THREE BOYS ENJOY TRIP DOWN RIVER

Trio of Riverton Lads Sail Sixteen-footer to Chesapeake Bay

On Saturday morning at 2:00 o'clock Laddie Dickinson, Henry Seabrook and George Hagston left for a trip to the Chesapeake Bay, in a 16-foot sailboat. The boys took a 12-foot inboard motor boat with them so as to be able to power the sailboat when there was no wind.

By Saturday night they had gotten as far as Chesapeake City, which is on the canal that connects the Delaware and Chesapeake Bays.

Sunday morning they left Chesapeake City and went to Betterson, where they decided to make their headquarters. After a few days there they found that they had spent too much money, so consequently they moved on down the bay.

Going down the bay they had had their shirts off and upon arriving in Baltimore, Laddie Dickinson had acquired a good coat of sunburn, and not tan—much to his disgust.

Saturday night they tied up at the Maryland Yacht Club and had dinner there. This was the best meal the boys had had, as they were doing their own cooking, on a gasoline stove. After dinner they went to a show. Upon their return they retired immediately. It was not long before George was awakened by Henry, who told him that Laddie's sunburn would not let him get to sleep.

George had heard that witch hazel was soothing, therefore, he went into Baltimore and by luck found a baker's shop open. Here they sold him some witch hazel. When he returned to the boys, Laddie's back had been rubbed raw by Henry, who thought he was doing the boy a favor by gently rubbing the sunburn. When they put the witch hazel on his back he jumped as though a hive of bees had stung him. While George had been out hunting a place to buy the witch hazel, a policeman had told him that there was a hospital about a mile or two from where they were staying. At 3:00 a. m. Laddie's back hurt him so badly that they took him to the hospital, where the doctor fixed him up and told him to come back later in the morning, which he did.

That noon they left for Betterson, and after stopping in a little inlet for the night, they arrived the next morning at eleven o'clock.

The next night the fellow that took care of the dock at which they were tied told them that a northeast storm was coming. The bay was very rough so they decided to sleep on shore.

The boys started home the following Saturday, stopping at Chesapeake City again. Sunday they went on to Delaware City and from there they came home.

The boys say Jersey mosquitoes may look like hawks, but if you want to see regular elephants in disguise, go to Delaware.

DRIVE FOR SCOUT CAMP CONTINUES

Campaign Extended to Give Returning Vacationists Opportunity to Help

At the request of the chairman in the various towns throughout the county, the Boy Scout Campaign for $40,000 to purchase, develop, and equip a campsite for the Burlington County Boy Scouts will continue for two more weeks.

The request was made to the Campaign Executive Committee because the chairman felt that many people who had been away during the summer season would be returning to their homes in the county and would be glad of an opportunity to assist in this effort for the boys.

The reports during the past week have been most encouraging, according to a bulletin from the Scout Campaign Headquarters in the Community House at Moorestown. The campaign was slow in getting under way but substantial subscriptions have swelled the fund considerably during the past few days. The outlook is not very bright at present, however, for less than one-half of the amount sought has been raised to date.

Representative citizens throughout the county are working diligently to secure an ideal campsite for the Boy Scouts near Cockscomb in Burlington County. After the intensive effort which has been put into the campaign, the chairman of the town committees feel that the organization should be given an opportunity to continue on until they are within sight of the coveted goal.

Under the energetic and efficient direction of Walter "Sonny" Wright, the Campaign is meeting with splendid success in Riverton. Although Riverton was one of the last towns to be organized in the Scout Drive, it gives every evidence of meeting its quota, judging by the results to date.

COLLARS AND CUFFS

A scalloped collar and cuff set of velvet for the youthful frock of that crepe is very smart just now. These sets may be of ivory or beige velvet blending in with the autumn vines and browns, or they may be set-toned, in a slightly darker shade than the silk.

CHAMPIONSHIP SERIES

Riverton vs. Palmyra

This Saturday afternoon, September 8, beginning at 3 o'clock on the Riverton Memorial Baseball Grounds, the first of a series of three games will be played between the independent Riverton A. A. and the Palmyra team of the Burlington County League. This series is to decide the championship of the two towns in the National Sport.

For years back Riverton and Palmyra have been rivals for supremacy in all athletics. Although these games are to be played as friendly competition, intense and exciting games are expected, as each team is going to put up the stiffest battle possible, in order to carry off the championship laurels.

PALMYRA SCHOOLS TO OPEN MONDAY

Many New Teachers This Year; New Supervising Principal in Charge

Monday next will mark the opening of the Palmyra schools. Paul Y. Eckert, the new supervising principal, will be in full charge, with instructions from the Board of Education to take such steps as he thinks necessary to bring the system up to the very highest standard.

In addition to the new supervisor there will be ten new teachers this year. Miss Grace Folmer, Miss Marjorie Burt and Miss Frances McGee will be the new English teachers. Harry B. Davis will be the new history teacher and John B. Haines will teach science and chemistry. Miss Margaret T. Lewis will be the new music teacher and Miss Mary T. Horsey will teach algebra. Miss Elizabeth Sherman will have the kindergarten.

The resignation of Russell Tieroff was received by the board at a meeting last Tuesday. Tieroff was under contract for the coming term and the letter announcing his resignation was the first intimation of his intention.

Since the contracts between the Board of Education and teachers state that sixty days' notice must be given, the board has decided to make to the state department, which it is understood will result in suspension if Tieroff again makes application for a position in New Jersey. Steps are being taken to secure a new teacher as soon as possible.

The District Clerk, F. S. Day, was absent owing to illness and the president of the board, William Donaghy, acted as clerk. George Spencer, who is vice-president, took Donaghy's place as presiding officer. This arrangement will continue pending Mr. Day's recovery.

Mr. Morris, of the state department, was present to discuss the school survey which is now ready and will be presented soon. County Superintendent Kaser was also present.

Chief of Police C. Morris Beck was re-elected trustee officer. Miss Marie W. O'Brien was re-elected nurse and Dr. Bauer was re-elected school physician.

Reports of several committees which have been active during the summer months will be heard at this time. A number of important topics are expected to be discussed.

Every member is requested to come out and start the winter season with a rousing meeting.

BUGLE CORPS LOSES STATE TITLE

Scores Highest Mark at Bridgeton Convention, But is Disqualified

The Post Rodgers Drum and Bugle Corps had the state championship won again this year at the Bridgeton Convention last Saturday, until someone happened to think up an excuse for having it disqualified.

The Post Rodgers Corps scored ninety-five per cent, against eighty per cent, for both Bridgeton and Trenton. There was no question of the local outfit's superiority over the other contestants, but before the time to award the prize it became known that the corps had been disqualified for marching around the field twice instead of once.

No printed rules for the contest were issued but officials claim that everyone was told what the regulations were. Apparently nothing was said to the leader to let him know the corps could be disqualified for marching past the reviewing stand twice.

As a matter of fact the music and drill planned for the exhibition required more time and space than once around the field would permit, and the boys were told it would be all right for them to go completely through the program prepared for the occasion.

Mayor George N. Wimer was seated near the jury stand at the time and was so taken by surprise at the apparent injustice of the disqualification that he was moved to protest vigorously.

After Post Rodgers was eliminated Trenton and Bridgeton were tied for first place fifteen points below the local corps. An additional drill was arranged and Bridgeton was awarded the cup emblematic of the state championship, which had been held by Palmyra during the past year.

According to the rules the cup is the permanent possession of the Post winning it for two successive years and, except for the disqualification, would have been the property of Post Rodgers.

It is understood that a protest is to be entered with the state executive committee by the local Post.

TWO DRIVERS FINED BY JUSTICE FICHTER

One Arrested for Having Improper License, Other for Cutting Out of Line

William E. Gee, of Pensauken, was arrested Sunday by Officer Nelson Wallace, and was taken before Police Justice Fichter on a charge of operating a motor car with improper license.

Gee explained that he had just bought the car he was driving and had not changed the registration. The car was held until he produced a bill of sale in proof of this statement and paid a fine of $5.00 and costs.

Houston Mickunas, of Philadelphia, was fined $5.00 and costs after being arrested by Chief Becker. He was charged with reckless driving. The Chief testified that he was zigzagging in and out of line on Broad street during the rush of Sunday's traffic.

Harry Miller, of Beverly, was given severe reprimand by Justice Fichter for cutting out of line and driving at excessive speed at Broad and Vine streets. Miller is a bus driver employed by the Worth Bus Lines and had been warned before by Officer Wallace. Officer Beatty caught him at it again and took him before Fichter.

The Justice explained that ordinarily Miller would have been fined, but since he had had considerable trouble recently, there has been two deaths in his family, he was let off with a reprimand. Police all along the line are determined to break up the reckless driving of the bus drivers, and heavy fines will be imposed in the future with probable loss of license.

WILLIAM D'OLIER

William L. D'Olier, of Pelham, N. Y., was found dead Sunday in an isolated spot in Queens, New York, with a bullet wound in his right temple and a pistol clutched in his right hand. He was a brother of Francis D'Olier, of Moorestown, and was well known in the community.

Although first reports indicated the wound was self-inflicted, police later said they were investigating the possibility that Mr. D'Olier had been murdered. The body was identified by the widow, Mrs. Lavinia D'Olier.

Police said they learned Mr. D'Olier was president of the Sanitation Corporation, which received a sub-contract for sewer work in the Borough of Queens from the Awixa Corporation, whose records disappeared during an investigation of alleged irregularities in $10,000,000 worth of Queens sewer construction.

He was to testify in the investigation and it was expected his testimony would prove damaging to a dangerous group.

Mr. D'Olier was a son of Henry D'Olier, a Philadelphia merchant who died about ten years ago. He is survived by his widow, two children, his mother, who lives in Moorestown, and two other brothers, Charles, of New York, Pa., and Henry, of Bridgeport, Conn.

DELANCO MAN WINS CIVIL SUIT MONDAY

John Downs Receives $150 Verdict As Result of Automobile Accident

John A. Downs, of Delanco, received a verdict of $150 in a civil suit against Gasa Downs, of Roeboling, before Squire Shane, of Delanco, last Monday night.

The suit was the result of an automobile accident which occurred July 24 at the intersection of Vine street and Burlington avenue, Delanco, in which the Downs car was badly damaged. Mrs. Myrtle Downs, who was driving the car at the time of the accident, drove out of Vine street and when attempting to make a left hand turn onto Burlington avenue the car was struck by a car driven by Madar. Attorney Lichtenthal, who represented Downs, claimed that Madar was driving at an excessive rate of speed and was entirely to blame for the accident. Attorney William Reich, of Trenton, represented Madar.

MARGUERITE WOLFSCHMIDT

Marguerite Louise Wolfschmidt, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur W. Wolfschmidt, of Leconey Circle, Palmyra, died early Tuesday morning in the West Jersey Hospital, Camden. Death is thought to have been caused by poisoning from eating Jerusalem cherries the day before.

Funeral services will be held from the home Thursday afternoon at 2:30 with the Rev. J. William Lee officiating. Interment will be made in Odd Fellows Cemetery, Burlington, with Frank A. Snover in charge.

SENIOR EPWORTH LEAGUE

It's here again. Time for another rally outing by the Senior Epworth League. All members and friends meet at the Church, Monday, September 10, 7:30 p. m. Prepare for a short hike and puppy barbecue. Important business meeting.

Date Set for Hearing on Highway Route 38

At the meeting of the State Highway Commission, held in Trenton last week, it was announced that a hearing on proposed Route 38, from Camden to the connecting link with Route 39, near Evansville, will be held at Trenton on Tuesday, October 2.

According to plans generally favored in this section the new road will parallel the present road from Mount Holly to Moorestown running on the south side of the railroad. It has been strongly advocated that the road run along the south valley through Moorestown.

The people of Moorestown and vicinity are vitally interested in this road and representatives of civic bodies will no doubt be in attendance at the hearing on the proposed route.

D'AUTRECHY IS LEGION HEAD

Elected Commander Tuesday Night; Plans Laid for Carnival, September 20-22

At a rousing meeting of Post Frederick M. Rogers No. 158, Palmyra, held Tuesday, D'Autrechy was chosen to lead the destinies of this Post for the coming year, succeeding George (Buck) Truman as Commander. Carl Thomas was elected Senior Vice Commander; Charles E. Seemiller, Junior Vice Commander. The following were also elected to the designated offices: W. F. Ransom, finance officer; H. I. Wright, adjutant; Raymond Pichter, sergeant-at-arms; Robert English, chaplain; Fats Van Sant.

Trustees were elected as follows: S. S. Lippincott, A. H. Lippincott, George Truman, William Miller, J. W. Millroy, H. I. Wright, W. Rex McCrossan, Thomas Bromley, Frank Mathews and William Kernan.

For D'Autrechy was elected delegate to the county committee, with William Miller as alternate.

Tentative plans for the biggest and most varied carnival ever held by the Legion were presented and enthusiastically received by the meeting. The dates, September 20 to 22, at Broad street and Thomas avenue, Riverton.

Present at the meeting was Jack Whomsey, Post Commander of Riverside Post No. 146, now Burlington County Commander, who made his usual spirited address.

W. Rex McCrossan, of this Post, elected State Vice Commander at the State Convention at Bridgeton last week, gave a splendid talk on service, and of his gratitude to the local Post for making possible his elevation to the office he now holds. He extolled the fruitful efforts of Burlington County in making the American Legion a bigger and better organization, in its service to fellow members, the community in which it exists and to humanity at large. He voiced one regret—that Post Rodgers Bugle and Drum Corps did not bring back with them the cup designating the State Championship. Although receiving 95 points in competition, the highest ever received by any corps in this state, the local Post was disqualified by a technicality of which they were not aware at the time of competition. The cup won last year at Trenton was lost, but a moral victory was won, the average made and in the sportsmanship of the Corps, shown in marching off the field in full formation and to the tune of "There She Goes."

COMMUNICATED

Dear Editor:

While away on my vacation I saw the following article, which I would like to have you publish for the consideration of my Riverton and Palmyra friends.

SUBSCRIBER

"IT OUGHT TO BE KNOWN—"

Why a Member of a Virginia Democratic Family Won't Support Smith To the Editor of the Public Ledger:

Sir—The voters ought to know that Alfred E. Smith in all of his public life has voted and worked against local option, which he now hints that he favors; that he has voted and supported the interests of saloons, liquor and gambling on every occasion in which he has had an opportunity to support them. It ought to be known that it is difficult to understand what assurance he can give that he will uphold any part of the Constitution which he supports. It ought to be known that Governor Smith never has carried more than seventeen of the sixty-seven counties of New York in any of his campaigns. It ought to be known that the president pro tem of the New York State Senate declares him to be unqualified for President. Governor Smith owes his present political prominence not so much to his qualities of statesmanship as to the well-known fact that years ago Tammany discovered he would make a fluent and presentable figure for their organization and would be amenable to organization discipline. It ought to be known that the debt of New York State had grown 200 per cent during the Smith regime. The candidacy of such a man becomes actually ludicrous when he is compared to a man like Hoover, who worked his way from poverty to education and whose record and experience show him to be the best qualified man who was ever nominated for President of the United States. Hoover's national and international position has been earned by the simple process of being more able and humane than any other man, and with it all so obviously honest that day after day honest governments alike trusted him with hundreds of millions of dollars and did not consider it worth while even to audit his accounts.

The writer, strange to say, has been a Democrat, a member of a hardshell Virginia Democrat family, none of whom ever voted for a Republican President, but all of whom are going Republican this year. We couldn't do without such a man because of his intelligence to Tammany domination.

MRS. C. O. SNARELY.

Lewisburg, Pa., Aug. 20, 1928.

TWO MEN ARRESTED IN DELANCO FRIDAY

John B. Bell, of Collingswood, was arrested by a Delanco officer Sunday afternoon and charged with reckless driving. Bell was cutting in and out of traffic on Burlington avenue at a fast rate of speed. At a hearing before Squire Johnson, Sunday afternoon, he was fined three dollars and costs and given a lecture on safety first.

PALMYRA MAN IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Victim Steps From Curb Into Path of Car Driven by William Doerfel

As a result of an accident on Pavillion avenue, Riverside, William Doerfel, of Palmyra, was released under $500 bail at a hearing before Squire Lester Merrill last Saturday evening.

According to the testimony Vincent Singalis, of Riverside, stepped from a trolley car to the curb and a few seconds later stepped back into the street without looking. In so doing he fell against the side of Doerfel's car in such a way as to cause a rear wheel to pass over his ankle.

He was taken to Zurburg Memorial Hospital, where it was found he was suffering from a broken ankle and minor bruises. Chief of Police William Voshel took Doerfel before Merrill, where his bail was fixed pending outcome of Singalis' injuries. There was nothing to indicate that he was at fault, but it is customary to hold an automobile driver under bail in such a case.

PALMYRA GIRL IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Car Crashes Into Pole After Tire Blows Out Near Wildwood

Miss Edna Tees, of Parry avenue, Palmyra, was seriously injured when the car in which she was riding crashed into a telegraph pole near Wildwood, last Tuesday afternoon.

The Misses Mabel and Ruth Neville, of Delanco, were also in the car, which was driven by Harry Carpenter, also of Delanco.

Miss Tees suffered a deep cut on her face and had two front teeth broken off. The others escaped with minor cuts and bruises. They were taken to the Wildwood Hospital, where their injuries were dressed.

The accident resulted from a blow-out in one of the tires which caused the machine to skid into the pole.

CAMDEN MAN HITS PHILADELPHIA BOY

Driver Not Blamed for Accident; Child in Riverside Hospital

Joseph Siple, seven-year-old Philadelphia boy who was visiting friends in Riverside, last Saturday afternoon, was painfully injured when he was struck by a car driven by Harry Kaehn, of Camden, on Bridgeboro street.

According to witnesses of the accident the driver of the car was not to blame. The driver, who was playing on the sidewalk with other children, ran directly in front of the car. In an effort to miss the child Kaehn drove his car into the curb and smashed a wheel.

The child was rushed to the Zurburg hospital by a passing motorist. Kaehn was arrested by Chief Voshel but was released on his own recognizance.

NATIONAL GUARD UNITS SIGNING UP FOR BIG AIR MEET

Penna. and Maryland Outfits to Participate in Field Dedication Races

Major J. Sidney Owens, commander of 103rd Conservation Squadron, Pennsylvania National Guard, with his officers and three planes will attend the big air meet to be held by the Burlington County Aero Club Saturday and Sunday, October 13 and 14.

This announcement has just been made by H. H. Langaker, president of the club and general chairman of the meet.

The meet, which is expected to attract numerous planes from all over the eastern section of the country, some of America's outstanding aviation authorities and many thousands of spectators, will mark the formal dedication of the club's field, the first in Burlington County, on the Hartford-Westfield Road, just south of Bridgeboro Road, Moorestown.

The Maryland National Guard fliers headed by Major Tipton, will also attend. These two units are the first to enter in the special National Guard race. It is expected that outfits from several other states, will participate.

Chief among the famous pilots expected to attend is Clarence Chamberlin, the trans-Atlantic flier. Although no definite arrangements have been made, Mr. Chamberlin has expressed a desire to participate and has told friends of the club president he is anxious to attend.

Robert P. "Bob" Newitt, of the Philadelphia airport, will prove another big attraction. "Bob," who is probably the most widely known aviator in Philadelphia, will fly a special Whirlwind motored Waco "10" in the second event.

The races will be over a special eight-mile triangular course recently laid out by Mr. Langaker. The course is so planned that the ships will be in full sight from the field for almost the entire course.

R. Sanford Saltus, Jr., vice-president of Ludington-Philadelphia Flying Service, Henry A. Berliner, president of the Berliner Aircraft Company, Alexandria, Va., and W. Laurence Le Page, of Pitsaer Aviation, Inc., are among the men prominent in the industry who have already agreed to serve as judges.

As a special feature, Reynolds Airways has consented to send a trimotor Fokker ten-passenger plane from Curtiss Field, New York. It will be piloted by Eddie Conerton.

COMMUNITY CLUB SPONSORS FOOTBALL

Splendid Material Now Being Organized Into First Rate Team by Manager and Coaches

Palmyra's old timers can remember some years ago a Riverton and Palmyra football team that was one of the best independent teams in the country. This team was supported to such an extent by the town and the surrounding communities that it was not unusual to see the grounds so crowded that one was considered lucky to see the game. Since that time most of us Palmyrians have been losing the community spirit insofar as sports are concerned and there is a chance for a comeback.

Palmyra is very fortunate in having some real football talent, including college, high school and local stars, and these boys are all amateurs, playing for the love of the game.

Carl Thomas, a resident of Palmyra, who was a former player and now coach at the University of Pennsylvania, is giving the team very valuable knowledge of the fundamentals of the game. We also have on our coaching staff Joe Stack one of the best players developed in Palmyra along with an All-American tackle, James Hartley, and both have always shown great interest in our teams of the past. Still another to be with us is Mr. Diamond, who coaches the high school team.

When offered the management of the team the writer was not aware of the very complete organization functioning for the Palmyra Community Movement, and wonders how many of our citizens are posted on its object.

The community house and its purpose is not a new idea, but contrary to our usual progressiveness, we have been slow to visualize the benefits for the town, but now that enthusiasm is growing, only one thing more is needed, and that is financial support.

Rather than solicit contributions it is thought that the staging of worthwhile athletic contests should be the means of securing the necessary funds.

A nominal fee will be charged and it is hoped that everyone will boost the team by attending these games.

ARTIE WRIGHT, Manager.

BASEBALL BENEFIT

Next Sunday afternoon the married men of the Parry Fire Company will play the Parry A. A. on the A. A. grounds at two o'clock. Proceeds will go to the Fire Company.

AIR DERBY ENTRY AT COUNTY FIELD

Powerful Buhl Airsman Proves Big Attraction at Moorestown Airport

The powerful Buhl Airsman, owned by Thomas B. Colby, manager of the aviation division of Berry Brothers, the Detroit paint concern, spent last Thursday night and part of Friday at the Burlington County Aero Club's Field, Moorestown.

The ship, the fastest to visit the local unit's headquarters, attracted considerable attention and much favorable comment from Burlington County's "air" enthusiasts. It is powered with a Wright whirling motor. It is entered in the National Air Derby which starts from New York Thursday and will be piloted by Lee Schoenhair, veteran Los Angeles air-mail pilot. Schoenhair was at the controls when the ship visited the Moorestown field.

Schoenhair, who will be accompanied by Mr. Colby in the great race across the country, is one of America's foremost aviators. He has been flying for eleven years, was an air-mail pilot three years, has made sixteen round trips between New York and Los Angeles and has three thousand "air" hours to his credit.

The ship left the local airport for Custer field, New York, where it was to be groomed for the air derby.

Schoenhair, Mr. Colby and H. H. Longaker, president of the local aero club, spent several days of last week visiting all of the leading aircraft factories in the East. Mr. Longaker is Eastern manager for the Berry aviation interests and it was through his influence that the fast plane, which has a top speed of 140 miles an hour, was brought to this section.

HAPPINESS DUE TO COLOR OF ROOMS

The happiness of the family is many times affected by the color selected for the walls of the living room, and the happiness and well being of one member by the color and pattern which is selected for the bedroom.

This is the opinion of Mrs. Marion C. Bell, extension specialist in home management for the New Jersey College of Agriculture, who states that rearranging and redecorating any room in the home is an important undertaking.

"The first point to be considered and decided upon is the color for the entire room, and then decide upon the color for the walls and wood work," says Mrs. Bell. "If the light in the room is poor or if the windows open to the north or west, it is best to select a wall covering—whether of paper or paint—that has a soft cream for the background. The wood work painted in old ivory, rather than a dark color, is best."

"Light colored window shades are to be preferred to dark ones. Select a cheery cream rather than white for either the bedroom or the living room shades."

"As to the touches of bright color which will make the room a delightful resting place, one must be guided by the person or persons who will use the room. What colors to they like? From which direction does the daylight reach this room? Use softer, cooler tones in the room with windows to the east and south; bright cheery tones of orange, yellow, rose or red in the room with a northern light."

"Arrange the furniture so that the room is livable." If it is the living room, the furniture should be so placed that a group of three or four people may visit together while in another part of the room one person may be comfortable and alone while a book is enjoyed or sewing completed.

OAKLAND DEALERS IN NATIONAL MEETINGS

Preparing for Greatest Selling Year in History of Company; Holding 125 Sessions

In preparation for what will probably be the greatest selling year in Oakland history, a nation-wide series of dealer meetings is being conducted this week by the Oakland Motor Car Company.

Under the direction of district managers and field staffs, meetings are being staged at 125 local points in all quarters of the country for the 5,000 men who make up the Oakland domestic dealer organization.

Dramatic methods are employed to put across the company message. Stage properties, special lighting effects, draperies, lantern slides and other theatrical equipment is employed to bring forcibly to the audience the newest plans and latest developments in automotive merchandising.

The Oakland sales year began on August 1, when all field heads were summoned to the factory to meet with W. R. Tracy, Vice-president in charge of sales, for the outline of company methods to be carried out during the current selling year.

POULTRY WAS DOES NOT AFFECT JERSEY PRODUCE

Poultrymen of New Jersey who may have hesitated to ship chickens to the New York City market because of reports of a "war" among poultry dealers in that city have nothing to fear, according to statements of dealers in the West Washington market, one of the largest of the city's poultry receiving points. From this source it was learned that the controversy, which has received wide notice in metropolitan circles, concerns only the retail poultry dealers, with whom the chicken farmer has no direct dealings. Wholesalers and commission men, who receive the poultry as it comes in from the farm, are in no way involved in the "war," they claim, and their advice to the producer is that he continue to ship to the firm with which he has already had satisfactory relations.

"We are beginning to believe that maybe showing some of the front walks last January wasn't such a tough job after all."

FIND TOMATO SPOT IN SOUTH JERSEY

Vegetable growers of New Jersey are cautioned to be on their guard against bacterial spot of tomatoes, which, while not a new disease, is this year making its first appearance in the state. This warning was broadcast today by Dr. W. H. Martin, plant pathologist for the N. J. Agricultural Experiment Station, who stated that up to now the disease seems to be confined to the southern counties of the state.

"Bacterial spot of tomatoes is a hot weather disease and while losses resulting from it have not as yet reached serious proportions, the grower should be on his guard," declared Dr. Martin. "We have no spray or other satisfactory control, once this infection has started, and the grower should use preventive, rather than curative, measures."

"Much of this infection is carried on the seed," continued Dr. Martin, "and therefore seed should be saved only from fields known to be free from the disease. Right now is the time when the tomato grower should examine carefully the fields from which his seed for next year's crop is to be obtained. Seed from unknown sources should be disinfected."

FALL PLOWING AND COVER CROPS ADVISED

Fall plowing has decided advantages over spring plowing according to Prof. E. R. Gross, head of the department of rural engineering in the New Jersey College of Agriculture.

Fields which are cleared of grain or other crops during the summer, if to be followed by a fall seeding, should be plowed as soon as possible, he stated. This is because a rapid growth of small weeds may be expected to follow crop removal. These weeds do a vast amount of damage by maturing large quantities of seed which are a serious pest preying on the next season's crop. Plowing or tillage should be followed to prevent weeds from going to seed, it was pointed out. Farmers who study the effect of various tillage methods on their yield have found that even in humid regions, crops which have to compete with weeds are often robbed of much-needed moisture.

When plowing is done very early in the fall there is still time for weeds to spring up and do damage, but most farmers now use cover crops of a soil-building nature to protect such fields. Professor Gross stated. He emphasized the importance of this practice, stating that it prevented the formation of weed seed, allowed less leaching of plant-food than when the land was bare, and added organic matter to the soil, and also nitrogen, if the cover crop was a legume. New Jersey farmers have learned that cover crops are of great value, he concluded.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER IN JERSEY

A number of towns and cities in the northern part of the state have been added to the areas under quarantine on account of the European corn borer, according to an announcement of the Plant Quarantine and Control Administration of the United States Department of Agriculture. This action follows the discovery of the corn borer in the area just placed under quarantine.

Woodbridge, in Middlesex County, and Bayonne, Jersey City, Hoboken, Weehawken, North Bergen, Union City, West New York, Guttenberg and Secaucus, in Hudson County, are the towns and cities quarantined. In the quarantine area is the largest of the quarantine area is to permit the movement of restricted products from New York City into certain nearby sections of New Jersey, and in turn to regulate their movement from those New Jersey points.

Inspectors for the department of agriculture, who enforce quarantine regulations, will establish a new line on the edge of the quarantine area, through which restricted products will not be allowed to pass. The transportation of sweet corn from the district under quarantine to uninfested areas will be prohibited.

ROUGH TEXTURES DOMINATE

We are to have a season of rough fabrics, it seems, judging by the group of fabrics sponsored by Parison designers. Particularly is this true when wool is used. The new wools include a number of slanting, rib-like weaves, basket weaves and rough textures that are most substantial looking, and several new silks present a grained or pebbly surface.

BUS CHASERS

Operated by a student-driver, a Penn-Jersey bus in attempting to pass a car on the River road, last Sunday night, skidded off the highway, crashed into a telegraph pole and landed in an adjoining field hub-deep in mud. Two passengers in the car at the time suffered slight injuries.

According to state troopers of Bridgetown barracks, the bus, under the supervision of a driver-instructor, Albert White, of Riverton, was unbalanced and neither of the engines was hurt. Traffic was tied up for more than an hour.

FIND GANGSTERS' DEN NEAR HERE

Bullet Scarred Trees Give Sillent Testimony of Murderous Intent

A house on the banks of the Rancocas creek, near Bridgetown, is believed to have been the hangout of the Philadelphia gangsters who are now under arrest in connection with the murder of Hughie McLoon and Danny O'Leary. Bullet-scarred trees near the house give evidence of pistol practice which the gang is said to have indulged in frequently.

The small, frame building and pistol range lie on the banks of the Rancocas creek in Willingboro township, near the house where evidence of pistol practice which the gang is said to have indulged in frequently.

The location of the bungalow, for which authorities of two states have been searching for more than two weeks, was revealed by R. J. Pennell, the latter is manager of the tract, owned by the Hainesport Mining and Transportation Company, on which the bungalow and similar summer houses are built.

Pennell, who recognized pictures of Danny O'Leary and several of the suspects now being held, provided what appears to police to be undeniable proof that "Danny" and his pals went to the place frequently before McLoon was murdered.

Pistol Range
At the side of the house is the pistol range, where Danny O'Leary may have practiced with the men who are believed by police to have slain him. The target is a dogwood tree, behind which are the gravel pits. Facing it, about 50 yards toward the creek, is an improvised chair, the seat of an automobile, in which the marksmen sat.

The tree was scarred by bullets of all calibers, including forty-fives, thirty-eights, slugs from shotguns and numerous punctures apparently made by a machine gun or rapid-fire rifle. A small limb which had jutted out from the tree had been shot completely away.

Police have known of the existence of such a "hideout," but did not know its location. Chief Ellis Parker, head of the Burlington county detectives, had been looking for it along the banks of the Rancocas, but it had been a tedious task, hundreds of nuts and cabins dot the bank of the creek, which is a popular resort with New Jersey and Philadelphia vacationists.

Deserted Since Murder
According to Pennell, the bungalow has been deserted since the two murders. "A man who called himself Walt Anderson rented the place from me in May, after he had been introduced to me by a woman who had rented a bungalow last year," stated Pennell. "A short time later he told me he had a son, a gang of men and sometimes women came frequently to the place."

The "Bums," police believe, is the Joseph Burns who is now under arrest for conspiracy to commit murder. Arrested in Atlantic City, police declared he had admitted that was the man with whom Jennie Brooks, alleged decoy girl, had rented the room at 1828 Park avenue, Philadelphia, where O'Leary was found murdered a few days later.

Neighbors Complain
"It was a noisy gang, and they kept coming and going at all hours of the night. However, I didn't interfere until neighboring farmers complained. I then told Burns to be more quiet and to paint over some obscene words that had been marked on the house. He did so."

"I often heard them shooting, but never dreamed that they might be doing so for more than pleasure. Other campers have practiced, and I did not become suspicious."

The place is now deserted and has the appearance of not having been occupied for several weeks.

DELAWARE TWP. FIRE CO'S. TO BE MADE ONE UNIT

Five fire companies of Delaware township will be organized into one unit, as a result of an ordinance passed on final reading at a meeting of the township committee last week.

The new company, to be known as the Delaware Township Volunteer Fire Company, will include units from Woodland, Erlton, Woodcrest, Ashland and Northwilde Terraces. Members of the new organization will now be eligible to join the New Jersey Firemen's Relief Association.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Reinhardt, of Stone Hill, Upper Darby.

IMPORTANT CORSETS

As fashions become more feminine in design, more attention is given to the figure—so lately concealed by the straight-line boyish styles. Which is to say, the right girdle or corset is of utmost importance. As the French corsets continue to arrive one remarks the almost total absence of boning.

Frank H. Simonds, noted writer of international politics, says that Europe is opposed to the election of Mr. Hoover because it feels he would not be in favor of cutting down European debts. It is doubtful, however, whether Mr. Hoover's views on this subject will lose him many votes in the United States, where the votes count.

AUBURN MODELS TO TOUR COUNTRY

A caravan of four Auburn cars, has left on a tour of the country to demonstrate how the buyer's investment is protected through the continuity of Auburn design.

Models for 1928, 1929, 1930 and 1931-32 made up the caravan. It has been the policy of Auburn since E. L. Cord became president to make no radical changes in design, obsoleting previous models. Mr. Cord's belief being that if a car is designed right originally there is no need of radical changes.

The 1928 model in the caravan has been run more than 100,000 miles and has been overhauled once in that period. The 1926 model has been run practically 80,000, with one overhauling. Each car's history, with all owners' names and addresses, is attached to the individual car.

While there is considerable difference in the four models mechanically, the 1928-29 model being well in advance of the industry in improvements, the similarity of the general design of the cars is striking.

WOMAN OF 1000 STITCHES PAYS VISIT TO DELAWARE GARDENS

"The woman with a thousand stitches in the ten years," she declared. "Three men beat me up," she told the other end, and asked that some one drive over and get her.

The firemen called Captain Otwell, who took the woman to the police station. She gave her name as Anna Haskins, 28, of Mount Vernon street, Philadelphia, with a sister, Mrs. Mary Stratton, residing at River road and Thirty-ninth street. She had been visiting her sister, she said, and was walking along until a bus arrived when she was attacked. She said she knew the men who beat her and she was satisfied to let 'Pete' fix them when he learned about it. A township policeman formerly of Philadelphia, recognized the woman as a resident of the Philadelphia tenderloin district.

The woman talked freely, assisted by what she had obviously drunk. She had left her husband ten weeks ago after he had slashed her on various occasions for ten years. Her face, not unattractive, bore a number of scars. She pushed up her sleeve to show others and pushed down the back of her dress to exhibit more. She had them all over her body, she said. "I must have had a thousand stitches in the ten years," she declared.

Having made another call, she had not long to wait until a man drove up and took her away, adding nothing to what the woman had told the police.

Believing the woman had been one of a party with the men she says beat her, the police nevertheless found her empty pocketbook on the road near where she declared the assault occurred.

The former Philadelphia, now a township policeman, says her parents are wealthy and refined. "Mom would have the car over in a jiffy, if I call her," the woman had said as she waited, "but I have given her enough trouble."

PUBLIC SERVICE

HOOVER TO SPEAK IN NEW JERSEY

Gubernatorial Candidate Receives Promises from Presidential Nominee

Herbert Hoover has personally promised Senator Morgan F. Larson, Republican nominee for Governor of New Jersey, to make a speech in New Jersey some time during the early part of the fall campaign.

While Mr. Hoover's trip to New Jersey will ostensibly be on behalf of the national ticket, it is expected it will be a large factor in uniting the Republican forces of the state and thereby overcoming the effects of last spring's primary battle.

Last week Mr. Hoover's conference was devoted to Jersey leaders. First, Senator Larson and Jules E. Tepper, president of the Essex County Republican Club, conferred with the Presidential nominee and with Representative Franklin W. Fort, of East Orange, secretary of the Republican National Committee. Then Daniel E. Pomerooy, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee, following a conference with Chairman Hubert Work, in which Mrs. W. Reginald Baker, of Madison, National Committeewoman from New Jersey, participated, had luncheon with Mr. Hoover. At the luncheon and the conference was Charles D. Hiles, National Committeeman from New York, and it is understood they devoted themselves to discussing the campaign in the Eastern States.

United States Senator Walter E. Edge, of Atlantic City, is also returning from Europe soon, and is planning a big dinner to be given in Newark, September 18, at which the Republican leaders of the state and the candidates will meet to work out plans for the campaign. "Everything is harmonious, and we expect to carry Essex County for Mr. Hoover and Senator Larson by 30,000 majority, and the state by 200,000," Mr. Tepper said.

Mr. Tepper told how his club, which has a membership of 3,000, was organized as a "Hoover for President" body back in 1920, that Representative Fort made the first speech to the club, and that the club and Representative Fort have been for Hoover ever since, and "will be for him until we put him in the White House."

RICARDO CORTEZ AT WALT WHITMAN

"Prowlers of the Sea" Will be Featured Thursday and Friday

Ricardo Cortez, who plays the role of Carlos, the Spanish captain of the guard, in "Prowlers of the Sea," the Tiffany-Stahl production which will be featured at the Walt Whitman Theatre, Thursday and Friday of this week, was born in Vienna, Austria, and came to New York with his parents when only three years old. After public school and the High School of Commerce, he went into business, first in a bond house in Wall street and then as traffic manager for the Fleet Shipping Company, where he remained for eight months.

An offer to go on the stage, just when he decided business bored him and he wanted to act or dance, fortunately received his parents' encouragement. The parts were small and he turned to pictures, appearing with Marguerite Clark for his first important role. His next picture role, with Milton Sills, required him to be thrown down a flight of stairs, and he received a bad cut in the head which kept him off the screen for a long period.

There followed parts in an Elsie Janis picture and a lead in two O. Henry films, and then a return to Broadway as a dancer in "Oh! Boy."

a musical comedy which had a long run and in which he won enthusiastic notices for his dancing. Returning to pictures in 1922, he played leads for Universal, but Jesse Lasky while dining at the Ambassador and was promptly signed by Paramount to a five-year contract.

Reckless youth, intoxicants and road-houses and a prodigal son who leaves home because of parental misunderstanding furnish the dramatic material for Fox Films "Road House," which features Saturday's program.

This picture is said to be beautifully screened and contains a well told tale which proves the adage, "Like father, like son." Cast in the featured roles are Warren Burke as Larry Grayson, the son; Marie Alba, as Sally Carroll, the girl who leads Larry astray, and Lionel Barrymore in one of his strongest screen characterizations as the father.

CONCERT TO BE HELD THURSDAY

Musical by Ellis Band Planned for Last Week Postponed by Rain

The band concert by Jack Ellis and his Mount Holly band which had to be postponed last Thursday evening due to the rain, will be held on the Moorestown Community House lawn this Thursday evening, starting at 8:30.

Despite the inclement weather, quite a few people appeared, hoping that the weather would not hinder the musical, and weather permitting, a large crowd is expected to attend this Thursday evening.

Due to the fact that a number of band enthusiasts turned out, rehearsals for a community band were started when the concert could not be held. The concert is being held by the Recreation Commission in hopes of stimulating interest in such an organization for Moorestown.

During the intermission former Senator Emmor Roberts will deliver a brief address on the merits of a community band.

Mr. Ellis, who was leader of Moorestown's band several years ago when he lived here, has been engaged by the Recreation Commission to direct the band and will hold rehearsals every Thursday evening.

VELVET SMART

One thing you may be certain about this fall—and that is—if the costume's velvet, it's smart.

The novelties of the season, of course, are printed velvets. And there's a pattern for every purpose—dots and bubble patterns; geometric and floral designs; patterns futuristic, and demure designs to please the most retiring.

An attractive velvet is of gold-beige background and a design of plums forms a lovely color harmony for blond hair and fair skin. A band of matching plain velvet trims the V-neck; shoes of suede in prune shade complete the costume.

Although interest seems to center about printed velvet frocks, you may have your own way with velvet—plain, printed, transparent or shot with metal threads—and use it for frock, coat, evening wrap, sports costume or separate blouse. This season 'twould be hard to make a mistake—if it's velvet.

THREE PEOPLE HURT IN AUTO CRASH

Accident Occurs on River Road Between Delanco and Beverly

An automobile wreck in which three people were injured occurred on the River road between Beverly and Delanco, last Sunday afternoon. Harvey Lutz, of Oaklyn, was held responsible for the crash when he cut out of line of traffic and ran head-on into a car driven by John Giberson, of Riverdale.

Giberson was cut and bruised; his brother, Harry, was cut on the head, and Elizabeth Peters, 21, a passenger, suffered three fractured ribs. She is in Ziehring Hospital, Riverdale.

Lutz, arrested by Patrolman Stevenson, was held in 300 jail by Beverly City Magistrate Thompson.

Both cars were badly damaged and had to be hauled away from the scene of the accident by wreck cars.

GUESSWORK TAKEN FROM JELLY MAKING

Advances in culinary art made it possible to reduce greatly the element of chance in jelly making, says Miss Marie Doermann, extension specialist in foods for New Jersey. To the housewife, who is busily engaged with preparations for jelly making at this season of year, Miss Doermann states that pectin, acid, and sugar are the essential substances required to make a clear, sparkling jelly of a beautiful color. Good jelly, when slipped out of a glass, will hold its form and will quiver. It is both tender and firm.

To know whether the fruit juice has pectin in the right proportion, put one tablespoon of witch hazel or grain alcohol in a glass, add an equal amount of hot fruit juice, mix carefully, then let stand a few moments. Miss Doermann states, if sufficient pectin is present it will collect in a fairly solid mass; a small amount will be shown by particles floating in the glass. With this test closely, as the alcohol in the witch hazel tends to dissolve the pectin in a short time. Pectin is found in large quantities in fruits that are slightly under-ripe.

To peaches, sweet apples, quince, and raspberries must be added an acid fruit such as currants, sour apples, or lemon juice. In order to cause jelling, Commercial pectin may be used with success for this purpose.

Use three-fourths of a cup of sugar to one cup of juice if the test shows a large amount of pectin; but if the test shows small flakes, use less sugar, advises Miss Doermann. Bring the juice to a rapid boil, then add the sugar slowly so the boiling will not cease. Best results are obtained when 4 to 6 cups of juice are cooked at a time.

Test the jelly often. A small dish placed on the ice is thoroughly chilled and will give results more quickly. Pour a tablespoon of jelly in this dish, replace in the ice box or set in a pan of cold water. When the jelly holds together in a mass and is not like syrup the jelly is done. Always remove the kettle from the fire while making a test, as it may become overcooked. Another test is made by dipping a spoon in the jelly. When the mass slides off the spoon in a sheet, leaving the edge clear, the jelly is finished.

When commercial pectin is used the manufacturer's directions should be followed closely.

Joy of the Birds

O, hear the birds all singing
Their joyous songs of love,
And hear the tender cooing
Of every little dove.
Life seems for them all gladness,
With hearts full of content;
For they are all enjoying
The blessings God has sent.

Would that we all were knowing
Their peaceful happiness, Go we might all be seeing How love alone can bless.
"The love the heart is feeling"
Makes life, as heaven, seem,
Till all the soul's sweet music Reveals life's blissful dream.

Rev. George Lockett, Pastor
The large audience which greeted Pastor Lockett last Sunday morning was a joy and inspiration to him as well as to those who were present to hear his splendid sermon. Let us continue to encourage each other by being present at all Central Baptist services.

"To know is good, to do is better; but to be is best."
The teachers and officers of the Sunday School met on Tuesday evening and forming plans for the coming autumn; announcements of which will come later.

Next Sunday morning, the pastor will present a sermon of unusual worth, "The Choice of the Best," and in the evening he has chosen "Lessons From a Summer's Vacation."

Have you and I today
Stood silent as with Christ, apart
From joy or fray
Of life, to see by faith His face;
And grow, by brief companionship,
More true.

More nerved to lead, to dare, to do
For Him at any cost. Have we today Found time in thought, our hand
To lay
In His and thus compare
His will with ours, and wear
The impress of His wish?

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Dr. I. Chantry Hoffman, who is general superintendent of missions for all the northeastern states, will be the principal speaker at the Congregational Dinner to be given in the basement of the First Lutheran Church, Friday evening, September 14.

We are most lucky to get Dr. Hoffman to come to this affair, as he is ordinarily so busy making speeches at dedications and before synods and conferences, that there is time for scarcely anything else. Perhaps this giant of the church is more in demand as a speaker than any other servant of the church in this general district. The day preceding his appearance, he will speak in a Pennsylvania town quite a distance from here.

Dr. Hoffman is the kind of speaker, of whom it is said, that you can listen to him all evening without getting tired, yet he will make but a comparatively short speech. His talks are always sparkling with humor, and it is not difficult to see why he is so big in physical proportions. He laughs so much and makes others laugh, whether they feel like it or not.

Dr. Hoffman was here to preach the sermon at the dedication of First Lutheran Church, on Sunday, November 23, 1924. He has done much in helping the church with financial problems as well as other ways.

The Congregational Dinner is announced for 8.30 p. m. The purpose of the affair is good fellowship and spiritual inspiration. There will be no financial matters taken up at this gathering, nothing but good fellowship, good speaking, good music, good edibles, good cheer. The expense of the dinner will be handled much in the same manner as it was at our annual congregational business meeting dinner last January. It will cost no individual nor family more than your meal will cost at home. In fact, owing to the large quantities bought and prepared, it will be more economical.

The dinner is being given under the auspices of two council committees, the "Spiritual Interest" Committee, which has charge of the program and which consists of the following men: Warren T. Smith, chairman; C. S. B. Wynkoop, N. H. Schriver, and D. N. Wise, and the "Social" Committee, which has charge of the menu. This committee consists of the following: S. B. Bushholz, chairman; H. R. Storicks, J. H. Ingram, and W. P. Ripke.

All male members of the church are appointed to assist these men.

Regular services in Sunday School and Church next Sunday morning and evening.

Luther League starts again at 6.45 p. m. Sunday, at which time reports on the State Luther League

THE WOMAN VOTE

It is established that the percentage of Republican women who go to the polls on election day is less, or has been, than that of Democratic women, who take an active interest in politics. It has been outstanding that Republican women, even in thickly populated Republican centers, do not show the same activity that Democratic women do in metropolitan sections or, for that matter, in rural communities either.
Thus if Democratic women do get out and vote and Republican women do not get out and vote, Republican women obviously endanger Republican success. And this has application anywhere from Maine to Montana.

In New York State, which is no different than any other commonwealth, and it is used for illustration, there is the rural, or up-state, locality which is overwhelmingly Republican. Down state, which embraces the city of New York, home of Tammany, except in presidential years is overwhelmingly Democratic.
As it is, Democratic women, where they predominate, only have to walk around a corner to cast their ballots, while women in rural and farming areas frequently have to drive miles to reach the voting booth. Of course, this may be an inconvenience to Republican women, but to do their duty they must assume the responsibility. This also has application from Connecticut to California, and if a Republican woman ever held at the door of Republican women they would never forgive themselves.

There is not the remotest danger of that this year because there is a definite trend toward Hoover.
What is more, Mrs. Ivin T. Hert, chairman of the women's division of the Republican National Committee, is doing an excellent piece of work. She is opening the eyes of women who are normally Republican but who, nevertheless, fail to see what their absence from the polls could mean. Mrs. Hert is driving it right home so if there are any Republican women who do not rise to the emergency it will be deliberate rather than because they were uninformed. She is pointing out pertinent truths to convince Republican women, wherever they are,
that they should show their loyalty and patriotism this year by not shirking their duty as citizens of this great nation.

Mrs. Hert is not appealing just to society women, business women or chairwomen. She is not addressing working girls, or college girls. She is seeking the vote of all women and she realizes if she can organize that enormous army of home bodies and home-making women, the "kitchen vote," so to speak, the kitchen being the heart and soul of the home, whence great good comes, she will be doing something worth while, not only for the Republican party but for womanhood. From side lines her success appears certain. The straw points directly that way.

ual giving five millions of dollars for the common cause of beauty. Rockeefeller is saving beauty from decay and is perpetuating historical monuments.
He is doing something fine and noble for the soul of America.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Employing the Deaf

What people want, most of all, that is, the self-respecting kind of people, is not charity but employment.

A man who can work at all wants to do his bit.

The most commendable trait in a human being is a desire to stand on his own feet and get himself off other people's backs. When you give a man a job, therefore, you give a boost to his personality. You help him respect himself.

When you give a man charity it depresses his personality and encourages that spirit in him which makes him a pauper.

We are all sorry for deaf people and none of us would object to giving them a quarter now and then to help them along. But this is the cheapest thing we can do. It is mere sop to sentiment. It is giving a little of our surplus money to relieve ourselves of the responsibility of giving our time and interest and effort.

The American Federation of Organizations for the Hard of Hearing, with headquarters at Washington, D. C., is seeking to help the deaf by finding them jobs. The New York League for the Hard of Hearing has done a great deal for the unemployed deaf.

These organizations are investigating constantly occupations in which the deafened can make good, giving advice as to chance of occupations or as to training for available occupations.

For instance, it suggested to a deaf-ened fur salesman that he give up the salesmanship of fur for fur cutting, and he is making a success in that line, whereas he was failing in the former line.

A New York store employed hard of hearing cash girls with success because the crash of noise of the carriers does not distract them.

There are many occupations which a deaf person can pursue, although he is handicapped in many.

The public should realize that the best way to help deaf people, as well as other crippled or impaired people, is to give them employment, and the employers of the country would do a great deal more good giving work to people than they could in giving them charity or dispensing largess in any way.

It is not urged that people should let their sympathy interfere with their business, but wherever their business can be carried on just as well by those who need it the job should be given them.

The deaf of the country appeal to you not for occasional charity, but for a chance to work and support themselves.

It was a noble effort. The only difference between a father and a mother in such a case is that THE MOTH-ER WOULD HAVE DIED WITH THE CHILDREN.

Ethel Barrymore, forty-nine years old recently, told friends she was enjoying life "as much as ever."

She ought to be enjoying life MORE than ever.

For an intelligent woman real life begins at forty-nine. Wise Providence won't let women do important mental work much before fifty. Up to that age Nature intends women to be busy with children.

Boy Chapman Andrews, searching for strange things in Central Asia, reports finding an extinct monster "as big as the Woolworth Building."

Such an animal, if carnivorous, could carry home in its mouth a couple of big elephants and walk through an ordinary city crushing buildings as it went.

But it had a small head, little or no thinking power. That is why it is no longer with us.

A great nation, and good peace maker, is Canada. This year's Canadian wheat crop, 500,000,000 bushels, breaks all record. And Canadians have just dedicated a National Park, in the northern part of the Province of Saskatchewan, 900,000 acres in extent.

Doing things in a big way is Canada's habit, and this country is glad to have so able and friendly a neighbor.

Uncle Sam contributed to Canada's wheat growers when he dug the Panama Canal, letting all nations use it on the same terms as ourselves.
Through that canal, Canadians in the Northwest can deliver wheat in Europe much more cheaply than our Middle Western farmers can deliver it.

Hoover's return to Washington is not expected to terminate his campaign touring by any means. A number of

while the Republican nominee has accepted no invitations, he is known to be considering several speaking trips.

SINKABLE LIFE GUARDS

A NOBLE EFFORT

A WOMAN AT 49

Men have already beaten the moon in its journey around the earth. The moon's trip takes a little more than twenty-seven days. Filers have made the trip in twenty-three days.

Beating the moon around the earth is one achievement. The next will be to TIE the sun in its apparent journey around the earth.

With machines flying 1,000 miles an hour, gentlemen wanting a prolonged sojourn will be able to fly directly under the sun, following it around the earth for twenty-four hours or longer.

New York's Civil Service Commission investigated the qualities of life guards, hired by politicians to protect New York City's beaches. They were supposed to dash into the boiling shirt and save the drowning.

It was found that of 163 guards 15 couldn't swim a stroke, 18 more refused to "risk the swimming test in the water." They thought it too dangerous. In the words of Mr. Cook, of Los Angeles, imagine their embarrassment when anyone cried "help." There may be something in the statement that politicians are not fit to attend to any kind of business. In New York they certainly are not fit to select life guards.

When a gasoline launch exploded on North Bay, Ontario, a priest, a man and wife and their two children were thrown into the water. All but the father perished.

With his two little children, one aged two years, one only a month old, in his arms, the father endeavored to swim to the shore, a mile away.

But, exhausted, he was obliged to drop the children. He reached the shore alone.

candidate about a country-wide speaking tour indicate that the final decision in that case is also up to Mr.
Hoover. If he decides to make a number of speeches in the east and the border states, his rival may be expected to do likewise. Somehow this campaign seems to pivot around Herbert Hoover.

Another indication of Herbert Hoover's capacity to rise to any occasion is found in the evidence of a nationwide desire to hear more from him.
There was a time, not so long ago,
when some of his closest friends thought that Mr. Hoover's comparative inexperience as a political speaker would prove a severe handicap in a national campaign. The first two samples of his oratory have created a tremendous demand, and that is usually the best test of worth for any product.

With both acceptance speeches part of the campaign record, Herbert Hoover offers agriculture a definite program for working out of its marketing difficulties, while Governor Smith reviews what the Republican party has already done and promises that he will do something else, but he gives no idea of what that will be.

Hoover's ability to solve puzzling problems dates back some time, according to those who attended college with him at Stanford University thirty-odd years ago. Professor Henry Davidson Sheldon, who was one of them, recalls the nominee's election to the first political office he ever held, that of treasurer of the student body.

"As treasurer," says Professor Sheldon, "Hoover worked out an efficient financial system, which enabled the student body to rid itself of debt and stand on its own feet. Before he took charge the various athletic teams and the Glee Club had been fast losing money, but he put them on a paying basis in a short time."

One section of the Democratic platform which the nominee of that party does stand by is that dealing with the tariff. It is worth noting that neither in the platform nor the Smith acceptance speech, however, does the word "protective" appear. There are many who question whether the new pot-pourri of promises offered by the Democrats in the tariff plank can ever be as beneficial to the nation as the Republican protective tariff policy has proved for the last seventy years.

International Sunday School Lesson for August 5
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D., Associate General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association

Consternation filled the minds of the magistrates in Philippi the morning after the fall delivery, when Paul and Silas were released by a miracle at the midnight hour. These rulers sent sergeants to instruct the jailer to release these prisoners. Then Paul stood on the dignity that was rightly his. He insisted that these chief men come in person and acquit him for they had already done great violence to their own law by beating a Roman citizen who, as yet, had not had a trial. Then the magistrates came with great fear and humbly asked Paul's pardon as they invited him to carry on his mission of preaching the Gospel everywhere.

In earlier days, Paul went to Amphipolis, Apollonia and Thessalonica, the modern Salonica where numerous events took place during the recent World War. The custom was followed of beginning work in the Jewish synagogue, and he addressed audiences on three successive Sabbaths declaring the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ "whom I proclaim unto you, men, devout Greeks and not a few chief women believed. Then the Jews were aroused with jealousy lest their hold on their own community be lessened. They gathered "certain vile fellows of the rabble" and soon had plenty of trouble started by those who loved to have part in a fight. These fellows rushed to the house of Jason where Paul had lodged, intending to drag him out for very rough handling. Paul, however, was not there at the time, so they laid hold on Jason and made him the object of their rage. A most high compliment was paid to the evangelists when the matter was presented to the rulers. It was declared: "These that have turned the world upside down are come hither also" and Jason was their host. The best that they could do was to bind Jason over to keep the peace, and court was closed.

Paul was no sooner well started in successful work than he had to move on. The brethren now advised Paul and Silas to leave even that night for Berea, about forty-seven miles further on. The story is somewhat different in this new preaching station. The Bereans had a mind to learn if there was more of truth than they possessed. So they first listened to Paul and then turned to their Scriptures, our Old Testament, and examined the various prophecies concerning the coming of the Messiah that Paul indicated. After the most exact research they found that in Jesus Christ every reference was perfectly fulfilled. "Many of the women of honorable estate, and of men, not a few." This word Berean has come to mean those who are careful Bible students and is familiar, especially in the literature of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

It was not long before those who had stirred up trouble for Paul in Thessalonica came to Berea and started another round of strife, just by way of jealousy. Crowds were soon on the side of the misery lovers, and it again seemed wise for Paul to go forward. He left both Silas and Timothy there and sailed for Athens, in Greece. The Golden Text for this lesson, which should always be committed to memory, is "The opening of thy words giveth light," Psalm 119:130.

Time to Make Applications
For the past 2 or 3 years several poultrymen in the County and throughout the State have been having their poultry flocks tested for Bacillary White Diarrhoea, and the success that the poultrymen have had in cutting down the mortality in their baby chicks strongly recommends the adoption of this practice by poultrymen who are breeding either for meat or reproduction.

All applications for having flocks tested must be filed on or before September 1, therefore, anyone wishing this work done should apply immediately to County Agent, Charles A. Thompson, and fill out the proper papers.

HISTORY IN ADS

Newspaper advertisements mirror the life of the community and of the times. From them posterity may get a graphic picture of present-day customs and manners.

At this season one may learn from them the popular styles in ladies' hats, shoes and dresses, that men are wearing straw hats and summer-weight suits and plus fours, that the summer's lounging will be done in porch swings this year, that the radio and phonograph are popular sources of music, that camp and picnic equipment are in widespread demand, that furniture which a few years ago only the very rich could afford is available for the average home, that there is a large market for automobiles and that closed and open sport models are most popular.

The photograph record also tell the kind of music the majority wants most. The advertisements of the meat markets and grocery stores reveal what the public is eating. Theatrical advertisements reveal the state of the stage and the films. Real estate, securities and bank advertisements show where surplus dollars are being invested. And resort ads tell the story of the modern vacation.

But this vast fund of knowledge contained in newspaper advertisements is more valuable as current history than as ancient history. It makes keeping up with the times a simple matter requiring even less than fifteen minutes. Moreover, there is no other practical way of keeping posted on the things being produced daily by the magic of modern manufacturing to make life easier and happier.

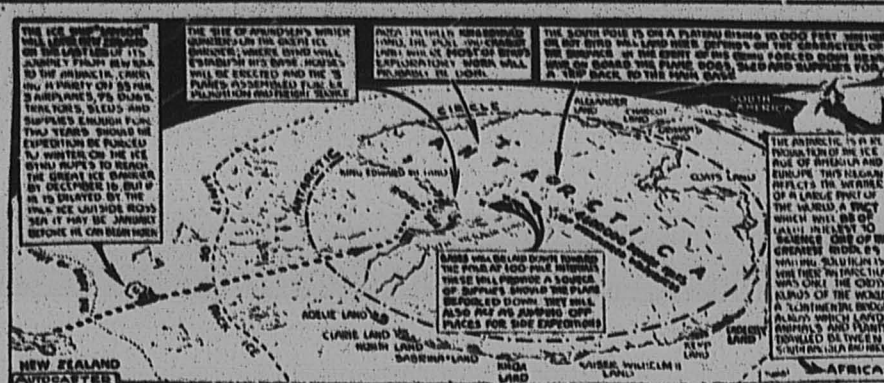

The English have proposed the use of a larger golf ball, with the intention of making the game more difficult. We think it would make the game easier, as the golf balls would be easier to find.

BUFFALO NICKEL NOW WORTH MORE

It Buys a Finer Five-cent Cigar Than You Ever Smoked Before

Yes, sir, there's a premium value on buffalo (or any other) nickels if you measure them with Havana Ribbon cigars. You'll say Havana Ribbon really belongs in a higher-priced class. How so? Because Havana Ribbon is made from tobacco usually used only in better grades of cigars. No bitter, under-ripe top leaves. No flat-tasting over-ripe bottom leaves. No "straps" or short ends to crumble in your mouth. But only long, flavor-laden, mellow-mild, fully-ripe middle leaves from choice tobacco plants. Modern manufacturing methods and huge production have made it possible.

If you need any further urge to try this remarkable cigar, we'll make you this guarantee: If Havana Ribbon isn't the finest-tasting, biggest-value, five-cent cigar you ever smoked, you can have your trial nickel back. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

BETTER WHEAT FOR NEW JERSEY

Despite a popular opinion to the contrary, there is a place in New Jersey agriculture for the cultivation of more wheat of good varieties, declared Dr. H. B. Sprague, agronomist for the college of agriculture, in announcing the results obtained in testing over 30 varieties of wheat during the past five years.

That New Jersey growers are, within limits, able to compete with the grain belt in wheat production was also claimed by Dr. Sprague, who pointed out that the average grower in this state receives 10 to 30 cents more for his crop than the westerner. Winter killing is less likely to be a problem in New Jersey than in the West, when planting takes place at the proper time and where drainage is adequate. Moisture supply is rarely deficient in this state, whereas it is frequently a limiting factor farther west.

"New Jersey growers realize that the profitable production of wheat is closely dependent upon high yields per acre," said Dr. Sprague. "The average yield of wheat in 1928 was only 21 bushels to the acre, but there is no reason why proper fertilizers, careful seedbed preparation, and the use of well-adapted varieties, should not increase average yields to 30 bushels per acre. If this is done, the difference between 21 and 30 bushels would represent almost clear profit.

"Of the 30 wheat varieties we have tested in the last five years, Dawson, Red Rock and Leap have been found to be the most valuable," continued Dr. Sprague. "By these tests, we found the best variety in 1928 yielded 49.9 bushels of grain per acre, while the poorest variety yielded only 34 bushels, though both were grown on the same soil and received the same treatment. The fact that results similar to these have been observed in previous years indicates that it is highly important to choose a variety well adapted to this region."

A POINTED STYLE NOTE

The arrow motif appears in interesting ways on new fall frocks. One finds a band trimming for the flat neckline ends in a decided arrow point at the center front of the blouse. A slender band ending in an arrow head may extend upward to deep cuff length to form a closing at the back of the sleeve.

REPUBLICANS SEEK LARGE SUM IN STATE

Quota For Campaign Fund Placed At $250,000; Figures Were Announced Last Week

New Jersey's quota is $250,000 in the campaign fund of $4,000,000, estimated by Republican leaders as necessary to properly present the Hoover-Curtis cause.

The figure was given last week by John R. Todd, of Summit, who was named to act as the New Jersey finance chairman by Jeremiah Milant, Eastern treasurer for the Republican National Committee.

In addition to the quarter of a million, Mr. Todd hopes to get for the national campaign, it is probable an attempt will be made to raise a like amount for the party work in the state in addition to the county campaign funds.

In 1920, the quota for the New Jersey Republicans was $300,000 on a sixty-four basis, the larger percentage going to the national campaign in behalf of the Harding-Coolidge ticket. In 1924, it was $500,000 on a fifty-five basis.

TO INVESTIGATE BAY FILL

Numerous protests filed by residents of boroughs along Barnegat Bay, at Pelican Island, near Seaside Heights, have caused the Secretary of War to order an investigation of the matter. It is claimed by the opposition that the fill will have a tendency to cause mud flats in the bay. A fill now in progress at Pelican Island, George C. Zoller, of Bordentown, who holds title to the island, was granted a permit by the State Board of Navigation to make one fill and now another extension has been applied for. This is being strenuously opposed by residents of towns along the bay.

STILL ACADIAN STRONGHOLD

Ile Madame is a small island off Cape Breton, N. S., with interesting associations. It was settled partly by Acadians expelled from the land of Evangeline, partly by French Huguenots from the Channel Isles, and partly by refugees from old Louisiana. These people speak the language of the Bourbons of monarchical France and many of the maidens still wear the dainty Norman kirtle and the headdress of white linen.

Endless Striking Hens

The price of eggs during the month of September is higher than in any other previous month in the year and is exceeded only by the prices prevailing in October, November, and December. These higher prices are the result of a strike among the hens.

This September drop in production can be checked to some extent by the liberal feeding of milk to the temperamental hens, advises the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. The practice should begin in August in order to keep some of the poorer birds producing eggs as long as possible, and should be discontinued about October 1, as the increase in production to be expected after that date will not be sufficient to warrant the expense of the milk.

Production during October is more a matter of good breeding, coupled with mild weather, than anything else, and very little aside from standard practices can be done to maintain it. During late summer and early fall, however, there are many birds that can be assisted in their production by the milk feeding.

Long Production of Milk

Cows freshening in September and October, if properly cared for both before and after freshening, will continue to give maximum production through the winter.

In issuing this statement the state agricultural experiment station at New Brunswick goes on to say that dry cows on pasture should begin to get some grain six weeks before they are due to freshen. This grain should be a good fitting ration that will build up their bodies and put the animals in fine flesh. The amount of grain can be increased gradually as the condition and appetites of the cows warrant it. Two weeks before freshening is due, some beet pulp, which has been soaked, should be fed to keep the cows in a laxative condition. Care should always be taken not to over-feed the animals and cause them to put on soft fat, as hard fat will stand the hot weather better, the station warns.

Two or three days before freshening arrives, the heavy feed should be superseded by a light grain ration consisting of equal parts of wheat bran and ground oats, and half as much linseed oil meal, along with the beet pulp.

After freshening has occurred, start the cows off very slowly and keep them hungry. On hot and muggy days cut down the amount of feed, but when the weather gets cooler increase it again. Always feed all the beet pulp and green forage they will eat. If the cows are fed plenty of beet pulp and green forage they will be able to produce a large amount of milk during the hot and changeable weather without losing much of their stored up body flesh.

When the cow weather sets in they will be ready to hit their high production and hold it through the winter months. On the first months of pasture they will still be steady producers.

Small Motor Big Enough

Electric motors of one-quarter to one-half horsepower are capable of running any hand-turned farm machine, according to the New Jersey specialist in rural electrification located at the state experiment station, New Brunswick.

Cream separators require a one-quarter horsepower motor, loose belt and equipped with an idler so that the belt slips when starting the machine. Observation has shown that constant and correct separator speed results in a higher cream yield and that two thousand pounds of milk can be separated with one kilowatt hour of electricity. Special cream separator motors are manufactured. Fruit graders, and grain and seed cleaners also are run by one-quarter horsepower motors. The motor should preferably be fastened to the floor or ceiling rather than directly on the machine. One kilowatt hour will grade 100 bushels of apples or clean and grade from 50 to 100 bushels of grain.

Hand operated, one or two-horse corn shellers also will operate with a one-quarter horsepower motor. The belt can often be placed directly on the flywheel, thus giving the approximate, required speed. Saving in power and faster work result from decreasing the speed to 250 revolutions per minute. From 60 to 85 bushels can be shelled per kilowatt hour. One-half horsepower motors, however, are required for the small power shellers. Root cutters and food and meat choppers used for livestock are often run by one-half horsepower motors, at slight power costs. A one-quarter horsepower motor mounted so as to operate a cow clipper area long hours of cranking and speeds the work.

Emery wheels and grindstones adapt themselves very well to motor drive, and one-quarter horsepower motors are large enough for them. A 4-foot plank with the motor bolted on one end and the grinder on the other makes a fine portable grinder for use around the home. It costs so little to run a motor for such jobs that any man doing what a motor could do is working for less than three cents an hour, says the specialist.

More than handsome... more than luxurious... a wonderful new type of motor car beauty... a thrilling turning point in body design

It will be imitated, of course! The new, the fine and the beautiful always inspire emulation. But so great is the cost of building the magnificent new Fisher bodies for the Silver Anniversary Buick that imitation will be possible only to much costlier cars, and even these will find difficulty in following where Buick leads!

$1,600,000 has been expended in manufacturing the dies alone for the new Buick bodies; and the gracefully curving side panels, which form one of their distinguishing characteristics represent the most expensive steel paneling work employed on any automobile in the world!

Riverton's Director of Public Safety Sees Danger in Turn on Green

For the present, motorists will continue to turn left on the amber light at the Riverton traffic booth. This decision was announced by Director of Public Safety Williams on Tuesday. In explanation, Mr. Williams pointed out the danger to the turning car attempting to go left on green, cutting across traffic going both ways. At the meeting of the State Traffic Association held in Trenton on Tuesday, Riverton's director pointed out this very condition and had the support of many of his colleagues in his contention.

Director Williams requests pedestrians to assist the department and at the same time contribute to their own safety by crossing the street when the amber light is shown, and to keep within the lanes marked out for foot travel. Parents are urged to instruct their children as to how and when to cross the street. Another provision of the new traffic law to which special attention is directed, is the one requiring bicycles to carry a light in front and a red light in the rear. The rear red light is a new provision and will be rigidly enforced.

While on the subject of law enforcement, Director Williams said that he had received numerous complaints about boys damaging property. This mischief has taken the form of breaking fences, trampling down flowers, cutting clothes lines, bombarding clothes on the line with over-ripe tomatoes, and similar forms of juvenile delinquency. A dozen lads who had been amassing in the park in a manner were rounded up a few nights ago and had a session with the director. Mr. Williams hopes more stringent measures will not be necessary.

The police officers have been instructed to keep an eye open for boys using air rifles, sling shots and other weapons prohibited by borough ordinances, or bows and arrows in a manner that endangers pedestrian and playmates.

BELL-MUELLER CONSERVATORY

With the opening of the Bell-Mueller Conservatory of Music, Palmyra, Riverton and surrounding localities will have a conservatory conforming in all departments with the ideals and ideas of leading European and American conservatories.

The curricula of the conservatory will be complete. All departments will be headed by teachers whose reputations as soloists is equalled by their ability to teach.

The directors, Ruth Peterson Bell and Harold Lawrence Mueller, have an established reputation as teachers, soloists, and also for general musicianship.

The advantage of studying at a reputable conservatory cannot be too greatly stressed, as the student not only receives expert teaching on his chosen instrument, but he receives the advantages of harmony, history of music, ensemble, and also orchestral experience, which all make for good musicianship.

Beginners are especially welcome, as they possess few, if any, of the bad habits of performance which are so easily formed by wrong teaching or careless practice, and which prove in many cases almost insurmountable obstacles to high cultivation; they therefore receive more readily the correct fundamental principles, and can, as a rule, make steady and rapid progress uninterrupted by the tedious process of unlearning bad habits.

Ruth Peterson Bell has earned an enviable reputation as a teacher of piano. Her pupils' recitals in 12th street, Philadelphia, by the Rev. Charles K. Worrell, only the immediate families were present.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother, Mrs. Alice Leslie Whitcomb, of East Orange, New Jersey. Mrs. Whitcomb was formerly from Louisville, Ky. Mr. Lawrence Huff Clark, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man.

The bride was attired in an attractive dress of orchids and pink roses. The bridegroom wore a tuxedo and carried a bouquet of orchids and pink roses.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Cline, Jr., of "Red Gables," Palmyra.

After a honeymoon trip, the happy pair will reside in Stonehurst Hills, Pennsylvania, having purchased a Spanish type house in that place.

G. O. P. RALLY GREAT SUCCESS

Leading Candidates and Other Noted Speakers at Green Hill Farm

Leading Candidate and Other Noted Speakers at Green Hill Farm. Republicans, men and women, to the number of nearly a thousand, and gathered from every section of Burlington county, attended the outdoor rally and picnic, held on the lawn of Henry H. Albertson's beautiful Green Hill Farm, on the Oxmead road, not far from Burlington, on Monday afternoon and evening. And enthusiasm there was plenty, for the national ticket, and the State and county candidates. It was a representative gathering, too, comprising Republicans from every walk of life, all cheering for Hoover and Curtis, "pepped and ready to go." It might be needed to give impetus to the political campaign in Burlington county, from the Republican angle, it was afforded by the splendid gathering of the Republican clans who came to Green Hill Farm to hear the distinguished speakers. Included in this galaxy of headliners were men of national fame, who came to spread good cheer and who, as certain of them confessed, found inspiration and confidence, themselves, in the rousing welcome accorded by this splendid outpouring of Burlington county voters.

Among the speakers from out of the county were Hamilton F. Kean, of Union county, nominee for United States Senator; Morgan P. Larson, State Senator from Middlesex county and the party nominee for Governor; Congressman Franklin W. Fort, of Essex county, Secretary of the Republican State Committee, often referred to as "the original Hoover man;" Congressman Bacharach, State Chairman Bert Mott, of Morris county; Vice State Chairman John McDulchison, of Passaic county; the National Committee man from New Jersey, Mrs. Reginald Baker; the State Committeewoman from Passaic county, and others of almost equal note.

County Chairman Charles R. Stout, to whom much of the success of the Republican rally may be attributed, had charge of the speaking program, after welcoming everybody, urging them to get out and do their utmost for victory this fall, felicitating the Republican voters upon the soundness of their platform and candidates, he introduced the speakers in turn.

First presenting State Chairman Bert Mott, of Morris county, titular head of the Republican party in New Jersey, who gave an excellent short address and was warmly applauded. The Morris county man said that he had seen more of Burlington county that day that he had ever seen before and now he knew why people who lived here continued to live here and be happy.

WELCOME HOME GRAND KNIGHT SIM

K. of C. Plans Big Reception for Tuesday Evening, September 18

After three months trip to Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Sim and daughter, Betty, are back again in the old home town.

The members of St. Joseph's Council of which Mr. Sim is Grand Knight, are going to show him they are glad to see him back again, and have planned a big reception in his honor, to be held next Tuesday night, September 18.

The Riverton-Palmyra Knights are also recognizing the fact that this is the beginning of Mr. Sim's tenth year of active service in the ranks of K. of C., not only in this, but in other communities throughout the county and State.

The newly-elected State Deputy, Hon. J. Connor French, of Trenton, will use the occasion for his first official visit to St. Joseph's Council, and will be the principal speaker of the evening. Other State officers will accompany Judge French.

Some prominent speakers from the K. of C. in Philadelphia have also been invited to attend the affair. Invitations have been sent to all Grand Knights and members of the order in Burlington county, to be the guests of the Riverton-Palmyra Knights and to give Grand Knight Sim a rousing welcome home.

A special committee has been appointed to prepare and serve some tasty refreshments. On the card for the evening's song and dance musical end of the reception, are three vocal artists and a quartette of instrumentalists led by the well known "pop" artists Frank Dorley, who will keep the Knights in a lively mood.

Proceeding the evening's festivities a short business session of the Council will be held.

PALMYRIAN FIFTY YEARS IN AMERICA

Dr. Vollmer, Executive Secretary of the Evangelical Synod, Came to America 50 Years Ago

On September 11, Dr. Philip Vollmer, Palmyra, observed the fiftieth anniversary of his arrival in America. At the invitation of Prof. George Seibert, he landed at New York on September 11, 1878, and entered on the same day the college department of the Bloomsburg Seminary. After his graduation in 1884, he took post-graduate courses at Union Neck Seminary, New York, University of Pennsylvania and later at Berlin, Germany.

Dr. Vollmer served two pastorates, one in Brooklyn, New York, and another in Philadelphia. He was for twenty-four years professor of theology in Central Seminary, Dayton Ohio, and Eden Seminary, St. Louis, Mo. He was president of the Synod, and Executive Secretary of the Commission on Christianity and Social Problems of the Evangelical Synod of North America. Among his literary productions are the three widely-used textbooks for Bible studies, "The Writings of the New Testament in their Historical Setting," "New Testament Sociology" and "The Modern Student's Life of Christ."

WARREN HEAD OF RIVERTON BOARD

Takes Place of Murray C. Boyer, Resigned; Mrs. Miller is Vice President

At the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education, Tuesday night, S. L. Warren, vice president of the board, was elected president, and Mrs. Miller became vice president by the unanimous vote of that body. The office of president became vacant when Murray C. Boyer resigned from the presidency and as a member of the board last spring.

The property committee reported that the school had been repaired during the summer and that everything was in a satisfactory condition.

A schedule of school days was adopted which will bring the closing date next spring on June 14.

For the information of the board the district clerk stated that the cost of operating the school, based on the enrollment, is $103.77 per pupil. Based on daily attendance it is $108.37.

Miss Chew's Report. School opened September 5, with an enrollment of 331, divided as follows: Kindergarten, 24; Grade 1, 33; Grade 2, 46; Grade 3, 52; Grade 4, 41; Grade 5, 38; Grade 6, 38; Grade 7, 33; Grade 8, 28.

Thirteen children have not yet entered. Fifteen children left town during the summer, while nineteen entered the school in grades 1-8. Five returned to the system from other schools.

We are beginning with a small class in the kindergarten. In May and June I recommended that the age for entering kindergarten be placed at the age limit given in all statistical school records. A glance at the Age-Grade Table form will illustrate my recommendation. A child who is 4 years old by June 1 would be eligible to enter school in September. All children who will be four years old by November 1 would be eligible to enter February 1.

While this change would mean little difference to this time I believe it would be of advantage to many children later on. With smaller groups in the primary grades, it will be possible to consider a class of children who have entered at the mid-year, promoted to the next grade, and thus giving every child the benefit of a whole year in the kindergarten.

I therefore urge that the change be made at this time, before the ten days fixed by the School Law for entering pupils have expired.

We have had no changes in our corps of teachers, and are starting with the same organization as last year.

Some Policies Continued. The policies pursued last year brought good results, and we shall proceed along similar lines hoping to further improve our work. The policy followed was to test first of grouping, where there is any doubt as to the placement of children. To test in order to discover difficulties, and remedial work. To give individual attention to the needs of each child. To test for progress of pupils, helping each child to be interested in his own progress.

Programs are being adjusted to school is running on regular schedule. Miss Parker, Mrs. Bush, Mrs. Murgatroyd, and Miss Foulke took work at the University of Pennsylvania during the summer, and Miss Bosworth at Columbia.

Two Claiborne Normal training students will begin work with Mrs. Bush and Miss Paulding, Sept. 13.

The building was thoroughly cleaned and repaired during the summer, and the playgrounds re-surfaced.

The Parent-Teacher Association continued their work on the round-up of children during the summer months doing much individual work, in order to have a pre-school examination of all children in September.

Dr. Rogers examined without charge all children brought to the school. Others were examined by their family physicians.

We hope the regular examination of all pupils will be held early in the fall, so that the results of the work can be reported promptly to parents.

Respectfully submitted, HANNAH H. CHEW, Supervising Principal.

Kindergarten Age Changed. In compliance with the suggestion in Miss Chew's report, the following resolution was unanimously passed: BE IT RESOLVED, that hereafter, beginning with the opening of school in September, no child under the age of 4 years and 6 months be admitted to the kindergarten.

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that Kindergarten pupils be admitted only during the first ten school days after the opening of school in September and the first five school days in the month of February.

LIONS CLUB HAS OPENING MEETING

Joint Palmyra-Riverton Halloween Celebration is Being Considered

The Palmyra Lions Club held its first meeting of the fall season Tuesday evening in its new headquarters at Society Hall.

The club had suspended meetings during July and August, during which time its new meeting place was being renovated, decorated and furnished. The new headquarters are large enough to accommodate a hundred or more persons. The walls have been attractively papered, new lighting fixtures have been installed and new banquet tables, of the type used in the big hotel banquet rooms installed.

Albert E. "Fete" Burling, Governor of the New Jersey Lions District, was the speaker of the evening. He delivered a splendid address on the aims and opportunities of Lionism.

Several visitors and prospective Lions were present as guests of the various members and all of them contributed to the speaking program.

One of the first fall activities of the club is to organize a joint Palmyra-Riverton Halloween celebration and a committee was appointed to look into this proposition.

SAMARITANS PLAN WINTER PROGRAM

Bowling Team to be Organized and Play to be Given by Baptist Bible School

The Samaritan Club of the Central Baptist Church met on Tuesday evening for the purpose of planning their winter program, it being their initial fall meeting.

One of the foremost objects of the club and one of the greatest imports at present is the rendering of their assistance in the successful completion of the new church and Sunday School building. If possible, their aim is to present the church with funds to pay for chimneys in connection with the new organ to be installed in the church.

Realizing that this means a great undertaking and an effort on the part of every member, they have placed on the winter program a sketch which will be presented in the new Sunday School auditorium as soon as it is ready for occupancy. In the meantime funds will be raised from the collection of papers. This Friday evening at seven o'clock a sketch of the church has been the time set for the first collection by George Ingram, chairman of that committee. Every member should be out. On Saturday at 2 o'clock, the class will meet again at that time and will load trucks which will be used to deliver the accumulation of several collections made during the summer.

Among the social activities is the formation of a bowling team to be managed by Roy Hardy. This team will participate in the local church league. Through this sporting rivalry and the congenial associations much good can be accomplished and good times result.

K. of C. CARNIVAL SATURDAY, SEPT. 15

Games, Music, Prizes and Special Attractions for Kiddies

Bright lights, music, "hot weiners," ice cream, cake, "pop" and an endless list of beautiful and useful prizes will be the attraction for the crowd that is expected at the annual K. of C. carnival to be held on the lawn of the K. of C. headquarters, Tuesday night, September 18.

A real live committee of Knights have been hustling about for the past two weeks making preparations to "put over" this affair in the same high-class manner which characterized previous carnivals held at Broad and Elm.

For anybody who likes to "pop" at milk bottles and occasionally walk off with a box of candy, a stand will be constructed to accommodate the speed ball artists.

Special attractions for the kiddies; good music and anything that can be done to make the affair entertaining has been the by-word in all the preparations.

A beautiful ground prize which is being given away. Free tickets for this prize are being distributed by the members of St. Joseph's Council, or call at the hall any night and tickets can be procured, free of charge. The prize is well worth over fifty dollars. You should see it.

Miss Gertrude Sims and William Mastbrook were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney G. Mallard over the past weekend.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, Pastor

During the reconstruction and building of the Central Baptist Church and Sunday School, it has become advisable to hold the various services elsewhere.

Continuing next Sunday, September 16, the Church services will be held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall at the regular hours of 11:15 for morning worship and 7:45 for the evening service. The Sunday School groups will be divided as follows: The Cradle Roll, Beginners and Primary grades will meet in the YMCA, Broad and Garfield avenues, while the remainder of the School will convene in the P. O. S. of A. at ten o'clock as usual.

The teachers of the Primary department stand ready to co-operate with parents in the new arrangements of the Sunday School. Children remaining at the YMCA at the close of Sunday School will be well cared for so that parents need not fear to leave the little ones and go to their own class in the P. O. S. of A.

For the present, the Wednesday evening prayer meeting will be held at the YMCA. The pastor and Mrs. Lockett extend a cordial invitation to come to this mid-week meeting of spiritual refreshment.

It is sincerely hoped that everybody connected with Central Baptist will continue in their loyalty and be present at all services regardless of the meeting place.

The various organizations are continuing active and are planning their autumn work. The Primary teachers had a conference on Monday evening, the Women's Society met on Wednesday and the Baraca Class meets tonight.

In addition to the postal card pictures of the new Church which the members of the Primary department are selling, they have very attractive hand-painted greeting cards for sale. The profit from these cards will, of course, be added to the "Children's Window Fund."

Let us not be weary in well-doing; for in one season we shall reap if we fail not. Gal. 6:9

It takes a good deal of self-searching to discover if one is guilty of affection or not.

MISS HAAS WEDS WALTER J. QUINN

Beautiful Riverside Wedding
Attracts, South Jersey
Younger Set

With all the ritual of the Catholic Church set forth in solemn splendor, Miss Anna Monica Haas, daughter of Mrs. Clemens A. Haas, Sr., of Scott and Middleton streets, Riverside, became the bride of Walter J. Quinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Quinn, of Philadelphia, Saturday, September 1, half after nine o'clock, in St. Peter's Church, Riverside.

The Rev. John E. O'Conor, rector of the church, performed the marriage ceremony and was celebrant of the nuptial Mass.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Theodore J. Haas, wore a handsome gown of duchesse lace with a veil draped from crystal coronet. She carried a white prayer book with a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Loretta Haas, as maid of honor, who wore a gown of Nile green, charmingly lace over a veil draped from crystal coronet. She carried a white prayer book with a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bridesmaids were Misses Edna M. Quinn and Sara K. Quinn, of Philadelphia; Florence McCloskey and Margaret O'Connell, of Burlington, and were gowned in cream lace with hats and slippers of pastel shades of coral, yellow, green and blue.

Joseph D. Quinn, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers were Richard Haas, of Moorestown; Harry Quinn, of Philadelphia; Arthur McFarland and Joseph Haas, of Riverside.

Mrs. Marion Haly, of Gloucester, rendered several vocal selections of a high order. Miss Frances Smith presided at the organ.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a six-weeks honeymoon trip to California Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Quinn will be at home to their many friends in Lansdowne, Pa.

Former Riverside Ring "Champ" Is Married to Fairview Miss
Friday Night

Miss Ada E. Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Murphy, of Fairview, became the bride of Grif- fith Heppard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Heppard, of Riverside, at a very quiet wedding at the Fairview Trinity Episcopal Church at seven o'clock Saturday evening.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Samuel Hardman, pastor of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Riverside, and the Trinity Episcopal Church, Fairview.

Miss Helen Murphy, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Rowen Bright, of Delanco, was best man.

The bride and her sister wore late summer frocks of flowered chiffon over satin with picture hats to match. They carried mixed bouquets and wore light slippers and hose.

Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Heppard left immediately for Virginia, where they spent their honeymoon at the Luray Caverns. Several friends accompanied them to Broad Street Station, Philadelphia.

Mr. Heppard is well known in Riverside and vicinity and a few years ago enjoyed a fistic career in the South Jersey and Philadelphia boxing circles. He was also a member of the Rexall football team for several years.

CRANBERRY MEN ESTIMATE CROP

135,000 Barrels Predicted in New Jersey This Year at Growers' Meeting

Henry B. Welts, statistician of the State Board of Agriculture, told the American Cranberry Growers' Association at its recent annual meeting at Pinewald Villa, Pinewald, that the estimate of the 1928 yield at the present time is 531,000 barrels. This forecast is given as follows: New Jersey, 135,000 barrels; Massachusetts, 320,000; Wisconsin, 50,000; Oregon and Washington, 21,000.

This was the 56th convention of the association and it was presided over by Isaac Harrison of Crosswicks, who also is the head of the Penn. Producing Company, which has bogs west of Barnegat. President Harrison in his opening address stressed the importance of co-operation in selling, and the necessity of using economical methods of production.

Mrs. A. W. Lee, owner of the New Jersey cranberry plant, and picker of "Big Sweeties," said it took two years of experimenting to produce an acceptable sauce. She could not say what was the best variety for canning—the canner must be able to make good sauce of whatever berries are available.

Charles E. Beckwith, of Brown's Mills, secretary of the association, and head of the cranberry substation of the State Experiment Station, spoke of the disease known as false blight, which is especially susceptible. This disease is spread by an insect, the blunt nose leafhopper. Referring on June 15 is valuable in controlling this insect.

A. U. Chaney, manager of the American Cranberry Exchange, said that 32 radio stations will talk cranberries twice a week this season, explaining how to cook and serve them. The exchange is spending more for magazine advertising than ever before.

John A. Redden, of Trenton, State Budget Commissioner, told of the work of his office, in trying to see that the state revenue is wisely spent. After a dinner at Pinewald Villa, the delegation visited the cranberry and blueberry plantations at Double Trouble, to see how the work is carried on there.

YOUNG "ROOSTER" LAYS EGGS

The prize exhibit at the Atlantic County Fair is a young cockerel who grows, has a rooster's comb and is reported to lay eggs. L. J. Wood, of Elwood, who found the peculiar bird in a hatch this year, says he will preserve the eggs and incubate them.

DIFFICULT TASK

One of the most difficult tasks ever attempted by Public Service in transporting heavy machinery was started August 20, when Public Service Electric and Gas Company, began the movement of seven giant transformers, weighing seventy-two tons each, up First Mountain in West Orange on top of which the company is constructing the new West Orange switching station. It will take several weeks to move all the transformers up the hill.

MAKING USE OF EXPERIENCE

Announcement that Mr. Hoover has invited his running-mate, Charles Curtis, to sit in the Hoover cabinet will be welcomed by Senate members of both parties and by Curtis admirers everywhere.

It appears extremely likely that the invitation will be accepted. In event of Republican success, Curtis will be the second Vice President to occupy such a position, Mr. Coolidge having been the first when President Harding started the practice.

Mr. Hoover thus not only would perpetuate a valuable Republican innovation in American governmental usage, but would make directly available to the cabinet the vast legislative experience of Senator Curtis, obtained through 34 years of public life, and his well-known sympathetic knowledge of the specific problems of many groups, among them labor and agriculture.

Senator Curtis has a profound insight into the workings of both the Senate and the House. He enjoys a popularity second to none among both Republican and Democratic members. His popularity is founded on faith. The strength and fundamental honesty of Senator Curtis have become traditional on Capitol Hill.

Senator Curtis has stated his personal platform frequently and with vigor. Here are a few outstanding planks from his speech of acceptance:

1. To protect agriculture effectively, and to encourage it in every proper manner.
2. To protect American labor by enacting all needed legislation.
3. To enforce the laws without fear or favor.
4. To encourage active participation by women in the conduct of the government.
5. To reduce the public debt, public expenses and taxes.
6. To maintain peace, engage in commerce with all nations, and to enter into entangling alliances with none.
7. To encourage all industry and to maintain a protective tariff with duties high enough to fully protect American labor, American products, and American producers against foreign competition.

Throughout the years, Senator Curtis has championed the cause of the farmer, labor, of women. Any innovation which adds to personal influence of Senator Curtis is a direct contribution to those causes. Sitting in the Hoover Cabinet, Senator Curtis would become a close link between the Executive and Legislative branches of the government.

About Your Health

LEST WE FORGET

Oxygen is absolutely essential to human life. Let the supply of oxygen be diminished, and the health suffers accordingly. There is no danger of an over-supply of oxygen from the air about us. Oxygen is stimulant-ionic. Pure oxygen gas is a destroyer, and is not met with, save in the laboratory. It is a supporter of combustion—a steel watch-spring will burn in it, as pine splinter will burn in the air. Oxygen burns up impurities in the blood, reaching them through our lungs. Oxygen in proper dilution with nitrogen makes up the air we breathe. Our "bounden duty" is to get plenty of pure air—we are in little danger of getting an over-dose.

If you are in the habit of lying in bed until nine o'clock these mornings, you are not getting the health-giving supply of oxygen that you must have if you would be vigorous. The habit of lying in bed until long after sunrise, is pernicious in the extreme. That debauch dinner that you devoured at six o'clock in the evening before, and which you should not have taken at all, gave up at least fifty per cent of deadening impurities. You felt dull, apathetic, and appetiteless, when you crawled out of bed at nine in the morning; you were simply poisoned, and—did it yourself; if a physician tried to poison you, you'd want to thrash him if not more. You prefer to commit your own suicide!

Nitrogen deadens. You consume an over-dose of nitrogenous foods—its effect is certain. You take away the nitrogen excess with oxygen, derived from both air and water—for water is one-third oxygen, derived from both air and harness the lungs with bed-covers nine or ten hours, it is no wonder you feel lazy and incapable. Get up early—and drink freely of water; get back your "pep."

You can't correct youth by showing it no respect.

A poor girl who is called pretty is really handsome.

A man is generous to a fault when he fails to correct it.

Try not to outgrow the things that don't cost much.

Parachute Jumping at Airport Sunday

The Burlington County Aero Club has arranged two big "thrills" for the throngs which visit its field on the Hartford-Westfield Road, just south of Bridgeboro Road, Moorestown this Sunday.

S. Roger Gale, vice-president has arranged to have Sergeant Kelly, 103rd Observation Squadron, Pennsylvania National Guard, do two parachute jumps from the club's plane.

According to present plans, with weather permitting, Sergeant Kelly will jump at 4 and 7 p. m. This will be the first parachute jumping at the club's field and a record crowd is expected to be on hand. Sergeant Kelly has had a wide experience in aviation and is connected with Ludington-Philadelphia Flying Service, operators of the Philadelphia municipal airport.

HOWARD ELWOOD HOEFFNER

Howard Elwood Hoefner, one-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hoefner, of 907 Washington avenue, Palmyra, was found dead in bed Monday at noon by his mother.

She had put him to sleep at the customary time without the child showing any signs of illness. When she went to awaken him she became alarmed at his condition and called

Dr. Bauer, who pronounced him dead. Owing to the suddenness of the child's death, a coroner's inquest was held, and a certificate of death from Status Lymphathicus, which is explained as being the hardening of small glands located just below the ears, was issued by Coroner Benjamin Farmer, of Burlington.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from the late residence with the Rev. J. William Lee officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemetery under direction of Frank A. Snover.

In the tremendous success which Pontiac Six is enjoying is ample reason for designating this great General Motors car "Chief of the Sixes."

Never has any new car risen so rapidly in the estimation of motor car buyers for during the first six months of 1923, over 136,000 Pontiacs were sold—the largest volume ever achieved by any car during the first half of its third year in production! This great public acceptance tells more of what Pontiac offers at $745 than even the most complete listing of such features as Fisher bodies, 186 cu. in. engine, the G-M-R cylinder head, cross-flow radiator, foot-controlled headlights, coincidental lock, etc., etc.! PALMYRA LOSES
FINAL GAME

Starts Rally in Late Innings
But Fails to Score Needed Counters

Palmyra lost a 2-0 decision to the strong R. D. Wood team, of Florence, in the final battle of the Burlington County League schedule on the home grounds last Saturday afternoon.

Ability to nick "Babe" Flynn, former Atlantic City police hunter, in the clinches, put the battle on the ice for R. D. Wood.

With Morris Lippincott scattering the five hits he allowed through four innings, in only one of which two were made, Wood went to work on Flynn in the fourth and sixth and put over a run in each.

Jim Cantwell, Florence backstop, played a conspicuous part in the triumph, his bat propelling two hits which drove across as many runs.

Palmyra threatened to score in several of the late innings but Lippincott, tightened, and fine defensive work by the winners saved the plate from being spiked by the home club.

Beaudry Scores
R. D. Wood scored his first run in the fourth inning. Buck Beaudry led off with a hard-hit drive to left. Nick Frappoli, who has been "sticking" well of late, followed with another single, a sharp slash which cut inside third. Beaudry beat Sampp Rodgers' throw to the hot corner, Frappoli taking second on the throw.

Rhoda was hit and the bases were loaded.

With the Palmyra infield playing in, Cantwell poked a safety into short right, and Beaudry crossed. Frappoli and Rhoda moved up a base on the blow.

Lippincott fled to Rodgers in short left for the first out. "Rudy" Ollbert drove one on the ground toward second, Gordon Andrews getting the ball and whipping it home to Heph Harper, forcing Frappoli and Jim Krause to second.

RIVERTON VICTOR
AGAINST PALMYRA

Community Nine Loses First of Series for Twin Town Championship

Last Saturday afternoon when Riverton and Palmyra crossed bats there was almost as much interest over the first of a series of three games to be played between these two ancient rivals as there was over the double-header scheduled for the Yanks and the A's in New York, Sunday.

These rival teams opened a championship series on the Riverton Memorial Baseball Park as a weekend attraction to fandom to rest their weary minds after fretting about the American League lead.

For eight long innings the teams battled, on almost even terms. Jake Schele was on the mound for Riverton and Harder for the Palmyra nine.

Sammy Rodgers and Dave Wenger started out with good intentions for Palmyra, but both succumbed to Schele's waltz. Joe Black gave the crowd a start when he prodded a single, but Harper was tossed out at first by Schele.

Snyder, Riverton's diminutive shortstop, evidently had the right idea as to how to win a ball game, as he slapped a smart single to open the Riverton. He advanced to second when Ben Worrell sacrificed with a bunt.

DELANCO LOSES
PLAY-OFF GAME

Winning Run "Walked In" in Ninth Inning by Pitcher
"Cy" Young

Lady Luck failed to smile upon the Delanco baseball team last Saturday afternoon and Florence won the play-off game for the second half of the Burlington County League by the score of 2-1.

The game was a great exhibition of baseball and played before a crowd of more than 1500 fans at the Mount Holly ball park. Florence scored the first marker of the day when one run was shaved across in the third inning.

Frankfield, with two out in the third inning, drove a long hit over Robinson's head but the Delanco left fielder recovered the ball and held him on second. Beaudry, next man up, drove a single over second base and Frankfield scored.

Delanco came back in the fourth when John Shaw cracked one of Lippincott's offerings into left field. Young connected for a single and Shaw scored.

"Cy" Out at Home
With the score tied at one all Walter Dan found a Lippincott pitch to the right center. Dan swung and missed. Lippincott slipped to Frappoli in short left. Dan reached second. Young, disregarding the Delanco coach at third, rounded the hot corner and raced toward the plate. Everham by that time had retrieved the ball, and had returned it to Frappoli in short left. Nick whipped the apple to Cantwell, and Young was tagged as he made his slide. The play was close but Umpire "Eggie" Lennox ruled the Delanco manager out and the score remained tied. This was carried into the ninth inning.

The battle was decided in the ninth on a single, two miscues in the Delanco infield, and a base on balls, which forced the winning run across the plate.

One was out and the bases were crowded when Jim Cantwell marched up to the plate.

Cantwell had his orders to wait out Manager Charlie Young, who had twirled a courageous battle for Delanco.

Ninth Inning Rally
Bill Everham had started the rally with a single after "Buck" Beaudry had fled to Francis Shaw. Nick Frappoli had grounded to Johnny Shaw, who, in his haste to force Everham at second, had thrown wild into right center.

Johnny Rhoda had grassed one down to George Shaw, whose throw to Dolph Bright had Everham trapped between third and home. Bright dropped the ball, however, and a hasty throw to Johnny Shaw was late and all hands were safe.

Cantwell has the reputation of being a good "water." Young obviously had become unmoved by his infield's "crack-up." He was wild, and there were two balls on Cantwell before the Wood catcher swung at a third one.

The next was a ball, the next a strike. The next was over but was fouled off. The next pitch was high and wide. Cantwell frothed toward first, and Everham jogged across the plate, scoring the winning run and ending the game.

Rally Cut Short
Delanco made a hearty bid for a run in the ninth, and all with two out. Woolston erred on Young's drive to center and then "Bunny" passed Dan and George Shaw. The Wood twirled pulled himself together, however, and pulled Kalbach to fly out.

Delanco should have won the ball game and with the usual breaks that come with most every game it would have scored on the long end of the count. "Cy" Young had the best of the pitching argument and only allowed five hits while his team mates were gathering six off of the offerings of Lippincott.

The series between Medford and Florence will begin Saturday afternoon at Medford.

COUNTIES OBJECT TO TAX INCREASE

Rural Sections Cannot Meet Rise, State Board Members Are Told

Declaring that many farmers in South Jersey would be ruined if the order were put through, representatives of the Tax Board of Burlington, Gloucester and Cumberland counties at Trenton last week protested to the State Board of Taxation against the increase in assessed valuations demanded by that body. It was claimed that the present assessments were based on boom values which had not lasted. After hearing the protests, James Baker, of Hudson county, president of the board declared he was quite sure the farm situation in South Jersey was acute.

A letter from John Tilton, of Mount Holly, secretary of the Burlington County Tax Board, who was unable to be present, was read by former Judge Harold B. Wells, who represented the county. The letter stated that during the first six months there were sixty-three Sheriff sales on farms in the county, as compared to sixteen, five years ago, during a similar period. "Practically all of the development in Burlington county is at a standstill as the result of the boom which passed through South Jersey several years ago, disappearing from view," read Tilton's letter in part.

Burlington county is now assessed at $58,891,444. Under the equalization plan of the State Board an increase of ten per cent will make the assessment figures of Burlington county total $64,780,588.

Much the same condition exist in Gloucester county, according to Donald Swakhamer, member of the tax board. He claimed that the farmers were facing disaster owing to the present high assessment values placed on their property. The State board has assessed Gloucester county rates at $59,000,000, with an increase of five per cent which makes the figures $61,950,000. As an instance of the present difficulty Swakhamer said that there have been at least fifty Sheriff sales on Gloucester farms during the present year. Delinquent taxes which cannot be collected amount to $300,000.

Miss Thelma Parkinson, president of the tax board of Cumberland county, protested against an increase of five per cent in assessments, making the amount demanded $44,000,000. She claimed that since the American Can Company has abandoned its factory in Bridgeton the county cannot afford the increase.

THE EARLY LAYING ARE PULLETS BEST

In any flock of pullets of the same hatch there will be some that develop to egg-laying maturity several days and even several weeks ahead of others, and there is the greatest possible difference between the two so far as their economic value as future egg producers is concerned, according to Prof. Willard C. Thompson, Supervisor of the New Jersey Egg Laying Contests.

The trapping of many thousands of pullets at the contests has demonstrated that the ability of a pullet to come to her first egg at a relatively early age is an almost sure indication of future capacity as a winter season layer and persistent producer throughout the year.

The pullets should bear some mark which will indicate the date of hatch when they are handled prior to inclusion in the laying pens in the fall. Toe-punches serve this purpose admirably and cheaply.

When it comes time to divide the season's pullet crop into flocks for the winter houses, it is advisable to place the pullets of the same age together, and within that group place the early starters in units by themselves, and the late starters together. It will be found that in the ensuing ten months, for instance, that the early starters will average something like 25 eggs per bird more than those of the same age, which are only medium starters and as much as 40 to 50 eggs per bird more than the late starters. These figures have been secured in California as well as New Jersey.

Select breeders from amongst the early starters. Mark the early starters with a blue celluloid leg band this fall. It will point them out throughout the year. This characteristic of precocious laying, or early starting, is undoubtedly made up of a number of breeding factors, but to have birds with that capacity is our goal. Watch out for the first layers in the pullet flock. Watch their performance. Value them.

MINOR CASES IN COUNTY COURT

Several Matters Before Judge Slaughter in First Session After Vacation

The regular Thursday sessions of the Burlington County Court were resumed last week at Mount Holly, with Judge William A. Slaughter on the bench. Several Criminal Court matters had accumulated during the month and they were given precedence, among them being three adoption applications.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Ferguson, of Beverly, requested permission to adopt little Harold Thomas, taken by them when he was three months old and he is now seven. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Steen, of Bridgeboro, made a similar application, desiring to give their name to little Carl Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude F. Graver, of Riverside, asked permission to adopt Gertrude Marie Rowan.

The papers were favorably signed in all three cases. Criminal matters were disposed of as follows:

Thomas Roberts, aged 20, and George Smiley, aged 15, both colored, of Mount Laurel township, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing a pocketbook from the automobile of Mrs. Eva Crim, of that township, and they were placed on probation for two years and were given six months in which to pay the costs and they must also pay back the $10.

Agnes Watson, a wayward young girl from Pemberton township, was before the Court on a serious charge which implicated several Pemberton men, and she pleaded guilty.

This girl is no stranger to the Court and has given the officials considerable trouble for the past three years.

She was sent to the State Home for Girls.

George Johnson, colored, of Mansfield township, came in on a waiver which charged him with attempting to steal gasoline and other automobile accessories in Mansfield township and he pleaded not guilty.

He is in jail but can obtain his release if he secures $200 bail, and in the meantime a date will be set for the hearing of his case.

On motion of Prosecutor Hillman, the case of the State vs. L. D. Gilliam, charged with embezzlement, was ordered nolle prossed.

Harold Reed, of Delanco, convicted on a charge of drunken driving, had his case heard on appeal from the decision of Justice Elmer C. Johnson, of Delanco, and the decision of the lower court was upheld but Reed's sentence was reduced from ninety to sixty days and he began serving the time immediately.

Another case on appeal was that of Willard Greenwald, of Lumberton, charged with reckless driving.

In this case as in the former, Judge Slaughter could see no reason for differing with the decision rendered by Justice Joseph C. Kingdon, of Mount Holly, in the lower court, and his action was also affirmed.

Greenwald was sentenced to pay a fine of $25 and costs.

The new Buick is the New Style

Graceful contours instead of straight lines...the gleam and sparkle of brilliant colors and chrome plating instead of drab effects...the most beautiful bodies ever built... Buick's masterpiece bodies by Fisher

At a time when motor car beauty was practically standardized—when imitation was the virtue—when there was a glaring lack of originality in body design—Buick has swept far beyond the commonplace and achieved a style which the entire country is acclaiming as the most distinctive and beautiful ever shown!

Fisher, the world's foremost builder of automobile bodies, has cooperated with Buick, the world's foremost builder of fine cars, to create a new mode—a new fashion—and so luminous is the result and so eagerly is the public welcoming it that Buick's great factories have reached new production levels in an effort to keep pace with an ever increasing demand!

THOUSANDS SEE PARACHUTE JUMP AT CLUB'S FIELD

Event Attracted Record Crowd to Moorestown Airport Sunday Afternoon

ARRANGE FOR STUNT TWICE THIS SUNDAY

French Takes Reporter in Air to "Cover" the Big Attractions

Has Burlington County become "air minded?"

The question can be answered in the words of the modern youth, "and how!"

But the crowd which turned out last Sunday afternoon for the parachute jump at the Burlington County Aero Club's field on the Hartford-Westfield road, just south of Bridgeboro road, Moorestown, better answers the question.

This was one of the largest crowds ever seen in the county and every person in the great throng seemed to be an "air" enthusiast.

According to the most conservative estimates, there was easily a thousand automobiles parked at the field, along the road to the airport, Bridgeboro road and along Stanwick avenue. And no one has ventured to estimate the number of persons who witnessed the jump.

Regret Disappointment

Everything was "run off" in fine order. Everyone felt more than repaid for their visit to the field. The only unfortunate part of the day's activities was the disappointment Sunday evening. Sergeant John R. Kelly, the jumper, was scheduled to jump at four and seven o'clock, but due to the fact that he was called back to jump at his own field, the Philadelphia Municipal Airport, at six o'clock, he was unable to fulfill the evening engagement.

Both H. H. Longaker, president, and William D. French, field chairman, have issued public statements in which they expressed deep regret that the club was forced to disappoint so many friends in the evening.

They have also announced that the sergeant was pleased with the treatment he received at the Burlington County field and has agreed to jump twice every Sunday as long as the weather permits. The jumps will be made at four and seven o'clock, starting with this Sunday.

Thanks to the generosity of Mr. French, this reporter was privileged to witness the jump from the air. Kelly was given an aerial escort, and we were afforded the pleasure of being a member of the escorting party.

Aerial Escort

The club's passenger plane, piloted by Lieutenant Edward R. Pennock, the club's chief pilot and instructor, carried the reporter up in the air for the jump. The club's other ship, S. Roger Gale in his new "Waco," Jack Thropp, of Trenton, in his own plane, and Mr. French and the reporter in the field chairman's plane, formed the escort which closely followed Pennock and Kelly from the field.

The ships circled the field several times until an altitude of about 2000 feet was reached. Then the sergeant climbed out of the cockpit, backed off the wing into the air, and the parachute, thoroughly thrilling the crowd.

Needless to say, the reporter was likewise thrilled. We were trying to watch every movement. Kelly made, keep a sharp eye on the other ships which were shooting all around us, and appear perfectly "nonchalant" for the benefit of our pilot who was banking the ship on some first-class angles.

In other words, this reporter was thrillingly busy.

Well, we continued to bank and make circles around the descending parachute, lost altitude at approximately the same speed, thus giving us a remarkable view of the stunt. We could see Kelly pulling the ropes, with which he guides the "shute," and were very close to the ground as Kelly made a perfect "landing."

Landings

Kelly later told us it was the easiest landing he ever made.

Mr. French is a splendid pilot and the reporter has volunteered to act as "ballast" for him on any occasion. Recently he treated us to a delightful "hop" which kept us in the air for an hour and a half. We flew all over Burlington County, had a splendid view of this section from the air, circling all of the points of interest. Then we went over Johnsonville where the Sinclair estate is a big attraction, flew over Bordentown, skirted Trenton by flying over the Delaware and went back into Pennsylvania. We finally returned to the Delaware near Bristol and flew down the Pennsylvania side until Riverside was reached.

Crossing the river at that point, an aerial inspection was made of the riverfront towns down to Palmyra, after which the return trip to the airport was made.

Columns could be written of the unusual sights one enjoys on an aerial trip of this sort. Many beauties which escape our notice from the ground are quickly discovered. One has missed a rare treat until such a "hop" has been made.

Mr. French quickly instills confidence in his passenger, and the trip develops a real feeling of safety. After a few moments any nervousness would settle down to enjoy the sights with as much comfort as he would in an automobile. But it is much more in-

STEEDLE HEADS REPUBLICAN CLUB

New Organization Includes Riverton and Cinnaminson Township

A meeting of the Republican voters of Riverton and Cinnaminson Township was held at the Riverton Fire House Tuesday night, at which time the Republican Club of Riverton and Cinnaminson Township was organized.

Officers were elected as follows: President, George D. Steedle; vice-president, Joseph L. Thomas; secretary, Herbert Evans; treasurer, J. Carl DeLaCour.

The meeting voted to have a banner prepared and placed in position as soon as possible, to immediately open a club headquarters.

The club was authorized to appoint the necessary committees for a vigorous prosecution of the campaign for Hoover, Curtis and the whole Republican ticket.

Edgar Lippert, who was president of the club four years ago, was given a big hand when he said, "We want to do more than go to the polls and vote. Every Republican should consider himself a member of a campaign committee to get out the vote. It's not enough that we should vote ourselves, but we should use every effort to make votes for the Republican candidates and be personally responsible for seeing that those votes get into the ballot box."

RIVERTON PUBLIC SCHOOL CENSUS

A number of changes have been made during the summer by families moving in and out of the Borough of Riverton, causing changes to be made in our school census.

Some of the cards have been in use for several years, and a revision is desirable. As these cards are valuable in helping to determine the number of children who will become of school age at the mid-year, the state constructs a highway parallel to route 38, two costly highways will have to be maintained at double expense to the taxpayers.

On Mr. Stout's suggestion it was decided to call this meeting, and at 11:22 deeds had been examined they reported the average assessment was only 42% of the true valuation. Solicitor Wells stated that in Monmouth county a taxpayers' league had been organized to fight the proposed increase there.

Department bills were ordered paid as follows: Roads, $3,847.23; bridges, $33,759.82; finance, $35,561.88; public buildings, $20,210.31; public affairs, $6,215.66. Total, $132,795.99.

This was the sixth death in the Woolston family since January 1. Walter Woolston, brother of Albert, died from pneumonia. His niece, Mrs. Walter Moore, was killed by being struck by an automobile. The next death was that of the wife of Albert Woolston, from cancer. Then James MacFarland, a son-in-law of Albert Woolston, was killed when hit by a car in Philadelphia. Mrs. Anna Scott, sister of Mrs. William Woolston, died in Philadelphia from pneumonia.

FROMMUTH TO QUIT BOROUGH COUNCIL

Councilman's Resignation Postponed Till Next Month on Mayor's Request

Citizens attending the meeting of Palmyra Borough Council Tuesday evening received a surprise when Clerk Spencer read a letter from Councilman Fred G. Frommuth asking that his resignation as a member of Council be accepted at the earliest time convenient.

Mayor Winter expressed regret at Mr. Frommuth's desire to resign and urged him to reconsider. He called attention to the fact that Council is running short-handed, due to the continued absence of Councilman Handel and the illness of Councilman Lees, and pointed to the heavy burden that is now falling on the other members.

Councilman Frommuth stated that his action was due to the press of business and the large amount of time required by his outside duties. He said he took great pleasure in serving his home town, but could not see his way clear to give sufficient time in the future to conscientiously fulfill the position.

The Mayor asked permission, however, to hold the resignation over to the next meeting of Council and to this Mr. Frommuth agreed.

MOSES TO BUILD BRIDGE AT CAMP

Edgewater Park Contractor is Lowest in Field of Four Bidders

Four bids were submitted at the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders at Mount Holly, last Friday, for the construction of bridge P.3.39 at Jones' Mill, between Cookstown and Wrightstown, on the site recently purchased for a camp by the Burlington County Boy Scouts.

The bidders were as follows: Hill Construction Company, Mount Holly, $6,044.00; Kohn Construction Company, Trenton, $6,300.00; C. S. Moses, Edgewater Park, $5,735.00. The contract was awarded to Moses, the lowest bidder.

A motion by the director of the road department that the clerk be authorized to issue permits at $5 each for heavy traffic over the highway was unanimously passed. This affects concrete mixers and similar contrivances or any other unusually heavy vehicles.

Edward G. Hawkins, clerk of Northampton Township, addressed a communication to the board calling attention to the flooded condition in the rear of properties on the East side of Pine street, south of the railroad, owing to surface drainage from South Pennington road. The matter was referred to the department of roads.

Beverly Wants Stop Signs

Leroy Grant, clerk of Beverly city, addressed a communication asking that stop signs be placed on all streets crossing Warren street in that city. Members of the board pointed out, however, that it was not customary for the county to supply these signs, which were usually provided by the municipalities.

The secretary of the state highway commission notified the board that on October 2 a hearing would be held on taking over route 38 between Camden and Eastampton Township and making it a part of the state highway system. This road runs through Maple Shade and Moorestown, and Director Stout, of the road department, suggested that a meeting be called prior to the hearing at which the views of the various municipalities affected be ascertained. Mr. Stout said that within the next five years Burlington County would face an expenditure of $120,000 to improve this road which was taken over by the state.

The state constructs a highway parallel to route 38, two costly highways will have to be maintained at double expense to the taxpayers.

On Mr. Stout's suggestion it was decided to call this meeting, and at 11:22 deeds had been examined they reported the average assessment was only 42% of the true valuation. Solicitor Wells stated that in Monmouth county a taxpayers' league had been organized to fight the proposed increase there.

7-YEAR-OLD BOY KILLED IN CRASH

John Kempf, Palmyra Boy, Dies After Collision; Three Others Injured

John Henry Kempf, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kempf, of Pennsylvania avenue, Palmyra, was fatally injured when the car in which he was a passenger crashed into a telegraph pole last Sunday evening.

The Kempf boy and three other passengers who were not seriously injured were rushed to the Zehring Memorial Hospital, Riverside. The lad died in the hospital early Wednesday morning from internal injuries and loss of blood.

The other injured persons who received treatment at the hospital were Doris Wachter, 10; Carl Wachter, 9, and Mrs. Mary Beale, 75, all of Palmyra. They suffered severe bruises and cuts but were not seriously injured. John Wachter, driver of the car, escaped with slight injuries.

The car, a large sedan, is the property of Albert Seither, of Palmyra. Seither had left it with Wachter to be repaired while he had gone to the shore over the weekend. Repairs to the machine had been finished and Wachter invited some of the neighbors to go for a ride with him while he tested the car.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Branch Pike and Riverton road. Evidently the machine skidded while going at a high rate of speed as it snapped off the pole at the base. The car was completely wrecked and was towed to Ed's Service Station at Cinnaminson avenue and Cuthbert road, Palmyra.

Funeral services will be held at two o'clock Friday afternoon from the Snover Funeral Home, 315 East Broad street. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemetery.

LEFT TURNS ON GREEN BY ORDER OF RIVERTON BOROUGH COUNCIL

Traffic Signals Will be Changed Over to Work Like Palmyra Light

BOYS REPRIMANDED FOR MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

Following the discussion of the order issued by Director of Public Safety Williams to the Riverton Police force, that traffic would continue to turn left on the amber light until further notice, the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night unanimously passed a resolution that the use of the amber be discontinued immediately except for pedestrians, and that left hand turns should be made on the green light in compliance with the new state traffic regulations which went into effect the first of September.

Members of Council agreed with Director Williams that the danger of accidents was increased by turning left on green, and it is the intention of Council to change over the present traffic signal lights as soon as possible so that they will work like the one at Palmyra which stops traffic three ways, and the motorist getting the green light can proceed in any direction—straight ahead, or turn to right or left.

Oiling About Finished

William B. Lynch, chairman of the highway committee, reported that the oiling of streets had been about completed for this year. The surface drainage pipe across Fourth street at Elm avenue, which was reported by a number of citizens at the last meeting not to be functioning properly, has been repaired. It was found that the pipe had been cut into the top of the storm sewer and that the sewer pipe had become clogged with leaves, twigs and other bits of debris. The gas company has raised its pipe and the break in the drainage pipe has been sealed over.

Mr. Lynch reported that some work had been done to improve the condition of the surface of Elm avenue, Palmyra Borough cooperating.

Clarence N. Hubbs, chairman of the sewer committee reported that a stoppage in the sewer on Midway had been corrected. When this line was cleaned out, Mr. Hubbs said, about seventy sewer rods were removed. These rods were supposed to have been removed from time to time until they attributed largely to condition which had to do with the failure of the sewer to function properly.

Mr. Hubbs declared that from now on it was going to be increasingly difficult to keep the sewer pipe working properly owing to the accumulation of the roots from the trees which work in through the pipe joints. He suggested that all the sewers in the borough be thoroughly cleaned out at an early date so that there would be no further interruption in the service. He estimated the cost to be about $200, and he recommended that provision be made for this work in next year's budget.

STORM WRECKS RIVERTON BOATS

Wednesday's heavy wind and rain played havoc with the boats of the Riverton Yacht Club.

Belknap's L. boat "Lady Andry" was badly damaged and sunk. Arthur Wright's motor boat "Spook" was washed ashore but was floated again without serious damage. The small motor boat "Durdling" belonging to the Seabrook boys was sunk at its moorings, and "Big Hurry" owned by Mechling brothers, of Moorestown, disappeared during the night. It probably broke its moorings and drifted away.

Several boats of the Keystone Club at Torresdale, were found on the flats near the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry, this morning and were taken off at high tide.

CHILD SERIOUSLY INJURED BY AUTO

June Hires Suffers Broken Ankle and Cuts about Neck When Struck by Car

Little June Hires, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James K. Hires, was painfully injured when she was struck by an automobile near the intersection of Fourth and Morgan avenues last Saturday evening.

According to witnesses, the little girl was playing with some other children when they took a sudden notion to cross the street. June started across first followed by her playmates. Just as she ran out in front of a car which was parked along the curb she was struck by a touring car driven by Louis Burk.

The injured child was taken immediately to the office of Dr. Francis S. Voorhis and later removed to the West Jersey Hospital, Camden. At the hospital it was found she was suffering from a broken ankle and severe abrasions about the back of her neck.

Burk was held under $1000 bail by Police Justice Fichter pending outcome of the child's injuries.

BIG WELCOME FOR GRAND KNIGHT SIM

Visiting Knights and Elaborate Program Marks His Return from Abroad

The Fall and Winter activities of St. Joseph's Council started off with not only a "bang" but an "explosion," last Tuesday night, when almost every member of the Council was present. Visiting Knights from all over the county and several from Philadelphia were on hand, to help the Riverton-Palmyra Knights greet their Grand Knight and also State Deputy J. Connor French.

Moving pictures of Grand Knight Sim, his wife and daughter, departing for their trip abroad were shown. Views were also shown of New York harbor, the sailing of the Aquitania, and the docking of the Samaria, the vessels on which Mr. Sim made his trip, were shown by Charles Delaney.

Doughtery Speakers

James Doughtery, the popular orator from San Domingo Council, Philadelphia, was the first speaker, and his fifteen-minute talk to the assembled Knights made them feel more proud than ever to welcome home such a man and Knight of Columbus as Grand Knight Sim.

Humorous stories and dialogues by James Waffer, also of Philadelphia, brought rounds of laughter and applause from all the members.

Everybody was intensely interested in the twenty-minute talk by State Deputy J. Connor French, who stated that the cooperation that existed among the Councils of Burlington county was bound to keep them in the foremost ranks of the K. of C. in New Jersey.

Other speakers were the Grand Knight of Trenton Council and John J. McClesney, of Moorestown.

A group of entertainers led by Frank Dorley, of Philadelphia, provided the songs and musical numbers for the evening's entertainment.

"Jake" Serves Lunch

Light lunch was served by "Jake" Stroblein and his hustling crew of "wienie" dispensers, which, of course, was voted as being just the right "trimming" for such a happy turnout of Burlington county Knights.

Election of officers preceded the evening's festivities and the unanimous selection of the members was as follows: Grand Knight, Harry G. Sim; Deputy Grand Knight, Adolph Stroblein; Chancellor, Francis Shenkel; Warden, Lawrence Schuler; Guards, Jacob Stroblein and James Hollowell; Treasurer, Joseph T. Yearly; Recorder, James Barr;

YMCA LEADERS PLAN PROGRAM

Palmyra-Riverton Board of Directors Discuss Year's Activities

The September meeting of the Board of Directors of the Palmyra-Riverton Young Men's Christian Association was held in the building of the Association at Palmyra last week.

Plans and policies for the coming year were discussed and adopted. Among these was one which should prove exceedingly interesting to the men of these two communities, quilt pitching, which is to be done on the back of the building each night. Electric lights are being installed so that the darkness will not interfere with the fun.

It was decided that the first big community event for all the boys of these two communities would be held on Friday of this week. The program for this occasion calls for some movies and an abundance of fine "eats" together with a statement regarding the various groups and units and the why and how of membership therein.

The work of the Y. M. C. A. Association in these two towns is directed by the following men: Palmyra, Charles A. Davis, James H. Hartley, William McConnell, William T. P. Neil, Charles B. Hinchman, Robert Kirkpatrick, George Conover and Harold B. Lever; Riverton, Walter L. Bowen, Dr. Samuel W. Collins, Nathan Lane, Jr., C. E. Singleton, Meers, Victor Hinchard, Sherman L. Warren, Parker T. Barnes and E. C. Richman.

The officers are as follows: President, George N. Wimer, Palmyra; Vice-president, Edward W. C. Borer, Riverton; Secretary, Leonard R. Baker, Palmyra.

The building is open each afternoon and evening. Boys are urged to use it to the fullest possible extent. Games, sport reading and social supervision are to be had at the Y. M. C. A. Building.

Director of Public Safety Williams reported for the Police Department that three arrests had been made during the month for parking without lights. He further reported that a dozen boys who had almost reached the years of manhood, had been brought before him for malicious mischief and dismissed with a reprimand and warning. This, however, said the director, had not been very effective, and he suggested that the next offense be followed by prosecution.

Handit Gets Five Years

Director Williams reported that Frank McGowan, who had been the principal offender in the robbery committed in a house on Harrison street last Spring, had been sentenced to from five to twenty years in Philadelphia on the charge of holding up a taxi driver. McGowan's case was laid before the grand jury on Thursday, and Burlington County will lodge a retainer with the Pennsylvania authorities so that at the expiration of his term McGowan will be brought to Mount Holly for trial in the Harrison street case.

Reporting for the Borough property committee, Mr. Williams said that the services of the park guard would terminate for this season on September 15. He spoke highly of the efficiency of the work done by William Jones, who filled the position this year. He also said that the park and the swimming hole had been very largely used this year, and arrangements should be made for its further development before the swimming season opens next Spring.

Report on Water Rate

A letter was read from Borough Attorney William T. Read stating that a communication from the Public Utilities Commission had advised him that, according to reports submitted, the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company was not receiving revenue in excess of the amount anticipated from the new rates, although a final determination of this matter could not be made until the expiration of the trial period of one year, which ends October first. The attorney also advised the passage by Council of a resolution granting permission for Public Service Coordinated Transport to run its buses through Riverton. Councilman Hubbs contended that the Thomas avenue crossing should be fixed before any more privileges were granted to the Public Service, but a question was raised as to whether or not transportation companies were required under the law passed last winter to maintain the space between their rails as heretofore, and the matter was referred to Councilman Hartley with a request to secure an opinion on the matter from the borough attorney.

Morris Steidle, who was appointed delinquent tax collector two years ago, submitted a written report of monies collected and a check covering the amount due the borough after deducting his fees.

Many Delinquents Pay

Collector Kenneth G. Davis reported that 40% of the delinquent personal taxes had been collected and that further action would be required on those which still remained unpaid.

The Mayor's appointment of Officer Quigley as delinquent tax collector was unanimously approved.

Communication signed by eleven property owners on Penn street, requesting the oiling of that street this year, was read. Chairman Lynch, of the highway committee, stated that the appropriation for oiling had been exhausted and that nothing more could be done this year. He said that requests had from practically every street in town that had not been oiled had been received.

The building inspector reported permits issued for building operations amounting to $2600, with fees aggregating $18.

C. M. Busby, representative of the State Chamber of Commerce, appeared before council to request that Riverton become a member of the Chamber in order to help promote the plan sponsored by the State Chamber for the development of South Jersey. The membership fee is $50, and Mr. Busby stated that most municipalities took at least two memberships, one in the name of the mayor and the other in the name of the clerk. Fifty-eight members have already been signed up in South Jersey.

CONCRETE PAVING PLAN OPPOSED

Lincoln and Washington venue Residents Not Ready to Support Movement

At a meeting called Wednesday evening of last week by Councilman Fromuth for the purpose of having Borough Engineer Vossbury present figures on the cost of hard surface paving for Lincoln and Washington avenue, a large number of citizens appeared with a petition opposing any such paving plan for present, because of the expense involved.

Some of the petitioners seemed of the impression that a plan was on foot to force hard paving upon them, but Mr. Fromuth assured the gathering that the only purpose of the meeting was to present figures so the property owners on the streets involved could consider them and decide for themselves.

Engineer Vossbury stated concrete could be laid at an average cost of $215 per 50-foot lot, which, divided into ten yearly payments would be $24 or $25 per year. He suggested that the present would be an excellent time to consider the improvement as labor and materials may be higher later on.

Little encouragement for the proposition could be had from the gathering, however, but the residents of Lincoln avenue were interested in a plan to improve conditions at the upper end of the street where the grade is steep and the roadway washes badly every time it storms.

It was planned for a committee to confer with Council on this proposition at its meeting this week, but owing to lack of time, the matter has been laid over until next month.

AUBURN GOES 'ROUND WORLD

Trip Made from Frozen Arctic to Equator, Covering Over 400,000 Miles

Nell Wonderwell, world traveler, in her tour of the globe in an Auburn automobile has covered 402,970 miles. Miss Wonderwell has covered the hot sands of the Sahara Desert, the most frozen stretches of the Yukon region, dined with Francisco Villa at his hacienda at Cantinello, Durango, Mexico, covered the barren regions of South America with part wheels attached to her automobile, was the friend of President Harding and Charlie Chaplin and has topped with dignitaries the world over.

Nell started her wanderlust career after having done war work at the nation's capital at Washington. There she met a distinguished Polish exile. The exile came to the United States in 1910. In the old world he was a Count. He wore the conventional lengthy name of his Fatherland. He ended in letters that were not suphonic, so the name was changed. He adopted the name Wonderwell. He and Nell were married, but she, always retiring, could never bring herself to the adoption of the title "Countess."

After the war Nell and her husband decided to make a trip around the world, by automobile.

Nell carries with her an official photographer and a mechanic. Her experiences will be published in book form, amply illustrated, when her travels are completed.

Nell marks as among her experiences, being fined $50,000 marks, for attracting a crowd on the street of Hanover, Germany; in China she found it cheaper to have her Auburn pulled by Coolies than by gas; from New Orleans she shipped to Europe aboard a tarp steamer and was 14 days enroute.

She watched the Northern Lights in the country of their origin, in Japan her name is inscribed on the wall of the city of Kobe, and again it appears in the Montmartre section of Paris and on the wall across the great country of China and she has gazed for hours in silent reverence from the banks of the River Jordan.

Few experiences that come into the life of one human being but have been hers. She has visited every state in the United States and every province of Canada and has paid her expenses by theatre engagements, and lectures not only there but in Honolulu, Alaska, Mexico, Central America, South America, Cuba, England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, France, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Poland, Russia, Greece, Turkey, Egypt, China, India and Japan.

MAY DECLINE AS JUROR

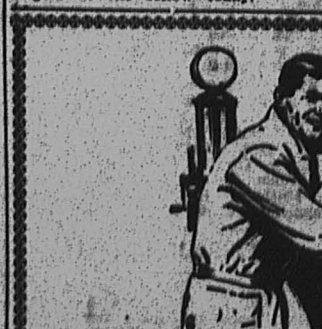

It is said that Frank G. Fort, of Burlington, drawn on the list of petit jurors for the coming term, probably in O. Frank Fort, of East Broad street, Burlington. But Mr. Fort may be excused if he so desires. He has passed the four-score mark, and the law gives anybody over sixty-five the right to decline the jury honor.

Murphy had been careless in handling the blasting powder in the quarry and Kelly had been deputed to break the news gently to the widow.

"Mrs. Murphy" said he, "isn't it today the fellow calls for the weekly payment for Murphy's life insurance?"

"It is," answered Mrs. Murphy.

"Well now, a word in your ear," said Kelly, "Sure you can snap your fingers at the fellow today."

SHOCK KILLS MAN AT HADDONFIELD

Fellow-Workers Strive in Vain to Save Lineman Victim of 3000 Volts

Frantic and heroic efforts of his fellow-workers failed to save the life of Russell Schaub, 28, a lineman, who died in Cooper Hospital, Camden, late Wednesday of last week after he was shocked and burned earlier in the day atop a telephone pole in Haddonfield.

For five hours after physicians reported that there was no heart action noticeable more than a score of Schaub's companions and associates worked over his body in an effort to revive him.

While working on a transformer on a pole at Birdwood and Hawthorne avenues, Haddonfield, Schaub grasped a wire carrying 3000 volts. He stiffened, unable to release his grip.

Herman Heitz, a lineman, seized the rubber blanket from the trouble wagon and hurried up the pole. He wrapped Schaub in the blanket and carried him to the ground.

TRENTON FAVORED AS HOSPITAL SITE

Chief Objection to Camp Dix Site for Ill Veterans to Post Road Facilities

What seems like the first active step toward the establishment of a hospital for veterans in New Jersey was taken last week, when a sub-committee of the Federal Hospitalization Board visited the state and looked over the various sites proposed.

There is no reason to change the belief that the hospital will be located on the Delaware river between Trenton and Philadelphia.

For several weeks M. E. Head, Director of the Eastern Bureau of the American Legion, has been in Trenton, have been making a survey of suggested sites. Mr. Head has advised that the hospital be located in the northwestern part of the state within a half-hour's train ride of New York City. It is this thought that such a location would make it possible to conduct the administration of the eastern bureau in the proposed hospital, whereas this could not be if the hospital was situated elsewhere.

General Oiklyson, however, has vigorously opposed this on behalf of the American Legion posts of the state. He has been standing out for Camp Dix, it is understood, but it is not thought the hospital will go there owing to the camp's inaccessibility by train.

ICE CREAM TOPIC OF ROTARY TALK

History of Popular Dish, and Its Food Value, is Explained

The Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club was agreeably surprised on Thursday evening last when they found that "Ice Cream" had been the topic of the evening's talk. Mrs. Carolyn V. Wright, the well-known dietitian on the staff of Castle's Ice Cream Company of Perth Amboy, N. J.

Mrs. Wright, in a very confident, capable and interesting manner, told the story of the origin and history of ice cream which, in this country, dates back to an event of "Dolly" Madison's when she was giving a party in honor of General Washington. In her effort to make a tasty and cooling dessert for the General, she from a pudding which hardened into what later became one of the world's famous confections.

But ice cream did not receive prominence until 1853 when Jacob Fussell, a milk merchant of Baltimore, to prevent a loss from an over supply of milk, froze it as a preservative, only to find that he had created a demand for a practically unheard-of refreshment. This business had such a phenomenal growth that he later entered into the manufacture of ice cream.

Through a long period and not until the passage of the Pure Food and Drug Act of September, 1906, was ice cream known as anything but a confection. It was at this time that its true food value became known and the demand for this food confectionery increased enormously, until today it is nationally known as a most nutritious food both for those in health as well as in the sick room.

Still further, the medical profession has now recognized that ice cream, which Mrs. Wright so thoroughly explained, was no less interesting than that of its history, and her discourse on its true food value, and she urged

CIRCUS STORY AT WALT WHITMAN

"Three Ring Marriage" Features Two Days' Program at Popular Theatre

"Three Ring Marriage," the new First National Picture coming to the Walt Whitman Theatre Thursday and Friday of this week, which co-stars Mary Astor and Lloyd Hughes, is a genuine blown-in-the-bottle circus story, with the flavor of the sawdust ring, red lemonade, clowns, bareback riders and wild animals.

It is a genuine circus story, for most of the cast is made up of circus performers, and a real circus was staged intact, from opening pageant to hippodrome races.

"Three Ring Marriage" is the picture of the circus, "Help Yourself to Hay." It was directed by that master of comedy touches, Marshall Neilan, and it gives both Miss Astor and Hughes ideal opportunities for their talents in the roles of circus riders.

When to love is to flirt with death is the story told in the Tiffany-Shall production, "The Scarlet Dove," which features Saturday's program. This story, which was written and directed by Arthur Gregor, whose own career has been more interesting than any fiction he can create, has as its heroine a young Russian girl whose pure white innocence is being sold by a socially ambitious aunt to a rogue whose purse needs refilling for his extravagant pleasures.

With a great deal of suspense, frequent thrills and many heart throbs there is unfolded a romance between the little bartered bride and a handsome and chivalrous young lieutenant in the Czar's army. His superior officer is the girl's husband, so that when the girl runs away from her husband and evidence points to the Lieutenant as responsible for her death, the young man is in a predicament that makes exciting drama.

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

I was kinder disappointed in Al's speech of acceptance. I thought he was smarter than he is. I thought he would refuse.
Just think how much bigger a man
Al would have been if he had refused.
If he gets elected he will be only one out of thirty that's held presidency. But if he had refused he'd be the first in history to do that—and probably the last.

A Democrat is naturally kinder than a Republican. He is out of office more and he has more time to think up things to say. All a Republican has to say is "well I am in, try and get me out." While with a Democrat he has to say something that will get the Republican out and also that will get him in.

Al said he would take the nomination because "this is the country that had raised him from obscurity to the standard bearer of his party." Now Al didn't have any monopoly on obscurity at birth. There is awfully many very well known at weaning time.

The part of his speech that kinder hit me was where he said that if he was elected he would have our government quit messing around down in Latin America. In other words if a Latiner went slight-seeing he would have to pay his own way.

Al is honest about farm relief. He says he don't know a corn stalk from a Jimson weed and that a tractor might be a mouth wash so far as he is concerned. All in all, Al did a mighty fine job of promising. Now I think my platform is more constructive. I will make mine up after I get in. Nobody knows what they might want by next March anyhow.

—WILL ROGERS.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

The Black Sheep

A woman has written to me, wanting to know what to do in the case of her son. She says he won't go to school, he won't do useful work and tends generally to consort with disreputable companions.

I may as well confess right now that I cannot answer her question.
I know all the arguments about love and kind treatment and psychological study and patience and so on, and I know also that there are cases that none of these things fit.

I do not suppose there is one family among my readers unable to confess to some sort of black sheep; some boy or girl that persists in going wrong in spite of everything.

Much is said of preachers' sons who turn out badly and the implication is that they have been treated to strictly in their youth, so that in later years they rebel.

Some say that children should be carefully disciplined and rigidly instructed, but such children have not always done so well in later years.

In fact I have known children of utterly loose and careless parents to turn out to be strict models of propriety, and others who have had every advantage of favorable environment go swiftly to the dogs.

Some say that children should be given their freedom and allowed to do as they please, but that does not always work.

You may talk about your heredity and about a child inheriting the bad traits of his grand uncle and about environment and about the whole trouble with children being that they are not properly disciplined. All this is very interesting reading. But the fact remains that the irresponsible and wayward sheep is in almost every family of my acquaintance.

Not long ago a prominent banker showed me a letter he had from his son, telling him that if he did not receive some money immediately he would commit suicide. The reply of the banker may not have been judicious, but it was interesting. He said to his son, "I have no money to send you, but don't let that deter you."

The Primary Department is preparing for a special Rally Day service on September 30, at which time there will be promotion and graduation exercises.

The subject of the Sunday morning services will be "The Call to Service." For the evening service the pastor will take for his subject, "The Church Home." Special music has been arranged by a men's chorus.

MORAVIAN CHURCH

Albert J. Harker, Pastor

It is gratifying to note the loyalty of the members to the church services during the hot summer days. The faithfulness of many in not neglecting the assembling of themselves together for worship is indeed commendable. Now that vacation days are over we invite all the swing into the full program of work. There are just two more Sundays before our Rally Day and "Go to Church Sunday," October 7, when we hope to be fully lined up for the winter's work. All the organizations are fast resuming their activities.

The Willing Workers opened their activities last Thursday with an all day sewing meeting, and will continue their day meetings every Thursday until their annual Supper and Bazaar.

Next Wednesday evening September 26 at 8 o'clock the Willing Workers will hold a social for the congregation and friends in the basement of the church. The "Penny Day" boxes are to be returned at that time. Refreshments will be served, and a good time is in store for all.

The choir will resume rehearsals next Thursday evening to be ready to begin their ministry of song at our Rally Day services.

The Christian Societies also resume their activities this week. The Senior C. E. Society holds a social in the church rooms this Friday evening to which all young people are invited.
Their first fall prayer meeting will be held next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Junior C. E. Society will hold its first meeting next Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

State Troopers Horn and Doyle, of the Bridgeboro Barracks are now at Sea Cliff, for a two week's target practice, and will return to this vicinity on Friday when Sergeant Kennon and Trooper Small, also of Bridgeboro, will leave for Sea Cliff.

Rally Day September 30!

This is such a big occasion that we must start pushing it to the full limit of our power even at this date. The coming Sunday should be a day of preparation for that great drive for souls. Each and every member of Sunday School who will be present next Sunday will be stimulated to the full to work during the ensuing week to make this Rally Day a record-breaking day for attendance in our school.

There will be awards for attendance and promotions made. Special ceremonies for these.

Some in our school have a remarkable record for attendance, having been present at Sunday School every Sunday for five and six years, others two or three years. It is most interesting to see who these exceptionally faithful are, and notice the light of joy when they receive their pins, or their pendants to this already posses-ed, thus adding another link to their "chain of glory."

It is planned to have the men in large numbers for the first time, and teaching arrangements are being made, which will mean a exceedingly interesting hour in discussion and study for every man in our church. The men will come for the sake of pure enjoyment rather than from any sense of duty.

Instrumental music and songs by various departments will add fervor to the program.

Regular services in church next Sunday morning and evening, with special vocal music as arranged by our music committee.

Holy Communion will be celebrated October 7, morning and evening.

young man often loses his head.

Girls' Conference

Plans for the weekend conference for business and industrial girls are progressing nicely. Members of the Philadelphia Y. W. C. A. clubs will be guests of the girls here. Enrollments are being received by any of the following girls: Helen Jones, Margaret Logan, and Elsie Hoover, of Burlington; Dorothy Pfau, of Riverside; Marjorie Allen, of Mount Holly; Emma Fenton, of Willingboro; Mrs. Paul Stockwell, of Moorestown; Ada Hamilton, of Florence; Ruth Hollingshead, of Palmyra; Mrs. Arthur D. Miller, of Ranococas; Edna Adams, of Beverly; and Miss Sidonie Schafer, at the county office.

Mrs. Almeda Ranson, of Moorestown, is the president of the newly organized senior club for colored girls in Moorestown. The club will meet at the Y. W. C. A. hall every Wednesday evening. Last Wednesday Mrs. Mary Warren was hostess to a group of girls at a tea and the organization was completed. The club will be known as the Blue Triangle Club.

The Willingboro Senior "Y" club had their first meeting this fall on Saturday afternoon. Plans were made for the program for the winter. On next Saturday evening they will have the Girl Reserves as their guests at a party, at which time Miss Sidonie Schafer, of the county Y. W. C. A., will lead the group in a study of stars and constellations.

The Girl Reserves of Burlington County are quite busy reorganizing their clubs since the beginning of school. The following are the ones which have already started: Columbus Grade, Columbus Junior High; Riverside Grade, Moorestown Grade, Moorestown High, Moorestown Colored, two Mount Holly grade clubs; Jolietown; Beverly; Burlington Tier O Sin; Riverton Colored; Maple Shade; Marlton; Bustleton, Hainesport; Riverside Colored; Chesterfield; Willingboro; Pemberton, Whites Bog. A new club is being organized at Delanco, with Mrs. Charles Dentling as adviser. Others will be started immediately.

Plans for the High School Girl Reserve Setting-Up Conference, which Camden and Burlington counties are holding at Camp Oceanikon, October 2-7, are progressing very well. A full program for the weekend has been planned and leadership is rapidly being recruited from the two counties.

KEAN SAYS HOOVER WILL CARRY N. J.

Declares Jersey Prosperity Depends on Endorsement of G. O. P. Platform

New Jersey will be carried for Herbert Hoover because it is a State of homes, industries and resorts, and because the Republican national platform is woven entirely around the policy of continuing and improving the standard of living in our homes.

This is the basis of the message Hamilton P. Kean has carried into ten counties of the State and will carry into three more this week. The Republican candidate for the United States Senate, after speaking in the industrial counties of North Jersey, journeyed into the lair of Enoch Johnson, Atlantic county Republican leader, on Saturday.

"You must judge an individual or a group by their records," said Kean. "Every time the Democrats have had an opportunity in power they have meddled with the tariff, and every time they have done that there has been a heavy percentage of unemployment. It is largely due to the fact that Herbert Hoover was Secretary of Commerce that we may be thankful for the absence of panicky times. Business now is on the up-grade and the prosperity we have been enjoying under the Coolidge administration is no longer endangered," Kean declared.

Hell, for garage mechanics, will be a land of abundant grease and no steering wheels to wipe it on.

PHONE COMPANY PURCHASE LAND

Desen Farms Acquired Near Trenton For Construction of Transmitting Station

Mystery surrounding the recent purchase of a dozen farms at Rosedale, near Lawrenceville, was cleared last week, with the formal announcement by the public department of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company that it has acquired approximately 800 acres of land in that vicinity for the construction of a short wave transmitting station.

The plant, to be located seven miles from Trenton, will be one of three units to provide swift telephone service between the large cities of the United States and Great Britain. Similar stations are now under construction at Netcong, and in Great Britain.

According to yesterday's announcement, work will be started shortly on an antenna system 4,500 feet long, to be divided into three short-wave transmitting units. Two buildings will house the power and transmitting equipment.

The declaration is a direct contradiction of an alleged official statement made by Charles Coffin, assistant district manager in charge of the telephone system in New Jersey, in which denial was made on Tuesday that the Rosedale properties had been purchased by the company.

HELD ON PRODUCE THEFT
Benjamin Waskive, of Hainesport, was apprehended last week removing a wheelbarrow loaded with farm produce from the farm of Howard Eckert, near Hainesport. He was arrested by Constable John Oliver and committed to the county jail at Mount Holly in default of bail to await the action of the grand jury. The wheelbarrow contained two bushels of tomatoes, one bushel of corn and seven ears of horse corn, and seven ears of horse corn, Eckert said.

The Modern Home Runs on Schedule Electricity and Gas are Put to Work

Gas Steam Radiator Used to Heat Public Buildings

The gas steam radiator is well adapted for use in churches, stores and public buildings which are not in constant use. As heat is wasted in keeping these places even partially heated all the time, the gas steam radiator, which can be turned on and off quickly, is an economical means of heating.

These radiators are specially priced now at Public Service stores, cash prices beginning at $33.05.

Your Favorite Heating System Can Be Fired by Gas

More and more are people installing gas heating plants in their homes for they find that gas gives them a successful heating system without worry or care. It makes no noise or smoke or odor. There is no work, dirt or dust connected with its use.

A gas boiler or furnace may be used with your present heating system—steam, vapor, hot water or warm air. No change in pipes or radiators is necessary if these are adequate or in good condition. Because the furnace is not subject to vibration, it will outlast other house heating equipment, and Public Service will service your gas house heating equipment for you.

Why not change to gas house heating before the winter begins? One of our engineers will be glad to talk the matter over with you and give you an estimate of the cost of installation and maintenance. No obligation will be incurred.

The Electric Toaster Makes the Best Toast

Toast may be made in a few minutes if the electric toaster is used. It's a handy servant to have at the table during a meal. Turns the bread golden brown.

At Public Service stores toaster prices begin at $3.75.

A Glowing Fire on the Hearth Transforms the Whole Room

The cheerful warmth of the gas fireplace heater gives a note of welcome to a room. The gas fire can be lighted instantly and turned off as quickly. Its use entails no work. It makes no smoke or dust or odor, no flying sparks to injure rugs or polished floors.

Number 110 Lawson—a ten radiant type of gas fireplace of black enamel, nickel trimmed, sells for $16 cash. On terms $17. $4 down and $2.60 monthly for five months.

Use the Electric Radiator To Warm a Drafty Corner

If there's a corner of a room where the chill fingers, connect the electric heater and its warm rays will soon dispel the dampness. Our electric radiators are well built, are light in weight and easily moved and attached.

PALMYRA MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Charles H. Smyth Expires in Schwering's Store After Attack on Street

Charles H. Smyth, 42 years old, of 804 Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, died suddenly only a few minutes after leaving the office of Dr. Marks last Monday morning. He had been to the office for treatment for illness which had been troubling him for several months and had gone as far as Schwering's hardware store on his way back to work on the new Baptist Church, where he was employed at his trade as carpenter.

It was about ten o'clock when he was seen to drop to the sidewalk by the driver of a passing bus who carried him into the store. Dr. Bauer was called and arrived in a very short time. Dr. Marks was told about what had happened to his patient and hurriedly went to the scene.

Smyth was breathing when the doctor arrived but died soon afterwards.
He was given a hyperdermic in an effort to sustain life but it was of no avail. Death is thought to have resulted from an attack of acute indigestion.

Funeral services will be held from the late residence at 230 Friday afternoon with the Rev. George Lockett and the Rev. J. William Lee officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemetery with Frank A. Snover in charge. Friends may call Thursday evening.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Lucy M., two sons, Arthur, of East Riverton, and Walter, of Willow Grove, and a daughter, Mrs. Katie Carter, of Camden.

PENNSY TO CURTAIL PASSENGER SERVICE

Commuters Will Not Be Affected But Trains Generally Used by Shoppers
Will Be Taken Off

Bus competition has been making such inroads on the Pennsylvania Railroad passenger traffic between here and Philadelphia that the company has announced several trains will be discontinued with the ending of daylight saving time next Sunday night.

None of the trains regularly used by commuters will be taken off but the time has been changed in a few cases. Several which leave at other times will be discontinued.

Trains leaving Palmyra for Philadelphia at 12:38 and 2:10 p. m. will run on Saturdays only. The 7:04 a. m. train from Philadelphia that was discontinued will be replaced by a train leaving Philadelphia at 6:36 and 6:50 p. m. will run daily except Saturdays and Sundays.

The trains leaving Philadelphia at 11:40 and 1:20 p. m. will run Saturday only under the new schedule.

Pledging the Women

One sensible and clever way of reaching the women in the interest of Mr. Hoover has been devised, says the Philadelphia Inquirer. A million cards are to be mailed to as many women citizens of the United States.
These cards contain a brief note to the nominee in which the signer promises to win one woman voter for Hoover and Curtis, and to see that she is duly registered.

It is assumed that the woman who receives the card from the National Committee is herself committed to Mr. Hoover. As it will require a two-cent stamp to send the pledge to headquarters, this will be regarded as the writer's contribution to the campaign. Incidentally the cards returned will constitute an unusually reliable "straw vote" on the sentiment of the women of the Nation.

SLAIN WOMAN'S HUSBAND JAILED

Arrested as Funeral Cortège of Murdered Wife Proceeds to Cemetery

As the funeral cortège of his murdered wife proceeded to the cemetery
last week, Julius Uszaky, Roebeling merchant was charged formally with the crime.

He was taken unexpectedly from a cell in the Roebeling jail, where he had been held as a witness, and hurried to the county jail at Mount Holly. Arranged on a charge of murder, he was held without bail for the grand jury.

A woman entered the investigation
when it was learned that authorities had questioned a Roebeling woman with whom Uszaky is said to have been infatuated. It was also revealed that detectives are investigating the supposed suicide of Uszaky's first wife in Trenton some years ago.
Uszaky remarried shortly after her death from gunshot wounds.

Fingerprints on a hatchet with which the woman was slain in the Roebeling store also are regarded as important evidence in the case. The husband with the murder. The man has been subjected to constant grilling since his arrest, but declares he is innocent.

Joseph Uszaky, nineteen years old, was the formal marriage also is being held in the county jail. He was taken from the Roebeling jail with his father, and, although cleared of any suspicion of the crime, is being detained as a material witness.

With the formal accusation of Usa-zaky, it became known that he had been on unfriendly terms with his wife more than two years. Quarrels were frequent, according to detective Ellis H. Parker, and reports that the man had affairs with several other women which are being investigated.

BOY'S WHEELS TAKEN IN DAYLIGHT HOLDUP

Rowdies Stopped Them and Took "Bikes" but are Later Arrested
by State Troopers

Two Palmyra boys and one Riverton boy, charged up Sunday afternoon by three larger Italian boys who took their bicycles away from them.

William Young and Alec Davidson were the Palmyra lads and Harry Cox was the Riverton boy. They were going to the Burlington County Airport on their wheels when they were stopped by three rowdy boys who took possession of the "bikes" without ceremonies and left the lads to get home the best way they could.

After walking part way they were given a lift by a motorist and upon reaching Palmyra reported their experiences to their parents. The parents reported the matter to Sergeant Klernan at the Bridgeboro barracks of the State Police.

Klernan started an investigation which ended in the arrest of Frank Calmetta, Domenick Capone and Mike Gabriel, charged with the theft of the wheels. They confessed and said they had hidden the bicycles in a swamp near their homes near Marlton. When the bicycles had been recovered the parents of the boys refused to press charges against the youthful highwaymen. They were given a lecture by the sergeant and released.

HOSPITAL DRIVE BEING ORGANIZED

Maintenance Fund of $50,000
Will be Solicited Week of Oct. 15

Alexander C. Wood, Jr., of Riverton, is perfecting an organization to conduct the campaign for maintenance funds for the Burlington County Hospital during the week beginning October 14 and it is taking, most of his spare time to get all of the many details worked out on a basis that will insure the proper kind of action when the important week for the consideration of the people of the county.

Mr. Wood was chairman of the maintenance campaign conducted for the old hospital in 1925 and his work was so systematically and successfully done that he was prevailed upon again by Franklin S. Chambers, president of the Board of Council, to lend his ability to this work do not for several weeks, even arranging some of the details by letter during the summer while he was in New Mexico.

He paved the way for getting into some definite action as soon as he got home, and it was a great satisfaction to him to find some willing workers ready to take up the task with him in behalf of the people who need the charity work that is done at the hospital. It is the chartered work that gets Mr. Wood's interested and gives him the urge to go on and help suffering humanity depending upon kind-heartedness for assistance in times of sickness and the character of playing a distress calling for hospital attention.

The county has been divided into districts for Mr. Wood's purposes and he has been engaged selecting the chairman who will direct the campaign activities in their territories.
Before the campaign is opened these chairmen will be called together for a conference and instructions, and such fine points as may need attention will be gone over. The men who have conspired to give their time and talents to this work do not have to be told anything about the importance of the campaign, but Mr.
Wood will tell them what is on his mind before they launch into the drive.

It has been previously announced by Chairman Wood that the Board of Managers feel that a fund of $50,000 will not be too much to ask for the charity work which is being conducted at the hospital. As the present rate of this kind of service, with all of the fine forms of treatment available in the new hospital for a high-standing staff of surgeons, physicians and nurses, the cost is naturally going up, and there is no reason why this should not be so far as the management is able to determine. Charity patients are given what they need, they are treated like human beings, and the people of the county are merely asked to for the service that furnishes the real foundation for wanting the present fine new hospital.

The charity work is the thing uppermost in the minds of those who are interested in the management, and Chairman Wood thinks that this is the one thing that should grip the people strongly when they are asked to give. This is the only maintenance fund drive since 1925 and it is expected that the situation will be met with the usual unflinching liberality of the citizenry.

ARTISANS TO HOLD MEMBERSHIP RALLY

Huge Street Parade to Open Drive; Will Meet Afterwards in Academy of Music

One of the greatest movements ever held in the Artisans Order of Mutual Protection will be inaugurated next Monday night when a gigantic rally will be held in the Philadelphia Academy of Music. It will be preceded by a street parade and will be marked by an elaborate entertainment.

The campaign will be a membership effort which is expected to produce more than 2000 new members for this mutual organization which is the second oldest society of its kind in the country, and one of the strongest.

A committee of 100, composed of leaders of the several assemblies and of the most excellent assembly is conducting the campaign. The general chairman is John Lipsey, chairman of the Artisans Extension Committee, which is represented in its entirety on the big committee. William A. Mc-Causland, most excellent master artisan, started the campaign. Other officers of the most excellent assembly who are helping include Herman F. C.
Kramer, of Laurel Springs, who is the most excellent superintendent and who will be the head of the order next year; Allen P. Cox, most excellent recorder and Dr. William J. Wray, most excellent inspector.

Each of the assemblies has been assigned a quota and members are urged to invite their friends to join the fraternity. The Artisans Order has grown consistently through the personal solicitation of members by their friends. It is helpful to its members in many ways and includes a big charity work and free hospital benefits for those in unfortunate circumstances.

"FLOWERS IN SPRING"

The growing of bulbs for winter and spring blooming has become an extremely popular idea with garden lovers, and even with those who have little or no garden space.

The first reason for this is the great advantages which bulbs have over other classes of flowering plants, in their season of bloom. Planted outdoors in a sheltered sunny spot, the Snowdrops, Scillas and brightly colored Crocus afford a profusion of welcome flowers during the early spring while the snow is still covering shaded places. These are quickly followed by the Hyacinths with its delightful fragrance, and then by the varied yellows of the Narcissus or Daffodil, and the vivid colors of the showy Tulips, while the Darwin and May-flowering Tulips with their beautiful pastel shades keep up the succession of bloom till June comes.

In addition they provide a most interesting pastime, in which it is easy to be successful, and at a very modest expenditure. All that is needed is a knowledge of the varieties which best serve the various purposes, and this information, along with complete growing instructions, is found on an instructive 72 page Bulb Catalog issued by Mitchell's Seed House, 518-516 Market street, Philadelphia. This catalog will be sent free to any reader of this paper who requests it. Write instructive book today.

at the Lions headquarters in Society Hall this Thursday evening between 7 and 8 o'clock to distribute further tickets to children who wish to join the contest.

The benefit will be held at the Broadway Palace, Palmyra, on October 3 and 4. The feature will be "Vamping Venus" starring Charlie Murray.
The Halloween celebration is to be a large scale and the Lions President Frank Kates puts it "spectacular" scale. There are to be bands, floats and individual entrants galore. Attractions from Moorestown and other towns which also stage celebrations will be on hand.

Two new Lion Clubs were initiated in proper style at the meeting Tuesday evening. They are Paul Eckert, supervising principal of the Palmyra Schools, and Art Bowker, of Tak-Abbott fame. Both of these Lions have their apprentice roars in splendid fashion.

The speaker of the evening was Travers Mathews, of the Keystone Automobile Club, who discussed the new traffic laws. The big problem of traffic control, said Mr. Mathews, is the left hand turn, for which there has never been any satisfactory solution. The new ruling to make all turns on green seems to be the most satisfactory to date. Where these rules have been in effect for some time traffic has learned to slow up at crossings, even when the light is green, giving time for cars to make the left turn.

Mr. Mathews also told of the fine work the Keystone Club had done in defeating the effort made to divert funds from the state gas tax to the building of trolley tracks on the Camden bridge. The gas tax law provided that the proceeds should go to the upkeep and building of roads and it was not fair, said the speaker, that the motorist should be forced to build tracks for a private corporation over the bridge.

The Keystone Club also defeated the proposal to have no speed limit on Jersey roads, having found by observation in other states that this is very hazardous, both to motorists themselves as well as to pedestrians and other vehicles.

TREE INJURES KEAN

Hamilton F. Kean, Republican candidate for United States Senator, was slightly injured on Staten Island Wednesday night of last week while enroute to a speaking engagement at Union City, when a huge tree, uprooted by the gale, fell across the automobile in which he was riding, and pinned him across the seat of the car.

Kean suffered injuries to his right leg. Fred Broderson, clerk of the Assembly, and William King, chairman, were injured by flying glass. The accident did not prevent the candidate from keeping his speaking engagement.

bers of the league have formed will

FIFTH ANNUAL BANQUET HELD BY MEN'S CLUB

St. Agnes Guild Serves Splendid Dinner to 175 Members of Organization

PROF. JOHN D. MAHONEY MAKES FINE ADDRESS

Rev. William Hudson Thompson Also Speaks on Sen-men's Institute

The fifth anniversary banquet of the Palmyra Men's Club was held in the Parish House of Christ Church Monday evening and was enjoyed by 175 members, who did full justice to the splendid menu so well prepared and served by the Ladies of St. Agnes Guild.

Two principal speakers and a splendid musical program made the evening one of unalloyed interest and pleasure.

Professor John D. Mahoney, head of the English Department of West Philadelphia High School, was introduced by Richard E. Wilson as master of the greatest science in the world, the English language.

Professor Mahoney accepted this tribute laughing and then embarked upon a speech which was in itself an indictment on the charge.
He discovered upon the varieties of our mother tongue and recited how a native of England criticized American renditions of the language.
"Why," declared the Englishman,
"they say, 'Where am I at,' when they really mean, 'Where is my at.'"

Another great characteristic of the language, said Prof. Mahoney, is the facility and easy conscience with which it steals from all the other languages of the world. No wonder it has more words, more synonyms, than all the other tongues.

But the main burden of the Professor's message was that the time has now come for Americans to begin to think. The great resources and the great genius of the people has brought the nation to the point where there is much idle time, and idleness breeds mischiefs.

What Americans do with this great bounty of leisure time will decide the future of the nation, declared the speaker. If the people of this and future generations are really educated not merely to make money, but to live well and wholesomely, and to devote their minds to constructive and humanitarian thought, then the future of the nation will be bright.
Otherwise a crisis of dread portent is looming on the horizon.

Seamen's Institute

The first speaker was the Rev.
William Hudson Thompson, Chaplain of the Seamen's Church Institute at 25 South Street, New York. The Rev.
Mr. Thompson is a brother-in-law of Lincoln Riley, of Riverton, and is not a stranger to members of the club having spoken here before.

Mr. Thompson had pictures of the new building of the institute, showing a handsome 13-story building, which accommodates 900 seafaring men from all parts of the world.

He told of the origin and growth of the work, based upon the great need of the sailor for guidance in foreign ports. The institute provides bathing and laundry facilities for men who have no change of clothing and who may have to go for a month or more at a time without indulging in a bath or change of underclothing.
Lodging and food are provided cheaply and church services and religious counsel are available for men of all creeds and nationalities.

Philadelphia Institute

Mr. Thompson quoted several statistics showing the wonderful work being accomplished by the institute, not only in New York but in many other cities well. The institute in Philadelphia, located at Third and Walnut, is the second largest in the world.

The only plea for aid made by the speaker was for books and magazines which are collected by the institute and sent out with the ships. Ralph Slager agreed to act as a clearing house for all magazines and books which the men of the club would contribute to the cause.

The Rev. Mr. Thompson concluded his remarks by calling attention to the great debt all of us owe to the men "who go down to the sea in ships," inasmuch as everybody's life is bound up with the commodities which are transported over the seven seas.

Musical Program

Features of the musical program were vocal solos by Mrs. William Miller, piano solo by Alfred Hindle, baritone solo by Robert M. Carson and a piano duet by Mr. Magowan and Mrs. Joseph W. Gaines. Mrs. Gaines is blind and her beautiful playing received an ovation.

A message of greeting was received from the Rev. George J. McCormack, Rector of Christ Church, who is convalescing from a serious operation in North Carolina. Mr. McCormack's letter stated he hoped to return to Palmyra soon.

In the absence of Mr. McCormack, who is president of the Men's Club, William T. J. Farnell, first president of the organization, presided.

Teacher: "Can anyone tell what causes trees to become petrified?" Bright Student: "The wind makes them rock."

WALTER CHRYSLER ONCE OIL WIPER

Automobile Magnate is Example of Small-Town Man Making Good

WALTER P. CHRYSLER

Walter P. Chrysler is head of one of the largest automobile companies in the world. Thirty-five years ago he was an oil wiper making five cents an hour.

Chrysler was born fifty-three years ago in a little Kansas hamlet called Wamego. His grandfather had driven a covered wagon across the plains, and his father was an engineer on the Union Pacific Railroad. He went to school until he was seventeen. During the summer he worked in a grocery store, but it was at seventeen that he really went to work—and he has been working ever since.

For four years he worked in the Union Pacific shops. Then he attracted attention to himself by doing a particularly difficult repair job. This led to his becoming foreman of the Colorado and Southern shops at Trinidad. Chrysler made good, and in nine years became Superintendent of Motive Power of the Chicago and Great Western system.

Accepted Half-Salary
Then he was 33, and realizing that he could not advance much further where he was employed, he quit to become work manager of the American Locomotive Company—at a salary of about half of what he had been getting. In two years he was general manager.

He gave up a $12,000 job to take one at $6,000 with General Motors. He became vice-president there, and then left. After the war he began reorganizing other automobile companies. In 1924 his dream came true—he was making his own car! Now his company has made new auto history in its fusion with the Dodge concern.

Chrysler is adventurous. He never hesitated to change jobs. He saw that his future was in the automobile business, and so sacrificed other lucrative work in order to get into it.

Chrysler is industrious. Despite his great success, he still punishes time card and works harder than any of his employees.

"That Little More"
"The man who makes good," he said to S. J. Woolf in a recent interview, "does a little more than is expected of him. Give the boss a little more than he expects and he will see that you are a winner. And if he doesn't find another boss."

Chrysler believes the poor boy has a better chance in life than the rich boy. The poor boy, he says, can only get pleasure out of constructive things, while the rich boy gets pleasure out of spending money—most of the time in a destructive fashion.

Walter P. Chrysler stands out as one of the great American business men born in a small town whose life should be an inspiration and guide to all boys. He has been able, by dint of genius and determination, to get up at the top in the great automotive industry. His success is only another example of the great rewards that accrue to honest industry and painstaking effort.

One Parachute Jump at Airport Sunday

Due to the change back to standard time, there will be only one parachute jump at the Burlington County Aero Club's field at Moorestown this Sunday afternoon.

Sergeant Kelly, who has attracted record crowds the past two Sundays, will jump at four o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, according to an announcement by H. H. Longaker, president. The crowd last Sunday evening experienced a big thrill when a heavy wind, not noticed from the ground, blew Sergeant Kelly over the orchard which is south-east of the field. The jumper was uninjured, landing safely between two trees in the orchard.

Club officials have threatened to cause the arrest of any person venturing out on the field. Much trouble, especially with children, was experienced last Sunday.

"We realize the intense interest everyone, especially children, have in aviation, and we want to further their education along aeronautical lines," said Mr. Longaker in a statement, "but we must insist that they not trespass on the field at any point. We want everyone to come to the field as often as possible, but we must ask everyone to keep back of the lines. This precaution is only for the safety of those trespassing, pilots and passengers in our planes."

GREAT VOLUME OF MAIL

Nearly 7,000,000 pieces of mail were handled by the mailing department of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey in one year. This fact, in addition to many others of interest, is revealed in a special article in the current issue of Public Service News by Miss Rosella A. Loughran, superintendent of the mailing department of the corporation. Some idea of the size and varied activities of the corporation is afforded by the examination of the large volume of mail handled by its mailing department. During the period from June 1, 1927 to May 31 inclusive, the mailing department of Public Service dispatched 2,861,041 pieces of United States Mail, by actual count.

In an executive bulletin addressed to every Public Service operator, Matthew R. Boylan, vice president in charge of operation, Public Service Coordinated Transport issues a strict warning against the dangers of skidding on pavements made slippery by fallen leaves. "Bus operators must be ready to meet the contingency of skidding of their own buses or to prevent collisions with private cars or trucks which become similarly affected by the condition of the streets. Trolley operators must be on guard against automobiles that skid over upon the rails," says Mr. Boylan.

NEW METHODS IN TEACHING MUSIC

Pupils Make Rapid Progress and Enjoy Their "Music Lessons" at Conservatory

Progress has ever been waylaid by pedagogy in the guise of one who refused to relinquish old ideas saying, "As my teachers did, so must I do." Fortunately today we are getting away from those ideas.

A member of the Bell-Mueller Conservatory was heard to say recently, that, "under no condition would I think of teaching as I have been taught." Due to the fact that more modern and far better modes of teaching suggest themselves through experience.

Harmony, which even to the most talented pupil is exceedingly difficult, has come within the scope of the pupil of ordinary talent. Systematic grading takes each pupil step by step, carefully checking their work and not only teaching them fundamentals and technique but bringing out their latent creative ability in composition.

While it is always wise to follow out a carefully graded system of instructions, the temperament and individuality of the pupil may sometimes call for a different course of study. In that case the teachers of the Bell-Mueller Conservatory of Music are competent specialists in prescribing what course of study that pupil shall pursue.

The piano department is under the direction of that able and well-known pianist, Ruth Peterson Bell, and Harriet Lawrence Mueller is head of the violin department. Various other departments of the Bell-Mueller Conservatory are so systematized that it enables the student to grasp clearly and definitely the underlying principles involved in the study of music and their direct application, thereby eliminating unnecessary and uninteresting exercises.

A thorough musical training is thus assured with a minimum expenditure of time, fees and effort.

PENNSYLVANIA HAS ABUNDANCE OF DEER

So Plentiful This Year That Keystone State Is To Have Open Season For Doe

One of the most unusual situations ever known in relation to big game has developed in Pennsylvania, where the Board of Game Commissioners have found it necessary to declare an open season for the shooting of female deer. That such a condition could develop in an Eastern—or for that matter, any—State in modern times, is a thing which is hard to comprehend by sportsmen of almost any section of the country excepting the Keystone Commonwealth.

Further cause for amazement is found in the official announcement that the older does are so plentiful that they have depleted the natural food supply to such an extent that thousands of younger deer are literally starving to death and that game wardens in several counties report seeing many famished animals and frequently the carcasses of deer which have died of hunger.

According to game authorities, the adult deer have denuded trees and bushes, upon which the animals feed to a height which places the food above the reach of fawns, whose numbers have increased too rapidly because of the vast number of parent stock.

The superabundance of deer is pointed to the Pennsylvania officials and the sportsmen of the State in substantiation of the claim that by following the "Pennsylvania plan," any community may have all the game it needs, providing that conditions are right for the natural propagation and stocking supplemented by sane game laws, aimed to permit shooting but with the necessary safeguards against abuse of reasonable bag limits and open seasons.

SALESMAN ARRESTED

Textile Firm Charges Defalcation Amounting to $50,000 in Disposal of Tapestries

Harry Goldstein, prominent New York sales representative, was arrested in Mount Holly last week on a capias issued on complaint of the Mount Holly Textile Co., which seeks to recover $50,000.

Papers in the suit allege that Goldstein appropriated for his own use the proceeds from the sale of $20,000 worth of tapestries manufactured by the Mount Holly company and sent to him for disposal.

Goldstein severed his connections with the complainants recently and accepted the business of the Northampton Textile Co., of Mount Holly, a rival concern.

A large list of prizes is being prepared.

100F TO VISIT MEDFORD LODGE

"Cinnaminson" to Attend Boosters' Meeting at Medford Friday Evening

Cinnaminson No. 251, I. O. O. F. will convene at 7:30 o'clock instead of 8, its usual hour, on this Friday evening in order that they may conduct the business of the evening and also attend the Boosters' meeting to be held in Medford.

The work of boosting is a commendable one and worthy of all the support that the local lodge can give it. It is therefore urged that "Cinnaminson" be well represented. Stimulating ideas are exchanged at these meetings and it is just such gatherings that bring out the best that is in the minds of the individual members.

Every member should bring with him his notebook of suggestions, together with several blank pages on which he can record the many ideas which will be presented and which can be applied in his lodge room.

Be there—and be there early. With weather typical for a fall day the lodge enjoyed a most pleasant outing on Saturday afternoon and evening as the guests of Brother Edward Schuler on his farm at Coopersville.

About thirty-three were present who spent the afternoon in outdoor sports. As the evening fell, the guests assembled around a most inspiring and cozy camp fire which was as practical as it was beautiful. It was here that the proverbial "dog" was roasted, the marshmallow singed and devoured.

It was also around the camp fire that the musings of the many guests were heard, which afforded much merriment and singular to relate, the "dog" was the only one roasted.

FINE PROGRAM AT TEACHERS' RECEPTION

The Cinnaminson Parent-Teacher Association held the annual reception for its teachers last Friday night. The evening was spent in music, games, jokes and refreshments. Solos were sung by Miss Margaret Herr and Mrs. George Dorworth. Mrs. Benjamin Lippincott favored the meeting with several of her readings. Miss Elsie Bryan, the school nurse, and several of the teachers presented some of the vital aims of the school organization for the coming year.

Miss Bryan's subject, "The Goals of All School Progress," stressed that in spite of need for material provisions, physical and academic accomplishments, the child's mental attitude is most important. She contended that if the child is not developing into a fair-minded, self-reliant being, our efforts are failures. The underlying purpose of the Cinnaminson parents and teachers shall be to give our children every possible opportunity to do this.

Nurse Blair gave a report on the health progress. Fine results were secured through the tonal and teeth clinics. Parents were urged to take advantage of the Shick and anti-toxin treatment rendering their children immune to the dreaded diphtheria.

Mrs. Nathan Conrow, in closing the remarks of the evening said, "One of the best ways of beginning cooperation with the school is to cooperate by joining the PTA."

KLEIN—DAVIS

A beautiful rainbow wedding took place on Saturday, September 15, at nine o'clock mass in the Church of the Sacred Heart of Riverton, when Miss Mary A. Davis, of Arch street, Palmyra, became the bride of Edwin Stewart Klein, of West Collingswood.

The Rev. Joseph A. Rigney officiated, attended by the Rev. Thomas Maher and the Rev. George O'Grady, of Brooklyn, friends of the bride.

Joseph A. Davis, Jr., gave his daughter in marriage.

A gown of white satin and lace ornamented with lilies of the valley and a cap-shaped tulle veil, edged with lace was worn by the bride. She carried a shower bouquet of white rose buds and lilies of the valley.

Miss May Klein, of Yonkers, N. Y., cousin of the bride, attended her. She wore a shaded pink tulle dress with picture hat and slippers to match, carrying a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Kathryn Moore, of Camden, one of the bridesmaids, wore a yellow tulle dress with a bouquet of yellow roses to match and Miss Elizabeth O'Malley, of Philadelphia, wore orchids.

John Davis, brother of the bride, was the best man and John Heron, of Glendora, and William O'Malley, of Philadelphia, were ushers.

A breakfast and reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for a hundred or more friends and relatives. The happy young couple motored to Niagara Falls for their wedding trip. On their return they will reside at 609 Eldridge avenue, West Collingswood.

"TOLERANCE" MUCH NEEDED TODAY

"Bob" Williams Admonishes Rotarians to Apply It in Their Business

The practical application of "Tolerance in Religious and Political Circles" was very forcefully brought out in a talk by "Bob" Williams, Secretary of the Woodbury Club, when he addressed the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club on Thursday evening last.

Besides being secretary of his local club, Mr. Williams is also pastor of the Woodbury Episcopal Church, and his remarks were based on his every day experiences and his very keen sense of observation.

Not only was his subject confined to the religious and political side but he made a very practical application to the principles of Rotary. While the underlying objects of Rotary are based upon such a practice and are usually carried out in Rotary circles, yet Mr. Williams' observations have been that there was a lack of "tolerance" by some Rotarians in their business dealings.

He therefore urged that every member should not only be a good Rotarian while at his club or among his fellow workers but should show his colors in all his business dealings, irrespective of the parties involved.

"Pat" Steele was appointed chairman of a committee on arrangements for the Inter-city Meeting of Rotary which will be held on Tuesday evening, October 2, at the Walt Whitman Hotel, Camden.

This undoubtedly will be a very important and interesting meeting and will probably replace the regular Thursday evening dinner, so every member should attend.

If you are on the point of failure, cut off the point.

DRUNKEN DRIVER PAYS HEAVY FINE

Justice of Peace Middleton Also Revokes Driver's License for Two Years

Louis Adams, colored, drunken driver, was arrested by Chief of Police John Bradshaw, of the Moorestown police, Sunday evening on Church road near Green Tree.

Big-bagging his auto down Church road at a reckless speed, Adams sideswiped another machine. He was stained by the driver of the car which his auto sideswiped until Chief Bradshaw arrived.

At a hearing before Justice of the Peace Walter F. Middleton he was fined $200 and costs and had his driver's license revoked for two years. Adams' home is in Evesboro.

85 DEFENDANTS IN COURT PLEAS

Preliminary Hearings Given as Result of Findings of Grand Jury

Criminal business had precedence in the Burlington County Courts at Mount Holly last Thursday, when eighty-five defendants were before the bar to enter pleas to one hundred and nineteen indictments found by the September Grand Jury.

Very few elected to plead guilty, but if the general custom prevails, quite a few of those who answered not guilty will resort to the non vult plea when their cases are called and after they have been advised by counsel.

Those who pleaded guilty, with their sentences, follow:
Benjamin Weshkevich, alias Ben Adams, of Hainesport, came in on a waiver and pleaded guilty to six charges of larceny, but on one other charge he changed his mind and pleaded not guilty.

The Court wanted time to inquire into this case.
This also applied to Pearl Blackburn and Walter Sandlin, both of Burlington, who pleaded guilty to serious statutory charges.

Theron Abrams, of Mount Holly, malicious mischief, was let go under a suspended sentence, and he was placed on probation for two years and must pay the costs of $50 within six months.

John W. Bettlinger, of Delran, indicted for forgery, will be back for sentence on October 11.

John H. Duffin, of Mount Holly, charged with passing a worthless check, was placed on probation for two years, must make restitution and pay costs of $50.

Hilroy Robbins and Frank Mitchell, of New Creston, charged with stealing claims valued at $350, will be back for sentence.

Albert Moore, Sr., of Mount Holly, a persistent offender against the prohibition laws, went to jail for one hundred days.

Michael Peters, of Maple Shade, another offender, was fined $500 for violation of the liquor laws and will go to jail until the fine is paid.

John Stela, Burlington, liquor violations, $500 fine.
Albert Donnelly, Mount Holly, liquor violations, $150 fine.

Jacob Gugliotta, Palmyra, liquor violations, $100 fine.
Walter Smith, Burlington, liquor violations, will be back for sentence.

Frank Grabowski, Burlington, liquor violations, 60 days in jail.

The following defendants plead not guilty:
Alfred Brown, colored, Palmyra, six-year indictment charging breaking, entering and larceny, assaulting an officer and atrocious assault and battery.

Fred Ogilvie, Mount Holly, desertion and neglect.
Harvey Sharpless, Moorestown, atrocious assault and battery.

Paul J. Curran, New Creston, two indictments charging forgery.
Armond Myers, Riverton, larceny.
Ernest M. Hess, Burlington, desertion and neglect.

Desertion and Neglect
Burt Hansen, Chester, desertion and neglect.
Elmer Silman, Burlington, embezzlement.

Louis Simpson, Moorestown, serious statutory charges.
Harold DeCamp, Washington township, assault and statutory charges.
Edgar J. Parsons, Chester, assault and desertion and neglect.

Floyd Connors, Chesterfield, manslaughter by automobile.
Ida Wahl, Florence, assault.
Joseph Worrell, Southampton, passing worthless check.

Samuel Kothoff, Chester, serious statutory charges.
Elizabeth Smith, serious statutory charges.

LOCAL MEN PICKED BY HOOVER CLUBS

Roberts, Thatcher and Klein Are Named as State Leaders

Three prominent Burlington county men have been named to the advisory committee of the Hoover Club's of New Jersey, Inc. They are former State Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, and Frank W. Thatcher and George de B. Klein, both of Edgewater Park.

A reorganization of Hoover Club's of New Jersey, Inc. has been effected and headquarters established on the third floor of the Republican state committee building at 44 Park Place, Newark.

Extensive campaign work will be conducted by the officers in every county of the state with the assistance of many volunteer workers.

Organized early in pre-primary campaign, branches were formed in every municipality, and these are being reestablished, their work to be co-ordinated with activities directed from headquarters. A liaison also having been made with the Republican state committee.

One of the chief aims at present is to complete the army of volunteer workers and thousands of names of those promising assistance are being listed.

BORAH TAKES SHARP ISSUE WITH AL SMITH'S SCHEME

By Senator William E. Borah

Governor Smith proposes a repeal of the Eighteenth amendment and to substitute therefor a scheme for the public ownership, management and control of the liquor traffic. Every state is to be authorized, or given the power to import and manufacture, distribute and sell alcoholic beverages. Liquor is to be drunk not in public but in the home; private saloons are abolished but public saloons with the state as a saloon keeper are to be inaugurated.

This scheme has been tried for a time in Canada and liquor is plentiful, corruption is rampant, and bootlegging is universal. A state becomes the manufacturer of the liquor and the bootlegger an easy and successful distributor of it.

In his acceptance speech he said: "Such a method would re-establish respect for law and terminate the agitation which has injected discord into the ranks of the great political party, and so forth." The facts are over-whelming and a hand showing that instead of creating respect for law, it increases lawlessness; instead of controlling the liquor traffic, it gives an infinitely better opportunity for the unlawful traffic of liquor.

Quoting Britisher on Enforcement. Sir Hugh McDougal, one of the famous John A. McDonalds, has declared: "There is as much unlawful drinking under government control as under prohibition. The present law is in the very nature of things difficult to enforce. It was far less difficult to secure convictions under prohibition than under government control." The Vancouver Sun declares: "The people decided on a policy of restricted alcoholic consumption to the lowest possible degree. The government has made the chief purpose of the act, Moderation does not moderate. Government control does not control. The British Columbia liquor system has actually failed."

Another Canadian paper—and this paper was originally for government control, says: "Run runners, rumrunners, and all the parasites which thrive in the miasma of the underworld are fostered by the policy now in force. Calculations show that bootleggers in this province handle as much liquor as the government stores." One of the public officials in Canada has declared: "Never in the history of this country was bootlegging comparable in magnitude or murderous results to what it is today."

Views of Newspaper Man. Douglas Mackay, in the New York Times, says: "These provincial governments are definitely and profitably in the retail business and spirits business. Under this system the state is in big business. In Quebec alone $17,000,000 was spent in the liquor commission shops." Another name for the old saloon.

A Canadian official, writing upon this subject: "The bootlegger is more in evidence than ever. One of the loudest assertions of the modernists in the campaign of 1927 was that with the advent of government control, the trade known as bootlegging would ultimately cease. But the fact is that never has bootlegging flourished to such an extent as under the present system."

Under this scheme every state line in the United States would become a Canadian border. The deluge of liquor that attempts to cross the Canadian border at present is nine-tenths of it bootlegged, illegally acquired liquor. Under this system this would be the condition of every state line where states attempted to be dry. There would be no possible way to prevent the traffic across the state lines. And there would be no possible way to prevent bootlegging and illegal traffic within the states. Bureaucratic government at best is bad enough, but bureaucratic government engaged in the manufacture, sale and distribution of liquor would be a cess pool of inequity and corruption. It would be bureaucracy and bureaucracy, drunk.

SMITH'S SOLUTION OF LIQUOR EVILS

Nobody has ever accused "Al" Smith of Socialism, yet he plans to put the government into business.

And the business he has selected for this socialistic experiment is a business long associated with crime and corruption, the liquor business.

Law violations under the present system, and the corruption which has sprung up in such political ring centers as Philadelphia, would speedily penetrate the state capitals, were the state governments to go individually into the buying, selling and manufacture of rum, as planned by the democratic candidate.

Governor Smith's remedy for the alleged evils of prohibition is being tried out in Canada and the results speak for themselves. Canadian observers report there has been more bootlegging, more crime and more corruption among officials than ever before. "Al" is against the saloon, he says, but he wants the state governments to go into the liquor business and sell for consumption in private homes. Americans have always frowned at the idea of the government going into business, and when they want to try the experiment the business selected is not likely to be the liquor business.

SET FOR THE WORLD'S SERIES

Hurray! The baseball contests are growing keener—the big leagues are getting more pep into their playing—the bleacher fans are shouting more vociferously—the radio baseball fans are listening in more frequently—the world's series are on the way!

Soon the greatest baseball event on the globe will be on, and naturally fans are getting pretty much excited over the prospect. And, why shouldn't they? For one thing, everyone will be able to enjoy the games this year—will the radio, mechanical score boards, and the wide variety of devices that can bring play-by-play news of the games instantly to persons in all parts of the country.

Time was when a great athletic event could be watched only by an actual eye-witness. Now the actual eye-witnesses are only an insignificant percentage of the total number of persons "seeing" the event. For one person who sits in the bleachers, or grand stand, there are thousands who listen in over the radio, or watch the swiftly moving figures on a mechanical score board.

What a gorgeous thing it is to think that eighteen men may be engaged in a game somewhere on a field, and the entire nation may be able to watch the movement of every one of the eighteen men.

Radio and inventions of its kind are making the world smaller, and yet larger, every day. They reduce the distance between city and city, nation and nation, drawing all together in bonds of friendship. They enlarge the spiritual and mental outlook of the world. They make the world a greater, more wonderful place to live in, and add a thousandfold to the power of great persons and great events to command attention and influence and inspire the Race of Man.

CONSTITUTION IN POLISH

Corner Benjamin F. Farmer, of Burlington, is determined that there shall be no misunderstanding on the part of the Polish residents of his city with regard to the Constitution of the United States. To the end of furthering the work of Americanization he had seventy-five copies of the United States Constitution printed in the Polish language and distributed among the members of the Polish Republican Club. Mr. Farmer is keenly interested in the club. He helped to organize it some time ago, and has done much to put the members in the way of becoming more familiar with American ways and customs.

KING ALFONSO TALKS.

THE ELECTRON IS REAL.

THE NEWS MENAGERIE.

MAN HAS A SOUL.

The King of Spain has talked for moving pictures, his voice recorded by the Fox moviephone.

Millions will be interested in a real king, who casually says: "I am very glad to say Christopher Columbus was aided in coming to this country by my ancestors."

He is a practical King, this Alfonso, with his mind on his subjects' welfare. He urges American tourists to come to Spain, telling them they will find good roads, and: "You may drive as fast as you like. I, myself, have driven too fast for twenty-four years."

Most important is the fact that talking pictures will enable everybody to see, study and know the most important people on earth.

The electron, mysterious, theoretical, "smallest division of matter," is no imaginary "dot in space." It possesses definite size, revolving inside the atom, as our earth revolves within the solar system.

We go around our sun once in three hundred and sixty-five days. The electron goes around ITS sun, the nucleus at the centre of the atom, billions of times every second.

You cannot imagine that, or believe it, and you need not, but science proves it to be a fact.

Recent important discoveries are due to an Englishman, Professor Thomson, and an American, Dr. Davidson, of Columbia University, and the big telephone company laboratories.

The electron may not interest moderns, but it interests science and will interest future ages more than this Presidential election will, a good deal more.

A man looking through the news is like a small boy in a menagerie. So much to see you have to run from cage to cage, from the laughing hyena to the snorting hippopotamus, and from the bar-shaking orang outang to the placid elephant.

Politics may be called the laughing hyena of the human menagerie, and the crime wave is the orang outang.

In his first address as president of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, Sir William Bragg insists that man has a soul. That is like saying there is steam in an engine when it moves, physical life in a man running and talking. Science cannot PROVE the existence of a soul, but proof isn't necessary.

No man can prove he isn't dreaming as he talks to you, and many a man dreaming has been certain he was awake.

Three things in the universe, matter, force, spirit. Matter and force may be one. At least they take different forms. Force cannot act without matter. And only spirit CONSCIOUSNESS can supply force to matter and make things better.

The earth was a wilderness, until human beings, each with his spark

WILL ROGERS SAYS:

The voters now go to the polls in an automobile but they don't carry any more in their heads than the old timer that went there on a mule, so the old Bunk that you cannot fool the voter is the biggest Bunk there is; he has been fooled all his life and he will always be fooled.

As the presidential candidate for the "Anti-Bunk" party I refuse to employ such old party campaign methods. I am Frank and Ernest.

The politician tells the people that "I don't have to tell you people what our party stands for. We rely on your sober judgment. We rest our case on your intelligence." Then he goes on for two hours more telling them what his party stands for.

I don't care how smart their audience was, they couldn't possibly know what their party stood for. The Supreme Court with all its divided knowledge couldn't tell you what either party stood for.

They both stand for "election." That's about the only thing that you can safely say they are for, in fact they will both "stand for" almost murder if they can only get in.

We are more "smart Alec" than we ever were, but we are no smarter. We read more and we hear more over the radio, but the stuff we read, the stuff we hear don't make us any smarter.

For the people that write it, and the ones that talk it out over the radio are no smarter than the ones that used to have to hand down the dope for our old forefathers.

There is just as many half wits voting Republican today because their fathers voted that way as there ever was. There is just as many voting Democratic because they have heard their folks tell about how the Republicans treated them during the war, as there ever was.

No "fortuitous concourse of atoms" could produce the left hind leg of a field mouse, much less the brain of an Aristotle.

It is man's work that counts, not his ashes.

When kings came back after the French Revolution, scattered Voltaire's ashes to the four winds. And they picked the right man, for it was he that put an end to French kings. They are gone. He remains. They never succeeded in scattering him while he lived. He worried them.

If the voter is as smart as they say, why do they have to tell him anything, why do they have literature, and campaigns, and speeches? Why does each party have to spend 4 million dollars trying to buy votes with propaganda?

The oldest form Bunk in the world is to say how "Well informed the voters are and that they can't be misled by our opponents." We have bath-tubs, airships, four-wheel brakes, reducing pills, masculinists, men's corsets, and Prohibition.

But I doubt if at any time during the history of the world were we ever as down right dumb as we are today.

—Will Rogers.

Thinking Out Loud!

Already the influence of a woman in politics is being felt. Straw votes indicate remarkable switches in sentiment which no doubt are due to woman's ancient and time-honored privilege of changing her mind.

A railroad is to install radios on its de luxe trains. Perhaps trying to encourage people to ride in their other trains!

Chang Tsung Chang kissed his twenty-eight wives goodbye and went out to fight. With twenty-eight wives we should think he would have been tired of fighting!

The Prince of Wales ripped his trousers on a bench last week, and by this time the momentous event has been reported in every large daily newspaper in the world. That's what we call fame.

"Five noses broken in Texas political meeting," says a headline. Evidently the anti-Prohibition faction is growing active.

Even the man whose life is an open book, would hate to have anyone read it right straight through.

The Calvin Coolidges have left Brule, Wisconsin, and the only residents there who don't mind the President's departure are the sealy dentists of the deep.

Add smiles: As merry as thister Keaton.

Twenty thousand dollars' worth of jewels and a maid disappeared at the same time from a New York home and the "missus" is rather worried. She doesn't know where to get a new maid.

Scientists are now trying to find out where we go when we die. Some of us have a pretty good idea on the subject ourselves.

Most astonishing news of the week: A celebrity has refused to write a cigarette testimonial. He is Gene Tunney, and his name will surely go down in history as the name of the first man in the twentieth century to decline this honor.

MRS. HERBERT HOOVER

"AMERICAN THROUGH AND THROUGH"

by Zoe Beckley

From now until election, women will be wondering what Mrs. Herbert Hoover is like. Let me hurry and say, then, that she is not "just Mrs. Hoover" but definitely herself, a woman finely reared and educated, a woman who could walk impressively on her own two feet had she not Secretary Hoover's two successful feet to keep step with.

She has never, so far as history records, been other than successful and happy. Her father was a small town Iowa banker, who went with his family to California when Lou (that's Mrs. Hoover's name, just Lou, last name Henry) was seven.

When she was in her teens Prof. Branner of Leland Stanford University visited Monterey, when she was living, to lecture on rocks and precious minerals. Miss Henry forthwith announced her intention to go to Stanford and study geology.

Meets H. Hoover
One day, while a student under Prof. Branner in his office when he came a young man named Hoover, a fellow student, a fellow geologist, studying to be a mining engineer. And love followed swiftly. Miss Henry took her degree easily. Not so, however, with H. Hoover. There is a tale that the Hoover exams had their bad moments. There were special tutored and painful cramming before the literature test was conquered. It is said that "Lou" was much of the power behind that victory. Be that as it may, the diploma was achieved and Herbert Hoover took a job in Australia.

The Australian work didn't take long, and then came an offer from China. Engineer Hoover would take it. If Lou Henry would marry him quickly and go with him. Word flashed that she would. A quick step was done from Australia to California, then to the altar, and off on the boat to Cathay.

Inside a year the Hoovers ran into the Boxer rebellion. Mr. Hoover left the Emperor's mines and railroads to shift for themselves while he organized citizen relief work. Mrs. Hoover won't say what part she had in it all. But in China the foreign colony knew and still remembers.

"I studied Chinese," is about all Mrs. Hoover would admit to me of her share in her husband's job in China, when I talked with her a few days ago in the Hoovers' Washington home in a street. "I felt I could be more useful if I could talk to the house servants as well as with our Chinese friends. It was fun. I had a dear old instructor, Chang, who drilled me patiently in the most complex language in the world."

Perfect Wife, Comrade, Friend
Any woman who will learn Chinese to help her husband is my idea of the perfect wife, comrade, friend. For almost thirty years those two have trodden the years together, apparently without stumblings or discords. Not have I seen many women with such friends. Such loyalty, such praise, not to say reverence, as those who know "Lou" Henry give to her. A competent woman. A woman of character, poise and great discretion. A scholar. Have I said that in 1912, she collaborated with her husband in translating from classic Latin a huge theme: Georgius Agricola de Metallica.

The Hoovers have ever been travelers. Mr. Hoover's work took them everywhere. Before their China-born baby was half-past three they had been three around the world.

I asked Mrs. Hoover if she had grown to love the Orient and other outland places. She thought an instant.

"I love certain things," said she, "but not enough to want to live indefinitely in any place except America."

The Hoovers (Mr. Hoover representing the Panama-Pacific International Exposition) were in London when the war caught thousands of holiday-making Americans. Mr. Hoover was made chairman of the American Relief Committee and the Committee for Relief in Belgium.

Quick and Cool
To know Mrs. Hoover even for an hour would enable any one to realize how she would meet such an emergency. Her reasoning power, self-possession, resourcefulness, executive ability and all-around competence are reflected in her tall, straight figure, the calm of her face, the faultlessly even features, the set of her chin. You could not imagine Lou Henry Hoover excited. Her very poise and the gray-white of her wavy hair, rolled flatly at the back of her head, spell serenity—the serenity which translates itself into quick thought and cool action.

Her first jump was toward the miserable mothers with babies in arms or by the hand who were streaming distractedly into London by every train, without a penny, without anything for themselves but the clothes they stood in.

THE CIGAR THAT BROUGHT THE NICKEL BACK

Have you surrendered to the idea that five cents can no longer buy an enjoyable cigar? Here's one that not only dispels that idea, but gives you nickel the biggest clean-cutting power they ever had: Havana Ribbon.

No enormous is the production of this widely known favorite that the manufacturers are able to use tobacco you generally find one in higher priced cigars. Think of it! No bitter, raspy under-ripe top leaves of the tobacco plant. No flat, insipid over-ripe bottom leaves. No crumbling "scrap." Long-filler, fully-ripe mild leaves from heart to wrapper! Know what that means? A smoke so true, smooth, fragrant, flavorful and mellow-mild you'll scarce believe your taste. Man, find, buy or borrow a nickel! In a quick-stop to the nearest cigar counter and call into a Havana Ribbon! Better still, corral a quarter, buy a Practical Pocket Package of five and make the whole day a song of smoke contentment.

And how she worked! With her hands, her head and her heart, but always with one blue eye upon her husband to sense when he was over-doing and drag him off for a week-end of tenting, fishing and eating camp-cooked beans and bacon with good American coffee.

The work she did in Europe and in Washington during the war was a pattern for every woman to follow. She did it, of course, to help those who needed help. But deep in her heart she did it for Herbert Hoover, to round out and complete his task as Food Administrator.

Doesn't Give Interviews
She always dodged the limelight. Publicity was hateful to her. It still is. She does not give "interviews."

She never has given one, perhaps never will. But when Mr. Hoover became Secretary of Commerce his lady simply had to step out a little for people to see and know about. Her husband's public life demanded it. But I think it is the most difficult thing Lou Henry Hoover has ever done.

The would-be interviewer finds himself self-conscious, like a kid at a party, trying awkwardly to dispose of his hands and feet, feeling uncomfortably bold. Yet the hostess of 2300 S. street is gracious and smiling, kind and full of tact. She knows how to talk, and keeps the conversation going with light agility.

With guests who had dropped in for after-luncheon coffee, we sat on the wide back porch. Mrs. Hoover was facing a semi-circle of five or six, including her handsome elder son, who looks far too young to have a wife and two babies. The other boy, Allan, is a student at Stanford.

The hostess, in black and white printed georgette of Quaker-like simplicity and modest skirt-length, with only a bead necklace for ornament (no, not even a wedding ring), sat near a pendant fish bowl. Somehow her talk turned to fish.

Tells Fish Story
Mrs. Hoover is a good story-teller, and she whimsically related how a friend who discovered a private little blue grotto all her own near her villa at Capri made friends with some fish, which swam happily in the silver waters thereof. Mrs. Hoover is not surprised that this should have been so.

"Why, the fish in the garden pool down there know me as well as—any of you do," she said. "No matter what dress I have on, or whether I feed them or not, they dash up all smiles and friendliness, and coo with delight till I leave. A stranger couldn't win so much as a glance from them. It's marvelous what intelligence fish have. Birds, too."

Mrs. Hoover talked of flowers with the warmth of the natural garden-maker, her love for everything out-of-doors cropping out in all her lighter conversations.

"Oh, yes, I dig round in my garden and plant things," she remarked. "One of the reasons I love this house, which we've had ever since Mr. Hoover's connection with the Commerce Department, is that bit of woodland out there. It isn't a garden, you see, just a wilderness. For all that road at the foot of the bank behind it, I can sometimes forget it's only a tiny strip of sophisticated earth, and imagine its real forest."

"I can never lose my passion for forests and rivers and mountain solitude. I'm grateful to the former tenants of this house for leaving the trees and rocks and wildwood as they were. Most householders would have chopped down the trees and landscaped the rest of it. The only trouble is that there is so much shade I can't get my best plants to bloom. So my neighbors nurse them to the blooming point, then hurry them to me to enjoy. There's one behind you—that great blue delphinium—Isn't it a beauty?"

This is the keynote of Lou Henry Hoover's inclinations. Had she not a definite line of duty, and could she shape her life as she chose, I believe she would get into her car and drive straight into the West, to Palo Alto.

"I would find some work, though, even if life didn't lay it out for me." (One is sure she would.) "I do my work out here on the porch mornings. It's nice to be near Mrs. Wren and the babies and to hear the swish of little things moving about."

Mrs. Hoover loves driving a car. When her mother died a few years ago she snatched up her father and drove him clear across the country from Monterey to Washington for a heartening change and visit. They camped out along the way every night.

"We had a Filipino to pitch our tent," she admits a little apologetically. "But I was driver all the way and cook besides."

Music is another of Mrs. Hoover's loves, but not jazz. And while she does not play or sing, she enjoys every noteworthy concert and recital in Washington that time permits.

Mrs. Hoover is a reader, mostly of semi-scientific books—biology, philosophy and travel. She plays tennis well and makes a real home of whatever house she lives in.

She has a gift for public speaking, but generally limits it to presiding at Girl Scout and committee meetings. She has a ready wit and an attractive presence.

"I like to preside," explains Mrs. Hoover, "because it's so nice and easy. You don't have to do anything; you just introduce the others and they do all the work."

The house on S street is spacious and charming, with enough luxury to make it whisper "quality," and enough decoration and color to keep it homey. It looks used and livable, with plenty of books and a few good pictures, and a hospitable dining table.

The other Hoover home—the real one—is at Palo Alto, on the grounds of Stanford University. It is a typically lovely California house, broad and gracefully proportioned, of cream color in Spanish style, made colorful with gay awnings, long, sunny windows and flowers.

It has been said Mrs. Hoover is hard to know. This, I should hazard, is so. Concerned with serious things all her life, traveling much, she has put small interests, surface friendships and ready confidences aside.

Whether it comes of Quaker background or not, Mr. Hoover has reticence. If his wife is inclined to reserve, it may be that she has schooled herself, so the better to meet his taste. Her mind must be a mine of knowledge, yet she reveals it sparingly. What her philosophy of life may be I do not know. In religion she was conservative, of the Episcopal Church, until her marriage, when she embraced the creed of the Society of Friends, to which Mr. Hoover belongs. It would be a wonderful experience to get into Lou Henry Hoover's mind. Few women have had a life more full of interesting happenings. The wide world has been her stamping ground, yet she remains American through and through. Love and home, work and motherhood have all been hers, and public service, yet she does little talking about her activities, and asks no glory.

PLAN SMOKELESS CITY

In the future Burlington will be a smokeless city. Under the provisions of an ordinance passed on its first reading at the adjourned meeting of Common Council last week smokestacks will be smokeless or carried so high in the air that their smoke will be blown to England or Japan, depending on the direction of the wind, instead of falling back on the ground. The ordinance was the outcome of complaints that have been made as to Burlington's smoky condition.

BEACH HAVEN PLANS 5-MILE BOARDWALK

Long Beach Township Committee Expects It To Be Completed Next Year

A resolution passed by the Long Beach Township Committee authorizes the township engineer to make a survey for a five-mile boardwalk along the ocean-front.

The boardwalk is to run from the north line of Beach Haven to Ohio avenue, Beach Haven Terrace, a distance of two miles, and from the south line of the borough of Ship Bottom-Beach Arlington to 100 feet south of Whirlford avenue, Beach Haven Crest, an approximate distance of three miles.

The engineer estimates the cost of these two sections of boardwalk as approximately $100,000. It is proposed to build the walk fourteen feet wide.

The preliminary work to be done by the engineer is to make a survey of the land that the walk will occupy and to get a right of way fifty feet in width for the construction work.

It is expected that the work will be completed in time for use next summer.
