been cleared and other improvements have been made to the charm of the place and facilitate the work.

Children Entertainers

Everything at Osmend is done on a perfect system. The system was explained to the schoolchildren yesterday and they also were shown over the mansion and the farm. They found pleasure and profit in the visit.

Following the dinner the children entertained the visitors by singing and playing the piano, after which they filed into the house for their rest period. In five minutes or less they had all taken their places and were absolutely quiet. Parents who have two or three youngsters to tell off to bed will appreciate just what this accomplishment means.

Maple Shade Youth Is Drowning Victim

21-Year-Old Boy Loses Lives in Swollen Rancocas Creek

James Fontana, 21 years old, of Maple Shade, was drowned in Rancocas Creek near Cedar Lake at 12.30 Tuesday morning. Cramps caused the tragedy, according to the verdict of Coroner John Bolton, of Moorestown. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Fontana, of Main street, Maple Shade.

Fontana and Marvin H. Lloyd, better known as "Reds," of Moorestown, were driving in Fontana's car and upon reaching Cedar Lake decided to take a swim. They had been in the water about twenty minutes when Fontana disappeared beneath the surface of the water.

Lloyd immediately reported the tragedy to Mount Holly police, but the body was not recovered until 9.35 yesterday morning.

The body was found a short distance from the scene of the drowning by Mount Holly police and residents of that neighborhood who had worked for hours grappling with the water. The waters of the Rancocas had swelled considerably from recent storms. It was first thought that the body had been carried down the stream some distance by the turbulent waters.

David T. Dean, the attendant, had opened the gates at Cedar Lake dam Sunday night to allow the surplus water to flow off. It is said that under these conditions swimming is forbidden as the stream is very treacherous.

Fontana, according to Lloyd and other friends, was an excellent swimmer and undoubtedly cramps or a heart attack could have been the only cause of his drowning.

State Will Lose Its School Head

Dr. Savitz, Glassboro Normal Head, Possible Successor to Commissioner Logan

Dr. J. J. Savitz, now principal of the Glassboro Normal School, is named among several others as the possible successor of Dr. John L. Logan, now State Commissioner of Education. Dr. Logan is reported to have been offered the Superintendent of the Newark public schools, which carries a salary of $20,000 yearly. The State Commissioner of Education gets a yearly salary of $10,000.

Governor A. Harry Moore has indicated that the man chosen to fill the state job will come from New Jersey.

"New Jersey is well equipped with educators," he said. "I see no reason to go outside the state to fill this post. I believe in advancing men who have served well in their fields. I read today Dr. Logan, and I have the utmost respect to offer for his work. But I believe the state will have to increase the salary for this and other educational executives, or lose the best men to the city schools at higher salaries."

With the opening of schools only a little more than a month away, it is believed that the selection will be made quickly, probably within the next week or two. Governor Moore said that many men had been suggested for the post, each with strong backing, but he declined to say who any of the possibilities are.

Those generally conceded to be in the running, however, besides Dr. Savitz are Dr. William J. Dieckert, superintendent of schools in Trenton; James A. Nugent, superintendent of schools in Jersey City; Ira T. Chapman, superintendent of schools in Elizabeth, and Lambert T. Jackson, who is now Assistant State Commissioner of Education.

SPLENDID WORK

Wardens Score 90% Prosecuting Game Violators

Increasing respect for game laws is credited by Protector James M. Stratton for a decline in arrests for hunting and fishing violations during the last fiscal year, as shown in his annual report to the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners. During the twelve months there were 92 prosecutions, less by 244 than in the preceding year. In these prosecutions, however, the wardens secured a total of 903 convictions, a 95% average. Wardens were probably handicapped to some extent during the year by legislative acts depriving deputy wardens of any part of the penalty, as paid in previous years, thereby causing a lack of incentive for deputies to go out and assist in getting information and evidence on which wardens could act. It is the general belief among wardens, however, that the high percentage of successful prosecutions and the large penalties imposed have struck fear to the hearts of would-be violators.

In addition to those who paid fines for violations, four offenders went to jail for periods of from 10 to 90 days. Thirty-three licenses were revoked and 46 guns were confiscated from aliens. In two cases of illegal net fishing, boats and nets were confiscated.

The ten leading wardens in the number of arrests were, in order of their records: Thomas W. Graham, Thomas F. Nolan, George R. Paul, Chatham M. Smith, John R. Hugg, James H. Everham, Henry Berline, Arthur Davison, Charles C. Hill, W. E. Young. The chief causes for arrest were respectively, fishing without license, hunting without license, dogs running at large, firearms in woods out of season, alien firearms, procuring wrong license, Sunday gunning, illegal possession of wild deer, other game or fish.

STATE HIGHWAY HELP FOR ROAD

Commission Appropriates $12,000 to Cut Chatsworth Dip

Action on the part of the State Highway Commission last week assured the improvement of the road between New Lisbon and Harnegat, which is a short route to Brant Beach and other towns on Long Beach.

At the meeting of the commission in Trenton $12,000 were appropriated toward taking out the Chatsworth dip which will cut five miles from the road from the river to the sea. The money will be taken from the motor vehicle funds.

The cost of improving the road will be $26,000. The remaining portion of $14,000 will be given by Burlington County which put that amount in the budget for the Buddtown road improvement. The county will take over the road from the intersection of the Buddtown road and Chatsworth dip to the Ocean County line.

Charles R. Stout, of Florence, head of the Burlington County Road Department, said that bids for the improvement of the Buddtown road would be opened by the Board of Freeholders at the semi-monthly meeting on August 12. Work on the road will be started as soon as the contract is signed.

NOW WE ASK YOU!

Too many noisy marriages, too many quiet divorces, says the Rev. Dr. Stetson, rector of New York's Trinity Church, that looks from Broadway down Wall Street to a convenient dock on the East River. Dr. Stetson fears that we may imitate Soviet Russia, "where divorce is granted without question," and that our Government will some day make polygamy legal. He also deplores the power of sex appeal. Scientists, on the other hand, say the one danger threatening the human race is the possible dying out of that same sex appeal, in which case there would be no more children, and the race would fade away. What power was it, or what appeal, that in Dr. Stetson's opinion, brought about the marriage of Adam and Eve long ago?

BAN CIGARETTES

No Smoking By Stenographers in State House

Cigarette smoking among the State House stenographers is forbidden during office hours and the girl devotees of lady nicotine are envious of their fortunate sisters employed under Brigadier General Rufus H. Lane, adjutant inspector of the Marine Corps in Washington. The latter posted an order allowing women in his office to smoke at their desks if they so desire.

After the order was issued the cigarette-smoking stenographers of the State House, wondering whether their smoking would be countenanced while at work, State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee, saddened the hearts of those who relish a puff or two now and then, when he opposed any such idea.

"While on duty I see no reason why the women employed by the State should be allowed to smoke," said Mr. Bugbee. "In fact, the men working in the department under my control are not permitted to smoke at their desks and I see no reason why an exception should be made in the case of women. After office hours, of course, they can do as they please," he added.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edwin R. Walte Shawnee, Oklahoma

W. A. Gracey, Editor of the Geneva (N. Y.) Times says: "That a hobby is a good thing. That an avocation is as necessary as a vocation."

That there is truth in the old saying that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

That people don't play enough or laugh enough.

That a hearty laugh is as good, if not better than a hearty meal.

That genuine recreation comes from regular recreation.

That both body and mind need change from the daily routine.

That the happier isn't as bad as she's "painted," or the shiek as much of a freak.

That the hope of the nation is in its young people, and despite criticisms and the so-called "revolt of youth," they are measuring up to their responsibilities and opportunities as has no preceding generation.

"All's well with the world," the "goose hangs high," and the goal is within reach of all those who really try.

Laugh and the world laughs with you. Smile—and you're called a flirt.

INDOMITABLE ETHIOPIANS
A SICK WHALE
BE JUST TO ELIJAH

Sir Oliver Lodge says the ether is the most important reality of the physical universe. Life and mind are associated with matter only indirectly through the ether, says he, and the ether is primarily man's habitation, not pseudo "solid matter," earth houses, automobiles and money that we call the real world. Matter reduced to atoms is only electric particles revolving at frightful speed around an electric center. The real thing is ether.

Science tells us the ether is like a great stream of water, flowing on forever, and matter like a fisherman's net spread across the stream through which the ether flows, that ether is essential to the cosmic scheme, that Newton's law of gravitation should not work without it, and that ether is the only solid reality in the realm of ideas. But for the average man it is hard to conceive of ether as a reality. It seems as unreal as the fourth dimension.

Our minds are adjusted to the work we have to do, which isn't big or very important.

Thomas A. Edison was three days in New York's Botanical Gardens library, searching for some new rubber plant. He may find it, but it will probably be chinchilla, not botany that will supply the new rubber. Elasticity, plus wearing quality, are needed. Human intelligence will produce something better than rubber, just as it produced something better than wood, in the bronze and iron ages.

Be careful if you meet lairds of the "black widow" and it's the deadliest spider on earth, possessing a bite causing death within twenty-four hours.

This tiny black spider has recently caused more than a dozen deaths on the Pacific Coast. On general principles, keep spiders and flies out of the house. Let them carry on their ancient war in the open.

Real courage is always gentle. Homer's "Mildest Manners and Gentlest Heart" are part of a fearless nature. Of all photographs taken of our Atlantic flyers, the finest shows Commander Byrd standing beside a wounded French soldier, helpless in a wheel chair. The expression on Byrd's face, pitying and tender, is that of a real hero. Happy the mother and father of such a son.

Commander Byrd, always in search of interesting occupation, planes, flight to the South Pole, and before the new year he will be flying through the coldest region on earth. He is determined to be the first man to fly over both poles.

In centuries to come, what we call our North and South Poles will again be warm, and some other spots on the earth will be the poles. Oil wells that Standard Oil has located inside the Arctic region will supply nearby gas stations—if men still use power as primitive as gasoline in that future day.

Gas by then will probably be completely out of date, as whale oil is now, for lighting. But do not be frightened into selling good oil stocks.

It told that the sickness of a sailor while in the Atlantic Ocean could set up an ancient sailor man in a comfortable chicken business, you might say "impossible." But it happened.

When whales don't feel well, lungs of a substance called "Ambergris," valuable to perfume manufacturers, form inside of them.

Jeremiah Pratt, seventy-four years old, lookout on a schooner, saw gulls hovering over a big lump of Ambergris, worth $12,000. With that money, Sallor Pratt will retire to a chicken ranch and thousands of women will go around perfumed by the Ambergris.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Things Will Take a Turn

"I would rather be dead than a failure," said Belle Anderson, a thirty-year-old post graduate student at the University of California Hospital the other day.

So she mixed herself a death potion which her knowledge as a chemist had taught her to make and committed suicide out on a lonely roadside where her body was found an hour later by a lone teamster.

Another one of those "rashly impulsive."

Why hurry? Why not see what time will do? Time solves more problems than all our wit.

Most of us who have reached riper years can look back over our lives and see that the best things that ever happened to us were the fruits of our desires often times.

We wanted something badly. We went for it and strove for it, but another got the coveted prize. Then the world all went dark and we were ready to give up.

But something else came along after awhile and further experience and wisdom showed us that it would have been very bad for us to have succeeded in getting the greater than Mussolini because Sunday conquered the devil. In New York City saving souls. She saved forty last Sunday, and doubtless they will show gratitude when they meet her in heaven.

Miss Utley, who brings everything close to her hearers, says: "Lindbergh was not the first to make a non-stop flight—the Lord did it, before him, by flying from heaven to earth and then from earth to heaven." It's an excellent thought, but not fair to Elijah, who, in a "chariot of fire and horses of fire" went up "by a whirlwind into heaven." See second Kings, chapter two, verse eleven.

When we get to Heaven, it we do, I think that in looking back over our earthly career we will value our kicks more than our kisses.

We will be able to truly say that, "with our stripes we were healed." Because things do not come your way do not lose heart. Wait. Something better is probably just around the corner.

It is this attitude of constant hope that keeps the soul lighted up. It does not do to act rashly. No one can tell what tomorrow may bring forth.

Tomorrow is the great adventure. About all that keeps life worth living is the element of adventure in it.

When you have committed suicide you have taken the step which precludes all further adventure and you have extinguished the lamp of the soul and the light of life.

What may happen in the next world we do not know, but we know that in this world something is bound to happen tomorrow. Why not stay alive and see it? If you are feeling pretty bad, perhaps it may comfort you to think that whatever happens it cannot be worse than what has already happened, therefore it will probably be better.

Keep trudging along and surely some opportunity will come to you to get away from the hated routine.

URGES SPECIAL CARE

Public Service instructs Drivers to Watch Ventilation

A bulletin issued to all operators of Public Service cars and buses by M. R. Hoylan, vice-president in charge of operation, reads as follows:—"In your efforts to give your riders comfortable service pay particular attention to the windows in your cars and buses. When the weather is hot, windows should be kept open, except during storms.

"You should examine your car or bus before you leave your terminal on your first trip and make sure that windows are in proper position."

"In case a storm approaches windows should be closed and you are expected to see that this is done. If it continues hot after the storm see that they are opened again."

"Proper ventilation of cars and buses is at this season an important matter and the responsibility rests upon the operators. Please keep your duty in this respect constantly in mind."

HUGE ORDERS FOR NEW DODGE FOUR RECEIVED

Evidence of the public's reception of Dodge Brothers new four-cylinder line which was introduced July 27, is to be found in the large volume of orders received. On the two days immediately following the formal announcement orders were received for approximately $3,250,000 worth of new sedans alone. This was the only body type introduced. Within a short time a coupe will be in production. Later a cabriolet roadster will be added to the line. Dealers in such cities as Boston, Brooklyn, Chicago, Cleveland, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Philadelphia report that their salesrooms have been visited by more people since the new line was introduced than upon the occasion of any previous announcement Dodge Brothers have ever made.

"Three hundred miles an hour—five miles a minute—140 feet a second" is Navy-Lieut. Williams' hope with new mechanical skyrocket airplane. All that is worrying us is how the timers are going to be able to see it.

Friends in Need

Have you ever thought of the comfort and convenience gas and electric services bring when you come home tired and hungry? Did you ever have a sudden illness in the house that their services were not ready to help?

In point of service rendered, gas and electricity cost little—in fact they represent the greatest money value you can buy. The fact that these services are always available to use as little or as much as you want makes them doubly valuable.

Oven Heat Regulator a Help to Every Cook

The oven heat regulator gas range is so simple to use that inexperienced cooks can rely upon it with perfect confidence. If the correct ingredients have been mixed properly, the regulator set at the right temperature and the food left in the oven the proper time, there will be no baking or cooking failures.

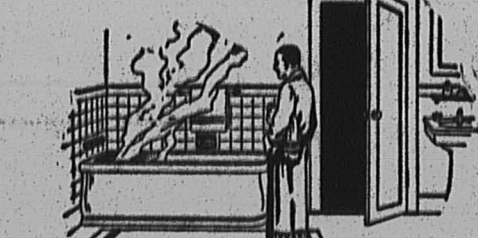

Ranges bought of Public Service are connected to the gas outlet in the kitchen without charge. All gas ranges may be purchased on the Public Service easy payment plan—small sum down, small sum monthly.

Comfort Is Certain When Gas Heats the House

People who want well heated houses without care, worry or annoyance are installing gas house-heating. Gas for house-heating gives freedom from furnace duties and furnishes dependable and even heat no matter what the temperature outside may be.

Gas is noiseless and odorless. It creates no smoke or grime. No tearing up of the lawn by trucks delivering fuel. Gas is piped into the home from the gas holder.

An interesting little book on gas for house-heating, "Not Even a Glance for Weeks at a Time," will be mailed free upon request from any Public Service store.

When a gas automatic storage water heater is used there are no exhausted water while water heats, no irritation because the water is only lukewarm. Every hot water faucet in the house will yield a supply of hot water.

Because the Kompak tank is of copper, which does not rust or corrode and the heating coils and all valves, regulators and pipes are of copper, brass or bronze, water drawn from the Kompak is sparkling clear. This is a satisfaction to the housekeeper who prides herself on the immaculate appearance of the bathroom and knows the difficulty of removing the stains of dirty water.

The Kompak operates automatically. When the water is hot enough for use, the gas, except for a tiny pilot light, is shut off. When the water cools below the required temperature, the gas is turned on.

For any reason the pilot light goes out, the gas supply is instantly shut off.

Public Service will install a Kompak storage water heater on an initial payment of $5. The balance may be paid in eighteen monthly payments.

This $15 reduction is made on all sizes of Kompak gas automatic water heaters, storage type.

Prices of Tank Water Heaters Reduced $3 to $4

A tank water heater connected to the boiler in the kitchen provides hot water in a few minutes. Its use is recommended for small bungalows or apartments. Prices include connection from gas and water outlets in the kitchen.

Coffee Tastes Best When Percolated Electrically

A cup of hot fragrant coffee, amber clear, makes a good beginning to a day. An electric percolator can be depended upon to make good coffee.

A particularly attractive percolator set of Manning Bowman makes includes a handsome coffee urn, cream pitcher, sugar bowl and round tray, all of heavily plated nickel. Price for set is $17.75.

Hoover Sets Standard for Cleaning Methods

The new Hoover by its remarkable feature "Positive Agitation" can remove all the dirt from a rug. This is accomplished by a series of gentle taps which loosen the dirt and strong suction draws it up into the washable germ-proof bag.

The Hoover during use enables the housekeeper to keep upholstery and draperies as free from dirt as her rug.

Savings in Laundry Bills Soon Pay for the Thor Washer and Ironer

Public Service sells only the best of appliances and many washing machines were tested before the Thor was selected for our salesrooms. It won the approval of experts because of its safe, satisfactory and rapid method of washing.

There is nothing in the Thor that will tear or injure any fabric. Everything is washed inside a perforated cylinder, through which clean soapy water is dished, so the cylinder revolves and reverses.

The Thor washes everything from heavy double blankets to fine laces.

Thor Ironer Works Rapidly and Well

Particular housekeepers pride themselves upon their well pressed sheets and table linen. The Thor ironer does a finish that hand ironing does not give. It presses everything, even fine frills and ruffles.

No special wiring is required for the ironer. It can be attached to any electric outlet.

The Thor ironer is intended for use in small apartments as well as in large establishments. When not in operation, it folds up and can be stored in a small space.

At Public Service stores the convenient payment plan for this ironer is $5 down, eighteen months to pay the balance.

Lesson for August 7

DAVID SPARES SAUL

LESSON TEXT—Sam. chap. 24. GOLDEN TEXT—But overcome of evil, but overcome evil with good. PRIMARY TOPIC—David's Kindness to His Enemy. JUNIOR TOPIC—David Shows Mercy. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Treat Those Who Wrong Us. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Overcoming Evil With Good.

1. Saul in Pursuit of David (vv. 1-3). Ever since David took his departure from Jonathan (ch. 20), when that crowning act of friendship was shown, Saul had been hunting him as a wild animal. He now pursues him with 3,000 chosen men. David flees from place to place and is in hiding as an outlaw. Sometimes he is in the enemy's country doing disreputable things. This is the period of his schooling, which fitted him to be the future eminent king. It was a bitter period in his life, but God sent him to this school and adapted the instruction to his needs. David could never have been the broad man that he was had he not been prepared in this crucible of bitter experience. He learned many lessons, among which may be mentioned:

1. His own weakness. It was necessary that he be humbled under the sense of his infirmities. Before any one is fit to be raised to a position of prominence he must be made to know his limitations and weaknesses. Unless a man has learned this lesson, sudden elevation to power will utterly ruin him.

2. His dependence upon God. David's many miraculous escapes caused him to realize that the Lord had redeemed him out of his adversity.

3. He learned the country and people over which he was to rule. By knowing the grievous afflictions which Saul had heaped upon the people, he could sympathize and remove them.

4. He learned the magnanimity of self-control. This a man must know before he can be a true king. He that ruleth his spirit is better than he that taketh a city (Prov. 16:32).

II. Saul in David's Hands (vv. 4-20). 1. David sends out spies (vv. 4). This he did to find out whether Saul was come in very dead.

2. David in Saul's camp (vv. 5-11). He took with him Abiathar and went in the night to where Saul was sleeping. Abiathar asked to be allowed to kill Saul, but David forbade him because Saul was the Lord's anointed.

3. David takes Saul's spear and eruse of water (vv. 12, 13). Once before at Enged (chap. 24) David spared Saul's life. Now again he was at his mercy. This David did that he might show tangible evidence to the king that he had no evil intent.

4. David taunts Abner, the king's bodyguard (vv. 14-16). He calls to Abner and taunts him for his listlessness—his failure to watch over the Lord's anointed, the evidence of which is the eruse and spear in his hands.

5. David reasons with Saul (vv. 17-20). David reasoned with Saul, showing that he had nothing but good intentions toward the king. He asked that he would show what wrong he had done, or what evil intent was in his heart. If the Lord was directing Saul he was willing to appease his wrath with an offering. If Saul was only hunting him because wicked men were urging him, a curse should be pronounced upon them. David is very humble and begs Saul to relent, for surely if he had any wicked purpose he would not have saved his life twice when the Lord had placed Saul wholly at his mercy. David recognized the fact that the Lord had delivered Saul into his hands not to kill, but to save. He did not kill, neither did he allow his servants to kill.

III. Saul's Confession (vv. 21-25). 1. He confessed that he had sinned. The sad feature about his confession is that it lacked conviction, for he went right on slandering.

2. He confessed that he had played the fool and erred exceedingly. We see about us daily many using such expressions, but still they go on repeating their sins. David shows his magnanimity of spirit, however, in delivering the eruse and spear to Saul's servant. He knew that Saul's confession was not genuine, so he was afraid to go near. He still appeals to Saul's kindness to him, and they part never to meet again.

Praying

"It is better to do a little with prayer and in the Spirit than to be busy with many things in your own strength."

Spiritual Love

"All real spiritual love is but a portion of Christ's love which yearns in all who are united to Him.—Alford."

An Important Duty

You have not fulfilled every duty unless you have fulfilled that of being pleasant.—Charles Buxton.

Beware of Low Aim

Not failure, but low aim is crime.—Lowell.

In English the letter "e" occurs most frequently, says Frank H. Viator, the dictionary sharp. But it is the most unfortunate character in the alphabet because it is always out of order, forever in debt, never out of danger and is hell all the time. It has its bright side, too, for it is never in war and always in peace. It is the beginning of existence, the commencement of man and the end of trouble. Without it there would be no meat, no life and no heaven. It is the centre of honesty, makes perfect love, and without it there would be no editors, no printers, no news and no announcements.

HARVEST HOMES

August is the month for holding harvest homes and already there are twelve of these annual events scheduled for Burlington county for this month. It is expected more will be announced later and some will be held in September. Following are those announced so far:

E. church at Gardeners Grove; August 25, Pemberton Grange; August 26, Crosswicks M. E. church; August 28, Brown's Mills M. E. church; August 31, Tabernacle M. E. church at Fox Chase.

All of these gatherings will bring out a large gathering of politicians from all parts of the county.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT

By F. A. WALKER

THE MOMENTOUS MOMENT

TO EVERY man and woman, whether of high or low estate, there comes at some period of his or her existence a time when the future wavers in the balance.

It is at this turning point where the quality of each sex is tested and the cross is separated from the real metal.

Every moment somewhere, some one is brought abruptly face to face with a new condition where a wrong decision or an imprudent step may change life's prospects in the twinkling of an eye.

When two persons of any grit and spirit clash, differ in opinion over some trifling, exhibit signs of unreasonable and anger, there is danger in the air which both should do their utmost to avoid.

The employee who flares up at the well-meaning counsel of his or her superior, showing symptoms of pique and rebellious resentment in action and speech, is getting perilously near the place where his or her future may be wrecked for all time.

No one ever regrets sealing his lips when he is angry.

Whether he realizes it or not he may be facing the momentous moment when a life friendship is about to be broken, a position in society lost, or a prized business connection severed which no regret in after days can restore.

From the first intimation of rising passion, if we would go safely through the threatening crisis, we should with all the force we can command grip our spirit and play the mute.

If we could do this, we would save many a headache, many hours of humiliating depression, and dispense with many a burden there is no necessity of bearing.

The truth is that in most of us the heart is proud, the neck is stiff, and the will, especially when opposed, is as unyielding as the granite hills. And at the crucial moment, with much more bravado than usual, we give loud emphasis to this state of our mind without considering the fearful cost we shall be called upon some day to pay.

In this way, if in no other, do the sons and daughters of Eve bear a strong resemblance. And thus for one reason or another do the greater number of them do foolish things at the momentous moment and turn their backs on blessings everywhere, waiting for their cheerful acceptance.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"ALL IS GRIST THAT COMES TO MY MILL"

WE ARE all familiar with this expression to signify "nothing goes to waste with me." A reporter, cautioned by his city editor to let nothing that makes news slip by him, was heard to reply, "Don't worry, I'm grist that comes to my mill!" And in the variety of applications in which the phrase is employed we must not forget the cook famed for her hash who boasts that "All is grist that comes to my mill."

The saying comes to us from the parable of the flour mill where "grist" means all the grain that is brought to the mill at one time to be ground up into meal. The term signifies literally and in the broader sense, material to be worked on or utilized. For everything that is brought to the mill is crushed and ground up together. Hence the popular figurative use of the phrase "All is grist that comes to my mill" is easily comprehensible.

If you have time to kill use it for safety.

Nightly temperance meetings are being held in Burlington.

Pierre Lorillard's horse won $5540 at the Long Branch races. 200-200 and Bombast did it.

A Mrs. Britton, of Julietstown, aged 40 years, recently gave birth to a child.

Raspberries are down to six and eight cents a quart. Potatoes are plentiful and cheap.

There were over 100 carriages in attendance at the funeral of the late Nathan DeCou at Crosswicks meeting house on the 11th inst.

There are a number of cornfields in this vicinity in which the stalks already are over 12 feet high. Up to the 14th inst. there has been over 1,400 bushels of huckleberries shipped from Shamong station. The total shipment there last year was 4,000 bushels.

Tomatoes have been coming to town in quantities the past few days and prices have dropped from 40 to 15 cents per half peck. The quality is excellent.

Junior Ball Club

The Junior baseball club of Mount Holly has elected the following officers: President, John G. Doran; vice-president, William A. Powell; Secretary, William D. Herbert; Captain, James E. Hildreth. They will play Vincentown at the fair grounds this afternoon.

The channel window of the Dobbin Memorial Chapel in St. Andrews burying ground, Mount Holly, was placed in position on Friday. As a work of art it is very fine. The design is that of charity; a female figure of large size and two smaller figures of children, representing the care which true divine charity ever has for little children.

The window is a memorial to Samuel Read, Mary Murrell, John and Florence Read, children of John Junior and Sarah B. Dobbin.

The present prospect for cranberries is said to be excellent; but nothing is more uncertain than this crop.

Joseph Jones, of Marlton is recovering from a long illness, said to have been caused by inhaling paris green.

Charles H. Shinn last week delivered to Collins & Atkinson, six calves that weighed 1,833 pounds, the finest lot received this season. It is noted by an exchange as worthy of mention that Rev. Dr. Miller preached only 42 minutes in the Burlington Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning.

Uncle Ephraim Emerson, of Ocean county, talks of gathering 15,000 to 20,000 bushels of cranberries this year if the season continues favorable.

The Georgetown band held a successful fair and festival in that village last week.

Agricultural Premiums

The premium list of the Burlington County Agricultural Society has been issued. The prizes offered at the next fair aggregate $4,500, of which $1,000 is for horse races. The highest prize is $500 for fast trotting, free-for-all. Running races are included in Thursday's program.

Work on a new school house in Marlton is under way. The building is to be 32 by 72 feet, two stories.

National Guard companies from Burlington and Beverly are on guard duty at Phillipsburg, to which place the big railroad strike in several states has extended. Company F, of Mount Holly, is doing similar duty near Trenton, having been transferred to that city from New Brunswick, to which it was first assigned. The company numbers 50 men, under command of Captain Walter A. Barrows. A number of men were ill because of bad water, but are now recovering. F. W. Kelly and Charles H. Estill are lieutenants of the company.

Last week DeCou and Comfort, of Columbus, shipped about 70 fat sheep and lambs to Trenton in a box car. The door was left open a little to admit air, but when the car arrived at its destination it was found that the entire flock was dead, smothered.

A Mount Holly woman, away on a visit, writes home to her husband that she has slept alone for thirty nights, and ends the letter by inquiring, "Have you?"

HOSTS OF LITTLE FOLKS ENJOY PUBLIC PLAYGROUND

FIRST AID KIT NEEDED FOR MINOR INJURIES

Riverton's Memorial Park is coming into its own. Since Director of Public Safety Williams took the bull by the horns, and in the interests of the safety of the children of the borough, placed a man in charge of the swimming pool and the park as a whole every day in the week, the number of little folks using the people's playground has been largely increased.

And the youngsters have a fine time. When the tide is not right for bathing, or when they tire of the water, they play ball, "golf" and other games, under direction and supervision that helps but does not hinder.

Russell Miller, the man in charge, is no joy killer, and the boys and girls are having lots better times since he went on duty. He is sparing with his don'ts, and shows a better way to have a good time, rather than stopping at a prohibition of the thing under way, which may not be working out just right.

Miller says he is delighted with the way the children have caught the spirit of the thing, and the whole-hearted co-operation they give him.

Last Sunday Clara Williams, who was a guest of the Barrett family on Chumminston street, was swimming with the tide and before she knew it was beyond her depth. Miller was right on the spot and helped her out of the water.

And when Superintendent Miller is not busy with the children, he lends a hand at improving conditions about the park. Just before the storm Monday afternoon he and Paul Young started to take down a decayed tree which he feared might fall and hurt some of the children, they were "topping" it. It fell across the creek. It has since been removed.

Miller says that a first-aid kit would come in mighty handy. At most every day some of the children come to him with scratches, stubbed toes and what-not. Here is a chance for some public-spirited citizen to do his bit.

Those who desire to enjoy the fine bathing in the park will be interested to know that for the next four or five days it will be high tide in the creek in the afternoon.

Contributions have been received this week from Robert Robertson and G. W. Crawford.

Still more funds are needed. If you want to help, send your check to Director Williams or to The New Era office.

BREAKS JUMP RECORD

David Kerr of Palmyra Sets New Mark in Camden

Harold "Boots" Lever took two of his proteges to Camden Tuesday afternoon to participate in the finals held by Charlie Rogers to determine the Morning Post Junior Olympic Champions of South Jersey in track. They were David Kerr and Martin Stacks, two 15-year-old Palmyra boys who had performed in excellent form in the track meets held to date.

Both youngsters made great showings. Dave Kerr failed to win the senior title of the meet but he did have the distinction of breaking the only record of the day in virtue of his standing broad jump of nine feet seven inches. Prior to the beginning of this event, Al Hensel and Dominick Zecola, of Camden, and Lee Coble, of Woodbury, were tied for the record, which stood at 8 feet 8 inches.

Ad Gilbert, the new senior titleholder, was the first to surpass the existing mark when he leaped a distance of feet 1 inch. Al Hensel, not to be outdone, followed it up with a record of 9 feet 5 inches, and then came Kerr's feat of bettering it by two inches.

Famous Family Represented by Members From This Vicinity

Two hundred Wolcotts, from many states, will gather in Camden today to honor the ancient name they bear.

They will observe, at a three-day gathering, the twenty-third annual reunion of the descendants of Henry Wolcott, who came to America in 1830 and settled four years later at Windsor, Conn. The reunion will be held at the Hotel Walt Whitman.

Among the famous bearers of the ancient name are the Misses Theresa H. Mary D. and Helen V. Wolcott, Everett Oliver Wolcott and Ralph A. Wolcott, all of Riverton, and Wilfred B. Wolcott, of Cincinnati.

Among the famous bearers of the ancient name was Oliver Wolcott, a signer of the Declaration of Independence. Still another Oliver Wolcott was Governor of Connecticut in 1817. Roger Wolcott was Governor of Massachusetts in 1887, and was later Minister to Italy.

Recent distinguished members of the family are Edward O. Wolcott, former United States Senator from Colorado; James Wolcott Wadsworth, former United States Senator from New York, and Joseph O. Wolcott, now Chancellor of the State of Delaware and former United States Senator.

Director Explains Traffic Signals

No Turns on Red Light; Asks Cooperation of Local Drivers

There has been some confusion in the minds of motorists concerning the operation of the traffic light at Broad and Main streets, Riverton. It has been the habit of a number of drivers of cars to turn right on the red light. To do this means running into traffic at right angles, and taking the chance of being struck.

In order to obviate all possible chance of misunderstanding concerning the lights, Director of Public Safety Williams makes the following statement:

The green light is for cars going straight ahead or turning to the right. There must be no left turns on the green light.

The amber light is for left turns and does not permit a right turn. No turns in any direction are allowed on the red light.

When there is a red light in front of you your car must come to a standstill, before passing the light.

Mr. Williams believes a light showing green only one way at a time, such as is used with complete satisfaction in Palmyra, is the ideal traffic signal, and it must be that Riverton will have a similar equipment at some future time.

Meanwhile, the director asks all motorists, particularly those who live in the town and have an opportunity to become familiar with the traffic signals, to carefully observe the lights and move their cars only at the proper time. This will avoid accidents, and also serve as a guide to out-of-town motorists who are not familiar with the regulations, and who may be watching local drivers for a cue as to what to do.

Riverside Girls Arrested After Theft
at Fennimore Johnson's Home

Two 14-year-old Riverside girls who left their homes because they "didn't like to stay there" were arrested for stealing money and clothing from the home of Fennimore Johnson, Bridgeboro road, last night (Tuesday) in order that they might "get something to eat."

The girls were discovered hiding in a growth of underbrush on the Johnson estate and had the loot, valued at more than $100, in the grass beside them. They confessed stealing it from the Johnson home, police said.

When Jack Lafferty, chauffeur of the Johnsons, through whose vigilance the girls were apprehended, failed to press charges, the girls were released in custody of a prominent Riverside resident by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston. The names of all three were withheld.

At police headquarters the girls told of having left their Riverside homes last Wednesday because they "disliked staying there."

We had several dollars when we started out, but that soon ran out. During the last couple of nights we slept in barns and vacant houses near that great, big house," the girls sobbed, pleading they had only taken "the stuff because we needed some money for eat."

JAPANESE BEETLE TRAPS CATCH A LOT OF VERTS

Several residents of Riverton and Palmyra have purchased the Ellipse beetle trap advertised in the local papers and are finding it very successful in their war on the Japanese beetle pest.

This trap is not a makeshift, but a tried and tested catcher of beetles. It employs no arsenic or other poisons. It is neat in appearance and sturdy in construction. Enough bait is furnished with each trap to last through a season.

MISS HAVEN

Miss Cassandra Haven died in Nazareth, Palestine, on July 19 and was buried there the same day, as is the custom in the Orient.

Miss Haven was a sister of Rowland S. Price, Palmyra, and the Misses Ada and Emma Price, Riverton. The Misses Price, Miss Haven and Miss Jane Price, of Palmyra, were members of a touring party which left in the spring for the Holy Land.

The party will leave Paris on August 26, after spending a few days in Paris. At the time of writing, August 8, she was in Rome.

Riverton defeated Medford in a free hitting game.

Riverton scored six runs in the second inning to take the lead.

Kerlin came right back and scored a run in the third inning.

Riverton soon broke and continued to score freely to the end.

The hitting of Hughes, Miller and Young were features.

This was all the scoring, as Vaughn pitched down and pitched airtight ball.

The big features of the day were Bearint's pitching and Miller's hitting.

Riverton has now defeated Delaware, D. Wood and Medford in succession and next Tuesday evening will entertain Moorestown, and next Saturday Bridesburg.

ELECTRIC IRON CAUSE OF BLAZE

Witte Home on Linden Avenue

Tuesday morning about ten-thirty the Riverton fire company was called to the home of Edmund A. Witte at 424 Linden avenue. Mrs. Witte was using an electric iron which was connected to a basement extension.

The extension was "shorted" and began to burn. After trying vainly to get the plug out of the socket Mrs. Witte ran to the front porch and called for help.

The Borough Highway Department truck was nearby, and John Carhart, Ned Bowers and Bud Brown ran into the house, pulled the extension out "by the roots" and threw out of doors.

The floor was slightly burned, where the wire had come in contact with it.

The firemen were at the scene of the fire in a little over a minute after the alarm was sounded, with electric men reporting for duty.

This promptness is the result of drilling and the boys should be encouraged to continue the drills weekly.

BASEBALL MONDAY

Palmyra-Riverton Service Clubs Will Play Postponed Games

The long awaited return engagement between the baseball teams of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary and Lions Clubs is now scheduled for next Monday evening, 6:30, at the Palmyra Field Club.

Monday has been rainy days for the past two weeks, spoiling the practice which was scheduled two weeks ago and preventing the game which was to have been played this week.

The downpour Monday afternoon left the diamond covered with water, but the hardy Service Club men had determined to play anyway, when a new torrent burst upon the field at 6:30, drowning out all their baseball aspirations for that evening.

If the Weatherman permits, the game will surely be played next Monday.

HURT IN PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Charles Ewers, superintendent of the links at the Riverton Country Club, was injured yesterday when he was struck by the propeller of an airplane motor and cut on the back and sides. Mr. Ewers probably slipped and came within range of one of the propellers. He was taken to the Cooper Hospital, Camden, where he was not in an airplane, but a part of a machine which was being used to dry off the greens.

DAMAGES CAR

William Horner Struck Pole in Avoiding Another Machine

William Horner, Studebaker salesman for the Marshall Agency, Palmyra, damaged his new Studebaker sedan when he struck a telephone pole at Taylor's Lane, East Riverton, at about six o'clock Sunday evening.

Horner was coming down from Riverside and another machine was coming in the same direction and made a turn in front of the Horner car without giving any sign whatsoever.

In an effort to avoid smashing into the other automobile, Horner swerved to one side of the road and struck the pole. The Studebaker sedan leaned against the pole on its side and tore the top of the roof, damaged the doors, fender, and the front axle.

The car was taken to a garage at Franklin and Vine streets. No one was hurt. The insurance company will pay for the damage to the Horner machine which amounted to $200.

Moravians to Hold Memorial Service

Will Celebrate Two Hundredth Anniversary of Great Revival Next Sunday

The Moravian Church throughout the whole world celebrates this week the two hundredth anniversary of the great revival at Herrnhut, August 13, 1727.

The spiritual renewing of the Moravian Church after it had existed for years as a hidden seed, on the Estate of Count Zinzendorf, together with other religious refugees, members of the ancient Ultras Pratum, as the Moravian Church was then known, had found refuge.

At a Communion service a pouring out of the Holy Spirit united all the factions into a spiritual union, which healed their differences and made them a power for God to the whole Christian world.

In commemoration of this event the Federal Council of Church in America, has sent the following Memorial to the Moravian Church.

MEMORIAL
From the Commission on Evangelism and Life Service of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America to the Moravian Church on the occasion of the two hundredth anniversary of the great revival at Herrnhut.

Representing the different Commissions on Evangelism throughout the Protestant Church in America, we wish to unite with you in the celebration of that great event in your history which not only influenced your own communion but which was spread abroad throughout the Churches of Europe and America.

Your great historic revival began in prayer. This should be the basis of all our Churches to present their united petition to the Throne of Grace that the same spiritual quickening might be felt throughout Protestantism.

Born in prayer, a great faith was developed which He who said "According to your faith be it unto you" was eager to answer. Therefore, the Holy Spirit was mightily poured out among you. Not only were souls born into the Kingdom of God's grace and quickened by deeper faith, but a spirit of love went forth healing all animosities so that the world could say of you as it said of Christ's followers in the first century, "See how these Christians love one another."

In the kindling of your torch a light went abroad to bless the earth. John Wesley caught the reflection of it and Methodism owes to you that great incentive which changed the face of England when the heart of John Wesley was "strangely warmed" in the little company of Moravians assembled in Aldersgate Street.

Quickened by the glorious record of that great uplift in the life of your Church, we unite with yours the prayers of all the Denominations we represent that the Holy Spirit may be wonderfully shed abroad in the life of the Churches and that the glorious event which so mightily moved, through you, the religious life of the eighteenth century may have its duplication in the twentieth.

Praying for your historic Church a renewal of those spiritual experiences which gave you so much power, we express to you in the name of the Church the great sense of obligation we feel for your spiritual leadership.

(Rev.) S. Parkes Cadman, President, Federal Council.
(Rev.) Charles R. Macfarland, General Secretary, Federal Council.

(Rev.) William Horace Day, Chairman, Commission on Evangelism.
(Rev.) C. L. Goodell, Executive Secretary, Commission on Evangelism.

The Moravian Church at Five Points will appropriately celebrate this anniversary with a special service next Sunday morning at 10:45, closing with the Holy Communion service.

BOYS BEAT DADS IN FAST TWILIGHT GAME AT PARK

SEEK SCOUTMASTERS
County Organizations

With the re-opening of the business season of the Burlington County Council, Boy Scouts of America, will conduct a drive for scoutmasters which will be the first effort made by the council.

David A. Simons, acting Burlington County Scout Executive, says there is a scarcity of scoutmasters throughout the county. "If we can get the scoutmasters, we can get the scouts," Simons declared.

John R. Tallis, county scout executive, will return from Camp Rotary, where he is a director, about the first of next month. Mr. Tallis will personally lead this drive for men to act as scout leaders, both as scoutmasters and assistants. Several new troops will be formed in the first month of the new business season.

K. of C. Picnic Drew Big Crowd

Weather Conditions Ideal and Everybody Has Fine Time on Wednesday

Clear skies and cool weather greeted the K. of C. from Burlington County assembled at Rancocas Park for their annual picnic and outing on Wednesday, August 10.

Buses loaded with children and their elders began arriving as early as eight o'clock from every parish in the county and were warmly received by the picnic committee from the K. of C. Chapter.

Upon their arrival the hosts of children, fathers, mothers, sisters and brothers were assigned to tables under the inviting shade of the trees and already the swings and merry-go-rounds were loaded with happy youngsters.

The youthful musicians composing the Hopewell Orphanage band arrived early and were given "big hand" as they marched through the grounds leading the combined Columbia Cadets of the different councils.

Early reports from the committee indicated that the largest crowd to ever attend the Knights picnic was on hand and with such a clear day everybody was in for a good time.

Four buses loaded to capacity left the K. of C. headquarters at Broad and Elm, Palmyra, at ten o'clock, followed by many of the members of St. Joseph's council in their own cars.

Director Phaff of the Cadet Corps had his charges drilled up to the minute.

Those in charge of the Palmyra-Riverton contingent were George Zink, Joe Lafferty, Joseph Yearly and Andrew J. Pfaff.

"Blue Birds" Defeated Sires When "Has Beens" Blew Up Behind "Eddie"

"EDDIE" WILLIAMS ON MOUND BLANKS FIVE

It's the same old story, from the boys' point of view—"dad's pretty good but he ain't what he used to be." Last Friday evening on Riverton's Memorial Park field the "Old Times" accepted the "Blue Birds" challenge to a ball game.

The "has-beens" led the youngsters by a score of 5-2 in the early part of the game but several changes were made in the elders' line-up and the subs made so many errors that the kids won out by a 14-8 score.

Who said there is no such thing as a come-back? Director of Public Safety Williams does not think that way, and clearly demonstrated the fact that a come-back is possible by striking out five of the "Blue Birds" in succession.

SWIMS TEN MILES

14-Year-Old Camden Girl Covers
Long Distance

Ethel Brown, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold H. Brown, of 605 North Second street, Camden, accomplished a cherished ambition on Saturday when she swam the Delaware river from Philadelphia to Riverton, a distance of ten miles in two hours and forty-five minutes.

THE AVERAGE FARMER.
KNOW YOURSELF, ADD TO YEARS
AN EXPENSIVE SPANKING.
O. H. KAHN, WISE FATHER.

How would you like to be the average American farmer? His farm is 315 acres. His investment $10,308. His average net return for 1926 was $1,133.

He could make more than that driving a street car, getting regular sleep, not worrying about weather, lame horses, sick cows, rust on wheat, bugs on potatoes, blight in the orchards, etc.

The puzzling question is why is a farmer?

More important to millions of Americans, cotton has gone to a new high price for this year, three times on three consecutive days.

When cotton, not long ago, sold at half today's price, this writer said to Mr. Clarence Dillon, ingenious New York financier: "Buy yourself plenty of cotton and you will make a great deal of money."

Dr. Sherman, of Columbia University, shows that man's "vital years" can be increased by the right diet. Efficiency can begin earlier and last longer if men eat enough of the right things. Chemistry applied to diet will soon add ten years to the working period of human life.

Mrs. Almee Temple McPherson, whose conversion of sinners proves her inspired, fights as well as she can. Her former choir leader, Mr. Nichols, says: "Confess what really happened when you were supposed to be kidnapping." Mrs. Almee Temple replies: "I told the truth, walked in the light, and you are only looking for advertising, which you need." There is nothing like courage to take you through. Mrs. Almee has it.

In Washington, Mrs. Fader spanked her three-year-old son, Bruce, because he would climb the White House fence. During the spanking her $1,000 diamond bracelet flew off and was lost. Bruce saw the bracelet in the air but, busy with his spanking, said nothing. Whipping children causes greater loss than that of any bracelet when it deprives a child's affection and respect for parents.

Another American, Lieutenant C. C. Champion, Jr., of the Navy, sets another flying mark. He is believed to have broken the world's altitude record.

He fought a temperature 90 degrees below zero and his plane caught fire. An ambulance rushed to meet him, found him grinning instead of dead as was expected.

Our atmosphere is 500 miles high, or deep, so thin at the top that a feather would not float in it. How high up would men go? They be astronauts looking through thinner air at the universe outside of us?

Lieutenant Champion's estimated altitude of 47,000 feet is questioned. He says he will go up again and higher.

Mr. Chamberlain, Atlantic flier, tried something new in commercial shipping-aviation. In a little sport model biplane he flew from the deck of the steamship Leviathan showing how passenger and mail transportation can be speeded up by flying from big ships as they near port.

Soon flying machines will cross the ocean more safely than boats do now and in one-fourth of the time. Then a combination steamship and plane will seem strange, but it is a useful invention now.

A wise father lets his son do what he wants, within reason, for what a boy wants to do is usually what he can do best.

One of his boys liked music and wanted to lead a jazz band. Mr. Kahn said: "Go ahead and lead it." He knew the jazz band fit would not last long.

Now, young Mr. Kahn, nineteen years old, has taken to flying, in his own pilot, and skilful. That does not make his father and mother sleep more soundly, probably, but Mr. Kahn says: "Go ahead and fly."

If more Americans with money would let their boys fly—as thousands of normal American boys would like to fly—this country would soon lead the world in aviation.

NEW TROOPERS

Ten South Jerseymen Are Named State "Cops"

Ten South Jersey men are among the 39 whose appointment as state troopers was announced last Friday by Colonel H. Norman Schwartz, kpt., superintendent of the state police at Trenton.

Those on the list from this section are: Jesse Meschale, 1039 Diamond street, Camden; Raymond B. Collins, Salem; Clifford L. Williams, 86 York street, Bridgeton; George Eberwein, Turnerville; Julius Scheidecker, 563 Bridgeboro street, Riverside; Andrew Drangula, Roehling; Jerry R. Wood, 28 Tanner street, Haddonfield; Edward D. Smith, Trenton; Martin P. Tomlinson, Palm street, Riverside; Joseph C. Svitala, Trenton; and Alexander Aubert, Beverly.

All men on the list have completed a course of training in the State Police Training School. The appointments are effective August 15.

SPEED IN MOVING

With precision and execution little short of perfection itself, the well-known organization of the Bell Telephone Company moved its Medford exchange and 150 telephone lines in 3 hours, with only 2 emergency calls coming during the exchange during the removal.

Ockanickon Closes Successful Season

Attendance Large During Six-Weeks Season; Many Improvements

As the second season of YMCA Camp Ockanickon, operated on a site of its own, just below Medford, closed last Thursday, the past six weeks were certainly regarded as having passed favorably.

Charles R. Scott, for many years State YMCA Boys' Work Secretary, upon the occasion of a recent visit to the camp, said that all his experience with boys' camps, over some twenty-eight years, he had never seen so much progress made on any camp site in so short a time. Some of the physical achievements and property improvements accomplished during the past season included the connecting up of the driven deep well, and putting into operation the automatic electric pump connected with a water pressure system. The power for operating this is furnished by the newly installed Western House Generator, storage battery type, which also operates the refrigerator installed at the Camp store, the potato peeler in the kitchen and also the mixing machine.

A great forward step in planning for Camp sanitary needs was provided by the installation of three Septic Tanks last week ago.

In the kitchen a new three-burner range has been installed, the hot water system increased from a capacity of two hundred to five hundred gallons.

The "hook" or amphitheatre, as it is sometimes referred to, just now, in front of the Dining Hall, has had added to it a stage with rustic trimmings, equipped with foot lights and with ample seating space in front.

An out-of-door Chapel is in progress of being constructed.

The Camping program has been considerably enriched this season because of the facilities offered by the storage building for carpentry, wood-work and nature study work. The Camp families of the various weeks have been anywhere from 140 to 230 with difficulty for about four weeks in holding the number down to not more than two hundred a week.

When asked what they like about Camp, fellows will give, among a host of things, the following: the swimming, the canoeing, the "bate", the fellowship, the outdoor program, opportunity for good sportsmanship, closeness to nature, living so much out in the open, so many interesting things to do.

Now for two weeks, beginning last Friday, August 8, the entire administration of the Camp program for the girls is being handled by the YWCA.

BIG WELCOME FOR ALL-AMERICAN SIX

The Oakland Motor Car Company's success in creating an automobile which satisfies the highest American conception of what a car should be is reflected in hundreds of telegrams from Oakland dealers all over the country this week.

Tens of thousands have viewed the new Oakland All-American Six, and hundreds have driven it, since its presentation a week ago. They are enthusiastic in their praise of its splendid appearance, its surprising power, its roomy roominess, and its generally sparkling performance.

Just as, with the Pontiac Six, Oakland engineers sought to create a car adapted to the needs of the world's most exacting users—the American public—so with the Oakland All-American Six these same engineers have carried that policy to its logical conclusion. The new Oakland is sturdy and powerful, with a man-size six-cylinder engine. Roominess is assured by its 17-inch wheelbase, and its 17½-inch over-all length.

Like the Pontiac Six, it is peculiarly adapted to the requirements of Americans, whether their need be transportation in congested city traffic, or speedy and comfortable negotiation of great distances such as only America offers. In neither Pontiac nor Oakland is there the slightest hinting of power, room or riding ease, nor any trace of foreign influence.

The Oakland All-American Six line which the public is welcoming so cordially is bigger, more beautiful, and more powerful than ever. Its 12-cubic inch displacement engine achieves new heights of smoothness, partly through a new non-detonating cylinder head and partly through improvements in the famous Oakland harmonic balancer. A notable refinement in which Oakland is pioneering is the mechanical fuel pump, which replaces the vacuum tank and insures fuel supply under all conditions.

The American Eagle, emblem of the Oakland All-American Six, is associated with the same traditions as dictated the choice of Pontiac's name and Indian emblem. Conformity to all that is fine and strong in American tradition not only suggested these emblems but was built by the Oakland Motor Car Company into the products for which they stand. The record-breaking rapidity with which Pontiac was swept to the crest of public favor has already attested the degree to which Pontiac performance fulfilled its creators' promises, and the response from the public today suggests that history is about to repeat itself, with Oakland.

SEWER BREAKS

Accident Halts Chester Township Road Paving; Woman Hurt

Work on the Fork Landing road pavement, Chester Township, received a temporary setback last Friday when a digger of the A. C. Causey and Sons, contractors for the improvement, broke through one of the recently laid storm sewers.

According to workmen, the accident was unavoidable. Iron reinforcements used by the Causey Company are blamed for an accident to Mrs. Ida Stoop, Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Stoop was walking on Fork Landing road between Mill and Center streets, when she stepped on one of one of the pieces and cut her foot. She was taken to a physician where she was treated with anti-tetanus serum.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Not a Bad Place — The Mid-West.

The man from the mid-west is usually the goat of all the intellectuals.

The mid-west is supposed to be the home of banality. This region is inhabited, according to Mencken, Sinclair Lewis and others, almost exclusively by morons. They are the people who form the favorite butt of almost all kinds of ridicule. They are the hayseeds of the world.

The mid-west has Chautauqua circles, fitting descendants of former camp meetings. The inhabitants are low brow who come in for the contempt of all the emancipated and advanced Europeans and easterners.

Did they not put across prohibition?

Did not their wives and daughters even go to prayer meetings? When the world war came, however, those boys from the mid-west, Kansas and thereabouts, did a pretty good job at Belleau Wood and in the Argonne. They fought well and the heroes of Balklava and Thermopylae had to move aside.

Three-County Life Saving Tournament

Local Swimmers Invited to Compete in Red Cross Meet, August 27

A life saving tournament, in which aquatic enthusiasts of Camden, Gloucester and Burlington counties are eligible to participate, is to be staged by the Camden County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

A silver loving cup, 25 inches high and topped by the figure of a diver, has been donated by the Blackwood Trust Company, to be given to the winning team.

The cup is a three times trophy. It will become the possession of the winning team this year and will be competed for again next year. Only three successive victories will assure permanent possession. While the cup is held by the victorious team, it will remain in the County Chapter Headquarters of the Red Cross in the county from which the winning outfit comes.

Men or women, 17 years or older, may participate in the tournament, provided they are registered as members of the Volunteer American Red Cross Life Saving Corps and are residents of Camden, Gloucester and Burlington counties.

Each team will consist of six members, with alternates, who will compete only if the original members are withdrawn during the competition. Persons who have been professional life guards during the current year are barred from competition.

Teams may be formed now and entries sent to the Camden County Chapter of the American Red Cross, 310 Market street, Camden, N. J., not later than August 27.

The test of the participating teams will consist of Red Cross life saving methods chosen by a committee headed by Kenneth E. Smith, Jr., Life Saving Director of the Camden County Red Cross. The tests will not be announced until the final meet, which is to be conducted at Blackwood Lake, at 6 o'clock Saturday, September 3.

If too many teams are entered, elimination contests will be held prior to the meet. The committee also will select the judges for the test.

If any one in Burlington County wishes to compete in this tournament, please communicate with Miss Mary W. Samson, Secretary, Burlington County Chapter American Red Cross, 24 West Union street, Burlington, N. J., or Lloyd Neal, Bridgeboro, who has charge of teams in Burlington County. An entries close August 27, prompt action is necessary.

GRANGE GROWS

Eight New Members Are Enrolled at Marlton

Eight new members were added to the roster of Marlton Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, No. 45, when Mrs. Benjamin Middleton, Mrs. Stoops, Mrs. William Fowler, Mrs. Herbert R. Snyder, Mrs. Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. Cattell and Mrs. C. Ellis Reed received the first and second degrees of initiation into the order.

Each member answered roll call by repeating a bit of poetry. The popularity of mail order houses was freely discussed, the affirmative side winning by a large margin. Mrs. George P. Lippincott told of the various services of electricity in and around the modern home, saying that one man in Marlton even uses it to run his lawn mower.

A musical contest proved interesting to the participants. Mrs. John Hines playing a few bars of each selection, the contestants guessing the title. Mrs. Henry B. Lippincott gave an interesting account of the recent tri-county grange picnic held at High Point Park, and spoke of the Burlington County Grange picnic at Rancocas Park tomorrow, (Thursday), August 11.

The Pomona Grange is to give the fifth degree to a group of candidates in the near future. The initiation will be held at the town having the largest number of candidates desirous of receiving the degree, and Marlton officers are working hard to secure that honor for the local group.

And now another mid-westerner, a "dom" Swede, has started the world.

Personally, I think it makes no difference what country a man comes from. A Japanese, a Mexican or a Nebraskan is quite as liable to horn in and monopolize the front page as a noble Roman or distinguished Britisher. Man is Thru and you can't tell what part of the human race is going to develop a remarkable shoot.

Mr. Babbitts country, with its chautauquas and rotarian clubs and prayer meetings is not such a bad place after all.

Huckster Commits Suicide at Parry

Herman Sanfield Shot Himself Through Heart Sunday Afternoon

Herman Sanfield, 54 years old, who lived near the Burlington Pike, Parry, committed suicide Sunday afternoon shortly after four o'clock when he shot himself through the heart with a 38-calibre revolver.

Sanfield had been suffering with stomach trouble for some time, being very irritable at times. He was well known in this vicinity as he formerly huckstered with a wagon and then with a truck.

Sanfield's first wife committed suicide five years ago as she played the well-known melody "Silver Threads Among the Gold," on the phonograph.

Sunday Sanfield asked his wife to hunt out the same record and she complied and as the victrola played the tune, Herman walked out into the yard and shot himself.

Mrs. Sanfield's first husband, Charles Fisher, was found frozen to death in March of 1917 on the Charles Schaffer farm by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, of Camden. Sanfield died almost instantaneously but a passing motorist had halted and he was taken to Cooper Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Chief Beck was called and found the pistol near the spot where the dead man shot himself. Sanfield was of German descent and was born at Willow Grove.

Maple Shade Boy Drowns in Creek

Pensauken Claims Another Victim at Fork Landing Bridge

Louis G. Caldwell, 19 years old, of Spruce avenue, Maple Shade, was drowned Sunday afternoon in the Pensauken creek, at the Fork Landing bridge, when he got into a hole 18 feet deep. Louis, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis L. Caldwell, was a member of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra and a musician of note.

Despite the desperate efforts of his brother Larwood, 18, also a good swimmer, the youth drowned while his parents were close by in a park. The two young men had gone to the creek early in the afternoon. When Louis shouted for help, Larwood went to his rescue but had to break a strangle hold in order to free himself and swim to shore.

Palmira police headquarters were called and Chief of Police Beck sent the grappling irons to the scene. After diving for the body for about twenty minutes, Rudolph Ridenbaker, a resident nearby, recovered the body with grappling irons. Mr. Charles B. Voshell and others attempted artificial respiration for three hours but could not restore life.

Coroner Benjamin F. Farmer, of Burlington, issued a certificate of death by accidental drowning superinduced by heart failure.

This is the third Maple Shade resident to drown during the past month. Two of the drownings occurred in the Pensauken creek and one at Westmont. Last week James Fontano, 21, of Maple Shade was drowned in the Rancocas creek, Cedar Lake, near Mount Holly. Several weeks before, Evelyn Pankas, 11 years old, also of Maple Shade, drowned in Crystal Lake, Westmont.

LENOLA DISAGREES ON FIRE APPARATUS

Citizens Oppose Additional Equipment; Means Increase in Taxes

Lenola residents are becoming embroiled in a controversy over the advisability of acquiring new fire apparatus. Arguments supporting the more and others just as strongly opposed to such action, can be heard in all parts of the town. It is conceded by opponents of the proposed purchase, that the present equipment of the company, which is one truck, that in order to provide adequate protection, more equipment should be had but it is cited that Lenola's fire tax this year, caused the town to be the highest taxed in the county. The new fire house if far from paid for, and with the added burden of new equipment, it is felt by many that the fire tax would mount still higher. Supporters of the move state that the cause for this year's high tax was caused by the fact that two years taxes were included in one and that purchase of new equipment would not raise them above this year's figure. Lenola boasts of one of the strongest fire companies in the state. Its active list is always filled and many names are on the waiting list for appointments. The fire house is on a par with any in this section, but the rapid growth of the community has made the one small truck inadequate.

Childhood Injury Fatal to Trooper

Physicians Attribute Convulsions to Skull Fracture Suffered as Boy

David Z. Ernst, New Jersey state trooper, Berlin headquarters, died in Cooper Hospital, Camden, last Thursday morning following an attack of convulsions, said by physicians to have been caused by a fractured skull he received when he was two years old.

The attack which caused the trooper's death was the third he experienced since September, 1924. Two weeks previous he had been stricken with an attack of dizziness while riding his motorcycle along White Horse pike at Ancora.

Ernst ran head-on into a sand pile when he fell unconscious. He was uninjured by his fall. He was taken to West Jersey Hospital, Camden, where Dr. H. W. Jack questioned him after he complained of severe pains of the head.

An X-ray examination disclosed that Ernst was suffering from a fractured skull which apparently caused his death. He was ordered to rest, doctors explaining that excitement would cause his death.

The trooper intended to have Dr. H. L. Northrup, Philadelphia surgeon, operate on the broken skull within a month. He was talking to Trooper Harry Cox, his partner in many thrilling chases and arrests, when he was stricken with the fatal attack.

Dr. Leslie B. Wing, of Berlin, was called and ordered Ernst taken to Cooper Hospital. He died ten minutes after being carried into the hospital from the Berlin community ambulance.

Ernst, well known for his bravery, figured in many important arrests. Sometimes he worked with Cox and at other times he investigated cases alone.

Among the prominent cases which he successfully cleared up were the $5000 robbery of the Blackwood Silk Mills and the arrest of two Trenton highwaymen after they shot an Indian Mills farmer.

Three months later Ernst and Cox after they found a barn near Clementon filled with household articles and loot from the silk mill. The bandits had robbed three homes during daylight and had shot a farmer near Indian Mills when he surprised them. Ernst trailed them and arrested them two miles from the farmer's home. They were sentenced to three to seven years on a number of charges and are now inmates of State Prison.

Captain Charles J. Carter, head of Troop "A," the South Jersey branch of the State Police, praised Ernst when he said the trooper had been one of the best officers he had ever known. "Ernst was absolutely fearless," Captain Carter said, "and whenever he was ordered to investigate a case he always returned to his headquarters with a minute report covering every detail of the infraction."

NO BANK FAILURES

In comparison with the banking institutions of other States, conditions in New Jersey merit much praise, according to Deputy Commissioner Joseph F. Hammond, of the State Department of Banking and Insurance on his return from the convention of the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks at Richmond, Va.

"Unlike most other States," Hammond said, "we have had no bank failure in New Jersey in over 14 years and with the continued support of our administrative and legislative bodies, we of the Banking Department look to the future without fear."

MAPLE SHADE GIRL WINS DIAMOND RING

Miss Kathryn Downs Leads 14 Contestants in Popularity Contest

Miss Kathryn Downs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Downs, of Brookdale Farm, Maple Shade, was chosen as the most popular girl in Maple Shade at the carnival of the Maple Shade A. A. last Saturday evening, and presented with a diamond ring as a token of her popularity.

The contest was a feature of the two weeks' carnival of the Athletic Association. Fourteen of Maple Shade's popular flappers were entered. Albert Brooks and Edward Grammons were the judges.

Miss Downs, as Miss Maple Shade, is the daughter of Special Officer Joseph Downs, and led her closest competitor by 4,000 votes.

Entrants and their total votes are as follows:

Kathryn Downs, 20,935 votes; Anna Kirby, 16,533; Marie Yovan-kin, 4,831; Ida Laurick, 2,508; Emma Yovan-kin, 2,250; Emma Sel-ka, 2,058; Myrtle Essner, 1,703; Milly Otto, 1,550; Grace Dowling, 1,325; Vera Yovan-kin, 667; Kitty Jackson, 600; Elizabeth Moxasin, 515; Vera Burke, 215; Lillian Frit-chie, 200.

Flagman Needed at Dangerous Crossing

Coroner Farner Urges Protection at New Lisbon Where Seven Lost Lives

Prompt action in placing a flagman at the railroad crossing at New Lisbon, to prevent more accidents is urged by Coroner Benjamin F. Farner, in a letter to the Public Utility Commission. He calls attention to the killing of four persons there about three years ago. In addition to the three fatalities on Friday, and tells of other reported narrow escapes. Grand Jury investigation is also requested by the Coroner, who has sent a copy of his letter to Prosecutor Hillman.

The letter is as follows:

"As a result of my investigations of the death of three people at New Lisbon, Burlington County, Friday, when their automobile was struck at an unguarded crossing by a Pennsylvania Railroad express, I wish to bring to your attention the conditions that exist at this crossing.

"This is the second fatal accident in less than three years, two families living in the neighborhood of New Lisbon having been wiped out in the previous tragedy.

"The approach to this grade crossing, I find, for the last two months or more, has been frequently obscured by lines of freight cars ranked on the siding on each side of the road. Many motorists mistake this siding for the main track, about thirty feet on, which they fail to see until they are on the rails. The railroad station also obscures the view to the south, where there is a curve in the tracks.

"This road, leading to 'Barne-gat and central Jersey seashore resorts, has become one of the primary routes to the shore. There is heavy traveling, especially at week-ends, and I think the highway census shows an average of 1,000 cars daily throughout the year. There is at present no protection whatever at the crossing, and the existing conditions make it a veritable death trap.

"I am bringing this matter also to the attention of the prosecutor of Burlington county, asking him to lay it before the grand jury. In the meantime, it seems to me that your body should take immediate action in compelling the railroad to place a crossing watchman on duty at this point. Safety of the traveling public necessitates some prompt remedy, and your commission is the only authority that can effect it without delay."

New York girl pawns her papa's pants to buy drinks for her boy friend—which means, we suppose, that there's nothing left for father to do but to try out for the track team.

BANKER DIES

J. H. Longstreet, Bordentown, Succumbs After Long Illness

J. Holmes Longstreet, president of the Bordentown Banking Company, died early last Thursday evening at his home, 217 Prince street, Bordentown. The deceased, who had long been ill, was in the seventy-first year of his age. Mr. Longstreet was the son of the late Dr. Henry Longstreet and had been affiliated with the banking company for a number of years.

During his residence in Bordentown, Mr. Longstreet was connected with various business enterprises, among them being a foundry. His survivors include two nephews.

BURLINGTON MAY HAVE INCINERATOR

Garbage Disposal Has Become A Problem and Cost Is Increasing

Because of the increasing worry over the garbage question and the fear that Burlington may be left without a garbage collector at some future time, an incinerator may be built in that city. Steps to that end were taken in Common Council last night.

The cost of collecting garbage last year was $2,340, a jump from $1,456, the cost of the year previous. What the cost may be next year is not known.

And then, again, Burlington Township may take a stand at any time against having garbage carried into their territory, and Burlington would be in a sad predicament.

City Engineer Benjamin F. Sleeper said that some time ago a representative of an incinerator company came to him with a proposition to build a plant that looked good. The plant could be built in West Burlington and the burning garbage would generate fifty pounds of steam which was more than enough to operate the sewer plant.

The incinerator would practically operate itself. The only cost would be garbage collection. This, it was said, could be done by attaching a special wagon to the city trucks.

The cost of building the incinerator would be about ten or twelve thousand dollars. Many think that it is a work that Burlington eventually must do, and that it will be an economical move.

MANY SUDDEN DEATHS IN BURLINGTON COUNTY

Coroner B. F. Farner has made a record since the first of the year, having investigated no less than 79 sudden deaths, which is unprecedented in this county.

The county has two other coroners, Belton, of Moorestown, and Earnest, of Riverside. They have been called in a number of sudden deaths, but Coroner Farner, centrally located at Burlington, has had most of the cases.

Judge Slaughter Goes on Vacation

County Court Adjourns Until August 31; Entire Calendar Completed

When county court at Mount Holly adjourned just before noon last Thursday, Judge Slaughter announced that a recess would be taken until August 31, when the grand and petit jurors for the new September term would be drawn by Sheriff A. Engle Haines and Jury Commissioner Charles B. Ballinger.

It had been expected that the troubles of William Tribolet and his wife, of near Mount Holly, would be aired on Thursday, although a reconciliation has been effected since Tribolet was arrested for abusing his family, consisting of wife and five small children, but the offense being of such an aggravated nature the prosecutor prefers to have the grand jury take the matter up, consequently nothing will be done in the case until the body meets in September.

Lawson Moore, colored, of Florence, came in on a waiver which charged him with stealing a bicycle from a friend of his, but Moore did not think he stole it, saying he hired it, so the grand jury will have to wrestle with this case also the Court accepting a plea of not guilty.

Walter Cooper, now living at Riverton, was before the Court on a waiver, he being charged with breaking and entering the residence of William Doran, at Vincentown.

Chief George Hahner, of the Delaware police, gave Moore a good recommendation, and he was placed on probation for one year and will have the costs, amounting to $15, to pay within six months.

The case of Eva Kavanagh, a fifteen-year-old girl from Lenola, who has been giving the officials some food for thought since she ran away from her parents' home, will be brought up at the call of the prosecutor, but in the meantime an effort will be made to have the girl placed in a Catholic protector, she being of that religious faith.

DILL IN FIELD

Commissioner Seeks Democratic Nomination for Governor

William L. Dill, of Paterson, state motor vehicle commissioner, is in the political field for the Democratic nomination for governor. He is said to have the support of Boss Frank Hague, of Hudson County.

The admission that he aspires to gubernatorial honors was first made at the Jersey City railroad station last Friday morning when he was waiting to board a special train for Sea Girl where the annual Governor's Day outing of the Hudson County Democrats was being held. Official announcement of Dill's candidacy was made at Sea Girl.

He said that he will spend all of his available time campaigning with Senator Edward I. Edwards and does not intend resigning as motor vehicle inspector. "There is not sufficient precedent to demand such action," he said.

Dill went from Paterson to Jersey City by automobile and went to the office of Senator Edwards, where he met a number of party leaders, who accompanied him to the railroad terminal.

The Governor's Day outing established new records for attendance. The Dill announcement, coming as it did, seemed to give stimulus to the annual Sea Girl excursion. It was estimated by Malone, chairman of the committee of arrangements, that the attendance totaled 25,000, exceeding by 7,000 that of last year. It was the largest crowd that has ever left Jersey City on the annual Sea Girl pilgrimage.

CASUALTY LIST

A question oft-repeated nearly every Monday morning by inquirers at our office, during the summer, is, "How many motor accidents are there in the county over the week-end?" The answer is usually appalling. Fatalities and shocking disasters seem to follow in the wake of every week-end motor scramble on the public highways. No longer does sane and careful driving ensure the prudent motorist's safety on the main arteries of travel over the week-end. The other fellow—the road hog, the incompetent and the drunken driver make it more a matter of good fortune when a careful driver enters the funnel of traffic congestion.

TOO MANY LIGHTS

The Collingswood Chamber of Commerce is seeking a more simplified traffic control system in the borough and business men announce that steps will be taken to obtain a conference with borough officials at the next meeting with a view to a change.

Traffic on Haddon avenue, the borough's main business street, is now regulated by a series of lights from Harvard avenue to Fern avenue. The change advocated is the elimination of the series and substitution of synchronized lights at Collings avenue crossing only.

Lights at Browning road and Crescent Boulevard crossings are approved by the Chamber.

Multiplicity of lights on the busy thoroughfare tends to congest traffic, business men point out, and use of the lights on small streets in the business district are suggested to be confined only to rush hours for convenience of pedestrians.

A man who cannot change his mind is living among the mistakes of bygone days. While the flames of rebellion were already beginning to flick the torches of the Royalists, George Washington stated that if he joined the cause of the colonists against the Crown, his pastor had the right to believe every wicked thing about him. Then Washington proved his greatness by changing his mind and leading the ragged Continentals to victory.

THE PRESIDENT'S ANNOUNCEMENT

The heavy thinkers of the metropolitan press are now engaged in an attempt to interpret the statement of President Coolidge: "I do not choose to be a candidate for President in 1928." It does not require much "interpretation." The President considers the presidential nomination. As between being and not being a candidate he makes a choice. That choice is against being a candidate.

With the nomination in his grasp, it is not probable that President Coolidge, were he insincere in his determination as has been intimated, would have opened the Pandora's box of numerous rival candidacies. It is possible, of course, that as the result of many such candidacies, the next Republican national convention may fall into such a deadlock that the call of duty may be sounded to President Coolidge—but that contingency seems so remote that it is very doubtful if it entered into the President's calculations.

The announcement of the President at least ensures a lively political season as soon as the dog-days are over. More than twenty men have been mentioned for the Democratic presidential nomination. As many will be mentioned for the Republican nomination. Probably a dozen will start. It will be a lively contest.

TURNING DOWN THE REDS

The great majority of Americans who put patriotism and interest of country above more material considerations have read with pleasure the reply of the United States Chamber of Commerce to the suggestion of Bolshevik sympathizers that it establish in Moscow a bureau to develop trade with the United States. The reply of the chamber of commerce was to the effect that in its opinion the principal result of such an action would be the production of nothing but propaganda harmful to the best interests of the United States.

Replying to a letter from an American publicist suggesting the establishment of such a bureau, the chamber of commerce declared that such action would be tantamount to asking American business in effect to repudiate the position taken by the United States government with reference to Soviet Russia, a position which the chamber of commerce heartily endorses.

The letter from the chamber further expresses resentment of what is regarded as an implication that for commercial gain American business would recognize a regime of "continuous tyranny, bad faith, confiscation of property rights and denial of individual rights."

It was further added that American business had already shown sympathy with the Russian people by contributing liberally to funds for the relief of suffering Russians and the letter declared in conclusion that the chamber of commerce could not forget "the recent unfortunate experiences of other countries in dealing with the soviet, whose every effort, short of open war, was to overthrow the governments of those countries."

Here is good American doctrine straight from the shoulder. It shows that American business is too soundly American to be led astray by false propaganda and too shrewd to be tempted by glittering promises which would turn out to be promises and nothing more.

NEW COURSES

With work on the new high school building progressing steadily, plans for its use have been completed by the Merchantville Board of Education and the faculty. The usual delay in the completion of the new building is expected. The delay, should it occur, will not interfere with making the coming term the beginning of a full high school course. What the new school will offer is told in the following information issued by the board:

The school day consists of eight periods, each forty-five minutes in length. Six of these are used for academic activities, one is used for clubs and assembly, and one is given over to lunch.

One of the major functions of the high school is educational, vocational, and personal guidance. The chief aim of such guidance is to enable the pupil to discover for himself an interest, or several interests, which will tend to enrich the whole of his after-school life.

The extra-curricula activities, consisting of the Art and Literary Clubs, the Musical Organizations, Athletic Teams, and the Student Council, are intended to aid in cultivating such general ideals and social values as are useful and desirable for finer personal participation in the work of the world. The number and character of the Clubs will increase and vary as the school grows.

The College Preparatory Curriculum is intended to meet the requirements for admission to any college or technical school. Pupils completing the College Preparatory Curriculum with a standard of 85 per cent will be given a certificate which will admit the holder to many of the colleges without examination.

EDWARD C. FISHER

Edward C. Fisher died in Stuart, Ida, on Saturday, August 6, 1927. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the parlors of E. J. Belton, Moorestown, and at the Moravian Church, Five Points.

Mr. Fisher was a former resident of Riverton, and will be remembered as a brother of Mrs. Holt, who kept a restaurant on Main street several years ago.

BUILD AND LET BUILD

As far back as history begins, there have been persons who have stood in the way of progress, some for reasons mercenary, others because of a real lack of vision or natural narrow tendencies.

It is a matter of record that the builders of the ancient cities and public monuments, some of which still exist were met by hundreds of obstacles placed in their way by visionless men who did not have the future interests of their communities and the world at heart.

This same condition may be applied to our own community today. We see opposition to things which would expedite business or cause an economic improvement or would in humanity's sake afford protection against sickness or the killing of hundreds of motorists or pedestrians. Here there should be no room for the obstructionist. Our town is building pages of history and there should be nothing at this time to hamper its progress.

The truly great men of all time is the builder, the one who produces or helps to produce. The parasite, who does nothing for himself or fellow man is a cheat and the one who interferes with progress is little better. "Build and let build" should be our motto and the future will comfortably forgive itself. There are many things to be considered in the building up of a community. Ten men can do more than one and when these 10 have arranged in team formation, their work can not only count much more than 10 times but, in fact, 20 times as much.

SELF SERVICE

Many good folk are lamenting the passing of the era when men and women consecrated their lives to unselfish service and prepared themselves to become ministers, missionaries, teachers or country doctors that they might minister to the spiritual, mental and physical needs of humanity without thought of large worldly gain. They are not in error when they charge that modern men and women are choosing vocations in which they can do the greatest service to themselves.

People today are coming to the belief that the best way they can help others is to produce much that their profit shall be large and that they shall never become dependent upon society. The old idea of service was direct. The new service is indirect. Twenty years ago it was still thought that only ministers, doctors and teachers ministered to humanity. Today every workman who carries his whole day's wage home is known to have earned that wage in service to society.

Elbert Hubbard's version of the Golden Rule was, "Do unto others as though you were the other." But an even more up-to-date version is "Do yourself much good and no bad to others." Getting something is reprehensible only when it is gotten at the expense of another.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

Uniform traffic laws for pedestrian and driver should be adopted throughout the United States.

In one state where records show that for every thousand automobiles in the state one person is killed each year and seven are injured, there is a loss of more than $100,000,000 a year traceable to street and highway accidents.

As long as one city has one set of traffic laws while the next city has different regulations, there will be a heavy traffic toll. With the great amount of tourist traffic uniform laws should not be confined to the cities of a single state, but should be adopted by all states. In no field is there such conspicuous waste of both time and life as that caused by accidents on our streets and highways.

Enactment of uniform traffic regulations throughout the country and their enforcement, would probably do more than anything else to curb automobile accidents.

AMERICAN OPPORTUNITY

A Georgia negro, who had been a slave in his youth died at Atlanta recently leaving an estate of a million dollars, and what is still better, the esteem of all who had known him regardless of race.

He started as a barber in his early twenties and his industry and courteous manners won him the respect of his white customers who steadily grew in number. When he died he had many outside interests but retained his original shop which had grown from a one-man affair to one requiring the services of forty-two men. And this colored capitalist had more than seven hundred negroes working for him in one capacity or another at the time of his death.

There ought to be a lesson for all of us in this man's career. He did not have the priceless heritage of American liberty at the time of his birth. But by using industry and sound judgment coupled with courtesy and attendance to business he was able to make a success of his life under what to most of us would appear to be insurmountable difficulties.

Life of this negro is only an-

Palmyra Loses to Riverside, 6 to 1

Rapp's Nine Outfits Opponents in Opening of Championship Series

Palmyra dropped a 6 to 1 decision to Riverside at the Riverside Drill Park Sunday, the first of a three-game series for the independent championship of Burlington County.

Palmyra outfit the winners, nine to seven, but failed to come through with men on the bases. Wenger pitched good enough ball to win any ordinary game but was given rather loose support by some of his backers.

He turned back half-a-dozen Riverside hitters via the strike-out route whereas Young, of Riverside, had but three Palmyrians to his credit. Young was tighter than Wenger in the pinches. Riverside bunched its hits in the second and third rounds.

Frank King was the individual star for Palmyra with three hits to his credit in the first three trips to the plate. King also played a good game at short stop. Harder was the only other Palmyra player to get more than one hit.

Palmyra downed the strong Penn Mutual nine by a 7 to 6 count last Wednesday night on the Palmyra Field Club grounds.

Tonight (Thursday) Palmyra will travel to Ocean City to battle the heavy-hitting shore nine.

OUTLINES HIS WOES IN STYLE OF DAVID

English Clergyman Tells of Tribulations.

To write a modern parody of the Psalms of David has been often tried, but seldom with much success beyond achieving an occasional smart phrase without real application or point. Undeterred by the previous failures of others, however, a much perturbed London clergyman has sought this vehicle for the easing of the woes that beset his soul, and by the judicious use of solemn language diluted with a liberal allowance of up-to-the-minute slang, he has accomplished something that may, perhaps, be regarded as worth while. Thus, complaining of those who resent his air of solemnity, he writes as follows:

"He he grave or serious in his demeanor; seeking to uphold the dignity of his cloth.

"He is said to be standoffish, 'pl' and upbush; yea, the ugody call him 'Holy Joe'.

Similarly, he finds that, if he tries to be gay, greeting all and sundry with a merry jest, there are many whom he displeases, so that, in respect of his demeanor, he is very like the old man in the fable of 'The Old Man and His Ass,' who, trying to please everybody, ended up by pleasing nobody and lost his ass into the bargain. This good clergyman has his problems also with young men and maidens, for if he holds aloof from them they mistake him much:

"So that when to him they should turn as to a friend in need, with them he cutteth no ice."

It is, however, when he seeks to interfere with the widespread habit of tipping that he gets into really hot water:

"Again, if beholding overmuch intemperance in his flock: he exhorteth all men to abstain from strong drink. 'He is said to be a killjoy and inhuman; a very Stiggins whose mind is straitened.

"But if he entereth a tavern and putteth his foot upon the rail of brass: there be those who say, 'Behold a wine-bibber.'"

"So when he bloweth froth, he committeth iniquity: and when he bloweth it not, he is like a slinger."

The conclusion to which the parson comes, surrounded by perplexities so dire, is doubtless the best thing in his Twentieth-century psalm:

"Let the servant therefore walk in the steps of his Master; and care naught for the opinion of men."

It is an undoubtedly wise decision and has the added merit of possessing a far-reaching application.

"Hand Shague" Common

"Hand shague," which caused President Coolidge to carry his hand in a bandage as a result of too much handshaking, is a very troublesome complaint, according to medical men. It belongs to the family of writers' cramp and tennis knee and other complaints that can be traced to a definite pursuit. Many persons in public life have suffered from it. Only the other day Mrs. Stanley Baldwin, wife of the British premier, suffered an attack of it after shaking hands with 600 women at a political meeting. The prince of Wales suffered from it badly on each of his tours to distant parts of the empire. Lloyd George and the earl of Oxford and Asquith have both been laid up with it. And Bernard Shaw has been heard to declare that he will never risk it again.

The Unkindest Cut

After months of careful nurturing, the fledgling mustache was just beginning to be noticeable on the lip of its proud young possessor, who walked manfully into the barber shop and demanded a shave. The hot towels were soothing and he had enjoyed the conscientious barber's scraped off fuzz and father with practiced strokes. The process completed, the youth roused himself and glanced into the mirror at his clean-shaven lip. Consternation flashed beneath the tallow.

"Where is my mustache?" he exclaimed.

"I haven't seen it," replied the puzzled barber.

Odd Power of Light Rays

By the use of cleverly controlled rays of colored lights and a refraction screen, a Washington artist is able to make things invisible. Says Popular Mechanics Magazine, At a demonstration a person sitting in a chair was suddenly "dissolved from sight" while the chair remained. According to reports, the late Hindini was to have employed this system in causing an entire audience to disappear. The "magic" of the stunt is based on certain laws of light and vision and emphasized the fact that our eyes are dependent upon light rays for what they see.

Their Occupation

"What is going on here?" asked a visitor in Petunia. "I have noticed quite a number of young men sneaking around corners, peering into windows, hiding behind ash barrels, measuring places on the ground, remarking 'Hist' and the like."

"Them's graduates of a College of Detection, up to Kay See, and they are trying to detect crime," replied Constable Blackpatter, the well-known sleuth. "But as long as they don't do anything but try to detect, I can't very well arrest 'em."—Kansas City Star.

ROBBER-SWAIN

Nabbed in Pensauken; Was to Wed Philadelphia Hairdresser

An alleged robber in the afternoon and an ardent swain in the evening, Frank MacDonald, thirty-six, Broad street near Poplar, Philadelphia, was arrested in a Pensauken last Wednesday after entering a Merchantville home.

A marriage license, torn to bits, found in his pocket by police, disclosed his courtship of Elizabeth K. Gruber, a hairdresser, of 1414 W. Wyoming avenue, although he lives with his wife in an apartment at the Broad street address.

At her home Miss Gruber, who is employed in a Chestnut street beauty parlor, expressed amazement at his arrest, stating he had paid her marked attention every day for three weeks after being introduced to her as a physician in the employ of the Government.

MacDonald is believed by police to have committed numerous robberies in Pensauken township and Merchantville. He was arrested after a struggle in the home of Leon A. MacElhenry, 5134 Westfield avenue, and held without bail by Recorder George W. Diehl.

MacElhenry testified he heard a noise in the dining room, and, armed with a bread knife, surprised him and threw him to the floor.

CANNOT ESCAPE ON TECHNICALITIES

State Supreme Court Holds "Evidence Is Evidence," and Ignores Quibbles

All appeals from liquor convictions based on the lack of warrants or the fact that the warrants are faulty will be ignored by the Supreme Court. It was demonstrated at Trenton last week when appeals were denied two residents of Mount Holly.

The ruling of the court was to put it briefly, evidence is evidence and liquor seized in an illegal raid is just as much damaging as in a raid that has all its necessary red tape.

As a result of the ruling Edgar E. Gillette must pay a fine of $500 and Michael Britton a similar amount for illegal possession and sale of liquor at the Arcade restaurant, Main street, Mount Holly. The men claimed their place was raided without a warrant and their constitutional rights were thereby violated.

Evidence was offered to show that no warrant was produced by the raiders even though it was claimed one had been issued. The court ruled that the evidence had been accepted by the grand jury. The decision was the second in two weeks in which appeals on search warrant technicalities have been turned down.

BEST IN 27 STATES
J. L. Werts, a tourist from Powell, Wyoming, makes the statement that the Charles Coles farm, west of the Mount Holly road is the best farm he saw in a tour of 27 states he visited on his way from Wyoming to Springfield, Mass. The farm in question is located southwest of Lumberton, being leased by H. H. Ellis, well-known as one of Burlington county's best farmers.

An automobile which passed through Mount Holly on Saturday made the distance to Burlington in twelve minutes. That's going some. Huckleberries are selling for 10 cents per quart. The crop is not as large as usual.

Large circular silos are being constructed on the farms of R. Shannon Haines, on the Jacksonville road, and Newton Lippincott, near Lumberton.

Captain Nelson Burr Gaskill, of Mount Holly has been detailed as range officer during the rifle practice period at Sea Girt. An international contest is scheduled in addition to the regular program.

A basket of potatoes of the new Maine variety was left at the Mirror office on Saturday by Frank Selvey, who operates the E. O. Lippincott farm, near Smithville. The tubers are of unusual size, only 22 being required to fill the basket.

The extraordinary heavy storm on Tuesday night did considerable damage to the Moorestown and Mt. Laurel stone road, which, in many places was washed out. The principal damage was on the farm of Thomas Carey, in whose orchard the water was four feet deep.

Farmers' Telephone
Construction work on the lines of the Farmers' Telephone Company, in the eastern section of the county, is progressing rapidly. When completed the system will be connected with those of the Bell and Interstate companies.

As has previously been written, the Navy is the School of the Nation and in furthering its educational features makes full use of the moving pictures.

This educational feature is of two parts—one for the education of the public as to what the Navy is doing in time of peace and the other for the education of the officers and men of the Navy.

To do the first part, the Navy, through the Bureau of Navigation, gathers pictures from all parts of the world showing the Navy's activities and issues such pictures, in either one or two reel films, to all Main Recruiting Stations, of which there are 40 throughout the United States. These stations, through their substations, distribute films, free of charge, to the moving picture theatres where they are shown to hundreds of thousands of people nightly. Navy films are kept in constant circulation for every recruiting station in a miniature film exchange for all a moving picture house has to do is to apply for a film and its request will be granted as soon as a film becomes available.

For the education of the personnel of the Navy, films dealing with professional subjects are made and circulated throughout the service. Within the past month the Navy has commenced the distribution and circulation of ten films covering a variety of subjects, varying from the "Resuscitation of the apparently drowned" to "Electric transmission of speech."

The Navy does not restrict the showing of its films for educating the public to moving picture theatres, but willingly loans them to Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A.'s, American Legion, and all similar organizations.

For Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey, and Delaware, the Main Distributing Office is the Navy Recruiting Station, 5115 Arch St., Philadelphia, and this office has a branch office at the Post Office Bldg., Camden, N. J.

How Navy Uses Moving Pictures

Made Part of Recreation, Instruction and Target Practice; Films Up to Date

There are few people who appreciate the extent to which the U. S. Navy makes use of moving pictures, not only for recreation purposes but for educational and scientific purposes.

The average recruit little thinks that he is joining an organization, practically every unit of which has a moving picture show every night to which there is no admission charge. To do this every ship, which has electric necessities for operating a machine has from one to three or four machines with trained operators, for the Navy has a regular school for training operators so that the men in the fleet, at the Navy Yards and other shore stations may have pictures efficiently shown.

The Navy is not only well supplied with moving picture machines but is likewise supplied with films—and what is more, with the latest films, for the Bureau of Navigation of the Navy Department is one of the largest film distributors in the world. It did not become so all at once but its development has extended over many years and now it has commenced the distribution of the world where our naval forces see service. When the fleet sails a moving picture exchange sails with it and there are always sufficient films carried to enable every ship to show a new film each night.

The "movies" are also utilized for accurately determining the results of target practice for a large percentage of the target practice is fully filmed and then shown for the benefit of those engaged. This not only stimulates interest but prevents false impressions as to results.

As has previously been written, the Navy is the School of the Nation and in furthering its educational features makes full use of the moving pictures.

This educational feature is of two parts—one for the education of the public as to what the Navy is doing in time of peace and the other for the education of the

Inventor of Valet AutoStrop Razor In Happy Mood as He Plans Vacation

After thirty years of tireless effort and persistence in the development of mechanical and business machinery for the exploitation of the Valet AutoStrop Safety Razor, H. J. Galsman, well-known inventor, former President, and now Chairman of the Board of Directors of the AutoStrop Safety Razor Co., Inc., is starting on a brief vacation in deservedly happy frame of mind.

Prior to his departure for Europe he was asked to discuss the recent developments of the business which he founded many years ago. An announcement that AutoStrop Safety Razor Co. stock was to be issued to the public was a news item of interest. Representatives of the press and other business men were anxious to obtain a detailed story of Mr. Galsman's business career and additional information about the company which he founded.

Mr. Galsman recounted briefly the years of struggle and financial strain often encountered during the period spent in developing and exploiting his invention—the Valet AutoStrop Razor, the razor that sharpens its own blades. He also discussed the development of the company he founded and its progress from an insignificant work shop to one of the leading factors in the shaving world. Rather reticent about speaking of his own accomplishments, we gathered from his associates some very interesting facts.

Intelligence and Industry

Many interesting anecdotes could be written about the early struggle of this successful company. In the early days of the business it was often a serious problem to secure sufficient funds for world-wide advertising campaigns and other essential activities, but these apparent insuperable difficulties were overcome by intelligence and industry. Mr. H. J. Galsman, until now, owner of practically the entire stock of the AutoStrop Safety Razor Co., has released, through the firm of A. G. Becker & Co., a portion of the company's shares so that the public, distributors and employees, may all share in the company's success and profits.

A group of five men, who have stepped along with the company since its infancy, are to be rewarded for their contributions toward the success of the business by obtaining a generous portion of the stock and assuming the active directorship of the company. Mr. Galsman still controls the majority of the stock and will remain active as Chairman of the Board of Directors.

He is still a comparatively young man, vigorous, athletic and an enthusiastic worker. Born in Memphis, Tenn., he began work at the early age of 13. Even at this tender age he devoted spare hours, following his regular daily routine, in conceiving and developing inventions.

His first invention was a device for advertising in sheet cars, which at that time, has nothing comparable with the present method of card publicity. The business, after an investment of $7.25, eventually showed a profit of more than $100 per month. He had taken in with him a mature partner, 15 years of age, who was employed in the performance of miscellaneous tasks—running errands, etc. Mr. Galsman finally sold his interests to this boy. The boy never claimed his note. The AutoStrop Safety Razor Company was established in 1906. Business was started in very small space down in Centre Street, New York City. We might mention here that this location did not provide even the most elementary of conveniences for manufacturing efficiency, nor for personal comfort of those engaged there. There were no such luxuries as modern plumbing facilities for removal of sewage or general factory waste. No elevator; nothing in the way of innovations that accelerate and encourage enterprising manufacturers. Old packing cases were utilized for work tables; and the office furniture was exceedingly nondescript.

Realizes Success

Contrasting this inferior condition of affairs with the flourishing state of the business today compels one to keen admiration for the success achieved in marketing the Valet AutoStrop Razor and bringing comfortable shaves to millions. In addition to the invention and development of machinery for the manufacture of razors and blades, as well as processes for steel treating, Mr. Galsman has invented a great many devices, covered by hundreds of patents, in all countries of the world. Among his world-wide known inventions are the AutoStrop Safety Razor and the film and autographic system on Kodak Cameras.

Mr. Galsman's success is another veritable saga of the opportunities that await every boy in America possessed of ambition and initiative.

MAJOR CHAMBERLIN

Governor Moore Gives Transatlantic Flier National Guard Commission

The presentation by Governor A. Harry Moore of a commission as a major in the New Jersey National Guard to Clarence D. Chamberlin, transatlantic flier, aerial stunts by Alvin Starr and J. Dornbush, of the naval air station at Lakehurst, performing by bombing planes from Mitchell Field, and a parade which was reviewed by Governor Moore and staff officers of the 113th Infantry, were features, aside from political doling at the state camp at Sea Girt last Thursday in connection with "Governor's Day." Chamberlin with his wife, were the guests of Governor and Mrs. Moore.

Governor Moore said in his induction speech, that New Jersey "is greatly honored today with the presence of a man whose achievements have made us proud of the fact that he lives in our state. Because he comes from our state I, as Governor, am going to present him a commission in the New Jersey National Guard as major and I wish him prosperity, health and happiness."

MAN WITH PUNCTURED LUNG REPORTED TO BE RECOVERING

Reports from the Burlington County Hospital are that Frank Riley, age 54, admitted week before last with a punctured lung, probably will recover from that injury, which at first was supposed to be fatal. He was stabbed either with a pitchfork or a knife in the hands of Alexander Couture, aged 78, a fellow farmhand on the farm of John S. Pew, Woodlane road, Westampton township, following an altercation between the two men. Couture, who is in jail, awaiting the outcome of Riley's injury, claims he was acting in self-defense.

$2,000 for Pair of Silver Foxes

Brown's Mills Ranch Disposes of April Puppies at Fancy Price

Business is booming at the Brown's Mills Silver Fox Ranch, situated just off the road to Toms River and the shore, before Brown's Mills is reached.

A pair of young foxes, whelped in April, was recently sold for $2,000, it being a cash transaction. The purchaser was a Pennsylvanian who took up the company's offer to "ranch" or board the young foxes for a year for $250. Included in this proposition is an iron-clad guarantee of 100 per cent. increase within the period of one year. Silver foxes usually have from two to four or five puppies, three or four being the size of the average family.

The company in its guarantee specifies that if the pair of foxes purchased, have two or no puppies, the owner shall have a pair of puppies by the end of the year, in fulfillment of the guarantee. If there are three young foxes in the litter, then the third becomes the property of the fox company. If there are four in the litter, the owner gets three and the company one. The fox company guarantees a mating. That is, if the pair of young foxes does not take a fancy to each other and decide to set up housekeeping, then the combination will be changed by introducing another fox of the same sex as the one removed in the interest of domestic harmony.

Silver foxes are about the most temperamental animals in captivity and if unduly disturbed they quickly make known their displeasure. While not difficult to raise, it is said, if the directions of the experienced breeder, in charge of the ranch at Brown's Mills are followed, any attempt to raise silver foxes after the private ideas of the uninformed novice in the game is apt to result disastrously.

Last spring a grass fire, started not far from the fox runs, on another tract, greatly alarmed the timid animals. It was just at the breeding season and the panic resulted in losing several litters of young foxes. The parents of the future $1,000 neck-pieces for mid-lady, are very particular about the care of their youngsters and when disturbed in the vicinity of the subterranean nurseries in which the puppies are born and raised until several weeks old, the likelihood is that the animals will abandon their puppies or make away with them. These tendencies on the part of the breeding foxes, however, are successfully met by the fox-raisers who adhere to the rules laid down, one of which is never to disturb the young foxes in their nests or even to go near Reynard's hearthstone until the youngsters are well advanced and able to come out in the open.

This year the Brown's Mills ranch raised twenty-five young foxes, which if all are sold at the standard price, $2,000 per pair, means receipts of $20,000 for the first year's crop of silver foxes. It is probable however, that the company will increase its breeding stock by raising a portion of the 1927 youngsters.

Negotiations are being carried on by a number of prospective purchasers and it is expected that there will be other sales within the next week or two.

As a side-line the company last year bought a number of Chinilla rabbits in the middle-west and started raising them, as well; but some of the officials of the concern express themselves as being in favor of abandoning this department and confining the attention of the ranch and its attaches strictly to fox-raising.

GROVE FIGHT STARTS

Citizens' Committee Starts Drive to Modernize Resort

Mrs. Martha F. Kunst, president of the Citizens of Ocean Grove, Inc., today made public letters sent to Edward Maxson State commissioner of banking and insurance and the New Jersey Real Estate Commission, asking that conferences be held with committee from her organization, which is engaged in a campaign to modernize the camp meeting city.

In her letter to the State banking commission, Mrs. Kunst calls attention to the ruling of the commissioner prohibiting building and loan associations from making loans on Ocean Grove property, which is leased for ninety-nine years by the Camp Meeting Association. The Real Estate Commission letter is addressed to John H. Harkins, chief investigator, and calls for an investigation of property conditions here. Mrs. Kunst points out that there are twenty-two licensed real estate brokers in the square mile area of the camp meeting resort. "These real estate brokers," wrote Mrs. Kunst, "are not governed by the 'code of ethics' as set forth by the National Association of Real Estate Boards, and do nothing in an organized way to protect the property interests of owner or renter in Ocean Grove."

FIVE FOR A QUARTER

That's All It Costs to Buy Good Cigars Today. Smokers Everywhere Enthusiastic

It smokes out of the question to some smokers—but the sober truth is that there is a good cigar now selling at 5c. It sold at more than a nickel for years. It became so popular that the makers put the price down to 5c. And improved the quality. Sales mounted. Men like it because it is mild, fragrant and satisfying as only ripe tobacco can be. Millions are sold. Yet some smokers hold back. They can't quite believe in any cigar selling at 5c, no matter how well it's established. If you're an unbeliever you're standing in your own light. Ask for "Havana Ribbon" and produce a nickel. Then, put on the work with that cigar. Smoke it fast or slowly. Notice its aroma, mildness, sweetness. Notice how it satisfies you without leaving you red up. You'll bank on Havana Ribbon from then on.

"Positive Agitation" the New Rug Cleaning Principle is obtainable only in HOOVER CLEANER

Light and the Home

A matter that vitally concerns everyone is the effect of artificial light upon vision. Bad lighting is injurious to eyesight. Light from sources within ordinary range of the eye must be softened and diffused, if vision is to be safeguarded.

Correct house lighting is so important that Public Service maintains a Lighting Bureau to serve its customers. Information and advice on lighting homes, factories, offices or stores will be gladly furnished you without charge.

The New Hoover Electric Cleaner Brings Out Beauty in Your Rugs

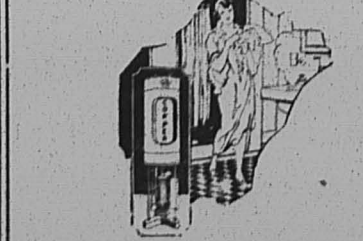

Through wide-open doors and windows flung high, the dust drifts into the house on summer breezes. A continual struggle must be waged to keep down the dirt, a struggle made doubly difficult because all outdoors is calling.

Then the housekeeper appreciates more than ever all that a Hoover can do. She appreciates the additional hours of recreation it gives her and the knowledge that her floor coverings are thoroughly clean.

Often the colors in rugs seem to be fading and the nap is crushed down by the tread of feet, but after "Positive Agitation" (the special cleaning feature of the New Hoover) has been applied, the colors assume their original hues and the nap springs upright.

$15 Reduction on Kompak Water Heaters

Temperatures are lost and many delays caused when only cold water will come out of the hot water faucet.

Few things are more annoying to the housekeeper than preparing for the week's washing and having the water supply dirty and rust stained.

The installation of a Kompak gas automatic storage water heater ends these inconveniences. It supplies ample quantities of hot water cheaply and because the boiler and other parts touched by water are made of copper, brass or bronze, water drawn from a Kompak is always clean.

Automatic devices light the gas and turn it off as the temperature of the water falls and rises. The Kompak uses gas only when necessary. If the pilot light goes out, a valve automatically shuts off the gas supply.

Easy payment terms are offered. $1 down and eighteen months to pay.

Reduction in Price of Tank Water Heaters

A tank water heater connected to the boiler in the kitchen is recommended for the small bungalow or apartment. It heats water quickly.

Public Service No. 26 U is reduced to $28 cash. On terms $30. Public Service No. 30 reduced to $25. On terms $26.50.

Connection from gas and water outlets in the kitchen included in the purchase price.

Every Home Needs An Electric Iron

Every woman appreciates a good iron. Seldom a week goes by that she does not press a frock or iron a set of collars and cuffs.

The "Steamhouse" Steamline iron is so well finished that it glides over damp materials with ease. Its pointed nose irons ruffles and tucks neatly. Its handle is big and comfortable to hold and because of its large ironing surface, pressing tasks are completed quickly.

During August this iron is priced at $4.98. No increase in price, if sold on terms. $1 down and $1 a month.

Foods Keep Best When Stored in Dry Cold

Money spent for apparatus that assists the housekeeper to work efficiently is spent wisely. Electric refrigeration has a prominent place among such apparatus.

Bacteria cannot develop in the dry cold atmosphere maintained in an electric refrigerator. Because foods keep fresh and retain their flavor, the housekeeper may economize by purchasing supplies in large quantities. She can prepare food for several meals and store it ready for use in the refrigerator.

The trays provide a supply of ice cubes of convenient size for table use.

Public Service stores offer an attractive Kelvinator (electric refrigeration) cabinet finished in gray enamel for $210. Any standard refrigerator can be equipped with the Kelvinator cooling unit. Cabinets or separate Kelvinator units can be purchased on the Public Service divided payment plan. A small sum for the first payment and seventeen months to pay the balance.

Use the Presto-Vac To Clean Clothes

The dust, that has settled into upholstered furniture and thick quilts, that clings to coats and heavy garments, can be removed with the Presto-Vac. It is a handy little vacuum cleaner, purposely designed to clean these things. Light in weight, it is easy to handle. Sells for $25 cash. On terms $26.75.

Gas Has the Highest Place Among Househeating Fuels

Gas heating keeps every room in the house at a uniform temperature. It reduces bills for painting, cleaning and refinishing, because it causes neither dirt nor dust.

It saves storage space and does away with the necessity for dirty coal bins. It is safe, odorless and noiseless.

The expense of heating with gas exceeds that involved in the use of other fuels, but greater returns in comfort and labor-saving convenience warrants the additional cost.

Consult Public Service about gas for househeating.

To Help Keep Up The Appearance

Public Service makes careful tests of every electric beauty aid it places on sale.

Electric curling irons—from $1.50.

Electric hair driers—from $12.50.

Lesson for August 14

DAVID BRINGS THE ARK TO JERUSALEM

LESSON TEXT—II Sam. 6:1-19; Ps. 24.
GOLDEN TEXT—We shall be satisfied with the goodness of thy house, even of thy holy temple.

PRIMARY TOPIC—David Worships God.

JUNIOR TOPIC—David Worships God.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How to Worship God.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Exalting God in Individual and National Life.

I. David Made King.

1. Over Judah (II Sam. 2:1-14).
Upon the death of Saul and Jonathan, David knew that the time had come for the fulfillment of God's purpose, but he carefully inquired of the Lord as to the proper movement to make. God directed him to Hebron, whereupon the children of Judah anointed him to be their king.

2. Over Israel (II Sam. 5:1-5).

After the death of Ishbosheth, the children of Israel came and formed a league with David, anointing him as their king. They assigned as their reasons:

- (1) He was their brother (v. 1).
- This is true of Jesus Christ, who has become our kinsman through the incarnation.
- (2) He was their leader in war, even in Saul's time (v. 2).
- (3) He was the Lord's choice (v. 2).

II. David's Unsuccessful Attempt to Bring Up the Ark (v. 1-5).

This is an example of a wrong way of doing a right thing. That the Ark of the Lord of Hosts, the symbol of God's presence, should be brought to the center of the nation's life was a decision worthy of all praise. David gathered together the representative men of the nation in order that the movement might be a national one. That David was sincere in this measure cannot be doubted, but he was hasty and inconsiderate, for the procedure was an express violation of God's statutes. The dictum that it matters little what you do, just so you are honest and sincere is one of the devil's blackest lies.

III. God Vindicates His Law and Holiness (v. 6-9).

The people were very joyful as they moved on toward Jerusalem with the ark, but suddenly there was a stop to the jubilant voices and music. At some rough place in the road the oxen stumbled and Uzzah, anxious for the precious freight on his cart, reached forth his hand to steady it. This resulted in his being stricken to death, as a man who touches a live electric wire is stricken from the death which is in the touch of the heavily charged electric wire; neither does it in the case of the violation of God's laws. Since the ark was God's dwelling place among men, they needed to know that He was holy.

IV. The Ark of God in the House of Obad-Edom (v. 10-12).

The homes where God is welcomed are always blessed. Obad-Edom was not better personally than Uzzah and David, but he openly received the Lord and properly related himself to Him. What had been death and dread to others was life and blessing to him. This was all because of his attitude toward it.

V. The Ark Brought to Jerusalem With Great Joy (v. 13-19).

1. Sacrifices were offered after going six paces (v. 13).

David made the start and when convinced of God's approval, he made offerings. These were both burnt and peace offerings, typifying the self-dedication of the offerers and their thanksgiving (I Chron. 16:1).

2. David's great joy (v. 14, 15).

The people joined him with great shouting and with the sound of the trumpet.

3. Michael's criticism (v. 16).

Even though David went to excess in his expression of joy, it was wrong in her to criticize, for God seems to have sanctioned David's rebuke of her (v. 23).

4. The grand celebration (v. 17-19).

As a token of his gratitude to God, David generously treated the people.

5. The King of Glory, the Lord Jesus Christ, coming (Ps. 24:7-10).

This was not the psalm composed by David for the occasion of bringing up the ark; that was Psalm 105. (See I Chron. 16). It is strange that such a suggestion should have been made. This 24th psalm pictures Christ as the coming and triumphant King. At that time the gates shall open to Him and the King of Glory shall come in.

WAYS TO BLOCK CROOKED PROMOTERS

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association
(This is one of a series of articles exposing the wiles of sharpers who are after your money.)

MANY reliable corporations, firms and individuals are engaged in developing mining properties, drilling for possible new oil wells and promoting new inventions and enterprises. On the other hand many unreliable persons are ostensibly engaged in the same pursuits, but in reality are only promoting frauds. Therefore, every investor should first divide the sheep from the goats before he hazards his savings. Because there are many dishonest manipulators using mining, oil, invention and promotion terms to deceive does not mean that all promoters in these fields are crooked. The truth is, there are many trustworthy men engaged in promoting enterprises that are honest investments. The problem is to know the difference between promoters of the reliable type and the high-pressure variety. The former are engaged in legitimate business. The other group is engaged in fleecing the public.

The number of those who deliberately scheme to defraud is large and they are shrewd and deceitful. For this reason those who cannot afford to lose their savings should not trust entirely to their own judgment in making investments. In order to divide the sheep from the goats—to distinguish between reliable and unreliable promoters, to tell the good investments from the worthless—the inexperienced investor should consult his banker or let the National Better Business Bureau, whose headquarters are in New York City, advise him. It costs nothing to get such advice from either source. It is safe to say that if those who have lost their savings through fraudulent schemes had followed this simple course they would still be in possession of their money.

Get the Facts
Invariably, get the facts and take no substitute. There is nothing better and nothing just as good as the facts when it comes to withdrawing your savings from the bank and investing them. The facts about an investment either strengthen its position or show it up to be risky—oftentimes too risky for the person who cannot afford to lose.

Others you know nothing about. Some time you may be approached to make a trade by a plausible person claiming to have better investments to offer than those you have. Recently a woman owning a block of gilt-edge public utility stock was approached by two smooth sharpers and urged to exchange it for stock in a fruit company which, she was told, was not only very valuable but would increase rapidly in value and soon make her independently wealthy. Fortunately she told her neighbor about her offer. It happened that the neighbor had recently been defrauded in a similar way. She advised the second woman to report her offer to the local better business bureau. Having handled many similar situations the bureau instructed the woman to make an appointment for the traders to meet her in her home.

Good Advice that Prevented Disaster

New schemes to defraud are being hatched daily. The unscrupulous promoter never sleeps but is continuously plotting new methods of attack on the savers' hard-won accumulations. The liberties he takes with the law and the schemes he devises for belittling the sound advice of responsible persons makes it even more essential for investors to get the facts.

Remember that anything that is worth investing in is worth knowing about as to its safety, its income, and its marketability. Any investment which is enshrouded by a screen of glowing promises or is so complicated that neither you nor your banker can fathom it and get the hard facts isn't an investment you can afford to put your money into.

Make it an unbreakable rule to get all the facts, whether the investment be large or small, and you will save yourself the heartaches and bitter disappointment of losing your savings. Millions of dollars which have unfortunately been lost through poor investment might have been saved if the investors had taken time to investigate before investing. There is always need for capital in safe, honest business and so great is the legitimate demand for investors' funds that not one cent need be wasted by them on fraudulent schemes.

Don't Trade Good for Bad
Don't exchange your investments for a future article will tell of more schemes by which people are defrauded of their savings.

HEARTLESS CHICKEN POX

"NOW look here," said Peter Gnome to a mean, ugly-looking creature that went by the name of Chicken Pox.

"Where," asked Chicken Pox, "in these some place where we could annoy where we haven't so far?"

"Dear me, I don't mean that," said Peter Gnome. "Have you no heart?"

"Of course not," said Chicken Pox. "What good would a heart do in our family? We wouldn't want one in place certainly and we wouldn't want one for the lot of us."

I'd Give You the Chicken Pox if I Could, Peter Gnome.

"Don't you ever feel sorry for anyone?" asked Peter Gnome. "Not even a little scarp sorry?"

"No," said Chicken Pox. "We don't. Sometimes you will hear of a mild case of chicken pox which some one has. Well, maybe you think that means we're feeling a little sorry for people, but it doesn't."

"No, no, if you think that, you're wrong."

"It means that we're taking a rest from all our fun. It doesn't mean that we're having sympathy or anything like that."

"Sometimes we get a little weary with all the fun and excitement we have."

"I wish you got weary oftener," said Peter Gnome.

"That's the splendidly mean part of us," said Chicken Pox, for we don't care what anyone wishes us to do. You may beg me to be good but I won't be, no, indeed.

"Of course we are sometimes driven away when people are in good health and good health is an enemy of ours, but we're never good because we're asked to be good."

"I'd give you the chicken pox if I could, Peter Gnome. But of course the fairies and the elves and the brownies and the gnomes and the others of your friends and relations can never have any of our sicknesses."

"And yet you are always wishing we'd leave people alone. Isn't it enough that we leave you alone?"

"You can't help doing that. It isn't as though you wanted to do so," said Peter Gnome.

"No, we'd be ashamed to do so out of kindness. It's only because we can't help ourselves."

"But here you are, trying to make us give kindness about when that is not what we do."

"You're different from some creatures, Peter Gnome. Some creatures who're rich or well are so satisfied with what they have themselves that they don't care about others."

"But you're always wishing to scatter good fortune and health about."

"We, of our family, can't understand it."

"You see, years ago we began our mean ways and they've grown on us and we're not in the least sorry, so there is no hope of changing us!"

"We love it when children rub us hard and scratch our mean selves, for then we can make them feel even worse."

"Oh, we like to be so mean and so horrid and so hateful. It's such fun to us."

"Dear me," said Peter Gnome. "It is sad to think that there must be such a thing in the world as you, Chicken Pox, but one thing more—"

"No," said Chicken Pox. "You've kept me talking enough. I must be off."

"Don't go, Chicken Pox. I have something else to ask you."

But Chicken Pox had gone. Peter Gnome, though, was glad that he had kept Chicken Pox this long, for he was kept away from doing his bad deeds in this way, and that was the best Peter Gnome could do with him—to delay him every time he got the chance so that Chicken Pox could do less than was planned.

As for changing Chicken Pox and the family ways! Alas, Chicken Pox and the family were without hearts, and what in the world can ever a dear little gnome do with a heartless family?

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

TWO MEALS A DAY

A fad of medium dimension, but nevertheless a fad. The human body, approximating a perfect organism, is a poor place for the faddist experimenter, as victims invariably find out in time.

Some people are so crazy in their desire to do things some other way; they want to be "new thinkers" whether or not. They like to attract attention by originality—by invention. The law of right living is as old as creation.

If you are wedded to the habit of going to bed at one A. M., and sleeping till nine or ten A. M., then two meals are about all you can get in with comfort, if you are doing anything to make this old world better. But you have no physical right to abuse midday's holy hour, and insult the morning sunrise in such a manner—this is something you know, without me telling you.

Breakfast—the most important meal of the day, so octogenarians tell me—is, at ten A. M., a clammy, belated, indifferent meal. You don't relish it, and only indulge it because you feel compelled to do so. Then you exercise for the day—till 5 P. M., and proceed to gorge your stomach; the only time at which you have a real appetite, you eat more than your sodden, weak stomach can reasonably take care of; and, you console yourself with the idea that two meals are enough for any human daily ration!

In time you are sure to grow irritable—you wonder if it isn't protracted! Perhaps it's auto-intoxication—O, dear! Such lassitude—such lack of "pop"! You must

Legion Elects New State Commander

Major Fleming is Chosen over Dr. Loveman in State Convention

Major George F. Fleming was elected New Jersey State Commander of the American Legion at the ninth annual convention of the Department of New Jersey held in Trenton last week. He was chosen over Dr. Samuel A. Loveman, of Toms River, by a vote of 280 to 128.

Fleming is the State France convention officer and has been connected with the quartermaster general's department of the New Jersey National Guard for several years.

Herbert H. Hilsard, commander of Troop 10, Camden, William H. McDowell, of Plainfield, and Richard Harshbarger, Newark, were elected vice-commanders.

Harry C. Bossert, commander of Post 35, Haddonfield, was selected as the official delegate of Camden county at the Paris convention. William H. Stannett, of the Audubon Post and a resident of Merchantville, was named as alternate.

Frank Mathews, alternate, Anthony DeLuca, of Bridgeton, was re-elected to the post of state historian. James Cottrell, of Haddonfield, was elected state quartermaster. Frederick E. Potts, of Arlington, was re-named state finance officer.

John Grimshaw, Jr., of Paterson, retiring state commander, was elected to the national executive committee. An alternate, Frank Mathews, Jr., of Palmyra, past state commander, was named. Rev. Will Wilson was re-elected state chaplain.

The delegates decided upon Bridgeton as the location for next year's convention. Bridgeton and Wildwood were the only two cities considered.

Mrs. Ralph S. Heaton, of Chester, was chosen as new president of the Women's Auxiliary of the State American Legion.

Three South Jersey women are among the new officers. They are Mrs. J. Fredrick Wyckoff, of Merchantville, third vice president; Mrs. J. A. Beck, of Gloucester, chaplain; and Mrs. J. Leroy Berglund, of Margate City, sergeant-at-arms. Other officers are:

Mrs. Lawrence C. Knapp, South Orange, first vice president; Mrs. William C. Aster, Weehawken, second vice president; Mrs. George W. Day, of Dunellen, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas J. Hutton, Pompton Lakes, historian.

The advisory council was elected as follows: Miss Gertrude Miller, of Trenton; Mrs. John W. Smith, Beverly; Mrs. W. W. Shampson, Little Silver; Mrs. J. K. Stille, South Amboy; Mrs. George R. Appelgate, Toms River; Mrs. Ethel Smiley, Gloucester; Mrs. Meyer Phillips, Englewood; Mrs. Charles Nelson, Morristown; and Mrs. Maude Briggs, North Plainfield.

Mrs. Heaton, the new president, was named as national committee woman, and Mrs. Knapp as her alternate.

The rehabilitation committee reported that the auxiliary during the past year raised and expended more than $75,000 in relief work of this sum, $36,000 was used in rehabilitation and welfare work among soldiers' families in New Jersey and for New Jersey service men in hospitals throughout the United States.

BOBBED HAIR NEEDS 10,000 MORE BARBERS IN ENGLAND

Shingling and bobbing have created jobs for 10,000 additional barbers in England in the last three or four years, according to statistics just compiled by the British Hairdressers' association.

There are now more than 42,000 barbers and hairdressers in England compared with 32,000 a few years ago.

In 1914 one out of every five barbers died of consumption. This death rate has been greatly decreased since the war, due to shorter hours that barbers are required to work, and to healthier conditions prevailing in the barber shops.

Roadbed to Latter Town, However to be Kept Up for Freight Trains

The Public Utility Commission last week rendered two decisions which affect Burlington county to a considerable degree, and the people of Vincentown and vicinity and Medford and Marlton in particular.

Some months back the Pennsylvania railroad, which operates the branch road between Ewanville and Vincentown, applied for permission to discontinue the road, on the grounds that the returns had been away below the expense of operation, for several years, and this contention was vigorously fought by the business men and others residing in and near Vincentown, but on Monday the Commission rendered its decision, which in effect permits the road to be discontinued on September 25.

In another decision the Commission granted permission to discontinue passenger service on the Medford branch of the West Jersey & Seashore railroad between Medford and Haddonfield, effective the same date.

In this case, too, the decrease in revenue prompted the application.

Methods of control and the spread of the beetle were discussed by Mr. Meckling, who claimed that four methods of prevention have been discovered to check the advance of the pest. The beetle spreads over an area that grows by approximately ten square miles each year. The chemical manufacturer declared. Although a large number of beetles are carried into other States by shipments of vegetables the beetle spreads mainly by its flight, according to Meckling.

A spray of arsenate of lead sprayed on trees has been found to be an active preventive for invasion of beetles. Of the past which eat foliage coated with this spray 70 per cent. of the beetles die from the effect of the poison, the speaker declared.

Mr. Meckling explained that the method of spraying trees in Moorestown, termed "community spraying," has prevented the complete destruction of the foliage. The approximate cost of this system is about 40 cents a tree. The huge spraying machine used is loaned by the United States Government Beetle Laboratory at Riverton.

Parry, Perry and Pine Figure in Accident

An accident which occurred opposite the Rich farm, on the Burlington Pike early Sunday evening, included three parties whose name being with the letter "P." A pair of mules owned by Morrell Parry, the founder of Parry who still owns a large farm there, was struck by a car driven by August C. Pine, of Gibbstown, injuring a colored man by the name of Perry who was driving the Parry mules.

Earlier in the evening Perry couldn't see the road ahead of him and drove a truck off the pike which became wedged between two pear trees. Perry was returning with the mules in order to pull the truck loose from the trees when he was struck by Pine.

Perry was taken to the Zehring Memorial Hospital, Riverside, where an X-ray was taken of his arm. He was not seriously injured and was released Monday afternoon.

Three Men Hurt When Autos Crash

Steering Gear Fails and Ford Truck Strikes Cashin's Sedan

Three men were injured about ten o'clock Monday morning when a Ford truck, belonging to the Bell Telephone Company, and a new Studebaker sedan owned and driven by Thomas Cashin, 218 Argus Road, Camden, crashed together in East Riverton.

Harry Conrad, 460 North 85th street, Camden, driver of the Bell truck, was not injured to any extent. He was scratched and bruised. George Haines, 1328 Argus Road, Camden, was quite badly cut on the left thigh and forehead.

The cash in Haines' leg necessitated the use of five clamps to close the wound and four were used in the forehead. Dr. Fitzmaurice, who is taking care of Dr. Rogers' practice this month, dressed Haines' injuries.

Mr. Cashin received a few slight cuts from flying glass but apparently was not very much hurt. He went on to his work at Tauloh's in Riverside where the mill doctor gave him attention for his cuts. Severe pains began in his back and abdomen and the doctor sent the injured man to the West Jersey Hospital in the Palmyra ambulance for X-ray. He spent an uncomfortable night.

The accident occurred in a peculiar manner. Conrad was driving the Bell truck east on Broad street and Cashin was coming west, when all of a sudden Conrad lost control of the truck which started to the left side of the road. Cashin, trying to avoid the truck, turned to his left to let the Ford pass him on his right. The truck driver pulled hard on the wheel and it swerved back to the right side of the road before Cashin could stop or get out of the way. The front left side of the truck and the right front side of the Studebaker came together, overturning the Ford. Neither driver was speeding.

Officer Carlson of Riverton was called to the scene to straighten out the "piled up" traffic, which he did very quickly and without confusion.

The front system on the truck was torn loose and broken on the left side; the radius rod was broken and the fender, radiator and engine hood were crumpled up. The lower section of the windshield was broken.

When J. B. Taylor and his garage crew arrived the truck was still on its top. The Fordium wrecking car from Palmyra towed the Ford into the Palmyra branch of Fortnum's garage.

Cashin's Studebaker was badly damaged about the front, the right fender, radiator, head lights and axle being twisted out of shape and battered. The top was torn where the ladders on the Ford struck the sedan. The right side was scratched almost its whole length and the rear fender crumpled. The right front window was broken.

PENSAUKEN PLANS SEWER EXTENSION

Mains Will Be Laid Preparatory To Paving of Several Streets

Bids received by the Pensauken township committee for a storm sewer on Lexington avenue and extensions of the sanitary sewer system to Forty-fifth, Forty-sixth and Forty-seventh streets, were turned over to the township engineer for tabulation.

The sanitary extensions are being made preparatory to the permanent paving of the streets, while the storm sewer will be constructed in answer to a popular demand from residents of the street.

Albert Ellis, of Moorestown, submitted the low bid on the Lexington avenue improvement while the New Jersey Construction Company was low bidder on the sanitary extension.

Petitions for the paving of several streets have also been received and approved by the committee, and will be included in the next paving program of the township. It was stated that in all probability no further pavements would be considered this year.

Warden Efficiency Cuts Losses by Fire

Colonel Coyle's Annual Report Shows Great Work in State Forests

Although the number of forest fires was practically the same, the New Jersey Forest Fire Service has cut down the average size of fires during the first six months of 1927 to, at least, one-half of what it was for the same period of the three preceding years and to more than two-thirds of what it was for the same period from 1914 to 1923, according to a report made public by Colonel Leonidas Coyle, state fire warden.

In his report Colonel Coyle states the first six months of 1927 have been average for forest fires. During this time 871 fires occurred in New Jersey and the average number of fires for the same period of 1924, 1925 and 1926 has been 873. The average size of a fire from January 1 to July 1 of this year has been 30.5 acres. Compared with the same three preceding years, in which the average size of a fire was 56.2 acres, this shows a saving of 45.7 acres, or at least one-half in the case of each fire.

Compared with the figures of 1914 to 1923, in which the average size of fires for the first six months of each year was 113.3 acres, the 1927 statistics show a not saving of 82.8 acres, or more than two-thirds.

Only Three Large Fires
Out of the 871 fires which occurred up until July 1 of this year only four burned an additional area the second day. Three large fires, Bass River, May's Landing and Bennett's Mills, which raged for over 48 hours, burned 69 per cent of the total area.

Despite the many wild rumors circulated, the report points out that casualties were few this year; three men being badly burned, but no loss of life. Out of the 871 fires, only one property damage was slight. Due to the efforts of the wardens, thousands of dollars worth of buildings and other property was saved.

Colonel Coyle states that 1927 shows the best record in the 20 years of the Forest Fire Service and gives great credit to the members of the organization for the bravery and loyalty they have shown in the discharge of their duty, and the effective way they have carried out their tasks. Due to effective organization the "golden rule," or from the time the fire starts until the wardens begin working on it, has been reduced from an average of three-quarters of an hour to 20 minutes.

Keep Close Contact
During the entire forest fire season the number, the location and the size of the fires have been reported into the fire towers and transmitted to the Trenton office daily, and during the bad season at two hour intervals, night and day.

Through the co-operation of the United States Naval Aerological Station, at Lakeshurst, and the United States Weather Bureau, investigations are carried on regarding the relations between the weather and the forest fire hazard. These investigations have proven invaluable to the work of the Fire Service.

This year, for the first time in the history of the Fire Service, the aeroplane and the radio have played an important part in the effort to protect New Jersey's 2,000,000 acres of woodland against forest fires. The plane has been effective and practical in controlling the situation in the case of large fires or where a number of fires are burning at the same time, and through the courtesy of Atlantic City's Municipal Radio Station WPG, and Station WOL, Hamberger's, Newark, fire warnings and messages have been broadcast.

Cooperation of Newspapers
Colonel Coyle expresses himself grateful for the way the newspapers have co-operated. The press, he states, has rendered great service in bringing the fire situation before the public and has been most effective in bringing about co-operation between the citizens and the wardens. Although carelessness on the part of the people has been just as great as ever, they have shown more interest in promptly reporting forest fires to the wardens.

Much credit is given to the State Police for their valuable assistance. Troopers have been of great help in reporting fires and keeping the roads clear of traffic when the wardens are working.

Although the results obtained during the first six months of this year are highly gratifying, the fall fire season is yet to be confronted. Colonel Coyle states that no effort will be spared in making the New Jersey Forest Fire Service produce even better results. But no matter how effective the Fire Service may become, it needs the support of the public. It is their duty to co-operate one hundred per cent by obeying warnings, exercising care and immediately reporting all forest fires, no matter how small, to the nearest warden.

ANOTHER BOOST FOR AMENDMENTS POLL

Adoption Will Loosen Hague's Stranglehold, Says Trenton Times

In the opinion of the Mount Holly Mirror, "If the proposed amendments are adopted on referendum by the voters of the State next September, at the special election to be held, Hague's stranglehold on the gubernatorial office is sure to be definitely broken." This is itself would be a good reason for adopting the amendments. But there are even better reasons.

For one thing, biennial sessions will result in the saving of nearly a million dollars in election expenses. For many years there has been a strong sentiment in favor of abandoning yearly sessions of the Legislature. A plan that prevails only in four or five of the States. Of course, there will be a saving in legislative costs and fewer laws will be passed.

There are thousands of Democrats who dislike the domination of their party by Mayor Hague. It is humiliating to them to have him pick out the candidates for Governor, as he does the Hudson county Assemblymen and Senators. It is too much power for any one man to possess, and many Democrats will vote for the amendments in order to throw off the Hague yoke. —Trenton Times.

DON'T TRY TO BEAT THE TRAFFIC LIGHT

Advice of Keystone Auto Club; Habit Turned New Motorist's Menace

"Don't try to beat the traffic light," is advice given to motorists by Captain Anthony Landers, of the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey's road patrol. Captain Landers, in a recent statement, said that a new highway menace has developed with the extension of the automatic traffic light system throughout the state.

"Drivers who ordinarily are cautious and considerate in operation of their cars seem to lose all sense of safety perspective when they approach traffic light showing a green signal," said Captain Landers. "To cross the intersection before the light changes seems to be an uncontrollable obsession with numerous drivers, and they dash across streets without regard to their own safety or the safety of others."

"Very few drivers ever pass the red signal. With the red against them they are content to stop and wait for the change, but the majority of instances observed by the road patrol, drivers seem unwilling to approach cautiously when the signal is green."

"The twin of the 'signal beater' is the driver who, stopped for red, dashes madly forward as soon as the signal changes. He seems to think he's in a race and the last faint trace of amber is the start of a run. Frequently the twin's come together, or if they don't they come in violent contact with pedestrians."

"The only answer is cautious to endanger it by reckless hurry at driving. Life is too short at best intersections."

Steals Drugs From Medford Physician

Mysterious Woman, Probable Addict, Makes Round of Doctors and Druggists

Another mystery woman has appeared in Medford.

This one doesn't parade in men's attire, nor has anyone yet reported the theft of jewelry or other valuables easily converted into money which is probably not the mysterious woman's fault. She tried hard enough but in all but one place her efforts were successfully blocked.

She did manage to get away with a hypodermic case and its contents from the office of Dr. Edgar J. Haines, which leads the authorities to believe her to be a drug addict, since her operations seem to have been confined to physicians and druggists. If she was after drug stimulants, her haul at the Haines office would satisfy her for some little time, as the case she obtained there was well-stocked with syringes, needles and several tubes of sedative drugs. After she left Dr. Haines' office she disappeared suddenly.

One afternoon last week, as Henry P. Thorne, the Rexall druggist, was alone in his store, the woman came in ostensibly suffering from indigestion. Mr. Thorne gave her a dose of rhubarb and soda. There was nothing about her actions to arouse suspicion at the time, but a few minutes later, Mr. Thorne, who was in the office at the rear of the store, thought it strange that the woman should walk into his prescription department. He followed her and found her at the door. Her actions then aroused suspicion. Mr. Thorne became convinced she was not suffering from indigestion, but was prowling about for other purposes. He gave her more medicine upon her request, but this time he remained near her, and she soon left the store. After she had gone, Mr. Thorne telephoned Dr. B. K. Brick, Marlton, who reported the woman had been at his office. Telephone inquiry of Dr. E. L. Small, Medford, and Dr. Haines brought out further information to substantiate Mr. Thorne's suspicion. The woman had been to Dr. Small's, but the doctor being out, Mrs. Small did not admit her. Dr. Haines reported her presence in his office and his subsequent discovery that his hypodermic case was missing.

Thorne then telephoned the county detectives' office, who advised the Mount Holly and Pemberton doctors of the woman's operations. Nothing has been heard from her since.

The same woman, the detective's office says, recently operated several druggists there, but no doctors, so far as it can be learned. Two of the druggists refused to treat her.

The woman is probably a drug addict. Mr. Thorne now recalls that she had some of the characteristics of an addict. She was about 40 years of age and unattractive, except for her attire, which was red. She wore a large red hat and dress and carried a large hand bag.

DROWNING YOUTH SAVED BY GIRL

Heroine Uses Blow to Jaw to Break Victim's Death-Like Grip

Her ability as an expert swimmer and her knowledge of handling emergencies in the water combined successfully to enable Miss Loretta Simar to save Louis Butts and herself from drowning in the Rancocas creek at Hack's wharf in Mount Holly one afternoon last week.

They were members of a party of young people from Philadelphia on a canoe ride and swim along the upper creek. Near the wharf from which they had embarked they decided to rinse off for a final cooling before preparing to return to their homes. Butts was unable to swim and he was quickly beyond his depth at the point where he jumped in. Miss Simar saw his trouble and got after him, and she tackled him when he was in wild desperation. He grabbed her about the neck and in the struggle that followed she was twice pulled under before she could successfully strike him on the jaw and disable him to the extent of breaking his hold. Then she held him up until given assistance to get him out of the water.

Miss Simar's home is at 173 West Queen Lane, Germantown, and Butts lives at Cardington. She is eighteen and he is twenty-one.

Novelist Says He Has Sinned

Howard Vincent O'Brien Pays Tribute to Great Ideals of Rotary

Howard Vincent O'Brien the novelist, has had a change of heart and admits he has been unfair in his estimate of the Rotary movement. Mr. O'Brien says, in the August issue of the Rotarian, that he had always been under the impression that one belonged to Rotary "in order to sell things to other Rotarians." As a serious movement it seemed to him somewhere between the Ku Klux Klan and a high school "frat." Its basic go-getting purpose covered with a pious camouflage of language.

When he went to Ostead to observe the International Convention of Rotary held there he consoled himself with the thought of the amusement he would have "watching 7,000 Rotarians rotate."

"As the days passed," Mr. O'Brien says in his estimate of the Convention, "I realized I was witnessing the most remarkable of phenomena, men thinking as men, not as Americans, nor Britons, nor Frenchmen. These Rotarians had gotten a perspective. They measured accurately the trivial differences which set apart the men of one nation from those of another. And without rhetoric or cant they were expressing the strange conviction that if 'Service Above Self' could be made a living conception for the individual, it could be made a living conception for groups of individuals—for nations."

"In this great Kuraal of Ostead, which eight years before had echoed with the clang of rifle butts and hobnail field boots, there was not merely an atmosphere of hope, there was a serene faith that 'understanding, good-will and international peace' were definitely possible. 'Nor was it a gathering of emotionalists and doctrinaires, making faces at the lightning.' It was a gathering of eminently practical men who had found a cure for some of the ills of community living, who had found something which had made their personal lives richer and happier, now serene and confident, turning their eyes to a wider horizon."

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE

Mr. Tex Rickard will some day write an enlightening book on prize fighting and prize fighters—after he gets through with both. Just now he feels that the radio takes part of his profits. At the last million-dollar fight there was one seat unsold, until quite late in the afternoon. Mr. Rickard suggests that listeners-in on the radio should pay twenty-five cents each for the pleasure of enjoying fight details. That would produce a five or ten million dollar fight, and enable Mr. Rickard to begin, sooner, writing his book,
"Gloves I Have Put on Others."

Some, unsympathetic, suggest that as the Government can control radio, it should forbid broadcasting brutal and bloody details of prize fighting in millions of homes. Government will not allow moving pictures of prize fights to be carried from one State to another. Why allow the story, by radio, to be carried into every State.

It is the broadcasting of prize fights that eventually will stop prize fighting. Clergymen, listening in, will combine to stop the brutality, and they will be able to do it.
The wonder is that they have not done so already. Prize fighting is a REAL moral issue, more important than Jonah and the whale, or Darwin and monkeys.

TRAVELING NOW AND THEN

This country, as everybody knows, has more miles of railroad track than any other country in the world.
Something that ought to make railroad managers and their stockholders think is the fact that "common carrier" motor omnibus lines have more miles of bus routes than railroads have of rail lines. Two hundred and seventy thousand miles for the buses, 267,000 miles for the railroads.

When airplanes begin competing with the railroads and buses the situation will be more complicated.
Children in the schools now will tell THEIR children: "I remember when my father used to travel long distances in the railroad train.
When he went to California he had to sleep four nights on the train."

NEEDED FOR SAFETY

To check the rapid growth of fires and industrial accidents, people must get the safety habit, or develop a "safety" consciousness.
Safety, like other things, is largely a matter of habit not only in industrial life but in all forms of activity.

The human element is the greatest single factor in fire and accident prevention. Safety engineering has gone far in recent years in the direction of mechanical safe-guarding but no matter how great the factor of safety may be, mechanically considered, it can be neutralized if the machine or property is not properly handled. No one can do this for the worker, and his own self-interest should prompt him to develop a safety consciousness.

YOUNG MEN WHO WANT GOLD

In a bank vault in Tokio lies $500,000 worth of solid gold, nobody knows who owns it, nobody claims it. Many a young man will say, "I would do anything to get that $500,000 gold, that nobody claims."

Young gentlemen should remember that in their own brains, in their resources of patience, common sense and energy, $500,000 in real money and more may be found if they want to work. They needn't do "ANYTHING" to get it, just work and be steady.

SPEEDING AUTOIST CRASHES INTO SAFETY DIRECTOR'S CAR

The wife of Director of Public Safety Williams was a victim, last Thursday night, of the very carelessness on the part of automobile drivers which her husband is trying so hard to break up, when her car was struck at Taylor's Lane by another, driven by John James, of Chambersburg, Pa. Mrs. Williams' car had the running board torn completely off and it was otherwise damaged. No one was injured. It is said that James was driving at an excessive rate of speed.

SEWER EXTENSIONS

Palmyra Council Passes Ordinance For Additions

Palmyra Borough Council held a short regular meeting Tuesday evening and passed on first and second reading an ordinance providing for sewer extensions on Fifth street and West Boulevard, on Lincoln avenue from Seventh street to the Borough line and on Memorial avenue from Cinnaminson avenue to Walnut street.

Building Inspector Powell reported permits for five new dwellings at an estimated cost of $24,000, one warehouse, $3,000; four repairs, $3,000, four roofs, $1,275, and six garages, $1,275, a total of $32,775.

John Renshaw, of the Palmyra Board of Health, reported there had been no contagious diseases of any kind in Palmyra during the last month.

Prohibition Chief Lowman says Uncle Sam has enough whiskey on hand to last several years for medicinal purposes, which is still news for the bootleggers.

Needed Practice

Lord Babbington was instructing the new colored servant in his duties, adding: "Now, Zeke, when I ring for you, you must answer me by saying, 'My lord, what will you have?'"

A few hours afterwards, having occasion to summon the servant, his lordship was astonished with the following:

"My Gawd, what does you want now?"

Then the Fun Began

She—"If you remember I wasn't so anxious to marry you. I refused you six times."

He—"Yes, and then my luck had to give out."

Kind of a Mamma

"I'd face hell itself to marry that girl, Archibald."

"You will, Nicodemus, wait till you meet her mother."

Well, He Asked for It

"Darling, you would be a marvelous dancer but for two things."

"What are they, sweetheart?"

"Your feet!"

Poor Kid

Auntie—"If Richard won't stop crying send him down and I'll sing to him."

Mother—"No, that won't work. I've threatened him with that already."

The diner had not enjoyed his meal at all. And in accordance with the instructions on the menu "kindly report any dissatisfaction to the management," he called the head waiter to his tables.

"I have a serious complaint," began the diner, but was interrupted.

"Then why don't you try a hospital, sir."

Look Natural, Please

Big Bloke—"Are you the great animal painter?"

Artist—"Yes, do you want to sit for a portrait?"

Any Way You Want It

"But dad, Billy has got character. You can read it in his eyes."

"Then, Muriel, I've just blackened his character."

Breaking the News

"Uncle, you promised me a speedster, if I didn't get married until I graduated."

"Yes, Gladys."

"Well, uncle, you've saved some money!"

GOOD HOBO CAN MAKE

$12 TO $15 PER DAY

Any good hobo with a hard-luck story can make from $12 to $15 a day, in the opinion of Prof. W. B. Bailey, formerly of Yale, who lived the life of a tramp three summers and then for ten years conducted a hobo's lodging house.

"Thanks to the American housewife, the easiest thing a tramp does is to eat," he said in telling his experiences at a Rotary Club dinner.

"The only objection he has to the American housewife is that she insists on feeding him cake and pie when what he wants is a slice of meat between two pieces of bread."

At the annual meeting of the National Association of Penmanship Supervisors held at Philadelphia recently, Mrs. Emma G. Myers, supervisor of penmanship in the public schools of Bridgeton, N. J., won penmanship contest No. 5, which was for members of the Association only.

Mrs. Myers received her penmanship training in the summer penmanship classes of the teacher-training course of Pierce School.

Bucknell Pitching Ace Too Good For Jim Rapp's Proteges

Graham Chesney, ex-Bucknell College pitcher, hurled the Ocean City Collegians into another winning streak last Thursday against Jim Rapp's Palmyra nine. The final count was 11 to 2.

Chesney was hammered for a total of ten hits but kept them well scattered. Ocean City took the lead in the early part of the game and scored rather freely, getting 18 bingles.

Townsend led the attack on the offense by making four hits and scoring three runs for the shore team.

Palmyra's shortstop did the most damage against the ex-Bucknell mound ace by smacking out four lousy wallopas. Bright, Delancey's peppy backstop in the Burlington County League, in his debut with Palmyra in right field made a good showing in getting one of the ten hits and handling his only chance in the outfield perfectly.

Lesson for August 21

GOD'S PROMISE TO DAVID

LESSON TEXT—1 Chron. chapter 17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Thy throne, O God, is forever and ever a scepter of righteousness as the scepter of thy kingdom.
PRIMARY TOPIC—God's Promise to David.
JUNIOR TOPIC—How God Rewarded David.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—How God Gives Us the Better Things.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—God's Great Promises.

I. David Desires to Build a House for God (vv. 1-3).

Having subdued all his enemies, David set down in his new and beautiful house to meditate. While thus musing, he is led to see the incongruity of dwelling in a house of cedar while the Lord's place was so common. A truly devout soul cannot be content to dwell in personal ease and luxury while the Lord's work is neglected. David's proposition met with Nathan's approval, but the next day he came with definite instructions from the Lord regarding it.

II. David's Desire Denied (vv. 3-8).

While fully appreciating David's motive, the Lord approved his plan. The rejection of his plan was not because of his nonappreciation of David, for he had taken him from the lowest walks of life and elevated him to the highest place among men. He assured him also that the cause would not suffer because of this change of plan. Two reasons may be assigned for God's prohibition of David's plan.

1. David was a man of war (1 Chron. 22:8; 28:3).

Since the kingdom of God is to be a peaceful kingdom, it was not fitting that a man of war should build the capital city. This was not a reproach of David for being a man of war. The enemies of the Lord must of necessity be put down. No peace or rest could be to God's people till the enemies were subdued. It showed, rather, that David had done his work and that the time had now come for another to take it up.

2. The time and circumstances were not fully ripe.

God's house should be a great house, therefore it would require a man's best energies to build it. The nation's treasury was no doubt much depleted by the wars. Since much money would be required, ample time was necessary to enable the people to accumulate funds.

III. The Lord Pledged Himself to Do More Than David Proposed (vv. 9-15).

1. David was to have a great name (v. 9).

David's name has gone down in his story as one of the great men of the earth. It was a long way from herding his father's sheep to the throne of this great nation.

2. Israel to be established in a central place (v. 10).

The nation was not again to be moved away, nor to be wasted by the children of wickedness.

3. He was to enjoy God's continued favor and help (v. 10).

All his enemies were to be subdued. 4. Perpetuation of the kingdom in David's line (v. 11-12).

(1) "Build thee a house." This means a granting unto him of a posterity, a family line. David proposed to build a temple as a place in which to worship God. God purposed to establish the kingdom in David's line. This was to be perpetuated in David's seed after him.

(2) "Establish his throne" (v. 12). This means the placing of him in a position of royal authority.

(3) The kingdom was to be perpetual (vv. 12, 14).

He was to be settled in his kingdom forever. Disobedience to God would be visited with chastisement (11 Sam. 7:15), but the covenants were not to be abrogated. Chastisement has followed, but David's seed is destined to occupy the throne (Luke 1:31-33; Acts 13:14-17).

IV. David's Worship (vv. 16-27). In his actual worship, note:

1. His humility (vv. 16-18). Those who really worship God approach Him with great humility.

2. His praise (vv. 19, 20). Out of a heart of gratitude he praised God for His faithfulness and grace.

3. His gratitude (vv. 21, 22). He had an appreciation of God's fidelity and expressed his gratitude to Him for it.

4. His petition (vv. 23-27). All praises and expressions of gratitude lead up to the offering of definite petitions to God.

Peace of the Heart

Thou art the true peace of the heart; Thou art its only rest; out of Thee all things are full of trouble and unrest. In this peace that is in Thee, the one chiefest eternal good, I will lay down and sleep.—Thomas a Kempis.

Unselfishness is a crown that wins ill-lustre glory long after the wearer has gone to his eternal reward.—Baptist Record.

County History of 50 Years Ago

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror, August 9, 1877

Madden Brothers, of Mount Holly, lost their mare last week. She died from colic, caused by eating green apples.

Reckless driving is causing accidents nowadays. Saturday a huckleberry wagon collided with Dobbin's bread wagon, in Mount Holly. Each driver blamed the other for the collision. In Camden last week a child was run over and killed by a truck wagon.

Samuel & Sons' new steam tug, built for navigating the Rancocas creek, arrived from Bordentown last week and is now making regular trips between Mount Holly and Philadelphia.

The New Jersey building at the Centennial Exposition, Philadelphia, has been removed to Haddonfield, where it will be formally opened as a public hall, August 29, the anniversary of the reception given by Governor Bedle, of this State, at the Centennial.

The daily pay of National Guardsmen while on duty is as follows: Privates, 40c; corporals, 50c; sergeants, 60c; second lieutenants, $3.88; first lieutenants, $4.37; captains, $5. The commissioned officers pay for their own meals.

Grand Old 'Clam Bake'.
Former Sheriff Leeds announces a grand old clam bake to be given at the Washington House, Bordentown, of which he now is the proprietor, on August 10th. Other things are served besides clams. Let's go.

John Wells, farmer on the Ash-hurst place, Mount Holly, handed us a few samples of his Early Rose potatoes, which he has harvested. Five of them weighed six pounds, two 2½ ounces. Placed in a row the six measured three feet one inch. Our family dispensed of one of them at dinner each day.

Tomatoes are a drug on the market, selling last week at 25 cents per basket. The quality is excellent. Potatoes seldom have been finer in quality or more abundant. They, too, are selling as low as 25 cents per basket. Some families are putting the early crop away for winter use, their experience being that if well ripened these tubers keep as well as the late crop.

Market quotations say that wheat is "quiet and steady." That's the kind they need in Burlington, our correspondent in that city says.

August 16, 1907.
Joseph W. Gardner boasts of a two-pound Early Rose potato. John P. Smith reports a crop of 108 bushels raised on a half acre of land.

Rev. A. G. Thomas, of Jacobstown, preached in the Mount Holly Baptist Church on Sunday.

There is a luxuriant field of tobacco growing on the Wells farm, near Smithville. The culture of this luxury is extending.

When fishing is reported to be good in Barnegat Bay, don't go. Chances the day before or the day after.

Company A, National Guard, of Burlington, had a flattering reception from their fellow citizens on their return home from service during the railroad riots at Philadelphia.

Charles Matterthwait, of Crosswicks, is credited with raising beets weighing 17½ pounds each and measuring 20 inches in length and 17½ inches in circumference.

The Mount Holly baseball club defeated the Beverly team on Saturday, 28 to 5.

45-Foot Willow.
Joseph Haines, Jr., of Masonville, in 1870 set out a willow slip one inch in diameter and five feet high. It took root and now is a fine tree 45 feet high, four feet diameter, and has a spread of 41 feet.

The Doylestown Intelligence puts up a howl because the price of soda water in that town still remains at ten cents per glass, which is civil war price. Move to Mount Holly and be happy. It's five cents per glass here.

James Lippincott, of Mount Holly, who went west to buy sheep for Burlington County Grangers, returned on the 6th inst., with a flock of nearly 1,000 head and delivered them to the committee near Crosswicks, from which point they were distributed to the brethren.

Kind of "Free Feeds".
Frederick Willis, of Willingboro, started a big row at the meeting of the Board of Freeholders on Wednesday when he introduced a preamble and resolution which set forth that "Whereas, some of our county newspapers have intimated that the first and most important subject considered by the board is where they can get the best dinner at the expense of the county, on meeting days, the cost of which is charged to the county, therefore, be it Resolved, That each member pay for his own dinner hereafter. Several members contended that it had been the custom to charge the county for the dinners. Willis was obstinate, however, and demanded a show down by a roll call. It was a sad roll call, as the members wanted to vote down the resolution, but feared the consequences, so it was carried 20 to 3. Then they adjourned and ate at Regan's Hotel and every freeholder paid for his dinner, reluctantly.

NEW COLLEGE WITH UNIVERSITY FACULTY

South Jersey Law School to Open
New Two-Year Course

The South Jersey Law School, Camden, will open a two-year college department in September. The college department will not only provide the two years of college training, but it will also provide a regular two-year college course for those who do not find it convenient to go away to some other school. The classes will be held in the evening, thus giving those students who are self-supporting an opportunity to secure at least two years of their college work right here at home.

The instructors, with but one exception, are regular members of the faculty of the University of Pennsylvania, which will assure the best type of instruction at about half the cost of the same high type of instruction at our larger universities. The tuition will be $200.

R. H. Allen, Professor of English, is instructor of English at the University of Pennsylvania; C. W. Channing, Professor of History, is instructor of History at the University of Pennsylvania; John Dolman, Jr., Professor of Public Speaking, is Professor of Public Speaking and Head of the Department of Social Studies at the Camden Senior High School; M. S. Viles, Professor of Psychology, is Assistant Professor at the University of Pennsylvania.

Public Utility Commission Says
There is a Difference Between Delinquent and Disputed Accounts

Although water companies have the right to shut off their supply to customers who are in default, they cannot use this right as a club to enforce payment of a disputed bill. The State Public Utility Commission made the ruling recently in a case involving the Middlesex Water Company.

Because of the nature of the case, the board advised that it be taken to a court of law, but that, in the meantime, service should be continued. If the concern cuts off the water supply, the board declared that it would order the company to resume its service.

The case arose when one G. Bellanca complained that a bill for water from November 10, 1926, to February 5, 1927, amounted to $174, or about $61.27 a month. His average for other months, it was said, was $2.83.

A test showed his meter to be registering correctly and the board declared it does not assume to infringe on the right of the company to enforce in any lawful manner its claim in any court. The board stated, however, that the company had no right arbitrarily to withhold the water service to secure payment of the disputed charge.

CAMP DIX AGAIN SCENE OF MILITARY ACTIVITIES

Camp Dix is again the scene of military activities. The troops of the 1st Infantry Brigade, 1st Division, have commenced to arrive for their annual field training and target practice. The organizations arriving are the 16th and 18th Infantry regiments, 1st Ordnance Company, 1st Tank Company, Headquarters and 1st Military Police Company, and other miscellaneous units.

Firing on the Camp Dix range will be continuous during the months of August, September and October for all classes of infantry weapons, including machine guns, rifles, automatic rifles and trench mortars. The public is warned that it is dangerous to be on the target range or on the military reservation, in the rear of or adjoining the target range.

Telephone Lines Will be Merged

State Utility Board Approves
Sale Which Provides for One Company

A sale of the property, franchises, privileges and rights of the New York Telephone Company in New Jersey to the Delaware and Atlantic Telephone and Telegraph Company was approved last week by the Public Utility Commission. The purchase price will be paid in common capital stock of the D. and A. Company, an issue of $7,416,000 par value, being sanctioned by the same decision.

The systems, subsidiaries of the Bell, operated by the two companies in New Jersey are not competitive, the New Jersey utility serving mainly the northern and easterly section of the State in what may be termed the metropolitan district and the D. and A. Company serving the southerly and westerly sections, Burlington county is a part of the latter system. It is proposed to change the name of the merged companies to the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

Since the level of rates between the two concerns was substantially unified by a decision of the board in December, 1924, the schedule of charges will not be affected to any material extent.

Application for approval of the sale was filed last March. To cover the cost of the added plant facilities, which might have been installed between the date of hearing and the actual purchase, permission was granted by the board for the company to submit figures for a further issue of stock.

You can never tell about advice; some of it is shopworn, but much of it has never been used.

Telephone Impasse

A telephone operator was at one end of the wire and a little girl, who had answered her ring, at the other. The operator, obeying one of the rules laid down by the company, was trying to get the child to call an older person. She began, according to the rule, by asking: "Is your mamma there?"

"No."

"Is your sister there?"

"No." There's no one here but grandma and me, and the cat. Grandma can't hear and the cat can't talk.

CROSSING THE OCEAN.
DEATH AND A TRIP TO EUROPE.
NEWS FROM BOTH SIDES.
PERHAPS WE COME BACK?

Written on the Aquitania on the way to Paris, by way of Cherbourg, leaving New York just after midnight yesterday morning.

No matter how often you cross on big ships like this, or little ones, you are reminded that the long voyage of time to send billions of imperfect creatures to work in another corner of the universe when the work here isn't finished.

You take your "last dinner" in New York, friends are more or less sorry to see you go. That's the death.

On board ship you sail through space for some thousands of miles, with only water all around you. That's the trip from here to the next world.

In due time you land in that next world, to find it different from this, and very interesting.

If you go to Paris—this writer is going there—you reach what many Americans consider a fairly good imitation of heaven.

The safety in crossing our little ocean, the certainty of landing on the other side, should make us worry less about the big crossing over the ocean of life.

Once we know as little about an Atlantic crossing as we know now about the "final trip" that each must take when his turn comes.

When Columbus started, they told him he would fall over the edge of the ocean.

When the Phoenicians, ancestors of many energetic Jewish citizens, first sailed from the Mediterranean, through the Straits of Gibraltar, past the gigantic rock and into the Atlantic Ocean, friends thought that was the end of them.

Now crossing the ocean is like going from New York to Chicago. You hear from your friends on both sides of the ocean. Business messages come from the United States side, other messages from the European side; when 1,000 miles from shore.

Science has conquered this little ocean. Intelligence has made it familiar, cleared out sea serpents, taught us we need not put wax in our ears to shut out the singing of sirens, convinced us, to our sorrow, that no mermaids are waiting to pick us up when we fall overboard.

All fear and superstition are gone from these floating cities. A preacher on board does not worry the sailors—there are no sailors.

Our oceans and our land have been cleared of all superstitions, unreal horrors, chimeras, hydras and gorgons.

It has taken men all of the million years they have lived on earth to change from cave men cannibals to modern exploiters of their fellow men and to get rid of earthly superstitions.

Many haven't even done that yet. Eventually we shall get rid of all the superstitions and look forward to death and the voyage that comes after it as calmly as we now prepare for a trip across the little Atlantic.

As people go to Paris and come back none the worse for the trip, and take up their activities again, many believe those that take the voyage of death come back from that trip to earth and take up their work about where they dropped it.

To them it seems reasonable to credit Eternal Justice with wise economy, and it would seem useless waste of time to send billions of imperfect creatures to work in another corner of the universe when the work here isn't finished.

We are only twelve thousand years from the late Stone Age, not two hundred years from the stage coach and railroad.

A simple idea like putting the eye of a needle in the point instead of the thick end made the sewing machine possible and freed millions of women from slavery.

We should believe that other ideas will free us from the slavery of superstition, which has driven us hard through the centuries and caused more brutality, fear, cruelty and murder than all other causes together.

Tennyson hoped there would be no moaning at the bar when he put out to sea, and wrote prettily about "typical mid-Victorian, that last trip worried him."

Barth's citizens of the year 10,000,000 may think as little about that "last journey, feel as sure about it as a modern thinker and feels about his trip to Paris now.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Quinn, M. D.

DIGESTIVES

There is an underlying principle in the prescribing or taking of so-called "digestives" that the patient should understand, along with the physician—and it is this: No stomach should be encouraged in laziness; in other words, don't do the work for the stomach, which it is capable of doing properly stimulus, to do for itself.

We know that the stomach is the one, highly-abused organ of the body; fortunately, it stands much abuse before it quits its job for good. Given an exhausted stomach, the first essential is rest, after which, it needs gentle coaxing back to activity, rather than the medicated bolus calculated to do its work for it; as the years go by, I find many prescribing fewer and fewer of the factory-made gastric juices.

I am speaking, of course, of the stomach that is tired out, and kicking up a fuss because of abuse—as it properly should. Organic diseases of the digestive tract are different. Even then, the digestive should be used only so far as to maintain bodily weight and strength.

Recently a man consulted me, remarking that he had taken "a barrel of pepsin" with no relief whatsoever. The longer he imbibed the digestive, the faster—more indifferently—the stomach remained. We stopped the medicine at once, much to his dismay; set him to eating orange peel, pop-corn, rough, coarse breads, buttermilk, cured meats once a day—with a minimum of food at evening meal; he did not use a dollar's worth of medicine, all told—and recovered. To keep one's self on full diet, and digest it artificially, is one of the surest ways I know of to remain a "stomach case." Remember: first rest for the stomach—rest till rested. Then, stimulating diet—diet that provokes gastric endeavor—and within the bounds of gastric decency.

Protection for Lisbon Crossing

Flashing Lights Recommended Through the Agency of Coroner Farner

Through action taken by Benjamin F. Farner, of Burlington, the railroad crossing at New Lisbon, where two fatal accidents have occurred within a short time, probably will have a protective device installed at an early date.

When Coroner Farner investigated the latest accident, which wiped out a family on Monday, July 29, he saw that the railroad was at fault in not having some kind of a signal at the crossings. He immediately wrote to the Public Utilities Commission, setting forth the facts as he found them and urged that a protective device be given to motorists. He also called the attention of the Burlington County grand jury to the crossing.

The matter was taken up by James Maybury, Jr., chief of the department of railroads of the Public Utilities Commission, who made an investigation. In his report he tells of the conditions of the New Lisbon crossing and recommends that a flashing signal light be installed at both the railroad approaches.

Mr. Maybury further recommended that a watchman be placed at the crossing until the flashing lights are installed, which further shows that he considers the matter of protection an imperative one.

A copy of the report of Mr. Maybury was sent to Coroner Farner and it was stated by the Public Utilities Commission that another copy had been sent to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. There is a belief that the company will act at once.

At one time there was very little traffic over the crossing, but with the opening of the new road from New Lisbon to Barnegat and the development on Long Beach the highway has come to be an important one, and the traffic over it increasing every day.

Besides the main track at New Lisbon there are sidetracks on which box cars frequently stand, thus helping to obstruct the view. This makes the crossing especially dangerous.

LOOK OUT FOR THESE FAKE MONEY ORDERS

Burlington post office officials have issued a warning to business men not to cash or accept in payment for goods purchased, any money orders offered by strangers. The officials say that some one supplied with stolen money order forms is attempting to work this section, two or three worthless money orders having been cashed by local residents last week.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Human Factor Wealth of Nation

People who pile up billion-dollar fortunes in the steel business, in banking, in automobiles and otherwise are supposed to be the greatest adders to the wealth of the country.

Some years ago, however, John Ruskin wrote about "The Veins of Wealth" in an article in which he held that the true wealth of the nation consisted not in the yellow veins of gold running through the earth, but in the blue veins of human blood.

In other words, men were worth more to a country than natural resources.

Had the Pilgrim fathers, who landed on the bleak shores of New England some years ago landed in Manila, the Philippines would by this time have been as prosperous as Massachusetts. Take all the Philippines and transfer them to New England, and in their stead put New Englanders in the Philippine Islands in a short time New England would be devastated and the Philippines prosperous.

It is men who make the country. With this in view we consider Senora Esperidona Chavez, 89 years of age, of Los Angeles, rocking the cradle of her one hundred and sixty-second direct descendant. She has nine daughters and two sons and they are all prolific.

Mrs. Chavez has therefore added to the country more wealth than that of John D. Rockefeller. Property has to be cared for and properly rights to be expected, but the most inestimable treasure of the land is its human beings.

France is supposed to be decadent because the death rate piles up and the birth rate is decreasing. On it takes men to use them. No matter how marvelous and complete is a locomotive, it is valueless without an expert engineer. No matter how good your airplane, you have to have a Lindbergh to make it a success.

In the end, it is always the human factor, and men do well to conserve life above all other things.

Better Home with more Leisure for homemaker follows the use of ELECTRIC and GAS SERVANTS

"Your Smiling Home"

Is the pretty expression used by Orientals when they wish to compliment you.

To smile, the home must be clean and how easy it is to keep it clean now-a-days. Furnaces burn gas, the clean, safe fuel. Cooking is done with gas—water, gas heated. Electricity washes and irons linens and garments, cleans house, cools the refrigerator. Wherever electric and gas servants are at work, you'll find a "smiling house."

Thor Electric Washer and Ironer
Do Thorough Work Without Injury

Ironer Does Expert Work

Even if the basket is piled high, the ironing is not to be dreaded, if the Thor ironer is used.

It irons everything. It presses dresses as easily and smoothly as plain sheets or tablecloths. It puts a glossy finish on materials which the heaviest pressure with a hand iron cannot give.

It operates on any electric outlet and can be used in any room. When not in use, it can be folded up and stored in small space.

$5 down and eighteen months to pay are the convenient payment terms on both Thor washer and ironer.

PLANS for refurnishing her rooms and making them more attractive for the coming winter are uppermost in many homemakers' minds at this season.

Perhaps a new lamp here and there will be an improvement and at Public Service stores she can find just the lamps she wants. The stock includes every kind from stately floor lamps to miniature lamps for the bedside table. There is a reduction of 33 1/3% on every one and easy payment terms are offered.

HOME-MAKING

"Try This in Your Refrigerator," says Ada Beale Swann:

4 bananas 1/4 cup sugar
Juice 1/4 lemon 1 1/2 cups cream

Cook mashed banana pulp in double boiler with sugar and lemon until scalded throughout. Beat cream until firm. Fold the two mixtures together. Turn into mold. Pack in equal measures of salt and crushed ice. Let stand about three hours, repacking once meanwhile.

Coffee Easily Made In Electric Percolator

WHETHER it is to do duty at the breakfast table or to be called into service for a formal dinner, this four-piece coffee set is handsome and serviceable enough for either occasion.

It is of Manning Bowman make. The percolator is designed in urn style and the cream pitcher, sugar bowl and round tray are of corresponding design and of highly polished nickel. The price for the complete set is $17.75.

Oven Heat Regulator Gas Ranges Give Extra Leisure to Housekeepers

HOW often does some housewife say, "If I could only stay away from the kitchen while dinner is cooking," and again, "It would be pleasant to have visitors, if meals did not take so long to prepare."

The oven heat regulator gas range permits the housekeeper to be out of the kitchen while the dinner is cooking, and its use cuts down the time taken to prepare meals and holds the oven temperature at the right degree of heat. Such heat regulation effects a saving of gas consumed.

A whole meal can be cooked in the oven at once, cakes or pies can be baked, while the homemaker is busy with her guests.

Nor is there need to spend long hours in the kitchen canning fruit for the coming winter. The best and the simplest way is to can it in jars in the oven. When preserved by this method, the color, form and flavor of the fresh fruit is retained.

Gas ranges with oven heat regulators can be purchased at Public Service stores on the easy payment plan.

Motor Pumped to Oakland Engine

Advanced New Mechanical Features Contributes to Success of All-American Six

A motor-driven fuel pump which has performed perfectly throughout thousands of miles, motor tests at the General Motors proving ground, has been adopted by the Oakland Motor Car Company and is an original feature of the Oakland All-American Six, according to a statement made yesterday by Warren W. Yennery, local dealer for Oakland and Pontiac cars.

In introducing the motor-driven fuel pump, said Mr. Yennery, the Oakland Motor Car Company is adding a notable chapter to its long and successful history as a sponsor of important engineering advances. The pump replaces the vacuum tank system and effectively eliminates the uncertainties of fuel supply under all conditions. Hundreds of test installations have not revealed a single failure.

The fuel pump installed on the Oakland All-American Six, an A C product, combines simplicity, efficiency and durability, assuring a steady and adequate supply of gasoline under any and all driving conditions, through the life of the car. The speed of the engine determines the speed of the pump's action, so that never, either on steep hills or at rapid paces on level roads, is there a possibility of interrupted fuel supply.

The secret of the pump's simplicity and freedom from wear lies in the small number of its moving parts. There is a flexible, non-metallic diaphragm, actuated by the upward and downward motion of the steel lever as this lever rides upon the engine camshaft. The pulsations of the diaphragm alternately draw pure strained gasoline into the pump chamber and force it out to the carburetor, two simple and everlasting check valves being interposed in the line to keep the fuel moving in the right direction. The faster the engine turns, the faster the pump works, so that the supply of fuel is always in direct ratio to the needs of the engine. A highly efficient fuel filter, with double screen of fine mesh, is built as a unit with pump, and this equipment supplements the work of the air cleaner and oil filter in excluding dust, water and grit from the engine's interior.

The Oakland Motor Car Company, first automobile manufacturer to install a motor-driven fuel pump, also has various other important engineering advances to its credit, including the vacuum fuel system, now superseded by the fuel pump. It was first to adopt Duo finish, whose beauty and durability has since gained it a place as the world's finest motor cars. It introduced full automatic spark control, the famous counter-balanced crankshaft with harmonic balancer, and also the rubber-silenced chassis and rubber-insulated drive which contributes so much to the comfort of Oakland driving.

Oakland was also among the first to introduce the electric starter, mechanical four-wheel brakes, twin beam headlights, chromium nickel plating, oil filter and air cleaner.

"Morris" Beck on Auto Tour of U. S. and Canada

Chief C. Morris Beck, of the Palmyra police force, left Monday afternoon on his vacation. Chief Beck expects to spend the greater part of his two weeks motoring. He intends to visit Canada via Rochester and Niagara Falls and then go as far south as Norfolk, Virginia, touching all the important cities including Williamsport, Harrisburg, Baltimore, Gettysburg, and Washington.

This is practically the same route Chief Beck followed last year on his vacation trip. Officer Joseph Rodgers will act as chief of Palmyra police until Beck returns.

WYNNFIELD—NOBLE

A pretty wedding was solemnized on Wednesday evening last, August 10th, at five o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Eleanor A. Noble, of 307 Morgan avenue, when her daughter, Doris Melina Noble, was married to Mr. Harry Pancoast Wynnfield, of Philadelphia.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Henry MacGillivray, of Clinton, N. J. Prior to the ceremony, Mrs. Grace C. MacGillivray, the bride's aunt, rendered a vocal solo, "O Promise Me" and Miss Elizabeth Baxter played the Wedding March from "Lohengrin" while the wedding party took its place before a beautiful floral bower.

The bride wore white crepe and remained with a floral wreath and veil. Miss Mae R. Evans, of Lanerich, in orchid crepe de chine, was the maid of honor.

Miss Phyllis C. Noble, the bride's sister, and Miss Grace MacGillivray, the bride's cousin, were her attendants.

Miss Noble was charming in pink taffeta and Miss MacGillivray wore pale green satin.

Mr. Albert Muntz, of Philadelphia was best man. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wynnfield and Mrs. Paul Walsh, parents and sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. and Miss Grace MacGillivray, aunt and cousin of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Fred G. Fromuth, Miss Helen G. Fromuth, Mrs. Mary M. Bartle and Mrs. Elizabeth G. Baxter.

After a splendid wedding supper served by the bride's mother, Mrs. Eleanor A. Noble, the bridal party left for an unknown destination, probably Niagara Falls.

On their return the bridal couple will be at home at 307 Morgan avenue, Palmyra.

The Lions Are Not Baseball Players

Palmyra Jungle Club Find Their Paws Unfitted For Bat and Glove

The Palmyra Lions Club, in sober and solemn convocation Tuesday evening, arrived at the final immutable conclusion that it is not and never was an athletic organization.

This decision, and the sobriety and solemnity attached thereto, was the direct and inevitable aftermath of the alleged baseball game between the Lions and the Palmyra Riverton Rotarians at the Field Club park Monday evening.

The baseball game failed to materialize. There was no semblance of a contest. It is true the Lions had nine men roaming about what they had been informed was a baseball diamond. There was also a small, rather hard spheroid, which the Lions dimly understood had some connection with a certain national pastime.

A New Game

This pellet was propelled rather violently by the Rotarians in the general direction of the unwary members of the jungle, who made divers amazed and unsteady efforts to place their claws upon it, but the coy globule furiously avoided all their best intentions until after it would come to rest of its own volition.

Then one Lion would grasp the sphere with all his vigor and hurl it violently, while other Lions would take up the chase of the elusive pill.

Meantime various and several Rotarians were running more or less swiftly and gracefully around a four cornered section of the field, while a boy was busily engaged marking up chalked figures on some kind of a bulletin board.

Become Weary

Finally the Rotarians grew weary from excessive running and told the Lions they could now take the wooden sticks and endeavor to knock the pellet round about. But the Lions apparently had never used a club on their victims, having been accustomed to employing only their teeth and claws, so they soon abandoned this phase of the amusement and let the Rotarians do the ball knocking once more.

When it finally dawned on the jungle beasts that there was supposed to have been a contest of some kind or other, in which so-called "runs" played a figure, it was found that the Rotarians had obtained some forty or fifty of these coveted distinctions, while the Lions had only one or two.

The Lions figured this was fair enough, as long as the difference in the score was less than a thousand.

"Features"

Among the features of the game was the ease with which Cub Chambers fell down every time he tried to chase a ball and a valiant effort made by Cub Buohl to roll all the way from what was called third base to the home den.

This same rotund Buohl also displayed his jungle prowess by successfully chasing Rotarian Williams all the way to the garden known as left field in making an "out" at the "keystone" sack.

A certain Rotarian named Geland endeavored to slide on his proboscis with the result that the member became covered with sores. This was the only touch of real color to the exhibition.

There are rumors that the Lions intend to repeat their performance by entertaining the Moorestown Rotarians this Thursday evening at Moorestown.

GIANTS LOSE

Palmyra Colored Team Defeated in 15-Inning Contest

In the best played game in years at Maple Shade last Saturday, the Palmyra Colored Giants were nosed out by the home club, 3 to 2, in a fifteen-inning contest.

Delford's hit in the ninth inning tied the score at 2-2 for Palmyra and in the fifteenth round Heppard hit for Maple Shade sent the winning run across the plate.

Johnny Meyers was the individual star for Palmyra. Meyers played well at second base and was the only Palmyra man to get more than one hit. Strauss' and Earl's fielding featured for the winning Maple Shade outfit.

The local Giants were handed an 8 to 1 defeat by the Hilldale team last Thursday night at the Field Club grounds. One of the largest crowds of the season witnessed this game. The Hilldale team is a heavy-hitting club, home runs being the features of this contest.

Soul of My Violin

What melodies my violin,
Into my soul, has brought,
And filled me with the happiness
My longing soul has sought.
How like a sweet companion it
Has ever seemed to be,
And spoken to my inmost soul
Its misery or glee.

Dear comrade of my youthful days,
In lonely hours how
It comforted my aching heart
And it will soothe me now.
Though age may whiten my dark
And there may be a hair in
It, to the longings of my soul,
Will ever be awake.

Its soul will, to my own, respond
In sweetest sympathy;
And when I touch its soulful strings
They'll speak of harmony.
My melody, it understands,
Expressing in its tone;
And, when I listen to its voice
'Twill echo but my own.

ed at the new house being erected on Thomas avenue by J. E. Shelby without tearing up the street. He said that the sewer and water had been arranged for by connecting with the service now supplying the Shelby residence, and that the gas company had been asked to do the same.

Director of Public Safety Williams reported progress on the light on Broad street between Lippincott and Thomas avenues above the railroad.

He also reported that he had requested the Public Service to have its trolley car stop at the West end of the railroad station platform in order to avoid the congestion of east-bound traffic which is inevitable when the cars stop right at the station and near the traffic booth. The request, he said, was being complied with.

Mr. Williams said that he thought he would soon be successful in having the new stand moved into the station and thus remedy an untidy condition caused by bits of paper and sweepings from the present stand. The Mayor said that the untidy condition referred to came within the jurisdiction of the Board of Health which should see that it is abated.

Park Attendant Popular

Mr. Williams, who is also chairman of the borough property committee said that he had thought having an attendant at Memorial Park only at high tide was not sufficient, and that he had raised money by private subscription from the citizens of Riverton to start a man on full time. He said he had received many favorable comments on the fact that there was someone in authority at the park to look after the children all the time. Mr. Williams also reported that the grass was being kept trimmed with a mower rented from the Riverton Country Club. He asked the Mayor if he did not think the park now presented an attractive appearance and his honor replied that it looked very well indeed. Mr. Williams said he intended to take down the dilapidated wire fence in the Broad street side of the park so that the grass could be trimmed on the terrace leading down to the railroad.

The medical inspector submitted a report accompanied by $3 in fees. Will Lay Curbs and Walks The Mayor suggested that the highway committee learn from the solicitor just what steps are necessary for the borough to take in order to proceed with the construction of pavements and curbs where the work has not already been done by property owners affected by the ordinance passed last year, and a motion to that effect was passed.

FLANAGAN PROPERTY RENTED FOR MORE SCHOOL ROOM

Riverton Board Adopts Temporary Measures to Care for Overflow

NEW BUILDING PLANS UNDER CONSIDERATION

A full realization of the fact that additional school facilities will come to the residents of Riverton with the announcement that it has been necessary to rent a residence property and equip it for school purposes in order to care for the overflow when school opens on September 7.

At a meeting of the members of the school board on August 18, acting as committee, the board decided to rent the Charles L. Flanagan property on Main street near Fourth and utilize it for the first grade and employ an additional teacher. This will make room for opening another primary room and also one of the grammar grades within the school building.

When the school situation for the year 1927-1928 was faced, it was found that, using figures obtained after the June promotions, there would be children enrolled in the primary grades at the opening of the new term as follows:

First grade, 43; Second grade, 49; Third grade, 40; Fourth grade, 36.

During the past year the total school enrollment was 390. There were 53 pupils enrolled in the first grade. Two teachers were deemed necessary, and the experiment proved to be of much advantage to the children, making it possible to give them the individual attention that had not been possible with one teacher. As the first grade work is most important from the standpoint of establishing the beginnings of reading, it is wise to continue two first grade rooms.

Moving children from two first grade rooms made an enrollment in the second grade of 49—too many pupils for either room or teacher. As there will be 40 children in third grade, the best solution will be to open a combination second and third grade room, which will mean practically 30 children per teacher in the second and third grades.

Last year the fifth grade had an enrollment of 53 and the sixth grade, 42. The figures for next year are fifth grade 56; sixth grade, 51. It will be necessary to relieve conditions in the sixth grade.

It was, therefore, after careful consideration, decided to open the additional rooms needed and to secure an additional teacher for next year.

In this way pupils will have the chance for advancement, and a better opportunity for the laying of a stronger foundation.

Hydroplane Views Taken of Riverton

Charles DeLaney Takes Aerial Moving Pictures From Mills' Air Craft

Riverton had a surprise visit on Sunday afternoon from Frank Mills and his hydroplane. Arrangements had been made with Mr. Mills by Charles DeLaney, Jr., of Thomas avenue, to fly over Riverton, Palmyra, Tacony and Frankford, for the purpose of taking aerial moving pictures. Aerial views were taken of the river bank, Deere's Nursery, golf course, the residential part of Palmyra and Riverton, besides some very interesting "shots" of Tacony and Frankford.

Several hundred feet of film was used in the taking of these pictures, which required about forty-five minutes of flying. Several hundred spectators gathered on the river bank during the course of the flight. Mr. DeLaney is quite a motion picture fan, having taken many thousand feet of pictures of all subjects of interest, both in and about the town and various parts of the state.

Arrangements have been made with Frank Mills by Robert W. Knight of Howard street and Mr. DeLaney to fly from Riverton to Exnington and back, to obtain aerial pictures of the Delaware River between these two points. Buddy DeLaney had intended to fly with his daddy on Sunday, but when he discovered that his mother was not going, decided to sit on the riverbank with her "so she would not be lonesome while daddy was in the air."

MISS RUDDEROW TAKES WELL-EARNED VACATION

Miss Emma B. Rudderow, who conducts a real estate and insurance business on Main street, left this morning (Thursday) for a trip to Los Gatos, California, to visit relatives.

Miss Anna V. Blackburn, of Palmyra, will accompany Miss Rudderow as far as Oakland, California. During Miss Rudderow's absence Mrs. Alice Bender, of Lecony avenue, Palmyra, will have charge of the business.

AN APOLOGY

Walter G. Miller wishes to offer an apology to those who were instrumental in arranging a game for Wednesday evening of this week with the strong Harrowgate team. The manager of the Harrowgate team called Miller Monday night and asked him to cancel the game. Miller refused, so the Harrowgate team cancelled. He gave as the reason the absence of some of the players.

The Riverton management hustled around and got DeLaney to substitute for Harrowgate in order that there might be a game last night.

We are pleased if not downright grateful that a bee has 12,000 eyes, as announced instead of six.

RIVERTON MAN'S AUTO STOLEN

Thieves Take Charles DeLaney's Car From In Front of Camden Office

Charles DeLaney, Jr., of Thomas avenue, had his automobile, a 1927 seven-passenger Buick sedan, stolen from in front of his office, Cooper street, Camden, on Friday, August 12. The car is new, having been driven only 3,800 miles.

He left the machine about eight o'clock in the morning after locking the transmission, also the door. The car was missing about two o'clock in the afternoon. The police were notified but no trace of the car has been found to date. The Moorestown Motor Company, authorized Buick dealers in Burlington County, upon hearing of Mr. DeLaney's loss, loaned him a Buick sedan to use until his 1928 model arrives.

Mr. DeLaney is a Municipal Engineer and Utility Expert and is associated with Remington and Vossburg, Consulting Engineers, with offices on Cooper street, Camden.

Kiddies' Picnic Enjoyed by Lions

Service Club Entertains Fifty Youngsters at Silver Lake Park

The Palmyra Lions Club on Wednesday entertained more than fifty boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 14 at a picnic held in Silver Lake Park, on the White Horse Pike. The party left Palmyra at ten o'clock, most of the children being conveyed in McCloskey's big red bus and the others going in private cars.

Immediately after their arrival the children began enjoying the various park amusements and at noon a plentiful lunch was served, followed later in the afternoon by further "eats."

Games and contests for the children were held during the afternoon under the direction of Mr. Alexine Lowden Thomas, one of the playground directresses of the Moorestown Recreation Commission. A dozen Lions and their families accompanied the children and the men employed there remained at the picnic to help in the games and needed baseball practice. Many went swimming.

Everybody was tired but happy when the trip home was made late in the afternoon.

LONG DAYS HERE IN MORE WAYS THAN ONE

"This is the time of year when a man in an automobile is getting more hours out of every day than you can find on the face of any clock," says Frederick E. Rein of the Rein Motor Company.

For these are the days when an automobile delivers the most pleasure, convenience and opportunity to the motorist. The man who drives a car has twice as much time for all his outdoor recreations. The single of automotive transportation actually adds a day of play to every day of work. There are many things one can do after office hours if he can get there quickly enough. And the car solves that problem.

FIRE AT LAUNDRY, LITTLE DAMAGE DONE

Over-heated Pipe Starts Blaze In Dry Timbers

The Riverton Fire Company was called to duty Sunday evening when a fire broke out in the "dry room" at the Riverton Laundry, at East Riverton.

N. Kuensel, the proprietor, was sitting in his office when he discovered the fire. Last winter a one-inch pipe which ran through the wall between the "dry room" and Kuensel's office was removed. As he sat there a spark came through the hole where the pipe had been. Kuensel sensed the situation quickly and phoned for the fire company. He then went into the laundry and with the aid of the men employed there removed all the clothes. Not a piece of any kind was lost or damaged.

The firemen were at the scene in less than two minutes after the alarm sounded and went right to work with chemical and water. "The promptness of the firemen," Mr. Kuensel said, "was the only thing that kept the amount of damages below $100."

The flames were confined to the roof around the stacks of two boilers which supply the laundry with hot water, and heat the "dry room." The wood around the boilers had become so dry that when the boilers gave a lot too hot the wood took fire.

The firemen on the second truck were handicapped in hooking up to a plug on Randolph street. The outside of the plug was so arid that the firemen had to dig away the dirt in order to screw the hose onto the outlet.

MORE MONEY FOR PARK ATTENDANT

A public-spirited citizen of Riverton contributed $50 this week to the fund to pay the park guard at Memorial Park. More money, however, will be needed to finish out the season. Those who want to see this good work continued should send their contributions to Director of Public Safety, Edward R. Williams, or to The New Era office.

DIVORCE

An absolute divorce and the custody of her 5-year-old daughter was granted Mrs. Elsie M. Smith from Charles R. Smith on August 18. The Smiths are residents of Palmyra.

CAR OVERTURNS

Four Phila. Firemen Escape Uninjured in Accident on Slippery Road

A Maxwell sedan owned and driven by A. Bremer, of Philadelphia, overturned when it skidded on the wet, slippery street at Branch Pike and Riverton road last Thursday morning.

Mr. Bremer and three other men, members of a party of fifteen firemen from the Park avenue and Cambria station, Philadelphia, en route to Beach Haven to spend the day, were in the car, and all escaped uninjured. The car, which was turning right on to Riverton road at the time of the accident, was badly damaged.

CARS IN COLLISION; "LET'S FORGET IT"

Pontiac Bumps Packard; Both Cars Insured; No Arrests

Last Saturday evening Charles Payne, driving Peck Polindexter's Pontiac sedan, smashed into John Derwent's Packard at Broad and Main streets.

Arthur Dorrance was driving the Dorrance car down Main street and Payne was driving Polindexter's up Broad.

The two cars came together with such force that the bumper on the Packard was driven through the tire on the far side. The Pontiac was wrecked about the front part. Payne sustained a lacerated knee from the collision.

Officer Carlson had just gone home for supper and Officer Miller had not come on duty when the accident occurred. Director of Public Safety Williams witnessed the crash. William asked Dorrance if he wanted Payne arrested for reckless driving and he replied, "I do not think the fellow was driving recklessly. It was just carelessness. Both cars are insured, let's forget it."

Young Couple Dodge Friends

Miss Freda Miller and Dr. Samuel Goldman Married in New York Sunday

Rather than face several hundred wedding guests, Dr. Samuel Goldman, a staff physician at West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, and Miss Freda Miller, of Riverside, Sunday went to New York and were married. It was after the guests had waited vainly for the appearance of the young couple that word came of the elopement.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Miller, of 434 Bridgeboro road, Riverside, parents of the bride, were anxious to give the young couple a wedding at which all their relatives and friends would be guests. Arrangements were made at an Atlantic City hotel for the wedding reception.

Several hundred guests arrived and waited in the decorated ballroom. They continued to wait until they wondered what had happened to the expected bride and groom. Then it developed the young couple, at the eleventh hour, had determined to escape the fuss and feathers and had quietly gone to New York.

"We have decided that we simply do not want to go through with all that fuss—and we're going to give the whole crowd the slip and be married quietly in New York," Dr. Goldman informed a friend, who later communicated with the waiting parents and guests.

The young couple immediately left for a wedding tour of New York and Canada. Dr. Goldman has offices on Seventh and State streets, Camden.

Mrs. Goldman is a graduate of Palmyra High School, being well known in Riverside where she is very popular among the younger set.

ROTARY MEETING

Indoor Baseball Is Latest Sport Taken Up

At last Thursday's meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club, William Albertson presided as chairman of the classification committee. Others on the committee were Clement Lewis and Joseph S. Low.

The meeting was mostly taken up by classification of the different members according to business and residence and it was astonishing how very little the Rotarians knew about each other's businesses and homes.

Indoor baseball to make the members better acquainted with each other caused a lot of merriment. The captains of the two teams were George "Pat" Steedle and Clarence Hubbs. Hubbs' team was the winner. The game was played on a rotary team can play indoor baseball as well as outdoor baseball.

After the meeting, Frank A. Snover invited the club to inspect his improved Funeral Home. Mr. Snover has one of the best Funeral Homes in the state and all members were greatly impressed by the inspection tour. Each member was presented with a souvenir by Mr. Snover, who plans a formal opening of his home in the near future.

William Theilman, of Haddonfield, and Robert Cox, of Pemberton, were visitors.

PARRY A. A. LOSER

The Parry A. A. lost a tough game to Beverly Sunday, the score being 4 to 1. Although Bill Phelan held Beverly to three hits, errors by the Parry team lost the game.

D. Phelan and Swain played good baseball for Parry while the star for the Red Jacks was pitcher Dann, who had 23 strikeouts.

FIRST AID KIT GIVEN TO PARK

Complete Outfit, in Special Metal Box, Donated by Mr. Kieckhefer

INTEREST IN PARK DEVELOPING RAPIDLY

A lively interest in the development of Memorial Park as a playground is being taken by the residents of Riverton. Money has been subscribed to pay the attendant, and the appeal for the donation of a first-aid kit has been handsomely met.

Miss Betty D. Scanlon, 710 Washington avenue, Palmyra, who is the nurse at the Kieckhefer Container Company's plant in Delair, saw the appeal made in the local papers for a first aid kit to be used at Memorial Park for the youngsters who bump, scratch and cut themselves, and asked permission of Mr. Kieckhefer, resident of Riverton, to make up a kit. Mr. Kieckhefer said "go ahead." And Miss Scanlon did.

The kit was turned over to the Department of Public Safety last Friday.

It contains 20 rolls of bandages, jar of Unguentine, adhesive tape, gauze, absorbent cotton, small medicine glass, eye cup, eye dropper, tourniquet, swab sticks, tongue depressor, boracic acid solution for eye wash, scissors, bottle of mercurchrome, bottle of peroxide, and a bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia.

Very neat and convenient sized metal box was designed by Miss Scanlon and made under her direction.

In behalf of the children of the Borough The New Era takes this opportunity to thank the Kieckhefer Container Company, Mr. Kieckhefer, and Miss Scanlon for their interest in the welfare of the youngsters.

FINE TWO MOTORISTS

Palmyra Continues Campaign Against Speeding

The Palmyra police arrested two more automobile drivers this week in the campaign against reckless driving. The drive was started three weeks ago when the Palmyra police named five drivers for speeding. Last week three drivers were fined and the two this week brings the total to ten.

Bernard J. Toole, of Camden, was fined $6.50 by Squire William J. Fichter Friday for reckless driving. Toole was arrested by Officer Nelson Wallace when he cut out of a line of cars waiting for the Palmyra ferry.

Albert Menoken, colored, of Howell street, Camden, was fined $2.00 and costs Sunday night when taken to Squire Fichter's home by Joseph Rodgers who is acting as Chief of Palmyra Police while Mr. Menoken is away on his vacation. Menoken passed the traffic light at the intersection of Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue while the red light was against him. Officer Nelson Beck is aware of the time he blew his whistle but Menoken failed to stop. Chief Joe Rodgers, who was standing on the corner, gave chase on the police motorcycle and "tagged" the driver before he reached Riverton.

It was the intention of Chief Rodgers to have Menoken appear for a hearing the next day but as the driver said it would be impossible for him to do so he was fined Sunday night. Menoken was accompanied by his family and was on his way to Bridgeboro. When he was fined his wife said, "Come on, Albert, let's go home. We'll go on home as fast as the money we got." Menoken said that Chief Rodgers beckoned for him to go from the corner, but Rodgers was signalling at another motorist.

DEMOCRATIC WOMEN TO MEET SEPT. 12

Burlington, Gloucester and Camden Counties To Attend Luncheon at Camden

At least five hundred Democratic women will gather in the Hotel Walcott on Monday, September 12, to attend the tri-county Democratic luncheon being sponsored by the women of Burlington, Gloucester and Camden counties.

Further plans for the affair, which will be held at the Hotel Walcott, will be discussed at a meeting of the Camden Woman's Democratic Club in the headquarters at Camden last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Emma E. Hyland, president of the club, who is acting as general chairman on arrangements for the luncheon will preside and introduce the speakers. Addresses will be made by Committee Member William Hill, probable Democratic gubernatorial candidate; Senator Edward I. Edwards, Mrs. Mary T. Norton, Congresswoman from New Jersey, and Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City.

RITCHARD-MILLER

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Rulon Miller and Mr. Victor Ritchard took place on Saturday, August 20, at five p. m., at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Miller.

The ceremony was held under the auspices of the Society of Friends, and Miss Rushmore and Mrs. Henry C. Parrish spoke briefly and impressively. Mr. Parrish read the certificate.

Miss Miller was attended by her sister, Mrs. Walter R. Smith, of Milford, L. I., as matron of honor, and her little niece, Miss Elizabeth Anne Smith, as flower girl. About 150 guests had gathered on the lawn to witness the wedding, and the supper was served to them there.

Mr. and Mrs. Ritchard, upon their return from Camden, will live at 302 Eighth street, where Mr. Ritchard has made his home for some years.

EYE PRICKED BY LOW-HANGING LIMBS

Pedestrians Also Lose Hats and Dignity, When Tossed By Naughty Twigs

Several complaints have reached Riverton's Director of Public Safety during the last few days about the lower limbs of trees hanging so far down as to strike one's head while walking along the sidewalk.

Monday afternoon a Riverton man walking down Cinnaminson street and upon hearing some one call his name turned to see who hailed him. Just as the man turned a twig from a lower branch struck him in the eye. The result was several hours of discomfort.

Such protruding limbs should be cut off and as many more as necessary in order that safe passage may be assured.

Director of Public Safety Williams laid this condition before the Shade Tree Commission before but no action was taken by that body.

The bothersome limbs are particularly numerous on Seventh street, where Penna avenue, Cinnaminson street and Main street near Fifth.

The Shade Tree Commission started on Wednesday to remedy the condition which has been worrying the genial director.

Empty Houses Being Wrecked

Boys Blamed for Vandalism; Director of Public Safety Gives Warning

Director of Public Safety Edward R. Williams said last night that he had received many complaints about damage being done to vacant houses by boys. The old Blown property on Main street and the vacant property on Main street above the railroad have suffered heavily, said the director.

Mr. Williams makes a request that parents check up on the damage their sons and daughters do and that they are not implicated in this maliciousness, for, if they are caught, the penalty is heavy.

While on the subject, Mr. Williams said: "I declare some of the parents of today surprise me. They seem to pay no attention whatever to the companions of their boys or the hours they keep—and girls, too. We see young girls running around late at night under conditions that are not wholesome."

The police department sees a lot of things that would surprise some fathers and mothers. Boys of tender age, who should have been at night under cover, are seen roaming the streets in groups of from two to a dozen.

"Whether their parents don't know or don't care I cannot guess. I hope it is that they don't know. I would hate to believe that there are so many fathers and mothers in Riverton who don't care. If I was father of these boys you bet I would check up a little on their whereabouts when they ask to go out for the evening."

PENNA. CARS CRASH ON BRIDGEBORO RD.

Two Women Suffered Shocks in Accident at Pedley's Corner

Two women suffered shocks when two Pennsylvania automobiles crashed at Pedley's corner, Bridgeboro road, plied into the side of the Studebaker. Vermont, coming out of Tom Brown road, saw the Kinsley machine approaching and jammed on his breaks in an attempt to avert the collision.

Both cars were considerably damaged. A Buick sedan, driven by Anthony Vermont, Poplar street, Philadelphia, crashed into the side of the Studebaker, which was operated by Lewis Kinsley, Wissinoming, Pa.

Mrs. Emily Olorant, 40 years old, also of Poplar street, an occupant in the Vermont machine, was rushed to the Zurburg Hospital, Riverside. Mrs. Kinsley, wife of the owner of the Wissinoming car, was sent home for treatment.

The accident occurred when the Buick, headed east on Bridgeboro road, plied into the side of the Studebaker. Vermont, coming out of Tom Brown road, saw the Kinsley machine approaching and jammed on his breaks in an attempt to avert the collision. His car, however, slid to the center of the road before stopping.

Officers Charles Erickson and Walter Erickson, of the Moorestown police department, were called on the scene but made no arrests as the drivers agreed to settle the damages out of court.

MOORESTOWN TRIMS RIVERFRONT ROTARY

Locals Score 7-1 Victory of Palmyra-Riverton Club; Powell Stars

The Moorestown Rotary Club baseball team still reigns supreme in service club circles. Last (Tuesday) evening Palmyra-Riverton Rotary was defeated by the local Rotarians and pitched superb ball, holding the visitors to a few scattered hits, and was well supported by some outright playing by the infield.

Charley Coles, with three runs, led the scoring for Moorestown. Powell crossed the pan twice and Griffith and Potts each tallied once. "Fat" Steedle, the invading catcher, scored the lone opposition run.

The feature of the game was a brilliant one-hand catch by Finney, the visiting left fielder. Moorestown will travel to Riverton for a return game next Tuesday evening.

FIREMEN'S CARNIVAL SEPTEMBER 8, 9, 10

Plans Progressing For Big Time At Broad and Thomas

The carnival of the Riverton Fire Company will be held at Broad and Thomas avenue instead of Memorial Park as previously announced. The problem of lighting was the cause of the change in plans.

Do not forget the dates, September 8, 9, 10. The firemen will look for you one of those nights. Once again the Riverton Fire Company held their Monday night drill and broke in a new ladder crew under Instructor Jim McNeil's guiding hand.

The drill was held at the old Ernschaw property at Second and Lippincott. Chief Armstrong wants more active firemen to report at the drills which are held every Monday night at seven o'clock. Those desiring to join the Fire Company should communicate with the Chief.

"Jim" gave the new men instruction in the use of the chemical at the last drill.

Kills His Wife and Commits Suicide

Maple Shade Contractor Dies From Wounds After Shooting Woman

Maple Shade, rapidly becoming known as the community of tragedies, suffered its second attempt at murder and suicide in a little more than a year last Saturday morning when Ferdinand Schmidt, contractor and builder, shot and killed his wife and fatally wounded himself. He died at the Cooper hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Schmidt was the fourth suicide in Maple Shade in a year and a half. In addition, two Maple Shade people have been killed in automobile accidents and three have drowned this summer.

Schmidt's act marked the end of a year's domestic discord, largely brought about by his relations with another woman. Schmidt, who was later in a repentant mood, told Maple Shade police Monday that he was "anxious to get well and go home to my wife." He had not been informed of her death.

Saturday morning, on hearing his husband on the first floor of their home at Holly avenue, Maple Shade, Schmidt arose and went down stairs to prepare his breakfast. His oldest daughter, Rose, with whom she slept, also arose and was dressing when she heard a shot on the lower floor. She rushed down and found her mother lying on the floor, bleeding from her left side.

Schmidt Shoots Self

As Rose dashed out the door to summon assistance, she heard another shot ring out and returned to find her father down with a wound in his left side.

Schmidt used a 12-gauge shot gun. His wife was shot directly through the heart and died almost instantly, according to Dr. George H. Wilkinson, Moorestown, who was summoned. The self-directed shot missed Schmidt's heart, but literally tore his left lung into shreds.

Schmidt had been quarreling with his wife for several weeks and seldom had eaten his supper at home in that time. Frequently he stayed away all night, sleeping at a gun club of which he was a member. His wife had him arrested for non-support some time ago and he had frequently been in trouble with the authorities, police said.

LeRoy Jackson, sergeant of the Maple Shade police department, was notified and he and Chief Clarence Ward rushed to the scene of the tragedy. Jackson and Clarence Ward, Jr., took Schmidt to the hospital where he had been under police guard. Officers Jackson, Rine and Stickle each served eight hour shifts on guard at the hospital and then returned to Maple Shade and assist Chief Ward with the regular police routine work.

After reaching the hospital Schmidt confessed to Sergeant Jackson, "I was tired of being called names by my wife. I came from a good honest mother." Each day he asked about his wife's condition.

Act Carefully Planned

The act was carefully planned. Schmidt was out until 1:30 Saturday morning and it was thought that he had visited his hunting lodge at Chatsworth. It is believed that the shot gun was taken to his home at that time.

Friday night he penned two letters, one of which was in German. "It is time for me to go," he wrote. He directed that his property, his home and one lot, be placed in trust for his three sons. The two daughters were willed one dollar apiece. His home is probably worth six or seven thousand dollars. According to Schmidt's instructions, his tools were to be sold to meet the burial expenses.

Rose, 16 years old, a junior at Moorestown high school, last year won a national essay contest for which she was awarded a $300 scholarship.

"My father had quarreled with mother very much recently," said Rose between sobs. "Last Christmas he disappeared for three weeks without leaving any money for food, and Anna and I had to leave school and go to work. We went back to school, however, when he returned, because the school officials wrote my mother we were getting along well it would be a shame for us to have to stop. Our marks were among the best in our classes."

Cheated His Wife

"My mother found out my father had cheated her of her share in some property which he sold by getting her to sign papers which he misrepresented to her, she said.

Barnegat Rays Dim; Smaller Gas Lamp

Famous Beacon Now Only Seen Fifteen Miles Off the Coast

While the famous Barnegat light-house, which has been an unfailing beacon to the ships at sea for generations, eighty-eight years, to be exact, appears to have been saved from the encroachment of the sea, its further usefulness has been rendered problematical. Last week the new acetylene lamp the rays from which may be only seen fifteen miles at sea, under the most favorable conditions, was used for the first time in place of the old lamp-burning vaporized kerosene light, the rays of which could be seen more than twenty miles out in the Atlantic.

The substitution was decided upon by the Federal Lighthouse Bureau in the interest of economy, it is said. Supplementing the more feeble light radiated by the new illuminant will be a lightship eight miles out, which will serve as a beacon to ships further out at sea. This, it was claimed by the federal authorities, will be all that is necessary in the way of signal light protection to navigation, but old-timers at Barnegat City say that the record of four shipwrecks along that part of the New Jersey coast last winter, attests the need of a strong light at Barnegat City. The new and smaller light has been placed sixteen feet higher on the old brick structure than the old light which did excellent service for so long, but even with the added elevation it falls far short of the efficiency acquired under the old order of things.

There is a feeling of sadness in and around Barnegat City over the change which is felt is a long step backward and calculated to relegate the Barnegat light to a place of secondary importance among the lighthouses on the Atlantic coast. While the statement has been made that the substitution of the less powerful acetylene light is but a temporary measure and that it will be superseded by an electric light of more powerful rays in the more or less distant future, the natives are skeptical over the betterment in the conditions.

To the casual observer, the famous old lighthouse is in no immediate danger of toppling over into the encroaching sea. Rugged stone jetties, the rocks comprising which, weigh tons, seem to have arrested the inland sweep of the ocean storms, which at one time brought the waters of the Atlantic to within fifty-two feet of the foundations of the towering brick structure. Since the battering waves and swirling eddies have been diverted to that point by the obstacles, scientifically deployed, the beach has "made" nearly two hundred feet. Wooden jetties on either side of the stone barrier are also doing their part to save the historic lighthouse, although some of the pilings in the wooden jetties will have to be replaced to repair

BELIEVE IT OR NOT!

Lake Geneva, Wis.,—The bait trust at Lake Geneva has been broken. Small boys who sell night crawlers to anglers at the lake here for $3 a hundred, met their nemesis in Cyrena Van Gordon, prima donna of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, who is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank.

"Why pay that price for worms?" she asked. "But how will you get them? You can't dig for them. They're too deep." "Use science," she responded. Whereupon she raised her voice to a high note and several of the worms crawled to the surface, where they were picked up.

The damage done by the unusually heavy seas of last winter. Wholly aside from the utilitarian purpose of the old lighthouse at Barnegat City, the sentiment with which the public regards this famous old brick shaft, would seem to warrant all the effort that has been made to save it from the sea, and, also, restoration to its old-time power as a beacon to navigation.

LOTS OF BABIES FOR WARD LEADER

Two Grandchildren for Burlington Man in One Night

George W. Hellings, Burlington Republican Third Ward leader, was preparing to retire one night last week when he was called on the phone.

"Hello, daddy," said a voice more or less flavored with excitement. "Is that you?"

"Sure it's me," responded George. "This is your son-in-law, Nick," responded the voice. "Baby just arrived. You are a granddaddy."

"Well, I'll be—no, I won't either or I will have to go where the rest of the shining politicians go," exclaimed Grandpa. "Listen, boy—"

But the telephone was choked off and George was left to his reflection. He was figuring how soon the baby could vote when the telephone rang again. "Hello, daddy, is that you?" said a voice, likewise showing some excitement. "This is your son-in-law, Nick. Baby just arrived. Baby just arrived. Finest little—"

"What's that?" broke in George. "You also got one! Who's givin' out samples? Two in one night. Does it look like its grand—"

But the second voice also was gone, and George, figuring that the returns from his ward were all in, went to bed.

We so cling to the old notions. A locomotive still sports a cow catcher when what it needs is an auto short-stop.—Fort Worth Record-Telegram.

Government ownership really means political ownership. When it is put that way, it doesn't sound so good.

Governor Moore May be Guest at Burlington's Big Celebration

Expected to Attend Military Day Activities, October 12, at Quarter Millennium Anniversary of City

It is expected that Governor A. Harry Moore will be one of the guests at the quarter millennium anniversary celebration of the settlement of Burlington, the October. Although the formal invitations have not yet been issued the Governor has been sounded on the subject and there is reason to believe that he will arrange to attend.

The Governor probably will be present on Wednesday, October 12, which will be military day. He is the head of the State Militia and it would be fitting were he to accompany his soldiers to Burlington. It is especially important that he be in Burlington on the night of October 12 when a big meeting will be staged in the Fox Auditorium with Edward C. Stokes, of Trenton, former governor, as the principal speaker.

The meeting will be one of the outstanding features of the celebration. There will be, not only speaking, but music and other forms of entertainment. The details now are being worked out by the executive committee. What with the specially invited guests and the people who are interested in the history of the ancient town, it is expected that every seat in the auditorium will be filled.

Arrangements practically are completed for religious day which will include services in the several churches and exercises in the Fox Auditorium on the afternoon of Sunday, October 9. The Rev. Joseph Ford Newton, Rector of St. Paul's Church, Overbrook, will deliver the address. There will be special music by a massed chorus and solo and quartette features. Arrangements also are going forward for sports day on Monday, October 10. There will be sports for the kiddies in the morning and called agricultural day and is intended to show the development of the farming interest in this section. There will be exhibits of cattle, exhibits of poultry and exhibits of fruit and vegetables.

BURLINGTON GAZETTE OWNERS FILE BANKRUPTCY PETITION

A. Warren and A. William A. Rand, doing business under the name of the Burlington Gazette Printing and Publishing Company, of Burlington, have filed a petition in voluntary bankruptcy in the United States District Court at Trenton. The liabilities listed, amount to $4,367.15. It is said that there are no assets to offset the debts of the concern.

The Burlington Gazette ceased publication some time ago after a stormy career during which successive backers and publishers sank many thousands of dollars.

CHEVROLET LEADS IN HOME COUNTY

Truck Registration Show 100 Per Cent Increase Over July, 1926

Figures just released show that for the seventh consecutive month Chevrolet registration have led every other single make of car in Wayne county, Mich., in which Detroit is the leading center.

During July just ended Chevrolet not only topped every other make of car by registering 935 passenger models, but also led the list of truck registrations with 106 commercial cars, an increase of more than 100 per cent over Chevrolet's won high mark in July, 1926.

Commenting on these records, R. H. Grant, vice-president in charge of sales, declared that "Chevrolet's consistent leadership in a definite tribute to the public's utter confidence in and appreciation for our cars."

"It is especially significant that Wayne county should show this overwhelming preference for Chevrolets. Wayne county is the center of the industry. The people here live on and work in the automobile factories. They are motor wise. They do not put their stamp of approval on a car unless they believe that it represents the utmost in motor car value."

Chevrolet factories, Mr. Grant said, are continuing their record-setting pace by turning out more than 3,600 units daily, so fast that by the middle of August the entire output for 1926 was expected to be passed.

A couple of pilots got in a fight during an airplane flight in Kansas—the machine crashing. Evidently this is the ultra in everything to lose—nothing to gain.

A local Dumbdoro remarked this week that the percentage of accidents in airplanes was very small—one only to a person.

Find Woman Lost in Dense Woods

Whitings Resident Missing 3 Days; Was Kept Alive by Berries

After spending three nights and days in the thicket of the Jersey Pines, Miss Cora Carpenter, seventy-seven years old, of near Whitings, was located Sunday afternoon by a member of a posse composed of seventy-one men, who had been searching for her since the time she disappeared.

The woman, was found by Russell Hilliard, of Whitings, Trooper Horn, of the Columbus State Police Station, was searching nearby when she was located. The woman appeared to be none the worse for her experience.

Miss Carpenter, who lived alone in a shack in the pines for many years disappeared from her home last Thursday. She is said to be mentally deficient and was looked after by the township authorities. She made small change by picking berries in the woods. A neighbor who had visited her each morning discovered that she was missing. Footprints were found leading from the shack to the woods. The following day the footprints were washed away by the rain, which also prevented the use of State Police bloodhounds.

Three posers from the Columbus and Toms River barracks and attaches of the sheriff's and county detective's offices kept up the search. Sunday many residents of Whitings joined in the search. Hilliard penetrated far into the pines and saw the aged woman standing against a tree eating berries, the only thing she had to eat since she wandered into the woods. She was taken, very hungry, to the home of John Early at Whitings and given a good meal. Then she was turned over to the Toms River State Police who are keeping her under observation. It is possible that she will be committed to an institution.

Miss Carpenter disappeared some time ago and on that occasion was found in the woods by Hilliard.

CAMDEN BRIDGE OFFICER JAILED

Caught at Mount Holly Driving Auto While in Intoxicated Condition

Richard J. Baxter, of Haddonfield, lieutenant of toll collectors on the Delaware River Bridge, was arrested for driving while intoxicated near Mount Holly, spent three hours in a cell and was released upon payment of $200 fine.

Baxter was in full uniform when arrested at 5.30 o'clock one afternoon last week on the road from Burlington to Mount Holly. His car, it was charged, was zig-zagging from one side of the road to the other, forcing the motor car of Harold Mosier, of Phillipsburg, into a ditch. Mosier complained to policeman, and Baxter's arrest followed.

When arraigned before police recorder Joseph Kingdon at Mount

Holly, Baxter was fined $200 and his driver's license was revoked for two years. He could not raise the money with which to pay the fine, and was locked up in the Burlington County Jail at Mount Holly.

Recorder Kingdon had him examined, after his arrest, by Dr. Andrew Smith, of Mount Holly, who pronounced him drunk. He informed him he must either pay his fine or serve thirty days in prison. Baxter then got in touch by telephone with friends in Haddonfield, who raised the fine for him and obtained his release.

VINCETOWN SEEKS RAILROAD PURCHASE

Town Negotiating to Buy Abandoned Tracks—Will Force Freight Service

Vincetown wants to buy a railroad of its own. The future of Vincetown's business, especially that depending upon the railroad for freight service, looked discouraging when the Pennsy announced discontinuance of service August 20th, until someone proposed to buy the abandoned line and use it as a "sidling." Now the local board of trade is keenly interested in the plan.

A committee of local tradespeople is in communication with the company to learn what price will be charged if the abandoned spur is for sale. While there is a mile-and-a-half of single track, the interested citizens contend there is no limit to the length a siding may be, and if they own such, a railroad company will be compelled to shunt freight cars over it, the same as is done at any other siding.

This plan would give Vincetown what it wants—freight service by rail. It does not care about the loss of passenger service.

TWO CRASHES

Weekend Marked by Two Automobile Collisions in Palmyra

Two automobile accidents occurred in Palmyra over the weekend. The first Friday afternoon involved the Rev. William A. Dorsey, pastor of the Moorestown Colored Church who resides at 217 Cedar avenue, Moorestown, and a Lester S. Fortnum service truck, driven by Chester F. Fritz, 118 Stewart avenue, Rivers-

The accident happened at the intersection of Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, where Palmyra's main artery of traffic flows. As the machines were insured the Fortnum Company agreed to do the repair work and stand the damages.

Walter Harris, colored, of West Palmyra, driving a Ford touring car, smashed into the Overland touring machine owned by Thomas Coffey, proprietor of the Palmyra Hotel, 105 West Broad street, while parked on the road Saturday night. The accident occurred at Broad and Vine streets at about 10.30. Harris was held for trial. The Ford suffered a broken windshield, slight damage to the front and a couple of "fats."

Anyhow—those German fliers set a non-stop flight record, Berlin to Berlin.

Truck and Auto Crash on Road

Collision on Bridgeboro Road Between Palmyra and Millville Machines

Arrests and a possible law suit will probably be the outcome of an accident when a Millville truck and a touring car from Palmyra collided on Bridgeboro Road Monday afternoon. Although no one was injured, both machines were considerably damaged and the truck was overturned.

It is said that Ogden Bailey, Wheaton avenue, Millville, driver of the truck, was in the wrong but refuses to acknowledge it and Charles Sayres, 313 Race street, Palmyra, operator of the touring car, has threatened to take the case into court. In addition to suit for the damages, Sayres is expected to establish a charge of reckless driving against Bailey.

Bailey, headed towards Bridgeboro on the Bridgeboro Road, crashed into the side of Sayres' Cadillac touring car which was coming out of John Dudley Road onto the main highway. The Cadillac machine was headed north.

The truck, which was loaded with empty fruit baskets, was overturned, and the cargo was scattered all over the road. The Cadillac suffered extensive damages.

Officer Charles Erickson, of the Moorestown police department, was called on the scene.

Palmyra Baseball Teams Both Lose

Pitman Downs Rapp's Nine, While Maple Shade Defeats Giants

Jim Rapp's Palmyra ball tossers were toppled by the fast Pitman outfit at Pitman last Saturday afternoon. Palmyra put up a stubborn fight before going down to a 5 to 1 score.

"Harry" Eastlack, former Glassboro flinger, toed the slab for Pitman and gave Palmyra but a quartet of base hits. Two of these four bingles were collected by Bennett, Palmyra's outergardener.

Palmyra was blanked until the ninth frame when it obtained its only marker of the game. Pitman took the lead at an early stage of the contest, scoring in the second inning, two runs in the fourth and another tally in the each of the fifth and sixth stanzas.

Pitman gathered 12 hits off Thomas, a new addition to the pitching staff.

Score by innings:

Pitman 0 1 0 2 1 1 0 0 x—5

Maple Shade again rallied in the eighth inning to score three runs against the Palmyra Giants and beat them 8 to 7 Sunday at Maple Shade. Palmyra battled the "Shaders" a week ago fifteen innings before losing 3 to 2.

"Rube" McAllister was socked hard by the local Giants in the fifth and sixth rounds when they registered 7 runs to take the lead. The winners hopped on Cherry in the eighth to slam out the victory.

Score by innings:

Palmyra 0 0 0 2 5 0 0 0—7
Maple Shade 0 2 1 0 0 2 0 3 x—8

OUR CITIZEN CAMPS

According to recent press dispatches War Department authorities are congratulating themselves on the fact that 28,851 young men have received or are now receiving military training in citizens' military training camps. The War Department records at the time disclosed that 56,094 applications had been received up to July 20 and 44,976 candidates accepted and notified to report at training camps. It is to be remembered too, that thirteen citizens training camps were yet to open for this year so that the record promises to be even greater before the year is closed.

All records for number of applications and acceptance of candidates have been broken for this year, and the War Department in charge of this citizens military training has just cause for pride and self-congratulation.

The citizen who knows what is going on in the way of propaganda in this country will find an additional reason for satisfaction in the splendid showing to date. For many months the country has been fairly flooded by pacifist and anti-military propaganda. Of course we are constantly exposed to propaganda fire from all directions, but no brand has been more persistent than that of the pacifists.

Some of this propaganda has of course been spread by innocent, well meaning individuals who simply do not know, when it comes to international affairs. But a great deal of it has come from agencies more sinister, agencies which have the welfare of other doctrines than Americanism at heart.

We all know of course that America does not have the militarist spirit and never will have. We have plenty of room to develop in, and all we can do to mind our own business. Where pacifism should be spread is in Europe where there is always danger of war among overcrowded nations with a thousand years of tradition hostile toward one another.

Many of our pacifists show their "liberal" spirit by sympathy with Soviet Russia, yet Russia with its compulsory military training in schools and colleges, even among the girls, is the most militaristic nation on earth today.

The showing of the citizens of the military training camps is indeed encouraging, indicating as it does, that the pacifist propaganda has failed to work.

"ON TO SCHOOL"

With summer vacations drawing to a close, pupils of our schools and their parents should turn their minds to the important business of continuing youth's education.

The recent flight of Lindbergh is an inspiring example of seeing the task through. Just as Lindy turned his plane East and set out for Paris, so must the student turn his thoughts toward our educational institutions with the determination, "On to School."

We should employ as much determination, zeal and thoroughness in continuing this great adventure as Lindy did in his flight to France. The happy partnership of Lindy and his plane, which he termed "we," finds parallel in our partnership with our schools. We should unite the spirit of youth with the spirit of education, just as Lindy joined the "Spirit of America" with the "Spirit of St. Louis."

Lindbergh did not make his trip primarily for gain but for accomplishment. However, the former proved a valuable by-product. Let us follow his example, and, as he did, continue our flight in education for the good of the nation and the cause of progress, as well as for the returns to youth. Though the impulse is unselfish its fruits are substantial, for out of such enterprises springs the inspiration that generates creative power. A hundred plans in aviation are maturing because of Lindy's signal achievement. A thousand advantages accrue from the achievements of education.

Pupil no less than aviator must follow through to attain success. Lindy did not stop with the acclaim of the world ringing in his ears. He had just begun his start on a constructive career. He had finished but one lap of the race. The same application can be made to commencement and promotion in our schools; these are but steps to a higher service.

Parents are reminded that Lindbergh's backers had no guarantee of any returns. Loyalty and admiration for the spirit of this youth and the cause he championed inspired them to make any necessary sacrifices. This should be the attitude of parents and taxpayers who appreciate that education is the foundation for life.

It is timely, then, right now, when school days are just ahead, to turn our eyes toward our schools, also toward our boys and girls called on for an important decision, and sound the slogan, "On to School."

WORKERS OPPOSE RADICALS

"Who, in this country, are most effectively leading the movement against communists and radicals?" was a question asked by David F. Houston, formerly Secretary of the Treasury under President Wilson, in an address a few days ago. "Not the government, not professional and industrial leaders, but the leaders of the workman themselves. And so it is that when the people rule they can be depended upon to take care of those who instill poison into the public mind."

"Why is it that here, where the people rule, labor is, in the main, contented, has higher wages, and higher standards of living than can be found anywhere else in the world, while in Europe labor tends more to be mutinous and radical? I do not wonder that in many sections of Europe labor is mutinous and radical. I can easily imagine myself being an extreme radical in some parts of Europe and a rank conservative here. The things confronting the average man in Europe never existed here."

"Few leaders in eastern and southern Europe have developed to the point where they can formulate programs which would be in measurable distance of those which have long been incorporated in our life and have become commonplace. And yet, there are among us persons of alien origin, unaware of differences, unaware of the spirit and meaning of America, who would presume to tell us what to do. They can advise us to revolutionize our institutions. These people do not talk our language. They have no message for the people of this nation."

She—"How many cigars do you smoke in a day?"
He—"Oh, say given number."

YEAR TO THINK

When President Coolidge said "I do not choose to run for President in 1938," it caused our country to consider what would happen if our present sound industrial structure and returning farm stability was tampered with, under a changed national policy.

It makes no difference with what political party we are affiliated, we still must earn our bread and butter through regular and steady employment. It may be good sport for politicians or political parties to heckle each other with criticism. But when a public official of whatever party, who has guided his country through a troubled period in the world's history with increasing prosperity and reduced taxes, declines voluntarily to turn the reins of government over to a successor, he shifts the responsibility for continuation of sound government onto the shoulders of every citizen—they must express their opinion.

Some persons thought it profitable to criticize President Coolidge for showing a favorable attitude toward business development. Others saw humor in commenting on his New England thrift. The political wind-bag felt he was strengthening his own position by poking fun at the President's retiring manner, laconic statements and disinclination to talk except when required to do so. But that is all passed. It is now up to the critics and the admirers of President Coolidge, in both parties, to see if they can match his record for sound administration of the great corporation in the world, namely, the United States Government. The stockholders of this corporation, the citizens of the United States, today know more about business, more about investment and more about the conditions which are necessary to assure steady employment of labor than they ever did before. Most of the campaign blunder and political hocus pocus which was supposed to appeal to the voters in the past, will no longer fill the bill.

The voters of this country are like the baby that has grown out of the celluloid rattle and rubber doll stage—they want more solid meat. Making faces and waving the fool before them on the theory that it will please and amuse them as it sometimes does the small infant, will no longer appeal.

The ten short words uttered by President Coolidge give this nation a year to realize and consider what would happen as the result of any radical break away from a constructive, yet conservative national policy. Banker, factory executive, laboring man, public utility president, railroad manager, clerk and housewife have an equal opportunity to think over the situation and their own positions in the picture.

Republican or Democratic leadership bears the responsibility of choosing a qualified executive head for this nation. If the public officials chosen by either party are incompetent, the nation will be the one to suffer.

BILLION DOLLAR ROAD BILL

Taking the country as a whole, motor vehicle drivers last year paid taxes averaging 2.38 cents per gallon on almost 8,000,000,000 gallons of gasoline. The aggregate of this tax was $187,603,231. In addition, they paid $288,282,352 in motor vehicle registration and license fees.

About 95 per cent of gasoline taxes and 92 per cent of motor vehicle registration fees went to building and maintaining highways. If to this total be added special taxes imposed on motor coaches and motor trucks, property taxes on motor vehicles, taxes paid by the petroleum industry and the motor vehicle manufacturers, a total above $1,200,000,000 is reached.

That is, the people who buy, operate and manufacture motor vehicles, and produce, buy and burn gasoline are considerably more than paying the nation's road bill which now runs about $1,000,000,000 annually.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK

Business men engaged in retail trade should not be unduly depressed because of the undeniable letting down in business. Better times are coming. Nearly all the economic writers and the trade weather-vanes agree on that point. The slackening of business is seasonal. There are few lines in which business does not reflect the almost universal disposition to "take things easy" during Dog Days. Besides, August has come to be largely play month, when nearly everybody who can, goes somewhere; apparently it does not matter much, whether just so one gets away for a change.

Within our recollection there have been few Augusts that have proved to be the exception to the general rule of quiet business. In most cases it is the full immediately preceding the quieting of trade which can be depended upon to put in its appearance co-incidental with the first cool autumn days.

We are told that business in this country is fundamentally sound. Trade prospects are most encouraging and the stock market, by some regarded as the long range barometer of business conditions, long since started to discount the betterment which nearly all trade authorities forecast.—Exchange.

TAXES, APPARENT AND HIDDEN

"Every income earner in the United States pays, on the average, at least $250 per year in taxes of one sort or another, in other words about a dollar a day," says William Bennett Munro, Professor of municipal government in Harvard University.

"People who own property and earn large incomes are the ones who actually hand the collector his tax money, to be sure; but they merely give him, for the most part money which they have collected from others."

The owner of the apartment house collects taxes from his tenants in the form of rent; the storekeeper collects taxes in the price of his goods; the lawyer and the doctor collect taxes when they charge fees. Taxes are an element in the cost of everything, an element just as certain as interest, wages, or profit.

Taxes do not usually stay where they are levied. They are shifted from one shoulder to another until they finally reach someone, usually the ultimate consumer, who cannot unload the burden on anyone else. The ultimate consumer, not the big business man, supports the government.

Total.....$ 88,198.60

Indicated increase.....$ 27,998.60

Assuming that the present flat rates be changed to meter rates, together with the existing meters, it is estimated that the revenue from the proposed rates will be the following:—

Estimated Proposed Revenue.....$ 15,735.20

Fixed Service Charges.....$ 43,491.95

Fire Service.....$ 5,500.00

Miscellaneous.....$ 2,500.00

Total.....$ 71,167.15

The corresponding total return will then be approximately four and three tenths (4.3) per cent. on the fair value taken as the basis of the foregoing rates.

Respectfully submitted,

Palmyra, New Jersey.

State Police in Variety of Work

Troopers of Columbus Station Cover Wide Area Attending Various Duties

A disorderly case at Cookstown received the attention of Corporal Crawford and Trooper Doyle, of the Columbus station, after a complaint had come in from Mrs. Lester Moore. They arrested Lester Moore and Betty Smith, who gave Brown's Mills as her home. Mrs. Moore signed a complaint before Justice of the Peace Hancock at Cookstown and after the pair had been adjudged disorderly persons they were sentenced to serve thirty days in the county jail.

It was a narrow escape that Chester Crammer, of New Egypt, had from a penalty after he had driven through Main street, New Egypt, at two o'clock in the morning with the exhaust of his car open. Trooper Doyle was called to make an investigation. Justice of the Peace Rawley, at New Egypt, gave Crammer a severe reprimand and suspended sentence.

While on patrol duty Corporal Crawford and Trooper Doyle picked up James Hawkins, of Bristol, driving an old car without a driver's license, and with him were Charles Moore, Charles Ennis and Stacy Ellis, all of Bristol. The party was arraigned before Justice Kingdon in Mount Holly. The circumstances of the case caused the Court to impose fines of $25 and costs of $1 on Hawkins and Moore, and in default of payment they were sent to jail. Ennis was fined $5.00 as a disorderly person.

Smithville Smith Fined
Erie J. Smith, of Smithville, was driving beyond the legal limit when he struck the car of Charles H. Crammer, of Maple Shade, at Massonville and after he had been held by Constable John D. Smith the case was preferred before Justice Kingdon and a fine of $25 and costs of $1 were paid.

W. H. Mooney, of Columbus, had a collision with a horse and wagon owned and driven by Horace Simmons, of Jacksonville, along the Mount Holly and Jobstown road. Simmons was thrown out and slightly injured. Inmate taken to the Burlington County Hospital. Trooper Horn investigated and found that there was no light on the wagon and there was no police action against Mooney.

Trooper Horn arrested Otto Vellinger, of Ellizabeth, when he was doing some reckless driving along the Burlington pike and Justice Absalom of Florence, imposed a fine of $10 and costs.

Fred But Wouldn't Stay Fined
When a man is fined and will not stay fined it is time to call the police according to the view of Mr. Michael Kipstar, who resides on the old Kimberling farm on the Old York road near Heddins. Corporal Crawford investigated in response to a call and ascertained that after Louis Miss, 53 years old, had been fined in the morning he returned to the farm intoxicated in the afternoon. This was the situation that Mr. Kipstar didn't want to handle without official assistance and the matter was turned over to the officer who took Miss before Justice Kingdon in Mount Holly and got for him a sentence of four days in the county jail.

Corporal Crawford and Trooper Doyle answered a call to Cookstown to handle a fight. Elwood Archer had been beaten by Charles South, Elvin Archer and Othea Archer, who were in a drunken condition. The case was taken before Justice Charles Henline at Wrightstown and he gave the men a hearing for being drunk and disorderly.

Raucous Colored Frauds
Troopers Brown and Leon were polling a colored dance at Hancock Park when Daisy Gurn, of Camden, and Earl Myers, of Patuxent, were the principals in a disorderly scene that called for their arrest. Justice Kingdon at Mount Holly sent them to serve ninety days in the county jail.

Verna Dunlap, of Whiting, was picked up by Corporal Crawford and Trooper Doyle while operating a car without a driver's license, and George Mick, of the New Egypt section, was arrested for allowing Miss Dunlap to drive his car. Each was fined $10 and costs.

Alexander Sharp, colored, was arrested on the Hartford road for driving without a license. Justice Kingdon imposed a fine of $25 and $1 costs, and when a settlement could not be made Sharp was sent to the county jail.

Norman Carr, between Wrightstown and Pointville, was picked up by Troopers Horn and Doyle without his license or registration cards and without lights on his car. Justice Fred L. Polisset, of Columbus, fined him $5 and costs.

Walter Stachnauer, of Jacobstown was arrested and committed to the Ocean county jail at Toma River on a charge of stealing an automobile tire from H. Lawrence, of New Egypt, while his car was at Barker's Grove during the progress of a dance.

MILLVILLE TROLLEY LINE KNOCKED OUT

Cannot Stand Competition From Buses; Wants to Discontinue

After having operated the local trolley line between Millville and Vineland for a quarter of a century, the Millville Traction Company has made application to the City Commission to discontinue service and to substitute buses with the same schedule and rate of fare.

The company asserts that thousands of dollars have been lost annually in maintaining trolley service, and that while fares have been doubled wagon and cost of upkeep have advanced also, and with one-man cars the heavy losses continued. Bus lines and private automobiles almost depicting riders in the cars.

The commission laid the application over for two weeks. Residents along the trolley line are almost unanimously favorable to the proposed change.

EGYPT CONTROLS HOLL WEEVIL

FARM LONELINESS BANISHED

SCIENCE AND RELIGION

America's millions, who imagine they are thirsty for light wine, beer or something stronger, will be interested in this.

United States capital has recently lent nearly $200,000,000 to help foreign countries develop their liquor and beer business. Even in the Far East this country has loaned liquor production to the tune of more than $5,000,000.

Mr. Hayward Kendall, who represents unorganized drivers throughout the country, says: "The Eighteenth Amendment is saving America (in cash expenditures and increased efficiency) from six to eight billion dollars a year."

The nation's purchasing power has certainly increased amazingly since prohibition came.

In 1919 there were in America 6,500,000 automobiles. Now there are 20,000,000, and not enough. The country spends half a billion a year on radio, many millions for washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric refrigerators. Workers in America spend more lavishly than the rich in Europe.

Mr. Kendall thinks it would be a national calamity if the outpouring of money were diverted from automobiles and radio to wine and beer.

While the boll weevil continues spreading in the United States (radio telegraph that).

"Thanks to vigorous Government measures, the area affected by the boll weevil has been considerably circumscribed."

Egyptian acreage affected by the pest has been reduced from 89,000 to 5,000 acres. What Egypt can do this country certainly ought to do. We have the scientists, the money and the boll weevil. What is the matter with us?

This news will not sell extra papers, like a Dempsey-Tunney fight, but will be important long after Dempsey and Tunney cease to be important. Pennsylvania State College has discovered that the vitamin B, so important to life, is manufactured by the cow in her stomach in great quantities.

Scientists cut a little door into the "rumen," or second stomach of the cow, and deprived her of all food containing vitamin B. Nevertheless, in a little incubator that second stomach the cow produced the precious vitamin B in profusion.

That may mean to child life as much as the admirable fight against impure milk made by Nathan Straus.

In cities people go crazy more frequently than they once did. Excitement, bootleg liquor and other things help. In New York State one person in every twenty-five has been in the insane asylum, according to the American Psychiatric Association.

There is less insanity than formerly among women on farms. Loneliness, that used to drive them insane by the thousands, has been softened by telephone, radio, parcels post, and, above all, the automobile.

President Vinson tells young people of Western Reserve University that no conflict exists between science and religion; they occupy different fields. He wisely remarks that science, without religion, would lead to hopeless materialism, just as religion, when it denies the plain truths of science, leads to fanaticism and superstition.

Religion and science are like astrology and astronomy, or like alchemy and chemistry.

Astronomy started in astrology, chemistry started in alchemy, with experimenters seeking to make gold.

Science started in religion. Men, questioning the origin of things, first gave a religious answer, everything based on miracles. Then they studied more closely and began giving scientific answers.

All told 24,000,000 automobiles are in use in fifty-nine countries of the earth. The United States has 20,000,000 of the 24,000,000. The United States Commerce Department gives the figures. We have one automobile for every six persons. Hawaii one to eleven. Canada one to thirteen. Afghanistan has one to 1,500,000. Poor Afghanistan, happy America. To have a motor is to defy the law of gravitation, and be a free man.

Frelinghuysen to Seek Senatorship
Gave Farmers To Understand at Cumberland County Fair That He Will Enter Race

Former United States Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, speaking last Thursday in his capacity as president of the State Board of Agriculture at the Gloucester County Grange Fair at Pitman, let his hearers fully understand that he will be a candidate again in 1928 for Senator but not actually coming out with a formal announcement to that effect. That is to come shortly, his supporters say. In spite of the rain, the attendance reached nearly 7,500. Frelinghuysen spoke upon the five pending Constitutional amendments, advocating the four-year term for Governor. "It is also time for a closed season of law-making," he said in urging the adoption of the amendment for biennial sessions of the Legislature. "So many laws were enacted this year that it is impossible for anyone to be conversant with any of them."

The former Senator warned of the serious results of saying amendments here doubled in the last ten years and rates have increased from eighty to two hundred per cent. "Anything above a three per cent. tax rate is confiscatory," he declared, and urged the farmers to see who they put in public office to handle their finances.

Referring to the Senatorial situation he said: "I stand on my past record. I have had all the honors that the office has given, but it is entirely a matter of service with me, and it is for the people to choose."

GOT A NICKEL?
Here's the Greatest Treat in the Whole Smoking World for 5c

Go ahead and doubt it. You can't be blamed. For you've been hearing all your life about big cigars that are "really worth more." No doubt you've been disappointed more than once!

Just the same, a good big cigar is possible and Havana Ribbon is its name! Here's the difference: Havana Ribbon sold at a higher price for years. Sold big! And just because it did pile up such volume sales it is now possible to make the price a nickel. A downright good cigar—regardless of price. With all the mellowness and body that comes from ripe tobacco. Try it. Step into a nearby cigarette store—today—and ask for "Havana Ribbon." It will cost you just a nickel, but you'll forget the price the minute that mellow mildness and friendly fragrance start talking to your taste!

Gave Farmers To Understand at Cumberland County Fair That He Will Enter Race

Former United States Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, speaking last Thursday in his capacity as president of the State Board of Agriculture at the Gloucester County Grange Fair at Pitman, let his hearers fully understand that he will be a candidate again in 1928 for Senator but not actually coming out with a formal announcement to that effect. That is to come shortly, his supporters say. In spite of the rain, the attendance reached nearly 7,500. Frelinghuysen spoke upon the five pending Constitutional amendments, advocating the four-year term for Governor. "It is also time for a closed season of law-making," he said in urging the adoption of the amendment for biennial sessions of the Legislature. "So many laws were enacted this year that it is impossible for anyone to be conversant with any of them."

The former Senator warned of the serious results of saying amendments here doubled in the last ten years and rates have increased from eighty to two hundred per cent. "Anything above a three per cent. tax rate is confiscatory," he declared, and urged the farmers to see who they put in public office to handle their finances.

Referring to the Senatorial situation he said: "I stand on my past record. I have had all the honors that the office has given, but it is entirely a matter of service with me, and it is for the people to choose."

Just the same, a good big cigar is possible and Havana Ribbon is its name! Here's the difference: Havana Ribbon sold at a higher price for years. Sold big! And just because it did pile up such volume sales it is now possible to make the price a nickel. A downright good cigar—regardless of price. With all the mellowness and body that comes from ripe tobacco. Try it. Step into a nearby cigarette store—today—and ask for "Havana Ribbon." It will cost you just a nickel, but you'll forget the price the minute that mellow mildness and friendly fragrance start talking to your taste!

Even Statues Are Bolted to Hotel Floors to Thwart Souvenir Hunters

Average Stranger Guest Regarded as Potential Thief Who Will Leave Only Ice Chest and Elevator Because Other Things Are More Easily Pocketed

Why is it that so many people, ordinarily scrupulous and upright, make it a regular practice to beat the hotel? Not, of course, by lowering the luggage from the back window and slipping away without paying the bill, but in the matter of carrying off all sorts of "souvenirs" from a bunch of quill footprints to a Bible or an ornate clock.

Hotel keepers, says the New York World, tactfully avoid the subject, but they are compelled to regard the average stranger guest as a potential thief, who will leave the icebox and the elevator because these things are more easily pocketed and packed away—unnoticed, of course, in the suit-case. Such petty but persistent depredations, it has been figured out, cost the hotel annually to a ratio of about $1 a head per person. Here are some of the things they fancy, according to the statisticians at the McAlpin:

Five hundred and fifty coal buckets, one every month, bound for all points between Eastport, Me., and San Diego, Cal. Sliding steel and brass handles, and thefts fell off, because the handle, topped with a steel knob to fit the bucket, could not be used elsewhere. But once in a while some undaunted visitor, sooner than waste half an hour of spare time, devotes it to removing the whole works.

Each year, 2,000 McAlpin bed sheets flutter away to cover uneasy sleepers in forty-eight States. There was a time when the hotel furnished pure linen sheets, but these proved entirely too popular, and now the universal half-and-half kind are in use. To make up for this a small slumber pillow is added to the bed, but these are being swindled up with much gusto. Mrs. A. returns from a trip, shows her haul to Mrs. B., and you know how it is with word-of-mouth advertising.

Eighteen tons of soap vanish annually, but this is expected. The same with $100,000 worth of pens, pencils and stationery that disappear during the same period.

Then there is the most popular item of all. More truth than poetry is in the anecdote about Broadway chorus girls.

"Well, Miss Pullman," says one to a new arrival, "here's hoping you grab off a live one this season."

"Thanks, dearie," returns the other, "but my name ain't Pullman."

"Why, sure it is," insists the first. "I seen it on your towel."

The hotel people see nothing to chuckle about. Last year they lost $1,600 towels—$17,000 worth.

Souvenir Styles Change. Styles in souvenirs change, like everything else. The days are gone when the head of the family stuffed a few coffee and salt spoons into his vest pocket as a surprise for the little woman at home. Now everything movable is game. The McAlpin loses $53,000 worth of silver every twelve-month. Two thousand four hundred pieces go to decorate alien dressers. Bathrobe and slippers sets and slippers among the casualties. And the rear is brought up by a flood of lamp shades, brass cuspids, coffee pots and telephone book covers.

After all, there is nothing like a little souvenir to bring back fond memories. That's why the Pennsylvania Hotel loses so many of the bronze ash trays provided for smoking in the lobby. And some one with a large capacity for artistic sentiment became permanently attached to a 250 pound bronze statue! Very likely he felt no sense of guilt, after reading E. M. Stiller's dictum that "the guest is always right." But it won't happen again.

There are always connoisseurs who scorn the obvious and go gawping for the unusual. They uncrow wall clocks and colored light bowls at the Roosevelt. If they are fond of reading in bed, the overhead lamp goes home with them. And not all the pilfering is confined to the guest rooms. A table scarf in the Chinese silk was taken from the Roosevelt lounge. Probably some one thought it would make a lovely bridge prize. Another slight-of-hand magician decamped with a three-foot tapestry cushion and a large Chinese vase.

"Stolen From Successful." The famous old hotel Manhattan cherished no delusions. Its guests drank from particular thin and delicate drinking glasses, embossed with the hotel crest. Very tempting to the collector—but the words "STOLEN FROM" chased prominently above the crest must have rather dimmed the pilferer's pride of possession.

Silver-plated thermos bottles filled every day with fresh spring water were a feature at the Marlin and Medford Hotels in Milwaukee. The trouble is that some guests can't bear to leave their behind. For the same reason the Brown Palace has stopped supplying transients with makeshift letter openers. The Knightsbridge and the Berkeley in London have their waiters do picket duty on the handsome crystal and silver marmalade jars during the tourist season. Certain predatory-eyed ladies have been overheard to say that their too quaint for anything—except for their own breakfast tables!

Shower bath curtains and sprays have been spirited away from the El Roy in Los Angeles, and electric fans from the St. Charles in New Orleans.

The Atlantic in Chicago has an especially attractive metal key tag. It bears the key-relief of the hotel and has become very popular as a pocket piece. The Fort Dearborn once installed a small machine in every room whereby a quarter would release a tooth brush, shaving cream, talcum and so forth. A psychologist would have advised against it—but experience has cured the Fort Dearborn of this particular line of benevolence.

Baggage Room Checks. The Copley-Plaza in Boston had an unusual dealing with a guest who must have been the brother of the well known brass band. During his stay of a day or two he found opportunity to steal one of the baggage room checks. After leaving the hotel he returned two days later and claimed that he had

NATHAN LEADS DAVID TO REPENTANCE

LESSON TEXT—II Sam. 11:1-12:31. GOLDEN TEXT—A broken and contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise. PRIMARY TOPIC—God Shows David His Sin. JUNIOR TOPIC—Nathan Calls David to Repentance. INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Confessing and Forgetting Sin. YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Repentance: What It Is, and What It Does.

1. David's Crimes (II Sam. 11). 1. Adultery (vv. 2-4). He by his kingly authority brought Bathsheba, the beautiful wife of Uriah, one of his brave soldiers, into his harem.

2. Murder (vv. 14-18). David sought to cover up his shameful act of adultery with Bathsheba by calling Uriah from the field of battle and giving him a furlough at home with his wife. (He first gave him honorable recognition by sending a portion of meat from the royal table—v. 8.) Uriah's high sense of military duty and propriety would not allow him to do this.

Falling in this, David corrupted him by making him drunk, with the expectation that Uriah would thus go home. When these schemes would not work he resorted to the terrible crime of exposing Uriah to the most dangerous place in the battle where he would surely be killed.

II. Contributing Factors in David's Fall.

1. Idleness (11:1). It was the king's responsibility to go forth with his army to battle. David tarried at Jerusalem because of indolence or self-indulgence.

2. He looked upon a beautiful woman (11:2). As he was lounging in idleness, this temptation was too great for him. He yielded to his lustful impulse and sent his servants to bring the woman to him. This action on the part of David was absolutely inexcusable. David had the power to turn from this sin and thus escape temptation.

III. David Rebuked by Nathan, the Prophet (12:1-12).

What David had done displeased the Lord (12:1). What he had done gratified his own carnal lust, but the serious thing is that it displeased the Lord. Because David was God's own, God could not let the matter rest. He therefore sent Nathan, His prophet, to him.

1. The parable of the ewe lamb (vv. 1-4). Among the Jews it was customary to have pet lambs which were brought up with the children of the family and therefore regarded with tender affection. Nathan pictures before David a poor man whose sole possession consisted of one such lamb, and a rich neighbor when entertaining a guest had appropriated unto himself this lamb instead of drawing upon his numerous flock.

2. The instrument can be carried by climbers. The drop in temperature gives a more accurate index of the increase in altitude than the ordinary pocket aneroid used by mountaineers.

Old Cathedral in Danger

Lack of foresight by Twelfth-century builders has resulted in cracks in the walls, towers and arches of the cathedral at Mayence. The builders of 800 years ago apparently did not reckon with the possibility that the level of the Rhine would sometime fall. The piles driven when the cathedral was built served well in supporting the masonry as long as they were immersed in water, but due to the fall of the level of the river, the water-logged soil dried and shrank and the piles decayed. The wall apparently sagged and cracks appeared. Due to possible danger through using the cathedral, the authorities closed it some time ago.

Apartment for Hogs

Little Mary, age three, made her first visit to her uncle's farm, in an adjoining state, recently. Two observations reported to her mother during the visit bring home the fact that farm life is very remote to the city child.

One morning she came in and said, "Oh, mother, my uncle showed me the pigs and I saw all of their cute little apartment houses, too."

On another occasion she said, in a puzzled manner, "I see how they get the milk out of the cows, but I have been watching and watching and have not found out yet how they get the milk into the cows."

Rebuked by Washington

Virtually the only woman who came closely into Washington's life who seemed to distrust him was his brother-in-law's daughter, Harriet. She lived with the Washingtons for over ten years, until her marriage. Her fallings seem to have been carelessness and extravagance. She had "no disposition to be careful of her clothes," which were "dashed about in every hole and corner and her best things always in use," so that "she costs me enough," said Washington.—Detroit News.

The Coward

To die in order to avoid the pains of poverty, love, or anything that is disagreeable is not the role of a brave man, but of a coward. For it is cowardice to shun the misfortunes and trials of life, not undergoing death because it is honorable, but to escape evil.—Aristotle.

Light Hearts Abound in Kerry Mountains

Next morning the temptress was still high, and venturing upon the strand there saw, as at Valentia, crowds of women bused; and speaking to one she replied, "These starchy nightgowns, blow good luck to the poor; they wash up the day-weed, and that's why we see so many now at work."

The company increased till I counted more than sixty; and busy, merry work they made of it; running with heavy loads upon their heads, dripping with wet, excitedly throwing them down, and bounding away in glee. Truly, "A merry heart doeth good like a medicine." "And are you not cold?" "Oh, no, ma'am, the salt sea keeps us warm." "And how many days must you work in this way, before you get a supply?" "Aw, sometimes not fairly, but scores of days." "And all you have for your labor is the potato?" "That's all, ma'am, that's all; and it's many of us that can't get the sup of milk with 'em, no, nor the salt; but we can't help it, we must be content with what the good God sends us."

She hitched her basket over her shoulder and, in company with one older than herself, skipped upon the sand made wet with rain, and, turning suddenly about, gave me a pretty specimen of Kerry dancing, as practiced by the peasantry. "The sand is too wet, ma'am, to dance right well on," and again shouldering her basket, with a "Good-bye ye on yer journey," leaped away.

I looked after them among the rocks, more with admiration for the moment than with pity; for what hearts, and splendor and ease, lighter than these! This woman, who danced before me, was more than fifty, and I do not believe that the daughter of Herodias herself was more graceful in her movements, more beautiful in complexion or symmetry, than was this dark-haired matron of the mountains.

—From "The Hille in Ireland" by Anonath Nicholson.

Injurious Fashion

Dieting to reduce may affect a woman's temperament, according to Dr. A. A. Mace of Sheffield, England. "The slim figure demanded by modern fashion has led to innumerable cases of dieting among these women," Doctor Mace stated in an article in the medical journal, the Lancet. "I have noted how a previously contented, cheerful and placid individual has, on attaining a marked reduction in her weight, become irritable, sullen and often definitely bad-tempered. I admit that with moderate reduction in weight is connected activity of both body and mind is usually increased, but if the reducing process has been carried too far, pronounced lassitude with nervous irritability occurs."

Barometer Beaten

Eight times as sensitive as a barometer! This is the claim made for a new instrument which measures altitudes above sea level.

French physicists have invented this efficient method, which involves heating a wire of resistance by passing an electric current through it. When a steady temperature has been produced, the wire, if moved upwards, will become cooler owing to the lesser density of the surrounding air.

The instrument can be carried by climbers. The drop in temperature gives a more accurate index of the increase in altitude than the ordinary pocket aneroid used by mountaineers.

Forget Your Troubles

When you forget your troubles And help give others joy, Life's sorrows soon will leave you And cease to ever annoy Your soul, that is uplifted By happiness you give To other souls around you. Then, joyously, you'll live.

You'll cease to worry over Or, troubles, e'er invent; But you will count the blessings That God, to you, has sent! Then joyous love will fill you With happiness, divine, And how your eyes will sparkle And, with sweet love-light, shine.

But if you fret and worry And do not do your best, You then will soon be finding You'll not, with joy, be blest. So look to God and ask him To help you every day To always just be living Life's cheerful, joyous way.

Then many friends will love you, And, happiness, you'll find Because you're always trying To be so good and kind. You'll be like magnet drawing Good peoples' love to you; And they'll delight in finding Nice things, for you, to do.

Martha Shepard Leppincott.

Now

If you have hard work to do, Do it now. Today the skies are clear and blue, Tomorrow clouds may come in view. Yesterday is not for you. Do it now.

If you have a song to sing, Sing it now. Let the tones of gladness ring Clear as song of bird in spring. Let every day some music bring. Sing it now.

If you have kind words to say, Say them now. Tomorrow may not come your way, Do a kindness while you may! Loved ones will not always stay. Say them now.

If you have a smile to show, Show it now. Make hearts happy, roses grow, Let the friends around you know The love you have before they go. Show it now.

Night Back At Him

Two old Scotchmen who hadn't met since they were boys at home, were renewing the acquaintance as they sat on the porch of the summer hotel. One had lost an eye and was very sensitive about it. Finally the other, seeming to notice it for the first time said: "Whaur's ye fiber e'e, Sandy?" Glancing at his companion's shiny pate, Sandy retorted, "Ho! mon! it's awa' lookin' fer ye a'oot."

Fact and Fancy

"The worst winter I remember was when we were besieged," said the old soldier. "We had only one bite of a day for two weeks, and that was horse flesh."

"I remember living for a month on one bite, and that was out of my leg," said O'Brien, his companion.

"It's true, believe it or not," said O'Brien, "my dog took a bite out of my leg, and the insurance kept me like a lord for four weeks."

Exercises At Burlington County Hospital To Attract Many County Folks

The cornerstone for the new Burlington County Hospital in Mount Holly is to be laid on Saturday afternoon, September 10, and the arrangements for an appropriate celebration on such a memorable occasion are now being made. It will be a county affair that people from everywhere will be expected to attend.

The committee is not yet prepared to make a definite announcement about the program, but it has been settled that there will be music and speaking in addition to the formal stone laying. Those who have been identified with the hospital management over a long period of years will have their important places in the exercises and it is proposed to make it an occasion that will be pleasing and also be another contribution to the interesting history of the institution.

Formal announcements will come when the committee is ready to give out definite information and the public will be properly posted for the big day. It is something due to have the new hospital far enough advanced to call for the cornerstone in this formal way.

PALMYRA LOSES SERIES

Palmyra dropped a 4 to 2 decision to the Riverside A. C. last Wednesday night at the Field Club grounds in one of the best played contests this season, but thus lost an opportunity of winning the independent championship of Burlington county. Had Palmyra won this game, a third contest would have been necessary to settle the championship and would have been played at the Public Service ball park, Camden. Riverside won the first engagement at Riverside average weeks ago by a 4 to 3 count.

Palmyra gathered seven bingles from Harry Young, who pitched airtight ball for Riverside.

Expert Repairing

Repairs that are dependable

For fitting that is dependable

It takes more than a roll of tin, a pair of shears and a soldering iron to do a good job of tinning or repainting work. It takes practical ability and experience. Tin roofs of old-fashioned honesty of construction. Flashing and gutter work by men who know how.
