IMPROVING OF MOORESTOWN-CAMDEN ROAD CONSIDERED BY FREEHOLDERS

Unused Trolley Tracks Are a Menace to Traffic, Says Stout

BOARD PROTESTS JUMP IN COUNTY TAX RATE

An attempt will be made to improve the roadway between Moorestown and Camden, through the efforts of Charles R. Stout, director of roads of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders.

At the meeting of the board last Friday, Mr. Stout called attention to the fact that the unused trolley tracks which run on both sides of the Moorestown-Camden road are a menace to traffic. Cars have not been operated over this line for the last six months and the roadbed has been allowed to get out of repair. The roadway is only sixteen feet in width, which is insufficient for the heavy traffic and Mr. Stout suggested that the space between the rails of the trolley track should be filled in to a level with the road.

One objection to this plan, however, is the fact that the outer rail is higher than the one next to the road, and would prevent the water from draining over to the side of the road.

It was suggested that the outer rail might be removed altogether and Mr. Stout was asked to take the matter up with the trolley company.

Mr. Fisher, director of the department of bridges, presented to the board a request made that the county repair bridges over drainage ditches in the state forestry reserve.

Adds to Fire Risk

Fire wardens, he said, have reported their work in protecting the forests from the ravages of fire is greatly hampered, and it was pointed out that should fire break out at a certain location near New Gretna, a seven-mile detour would be necessary before the spot could be reached.

After discussion as to who is responsible for bridges in the state forestry reservations in this county, it was the freeholders opinion that the state should keep up their own bridges throughout the reservations. It was declared that the county should not pay the cost of their bridges and culverts inasmuch as it might set a precedent and lead owners of other forest property to expect county aid.

Protest Tax Rise

A protest against the decision of the State Board of Taxation to increase assessment valuations 10 per cent. in Burlington county was made by the freeholders.

The proposed increase is part of a plan to equalize taxation in the state. County Solicitor Harold B. Wells will attend a hearing at Trenton next Wednesday to protest against the new schedule.

The suggested jump will increase the total valuation in the county, from $8,291,444 to $64,780,588.40.

Freeholder William H. Heisler of the finance committee reported that the audit of the county has been completed under the direction of Walter Darby, of the state department of municipal accounts.

Request from Moorestown

Charles Laessle, clerk of the Moorestown township committee, notified the board that a catch basin at Kings highway and Camden pike was badly located and failed to carry off the surface water after heavy rains. The situation has already been remedied, Freeholder Stout told the board.

The Public Service Gas and Electric Company was granted permission to lay gas mains on Garden street, Mount Holly, and in Columbus, and to string wires on the Rancocas-Mount Holly road.

Congressman Bacharach, in acknowledging a letter addressed to him by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders asking him to use his influence to have Camp Dix selected as the location of the veterans' hospital, replied that he was already on record as favoring this project.

The state highway commission addressed a letter to the board giving its approval of the motor vehicle aid agreements and road maintenance and betterment schedules submitted by the board for the year 1928.

Department bills were ordered paid as follows: Roads, $16,147.68; bridges, $1,695.85; finance, $69,308.99; buildings, $10,228.81; affairs, $7,260.32.

MOVIE HITS

"The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come," the idyllic film-drama, will be the feature attraction at the Walt Whitman, Monday and Tuesday.

As Chad Buford, the Kentucky mountain lad, who dreamed of "the settlement's" books and grand persons, Dick Barthelmess has added another lovable and unforgettable portrait to his already brilliant gallery.

Monte Blue in "Across the Atlantic" will be shown next Wednesday. The picture is an aviation romance, carrying its hero overseas to France in a captured plane. Thrilling, dramatic, human, the picture is made to order for the two-fisted man who stars in it.

Wild animals, horses, a great circus and a circus train are among the adjuncts to the latest comedy efforts of the heroes of "Rookies." Karl Dane and George K. Arthur. "Circus Rookies," will be seen Thursday and Friday.

The feature Saturday of next week will be Johnny Hines' latest First National Picture, "Chinatown Charlie," produced by C. C. Burr, which has been declared by New York and Hollywood critics to be the comedian's biggest and funniest production to date.

BOY HIT BY TRUCK DIES

Arthur Reeves Struck While Riding Bicycle on Broad Street

Arthur M. Reeves, 12 years old, of 612 Lippincott avenue, Riverton, died Friday afternoon in the West Jersey Hospital from internal injuries and a fractured skull suffered when a five-ton truck struck him that morning.

The lad, with his sister Esther, was on his way to Palmyra at the time of the accident. Arthur was riding his bicycle close to the curb and was moving slowly so as to keep with his sister. When they were in front of the McCoy Service Station at Broad and Linden, Reeves turned out to go around a parked delivery truck, and just as he turned away from the curb he was struck by the larger truck.

Harry Winklespecht, manager of the service station, saw the boy immediately after the accident and went out to pick him up. The boy's left arm was badly crushed and bleeding freely. "Wink" took off his belt and made a tourniquet to stop the bleeding. Arthur was taken to Dr. Mills' office and the physician ordered him to the West Jersey Hospital immediately as hospital attention was imperative. "Wink" and the boy's mother accompanied him to the hospital in the Palmyra Ambulance.

Harry Karman, of Burlington, driver of the Devlin Manufacturing Company truck which struck the boy, went to Palmyra police headquarters and gave himself up. Officer Quigley, of Riverton, was called there and brought the driver back to Riverton for a hearing. Squire Coddington held Karman under $1,000 bail. After being notified of the boy's death Quigley rearrested Karman and Coddington committed him to the county jail, where he was released under $2,000 bail.

Arthur had a host of friends and was very popular among his young companions.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Snover Funeral Home. Interment was made at Odd Fellows cemetery, Burlington.

WANTS OLD ROAD ROUTE TO HOLLY

County Seat Chamber Opposes New Course for No. 38 Highway

The executive committee of Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce last week discussed the tentative route that has been suggested by the State Highway Commission for the highway known as route 38, which is authorized in a recent act passed by the legislature, from Crescent boulevard through Merchantville, Pensauken, Moorestown and Mount Holly, to the Eastampton township line.

Opposition was expressed to the suggested plan of adopting an entirely new course for route 38, improvement of which is authorized by the statute. Careful reading of that statute reveals that the route is described in general terms that entire disregard of the present road from Mount Holly to the boulevard is permissible. The object of adopting the new route, which parallels the present road about half a mile to the south, is to eliminate the necessity of passing through large towns. Paralleling an old road, it is contended, is a waste of taxpayers' money and a useless expense. Going through towns can be avoided without entire abandonment of the established road.

The plan suggested by the executive committee is to have the state rebuild the present road from Long Crossing, Moorestown, to a point near Bedwell's pond, out Washington street, Mount Holly, where, if it is desired to avoid coming through Mount Holly, a cut-off can be constructed, leading over or under the Pennsylvania railroad, to connect with South avenue at the Burlington county hospital corner, thence pass over South avenue and connect with the South Pemberton road at the Children's Home corner.

This plan, it is contended, will avoid the expense of duplicating roads and bridges. If the present road is rebuilt by the state, it can be widened considerably, to conform approximately with the width now desired by the State Highway Commission.

The executive committee voted to recommend this plan to the Chamber of Commerce and also to suggest that it be recommended to the Board of Freeholders, to townships through which the present road passes, and to local civic or other organizations interested in saving taxpayers' money.

JUNIOR TEAM TO PLAY SATURDAYS

Management of Riverton A. A. Changes Plans; Seniors to Play Thursday Nights

At a meeting of the executive board of the Riverton A. A., Thursday evening, it was decided to curtail baseball expenses for the balance of the season.

A lack of attendance at the senior games shows the public does not appreciate a first-class senior team, or that they would prefer to attend the games played by the eighteen-year-old junior team.

The baseball games as announced for this week (Thursday evening the juniors playing Warwick Boys' Club and Saturday afternoon the seniors playing Clearview) will be carried out as scheduled.

Commencing next week, which really will be a trial week of the new program, the juniors will play only two games weekly—Monday or Tuesday evening and Saturday afternoon. The senior team will play only one game in the week, and that on Thursday evening, and the baseball committee will make an extra effort to schedule some nearby club, preferably a club from the Burlington County League.

The executive board feels it is now up to the public to indicate by their attendance if the new arrangement meets with their approval.

Our senior baseball team this season has been first-class in every respect. In playing ability and particularly in deportment on the field the seniors have set a good example for the juniors to follow.

The game played last Monday evening by the juniors shows the determination of the boys of that team to make of themselves a first-class club.

When you thing of the reputation the Philadelphia champions have, and particularly the class of pitching our boys had to face, they certainly acquitted themselves notably.

There will be an early further announcement about the clubs which will play here next week.

ODD FELLOWS

Cinnaminson Lodge No. 201, I. O. O. F., was royally entertained on Monday evening last by Amity Lodge, of Merchantville. A large representation from "201" motored to Merchantville where they found a hearty welcome awaiting them.

Discourse and a general social time filled the hours of the evening which were concluded by the serving of very tasty refreshments.

Brothers of Cinnaminson are again to be reminded of the Watermelon Party to be held on the lawn of Eula Roach, 430 Delaware avenue, this evening.

This will take the place of the customary ladies' night, and every member is invited to bring his wife, his family or his lady friend.

TAILORS TO PROTECT PUBLIC

Albert F. B. Malice, of Burlington, president of the recently former Retail and Cleaner Association of Burlington County, announced this week that the organization will use every effort to protect the public from unscrupulous members of these trades. The Association proposes to do all that is possible for the convenience and benefit of the public.

The local members are: Kurkian Brothers, Alfonso Taglialatela and J. L. Young, of Palmyra, and Albert McCombs and Julius Waddell, of Riverton.

PRINCIPLE WELL STATED

"Society requires certain public activities," said President Coolidge recently, "like highways and drainage, which are used in common, and can best be provided by the government. But in general the country is best served through the competition of private enterprise. If the people are to remain politically free, they must be economically free. Their only hope in that direction is for them to keep their own business in their own hands.

MEMORIAL PARK SWIMMING HOLE

Average of 1000 a Week Enjoy Cool Waters of Creek; Mostly Children

From Monday, July ninth, to Saturday the twenty-eighth, the bathers at the Memorial Park swimming hole numbered approximately three thousand. About ninety per cent. were under fifteen years of age. Parents very often accompany their children, not so much for their safety as for the pleasure they derive watching the "kiddies" enjoying this safe pool and gradually developing into fearless bathers and swimmers. During high tide, which is not over six and a half feet in the deepest spot, the children who cannot swim are not allowed beyond a safety zone. The children can have all the healthy fun desired providing they do not interfere with their own safety or that of the other children.

Everything possible is done to instill in their minds the importance of swimming exercise for their health, and of being good sports with one another. Several have learned to swim along the right lines. Once a week the Red Cross examiner and instructor gives talks and tests for beginners, swimmers and Junior Life Savers. These tests apply to ages seventeen and under. When the junior passes his life saving test he is put to work teaching non-swimmers.

A Senior Life saving test will be given to any person over seventeen. The Red Cross man will be on hand next Tuesday around 1.45 p. m. Any person wishing these valuable lessons free of cost can have them by giving their names to the guard and being on hand. This is an excellent opportunity to learn correctly the swimming strokes and how to save a life. For children there is no better pool with less danger in every respect, and no healthier summer exercise.

Notes

Several parents have been overheard to say that the removal of a jagged stump and some large stones would meet with their approval.

Some soiled clothes from having nothing but the ground to sit on has also caused comment.

Parents can co-operate very much by keeping their dogs from where the "kiddies" splash, for this is a dangerous month.

GUARD.

COMMUNICATED

Must Our Children be Killed Because One of Our Civic Laws Has Outlived its Usefulness?

Because he was forced to ride his bicycle in the street, a boy, full of the joy of living, was killed last week.

A happy home has been plunged into deepest sorrow, and only a mother and father who have gone through this ordeal can know what the parents of Arthur Reeves are enduring now. But one thing all parents do know (that is, parents who have boys and girls who ride bicycles) and that is, a nervous dread, each time the child goes for a ride.

The old rule that children must not ride bicycles on the sidewalk, was very good when bicycles were used more as a conveyance than they are now, and when more folks were walking.

But—which is more crowded today—the street or the sidewalk? And which place would be safest for our boys and girls to ride?

Could we not have a law saying every bicycle must be equipped with a bell or horn, and failure to use this before passing a pedestrian would mean a fine for the child's parents.

I can scarcely believe our children would be as reckless as a lot of the motorists who infest our city streets.

As conditions exist today our children have no place to ride a bicycle except against the curb; and then if the child comes to a parked car, which he must go around, he is instantly menaced by a car coming in either direction. And what if it happens to be one of the heavily laden trucks or buses which constantly use our highways? The child is lost.

Of course we will hear some folks say their children can never have bicycles because of the danger, and others, who have no children, will protest riding on the sidewalks, saying, probably, bicycles are not a necessity. True, they are not, but who has a heart so old and dead that he or she has forgotten the wild thrill of joy which accompanied their shining new bicycle, when they were a "kid"?

Let us remember our children will be the future citizens of Riverton, and we must protect them, and see that they get healthy out-door exercise, in order that they will be worthwhile citizens.

Mrs. Clarence N. Hubbs.

THREE SPEEDERS

Two of Motor Laws Violators Pay $18 in Fines Sunday

Three speeders were the only motor vehicle laws violators arrested in Moorestown Sunday. All three were arrested by Officer Walter A. Errickson and were tried before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Town Hall. They were:

Andrew Hoding, 6709 Haverford avenue, Philadelphia, who was fined $5.00 and costs.

Arthur Little, 109 Colonial avenue Haddonfield. He paid $5.00 and costs.

Malcolm I. Davis, Mount Airy, Pa., who was fined $8.50 and costs.

MRS. E. J. HOHMAN

Mrs. E. J. Hohman, of Cuthbert Road, Palmyra extension, died at her home, last Monday morning, after an illness of about eighteen months.

The Hohman's formerly lived in Pottsville, moving to Palmyra several years ago and residing on Pear street. They then moved to Philadelphia and only returned to Palmyra last winter, believing the change would benefit Mrs. Hohman's health.

The body was taken to Pottsville on Tuesday for burial.

The deceased is survived by her husband and two children.

WORK ON SCHOOL GROUNDS STARTED

Beautification Program Under Way; Roads and Streets Departments Co-operating

Preliminary work on the beautification of the Palmyra High School grounds is now under way. The grounds on the Weart boulevard side of the building have been plowed and levelled in preparation for the shrubbery which is to be planted in the fall.

The Palmyra Roads and Streets Department is busy with plows and scraper grading the rest of the school yard. The work of erecting the heavy woven wire fence around the playground will be started in a few days.

A meeting of the board will be held soon to open bids for the painting of the interior, and the successful bidder will start work at once so the job will be finished before school opens.

The report of the state department on the recent survey is now practically finished and will be presented to the board at a special meeting sometime this month. Full details will be published at the time.

POLICE CHECK PALMYRA AUTOS

10,000 Cars Pass Broad and Cinnaminson; Ferry Has Record Weekend

Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, of Palmyra, has often wondered just how many cars the force has to handle at the crossing of Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue on a busy day. Sunday he set out to get some definite information on the subject and arranged to keep definite account of the number of vehicles passing the intersection.

The counting was done by means of a mechanical device which is very accurate. From 10 A. M. to 6 P. M. 4,422 cars passed the corner. This did not include the traffic between one and two o'clock when no one was on duty. From 6 P. M. until 10 P. M. 3,712 cars were checked. From these figures it is evident that more than 10,000 vehicles passed during the day.

The bulk of the traffic was encountered between the hours of six and nine P. M. More than one-third of the day's traffic was checked during these three hours.

The Palmyra ferry had the busiest weekend of the year, carrying 4,600 machines from Saturday morning until Sunday night. Cars were lined up as far as Second street Sunday night, which has been an unusual occurrence since the Camden bridge has been in use. Sunday 2,863 vehicles crossed the ferry, which is the year's record for a single day.

Chief Beck uses the figures to give an idea of what can be expected when the Palmyra bridge is opened. The Camden bridge carried nearly 60,000 machines last Sunday, which is a new high record. The Chief says that 35,000 cars for the Palmyra span on busy days is not too high to be expected.

ASSESSMENTS TO UNDERGO CHANGE

Will Affect Nineteen Counties; Burlington is Included in List

Unless good cause is shown to the contrary, increases from four to fifteen per cent. of the assessed value of real estate will be ordered by the State Board of Taxes and Assessment in nineteen of the twenty-one counties in this state.

The figures were set forth recently in a preliminary equalization table, an act of the 1927 legislature. Meetings with representatives of the board of freeholders and county tax boards will be held by the state body, beginning August 1, at which objections to the figures will be heard.

Charles E. Cook, secretary of the State Board, explained that the increases in prospect will not necessarily be a jump in taxes. The boost will be applicable, he said, only to state and county levies. If there are no unforseen demands the ratable advance should mean a cut in apparent rates.

Atlantic and Passaic Counties were the two counties for which no increases were shown by the table. The greatest jump was in Middlesex, Monmouth and Morris, being fifteen per cent. in each case. In Burlington it was ten per cent. and in the remaining counties from four to eight per cent.

The total assessed value of real estate through the state was placed at $5,270,468,975 and the true value $5,525,105,221.08. The assessed value of all personal property was computed at $701,439,032.

MORE FINES HERE THAN IN ALL FEDERAL COURTS OF N. J.

Reports from the County Clerk's office are that fines imposed by Judge Slaughter in Quarter Sessions and Special Sessions Courts during the April term, amount to $8,075, making a total for twelve months of $44,210, principally from liquor violators. This is more than the penalties imposed in criminal cases in all the federal courts of New Jersey, a report of which was published last week, showing the total to be $34,429 for the year ended June 30. Including all county courts, sessions were held 43 days during the April term.

AMBULANCE ASSOCIATION

The Palmyra Ambulance acknowledges receipts of the following donations received during the past week:

Auxiliary of the Parry Fire Department, $5.00, George Gilbert, $10, and the Junior Section of the Riverton Porch Club, $61.50. These donations are appreciated very much.

A TOUCHING TRIBUTE

Last Monday afternoon the children who were enjoying themselves at the Memorial Park swimming hole, showed their respect to "Otty" Reeves by coming out of the water and remaining quiet from 2 until 2.30, during the funeral services.

This incident speaks very strongly of the friendly attitude with which "Otty" was received among his playmates.

A beautiful floral basket was sent to the funeral by "Friends and Playmates of Riverton."

PALMYRA MAN'S BROTHER KILLED

Clarence Schriver Fatally Injured by Party of Hunters

Clarence Schriver, of Glen Rock, Pennsylvania, brother of Norman H. Schriver, of Palmyra, was fatally wounded Monday night last by a party of gunners who misteok him for a groundhog. Mr. Schriver was resting in a meadow on the farm of James Bowser, at Fissell's, with his head propped up by his hand, when he was shot.

Harold Gelsey, twenty-five, also of Glen Rock, mistaking Schriver's head for a groundhog, he said later, took aim and fired. The .32 calibre bullet entered Schriver's head above the right ear. Roger and Clifford Rohrbaugh, both of Glen Rock who were with Gelsey at the time, corroborated his statement.

The three removed the wounded man to the office of Dr. J. A. Stover, a Glenville physician, from where he was taken to the Hanover Hospital. His wife and young daughter were at his bedside when he died.

Besides his immediate family, he is survived by several sisters and brothers, one of whom is a student at Gettysburg College. Gelsey told Coroner L. U. Zech he was some distance from Schriver when he fired.

Norman Schriver had been visiting his brother and other relatives at Glen Rock for the past two weeks and had returned home on the day of the tragedy, only to be greeted with the news of his brother's death when he reached Palmyra.

"PAN-AM" OPENS FILLING STATION

Mexican Petroleum Takes Over Holdings of Lewis Oil Co.; E. P. Griffenberg, Mgr.

The Lewis Oil Company's service station at Broad street and Cinnaminson avenues, Palmyra, was officially taken over by the new owners yesterday.

The holdings of the Lewis Company were sold at a sheriff's sale several days ago to the Mexican Petroleum Company, which is a subsidiary of one of the large oil companies.

The product of the new owners is sold under the trade name of "Pan-Am" and consists of gasoline, lubricating oils and greases. These products are said to be of the very finest quality and superior to most of the gasoline and oil now being offered to the public.

Hartley W. Jones, who has charge of the stations taken over from the Lewis Company, has said that his company intends to put on an intensive campaign to educate the public to the use of its products.

Mr. Jones, who certainly knows his "oil," says that the new gasoline shows a higher test than any other gasoline and actually gives more miles per gallon. He explains how the paraffin base oil sold by his company is well suited to the modern automobile motor which requires oil of unusual viscosity and heat-resisting qualities.

The Mexican Petroleum Company is very anxious to maintain a service which will be appreciated by the motoring public and has appointed E. P. Griffenberg as manager of the Palmyra station. Mr. Griffenberg is well known in Palmyra and Riverton and asks the public to give "Pan-Am" a trial.

The building and pumps have all been repainted in the new company's colors, cream and green, and now presents a very fine appearance. Other improvements will be made in the next few days. The station is located near the corner of Broad street and Cinnaminson avenue, just to the rear of Buchi's drug store and is very convenient to the motorists of this vicinity.

"Pan-Am" products are comparatively new in this locality but are well known in North Jersey. From New Brunswick up "Pan-Am" stations are seen everywhere and are known as a "best seller" in and around New York.

JEFF SMITH AND FAMILY TO LEAVE MOUNT HOLLY

Jerome V. Jefferds and family will move from Mount Holly back to Mr. Jefferds' former home in Bayonne, N. J., this week. Better known by his ring name, Jeff Smith, Mr. Jefferds retired from the boxing game about two years ago due to the impairment of his eyesight, the result of injuries received during the many years in which he followed the game as a professional boxer, and was rated the best man of his weight in the world. Both Mr. Jefferds and his family have many friends in Mount Holly and throughout Burlington county who will regret their removal from Mount Holly.

'BUCKY' REEVES GETS IT FREE

Riverside Man's Bathing Suit Only Stunt Advertised All Over County

"Bucky" Reeves, Riverside's biggest iceman, made the fatal mistake of appearing on Scott street last week dressed only in his bathing suit and since that time "Bucky" has received more free advertising than any other man had been able to get in Burlington county for the past ten years. If "Bucky could transfer the free advertising he has received to some candidate about election time he could quit the ice business tomorrow and enjoy himself ever after.

The following article was clipped from the Mount Holly Mirror and has to deal with "Bucky" and his bathing suit.

They never did have an eye for the beautiful down in Riverside. And there's the "chasing" of "Bucky" Reeves, rotund and pulchritudinous attired in a latter-day bathing suit and a glad smile to prove it. "Bucky" was reared amid the architectural unloveliness and bigotry of the lower riverfront town. He continued to live there, because he did not know what he was missing by not living somewhere else. But one day the wanderlust seized upon him and "Bucky" trekked over to Mount Holly, the county seat. Arrived there he concluded he liked the place and straightway pitched his tent.

"Bucky" was an ice man in Riverside in the earlier days and he thrived on it. He could juggle a hundred-pound cake of congealed H2-0 as easily as an attendant at a soft drink thirst quenchery throws out a chocolate sundae. He could deliver enough fifteen-cent chunks of ice to supply a whole town block without once going back to the wagon for more. And "Bucky" grew in stature and girth. Whether the latter was the reward for assiduous attention to the ice business, we do not know, and "Bucky" never would tell. But be that as it may, "Bucky" developed a "figger" that rivalled the best that any President of the Brewers' Union ever displayed. In Mount Holly "Bucky" obtained the position of chaperone for the county prisoners while doing their daily dozen on the county's roads and bridges. He seemed to like the job and the prisoners expressed warm regard for "Bucky." He seemed like one of them in his sympathy and understanding. And then the call of the old home town seized upon him and held on. "Bucky" could not shake it. Finally he handed in his resignation with the explanation that the ice business needed him in Riverside, and "Bucky" returned to his first love.

But even ice men, particularly ice men of "Bucky's" build, suffer from the heat when off duty and "Bucky" was no exception. So, when the mercury was flirting with the 100-degree mark one day last week, "Bucky" donned his bathing suit—or was it two of them, to make the thing go 'round—and headed for the river. On the way, so the story goes, "Bucky remembered something that called for his personal attention at a local store. Accordingly he drove his flivver up to the curb and bounced out upon the sidewalk—"Bucky," bathing suit and all. Simultaneously Riverside's day officer espied "Bucky." At the same time "Bucky" descried the officer on the horizon and on the rebound he landed back in his car and was off in a trice, or something of that nature. The officer reached the spot a fifth of a second after "Bucky" had vacated it. That was enough margin to give the ice man all the start needed and he disappeared in the gloaming, or the river; eye-witnesses differ on the unimportant details.

But it wasn't because of "Bucky's" ample "figger" or the especial scantiness of his bathing suit that "Bucky" was "chased." It might just as well have been one of Riverside's feminine bathing beauties, for the edict had gone out down that way that parading the town's streets in bathing suits, or portions of them, must cease. This order was given, it is understood, after the male portion of the population had stood upon its constitutional rights in refusing to don "blinkers."

Of course, if you put on a Mother Hubbard over your bathing suit, or disguise yourself in any other way that is bound to destroy the whole sartorial effect, you may still walk on Riverside's streets in a bathing suit, but bathing suits, undraped with any other garment, are as completely taboo as B. V. D.'s. If you don't believe it, ask Chief of Police Voshel.

AGREEMENT TO ELIMINATE GRADE CROSSINGS IN MALAGA

An agreement has been made between the State Highway Commission and the Pennsylvania railroad to eliminate grade crossings in Malaga, Gloucester county. The State agrees to vacate the grade crossing of State Highway Route 18 over the railroad tracks and the right-of-way there and also to change the crossing of Route 20 from an angular to a right angle crossing and co-operate in obtaining approval for the substitution of flashing light signals for watchmen at the crossing on Route 20. The railroad company binds itself to pay the entire cost of an overhead bridge on the new highway four hundred feet west of the Malaga station when the two adjacent township crossings are vacated.

TO HIKE THROUGH EUROPE

Samuel E. Caxin, seventy-six-year-old Philadelphia lawyer, has left for a three months' walking tour through Ireland, England, Scotland and France. He will limit himself to 500 miles per month. This is taking it easy, as Mr. Caxin is able to do forty miles a day without trouble. Several years ago he hiked 61 miles in one day.

To celebrate his seventieth birthday, he walked 70 miles. He has celebrated each succeeding birthday by walking 50 miles.

NEW BUICK LINE NOW ON DISPLAY

Silver Anniversary Models Attract Attention at Moorestown Motor

As usual, the new Buicks are attracting widespread and the most favorable attention.

The Silver Anniversary Buick, as introduced by Moorestown Motor Company, East Main street, Moorestown, Saturday morning, has won the admiration of a host of automobile lovers. From the time the new models were put on display Saturday morning until late that evening, there was a continuous crowd calling to inspect the much heralded new car. The show rooms have been a popular spot ever since.

C. Norman Lippincott, of Moorestown Motor Company, announces the number of visitors has again shown a big increase over the previous year, and, as usual, several orders for new cars were placed Saturday. They are being followed by additional orders daily.

Outstanding among the impressions created by the Silver Anniversary Buick is that Buick and Fisher style engineers have cut loose from all precedent in working out the line and color treatment for the new car.

Lack of anything, among motor cars of today, to which the new Buick bodies can be compared, complicates the task of describing them adequately. They abound in deep, full curves, which produce an effect of sweeping grace, and at the same time, one of abundant roominess which is not belied by a glance at the interior. Where conventional body design prescribes an almost straight drop from roof to running board, Buick has departed boldly from precedent. The body bulges or swells, just beneath the windows, and the curve thus produced is carried down to the apron in a graceful sweep.

Fenders and hood were worked out to harmonize with the body lines. The front fenders are of one-piece construction, extra heavy. They taper gradually toward the rear.

Still another driving compartment improvement is the new Buick instrument panel, with its new grouping of instruments. The panel is provided with two-way illumination, and accommodates the 90-mile speedometer—directly in front of the driver, the oil gauge, water temperature gauge, and new hydrostatic gasoline gauge, the most accurate instrument of its sort obtainable. The gearshift lever in the new Buick is of graceful design, and curves back toward the driver. As in the 1928 Buick, there is no control for which the driver must reach.

A new and pleasing pattern has been worked out for the interior, the product of tireless energy, all directed at creation of a strikingly new and beautiful car. How well this effort has succeeded is apparent in the admiring comment of visitors at Moorestown Motors showrooms where the Silver Anniversary line is now on display.

CALIFORNIANS LIKE TO WEIGH

Californians spend $5,000,000 a year to find out how much they weigh. Such is the computation of John S. Casey, State sealer of weights and measures. Penny scales tell the story, says Casey, who finds there are 10,000 in the state, each taking in something like $1.50 a day.

DELRAN OPENS NEW FIRE HOUSE

Members of Company and Ladies' Auxiliary Entertain at Chicken Supper

The members of the Delran Fire Company No. 2, of Riverside Park, entertained at a chicken supper in the new fire house on Alden avenue, last Saturday evening.

Guests attended from all of the surrounding towns and music was furnished by Charles F. A. Schwartz, saxophonist, and several other well known musicians.

Supper was served in the main dining room of the new building and tables were arranged in a very attractive manner. Covers were laid for over three hundred guests and the menu consisted of stewed spring chicken, corn on the cob, mashed potatoes, cole slaw, cake, coffee, ice cream and the usual extras. Following the supper the tables were cleared and dancing was enjoyed.

New Home Modern

The fire house, which was started several weeks ago by residents of Riverside Park and Cambridge who organized and formed the fire company, is a one story concrete building. A modern electrically equipped kitchen is in the rear of the place and an outer room, which is used to house the truck, is also planned so as to furnish an attractive dining room. The members of the fire company have completed their recent drive for funds and as the result a first class fire siren has been installed.

The fire truck, which was purchased second-handed from the Riverton Fire Company, has been completely overhauled and repainted by the members of the company in their spare time. It is a small truck but is in first class running order and equipped with all fire fighting facilities.

During the evening Mrs. John Hohman, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fire Company, presented a handsome silk American flag to the boys. She made an appropriate speech with the presentation which was received by George Bozarth in behalf of the Fire Company. Mr. Bozarth thanked the ladies and congratulated them on the fine showing they made and the wonderful help they were to the boys. He pointed out numerous instances where the ladies had worked to raise funds so that the dream of the new fire house might some day be a reality.

The members of the company and the ladies' auxiliary deserve much credit for their efforts. Until recently Riverside Park and Cambridge had to call on the Delran Fire Company No. 1, of Bridgeboro, in case of fire. The Riverside Fire Company, which is nearer to the Park, often answered calls for help, but the residents of that place decided they would like a fire company of their own.

The organization was formed and a drive for funds was conducted. The members solicited the help of their wives and friends who formed a ladies' auxiliary and held cake sales, rummage sales, suppers and card parties.

Their work, however, was not in vain and their efforts were fully repaid with the opening of the new fire house Saturday evening. The Auxiliary is planning a dance to be held tomorrow (Saturday) evening in the new home. Tickets are 25 cents and many novelties will be introduced.

FARMHAND HAD $100 FOR PROMPT PAYMENT OF FINE

Although George Hoffman, farmhand living near Columbus, has owned an automobile over four year, he never has had a driver's license. Disregarding the admonition of Constable George Shaedle, of Columbus, to obtain the license, Hoffman continued illegal driving. Then Shaedle arrested the erring motorist. Hoffman admitted his guilt when arraigned before Justice Kingdon in Mount Holly. Unlike most farmhands, he had that much money and paid the penalty.

COURT BARS NEWS WRITER

Taking offense at news stories alleging a conflict between himself and the Ocean county jury panel, Judge Arthur C. Gallagher has issued an order that John Burdge, a newspaper man, shall be excluded from his court on the grounds that Burdge sent out stories which were not true. The incident took place in Toms River recently. Burdge denies sending out the stories and says Judge Gallagher's ill-will arises from Burdge's action in founding an anti-Smith club in Ocean county. Gallagher and Burdge are both Democrats, Gallagher being the head of the Smith forces in Ocean county.

JUDGE SCATHINGLY DENOUNCES SAILOR

Tells Seaman Who Attacked Moorestown Girl He Deserves Death Sentence

In the Ocean County Courts last Friday, Judge Arthur G. Gallagher, in sentencing Edwin McIlheny, a sailor from Lakehurst, scathingly denounced the young man and expressed regrets that he could not impose the death sentence and spring the trap that might execute him.

McIlhenny was convicted of assault upon Mary McCool, former Moorestown girl, now of Camden. George Turner, another sailor, is serving a sentence in state prison, convicted of assaulting Jessie Messick, of Moorestown.

The two men met the girls on Memorial Day of 1927, at Woodside Park, Philadelphia. The assault occurred when the sailors drove the girls to Lakehurst after the latter had agreed to ride with the men as far as Moorestown.

McIlheny, who deserted and fled to California, was also indicted for assault upon the Messick girl. In his trial on that charge he was acquitted.

Judge Gallagher referred to the acquittal in sentencing McIlheny, and expressed the belief that it was due to a misunderstanding.

Old court attaches recall no charge ever delivered so bitter as that of Judge Gallagher as he sentenced the sailor to serve a term of three years in state prison and pay a fine of $1,000.

The McCool girl has since married and is now a resident in Camden.

GRANGERS OPPOSE TAX BOARD ORDER

Assert That Farm Valuations Now Are Higher Than Sale Prices

Having learned that the State Board of Taxation had ordered assessed valuations of real estate in Burlington county increased ten per cent, members of Pomona Grange, in session in Pemberton last week, adopted resolutions protesting against any increase of farm valuations upon the ground that such realty is now assessed higher than any other class of property and that more than many of the farms would bring if offered for sale.

The resolutions were adopted after a number of speakers had expressed strong disapproval of higher valuations.

The resolutions follow:

Whereas, information has come to us that the State Board of Taxation has asked the County Tax Board to raise valuations in Burlington county ten per cent.; and

Whereas, we believe that the valuations now assessed on farms in this county are already higher than those on any other kind of property in the State and more than they actually would sell at if offered for sale; and

Whereas, we believe that not over five per cent. of the farmers of the county are making any profit above actual living costs; therefore be it

Resolved, that we, members of the Burlington County Pomona Grange, representing 3,000 members in this county, are emphatically opposed to any increase in valuations on the farms of the county at this time;

Resolved, that copies of these resolutions be sent to the county press, to the County Board of Taxation and to the State Board of Taxation immediately.

The grangers learned that the State board had sent a letter to each county tax board, stating that increases of from four to fifteen per cent. should be made in 19 of the 21 counties of New Jersey. Burlington county is asked to make a raise of ten per cent. This demand is made notwithstanding that the present assessments in this county show an increase over last year and despite the well-known fact that there is a decided slump in the real estate market.

The figures from which the board deduces that there should be increases, are said to be obtained from an "equalization table" prepared by the board in compliance with an act of the 1927 legislature.

FARMERS PICNIC AT NEW LISBON

Outing Held on County Grounds Attracts Crowd of 800 People

The spacious, well-kept lawn of the county farm, at New Lisbon, was occupied with a large throng of visitors on Wednesday afternoon of last week when the annual farmers' picnic, arranged by a committee representing the Burlington County Board of Agriculture, took place there, and although the attendance was somewhat disappointing to those who had expended their efforts in promoting the affair, due no doubt to the oppressive heat and to the fact that many farmers were "making hay while the sun shone," still there were about 800 persons who gathered beneath the shade of the fine old trees and enjoyed the speaking program, in what was possibly one of the coolest spots that could have been found for miles around.

Governor A. Harry Moore was the honored guest of the occasion and he arrived from Sea Girt about 12.45 via automobile, accompanied by the members of his personal military staff, which included Col. E. B. Stone and Captain Clifford R. Powell.

After holding an impromptu reception in the large living room, where many of the picnickers had an opportunity of greeting and shaking hands with the chief executive of the state, he and his staff and the officers of the Board of Agriculture sat down to an appetizing dinner served under the direction of Mrs. Henry I. Worrell, matron at the county farm; meanwhile many of the picnickers enjoyed basket lunches on the lawn, or purchased sandwiches and milk or soft drinks at a stand on the grounds operated by the Pemberton Baptist Sunday school, while selections were played by the Four Mile Colony Band, which rendered music during the afternoon, under the direction of Bandmaster Hartley.

Ex-Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, was the chairman and introduced the speakers. He first presented William Duryee, secretary of the State Board of Agriculture, who gave a very interesting talk dealing with a number of the problems of the farmer which the State Board is exerting its efforts to solve. Several other widely known men were among the speakers.

JERSEY WOMEN TO AID HOOVER

So Asserts National Republican Committeewomen From This State

New Jersey women, "voting as "citizens and Republicans" rather than as a woman's bloc, will be a large factor in carrying t he state for Herbert Hoover for president, declares Mrs. W. Reginald Baker, of Madison, Republican national committeewoman from New Jersey.

Mrs. Baker met at Washington with other Republican national committeewomen at a conference on the organization of the women's vote in the eastern states, where everybody, except the Republican women and the official public spokesmen for the party concede that the biggest battle in the presidential campaign will be staged.

New Jersey women will vote for Hoover for the same reason that New Jersey men will vote for him, because of his past record of ability, integrity and efficiency," Mrs. Baker declared.

"Of course his humanitarian work appeals strongly to the women, but I don't want to emphasize this particularly. It appeals to the men, too, and it is not all the women are interested in. Women want an able an outstanding man for president, as the men do, and on this basis they will vote for Herbert Hoover."

Mrs. Baker was officially elected to the Republican national committee at the national convention, but she has been serving on the committee since last winter, when Mrs. Lewis Thompson, of Red Bank, resigned. Prior to her elevation to the national committee, Mrs. Baker was vice-chairman of the New Jersey State Republican committee.

ANOTHER VICTIM

For the second time within a few years a child's life has been crushed out by a heavy truck within the limit of the borough of Riverton.

The accident last Friday was probably unavoidable, under the present borough ordinance prohibiting the riding of bicycles on sidewalks.

This ordinance was passed when bicycles were in much more common use than they are today, and when the hazards of riding in the street were negligible as compared with present conditions.

Would it not be in line with present-day requirements to repeal the ordinance forcing children into the streets, and pass one permitting boys and girls up to the age of fourteen to ride on the sidewalks?

During all the years bicycles were ridden on the sidewalks we recall no case of serious injury to pedestrians by being struck—certainly no deaths resulted.

HOOVER IS A MAN'S MAN

One of the most convincing eulogies of Herbert C. Hoover was recently spoken by United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, who has for years been an intimate friend of the Republican nominee for president and supported him for the party nomination after the withdrawal of Mr. Lowden. Senator Deneen we believe, voices the sentiments of a great majority of the people of this country in ranking Mr. Hoover as a man of wonderful ability and patriotism. He said Hoover first attracted attention during the Boxer rebellion in China. Hoover, then in China as an engineer, had been called upon by the various governments whose people were in that country, to protect them and to look after governmental interests.

"Hoover was little more than a boy then," Deneen said, "but there was no criticism of his actions. He had charge of food. He had charge of protection and several international bonding concerns held stocks there and the bond holders got Hoover to look after their interests.

"They demanded that he conduct their industries in the hope that he could save their investments for them. He did so and did it successfully.

"He had more than 25,000 men under his direction, but Mr. Hoover came up to the expectations of those who had employed him. Six years later he organized international financial agencies which developed huge mining operations on three continents, namely Australia, Mexico and South America. He then had under his direction 175,000 employes and he met the task required of him with complete satisfaction to those whom he represented.

"There are few concerns today that employ 175,000 people. Possibly none unless it is the United States Steel Corporation and one of two of the railroads of the country.

"Hoover was in Europe when the war broke out. That is, when it was the European war. There were literally thousands of tourists there and upon the shoulders of Herbert Hoover fell the stupendous task of getting them home. He was called upon to represent business interests there. He organized forces for the purpose of getting Americans out of Europe and ... sent more than 100,000 of them ... to America. He had confidence ...imself, his nation and his people, and he personally guaranteed the payment of bills incurred, confident that his government would see to reimbursement.

"You know all that he did with food during the war. He helped all who needed help. Look at the history of the world and you can find no instance that will equal the work done by Herbert Hoover in many nations of the world.

"Let us go back to our own flood of just a year ago. Who was it that was asked to take charge? Hoover! Was there any great loss of life? No! Who fed and worked with those who had been stricken and helped them to start anew? Herbert Hoover!

"Then do you think that the American people will refuse to trust their government affairs to a man like Hoover? Could a man who had done the things Herbert Hoover has done be denied the right to stand at the helm of the ship of state? I say no! And the people of the United States will place him at the head of their government because he has shown that he is a competent and careful administrator and is capable of looking after their interests in public life just as much as he is in private life."

TRAGEDY

Carranza, good will flyer, has passed to his reward. And in the very midst of mourning for the brave flyer, citizens of both Mexico and the United States were shocked by the news of the assassination of General Obregon. Mexico has lost two of its finest, two great souls whose lives were an inspiration and an incentive to noble thoughts and deeds.

The honors paid to Carranza in New York were impressive and beautiful. While airplanes cruised the skies overhead, a long, solemn funeral procession marched the streets. Thousands of American military men marched with slow, measured tread in tribute to the great aviator, while many more thousands watched, hats in hand, eyes dimmed with tears. The sun burnt scorchingly upon New York that day. On and on moved the procession, with slow, measured tread, to the music of Chopin's funeral march, unmindful of the burning heat. All New York thought that day only of the young hero whose achievements had fired the imagination of two lands.

America and Mexico have wept together over the tragic deaths of Carranza and Obregon. The tears of a common grief have brought, we believe, Mexico and America closer to each other than they have ever been.

Carranza's good-will flight was a beautiful tribute to this country, a magnificent gesture of international friendship. His untimely death has caused great sorrow; he shall be enshrined forever in our hearts and in the hearts of his countrymen.

THE ALL-AMERICAN CANDIDATE

Few presidential candidates in recent years have been people's candidates in as complete a sense as Herbert Hoover.

Hoover is not and has never been a politician. He has never held or aspired to elective office heretofore. His rise to the position of leader of the Republican party has not been due to political manipulation or trickery. Hoover has never had to serve an apprenticeship as ward healer or climb up the political ladders at the heels of some old line boss.

The Republican candidate comes into the arena with clean and unfettered hands. He has never been associated with the devious ways of modern politics nor in anyway obligated to the practitioners thereof.

A Different Story

In all these things Hoover is quite different from Governor Alfred E. Smith, of Tammany Hall.

Smith was accepted by the Democratic convention against the will of a large part of the Democratic party, purely as a matter of expediency. The Democratic leaders thought he might win, and they knew there was no other Democrat who would stand a chance, and they thought he might win, not by Democratic votes, but by "wet" Republican votes.

And so we have the spectacle of a party whose very foundation and strength rests on the "dry" South, accepting a "wet" candidate and hoping to win by virtue of attracting more "wet" Republican votes than the number of Democratic vote which will be lost through such a candidate.

Leaders Desert

Already the folly of such tactics has become apparent. Rarely before in the history of American politics have outstanding leaders of a party, such as Senator Simmons and Owens, deserted the party's standard bearer at the outset of the campaign.

The strength of Hoover's position becomes greater every day. At the beginning the opposition to him was purely that inspired by political bosses. But the bosses were overwhelmed by the tide of popular sentiment in favor of the man who had established a world-wide reputation for unselfish public service.

Hoover's fitness for the greatest administrative office in the world has been proved time and again. In his own business career he became, solely through his own efforts, a world famous mining engineer. He is the typical self-made American, starting life as a poor boy and attaining notable success by dint of sheer intelligence and hard work.

Diplomat and Executive

Again, when the World War was at its height, it was to Herbert Hoover that America turned for a man to organize aid for Americans stranded in Europe and for a man to handle the complicated task of relieving the starving women and children of Belgium.

Hoover, by his training and world wide experience, was able to cope with a situation which called for the abilities of an executive, a business man and a diplomat, and he performed the task without a hitch.

Since the war, Hoover's experience in the administration of the Department of Commerce has given him additional contact with the internal business and economic affairs of the United States, which still further rounds out his fitness for the presidency.

Rarely indeed has the Republican party been so fortunate in the selection of its presidential candidate.

FROM FARM TO CITY

Discussion continues on what many consider a major national problem—the migration from farms to cities of experienced farmers. Some hold that eventually the food supply will be considerably reduced because of this migration, and that this will cause greatly increased prices and perhaps endanger the welfare of the people.

May we quiet these alarmists by pointing out that while the movement from farms to cities still continues, it has, according to recent statistics, considerably abated?

On the other hand the number of persons leaving the cities for the farms is constantly increasing.

In other words, the exodus from farms to cities may cease to be a matter of great concern. No matter what rumors may float about, actual figures show that the tendency of people to move away from the farms is decreasing rather than increasing.

It is true that many experienced farmers go to the city in quest for easier means of earning money, or to give their children the benefit of the educational facilities of the metropolitan centers.

However, there has been so much improvement in the educational and recreational facilities of small towns and farm districts that already the movement to large municipalities is somewhat checked. As rural life becomes more attractive, fewer persons will leave the rural district. The solution of the problem lies in making farm life more interesting.

"ART IN INDUSTRY"

"The International Exhibition of Art in Industry, held in New York, is more than a show of objects," said the Baltimore Sun recently. "It is also a show of hopes. Perhaps they are suggested only dimly in the exhibition; certainly they have little to do with the 'modernistic' not of the display. It may be they are found most distinctly in the fact that on the opening day 15,000 persons came to see what was being done in six nations to 'introduce' art into homes and places of work.

"And the last significance of the international exhibit is: that right living is beautiful living. Such thoughts may carry us far afield, but the journey would be a great one. And art today, forsaking its frames and easels, finds a way into homes and factories only that it may gain a place in minds and conduct."

This movement toward art in industry has been of brief duration, yet it has already produced admirable results. It can be seen in the line and finish of the modern skyscraper, in the present day factory. Now it is being brought even closer to the worker, and promises to become a motivating influence in his life. It is another contribution to civilization by industry.

RARE RYTHMIC OSCILLATIONS

Unusual rythmic oscillations of the water in Lake Hopatcong have been detected on two separate occasions by means of an automatic water level recorder placed on the lake by the Division of Waters, of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development. Two of these instruments were recently set up in order to obtain accurate information necessary to regulate the drafts on the lake and the flow of the Musconetcong river. One below the fountain at the lower side of the dam keeps a continuous record of the water discharged from the lake into the river and the other in the south end of the lake at the dam keeps a continuous record of the level of the lake. It was the latter instrument which detected the unusual rythmic oscillations.

Schedule for This Week

Saturday—Moorestown at Palmyra; Medford at Delanco; Riverside at Vincentown; R. D. Wood at Burlington.

The Palmyra baseball team won one and lost one during the past week, repeating its performance of the first week of the second half schedule, and is now tied with Moorestown for fourth place with two wins and two defeats.

In Saturday's game with Burlington "Babe" Flynn made his debut on the hurling peak for the locals and let the boys from the big village down with seven scattered hits, Burlington's only tally came as the result of a home run from the war club of Tommy Doyle in the sixth canto.

Harold Reber, erstwhile Palmyra moundsman, came down to show his former manager just what a big mistake he made in letting him go—so they say—but failed to make an impressive showing. He was hit rather freely, allowing nine bingles which accounted for four runs.

Reber brought about his own undoing in the fourth when he threw wild to second and later uncorked a wild pitch with all the hassocks populated.

In the big fourth inning Harper singled to left center and Wenger bunted to Reber who fielded the ball cleanly but threw wild to second. Krause and Weikman were passed successively forcing Harper home with the first run. The fourth ball pitched Weikman was a wild pitch and Wenger scored from second. Krause scored on a delayed steal and Weikman counted on a single by Arens.

Lose to Florence

The Palmyra clubbers lost the decision to R. D. Wood by a 5-3 score in a twilight contest at Florence last Wednesday when the ironworkers pummelled Earl Harder for eleven safeties.

The Woodmen scored three markers in the first canto and came back with two in the eighth. Palmyra scored lone tallies in the third, fourth and ninth.

In addition to carrying the pitching burden Harder led his mates in hitting with two clean singles. Only four were made off the puzzling slants of Lippincott, Florence hurler. The other two were divided between Decar and Wenger.

PAPER COMPLETES OUR HORSELESS AGE

And Automobile Men Recall Pointers of 1896 for Pioneer Motorists and Prancing Horses

Because of the growing need of speed, the Chicago Tribune has sold its last delivery horses used in the downtown streets.

"It was deemed no longer safe to use them because of the crush of traffic," said a sales report.

Detroit automobile men noted with interest the passing of the last horse from the once great stables of the Chicago newspaper. And Howard Sneathen, director of commercial car and trucks sales for Dodge Brothers, Inc., got down a scrap book and turned to a list of "Don'ts" given in America's first automotive magazine of August 1, 1896, less than a year after the publication began.

"Don't let your engine puff in passing frightened horses," said the 32 year old suggestion.

"Shut off the admission of gas and they will immediately stop their prancing and dart past, giving you a chance to let in the gas in time to prevent your engine from coming to a stop.

"Don't use a gong on your automobile. People hearing them will take them for trolley cars. A vibrating bell should be used."

Mr. Sneathen holds that the 1896 horses were well justified in their distrust of the high wheeled puffing motor monsters of that now distant day.

"Of course there are still plenty of horse about," he said. "There are really far more in service than people suppose. But every day their numbers are decreasing for commercial purposes. Many orders coming in for Graham Brothers trucks and commercial cars mention the fact that the new buy replaces horse drawn trucks. It's a simple case of economy, efficiency and 1928 demands for speed."

A VANISHED BUGABOO
SOME REAL CALVINISTS
JAILERS AND CRIMINALS
THE TALKING MOVIES

Dread of big business fades; Raskob, financial head of the four billion dollar General Motors Company, is Democratic National Chairman. Owen D. Young, chairman of the Board of the General Electric Company, one of the biggest corporations in America, is asked to run for Governor by Democrats in New York.

William Jennings Bryan, where he dwells in bliss, doubtless shudders at all this. But these are practical days; big business is practical, and it is well to recognized things as they are.

Some Calvinists, it seems, are still Calvinists like old John. Queen Wilhelmina, of Holland, will not attend the Olympic games. Calvinists in Holland are urged to stay away from what stern preachers call "a carnival of the flesh."

Dutch Calvinists say the Olympic games turn men away from Golgotha to Greco-Roman paganism.

A majority of human beings have abandoned the John Calvin theory, which included the burning alive of Dr. Servetus on slight provocation, believing that the good Lord wants people to enjoy themselves occasionally.

Crime organization seems to reach almost everywhere. One Sunday morning two dangerous mankilling gunmen escaped from Sing Sing prison.

The same morning two Sing Sing Prison guards were arrested, accused of blackmailing motorists on the highway.

Jeritza will talk and sing in a "talking movie." "These Talkies" make a good start with this artist. The singer will get $10,000 a week or more. And while she rests the film will go on singing, millions hearing it. Wonderful invention, time and labor saving.

Dr. Ira S. Wile says the population is "growing older." It lives longer, the birth rate is lower. But old people, he says, are no longer proud of their age and little reverence is paid it. Today the number of those past fifty is fifty per cent greater than in 1870.

Age is nothing to be proud of, since we grow old in spite of ourselves. But to be hard at work when you are old, and EFFICIENTLY at work, is something.

Young ladies that "don't seem to get any proposals" will marvel on hearing that our Peggy Joyce is about to be married again.

This will be her fifth husband and her second nobleman. Once Miss Joyce was the Countess Costa Moerner, but she gave that up. The Commoners had "good money." Happy No. 5, if everything goes smoothly, will be Lord Northesk, whose wife, formerly Miss Jessica Brown, is now divorcing him.

"How does she do it?" young ladies ask. How did Helen of Troy do it, or Cleopatra?

Miss Joyce, it is said, has a certain dash and swing in a night club that electrify the atmosphere. There are many "live ones" in night clubs.

About Your Health
Facts You Should Know
By John Joseph Quinn, M.D.

"DROPPED COLONS"

A very much alarmed patient sought a great specialist, and said: "Doctor, I have a 'dropped colon'; now, what's the worst thing that may happen, and, when may I expect it?"

"It has already happened, my dear," said the doctor soberly; "it happened when the fool told you his diagnosis."

Among my present clientele, there are no less than three elderly patients with dropped colons—of twenty to thirty years' standing. They are neither dying, nor "running into cancer," as the esteemed charlatan would have them believe. The colon has become the veritable gold mine for the "cancer" off for you, if you tickle the medical imposter, who will stave his benevelent palm with a sufficiency of cash—in advance!

You may have a dropped colon—"ptosis" we call it. Stop worrying; treat yourself if you didn't have it; if it causes no discomfort, let it alone. If it annoys you, take gentle laxatives and unload it—gently always. "Mineral oil" every day until satisfactory effect. A well-fitting abdominal supporter, not too tight! You want support, not garroting. See that you maintain regular diet. Always soft, boiled food. No hard-fried. No heavily-seeded berries either in pies, preserves or jam. Seeds are bad for colons; so are skins—of baked apples, cherries, plums. Swallow no skins if coitsis gives distress. Sweet milk may clog the lazy canal; if it does, switch to buttermilk. Kraut-juice? Well, try it; whatever you do that is right, stay with it! You can't put a dropped colon back in place; neither can the blatant quack, even if you paid him a hundred—five hundred dollars. And even a dropped colon is a million times better than none. Be sensible.

The Judge's Josh

Ted was discussing automobile experiences with a friend.

"Every time we have a breakdown I get my wife to keep saying, 'Auto, auto, auto,'" he said.

"Yes?" put in his friend.

"Yeah, and what she says goes," Bill ended.

Two very pretty girls met on the street and kissed each other rapturously. Two young men watched the meeting. "There's another of those things that are so unfair," said one. "What is that?" said his friend. He pointed to the scene: "Women doing men's work!"

Pa (to his bright infant): "What's wrong?"

Son (twelve years old): "I had a terrible scene with your wife."

Her father retiring for the night at twelve o'clock says to the boy friend: "Give me a call when you go, please, I've got to be up early in the morning."

"What is puppy love?"

"It's the beginning of a dog's life."

"Grace, why did you refuse him?"

"Well, Gertie, he said he'd die for me and I'm curious."

The dollar down idea don't seem to have hit the hotels as yet; there it is still a few dollars up.

"I don't suppose you don't know of nobody what don't want to hire nobody to do nothing, don't you?"

"No, I don't."

Mrs. Brown: "My husband is one of the most generous of men."

Mrs. Hobbs: "That's nice."

Mrs. Brown: "Yes, I gave him a box of cigars for his birthday and he's given them all away to his friends. He hasn't smoked a single one himself.

Ten shares of stock of the Mount Holly, Lumberton and Medford railroad were sold at public sale in Philadelphia last week at $36 per share. Cheap enough, as the road is leased at six per cent on par, $50, clear of tax. At $36 it pays about 8⅓ percent.

The Baptist Sunday school of Mount Holly enjoyed its annual picnic on Thursday in Spout Spring woods. Except for the extreme heat it was a delightful day.

The extreme heat which prevailed for about three weeks with scarcely an interruption, terminated with a delightful shower on Sunday. During the heated spell thermometers ranged as high as 98. Reports are that the heat was more oppressive in the western states than in the east.

ARTHUR BRISBANE ON ADVERTISING

Paragraphs picked from a recent talk on Advertising by Arthur Brisbane to the Association of National Advertisers at New York.

"Advertising is to business, what speech is to to the human race."

"Sincere advertising may be likened to the limb of a tree. When the sap ceases to flow through the branch, it soon breaks and falls off. So, with insincere advertising, it soon drops away. Sincerity comes from the heart . . . intelligent and effective advertising from the mind."

"Repetition is reputation. Every advertiser should remember that. The first thing in advertising is repetition. That is what establishes the value of the newspaper as an advertising medium."

"Brevity makes the most powerful advertisement . . . the least the advertiser says, the more the mind of the reader thinks. And there's another advantage of brevity — words that are printed are paid for, while words a man thinks, you do not pay for."

"Five things are essential to every advertisement: the public must be made to see it, read it, understand it, believe it, and want it. If these are omitted, the whole thing is a failure."

"The first advertisement ever published was an advertisement in color, and it was one that can never be improved upon. This advertisement was the rainbow, and was put in the heavens to advertise to the world that it would not again be destroyed by a flood. And like all good advertisements, it has kept its promise."

NEGLECTED ICE BOX SPOILS GOOD FOODS

Even a well-built ice box will function with lower efficiency if it is not given proper care. According to Marie C. Doermann, New Jersey extension specialist in foods, proper care consists of keeping pipes, trays, and entire inside surface clean, as well as avoiding the necessity of frequently opening the door or letting the ice get low.

Miss Doermann recommends a weekly cleaning in hot weather to prevent clogging of pipes and accumulation of food particles. Small fragments of food, pieces of dirt from the ice, and water lying in the tray promote dampness and a consequent growth of molds and bacteria. Such material also is responsible for foul odors that impair the flavor of butter, milk, and a number of other foods.

Scrubbing the interior surface of the box with washing soda and water, using a thin bottle brush for the drain pipes, is the first step of the treatment recommended. Following this, the interior should be rinsed with clean cold water, and the drain pipes scalded with boiling water to kill algae and other organisms that grow in dark, moist places. To save ice, the cleaning should be done in days when the box is nearest empty.

Frequent opening of the ice box can be avoided by collecting food on a tray so that all the articles can be put away at one time. Another economy is to keep bottles of water in the box rather than chipping off ice every time a drink is wanted.

Miss Doermann advises against covering the ice with newspapers or blankets, as this promotes dampness and prevents proper cooling of the box. She points out that automatic ice boxes require far less trouble in cleaning than do the ice-cooled boxes.

GOWNS STILL OFFER STUDY FOR WOMEN

Action of judges at a recent dress-making contest conducted by one of the largest cotton houses in the country in discarding 75 per cent of the garments submitted because the designs chosen did not suit the materials selected for the dresses, has evoked illuminating comments from Catherine Griebel, New Jersey's extension service clothing specialist.

"Time after time," says Mrs. Griebel, "garments are ruined because of carelessness or ignorance regarding material and design. And this in spite of all the help offered the public by style talks and magazine and newspaper articles. Many pattern houses, too, state definitely in describing a pattern that it is suitable for certain materials. It seems to me, even though there were no suggestions available, that a woman should know that thick or heavy or wiry fabrics will not drape nicely and that thin sleazy stuff cannot be tailored.

"The type of garment to be made must be considered. For instance, when the design shows an uneven hem-line, floating scarfs, and much fullness laid in deep folds to form a lovely drape at one side, does that not suggest a dressy dress for afternoon or evening and requiring chiffon, lace, soft satin, or a cotton voile? A design that is severe in type, with pleats and stitched edges and trim collar and cuff, means tweed or sport silks or sport cotton and linen, for who wants to bother with uneven hem-lines and floating ends when working, traveling, playing golf or tennis? And here lace and chiffon should surely be taboo.

"The next time you buy material for a dress," continues Mrs. Griebel, "choose a pattern that suits your fabric, or if you find the pattern first, remember to select material that suits your pattern. Don't buy a pattern that is nice for sports wear and then when you go for your material fall in love with a piece of chiffon or voile and try to put the two together. It can be done, of course, but the result is an absolute failure."

MOORE TO FRIENDS OF BLIND—

Governor A. Harry Moore will address the patrons and friends of the New Jersey Blind Men's Club on Wednesday, August 8, at 2.30 p. m., at a mah jong and bridge party to be held at 1094 Ocean avenue, Elberon, the summer home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hollander of Newark. Because of Governor Moore's interest in behalf of the blind, the invitations designate the party as "Governor's Day for the Blind." Acceptances have been received from summer residents along the shore, who are socially prominent in New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

When we read that, according to statistics, each family spends $25 a year for soft drinks outside the home, we realize a very nice saving could be affected by serving these beverages from the home fountain.

Almost any pungent syrup from canned or preserved fruit can be used with a lemon or orange juice base to make wholesome fruit drinks. Malted milk powder added to cold cocoa and well shaken makes excellent chocolate malted milk, and the cold cereal beverages can also be combined with cracked ice and milk to make a delicious summer drink.

Not one of the drinks suggested costs more than a few cents to make at home—so in the interest of economy, let's try this scheme of being our own refectory and see if it isn't a success.

A Company Dish for Tea

Butter the bottom of individual glass baking cups and drop a tablespoon of canned crab meat in each; add a tablespoon of cream, dot with butter or margarine and break an egg on top. Season well and bake until egg is set. Um—mm it's delicious!

Ever Try Jellied Soups?

At smart tea rooms and hotels jellied broths are in great favor for summer service — especially this cold tomato soup made by dissolving a tablespoon of lemon-flavored gelatin in a half cup of boiling water and adding it to the liquid from a can of tomatoes. First season juice with a teaspoon of sugar, pepper and salt and juice of an onion and simmer for ten minutes. Then add dissolved gelatin and set on ice until cold. Serve in cups with whipped cream, if desired.

Don't Forget the Ice

In your enthusiasm over ice cream dainties don't forget fruit sherbets are just as tempting and often a better selection for summer meals. To a pint of any crushed ripe fruit add one and a half cups of orange juice and a cup powdered sugar (beet or cane). Cook until sugar melts, cool and freeze.

Gooseberry Time

Ever try gooseberry jam? It's fine with roast meats. Measure 4 level cups crushed berries into large kettle, add ½ cup water and stir until boiling. Cover and simmer 15 minutes. Add 7½ level cups sugar, use hottest fire and stir constantly. Bring to full rolling boil and boil hard one minute. Remove, stir in ½ cup liquid pectin, skim, pour, and seal.

Improves Flavor of Fruit Pies

Almost any berry pie will be improved if a little salt is added to the filling of the pie.

Makes Eggs Go Farther

When beating whites of eggs, add a tablespoon of water for each egg and you will have double the quantity of stiffly beaten eggs.

To Keep Bread Box Sweet

Bread molds quickly in hot weather, so keep containers free from scraps of stale bread, and scald at least twice a week in summer.

A Good Floor Polish

A small quantity of kerosene applied to hardwood floors and rubbed with a woolen cloth make a very good and lasting polish. This may also be used for furniture.

To Silence Creaking Doors

Rubbing door hinges with hard soap will stop their squeaking and is much better than greasing. This also applies to drawers that stick.

Saves Fuel

Cook as many foods as possible while the oven is burning. Cooking half a dozen articles consumes no more gas than it does to cook one.

QUICK WORK

It required only four hours and twenty-five minutes to transform part of the grain in a wheat field into a palatable cake. A farmer, miller and baker co-operated.

DEATH TO EVERY 3 MILES OF ROAD

Automobile Club, Pictures Crosses Along Highways to Mark Fatalities

Placing of a cross along the roadside for every person killed in an automobile accident within the past ten years would mean one to approximately every three miles of improved highway in the United States.

This statement, issued by National Headquarters of the American Automobile Association, with which the New Jersey Automobile & Motor Club of Newark is affiliated, is based on a death toll on the streets and highways of about 175,000 within the last decade and a present system of 600,-000 miles of improved roads.

The AAA also pointed out that if these crosses were confined to one transcontinental highway—such as the Lincoln highway, stretching 3,200 miles across the country—there would be over five crosses to every mile of roadway.

Turning to the non-fatal accidents on the highways and byways, the national motoring body said that if a marker was placed for every person injured in an automobile accident, there would be two to every mile of road of all types in the country and along the Lincoln highway there would be 158 to every mile. This is based on an average of 29 injured for every person killed and around three million miles of roads.

The AAA in launching through the Safety Departments of its 1047 affiliated motor clubs an intensive and continuing campaign to diminish the automobile traffic hazard on the streets and highways of the nation, declared that there must be a constant national effort on a more coordinated basis than has hereto been the case.

"If some cyclone or tornado should suddenly sweep down and destroy 26,-000 lives and injure 754,000 people, there would be an outpouring of sympathy and aid from every corner of the world," Thomas P. Henry, President of the AAA said. "Yet this is the annual toll on the highways of the nation and from the limited attention it receives, I often feel that many millions of our citizens often take it for granted.

"If the automobile death rate should continue at the present rate for the next two decades the toll on the highways will exceed 520,000 persons, or a number roughly equivalent to the total present population of cities like Milwaukee, Wis., or Washington, D. C."

NO TROUSERS IN IOLA

Chief of Police Custer Davis believes that trousers are all right in their place, but do not belong on women—at least, not in Iola!

Davis issued an order prohibiting women from wearing trousers in the streets of Iola, and sent two women out of town because they were wearing overalls.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for August 5

THE FIRST FOREIGN MISSIONARIES

Acts 13:1-5, 13-15, 44-49

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association

All of Chapter XIII should be read as a preparation for this lesson study. The general setting must be in mind as well as the few verses that are the basis for more intensive study. After Saul had been called from Tarsus to help the growing church in Antioch there was still greater progress there. There is that in the Christian religion which always makes one desire that all others shall likewise have joy and peace in believing. While in the midst of worship there was a growing consensus of opinion that something very definite should be undertaken in telling the Gospel story more widely. Luke describes the outcome when he records the "Holy Spirit said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." Preparations were made for the first missionary journey and these men were formally set apart for this service by prayer and the laying on of hands.

Three people made up the company. They were Barnabas; his nephew, John Mark; and Saul—styled the apostle of the gentiles. Their first destination was the island of Cyprus, about seventy miles distant. Work began at Salamis. There the usual approach was made by seeking the synagogue of the Jews, for all had a common belief in Jehovah as God. Keep in mind that you are always to use your Bible as both reference and text book. At this point read the verse omitted in the lesson text indicated above. The story is told of the work at Paphos on the eastern side of Cyprus. The missionaries came into opposition with Elymas, the sorcerer, who opposed the messages they gave to Sergius Paulus, the proconsul, who believed when he beheld the miracle that Paul wrought.

When the mainland was reached at Perga in Pamphylia there was real trouble among the three evangelists. For some unnamed reason Mark determined to quit the party and returned to Mary, his mother, in Jerusalem. Some say he refused to go inland with Paul; others that he became jealous when Paul became more prominent than his uncle, Barnabas. This matter comes up again in the lesson for August 19.

Some of the hardships encountered at this time or soon are enumerated in II Corinthians 11:24-28. Pisidian Antioch is the first stopping place of record. There the travelers attended the synagogue service and, according to courtesy custom, after the reading of the law, were invited to speak. To use modern language, they made a hit at the start and were invited to speak again the following Sabbath, "when the whole city was gathered together to hear the word of God." Many believed the teachings of Paul.

Jealousy started the trouble that followed. When the synagogue leaders saw that the strangers were obtaining such a fine following they opposed these men, and turned them out of the synagogue. Both Paul and Barnabas were bold in declaring that they could not keep silent, and since their own brethren would no longer hear them they could now give their attention to the Gentiles, for their Gospel was for all mankind. At once a multitude of those other than Jews believed the word as it was preached unto them specially. Their reaction is given in the closing verses of the lesson: "And as the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified God . . . . and the word of the Lord was spread abroad throughout all the region."

DENTIST'S ASSERTION DENIED BY WOMAN

Riverside Matron Insists She Will Reopen Case; Seeks To Recover Damages

Mrs. Reba Buehler, of Riverside, last week denied statements made to newspapers by Dr. Albert Pancoast, of Moorestown, who practices in Camden, in which he charged her with neglecting to return to his office after a treatment last year, which has been the cause of a civil suit.

Mrs. Buehler's suit was heard before the Supreme Court in Burlington County Court at Mount Holly, and resulted in a hung jury. It will be tried again in the fall. The Riverside woman is suing for pain and suffering and medical expenses caused by what she termed "the dentist's negligence." She went to him last year and asked him to extract two teeth. He took out one, but broke the other one off at the roots, she testified.

Lock-jaw resulted, she said, and she produced four physicians of the Medico-Chi Hospital, Philadelphia, to prove there was a remnent of the root left in her jaw.

CHICKEN THIEVES FIND JUSTICE OF JERSEY IS SWIFT

PFAU, LEADER, GETS 8 YEARS; MANZ GIVEN 6

Admitted Theft of Nearly 500 Fowls in and Around Moorestown

Henry William Pfau, 21, and Joseph Manz, 24, both of Riverside, found Jersey justice to be swift and severe.

The pair, charged with the theft of nearly 500 chickens in and around Moorestown since Christmas, were held for court action without bail by Recorder Joseph W. Johnston at Moorestown town hall Monday of last week. Thursday they were tried before Judge Slaughter in the Burlington County criminal court at Mount Holly. Both were convicted and received their sentences Thursday.

They pleaded non vult to the charges, Pfau, the recognized leader and instigator, admitting to eight charges, while Manz pleaded guilty to six charges.

Pfau was sentenced to eight years in state prison and Manz sentence was six years.

The suspicions of a Camden policeman, some mighty clever detective work on the part of Chief John Bradshaw and Office Bruce MacDonald, of the Moorestown police force, coupled with the able assistance of Trooper Doyle, of the Bridgeboro State Police barracks, led to their downfall.

Tire Causes Downfall

A flat tire in Camden at three o'clock Thursday morning, July 19, paved the way to their arrest. Seventy-five young chickens, stolen from Earl Collins' farm on Lenola Road were found in their car at the time.

Chief Bradshaw and his force took up their work shortly after the pair was arrested in Camden and by Monday morning of last week had a mass of evidence against the pair. They admitted committing robberies at the properties of Aaron L. Collins, George H. Cowperthwaite, William H. Roberts, Michael Downs, the late Charles A. Janks and Earl Collins, all of Moorestown. The Downs and Earl Collins' chicken coops were raided twice, they admitted.

They also stole two cars during their campaign. One machine was taken from Riverside while the other was appropriated from the camp meeting grounds at Delanco. Both autos were abandoned in Frankford after the stolen fruits were disposed of at their favorite poultry market in Philadelphia.

Other court cases follow:

Michael Rossell, of Florence, charged with assaulting Harry Lessler, a foreman at the R. D. Wood shops, was given a hearing and found guilty. Later he was fined $75.

According to the evidence Rossell was partly intoxicated and when Lessler accused him of this Rossell struck Lessler in the eye and then hit him on the head with a wooden wedge.

Rossell admitted striking his foreman in the eye but said he did it in self defense. He denied using the wedge.

Girl Stole $10

Eva Possert, a fourteen-year-old Roebling girl, was before the Court charged with stealing $10 from a roomer at her mother's home.

She admitted the theft and was placed on probation for two years and must pay the costs of the proceedings.

John Binski, of Riverside, an aged man, was before the Court charged with assaulting Anthony Marks, by striking him in the head with a heavy cane.

Binski had gone to the Marks home to complain of the Marks children throwing stones in the water he was fishing and when Marks appeared to protect the children the assault is alleged to have taken place.

The Court found the defendant guilty and fined him $75.

Samuel Lanning, of Delanco, who is a prisoner at the county jail for violating the terms of his probaton, was before the Court, but this case was continued.

Lanning, driving an automobile, struck a woman and her baby as they were alighting from a trolley car at Delanco about a year ago, and in order to avoid a jail sentence he agreed to pay the woman $400 for her hospital bill, medicine, etc.

He has never paid a cent, and from present appearances he will be confined in jail until September at least, as it is not likely that there will be any more sessions of Court until that time.

A feature of the parade was the buses of the Public Service Corporation which led and concluded the long line of motor-driven vehicles.

Y. W. C. A. NEWS

The High School Girl Reserves of Camden and Burlington counties are planning a joint setting-up conference to be held at Camp Ockanickon, Oct. 5, 6 and 7. Each High School club in the two counties will have the privilege of sending seven girls and one adviser. The girls are expecting this conference to be very valuable in helping them start their fall work.

A committee of six representatives from each county, which met at Camden in June to start plans for the conference, met again Tuesday evening on the Rancocas creek near Mount Holly. Mrs. C. S. Beckwith, of Pemberton, who is the Girl Reserve Chairman of Burlington county, is working with the girls on this committee. Miss Eleanor Pillius, of Mount Holly, is acting as secretary. Other Burlington county members of the committee are Miss Mary Elizabeth Rector, of Moorestown; Miss Elizabeth Harrison, of Crosswicks; Miss Almeda Parsons, of Burlington, and Miss Dorothy Gebhart, of the county Y. W. C. A. staff.

The business and industrial girls' council, of which Miss Helen Jones, of Burlington, is president, is planning a weekend conference to be held at Seaside in September. This conference will be open to any business and industrial girls of the county. Miss Beatrice Shadell, of Mount Holly, is chairman of the program committee of the conference.

Tuesday afternoon two carloads of Mount Holly Grade School Girl Reserves went to Howard Taylor's, near Riverton, for a picnic. They spent a very pleasant afternoon swimming and playing games, later in the evening eating supper on the lawn.

The girls of the Children's Home, Mount Holly, are very much interested in the Wednesday morning period of which the Y. W. C. A. has charge. They have played games, had story hours, and made doll-clothes. This week a hike is on their program.

Dreaming With Nature

Give me a shady brook and

Where gentle breezes murmur
And whisper as I dream;
Where shadows on the water
Are pictures mirrored there;
And near by mountains, watching,
Will guard the scene, so fair.

Then let me hear in tree-tops,
The birds so gaily sing,
And to my soul enraptured,
Such happiness, they'll bring.
There's nothing like sweet nature
To fill me with delight,
And, when with her communing,
The world will seem so bright.

Her peaceful moods will comfort
And fill my soul with peace,
And my fond adoration
For her will never cease.
O, give me woods and flowers,
The birds and flowing stream,
And, with them, let me linger
To idly muse and dream.

DINNER TO MARK OPENING OF DRIVE FOR SCOUT CAMP

Affair to be Held at Moorestown Community House Monday Night

ORGANIZATIONS READY ALL OVER THE COUNTY

Seek $40,000 to Buy and Develop 320-Acre Pennsylvania Tract

Announcement was made this morning by Dr. S. Emlen Stokes, general chairman, that the opening dinner of the county-wide Boy Scouts campaign for $40,000 will be held Monday evening, August 6, at 6.30 in the Moorestown Community House.

It is expected that more than 200 men of Burlington county will attend the dinner as members of the campaign committee which will endeavor during the period of August 6 to August 13 to obtain sufficient funds to purchase, equip and develop a camp for the Burlington county Boy Scouts.

Committees have been formed in practically every community in the county and many of the most important men have become identified with this effort in behalf of the Burlington county Scouts.

A camp has been located in Cochraneville, Chester county, Pennsylvania, consisting of 320 acres of rolling hills, level fields, real woods, and an eleven acre spring-fed lake of crystal spring water.

During the week of August 6 to 13, the campaign committee will seek to obtain the necessary money through a sale of non-interest bearing bonds.

James M. Stokes, Jr., is chairman of the Special Gifts Committe which has among its members Charles J. Allen, C. B. Annett, Armitt H. Coate, Lester Collins, George B. Ferrier, Jr., H. F. Greenwood, E. C. Grimley, Arthur W. Luce, J. P. Maxfield, Edward A. Mechling, E. Russell Perkins, and Harold M. Wall, of Edgewater Park.

Emmor Roberts, former State Senator from Burlington county, has accepted the chairmanship of the campaign general committee for Moorestown and is rapidly completing his organization.

Although definite plans have not been made regarding the program for the dinner, it is understood that George B. Ferrier, Jr., will act as toastmaster and a well-known speaker will be present to address the gathering.

FEW CENTS A DAY LIFT WOMEN'S WORK

Who would not save walking back and forth from a hot stove to an ironing board on a scorching August day if fifteen cents would obviate it?

That is how much it costs to run an electric iron for a three-hour ironing, reports W. C. Krueger, New Jersey specialist in rural electrification. Good irons can be bought for from $3 to $8, depending on size, he is advising women in the rural districts of the state.

Few persons would be found who would be willing to turn a washing machine for a farm washing for fifty cents. According to Mr. Krueger, not one washing but a whole month's farm washings can be done in an electric washing machine for that amount. He points out that although gas engines and other sources of power are occasionally found in use, the electric motor is infinitely superior, as there are no exposed and dangerous gears or belting, practically no noise, and no trouble in starting.

For persons having large ironings, Mr. Krueger recommends the consideration of electric ironing machines, sometimes called "mangles." Such an ironer will do the ironing in about one-fourth of the time required for hand ironing and the work is done with less effort and discomfort. He says that some skill is required to do the less simple articles but when such skill is acquired, the ironer can be used on practically al lthe clothes. Ordinarily the operating cost is generally a little higher than it is for ironing the same quantity of clothes with a hand iron. Skilled operators, however, have done ironing at a lower cost than would have been required for hand ironing. Energy consumption for a family of six has been found to vary between 6 and 12 kilowatt hours a month. Often a special rate is available on application, making the cost of operation surprisingly low.

The 30-inch length ironing machine is the most popular size acording to Mr. Krueger.

The only question every child answered rightly at a Corning (Ia.) eighth grade examination was: "Who made the first nonstop air flight between New York and Paris?"

EMPLOYE DRIVES OLDEST OAKLAND

W. E. Noble, 74, Who Has Been Employed by Company 34 years, Operates 1912 Model

The oldest employe at the Oakland Motor Car company factory in Pontiac, Mich., appropriately is the owner and driver of what is believed to be the oldest Oakland car in daily service.

He is W. E. Noble, 74, who has served the Oakland Motor Car company and its predecessor, the Pontiac Buggy company, for upwards of 34 years. He is the connecting link between the quiet horse-drawn days when Pontiac was a sleepy little village on an old Indian trail, and the dynamic automotive present.

For that matter, his car almost qualifies as a similar link. It dates back to 1912.

Back in 1894 Noble was master trimmer for the Pontiac Buggy company engaged in upholstering and decorating the gorgeous buggies—the sport roadsters—in which the young bloods of the gay nineties rode behind their fine teams. Incidentally he says that the buggies then came in yearly models just as automobiles do today.

Mr. Noble trimmed buggies until 1907 when E. M. Murphy, president of the Pontiac Buggy company, deciding that after all there might be something to this horseless carriage idea, set one little building aside as an automobile factory. Mr. Noble was transferred to automobile trimming. The first Oakland was a two-cylinder assembled affair with daily production limited to not more than two cars. There were no assembly lines nor production methods.

"We just worked around a chassis until it was finished," explained the old employe. "Buggies, of course, remained our leading product. The next year they brought out the four-cylinder Oakland, known as Model K."

SMALL DANCER DIES IN WATER

Six-Year-Old Winifred Rabeau, of Moorestown, Drowns at Island Heights

Six-year-old Winifred Rabeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew W. Rabeau, of South Washington avenue, was drowned last Thursday afternoon in Toms River at Island Heights where together with her mother and two brothers, Thomas, 8, and Richard a baby, was spending the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Warrington, at her cottage at that resort.

Winifred, who was an accomplished amateur dancer, having taken lessons since she was a small child, had been rehearsing in the Island Hights Yacht Club with several other children for a dance they were to give at the club masquerade the following day.

After the rehearsal she and her girl companions put on their bathing suits, and while playing and dancing around on the pier it is believed Winifred toppled from the edge of the wharf into the water which is only four feet deep at that spot.

Her playmates, seeing Winifred's hand waving frantically above the surface, screamed and ran for help. Several men and boys ran to the pier and the little body was recovered with in a few minutes by Birney B. Truitt of Germantown.

The body was taken to the home of her paternal grandmother, Mrs. William H. Rabeau, of North Sixth street Camden, and funeral services were held from there Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Rabeau and family moved here from Camden two years ago. Winifred attended the public school here.

MOUNT HOLLY UNDERTAKER GETS BODY DEVICE PATENT

Franklin L. Foulkes, employed by Morris K. Perinchief at the Kieler undertaking establishment in Mount Holly, has lately been granted a patent on a body-fitting device that fits the basket used by undertakers. It takes up about one inch of space in the bottom of the basket when not in use. It is raised by the aid of a spring, released and lowered by the weight of the body. The purpose is to relieve to undertakers of the great strain of removing bodies from beds when they are to be taken to the morgue, the metal "board" forming the principal part of the device being elevated to take care of this situation. Mr. Foulks has now entered into an agreement with the Undertakers' Supply Company, of Chicago, to manufacture the device and pay him a royalty on sales. Mr. Perinchief has been using the demonstrator for some time with much satisfaction.

Vice Chancellor Leaming Believes "Herb" and "Al", Sees "Better Times"

Conditions Will Improve When Hoover or Smith Take Up Their Residence in White House, Prominent Moorestonian Says in Court

The closing of the Chancery Court at Camden Monday morning for a vacation until September 4 was marked by a bit of philosophy by Vice-Chancellor Edmund B. Leaming.

The prominent Moorestonian used for his text "Better times are coming." He also took advantage of the opportunity to give Hoover and Smith a cheer in offering some predictions.

Those promised good times, according to the Chancellor, will arrive about the time either Herbert Hoover or Alfred E. Smith take up their residence in the White House.

All this came after the Chancellor had heard the case of Joseph Stone, of Gloucester, charged with contempt of court by his wife, because he had failed to pay all the money due her under an $8-a-week support order issued by the Chancellor on May 28.

William C. Gottschalk, attorney for the man, filed a writ in his behalf and the man testified he had not been able to find work. He enumerated the list of places at which he had applied for employment and the list included virtually every industrial plant in Camden and nearly every garage.

"I will not send this man to jail for contempt," the Chancellor said, "because I know there is a great deal of unemployment at present. But better times are coming soon. Both Mr. Hoover and Mr. Smith tell us so, so of course it must be true."

Stone promised he would pay the $96 still owed his wife as soon as he had obtained work. In the meantime, officials will investigate Stone's story of having tried every industrial plant in Camden.

Some men are more generous in taking their own measure than in taking the measure of others.

COUNTY AERO UNIT HAS FLYING FIELD NEAR LUMBERTON

Club's Second Airport is Only for Weekend Passenger Hopping

SEVERAL STUDENTS ARE READY TO SOLO

Committees Appointed to Plan for Dedication Exercises October 6

An enthusiastic meeting of the Burlington County Aero Club was held in the Moorestown Community House on Monday evening.

The representative audience present from nearly every town in the county heard the report of the passenger hops over the weekend at both the Moorestown field and the new field on the Bettinger farm, near Lumberton on the Medford-Mount Holly road This new field will be used only for passenger hops on Sunday's to accommodate automobile tourists who want to experience the delightful aerial trip in one of the club's "Waco 10's." Regular daily flying and instruction will continue from the Moorestown Airport.

H. H. Longaker, president, announced that several students in the first class of twelve were at a point of proficiency where they were ready to make their first solo flight without the instructor. Lieutenant Pennock has been giving instruction daily to members of this class. Flying weather for the most part has been ideal for istruction and for passenger flying.

Visitors "Drop In"

Saturday afternoon the club was favored by a visiting pilot and passenger enroute from Hagerstown, Md. to Hartford, Conn. The pilot was Lieutenant Charles Wright, of a Hartford Aircraft Corporation, a former member of the 118th Connecticut Observation Squadron. Charles W. Hitchcock a Hartford insurance broker, accompanied him in flying a brand new Challenger plane to its New England destination for delivery.

Both Lieut. Wright and Mr. Hitchcock congratulated members of the club on their achievements in promoting aviation in this vicinity and highly praised the club's field for its plain markings and condition.

One of the most enthusiastically received announcements at the Monday night meeting was the plans for a mammouth aerial field day and dedication of the airport tenatively set Saturday, October 6. President Longaker has been working on arrangements for this occasion for several weeks and on Monday night committees were appointed to further carry out intensively the elaborate program. plans.

The enthusiastic president of the club outlined but briefly the scope which this day would cover, but predicted that it would be without doubt the biggest event by far that the club has yet undertaken. Invitations are to be sent to a number of aviation celebrities, state and local authorities a number of visiting pilots and parachute jumpers, and people of prominence interested generally in the future of aviation.

The events of the day will be sure to mark Burlington County indelibly on the air map of the United States as well as create an occasion that will be of lasting benefit to the business and civic growth of the county.

At the next regular meeting of the club, which will be held in the Moorestown Community House on Monday evening, August 20, Lieut. Starr, chief parachute jumper and instructor for the U. S. Navy, who is stationed at Lakehurst, will be the speaker. This should be a very entertaining and instructive meeting and, as all "speaker metings", will be open to the public.

POS OF A HONORS TWO VETERANS

Civil War Veteran and Man of 35 Years Service in Order Feted at Meeting

One of two living Civil War Veterans, living in Palmyra, was presented with an emblem of the P. O. S. of A. by Camp 35 as a recognition of the service of Brother Frank Bates to his country. George Smith, State Secretary, made the presentation with appropriate remarks, extoling the deeds of the men of '61.

George N. Wimer, a veteran of 35 years service to the order and his country was presented with a jewel from the members of Camp 23 for his faithful and untiring efforts. Fred A. Pope, District President of Somerset county, in his address traced the progress of our order and its value to the nation. Brother Pope presented the beautiful emblem to Brother Wimer at the close of his address.

"Words cannot express my feelings upon being honored so by my brothers of Camp 35," said Brother Wimer.

State President Albert E. Card, Past National Master of Forms Baker and Assistant State Secretary Haines were also present and made appropriate remarks.

The evening program closed with refreshments.

MUSICAL PROGRAM FOR ROTARIANS

Newly Appointed Music Committee Presents Many Pleasing Novelties

The newly appointed Music Committee under the chairmanship of "Pat" Steedle had its first fling at entertaining on Thursday evening last when they put on a very creditable program for the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club.

The program was opened by two vocal solos by "Bish" Lockett, entitled, "Home Again," and "The Crow Song." Both of these were selected by Mr. Lockett, whose rendition received the plaudits of the Club. He was very ably accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Powell at the piano.

Master Robert Finney, son of ex-President "Horace," has captured the championship for the mastery of the bugle of the Boy Scouts of Burlington County, and in true note, very capably played the complete selection of calls which are recognized by the Scouts and which conform with the regular U. S. Army code.

Accordion Artist

The next surprise offered on the program was that of accordion numbers offered by Stanley Black, of Palmyra, who is recognized throughout professional circles as an artist of note. His mastery of the accordion was at once appreciated by his listeners and his numbers were received with much applause. His accompanist was the well known pianist Dr. Dean H. LeFavor who, with Mr. Black, rendered piano concertos, piano duettes and many novelty musical numbers. The concluding numbers of the program were much appreciated by the Club when Dr. LeFavor rendered several piano selections.

Second Annual Picnic

One of the important events on the calendar for the Rotary Club is the Second Annual Picnic, which will be held next Wednesday, August 15, at Sylvan Lakes, Burlington. This will be attended by all Rotarians and their families, and dinner will be served at 6.30 p. m.

In order to make sure that every member who can attend the picnic will be provided with transportation they should notify "El" Thum, and he will gladly make provisions.

Clarence Mattis, William Becker, Charles Geelan and "El" Thum have arranged a very interesting program for the event, consisting of races, games, boating, bathing novelties and a song fete, all to be concluded with a well-catered dinner.

Continuous Program

This will be in the nature of a continuous program for the afternoon so that any member not being in a position to make it at the hour of starting, will find amusement of some character at any hour.

It is proposed that Rotarians will meet at the Porch Club at 2.30 p. m. and from there they will proceed to Plum's Point, at Sylvan Lakes. Should there be members who cannot make the early hour, they will be welcomed at any time at the lakes. The picnic will take the place of the regular Thursday meeting, which will be dispensed with.

Geranium Leaves Fatal to Beetles

William G. Wise, a pipe inspector employed by a Burlington pipe foundry, announces that geranium leaves contain a sap or oil that is deadly to Japanese beetles.

He says he made the discovery after noticing that a number of beetles were lying dead under the leaves of a geranium plant in his garden and that others were nearby in a dying condition. He experimented with a number of lively beetles which he caught and placed in a trap containing geranium leaves, and found that shortly after devouring the leaves the insects died.

Up to the present time, Mr. Wise has not attached any great importance to his discovery, although he is quite sure that he has found a beetle exterminator.

COLUMBUS CADETS ENJOYING CAMP

For the past ten days a group of twenty-two boys, members of the Columbus Cadets of St. Joseph's Council, have been encamped on the Jersey coast at High Point. Judging from the letters received by the parents of the young soldiers, this first real camping trip is meeting the hearty approval of the boys and their elders.

The little camp of four main tents and small mess tent is just on the outside of High Point, between the bay and ocean, which offers plenty of opportunity for fishing, bathing, boating and swimming. Competition in the various sports has determined who are the champs, and has kept the boys in a happy mood at all times.

Many members of St. Joseph's Council have visited the camp during the past week and have left watermelons and a great variety of eats for the boys, which seems to be the main issue.

The boys have been under the direct supervision of Captain A. J. Pfaff, who has received high praise for the efficient manner in which the whole trip has been conducted.

A special committee has been appointed to transport the boys home next Sunday, composed of William J. Eck, John Holvick, Augustus Conlow, Russell Holvick, Ed. Barr and Joseph F. Yearly.

CUP TOURNAMENT NOW IN PROGRESS

Winner to Meet Robert Hobbs, Last Year's Champion, For Possession of Trophy

The annual cup tournament of the Palmyra Tennis Association is now in full sway. Drawings were completed last week and several of the first round matches have already been played off.

The cup is now held by Robert Hobbs, who won it from Roy T. Hardy last year. This is the Albert S. King trophy which was put up several years ago for the winner of the tournament and was to be the permanent possession of any one winning it two years in succession.

Hardy won the cup twice but in order to stimulate interest in local tennis, suggested last year, that a tournament be held among the other players and that he meet the winner in a five set match for the cup. Robert Hobbs, a new member of the club, won the tournament and later defeated Hardy in the cup match.

This year practically all the members of the club are engaged in a tournament to select an opponent to oppose Hobbs for the cup.

Eight of the first round matches have been played off with the following winners: G. Hagstoz, C. Watson, Roy Hardy, Harry Strang, W. Burgess, Charles Snyder, Arthur Wright and Frank Chambers. Three matches remain to be played in the first round between F. Metzer and W. Seece, Jack Eisley and William Erhard, and P. Hermsteadt and P. Miller.

The girls are having a tournament of their own which is just now getting under way. Only one or two matches have been played to date, but the first round is expected to be played off this week. The girls have taken an active interest in the club this year and several good players are being developed. This tournament gives promise of plenty of action and many thrilling matches are expected before the winner is decided.

Announcement was made Tuesday of the marriage of Robert E. Loreaux, of Bellevue, and Alice Meench, of Beverly, at Elkton, Md., last Saturday. The bridegroom is well known in Palmyra and Riverton, having previously lived in both towns.

The young couple have known each other for two years and have been engaged for nearly a year. They were married with the consent of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Meench, and Loreaux's widowed mother. They will live at Bellevue for the present.

The deceased is survived by her husband, Jeremiah, and four young children, Doris, Elizabeth, Roland and David.

PALMYRA LEGION NAMES OFFICERS

Leaders for Coming Year Nominated at Enthusiastic Meeting

Officers for the coming year were nominated by Post Rodgers, American Legion, of Palmyra, at a meeting held Tuesday evening. The meeting was well attended and County Vice-Commander Jack Whomsley, of Riverside, was one of the prominent guests present.

Ted D'Autrechy was placed in nomination for Post Commander. Carl Thomas, Vice Commander, Charles C. Seemuller, Junior Vice-Commander, George Luce, Adjutant, Ray Pichter, Sergeant-at-Arms, Raymond Bailey and Paul Van Sant, historian, Harvey Fisher and Robert English, chaplain.

Rex McCrosson, of Palmyra, is County Commander at the present. During the past year the various Posts of Burlington county have had phenomenal growth, the total membership increasing by 62 per cent. Every post has exceeded the quota set by state headquarters.

Burlington county now leads the state in Legion membership and has jumped from thirteenth place to first place. This gives the home county boys first place in the state parades and first place in state convention seating.

More than half the members in the county are now uniformed.

At the state convention to be held in Bridgeton on August 31 and September 1, there will be a great parade at 3 o'clock on the second day, with 27 bugle corps, ten bands and 5,000 men in line. A bugle contest will also be held the same day.

Palmyra Post has 105 members and Riverside has 100. Sixty Riverside Legionnaires are uniformed. Riverside will have its annual Legion Carnival on September 13, 14 and 15 at the Delanco A. A. building.

MEMORIAL PARK SWIMMING HOLE

During the week ending Saturday, the fourth, a marked interest was noted by increased attendance by parents from not only our own town but other localities, who expressed themselves very favorably of our popular pool, the safety of their children and the progress they are making in their swimming lessons by the able Red Cross instructor. He will be on hand again next Tuesday at 3.30 p. m.

These instructions occur once a week. In the interval the guard stands ready to correct their mistakes and encourage them individually until they become qualified for the regular tests. It is necessary for the children who wish these lessons and tests to hand their names to the guard, who in turn will classify and present them to the Red Cross man as a class.

Our motto is "A fit place for everybody for safety, health and decency without interfering with wholesome fun."

Mothers, put on your bathing suits and join your children in play in this cool water these hot days, and if your husbands come home irritated from the city's oppressive heat show them there is a spot in Riverton cool and refreshing for frayed nerves that induces a return to normal.

NOTES

Parents have responded nicely in trying to keep their dogs from going in the water while the children are bathing.

The hot, oppressive days of this month lower our vitality and resisting powers to infections or diseases. Bathing and swimming, like all good things of life, can be overdone. If there is no response of refreshment and strength within a reasonable time after having become tired from the exercise, nature is reminding you of a danger and you should be provided with a covering; immediately put it on until the response guides you either to the water again or homeward.

Bathing and swimming can be very beneficial or very enervating, depending on the precautions you use by knowing what you can stand and using simple common sense. So, bathing in so-called "dog days" does just as much good to our hearts as any other day if our physical condition is just as good as any other day, and we do not go beyond our limit of resisting power, as in any other exercise.

SANTOP'S LOSE TO RIVERTON 9-6

Onslaught by Riverton in Fifth Frame Downs Broncos; Worrell Hits Homer

The widely heralded Santop's Broncos came to Riverton Tuesday evening of this week with the full expectation of returning with the long end of the score in their favor. The Riverton A. A. nine however had different ideas and rode the Broncos to a 9-6 defeat.

Three base hits in the first inning gave the Broncos a slim lead which Riverton tied in their half of the opener. Snyder walked, Brogan sacrificed him to second and Danahower scored Snyder with a base hit.

The second inning looked like a nightmare to Hughes, the Broncos' hurler, when Worrell, Riverton's star third sacker, tagged one into deep center field for a home run.

Riverton again scored in the third when Brogan singled and "Big Bertha" Danahower slammed out a triple.

In the fifth frame Riverton worked on the Broncos with base hits to all parts of the field and amassed a score of six runs in the one inning. Two base hits, an error, base on balls, and two more hits, with an infield sacrifice, brought about the tragic end of the Broncos in Riverton.

Santop's proteges broke into the score column in the seventh by getting on to Guthrie's curves for five runs.

Lody Orcutt called the game on account of darkness at the end of the first half of the eighth inning.

It is estimated that between 1200 and 1500 people witnessed the breaking of the Broncos by the Riverton cowboys.

RIVERTON A. A. JRS.

On Thursday, August 2, the A. A. Jrs. defeated the Warwick Blues, a men's team from North Philadelphia by a 16-4 score. The Juniors scored early and often and had little trouble in holding the visitors in check.

For the benefit of those who do not know the Juniors we will endeavor to introduce them through the columns of this paper. This team of local talent is backed and supported by the Riverton Athletic Association and the baseball fans of Riverton. These youthful players are a fully uniformed team and a hard playing aggregation.

The outfield is composed of speed, sincerity and humor in the personnel of Jimmy (Lightning) Reeves, Leon (Tod) Sloan and Ike (Altrock) Perkins. Allen (Ferdy) Hemphill and Ed Hutchins are two strong substitutes.

The pitching duties are masterfully handled by Leon (Pipgras) Coles, Jack (Knuckle Ball) Smith, and Harry (Lefty Rube) Gootee.

BOY INJURED WHEN CYCLE HITS TRUCK

West Palmyra Youth Loses Two Teeth in Accident at Broad and Morgan

James Webb, 11-year-old colored boy, suffered painful bruises and lacerations when his bicycle struck a truck at Broad street and Morgan avenues last Wednesday afternoon. Two teeth were knocked out and two stitches were required to close a cut on his lip.

The boy was riding his bicycle East on Broad street, along with two companions, but he alone turned into Morgan avenue. Charles E. Wescott, Jr., driver of the truck, was going west on Broad street and was not expecting Young Webb to turn. As soon as he saw the boy's intention he swerved the truck into Morgan avenue to avoid crashing into the bicycle, but the young cyclist became confused and ran into the front wheel of the machine. He was thrown against the truck by the force of the impact, which was the cause of his injuries.

The driver of the truck, who lives in Trenton, was held blameless and was released by the Palmyra police. The injured boy lives on Sixth street, west of Market, Palmyra.

Camden Club Names E. R. Johnson, Director

Eldridge R. Johnson, of Moorestown, was elected a member of the board of governors at the Camden City Athletic Club at a meeting held in the rooms of the Camden Chamber of Commerce last week.

Seven members of the club will be appointed by Patrick H. Harding, president, to the building committee, which will have charge of the erection of the $600,000 clubhouse at Crescent and Baird boulevards.

It was decided to close the $600 life founder membership class on August 31 unless the quota of 100 members is reached prior to that date, in which event the class will close automatically.

RIVERTON CADDIES AT WHITEMARSH

Four of the Riverton Country Club caddies were taken to the White Marsh Club on Monday to compete in a tournament there. They made an early start in the car of Mrs. W. F. Letford, of Palmyra, but had a long wait before they started to play. Spencer Zaum made 47 on the first nine holes and 46 on the return; "Dude" Conwell 53 and 50; "Waco" Bishop, 53 and 54, and "Pinky" Letford, who didn't do quite so well, did not keep his score.

The boys feel that getting a late start and the strange course had much to do with their poor scores, but when a tournament is staged in Riverton later this month, they are going to have a different story to tell. The boys had lunch at the club house and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

Henry Shea is the Riverton caddy master.

COUNTY OBJECTS TO TAX INCREASE

Judge Wells and Fred Lippincott Protest at Hearing in Trenton

Burlington County registered strenuous complaint against any further increase in taxes at a meeting of the State Board of Taxation held in the State House at Trenton last week.

Judge Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown, solicitor for Burlington County, voiced his opposition to the proposed ten per cent. assessment boost. Fred Lippincott, of Moorestown, member of the Burlington County Board of Taxation, appeared with a protest made by his organization.

Judge Wells was authorized to attend the meeting and object to the purposed increase in ratables through a resolution introduced at the last meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders. The county solicitor argued that the purposed increase of ten per cent. was out of proportion to the price that real estate was now bringing in Burlington County. He further said that the increase would be a hardship on the farmers, who at the present time were doing no more than making a living.

During the last six months, Judge Wells declared, sixty per cent. of the farm land sold in Burlington County had not brought its assessed value.

The argument was a telling one.

The protest made by the Burlington County Board of Taxation through Mr. Lippincott was in the form of the following communication which he presented:

"The Burlington County Board of Taxation desires to enter a protest against the proposed increase of ten per centum in valuations suggested in the table of ratables as prepared by your body and forwarded to us, believing that business and market conditions in Burlington County at this time do not warrant such an increase.

"We, therefore, respectfully ask your honorable body to set a date when we may have an opportunity to present evidence in support of this protest."

As a result of the protests made by the Burlington County Board of Taxation and backed by Judge Wells, the State Board granted the request for a hearing and fixed the first week in September as the time for it.

A mass of data will be presented. Burlington County already is taxed to the limit and to add another ten per centum would be the straw that breaks the camel's back.

TWO MEN INJURED AT WEST PALMYRA

Albert Bundy and Earl Carney Hurt in Auto Accident at Pensauken Creek Bridge

Albert Bundy, of Morrisville, near Delair, was severely injured when the car in which he was a passenger collided with a car driven by Harold Quicksall, of Riverside, last Friday afternoon.

The car in which Bundy was riding was being driven by Nehemiah Bundy, a relative, and was going toward Camden when it cut around a truck near the Pensauken creek bridge at West Palmyra. The truck was being towed by another machine which Bundy did not see when he started around and was unabe to turn in in time to avoid a collision with the Quicksall car.

Albert Bundy was sent to the hospital suffering from cuts and bruises about the head and face. An x-ray taken later disclosed a slight fracture of the skull. Earl Carney, the third occupant of the Bundy machine, was badly shaken up and was sent to his home after treatment by the police physician.

At a hearing before Police Justice William L. Fichter, Nehemiah Bundy was held under $1,000 bail to await the outcome of Albert's injuries. Earl Carney was accused of being the driver of the car while under the influence of liquor, but at the hearing it developed that he became impatient and moved over to the driver's seat while the others were taking care of the wounded man.

CAMPAIGN DINNER FOR COUNTY BOY SCOUTS TONIGHT

George B. Ferrier, Jr., to Assist Dr. S. E. Stokes as Toastmaster

PROMINENT NEW YORK MAN CHIEF SPEAKER

150 Workers Who Seek to Raise $40,000 for Camp to Attend

The opening dinner of the Boy Scout Campaign for $40,000 to purchase a camp for the Burlington County Scouts will be held this evening, Thursday, at 6.30 o'clock at the Community House, Moorestown. The dinner which was scheduled to have taken place last Monday, was postponed in order to allow for completion of town committees throughout the county.

George B. Ferrier, Jr., of Moorestown, will assist Dr. S. Emlen Stokes, general chairman, as toastmaster of ceremonies. Perry Burgess, well known New York philanthropist, will be the speaker guest of the evening. Several prominent citizens throughout the county will give brief talks on the scout movement in Burlington County, the need of a camp, and the plan of campaign.

Mr. Burgess, the speaker of the evening, was prominently identified with the huge drive of the Near East Relief and is one of those chiefly responsible for its success. He is at present secretary of the Leonard Wood Memorial Committee which is endeavoring to eradicate leprosy in Culion, called the "Island of the Living Dead," in the Philippine Islands as a memorial to the late governor general, Leonard Wood.

He has been vitally interested in the Boy Scout movement for several years and is well qualified to speak on this subject from a long period of close study and work with Boy Scouts of this country.

It is expected that 150 men of the County will be present at the opening dinner and will endeavor during the coming week to raise the $40,000 necessary for the purchase, development and equipment of a camp for the Burlington County Boy Scouts.

The money will be raised by the sale of non-interest bearing bonds, in any amount which the purchaser wishes to subscribe.

EXPLOSION KILLS MT. HOLLY MAN

Norton Kirby, Nephew of Palmyra Postmaster, Dies From Injuries

Norton Kirby, 29 years old, of Mount Holly, who was a nephew of George Harvey, Palmyra postmaster, died Saturday afternoon in the Burlington County Hospital, following injuries suffered from an explosion in the basement of his tire shop on Mill street, Mount Holly. The exact cause of the explosion is unknown. Kirby was seen going down the cellar steps carrying a lighted lantern, and it is believed leaking gas ignited on coming into contact with the flame. George Gaskill, Kirby's assistant, heard the explosion and said the cellar immediately became a mass of smoke which he was unable to penetrate.

In response to the injured man's calls for help Gaskill made valiant efforts to reach his employer after hurling several buckets of water into the cellar to quench the flames. The fumes, however, caused him to retreat as he was ready to collapse.

Ignoring a sick feeling following his contact with the fumes, Gaskill sounded a fire alarm and called for aid in rescuing the trapped man.

Patrick A. Birkholtz, who conducts a garage in the same building, was among the first to respond. Hurrying to the cellar, he reached Kirby and pulled him several feet before he became partly overcome by the fumes and was forced to abandon the rescue attempt.

Meanwhile, the smoke increased in density, and Mount Holly fire men, who made a quick run, donned gas masks in futile efforts to approach near the tire shop owner. With the aid of the masks and after streams of water were played on the flames, they finally reached Kirby. He was floating in several inches of water that formed in the cellar.

WORK TO CONTINUE ON SCHOOL G[illegible]

Grading Work Complete State Survey to be Re[illegible]

The work of grading the Palmyra High School grounds is now finished and further improvements will be started in a day or so. The material for the new fence which is to enclose the grounds is now ready for shipment and work will start during the coming week.

The grading work was done by John Deneler instead of the Borough as previously reported. The Borough's equipment was not considered adequate to do the work and as Deneler offered a very good proposition he was given the job.

The report of the school survey is now ready and a special meeting of the board will be called in the near future to receive it. The new supervisor, Professor Eckert, is expected to be present when the state experts appear before the board with the results of the survey.

Mayor Jimmy Walker occupied the vice regal suite in a Banff hotel and was addressed as Your Worship. But, of course, it didn't mean any more than Your Honor.

TAXI DRIVER RETURNS $25,000 WORTH OF JEWELRY

Carl Tronsted, taxi driver of Chicago, found a case on the running board of his cab which contained a glittering display of jewels.

After making the discoverery, he sat up all night long with a pistol guarding the jewel case.

In the morning he took it to the cab company. An inquiry, and it was found that the loss has been reported by Commander William Heard, U. S. N., en route to Panama with his wife. The gems were worth $25,000.

The most unusual part of this story, some say, is that it happened in Chicago.

DEMOCRATS PLAN FALL CAMPAIGN

Will Start in Burlington County the First Day of September

Burlington County Democratic Women led by their State Committeewoman, Mrs. Florence Jacoby, will open their campaign on the first day of September.

Mrs. Jacoby believes that Smith will carry the country by a greater majority than any president in her time has ever been known to do. She is also confident of Commissioner William L. Dill's election as governor of this state and said that if determination and enthusiasm are at all significant, her women will get out a big vote in Burlington county for the Democrats in November.

It is Mrs. Jacoby's opinion also that Republican publications, now in her possession, which ridicule the Democratic nominee's religious beliefs are making votes for him.

"They are absurd," she said. "They are shining examples of the smallness of their publishers, and we women shall arm ourselves with them when we start out to campaign in September."

"When I declared I thought prohibition a flat failure," she continued, "my resignation as secretary of the New Jersey Law Enforcement Committee was requested. I am for temperance, and I believe implicitly in the enforcement of all laws, the Eighteenth Amendment included, but not the Eighteenth Amendment only."

SOW FLOWER SEED FOR SPRING BLOOMS

The pleasures of gardening can be increased by following the plants from seed to flower; and this can be done if the gardener raises his own perennial plants.

According to C. H. Connors, floriculturist at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, New Brunswick, the proper time to sow seeds of the most common flower plants is as soon as they are ripe. Spring and early summer flowering perennials, such as columbine, hardy alyssum, delphinium, and so on, have now matured their seeds. If the gardener has selected very carefully, he may use his own seeds, otherwise it would be wiser to purchase a fresh supply.

The seeds can be sown in the open ground, in the cold-frame, or in boxes or pots. If sown in the open ground or cold-frame, the seedbed must be very carefully prepared, being raked to remove all rubbish and to make the soil as fine as possible. If the soil has a tendency to bake, a little granulated peat moss may be worked into the surface soil. If peat moss is used, it is wise to transplant very promptly such things as delphinium, Baby's Breath, Rock Cress, and other lime loving plants. The seeds are preferably sown in rows, three times the depth of the seed being covered with clean sand. The sand acts as a much to retain moisture and the germinating seeds are able to push the plumule through the sand much more readily than through baked soil. The seeds should be firmed, and then, as germination will take place in hot, dry weather, a light mulch of peat moss is very fine, well-rotted manure may be used. It is wise to shade the young plants with a lath shade.

As soon as the young plants have formed two true leaves, they should be transplanted to stand 2 inches apart, each way. Later, as soon as they have obtained sufficient size, they can be moved to the permanent place. A light mulch protection should be given during the winter.

MORE DIVORCES, FEWER MARRIAGES IN COUNTY

Four hundred and seventy couples were married in Burlington county last year, while the law was resorted to by 61 couples who sought separation by divorces. Compared with the preceding year this shows a decrease of eight marriages and a gain of 22 divorces, there being 478 marriages and 39 divorces during that year.

STATE POLICE TO BE AUGMENTED

Applicants for Position on Force Must Pass Rigid Examination

Examinations for appointment to the State police were announced last week for August 15 and 16 by Colonel Schwarzkopf, head of the force. The test will be held at the State House and application blanks have been sent two hundred fifty persons registered with the department. The examinations are the result of seven years' experience, the Colonel said, and are designed to determine whether a man possesses the natural qualifications for development as a State policeman. The applicants must pass a mental test, requiring the application of common sense to practical problems, as well as physical and medical examination.

After successfully meeting these tests, each applicant is given a personal interview by the department head to determine his ability, initiative and other factors which it is considered essential for a member to possess. In addition, character recommendations are required. The applicants appointed will begin a course of three months' training, September 15, which must be completed before they may take to the road.

Although the Legislature last winter increased the department's personnel from one hundred and forty to two hundred and eighty men, funds were not provided for the expansion. At present there are about one hundred and thirty men in the organization and the September class is not expected to increase the force much above its original strength.

WANTS AMERICAN HUSBAND

A battle on St. Mary street, Burlington, recently, between Miss Nancy Sternotti, 18, and her uncle, Joseph Baccable, 45, caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood and angered residents who gathered to see the fight and threatened to do violent harm to the uncle. Arrival of the police prevented possible serious injury to Baccable, who had brutally beaten his niece. She was picked up unconscious and suffered from cuts and bruises. The uncle was arrested on a charge of assault and battery. Baccable, it is understood, was angered because the girl picked an American instead of an Italian for her prospective husband, spurning a thousand dollar gift from her uncle if she chose an Italian.

VERY LATEST

Skirt trimmings run to the side for the fall season—and usually it's the right side.

In a new model one of the more conservative treatments is shown in the form of a soft side drapery dipping below the hem in a decided point to accent the uneven hemline and furnish the one-sided motif for the costume.

The frock, which is an excellent type for afternoon and semi-formal wear, is developed in a deep beige tone of crepe satin, made with a picot edge and shows both satin and crepe surfaces of the fabric as its points swing below the hem.

NEW FALL COLORS AND FABRICS

Vivid reds, soft, melting browns and a rich wine shade are important contributions to the new color group for fall. Black and printed satins will be much used. Canton crepe returns to favor—either alone or in combination with velvets—and its newest interpretation is patterned in metal threads which dimly trace an all-over design. Prints—contrary to expectations—have not "died out," but have become as much of a staple as plain colors and are splendidly represented in fall fabrics.

OLYMPIC HEROES

The Olympic games are on! The track and field competition at Amsterdam, Holland, engages the attention of the entire athletic world.

And what a spectacle it is! The finest sportsmen of the world are gathered at Amsterdam. Hundreds and hundreds of brawny, brave men in the quest for new laurels for their nations give exhibitions of startling grace and skill.

MOORESTOWN HAS "MAD DOG" SCARE

Tests Show Canine, Cause of Much Excitement Did Not Have Rabies

Tests by the State Board of Health have revealed that the dog, which caused a "mad dog" scare among the residents of East Main street, Moorestown, last Friday morning, did not have the rabies.

The canine, dashing madly about yards in the vicinity of East Main street and Zelley avenue, Moorestown, caused great excitement in the neighborhood. The dog chased several children and during the excitement, ran in the home of J. Clyde Rogers. It quickly made its exit through a back door, however. It also made a lunge for "Fritz" fine police dog owned by the James E. Kelleys who live next to the Rogers.

Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Rogers rushed the children to the safety of their homes and telephoned for the police. Office Walter A. Errickson arrived in record time and shot the canine, which displayed all the symptoms of a mad dog.

Chief of Police John Brodshaw took the head of the animal to Trenton Friday afternoon. In a report to Dr. G. H. Wilkinson, Moorestown health officer, the State Board of Health stated the tests showed no symptoms of rabies. Further tests will be made, however, but it will be five or six weeks before they can be completed.

Although no signs of a bite could be found on "Fritz," Mrs. Kelley had Dr. W. W. Gardiner innoculate her dog Friday afternoon.

CAUTIONS AGAINST RANDOM COW BUYS

In seeking good cows it is absolutely necessary that the deals be made through reliable persons, and if it is a cattle dealer who is asked to make selections, he should be one in whom the purchaser has implicit confidence. Such is the conclusion reached by E. J. Perry, for five years dairy extension specialist for the state agricultural experiment station at New Brunswick, N. J.

In a warning to dairymen Mr. Perry says: "When a dealer known to be trustworthy is not available it is well to seek the assistance of a county breed association or the cattle sales company of the particular county where the animals are to be bought. County agricultural agents can furnish the names of and full information about these organizations. If such organizations do not exist, the county agent can give prospective purchasers the names of reliable breeders, dairymen, or dealers in the county.

"It should always be remembered that too much care and caution cannot be exercised in the purchase of foundation animals. Selections should not be made too quickly. A young dairyman of Sussex County, having recently lost most of his herd on the tuberculosis tests has just returned from Wisconsin, where he secured 30 good cows, but it required three weeks for him to get what he wanted. When more dealers and other buyers begin to refuse to consider seriously cows lacking any sort of records, there will be more record cows; greater satisfaction will prevail in cow purchasing and it will not be the gamble it too often is today.

BAIRD TO PLAN FALL CAMPAIGN

Camden Political Leader Named Chairman of State Republican Committee

David Baird, Jr., of Camden, was given the most important task of the ensuing general election campaign of the Republican party in New Jersey last week, at Trenton, when at a meeting of the State Committee he was named chairman of a sub-committee which is to plan the political fight in the interests of the entire Republican ticket for Hoover, Kean and Larson down to the county and municipal officers to be elected.

Associates of Mr. Baird on this committee are former Governor E. C. Stokes, Mayor Thomas L. Raymond, of Newark; Mrs. Elizabeth Oliver, of Perth Amboy, and Mrs. Elsa Flower, of Passaic.

This committee was named by Bertram L. Mott, State chairman, and was the chief development of a conference of the State Committee with Hamilton Kean, the candidate for United States Senator; Senator Larson, the candidate for Governor, and New Jersey member of the national committee.

Chairman Mott seemed well pleased with the status of the Republican cause in the State at this time, and declared that the campaign of the year is further advanced than similar campaigns of other years.

It is the plan of the Baird committee, together with the national committee member and the candidates to make a tour of the State beginning August 15, to organize the campaign workers in each of the counties. With the outline of organization completed, the details will be left to the county organization.

Senator Larson denied that he has in mind the naming of local campaign managers, which was one report in circulation. His campaign, he said, will be directed by the State organization, with which the county units wil be asked to cooperate.

The goal set by the Republicans is at least an eighty-five per cent. vote of the November election. They will aim, of course, for a one hundred per cent., but admit that eighty-five per cent. is all that is reasonable to expect. The task, it was pointed out, is not so much a matter of registration in many districts as it is to get to the polls the eligible voters already booked.

JEAN CAMERON ONCE MORE IN LIMELIGHT

Figured Conspicuously in this County; Now Serving Five Years in New York Prison

Jean Cameron, who flitted in and out of jails in this vicinity as she did the hearts and pocketbooks of South Jersey citizens some six months ago, is behind the bars of the New York State Prison for Women in Auburn.

She's due to stay there five years. She sent a taxicab driver into a chop suey restaurant in Albany and drove his cab away.

Here she was known best as Jean Cameron. She had a half dozen other names, and she was about five feet two, with wavy brown hair and blue eyes. Quite a few men learned about women from her, particularly Harry (Bowler) Haines, of Pemberton.

"Bowler" Haines got her out of jail, posted $500 bond for her, bought her automobile from her, paid sundry fines, paid her lawyers, and then he took her home with him—to reform her. "Bowler" is a bachelor.

His efforts at reformation cost him another $150. The money was in his pocket when he went to bed one night. Then came the dawn. The money was gone and so was demure Jean.

Five operators who were on duty at the Bell telephone exchange, Mount Holly, all night July 13, the date of the finding of the dead body of Captain Emilio Carranza, Mexican aviator, in the pines near Chatsworth, have received presents from the Mexican Consul General's headquarters in New York. The operators were on duty because addition help was necessary to answer calls from all sections of the country, also to make connections to and from Mexico, in addition to many messages sent to newspapers.

Last week a check for $25 was received to be divided equally between the five operators. It was accompanied by the following letter:

"Bell Telephone Company,
"Mount Holly, N. J.

"I have the pleasure to enclose my check for the sum of $25, to be distributed equally between Misses Edith Nixon, Marion Anderson, Edna Horner, Geraldine Shemella and Bertha Stewart for services rendered during the night of July 13.

"Kindly convey to these young women my sincere thanks for their spontaniety and willingness to be of service on that memorable occasion.

"Very truly yours,
"Arturo M. Elias,
"Consul General of Mexico."

LIGHTNING DOES GREAT DAMAGE

Several Stables on Mount Holly Fair Grounds Destroyed in Storm

Seven stables on the old Mount Holly fair grounds burned down Friday night, and valuable race horses in neighboring stables were saved when lightning fired the stables.

The ground now is in the name of the Burlington County Progressive League, affiliated with the Ku Klux Klan. The grounds have been the subject of several court actions and quarrels.

Struck by lightning, a chimney was knocked from the home of Benjamin Reynolds, Lumberton, during the height of the storm. The family was at supper at the time and was dazed by the shock. They thought at first the house was afire.

A bolt striking the large barn on a farm on Creek road, near Lumberton, set fire to it. A mule and a heifer were burned to death and large quantities of hay and grain consumed as the barn was destroyed. Damage was estimated at $5000. Charles Coles, Mount Holly, is the owner of the farm, and Joseph Demsky is the tenant.

CAREY ASKS FOR HOOVER BACKING

Jersey Must Fight Tammany and Hague Machine, Says Judge

Former Judge Robert Carey issued the following statement last Thursday in connection with the present campaign:

A large number of the people who supported me in the recently held primary have asked me where I stand and what my attitude in the campaign is to be. My friends and supporters, to whom I am strongly indebted, have a right to know.

I am a Republican. I believe the nation and the state need the Republican party. I am not foolish enough to expect perfection from the Republican party, but I do believe it should live up to its fine traditions. I am practical enough to know that we can never wholly escape the commercialism of some of our politicians.

As a Republican, I want my party to elect a President this year, and we must control Congress, and New Jersey must send a Republican to the United States Senate. The country needs a continuation of the kind of government the Calvin Coolidge administration has given. The Republican party has nominated a ticket that should appeal to every red-blooded American. Certainly Mr. Hoover is one of the finest specimens of our citizenship. His life has been one constant round of fine service. His capacity, his integrity, and his genuine Americanism cannot be questioned by anyone. He will make a great President, and New Jersey must help to elect him.

Democrats Surrendered

The Democratic party, on the other hand, has simply surrendered completely to Tammany Hall of New York. It is all well enough to shout about the personal charm of the Democratic candidate, but the fact is that the Democratic candidate is simply a product of Tammany Hall, and as far as anybody has been able to learn has never in his entire political career repudiated anything Tammany Hall has done, or attempted to give the corrupt payroll padding Democratic machine of New York City any impulse to clean up its house. The corruption by the Tammany Hall machine should be thoroughly understood by this time by the entire electorate of America. The success of the Democratic party would simply mean the success of this machine. Tammany Hall stands for the same things today that it did under Tweed, Crocker and Murphy. Sewer contractors and the payroll grafters of New York will all be found, if looked for, in close association with the Democratic candidate. If this Democratic machine ticket should be successful, the discreated and disreputable Hague machine would be immediately in complete control of every Federal office and department in the State of New Jersey. The Hague machine and Tammany Hall are political partners.

If there even was a time when New Jersey should be absolutely rid of Democratic control, that time is now. The Democratic party in New Jersey has never sunk to lower depths. A barber pole would suffice for its platform. It does not respect the integrity of our Courts or the ballot box. It hasn't an American characteristic. It is a payroll grafting plunder-bound pure and simple. Its candidate for Governor of New Jersey is apparently afraid to speak above a whisper. He must depend for his election upon the Hague machine. He either won't or can't fight. We must elect a Republican Governor and legislature.

Against Corruption

How can there be any question as to what I, as a Republican should do? The pernicious influences in the Republican party are limited and can readily be eliminated by the exercise of clean and courageous leadership. The great mass of Republican voters in New Jersey, particularly the women, are strong against election and party corruption, and they are in no mind to be trifled with. Our party leadership knows this and I am assured by them that the Republican party, speaking through the candidates and organizations, will be viligant in uncovering existing evils and in attacking ballot box scandals. Any Republican who doesn't keep faith in the battle is not a Republican. We must give our candidates our fullest confidence. United we can win; divided, the Democratic machine will win. No real Republican or independent Democrat wants that disreputable machine to win.

Morgan Larson must be elected to the governorship. I have known him fairly closely for a number of years. He is a man of ability and integrity and is instinctively a fine, clean moral citizen. He can and I know should, and will, give our party and the state complete satisfaction as Governor. I believe he will make a good Governor, and we should give him our united support. I certainly intend to support him. My intentions have never been otherwise.

For Clean Politics

Yes, I intend continuing to fight for clean politics in New Jersey, and in doing so I am going to give a wholehearted battle for the success of the Republican party and its candidates, and I want my friends and supporters to follow through with me. We can thus best serve the State. And personally, I ask and want no favors. All I ask is that there be no surrender for a single moment to any sinister influences in our own party. If there are bank charter scandals or surety bond scandals or toll road bill scandals or just plain graft scandals, we must fight them to the limit.

Let us battle together for Republican party success. We must have it this year. Let us forget our personal differences. If we do, we can and will win in November. Let all personal aspirations be merged in the general welfare. I have personally battled for the Republican party for thirty-two years and I won't stop now simply because a few Republicans and the whole Democratic machine went into the ballot box stuffing business.

Living Tree Represents Man on Horseback

There are trained cedar trees on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. U. J. Prucha which he has trimmed and designed into all sorts of animals. His "tree menagerie" is a beautiful exhibit and tourists delight in visiting the place. Photo shows Mr. and Mrs. Prucha standing beside one of their trained cedars, representing a man on horseback.

PRACTICAL—THO' FEMININE

New fall frocks indicate a return of quite practical semi-tailored styles for daytime wear. All the flattering feminine touches are there,—but there is an added trimness, an efficient, well-tailored "something" about these newer frocks that sets them apart from the compromise styles of other seasons. Watch for this characteristic in choosing fall togs—if you would have the very latest.

POLITICIANS MEET AT SEA GIRT CAMP

Both Parties Well Represented at State Encampment Last Thursday

Delegations comprising political leaders from every county in the State last Thursday joined in the annual "Governor's Day" pilgrimage to New Jersey's summer capital, Sea Girt, where they were received by Governor A. Harry Moore and Mrs. Moore.

Estimates placed the number of visitors at close to ten thousand, of which one thousand five hundred Democratic chieftains in national, State, county and township affairs, were present at a conference and luncheon at which the virtues of "Al" Smith as a Presidential candidate were exploited in song and story.

Plans were also laid for the visit of Governor Smith on August 25, when he is expected to make the first address of his campaign.

Honor guests for the day were Amelia Earhart, first woman to fly across the Atlantic, and Wilmer Stults, her pilot. Stults was present to receive from the hands of Governor Moore a commission awarding him the rank of major in the New Jersey National Guard.

After performing an exhibition flight over the encampment of the 114th Infantry of National Guard, adjacent to the summer home of the Governor, Stults and Miss Earhart returned to New York.

Speakers at the rally were Governor Moore, Frank Hague, Mayor of Jersey City, and vice chairman of the National Committee; Senator Edward I. Edwards, William L. Dill, gubernatorial nominee; Harry Heher, State Chairman, and Mrs. Mary Norton, Congresswoman from the Twelfth District.

Governor's Day was not, however, entirely in the hands of the Democrats, for virtually every member of the Republican majority in the State Senate and House of Assembly journeyed to Sea Girt to pay their respects to the chief executive.

Hamilton F. Kean, Republican candidate for United States Senator, headed a delegation from his home county of Somerset.

Although it was primarily a gathering of politicians, with the air buzzing with speculation over the prospects of Smith and Hoover, it remained for the one thousand National Guardsmen of the 114th Infantry, encamped there, to contribute the color that the occasion required.

In the afternoon Governor Moore and his staff, the Governor in high silk hat and astride a handsome black charger, conducted an inspection of the regiment. This was followed by a dress parade of the entire personnel, with the Governor and his staff comprising the reviewing party.

American invention has now made it possible to take one's own movies in colors. Three cheers for the red, white and blue!

STATE PRAISED FOR CARRANZA TRIBUTE

Mexican Consul Sends Governor Moore Formal Letter of Appreciation

Arturo M. Ellis, Consul General of Mexico, has sent to Governor Moore a formal expression of the appreciation of the Mexican government for the honors bestowed by New Jersey on the late Captain Emilio Carranza, flying ace.

Captain Carranza was killed when his plane fell in the Jersey pines near Chatsworth. The 113th Infantry of the New Jersey National Guard attended the funeral services of the flier at New York prior to the shipment of the body to Mexico.

"In the name of the Mexican government and in my own, kindly accept sentiments of sincere appreciation for the help and honors rendered by the State of New Jersey to the remains of the late Captain Emilio Carranza," said the letter.

"The Mexican people will remember with everlasting gratitude the tributes rendered to Captain Carranza by the American people as a whole, and especially by the American authorities, civil as well as military."

Nobile was welcomed in Italy with flowers and kisses. One ventures the impression that he was glad to be home.

HARRASSING FREEDOM

Addresses presented at the International Association Chiefs of Police Convention at Colorado Springs, recently, contained advice which, if heeded, will help prevent crime and improve the moral standards and safety practices of the nation.

Carlton Simon, M.D., traced the theory of crime, its increase after wars which demoralize nations and destroy large numbers of virile and courageous members of the human race, leaving the residue to carry on. He said in part:

"We can limit and harrass human freedom to such an extent that even the normally balanced individual feels that he is oppressed without reason and will seek unlawful means of expressing his personality. This is the futility of those social crusades which would mold public opinion and have inspired what are termed 'blue laws.' These have usually worked the other way, to defeat their own purpose, creating a taste for the forbidden and leading to a perversion of freedom and unbridled licentiousness."

Mr. Simon states a great truth when he says that human freedom can be limited and harrassed to such an extent that the individual will seek unlawful means of expressing his personality. We have all seen this illustrated by laws proposed which would make it "unlawful" to sell or own small arms.

This has a more particular bearing on American citizens than on any other people because the second amendment to the United States Constitution gives all citizens the right to possess and bear arms. This was a liberty expressly given to us and not enjoyed by the people of many other nations. Further, it was a national defense measure in lieu of maintaining large standing armies. Hundreds of thousands of Americans who have worked for crime prevention and law enforcement would immediately become law breakers if denied the right to own revolvers and pistols.

Thus, as Mr. Simon points out, measures can be made so drastic that they defeat their own purpose. Crime prevention can be promoted only by reasonable laws, prompt law enforcement, education and those things that strike deeply into the mind through the avenue of precept and the urge of emotion, the cultivation of true sportsmanship which teaches square dealing.

RICKARD TO BAR RADIO?

For perhaps the first time a heavyweight championship bout has proved a flop—that is, as far as gate receipts are concerned. On the thrilling Tunney-Heeney encounter Tex Rickard has lost, it is reported, about $150,000.

Rickard is a good sport and took it real good-naturedly, but he had a few things to say about the radio.

It seems that only 40,000 people attended the fight. Double that number were expected. Rickard ascribes the absence of many to the fact that they could hear the fight over the radio. And so he threatens to forbid radio broadcasting of his next [illegible]

[illegible] is interesting indeed. [illegible]ship bout is a great na[illegible] event. The entire country is [illegible] it ethical to shut off [illegible] whereby the majority of [illegible] get their running story of such an event?

What if a number of persons kept away from the Yankee Stadium in New York, preferring to get the fight over the radio? Does this mean that persons living far away from the scene of the encounter are not to have the privilege of "listening in" on it? There will always be sufficient people who will want to see the fight "on the spot." The real solution is lower prices for seats, lower guarantees for the fighters, and not the outlawing of the broadcasts.

For by this time American citizens deem it a natural right to be able to get news and descriptions of important proceedings via the radio. There is no reason why this right should be taken from them.

We wonder if Tex Rickard has ever thought of newspaper advertising as a means to swell the attendance at his bouts? He gets tons of free publicity, but nothing takes the place of paid newspaper space. If Tex Rickard used it, he might not have to worry about the radio.

AMERICAN BUSINESS GROWS

LABOR SAYS 50-50

OVER THE SAHARA SAND

WHAT MAN CAN DO

If you know HOW, you can do business anywhere. Sears-Roebuck, under its new president, General Wood, plans stores all over this country and in foreign countries, with constant expansion.

The Woolworth stores, growing amazingly, now have eighteen stores in Germany, called 25 and 50 pfennig stores, the equivalent of 5 and 10 cents.

American business understands its business. And when it deals in foreign countries it buys its goods in the foreign countries, thus keeping everybody happy while making profits.

On Saturday the executive committee of the American Federation of Labor will meet at Atlantic City and decide, probably, not to take sides in the national campaign.

Both national candidates are all right, says Labor.

That is sensible. Labor, race and religion should be kept out of politics. Besides, organized labor cannot deliver its men, and does not help itself by a declaration with no result. Mr. Green, head of the federation, is a wise American.

Miss Katherine Locke, of Youngstown, Ohio, travelled miles and miles over the sand of Sahara thinking the sun would bring back her voice that she lost. IT DID.

She visited the Gloui of Marakesh, if you know who he is, in a dwelling 3,000 years old in the Atlas Mountains. The Gloui probably knows as little about us as we know about him.

More interesting to many Americans, Miss Locke saw at Timbuktu, pens where American slavers once bought slaves from native chiefs.

Young men, playing jazz music in night clubs now, would be amazed to see these pens where their ancestors once stopped on the way to America. They would bless the slave traders that brought the ancestors here. We never know what is for our good.

John Henry Mears and Charles B. D. Collyer have beaten the "Around the world record" by several days.

They finished their journey, at Miller Field, Staten Island, in twenty-three days.

When Jules Verne wrote his "Around the World in Eighty Days," men said it was an interesting story, but could never be done. Now it IS done, in twenty-three days. And, in years to come, it will be done in twenty-four hours.

Man is a very able creature, a real credit to his Maker. What he can IMAGINE, he can DO.

Ellen Terry after eighty years of happy, successful life, told her friends they must not put on mourning, but wear gay colors, and rejoice in her long life, with rest at the end.

She was a sensible woman, but mourning is more than honor paid to the dead. It affords relief to those that survive. The widow of India, if permitted, would be burned alive with her husband's body.

Savage widows cut and otherwise mutilate themselves to express grief. To many civilized women, a long black veil makes sorrow easier to bear.

Mr. Hoover, kindly, but firmly, says "I shall kiss no baby for publication." That is wise, and kind to the babies.

No intelligent mother allows ANYBODY to kiss her baby. All adults carry in their mouths disease germs, harmless to the carriers, but dangerous to an infant in whom the protecting white corpuscles are undeveloped.

Mr. Hoover did, however, hold the baby while its older brother took a photograph. He likes babies.

Dr. Frank Crane Says
The Spring

I do not know that I ever heard of any heathen people worshipping a spring. Why, I do not know. I have read of nymphs and such things haunting springs, but I do not recall any case where a spring was worshipped.

Just why I cannot tell. It seems to me that if I were a heathen man and hunting for something to worship, I should consider a spring very favorably as a good candidate.

To be sure, there is the sun, which is the source of all power, and the mountain which stands for great strength, and other objects of nature that are apparently symbols of the divine, to say nothing of an egg, which perhaps is the most wonderful of all nature, as it contains the secret of growth.

But the spring is so manifestly other worldly. It just comes out of the ground where it has no business and everything about it comes to life.

You see a spring on the hillside gush forth from a fissure in the rock. Weeds and lilies grow in the rivulet that is formed, and even trees spring up about it. Men and animals come to refresh themselves of its waters, it is so manifestly a source of life.

Some folks are like springs. When they enter the circle everybody picks up. They are life bringers, conversation makers and thought producers. They stimulate all our nerve gangilee. Why, I do not know. They may not be particularly pretty or shapely or intellectual. They just have something about them that sets people going.

Most of us are dead ones lying around like old slabs of dead earth. One of these spring people comes along and grass and flowers immediately appear, and the desert blooms like a rose.

What is it?

I suppose these people are imbued with a surplus of life.

What we all want is life. It may take a thousand forms and ways of expression, but, substantially, it is all the same.

"Onew my withers, rack my bones, Life, mere life, for all stones."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma

I spent a couple of days in Oklahoma City recently. While milling around in the lobby of the Huckins hotel, I was introduced by a mutual acquaintance to Mr. Earl R. Ernsberger, President and General Manager of the Southwestern Light and Power Company, whose firm serves approximately 90 cities in southwestern Oklahoma with electricity. In a conversation which ensued, I asked Mr. Ernsberger concerning the past growth and future possibilities of southwestern Oklahoma. He responded with an almost boyish enthusiasm which was tempered only by the mature viewpoint gained in his fifty years of practical business and executive experience.

"It is an economic fact," he said, "that the three primary elements entering into the building city, state, or empire are: Men, Money, and Natural Resources. Southwestern Oklahoma has always possessed the Natural Resources; it was colonized by a group of Men who were Builders; and it now is attracting that important third element—Money. You have witnessed the remarkable growth that has come since these elements have been drawn into co-hesion. You are yet to witness a still more remarkable growth.

"Agriculturally, this territory is the garden spot of Oklahoma. Coupled with this natural advantage by virtue of its natural fertility and ideal climate is the fact that farmers in the area are coming more and more to diversified farming. They are learning to apply science to the business of farming. The expansion of the dairying, poultry and livestock industries is going to greatly increase the purchasing power of our farmers. As electrification of our farms is increased, production and profits on the farms will increase.

"Nor, should you lose sight of the fact that we have an industrial future as well. Many smaller industries already are in operation. I predict the establishment of larger factories in many lines in the near future. We have attracted the attention of industrial capital. Our natural resources, among which are granite, limestone, glass sand, fire clays, sand, gravel, oil, gas, and gypsum, offer an abundance of raw materials for a wide variety of industry. Oklahoma is second to only one state in the union in cotton production.

"That brings us back to the element of Men, or Citizenship. The type and class of citizenry which has built and will continue to build southwestern Oklahoma is progressive yet not radically visionary; it is conservative yet not reactionary. Our business men are investors but not plungers. Consider all these points and then tell me, if you can, why we shouldn't be enthusiastic? THE WORLD HAS HEARD MUCH OF SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA IN RECENT YEARS, JUST AS YOU SAY, BUT THE WORLD IS GOING TO HEAR MORE OF SOUTHWESTERN OKLAHOMA IN THE YEARS THAT ARE JUST AHEAD!"

The Judge's Josh

Mike, who was advancing rapidly in his work, was stopped one day by the foreman, who said:

"Mike, you are doing fine. I am going to raise your wages."

Mike, all excited, said: "No, no, no, bejabbers, no. I lose enough now when I'm off a day."

Dear God, I need You awful bad!
I don't know what to do.
My papa's cross, my mamma's sick,
I got no friend but You.
Them keerless angels went and brung,
'Stid of the boy I ast,
A weenchy, teenchy baby girl;
I don't see how they dast!
And God, I wish't you'd take her back;
She's just as good as new;
Won't no one know she's second-hand,
But 'ceptin' me and You.
An' pick a boy, dear God, Yourself,
The nicest in Your fold.
But please don't choose him quite so young;
I'd like him five years old.

Tom (passionately): "The more I look at you, dear, the more beautiful you seem."

Anastasia (expectantly): "Yes?"

Tom (brutally): "I ought to look at you oftener."

Elevator Man: "Billy, your face is dirty."

Billy: "Wat's it to yur? You're not my pa."

E. M.: "No, but I'm bringing you up."

New Assistant: "Gentleman asks if this flannel shirt will shrink."

Proprietor: "Does it fit him?"

"No, it's too large."

"Yes, of course it shrinks."

THEORIES

Enough of theory will, in time, queer the most sturdy mind. Facts have almost been uprooted by theories which are never fact. The world that subsists on theories wholly, is a mighty uncertain proposition.

There are enough "theories" about human digestion to sink a dozen Leviathans! Theories—until we hardly find a man or woman who does not dread to line up for daily meals, for fear of transgressing the law founded on the latest theory. A wonderful thing about "calories," "vitamins," "hormones," and such. We ascribe the origin of the human being to an Allwise Creator; to know all about these personages of ours, is to be as wise as their Creator—which is manifestly impossible.

If you over-eat, it's a condition, and not a theory you have to deal with. The same is true of rapid eating, imperfect mastication, gormandizing, and filling the stomach with food at the close of day. In my daily paper yesterday, the column of deaths was interesting. Some fifteen; none of them over sixty-five, nor under fifty; nearly all of them ascribed to "heart disease!"

It isn't a theory that tells us that food must be masticated; that time must be taken in eating; that evening meals must be the lightest of the day; that over-eating is America's chief crime, atoned for in shortened life. It's law—law of right living. Yet, who doesn't violate it daily, without regard to consequences? These four or five simple requirements, studiously obeyed, will cut the fatalities from "heart disease" in fall. Isn't it worth a tryout? What shall it profit a man if he gobble up all that is in sight—at table—and lose his life?

HINTS FOR THE HOME
By Nancy Hart

Old Treasurer

In almost every home there is an old treasure or two, but, proud as we are of these possessions, they do not always have a place of honor in the home.

Bookshelves always welcome bits of colorful old glass or pottery among the books. On the sideboard or console a piece of old silver gives a suggestion of luxury that is subtly convincing. Old prints either side of the secretary; old pewter plates for the mantel shelf—such well-chosen ornaments often give more atmosphere and individuality to a room than many dollars spent on new furnishings.

Fresh Peach Mousse

Two cups whipping cream, 1 cup puree of fresh peaches, 1 tablespoon gelatin dissolved in 2 tablespoon cold water, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 cup sugar (beet or cane). Add dissolved gelatin to hot fruit juice and when cool and about to set, fold in stiffly whipped cream. Pack in mold, cover with ice and salt for 3 hours or more.

An Appetizer for Summer

Eggs in aspic make a very tempting and substantial appetizer for summer meals. Cut hard-boiled eggs in half, devil the yolks and return them to whites, put a half egg in each individual mold, fill with aspic or a lemon-flavored gelatin and put in ice box to set.

Two Vegetarians Menus

Cream of lima beans soup, corn fritters, escalloped tomatoes, cream slaw, baked peach dumplings, non-stimulating drink. Cream of potato soup, vegetable patty, egg salad, banana shortcake, non-stimulating drink.

When Preserving

In choosing fruit for preserving, remember that slightly under-ripe fruit is usually best because it contains more pectin or jellifying substance than fully ripe fruit. If modern short-process preserving rules are followed, however, this point can be disregarded, as these recipes secure uniform jelly texture through the use of liquid pectin.

Iron Soft Collars

Iron men's soft collars on a Turkish towel folded four times and the collar will be smoother and shine like new when finished.

"LET WELL ENOUGH ALONE"

There is an old saying that ought to be looked into closely. It is the following: "Let Well Enough Alone."

It seems to us that this adage is not particularly wise, for almost everyone in the world who has done things worth doing has done them through a desire to improve things that might have been considered "well enough."

Lindbergh did not leave "well enough" alone, nor Lincoln, nor Galileo. All the worth-while achievements have been accomplished by men who wanted to make "well enough" better.

So do not be one of those who let the sentiment in a four-word sentence stand in their way!

Clean clothes and a daily bath are vital parts of the summer routine for children.

NEW BUILDING OPENED FRIDAY

Palmyra Represented at Dedication of Haddonfield's New Town Hall

Mayor George N. Wimer and Walter D. Lamon, president of the chamber of commerce, represented Palmyra at the dedication of Haddonfield's beautiful new municipal building last Friday evening. Handsomely engraved announcements were sent them requesting their presence on this occasion.

The building, one of the finest of its kind in the state, stands on King's highway, east of Haddon avenue, and was erected at a cost of $175,000. It is three stories high and of colonial architecture.

The exterior is finished in polished granite and Indiana limestone and the front entrance is flanked by four large Grecian columns.

On the first floor are the offices of the Borough Clerk, Tax Department, Commissioners, Water Department and Recorder. The second floor is divided into four corner conference rooms and a large public assembly room.

Over the main entrance has been placed a reproduction of the seal of Haddonfield borough, depicting Elizabeth Haddon, the town's founder, treating with three Indians. These figures are cut in stone and treated with gold leaf with a dark blue background. The seal is forty-two inches in diameter.

Exercises marking the dedication started at 7.30 p. m. with the arrival of a special train containing the Pennsylvania Railroad Club Band and members of the Railroad Glee Club.

They marched from the station to the new hall carrying flags of the State and borough, which were presented during the exercises.

The dedication program was opened with an invocation by the Rev. Dr. Harold Paul Sloan, pastor of the Haddonfield Methodist Episcopal Church, and then came the presentation of an American flag by Haddonfield Post, No. 38, American Legion. The State and borough flags were presented next and also a block and gavel given by the Haddonfield Exchange Club. Patrick J. Harding, borough solicitor, presided and made the dedication address throwing the hall open for public inspection.

Following the exercises the band and glee club gave a concert. The hall remained open on Saturday for inspection.

Construction of the building was carried out under the direction of Walter Williams Sharpley and the architect, Fred T. Holloway, Commissioner of public works.

Borough officials who participated in the program included Mayor Joseph K. Lippincott and Morris B. Clark, Commissioner of Finance.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

The pastor has returned from vacation and will conduct services next Sunday morning and evening as usual.

The morning theme will be the question: "What Is the Difference?", while in the evening the pastor's subject will be "A Woman's Work."

Special attention is called to the continuance of the evening service. During July the evening period of worship was dispensed with, but on this coming Sunday, August 12, vespers will begin at eight o'clock, and the evening services will be resumed throughout the year.

So many of our people are out of town at this season that it will require everyone of those who are left to make the services inspiring. But work and worship in the church at this time will richly repay both church and individual by getting things into full swing for the great work of autumn. Let us leap a step ahead by building up our attendance during this month.

Sunday School at ten in the morning, with lesson about the first Christian council at Jerusalem.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a picnic at Riverview Beach, Thursday, August 16. The ladies will take the train which leaves Palmyra station at 7.19 in the evening. All members are urged to go with the society to enjoy this outing.

The Eden Bible Class will hold a Peach Festival on Saturday, August 25. If you recall the good times of former occasions, you will be there.

The regular monthly meeting of the council will take place this coming Monday evening, August 13, at 8.30 o'clock.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, Pastor

Last Sunday morning's Communion service was attended by an unusually large congregation gathered quietly to worship on the summer's hottest day.

The Bible School attendance likewise maintained a good figure of 166. Of this number 61 were found in the primary department, with every teacher present, a record worthy of special mention which should be an inspiration to the older members.

"The dearest idol I have known,
What'er that idol be,
Help me to tear it from Thy throne,
And worship only Thee."

The pastor is on his vacation this month, but may be reached in case of necessity by calling Riverton 482.

Next Sunday's services will be conducted by Dr. Irwin, of Hagerstown, Md. Prayer meetings will be in charge of the deacons.

William Cooper has charge of the renewals of subscriptions for the New Jersey Baptist Bulletin, which every member of the church should receive. Cost only twenty cents a year. The Bulletin will contain many articles of interest to Palmyra subscribers during our great building enterprise.

On Tuesday evening the Samaritan Class held a regular monthly business meeting in the church. The meeting was indeed "regular" in every respect from the fellows present to the musical finishing touches supplied by Dr. LeFavor. New members are invited to join at any time.

The church congregation extends heartfelt consolation to the family of Arthur Reeves, whose very sad accident touched the sympathy of everyone.

HEAT IS BLAMED FOR AUTO CRASH

Mount Holly Man, Blinded by Dizzy Spell, Figures in Accident

An attack of dizziness superinduced by the extreme heat caused an automobile accident in Moorestown, Sunday.

A sedan driven by Miss Dorothy Smith, Locust street, Burlington, was rammed by a coupe operated Harold L. Carter, Mount Holly, who was temporarily blinded with an attack of dizziness which he said was caused by the extreme heat.

Miss Smith had driven her car up to the traffic booth to obtain directions to Collingswood. Officer Walter A. Errickson, who was on duty, spied the Carter machine headed, at a speed of about twenty miles an hour, directly for the rear of the girl's car. He attempted to signal the Mount Holly man, but with no avail, and the coupe crashed head-on into Miss Smith's machine.

The girl's car was driven across the street by the force of the impact and both autos were considerably damaged.

Miss Smith escaped uninjured, but Carter was not so fortunate. Several of his teeth were knocked out and he complained of severe pains in his chest. Officer Errickson took him to Dr. G. H. Wilkinson for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. William Riley, West Mr. and Mrs. William Riley, West Secup and lacerated in a crash at Main street and Borton's Landing road Sunday afternoon, and their brand new Chevrolet coach, which they had purchased Friday, was considerably damaged when a truck crashed into it broadside.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley and Mr. Riley's brother, Martin, who accompanied them, were taken to the office of Dr. Howard C. Curtis for treatment. The brother was only slightly injured.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Riley was driving out of Borton's Landing road. The truck, going east on Main street, crashed into it. The accident, it is said, was due to the fact that both drivers felt the other machine was going to stop.

Mrs. Riley was driving the coach, and the truck, which was loaded with produce and was headed for New York, was operated by Alpheus Sorbello, Crown Point road, Thorofare, N. J. Sorbello was accompanied by his brother, Rosario, owner of the truck.

The truck was disabled in the accident and the produce had to be transferred to another machine for shipment to New York.

The third weekend accident in Moorestown occurred Monday morning at four o'clock when a machine driven by Charles Shreeve, Penn street, Camden, crashed into the rear of a car from Boston. The accident happened on West Main street in front of the Catholic Church. Shreeve told Officer Murphy he had fallen asleep. The Camden auto was badly damaged.

MOORESTOWN MAN IS FOUND DEAD

Heart Trouble Believed to Have Caused Death of Isaac Clark, 64

Isaac Clark was found dead in his room in an apartment at 127 Main street, Moorestown, above the post office, Sunday about noon.

Mr. Clark had not been seen since Wednesday evening of last week and police believe he died Wednesday night or Thursday. Heart trouble is believed to have caused his death.

The victim had a room with Mrs. Caroline Haines. Mrs. Haines left Wednesday morning for Montclair, where she spent several days with friends. Mr. Clark's body was found by Mrs. Haines' son, Charles, who was staying at home.

Charles was not in the apartment except to sleep. Although he had not seen Mr. Clark for several days he did not become worried, as the roomer would frequently go to the seashore for several days without notifying Mrs. Haines.

Near noon Sunday Charles became suspicious and decided to investigate. Opening the door, he found Mr. Clark's body on the bed.

Charles sent for the police. Chief John Bradshaw and Coroner George C. C. Stout, of Moorestown, made a brief investigation and the coroner issued a certificate of death from heart trouble.

Mr. Clark was 64 years old. Recently he complained of heart trouble and Wednesday evening, when he was last seen, he is said to have told friends he had been suffering with severe pains about the heart.

The body was removed to the Belton funeral parlors and later taken to the chapel at Colestown Cemetery where funeral services were held Tuesday morning. The Rev. C. W. MacGeorge, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated.

K. of C. PICNIC IS LARGELY ATTENDED

Six Councils of Burlington County Take Part in Outing

Rancocas Park last Wednesday was the gathering point for the K. of C. of Burlington County.

While this annual affair is primarily for the children, the elders also welcome this opportunity to take a day off and meet in competition for the honors in various athletic events.

The attendance far exceeded the estimate of the picnic committee and especially the number of children, who are given free run of the entire park, and as everything is free to them, smiling faces greeted everyone on all sides.

Prizes for the various athletic events were well distributed among the six councils of the county.

The day's activities were climaxed by a dance in the evening.

Four bus loads of children and eleven cars transported the Riverton-Palmyra Knights to the picnic grounds.

Word comes from Grand Knight Sims and family that his journey through Europe is proving a most pleasant one, and being able to cheer the U. S. in its victories at the Olympic games has given him the greatest thrill of his trip. Mr. Sim and his family expect to be back on American soil about the second week in September.

LAKEHURST AIRPORT MAY GET $540,000 APPROPRIATION

Early passage by the House of Representatives of the $13,000,000 naval shore construction bill, which authorizes an appropriation of $540,000 for the Lakehurst naval air station, was predicted in Washington by Representative Britton, chairman of the House Naval Affairs Committee, last week. The committee has already reported the bill favorably to the House and according to Representative Britton it will come up for action on December 12. There is no doubt in the chairman's mind that the bill will be passed and become law during the next session of Congress. The sum authorized for the Lakehurst station includes $250,000 for barracks for enlisted men and marines; $200,000 for gas cell and storage shop, and $90,000 for quarters for married officers.

THE COUNCIL AT JERUSALEM

Acts 13:1-5, 13-15, 44-49

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association

Paul returned from his first missionary journey to Antioch, a white city he and Barnabas had been commissioned for that special work. The results from Cyprus and on the mainland in Asia Minor were almost unbelievable. Such victories for righteousness elsewhere stimulated the activities of the Christians in Antioch to renewed efforts to make converts to this new Way. It will be remembered that such believers were first called Christians at Antioch (Acts 11:26.).

Soon rather complete statements of this general progress came to the attention of the leaders in the church at Jerusalem. They were glad, of course, that Jesus Christ was thus recognized but they were concerned that each Gentile should receive the Jewish rite of circumcision and they sent a deputation to Antioch to see if this requirement was being attended to religiously.

According to Oriental custom a goodly number started out with the party whose destination was Jerusalem. Thus they speeded the traveler on his way and may have even camped with them the first night before returning to Antioch the next day. Paul and his company made the trip to Jerusalem the occasion of preaching the Gospel en route. As they passed Phoenicia and Samaria they declared their experiences on the first journey and announced the conversion of many in each city visited. This "caused great joy unto all the brethren."

At Jerusalem this same story of conversion was hailed with gladness. They had the vote of the majority from the start. Then some of the Pharisees, who had always stood for a strict interpretation of the laws of Moses, declared that great violence was done to a custom that had been observed by them strictly for the past 1500 years if any were admitted to Christian fellowship without this circumcision.

Peter insisted that his experience had been otherwise and told about the vision of Joppa, when by the vision of the many kinds of animals let down from heaven in a sheet he was led to understand that God loved people regardless of the nation of their birth. He, too, had discovered that righteousness was a question of faith and obedience rather than outward form in the flesh.

James, the brother of Jesus, and who became a believer subsequent to the Crucifixion and Resurrection, made the harmonizing address, and his recommendations were accepted. A document was written embodying the findings which were, in part, that circumcision was not an essential in faith. On the other hand these Gentile converts should have respect for the Jews in abstaining from meats offered to idols, from blood, from eating flesh that had been strangled and, of course, from the immoralities which were so common among those who worshipped idols. Further, these converts everywhere were urged to send back offerings for the poor in the church at Jerusalem. These formal conclusions were reported at Antioch and accepted. Thus serious differences were resolved by a conference of those who sincerely desired to agree and then give their combined energy for the great Cause.

MASONVILLE

The Masonville A. A. continued its winning streak over the weekend. Chews was defeated Saturday afternoon, 14 to 6. The game was rather listless. The Masonville boys had a rather easy time of it. The game at Rancocas Park on Sunday was a thriller from start to finish. The locals were trailing by a score of 5 to 4 in the last half of the ninth, when, with men on second and third, "Eddie" Mason came to bat with two men out and drove a clean double into deep center, scoring the winning runs, nosing out Elite A. A., Beverly, 6-5.

The quiet stillness of our peaceful village was rudely broken about midnight of Tuesday of last week, when some of the village boys made up an impromptu, old fashioned "serenade" party and visited Elmer (Froggy) H. Bougher. By the noise that ensued, it sounded as though there were about 100 or more, but a more conservative estimate would be about a dozen, who proceeded to make the night hideous with howls and other noises calculated to raise the dead. After a while the newlyweds put in their appearance and were promptly greeted with more noise, after which the "guests" were invited in, refreshments served, and a good time had by all.

Masonville Fire Company responded to a call at a farm on the Fostertown road Friday evening. A barn was destroyed by the flames. While on this run, they also went to Lumberton in response to a call there, but the Lumberton company had taken care of the blaze there and the local company was not needed.

The Headman String Band, Riverside, which played at the entertainment given by the Masonville A. Bougher, and John Gibbs, of this place, are members of this musical organization, as is Arthur Bensel, of Rancocas, who is well known here and who was formerly connected with the Glee Club here some few years ago.

John and William Zelley, sons of Mrs. Emma Zelley, who formerly lived here and who at one time had the local store here, were visitors on Sunday.

The coat of sand and tar placed on the Fostertown road and also on the Rancocas end of the Masonville-Rancocas road, has been a big improvement, but many of our resident have been busy during the past week, removing generous portions of it from the fenders of their cars.

The Masonville Sunday School enjoyed its annual outing at Sylvan Lakes, near Burlington, a few days ago. Quite a crowd went along, and reported an enjoyable time.

NORTH HANOVER SCHOOL MONEY MAY BE HELD UP

North Hanover Township now faces the probability of having its school money held up because the voters have thus far failed to approve a proposition of the Board of Education to build a one-room addition to the Jacobstown school to relieve a condition of affairs that the state officials say must be corrected for the benefit of the township's educational system. Last week there was an election and the plan was rejected 21 to 20, and this was the third or fourth time that such rejection has been made.

The passing of the Los Angeles, a light cloud on a dark night, never fails to interest the people in this vicinity.

Another AUBURN Breaks All Stock Car Records for 24 Hours and all intermediate times and distances averaging over 84 m. p. h.

Recently we announced that an Auburn model 115 strictly stock car, in an official American Automobile Association controlled test, had broken all stock car records from 10 to 24 hours and from 1 mile to 2,000 miles.

Beating the former record by over 9 m. p. h.

That sensational performance was Auburn's conclusive answer to all questions concerning performance, endurance and reliability.

For any manufacturer to have one car achieve this wide margin of proven superiority it would be irrefutable proof that that manufacturer had a better designed, a better engineered and a better built car of greater value.

Auburn furnished this proof.

Then doubled it.

We had two cars in this contest.

Both of them were strictly stock cars taken directly off the production line at the factory and driven to the Atlantic City Speedway. Both of them were dismantled by the Examining Technical Committee of the A. A. A. and carefully checked against the specifications of the factory and found to be absolutely stock.

And both of them broke all stock car records for twenty-four hours.

Distances	Record	Auburn No. 1	Auburn No. 2
5	80.434	85.4083	85.4083
10	80.694	85.9656	85.8656
50	80.851	86.1402	85.7106
100	81.103	86.2808	85.7999
500	79.914	84.5901	83.3187
1000	79.365	84.0293	83.0870
2000	75.349	84.0067	84.0212
Periods
1 hr.	81.101	85.9933	83.4604
3	80.591	84.9080	82.8608
6	79.693	84.0798	83.3183
12	78.136	84.4808	83.9981
24	75.833	84.7354	84.0479

The performance of both of these stock cars, both of which averaged over 84 m. p. h. for the 24 hours, both of which broke the former record, both of which survived this merciless punishment unimpaired without mechanical attention, precludes all doubt as to Auburn's leadership and value.

Never before have stock cars gone so far so fast.

Never before has a manufacturer furnished the public with such overwhelming proof of merit, efficiency and durability.

The public does not want to drive 100 m. p. h. but it does want a car with a capacity and the reserve and the ability to do what Auburn does. Such cars are so correctly designed and strongly built that they can meet all ordinary requirements and maintain their peak of efficiency indefinitely.

It is because Auburn builds this kind of a motor car that Auburn says, "Compare and drive the new Auburn and if it does not sell itself you will not be asked to buy."

Airmail postage has been reduced to 5c for the first ounce. Use Airmail daily for quicker communication. The development of Auburn is typical of American Progress.

BIG JUMP IN SALES ELECTRIC CURRENT

Public Service Company Established New High Record for Half Year

Sales of electric current for light and power by Public Service Electric and Gas Company, principal operating subsidiary of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, established a new high record for the half year ended June 30, 1928, according to figures just made public.

Sales of current for the six months aggregated 672,645,529 K.W.H. against 606,160,633 K.W.H. for the same period last year, an increase of 10.9 per cent.

Sales of current for power purposes aggregated 383,149,412 K.W.H., a gain of 11.6 per cent. compared with the first half of 1927 when sales aggregated 342,250,064 K.W.H. The large gain in power sales further reflects the increased industrial activity in the territory served by the company.

Sales of electric current for the three months ended June 30, 1928, aggregated 328,134,718 K.W.H., also a new high record for any corresponding quarter. This total represents a gain of 11.7 per cent. compared with sales of 293,826,391 K.W.H. reported for the June quarter last year.

The figures show that the rate of increase in sale of electric energy for the second quarter was larger than the rate of increase reported for the half year period.

More than 800,000 electric meters were connected to the distribution lines of the company as of June 30, 1928, a new high record in the history of the company. The number of meters now in service—808,115 to be exact—represents a gain of 70,596 compared with the total of 737,519 meters in service June 30.

RECORD CROWD AT COUNTY KC PICNIC

Annual Outing at Rancocas Park Attracts Thousands; Fine Program

The Knights of Columbus of Burlington county put over another successful annual picnic Wednesday of last week when they entertained thousands at Rancocas Park and had one of their most enjoyable outings. The main thing during the day was to entertain the children, and this was done in an admirable manner without a ripple of displeasure. It was estimated that 3,000 children were on hand as guests, and that during the day and evening there were no less than 2,000 grown people present. The hosts cared nothing about their own particular pleasure during the day, except such as would come to them in showing the children a good time.

The Boys' Band from the Orphanage at Hopewell was on hand to play its fine music during the day. The morning exercises at the park opened with a flag raising, with reveille by the band.

The various races and contests that were arranged for the entertainment of the young people caused a lot of excitement and there were plenty of contestants. The children got into the program with all the vim and vigor that would be expected of them and it gave their hosts a lot of satisfaction and joy to see them have such a good time. The results were:

50-yard dash for boys—Won by Paul Schneider, Riverside; prize, fountain pen.

50-yard dash for girls—C. Bearnet, Palmyra; bathing cap.

75-yard dash for boys—P. Smith, Burlington; scout knife.

75-yard dash for girls—Helen Pfoff, Riverton; vanity set.

Baseball throw for girls—C. Gilbert, Burlington; vanity set.

Three-legged race for boys—G. Pew and D Green, Mount Holly; two baseball bats.

Shoe race for boys—Raymond Colona, Riverside; Babe Ruth autographed ball.

Peanut race for girls—C. Massara, Camden; pencil.

Potato race for girls—C. McAnulty, Palmyra; camera.

Potato race for boys—Joseph Berry, Burlington; baseball glove.

Marble contest for boys—E. Langdon, Maple Shade; fishing rod.

The prizes were awarded by Thomas F. Cavanaugh, of Mount Holly, chairman of the picnic committee.

In connection with the entertainment for the children it was seen that they had plenty to eat and were given little treats during the day. It was a happy, singing throng that left the park late in the afternoon for the homeward trips in the buses that had been provided for them.

In the evening the principal attraction was dancing and the pavilion was crowded, fully up to all expectations.

During the day the priests noticed in the throng were Father Whelan, Hightstown; Father Sweeney, Bordentown; Father Cahill, Florence; Father Foley, Mount Holly; Father Dineen, Moorestown; Father Rigney, Riverton, and Father Cavanaugh, Massachusetts.

EVESHAM TOWNSHIP ADOPTS BUILDING CODE

At a regular meeting of the Evesham Township Committee, held in town hall, Marlton, on Wednesday evening of last week, a building code was adopted. There were no objections to the code. The code is now in effect and the committee is planning to enforce the provisions of the same. A building inspector will be appointed and all building operators in the township, particularly dwelling houses, are now subject to the provisions of the code.

The Bright Days

There never yet were days so dark
But sunshine followed soon,
And when the stormy days will come,
With nature out of tune,
We only have to look beyond,
To find the brighter day,
When sunshine will be coming round
To drive the clouds away.

Then smiles will creep into our eyes
And happiness draw near,
While, for the clouds and storms of life,
We'll lose our every fear;
We'll see life's sunshine all around,
Fast driving clouds away,
Which cannot, with hope's brilliant ray
Be content to stay. (light.

Lime Makes a Home for Alfalfa

To grow alfalfa is highly desirable. The dairy cow needs this crop. The soil needs it. The farmer needs it because it means lower production costs, for both animal products and crops.

Alfalfa hay is high in protein, containing 10¼% digestible protein, as compared with 7¼% for red clover. Three tons of alfalfa hay will produce as much milk as 5 tons of red clover. Then, too, alfalfa is a high yielder, producing from 3½ to 4 tons of cured hay to the acre. An acre of land put to alfalfa will yield up as much protein as three acres devoted to common clover. Alfalfa growing intensifies farming.

Alfalfa can be grown in Burlington county. Free drainage, adequate lime, a liberal supply of phosphate, inoculation, and good seed, are the essentials.

Lime is of prime consideration. It is significant that, in a survey among alfalfa growers of New Jersey, farmers placed lime first in importance, based on their experiences.

On an average, 5 pounds of alfalfa hay can be expected from each pound of lime used on lime-needy soils. The response will necessarily vary according to the need of the soil. The all-important point is that lime must accompany alfalfa on acid soils, and when so used, the crop response makes the investment secure. About one cent's worth of lime has given alfalfa increase as follows:

At New Jersey Station—6 lbs. hay.
At Delaware Station—3 lbs. hay.
At Pennsylvania Station—2 lbs. hay.
At Maryland Station—7 lbs. hay.

Of all crops, alfalfa offers the highest returns from liming. The sassafras soil (which is typical of much land of the southern half of New Jersey), gave a net acre-income of $20 above the cost of liming.

Alfalfa needs much lime in the soil, because:

(a) A greedy consumer of lime. Alfalfa uses more lime as food than any other legume, and five times as much as cereals. A 3-ton crop of alfalfa takes from the soil 150 pounds of lime (in terms of lime oxide). On soils lean in available lime, alfalfa suffers for want of food lime. Liming supplies readily usable lime.

(b) Lime makes soil reaction tolerable to alfalfa. Of all the legumes alfalfa is the most sensitive to soil reaction. It cannot tolerate acid in the soil. It prefers a soil essentially free from acid. That calls for the presence of lime. More lime is required for alfalfa than for red clover. Some soils that grow good red clover may need additional lime for alfalfa.

(c) Inoculation hinges on lime. The nodule bacteria that serve on the roots of alfalfa, taking nitrogen from the air and turning it over to the host plant, thrive only in a lime-rich soil. They are even more sensitive to soil reaction than is the alfalfa plant itself. Inoculation is difficult and does not take well in acid soils. Liming is good insurance for successful inoculation, and a protection to vitality and longevity.

Fully 7 acres in 10 need liming for alfalfa. The rate of liming for alfalfa is higher than for clover. The only safe plan is to test each soil on the farm in order to know its specific lime-need, and then treat accordingly. No blanket recommendation or rate of liming is practical. Each soil or each field is a problem within itself. Your county agent will take your soil to determine the lime requirements.

Due attention to lime, where needed, can bring alfalfa, the queen of hay crops, to many farms, and with it, a full milk pail.

55,0000 Women Study

That women of New Jersey are interested in home improvement is indicated in the number taking part in organized community progress of food preparations, clothing and home management. More than 55,000 women attended home making meetings during the year 1927, according to a brief report included in a small booklet being distributed from the agricultural train now traveling through this part of the state.

Nearly 1,100 women acted as unpaid volunteer leaders to communicate useful information from the State Home Economics Extension Service to other women in their communities. In all, these leaders represented a total of 477 communities in 19 counties. To obtain training to act as leaders and instructors these volunteer women attended 255 special meetings in the year.

Growing enthusiasm for home economics study among women has caused 13 counties to appoint county home demonstration agents whom through close contact with the State Home Economics Extension Service, are able to give the women and girls of their respective counties the latest information available on household science.

A recent report from the Federal Government indicates that a wave of enthusiasm for these studies is sweeping over the entire country. Congress was so convinced of the value of home economics studies among the women folks and the daughters back home, that it passed, on the last day of its recent session, a large emergency appropriation, part of which is to be used to help counties in employing home demonstration agents. Burlington county's share is $2400 a year, according to the apportionment announced by the director of the State Extension Service, who administers the fund for New Jersey.

NATIONAL GUARD TO GET AIR SERVICE

General Hammond Notifies General Gilkyson of Authorization by Bureau Chief

Formal authorization for the establishment of the 44th Division Air Service as a part of the New Jersey National Guard has been received by Adjutant General Frederick Gilkyson from Major General Creed C. Hammond, chief of the militia bureau.

Orders received from the War Department specify that the division air service shall consist of an observation squadron, a photo section and medical department detachment.

The station will be at Newark Airport. The recognition of these units will be effected when the necessary permanent installations required for their operation can be made by the State.

To facilitate the organization of these units, requisition for initial equipment will be prepared and submitted to Major General Ely, commanding general of the second corps area, at an early date.

If You Have Been Skeptical of Five-cent Cigars

To the gentlemen of the smoke jury—to you men who have reached the decision that you just can't get a good smoke for five cents—we want to offer some new evidence. All we ask you to do is to try one more five-cent brand: Havana Ribbon. You're going to be surprised! At last, for the small sum of five cents you can get a cigar made entirely of ripe, long-filler tobacco. Never heard of such a thing? Maybe not. But it's a joy'us reality now. Not a strand of bitter, raspy under-ripe nor a trace of insipid over-ripe tobacco usually found in low-priced cigars. Nor any short, loose ends to crumble in your mouth. No, sir, Havana Ribbon has the fragrance, mellow-mildness, rich flavor of fine tobacco at its best. Because every leaf is fully RIPE. Risk one nickel, men—at any nearby cigar counter. Or, better still, try a Practical Pocket Package of five cigars.

SUMMER TOUR OF HORTICULTURISTS

State Society Will Inspect Orchards and Machinery on Big Fruit Farms

The program has been completed for the summer meeting and tour of the New Jersey Horticultural Society, to take place in Burlington and Camden counties on Tuesday, August 14.

The tourists will assemble on the home farm of Emmor Roberts, near Moorestown, nine o'clock in the morning and will visit the following farms: 10:30, Lester Collins' Stony View farm, between Delair and Pensauken; 12, noon, Campbell Soup Company's farms, near Cinnaminson; one to two o'clock, lunch on grounds of E. A. Mechling, near Moorestown. A buffet luncheon will be furnished by E. S. and E. A. Mechling to all members of the State Horticultural Society who send cards of acceptance.

At the Mechling place addresses will be delivered as follows: Farm Crop Conditions and Marketing Prospects, by W. W. Oley, chief of State Bureau of Markets, Trenton; Vegetable Situation, by Prof. L. O. Schermerhorn, head of the Department of Vegetable Gardening at the State Experiment Station; Late Developments in Connection with Tree Fruits, by Prof. M. A. Blake, chief of Division Horticulture of the State Experiment Station; Spray Residue Situation, by Byron T. Roberts, of Marlton; Timely Information on Fruit and Vegetable Diseases, by Dr. J. T. Headlee, entomologist, and Dr. W. H. Martin, plant pathologist, both from the State Experiment Station.

There also will be demonstrations of fruit and vegetable equipment, including special fertilizer distributor, four-row seeder for vegetables, liquid duster, and spraying equipment and graders.

During the short tour through the intensive fruit and truck district around Moorestown and Marlton, fruit washing machines, Trescott grader and Andy Moe wiper will be seen in operation, at the Collins packing house that is capable of handling 2,0000 bushels of apples a day.

At the Emmor Roberts farm there will be seen a stationary spray plant covering 45 acres of apple trees, also a typical Burlington county packing house where machines are in operation.

At the Campbell farm a number of new varieties of tomatoes will be seen. Over fifteen million tomato plants were grown on the Cinnaminson farms this year, in addition to 37 carloads grown and shipped from Georgia.

Prizes are offered for fruits to be exhibited at Mechling's. These include best five specimens of the following apples: Starr, Wealthy, Gravenstein, Twenty Ounce, English Codling, Williams and Melba; and the following peaches: Carman, Slappey, Hiley, Cumberland, Pioneer and Eclipse. Also prizes for Marglobe tomatoes.

STATE TO INSPECT MOTOR VEHICLES

Eight Hundred Thousand to be Examined for Mechanical Defects

Eight hundred thousand owners of motor cars and trucks operating in New Jersey will be urged to co-operate with the state in its plans to inspect all motor vehicles for defects in safety factors, during the "Save a Life" campaign to be conducted during the entire month of September.

There will be from one to twenty examination points in each municipality in the state, according to the commissioner's plans. It is expected that 2500 auto dealers and garages will make the tests, all of which will be brakes, lights, horns, steering parts, free of charge to the auto owner, etc., will be examined and, if a car is found in safe condition throughout, a sticker will be pasted in a corner of the windshield.

If parts of the car are not working as they should they are to be listed by the examiner, and the car owner will be ordered to have them adjusted at any service station he desires. The auto owner having his car examined is not forced to have the work done at the time, unless the car is ruled unsafe for the road. If experienced in auto work he will be allowed to do the job with his own hands at any time during the month of the "Save a Life" drive. The Motor Vehicle Department explains that it is interested only in having the needed repairs made, and not in how and by whom they are made.

All inspectors of the motor department will be detailed in the campaign to serve as supervisors of the examinations, and one of their early jobs will be to inform service stations of the manner in which they are to test the cars. Commissioner William L. Dill is personally directing the inspectors in their work of preparing for the opening of the campaign.

The campaign will be similar to the one conducted in Pennsylvania during April.

Saturday: Palmyra at Moorestown; Medford at Burlington; Vincentown at Riverside; R. D. Wood at Delanco.

Palmyra's entry in the Burlington County League derby seems to be suffering from a 50-50 complex these past three weeks. Two games have been played each week so far and each week the local boys have won one and lost one and are consequently perched on a rung marked .500 on the percentage ladder.

In Wednesday's game Earl Harder held the Riverside crew to eight scattered hits to win 8-3. The Palmyra sluggers nicked Johnson and Nelson for eleven bingles, from which they manufactured their eight runs.

The Riverside team took the lead in the second inning only to fall behind when Palmyra scored two markers in the first half of the third. The watchmakers evened things up in their half only to have the locals come back with a single tally in the next canto.

The fifth was a total loss for both sides, but the Palmyrians put the game on ice when they counted twice in the sixth. Riverside came right back with another tally in the next half but were unable to score after that.

Just to show they still had a punch left the local lads ran wild in the seventh canto, chasing three runs across the pentagon before Johnson could get the third man out.

King was the heavy hitter for Palmyra with a trio of timely clouts. Krause, Arenz and Harder contributed two hits each. Himes was the batting star for Riverside with a double and a pair of one-base blows.

Saturday's game, which was played on the Community Movement grounds, was not so successful from the home town standpoint. "Babe" Flynn, who turned in a fine performance the previous weekend, got off to a poor start and was nicked for three runs in the first session.

Bartello opened with a single, Reagan doubled, Shinn fanned, Heppard singled, chasing two runs home. McDevitt singled and Heppard scored when Matchett forced McDevitt.

Palmyra came right back and scored a pair in their half and tied things up in the third. From then on until the ninth both hurlers were effective, "considering the temperature." The competition was keen and exciting, neither team seemed to be able to break the ice.

Moorestown piled up three runs and victory in the ninth. After two singles and a double had chased two hostile markers across. Flynn retired in favor of Harder with two on and none out. Another run was scored on a long fly to center, after which Harder buckled down and retired the next two batters.

TAILORS PLEDGE FAIRNESS

Burlington County live wire tailors have recently formed an association. One of the outstanding purposes of which is to let the world know "The Lowsie" mean to meet all competition as to workmanship and rates, the quality of the goods obviously being up to the buyer.

Another and important angle of the matter is: Usually the local is frequently your friend and neighbor, who cannot afford to give you a raw deal.

DEMOCRATS BOLT TO G. O. P. RANKS

Spontaneous Sentiment for Herbert Hoover Visible in Every Direction

Washington, D. C., August 7.—The spontaneous sentiment for Hoover and Curtis visible in every direction during the first month of the national presidential campaign has surprised even Republican leaders at the party headquarters here. Not only has the ticket stirred up an unusual degree of enthusiasm among Republican voters for this stage of the contest, but the number of Democrats who are leaving their party to declare allegiance to the Republican candidates is unprecedented.

The combined popularity of Mr. Hoover and Senator Curtis seems to have a nationwide appeal to voters of all parties. This is said to be particularly true in the middle west, where voters are inclined to view the record of Tammany Hall as an outstanding issue of this campaign, according to every visitor from that section. Reports to that effect have been brought to Washington by callers from Iowa, Minnesota, South Dakota, Indiana, Illinois and a number of other states.

One of the leading Democrats to endorse the Hoover-Curtis cause has been former Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma, author of the Federal Reserve act and of the farm loan act, who announced that he would support Mr. Hoover for president, because of the Republican candidate's monumental record in preserving human life; during and after the war.

Hoover Best Qualified

"Herbert Hoover, in my opinion, is the best qualified man ever presented by any party in America for the presidency during my lifetime," declared Senator Owen.

He asserted that Tammany is the only issue of the campaign as between the candidates, and urged his fellow Democrats to join him in the fight to prevent "the Tammanyizing of the government of the United States."

Another nationally-known Democrat who followed Owen's lead was Vance C. McCormick of Harrisburg, Pa., national chairman of the Democratic party in 1918.

Professor Irving Fisher of Yale University, one of the country's best known economists, who supported Woodrow Wilson in both 1912 and 1916 and has voted for Democratic presidential candidates since, came out with a ringing statement for Herbert Hoover, in which he emphasized the various counts on which the Republican candidate deserves the nation's support.

Veteran Democrats Quit

The resignation of Senator F. M. Simmons, veteran Democratic leader of North Carolina, from the Democratic national committee, on which he has served for 30 years, is regarded by political observers as one of the most severe thrusts yet made at the Democratic national ticket. Senator Simmons, whose influence in his own state has been equalled by few leaders in the country's political history, gave no reason for his action, but his uncompromising opposition to control of his party by the Tammany wing in the past supplies a probable cause.

The determination of the Republican leaders to carry the fight to the opposition party on the tariff issue was expressed by Senator Reed Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate finance committee, who challenged the sincerity of the plank in the Democratic platform which purports to guarantee protection to industry and agriculture.

The country had a bitter experience with Democratic promises on the tariff when it elected Grover Cleveland president, Senator Smoot recalled.

BIG BEQUEST TO CHURCH

Christ Episcopal Church, Toms River, is bequeathed nearly $300,000 by the will of the late Miss Emily Somers Haines, who has lived on an extensive estate adjacent to the church for many years. Miss Haines became heir to the estate of her brother, John P. Haines, who was national head of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for many years, on his death, three years ago. He had previously assisted the church by a gift of land on which the church was later built. He also was a generous supporter of the church during his lifetime.

NEW MOTOR LAWS IN EFFECT SEPT. 1

To Incorporate Uniform Traffic Color Lights Throughout State

New Jersey motorists are patiently awaiting the effectiveness of the new State uniform traffic code adopted by the Legislature in special session on July 20 last increasing the speed regulations of the State. The measure is effective September 1. Copies of the new law are now being printed and will be mailed to each licensed driver in the State by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill before the measure goes into effect.

The new law increases the speed limits on the open road from thirty-five to forty miles per hour; eliminates the necessity of slowing down to fifteen miles per hour when approaching grade crossing, increases speed of cars from twelve to fifteen miles per hour in business districts without traffic control, and twenty miles in business districts or residence districts where traffic is controlled by officers. Permissable speed of cars in school zones is increased from six to ten mile per hour and a maximum speed of fifteen miles an hour on curves is retained.

Commercial vehicles must operate under the speed limits provided for in the old traffic measure of 1921, the new measure provides. The new law also prohibits railroad trains from "unnecessarily" blocking crossings, while "jay walking" pedestrians are prohibited from crossing streets at angles. "Thumb tourists" who solicit rides from motorists along the roads are also prohibited from continuing the practice, under the new law.

Uniformity in traffic signals throughout the State is also incorporated in the law. The measure provides that a three-color system should be used, red, amber and green. Green shall mean permission for traffic to go, subject to the safety of others or the specific directions of an officer; red shall mean traffic to stop before entering the intersection or crosswalk, and remain standing until green is shown, and amber shall be for the exclusive use of pedestrians. All other uses of the colored lights shall be discontinued, the measure provides.

Traffic signals now obstructing the highways must be moved within three years after the effectiveness of the new law, and new devices substituted. Enforcement of all the provisions of the new law is vested in the police authorities of the State. Municipalities are prohibited from passing any ordinance nullifying the provisions of the act, excepting where local conditions make the passage of such ordinance necessary. When such a contingency occurs, the ordinance must be submitted to State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill for his approval. If he refuses to approve it, certiorari proceeding may be instituted in the Supreme Court by the municipality affected.

Safety aisles or platforms, signal devices, guideposts or other structures must not be erected by local authorities upon any State Highway without the consent of the State Highway Commission. All other acts inconsistent with the new measure are automatically repealed after September, when the new measure becomes effective

FIVE MONTHS OLD MYSTERY SOLVED BY ARREST OF THUG

Secret of Parties in Riverton Bungalow Revealed by Taxi Bandit

GIRL ACCOMPLICE LURED VICTIMS HERE

On the evening of March 12, D. M. Decker, a handsome young Philadelphian, started out for a spin in his car and to "look 'em over."

On Walnut street near Thirty-second he passed a stunning looking girl, walking alone. As he sped by she flashed him a friendly smile. The big car slowed down and pulled to the curb. He asked the lass if she wanted to take a little ride. She did.

The bracing evening air soon developed an appetite in his fair passenger, and at her suggestion they went to the Golden Dragon for a bite to eat. While the meal was in progress two "friends" of the girl chanced in, greeted Decker's companion and were introduced. Presently they sauntered out and after dancing awhile the girl was ready to go "home." She said she lived in Riverton. Nothing loathe to prolong the time with his charming companion, Decker welcomed the long ride in the country.

Bandits Follow in Taxi

As they sped along the roads through villages and past fields, Decker did not notice a taxi following, not too close, but near enough to keep the larger car always in sight.

Arriving at Riverton he was directed to a bungalow on Harrison street. She took him into the kitchen and excused herself a minute to take off her wraps. Hearing her return, Decker looked up, only to be confronted by the two "friends" whom he met in the restaurant.

One covered him with a "gat" and commanded him to "stick 'em up." Handing the gun to a youth who accompanied them, the two men robbed Decker of all his valuables, after which they bound him to a chair and gagged him. When they left they took the girl, the youth and Decker's car. The car was recovered in Philadelphia three days later.

Faced Lingering Death

The room in which the thugs left their victim was small and the ceiling was low. Four gas jets had been left burning, and he was in danger of death by suffocation within a few hours. As soon as the sound of retreating footsteps had died away Decker started to work his hands

RECKLESS DRIVING TO BE STOPPED

Local and State Police Start Drive on Speeding Buses on River Road

State police of the Bridgeboro station and municipal departments along the riverfront are co-operating to halt the new epidemic of "bus jockeying" which is declared to be sweeping through the drivers of both rival companies operating between Burlington and Philadelphia via the River road.

Troopers are making a close check-up of the buses as they drive through the open spaces along the road. Any attempt by a driver of either the P. R. T. or the Worth Motor Bus Company to race with a rival machine will subject that driver to immediate arrest, the troopers declare.

The municipal police are bending most of their efforts to protecting the crowded districts against the bus "jockeys" who believe every road is a race-course. Several arrests have already been made and more are promised unless the drivers cut down the speed of their machine.

CATTLE RUSTLERS USE MODERNIZED TACTICS

Cattle rustlers have modernized wild west tactics and use trucks to carry on their depredations in nearby Burlington County pastures.

Two men calmly drove their truck near the Armydis Hilton farm on Hartford road, made their way to the spot where two valuable cows were pastured, led the cattle across the field, loaded and sped off with the livestock loot Tuesday morning of last week.

The two cows, a Jersey and a Holstein, were valued at $200 a piece by Mr. Hilton.

Moorestown police are investigating and Chief Bradshaw hopes to run down the cattle thieves in the near future.

It is understood that several cows have disappeared in much the same fashion from Vincentown fields and several thefts have been reported in other parts of South Jersey.

A pig was also stolen from its pen on the Elton Slickner farm, Pontertown road, near Masonville, last week.

TOMATOES SPILLED

One Injured as Car Smashes Into Farm Wagon on Pike

Burlington pike in Pensauken township Monday looked like a tomato farm when an automobile crashed into and wrecked a farm wagon. A passenger in the automobile was injured and the driver was arrested. The driver of the wagon was also cut and bruised but refused to go to the hospital.

The collision occurred near School lane. According to police, a car driven by John Capellini, 19 years old, of 1224 Summer street, Philadelphia, sideswiped the farm wagon, owned by Charles B. Jessup, Riverton, and driven by Norman Cole, 849 Bridgeboro road, Riverside. Both vehicles were badly damaged, and the contents of the wagon were strewn on the road.

Andrea Pisanelli, 39, of the Summer street address, a passenger in the automobile, was treated at Cooper Hospital for cuts and bruises. Capellini, driver of the car, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of reckless driving. He declared that he did not see a light on the wagon.

MEMORIAL PARK SWIMMING HOLE

Report Untrue That Water in Creek Contains Fever Germs

The attendance last week fell short of the previous weeks by about two hundred, which was due to two causes: first, unfavorable weather for four days, and second, a rumor or propaganda started that the creek contained fever germs, and that the children were getting ill from bathing in this water. One particular physician's name was mentioned as the source. This physician personally informed the writer he had no knowledge of any fever germs in the water but about thirty children had been attended by him for stomach trouble, who had been bathing in the creek. Naturally, he would advise them to discontinue their exercise and remain quiet until they became better. For the benefit of the parents and children these reports are without any foundation and any child or adult in normal condition, who does not overdue any exercise on either and or water can certainly find more benefit in bathing or swimming than any exercise on land during the month of August. There are, however, certain precautions that should be used insure the greatest benefit, such as follows:

Do NOT eat a hearty meal immediately after leaving the water.

Do NOT go in with boils or cuts exposed until they are healed.

Do NOT remain in the water if there is not a pleasant and invigorating reaction.

Do NOT go in unless you are provided with suitable covering to put on as soon as you come out. This will prevent many colds.

Observance of the above rules will go a long way toward precenting sickness instead of encouraging it.

Benches have been provided for bathers and spectators, and also a life buoy to assist in the security of the bathers. We invite constructive criticism and co-operation by the parents at all times and we assure them that every means within reason will be used for the success of this already popular pool. The season is now short but the interest afiown will be the guide of what might be expected another season. It is possible to make this pool the best in Burlington County and probably the State.

Four young men under seventeen who have passed the Red Cross Junior Life Saving test will compete at the Camden Natatorium next Saturday at 2.30 p. m. Their names are Norman Moffitt, Thomas Price, Walter Price and Henry Wilbraham, all of whom are regular swimmers in our pool.

Last Tuesday at 3.45 p. m. Mr. Hartshorn, the Red Cross man, passed the following in the beginners' test: Margaret Hadford, Dorothy Shaner, Dorothy Wise, Joseph Weber, Margaret Hatfast, Marjorie Kell, Pauline Kell, Marleah Lisk, Master McDermott and Rowland Germschied. Those who passed the swimmers' test are Gladney Lloyd, Roger Shaner and Edward Rhoad.

The next test will be Tuesday, the twenty-first, at ten a. m., high tide. Among the others, the Junior Life Saving test will be given Kindly hand your names to the guard.

It is the purpose to have as many as possible to pass the Junior and Senior Life Saving tests in order to organize a team to compete with other pools in Burlington County and the winners to compete in State meets. We do not take a back seat in baseball, football, and golf and we have the swimmers, if properly organized, to compete with the best in the State. Now is the opportunity.

Evil Wish Gets Heavy Punishment

When John Owens, of Moorestown, was taken into Pensauken township police quarters recently, Chief Joseph Clark recognized him as an old offender. "You were here twice before," the chief remarked.

"I hope you die," replied Owens.

"I hope you get about 90 days," returned the chief.

"I hope the evidence warrants it," was the contribution of Recorder George W. Diehl, entering the door in the midst of the dialogue. A little later, at the hearing, the recorder considered 90 days was appropriate and Owens went to jail.

WOMEN REQUEST HOME ADVISOR

Freeholders Petitioned for $1500 a Year; State Will Give $2400

A delegation of women headed by Mrs. Amor J. Gauntt, of Springfield Township, appeared before the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Saturday to request an appropriation by that body of $1500 to assist in financing a home demonstration agent in the county.

Mrs. Gauntt said the work had been carried on by the women of the county the best they could without a trained worker, but they found it a heavy task and now that Federal legislation had made it possible for the State to pay more than half the expense of a competent demonstration agent, the women interested in this phase of extension work hoped the board would see its way clear to give the small sum asked. The State will give $2400 annually.

The delegation presented a petition signed by about five hundred women of the county who are acquainted with the work of a home demonstrator, and Mrs. Gauntt in outlining the proposition to the board said that under the provisions of a federal act, New Jersey would receive an appropriation of $20,000 annually for this purpose to be divided among the various counties. Of this $2400 is allotted to Burlington county.

Explains Work

Marion Butters, assistant state demonstrator, accompanied the delegation. She explained the work of the demonstrator and answered a number of questions asked by the members of the board and County Solicitor Harold B. Wells.

She made it very clear that no further increase would be requested, at least for a number of years, and in explaining how the $3900 was to be spent in the county, said that a competent demonstrator could be secured for $2000, while the balance would be expended for an automobile, steno-

MAXINE MEITZNER TRAINS FOR RACES

Preparing for One Long Distance and Several Short Races

Miss Maxine Meitsner, of Riverton, is training under the direction of George Corner for the Atlantic City-Ocean City swimming meet to be held within the next few weeks. Miss Meitsner is working hard and will put up a game fight against a large field of noted girl swimmers. She is confident she can bring the $250 cup to Riverton.

There are also several short races to be held before cold weather sets in, and Maxine will compete in these.

Elwood Conard, of Delanco, says that no one can swim from Burlington to Philadelphia on one tide, which is about five and one half hours. Riverton's girl star says it can be done and is expecting to try it within the next week.

Last year Maxine swam the Delaware Bay and was planning upon a similar swim this year, but the weather conditions will not permit such a swim. Her time last year was 9 hours and 59 minutes. Maxine made the swim from Philadelphia to Riverton in 1924.

26 YEARS ON POLICE FORCE

Officer Quigley Has Seen Many Changes in Quarter of Century Service

MANY "BAD MEN" HAVE BEEN CAUGHT BY BILL

William Quigley, who in entering his twenty-seventh year on the Riverton borough police force, holds the record for continuous service.

Quigley has a number of important arrests to his credit. He had been wearing the uniform but a few years when he arrested two men who had robbed the store of Joseph M. Roberts. He pursued them afoot to the West Palmyra station, where he shot one of them in the arm and placed them both under arrest. They served five years in the State prison.

Several years ago Quigley arrested Lucian Stout, who killed Bartley Fisher with a shot gun. Stout claimed he mistook Fisher for a burglar, and escaped conviction.

The next arrest of note was that of Harry Gilliman, who robbed the home of Stanley Groves. Gilliman was caught a month later while trying to force his way into a house on Eighth street. He was dressed in some of the clothing he had taken when he visited the Groves home. Gilliman was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

"Slim Jim" Breaks Jail

The most notable arrest made by Quigley in recent years was "Slim Jim," (James Morris alias James Kelley) who was seen by Mrs. Ogden Mattis while trying to sneak into her home. She notified the police department and Quigley picked the man up just as he was coming out of the yard at the Ezra M. Perkins home. When locked up "Slim Jim" said, "this place won't hold me long," and sure enough, while Quigley was eating his supper word was telephoned that the prisoner had escaped. After a merry chase participated in by the police and fire departments of Riverton and Palmyra, the prisoner was recaptured and served eight months in the county jail. While there he made a key from a spoon and escaped from his cell, but could not get out of the building.

Officer Quigley has seen many changes take place in Riverton since he went on the force. At that time the officers filled the oil lamps which constituted the town's street lighting system. Previous to Quigley's ap-

DREER MESSENGER KILLED BY WAGON

Struck by Horse Drawn Vehicle; Victim Dies Instantly

Charles E. Allinson, about sixty, Springside, Burlington, N. J., was killed last Saturday morning at Third and Market streets, Philadelphia, when run down by a two-horse truck.

A Third street trolley was at the corner, and as Allinson ran around in front of the car he stepped into the path of the truck. The tongue struck Allinson on the temple and he was trampled by the horses and the wagon wheels passed over his body.

Tillinson was taken to a hospital, where the doctors declared that death had been instantaneous.

Funeral services were held Tuesday from his home. Interment was made at the Friends' Cemetery, Burlington.

Allinson has been in the messenger service for Henry A. Dreer for several years and was on his way to the Spring Garden street store at the time of his accident.

Man Who Found Mexican Flier's Body is Arrested

John Henry Carr, the Chateworth youth who received an award of $500 from the Mexican government for finding the wrecked plane and mangled body of Emilio Carranza, Mexican aviator, who lost his life while attempting to fly in a storm from New York to Mexico City, was arrested Saturday on a statutory charge.

Mrs. Marie Anderson, young woman who was with Carr when the body of the Mexican flier was found, also was arrested on a charge of deserting her three small children. Both complaints were issued on charges made by the woman's husband, John, who lives n Chatsworth.

Anderson stated in the complaint that Carr and Mrs. Anderson have been living together for more than a year. Justice of the Peace Hargrove, Columbus held each under $500 bail for the grand jury.

PAINT INTERIOR OF SCHOOL

The painting of the interior of the Delaware avenue school building is now well under way and will be completed within a few days. The contract was awarded to E. F. Aydelotte and Brother, of Five Points.

The old wooden steps at the Spring Garden street building are being replaced with permanent concrete steps.

All of the buildings are being repaired where needed and will soon be in readiness for the fall term, which will start with the physical equipment in better condition than it has been for several years.

Riverton Firemen Will Collect for Scouts

Members of the Riverton Fire Company will canvass the town for contributions for the Burlington County Boy Scouts, Friday evening of this week. The firemen will assemble at the fire house and start out when the siren blows. This is a part of the county-wide movement to raise $40,000 for the new camp site near Cookstown.

Walter C. Wright, president of the company is very enthusiastic and hopes Riverton will live up to its usual record for generosity

A meeting will be held at the fire house this (Thursday evening to assign sections of town to the collectors, and all those interested, even though not members of the fire company, are invited to attend.

It is their hope that you will get as much pleasure from reading these comics as you will get from using their service.

FAVOR MUNICIPAL WATER SYSTEM

Civic Bodies Favor New Plant to Supply Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson

The idea of a municipally owned water plant for Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson is reported to be gaining impetus daily. Walter D. Lamon, president of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce, reports that several persons have discussed the proposition with him during the past few weeks and thinks the time has come to begin preliminary work on plans whereby the proposition may be presented to the proper authorities.

This movement has been further agitated by the attitude of the Water Company officials toward the audit which was to be made by the Chambers of Commerce of Palmyra and Riverton. A committee was appointed, composed of two auditors and an engineer, to audit the books of the company in accordance with the proposition put forth by the company's officials at the time the question was under discussion last spring.

Reply Delayed

When the time mentioned for the audit had arrived the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce notified the Water Company by letter that the committee was ready to begin as soon as they would be given access to the books. No reply was made to this letter, and after waiting about three weeks a registered letter was sent to the company which was answered after several days.

Various excuses were made for failure to answer the first letter, but no definite answer was given to the audit proposition. The letter reiterated the company's willingness to allow the audit to be made at some future time but failed to mention any specific date, saying that the Chamber of Commerce would be notified. This has been taken by the committee as an evasion of the point involved and is thought to further indicate the unwillingness of the Water Company's officials to allow the audit to be made.

In view of the attitude shown by the company which now supplies this community with water, arrangements are being made made to hold a joint meeting of the utility committees of the Chambers of Commerce of Palmyra and Riverton to consider the advisability of sponsoring a movement for a municipally owned plant. Members of the township committee of Cinnaminson township will also be invited to attend the meeting.

Praise Municipal Plant

It has been pointed out that the municipally owned plant has proven more efficient and less expensive to the consumers in places where they are now in operation. A letter from the Mayor of South River, N. J., was read at a meeting of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce last spring, in which its municipally owned plant was given high praise, and further stated that the income was sufficient to make it possible to cancel all local taxes.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce have been quoted as saying they will not favor the purchase of the existing equipment in event a municipal plant is decided on but instead will favor the erection of a new and more efficient plant. Just what the status of the present company would be in that event is unknown, but it is supposed they would continue to supply water to anyone who is willing to meet its terms.

CADETS HOME FROM CAMP

A happy, sunburned group of Columbus Cadets of Palmyra and Riverton arrived home last Sunday night from their first real camping trip.

The twenty-two young campers under the care of Andrew J. Pfaff have been living outdoors at High Point, N. J., for the past two weeks and everyone is well pleased with the success of this first camping venture.

By the time the fish stories and experiences of camp life are circulated among the other members of the Cadets no doubt next year's camp will be double the size of this year's.

ASK RIVERTON COUNCIL FOR MORE LIGHTS, OILED STREETS

Delegation Also Wants Storm Sewer Fixed; Floods Ruin Lawns

WILL PUBLISH TAX DELINQUENTS SOON

A delegation fo citizens from the third district, with Frank Holvick as chief spokesman, appeared before the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night to urge more consideration for their section of the town in the way of street lights, street oiling, and to call attention to the flooded condition at Fourth and Elm and Fourth and Linden following every heavy downpour.

Councilman Williams said he realized the need of more street lights on Elm avenue and would take the matter up with the lighting committee. The oiling of Elm avenue, the visitors were told, had not been included in the schedule of streets to be done this year.

James A. Crawford and S. L. W. Field, both living on Fourth street, said their lawns were practically ruined by the floods which overflow them every time there is a heavy rain, and Michael O'Neill, Broad and Elm, said his pavement had been badly washed out for years by surface water that runs from Broad street down his sidewalk.

"Trap" in Pipe

It was claimed that the sewer which was laid to carry off the water at Fourth and Elm avenue is not working as well as it did when it was first put down, and two of the speakers intimated a trap had been formed when the pipes were laid by depressing the line to go under another pipe.

Councilman Lynch explained that when the storm sewer was laid on Elm avenue it was intended to run another down Penn street to take care of the flow between Lippincott avenue and Main street. This was afterwards abandoned owing to the cost and the one sewer was obliged to do the work of both.

Mr. Crawford suggested conditions might be improved by keeping the mouths of the intakes cleared of twigs and rubbish. He said Palmyra sent out a man as soon as it started to rain to see that the water was able to flow off freely. W. F. Craig, 417 Elm avenue, said he had been a resident there for five years and the street never got anything—oil, lights, or anything else.

After the delegation had been heard to some length it was informed that the matters brought before council would be carefully considered and conditions remedied as far as possible. It is the business of council, said the mayor, to see that all sections of the town receive fair and impartial consideration.

Wants All Streets Oiled

John Ruppert, of Fulton street, appeared before council to ask if Fulton street was going to be oiled this year. He called attention to the fact it was understood when the highway appropriation was passed all the streets were to be improved at once. He said while some of the streets had now received three coats of oil within the last few years and resident of

JUNIORS WIN AGAIN BY 6-2

Riverton Lads Take First Saturday Afternoon Contest With Little Trouble

The Riverton A. A. Juniors defeated the Haddonfield Cubs last Saturday by a 6-2 score in a 5½ inning game.

The Juniors tallied a run in the first frame when Reeves singled and Bottger doubled.

Haddonfield scored two in the second when I. Watson singled, S. Watson sacrificed and Dill singled, scoring I. Watson; Hutchins walked and an error by Bottger allowed Dill to score.

With a determination to overcome the visitors' lead the Juniors pounded in four runs in their session of the second. Terrell doubled. Sloan and Foulke singled, scoring Terrell. Coles forced Sloan. Bartley was safe on an error. Jimmy Reeves came through with a triple scoring Foulke and Coles and was caught at home trying to stretch the hit to a homer. SOUTH BROAD STREET CONTRACT AWARDED

Work on Extension of Railroad Platform and Widening of Street to Start Soon

The contract for the improvement to the south side of East Broad street, Palmyra, was awarded to the Palmyra Concrete Company at a meeting of the committee Tuesday evening.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is to extend its platform on the south side to Morgan avenue and to provide a separate foot crossing which will allow a six foot wider road crossing at this point.

Curbs will be installed at the crossing and necessary changes made to allow for drainage. The width of the roadway will be increased to thirty-two feet which will leave room for a grass plot between the curb and railroad platform from Garfield avenue to Morgan.

The Pennsylvania Railroad is sharing in the cost of the improvement. The cost to the Borough is between seven and eight hundred dollars.

GIRLS COMPETE FOR SILVER CUP

"Hilda Hagstoz" Trophy Presented to Tennis Club as Perpetual Prize

A beautiful silver cup has been presented to the Palmyra Tennis Association as a perpetual trophy for the girl members to compete for annually.

The cup, which is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Hagstoz, of Riverton, is to be known as the "Hilda Hagstoz" cup, and is named after their daughter, who is a very enthusiastic member and one of the best players among the girls.

There are no conditions or restrictions made by the donors in regard to the awarding of the cup except that it shall be competed for annually by the girl members in a tournament held under the rules of the club.

Drawings for the tournament have already been made and some of the matches have been played. It is probable that the final or semi-final rounds will be reached during the next week.

The men's tournament for the Roy T. Hardy cup has already reached the third round with O. Hagstoz, C. Watson, Roy Hardy, W. Burgess, Jack Elsely and Arthur Wright surviving. Third round drawings have been completed and semi-finals are expected to be reached during the coming week.

The winner of the tournament will meet Robert Hobbs, last year's champion, for possession of the cup.

"PAN-AM" FIRE CAUSES MUCH EXCITEMENT

Little Damage Done as Match Starts Fire at Gasoline Station

Much excitement but little damage was caused by a gasoline fire at the "Pan-Am" filling station on Cinnaminson avenue, near Broad street, Monday night.

While an old touring car, with the tank under the seat, was being filled one of the occupants struck a match on the tank and ignited the gasoline. The gas vapor burst into flame and for a time threatened to ignite both the tank of the car and the pump, which holds several gallons of gasoline in a glass container.

While the blazing hose was being pulled away from the tank gasoline dropped from it and started the upholstery to burning. The blaze in the car was beaten out by Charlie Hahn, who was nearby, and was completely extinguished by a portable extinguisher which was brought from the police car. The fire on the hose was put out with a chemical extinguisher which is kept on hand for such an emergency.

NEW MOVIE AT BRANT BEACH

The new moving picture theatre at Brant Beach to be known as the "Colony Theatre" is about completed and ready to be thrown open to the public. The Colony Theatre is being built by Charles B. Durborrow. It is of fireproof construction throughout, will accommodate 900 people. The interior decoration is of old rose, ivory and gold. The organ is a Robert Morton and at the console will be found Mr. Clifford Martin of Willow Grove, Pa. The theatre is equipped with an Arctic New Air cooling system and arrangements for heating. The auditorium is the largest public gathering place of its kind in Ocean county.

Besides the theatre section are three apartments and three stores. The theatre has been leased to Harry Colmer of Beach Haven for ten years through William J. Noonan.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. T. Harry Brannin, of Lenola, announce the engagement of their daughter, Edith Warwick, to George H. Ware, of Philadelphia. Miss Brannin is a senior at Moorestown High School.

MRS. TERRY SEES HOOVER VICTORY

Gratitude Will Elect Republican Candidate, Says County Committeewoman

With Burlington county giving practically a two-thirds majority vote to the Republicans in the last presidential election and still being recognised as G. O. P. territory, the women workers of the party in this county will find little to fret about this fall.

However, as Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, of Edgewater Park, their state committeewoman, puts it, they must not rest upon their laurels or they'll meet sure defeat.

According to Mrs. Terry, the women do not find in advisable to work during the summer months, vacation and weather interfering. But, the committeewoman herself, is not taking her ease. She is working with the state leaders and mentally formulating plans for the future, which in all probability will include a house to house canvass.

The women will join the men of the party at a picnic meeting on September 10, which will be the launching of the campaign in Burlington county. The candidates will attend the affair and will meet with the county committee in the court house at Mount Holly, following.

Speaking of the campaign from a state and national standpoint, Mrs. Terry said in an interview, that she did not expect it to be easy sailing for the Republicans.

"Here in Burlington county," she said, "we have little incentive and are apt to take things too easy."

The woman leader quoted approximate figures in the 1924 election, "about 21,000 Republican votes were cast in Burlington county and only about 7,000 Democratic votes.

"We do have strong factional fights to keep us peped up. But, when they are over, we bury them with the past and work in absolute harmony for a still greater cause.

The committeewoman expects Republicans to again place their candidate in the White House, but she does not believe that his stand on any one great issue or his religion will get him a majority of electoral votes. She thinks it will be "sheer gratitude for the wonderful work he has done for humanity and the people's confidence in his ability."

Mrs. Terry and Mrs. Florence Jacoby, of Riverton, Democratic state committeewoman from Burlington county, have been invited to speak for their respective candidates at a meeting of the Moorestown League of Women Voters to be held in the Community House on October 6. Mrs. Terry will also talk before members of the Beverly Paragraph Club on women in politics at a meeting to be held probably October 7.

Mrs. Terry is a member of the Southern New Jersey Committee of the State Republican Committee, which met at the Camden county headquarters Tuesday, to plan a regional rally at which the state and possibly the national candidates will be presented.

SIMPLICITY FOR THE GIRLS DRESS

The approach of autumn means that the junior girl must begin to plan her outfit not only for school, but for general wear as well. Though the general trend of merchandise is, as always, in the direction of simplicity for the younger generation, yet closer attention is being paid to fashion.

The belief is expressed by Helen H. Powell, New Jersey extension clothing specialist, that the best sellers this year will be jerseys, velveteens, and plaid woolens, with monotones placed first in every case. She expresses a preference for school dresses of simple style, with detachable cuffs and collar of linen or pique, because of their practical value.

"As always," says the specialist, "cotton for school dresses is a favorite because of attractiveness, inexpensiveness, and ease of laundering. Such dresses may be either one or two-piece, and the outfit should be topped off with a chinchilla or tweed coat and a felt beret. These berets are of the French type, fitting snugly on the head. They are particularly chic this fall."

'BILL' FRENCH ON FIRST SOLO 'HOP'

Moorestown Contractor Flies Burlington County Aero Club Plane Alone; Leads Unit

William de R. French, Moorestown contractor, took his first solo airplane flight late Thursday afternoon and came through with "flying colors."

After taking six trial flights with his instructor, Lieut. Pennock, of the Burlington County Aero Club, Mr. French took the plane alone and made five successful "take-offs" and landings. His work was especially fine and he handled the ship in the manner of an expert.

The "solo" flights were taken in the county aero unit's ship from its field on the Hartford-Westfield road, just south of Bridgeboro road. Four of Mr. French's friends were the only persons in the field at that time.

Mr. French, or "Bill," as he is best known, is the first member of the club who has received all of his training under the club's instructors, to solo. Several other members of the flying class will soon be ready to solo.

MAPLE SHADE TO LOSE REV. RITTER

Pastor of Congregational Church Resigns to Accept Charge at West Pittston

The Rev. Frank S. Ritter, for a number of years pastor of the Congregational Church at Maple Shade, is leaving to take charge of a church in West Pittston.

The church to which the Rev. Mr. Ritter is going was a former charge of Rev. E. G. Heal. The Rev. Mr. Heal was also pastor of the Maple Shade church, the Rev. Mr. Ritter succeeding him there.

KERSHAW—HUNTER

Miss L. Elizabeth Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Hunter, of Haddonfield, and Harrison Kershaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kershaw, of Pleasant Valley avenue, Moorestown, were married at four o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Valley Forge Memorial Chapel. The Rev. W. Herbert Burk, pastor, officiated.

Mr. Hunter gave his daughter in marriage. She appeared in a becoming sleeveless model of white chiffon, fashioned with the uneven hemline, flounced skirt and simply sherred bodice. Her veil of tulle was arranged in a cap and caught in place with sprays of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Eleanor Hunter attended her sister as maid of honor. Her frock was of pink chiffon and she wore a large hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Abner Coxson, of Atlantic City, formerly of Moorestown, served the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Kershaw left on their wedding trip to Canada. They will reside in Haddonfield upon their return.

The bride is a graduate of Glassboro Normal School. Mr. Kershaw is a salesman for Shafer-Davis Motor Company, local Chrysler dealers.

STATE HIGHWAYS ROTARY SUBJECT

Edward A. Mechling and Engineer Williams Speak at Club's Luncheon

John A. Williams, New Jersey State Highway Commission engineer, and Edward A. Mechling, chairman of the Moorestown Plan, Art and Zoning Commission, spoke on "state highways" at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club in Moorestown last Thursday at noon.

Clarence E. Worrell, the president, in opening the meeting announced that he understood the "critical moment" will be reached within the next three weeks. It is rumored that the course for Route No. 38 of the new state highway system will be definitely decided by that time and Moorestown will know whether its wish for the road to be run along the south valley has been granted.

Neither Mr. Mechling or Mr. Williams gave any additional information as to when the route will be determined. The engineer did, however, say "The State Highway Commission endeavors to meet the wishes of the townspeople affected by the new routes. If everyone works together on the project and there is a unanimous sentiment in favor of a certain route, the commission usually complies with the demand."

City Beautiful

Mr. Mechling said "Most of us dream of living in the city beautiful, but this dream seldom is realized. Moorestown has an opportunity to realize this dream and the Plan, Art and Zoning Commission is working toward this end. We hope to combine utility with beauty. We are asking land owners in the south valley to donate 150 feet of land. Eighty feet will go for the new highway, and this would leave thirty-five feet on each side of the road for a parkway."

Mr. Mechling is confident funds could easily be raised for planting and maintaining a parkway. "If the owners of land in the south valley must realize that they will reap tenfold benefits by such a beauty spot as the parkway would make," said Mr. Mechling.

The speaker called attention to the ugliness of Crescent boulevard, Moorestown, he said, would not want a Crescent boulevard.

While Mr. Williams evaded the issue, he gave a very fine talk on highways in general and was called upon to answer numerous questions at the conclusion of his address. He also lauded the planning commission for the fine work it is doing for Moorestown in planning for the new highway.

Adding 1000 Miles

With completion of the program of the 1927 act of legislature New Jersey will have 1600 miles of state highways, he said. The act of 1916 created 600 miles and the 1927 program will add approximately 1000 miles more. New Jersey is spending about thirty million dollars a year on new roads.

Burlington County now has 33 miles of state roads and this figure will be increased to about 83 miles under the 1927 act. Mr. Williams called attention to the fact that Burlington County fares very well on the highway proposition. For every dollar spent by the state on highways in this county, only 33 cents is contributed by the county.

He said that state is now building forty-foot highways. This is twenty feet of paving with a ten-foot shoulder of gravel on each side. New Jersey builds wider roads than any other state in the East, declared the engineer. New York paves sixteen-foot roads, Pennsylvania makes them eighteen feet, while Jersey is building twenty-foot highways with the ten-foot shoulder on each side.

On many roads 60 per cent. of the cars represent out-of-state traffic. Fully 75 per cent. of the out-of-state drivers never spend one cent in Jersey, even though we are building fine, wide highways for them, said Mr. Williams. The state's only chance to get any funds from "foreign" drivers is on the gasoline tax, he said.

In early seventeenth century England, nearly 1,000 men, women, and children were hanged each year.

DRUNKEN DRIVER PAYS HEAVY FINE

Trenton Man Assessed $200 and Will Lose His Operator's License

Charged with drunken driving, Arthur Johnson, colored, of South Alden avenue, Trenton, was arrested by Officer Bruce MacDonald on Camden avenue, Moorestown, Monday.

At a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Town Hall, Johnson paid a fine of $200 and costs. His driver's license is to be revoked for two years.

Jerve Thompson, colored, of Cedar street, Moorestown, was fined $5.00 and costs by the recorder Monday. He was arrested by Chief of Police John Bradshaw and charged with reckless driving.

An unnamed Moorestown man paid a fine for stealing apples from Clayton Andrews' orchard, Lenola. The police have not divulged the identity of the man who took a fancy to the Andrews' fruit.

LENOLA KIDDIES CAUSE TENT FIRE

Youngsters, 5 and 6, Playing With Matches, Ignite Camp Meeting Headquarters

The tent in which the camp meeting of the Bethel Pentecostal Assembly was being held and an adjoining tent in which Mrs. Bell, of Camden, who accompanies the camp meeting, was living, were burned down Monday afternoon at Lenola as a result of childrens' carelessness.

The fire occurred shortly after noon when Joseph Williams, 5, and Marie Murphy, 6, and several other youngsters, were playing with matches and ignited the tents. It is believed they got the matches from the tent in which Mrs. Bell lived.

The organ in the camp meeting tent was scorched and all the chairs were burned. Mrs. Bell's tent and all the furnishings were completely destroyed.

The camp meeting was being held every evening and several afternoons during the week from July 1 to September 1. Mrs. Bell was in Philadelphia at the time of the fire.

OFFICIALS VISIT PREVENTORIUM

Freeholders and Others Shown Work Done at Oxmead; Dinner Served

Forty guests were entertained at the second annual luncheon given at the Tuberculosis Preventorium at Oxmead, near Burlington, on Thursday, August 9. Those present included members of the Board of Freeholders, officials of county institutions, active members and officers of the League and a few newspaper men of the county.

Luncheon was served in the dining room of the old Parrish mansion, after which Dr. M. W. Newcomb, president of the League, made a short address in which he explained that the purpose of the gathering was to acquaint the people in general with what is being accomplished for the under-nourished children of the county, to show the Freeholders in particular what is being done with the money that is appropriated from the county treasury for the institution, and to demonstrate what a lot more could be accomplished if everyone knew the true situation regarding the work that is being carried on.

A throng of happy children, numbering forty-five in all, were playing under the trees.

Forty-five Patients

Dr. Newcomb said that forty-three of the children were residents of Burlington county and two from New York. No charge is made for county patients, but those accepted from other places are expected to pay the cost of their board and care. The age limit is between 6 and 12 years.

The Preventorium is operated under the management of Mrs. Florence Evans, superintendent, one nurse, two counsellors, a cook and two helpers. The expense for the ten weeks it is operated during the summer is expected to be about the same this year as it was last season. Maintenance, including some improvements that have been made to the property, averages about $1 per child per day.

Miss Margaret S. Haines called attention to the fact that rent of fine mansion and grounds is free, Miss Parrish having donated the property for the purpose for five years, besides furnishing a caretaker, (Frank Cook, of Burlington,) who has been the superintendent of the place for many years. Mr. Cook looks after the physical condition of the place and Miss Parrish pays the bill for many things connected with the upkeep of the property and care of the grounds.

Lease Near End

The Tuberculosis League has had the use of the place for three years, having but two more seasons before the five-year period will expire. Its officials are now wondering what is to eventually be done about acquiring a permanent quarters for the Preventorium, and hoping that at sometime in the near future it may be possible to operate on a full time basis instead of for only ten weeks during the summer.

Mrs. Daisie Hollingshead, executive secretary for the League, stated some of the accomplishments with individual children which proved conclusively that many of the county's little ones are being greatly benefitted in health, and Mrs. Evans exhibited charts showing the gain in weight that each guest of the Preventorium is making.

Many of these have made remarkable gains in the seven weeks that the institution has been operating this summer. The charts showed that two children had gained as much as nine pounds each and two had reached normal weight. Some of the children were thirty pounds underweight on arrival.

Bad Cases Only

The Preventorium now accepts only the worst cases of under-nourished children. It tries to bring them up to normal weight in ten weeks, but realizing that this is not possible in all cases and knowing that there are a vast number to whom they cannot minister, the management wishes the people of the county to know there is a tremendous need for Preventorium work the year round.

Dr. Newcomb said that in the five years it has been in existence they have had no infectious disease, nor no serious accidents. He stated that there were many things needed that would be of great assistance in the work. One of these was a shallow swimming pool where the youngsters could safely bathe.

How Supported

The cost of operation, aside from the free rent that is enjoyed, is made up as follows: The county appropriates $1,500; the lawn fete held annually in Mount Holly usually nets about $800; the two rummage sales at Brown's Mills bring in each year about $900; individual contributions total about $300 annually.

Mrs. Evans told of the daily routine which is practiced in the care of the children and also some stories about how discipline is maintained in the care of such a large family of youngsters.

An inspection of the institution was a part of the program of the day.

New State Leader

GEORGE M. HILLMAN, JR.

Moorestown man who in May began his first term on the Democratic State Committee, has been made one of five members of the State Executive Committee.

MOORESTOWN MAN ON IMPORTANT BODY

State Committeeman George M. Hillman, Jr., Appointed Member of Democratic Executive Force

George M. Hillman, Jr., of Moorestown, male member of the Democratic State Committee from Burlington County, has been appointed a member of the executive committee of the State Committee to conduct the fall campaign.

Mr. Hillman is one of the youngest members of the State Committee and county Democrats naturally feel highly honored by his appointment.

The executive committee is composed of five members of the State Committee, three men and two women, and it is considered the most important committee functioning under the direction of the State Committee. As a member of the committee Mr. Hillman will be called upon to visit all parts of the state in the organization work and it will be the means of his meeting every prominent Democrat in the state.

The two other male members of the executive committee are James Baker of Hudson county, president of the State Board of Taxation, and Judge Leroy Loder.

NEW SUPERVISOR FOR MOUNT HOLLY SCHOOLS

The board of education of the Mount Holly public schools has closed a contract with Robert C. B. Parker, of High Bridge, to be the new supervising principal as the successor of Edgar F. Bunce, who recently resigned to take a supervisory position at Metuchen. Mr. Parker is one of many considered by the board for the position. He was sought by the Mount Holly officials after recommendations had come from various sources. Mr. Parker will arrive at the county seat in time to take up his work for the fall term, having been released by the High Bridge board of education.

POULTRY RAISERS TO EXAMINE DEAD

Post mortem examination of fowls that have died of disease or from unknown causes is being recommended to New Jersey poultrymen by the state agricultural experiment station located at New Brunswick.

In explaining why the institution favors such a practice, C. B. Hudson, assisant pathologist, states that failure to investigate the cause of death among fowls invites wholesale losses in a flock. Timely examination of a dead bird may reveal disease or worm conditions and thereby enable the poultrymen to begin the corrective measures before extensive mortalities occur.

According to Mr. Hudson, poultrymen can soon learn to recognize the common poultry ailments such as tumors, impaction of the oviduct with egg materials, worms, and similar obvious conditions. On the other hand, a number of serious infectious diseases such as coccidiosis, bacillary white diarrhea, and fowl cholera can be diagnosed only by skilled technicians with the proper laboratory facilities. In view of this, Mr. Hudson is calling attention to the fact that the state experiment station has made provisions for examining fowls that have died of causes not identified by the owner. For successful operation of the plan, specimens must be sent without delay, he points out.

Besides furnishing poultrymen with information valuable in stamping out evil conditions in the flock, consistent autopsying is believed by the station to have a tendency to stimulate record keeping and break up the habit of carelessly throwing dead birds on the manure pile or into some obscure place where they are a serious menace to the flock. Instead, the owner is more likely to burn the carcasses and thereby destroy all possibility of their spreading trouble.

A TART MINT JELLY

Mix a cup vinegar with a cup and a half water, add green vegetable coloring and still until dissolved. Add 6½ level cups sugar and bring to a boil. At once add a bottle of liquid pectin and bring again to full rolling boil and boil for a half minute. Remove, add teaspoon spearmint extract. Let stand one minute, skim, pour and seal.

A HINT FOR THE MEN

Except for sports wear the rumpled soft collar is yielding to the new type of light pliant white collar which, although starched to contribute neatness of neck and tie, sacrifices nothing in comfort.

AN APPLE SAUCE

Cook six tart apples until tender in a pint of boiling water. Add a half cup sugar and while still boiling, stir in package of fruit-flavored gelatin. Set in molds to harden and serve with sweetened cream.

REPUBLICANS, AWAKE!

In less than three months the people of the United States will elect their president.

Herbert Hoover's only chance of defeat lies in the indifference and over-confidence of his friends—of Republicans who assume the attitude "why there's nothing to it—of course Hoover will be elected."

There is no "of course" about it. The various interests backing Al Smith are working now—every minute—day and night—and will continue to do so until the last ballot is counted election night.

But all this cannot elect Smith. Only the Republican stay-at-home can turn the rick. Every vote Hoover fails to get is one for his opponent.

Republican Clubs should be functioning in every village, town and city this minute!

When will Riverton get started?

OILING THE STREETS

The first comprehensive plan for oiling the streets in the Borough of Riverton for the purpose of preserving the surface of the roads is being tried this year. Previous work of this kind embraced only a very few streets and but one coat of oil was applied.

When the budget was made up for 1928 a sum was included in the highway department appropriation supposed to be large enough to oil all the streets in the borough. After the amount necessary for oiling was decided upon, however, it was thought best not to go ahead with the permanent improvement of Park street as an item separate from the highway expenditures, and $1000 was taken from the oil money to make a temporary improvement of that street.

In preparing the specifications on which bids were to be asked for oiling the streets, the borough engineers strongly advised putting on two coats of oil instead of one, stating that while two coats would give a surface that would last several years, one coat would not give satisfactory results. It immediately became evident that all the streets could not be given two coats of oil and keep within the appropriation. After carefully considering the matter the highway committee decided to give two coats of oil as far as the money permitted and let it go at that for this year. Then came the difficult task of selecting what streets should be oiled now. The result left out some streets on which there is considerable traffic, and should have been taken care of at once. The members of the committee realized this, but under the changed conditions that had come up since the original plan and appropriation were adopted, there seemed to be no help for it.

It may be considered unfortunate that the highway committee did not learn in the beginning that two coats of oil are required to make a satisfactory surface. Then the people would not have expected to have all the streets done at once. However, now that the committee is in possession of the facts, they would be untrue to themselves and to the taxpayers whose money they are spending if they yielded to pressure and let the streets that have already been oiled go with one coat in order that the remaining streets in the town might also have one coat this year. Better to make a good job of the streets already started and finish the job next year. This is good business, and while those living on the streets which will not be oiled this year will naturally be disappointed, they should eventually realize that it is the only wise thing to do under the circumstances.

If the oil used this year proves to be satisfactory, the work can be completed next year. Meanwhile, let those who are disappointed try to be patient and reasonable.

A BIT PREVIOUS!

It looks as though the copy of the jokesmith found its way into the editorial sanctum of the Philadelphia Record last Sunday. Note this:

> "We have long recognized Herbert Hoover as a great Secretary of Commerce.
>
> "His speech of acceptance of the Republican nomination convinces us that he is the greatest Secretary of Commerce who has ever served this country, and that he should be retained in that cabinet postion by President Smith."

When the bride asked the matron how to make "welsh rarebit" she replied, "first catch your rabbit."

Dr. Frank Crane Says

What Is Worth While?

The difference probably between the man of good judgment and the scatter-brain is that the former emphasizes the important things and lets alone the unimportant, while the latter is equally in earnest about them all.

A man has reached a great point in his career when he can see a lot of things make no difference to him.

He has a certain end in view and only appreciates the things that bear on that end. Other matters make no difference.

The line that divides the successful man from the unsuccessful is usually the fact that the successful man never loses sight of the goal he has in view, while the unsuccessful man runs about hither and thither like an ant. He has activity, but it is largely waste motion.

Every once in a while you hear on the street the expression, "What's the big idea?"

The big idea seems to stand for the main and informing purpose for which anything is done or said.

The big idea is like the perfect design of the building in the mind and the trestle board of the architect. He gives to every man his work and puts every piece of material in its place.

I have read some novels that seemed to be a mere frittering away of my time, for there was no dominant thoughts about which they were written.

Religious belief in a way simply means that a man has some big idea about his life, and all of his words and deeds must conform to this plan.

Music is only merely a pleasant succession of sounds. It must have unity and form and individuality. There must be a big idea behind it.

The idea is bigger than the man that has it. A man becomes great only when he allows himself to be absorbed in the idea.

Many people suffer because their energies are fritted away. They have no cohesive plan, and everything they do is hit or miss. They never amount to anything, because there is no big idea behind them.

Search yourself carefully to find your dominating desire, and see that it is such as can merit your giving up all your life to it.

Then you will come to success on board a big idea when you never would have attained it otherwise.

COMMUNICATED

Editor The New Era:

In answer to an article appearing in the Camden Courier, on August 10, concerning the condition of our local prison, I would like to make the following correction. The article stated, "That every time a prisoner is locked up in our local jail, the Borough has been forced to keep an officer at the cell."

I wish to state at this time that this condition does not nor never has existed. I feel that if the local jail conditions do not meet with the state requirements, our Mayor and Council could easily come to terms with our local fire company, and at a very small increase in cost to the citizens of Riverton could arrange matters so that our jail would meet the State regulations.

Statements like those appearing in the Courier are now being broadcast by a few local politicians. Their object is, to make our citizens believe that we must have a municipal building. At our last primary election the voters placed themselves on record, that they opposed the high tax rate and demanded that our present rate be decreased.

I have personally spoken to 126 residents concerning a municipal building, and 109 are positively opposed to such a building at this time; 17 were in favor of the fire company building a home that would be suitable, if conditions are not satisfactory at their present quarters.

Another whispering campaign is on that the Borough take over Bank avenue. Even if a majority of the people felt that we should, it would cost thousands of dollars of our taxpayers' money in court proceedings and there would be a very small chance of success. I personally feel that instead of talking about taking over the property of our Bank avenue friends, we should be devising means and ways of giving them some assistance in maintaining the roadway.

Mr. Williams, our Director of Police, could assist greatly in changing obnoxious conditions that exist at the present time. I also know that our present members of our Borough Government could bring about a better feeling among all of the people by giving the same kindly consideration, in equal distribution of improvements throughout the town.

BLAIR FAUNCE

Blair Faunce, 14-year-old son of William Faunce, of Riverside Park, died at the Bellevue Hospital, Camden, last Friday, following an operation.

Funeral services were held from the Snover Funeral Home, Palmyra, Monday afternoon at two o'clock with the Rev. Samuel Hardman, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, of Riverside, officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery, Palmyra.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

All visitors in town during the vacation season are cordially invited to attend the services of our Lutheran Church, corner of Garfield avenue and Broad street.

Sunday School at ten in the morning. Special emphasis is being given to the adult departments. Plans are being carried out to have a strong men's class, which shall not only cooperate in the discussion of the lesson, but also have other activities. Many and many a church has dated its real progress from the time the men of the church organized into a strong Bible Class or Brotherhood, where each man had the opportunity of doing what he wanted and what he could do. Spiritual and financial difficulties have crumbled before such organizations. You will want to be a member of such a class, the "class of cheer and progress."

Divine worship at 11.15 a. m. The pastor is going to preach a series of sermons with a strong evangelistic note. Bring your friends to church with you. You may be able to influence them under the guidance of the Holy Spirit to take the step to God. To bring another to the House of God, that God may talk to his soul, is one of the easiest things and at the same time one of the greatest things, which can be done. Do it for Christ.

Vesper service at 8 p. m. It was quite gratifying to see the number out last Sunday evening, when so often it is next to impossible to hold an evening service in the month of August. Make it more this coming Sunday.

The Eden Bible Class, the enthusiastic and untiring adult women's class of our Sunday School, will hold a Peach Festival on Saturday evening, August 25, in the church basement. Mr. DeWitt Morris and other entertainers will have a delightful program of humor. Come with a well developed appetite for good things to eat and good things to hear.

Calvary Presbyterian

C. T. Bates, Minister

Calvary Presbyterian Church wil welcome to its pulpit at the Sunday morning service of worship at 11 o'clock the Rev. W. H. Finney, D. D., of Philadelphia, who will preach in the absence of the pastor.

The Church School will meet at 10 o'clock in the Church School auditorium.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Sippel, 209 Thomas avenue, at 2 o'clock Friday, August 1.

Next Sunday morning the Rev. J. A. Matheson of Allentown, N. J. will take charge of the morning service.

graphic expense, office equipment, demonstration materials, etc.

In closing she said that if the board could assure them that it would go along on the proposition to appropriate the $1500, they could put a demonstrator at work at once at no expense to the board, since the appropriation of the federal government will pay all bills until the first of the year.

Board in Sympathy

The members of the board expressed themselves as in sympathy with the movement but added that with the steadily mounting tax rate they would have to give very careful thought to anything that would further increase the budget. They informed the women that they would go into the matter in detail and advise them later.

In order to make the proposed camp site at Jones' Mill, near Cookstown, ideal for the Boy Scout camp, it will first be necessary for the county council to erect a dam along the Cookstown road, the gates having been washed out about six months ago.

In a communication to the board of freeholders it was requested that the bridge, which is in need of repair, be rebuilt at the expense of the county. The letter said the Boy Scout Council will pay the expense of erecting the new dam. There was some objection to erecting a combination bridge and flood gates, but as it was shown that this had been in vogue at that point for a long term of years, there appeared to be no way out of it, although the board would have liked to postponed the erection of the bridge until next year.

Cost About $4000

It was estimated that the cost of a new bridge without the gates would be about $4000. The matter was finally referred to Director Fisher, of the bridge department of the county, for further investigation and action.

A communication was received from United States Senator Edward I. Edwards in which he intimated that he favored the Camp Dix site for the proposed veterans' hospital, and said he had taken the matter up with General Hines, of the War Department, and also with Treasury Department.

Flagman Discontinued

Notice came to the board today that the Public Utility Commission had approved the proposal of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to discontinue the services of a regular flagman at the North Pemberton railroad crossing.

The application of the railroad company to bring about the retrenchment was made some time ago, and then it was proposed that all trains be stopped at the crossing and that protection be given to vehicular traffic by flagging done by members of train crews. This was agreeable to the freeholders and now the Public Utility Commission has put on the final stamp of approval.

The Public Service Gas and Electric Company was granted permission to erect a pole and string wires on the Hainesport road, and also to erect nine poles and string wires along the Pemberton road to supply Medford Lakes.

The next regular meeting of the board will be held Friday, September 14.

The following department bills were ordered paid: Roads, $23,318.45; bridges, $4,371.27; finance, $191.47; public buildings, $6,954.47; public affairs, $3,998.39. Total, $38,834.05.

A good deed is never lost; he who shows courtesy reaps friendship, and he who plants kindness gathers love; pleasure bestowed upon a grateful mind was never sterile, but generally begets reward.—Basil.

26 YEARS ON THE RIVERTON POLICE FORCE

pointment George "Daddy" Faust was marshall (Riverton's first) for seven or eight years. Faust was an elderly man and Charles Armstrong was employed to fill the lamps. Many years later six gas lamps were tried out on Lippincott avenue, and these more modern means of street illumination were soon adopted all over the borough.

Many Changes

Quigley took Isaac Bell's place, and in a short time Clarence Bowers, who served with Bell, was replaced by William Montgomery. Charles Horisk, James Laverty, Benjamin Kenney and Walter G. Miller followed in the order named.

Twenty-six years ago there were practically no pavements in Riverton, and in winter board walks were laid on the sidewalks to keep pedestrians from sinking into the mud. Many of the houses on East Main street had not been built, and all that section of the town, now known as the "extension," between Main street and the Palmyra borough line, and Broad street and the Cinnaminson township line, contained only one house, the Jones property at 620 Thomas avenue. The balance of that tract was a corn field. The Riverton Country Club had just been built.

Old Time Residents

At that time Harvey J. Matchell and family and Edwin H. Fitler and family occupied the opposite corners of Main street and Bank avenue. Edward H. Ogden, Riverton's first mayor, lived where the Riverton Yacht Club now has its headquarters. Main street had not been paved. J. C. S. Davis lived in the house now occupied by H. H. Seabrook. Other residents of Bank avenue were William P. Ellison, Gen. William L. James, Miss Martha Biddle, William C. Stevens, Thomas W. Roberts, J. B. M. Showell, E. B. Showell, William M. Thomas, J. S. Bioren, Ezra Lippincott, Charles M. Biddle, J. C. W. Frishmuth, Charles A. Wright.

The only families still living in the houses they then occupied are those of General James, Charles M. Biddle, and Charles A. Wright. Miss Bell conducted the Lawn House.

F. G. Brown was mayor of Riverton when Quigley went on the police force. Among the leading business men at that time were Joseph M. Roberts, who conducted a grocery and general store in Riverton and another in Palmyra; Howard Parry had a real estate and insurance business where Miss Emma Rudderow now is, and Morris Stedle had the grocery now run by William P. Becker.

The Business Men

Charles Lloyd was proprietor of the grocery later taken over by E. E. Compton in the building recently occupied by William E. Holland's restaurant, and torn down last year to make way for the new building of the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company.

Ezra M. Perkins had the butcher shop in the little frame building on Main street near the old Collins lumber and coal yard. The business was later bought by William N. Mattis, and after the fire which destroyed the Collins building, the little butcher shop was moved back on Harrison street and the butcher occupied one of the stores in the new brick structure which Collins put up.

Pearce had a butcher shop in the little building on Howard street which is now remodeled for a barber shop for Emerson Wolfschmidt. George W. Tucker conducted a newsstand and carried on a package delivery system between Riverton and Philadelphia. He had no conveyance, but carried the packages strapped to his back and hanging from his shoulders. When he got off the train he looked like a year-round Santa Claus.

Old Landmark Gone

A three-story frame building stood on the corner of Main and Broad streets, where the brick building now is. Ezra Horner conducted a restaurant there for a time, and was followed by Harry Worrell's plumbing establishment and later by J. J. Adolph, who ran a cigar store and poolroom. William J. McIlhenny had a plumbing shop were William B. Lynch now is. Lynch worked for McIlhenny, married his daughter and succeeded to the business when McIlhenny died.

Mrs. Alfred Smith's dry goods store had just moved into its new building on Main street. Previous to that it had occupied the western corner of the Price building opposite the station. S. J. Coddington, justice of the peace and house painter, occupied the eastern corner, where the beauty shop now is. The New Era was in the third floor. The brick building now occupied by the Riverton Market House, built by the Public Service and later occupied by the Cinnaminson National Bank, had not been erected. Later Smith's store moved to the property on Main street occupied by D. M. Clifton, paperhanger, who has been there twenty-eight years.

School at Fourth and Howard

Frank C. Coles, the milkman, had his place on Main street in the building occupied until recently by John M. Kerrigan and family, who moved to Palmyra a few weeks ago. The trolley line had been laid but a year before, and the present brick school building had not been erected. School was conducted in a two-story frame building at Fourth and Howard The lot on which it stood is now used as a school playground. The telephone exchange was in the second story of the frame building at the corner of Broad and Cinnaminson streets, the first floor of which was used as a barber shop by Otto Sauer.

William H. Stiles had his drug store where McCombs' tailor shop now is, and the post office was where Theo. Schneider has his cigar store. Ogden H. Mattis, father of the present postmaster, was postmaster at that time.

Officer Quigley has kept pace with the development of the town, and there is no citizen prouder of its progress than "Bill." He has always been a favorite with the children and it is his especial care to see that they get safely across Broad street on their way to and from school.

He is now safeguarding the children of many of the boys and girls to whom he rendered the same service a quarter of a century ago.

When some people pay a compliment they act as though they want a receipt for it.

ASK RIVERTON COUNCIL FOR MORE LIGHTS, OILED STREETS

Fulton street had been repeatedly promised, nothing had ever been done.

Robert W. Knight suggested the streets that had already received one coat of oil might be allowed to rest until next year so one coat might be applied to the balance of the town. Mr. Craig and Mr. Ruppert concurred in this idea, but it was explained by council one coat would be so ineffective the cost of applying it would be practically wasted. Mr. Lynch said to give the balance of the streets one coat in addition to a second coating on those already done would cost about $3000 more than the appropriation.

Councilman Williams said he thought this should be done, but Councilman Bartley, chairman of the finance committee, declared the additional money could not be raised this year—the law would not permit it. Councilman Hubbs said next year enough money should be appropriated to finish oiling the streets.

Councilman Lynch, chairman of the highway committee, said when the budget for his department was made up $7000 was included for oiling the streets. Before the oiling could be started, however, it was decided to take out enough to fix up Park street.

This, with a bill for services of the engineers on Park street, last year, deducted about $1000 from the oil fund. Then, when the engineers drew up the specifications for oiling the streets they advised two coats be applied instead of one, owing to the very much greater service two coats would give. This made it necessary to reduce the number of streets to be oiled. After careful consideration of the subject from many angles the streets to be treated this year were selected by the highway committee.

In the absence of the other members of the committee (Messrs. Randall and Welsh) Mr. Lynch declined to say whether or not it would be advisable to consider the suggested plan of giving the streets all over town a single coat of oil this year instead of carrying out the program decided upon.

Opposes Town Hall

Before taking his leave Frank Holvick told council he believed he represented the opinion of a vast majority of the people of Riverton when he said he was opposed to the erection of a new municipal building out of the taxpayers' money. Councilman Bartley thanked Mr. Holvick for his remarks and said he was opposed to it, too, and hoped council would not pass a municipal building program.

Mr. Shiner, representing the Public Service, asked permission to substitute a number of buses for trolleys, the schedules of the two means of transportation to be coordinated. Mr. Bartley called the attention of Mr. Shiner to the fact the tracks of the trolley company through Riverton had not been kept in a satisfactory condition, and he promised to take the matter up and see what could be done. Mr. Shiner's request will be referred to the borough attorney.

Director of Public Safety Williams reported the death of Arthur Reeves, who was run over by a truck, but in reply to the suggestion that the borough ordinance should be revised to permit small children to ride on the sidewalks, said this could not be done under the State Motor Vehicle Act.

Other Accidents

Mr. Williams reported two other accidents. Julius Woodill had been knocked down by a truck and suffered an injured shoulder, and a car parked on Broad street had been bumped by another truck.

Members of the police force, Mr. Williams said, had been detailed to service on Bank avenue to break up a nuisance condition caused by bathers from out of town who parked their cars on the lawns and used the riverbank as a bathing beach.

Mr. Williams again called attention to the trouble the police department has with local drivers who violate motor vehicle laws. The general disregard of measures passed in interest of safety to those who use the highways either afoot or in cars, has become so State-wide, said Mr. Williams, that the Governor had issued a proclamation designating September as the month in which the State Police Department would check up on all cars to see they are in a safe condition to operate, and look out particularly for drivers who either speed or drive recklessly. The Governor had asked for the cooperation of the local police departments, said the director, and Riverton would do its bit.

In discussing traffic regulation, Mr. Williams said he believed the only really satisfactory traffic signal was the type used in Palmyra, which allowed the motorist to go anywhere when he got the green light—right, left or straight ahead.

Park Guard Satisfactory

Mr. Williams, as chairman of the borough property committee, reported that Wilbur Jones the new park guard, was giving very efficient and satisfactory service, and there were between 200 and 300 children and adults using the park every day.

The report of the building inspector showed permits issued for $12,000 worth of building operations, and fees amounting to $21.50.

Sherman & Sleeper, borough engineers, reporting on the application of road oil to the streets, called attention to the fact the sand used in covering the first coat was not according to specifications, as it contained stones larger than permitted. These stones had been removed, the report said, and the engineers will be on hand when the next application of oil is made to see that the covering material complies with specifications.

Delinquent Tax List Ready

Borough Collector C. Kenneth Davis reported the list of tax delinquents had been completed and would be published after August 15, as required by law.

Just before the meeting adjourned Robert W. Knight, speaking for the water company, offered to contribute the water if council wanted to sprinkle such streets as had not received oil treatment, in order to keep the dust down for the balance of the summer. The offer was received with thanks. But the borough does not own a sprinkling cart.

FIVE MONTHS' OLD MYSTERY SOLVED BY ARREST OF THUG

free. His progress was slow, for the men knew how to tie knots that would hold. Evidently they were not novices at this kind of work.

After about three hours of patient effort he managed to slip the bonds on one hand, and to get his knife out of his pocket. The rest was comparatively easy. Decker made his way home on the trolley and the next day he called the Riverton police department from Philadelphia and reported the theft of his car to Director of Public Safety Williams. He refused to give any details. During the day, however, the director heard rumors of a wild party at the bungalow the night before.

Accompanied by Officer Quigley he visited the place and saw mute evidence of what had happened. Williams immediately notified the Philadelphia police department and called on the Burlington County Detective force for assistance. Detectives Carbine and Cain were detailed on the case. Detective Parker himself took a hand in the investigation, but not a live clue was unearthed.

Captured in Philadelphia

On Thursday, August 2, the Philadelphia Detective Bureau called Mr. Williams and told him a man answering the description of one of the "stick-up" men had been arrested for holding up a taxi driver in Philadelphia. Williams lost no time in visiting the bureau. He was taken to Moyamensing prison, where he immediately recognized the man, who gave his name as Frank McGowan, as the one whom he had frequently seen in Riverton, and who had rented the bungalow on Harrison street.

At first McGowan declared he did not know the Riverton police chief, and denied all knowledge of the "party" or the robbery. When, under the questioning of Williams, he found the chain of circumstantial evidence tightening about him, McGowan confessed and gave the details of the affair.

His girl assistant, he said, was Vera Solosky, who enticed men to the Riverton house, where they were "frisked." His male companion was known hereabouts as Castle, but his real name was Van Stratton. The boy was Bobbie Carpenter, a West Philadelphia lad. Two other men had been robbed in the Riverton house, he said.

Girl Makes Confession

Mr. Williams next questioned the girl. She said McGowan had made love to her and at first she had no suspicion of the nefarious business in which he was engaged. On March 12, she said, he had explained to her the part she was to play in a scheme to get a little easy money. At first she would have nothing to do with the plan, she said, but McGowan threatened to kill her is she refused, or if she attempted to betray him. Under his direction she strolled down Walnut street looking for a victim.

It was prearranged that the girl and her "catch" should dine at the Golden Dragon. During a short dance with the girl McGowan repeated his orders to take the victim to the Riverton house. He told her he and his accomplices would be following in a taxi, and any attempt to make a getaway would mean instant death for her and her companion. Her description of the night's adventure tallied exactly with the report made by Decker.

Director's Life Threatened

Five months after the crime was committed the complete facts were secured, through the action of the director at the time in reporting the matter to the Philadelphia authorities, and the quiet follow-up he has since conducted. Nothing was given to the press when the case was first reported to the Riverton police department, as it was felt any publicity at that time might interfere with the work of running down the culprits.

Several times between the robbery in March and the the arrest of McGowan, Director Williams was called on the telephone and told he had better "lay off," or they would "get him." Once it was a woman's voice that called, but on other occasions Williams recognized the voice of McGowan, whom he met and talked with several times during the five weeks he rented the bungalow here.

Director Williams has lodged a detainer against McGowan, and at the expiration of his sentence for the taxi holdup he will be brought to New Jersey to stand trial for the Riverton robbery.

BLACKBURNE PICKS A's TO BEAT OUT YANKEES

"Reign of Terror" to End, Says Palmyra Pilot of White Sox

Russell "Lena" Blackburne, of Palmyra, manager of the White Sox, is not afraid to go on record as saying that the Yankees are done. He believes the Athletics will come through the test.

"I can't be shot," says Blackburne, "for predicting that the champions are through for this year. Their reign of terror is ended. It looks like the Athletics' year. Connie Mack made no mistake when he took out the older players and sent his speedy young men in to mop up the campaign.

"I know Lazzeri is on the sick list. I know the Yankees' pitching is in a slump. But the team otherwise is back to normal again, and the other clubs are giving them a fight. Last season they romped through the Red Sox and Browns. They are not doing that this year. Ruth is not going to get as many homers as he did early in the year."

WORLD JOINS IN FIGHT ON BEETLE

Thirty-four Countries Represented In Conference at Ithaca, N. Y., This Week

The Japanese Beetle is receiving international consideration this week by the entomologists from 34 countries meeting at Ithaca, New York. So important is this subject from a world wide angle, that Loren B. Smith, Director of the Beetle Laboratory, has been invited to appear before the World Congress of entomologists to tell what has been accomplished here at Moorestown in controlling the pest. In presenting a paper before the congress, Mr. Smith has gone into the various methods worked out at the laboratory for the control of the pest.

The presence of Mr. Smith before this body of famed entomologists is international recognition of the work that is being performed at the Moorestown Laboratory.

In presenting a report on the beetle situation, Mr. Smith went into detail on the work with the parasites as well as the sprays and other forms of control that are being used. The paper was presented Monday and was enthusiastically received by the delegates. Representatives from every section of the globe were present. Mr. Smith was a former resident of Riverton.

FARM INTERESTS LOOK TO HOOVER

Agricultural West to Entrust Solution of Problems to G. O. P. Candidate

Washington, D. C., Aug. 14—Farmers of the agricultural west are willing to entrust the solution of their problems to Herbert Hoover, whose sympathies for agriculture date back to the days when he was an Iowa farm boy, say reports now reaching Republican national headquarters from every section of that great production area.

Voters of the farm districts realize that in Hoover they have a candidate whose vast experience in solving economic problems promises them for the first time a practicable program of relief.

Local Republican leaders in the agricultural belt are reminding voters that the stand of Hoover and Curtis for a Republican tariff assures continuance of protection to the products of agriculture, more of which are covered by the present tariff act than by any previous law, and increased duties on those commodities which experience has shown are not adequately protected.

Prominent in the Hoover column in the west are Senators Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, and Gerald P. Nye, of North Dakota, who have been at odds with party leaders in the past on farm relief and other questions.

Senator Brookhart has rapped George N. Peek, former implement manufacturer of Moline, Ill., who recently announced his support of the Democratic ticket, for his false statements about Herbert Hoover and the postwar situation on farm prices.

"Peek tells the farmers that Hoover held down prices during and after the war," says Brookhart. "This is absolutely untrue. I have the documents with the signature of Charles S. Barrett, national president of the Farmers' Union, in which we have every confidence, and instead of holding down the prices, Hoover kept them up."

Many Washington officials are recalling that Peek publicly announced that he was trying to reduce the prices of farm commodities early in 1919, when he was chairman of the industrial board of the Department of Commerce. Herbert Hoover, then food administrator, was in Europe at the time, fighting for the removal of the German blockade, in order that the American food surplus might be sold to the former enemy countries and war price levels maintained until the farmers were able to pay off their heavy loans.

Mr. Hoover's conferences with farm leaders at Cedar Rapids, Ia., now set for August 22 and 23, will have the attention of the entire midwest. Leaders of farm organizations in the neighboring states of Illinois, Missouri and Minnesota have asked to be included in the list of those desiring to attend the round table discussion of the agricultural situation with the Republican nominee on those days. His plan to obtain the views of the farmers first hand even before opening his campaign has added to his popularity in the farm states.

Elaborate preparations are being made at Topeka for the notification of Senator Curtis on August 18. The ceremony will take place on the north steps of the state capitol building in front of which are twelve acres upon which the crowds may assemble to hear the address of Kansas' favorite son. The exercises follow the Hoover notification by exactly one week, and it is expected that Topeka's population will be doubled for the occasion. Senator Simeon D. Fess of Ohio is chairman of the notification.

PORTERHOUS EAT $1.00 POUND IN THE OFFING

Porterhouse steaks at $1 a pound appear not to be an impossibility in the near future if beef cattle prices continue to climb upward as they have in the past few weeks. Chicago was quoting the juicy porterhouse at 90 cents at the end of last week and in St. Louis was not far behind. Restaurants have had to make quick revision of prices in order to break even and the outlook, while it is somewhat easier, is not bright for cheap beef in the near future.

Predictions based on reports from the Bureau of Animal Industry of the Department of Agriculture for some time have indicated that the beef herd has been rapidly dwindling in the past five years. While the herd has been diminishing at an alarming rate, the population has been increasing, together with the demand, the slaughter figures showing a gradual rise from 6,163,000,000 pounds in 1921 to 7,458,000,000 pounds in 1926.

While beef cattle have been decreasing, this has been somewhat offset by the increase in the pork supply, there being about 352,000,000 pounds more of pork produced in 1927 than in 1926. The high price of beef will have the effect of sharply decreasing the demand, and this, together with the increase in pork production, will equalize conditions to some extent. However, the day of cheap beef appears to be in the past unless there is a radical change in present conditions.

STATE PARK POPULAR

The increasing popularity of Hacklebarney State Park, located on Black river, two miles south of Chester in southern Morris county, as an out-of-door playground for the public is evidenced by the fact that more than 2,528 persons from all parts of New Jersey, and several other states, visited the place during the month of July, according to the monthly report of attendance received today from the Division of Forests and Parks, of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development.

TILE OFFERS BEST DRAINAGE SYSTEMS

Use of tile for draining wet areas on farms is an old-time practice, but age has not lessened its value, according to E. R. Gross, agricultural engineer at the New Jersey Experiment Station.

Very frequently, the engineer states, the outlay needed for tile and labor is offset in three or four years because of the increased productivity of the land. He cites an example to be found on the farm of Dory Peters, located near Flemington, Hunterdon county. One of Mr. Peters' fields has three low spots aggregating in area about one and a half acres. Plowing, planting, and cultivation are greatly hampered by the wet soil, and the crops obtained are noteworthy for their absence.

Upon inspecting the field the engineer found that about 200 feet of 6-inch and 700 feet of 4-inch drain tile costing $80 would be sufficient to turn the swamp areas into productive land. None of the ditches for the tile will need to be dug deeper than 2½ feet. It is estimated that about four crops will pay for the entire operation. Accordingly, Mr. Peters is planning to have the work done in the near future.

Professor Gross points out that one of the advantages of tile drainage is that use of farm machinery is in no way hampered. This cannot be said of open ditch drainage systems.

The modern parents' idea of punishing their daughter for staying out late at night is to take her key away from her, so that when she comes home she has to ring the bell and they have to get up and let her in.

FOUR HORSES DIE IN BIG BARN FIRE

Loss by Flames on Former John C. Dudley Farm Estimated at $20,000

The large barn on the former John C. Dudley farm, Marne highway near Hartford, was destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock Friday morning. Five firemen were injured and four horses burned to death in the fire. The loss is estimated at $20,000.

The blaze was discovered about 3.30 a. m. by Edward Harvey, a farm hand. He summoned "Patsy" Marino, who farms the place, and they attempted to save the horses. After two unsuccessful attempts, they found it would be impossible to rescue them, and the four valuable animals perished in the flames.

A tractor, truck and automobile and several other farm implements were destroyed by the flames.

Thirty-four bales of new-mown hay placed in the barn Friday were destroyed in the fire. The owner of the farm had intended insuring the hay Saturday.

Five Masonville firemen were injured in fighting the blaze. The most seriously hurt was Ibbetson Mason, who fell from a ladder and suffered a dislocated shoulder. He is in the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly.

The others, all of whom suffered minor burns, were Ibbetson's brother, Edward Mason, William H. Mason and his brother, A. R. Mason. The two families are not related. The fifth fireman injured was John Gibbs.

Masonville, Moorestown and Bridgeboro fire companies were summoned, but with only chemicals available, concentrated their attention on preventing the spread of the flames to a cow barn nearby. Four cows in the barn were led to safety.

The farm, originally owned by Mr. Dudley, is now the property of a John Kelly, a real estate agent, from whom Marino rents the place.

$5,000 BLAZE AT MT. HOLLY

Losses estimated at $5000 were incurred early Saturday when fire destroyed a barn on farm of Victor Rickerd on the Jobstown road near Mount Holly.

John Birdsall, manager of the farm, discovered the fire at 1.15 a. m. He roused his two farm hands and rescued the livestock, while his 19-year-old-daughter Mary drove his automobile into Mount Holly to summon aid.

County seat fire companies responded. The only water available was rainwater in a ditch along the road and the firemen placed the end of their hose in this and confined their efforts to putting out the flames in a nearby cow-barn which had also caught fire.

The other barn, with 20 tons of hay and a large quantity of farm equipment, was totally destroyed. The origin of the fire has not been determined.

CO. DEMOCRATS TO ATTEND SMITH DAY

Buses Will Be Engaged to Leave Various Towns on Schedule Time

Burlington county Democrats are planning to attend the "Smith Day" at Sea Girt on Saturday, August 25, which will actually mark the opening of the Democratic National Committee, and when Governor Smith will make his initial speech following his official notification of his candidacy for the Presidency.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Burlington County Democratic Committee, held in Mount Holly Wednesday night of last week, it was decided to make a special effort to have Burlington county represented by large delegations from various parts of the county. The Committee decided to open headquarters in Mount Holly, where an active campaign will be waged until after the election in November.

It was decided to discourage the use of private automobiles in making the trip to Sea Girt because of the traffic, and with this in view buses will be engaged to leave various towns in the county on schedule. Francis H. Reed, of Mount Holly, will be in charge of the tickets in Mount Holly.

CHANGING DIET AND STYLES OF AMERICA

Motor Truck Producer and Consumer Linked by Dependable and Speedy Commodity Transport

It's a long step from a grimy motor truck roaring along a country road to the food or dress of the average family, but trucks are playing a big part in the changing diet and styles of America, according to C. Ridgley Sweeney, Palmyra, local dealer for Graham Brothers trucks and Dodge Brothers motor cars.

"Government surveys show increasing amounts of vegetables and fruits on the American menu," said Mr. Sweeney. "A larger variety of meats is possible with the availability of fresh cuts in all markets. Milk drinking is increasing. Blanket distribution made possible only through short speedy service of modern trucking is the answer to the new diet of the country today. The consumer and the producer are neighbors regardless of distance.

"The commercial car has solved the distribution of produce in less than car load lots in small localities. City jobbers are finding business in suburban areas showing substantial increases, and farmers are enjoying an economical and dependable access to city markets in the ownership of motor trucks.

"Similarly, styles have swept uniformly over the country with fashion geared to automotive transport. Merchants can keep smaller stocks because of immediate deliveries. Rapid stock turn-over is insuring latest style at lowest prices. Back country sections in the old sense of the word are disappearing. The jobber and retailer are linked by motor truck and the customer benefits."

INDUSTRIES TO JOIN 'NO-ACCIDENT' DRIVE

A state-wide "no-accident" campaign in which all of New Jersey's industries have been asked to participate in an effort to reduce industrial accidents, is to begin on September 17 for a period of three months. The campaign had its inception in a conference at Trenton in June, under the auspices of the New Jersey Department of Labor. It was attended by representatives of many of the state's largest industries, which favor the plan.

The tentative program calls for compilation of comparative tables showing the man-hours worked in various plants, and the man-hours lost through accidents. Lectures will be given on preventive methods and prizes will be awarded to plants making the best records during the three months period. "No-accident" posters will be distributed and casualty insurance carriers will be asked to send their engineering experts into manufactories to deliver talks on safety. Special attention will be given on plants which function without safety committees.

Department records disclose that in 1927 there were 25,805 compensated industrial accidents in New Jersey. Of this number 345 were fatal, 6387 resulted in permanent disability and 19,233 in temporary disability. A total of $5,958,754 was paid in compensation. Including hospital costs, the department estimates that these accidents cost $9,000,000.

GOVERNOR ASKS FOR DRIVERS' AID

Moore's Proclamation Names September for Inspection of All Autos

Governor Moore has interested himself in a movement to reduce the number of accidents on New Jersey's highways.

The governor last week designated September 1 to 30 as Safety Month in a proclamation that follows.

"Whereas, automobile accidents are responsible for enormous and unnecessary losses of life, injuries to person and damages to property and

"Whereas, a large proportion of these accidents are directly traceable to the failure upon the part of motorists to observe the laws requiring equipment and mechanism to be kept in proper condition; and,

"Whereas, William L. Dill, commissioner of vehicles of New Jersey, is charged with the duty of enforcing those laws within his state; and,

"Whereas, Commissioner Dill, to aid in enforcing the motor laws, has arranged, with the co-operation of the automotive industry of the state and all garages and service stations, for an inspection to include an examination of brakes, horns, lights, steering mechanism, mirrors, windshield wipers, registration plates and operators' licenses.

"Now, therefore, I, A. Harry Moore, governor of the state of New Jersey, do proclaim the period from September 1, 1928, to September 30, 1928, inclusive, as Safety Month.

"I earnestly call upon all owners and operators of motor vehicles to avail themselves of this opportunity to have their motor vehicles inspected without charge, and upon learning of any defects in mechanism or equipment or the adjustment thereof to have such defects eliminated immediately.

"I further urge the press, all motor clubs, chambers of commerce and civic organizations within New Jersey to emphasize the importance of this safety movement as a means of co-operating with the authorities of this state in their effort, through enforcement of the law, to reduce the hazard of life and property occasioned by defective and improperly adjusted automotive equipment."

A MULE HITS AN AUTO— PITY THE POOR AUTO!

James Yeager, of Texas, was traveling near Childress, in the western part of the state, when his automobile collided with a mule.

The collision was of such force that the mule was thrown upon the radiator and carried for several yards. The mule climbed down and scampered away when the car was stopped. The car had to be towed into Childress. Inspection revealed that so many repairs would be needed that it was necessary to leave the car there for several days.

TAX ON GASOLINE NETS LARGE SUM

Nearly Eight Million Dollars Reported Collected by State Last Year

Total receipts of the gasoline tax division of the State Motor Vehicle Department for the year ending June 30, last, were $7,905,613.81, according to Commissioner William L. Dill, of Paterson. There was collected from 53 distributors of gasoline the sum of $7,892,152.94. The commissioner licensed 9,400 retail gasoline stations, netting a revenue of $16,774.

The legislature enacted the 2-cent gasoline tax levy in 1927, and it became effective July 1 of last year. The proceeds are turned over to the State Highway Commission for road-building purposes.

When Commissioner Dill undertook the enforcement of the gasoline tax law, he found it necessary to devise ways and means for the collection of the tax that would preclude the possibility of the state suffering a loss because of the importation into the state of what is commonly known as "bootleg" gas. The $7,892,152.94 collected from the 53 distributors of gasoline represents sale of 394,441,990½ gallons of gasoline. It includes $3,313.13 collected by the department on sales on which exemption from payment of the tax was claimed, but which upon investigation was found to be taxable.

For the month of May, 1928, the 2-cent tax yielded $782,656.97, the largest return of the 12-month period from July, 1927, to June 30 of this year. The expenses of the gasoline tax division for the year were $16,168.16. The cost of operation was $605.84 less than the revenues from the $2 license fee paid by retailers. The gas tax remains intact for the exclusive use of the highways and a small proportion for upkeep of the inland waterways. The department handled 380,169 tax exemption affidavits. Expenses for the present year are estimated at $18,000. The commissioner caused to be posted by every retailer a sign setting forth the price of gasoline per gallon which is inclusive of the state tax. The department believes this is a benefit to the consumer.

FINE INDIAN RELICS ACQUIRED BY STATE

Assortment Gathered by S. O. Ross, Deceased, of Vincentown, Now in State Museum

One of the most interesting collections of Indian relics, consisting of spear-heads, arrow heads, war paints, drills, scrapers, mortars, pestles and hundreds of other articles used by the Aborigines of New Jersey, gathered in the fields of Burlington, Atlantic, Hunterdon, Monmouth and Camden counties, by the late Samuel O. Ross, of Vincentown, has just been acquired by the State Museum, at Trenton. The collection, numbering some 700 specimens, was purchased by the state from Mrs. Price Cheney, of West Chester, Pa., and in the opinion of Mrs. Kathryn B. Greywacz, curator, contains many perfect and unusual relics.

A finely-formed stone spade, eight by four inches, is included with five soapstone beads, three square and two circular; a large stone with a deep triangular groove used for straightening arrow and spearheads; an ornamental soapstone object in the form of a fish; two axes with knobs at the sides; a representation of a human head with large ears, made of porous stone, and a number of bannerstones. In addition, there are stone tomahawks, celts, gouges and axes, varying from a miniature, two and one-half inches long to one nine and one-quarter inches long. The arrowheads, warpoints, spearheads, drills and scrapers are of flint, jasper, argillite and quarts.

Mrs. Greywacz is proud of an assortment of stone pendants and gorgets, pierced for suspension, which she believes were worn as breast ornaments and represented badges of distinction. These vary in shape, size and the number of perforations. One is in the shape of a heart and another represents a bear claw.

The collection is rich in pestles ranging from one, two and a half inches, used for grinding paint, to the large roller type, more than 18 inches long in which grain was ground. There is a small paint mortar and an unusually large, flat mortar, irregular in shape and highly polished.

The assortment includes articles used by the pioneer settlers with whom the Indians traded. There is a crude iron dagger and an iron ax, as well as a string of 32 beads made of amber chalcedony and glass.

The collection represents the gatherings of a lifetime by Mr. Ross, who spent much of his leisure time searching for Indian relics. Another large collection of relics, that will probably equal the Ross collection in size and value is that possessed by William Wright, of Mount Holly, who spent his boyhood days in Vincentown and often accompanied the late Mr. Ross on hunting trips for relics.

IDEAL BOY SCOUT CAMP SITE FOUND NEAR COOKSTOWN

Picturesque 135 Acre Burlington County Tract Has Been Purchased

DRIVE OPENS WITH INSPIRING DINNER

Well Organized Community Committees Seek to Raise $40,000 in Ten Days

The closing meeting of the Boy Scout Campaign for $40,000 will be held at the new camp site near Cookstown in Burlington county next Monday, August 20, when it is hoped that final reports will show that the campaign has successfully gone over the top.

An impressive gathering of 125 prominent citizens opened the 10-day campaign at the Moorestown Community House last Thursday evening. Several speakers gave short talks on the need of a camp site, the reason for changing the camp, which was originally located at Cochraneville, Pennsylvania, Scouting in Burlington county, and the financial plan to secure a camp for the Burlington county Scouts.

As a fitting conclusion to a most interesting and inspiring program, Avery L. Bennett, of Mount Holly, exhibited a deed of the Cookstown camp site which in 1704 was granted by the Indians to Sarah Jones. This property has come down through the generations of the Jones family to the Boy Scouts of Burlington county. The estate contains 135 acres, including a 35 acre lake, 20 acres of beautiful forests, and the residue, fields and farmland. On the property are several buildings in excellent condition, readily convertible to Boy Scout purposes.

Ideal Camp Site

With the aid of the people throughout the county, one of the finest Scout camps in the country can be developed on this picturesque and historic property, which is an ideal natural camp site.

George B. Ferrier, Jr., of Moorestown, presided as toastmaster at the opening dinner and filled this office in his usual delightfully genial manner. He welcomed the guests after the invocation was asked by the Rev. C. W. MacGeorge, of the First Baptist Church, Moorestown.

Morris K. Perinchief, of Mount Holly, in a clear, concise talk stressed the need of Scouting and the good of Scouting in Burlington county. In speaking of the manner in which Scouting meets all boy problems Mr. Perinchief said, "Scouting touches the lives of all boys and particularly those boys who have not had the proper home training and environment conducive to good citizenship. The Boy Scout takes from his training a background that will stay with him just as far as he goes upon life's highway."

The budget was read by E. Russell Perkins, of Moorestown, who explained each detail efficiently. Mr. Perkins told the gathering that considerable opposition had been met throughout the county when it was proposed that a camp site in Cochraneville, Pennsylvania be purchased. As a result, the Camp Committee made a last concentrated effort to secure one in New Jersey with the result that an excellent camp site had been located right here in Burlington county.

Fortunate in New Camp

"I feel," concluded Mr. Perkins after describing the new camp site near Cookstown, "that this camp site is splendid in every way and we are most fortunate in being able to secure it for the Burlington county scouts."

Edward A. Mechling, Moorestown, a member of the Camp Committee, told of some of the experiences, humorous and otherwise, of the Committee consisting of Frank Mellvaine, of Beverly; Avery L. Bennett, of Mount Holly, and John R. Tallis, Scout Executive, in its last minute search for a camp site.

"When I was told that we must locate a camp site by Monday in this part of the state; I said, 'That's easy, there isn't any to locate.' After an intensive survey of about 16 camp sites in two days, the site at Cookstown was located and I consider this most fortunate and a piece of rare good luck. When you stop to consider that this ideal site was located and purchased all within a week, it gives you the inspiration to go out and work for the boys."

Mr. Mechling then presented the American Legion band with a bass drum, the gift of the Scouts of the county. It was graciously accepted by Harold Phillips, of Burlington, leader of the band. The band furnished a pleasing program of music during the dinner.

High Type Men

The speaker of the evening, Perry Burgess, well known New York philanthropist, gave a most inspiring talk on the Boy Scout movement, punctuating his remarks with witty stories. During his talk Mr. Burgess said that he understood some of the highest type men in the county were interested in the Boy Scout movement and were working on this drive to secure the boys a camp.

"I have always been impressed with the type of men, Mr. Burgess said, "who are affiliated with the Boy Scouts, they are always the busiest men. I remember well the day that the United States declared war. I was at a Scout conference with Theodore Roosevelt and a group of men in New York.

"On this tremendously important day, Mr. Roosevelt was in constant demand. His telephone rang unceasingly, the papers wanted interviews, and he had many matters of grave importance to attend to. But he found time during this day to devote almost all of his time to the conference on the Boy Scout movement. He felt that it was very important to build men who would carry on the work which the men of his generation were doing.

"If it is true," continued Mr. Burgess, "that you are interested in the boys of Burlington county, now is your chance to help them. There is nothing more meritorious than your effort to secure a camp for your boys where they will have the opportunity to enjoy the full program of Scouting. Therefore, when you go out to solicit funds, you needn't apologize for it is really an opportunity to assist in this work.

"This camp can be secured for these boys, and in the years to come it will give you great satisfaction when you recall the part you played in making this possible for your Scouts of Burlington county."

Urges Support

Dr. S. Emlen Stokes, general chairman of the campaign, spoke of the benefits to be derived from the Scout program and in urging every member to get behind the drive he said, "I certainly hope that this campaign is going across and I know that everyone of you people here will do his part in making this possible."

James M. Stokes, Jr., chairman of the Moorestown Big Gifts Committee, when called upon for remarks observed, "The large gathering here in the face of the terrific heat tonight shows that a group of men in Burlington county are willing to go to work for our boys. This is certainly an incentive to those of us who have been sitting on the sidelines waiting for this campaign to gain momentum, and I am sure that we will meet with every success in this effort."

The Moorestown organization chairman, ex-Senator Emmor Roberts, said, "This is a great movement and I am glad to be a part of it."

Brian Kane, Scout Commissioner, after explaining a few of the requirements for passing the Red Cross life saving test, presented a senior badge to Harold Barton, and a badge for junior Red Cross life saving to King Farrington. He read an additional list of names of boys throughout the county who had passed the difficult tests but these two boys were chosen to represent the county because of their outstanding ability.

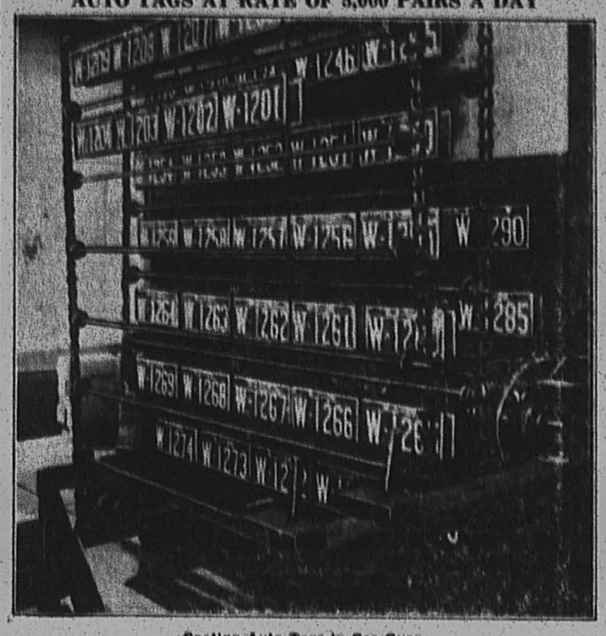
Closing Meeting, August 20

George Beebe, director of the campaign announced that the closing meeting and supper will be held at the new camp site in Cookstown next Monday, August 20 at which time final reports will be made and an opportunity presented to inspect the entire camp site.

John C. Briggs, field director, was introduced and issued a few instructions to the team organization.

During this week, committees are at work throughout the entire county and already it is rumored that several towns have gone over their quotas, signifying that the Boy Scouts have every reason to hope that their drive for $40,000 will be a great success.

AUTO TAGS AT RATE OF 5,000 PAIRS A DAY



Coating Auto Tags in Gas Oven

MANUFACTURE of automobile tags at the Trenton State Prison at the rate of 5,000 pairs a day is one of the ways in which gas is used in industry. This work is done by convict labor under the supervision of instructors, in accordance with the Civil Service laws. The State of New Jersey requires about 1,000,000 pairs of these tags for 1929, including those used for dealers, trucks, taxicabs and other motor vehicles. The tag for next year will be a dark gray background with a pure white numeral.

The installation at the prison comprises eight ovens, or two batteries, with four ovens to a battery.

The ovens are twenty-seven feet long, nine feet wide and thirteen feet high. The steel sheets for the tags are cut on stamping machines, then they proceed to the slotting and embossing machines, then to character machines to designate for what class of service they are intended.

After being taken from these machines, the tags are cleaned with an oakite solution and drenched in boiling water to remove all grease and graphite. They are now ready for the ovens, where they receive two background coatings, a numeral coating and are varnished.

SOLD CAR TO PAY FINE

James Leone, of 741 Carpenter street, Philadelphia, when arrested by Officer Robert Smires in Mount Holly for driving without a license, was in danger of being sent to jail when he was unable to pay a fine of $15 and $1 costs, imposed by Justice Kingdom on Saturday. Leone concluded to sell his car to pay the penalty. William Grady, who was called to police headquarters, said $15 was top price for the vehicle. Leone accepted the offer and turned the cash over to the justice, who remitted the cost in order to give the Philadelphian his liberty.

AL SMITH WILL VISIT SEA GIRT

Democrats of Burlington County Will Flock to Hear Presidential Candidate

Sea Girt, New Jersey's official summer headquarters, will be the mecca for the Democrats Saturday, August 25. On that day, the Democrats of the state will be hosts to Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, their candidate for the Presidency; Senator Edward I. Edwards who is a candidate to succeed himself and Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, William S. Dill, Gubernatorial candidate.

Al Smith will be the center of all attention. He will speak at 2.30 p. m. A hundred thousand people are expected to hear him. Amplifiers will dot the parade ground so that the Governor will be heard in every corner of the vast assemblage.

The Burlington County Democrats have invited everyone to go, regardless of party. It will be New Jersey's one opportunity to see and hear the Democratic standard bearer. The county delegation will go in a fleet of buses. Return tickets for the bus ride are for sale in every town in the county and at the newly opened Democratic headquarters in Mount Holly in the Kutner, Bass and Kutner building. Tickets will cost $1.50 each. Buses will start at 9.00 a. m. and will pick up passengers in every town in the county. It will be a "box lunch" affair, every pilgrim bringing his own.

Burlington County people are urged to get their tickets early, as space cannot be saved in the buses after Aug. 23. All are strongly urged not to use private automobiles, as traffic and parking arrangements will be almost impossible.

Arrangements are in charge of the Executive Committee of which Hans Froelicher, Jr., is chairman. In the disposition of tickets Mr. Froelicher will be assisted by the following:

Delanco, Beverly, Edgewater Park—Mrs. Frances Bibby, William Russell and Walter VanSciver; Riverside—Francis Grogan and Mrs. Chris. Hahle; Palmyra-Riverton — Mrs. Mervil E. Haas and John Renshaw; Moorestown—Matthew Casey, James Madden and Francis Mulraney; Mount Laurel, Alfred Hall and George Lippincott.

PALESTINE'S TELEPHONES

The use of the telephone for both private and commercial purposes is growing rapidly in Palestine, in the rural as well as in the urban districts. On January 1, 1926, there were 2,226 telephones in the country, as compared with only 684 in July, 1921.

There were 31 central exchanges in Palestine and most of the important towns and villages were linked together by over 6,925 miles of telephone wire. During the year 1925 there were more than 10,500,000 telephone calls.

There is no doubt any more as to how to pronounce the name of Tunney. The reports that he is leaving the ring with $2,000,000 in his pockets make it sure that it is pronounced to rhyme with "money!"

The Judge's Josh

"Quick, Bob, a wild cat's just run into the house with your wife!"

"Wal, he'll jes' have to get out the best way he can."

Jim: "When she gave you a kiss did you pay her back?"

Tom: "No. I wanted to keep it so I ran away."

The father, rushing up to the nurse as she emerges from the room and asking, "Well, will it use a razor or a lipstick?"

The Patient: "Doctor, I snore so loudly I wake myself up!"

The Doctor: "That is easy to overcome. Sleep in the next room."

A lady brought her little boy to school on opening day and said to the teacher:

"Little Bernie is so delicate. If he is bad—and sometimes he is—just whip the boy next to him; that will frighten him and make him behave."

CAMP COMMITTEE PLAYS HOST TO 500 ON MONDAY NIGHT

Residents From All Over Burlington County at Scout Picnic, Inspection

CAMPAIGN EXTENDED UNTIL AUGUST 25th

Expect Concentrated Drive to Raise Funds for Fine Cookstown Tract

Over 500 people of Burlington county inspected the new campsite for the Burlington County Boy Scouts at Cookstown Monday evening and enjoyed a picnic supper prepared by members of the Campaign Committee. Reports were made by the various town chairmen and at the request of the town committeemen, the Campaign for the purchase development, and equipment of the Camp will be extended until August 25.

Those visiting the campsite were most enthusiastic in their praise of the 135 acre estate with its 30 acre lake, and the Committee members pledged themselves to make every effort to secure the necessary funds for the purchase of the camp for the Burlington County Scouts. It is felt by those in charge that a concentrated drive through this week will result in the money being secured.

The camp is located just a mile and a half from Wrightstown, and Boy Scouts were stationed on the highway to welcome and direct the visitors. Old-fashioned clam chowder, corn on the cob, sandwiches, coffee and lemonade were served from five o'clock to eight by members of the Committee and friends of the boys.

The Committee, headed by George Beebe, director of the campaign, consisted of Irving Hollingshead, of Moorestown; Robert Anderson, of the Community Ice Company, Moorestown; Avery B. Bennett, of Mount Holly; Brian Kane, of Beverly; P. C. Sholl, of Burlington, and Scout Executive John R. Talis.

After the gathering had enjoyed an inspection of the beautiful campsite, the meeting was called to order by Arthur Luce, of Moorestown, who assisted as master of ceremonies and gave a most inspiring talk.

He called on the various chairmen, and each report was met by loud praise from those present. The following totals were chalked up on the scoreboard erected for the occasion:

Beverly, T. Sherman Borden, chairman, $500; Burlington, Walter Robb, chairman, $2,000; Moorestown, Emmor Roberts, chairman, $1,500; Mount Holly, Avery L. Bennett, chairman, $1,000; Riverside, Dr. R. I. Downs, chairman, $405; Riverton, Walter Wright, $105; Special Committee, Harold M. Wall, Beverly, chairman, $19, 505; total $17,815.

Although some of the towns were not organized until the latter part of the week, a few of the remaining towns in the county had nothing to report because of lack of organization, representatives from practically every town expressed a desire to have organization completed in order that each town could do its share toward securing the camp for the Burlington County Scouts during this week.

Reports from the campaign headquarters in the Community House in Moorestown show that the Committees have been working earnestly since the meeting on Monday and show a substantial increase in town totals.

SAYINGS of HERBERT HOOVER

We can count food in calories but we have no way to measure human misery.

Youth of today is pulling at the traces as never before . . . Youth must ever be the bearer of progress.

Even No Man's Land in war was apparently safer than the cradle in peace.

We have great machinery of joy, some of it destructive, some synthetic, some of it mass production.

The inheritance of wealth has been shown to have nearly always a deadening effect. Usually it kills initiative.

Here we could find forty-eight or ninety-six cabinets which could conduct our government if the necessity should arise.

We need to get the demands on Washington off the front page for at least a part of the time.

I believe that the attitude of a nation toward child welfare soon will become the test of its civilization.

It is in times of common emergency that the spirit of the small town ascends to superlative heights. If this be Babbitry, then let us have more of it.

MISS MEITZNER SETS RECORD

Riverton Girl Swims From Burlington to Camden on One Tide

Her sons and daughters have always seen to it that Riverton has been well represented in the prevailing sports of the day.

A generation ago Riverton had a baseball team that took on all comers and held its own. When yachting was the favorite sport, Riverton skippers were among the best. In tennis and golf today she acquits herself with credit.

And, when a few weeks ago, a lad on the upper Delaware said it was impossible to swim from Burlington to Camden in one tide, it was quite in the natural course of events that Maxine Meitzner, one of Riverton's fairest daughters, who had already established an enviable record as a swimmer, should accept the challenge.

Last Sunday she put it to the test and covered the 21-mile distance in 6 hours and 10 minutes.

Overcomes Cramps

Diving into the Delaware river from the Burlington wharf at 6.50 a. m., the plucky girl arrived at Cooper street wharf, Camden, at 1 p. m. Cramps on two occasions knotted her leg-muscles, but she merely gritted her teeth and worked them out, each time. During most of the swim she faced a strong southwest wind which had a tendency to make the course difficult despite the fact the tide was with her.

Miss Meitzner was handed a letter addressed to Mayor Price, as she prepared to plunge into the water. The letter was given to her by Mayor Harold B. Holmes, of Burlington.

In the absence of Mayor Price, who is encamped at Sea Girt with New Jersey National Guards, in which he holds a commission as a brigadier general, the young mermaid was greeted on her arrival by Commissioner T. Yorke Smith.

Taking the letter from beneath the rubber cap, the Riverton girl handed it to the commissioner who accepted the missive in one hand as he warmly took the hand of the girl in the other.

Felt Fine After Swim

"How do you feel" asked the acting mayor after he had congratulated her.

"Fine," she replied. "It wasn't as hard as I thought it would be. In fact, I think I'll swim back."

And the appearance of the girl affirmed her words, for she apparently suffered no ill-effects from the swim which has baffled others who have attempted it in the past.

Mayor Holmes, in his letter to Price said: "I sincerely hope that when the bearer of this letter, Miss Maxine Meitzner, of Riverton, delivers it she will have successfully completed her swim to Camden.

"In these days of good-will flights and adventures, I like to think of Miss Meitzner's act as a good-will swim and I am asking her to convey to you the best wishes of the people of Burlington to the people of Camden."

Well Known Swimmer

Miss Meitzner is well known in swimming circles of South Jersey. Last year she attempted to swim the Delaware bay, from Cape May Point to Lewes, Del., a distance of 32½ miles, but after being in the water 11 hours she was forced to give up the attempt when only a half mile from her goal because of the switching of the tide.

She holds the Camden Y. W. C. A. record for endurance swimming, having remained in the local tank for 10¼ consecutive hours. Several years ago she swam from Ocean City to Atlantic City, a distance of 15 miles, in 8 hours and her official time for swimming across the Delaware river at Riverton, a distance of 1 mile is 12 minutes.

ZISAK A. A. WINS

Schele Holds Opponents to Three Hits—Four Runs in Fourth

Partelow's Elephants had an easy time Sunday defeating Lenola A. A. by the score of 8-2.

The Elephants took the lead at the start, getting two runs the first inning and holding the lead throughout the game. Their big inning was the fourth, when four runs crossed the plate. Schele, Lochowitz, Roberts singled and Aegal cleared the sacks with a three-base hit. Schaffer's two-base hit scored Regal. Lenola's pitcher then tightened up and fanned Partelow, Rogers and "Cab" Hylton.

Paul Schele, Partelow's pitcher, held Lenola to three scattered hits, and fanned ten batsmen, while the Elephants collected ten hits from Mays. Roberts and Schaffer starred at bat for the Elephants, while Mays got two of his team's three hits.

NEW FALL STYLES IN BECOMING COATS

Among the smartest suits for fall one sees ensembles with coats of varying lengths. The full length coat is still with us and perhaps holds first place. Two extremely chic new suits from over the seas, however, possess jackets of finger length. And a third suit—an attractive little model worn by Nancy Carroll, a Paramount player—has a three-quarter length coat of quite boxy lines.

The fabric is one of the deep tones of brownish beige, the trimming a border of leopard skin. The French felt hat in a matching shade of beige has a puffy brown feather ball above one ear. Brown suede and kid shoes and beige hose complete the costume.

REPUBLICAN RALLY SEPT. 10

Prominent Speakers to Attend Picnic Sponsored by County Committee

Prominent Republicans of New Jersey will attend a basket picnic to be held under the auspices of the County Republican Committee at the Green Hill Farm of Henry H. Albertson, on the Oxmead road, near the Masonic Home, from five to eight o'clock on the evening of Monday, September 10th. All Republican voters of the county are invited.

Among those who will be present, a number of whom will deliver addresses, are Chairman Mott and Mrs. Baker, vice-chairman, of the State Republican Committee; Hamilton F. Kean, candidate for United States Senator; Congressman Isaac Bacharach; Morgan F. Larson, candidate for Governor; Senator Clifford R. Powell, Assemblyman Marcus W. Newcomb, former Senator Emmor Roberts, and former Judge Harold B. Wells and Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, members of the State Republican Committee.

Freeholder Charles R. Stout, chairman of the County Republican Committee, will preside at the meeting.

The committee that is arranging details of the picnic and meeting is composed of Assemblyman Newcomb, James C. McCormick, Frank McIlvain, Harold Price, Miss Caroline Haines, Joseph B. Fleetwood and Mrs. Joseph Evans.

The Green Hill Farm is noted as having been the home of the first colonial Governor of New Jersey, Samuel Jennings; also as having been the land upon which Indian Chief Ockanickon at one time made his home.

C. OF C. PICNIC AT CAMP LINGOHOCKEN

Riverton and Palmyra Chambers Will Join in Outing August 29

Members of the Riverton and Palmyra Chambers of Commerce will participate in a combination basket picnic at Lingohocken Camp, near Egganville, Wednesday afternoon, August 29. The Riverton Chamber took a similar outing to Lingohocken last summer and everybody had a splendid time. Cars will leave Riverton station and P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, at 2.30. Transportation will be provided for those who do not drive cars. Basket lunches will be taken, but coffee, iced tea, peaches and ice cream will be supplied free. Those intending to go should notify Joseph T. Evans, Riverton, and Walter D. Lamon, Palmyra, by the 27th.

PALMYRA GIRLS IN DOUBLE ELOPEMENT

The two cutest blondes in Palmyra are brides! Miss Edith Garwood and Miss V. E. Simons, both 19, who earned their names as "cutest blondes" at the Palmyra High School, were principals in a double elopement at Media last Friday.

Miss Garwood became the bride of Frank Wilkins, 19, a popular Moorestown youth, and Miss Simons' bridegroom is Frank F. Creely, of Merchantville.

The two couples have been going everywhere as a "foursome," their friends said. They left home Friday morning telling their parents they were going to work as usual in Philadelphia, where all four are employed. Instead they motored to Media and each couple acted as attendants for the other at the wedding ceremony.

Parental blessings were bestowed upon the young people upon their return home.

FOOTBALL MEETING FRIDAY EVENING

A meeting has been called for Friday evening, August 24, at eight o'clock, at the Legion Home, for all those interested in football.

The Palmyra Community Movement is anxious to give Palmyra some good football this year and it is absolutely necessary to know as soon as possible whether there is enough material in town to make a team.

The committee in charge consists of James Hartley, Carl Thomas and Joseph Stack. If there is to be a team a coach will have to be secured and a manager elected, so candidates should present themselves this Friday evening.

Let everybody come out and boost football.

WOULD-BE TROOPERS TESTED LAST WEEK

Over Three Hundred Candidates Seek Places on State Police Force

More than three hundred candidates seeking admission to the training class of the state police school which opens September 1, reported to Colonel Schwarzkopf, at the Capitol last week, for mental and physical examinations.

Those successful in the tests last week and have satisfactory moral character, will begin three months of training at the school at Wilburtha.

As a rule, according to Colonel Schwarzkopf, the entry class usually comprises about forty men, about half of whom graduate.

Abram Justin, twenty-five, Stillwater, a recruit at Wilburtha, was injured seriously when he tumbled from his horse as it slipped during riding instruction. The horse trampled on Justin.

RIVERTON JUNIORS WIN FROM CATHOLIC CLUB SENIOR TEAM

Agile Youngsters Emerge From Unequal Fight With Best End of Score

SECOND TEAM'S SKILL SURPRISE TO VISITORS

On Saturday, August 18th, the Riverton A. A. Juniors defeated the Assumption Catholic Club Senior Team, 6-3.

There was a slight mistake in scheduling the game, for when the visitors arrived they were men ranging in age from 25 to 35 years. One of their men remarked that if they had known they were to play against kids they wouldn't have come, but now that they were here it would be good batting practice. But the Juniors gave them the surprise of their lives.

Three umpires were used on the bases, the first one (Mowers) didn't satisfy the visitors, so they put a fellow named Shaw in Bowers' place. Bartley singled in the seventh and Reeves was supposed to have forced him at second, but Shaw claimed Bartley interfered and called Reeves out. With the aid of Mr. Reeves Shaw was given the gate and Stockton replaced him.

Lockowitz made his debut with the Juniors, and was thrown out at first when a Japanese beetle lighted on his nose. (They must know he works for the Government.) Bartley starred at bat, while Bottger and Terrell fielded brilliantly.

Broderson was a little off form, due to the size of the opponents; he dropped two at the plate, but made up for it by driving in three runs.

The Game Play By Play

First Inning—Visitors — Fredericks fanned, Spolnick singled, and stole second, Cornish lifted to Reeves, La Nar singled, Neale whiffed. Juniors—Reeves singled, Bottger singled, scoring both. Botger going on to third; Broderson sacrificed Bottger home, Perkins, fanned, Terrell flied to right.

Second Inning—Ross singled, Roid forced Ross, Levin lined to Bottger, Masshews out, Terrell to Bottger. Folke fanned, Sloan fouled to Spolnick, Coles skied to left.

Third Inning—Fredericks struck out, Spolnick singled, Cornish hit into a double play, Botger to Bartley. Bartley doubled to center, Reeves lined to first, Botger hoisted to right Broderson singled, scoring Bartley Perkins fanned.

Fourth Inning—La Nar and Neale thrown out at first, Ross flied to Sloan. Terrell walked, Foulke struck out, Sloan forced Terrell, Coles lifted to Cornish.

Fifth Inning—Roid and Levin singled, Masshews sacrificed, Fredericks hit to Coles, who threw to Broderson in an effort to catch Roid, but "Wild Will" was crowded into dropping the ball. The same thing happened when Spolnick made an infield single and Bartley threw to home, scoring Levin; Broderson threw wild to second, Fredericks scoring, Cornish fanned. Foulke threw to La Nar out at first, Bartley singled, Reeves forced Bartley, Botger singled, Broderson sacrificed Reeves home, Lockowitz for Perkins was thrown out at first.

Sixth Inning—Neale doubled, Ross, Roid and Levin out at first. Terrell fanned, Foulke lifted to short stop, Sloan walked, Coles was robbed of hit when Ross snatched his would-be triple out of the atmosphere.

Seventh Inning—Coles hit Fredericks, placing him on first; after Masshews had lifted to Bottger, Spolnick hit into a double play, Bartley to Bottger, Bartley singled, Reeves hit into a fluke double play, Levin to Fredericks to Cornish, with the aid of Shaw, the umpire; Bottger fanned.

Eighth Inning—Cornish singled, La Nar forced Cornish and stole second, Neale hit into a double paly, Terrell to Foulke, Broderson lined to second, Spolnick threw out Locky, La Nar threw out Terrell.

Ninth Inning—Ross lifted to Foulke; Roid and Levin were out at first.

REASON ENOUGH

He is a man of means, a well-groomed fellow who has reached what one might call the favorable fifties. He spends quite a lot of his time glancing around at his factories. He lives, however, in the smallest town in which he owns a factory. Recently while he was visiting a rather lace curtain friend of his the friend remarked: "But why do you stay in such a one-horse town?"

"Perhaps because I happen to be the horse," he replied modestly.

FLOWERS WANTED FOR SHUT-INS

Appeal for Flowers to be Left at Camden Terminal

Mr. and Mrs., and Miss Rivertonian, will you not share some of your lovely flowers with those who seldom have any?

All summer a flower booth has been maintained at the Pennsylvania Railroad terminal in Camden. Each day, one or two ladies from neighboring towns have been there until noon to receive and bunch the flowers for distribution to the shut-ins and the sick in five institutions in Camden.

If, any day, those who use the trains would leave flowers as they pass through the P. R. R. terminal they will be much appreciated. However, will you please remember that Riverton is responsible for the booth the weeks of August 27-31 inclusive.

If flowers are picked late the night before, and placed deep in water out of doors, they will carry better and keep for a much longer time than when picked in the morning just before train time.

Those who do not use the trains and have flowers to share will please telephone Mrs. Francis A. Denninger, telephone, Riverton 707, for instructions.

MEMORIAL PARK SWIMMING HOLE

A Few Improvements Would Make It Finest Natural Pool in Country

Any person who strolls around to the pool to cool off, by either resting on the benches, provided by grateful parents, or taking a plunge himself, cannot but be deeply impressed by the wholesome pleasure and enthusiasm of the younger generation and our future citizens. It takes a very short and selfish vision not to see what a worthwhile improvement would mean to our coming generation of citizens, as an investment to attract and hold these children home by giving them the best swimming pool in the country. It would be hard to estimate the returns in health, public pride and good citizenship. The possibilities are worthy of the most serious consideration and action of our Borough.

TO HOLD BIG LIFE SAVING EXHIBITION

Red Cross Demonstration and Contest at Moorestown Community House Pool, Aug. 28

Tuesday, August 28, at the Moorestown Community House pool, starting at 8 p. m., there will be exhibition and Red Cross life saving contest to be given by the champion senior team of Burlington county.

County Examiner Harshorne and his team will insure a pleasant and instructive evening. The object of this exhibition is to give a clear idea of the work which has been accomplished by the Red Cross in the preventing of loss of life by drowning.

For the past two weeks several aspirants of the Moorestown pool have been practicing to pass the Junior Red Cross tests. Last Thursday the class of four, Ruth Matchett, Jack Richie, Carl Graham and Francis McCourt, passed the test with high honors.

Mr. Hartshorne declared that it was the best class that he had put through this year. Their respective scores were 86½, 96, 92, 92¼. A score of 75 is required to pass and 100 is the maximum score attainable.

CHILD INJURED

Riverton Girl Suffers Broken Leg When Hit by Auto

Little Esther Lefford was sitting on the curb early Sunday evening in front of her home at Broad and Cinnaminson streets, Riverton. John White approached with several people in his car on their way to church. The child jumped up and becoming confused, ran directly in front of the car. Mr. White made an effort to avoid striking her, but could not.

He took the little girl to Dr. Mark, who made an examination and advised that she be taken to a hospital. Mr. White took her to the West Jersey. There it was found that her left leg was fractured, but it is thought that she was not otherwise injured. She was brought home in the Palmyra ambulance Tuesday afternoon.

PREVENT SUN BURN

Into a fourth cup of water put ten drops of glycerine and apply to the skin with a soft cloth. Leave on five minutes then remove gently, and you will find this a good protection against sun burn.

Ages of Candidates

There is less than a year's difference in the ages of Hoover and Smith. The former will be 54 this month. Smith is seven months his senior.

The President oldest at the time of his inauguration was William H. Harrison (68) and the youngest was Roosevelt (42).

Others in their sixties when inaugurated were Adams, Jackson, Taylor and Buchanan. Others in their forties were Polk, Pierce, Garfield Grant, and Cleveland.

Nineteen of our Presidents were in their fifties when sworn into office. As for the present vice-presidential nominees, Curtis is 68, and Robinson will be 56 this month.

JUNIORS LOSE TO ST. CASIMIR'S

Second Game Dropped This Season. Won Sixteen

The Riverton A. A. Juniors were defeated 6-5 on Tuesday night by the St. Casimer Club, of Cambridge. Smith pitched for the Juniors until the fourth inning, when he was relieved by Coles. Smith pitched good ball, but had no support, the team making four costly errors in back of him.

The home team were three runs behind in the last inning and staged a rally that fell one run short of tying the score. Coles was thrown out at first, Lockley made a fluke single, Bartley singled, Reeves flied to left, Bottger singled, scoring Locky and Bartley; Broderson singled, placing Bottger on third with the tying run, but Yonsik, who relieved Snow at this point, fanned Sloan for the third out.

The Juniors have thus far won sixteen and lost two games—an enviable record.

COMMUNICATED

To the Editor,
Dear Sir:—

I have read the article titled "Favor Municipal Water System" in your paper of August 15, 1928, and I note that members of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce infer (in fact state) that we have refused to give them proper data regarding our accounting.

When they stated that they wished to make an audit, I questioned very much whether they realized the magnitude of this. Would it not be well to start from our last report, which we will forward them? The inference of this whole article is that we have been concealing or have a desire to conceal something. In the interest of the Public, I will say that we have, and the public should have, every confidence in the N. J. Utilities Commission, where our reports are always on file for the benefit of the public.

I read the argument in favor of a municipally owned plant, and have no comments to make regarding it. That would seem to rest with the officials of the Borough, but when these gentlemen state that they intend to put in a municipal plant more efficient than ours, that greatly concerns us. Perhaps they have some knowledge that we do not possess in regard to what constitutes efficiency, so if they have such a proposition, we surely would be much interested, for we are under the impression that we have one of the most efficient water plants in South Jersey.

We have one of the purest water supplies in lower Jersey. We have a pump capacity of three times our consumption. We have well capacity of two or three times our consumption. We have purchased large parcels of ground on Bank Avenue for the purpose of protecting our supply from contamination—ground that the Utilities Commission will not allow us to consider the value of for rate bearing purposes. We have a storage capacity of 575,000 gallons, a greater storage capacity than Riverside, Delanco, Beverly, Edgewater Park, Burlington and Bordentown combined. In fact, we have a greater storage capacity than all towns and cities between Pensauken Creek and Trenton. In addition will say that our Company has been cited in the N. J. Utilities Commission's Annual Report as a model company, and when the gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce talk of putting in a more efficient plant, we are very much interested, for we can assure them singled and Regal cleared the sacks that we have resorted to every means that could be procured to effect economy.

Respectfully,
RIVERTON & PALMYRA WATER COMPANY,
CHARLES A. WRIGHT,
President.

MRS. HERBERT W. RICHMAN

Elizabeth, wife of Herbert W. Richman and daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Mason, died on Saturday.

Besides her husband and parents, Mrs. Richman is survived by four daughters: Eleanor, Dorothy, Elizabeth and Wilberta.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at her late residence, 623 Linden Avenue, conducted by the Rev. S. J. Pitt, district superintendent, assisted by the Rev. John Goorley, of Trenton; the Rev. Harry Evaul, of Baltimore, and the Rev. J. W. Lee, of Palmyra. Interment was made at Arlington Cemetery, under the direction of the John Crawford Co., of Camden.

To extract a splinter easily, fill a large-necked bottle nearly full with boiling water, place the injured part over the mouth of the bottle and press gently.

MAN, WOMAN DIE IN MAPLE SHADE CROSSING CRASH

Reunion of Brother and Sister, Brooklyn Woman, Has Tragic Ending

7-YEAR-OLD CHILD SUFFERS INJURIES

Wreckage of Auto on Cowcatcher Aids in Stopping Unmanned Train

The happy reunion of a brother and sister came to a quick and tragic end when the couple were killed by a train at Maple Shade last Friday evening.

The victims were David McMillan, High street, Maple Shade and Mrs. Mary McKenna, Forty-fourth street, Brooklyn. They were instantly killed when an automobile driven by Mr. McMillan was struck by a freight train at the Fork Landing Road grade crossing in Maple Shade about 7.45 Friday evening.

Gladys, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. McKenna, who accompanied them, suffered injuries and shock. She was rushed to Cooper Hospital, Camden, where she will probably have to remain for the next two weeks.

Mrs. McKenna had not seen her brother for seven years. She made the trip from Brooklyn to Philadelphia by train. Mr. McMillan met her in Philadelphia with his motor car and they were on their way to his home when the accident occurred.

As the train neared the crossing the fireman, seeing that the crash was inevitable, and fearing that the impact would derail the locomotive, jumped. He escaped serious injury.

Engineer Stunned

As the freight smashed into the motorcar the engineer was jolted from his seat and stunned. With no guiding hand at the throttle, the train thundered on.

Protruding from the cowcatcher was the wrecked automobile. One hundred and fifty feet from the crossing the wreckage, extending outward, crashed into a freight platform. The train roared along, its speed undiminished. A hundred and fifty yards beyond, the wreckage came in contact with a signal device that automatically brought the driverless train to a stop.

Mangled beyond recognition, rescuers dragged the forms of a man and woman from the wreckage on the cowcatcher. Back near the crossing the body of the little girl was picked up.

It is believed that McMillan was blinded by the heavy rain falling at the time of the accident and that he did not see the lights nor hear the bells protecting the railroad crossing.

Wreckage was strewn along the right of way for a distance of 1000 feet and parts of the bodies of the victims were picked up at different points.

Auto Going North

The automobile was going north on the Fork Landing road and the train was east bound.

Coroner Benjamin Farner, Burlington, could not be located after the accident, and Police Recorder A. M. Addison had sworn in a coroner's jury and was preparing to conduct an inquest when the coroner arrived shortly before midnight.

The Maple Shade man was 52 years old and his sister was 47.

A wife and one daughter survive Mr. McMillan. Funeral services for the victims were held at the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Moorestown, Sunday morning. Interment was made in New Calvary cemetery, Marlton.

Shortly before the accident lightning struck the traffic control light at the intersection of Main street and Fork Landing Road. Officer Sine, of the Maple Shade police department who was on duty, narrowly escaped injuries when he jumped from the booth. The signal was ripped loose from its supports and fell to the ground. The damage is estimated at $200.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN

In a little neck of woodland along Pensauken Creek, which is known as Kurtz's village, far back from the main highway, lived a monkey known as Sir Sidney.

Sir Sidney at one time made his home at Kurtz's little store at Pensauken Creek bridge, on the main highway. He was known by a number of motorists, who would often stop and feed him. Sir Sidney became frightened at the machines that passed and it was finally necessary to move him back to the little woodland along the creek. He spent a number of days in peace and comfort back there until he disappeared.

Whether it was the call of the jungle or the mosquitoes that caused him to leave we do not know, but if any one knows of Sir Sidney's whereabouts, kindly notify Mr. Kurtz, at Pensauken Creek and the bridge.

WATERWAYS CONVENTION

Mayor Wimer has received a letter from the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association stating that the annual convention of the Association will be held in Cape May from September 5th to 8th. He is requested to appoint a delegation from Palmyra to attend the convention and wishes to know if anyone is interested. If so advise the mayor and he will supply the necessary credentials.

EDITORS PRAISE HOOVER POLICIES

Speech of Acceptance Has Made Deep Impression Upon the Nation

Washington, D. C., August 21—Overshadowing all other topics of political discussion, the acceptance speech of Herbert Hoover has made a deeper impression upon the nation than any campaign utterance for many years, according to reports here from all sections of the country.

For the first time in history, the views of a presidential nominee have reached a majority of the voters in their entirety. The common sense and broad comprehension generally attributed to Mr. Hoover were plainly evident in the expression of his attitude toward the great public questions, most of the country's leading newspapers agree. His remarkable grasp of the functions and purposes of the Federal government and his understanding of national desires have been remarked by both Republican and Democratic editorial writers. Party leaders are convinced that he has charted a course which will help the Republican ticket everywhere this fall, whether in national, state or local contests.

The constructive program which he outlined for agriculture brought an immediate response from fifteen farm editors, who praised the nominee for the wise attitude he has taken toward the farmers' problems. They were quick to appreciate that Mr. Hoover has laid the foundation for not one, but a series of legislative remedies to remove agriculture disadvantages.

Vrooman Hoover Booster

Confidence in his ability to proceed successfully in fulfilling his pledges was expressed by the entire group of editors, who regard his assurance of ample funds for Federal financing of the stabilization program as a further indication of sincerity. The swing of middle western farmers to Hoover received a powerful impetus even before his views were known in the declaration of Carl Vrooman, of Bloomington, Ill., for the Republican ticket. Vrooman has been the staunchest of Democrats, and was assistant secretary of agriculture during both of President Wilson's terms. He drafted the first farm relief bill introduced in Congress, which passed both houses by a two-thirds vote, but it died in conference at the very end of the Wilson administration.

In a letter to James W. Good, western manager of the Republican campaign, Vrooman condemned the Democratic effort to beguile the farmers without pledging them any actual assistance.

Assurance that the Republican nominees have no cause for apprehension about the western states have been pouring into G. O. P. headquarters at Washington and Chicago. Oklahoma, Minnesota, North Dakota, New Mexico and Illinois report that the rank and file of farmers are indicating their customary preference for the Republican ticket, and Mr. Hoover's pledges are expected to encourage that trend.

Speaking Engagements

Senator Curtis, whose early background was the western frontier, will fraternize with the east during the early stages of his campaign. Several speaking engagements in eastern states during August and September are being arranged for him. The Republican speaker's bureau at New York city will invite a number of western Hoover and Curtis supporters to speak in eastern states, to tell voters why the west is ready to back the Republican candidates. Included in the list are Representative Free of California, who represents Hoover's own district in Congress; Representative Florence Kahn of San Francisco and Senator James E. Watson of Indiana.

Numerous groups of foreign born voters are lining up for Hoover and Curtis as the campaign gathers speed. Strong Hoover sentiment is reported among voters of Slavic origin in New York city, who recall with gratitude the food and medical relief work conducted by the Republican nominee among their kinfolk in 1921-23. Citizens of Greek ancestry, of whom there are 221,000 in the United States, are reported by their spokesmen to be overwhelmingly Republican.

A popular campaign sidelight is the demand for the new automobile plates, bearing the slogan "Hoover for President" in dark blue on a buff background. The plates are oval in shape, and are to be fastened on radiators, so they will not be confused with license plates. Several million of them will be distributed.

Moorestown Star Leads Golf Pros

Three New Jersey and one Philadelphia golfer will represent the Philadelphia district in the national professional championship tournament at Baltimore beginning October 1.

This was decided Tuesday in the district trials at Riverton Country Club, played over seventy-two holes, when George Smith, youthful Moorestown Field Club pro, led the big field with a score of 144.

Clarence Hackney, of Atlantic City Country Club; P. Boyle, Linwood Golf Club, Atlantic City, and J. Schuble, Lu Lu Country Club, Philadelphia, tied with 149.

The Moorestown star had two sterling rounds of 72.

OAKLAND CO. SET RECORD IN JULY

New High Sales Figures Have Been Established Every Month Since First of Year

Continuing the record setting pace which has resulted in new high sales figures every month since the first of the year, the Oakland Motor Car Company sold a total of 22,704 Oakland and Pontiac Sixes during July, according to announcement by Bare Motor Sales, Moorestown dealer.

This compares with 16,782 units sold in July, 1927, or a gain of 35½ per cent.; and brings the total of new Oaklands and Pontiacs shipped since January 1 to 184,252 cars, Mr. Bare said. The corresponding performance for the first seven months of 1927 was 112,888 units, or a gain of 63 per cent. this year over last.

In view of the unusual record of the company to date, Mr. Bare declared that the year 1928 promises to be by a wide margin the most successful in the 22-year existence, of the Oakland Motor Car Company.

"Our combined output of Oakland and Pontiac cars in 1927 was 192,906 units," he said. By the end of July of this year our sales had mounted to 184,252 new cars, leaving less than 9,000 units to go until we surpass the entire output of last year, which in turn was forty per cent. better than in 1926.

COUNTY FIREMEN RANCOCAS GUESTS

200 Smoke-Eaters From 29 Different Companies Take Part

The August meeting of the Burlington County Firemen's Association was held in the house of the Rancocas Fire Company No. 1. President David A. Brotherton, of Burlington, was in charge. The address of welcome was made by Henry W. Leeds, secretary of the Rancocas Company.

Two hundred firemen from 29 companies were present, with delegations from the Rialling Hose, Mercer County, and from Berlin and Alco, Camden County. The several committees of the association reported on their work. Edward H. Flagg, Jr., of Riverton, was endorsed for re-election as vice president from Burlington County of the New Jersey State Firemen's Association at the annual meeting in Atlantic City in September.

The association went on record by a resolution to be presented at the same convention for the quick publication of the pamphlet of laws of New Jersey concerning fire matters which has been promised by the State Association for several years.

There was a lengthy discussion on the collection of the two per cent. tax from foreign insurance companies doing business in the State and also when an active fireman becomes an exempt.

The Delran Fire Company No. 2, was praised for its progress in building its new house at Riverside Park and its early purchase of a pumper. The company was organized February 23, 1928. Neptune Hose Company, No. 5, of Burlington, reported that its new pumper would be housed Saturday, September 8, with appropriate ceremonies.

Following the meeting a lunch was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Rancocas. The next meeting will be held in the Community House, Bordentown, Wednesday, September 19, as the guests of the Bordentown Fire Department.

DISEASE KILLS SIX HORSES IN COUNTY

Fear of Botalism Driving Farmers to Have Their Animals Inoculated; Mount Holly "Vet" Rushed

Botalism has killed six horses in one section of Burlington county within the past few days. Fear of an epidemic is driving farmers to have their animals inoculated.

A Mount Holly veterinarian already has more requests to inoculate animals than he can take care of. The serum, obtained from the State Board of Health, is said to be rare.

Within a week, Leon Bush, of Pemberton, lost two horses by the disease. Others who have lost single animals in the same period are Victor Bush and George Harker, also of Pemberton; Robert Hendrickson, Buddtown, and Joseph Worrell, Fayrestown.

The disease gives little warning of its attacks and equine victims seldom recover. The horse becomes very sick at once and death usually follows in a little while. Where the animal does not quickly succumb, it is usually the custom to kill it to end it sufferings. Veterinarians depend upon prevention rather than cure.

GREAT RECEPTION FOR NEW BUICK

Production of 12,000 Silver Anniversary Models Daily Not Meeting Demand

Moorestown Motor Company, local dealer, proudly points to the fact that numerous sales and a number of unfilled orders demonstrates the great reception the new Silver Anniversary Buick has been given in Moorestown and vicinity.

And the new models have been accorded the same hearty reception throughout the country. Despite capacity production of 1300 cars a day, the factory cannot turn out enough of the new models to meet the ever-increasing demand.

Buick is a product of one of the pioneer automobile builders. That it has lived up to its claim, "When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them," has been proven by the Silver Anniversary line. The new machines incorporate all of the experience gained in building more than two million cars in the past twenty-five years.

One authority says, "The chief reason for its achievement of the greatest popularity ever enjoyed by an automobile, is due to Buick's valve-in-head motor. This is the type engine which has established records on land, water and in the air. It is also noted for its economy and durability. In airplane engines, where power compared with weight of engine is the most vital factor, are of the valve-in-head type."

Buick has retained all its fundamental principles throughout the new model. Triple-sealed chassis, of which the triple-sealed engine is one of the most important features retained.

Fisher has gone another step farther and has introduced a body which is one of the most beautiful, roomy and comfortable offered in cars of Buick's size today. The interiors suggest the extravagance of modern homes.

Adjustabe front seats and the adjustable steering gear are big aids to the driver. The instrument panel is both quiet and dignified pattern. The cars are equipped with Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers and spring covers.

A Mount Holly veterinarian already has more requests to inoculate animals than he can take care of. The serum, obtained from the State Board of Health, is said to be rare.

Within a week, Leon Bush, of Pemberton, lost two horses by the disease. Others who have lost single animals in the same period are Victor Bush and George Harker, also of Pemberton; Robert Hendrickson, Buddtown, and Joseph Worrell, Eayrestown.

The disease gives little warning of its attacks and equine victims seldom recover. The horse becomes very sick at once and death usually follows in a little while. Where the animal does not quickly succumb, it is usually the custom to kill it to end it sufferings. Veterinarians depend upon prevention rather than cure.

GREAT RECEPTION FOR NEW BUICK

Production of 12,000 Silver Anniversary Models Daily Not Meeting Demand

Moorestown Motor Company, local dealer, proudly points to the fact that numerous sales and a number of unfilled orders demonstrates the great reception the new Silver Anniversary Buick has been given in Moorestown and vicinity.

And the new models have been accorded the same hearty reception throughout the country. Despite capacity production of 1200 cars a day, the factory cannot turn out enough of the new models to meet the ever-increasing demand.

Buick is a product of one of the pioneer automobile builders. That it has lived up to its claim, "When better automobiles are built, Buick will build them," has been proven by the Silver Anniversary line. The new machines incorporate all of the experience gained in building more than two million cars in the past twenty-five years.

One authority says, "The chief reason for its achievement of the greatest popularity ever enjoyed by an automobile, is due to Buick's valve-in-head motor. This is the type engine which has established records on land, water and in the air. It is also noted for its economy and durability. In airplane engines, where power compared with weight of engine is the most vital factor, are of the valve-in-head type."

Buick has retained all its fundamental principles throughout the new model. Triple-sealed chassis, of which the triple-sealed engine is one of the most important features retained.

Fisher has gone another step farther and has introduced a body which is one of the most beautiful, roomy and comfortable offered in cars of Buick's size today. The interiors suggest the extravagance of modern homes.

Adjustabe front seats and the adjustable steering gear are big aids to the driver. The instrument panel is both quiet and dignified pattern. The cars are equipped with Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers and spring covers.

CAMP COMMITTEE PLAYS HOST TO 500 ON MONDAY NIGHT

Expect Concentrated Drive to Raise Funds for Fine Cookstown Tract

Over 500 people of Burlington county inspected the new campsite for the Burlington County Boy Scouts at Cookstown Monday evening and enjoyed a picnic supper prepared by members of the Campaign Committee. Reports were made by the various town chairmen and at the request of the town committeemen, the Campaign for the purchase development, and equipment of the Camp will be extended until August 25.

Those visiting the campsite were most enthusiastic in their praise of the 135 acre estate with its 30 acre lake, and the Committee members pledged themselves to make every effort to secure the necessary funds for the purchase of the camp for the Burlington County Scouts. It is felt by those in charge that a concentrated drive through this week will result in the money being secured.

The camp is located just a mile and a half from Wrightstown, and Boy Scouts were stationed on the highway to welcome and direct the visitors. Old-fashioned clam chowder, corn on the cob, sandwiches, coffee and lemonade were served from five o'clock to eight by members of the Committee and friends of the boys.

The Committee, headed by George Beebe, director of the campaign, consisted of Irving Hollingshead, of Moorestown; Robert Anderson, of the Community Ice Company, Moorestown; Avery B. Bennett, of Mount Holly; Brian Kane, of Beverly; P. C. Sholl, of Burlington, and Scout Executive John R. Tallis.

After the gathering had enjoyed an inspection of the beautiful campsite, the meeting was called to order by Arthur Luce, of Moorestown, who assisted as master of ceremonies and gave a most inspiring talk.

He called on the various chairmen, and each report was met by loud praise from those present. The following totals were chalked up on the scoreboard erected for the occasion:

Beverly, T. Sherman Borden, chairman, $300; Burlington, Walter Robb, chairman, $2,000; Moorestown, Elmor Roberts, chairman, $1,500; Mount Holly, Avery L. Bennett, chairman, $1,000; Riverside, Dr. R. I. Downs, chairman, $405; Riverton, Walter Wright, $105; Special Committee, Harold M. Wall, Beverly, chairman, $12, 505; total $17,815.

Although some of the towns were not organized until the latter part of the week, a few of the remaining towns in the county had nothing to report because of lack of organization, representatives from practically every town expressed a desire to have organization completed in order that each town could do its share toward securing the camp for the Burlington County Scouts during this week.

Reports from the campaign headquarters in the Community House in Moorestown show that the Committees have been working earnestly since the meeting on Monday and show a substantial increase in town totals.

SAYINGS of HERBERT HOOVER

We can count food in calories but we have no way to measure human misery.

Youth of today is pulling at the traces as never before . . . Youth must ever be the bearer of progress.

Even No Man's Land in war was apparently safer than the cradle in peace.

We have great machinery of joy, some of it destructive, some synthetic, some of it mass production.

The inheritance of wealth has been shown to have nearly always a deadening effect. Usually it kills initiative.

Here we could find forty-eight or ninety-six cabinets which could conduct our government if the necessity should arise.

We need to get the demands on Washington off the front page for at least a part of the time.

I believe that the attitude of a nation toward child welfare soon will become the test of its civilization.

It is in times of common emergency that the spirit of the small town ascends to superlative heights. If this be Babbitry, then let us have more of it.

MISS MEITZNER SETS RECORD

Riverton Girl Swims From Burlington to Camden on One Tide

Her sons and daughters have always seen to it that Riverton has been well represented in the prevailing sports of the day.

A generation ago Riverton had a baseball team that took on all comers and held its own. When yachting was the favorite sport, Riverton skippers were among the best. In tennis and golf today she acquits herself with credit.

And, when a few weeks ago, a lad on the upper Delaware said it was impossible to swim from Burlington to Camden in one tide, it was quite in the natural course of events that Maxine Meitzner, one of Riverton's fairest daughters, who had already established an enviable record as a swimmer, should accept the challenge.

Last Sunday she put it to the test and covered the 21-mile distance in 6 hours and 10 minutes.

Overcomes Cramps

Diving into the Delaware river from the Burlington wharf at 6.50 a. m., the plucky girl arrived at Cooper street wharf, Camden, at 1 p. m. Cramps on two occasions knotted her leg-muscles, but she merely gritted her teeth and worked them out, each time. During most of the swim she faced a strong southwest wind which had a tendency to make the course difficult despite the fact the tide was with her.

Miss Meitzner was handed a letter addressed to Mayor Price, as she prepared to plunge into the water. The letter was given to her by Mayor Harold B. Holmes, of Burlington.

In the absence of Mayor Price, who is encamped at Sea Girt with New Jersey National Guards, in which he holds a commission as a brigadier general, the young mermaid was greeted on her arrival by Commissioner T. Yorke Smith.

Taking the letter from beneath the rubber cap, the Riverton girl handed it to the commissioner who accepted the missive in one hand as he warmly took the hand of the girl in the other.

Felt Fine After Swim

"How do you feel" asked the acting mayor after he had congratulated her.

"Fine," she replied, "It wasn't as hard as I thought it would be. In fact, I think I'll swim back."

And the appearance of the girl affirmed her words, for she apparently suffered no ill-effects from the swim which has baffled others who have attempted it in the past.

Mayor Holmes, in his letter to Price said: "I sincerely hope that when the bearer of this letter, Miss Maxine Meitsner, of Riverton, delivers it she will have successfully completed her swim to Camden.

"In these days of good-will flights and adventures, I like to think of Miss Meitzner's act as a good-will swim and I am asking her to convey to you the best wishes of the people of Burlington to the people of Camden."

Well Known Swimmer

Miss Meitzner is well known in swimming circles of South Jersey. Last year she attempted to swim the Delaware bay, from Cape May Point to Lewes, Del., a distance of 32½ miles, but after being in the water 11 hours she was forced to give up the attempt when only a half mile from her goal because of the switching of the tide.

She holds the Camden Y. W. C. A. record for endurance swimming, having remained in the local tank for 10½ consecutive hours. Several years ago she swam from Ocean City to Atlantic City, a distance of 15 miles, in 8 hours and her official time for swimming across the Delaware river at Riverton, a distance of 1 mile is 12 minutes.

ZISAK A. A. WINS

Schele Holds Opponents to Three Hits—Four Runs in Fourth

Partelow's Elephants had an easy time Sunday defeating Lenola A. A. by the score of 8-2.

The Elephants took the lead at the start, getting two runs the first inning and holding the lead throughout the game. Their big inning was the fourth, when four runs crossed the plate. Schele, Lochowitz, Roberts singled and Aegal cleared the sacks with a three-base hit. Schaffer's two-base hit scored Regal. Lenola's pitcher then tightened up and fanned Partelow, Rogers and "Cab" Hylton.

Paul Schele, Partelow's pitcher, held Lenola to three scattered hits, and fanned ten batsmen, while the Elephants collected ten hits from Mays. Roberts and Schaffer starred at bat for the Elephants, while Mays got two of his team's three hits.

NEW FALL STYLES IN BECOMING COATS

Among the smartest suits for fall one sees ensembles with coats of varying lengths. The full length coat is still with us and perhaps holds first place. Two extremely chic new suits from over the seas, however, possess jackets of finger length. And a third suit—an attractive little model worn by Nancy Carroll, a Paramount player—has a three-quarter length coat of quite boxy lines.

The fabric is one of the deep tones of brownish beige, the trimming a border of leopard skin. The French felt hat in a matching shade of beige has a puffy brown feather ball above one ear. Brown suede and kid shoes and beige hose complete the costume.

REPUBLICAN RALLY SEPT. 10

Prominent Speakers to Attend Picnic Sponsored by County Committee

Prominent Republicans of New Jersey will attend a basket picnic to be held under the auspices of the County Republican Committee at the Green Hill Farm of Henry H. Albertson, on the Oxmead road, near the Masonic Home, from five to eight o'clock on the evening of Monday, September 10th. All Republican voters of the county are invited.

Among those who will be present, a number of whom will deliver addresses, are Chairman Mott and Mrs. Baker, vice-chairman, of the State Republican Committee; Hamilton F. Kean, candidate for United States Senator; Congressman Isaac Bachrarach; Morgan F. Larson, candidate for Governor; Senator Clifford R. Powell, Assemblyman Marcus W. Newcomb, former Senator Emmor Roberts, and former Judge Harold B. Wells and Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, members of the State Republican Committee.

Freeholder Charles R. Stout, chairman of the County Republican Committee, will preside at the meeting.

The committee that is arranging details of the picnic and meeting is composed of Assemblyman Newcomb, James C. McCormick, Frank McIlvain, Harold Price, Miss Caroline Haines, Joseph B. Fleetwood and Mrs. Joseph Evans.

The Green Hill Farm is noted as having been the home of the first colonial Governor of New Jersey, Samuel Jennings; also as having been the land upon which Indian Chief Ockanickon at one time made his home.

C. OF C. PICNIC AT CAMP LINGOHOCKEN

Riverton and Palmyra Chambers Will Join in Outing August 29

Members of the Riverton and Palmyra Chambers of Commerce will participate in a combination basket picnic at Lingohocken Camp, near Ewanville, Wednesday afternoon, August 29. The Riverton Chamber took a similar outing to Lingohocken last summer and everybody had a splendid time. Cars will leave Riverton station and P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, at 2.30. Transportation will be provided for those who do not drive cars. Basket lunches will be taken, but coffee, iced tea, peaches and ice cream will be supplied free. Those intending to go should notify Joseph T. Evans, Riverton, and Walter D. Lamon, Palmyra, by the 27th.

PALMYRA GIRLS IN DOUBLE ELOPEMENT

The two cutest blondes in Palmyra are brides! Miss Edith Garwood and Miss V. E. Simons, both 19, who earned their names as "cutest blondes" at the Palmyra High School, were principals in a double elopement at Media last Friday.

Miss Garwood became the bride of Frank Wilkins, 19, a popular Moorestown youth, and Miss Simons' bridegroom is Frank P. Creely, of Merchantville.

The two couples have been going everywhere as a "foursome," their friends said. They left home Friday morning telling their parents they were going to work as usual in Philadelphia, where all four are employed. Instead they motored to Media and each couple acted as attendants for the other at the wedding ceremony.

Parental blessings were bestowed upon the young people upon their return home.

FOOTBALL MEETING FRIDAY EVENING

A meeting has been called for Friday evening, August 24, at eight o'clock, at the Legion Home, for all those interested in football.

The Palmyra Community Movement is anxious to give Palmyra some good football this year and it is absolutely necessary to know as soon as possible whether there is enough material in town to make a team.

The committee in charge consists of James Hartley, Carl Thomas and Joseph Stack. If there is to be a team a coach will have to be secured and a manager elected, so candidates should present themselves this Friday evening.

Let everybody come out and boost football.

WOULD-BE TROOPERS TESTED LAST WEEK

Over Three Hundred Candidates Seek Places on State Police Force

More than three hundred candidates seeking admission to the training class of the state police school which opens September 1, reported to Colonel Schwarzkopf, at the Capitol last week, for mental and physical examinations.

Those successful in the tests last week and have satisfactory moral character, will begin three months of training at the school at Wilburtha.

As a rule, according to Colonel Schwarzkopf, the entry class usually comprises about forty men, about half of whom graduate.

Abram Justin, twenty-five, Stillwater, a recruit at Wilburtha, was injured seriously when he tumbled from his horse as it slipped during riding instruction. The horse trampled on Justin.

RIVERTON JUNIORS WIN FROM CATHOLIC CLUB SENIOR TEAM

Agile Youngsters Emerge From Unequal Fight With Best End of Score

On Saturday, August 18th, the Riverton A. A. Juniors defeated the Assumption Catholic Club Senior Team, 5-3.

There was a slight mistake in scheduling the game, for when the visitors arrived they were men ranging in age from 25 to 35 years. One of their men remarked that if they had known they were to play against kids they wouldn't have come, but now that they were here it would be good batting practice. But the Juniors gave them the surprise of their lives.

Three umpires were used on the bases, the first one (Mowers) didn't satisfy the visitors, so they put a fellow named Shaw in Bowers' place. Bartley singled in the seevnth and Reeves was supposed to have forced him at second, but Shaw claimed Bartley interfered and called Reeves out. With the aid of Mr. Reeves Shaw was given the gate and Stockton replaced him.

Lockowitz made his debut with the Juniors, and was thrown out at first when a Japanese beetle lighted on his nose. (They must know he works for the Government.) Bartley starred at bat, while Bottger and Terrell fielded brilliantly.

Broderson was a little off form, due to the size of the opponents; he dropped two at the plate, but made up for it by driving in three runs.

The Game Play By Play

First Inning—Visitors — Fredericks fanned, Spolnick singled, and stole second, Cornish lifted to Reeves, La Nar singled, Neale whiffed. Juniors—Reeves singled, Bottger singled, scoring both, Botger going on to third; Broderson sacrificed Bottger home, Perkins, fanned, Terrell flied to right.

Second Inning—Ross singled, Rold forced Ross, Levin lined to Bottger, Masshews out, Terrell to Bottger. Folke fanned, Sloan fouled to Spolnick, Coles skied to left.

Third Inning—Fredericks struck out, Spolnick singled, Cornish hit into a double play, Botger to Bartley, Bartley doubled to center, Reeves lined to first, Botger holsted to right Broderson singled, scoring Bartley Perkins fanned.

Fourth Inning—La Nar and Neale thrown out at first, Ross flied to Sloan. Terrell walked, Foulke struck out, Sloan forced Terrell, Coles lifted to Cornish.

Fifth Inning—Rold and Levin singled. Masshews sacrificed, Fredericks hit to Coles, who threw to Broderson in an effort to catch Rold, but "Wild Bill" was crowded into dropping the ball. The same thing happened when Spolnick made an infield single and Bartley threw to home, scoring Levin; Broderson threw wild to second, Fredericks scoring, Cornish fanned. Foulke threw to La Nar out at first. Bartley singled, Reeves forced Bartley, Botger singled, Broderson sacrificed Reeves home. Lockowitz for Perkins was thrown out at first.

Sixth Inning—Neale doubled, Ross, Rold and Levin out at first. Terrell fanned, Foulke lifted to short stop, Sloan walked, Coles was robbed of hit when Ross snatched his would-be triple out of the atmosphere.

Seventh Inning—Coles hit Fredericks, placing him on first; after Masshews had lifted to Bottger, Spolnick hit into a double play, Bartley to Bottger. Bartley singled, Reeves hit into a fluke double play, Levin to Fredericks to Cornish, with the aid of Shaw, the umpire; Bottger fanned.

Eighth Inning—Cornish singled, La Nar forced Cornish and stole second, Neale hit into a double paly, Terrell to Foulke. Broderson lined to second, Spolnick threw out Locky, La Nar threw out Terrell.

Ninth Inning—Ross lifted to Foulke; Rold and Levin were out at first.

REASON ENOUGH

He is a man of means, a well-groomed fellow who has reached what one might call the favorable fifties. He spends quite a lot of his time glancing around at his factories. He lives, however, in the smallest town in which he owns a factory. Recently while he was visiting a rather lace curtain friend of his the friend remarked: "But why do you stay in such a one-horse town?"

"Perhaps because I happen to be the horse," he replied modestly.

RIVERTON TO PLAY CAMDEN POLICE

Next Sunday, August 26, at 3 P. M., the Riverton A. A. will play the strong Camden Police team on the R. & P. grounds, Mount Holly. Jake Shele will pitch, Wally Young will catch, and other notables in the Riverton line-up will be Benney Edge, Shreve Nelson and Johnny Shaw.

FLOWERS WANTED FOR SHUT-INS

Appeal for Flowers to be Left at Camden Terminal

Mr. and Mrs., and Miss Rivertonian, will you not share some of your lovely flowers with those who seldom have any?

All summer a flower booth has been maintained at the Pennsylvania Railroad terminal in Camden. Each day, one or two ladies from neighboring towns have been there until noon to receive and bunch the flowers for distribution to the shut-ins and the sick in five institutions in Camden.

If, any day, those who use the trains would leave flowers as they pass through the P. R. R. terminal they will be much appreciated. However, will you please remember that Riverton is responsible for the booth the weeks of August 27-31 inclusive.

If flowers are picked late the night before, and placed deep in water out of doors, they will carry better and keep for a much longer time than when picked in the morning just before train time.

Those who do not use the trains and have flowers to share will please telephone Mrs. Francis A. Denninger, telephone, Riverton 707, for instructions.

MEMORIAL PARK SWIMMING HOLE

A Few Improvements Would Make It Finest Natural Pool in Country

Any person who strolls around to the pool to cool off, by either resting on the benches, provided by grateful parents, or taking a plunge himself, cannot but be deeply impressed by the wholesome pleasure and enthusiasm of the younger generation and our future citizens. It takes a very short and selfish vision not to see what a worthwhile improvement would mean to our coming generation of citizens, as an investment to attract and hold these children home by giving them the best swimming pool in the country. It would be hard to estimate the returns in health, public pride and good citizenship. The possibilities are worthy of the most serious consideration and action of our Borough.

GUARD.

TO HOLD BIG LIFE SAVING EXHIBITION

Red Cross Demonstration and Contest at Moorestown Community House Pool, Aug. 28

Tuesday, August 28, at the Moorestown Community House pool, starting at 8 p. m., there will be exhibition and Red Cross life saving contest to be given by the champion senior team of Burlington county.

County Examiner Hartshorne and his team will insure a pleasant and instructive evening. The object of this exhibition is to give a clear idea of the work which has been accomplished by the Red Cross in the preventing of loss of life by drowning.

For the past two weeks several aspirants of the Moorestown pool have been practicing to pass the Junior Red Cross tests. Last Thursday the class of four, Ruth Matchett, Jack Richie, Carl Graham and Francis McCourt, passed the test with high honors.

Mr. Hartshorne declared that it was the best class that he had put through this year. Their respective scores were 86½, 96, 92, 92¼. A score of 75 is required to pass and 100 is the maximum score attainable.

CHILD INJURED

Riverton Girl Suffers Broken Leg When Hit by Auto

Little Esther Letford was sitting on the curb early Sunday evening in front of her home at Broad and Cinnaminson streets, Riverton. John White approached with several people in his car on their way to church. The child jumped up and becoming confused, ran directly in front of the car. Mr. White made an effort to avoid striking her, but could not.

He took the little girl to Dr. Mark, who made an examination and advised that she be taken to a hospital. Mr. White took her to the West Jersey. There it was found that her left leg was fractured, but it is thought that she was not otherwise injured. She was brought home in the Palmyra ambulance Tuesday afternoon.

PREVENT SUN BURN

Into a fourth cup of water put ten drops of glycerine and apply to the skin with a soft cloth. Leave on five minutes then remove gently, and you will find this a good protection against sun burn.

Ages of Candidates

There is less than a year's difference in the ages of Hoover and Smith. The former will be 54 this month. Smith is seven months his senior.

The President oldest at the time of his inauguration was William H. Harrison (68) and the youngest was Roosevelt (42).

Others in their sixties when inaugurated were Adams, Jackson, Taylor and Buchanan. Others in their forties were Polk, Pierce, Garfield Grant, and Cleveland.

Nineteen of our Presidents were in their fifties when sworn into office. As for the present vice-presidential nominees, Curtis is 68, and Robinson will be 56 this month.

JUNIORS LOSE TO ST. CASIMIR'S

Second Game Dropped This Season. Won Sixteen

The Riverton A. A. Juniors were defeated 6-5 on Tuesday night by the St. Casimer Club, of Cambridge. Smith pitched for the Juniors until the fourth inning, when he was relieved by Coles. Smith pitched good ball, but had no support, the team making four costly errors in back of him.

The home team were three runs behind in the last inning and staged a rally that fell one run short of tying the score. Coles was thrown out at first, Lockley made a fluke single, Bartley singled, Reeves flied to left, Bottger singled, scoring Locky and Bartley; Broderson singled, placing Bottger on third with the tying run, but Yonsik, who relieved Snow at this point, fanned Sloan for the third out.

The Juniors have thus far won sixteen and lost two games—an enviable record.

COMMUNICATED

To the Editor,
Dear Sir:—

I have read the article titled "Favor Municipal Water System" in your paper of August 15, 1928, and I note that members of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce infer (in fact state) that we have refused to give them proper data regarding our accounting.

When they stated that they wished to make an audit, I questioned very much whether they realized the magnitude of this. Would it not be well to start from our last report, which we will forward them? The inference of this whole article is that we have been concealing or have a desire to conceal something. In the interest of the Public, I will say that we have, and the public should have, every confidence in the N. J. Utilities Commission, where our reports are always on file for the benefit of the public.

I read the argument in favor of a municipally owned plant, and have no comments to make regarding it. That would seem to rest with the officials of the Borough, but when these gentlemen state that they intend to put in a municipal plant more efficient than ours, that greatly concerns us. Perhaps they have some knowledge that we do not possess in regard to what constitutes efficiency, so if they have such a proposition, we surely would be much interested, for we are under the impression that we have one of the most efficient water plants in South Jersey.

We have one of the purest water supplies in lower Jersey. We have a pump capacity of three times our consumption. We have well capacity of two or three times our consumption. We have purchased large parcels of ground on Bank Avenue for the purpose of protecting our supply from contamination—ground that the Utilities Commission will not allow us to consider the value of for rate bearing purposes. We have a storage capacity of 575,000 gallons, a greater storage capacity than Riverside, Delanco, Beverly, Edgewater Park, Burlington and Bordentown combined. In fact, we have a greater storage capacity than all towns and cities between Pensauken Creek and Trenton. In addition will say that our Company has been cited in the N. J. Utilities Commission's Annual Report as a model company, and when the gentlemen of the Chamber of Commerce talk of putting in a more efficient plant, we are very much interested, for we can assure them singled and Regal cleared the sacks that we have resorted to every means that could be procured to effect economy.

Respectfully,
RIVERTON & PALMYRA WATER COMPANY.
CHARLES A. WRIGHT,
President.

MRS. HERBERT W. RICHMAN

Elizabeth, wife of Herbert W. Richman and daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Mason, died on Saturday.

Besides her husband and parents, Mrs. Richman is survived by four daughters: Eleanor, Dorothy, Elizabeth and Wilberta.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at her late residence, 623 Linden Avenue, conducted by the Rev. S. J. Pitt, district superintendent, assisted by the Rev. John Goorley, of Trenton; the Rev. Harry Evaul, of Baltimore, and the Rev. J. W. Lee, of Palmyra. Interment was made at Arlington Cemetery, under the direction of the John Crawford Co., of Camden.

To extract a splinter easily, fill a large-necked bottle nearly full with boiling water, place the injured part over the mouth of the bottle and press gently.

MAN, WOMAN DIE IN MAPLE SHADE CROSSING CRASH

Reunion of Brother and Sister, Brooklyn Woman, Has Tragic Ending

7-YEAR-OLD CHILD SUFFERS INJURIES

Wreckage of Auto on Cowcatcher Aids in Stopping Unmanned Train

The happy reunion of a brother and sister came to a quick and tragic end when the couple were killed by a train at Maple Shade last Friday evening.

The victims were David McMillan, High street, Maple Shade and Mrs. Mary McKenna, Forty-fourth street, Brooklyn. They were instantly killed when an automobile driven by Mr. McMillan was struck by a freight train at the Fork Landing Road grade crossing in Maple Shade about 7.45 Friday evening.

Gladys, seven-year-old daughter of Mrs. McKenna, who accompanied them, suffered injuries and shock. She was rushed to Cooper Hospital, Camden, where she will probably have to remain for the next two weeks.

Mrs. McKenna had not seen her brother for seven years. She made the trip from Brooklyn to Philadelphia by train. Mr. McMillan met her in Philadelphia with his motor car and they were on their way to his home when the accident occurred.

As the train neared the crossing the fireman, seeing that the crash was inevitable, and fearing that the impack would derail the locomotive, jumped. He escaped serious injury.

Engineer Stunned

As the freight smashed into the motorcar the engineer was jolted from his seat and stunned. With no guiding hand at the throttle, the train thundered on.

Protruding from the cowcatcher was the wrecked automobile. One hundred and fifty feet from the crossing the wreckage, extending outward, crashed into a freight platform. The train roared along, its speed undiminished. A hundred and fifty yards beyond, the wreckage came in contact with a signal device that automatically brought the driverless train to a stop.

Mangled beyond recognition, rescuers dragged the forms of a man and woman from the wreckage on the cowcatcher. Back near the crossing the body of the little girl was picked up.

It is believed that McMillan was blinded by the heavy rain falling at the time of the accident and that he did not see the lights nor hear the bells protecting the railroad crossing.

Wreckage was strewn along the right of way for a distance of 1000 feet and parts of the bodies of the victims were picked up at different points.

Auto Going North

The automobile was going north on the Fork Landing road and the train was east bound.

Coroner Benjamin Parner, Burlington, could not be located after the accident, and Police Recorder A. M. Addison had sworn in a coroner's jury and was preparing to conduct an inquest when the coroner arrived shortly before midnight.

The Maple Shade man was 52 years old and his sister was 47.

A wife and one daughter survive Mr. McMillan. Funeral services for the victims were held at the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Moorestown, Sunday morning. Interment was made in New Calvary cemetery, Marlton.

Shortly before the accident lightning struck the traffic control light at the intersection of Main street and Fork Landing Road. Officer Sine, of the Maple Shade police department who was on duty, narrowly escaped injuries when he jumped from the booth. The signal was ripped loose from its supports and fell to the ground. The damage is estimated at $200.

LOST, STRAYED OR STOLEN

In a little neck of woodland along Pensauken Creek, which is known as Kurtz's village, far back from the main highway, lived a monkey known as Sir Sidney.

Sir Sidney at one time made his home at Kurtz's little store at Pensauken Creek bridge, on the main highway. He was known by a number of motorists, who would often stop and feed him. Sir Sidney became frightened at the machines that passed and it was finally necessary to move him back to the little woodland along the creek. He spent a number of days in peace and comfort back there until he disappeared.

Whether it was the call of the jungle or the mosquitoes that caused him to leave we do not know, but if any one knows of Sir Sidney's whereabouts, kindly notify Mr. Kurtz, at Pensauken Creek and the bridge.

Dill Asks For Cooperation of All Motorists During "Save-a-Life" Campaign

In an effort to reduce automobile accidents and eliminate loss of life caused by motor vehicles in New Jersey, a state wide "Save-a-Life" campaign will be conducted from September 1 to September 30, it has been announced by William L. Dill, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

The campaign is made official for the state by a proclamation issued by Governor Harry A. Moore at the Capital recently. The proclamation calls upon all municipal authorities, motor organizations and civic and commercial bodies to co-operate in the "Save-a-Life" movement.

The purpose of the campaign is to establish a regular annual period of free mechanical inspection of all motor vehicles licensed to operate in this state. New York, Massachusetts and other states have already conducted "Save-a-Life" campaigns and several other states have announced their intentions of doing so in the near future.

Official Status

Service stations and garages in every community in the state will be appointed to serve as official inspection stations from September 1 to 30 inclusive. During this period every motor vehicle owner in New Jersey is requested to drive or send his car or truck to one of these official inspection stations to be examined regarding its mechanical condition. This inspection will be made entirely without charge at official garages and service stations, and the motor vehicle owner is free to choose any official inspection station he desires.

Official windshield stickers will be issued in the name of the State Motor Vehicle authorities and one of these will be placed on every motor vehicle that passes inspection as being in good mechanical condition insofar as its safety factors are concerned. Cars that reveal mechanical defects which render them unsafe will have to be put in good order before the official state sticker will be issued to the owner.

"The proposed 'Save-a-Life' inspection of automobiles will be devoted chiefly to the brakes, horns, lights, steering mechanism, windshield wipers and mirrors," said Commissioner Dill in announcing the campaign to reduce automobile accidents and prevent fatalities in the state. "These are the items most likely to get out of order on the average automobile and statistics show that they are the most frequent causes of accidents.

Want no Unsafe Cars

"We want no unsafe automobiles on the roads in New Jersey and co-operation of every citizen and motorist in getting his car inspected free of charge between September 1 to 30 will go a long way toward saving lives and preventing accidents.

"It is perfectly obvious that the best driver in the world cannot stop a car that has no brakes, or warn pedestrians and other cars if the horn is not working. Inspection of drivers is not sufficient; the vehicle must also be in a safe condition to prevent injury to themselves and others.

"Fifty-nine per cent of deaths from automobile accident in the United States are caused by defects in the mechanical condition of the automobile itself. A modern automobile is good for tens of thousands of miles of service and it is entirely safe in the hands of a careful driver, but being a piece of machinery it requires mechanical inspection at least once a year to keep it in good running order and to operate it economically and safely."

Governor Moore's proclamation calls upon the officials of every community, and various civic and commercial organizations to lend their wholehearted support to the statewide movement for greater motor vehicle safety.

TEN ARE ARRESTED IN CENTERTON RAID

Riotous Party Ends When Three State Troopers and Moorestown Policeman Descend Upon Place

Three State Police troopers and a Moorestown policeman broke up a riotous party at Centerton about midnight Saturday.

Ten colored men, incuding the proprietor, were arrested and charged with being drunk and disorderly. Each of the men were fined $10 and costs at a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Moorestown Town Hall.

Charges of maintaining a disorderly house were lodged against the proprietor, Oliver Christian, and are to be disposed of at a later date.

Samuel Jackson, Henry McDaniel, Morgan Christian, Lloyd Downes, Jas. A. Copeland, Alfred Cannon, Alexander Jackson, John Chapman and William Sharp are the other participants in the "party" who paid fines.

The raid was made by Troopers Horn, Doyle and Small, of Bridgeboro barracks, and Officer Howard Davis, of the Moorestown department.

Assets and Number of Associations Also Increase, Report Just Issued Shows

Increased assets of the New Jersey building and loan associations totaled $120,099,754 during the fiscal year ending May 31, twelve-month period, according to a report just issued by Banking and Insurance Commissioner Edward Maxson.

The report shows that on May 31, 1928, there were assets of $760,097,751, which, by May 31, 1927, advanced to $886,197,505. An increase of $118,993,378 was shown in an advance of mortgage loans from $721,847,723 to $840,841, 101.

Shareholding members of New Jersey associations increased 82,599. There were 1,084,381 shareholders at the end of the 1928 fiscal year, twelve months later, 1,166,980. Of the latter, 157,309 were in the borrowing class and 929,711 were non-borrowing. An increase of forty-one associations was shown for the same year, bringing the total to 1536.

COUNTIES JOIN IN TAX JUMP FIGHT

Burlington and Cumberland To Combine in Battle on Proposed Increase

Combining in the interests of the taxpayers whom they represent, the Burlington and Cumberland County Boards of Taxation will join hands in their fight before the State Board of Taxation to prevent the proposed general tax increases that were announced a short time ago. The increase suggested for Burlington county is 10 per cent, and for Cumberland county 8 per cent, and the effort to stop them will be made at a hearing before the State Board next month.

A short time ago the various counties were summoned to show cause why such increases should not be made, but there was such a flood of protests from something like nineteen counties that the entire outpouring could not be handled in one day and some hearings were set down for September.

On that crowded first day County Solicitor Harold B. Wells and Tax Board member Fred Lippincott told the State Board members that some of the assessments on Burlington county farms were higher than the prices that would be paid for the properties at public sale, and and that suggested some investigation.

The appearance of the two counties together with practically the same line of argument was agreed upon in Mount Holly last week when Miss Thelma A. Parkinson, member of the Cumberland Board, and Frank Wallace, secretary, were in conference with the Burlington County Board. They went over conditions and circumstances and found their interests to be almost identical, resulting in the suggestion that they combine in a general way to make their arguments double strength and shock proof.

FIVE ROBBERIES

Grattan Bars comes into his phenomenal speed by right of inheritance, being a son of the Great Grattan Royal and Polly Bars.

DRIVERS PENALIZED

William L. Dill, commissioner of motor vehicles, last week revoked a number of drivers' licenses for drunkenness and reckless driving. The list includes nine residents of South Jersey and six Philadelphians. Seven of the South Jerseyites' licenses were voided for drunkenness. They are: Frank R. Byam, Burlington; Russell Ford, Vincentown; Harvey Hall, Woodstown; Hurley S. Parker and Van Buren Farrow, of Pleasantville, all blacklisted for two years, and Thomas Ash, of Bridgeboro, put on the permanent prohibitory list.

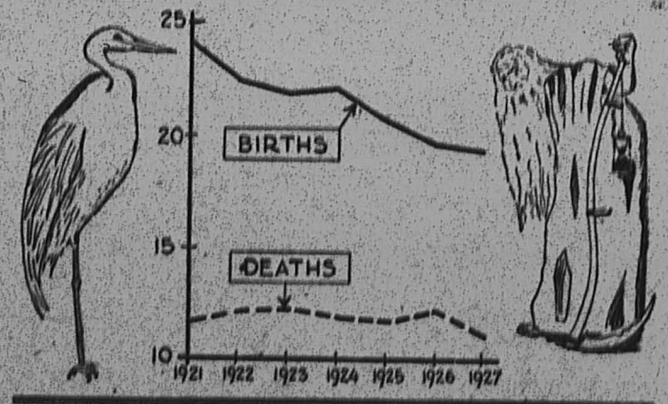
NEW JERSEY'S BIRTH & DEATH RATES COMPUTED BY U.S. GOVERNMENT



New Jersey is one of the healthiest of the United States. According to figures issued by the United States Government, its 1927 death rate of 11.2 per thousand was the lowest in seven years, being one under that of 1926. Good health departments, state and municipal, assure favorable sanitary and hygienic conditions.

Adequate and good public utility service plays a part in conserving public health as well as public comfort and Public Service provides for most of the State's excellent electric, gas and transit facilities.

1920 AND 1928

A little more than eight years ago the New York World editorially characterized Herbert Hoover as the living man best equipped for the Presidency of the United States and pledged itself to disregard partisan considerations in order to advance his candidacy for the exalted office. A week or two ago The World republished its 1920 declaration for Hoover accompanied by another editorial explaining somewhat laboriously why the newspaper was not supporting Mr. Hoover this year.

Stripping The World's elaborate explanation of its rhetorical sophistry and its effusive eulogy of Mr. Smith, one finds two arguments that may be paraphrased as follows:

1—This is 1928, not 1920, and a newspaper has a right to change its mind.

2—Mr. Hoover for almost eight years has been a cabinet officer under two Republican Presidents.

The first point is well taken; The World has a right to make an about face in policy and principle, if it so desires.

The second argument is tenable only from an old-fashioned partisan point of view—a point of view which The World vigorously repudiated in its 1920 editorial. If, however, The World chooses to return to the "discredited partisanship" which it renounced and denounced eight years ago, it is entitled to oppose Mr. Hoover simply because he has served his country as a cabinet officer under Republican Presidents.

But will the average, fairminded citizen find such an argument convincing? Will anyone except hidebound Democratic partisans join The World in opposing Mr. Hoover for being a straight-forward Republican? Will even such partisans declare themselves against the sound and wise economic policies of the Coolidge administration which Secretary Hoover has helped to formulate and execute? In brief, will these Democratic critics repudiate existing prosperity simply because it is Republican prosperity?

The World, without so intending, seems to have struck a more effective blow in Mr. Hoover's behalf this time than it did eight years ago. The clear-thinking voter will find in The World's Hoover editorial for 1928 a new and powerful argument to add to those set forth in the same news-1920; namelly, that Mr. Hoover now has added seven and a half years of valuable experience in administrative office to the magnificent record of executive accomplishment and humanitarian achievement so fervently acclaimed eight years ago by one of his foremost present day journalistic adversaries.

"LET'S SEE WHAT THE RECORD SAYS"

One of the most artful individuals with words is Alfred E. Smith. He is adept in making words indicate what they don't mean and to infer even more.

One of Smith's practices is to have recourse to public records. That you cannot go beyond records to one of his well-worded declarations. "Let's see what the record says," is an oft-repeated assertion of the Governor's when in discussion and pushed for answer to defend himself.

As things are, and as they have developed, Governor Smith should be the last man in the world to run away from his record. He should be the very last man to say, as hitherto, "Let's see what the record says." He should not quibble or evade. He should face any record. He can not change, alter or amend the records of the Assembly of the State of New York.

Al Smith's record is there, and in indelible ink. It is his record as a Tammany assemblyman, and as a man who has been so prompt to say, "Let's see what the record says," he should be anxious to read and let others read the record of Alfred E. Smith. What he does, or what was done for him, his record is registered for all time in the minutes of the Assembly of New York State, and in any discussion of Alfred E. Smith's political past anybody is at liberty to say, as he has said a million times, "Let's see what the record says."

ROAD BUILDING A FINE ART

"Road builders would hardly be called great artists by the average person," says an editorial in Good Roads. "Yet, are they not doing work comparable to that of of Michelangelo, known for his scripture, painting and poetry; Raffaello, famous Italian painter; and our own country, Loredo Taft, famous sculptor?"

"These men's achievements have been for a personal appeal—an appeal to the finer senses. Their achievements have been enduring, and have been pleasing to the generations born long after the artist's death.

"What could be a more fitting monument to an artist of public highways, than an outstanding highway, built to aid the pleasure seekers, and made to endure for years? It is a pity that we do not look to our road builders as craftsmen, rather than men hired to do a given job. They are really doing more than artists, the sculptors, the poets—they are making it possible for business as well as pleasure seekers to benefit by their work."

This parallel between the road builder and the artist is not so strained as it may appear. More and more, art is being brought to purposes of utility—to satisfy both body and soul. Certainly he who builds a beautiful and permanent highway and gives pleasure and profit to those who travel over it, merits the designation of an artist.

CLEAN REFRIGERATOR

Cleanliness within the refrigerator is most important—especially if baby foods are stored therein. The old-fashioned ice box should be scalded out periodically to keep it sweet and clean. In the best automatic refrigerators, however, the use of scalding water and soap is not necessary. Simply wiping the box out quickly with a cloth wet in a cold solution of baking soda and then wiping dry is sufficient.

In the automatic type, defrosting the chilling unit is necessary about twice a month in order to maintain proper radiation of cold from the unit. It can be done over night. Before retiring, turn off the current—or gas, if you have one of the new noiseless refrigerators which operates by gas. By morning the refrigerator is again ready to function and the drip pan can be emptied and fresh water put in the ice-cube trays.

INDUSTRIAL TREND

A course for gas salesmen dealing with various phases of the economic problems of industrial gas distribution, is to be given at the school of Commerce, New York University, according to an announcement by the American Gas Association.

This is indicative of the modern trend of industrial education. Industry has learned to be dissatisfied with the sort of employe who is interested only in his pay check. Instead it is hiring men who are eager for a real insight and interest in the business they represent.

This particular course will include salesmanship, factory economics, production systems, industrial organization and other fields. Sessions in industrial heating, market analysis, and the use of gas in relation to competitive fuels will be given. The result will be salesmen infinitely better fitted to serve the public and the industry.

Activities of this sort are a sign of real industrial progress.

You should forgive many things in others, but nothing in yourself.—Ausonius.

The POLITICAL PARADE

By HARRY B. BLACKMAN

The approaching visit of Herbert Hoover to his native state of Iowa, where he will confer with real farmers on the subject of farm relief for two days at Cedar Rapids, affords an interesting contrast to the Democratic policy of asking a hand-picked list of "farm leaders" to come all the way to New York City to be photographed with the party candidate.

Reports from California indicate that Mr. Hoover expects to begin an extensive speaking campaign in September. During the campaign he plans to visit cities in the east, the middle west and the border states, conferring at the same time with leading citizens on national policies.

Senator Curtis also plans to campaign extensively, particularly in the middle west, which he has represented so effectively in Congress for a third of a century. His first address will be delivered in New York State.

What might be called a new version of "He Who Gets Slapped" has as its principal John J. Raskob, of Delaware, who undertook to hold jointly the chairmanship of the finance committee of the General Motors Corporation and the chairmanship of the Democratic National Committee.

His former business associates have given him definitely to understand that politics and business do not mix, so far as General Motors is concerned. Following certain intimations to that effect from high officials of the company, Mr. Raskob resigned the chairmanship of the finance committee.

Rumors that other members of the General Motors directorate were in sympathy with Raskob's political views were answered by a statement that not one of the DuPont family, which exercises almost controlling interest in General Motors, would oppose the candidacy of Herbert Hoover. And now Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., president of the General Motors corporation, adds the coup de grace with a statement that his company "will not permit its prestige, its organization or its property to be used for political purposes."

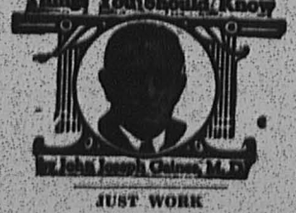
A rising tide of revolt against domination by Tammany Hall, which has assumed the leadership of the Democratic party in this campaign, is reliably reported to be overshadowing even the farm relief question in the west. Democrats who have loyally supported the ticket for years, confronted for the first time with the Tammany issue, are refusing to be whipped into line and are finding more and more to admire in Hoover and Curtis, according to those in touch with the situation.

The Democratic challenge to do battle for New York is being answered by Republicans with an enthusiasm reminiscent of "the old Roosevelt days," says William Loeb, private secretary to Theodore Roosevelt through the latter's service as governor of New York state, vice president and president.

"And we had some organization in those days, didn't we?" asked Loeb with a broad smile. "It strikes me that Herbert Hoover attracts the same sort of devoted followers as T.R. did, though the methods of the two men differ considerably."

About Your Health

Things You Should Know



By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

JUST WORK

Regular, legitimate toil never harmed any one. We often hear of "overwork" being a cause of break-down mentally and physically; but, when we look carefully into the matter, we find the victim, long prior to his invalidism, wrecked the machinery of his body by improper feeding, irregular sleep, and unsystematic exercise. Can you imagine a tubby, swivel-chair, club-ridden gormandizer, getting exercise from a ride in an upholstered automobile, and three hours a week devoted to panting around a fancy golf course, where he does his heavy-ballasted carcass more harm than good? Wouldn't you think he is about fifteen or more years too late with his "exercise?" There is no hope of long life for that sort of man—absolutely none! He is in danger every moment he exists.

One thing our city business men should remember: There is a vast difference between "good business" and right living. My idea is, there is nothing that pays quite so well as a rigorous adherence to proper care of the body. It is a shame that we violate every law of diet, sleep, and exercise—die young—and put the blame on overwork. Does Providence remove the man that commits suicide?

"I knew a man who worked in a stone-quarry on his farm until he was near eighty. "A freak," you say. No, you are the freak! This man ate regularly, never sat in a swivel chair in his life; when tired, he rested. He had his full allotment of fresh air; he ate just what he wanted and no more. He died at eighty-two—and he didn't die of overwork. His was a perfectly natural death.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Impluses

Miss Jackson, after eleven years' experience at San Quentin State Prison, declares that women criminals are the victims of uncontrolled impulse rather than of a physiological leaning toward crime.

"There is no criminal type among women prisoners," she says. "Crime among women generally follows an uncontrolled impulse in which women leave the usual path of life and make a detour into crime without thought of the results that follow."

It appears from this that self control in all emergencies is the virtue most needed.

The writer was once a prison official and frequently visited the State Prisons of Illinois. He was surprised to find that the class of convicts that gave the least trouble was the murderers. The reason is that murders are usually committed on a sudden impulse and a man need not be a hardened criminal to be guilty of this crime.

Of course there are some people who are simply lacking in moral sense. Their whole tone of morals is low and all they need to commit a crime is the opportunity.

But all of us are potential criminals when it comes to impulse, a sudden surging of passion or some overwhelming desire.

Parents should learn from this that the most necessary lesson to teach children is self control. Children do not need so much to be taught obedience as to be taught how to obey their own better selves.

Any one who finds his passion too strong for him and who loses his sense of restraint when under the influence of them is in danger of committing any crime.

Self discipline may be very hard; to people of strong emotions it is sure to be hard.

But it is none the less essential.

Most lawsuits would be avoided if people would control themselves and could learn to be good sports and take their losses without yielding to a desire for vengeance.

CHEERFUL JOHN MOODY

AN INTER-LANGUAGE WANTED

A MAN OF 104

WHY MEN FARM

John Moody studies and thinks, and predicts five more years at least, of rising values and prosperity. "The old breeders of financial panic that brought on the crises of 1893, 1903 and 1907 have disappeared."

We are living in a new kind of America, with a new kind of prosperity. "America's world of today is not the world of twenty years ago," says Moody.

If you were feeling gloomy, cheer up.

Many are prosperous, NOT all. Barney Deboka, having vainly hunted a job, stood at a restaurant window, watching a woman turning butter cakes. He fell in a faint and doctors are treating him for starvation.

Great is the power of civilization, training a man so well that he stands watching food until he drops of hunger rather than steal. Man is a teachable animal.

Delegations of college men from different parts of the United States will record their voices on talking machines that scientists may study "American dialects."

The main thing is that all of them are understood from New York to San Francisco.

In Europe, traveling 3,000 miles from Oslo to the southeast, you would hear Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, German, Czecho-Slovakian, Hungarian, Rumanian, Bulgarian, Turkish, Greek, and, in Egypt, Arabic, twelve different languages in a 3,000-mile trip, and not hear one-half the languages that Europe speaks.

Europe feels the need of an "inter-language." The sensible thing would be to make that language English, that all waiters and clerks need, and nearly all educated Europeans know.

National pride prevents that. So why not use Latin, once the universal learned language, making it possible for Erasmus to speak to Henry the Eighth; for all learned men in Europe to talk to each other through their books? Nothing could be more hideous than a made to order language.

Russia names a dictator, with absolute power over crops, their production and distribution.

Our farmers will watch that experiment for the benefit of producer and consumer, but will not want any crop dictator here.

The thing that reconciles a farmer to his lot is the fact that he is his own boss.

Tell him that others must decide what he shall plant, what price he shall ask, and he will join the crowd to the cities.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, Pastor

Attendance at the Sunday services each week continues very good for this season of the year. The new building continues to advance noticeably each week towards its final completion. Those who are regularly attending Central Baptist are sharing in the inspiration of this progress.

Next Sunday morning and evening Dr. Francis Elmore, of the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, will have charge of the services. Dr. Elmore's messages are well worth a large audience wherever he preaches.

Various organizations of the church and Bible School continue quietly active in working to accomplish their purposes. Post cards showing the completed new church edifice are still on sale by members and teachers of the Primary Department.

The church, although with a rather upset appearance, welcomes any visitors who may be vacationing in this vicinity.

A record grain crop is in sight, and we feel sure both political parties will claim the credit.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Sunday School at ten in the morning. Our school and church cordially welcomes all newcomers in our vicinity. Make your church home with us. Special emphasis is laid on the Men's Class, which is in the process of organization. Let us not be discouraged with small numbers during the month of August, but come faithfully and be the nucleus for a large adult class in the autumn. We believe that the appeal is from the Lord directly to all male members and friends of our church. We can put it across.

Divine worship at 11.15 in the morning and 8 in the evening. The pastor will follow up the evangelistic note in getting things started again for fall. The sermon wil be based on the great text found in Revelations 3:20. All are urged to bring their friends to hear this appeal. God may work through you. Give Him a chance to touch your friends.

The Eden Bible Class are holding a Peach Festival on this coming Saturday evening at eight o'clock, in the basement of the church. The program is one of the most promising ever put on in our church. Mr. De Witt Morris, a master-entertainer, will give a one-act sketch entitled "Hickville Sport." There will be instrumental and vocal music of a very high order. A surprise will be in store for every one who attends this splendid entertainment, but no one will be hurt except from sore sides from laughing. You might bring a long face, but you'll carry a broad smile away. After the fun, you will feel like eating peaches and ice cream. These delicacies will be for sale during the evening.

Do not miss the Peach Festival Show; it's a "peach."

Calvary Presbyterian

C. T. Bates, Minister

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its regular Sunday morning service of worship at 11 o'clock the coming Sunday. The Rev. J. A. Matheson, of Allentown, N. J., will fill the pulpit in the absence of the pastor, who returns next Sunday, September 2nd.

The Church School will meet at 10 o'clock inthe Church School Auditorium.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

A community service will be held at the Westfield Friends Meeting Grounds, Sunday evening, August 26, at 7 o'clock.

Richard Wood will be the speaker. Everyone is cordially invited.

"NEW SHOES"

Among advance models shown in footwear is the one-strap pump of watersnake skin in shades of brown that are soft and dull and harmonious with fall's favorite colors. Combinations of brown kid with the brown watersnake are featured, although the shoe entirely of the brown snakeskin is equally modish.

'TWILL BE A VELVET SEASON

All indications point to the popularity of velvet—both plain and printed—for the coming season. One clever costume noted on the Avenue combined a sleek black satin skirt with an overblouse of white chiffon printed in blocks indicated by fine black lines and discs in solid black. With it a handsome scarf of silver-tipped fox was worn.

PROTECT PLANTS

When plants become covered with insects, spray them with a syringe, using a suds of naptha soap.

With the Dawn

The morning dawns and now the sun
Peeps up in eastern skies,
And bids the people here on earth
To wake and now arise
To see the glory of his smile
Reflected in the sky,
Informing Morpheus 'tis time
To bid the night good-bye.

The birds are chirping in the trees,
And tell us to awake,
For through the far horizon soon
The sun's bright rays will break,
To shed their luster o'er the world
And bid mankind arise;
For now it surely is the time
To open sleepy eyes.

And, with the beauties of the dawn,
Our daily work, to start;
With joy and laughter ringing through
Each joyous, loving heart.
Such beauty, all around, is found;
It fills us with delight
When we awake at morning with Departure of the night;

For little dew-drops glisten then
Upon the grass, so green;
Like mother nature's diamonds they,
At dawn, are often seen.
Until the sun will drink them up
And, on them, brightly smile;
But on another morn he'll let
All come back awhile.

—Martha Shepard Lippincott.

International Sunday School Lesson for August 5

PAUL IN A ROMAN PRISON

Acts 13:1-5, 13-15, 44-49

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association

Trouble followed success at Philippi. As Paul went daily to his place for teaching, a girl, indwelt with an evil spirit, was met. The demon within cried out against Paul as he passed by. A general study of the Bible, both in the Old and New Testament, indicates that the evil spirits are always especially aggressive when they find their sway in the lives of men is assailed as believers are added to the Kingdom. There is the outcry of conscious inferiority and knowledge of eventual complete overthrow. "For he must reign, till he hath put all his enemies under feet." I Corinthians 15:25. The outcry was against Paul's Lord rather than against His mere messenger. In His Name Paul commanded the evil spirit to come out of the girl and there was instant obedience.

But this girl thereby ceased to be of use to the syndicate that owned her, for they made gain through the devilment of the evil spirt that had possessed her. In some way her outcries had been used in a species of divination akin to modern fortune telling. These man, who cared nothing for humanity but only for personal monetary interests, laid forcible hands on Paul and Barnabas and dragged them before the magistrates who were influenced, probably with a bribe, to agree with the complainants, who demanded that these strangers be imprisoned because they had stopped their questionable income.

Hours of misery began with the cruel beatings, after which these friendly men were placed for special security in the inner prison, and that they might not escape in any possible manner their feet were fastened between two boards grooved enough to hold their ankles.

Long since they had learned that trouble-time should invariably be prayer-time and one can always have access direct to the Throne of Grace. In their prayer they rested their case with the Almighty. He has promised to be our Burden-Bearer as well as our Sin-Bearer. It was Peter who learned the truth: "Casting all your anxiety upon Him, because He careth for you," I Peter 5:7. Martin Luther said: "When your troubles become too great for prayer, then begin to sing." Paul and Silas broke forth in singing because they were assured that their prayers were heard and would be answered in God's time and way.

"Suddenly there was a great earthquake" and all the incarcerated men, as well as Paul and Silas, found themselves free as walls fell apart and permitted them to go at pleasure. The jailer was also awakened and was the most frightened man there. He drew his sword to kill himself before another could do it to him, for his life would be the forfeit if even one prisoner escaped. Paul, the always thoughtful, cried out that no one had run away. Then the keeper was still more afraid and used all courtesy as he brought these men forth. Meanwhile he recalled at least something of their teachings, which had become common report. He realized that their instructions must be truth and asked for himself: "Sirs, what must I do to be saved?" Paul at once gave the answer, which is still the only reply to make to any inquirer after everlasting life: "Believe in the Lord Jesus, and thou shalt be saved."

JUNIOR LEAGUE VERY ACTIVE

Boys' Team, Under Supervision of Bill Kersey, Are Making Great Strides

Bill Kersey, Chairman of the Junior Council Baseball League, wants everybody in Palmyra to know that this league is making great strides and the teams playing are most enthusiastic. It is a four-team league, consisting of Riverview, Indians, Victor Juniors (colored boys), and K. of C. Cadets.

They play four afternoons each week and the first half was won by the strong Riverview club. Victor Juniors seem to have taken charge of things in the second half and are now in the lead, having suffered no defeats and winning all their games by large scores.

The league has attracted a lot of attention among the boys of the town and there seems to be a growing interest shown by others, for the attendance at the games is quite encouraging.

Parents should take more interest in the athletic events at the ball park under the able leadership of Chairman Bill. Bill says your children are as safe there as playing in front of your home, as he or one of his chief lieutenants are always on guard to see that things run smoothly.

Of course, when the second half is over, there will be a play-off between the winners of each half for the Junior championship of Palmyra. And who knows but that the winner may be scheduled to play the Riverton Juniors?

The Palmyra Community Movement has promised prizes for the winners. Just what that will be has not been determined, but you can bet the boys are going to be mighty proud of it, whateve it is.

FOREST REVENUE JUMPS

Revenue derived from the New Jersey State Forests during the past fiscal year, a period extending from July 1, 1927 to July 1, 1928, shows an increase of 88 per cent. above that received the previous year and despite the necessary increase in personnel and operating expenses, the State Forests have continued to pay 18 per cent. of their total cost as they did for the fiscal year of 1926-27, according to a report issued Monday by the Forestry Division, of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development.

A TAILORED THEME

With the decline of flat necklines and the development of collar and scarf effects, the shirt-bosom theme asserts itself in smart and youthful ways for tailored frocks. Tucked georgette and satin in shades of beige or nude are often used for the shirt-bosom vestes; again it is of the same material as the frock, the line of its stitching being the only indication of its presence.

Men do not farm merely for profit. They farm because land ownership and management, plus independence, give them intense pleasure. If profit were the only inducement there would be no farmers.

COUNTY HISTORY OF 25 YEARS AGO

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror Aug. 12, 1903

It is said that Captain Martin L. Haines, of Vincentown, expects to harvest 7,000 bushels of cranberries this season.

The big iron works of the Devlin Company, Burlington, will start work next Monday with about one hundred hands.

Dr. Richard E. Brown, one of the oldest medical practitioners in the county, died suddenly in his home at Mount Holly on Friday morning from an affection of the heart. He was born in Vincentown in 1840 and graduated from the Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, in 1862.

Charles K. Chambers, of Mount Holly, well known member of the Burlington county' bar and solicitor for the Board of Freeholders, met sudden death while bathing in the ocean at Seaside Park on Monday afternoon. Unusual exertion in an effort to reach shore against a strong undertow, is supposed to have affected Mr. Chambers' heart, causing death. His mother, wife and two children stood on the shore and saw the sad event. He was 36 years of age.

Trotting Matinee

There was a large attendence at the trotting matinee at the Mount Holly Fair ground on Thursday. Six races were run off. Fred B. Shreve acted as starting judge. The best time was a heat in 2.14¼ made by Richard Lamb's b. m. Miss Mills.

There was a surprise at the morning service of the Moorestown Baptist Church when the pastor, Rev. W. T. S. Lumbar, announced his resignation. He has accepted a call from the Mount Pleasant Baptist Church, Newark.

A potato weighing 32½ ounces is on exhibtion in Moorestown. It was raised by Samuel T. Workman.

The Seaside Park Yacht Club again carried off the honors in the annual race for the Sewell cup on Saturday afternoon. Express, a new boat added to the club last week, finished frst. Her time was 1.23.05.

From Mirror of August' 19, 1903

Good prices were obtained at a sale of stock by Stevenson Brothers, near Jacksonville, on Wednesday; cows bringing from $35 to 50; heifers, $15 to $24; steers, $27 to $35.50; sows, $21 to 22; shoats, $10.50 to $16.25.

The Board of Freeholders has awarded a contract to J. T. Severns' Sons & Co., Burlington, for 100 boxes to be used in the coming primary election. The contract price is $2.92 each.

Preliminary practice and training of the University of Pennsylvania football squad will take place at Beach Haven, beginning August 26. Rooms for the students and trainers have been engaged at the Baldwin Hotel. Among the stars are Bert Carnet, George Brook, Truxton Hare and Jack Minds.

The experiment of using individual communion cups has proven very satisfactory to members of the Moorestown Baptist Church.

The expense of the recent smallpox epidemic in Bordentown will amount to $8,000, including treatment of 24 cases and erection of a municipal hospital.

Admiral John J. Read, of Mount Holly, has been named chairman of the Federal Lighthouse Board with headquarters in Washington. This is a position of responsibility and one sought by naval officers of high rank. After serving about a year and a-half, he will be retired from service, having reached the age limit. He has had a long and honorable career in the navy.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By EDSON R. WAITE, Shawnee, Oklahoma

That the real, great issue in the presidential campaign of 1928 has already been settled. It was settled by the conventions in Kansas City and Houston when two candidates were nominated because they represented the demands of the voters in two great political parties.

Not the personality of the candidate, not his advocacy of a great reform nor his opposition to an existing condition wins for him the required number of votes at national conventions as a general rule. The choice too often is made by party managers. This year the managers in both parties made the attempts expected of them; they attempted to ignore the decrees of the voters at primaries. And they failed. The choice of the voters, plainly expressed, prevailed.

Kansas City and Houton have not settled the issue for all time, for this is a perpetual question which must be decided anew every four years in the United States. Wisely, or not, the majority of voters in the Democratic party wanted the governor of New York for their presidential nominee; the Republican voters wanted the Secretary of Commerce. But four years hence there will be other candidates, and once more the people in the two parties must make a decision.

That was the real issue of the political year 1928, an issue that goes deper into American political life than any other. When the people make their demand in unmistakable fashion they can always win. Now they have made their trial choices; their final selection will be made in November, and the great principles of Government of the United States by the people of the United States will have been more firmly fixed than ever in American consciousness.

RUBBISH FIRE RISKS

The Burlington Chamber of Commerce, in a bulletin, has asked residents to guard against fires prevalent at this time of the year. The danger of a rubbish fire and the burning of leaves are pointed out. The chamber asked resident to co-operate with firemen in lessening fire hazards.

New Color Films

GEORGE EASTMAN

Kodak King, has introduced a process whereby amateur motion pictures may reproduce scenes in full natural colors. The new process utilizes a three color "light filter" and a new film with minute cylindrical lenses.

WATER CARNIVAL AT MOORESTOWN

Friday afternoon, August 24, at 2 o'clock, a demonstration in Red Cross life-saving and a water carnival will be held at the Moorestown Water Works Park.

J. Ralph Goldy, the life-guard in charge, has arranged a splendid program. Victor H. Hartshorn, the Burlington County representative of the American Red Cross Life-saving Association, will be on hand to take part in the program and will present buttons, badges and emblems to those who have passed the various phases of the Red Cross work.

Mr. Hartshorn will open the afternoon's program with a short talk on the Red Cross work and give several demonstrations. The remainder of the program follows:

Beginners' tests: swim 25 yards, turn around and swim back.

Swimmers' tests: one dive; swim 100 yards, using two strokes; float 25 feet; surface dive for object and a demonstration in artificial resuscitation.

Junior tests, Senior tests, races: under water swim, 75-yard—boys, 75-yard—girls.

Demonstration of floating, floating contest open, novelty attractions, not to be announced until it is time for for them to be run off.

To conclude the program Mr. Hartshorn will make the awards to those who have successfully completed the Red Cross tests.

Everyone is welcome to attend. There will be no admission charge made for this program.

LOUISIANA PURCHASE

In the treaty providing for the Louisiana purchase there was do definition of the boundaries of the territory. When the American commissioners insisted upon a definition of the extent they were informed that the boundaries were the same as they had been the French; that is, according to Barthier's original treaty of retrocession. It included Louisiana west of the Mississippi, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota west of the Mississippi, the Dakotas, Nebraska, Wyoming, Montana, most of Kansas, Indian territory and Colorado east of the Rocky mountains.

HEISLER CLUB SPEAKER

Value of service clubs was the keynote of an excellent address delivered at last week's dinner-meeting of the Burlington Kiwanis Club by William H. Heisler, of Pemberton, lawyer and member of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, yesterday. Mr. Heisler also is a member of the Pemberton Rotary Club, a hustling organization that has been receiving treatment in the civic interest of the pretty town on the upper reaches of the Rancocas.

Plan Big Tour

The State Poultry Association has arranged a 3-day tour through Delaware and Maryland, and the the U. S. Government Experimental Station at Beltsville, Maryland. The dates set for this tour are August 27, 28 and 29. Besides visiting several of the good poultry farms in those two states, an opportunity will be had to see the Maryland egg-laying contest at College Park, Maryland.

The tour has been arranged by L. M. Black, the Poultry Specialist from New Brunswick, and all details are complete for a very educational trip. It will be necessary, however, for all who intend to go on this tour to make reservations not later than August 18. These reservations should be made with County Agent C. A. Thompson, Mount Holly, who also has a complete itinerary which he will gladly furnish to anyone interested.

Rush for Home Agents

Reports from the state extension service headquarters at New Brunswick indicate that within the next few months a home demonstration agent will be installed in nearly every county of New Jersey, as a result of the large appropriation set aside by the federal government during the last session of Congress.

Because of the special qualifications required for these agents, efforts are now being made to obtain contacts with capable women before the demand in other states depletes the supply. In commenting on the situation officials of the extension service point out that New Jersey is particularly fortunate in that thirteen of her counties have long ago appointed agents, thus leaving only eight to be supplied.

Inquiry at the New Brunswick office of the extension service reveals that the apportionment of federal money for counties without home demonstration agents amounts to $2,400 each, thus leaving about $1,500 to be raised in the counties. It was pointed out that in many counties such an expenditure amounts to less than one cent a year taxation per $10,0000 valuation.

One interesting feature of the Capper-Ketchem bill which makes the federal money available is that, from now until January 1, the full salaries and expenses of agents will be paid by the United States Government. After that date the maximum allowance from this source continues at the $2,400.

Persons desiring to make a little meat go a long way and thereby cut expenses have their opportunity in using salads extensively. For, points out Marie Doermann, New Jersey extension specialist in foods, many highly nutritious and palatable combinations can be prepared either with very little meat or no meat at all.

Salads of high food value can be made of egg, cheese, meat, or fish combined with vegetables and salad dressing, points out the specialist. Of the meats, veal, beef, pork, lamb or chicken are suitable. Trim off any fat after the meat has been cooked, then cut it into cubes. Any meat or fish salad is improved in flavor if three or four tablespoons of French dressing are poured over the cut meat an hour or two before the meal is served. Dice as much celery as meat. If celery is not available substitute cabbage or cucumbers. A few sweet pickles or stuffed olives add a pleasing flavor. Add a sufficient amount of mayonnaise or any other desired salad dressing to bind the salad materials together. Season to taste and serve on a bed of crisp lettuce. Sliced tomatoes placed around the salad makes this a most satisfying meal. Cooked potatoes, diced, or peas may be added depended upon the flavor and food value desired in this one dish.

Lobster, shrimp, crab, tuna, salmon, and other fish are prepared in salads in a similar way. Hard-cooked eggs combine well with fish salads. Mayonnaise dressing is generally used in a salad to be served as the main dish, as it has more food value than a boiled dressing.

A combination vegetable salad in which each cooked vegetable is allowed to stand an hour or more in the ice box to marinate in a little French dressing, then served on a large platter with each vegetable in a nest of crisp lettuce by itself is very palatable. Hard-cooked eggs or balls of cheese rolled in chopped nuts add moore food value to this salad.

Kidney bean salad is tasty for variety. Combine 2 cups of kidney beans, one-quarter cup of nut meats, 1 cup of diced celery, one-half cup of diced sweet pickles, and one-quarter teaspoon of salt, and enough mayonnaise to bind the salad together.

The success of all these salads depends upon having all the materials chilled and the seasonings well blended, Miss Doermann advises.

State Society Tours This Section's Big Fruit Growing Area

Counties from Sussex to Cape May, in New Jersey, and a few Pennsylvania counties were represented in the tour and summer meeting of the State Horticultural Society Tuesday of last week. The tour was through the intensive fruit growing area of this county ,in the vicinity of Moorestown and Marlton, about 140 automobiles, carrying 600 men and women interested in horticulture, were in the party.

The tourists assembled at the home farm of former Senator Emmor Roberts, near Moorestown, in the morning, where a stationary spray plant, covering 45 acres of apple trees, was inspected; also his fruit packing house in which a Skinner grader and Andy Moe wiper are operated.

The first stop was at the Stonyview farm of Lester Collins, between Delair and Pensauken, where two types of fruit washing machines were in operation, also grader and wiper. The packing house there is capable of handling 2,000 bushels of apples a day. Mr. Collins has 85 acres of bearing pear trees on his farm.

The next stop was at the Campbell Soup Company's farms, near Cinnaminson, where new varieties of tomatoes were seen, also the largest tomato plant ground in the east. Over fifteen million plants were grown on these farms this year.

A most delightful luncheon was furnished to the numerous tourists at the farm of E. A. Mechling by Mr. Mechling and B. S. Mechling. Here a meeting was held on the beautiful and spacious lawn in front of the Mechling home.

Addresses By Specialists

John H. Hankinson, of Pennington, president of the Horticultural Society, called the meeting to order, and after a vote of thanks was given to the Mechlings for their hospitality, introduced the speakers.

W. W. Oley, chief of the State Bureau of Markets, Trenton, told of Fruit Crop Condition and Marketing Prospects. He gave a number of statistics on fruit crops of the country and Europe. The crop of commercial apples in the United States this year is about normal, being 33 billion barrels. In New Jersey it is approximately ten percent less than last year, being about 6,700,000 barrels. New York has about double last year's crop it being about 1,900,000 barrels in 1928. Europe, as a whole, shows a decrease over last year, so that there should be a fair export market.

"Prospects are that fair prices will be obtained for fall and winter apples," said Mr. Oley, "but not as high as last year, when abnormal returns were received."

New Jersey is about the only peach-producing state that has a reduced crop of that fruit this year, although there is somewhat of a slump in the Maryland output. The crop of the country amounts to about 67 million bushels, which is above normal.

Vegetable Situation

Prof. L. G. Schermerhorn, head of the Department of Agricultural Experiment Station, reported that the vegetable market is not as good as it might be, but he hopes for improvement in the fall. Competition of other states is getting enormous, he said. Forty-one states and nine foreign countries are now shipping vegetables to New Jersey's principal markets, New York City and Philadelphia, so that only about 25 percent of the produce used in those cities now come from this state.

Raising of superior vegetables and intensive farming is his remedy to meet this competition. He referred especially to how asparagus, tomatoes, and peppers may be improved in quality and quantity.

Development of Fruit Trees

Prof. M. A. Blake, chief of the Division of Horticulture at the State Experiment Station spoke on Late Developments in Connection With Fruit Trees. The checkered weather of this year, he said, had a bad effect on the fruit crops. Extraordinary low temperatures in January either killed peach buds or prevented proper set of the buds and seven inches of rain in June and eight inches in July was another deterrent to a good crop.

Prof. Blake spoke about the susceptibility of trees to the Oriental peach moth, a great pest; told about experiments that are being made to determe proper fertilization of soil, and spoke about new varieties of apples and peaches. Texture of these varieties is being observed in order to get good fruit with best shipping qualities.

Byron T. Roberts, of Marlton, who was scheduled to speak on Spray Residue Situation, was absent on account of illness. Mr. Roberts was chairman of the committee which so successfully arranged this summer meeting of the society.

Joseph Barton substituted in giving a talk about spray residue, which means the amount of arsenate that is left on fruit after it has been sprayed. New Jersey has met this objection by using new sprays recommended by the experiment station that do not contain objectionable chemicals, or has washed its apples. Pure food inspectors pass most of the Jersey product, finding it to be satisfactory, and import fruit has been reported to be satisfactory in that respect.

Fruit Insect Pests

Dr. T. J. Headlee, entomologist, spoke about insect pests. He advised that the fight on codling moth be concentrated on the first brood, which usually is the spray applied early in June. This is the parent of the second brood, so that obviously the second breeding will be reduced to a minimum if the first spraying is effective.

An effort is being made, Dr. Headlee said, to get a non-arsenical spray to obviate washing of fruit. An oil and pyrethrum solution is under experiment that is believed will be satisfactory.

The pepper maggot, which is troubling growers, can be controlled by calcium arsenate, present experiments indicate, said Prof. Headlee. He also talked briefly on control of Oriental peach moth and Leopard moth.

Dr. W. H. Martin, plant pathologist, spoke about plant diseases, all of the old ones still being present, with some new ones to contend with. Among the new pests is one on cherries and one on tomatoes. The latter is carried by seed, which can be met by disinfecting the seed. Pea rot, which has been more or less prevalent, can be greatly reduced by proper fertilization of soil. Tuber rot of red skin tomatoes can be eradicated by spraying with Bordeaux mixture.

Apple scab, which is bad this year, due to wet weather, can be stopped by spraying.

A. J. Farley, of New Brunswick, secretary of the society, announced that the annual meeting and show will be held in Atlantic City on December 5, 6 and 7.

Educational exhibits of fruits and vegetables were shown on Mr. Mechling's lawn, also early varieties of apples and peaches that were entered for prizes. The awards were as follows:

NO IMPROVEMENTS WANTED

Threats to help up state school money if they did not approve a proposition to build an addition to the Jacobstown school and thus meet educational requirements had no effect on the voters of North Hanover township at a special election last week. For the fourth time they voted the thing down and the Board of Education is still left up in the air. There is no joke about holding up state school money, as this is all settled in the Department at Trenton.

MAPLE SHADE JURY DECIDES

Recorder A. M. Addison held civil court last week when a jury of Maple Shade men decided a controversy over a realty deal. Walter Dicks sued Elmer Carr for the return of a deposit of $100 on a house on Mecray Lane. Carr made caims of damages to the property which Dicks claimed were offset by repairs he had made. The jury was impressed by the plaintiff's testimony that he had agreed to purchase the property from F. B. Booth, real estate dealer, but Carr, the owner, failed to go through with the transaction.

SIMPLY AMAZING

—the goodness that has been put into this nickel cigar

Is FIVE cents your limit on the price of a cigar? All right. That doesn't mean sentencing yourself to a punk smoke. Put some fire to one end of a Havana Ribbon, put yourself on the other end—and we guarantee you a smoke that'll positively bring joy to your taste.

Today's Havana Ribbon is absolutely unique among cigars. We contend that it contains more good tobacco than was ever before put into a nickel cigar.

Many five-cent cigars are usually made largely from tobaccos that are cast aside in the making of higher-priced cigars . . . the bitter under-ripe top leaves of the tobacco plant, the flat-tasting over-ripe bottom leaves, scraps, "clippings," and such. But Havana Ribbon is made entirely of selected fully-ripe, long-filler middle leaves. You get the true tobacco aroma; a smooth, flavor-laden, mellow-mild smoke that is simply amazing for the money.

Let's step up to the nearest cigar counter right now for a show-down.

STREET PAVING CONSIDERED BY BORO COUNCIL

Palmyra Officials Receive Inquiries From Lincoln and Washington Aves.

WOULD COST $250 PER 50-FOOT LOT

Engineers Are Instructed to Obtain Further Data on Proposition

Requests for the concrete paving of Washington and Lincoln avenues, the ordinance providing for the widening of Broad street and a petition from the Public Service Corporation asking for permission to run busses in coordination with the existing trolley service were the main topics considered at the meeting of Palmyra Borough Council Tuesday night.

The paving proposition is thoroughly discussed in the following extract from the written report of the Roads and Streets Committee:

"The chairman of the Committee has been asked by a resident of Lincoln avenue to give him information concerning the cost of paving that street and this request was followed by another property-owner of Washington avenue for the same information. Messrs. Remington & Vosbury have agreed to furnish this information without cost to the Borough."

$250 in Ten Years

"It was the opinion of the two residents that they would be willing to pay up to $250 themselves over a period of ten years for a paved street and they felt that they could induce a number of other property owners to join them in a petition to have the paving done under a direct assessment."

"Remington & Vosbury have informally stated that concrete paving could be laid, with three foot concrete gutters and a seven inch concrete bed, reinforced, for the sum of $250, plus interest, for each fifty foot lot, due to the low prices prevailing at this time. They will later confirm these figures."

"The information asked for will be supplied to those making the inquiry but there are several factors that should be given consideration and that should be understood before anything definite is done."

"First: Character of Paving. Concrete is conceded to be the most durable material, but it is a question as to whether a strictly residential street would require concrete paving and the Borough should have some form of paving program stipulating the character of paving best suited for the different thoroughfares so that paving done now would not conflict with other paving done in the future."

No Tax Exemption

"Second: It would have to be understood by those property owners that in having paving done on their own petition and at their own cost would not relieve them of their proportionate cost of paving done by the Borough later, on other streets and under the plan of general taxation."

"Third: Any contract entered into for paving the two streets in question would obligate the Borough for the cost of the intersections and before the petitions are circulated the matter should be put before Borough Council to determine whether it would favor the project."

"Fourth: Should the property owners and the Borough be willing to undertake the paving on the streets mentioned the question of drainage must be considered. At present, during the height of every heavy storm, the inlets at the corners of Broad Street and the adjacent sidewalks are flooded for probably fifteen or twenty minutes and it has been suggested that the installation of inlets on each side of Washington avenue and Lincoln avenue at Spring Garden street with a twenty inch storm sewer down the center of each street would eliminate the difficulty. This would cost about $1200 on Lincoln avenue and a larger amount on Washington avenue. If this installation were found necessary it is understood that the cost would be included in and distributed over the entire street as it would be construed as a benefit to all the property owners on that street, but it should be known and understood by the petitioners."

"The Committee does not wish this report construed as an endeavor to urge paving but as a matter of record as to the thought of some of the property owners and some of the factors relating to the question."

Further Investigation

After discussing the report the engineers were instructed to look into the matter and make known their findings at a later date.

The ordinance for the widening of Broad street from Garfield avenue to Morgan and from Cinnaminson to Leconey was brought up for first reading and passed unanimously without discussion.

This ordinance provides for the acquiring through condemnation procedure or otherwise the property along Broad street in the two blocks mentioned in line with the curb now existing between Cinnaminson avenue and Garfield. A board will be appointed to assess the damages or the benefits to the properties as the case may be. The paving will be paid for out of general taxation.

May Abandon Trolleys

The petition from the Public Service Corporation asking for approval of coordinated bus and trolley service was acted upon favorably after members of Council were assured by the solicitor that this could not effect the rights or income of the Borough in any way.

This move is looked upon as being the first step in discontinuing the trolley service altogether and supplanting with the more modern bus service.

The building inspector reported that permits had been issued for the construction of four houses and several smaller jobs amounting to $22,405.00. The permits for new houses were as follows:

H. J. Kemmerle, 315 Garfield avenue, $6,300; H. William, two bungalows, Pennsylvania avenue, $4,000 each; John S. Warner, 105 Martland avenue, $4,500.

The Police Department reported two arrests for reckless driving, two arrests for breaking traffic sign, seven arrests for disorderly conduct and that Officer Nelson Wallace had returned to duty after having been off for ten weeks owing to shot wounds received while on duty.

TALK ISN'T CHEAP IN MOORESTOWN

"Sassy" Speeder Gets "Clocked" for $25 in Police Court

The old theory that "talk is cheap" was forcefully contradicted for Irwin Heim, Clifton Heights, Pa., in the Moorestown police court Monday.

Heim was arrested by Officer Walter A. Errickson. He was charged with reckless driving. The Officer found him to be a very "sassy" customer, and after some difficulty landed him at Town Hall for a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston.

"You can't fine me," shouted the speeder. "You can't prove how fast I was going for I wasn't clocked."

"You're clocked now," replied the judge. "You're clocked for a fine of $25 and costs and you'll be clocked for another 'twenty-five' if you don't shut up."

Needless to say, the recorder's "clocking" was sufficient to quiet Heim.

Two other speeders were arrested by Officer Errickson last Friday. They were tried befor Recorder Johnston and were fined $5.00 and costs apiece. The offenders were:

Claude Meyers, 731 North Forty-fourth street, Philadelphia, and Frederick E. Glassman, 2015 East Cornwald street, Philadelphia.

TENNIS STARS WIN FROM PYNE POINT

Lose Only One Match in Nine Without Services of First Ranking Player

The Palmyra Tennis Association scored its most impressive victory of the year in defeating the Pyne Poynt Club, of Camden, on the home courts last Thursday evening by a score of eight matches to one.

The Palmyra team was without the services of its captain and first ranking player, Roy Hardy, who was on the sidelines suffering from a severe cold.

It was necessary to play this tournament in the evening, as it had rained the Saturday it was originally scheduled. Darkness prevented the finishing of one of the doubles contests, which was played Tuesday evening.

Robert Hobbs, Palmyra's number two player, disposed of L. Allen in straight sets, 6-1, 7-5. C. Watson, of Palmyra, had an easytime in winning from R. A. Roberts, 6-4, 6-4.

Arthur Wright, of Palmyra, won from W. Young, 6-2, 7-5. Jack Eisley defeated his singles opponent with the loss of but one game, 6-1, 6-0.

Harry Strang was the only Palmyra player to lose. He was defeated after three gruelling sets by C. Tompkins, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3. William Erhardt won from E. Leahman, of Pyne Poynt, 7-5, 6-3.

In the doubles matches Hobbs and Eisley, Palmyra, defeated Haines and Allen, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4. Wright and Watson won from Roberts and Young, Pyne Point, after three hard sets, 7-5, 4-6, 6-4. Strang and Hagstoz, Palmyra, played brilliantly to trim Tompkins and Perkins in straight sets, 6-1, 6-2.

DISBANDS AFTER SIX GAMES

Mount Holly's independent baseball team, which has been playing games on R. & P. field on Sundays, has disbanded. After giving the experiment a fair trial, Ernest "Cap" Nixon, Ernest "Spotty" McCue and Elwood Fritter, backers of the enterprise, concluded that there are not enough people interested in Sunday baseball to warrant continuing.

AMERICAN LEGION PLAN CARNIVAL

Delanco A. A. Offers Use of Grounds for Staging the Event

At the last meeting of the Riverside Post No. 146, American Legion, tentative plans were made for the third annual carnival, which is to be held September 13, 14 and 15.

Commander Whomsley again appointed "Ollie" Evans as general chairman of this event. This is the third consecutive year that "Ollie" has had charge of this big event and he promises a variety of novelties.

The Delanco Athletic Association has very kindly offered the use of the Association's stands and carnival grounds. It will be remembered that the Association did the same thing last year. The Legion appreciates the kindness of this neighboring club and wishes to publicly thank them.

The next meeting of the Riverside Post will be held Friday evening, September 7, at which time the annual election of officers for the coming year will be held. The following members were named to represent the local post at the State Convention to be held at Bridgeton, August 31 and September 1: Jack Whomsley, H. W. Green, Isador Worth and Oliver Evans. The last two are alternates.

DELANCO A. A. READY FOR MINIATURE FAIR

Annual Carnival Starts Saturday and Lasts Till Labor Day

The Burlington County Fair in miniature will be held under the auspices of the Delanco Athletic Association on the Delanco Athletic Ground, Burlington avenue, from August 25 to September 3.

This affair always brings a large gathering from the surrounding towns and a vaudeville attraction is offered every evening on the large open air dancing pavilion. Dancing will be held this year the same as before and a well known orchestra will be on hand to furnish the syncopation.

There will be stands of the usual kind offering sugar, aluminum, lamps, traveling bags, groceries and hundreds of other prizes. Two or three Bingo stands will be in operation and several new games will be introduced for which prizes of the highest type will be offered.

DARKEN TAN SHOES

ANOTHER BROKEN WRIST

Roy E. Johnson, of New Egypt, who got some publicity some time ago after he had broken his wrist while playing ball, and he's a very good player if he would only stick together therefor, and because in his young life he has had his arms, leg, fingers, nose and so on broken, is determined to stay in this broken-up picture. To add to the fury last week he re-broke his wrist while visiting at Point Pleasant.

EDUCATED AT MOUNT HOLLY

The usual prominence of Mount Holly in affairs of wide importance, sometimes covering national and international developments, is still not to be denied, for the town is now shown to have a connection with the engagement of former Champion Gene Tunney to Miss Mary Lauder, of much social standing. This connection dates back perhaps a little over 40 years, but it holds good and calls to mind the prominence that was once enjoyed by the father of the scholarly pugilist's fiancee in his school days at the old Mount Holly Academy.

BOY DRIVES, FATHER FINED

A fine of $50 for allowing his son, Joseph, 14 years old, to drive his truck was imposed upon Frank Mainane, of 425 Filmore street, Riverside, by Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, of Beverly, last week.

Joseph was arrested by Trooper Horn, of the Bridgeboro station of the state police, for driving an automobile without a license. His father was later apprehended. Besides his own fine, Mainane had to pay the $25 fine imposed on his son.

Free Inspection of Brakes, Lights, Steering Mechanism at All Garages

Official details of the Save-A-Life Campaign and mechanical inspection of all automobiles and trucks in this state from Sept. 1 to Sept. 30, inclusive, authorized by proclamation of Governor Harry A. Moore, have been announced by William L. Dill, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

Brakes, lights, horns, steering mechanism, windshield wipers and mirrors will be the salient points of inspection, William L. Dill stated, since these parts or equipment are among the first to become defective, and when defective are responsible for a large number of the serious accidents that take place every year.

The official inspection will be entirely free of charge, due to the co-operation of garages, car dealers, repair shops and service stations in every community of the state, which have indicated their willingness to serve as official state inspection stations and make the required examination without any charge to the owner, the state or community.

Every leading motor organization, commercial and civic bodies, insurance companies and railroads have expressed their willingness to co-operate in the Save-A-Life movement.

Directed Against Recklessness

The Save-A-Life campaign is really an intensive effort to cut down the accident rate in New Jersey and to make the state a model in this respect. The campaign is directed solely against reckless driving and the mechanical defects that are apt to develop in the safety factors in cars and trucks under service conditions, because such defects are one of the leading causes of motor accidents. It is the belief of automobile authorities throughout the United States that if all motor vehicles could be quickly and easily controlled by their drivers the accident rate would rapidly diminish. "The Save-A-Life Campaign is a national movement in this direction and New Jersey should take a leading role," the commissioner said.

The official method of the campaign and of the inspection will be as follows:

1—Every automobile and truck in the state to be inspected by a competent mechanic in a reliable service station to be designated and appointed with approval of the Motor Vehicle Department, and if the car or truck is found unsafe or to have mechanical defect it must be put into safe condition before an official inspection tag will be issued to the owner.

Official Stickers

2—Official inspection stickers will be issued to all cars and trucks that have been examined and found to be in good condition, or that have been put into good condition after being examined and found to need adjustment.

3—In order to remove any possible cause for resentment, inconvenience, hardship or loss of time on the part of the automobile or truck owner, this inspection will be made absolutely free of charge at official inspection station, and the vehicle owner is at liberty to choose any official station he prefers.

4—Any adjustment or repair found necessary to insure safe operation may, at the owner's order and with his permission, be charged for at the usual rate of charge for such mechanical service by the station. Any agreement in this connection is solely between the vehicle owner and the inspection station.

Chief Inspection Points

5—Brakes, horns, lights, steering mechanism and mirrors will be the chief points of inspection.

6—Brakes will be tested as follows: 2 wheel brakes car going 20 miles per hour must stop in 50 feet. 4 wheel brakes car going 20 miles per hour must stop in 35 feet. Emergency brakes car going 20 miles per hour must stop in 75 feet. Trucks over three tons going 20 miles per hour must stop in 75 feet by foot brake. In case a brake testing machine is used the equivalent of above is required.

7—Horns shall be tested by pressing the horn button and determining whether the signal is prompt and gives sufficient warning.

8—Lights shall be tested as follows: Bulbs in headlights shall be checked for conformity to state law. Bulbs showing signs of blackening or a whitish discoloration inside the glass are insufficient and should be discarded. All bulbs which are burned out or missing must be replaced. Lights must have proper lens and the reflector must be bright. All tail lamps must have a red lens.

Steering Mechanisms

9—Steering mechanisms must be examined in all their wearing parts. These wearing parts must appear to be sufficiently strong to avoid any possibility of breaking under ordinary conditions, thus causing an accident.

10—Windshield wipers (if automatic or electric) must operate sufficiently to give clear vision at all times; (if manual) the rubber "sweeps" shall be in such condition as to clear the glass properly.

11—Truck mirrors are to be inspected to make sure that they are in such condition and so placed as to give good rear visibility.

The co-operation of the motoring public is earnestly requested to make the Save-A-Life Campaign a great success, and in the interest of public safety every car and truck in New Jersey should be wearing its official inspection emblem of civic co-operation and mechanical good order by Sept. 30, when the campaign ends.

State of New Jersey -- Executive Department

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, Automobile accidents are responsible for enormous and unnecessary losses of life, injuries to person and damages to property; and

WHEREAS, A large proportion of these accidents are directly traceable to the failure upon the part of motorists to observe the laws requiring equipment and mechanism to be kept in proper condition; and

WHEREAS, William L. Dill, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles of New Jersey, is charged with the duty of enforcing those laws within this State; and

WHEREAS, Commissioner Dill, to aid in enforcing the motor laws, has arranged, with the cooperation of the automotive industry of the State and all garages and service stations, for an inspection, free of charge, of all motor vehicles during the month beginning September 1, 1928, and ending September 30, 1928, inclusive, such inspection to include an examination of brakes, horns, lights, steering mechanism, mirrors, windshield wipers, registration plates and operator's licenses;

NOW, THEREFORE, I, A. Harry Moore, Governor of the State of New Jersey, do proclaim the period from September 1, I earnestly call upon all owners and operators of motor vehicles to avail themselves of this opportunity to have their motor vehicles inspected without charge, and upon learning of any defects in mechanism or equipment or the adjustment thereof, to have such defects eliminated immediately.

I further urge the press, all motor clubs, chambers of commerce and civic organizations within New Jersey to emphasize the importance of this safety movement as a means of cooperating with the authorities of this State in their effort, through enforcement of the law, to reduce the hazard to life and property occasioned by defective and improperly adjusted automotive equipment.

GIVEN, under my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Jersey, this sixth day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight, and in the Independence of the United States the one hundred and fifty-third.

A. HARRY MOORE, Governor.

By the Governor:

JOSEPH B. FITZPATRICK,
Secretary of State.

HENDRY VISITS HIS OLD HOME TOWN

"Y" Secretary Celebrates Birthday by Trip to Exeter, New Hampshire

One of the enjoyable experiences in connection with the vacation of Secretary Guy C. Hendry of the County YMCA was a visit to the town of his birth, Exeter, New Hampshire, while staying at his boyhood farm home at North Hampton, a few miles near the coast. He celebrated his birthday anniversary on August 26.

While at Exeter he renewed acquaintances with members of the town band, and among the musicians he met while playing a concert was former Judge Henry A. Shute.

Judge Shute is perhaps best known as the author of "The Real Diary of a Real Boy." Even though past seventy years of age the Judge still delights in playing the clarinet at every engagement the band fills, and on a second occasion when Secretary Hendry played with the band he had opportunity to become much better acquainted with this famous author, a musician, too, of real ability.

Upon inquiring as to which of his volumes contained accounts of his band experiences the Judge very modestly mentioned his work, "The Country Band," and graciously added that he had a copy or two around home and would look one up for Secretary Hendry.

This he did, and autographed it.

It is needless to say that this a highly prized book, and Mr. Hendry plans, first, to share it with members of the County YMCA orchestra. He returns to Burlington county this week.

DEMOCRATS SEE AL SMITH

Saturday was a big day for Palmyra Democrats. Shortly before nine o'clock in the morning two mammoth buses pulled up at the station platform to take the crowd to Sea Girt to see Al Smith. After waiting for everyone to show up the buses started on their way, carrying the hosts of Democracy, yes sir, all fourteen of them—counting the bus drivers.

WESTFIELD SCHOOL OPENS ON SEPT. 18

Friends Institution Prepares to Receive Large Quota of Pupils

The approach of September spells one thing in the minds of children—SCHOOL. For 135 years, with the exception of a short period when it was not in operation, Westfield Friends' School has opened its doors each September to receive little folks of this section of Burlington County.

In the early days, the children trudged miles in many cases to the little school building out on the Burlington pike—or rode horseback or were taken in farm wagons in stormy weather. It was the only school in the neighborhood. On September 18, this year's opening date, a large and comfortable motor bus will leave Riverton at 8.15 o'clock with its quota of little folks for the school. The motor bus service was installed several years ago, supplanting the horse-drawn stage which for a long time had furnished the transportation.

The attendance this year is expected to be greater than at any previous time in the school's history. Last year, the building was considerably enlarged to accommodate more spacious classrooms, a luncheon room, and the addition of a kindergarten. The latter proved such a success that an increased number of parents will send their little tots to the Westfield kindergarten this fall to pave the way for first grade work.

A recent analysis of pupils of the first five grades in a certain large school district, according to Miss Naomi Bausman, principal of Westfield Friends' School, revealed that children with kindergarten training seemed to have two and a half times the chance of non-kindergarten pupils of being above average in a group consisting of both types of pupils.

The modern educational system involves six grades in the elementary school, three grades in the junior high school, and three grades in the senior high school. Westfield, with its kindergarten and six elementary grades, is organized to take a child from the start of its education and prepare it efficiently for junior high school work elsewhere.

Miss Bausman's associates on the teaching staff will be the same as last year. On the opening day, Tuesday, September 18, and throughout that week, there will be simply morning sessions. In the second week the full day's schedule will start. Children in the second grade will remain for the full day's session this year instead of being excused at noon as formerly.

It is the intention of the management to keep the school to a size at which the personal attention to each pupil, which has meant so much to its success in the past, will be maintained. On this account, the classes are limited in size. Some are already filled for the coming year and the Committee suggests that parents who contemplate entering children this fall communicate as soon as possible with Miss Naomi Bausman, principal. Up to September 12 she can be addressed at R-2, Lancaster, Pa. After that date, she will be at the school.

A man may have some advantages in life but he can't slip a half pound of clothes over his head and call himself fully dressed.

HEART TAG DAY NEXT SATURDAY

Children Will Compete for Prizes Given by Volunteers of America

Permission has been given to a representative of the Volunteers of America to hold a Children's Heart Tag Day in Riverton and Palmyra on Saturday, September 1, as has been done in nearby communities.

The affair will be sponsored by the following well known leaders in civic and clerical circles: Rev. J. W. Lee, Mayor G. N. Wimer, Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, Mrs Herbert Morris, Mrs. James T. Weart, Rev. William Erhard, with Miss Ruth Miller and Miss Emma Sawyer in charge of headquarters and children's work.

The Volunteers of America has many activities, especially in the larger centers where the needs are greatest; children's homes, day nurseries, homes for aged and for working girls, boys' clubs, employment bureaus, etc. Mrs. Booth's many years of voluntary service in the prisons of the United States are well known. Her's was the first systematic effort to help spiritually the man behind prison walls or to look after his family often left destitute while he served his sentence.

Headquarters for Riverton are to be maintained at the Council Room, Riverton Fire House, in charge of Miss Ruth Miller. Headquarters in Palmyra will be in the Legion Home in charge of Miss Emma Sawyer. Boys and girls over ten years of age are invited to compete for the pretty prizes and the movie passes offered by the merchants.

For the one who secures the largest amount for the tags in Riverton, L. L. Keating's Drug Store will present a Houbigant compact, the second winner will receive a No. 2 Hawkeye camera given by a friend, the third prize will be an Eveready flashlight given by J. B. Collins & Son. Those who do not win prizes but who secure at least $3.00 for their tags will receive a pass to the Broadway Theatre.

The ones who receive the largest amount for the tags in Palmyra, will receive a Hudnut Three Flower compact given by Buchl's Drug Store. The second prize will be a No. 2 Hawkeye camera given by a friend of the movement. The third prize will be a flashlight or pound box of candy given by W. T. MacAllister. The fourth prize will be a barrell of candy. Those who do not win prizes but get as much as $3.00 for the tags will get passes to the Broadway Theatre.

"During the past three years," said Mrs. Booth, recently over the radio, "over 170,000 children in America have been helped to future good citizenship through the work of the Volunteers of America."

An "extra heart" on Saturday will in no wise cause any one discomfort but will help many an unfortunate, so give what you can.

LIONS TO RESUME MEETINGS SOON

First Fall Meeting to be Held Tuesday, September 11, in New Den

The new Lions' den in Society Hall is fast nearing completion and will be ready for occupancy for the first fall meeting, which will be held Tuesday, September 11. A very interesting speaker will be on hand for the occasion and a special program will be provided.

The den is being equipped in the most approved fashion with furniture best suited to the needs of the club. Special banquet tables are being installed such as are used in the Walt Whitman, Bellevue Stratford and other modern banquet rooms. They are round tables, six feet across and may be folded up when not in use.

The electrical fixtures which are being installed are of the latest indirect type and will cast an even mellow light over the entire room. The ceiling is being done in the old English style with exposed beams in dark color. The work is practically completed and the finishing touches will be put on during the next few days.

PUBLIC MEETING ON STREET PAVING

Engineers Will Explain Various Kinds of Material and Cost of Same

As a result of the question of paving being raised by some of the property owners on Lincoln and Washington avenues there will be an informal public meeting held on Wednesday evening, September 25, at eight o'clock, when a representative of Remington and Vosbury, the Borough Engineers, will discuss the subject of paving, the kind and cost.

Mr. George B. Shaner, of Lincoln avenue, and Mr. Edwin A. Peterson, of Washington avenue, have arranged the meeting for the benefit of property owners on these streets, and the Mayor, George N. Wimer, members of Borough Council and the Borough Solicitor, Joseph S. Low, have been asked to be present. All other property owners in the Borough interested in the subject of paving are also invited to attend, and there doubtless will be most interesting discussion and information brought out.

The purpose of the meeting is not to urge general paving in the Borough, although Palmyra is one of the few progressive Boroughs in this locality that does not have paved streets, and is probably being retarded in growth for that reason. It is the intent to discuss the different characters of paving and the cost of each and to determine whether, under the direct assessment plan, it would be of advantage to the property on the two streets mentioned.

Due to recent reduction in the cost of paving the figures to be submitted should be of interest.

BARBER SHOP OPEN

Many Improvements Over Old Shop for Comfort of Patrons

Emerson Wolfschmidt's new barber shop was opened for business the latter part of last week. The new shop is located at 521 Howard street, next to Woolston's Garage.

This business was started 45 years ago by Emerson's father, William Wolfschmidt, and remained in the Main stret quarters, from which Emerson just moved, for 43 years.

Three expert barbers are in attendance all the time and nothing but the best in tonsorial work is practised.

Everything has been worked out in the new home for the comfort and convenience of the patrons.

LEGION CARNIVAL SEPTEMBER 20-22

Post Rodgers Will Hold Annual Frolic to Replenish Treasury

Post Frederick M. Rogers No. 156, at their last meeting went on record to hold the annual carnival on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, September 20, 21, and 22.

The carnival site this year will be the corner of Broad street and Thomas avenue, Riverton, the owners of which have kindly consented to the use of the plot for the Legion frolic.

The local organization, comprising veteran comrades of both towns, has recently been in somewhat straightened financial circumstances due to the heavy current expense in carrying the "Home" and its kindred philanthropic activities, and it is hoped by this carnival to raise sufficient money to carry on the good work.

The next meeting of the post will be held Tuesday, September 4, at which time finished plans for the carnival will be made, also the annual election of officers for the coming year. All members are urged to attend this important meeting and bring along any and all "vets" who haven't as yet "joined up." No doubt many amusing comments will be heard about the State Convention at Bridgeton, which will have been held on the preceding Friday and Saturday, August 31 and September 1. A strong local delegation is going, as well as the Post Bugle and Drum Corps, who will defend the State Championship against strong competition on Saturday. Are you going? Come along and root for "OUR" boys!

LIFE SAVING

Hartshorn Conducts Interesting Demonstration at Cedar Lake

A very interesting demonstration of Life Saving Methods was shown at Cedar Lake, near Mount Holly, last Sunday afternoon. Victor H. Hartshorn, Water Safety Man of the Burlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross conducted the demonstration explaining the fine points.

The members of the Life Saving Corp giving the demonstration were Walter VanSciver, of Beverly; Spencer Cooper, of Beverly; Clarence Winkelspecht, of Beverly; John Schuck, of Beverly; Adolph Hohenstein, of Riverside; Louis Eberly, of Riverside, and Robert Cameron, of Burlington.

The program consisted of the proper methods of approaching a drowning person in deep water, of methods of carrying these struggling, to safety as well as aiding tired swimmers, of breaking various holds, so called death grips and getting the victim to and on the shore. On shore the Shaefer prone pressure method of artificial respiration which is universally accepted as the best method was demonstrated.

The program was enthusiastically received by over one hundred spectators.

ROTARY AT HARVEST HOME

For a diversion and for the benefit of the Asbury M. E. Church, the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club held its regular meeting at the Harvest Home which was held in Taylor's Lane on Thursday evening last. A goodly attendance of the members marked the unique evening. A number of the members took this opportunity of having their wives present also, in order that they too might enjoy the abundant repast that was set.

NURSE SCHOOL FOR HOSPITAL AT MOUNT HOLLY

County Institution to Train Young Women for Fine Profession

STATE EXAMINERS GIVE APPROVAL

Old Buildings Will Be Converted Into Home for Students

The Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly has been approved for establishing a school of nursing and preparations are now under way to have such school started by November 1 for the purpose of training girls to become nurses and encouraging them to follow this noble profession.

The approval comes from the State Board of Examiners of Nurses at Newark, and along with this sanction comes a mighty fine endorsement of the county institution as an ideal place for studency in nursing.

Burlington county people who have made this handsome and well-managed hospital possible have this unstinted endorsement to add to their other pride in the thoroughness and completeness that has entered into the construction and equipping of their new building.

The principal preparation necessary to get the school started is the conversion of the old hospital building into a nurses' home for the students. That work is now in progress and it seems certain that it will be finished in proper time. Each student will have a room.

Want 16 Students

The aim is to have sixteen students in the school the first year. Some young women have been accepted, but more are needed and it is asked that those desiring consideration file their applications at the hospital so they can be handled by Superintendent William P. Glover.

It is desired that applicants be no younger than in the latter part of their eighteenth year, and they must have some high school education, no less than one year, or its equivalent in credits from other schools and institution of learning.

Here is a fine opportunity for young women of Burlington county to learn nursing under ideal conditions "right at home." The opportunity should not be overlooked.

Changes in the hospital organization are being effected from time to time and improvements made where developments and requirements suggest action for increasing efficiency. Miss Margaret Mills has recently become superintendent of nurses and is a most valuable addition to the organization of professional caretakers. She was selected from a list of thirty applicants and she comes with the highest kind of recommendations, it being understood that there was not an adverse criticism of her work from any source with which she has been connected in pursuance of her work.

Graduate of Columbia

Miss Mills is a graduate of Columbia University and the Presbyterian Hospital in Philadelphia. She has had much experience in a supervisory capacity and every day there seems to be new evidence of her ability. Prior to coming to Mount Holly she was connected with the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

The hospital now has two resident physicians. They are Dr. Irving Labinski, of Mattapan, just outside of Boston, and Dr. Louis Vattori, who came from the Bryn Mawr Hospital. They give a fine resident service. Dr. Morris, who has been the resident during the past year, leaves this week, having served the time for which she enrolled.

Miss Dorothy Abbott, of Lewiston, Me., is the new full-time X-ray technician recently arriving. She comes to assist the staff X-ray specialist, Dr. F. P. Borzell, of Philadelphia and Brown's Mills. The time that Dr. Borzell has been able to give, three days a week, has not been sufficient to take care of the work, especially the cases in the emergency class.

It is no small and easy task to perfect the organization of a new hospital, but the problems are being worked out admirably in the manner that only time and trials will suggest.

ALBERT S. GRIFFITH

Professor Albert S. Griffith, 58 years old, and for more than twenty years head of the Palmyra school system, died at his home, 622 Washington avenue, Palmyra, last Thursday morning, following a stroke of paralysis.

Professor Albert S. Griffith suffered a breakdown near the close of the last school term and was forced to discontinue his work. He never regained his health and during the summer resigned his position as supervising principal, so that Paul Y. Eckert, former supervisor at Ocean Grove, could be appointed as his successor.

Funeral services were held Saturday night by the Masonic Lodge with religious services following, at which the Rev. J. William Lee officiated. Interment was made Sunday in the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Camden, Del., with Frank A. Snover in charge.

The deceased was a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, the Masonic Lodge, the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club, the P. O. S. of A., and several other organizations.

He is survived by his widow and a son, Raymond C. Griffith.

NO CLUES FOUND ON STORE THEFT

Thieves Rob Sack's Store But Leave No Trace in Early Morning Burglary

Palmyra police and county detectives are still without a clue to work on in the robbery of Fred Sack's store at 11 West Broad street, Palmyra, last Thursday morning.

The robbery was discovered when Sacks came downstairs at his usual time and he immediately notified the Palmyra police who reported the case to the county authorities. Fliers were sent out at once to all South Jersey points in an effort to locate the thieves.

No estimate has been given out as to the value of the goods taken, but it is thought to run into several hundred dollars. As near as could be ascertained the articles taken consisted of a wrist watch, four Liberty Bond coupons, $20 in gold, a quantity of ladies' silk underwear, gypsy scarfs, men's silk shirts, silk stockings, several neckties, silver ware, towels, two suit cases, a silver cream and sugar set marked with the initial "S" and five loving cups which were won by Harris Sacks while on the track team of the Palmyra High School.

The robbery took place at about 3.30 in the morning as Mr. and Mrs. Sacks were awakened at this time and thought they heard noises downstairs. Sacks went to the head of the stairway and listened but heard no one. He did not know it at the time but the thieves had closed the door at the foot of the stairs to keep from being heard from the second floor.

Apparently the intruders were scared away when they heard footsteps above as there was evidence of a hurried departure.

More concern is felt by the family at the loss of Harris's cups than of the value of the goods taken. Harris was away at the time and is not expected to return for several days and Mrs. Sacks is hoping that the trophies may be recovered before his return. One of the traveling bags had been bought as a gift to the boy and was to be given to him on his return.

The Liberty Bond coupons and money were taken from a pocketbook which had been left in a buffet on the first floor. The buffet was ransacked thoroughly and several small articles taken. The wrist watch was one worn by Mr. Sacks and had been left downstairs.

The intruders gained entrance by "jimmying" a side window and left by the back door. They were thought to have had a truck waiting in the rear of Fortnum's garage, which is next door, but there was no proof of this.

RECKLESS DRIVER CAUSES ACCIDENT

Riverton Man Cut on Eye While Saving Wife and Mother From Injury

Last Friday afternoon about five-thirty Leslie W. Reeves suffered a lacerated eyelid when his car was forced off the road by a reckless driver traveling at a high speed.

Mr. Reeves, his wife and mother and Ezra Carhart had been at the shore and were on their way home, coming across the Plains. To avoid being struck by the recklessly driven car Mr. Reeves pulled his car into the sand at the side of the road. The bumps and force of stopping threw him against something to break his glasses which cut his right eyelid, requiring eight stitches to close the wound.

The injured man was taken to the County Tuberculosis Hospital and the party was told to take him to the Mount Holly Hospital. Some friends of Mr. Reeves took him to Dr. Hollingshead's office in Pemberton where his wound was dressed.

No one else was injured, but all were shaken up considerably and bruised.

MRS. KILLAM E. BENNETT

The friends of Mrs. Killam E. Bennett, of Riverton, were greatly grieved, when on Saturday last, they learned that she had passed away, quietly and peacefully on the afternoon of that day.

Mrs. Bennett had for many years been an invalid, but always a bright and cheerful one. Always ready to give deeply of her sympathy, counsel, and help to all that came to her in their need.

The best portions of her life were indeed, "Those little, nameless, unremembered acts, of kindness and of love."

Mrs. Bennett had been a resident of Riverton for over twenty years, and leaves a husband and one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Coe, also a sister, Mrs. Owen A. Burtner, of California, and a brother, William Gall G. Bennett, of Moorestown.

She was born in Scotsville, near Rochester, New York, in both of which places she leaves many relatives and friends.

The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon at her late residence, Bank avenue, Riverton.

The burial service was read by the Rev. Dr. Mackay, of Moorestown, Mrs. Bennett's rector, the Rev. A. S. Lewis, being away. Dr. Mackay gave a short address, with the following lines for a text. These lines were found in Mrs. Bennett's diary after her death:

"Let my dark hours be dark for me alone,
Nor shadow other lives that I hold dear,
Let me in laughter cloak each useless moan,
And make my little world a world of cheer."

The interment was made in the Friends' Cemetery, Westfield.

The pallbearers were, Joshua Atlee, Lawrence Lippincott, Robert Biddle, Morgan Hatch, Irving Collings and Lester Collins.

FUNDS FOR CANAL AVAILABLE SOON

Abandonment of Old Waterway Will Provide Nearly Million Dollars

To purchase a right-of-way for the New Jersey Ship Canal, between Bordentown, on the Delaware River, and Morgan, on the Raritan Bay, nearly a million dollars will be released with abandonment of the Morris Canal across North Jersey, which is to be completed within a year. The ship canal will shorten the water route between New York and Philadelphia and be the final important link of inland waterways from North to South along the Eastern section of the country.

Built in 1823 and chartered to a private firm for one hundred years, the Morris Canal was much in use until 1871, when it was leased to the Lehigh Valley Railroad, but in 1890 the old boats and the boatmen were largely of the past.

Under an act of 1923, a plan by the Board of Conservation and Development was approved by which the Lehigh Valley Railroad retained possession of the big basin in Jersey City and of rights of way through the city to the Hackensack River and through Phillipsburg.

The state received the sum of $875,000 and retained the little basin in Jersey City, other rights of way along the canal and valuable land and water rights at Greenwood Lake, Lake Hopatcong, Lake Musconetcong, Cranberry Lake and Sexton Falls. The rights of way were sold to municipalities and abutting property owners after the state had acquired them.

Final contracts for dismantling which have just been awarded, include the construction of a dam in the Pompton River, near Pompton Plains and the building of a bridge at Colfax. It is estimated that receipts from the canal from March 1, 1923, to December 31, 1928, will amount to $2,801,951.39 and expenditures to $1,986,244.52. The difference will be available for use by the Board of Commerce and Navigation in the purchase of rights of way for the ship canal and, in addition, an appropriation of $150,000 for this purpose by the 1925 legislature awaits expending.

GUESSWORK TAKEN FROM JELLY MAKING

Advances in culinary art made it possible to reduce greatly the element of chance in jelly making, says Miss Marie Doermann, extension specialist in foods for New Jersey. To the housewife, who is busily engaged with preparations for jelly making at this season of year, Miss Doermann states that pectin, acid, and sugar are the essential substances required to make a clear, sparkling jelly of a beautiful color. Good jelly, when slipped out of a glass, will hold its form and will quiver. It is both tender and firm.

To know whether the fruit juice has pectin in the right proportion, put one tablespoon of witch hazel or grain alcohol in a glass, add an equal amount of hot fruit juice, mix carefully, then let stand a few moments, Miss Doermann states. If sufficient pectin is present it will collect in a fairly solid mass; a small amount will be shown by particles floating in the glass. Watch this test closely, as the alcohol in the witch hazel tends to dissolve the pectin in a short time. Pectin is found in large quantities in fruits that are slightly underripe.

To peaches, sweet apples, quince, and raspberries must be added an acid fruit such as currants, sour apples, or lemon juniice, in order to cause jelling. Commercial pectin may be used with success for this purpose.

Use three-fourths of a cup of sugar to one cup of juice if the test shows a large amount of pectin; but if the test shows small flakes, use less sugar, advises Miss Doermann. Bring the juice to a rapid boil, then add the sugar slowly so the boiling will not cease. Best results are obtained when 4 to 6 cups of juice are cooked at a time.

Test the jelly often. A small dish placed on the ice is thoroughly chilled and will give results more quickly. Pour a tablespoon of jelly in this dish, replace in the ice box or set in a pan of cold water. When the jelly holds together in a mass and is not like syrup the jelly is done. Always remove the kettle from the fire while making a test, as it may become overcooked. Another test is made by dipping a spoon in the jelly. When the mass slides off the spoon in a sheet, leaving the edge clean, the jelly is finished.

When commercial pectin is used the manufacturer's directions should be followed closely.

FIRST ROTARIAN TO ANSWER SUMMONS

Passing of Prof. A. S. Griffith Keenly Felt by Local Club

The first link in the Rotary chain of the Palmyra-Riverton Club was broken in the passing of one of the most beloved members, Prof. A. S. Griffith, or better known by the club as "Griff."

Prof. Griffith was one of those members who, from the very inception of his membership, took Rotary to heart, expounded its principles at every opportunity and lived it in his every day life.

His services on the Rotary Educational Committee were untiring and thorough and for which he received the unanimous commendation of the Club.

Prof. Griffith was always held with high esteem in club circles and his death was a shock to all his fellow members.

The respects of the Club were paid Prof. Griffith on Saturday evening last when a brief ceremony was held at his home in honor of their departed brother.

NO ONE INJURED IN BUS CRASH

Operated by a student-driver, a Pennjersey bus in attempting to pass a car on the River road, near Riverside, Monday night, skidded off the highway, crashed into a telegraph pole and landed in an adjoining field hub-deep in mud. Two passengers in the car at the time suffered slight shock.

According to state troopers of Bridgeboro barracks, the bus, under the supervision of a driver-instructor, Albert Willis, of Riverton, was undamaged and neither of the employes was hurt.

C. of C. IN JOINT OUTING

Enjoy Wednesday Afternoon at Camp Lingohocken, Near Ewansville

Members of the Palmyra and Riverton Chambers of Commerce and their families enjoyed an afternoon's outing at Camp Lingohocken, near Ewansville, Wednesday afternoon.

This was the first joint outing of the two civic bodies and many have expressed a desire to make it an annual affair. The spirit of co-operation is growing between the two organizations and several questions of community interest are being worked out jointly.

The outing was very enjoyable with a variety of activities to provide amusement for everyone. Swimming and canoeing were the big attractions, with quoits for those who did not go near the water.

A basket luncheon was served late in the afternoon and the twilight hours were whiled away with music and cards in the pavilion.

The picnic was held at Lingohocken through invitation of Joseph T. Evans, a member of the Riverton Chamber of Commerce.

CLOSE 'SAND HOLE', WATER IS IMPURE

Typhoid Bacteria Found by State Health Authorities in Famous Bathing Place

The famous old swimming hole, known as the "Sand Hole," near Bridgeboro, which has been one of the most popular spots in Burlington county during the past summer, has been closed and signs posted that the water contains bacteria.

This action was taken after the State Board of Health had made an examination on the request of the Willingboro Township Committee, after a boy, 15 years old, became critically ill in the Burlington County Hospital suffering from typhoid fever.

The Committee also passed a resolution that anybody caught swimming in this hole will be fined $100.

There have been many reports current for quite a time that this water was impure, but this is the first action that has been taken to close the place.

The "Sand Hole" is the result of a sand company excavating near the creek. The water came up from under the sand and forced the company to abondon its operations, leaving a large lake.

Fred Morgan, of Beverly, is the boy who is said to have contracted typhoid at the "Sand Hole."

MADE GAME PROTECTOR

Howard Z. Mathis, of Mount Holly, who has been acting as game protector of South Jersey under a temporary appointment since the death of his father some months ago, has now been given a permanent appointment by the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission. Civil service examinations were held a short time ago and Mr. Mathis's rating entitled him to any consideration that the Commission cared to give him. There were many applicants for the position.

SOLDIER INJURED AT MAPLE SHADE

Member of Medical Corps Suffered Fractured Skull in Crash

A. G. Schultz, a member of the Army Medical Corps stationed at Camp Dix, suffered a fractured shin and a fractured skull as a result of an auto accident on the Moorestown pike in Maple Shade, early Monday morning.

Schultz was returning to Camp Dix at 1 a. m. in an automobile driven by another member of the medical corps, Herbert Huggins. The car was struck from behind by another machine, driven by Hadley Dunn, of West Philadelphia.

Huggins had steered his car to one side of the road, behind a bush, to allow another bus to pass him. Then he turned out to pass the bus in front of him. Dunn later said that he wanted to pass the Huggins car and the bus, and that he hadn't realized that Huggins was turning out. He crashed into him before he could stop.

Maple Shade police hurried Schultz to Cooper Hospital, Camden, where his condition was reported as serious.

Huggins and Isidor Liebovitch, another Camp Dix soldier, who was in Huggin's car, were treated for slight cuts and bruises by a physician. None of the occupants of Dunn's car were injured.

Dunn was released under his own recognizance to await the outcome of Schultz's injuries.

EDWARD H. FLAGG OUT FOR SHERIFF

Riverton Man Announces He Will be Candidate in Spring Primaries

Edward H. Flagg, Jr., of Riverton, is going to join the shrievalty jubilee again. Official announcement to that effect has just been made.

He ran for the office in 1917 and was defeated at the primary election. He tried it again in 1920 and was successful. He served in the sheriff's office from that time to 1923.

During the years following Mr. Flagg has dealt in real estate, having become associated with Thomas Barlow in the development of Maple Shade.

Mr. Flagg was initiated in politics in 1910. During that year he bought a home in Riverton, became interested in civic affairs and served as mayor for four terms. Later he was made a member of Common Council.

Previous to getting into the political procession Mr. Flagg was associated with the Upper Delaware River Transportation Company, a line of steamboats that ran between Burlington and Philadelphia.

Mr. Flagg was born in Chicago in 1868. He received his early education in Brooklyn and later was graduated from the Western Maryland College. This was in 1887. He became a clerk and afterwards went on the stage. Then he became associated with his father in the medicine business.

The first town in which he stopped in Burlington county was Medford, and the year was 1888.

Mr. Flagg married Miss Ella T. Evans, daughter of Joseph R. Evans, of Vincentown.

He is a member of the Riverton Fire Company and one of the officials of the Burlington County Firemen's Association. He seldom ever misses any big firemen's affair, and has been one of the principal speakers on a number of occasions.

Mr. Flagg is the second to join the shrievalty race. Official announcement was made by Roscoe Shinn, of Burlington and Mount Holly, a few weeks ago that he would be a candidate, and it is expected that Coroner Benjamin F. Farner, also of Burlington, will be a candidate.

FIND TOMATO SPOT IN SOUTH JERSEY

Vegetable growers of New Jersey are cautioned to be on their guard against bacterial spot of tomatoes, which, while not a new disease, is this year making its first appearance in the state. This warning was broadcast today by Dr. W. H. Martin, plant pathologist for the N. J. Agricultural Experiment Station, who stated that up to now the disease seems to be confined to the southern counties of th state.

"Bacterial spot of tomatoes is a hot weather disease,and while losses resulting from it have not as yet reached serious proportions, the grower should be on his guard," declared Dr. Martin. "We have no spray or other satisfactory control, once this infection has started, and the grower should use preventive, ratherthan curative, measures.

"Much of this infection is carried on the seed," continued Dr. Martin, "and therefore seed should be saved only from fields known to be free from the disease. Right now is the time when the tomato grower should examine carefully the fields from which his seed for next year's crop is to be obtained. Seed from unknown sources should be disinfected."

Dr. Martin said he felt certain that the outbreak of the disease in New Jersey this year was due to the infection being brought in by seed produced from outside the state.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER IN JERSEY

A number of towns and cities in the northern part of the state have been added to the areas under quarantine on account of the European corn borer, according to an announcement of the Plant Quarantine and Control Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture. This action follows the discovery of the corn borer in the area just placed under quarantine.

Woodbridge, in Middlesex County, and Bayonne, Jersey City, Hoboken, Weehawken, North Bergen, Union City, West New York, Guttenberg and Secaucus, in Hudson County, are the towns and cities quarantined. Enlargement of the quarantine area is to permit the movement of restricted products from New York City into certain nearby sections of New Jersey, and in turn to regulate their movement from those New Jersey points.

Inspectors for the department of agriculture, who enforce quarantine regulations, will establish a new line on the edge of the quarantine area, through which restricted products will not be allowed to pass. The transportation of sweet corn from the district under quarantine to uninfested areas will be prohibited.

The advertising merchant is the successful business man.

Unique List of Election Costs

New Lexington, Ohio.—The law requires candidates for office to file a report of all expenditures. A widely known candidate for sheriff in Perry county has his all ready to file and has the matter truthfully compiled, showing just what it cost him "to be elected."

"Lost 1349 hours of sleep thinking about the election. Lost two front teeth and a lot of hair in a personal encounter with an opponent. Donated one beef, four shoats and five sheep to county barbecues. Gave away two pairs of suspenders, four calico dresses, $5 in cash and 15 baby rattles.

"Kissed 126 babies. Put up four stoves. Kindled 14 fires. Walked 4,075 miles. Shook hands with 9,508 people. Told 10,101 lies and talked enough to make in print 1,000 volumes.

"Attended 16 revivals and was baptized four times by immersion and twice by other ways. Contributed $50 to foreign missions and made love to nine widows—five grass and four sod.

"Hugged 40 old maids. Got dog-bit 39 times and was elected by 353 majority.

OAKLANDS HELP TO ELIMINATE STATIC

Operation of radio "trouble shooting" cars, which for three years has proved effective in clarifying the air for Canadian radio fans, is being eagerly studied by government officials in the hope that adoption of a similar plan may bring relief from interference to the millions of radio listeners in the United States.

Two Oakland Sixes comprise the "trouble" fleet operating out of the Toronto office of the Radio Branch, federal department of Marine and Fisheries. Each car carries an aerial on the roof and a complete receiving set in the tonneau, as well as a typewriter, files, dispatch cases and other essentials. All engine wiring is insulated to prevent any interference with reception on the test set carried in the car.

As soon as a complaint is received at headquarters, the call is relayed to the car nearest the source of trouble. Trained operators then set out to determine the cause.

Stops often have to be made at every telegraph or telephone pole in the vicinity to search out faulty insulators, loose or improper wiring, or other causes of static. The Toronto office handles an average of 100 complaints a month.

Often "trouble shooters" operate a distance of 500 miles from headquarters over all sorts of roads to bring relief to a puzzled fan. Some notion of the sturdy Oaklands in this service is contained in the fact that one ofthe sturdy Oaklands in this service covered more than 14,000 miles in ten months of duty. In addition to the Oaklands used at Toronto, another one similarly equipped is doing like service out of St. John, N. B.

MAPLE SHADE HAS NEW HIGHWAY PLAN

Declare Present Routing Plan Will Burden Township With Needless Expenditures

In an effort to have the State Highway Commission change the routing of its proposed highway No. 38, Arthur N. Cutler, vice president of the Camden Real Estate Board, will submit a new plan to the commission. Residents of Maple Shade, Merchantville and Moorestown have protested the State's original plans.

It is claimed that the new road will mean additional expense for improvements of intersecting roads and police protection, and in order to avoid these measures, necessitated by the State's plans, Cutler, whose plan has been approved by the Chester township committee, will suggest that the State use the Moorestown pike from the intersection of the Haddonfield road at Colwick, until it reaches Moorestown.

The argument will be that the plan would save money by using the present pike roadbed and that the cost of an additional highway running parallel to it would be extravagance. The Moorestown pike is not burdened with traffic between Moorestown and Hadodnfield, Cutler claims, and would easily handle all traffic that would result from use of the proposed route for years to come after it had been widened to eighteen feet as required by the State.

MAPLE SHADE SCHOOLS

The Chester Township public schools will open Wednesday, September 5. The first session will be from 8.45 a. m. until 1 p. m. Thursday regular classes will begin. The office of the supervising principal will be open for the enrollment of pupils from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Tuesday, September 4.

FAST AIRPLANE TO VISIT CLUB'S FIELD

Powerful New Buhl Airsedan Expected at Airport Thursday or Friday

The new Buhl junior airsedan, powered with a Wright whirlwind motor, which proved a big attraction at Ocean City over the weekend, will probably visit the Burlington County Aero Club's field at Moorestown Thursday or Friday.

The plane is owned by Thomas B. Colby, manager of the aviation division of Berry Brothers, Detroit, and will be brought to the Moorestown field through the influence of H. H. Longaker, president of the club and eastern manager for the Berry aviation interests.

The ship is the second fastest in the country. It has a top speed of 140 miles an hour and cruises at the rate of 110 miles an hour.

It is piloted by Lee Schoenhair, veteran, Los Angeles air-mail pilot. Schoehhair recently attempted a nonstop flight from San Deigo to New York in the Lockhead Veaga plane Yankee Doodle, but was forced down by fog at Harrisburg after having been in the air only fifteen and one-half hours. Art Gobel recently made this remarkable flight.

The Buhl plane is being groomed for the National Air Derby from New York to Los Angeles September 6. Mr. Colby, Mr. Langaker and Schoenhair are spending this week travelling through the east in this remarkable ship. All the aircraft factories are being visited.

During their stay in Ocean City over the weekend Mr. Colby and his pilot were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Longaker, who have a cottage there.

NO DUTY OF THE COUNTIES

Burlington's Board of Freeholders objects to paying for the construction of bridges and culverts on the State forest reservation in that county. The objection is an entirely reasonable one. It will be of no advantage to Burlington to dig ditches to drain lowlands. The benefit will go to the people of the whole State. There seems to be no good reason why any county should be required to pay for improving a "State" reservation. Surely nobody will expect Sussex county to bear the expense of developing the High Point Reservation in that county or Hunterdon to pay for improving the Voorhees reservation at High Bridge.—Trenton Times.

"Fits" French Aids Delanco Star in Attempt to Make Big League Grade

Walton Dann, of Beverly, member of the Delanco Burlington County League baseball team, is being given a tryout with the Philadelphia Athletics American League team.

Dann, who is nineteen years old, has been attracting attention as a pitcher and hard hitting outfielder.

Friends of Dann recently brought him to the notice of Walter "Fits" French, of Moorestown, outfielder with the A's, who made arrangements with the management for Dann to receive a tryout. He has been practicing at Shibe Park daily under the supervision of Kid Gleason, the Athletics' coach.

NEW FARM BOARD HEAD

Clifford E. Snyder, of Pittstown, was elected to succeed former United States Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen as president of the New Jersey State Board of Agriculture, Trenton, last week. Mr. Frelinghuysen retired on July 1 after serving seventeen years as head of the board. He campaigned unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination for Senator at the May primaries. Elmer H. Wene, of Vineland, was re-elected as vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the advancement of Mr. Snyder, who had been vice-president for several years.

Recognizing the desirability of public utility securities as an investment, 11.6 per cent. of the funds of New Jersey banks are so invested, the United States Comptroller of Currency reports. The strength and stability of the State's banks are indicated by a total investment of $790,000,000.

Not only with banks but with individual investors have public utility securities established themselves safe and attractive—Public Service has upward of 75,000 individual stockholders and the number grows constantly.

DRUMS OF LOVE AT WALT WHITMAN

Sheer Beauty and Dramatic Strength Make It a Masterpiece

The Walt Whitman Theatre presents a special holiday program for Labor Day. There will be, in addition to the regular evening performance, a special matinee at 2.15. The same program will be presented Tuesday evening.

The feature will be D. W. Griffith's "Drums of Love." This picture is said to be so far advanced in the realms of sheer beauty and dramatic strength that no comparison can be made with any modern screen production. In this new masterpiece of his, Griffith is said to have achieved the very ultimate in perfection.

It is seldom that Griffith grows enthused. Twenty years of bitter struggles in bringing an infant industry to the plane of an art—more reaching and universal even than the graphic arts — has tempered whatever of self-laudation he might have possessed. "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolegance" and "Broken Blossoms" didn't burst on a skeptical public in a flurry of meaningless adjectives of praise. Griffith is not given to useless prophecies. When he says, as he did concerning "Drums of Love," "boys, I think I got it," the statement, carries an implication of pride, that, coming from him, is the best recommendation the picture could get.

One of the most spectacular comedies ever made and a picture that will probably start a new era in comedies, will be shown Wednesday night.

The picture is "Vamping Venuses," a First National comedy special in which Charlie Murray, Louise Fazenda and Thelma Todd are featured players.

The story deals with modern New York and ancient Greece, and First National provide a lavish production, on a scale seldom seen except in dramatic specials. Towering sets, hundreds of extra people, artistic backgrounds, thrilling battle scenes and other big features are provided, in addition to the comedy elements.

Henry Ford Should Look Up Andy Collum, Delanco's Premier Banjoist

Civil War Veteran, Now 82 Years Old, Once Was Famous Stage Musician and Composer

Andy Collum, of Delanco, who recently celebrated his 82nd birthday anniversary, is a candidate for recognition in Henry Ford's collection of old-time musicians. Andy's specialty is the banjo, and when he strums that well-known instrument of former days, he can give Henry's New England fiddlers something to shoot at.

In his home at Walnut and Laurel Streets, Delanco, Andy sometimes plays for the neighbors and his family, but all of his songs are of an era that has closed, when he was one of the favorites of the stage and a composer of the popular songs of the day.

Andy Collum claims the distinction of being America's oldest banjo player. He is Delanco's oldest Civil War veteran. He is the sole survivor of the group of stage favorites of two generations ago. He is one of the few, if not the only, surviving composers of America's one time popular ballads. He is one of the oldest members of the B. P. O. E., both in age and in membership. He joined the order in 1873.

Once Widely Known

In his heydey, in the prosperous years of the expanding American Republic of the post-Civil War era, Collum's name was known in all the large cities from the Atlantic Coast to the Mississippi river.

From his youth he was a member of the theatrical profession. When he was 10 he acquired his first banjo, a rough, home-made instrument, and taught himself to play it. He had little schooling, quitting when he completed the sixth grade.

"That was as good as the sixth grade now," he explains, as he adds how he used to trudge three miles daily to school.

At the age of 12 he obtained his first theatrical job. That was at the old Arch Union, "a sort of English concert-hall," on Broadway between Broome and Spring Streets. He sang character songs and occasionally did a "song and dance." In the meantime he gathered proficiency in manipulating the banjo.

In Woods Minstrels

A year later he joined Woods Minstrels as a juvenile, and soon became a trouper in his own right. Until 10 years ago he was actively identified with the stage, with his banjo as his inseparable companion.

The war interrupted his career for the time being. He enlisted as a drummer boy when he was 14. In service he saw the famous fight between the Merrimac and Monitor, when the first ironclad made naval history. Later he was present at Lee's surrender at Appomattox. He was wounded in the Battle of Clover Hill during Grant's first campaign against Richmond. It was his only wound of the war.

Dandled Cohan on Knee

George M. Cohan was one of the boys whom Collum used to trundle on his knee. Another "boy" who later became famous was Lew Dockstader, the comedian, whom Collum discovered. He officiated at the first performance of Weber and Fields as manager of a Williamsburg theatre, and once was assistant call boy for pearean actor. He was a member of Edward Forrest, the noted Shakespearean actor. He was a member of P. T. Barnum's show, and came to Philadelphia with him in 1874. They played at Broad and Diamond Streets, then "way out in the country."

In the meantime a dozen songs issued from his pen. His "Andy Collum's Got Thee Goin', Jane Songster" was widely sung. Some of his songs are wringing with sentiment, other tunes are approaching the modern syncopation.

He still writes his tunes and his songs for his own amusement. He admits that if he were young and could play the banjo "as he used to," he would still "be there" in composing song hits.

Despite his age, Collum is still active. He attributes his health to the exercises which he takes every morning. His "school boy exercises," as he calls them, keeps him limber. He can touch the ground with his knuckles without bending his knees. He smokes and chews in moderation.

His vegetable garden in his back yard is his hobby. He grows cabbages, carrots, beans, rhubarb, tomatoes, peppers and onions. He is a true amateur in gardening, and his neighbors are welcome to help themselves. He never sells his products.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Sunday School at ten in the morning. September should see many back who have been on their vacation. We most heartily welcome them back, and hope that they have gained much from their rest and recreation. The men's and women's classes are making plans for large classes, and adult members of our church, as well as friends, are urged to "lend a hand" in attendance and influence.

Divine worship at 11.15. The pastor will preach on the subject: "Imaginary Difficulties." It will be an appeal to the Christian and non-Christian.

Vesper service at 8 in the evening. Preaching theme: "The Supremacy of the Spiritual." (Zacharian 4:6).

The Eden Bible Class deserves much credit for the excellent entertainment given to our constituency last Saturday evening. The class, pastor and congregation extend sincerest thanks to Mr. De Witt Morris, Mr. Bell, Mrs. Marie Franklin, Miss Louise Landgraf, and John Langraf for the parts which they had in the program. The affair was one of the most inspiring fellowship gatherings of the year.

One of the greatest features in our autumn program will be the congregational dinner to be given by the men under the same plan as the dinner at the annual congregational meeting last January. But the purpose is only fellowship, fun, inspiration, and opportunity for members to become better acquainted. New members will be specially introduced.

The program will be elaborate. At least one speaker from Philadelphia will be present. A vivacious social program will be given. The affair is being put on under the direction of the Spiritual Interest and Social Committees of the Church Council.

The time is Friday, September 14, which you are asked to hold in reserve for this event. The hour will be announced later.

Pennsylvanian Owns Newspaper of 1766

Mt. Carmel, Pa.—John F. Ayres, assistant manager of a local chain store, claims to own one of the oldest newspapers in existence in Pennsylvania. The paper is a copy of the Pennsylvania Journal and Weekly Advertiser. It was published in Philadelphia, January 30, 1776.

Ayres inherited the paper from his father, the late Charles Ayres of Riverton, N. J. With the exception of a few years when it was on exhibit in Independence hall in Philadelphia, the paper had been in the possession of members of the Ayres family since its publication date. The paper is in a fair state of preservation despite its advanced age and the print is still fairly legible. William Bradford was publisher of the paper.

At the time of its publication Richard and Thomas Penn were serving as proprietors of Pennsylvania and James Hamilton was lieutenant governor. One of the principal articles in the paper is a lengthy attack on the Stamp act, one of the principal causes of the Revolutionary war.

The paper is of four pages, three-column size, although the columns are wider than the traditional 12 and 13 em columns of today. The last three pages of the paper are devoted almost exclusively to advertisements. No headlines are used in the paper, the various items being separated only by dashes and date lines.

HAROLD E. McCARTHY

Harold E. McCarthy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McCarthy, of Linden street, died last Friday after an illness of several weeks. He was twenty-eight years old.

TO RESTRICT "BARKING"

Restriction on Boardwalk businesses and the methods of conducting them are planned by the Wildwood commissioners and Mayor Robert G. Pierpont already has taken decisive action in one case. After receiving numerous protests about a show being operated on the Boardwalk with a "barker" and circus side show literature on display the Mayor closed the place last week and refused the owners permission to reopen until they had done away with the undesirable signs, the "barking" and some of the featured exhibits.

ORDERS FIRE TRUCK

Hainesport firemen have ordered a Stewart three-tank chemical and hose truck. When the subject was broached, some time since, there was opposition to the plan by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the fire company, but since then complete harmony has been restored and the women of the fire-fighting organization have loyally pledged $750 towards the purchase of the new equipment. There will be a series of entertainments and other projects for raising funds. The new truck is expected to arrive about October 15.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, Pastor

Sunday, September 2, will mark the return of Pastor Lockett from his vacation. He will occupy the pulpit at both morning and evening services. Let the entire congregation give him a fitting welcome to inspire him for the fall and winter work.

Communion will be observed after the morning worship at 11.15. Visitors in this community for over Labor Day are cordially invited to all services.

Let us take time:—

(1) To give God more worship, service and communion.

(2) To live with our friends while we have them.

(3) To read the best thoughts. Some of it is not found in some of the papers and magazines to which we subscribe.

(4) To think and think right. Meditation is a lost art with some; others never had any to lose.

(5) To grow spiritually. Jesus began when a boy.

(6) To give our hearts to Christ today; there is no such thing as tomorrow.

Central Baptist Church does not hesitate to invite you to all its services because we feel that there is something in every service to help you individually.

AQUATIC CHAMPIONS TO GIVE EXHIBITION

Red Cross Demonstration and Contest at Community House Pool This Friday Evening

The exhibition and Red Cross life saving contest which was to be given at the Community House pool last (Tuesday) evening was postponed and will be held this Friday evening. The exhibition and contest will be given by the champion senior team of Burlington county and will start at 8 p. m.

County Examiner Hartshorne and his team will insure a pleasant and instructive evening. The object of this exhibition is to give a clear idea of the work which has been accomplished by the Red Cross in the preventing of loss of life by drowning.

For the past two weeks several aspirants of the Moorestown pool have been practicing to pass the Junior Red Cross tests. Last Thursday the class of four, Ruth Matchett, Jack Richie, Carl Graham and Francis McCourt, passed the test with high honors.

TWO "FARM ELECTRICS"

The farms of Amor J. Gaunt, at Jobstown, and T. Sherman Borden, at Beverly, have been selected as two of the six farms in New Jersey on which to demonstrate the use of electricity in reducing the hard work of the farm and promoting the efficiency of the farmer, his women folks and help generally, and on these model farms practically every known and approved device will be installed which can be operated by electricity and save time and labor. The electrification of these farms is made possible through action of the New Jersey Electrical Association, representing the several power companies doing rural business in this state, co-operating with the State Grange, the Farm Bureau Federation, the State Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural College. The work will be under the direct supervision of the Extension Service at the State College, directed through a committee representing the several co-operating agencies.

ELLIOTT SPEAKER ON TENURE ACT

State Commissioner Says Services Must be Three Calendar Years

Due to several disputes regarding the tenure of office act, in the State of New Jersey, the following story was published in the Trenton newspapers last week:

"Although he has been employed by the Belleville Board of Education for three years as a teacher, it was held yesterday by State Education Commissioner Elliott that Benton F. Allen has not qualified for protection under the tenure act. Accordingly, the appeal of Allen from a notice last June terminating his services at the end of that month was dismissed.

"Dr. Elliott ruled that the services of a teacher must be continued beyond three calendar years to gain tenure protection. He pointed out that Allen, except in the first instance, had been employed for the school year and that the initial contract had been dated back to July 1, 1925, whereas it was actually executed on August 3.

"The predating of the contract to July 1, 1925, even though duly authorized by the Belleville Board of Education, could not possibly create a period of employment between July 1 and August 30," said the decision, commenting on the latter point. "Any such attempt is nothing but a fiction and in the commissioner's opinion a fictitious period of employment was not what the 'Teachers' Tenure Law intended. If carried out to its logical conclusion, the theory of pre-dating a teacher's contract might result in the attainment of tenure immediately upon the first employment, since the contract term could be predated three years and the protection of the act thus gained at once upon a period not of actual but of fictitious employment."

BRANT BEACH YACHT CLUB

Another organization has been added to the rapidly-growing civic cluster at Brant Beach. This time it is a yacht club. The organization meeting was held at the home of George P. Eckert. More than fifty residents of Brant Beach signed the application for a charter. drive is now under way for one hundred members. The following officers were elected: Henry B. McLaughlin, commodore; George P. Eckert, vice commodore; Ellis Parker, rear commodore; Albert H. Fritz, secretary; J. W. Welch, treasurer; Arthur H. Wells, fleet captain; Frank J. Campbell, fleet surgeon; Benjamin A. Sleeper, official measurer.

LONGER SKIRTS

"Very latest" skirt lengths will be, in some cases, four and five fingerdepths below the knee, says a famous French designer. Just how quickly America will adopt the change is not predicted, although the belief is that the edict of Paris will be accepted—as usual.

German scientists say that food can be made of wood and we think we had some of it with sugar and cream the other morning for breakfast.

Repair and Save Money

Keeping your building in repair is one of the best investments you can make. A repair that will cost but a few dollars to make this year, may develop by next year so that it will cost many dollars.

SCHOOL CONSCIOUS

With the approach of the school year 1928-29, we become, as it were, school conscious.

On the one hand, we are considering the advisability of more schooling, and, on the other, wondering about the attitude of mind of those who do return, either through choice or compulsion. On this decision and attitude may hinge success or failure in the undertaking.

In the modern competitive contest to make good, it becomes a conflict of wits. Adequate schooling can play an important part. There is no magic in education; it does not insure success, but there is no better insurance against failure. It helps create greater resourcefulness to meet opportunity as it beckons; stimulates ability to expand earning power; contributes to greater moral force and better citizenship.

We accept commercial forms of insurance because they are tangible. We do not question the value of insurance against sickness, accident, death, unemployment, or loss by fire, tornado, hail or rain.

The insurance State and City give us, through education, is not so tangible. Yet it is nevertheless a force with tangible results. A person may secure a good position, but it is another thing to hold it. Education, properly applied, can tighten that grip. It can give the practical turn to a groping ambition; it can inspire initiative; it can teach the profitable use of leisure; it can instill the proper attitude toward life and labor by hand or brain.

In business we build up a cash reserve to safeguard the future of the corporation. We put shock absorbers on our motor cars to get us over the rough places; we put on emergency brakes. We build up a physical reserve to give us immunity from disease.

We need a similar reserve fund in our cultural existence. Education is a fertile source of supply. It can fortify youth at every turn; it can be a struggle of mental and physical stamina—a reservoir of resourcefulness.

School doors will soon reopen. The occasion should not be looked upon as an opportunity to get away from work, but to prepare for it; not a finishing school, but a preparation training; not an opportunity to a white-collar job, but opportunity to discover self-interests and adaptation; not insurance against mediocrity, but opportunity to avoid it.

No school system or teaching force, however efficient, can do much in the education of an unwilling child. It can afford the opportunity and point out the way. The child, in cooperation with the parents, must do the rest.

The school doors are wide open. Those privileged to enter therein should not feel that they have been sentenced to serve, but have been selected for service.

THE FARMER'S FRIEND

Methods to catch the farmer's vote which Governor Smith, Democratic candidate for President, is employing are highly amusing, and the Democratic nominee, having a sense of humor, must, when nobody is around, enjoy a hearty laugh all by himself. The day never dawned when Tammany, or any of its leaders, had an atom of love for the farmer, for the farmer has been accepted by Governor Smith and his Tammany associates as distinctly Republican and definitely opposed to Tammany. Practically every proposal introduced in the New York legislature during the past two decades by Republicans to help the farmer has been fought by Tammany and led not infrequently by Smith, with charges that the legislation was to keep, quoting Tammany, the "hick vote" in line.

Since Governor Smith felt the presidential complex he has catered to the farm folk but his interest has been so palpably political it has registered with few associated with agriculture. In a recent interview inspired for political use the Democratic candidate stated what he had done for the farmer because of his sympathetic (?) concern for rural people.

The big scream in the interview was the key question put to Governor Smith thus: "Governor, haven't you been opposed by Republicans in your efforts to assist the farmers?" The Governor's response: "Yes, unfortunately I have." Then Al Smith, Alfred E. Smith and Governor Smith, not forgetting Tammany Sachem Smith, grieved because politics played such a part in governmental affairs. Born and nursed in the cradle of Tammany and, as he says, proud of it, the Governor sheds copious tears because politicians had endeavored to block his ambition, and also that of Tammany, to create an agricultural Arcadia.

There is not a chance of the Democratic candidate, or any newspaper ally, fooling the farmer. If the ridicule heaped, figuratively, by Tammany on the shoulders of the farmer were put into a pile no wagon or any tractor strong enough to pull it, an inch. The farmers in New York State are onto Governor Smith but the trick he has up his sleeve is to get distribution of the interviews throughout the West and other sections where his record and that of Tammany in opposition to the farmer are not known.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Happiness

When my two girls were getting ready to enter Wellesley they suddenly discovered about two weeks before their entrance examination that they were to be quizzed upon the subject of trigonometry and knew nothing about. But they had to pass an examination on it.

So I got them a tutor at $20.00 a toot and he prepared them so that they passed and entered the college.

While engaged in this study they came to me one day and asked me what a sine and a co-sine were. I told them to look in the dictionary, as I had to. The truth was I didn't know what those things were myself. They looked in the dictionary and then bought the book to me saying they didn't understand the definition. Reading the definition, I replied that they had nothing on me, that I didn't understand it myself.

Some days afterward I was talking to a very distinguished mathematician and told him this story, and asked him why it was that I who flattered myself on being an intelligent man could not understand what kind of a thing a sine was.

"Why," he replied, "that is very simple. A sine isn't anything at all."

"I know," I answered. "But why put it in the dictionary?" He said: "A sine is not a thing. It is a relation between two things."

The greatest think anybody can learn as regards their personal happiness is that it is not a thing, but a relation between two things.

We never realize what a blessing good roads are until we come to a detour and have to travel over a mile or so of bumpy dirt road.

I know a woman who is grieving herself to death over a wayward child for whom she has done everything possible. She needs to get her mind off of her child and think of what she possesses, of how many sources of happiness still remain to her.

The homely advice, "Count your blessings," is a good one.

We can only be happy in what we possess by contemplating those who have less and not those who have more.

So look about you, and see how many people are worse off than you are, and be thankful things are no worse.

BIG BRAINS BETTER

CARNEGIE'S FIRST $400

A $500,000,000 BABY

Mount Rokatinda, on the island of Paloweh, Dutch East Indies, blew up in a volcanic eruption. Half the island, six villages were destroyed, a thousand killed.

Yesterday news came that three more villages were wiped out by a tidal wave caused by a submarine earthquake.

We pay little attention to these deaths far away, a thousand or fifty thousand, little difference.

But we ought to observe with gratitude how many things might happen to us that do not happen.

Raditch, Croatian statesman, murdered leader of peasants, is found to have a brain of abnormal weight, 1,459 grammes.

The average for eleven thousand human brains was 1,361 grammes.

All things being equal, a heavier brain is better than a lighter brain.

But one of the heaviest brains ever weighed, that of Cuvier, the great naturalist, was lighter than that of a man who died in a British poorhouse.

Possibly the man in the poor house was also a genius, but never had a chance.

"Andrew Carnegie made his first $400 without spending a cent." That's how big fortunes often start.

Carnegie bought $400 of insurance stock, gave his note in payment, paid for the stock with its dividends, owned it for nothing.

Joseph P. Day, learned land scientist, says the three greatest letters in the alphabet are "O. P. M." meaning "Other People's Money."

A quicker way to make money without capital is to have a good idea and push it. A way to plate metallic surfaces with aluminum, something hitherto found impossible, is discovered and involves actually billions of dollars to be saved.

The invention will be applied to endless uses, from kitchenware to locomotives, and is expected to give automobiles a finish defying time and weather.

There are as good ideas in the human brain as ever came out of it. Try and find one.

Sears, Roebuck stockholders recently voted to increase capital stock by 800,000 shares. At market prices that company is worth more than $500,000,000. Julius Rosenwald hardly expected that when he took hold of the company a few years ago.

Compared with other companies, General Motors, Standard Oil, U. S. Steel, etc., Sears, Roebuck is only a baby. We have the four billion dollar stock company. When will the 100 billion company arrive?

The death of Chang Tso-Lin, dynamited in his railway carriage, is attributed by a British writer, Lenox Simpson, to the Japanese "Black Dragon Society," which interests itself in patriotic Japanese affairs, and is said to have had a hand in the death of the Queen of Korea in 1895. In spite of the romantic name and the patriotism, the Japanese will probably dig out the facts.

They don't like any organization exercising powers outside of government, or controlling government, such as are tolerated, some times, in other countries.

SAYINGS of HERBERT HOOVER

I rejoice in the effect of our increased national efficiency upon the improvement of the American home.

Crime and disobedience of law cannot be permitted to break down the Constitution.

It is the duty of business to conduct itself so that government regulation or government competition is unnecessary.

Our whole business system would break down in a day if there was not a high sense of moral responsibility.

The glory of our American ideals is the right of every man to worship God according to the dictates of his own conscience.

Our pre-eminent advance over nations has been due to distinctly American accomplishments.

Man for man and woman for woman, we are today more capable whether in the work of farm, factory or business than ever before.

Dishonesty in government whether national, state or municipal is a double wrong. It is treason to the state. It is destructive of self-government.

Thrill? The Belgian job was one of the most unpleasant things I ever had to do in all my life.

JUNIORS AGAIN VICTORIOUS, 9-3

Gootee Pitches Splendid Game; Hutchins, Bartley, Reeves Star at Bat

By "Bobbie" Schneider

The Riverton Juniors defeated the 17th Ward Club of Philadelphia last Saturday by 9-3 score.

Chick Foulke, the big soup man, was detained by Mr. Campbell and this called for a shift in the infield. Sloan held down the initial sack with Bartley on third and Bottger at short and Terrell remaining at second.

The Game

Hof opened the game for the visitors by getting safe on Bottger's miscue. Barker sacrificed him to second. Payne was tossed out at first by Bartley. Kauker singled, scoring Hof. Meyer was out on an infield tap.

The Juniors came back in their half of the first—and how! Bartley pried the lid off with a double. Zatsko tossed out Reeves. Terrell walked and Broderson singled scoring Bartley. Perkins hit by pitched ball. Bottger flied to second. Terrell scored on a wild throw. Sloan received a ticket. Ed Hutchins came through with a hit that scored Broderson and Perkins. Gootee flied to left.

Fast Frame

Berger and Belcher were out at first. Reeves caught Meyer's fly.

Bartley walked. Reeves doubled. Terrell singled, scoring Bartley and Reeves. Broderson flied to left. Perkins fanned and Bottger was out at first.

Third Inning

Sloan took care of Zaksko's liner. Terrell threw out Hof. Bottger booted Barker's grounder but cnarred Payne's liner.

Sloan and Hutchins singled. Zatsko hit Gootee with a pitched ball.

Bartley lifted a fly to left. A relayed throw caught Sloan at home. Reeves singled, scoring Hutchins and Gootee. Reeves stole second and Payne threw the sphere into center trying to catch him at the middle sack. Jimmy tried to make home but Barker's throw was good and it beat Jim by a foot.

Another Fast One

Kauker was out at first. Meyer walked. Gootee threw out Berger and Bartley retired Belcher.

Terrell out at first. Broderson and Perkins fanned.

Tight!

Meyer lifted to Terrell. Zatsko singled. Sloan dropped Bottger's throw and Hof was safe on first. Barker's single scored Zatsko and Hof. Payne and Kauker walked. Meyer's hit to Bartley was fielded perfectly and the throw home forced Barker. Gootee tossed out Berger.

Bottger singled safely. Sloan forced him at second. Reeves was out at first.

Jupiter Pluvius Ends Fray

Belcher was out at first. Meyer flied to right. Bottger threw wild, placing Zatsko on first. Hof strolled. Barker grounded to Sloan. Lody Orcutt called the game as Jupiter Pluvius let loose his wrath at the trimming the Juniors were dealing out to the visitors.

PLANS UNUSUAL SWIMMING EVENT

Soldier From Iowa Will Give Exhibition at Riverton Next Sunday

Swimming with hands tied behind his back, feet and knees also tied, wearing an entire army uniform, overcoat, pack etc., and in addition towing a boat full of passengers is the most unusual stunt promised by Andy Gault of Clinton, Iowa, at the Riverton pier Sunday afternoon, September 2, at 3.30.

He says he has crossed the Mississippi this way, thereby getting his pictures in the movies and the New York Sunday papers.

Andy says he got the idea in France while serving with the 66th Inf. band, where he also conceived the unique pastime of playing his cornet in the deepest water he could find.

He swims part of the time on his back, sometimes on his side and a portion of the time on his breast, the latter method requiring extra good lungs as he is under water most of the time. The work is all done by the legs and feet, the arms being entirely useless.

English channel and Catalina Island swimmers are becoming numerous these days but it is doubtful if any of them would care to try this stunt. This merely shows what a newspaper man can do when he makes up his mind to be a swimmer. Andy being a country printer-editor of the third generation.

The 114th Infantry Band, of Camden, played at the concert given Governor's Day in honor of Alfred E. Smith, at Sea Girt, Saturday. Russell Boyer and Norman Lippincott, both of Moorestown, are members of the band.

PALMYRA CLUB TENNIS VICTORS

Win From Moorestown With Ease, Dropping But One Match

Palmyra's star netmen displayed a fine form to win Saturday's match from Moorestown with the loss of but a single match. This decisive victory brings the Palmyra club to a position near the top in the Tri-County League.

Roy Hardy was himself again, winning number one match for Palmyra from Preston Roberts after three gruelling sets, 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.

Robert Hobbs gave a flashy exhibition after a bad start and trounced B. Wallace, Jr., 4-6, 6-0, 6-3. Freeman Metzer, of Palmyra, made short work of his opponent in winning in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3.

Jack Eisley was forced to three sets to defeat C. Russell, of Moorestown, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4. Harry Strang was the only Palmyra player to lose being defeated by H. Budd, 6-1, 6-2. E. Hayt, Palmyra won his singles match through default.

The Palmyra racqueteers found the doubles even easier than the singles and won two in straight sets and took another by default.

Hardy and Hobbs won from Roberts and Wallace, 6-1, 6-2. Burgess and Metzer defeated Budd and Taylor, 6-2, 6-4. Wright and Eisley won by default.

TO PLAY TENNIS FINALS TONIGHT

Roy Hardy and Jack Eisley To Meet in Important Match

The final round of the Palmyra Tennis Association's elimination tournament will be played between Roy T. Hardy and Jack Eisley tonight. The winner will meet Robert Hobbs in a five set match Saturday afternoon for possession of the Albert S. King cup.

Hardy defeated C. Watson, 6-4, 6-1, in one of the semi-final matches Tuesday night. Jack Eisley won his way to the finals by winning from Arthur Wright, 6-2, 6-1, the same night. Both Hardy and Eisley are regarded as the strongest players in the club and a thrilling contest is expected.

Hardy had been club champion for several years until defeated by Hobbs last year in the cup match. Eisley is one of the youngest members but has been playing for several seasons and has improved steadily. He is expected to give Hardy a real battle for the privilege of meeting the present champion in the big match Saturday.

PALMYRA FOOTBALL TEAM ORGANIZED

At a meeting of the Palmyra Community Movement held Friday night in the Legion Home, plans were formulated for the approaching football season.

Palmyra is to be represented this year by an aggressive aggregation under the management of Art Wright, with Joe Black and Jim Hartley as coaches. Others interested in the game will lend their support.

Practices are being held every Tuesday evening at eight o'clock on Weart Boulevard. Candidates for the team are asked to come out for the practice sessions.

STEAMING VELVET

Place a wet cloth over a hot upturned flat-iron, lay the velvet on it, lift the nap with another piece of velvet, working gently and quickly, and you will find last year's velvet will look almost like new.

Tea drinkers in the United States spend $70,000,000 a year for their favorite beverage, so there is at least that much money that the bootleggers don't get.

The ball game scheduled between Palmyra and Burlington in the Burlington County League Saturday afternoon was postponed on account of rain. It will be played off at a date to be set later.

This weekend will witness the final games of the schedule when three games will be played by each club. Vincentown will play at Palmyra Saturday afternoon. Labor Day morning R. D. Wood, of Florence will be the guests of the local club. The afternoon game will be played at Medford with the strong Olympic Club, first half champions, as the opposition.

Palmyra is now at the .500 mark in the percentage table with five wins and five reverses. It is not impossible for this aggressive aggregation to romp away with second half honors. Four in a row would just about do the trick, and don't forget, the Palmyrians won four straight near the last of the first half—who knows?

But regardless, come out and give the boys your support. You are sure to see some good games and get plenty of action for your money. Not only that, but you are helping to encourage community sports which isn't a bad thing for any town.

POPULAR COUPLE MARRY AT MEDIA

Earl C. Kuhns and Miss Helen I. Cox Spring Big Surprise

A couple prominent and widely known Moorestonians sprung a big surprise on their many friends when they were married at Media, Pa., last Wednesday.

The happy couple who took no one into their confidence or plans for the quiet wedding are Earl Clayton Kuhns and Miss Helen Irma Cox.

According to reports, they made the trip to Media alone. They spent their honeymoon with Mr. Kuhn's parents and Wilmington, Del., and at the summer home of the bride's parents in Beach Haven. They returned to Moorestown late Monday evening and are now in their new home on North Washington avenue.

Mrs. Kuhns is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amour Cox, of 10 East Central avenue. She is a teacher in the Moorestown grammar school and has a wide circle of friends in Moorestown.

Mr. Kuhns has been a resident of Moorestown for the past sixteen years and is prominent in business circles. He is vice-president and general manager of the motor company which bears his name.

The bridegroom is a member of Moorestown Lodge No. 158, F. & A. M., Crescent Shrine, the Rotary Club, Moorestown American Legion Post and Relief Engine Company.

HOOVER PROVING FINE CAMPAIGNER

Republican Nominee Has Had the Rapt Attention of Huge Crowds

Washington, D. C., August 27. The ease with which Herbert Hoover has gripped the attention of his audiences is one of the surprises of the presidential campaign. Despite his lack of experience in addressing political gatherings, he has had the rapt attention of the huge crowds which have heard his set speeches in California and Iowa, while the many who assembled to greet him at stations on the way east discovered that the Republican nominee has an easy, witty style for impromptu remarks.

To those who had imagined Mr. Hoover as grave, serious, unbending and not overly humorous, his political speeches have been a revelation. His address at West Branch, Ia., the village of his birth, evidenced a sense of humor belonging to a man who appreciates and enjoys the lighter side of life. Radio audiences have been impressed with his direct, sincere treatment of national problems and with the vigor of his presentation.

Both candidates for the presidency have now stated their positions on the leading issues of the campaign. Mr. Hoover, according to a digest of press opinion, has indicated his attitude on a majority of such issues more definitely than his opponent. This conclusion applies with particular force to his concrete program for assistance to agriculture, for governmental reorganization, for waterway development, for tariff revision and for changes in the immigration act of 1924.

Comparison of Statements

Comparison of the statements of the two nominees on these five outstanding questions shows that Mr. Hoover has declared for a Federal farm board to establish a sound marketing organization with the assistance of government funds, keeping clear the distinction between numerous divisions of the agricultural industry; for reorganization of government departments by transfering independent agencies to appropriate departments, centering semi-judicial or semi-legislative functions in boards or commissions and placing administrative duties in the hands of individuals.

He has also come out for a complete system of waterways, giving outlets to the sea and lowering transportation costs, has endorsed higher tariff rates on farm and industrial products where needed; and stands for the repeal of the section of the present immigration law, never put into effect, requiring quotas to be determined upon the unfair basis of national origins, which would work a great hardship on the nationals of northern European countries.

On these five issues the Democratic candidate, in his acceptance speech, failed to match Mr. Hoover's proposals and offered no positive alternative program on any one of them.

Important Endorsements

Approval of Mr. Hoover's program for the assistance of agriculture by former Governor Frank O. Lowden and Senator Smith W. Brookhart, of Iowa, brings to its support to public men who have devoted years of study to farm questions and who represent differing schools of thought.

"Mr. Hoover's acceptance speech means relief for agriculture," said Senator Brookhart. "It displays a real knowledge of the problem. I was especially impressed with his declaration that agriculture was not getting a square deal even before the war. It will be easy to write a bill under his construction of the platform that will give to the farmer his cost of production and his equal profit."

Another strong agricultural endorsement of Hoover comes from Charles S. Wilson of New York, Governor Smith's own state. Mr. Wilson, who was formerly commissioner of agriculture, has found that farmers there are only mildly interested in the gestures being made by the Democratic nominee to win their support.

Clubs Being Formed

Organization of Hoover-Curtis Women's Clubs is progressing rapidly in many parts of the country. Maryland Republican women are to begin their drive on September 1 to get every woman in that state registered. Mrs. Thomas G. Winter, of Minneapolis, has been made director of the Homemakers' Group, to organize Republican women in the homes throughout the country.

The first Hoover-Curtis pledge post card returned to Republican national headquarters was from Miss Gertrude Battles Lane, editor of the Women's Home Companion, and hundreds more are pouring in by each mail.

The Republican drive along the eastern seaboard will open shortly in Maine, where the state election of September 10 is awaited by leaders of both parties as a barometer of the big event in November. Senator Curtis will make one or more speeches there. His French-Canadian and New England ancestry gives him a common tie with most of the voters of the Pine Tree state.

NEGLECTED DETAILS

No matter how much is involved in the purchase of frock or coat, one cannot afford to neglect the finishing touches of the costume—the hat, gloves, shoes and bag.

It is very smart just now to wear a bag and shoes that match, and many shoe shops have planned their stocks so that they can show you suede or antelope, snakeskin or colored kid shoes and bags that harmonize perfectly.

Burlington County High in Agriculture

Burlington county, according to recently issued agricultural statistics for New Jersey, ranks high in state agriculture, standing first among the counties in valuation of farm products, third in the valuation of farm land and buildings and fifth in the number of farms.

The total value of Burlington county's farm products is $10,437,616, which is about twelve per cent of the state's annual ouput of $86,839,612. Cumberland county is second with an output of $10,124,587, and Monmouth county third with products valued at $8,114,210.

New Jersey's farm land and buildings is valued at $262,536,000, with Monmouth county ranking first with a valuation of $28,963,000; Cumberland county second with $24,893,000; and Burlington county third with a valuation of $24,347,000. In the number of farms in the counties Burlington ranks fifth with 2,132, the state total being 29,671.

MANY JOBS TO BE FILLED NEXT YEAR

New Governor Will Make Numerous Appointments to Lucrative Positions

The next Governor of New Jersey during his three-year term will make many appointments to lucrative positions.

During the executive's first year terms of office will expire of Attorney General Edward L. Katzenbach, State Banking Commissioner Edward Maxson, Chancery Clerk Thomas Barber, State Labor Commissioner Andrew F. McBride, Chief Justice William S. Gummere, of the Supreme Court; Justices James F. Minturn and Charles C. Black, of the same body; Public Utility Commissioner Frederick W. Onichtel and State Librarian John P. Dullard expire.

And this group by no means comprises the list. Others are: State Highway Commissioners Hugh L. Scott and Percy H. Stewart, James Baker and Isaac Barber, members of the State Board of Taxes and Assessment; Civil Service Commissioner William D. Nolan, and a number of prosecutors and judges as well as county tax board members, election officers and members of non-salaried boards. The later berths are often as much sought as the salaried posts because of the honor and influence they carry.

A line of Democratic Governors has placed members of that party in a number of fine positions. These, of course, will be returned to Republicans as speedily as possible should a Republican Governor be named. That's politics.

Terms expiring in 1930, the second year of the incoming executive, are not so numerous. The list includes Common Pleas Court Judge Erwin E. Marshall, of Mercer, and Judge Jacob Steinbach, Jr., Monmouth; the prosecutors of Bergen, Burlington and Monmouth counties; J. William Huegel and Francis D. Weaver, of the State Tax Board; Theodore H. Smith, president of the Civil Service Commission, and James McAteer, member of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission.

In 1931, however, the plum tree will yield another bumper crop. Vacancies will be created by the expiration of the terms of Public Utility Commissioner Charles Browne, Colonel H. Norman Schwarzkopf, superintendent of the State Police; State Highway Commissioners Abraham Jelin and Firman M. Reves, Supreme Court Justices Luther A. Campbell and Frank T. Lloyd, Judge Walter L. Hetfield, Jr., of the Errors Court; Circuit Judge Frank B. Jess and Henry C. Ackerson, county judges in Essex, Middlesex, Salem and Sussex and prosecutors in Middlesex, Passaic, Salem and Somerset.

Of course the cellar is the coldest place about the house these days, but a fellow can't spend very much time there without arousing suspicion among the neighbors.

CODE TO CHANGE CAR TURN RULES

Copies of Motor Law Effective September 1 Mailed to County Clerks

Copies of the new traffic law, effective in New Jersey, September 1, have been received by county clerks. The act combines the essential features of the motor vehicle act formulated by the Hoover national conference and recommended to all States. Some of the salient points of the law are:

Persons on foot must obey traffic signals and police officers directing traffic.

The stopping of vehicles to sell tickets or merchandise is prohibited.

It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to stand in a roadway for the purpose of or while soliciting a ride from the operator of any private vehicle.

Drivers must not coast down hill with clutch out or gears in neutral.

Persons must not get on or off vehicles on the street or highway except at the curb or side of the road.

In districts where traffic is controlled by traffic lights, walkers must cross streets at intersections.

Depart From Old Rule

Motorists may depart from the old rule of passing around the centre where two highways intersect or around a centre post and may follow the inside lines.

The lawful speeds: Ten miles an hour, when passing a school during recess or while children are going to or leaving school; fifteen miles an hour when approaching within fifty feet, and in traversing, an interestcion of highways; fifteen miles an hour, in traversing or going around curves or traversing a grade upon a highway; twenty miles an hour on any highway in a business district, when traffic on such highway is controlled at intersections by traffic officers or traffic signals; fifteen miles an hour on all other highways in a business district; twenty miles an hour in a residence district; forty miles an hour under all other conditions.

Three-Color System

A three-color system shall be used; red, amber and green. Green shall mean permission for traffic to go, subject to safety of others or the specific directions of an officer; red shall mean traffic stop before entering the intersection or crosswalk, and remain standing until green is shown; amber (or yellow) shall be for the exclusive use of those on foot; amber shall mean vehicles and street cars to stop before enter the intersection of crosswalk.

It shall be unlawful for any person to throw from any vehicle, while same is in motion, any goods, merchandise, or bundles.

The driver of any motor truck when traveling upon a highway, outside of a business or residence district, shall not follow another motor truck within one hundred feet, but this shall not be construed to prevent one motor truck overtaking and passing another.

NORMAL WAIST

Many newer sports costumes feature the normal waistline. And a number of recent models designed for autumn evening wear also show this tendency. Sometimes the waists of these frocks droop toward the back, in harmony with the longer back lines that are so distinctive. But more often they are practically normal "all the way around."
