THE NEW ERA

Vol. 40. No. 44. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1928 PRICE FIVE CENTS

AN EDITORIAL

WHAT IS YOUR VERDICT?

The evidence has been submitted; both sides have argued the cases of their candidates, and the decision is now in the hands of the jury—the voters of America—of which you are one.

If you believe in the principles of the Republican Party and the Protective Tariff which insures prosperity—vote for Hoover and Curtis and the whole Republican Ticket.

This is the most important Presidential Election since the Civil War.

National and International problems confront the Nation which demand the services of the Hoover type of mind—his grasp of big affairs—his executive ability and capacity for organization—and his experience in world affairs, as well as those of his own country.

A chain is only as strong as its weakest link.

Hoover as President will need the support of Republican Congressmen.

Strengthen his hands by the election of Hamilton F. Kean to the United States Senate and by the return of Isaac Bacharach to the House of Representatives.

New Jersey is normally and rightfully a Republican State.

Return it to the Republican column this year by electing Morgan F. Larson, Governor, and send Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb back to the Assembly where he has been doing good work.

For Freeholders the Republican Party offers Charles R. Stout, who has served faithfully and well for several years, and James C. McCormick, a new man in county politics, but who has been assessor in Burlington Township for a generation.

A vote for the whole Republican ticket is a vote for efficiency in Government—National, State and County.

VOTE EARLY

Those who are in Riverton during the day are urged to vote before noon if possible, in order to avoid congestion at the polls during the last hours.

LINCOLN SAID:—

"God must have loved the common people—he made so many of them." He also said, "You can fool all the people some of the time and some of the peope all the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time." And it is confidence in the cool, common sense of the people and of their judgments formed by their own study of the facts and circumstances, that leads Republican managers of New Jersey to conclude definitely that the contest is won.

To attempt to throw dust in the eyes of the voters by harping on prohibition and other irrelevant subjects will not do.

The American workingman and the American business man alike, realize that their interests are safe in the hands of the party and the candidate which have consistently stood for a protective tariff and restricted immigration. The adoption of the principle of protection by the Democratic party's candidate at this late hour is too transparently an attempt to catch votes.

In 1924 Governor Smith's opinion of the Republican Tariff schedule was that it was a cold-blooded holdup of the American people for the benefit of special interests.

Last night he announced over the radio that he is now for it.

POLITICAL RALLY AT PALMYRA

Three Prominent Speakers Will Discuss Issues of the Campaign

The second big political rally staged under the auspices of the "Smith For President" Club of Riverton, Palmyra and Cinnaminson will be held Thursday night, November 1, in the Palmyra High School, at 8.15.

The parade will assemble at Broad and Fulton streets, Riverton. Headed by a large band and under New Jersey State Police escort, the marchers will proceed down Broad street to the station, up Main street to Seventh, and over Seventh to Thomas avenue, down Thomas to Broad, down Broad to West Palmyra station, and then back to the Palmyra High School. Some new ideas in political parading are scheduled to be presented, and, of course, red and green flares, flags, banners and signs will all add to the spectacle.

The speakers represent three different parts of the country, and the political situations in each will be discussed.

Judge Edward McGrath, of New York City, will give a summary of the Atlantic seaboard states. He has just finished a tour of every state along the coast.

Charles Freeman, editor of the Chicago Tribune, will bring political statistics from the west.

David Abrams, the fiery attorney of Atlanta, Georgia, will give the real facts pertaining to the much discussed situation below the Mason-Dixon line.

NEEDLEWORK GUILD

The Palmyra Branch of the Needlework Guild of America will hold its annual meeting and display of garments on Thursday, November 1st, at 2.30 P. M., in the Y. M. C. A. Building. Everyone is invited to come and see what a splendid work we are able to do with your help. Miss Reba Trossi, of Burlington, a most interesting speaker, will tell how we help her in her work. We hope as many of our Junior workers as possible will be present. Tea served.

LEGIONNAIRES TO VISIT HOBOKEN

Will Attend Big Celebration and Take Part in Armistice Parade

Sunday, November 11, will witness the State Armistice Celebration at Hoboken. Burlington County will take a prominent part in the celebration and the Legionnaires, their families and friends will assemble at the fountain in Bordentown at 9.00 A. M. SHARP.

The cavalcade will be escorted by State Police, who will clear the road all the way to Hoboken. The mammoth parade starts at 1.30 P. M. and will consist of detachments of the U. S. Regular Army and Navy, State Militia, the American Legion in force, with its bands and drum and bugle corps, and many local organizations.

Post Rodgers' Bugle and Drum Corps is planning to make the trip in full force, together with other members of the Post, their families and friends, as well as the Ladies' Auxiliary. Burlington County headquarters will be at the High School, Fourth and Garden streets, Hoboken.

Burlington County's own Armistice Celebration will be held at Mount Holly Saturday, November 10. The big parade will start from Broad street at 4 P. M. sharp. A 100 per cent. representation of the Posts of the County is expected to make the celebration a huge success. Eats have been provided and will be served at the Armory, following which will be a "Wild Cat" hour from 7 to 8 o'clock.

Post Rodgers also has a big affair on hand, the Hallowe'en Party, Friday evening, November 2, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary. It is to be a full costume affair and numerous prizes will be awarded. Games in keeping with the spirit of the evening are on the program, as well as appropriate refreshments and dancing, an orchestra having been engaged for the evening.

Senator Curtis, Republican candidate for Vice-President, commands a pile of respect. Senator Curtis is putting a terrific kick into this campaign.

STUDENTS AT PHS HEAR TRAVELOGUE

Lecturer Takes His Audience on Imaginary Tour of Near East

The students of the Palmyra High School had the pleasure of listening to an illustrated lecture on the Near East Thursday afternoon, October 18. One of the English classes was given the assignment of writing a summary of the lecture. The following, written by Louise Landgraf, was considered one of the best.

"We were most fortunate to hear Mr. John Applegate speak about the Eastern countries last week. Mr. Eckert introduced him to us. He has been in those countries for some time and made his talk very interesting by illustrating it with the various costumes of the countries. He took us on an imaginary pleasure trip through the East.

Turk's Quaint Customs

"First of all he took us to Turkey, which is interesting to us from time immemorial. The Turk's customs are the exact opposite of our customs. While we wear our shoes indoors and take our hats off he does just the opposite. When he meets a friend instead of shaking hands he bows in such a manner as to have this meaning 'I am your servant from earth to heaven.' He wears his belt as the boys and men in our country wear a necktie. These are but a few of the quaint but interesting customs of the Turkish people.

"All of the world and people of the interior wear just such costume as Mr. Turk. These people live in a one room house which is particularly partitioned off by curtains into two compartments, one for the women, which is called harem, and one for the men. No other man is allowed to go into the harem. The ladies go out on Friday, which is the holy day to take the air. They go to the cemetery and spend the day there.

Wear Wide Trousers

"Next we met the Kurd. He is the man from Kurdestan and it is he who wears the very wide trousers. These people eat, sleep and walk on the same floor so therefore must have some kind of trousers which are suitable for all of this. This man's headdress is of pure silk. He wears an egal over his kaffia. It is very amusing and interesting to know why this man wears such large sleeves. He is a Mohammendan, as you know, and must wash his face, in a certain manner before he can pray and he uses his sleeves for a towel and so he always had a towel ready.

"The Kurdish women are stately and beautiful. They wear a shirt similar to their husband's but larger. They also wear the trousers. These women wear red, which is the sacred color of the Kurds. If they cannot afford to have a whole outfit made of red they have some at least on the trousers. They wear a hat on the back of the head and wrap a piece of embroidery around it. They wear their jewels which are given to them when they get married. These are hand-made. The front of the skirt is tucked under the belt then the lady is dressed.

Always Knitting

"When you meet a Kurdish woman on the street you will always find her knitting. She knits gloves, mittens, and socks. She makes the gloves for her husband and pulls through pieces of wool which is tinted on the end. This wool is from his sheep and it is tinted in order to tell it apart from another man's sheep.

"The Mesopotamians are people who have great ancestors. If you should meet one he will tell you all about his ancestors. This man wears a very fancy vest. He also wears a peculiar hat which is a handful of wool that has been soaked and pounded into shape. In his hat he wears a feather. By the color of this feather one may tell from where he comes.

"The women of this country also wear jewels but many more than the Kurdish women. Their clothes have very much embroidery on them which has a religious meaning.

"Sheiks" Are "Shakes"

"In our country we talk of "sheiks" as "sheeks." This is the wrong pronunciation and should be pronounced as "shake." This means that he is the head of his tribe and he is generally well educated and rich. His clothes are made of silk.

"The Bedouin does not wear a silk abba as the sheik but wears one made of camel's hair. This is better for the desert. He also wears a different style egal and wears a white kaffia which he puts under his abba.

"No matter where you go in the desert you will find the small shepherd boys. He wears the coat of many colors of which the Bible tells. He has a pipe which he loves and generally makes himself. This is his only amusement and naturally he would love it. He also carries a sling. This is the type as that used by David when he killed Goliath. In this manner he kills the beates of prey.

Pray Five Times Daily

"The Mohammedan religion prevails in the East. This is interesting to us. Mecca is the holy place. Five times a day the people face towards this city and pray. Each Mohammedan has his prayer rug and prayer stone which he carries around with him. When the call for prayer comes he places the prayer stone on a niche in the rug. Then he takes off his shoes and kneels on the rug. This begins his prayer. It lasts about twelve minutes.

"All of the Turkish men and women carry a pair of blue beads. These serve a double purpose. First, that of keeping away the Evil Eye, and second, as a manner of amusement. The Turk must have a pair of beads with which to play.

"The girls of the East make beautiful hand-made shawls and other pieces of embroidery. Nowhere in the world is there made such exquisite things as here. Experts have not found even one flaw in these beautiful things. The silk which is pure is used in them and does not spoil easily."

PALMYRA MERCHANT INJURED IN CRASH

Morris Lipkowitz Suffers Painful Bruises and Lacerations When His Truck Overturns

Morris Lipkowitz, one of the proprietors of the Philadelphia Market House, is confined to his bed as a result of injuries suffered when the truck which he was driving overturned early last Saturday morning near Thirty-first street and River road, Camden.

Lipkowitz was driving the truck toward Philadelphia when another car shot out in front of him from a side street. It was a case of swerving into the curb or striking the other car. Lipkowitz chose the former course with the resultant injuries to himself when his machine overturned.

He was taken to the Cooper Hospital, Camden, but later was sent to his home, at 207 Garfield avenue, Palmyra. He suffered severe bruises and lacerations about the body. Lipkowitz does not expect to be about again for a week or so.

PALMYRA BOYS CAUGHT STEALING

Chief Beck Obtains Two More Confessions From Colored Lads

Two colored boys were given a hearing before Police Justice Fichter, of Palmyra, last Sunday morning on a charge of petty thievery and released after a severe reprimand.

The boys were Albert Lindsey, 15, of Third and Arch streets, and Thomas Allen, 13, son of Mrs. Phoebe Allen, of Third and Market streets. Young Allen has given the police trouble before and has ben before the Court at Mount Holly on a previous occasion.

Miss Sampson, who keeps a store on Broad street, near Delaware avenue, notified Chief of Police C. Morris Beck that $3.00 had been taken from her cash drawer early Saturday evening. The Chief had an idea of who the culprits were and sent Officer Betty to the Broadway Palace, where he thought they could be found. Betty located the two boys in the theatre and took them to Miss Sampson, who was unable to identify them, owing to the fact that they were differently dressed.

The boys were released, but were arrested again later in the evening on complaint of Alfonse Taglialatela, who became suspicious when the boys offered to sell two flashlights to his son for fifteen cents each.

Taglialatela watched the lads and caught them in the act of stealing a box of cough drops from his candy store, which is located next to his tailor shop on West Broad street. He notified police, who later picked up the boys and found a box containing several packages of cough drops in their possession.

After grilling the boys separately Chief Beck obtained a confession of the theft of the money and also the flashlights. They admitted taking the flashlights from Etris' Hardware Store Thursday night while no one was watching them.

They also admitted taking the money from Miss Sampson and dividing it between them. Allen bought a pair of pants with his money and both went home and changed their clothes before coming back to the movies.

The parents of the youthful culprits were notified that the boys would be sent before Judge Slaughter if they were found in trouble again.

MAKE PLANS FOR BRIDGE APPROACH

Mark Route from Market Street to Top of Sorrel Horse Hill

Surveyors have completed the preliminary survey for the first leg of the proposed Palmyra-Tacony bridge approach.

The route surveyed extends from a point on Market street, a short distance from the fill which has been made by the Bridge Company, to a point just east of the present Broad street railroad crossing and thence in an almost straight line across the meadows, crossing the Pensauken at a point about 100 feet west of the present Hylton Road bridge, and striking the Burlington Pike at the top of Sorrel Horse Hill.

While this route connects with the Hadodnfield Road at this point it is not expected that this road will be made a part of the new route to the shore.

Entirely New Route

The surveyors who hae been working on the proposed bridge approach are now laying out a route from Sorrel Horse Hill to Berlin via Evesboro and Marlton. It is said that this route will be almost entirely new, making

WELL ATTENDED

Republican Mass Meeting and Parade Draws Enthusiastic Crowd

One of the greatest political rallies ever held in Palmyra took place Wednesday evening of last week when Palmyra Republicans packed the High School auditorium to hear several well known speakers discuss the issues of the day.

A big torchlight parade was staged before the meeting started, in which several hundred participated. The parade was led by Mayor George N. Wimer and James T. Weart, first Mayor of the borough of Palmyra. The Lyric Band, of Camden, furnished the music.

The parade assembled in front of Police Headquarters and marched to Riverton Station and back to Arch Street Station, Palmyra, and thence to the High School.

The auditorium was more than half filled when the paraders arrived and when they were all seated almost every seat was filled.

Stage Is Beautiful

The speakers, committeemen, and all who were active in the Hoover Club were seated on the stage, which was beautifully bedecked with flowers and palms and presented a very fine appearance. Pictures of the Republican candidates were also displayed.

"Pat" Steedle led the singing of "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner," after which James T. Weart called the meeting to order. Mr. Weart made some timely remarks in which he forecasted the election of Herbert Hoover by a majority of four to one, if Republicans would continue to work and see that the vote was brought out on election day.

Asks for Early Votes

The meeting was then turned over to Mayor George N. Wimer, who made a plea for the voters to go to the polls early so as to prevent a last-minute rush. He called attention to the fact that the polls would be open from 6 A. M. to 7 P. M., a total of 780 minutes, during which time over 800 are expected to vote in most of the districts. This will mean an average of more than one vote per minute all day for the election board to handle.

Before the speakers were introduced the audience was entertained by Mrs. Christine Schwartz, who sang a beautiful solo, accompanied by Mrs. Rachel Lord on the piano.

The County candidates were then introduced by Mayor Wimer and rose to acknowledge the plaudits of the gathering. They were Charles R. Stout

PRINCESS RAHME HAIDAR

SYRIAN PRINCESS AT MOORESTOWN

Will Appear at First Baptist Church Sunday and Monday Evenings

Members and friends of the First Baptist Church, Moorestown, are looking forward to the visit on Sunday and Monday evenings of the Princess Rahme Haidar, of Damascus, Syria, eminent Oriental lecturer and dramatist and who will bring most unique and interesting messages on Palestine, her native home.

Sunday evening at the regular hour of service the pastor, the Rev. Mr. MacGeorge, will present for the first time in Moorestown this gifted young woman, who will speak on the subject of "Under Syrian Stars," an address that has been delivered in every leading city of the United States and Canada, depicting the intimate life of her own people as a native knows it and telling of the manner and history of that sacred land.

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock Princess Rahime, assisted by her secretary, Miss Lucille Burgess, will present her powerful dramatization of the Biblical story, "Naaman, the Leper." This story holds a two-fold interest for the Princess as her father's home in Damascus stands next door to the ruins of the home of Naaman, once famous Syrian Captain.

"Palestine is the most beautiful country in the world, but America is the most wonderful, indeed, a land of opportunity," says this daughter of an eminent Syrian house and who hails from the oldest city in the world—Damacus. The charming Princess, whose genealogical records prove she is a direct descendant of the Arab tribe of Beni-Ghassan, who governed the district of Hauran with Damascus as their capital in 85 B. C. has but recently returned from an extended visit beneath the skies of her native land, studying anew the present conditions and writing her book on Syrian life.

Princess Rahime was born in the old town of Baalbek, long famous for its imposing ruins of the temple of Baal and about forty miles from Damascus. After her early education in the American schools at Beirut and Sidon, she embarked on a unique adventure to the shores of the United States, where she might take advantage of the educational training afforded in our universities, and has since taken her degrees from two of our leading colleges. After completing her course at the University of Southern California in Los Angeles she embarked upon the lecture platform, with the one motive uppermost in her mind that she might be instrumental in bringing to the people of the western world a true picture of her Syria and its interesting people, to correct the many false impressions that are current about them.

Inspired by the past history of her race and the recent developments in the lives of her countrymen, Princess Rahme in bringing to thousands of great audiences messages of value and now ranks as the finest interpreter of Palestinian life and thought before the American people.

Princess Rahme will wear the robes of her native land and will be assisted by her secretary, Miss Lucille Burgess, an American college friend who toured Syria and the Near East with the Princess last year and who has made a close study of the Palestinian music.

George Madison, member of the graduating class of 1926, of the Palmyra High School, is now attending Temple University at Philadelphia, where he is a member of the cross-country team. Madison, whose home is in Riverton, was a member of the Palmyra High School track team. He participated in the mile run. He expects to try out for the Temple University track team also. He is taking a course in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences.

MEETING AT PARRY

The Women's Republican Organization, of Cinnaminson, will hold a meeting Thursday at 3 o'clock, at the Parry Fire House. Miss Jane Rushmore will be the speaker. The public is invited.

PALMYRA MAN KILLED BY TRUCK

Frank G. Sterling, Riverton Station Agent, Victim in Fatal Accident

Frank G. Sterling, 68-year-old Pennsylvania Railroad Station agent at Riverton, and for nearly twenty years a resident of Palmyra, died last Friday night in the West Jersey Hospital, Camden, as a result of being struck by a truck at the Main street crossing, Riverton, earlier in the afternoon.

Apparently Sterling stepped in front of a truck just as the green light flashed on the traffic signal. The truck had just started from a dead stop and did not strike the victim with any great force, but the impact knocked him to the street, resulting in a fractured skull.

The injured man was rushed to the office of Dr. Mills, who sent him to the hospital immediately, where he died a few hours later from the fracture and loss of blood.

Charles Seifert, of Riverside, driver of the truck, was taken before Justice of the Peace Coddington, of Riverton, where he was held under $2,000.00 bail on a technical charge of manslaughter.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Snover Funeral Home, 313 East Broad street, Palmyra, with interment in the Baptist Cemetery at Pemberton. The Rev. George Lockett officiated.

Sterling is survived by his wife, Mary J.; a daughter, Helen, and a son, Lesley S., who is station agent at Delanco. The deceased lived at 14 West Spring Garden street, Palmyra.

The deceased had been in the employ of the Railroad Company practically all his life. Before coming to Palmyra he was agent at Whitings and previous to that was in charge of the station at Freehold. He was for several years a "ticket-taker" on New York's first elevated, going there from the Cream Ridge (New Jersey) station of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

WIMER SPEAKS TO ROTARIANS

Palmyra Mayor Addresses Club on the Subject of Community Service

Last Thursday evening was known as Community Service Night at Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club. The committee in charge made a very wise selection in the speaker for the evening in the person of Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra.

Probably no one could have been better fitted to bring to a local club more tangible proofs of the need of such a community service than Mayor Wimer. His years of experience working in this community, coupled with his more recent knowledge of the conditions obtained through his present position as President of the Welfare Association, enabled him to not merely emphasize the need but to suggest many direct channels of the greatest and most timely import.

"To my mind," said Mr. Wimer, "there are three kinds of service. Service to God, Service to Country, and Service to Fellowman." All of which he characterized as good citizenship, for citizenship, after all, is measured by "service."

"Service to Fellowman" was the topic selected by the speaker and in his discourse gave a few local statistics which revealed the fact that the number of poor in these communities this summer had far exceeded any previous figures.

With these facts to face the speaker made an urgent appeal for the support and co-operation of the club for the alleviation of these conditions.

The Fellowship Committee was glad to report the improved condition of "Woody" Beideman and also to welcome "Chuck" Geelan back to the club after his serious illness.

FREE COURSES IN HORTICULTURE

Intensive training in fruit growing and vegetable gardening will be offered free for a period of 12 weeks to residents of New Jersey by the college of agriculture, Rutgers University, states Prof. Frank C. Heiyar, director of short courses. Registration for these courses, as well as those in dairy farming, poultry husbandry, and dairy manufactures, has been set for November 12.

"New Jersey as a state offers exceptional advantages to the growers of fruits and vegetables, for its soil, climate and markets make the growing of these products profitable to those trained in the work," says Professor Heiyar. "Successful fruit and vegetable growers who are short course graduates report that the training received has helped them materially in their farming operations. The college has always been able to place in excellent positions graduates of these courses who have had sufficient practical experience."

URGE WIDENING OF RIVER ROAD

Owners of Development Between Beverly and Delanco Want Quick Action

Thomas Lee, former Mayor of Beverly, appeared before the Burlington County Board of Freeholders for the second time at its meeting last Friday to urge the widening of the road between Beverly and Delanco. Mr. Lee appeared on the same errand at the previous meeting.

On Friday he emphasized the fact that unless the improvement is made before houses are built on the roads along the line, it will of necessity be deferred for many years. Mr. Lee said that the promoters of Delaware Gardens were especially anxious to have the work started as soon as possible. The property owners along the line have signified their willingness to contribute a strip of land for the widening of the road valued at $62,000.

When Mr. Lee insisted that the Board take some action immediately, County Solicitor Harold B. Wells called his attention to the fact that the sidewalks laid by the Delaware Gardens developers encroached on the county highway, where they had been constructed without consent of the County authorities.

County Engineer H. B. Smith stated that a survey was now being made and would be ready to submit to the Board at the next regular meeting, November 9.

Alvin McAnney, clerk of Bass river township, in a communication to the Board, called attention to the piece of road in that township which connects the Hammonton road with the new concrete road, known as the Atlantic City road, and said it was in a dangerous condition. McAnney suggested that a bridge in that township also needed immediate attention.

A communication was received from the State Highway Commission, calling attention to the fact that a conference was to be held in Trenton on November 20, having to do with the proposed Route S-41 from the approach of the new Tacony-Palmyra bridge to Marlton via Evesboro, and connecting with the White Horse pike at Berlin. The freeholders will attend the meeting.

Department bills were ordered paid as follows:

Roads, $6,560.12; bridges, $576.65; finance, $9,175.44; affairs, $976.40; buildings, $10,145.67. Total, $23,313.74.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK

By Eden R. Waite
Shawnee, Oklahoma

During a recent visit to Denver, I interviewed Martin E. Rowley, Secretary of the Hotel Greeters of America, as to the value of newspaper advertising in building business for hotels, and Mr. Rowley said:

"In my opinion, the most efficient method of advertising and one from which the most tangible results can be traced is the newspapers. Newspapers are read faithfully by the majority of our population and I know from experience that they do read the ads.

"The problem of advertising probably presents more perplexing angles than any question that comes before the manager of a hotel or other business for decision, and most of the mediums presented are of practically no value whatsoever, fully 90 per cent. being worthless.

"I could enumerate scores of everyday propositions which are brought to the attention of business men as advertising mediums, but which possess no merit to recommend them and the cost is always much more than an ad in their town newspaper. Of course, some of these propositions must be patronized on account of the good will of prominent citizens, or per chance, a club or lodge; but their advetising value is generally nil.

"Therefore, when you want to get something before the public, place it in the newspaper and you will be sure of a return on your investment, as a good ad is always an investment, not an expense."

Johnson for Hoover

Eldridge Reeves Johnson has enlisted as a "minute man" for Herbert Hoover and this (Wednesday) evening at 9.15 he will speak over radio station WCAM, Camden, on "Why I Am for Hoover."

Mr. Johnson, Moorestown millionaire, is the former president of the Victor Talking Machine Company.

Edwin G. Scovel, an attorney, who is chairman of the Camden Minute Men for Hoover Committee, in announcing the talk by Mr. Johnson, said that on Friday at 8 p. m., E. E. Shumaker, now president of the Victor Company, will deliver a "minute man" talk from the same station.

Graf Zeppelin Makes the Grade

Here is the Graf Zeppelin that is the present wonder of the world, having come from Germany to Lakehurst, N. J., successfully despite many hardships encountered on the way over. The passengers comprised persons of several nations, including America. Inserts show Dr. Hugo Eckner, captain, and the one woman passenger, Lady Drummond Hay

Giant German Ship is Forerunner of New Epoch in the Air

The Graf Zeppelin, sailing in the skies from Friedrichshafen, Germany, via Spain, the Azores and Bermuda, with passengers and mail, flew over great American cities, thrilling millions, and landed at Lakehurst, N. J, at 5.39 p. m., Monday, October 15.

The journey was an amazing adventure, replete with marvelous examples of human daring. The Zeppelin is the largest dirigible, comparing in size to the Woolworth Building in New York. It is outfitted like a steamer—with luxurious traveling facilities. But lashed by the winds the craft crippled until it had to slow down to a mere limp.

Hugo Eckner, commander, brought the ship to safety. He directed repairs in the Graf Zeppelin in mid-air, when one of the stabilizers was badly damaged. Eckner's young son, who is a member of the Graf Zeppelin's crew, took an active hand in making the repairs, which was accomplished by men hanging like sparrows to frail struts thousands of feet aloft.

Never before has there been the degree of public excitement that attended the landing of the Graf Zeppelin on these shores. From it stepped twenty passengers, one of them a woman, who all had thrilling tales of the trip to tell.

The Zeppelin has shown the way to a practical, ready-for-use form of sky navigation. The trip is hailed as a forerunner of a new era in international communications.

"GLORIOUS BETSY" AT WALT WHITMAN

Features Thursday's and Friday's Show; "Beautiful But Dumb" Coming Saturday

"Glorious Betsy," a Warner Bros. Production which is coming to the Walt Whitman Theatre, Thursday and Friday of this week, is another directorial triumph for Alan Crosland, the man who directed "Don Juan," "When a Man Loves," "Old San Francisco" and "The Jazz Singer."

"Glorious Betsy" is the glamorous and glittering love story of Betsy Patterson, Belle of Baltimore, and Jerome Bonaparte, brother of the Emperor Napoleon. The celebrated play of Rida Johnson Young is the basis for the story which was scenarized by Anthony Coldeway.

Dolores Costello is ideally cast as the gentle beauty of the old South, who marries Napoleon's brother, goes with him to France, and is sent back to America by the Little Corporal, in order that he may marry his brother to royalty. Never has the exquisite delicacy of this lovelest of stars been so appealing as in the part of "Glorious Betsy."

"Beautiful But Dumb," the new Tiffany-Stahl production starring Patsy Ruth Miller, which features Saturday's program at the Walt Whitman Theatre, presents that attractive star as Janet, a sternly tailor-made, intensely efficient secretary whose rubber-tired glasses and routine office perfection have quite blinded her young and handsome employer, Jim, to the fact that she has the makings of a beauty and is wildly in love with him.

The fluffy blond art editor, who boasts of a different date every night, discovers Janet sobbing her heart out because she has heard her employer say to a client he'd as soon fall in love with a filing case as with her. Mae persuaded Janet to try modern methods and after a visit to a beauty parlor takes her home and dresses her in her own prettiest frock.

Mae telephones her escort for the evening to "bring a friend", and Janet is all primed with new tricks when the men arrive and she finds, to her disappointment, that her escort is the clever but fresh young artist in her office, whom she can't stand in spite of his evident admiration for her. The apparently ruined evening revives with a bang when into the cafe comes Jim, sees the artist dancing with a beauty, begs for an introduction, and discovers the new Janet.

MURPHY—GRUBE

Miss Agnes Elizabeth Grube, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Grube, of West Central avenue, Moorestown, and Captain Thomas A. Murphy, of Buffalo, were married at St. John's Catholic Church, Thirty-second street, New York, last Saturday afternoon.

The marriage came as a complete surprise to the bride's many friends in Moorestown. It had been rumored that Miss Grube's engagement to Captain Murphy would be announced early this winter.

The wedding was very quiet, and only attended by Miss Ursula Grube, sister of the bride, and a friend of the bridegroom's.

The happy couple are now in New York and will leave shortly on a tour of the Eastern cities. They will make their home in Detroit, where Captain Murphy is connected with the aviation division of Berry Brothers, Inc.

Captain Murphy is a widely known flier and holds both airplane and balloon pilot's licenses. He recently resigned from the U. S. Army Air Corps, having been senior Army aircraft inspector in the Buffalo district for the past three years.

The Captain was one of America's aviation heroes in the World War.

The bride is a graduate of Moorestown High School, where she was prominent in athletics. She has a wide circle of friends here. Her father is "mayor" of Moorestown, being chairman of the Township Committee.

REFLECTORS HELP POULTRY LIGHTING

Poultrymen regard artificial lighting for their flocks as an accepted practice, but not all of them give careful attention to the mechanics of lighting the hen house, states E. R. Gross, agricultural engineer at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station.

"Economy demands that the lights be properly arranged," points out Professor Gross. "In the New Jersey laying house, which is 20 feet deep, one 40-watt lamp is required for each 10 feet of length in the house. Each lamp should be placed four and a half to five feet above the floor and provided with a reflector, either the R. L. M. or flat type. Reflectors spread the light over the entire floor area, and failure to use them makes it necessary to install 60-watt lamps. These take almost double the current needed. Reflectors, therefore, are much preferred from the standpoint of economy.

"Lights should be used long enough to give the flock a 12-hour working day," Professor Gross goes on to say. "Morning illumination is preferred because the load on power lines is less at that time of day. A clock to turn on the lights automatically in the morning may be easily obtained."

Figures gathered by the poultry department of the experiment station show that artificial lighting increases winter egg production. Records kept on more than 300,000 "lighted" pullets indicate a gain of almost 30 per cent. for the December, January, and February production. The annual production of the birds is not increased, but it is more evenly distributed throughout the year, with the gains coming during winter in the season of great demand and higher prices.

PREDICT HEAVY VOTE

Claim That Nearly a Vote a Minute Will Be Cast in Evesham

It is predicted that the vote in Evesham township at the coming general election will be the heaviest ever recorded in the district. While there are no local contests, interest in the National and State candidates, it is believed will be responible for the unusual heavy vote.

At present there are 845 voters registered in the district and it is believed that over 600 votes will be cast, and some even claim there will be 700. Should there be 700 it will require nearly a vote a minute during the entire period the polls are open. Polls are open from 6 A. M. until 7 P. M., thirteen hours, or 780 minutes.

The Election Board will no doubt have a busy day and they strongly urge voters to cast their ballots early, as the last hour rush will no doubt be a greater rush than ever before.

60 LOSE LICENSES

Raymond Street, Beverly, Among Operators Penalized for Drunken Driving

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill last week revoked a total of 60 drivers' licenses and of these 43 were for intoxication. Among those penalized for the latter offense were the following:

Asbury K. Scott, Pitman; Otis Cheathem, Mt. Ephraim; John H. Smith, Jr., 1416 Princess avenue, Camden; John Clausen, Beach Haven; Raymond Street, Beverly; George Ford, Gibbstown.

George E. Melvin, 1603 Langham avenue, lost his license on reckless driving charges.

JOHNSON NAMED NEW WET LEADER

Moorestown Millionaire Vice-President of Camden Anti-Prohibition Branch

Eldridge Reeves Johnson, Moorestown millionaire and former president of the Victor Talking Machine Company, has been elected a vice-president of the Camden County branch of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Announcement of the election was made last week by Louis B. Le Duc, president of the branch, following a meeting in Mr. Le Duc's law office in the Wilson building, Camden.

The branch, which was inactive after the death of its first president, W. L. Hurley, was reorganized recently. It heard encouraging reports from its membership, finance and publicity committees last week, according to the new president.

"Every Monday and Thursday since the reorganization," Le Duc added, "increasing numbers of old and new members have met to perfect a non-partisan appeal throughout the county for support of every congressional candidate favoring its policies, and their election until the Volstead Act and the Eighteenth Amendment are repealed."

The Rev. Augustus Walton Shick, rector of Grace Episcopal Church, Haddonfield, also accepted a vice-presidency.

Dr. Shick is author of a series of sermons against prohibition which have provoked wide discussion. Mr. Johnson long has been an active supporter of the national anti-prohibition association. Both Mr. Johnson and the rector have confirmed the announcement.

Since the September reorganization, 40,000 postcard invitations to join the branch, distributed among the employees of Camden industrial plants, have brought a "highly gratifying response," according to Herbert E. Stanton, secretary.

HADDONFIELD AWARDS $175,000 HALL BONDS

The Haddonfield borough commission last week awarded $175,000 borough hall bonds to M. M. Freeman and Company, of Philadelphia. The bonds are to be used to take up the temporary improvement notes which paid for the construction of the new hall. The commission announced a paving assessment hearing for the residents of Haddon Farms on November 7.

American Individualism

by Herbert Hoover

"Humanity has a long road to perfection, but we of America can make sure progress if we will preserve our individualism, if we will preserve and stimulate the initiative of our people, if we will build up our insistence and safeguards to equality of opportunity if we will glorify service as a part of our national character. Progress will march if we hold an abiding faith in the intelligence, the initiative, the character, the courage, and the divine touch in the individual. We can safeguard these ends if we give to each individual that opportunity for which the spirit of America stands for. We can make a social system as perfect as our generation merits and one that will be received in gratitude by our children."

HALLOWE'EN FETE PROVES SUCCESS

Inclement Weather Fails to Dampen Enthusiasm of Paraders

Rain failed to completely dampen the enthusiasm of a large crowd of merry-makers when the third annual Moorestown Hallowe'en celebration and parade was held Saturday evening despite the inclement weather.

Many braved the storm and Main street was well filled as the parade proceeded from the Forks of the road. While the number of floats was not as large as previous years, there was a splendid showing of masqueraders who presented an interesting spectacle as they capered along the street.

The carnival, held both Friday and Saturday evenings, was likewise a success and the bal masque, in the Community House, was a brilliant concluding feature to the annual community party. Nearly 150 couples enjoyed the dance in the gymnasium, which was attractively decorated for the occasion. Music, by the popular Vagabond Orchestra, was especially fine, and the floor was indeed picturesque with its gaily costumed and masked dancers.

The carnival offered an unusually wide variety of games, including bingo, dish-breaking, golf putting, hockey, refreshments, bowling and other games of skill.

Former Senator Emmor Roberts, as marshal, and the Township Committee, in open autos, led the parade. The equestrian section, which made a splendid showing, followed. There were auto displays by Shafer-Davis Motor Company, Moorestown Motor Company and Thomas Dolly & Sons, local dealers.

There were several commercial and organization floats, school, Boy Scout, Columbus Scout and Y. M. C. A. units and several other interesting sections. Music was furnished by the Mount Holly and 114th Field Artillery Bands and Freihofer's calliope entertained the crowd at the carnival.

The Boy Scouts, as usual, were of a big service, aiding in numerous ways, and the Moorestown police were aided by several State Troopers.

Shafer-Davis Motor Company, local dealer, supplied the director-general with a very attractive Chrysler "75" roadster, and his assistant used a Whippet roadster, furnished by Kuhns Motor Company.

The list of prize winners follow:

REVIVAL OF STATE TURKEY INDUSTRY

In an effort to revive the once-important turkey industry of New Jersey, a field day for those interested in growing America's native bird will be held at Reid's Turkey Farm, Manalapan, in Monmouth county, on November 9. Visitors from all sections of the states are expected to attend.

"We want to see more holiday turkeys raised on New Jersey's farms, and our field day is being arranged to show the possibilities in that enterprise," stated Ellwood Douglass, Monmouth County agricultural agent and chairman of the program committee. "The chances for success with turkeys are good, especially on farms with plenty of room."

The program will begin at 11 a. m. with remarks by Mr. Douglass and Mrs. A. E. Reid, a successful turkey grower on whose farm the field day is to be held. "The Place of Turkeys in New Jersey" will be outlined by Willard C. Thompson, poultry husbandman for the agricultural experiment station, and "Turkey Management" will be described by Leslie M. Black, extension specialist in poultry husbandry.

"Turkey Raising for Profit and How We Do It in Maryland" will be discussed by W. H. Rice, extension poultry specialist for the University of Maryland, beginning at 1 p. m. "Turkey Diseases" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. F. R. Beaudette of the agricultural experiment station, after which a demonstration of turkey judging will be given by Messrs. Rice and Black.

Full opportunity will be provided to view Mrs. Reid's large flock of Bronze turkeys, and also to learn the methods she has followed in rearing many pouls each year.

It is expected that box luncheon will be brought by the visitors who will be supplied with coffee and cake by Mrs. Reid and the Monmouth County Board of Agriculture.

A Russian scientist says he has invented a firewood coal. Many home owners know that is by no means a new invention.

MILLIONS CALLED BY RED CROSS

Annual Roll Call Begins Armistice Day and Ends Thanksgiving

More than 250,000 men and women, many of them in this community, will, between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, extend personal invitations to the people of the United States to join the American Red Cross during its annual Roll Call, which will be held at that time.

A membership of 5,000,000 is the goal of the national organization. The local chapter is completing plans for participation in the nation-wide enrollment, and is preparing an extensive solicitation in which every resident will be asked to renew his allegiance to the "Greatest Mother."

With expenditures for many years exceeding its income, Red Cross leaders state that the time has come when larger support must be had or its activities curtailed. Increasing demands and growing needs for Red Cross work in every branch of its activities make curtailment virtually impossible, they say. They feel that 5,000,000 should be considered the minimum in a nation of more than 122,000,000. As the population of the country grows, responsibilities resting on the Red Cross grow proportionately and make increased membership imperative.

The county quota of 7,000 is small when compared with the 80,000 inhabitants of Burlington County.

Don't think you gave to the Red Cross when you gave money for the Porto Rico-Florida Relief Fund; you were only giving to the victims through the Red Cross. Such gifts have nothing to do with supporting the Red Cross as the first national reserve in the event of calamity.

Moorestown's quota is 900, Burlington is 1,035, Riverside 225.

WOMEN VOTERS TO GIVE ELECTION PLAY

League Will Present "A Day at the Polls" Before Woman's Club Next Monday

Moorestown League of Women Voters will present a play called "A Day at the Polls" before the Woman's Club at the Community House next Monday afternoon, November 6.

This play was originally written to help clean-up the frauds at the polls in the Chicago election. It was considered very influential in helping to win the election in which Mayor Bill Thompson's gang was defeated. The play has been re-written to suit New Jersey's milder conditions and election law.

Mrs. S. Thornton Hollinshead is coaching the play. Some of the actors who will take part are Mrs. Edwin R. Sumner as Judge Taylor; Miss Mary Haines as Clerk Nepper; Mrs. Eugene Pharo as Challenger Cherlin.

Mrs. Frances D'Olier as Mrs. Wagner; Mrs. S. T. Coles as Mrs. O'Tolle; Mrs. William Borton as Mrs. Muldoon; Mrs. James Moore as Mrs. Weiss.

"FACTS ABOUT FORDS"

It is not an unusual thing in three and four-car garages nowadays to see a La Salle and Chrysler sharing their quarters with a Ford coupe or roadster. In fact, the steadily increasing number of well-to-do families that now include one of the new Fords as part of their automobile equipment is a fair example of the unique position to which the successor of the old Model "T" has attained.

Few persons have forgotten the great wave of public interest that greeted the new Ford car in December of last year. Front page columns in newspapers both here and abroad described its features and editorials discussed its probable effect on the automobile industry. The first public display of the new Model "A" in New York City necessitated a call for police reserves to handle the crowds. In fact, from the very first the new Ford has been a car that was bought rather than sold, and now, ten months after its appearance, the great factories are three months behind the rush of orders.

Because of the special attention required by the new model Ford at service stations and garages, as the stations handling products of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey are distributing this week a booklet entitled "Facts About Fords," outlining the differences between the Model "A" and Model "T" and describing in detail the correct lubrication of each. It is the first, and so far, the only book of its kind to be printed.

That the new Ford has had a far-reaching effect on the automobile industry, no one denies. But perhaps its most remarkable achievement is that it is not only satisfying the family of moderate means, but has made a place for itself in the garages of the rich.

GETS BOOK CHEAP

Johannesburg, South Africa.—In a local bookstall Martin Luther's original catechism of the ten commandments, dated 1532, was purchased for twenty-four cents. The purchaser has been offered $2,500 for it.

THE GOLDEN RULE

The Golden Rule, if lived by all,
Would make life fair indeed.
And men would realize, at last,
Life gave all they would need;
Then poverty and sin would flee
When men would do the right,
And have the conscience guided by The Heavenly Father's light.

A world of blissful happiness
Would soon be realized,
And rights of others than ourselves
Would, by mankind, be prized.
The rule of love would soon transform
The world to one of bliss;
Then why should we, through selfishness,
Life's greatest pleasures, miss.

BETTER SHOWS AT WALT WHITMAN

Super Sound Pictures First Three Days; Vaudeville Last Three

Beginning Monday, November 5, the Walt Whitman Theatre will start a new plan of operation that brings to the patrons the very best in the latest screen attractions at all times, and a real high class of vaudeville such as is only found in the finest theatres in the theatrical firmament.

This announcement has been held off pending the completion of the new Westfield Avenue-Burlington Pike improvement, which makes this highway the most modern, newest and finest boulevard in Jersey. Ideal automobile highways are now available in all directions leading to the theatre.

The management has had the plan under consideration for many months and only awaited the completion of the new improvement to announce the plans for this season.

The program calls for super-feature sight and sound pictures on the first three days of each week, and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday there will always be a high class program of star vaudeville acts.

The opening program is typical of what the patrons may expect any week from now on.

"Four Sons" Coming

For instance on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

It is safe to say that there will be no adverse comment on the actions of German officer characters in Fox Films "Four Sons" when it appears on the screen of this theatre. And for good reason. Every man appearing in these interpretations is a former member of the Germany army.

Following Director John Ford's stay in Europe, during which time he spent several months in Germany, it was decided that only ex-solders would be considered for these highly important atmospheric bits.

Numbered among those players is His Royal Highness, Archduke Leopold of Austria, whose first screen appearance is made in the new Ford production, and Captain Carl von Haartman, former member of the German Air Service.

Von Stomm, Villain

In the important roles are Margaret Mann, who plays the stellar role of the grandmother, and Earle Foxe, noted screen comedian, who hurls his comic mask to the winds in his characterization of Von Stomm, villain extraordinary.

Francis X. Bushman, Jr., George Meeker, Charles Morton and James Hall essay the roles of Grandmother Bernle's four sons, around whom most of the dramatic action revolves.

August Tollaire, Albert Gran, Hughie Mack and Michael Mark are cast in pivotal character roles, while June Collyer plays the feminine lead.

There will be a big surrounding program of Vitaphone acts and musical features.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday brings a wonderful program of moving pictures and vaudeville.

Frank Mayo in Person

Heading the list of vaudeville attractions is the celebrated screen star direct from the studios of Hollywood, Frank Mayo.

Mr. Mayo is one of screenland's outstanding personalities and enjoys an international reputation as an actor, not only on the screen but also on the speaking stage as well. The presence of this famous screen actor is an event of importance, theatrically, to the people of New Jersey. He brings a comedy sketch by that foremost playwright, Eugene Conrad. The sketch is brimful of laughs and is one of the entertaining features of the season.

Assisting Frank Mayo is Miss Marguerite, a young lady of many accomplishments. There will be four other acts of equal importance and a rare treat in entertainment is promised in this the inaugural bill of the new Vaudeville policy.

The screen attraction for this occasion will be "Forgotten Faces," a dramatic masterpiece, with Clive Brook, Mary Brian, Baclanova and William Powell.

"Forgoten Faces" is one of the season's big dramatic photoplays, produced by Paramount, and is a fitting picture to celebrate the beginning of the new era at the Walt Whitman Theatre.

Election Returns will be announced from the stage on Tuesday evening, November 6th.

County Registration Shows Big Increase

Burlington County has nearly 7,000 more voters registered this year than there were in the last Presidential election, 1924. Figures for the county show 49,973 voters registered, while in 1924 there were 43,124 men and women entitled to cast their ballots.

This increase is said by county leaders to be due both to the unusual interest in the Presidential election and to the organized efforts of the many Republican and Democratic clubs in the various county towns to get out the vote.

Election officials are preparing to care for an unusual congestion at the polls on election day. It is probable that it will be necessary to create new election districts next year in several districts.

JERSEY HAS MODEL LAW

Considering New Jersey's law governing the erection, repair and maintenance of dams as very complete, the State of California is using it as a model and enlisting the co-operation of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development in framing a law intended to give California complete supervision over the construction and maintenance of dams in that state and to prevent a repetition of destruction of life and property such as was caused by the failure of the Saint Francis dam, near Saugus, on March 12.

BURLINGTON Y. W. TO HOLD BANQUET

Annual Meeting Will Take Place Nov. 8; Other County Activities

The annual meeting of the Burlington City Y. W. C. A. will be held Thursday, November 8th, 6.30 P. M., at the Broad Street Methodist Church. The banquet will be served by the ladies of the church, with Mrs. R. G. Dunn as chairman.

The speaker for the evening will be Miss Margaret Slattery, of Boston, Mass. Tickets may be secured at the county office, Mt. Holly, or from Mrs. George Rigg, Locust street, Burlington.

Senior Club

Business girls from all sections of Burlington County gathered at the Y. W. C. A. club house in Burlington for the second annual Nation-Wide Banquet for Business Girls on Tuesday evening, October 23. The rooms were most attractive in autumn decorations. Between courses Miss Reba Troxell, of Burlington, led the group in singing. Miss Helen Jones, president of the County Council of Business Girls, presided. Greetings were received from several associations and Miss Flora Cassidy read a message from the president of the National Council, Miss Elsie West.

The address of the evening was given by Miss Mary Sullivan, of the Friends' Service Bureau of Philadelphia. She spoke of the place of women in the effort to bring about world peace and gave many interesting bits from her experience at the World's Youth Conference in Holland last summer.

The Senior Club Committee met Friday afternoon at the home of the committee chairman, Mrs. Henry Albertson, near Burlington. Miss Eleanor Colt, from the Industrial Department of the National Board, was present and plans for the year were outlined. Members of the committee are: Miss Margaret Haines, of Burlington; Miss Mildred Purnell, of Mt. Holly; Mrs. William Matlack and Miss Margaret Jones, of Moorestown; Miss Sallie Bumner and Miss Sidonie Schafer of the County Y. W. C. A.

Girl Reserves

Mrs. H. F. Stockwell, Jr., new adviser of the Moorestown Junior High Girl Reserves, met with the club for the first time Tuesday, October 30. A hike is planned for Friday. This club is being entirely reorganized with new girls, as most of the former members have entered high school and are now eligible to membership in the new Freshman Club.

The Riverton Colored Girl Reserves are quite proud of the club room which their adviser, Mrs. E. J. Young, has given them in the basement of her home. The girls have worked hard making curtains, arranging posters and furnishing the room in such a way as to make it very attractive. The first meeting held there was on Wednesday, October 24, for the purpose of installing the officers of the club. Miss Dorothy Gebhart, Girl Reserve Secretary, led the installation service.

A new Girl Reserve club is being organized Saturday, November 3, by the Marlton colored girls. A group of the girls met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Robinson to discuss plans for the club. Mrs. Prout will be the adviser.

AUTHORIZE WALKS IN DELAWARE TWP.

Delaware township committee, at a meeting in Ellisburg last week, passed an ordinance on first reading authorizing the laying of curbs, sidewalks and gutters on the south side of Church road between Barlow and Linderman avenue. An appropriation of $1,000 for the work is included in the bill on which a public hearing was held on October 29.

The Church Road Civic Association requested that the intersection of Church road, at Chestnut street, be graded to eliminate a 12-inch gully and several holes left there by a contractor who recently finished paving at that point.

A communication received from the Public Utilities Commission requested the committee to have a representative at the meeting of the Commission on October 29, at which time consideration was given to a request of the Church Road Bus Company to extend their service to operate over Mill road between Church and Fellowship roads. The company also has petitioned for permission to change its operating schedule.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

CHRIST CHURCH
(Episcopal)
PALMYRA

Rev. George J. McCormack, Rector.

The festival of All Saints dates from very early times, being specially set apart by Pope Gregory IV in the year 834.

In some quarters the habit has arisen of emphasizing the existence of a spirit world apart from any Christian significance, and so it happens that to many Hallowe'en is nothing more than a weird travesty of ghosts, hobgoblins, etc.

It is all to the good to emphasize the fact of an unseen world and the only regret is that the wonderfully helpful aspect of it should have become for some just a celebration, with nothing of the glorious hope of immortality which the Festival reminds us of.

Now don't run away with the silly idea that I am not a lover of the fun and joy of the November feast, for I shall be there and very much there, because of the glorious hope of life after this pilgrimage.

"O may thy soldiers, faithful, true and bold,
Fight as the Saints who nobly fought of old,
And win with them the Victor's crown of gold."

The Girls' Friendly Bazaar was very successful, the proceeds being over two hundred dollars. The thanks of all who helped are hereby offered, the splendid total enabling the Society to carry on the good work.

The clergy and choirs of Burlington County will meet for the annual choral festival at Christ Church, Riverton, Wednesday evening, November 7th, at 8 o'clock. The preacher will be Bishop Matthews.

The Guild of St. Agnes will have the regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, November 5th, at 8 P. M. The president, Mrs. Day, extends a cordial invitation to membership.

There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion on Sunday morning at 10.30 o'clock. We are stressing church attendance for the young people and hope for a good response at both services.

Services for Festival of All Saints
Holy Communion and Sermon—10.30 A. M. "A Cloud of Witnesses."
Sunday School—2.30 P. M.
Evensong and Sermon—8.00 P. M. "The Blessing of Heaven."

"O death and judgment,
Heaven and Hell,
Who oft doth think
Must needs die well."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Sunday School at ten sharp in the morning. The Junior Department meets in the auditorium instead of the basement, as formerly. Each student will occupy the place assigned to him last Sunday. The new arrangement is proving very satisfactory to all, and it will continue to meet with increasing favor as the new songs are learned and the new adjustments become more familiar. Much credit is due to Supt. Warren Smith and Supt. of Junior Department Houston Ingram, and all others for the conduct of the exercises last Sunday morning. Surely the School will follow splendid suggestion made by Mr. N. H. Schiver, that each member of our School should work for the goal of two hundred present every Sunday.

Divine worship at 11.15 in the morning and 7.45 in the evening. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Lee Mitton, will render anthems and the pastor will preach at both services. The blessing of these services depends upon the number there. If you stay away you work for the defeat of Jesus Christ in building up the kingdom here. Let us show our faithfulness to Him by a constant attendance at the services in our church. It is so little for God to ask, yet it means so much.

Luther League at 6.45 Sunday evening, with topic: "In What Ways Do We Waste Our Time?" Free and general discussion is urged at this meeting.

Junior Luther League is being conducted regularly by Miss Rebekah G. Buchholz on Saturday afternoons at three o'clock. Children from eight to fourteen are urgently requested to be present at these meetings.

Th Ladies' Aid Society will serve a chicken and waffle supper Friday evening, November 16th, from six to eight o'clock. All who live in our vicinity should avail themselves of the privilege of a splendid meal without trouble to the lady of the house, and little, if any, above the cost of what it would take to get one at home. The relaxation from the routine of meal-getting will be highly appreciated by every wife.

This organization will also conduct a cake sale and the annual bazaar on the same evening. Many splendid bargains are offered.

On Sunday morning, November 25, we hold a "Thanksgiving Service of Music." Under leadership of Mr. Mitton an elaborate and varied program of praise and thanksgiving by our choir. This in no way infringes upon the Union Thanksgiving Day service, held in the morning of November 29th, at which time a sermon will be preached by one of the pastors of the town.

Every-Member Canvass will be conducted on the afternoon of November 26th.

Calvary Presbyterian

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship Sunday at 11 o'clock; evening service at 8 o'clock. The evening service will be preceded by a service of worship by music by the organist, Robert M. Martin. The pastor will preach at both morning and evening services. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 o'clock. Christian Endeavor Society meets in the Church School auditorium at 7 o'clock.

The Golden Hour Circle will hold its annual Bazaar and Supper next Friday evening, November 9th.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet tomorrow evening in the church parlor at 8 o'clock.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet in the Church School Auditorium Wednesday, November 7th, at 2.30 o'clock, and the Women's Missionary Society will meet at 3 o'clock.

Mid-week service in the Church School Auditorium at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening.

There will be a meeting of the congregation of Calvary Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, November 7th, after the Mid-week Service, to take action on a memorial window and any other business which may come before the meeting. By order of the Board of Trustees,

S. L. W. FIELDS,

FIRE AT BEED'S

Friday evening of last week, about ten o'clock, the Riverton Fire Company answered a call to George A. Reed's, Second and Main streets.

A lighted cigarette left on a chair started the blaze, which was very quickly and efficiently extinguished with the hand extinguishers. The chair was ruined and a small hole burned in the floor, but the total damaged was considered slight.

Chief Armstrong said, "The boys worked quickly and sensibly like a highly trained company of firemen and deserve a lot of credit for their promptness in answering the call and their judgment in fighting the blaze."

MANY "ODD" FELLOWS AT MASKED FROLIC

Ladies' Auxiliary Stage a Very Unique Party For Cinnaminson Lodge

A Japanese student coming to this country in quest of mastering the English language, was making rapid progress until he came across the sentence—"He gave that one the one one-dollar prize that he won." No less confusing was that of trying to figure out which witch was the witch which carried the switch in the masquerade party tendered the members of Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 201, I. O. O. F. last Friday evening.

However, there were many and varied representations from almost every country in the world, all contributing to the social success and merriment of the evening.

But with all the foreign element present, the judges, in presenting the prizes for the most unique costumes, gave one to the typical and congenial Irish Cop, portrayed by Charles Bettinger, because he possessed such an honest face, which seemed devoid of "graft." The other was presented to "the lady of the eighteenth century," who looked so charming in her riding habit, was none other than Mrs. Milton Jewett. In thees days when riding habits are confined to the type used in automobiles, airplanes and the more recent one of the "Zep," it was quite unusual to see the lady in this most pleasing attire.

Following an eveging of the customary games that are appropriate for such an occasion, the guests feasted on pumpkin pie and the usual refreshments.

It is hoped by Degree Master Milton Jewett there could be as large an attendance of the members this Friday evening as last, in order that the Initiatory Degree could be put on in good form. Every member is urged to come out and take his part. It is the first of the Fall Season and it should be no less than the best. Be there early.

QUIGLEY SHOOTS MAD DOG

Monday morning a collie dog was running around Broad and Main streets frothing at the mouth, and Officer Quigley decided something should be done. The animal ran down Main street to McCombs, where Quigley shot it. The head was sent to Trenton for examination.

"There isn't a man living who can tell what Governor Smith's position is on the farm problem." That is what Senator Borah says, and he is right.

CUGLIOTTA—BONASTO

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Italian Catholic Church of Hammontown last Sunday afternoon when Jacob Cugliotta, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Cugliotta, of Palmyra, was united in marriage with Frances Bonasto, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonasto, of Hammonton.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the Mercuries Hall, Hammonton, at which over 500 guests were present, including many of the bridegroom's Palmyra friends.

The happy couple left immediately after the reception for a honeymoon trip, and will make their home at 117 East Broad street, Palmyra, upon their return.

Cugliotta is well known in this community and is proprietor of the Superior Barber Shop at the East Broad street address.

MASONS TO CELEBRATE 125TH ANNIVERSARY

The one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary banquet of the Mount Holly Lodge of Masons is to be held at the First Methodist Church on Friday evening, November 16, on which occasion the speakers of the evening will be Deputy Grand Master Benjamin F. Havens, of Trenton, and Past Grand Master Howard L. Cruse, of Newark. Other grand lodge officers are expected to be present. The Adelphi Quartet, of Philadelphia, will furnish a diversified program of vocal music, and it has been announced that there will be no session of the lodge, the evening being given over to the century and a quarter birthday celebration.

MEDFORD SCHOOL PLANS MEMORIAL

Seek to Beautiful Grounds as Tribute to Memory of Milton H. Allen

At the October meeting of the Medford Parent-Teacher Association, plans were inaugurated for beautifying the plots directly in front of the new school building.

It is now the hope of the Association to make these garden spots into everlasting flower beds of our finest perennials and bulbous plants, also to lay out the grounds and plant whatever trees and shrubbery are necessary to make our school grounds the pride of Medford, and as beautiful as any in our state.

"What finer tribute to the memory of the beloved Milton H. Allen, could friends and pupils offer than to share in this memorial? We can think of none, for his very life was a symbol of love and beauty," said an officer of the association.

A statement says, "In an early issue of this and other county papers, the entire landscape scheme will be definitely mapped out and the privilege of organizations and individuals to take part in this work will be completely outlined. Watch for it. The school children too are to have a share in the project.

WHY AMERICA TRUSTS THE AMERICAN LEGION

The reply to an article in the June 21, 1928, issue of the Christian Century by Richard Hartshorne, recent vice-commander, department of New Jersey American Legion, follows:

Recently your magazine (Christian Century) carried an article entitled "Can We Trust the American Legion?" This article ends, "Do not, however, expect too much from us who were the chief victims of the world's madness." The self-appointed apologist (for himself among the rest) who wrote this article, will doubtless receive the thanks of the Vice-President of the United States, of the many United States Senators and Congressmen, Governors of States, members of the judiciary, prominent business executives, and the thousands of other outstanding citizens, whom he thus classes as mentally unstable. Doubtless such writer is entirely unacquainted with the published fact that several American Legion Posts have so far recovered from their alleged war psychosis as to have entertained at their Post gatherings, not merely German citizens, but German service men, who actually fought against their very hosts. This, the writer personally knows to have been done by New Jersey Posts of the American Legion.

Replies to "Facts"

But what is alleged as the basis for the astounding conclusion of the above article? Two alleged "facts," and two alone are cited. "First, the large number of worthy ex-service men who hold aloof on principle from the typical Legion program; second, the growing concern of many loyal Legionnaires about the undeniable facts which cause writers in the public press to put the Legion in the same category with the Klu Klux Klan." Interesting, if true. The point is, these "undeniable facts" are not facts. Never yet has the writer, who has contact with veterans throughout the State of New Jersey, found a single ex-service man who remains out of the American Legion on principle. Of course, many ex-service men do stay out of the American Legion—but not on principle. They stay out simply because they do not know what the American Legion is, and what it is doing. They are too busy with their own affairs to find out. Let us give a specific example. A month ago the writer was asked to speak on the American Legion at his class reunion at Princeton. When he had finished the president of his class expressed the greatest surprise, saying: "I had no idea what the American Legion was doing in this country. I thought you just talked about wars and rumors of wars." Such is in fact the casual thought of many Americans as to the American Legion. But that this lack of knowledge is being gradually eliminated, that the worthy ex-service men of America are not staying out of the Legion on principle, but are coming in on principle, is proven by the record fact that for the last five years the Legion has been steadily increasing in membership each year.

Work of Mencken

As for the second of the alleged "undeniable" facts—the classing of the American Legion with the Klu Klux Klan, reference is undoubtedly made to one Hugo Mencken, and his ilk. Suffice this to say, that an attack by Hugo Mencken, the American Legion considers as a compliment. We are perfectly confident that here at least the common sense of the American people will back the American Legion. The undeniable facts, upon which the writer in question thus bases his astounding psychological conclusions prove to be mere myths. With them there vanishes into thin air the conclusions themselves.

But, after all, the American people is interested, not in what wrong conclusions may have been reached about the American Legion, but in what right conclusions should be reached about this great organization. What is the Legion? What has it done to entitle it to the trust and confidence of the American people?

Last winter the nation, from Maine to California, from Michigan to Louisiana, was confronted with billboards, bearing the slogan, "The American Legion—In Peace as in War, We Serve." The Outdoor Advertising Association of America chose the American Legion and presented it with this nationwide advertising, absolutely free, in recognition of the splendid ideals and the equally splendid accomplishments of this organization, whose motto is, "In Peace As in War, We Serve." How then has it translated, and is it translating these ideals into action. For "By their fruits ye shall know them."

Fulfilled First Obligation

Naturally, the first service which the Legion undertook was the fulfillment of its obligation to its disabled comrades and to the children of its former comrades who had made the supreme sacrifice. To find out whether or not the Legion has efficiently and honorably translated this ideal into action, one need simply inquire of the Federal Veterans' Bureau in Washington. It is an admited fact that there it is due to the Legion more than to any other single agency, that our disabled men are now being cared for in Federal hospitals, that compensation is being paid to those who can never be cured, that rehabilitation work is in progress for those whose condition may be improved. So much for one type of Legion service.

Again, the American Legion has directly undertaken to serve the literally thousands of communities in which its Posts are located. There is hardly a Post which cannot instance at least one concrete example of service which it has rendered to its own community, whether such be in the purchase and maintenance of up-to-date ambulances in communities where injured persons must be transported to distant hospitals; in the creation of playground or swimming pools for children of the more densely populated districts; in the erection of both useful and beautiful war memorials; or in any of the literally thousands of ways, a mere list of which would fill several printed pages. This is, of course, without regard to the fact that wherever there has ben a natural catastrophe in the way of a fire, flood, or tornado, the Legion has been actively at work in the front line, rendering first aid. For its Mississippi Flood Relief, for instance, it was publicly thanked both by Mr. Herbert Hoover, who was in charge of the relief work, and by President Coolidge. So much for this branch of Legion service.

World Peace

Again, we take the liberty of predicting that the work of the American Legion in obtaining World Peace will shortly attract national, if not international, attention. Those who have experienced the horrors of war, who have seen their comrades shattered or suffocated at their side, naturally hate war, and long for peace, at least as sincerely as the parlor pacifist. It is axiomatic that "Those who know war best, hate it worst." What then is the peace program of the American Legion, composed of those men who know war best and thoroughly hate it with every fibre of their being?

The sound permanent cure for war must search out and destroy the cause of war. Nations are but aggregations of individuals. They have similar needs and aspirations. They have similar understandings and misunderstandings. Misunderstandings between individuals cause strife, an individual crime. Misunderstanding between nations cause war, the greatest crime known to humanity. The cure for international misunderstanding is an understanding between the nations. Mere machinery cannot insure peace. It is the individual which makes the machinery move. The machinery is useful to do the work, but the individual must move it, must direct it. Hence, to end war, the leaders of the nations must come to an understanding of each other's needs and aspirations. International understanding among the leaders of the nations can be acquired through international education. Short, halting steps have been taken along this line for some years past, but no one had apparently realized the world-wide significance of these steps until such was suggested by the American Legion, through its National Chaplain, Gill Robb Wilson.

International Understanding

International education can now be obtained on a world scale, by funds which the United States has, funds which it has received, and which it is receiving as a result of the war which was to end all wars. The United States is today in receipt of many millions of dollars, and will, ultimately be in receipt of twelve billions (not millions) of dollars, as war debt payments. If nine-tenths of this amount were put in the United States Treasury, and if one-tenth, which will never be missed, is devoted to create international education, we will do two things: First, we will eliminate the unfortunate talk which we hear in many quarters, whether false or not is unimportant, of Uncle Sam having become Uncle Shylock; second, we will take the product of war and devote it to the wiping out of war from the earth, by the creation of international understanding. If this sum of one billion dollars is used, literally thousands of students, the future leaders of America, will be educated in all the other civilized countries of the world; literally thousands of students from each of the other civilized countries of the world will be educated in America. Thus, each nation will come to understand the needs and aspirations of the other. Thus, an international understanding will be created which will make a future war impossible, which will make the brotherhood of man become the reality long ought for throughout the ages.

Nor is the Legion satisfied to merely suggest this program for action by the American Nation. It believes in action. It has, accordingly, agreed to itself create several of these international scholarships, in the hope that its example may prove the worth of its program, and many inspire the nation to really make it effective.

Not Reached Millennium

But though this program is being actively proposed, it must be remembered that it is yet only in the experimental stage, and that even when it is fully in motion, it will be a matter of years before the leaders of the world will have gained the requisite understanding necessary to insure peace. Meanwhile, it must also be remembered that history from the beginning of time has been largely measured by wars. That we have not yet reached the millennium, that the world is not yet peopled with angels. Such being the cold facts, we must not be like the ostrich, bury our heads in the sand; and so seeing and hearing no war, delude ourselves with the fancy that the millennium has—"presto"—arrived. If such were the fact, then indeed all armaments should be at once abolished, as our superpacifist friends today urge. But to do this now would be similar to the action of a city which, because it did not believe in crime, abolished its police force over night. The consequences need not be dwelt on.

Such being the facts, those who hope for peace with all their hearts and souls, must yet retain their police force as a protection against this greatest of crimes. True, this police force should be pared down to that minimum which is essential to adequately protect this, the wealthiest nation on earth, from the criminal greed of other nations. The further facts should be known, that the regular army of the United States can well nigh be seated in the Yale bowl, and that our navy and marine force can be seated in the Chicago stadium. The above, in brief, is the basis of the program of the American Legion on national preparedness—such preparedness, and only such, as will adequately safeguard America.

March for Peace

In fact, the Legion believes that this program, far from being militaristic, is in fact a milestone on the march for peace. Bear in mind that history shows the primary cause of war to be international greed. Bear in mind that America is the wealthiest nation on the face of the earth, the richest prize to be plucked by international greed. If, then, America leaves itself absolutely unprotected, a plum ripe for the plucking, such unpreparedness will merely excite the greedy and warlike ambitions of other nations. In other words, disarmament invites invasion. On the contrary, until the world reaches that peaceful accord for which we all pray, national preparedness, rationally limited, is in fact a war preventative.

Such are, in short, the ideals for which the American Legion stand; such are but a few of the ways in which this great organization of men and women, who served the nation in the past, are striving to translate their ideals into action, to serve the American people today. That is why America Trusts the American Legion.

PALMYRA RALLY WELL ATTENDED

for Freeholders; Dr. Marcus W. Newcomb, candidate for Assemblyman; Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, State Committeewoman, and Mrs. Pearl Bridegum, Vice-Chairman of the County Committee.

Emmor Roberts Speaks

The first speaker introduced was ex-Senator Emmor Roberts, who made a stirring appeal on behalf of the Republican ticket in which he discussed the tariff, prohibition and the farmer.

Roberts declared that both Smith and Robinson had always been against a protective tariff until the present campaign, when they have both been trying to make the voters think they were in favor of it. He pointed out the advantage of having any changes made by the friends of the tariff rather than its enemies.

As to prohibition he cited the fact that Smith had always been against prohibition, while Robinson favored it very strongly. Now Robinson is also against it. Roberts cited the same thought here as he did in speaking of the tariff, saying he believed it better to leave any change in the hands of its friends.

Farmers Don't Like Smith

He ridiculed Smith's claim of being the farmer's friend, when he stated that Smith had never done anything for the farmers as Governor of New York. He cited the fact that the farmers had always voted against the New York Governor and that he owed his election to the city voters.

State Senator Clifford R. Powell, the next speaker on the program, made a splendid plea for party harmony, telling how he and Roberts, political enemies within the party, were now sitting side by side on the same platform, working together for the success of the party ticket.

He went on to say there always had been and always would be contests within the party, because it was not controlled by a "boss," but by the people, and who made their choice in the primary and then supported the candidate of the majority.

COLORED RALLY WELL ATTENDED

Republican Voters Stage Big Meeting in Riverton School

A Republican rally for the colored voters of Riverton, Cinnaminson and vicinity was held in the auditorium of the Riverton public school Friday evening. The meeting was preceded by a large parade.

The principal speaker was the Rev. R. A. Jackson, of the Chapel of The Atonement, Lawnside, N. J.

He spoke of Herbert Hoover as being trained, both in the school of experience and in college, through which he worked his way. Dr. Jackson said that while he appreciated men who have come up from low environments, this fact should not be used to ingratiate themselves—we want real scholars and leaders to represent us.

Regarding prohibition the speaker said we need it—and then more prohibition. We are all enjoying more prosperity than in wet times. But here Dr. Jackson dismissed the question of prohibition and religion and said he would discuss national and local politics.

Curtis An American

He said he felt Senator Curtis was doubly American, having in his veins the blood of the first Americans, and that he believed Mr. Curtis would make a suitable president in case of necessity.

Hamilton F. Kean, who is running for United States Senator, has given largely for years to the training of the colored. He has occupied many important positions and deserves the honor of Senator.

Many promises have been made to the colored people by the Democrats that are not true. The speaker said that a vote for Governor Smith would throw the colored people back 30 years. The bills in Congress for the safety of the colored man have been killed by the Democrats.

Colored Man's Friend

The Republican party was born in the crisis which gave the colored man citizenship.

Herbert Hover has always been a staunch champion of human rights and in 1927 stood steadfastly against discrimination against the half million colored refugees in the Mississippi Valley.

Ninety per cent. of the lynchings occur in the southern states, which have always been Democratic, and with solemn emphasis the speaker said, "If Robinson should become President, you know what that means for folks that look like you and I."

He said the colored people were satisfied in America and had no desire to return to Africa. That the crux between the colored and white is the lack on the part of some white people to give the colored social justice and the chance to work out their soul's salvation.

Regarding tariff Dr. Jackson said that in America the colored man got a man's wage and we needed a protective tariff to insure that. He expressed the opinion that Democrats don't mean any good to the colored people and what good they hope to get will come through the Republican party; that he wanted his hearers to work as negro citizens in the United States for the best interests of negro citizens.

Vote the Whole Ticket

Dr. Jackson went through the whole Republican ticket, urging that the ticket be voted from Herbert Hoover at the head down to the local offices.

Ex-Sheriff Flagg followed with a short talk, commending Dr. Jackson and urging the audience to follow the advice already given. He asked that every citizen consider carefully the two candidates and then vote for the one best fitted. In stressing the importance of the tariff Mr. Flagg read a list of figures showing the superior conditions of the American working man to that of any other country.

Rev. Seymour Barker, pastor of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church, urged his hearers to give due consideration to the quetions before them and then vote intelligently.

"Liquor," he said, "is a moral issue—don't delude ourselves." If any law regarding it must be changed, have someone in the White House who is in favor of decent living, rather than one with ideas of non-enforcement. In his work, he said, the curse of liquor was daily brought to his attention.

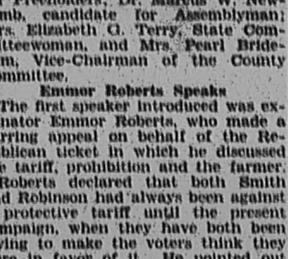

Mr. Barker said he was not satisfied with some Republican conditions, but why jump out of the frying-pan into the fire. If our house leaks it is better to remain at home and patch the loose places. Strive by devotion and courage to make the wrong right. He said some complained of the segregation in Washington. Under the Democrats he believed there would be no segregation, because the colored man would be removed and the job given to white men.

The meeting was presided over by Howard Conwell.

The music was furnished by the Merchantville Community Band.

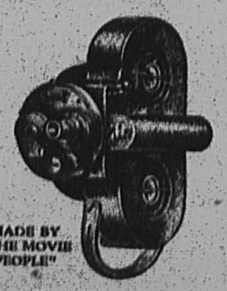

Don't fail to read the unusual election advertisement on page 12.

"THE LEAST OF THESE"

Herbert Hoover's appeal to popular imagination is doing more to assure his election than the efforts of any group or organization, political or otherwise. Men and women consider him properly fitted for the Presidency of the United States because he has done big things in the way they like to see them handled. His political identity means all the Republican organization and its years of service can contribute towards his support, but that Herbert Hoover is himself is what is making votes for him by the million.

Herbert Hoover has the confidence of the people since he is not the type of candidate who must say what he will do if elected. In contrast, he is of the type who can point to what he has already done as a reason for accepting the nomination. With him it is past performance, duty done, not pledges and promises. Welfare work, relieving the oppressed, which he has been doing for years, not his political identity, won a home for him in the human heart. Under our form of government, which is the world's best, we must have political organizations, but Herbert Hoover is among those upon whom an organization can lean rather than a candidate who must lean upon the organization.

People have given their imagination ample play on Herbert Hoover. Men accept him as broad-minded and broad-shouldered. They empleture him as a man who has the courage and character to do the things and who is not afraid of anybody. Women look upon him as clear-minded and conscientious in his determination to protect the American home as a sanctuary, to raise the standards of living and to help the boys and girls and the whole family.

As to the politics of Herbert Hoover, aside from the party workers, only an unappreciable few think much about that. The Hoover strength lies in the breasts of those who believe he is a good man and will do good things and who knows what should be done for the people's good. So, in this campaign, figuring it all out, with his personal character to inspire his capacity to get results, and his courage to act, really, politics is "the least of these."

HOOVER'S NON-POLITICAL SUPPORT

One of the unusual factors in this campaign is the tremendous non-political support which Herbert Hoover is receiving without solicitation. New evidences of that support are seen every day, and political writers are predicting that it will be the most extraordinary factor of the entire contest.

This non-political support seems in its essence to be a tribute to the humanitarian efforts of the Republican nominee. It is proferred in return for his direction of the feeding of destitute war victims, for his advocacy of better working conditions in industry, for the active part he has played in the drive for national endowment for pure science research, for his organization and leadership of the National Child Health Association, and for his numerous other non-partisan efforts.

Voters who base their preference for Hoover on his personal record are largely of the type who never warm up to the "purely political" type of candidate. While their influence in political circles is unimportant, it is quite the opposite in the numerous organizations for promotion of welfare and industrial advancement to which they belong.

Among the enthusiastic workers for Hoover and Curtis in every section of the country are included dozens who have previously served with Mr. Hoover in some of his numerous relief activities. The conclusion drawn from this situation by political observers is that Herbert Hoover is destined to become the greatest smasher of party lines this country has seen in many a day.

NO OIL SHORTAGE

There is enough gasoline in the world to last at least 3,000 years, said Dr. Gustave Egloff, a Chicago scientist, recently.

Dr. Egloff stated that there are today 1,100,000,000 acres of possible oil lands in the United States alone. The potential oil areas in other parts of the world are sufficient to produce over 100,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil.

The "cracking" process, which is being used to produce more than 5,000,000 gallons of gasoline yearly from petroleum oils, could be used on present by-products and oil shales, as well as to increase the amount of gasoline production when necessary.

Another encouraging sign is the determined effort being made by the industry to conserve oil resources and curb over-production. Co-operation among producers will assure us a supply that will meet adequately the demand at a stable price.

Those who criticise use of our natural resources on the ground that they will be quickly exhausted, have no support in the scientific facts.

THE WOMEN AND THE VOTE

There are in this country 26,000,000 women voters. That is enough to turn any national election—Coolidge in 1924 had 15,000,000 votes, Davis 8,000,000, La Follette 4,000,000—so that woman power concentrated and energized at the polls can be practically supreme. Mr. Curtis made a special appeal to the women in his speech accepting the vice-presidential nomination.

The vote of the women, comparatively small in 1920 and not sharply defined in 1924, should be a powerful factor this year. With whom will they align themselves?

Mr. Smith's major appeal for support is based upon his determination to modify the Volstead Act and bring about an alteration of the 18th Amendment. Freer flowing booch of stouter composition may be the logical need of this republic, but its restoration to the national bill of fare is hardly a program likely to capture the feminine imaginanation. The liquor issue is primarily masculine.

On the other hand, Mr. Hoover's marvelous record—mothers and babies saved in Belgium, the homeless and starving helped in the Mississippi Valley, good housekeeping in the Department of Commerce—should prove attractive. The efficiency of which Mr. Hoover is a proven master makes for a fuller, freer, happier domestic life.

Nobody has a complete knowledge of feminine psychology. But 26,000,000 women can't be wrong.

THE EDITORS POINT THE WAY

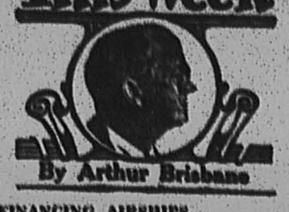

One very sure indication of the number of Democratic and independent voters who are swinging their support to Hoover and Curtis this year is to be found in the support of the Republican candidates by 86 newspapers having editorial policies either pronouncedly Democratic or independent.

There would be scant significance in a pro-Hoover declaration by an isolated Democratic newspaper here and there. But when 36 editors in Kentucky alone decide to give their full editorial support to the Republican nominee, despite the fact that their sympathies are usually with the Democratic party or are reserved for the candidate whom they think best fitted for the office, their action points to a trend of sentiment.

Such a consistenly Democratic state as Alabama has 16 newspapers which have refused to support the candidate of the party whose doctrine they espouse, and are out and out for Hoover and Curtis. In Oklahoma the Democratic national ticket has lost the support of 8 such papers, and so it goes, until the total list includes newspapers located in 15 states.

FINANCING AIRSHIPS

OUR PROSPERITY

THE "BEST SPEAKEASIES

REMOVES OWN APPENDIX

Dr. Eckener and his fellow officers of the big Zeppelin hope American capital will interest itself in the building of five airships for trans-Atlantic flights.

A big New York bank is said to be interested.

All are interested in the development of aviation. Every useful new thing helps general prosperity. If we can't build the airships ourselves, the next best thing is to finance them.

Mr. Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., of General Motors, and his associates will sooner or later get into the airplane field.

McClintic, Marshall—a firm of Pittsburgh now constructing ready-made steel frames for houses—might well turn from steel to duralumin to build all-metal dirigibles and frames.

Great demand for automobiles, keeping all plants at capacity production, is one proof of prosperity.

The Northwest and Middle-West report good business.

If we were much more prosperous, we could hardly stand it. That is to say, some of us could hardly stand it. But it is not so with all, unfortunately.

In New York a man, fifty years old, having vainly sought a job open to gray hairs, tried to hang himself from a third-story window. He did not succeed in hanging himself, but fell and was killed.

Mr. Roy Howard looks before he leaps and decides not to leap, after having alcoholic drinks analyzed in many of New York's "best" speakeasies.

In eight "high grade" establishments his agents purchased liquors actually deadly. Only two or three places out of twenty-eight sold whiskies non-poisonous.

And they also were poisonous, since alcohol, as fools use it, is always a poison.

Something new in modern surgery. Dr. Robert Meals, young surgeon of Hollywood, thought that shock after surgical operation is caused by anaesthetics, not by the operation.

To test his theory he removed his own appendix, lying on the operating table propped up, asking the assistance of a brother surgeon only in locating the appendix and removing adhesions.

A fine display of self-control and "courage."

Local anaesthesia was employed, but could not prevent internal pain.

This operation again raises the question, "What IS courage?"

It reminds us that not long ago before anaesthetics were used, all operations were accompanied by terrible pain.

The clergy said it was a shame to use anaesthetics because it defeated the will of God, who desired his creatures to suffer. That opinion has been abandoned.

Japan will send to Brazil at least 1,000 colonists each year.

Nachiro Fukuhara, head of a $5,000,000 Japanese syndicate, will direct colonization in the rich state of Para, source of excellent rubber.

Already one city in Brazil is inhabited almost exclusively by Japanese.

The Japanese are kind to their children. No Japanese ever strikes a child. Consequently the children thrive and families are big.

Grandchildren of Americans now living may see an important branch of Asia established on the continent south of us.

That is the business of Brazil and Japan, not ours.

Mussolini says the Italian press is perfectly free, but it must not criticize Fascismo, or his policies. Newspapers MAY criticize his violin playing if they choose.

Mussolini remembers that Napoleon said, "My government could not last two weeks if I allowed liberty to the press."

Extraordinary are Mussolini's success and good judgment. He appears on the page of history, a cross between Mohammed and Marcus Aurelius, and, apart from his assertion that liberty is an unimportant word, we find little to criticize in his doings, remembering that if Italy had not had Mussolini it would have had anarchy.

A MIRACULOUS ESCAPE

Pelham Manor, N. Y.—Trapped in a closed limousine on the floor of the Hudson River, J. T. McDonald miraculously rescued his wife and himself. The McDonalds drove their car to a ferryboat at Tarrytown, to cross to Nyack.

Mrs. McDonald, who was driving, tried to halt the auto at the ferry's bow, but it drove ahead, crashed through the guard rail and plunged head down into the river. The limousine fortunately landed right side up at the river's bottom.

McDonald smashed one of the glass doors with an elbow, seized his wife and, thrusting through the broken window, swam with her to the surface.

Epigrams from Herbert Hoover's Acceptance Speech

"Every year wise governmental policies become more vital in ordinary life."

"We shall use words to convey our meaning, not to hide it."

"We have equipped nearly 8,000,000 more homes with electricity and through it drudgery has been lifted from the LIVES OF WOMEN."

"Nor have our people been selfish. They have met with a full hand the most sacred obligation of man—CHARITY."

"No guarantee against poverty equal to a JOB FOR EVERY MAN."

"MATERIAL PROSPERITY AND MORAL PROGRESS must march together if we would make the U. S. that commonwealth so grandly conceived by its founders."

"Size, wealth and power alone cannot fulfill the promise of AMERICA'S OPPORTUNITY."

"THE FARM IS MORE THAN A BUSINESS; IT IS A STATE OF LIVING."

"Every drop of water which runs to the sea without yielding its full economic service is a waste."

"Modification of the enforcement laws which would permit that which the Constitution forbids is NULLIFICATION."

"The test of business is not its size—the test is whether there is honest competition, whether there is freedom from domination, whether there is integrity and usefulness of purpose."

"Participation of women in politics means higher political standards."

"Dishonesty in government, whether national, state or municipal, is a double wrong. It is TREASON TO THE STATE."

"THE GREATNESS OF ANY NATION, ITS FREEDOM FROM POVERTY AND CRIME, ITS ASPIRATIONS AND IDEALS—ARE THE DIRECT QUOTIENT OF THE CARE OF ITS CHILDREN."

"The government that does not constantly seek to live up to the ideals of its young men and women falls short of what the American people have a right to expect and demand from it."

"OUR FOREIGN POLICY HAS ONE PRIMARY OBJECT, AND THAT IS PEACE."

"Our people have determined that we can give the greatest real help if we maintain our independence from the political exigencies of the old world."

"We know that in an armed world there is only one certain guarantee of freedom—and that is PREPAREDNESS FOR DEFENSE."

"EQUUALITY OF OPPORTUNITY is the right of every American—rich or poor, foreign or native-born, irrespective of faith or color."

"Our purpose is to build in this nation a human society, not an economic system. We wish to increase the efficiency and productivity of our country but ITS FINAL PURPOSE IS HAPPIER HOMES."

"The Presidency is more than an administrative office. It must be the SYMBOL OF AMERICAN IDEALS."

Dr. Frank Crane Says

War Anywhere Is Disastrous

President Coolidge delivered a message on Decoration Day of this year in which he pointed out the fact that no matter where a war might break out in the world it would be prejudicial to this country.

War is simply lawlessness and destruction and the commercial interests of the United States today are so widespread, our investments and trade relations are so far-reaching that it is almost impossible to conceive of any conflict anywhere on earth which would not affect us injuriously.

The President also stressed the fact that the United States is engaged in warfare only for the protection of American citizens. It is incumbent upon every nation to protect its own citizens.

Unfortunately the plan of Woodrow Wilson for a league of nations did not receive universal support. While this writer enthusiastically supported Mr. Wilson's idea he holds no brief for any one plan.

Equally to be approved are the efforts of Secretary of State Kellogg to conclude a treaty with European powers for the complete outlawry of war. Just so we arrive at a stage of civilization where war is not countenanced and glorified it makes no difference by what route we get there.

Mr. Coolidge also laid stress upon the best argument of the most intelligent pacifists, to wit, that "the chief defenses of America lie not in her armed forces but in the industry, prosperity and patriotism of her people; these are of far greater importance than preparedness."

The same day at Thiaucourt, France, General Pershing addressed an audience where he said that "millions of graves cry out against war, and the big nations must show the way to durable peace."

He continued that war threatened civilization because of the "fallacious theory that war is an essential element in the national policy of a government," that an erroneous belief that nations become great through aggressive undertakings.

General Pershing insisted that history disproves that the expansion of one modern civilized nation at the expense of the other can be permanent.

"There would appear to be no longer any reason," he said, "why the leading civilized powers could not agree among themselves to the general principle of the elimination of war as an avowed instrument of national policy."

It need not interfere with the necessities of reasonable armament, he said, "nor the fulfillment of consistent obligations."

The day is coming when public opinion, that final arbitor of destiny, will rapidly turn against war.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M.D.

"GLAND TREATMENT"

"Why don't you try gland therapy?" is heard so often now that a brief talk here may not be out of place. "Gland treatment" is not very new. The theory of it is, that when a certain gland, or set of glands, within the human body, become incapacitated from disease or over-use, we should at once restore them by administering to the patient, the substance of similar glands taken from the animals; this procedure, we are asured, will rapidly regenerate the broken-down human organism, and make it like new.

Therefore the quack! Upon his shelves stand rows of bottles with mysterious labels, and filled with button-sized discs of greyish color,—some of them are kidney, some ovary, some thyroid, some liver, some spleen, and so on—all good for the corresponding gland in the patient, so good, indeed, that gullible victims will gladly shell out from five to fifty dollars per "course" to the "great specialist" whose picture peering through a microscope, we see so often. Will some folks ever learn better?

A few glands—very few—are known by educated, experienced physicians, to be valuable, through their extracts, in treating certain ailments successfully. Some of these are utterly unknown to laymen, and, the advertising quack is fully as ignorant. The reader may well take this to heart. No "tablet" that is marketed to the public through commercial channels by advertising, is either worthy of faith or the perfectly good money it costs the purchaser. The field is a broad one—for the medical imposter. Don't be stung.

TRANSATLANTIC TELEPHONE SERVICE

With the recent extension of transatlantic telephone service to all of Belgium, the total interconnected telephones is over 30 million. This is more than 62 per cent of all the instruments in the world.

The modern American, who can talk to a friend or business associate in London, Brussels or elsewhere in Europe at a reasonable cost, is witnessing one of the newest miracles of progress.

The POLITICAL PARADE

By HARRY R. BLACKMON

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Herbert Hoover will be elected to the Presidency on November 6 with at least 50 electoral votes to spare, according to the almost unanimous opinion of news writers who have been making surverys of the entire country. The eastern states are said to be certain for him with one or two possible exceptions, the border states are leaning strongly toward him and several southern states in which Republican victory would be a tremendous upset are classed as uncertain territory. The west, as usual, will stand by the party which has contributed most of its development and the candidate which it produced.

Herbert Hoover, making a campaign which inspires confidence in his ability, is like wise fortunate in his friends. Two of these are Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, whose sturdy endorsements of the Republican nominee have set the country ringing and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon, who displayed that remarkable ability which will give him a place in history in replying to Governor Smith's misrepresentations about Republican economy.

It would hardly do, as Mr. Mellon points out, to have as presirent of the United States a man who openly admits that the fiscal reports of federal finances are a Chinese puzzle to him, as Gov. Smith did at Sedalia.

The millions who listened to the Boston speech of the Republican nominee by radio heard a definite, sound and well-informed discussion of the part to be played in the immediate progress of this nation by the tariff, foreign trade and the growing American merchant marine, all three of which Mr. Hoover understands intimately.

Governor Smith at Louisville, Ky., after leaving the country in doubt on his tariff position during most of the campaign, lashed out with an old-fashioned Democratic tirade against the Republican tariff.

One of the statements which he omitted was that which he made in the course of a tariff discussion at Madison Square Garden in 1924, as follows.

"What is the truth about the tariff? . . . The fact is that it is a cold blooded and deliberate hold-up of the whole American people in the interest of a few, who are only too well represented in Washington. Upon the theory that it will produce in revenue to the government $400,000,000, it exacts from the pockets of the people least able to bear it an annual tax of $400,000,000. The difference between these figures represents the profits of the special interests that had their affairs cared for in the writing of the schedules."

Money and promises are being used by the Democrats to lure the far mvote. George N. Peek, former Illinois implement manufacturer who placed himself at Governor Smith's disposal early in the campaign, has thus far received $303,037 for use in the agricultural states of the middle west, according to the reports made by the Democratic National Committee on expenditures. If Peek only had that much in 1919, he might have made greater headway in his effort to force down the price of farm products, which Herbert Hoover succeeded in keeping at their wartime levels until the farmers had received an adequate return from the crop they had grown to help win the war.

If money spent by the Democratic party in organizing the farmers of the midwest for Governor Smith is no more effective than that used in the New York gubernatorial campaigns, it will have been wholly wasted. Of the 62 counties in the Empire state, the governor has never carried more than a single one of agricultural importance in any election.

Will Rogers Says—

The less a voter knows about you the longer he is liable to vote for you. I believe that these other two boys that are running for President would both have been better off if they had pulled a Coolidge and got down in their shell and not come out till the votes were counted.

If I was these boys I would kinder fight shy of a public Clinic. I believe if they had both stayed behind the microphone out of sight of any audience and shot it to 'em at long range, they would have been better off.

This thing of meeting your hero and getting acquainted with him is awful liable to make you start hunting another hero. Al and Herb have both done things which are on the record and I believe I would let folks look over the record instead of the patient.

As the presidential candidate of the Anti-Bunk Party, I am going on the theory that it is better to read about a brown derby than it is to see one. When we know that a man has put the Nose Bag on Belgium and made us eat bran mash like a cow instead of bread, why we are going to look for a mighty commanding and magnetic personality.

I don't think I am betraying any national secret when I say that both of these boys are liable to get more votes if you can't see 'em. Campaigns have ruined more men than they have ever made.

Canada's Liquor Experiment a Failure

One of the biggest mistakes Governor Smith has made in his campaign for the Presidency was his advocacy of the Canadian method of handling liquor. He insisted that America should adopt the method of State sale of liquor such as is now in vogue in the Dominion to the north.

But investigation shows that, instead of promoting "temperance," which Governor Smith says he favors, the Canadian system which he commends is a breeder of drunkenness. Here are the fact about conditions in Canada, with the authority of the statements made:

Ontario Liquor Board: "Ontario is buying liquor at the rate of $1,000,000 a week."

Alberta Liquor Board: "In Alberta 4,000,000 gallons liquor sold in second year of 'control'."

Quebec Liquor Commission: "Sales of beer increased 1,000,000 gallons over last year."

Reports of the Seven Liquor Control Boards: "The seven provinces having 'Government control,' with a population of 10,000,000, spend $160,000,000 a year for liquor."

British Columbia Liquor Board: "Since the opening the beer parlors the sales of 'hard liquors' increased 50 per cent."

Quebec Liquor Commission, 1924-25: "Sales of hard spirits increased 32,275 gallons in one year."

Saskatchewan Liquor Board: "Alberta issued 60,000 permits the first year; two years later she issued 144,000 permits."

Ontario Liquor Board: "In Ontario 220,440 permits were issued in first four months."

Montreal Star: "Drunkenness among women increased 53 per cent."

Police Commissioner C. F. Burton of Manitoba: "If all the drunks were arrested there would be no room for them in the jails."

Saskatchewan Liquor Board: "Arrests for drunkenness increased 125 per cent. in first eight months."

Toronto Star: "All records for inebriates were broken today when 89 Labor Day celebrants faced Magistrate Cohen."

Alberta Liquor Board: "Our greatest problem is moonshine in the country districts."

Saskatchewan Liquor Board: "Bootlegging increased 111 per cent in first year."

British Columbia Liquor Board: "As much liquor is sold by bootleggers as is sold in the government stores."

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for November 4

World's Temperance Sunday

Romans 13:1-10, 13, 14

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

This quarterly Temperance Lesson comes on World's Temperance Sunday, just before the national election. Scientific temperance teaching is a part of the curriculum in the public schools in every state in the Union. By all these means the growing youth of every generation are taught that alcohol is a poison and should not be used for beverage purposes. Such education is a world matter, for right is absolute and not relative. The nations of the earth are looking to the U. S. A. to note the outcome of the greatest experiment in opposing the organized liquor traffic that has ever been tried in the world.

A quarter of a century ago temperance was a decidedly unpopular subject. Today it is about the biggest item of interest in the country.

This letter to the Romans was written from Corinth, a most licentious city, where liquor was used more freely to help the abandon in immoralities. Corinth was the playground for the Romans and there they sought to outdo the worst in the Imperial city. With all that in mind Paul calls attention to the high place that rulers should have in the estimation of the people. Their office was always to be respected for all power, in the last analysis, was derived from God. Taxes, though excessive, were not to be thought of as extortions, but as their just obligation in helping to provide for their own benefits as well as for the common good. If only they would purpose to keep the law they would have no ill will toward either the law or those who were enforcing it. They could think back to what Jesus had said: "Render unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

The law of God was held very definitely before them. Anything that tended to hurt their neighbor must be avoided. This is finely stated for every age in the injunction: "Owe no man anything, save to love one another." The very opposite of this is the result when any one makes use of alcohol as a beverage. Alcohol is inherently a poison and its reaction is uniform. Personal liberty ceases as an argument when our neighbor is hurt by what we give or sell him. Society is injured when one, claiming independence of action, causes damage or even danger to those who have a right to live in safety.

That part of the Ten Commandments which deals with neighborly relationships is brought in review. Then all is summarized in "Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." Having lived at least two years in Corinth on his previous missionary journey and now again for three months, Paul is necessarily familiar with causes of evil. From his sad experiences he tells them about conduct that is so hurtful as he says: "Let us walk becomingly, as in the day; not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and jealousy." The Corinthians had been making provision for the flesh not only to its destruction, but also the loss of spiritual life itself. Morals are improved, business advances, money saved, life protected just in proportion as alcoholic beverages are given up. The statistician continuously proves this. The development of the automobile industry is a good field of research for anyone who doubts these facts.

MINISTER VERBALLY ATTACKS MEMBERSHIP

Hot Shot Released Vitriolic Sermon in Mount Holly Church Is Highly Resented

Although the identity of the clergyman and his flock was not revealed, one of the Mount Holly papers last week said "storm clouds are hovering over one of the local churches this week as the direct result of unflattering references made to easily recognized members of his flock by the minister in his Sunday morning sermon."

"Some of the congregation," the story continued, "are highly incensed at what they term the clergyman's intemperate outbreak and his poor taste in choosing the pulpit from which to launch his tirade. Earlier in the week a request for higher salary, submitted by the minister, had been denied by the church officials because of their conviction that the church finances would not permit of heavier expenditures in that direction. This request followed a few weeks after the clergyman's absence of two months from his pastoral charge.

"No reference to this incident was made by the clergyman in his remarks on Sunday morning, when, after taking 'Smooth Words' as his text he launched into conditions within the church over which he and some officers of the parish had been at variance for some time. So vitriolic became the minister as he proceeded from his typewritten notes, that indignation is reported to have grown apace until when it became time to lift the collection two of those who usually perform that service, declined to do so, others taking their places.

"It is said that the clergyman, previous to his remarks on Sunday morning, had signified to high church authorities that he is open for a new field. 'North of the Equator and south of Canada.' There is talk of his early resignation but so far as known that did not originate with him."

ADVISES BUYING OF CRANBERRIES NOW

Now is the time to buy cranberries. This is the advice of Miss Marie Doermann, New Jersey extension specialist in foods, who calls attention to the fact that prices are lower than they will be during the holiday season. She suggests that this is the logical time to can cranberry sauce, and to make cranberry jelly, conserve, or marmalade.

"Cranberries deserve to be used more often because they are healthful, easy to prepare, require little time to cook, and are comparatively inexpensive," states the New Jersey specialist. "Traditions says cranberries must have a place in the Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners, but there is no reason why this colorful, tasty berry should not be served several times a week when it is in season.

"To make cranberry jelly, pick over and wash eight cups of berries and cook with three cups of water. When the berries are soft, strain the juice through a jelly bag. Measure the juice and heat to the boiling point, then add one cup of sugar for each two cups of juice. Stir until the sugar is dissolved and continue boiling until the liquid jells. After five minutes, make any of the common jelly tests.

"When finished, pour into sterilized glasses and seal with paraffin. This jelly may be used for tarts, jelly rolls, hot biscuits, waffles, griddle cakes, French toast, and in cranberry whip.

"Cranberry relish will be enjoyed with meat. Put four cups of cranberries through the meat grinder and mix with one cup of sugar. Let stand from 12 to 24 hours, stirring several times. Serve uncooked.

KILLED BY OWN GUN

Brooklyn, N. Y.—Harry Oswell, 22, accidentally shot and killed himself while duck hunting in a rowboat in Jamaica Bay. Both barrels of his gun were discharged in his breast when the trigger caught on an obstruction in the boat.

FAKE "GOLD RUSH"

Washington, D. C.—The report got abroad the workmen excavating for a garage had discovered an ancient barrel containing rare gold and a bottle of wine a century old. No wildfire ever traveled faster than this report.

It started with gold coins aggregating $20, which had increased to $21,000 before the curtain fell. Hundreds of curious spectators stood around the excavation while boys raked over the mud looking for the glistening coins. A barrel could be seen in the excavation, but all the treasure had evaporated.

The report was finally traced to a man in a nearby shop, who had told it to a colored helper as a joke!

CARRY ON

"What's the idea of going in the snow barefoot? You'll catch a heluva cold."

"I'll tell you. I'm going right home and kiss the maid and she'll get the cold. Pa will kiss the maid and he'll get the cold. Then pa will kiss ma and she'll get the cold and tomorrow the preacher will come over and he'll catch a cold—and he's the son-of-a-gun I'm after."

And as the weeks have passed—and the full significance of Buick's achievement has become apparent to the public—enthusiasm for this car has swelled and grown to unprecedented proportions!

Buick sales records have been broken! Production schedules have been increased again and again! The great Buick plants are working to the limit of their capacity to supply the demand.

THE PRESIDENCY VERSUS HOOVER

Unusual Treatment of Presidency Problem in Book Just Issued

In these days when practically everything you see in print is a stereotype of what's been published before on the same subject, and books in their various classes are all, whether fiction, biography or history, written in the "manner" which chances to be the fashion of the age, it is certainly refreshing to come across a book that is actually unique in method and original in point of view.

All the more remarkable is this exception to the rule when it is found to be a book of politics—perfectly practical, not at all above the level of the famous "man in the street", and yet a long, long, distance ahead of the solemn traditional guff commonly vended as staple for stump speaking and party appeal.

Samuel Crowther, author of a new book entitled "The Presidency vs. Hoover," is a genius. He has something new. What is genius but that.

The author waves his writing wand and sets up a trial court. The Presidency needs an occupant. It demands a mighty good one. The demand is so high that it creates a presumption against any man who is suggested for the office. The automatic charge against him is that he is not big enough for such a place. The burden of proof to the contrary is on the applicant—or on his friends.

And Mr. Crowther uses up half his book in the role of attorney for the prosecution. After looking the country over, he fixes his gaze upon the White House, shows what a tremendous obligation towards his country and his fellow citizens any man in the Presidency must carry and discharge, and traces the long lines of influence reaching out from the seat of government along the which the President of the United States may affect for better or worse the peace and well-being not only of his fellow citizens but largey of the popuace of the world.

Then at the middle of the book the author changes roles. He goes over to the defense. Standing side by side with Mr. Hoover, he follows through his previous analysis and shows point by point how the Republican nominee in the present campaign measures up to the high stipulations which he has just established for a capabe President of the United States. He counts little or nothing on conventional talents for political leadership—except brains, integrity, disinterestedness and courage, the elemental virtues that never grow old. But spellbinding and adroit party strategy and masterful bossing of the political machine are not named among Mr. Crowther's requisites nor discovered in his analysis of Mr. Hoover.

The great objective which Mr. Crowther sees looming up before Engineer Hoover as he approaches the great office is the abolition of poverty in our United States.

Mr. Crowther is confident that in two terms President Hoover, pressing forward on the lines of his administration in the Department of Commerce, can prove that this growing ideal of the land without poverty is no empty dream. And he is sure that the same great surge of human feeling which led Mr. Hoover into Belgium in the hour of its overthrow and took him to the flooded banks of the Mississippi when hundreds of thousands of our own peope were homeless, will forbid him to rest from the crusade for the abolition of poverty as long as he continues in the White House—or indeed to rest from it anywhere short of the mortal end of his great career.

Mr. Hoover is no superman, of course. But in this modern world of efficiency he is certainly a superengineer.

Efficiency with him is no mere catchword; it is the potent solution in which every social perplexity dissolves to clarity.

CLOSING CAMPAIGN WITH REAL ISSUES

Herbert Hoover Refuses to Become Involved in Democratic Tangle

Washington, D. C.—Refusing to become involved in the tangle which now enmeshes the Democratic national candidates as a result of their effort to rewrite the platform of their party, Herbert Hoover will close his campaign in the east within a few days just as he began it, with a discussion of the real issues at stake.

Other "big guns" of the Republican party are also being brought into action as the campaign hastens toward its close and the final two weeks will see such notables as Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, former Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes, Vice-President Charles G. Dawes and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon speaking to nationwide radio audiences.

Their appeal for support of Herbert Hoover and Charles Curtis will be of the type that the Republican nominee himself has used so effectively, and will deal with the considerations which make a continuance of G. O. P. control of vital importance to the country. The criticism and abuse heaped upon Mr. Hoover and his party by the Democratic candidates in their recent speaking tours is to be ignored as unworthy of notice.

Smith Repudiating Party

With Governor Smith openly repudiating the stand taken by his party on the tariff and prohibition and placing interpretations distinctly his own upon a number of the other planks in the Democratic platform, the campaign at this stage affords a striking contrast between the attitude of the Republican nominee, who has limited his promises to those which his administration could fulfill, and his rival, whose "pledges" have behind them not a suggestion of party sanction.

The distinction is particularly apparent as regards the tariff. Here Mr. Hoover adheres to the position of the Republican party, as familiar to every voter as sixty years of consistency can make it, while Gov. Smith, who once referred approvingly to the "Principle" of the Underwood tariff, made the attitude of his party more ambiguous than ever in his Louisville speech by espousing rates of duty that "would not interefere with the American level of wages."

By his utterances, the Democratic candidate now stands committed to the "principle" of the Underwood law, the "effectively competitive tariff" favored by the Democratic platform, which would result in a general reduction of the present protective rates, and such revisions as might be recommended by a tariff commission. Such obvious inconsistency is scarcely calculated to give him the confidence of American business men and workers.

Modified Local Option

Reports from those districts where Democratic campaigners have endeavored to concentrate on prohibition as the principal issue of the campaign point to a crumbling of that effort, particularly since the Democratic nominee unfolded his complete program for an amendment of the enforcement laws at Milwaukee, disclosing that he really stands for a modified form of local option, which has few supporters outside of wet metropolitan areas.

An incalculable reaction in Herbert Hoover's favor from the refuting of false and malicious propaganda spread against him, particularly in the middle west, is indicated in political surveys from that section. Upon learning the truth about his fight to keep up farm prices during and after the war, when he was opposed by the packers and the Democrats at home and the allied nations abroad, all working to break the domestic agricultural market, and about his feeding of the central European nations when they were confronted by starvation following the armistice, many voters with Smith leanings have shown their resentment by swinging to Hoover. These wholesale switches are aiding the Republican cause tremendously in Missouri, Wisconsin, Minnesota and other northwest states, it is reliably reported.

In his Boston speech, Mr. Hoover recited for the benefit of the Republican party the remarkably effective work done by the department of commerce in promoting American foreign trade which has increased the total of our business with other nations by a billion dollars under Republican administrations. The part that he himself played in building up the volume of American exports to almost $5,000,000,000 annually was not mentioned, but it forms an additional argument against "taking a chance" on an unknown quantity as head of the nation.

A judge permited a divorced violinist to remarry because he behaved himself for more than five years. The law certainly does push punishment to extreme limits!

AUTO CLUB FOR UNIFORM LAWS

Urges Immediate Adoption of Uniform Municipal Traffic Ordinance

Another argument for the immediate adoption of Uniform Municipal Traffic Ordinance was advanced when the American Automobile Association and the New Jersey Automobile and Motor Club, its affiliated representative, made public preliminary figures of a nation-wide survey of traffic control conditions.

Following are some of the striking facts developed by the survey of the national motoring body:

1. There are on the average 1,000 automobiles to every traffic officer in the metropolitan areas of the country, as compared with 500 per officer ten years ago.

2. Car registration in the cities covered by the survey increased 326 per cent., as compared with an increase of 83 per cent. in the number of traffic offers in the ten-year period.

3. Only five cities, namely, Boston, Mass.; Louisville, Ky.; Worcester, Mass.; Cleveland, Ohio, and Duluth, Minn., showed a percentage of increase in traffic control personnel equal to the gain in car registration.

4. In the case of two cities, Chicago, Ill., and Toledo, Ohio, with an increase of more than 200 per cent. in motor vehicle registration, the number of traffic officers has been actually decreased in the ten-year period.

5. Los Angeles, Calif., showed the greatest increase in both registration and traffic control personnel, with 1280 per cent. for the former and 475 per cent. for the latter.

The survey is based on a questionnaire addressed by the Safety Department of the A. A. A. to the Police Departments of 50 cities, ranging in population from 50,000 to over 3,000,000, from twenty-eight of which detailed returns were secured.

"One conclusion," said the national motoring body, "stands out. It is perfectly apparent that the responsibility of the average traffic officer has greatly increased in recent years. It is true, of course, that mechanical control has to some extent acted as a substitute for personnel, but this has been largely offset by the increased complexity of traffic regulations.

"More traffic personnel may be necessary in the interest of law enforcement, but what is needed above all is the simplification of driving conditions. This can be accomplished through the universal adoption of the Uniform Municipal Traffic Ordinance. It is to be expected that apart altogether from what it will do to promote safety, the adoption of the code will lessen the urgency for the increase in traffic control personnel, which it is clear has lagged behind the needs of the situation."

The A. A. A. statement continues:

"Ten years ago there were 2.13 traffic officers to every 1,000 motor vehicles registered, while today the average has decreased to .93 to every 1,000 motor vehicles.

"This condition is further complicated by the fact that hundreds upon hundreds of traffic rules and regulations have been thrown into the civic hoppers and bewildered the motorist to the extent that he is baffled in meeting the changing conditions.

"The situation revealed in the survey shows in a definite way the need for uniformity in the basic rules of governing traffic, in order that the car owner may give maximum co-operation to traffic authorities."

We don't know which we prefer, the whispering campaign or the things that have been said openly!

KEAN
for United States Senator

HAMILTON F. KEAN is a native Jerseyman with a record of unselfish service to his party and to his State. Successful as a business man—a banker and a farmer—he is well equipped to grapple with the most important economic problems confronting our nation today—finance and agriculture. Elect Kean United States Senator to support President Hoover.

THE United States of America is the most progressive, the most prosperous, the most vital country in the world. Our standards of living, our scale of wages, our standards of education and life in all its phases, lead the world. CAN WE AFFORD TO EXPERIMENT?

The vital need of our country today is to continue our prosperity — to continue progressive Republican government — to continue the protective tariff which has brought such a high standard of living to our people. With these incontrovertible facts staring us in the face — WE CANNOT AFFORD TO EXPERIMENT.

Republicans who support Hoover and fail to also vote for Kean and Larson deliberately repudiate their leader.

Read Mr. Hoover's own appeal delivered at Newark, September 18th. "We have the task today in New Jersey of electing, not only an executive of the Federal government. No national administration can succeed without a majority in the Senate and in the House. The recovery of a Senatorship in New Jersey and the reinforcement of that fine battalion of able Congressmen from this state is equally a part of the task of the Republican organization. Likewise, for effective government of the State of New Jersey you have need of the election of a Republican Governor."

LARSON
for Governor

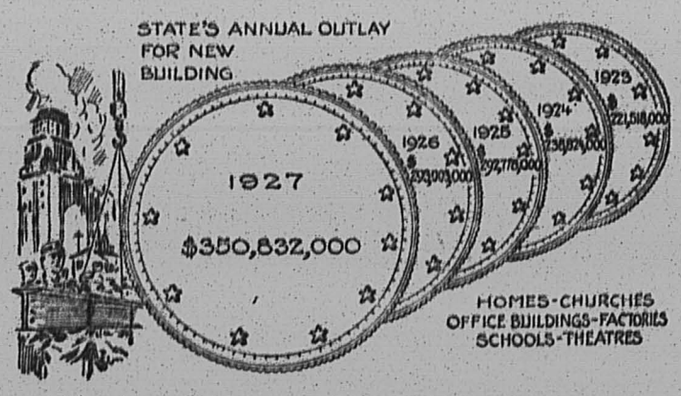

MORGAN F. LARSON, Republican candidate for Governor, is a practical idealist. He has the intelligence, the ability and the engineering training to cope with big problems. He is the sort of statesman who works rather than talks. His record of seven years of splendid service in the Senate entitles him to the franchise of every loyal citizen in his candidacy for Governor.

NEW JERSEY INVESTS $1,396,455,000 IN CONSTRUCTION IN FIVE YEARS

According to the F. W. Dodge Corporation, New Jersey spent between 1923 and 1928 more than one and one-third billions of dollars in the construction of homes, factories, office buildings, schools, churches and theatres.+++This expenditure reflects the State's growth in population and in industry and its constantly increasing prosperity.

Public Service, which provides gas, electric and transit service for five-sixths of the State's people, added to its already great plant during the same period new and improved facilities costing more than $123,000,000.

TIPS ON CURTAINS

A few tips about curtains. In general, overcurtains to the floor, undercurtains to the window sill, and straight draperies should be weighted to keep them from billowing out into the room.

Bands of self material finished with a tailored rosette are always appropriate for tie-backs. Usually, when a valance is used, it is best to have it only slightly shaped, not cut out in sharp points or scallops. Full curtains are very effective when simply French pleated at the top and used without a valance or cornice treatment.

Curtains for French doors should always be shirred at both top and bottom and stretched tightly on round or flat rods. Opaque glass curtains hung on a traverse cord eliminate the need for window shades.

PALMYRA WINS ON FORFEIT FROM HADDONFIELD 1-0

Visitors Walk Off Field When Referee Refuses to Banish Reagle

P. C. M. ELEVEN GIVES REAL EXHIBITION

Will Tackle Millville on Home Gridiron Next Saturday Afternoon

The Palmyra P. C. M. footballers won their fifth straight victory last Saturday afternoon when Haddonfield gave up and walked off the field five minutes after the start of the second quarter.

The Palmyra boys were out to add another victory to their record in an attempt to gain possession of the coveted Class "B" championship of the state. Haddonfield was the most highly touted eleven yet to be met and Coach Stack's eleven was determined to do its utmost and went to work with much vim and vigor.

The game was hard and furiously fought, no one denies that, that's what makes football, and it was real football—as long as it lasted. But it didn't last long enough and thereon hangs the story.

Forced Out of Bounds

Just as the second period was getting well under way "Buzz" Sheridan, Haddonfield halfback, started on a tour around right end with the oval tucked comfortably under his arm. All went well until "Buzz" was forced out of bounds. Referee Dimond blew his whistle to stop the play, but "Buzz" kept buzzing along with his eye on the goal line, then only 40 yards away.

Bill Reagle didn't know just what it was all about, but his football tutors have always told him to stop the ball-carrier under any and all circumstances and this Bill did—and how.

Bill and "Buzz" went down together, locked in each other's arms. Haddonfield claims that Bill slugged "Buzz." Palmyra claims that "Buzz" slugged Bill. The referee, who is a very important gentleman in a situation such as this, said that he had stopped the play and was busily engaged in marking the spot where the ball had been carried out of bounds and did not see the tackle at all. For that reason he refused to take any action whatever.

Demand Reagle's Removal

Haddonfield insisted that Reagle be taken out and left the field when Coach Stack refused to accede to its demands. Several Palmyra players pleaded with Stack to take Reagle out and resume the game, saying they could trounce the Haddonfield outfit without the services of the big fullback, but Joe was adamant. He had been in too many contests where he had had to take a bad break on account of an official ruling and was not going to lessen Palmyra's chances when the referee had not demanded Reagle's removal.

Stack called the Palmyra players to the center of the field and insisted they remain there to await the referee's ruling. After the opposing eleven failed to return to the field, the officials awarded Palmyra the game by the forfeit score of 1-0.

Upsets Haddonfield

At the start of the game Palmyra evidently upset the poise of the Haddonfield outfit when it advanced the ball 40 yards on the first two plays, after receiving the kick-off. Reagle received the kick on his own 20-yard line and ran it back 20 yards. On the next play Schwartz went around right end for 15 yards and immediately after Petitto carried the pigskin through left tackle for 25 yards.

With the oval on its own 20-yard line the Haddonfield line stiffened and held Palmyra on downs. Petitto gained a yard as he carried the ball out of bounds. On the second down Schwartz was given the ball and was thrown for a 3-yard loss as he started around right end. Reagle hit the line, but got no farther on the third play. On the fourth down, with 12 yards to go, a forward pass was tried, Petitto to Reagle, but was grounded.

Haddonfield elected to punt on its first play and a beautiful kick carried the oval to the 60-yard mark. Petitto was thrown for a three-yard loss as he attempted to go around left end. On the next play Petitto punted to the 30-yard line and the ball was returned to Haddonfield's 40-yard mark.

Make Two First Downs

Haddonfield proceeded to show its best form of the day when it ripped off two first downs in succession. Three plays netted ten yards and a first down on the 50-yard line. The next two plays were stopped short, but a pass on the third down netted the necessary ten yards. The next three plays gained about four yards and Haddonfield tried a forward, which was grounded.

Reagle's punt was blocked and went out of bounds behind the line of scrimmage. A 15-yard penalty brought the ball back to the 75-yard mark. Reagle again kicked and the receiver was downed on the 50-yard line. After an unsuccessful onslaught on the Palmyra line Haddonfield's fullback attempted a kick, but fumbled the pass from center. "Hank" Jenkins, who was charging in, grabbed the pigskin, but was tackled almost immediately, the ball going to Palmyra on Haddonfield's 45-yard line.

Pass Nets 15 Yards

After an unsuccessful forward pass, Reagle tossed the oval into the waiting hands of the speeding King, who was thrown on the 30-yard mark. This play ended the first quarter.

When the second quarter opened a forward pass was intercepted, giving Haddonfield possession of the pigskin on its own 30-yard mark. Haddonfield punted on its first play and the ball was returned to the 40-yard line. After unsuccessful attempts to advance the ball Palmyra punted and the oval was put in play on the 20-yard mark.

After two unsuccessful onslaughts on the Palmyra line Sherican got off on a spectacular end run, which advanced the ball 20 yards, but lost the game for Haddonfield, as it was this play which resulted in the game being forfeited.

Palmyra will meet the Millville A. A. eleven on the P. C. M. grounds this Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. Tickets for the forfeited game last Saturday will be honored at this time.

ROEBLING LOSES TO RIVERTON A. A.

Brilliant Playing in Closing Minutes Clinches Game for Riverton

The Riverton A. R. football team defeated the Roebling Bulldogs by the score of 13-7 on Saturday, October 27th, at Memorial Park, Riverton.

The Roebling men were outplayed, but fought hard to the finish.

Anderson returned to the line-up and played a brilliant game. Reeves and Perkins played their usual bang-up game, with the team playing better ball altogether.

Riverton had ten first downs to Roebling's six, but Roebling scored first and kicked the extra point which gave them the lead of 7 points.

In the second half a series of line bucks and end runs, finishing with a 5-yard plunge through center by Anderson, gave Riverton a touchdown. Reeves failed to kick the extra point. Score, 7-6.

With Riverton on its own 43-yard line in the third quarter, a forward pass play, Reeves to Perkins, was a success. The pass was short, over the line for five yards, but Ike Perkins wasn't satisfied with five yards, so he turned toward Roebling's goal line and with the aid of interference by Broderson and Minnich, dashed to the two-yard line.

Reeves then took it over and Ike kicked the extra point, which ended all scoring, 13-7.

A good-sized crowd attended the game and we appreciate their support and hope they enjoyed it enough to return Saturday, November 3, to see Riverton vs. Florence A. C., at Memorial Park, 2.45 P. M.

PALMYRA HIGH TIED FOR HOCKEY LEAD

Miss Purbeck's Eleven Shows Fine Form to Win Fourth Straight

Palmyra High is still stepping along with the best of them in the New Jersey Girls' Hockey League. Miss Purbeck's eleven won its fourth straight game last Wednesday and remains in a tie with Haddonfield for first place honors.

Miss Cornelia Harding played the star role as the Palmyra lassies won handily from Paulsboro, 6-1. She drove the ball into the goal station twice during the first half and registered two additional markers in the final period.

Captain Kitty Burr and Grace Kersey tallied the other counters for Palmyra in the second session. Paulsboro made things look interesting near the end of the first half, when a sustained attack netted a goal and threatened to tie Palmyra's two points.

After the first half got underway there was little doubt as to the outcome. Palmyra scored four of its six tallies in this frame.

Palmyra High		Paulsboro High

PALMYRA BULLDOGS WIN

The Palmyra Bulldogs, a football team made up of boys from twelve to fourteen years old, defeated the Riverton Y. M. C. A. team at Riverton Tuesday afternoon by a score of 24 to 6. Both teams played a bang-up game during the first half and scored one touchdown each. The Palmyra lads got the jump in the final half and crossed the Riverton goal line three times.

Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate for President, will probably urge the country to get back to "Norman-ey."

FUMBLE FATAL TO MOORESTOWN

Burlington High Wins 13-6 When Pigskin Eludes Yellow and Black

Moorestown High football team was defeated last Friday afternoon on the South Church street field by the Burlington High squad by the score of 13-6.

The Blue and White started out with fine force, but the local boys showed them they could hold them back when they took the ball from the thirty-yard line to their own twenty-yard line. The first quarter ended with the ball in the hands of the Yellow and Black on their forty-yard line.

In the second quarter the first score was made when Budd, of Burlington, carried the ball twenty-five yards for a touchdown.

In the third quarter Isenberg's chargers carried the ball down the field to the twenty-five yard line, only to have it brought back to Burlington's forty-five yard line. Carey then made a twenty-five yard forward pass to Cusworth, who received, and carried it the remaining thirty yards for a touchdown. Moorestown failed to make the extra point. The third quarter ended with the score, 6-6.

Budd again made a score in the fourth quarter, carrying the pigskin for twenty-five yards after picking up the oval when Moorestown fumbled.

75-YARD RUN GIVES PALMYRA HI 7-7 TIE

Recovered Fumble Results in Deadlock After Temple Victory Seemed Assured

A 75-yard run during the last thirty seconds of play gave Coach Dimond's Palmyra High School gridders a 7-7 tie with Temple Prep., of Philadelphia, in a game played on Palmyra's gridiron last Friday afternoon.

The honors go to the diminutive Poulson, who charged through the strong Temple line to scoop up a fumble on his own 25-yard line and scamper across the enemy's goal, 75 yards away.

Poulson was ably assisted on his spectacular run by interference which quickly formed behind him and spilled Temple tacklers before they could get within reach of the runner. After the touchdown Knight's kick sailed squarely between the uprights and Palmyra was saved from defeat.

Temple scored its lone touchdown in the second quarter and added the point by a drop kick. Several times it looked as if the Philadelphia lads were going to run up a large score, but each time they were stopped before they could get the pigskin across Palmyra's goal line. Just before Poulson's great run Temple was threatening the goal line, making consistent gains on every play. But there's nothing certain about football.

Palmyra plays Haddonfield Friday afternoon on the latter's field and a spirited contest is expected.

TEACHERS ATTEND ANNUAL INSTITUTE

E. C. Lindemann Gives Talk on Education; Important Issues Discussed

The Public Schools of the county were closed last Thursday, as the teachers journeyed to Florence, where they attended the annual Teachers' Institute held at that place.

The speaker of the day was E. C. Lindemann, of High Bridge, who gave an inspiring address on the "Main Trends in the Modern World" in the morning and in the afternoon he spoke on "The Meaning of Adult Education."

The elementary school teachers were given a fine series of talks on the teaching of English. The High School teachers were interested in the work of the pupil who does not expect to continue his studies in college.

FRIENDS' SCHOOL WINS AT HOCKEY

First and Second Teams Score Triumphs Over Holman Girls

The Moorestown Friends' School girls won their fourth straight victory at the expense of the Holman School by a 2-0 count at the Friends' field here last Friday afternoon.

Madline Palmer drove the ball in for a goal in the beginning of the first chapter and shortly after repeated the goal much to the chagrin of the Holman lassies.

The Friends' team is coached by Miss Anna Henley, who has been working the squad to perfection and considerable credit is due her for the meritable showing of the team.

The Moorestown Friends' Reserves won a 4-0 decision over the Holman School Reserves in a preliminary hockey tilt.

Kathryn "Pat" Holman, center forward, scored all of the Moorestown goals when she crossed the opponents' post four times with the ball.

HERE'S SOMETHING YOU CAN DO!

Many Republicans would like to do something more for the success of the ticket than merely casting their vote next Tuesday, November 6.

Here is a little extra assistance each may render, but which will help a great deal.

It costs you no money

It may mean that the men will have to get up fifteen minutes earlier, but surely that isn't much sacrifice to make for such a wonderful ticket as our party presents this year.

The little extra is this—VOTE BEFORE NOON.

What difference does this make? Simply this — a number of your committee are devoting the whole day to getting out a 100 per cent vote.

Registration is very Heavy

If by noon we have 80 per cent of the vote in the ballot box, we can be sure that the last minute rush will not be terrific, and that our workers will have a chance to concentrate on any forgetful ones at the last hour.

This may be the closest election you will ever live to see.

HALLOWE'EN FETE IS MUCH ENOYED

Many Splendid Features Mark Celebration Held in Palmyra and Riverton

One of the finest Hallowe'en celebrations ever staged in Palmyra and Riverton was held under auspices of the Lion's Club last Wednesday night.

A parade nearly a mile long caused a riot of mirth and merriment all along the way from Riverton station ta Market street, West Palmyra.

Many unusual features, comical, unique and picturesque, amused the large crowd which lined the sidewalks.

State Tropers from the Bridgeboro Barracks led the way, followed by the local police. Fred Lippincott acted as marshal. Palmyra and Riverton Boy Scouts were next in line.

The Lion's float, with Budd Simons as the lion, was one of the most unique features. Post Rodgers Drum and Bugle Corps and the Liberty Concert Band, of Camden, were the musical units.

The Riverton Fire Company was in line in uniform and took first prize in that division. The Palmyra fire apparatus was next in line.

The Camp Ockanickon float, depicting camp life at the Y. M. C. A. camp, attracted much attention and was awarded first prize.

Charles W. Lutz, impersonating a shock of fodder, was accorded much attention. Dutch girls and African flappers were among the great variety of impersonations. The Chinese laundry drew many smiles along the way, as did the sauer kraut band.

The Old Riverside Fire Company won a first prize with an old-fashioned coal stove mounted on a horse-drawn cart. The stove was kept fired up and was red hot most of the time.

Among the commercial entries were Kenney's, the florists, of Riverside; Don's "Miles of Smiles," and a group of Plymouth cars from Marshall's Garage. Taylor's Garage had several of its new Nash and Auburn cars on display.

The commercial entry to attract most attention was Fortnum's radio float, "The Two Black Crows," which was a parody on the popular radio team.

DELIVERING MILK IS "MERCANTILE"

Assistant Commissioner Rules Such Occupation is Not "Agricultural"

After an animated discussion as to the probable value of the apparatus, the Riverton School Board, on Monday night passed a motion instructing the Medical Committee to arrange for a demonstration of the "Audiometer," an instrument to detect defective hearing.

This action followed a report submitted by Francis B. Elwell, chairman of the Medical Committee, who brought the matter before the Board at the October meeting. Mr. Elwell's attention was first attracted by an article in a magazine which claimed that backwardness in pupils was frequently caused by imperfect hearing, not detected by the ordinary means used in physical examinations in schools.

The Property Committee reported on the condition of the wire fence on the old school grounds and was instructed to secure prices for having it repaired and painted, the committee was also instructed to have the fence in the rear of the building repaired and painted.

Mrs. Frederick Blair was unanimously elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of D. M. Clifton.

Riverton Rolls Up A Big Vote For Hoover

WHO WILL BUY THAT DINNER?

It All Depends on How Results Are Figured in Tuesday's Election

At the Republican mass meeting held in Riverton on October 19, Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, laid a wager with Mayor Howard M. Rogers, of Riverton, that Palmyra would poll a larger percentage of votes for Hoover than Riverton. The challenge was accepted, and the battle was on. The organization of workers to get out the vote proved to be more efficient than in any previous contest, presidential or otherwise. The average percentage of votes polled in Palmyra was 86.9; in Riverton it was 89.2.

This would seem to entitle Riverton's mayor to a free dinner. But no rules governing the contest were stated, and so, the percentage of votes polled for Hoover may be figured in three or four different ways. For instance, based on the total number of votes polled for the Republican and Democratic candidates, Riverton's percentage was 82.5, while Palmyra was 83.1—giving Palmyra a lead of six-tenths of one per cent.

Based on the relation of the number of votes polled for Hoover to the registration in the two towns, however, Riverton's percentage was 73.2 while Palmyra had 71.4—giving Riverton a lead of 1.8%.

Figured on the total number of votes actually polled, Riverton's percentage for Hoover is 82.3, while Palmyra had 82.4, a lead of one-tenth of one per cent. for Palmyra.

Calculated still another way, that of the relation of the actual votes polled to the registration in each town, Riverton scores 89.2%, while Palmyra has 86.9%, giving Riverton a lead of 2.3%.

Now comes the question as to the basis on which the results are to be calculated to determine who pays for the dinner.

Perhaps it would be easier and more satisfactory all around if the two mayors joined hands in a victory banquet, the active workers in both towns to be invited to celebrate the wonderful vote of confidence given the Republican party and its matchless candidate for President.

RIVERTON WOMAN HURT IN CRASH

Suffers Severe Cut on Face When Thrown Into Windshield

Miss Ellen Horton, 426 Lippincott avenue, Riverton, was painfully injured when thrown into the windshield of a bus on which she was a passenger, as it overturned last Saturday afternoon.

The accident occurred on River road just west of the Pensauken Creek. The bus was run off the road and over the embankment in an attempt to avoid another car which was coming from the opposite direction and was passing a parked truck.

The driver of the truck, James McGinty, of Maple Shade, was not at fault, according to the other passengers who were in the bus at the time.

Miss Horton was the only one injured. She suffered a painful cut about the face, which required seven stitches to close.

THANKS

The increase in the number of ballots cast and the overwhelming majority given the entire Republican ticket in Burlington County has quite gratified me.

The loyalty shown by the Republican voters to every candidate is pleasing to me and is indicative of the desire of Burlington County Voters to uphold all of the party principles.

I desire to thank the voters of the county for the support given Mr. Hoover, Larson, Kean and the entire Republican ticket.

CHARLES R. STOUT.

RIVERTON P. T. A.

"The Fair of the Iron Horse" is the title of a movie which will be given on Thursday afternoon, November 8th, at 3.45, in the Riverton school. Admission, 10 cents. This picture represents the current exposition of the Reading R. R. in Baltimore, Md., and the Parent-Teacher Association, under whose auspices it is given, feels that it is well worth while.

A Parent-Teacher Association Convention was held last week at Atlantic City. Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Mayfield, president and vice-president of the Riverton Association, were present for the whole time, and Mrs. Rutherford and Mrs. Turner attended the meetings on Wednesday, so Riverton had four voting delegates at the election of officers.

Wins Election Bet

Ex-Mayor James T. Weart got some quick action on an election bet when he received the following telegram early Wednesday morning:

Springfield, Mass.

James T. Weart:

Congratulations on election. Cigars following.

JEAN RIOUX.

Mr. Weart explained how he and Mrs. Weart had met a very fine young lady on a recent trip to the south and inadvertantly got into a political argument as their acquaintance continued.

The ex-mayor, as all Palmyrians know, is an ardent Republican. Miss Rioux is a Democrat. Both were sure their candidates would win. Mr. Weart wagered a five-pound box of candy against a box of cigars on Mr. Hoover. That explains it.

LIONS ROAR FOR 1929 CANDIDATES

Boys and Girls to be Given Expert Instruction in Dancing

The Lion's Club of Palmyra-Riverton have been working for the past month on preliminary details relating to its show to be given sometime in the early spring of 1929. The name will be announced after December 1st, the date when all contestants who are working for the prize offered by the club for the best book, lyrics and music, must have the same ready.

It is the purpose of the club to produce a better show than the "Lion's Roar of 1928," which will be remembered as "And How." To do this, arrangements have already been made whereby the young people of this vicinity may receive dancing instructions at a very reasonable cost to them.

These instructions are for the boys and girls over 15 years of age, and are only intended to asist those who would like to participate in the "Lion's Roar of 1929." However, it is not necessary to take them in order to try out for the show when the call for same is issued.

Experienced Instructress

Class lessons wil be given in Tap, Soft Shoe, High Kicking and Limbering and Stretching work. The last two are very necesary for grace and poise in routine work. All classes will be in charge of Mrs. James J. Tomes, nee Miss Alexine Lowden, whose training and experience justifies the club in making these arrangements.

Mrs. Tomes was a student of Florence Cowanova for five years; was a member of the Civic Opera Ballet; and was also on the Keith Circuit. She is now dancing instructress of the Moorestown Community House.

Owing to the co-operation of the Lion's Club it is possible for our boys and girls to get class instruction in the aforementioned dance steps for 25 cents a lesson. This price compares very favorably with a minimum of $1.00 a lesson in the Studios of Philadelphia.

Classes in Society Hall

All work will be done in the Lion's Club Room in Society Hall, Palmyra. Monday and Thursday evenings have already been set aside for this work and should the registration warrant more evenings, same will be arranged.

It is proposed to have three classes an evening, each class limited to 16 members, so it can readily be seen that there will be room for all who wish to take up the work. All classes will be limited to one hour, but in order to accomplish the work desired, it will be necesary to take two lessons a week.

Registration date for these classes will be Friday evening, November 9, 1928, at the Lion's Club Room, at 8 o'clock. Classes start on Monday evening, November 12th.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Members, please note! The county meeting will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening at the Legion Home (Palmyra), and this meeting will start promptly at 7.30 P. M.

Don't forget the change in time to 7.30! Be on hand as this meeting promises much of interest.

Are you going to Mount Holly, Saturday, November 10th? Arrangements have been made for the Auxiliary to attend this big rally and we would like to have a large representation in line. Parade starts at 4 P. M. Get all details from your President, Mrs. T. M. D'Autrechy, Jr.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME

The home of Ernest Roberts, Land street, Union Landing, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday night. It burned for nearly a half hour before the alarm was sent in. The property has been vacant for the last three weeks. Riverton, Palmyra and Riverside fire companies responded.

HOOVER POLLS 5-1 LOCAL MAJORITY

Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson Join in Republican Landslide

The effects of the Hoover landslide were felt in Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson on election day when an impressive majority was rolled up for the entire Republican ticket.

Unusual interest was manifested as the voters thronged the polling places as soon as they were opened at six o'clock in the morning. Several districts reported lines of twenty or more when the polls opened.

By eleven o'clock in the morning over half of the registered voters had cast their ballots at practically every polling place. Nearly ninety per cent. of the voters voted before the polls closed. The registration lists were made up in May and it is pointed out that several have moved or died since then and the vote actually represents more than ninety-five per cent. of the citizenry.

Hoover's vote throughout the community was roughly 5 to 1, with the Republican State candidates showing an approximate majority of 4 to 1. There was no serious opposition to any of the local candidates.

Hoover's lead in Palmyra was 2,125 to 430, in Riverton, 1,231 to 260, and in Cinnaminson Township, 704 to 187. A very light vote was registered on the "Home Demonstrator" question. The "Fourth of July" appropriation, which was on the Palmyra ballots, carried by a small majority.

Additional ballot boxes were required before the morning was half over. Hurried calls were sent to Mount Holly and several larger boxes were sent over. In one case a large bread case was fitted up with a padlock and used to contain the record vote. Many districts in the county report the use of barrels and packing cases before the day was over.

The vote by districts is tabulated elsewhere in this issue.

REPUBLICANS STAGE VICTORY CELEBRATION

Jubilant Citizens Join in Old Time Parade as Hoover's Election Is Assured

Palmyra Republicans staged an impromptu celebration Tuesday night as soon as Hoover's election was assured.

There were about a hundred people gathered in the P. O. S. of A. Hall listening to the returns, when it was suggested that a real old-time celebration be held.

The crowd was asked for its opinion, which was unanimously favorable and arrangements were made immediately for the Smith Band, of Burlington, to come within an hour.

At twelve o'clock the band arrived. By that time over two hundred people had assembled to participate in the celebration. Some of the firemen arrived with the fire truck and the parade began.

Smith Headquarters was given special attention by the victorious partisans. The parade also serenaded several well-known Democrats as it passed their homes.

After marching up Broad street to Riverton and down as far as Arch street, and parading on several side streets, everyone decided they had had enough celebration for the day and disbanded.

HIT AND RUN VICTIM

Miss Jewell Dinn, of 436 Horace avenue, Palmyra, was a victim of a hit-and-run driver in Kensington last Thursday. She was struck as she crossed the street near her place of employment by a large car, which turned into the street at a high rate of speed.

A friend ran to her aid, but was unable to get the number of the fleeing car. Miss Dinn was taken to the hospital and later sent to her home. She is not able to be about yet.

FORD HAS NEW FINANCE PLAN

Time Payment Schedule Announced Which Will Give Purchaser Low Rate

Joseph A. Schwartz, of the Lester S. Fortnum Ford Dealership, returned recently from Chester, where he received details of the new Ford finance plan.

The new finance plan will be operated by the Universal Credit Company, an affiliated specialized organization, controlled by the Ford Motor Company, and operating solely for the purpose of financing Ford Products on a "time" basis. The branch office serving this territority is located at Philadelphia, 8th floor, Lewis Building, 15th and Locust streets, Philadelphia.

This is of special interest to prospective purchasers of Ford Products on a "time" basis. Under this authorized finance plan, Ford customers will have a finance service available which is sound and in keeping with Ford policies and standards. The plan is nation-wide in scope and for the exclusive use of Ford dealers.

It is another step of the Ford organization in reducing costs by controlling operations from the mine to the consumer. The cost of this service will be lower than any heretofore available to Ford customers on a national basis, and automatically reduces the price of Ford cars purchased on a "time" payment basis. It is a further expression of the established Ford policy of giving outstanding values and complete service to the consumer at the lowest possible cost.

The plan also contemplates the purchase by Universal Credit Company of sound and adequate fire and theft insurance, protecting the joint interests of the purchaser, the dealer and the company in the car.

The purchaser receives a policy of standard form insurance providing protection for one year. Such policies are issued by the Home Insurance Company, of New York, the largest fire insurance company in the United States. The policies provide for settlement based on the actual cash value of the car at time of loss.

The Universal Credit Company and the Ford dealer will work together in making this new economical Ford Service available to all purchasers of Ford Products on a "time" basis. New and used Ford cars will be financed on this new plan, at a direct saving to the customer when car is purchased through the Ford dealer.

YWCA DOINGS

Saturday evening, November 3, the Calvary "Y" group held a Hallowe'en party at the home of H. Edson Hicks. It was one of the most successful enterprises in which the group ever participated. Professor W. H. Plank kept things moving all the time. He is to be complimented on the way he conducted the party.

Our regular weekly meeting was held Monday, November 5.

President Charles Knight presided.

After collection of dues and roll call, Professor Plank gave a talk. Mr. Plank's short talks each week are exceedingly interesting. They give the members of the group something to look forward to.

After the meeting was adjourned a basketball practice was held in the gym.

Calvary group has one of the fastest "Y" teams in the county, composed of several past, present and future Palmyra High School stars. Our challenge to any group in the State still stands. We are looking forward to a very successful season.

K. G. E. TO HOLD DISTRICT MEETING

"Walter M. Horner" Night to be Observed Early in December

The first district meeting of the current term of the Knights of the Golden Eagle has been called for this Friday evening, and will be held in the Castle room of Riverside Castle No. 1. As the District Grand Chief for this term is from Palmyra, he desires to have a large representation from his Castle, to show the members of the 12th District that he has the support of his own Castle and should have the support of the others

An invitation has been received from Cross and Crown Castle, to attend its "Rally" to be held in their Castle hall, 2709 Westfield avenue, Camden, on Monday evening, November 19th. A fine program is assured those who attend. Several members of Palmyra Castle are taking their cars this night and will have room for any of the members that wish to go. Come out to your Castle meeting before the 19th and get further details

One of the plans being put into operation by Grand Chief Raesly this year, is to honor certain members of the order who have never sought the higher honors of the Grand Castle, yet have served the local Castle by their untiring efforts in introducing new members and discharging the duties of the various posts they have been called upon to fill.

Brother Raesly intends to confer this honor by holding Class initiations and giving the class the name of the Brother to be so honored. The first initiation of this type was held in Trenton on October 20th at which time seventeen candidates were initiated.

The next class is to be called for Palmyra Castle in honor of our "Old War Horse" Walter M. Horner. The meeting will be held the early part of December, but the exact date has not yet been set. The members of Palmyra Castle know how Brother Horner has worked for the Castle during his membership and also know that too much honor cannot be given to him, so we should therefore feel it our duty to work hard toward getting a large class of candidates for "Walter M. Horner Night." The degrees will be conferred by the Degree Team of Freedom Castle, of Plainfield, N. J. So get your applications in so that they may be acted on in time for your candidate to go thru with the "Walter M. Horner" Class.

ARREST EIGHT

Eight men were arrested in a raid on an alleged gambling house on Market street, West Palmyra, last Sunday afternoon.

The raid was made by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck and Troopers Hutton and Bowers and Corporal Horn, of the State Police.

The men were taken before Police Justice William L. Fichter, who fined them $10.00 and costs each. They were: Horton Naylor, Earl Meyers and Ernest Fitzgerald, of Palmyra; George Simons, Parry; Elberly Bracy, Riverside; Charles Hammond and Eugene Sanders, East Riverton, and Merril Johns, proprietor of the place.

A man will spend unlimited time and energy keeping peace with a business associate and then fight with his wife at the drop of the hat.

MT. HOLLY BOYS AGAIN IN COURT

Lads Released One Weekend Are Back Before Judge the Next

Being released on probation on Thursday appeared to have no good effect upon Earl and Norman Alloway, cousins, of Mount Holly, aged 12 years, for they were back at their old haunts by Sunday and sometime during the afternoon they broke into and entered the home of Mrs. Mary Bradley, of Water street, and decamped with $1.85 which they found in the woman's pocketbook.

The loss was reported to Officer Howard Shinn and in a very short time he located the boys gambling for their loot at their home on Willow street.

The boys have been in jail since that time and last Thursday they were before Judge Slaughter for sentence, both having confessed to taking the money. They have been before the court on several other occasions and naturally have tried the patience and humanitarian impulses of Judge Slaughter, who has hesitated about committing them to an institution.

However, drastic action could no longer be avoided and the Court finally decided that it would be to the best interest of Norman to send him to the State Home for Boys, as he appeared to have no one would would be responsible for him; while Earl was placed on probation, after an uncle and an interested citizen had given assurance that they would give him their attention.

Other Cases

Stephen Mielswocki, of Riverside, charged with possession of liquor, pleaded guilty to having three pints in his house when the officers called, and he was fined $150.

Ernest M. Hesp, of Burlington, charged with deserting his wife and two children, was placed on probation for two years, conditioned on his paying his wife $8 a week for the support of the two children.

William Taylor, colored, of Burlington, charged with deserting his wife and seven children, said he could make $25 to $30 a week in the brickyards at Florence, and he will pay his wife $20 a week.

Taylor is an old offender, this being the second time he has been before the Court similarly charged.

Fred Gant, of Lakehurst, arrested at Cinnaminson by Trooper Horn on a charge of passing worthless checks, went to State prison for one year and six months, while sentence was suspended on several other charges.

Gant was charged with issuing bad checks at Burlington, Wrightstown, Cinnaminson and Pemberton, and is said to have made a business of forgeries for several years.

He was arrested in Monmouth county in 1925, but the Court there was lenient with him, and Judge Slaughter saw no reason for easing up on him in this county.

John A. Lyden, of Bordentown, charged with desertion and neglect, pleaded guilty but said he had been in hospitals and in jail for several months and could not support his family while he was so incapacitated. He claimed his only occupation was distributing hand bills, and his case went over for another week, as did that of John Czarasky, the young Riverside burglar, while his case is being further investigated.

Criminal Matters

Elmer Slim, of Burlington, charged with embezzlement from his employer, had his case heard by a jury, and the verdict was not guilty.

Mary Bower, of Burlington, charged with assault and battery on Pauline Barkowski, did not fare so well at the hands of a jury, she being convicted of the charge.

Annie Moore, of Water street, Mount Holly, also took her chances with a jury on a charge of possession of liquor and maintaining a house where intoxicating beverages were kept, and she, too, was found guilty.

The defendant is the wife of Albert "Whitey" Moore, now serving ninety days for a liquor violation, and she is also the mother of Albert Moore, Jr., who, has been arrested on more than one occasion for the possession of liquor.

Mrs. Moore is an old offender, herself.

Dispositions of defendants who had pleaded guilty and made retractions were as follows:

John J. Naughton, Moorestown, possession of liquor. He will be back for sentence on November 8.

Frank Grabowski, of Riverside, possession of liquor.

Merrill Johns, of Palmyra, possession of liquor. Will be sentenced on November 15.

Tillie Andreaski, of Riverside, an old offender, two charges of possession of liquor. She will be sentenced on November 8.

Harvey Rogers, of Southampton township, charged with desertion and neglect. Will be back for sentence on November 15.

Charles Bersen, caught with a truck load of beer near Bordentown, was fined $400 and his truck was ordered to be sold.

Alexander Schubert, of Pemberton township, possession of liquor. Fined $125.

Benjamin Staskus, of Burlington, possession of liquor. Will be back for sentence on November 8.

Mariangela Carnavela, of Riverside, had two indictments against her charging possession of liquor, nolle prossed.

ARMISTICE DAY

What Are the Fruits of Victory?

Ten years since the World War and it is high time to take count of stock. On a ledger sheet there is always debit—credit—balance.

Let us carefully weigh these things.

DEBIT—care of disabled soldiers in many lands.

83 per cent of taxes going for war purposes in U. S.

War orphans on the communities.

Aftermath of war, lawlessness, disregard for human life, suicide.

Creating suspicion by naval rivalry among nations.

Fear of what the other fellow will do.

A non-militaristic nation turned militaristic as evidenced by compulsory military training in schools.

CREDIT—Practically one creditor nation—U. S.

Debt refunding slow and grudging.

Seeming prosperity but unemployment rampant.

A League of Nations which one big nation will not adhere to.

A Permanent Court given cold shoulder.

Futile attempts at disarmament.

The new Kellogg pact still to be ratified by U. S. Will it be?

BALANCE—Where the credit is all on one side of the ledger, it may be good business and good bookkeeping, but does it make for fellowship? For a true balance the scales must be weighted with forbearance and justice.

2000 years since the birth of the Prince of Peace and how much nearer are we to such a goal?

MENTAL BALANCE—Is war worth while?

SEEKING 7,000 RED CROSS MEMBERS

Four Different Types of Memberships to be Sought in County

Four types of membership will be sought by the local chapter of the American Red Cross when it begins its Twelfth Annual Roll Call Armistice Day, November 11. The enrollment will continue until Thanksgiving Day. The bulk of the 7,000 members the chapter expects to enroll will be dollar memberships, local officers say, but many persons will be asked for the other three types of memberships carrying with them fees of five, ten and twenty-five dollars.

The larger memberships are necessary, it was explained, for the support of the local work of the chapter, inasmuch as only fifty cents of each membership fee goes to national headquarters for the financing of national and international work. From the one dollar membership fifty cents goes to national headquarters and fifty cents remains in the chapter treasury; while from the five-dollar membership $4.50 remains here. The $10.00 fee will net the chapter $9.50, while $25 memberships will put $24.50 in the local treasury.

As many of the larger types of memberships will be secured as possible, as chapter officers say it is virtually impossible to carry on the local service program from revenues derived from the one-dollar memberships alone.

In answer to the inquiry as to what percentage of the dollar membership is applied toward overhead expenses by the national organization, it might be stated that only in times of disasters such as the Mississippi flood and the Porto Rico-Florida hurricane do the overhead expenses amount to ten per cent. of the dollar membership; under normal conditions they are much less—about five or six per cent.

Last year the sum of $1,240 was spent on the disabled ex-service men and their families in Burlington County.

NEW HIGHWAY TO SHORE APPROVED

Improved Road from Trenton to Shore Endorsed by State Commission

Following hearings conducted by the State Highway Commission for the alignment of the new Route 37 between Toms River and Lakehurst, and the route near Trenton from Baker's Basin to Bordentown, the board last week announced that consideration will be given to the arguments advanced before a final decision is reached.

In general, approbation was voiced for the plans made by the highway engineers for through traffic to skirt both Trenton and Toms River.

The circular or marginal road, to be known as Route 39, is to start near Baker's Basin on the Brunswick pike and pass through Mercerville and White Horse on the outskirts of Trenton. City Commissioner Abram Swan, of Trenton, said that he and the other Trenton officials believed that the marginal roadway would prove an asset to Trenton. Freeholder John L. Gretton and County Engineer Harry Harris, Mercer county, urged that Quaker Ridge road, from Clarksville to Mercerville, be included in the new alignment, but Major W. G. Sloan, the State Highway Engineer, asserted that this would not follow the provisions of the statutes.

The chief objection was voiced by the representatives of Bordentown, who expressed the fear that irreparable damage would be done to their water supply, which is drawn from Asays Springs, near White Horse. They held that the construction of the new water supply property would lessen the flow practically 20 per cent. Colonel Thomas D. Landon, of the Bordentown Military Institute, stated that the pure water now available for Bordentown had proven an invaluable asset, and he urged that nothing be done to diminish the quantity.

The majority of the Ocean county residents were in favor of the new Route 37 alignment at Toms River. This thoroughfare will only be extended in the present planning so as to pass through Locust street instead of Washington street, in Toms River, which is now badly congested. This route will extend from Trenton to Seaside Heights and will cross Barnegat Bay on the State Bridge between Island Heights and Seaside Heights. Senator Thomas A. Mathis, of Ocean county, said that he did not favor any particular alignment, but the Freeholders of Ocean county went on record for the skirting of the centre of the Toms River business centre.

A petition was presented by 130 residents of Toms River asking that the State road be kept off Washington street because of the congestion already existing. The request was also made that the alignment be changed at the George Gaskill Dairy Farm in order that the property might not be bisected.

It was late in the final period when Ellene Bell, Collingswood centre forward, managed to push the ball through the posts and register a hard-fought victory for her team.

The Moorestown girls will clash with the Philadelphia Normal team on the South Church street field this Saturday afternoon. A large crowd is expected to witness the game and urge the girls to victory.

LONE EAGLE GROUP

The fourth meeting of the Lone Eagle Young Men's Christian Association, Palmyra-Riverton, was attended by five members, Cecil Guest, Charles Woolston, Stanley Eckert, John Gibson, Jack Reynols and Mr. Carter, acting leader.

The attendance being too small for a meeting, Charles Woolston and Stanley Eckert battled for the chess championship of the group. The games are about even, the score being 29 to 29.

After this game was finished the members went to the meeting room, where two cakes, a quart of ice cream and a bag of pretzels soon disappeared.

Following this Stanley Eckert, Cecil Guest, Charles Woolston and Mr. Carter attended the show at the Broadway Palace, entitled "Wyoming."

MT. HOLLY HOLDS BIG HALLOWE'EN PARADE

Hundreds of Mummers Big Feature of Fine October Festival at County Seat

Masked comic characters, fancifully-clad cavaliers and pirates—all of the "dressed-up" folks who comprise an autumnal tribute to King Momus—joined with eight bands, many fraternal organizations and several thousand visitors Tuesday evening of last week, to make Mount Holly's 1928 Hallowe'en festival one of the greatest celebrations of its kind in the county seat.

Probably 2,500 persons were in the procession that traversed the principal streets of Mount Holly, led by Captain Robert Peacock, as marshal of the parade. Fraternal organizations, social clubs, Hallowe'en costume clubs, granges, military outfits, fire companies, Boy Scouts and automobile dealers entered into the spirit of the occasion to form the long line of march.

A creditable array of mummers comprised the most interesting sections of the parade. Practically every conceivable costume was in line with the exception of the time-honored witch, whose black cape, peaked hat and broom-handle hobby-horse has usually carried the very spirit of Hallowe'en.

With the big number of mummers and organizations in line, and the hundreds who lined the sidewalks of the town during the parade, the event was considered extremely successful, both by unofficial observers and by the committee which arranged it. Local police, assisted by State police, under Sergeant Haussling, handled traffic efficiently and there wasn't a hitch in the program.

The judges were the Rev. John W. Cummere, Mount Holly; George C. Cunn, Burlington; Mrs. Howard K. Ballinger, Pemberton; Mrs. Henry S. Herr, Moorestown; Lawrence G. Minglo, Medford.

Dog Keeps Watch Over Body of Dead Master

Joe Crosbie, 73-year-old cranberry worker, was found dead in the bogs six miles from his home at Moore's Meadow near Tabernacle last week and the gruesome discovery brought out another example of canine faithfulness.

Three days before Crosbie had disappeared from his home and for three days "Tip," his half-blind, aged dog, had been coming home to eat a meal and then dash away. On Monday a searching party was sent to the Moore's Meadow section and there "Tip" was found, standing guard over the dead body of his master.

FIVE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENTS

Four Moorestown Men Are Victims in Crashes Near Here

Five persons suffered injuries in auto accidents near Moorestown in the past few days.

Three men were hurt when a new Chevrolet roadster, driven by Gabriel Goodwin, Locust street, Moorestown, skidded on Riverton Road early Saturday morning and two people were injured when a car driven by William Leary, Mill street, Moorestown, sideswiped a small trailer on a New York machine on the Moorestown-Mount Holly pike, just above the tunnel, early Sunday evening.

Goodwin was the most seriously injured in Saturday mornin's crash. He suffered a fractured collar bone, cuts and bruises. He was accompanied by Joseph Riley and Joseph Tiver, both of Moorestown. Riley was cut over the right eye, requiring several stitches, and Tiver was bruised about the face. They were treated at the office of Dr. Howard C. Curtis.

The roadster, which was headed toward Moorestown, skidded as Goodwin attempted to make the turn off Branch pike onto Riverton road. After going over the edge of the embankment, it was evident that Goodwin partly regained control and was coming back onto the road when his car crashed into a telephone pole. The machine was badly damaged.

Emma Cooper, 17 years old, of Kingston, N. Y., and Leary, the driver of the Moorestown car, were injured in the accident Sunday evening. Miss Cooper was cut and bruised and Leary's hand was lacerated by flying glass as the windshield of his auto was broken. They were treated by Dr. C. N. A. Westcoat.

Both cars were headed toward Moorestown. Leary, who was in the rear, claimed that he did not see the trailer until he was only a few feet from it. In attempting to cut to the left his machine sideswiped the trailer.

The trailer was almost demolished. No arrests were made, as the owners agreed to settle between themselves. The New York machine was driven by Edward Cooper, father of the injured girl.

RECKLESS DRIVERS

New Yorker and Lenola Man Pay Fines in Moorestown

Two reckless drivers were arrested by Moorestown police over the week-end. Both were tried before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Town Hall and were released upon payment of small fines.

Francis C. Gibson, Winthrop avenue, Lenola, paid $5.00, and Lou Raderman, of New York, was assessed $10. Both were arrested by Officer Walter A. Erickson.

Recorder Johnston fined Charles Baylor, colored, $5.00 Saturday on disorderly charges. He was arrested in a pool room by Chief of Police John Bradshaw.

TRENTONIAN CROWDS WRONG AUTO OFF COLUMBUS ROAD

When Charles E. Westcott, Jr., of 110 Brookside avenue, Trenton, attempted to keep an automobile behind him from passing on the Columbus-Bordentown road recently, he chose the wrong time and the wrong driver for the following machine was a State police car, driven by Sergeant Haussling, of the Columbus station. According to Haussling, Westcott's machine swerved to the wrong side of the road when he attempted to pass. The State trooper was almost forced to drive into a ditch. He arrested Westcott and Recorder Kingdon at Mount Holly fined him $5 for reckless driving.

HURLED OUT OF PLANE

Windsor, Ont.—Donald Strevett was thrown from an airplane when it nose-dived 1,000 feet in the air, and was killed, but his instructor, Captain R. H. Boundy, also thrown out, seized hold of the fuselage as he was falling, crawled back into his seat and landed the plane safely.

Neither of the men was using a safety belt or wearing a parachute. Strevett was at the controls when the plane began to nose dive.

NEW OAKLANDS NOW ON DISPLAY

Smart, Roomier All-American Sixes Being Shown at Bare Motors

Completely new and original in appearance, with a host of advanced engineering features, the latest Oakland All-American Six is now on display at the showrooms of Warren W. Yenney, Oakland and Pontiac dealer, at Steedle's Garage, Riverton.

Smarter, roomier than a year ago, with bodies of distinctive design, and a chassis said to be the last word in mechanical refinement, the latest All-American model bears only a passing resemblance to its famous predecessor—the first All-American Six brought out by the Oakland Motor Car Company a year ago.

Briefly, the new line offers a bigger, faster, more powerful engine; new Oakland type internal expanding 4-wheel brakes; masterful body creations by Fisher; new Duco color combinations; higher, larger cross-flow radiator with grill front; adjustable driver's seat; chrome plated lamps of new design; sturdy ten-spoke wheels; Lovejoy shock absorbers and spring covers as standard equipment; new steering gear; sturdier frame, and a host of other improvements that are destined to make the car a distinguished addition to the aristocratic motor car family of America.

Many months have been spent in developing the car to a point where it offers everything that a discriminating public has learned to expect in the way of style and performance. Every detail has been subjected to exhaustive tests that the car might represent the crowning achievement of 22 years of successful automobile building by the Oakland Motor Car Company.

Into the perfection of power plant and body lines have gone the pooled resources of Oakland and General Motors engineers, General Motors Research Laboratories, General Motors Proving Ground, and craftsmen of the Fisher Body organization. Many months have been spent developing and proving every detailed change to bring the finished product up to the rigid standards called for on the specification charts.

Already a million miles have been piled up by test cars on the General Motors Proving Ground. Although brand new to the public, it is a thoroughly seasoned product, with the equivalent of many years of owner service already to its credit.

Seven-passenger types comprise the line: sport roadster, sport phaeton coupe, 2-door sedan, 4-door sedan, and a new landaulet sedan and convertible cabriolet.

Artisans of the Fisher organization with Oakland engineers have achieved a new grace of body lines and a symmetry and proportion exclusive in the Oakland field. The new landaulet sedan, with its fabric covered rear quarter section, which may be quickly raised or lowered, has an air of custom-built distinction.

The rear seats of all five-passenger models are two inches wider this year to provide increased elbow room and to add to the comfort of passengers. This change has been effected without increasing the tread.

Closed bodies all have adjustable driver's seats, reveals around side windows set off by a narrow bead, single belt moulding starting at radiator and completely encircling the body, smart side cowl ventilators, new type military sun visors, and hardware designed exclusively for Oakland. On individual body types are walnut finished door panels, Axminster carpet in tonneau, embossed leather smoking sets, package space, luggage room in rear deck and many other popular features adding to the luxury of the interiors.

WOMAN WITH BROKEN NECK GIVES BIRTH TO FINE BABY

Mrs. Alfred Heaney, of Trenton, who suffered a broken neck and other serious injuries on the night of August 12, when an auto driven by her husband was in collision near Bordentown with a car occupied by Ralph DePalma, the celebrated auto racer, and his wife, was discharged from the Burlington County Hospital last week, practically cured. While a patient at the hospital she gave birth to a baby girl, weighing about four pounds, and the little one flourished from the start, being perfectly normal and showing no effects of the terrible injuries suffered by its mother.

GIVEN MEDALS FOR SEASIDE RESCUES

Jersey and Pennsylvania Men Receive Carnegie Awards for Heroism at Park July 5, 1926

Walter E. Culbertson, Jr., 137 Hilldale Road, Lansdowne, Pa.; Frank B. Fay, 3rd, of Butler, N. J., and James Dunham, Jr., of Scranton, Pa., have been awarded bronze medals by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for their acts of bravery in rescuing Joseph M. Kelly, of New York City, who was swept out to sea while bathing at Seaside Park, on July 5, 1926.

Dunham was attempting to rescue Kelly, when he lost consciousness, and Culbertson and Fay swam to their rescue. Fay got Kelly to shore, and then returned to Dunham.

Life Guard Logan Schoenhut, of Seaside Park, also assisted in the rescue, and in the resuscitation, as did Dr. Francis A. Faught, of 5006 Spruce street, Philadelphia, who hurried to the scene from the Seaside Park Yacht Club. W. L. Buchanan, of Pennsylvania Railroad, also assisted.

FELT BERET HATS CHOICE THIS FALL

Felt continues to be the leading material for women's hats, according to Miss Helen H. Powell, New Jersey associate clothing specialist, who recommends the practice of making hats at home.

"Particularly attractive and smart this fall for the junior miss are the felt berets," Miss Powell states. "These may be made in a variety of styles from three-eighths of a yard of felt cloth. A hat pattern and three-quarters of a yard of ribbon for an inside finishing band complete the materials needed.

"Several sample hats that are suitable for the school girl have been made by home demonstration agents in various parts of New Jersey. After careful pinning of the pattern, marking with tailor's chalk, and cutting, the hat is ready to be basted and stitched on the sewing machine. A flat iron and damp cloth serve to press open the seams and the beret is ready to have the headband inserted.

"Many club girls have made similar hats in previous years, some of whom are wanting to continue this year. Many of the local club leaders, and all of the county home demonstration agents, are prepared to give training in hat making. The berets may be made for less than 80 cents."

MEN'S MEETING

Interesting Gathering at Baptist Church This Sunday Morning

"What Does It Profit the 'Church' If It Gains the Whole World and Loses Its Own Soul," is the topic for a men's meeting in the basement of the First Baptist Church at 11.30 Sunday morning, November 11. The discussion will center around the effect of the churches' endorsement of political propaganda—the effect on the churches and the effect on the community.

Joseph S. Butterweck conducts these meetings by the discussion method, thereby giving all who will an opportunity to express their views. Men of the community will find profit and interest by attending this meeting.

FINE COMEDY THIS FRIDAY, SATURDAY

Script and Score's "Expressing Willie" Promises Evening of Unalloyed Fun

Th many people from Moorestown and nearby communities who are buying tickets for this week's production of "Expressing Willie," by the players of Script and Score, are in for an evening of unalloyed fun.

This brilliant comedy, one of the most successful that Rachel Crothers has written, has plenty of laughable situations and sparkling dialogue. And there is nothing amateurish in the way the local players are going about it. The scenery and settings will be thoroughly professional.

Some of the best actors developed by Script and Score have parts in the play, and strenuous rehearsals throughout the last week have put the final touches on their performance.

"Expressing Willie" is the story of a young man who has made a great deal of money in the tooth-paste business, and has had his head turned by a flock of self-seeking admirers. These people, who are all believers in the modernistic cult of untrammeled self-expression, work on Willie's vanity to the point where he is in grave danger of becoming a pompous coxcomb. Fortunately the dry common sense of his mother and the simple love and loyalty of his former sweetheart win the victory in the end.

The role of Willie, played by Roland M. Wiltshire, and most of the other parts are in the hands of veterans of earlier Script and Score productions. In the ingenue lead, however, Moorestown will have an opportunity to see the work of a new player of considerable talent, Miss Carola Collings.

An attractive feature of the two performances will be the musical program, rendered by the newly-formed Moorestown Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Walter Pew.

Good seats for both Friday and Saturday evenings are still available, at one dollar each. They are on sale at the desk in the Community House.

PATRONS OF BEVERLY RURAL ROUTE PROTEST TRANSFER

About one year ago when the Rancocas Creek bridge at Bridgeboro was closed for rebuilding, eleven families of the Riveside rural postal route were transferred to Beverly R. F. D. The patrons thus affected, when the bridge was completed, appealed against being returned to their former route, stating that they were better satisfied to remain on the Beverly route and so petitioned the Beverly Postmaster to be permitted to remain on the route from his office. Postmaster Birkhead notified each patron recently that inasmuch as they preferred service from Beverly, the present arrangement would be continued.

The political "I Told You So" season is starting any minute now!

NEEDLEWORK GUILD

The Palmyra Needlework Guild held its annual meeting and display of garments on Thursday of last week in the Y. M. C. A. Building. In the absence of the President, Mrs. Purnell, who was away on account of the serious illness of her father, Mr. Morgan, the Vice-President, Mrs. Shill welcomed the members and friends.

A brief account of the trip to Kansas City was given by Mrs. Shill, and the convention of the Needlework Guild of America held there last May, which was attended by four delegates of the Palmyra branch.

The Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Bowker, and the Treasurer, Mrs. John Hoepfner, gave splendid reports. This year 251s garments were collected and $66.00 in cash. The beautiful selections sung by Mrs. William T. Miller, accompanied by Mrs. George Becker, were great enjoyed. Tea was served by the Juniors.

By six o'clock Friday evening, all the garments were packed in boxes or bags. Those sent to distant points were mailed. We wish it was possible for all our contributors to see how these bags are received in the hospitals, homes, etc. They would then realize that you are helping in a wonderful work, bringing joy and comfort to many who are less fortunate and following the words:—"Inasmuch as ye have done it to the least of these, my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

CHRIST CHURCH
(Episcopal)
PALMYRA

Rev. G. J. McCormack, Rector

There are just two parities in this election and it is most important to be on the right side.

One side marks you as a man of rank, whether you happen to be wealthy, educated, or of social distinction, and the other side just as clearly discounts you for a certain lack which nothing else supplies.

Are you naturally rude or are you instinctively courteous? Here are two parties, and, just as sure as the sun rises, each soul is classified as belonging to one or the other.

This is a very simple and withal a most effective way of resolving the question of a man's true worth, and if you have any doubt of its value, just apply this simple test:

"If Courtesy, it is much less
Than Courage of Heart or Holiness,
Yet in my Walks 'twas proved to me
That the Grace of God is Courtesy."

There will be a meeting of the Burlington District of the Women's Auxiliary in Grace Church, Pemberton, Tuesday, November 13th, at 2.30 P. M. The speaker will be Mrs. Chambers.

The Regional Conference of the Girls' Friendly Society will be held in Trinity Church, Trenton, November 9th and 10th. The Dioceses of Long Island, Newark, New Jersey and New York will hold a Festival Service with the Banners of the different groups, and a very beautiful and inspiring sight will be witnessed. At the last meeting in Boston there were twelve hundred girls, with over one hundred group banners. Our groups from Palmyra and Riverton will be present with their regalia.

It will be good news to many to hear that the evening musical services, given by the choir and organist of Christ Church, will be resumed this Sunday evening at 8 o'clock. Program:

Processional Hymn 386.

Psalm Selection.

RED CROSS HELPS NEEDY MILLIONS

Homeless and Injured Are Aided in Porto Rico and Florida

The following is a list of the accomplishments of the American Red Cross during the past year:

1. In Porto Rico the American Red Cross has a half million homeless and destitute persons under its care, and in Florida there are 80,000 persons looking to it for assistance as a result of the tropical hurricane which swept out of the Caribbean Sea in September and cut a path of destruction over a fifteen-hundred-mile course. A relief fund of about $5,500,000 has been raised with which the organization is preventing intense suffering and in many instances actual starvation.

2. During the organization's fiscal year, which closed June 30th, it gave assistance following 68 disasters, 66 of which were in this country and 22 abroad.

3. Its workers in nearly 3,000 chapters in the United States have assisted an average of 40,500 service and ex-service men each month, helping them to settle government claims and procure hospital treatment, and seeing that their families did not suffer while these claims were pending. At the same time Red Cross workers in camps and hospitals assisted an average of nearly 16,000 men each month and arranged during the year more than 22,000 recreation and entertainment events.

4. Carrying on civilian relief activities only where there is no other agency to do it—mostly in small towns and rural sections—the Red Cross has assisted more than 10,000 families during the year.

5. In communities throughout the United States and in our Insular and Foreign possessions, its 745 Public Health nurses have been fighting disease and suffering and improving the health standards of the nation. They have made more than a million visits to homes during the year to care for the sick and protect the well. 874,000 school children have been inspected and given assistance in having their physical defects corrected.

6. Nearly 60,000 women and girls have been taught, in the organization's Home Hygiene and Care of the Sick classes, how to give home care to the sick in their homes and how to prevent sickness by the proper care of the home and the family.

7. In their fight against malnutrition, the cause of many physical defects in children and adults, the organization has given nutrition instruction to 128,000 persons, of whom 122,000 were children.

8. With 90,000 persons a year dying as a result of accidents, the American Red Cross is waging a nation-wide campaign to reduce this annual loss of life. In the last twelve months it has instructed more than 150,000 persons in the United States in first aid for the injured, while the number of persons enrolled in its life-saving corps after receiving intensive instruction in methods for rescuing and reviving the drowning persons, has reached nearly 174,000. During the year it has also given more than 4,000 lectures and demonstrations for the furtherance of this campaign.

9. In addition to helping with the administrative and other phases of the work, Red Cross volunteers have, during the year, produced more than a quarter of a million garments and two and a quarter million surgical dressings for use in disaster relief work and other contingencies. They have also transcribed 1,316 volumes into Braille, a system of raised lettering whereby the blind are enabled to read. Practically all Braille transcribing in this country is done by Red Cross volunteers.

10. The American Red Cross makes no appeals for funds during the year except following great national disasters in which cases all fund contributed are spent for relief work in the disaster for which the appeal is made. This entire program of service is financed from membership dues obtained during the Roll Call. In addition to this the membership funds finance many relief operations following relatively small disasters in which no special appeal is made.

STOP STORAGE DECAY BY RIGHT VENTILATION

To prevent decay or scald of stored fruit and vegetables, ventilate the storage freely, says Prof. E. R. Cross, agricultural engineer for the New Jersey experiment station.

These products are practically mature when stored, but ripening and respiratory processes are still going on, he explains, and the gases thus formed must be carried away.

"Commercial storage in its various forms takes care of a large portion of production, yet there is an urgent need for home storage in cellars, pits, barns, and other outbuildings to take care of the surplus from the farm and garden and village backyard," states Professor Cross.

"Many persons are somewhat familiar with methods of storing fruit and vegetable products, but their success varies from year to year. Sometimes the cause of failure may be the condition of the product when stored. At other times the cause may be a lack of air. Dry heat will cause spoiling more rapidly than will any other condition. If the stored products show signs of shriveling, the floor should be sprinkled with water daily.

"Outdoor storage pits usually have sufficient moisture, but lack ventilation. A small chimney or flue should be placed in the top of each pit of vegetables or fruit.

Ventilation is most needed during the first four or five weeks of storage. As the weather becomes colder and the temperature in the storage is reduced, less respiration takes place and less air is needed. An additional covering may then be provided, and, as a rule, the ventilating flue kept closed."

PALMYRA WINS CLASS "B" CONTEST FROM MILLVILLE

P. C. M. Eleven Shows Power in 6-0 Victory Over Yellow Jackets

ACKERSON AND PETITTO FIGURE IN SCORING

Undefeated Grenloch Team to be Big Attraction Saturday Afternoon

Palmyra's big red-jacketed eleven again demonstrated its worthiness to be classed as one of the strongest contenders for the Class "B" crown when it completely outclassed and outplayed the Millville Yellow Jackets on the P. C. M. grounds last Saturday afternoon to win a 6-0 victory in forty minutes of play.

The abbreviated contest was made necessary by the late arrival of the visiting squad, which did not take the field until 4.30. At 4.00 it was announced that there would be no game and several of the spectators left.

The players decided to take advantage of the occasion for a little practice and chose sides and started a battle between themselves. Joe Stack was captain on one side and Josey Petitto was boss of the other. After about three minutes of play Stack's eleven pushed Petitto's outfit back to the ten-yard line, where Bill Reagle went over for a six-pointer.

Petitto's squad was threatening Stack's goal line a few minutes later when hostilities were called off upon the arrival of the common foe. This preliminary struggle was marked by some first class refereeing by Frank Kates, who inflicted penalties quite freely when the occasion demanded and some when it didn't, but no one took offense. The players and fans enjoyed the comedy and had almost forgotten their disappointment when the Millville team arrived.

Owing to the lateness of the arrival of the vistors Palmyra had given up all thoughts of playing, as the murky sky gave evidence of early darkness, but Millville insisted upon playing, offering to accept half of the guarantee on account of the game having been called off. Short quarters were agreed upon, making about 40 minutes of playing time, which turned out to be wise, as it was dark enough to call the game by the time it ended.

The first and only touchdown of the game came soon after the kick-off, when Palmyra gained possession of the ball on Millville's 45-yard line after blocking a punt.

On the first play Petitto plunged through left tackle for a 20-yard gain. He then added five more yards on a run around left end. Palmyra failed to gain on the next two plays and tried a forward on the fourth down, which was grounded, the ball going over to Millville's 20-yard mark.

Patrick, Millville fullback, attempted to punt on the first down, but fumbled the ball. He was tackled just as he recovered the oval. The spectators were puzzled when Referee Himes picked up the oval and movd it back 15 yards and gave it to Millville. It was later explained that Palmyra was penalized for roughing the kicker. No protest was made, but, according to those who are familiar with the rules, the referee was at fault, as the kicker had dropped the ball to the ground and had started to run after picking it up.

As a result of this break Millville retained possession of the pigskin on its own 25-yard line, but lost it when Ackerson intercepted a forward pass on the 30-yard mark.

Ackerson then carried the oval to Millville's 15-yard line on a run around right end. A pass, Petitto to Hebrew, was good for 7 yards. Three more plays took the oval to the 2-yard mark, where Petitto plunged over for a six-pointer. The try for point failed.

Reagle, Palmyra's flashy fullback, was not used in the game on account of a bad foot, but, according to Coach Stack, would have seen action if the going had been rough.

Much credit for the success of the P. C. M. eleven is due to its superb line. Only once during the season has a team been able to make a second first down against the "stone wall" defense. The work of the linesmen was especially brilliant in Saturday's engagement. Time after time Millville assulted the forward wall without gaining an inch and in many cases was thrown for losses.

The work of Gorman and Hebrew, ends, was especially good in the Millville battle. H. Stack made a good showing when sent in at halfback during the third period.

Next Saturday the Palmyra eleven will tackle the undefeated Grenloch team on the P. C. M. gridiron. Grenloch is one of the Class "B" elevens which is very much in the running for the championship. This promises to be a real battle, as neither team has been scored on to date, and both are determined to keep their goal lines unblemished.

Tickets held by persons who left before the game with Millville will be honored at Saturday's game.

Scoreles Tie Results as Teams Battle on Rainsoaked Gridiron

Palmyra High School battled Haddonfield to a scoreless tie on the latter's rain-soaked gridiron last Saturday afternoon. The game was played on Memorial Field, which was in no condition for spectacular football.

The ball carriers, as a rule, were stopped short on account of the treacherous footing and, as a result, neither side was able to gain much yardage. Most of the play was in midfield, but on a few occasions the two combatants menaced each other's goal line. In each case the line stiffened and held the opposition on downs.

Ken Dimond's proteges tried hard to win their second consecutive victory over the Red and Black warriors, but were unable to get a break during the contest.

The Red and White will play at Audubon Friday and will meet Moorestown on the Palmyra field Monday afternoon.

The lineup:

Haddonfield		Palmyra
Hopkins	left tackle	Showell

Pennsylvania Colleges Have Moorestown Football Stars

"Coop" French Penn State's Lone Luminary in Battle With Notre Dame; "Charley" Haines Plays Big Part in Schuylkill's Suprise Victory

Moorestown enjoyed a place of prominence among the stars of college football last Saturday. Two Moorestown boys, Cooper French and Charles Haines, covered themselves with glory on collegiate gridirons.

For the second time this year French shone brilliantly on Franklin Field, Philadelphia. He was the lone star for Penn State, as the Lions were defeated 9-0 by Notre Dame.

"At only one stage of the afternoon was Penn State really in the game," said one paper, "and Cooper French, sophomore quarterback, was the lad who gave the Lions their chance. French is a brother of Walter French, erstwhile Athletics' outfielder, who himself was a fine gridman when a cadet at West Point.

"The younger French, a Moorestown youth, turned the early tide of battle from a Penn State rout to a real contest. Two dazzling dashes by him that were good for 44 and 40 yards, respectively, changed the complexion of the contest completely for a spell early in the second quarter.

"His second sortie placed the pigskin just 11 yards from the Notre Dame goal line and sent Penn State hopes soaring. Those same hopes were dashed just as suddenly as they had risen, for three running plays netted only 5 yards and a fourth-down forward pass grounded over the goal line to give the Irish the leather on their own 20-yard stripe.

"Although the youthful French's two beautiful ball-carrying exploits counted for naught, they were exceptional efforts, the only bright spots in an otherwise impotent and drab Penn State offensive.

"The statistical story of the struggle reveals how completely Notre Dame's attack was superior to that of State. The Irish gained seventeen legitimate first downs during the course of the battle and won three more with the aid of penalties. On the other hand, State moved the sticks just twice—that is, French did it—and gained one other first down from a penalty.

"The running attack of Rockne's Ramblers reeled off a grand total of 293 yards, as against 112 for Penn State. And French, in two tries, gained 84 of the Lions' yards."

Another sports writer who said "Bezdek replaced J. Miller with Cooper French for several reasons, as real football blood courses through the veins of the French family," also wrote:—

"State College's conspicuous figure was Cooper French, who in brains and skill outranked everybody else on the team. As soon as he jumped into the game, the tide immediately turned and with two long runs he gained eighty-one yards.

"He was always a triple threat. He would run, kick or pass. Once he was standing back and the Notre Dame safety man sprinted toward his backfield thinking French would pass or run. French quickly divined his object and instead of running or passing, he suddenly made a quick kick and booted the ball far over the safety man's head for one of the longest kicks of the game.

"French was the only big ground gainer and Hamas, Wolff and Diedrich could never get loose. They were nearly always smeared at the expense of trifling gains."

Haines was a big figure in Schuylkill's surprise 10-7 victory over Temple College at the new $150,000 Schuylkill stadium, Reading.

"One of the papers reports the fine work of "Charley" as follows:—

"Schuylkill, outplaying Temple consistently, came back in the third period and Charley Haines, young freshman star, tied the count when he broke through tackle from the 5-yard line.

"The teams battled desperately after the score had been deadlocked. Temple opened a baffling aerial attack in the final quarter and completed six straight passes, carrying the ball from its 15-yard line to Schuylkill's 40-yard line. The advance was checked, however, when Haines intercepted a pass on his 25-yard line. That interception started Schuylkill on its winning march, which was terminated by Boyle's field goal."

FLORENCE EASY FOR RIVERTON

Wagner, Playing First Game With Riverton, Proves Big Factor in Victory

Riverton A. A. defeated Florence A. C., of Florence, at Riverton Memorial Park, on Saturday, November 3 by a 26-14 score. The starting lineup for Riverton was as follows: Steedle, left end; Hagatoz, left tackle; Schuler, left guard; L. Reeves, center; Filetz, right guard; Gerkins, right tackle; Merrill, right end; Reeves, quarterback; Perkins, left halfback; Wagner, right halfback and Anderson, fullback.

The field was wet and a drizzling rain fell all during the game, but to those who witnessed it, the game was a success, as it was a hard fought, clean game of football.

Wagner made his debut with Riverton and scored three of their four touchdowns, Anderson scored the other. Anderson played his usual bang-up game along with the rest of the team, who showed an improvement over previous games both offensively and defensively.

The team has now played four games, losing the first to Riverside Little Green, 13-0, tieing the second with Beverly Red Jackets 6-6 and winning the third and fourth 20-13 against Roebling Bull Dogs and 26-14 against Florence A. C.

The feature run of the game was made by Florence's right halfback who intercepted a lateral pass and ran 50 yards for a touchdown. Riverton then scored, Wagner taking it through center for 10 yards.

Florence was next to score on a series of end runs and line bucks.

Downs who replaced Perkins played an excellent game at halfback. With the aid of Wagner and Reeves, Anderson took the ball over for Riverton.

The next two touchdowns were made by Wagner after the "Four Horsemen" had taken the pigskin close to the opponents goal line. One of these two touchdowns had to be taken over three times to prove it was good. First Florence claimed off sides, then out of bounds, so Wagner took it through center for the third time to add 6 points to Riverton's score.

Next week we have McCoy's Cardinal Jrs., so come out and support your home team.

PALMYRA LEADS HOCKEY LEAGUE

Defeat Haddonfield 5 to 2 in Thrilling Contest Last Wednesday

Palmyra High School's Maroon and White hockey team romped to an impressive victory over Haddonfield High and took command of the South Jersey hockey circuit in a game played at Palmyra last Wednesday afternoon. The victory was registered with a 5-2 score.

These rivals were heretofore undefeated after four straight conquests and a crowd of more than 500 persons saw them struggle for the league lead.

A dazzling brand of team play, featuring the combined work of the entire forward defense, proved the outstanding factor in the victory, although the Misses Grace Kersey, Cornelia Harding and Gertrude "Bee" Burr shared the spotlight with Captain "Kitty" Burr.

Haddonfield Star

Dorothy Hargrove, of Haddonfield, was the sparkler for the losing eleven, tallying both of the team's goals, one in each half.

The Haddonfield High girls hardly had a chance against the hustling offensive of Palmyra High. A 3-1 edge in the first half was boosted to a 5-2 advantage before the final whistle. The victory was as decisive as the figures indicate though the strenuous combat caused minor injury to three of the participants.

"Bee" Burr started Palmyra off toward the triumph when she scored the first goal shortly after the game began. Cornelia "Cornie" Harding hammered across another tally before "Dot" Hargrove broke through for the initial Haddonfield counter. Grace Kersey boosted the Palmyra edge to 3-1 before the half ended.

Miss Hargrove cut the lead again for Haddonfield, but Miss Harding added another Palmyra goal to the score as the second half wore on. Following this goal Captain "Kitty" Burr, of Palmyra, "used her head" to prevent another Haddonfield marker after a visiting player drove a hard liner in the direction of the goal posts. The local field leader was "knocked out" for a brief period, but resumed play. Miss Kersey took a pass from a teammate and scored the final goal of the game.

Miss Kersey suffered injury to her left hand again following her last goal. She had been injured in practice some time ago, but when an opposing player accidentally struck her with the stick she was forced to retire from play.

Miss Alma Savage, Haddonfield captain and centre forward, nearly fainted during the exciting first half, but she was revived and resumed play.

Splendid Team Work

The team work of the Palmyra team was a strong factor in the victory. Miss Violet Wallace drove in several passes from her wing post and aided the forward wall in driving through the invading defense.

The summary:

Haddonfield		Palmyra High

PEMBERTON LOSES TO MOORESTOWN

Isenberg's Machine Crushes Undefeated Eleven, 25-0; Play Palmyra Monday

Unleashing an attack that swept everything before it, Paul Isenberg's Moorestown High machine crushed a previously undefeated Pemberton High eleven under a score of 25 to 0 Friday afterndon at Pemberton.

With Bill Cussworth and Johnny Fountain as the principal ball carriers, the local boys completely upset the dope by crashing over four touchdowns on the Pemberton aggregation, Cussworth and Fountain each accounting for a pair of six-pointers.

The first half was a fairly even battle with a touchdown in the opening period by Cussworth being the only score made. He made this score on an eight-yard off-tackle plunge.

In the second half, however, Moorestown opened up with a brilliant display of forward passes and open formations that Pemberton found impossible to stop. Soon after the third period got under way, Cussworth threw a short pass to Fountain, who scampered over the goal line for the score. Later in the period, Fountain ended a Moorestown march by crashing through centre for 10 yards and another touchdown.

The final score came in the fourth quarter, Cussworth dashing through right tackle for 13 yards and another six-pointer. Only one of the extra points after touchdowns was successful, Cussworth making this in the third period on a drop-kick.

Pemberton had only one real chance to score, this coming in the second period when end runs by "Hank" Worrell brought the ball to the Moorestown 10-yard line. Here the Isenberg line refused to give way and Pemberton lost the ball on downs.

Worrell proved the star of the game for the defeated eleven. He was stopped, however, when in Moorestown territory.

Fountain and Cussworth proved a great pair of offensive backfield men for the Isenberg eleven, and would take turns ripping off huge gains against the Pemberton line. Their forward pass act also was good, and was used consistently to gain around midfield. On the line, the work of Captain Johnny McCann was outstanding.

Moorestown will play an Armistice Day game with Palmyra High at Palmyra Monday afternoon.

MINERAL PRODUCTS INCREASE

The total value of all New Jersey's mineral products in 1926 was $90,008,915, the greatest amount in all the history of the state, according to a report compiled by Meredith E. Johnson, assistant state geologist, from figures collected by the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development and the United States Department of Commerce. As the corresponding figure for 1925 was $85,259,450, there was an increase above that year of $4,749,465. It is pointed out in the report that the chief items of raw products involved in this total were sand and gravel, of which 4,935,934 short tons were produced, valued at $3,680,064; stone, of which 2,315,450 short tons were produced, valued at $3,602,343; 342,586 short tons of clay sold as clay, valued at $1,463,288, and 212,152 long tons of iron ore, with a value of $925,403. DELIVERING MILK IS "MERCANTILE"

Supervising Principal,
Riverton, N. J.

My dear Miss Chew:

This is to acknowledge your letter of the 2nd inst. inquiring as to whether a boy 12 years of age, who is engaged in delivering orders of milk for a farmer living outside of Riverton, can be considered as an agricultural employee, so as to constitute an exception to the Age and Schooling Certificate requirement.

In our opinion such work as you describe, namely, serving milk to various customers in Riverton, is mercantile rather than agricultural employment and therefore subject to the requirement that the child be at least fourteen years of age and possess an Age and Schooling Certificate. The Labor Law in our opinion was intended to exempt workers on farms in the true sense of the word and not such employees as you describe.

Very truly yours,
C. J. STRAHAN,
Assistant Commissioner.

Copies of the above letter were sent to the employer and the parents of the child, and the employment ceased.

Health

The annual Medical Inspection has been completed, and reports of physical defects have been mailed to parents, as soon as Dr. Rogers' reports have come back to the school, with a special request for prompt action in securing medical advice. Reports will be made from time to time as to results obtained.

The school is at work. Our first tests have been met, and teachers and pupils are trying to solve their problems. On the whole the spirit is excellent. The new report cards are provoking some real thinking on the part of teachers, children, and parents. We shall make some changes in the forms to better meet our school organization, along the lines of manual training and art, and after a year's trial may find ome other ways in which improvement can be made. This is a subject for study this year. Notwithstanding the additional work, the teachers have all expressed themselves as finding this type of report far more valuable to the individual child. We have tried to explain the report form to the children, and will discuss it with the parents at the next Parent-Teachers' Meeting.

The month of October has been full of Educational Meetings of various kinds. College courses for teachers at the universities and extension courses at Moorestown, and Pensauken are being attended by some of our teachers.

All our teachers subscribed to a short term course of two lectures to be given at Burlington by Dr. McMurry and Dr. Kilpatrick, internationally known educators of Teachers' College, Columbia. A lecture course given under the auspices of "The Philadelphia Parents' League" and "The Child Guidance Bureau" on the subject "Personality Growth in Children," has attracted three of our corps. The lectures are nationally known psychiatrists from New York City.

The Burlington County Institute was held at Florence October 25th. All teachers were in attendance for full-time sessions. The work done centered about the new monograph on "The Teaching of English," which was discussed by groups of grade teachers working under County leaders selected at a meeting of the County Supervisors held at Mt. Holly.

At the general session, Mr. Ernest Townsend, newly appointed Assistant Commissioner for Elementary Schools, was introduced. Mr. Townsend succeeded Dr. West, who is the first in the state to be appointed Assistant Commissioner in charge of Teacher Training.

A survey of the New Jersey State School System was ordered by the State Legislature last winter, and $50,000 appropriated for that purpose. Notice was received in the form of a circular letter from the Commissioner of Education to all County and City Superintendents and Supervising Principals that said survey would be conducted during the months of October and November by a commission, under the direction of Dr. Harlan Updegraff, of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Eliot asked for the co-operation of all public school officials.

A questionnaire was sent to all Supervising Principals on October 11, relating to personal experience, education, etc. This was followed by an invitation to a conference October 29, at which time suggestions were invited as to ways of improving the school system.

The State Teachers' Association will hold its annual meeting in Atlantic City, November 10, 11, 12 and 13. November 12th, the most important day of the session, is a holiday, so that MORE no absence from school will be asked for by classroom teachers, who are not especially interested in the business session.

Respectfully submitted,
HANNAH H. CHEW,
Supervising Principal.

MARLTON NOTES

A meeting to reorganize the Marlton Y. M. C. A. was held in the community house on Monday evening of last week. The meeting was largely attended and much interest was shown. Benjamin Roberts is leader of the older group and Harold Vansant leader for the younger group. The older group organized with the following officers: President, Alfred Middleton, Jr.; vice-president, Henry B. Dunphey, Jr.; secretary, Rudolph Snyder; treasurer, Ralph Clymer.

The annual oyster supper and bazaar of Marlton Baptist Church will be held in the community house on Saturday evening, November 24. This is one of Marlton's big yearly events. The reputation of this supper and bazaar is known far and wide and is largely attended every year. Keep the date in mind and make no other engagements.

The Marlton Branch of the Needlework Guild wil hold its annual meeting and collection of garments on November 8, at two o'clock, at the home of Mrs. Rebecca Evens. Everyone is invited and welcome to attend.

The Hallowe'en supper and frolic, given by Marlton Home and School Association, in Community House Friday evening, October 26, was, as usual, one of the big events of the year. The supper was one of those wonderful roast pork feats with all that goes with it (and plenty of it) that Marlton cooks so well know how to prepare and serve. The Hallowe'en frolic that followed the supper furnished much enjoyment. The following were the awards:

Clown, Charles Blakley; best comic, George White; most original, Mary Horner; prettiest (a bride), Mary Brick; youngest, Jean Vansant; best boy in girl's attire, Ralph Middleton; best girl in boy's attire, Dorothy Anderson; foreign costume, Royden Jones; colored, Dorothea Wills; impersonation (Felix the cat), Wilbert Blakley; best couple (pumpkins), Bertha and Verna Horner.

AN EXPLANATION

KRIMMER CLOTH IS SMART

Long time since we've seen coats of krimmer cloth, but they are "in" again. One smart, Scotch-looking model on Fifth Avenue possessed a short black krimmer jacket worn over a plaid frock of crimson wool banded in krimmer. Gray krimmer over matching gray cloth is also shown.

MOORESTOWN "AG" JUDGES TRIUMPH

High School Boys Make Perfect Score in Apple Contest

The annual State Agricultural Judging Contest for high schools was held at the Agricultural College at New Brunswick Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week.

Moorestown was represented with its usual strong and well-trained teams, each of which did commendable judging. The apple judging and identification team placed first in the State for the third consecutive year in judging and identifying apples.

The team was composed of Aloys Kensler, George Hoehn, and Bertrand Stow. In identifying fifty specimens of apples each member of the team made a perfect score. This is the best record ever made in the State contests.

In the combined judging and identifying the team made a total score of 5,400 points out of a possible 6,000.

The dairy cattle judging team, composed of Aubrey Walton, Samuel Mathis, and Horace Juliana, placed first in the judging of Holstein cattle.

The potato judging team, which placed first in the State last year, again made a very satisfactory showing by ranking in the upper quarter of the State.

The entire team was much interested in the contest and worked untiringly in preparation for the fine showing made.

The boys were at the New Jersey Agricultural College for three days and had an opportunity to observe the work of the College and the experiment station. Four former students of the local agricultural course are now students at the College and helped entertain the visiting team.

TREATMENT

Two friends who had not met for a long time sat in a restaurant talking.

"How is old Snaggs, the company promoter, getting on?" inquired one.

"Oh, he's not been feeling very well lately," was the reply. "He has to keep to a very strict diet—just a little of certain special food."

"What's wrong with him?" queried the other. "Indigestion? Insomnia?"

"No. In prison."

SUMMER HOUSEKEEPING

Paper table "sets" are of attraction this year that the porch or garden luncheon may practically eliminate the laundry problem and still have dignity and attractiveness. They come in gayly printed patterns of line-like texture, napkins and matching cloths. Ordinary wooden tables and kitchen chairs, gayly painted, and peasant pottery make outdoor dining attractive. If one has a large garden, a barbecue pit adds much to the fun. Rough tone seats are set about a semi-circular hollow where the grate is placed in one garden. Table and umbrella sets in modernistic design may be set up anywhere in a small garden, or on an unroofed porch or roof.

WINTER DOLMAN

A gorgeously luxurious brown transparent velvet evening dolman is lined thrdughout with soft blonde fur. The collar of the dolman is fringe made of tiny strips of the velvet.

HOUSE PLANTS

Keep the dirt loosened and cultivated around house plants. Put them into the tub for a shower bath about once a week and feed them a little fertilizer occasionally.

Electricity, The Civilizer

More than any other single agency, electricity is responsible for our modern social and industrial order.

There is almost no comparison between the modern home and that of 50 years ago. Electric lights, vacuum cleaners, stoves, almost endless labor-saving devices have transformed it into a model of comfort and convenience. The old drudgery of house work has disappeared and in its place is new ease and efficiency.

Before electric power was harnessed industry was largely a matter of strong arms and backs. The possible productiveness of a laborer was limited to his physical power.

The modern worker, in contrast, with electric power at his beck and call, can do many times the amount of work and do it better and with less effort.

As a result of his tremendously increased productivity, he is able to command wages that give him living conditions, pleasures and luxuries formerly undreamed-of.

Today electricity is making its way in a new field, that of agriculture. What it has done in the past 20 years for industry and the city home, it is now doing for farming and the farm home. Electrically-operated machines and devices replace laborious hand work and operate at a low cost with unparalleled efficiency.

Electricity has been more than a mere aid in performing necessary functions. It has proven a great civilizer as well.

Known and Unknown Soldiers

Again we are to celebrate Armistice Day. Already the war is almost forgotten; America is back to peace-time conditions of prosperity; the wounds of conflict have healed swiftly, and former foes are friends.

Many are the persons the world over, however, who are still grieved because of the loss of their nearest and dearest, a loss that no circumstance can make less tragic. It is those who live, whose loved ones laid down their lives for their countries, who are the sufferers. Their sorrow shall last the length of their lives, and on Armistice Day it is only fitting to give thought to them and their noble sacrifices.

The symbol of the Unknown Soldier is beautiful, his grave a fit shrine for all who love America. Armistice Day should be marked with the utmost respects to those who perished in the conflict, identified and unidentified. But our respects must also be paid to these known "soldiers" who are our neighbors—the mother whose son gave all, the father who mourns the loss of his boy, the widowed wives and fatherless children of American soldiers.

On Armistice Day, in addition to expressing our boundless joy at the present state of peace and amity between nations, we must give a thought to these known "soldiers," and do what we can to alleviate their pain and soften the sting of their memories. They deserve not alone our sympathy, but also our whole-hearted respect and love.

A New Safety First Movement

Now a new Safety First movement has begun. Lieutenant Herbert R. Schaeffer of the United States Navy points to the fact that because small towns have not visible markings that enable a passing aviator to identify them that many accidents occur, as the aviator is compelled to fly low to see what town he is passing. It is when airplanes are flying low that most air accidents occur.

Rural communities should provide for airplanes just as they are now providing for automobiles. When a tourist enters a town, a signboard welcomes him and gives him the name of the town; when he leaves, another tells him what town he is leaving. All along the road, he is kept posted as to just where he is—why not let the aviator known where he is, too?

If the name of the town were painted in large letters on the roof of the railroad station, or some other means of identification were worked out, the aviator would have a much easier time in locating himself. As it is, leaving a big town many aviators get lost.

Large arrows, pointed toward the town, could be placed in the lanes of traffic depending upon the direction of flight that is used the most. Below the large arrows in white letters: "This way to, etc." "Straight ahead to, etc. Air Port." Surely progressive communities will respond to this idea.

The autoists are being taken care of—now to take care of the aviators!

Public Must Combat Crime

"The reduction of crime depends not so much upon prosecuting officials and courts as it does upon the attitude of the people," said Silas H. Strawn, President of the American Bar Association, recently. "When prosecutors and courts and juries know that the people are watching them, they realize that the public conscience has been awakened to action, and they are more apt to do their duty. Thus, in the final analysis, the responsibility for the reduction of crime rests with the people."

Before any great change or reform can be instituted it must have a background of public interest and activity. A lax public consciousness must inevitably result in reaction or retrogression.

It is apparent that today the majority of the public looks upon crime as something apart from its own concern. The interest taken in important cases is mainly either morbid, or that of a sentimental minority of professional salvationists and sob-sisters who make martyrs of the most hardened criminals.

There is very little real, intelligent public concern over our "crime waves." There is practically no concerted public action to stop them. The result is, naturally, more crime and less regard for law.

Our entire system suffers from a superabundance of red tape. Complicated, unnecessary laws often allow criminal cases to be drawn out, through the medium of delays and "appeals," over a long period, and eventually, in many instances, justice is circumvented altogether.

And if convicted, the criminal has ready resource to parole boards, pardon laws, good conduct reductions of sentence, appeals and other means to effect his liberty, with the aid of well meaning but often misguided reformers. In one state it has been said that a sentence of "life imprisonment" means, on the average, about five years. Mr. Strawn's remarks, coming from a high authority, are worth regarding. They indicate that the fault and the cure lie with the public.

Debunking Politics

"The Radio Has Debunked Politics"—this was the verdict of both Senator Moses and Pat Harrison in the concluding weeks of the Presidential campaign.

The extensive use of the radio in the past campagin has given practically all the people the opportunity of hearing the candidates discuss the issues.

The candidates, instead of being far-off, legendary figures, became real live, close, familiar persons when their voices issued from the multitudinous number of loud speakers the country over.

The words they uttered were not presented in printed form alone—their words were heard, every vibration of their voices reached into the homes of American voters. The "air" has worked marvels in this campaign.

The speakers, knowing well that their voices would be heard throughout the length and breadth of the land, have weighed their utterances carefully, and taken pains to deliver addresses marked by high-mindedness and intellectuality.

Their opportunities are broadened—one man today may deliver his message to millions of persons at the same time, instead of to a mere handful of local citizens. And everyone is in a position to know what is going on in politics by simply "tuning in" on the radio. To give some idea of the extent to which radio was used in this campaign, the most modest estimate indicates an expenditure of $600,000 by the Democratic Party on radio "time" and the expenditure of a like amount by the Republican Party.

Prevention Better Than Cure

A smoldering cigarette butt, a match dropped into a waste-paper basket, an iron left heating on the board, a discarded pile of dirty, greasy rubbish, or endless other such petty risks caused by carelessness, may be the means of transforming a home or factory or office building into a smoking ruin.

A large majority of homes have fire hazards that can be removed with a small amount of work or at slight cost. Poor wiring, carelessly handled heating and electrical devices and collections of rubbish are among the most common risks and account for many serious conflagrations. The danger lies in these everyday risks being overlooked or disregarded.

Fire is practically entirely preventable. Authoritative estimates state that 80 per cent. of all fires result from carelessness or ignorance. With a little caution and understanding of possible hazards, homes and buildings can be protected. Preventing fire is better than trying to repair damage.

Accidents Expensive

While humanitarian reasons should be sufficient to make accident reduction an important factor in every business organization, there is, in addition, the fact that accidents cost industry approximately $5,000,000,000 annually.

An authority on the subject states that 88 per per cent. of all industrial accidents can be prevented through enforcement of proper safety rules and that 10 per cent. result from improper physical conditions in plants. Unpreventable accidents constitute only two per cent. of the total.

Modern Airports

One of the superior features to be found in all new American airports, which are being governed by uniform specifications drawn up by the Department of Commerce, will be paved landing strips, roadways and aprons in front of hangars.

Will Rogers Says:

The future of the Anti-Bunk Party is uncertain, according to Will Rogers, its candidate for President.

"Both the other parties are paying off with nothing but thanks," says Rogers, "so I am not going to send any more thanks to my supporters. There is enough people now trying to live on thanks. In fact, that's about all the farmers will have to live on for the next four years.

"It was the silent vote that elected me and the loud vote that kept our other opponents out. But I promised faithfully when this campaign got going that if elected I would resign and that's the only campaign promise I am going to stick to.

They talk about a man not being a good citizen if he don't vote. If everybody didn't vote then none of the candidates could be elected and that would be the end of politics and we could just go out and hire some good man to run the country.

"I am not saying yet what I will do in 1932, but I may jump to the Congressional Record. They have made me some very attractive offers to handle my next campaign. They claim they can give me plenty of space. As the election is over the members won't have to start electioneering in the Senate and House for a couple of years.

"We went into this campaign to drive the bunk out of politics but our experiment, while noble in motive, was a failure. Anyway, here is good luck from the only cheerful loser in the race."

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Milk

Milk is perhaps the most ideal food for a human being. It is our only food in infancy and a food too little used by adults. It has been called "the perfect food."

It is a food, however, that is hard to keep, for it readily spoils at too great a temperature.

We have preserved all other kinds of foods, we have salted fish, canned vegetables and fruit, canned meat and smoked ham.

In 1851 a man went to England with a meat biscuit he had invented. On the ship on which he traveled there were cows to give fresh milk. At that time most vessels resembled floating barnyards, that is, most vessels that pretended to give human comfort. The inventor observed on his return trip home in the summer that the cows were sea sick, the milk was bad and many babies died.

Coming home he devised a process of canning milk and saving it. After much difficulty the enterprise was successful.

It grew to great proportions during the Civil War, when the government bought the entire output of his factories.

Since then preserved milk has been a boon to all explorers whether in the frozen regions of the north or in darkest Africa.

Herbert Hoover preserved the lives and health of some 1,300,000 Belgian children by condensed milk.

Our own Mr. Strauss has proved himself a public benefactor by supplying pure milk for babies.

Any traveler in Europe is familiar with the dirty milk that is supplied everywhere from milkman's cans. These have been replaced almost entirely in America by the bottle.

Still about 6,000,000 children in the United States between the ages of two and fourteen are undernourished. They are stunted for lack of proper food, usually for lack of milk. The various companies handling milk have done much good by disseminating knowledge as to the value of pure milk. Pure milk has as much to do with preventing infant mortality as any other one thing. In China, several years ago, when they had plenty of cows, they created a great civilization, now that they have cut down their forests and eaten their cows they kill as many babies as they raise. You cannot bring up a child, with success, on tea.

The health departments in the various cities which are insisting on pure milk and the companies which owe their success to the distribution of pure milk, deserve encouragement. Nothing could be of more importance to the public health than the maintenance of a supply of pure milk.

PEACE AND GOOD WILL AMONG MEN
Romans 12:1-2, 9-21
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

ARMISTICE DAY anniversary is the time for calling attention to world peace that shall never be broken by the horrors of war. The miseries of the recent holocaust makes people more fearful than ever regarding the next one. The sentiment against war is increasing all over the earth. This feeling was very definitely expressed on August 27 when the "General Pact for the Renunciation of War," as the Kellogg multilateral treaty is called, was signed at Paris by representatives of fifteen nations. Within a week a total of thirty-three countries were for that treaty, thus placing more than half of the world on the side of other methods than war with which to settle international differences. Such developments are in perfect accord with the clear teachings in the Holy Bible, which is the greatest Peace Book that the world has produced.

The book of Romans is divided into two clearly marked sections. The first eleven chapters deal with teachings, or doctrinal matters. Following those instructions there is a marked change with "therefore" of 12:1, and the remander of the book is rich with the practical that must follow the statement of principles. This epistle was dictated in Corinth to the brethren who were in Rome, but under the guidance of the Holy Spirit is also intended for those in every age and country.

Because Jehovah has been so gracious in his bestowal of countless mercies we are commanded to give ourselves without any reservation to Him that we may thus in turn be helpful to the citizenry of the whole earth. Since the mind controls matter the heart of the method is reached when we are told that we can be transformed only by the "renewing of your mind." When we think and will differently we will act accordingly. The real objective is to "prove what is the good and acceptable and perfect will of God." Not what we may think, but what He desires.

Though verses 3-8 are omitted in the lesson text, they are a part of the study. Individuals and nations too often give excessive thought to themselves. There are always others who are making great progress in doing really worth while things. The traveler may boast about "my country" when he starts on a long sea voyage, but as he learns about progress in other lands while en route he acquires greater respect for those of different nations and begins to think in world terms.

"LOVE" is the motive (verse 9) that furnishes different glasses with which to look at our fellow nationals. Read each word and phrase with care. There is profound instruction in every verse. When we are "tenderly affectioned" we will hold the other in "honor" and will "abhor that which is evil" and "cleave to that which is good" in dealing with mankind everywhere, at home as well as abroad. Then the alphabetical order which was used in signing that treaty on August 27 may be laid aside in order to show special honor to a small sized, but well deserving country.

The very opposite of selfishness and self interest is implied in such words as "not slothful; fervent in spirit; serving the Lord." Laziness keeps us from "going over," which is the meaning of "fervent."

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M.D.

LIVER

Said to be beneficial in certain grave disorders, one of which is pernicious anaemia, generally regarded as incurable, on account of the cause being indeterminable. So far, the use of liver in this condition is still in the experimental stage; next year we may find that we are mistaken—it's so easy to err, you know.

Fifty years ago the rural dwellers in some of our Atlantic states made "dried liver" a part of their winter store of animal foods—and they regarded it as a delicacy—even an essential to a well-kept pantry. Dried same as we cure dried beef. And, we know those old fellows lived out a goodly term of years, for some reason or other; they must have lived pretty sanely.

Modern science has gone so far as to advise raw liver, to be used much as a medicine for anaemia. Even an attempt at accurate dosage has been made—and some very favorable results recorded. I have had no practical experience in this new procedure, but, when I see an article in a reliable medical publication I read it carefully. You might, with benefit do the same; there are yet many things to learn.

More than a year ago, I purchased a preparation called "liver substance", to be used hypodermatically for high blood pressure, which it was claimed could be reduced promptly by its use. As I could not find out exactly how the substance acted after injection, I was so very low about trying it, that I have the stuff on hand to this very day; experiments do not appeal to me very strongly—perhaps I'm over-cautious.

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror October 31, 1878

Samuel Semple & Son, of Mount Holly, received a bronze medal at the Paris exposition for their famous spool cotton.

The sloop Favorite, Capt. Phil Costil, of Lumberton, capsized and sank at Shackamaxon wharf, Philadelphia, during the storm on Wednesday. She was raised on Saturday, but was found to be badly wrecked and is a total loss.

The 49th annual meeting of the New Jersey Baptist Convention opened at the Mount Holly Baptist Church on Monday evening, Rev. J. K. Manning, of Keyport, preaching the sermon. The old officers were re-elected as follows: President, Judge Buchanan; vice-presidents, G. S. Webb, J. M. Carpenter; secretary, Henry F. Smith; treasurer, S. Van Wickle.

At the Baltimore races on Saturday, after the Duke of Magenta won the Breckenridge stakes, he was bought by Pierre Lorillard, of the Jobstown stock farm, for $20,000. The Duke will be sent to England for the English races.

A week or two ago the Mirror made reference to rugs that are manufactured at Birmingham, this county. We visited the factory a few days ago and found it to be a flourishing establishment, managed by Alex. Sinclair. They made Axminster carpet, which until a few years ago all was imported, and tapestry carpets.

A few days ago Elisha Barkalow, of Moorestown, slaughtered a seven-year Alderney cow, the carcass of which contained 213 pounds of rough fat.

Dr. Francis Ashhurst, of Mount Holly, has been appointed physician to the Children's Home.

Toll on the Bordentown and Crosswicks turnpike has been reduced to one cent per mile.

The DeCou farm, near Yardville, 258 acres with considerable improvements, has been sold by executors at $60 per acre. That price is considered to be very low.

While Howard Miller, who lives near Ellisdale, was leading a cow past a barn on his farm during the recent heavy storm, the building blew over and buried man and cow. Mr. Miller was seriously injured and the cow killed.

The first telephone in practical use in Mount Holly has been put up by Charles Sailer. It connects Dr. Francis Ashhurst's residence out Garden street with his office near the west end of the same street. The distance is about three-quarters of a mile and the line works perfectly.

Smith New Congressman

H. B. Smith, of Smithville, candidae for Congressman, received a majority of about 1,200 in this county at the election yesterday over Dr. J. Howard Pugh, Republican candidate. Conover, Dem., is elected sheriff by 34 majority, and Deacon, Dem., is elected county clerk. Theodore B. Gaskill, Rep., was re-elected steward of the almshouse.

The Presbytery of Monmouth, in session at Bordentown, adopted the following resolution: "That in view of the great evils of intemperance, in the judement of this Presbytery it is inconsistent with their Christian profession for members of our churches to sign applications for the licensing of taverns or saloons."

On Saturday Sheriff Lee sold the hotel of Samuel F. Pancoast, in Vincentown, to Elizabeth W. Bennett for $3,550.

ONLY $5,000 TO THE LORD.

OUR DESCENDANTS.

LINCOLN'S SHORT LETTER.

"ONLY A COLD."

Mrs. E. S. Dodge dies leaving one million. Nineteen thousand dollars go to friends, $5,000 to a Presbyterian church, the balance to relatives. Five thousand dollars out of $1,000,000 given to the Lord seems small. In old days, when heaven and hell were taken more literally, it would have been thought wise to give $900,000 of the $1,000,000 to religion and make sure of salvation.

But in this agnostic day many feel that the Lord does not need money, especially as He could create any amount of it by an easy miracle, whereas relatives and educational institutions DO need money, and can't perform miracles.

That a son is born to Princess Michael Cantacuzene in Chicago means little to the average, but a great deal to a few old men of the Grand Army, who know that Princess Cantacuzene is General Grant's granddaughter.

The only immortality of which we are certain, apart from the certainty of religious faith, is the immortality of our descendants. Each may live for thousands of years in his descendants. You that read this are descended from men that were alive on earth 500,000 years ago.

What our descendants will be we cannot guess.

General Grant, before opportunity came and people wondered why he didn't keep "sober," little thought that he would be the great-grandfather of a son of a Russian prince.

Descendants of Astors, Vanderbilts and Rockefellers will beg their bread a thousand years hence if begging still prevails.

Descendants of Jhenghis, Timur and Attila are among Mongolian laborers now scattered through Asia.

The Triennial Protestant Episcopal Convention in Washington is urgently requested to recognize faith cures. In such cures the patient helps himself by believing that someone else will help him. Faith can do many things. A man was bound to a chair, his feet put in hot water, and told that his feet would be cut by a razor. The back of a razor was drawn across the soles of his feet. Not a drop of blood was shed, but he died. What can kill can cure.

Some doctors wisely believe that faith healing should be used to help nervous patients.

On Jun 12, 1848, Abraham Lincoln wrote to William H. Herndon a short letter, telling what he thought about Zachary Taylor's prospect of election. The letter was sold yesterday for $3,000.

Lincoln, thirty-seven years old when he wrote that letter, would have been amazed had he known what would happen to it.

At that time he would have been glad to get the job in the Interior Department for which he applied unsuccessfully. Fortunately he didn't get it, for it might have taken him out of politics.

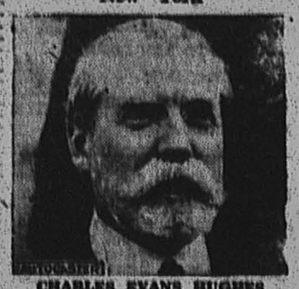

What is foolishly described as "only a cold," is the most harmful of diseases, causing a loss of hundreds of millions a year in wages. And what is worse, it weakens the system, exposing it to attack from diseases that destroy life—pneumonia, diphtheria, heart disease and a dozen others.

FAMOUS LAWYER SMALL TOWN BOY

Charles Evan Hughes Was Born in Glenn Falls, New York

CHARLES EVANS HUGHES

Charles Evan Hughes, the famous jurist, toward whom the entire world looks with respect and admiration, is a native of Glens Falls, N. Y., where he was born in 1862. He had a long academic career and has many degrees from various colleges. He married Antoinette Carter in 1888, and had four children, three of whom are living.

When he was admitted to the New York Bar in 1884, he already showed signs of the rare talent of leadership and judicial merit that later brought him to the forefront of present-day Americans. He divided his time between law practice and the teaching of law in universities, and in 1907 he became Governor of the State of New York, a position which he filled for two terms.

In 1910 he became an associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. In 1916 he ran for the presidency of the country, being defeated by Woodrow Wilson by a very slight majority.

He was Secretary of State in the cabinets of both Harding and Coolidge. Latterly he has been actively identified with the movement for world peace, lending his unusual ability to the solution of world problems.

Hughes is conceded by all, even by those whose politics differ from his, to be one of the most distinguished statesmen this country has ever produced. He is one of many small town boys who have come to distinction and power in the land.

HATS FOR LONG HAIR

And what do they do about hats when they wear long hair? Well, so far it isn't so easy—but at least one or two new models have been designed to fit neatly over the knob of hair nestling low on the neck. The drooping side brims are cleverly cut in back and either folded or trimmed off so that the knot of hair may show itself to nice advantage without being ruffled by the brim.

PRACTICAL WORK IN COLLEGE COURSES

A specialized course in dairy husbandry to begin on November 12 is offered by the college of agriculture, Rutgers University, reports Prof. Frank O. Helyar, director of short courses, in a recent announcement. The training for dairy farming constitutes one of the five major groups in the regular winter courses of 12 weeks' duration, which are offered free to residents of New Jersey. Intensive courses are also offered in fruit growing, dairy manufactures, vegetable gardening, and poultry husbandry.

"Graduates of the course in dairy husbandry have been successful in operating their own farms, and as superintendents and foremen for others," says Professor Helyar. "As students, these young men found much information of practical value in working with the college herd of pure-bred cattle, and in the well-equipped laboratories.

"The work is conducted on a practical basis and includes much time in the barns in the feeding and management of milk cows and calves. Emphasis is placed on factors that are important in the economical production of market milk for high quality trade. Students in this course are required to demonstrate over specified periods of time their ability to assume responsibility for the various phases of dairy cattle management.

"One of the features of the course is a dairy show at the end of the term when each student will show two animals he has fitted and trained for the ring. Prizes will be awarded for the best showman."

MOUNT HOLLY SHOULD HAVE LANDING FIELD

When S. Roger Gale, of Moorestown, vice-president of the Burlington County Aero Club, and airplane owner, was in Mount Holly last week to attend the Rotary Club meeting, he made the statement that Mount Holly should have a landing field so it could be counted in the paths of progress. Several of the Rotarians agreed with him and it may mark the beginning of a movement to have Mount Holly put on the map used by aviators. There is certainly enough vacant space around the territory to provide such

TRENTONIAN CROWDS WRONG AUTO OFF COLUMBUS ROAD

When Charles E. Westcott, Jr., of 110 Brookside avenue, Trenton, attempted to keep an automobile behind him from passing on the Columbus-Bordentown road recently, he chose the wrong time and the wrong driver for the following machine was a State police car, driven by Sergeant Hausling, of the Columbus station. According to Hausaling, Westcott's machine swerved to the wrong side of the road when he attempted to pass. The State trooper was almost forced to drive into a ditch. He arrested Westcott and Recorder Kingdon at Mount Holly fined him $5 for reckless driving.

NEW HIGHWAY TO SHORE APPROVED

Improved Road from Trenton to Shore Endorsed by State Commission

Following hearings conducted by the State Highway Commission for the alignment of the new Route 37 between Toms River and Lakehurst, and the route near Trenton from Baker's Basin to Bordentown, the board last week announced that consideration will be given to the arguments advanced before a final decision is reached.

In general, approbation was voiced for the plans made by the highway engineers for through traffic to skirt both Trenton and Toms River.

The circular or marginal road, to be known as Route 39, is to start near Baker's Basin on the Brunswick pike and pass through Mercerville and White Horse on the outskirts of Trenton. City Commissioner Abram Swan, of Trenton, said that he and the other Trenton officials believed that the marginal roadway would prove an asset to Trenton. Freeholder John L. Cretion and County Engineer Harry Harris, Mercer county, urged that Quaker Ridge road, from Clarksville to Mercerville, be included in the new alignment, but Major W. G. Sloan, the State Highway Engineer, asserted that this would not follow the provisions of the statutes.

The chief objection was voiced by the representatives of Bordentown, who expressed the fear that irreparable damage would be done to their water supply, which is drawn from Asaya Springs, near White Horse. They held that the construction of the new water supply property would lessen the flow practically 30 per cent. Colonel Thomas D. Landon, of the Bordentown Military Institute, stated that the pure water now available for Bordentown had proven an invaluable asset, and he urged that nothing be done to diminish the quantity.

The majority of the Ocean county residents were in favor of the new Route 37 alignment at Toms River. This thoroughfare will only be extended in the present planning so as to pass through Locust street instead of Washington street, in Toms River, which is now badly congested. This route will extend from Trenton to Seaside Heights and will cross Barnegat Bay on the State Bridge between Island Heights and Seaside Heights. Senator Thomas A. Mathis, of Ocean county, said that he did not favor any particular alignment, but the Freeholders of Ocean county went on record for the shifting of the centre of the Toms River business centre.

A petition was presented by 130 residents of Toms River asking that the State road be kept off Washington street because of the congestion already existing. The request was also made that the alignment be changed at the George Gaskill Dairy Farm in order that the property might not be bisected.

PLAN TO ESTABLISH COMMUNITY HOUSE

Mrs. Mitchell B. Perkins and Others Have Launched Welfare Movement in Delanco

Plans are being made by Mrs. Mitchell B. Perkins, of the St. Mihiel Drive, Beverly, and other residents of that section, to establish a community house in the Athletic Association Building in Delanco, and in order to help finance the project they gave a card party in the hall last Friday afternoon.

Bridge, pinochle and five hundred were played. Numerous handsome attendance prizes were contributed by the friends of those who are interested in the community house.

Mrs. Perkins is well-known in Burlington County. She was one of the prime movers in the organization of the Edgewater Park League of Women voters and has taken part in numerous welfare endeavors in Beverly and Edgewater Park.

GAME WARDEN'S DAUGHTER IS ILL

Wounded Officer Returns From Hospital to Find Child With Diphtheria

When Deputy Game Warden Lawrence Powell, of Camden County, left the Burlington County Hospital last week, pronounced cured from a bullet wound of the head, he reached his home in South Moorestownville to learn that his daughter, Edna, 11, was critically ill with diphtheria.

Powell had been a patient at the hospital since September 15, when he was wounded by Guiseppi De Luca, 53, a foreman employed on the Preston T. Roberts farm near Evesboro. De Luca was shot and killed by Powell in self-defense, according to the county authorities.

Powell, who is 26 years old, was operated on at the hospital as a result of a bullet splintering part of the skull. It was first believed that it would be necessary to place a silver plate in the skull, but the deputy warden recovered so rapidly that he was discharged as cured.

No action was taken against Powell by the Burlington County authorities. Detective Ellis Parker expressed an opinion that De Luca had received threats on his life from an unknown source and when he met the deputy game warden he mistook him for his enemy and opened fire on him. Powell returned fire, killing De Luca.

Because of her serious illness Powell's daughter has been removed to teh Camden Municipal Hospital.

LAKEHURST TRACT MAY BE ZEP PORT

Negotiations for Purchase of Field for Trans-Atlantic Dirigibles

Negotiations for the purchase of a 25,000-acre tract near Lakehurst by the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company are reported from Lakehurst.

The prospective purchasers plan to use the land as a port for commercial dirigibles that will ply a regular course back and forth over the Atlantic. If the plans materialize, New Jersey will be one of the greatest flying centres in the world.

The tract involved in the deal is a flat stretch of barren land located about three miles from the large naval station at Lakehurst. Officials of the Goodyear-Zeppelin were attracted by its natural facilities as a landing port on their recent inspection visit to the navy's hangar, where they examined the Graf Zeppelin.

For a time the land was leased by the Russian government for an undisclosed purpose, but it was not developed. The United States government took over the tract during the World War, with an unfulfilled plan to erect another flying station.

If the reported negotiations by the Goodyear-Zeppelin Company are carried out, the tract will probably be the home port of the two gigantic super-Zeppelins now under construction at Akron, O. The ships will be twice the size of the Los Angeles, and will be used for passenger and freight portage on air lines to Europe and South America.

NEW OAKLAND

Many New Departures Are Features of Oakland Soon to Be Shown

An entire new line of Oakland All-American Sixes, embodying exclusive style and performance features consistent with the pioneering achievements of the Oakland Motor Car Company, will go on display in the very near future, Warren W. Yenney, dealer, of Palmyra and Riverton, announced today.

While no details will be disclosed until the public showing, the new Oakland is distinctively original and different from any car now on the market, Mr. Yenney stated.

"Popular features of the first All-American Six will be combined in this latest offering, with a host of refinements in performance and body design that will make the car an outstanding attraction on the highways and boulevards of America during the coming months," he said.

"The new car represents the cumulative experience of more than twenty years of successful automobile building on the part of the Oakland Motor Car Company, plus the vast facilities of General Motors.

"Into its development have gone the pooled resources, creative ingenuity and experimental facilities of Oakland and General Motors engineers, General Motors Research Laboratories, General Motors Proving Grounds, and craftsmen of the Fisher Body organization.

"Particular interest attaches to the new All-American because of the record of the Oakland company for having introduced into the automotive field more new features than any other manufacturer. Among the Oakland-pioneered advances are four-wheel brakes, Duco finish, the harmonic balancer, the G-M-R cylinder head, foot-controlled head lights, oil filter, air cleaner and fuel pump.

"Production of the new car is now under way at the Oakland plants at Pontiac, Mich., as fast as precision manufacturing methods will permit, according to information received here from the home office. Re-tooling and re-arrangement of the assembly lines were completed several weeks ago, and finished cars are going out to dealers with utmost dispatch, so that they may have ample models on hand to assure prompt delivery when the car is publicly announced."

WOMAN WITH BROKEN NECK GIVES BIRTH TO FINE BABY

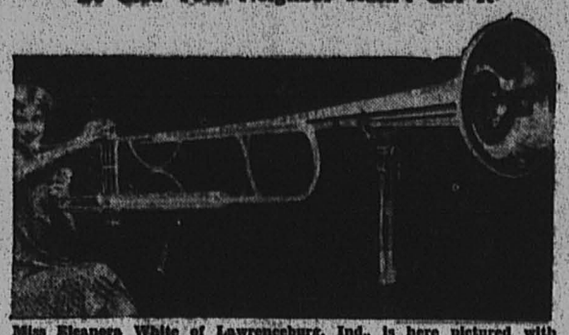

Mrs. Alfred Heaney, of Trenton, who suffered a broken neck and other serious injuries on the night of August 12, when an auto driven by her husband was in collision near Bordentown with a car occupied by Ralph DePalma, the celebrated auto racer, and his wife, was discharged from the Burlington County Hospital last week, practically cured. While a patient at the hospital she gave birth to a baby girl, weighing about four pounds, and the little one flourished from the start, being perfectly normal and showing no effects of the terrible injuries suffered by its mother.

Be Glad Your Neighbor Hasn't Got It

Miss Eleanora White of Lawrenceburg, Ind., is here pictured with what is said to be the largest trumpet ever built. It is over seven feet long and has a "bass voice." Miss White plays this huge instrument.

OVERHAUL FURNACE AND HEAT FOR LESS

Do you want to reduce your coal bill during the coming winter?

This question is raised and answered by Prof. E. R. Gross, agricultural engineer for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, who says the way to fuel economy is found in giving the furnace a general overhauling before severely cold weather sets in. This holds true regardless of whether the heating system is of the hot air, steam, or hot water type, he says, or even for the stoves that are sometimes used for heating.

"Economy in furnace operation demands," says Professor Gross, "that the fire box and heating surfaces of the outfit should be thoroughly cleaned with a scraper and wire brush. When these surfaces are heavily coated with soot, ashes, or rust, the hot gases from the fire cannot get into close contact, and much heat is lost.

"If heating is by hot water or steam the boiler should be slightly heated by a small fire in order to stir up the water and rusty sediment, and then drained. While the boiler is being heated preparatory to draining, open and clean the try-cocks at the side of the water glass, which should also be drained. It may be necessary to run a wire through the small openings in these try-cocks, pet-cocks, and the like, to loosen the sediment and thoroughly clean the passage.

"To avoid an explosion during refilling, the fire must be dumped out before the water is all drained from the boiler. When the muddy water has been drained from the system, start refilling before closing the drain cock. This will still further flush out sediment. When the water begins to run clear, close the drain, fill the boiler to proper level, according to th water glass, again test the various cocks, and then the boiler is ready for the season's run.

"This cleaning offers opportunity to discover the need of minor repairs.

"The chimney also should be inspected."

SUFFERS ALL DAY WITH BROKEN HIP

Aged Marlton Woman Injured in Fall; Her Plight Undiscovered For 24 Hours

An aged resident of Marlton is a patient at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, as the result of a peculiar accident, and while she is reported as still in a very serious condition, it is miraculous that she even lived to be brought to the hospital.

Miss Rebecca Evans, seventy-six years of age, who since the death of a brother has resided alone, went down in her cellar on Tuesday morning of last week, as near as she can recall, about 10 o'clock, her intention being as she puts it, "to clear up the cellar a bit." While engaged in stooping about to pick something, she struck her head against an old-fashioned swinging shelf with sufficient force to cause her to fall, striking on her hip.

For a time she lay more or less stunned on the cellar floor, but later she managed to drag herself to the stairway and pulling herself up one by one, she reached the top and crawled to a straight-back chair in her dining room, where she sat in painful silence the balance of the day and all night, her predicament being discovered by a neighbor about 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, just twenty-four hours from the time she met with the accident.

Miss Evans felt sure that her leg was broken, so badly did it pain her, and because she had not use of it, but at the hospital an X-ray revealed the fact that the hip was fractured.

She is now resting comfortably, but due to her age she no doubt has a long stay in bed ahead of her.

QUICK LUNCH FOR THE AIRPLANES

The automobile owner demands prompt service at the gasoline pump—and he gets it. But nowhere is speed and thoroughness so essential as on the aviation field. Particularly at the big airports, where scores of planes, flying on schedule, are constantly landing and taking off, there must be no delay in feeding these giant mechanical birds with the oil and gas they require.

What is the best way of fueling an airplane? Captain E. E. Aldrin, head of the Standard Oil Development Company's aviation activities, returned recently after an aerial survey of the country in a big 425 h. p. Wasp motored Lockheed-Vega cabin monoplane, newly acquired by the company. As a result of his observations, and interviews with leading pilots by Standard aviation representatives in the field, a definite plan for servicing airplanes has been evolved.

"Here is our idea in a nutshell," says Captain Aldrin. "For small flying fields we found that the best thing was the conventional type of gasoline pump. Small planes can easily taxi up to this point, and an overhead swing delivery gives adequate service within a radius of 15 to 25 feet. On intermediate flying fields or small airports with a few hangars the flush type of pit located between the hangar and the runway gives more convenient and accessible service.

"In large municipal airports or flying fields, of course, the problem is different. Hangars are at widely separated points and there are scores of planes taxying back and forth across the field. A pilot running on schedule wants a quick lunch for himself and his plane, and a prompt take-off. So we have provided a specially designed tank wagon and equipment for complete, efficient and speedy servive at any part of the field. We are putting this whole plan into operation throughout our entire marketing territory as fast as conditions warrant and the equipment can be gotten ready."

Captain Aldrin, who is a former army flier, explained that his company now had three different types of planes which are being used as an "air laboratory" for testing "Standard" aviation products under actual flying conditions.

PIQUANT PEPLUMS

Many evening frocks show quite dashing interpretations of the peplum. Tulle frocks lend themselves beautifully to the piquant use of this motif, while for the slinky satin gown the peplum may be gathered under a tight shaped hip yoke—one side trailing almost to the ground; the other side extremely short.

MACHINE OPERATORS ARRESTED

Slot machines, which are alleged to be gambling devices, were seized and their operators arrested by State police of this section last week. Two of the men arrested were arraigned before Recorder Kingdon and held under bail for the Grand Jury. Samuel Kline, owner of a restaurant at Medford, was arrested by Trooper Wolf and held under $100 bail. Kline is a well-known Medford athlete. Another slot machine was seized in the Crosswicks hotel of Warren Hoflick and the owner was held under $200 bail.

MT. HOLLY HOLDS BIG HALLOWE'EN PARADE

Hundreds of Mummers Big Feature of Fine October Festival at County Seat

Masked comic characters, fancily-clad cavaliers and pirates—all of the "dressed-up" folks who comprise an autumnal tribute to King Momus—joined with eight bands, many fraternal organizations and several thousand visitors Tuesday evening of last week, to make Mount Holly's 1928 Hallowe'en festival one of the greatest celebrations of its kind in the county seat.

Probably 2,500 persons were in the procession that traversed the principal streets of Mount Holly, led by Captain Robert Peacock, as marshal of the parade. Fraternal organizations, social clubs, Hallowe'en costume clubs, granges, military outfits, fire companies, Boy Scouts and automobile dealers entered into the spirit of the occasion to form the long line of march.

A creditable array of mummers comprised the most interesting sections of the parade. Practically every conceivable costume was in line with the exception of the time-honored witch, whose black cape, peaked hat and broom-handle hobby-horse has usually carried the very spirit of Hallowe'en.

With the big number of mummers and organizations in line, and the hundreds who lined the sidewalks of the town during the parade, the event was considered extremely successful, both by unofficial observers and by the committee which arranged it. Local police, assisted by State police, under Sergeant Haussling, handled traffic efficiently and there wasn't a hitch in the program.

The judges were the Rev. John W. Gummere, Mount Holly; George C. Gunn, Burlington; Mrs. Howard K. Ballinger, Pemberton; Mrs. Henry S. Herr, Moorestown; Lawrence G. Mingin, Medford.

TRIAL OF WITCH IN MOUNT HOLLY

Accused Put to Two Tests, Holy Writ and Tried in Water

Written for The Freehold Transcript By Hugh McD. Clokie

The Pennsylvania Gazette for the week of October 14 to 21, 1730, contains an account of a witch trial in West Jersey. The Gazette was at this time owned by Benjamin Franklin, and it seems probable that if the account were not actually written by him at least its ironical and racy style were due to his editing.

Saturday last at Mount Holly, about 8 miles from Burlington, near 300 People were gathered together to see an Experiment or two tried on some persons accused of Witchcraft. It seems the accused had been charged with making their Neighbor's Sheep dance in an uncommon Manner, and with causing Hogs to speak,, and sing Psalms, &c. to the great Terror and Amazement of the King's good and peaceful Subjects in this Province, and the Accusers being positive that if the Accused were weighed in Scales against the Bible, the Bible would prove too heavy for them; or that, if they were bound and put in the River, they would swim; the said Accused desirous to make their innocence appear, voluntarily offered to undergo the said Trials if two of the most violent of the Accusers would be triad with them. Accordingly the Time and Place was agreed upon and advertised about the Country; the Accusers were 1 Man and 1 Woman, and the accused the same. The Parties being met and the People got together, a grand Consultation was held, before they proceeded to trial; in which it was agreed to use the Scales first, and a Committee of Men were appointed to search the Men; and a Committee of Women to search the Women, to see if they had anything of weight about them, especially pins.

"After the Scrutiny was over, a huge great Bible belonging to the Justice of the Place was provided, and a Lane through the Populace from the Justice's' House to the Scales, which were fixed on a gallows erected for that purpose opposite to the House, that the Justice's' Wife and the rest of the Ladies might see the Trial without coming amongst the Mob, and after the manner of the the Mob, and after the Manner of Moorfields a large Ring was made. Then came out of the House a grave tall Man carrying the Holy Writ before the supposed Wizard, &c. (as solemnly as the Sword-bearer of London before the Lord Mayor. The Wizard was first put on the Scale, and over him was read a chapter out of the Books of Moses, and then the Bible was put on the other scale, (which being kept down before) was immediately let go; but to the great Surprise of the Spectators, Flesh and Bone came down plump, and outweighed the great good Book by abundance. After the same manner, the others were served ,and their Lumps of Mortality severally were too heavy for Moses and the Prophets and Apostles.

"This being over, the Accusers and the rest of the Mob, being satisfied with the Trial by Water; accordingly a most solemn procession was made to the Mill-pond; where both Accused and Accusers being stripped (saving only the Women their Shifts) were bound hand and foot, and severally placed in the Water, lengthwise, from the side of a Barge or Flat, having for Security only a Rope about the Middle of Each, that was held by someone on the Flat. The Accuser Man being thin and spare, with some difficulty began to sink at last; but the rest of them swam very light upon the Water. A Sailor in the Flat jumped upon the Back of the Man Accused thinking to drive him down to the Bottom but the Person Bound, without any help, came up some time before the other.

The Woman Accused being told that she did not sink, would be duck'd a second time; when she swam as light as before. Upon which she declared, That she believed the Accused had bewitched her to make her so light, and that she would be duck'd" a Hundred Times, but she would duck the devil out of her. The Accused Man, being surprised at his own swimming, was not so confident of his own innocence as before ,but said, If I am a Witch, it is more than I know. The more thinking part of the Spectators were of the Opinion, that any Person so bound and plac'd in the Water(unless they were mere skin and bones) would swim till their Breath was gone, and Lungs fill'd with Water. But it being the general Belief of the Populace, that the Women's Shifts, and the Garters with which they were bound help'd support them; it is said they are to be tried again the next warm Weather, naked."

Let us hope there was no more warm weather for many months.

START TO BE MADE ON COAST HIGHWAY

According to reports, all the New Jersey beach resorts from Sandy Hook to Cape May are to be linked by a series of bridges across inlets, and boulevards to be constructed in the near future, if plans to be presented at Trenton on November 19 are approved by the State Highway Commission.

A part of this project is made possible by the financial backing of Alfred I. du Pont, of Wilmington, Delaware, whose engineers have already completed plans for a span to link Anglesea and Stone Harbor, across Hereford Inlet, and another span across Townsend's Inlet, a $1,200,000 project. This also includes a bridge across Cold Spring Harbor, connecting Cape May with Wildwood Gables.

It is true that the construction of these bridges will connect the entire South Jersey resorts, but there is still that long expanse of low-lying islands and inlets from Brigantine Beach to the New Inlet at Beach Haven, and then Barnegat Inlet.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

HOME HINTS

Have you seen the new toilet accessories that are developed in colors as fresh and dainty as those of the fabrics that drape the modern bedroom?

There are mirrors and brushes, beauty boxes and manicure tools in soft tints and patterns. Some reproduce the Chinese motifs of old Ming porcelains and lacquers; others show Empire designs and colorings, and again others have floral designs.

Imagine the charm of accessories of Napoleon blue in a French pattern on a dressing table flounced in changeable taffeta. Or picture the Chintz-hung room with toilet articles in soft blue or buff, green or mauve, according to the color of the draperies! These are just a few of the decorative effects that may be obtained with the new toilet ware which, relatively speaking, is far from expensive.

JOHN J. PERSHING SMALL TOWN BOY

Famous World War General Hails from Lion County, Missouri

JOHN J. PERSHING

Nobody needs to be told who General Pershing is, but a fact not generally known is that he is a product of rural America, born at Linn County, Mo., in 1860. He attended Normal School, then graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1886.

He married the daughter of Senator Warren, of Cheyenne, Wyo., in 1905, and there were four children. His wife and three daughters, unfortunately, lost their lives in the burning of the Presidio in 1915.

His long record in the army goes back to 1886, when he was a Second Lieutenant in the 10th Cavalry, and his rise in the ranks was rapid. In the emergency of 1917 he was made a general, and in 1919 this rank was confirmed by the United States Senate, who gave him the title of "General of Armies in the United States." He retired in 1924.

His services are so numerous it would take a volume to give an adequate idea of them. His decorations and honors are so many in number the bare list would take an entire column to print. Thousands of stories has been told of his courage, of his wisdom and inspiring guidance both in Mexico and during the great conflict "over there" when he led the American Expeditionary Forces.

It is only natural to pay tribute and feel respect for such a man, and only natural for all rural Americans to be proud of his origin. A real hero, he is one of the world's makers of history!

EVER SMOKE RIPE TOBACCO CIGARS?

Maybe. But Did You Ever Buy Them for a Nickel?

Most every smoker knows that the secret of true, sweet, mellow-mild flavor in a cigar is fully ripened tobacco. The top leaves of the tobacco plant are under-ripe at harvest — they are usually bitter. The bottom leaves are over-ripe—usually "flat." The choice fully-ripe middle leaves are generally sorted out and used only in the higher priced cigars.

But here, gentlemen, is a five-center made of ripe tobacco from heart to wrapper: Havana Ribbon. Ripe tobacco!—One nickel!—Perfect smoking!—Money saving! . . . Isn't that just about the most sensational cigar news that's come your way in many a day? Grab a nickel; light out to the nearest cigar counter; light up a Havana Ribbon; and light into the neatest nickel smoke that's ever touched your lips. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

JERSEY'S FALL CROPS BEING HARVESTED

This season of the year marks the disappearance from the markets of many summer vegetables and the harvesting of fall crops in New Jersey. Nearby lima and string beans, sweet corn, tomatoes and cucumbers are practically all harvested, while such important fall vegetables as lettuce, spinach, cabbage, sweet potatoes, squash, pumpkins and turnips are now being shipped to market by New Jersey growers, the State Department of Agriculture reports.

The lima and string bean yield this fall has been below normal, due to the unfavorable weather conditions, and the supply has fallen far short of the demand. Fall lettuce is also scarce, wet weather having caused a low yield which is reported at 60 per cent. of normal, indicating a total production of 460,800 crates, as compared with last year's final estimated production of 625,000 crates. Sweet corn, tomatoes and cucumbers are about harvested as production ceases when frost arrives.

A large spinach crop is expected, with a yield of 378,000 bushels, as compared with 264,000 bushels last year. The cabbage harvest will be slightly lower than last year, with a total production of 1,428,000 bushels, as compared with 1,648,000 harvested in 1927. Other vegetable greens, as Brussels sprouts, kohl rabi, Savoy cabbage, Swiss chard and Broccoli, are also plentiful this time of the year. Cut carrots and beets are other vegetables now being marketed, the total carrot yield being estimated at 354,-900 bushels, as compared with 336,000 bushels last year, while the total production of beets is estimated at 227,-000 bushels, as compared with 245,000 bushels in 1927.

A normal sweet potato crop is also forecast with a total yield of 2,218,-000 bushels predicted, against the 1927 yield of 2,427,000 bushels. About 425 acres of celery is being grown in New Jersey this fall, with a yield of only 50 per cent. of a normal. The total estimated production is 53,125 crates, as compared with 75,000 crates last year. There has been a normal yield of squash, pumpkins and turnips, with a large supply of these vegetables being marketed.

SAVES POLICEMAN'S LIFE

Lancaster, Pa.—Russel Troup, state highway policeman, declared upon his return here from Baltimore that he owed his life to a bob-haired girl bandit who was one of a gang that kidnapped him.

The girl interceded in his behalf when death seemed certain. She told th gangsters there was no reason to add murder to their other crimes, he said. Troup was then forced to aid in the holding up of an automobile, and finally thrown from the car on the outskirts of Baltimore.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

THAT the holiday spirit is in the air these days, and it looks as if Christmas is going to be brighter and merrier than ever this year. Like the smallest village or town in the country, even blase New York is a-flutter.

I strolled down Fifth Avenue the other day and was much impressed by the handsome displays of holiday cards arranged by several of America's leading jewelry stores. The book and stationery marts, the many quaint little card shops, and the greeting card departments of the mammoth stores in the shopping section, are all displaying new designs and people are making their selections early in order to get just what they want and have their names put on in plenty of time to avoid the holiday rush. More so than with most things, I understand you have to chose Christmas cards early to get the best selections.

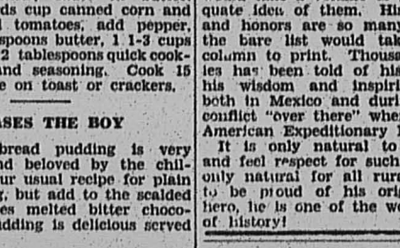

The 1928 cards seem bigger and brighter than in the past, and there are more of them. Many of them reveal the modern art influence which has struck furniture and jewelry, and has turned kitchens and bathrooms into riots of color.

On the greeting cards it has not gone so far as to represent Christmas by two green triangles and three red circles,leaving the rest to the imagination. It appears, rather, in brighter colorings and bolder lines on the favorite old designs. The stage coaches dash more vigorously down snowy streets; the skies are black and have red sunsets to contrast the country scenes; purple ships bounce over green oceans; Christmas trees blaze with big gold candles. They are all so cheerful and modern and full of American vigor.

The popularity of greeting cards, not only for Christmas, New Year and other holidays, as well as birthday and graduation day remembrance, is constantly increasing, I learned in New York from R. W. Hicks, the genial secretary of the Greeting Card Association. There are several explanations, Mr. Hicks said. Greeting cards are more desirable in themselves than ever before, as the foremost artists and writers of the day are at work on them through the year. And the habit of sending cards has grown automatically, helped materially by advertising.

THE SLOGAN, "SCATTER SUNSHINE WITH GREETING CARDS," WHICH IS SEEN SO FREQUENTLY IN THE NEWSPAPERS, MAGAZINES AND SHOP WINDOWS, IS A CONSTANT SUGGESTION TO PEOPLE TO REMEMBER THEIR FRIENDS. MORE PEOPLE SEEM TO BE DOING IT MORE OFTEN.

Considering our weaknesses it's amazing that some of us get along as well as we do..

and Gas Supplies the Heat

Before the use of gas in the home became general, more energy was used in keeping the kitchen and other "fires" alive than in any other task of housekeeping. The cook had to be always on the alert—not only to keep her fire "in" but to keep her oven at the right temperature.

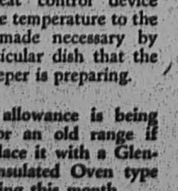

It requires no energy to produce heat when gas is the fuel used, and most gas heating forms are self-regulating, the oven heat regulator gas range, the gas automatic storage water heater, gas automatic house heating.

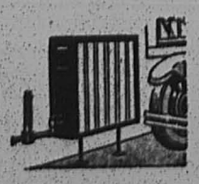

The walls of the Glenwood range oven illustrated are insulated, so that the heat does not escape and its oven heat control device keeps the temperature to the degree made necessary by the particular dish that the housekeeper is preparing.

A $20 allowance is being made for an old range if you replace it with a Glenwood Insulated Oven type during this month.

Death and Election Make Senate Vacancies

The Republican party lost two seats in the N. J. Senate on Tuesday of last week, one as the result of Morgan F. Larson, of Middlesex County, being elected Governor and the other through the death of Joseph H. Forsyth, of Camden County.

State Senator Clifford R. Powell, of Burlington County, said that these vacancies can be filled by special elections. He said there is a possibility of such an election being called in Middlesex to select a successor to Governor-elect Larson. Mr. Larson is expected to resign at almost any time.

FIRE DESTROYS TAYLOR'S GARAGE

Two Riverton Firemen Overcome With Smoke; Total Damage About $20,000

Early Monday evening this week Taylor's Garage, at Broad and Fulton streets, Riverton, was destroyed by a $20,000 fire.

The flames, which destroyed seven cars and a truck, broke out in the rear of the building and quickly spread over almost the entire interior of the building.

George Thomas, sales manager, was alone in the office at the time the fire broke out. He was busy at his desk and did not notice anything wrong out in the shop until the flames had gained a considerable headway. Thomas, with the aid of a couple of men who appeared on the scene, carried the valuables from the office. The most damage done in the office was from the water which came through the ceiling.

Before the fire reached them George Thomas drove two cars from the garage. One was a Chevrolet roadster and the other a new Nash sedan.

Riverton, Palmyra and Riverside Fire Companies responded to the alarm, but Riverton's trucks were the only ones to see service, although men from the other companies pitched in and helped the Riverton firemen.

Frank Strohlein and "Butts" Carhart were overcome with smoke and carried from the building. Both men needed a physician's attention. Dr. Harry L. Rogers took care of both the overcome firemen.

The exact cause of the fire is not known. It was thought by some at first that an oil burner in the back of the shop caused the fire, but that theory was exploded when it became known that the burner was turned out about six o'clock and the fire started about eight.

Mr. Taylor has arranged to carry on his business while the new building is being put up. Temporary accommodations will be provided at Broad and Fulton, so that all branches of the service may be continued.

BRIDGE ROAD PLANS ARE CONSIDERED

Burlington and Camden County Freeholders Met Last Friday

Following the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday night a conference was held between the Road Department of the Camden County Freeholders relative to routing traffic from the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge.

The principal concern of the committees was the conveyance of traffic from the Palmyra end of the bridge over the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks to conect with the Burlington pike and White Horse pike. Nothing definite was decided.

Curwen D. Fisher director of bridges, reported at the freeholders' meeting Friday that work on the Wading river structure has been held up because of a lack of materials. He expected the missing material to be delivered next week, and prophesied the bridge would be completed by Christmas.

The freeholders received a formal notification from the State that the detours used during the closing of the Bridgeboro bridge had been abandoned by the State and put in repair.

The following department bills were ordered paid: Roads, $8,368.43; bridges, $21,846.41; finance, $661.86; buildings, $6,410.57; affairs, $4,177.51; total, $51,464.80.

DETECTIVES FIND MOONSHINE

A gallon of alleged moonshine was seized at the home of Merril Johns, Market street, Palmyra, last Friday night, when the place was raided by County Detectives Cain and Carabine and Officer Nelson Wallace, of the Palmyra police force. Johns is at present under bail to appear before the Grand Jury on a former liquor charge. Eight men were arrested at his place on a gambling charge about a week ago.

The Red Cross still carries on for the sick and disabled of the World War. Your support of this work is invited. JOIN during the Annual Roll-Call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving.

Councilman Lynch, chairman of the Highway Committee, reported that some holes had developed on Park avenue and that they had been promptly patched.

He also reported that three crossing plates had been broken by a Penn-Jersey bus at Fifth and Fulton streets, and the clerk was instructed to report the matter to the bus company.

Mr. Lynch suggested that four arc lights be placed on Memorial Park so that the boys could see to practice football at night. In order to install the lights it would be necessary to place three more poles on Seventh streets.

Councilman Hubbs said he thought the wires should be put under ground so as not to erect any more disfiguring poles on the streets, and that the poles for the lights on the Park should be of a suitable type. On suggestion of Councilman Randall Mr. Lynch's proposition was referred to the Lighting Committee in co-operation with the Borough Property Committee.

Opposed to Poles

In the absence of William A. Welsh, chairman of the Lighting Committee, Mr. Williams recommended that an arc light be placed on Elm avenue at Fifth street and one on Howard street at Fifth. Mr. Hubbs again made a strong plea that no more poles be erected on the streets, and on suggestion of Mr. Randall it was decided to refer the matter back to the Lighting Committee with authorization to install the two lights if the company could do it without erecting any more poles.

Director of Public Safety Williams reported that a fatal accident had occurred on October 26 when F. G. Sterling was struck by a truck at

In the afternoon he met with the Board of Directors and Council of the Club at the residence of Frank A. Snover. This preliminary meeting is customary in order that instruction and advice may be rendered through his official office.

To the pleasure of the District Governor, he found the Palmyra-Riverton Club was operating in accordance with the International schedule and in a most efficient manner. Having ascertained these facts, he found the best he could offer was his hearty commendation and praise.

VOYAGE UP AMAZON DESCRIBED TO LIONS

Camden Chamber of Commerce Man Relates Interesting Trip Up Aiver

Joseph A. McGoldrick, manager of the Industrial Relations Division of the Camden Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker at the meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club Tuesday evening.

Mr. McGoldrick told of his trip up the Amazon River in South America, which he made two years ago in company with a group of scientists and explorers who had set out to re-discover Theodore Roosevelt's River of Doubt.

The speaker related many interesting and sometimes humorous experiences with the natives. The customs and habits of the savage tribes were especially queer.

President Kates appointed several committees. One which will have to do with tickets, publicity and other details of the Lion's Roar of 1929 is composed of W. A. McCamy, W. B. Lynch, "Gus" Weber and Frank Chambers.

The House Committee, which will attend to renting the Lion's Den to outside parties, is W. A. McCamy, Curtis Stavely and Benjamin Rielley.

A third committee, to arrange a series of Lion's card parties during the winter, is composed of Benjamin Rielley, Curtis Stavely and James Patton.

HEARING ON ROAD ROUTES NOV. 20

Palmyra Residents Who Prefer First Plan Will Attend Meeting

Along with the building of bridges comes the problem of roads leading to and from the bridge approaches.

The new bridge between Tacony and Palmyra has brought such a problem before the people of Palmyra and surrounding districts.

According to the plans as talked of when the bridge was first considered the roads from the approach to the bridge were to be brought into Cinnaminson avenue at some point. The plans as they now exist will take the road out of Burlington county and cross the Pensauken creek at two points terminating at Colonial Circle on Burlington Pike, and add additional expense to the cost of the road building. This plan would necessitate an amount of filling and the building of two bridges over the creek.

If this plan is carried out the traffic for up-state towns will cut through Palmyra's streets and add more burden to the taxpayers for upkeep. Extra policing would also be necessary during holiday seasons to care for the large number of cars that would use Palmyra's streets.

In the event that the present plans cannot be changed, the property owners along Cinnaminson avenue will ask for a spur to be run off the bridge road to swing around back of Palmyra Extension.

Five Points is an old established landmark for tourists, and is the distributing point for all South Jersey and Burlington county traffic.

Why, then, should old routes be laid aside for new roads when the old ones can be made to handle the traffic?

Whenever a new road is opened the properties along the old roads are isolated from traffic and consequently a loss of business and depreciation in value of these properties follow.

Property owners along Cinnaminson avenue are asking for at least a spur off the bridge road if the main road cannot be swung around to Cinnaminson avenue.

A hearing will be held on this matter in Trenton next Tuesday, November 20. All persons who are interested are urged to attend this hearing.

ODD FELLOWS TO RECEIVE DEGREE

Bordentown Lodge Expected to Have Class at Same Ceremony

Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 201, I. O. O. F., will confer the First Degree upon a class of candidates in its lodge room this Friday evening.

It is anticipated that Bordentown Lodge will also be present with a class which will receive the degree along with Cinnaminson's candidates.

The initiatory degree conferred two weeks was so successful under the new ritual regulations that Degree Master Milton Jewett is urging every member to be present in order that the good work may be continued.

The addition of the I. O. O. F. orchestra, both for lodge ceremonies and degree work, under the direction of George Weaymans, is a promising feature long needed by the lodge. The members of the orchestra so far enrolled consist of George Weaymans, William Crouch, Charles Friberg, William MacCorkle, Eula Roach and Richard Woolman. Any or all members who can master musical instruments of any type are invited to join this orchestra. All that is needed is for them to express their willingness to the director.

Schwarz — Lippincott

An attractive autumn wedding was solemnized last Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Epworth Methodist Church, when Miss Hilda Elizabeth Lippincott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Lippincott, of Burlington, became the bride of Christian K. Schwarz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian Schwarz, of Asbury Park.

The Rev. J. William Lee performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. DeWitt Turner, of Oaklyn, as matron of honor. Wallace C. Vogel, of Asbury Park, acted as best man for Mr. Schwarz.

The church was prettily banked with ferns and autumn leaves. Mrs. Rachel Lord played the wedding march.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Lippincott, 903 Morgan avenue, Palmyra.

The happy young couple left immediately for Easton, Pennsylvania, where they will make their home. Mr. Schwarz, who is a well known football player in this vicinity, having played on the Palmyra team for some time, is a civil engineer, connected with the New Jersey State Highway Department.

Mr. Schwarz is a brother of David Grey Schwarz, 801 Highland avenue, Palmyra. The young couple are well known in Palmyra and Riverton and enjoy a host of friends.

"DIVINE SCIENCE"

will be the topic of a talk to be given by Mrs. Mary L. S. Butterworth, leader of the Chapel of Truth, 1507 Walnut street, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George M. Becker, 731 Morgan avenue, Palmyra, Thursday evening, November 22, at 8 o'clock. All interested are cordially invited, and there will be no invitations sent.—Adv.

LEGIONNAIRES MARCH IN HOBOKEN PARADE

Post Rodgers Bugle Corps Wins Trophy; Burlington County Has Largest Delegation

On Sunday last, Armistice Day, Palmyra and Riverton were well represented at the Hoboken Armistice Day Celebration by the attendance of Post Rodgers Drum and Bugle Corps, Ladies' Auxiliary and members of the Post. The Corps were assigned a special car on the New York excursion leaving Palmyra at 9.16 A. M., while the Ladies' Auxiliary went by bus, leaving from Riverside.

Burlington County again had the largest delegation in the parade, which took place in the afternoon. By far the largest Armistice Celebration ever staged, the parade took one solid hour to pass a given point and consisted of over forty bands and Bugle and Drum Corps, Auxiliaries and delegations from every county in the State, patriotic organizations, Boy Scouts, regular army and naval detachments, State militia and many others. Post Rodgers Drum and Bugle Corps brought home another cup as its trophy of the day's events.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Post, held on Wednesday of last week, a beautiful electric radio set was donated to the Post by a friend of the American Legion and particularly of Post 156.

Also present at this meeting were County Commander Jack Whomsley and the staff of the County Degree Team, who initiated three new members into the Post. The 10 o'clock ritual was also exemplified by the ritual team, following which Comrade S. Page Scholey, director of the State membership drive, made a splendid address on the merits and work of the American Legion.

AUTO COLLISIONS DURING WEEKEND

Riverfront Towns Marked by Smashes Without Serious Results

Percival W. Willis, of Palmyra, member of the firm of Willis and Stecher, Riverside real estate and insurance agents, drove his Hudson sedan into the rear of a Worth bus while on his way to his office Monday morning.

Mr. Willis took his eyes off the road for a moment to brush some cigarette ashes off his coat. The bus, driven by Charles Emenecker, of Beverly, happened to stop just at that instant to discharge passengers and the Hudson crashed into it. The front of Willis' car was badly damaged and the bus also suffered somewhat, but no one was injured.

Corporal Horn and Trooper Small were called from the Bridgeboro barracks and they took charge of affairs.

The same morning Miss Helen Lippincott, of Riverton, ran into a Ford coupe belonging to and being driven by George Roberts, of East Riverton. The rear right wheel of Roberts' car was torn completely off. The accident occurred at Fourth and Main streets, Riverton.

Officer Quigley made no arrests as the drivers came to an amicable agreement.

Friday afternoon at dusk a car driven and owned by Frank Hozier, of 17 Polk street, Riverside, crashed into the rear of a Studebaker touring car driven by David Leonard, of Delanco.

The Hozier machine struck the Leonard car, at the rear wheel, with the result that the Studebaker was turned over and badly smashed. Mr. Leonard suffered numerous bruises, but was not seriously injured.

This accident occurred at the intersection of the River road and Fairview street, Riverside. Hozier was crossing the railroad tracks. He said he waited for one car to pass up the River road and then proceeded, not seeing the Leonard car because its lights were not burning.

CITIZENS ASKED TO BECOME RED CROSS MEMBERS

Former Judge Wells Urges All to Renew Their Allegiance

WANTS 7,000 ENROLLED IN BURLINGTON CO.

Disaster Relief is But One of Its Activities, Says Chairman

The Honorable Harold B. Wells, County Roll-Call Chairman, is urging all citizens to renew their allegiance to the American Red Cross, naming the period from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day as the dates for the organization's Twelfth Annual Roll-Call, in which the Burlington County Chapter is expected to enroll 7,000 members for 1929.

Calling attention that only through memberships, solicited once a year, are the many activities of the organization supported, he declared it to be "of the utmost importance that responce shall be on a scale commensurate with that organization's needs."

Mr. Wells said, "Once a year the American Red Cross extends to us the privilege of membership in order that we may have a share in its great work. When great calamities, such as the Mississippi Valley flood of last year, and the Porto Rico-Florida hurricane of this year, confront us, it is to the Red Cross we instinctively turn. Disaster relief is but one of its activities and only one of the reasons why we should lend our support."

"When we consider that over twelve hundred dollars was spent in the county last year on the disabled ex-service men and their families; that the organization during July and August of 1928 conducted a water safety campaign, thus making water sports safer for all who enjoy them, and in some instances saving lives; that seventy-five Christmas bags were made for the men in the service of their country; that caps and sweaters were knitted for the sick ex-service men in government hospitals; that the Chapter maintains an Emergency Closet, containing clothing for the destitute of the county, and that only this fall it collected over sixty-three hundred dollars for the Porto Rico-Florida relief fund, it seems everyone should be willing and glad to support such an organization."

"Indeed, every American everywhere should be a member of his Red Cross. Respond to the Red Cross NOW. DO SOMETHING to help the Red Cross maintain its place as the world's greatest "legion of mercy."

PUBLIC SERVICE ESCAPES PAVING

Public Utilities Commission Rules Exemption Under 1927 Law

Last week the Public Utility Commission handed down a decision that has direct bearing on a question that has vexed Riverton borough officials for some time—that of the trolley company's responsibility for the condition of the space between its rails and for a distance of eighteen inches each side of its tracks, where this space forms a part of the street or roadway.

Recently the condition of the trolley tracks at the Thomas avenue crossing came up for discussion at a meeting of the Riverton borough council, and two opposing opinions were expressed —one that the trolley company was responsible—the other that it was not.

This point seems to be definitely settled by the decision of the Commission.

The case before the board was that of Middlesex County vs. the Public Service Co-ordinated Transport, in which the County sought to compel the traction company to repave between its rails after having raised the track to meet a new grade established by the County.

The Commission held that the company was not required to do the work demanded by the County.

The ruling is regarded as the first test of the 1927 law passed by the Legislature which relieved the traction companies of obligation to repave between the tracks and for 18 inches on the outside, except where they themselves tore up the original pavement. The passage of this act created considerable discussion throughout the state and was much criticized.

Keasbey road extends from New Brunswick avenue to Smith street in Perth Amboy, said the Utility Commission and the County of Middlesex is engaged in repaving the roadway. A new grade was established and the company raised its tracks to conform to the new level, but refused to replace the pavement between the rails in proper condition on the ground that the 1927 law relieved the trolley company of this responsibility.

The County, on the other hand, contended that the law obliged the company to restore the surface of the roadway to passable condition and that the act in question would not permit the Public Service to change the grade of its tracks and then leave them in a condition that constitutes a menace to the rest of traffic.

The Utility Board said the paving act requires first that the trolley company shall restore the pavement when it has been disturbed by the company for construction work of any kind; secondly, that whenever any part of the pavement between the tracks or for 18 inches outside shall be damaged by reason of the operation of the street railway, then the latter shall again be obliged to make the repairs and finally whenever any municipality shall pave or repave any street upon which a railway company tracks are located, "such company shall at its own cost, put its tracks and track structures in good operating condition."

None of these provisions of the 1927 law is applicable to the Perth Amboy situation on Keasbey road, said the Utility Board. The controversy is over the meaning of the last of them and whether that impies that in replacing its tracks the trolley company must also replace the pavement. It is admitted, said the board, that the tracks have been put in proper condition, but Middlesex County contends that the Public Service is also obliged to repair that portion of the street lying between the rails.

"With this contention the board cannot agree," said the decision. "The act relieves the company of the obligation of repaving except when the company itself disturbs the pavement for the construction, reconstruction or repairs of its tracks, or when the pavement has been damaged by the operation of the street railway. When the municipality paves or repaves, the company is required to put its tracks and track structure in good operating condition.

The decision then concluded that the Utility Board is without power to order the railway company to make repairs to Keasbey Road and dismissed the petition.

The paving bill was an issue in several state political campaigns in recent years while it was being advocated in the Legislature. The companies originally were required to do this work under their franchise agreements with the cities. The 1927 law was attacked because it relieved them of that obligation.

Cornelius Kline, 18-year-old resident of near near Columbus, committed suicide by discharging a double-barreled shotgun into his body Tuesday afternoon of last week, while Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Johnson, his foster-parents, voted.

The youth had been living with Mr. and Mrs. Johnson since the death of his parents three years ago and it is believed that he had become melancholy in brooding over their loss. No other reason can be given for his suicide.

State Troopers Cambell and Sawyer, who investigated the tragedy, said that Kline had used a file with which to fire the trigger of the shotgun as it was pressed against his chest. The bloody file was found near his body.

Robert F. Engle, of the Engleside Hotel, Beach Haven, was taken to the Cooper Hospital, Camden, suffering from internal injuries, cuts of the arms and leg and loss of blood, caused when the car he was driving crashed into the rear of a truck that was parked along the road near Ellisburg Tuesday evening of last week. Mrs. Engle received cuts and bruises. Mr. Engle's condition was considered to be serious. The impact drove the truck off the road and badly damaged the Engle car.

MAN SLASHED IN HARTFORD BRAWL

Five Arrested as the Result of Fight Among Colored People

Five men were arrested as the result of a drunken brawl during which shots were fired and one man was stabbed at Hartford, near Moorestown, Sunday night.

Oliver Christianson, colored, of Centreton road, near Hartford, suffered a lacerated forehead where he claims a knife, wielded by Harry Lies, 32, and colored, of Georgetown, slashed him.

Christianson was fined $10 and costs for drunken and disorderly conduct at a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston, in Moorestown Town Hall.

Warren Hayes, colored, of Tuckerton, was committed to the county jail at Mount Holly in default of $500 bail for court on charges of carrying concealed deadly weapons.

Israel Sharp, 30, colored; Harry Lies and Wilbur Hamilton, 32, all of Georgetown, are in the county jail awaiting the outcome of the investigating being conducted by Sergeant Haussling, Trooper Brown and Corporal Horn, of the Columbus and Bridgeboro barracks of the State police.

According to the story learned by Chief of Police John Bradshaw, the three Georgetown men, with Hayes, Christianson, and the latter's wife, were in an automobile driving towards Christianson's home. When they near the house Christianson discovered Lies had his arm about his wife, it was said. An argument ensued, during which Christianson, his wife and Hayes were forced to get out and walk.

Christianson continued his abuse toward Lies, who was sitting on the back seat of the machine, police declared. Lies suddenly leaped from the car and slashed Christianson on the forehead, they claim.

Hayes is said to have pulled a revolver from his pocket and fired three shots at the retreating machine. Two of them landed in the body of the car, and one crashed through the rear window. The machine was owned by Hamilton, the only white man in the party.

Police found blood on the back seat of the car, which led them to believe one other person in the machine was injured by the shots.

ARMISTICE PARADE HELD AT MT. HOLLY

1,500 Legionnaires From All Over South Jersey Participated in Big Celebration

One of the largest Armistice demonstrations in this region took place at Mount Holly on Saturday. More than 1,500 Legionnaires and five bands from all sections of South Jersey took part in the celebration and a street parade which featured it. It was one of the largest celebrations ever held in the community.

Governor-elect Morgan F. Larson delivered the principal address. Every Legion Post in Burlington County was represented and scores more from Camden, Atlantic, Gloucester and other lower counties were present.

"War or peace" was the main topic in most South Jersey churches Sunday. Ceremonies continued Monday, a legal holiday in this state. Virtually every war memorial in the section was decorated in memory of those who served during the war.

HUNTERS MUST CARRY BOTH BUTTON AND CARD

Sportsmen should remember that under this year's new law providing for the display of a button with their license number that they must also carry their license card while hunting or fishing, says Protector James M. Stratton, chief of the New Jersey fish and game wardens. Neither button nor card alone can be accepted as satisfactory evidence of bona fide license by wardens checking up on violations, says the protector. The hunter or fisherman must produce both and with numerals that correspond. Loaning a badge and card to or their use by other than the person to whom they are issued is prohibited under penalty.

VARIETY OF CASES IN COUNTY COURT

Many Defendants Penalized; Fines Total $975 and Several Go to Jail

Criminal Court had precedence at Mount Holly last Thursday and Judge William A. Slaughter disposed of several defendants by the sentence route, the county being enriched to the extent of $975 in fines, while a few old offenders went to pail.

John Czaraski, the sixteen-year-old boy from Ohio, who lived a Dr. Jeykl and Mr. Hyde life in Riverside for several months after he had escaped from a reformatory at Lancaster, Ohio, went to state prison for three and a half years.

John had confessed to several robberies in Riverside and vicinity, but his biggest effort was at Burlington, where he broke into and entered the general store of Israel Schoenfeld and took plunder to the value of several hundrd dollars and then decamped in Mr. Schoenfeld's Nash sedan.

According to information from Ohio he has been stealing for several years, and comes under the head of the confirmed criminal class.

John J. Naughton, of Moorestown, who was picked up by the police of Moorestown with a bottle of liquor in his possession, was fined $200.

Anna Moore, of Mount Holly, charged with liquor law violations, an old offender, was fined $200.

Frank Grabowski, of Riverside, who was given a fine reputation but was detected with liquor in his house, was fined $250.

Mrs. Howard Eckert, of Mount Holly, who had numerous utensils filled with home brew when the officers called, was fined $100. She went to jail.

Mrs. Mary Bower, of Burlington, convicted of a charge of assault and battery, was fined $100.

Tillie Andreaski, of Riverside, an old offender went to jail for forty-five days. She had pleaded guilty to liquor law violations.

Benjamin Staskus, of Burlington, had but a soda water bottle of liquor when arrested. He was fined $75.

John A. Lyden, of Bordentown, charged with neglect of his three children, went to jail for sixty days, but this sentence is subject to modification if he can produce a bondsman in twenty days guaranteeing that he will provide for the three children, aged 15, 13, and 10, respectively.

Ogden Taylor and William Ganges, colored boys from Bordentown, who grabbed a handbag belonging to Jane Barnhart in that city recently, were placed on probation for two years, and each will have $25 costs to pay within six months.

Before Judge Slaughter and a jury on Friday the case of the state against George W. Inman, of New Lisbon, charged with assault and battery by automobile, was moved and the verdict was not guilty.

A car driven by Inman had struck Stanley Mestiwitz, of Philadelphia, while the latter was engaged in changing a tire on the Brown's Mills road, Mestiawitz lying in the Burlington County Hospital with severe injuries for several weeks afterward.

Inman admitted that he saw the car parked at the roadside but said he did not see any one near and was not awafe that he had struck anyone until he was arrested some time later by Trooper Brown.

Another case heard was that of George Jones, of Florence, indicted for larceny, the allegation being that he stole a watch valued at $75 from Joseph Rodgers, of Burlington.

The evidence disclosed that the watch was grabbed from Rodgers by Jones during a drunken party at Hamlet Ghaul's place, in Burlington, and Helen Barcklay, a prisoner at the county jail, testified that she took the watch from Jones and returned it to Rodgers.

Jones was also acquitted by a jury.

The third and last case of the day was that of the state vs. John Herron, of Burlington, charged with assault and battery by automobile.

Herron had six barrels of beer on a truck which made a sudden turn across the highway near Bordentown and came to a stop at a hot-dog stand after it had struck a car occupied by R. Floss, of Newark, his wife and a Mrs. Grace Hamery, both of the women being injured.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty.

Herron was also convicted of drunken driving at the time and he was also arrested for having liquor in his possession.

VEGETABLES NOW READY FOR STORAGE

Root vegetables are now plentiful, and if bought in large quantities to store, will effect savings in the food budget, says Miss Marie Doermann, New Jersey extension specialist in foods, who recommends the liberal use of all vegetables as a means of improving the health of the family.

In addition to potatoes, every family should eat two vegetables a day throughout the year if the best physical condition is to be maintained, insists Miss Doermann. At least one leaf vegetable is esential three times a week, she point out, and ideal when served daily.

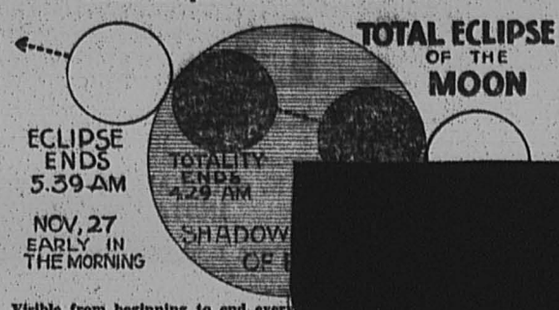

"Although storage space may be too warm to keep most of the roots and celery throughout the winter, there is no reason why a supply sufficient for one or two months may not be purchased," states Miss Doermann.

"Carrots, beets, parsnips, turnips, rutabagas, and celery will keep well in clean, moistened sand. White and sweet potatoes, and onions, are better stored in boxes or baskets which allow for ventilation. Cabbage, the one-leaf vegetables that may be stored, should be wrapped in newspaper and placed on a shelf where ventilation is ample. Squash and pumpkin should likewise be placed on a shelf, but wrapping is unnecessary.

"Use cabbage liberally. It is valuable for its vitamin and mineral content, and it is also one of the least expensive of the leaf vegetables."

Our idea of enterprise is a surgeon advertising a "removal" sale.

Total Eclipse of the M... the United Stat...

Everyone in the United States will ... have the opportunity of seeing the total eclipse of the moon coming November 27—but the spectators will ... have to be pretty early. For the moon will enter the earth's shadow at 2.24 a. m., eastern standard time. Total eclipse begins at 3.33 and lasts until 4.29 o'clock when the moon begins to emerge. At 5.39 a. m. the eclipse will be over. Central times are one hour earlier, mountain times two hours and Pacific times three hours.

The moon will probably not disappear from view although entirely within the shadow for nearly an hour. Considerable sunlight is refracted into the shadow through the ring of the earth's atmoshpere around the base of the shadow. The moon at that time will be dim and noticeably red like the setting sun.

During the lunar eclipse, recent observations have shown, the moon's surface temperature drops from 170 degrees Fahrenheit immediately be-

BIG STATE CHARITY BALL THIS MONTH

Proceeds Will Be Used to Aid Endowment of Room in Hospital for State Employees

New Jerseys' annual state charity ball masque in the Stacy-Trent Hotel, Trenton, Friday night, November 30, will aid the endowment of a room, for use of State employees, in St. James' Hospital, Newark. Previous events of this kind have established endowments in McKinley and St. Francis Hospitals, Trenton, each costing $10,000.

Governor A. Harry Moore and Mrs. Moore, attended by the Governor's military staff, will be guests of honor. Newton A. K. Bubbe, comptroller of the treasury, is chairman of the Ball Committee, assisted by an Executive Committee of State officials, including Chancellor Edwin Robert Walker, Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, General Hugh L. Scott, chairman of the State Highway Commission; United States Senators Walter E. Edge and Edward I. Edwards and State Architect Charles N. Leathem, Jr.

A feature of the affair will be costumed persons competing for $1,000 worth of prizes. A march of those in costume will be led by Governor and Mrs. Moore. Another feature will be a snappy theatrical review by State employees, under direction of Joseph A. Moran.

STUDY EQUIPMENT FOR HOME FIRST

The best pieces of household equipment to buy are the ones that save time and energy, come well serviced and guaranteed, and for which there is a real need in the home. This is the opinion of Mrs. Marion C. Bell, New Jersey extension specialist in home management, who has just offered some timely suggestions to homemakers who are considering the purchase of washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric ironers, and similar equipment.

"The buying of these expensive labor-saving devices is an individual problem over which no general rule can apply," stated Mrs. Bell. "Much depends upon the amount of work which the housewife has to do and the income of the family.

"In every case, however, the homemaker should raise certain questions in connection with the purchase of any equipment for the home. She should know definitely if the article desired will actualy save time and energy. She should know if it is a piece of equipment that is to find daily, weekly, or only monthly use. She should determine if the purchase of an expensive machine is justified. Something should be known of maintenance costs, and of the servicing to be expected from the manufacturer. The cuestion of guarantees should be thoroughly understood in advance."

Miss Gretchen Vordien, of Johannesburg, who slept 18 years in a cataleptic trance, is learning to speak again.

strongholds, the result of the election being about three to one in favor of the Republican ticket.

Workers of both parties were quite active on election day and this, together with a general interest in the election, resulted in the largest vote ever cast in the two districts. Out of a total of 1,231 registered, 904 ballots were cast, 643 in the east district and 588 in the west district.

ASK RATIFICATION OF PEACE TREATY

Friends Point Out Bill Should Precede Naval Construc-

...resent the Treaty Renouncing War ...or consideration by the Senate immediately Congress reopens in Twelfth Month. Several newspapers report the story that the Administration proposes to postpone consideration of the Treaty until the fifteen cruiser Naval Construction Bill has been disposed of.

Close observers of the congressional situation fear that such postponement would destroy all hope of the Treaty's ratification during the present Administration, and would deprive the Administration of the satisfaction of completing one of its most important undertakings.

The Naval Construction Bill, on the Senate calendar, is behind the Swing-Johnson Boulder Dam Bill, which is very controversial, and which will probably require considerable time. As the Boulder Dam Bill raises the question of government operation of electric power development plants, it is strongly defended and strongly opposed. Apparently there is considerable opposition to the Naval Construction Bill in the Senate, and in the short session of Congress active opposition is frequently able to prevent action by the Senate, even when it is not strong enough to defeat proposals.

Thus, if the Treaty Renouncing War is postponed until the Boulder Dam and Naval Bills are disposed of, it will have at best very little time, and may fail of ratification at this session. If the President submits it to the Senate early in the sesion, it can be taken up at once, as treaties are considered in executiev session, and there is an executive calendar separate from the legislative calendar.

It is understod that supporters of the Naval Construction Bill are urging the President very strongly to postpone submitting the Treaty until the Naval Bill has been disposed of. The National Council for Prevention of War, at its annual conference, decided after careful consideration of the congressional situation, that the most effective way to help secure ratification of the Treaty is to urge upon the President the immediate submission of the Treaty for consideration by the Senate before the Naval Bill, to urge upon Senators William E. Borah and Claude A. Swanson prompt favorable report by the Foreign Relations Committee, and then to urge upon Senators from the several States prompt ratification of the Treaty as signed by Secretary Kellogg.

The Treaty does not come into force until ratified by the fifteen nations which originally signed it. This consideration makes prompt ratification by the United States desirable. It is also to be hoped that the Administration which negotiated the Treaty may have the satisfaction of seeing it ratified.

What to do:

I. Write at once to President Calvin Coolidge The White House, Washington, D. C., and to Hon. Frank B. Kellogg, State Department, Washington, D. C., expressing the hope that the Treaty of Paris may be submitted to the Senate as soon as Congress opens

II. Also write at once to Hon. William E. Borah and Hon. Claude A. Swanson, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., urging favorable report by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

III. As soon as Congress convenes in December, write to our New Jersey Senators, Hon. Walter E. Edge and Hon. Edward I. Edwards, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., urging immediate ratification by the Senate of the Treaty as signed by Secretary Kellogg

Following the election of officers a program with "fuel" as the subject was very interesting. "Study of Different Fuels and Their Burning Qualities," was given by Margaret Lishman. "Burning Quality of Coal," Emma Fowler. "What Is Coke and How Made?" George P. Lippincott, Jr.

The next meeting will be held November 20. This will be a Thanksgiving meeting with roll-call for Thanksgiving quotations. A pumpkin pie contest will be held.

SERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY

Vanie Dawson, colored, of Burlington, was admitted to the Burlington County Hospital on Wednesday night of last week in a serious condition, suffering from several stab wounds, supposed to have ben inflicted by Melvina Yada, his common-law wife. The cutting took place in the Dawson home, on Delaware avenue, and as Dawson puts it, was "just a little fuss." He is gashed in the neck, shoulder and arm, and for awhile his life was despaired of, but recent inquiry at the hospital brought the word that he will probably recover. The woman was immediately arrested and is being held pending the result of Dawson's injuries, while William Davis, sixteen years of age, a nephew of the victim of the stabbing, who witnessed the trouble, is being held as a material witness.

BIG PROGRAM AT WALT WHITMAN

Murray & Allan Head Vaudeville Section; Clara Bow Features Picture

Starting Thursday and continuing through until Saturday the Walt Whitman Theatre is offering another one of those wonderful programs in keeping with the new policy of hundred per cent entertainment.

Heading the vaudeville section will be Murray & Allan, Broadway's Favorite Humorists, who style themselves as "Jesters of 3,000 Years Ago."

These boys are known throughout the world for their original and screamingly funny characterizations and the act offered at this time is by far the best they have ever done, and is one of the comedy classics of vaudeville.

On the same bill will be a pretentious musical comedy called "Collegiate Capers," with a large cast of clever funmakers, pretty girls and gorgeous scenery and costumes.

There will also be Palmer & Dorreen, a clever team of mystery artists in a fantastic novelty. "The Love Sisters" two dainty harmony singers of rare ability, and the vaudeville program is rounded out by Alf Grant, premier American story teller who will officiate as master of ceremonies.

The screen entertainment offered is Clara Bow, the "It" girl, in "The Fleet's In." A nautical but nice comedy.

This is the best work so far of this popular screen favorite and is a real event for the movie fan. The following article gives an indication of her great popularity everywhere:

"Three tons of mail, for the delivery of which over $5,000 was spent, was recently removed from the dressing room of Clara Bow, popular Paramount actress, who appears in her latst starring picture: "The Fleet's In."

"The removal was caused by the increasing amount of space this huge amount of letters occupied. It was found that over 250,000 letters were included in the huge stack, and were sent the little star from every civilized country in the world.

"According to Post Office officials of Los Angeles, Clara Bow's fan mail will now average 25,000 a month. The actual amount of mail received by the star during the month of May was 33,727 letters. For the month of June, the number increased to 35,339; with every indication that this number will be increased to over 40,000 for the months to come this year.

"The three tons of letters represented the accumulation of one year's fan mail received by the star. Another month, and the star would have been crowded out of her dressing room apartment. Every one of these letters were answered with an autographed photograph being sent. A special staff has been assigned to handle Miss Bow's fan mail, and their work increases daily.

"Miss Bow tops any star in moviedom for the amount of fan mail received. Her closest rival is Charles "Buddy" Rogers, another Paramount star, who is now receiving over 19,000 letters a month, or more than the late Valentino when at the height of his career.

"Miss Bow rfused to have the mail destroyed, the letters being stored away in the studio store room. As far as it is humanly possible, Miss Bow personally goes over her mail, realizing that her work on the screen is greatly influenced by the wants of her tremendous following."

There will also be Fox-Movietone News Events, musical features by John Rhodes and his Walt Whitman Theatre Orchestra, and Joseph T. Powers, the popular organist, has planned some splendid console music.

The Twelfth Annual Roll-Call of the American Red Cross will be held from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving. JOIN!

'28 TO BE BEST OAKLAND YEAR

Tracy Predicts Volume of 270,000 Oaklands and Pontiacs

Indications that the Oakland Motor Car Company in 1928 would top the best previous year in its history by approximately 75,000 cars, or forty per cent. were seen here today when W. R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales, announced that October volume totaled 17,232 units.

This figure for October compares with 18,618 Oakland and Pontiac sixes sold last October, and ranks the month just ended as the best October in the 22 years the company has been building automobiles.

Total sales for 1928 up to the end of October were 243,111 units, Mr. Tracy said, while sales for the entire year of 1927 were 192,000. Last year's sales, however, were forty per cent better than in 1926, when the introduction of the Pontiac six brought the Oakland Motor Car Company for the first time into the volume field.

"On the strength of present demand, I am fully confident that by the close of this year we will have sold upwards of 270,000 Oakland and Pontiac cars, Mr. Tracy stated. "This would better by forty per cent our performance in 1927, which was the most successful year we ever had.

"As the rate orders for the new Oakland are piling up, sales for November should establish a new high figure for the month. Orders now booked assure peak production on Oakland for a long time, while the Pontiac is maintaining the consistently high sales pace it has set since its introduction.

CHRIST CHURCH
(Episcopal) PALMYRA

Rev. G. J. McCormack, Rector

Manis cleverness is generally far in advance of his intelligence!

Especially is this true when that cleverness is so lacking in intelligence as to attempt to live without God.

What fools men are to ignore facts, and to live just as though they would exist forever, and none of life's stark realities ever touch them or theirs?

Be intelligent, know all you can about God and your Soul, then your cleverness will shine as a ray of eternal wisdom.

The first of the special musical services was very much enjoyed, especially the violin solos by William Heavner.

PALMYRA TRIMS GRENLOCH A. A. IN CLASS "B" TUSSLE

Make Three Touchdowns After Goal Line is Crossed for First Time

PETITTO, REAGLE, KING FIGURE IN SCORING

Next Game to be Played Saturday With Elmer A. A. as Opposition

The Palmyra P. C. M. football warriors scored an impressive victory over Grenloch in a game played on the home gridiron last Saturday afternoon when they rolled up a 20-6 score in an elimination contest for Class "B" honors.

The invaders were the first hostiles to carry the pigskin across the Palmyra goal line, but paid dearly for the privilege when Coach Stack's crew came back at them with a vengeance and scored three touchdowns in the next two periods.

Palmyra outplayed the visitors in the first quarter, but lost an opportunity to score when a forward pass from the Grenloch 20-yard line was grounded on a fourth down.

The opening of the second period found Grenloch in possession of the ball on Palmyra's 52-yard line. Herbert Keith plunged through the line for a 6-yard gain. Another attempt at the same spot failed. Frank Keith went through right tackle for 7 yards and a first down.

Ball Goes Over

A lateral pass netted Grenloch 5 yards, but two plays around left end failed to gain an inch. With five yards to go a forward was tried, but was knocked down, giving Palmyra possession of the pigskin on the visitor's 65-yard mark.

Joe Petitto plunged through left tackle for 15 yards. Ackerson netted 4 yards on the next two plays. Petitto hit the line for two yards, but dropped the ball on the next play, which was recovered, but went over, as it was short of a first down.

Grenloch took the oval on Palmyra's 56-yard line. Harveson failed to gain on a run around right end. Frank Keith netted 1 yard through tackle. Herbert Keith hit the line for a 5-yard gain, bringing the oval to mid-field.

A forward pass on the fourth down was completed for a 21-yard gain. A 15-yard penalty brought the pigskin back to the 54-yard mark, but the next play netted 32 yards when Alexander picked the oval out of the air and ran to the 22-yard line, where he was forced out of bounds.

Aerial Nets 16 Yards

A series of thrusts at the Palmyra line resulted in a 4-yard gain. Another forward pass was tried, which netted 16 yards, and brought the oval to the Palmyra 2-yard mark. At this point Herbert Keith took the ball and crashed his way over the goal line. A drop-kick for the extra point was blocked. While the teams were lifting up for the kick-off the whistle blew ending the half, with Grenloch on the long end of a 6-0 score.

The complexion of the game changed with the opening of the second half. Reagle received the kick on the 80-yard line and ran it back to the 63-yard mark. The big fullback then crashed through the line for 17 yards. Petitto netted 6 yards through tackle and Reagle added another yard on the next play. Petitto went through the line for 4 yards and a first down.

Ackerson Recovers Fumble

Palmyra was unable to gain through the Grenloch line and lost the ball when a forward pass was grounded on a fourth down. Palmyra regained the oval on the next play when Ackerson recovered a fumble on the 30-yard mark. Two thrusts at the Grenloch line gained but 2 yards. A forward pass was completed, Petitto to King, which brought the pigskin to the 2½-yard mark. Petitto went through the line for a touchdown on the next play. A pass, Petitto to King, added the extra point and Palmyra was ahead, 7-6.

Grenloch ran the kick-off back to the Palmyra 75-yard line and after failing to gain on two plays attempted to punt. The kick was blocked and recovered by Palmyra on Grenloch's 15-yard mark. Reagle hit the line for 4 yards, after which Frank King scored the second touchdown for Palmyra when he grabbed a forward over the goal line. Palmyra was awarded the extra point when Grenloch was caught off-side.

Pass Gains 22 Yards

Palmyra's third touchdown came in the last period after Grenloch lost the ball on its own 28-yard line. A forward pass was knocked down, after which a pass, Petitto to Reagle, netted 22 yards. With the oval on the 6-yard mark, Petitto crashed through tackle for 3 yards. Reagle netted a yard through the line and then plunged over for a six-pointer. Petitto's kick failed to go over.

The play of the Palmyra line was excellent throughout the contest. Grenloch tried time and time again to crash through the forward wall, but almost invariably failed to gain. Only at one time were the visitors able to advance the ball consistently and that was through their aerial attack in the second period.

Palmyra plays Elmer A. A. Saturday afternoon on the P. C. M. grounds.

P. H. S. GRIDDERS WIN TWO GAMES

Defeat Moorestown 14-13 Monday; Trounce Audubon on Previous Friday 18-0

Palmyra High School nosed out Moorestown in a bitterly fought Burlington County Class "B" football tussle Monday afternoon on the Palmyra grounds before over 2,000 spectators. The final score was 14-13, Coach Dimond's squad winning the decision when Young failed to make the extra point good after the Quakers had scored their second touchdown.

All the scoring was done in the first half, both teams putting over two touchdowns in that space of time. The second half was hard fought with neither team able to get past the 10-yard mark, although the Quakers several times threatened to put over a score.

Moorestown was on the defensive for the first five minutes of play and before it could recover from the surprise aerial attack of the home clan, Palmyra had scored from the five-yard line when Charley Knight skirted left end for a sixpointer. He drop-kicked the extra point.

On the next play Moorestown elected to receive and Carey, standing on the 10-yard line, sprinted along the sidelines and traveled over the 90 yards of turf without a hand being laid on him. The point after touchdown was allowed when a Palmyra lad was detected off-side.

Even at End of Quarter

An exchange of punts followed the next kick-off and the 22 fighting lads ended the first period in midfield with the score tied at seven points.

The second session had no sooner started when "Tod" Sloan, Palmyra halfback, caught a punt and wiggled his way 64 yards for a touchdown. Knight dropped back and again made good the point after touchdown.

It appeared for several minutes that the teams would leave the field at half-time with the Palmyra lads in the van by seven points, but a "break" gave the invaders an opportunity to resort to their famous forward-passing attack. A fumble in midfield, the needed break, gave the Isenberg minions the ball in midfield and two successful first downs placed the ball on the 30-yard line.

A forward pass, Cuasworth to Carey, netted 27 yards and placed the ball on the three-yard mark, Carey being viciously tackled by Knight and Sloan before he could cross the goal line.

Young Fails to Make Point

Young was rushed into Moorestown backfield in the place of Levin, and plunged over the goal line for the six points. On the try for extra point, Young fumbled the ball and lost all chance to complete his drop-kick, making the score read, Palmyra, 14; Moorestown, 13.

That was the score at the end of the game also, as, although both teams tried desperately to score, each lacked the drive necessary.

Palmyra High		Moorestown High
J. Stack	left end	G. McCann
Showell	left tackle	Jenkins
Probsting	centre	Blaker
Tallman	right guard	Ziccardi

For Palmyra: Davidson for Adams, Lybrand for Probsting. Referee—Armitage, of Springfield College. Umpire—Grenhart, of Swarthmore. Head linesman—Smullin, of Camden Y. M. C. A. Time of periods—12 minutes.

Win From Audubon

Coach Dimond's minions invaded Audubon last Friday afternoon and handed the charges of Carl Geiges an 18 to 0 trimming after a great battle.

Knight accounted for the first pair of touchdowns for Palmyra, crashing through the line on both occasions after steady marches up the field had put the ball in scoring distance.

A brilliant 55-yard dash by Sloan accounted for the final six-pointer. A lateral pass, Maisby to Sloan, started the latter off on his long journey through the entire Audubon High eleven. All tries for the extra point failed to connect.

Despite the margin of victory, Audubon High put up a great battle, but Palmyra always took the ball on downs when its goal line was threatened.

The summary:

Palmyra		Audubon
Bartley	left end	Owens
Lybrand	centre	Wilson
Tallman	right guard	Morris
Shaw	right tackle	Howley

JACK EISLEY SIGNED BY MOORESTOWN CLUB

Palmyra High School Basketball Star to Play With Quakers in County Loop

Jack Eisley, former Palmyra High School basketball star, has been signed by the Moorestown Club, of the Burlington County circuit.

Eisley was one of the outstanding players developed by Coach Kenneth Dimond last year and was a tower of sertngth to his team in the great race it made for the Class "B" Championship of New Jersey.

The Palmyra team was not eliminated until a tough break took Eisley out of the line-up near the end of the semi-final game.

Jack will display his wares when his team clashes with Burlington at the Burlington Armory Monday night.

PALMYRA GIRL HURT

The prizes given by the Palmyra Juniors' football team last Saturday evening were won by Woodie McCuen, of Parry avenue, who won the ton of coal, and Arthur Carr, of Memorial avenue, who won the $5.00 gold-piece.

MCCOY'S CARDS BEAT RIVERTON

Regulars Instead of Reserves Show Up to Play Last Saturday

The McCoy's Cards, of Riverside, defeated the Riverton A. A. team on Saturday, November 10, 20 to 0. The game had been scheduled with McCoy's Reserves, but seven of McCoy's Cards played in the contest, giving Riverton an upgrade fight at all times.

Substitutes for Riverton were: Minich for Merrill, Wagner for Perkins, Broderson for Downs, Clifton for Higgins, Perkins for Clifton.

The visitors scored the first touchdown when they blocked Reeves' kick and made a steady drive for the goal, with Zoll and Freynick doing the gaining.

Riverton then made a drive, but failed when Wagner fumbled; fumbles were a-plenty and costly, too, for two touchdowns were made after fumbles.

McCoy's next score came when Zoll picked up a fumbled ball on his 20-yard line and dashed 80 yards for a six-pointer.

The next score was also the result of a fumble in mid-field and a drive for the goal with end runs and line bucks.

Next week Riverton plays Beverly A. C. at Memorial Park, at 2.45 P. M. Come out and support your home team.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

R. B. KENNEDY, EDITOR OF THE WHITTIER (CALIF.) NEWS, SAYS:

THAT Advertising is a common word in the vocabulary of the business man of today. It may mean one thing to one man and another thing to some other man, but the word is one which all will recognize and about which every business man has some conviction.

The man who believes that advertising does not pay is no longer with us. Examples of success due entirely to advertising are so numerous that even the man who cares no more for a dollar than he does for his right eye, will agree that advertising can be made to pay.

Because of this commonly accepted truth that "advertising pays," perhaps more dollars are coaxed out the till for this purpose than results justify. It should be remembered that not every printed advertisement will bring back to the business man its cost plus a profit. Unless intelligent thought is given to the preparation of the copy for the advertisement and unless, after the copy is prepared, it is placed in some medium which circulates among the prospective customers, a large per cent. of the value has disappeared.

Then, too, the budget set aside for advertising should conform with the volume of business possible. Often the budget is too large for the size of the business and more often it is too small. If a business man expends more than a reasonable per cent. of his gross income for advertising purposes, he is gambling on futures and may come a cropper.

Business methods applied to advertising insure against disappointment. If you are doing a $25,000 gross business per year, don't attempt to carry as large an advertising campaign as the man with the $100,000 gross business. It can't be done. Make the advertising build up your gross business and keep pace with the advertising budget. Don't get out of step.

REMEMBER THAT ALL PRINTED ANNOUNCEMENTS ARE NOT OF EQUAL VALUE TO YOU. IT IS THE ANNOUNCEMENT WHICH IS CARRIED INTO THE HOMES OF THE PEOPLE YOU HOPE TO TRADE WITH THAT HAS THE BEST CHANCE TO INCREASE YOUR GROSS BUSINESS.

FINDS COIN DATED 1776

Joseph Kimball, the well known auctioneer and farmer, of near Jacksonville, while walking across one of his fields recently, spied what appeared to be a small coin lying in the dirt, and he picked it up and was surprised to find that it was a small Spanish piece in a fine state of preservation, bearing the date 1776. He has since shown his find to a number of acquaintances, but none have been able to even venture a guess as to how the small silver piece could ever have reached the Kimball field. Being one hundred and fifty-two years old, he figured it worth keping and in the meantime is making an effort to learn its real value.

NEW REFRIGERATION INCREASES PROFITS

Proper mechanical refrigeration will keep milk in the condition in which it is produced and practically check bacterial growth, asserts William M. Nulton, Jr., field secretary for the New Jersey Guernsey Breeders' Association, in a statement advising dairymen to adopt modern means of producing a higher quality milk, which brings better prices and meets the demands of boards of health. He states that dairymen dealing with one milk distributor alone collected $300.00 in premiums in on year for furnishing milk of very low bacteria count.

Three years of studying the methods of dairy establishments throughout New Jersey has revealed, reports Mr. Nulton, that mechanical refrigeration is more efficient and less mussy than either the ice or running water methods. The low temperatures produced by the mechanical devices, result in a rapid cooling of the milk and consequently a prompt check to bacterial development, according to the Guernsey authority. With the possible temperature of 50 deg. Fahr., or less, it has been found possible to keep milk for long periods without spoilage.

"The cooling plants in general use fall into two classifications—the water or immersion type, and the brine or dry storage type," states Mr. Nulton. "In either case the units are designed to occupy a small space and can be installed with a minimum of time and labor.

"Advantages of the immersion type cooler are that it is the lowest priced equipment that will eliminate the use and laborious handling of ice, it requires the least amount of work to handle the milk, and there is no cooling equipment that requires sterilization, as the milk is not handled from the time it enters the cans until it is delivered.

"Advantages of the brine or dry storage units are that the milk is cooled to a very low temperature immediately after milking, and either bottled milk or bulk milk in cans can be placed in the dry storage compartment. With the brine units it is also possible to manufacture a small quantity of ice or furnish cooling for a small refrigerator by means of brine circulation.

"Both types of cooling plants are now being manufactured in sizes to suit practically any dairy farms."

LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular monthly business meeting will be held next Wednesday, November 21, at 8 P. M., in the Legion Home. All members are urged to make a special effort to attend this meeting as nomination of officers will be in order. This is of great importance to the unit, as you all know, so come out and cast your vote. The work of the auxiliaries is increasing all the time and we need the co-operation of every member to help, not only our own local officers, but the county officers as well. If you've heard the report of our County President, Miss Minnie Ivins, you can understand how great is her task and she needs the support of every member of every unit in the county.

We were hostesses to the County Meeting held last Friday evening in our Legion Home. There were about sixty members present. This was a very good attendance, we felt, as there were many members who attended the ball given in Camden that evening. At this meeting there were six new members welcomed to our unit. Mrs. Thomas McCrosson, Mrs. Eleanor Connell, Mrs. Walter Hunt, Mrs. Ralph Fisher, Mrs. Albert Rinaldi and Mrs. Albert Karpes.

We had several members in line at the Mount Holly rally last Saturday and at Hoboken, Sunday. The members wore their new uniforms for the first at these affairs and how nice they looked!

Don't forget the card party to be held Friday evening, November 23rd.

BURLINGTON BOY GETS NEW JOB

Carlton W. Tillinghast Now With Regional Planning Federation

After nearly three years of effective work in the important position of Assistant Secretary-Treasurer of the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries, which is made up of executive officers of chambers of commerce throughout the United States and several foreign countries, in which capacity he has traveled thousands of miles throughout the United States, Carlton W. Tillinghast, son of Mrs. George S. Tillinghast, of Burlington, has now become associated with the Public Relations Department of the Regional Planning Federation of the Philadelphia Tri-State District.

Mr. Tillinghast became active in the Burlington Chamber of Commerce as assistant secretary in 1923. He was promoted to the secretaryship May 23, 1924, and served the local chamber in that capacity until December 21, 1925, when he became associated with the national body.

It was during the time Mr. Tillinghast was secretary of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce, and largely through his efforts that the organization in that city was elevated to its present high position in national chamber of commerce circles. Noble E. Wagner, present secretary of the local commerce body, succeeded Mr. Tillinghast and has maintained its high standards exceptionally well.

A Burlington boy, Mr. Tillinghast has always taken a keen interest in civic affairs. He graduated from Burlington High School in 1916, was a charter member of Troop 1, Burlington Boy Scouts, the second oldest troop in New Jersey, and became Scoutmaster of this troop in 1919. Mr. Tillinghast took great delight in working with the boys and was very popular with them. In 1921 he became Scout Commissioner of Burlington County.

Mr. Tillinghast's first year with the National Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries was spent at Trenton; the next at Davenport, Iowa, and during the past year he has been located at Sacramento, California.

While stationed in these various cities Mr. Tillinghast, a nationally known violinist of the first rank, has appeared in numerous concerts, both in the Middle West and on the Pacific Coast. In every instance he was enthusiastically received. During the several years in which the Musical Arts Club thrived in this city Mr. Tillinghast was president and concertmaster.

The many friends of Mr. Tillinghast, in and about this city, will be mighty glad to learn that his new position will enable him to again make his residence here. He left recently for Sacramento, where he will straighten out the affairs of the national commerce association, returning east via automobile in a short while.

MUNICIPAL HALL FOR RIVERTON DISCUSSED

Broad and Main streets, suffering injuries from which he died that night. The truck belonged to Michael Chiaccio, of Riverside, and was driven by Albert Siegfried. The driver, he said, was not to blame. During the month four motorists had been arrested and fined for reckless driving. There had been two fires, one at East Riverton and one on Main street.

Hallowe'en Michief

Mr. Williams reported that on Hallowe'en a group of large boys had done considerable damage to the Maples Apartments, at Third and Main streets, and that the police department was endeavoring to locate the guilty parties. A section of the porch was wrecked and a heavy section of iron scroll work which had enclosed one end of the porch for sixty years was torn loose and tumbled to the ground.

The new police car had been bought as authorized at the last meeting and put into service.

Mr. Williams reported that a dog supposed to be suffering from rabies was shot by Officer Quigley last week. The head had been sent to Trenton for examination and the report was to the effect that there was no evidence of rabies in the brain cells, but that an animal would be innoculated and the results announced in four or five weeks. It later developed that the dog was one purchased by George D. Steedle for a friend in Riverton, and which had escaped from its new owner.

Flag Not Displayed

It was reported that some comment had been heard about the fact that the town flag was not always displayed on holidays. A letter was read from John D. Follett, scoutmaster, asking for a schedule of holidays on which Council desired the flag to be raised. The clerk was instructed to advise Scoutmaster Follett that the flag should be displayed on all State and National holidays.

Mr. Williams reported that the base of the flag pole appeared to be in a state of decay, which rendered it unsafe, and was instructed to have it immediately examined in order that it may be repaired if necessary.

The Mayor, Mr. Randall and Mr. Williams reported that they had received complaints of the lack of courtesy on the part of the police officers.

Mr. Williams said that they had been repeatedly instructed to be firm and courteous when dealing with infractions of the motor vehicle laws or any other laws or ordinances, but that it seemed to be difficult to get them to take the right attitude in such cases. Councilman Hubbs suggested that if the officers would not obey orders it was time to get someone who would.

While admitting that some of the officers were not always as courteous as could be desired, Mr. Williams said that they were frequently under great provocation from motorists who persistently disregarded traffic regulations and who, when called to account, became abusive. He cited the case of one driver recently who went to the left of the booth to make a right-hand turn, and when the man on duty spoke to him about it the offender gave the officer "a good cussing out."

Building Permits

The building inspector reported permits issued for $4,600 worth of building operations and fees amounting to $22.50.

The Zoning Committee, appointed at the last meeting, reported progress.

The borough attorney addressed a letter to Council stating that he had received no report from the Public Utilities Commission as to its decision on the water rates allowed the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company for a trial period of one year dating from October 1, 1927, and that he would communicate with Council as soon as he received word from the Commission.

Borough Collector C. Kenneth Davis submitted a list of uncollectible taxes amounting to $435.74, and asked that they be remitted, which action was taken by Council.

MOORESTOWN

The Community Thanksgiving Service under the auspices of the Church Federation will be held on Thanksgiving morning in the Moorestown Methodist Episcopal Church at 9 o'clock. The Rev. C. W. MacGeorge will preach the sermon. These early morning Thanksgiving Services have proved very popular in Moorestown since the first one was held two years ago.

Roland M. Wiltshire, who was a member of the 311th Machine Gun Company in the World War, gave an interesting talk in the Presbyterian Sunday School last Sunday on the meaning of Armistice Day.

Mrs. William de R. French, of West Main street, entertained at a masquerade party at her home last Friday evening for the members of the choir of the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Steelman and son, Clarence, Jr., spent Tuesday with friends in New Brunswick.

Moorestown is to have another famous speaker next Sunday evening. Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and one of the greatest preachers in America, will conduct the Community Service in the Criterion Sunday evening, November 18. His subject will be "The Next Great Step for the Church." Bishop McConnell is a man whom it is hard to secure and Moorestown is indebted to the Rev. F. B. Morley who was able to bring him here.

Stuart Smith, of Philadelphia, First Trumpet with the Moorestown Symphony Orchestra, and who is on the faculty of the Fuhrman School of Music, Camden, will give instructions to a limited number of pupils in the Community House on Thursdays. Mr. Smith may be interviewed at the Community House Thursday evenings at 7.30 o'clock.

Mrs. T. H. Dudley Perkins entertained at a bridge-tea at her Evergreen Lawn home, Haddonfield road, Saturday afternoon, for twenty guests.

LONE EAGLE GROUP

The fifth meeting of the Lone Eagle Y. M. C. A. group, Palmyra-Riverton, was held on November 10.

Eleven members were present, besides two applicants for membership. Both applicants were accepted.

Following a short meeting the following fellows were initiated: Walter Barclay, Peter Rodman, Stanley Eckert, LeRoy Lester, Robert Knight and John Gibson. These candidates underwent a series of tests and ordeals, many of which were very trying to the gastronomical regions.

Following initiations the entire group joined in various games, in which peanuts played an important part. A short game of baseball was brought to a close with the score, 9 to 7.

The new members then went home to spend the rest of the evening scrubbing off the nail polish from their nails.

"Lest We forget"

Flags and music and applause . . . nothing was too good for our young marching men those stirring war-time days.

Our young men came back—most of them. And most of those who came back are living in peace and comfort today. But nearly 30,000 of them are sick and disabled—in hospitals under the care of the Veterans' Bureau. They need many things that our laws won't allow our government to give them.

And those things are furnished by the American Red Cross. For the Red Cross never forgets. It cares for the ill or wounded veteran as "The Greatest Mother in the World."

The Red Cross never forgets . . . let us not forget the Red Cross. Let us respond to the Red Cross Roll Call NOW — "lest we forget."

DANCING SCHOOL OPENS SATURDAY

Mrs. Alexine Tomes to Conduct Classes for Twin Cities in Society Hall, Palmyra

Mrs. Alexine Tomes will open a school of dancing for Palmyra and Riverton with formal registration this Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in Society Hall, Palmyra, where all classes are to be held.

Classes will be conducted in technique, tap, acrobatic, tap and soft shoe, physical culture and musical comedy. Instruction in ballroom dancing will introduce all the latest steps.

Mrs. Tomes was a student at the famous Cowanova Studio of Dancing, Philadelphia, for five years, was a member of the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company ballet, and is dancing teacher at the Moorestown Community House, having enjoyed two very successful seasons at the widely known recreational center.

CALVARY Y. M. C. A.

The regular weekly meeting of the Calvary Y. M. C. A. group of Palmyra and Riverton was held on Monday evening in the Methodist Church, of Palmyra. Owing to the day being a holiday and also the day of one of the High Schol football games, our attendance was cut down somewhat. It might be interesting to know that all of our fellows play either on the High School or the Riverton A. A. football teams.

The meeting was opened by reading the responsive ritual which the County Y. M. C. A. furnishes for all Y. M. C. A. groups. The subject for the evening's discussion was that of "Friends." Mr. Plank, our leader, gave us some very clear-cut illustrations as to the two types of friends that we all may meet in life. At the close of this discussion period all the members of the group joined hands in a "Friendship Circle," at which time each fellow pledged himself to true friendship with every other fellow in the group for all time.

The business session was short, as our business was of a very limited nature. Quite some time was given over to preparation of special stunts which the group is going to work at the Father and Son Banquet to be held this Thursday.

The remainder of the evening was spent at the old favorite game of the group, that of basketball. Two teams were chosen and a real game was enjoyed by all those present.

COMMUNICATED

Dear Mr. Editor:

Election being over and beyond all doubts, "Hats off" to our new President-elect, Mr. Hoover.

I am using this space in your paper to ask a question, not so much for my own satisfaction, but for every Democrat in Riverton, Palmyra and Cinnaminson.

Are we going to be left to the mercy of people bent on destroying our property every time we happen to be on the losing side, or will Mayor Wimer and Chief Beck, instead of standing by and looking on, protect our rights as citizens and give us a square deal?

SAMARITAN CLASS

The Samaritan Class of the Central Baptist Church, due to the erection of the new church building, held its regular monthly meeting at the home of the teacher, Charles A. Deitz, Tuesday evening.

Among the important business transacted during the evening was that of the procuring of funds to purchase the chimes for the new church organ. The one source of revenue, namely, the collection and selling of old newspapers, was discussed and a more concerted work was planned in this direction.

The class is endeavoring to establish certain periods for making collections from its many kind contributors and thereby facilitate a more defined plan to make it more profitable.

The members will meet on Wednesday, November 21, at the home of Charles A. Deitz, at 6.30 P. M. As this needs many hands, every member is asked to come out and render his services.

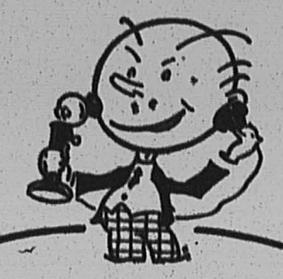

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Election of officers will be the feature of the annual meeting of the Palmyra High School Alumni Association to be held in the school auditorium, this evening.

Future activities of the organization will be planned at this meeting and a large attendance is desired.

Aviation Grows Safer

A recent report by the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce of America on aviation in this country last year points out that "in operation over established air routes by the Government air mail and air transport companies casualties have been reduced to a remarkable degree."

The report says that in the Government air mail operations there was but one fatality to 1,413,361 pilot-passenger miles flown. This record bespeaks the safety of present-day flying when it is done by experienced aviators and under proper regulations.

The report also says that out of a total of 164 fatalities in the United States last year, 131 occurred in unlicensed airplanes. This emphasizes the fact that all pilots and all airplanes should be licensed.

Although aviation becomes less of a hasard every year, it is the scientific understanding and practice of ts complex principles that makes it so, and it is unwise to say the least, to permit anybody to operate an airplane until he has demonstrated his practical ability.

Passengers take unnecesary risks when they go up in an airplane without first investigating whether both the plane and pilot is licensed.

Getting Into a Rut

Owing to the growing tendency toward specialization in every department of human activity, it is becoming more difficult for the average man to keep in touch with what is going on outside his own immediate interests. He becomes so engrossed with his special line of work that he runs a great risk of getting into a rut.

While the exactions of modern business and professional life lead necessarily to a high degree of specialization, they should not be permitted to unduly restrict one's mental horizon. Everyone should take sufficient time to keep abreast with important developments in the world about him. By doing so he will often encounter ideas which will be of practical benefit in his own sphere of effort.

Above all, he should lay aside routine duties frequently for the purpose of indulging in systematic thinking. Many men are able to evolve their best ideas in some quiet spot away from the scene of their daily labors.

Whatever may be the details of any method adopted, a portion of one's time should be devoted to sound reading covering varied subjects. Otherwise he will inevitably get into a rut. And getting into a rut is bad for his intellect and bad for his business.

American Use of Power

The importance of the use of power in industry is strikingly illustrated in a comparison between British and American manufacturing methods recently completed by the National Industrial Conference Board.

Eight major manufacturing industries in this country, using an average of one and one-half times as much horsepower for each wage earner as do British factories, turn out from two and one-half to three times as much production per worker.

Steel works and rolling mills, during 1924, turned out, in Great Britain, $660,895,000 worth of products, with 200,181 workers. In the United States, in 1925, 370,726 wage earners produced a total of $2,946,068,000.

Value added by manufacture in American steel mills averaged $3,059 per worker employed, while the British average was but $975.

This greater productivity of the worker, through the use of power, is unquestionably one of the main reasons for our high wage scales and standards of living.

Record in Highway Building

The United States this year is spending a record sum for highways. The twelve-months' total will reach $1,360,026,000.

This is 21 per cent. more than last year and five per cent. more than in 1926, when the former high mark was established.

The movement toward building good roads is a product of this century. The perfection of the automobile, the growth of industry and the social and business necessity of improved transportation arteries all contributed to the result. America in a few brief years has developed the finest highway system in the world, and every year is witnessing still greater progress.

Highways and prosperity move together. Every dollar spent in good roads building is a dollar that is a sound, dividend-returning investment. It has been said that Rome was only as great as her highways and the same is again true of any modern nation today.

What's New

A vending machine which delivers a lighted cigarette when a penny is dropped in the slot is the invention of a Brooklyn young man.

By a new process more than 11,000 cubic feet of gas can be produced from a ton of straw.

By automatically controlled electric heat it is possible to dry out green lumber in 48 hours without warping.

Refuse from sugar cane is now being made into synthetic lumber.

A new English army motorcycle is fitted with tractor wheels in the rear which enables it to travel on swampy ground and also climb steep grades.

A new all-metal flying boat developed in Europe has 24 seats for passengers, is driven by four 2,000 horsepower engines and can make 126 miles an hour.

American Game Protection

In the earlier days of our country there was only one thought in regard to game, and that was for a man to go out with a gun and kill all he could lay low. This led to the annihilation of the herds of American buffaloes. Elk and moose disappeared in nearly every section of the nation. Deer became scarce. Other game became rare. Game birds were driven out of most of their haunts. In consequence the protection of game became a very serious problem, calling for intelligent consideration and constructive methods.

The Government and the States took it up and passed laws to help preserve and conserve game. Official Bureaus were created in States throughout the nation.

Sportsmen, conservation bodies and other organizations and individuals have been giving attention to the diversified angles of propagation, conservation and restoration of small and big game, game birds and fish.

As a result, when the American Game Protective Association holds its annual meeting in New York early in December the event will resolve itself into a great national game conference, with official and unofficial participants.

The Bureau of Biological Survey, the Bureau of Fisheries, the Forest Service and the National Parks Service of the United States Government; and the game authorities of various States will take part in the conference; as will also the Izaak Walton League of America; the National Association of Audubon Societies, the American Forestry Association, the American Gamekeepers' Society, and many other groups and organizations interested in the problems of forest and fields.

A New Treasure Search Begins

Now a copy of Edgar Allan Poe's first published work, "Tamerlane and Other Poems, By a Bostonian," so rare that no copy is in the Library of Congress, is reported to have been sold for a price in excess of $20,000. This event ushers in a new "treasure search" in America. For now that American authors' first editions are beginning to fetch big prices, every farmhouse presents an opportunity. Somewhere in the attic there may be a volume worth thousands.

From Shakespeare to Lewis Carroll, first editions of English authors have been sold for fabulous sums. In comparison, $20,000 is paltry, but collectors always search the libraries and museums of other countries before they fall back on those of their own. The antique furniture of Europe was eagerly bid up before our farmhouses were ransacked to yield their treasures and we realized that American antiques could command a rich market.

We are off for a real start, with real money being paid for an American first edition. Poe is in the lead as only six copies of his first book are known to exist. Other sensational first edition sales are sure to follow—and throughout the land, unknown to themselves, are men whose bookshelves hold treasures that will some day enrich them.

Looking Forward

All predictions that 1928 would prove a less prosperous year than 1927 have already been confuted by the facts.

The last few weeks of 1928 will no doubt put this year far ahead of 1927 in business volume.

Let us recall what was said a year ago.

The perpetual pessimists had forebodings that this was to be a bad year for the railroads, that there would be a building slump, and that the auto industry would reach the saturation point. They said the consequence would be the shutting down of many of the steel mills.

Perhaps the only reason they didn't predict a panic was the fear that they might create one prematurely.

Let us see what has happened.

Railroad freight loadings have set records. It has been a year of bumper crops, and, in the main, favorable markets. The auto industry has been on the upgrade, establishing new records. Building operations have been above normal. Record earnings have been reported by the steel industry.

Signs for a prosperous 1929 are evident more than were signs for a prosperous 1928. It seems quite certain that we can confidently look ahead to an unusually good business year.

Measuring Prosperity

The automobile market seems to be the new standard by which the economic situation is judged. Wheat and steel used to be the basic commodities, but now one hears more about cars. In the face of new conditions it is interesting and encouraging to know that the automotive markets of the world have shown increased activity during the past three months.

A Little Country Paper

by Clara McCreery

I get a little paper from a little country town—
A far cry from the dailies, that on Sundays weigh us down;
It's printed every Thursday, and it has no supplement,
Nor colored rotogravure, but I'm always glad it's sent.

It gives no clever verses by the syndicated bards,
But states that Mrs. Williams entertained some friends at cards;
"Ye scribe" saw Judge McArthur shaking hands with friends today—
It says the Curtis family sold out and moved away.

On Boulder Dam it's silent, and there's nothing on finance—
It tells that the Rebekahs gave an installation dance.
That Miss Day is returning soon to open up her school.
That Alexander Hargrave lost a valuable mule.

It's glad that Jimmy Gallagher can be around again.
It claims that the alfalfa crop is much in need of rain;
The supervisors voted for the road work to commence;
Will Anderson hauled lumber for his new garage and fence.

The worldly ones may smile at it, but theirs are tender smiles—
These home town items form a band through many years and miles.
Oh little country paper, with your little weekly talks!
I like to wander with you down remembered roads and walks.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers

FAIR HISTORY EXPECTED SOON

Through the occasional attempts of late years to revive the Mount Holly Fair raised the hopes of the few optimists, it is now thought that when the grounds and buildings are sold November 17 the data for the final page in the enterprise's history will have been supplied. The proceeds of the receiver's sale will be usd to satisfy claims held against the owners of the property, who had acquired it with a view to making it the home of the Ku Klux Klan.

It was some four years ago that the Burlington County Fair Association, because of many discouraging conditions, ended the annual fall agricultural exhibitions and horse racing that had made the grounds famous since 1846 and sold their holdings to Richard W. Wills, of Mount Holly. At intervals, since that sale, vain efforts were made to have the fair resuscitated. At the present time, not even the receiver will hazard a guess as to the identity of the person who may purchase the plant. And none of those most interested in its fate entertain the slightest notion that the buyer or buyers wil reopen it for the carrying on of its original purposes.

It wasn't so many years ago that the Mount Holly Fair drew throngs of spectators, especially the devotees of horse racing. On its half-mile track trotters and pacers of widespread reputation matched their fleetness, supplying many a thrill for intensely interested watchers. The decline of county fairs began with the entry of the automobile in ever increasing numbers. There were other contributing causes. Abandonment of these shows has been the source of regret. As to none of these, however, has this feeling been keener than in th case of the Mount Holly Fair.

DEMOCRATIC VIEW

We have met the enemy and they are his.

In the national, state, county and municipal elections held on Tuesday, which is fast becoming past history, the Democratic party suffered its worst defeat in years, and now that we know the result it is only fair that we attempt to decipher the reason.

It is true, that Governor Alfred E. Smith, the Democratic standard bearer, polled a larger popular vote than has any other presidential candidate in the history of the country, except, or course, that received by President-elect Hoover, showing that his popularity was beyond question; consequently, there must have been something wrong in Denmark, as the saying goes.

We find that Democrats in this section are inclined to think that the stand of the Democratic candidate on the Prohibition Amendment had a lot to do with his defeat, in that it awoke latent Republicanism among the women of the country, and there was hardly a voting precinct in the entire forty-eight states that did not show a greatly increased vote, the gain being the result of female determination to uphold the Eighteenth Amendment.

Many believe that had the leaders of the Democratic party saw fit to hedge on this important issue as did President-elect Hoover and, has advisers, the latter may still have won, but his victory would not have been nearly so pronounced.

However, it is too late to cry over spilled milk, and real Democrats are undismayed at the present loss of prestige and already are beginning to think anew and prepare for the next four years in an effort to make a more formidable defense.

With the Republicans carrying forty of the forty-eighth tates in the Union, and President-elect Hoover getting 444 electoral votes to 87 for Smith, besides making great gains in both branches of Congress, from now on the majority party will have no opportunity to offer excuses and no blame can be placed on the Democratic minority for any Congressional acts, nor for legislative action in New Jersey, where Republicans will control both the Gubernatorial chair and the Legislature.

Too often, in years past, has the hue and cry gone up in this state that a Democratic Governor blocked favorable Republican legislation, or vice versa, but all this is now a thing of the past, at least for the next three years.—Mount Holly Herald.

DEATH OF SENATOR FORSYTH

Burlington County joins with Camden in mourning the death of its representative in the State Senate, Joseph Forsyth, who died, a victim of penumonia, at his home in Haddonfield last (Tuesday) night.

A Burlington County boy, with a wide circle of friends amid the scenes of his early years, Senator Forsyth's death casts a pall over more than a few homes in Burlington County today and tempers the joy which many partisans feel in the victory of the party in which the late Camden Senator did such yeoman service.

—Mount Holly Mirror.

A FAR LOOK AHEAD

Although the important election of 1928 has only just been held, plans are already in the making in Burlington County for another of those hectic primary struggles next June, for which the Republicans of Burlington County are becoming rather noted throughout the State. Of course, a truce may be patched up. Let us hope it will; but present signs do not point that way despite the pacific utterances of State leaders who have shown a disposition to arbitrate the differences that have existed for several years. Fortunately, these factional troubles had no influence on the last battle, all brands of Republicans having enlisted in the party cause and fighting side by side for the success of the ticket.

THE GREATEST NEWS

FIFTEEN BILLIONS OVER

RELIGIOUS IDEALISM

ENGLISH JUSTICE

The most important news in the world has nothing to do with the election, or the intelligence of the modern "flapper" high prized by educational authorities. The year's important news tells of a giant telescope, with a 200-inch mirror, that will reveal to the eyes of men hundreds of millions of new stars and distant "universes."

Appalling to man's feeble intellect is a thin instrument that will bring within reach of our eyes the light of nebulae in a far off universe, light that has been traveling through space one billion years, at a speed of 186,000 miles a second.

Mr. Raskob, a brilliantly able business man, said, probably out of politeness to please political associates, that our prosperity is not genuine. The General Motors Company, for which he has done good work, seems not to share his opinion, judging by the price of its stock and the size of its earnings.

Mr. Mellon, Secretary of the Treasury, thinks our prosperity is sound enough and so do others of financial ability.

Mr. Frederick Ecker, Vice-President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, says the main element in prosperity is the wage earner's "back log."

Workers in this country earn about ONE HUNDRED BILLION dollars a year.

There is a good deal of extravagance and waste, but in spite of that, not more than 85 per cent. of the earnings is spent. This means that the people earn each year FIFTEEN BILLIONS more than they spent.

Every year, after paying their living expenses, the people have left over fifteen thousand million dollars, 50 per cent. more than the gigantic sum lent to Europe in the war by this country.

This "social surplus" comes in EVERY YEAR.

That is a substantial "back log" to keep the prosperity fires burning.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in memory of his mother, gives to the University of Chicago $1,000,000 "to promote the religious idealism of students of the university."

Those, unfortunately numerous, that do exist WITHOUT religious idealism, never lifting their eyes from the ground to contemplate the question the heavens and the glory that they declare, are like the men living in Plato's cave, their backs to the light, knowing only shadows on the walls.

Young Mr. Chung Ji-miao, Chinese law student, married Wai June Sui, daughter of a rich merchant, took her to England and there murdered her.

Mr. Chung made his mistake when he went to England. They will hang him in a few days, in spite of his ingenious story, about mysterious Oriental assassins committing the crime.

In England when you kill anybody, they hang you without loss of time, excuses and explanations are not accepted. It is in this country that murderers in great numbers go free, and even those caught and convicted have two or three years to think it over.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

The Intellectual Life

It is refreshing to note that a memorandum from the Student Council has been addressed to the university authorities at Yale formulating a series of reforms upholding the proposition that a college is primarily a place for study, and only incidentally for social and athletic recreation.

This will be refreshing to a number of fathers who are digging in to pay the expenses of their sons at school and heretofore have been worried because those sons seem to be more interested in sports and in special advantages than in intellectual improvement.

Of course, every healthy boy is interested in athletics and is anxious to form proper social connections. But the general impression prevails among fathers that boys ought to go to school to improve themselves from the chin up and not from the chin down.

It has been too often the case that boys have attached a social stigma to those who get class marks higher than C. Those who go in for study have been characterized as "sharks" or "grinds." Reference to one's studies in social life has been looked upon with disdain and the only thing to be boasted is a place on the football team or the rowing crew.

Of course, a boy is a healthy animal and he doesn't care to be subjected to intellectual snobbery, but at the same time, this New Haven memorandum asserts, a college finds its reason for being and its prestige in the achievements of the intellectual minority among students.

It has been generally presumed that the youth of the country is somewhat wild and is out for a good time only. Those who emphasize the things that are intellectual in any group of people must necessarily be in the minority, but it is refreshing to see that this minority has been coming in to better repute during the last fifteen years. There are probably quite as many serious-minded youths in the country as there ever were. Youth is not at all out for a wastrel life. There still remain quite a number of the elect. And on the whole the prospect for a better world in the future is bright.

This memorandum suggests that after the first two years the men who are assiduous in their studies are to be separated from those who are going in for a good time and barely enough study to get by. The honor men's instructors should be largely tutorial and they should have the best men on the faculty.

It is needless to say that this proposal of the undergraduates has the entire sympathy of the faculty.

PAUL'S EXPERIENCES IN JERUSALEM
Acts 21:37-22:1;22-29
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Action and plenty of it followed Paul's arrival at Jerusalem. James, the brother of Jesus, presided over the conference where Paul made his report and turned over the offerings which had been gathered for the poor in Jerusalem during this third missionary journey, now concluding. When account was given of the way in which many Gentiles believed in the crucified and risen Lord "they glorified God." At the same time they told Paul that he was being spoken against by those who were sure that he had forsaken the laws and customs that dated back to the days of Moses. To win favor with such critics he was advised to assume the cost of vows recently made by four men and take the same Nazarite vow on himself for the remaining seven days. Paul was ready to make this concession, for he was steadfast as a Jew though he had added to his beliefs meanwhile.

Trouble began when some devout Jews from Asia declared that this man, already under suspicion, had brought Trophimus, the Ephesian, a total alien, into the section of the Temple area whither only a Jew might go. The Chief distinctly read that if another than a Jew passed beyond that point the death penalty would be inflicted. The uproar was fierce and the Temple guards shut the gates as soon as Paul could be dragged out. Seeing the confusion the Roman soldiers were rushed from the Castle of Antonio for the protection of the man against whom the cry was raised "Away with him."

To secure Paul's safety, for the Romans were responsible, the prisoner was taken within Antonio where the centurion was ordered to scourge the man and thus extort his confession. This was akin to what is called the "third degree" of modern days. At just the psychological moment, as the lash was about to fall on the bared back, Paul asked a quiet question that changed everything suddenly. He said, "Is it lawful to scourge a man that is a Roman, and uncondemned?" They knew that Paul had not made any bluff as to his claim of Roman citizenship, else he would have been punished with death. The centurion called the chief captain, Claudias, Lysias, who also was a citizen of Rome. When asked if his claim was true Paul said "Yes." Lysias was amazed, for his citizenship had been obtained at great cost. Then Paul, with just pride in his ancestry, adds to the evaluation that is now being made of him, "But I am a Roman born." There were no further torments that day.

Next day Paul faced the Jewish Sanhedrin. When he saw that his case could not have a fair hearing there he threw that court into confusion by dividing the Pharisees and Saducess as he mentioned the resurrection. Turmoil started afresh and the castle again became the place for safekeeping. When a fierce plot was discovered Paul was hastened northward to Caesarea under a strong guard. Meanwhile Paul had been encouraged by a night vision as "the Lord stood by him and said, "Be of good cheer: for as thou hast testified concerning me at Jerusalem, so must thou bear witness also at Rome." That message was of wonderful consolation through the two years that followed while a prisoner and during the journey to Rome that ended in a shipwreck.

Mussolini says the newspapers may not criticize his government, but may say anything they want to about his violin playing. However, we doubt that the Italian papers want to fiddle around with that.

Alice Brady refused to pay income tax on money spent for beauty treatments. If the rest of the American women follow her example, the U. S. Treasury may find itself in a bad way.

BANNER DISTRICT, SAYS BACHARACH

Congressman Highly Elated With Section's Republican Majorities

When asked to comment on last Tuesday's election, Congressman Bacharach expressed himself as being very much elated with the results throughout the nation, and particularly in New Jersey, including his own District, which will again prove to be one of the banner Republican Districts of the State. His views, he said, may be best summed up in the telegram which he sent to Mr. Hoover, as follows:

"Hon. Herbert Clark Hoover, President-elect of the United States, Palo Alto, Calif.: My hearty felicitations to you and my congratulations to the people of the United States in selecting you as their next President. As in the past New Jersey has asserted its Republicanism in the National election and has returned to the fold in State elections. With two Republican Senators and a substantial representation in the House, New Jersey will give to you its earnest support in fulfilling your pledges to the country. With cordial good wishes to you and yours I have the honor to remain, Isaac Bacharach, M. C."

Congressman Bacharach also dispatched messages of congratulations to Governor Larson and Senator Kean.

In a letter to the editor, the popular Congressman said:

"First permit me to express to you my sincere appreciation for the friendly interest and courtesies extended to me by your good paper during the campaign just closed, for which I am very grateful and thankful.

"I will further appreciate it if you will be good enough to express my thanks to your readers for their splendid support by printing the following:

"May I, through the columns of your good paper, express to the voters of your community my sincere thanks for the support which they gave, not only to the Presidential and other candidates, but to myself in the election just closed. I am very much gratified with the splendid results in the Second Congressional District, which continues to hold its place among the banner Republican Districts of the State. I am strong in the belief that the voters of the country have acted wisely in electing Mr. Hoover to carry on the government at the end of President Coolidge's term, for I am sure that his character, his training, his experience and ability will make him one of the outstanding Presidents of all time. For myself, I wish to renew the only promise that I have ever made to the voters of my District—that is to serve them in all things to the very best of my ability. I am deeply grateful for the confidence which my constituents continue to repose in me as expressed in the election returns. I appreciate the honor and realize fully its responsibilities, and I again express my thanks to those who voted for me."

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

SUDDEN DEATHS

Such announcements as the sudden death of a neighbor often sets us to wondering whether we are not harboring some hidden enemy that may strike us down without warning—and we shudder a little, and dismiss the unpleasant thought from our minds as quickly as possible.

Now, listen: There is no fatal ailment that strikes us without warning. Bear that in mind. The fellow that dropped dead at his work bench had plenty of warnings, but he ignored them. He neglected that little keen pain that he felt in the left breast from time to time—that always wore away so quickly. He didn't heed the "dizzy spells" or the misty spots before his eyes when he ate pretty freely of fresh meat or veal loaf for supper. He was too absorbed in his work to attend to a bowel that had been clogged for years; he saw no more than just annoyance, when his kidneys got him out of bed five or six times each night. No, my dear sir, and madame—you are always warned—warned plenty—before a sudden attack strikes you down. Heed the warnings, however slight, if you do not understand symptoms perfectly. It will pay in length of days, maybe. If you do not understand, go to the physician who does. A visit to the doctor is many times cheaper than a funeral! The capable physician will tell you that neglect in matters that pertain to life and health is simply inexcusable—worse than the height of folly. It doesn't cost much to have the urine analyzed—and may be the means of prolonging that very delightful sojourn of yours in the land of the living.

It is a rather sad reflection that I indulge this morning—that more than half the deaths were preventable.

NEW JERSEY LEADS IN POULTRY INDUSTRY

According to the latest available figures from the Department of Agriculture, New Jersey leads all the states of the Union in the growth of its poultry industry. In the five years before 1926, the total egg production in this state increased 100 per cent., and the number of eggs produced per hen increased about 27 per cent., or from 63 eggs to 80 eggs. This increase in egg production per hen—although less in some states—is said by agricultural statisticians to be due mainly to the better selection of stock and better care of it. New scientific information on the care of poultry is another cause of the increase. Such developments as the utilization of the ultra-violet rays of the sun which supply the much needed vitamin D, by means of celoglass windows for hen houses, perfected brooders of great size, and scientific methods of feeding advocated by poultry experimental stations, have all played their part in the countrywide increase in egg production during the past few years.

COUNTY HISTORY OF 25 YEARS AGO

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror Nov. 4, 1903

Pumpkins are being received in large quantities at Mount Holly canning factories and the work of putting them up is keeping a large force busy.

The cold storage warehouse of the Nelson P. Creeley farm, between Mount Holly and Burlington, now contains about 12,000 baskets of apples that will be marketed during the winter.

A mortgage for $400 on the Edward Groom property, Garden street, Mount Holly, was canceled by the new owners, Samuel Capp & Son. The mortgage was made about fifty years ago and during that time the interest amounted to $1,200.

Burlington county cranberry growers, especially those in Pemberton township, are particularly proud of this year's yield, about 250,000 bushels, half of which was produced by Pemberton growers. The berries are of fine quality and the highly satisfactory price of $6 per barrel is being received.

The dispatch with which the construction of the Mount Holly and Burlington trolley road has progressed during the past few weeks has been very gratifying both to the promoters and the public generally, especially to those who make daily trips between the two towns.

At the election yesterday John G. Horner, Rep., was elected State Senator by 3,100 majority over Conrow, Dem.; Shedaker and Robbins, Rep., assemblymen, over Hazzard and Barclow, Dem., by about 2,200 majorities; Werrell, Rep., county auditor, over Hancock, Dem., by 2,395 majority.

November 11, 1903

Theodore G. Palmer, son of Sterne Palmer, and grandson of Nathan Palmer, founder of The Mirror, died at his home in Spring Lake on Friday, after having been in poor health for several years. He was one of the gold seekers in California in '49. Deceased was in his 76th year. He spent his boyhood days in Mount Holly, where his mother lived a long time and died only a few days ago. Until several years ago he was a member of the firm of Palmer & Smith, large leather dealers in Newark.

Ice almost an inch thick formed in some places in this vicinity on Friday night.

Company E, National Guard, Mount Holly, had a good turnout at the battalion drill held in the Camden armory on Monday night.

Hornor Brothers have been overhauling their skating pond out Garden street, Mount Holly, to be in readiness for the coming season.

The voting machine that was used in the first ward, Mount Holly, last week, was satisfactory to most of the voters, only a few objecting to the innovation. At the close of the polls it took only a few minutes to record the vote, which is added automatically by the machine for each candidate.

Mayor-elect George A. Allinson, of Burlington, was in Mount Holly on Monday and modestly received congratulations upon his victory over C. Taylor Rue, Rep., by a majority of 132.

Another lot of 45 weanling mules has been received at the farm of Murrell Dobbins, near Birmingham. This makes a total of 85 mules on that farm, where they are raised for use in Mr. Dobbins' brickyards in Philadelphia.

It is said that within the next two or three weks the horse car will make its last trip in Mount Holly, when the work of constructing the trolley road here has been completed.

1927 NEW JERSEY BELL TELEPHONE CO. BELL SYSTEM 1928

The First Year

ONE year ago the robust growth of New Jersey challenged the telephone industry to keep pace. The answer was the coordination of existing Bell Systems in New Jersey under united leadership into one state-wide organization—the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company

The end of the first year sees state growth in homes and industry and population met by 40,000 more telephones; new buildings; new and better equipment in scores of central offices; nearly 300,000 additional miles of telephone line; all these enabling the company to furnish markedly faster, more extensive and more accurate service.

Keeping pace with Jersey's growth calls for the undivided efforts of 14,000 telephone men and women of this state and an investment of $20,000,000 a year for enlarging the state-wide telephone system.

The New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, encouraged by the reception it has been accorded and by what has been achieved in its first year, enters its second year with renewed purpose to carry on its recorded policy to furnish the most telephone service and the best, at the least cost to the public.

NEW JERSEY WORKERS RANK HIGH IN INDUSTRIAL EFFICIENCY

Value Of Goods Produced Per Wage Earner—One Year In Principal Manufacturing States

The value of a year's products in New Jersey factories, averages $8,320 for each worker employed according to the United States Census Bureau. This high record of productivity is one of the compelling reasons for the State's astonishing progress and prosperity.

The use of electricity in industry, by putting power in its most available form back of the workman, contributes largely to this splendid showing, and Public Service, with a connected industrial load of more than 900,000 horse power, is a substantial factor in the outstanding industrial development of New Jersey.

Republican Landslide Gives Morgan Larson Many Big State Jobs to Fill

Lively Scramble for Political Plums is Anticipated After Nine Lean Years; G. O. P. Patronage Estimates at $1,000,000 in Salaries

After nine years under Democratic control the patronage of the governor's office will begin to flow to the faithful of the Republican party next January when Morgan F. Larson, of Middlesex county, takes over the reins in the executive office at the State House at Trenton as the successor to A. Harry Moore, Democrat.

Mr. Larson is the second Republican Governor to be elected in New Jersey in 18 years. The Democratic predecessors have been Woodrow Wilson, in 1910; James F. Fielder, 1912; Edward I. Edwards, 1919; George Sibser, 1922, and A. Harry Moore, 1926. Walter E. Edge broke the Democratic chain in 1916 having the that year when the Republicans swept the state.

Mr. Larson is also a victor in a Republican national landslide, indicating again the accuracy of the statement that New Jersey state tickets fare well in presidential years when they are carried along on the national tide of the G. O. P.

After having had so many lean years without state patronage in the big offices there is likely to be a lively scramble among the Republicans now for the lucrative state jobs which Governor-elect Larson will have to bestow in the next three years. Represented in figures there is approximately a million dollars in total salaries involved in these appointments, which calculation does not include the many high judicial terms which must be filled. In most of these instances, however, re-appointments are likely and the high courts are kept evenly balanced politically.

Berths to Be Filled

Among the prominent Democrats whose terms expire next year and who will be succeeded by Republicans appointed by Mr. Larson are the following:

Attorney General Edward L. Katzenbach, Mercer county, 3 years at $7,000 a year; Clerk of the Chancery Court, Thomas Barber, Warren, 5 years, $6,000; Banking Commissioner Edward Maxson, Union, 3 years, $6,000.

State Commissioner of Labor Andrew F. McBride, Passaic, 5 years, $7,500; James Baker, Hudson, president of the State Tax Board, 3 years, $5,500; Isaac Barber, Warren, member of the State Tax Board, 3 years, $4,500.

The terms of Percy H. Stewart, Democrat, and General Hugh L. Scott, Republican, members of the State Highway Commission also expire in 1929. They are four year terms at $7,500 a year. The State Librarian, John P. Dullard, Democrat, of Mercer County, reaches the end of his present term next year. This place is filled by the State Library Commission, of which the Governor is a member, and the appointment is dictated by him. The term is 5 years at $5,000 a year.

On boards where the law requires both parties to be represented, or there has been an understanding that this arrangement should prevail, there are several Republicans whose terms end next year and they must either be re-appointed or successors named. One of the most attractive of these is Public Utility Commission, Frederick W. Onichtel, of Mercer, a six-year term at $12,000 a year. Another is Civil Service Commission William D. Nolan, Republican, of Somerset county, 5 years at $3,500, and a third is North Jersey District Water Supply Commissioner Wood McKee, Republican, Passaic, 5 years at $4,000 a year.

Other Big Posts

Other big state offices which will pass from Democratic to Republican control during the Larson administration and the Democratic encumbents who will go out follow:

Secretary of State Joseph F. S. Fitzpatrick, Hudson, 5 years, $8,000; Public Utility Commissioner Charles Browne, Mercer, 6 years at $12,000; State Purchasing Agent Edward J. Quigley, Essex, 5 years, $6,000 a year; State Highway Commissioner Abraham Jelin, Middlesex, 4 years, $7,500 a year; North Jersey District Water Supply Commissioner Berkeley W. Moores, Somerset, 5 years, at $6,000.

The last mentioned group all expire in 1929.

Various Republicans holding state offices, whose terms go out in either 1930 or 1931, include the following:

State Tax Board

State Tax Board, J. William Stuegel, Essex, and Francis D. Weaver, Camden, 3 years, $4,500; President of the Civil Service Commission, Theodore E. Smith, Hudson, 5 years, $4,000; North Jersey District Water Commissioner Joseph Kihss, Essex, 5 years, $4,000; State Highway Commissioner Fireman M. Reeves, Cumberland, 4 years, $7,500.

The Attorney General's department carries a large block of patronage in the appointment of various assistants to the Attorney General, some of whom serve in advisory capacity to state departments and boards. It has been estimated that these places represent $75,00 a year in salaries.

During the term of Governor-elect Larson State Commissioner of Education Charles H. Elliott will come up for re-appointment for five years at $12,000 a year. This is not regarded, however, as political patronage. The same will likely apply to Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the State Police. This term is five years at $9,000 a year, and his present term ends in 1931.

Chief Justice William S. Gummere, who is a Republican, will come up for reappointment at the next session of the legislature. The term is seven years at $19,000. The terms of Justices Charles C. Black and James F. Minturn, both of Hudson and both Democrats, will fall two years later, and those of Luther A. Campbell, Democrat, of Bergen, and Perry T. Lloyd, Republican, of Camden, in 1931. A Supreme Court Justice serves seven years at $18,000.

Not Regarded Seriously

These are not regarded as political patronage, except in the event of a vacancy or resignation. The successor then usually is of the same party as his predecessor.

Lay Judges of the Court of Errors whose terms will run out are John J. White, Republican, Atlantic, 1930; Cornelius A. MacMinnon, Democrat, Hudson, 1930; Henry T. Hays, Democrat, Sussex, 1930; Walter L. Reynold, Jr., Republican, Union, 1931. They serve six years and are compensated at $40 a day.

Circuit Court Judge Clifford L. Newman, Republican, Passaic, 1930; Peter F. Daly, Democrat, Middlesex, 1930; Henry M. Atkeson, Democrat, Monmouth, 1931; Frank B. Jess, Republican, Camden. The term is seven years at $16,000.

The Governor will also have several appointments to the New York Port Authority, the State Board of Institutions and Agencies and to many other non-salaried boards and commissions.

Several terms on the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission will also expire. One is that of George H. Burke, Republican, of Passaic, in 1929, and James J. McAteer, Democrat, Hudson, in 1930.

There will be a number of appointments to County Common Pleas Judges, County Prosecutors and District Court Judgeships also.

Slaughter Goes in 1929

The Democratic Common Pleas Judges who will give way to Republicans are William A. Slaughter, Burlington, 1929; Herbert C. Bartlett, Cumberland, 1929; Daniel J. Brennan, Essex, 1931; Erwin E. Marshall, Mercer, 1930; John P. Kirkpatrick, Middlesex, 1931; Jacob Steinbach, Jr., Monmouth, 1930; Henry Burt Ware, Salem, 1931; Ackerson J. Mackerly, Sussex, 1931. These terms are for five years and the salaries range from $9,500 to $12,000, according to the population of the county. The only Common Pleas Judge in the 1929 list who is a Republican, Robert D. Carr, Mercer, 5 years, will also come to the end of his present term in 1929.

The salaries of these county judge appointments follow: Burlington, $9,000; Cumberland, $8,500; Essex, $12,000; Mercer, $9,500; Middlesex, $9,000; Monmouth, $9,000; Salem, $9,500; Sussex, $9,500.

Democratic prosecutors who go out, their yearly salaries follow: Archibald C. Hart, 1929, Bergen, $7,000; George R. Hillman, 1929, Burlington, $4,500; William E. Campbell, Cape May, 1929, $5,000; Thomas S. Tyler, 1929, Cumberland, $4,000; John E. Toolan, 1931, Middlesex, $7,000; John J. Quinn, 1930, Monmouth, $7,000; J. Vincent Barnett, 1929, Passaic, $7,500; William A. W. Carter, 1931, Salem, $3,000; Francis L. Bergen, 1931, Somerset, $3,000. Each term is for five years.

23 District City Judges

Also during the next three years the incoming Governor will have 23 city district court judgeships throughout the state to award to Republican lawyers, in addition to the nine Common Pleas appointments and the prosecutors, of which there are ten to be named, including one for Hudson county. The senate last winter refused to confirm the nominations sent in by Governor Moore, so the attorney general's department took over the Hudson office.

The Democrat district court judges who will be succeeded by Republicans during the Larson administration and five years when the appointments will be made follow:

Robert L. Watts, Jr., Atlantic City, 1931; Harry B. Dumbo, Bayonne, 1931; Arthur M. Agnew, Hackensack, 1930; W. Harvey J. Ely, Rutherford, 1929; Frederick W. Mattocks, Chester, 1929; Frederick V. Watson, Ridgewood, 1930; Charles J. McCarthy, Hackensack, 1931; J. Wallace Layton, Hackensack, 1931; William V. Rafferty, Newark, 1930; Edward A. McGrath, Elizabeth, 1929; Felix Forlenza, South Orange, 1929; Lewis B. Eastmead, Union City, 1930; Charles L. Carrick, Jersey City, 1929; Marsh C. Ernst, Jersey City, 1930; Leo S. Warwick, Long Branch, 1931; Fred W. Bain, Mountain Lakes, Morris county, 1929; Louis R. Freund, Newark, 1930; William F. McCloskey, New Brunswick, 1931; Daniel A. Dugan, Orange, 1931; Thomas E. Duffy, Passaic, 1931; Charles C. Hommann, Perth Amboy, 1930; James I. Bowers, Bernardsville, 1931.

New Ideas in Home-making

By ADA BESSIE SWANN
Director of the Home Economics Department
Public Service Electric and Gas Company

THIS Thanksgiving dinner does not include that bird of birds, the turkey, but the chicken pie I propose is a mighty good substitute, and I wish you all could see it as it comes from the oven. You surely would want one.

Let me tell you how I treat the pastry to prevent a soggy crust. After making the plain paste, roll out and line with it a buttered baking dish, then prick this crust with a fork and place it in a hot oven (450 degrees) just to crust it over (it does not brown or bake through); remove from oven, put in the chicken mixture as directed in recipe, place over the upper crust, pressing edges firmly together, brush with milk, return to oven and bake as directed.

The salad with this dinner is a refreshing fruit salad made with grapefruit and apricot and served with a French dressing.

The cheese straws served with the salad are very delicate and simple to make. The dough is forced through a cookie press on to a hot oven, 400 degrees, until golden brown, then the strips are cut into small pieces for serving.

Riced Potatoes Scalloped Onions
Mashed Turnips
Fruit Salad Cheese Straws
Pumpkin Pie
Coffee

Oyster Cocktail

30 medium oysters
2 tsp. prepared horseradish
3 tbsp. tomato catsup
1 tablespoon salt
2 tbsp. vinegar
4 tbsp. lemon juice
2 drops tabasco sauce

Where fresh oysters are obtainable, they are usually served on the half shell, on a plate of crushed ice, around a small glass holding the cocktail mixture. When it is not possible to get the oysters in the shell, cocktails may be served in halves of grapefruit, or in large claret glasses. Put five medium oysters into each glass and pour the dressing over them. To make the dressing mix the horseradish, tomato catsup and vinegar, lemon juice and tabasco sauce, and salt thoroughly. Both oysters and dressing should be very cold.

Chicken Pie

2 fowls
6 carrots
2 stalks celery
2 sprigs parsley
Plain pastry
8 small onions
Seasonings
8 tbsp. flour
1 lb. mushrooms
4 tbsp. shortening

Dress, clean and cut up fowl. Put in a saucepan with boiling water to cover. Add one sliced carrot, celery, parsley, one onion. Bring to the boiling point, cover and simmer until fowl is tender, about 2½ hours. When half done, season with salt and pepper. Remove skin of the fowl and cut meat from the bones, keeping it in large pieces. Boil chicken stock down to 4 cups, strain and skim off most of the fat. Mix 8 tbsp. flour to a smooth paste with cold water and add to stock. Bring to the boiling point, stirring constantly, add to chicken and sauted mushrooms and add remaining carrots and onions which have been cooked in a separate saucepan, season with pepper and salt. Line large casserole with pastry, prick with fork, place in hot oven, 400 degrees, 10 minutes to crust. Remove from oven, pour in chicken mixture, place over top crust, brush with milk. Bake in a quick oven, 450 degrees, for 30 minutes.

Fruit Salad

3 grapefruit
6 canned apricot halves
Mayonnaise
Lettuce
Sugar

Cut grapefruit into halves; remove pulp, add sugar to sweeten, and let it chill for two hours. Arrange individually on lettuce leaves, putting a spoonful of grapefruit on first, then a bit of mayonnaise and so on, topping with an apricot.

Cranberry Frappe

1 qt. cranberries
1 pt. water
2 cups sugar
Juice of 2 lemons

Cook the cranberries and water together for ten minutes, then force through a sieve. Add the sugar and the juice of the lemon, cool, using 3 parts of ice to 1 part of salt, freeze to a mushy consistency. Serve in sherbet cups or glasses.

OAKLAND GIVEN FINE RECEPTION

New All-American is Enthusiastically Received All Over Country

An enthusiastic, nation-wide reception has been accorded the new Oakland All-American Six since its introduction a week or two ago, according to W. R. Tracy, vice-president in charge of sales of the Oakland Motor Car Company.

Although shipments and drive-ways are going out of Pontiac, Mich., with the greatest possible haste to keep dealer deliveries up to schedule, the unprecedented number of purchasers won to the new line will undoubtedly keep production facilities of the company humming at peak volume well into 1929, Mr. Tracy estimated.

Mechanical refinements in the new line, the Oakland sales executive stated, are being reflected in orders to almost as great an extent as the original and unique style of the car. This, Mr. Tracy explained, denotes a further advance in the value-giving resources of the large motor car manufacturer.

"In the formative days of the industry," said Mr. Tracy, "a common belief was that the automobile builder gave the public either style or performance. He couldn't do both. If he concentrated on one feature he had for the sake of economy to skimp on the other.

"Today precision manufacturing and mass production made possible a combination of style and performance undreamed of in the old days.

"In the new Oakland we strove to create body lines and general outward appearance of distinctive beauty and smartness. But we also endeavored to endow the line with outstanding performance. The degree of success we attained is shown by admiring comments on the smartness and distinction of the cars made in dealer showrooms throughout the country, and by the enthusiasm revealed by those thousands of motorists who already have taken the wheel of the latest All-American.

"Several years were required to develop some of the mechanical features incorporated in the car. The Experimental Department of our organization has been at work over a long period testing and proving every part of the chassis. Better than a million miles were run up on the General Motors proving ground by Oakland test cars to perfect the finished product.

"One of the important features is the newly developed Oakland four-wheel brakes, which are quite different from the type used in the past.

"Self-energizing of the internal expanding type on all four wheels, the new brakes are protected at all times from road water and dirt, being entirely enclosed. Thus the possibility of squeaks and faulty operation has been reduced to a minimum."

State Strict on Wild Game Daily Bag Limits

For the guidance of sportsmen during the upland game season, which opened November 10, the State Fish and Game Commission calls attention to the daily bag limits that wardens will enforce, regulating the taking of game during this period.

On game that may be hunted throughout the State, the daily limit for a gunner is of rabbits, 6; squirrels, 6; woodcock, 4 (Federal regulation); male ringneck pheasant, 2, with season limit of 30 pheasants. In counties in which it is legal to shoot them, 10 quail constitute the day's legal bag and 3 ruffed grouse.

The bag limit law, wardens declare, has driven the "game hog" out of New Jersey and has insured a more equal distribution of fish and game to every licensed sportsman.

THE NEW ERA

Vol. 40. No. 47. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1928 PRICE FIVE CENTS

WRIGHT BARRED BY SHAREHOLDERS

Refused Admittance to Special Meeting Called by Walter H. Cummings

Charles A. Wright, president of the Palmyra-Tacony Ferry Company, was denied admittance to a meeting of stockholders which was held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, last Saturday afternoon.

The hall was rented by Walter H. Cummings, of Palmyra, who explained that the meeting was to be private and asked that a policeman be stationed at the door to prevent anyone from entering who was not invited.

Wright came to the place, it is said, and demanded admittance, which was denied him as well as several others.

Cummings, one of the leaders of a group of stockholders who are bucking the Wright regime of the ferry company, was chairman of the meeting. He said the president was "ravaging" the stockholders and declared Wright has not the best interests of the other shareholders at heart, and the policy he has proposed would spell a financial loss for them.

Protects Stockholders

Wright, who is also president of the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Company, and the Standard Index Card Company, declares his motives since the organization of the ferry company have been only for the good of the stockholders. Several times he was forced to protect them against themselves, he declares, and against stock brokers who would swindle them of their shares.

The meeting to which the president was denied admittance was held for the purpose of discussing the disposition of 6000 shares of Tacony-Palmyra bridge stock held by the ferry company. This stock was received for the sale of the ground on which the Palmyra approach for the bridge has been built.

Cummings, Thomas T. Biddle, of Philadelphia, and Herbert K. Boobs, of Haddonfield, are said to be the leaders of the group which opposes Wright and are known as the "executive committee" of a stockholders' protective committee. Only Cummings was present at the meeting who declared the stock should be allotted to the shareholders in the ferry company at a ratio of three shares of the bridge stock to five of the ferry. This would put ferry stock at a much lower value than it is at present, Wright declared.

Ask for Special Meeting

The stockholders who attended the meeting endorsed the actions of the protective committee and also supported a letter to the president asking him to call a special meeting for the purpose of discussing the projected disposal of the stock. Cummings said 3500 shares of stock were offered for voting purposes at this meeting and that more are pouring into his office every day.

A total of 5001 shares are needed to call a special session, Wright pointed out. He is the largest stockholder in the company and declared he felt deeply hurt because the stockholders did not have confidence enough in him to admit him to the meeting.

The president, when notified of the gathering Saturday, called Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, he alleges, and told the mayor he intended to attend the session even though he was not invited. "The president, under our by-laws," he declared, "is permitted to attend every session of the stockholders. I feel it my duty to be there, although I would rather not push myself in where I am not wanted."

Wright Refused Admittance

Mayor Wimer threatened him with arrest if he were to attempt to attend the meeting, Wright declared. "The mayor told me it was not a 'meeting' but a 'gathering' of stockholders, and that I would be locked up if I attempted to interfere. 'These people have the right to hold a peaceable assemblage,' the mayor declared."

The meeting was accordingly held without the presence of the president or any of the board of directors. Cummings said four of the twelve directors had been invited, including the vice president and treasurer, Edward W. G. Borer, but none attended. The seven directors not invited were "under Wright's thumb," he alleged.

YM FATHER AND SON BANQUET

Annual Event Growing in Popularity; Rev. Hann Gives Address

Lads and Dads to the number of 235 attended the Y. M. C. A. Father and Son Banquet at the Methodist Church, Palmyra, Thursday night of last week, and, after enjoying a splendid dinner served by the Ladies' Guild of the church, listened to a stirring and inspiring address by the Rev. Edwin Forrest Hann, Broadway Methodist Church, Camden. He said many really fine things, but what tickled the boys most were the following lines:

A balky mule has four-wheel brakes;
A billy goat has bumpers,
The firefly is a bright spotlight,
Rabbits are puddle jumpers.
Camels have balloon-tired feet
And carry spares of what they eat;
But still I think that nothing beats
The kangaroos with rumble seats.
—Orange Peel.

Leon C. Guest was toastmaster and George D. Steedle was song leader. The music was furnished by the County Y. M. C. A. orchestra of eleven pieces.

The Rotary Club of Palmyra and Riverton transferred its weekly dinner to the Father and Son Banquet, and President Joseph Low responded to Walter S. Barclay's toast to Dads and Grandads. Barclay is a member of the Lone Eagle Y. M. C. A. Group.

The program was opened by an invocation by the Rev. William Lee, pastor of the Methodist church, and Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, extended greetings to the assembled guests.

Secretary Carter, of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A., spoke briefly on the work of the "Y" in this vicinity and invited everybody to the reception to be held in the "Y" building, Friday evening, November 23.

Three generations were represented at the banquet by S. L. Warren, his father-in-law and son John, by C. T. Woolston, his son Clinton B. and his grandson Charles, and by Nathan Lane, Jr., his father and his son.

Leon C. Guest carried off honors with three sons present.

Walter and Thomas Price were sixteen years old that day and Secretary Carter presented them with a paddle properly inscribed, to take home to their father to be used in training them up in the way they should go, if necessary.

Another pair of twins present were "Munk" and Robert Kirkpatrick.

The program closed with a benediction of Rev. George Lockett.

MADAME DE BEAUSSET AT PORCH CLUB

Tells of Horrors of Revolution In Russia and Her Escape

"A Bit of Old Russia" was the topic chosen by Madame de Beausset for her talk at the Porch Club on Tuesday, November 20th. The speaker in a most dramatic way told of the horrors of life in Russia during the Revolution, including her escape with her two little boys into Bulgaria, the killing of her two sisters, and the imprisonment of her brother. Madame de Beausset also entertained her audience by folk dancing accompanied by Mrs. Paul Smith.

In commemoration of the death of Schubert, the German composer, one hundred years ago, Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., arranged a short Schubert program which preceded the Russian music. The program for the afternoon was as follows:

Rosamunde Air — Schubert
Marche Militaire — Schubert
Mrs. Paul Smith
Life of Schubert
Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr.
Serenade — Schubert
Mrs. William T. Miller
Russian Dance
Madame de Beausset
Elegy — Rachimaninoff
Mrs. Paul Smith
Peasant Dance
Madame de Beausset
Gopack — Monssorgsky
Mrs. Paul Smith

Mrs. Miller was accompanied by Mrs. Robert Slim of Palmyra.

An unusually large audience greeted Mme. de Beausset, who appeared in Russian costumes which she, herself made. By her appearance and charm she won hearty applause.

Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., chairman of the Music section, presided. Tea was served with Mrs. Eugene Bush at the tea table.

Bennett Skow, a clothier in Soldier, Iowa, who has been robbed 13 times since 1924, is quitting business.

PALMYRA PTA HAS SPLENDID MEETING

School Children Entertain Parents and Teachers at First Afternoon Meeting

The first afternoon meeting of the P. T. A. was held Tuesday, November 20, at the Delaware Avenue School. A delightful program was thoroughly enjoyed by both parents and children. The program was as follows: Second grade, John Milroy acted as spokesman and his little speech was written and composed entirely by himself.

Present Two Sketches

The Fourth grade presented two sketches, "The Courtship of Miles Standish"—Billy Thompson as John Alden, Robert Malloy as Miles Standish and Anna Cardea as Priscilla; "A Happy Thanksgiving," Marjorie Keil, Erma Johnson, Norma Rosner, Gertrude Wilson, Everard Oliver, Robert Monaghan, Robert Mallory, Robert Donald, and Ernest Frisco, George Durgin, Charles Saltmer and Edward McCready. Miss Morton and Miss Hanold deserve a great deal of credit for the training of the children.

The Palmyra High School hockey team won the New Jersey State Championship. It is the first time in eight years. Miss Purbeck spoke in behalf of the girls, telling how much the girls would appreciate a small token to remember this year by. It was decided that the P. T. A. would give all the members of the team, silver hockey balls with their initials engraved thereon. The P. T. A. will also give the two kindergartens small desk clocks.

Membership Drive

We are starting a big membership drive this week. When a mother comes to your door, don't turn her down. Join, we must have your cooperation and financial help. There are so many things we could do for our schools. The Board of Education takes care of all the big things. It is the little things that we can do, little things mean as much as the big things. We cannot do anything without money and we do not wish to burden you with cake sales and moving picture benefits. Therefore, our only visible means of support are from your dues and your help. Dues paid now will carry you through until January, 1930. Please Join!

Mrs. Arthur Hagstoz, our county chairman, gave a very interesting talk on her trip to the convention at Cleveland, saying, "I do not think that we all realize what a big thing the P. T. A. is. It is not only a nation wide organization but international. There are fourteen countries belonging to the latter." Mrs. Reeves, a Burlington County woman, is President of the International Association. So you see it is important that you belong to such a wonderful organization. There are one million and a half parents belonging to the National P. T. A.

Fathers and Mothers, won't you join our P. T. A. and help us run this membership up? We would like to be the largest and strongest in the county.

PALMYRA BRIDGE ROUTE APPROVED

New Road Will Run From West Palmyra to Point Near Sorrel Horse

Several Palmyrians were present at the hearing before the State Highway Commission Tuesday relative to the approaches to the new Palmyra-Tacony bridge.

The plan approved is understood to meet with the approval of the Borough officials of Palmyra and also the County Board of Freeholders.

According to the plan, the road, to be known as Route 841, would pass over an overhead crossing of the Pennsylvania Railroad at West Palmyra along Pensauken creek, crossing near the present Hilton Road bridge and running to a point near the top of Sorrell Horse Hill on the Burlington Pike and thence to Maple Shade, passing under Marlton pike and the Pennsylvania Railroad in that community.

From that point the road would reach Kings highway in Chester township, Burlington county, where a round-point would be constructed. Then, Fellowship road would be followed through Mt. Laurel township to Evesboro, in Evesham township, to Marlton.

It would enter Camden county at Voorhees township, thence to Berlin township, connecting with the White Horse pike at Bishop's Bridge, where an underpass would take it past the Pennsylvania Railroad.

The overhead bridge will be located just East of the present West Broad street crossing which will be closed. Broad street traffic will cross the railroad over the new bridge but in order to do so will be turned off to the North on Orchard avenue and thence into the new road. After crossing the bridge over the railroad, traffic will be carried back to the River road by a spur which will branch off the main road.

It is planned to let the contracts as soon as possible so that the work may be rushed to completion. Until the new road is ready for use Hilton Road will be used to carry the traffic away from the bridge.

COMMUNICATED

Why knock our firemen?

I wonder why there is always some one to criticise our firemen?

I wonder if those who criticise ever were firemen?

Now, when the siren blows, either 2 a. m. or 2 p. m. who answers but our firemen—regardless of the conditions the weather (it may be rainy, snowy or zero temperature.)

Do they ever play the slacker?

And when the fire is out just look the boys over and see how many little cuts, scratches, dislocated bones there are, and sometimes those who are overcome by smoke—their clothes ruined by water—and chances of catching cold.

Do those who criticise care?

Encourage the boys by praise, for perhaps some day you may need their help, and think how they endanger their lives to save your building.

After the fire is over if you go back with the boys to the firehouse you will see that before their duty is ended the chemical must be refilled, the hose put back on the truck and the trucks washed off.

So hereafter don't knock, but give three cheers for "Our Riverton firemen."

FAIR PLAY.

OUR FIREMEN SPEEDY

I wonder if most of our residents realize what splendid service is rendered by our volunteer firemen? They are always willing and respond to many unnecessary alarms, but prompt response is vital when a real fire occurs. When they answered the call to the Taylor garage fire they had the engine out and were out of sight of the firehouse in just one minute from the beginning of the siren's blow. The average time in the middle of the night is three minutes! PEP.

THREE HURT IN COLLISION

Three persons were injured slightly when two automobiles collided on the Burlington pike, near Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, last Sunday night. Mrs. Lillian Ward, Jennie Nigero and Patrick Chess, all of Camden, who were riding in a car driven by Daniel Rinero, also of Camden, were taken to the office of Police Physician LeFavor by Officer Rodgers, of Palmyra, where they were treated for minor cuts and bruises. In the other car were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wolf, of Philadelphia, who were uninjured. Both cars were badly damaged. No arrests were made.

LIONS CARD PARTY

The Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club will hold a public card party at the Lions Den, Society Hall, next Wednesday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. A variety of splendid prizes will be awarded and everybody is assured of a good time. The committee in charge is James Patton, Curtis Stavely and Benjamin Rielley.

NEW FLOWER SHOPPE

James Kenney and Sons, well known Riverside florists, will open an up-to-date Flower Shoppe in the Warner building at 529 Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, Saturday. A free souvenir bouquet will be given each visitor and next a special supply of Thanksgiving flowers will be on display.

AUTOIST KILLED AT R. R. CROSSING

Mifflinburg Man, Visiting Palmyra Friends, Loses Life at Morgan Avenue

Another railroad crossing tragedy occured at Morgan avenue, Palmyra, last Friday evening about 8 o'clock, when Arthur F. Bywater, of Mifflinburg, Pennsylvania, was struck by a local train bound for Camden and instantly killed.

Mr. Bywater was driving a 1926 Buick coupe and evidently failed to see the train, which was not travelling at a high rate of speed. Another train was standing at Palmyra station on the west-bound track, and it is believed the victim had his attention focused on this train.

It is reported by witnesses that another car immediately ahead of Mr. Bywater's machine crossed over the tracks in safety and the Pennsylvania man is believed to have taken it for granted that he also had time to make the crossing. He is said to have driven rather slowly over the tracks, without once noticing the locomotive bearing down upon him from the other direction.

The automobile was carried a hundred feet down the tracks. It was evidently struck squarely and then became wedged between the locomotive and the iron fence which separates the two tracks at that point. The shattered car, being carried along by the locomotive, demolished the fence for a considerable distance.

Officer Lawrence Betty and others who rushed to the scene found Mr. Bywater's body, badly crushed but not dismembered, alongside the tracks. Death is believed to have been instantaneous.

The victim was a well-to-do underwear manufacturer, being one of the owners of the Cool-tex mills at Mifflinburg. He had been remarried a little more than a year ago.

His widow is a life-long friend of Mrs. Charles K. Mervine, of Leconey avenue, Palmyra, and it was while the Bywaters were on a week-end visit at the Mervine home that the tragedy occurred. Mr. Bywater had just driven his stepdaughter, Miss Betty Fox, who has many friends in this vicinity, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hunt, of Lincoln avenue, and was returning alone to the Mervine home when the accident occurred.

The deceased was 56 years old. Interment was made in Harmony Cemetery, Milton.

NEW REPORT CARD EXPLAINED TO PTA

Riverton System to Give Parents Better Idea of Child's Progress

The second regular meeting of the Riverton P. T. A. was held in the school house, on Thursday, November 15th at 3.15. Miss Chew spoke explaining the report cards, which were a new and more detailed kind than have been in use heretofore. These reports give the civic progress of the child in the school group as well as the progress in scholarship, and although they represent more work for the teachers, they will give the parents a better idea of the child's all-round development.

Mrs. Blair gave a report of the State Convention of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers held at Atlantic City, at which Riverton was represented by five delegates.

The main meeting then broke up into a number of class conferences in the rooms of the various grades. Before the regular meeting, the president Mrs. Blair, conducted a roundtable conference, which provoked interested discussion. Her subject for this month was, "The Expediency of Spanking." One of these round table discussions will be held before each regular meeting, and it is hoped that mothers will avail themselves of this opportunity to take up various special topics in child training.

The program for the remaining meetings of the P. T. A. year is as follows; December 20th, Children's party, January 17th, Thrift, February 21, Father's Night, Dr. Alexander C. Purdy, School Work exhibit, March 21 Talent Day, April 18, Recreation, Mr. Charles English, May 16, Election of officers.

SEEING THE WORLD ON "NOTHING, FLAT"

Tony Komeina, seven years old, of 262 Walnut street, Camden, N. J., boarded the 4 p. m. train at Broadway, last Friday, November 16. "Cliff" Nesbit, the conductor asked the boy for his ticket and was told that he had none; he then asked him if he had any money and the answer was also in the negative. Nesbit brought the boy to Riverton and turned him over to Officer Quigley. "Big-hearted" Officer Bill took Tony home, washed him up and gave him a good supper. He then returned the boy to his home in Camden.

PHS TO PUBLISH SCHOOL ANNUAL

Senior Class Now Working on First Issue of Year Book

The senior class of Palmyra High School is publishing the initial number of a Palmyra High School year book. Such a book will contain individual pictures of every member of the senior class, group pictures of athletic squads and high school organizations, faculty, junior, sophomore and Freshman classes. The aim of such a book is to establish a more friendly feeling between the students of the high school and townspeople, instill a deeper feeling of union and common fellowship between them, and to offer every graduate from now on a lasting souvenir of their high school days and activities. To this end the pictures of the members of the three lower classes will receive special attention and consideration.

The undertaking has progressed rapidly under the efficient guidance of William H. Plank, a member of the faculty. The members of the class have elected the following to the staff: George T. Long, editor-in-chief; J. Allen Hemphill, assistant editor; J. Horace Finney, Jr.,; business manager; Charles W. Knight, circulation manager; Hayes Brady, advertising manager. These energetic young men by the ability, interest, eagerness, and spirit which they have shown in other lines of endeavor and thus far in the early stages of the book's production are bearing the brunt of the work which is necessary to make the book a success. Although a large share of the responsibility is placed upon their shoulders the success of this momentous enterprise depends entirely upon the support which they are accorded. The cooperation of every student of the high school and of every citizen in Palmyra, Riverton and other towns which are represented is necessary.

Many readers of this column will be requested by some member of the senior class to place an advertisement within the covers of the book. People who have no business establishment of their own may place a complimentary space in the book, and in this way show they are friends of the high school. The members of the senior class are counting on the people of these communities to support this project to the fullest extent.

TO ATTEND SERVICES

The local Camp P. O. S. of A. will attend services at the Methodist Church in a body this Sunday evening where the Rev. J. William Lee will deliver a special patriotic sermon. The P. O. of A., the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary have been invited to join with the P. O. S. of A. in this visitation. Everyone will assemble at the hall at 7.15 p. m.

The President Says:

We have tested the Red Cross in war and peace. It has never failed us. It never will so long as it holds your support. As President of the United States and as President of the American Red Cross, I earnestly ask all our citizens to renew their membership in this legion of mercy.

RIVERTON'S RED CROSS QUOTA 675

Response to Appeal Will Serve as Endorsement of Great Work

The American Red Cross has appealed to the American people for a minimum membership of 5,000,000 men and women. An affirmative response to this appeal will serve as an endorsement of the work which this great humanitarian organization is doing today, both in our own nation and throughout the world. This appeal is a direct challenge to the American people which must not be ignored.

The Roll Call began on Armistice Day and will continue to Thanksgiving, during which period Burlington County expects to enroll 7,000 members, the quota of Riverton being $675, Palmyra's quota is $725.

Henry VanDyke, clergyman, author, educator and former U. S. Minister to the Netherlands, has said:

"Wars die down. The Red Cross lives on. Why?

"Because a man is a frail creature needing charity and help both in time of peace and in time of war.

"Because it is more blessed to give than to receive and the love which is in the heart of man is a part of the divine love.

"The Red Cross, born to meet the cruel emergencies of war among the nations, does not die when that dark cloud has passed, but remains alive and 'carries on', helping the sick and wounded amid all the vast calamities which befall mankind."

This describes the purpose and work of the Red Cross, which richly deserves the encouragement, active interest and financial support of every American.

REWARD OFFERED

Cinnaminson Township Board of Education Will Give $25 for Thief

On Sunday evening, November 11, robbers entered the Cinnaminson Public School by breaking a window in the principal's room. The door into the room was wrecked by the use of the furnace tools where the lock had been forced. A drawer in a steel cabinet, which had been locked, was forced open and a small sum of money was taken. The State Police are working on the matter and finger prints have been taken. A reward of $25.00 has been offered by the Board of Education for information leading to the arrest of the guilty party or parties.

SCHUBERT CENTENARY

Exercises In Observance of Death of Great Composer Held in Riverton Public School

We are observing the one hundreth anniversary of the death of Franz Schubert who was a great composer and musician. He wrote many compositions and sometimes when a thought come to him, he would write it down on anything that was near him. In that way he composed many of his famous pieces which we sing and play today. Franz Peter Schubert will always be known for his lovely songs, which are settings of the words of Shakespeare, Goethe, Heine and other great German poets. His father was a poor school master near Vienna, when Franz was born in 1797. His father taught him the violin at the age of five, and his brother taught him the piano. When he was ten he joined the choir of the village church and later his beautiful soprano voice gave him a better choir position in Vienna where he obtained some schooling. At sixteen his voice changed and Franz returned to his father's school and taught for three years. The loveliest melodies were always running through his head and he had a natural gift for composing, writing a piano piece when only thirteen and a symphony at sixteen. Most of his greatest songs were written at the age of eighteen. The greatest of these is "The Eriking." Other famous songs are "Hark, Hark the Lark," "Who Is Sylvia," "The Serenade" and "Ave Maria." His greatest symphony for orchestra has only two movements so it is called the "Unfinished Symphony." Schubert had many happy friendships. He was always poor, for he was compelled to sell his music for ridiculously low prices. He also gave music lessons and wrote for the theatre. Schubert died at the early age of thirty-one. The inscription on his grave in Vienna reads, "Music hath buried here a rich treasure, but still richer hopes."

WALT WHITMAN DRAWS CROWDS

High Class Vaudeville Finds Particular Favor With Many of Its Patrons

The record crowds in attendance at the Walt Whitman Theatre during the past two weeks, give mute testimony as to what the public wants in the line of theatrical entertainment.

The management, in appreciation of this noted interest, has arranged a program of stage and screen attractions for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week that gives promise of surpassing anything thus far achieved under its hundred per cent. policy.

The vaudeville headliner brings forth one of the real sensations of the current theatrical season.

Hill and Hull, in a novelty dance specialty that produces a most startling effect, are the headliners referred to and the result attained by their efforts in the field of novelty, justify all the nice things that have been said about them by press and public, throughout the world.

Then of particular interest to the local theatre-goers is the announcement that Gladys Kochersperger, will present one of her justly famous dance ensembles, which she calls "The Ten Dancing Daughters," in a pretentious dance revue.

Included in the personnel, besides Gladys Kochersperger, are the following talented dancers, known to many throughout this vicinity: Katherine Peabody, Dorothy Bolleau, Patty Kochersperger, Gladys Sipp, Peggy Rennie, Dot and Eleanor Turner, Hilda Rohm and Mary and Dot Deering.

Other features on the program embrace many notable personages such as Johnny Dale, musical comedy juvenile, featured with Clark and McCullough in "The Ramblers," Knox and Inman, two of vaudeville's foremost funmakers, and Wright and Patrice, offering a singing and comedy surprise.

The screen feature brings one of the best of the season's photoplays, Joan Crawford, in "Our Dancing Daughters," Synchronized on the Vitaphone with realistic sound effects.

Also there will be Movietone News Events, organ selections by Joseph T. Powers, and the popular Walt Whitman Theatre Orchestra under the direction of John Rhodes.

The management announces that owing to tremendous crowds attending the Saturday night shows, the first performance on that evening will start at 6.30 p. m. sharp. There will be a special matinee on Thanksgiving Day at 2.30 p. m.

ODD FELLOWS

Grand Treasurer Cawley and Delegation Escort Candidate for Degree

With the augmentation of a fine delegation from Bordentown Lodge of Odd Fellows, accompanied by Grand Treasurer Cawley, Cinnaminson Lodge No. 201, of Palmyra, had one of the most auspicious meetings of the season last Friday evening.

The first degree was conferred upon a class of candidates for Cinnaminson Lodge and one for Bordentown.

In order that the usual program for ladies' night may be carried out, Degree Master Milton Jewett announced that the Second Degree will be put on the floor this coming Friday evening.

On Friday evening, November 30th, a Thanksgiving party will be tendered the Ladies Auxiliary and their friends in the lodge room.

Dill — Moore

Miss Mabel Emily Moore, of Maple Shade, and John Forman Dill, of Camden, were married by the Rev. George W. Crane, of Emmanuel Baptist Church, Wednesday evening of last week. The Maple Shade Congregational Church was the scene of the ceremony.

Miss Ruth F. Thompson was bride's maid and William L. Dill, best man.

The bride was attired in white silk fan velvet with a beautiful long bridal veil, caught up with tiny rosebuds. She carried white chrysanthemums and sweet peas. The bride's maid was dressed with orchids.

A six-piece orchestra furnished music for the occasion.

SARAH J. BEVAN

Miss Sarah J. Bevan, 68 years old, died at the New Lisbon Home, Thursday, November 8, 1928. Up until four months ago, Miss Bevan made her home with Mrs. Mary E. Reid, of Horace avenue, Palmyra.

Funeral services were held by Rev. George Lockett at the Snover Funeral Home, November 11, at 2 o'clock, with interment in Monument Cemetery, Philadelphia.

SIDELIGHTS OF POLITICS

Immediately after election, someone started the report that United States Senator Edwards would ask for a congressional investigation of the campaign expenditures of Hamilton F. Kean, with the idea of keeping the former's successful rival out of the seat which he had won at the late election, defeating Senator Edwards by more than 100,000. In reply to an inquiry as to whether he had such a plan in mind, the Senator said, "I'm not that kind of a fellow", and dismissed the subject with this direct denial.

PREPARED FOR A RAINY DAY!

Paris—M. Houplin went to an auction sale with the intention of preparing for a rainy day. The very thing he was looking for was put up for sale—an umbrella, which he secured for sixteen francs. After closing the purchase, Houplin found he had bought not one umbrella, but 60.

After making many presents, he still had six dozen umbrellas left and nothing to do with them. He tried to sell them, but was arrested for peddling without a license. He still has the umbrellas—but has sworn off auction sales for life!

Supervising principal of Moorestown public schools, who was elected vice-president of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association at its conference in Atlantic City last week.

DEAN ATHERN IN SPLENDID TALKS

Great Teacher Delivers Wonderful Messages to Moorestown Audiences

Seldom does a community such as Moorestown have the privilege of sitting at the feet of a really great teacher, one who is an outstanding authority in his particular field. Such an opportunity was offered Moorestown last Friday evening and those who knew the reputation of Dean Walter S. Athern, of the School of Religious Education of Boston University, availed themselves of that opportunity and were delighted with the two addresses he delivered.

At a supper conference at The First Baptist Church the Dean was listened to by a company of seventy-five attentive Bible School workers while he declared himself in no uncertain terms concerning ideals and methods in the development of a Church School. He said there must be brought about a closer relation between the church and the Church School, we should organize and equip our schools as educational institutions, more time must be given in which to teach and there must be more trained leaders.

The Sunday School at first was a laymen's movement. The Sunday School had to fight its way into the church. It succeeded in getting into the basement where in many instances it has always remained.

At the Community House, to a company of about 200, the Dean delivered an address that indicated the speaker was well able to deal with the question of education and its place in determining the destiny of a people.

The Dean said the perpetuity of democracy depends first, upon the intelligence and integrity of the people, and second that every normal human being is capable of intelligent and ethical self-control. It was the task of our leaders, therefore, to create an agency or instrument where by a high level of intelligence may be maintained sufficient to entrust to the people the franchise. The American system of public schools and compulsory education was the instrument selected. Results of years of public school instruction in our republic has crystalized in our thinking five definate convictions, at least, in reference to public education. They are:

1. The Public School shall be looked upon as an agency to guarantee the social solidarity of the American people.
2. The heart of the curricula must depend upon the social sciences rather than upon the physical sciences.
3. The American high school must be universalized.
4. There must be a unified educational program for the Nation.
5. The American Public School should be secularized.

Fenimore, William S. Fryer, Irving C. Gaskill, Philip S. Irons, William A. Jones, William D. Marren, Morris K. Perlochter, Willitt D. Shinn, William C. Wetherill, George D. Worrell.

WINS TON OF COAL

The ton of coal given away by Leon A. Sever, Inc., was won by Richard K. Hunter, of 309 Mooney avenue, Palmyra, who held the ticket bearing the lucky number. These tickets were given away along the line of march of the Hallowe'en parade staged by the Lion's club of Palmyra and Riverton. 1333 was the winning number and was announced in this newspaper last week.

CARS DAMAGED IN CRASH

A Bell Telephone Ford truck, driven by Norman Fetter, of Camden, and a Cleveland sedan driven by John Glover, of Blackwood, N. J., came together at Fourth and Linden avenue, Riverton last Saturday morning. Both cars were badly damaged about the front. Officer Quigley was on the scene but made no arrests as neither driver blamed the other.

ALFRED BRADLEY NEW COUNCILMAN

Appointed to Fill Vacancy Made by Resignation of Fred G. Fromuth

Alfred E. Bradley, of Washington avenue, was appointed a member of Palmyra Borough Council at the regular meeting Tuesday evening to fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Fred G. Fromuth. Fromuth's resignation was formally accepted at the October meeting.

The appointment was made by Mayor George N. Wimer and was approved unanimously by members of Council. Mr. Bradley is well known in Palmyra and is well qualified for the position. Much favorable comment has been expressed on his membership in Council.

Bradley was assigned to the committees on which former Councilman Fromuth served but will not be chairman of the roads and streets committees, although he will serve on the committee. Councilman Cramer will be the chairman.

Pass Broad Street Ordinance

The ordinance providing for the widening of Broad street was finally passed and adopted. This was the second time this ordinance has been passed. The second passage was made necessary owing to a technicality.

Several of the interested property owners were present but no comment was offered when the Mayor asked if anyone had anything to say. The clerk was asked if he had received any protests in writing and stated that he had not. The ordinance was then passed on second and final reading by unanimous vote of Council.

At the end of the meeting an executive session was declared in order to discuss costs and financing of the improvement.

A check for $1500 was ordered drawn for fire protection bonds.

Chairman Lees of the finance committee reported that the financial affairs of the Borough were in good shape and all appropriations at present were showing a balance and would also at the end of the year if the same care was used as heretofore.

Complaint Received

The shade tree commission made a very encouraging report telling how much had been done on the appropriation made for its work.

Nelson Wallace, Sr., was present to make a complaint against the Palmyra Foundry Company claiming iron was being unloaded at all hours of the night and that the noise was very annoying. Mayor Wimer agreed to go down and look over the situation and see what could be done about it.

A new map of the Borough was presented by Remington & Vosbury which was approved after a few corrections were noted. The new map is 42x60 inches and shows every street in detail. Blue prints will be made so that those who need the maps may have them. This is the only map that has been made for several years and is expected to be a great help to the officials, especially the assessor and the tax collector.

Councilmen-elect Snover and Bucholz were present but will not take their seats until the first of the year.

WELFARE ASSOCIATION

Palmyra, N. J., Nov. 22, 1928

To the constituent bodies of the Community Welfare Association:—

Owing to business depression, especially in the building line, the past summer has been hard on our organization and we have stretched our resources to the limit.

We feel that business conditions are much improved but we know from experience that we will have many calls for aid during the coming winter and we must prepare accordingly.

We would ask that each one of our organization make their contribution at this time and give to us as liberally as possible. Every dollar will be spent carefully and judiciously.

We would also ask for donations of winter clothing, shoes, potatoes, canned goods, etc.

In addition to the usual help from our organizations, we should be pleased to receive individual contributions of money or supplies.

Yours in the work,
Community Welfare Association
George N. Wimer,
President.

ORIGINAL COMPOSITION

Following is an orginal composition written by Alfred Branson, of the fifth grade in the Palmyra Grammar School. It has been submitted by the teacher to show the splendid work being done by the fifth-graders.

THE TIDAL WAVE

"In the year of 1700 a terrific tidal wave arose on the shores of one of the islands of Japan. The wave was about one hundred and fifty feet high and there were about five billion gallons of water in it for it covered the whole island. A few people escaped but they were only a mere handful of the inhabitants of the island. If I remember rightly, there were one thousand five hundred people on the island and sixty four people survived, of which there were thirty two women, fourteen men and the rest children. It was awful to see the women and children running about screaming and pulling their hair. I was on the island at the time teaching the gospel to the natives and I shall never forget it.

VOLUME ADDS VALUE TO ALL-AMERICAN SIX

Motoring America greeted with extraordinary enthusiasm the latest line of Oakland All-American Sixes, now on display at dealer showrooms throughout the country, according to reports received at the factory at Pontiac, Mich.

From indications of the reception accorded the car, W. R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales of the Oakland Motor Car Company, stated that beyond question the latest All-American would sweep to sales record higher than ever before attained by any Oakland model put out in the 23 years the company has been manufacturing automobiles.

The general impression made by the line, advises from field headquarters state, is that of a totally new automobile—totally different from any car now on the road. The powerful-appearing front end, of exclusive design, achieves a distinctive air that new body lines and smart Duco color combinations bear out to the sweep of the beautifully proportioned back panel.

Thousands of people who already have seen the car commented particularly upon the two new models added to the line this year—the landaulet sedan and the convertible cabriolet. Both fittingly illustrate how the economies of mass production are making available to the public an increasing number of "fine car" features at moderate cost.

SALE BIG SUCCESS

The twentieth semi-annual rummage sale held at Brown's Mills October 10 and 11 for the benefit of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League was a tremendous success.

The amount realized exceeded all former sales, the collections making a total of $1,013.25. Funds raised at the sale help to carry on the work of the unnourished children at the preventorium.

The League desires at this time to thank all those who assisted with the work in any way.

Despite the chilly name of Iceland, the temperatures of its capital, Reykjavik, rarely goes below freezing.

More Than Thousand Attend Public Service Ceremonies at Newark

More than a thousand Public Service people assembled in the Auditorium of the Newark Terminal Building November 13 to take part in the ceremonies arranged for the presentation of prizes and trophies won in the Public Service $5 Cumulative Preferred (No Par Value) stock campaign which ended November 1.

In the campaign 50,752 shares of stock were sold to 14,674 persons, more than one hundred percent of the bogie assigned at the start of the campaign October 1.

In his message of congratulations to the Public Service employes for their successful work in this campaign, President Thomas N. McCarter said he could not over-state the pride and enthusiasm he felt. Mr. McCarter characterized the success of the campaign as another indication that the country is headed for an era of great prosperity.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Full program by First Lutheran Choir Sunday morning!

It has been our happy anticipation for a long time to have our choir present one of its programs of sacred praise on the Sunday morning before Thanksgiving. Let everyone talk up the service. Each seat must be filled, but it cannot if some stay away. Come, for the sake of your church and yourself.

Commissioning service will be held for the Every-Member Canvassers in connection with the morning service. The canvass will be hade in the afternoon.

The Union Thanksgiving Service will be held in the Epworth Methodist Episcopal Church, Thanksgiving Day, November 29, at 10.30 a. m. Music will be by combined choirs and sermon by pastor of Lutheran Church.

Week-Day Religion School will start November 27, at 7.30 p. m.

This school includes the regular catechetical course, and an additional practical Bible course, with a little study in hymns, and other branches of religion.

The program will be very simple. First twenty minutes, catchetics to seniors; taught by the pastor, while at the same time, Mrs. W. M. Erhard, will give instruction in Bible to the juniors. Then a period of relaxation, with informal discussion and a hymn. The last twenty-minute period, Mrs. Erhard will teach the seniors their course in Bible study, and the pastor, the juniors, their lessons in the catechism.

This school will be impossible without the careful and regular co-operation of parents.

On December 9, Family Day will be observed. With the exception of members of the choir, it is hoped that all families will be sitting together. But families must be all present before they can sit together.

The program will be quite unique!

It is in four parts: "Love, the Cornerstone of the Family," "Child-Hearts, the Inspiration," "Youth, the Hope," and "Age, the Crowning Glory."

The pastor will preach on the theme: "Home-made Happiness."

First Lutheran Church extends heartiest greetings to Epworth M. E. Church on its Seventy-Fifth Anniversary. May the Kingdom of God in its midst continue to have a prosperous and happy growth! Every Christian in the vicinity can see great things for her under her able "Leadership."

(Episcopal) PALMYRA

Rev. G. J. McCormack, Rector

The fact that life is a risky business is no reason for running away from it. Yet that is what some people are trying to do. They fear unpleasant facts and dread rought realties. They flock to the movies, where they are presented with false, distorted and exaggerated views of life.

I have heard people say of an exciting novel that "it takes you out of yourself." What sort of a self have you that you want to be taken out of it? If your tiresome personality is deplorably out of repair, why not get it cleaned and tidied up?

Make life serviceable and adventurous and you will not want to escape from it.

The visit of Mrs. Morse, of Merchantville, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary proved to be a great treat. She painted a very splendid picture of the Washington Convention and kept her hearers listening attentively. Among the high spots were the presentation of the Thanks Offering of over one million dollars, and the open air service in the Cathedral grounds where forty thousand were present, including one hundred and forty bishops.

The Girls' Friendly Society will hold an admission service for candidates and associations this Sunday evening at eight o'clock. We are expecting, of course, to see the mothers and father of the girls, as well as all interested folk, present.

The collection for the "Pantry Shelf," which is made once a year for the aged in our Church Home, will be taken on Saturday of this week. Mrs. B. Torbett will be on hand during the afternoon to receive the gifts.

Mrs. Montgomery is anxious to complete the offering for the "Evergreens" and will be glad to get all donations before the end of this month.

It is very encouraging to see the goodly number of young people who turn out at morning and evening worship each Sunday.

Services for the Sunday before Advent.

10.30 a. m.—Morning Prayer and Sermon, "Simple Arithmetic."
2.30 p. m.—Sunday School.
8.00 p. m.—Evensong and Admission of G. F. S. Candidates.

Ten o'clock has been set for the hour of the conflict. They will meet in the High Schol gymnasium on the evening of of November 28 for signal practice.

This afternon the ladies of the Philathea Class meet for a thimble party and business meeting at Mrs. Sidney Albertson's home, 834 Columbia avenue. The class has completed its $1200 fund for the Philathea memorial window and turned over that amount to the church finance committee. Congratulations!

A most interesting annual meeting of the church members was held on Tuesday evening. The reports of the many organizations that were read summed up a year of very earnest and profitable activities. Enthusiasm for the completion and dedication of the new church building early next year was evident in the plans of each department. The magnificent edifice with its many departments, its perfect appointments, its beautiful tower and its consecrated purpose will be, indeed, a fitting temple to the Lord.

Officers for the new church were elected as follows: President, Clarence T. Yerkes; Church Clerk, Ernest L. Woodcock; Treasurer, Thomas R. Taylor. Deacons, deaconesses, trustees and members of various committees also were elected.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Showers have started an innovation in offering Christmas candy for sale, the profits from which will be used towards equipping the new Junior department in the Bible School.

On Sunday evening the BYPU will meet in POS of A Hall at 6.45. Miss Elizabeth Toy will speak on the topic "Remember God." All young people are asked to remember Him and come to this meeting on Sunday evening. "Remember now thy creator in the days of thy youth," said Jesus. "Forget not all His benefits." This should be a helpful Thanksgiving meeting.

The pastor's topics at the regular Sunday services are as follows: Morning, "Thanksgiving." Evening, "Forget Not His Benefits."

Pastor Lockett was the speaker last Sunday afternoon at the Cinnaminson Home, and was assisted in the service by members of the BYPU.

CALVARY GROUP

Due to the fact that the Methodist Church "Gym" was not available Monday evening the Calvary group held their meeting at the home of the leader.

At the time set for the meeting every one was present but Bottger. After a half hour's wait the meeting was called to order by president Charles Knight, with Bottger still absent.

After the devotions period, conducted by Mr. Plank, the business of the evening was transacted. Among the things considered were plans for a Christmas party to be held some time in December.

When the business of the evening was completed the boys gathered around the piano to harmonize to the melodious strains pounded out by "Chick" Foulke. Among the accomplishments of the evening was a solo by Bottger. Included in the business of the evening was the partaking of "heavy" refreshments.

Tuesday evening a number of the members enjoyed the "Y" swim at the Moorestown Community House.

The Lone Eagle Group of the Palmyra and Riverton Young Men's Christian Association, meeting each Saturday night under the leadership of Arnold Carter, the Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. for these twin towns, is planning a number of very interesting and stimulating events for its own members and some activities to take in the whole membership of the Y. M. C. A.

At the present time the group is contemplating a trip to Frankford, to inspect a factory owned by the Dad of one of the group members.

We have under way a group "yearbook" which will include photographs and write-up about each group member, stories, plays and other things thought well to be included. With this book we expect to "cop" the silver cup offered by the Burlington County Y. M. C. A. Committee for the best "Yearbook."

On Friday night our entire group is going to assist in the "Open House and Reception" to be held in the Y. M. C. A. building for all men and women of Palmyra and Riverton. It will be our duty to show the building and its equipment to the people. We are also going to serve the refreshments.

A goodly number of our group attended the swim at Moorestown Tuesday night of this week.

Bones, rattling, clinking of chains, groans, the cold damp feeling of a dead man's hand. Scared! Well I guess! But it really isn't so bad—it was just another member for the "Skull and Bone" society that is part of our internal organization.

We invite you, men and women of Palmyra and Riverton, to visit our group any Saturday night. We meet promptly at 7.30 p. m.

FLIETZ INJURED LAST SATURDAY

Hart in First Period of Game Which Riverton Lost to Beverly, 19-7

The Riverton A. A. football team went down to defeat at the hands of the Beverly A. C. on Saturday, November 17th, at Memorial Park.

The substitutions were: Perkins for Gerkins; Green for Minnich, Minnich for Green, Downs for Anderson.

Beverly scored first after a hard fight for the six point lead but failed to make the extra point. This came in the second period.

In the third period Anderson took the ball for 60 yards on five plays to Beverly's 1 yard line and Wagner took it over. Miller scored the extra point with a drop-kick.

From then on Riverton had the edge 7-6 and was playing fine ball. Anderson getting off a forty-yard run.

With but 8 minutes to play Beverly tried forward passing and with an accurate passer and a well practised system managed to score two touchdowns against the home aggregation, final score 19 to 7.

Ike Perkins played tackle for Riverton and put up a wonderful game for his first time on the line.

Bill Flietz (Tarzan) Riverton's brilliant right guard was hurt in the first quarter of the game, Saturday. Unable to walk, he was taken to Perkins' home and remained there until Sunday night when he was transferred to the Riverside Hospital where an X-ray of his knee was taken to determine whether it is a shattered bone or torn ligament.

Next Saturday Riverton will play Palmyra Wildcats, a team consisting of young men from West Palmyra who would almost give their right arm to beat Riverton at football; and most of the Riverton players would do likewise to defeat Palmyra, so if you crave excitement and a good fast game of football, don't fail to see these two teams clash at Memorial Park, next Saturday, November 24th, at 3.00 p. m. The teams are about evenly matched and fully equipped; both having the same colors, blue and yellow. Turn out and give your home team a fair trial and see some clean fast sport.

Don't feel, because these fellows are light and young, that they can't play football, for they can, and are anxious to show you that they can.

About five years ago a football team, in order to be considered good, had to have seven piano movers on the line and four blacksmiths in the backfield; but today—good, fast well-built young men are what is wanted to make a good team.

You will enjoy watching the strong line hold its opponents and make holes for the backfield. Wagner's line plunging, Anderson and Reeves dashing around the ends and Miller's toe will thrill you. Come and bring your friends.

PITMAN BEATEN BY MOORESTOWN

Cusworth and Fountain Stars in Local 64-7 Triumph Saturday

Moorestown High School Boys registered a decided triumph over the Pitman High football team on the South Church street field, last Saturday afternoon. The final score was 64-7.

Moorestown boys outplayed their opponents during the entire game. They scored in every period with four of the touchdowns coming in the second quarter after brilliant runs by Cusworth and Fountain and an equally brilliant overhead attack.

In the first quarter Moorestown received the oval, Fountain caught the ball and ran to Pitman's twenty-yard line. From there the ball was carried to Moorestown's twenty-yard line. Pitman kicked the ball back to the forty-yard line after they had failed to gain by end runs and a pass. From then on the Moorestown boys completely outplayed Pitman. A few minutes before the quarter ended Juliana made a touchdown and Young made the extra point.

In the second quarter it was only a case of Cusworth's running fifty yards for a touchdown. Fountain made the first score in this period but Young failed to make the extra point. Cusworth made three successive touchdowns and Young made one extra point, leaving the score at the end of the first half, 32-0.

In the third quarter Moorestown again did all the scoring. Fountain scored, followed by Young, and soon Fountain scored again. J. McGann made the extra points.

In the final quarter Cusworth scored and J. McGann made the extra point. During this quarter Pitman made its only touchdown, when Goodwin crossed the goal line and Becket kicked the extra point. Cusworth then scored again, but Young failed to make good the kick, making the final score 64-7.

The team showed what it is made of last Saturday and great things are expected of them when they clash with Bordentown this Saturday and again when they meet Mount Holly Thanksgiving Day morning. Keep these days in mind, and come see the games.

MOORESTOWN A. A. TRIPS BURLINGTON

Senior Team Triumphs in Opening Game; Reserves Lose Heetic Battle

Biff! Bang! Boom! Off goes the lid of the Burlington County 1928-1929 basketball season.

It was exactly 9.15 o'clock Monday night, in the Burlington Armory, when the Mayor of Burlington tossed up the first ball in the senior game between Moorestown and Burlington, which officially opened the season.

The Moorestown A. A. boys started off with a bang, piling up eight points before Burlington could score. "Jack" Elsley, the former Palmyra High lumfiary, found the basket exactly twelve seconds after the toss-up. It was Jack's sensational playing that started our boys on the road to victory. During the entire game our boys were in the lead. At half time the score was 20-13.

The Moorestown team has an especially fine lineup with Brodie and Elsley as forwards, Cunningham at center, and Potts and Ritchie as guards. Back of them is "Zander" Matchett, a very capable utility man.

"THIS everlasting planning of three meals a day is what I'm tired of," said a homemaker to me recently.

Meal planning can be as interesting as any other job if we will remember a few basic rules. If we think of foods according to the group in which they belong and make sure that the meals for the day include foods from all of the five food groups, then use standard recipes and variations, the meal planning problems are solved.

Five Food Groups

Group 1—Fruits and vegetables. Foods with mineral substances and vegetable acids. Two fresh vegetables, besides potatoes, should be eaten daily.

Group 2—Meats, fish, eggs, cheese, milk, legumes and other building foods.

Group 3—Foods rich in starch as the cereals, potatoes, breads.

Group 4—Sweets. These are the fuel foods and include sugar, honey, molasses.

Group 5—Foods rich in fat, as butter, oils and fats of meats.

A WELL PLANNED MEAL

Vegetable Platter
Spinach Carrots Beets Cauliflower
Potatoes Poached Egg
Chocolate Blanc Mange or Cocoa Roll

Cook potatoes in boiling salt water (1 tsp. of salt to 1 qt. of water) until tender, 20-30 minutes. Drain, mash, season with salt, pepper, butter and milk.

Cook beets in boiling water until tender. Young beets require 30-45 min., old beets 2-4 hours. Drain, rub off skins. If small beets, leave whole; if large, slice. Season with pepper and butter.

Cook carrots in boiling salt water until tender. Young carrots 15-25 min., old carrots 30-60 min. Drain, slice long ways of carrots, season with salt and pepper and butter.

Cook 3 lbs. spinach, after washing thoroughly, by placing in a saucepan, cover and allow to heat gradually. Cook 10 min. with cover on, 5 min. with cover off. Drain thoroughly and pour 4 tbsp. melted butter, ¼ tsp. pepper, 1 tsp. salt over to season.

Cook cauliflower in boiling salt water until tender, after it has been cleaned and allowed to stand 30 min. head down in a pan of salt water. Drain, pour over 1¼ cups of white sauce.

Poached Egg

Use a shallow wide saucepan, having at least three inches of boiling, salted water in bottom. Set in pan greased muffin rings. Break eggs one at a time in a cup, slip from cup into muffin ring and reduce to just boiling water, cook until white is firm and yolk is covered with a white film. Remove from water with a skimmer and serve on toast or vegetables.

To serve vegetables: Pile a mound of mashed potatoes in center of plate, make a small impression in center to hold poached egg; around mound of potato, arrange other vegetables in an attractive way, sprinkle all with paprika, garnish with parsley.

Cocoa Roll

4 eggs 1 cup powdered sugar
4 tbsp. cocoa
½ pt. cream

Separate eggs, mix yolks, beaten, sugar and cocoa together, beat until smooth and light, fold in beaten egg whites, then pour into greased and floured pan and bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Remove from oven and turn out on tea towel which has been wrung out of cold water. Whip cream. When cake is cool use one-half of cream to spread on cake, then roll. Use rest of cream for top of roll.

Chocolate Blanc Mange

4 tbsp. cornstarch ½ cup boiling water
4 tbsp. sugar
4 cups milk 1 tsp. vanilla
2½ sqs. chocolate f. g. salt

Melt chocolate over hot water; when melted stir in sugar and boiling water, stir until a smooth paste. Mix cornstarch with a little cold milk, add to chocolate, stirring all the time, add remaining milk. Cook until mixture thickens, about 10 min. Add salt and vanilla. Turn into a wet mold or glasses. Serve with whipped cream.

It was a beautiful Thanksgiving morning when Br'er Rabbit started out for a walk before he had the wonderful dinner which his wife was preparing for him and the bunnies.

Bye and bye he came to where Mister Jay Bird was seated on the limb of a hickory tree and he sat down for a few minutes to talk to the bird.

"Do you know," began Mister Jay Bird, "I can't see why you haven't a tail like Mrs. Squirrel. With those lovely ears of yours and a large bushy tail, you'd be the handsomest animal in the forest."

"I really think so myself," replied the rabbit.

"I tell you what you can do," said the bird. "You take some pawpaw bark and tie up your tail real tight. You're going to have Thanksgiving dinner, aren't you?"

"Yes," answered Br'er Rabbit.

"Well, by the time you are ready to eat, your tail will be as large and as bushy as Mrs. Squirrel's."

"It will take longer than that, won't it?" inquired Br'er Rabbit, anxiously.

"No, it only takes a short while, that is, if you tie your tail tight enough. But be sure to take the bark off before you get home."

Br'er Rabbit disappeared and soon was winding his tail with a piece of pawpaw bark. He wound it as tight as he could and then took a little nap, waking up when the sun had started down hill.

"Merry me!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit, when he awoke. "I'll be late for dinner." He rushed towards his home and arrived just in time for the Thanksgiving meal. He took his place at the head of the table and was surprised to hear all the bunnies snickering. "What's the matter?" he asked, in surprise.

"Look at your tail!" shouted Buster Bunnie.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit. "I wanted to make my tail like Mrs. Squirrel's, so I tied it up as Mister Jay Bird told me."

"You know Mister Jay Bird is a joker," laughed Mrs. Rabbit. "Next time be your own sweet self—we like you better. Now ask the blessing."

(Write the Editor of this newspaper and tell what you want Br'er Rabbit and his family to do next.)

CLASS OF 80 TAKING EXTENSION COURSE

Dr. Garber's "Teaching Elementary School Subjects" Group Proves Very Popular

The university extension course on "Teaching Elementary School Subjects" has proven very popular in Moorestown and nearly eighty Moorestown public and private school teachers, teachers from nearby communities and several local residents are taking the course.

Quite a number of the Moorestown grade teachers have taken the course before and the present class brings the Moorestown teachers to nearly the one hundred per cent. mark.

It is a thirty-hour course and classes are held in the high school building every Wednesday, four to six o'clock.

The instructor is Dr. Francis M. Garber, professor of elementary education, University of Pennsylvania.

PIG KEEPS HIM OUT OF JAIL

Watsonville, Calif. — B. C. Ethers appeared before Judge Webb on a charge of reckless driving, and pleaded to stay out of jail.

"Don't send me up, Your Honor," he begged. "If you wait until I fatten my pig I'll sell him for $25 and pay the fine."

"How long will it take?" the judge asked.

"Two weeks, Your Honor," said Ethers.

The proposition was accepted—now Ethers is welcomed every second of the day he is absent.

PALMYRA BEATS ELMER A. A. 13-0

Will Play Richmond Wildcats Saturday and Lakehurst Marines Thanksgiving

Palmyra's undefeated eleven crashed its way to an impressive victory over Elmer A. A. in the first period of play by scoring 13 points in a game played on the P. C. M. grounds last Saturday afternoon.

The score would undoubtedly have been much larger but for the fact that Coach Stack took advantage of the situation to give his second string men a workout. Every member of the squad figured in the contest before the closing whistle blew and all played a bang up brand of football.

Any eleven must be good to hold such a combination as Elmer sent to Palmyra last week and the fact that no scoring was done after the first quarter is by no means a sign of weakness.

The play of the Palmyra line was exceptionally brilliant and has been so consistently throughout the season. The work of Hartley and Todd at tackle was a tower of strength on the defense as well as the offense.

Gilfillan and Westcott continued their excellent work at guard while Gorman played a whale of a game at the snapper-back position. As is usually the case, little is said about the individual play of the linesmen while the ball carriers get most of the credit, but let it be said right here that without the splendid "stone wall" Palmyra would not be in the running for the Class "B" championship today.

King, playing at right end, was the first to score when he picked a spiral out of the air and raced 20 yards for a six pointer.

The second and final touchdown was made by Petitto when he intercepted a forward pass and ran 60 yards through the entire opposing team. The splendid interference offered by his teammates figured in his spectacular dash. The extra point was scored on a pass from Reagle to Ackerson.

The generalship of Williams at quarter played a good part in Palmyra's scoring during the first period as his judgment in calling the right plays made it possible to keep the ball in enemy territory most of the time.

This Saturday afternoon the Richmond Wildcats will be the attraction on the home gridiron. The Wildcats held the strong McCoy's Cardinals, of Riverside, to a scoreless tie last week.

Thanksgiving Day the Lakehurst Marines will travel to Palmyra in an effort to break the winning streak of Coach Stack's pigskin warriors. Both games will start at 3.00 p. m.

VARIETY OF CASES KEEP POLICE BUSY

Drunken Driver Goes to Jail; Boy Arrested for Camp Pilfering

Moorestown police have been kept busy with a variety of cases in the past week.

Sunday evening a drunken driver, William Hudson, colored, of the Berlin Road, Moorestown, was arrested by Officer Charles J. Errickson. Hudson, who was given a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Town Hall Monday was sentenced to the Burlington County jail at Mount Holly for thirty days in default of $200 fine and is to have his license revoked for two years.

A Brooklyn man, Louis Smith, paid a fine of $15 and costs Monday on reckless driving and speeding charges. He was arrested by Officer Walter A. Errickson and was detained until late Monday evening when friends provided funds for the fine to gain his release.

Edward Markee, 19 years old, of 6007 North Twelfth street, Philadelphia, arrested by Officer Bruce MacDonald on suspicion when he was found walking along Camden avenue Friday night, was held on robbery charges after an investigation by Moorestown police.

Through the state police, it was learned that Edward, along with his brother, George, was wanted for the theft of four canoes, some food stuffs, other camping equipment and firearms pilfered Wednesday evening of last week from Camp Balserelt, Boy Scout camp of Philadelphia Troop No. 189, located near Marlton.

Coincident with the arrest of Edward by Moorestown police came that of his brother, George, by a constable at Hainesport. In addition to being involved in the Scout camp robberies, a bicycle stolen from Moorestown Friends' School was found in a hiding place of George's loot.

Although no arrests were made, Officer Walter Errickson was called to the scene of an accident on Main street Monday evening. A new Buick sedan owned and driven by Dr. Joseph Stokes was struck in front of his home by a Ford sedan operated by Margaret Reid, Seaside Heights.

The accident occured when Dr. Stokes, backing his car out his driveway, had to stop crosswise on Main street to permit autos to pass around his machine. Due to the heavy rain, driving was extremely difficult and the shore woman, who was travelling west on Main street, said she did not see the physician's machine until her car was but a few feet from it.

Neither auto was seriously damaged and none of the occupants injured.

FROELICHER SUMS ELECTION LESSON

Democratic County Chairman Well Satisfied With Showing His Party Made

Hans Froelicher, Jr., of Moorestown, chairman of the Democratic County Committee, has the following to say to the Democrats of Burlington County concerning the recent election.

"The election is over. We were defeated. Let us take off our hats to the Burlington County Republicans who polled a record vote. The fact that our Republican brothers were better financed than we were does not account for the county results. The voters wanted to vote and did. We can take satisfaction in knowing that the man who made the campaign was the positive factor and the issue was Alfred E. Smith. Polling some 15,000,000 votes, probably more than Coolidge received to win in 1924, he was the outstanding figure in the campaign. Our county was against him. The Republicans got out a phenomenal vote. We offer them our congratulations on a job well done.

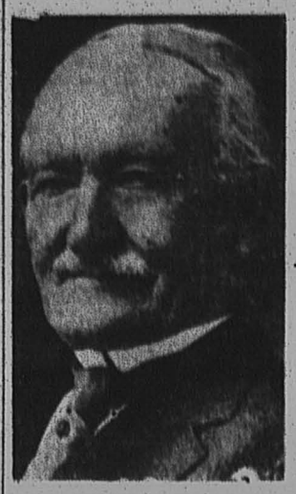

"Submerged in the Presidential tidal wave in New Jersey were the Governorship and Senatorship. Senator Edwards and Commissioner Dill were defeated by undiscriminating straight tickets. They suffered from their complete loyalty to the National ticket. A large number of the voters had given no though to these two offices. We therefore have Kean and Larson as Senator and Governor-elect, the beneficiaries of the anti-Smith demonstration in New Jersey. Although the public record of these two gentlemen does not show equipment for public office in any sense comparable to that of the men they defeated, it is only fair to give them a chance to demonstrate their ability to assume the responsibilities of the respective offices. Let us set an example, therefore, of sportsmanship in contrast to that of the Republican Legislators to Governor Silzer and Governor Moore.

"We can look with satisfaction on our own vote. Virtually every Democratic vote was polled to reach a total of 11,000—a record vote for this generation. This is a tribute to the organization which has developed under the leadership of George M. Hillman. Jr., as State Committeeman, Florence W. Jacoby as State Committeewoman and Frank A. Braddock and his fellow officers of the County Committee. The work of Mr. Hillman has been noteworthy. Never has a new State Committeeman been faced with greater difficulties. With no organization, no funds and a party dammed up for years by petty factional strife, Mr. Hillman brought to the situation a dynamic personality, a great energy, and an intelligence that fought through to result in a county wide loyal organization. His moves were calculated for the future as well as for the immediate necessities. His success augurs well for future county decisions. The Democratic party has been re-established as a factor in Burlington County politics. This showing is welcomed by leading Republicans. It will insist on the nomination in the future of superior candidates for county offices on both tickets. Further, it will tend to discourage civil warfare in the Republican ranks, which has in the past been disastrous to the Republican party in the county and detrimental to the county government.

"Let us, therefore, ungrudgingly felicitate the victors and carry on.

HANS FROELICHER, JR.

Maple Shade Policeman Carried Flag 12 Years in Battles While in U. S. Service

Sergeant LeRoy Jackson, of the Maple Shade police department, has presented a Red Cross banner to the Maple Shade branch.

"Our citizens should be very proud," says a statement from the branch, "not only of the flag but also of Sergeant Jackson. Few people in this community know of the splendid service record he made in the U. S. Army. From 1910 until 1916, he spent on the Mexican border and in Cuba, and then in the World War, he became Sergeant Jackson, of the Medical Corps, 109th Infantry, 28th Division, the old Iron Division of Pennsylvania.

"The wonderful Red Cross flag which Sergeant Jackson has presented to our local branch was carried by him not only during the great battles in France, but his entire 12 years of wonderful service in the U. S. Army. Sergeant Jackson, we accept this wonderful gift and hope it may continue to be of as much service to us as it has been before.

Why Smith Was Defeated

One of the clearest expositions of the reasons for the Democratic debacle on November 6, written from a Democratic viewpoint, is the following editorial written by George M. Sleeper, editor of the Mount Holly Herald, last week:

IN RETROSPECT

More than a week has passed since over 40,000,000 citizens of our country exercised their right of suffrage in the selection of a President of these United States.

The contest was, generally speaking, between the two old and predominating parties. Their platforms conformed to their respective party lines. Each candidate was a man of known qualities and well established record in his particular field of political, business and social activity. One popular through his political success and humanitarian proclivities. The other owed his prominence to his power as an executive in large undertakings and his deep-seated human sympathy. Each was born where most men die—in obscurity.

The ballots have been counted and the tabulations are practically correct and final. They reveal the decision of the electorate with its amazing proportions. Many who are "proud to be in the ranks of the defeated" will be assigning reasons for the fall. Some will claim religion was responsible. After sober reflection and a sane review of the facts this will be proven as incorrect. The elements which contributed to the defeat of Gov. Alfred E. Smith were many and varied. He was a victim of his own folly in more than one instance. His chances for success suffered from the errors of his friends, who while trying to help him, blundered because they were animated in the game of politics in a material way. Religion, if it were a cause of defeat, will rank about last in the list. Before that must come Gov. Smith's repudiation of his party's platform as made and laid down by men old in the councils of his party and wise in the ways of national politics. Men who knew the pulse of the people of all the States. Not that of only a few.

Both the candidate and his managers knew the importance of the votes of women in the campaign. Yet this did not deter them from making a nation-wide attack upon Mrs. Willebrandt, Assistant Attorney General in charge of the enforcement of prohibition. From this act of theirs dated the activities of virtually all women's clubs and organizations heretofore non-partisan in intent and purpose.

The act of giving prominence to picayunish claims or statements regardless of their source never contributed to the success of any cause. To say nothing of big men engaged in a big work giving them attention.

Governor Smith's action in invading the ranks of the capitalists of the opposing party for his choice of a campaign manager, brough no support from the rank and file of the Democrats.

The Democrat following as a nation-wide proposition has not been, nor never will be, convinced that Tammany Hall is of the true breed.

Last, but by no means the least, no well-informed Democrat believed this was a year for his party to succeed in electing a President. We doubt if Governor Smith sincerely believed it. For this reason must credit is due him for his hard campaigning, his relentless fighting.

He secured more votes than many men who have been elected to the office. But he must take his place alongside of other good men who have met defeat in the same cause—Bryan, Cox, Davis and others.

Governor Smith's defeat was due more to the folly in his campaign than to the form in which he worships his God.

The Democrats will survive, and they will begin at once to build the domes and spires of a new party in the air above the ashes of the old.

Dr. Frank Crane

Dr. Frank Crane has gone to that "strange bourne from which no traveler returns." Seventeen year ago his editorial sermons began to appear in the newspapers, and in a short time won recognition. He became famous and earned through his writings something like one hundred and fifty thousand dollars a year. The world was quick to respond. He had something that the world wanted. He had the gift of expressing beautiful sentiments in a beautiful way, inspiring and inspiriting all of us.

At the age of fifty he climbed down from an underpaid pulpit to brave a new field. Courageously he started out, as if he were a youth, to deliver his sermons in a new way—via the printed word. In editorials in newspapers, he penned praise of all that is noblest and finest in the nature of man, encouraging his readers to live full lives devoted to the Good and the True and the Beautiful. His articles are said to have been read by as many as twenty million people, none of whom could have helped being influenced for the better by the lessons of loving-kindness, faith and contentment that he taught.

Dr. Crane's influence will not die with him, for he set an example to a host of men of religion now teaching through the medium of the printed word. Nor will Dr. Crane's editorials die—people will be reading them long after most writing of this period is forgotten.

His great success proves how eager persons really are for moral truth expressed in language that they can understand. The death of Dr. Crane is a great loss to the American public on whom he had such a singularly fine, ennobling influence.

What Happens to Murderers

Recently a large American life insurance company investigated the records of the killings of 146 of its policyholders by other persons. The result is an accurate commentary on our handling of crime.

Of the 146 killings, 32 were found justified, leaving 114 classed as murders.

Of these, 46 were not indicted, as 22 committed suicide, 18 have never been found, and eight were freed because of lack of evidence.

Sixty-nine, in all, were indicted. Of these, 16 were acquitted, 11 were "no trial" cases and one was a mistrial. Forty-one were judged guilty of murder.

Of these, 35 are in prison serving sentences, six have been appealed, three have been granted new trials, one was paroled, one escaped with a fine, and just one of the murderers paid the death penalty.

If these statistics are generally applicable, it means that in this country less than one per cent. of murders ever receive the most severe punishment, and that the chances are about even for their never receiving any punishment at all.

It is obvious that our legal system, while basically sound, has become burdened with a mass of technicalities providing ready loop-holes for the criminal. Clever lawyers confuse issues and sway juries composed of laymen with little knowledge of the law, with sentiment or arguments beside the point. And when everything else fails advantage is often taken of multiplicity of laws to gain repeals, delays or new trials.

We have 17 times as many murders as England, and six times the number of Canada. Crime suppression will come not from new laws, but by simplifying and making operative the ones we have.

In Return

By no one is the spirit of the Golden Rule understood better than by the orphan children of the Near East. They are always eager to give in their turn.

On Golden Rule Sunday each year the Near East Relief orphanages observe the day, sacrificing their meat or a full meal, and contributing the savings to some need. Last year the children on the Island of Syra and at the Kephisia Street orphanage in Athens ate only bread on Golden Rule Sunday and saved enough money to finance for a year a Day Nursery in one of the refugee camps. They repeated the sacrifice at the time of the Corinth earthquakes and contributed toward the maintenance of a feeding station for 500 baby sufferers.

Perhaps the most touching of all the sacrifices was that of a group of ex-orphan boys in Jerusalem. By scrimping and saving out of their first small wages, they sent $65 to help certain Americans who, they heard, were in distress. To the Near East Relief director to whom they intrusted the money for transportation they said, "America helped us when we were in distress. We have heard about the Mississippi and Vermont floods and want to help in our turn." The money was sent to the Red Cross in Washington, whose acknowledging letter expressed full appreciation of what the gift meant in love and gratitude and sacrifice.

Encouraging Crime

Carelessness and stupidity on the part of the victims is responsible for much of the thieving and swindling which has reached such alarming proportions in this country, amounting to approximately two billions a year.

Some of the specific weaknesses of our "easy marks" are pointed out by a leading criminologist, who enumerates cashing checks for strangers, leaving automobiles unprotected, carrying unnecessarily large sums of money, buying real estate without seeing it or investigating its title, investing in stocks and schemes without consulting a banker, trying to beat gamblers at their own games, lending money and extending credit to persons of doubtful honesty, and so on.

If people fail to exercise any caution whatever in these matters, no law or official action can effectively protect them from thieves, swindlers and dead beats.

While the punishment of criminals often occurs, it usually happens too late to do the victim any good, so far as recovering his money or property is concerned.

Honest people have it in their own power to greatly reduce losses from the above mentioned causes, by merely exercising ordinary good judgment, instead of indulging in reckless practices which encourage crime.

Tariff Results Obvious

"None of us who work day after day spend much time trying to learn about the tariff," says the Milford, Delaware, Chronicle. "The vast majority are not brought up to it, as it means digging into figures, which most of us dislike. We realize vaguely that there is a difference between a high tariff and a low tariff, even though we do not know everything relating to the tax on products shipped here from abroad and products shipped from here to other parts of the world.

"But this we know and are sure of: We get 10 times better wages than many working people abroad and we live infinitely better than they even dream of living.

"We know this, too, about the tariff: The payroll for those of us who work for a living in this country is $600,000,000 a week. But for a protective tariff we would be down to the level of foreign labor and living conditions."

Thanksgiving Joys

Many are the joys of Thanksgiving, that Nation-wide day of feasting, but many are the forces in the big cities that are militating against these joys. Time was when from one end of the country to the other every family—with but few exceptions—enjoyed a hearty Thanksgiving Dinner with all the "fixings" at home, and in the excitement attendant to the event arose a deep sense of family affection and solidarity. Thanksgiving was a day for the family and the home.

In the small towns and rural districts, it is still a day for the family and the home; but our city neighbors are not so fortunate!

Crowded into tiny apartments, how can they know the real joys of Thanksgiving?

"It is a trifle difficult to wax sentimental about Apartment B, 6th floor, as the old homestead," writes Walter Pritchard Eaton. "Besides, the kitchen isn't big enough to cook an 18-pound turkey, let alone four mince pies, two pumpkin pies and a pudding. Anyhow, the cook never heard of mince pies."

American's Unique Gifts

Aside from saving 1,500,000 lives and training 130,000 orphan children for self-support, America has made certain unique gifts to the Near East which are priceless in their effect upon its reviving economic life.

It has struck a blow at that ancient institution,—the blind beggar. It has turned him into a self-respecting, self-supporting musician, weaver, cobbler, basket-maker.

The mutes of the Near East have been taught to communicate with their fellow-men by the most up-to-date method of training known to the world.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Why Give Up

I have received a very pitiful letter from a woman out west.

She has had a hard time all her life. She has raised three children, who do nothing for her support. When her husband died he was found to have been improvident and left her no money. She has gone stone deaf. On top of this she has just had a very serious operation in a hospital.

She can see no way out. Nothing presents itself to her but continued suffering, privation and dependence. She is about ready to give up. What should she do?

Why give up?

Of course, it is difficult for any one in comparative health and well being to give advice to sufferers. One is always open to the imputation of being supercilious. It is always easy for the philosopher to bear the toothache patiently when some one else has it.

At the same time, and at the risk of being called hard names, I repeat the question, "Why give up?"

Suppose you do give up. Will life be any easier to bear?

It is just as well to look squarely at the alternative.

When some one told Tolstoy that many kind, virtuous, and honest people had a very hard time, he replied: "What about those that are unkind, not virtuous and dishonest? Look about you. Do the people like that whom you know have any easier time?"

The Church in the Middle Ages is often accused of being very cruel. But what about the people outside of the Church. Were they any less cruel?

Life may be hard at best, but it is easier and pleasanter all around if we keep a stout heart and do the best we can under the circumstances.

Whatever may be in store for this woman, whatever deprivation and suffering, we can be sure that she will get along better if she meets her fate bravely and smilingly and does not give way to despair.

Whatever happens to us we are better off if we battle on and keep our chin up.

Despair is nothing but a bog, a quicksand, that engulfs the soul. It leaves us no spirit with which to fight.

When a Persian soldier told a Lacedemonian that in battle the Persian arrows would be so thick they would darken the sky, "then," said the Lacedemonian, "we will fight in the shade."

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for November 25
THE PRAYERS OF PAUL
Acts 20:36-38; Ephesians 1:15-16;3:14-21
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Limitless opportunities to help others are within the power of every one who knows how to pray. When Paul could not give direct help where he would or when his little was not enough, he always had recourse of prayer. He had written to the Thessalonians "Pray without ceasing" and he constantly practiced his own preaching. The Scripture chosen for this lesson suggests only a few of the many prayer experiences of Paul. Others indicated by the Lesson Committee are Romans 1:8-10; Ephesians 1:15-23, I Thessalonians 12:5. In addition there are many prayer references in the thirteen letters that Paul wrote. A fine book for general reading is "The Man Paul," Robert E. Speer, D.D., in which there is an especially helpful chapter on "His prayer life."

Much more is involved in prayer than merely asking for what we may desire. There are conditions that we must meet before we can begin the asking. Jesus offered a safeguard in prayer that we will do well to follow invariably as we also say "Thy will be done." Then there is an orderly sequence as we are having an audience with the Most High God, such as Adoration, Thanksgiving, Confession, Petition and further Thanksgiving before we say "Amen," so let it be. Two books by the late Andrew Murray have been very helpful: "With Christ in the School of Prayer" and "Ministry of Intercession." Yes, the subject is one for life-long study and practice. Paul gives us a helpful start.

Ephesians was written from Rome during the first imprisonment. Paul was limited in the flesh as he was constantly chained to some Roman soldier, but his mind and spirit were free to reach Ephesus by way of the throne of Jehovah. He rejoices at the good report which comes concerning the continuing and enlarging faith of his beloved in Ephesus. Then he reminds them of the positive help he is obtaining for them through intercessory prayer. Just as long as one can reach up to God he can, through the power of the Almighty, reach out to any person or place in all the world. Such was Paul's habit in maintaining his life work. He did not make self-interest the burden of his petitions, but asked great things for others through Jesus Christ, for such a joyous privilege was according to the promise given to him and to every one of us. Samuel refused to lay down his prayership though his judgeship had been taken away by the people when they asked for a king. This prophet said, "God forbid that I should sin against Him in ceasing to pray for you," I Samuel 12:23.

Some of the content of one of Paul's prayers is indicated in Eph. 3:15-21. For five verses there is a massing of petitions before we find a single period. His posture is down on both knees, but in mind he faces the Throne. Read that prayer a number of times. Better still, commit it to memory and use it as you seek large blessings for others, and especially for any one who is ill-treating you. A fine indication that you have forgiven is when you pray wholeheartedly for the one who has wronged you. There is no limitation in the love or forgiveness of the Christ. Who can do "exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think." It is mighty to be on praying terms with such a King!

A RECORD IN POLITICS

The President cast his first vote in Northampton, was elected councilman there, long ago, and his been steadily in office every since, nominated nineteen or twenty times—never beaten. A record in politics as good as Cromwell's in war. Cromwell never lost a battle.

The old farmers would observe with pleasure that being President, with $75,000 a year salary, a White House and a big yacht have not spoiled Calvin Coolidge. Next March he will move from the White House to Northampton and resume life in a small house which he rents for $32.50 a month.

Such a man is not dependent on money. But the President could save plenty of it. More than one law firm would be glad to guarantee him three times his Presidential salary. And he would not have to work hard. Perhaps the President chooses to wait awhile, look around, and possibly take a second elective term in the White House, eight years hence.

The erection of a fine statue to the great Frenchman, Pasteur, honors Chicago. Excepting the Lincoln statue, none in Chicago is erected to so noble and useful a man.

Dr. Leopold Stieglitz, of New York, able scientist and brilliant diagnostician, bother of Professor Julius Stieglitz, who teaches chemistry at Chicago University, says, "We need a Pasteur to solve the cancer problem. That task calls for a man free of preconceived notions and prejudice; not a man of medical training, seeking to explain cancer according to old methods."

The ignorant sometimes ask "Of what real use is science?" Bismarck taking five billion francs from France, after the war of 1870, thought he had reached the limit. Dr. Stieglitz reminds you that the cash value to France of Pasteur's discoveries far exceeds five billions francs, to say nothing of his work against human disease and suffering.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers

NEW JERSEY SAFE IN REPUBLICAN FOLD

Once more has New Jersey demonstrated its right to be classed as a Republican State. With a plurality for Herbert Hoover of more than 300,000 and exceeding the vote given President Coolidge four years ago, the Garden State fulfilled the predictions of the most optimistic observers of thing political last week by returning the executive branch of the State government to the Republicans and giving New Jersey its rightful representation in the United States Senate. As before, the Legislature is strongly Republican in both branches, while the State's delegation in the House of Representatives continues overwhelmingly Republican.

Repeated State campaigns in which heavy Republican majorities elsewhere in the State have been counterbalanced by the huge Democratic vote rolled up in Hudson county, led to the confident prediction that when an honest vote was secured in Hudson and the "Phantom" voting in that county eliminated, New Jersey would be restored to Republican rule in all branches of State government. This view has been convincingly upheld by the results of the recent election. Continual hammering at the once impregnable Democratic position in Hudson county during the past year so greatly weakened the Hague organization that it was incapable of putting up the kind of battle which on occasion has saved New Jersey to the Democrats in the past. True, Hudson polled a large Democratic vote on Tuesday, but it failed signally to duplicate its achievements of former years in offsetting the Republican majorities in the other counties of the State.

Tuesday's election may not have been a one-hundred-per-cent. honest election, there being divergent opinions on that subject, but it was the nearest to an honest expression of the will of the people that has been heard in this State in many years. In consequence New Jersey is more firmly entrenched in its position as a safely Republican State than it has been in a quarter of a century.

OUR TIES WITH THE COLONIAL PERIOD

Seemingly the Revolution never gets old. The Spanish bugle found near Mount Holly will be prized.

All through New Jersey, eastern Pennsylvania and the coast from Maine to Georgia there were enough Revolutionary memories to be talked of through several generations. Nobody could go far without seeing a house with historic associations or memories or family traditions. The links were innumerable. Many years after our independence was acknowledged there were soldiers who had been at Trenton, or Monmouth, merchants who had dealt with Robert Morris, and lawyers who remembered Hamilton and Burr before they were admitted to practice. The Signers of the Declaration had descendants, their relatives and connections were numerous, they had business and social relations over practically the whole seaboard.

But in all parts of the Union—in States far away from the Old Thirteen, the sense of nearness to our great struggle for freedom is strong. Reasons are not few. The first seven Presidents had taken part in the Revolution. For a generation, John Marshall, who had fought under Washington, was at the head of the Supreme Court. Seventy years after the Declaration of Independence, John Quincy Adams was active in Commerce. Lincoln had known Revolutionary veterans. There were even after his death numbers of grandsons of the Revolution.

Let any one take up the growth of the country in land expansion, in manufactures, or in commerce—let one glance at its legal and political records, and the lingering influence of the Revolution will come up times without number.—West Jersey Press.

THE REPUBLICAN RESPONSIBILITY IN NEW JERSEY

For the first time in nine years, New Jersey Republicans will be in control of both the Executive and Legislative branches of the State government, after Governor-elect Larson is inducted into office in January. With the recapture of the Governorship, after three successive Democratic Executives, the Republicans face an added responsibility of which party leaders can scarcely be unmindful. If pre-election promises are forgotten in the lust for power or through poor leadership the restored Republican control of the Executive office is unlikely to last. On the other hand, if the confidence of the electorate is justified through a wise administration of the Executive office with full co-operation from the Republican-controlled Senate and House, there is good ground for the hope that it will be many years before the Democratic party, under Boss Hague's leadership or that of some new Moses, will be able to stage a come-back.

Governor-elect Larson will enter upon his new duties under pleasant auspices. For the first time since the Edge administration the Governor will have a Legislature of friendly partisan views to work with. There will be no divided responsibility in running the affairs of State. If the Republican administration gives a good account of its stewardship, the credit will belong to it, alone; if failure should ensue, then, again, the responsibility will rest solely with the Republicans.

The incoming Governor inspires confidence in his sincerity of purpose and his ability to discharge his responsible office with credit to himself and his party. Very few Jerseymen possess such an intimate knowledge of State affairs. When running for the office to which he has been so triumphantly elected Candidate Larson emphasized his independence of action in the event of his election. He stressed the fact that he feels beholden to no boss or set of bosses for his nomination and that he would hold himself answerable to the people, alone, in the event of victory in November.

The voters believed him and there is no less reason to accept the Governor-elect at his word. When he surrounds himself with his new official family and after that, when his nominations to State office are made known, there will be afforded still another line upon which to measure the new Governor and his probable course of action through his three-years' tenure. Governor Larson has an opportunity such as has been vouchsafed few Executives of this State, to give the people the kind of administration they want and to show that he meant what he said when he proclaimed his independence of party bossism even before the May primaries.—Mount Holly Mirror.

UNSIGHTLY BILLBOARDS

Defacement of public highways by unsightly billboards is a matter which is frequently brought to public attention, and rightfully so. It is little short of disgraceful to find scenery ruined by commercial exploitation, and private property, otherwise attractive, disfigured by gaudy signs.

Credit is due Mercer County Pomona Grange No. 5, for striking boldly at this nuisance. It is entirely correct, as the organization states in a recently adopted resolution, that "these billboards are turning the roads of New Jersey into ugly business streets, hiding the natural beauty of the scenery and disfiguring the landscape."

Usually, however, such protests, commendable as they are, fail to be translated into action. One hopes that the indignant members of Pomona Grange will have the initiative to push their remedial project until it receives official consideration. Otherwise, a laudable aim may evaporate into the thin air of futility.—Trenton Times.

During a heat wave a magistrate was discussing with a few club friends the question of summer drinks, and he admitted that he did not know of a good thirst quencher.

"Have you tried gin and ginger-beer?" asked one of the group.

"No; but I've tried many people who have," was the response."

Our Turkey's Getting Bigger and Better

By Albert T. Reid

And, as the bright sun glorifies the sky
So is her face illuminated by her eye.
—Shakespeare.

I cannot tell you how it distresses me to see the neglect to which most American women subject their eyes. Great thought is given to the complexion, the slender silhouette, the throat-line; but the eyes—they are quite forgotten.

Do you know the sum of a woman's birthdays is written in her eyes, and that after twenty-five life begins to etch fine lines around them, to slightly alter the smoothness of the lids?

Intelligent care—and only that—can keep eyes ageless. And I, your beauty specialist, will gladly teach you how to give them what they need—if you will promise to be faithful and follow instructions!

Morning or evening, bathe the eyes with warm water containing a pinch of boric acid. Relax; saturate pads of cotton in the boric solution and place over the eyes, renewing several times. Then lightly film the eyelids with a soothing cream and with finger-tips pointing downward, "comb" the upper lids with upward strokes.

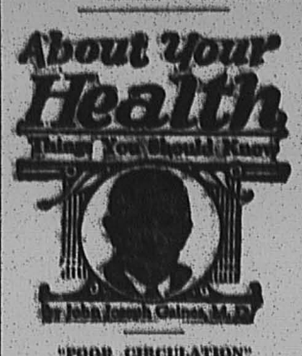

You can successfully combat lines and crowfeet by bathing the eyes as directed; then spread a nourishing cream beneath the eyes and at the temples; "comb" the upper eyelids; pat gently under eyes as if "finger-printing"; and always pat from the temples toward the nose.

To relax muscles and stimulate circulation of the eyes, rest the elbows on a table, supporting the chin with the thumbs. Move the third finger across the upper eyelids in light rotary strokes from the inner corner of the eyes outward—then inward on the lower lid. Beginning between the brows, run the fingers in firm, gentle strokes over the eyebrows to the outer corner of the eyes and finish with a light circular movement.

When years of neglect have left their imprint it is usually necessary to give the eyes a more elaborate treatment. After cleansing the face, clear the eyes with a good eye lotion and lay upon them a pack of soothing herbs dipped in water as hot as can be borne. Repeat two or three times, then film the eyelids with cream and proceed with the special movements.

But try these simple rules for keeping eyes forever young and you will not regret the ten or fifteen minutes a day required to apply them.

HELENA RUBINSTEIN.

"POOR CIRCULATION"

So many people come to see me, telling me among other things, that they have poor circulation. The reason for this mistaken idea is, their feet are more or less numb, with "creepy" sensations, tingling and, almost invariably cold, or uncomfortably cool; these symptoms, they ascribe to "poor circulation."

True, it feels like just that; feels as if the blood could not get through the tissues fast enough, and was trying to force its way—which isn't the case at all; those tiny blood-vessels may be as open as they ever were, with the pulse rate and arterial pressure normal. The coldness, tingling and numbness, however, will bring the "poor circulation" opinion every time, when the patient tells me about his failing legs, or arms below the elbows.

It's a nerve proposition every time. When the brain and spinal cord become very very tired, fagged, weary from long over-taxing, the twigs of nerves farthest from the centres will manifest their exhaustion by lack of healthy function. To prescribe a heart tonic for such a condition, when it only needs rest, would be stupid. The general tonic may be useful, and, particularly, the nerve tonic, which, however, is only supplemental to the first requirement—rest for the brain and cord.

If those leg-symptoms are accompanied by high blood-pressure, it is extremely necessary that the patient consult his physician at once—and it isn't "poor circulation" even in this emergency; it's still a nerve-proposition that causes the feeling, though the circulation be running riot. Is a raging fire a "poor fire?"

GOV. MOORE ENDORSES KELLOGG PEACE PACT

A statement by Governor A. Harry Moore, endorsing the Kellogg Peace Pact follows:

"I believe the Kellogg Peace Pact should be speedily ratified even though it may be said that in the past treaties have not been proof against human passions.

"This pact, however, conceived in a sincere desire to outlaw war has been accepted by the powers and is a great forward step, worthy of our hearty and enthusiastic approval.

"The mere holding of these conferences on the Cause and Cure of War is, to my mind, a real service to our nation and to the world and should receive loyal and general support."

Thinking Out Loud

There are three new women members in Congress now, Mrs. Ruth Pratt, Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick and Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen. Glad to hear Congress won't be Ruthless.

After all that has been said about it these past months, we wonder how many people realy understand what the equalization fee is all about.

A Texan claims to have invented a telephone that will answer and tell you so when the person you are calling is out. Now for someone to invent a telephone that will answer and tell you so when the person you are calling is in!

A Cincinnati employer says that blondes work harder than brunettes. Well, some of his most industrious helpers may really be brunettes without his knowing it!

Naturally, all the women stars are showing great anxiety to get into the new talking pictures.

The feminine "bloc" is quite strong in Congress now. Let's hope it doesn't prove to be a "block."

Now at last there is some real farm relief! The farmers are no longer reminded of their plight over the radio every single night.

Now that Gene Tunney has definitely retired, Jack Dempsey may come back to the ring after all!

HINTS FOR THE HOME

THANKSGIVING

When planning the table decoration for Thanksgiving do not forget that fall fruits and vegetables are as decorative as flowers for the centerpiece—and far more expressive symbols of Harvest Time.

One of the most beautiful Thanksgiving tables I have ever seen had for its centerpiece a large flat bowl of amber glass holding a small pumpkin, a purple egg plant, an ear of corn, a tiny winter squash and apples, plums, oranges, purple and wine-red grapes. Tall compots of amber glass filled with small fruits and grapes were placed at either side of the large bowl. Amber-goblets and ivory-bodied china in a colorful pattern were used for service.

Although the table was planned for a sophisticated New York home it seems to me it bears a special message for all who live far from good florist shops.

PRINCESS SILHOUETTE

In coats, in frocks, evening gowns and long tunic effects the princess silhouette appears with its suggestion of naturalness and grace. One should study carefully the new models, however. Although they answer to the general name of "princess," they are widely different from those styles that have gone before.

MOIRE POPULAR

Since the first of the season moire has been prominent among evening silks in pastel shades and black. Now, as a change from the velvets and satins, it makes its appearance in colors appropriate for afternoon wear.

There is a richness and distinction about moire that makes it a favorite whenever featured and we are glad to see it announced for practical as well as formal use.

Do you remember the prediction about short fur jackets when fall furs first came to town? They have indeed "arrived."

Short jackets of broadtail, squirrel and krimmer seem to lead among the practical furs. But most luxurious are the jackets of soft, baby-like fur in white, grey lines.

WAS THAT LAST 5c CIGAR BITTER?

No More Experience Like That If You Smoke This Ripe Tobacco Cigar

No, they're not all alike. There is a difference in five-cent cigars. Many, we admit, are made from "scraps," "cuttings," under-ripe top leaves, over-ripe bottom leaves and other low-grade tobacco material. But there's one cigar, men, that's 'way ahead of its price class: Havana Ribbon. And the reason is—It's Ripe Tobacco! No bitterness; no flatness; no short ends to crumble in your mouth. But all long-filler, fully-ripe middle leaves from choice tobacco plants. Man, that does make a smoke! Cool, sweet, mild, fragrant, flaverful—a cigar that makes your nickel ring like it was a silver dime!

Give Havana Ribbon a chance. You'll never stop wondering how a cigar so good can be made for five cents. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

Republicans of Burlington Set Unprecedented Record in Campaign Funds

Of outstanding interest to all New Jersey Republicans in connection with the campaign which has just closed is the remarkable showing which has been made by Burlington county in raising funds for the State and National Committees.

During the past twenty years, this county has constantly given the Republican Party substantial majorities at the polls, but has always been a weak link in gathering together the funds which are so necessary to carrying through successful and well-organized campaigns.

In 1920 the county was only able to turn over to the State and National Committees the small sum of $2118.00; in 1924 a total of $3525.00 was given to these committees. In both instances, the sums raised were much below the amounts which the County was expected to contribute.

This year the Republican National Committee requested each State Committee to organize within the State a Finance Committee made up of representative bankers, business men and lawyers. The National Committee further requested that each county in the State have representation in this committee.

Budget of $702,000

The budget of the State of New Jersey was fixed at approximately $650,000, and later raised to $702,000, to be distributed as follows:

30 percent to be devoted towards campaign expenses in the County in which the funds are collected;

32½ percent to be contributed to the State Campaign;

37½ percent to be contributed to the National Campaign.

The entire budget was apportioned among the various counties of the State, and the quota for Burlington county was $15,000. In the past all available money has been used principally at the polls to bring out the voters, for watchers, etc., whereas this year the funds have been more wisely and conservatively expended along the lines of general education, especially for broadcasting of campaign speeches, literature, auto tags, posters, banners, telephone charges, travelling expenses, bands, parades, etc.

George deBenneville Keim, of Edgewater Park, a staunch and old line Republican, and a great admirer of Herbert Hoover, assumed the responsibility of raising Burlington county's quota. He has taken particular interest in this campaign, and has largely been responsible for causing the organization of committees in the various towns for the solicitation of these funds.

Raised Huge Sum

Burlington county has made a showing of which it can be rightfully proud. Instead of contributing a small amount as was the case in 1920 and 1924, this year the county organization has raised and paid to the Campaign the stupendous sum of $52,383.00, over three times the quota and about fifteen times the amount of the 1924 contributions. It can also look with satisfaction upon the record that it has contributed a larger percentage of its quota than any county in the state. This more than makes up for the financial shortcomings the county has shown in the past.

In partial explanation of this large amount raised, however, it is a well known fact that Eldridge R. Johnson, John T. Dorrance and George deBenneville Keim, whose combined wealth can very safely be placed at well in excess of $100,000,000 have in the past given their financial support to other districts, while in this campaign their interest in Herbert Hoover and the Republican Party has swelled the amount raised in Burlington county to this splendid total.

Upon being interviewed at Florence, County Republican Chairman Stout said: "Our campaign was never as well organized as it was in this past election. Mr. Keim did a wonderful piece of work in engineering the raising of subscriptions in Burlington county and giving us more time to devote to the formation of local organizations in all our towns. On account of Burlington county raising so much more than its budget, we agreed not to take the allotment of 30 percent of the total amount subscribed, but instead released about one-half of this amount which was coming to us for use in the northern part of the State where it was felt that there was a greater need for organized effort. Burlington county is unique in this record. The pluralities given to Hoover, Larson, Kean, and the entire Republican ticket are most gratifying, I am sure not only to me, but to all who had a part in the work."

WIDOW RECOGNIZES SKELETON

Salem, N. J.—Mrs. Florence Burt McAllister identified a skeleton found in the woods near here as that of her husband, Frank, 39, who disappeared June 5. She identified him by means of bridgework and gold teeth in the skull of the skeleton. The dental work was also identified by Dr. James Brown a dentist.

When found the hands and feet of the skeleton were tied with bits of clothing and rope.

Where Many of Our Presidents Came From

Many American great men were born without the proverbial silver spoon. On their entry into the world they had merely their birthright, health and the love of their parents. The picture above shows the birthplace of Herbert Hoover, president-elect Calvin Coolidge and six presidents of the past. These presidents among others first saw the light of day in the rural districts of America, and rose from obscurity to the highest office in the land.

CORONER FARNER OUT FOR SHERIFF

Burlington Man Announces Candidacy for Nomination on Republican Ticket

Coroner Benjamin F. Farner has announced his candidacy for Sheriff of Burlington county on the Republican ticket.

Mr. Farner says he will seek the office on the basis of public service already rendered.

Coroner Farner has spent most of his life in Burlington, the town of his birth. The progenitor of the Farner family in New Jersey was Michial Farrier, born in New Brunswick in 1747.

Coroner Farner is a son of the late Charles P. Farner, Sr., former Mayor of Burlington and long a prominent figure in civic, business and municipal affairs of Burlington. Mr. Farner's home is on Salem avenue, Farnerville, where he lives with his wife, Mrs. Mary S. Farner, and their family, including Benjamin, Marian, Susie and Charles P. Farner.

Wide Activity

In addition to the office of coroner, Mr. Farner is connected with many other local and county interests. He is director of the Burlington City Loan & Trust Company. He served six years in Common Council and was at the head of police committee for several years. He was recently interested in the organization of the Polish Republican Club, and the Italian Social Club of Burlington. He also aided in the organization of the new Burlington County American Legion Band.

Mr. Farner is a member of numerous organizations, among them the Elks, the Moose, Oneida Boat Club, Orangers, Burlington Club, Kiwanis, Burlington Countians, Inc., Niagara Fire Company, St. Mary's, Methodist and Baptist brotherhoods, local council of Boy Scouts and a contributing member of the Burlington County Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., Hope Fire Company and Endeavor Fire Company.

Mr. Farner is at present engaged in the real estate business, with offices in the Farner building, High and Union streets, Burlington.

Started as Newsboy

Mr. Farner began his business career as a newsboy, selling local and Philadelphia newspaper in his home town. Soon after leaving school he was employed at the Pavonia car shops and later at Cramp's shipyards. Later in Burlington he was connected with the old Burlington Gas Company plant and also saw service clerking in the store of J. P. Silpath and at the Union News Stand. The elder Farner built scores of homes in what are now the main residential sections of Burlington. Later, with his sons, he developed the suburb of Farnerville.

Among the public-spirited moves of the Farner family in promoting the growth of their suburb at Farnerville was the donation of land for the Burlington Silk Mills, when that industry first came to Burlington. More recently ground was given for the Samuel Smith Public School and for the new Presbyterian Chapel.

It was a beautiful Thanksgiving morning when Br'er Rabbit started out for a walk before he had the wonderful dinner which his wife was preparing for him and the bunnies.

Bye and bye he came to where Mister Jay Bird was seated on the limb of a hickory tree and he sat down for a few minutes to talk to the bird.

"Do you know," began Mister Jay Bird, "I can't see why you haven't a tail like Mrs. Squirrel. With those lovely ears of yours and a large bushy tail, you'd be the handsomest animal in the forest."

"I really think so myself," replied the rabbit.

"I tell you what you can do," said the bird. "You take some pawpaw bark and tie up your tail real tight. You're going to have Thanksgiving dinner, aren't you?"

"Yes," answered Br'er Rabbit.

"Well, by the time you are ready to eat, your tail will be as large and as bushy as Mrs. Squirrel's."

"It will take longer than that, won't it?" inquired Br'er Rabbit, anxiously.

"No, it only takes a short while, that is, if you tie your tail tight enough. But be sure to take the bark off before you get home."

Br'er Rabbit disappeared and soon was winding his tail with a piece of pawpaw bark. He wound it as tight as he could and then took a little nap, waking up when the sun had started down hill.

"Merry me!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit, when he awoke. "I'll be late for dinner." He rushed towards his home and arrived just in time for the Thanksgiving meal. He took his place at the head of the table and was surprised to hear all the bunnies snickering. "What's the matter?" he asked, in surprise.

"Look at your tail!" shouted Buster Bunnie.

"Gracious!" exclaimed Br'er Rabbit. "I wanted to make my tail like Mrs. Squirrel's, so I tied it up as Mister Jay Bird told me."

"You know Mister Jay Bird is a joker," laughed Mrs. Rabbit. "Next time be your own sweet self—we like you better. Now ask the blessing."

(Write the Editor of this newspaper and tell what you want Br'er Rabbit and his family to do next.)

FORMER MT. HOLLY MAN HEADS BRITISH COMBINE

Howard C. Levis, of London England, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Franklin B. Levis, and brother of Edward H. Levis, of Mount Holly, has just been made chairman of the board of the Metropolitan Vickers Electrical Company, with home offices in London. This step is in line with a consolidation of the principal electrical equipment concerns of the British Empire and , it is believed, points to a huge international cartel or agreement among competing electrical interests throughout the world.

BEVERLY NOT EAGER FOR MORE ELECTION DISTRICTS

Beverly City is entitled to more election districts. The fact that there are now over seven hundred voters in the first district, gives privilege under the present election laws to form another district. There is, however, very little sentiment in favor of dividing the first ward and although the law apparently makes it mandatory by stating that districts containing more than seven hundred voters shall be divided into two election districts, there is no prospect of any action being taken by the local authorities in the matter.

1929 Auto License Plates Available

The 1929 license plates, in smoke gray and white, may be had now any day from the office of Francis H. Reed, Mount Holly, representative of the State Motor Vehicle Department.

The first plates were issued last Friday.

Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill is already appealing to motorists to get their license plates early and avoid the rush later on.

The new plates may be used on and after December 15, but driving licenses, although they may be obtained with the plates, will not become effective until after midnight, December 31.

600-LB. TURTLE FOUND ON BEACH

Carried ashore by a big wave a 600-pound turtle rests peacefully on the beach at Second avenue, Seaside Park. The giant turtle, known as a "leather-back," is dead it is supposed. At least it is unconscious for no movement has been noticeable since it found a resting place on the beach. The turtle has attracted much attention, quite a number of people flocking to the beach to inspect it. Borough Superintendent Aaron Wilbert is making plans for its removal, but so many people are anxious to see it that it may be allowed to remain for a few days.

PEACOCK ENTERS JUDGE SCRAMBLE

Watts, Rigg, Palmer and Wells Also Being Mentioned for Appointment

A petition has made its appearance in the county endorsing Robert Peacock, prominent Mount Holly attorney, for Judge of the Burlington County court, to succeed Judge William Slaughter, whose term expires next year. The petition is addressed to State Senator Clifford R. Powell.

Mr. Peacock is a former Assemblyman and also has served as solicitor for the Board of Freeholders. He is one of the most widely known criminal lawyers in this section of the state.

Both Ernest Watts and Charles A. Rigg, of Burlington, are being mentioned as prospective candidates to succeed Judge Slaughter.

Another who has been mentioned for the county judgeship is Claude V. Palmer, law partner of Senator Powell, but it is said that Mr. Palmer does not care for the position, feeling that it would not be wise to sacrifice the remuneration of his legal practice for the honor of the bench.

Some people thought that Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown, might like to return to the county bench. It is said that Mr. Wells has no ambition along that line. In fact, if Mr. Wells ever dons the judicial toga again it probably will be as a circuit judge. Sometime ago he was mentioned for a judgeship of this kind, but in some way the wires became mixed.

The judgeship pays five thousand dollars a year. The appointment is made by the Governor at the behest of the political leaders. The appointment is confirmed by the New Jersey Senate which suggests that the voice of Senator Powell will come near deciding the issue.

Another appointment that will be made in Burlington County through the change of gubernatorial complexion is that of prosecutor of pleas, a position now held by George M. Hillman, of Moorestown.

Mr. Hillman will go out of office in April, 1930. Consequently the political leaders have not yet given the matter much study. No candidates have been mentioned. There is plenty of material and candidates probably will be numerous a year from now.

Thanksgiving

This is the season of the year when there is set apart "a day of Thanksgiving for the blessings which the Giver of all good and perfect gifts has bestowed upon us during the year."

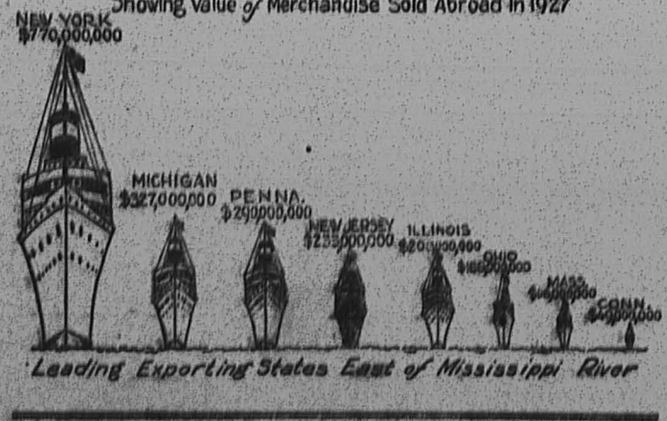

We have many things to be thankful for, but are especially grateful for the confidence which the people of Burlington County have seen fit to repose in us.

And we will, in the future as in the past, earnestly strive to serve in such a manner as to constantly merit a continuance of this confidence.

NEW JERSEY EXPORTS TOTAL $233,000,000
State's Rank In Foreign Trade Pictured From Data of U.S. Commerce Department Showing Value of Merchandise Sold Abroad in 1927

In 1927, goods manufactured in New Jersey, having a value of $233,000,000, were exported. Of all States East of the Mississippi, only New York, Michigan and Pennsylvania bettered this record, so reports the United States Department of Commerce.

In the development of the State's industries, the use of electricity and gas to increase and improve production plays an important part and Public Service provides these services for most of the State's factories.

"The success of Public Service and development of New Jersey are bound together."

VARIETY OF CASES IN COUNTY COURT

Many Towns Represented in Sentences and Fines Meted Out by Judge

In the sentencing of a colored man who gave Florence township as his residence, on two charges of receiving stolen goods, to wit, chickens, Judge Slaughter issued a warning to poultry thieves that should work out decidedly in favor of the county's many poultrymen, for while the culprit, Charles Graham, would not admit that he stole two lots of chickens he did plead guilty to receiving stolen goods, claiming that he bought the fowls from the usual unknown dealer.

Graham's record showed that he had been arrested three times in Philadelphia on charges of larceny, and that he had also been in trouble in Essex county, this state.

Graham will spend the next three years in state prison, he having received a sentence of eighteen months on each charge, the sentences to run consecutively.

Deserter on Probation

Harvey Rogers, of Tabernacle township, had previously pleaded non vult to a charge of desertion of his family, but he was treated leniently because it was shown to the Court's satisfaction that he was in bad health. He has been in the University Hospital in Philadelphia and also in the Burlington County Hospital, the greater part of the time during the past year, it being thought that he was suffering from cancer of the stomach. In consideration of this he was placed on probation for two years with no costs. The Court stipulated, however, that should he recover he is to support his family.

Armond Myers, colored, of Delran township, charged with stealing an old automobile, was sentenced to pay the costs of $75 and was placed on probation for two years.

Myers had neglected to pay the Rein Motor Car Company, of Riverside, a balance due on the car and the latter company took the machine away from him. Myers then took the law into his own hands, and went to the company's garage and took the car without the consent of the manager of the company.

Palmyra Man Sentenced

Merril Johns, colored, of Palmyra, who pleaded non vult to a charge of possession of liquor on October 29 and then went back home and started in business anew, his place being raided by the state police on November 9, also pleaded guilty to the latter charge, and sentence was suspended on the first charge and he went to jail for forty-five days on the charge of November 9.

William Andrews, formerly of Hainesport, but now residing in Philadelphia, and Earl Powell, of Hainesport, both in their teens, pleaded guilty to stealing a canoe belonging to G. A. Weidman, of Hainesport, and the investigation of the detective's office showed that they had taken other canoes, while Andrews had admitted getting some money by false pretenses.

Sentence was deferred for one week in both instances, while the Court suggested that Powell's mentality be inquired into.

Warren Hayes, colored, of Tuckerton, charged with having a revolver in his procession, pleaded guilty, but the prosecutor requested that sentence be deferred while further investigation was made of his case.

Another Family Deserter

Joseph F. Scattergood, of Riverton, brought to Burlington county on extradition papers, having deserted his wife and three children two years ago, since which time he has been living in Philadelphia, had his bail fixed at $300 and he will be back on November 29 for further sentence.

Anthony Kurder and Walter Kososky, Camden young men charged with assault and battery on Iris Morgan and Beatrive Biddall, both of Riverside, pleaded guilty.

They have been in jail for thirty days and they were fined $50 each, it being shown that the assault was not of a very serious nature.

Peter Walter, of Riverside, charged with transporting liquor, will pay a fine of $100.

TRAINER JOHN WHITE RETURNS TO MOUNT HOLLY

Trainer John White has returned to Mount Holly where it has long been his habit to spend the winter months at Richard Lamb's Washington House. Back to winter quarters, too, came Okamarch, with a heat record of 2.05¾, after a season on the Early Pennsylvania, the Fair and the North Carolina circuits under her trainer's expert guidance. Okamarch is by Prince March and is owned by Thomas White, of Philadelphia. In twenty starts during the past racing year Trainer White brought Okamarch in first a number of times and never was outside the money. During the summer he took the record of 2.09¼ but was still eligible for the 2.12 and all faster classes. She came through the season sound and bids fair to be ready for the opening of the 1929 campaign in equally good condition.

When cool and slightly thick, stir in celery mixture and pour in molds to harden. Very good with "turkey and trimmings."

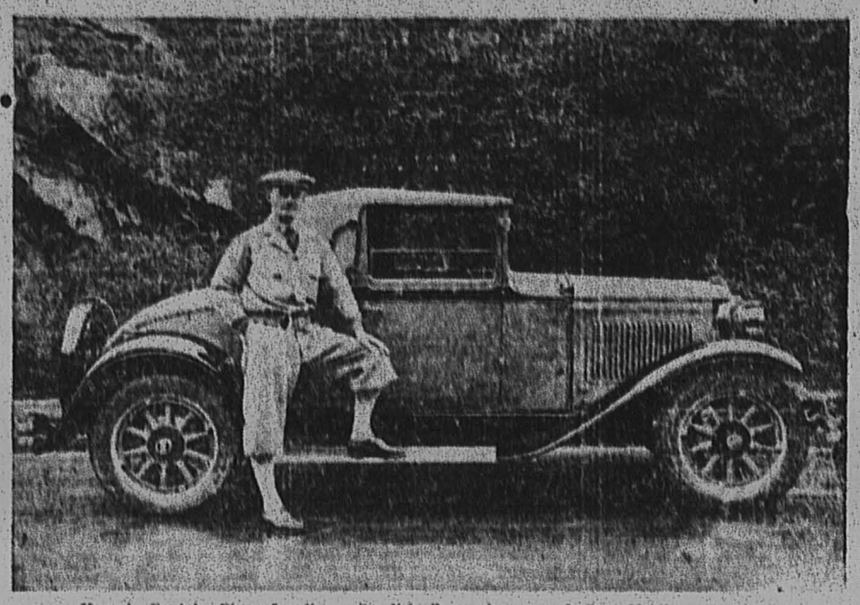

Bridget and Pat were studying the laws of compensation.

"Accordin' to this," said Bridget, "when a man loses one sense his others are more developed."

"Sure an' Oi've noticed it," exclaimed Pat. "Whin a man has one leg shorter than the other, begorra, the other's longer."—Exchange.

Mrs. Louisa Job, of Chicago, testified that her husband had bargained to sell her for $50 down and $25 on delivery, but that she refused to be delivered.

PRESENT PRIZES

More Than Thousand Attend Public Service Ceremonies at Newark

More than a thousand Public Service people assembled in the Auditorium of the Newark Terminal Building November 13 to take part in the ceremonies arranged for the presentation of prizes and trophies won in the Public Service $5 Cumulative Preferred (No Par Value) stock campaign which ended November 1.

In the campaign 50,752 shares of stock were sold to 14,674 persons, more than one hundred percent of the bogie assigned at the start of the campaign October 1.

In his message of congratulations to the Public Service employes for their successful work in this campaign, President Thomas N. McCarter said he could not over-state the pride and enthusiasm he felt. Mr. McCarter characterized the success of the campaign as another indication that the country is headed for an era of great prosperity.

A MONEY MACHINE!

St. Louis—James Chapman, 42, Negro, made from $3 to $10 daily selling "black cat wishbones."

But that wasn't enough. He sold a Negro couple here a "money making" machine which he said would turn out legal tender. He charged them only the $100 tax which he said the government levied for the privilege of manufacturing U. S. money.

The machine consisted of two pieces of wood bolted together and containing five fresh official $1 bills. Now Chapman is under arrest on a warrant charging him with using the mails to defraud.

REAL HOLIDAY

Postal Employees to Enjoy Christmas Day at Home

For the second time in the history of the country postoffices in the United States will cease to function on Christmas Day with the exception of the moving of outgoing mail.

Postmaster General New has issued an order which gives all postal clerks and carriers a holiday with the exception of a few men needed to keep outgoing letters and parcels moving. There will be no distribution or delivery of mail Christmas.

STATION AGENTS REMOVED

Effective December 1 next, agents will be removed from the Pensauken and Stevens stations on the Pennsylvania Railroad, Trenton branch. Lack of sufficient business at the two stations to warrant the continuance of the agents in the reason why the Public Utility Commission has granted the railroad's application to make them non-agency stops. Stevens is located three miles west of Roebling. The business at Stevens is mainly freight. Since it is mainly in carload shipments they may be handled through either Burlington or Roebling, said the utility commission.

COUNTY HISTORY OF 50 YEARS AGO

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror Nov. 14, 1878

The only silver medal given by the Paris Exposition to a citizen of New Jersey was awarded to Shippen Wallace, of Burlington, for his preparation of oil of cedar.

The Moorestown canning factory put up the following pack this season: 80,000 baskets tomatoes, making 725,000 cans; 15,000 bushels apples, one cargo pineapples, 200 barrels catsup, and some small fruits, such as strawberries, blackberries and plums. The aggregate was one million cans.

Under a recent decision of Judge Vansyckle, barbers are subject to a fine of $5 for each person shaved on Sunday. Merchants are subject to the same penalty for every article sold on that day.

A rumor was started in New York on Thursday that the body of the great merchant, A. T. Stewart, which was stolen from the family burial vault, that city, had been discovered in Shamong, Burlington county. A reporter of the N. Y. Herald, living in Philadelphia, was ordered by telegraph to go to Shamong at once, regardless of expense. He therefore chartered a special train from Camden to Whitings, where a special engine took him over the New Jersey Southern railroad to Shamong station. Then he learned that the report was a canard.

The county collector's report from May 6th to November 12th shows expenditures for that period of $34,-438.80; balance on hand, $28,263.50.

NEW HOSIERY MILL AT BROWN'S MILLS

Plans Being Prepared for Factory Which Will Employ About 100 Hands

Persons interested in establishing a silk hosiery mill in Brown's Mills, Pemberton or Mount Holly, recently decided upon Brown's Mills as the site of the new factory. Investigation revealed that plenty of labor is available in that section.

The original idea was to use the large brick building formerly occupied by the International Poultry Sales Company; which has been idle for several years, but an architect who examined the place reported it to be unsuitable for a silk mill, so plans for a new structure are being prepared. The factory is to be built on the Keeley property, on the Juliustown road.

Those in charge state that the building is to be completed not later than April 1, 1929. The plans call for a unit of 24 machines and the employment of 100 hands. The principles of the concern are from Reading, Pa.

Repair and Save Money

Keeping your building in repair is one of the best investments you can make. A repair that will cost but a few dollars to make this year, may develop by next year so that it will cost many dollars.

HAVE TO CONDEMN FOR HOSPITAL SITE

Government Finds it Must Resort to Proceedings to Obtain Newark Woman's Land

Condemnation proceedings to procure a site for the erection of a 400-bed veterans hospital for New Jersey at a cost of $1,500,000 by the United States Government appear likely.

Miss Mary Philbrook, Newark attorney, has given notice that she is unwilling to part with a portion of her 100-acre farm which forms a part of the 288-acre tract at Knoll-Croft, near Milington, N. J., favored as a site for the proposed hospital. The farm is located midway between Bound Brook and Morristown.

Miss Philbrook is represented by Miss Margaret Lamble, of Washington, who recently told the board that the Newark woman was willing to sell her entire form for $40,000 but felt disinclined to part with the 30 acres wanted by the Government because the remaining 70 acres would have a smaller per acre value.

President Coolidge decided some weeks ago that the new hospital should be built within a radius of thirty miles of Newark, the centre of the "patient population."

YOU AND YOUR BANK

Two more closely-associated friends than you and your bank cannot be found.

The local institution of saving has, in the past year, been of great service to over 850 persons in this community in helping them to save more than $40,000 for Christmas holiday spending.

Of this $40,000, mailed out Tuesday morning of this week, a considerable portion should be spent in Riverton.

You have saved at home—you should BUY AT HOME.

The bank is willing to continue to be your friend.

Take a part of your Christmas Club savings and open a savings account, which will bear interest that will be added to the principal—and will help increase your capital.

The Christmas Club savings have been found by so many to be of great help at this time of the year that the number of Club members increases annually.

It is astounding when you think of approximately 8,000,000 persons, young and old, in the United States, who have received checks ranging from $12.50 upwards, with a total of over $550,000,000 to be partly spent in Christmas buying, and the balance to be used for numerous other purposes—paying taxes for instance.

We have talked before of buying at home—but now—in face of the fact that 850 people have saved $40,000 for Christmas shopping, is it not only reasonable and fair that we should support our home merchants by buying at home—not only at special seasons, but at all times?

WORK PROGRESSES ON P. H. S. ANNUAL

Advertising and Circulation Units to Solicit Support for Year Book

To further the diligent work being done by the members of the Palmyra High School Year Book staff the advertising and circulation units will begin to function this weekend. We trust that all of those who will be approached by a member of the staff unit know just what the book will contain. It is a history of school activities which have taken place during the last four years.

Cooperation and support are the main points we are striving for in order that success may be obtained. The entire student body has agreed to support the project. However, cooperation and support must also come from their parents and fellow townspeople.

You, the merchants and other friends of the high school, will be asked in the near future for either advertisements or complimentary spaces to be placed in the annual. Others will be asked to take a subscription.

This will be the first enterprise of its kind in the high school. Both students and faculty desire to make it a permanent institution as are the senior and junior plays. The publication of future editions therefore depends entirely on the support received by the first book.

A town is said to progress as rapidly as its schools. This step in the publication of a year book shows a spirit of progress among the students. Since the students will be the future voters and leaders of the community, such a spirit of progress should spell prosperity and good-feeling for the town in the future. This feeling of progress, if encouraged by the success in their first enterprise, has unbounded heights.

No better encouragement is possible than the whole-hearted support of the older people, both merchants and townspeople. So in order to promote a feeling of civic pride, self-confidence and self-accomplishment in the future citizens of these towns, the people are asked to support this undertaking to the fullest degree.

Starting November 30, tomorrow, the people of this and nearby communities will have a chance to show their good-feeling toward the high school. Every other high school activity has been supported and we now depend on you to support this in the same way that you have supported the others.

PALMYRA Y BOYS AT RADIO SHOW

Electrical Apparatus Display at U. of P. Museum Proves Very Interesting

Eight members of the Palmyra group, together with two visitors and Secretary Carter crowded into Mr. Carter's car Saturday afternoon and visited the Radio and Electrical Show held last week in the Commercial Museum of the University of Pennsylvania. Needless to say the trip was very educational and interesting, one of the most unique features of the show was the electrical necktie presser. It was deeply regretted by all of us that our neckties did not need pressing.

We are rapidly developing a number of collectors who will undoubtedly in later days be noted as famous art or stamp collectors. Most of these fellows gained a fine start at the show Saturday by collecting all sorts of pamphlets and advertising circulars on all sorts of electrical devices and every possible make of radio. Paul Guest was declared the official winner of this collecting tour, he having gathered 111 different pieces of literature.

Lest it should be forgotten, let me tell you of Herbert J. Televox, the General Electric Company's mechanical man who does what you tell him to do when he is called over a telephone. We all wanted to try this man out, but it seemed to be against the policy of the show to allow us to "monkey."

After a short ride home we dispersed to our homes for our evening meal then gathered together again at the YMCA Building for our weekly meeting. President Guest was very tired and did not arrive until 8 p. m. and we were a little late in getting started but all went well until each member was called upon to deliver a three minute speech instead of answering "here" or "present." Three minutes seemed a long time, but each fellow was prepared and the speeches were fine, all having in them some ways in which the group might be improved. The president appointed Peter P. Rodman as the group reporter for the coming six weeks.

Our leader, Mr. Carter introduced a number of new members, namely a pound of soft shelled almonds and chestnuts. These nuts were taken into full membership and quickly assimilated with the other nuts of the group.

"Sneaky Joe", the game of the evening, was rough but greatly enjoyed by all the members. Dalton Hamilton, a leader from Florence, and Bob Moore, a former Calvary group member, were our special visitors. Hamilton surprised us by distributing a half pound of chocolate buds. These too, soon disappeared and we adjourned about ten o'clock, tired out but with a feeling of true fellowship that is bound to exist among a bunch of fellows who can spend the whole day together, seeing, doing and acting together.

FIND SKELETON AT E. RIVERTON

Many Theories of How and When Bones Were Buried Are Exploded

Wednesday of last week while Joe Melberger, of Oaklyn, and his two helpers, William Reeves, of Ashland, and John Smith, of Camden, were placing a gasoline tank in front of a Friar Service Station at Union Landing and River Roads, East Riverton, the skeleton of a man was uncovered.

The workmen tried to hail a State Trooper as he passed the service station but he did not hear their calls. No further effort was made to inform the police authorities until Thursday morning.

When the tank had been placed in position the bones of the skeleton were thrown back into the hole and covered up.

Thursday morning Melberger notified police authorities and reexcavation was started to recover the bones.

As the digging progressed many bones were brought to the surface including the skull, piece of jaw bones, teeth, parts of the spine and several piece of shoes. Judging from the size of a shoe sole and the size of the skull the man must have been of large stature.

Upon the discovery of the skeleton, theories of when it was buried and to whose remains the bones belonged, began to spring up on all sides.

Chief of County Detectives Ellis H. Parker and his two assistants, Cain and Carabine, made thorough investigations of all the theories. There are several possible solutions.

Coroner Benjamin Farner, of Burlington, Trooper Bowers, of Bridgeboro, and Director of Public Safety Edward R. Williams, of Riverton, were other officials at the excavation.

The remains were taken in charge by the county authorities and removed to Mount Holly.

Clarence Jones and Grovus Wilkinson are the men who recovered the skull.

Eli W. Brown, Thomas avenue, Riverton, is one of the many who have presented possible solutions to this skeleton mystery. The story told by Mr. Brown is one that was told to him by his father, James L. Brown.

About 98 years ago James L. Brown and family were living at what is known, now, as the Kearn Farm, at Union Landing.

James Brown and his father, Samuel Brown, were walking along the beach of the Delaware river at Union Landing, and found the body of a man washed ashore. Samuel Brown and the other men who were with him carried the body up near the road. At that time there was a large tree and a rail fence at the Union Landing and River road intersection. Samuel Brown told his son James to sit on the fence and not let anyone disturb the body before he came back.

Ezacar Toy was coroner at the time and worked at the Riverton nursery of Henry A. Dreer's. Samuel Brown went to Dreer's nurseries and got permission from Coroner Toy to bury the body.

Hoot Owl, Hoots

Eli Brown's father, James, at that time was about eight years old, and as he was sitting on the rail fence, watching over the dead body, a large hoot owl lit in the tree and let loose one of his weird noises. According to James Brown's story as told by his son, James was nearly scared to death by the disturbance of the owl.

In the days of 98 years ago, it was no uncommon sight to see bodies washed ashore along the Delaware River, as there were many rafts used in those days and numbers of tragedies as a result of using this frail craft.

Eli Brown said that his father and grandfather had helped to bury two men at the place where the skeleton was found.

P. H. S. GIVES ITS ANNUAL FALL HOP

Popular Event Attended by Seventy Couples; Music by Vagabonds

The students of Palmyra High School, aided by the faculty, have added another victory to their long list of successful entertainments.

On Friday night, November 23, Palmyra High held its annual Fall Hop in the school gymnasium. The committees are to be commended for the manner in which they worked to put over this annual event.

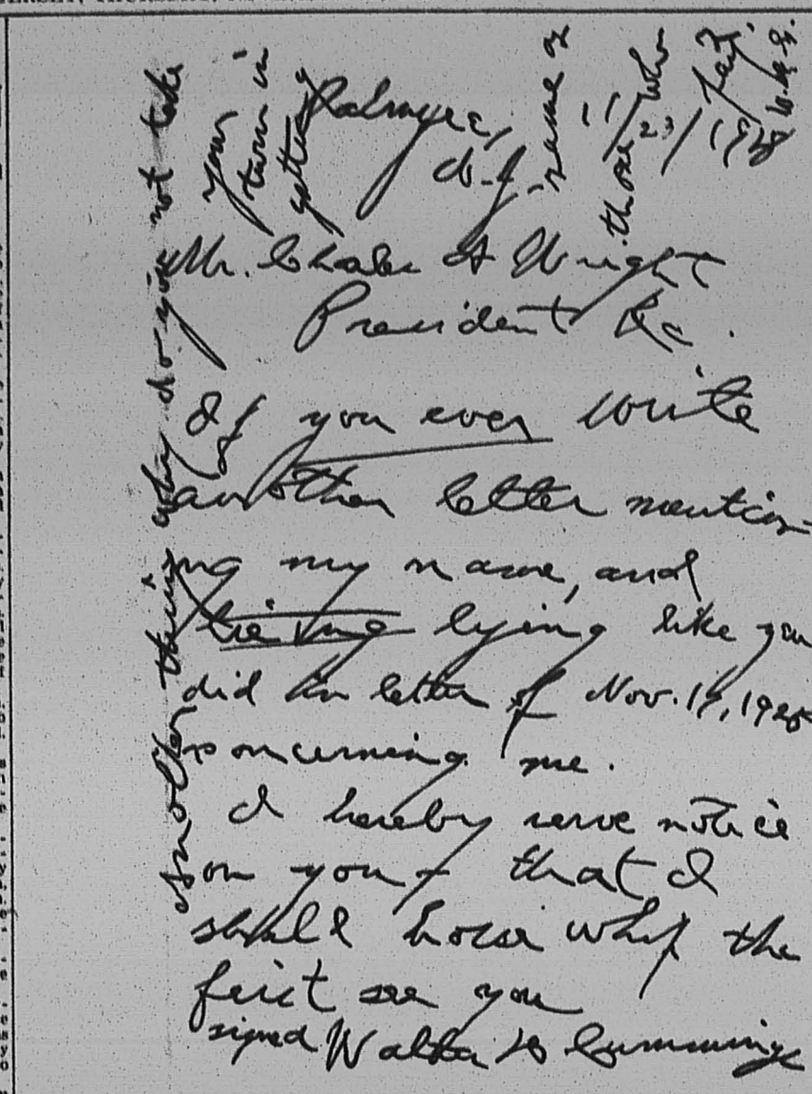

The Vagabonds were there with their musical charms, which were enjoyed by everyone.

The gym was beautifully decorated in Palmyra's colors, red and white. From one end of the gym to the other were red and white streamers, giving it the effect of a Chinese roof. In the center of the floor was a squared off space, large enough to seat the seven masterful musicians, and trimmed in red and white with branches of Christmas trees placed around the orchestra.

Music started at 8.30 and played continuously until eleven o'clock, when a fifteen minute intermission was held and refreshments were served. Midnight came too soon and put a stop to the much enjoyed evening for the students. Seventy couples were present.

OVERFLOW OF VOTERS

WALTER H. CUMMINGS THREATENS TO HORSEWHIP CHARLES A. WRIGHT

Cummings and Colleagues Seek to Strip Wright of Power in Ferry Company

PROTECTIVE COMMITTEE DEMANDS MEETING

In a communication dated November 23, 1928, Walter H. Cummings, of Palmyra, a stockholder in the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company, threatened to horsewhip Charles A. Wright, of Riverton, president of the same company.

This letter stated that Charles A. Wright, in a communication to stockholders of the Ferry Company, made false statements about Mr. Cummings and his attitude towards the president and board of directors. Mr. Cummings' letter, in facsimile, appears in adjoining columns of this page.

The Stockholder's Protective Committee, of which Thomas F. Biddle, Busselton, Pennsylvania, is chairman; Hubert K. Dobbs, Haddonfield, New Jersey, is vice-chairman and treasurer and Walter H. Cummings, Palmyra, is secretary, has called two meetings of Ferry Company stockholders in an effort to get the stockholders organized to take the control away from Charles A. Wright and the Board of Directors.

The Ferry Company bought ground at Eight Mile Point which was sold to the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Company as was ground on the Pennsylvania side of the river, for which the Ferry Company received $100,000. With this $100,000 the Ferry Company purchased 8,000 shares of Bridge Company stock of which 2,000 shares have been sold. It is the aim of the Protective Committee to wrest the remaining 6,000 shares from the control of the Ferry Company directors and have it distributed at the ratio of 3 to 5 for Ferry stock, as a partial liquidation of Ferry stock.

"In referring to Mr. Cummings' 3 to 5 ratio proposition, Mr. Wright said, I can assure the stockholders it is unlawful and impracticable."

In speaking of the November 17 meeting held by the Protective Committee in P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, Mr. Wright said, "I had no objections to the meeting. I feel it was my duty to be there as the Ferry Company By-Laws state the President shall be the chairman of all stockholders' meetings. I phoned Mayor Wimer of Palmyra and asked if I might attend the meeting. The Mayor said certainly if I had been invited, but that if I had not, and attempted to get into the meeting he would have me arrested."

The Protective Committee is working to get enough requests for a special meeting of the stockholders of the Ferry Company with a blank

PALMYRA MOTHER AND DAUGHTER DIE IN SUICIDE PACT

Mrs. Sophia and Miss Edna Keuser Found Lifeless in Bedroom of Home

OFFICER BETTY CALLED; MAKES FORCE ENTRANCE

Detective Finds Tragic Note Expressing Fear of Separation and Asylum

A double tragedy was discovered last Saturday morning when Officer Lawrence Betty, of the Palmyra police force, in response to a call from John Keuser, of Rowland street, broke through the door of the bedroom occupied by Keuser' s wife and daughter and found their lifeless forms lying on the bed.

The two women, Mrs. Sophia Keuser, seventy-six, and Miss Edna Keuser, forty, were dead from asphyxiation when found shortly after seven o'clock.

A delusion of the younger woman that her father, a retired carpenter, intended to place her mother in an institution were given by Miss Keuser in a note found near the bodies as the cause for the tragedy.

Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives, said the younger woman was deranged slightly and had no reason for her suspicions, which she had conveyed to him a week ago and also to Chief of Police C. Morris Beck of Palmyra.

Both Fully Dressed

The bodies were fully dressed lying across the bed, with gas flowing from a jet on the wall and to which had been attached a garden hose. One end of the hose was on the bed near Miss Keuser's head. The other end had fallen from the jet.

All the bedroom windows and the doors were locked. The crevices were jammed with rags and paper.

Parker said he believes the daughter found her mother asleep when she entered the bedroom and then turned on the gas, holding the end of the hose near her mother's head until Mrs. Keuser was dead. Then, Parker believes, the daughter lay across the bed and committed suicide.

The rambling and incoherent note, unsigned, but in the handwriting of the daughter, was on a pillow.

After writing about her love for her mother and of her fears of separation, Miss Keuser asked Chief Beck to chloroform two cats to prevent them from starving.

Keuser, who owns considerable real estate, said his daughter had been laboring under the impression that he intended remarrying. He said he tried to change her mind and had a physician attend her.

Unable to Open Door

Keuser occupies the front bedroom. He said when he awoke he smelled gas, and traced it to the bedroom where his wife and daughter slept. Unable to open the door, Keuser ran to the home of Stanley Killian, who lives across the street, and telephoned police.

Police Physician Lefavor, who made an examination of the bodies stated that the two women had been dead for several hours. Coroner Benjamin J. Farner, of Burlington, issued a certificate of suicide by gas.

The daughter in her note wrote: "To the authorities—I did what I did because of my great love for my mother. I love her more than anything in the world so I tried to get evidence of an incriminating character against dad, so that if he would put my mother in an institution I would be able to prevent him by telling him of this information which I have given to the authorities.

"I talked constantly of marrying. So naturally the only thing to do was to put her away. She knew as well as I know that in her frail condition of health the shock would be too much.

Acted On Impulse

"I never realized the trifling thing I did was worth the trouble of taking it up with the authorities. I thought it was against the law, but at the time I was so in fear that he would put mother away and take the only thing I had to live for from me. I just acted on the impulse.

"Now it seems my own father is trying to make a wicked criminal of me. After going to lawyers for points on the law, I see that what I have done is only something that would show how close the friendship was at the time I thought I had grave evidence.

"That confusion from my friend in Paterson I see now was a bluff to get me out, and something happened to my mother when I was gone.

"I could see a different expression around her eyes and they were so queer with white and red rims around them. This same thing happened when I left home once before. She was so weak. She fell slightly asleep. When she would go to get up she could hardly walk.

"I simply acted on impulse, and I looked in his pockets and found papers and once took his keys which I used."

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Shover Funeral Home with the Rev. William M. Erhard officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery, Palmyra.

ASKS COUNTY TO HELP REPAIR ROAD

Maple Shade Officials Say Present Condition is Death Trap

A delegation of prominent men and women from Maple Shade, headed by Ellis H Humphries, a member of the township committee, attended the meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday, and made a request that the main street of Maple Shade be improved from gutter to gutter, permanently. Humphries stated that with a trolley track on either side of the street and a drop from the present narrow, hard-surfaced road in between, the condition forms a death trap.

Humphries suggested that the road be permanently improved by the county paving 10 feet on either side of the present road. He said the township had arranged to finish the paving to the curb and set the curbing. Mr. Stout, director of roads, inquired if the trolley company had been approached relative to removing the tracks. Humphries replied that the Public Service Company was willing to remove both tracks provided the street was permanently improved from curb to curb. He added that the request was made to the board to make the improvement in the township between the two creeks, or about one and one-eighth miles.

Survey is Ordered

It was also suggested by Stout that it might be possible that the new State Route 38 would absorb this piece of road, but he hardly thought it likely. He then moved that the county engineer be authorized to make a survey of the conditions as they exist on the Main street in Maple Shade, following which a conference will be held with the board and township committee represented. The motion was passed unanimously.

A communication was read from the clerk of Chesterfield township, containing a vote of thanks to the members of the board for the road work that has been done in that township.

Announcement was made that the annual get-together dinner of the state Association of Freeholders is to be held in Trenton Monday, December 10, when Governor-elect Larson is to be the principal speaker.

Must Pay for Damages

Director of Bridges Curwen B. Fisher reported to the Board that several weeks ago a car containing four Italians crashed into the head wall on the Helding road, doing $300 worth of damage. During the discussion which followed, it was decided that persons damaging county property would be made to pay for it, and the matter was referred to Solicitor Wells for adjustment.

In presenting the matter to the Board, Mr. Fisher said that eye-witnesses would testify that the accident was the result of reckless driving, and there was an intimation that the driver was drunk. The men concerned are known, but thus far have failed to pay the bill for repairs.

Mr. Fisher said that the county had paid many small bills for repairs to headwalls of bridges and guard rails damaged by reckless drivers, which aggregated a considerable sum, and that hereafter the cost of repairs would be collected from those doing the damage.

Department bills were ordered paid as follows: Roads, $7,945.25; bridges, $2,434.00; finance, $206.35; buildings, $15,369.85; public affairs, $32,599.59. Total, $58,557.44.

date, to be filled in by the committee, to force the president to call such meeting. According to the Executive Committee of the Stockolders' Protective Committee this action is necessary, as they were unable to serve notice on the president, who remained away from his office last Friday and Saturday, purposely, so that the notices for a meeting on December 6 could not be served.

"This is erroneous for they would only have to leave their request and the petition from the stockholders at my office in the required time, ten days prior to the advertised meeting, according to our By-Laws. This admittedly they failed to do, hence, it would be unlawful for the President to call a meeting under those circumstances," said Mr. Wright.

The President wishes to state that he was at his office part of each day, but owing to pressing duty for the Perry elsewhere his time at the office was limited.

Mr. Wright's reply to the horse-whipping threat is, "Walter H. Cummings has introduced quite an innovation in our Perry disputes, but I do not regard a horse whip a very good argument and would likely get quite angry, for I learn being horse-whipped is not pleasant, instructive or convincing."

This Saturday evening at eight o'clock in the P. O. S. of A. Hall the Stockholders Protective Committee will hold another meeting. Only those having invitations will be admitted.

WISH OF THE BROKEN DOLL

By J. Svenson

Once I was a pretty doll
With wig and form just right,
But since my joints have come apart
I surely am a fright.

My string's unstrung, my neck is weak,
My face is full of grime,
My clothes are shrunk and thrown away,
I'm far from in my prime.

You'd think I never could be fixed,
But there's a place somewhere
That mends old dollies such as I—
Just rags and hanks of hair.

I hope 'ere Christmas Day is here
I'll be restored and dressed,
And spread my share of Christmas joy,
All dolled up in my best.

GIVE COMIC OPERA AT MOORESTOWN

Princess Bonnie to be Staged in Lyceum This Friday and Saturday

Willard Spencer's comic opera, "Princess Bonnie," will be presented by the Moorestown Catholic Girls' Club in the Catholic Lyceum Friday and Saturday evenings of this week, November 30, and December 1.

The cast and choruses have been working diligently since early in September and their conscientious and untiring efforts are sure to be appreciated when they present the show this week.

Joseph Ritchie, of Camden, is musical director of the show, while George Gibson is in charge of the stage work. Miss Mary Long, as business manager, and Miss Sue Workman, as president of the club, and Mrs. Marie McChesney, who has assisted with the music, have also done much for the success of the production.

The play, which will start at eight o'clock, will be presented in two acts. The first scene takes place on the coast of Maine near Bar Harbor, while the second scene is laid in the Courtyard of Admiral Pomposo's Palace in Spain.

Miss Evelyn M. O'Neill will be seen in the leading feminine role of Bonnie. Miss O'Neill took the lead in last year's Camden Catholic High School's senior play, "Firefly." She has studied music under Lewis J. Howell, of Philadelphia.

Edward A. Canley will play opposite Miss O'Neill in the role of Roy Sterling. Other principals include Maurice J. Long as Captain Tarpaulin; Mrs. Isabelle Grube Longaker as Susan Crabbe Tarpaulin; Miss Anne Matthews as Kitty Clover; Romeo Padula as Shrimps.

James L. Barr as Count Paisetti; M. Joseph Long as Captain Surf; Miss Mae McKenna as Donna Pomposo; Donald J. Donovan as Admiral Pomposo; John J. Fitzgerald as Salvador, and Frank Oster as Lieutenant Fusee.

Vocal solos, aside from those of the principal cast, will be given by Miss Anne E. Barr and Mrs. Marie McChesney.

The dancing chorus includes the Misses Alice B. Carlin, Agnes E. Carlin, Rose M. Sharp, Helen T. Sharp, Agnes M. Workman, and Catherine S. Ryan.

The lads and lassies include Marguerite D. Workman, Anna C. Eldridge, Catherine R. O'Brien, Mary A. Ryan, Mary J. Carr, Helen C. Workman, Celia Fitzgerald, Anne E. Barr, Thomas Gorman, Samuel Briggs, Edward Lynch, John Lynch and John Denneler.

The flower girls are Regina Logan, Anna McChesney, Margaret Dugan, Della Barr, and Grace Gallagher. The soldiers will include members of the Columbus Cadet Corps.

CALVARY Y. M. C. A.

Monday evening the Calvary group of the "Y" held their regular weekly meeting in the Methodist Church.

The discussion was one of great interest to all the fellows, in that it concerned the carrying on of the social activities in the high school. The aim of the group is to help the other fellow, and the problems were discussed with this in mind. Since the group is composed of high school fellows and every one is out to make the high school the best in the state, they resolved to tolerate only the highest moral conduct on the part of every student.

Three items of business were taken up. The first was the deciding upon a time for the Christmas party which is being planned by the group. The 15th of December was finally settled upon and the place was the home of Edson Hicks.

Next Tuesday evening the entire group will go to Camden for a swim.

The last item was to plan the next meeting, which will be in the form of a "doggie" roast, next Monday evening. These meetings around the fire, out in the great out-of-doors, are a great inspiration to every fellow.

The basketball game of the evening was one of the best staged this year.

200 ENJOY MOTHER, DAUGHTER DINNER

Y. W. Supper in Moorestown Community House Proves Splendid Success

Miss Elizabeth Nicholas, of the Y. W. C. A., at Trenton, was the speaker at the Mother-Daughter Dinner sponsored by the Y. W. C. A. and held in the Moorestown Community House last Friday evening. More than 200 mothers and daughters from Moorestown, Lenola, Masonville, and Maple Shade attended. She spoke very personally from her own experience of these things which she felt were the most valuable gifts her mother had given her.

Miss Peggy Freck very beautifully toasted the mothers, and Mrs. Edwin Russell responded in a few words of challenge to the girls who must go forward in the swiftly moving world.

Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, Jr., of Riverton, as toastmistress, presided in a very charming manner and with her clever stories made the program more enjoyable.

Several of the clubs contributed very materially to the program. The Moorestown High School Girl Reserves presented an interesting playlet, "Finding a Wife," written by one of their own group, Miss Catherine Bailey. A clever pantomime, "Meller-drammer" was given by the Junior High School Reserve Club, and the international aspect of the Y. W. C. A. was beautifully shown in tableau by the Moorestown Senior Club and the Lenola Senior Club, and the Freshman Club, in an allegorical play, "Every Girl," portrayed the ideals of Girl Reserves.

Other interesting features were a dance by Miss Molly Roberts and Miss Eleanor Henderson, and two organ solos by Miss Mary Jane Flick. Mrs. William Grobler, as song leader, was assisted by Mrs. J. W. Powell at the piano.

The work of the Young Women's Christian Association of Burlington county has opened this fall with unusual interest and enthusiasm. Already 58 groups have been started and programs planned for the year's activities. In addition to these groups already organized there are seven other groups of girls waiting for a leader to work with them. This will be the largest number of clubs that the Association has ever carried.

Adding a third secretary to the staff has made it possible to reach a larger number of people and to give more personal help to the individual girl. Special emphasis is being laid this year on the religious program of the Y. W. C. A. in order that girls all over the county may truly learn to "Face Life Squarely."

County Board Meets

The County Board of Directors met at the county office, Mount Holly, Tuesday, November 20, with Mrs. John W. Davis, presiding. Mrs. Lester Collins opened the meeting with a talk on the spiritual responsibility of Board women and committee women in the Y. W. C. A.

Interesting reports were given by the secretaries and committee chairmen showing the intensive program of the Association. Mrs. E. P. Darlington, chairman of the finance committee, presented the budget for 1929.

Mrs. Henry Albertson gave a full and detailed report of the study of Miss Coit, concerning girls employed in business and industry in the county. The Y. W. C. A. is endeavoring to build up a strong program for these girls, and the Board is giving much thought and consideration to this work as well as to the nationality groups in the county.

Mrs. John W. Davis, of Edgewater Park; Mrs. Wm. Ross, Vincentown; Mrs. R. H. Mason, Mt. Holly; Mrs. Edwin Russell, Moorestown; Mrs. M. W. Newcomb, Brown's Mills; Mrs. R. G. Dunn, Burlington, and Misses Sallie Sumner and Sidonie Schafer, represented the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. at the conference on the Cause and Cure of War, in Princeton on Monday, November 26th.

Thursday evening the older Girl Reserve Club of Delanco had a mother and daughter meeting at the school auditorium. Mrs. Anna Archer Haubart's Girl Reserve Club and the mothers of both groups were the guests.

Mrs. Charles Denning and Mrs. Stiles, Girl Reserve advisers, were in charge of the program. Miss Eleanor Fillius, a high school Girl Reserve of Mt. Holly, explained the meaning and standards of Girl Reserves and told of the many clubs in Burlington county. This talk was followed by the beautiful, impressive recognition service, in which the girls, using lighted candles as symbols, pledged themselves to try "To Face Life Squarely" and "To Find and Give The Best." Miss Sallie Sumner, at the end of the recognition service, talked to the girls and their mothers of the work and ideals of the Y. W. C. A.

At the close of the program a social hour followed which gave every one a chance to get better acquainted.

Girls in Burlington elected officers at their meeting last Wednesday. Miss Helen Pitko is the new president; Miss Jennie Rada, vice-president; Pauline Prelosky, secretary, and Mary Gill, treasurer. The girls are to begin a series of evenings cooking under the direction of Miss Bozarth.

Mrs. Louisa Job of Chicago testified that her husband had bargained to sell her for $50 down and $50 on delivery, but that she refused to be delivered.

ASKS HELP IN FINDING MOTHER

Man Whose Parents Lived in or Near Palmyra Seeks Trace of Parents

A letter has been received by Chief of Police C. Morris Beck, of Palmyra, from George C. Thomas, of Memphis, Tennessee, asking for information about his mother.

Chief Beck requests that any one having any knowledge of the persons mentioned communicate with him at once and he will relay the information to the writer.

The letter follows:

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 26, 1928.

Chief of Police, Palmyra, N. J.,

Dear Sir—I am very anxious to locate my mother, or if she is not living I would like to locate any relations she may have had.

I am sure some trace of her or her family can be obtained as my mother's people lived out from Palmyra.

I can't remember what her name was before she married my father, W. E. Thomas, as I was a very small lad at the time they separated and my father always told me, after I grew up, that she was dead, but some how I can't believe she is really dead yet.

My father was a sign painter and decorator but at the time they lived together he was painting houses. There was another child, (my brother) whose name was Louis Thomas.

As I remember faintly, my mother's brother or her parents lived out in the edge of your town, and they owned a race horse, whose name was Nellie Fly. We also lived in Camden at one time. But I can remember when a small lad I went to kindergarden school in Palmyra. I must have been about 4 or 5 years old then.

I want to find my mother if she is living or any kin she may have, and I will greatly appreciate any help you can give me. If you are not the proper person to attend to this, then I will thank you to hand this over to who ever is, for this means so very much to me.

Won't you let me hear from you at an early date, telling me what information you can. Again I extend you my thanks for any assistance you can give me, in locating my mother or kin.

BUS HOPS CURB

Driver Is Not Held Responsible for Accident

Ben Arndt, of Delaware avenue, Palmyra, driver of a gas-electric bus belonging to the P. R. T., ran over the curb in front of McCoy's Service station when the lights of two approaching cars blinded him. The accident happened last Saturday night as Arndt was bound for Philadelphia.

The bus tore down the small trees planted in front of the station and knocked over and broke one of the brick piers, which is four feet high and two feet square.

Officer Miller was called to the scene of the accident but made no arrests as no charges were preferred.

The P. R. T. will replace the damaged property.

Thanksgiving

This is the season of the year when there is set apart "a day of Thanksgiving for the blessings which the Giver of all good and perfect gifts has bestowed upon us during the year."

We have many things to be thankful for, but are especially grateful for the confidence which the people of Burlington County have seen fit to repose in us.

And we will, in the future as in the past, earnestly strive to serve in such a manner as to constantly merit a continuance of this confidence.

MEN'S CLUB HEARS GEORGE H. BARBER

Well Known Financial and Industrial Engineer Speaks at Monday's Meeting

Members of the Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, enjoyed a double treat at the regular meeting held in the Parish House Monday night.

The Speaker of the evening was George S. H. Barber, well known financial and industrial engineer, who delivered a wonderfully interesting and instructive talk on, "What of the Future?"

The other part of the double treat was the beautiful piano selection rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gane. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gane are blind, which only adds to the wonder of their accomplishments.

Several of the selections offered were composed by Mr. Gane himself and are said to be among the finest compositions of the day.

The program given by the blind musicians included: Polanaise, Gane; Pan-American March, Gane; Tarentelli, Heller; Last Smile, Wollenhaupt; Waltz Caprice, Gane; Stars and Stripes Forever, Gane; Spinning Song, Raff and Waltz from Faust, Carl Sidus.

"What of the Future"

The speaker of the evening, in covering his subject, "What of the Future," asked his hearers to stop and look at the present. He then pointed out the great progress which had been made up to the present and declared that we are passing through the greatest era of progress in the history of the world.

He based his prophesies of the future on five points, the first of which was that the thoughts and habits of the people of the world were being levelized. He explained how the world was beginning to employ "the open mind" and pointed out the fact that Japan had progressed farther in the past fifty years than any other nation in the history of the world.

He went on to tell how this levelizing tendency was affecting our own lives and how we might profit thereby. He gave several illustrations of how this new process of thinking was making us regard things as necessities which only a short time before were luxuries.

New Economic Theory

He pointed out how this was causing a new economic theory wherein many persons thought they had to have these new "necessities" long before they could find the way to pay them and in this manner establishing a new standard of living for the present which must be paid for in the future.

The speaker told his audience how this new economic theory was making the manufacturers of luxuries and semi-luxuries rich and advised his hearers to invest their money in these lines rather than in staples.

Mr. Barber took as his second point "Communication," and told how the improved methods of communication had reduced the world to ten per cent. of its former size, comparatively, and explained in detail the effect this was to have on the future.

His third point was that civilization had always rested on the backs of slaves and told how much better off the present civilization was on account of its myriads of mechanical slaves.

More Leisure

The fourth point was "Leisure" and the speaker called attention to the greater leisure the world was now able to enjoy and offered some timely suggestions as to how to employ this extra time profitable.

The fifth point brought out by the speaker was "Religion." He pointed out that religion had not kept pace with material progress and urged his listeners to give more thought to the words of Christ in the sermon on the Mount when He said, "Do unto others as you would have them do unto you."

At the conclusion of the address a number of questions were asked of the speaker which he very willingly answered. A motion was made and seconded that a rising vote of thanks be given to Mr. Barber for his splendid address.

The following were admitted to membership: George A. Woufor, Frank L. Wisner, Clarence E. Cole and Charles H. Seece.

NOW—FUR SETS

Paris sends us the smartest little fur sets as her very latest notion. Close-fitting cap-hat, scarf and muff in broadtail, either black beige or gray, appear in several chic designs; Jap mink and flat silky caracul are also shown and seal in the brownish "old-skin" tones is a particular favorite.

If you have an heirloom seal coat that is too worn or out of date to use as a wrap—why not have the furrier transform it into one of these fashionable sets?

FINE PROGRAM AT WALT WHITMAN

Superfeature Photoplays and All Star Vaudeville This Weekend

Maintaining a high average of entertainment established with the inauguration of the new one hundred per cent. policy, the Walt Whitman Theatre continues to attract record crowds with wonderful programs of superfeature photoplays and All Star Vaudeville.

It is now possible to enjoy the finest entertainment before the public today without the necessity of making a long trip to the city and having inconvenience of parking in the congested area.

The program scheduled for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week gives promise of surpassing all previous bills in real high class entertainment.

Scientific Entertainment

Heading the list of vaudeville acts for this week is the sensation of two continents, direct from the Empire Theatre in Paris, the young lady who has baffled scientists all over the world "Leah-Maid O'Mist," presenting the most unusual demonstration ever before the public. This attraction is a scientific entertainment and cannot be described but must be seen to be appreciated.

Another great feature attraction is the engagement of the popular musical comedy Prima Donna, Miss Florence Hedges, in "A Study In Vocal Artistry." Miss Hedges was recently featured with The Four Marx Brothers in their recent success "The Cocoanuts." Music lovers of this vicinity have a real musical treat in store for them when this popular young artist makes her appearance.

Other superlative attractions are Joy and Percival in a real comedy feast entitled "It's All Over Now." Also there is Johnny Pietro, "A Master Accordanist," and the Garcia Duo in "A Whirl of Dance."

The Patriot"

The screen presentation brings the most sensational character actor of all time, Emil Jannings, in his greatest triumph, "The Patriot." Supporting Jannings in the cast are Lewis Stone, Florence Vidor, Neil Hamilton and a host of other capable and popular favorites.

"The Patriot" offers one of the finest cinema accomplishments of all time and has enjoyed phenomenal success wherever presented.

PRINTS AGAIN

As an "inbetween" frock this season you may indulge in a printed frock secure in the knowledge that it will be good far into the spring. Advance fabric news tells us there is every indication that prints will be shown and on sale early in the year.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

CHRIST CHURCH
(Episcopal) PALMYRA

Rev. George J. MacCormack, Rector

Once more we enter upon the season of advent, the beginning of the church's year. Each of the great festivals of the Church is the center of a sacred season, which begins with a period of solemn preparation and ends with one of holy joy.

Thus, Christmas is preceded by the season of Advent, which was formerly observed in much the same way as Lent, though with less strictness, and is followed by the twelve days of festal joy which terminate with Epiphany.

The services for Advent are included to prepare us for a devout and profitable celebration of Christmas and for Christ's second coming.

Use the time wisely and prayerfully, for

"What though the Christ in Bethlehem
A thousand times be born,
If He is not in this heart of thine
That heart is all forlorn."

The annual Bazaar and sale of work by St. Agnes Guild will be held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall on Saturday, December 1. The ladies have made their preparation and hope for a good response. Supper will be served, and Santa Claus will appear in person to gladen the hearts of the children. Don't forget the date.

The regular meeting of the Guild will be held on Monday evening, December 3, in the Parish House.

A Corporate Communion for the men and boys of the Church under the auspices of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew will be held on Sunday morning next at 10.30. This is the eleventh year of the nation-wide appeal, and we feel that last year's one hundred thousand mark will be surpassed.

Over sixty girls were present on Sunday evening last when eight candidates were admitted to the Girls Friendly Society. It was a memorable and inspiring service. This world-wide society is the largest organization for girls anywhere and shows steady growth for each of the fifty years of its existence.

BAPTIST CHURCH

BAPTIST CHURCH
Rev. George Lockett, Pastor
Temporary Services in P. O. S. of A. Hall

Thanksgiving is in some sense a good deal like the church. The Church is here and has been here from the early days of the nation. Thanksgiving has also been here as long as any of us can remember. We are inclined to take both as a matter of course. But we wouldn't have one without the other, and both are meant for more important uses than mere amusement.

If the hardy men and women who hewed a living out of bleak New England had been those who put gold above God there would be no Thanksgiving observance this week. The Pilgrim Fathers came here so they might have the religious freedom they could not find abroad.

How you treat the church and Thanksgiving may make a great difference to the future of this land. It has been built upon Christian principles. These will change with the growth of men's understanding, but any lessening of respect for the things of God means that fifty years hence Palmyra will be a less good place in which to live than it is today.

Central Baptist Church has in its beautiful new temple of worship unusual material benefits for which to be thankful this year. By all means let our thankful hearts and reverent minds strengthen us to make this temple a source of still greater influence for good in this community in the years ahead.

On Tuesday evening members of the Baraca Class met at the home of William McConnell for their annual meeting and election of officers and plans were made for increasing the scope of the class activities after the completion of the new building.

Next Sunday, Communion will be observed at the morning church service. In the evening, "Christianity at Work."

Deacon Joseph Pike, who has been instrumental in securing a bell to hang in the church's new 60-foot tower, lowered the bell into the belfry this week where it will stand ready to issue its call to worship on Dedication Sunday. Congratulations to Deacon Pike on his efforts and success.

Postcards are still available from members of the Primary Department showing the completed picture of the magnificent new Church. Send them to your friends.

The Samaritan Class also is active in collecting newspapers. Don't forget to save them for the boys and give your name to Charles A. Dietz, the class teacher, that they may be called for.

$35,000 FOR ELECTION WORKERS

Checks for payment of election officers were sent from the county treasurer's office last week. They were for $75 each. As there are 97 election districts, each having four officers, the total is $28,100.

WILDCATS LOSE TO RIVERTON A. A.

Riverton's Team Holds Strong Palmyra Opponents to 7-0 Score

The knights of the gridiron of Riverton and Palmyra locked horns last Saturday afternoon when the Wildcats of Palmyra played the Riverton A. A. After an exciting game the score stood 7-0 in Riverton's favor.

First Quarter

Les Reeves kicked off to Palmyra's 28-yard line, Wallace ran back 12 yards. Wallace gained four yards through left tackle. He fumbled on next play, but recovered for 2-yard loss. Bates kicked to Riverton's 45-yard line. Wagner fumbled on first play. Palmyra's ball. Bates thrown for loss of 4 yards. Wagner got Bates' kick and ran back ten yards.

After one unsuccessful run, Wagner kicked to Palmyra's 40-yard line. Bates ran it back 4 yards. Wallace made a line plunge for 12 yards, then on two more tries he made another first down. Wildcats are held for downs.

Wagner fumbled Palmyra's ball.

Second Quarter

Joe Minich threw Bates for a loss of 17 yards.

Reeves went through center for six yards, Wagner fell back for kick on next play and kicked straight up in the air, Wallace, of Palmyra getting the ball.

T. Prisco who replaced Land, threw a pass to Wallace for 16 yards. The next forward was grounded over goal line. Riverton's ball on its 20-yard line.

Wagner kicked to 50-yard line. Prisco gained 4 yards. Bates then took the ball around the right end for 19 yards.

On the next play Palmyra fumbled and in the mad scramble Higgins recovered for Riverton.

Jack Downs went off tackle for 11 yards, Prisco then intercepted Reeves' pass and ran 23 yards before being downed by Les Reeves.

Palmyra penalized 5 yards after two unsuccessful passes, were forced to kick.

Riverton's ball on 20-yard line. Wagner kicked another up in the air and lost 15 yards on it. Palmyra's ball on Riverton's five-yard line; Palmyra held for downs. Wagner kicked just as the first half ended.

Third Quarter

Les Reeves kicked to Palmyra's 15-yard line. Prisco ran back for 9 yards. Bates kicked to Riverton's 42-yard line. Riverton made a first down on three tries.

Anderson arrived on the scene and went in for Reynolds at halfback, while Reynolds took Steedle's place at left end. Riverton was held for downs.

Palmyra's kick netted them 20 yards. Reeves returned one for 45 yards and after three tries Palmyra kicked to their 48-yard line. Jim then returned another punt to Palmyra's seven-yard line, Bates punted to Reeves who ran back seven yards to Palmyra's 30-yard line; end of third quarter.

Fourth Quarter

Car Reynolds was hurt in the next play, after having taken out a Palmyra man and Green was sent into the game at his place at left end.

Anderson went 23 yards through center for a first down. Wagner took the ball around left end for a touchdown. Reeves kicked the extra point.

Les kicked to Palmyra's 17-yard line. Wallace ran it back to his 39-yard line, a gain of 22 yards.

A pass, Prisco to Zinc netted Palmyra 11 yards. Prisco shot another pass to Land for 9 yards.

Prisco's wonderful passing was a great help to Palmyra, for on the next play he shot a pass to Land who dashed 24 yards and would have scored if he hadn't tried to straight arm Wagner.

Palmyra offsides 5 yards penalty; Wallace for 10 yards through tackle. Wildcats held for downs.

Reeves kicked to 50-yard line; Palmyra's ball. Another pass, Prisco to Bates netted 9 yards, then Prisco to Land gained 21 yards. On the next play Prisco tried another pass but was tackled by three Riverton men before he threw the ball and was penalized 15 yards. Bates' attempt to throw a forward was smeared by Perkins and the game was over—score 7-0 in Riverton's favor.

THE FUMBLE FAMILY — Mark That Down! — by E. COURTNEY DUNKEL

PHS IN DEADLOCK WITH BURLINGTON

Red and White Outplays Traditional Rivals But Fail to Score

Th scholastic gridiron championship of Burlington County is as much disputed as it was a week ago when the annual grid classic between the county's leading contenders was yet to be contested.

Burlington High invaded Palmyra last Friday afternoon with the avowed intention of taking revenge on Coach Diamond's proteges for the defeat inflicted in last year's traditional struggle at Burlington. The up river lads were confident of victory, pointing to their advantage in comparative scores to substantiate their claims.

Palmyra was equally confident, for when has a Palmyra eleven not risen to great heights when threatened by its ancient rival? Friday was the great day, claims were to give way to action on the field of battle and the championship of a great county was to be settled then and there.

Ends in Tie

But, alas! When the umpire tooted his miniature auto horn the score read 0-0 and neither side could well claim superiority over the other. Burlington partisans point to the Ticemen's final threat, which carried the oval to the 3-yard mark, and say that their's was a moral victory, that only the ending of the game saved Palmyra from defeat.

But ask a Palmyra roster and he will tell you his team outplayed the boys from the big village up the river and will give statistics to prove it. And that is true, Palmyra did outplay Burlington consistently, except for the fading minutes of the game and for a time in the second period. The pigskin was kept in Burlington territory during most of the game, and several times the red and white eleven threatened to score.

Fails to Kick

In the third quarter it looked as if the deciding play was to be made when Palmyra had the ball on the invader's 30-yard mark on a fourth down. Most of the 3000 persons present expected Knight, Palmyra quarterback, to try a punt for the three points necessary to win. Knight thought otherwise for some reason and took a desperate chance calling for a forward pass which was grounded and Palmyra lost the ball and all chance of scoring at that time.

Palmyra threatened again in the final period after Baker, who had played a wonderful game all the way through, recovered a fumble on his own 40-yard mark. Sloan made 3 yards through left tackle and Cooper hit the line for a first down. A beautifully executed forward pass, Naisby to Knight, was good for 15 yards.

After an unsuccessful onslaught on the line another aerial was tried which resulted disastriously when Heisler intercepted it on his own 20-yard mark.

Burlington Tries Aerials

Heisler punted, and when Knight dropped back to return it, three Burlington linemen, with Fink in the van, charged through. The kick was blocked and the ball rolled toward Palmyra's goal-line, Levine finally recovering for Burlington on the opposing 35-yard mark, with less than a minute to play, Burlington's only hope was to take the air.

Heisler got off a long pass to the left, Speace and Pannacci both got under it. Speace caught it and tumbled into his team-mate. Before he could reach his feet he was buried under an avalanche of red jerseys. Then the horn sounded and the game was over.

Umpire MacKissic explained that, when the ball fell into Speace's arms, three and a half seconds remained to play. Before the Palmyra tacklers could be pried off Speace, that had expired.

MOORESTOWN SOCCER

Moorestown "B" soccer team defeated Nomad Field Club, of Philadelphia, in an exhibition game on the Moorestown Field Club grounds Saturday afternoon by the score of 3-2.

The local team was scheduled to play Marion Field Club of Philadelphia, but Marion forfeited the game and the exhibition tilt was arranged with the fast Nomad team.

Moorestown's winning point was made on a result of a difficult corner shot. Ritchie, Coles, Rogers and Le-Cossy played brilliantly for Moorestown.

Palmyra Community Eleven Will Play in S. Jersey Class "B" Tourney

Saturday afternoon of this week the Palmyra Community Movement will tackle the Hammonton "Peaches" in a semi-final tussle for the Class "B" championship of South Jersey.

The game, which will be played on the Palmyra grounds, will no doubt provide a thrilling spectacle as neither team has been defeated or tied and the winner of the scrap will be eligible to meet the victor of the Riverside-Pennsgrove battle which is to take place Sunday afternoon. The winner of this contest will be crowned Class "B" champions. Last year's title is now held by Pennsgrove.

Owing to the big guarantee necessary to pay the "Peaches" the management of the Palmyra team has announced that an admission charge of fifty cents will be made instead of thirty-five as previously. The fifty-cent rate will also apply to the Thanksgiving game when Melrose A. A. will furnish the opposition.

Met in Camden

Arrangements for the playoff for the title were made at a meeting in Camden last week at which Palmyra was represented by Manager Art Wright and Coach Joe Stack. Haddonfield A. A. was also represented at the meeting but was not recognized as a contender since it had been eliminated by Palmyra earlier in the season through a 1-0 forfeit.

A board of arbitration, consisting of Howard "Skeets" Irvine, athletic director at Collingswood High School; Jack Ramsey, former University of Maine graduate, who is one of the best informed sports critics in the East, and Tom Ryan, unanimously decided that Palmyra's victory could not be discounted, which automatically eliminated Haddonfield from the tourney.

However, the board disallowed Pennsgrove's claim to a victory over Haddonfield, maintaining that the team that played Pennsgrove was not booked as the representative team of that town, but had played under the name of the Haddon All-Stars, which team had no connection with the Haddonfield Athletic Association.

Forfeit Legitimate

The board decided that Palmyra's forfeit victory over Haddonfield was just as legitimate as if the game had been played to a conclusion. It will be remembered that Haddonfield left the field in the second period of the disputed game, and the referee awarded the contest to Palmyra.

In arriving at its decision that the game should count as a win for Palmyra and that the game be counted as a defeat for Haddonfield, the board came to the unanimous conclusion that to advise that the game be thrown out or replayed would establish a precedent which might act to the detriment of all concerned.

The Palmyra gridders administered a sound trouncing to the Richmond Wildcats in a game played on the P. C. M. gridiron last Saturday afternoon, winning by a score of 31-0.

Coach Stack's outfit performed like a perfectly oiled machine throughout the contest and was able to gain ground almost at will. The entire team was impressive in its ability to execute perfectly timed plays and many times gave the ball carriers opportunities to do their stuff.

Reagle's Big Gains

At one time Big Bill Reagle plowed through center for 40 yards and a touchdown. Again a beautiful pass, Petitto to King, was good for 45 yards and a six-pointer. Other touchdowns were scored by Williams, Reagle and Kelley. The Palmyra line turned in another exhibition of strength and made life miserable for the opposing backs who tried to break through.

The lineup:

Richmond Wildcats		Palmyra
Baj	left end	Phalen
Patrick	left tackle	Hartley
Smith	center	Garman
Jones	right guard	Westcott
Egan	right tackle	Todd
Egan	right end	King

ISENBERG'S STARS TRIP BORDENTOWN

Moorestown High Gridders Flash Brilliant Attack in 31-0 Victory

Flashing its most brilliant offensive drive of the season, Moorestown High [illegible] Bordentown High to the tune of a 31 to 0 victory on the [illegible] street field Saturday afternoon.

Bordentown, a victor over Palmyra by 6-0, waged a good fight against odds which they were unable to overpower, and Coach Isenberg's stars were forced to a five-touchdown triumph.

The work of Young, local right halfback, and Cusworth stood out in [illegible] after time, Young circled the Bordentown ends, and [illegible] through his opponent's tackles for long gains. He ran one kickoff back 50 yards.

Touchdowns were registered by Young, Juliano, Fountain, Cusworth and Levin, while a forward from Young to Cusworth accounted for the extra point.

Cusworth reeled off several gains of 10, 15, and 30 yards but it was his punting that made him one of the outstanding players of the game. Once, standing on his own 30-yard mark, he booted the leather to Bordentown's goal line, a distance of 70 yards. His kicks averaged 50 yards.

BIG GREEN AFTER CLASS "B" CROWN

Pennsgrove is Opposition in Fracas for South Jersey Title Sunday

Riverside Big Green, former Class A champions of New Jersey, is to have a chance at the Class B Championship of the state in a game at Pennsgrove Sunday.

Pennsgrove has held the Class B title for a number of years and though several teams have advanced to the last stages of the contest for the title they always get the short end of the score in their final game with Pennsgrove. Fairhill, Rexall, McCoy's Cardinals have all enjoyed a victorious season until their game with Pennsgrove which has always proved their downfall.

Fans and sport dopsters have all agreed that Pennsgrove is no class B team but still it heads the league. Riverside Big Green will endeavor to win this title from Pennsgrove and next year they will enter the Class A tournament. Both of these teams are enjoying an undefeated record this season and Riverside is more than determined to bring home the pennant.

The Big Green will be accompanied by carloads of rooters to the South Jersey game and there will be a hectic battle, according to all indications. The Pennsgrove team is famed for playing on a muddy field while the Riverside eleven is accustomed to a hard, well kept ground, so next Sunday's weather report will be of much interest to local football fans.

This is one of the biggest grid classics of the season and is causing as much comment as the Riverside-Millville game did years ago.

The "Red Devils," as the Pennsgrove team is known, are preparing for this encounter with special care. The best members of the team are training as they have never trained before this season and some of the old time stars who have secured berths on large teams are being invited to join the ranks of Pennsgrove on Sunday.

The Pennsgrove lineup will probably be composed of B. Smith, left end; Schlaster, left tackle; Kragle, left guard; Homar, center; Clemente, right guard; Holmes, right tackle; Biasioli, right end; Martel will quarter and Price and Patterson will be in the backfield with Bennet. E. Dalbow and C. Dalbow will, together, with Harris and Riles, be ready for emergency.

Riverside is pinning its hope on the two Obergfell brothers, Kelly, Witte, Lang, Headman, Freymik, Bintliff, Feyhl, Benzel and Richardson. Big Bill Reagle no doubt will be in the backfield. Reagle is well known around Pennsgrove having played against them several times every year with different teams.

FAST BOUTS AT HOLLY SMOKER

Four fast boxing bouts were enjoyed by members of the Santa Maria Council, K. of C., Mount Holly, at a smoker given at the parish hall, Mount Holly, last Tuesday evening.

Johnny Dundee, 128, of Burlington, opened the show by beating Young Glitoz, of Burlington, 124, in four rounds.

Young Shultz, 142, of Burlington, was too much for Young Jack Dempsey, 140, also of Burlington, and the referee stopped the bout at the end of the third round, awarding it to Shultz on a technical K. O.

The best bout of the evening brought together Bill Stevens, 124, of Beverly, who a few years ago was considered one of the best amateurs in the country, and Eddie Smith, 123, of Mount Holly, who holds the amateur featherweight championship of Burlington county. After a furious battle Stevens was voted the winner, taking three of the four rounds, the third being even. The Holly boxer nearly took a trip to the canvas in the second round, when a hard right smash to the chin had him groggy, but he was saved by the bell.

The final bout brought together Jack Rielly, 151, of Roebling and Kid Ted, 155, of Burlington. Rielly won in four rounds.

Joe Cooney, of Mount Holly, refereed the bouts and Eddie Smith manager of the Burlington county gymnasium did the announcing.

After the bouts several singing and dancing numbers were rendered by the club members.

MOORESTOWN ICE MAN IS SUICIDE

Russell Gunning Dies Wednesday Morning From Drink of Lysol

Russell Gunning, Moorestown ice man, committed suicide Tuesday night.

Gunning, who was 31 years old, leaves a wife and three children. The oldest, a boy 12 years old, has been seriously ill at their home on East Third street near Chester avenue.

The victim drank four ounces of Lysol, which he purchased at Carlson's drug store on Chester avenue, Tuesday evening, and died in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Wednesday morning at 1.30.

After purchasing the poison which caused his death, Gunning stopped in front of McCoy's service station to chat with friends. He seemed in the best of spirits. Just after turning into Third street off Chester avenue, he drank the Lysol.

George Anderson, railroad grade crossing guard at Chester avenue, rushed to his aid and with the assistance of friends, carried the victim to his home. Dr. G. N. Westcoat and Dr. Nathan Thorne were called, and after administering treatment, had him rushed to the hospital where he died.

No motive has been advanced for Gunning's desire to take his life. Mr. Jenks, of Moorestown Ice Company, where he had been employed for the past seven years, reports the victim was a "good employe," and had been in high spirits all day Tuesday. His accounts were in good order, his employer reported.

FIREMEN CONVENE AT MOORESTOWN

Department Entertains 250 Members of Association at Relief Home

RUSSELL C. HOLMES ELECTED PRESIDENT

Burlington Men Chosen Vice Presidents; Officials Give Interesting Talks

The Moorestown Fire Department was host to the Burlington County Firemen's Association Wednesday evening of last week. The occasion marked the annual meeting of the association and at least 250 firemen from all over the county attended the session which was held in the Relief company's home, Chester avenue.

Postmaster Evan F. Benners, who has been active in fire fighting circles and is assistant secretary of the State association, welcomed the visiting firemen to Moorestown with a fitting and impressive address.

The Moorestown department entertained the visitors in a very praiseworthy manner and the meeting was one of the finest in years. It was the most largely attended this year.

Entertainment included numbers by Moorestown's popular colored singers, the Plantation Quartet. Delightful refreshments were served by the host department.

Russell C. Holmes, of Florence, was elected president of the association, succeeding David A. Brotherton, of Burlington, who has ably served in that capacity for five years. Other officers elected include:

Edward Rudderow, Burlington, first vice-president; Ralph McKinley, Burlington, second vice-president; William S. Gingien, Bordentown, secretary; William S. Cramer, Beverly, assistant secretary; Albert G. Mayer, Mount Holly, treasurer.

Chief Ellis H. McAllister, was chosen one of the trustees. William Frech, Maple Shade; Joseph Adams, Frank Foster, Burlington; Harry Bishop, Florence; Edward H. Flagg, Jr., Riverton; Frank L. Smyth, Medford; J. Wilkins, Masonville; Fenton, Bridgeboro; A. Evans, Bordentown; W. Krusen, Delanco, and Clifford Massey, Lumberton, are the other trustees.

Fire matters in general were covered in a very able address by William Mulgrue, president of the Montgomery County Firemen's Association of the State of Pennsylvania, and full of interest to the firemen. Frank Tuia, of Coatesville, Pa., Chief E. N. C. Davis, of Haddon Heights, and several visiting firemen from Mercer and Camden counties also covered subjects that were inspiring to the firemen.

Word was received from the home of General Bird W. Spencer, at Passaic, that his physical condition was improved, thereupon, the firemen passed and ordered forwarded to him a resolution of greetings and good wishes for his speedy recovery. General Spencer is president of the State Firemen's Association and has been ill for sometime. A resolution of sympathy was also passed and ordered sent to Chief Francis, of New Brunswick, whose wife recently died. Chief Francis has addressed the firemen of this county on a number of occasions and has won for himself a warm spot in their hearts.

The next meeting of the association will be held at Palmyra, on Wednesday evening, December 12th.

NATIVE OF INDIA TO BE "Y" SPEAKER

A rare opportunity to hear a man of international prominence will come to the people of Burlington county December 10, when Victor M. Ilahibaksh, native of India and a gifted speaker, will make an address at a dinner to be held at the Moorestown Community House under the auspices of the Burlington County Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Ilahibaksh is national secretary for visual instruction with the Indian National Council, and from his wide experience after an education in the United States and from his knowledge of the needs of his native land he unfolds a story that is gripping in interest and forceful in effect.

Born in Bombay, he was brought to the United States when six years old, was educated in the public schools and colleges in the Middle West. He graduated from the Northwestern University and the Illinois Law College, holding degrees in art, theology, and law. He went to India in 1917 to enter war work and later served in rural work in North India. In 1921 he came back to the United States, returned in 1922, and in 1924 took up the work in which he is now engaged. Last April he came to the United States again and was a lay delegate to the Methodist General Conference at Kansas City.

Mr. Ilahibaksh speaks perfect English and his years in this country and his native land enable him to truthfully reflect India to American audiences. The tickets for his dinner are $1.50 and may be had from the Y. M. C. A. County Committeemen or the County Secretaries. The reservations should be made without delay.

Harvey Sharpless Found Guilty of Shooting at Youth's Car in His Lane

Burlington County Jury Convicts Prominent Moorestown Farmer on Assault Charges; Opposed to "Necking Parties" and Would Lecture Young Couples, He Testifies

A Burlington county jury Wednesday of last week found Harvey Sharpless, prominent Moorestown farmer, guilty of assault as a result of firing into an automobile parked in his lane to break up a petting party and injuring a youth and high school girl last May.

Sharpless was on trial all day and prominent Moorestown residents rallied to his aid as character witnesses.

The farmer was charged with atrocious assault and battery on Joseph T. Tiver, 20, of Tiver avenue, Moorestown, and Edward Calhoun, 18, of 282 West Second street, Moorestown. It developed during the trial that Miss Margaret Hill, 18-year-old Moorestown High School girl, of Maple Shade, was also injured by shots from Sharpless' shotgun. Tiver was wounded in the back of the neck and Dr. Joseph Stokes, of Moorestown, testified to removing birdshot from under the boy's skin.

Under cross examination Sharpless made some damaging admissions which resulted in his conviction on the assault charge and acquittal of atrocious assault with intent to kill.

V. Claude Palmer and the defendant's brother, Edward S. Sharpless, endeavored to show the farmer had been annoyed by petty thieves stealing potato plants.

Lectured Young Couples

When Prosecutor George M. Hillman questioned Sharpless he admitted he was opposed to petting parties on his place and often went out at night to give young couples lectures. He admitted he was real angry because Tiver and Calhoun did not respond to his demands for an explanation and he fired at the rear of the car full knowing the danger of wounding some one.

"They were on my property," said Sharpless, "and I had a right to know what they were doing there. It was time something was done toward prosecuting them."

"Then you were going to prosecute them with a shotgun," shot back Mr. Hillman.

"No, to protect myself," countered Sharpless.

It was testified that Sharpless ran his car into the rear of the car of the youth. Then he fired one barrel at close range, tearing a hole three inches in diameter in the gasoline tank. When Calhoun, who owned the car and was at the wheel, started to drive away Sharpless admitted he fired a second shot at a range of 15 feet.

"Why did you drive your car into theirs?" asked Mr. Hillman.

"To let them know I was there," returned Sharpless.

No Robberies Reported

He admitted no plants had been stolen from his place in two years and he had never reported any robberies to the police. He admitted that on the night of the shooting he failed to examine the potato patch before shooting at the car of Calhoun and Tiver.

Calhoun testified that he found 89 bullet holes in the rear curtain of the car the next morning.

Tiver was the first witness called by the state. He told of a trip through the county in Calhoun's car on the night of May 17. He said it was a touring car with curtains in place. They were driving along the Lenola road from Five Points when the engine started to miss because it was not timed properly. He said Calhoun turned off the main road into a lane and shut off their lights. They stayed in the lane between 20 to 25 minutes and were about to start when another car, with bright lights, crashed into the rear. He said Calhoun hesitated about driving away. Three minutes later some one fired a shot into Calhoun's car. He said Calhoun started to drive away when a second shot was fired. He felt a lump rising in his neck as a result of being wounded. He said they were compelled to drive through Sharpless' property to escape because the farmer had them blocked from returning to the main road.

Reported "Holdup"

Tiver declared Calhoun drove to Moorestown police headquarters and reported an attempted holdup. Then he went to the office of Dr. Joseph Stokes, where two shots were removed from his neck.

On cross examination Attorney Palmer sought to establish the identity of two girls in the Calhoun car and under what circumstances the youths met them on the night of the shooting. Prosecutor Hillman objected and was sustained.

Calhoun corroborated Tiver's testimoney regarding the trouble with the engine of the car. He said when Sharpless drove his car into the rear of his machine he thought at first it was the prank of a friend. He said he waited for developments and when Sharpless began shooting he started to drive away. Then the second volley was fired.

When Palmer sought to establish where the youth and the girls had been prior to the shooting on the Sharpless farm Mr. Hillman objected and the defense received a severe jolt when Judge Slaughter read from an Act of Legislature that "trespassing is no excuse for use of deadly weapons."

Girl Was Injured

Miss Hill appeared as a witness for the state. She told the same story that the youths told as the reasons for their being in the lane. She said one of the shots grazed her shoulder and a piece of glass from the rear was buried under the flesh.

Policeman Bruce MacDonald, of the Moorestown department, said he went to the Sharpless farm after the shooting and on the way the boys pointed out the car of Coroner George C. C. Stout. The boys later acknowledged their mistake and Stout joined in the party in a search for "hold-up men." He said he gave a shotgun to Coroner Stout and he joined the searching party. MacDonald said he searched the scene where the shooting occurred and they were getting no where.

He questioned Tiver and Calhoun again and was informed that the man with the shotgun first drove his car into theirs.

"Oh, I know your man," said MacDonald. He said he went right to Sharpless' house because he had done the same thing on a previous occasion.

He said he called Sharpless from bed and he admitted firing on a car in the lane.

"Did you know you killed some one in the car?" MacDonald asked in the way of a bluff.

"I am sorry," replied Sharpless. "That is too bad. I suppose you want me."

Easily Located

"No," replied MacDonald. "You have lived around here a long while and when we want you we will come after you."

MacDonald said the warrant was served on Sharpless a few days later, but he was not arrested. He said the farmer appeared before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston at Moorestown.

Chief of Police John Bradshaw, of Moorestown, told of serving a warrant on Sharpless. He said there was little said at the time, anymore than Sharpless said he thought the boys were there to steal. He admitted shooting at the youths, Bradshaw testified. The chief declared he counted 83 holes in the back curtain of the car.

While on the stand in his own defense Sharpless said he went to Moorestown police headquarters the next day and asked Recorder Johnston if he was wanted and received a reply that no complaint had been made against him.

Palmer called a number of farmers, who are neighbors of Sharpless and questioned them as to his record for peace and good order. Some said they had known him 50 years. Among the character witnesses were Clayton Andrews, Murrell Parry, Edward O'Brien, Isaac Collins, Earl Collins, Charles Shaffer, John Parker, Charles Haines, Edward Perkins, Ezra Engle, an uncle, and Ellis Rudderow. Several professional men were excused in the afternoon so they could return to their business.

HOOVER EXPLAINS NEED FOR ZONING

In one of the daily newspapers an article appeared recently telling of the model ordinance for the creation of city planning commissions prepared by the United States Department of Commerce. There is a foreword by Mr. Hoover in which he explains the need for some guide. The following is quoted from the article:

Torn-up streets, wrecked houses, prostrate shade trees, disrupted traffic, are some of the penalties which American cities pay for their failure to provide a definite plan of growth and expansion. I hope that this document—may aid in the wise development of city and regional planning throughout the United States, says Mr. Hoover.

"Cities, like men, should know where they are going, particularly rapidly expanding cities in a young country like the United States.

From a purely business standpoint, as stressed by Mr. Hoover, millions will be saved by any city which takes a long-time view of its own growth, lays out thoroughfares, large parks with plenty of light and air space, with adequate room for expansion and a relation between the business and suburbs.

Mr. Hoover says that the extent of success of such efforts determines to a large degree the practical usefulness of several hundred million of dollars of the taxpayers money.

Summarizing the report, Mr. Hoover says that it recommends first a clearly defined permanent planning branch in the local government, in the form of a commission which formulates a comprehensive plan and keeps it up to date.

Recent experiences in Washington have given Mr. Hoover first-hand reminders of the need for careful planning. Although the capital follows in general the plan of L'Enfant, a campaign to widen many streets has resulted in the hewing of whole rows of magnificent shade trees about the temporary Department of Commerce building and within sight of Mr. Hoover's own office. The widened streets have been left shadeless and will require decades to resume their original beauty.

The business of planning, zoning and mapping in advance, Mr. Hoover believes is to the interest of the whole population."

THE ARMY NEEDS MEN

Corporal George Roundy from the recruiting station in Camden, will be in Burlington at the Post Office on December 3 and in Riverside on December 5, to enlist men for the U. S. Army. There are now vacancies for Hawaiian Islands, Panama, Texas, Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., and many other eastern stations.

Thomas Hussey, of Batavia, N. Y., has worn the same hat for half a century.

Triplets were born to Mrs. Ada Farwell, aged 21, of London, her first children.

GOOD CHRISTMAS MAILING ADVICE

Shop and Mail Early, Urges Postmaster in Promising Best Service

The local post office will make every effort to handle the Christmas mails without congestion and delay, but owing to the enormous volume this can be done only with the cooperation of the public.

All parcels must be securely wrapped or packed. Use strong paper and heavy twine.

Anything that is liable to break like umbrellas, canes, golf sticks, etc, should be reinforced with strips of wood.

Fragile articles easily broken should be securely packed in excelsior or like material.

Articles that are likely to spoil should always be marked perishable. Postage must be fully prepaid on all mail.

The limit of size of each parcel is 84 inches in length and girth combined. For delivery in first, second and third zones 70 pounds is the maximum weight; in all other zones 50 pounds.

During the holiday time the volume of mail increases approximately 200 per cent. It is a physical impossibility to handle this great mass of mail matter efficiently and promptly within a few days. Therefore to assure delivery of your Christmas presents, cards and letters by Christmas Day you should shop and mail early.

Addresses should be complete with house number and name of street, post office box or rural route number, and typed or plainly written in ink, the address being placed on one side only of your packages. A return card should be placed in the upper left corner of every piece of mail. Patrons sending a quantity of Christmas cards, say 25 or more should prepare and mail their cards two or three weeks before Christmas. If delivered to the Post Office in person, or tied together, showing they are Christmas cards and deposited in street letter or package box, they will then be segregated, stamped with date on which to be dispatched, and delivery effected one or two days before Christmas.

Parcels and envelopes may be endorsed "Please do not open until Christmas," the use of special delivery stamps will assure delivery on Christmas Day, if mailed at the proper time.

Special delivery service means the handling and transportation of parcels with the same expidition as first class mail, as well as the immediate delivery at office of address. Special delivery is for speed and not for safety. All valuable mail should be registered or insured.

In conclusion it is urgently suggested that you do your shopping early, so that you can mail your gifts, greetings, and letters to relatives, friends and loved ones at least a week or ten days before Christmas, according to the distance. This will not only make it certain that they are received on or before Christmas Day, but will be a great aid to our postal service and to postal employees and enable them to spend Christmas Day with their families.

BARNEGAT WOMAN INJURED IN CRASH

Police Car Hit at Moorestown as Victims Were Being Rushed to Doctor

A middle-aged woman and her daughter, 14, were injured seriously in an accident at Lenola Saturday evening.

Mrs. Leo Atlas, Barnegat, was riding in an automobile driven by her husband and accompanied by their daughter when the crash occurred on the Moorestown pike.

Atlas backed into the car of S. Fusto, Moorestown.

The woman and the girl, both badly cut, were being rushed to Dr. Nathan Thorne, Moorestown, in the automobile of Officer Bruce MacDonald, when the police car collided with the automobile of W. C. Reeves, 120 Dudley street, Camden, at Main and Church streets, Moorestown. Both cars were smashed.

HORNER NIGHT

One of the plans being put into operation by Grand Chief Raesly, of the Knights of the Golden Eagle, this term, is to honor certain members of the order who have never sought the higher honors of the Grand Castle, yet have served their local Castle by their untiring efforts in introducing new members and discharging the duties of the various posts they have been called upon to fill in their Castle.

Mr. Raesly intends to confer this honor by holding class initiations and giving the class the name of the member to be so honored. Castles from all over the state contribute to these classes by presenting their candidates to be initiated.

The first class was held in Trenton on October 20, at which time seventeen candidates, representing eight Castles, were initiated. The next class has been called for Palymra Castle in honor of "Walter M. Horner. The date is Saturday evening, December 1.

MRS. BELTON WINS PRIZE IN CONTEST

Writes "The Red Arrow Place" 900 Times on Single Post Card

Mrs. Alice B. Belton, of West Main street, Moorestown, won third prize in a contest conducted by the Red Arrow Club for writing the words "The Red Arrow Place" on a government postal card 900 times. The award was made at the regular monthly Red Arrow Auction held in the Elk's Auditorium, Seventh and Cooper Streets, Camden, last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Mary Deckert, of South Thirty-third street, Camden, won first prize for writing the phrase 1474 times. It took her nine hours to do the writing, which was clearly legible, but written with almost unbelievable fineness. Mrs. K. L. DuBois, of Federal street, Camden, won second prize. She wrote the words 917 times on the postal card.

A screaming contest, which was held at the auction, created a lot of enthusiasm. The grand winner was Mrs. T. J. Foell, of Pine street, Camden, whose hair is as red as her scream is loud. The second-best screamer was Miss "Babe" Morrison, of Westfield avenue, Camden, whose hair is only a shade less fiery than Mrs. Foell's, and whose scream has a shrill, penetrating quality that "stood hair on end."

Only slightly less gifted as a screamer, was the third place winner, Mrs. B. P. Ward, 11 South Third street, Camden. She also has red hair.

Mrs. Foell was awarded $10 in cash. "Babe" and Mrs. Ward got lesser awards. Thirteen other women competed in the screaming fracas.

For the rest, it seemed to be "bargain night" at the Red Arrow auction. A $5 meal ticket for Brewer's Dining Rooms went for $5 in Red Arrow money. An order of ice from the Moorestown Ice and Storage Company, valued at $2.10, went for $1 in Red Arrow money! A barometer calender from Bleakly Brothers, valued at $4.50 went for $5.55 Red Arrow money.

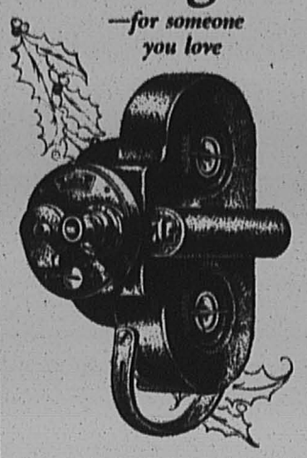

Foods for the Thanksgiving feast, however, came higher. A 10-pound turkey from Schneider's market went to a Red Arrow millionaire for $500, while a huge pumpkin pie, two feet in diameter, brought $150 in Red Arrow money.

Shoes, coal and woolen blankets, which thrifty Red Arrow fans laid in against the coming of winter, also were costly. A ton of coal went for $576, a pair of shoes for $281, and a blanket for $300.

The "pot of gold," containing $25, and awarded each month to some organization, went to the Veterans of Foreign Wars for $13,058.

The next Red Arrow auction will be a Christmas party, with Stanley Bleakly, the clowning auctioneer, in the role of Santa Claus.

Safeguarding American Rights and Liberties

No man has ever stated the fundamental principles of our theory of government or the ideals of its founders in clearer language than President-elect Herbert Hoover. His words lift themselves above partisan politics and lay down fundamentals which every American citizen should read and study from the standpoint of their bearing on his daily life. In his New York speech, Mr. Hoover said in part:

"The Government in commercial business does not tolerate among its customers the freedom of competitive reprisals to which private business is subject. Bureaucracy does not tolerate the spirit of independence; it spreads the spirit of submission into our daily life and penetrates the temper of our people not with the habit of powerful resistance to wrong but with the habit of timid acceptance of irresistible might.

"Bureaucracy is ever desirous of spreading its influence and its power. You cannot extend the mastery of the government over the daily working life of a people without at the same time making it the master of the people's souls and thoughts. Every expansion of Government in business means that Government in order to protect itself from the political consequences of its errors and wrongs, is driven irresistibly without peace to greater and greater control of the nation's press and platform. Free speech does not live many hours after free industry and free commerce die.

"It is a false liberalism that interprets itself into the Government operation of commercial business. Every step of bureaucratizing of the business of our country poisons the very roots of liberalism—that is, political equality, free speech, free assembly, free press and equality of opportunity. It is the road not to more liberty but to less liberty. Liberalism should be found not striving to spread bureaucracy but striving to set bounds to it. True liberalism seeks all legitimate freedom, first in the confident belief that without such freedom the pursuit of all other blessings and benefits is vain. That belief is the foundation of all American progress, political as well as economic.

"Liberalism is a force truly of the spirit, a force proceeding from the deep realization that economic freedom cannot be sacrificed if political freedom is to be preserved. Even if governmental conduct of business could give us more efficiency instead of less efficiency, the fundamental objection to it would remain unaltered and unabated. It would destroy political equality. It would increase rather than decrease abuse and corruption. It would stifle initiative and invention. It would undermine the development of leadership. It would cramp and cripple the mental and spiritual energies of our people. It would extinguish equality and opportunity. It would dry up the spirit of liberty and progress. For these reasons primarily it must be resisted. For a hundred and fifty years liberalism has found its true spirit in the American system, not in the European systems."

What is International Golden Rule Sunday?

In the autumn of 1923 an international group of social workers, meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, expressed despair of educating the world to the better day of brotherhood through the customary persuasions of war and diplomacy. Yet the aim was so infinitely to be desired! Could the persuasion of the Golden Rule be made effective?

If on an appointed day, say the first Sunday in December, the whole world should sit at a common table, eat bread and salt, think of the hungry and the sorrowing and make a donation for their aid, would not a great advance be made in practical religion?

The idea fired the imagination of the world. Presidents, kings and premiers; the Pope, religious leaders and Patriarchs; powerful financiers, influential statesmen, educators, labor leaders, approved and led friends and followers to a community of thought and feeling such as this old round earth has never known.

On the third anniversary of International Golden Rule Sunday fifty-three countries united in its observance and contributed to the Near East Relief orphans who are the foremost beneficiaries.

The day falls on December 2 this year.

Build Roads to Last

In this remarkable era of good road building, much discussion of methods and materials to be employed in construction, has been heard. Various types of roads have their advocates and claims are made for the superiority of each.

As a matter of fact, so far as material is concerned, local conditions may be permitted to govern to a great extent, provided any one of the well-tested kinds that may be available is used. It would seem to be inadvisable to ship road materials great distances when an equally good product might be secured close at hand.

But regardless of the surfacing material to be used, the grading and foundations should be of a permanent nature.

Every interest of economy demands that before any great sum is spent on the improvement of a road the final surveys and establishment of grades should be made, so that fills may be allowed to settle and become compact before surfacing is done.

A firm foundation is highly desirable in any undertaking, and nowhere is this more strikingly true than in road building.

Common Purpose

Anthropologists tell us that man in his early state lived apart with his own little family, and archaeologists say the first communities were formed by confederated families brought together for a common purpose—protection against man's natural enemies. Today, man is distinctly a gregarious animal attracted more and more to community life. And men still build cities for a common purpose, or common purposes.

In the city one finds protection against fire, disease and the enemies of society. One goes to the city for good schools and monumental churches, paved streets, employment, art, entertainment, the society of other men and comforts of life denied the rural citizen. There is found the front rank of civilization.

The people of our town have a common purpose. It is the advancement of the community as a whole. That common purpose is hardly distinguishable from the purpose of each individual. That which benefits the individual usually benefits the entire community and that which benefits the community reacts to the benefit of each of its citizens.

Prosperity and progress come to those communities whose citizens have their eyes upon the largest number of common purposes. Success crowns the efforts of the man of purpose, and the city with a common purpose works as one man.

"Common purpose" creates new industries, increases business, minimizes unemployment, makes cities better places in which to live and performs miracles in community betterment.

Approaching

Advertisements are beginning to appear with decorations of holly and mistletoe and smiling faces of Santa Claus. To the observant these ad frescoes tell their own story, give their own warning, hint at the important business from which none is barred and in which sooner or later everybody will be engaged.

In other words, Christmas shopping. The holiday is little more than a month ahead, fewer shopping days than thirty by a good deal. In no time these days will pass. The natural procrastinator will wait until Christmas Eve when store aisles will be jammed by other procrastinators, stocks picked out, clerks weary, customers in a flutter, clocks ticking time's rapid pace, all because the reminders of today have been neglected.

Every year more sensible persons do their Christmas shopping early. They reap all the advantages in variety of selection and leisure of choice and when Christmas Eve comes they can proceed about their last-minute holiday tasks orderly, while the others fume and sputter.

Americans are a great people never to do today what can be done tomorrow. The postmaster has urged early posting of Christmas mail, but the last days will probably be bigger than ever. The train leaves at 5:15, but the cars do not fill until 5.14. We get there even if we are a last-minute nation, but it is at a tremendous cost of physical energy and mental upsets. The Christmas shopping season is merely one phase of a national temperament.

Why Blame the Cat?

In the good old days when grandma and grandpa were young, it was considered an ill-omen to have a black cat cross one's path. Doubtless many of the dear old folk would exclaim, "I told you so," if they heard the story of John Coffey, reported from Muskogee, Oklahoma.

Apparently the black cat of this tale crossed Farmer Coffey's path at a very inopportune moment. The farmer, in attempting to light his pipe, broke the match, which dropped into a kerosene can. An unfortunate accident for the cat. The explosion that came instantaneously ignited the poor feline and it scampered frantically for the barn, where it was consumed by flames along with the building and the hay stored in it.

"A black cat—I told you so" . . . yes, but why blame it on the cat? Why have an open can of kerosene standing about and why light a match near such a can? Common sense dictates that all inflammable and explosive liquids should be kept in tightly closed metal containers and in a safe place. The black cat from his happy hunting grounds knows they are dangerous, and The National Board of Fire Underwriters supplies figures showing that the annual fire loss from careless handling of petroleum and its products was over $14,000,000 in 1926.

The Turkey Gobbler

The great American bird is not the hen nor the eagle, but the turkey gobbler. The gobbler is lord of the barnyard and field marshal among the fowls. See him strut in the fullness of his pride, tail feathers spreading, head up, wings trailing, but not ingloriously! His crimson comb and purplish wattles give him the appearance of a red-faced and important gentleman who is querulously concerned in everything going on about him. Such pomposity, dignity and swagger is rare. His irritable "gobble, gobble, gobble" strikes terror into the hearts of little children, but is music in the ears of the more sophisticated who envision him trussed up in a roaster and stewing in his own juice.

The turkey has been closely associated with American history from the beginning. It will be remembered that at the famous Thanksgiving feast of the Pilgrim Fathers in November, 1621, in which the friendly Indians participated, wild turkey was the chief delicacy. Once this elusive bird was plentiful but now the wild species is all but extinct. In only a few sections of the country the wild turkey may be found. It begins to look as though the domestic turkey is destined to go the way of its progenitor. Young turkeys are hard to raise and the Thanksgiving and Christmas demand exceeds the supply. No one wants to see the day when the turkey has disappeared from the land and the proud gobbler struts and fumes no more.

There is no substitute for the turkey gobbler in sight. As compared with him the rooster is plebeian and the gander "a lesser breed without the law." The gobbler is a symbol of prosperity and a token of hospitality as well.

Hoover's Good Will Trip

During Mr. Hoover's tenure of office as a member of the Cabinet he has persistently endeavored to promote commercial relations between the Americas. He was limited in his efforts as Commerce Secretary to the economic features of the problem. As President he is evidently intent on expanding the policy he outlined in his address of acceptance, to "direct economic progress in support of moral and spiritual progress." While this was intended for the United States, he evidently proposes to include all the Americas. The next President makes it rather clear that he is ambitious to present an all-American front in international affairs in the future. The good-will trip has a deep practical purpose behind it.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers

ESSEX THE HUMBLE

Last winter, when the Legislature in joint session elected Albert C. Middleton of Burlington county, State Treasurer, there was much talk among Essex County Republicans to the effect that when State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee's term expired, a year later, his successor must be an Essex county man. It was declared that South Jersey had monopolized these two important offices long enough and that Essex, because of its large population and dependable Republican majorities, was entitled to demand the Comptrollership. The names of several Essex Republicans were mentioned in connection with the post and it was fully expected that a determined effort would be made to elect one of them.

This was a year ago and while there is still talk of pushing an Essex man for the place there are influences here quietly working for Mr. Bugbee's re-election. It is whispered around that Senator Edge wants Bugbee retained and that as the leader of the party in the state the Senator's wishes should be respected. The argument is also advanced that it would be almost impossible for Essex Republicans to agree upon a candidate and for the sake of party peace it would be better to forego any claims this county may have and by throwing its thirteen votes to Mr Bugbee make his election unanimous, and at the same time earn the good will of Senator Edge.

Going as far back as the days of William J. Sewell there has seldom, if ever, been a time when there were not some Essex Republican leaders ready and willing to make combinations with South Jersey for the sake of the crumbs that fell from the feast of the patronage at which South Jersey held all the best seats. In consequence Essex, in spite of being the most populous county in the state, having the largest representation in the Legislature and consistently giving large Republican majorities, fails utterly to exert the influence in party affairs to which it is entitled.—Newark Call.

FORT GAINED PRESTIGE THROUGH HOOVER VICTORY

No other Jerseyman came out of the Presidential campaign with prestige more greatly enhanced, than did Congressman Franklin W. Fort, Representative of the Ninth District. Known as the "Original Hoover man," having actively worked for the new President-elect as far back as 1920, Congressman Fort was the first active supporter of the Secretary of Commerce heard from in this State.

All other considerations were subordinated by Mr. Fort to his desire to help bring about the nomination of his long-time friend and associate in the war-time work of food administration. Out in Kansas City he was a conspicuous figure on the Hoover field staff and after the Convention and Mr. Hoover had been nominated it was his wish that Congressman Fort should take the Secretaryship of the National Committee. Acceding to that request, although it entailed much hard work and no small degree of personal sacrifice, the brilliant Jerseyman went into the fight with his customary vigor. He faithfully performed the arduous duties of his position and utilized the hours which should have been devoted to rest, to making speeches for the Republican ticket, and telling speeches they were, fully living up to Representative Fort's reputation in the Halls of Congress as one of the ablest speakers in the House.

Congressman Fort wanted to run for Governor this year and had Secretary Hoover not been a candidate for the Presidency he frankly admits that his hat would have been in the ring. But he refused to allow personal interest to interfere with his opportunity to serve his friend. Congressman Fort is equally candid in saying that he intends to be a candidate for Governor at some future time, perhaps in 1931 or '34. He is ambitious to keep up the family tradition, built on two Forts as New Jersey Governors. His great uncle and father both being Governors of this State and natives of Burlington county.

There is a lively possibility, too, that President Hoover will call Congressman Fort to a place in his official family, in which event it is likely that his tentative plans for running for Governor three years hence would have to be delayed still further.—Mount Holly Mirror.

WHAT OF THE BURLINGTON COUNTIANS?

By the way what has become of the Burlington Countians, Inc., that association which was formed with such a blare of trumpets a year ago? Through it Burlington County was going to be boomed and its manifold advantages were to be broadcast and advertised to the world. Beautiful word pictures were drawn of future parks, magnificent boulevards and carefully zoned manufacturing and residential areas to take care of the enormous influx of population which was sure to follow the completion of all the projected Delaware river bridges. But what has it done? Apparently nothing. Since the very enjoyable dinner given at Burlington last March a Sphinx-like silence has reigned and it begins to look as though the Burlington Countians, like many another ambitious movement which has gotten away to an auspicious start, has fallen by the wayside.

WHAT! PROHIBIT THE CIGARETTE

At a convention of ministers out West one influential member of the cloth announced that the time had come to start a crusade against cigarettes. He proposed to include them in prohibition.

We must all agree that the cigarette habit has gotten to a point where no one ever expected to see it. Recovering from the shock of realizing that more than fifty per cent. of the women smoking, while young women who smoke may be eighty per cent., we now wonder if it is going to harm any of them.

If it is, we ought to give some thought to moderation. Prohibition is not the remedy.

We had prohibition forced upon us because we made no attempt to enforce the laws that could have made even a low-down saloon stop selling to drunken men.

If we are being injured through smoking cigarettes, let the doctors, and not the ministers, worry about it.

If every convention of physicians adopted a resolution agreeing that the nation is going to suffer physically from over indulgence in tobacco, the people themselves will put a curb upon their smoking. It is likely to become unfashionable if all the doctors declare the excessive smoker is in the same class as the dope fiend.

It wouldn't mean we would be deprived of our smokes; it would mean we would smoke within reason, the same as most of us have learned to eat.—Merchantville Community News.

A REMARKABLE CAREER

Governor-elect Morgan F. Larson has not attained the highest office within the gift of the people of his native New Jersey without a hard struggle. Back in 1921, when he decided to make the race for the State Senate, his county, Middlesex, had acquired the habit of electing Democrats. He won, was re-elected three years later, served as majority leader in 1925, and was chosen President of the Senate in 1926.

No candidate has ever in New Jersey's political history been more bitterly opposed by a faction of his own party than was the Middlesex man when he entered the gubernatorial primaries last May, but he decisively defeated his opponent, former Judge Robert Carey, of Hudson, in the battle for the nomination. His Democratic opponent for Governor, William L. Dill, was not exactly what purists in pugilistic lingo would term a "push-over," but again Larson triumphed by so great a plurality as to provide one of the outstanding surprises of the campaign.

The amazing advance made in politics by this public servant, who is an engineer in private life, could not be termed accidental by the widest stretch of the immagination. He is of the stuff of which executives are made, and, in addition to his demonstrated ability as legislator, has the happy faculty of winning and retaining the confidence of those with whom he comes in contact.

In certain quarters there is now being expressed considerable concern as to the judiciary and other appointments that will be made by the Governor-elect during the three years he is to preside over the destines of New Jersey. He is already receiving advice as to the manner in which he should conduct the affairs of his exalted office, and, strange as it may seem, this counsel is forthcoming from sources that were openly hostile to him during the May primaries and have been either opposed or lukewarm to his candidacy during the campaign that resulted in his overwhelming choice for the Governorship.

As Governor the Middlesex lawmaker may be depended upon to select his judiciary and other appointees on the basis of their fitness for the posts they are chosen to fill, and this without any advice from his erstwhile critics. When Governor-elect Larson assumes the reins of government a few weeks hence the administration of New Jersey's affairs will in safe, competent hands.—Beverly Leader.

1000 CHICKENS COMPETE FOR EGG-LAYING HONORS

One thousand chickens are now striving to carry off first honors in the Passaic County Egg-Laying contest being held in Paterson, N. J., from November 1, 1928, to November 1, 1929. The entire contest is under the supervision of the New Jersey Experimental Station. To assure every contestant of an equal chance and every advantage of good laying conditions, the county Board of Freeholders have constructed 100 pens each embodying the latest scientific features of poultry houses.

The contest will be the most up-to-date affair of its kind, the pens alone costing approximately $25,000. Not only will the pens be up to the minute in outside construction, but labor saving devices such as automatic watering pens, etc., will be installed.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

Attraction of the Old

Laying aside all sex appeal and things of that sort many people believe that old persons are more interesting than young ones.

There comes a time in a man's life when a woman of forty is more interesting than one of eighteen. Beside the mature woman a girl is rather crude.

People who go to Europe love to poke around among the antiquities. There is a sort of sentimental interest in anything that is old. Many people despise America because it is too new.

There is no doubt that the old has a certain sentimental value. H. G. Wells says that when every house is heated by electricity millionaires will have smoke coming out of their chimneys to give them an antique appearance—artificial smoke.

At Hampton Court in England is a grapevine which brings the government more than six thousand dollars a year.

Only a little of the money is derived from the grapes it bears. Most of it comes from admission paid to see the vine because it is almost 160 years old.

There is only one thing that interests man more than the new.

It is the old.

Anything that endures—whether it be a bit of canvas, a scrap of ancient oriental tapestry, an Etruscan wine jar, a bit of Mayan inscription on a volcanic rock from the forests of Guatemala, a printed page, or a lofty sequoia redwood—interests and fascinates man.

The fact that it has existed from the time his unknown ancestors lived, and will continue to resist the ravages of time long after he is dead, has something to do with his interest.

Mortal man looking at something which contains a touch of immortality is awed and fascinated.

(This newspaper will for some weeks continue to publish the work of the late Dr. Frank Crane. Dr. Crane recently passed away at Nice, France. Before leaving for Europe he had prepared a number of articles in advance.)

GOOD SOUP, GOOD SERVICE.

WHAT IS A RICH MAN?

CAPTAIN OF YOUR SOUL.

NO SOCRATIC METHODS

Chefs of many hotels competed in New York to see which could make the best soup. Six wise men, including Clarence H. Mackay's French chef, Combes, allotted first prize to E. Allicott.

That competition means more to human welfare than the average man realizes; more, for instance, than any Olympic competition.

Soups contain vitamines and other valuable nourishment and stimulate the flow of digestive fluids. To manufacture good soup and sell a great deal of it is to render public service.

Income tax returns show 283 Americans with net incomes of $1,000,000 a year or more. The number has increased by 52 in two years. Citizens reporting incomes of $5,000,000 or more number only ten. There were fourteen of them in 1926.

Once a man with a million was considered rich. To be really "rich" now you need $1,000,00 a year.

There are several billionaires in existence that modestly refrain from talking about it.

Many a young person has spouted: "It matters not how strait the gate,
How charged with punishment the scroll,
I am the master of my fate,
I am the captain of my soul."

The Reverend E. H. Emmett, Congregationalist, says those who talk about being "captain of my soul" are only "whistling loudly in the dark," making "an outward noise to cover up an inward fear and disquiet."

It is hard to be sure that you are captain of your soul in these modernist times. Scientists say you haven't any soul, anyhow, and you don't know where your soul is going later, if anywhere, or where this earth itself is going, with the sun dragging it along.

However, a man CAN be calm in an emergency, and that's what the poet meant.

William McAndrew, who was superintendent of Chicago schools, leaves for Athens to spend a year studying Socrate's methods of teaching. His plan, may heaven thwart it, is to revive the Socrates method in modern schools.

Socrates, if Plato describes his method accurately, touched a new peak in boredom. Instead of saying what he had to say, he went around Robin Hood's barn with questions and answers tiresome beyond measure.

Whether or not Socrates was guilty, as alleged, of filling young Greeks with disrespect for the gods, and in spite of the marvelously heroic hemlock drinking episode, you can hardly blame the Athenians for getting rid of him.

What modern education needs is moving pictures, with condensed verbal elucidation, not Socratic dialogues.

"Ruth, amid the alien corn," would be interested in three other Ruths, all in American politics. Three women were elected to Congress, and all three are named Ruth. Ruth McCormick, daughter of the able Mark Hanna, in Illinois; Ruth Bryan, in Florida; Ruth Pratt in New York. All three possess intelligence and ability well above the Congressional average.

If you believe in omens, name your next daughter Ruth.

PRESIDENT APPROVES

Gentlemen:

I regard International Golden Rule Sunday as a movement of much importance. Begun in an attempt to care for the orphaned children of Bible lands, it has been extended to other countries.

Practical help is the best expression of friendship. The aid we may give out of our abundance to those less fortunately situated than we should be of great value in bringing about the application of the Golden Rule to the settlement of misunderstandings among nations as well as among individuals.

I hope the voluntary observance of this day may become increasingly prevalent in America as throughout the world.

Very truly yours,
(Signed) Calvin Coolidge.

PAUL BEFORE HIS JUDGES
Acts 24:24-27;26:19-29
Rev. Samuel D. Prices, D.D.

Group hatred strengthens every participant. More than 40 in Jerusalem vowed they would never eat until Paul had been killed. This plot was discovered by a lad who gave the information to Paul and the authorities. Then the prisoner was sent northward to Caesarea under a heavy guard. The governor there was fair and said the case would have due attention when the accusers arrived. Ananias, the high priest, came with Tertullus the lawyer. Felix soon discerned that it was a question of isms and not of lawlessness against the constituted authorities. Paul would have been acquitted except that there was a fine possibility of obtaining a bribe for his release, for the man was well related in friendships as well as personally. Freedom of approach was granted, among whom must have been Philip the evangelist who resided at Caesarea (Acts 21:8-9). Read Acts 24-27 for all the details covering these two years.

It was a formal occasion when Felix with his wife Drusilla, invited Paul to present his case. Though Drusilla was the daughter of the Herod who killed James the brother of John and later put Peter in prison there was no fear as the most was made of this fine opportunity to tell "concerning the faith in Jesus Christ." Both the governor and his wife heeded all that was said about "righteousness, self-control and the judgment to come." Though Felix trembled he merely said "Go thy way for this time."

Porcious Festus went to Jerusalem within three days after he succeeded Felix. At once the accusers of Paul urged that the prisoner be sent back to Jerusalem for trial; their purpose being to kill him en route according to the old plot. "No," said Festus, "the case must be continued at Caesarea." Bribes had doubtless been offered and shortly after the case had started Festus proposed that there be an adjournment to Jerusalem. Paul fully sensed the situation and knew the sure outcome. Then he exercised his right as a Roman citizen and declared "Caesarem appello." Festus, though he took up the matter with the council had no alternative and said, "Thou hast appealed unto Caesar and unto Caesar thou shalt go."

But what was he to write in transferring the case to Nero? He had nothing to declare against Paul that would be the basis of a case in Rome; in fact, he felt that the whole matter should be dismissed at once. A way out came in his quandry when company arrived in the persons of king Agrippa and Bernice, his sister though living with him as wife. It was with much pomp that the company of titled men and women assembled the next day. Paul was not disturbed when the call came to present his argument of defence. This was just another fine opportunity of exercising his office of Evangelist which had been denied him in recent months.

The situation became intense when Paul said "Agrippa, believest thou the prophets?" The reply was in sarcasm: "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian," and in the way that many seek to dismiss a matter when under conviction. The conclusion announced by Agrippa was that Paul might have been freed if he had not appealed unto Caesar.

ELECTORAL VOTE IS RELIC OF PAST

Let's Vote for Presidents and Discard Unfair System, Says Paper

The electoral college has long been a cumbersome "middleman" in the election of Presidents. It is a relic—nothing less—of the days when our country's founders were afraid of the will of the people.

Yes, Washington, Hamilton, Jefferson, nearly all of them distrusted vox populi—today lauded by every office-seeker from freeholder to President. They devised the electoral college to thwart "election by enthusiasm" and to provide a means whereby the most competent man available could be chosen President.

The spirit and purpose of the electoral college have been ignored for more than a century. During those years the most that one could have said of it was that each state got equitable representation. Since 1920 however, even that representation has been inequitable—and it has been so through the failure of Congress to obey the Constitution of the United States.

The constitution requires that the House of Representatives be made over with the number from each state revised every ten years, after each national census. The purpose of this provision was to catch up with growth or shift in population that would give some states more members—and others less. Congress has not reapportioned representation since 1910, and there are prospects that the 1930 census also will be ignored.

When we consider the growth of New Jersey, for instance, it is easy to see the reason for the inequalities in this table showing the popular vote of certain states compared with their electoral votes:

California	1,937,095	13
Georgia	226,557	14
New Jersey	1,405,561	14
Alabama	242,015	12
Iowa	627,910	13
Indiana	1,410,357	15
Oregon	201,566	5
Washington	333,180	8

Alabama, with 12 electoral votes to 242,015 voters, thus has eight times as much to say in the choice of President as California, which has only 13 electoral votes to 1,937,095 voters. Alabama has six times as much voice as New Jersey, which has only 14 electoral votes for its 1,405,561 voters.

Georgia has 226,557 voters and 14 electoral votes while Washington and Oregon each have over 200,000 voters yet only 8 electoral votes apiece.

Of course the glaring tip of the scales in favor of the Southern states is due to the fact that the population there is many times greater than the number of voters, the Negroes being virtually disfranchised. The congressional representation is based not on the number of voters but upon the total population. Since the number of electors is equal to the number of congressmen and United States senators, the states with small voting population are given power in the electoral college out of all proportion to their number of voters.

But the overbalance occurs in only a few states while at least 19 of the 48 states now have fewer representatives in Congress and fewer electors for President than they are entitled to have by the Constitution. And it is all the fault of Congress.

Competent attorneys in Washington say that the validity of Hoover's election could be easily attacked on this ground.

There would be one quick, fair and certain way of doing away with the whole mess—by abandoning the electoral college altogether. It has outlived its usefulness—if indeed, it ever had any usefulness. The spirit and purpose of it have long been ignored.

Technically the people of the United States do not elect the President. Actually they do. If the electors were to choose anyone for President except the man to whom they had been pledged, there would be an uprising.

Why kid ourselves? Why not clear the decks of legal rubbish? We don't send Presidents to Washington in stage coaches. Why send them there through such a useless relic as the electoral college?—Camden Post.

WIFE DESERTER GETS JAIL TERM

William A. Buck, Mount Holly, to Pay Penalty for Negligence

Criminal Court had precedence at Mount Holly again last week and a number of matters were disposed of. Thursday Judge Slaughter had some of the defendants in for sentence.

William A. Buck, of Mount Holly, charged with violating the terms of his parole, was before the Court for sentence.

Buck married a daughter of Andrew G. Taylor, of Mount Holly but he has failed to support his wife and children and on more than one occasion left town and would be gone for months while his wife and babies were dependent on Mrs. Buck's parents for support.

Notwithstanding this indifference on the part of Buck, his father-in-law has come to his rescue several times, but his last return evidently added the "last straw," for when Buck came back, probably looking for a warm place for the winter, Mr. Taylor, who had gone on his bond, turned him in.

Prison for a Year

Judge Slaughter showed that he was tired of fooling with Buck also, for he sent him to state prison for one year.

Bert Hansen, of Maple Shade, who had been convicted by a jury on a charge of assault and battery, was fined $100.

Earl Powell, of Hainesport, charged with being implicated with William Andrews, formerly of Hainesport but now residing in Philadelphia, with the larceny of a canoe from T. A. Weideman, of Philadelphia, and a week-end visitor in Hainesport, was placed on probation for two years, and young Andrews, who appeared to be the moving spirit in the theft, was fined $50.

Warren Hayes, colored, of Tuckerton, who broke up a booze party at the home of Oliver Christian, on the Hartford-Centreton road, Moorestown, when he shot three slugs into the back of a car, admitted his guilt when he was charged with carrying concealed weapons, and was given one year in state prison.

On motion cases of the state vs. Harry Shinn, of Mount Holly; Verna Gray, of Burlington; Benjamin Salkowski, of Burlington; Edward Kerns, of Bordentown, and Fred Stover, formerly of Lumberton, were ordered nolle prossed.

Thomas McDonough, of Moorestown, pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery and was fined $50.

Jury Disagrees

The case of the state vs. Helen Barekley, alias Huber, of Burlington, charged with maintaining a disorderly house, occupied a part of a morning session, and the evidence proved so conflicting that it was right before the jury came in and announced that they were unable to agree, and were discharged.

Mary Kranish, of Bordentown, charged with liquor violations, made a retraction and pleaded non vult. She was fined $250.

Cases against Joseph C. Johnson, charged with liquor violations; Samuel F. Garrison, of Beverly, similarly indicted, and Charles and George Williamson, of Vincentown, liquor law violations, were ordered nolle prossed, as was a case against Benjamin H. Jones, charged with desertion and neglect.

Alfred Marchese, of Burlington, made a retraction to a charge of liquor law violations and pleaded guilty.

The case of the state vs. Joseph Covington, of Burlington, charged with larceny, resulted in an acquittal.

Chief of Police Gilbert, of Burlington, testified that young Covington had confessed, but the boy repudiated the confession, claiming that it was obtained by threats, and the jury sympathized with him and set him free.

Earl Lippincott, Jr., formerly of Pemberton township, but now residing in Burlington, who was charged with desertion and neglect, was also treated kindly at the hands of a jury, and acquitted.

Outgoing and Incoming Presidents

Calvin Coolidge is to give up the reigns of office to Herbert Hoover, who it is believed will closely adhere to the policies formulated by his predecessor. Both men are more given to action than words, and have marked business and executive ability. Calvin Coolidge has been nominated for many offices, never suffering a defeat, but Herbert Hoover has not engaged in politics before. The many important offices he has heretofore held have been appointive offices.

XMAS PRESENTS

When you're wondering what to give Aunt or Cousin or Sister So-and-So for Christmas, remember that a lovely scrap basket for one's room is always most acceptable.

Attractive metal baskets that are priced from $6 to $15 in the shops can be made for $2 or less at home. Buy the unfinished metal frame lacquer in or cover it with antique gold or silver paper, mount a lovely old French or flower print, one of the English sport prints or an old map in medallion fashion and shellac the whole to protect it from wear and soiling. You can be truly proud of such a gift.

COLD PLUM PUDDING

Mix ¾ cup grapenuts, ¾ cup seeded raisins, ¾ cup English walnut meats, ¾ cup cooked prunes, ¼ cup citron, all cut fine. Dissolve a package of lemon-flavored gelatin in a pint of boiling water and while still hot add the mixed fruits and ¼ teaspoon of cloves, ½ teaspoon of cinnamon and salt to taste. Mold and serve with whipped cream.

CREOLE SAUCE

Chop finely a half green pepper and a small onion and soften in four tablespoons of bacon or ham fat. Add a cup of thick tomato puree, season highly with salt and tabasco, bring to a boil and add 1 tablespoon quick cooking tapioca. Cook until rich and creamy. If a heavier sauce is desired, add an additional half teaspoon of the tapioca.

WHIPPING CREAM

The best utensil for whipping cream is the double boiler.

Put ice or cold water in the lower saucepan and whip the cream in the upper section. The cold water hastens the whipping consistency and the high, straight sides of the pan prevent spattering.

ASKS WOMEN TO STAY IN POLITICS

Prominent Republican Leader Addresses Co. Junior League at Luncheon

Calling on Republican women of Burlington county to continue the keen interest in government and politics shown during the recent presidential campaign, Miss Margaretta Fort, sister of Congressman Franklin W. Fort a New Jersey member of the electoral college which on January 14 will formally name Herbert Hoover President, addressed 150 members of the Burlington County Junior Republican League at a luncheon in St. Andrew's Parish Hall, Mount Holly, last week.

The luncheon, which embodied the regular monthly meeting of the organization, was in the nature of a victory celebration, marking the tremendous Republican vote turned in by the Burlington county women in the recent election. Miss Fort was the principal speaker.

"Politicians once feared the women voters because, they said, one never knew just what they would do," said Miss Fort. "But now the situation is changed. The women are a power in politics because the men now know what we will do. They know what kind of candidates we want. Those elected by the Republican party two weeks ago were our kind of candidates."

The woman voters must, Miss Fort asserted, continue to interest themselves in politics. They must realize that continual work alone brings success and they must not allow the recent success to dull their enthusiasm, the speaker said.

The value of a clean political organization was stressed by Miss Fort.

"We must have machinery in politics to assure real civic government," she declared. "Politics, to be successful, must have organization. This organization is founded on the County Committee, which is elected every primary."

Women voters should study government and politics, so as to familiarize themselves with the situation and so as to make decisions without aid, Miss Fort believed. She praised the interest now being shown by the younger women.

Admitting that politics often have their sordid side and that some politicians stray from the "straight and narrow path," Miss Fort declared that it was the duty of women voters to make sure that political parties are conducted on a clean basis.

"Few politicians go wrong in comparison with the number of men in public life," the speaker said. "Malfeasance in office seems to be more prevalent nowadays simply because the light of publicity is thrown on it. And, remember, no evil can live under the powerful rays of publicity."

Women, Miss Fort said, should embody the principles and spirit of religion in politics. They must put in their political activities the same self-sacrifice and high ideals that they would put in their church and charity work. She said that these principles, alone, would insure better government.

Mrs. H. Brevoort Smith, of Mount Holly, presided at the luncheon, introduced the speakers. She praised the work of Burlington county Republican women in the campaign and read a congratulatory letter to the club from Charles R. Stout, chairman of the Republican County Committee.

The annual contribution to the county almshouse was also discussed during the luncheon.

Mrs. Ernest A. Linburn, of Red Bank, a member of the State Republican committee from Monmouth County, was another speaker. She praised the nominees recently elected. Mrs. Max Margolis, of Philadelphia, vice-president of the Council of Jewish Women, was another speaker.

RED CROSS DRIVE NOW UNDER WAY

The Twelfth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross is now being conducted in 22 towns of the county. It is up to the citizens of the county to say whether or not the county quota of 7,000 memberships shall be enrolled.

It will be a cause for shame if any one community fails in raising its small quota for the work of the Red Cross.

During the World War the Red Cross rendered every possible aid to the sick and wounded; those services have not yet ceased. Today the Red Cross still labors incessantly for the service men.

In time of distress the Red Cross is on the job before the victims have recovered from the daze caused by the calamity.

Will you help in this work for humanity?

Do not let your home town fall down on its quota.

TRENTON CLUB TO HOLD DOG SHOW

Many Fine Prizes to be Offered at Armory on December 7 and 8

By FRANK DOLE
Kennel Editor, New York Herald-Tribune

The Dog Show which is to be held by the Trenton Kennel Club in the Armory in Trenton, Friday and Saturday, December 7 and 8, will be in my estimation a huge success.

I have been attending dog shows and field trials for they sat several weeks constantly and wherever I go the coming dog show at Thenton is discussed in a most favorable manner. Of course, there is a reason for this and that is the get-together spirit of the Trenton Kennel Club and the confidence that the outside exhibitors have in the officers of the show. Most of the officials are exhibitors themselves and that accounts for the good list of judges which has been selected.

Every judge listed is an expert on the breeds which has been assigned to him. The amount of cash, trophies, and special prizes is most liberal which always attracts kennels owners and handlers of good dogs. Another reason why the show is destined to succeed is the exceptional locality chosen for the event. Approximately half-way between New York and Philadelphia it is really accessible from either of these two dog centers.

Here is a tip to the local dog owners; some thirty years ago, I was showing a great team of bull terriers, among them a champion bull terrier, Woodcote Wonder. He was a great dog and many times won the honor of being declared the best dog of any breed in the whole show. I saw a show advertised up in Rutland, Vt., and a magnificent trophy offered for the best dog in the show, so I immediately decided that this was Wonder's chance and he should have it. I took Wonder up to win the prize and I guess everybody in the country who had a good dog must have thought the same thing because they were all there. But this is what happened, and history may repeat itself for your dog at the Trenton show.

Dr. Charles A. Gale of Rutland, Vt., had an Irish Setter puppy given him and he grew to be a very handsome animal, so the Doctor entered him in the show. He easily beat all of his own breed in the show and finally succeeded in being declared best dog in the whole show. The judge, the late James Mortimer, one of the best judges in the country, gave him first place which was his due and "Wonder" and the rest of them were left by the wayside.

This is the fact I want to impress upon you; that many dog owners have real show dogs and don't realize it, so enter your dogs at the coming Trenton Show, meet all the experts of the dog business in this part of the country and I hope that there will be another unknown dog go over the top and defeat all the so-called champions of past shows.

There is nothing like comparison for finding your dog's real worth. I hope to be at the show each day and will be perfectly willing to help any new exhibitor in giving him dog show information and also to put our best friend, the dog, on the highest pinnacle. That is what the Trenton Kennel Club has and will be doing; this show will be only a slight exhibition of the real worth they accomplish, so dog lovers give them a helping hand.

Official Sees State's Industrial Growth Beneficial to Agriculture

Stress Should be Laid Upon Making Farms Desirable Places on Which to Live, Declares Secretary Duryee, in Report

The great industrial growth of the state during the past few years and the coming era of much greater development should be beneficial to agriculture in New Jersey, according to William B. Duryee, secretary of the Department of Agriculture, whose annual report to Governor A. Harry Moore has been made public.

For this reason, the report states, "stress should be laid upon making our farms desirable places on which to live, utilising the combined resources of the state for improving all classes of our citizenship."

The Department has made much progress during the past year in the promotion of better rural conditions in the state, Secretary Duryee shows in his report. A program of rural electrification was initiated and a qualified rural engineer employed. The project has served to bring together the utility companies and farmers who need electric power and light. The increase in the number of automobiles and trucks on the farms has brought with it the problem of improving the township roads. Investigation in this matter by the Department has resulted in the appointment of a committee to study and endeavor to evolve some constructive plan and a definite program of improvement.

Sponsored Groups

The Department has also sponsored the formation of community groups which have been concerned with problems of production and distribution of important products. One of those is the New Jersey Milk Conference Board which is concerned with the difficult problem of better milk production and marketing within the state. Another is the New Jersey Poultry Council which is developing a better and more stable poultry industry. A potato improvement Committee, representing producers and dealers as well as scientists in the industry, is doing fine work in trying to stabilize the market of this commodity.

The condition of agriculture in New Jersey was somewhat unstable during the past year due to unfavorable weather, the report states. Practically all branches of the state's widely diversified agriculture were adversely affected by lower prices for the finished product and higher average costs of production.

Most crops showed an increased acreage compared with last year. White potatoes, sweet potatoes, sweet corn and strawberries showed increases ranging from 400 to 1,000 acres, while hay, tomatoes for manufacture, snapbeans and asparagus show a considerable increase in acreage. Of the major crops, oats and cantaloupes are the only ones showing a decrease as compared with 1927. Despite increased acreages, the estimated production of several crops shows an increase over last year, but in many cases is below the figure for 1927, due largely to the weather.

Bovine Tuberculosis Drive

Secretary Duryee points out that outstanding progress was made during the past year in the state's campaign against bovine tuberculosis.

At the close of the past fiscal year there were 4,074 herds, comprising 66,851 animals, an increase of more than 100 per cent in the number of herds under supervision. During the past year, 83,778 cattle were tested with 7,026 reactors. The total amount paid to herd owners for reactors subject to indemnity was $656,892.76.

Three insects which are causing the greatest concern in the state are the gipsy moth, Japanese beetle and corn borer, the report reveals. Noteworthy progress has been made in the extermination of the gipsy moth. After careful scouting of the areas where the insect has been in existence, only 70 egg masses were found during the year, as compared with approximately 3,000,000 eight years ago. The Japanese beetle continues to menace the vegetation of nearly all kinds in the state, but it is being suppressed by spraying campaigns and the placing of parasite colonies in the infested areas. The Japanese beetle quarantine work in New Jersey last year included the inspection and certification of more than 25,000,000 plants, about 7,500 carloads of sand and soil, 4,570 bales of hay and approximately 1,000,000 packages of farm products. The corn borer is now established in small colonies within the state but quarantine and control methods are being directed to check its spread.

The formation of public auction markets and the continued growth of city markets were noted during the past year. These have brought better net returns to the growers and greatly benefitted the consumers by shortening the road to the table and resulting in greater freshness and economy. Further development in this phase of agriculture is planned for the immediate future and will bring the activities of the department in closer touch with the general public than ever before.

ERITON MUST ACCEPT COSTLY SEWAGE PLANT

So far as the State Board of Health is concerned, there is no escape for Eriton from the plan that provides an expensive sewage disposal plant to serve that section of Delaware township. Eriton residents, opposed to a great increase of taxes necessary to meet the cost of the disposal plant, had protested against the expenditure of $65,000. It asked that something be substituted at less cost. At last week's meeting of Delaware Township Committee, a communication from the state board announced that nothing but a complete plant will be approved.

FAIR GROUNDS BRING $30,000

Trenton Man to Use Historic Holly Property for Realty Development

The Mount Holly Fair grounds have again changed ownership and this time it appears that the historic old property will be converted into a real estate development. At the recent receiver's sale, conducted for the bankrupt Burlington County Progressive League by Senator Clifford R. Powell, a representative for William Wilke, Trenton business man, bid $30,000 for the property. The nearest bidder was Charles G. Friday, president of the Progressive League, whose highest offer was $25,000.

The $30,000 bid, with the sum of $1,800 realized by the sale of the two large exhibition buildings on the property, does not cover the amount of indebtedness of the league, which held the place for the Ku Klux Klan organization in this locality. The Progressive League paid $30,000 for the Fair Grounds when it was purchased from the fair association several years ago, but has since occurred other liabilities in connection with the property.

Although definite information regarding ultimate disposal of the property was not forthcoming, Andrew M. Celia, Trenton lawyer, who appeared for Wilkie, said that he believed it was the plan to form a corporation and to develop the land as a real estate proposition.

Therefore it is quite possible that the buildings, race track and other familiar landmarks of the fair grounds will soon disappear, to be replaced by building lots.

Bids were first taken on dividend parcels of the property, but the total bids amounted to only $4,000, so that when the whole lot was auctioned, the higher sum bid by Wilkie took the property.

The property consists of approximately 30 acres, familiar to most Burlington county residents. A gasoline station and dwelling house are included with the tumbling-down exposition buildings, grandstand and stables bordering the track.

The bankrupt Klan organization is said to have debts amounting to approximately $45,000, so that the total sale price will not cover the liabilities. There are two mortgages on the property; the first for $16,000 and a second for $13,500. The remainder of the indebtedness covers judgments and secured claims. In addition to this sum, there is outstanding $16,000 in Capital stock, which will probably be worthless.

The buyer assumed responsibility for the payment of accrued Northampton Township taxes amounting to $1,389.24 and taxes which will soon be due.

Prior to auctioning the entire property, Auctioneer Raymond Jones asked for bids on each of the four parcels The first was the gasoline station, including equipment and realty on which the station is built. William A. Jones, Mount Holly garage proprietor, was the high bidder for this section, with an offer of $500. His bid, like those for the other three parcels, was voided when the entire property was sold at a higher price, however.

The second lot, consisting of the dwelling and the land on which it is built, received a bid of $1,100 by Celia, acting for Wilkie. The third, a lot covering slightly over 24 acres and skirting the highway, brought $2,000 on the first auction, while the fourth, consisting of the track area, received a bid of $1,000. Celia was high bidder on all but the gas station.

When the $30,000 bid was made for the whole property, the separate bids were voided, however.

Mlfady's Beauty Secrets

To Wash or Not To Wash

If I were to be asked what constitutes a beautiful skin, I should answer instantly—a healthy one. Health is a primary law of Beauty, and no skin can be healthy unless it is hygienically clean. So the first and universally important role is—Regular and Thorough Cleansing.

It simply isn't possible to gauge the number of letters that pour in from time to time, asking me for an expert opinion on the subject of washing the face. Women seem to be swayed so easily from the good, sane, common-sensible ways by sensational advertising or incorrect and inexpert opinions!

To settle all questions of washing once and for all, let me say that in the thirty-odd years during which I have acted as confidant and adviser to some of the most beautiful women in the world, I have not come across one dozen instances where the skin was so fragile it would be injured by correct washing. Mind you—I say correct washing.

The use of a harsh or alkaline soap will ruin any skin, eventually. It is only a question of time as to when the protesting tissues will rebel. Complexion Soap, however, is made of the finest oils, and there is one kind in particular which is based on that ancient beautifier, the blended whites of fresh eggs. Such soaps, specially created and carefully perfected, will prove of the greatest value to even the finest skin.

In dealing with an excessively oily skin or one marred by blackheads, whiteheads and pimples, the use of a scientifically compounded face wash, either a good, stimulating blackhead and open pore paste, which incidentally is excellent for refining large pores, or special beauty grains which, through their content and consistency, get right down into the pores, stimulating and cleansing them.

By all means I advise you to wash—but use discretion in your selection of a washing agent. And next week I'll tell you about the cold cream method of cleansing.

WARNS OF GAMBLING

Prosecutor Hillman Threatens Indictment of Poolroom Owners

Following the receipt of a communication from Prosecutor George M. Hillman, Mount Holly police notified pool room proprietors to put an end to gambling in their establishments. He instructed the police to warn the proprietors, citing that the penalty under the state law is two years in prison or $1,000 fine.

The prosecutor said he would ask the Grand Jury to indict the proprietors who fail to comply with the orders of the police and ask that the fullest penalty be imposed.

The Prosecutor further notified the police that he has reliable information that punchcards, slot machines and other kinds of gambling devices are about to be distributed throughout Burlington county. He asked the police to keep a sharp lookout to prevent the operating of such devices.

There are 137 trees in the United States known to have medicinal value.

Br'er Rabbit was seated under a hickory tree sunning himself one afternoon when something dropped near him "CHERPLUNK!"

"That's a hickory nut," he said to himself. "I wish Mrs. Squirrel were here."

"BLIMP!" Another hickory nut dropped near Br'er Rabbit and he looked up to see where it came from and he saw Mister Jay Bird sitting on a limb.

"Hey, you, I wish you would throw some of those nuts down when Mrs. Squirrel comes this way. She knows where there are some carrots I need and you will help me a lot by throwing down some nuts—wait, here she comes."

Sure enough, Mrs. Squirrel was coming down the path, her tail waving in the breeze.

"Good morning, my dear, dear Mrs. Squirrel. I am so delighted to see you," said Br'er Rabbit, bowing very low.

"Glad to see you, too," said Mrs. Squirrel.

Just at that moment a hickory nut banged on Br'er Rabbit's head and he jumped up with an "OUCH!"

"Isn't that just lovely?" said Mrs. Squirrel. "I will not have to climb the tree now, but can stay here and talk to you."

"I asked Mister Jay Bird to throw down some nuts for you, but I didn't tell him to bump me on the head," whined Br'er Rabbit.

"Well, you see, what is one rabbit's discomfort is a blessing to me—it often happens that way," replied the lady with the bushy tail.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

DIET FAKERS

The American charlatan possesses the unique ability to make money out of everything he touches, because there are suckers, and will always be, I suppose. The favorite game now, seems to be that of the diet faker; a great many suckers inhabit the dietary pool, and pay handsome prices, hence the bombastic gentleman who blandly assures them that, "any and all of our ailments are caused by improper diet"—and can be cured by correction of the exciting cause; of course, he only knows how to do the reeting, at so, much per week, strictly in advance.

So that, when a man or woman hasn't sense enough to know when he or she is eating too everlasting much, either or both will cheerfully hand out fifty dollars a week, for the privilege of being fed on skim-milk and lettuce leaves until the engorged digestive tract rests. The "miracle" is then broadcasted among other suckers who know no better than to stuff themselves with all the skin will endure without bursting—other "cures" are perfected—and the game goes merrily on.

When individuals are well—and wish to remain so, a well balanced diet is necessary—a little of each standard food. Don't feast on potatoes and bread alone because you are afraid of meat; don't load up on sugars and sweets, to the neglect of less enticing foods; for heaven's sake why be a "vegetarian?" Might as well be an "animalcule" or a "cerealist" or any other sort of food faddist! Let me repeat: Take six or eight staple foods; assemble them into groups, the more force-building for breakfast the next for noon meal—and the lightest for evening; and stay by "the well-balanced diet."
