THE NEW ERA

Vol. 41. No. 1. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1929 PRICE FIVE CENTS.

ORGANIZATION OF RIVERTON COUNCIL

Mayor Approves of Zoning, Riverton Will Then be on Safe Side

The Riverton Borough Council met at noon on New Year's Day to effect organization.

Mayor Rogers welcomed the new members of that body, Messrs. Clelland and Delaney, and briefly outlined some suggestions for the coming year.

The Mayor recommended that the streets be oiled again next year to preserve and further improve the surface secured by oiling this year. He pointed out that some of the streets might be paved with permanent highways in the future. He thought that such improvement should be paid for entirely by the abutting property owners, the borough paying only for intersections.

In referring to zoning, the Mayor said he had been authorized to appoint a zoning commission and believed a majority of the residents were in favor of the protection to property that would be secured by a proper zoning ordinance. The total cost of zoning had been estimated at not more than $2500, and could probably be done for $2000.

Mayor Rogers pointed out that the effect of the completion of the Tacony-Palmyra bridge on this vicinity was an unknown quantity, but that if Riverton was protected by a zoning ordinance it would be on the safe side.

He expressed the hope that borough expenditures would be kept down to the minimum, but also said that drastic cuts in the tax rate could not be made and still provide the borough with the improvements necessary to make it an attractive place in which to live.

He advised the chairmen of committees to watch their expenditures during the early months of the year so that their appropriations might see them through without a deficit.

HANDSOME BANNER GIVEN TO I. O. O. F.

Ladies' Auxiliary Surprise Members With Beautiful and Appropriate Gift

It seems that the Ladies' Auxiliary of Cinnaminson Lodge No. 201, I. O. O. F., are constantly looking after the interest of the Order and delight in seeing just how they can supply those things which the Lodge needs but unfortunately is not in a position to purchase. In other words what might be termed an "ideal gift."

This year at the regular Christmas Party tendered the Lodge by the Auxiliary Mrs. Everett Wiggins, president, presented in behalf of the Auxiliary a handsome satin banner of the Order to the Lodge. Something which has been lacking in its paraphernalia since its institution and something which had been wished for for years. It was accepted by Noble Grand Harry Fish for the Lodge with deep appreciation. The gift was doubly appreciated by the wisdom of choice and practical selection which the ladies displayed aside from their thoughtfulness for the lodge.

The Lodge elected the following officers who will preside during the coming nine months, instead of six, which becomes necessary through the recent change in the terms of the Grand Lodge: Noble Grand, C. William Rudolph; Vice Grand, Harry Curry; Warder, Charles Freiberg; Recording Secretary, Richard A. Woolman; Financial Secretary, Howard Elliott.

BORDENTOWN TO HAVE LOWER WATER RATES

Municipally Owned Plant Is Able To Operate More Efficiently After Installation of New Equipment

A ten per cent reduction on all water charges will be made in Bordentown starting with the new year, according to an announcement from George C. Zeller, director of public works for Bordentown city.

The reduction will affect all individuals and industries served by the Bordentown Water Company, which is owned and operated by the city.

The cut will make the local water rates among the lowest in the river-front towns, according to Zeller. The decision to cut the rates was made a month ago by the water director and city commissioners.

Zeller declared the reduction was made possible by a reduced cost of operation brought about by the installation of new machinery in the water plant. The machinery included a Diesel engine, a new pump and other devices aimed to cut the operating expenses. It is believed a further reduction may be made possible in another year. The water company serves both Bordentown city and township.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON ICY STREETS

Palmyra Woman's Car Overturns; Riverton Bus Driver in Triple Crash

The icy condition of the surfaces of the paved roads in Palmyra and Riverton was responsible for two minor accidents last week.

Mrs. C. W. Lowden, 916 Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, received cuts and bruises about the face when her machine overturned on the Burlington Pike last Friday morning. The machine skidded on the smooth roadway and overturned when it struck the curb. Mrs. Lowden crawled from beneath the overturned car unassisted and refused to go to a hospital. She received first aid treatment at the offices of Rice and Holman, Merchantville, where she is employed as a bookkeeper.

Two automobiles were damaged but no one was injured in a three-cornered collision at River road and Lennox avenue, Delair, last Thursday afternoon.

The accident happened when a Penn-Jersey bus driven by A. J. Willie, of 505 Cinnaminson street, Riverton, collided with a car driven by Simon Goldstein, of Fork Landing road, Maple Shade. Goldstein lost control of his machine and it crashed into a parked car belonging to Oliver Cannon, of 429 Engard avenue, Delair.

Willie and Goldstein were both going towards Camden and blamed each other for the accident. No arrests were made.

CHAUTAUQUA HERE JANUARY 12 TO 15

Unusually Fine Program Will be Presented This Year

Something just a little different is promised at P. O. S. of A. Hall when Chautauqua comes to Palmyra and Riverton this year, January 12 to 15. Among the most attractive of the new features will be the new comedy success "Take My Advice," which boasts of a run of several months in the Belmont Theatre in New York.

That this new play is meritorious is evidenced from these few lines taken from the New York Journal's review of the performance: "It started with chuckles. They swelled into giggles. Then the first night audience at the Belmont Theatre last night burst into uproarious laughter as a clever young prep school professor, with a flair for modern psychology, rescued the Weaver family—ma, son, daughter—from the machinations of two swindlers."

Bud Weaver, a callow youth of seventeen, quits school to marry a siren "old enough to be his mother." She has been in town a month and has been engaged to every eligible man in the village. Bud's mother, a widow, has the "fountain pen" itch and signs on the dotted line for every fake stock salesman who shows her a prospectus. Mrs. Weaver is also a faddist, whose craze for numbers gets everybody into trouble and furnishes the leads for many amusing lines.

A faker is trying for a consideration of $1,000, to enroll Bud's sister in a dramatic school. Mariella Scotte, a suave saleslady of oil stock, is the villian of the piece.

With the swindlers all set for the "killing," Professor Clements arrives to advice Bud against leaving school, and, through his psychological leanings, to lead the family back to the path of common sense and win a bride for himself.

Season tickets—Adults, $2.00; Juniors $1.00.

NOTICE

The assessments for the coming year, 1929, have been completed. Anyone desiring to ascertain their 1929 assessment may do so by calling at the home of the Assessor, 705 Garfield avenue, before January 11, 1929.

J. H. HARTLEY, Assessor.

RIVERTON COUNCIL WINDS UP YEAR

Bills Paid, Money Transferred, and Odds and Ends Cleaned Up

An adjourned meeting of the Riverton Borough Council was held last Thursday evening for the purpose of clearing up the Borough's business for 1928.

A resolution presented by Councilman Bartley was passed authorizing council to borrow $2,000 on a tax revenue note. The resolution was offered by Councilman Lynch and seconded by Councilman Williams.

The report of C. Kenneth Davis, borough collector and treasurer, was received as was also the report of the finances committee submitted by Councilman Bartley, chairman.

Finance Committee Charman Bartley offered a resolution to transfer money from accounts showing a balance to those that were overdrawn which was unanimously passed.

A letter was read from John D Follett, scoutmaster, referring to the condition of the large town flag. Mr Follett said the flag was badly in need of repairs before further use.

Mayor Howard Rogers instructed Councilman Williams, chairman of the borough property committee, to take care of the matter. It was decided to purchase a new flag.

The matter of roads being repaired when they were opened for underground work was brought before council, and Thomas avenue, south of the railroad, was mentioned in particular. This portion of the avenue has an asphalt road surface which was opened in several places for the installation of new gas street lights. Some of these holes have settled below the road surface and in time will become a hazard to motorists. Councilman Williams said that he would look into the matter.

The Riverton-Palmyra Water Company and Bell Telephone Company, were also mentioned as offenders in this respect.

Inasmuch as Main street, Riverton, is a county road, Councilman Williams moved that the Burlington County Board of Freeholders be written a letter asking them to see that all openings on this street be properly repaired. The instance cited in this case was the depression in the road in front of the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company. This resolution was carried and the clerk instructed to write the letter.

During the discussion it was suggested that overseer of the highways, Ogden H. Mattis, be instructed to see that all openings in the borough streets are properly repaired before returning the bond money, and that this money should be kept to aid in defreying the expenses on repairs if it is not properly done by the person who opens the street.

Councilman Lynch and Welsh, whose terms have expired, expressed their appreciation of the cooperation given them during their terms in the Riverton Borough Council.

Mayor Howard M. Rogers said that he was sorry to see the two councilmen step out of active service in borough affairs as they had both contributed their time and energy to the work of the committees of which they were members.

The following bills were ordered paid:

DIVORCE

A recommendation of divorce was made by Vice Chancellor Leaming of the Camden Chancery Court last week in the case of Stanley E. Black and his wife, Almira Black, of Palmyra. After hearing the evidence against the wife Leaming said, "This Court has no right to close its eyes to the inevitable and will advise a decree of divorce." Black is employed as a letter carrier at the Palmyra post office.

A man saved from a fire wrote his rescuer a poem. What a way to respond to kindness!

Sapeloe Island Scene of Coolidge Vacation

Howard E. Coffin, owner of Sapeloe Island, off the coast of Georgia, invited President Coolidge to spend his vacation there. This picture gives a view of the Coffin mansion. Sapeloe Island has excellent fishing waters, abounds in tropical vegetation and is rich in history, as it was a rendezvous for the early Spanish explorers and settlers.

ROTARIANS SANTA TO FORTY-KIDDIES

Annual Christmas Party a Huge Success Despite the Illness of Many Members

Despite the fact that many of the members of the Palmyra and Riverton Rotary Club were visited by the prevalent "Flu" at the Yule Tide, which for a time imperiled the Annual Christmas Party, for the underprivileged boys, it was held last Thursday evening with great success.

About forty boys of Palmyra and Riverton were dined in regular Christmas fashion in front of a handsomely decorated and illuminated tree, and the huge fire place strewn with stockings filled with those palatable goodies that tickle the taste of the kiddies.

But the party could not have been complete without the usual caroling by the boys who entered into this part of the program with zest and enjoyment.

"Bish" Lockett, Chaplain of the Club, then told the story of the most popular book, "The Bible." Not only did his "little" audience listen with intense interest, but his "large" audience as well, and his story carefully prepared and wisely arranged, was heartily appreciated by the entire assemblage.

President "Joe" Low also addressed the boys on the theme of "How to Become a Good Rotarian." In his discourse he emulated the qualifications that go to make a good Rotarian, all of which could be seen to deeply impress and have the desired effect upon his listeners.

Following another period of singing by the boys, they were then invited to entertain the Rotarians in whatever way their talent directed. This they did willingly and very entertainingly particularly when they found that this was a requirement in order that they may attach themselves to the gifts and heavily ladened stockings that awaited them.

This proved one of the most amazing features of the evening for the Rotary members. Being entirely extemporaneous, each performer became a surprise. Not only was his particular "stunt" amusing but the confident and thorough manner in which he performed.

As a fitting climax to a very enjoyable evening, a "money scramble" was conducted, which netted each boy a spug sum.

"El" Thum, Chairman of the Program Committee, "Joe" Evans, Chairman of the Boy's Work Committee and "Boots" Lever were all highly commended upon the success of the Christmas Party which proved to be one of the most enjoyable evenings on the yearly program.

To add to the pleasure of their Christmas, the Club also contributed literally a load of practical food supplies for Christmas baskets and $20.00 in cash, all of which were turned over to the Welfare Federation of Palmyra and Riverton for distribution.

Stradling — Sheibley

Miss Clara A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E Sheibley, of Riverton, and Rev. Albert H. Stradling, of Philadelphia, were married Saturday, December 29, at 4.30 in the Berachah Church, 17th and Allegheny avenue, Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed by Dr. William L. Pettingill, of Wilmington, Del.

The bride wore a white crepe-roma dress with Madonna veil of tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert A. Moody, as matron of honor, who was dressed in orchid crepe-roma and wore a metal hat. Her bouquet wa sof ophelia roses.

The Rev. Herbert Hoag, assistant pastor of Berachah Church, was best man.

The ushers were Robert A. Moody, a brother-in-law of the bride, Messrs. William Anderson, John Anderson, George Eberhardt, David McCaig and William Wright, friends of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Ruth Peterson Bell played the wedding march and other selections.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Stradling were students of the Philadelphia School of Bible. On February 7 they expect to sail for Panajachel, Guatemala, Central America, where they will take up their work as missionaries, under the Central American Mission.

A Washington family had four sets of twins in seven years. Another case of seven years of plenty.

NEW PHONE RATES EFFECTIVE FEB. 1

Charges to be Lower For Day Calls; Night Schedule Unchanged

A reduction in day rates for telephone calls to points between 130 and 1,500 miles distant will become effective February 1, it was announced today by I. A. Fritchman, manager for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

The reduction is being made by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which operates long lines of the Bell System, and will be made available to New Jersey people through the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

Mr Fritchman said that estimated saving to the public of more than $5,000,000 yearly is expected to result from the reduced rates which are in keeping with the policy of the Bell System to furnish the best possible service at the least cost consistent with financial safety.

The new rate schedule will cut from 5 cents to 25 cents from charges for station-to-station calls between points from 130 to 1,500 miles apart. Middle distance rates will have reductions as high as thirteen per cent. Evening and night rates will remain at the present levels.

For example, a call from Newark to Cleveland will be reduced in cost from $1.95 to $1.70. A Newark-Chicago call will cost $2.75 instead of $3.00; one from Atlantic City to Cleveland $1.80 instead of the present charge of $2.05, etc.

Separate rates for appointment and messenger service will be dropped under the new schedule, these services to be offered after February 1 at regular person-to-person rates.

Several influences have made possible this reduction in rates, according to Manager Fritchman. One is the increasing recognition by people everywhere of the advantages of the telephone for business and social communication between distant points, resulting in greater use of long distance telephone facilities. This has been stimulated by continuous improvement in the speed and ease with which out-of-town calls may be made. More than ninety per cent of these calls now are handled while the subscriber remains at the telephone.

With the increasing use of the telephone has taken place a substantial growth in the nation-wide network of cables carrying long distance messages represented in 1928 by construction of 1,500 additional miles of such cable between principal cities, a record addition in telephone history.

The rate reduction is the third within two years and four months. The last became effective December 1, 1927, on calls over 450 miles long and resulted in a saving of $1,500,000 to telephone users during 1928. A previous reduction October 1, 1926, represented a yearly saving of $3,000,000.

CANCEL MORTGAGE ON CHAPTER HOME

Luncheon Held to Celebrate Final Payment on Loan

The Annis Stockton Chapter, D. A. R., of Burlington, held a luncheon on Monday, December 10, to receive from the Building and Loan Association, their cancelled mortgage on the Chapter House, on East Pearl street.

After a few remarks of welcome by the Chapter regent, Mrs. Joseph M. Roberts, Miss Haines, as secretary of the association, gave a very interesting talk showing the advantage of belonging to the loan and in time owning your own home.

The regent then introduced Mrs. Henry Ward, State chairman of historical research; Mrs. Wellington Bechtel, of Haddonfield; Mrs. Hunt of Pemberton; Mrs. Rue, of Lansdowne, Pa., all regents of their Chapters, who brought greetings and cheer. Mrs. J. Fithian Tatem, of Haddonfield, brought cheer and encouragement from her Chapter. Mrs. Fred Blackburn, the first secretary, gave a very interesting account of the early days of buying the house.

The historian, Mrs. Sherman Borden, gave a short history of the house, which was built in 1685.

Mrs. David G. Baird spoke on how and why this particular house was bought by the Daughters. Mrs. R. Selby Williams read an account of the life of Annis Stockton, wife of Richard Stockton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Mrs. Baird then told how the Chapter came to choose Mrs. Stockton's name for the Chapter.

A beautiful basket of flowers was presented by the treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Unland, from the Chapter to their retiring regent, Mrs. Roberts, who has served the Chapter for three years.

ROAD FIGHT WON BY MOORESTOWN

Township Notified That New Route Will Run to South of Town

The State of New Jersey State Highway Commission has just officially announced its decision to construct State Highway Route No. 38, to the south of Moorestown.

Thus at last settles a long and somewhat heated controversy, and meets the wishes of the large majority of the Moorestown residents and taxpayers. It is the route originally selected by the Chamber of Commerce and advocated at the first public meeting held in the Community House, but was discouraged by the State officials as being too expensive.

They later suggested that the highway run north of the railroad and necessitate Central avenue as part of it. This was vigorously opposed at a mass meeting, by the residents of that street. Several other routes were suggested. Mount Holly and Maple Shade wanted it to take in the Moorestown and Mount Holly pike. This was also fought, by Moorestown residents.

The Moorestown Art, Park and Zoning Commission, which favored the southern route, secured the consent of the property owners along the south of Moorestown to donate land for the highway. They armed they attended the public hearing at Trenton and won the fight as will be seen by a letter from A. Lee Grover, secretary of the State Highway Commission, addressed to Township Clerk Charles Lacesie. The communication, dated December 27, follows:

"I am directed by the State Highway Commission to forward to you the enclosed certified copy of resolution adopted by the Commission at its meeting held on the 18th instant, taking over for the purpose of construction State Highway Route No. 38 from Camden to East Hampton."

NEW COUNCILMEN TAKE OFFICE

Charles N. Buckholz and Frank A. Snover Sworn in at Noonday Session

The Palmyra Borough Council was organized in the Independence Fire House, Palmyra, at twelve o'clock noon on New Year's Day according to law. Mayor George N. Wilner made the appointment of George J. Spencer as Clerk and Mr. Spencer was sworn into his office by Solicitor Joseph S. Low.

The newly elected members of Council, Charles N. Buckolz and Frank A. Snover, were then called to the front and the oath of office administered to them by the Clerk. They were then invited by the Mayor to take their seats with the other members of Council.

Nominations for President of Council were then in order and Julius Fisher nominated Arthur B. Cramer. No other nominations being received, Mr. Cramer was unanimously elected.

Appointments Approved

The Mayor then presented the following appointments for the various offices and they were unanimously approved.

Clerk, George J. Spencer; Solicitor, Joseph S. Low, Overseer of Poor, Harry J. Saar; Building Inspector, John A. Eichner, Jr.; Engineers, Remington and Vosbury; Physician, Dr. Dean H. LeFavor, Recorder, William J. Fichter; Chief of Police, C. Morris Beck; Marshals, Joseph H. Rodgers, Nelson Wallace, Lawrence Betty; Constables, C. Morris Beck, Joseph H. Rodgers, Nelson Wallace, Lawrence Betty; Superintendent of Disposal Plant, Rudolph Brickenbein; Superintendent of Highways, Harry Karn, Auditor, William H. Wecker, Delinquent Tax Collector, Lawrence Betty; Poundkeeper, William Young, Board of Health, Charles K. Mervine, DeWitt Morris, Dean H. LeFavor, Shade Tree Commission, William R. Gerkins, John E. Morton and Howard J. Showers; Special Officers, Charles W. Lutz, Harry Kemmerle, Jr., John B. Horton, Joseph L. Stack, James H. Hartley, Fremont Truman, Rudolph Strickenbein, Harry Karn, Richard P. Furman, H. Chester Watson, William Young and Edward Roberts.

Resolutions Passed

Resolutions were adopted setting forth the Independence Fire House as the place and the third Tuesday of each month as the time of meeting of Council.

Other resolutions covering bonds, depository of funds, etc., were passed by unanimous vote. Council then adjourned to meet the third Tuesday in January in regular session.

The annual dance of the Riverton Fire Co. was held Monday evening in the firehouse. Music was furnished by Heinrich's orchestra of Riverside. A goodly attendance enjoyed the dance and games and the boys welcomed the New Year noisily with the siren and gongs.

ASKS COUNTY AID FOR SPUR FROM PALMYRA BRIDGE

Parry Delegation Attends Meeting Friday to Lay Request Before Board

DIRECTOR STOUT APPROVES PROJECT

Curwen B. Fisher, Head of Department Makes Final Report

A delegation from Cinnaminson township, headed by Lester Steele, attended the meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Friday and asked the county board to lend its support in requesting the State Highway Commission to run a spur from the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge boulevard, which will be a new state highway, to Cinnaminson avenue, between the outskirts of Palmyra and the Burlington Pike.

The matter was referred to Freeholder Stout director of roads. Mr. Stout said the spur was a practical thing as Pave Points has been distributing point for South Jersey traffic for many years and much of the bridge traffic would come out that way, relieving the probability of confusion on the boulevard during the busy season.

He also said he felt the Board of Freeholders should back the proposition. Mr. Stout was instructed to investigate the matter more thoroughly with the county engineer and render a report at a early date.

Action was taken by the board last Friday to do away with the dangerous curve in the county road at the entrance to Browns Mills on the Browns Mills and Lakehurst road. Freeholder Stout stated that he had inspected that portion of the road and had opened negotiations with Daniel R. Lennon, the owner of the adjoining property, by which sufficient land could be purchased for $500 to take the bad corner out of the road and assure safety to travel. A resolution was unanimously adopted sanctioning the action of Mr. Stout and ordering the purchase of the land.

County engineer Smith reported the Wading River Bridge would be complete within the next week and the contracting company has invited the Board and other county officials to inspect the bridge at their convenience. The Board decided on Wednesday, January 2 for the inspection, after which they would be guests of the builders at a dinner in the Tuckerton Hotel.

Fisher's Report

The third annual and final report of Curwen B. Fisher, director of department of bridges, was received. Mr. Fisher's term expired December 31st, 1928. The report follows:

To the Board of Freeholders of the County of Burlington.
Gentlemen:

It is with a sense of relief, as well as of regret that I present this my final report. It is relief from weighty responsibilities, for I have taken the problems of my task most seriously. There is sincere regret that I must now part company and business relations with men whom I have learned to esteem highly. Especially do I regret severing the ties that have bound us together as a Board. We have worked together in delightful harmony, with earnest, purposeful zeal, for the highest interests of the County. I feel that I owe much to the business men with whom I have thus been associated. They have given their best in service to and in carrying out a program of constructive work both in material and governmental conducive to permanency, utility and completeness.

I hand over to my successor whomsoever he may be, the responsibilities of the department with the assurance that his task will be lighter than mine has been. It was my lot to assume my duties at the most critical period in our county's history. The rapid development of motor vehicles and the consequent transfer of much of the freight business from railroads to gigantic trucks running over our highways brought upon us an immediate and unprepared-for acid test of every bridge in the entire county. I am happy to say that the department has met the demand. Through the splendid cooperation of our engineers and the trained and conscientious workmen, we have been able to keep pace without the loss of property, life or limb. Instances are on record where inspection revealed conditions that made us almost tremble with apprehension of danger that, unperceived, lurked in rotting timbers and flimsy construction or in disintegrating materials by reason of the dishonesty of some contractor whose name and deeds are buried in oblivion.

Friendship of the Future.

I take to myself no credit for skill or wisdom, but simply record to possession of a good concience, and the knowledge that I have given the best that is in me in true service of time and energy to my department, ever striving for the highest interests of the burdened tax-paying public. I might have made friends of a few by farming out little jobs for votes. Rather, I prefer the friendship of the future that I trust may accure to me through the more superior work accomplished. I am in no sense a politician according to the currently accepted term. I despise the methods of the political demagogue and men

THE NEW ERA

Vol. 41, No. 1. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1929 PRICE FIVE CENTS

ORGANIZATION OF RIVERTON COUNCIL

Mayor Approves of Zoning, Riverton Will Then be on Safe Side

The Riverton Borough Council met at noon on New Year's Day to effect organization.

Mayor Rogers welcomed the new members of that body, Messrs. Clelland and Delaney, and briefly outlined some suggestions for the coming year.

The Mayor recommended that the streets be oiled again next year to preserve and further improve the surface secured by oiling this year. He pointed out that some of the streets might be paved with permanent highways in the future, but thought that such improvement should be paid for entirely by the abutting property owners, the borough paying only for intersections.

In referring to zoning, the Mayor said he had been authorized to appoint a zoning commission and believed a majority of the residents were in favor of the protection to property that would be secured by a proper zoning ordinance. The total cost of zoning had been estimated at not more than $2500, and could probably be done for $2000.

Mayor Rogers pointed out that the effect of the completion of the Tacony-Palmyra bridge on this vicinity was an unknown quantity, but that if Riverton was protected by a zoning ordinance it would be on the safe side.

He expressed the hope that borough expenditures would be kept down to the minimum, but also said that drastic cuts in the tax rate could not be made and still provide the borough with the improvements necessary to make it an attractive place in which to live.

He advised the chairmen of committees to watch their expenditures during the early months of the year so that their appropriations might see them through without a deficit.

The Shade Tree Commission is the same as last year—James S. Coale, Mrs. Adelaide Biddle, Rev. Arthur S. Lewis.

The Borough Council meets the second Thursday night in each month in the Riverton Fire House.

HANDSOME BANNER GIVEN TO I. O. O. F.

Ladies' Auxiliary Surprise Members With Beautiful and Appropriate Gift

It seems that the Ladies' Auxiliary of Cinnaminson Lodge No. 201, I. O. O. F., are constantly looking after the interest of the Order and delight in seeing just how they can supply those things which the Lodge needs but unfortunately is not in a position to purchase. In other words what might be termed an "ideal gift."

This year at the regular Christmas Party tendered the Lodge by the Auxiliary Mrs. Everett Wiggins, president, presented in behalf of the Auxiliary a handsome satin banner of the Order to the Lodge. Something which has been lacking in its paraphernalia since its institution and something which had been wished for for years. It was accepted by Noble Grand Harry Fsh for the Lodge with deep appreciation. The gift was doubly appreciated by the wisdom of choice and practical selection which the ladies displayed aside from their thoughtfulness for the lodge.

The Lodge elected the following officers who will preside during the coming nine months, instead of six, which becomes necessary through the recent change in the terms of the Grand Lodge: Noble Grand, C. William Rudolph; Vice Grand, Harry Curry; Warder, Charles Freiberg; Recording Secretary, Richard A. Woolman; Financial Secretary, Howard Elliott.

BORDENTOWN TO HAVE LOWER WATER RATES

Municipally Owned Plant Is Able To Operate More Efficiently After Installation of New Equipment

A ten per cent reduction on all water charges will be made in Bordentown starting with the new year, according to an announcement from George C. Zeller, director of public works for Bordentown city.

The reduction will affect all individuals and industries served by the Bordentown Water Company, which is owned and operated by the city.

The cut will make the local water rates among the lowest in the river-front towns, according to Zeller. The decision to cut the rates was made a month ago by the water director and city commissioners.

Zeller declared the reduction was made possible by a reduced cost of operation brought about by the installation of new machinery in the water plant. The machinery included a Diesel engine, a new pump and other devices aimed to cut the operating expenses. It is believed a further reduction may be made possible in another year. The water company serves both Bordentown city and township.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON ICY STREETS

Palmyra Woman's Car Overturns; Riverton Bus Driver in Triple Crash

The icy condition of the surfaces of the paved roads in Palmyra and Riverton was responsible for two minor accidents last week.

Mrs. C. W. Lowden, 916 Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, received cuts and bruises about the face when her machine overturned on the Burlington Pike last Friday morning. The machine skidded on the smooth roadway and overturned when it struck the curb. Mrs. Lowden crawled from beneath the overturned car unassisted and refused to go to a hospital. She received first aid treatment at the offices of Rice and Holman, Merchantville, where she is employed as a bookkeeper.

Two automobiles were damaged but no one was injured in a three-cornered collision at River road and Lennox avenue, Delair, last Thursday afternoon.

The accident happened when a Penn-Jersey bus driven by A. J. Wilfe, of 505 Cinnaminson street, Riverton, collided with a car driven by Simon Goldstein, of Fork Landing road, Maple Shade. Goldstein lost control of his machine and it crashed into a parked car belonging to Oliver Canton, of 429 Engard avenue, Delair.

Wilfe and Goldstein were both going towards Camden and blamed each other for the accident. No arrests were made.

CHAUTAUQUA HERE JANUARY 12 TO 15

Unusually Fine Program Will be Presented This Year

Something just a little different is promised at P. O. S. of A. Hall when Chautauqua comes to Palmyra and Riverton this year, January 12 to 15. Among the most attractive of the new features will be the new comedy success "Take My Advice," which boasts of a run of several months in the Belmont Theatre in New York.

That this new play is meritorious is evidenced from these few lines taken from the New York Journal's review of the performance: "It started with chuckles. They swelled into giggles. Then the first night audience at the Belmont Theatre last night burst into uproarious laughter as a clever young prep school professor, with a flair for modern psychology, rescued the Weaver family—ma, son, daughter—from the machinations of two swindlers."

Bud Weaver, a callow youth of seventeen, quits school to marry a siren "old enough to be his mother." She has been in town a month and has been engaged to every eligible man in the village. Bud's mother, a widow, has the "fountain pen" itch and signs on the dotted line for every fake stock salesman who shows her a prospectus. Mrs. Weaver is also a faddist, whose craze for numbers gets everybody into trouble and furnishes the leads for many amusing lines.

A faker is trying for a consideration of $1,000, to enroll Bud's sister in a dramatic school. Mariella Scotte, a suave saleslady of oil stock, is the villian of the piece.

With the swindlers all set for the "killing," Professor Clements arrives to advice Bud against leaving school, and, through his psychological leanings, to lead the family back to the path of common sense and win a bride for himself.

Season tickets—Adults, $2.00; Juniors $1.00.

NOTICE

The assessments for the coming year, 1929, have been completed. Anyone desiring to ascertain their 1929 assessment may do so by calling at the home of the Assessor, 705 Garfield avenue, before January 11, 1929.

RIVERTON COUNCIL WINDS UP YEAR

Bills Paid, Money Transferred, and Odds and Ends Cleaned Up

An adjourned meeting of the Riverton Borough Council was held last Thursday evening for the purpose of clearing up the Borough's business for 1928.

A resolution presented by Councilman Bartley was passed authorizing council to borrow $2,000 on a tax revenue note. The resolution was offered by Councilman Lynch and seconded by Councilman Williams.

The report of C. Kenneth Davis, borough collector and treasurer, was received as was also the report of the finance committee submitted by Councilman Bartley, chairman.

Finance Committee Chairman Bartley offered a resolution to transfer money from accounts showing a balance to those that were overdrawn which was unanimously passed.

A letter was read from John D Follett, scoutmaster, referring to the condition of the large town flag. Mr. Follett said the flag was badly in need of repairs before further use.

Mayor Howard Rogers instructed Councilman Williams, chairman of the borough property committee, to take care of the matter. It was decided to purchase a new flag.

The matter of roads being repaired when they were opened for underground work was brought before council, and Thomas avenue, south of the railroad, was mentioned in particular. This portion of the avenue has an asphalt road surface which was opened in several places for the installation of new gas street lights. Some of these holes have settled below the road surface and in time will become a hazard to motorists. Councilman Williams said that he would look into the matter.

The Riverton-Palmyra Water Company and Bell Telephone Company, were also mentioned as offenders in this respect.

Inasmuch as Main street, Riverton, is a county road, Councilman Williams moved that the Burlington County Board of Freeholders be written a letter asking them to see that all openings on this street be properly repaired. The instance cited in this case was the depression in the road in front of the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company. This resolution was carried and the clerk instructed to write the letter.

During the discussion it was suggested that overseer of the highways, Ogden H. Mattis, be instructed to see that all openings in the borough streets are properly repaired before returning the bond money, and that this money should be kept to aid in defraying the expenses on repairs if it is not properly done by the person who opens the street.

Councilman Lynch and Welsh, whose terms have expired, expressed their appreciation of the cooperation given them during their terms in the Riverton Borough Council.

Mayor Howard M. Rogers said that he was sorry to see the two councilmen step out of active service in borough affairs as they had both contributed their time and energy to the work of the committees of which they were members.

The following bills were ordered paid:

DIVORCE

A recommendation of divorce was made by Vice Chancellor Leaming of the Camden Chancery Court last week in the case of Stanley E. Black and his wife, Almira Black, of Palmyra. After hearing the evidence against the wife Leaming said, "This Court has no right to close its eyes to the inevitable and will advise a decree of divorce." Black is employed as a letter carrier at the Palmyra post office.

A man saved from a fire wrote his rescuer a poem. What a way to respond to kindness!

Sapeloe Island Scene of Coolidge Vacation

Howard E. Coffin, owner of Sapeloe Island, off the coast of Georgia, invited President Coolidge to spend his vacation there. This picture gives a view of the Coffin mansion. Sapeloe Island has excellent fishing waters, abounds in tropical vegetation and is rich in history, as it was a rendezvous for the early Spanish explorers and settlers.

ROTARIANS SANTA TO FORTY-KIDDIES

Annual Christmas Party a Huge Success Despite the Illness of Many Members

Despite the fact that many of the members of the Palmyra and Riverton Rotary Club were visited by the prevalent "Flu" at the Yule Tide, which for a time imperilled the Annual Christmas Party, for the underprivileged boys, it was held last Thursday evening with great success.

About forty boys of Palmyra and Riverton were dined in regular Christmas fashion in front of a handsomely decorated and illuminated tree, and the huge fire place strewn with stockings filled with those palatable goodies that tickle the taste of the kiddies.

But the party could not have been complete without the usual carolling by the boys who entered into this part of the program with zest and enjoyment.

"Bish" Lockett, Chaplain of the Club, then told the story of the most popular book, "The Bible." Not only did his "little" audience listen with intense interest, but his "large" audience as well, and his story carefully prepared and wisely arranged, was heartily appreciated by the entire assemblage.

President "Joe" Low also addressed the boys on the theme of "How to Become a Good Rotarian." In his discourse he emulated the qualifications that go to make a good Rotarian, all of which could be seen to deeply impress and have the desired effect upon his listeners.

Following another period of singing by the boys, they were then invited to entertain the Rotarians in whatever way their talent directed. This they did willingly and very entertainingly particularly when they found that this was a requirement in order that they may attach themselves to the gifts and heavily laden stockings that awaited them.

This proved one of the most amazing features of the evening for the Rotary members. Being entirely extemporaneous, each performer became a surprise. Not only was his particular "stunt" amusing but the confident and thorough manner in which he performed.

As a fitting climax to a very enjoyable evening, a "money scramble" was conducted, which netted each boy a snug sum.

"Ed" Thum, Chairman of the Program Committee, "Joe" Evans, Chairman of the Boy's Work Committee and "Boots" Lever were all highly commended upon the success of the Christmas Party which proved to be one of the most enjoyable evenings on the yearly program.

To add to the pleasure of their Christmas, the Club also contributed literally a load of practical food supplies for Christmas baskets and $29.00 in cash, all of which were turned over to the Welfare Federation of Palmyra and Riverton for distribution.

Stradling — Sheibley

Miss Clara A., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Sheibley, of Riverton, and Rev. Albert H. Stradling, of Philadelphia, were married Saturday, December 29, at 4:30 in the Berachah Church, 17th and Allegheny avenue, Philadelphia. The ceremony was performed by Dr. William L. Pettingill, of Wilmington, Del.

The bride wore a white crepe-roma dress with Madonna veil of tulle, and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Robert A. Moody, as matron of honor, who was dressed in orchid crepe-roma and wore a metal hat. Her bouquet wa sof ophelia roses.

The Rev. Herbert Hoag, assistant pastor of Berachah Church, was best man.

The ushers were Robert A. Moody, a brother-in-law of the bride, Messrs. William Anderson, John Anderson, George Eberhardt, David McCaig and William Wright, friends of the bride and groom.

Mrs. Ruth Peterson Bell played the wedding march and other selections.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Stradling were students of the Philadelphia School of Bible. On February 7 they expect to sail for Panajachel, Guatemala, Central America, where they will take up their work as missionaries, under the Central American Mission.

A Washington family had four sets of twins in seven years. Another case of seven years of plenty.

NEW PHONE RATES EFFECTIVE FEB. 1

Charges to be Lower For Day Calls; Night Schedule Unchanged

A reduction in day rates for telephone calls to points between 130 and 1,500 miles distant will become effective February 1, it was announced today by L. A. Fritchman, manager for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

The reduction is being made by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, which operates long lines of the Bell System, and will be made available to New Jersey people through the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

Mr Fritchman said that estimated saving to the public of more than $5,000,000 yearly is expected to result from the reduced rates, which are in keeping with the policy of the Bell System to furnish the best possible service at the least cost consistent with financial safety.

The new rate schedule will cut from 5 cents to 25 cents from charges for station-to-station calls between points from 130 to 1,500 miles apart. Middle distance rates will have reductions as high as thirteen per cent. Evening and night rates will remain at the present levels.

For example a call from Newark to Cleveland will be reduced in cost from $1.95 to $1.70. A Newark-Chicago call will cost $2.75 instead of $3.00; one from Atlantic City to Cleveland $1.30 instead of the present charge of $1.95, etc.

Separate rates for appointment and messenger service will be dropped under the new schedule, these services to be offered after February 1 at regular person-to-person rates.

Several influences have made possible this reduction in rates, according to Manager Fritchman. One is the increasing recognition by people everywhere of the advantages of the telephone for business and social communication between distant points, resulting in greater use of long distance telephone facilities. This has been stimulated by continuous improvement in the speed and ease with which out-of-town calls may be made. More than ninety per cent of these calls now are handled while the subscriber remains at the telephone.

With this increasing use of the telephone has taken place a substantial growth in the nationwide network of cables carrying long distance messages, represented in 1928 by construction of 1,500 additional miles of such cable between principal cities, a record addition in telephone history.

The rate reduction is the third within two years and four months. The first became effective December 1, 1927, on calls over 450 miles long and resulted in a saving of $1,500,000 to telephone users during 1928. A previous reduction October 1, 1926 represented a yearly saving of $5,000,000.

CANCEL MORTGAGE ON CHAPTER HOME

Luncheon Held to Celebrate Final Payment on Loan

The Annis Stockton Chapter, D. A. R., of Burlington held a luncheon on Monday, December 10, to receive from the Building and Loan Association, their cancelled mortgage on the Chapter House, on East Pearl street.

After a few remarks of welcome by the Chapter regent, Mrs. Joseph M. Roberts, Miss Haines, as secretary of the association, gave a very interesting talk showing the advantage of belonging to the loan, and in time owning your own home.

The regent then introduced Mrs. Henry Ward, State chairman of historical research; Mrs. Wellington Bechtel, of Haddonfield; Mrs. Hunt, of Pemberton; Mrs. Rue, of Lansdowne, Pa., all regents of their Chapters, who brought greetings and cheer. Mrs. J. Fithian Tatem, of Haddonfield, brought cheer and encouragement from her Chapter. Mrs. Fred Blackburn, the first secretary, gave a very interesting account of the early days of buying the house.

The historian, Mrs. Sherman Borden, gave a short history of the house, which was built in 1685.

Mrs. David G. Baird spoke on how and why this particular house was bought by the Daughters. Mrs. R. Selby Williams read an account of the life of Annis Stockton, wife of Richard Stockton, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Mrs. Baird then told how the Chapter came to choose Mrs. Stockton's name for the Chapter.

A beautiful basket of flowers was presented by the treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Unland, from the Chapter to their retiring regent, Mrs. Roberts, who has served the Chapter for three years.

ROAD FIGHT WON BY MOORESTOWN

Township Notified That New Route Will Run to South of Town

The State of New Jersey State Highway Commission has just officially announced its decision to construct State Highway Route No. 38, to the south of Moorestown.

The action settles a long and somewhat heated controversy, and meets the wishes of the large majority of the Moorestown residents and taxpayers. It is the route originally selected by the Chamber of Commerce and accepted at the first public meeting held in the Community House, but was discouraged by the State officials as being too expensive.

They later suggested that the highway run north of the railroad and intersect Central avenue as part of it. This was vigorously opposed at a mass meeting, by the residents of that street. Several other routes were suggested. Mount Holly and Maple Shade wanted it to take in the Mount town and Mount Holly pike. This was also fought by Moorestown residents.

The Moorestown Art Park and Zoning Commission which favored the southern route secured the consent of the property owners along the south of Moorestown to donate land for the highway. This armed they attended the public hearing at Trenton and won the fight as will be seen by a letter from A. Lee Grover, secretary of the State Highway Commission, addressed to Township Clerk Charles Lassle. The communication, dated December 27, follows:

"I am directed by the State Highway Commission to forward to you the enclosed certified copy of resolution adopted by the Commission at its meeting held on the 18th instant, taking over for the purpose of construction State Highway Route No. 38 from Camden to East Hampton."

NEW COUNCILMEN TAKE OFFICE

Charles N. Buckholz and Frank A. Snover Sworn in at Noonday Session

The Palmyra Borough Council was organized in the Independence Fire House, Palmyra, at twelve o'clock noon on New Year's Day according to law. Mayor George N. Wilmer made the appointment of George J. Spencer as Clerk and Mr. Spencer was sworn into his office by Solicitor Joseph S. Low.

The newly elected members of Council, Charles N. Buckolz and Frank A. Snover were then called to the front and the oath of office administered to them by the Clerk. They were then invited by the Mayor to take their seats with the other members of Council.

Nominations for President of Council were then in order and Julius Fisher nominated Arthur B. Cramer. No other nominations being received, Mr. Cramer was unanimously elected.

Appointments Approved

The Mayor then presented the following appointments for the various offices and they were unanimously approved.

Clerk, George J. Spencer; Solicitor, Joseph S. Low; Overseer of Poor, Harry J. Bacz; Building Inspector, John A. Eichner Jr.; Engineers, Hemington and Yerkes; Physician, Dr. Dean H. LeFavor; Recorder, William L. Fichter; Chief of Police, C. Morris Beck; Marshals, Joseph H. Rodgers, Nelson Wallace, Lawrence Betty; Constables, C. Morris Beck, Joseph H. Rodgers, Nelson Wallace, Lawrence Betty; Superintendent of Disposal Plant, Rudolph Strickenbein; Superintendent of Highways, Harry Karn; Auditor, William H. Wecker; Delinquent Tax Collector, Lawrence Betty; Poundkeeper, William Young; Board of Health, Charles K. Merveine, DeWitt Morris, Dean H. LeFavor; Shade Tree Commission, William H. Gerkins, John E. Morton and Howard J. Showers; Special Officers, Charles W. Lutz, Harry Kemmerle, Sr., John B. Horton, Joseph L. Black, James H. Hartley, Fremont Truman, Rudolph Strickenbein, Harry Karn, Richard P. Furman, H. Chester Watson, William Young and Edward Roberts.

Resolutions Passed

Resolutions were adopted setting forth the Independence Fire House as the place and the third Tuesday of each month as the time of meeting of Council.

Other resolutions covering bonds, depository of funds, etc., were passed by unanimous vote. Council then adjourned to meet the third Tuesday in January in regular session.

The annual dance of the Riverton Fire Co. was held Monday evening in the firehouse. Music was furnished by Heinrich's orchestra of Riverside. A goodly attendance enjoyed the dance and games and the boys welcomed the New Year noisily with the siren and gongs.

ASKS COUNTY AID FOR SPUR FROM PALMYRA BRIDGE

Parry Delegation Attends Meeting Friday to Lay Request Before Board

DIRECTOR STOUT APPROVES PROJECT

Curwen B. Fisher, Head of Department Makes Final Report

A delegation from Cinnaminson township, headed by Lester Steele, attended the meeting of the Board of Freeholders last Friday and asked the county board to lend its support in requesting the State Highway Commission to run a spur from the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge boulevard, which will be a new state highway to Cinnaminson avenue, between the outskirts of Palmyra and the Burlington Pike.

The matter was referred to Freeholder Stout, director of roads. Mr. Stout said the spur was a practical thing as Fort Points has been distributing point for South Jersey traffic for many years and much of the bridge traffic would come out that way, relieving the probability of confusion on the boulevard during the busy season.

He also said he felt the Board of Freeholders should back the proposition. Mr. Stout was instructed to investigate the matter more thoroughly with the county engineer and render a report at a early date.

Action was taken by the board last Friday to do away with the dangerous curve in the county road at the entrance to Browns Mill on the Browns Mill and Lakehurst road. Freeholder Stout stated that he had inspected that portion of the road and had opened negotiations with Daniel R. Lemmon, the owner of the adjoining property, by which sufficient land could be purchased for $500 to take the bad corner out of the road and insure safety to travel. A resolution was unanimously adopted sanctioning the action of Mr. Stout and ordering the purchase of the land.

County engineer Smith reported the Watling River Bridge would be complete within the next week and the contracting company has invited the Board and other county officials to inspect the bridge at their convenience. The Board decided on Wednesday, January 2 for the inspection, after which they would be guests of the builders at a dinner in the Tuckerton Hotel.

Fisher's Report

The third annual and last report of Curwen B. Fisher, director of department of bridges, was received Mr. Fisher's term expired December 31st, 1928. The report follows:

To the Board of Freeholders of the County of Burlington, Gentlemen:

It is with a sense of relief, as well as of regret, that I present this my final report. It is relief from a weighty responsibility, for I have taken the problems of my task most seriously. There is sincere regret that I must now part company and business relations with men whom I have learned to esteem highly. Especially do I regret severing the ties that have bound us together as a Board. We have worked together in delightful harmony, with earnest, purposeful zeal for the highest interests of the County. I feel that I owe much to the fairness men with whom I have thus been associated. They have given their best in service to and in carrying out a program of constructive work, both in material and economical, to conclude to permanently utility and completion.

I hand over to my successor whatsoever may be the responsibilities of the department with the assurance that his task will be better than mine has been. It was my lot to assume my duties at the most critical period in our county's history. The rapid development of motor vehicles and the consequent transfer of much of the freight business from railroads to sizable trucks running over our highways brought upon us an immediate and unprepared-for acid test of every bridge in the entire county. I am happy to say that the department has met the demand. Through the splendid co-operation of our engineers and the trained and conscientious workmen, we have been able to keep pace without the loss of property, life or limb. Instances are on record where inspection revealed conditions that made us almost tremble with apprehension of danger that, unperceived, lurked in rotting timbers and flimsy construction or in disintegrating materials by reason of the dishonesty of some contractor whose name and deeds are buried in oblivion.

Friendship of the Future.

I take to myself no credit for skill or wisdom, but simply record to possession of a good conscience, and the knowledge that I have given the best that is in me in true service of time and energy to my department, ever striving for the highest interests of the burdened tax-paying public. I might have made friends of a few by farming out little jobs for votes. Rather, I prefer the friendship of the future that I trust may accure to me through the more superior work accomplished. I am in no sense a politician according to the currently accepted term. I despise the methods of the political demagogue and men

32 ARE GRANTED CITIZEN PAPERS

Florence Man Must Sell Property in Italy and Bring Family Here

Citizenship papers were granted 32 aliens in Burlington County Naturalization Court in Mount Holly last Thursday morning.

Judge William A. Slaughter presided and gave an Italian until April to decide whether he desires to sell his real estate in Italy and bring his wife and four children to this country so that he can become an American citizen. He is Guiseppi Passarelli of Florence.

"If we granted you citizenship papers you would earn money in America on the strength of it and take it back to Italy with you," remarked the court. "There is too much of that being done now.

"Your wife and children should be here with you if you desire to become a citizen. That is the custom in America."

John B. Kuymack was the United States Department of Labor examiner.

Three women were granted citizenship papers and two were given four months to study something about America. Neither one could tell who is the present President of the United States or who will take office next March. Both said Washington.

Neither knew who is governor of the state, or which county they live in or the town in which the Naturalization Court was being held. An aged Burlington man, who said he had been in the country 21 years, did not know who makes the laws of America.

After the 32 had been granted to citizenship they were sworn in by County Clerk William B. Reeve. Then Miss Sarah E. Budd of Mount Holly, presented each new citizen with a silk flag from the New Jersey Society of Colonial Dames of America and a card which bore the following greeting: "Welcome to the Citizenship of the United States and the eclectic name, ugh, please."

Nearly all of the new citizens are from Florence or Roebling where they are employed in either the R. D. Wood iron foundry or the wire works of John A. Roebling Sons Company.

The new citizens are: Frank Wallace Raymond Coleman, John Grider, Noah Abel Potter, John Erhanovski, Jolar Fixmer, Attilal Addari, Guiseppi Grieco, Pearl Niemiec, John Schultz, Balaz Katona, Antonio Konrad, Frank Strazis, Adolfo Giambiura, Henry Martin Paulen, William Holzschuher, Patrick Mahady, Hermin Seliperski, Stanislaw Anuszkowski, Julian Wilinski, Francesco P. Cardagna, Alexander Ziebie, Sarah Marie Cranele, MacFarland, Maud Craven, John Gnath, Sante Morlacca, Sidney Arthur Webb, Mary Jane Curran, Fred McFeeley, Louis Simon and Angelo Cavaliaro.

NEW JERSEY FARM WOMEN TO MEET

A special women's committee representing the agricultural organizations of New Jersey has made extensive preparations in connection with the women's program for the fourteenth annual Agricultural Week to be held here from January 15 to 18. The Women's Day will be continued as in past years, but this will be supplemented with tours, luncheons and meetings at which nationally known speakers will present talks of vital interest to the homemaker.

The program for rural women will begin Thursday evening, January 17, with a banquet for the wives of delegates to the State Agricultural Convention. At this meeting each woman will present her favorite recipe. On Wednesday, the women will attend the Convention. This will be followed by a luncheon at which a compilation of the recipes submitted the night before will be distributed. Mrs. H. B. Hancock of Bridgeton, will speak on "Glimpses of California." At the conclusion of the afternoon session of the Convention the women will be shown the historic spots of Trenton. They will attend the banquet of the New Jersey Federation of County Boards of Agriculture in the evening.

The Women's Day festivities will be held on Thursday, January 17.

Mahon — Faxon

An attractive quiet wedding was that of Miss Catherine Simpson Faxon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred A. Faxon, of Locust street, Moorestown, and Grant Smith Mahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Mahon, of East Second street, Moorestown, which took place in the Grace Episcopal Church, Merchantville, at four o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Edgar L. Binford, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church, Moorestown, officiated, assisted by the Rev. Harold Morse, rector of Grace Church.

Alfred A. Faxon, Jr., gave his sister in marriage.

A period model of ivory satin and veil trimmed with old family Brussels and orange blossoms, arranged with a cap, was worn by the bride. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Josephine Klipple, of Philadelphia, a cousin of the bridegroom, attended the bride as maid of honor, and was gowned in apricot crepe with matching hat trimmed with French blue velvet ribbon. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Eleanor Brooks Mahon, youngest sister of the bridegroom was the flower girl in a dainty blue georgette frock and wearing a cap effect of Brussels lace trimmed with blue ribbon on her head. Her basket was filled with a variety of pink and blue blossoms.

David P. Faxon, a brother of the bride, was best man.

Only members of the immediate families and a few friends attended the wedding after which Mr. and Mrs. Mahon left for a short wedding trip. After February 1 they will be at home at the Wellwood Mahon Apartments, Merchantville.

International Beauties Here on Tour

Among girls picked by their respective countries as outstanding beauties, in the United States on a theatrical tour, are, standing left to right: Mareya, Spanish dancer; Jacqueline Cobra, Miss Spain; Ginette Gaubert, Miss Paris; Angel Joyce, Miss England; Elsie Korin, Miss Austria; Marguerite du Frence, Miss France. In ovals, left to right: Nita Smoleski, Miss Poland; Nathalie Barr, Miss Russia; Kate Reiter, Miss Germany; Joy Ashley, Miss London.

PAUL NOW HEADS COMMUNITY NEWS

Former Member of Courier Staff is Editor of Merchantville Paper

With the issue of last week The Community News, a Merchantville weekly, was published under new ownership. The newspaper, its circulation, good will and publication rights, were purchased by the Paul Publishing Company from Community News, Inc., of which George E. Brewson, Sr., is president.

The newspaper will continue to be published at the present plant which is retained by Brewson. The publication office will remain at the present 3459 Norwood avenue adjoining the Merchantville Safatorium.

William J. Paul, president of the Paul Publishing Co. will fill the offices of publisher and editor under the new ownership. Paul has spent many years in the newspaper business. He was for the past eight years on the force of The Evening Courier, the past six of which he was sole editor.

He is a resident of Pennsauken Township and has spent most of his life in the Merchantville community. There will be no revolutionary changes in the policies or appearance of The Community News, the new editor has announced.

400 KIDDIES ENJOY CHRISTMAS PARTY

Youngsters of Moorestown Treated to Fine Program; Santa Presents Gifts

The line which formed in front of the Moorestown Public School last Friday afternoon when the boys and girls began to gather for the Community Christmas party gave reason to believe the usual Friday afternoon or Saturday evening line outside the Academy of Music waiting for the Philadelphia Orchestra. When the doors finally opened about 400 children filled the auditorium.

Several carols were sung led by Mrs. William Grobler with Mr. Wilkins French as accompanist. Then the children clapped and shouted in the movie style while waiting for the film to be adjusted. Soon they were interestingly absorbed in the story of Old Scrooge and Marley's ghost as it appeared on the screen. The magician then appeared who entertained everyone with so many new and amusing tricks that even the older people present forgot that they were really too old to be mystified. Everyone surely had a wonderful time.

To clap the climax, Santa Claus appeared just before it was time to go home, and let only did he talk to the boys and girls but had his helpers stationed at the doors and presented each child with a stocking filled with sweets and a shiny red apple.

The party was a real success and the only regret of the committee in charge is that every person in Moorestown who contributed to make such a party possible was not present to share the enjoyment and pleasure of the boys and girls.

ELLEN L. WADE

Miss Ellen L. Wade died at her home in Riverton last Friday morning. Funeral services were held from the home of her nephew, Fred P. Hemphill, 406 Hopkinson avenue, Riverton, Monday morning at eleven o'clock with the Rev. Charles T. Bates officiating. Interment was made in the old Methodist Cemetery, Palmyra, under direction of Frank A. Shuster.

A rooster discovered an ostrich egg and rolled it into the hen house and said: "Now ladies, I do not want to embarrass you but here's a sample of what other people are doing."

Membership Tickets

Moorestown Community House membership tickets for 1929 are now on sale at the desk at the Community House and all those desiring to purchase tickets are urged to do so before Monday, January 7. The 1928 tickets may be used for swimming until that date.

Senior resident membership tickets are $10; senior nonresident, $15; junior resident, 50 cents; junior nonresident, 75 cents.

SCOUT TROOP IS HOST TO 150 BOYS

Lads from All Over County Are Entertained by Moorestown Group

Members of Troop 3, Moorestown Boy Scouts, were host to 175 boys from all over Burlington County last Saturday. The children were treated to a free movie show, fine dinner, entertainment and a swim at the Community House.

The little guests were orphans, crippled lads and the children of families in unfortunate circumstances. They came from Moorestown, Lenola, Maple Shade, Mount Holly and Burlington. Boys were also sent from the Masonic Home at Burlington and the Burlington County Home for Crippled Children at Mount Holly.

All of the children in the town were invited to the big free movie at the Criterion Theatre Saturday afternoon. A total of 467 boys and girls heartily enjoyed the performance.

Next came the big dinner prepared and served by members of the Scout Troop in the Community House gymnasium. The good mothers served an abundantly tasty repast and scored a big hit with the boys. The menu included roasted fresh ham, white potatoes, glazed sweet potatoes, peas, ice cream and cake, salads, nuts and milk.

Music was furnished by Joseph Conway and his orchestra. Much to the delight of the boys, Mr. Conway favored with several xylophone solos.

The dinner was followed by the entertainment program, which included music and songs, with the dip in the pool as the concluding feature.

During the dinner the Charles H. Wright cup was presented to the patrol considered most efficient in Scouting. This year won by the Flying Eagle Patrol, of which Harry Salmon is the leader. The presentation was made by Dr. Harold Cossum, former Scoutmaster of the troop. Henry H. Miller is the present scoutmaster of Troop No. 3.

BULL KILLING CHECK TO BREED ADVANCES

Slaughtering a bull before his value as a breeding sire has been proved often ranks the dairy farmer with the man who killed the goose which laid the golden eggs, implies R. G. Connolly, assistant extension specialist in dairying for the New Jersey Agricultural College in an article in the January issue of New Jersey Agriculture.

Many valuable herd sires, victims of circumstance, are led to the executioner's block before their true value is recognized the article points out.

Since he is the most important factor in any breeding program designed to improve dairy cattle says the specialist, the bull should be retained several years until his daughters have attained a productive age and proved or disproved his value as a herd sire. Only by recognizing the necessity for this procedure, it is further stated, may a dairyman hope to improve the productivity of his herd through breeding.

The article continues in part: The killing of King Hengerveld Aaggie Pauline, a Holstein bull, because his offspring did not look especially promising when all young was one of the most unfortunate of numerous premature executions. His true worth was unappreciated until after his death. Then one of his daughters, as a 3-year old, produced 24,612 pounds of milk and 1,395 pounds of butter, a record that has stood longer at the head of the class than any other champion of the breed.

In all 31 daughters made Holstein-Friesian Advanced Registry records for outstanding production of milk and butterfat. How unfortunate that the sire was not permitted to carry on his great work longer.

JUDGE ARMSTRONG RETIRES

After more than forty years service with Public Service Corporation of New Jersey and its predecessor companies, Associate General Counsel Edwards Ambler Armstrong retired last Friday in accordance with the company's welfare plan. Former Judge Armstrong became president of the Camden Lighting and Heating Company in July, 1885, and afterwards was associated with the Camden Horse Railroad Company, the Camden and Suburban Railway Company and the Camden Gaslight Company. He was the local counsel of Public Service in Camden many years and became assistant general counsel in 1911. He was born at Woodstown, Salem County, December 28, 1858, moved to Camden early and maintained his residence there until 1920, when he moved to "The Farm," Princeton.

ZONING DOES NOT HURT HOMEOWNER

Its the Real Estate Bootlegger Who Suffers, Declares O'Brien

A radio talk on Zoning over station WPG, Atlantic City, at the 1928 Convention on December 7, 1928 by Edward O'Brien, President of New Jersey Association of Realtors, follows:

There is probably no class of men more qualified to speak on Zoning than the Realtor. There is no business in New Jersey more directly affected by the Zoning or non-Zoning of our cities than the real estate business.

Zoning deals with land and land is the merchandise of the real estate business. It is the commodity we buy and sell in our daily business. Anything which affects that commodity is of supreme concern to us.

Zoning, to the Realtor, is no new theory, as it is merely the application to the city at large of the same principle of restriction that we have been applying to our private land developments for many, many years and as we have found private restriction to be necessary for the protection and enhancement of the values of our land developments, so will the well-planned and comprehensive Zoning, or untold value in the protection and enhancement of the values throughout the city at large.

From the statements of some of the opponents of Zoning, one would gather that their idea of the result of Zoning is that every owner of property will be compelled to build according to someone else's idea of what is beautiful and esthetic. That idea is absurd and those who advance it know it is absurd. Then again they seem to think that every owner wants to use his property for some purpose dictated by Zoning, as a matter of fact, they know and I know that the average owner of property has not only no intention but has no desire to use his property for any other purpose than that permitted by Zoning.

Under our criminal laws it is very possible for an entirely innocent man to be punished for a crime he does not commit, even to the extent of paying the extreme penalty, that fact, however, does not justify denying to society in general the protection of our criminal laws. It is the criminal who suffers from our criminal laws and the average citizen, and it is the real estate bootlegger who suffers from our Zoning laws, not the average property owner.

1929 PONTIAC AT NEW YORK SHOW

First Display of New Six at Gotham Exhibit, Starting Saturday, January 5

First public showing of the new Pontiac Six for 1929 is scheduled to take place at the opening of the New York Automobile Show on Saturday, January 5, the Oakland Motor Car Company announced recently.

Following the New York Show this newest General Motors car, widely heralded as offering "big car features within the price range of the small six," will be placed on exhibition at dealer showrooms throughout the country as fast as dealers can be supplied with display models, it was stated.

The new Pontiac will share fourth place at the New York show with its companion car, the new Oakland All-American Six, thus indicating the rapid rise of the Oakland Motor Car company to the volume field.

Exhibitors at the Show are allotted display space in the order of their rating based upon the dollar value of their car sales as compiled by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce for a twelve-month period.

From twelfth place in 1927 and eighth place last year, the Oakland Motor Car company has passed eight competitors in only two years to take fourth place at the 1929 show, its aggregate sales for the year ending last June having been exceeded by only three other manufacturers.

TASK LIGHTENED BY COMMON STOOL

The ordinary kitchen stool has great possibilities when it comes to making easier the work of the housewife, states Mrs. Marion C. Bell, New Jersey extension specialist in home management, in telling how this piece of equipment may best be used.

Such work as washing dishes and paring vegetables as well as many other kitchen duties, can be done easier and just as well while one is sitting, the specialist says. "Too many women have the mistaken impression that they cannot sit and work and as a result spend altogether too much time on their feet."

Satisfactory use of the kitchen stool depends upon having the correct height for both stool and other working units of the kitchen, such as the sink, work table, and kitchen cabinet, says Mrs. Bell. Women who have been dissatisfied in using kitchen stools, she adds, have in most cases used a stool that is too low.

"If a stool is of the correct height the homemaker's elbows, while she is sitting will be at exactly the same distance from the floor as they would be if she were standing," Mrs. Bell explains. "This rule only applies, however, if other equipment of the kitchen is also at the proper height.

"To determine the proper height for this other equipment, the housewife should stand erect, with arms resting against the body. Measure the number of inches to the elbow, and then subtract 6 or 7 inches, which will give the desired height for the top of the work table, kitchen cabinet shelf, and inside bottom of sink."

MOVIE PRODUCER SMALL TOWN LAD

David Wark Griffith was Born in La Grange, Kentucky

DAVID W. GRIFFITH

David Wark Griffith is one of the biggest men in that great American industry the motion picture. More than that he is one of the pioneers in the development of better more artistic American films. At the time when Griffith produced his first superpictures like "The Birth of A Nation" these spectacles surpassed anything that had yet been done in the motion picture field both in bigness and scope and in sheer artistic merit. Through Griffith's aid and inspiration, many famous film stars of today came to their eminence. Griffith in fact may fairly be called the father of the artistic motion picture in America the picture that is made with an eye to create beauty photographic artistry, delicacy, and above all the inclusion of a certain spiritual quality. At the same time Griffith injected a new note of realism to the modern pictures, sparing no expense to make complex scenes in which places difficult of access and large casts real and convincing.

Few have done as much for the American motion picture as Griffith. This leader hails from a small town in Kentucky, La Grange, where he was born in 1880. He began life with no special advantages, getting an ordinary public school education. For two years he was an actor and since 1908 he has been identified with motion pictures, first as an actor, then as a director for the Biograph Co. His work for the Biograph won him national fame, and soon he became an independent producer whose every new feature made film history. His pictures are now released through United Artists Inc. The rise to fame and fortune of David Wark Griffith is the natural result of his genius and creative

COMEDY FEATURES AT WALT WHITMAN

J. C. Mack and Company Presents "Mother's Boy"; Other Favorites

The program arranged for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at the Walt Whitman Theatre offers concrete evidence of the expressed intention of the management to always present the best talent available.

The feature attraction on the vaudeville bill is one in unusual distinction in the field of entertainment. J. C. Mack, famous creator of the "Mother Goose" character on the stage, at this time is assisted by a company of players in a comedy classic called "Mother's Boy."

This sketch is even funnier if possible than the former vehicle of this talented performer and it is strongly recommended that you see this well known comedian if you really like to laugh.

Another attraction of unusual interest on this banner program is "The Three Bennett Sisters, the Boxing and Wrestling" girls in a sensational novelty. "The New Champion." These girls are known throughout the entire civilized world for their athletic accomplishments, and their ability as entertainers is absolutely unquestioned.

Pathlerios and Van, the Oklahoma Slickers" offer another comedy highlight with their rural characterizations and their distinctive music in which they play instruments of many types and shapes.

Barto and Clark are a pair of recognized big time performers in a new comedy concert called "The Weather Cottage," which features one of the most unusual and startling scenic effects ever attempted on any stage.

Everybody likes the comedy juggler and this week Joe Madden, one of vaudeville's favorite juggling comedians will capably take care of that feature of an unusually well balanced vaudeville program.

The feature photoplay will take care of the dramatic end of the bill. Wallace Beery in "Beggars of Life," with Richard Arlen and Louise Brooks, is a story of the trials and tribulations of the Knights of the Road.

In this picture Wallace Beery returns to his first love the serious drama and his come back brings the finest picture of his career.

Movietone News Events. Organ Music by Joseph T. Powers the popular master of the console and the Walt Whitman Theatre Orchestra directed by John Rhodes, rounds out a real one hundred per cent program.

BUICK APPROVES TRAFFIC MEASURE

Model Ordinance Adopted by National Conference and O. K'd by Hoover

Believing that the model municipal traffic ordinance recently adopted by the National Conference on Street and Highway safety under the direction of President-elect Herbert Hoover represents a forward step in motor transportation, E. T. Strong president and other executives of the Buick Motor Company have added to the support of the new measure.

"This new ordinance it seems to me is certain to result in a saving of human life," Strong declared "as well as prove of great benefit to the traveling public in bringing about uniformity and clarity in traffic regulation."

25 High Points

The twenty-five high points of the new ordinance follow:

(1) Recommends the creation of an official traffic body to study and to coordinate all municipal agencies in matters of traffic regulation, control and enforcement.

(2) Recommends establishment of a division of traffic engineering and employment of a city traffic engineer in cities where there is a serious traffic problem.

(3) Recommends adoption of uniform official traffic signs and signals.

(4) Recommends the installation of traffic control signals on streets where traffic is heavy in order to speed up the movement of vehicles and safeguard pedestrians.

Traffic Signals

(5) Provides that where traffic signals are used the movement of traffic shall be directed by the word "Stop," "Go" or "Caution or Wait" or by the use of colored light.

The Words "Stop" or "Caution or Wait" shall indicate "Stop." Green shall indicate "Go" and Yellow shall indicate "Caution or Wait."

(6) Provides that pedestrians shall be given the right-of-way over vehicles at all places other than crossings, but drivers of vehicles must always exercise due care for safety of pedestrians.

Pedestrians and Vehicles

(9) Provides that where traffic is controlled pedestrians must yield the right-of-way to vehicle proceeding under a "Go" signal, while vehicles must yield to pedestrians who are crossing or have started to cross under a "Go" signal.

(10) Provides rules regarding parked street cars and provides that vehicles must not remain on street car track after the street car has departed.

(11) Provides that railway trains and street cars shall not block the streets.

(12) Provides that vehicles shall not stop to receive specified places on streets.

Loading Zones

(13) Provides for the establishment of loading zones for passenger and freight vehicles.

(14) Buses and taxi cabs are prohibited from parking in places other than designated stands or zones except that they may be permitted to stop at other places to take on or let off passengers.

(15) Provides that parking shall be entirely prohibited in certain places and that parking time shall be limited in certain designated places.

(16) Provides that no vehicle be permitted to park in such a manner that less than 10 feet of the width of the roadway is left available for the free movement of traffic.

(17) Provides that all night parking be prohibited.

Advertising Vehicles

(18) Provides that the use of a vehicle on the streets for the primary purpose of displaying advertising shall be prohibited.

(19) Provides that all vehicles shall keep on the right side of the street and that slow moving vehicles keep as closely as possible to the right curb, except where conditions make it impracticable.

Left Turns

(21) Provides that all left turns shall be made on the "Go" signal unless otherwise directed by a police officer.

(22) Provides that turning around shall be prohibited unless movement can be made in safety and without hooking or interference with other traffic.

(23) Provides that vehicles entering from alleys or private driveways shall stop before proceeding across side walk.

(24) Provides that all vehicles shall come to a stop before entering a "through street."

(25) Provides that vehicles left unattended on street shall have brake set and engine stopped; and that parked vehicles shall be equipped with proper lights at night.

A GREAT EXPLORER

In December 17 years ago Amundsen discovered the South Pole. It is these formidable rivals which Byrd is now exploring. But memorial services have recently been held in Washington, in New York and other places for Amundsen. Amundsen discovered the Northwest passage in [illegible] 1905. He discovered the South Pole in December, 1911. After his flight over the North Pole in the dirigible Norge, Amundsen concluded that his career as an explorer was ended, but when Nobile in the Italia was stranded in the Arctic he went to his rescue and the brave adventurer has not been heard from since.

DENIES GUILT IN MATE'S MURDER

Colored Woman Asks Justice Lloyd to Name Counsel to Defend Her

Ethel Wormley, colored, formerly of Chesterfield, pleaded not guilty to a charge of murder in connection with the death of her husband, Charles, before Supreme Court Justice Frank T. Lloyd, Wednesday of last week in Burlington County Court in Mount Holly.

The woman told the Court she wanted a lawyer named to defend her as she is without funds. Justice Lloyd instructed her to forward a petition to him for counsel and he would approve it.

The Wormley woman is charged with having plotted with Richard Sharp, a former sweetheart, to kill her husband. The pair were arrested at the murder after it occurred a year ago today. Sharp assumed the blame for the crime at the time he pleaded guilty in court and was sentenced to 30 years in state prison.

The original indictment against the woman was nolle prossed. After Sharp served several months in state prison he sent for Ellis H. Parker, chief of Burlington county detectives, and made a new confession, which implicated the woman.

Mrs. Wormley was arrested at Trenton Junction by Detective Parker and Chief of Police George Griffith, of Florence, last September, after a new indictment had been returned against her.

HER MARKETING SURVEY UNDERTAKEN BY COLLEGE

In an effort to determine if New Jersey's dairy industry is in danger of over-expansion, the department of agricultural economics at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station has just undertaken a survey of those sections in the state which supply milk to the New York City market. Prof. C. B. Howe, assistant economist for the experiment station, in making known plans for the new project, said data of much value to the dairy industry could be gathered and reported on. The question of possible overproduction in this state raised by many dairymen, he said, could be answered by the survey.

Reductions in LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATES

Effective February 1, 1929

IN extending to the telephone users of New Jersey the best wishes of the season, the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company announces a further reduction in the day rates for calls to many communities from 130 to 1500 miles distant.

These changes are effective February 1st, 1929, and will make telephoning to people in thousands of other cities and towns more economical than ever.

This reduction in telephone rates—which means an annual saving to the American public of more than $5,000,000—is the third to be made by the Bell System during a period of little more than two years. It is in keeping with the fundamental policy of the System to furnish the best possible telephone service at the least cost to the user..

COUNTY HISTORY OF 50 YEARS AGO

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror Dec. 26, 1878

Charles Tindle, of the Troth farm near Georgetown delivered his crop of pork, 8,952 pounds, to Theodore Kates, at the Mount Holly depot on Monday.

Miss Addie Atkinson has removed her school from the old Brainerd school house, Brainerd street, Mount Holly, to her residence on High street, opposite the court house.

N. W. C. Hayes, of Burlington, shipped carload of oysters to Easton, Pa., on Friday.

Burlington has bought 600 feet of leather hose for its fire department.

Kerosene is retailing at ten cents per gallon.

The drum and fife corps and the Beverly and Atkinson's bands paraded in Beverly on Christmas morning. The parade will be repeated on New Year's morning.

Daniel N. Perkins, Beverly grocer, had some fine Brahma chickens at his store on Monday, some of them weighing eighteen pounds per pair.

Turkeys have and still are selling at from 14 to 15 cents per pound.

January 2, 1879

Charles Chafey, of Recklesstown, sold to Nathan Folwell, of Bordentown, a seven-months-old calf which weighed 74 pounds, said to be the heaviest calf ever shipped by Mr. Folwell.

Philip S. Bodine, of Pemberton, delivered to the Mount Holly station last week, 48 capons that weighed 500 pounds.

At the annual meeting of the Lumberton and Medford Railroad Company, held at the Arcade Hotel, Mount Holly, on Saturday, old officers re-elected as follows: President, Barclay Haines; vice president, Benjamin F. Shreve; secretary and treasurer, Isaac W. Stokes.

Gold coin is already circulating in this community.

Our ice dealers all have been busy the past week, filling their houses of good quality, from five to seven inches thick.

Medford Lyceum Flourishing

The Medford Lyceum is flourishing and is exerting a healthful influence on that community. A monthly paper is prepared for meetings, contributions being from members. The articles are well written. Miss Ella J. Collins is editor, and reads the paper at sessions of the Lyceum. John R. Howell is writing a parody on "Grandfather's Clock," which will be read at the next meeting. It is entitled, "Grandmother's Watch."

Joseph C. Cowgill has bought the property on High street, Mount Holly, now occupied by H. D. Gage, for $6,500.

Several Burlington county breeders carried off poultry prizes at an exhibition in Parker's Hall, Germantown, last week. William Earp, of Beverly, showed Buff Cochins weighing over twelve pounds each. William H. Beatty, also of Beverly, exhibited a Light Brahma cock weighing nearly 14 pounds. Both men won prizes.

Dazed on Her Job

Policeman—How did the accident happen?
Motorist—My wife fell asleep in the back seat.

Following the sun

Crawford—Is Mollick really obliged to travel so much.
Crabshaw—Why, yes; he plays golf the year round.

Irresistible

Has Mamie Sue finally accepted that young lawyer?
Yes, she says she could no longer resist the power of attorney.

Upshot

He—Let's kiss and make up.
She—If you'll be very careful I won't need to.

There are many pegs on which to hang your hat, "the hats the thing."

There are many beginnings in the year and I suppose many of us will feel better about beginning with the end safely out of the way.

There are so many different calendars of Romulus, Julius Caesar, Pope Gregory, The Jewish, The Chinese etc. You can pay your money and take your choice.

And all that and all that, it is a positive gain to sort of screw up your resolution to the sticking point and just start. Despite certain scientists who would tell us that we can no more change ourselves than jump over the moon, we intend to make certain resolutions ourselves believing as Tennyson's dictum "I have made my bed and I must lie upon it. Not please God if I don't like my bed I can remake it all over again."

There is a fine feeling of freedom in this beginning of a New Year, a feeling that one is facing towards the Fortunate Isles.

And what are the names of the Fortunate Isles?
Why! Duty and Love and a large Content.
Lo! These are the Isles of the watery miles,
That God let down from the firmament.
Lo! Duty and Love and a true man's Trust,
Your forehead to God, though your feet in the dust;
Lo! Duty and Love and a sweet babes' smiles,
And these O Friend, are the Fortunate Isles.

The annual meeting of the New Jersey Branch of the Woman's auxiliary will be held Wednesday, January 9 at 1030 a. m. in All Saints Church, Trenton. We are exceedingly fortunate to have as the speaker Dr. Rudolf B. Teusler of St. Lukes' International Hospital, Tokio. We are hoping for a record attendance.

The Guild of St. Agnes will meet on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, January 7, with special features of interest.

We are delighted to be able to report a record Christmas offering of over twenty-five hundred dollars.

In addition to the regular Christmas envelopes we would specially mention St. Agnes Guild, the Sunday School, the Girls' Friendly Society and Miss Torbert's class. Congratulations, one and all.

The Rector is very grateful for many kind remembrances, especially the large pot of Poinsettias, a mammoth fern and very substantial addition to his library.

Thanks to our esteemed editor have already been well voiced in last week's issue and we can but echo the sincere gratitude that we ourselves feel.

The Department of Agriculture has given out its estimated value of the crop of 1928. It is $8,450,052 which is about 1 per cent less than that of 1927. The department also estimated that there had been a large acreage and an increased production of 3%. In connection with Agricultural statistics it can also be noted that the House has restored both the appropriations committee recommendation for the Agricultural Department. The bill provides for $153,148,947.

Beautiful hair is a object much you cannot neglect (for all important too important be beauty to suffer no much neglect. Women are naturally endowed with good healthy attractive hair. You have only to look at any child and convince yourself of this fact. If in later years, we neglect our hair it through infrequent or too infrequent washings we destroy the gloss and finish or it we have only ourselves to blame.

However, taking for granted the fact which is all true that very few women reach fifty with the hair beautiful they, well meant, may be, it despair do for us to blame. The thing to do is to set to work and repair the damage.

Whether your hair is long or short, thick or fine, black or white there is only one practice which its good appearance demands and that is brushing.

POTATO GROWERS ANNUAL MEETING

Exhibit and Sessions to be Feature of State Agriculture Week

New Jersey potato growers cannot afford to miss the extensive program and exhibit which the New Jersey State Potato Association will present at its annual gathering during the fourteenth annual Agricultural Week in Trenton from January 15 to 18. The program announced by Charles B. Pedrick president of the association, for its meetings, on Tuesday and Friday, January 17 and 18 and a basket and dance on Thursday evening.

The subjects to be presented at the annual meeting on Thursday will cover practically every phase of the potato and New Jersey industry. Professor A. G. Waller, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station will speak on How Investigation Has Helped the New Jersey Potato Farmer, while H. F. Talmage, New Jersey and Long Island potato expert will consider potato cultivation in the New Jersey. Director J. G. Lennox of the Experiment Station will discuss commercial fertilizers. The morning session will be with an examination of the potato exhibit in the Farm Products and Equipment Show.

The Potato Market Situation will be presented by John B. Shepherd, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. at the afternoon session. In his address Mr. Shepherd will discuss 1928 per capita production, late per capita consumption and carry over for the coming early potato district. Seven methods of reducing the cost of potato production will then be presented. The speakers and their subjects are: William Chester, President, The Possibilities of the Mechanical Picker; C. C. Snyder, Hightstown, Cultivating with Power; Jesse Harrison, Cream Ridge, Bossing with Power; Charles B. Pedrick, Highstown, Seed; Bedding, Fertilizing Cost; Edward Douglass, County Agent, Monmouth County; White Mouldrot; County vs. Dump; H. E. Cox, State Experiment Station, What the 300 Bushel Club Members Did; J. C. Crosier, South Jersey seed grower, What the South Jersey Potato Growers are Doing to Improve their Seed.

The presentation of medals to members of the 300 Bushel Club will take place at the annual banquet of the association Thursday evening.

A potato exhibit will be held Friday morning when the following up-

It will be discussed Potato Grades and Grading, Latest Information on Potato Spraying, Up-to-Date Information on Seed Disinfection, Soil Acidity and Potato Production, Developing Home Markets for New Jersey Potatoes, and the Seed Potato Situation.

LEADER TO SPEAK TO HOME, SCHOOL

Mrs. Reeve is Founder of Moorestown Group and International President

One of the biggest meetings ever held by a Home and School Association in the county is planned by the Moorestown branch for next Monday, January 7.

Next Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Moorestown Association will meet with the Women's Club and will have as its speaker one of the most important workers in parent-teacher activities.

The speaker will be Mrs. A. H. Reeve, president of the International Federation of Home and School Associations. Mrs. Reeve is well known to Moorestown people, being a former resident and a record crowd is expected to attend this meeting.

The Moorestown chapter now has the distinction of having one of its members as the international president. Mrs. Reeve, formalized the Moorestown branch was its first president and has always maintained her membership in the local association. Last year she was national president and this year she holds the highest office in the world so far as the Home and School is concerned.

Mrs. Reeve spoke at the Burlington County Home and School Council last year and delighted everybody. Her address next Monday will be equally interesting.

Protecting the Investor

In summing up the Nation's business for 1928, which sets a new record for volume, the American Bankers Association Journal says an auspicious beginning is set for the new year by conditions at the close of 1928.

"As regards speculation on the stock exchange, . . . conservative bankers and brokers have raised margin requirements and repeated warnings against excesses."

Along with improvements in industrial production methods the nation has been benefited by just as great improvements in its financial structure. The Federal Reserve system strengthens our banking system, while modern stock and bond exchanges have built up sound practices in security buying and selling.

During the past several years the public, knowing little about securities or their actual values, has rushed headlong into an orgy of speculative buying where seasoned financiers feared to tread. Recognizing this condition and also a duty which they owe to the public to try and protect it from its own lack of experience in the field of finance, stock exchanges, their broker members and bankers have exerted every effort to curb speculating or gambling tendencies on the part of those who could not afford to take chances.

In the old days speculative listed securities were commonly purchased by putting up a small percentage of the purchase price, known as a "margin." If the price went up, a large profit was enjoyed, if down, often a total loss. During the past few years reputable broker members of New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago, Boston and other stock exchanges have been consistently and steadily raising margin requirements and imposing other safeguards that protect their customers and at the same time tend to weed out the shoestring speculators who cannot afford to lose. This limits wild speculative profits as well as disastrous losses when the market takes a drop like it did recently. As it was the majority of security buyers were not forced to sell but can await a revival in prices. Thus a panic was undoubtedly averted.

Securities are like any other commodity and subject to the law of supply and demand. If dumped wholesale on the market through force of necessity because margins are insufficient to cover drop in prices, the resulting loss is as disastrous as occurs when a crop is dumped through inability of producers to hold the same. The voluntary program of stock exchange members and bankers to stabilize the financial practices of the nation, deserves unqualified commendation.

Indiscriminate Advice to Boys and Girls Never to Save Money Capable of Harmful Interpretation

The proper practices of thrift are to quite an extent matters of individual judgment and circumstance. There are times when it is more thrifty to spend than to save. There are times, when it is more thrifty to save than to spend. There are times when the question of thrift has no direct financial bearing but is entirely a question involving economy of time, preservation of health or the conservation of some material possession.

Indiscriminate advice to boys and girls never to save money but to spend it as fast as they get it for their own self improvement will undoubtedly lead to unsound practices on the part of many just as would be the case should one counsel the young to hoard every penny that comes into their possession.

Neither the spendthrift nor the miser is a desirable citizen, and habits which might bring the child into either of these classes would indeed be unfortunate.

Sound common sense should prevail in these matters. Children should always be encouraged to save money but they should not be encouraged to become miserly. They should be encouraged to think and plan for themselves and develop their own judgment, subject, of course, to paternal or mature guidance on the question of proper spending for their own self-improvement.

The question of individual thrift is a question of individual judgment, and one of the reasons why thrift should be taught in all schools is that it develops the judgment of the child in practical matters.

If definite choice were to be made between advice to children to spend freely or save carefully, the weight of opinion would doubtless be on the side of saving because frugality and economy are indispensable virtues in the formation of any character and the development of any successful plan of life.

American Roads Win Recognition

In discussing foreign road building, Frank B Curran, Chief of Highway Section of Automotive Division of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, says that the world is turning to the United States for highway information and material.

"During the last four years," says Mr. Curran, "we have made an excellent collection of data on highways and highway transportation abroad and of new opportunities for American trade resulting from road improvements.

"Argentina, South Africa and Australia buy American road making machinery. Persia, the Soviet and Panama employ American engineers to direct the development of their national highway systems. India plans to coordinate the work of road improvement under a central board. Road construction in Java increases the demand for American asphalt. Australia adopts a new federal aid system based on ours. A Swedish engineer invents a new asphalt paving process.

"We have been carrying on a world-wide campaign to arouse interest in foreign countries in road improvement, especially by the use of American methods, materials and machinery."

Put a Crimp in Crime

In New York State the Baumes Crime Commission is expected to endeavor to amend the jury law at the 1929 session of the Legislature.

One of the chief difficulties is in securing intelligent jurors. Inconveniences met with; time lost by talesmen from business; "old-fashioned, obsolete" statutes covering jury duty; low pay of jurymen and the many exemptions that have been made by law make "one wonder that any intelligent jury is ever obtained," says the commission.

Those who are urging a change say that the present body of the jury duty law is in many respects archaic and does not serve a useful purpose today. Similar conditions will be found in all states and it has been suggested that a study of all state laws relating to jury duty be made for the purpose of eliminating parts which have become obsolete.

The intelligence of jurymen and quick selection of a jury has a marked effect upon the proper expeditious administration of the law. Courts become confused and interest is often lost in cases where proceedings are clogged up by out-of-date technicalities of law which are applied to selecting juries and trying criminals.

Improvements in the means of apprehending, trying and punishing criminals, in a speedy manner, will do more to reduce crime than all the anti-revolver laws, which affect only law-abiding citizens, that can be proposed or passed. Let the heavy hand of the law rest on the law-breaker and not on the individual who minds his own business and respects the rights of others.

The Proof of the Pudding

No better proof of the essential soundness of the American economic system could be found than the amicability today existing between labor and capital.

At the present time many of the great foreign powers are in the throes of unrest. The Russian Soviet experiment has yet to be worked out satisfactorily and has been chiefly distinguished by conflicts between different Communist factions. England, Austria, Germany and France have labor problems. Government ownership of basic industries has not met the demands of workers, and has damaged national prosperity.

In comparison, the United States stands out with unparalleled prosperity and industrial satisfaction. Except for coal, major American industries have been free from strikes for years and even minor disputes between employes and employers have been rare.

With growth in wages in our country, millions of workers are purchasing stock in industries which furnish them employment. They will be the capitalists of tomorrow.

Capital has made our prosperity and Labor has benefited. And the imported panaceas are found, when brought to America, to be sadly lacking in the qualities that would endear them to our individualistic and independent-thinking citizens.

These New Roads

And still they squabble!

With all these elephantine and eloquent promises of marvelous new highways in the immediate vicinity and with no signs of results in the offing, 'tis really not to be wondered at that we are becoming a bit skeptical. In this instance we are "from Missouri."

First, a few filibustering Moorestonians objected rather strenuously to the proposed highway from the Crescent Boulevard. They refused to allow any road to be constructed through their golf links, and if anybody tried, the Quaker Qwack Shot Brigade would have been summoned to further emphasize their lopsided desires. They were little concerned about the results of such action in Maple Shade, and consequently, good-hearted as we are, we yielded to our passionate neighbors—submissive and passive though unwilling. The new highway would run South of the pike near OUR golf links.

Second. The State decides to build a new highway from Palmyra to Berlin. Immediately, if not sooner, the great hullabaloo again arises to banish our temporary glee. This time it comes from Riverton, Cinnaminson and Lenola. "Maple Shade?" they say, "and why through that mud-hole! Put it through this way, we need it!" And thus, again somebody rides over our necks, roughshod. And we grudgingly agree, "mud-hole" is appropriate. Yes, they call Maple Shade the town of slimy and oozy roads; a place where the citizenry either row or swim to the pike in the spring and winter when the need arises; who deride the insidious individuals who secured their votes for official stations with frangible promises to alter these despicable conditions.

Third. A few loyal citizens are struggling nobly to secure these highways for Maple Shade. They are endeavoring to pacify the wailings of those dexterous and officiously intrusive neighbors who would deprive us of what little improvements appear to be headed in our general direction. Are we such milksops that we shall allow our community to be weedled out of what is rightfully ours?

WE ARE NOT!

The backs of our Township Committeemen are bending under a heavy load. They labor unceasingly, with the praise of some, the derision of others, and their pregnancy and faithful allegiance to duty is appreciated not. They strive to please all but it is impossible—too big a job for three men.

Instead of sitting back and mocking their efforts, it is in your place, your responsibility to help bear the load, to cooperate with them, to smooth out the ruck, and to be the antidote for your community's growing pains.

—Maple Shade Progress.

Science and the Farmer

Science is perhaps the greatest help of the farmer. One out of five prominent scientists in America, Secretary of Agriculture Jardine points out, are engaged in work of an agriculture-chemical nature.

As the result of the extensive scientific agricultural work going on, the percentage of tuberculous cattle has been reduced from 4 to 2 in the last decade.

Hog cholera is no longer a check to hog production. Tick-infested cattle in the South are being reduced in number. Animal parasites have been greatly reduced in number.

Plant research of scientists has saved immense sums to farmers. Many new plants from other countries have been introduced. New plant diseases are guarded against.

Bud selection in the citrus industry has saved the growers of California several million dollars.

The above are only a few of the great achievements of science in relation to agriculture. Reading the news, it seems that a great percentage of the new inventions and discoveries have to do with the farm. Scientists seem interested in the agricultural problems of the nation more than in almost anything else.

That is not surprising, agriculture being the great industry it is.

CHAMPION BOY AND GIRL.

FORD VS. ROCKEFELLER.

WHAT MADE STANDARD OIL MAN'S STRANGE NATURE.

Part of the Livestock Show activities in Chicago included judging the healthiest boy and girl in the United States.

Thelma Svarstad, a South Dakota girl, who won the female championship, is seventeen years old, a blonde, strong. Weighs 122 pounds, is 5 feet 2 inches tall, drinks plenty of milk, no tea or coffee, and expects to be a teacher.

The boy champion is William Tobias, of Michigan, fifteen years old, who weighs 130 pounds, is 5 feet 6 inches tall, likes boxing, admires Jack Dempsey, also drinks lots of milk. Milk dealers, please notice this in your advertisements.

From a livestock and many other points of view, these are fine American children.

But somewhere in America there is a little baby shivering in its mother's arms, delicate, with a thin little body, a big head, wide anxious eyes, that some day will do things that the healthiest boy and girl will never do.

Write that down for your comfort, if you have a child that isn't so robust.

Henry Ford's offhand statement, "No successful boy ever saved money," was not meant literally. He meant that it was better to spend for information than merely to save a few dollars. Thomas A Edison, his intimate friend, "never had any money until he got so much he couldn't spend it."

The other "world's richest man," John D Rockefeller, is surely a successful boy, and he did save money. He advises young and old to save now, as he hands each one a ten-cent piece with a smile worth a good deal of money. Mr. Rockefeller will tell you, "Save money, not chiefly for the money you save, but because it teaches self-control, and that's the beginning of wisdom."

Ford has a high respect for John D Rockefeller. He said to this writer, "I never saw John D Rockefeller but once. But when I saw that face I knew what made the Standard Oil."

Strange is the nature of man. In New York a young man confesses to strangling a fifteen-year-old girl whom he loved. He says she wanted to kiss him. That is his excuse.

At Brunswick Ga., Walter Rawlins, in prison, saw his wife, whose complaint had jailed him for wife-beating. He seized a carving-knife dashed from the prison, overtook his wife, stabbed her several times. His excuse is:

"I loved my wife so that I would rather see her dead than with somebody else."

The fair Jessica Brown, a stage beauty once married to Lord Northesk, yesterday married Mr. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. Lord Northesk, as her retired husband, came to America led by his ambition to be the 13th husband of Peggy Hopkins Joyce. And so it goes.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for January 6
OUR HEAVENLY FATHER.
Matthew 6 24-34
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

With this lesson a study of six months in the life of Paul is concluded. It will be helpful to look back over the entire life as well as of the events covered during the present quarter. Begin with acts 16 for the quarter's lessons and with Acts 7 for the entire life.

For this quarter begin at Ephesus toward the close of the second missionary journey. There was a return to that city after the trip to Antioch. Meanwhile Aquila and Priscilla had been active there. Two long and hard years were passed in Ephesus. He preached in the synagogue and later used the schoolroom of Tyrannus for his teaching. The climax came when even the great theatre was not large enough to hold the crowd that in opposition, madly shouted for two hours "Great is Diana of the Ephesians." Then it was time for Paul to leave town again. He used the land route in visiting the various cities where he worked during the second missionary journey and went as far as Corinth. Four letters were written, I and II Corinthians, Romans and Galatians.

When it was discovered that there was a plot to waylay him, and get the large offerings for the poor Jews in Jerusalem the itinerary back to Jerusalem was changed from ship to land. Assos is made at Miletus and the elders were called there from nearby Ephesus. Careful instruction was given about the future care of the work in that city and vicinity. Then in the midst of an intense prayer service farewells were said and the journey continued to Jerusalem where trouble surely awaited the Evangelist.

At first effort was made to satisfy certain critics by making a concession—sacrifice and payment of vows, but only trouble resulted. The arrest was made and there was no release for more than four years. A declaration of Roman citizenship alone saved him from a severe flogging and the quick action of a bad mob made it possible to avoid a death plot. There was safety at Caesarea but it took two years to get through the hearings before the accusers who came from Jerusalem and before Felix, Festus and Agrippa. The journey to Rome, where the case was adjourned, was filled with dangers and climaxed in the shipwreck at Malta.

Two years made another long period but much was accomplished as Paul was free to have audiences at pleasure in his own hired house, but always with a chain binding him to a Roman soldier. Four more great letters were written meanwhile, Ephesians, Philippians, Colossians and Philemon. There was a release which gave opportunity for other itineraries and a second arrest which closed with decapitation. Throughout Paul was the victor as he wrought for Jesus Christ.

Bobbie and Billie Bunny were out in the moonlight one night hopping, skipping and jumping when Mister Jay Bird happened to see them.

"Hello, there you rascals! How are things?"

"We are O. K. How are you?"

"Fine. I want to ask you a question, did you ever play golf?"

"Play what?" asked Billie Bunny.

"Golf. It's fun. Nice game."

"We never played it. Will you show us how?"

"Come here tomorrow morning early and bring two clubs and ——"

"How many members must the clubs have?" asked Bobbie.

"Clubs are sticks—not—not—well not what they think they are. They are sticks with knots on the ends of them."

"Are they neat?" asked Bobbie.

"You're too smart," replied the Bird.

The Rabbit children skipped home and went to bed with their secret about golf and when morning came they were out where Mister Jay Bird had told them to go. Each had a stick with a knot on the end of it.

"Pretty little knot, is it not?" asked Billie, when Mister Jay Bird came to the limb of the tree above them.

"Quit your nonsense and get a hickory nut for the ball," shrieked the Bird.

"You'll be wanting us to eat your dinner for you next," said Bobbie, as he hopped off in search of a nut.

By and bye he returned and the Bird told him to make a little hill and put the nut on it. He said to hit the nut and make it go in the hole in the old oak tree.

Bobbie put the nut down and hit it BANG! The nut flew up and just missed Mister Jay Bird's head.

"Hey, you! Stop that. You shot at that hole in the tree."

Bobbie put the nut on the little hill and told Billie to hit it.

BIFF!

Billie gave the nut a swift and it disappeared in the hole in the old oak tree.

"I'll get it," said Bobbie. He ran to the tree and looked and looked but he couldn't see a nut. In a few minutes he heard a noise up in the tree and there sat Mrs. Squirrel cracking the nut. "I like to play golf, too," she remarked.

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed the Bird.

"Well for you for that," shouted the Rabbit children as they skipped away.

The Judge's Josh.

"You can keep all the kisses I gave you.
You can keep every golden caress.
You can keep all the sweet tricks I taught you.
And the jokes you made me confess.
You can keep whatever you care for.
My loving, the parties you threw,
But please send me back what I am missing
The cold cash I wasted on you."

Mary: "Dad that young man with the knickers kissed me when we went through the tunnel."

Father: "Heavens! Why didn't you tell me at once?"

Mary: "Oh, but Dad, I thought there might be some more tunnels."

"So you were in Germany, eh? And what did you think of their trick money?"

"Trick money? Say—never speak like that of a currency that will get you a glass of real beer!"

"Let there be light," murmured the raven haired beauty as she drew forth the peroxide bottle.

"Buy a flower for your wife, sir."
"Haven't one."
"For your sweetheart."
"Haven't one."
"For your best girl, then."
"Haven't one."
"Since you're so lucky, then at least buy one for yourself."

Dr. Frank Crane Says

The Passing of the Horse

It seems as if the day of the horse is about over, at least in the city.

For centuries the horse has been the symbol of speed and power. The oldest sculptures represent rampant battle steeds and heroes have generally been sculptured riding on horses.

But the age of motor cars is finding him too slow. We may love horses and delight in them, but apparently they are bound to go.

Agitation is now taking place in London to ban the slow-moving horse-drawn vehicle from the crowded streets.

One daily paper says: "Officialdom stands by idle while every day lumbering horse-drawn vans and carts cause long traffic blocks in congested thoroughfares. The loss and inconvenience caused by the traffic delays are incalculable, and yet nothing is done to ameliorate the nuisance."

In some congested regions in Paris, such as the Place de l'Opera and the Place Vendome, horse traffic is banished within certain prescribed hours.

"The indictment against the horse is dirty.

"There is strong support for the suggestion that London should follow the example of Paris.

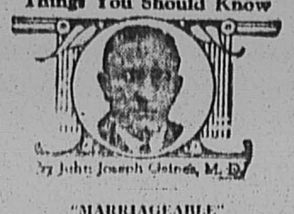

Others would banish the horse if only for the sake of the animals. One cannot watch with out pity horses struggling on the slippery streets.

"They are often stationary in the traffic blocks with their noses just above the exhausts of motors giving out foul fumes which have been known to kill human beings.

"Altogether it looks as if this age of rapid transit is going to do away with the horse, which has been called 'the greatest friend of man.'"

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

"MARRIAGEABLE"

This is not the age of chance of good or bad luck. It is the age of scientific accuracy if anything. Intelligent young men and women nowadays weigh important contracts before them and, there is no more serious engagement than the marriage contract.

Perfect happiness is impossible without perfect health. Each party to the marriage vow has a perfect legal and moral right to demand and expect physical capability on part of the other. Given a perfectly healthy couple and that means mentally as well and the divorce courts will be in clientele to the couple who prefer a higher plane of existence.

I suppose there are haphazard matches by youngsters who are impelled by animal desire to undertake marriage. These do not last long after disillusionment. It is very easy to deceive ones self in the age of inexperience and the awakening is mighty painful sometimes.

The young man or woman should never enter the marriage state unadvised. I know of no situation where, with the advice of the sympathetic family practitioner, more fortunate economies in manufacture physician is more demanded. Let the and consequently makes possible a young man go to his doctor, and ask every question he can think of about possible woes of the commodity NOT matter of which he is ignorant. He should submit cheerfully to a full physical examination, and it is perfectly proper from his to learn from the same source how to care for the trusting young woman who is giving herself into his keeping. Young man there is no better counsel than this I'm giving you. Please bear it in mind confidently, for the most important step of your life is taken.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

One of the pioneers in the movement of Public Utility Companies to tell the public about their business and their products through the medium of paid advertising space is Earl R. Lyn-berger, President and General Manager of the Southwestern Light and Power Company of Oklahoma City. Mr. Lyndberger says:

"Our Company was organized upon the basis of confidence and mutual understanding; we determined that the public would and should know what we are doing at all times.

"Information about our business and activities has always been available at our offices. But we desired to do more than maintain a mere information desk. As a consequence, we undertook a definite advertising campaign, purchasing paid advertising space in the public press, and publishing dignified advertising copy, telling about our business and about our product.

"Our space purchases has increased each year as expansion of our service warranted.

"I would venture to say that more than ninety five percent of the money we spend for advertising is used in the purchase of newspaper space. We advertise regularly in every one of the local newspapers in the ninety-seven cities we are privileged to serve.

"I have heard the utilities criticised occasionally for spending money for advertising, the critics in each case claiming that the public must 'pay the bill.' I would ask of such critics ——— not true that the public PAYS THE BILL for EVERY COMMODITY PURCHASED THAT IS ADVERTISED?

"And the corollary feature that such critics overlook is that the VOLUME of business created by advertising makes possible greater proportionate economies in manufacture and consequently makes possible a lower cost to ALL than would be otherwise were the commodity NOT ADVERTISED.

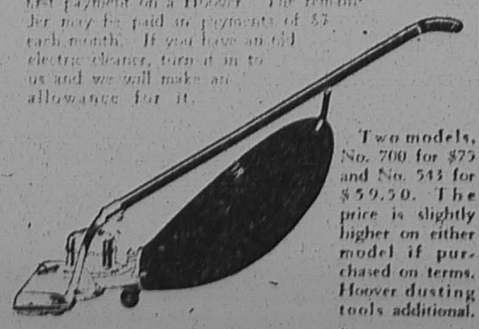

"The newspapers are unquestionably the best advertising medium we have found and I know that the paid advertising space we have used in them has contributed much toward improved service and reduction in cost of this service to the public because of resultant increased demand for our commodities, namely, electricity, gas and ice."

450 DEER KILLED IN THIS COUNTY

Bad Weather Blamed for Failure to Meet Last Year's Number

Sportsmen of New Jersey and Pennsylvania who raided the Burlington county deer woods during the five-day deer season reported less "kills" than were turned in last year, according to records at the home of Game Warden Howard Z. Mathis, at Mount Holly. Reports, believed to be almost complete, show that 449 deer were killed in the county. The total for the state is not expected to meet last season's 700 mark.

Bad weather of the first day of the season is believed partly responsible for the decrease in "kills." Although there were several hundred more gunners in the deer woods when the season started, a number of them became discouraged and returned home when they failed to meet with success on the first day of the season, which was rainy.

Despite the decrease in "kills," arrests for game law violations increased this year. There were 27 prosecutions, many of them resulting from attempts of Pennsylvania residents to use resident licenses. There were arrests for the use of spot-lights to locate deer at night, and for killing doe. Warden Mathis said that about 50 doe had been found killed. These were placed in cold storage and most of the venison was distributed to county institutions yesterday.

Edmund "Bing" Miller, outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics, was one of those arrested during the week for attempting to use a fictitious license. Miller was fined $20 and costs by Justice of the Peace M. Warner Hargrove, at Brown's Mills. Samuel McMullen and Edmund Keeling, who were with Miller, also were fined $20 for carrying fictitious licenses.

Among those fined for killing deer was Frank Bowen, of Leed's Point, who was found with two in his possession. He was fined $100 and costs. The same amount was charged Thomas Doldedar, of Atlantic City, on a similar charge. Others charged with possessing doe—and fined $100 by Justice Hargrove were Francis Carroll, Louis E. Francks and Charles Lippincott, of New Egypt.

Lacey of the "owl" line to Pemberton, who faced the danger when his headlight caught on an automobile on the tracks, saved Isaiah F. Worrell, William Smith and Benjamin Thorne, young men residing in Smithville, serious injury and possible death.

The three young men were driving in Mount Holly toward the Smithville-Pemberton road and when they reached the crossing the flagman saw, toward the gates after they had passed under them. Leaping from the [illegible] between the gates, which [illegible] and [illegible] added by railroad men.

With no way of getting out between the descent gates and with hardly time to jump, the lads were saved only by Engineer Lacey's prompt action, when with rare presence of mind he put on all brakes and stopped his train with twenty feet of the car and its human freight.

The lads returned to Mount Holly immediately and reported the incident to Officer Howard Shinn and the latter hurried to the scene only to find Cotton in a totally unfit condition to flag trains. Officer Shinn at once called L. G. Riley, of the police department of the railroad and he ordered Cotton off the job and secured a substitute to finish the night's work.

HENRY T. BROWN GRAND JURY HEAD

Justice Lloyd Opens December Court Term; Seven Women Serving

Seven women are serving on the December Grand Jury, which was drawn by County Clerk Reeves in the presence of Supreme Court Justice Frank W. Lloyd at Mount Holly Wednesday of last week. Henry Tatnall Brown, prominent Moorestown resident, was appointed foreman of the Grand Jury.

As there is only one murder case and no other important investigations now known to come before the Grand Jury, Justice Lloyd's charge was brief. He gave the 23 members of the body instructions as to finding indictments for criminal offenses and declared that they were only to determine if the State had established a case in which there was reason for a trial by jury.

The murder case to be brought before the Grand Jury is a charge against Julius Uackay, of Roebling, for killing his wife.

The Grand Jury is as follows:

Ellen H. Atkinson, Northampton, housekeeper.

Nelson D. W. Pounvea, Northampton, banker.

Arthur Brick, Chesterfield, manufacturer.

Louise S. Mattis, Riverton, housewife.

John W. Davis, Edgewater Park, manufacturer.

Helen Paul, Moorestown, no occupation.

Mary Kinnick, Northamptown, housekeeper.

[illegible] Dobson, Bordentown, housewife.

Wayne S. Smith, Medford, merchant.

Gilbert B. Wallace, Northampton, farmer.

Herbert L. Cuckley, Medford, farmer.

Henry Tatnall Brown, Moorestown, manufacturer.

Annie Shipps, Bordentown, housewife.

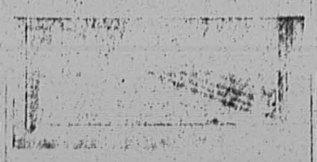

John V. Bishop, Mansfield, farmer.

James S. DeCou, Riverton, housewife.

Algernon S. Lloyd Palmer, florist, Delanco.

[illegible] Harrison, Chesterfield, farmer.

PUBLIC SERVICE

No. 45

The Proof of Telephone Policy is in Its Results

THE POLICY of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company calls for adequate expansion of its plant to meet all of the growing telephone needs of the State promptly, and [illegible] investment in the convenience, speed, accuracy, quality and usefulness of the service, with reduction in cost consistent with moderate profits and important service developments.

During 1928 this policy produced substantial accomplishments, of which the following are examples:

EXPANSION OF PLANT A large construction program was carried out ($23,000,000). It included the start or completion of 66 buildings and building additions; 23 new central offices and major additions to 59 central offices; new equipment in large quantities and the extension of local and toll lines by the addition of 300,000 miles of wire. This [illegible] to serve subscribers [illegible] without delay and to give everyone the type of service desired.

More than 40,000 telephones were added in New Jersey, making 623,000 in service at the close of the year.

A considerable percentage of the wire added to the System was placed underground in stormproof cable, further increasing the stability of the service.

SPEED, ACCURACY, QUALITY OF SERVICE Special equipment and operating methods that greatly increase the speed of service in the late night and early morning hours were put into use in many central offices (in process in many others). This is an achievement of great difficulty and importance.

New equipment and methods were adopted that speed trunk connections at all hours and greatly increase their accuracy.

The quality of transmission of [illegible] materially improved with the use of special technical apparatus.

The time required to install service was reduced 20 per cent.

Nearly 750,000,000 calls were handled with a higher degree of excellence than ever before attained.

BROADER AND GREATER SERVICE Extended Scope service, eliminating 5-cent toll charges on calls to nearby places, was made available in 54 areas of the State, both on a measured rate and on a flat rate basis. Inasmuch as the Company was not in a position to reduce its net earnings, this is an important achievement. It increases the value of service while generally lowering its cost to the user. It makes possible greater speed and accuracy of calling, greater convenience, a reduction of billing difficulties and substantial savings to the public.

The extra charge for hand telephones was reduced 50 per cent.

The practice of reversing charges on station-to-station toll service without special charges was adopted, thereby reducing the cost for this kind of service about 25 per cent.

CONVENIENCE OF SERVICE The number of business offices was increased 25 per cent. New offices in convenient locations were opened in Jersey City, Hoboken, [illegible], Bayonne, Westfield, Somerville, [illegible], Mt. Holly, Woodbury and [illegible].

Additional information service and facilities for quicker correction of service difficulties [illegible] were brought into use.

A Bureau to supply the time of day accurately at a nominal charge was established to serve a large part of the State.

Special machines that produce typewritten monthly bills were installed in the southern territory, increasing the legibility and accuracy of bills.

years deeds are dark. Of course I have their county and welcome it. Some of the deeds may be leader part of the time, but not all the people all of the time.

It is a matter of no little satisfaction that this most strenuous year with a vastly amount of work implied a year that has been in continuous train of activity without one intermittent interval from start to finish, without a single emergency note without a single dollar of unpaid indebtedness save regular and maintenance, and leaving an unexpended balance of the appropriation of more than $9,000. Approximately $4,000 worth of creosoted lumber in our yard, and a well organized repair department with truck, tools and material likewise remain.

I wish the work of these three years to be the sole monument of any service I may have rendered. Let the work speak for itself, other commendation or censure. Much of it is hidden from the casual view it is safer courses and beneath the earth but I have pleasure in knowing that the traveling public will ride in safety wherever our engineers and faithful workmen have applied their skill. No contractor has attempted to give the county anything but his best and no one has indicated a disposition to do so. My contracts with business men have continuously strengthened my faith in the honesty and integrity of my fellow men. Between business men and myself there has been mutual confidence and open frank appreciation of the honorable ins of each.

Two Big Bridges

Two major operations have been completed this year—the Burlington-Atlantic County Bridge at Green Bank and the Wading River Bridge. We were fortunate in the bidding and personnel of the contracting firms in both instances. Both bridges are Bascule type draws. Both built to endure, and both a credit to the county for years to come.

In all our contract work for the year we have been fortunate in securing labor and from highly reputable firms. We have aimed to give local business men as far as possible this keeping the money within the county.

I relinquish my task by the will of the majority of my fellow citizens, with a feeling of appreciation for the confidence they have placed in me, and of the opportunity I have had to serve them. I depend for my success in the confidence and support, will be my delight to aid him in any possible way by experience acquired, or to make available any impression at my command. With malice toward none, and charity for all, I end my task, with an undying interest in the welfare of my county and its problems.

Respectfully submitted,
CURWEN B. FISHER,
Director of Bridges.

The following bills were ordered and department of roads, $3900.56; poors $1464.15; Finance $273,920.22; Public Buildings $3,210.46; Public affairs $4386.50; totaling $296,861.82.

USE COUNTY GARAGE ROOF TO MARK MOUNT HOLLY

The committee of the Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce, which has in charge the selection of a suitable location for the proposed new aerial sign to serve as a guide to aviators, has arranged with the Board of Freeholders to use the roof of the county's new garage at Clermont for the purpose. The letters are to be of white, ten feet tall and eight feet wide. They will spell "Mount Holly" and there will also be a white arrow, ten feet or more long, with the word, "North", at the point of the arrow, as a further aid to those engaged in the air service.

An international police force of aviators to prevent war has been proposed to the League of Nations. The underlying idea is that all countries would place at the disposal of the League 10% of the trained pilots as units of an air force of peace which would be ever ready for mobilization when war threatened. A thousand aviators surrounding a hostile country would force that country to keep peace, it was stated.

Deep Designing

"What have you against me?"

"Nothing," said Mr. Cumrox. "I think I should like you for a son-in-law."

"Then why did you forbid your daughter to see me?"

"I wanted to introduce an element of romance that would induce her to defy my wishes and concentrate on a young fellow for whom I really have a high regard."—Washington Star.

THE NEW ERA

Vol. 41. No. 2. RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1929 PRICE FIVE CENTS

FINAL REPORT MADE FOR 1928 BY PALMYRA C. OF C.

Chamber of Commerce Has Been Active in Community Improvements

SPONSORED WIDER BROAD STREET

Fireworks Appropriation Was Suggested to Council by Organization

The regular monthly meeting of the Palmyra Chamber of Commerce was held in the Legion Home Tuesday evening.

Election of officers was to be held at this meeting but owing to illness of members of the nominating committee the election was postponed until the regular meeting in February.

The water situation was brought up for discussion and it was decided to have the utilities committee obtain information as to the proper legal procedure.

A report of the various activities of the Chamber during the past year was read by the secretary. The report follows in full:

Report of Secretary

Palmyra, N. J., January 5, 1929.
To the Officers and Members
Palmyra Chamber of Commerce
Gentlemen:

A resume of the accomplishments of the Chamber for the year 1928 discloses the following:

In January the Chamber accepted a membership in the Burlington Countians, Inc., which body held a meeting in Riverside on Jan. 13, at which two delegates represented the Chamber. Since then nothing further has been heard from that body, except to attend a dinner in March at Burlington.

In February the matter of excess water rates existing in Palmyra and Riverton was brought to the attention of the Chamber, at which time a committee was appointed to take the matter in hand. This committee has done very able work, has accomplished much in securing data to work with, and is still in existence and working. The Chamber hopes it may finally receive its completed report with the information that the rates have been reduced.

One important feature in connection with the work of this committee is the fact that a sub-committee was appointed to visit South River to secure data in connection with the work of that Water Company. Unfortunately the Chairman of that committee, J. Edwin Lees, was taken ill, which prevented anything being accomplished. Mr. Lees has since died. Your secretary would recommend that this committee be reconstructed that the work in hand might be accomplished.

Adopts Slogan

The Chamber adopted a slogan, "Borough of Palmyra built on Progress," was adopted from the number submitted by the scholars of Palmyra schools.

The matter of widening of Broad street, between Cinnaminson avenue and Leconey avenue and Garfield and Morgan avenue has been accomplished, the work being delayed by some slight legal technicalities which, when adjusted will cause the work to proceed and the improvement completed.

At the June meeting the question of a permanent plan to celebrate the Fourth of July was advocated, at which time by motion the Mayor and Council was asked to place on the ballot for November election the question, "Shall Palmyra hold annually a celebration to be paid out of borough funds?" As a result of favorable action of Council, this question was placed on the ballot and the plan was approved by a majority of the voters of the borough.

Respectfully submitted,
GEORGE M. HARRIS,
Secretary.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular monthly business meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary will be held next Wendesday evening, January 16, in the Legion Home.

A few members attended the county meeting at Mount Holly last Friday evening. The rehabilitation reports, as read from the various unit reports, showed that a tremendous amount of work has been done by the county this fall and winter and the Christmas season, especially. The demands on our rehabilitation fund are increasing monthly. It might be interesting to know that the report of Palmyra unit was the largest one read, showing how great our activities have been and still are.

LEFT-HANDED GRIZZLY BEARS

Dan McCowan Will Tell Knights of Many Queer Things in Canadian Rockies

DAN McCOWAN

Do you know that the grizzly bears are "left-handed" or "right-handed," that the snowshoe rabbit is capable of sprinting one hundred yards in five seconds flat, that the kingfisher diving headlong into lake or stream after prey, cannot swim a stroke—that the Canadian moose is most bashful of all animals—that the white goat of the Rockies has no equal in the art of "shamming dead" and that the skin of the badger seems curiously ill-fitting.

These and a host of similar interesting facts are dealt with by Dan McCowan of Banff, noted naturalist-photographer, in his fascinating lecture "A Naturalist in the Canadian Rockies," to be given in the K. of C. Hall, on Tuesday night, January 15, under the auspices of St. Joseph's Council.

Mr. McCowan has resided for many years in the Rockies and there has gained first hand knowledge of his subject. As an author his work is highly esteemed, as photographer of animals, and birds he has few equals. His portrayal of the incomparable scenic beauty of the Canadian Rockies, in word and picture, forms an entertainment that in its scope and originality is unique.

Everybody is invited to this interesting affair and there will be no charge for admission.

Mr. McCowan will begin his lecture at 8.30, and promises to make the evening entertaining as well as instructive for all who attend.

SEEK RELATIVES OF LOST SEAMAN

Norwegian Consul Asks for Information Regarding Olaf Olsen

The following letter has been received by Chief C. Morris Beck, of Palmyra police force. Anyone having knowledge of the person mentioned is requested to communicate with Chief Beck.

Royal Norwegian Consulate General
New York City.
The Chief of Police,
Palmyra, N. J.
Dear Sir:

I should be obliged if you would trace the relatives of one Olaf Arne Olsen, Second Assistant Engineer of the S.S. "John Tracy" which was lost at sea on January 10th, 1927. He had given his address as Palmyra, N. J., but the owners have no knowledge of his relatives, whom we would like to trace.

Yours very truly,
(s) HANS FAY.

APPRECIATION

The pastors of the community desire to express their high appreciation of the action of the directors of the Chautauqua Entertainment for postponing the course until after the Week of Prayer. This is exceedingly commendable and justly commends them to the support of the community.

Signed: George Lockett, George J. McCormack, William M. Evhard, Albert J. Harke, Charles T. Bates, J. William Lee, Pastors.

Mrs. Sallie Chance

Mrs. Sallie Chance, widow of the late John C. Chance, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John E. Martin, 804 Parry avenue, Palmyra, last Thursday afternoon following a short illness.

Funeral services were held from the late residence Sunday afternoon with the Rev. Samuel B. Williams, pastor of the Baptist Church at Lansdale, Pa., officiating. The Rev. Mr. Williams was a nephew of the deceased.

Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery, Palmyra, under direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mrs. Chance was born in Dennisville, Cape May County, and soon after her marriage moved to Palmyra where her husband was in the meat business for several years. She is survived by a son, Louis S. Chance, and three daughters, Mrs. Flora Wolfschmidt, Mrs. Ethel C. Martin and Mrs. Jane C. Albright.

ARCHITECTS' BILL IS LAID ON TABLE

Claim is Made That There Was No Agreement to Pay for Plans

At the meeting of the Riverton Board of Education Monday night a communication from Simons & Simons, of Philadelphia, who were appointed in 1927 as architects to draw plans of a proposed new school building, was read and laid on the table, by a motion of Mr. Hemphill, seconded by Mr. Steedle.

In their letter the architects stated that they had spent nearly $900.00 in working up the plans for the school for which they were enclosing a bill for $500.00, as was agreed between the board and the architects.

Mr. Hemphill said that no such arrangements were recorded in the minutes of the board, and that a letter had been written to Murray C. Boyer, then president of the board, but never mailed. Mr. Hemphill said this was admitted to him by a representative of Simons & Simons. He further stated that the State Department of Education had told him that paying for preliminary plans was unlawful as no appropriation had been made for such expense.

When the question of tabling this communication came to a vote, Mr. Elwell and Mr. Rutherford voted against laying the bill on the table, while Mr. Steedle and Mr. Hemphill voted in favor of it. Mrs. Blair, Mrs. Mayfield and Mrs. Miller did not vote, but Mr. Hemphill informed them that their silence was counted as a vote in the affirmative, and the motion to lay on the table was declared carried.

Will Not Buy Audiometer

After some discussion it was decided not to purchase the Audiometer, an apparatus for testing the hearing of pupils, which was demonstrated to the board at the December meeting.

Mr. Elwell, chairman of the medical committee, obtained copies of letters from other municipalities recommending the use of the machine in the school system. It had been proposed that the Audiometer could be purchased jointly between Riverton and Cinnaminson at an expense of $200.00 for each school.

Mrs. Mayfield expressed the opinion that $200.00 was too much to spend in view of conditions existing in the primary grades, which are now holding classes in the Flanagan property.

Mr. Hemphill expressed his opposition to a joint purchase with any school board.

Mr. Elwell said that $200.00 was too small a matter to stand in the way of progress and cooperation with a neighboring district.

Prof. Paul Y. Eckert, supervisor of Palmyra Schools, when approached on the subject, had said that he felt that such a machine should be purchased by the county, and loaned to the schools under the county supervisor.

Mrs. Miller also thought that $200.00 was quite an expense for a machine that would be used only once a year and favored Mr. Eckert's idea of the county ownership plan.

Mr. Elwell offered a motion that the proper persons be authorized to purchase the Audiometer jointly with Cinnaminson Township, but the motion lost.

Illness Keeps School Closed

Doctor Harry L. Rogers, medical inspector, had written to Mr. Elwell recommending that the Riverton school be kept closed until January 14th, due to the amount of illness in Riverton.

Mr. Warren, president of the board, and Miss Chew had decided that the school would remain closed until the time suggested by Dr. Rogers. On motion of Mr. Steedle, seconded by Mrs. Miller, the board voted its unanimous approval of their action.

The property committee reported the tree on the old school ground at Fourth and Howard streets had been removed and the fence repaired.

A letter from the Palmyra school board notified the Riverton Board of Education of a $25.00 increase in its school tuition making the cost per pupil $125.00. The letter was accepted and placed on the minutes.

Prof. Paul Y. Eckert, supervising principal of the Palmyra schools, stated that Carl Weneger had entered Palmyra High School on January 3, 1929, and claimed a residence in Riverton, and requested the Riverton Board to put his name on its list of High School pupils from Riverton. The request was complied with.

The annual meeting for the election of members of the School Board will be held Wednesday evening, February 13th, in the school house at 8 o'clock.

Miss Chew's Report

The attendance in the Kindergarten and First Grade rooms dropped to below 50%, due to whooping cough, and while the entire school was affected by illness, four rooms have a record of over 95%. The 7th B grade made 98.6% and the 8th grade 98%.

There was no tardiness in Miss Evaul's room, First Grade, nor in grades 2, 4, 6, 7a, 7b, and 8.

The last week the principal interest centered about Christmas, and the school was a busy, happy place in which to be. While we can report the work done in naming some of the larger activities, it is harder to describe the happy activity, and the fine spirit which made it the happiest Christmas we have had in Riverton School.

The Parent-Teacher Association gave their annual Christmas parties. The Junior Red Cross furnished the money to fill eight dozen Christmas stockings, which the girls of the sewing classes made for the New Lisbon colony.

Thirty baskets were filled with food, clothing and toys for the Home Service Society. Christmas Seals to the amount of $10.31 were bought by the children.

Gifts for home were made projects in the Primary school, and the manual training shop.

As I see the needs of the school for the year 1929-1930, there are two principal ones that should receive immediate consideration. One is the provision of more adequate quarters for children who must be accomodated outside the school house. The other is the provision for the service of a school nurse.

The county superintendent has asked me to report to you that he can secure the services of a nurse qualified for social work, the cost of whose services would be to Riverton $400.00 per year. This message came from Mr. Kaser to me since the Christmas vacation.

During the month your supervisor attended and spoke at a business meeting of the Porch Club, attended a joint meeting called by the county superintendents, in Camden, relative to film service in the schools, and spent an entire day in Palmyra High School on invitation of their district clerk and superintendent.

Respectfully submitted,
HANNAH H. CHEW,
Supervising Principal.

SICKNESS IN U. S. COSTS HUGE SUM

Two and a Quarter Billions Might Be Saved by Observance of Health Rules

Dr. Louis I Dublin, statistician for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, estimates the economic loss from illness chiefly preventable in the United States at $2,250,000,000 yearly. The total cost of medical care annually exceeds a billion dollars. An annual ten dollar per capita bill is considered a conservative estimate for medical attention, hospital care, drugs and nursing service; against these staggering sums stands the pitifully inadequate 50 cents per capita spent annually by official and volunteer health organizations for preventive work. The share of the tuberculosis associations in this sum is comparatively small when the work accomplished is considered, probably not more than five cents per capita for the entire country and 7.8 per capita in New Jersey last year.

It is anticipated that the 1928 sale will somewhat exceed last year's, and funds received will be immediately invested in increased health service reaching every community in the state.

Plans are under way for the repetition in 1929 of the Early Diagnosis Campaign initiated in March of last year.

Workers state that prompt return of money for 1928 seals remaining unaccounted for will greatly facilitate the work of preparation for this campaign as well as the regular work of state, county and community organizations.

AMERICA'S YOUNG TOO AGGRESSIVE

Children Dramatic and Lacking in Balance, Leader Tells Mothers

Mrs. A. H. Reeve, of Philadelphia, president of the International Federation of Home and School, addressed the joint meeting of the Moorestown Home and School and Woman's Club in the Community House, Monday afternoon. Mrs. Reeve organized the Home and School in Moorestown in the winter of 1909-1910, and was the first president.

"Our children always try to dramatize themselves, their manners are sometimes faulty and they are in general ignorance of a proper sense of balance," Mrs. Reeve told the large gathering of women. "We must hesitate, however, to blame them for what in reality is the fault of their parents. They need an example to follow.

"Our big problem is to educate the parents," Mrs. Reeve continued. "If we can remedy this parents' problem of inattention to their children's moral and spiritual development we can remove ninety-nine percent of the problem children from our schools."

Mrs. Reeve declared that the salient features of a child's education should be the development of sound health, worthy home influence, vocational training, proper use of learning, wise use of leisure, knowledge of the responsibility of citizenship and a realization of ethical values.

Sees Improvement

"While I cannot see an improvement in children during the past three years," she said, "I believe the pendulum is swinging in the right direction. I notice that children are conscious of the 'wild' individuals and label them as such."

The organization of the Moorestown Association was the result of an appeal for help from the Mooretown Visiting Nurse, who told Mrs. Reeve of her discouragement and disappointment, that there was no organization to which she could turn for help among the mothers and children with whom she was working. Mrs. Reeve immediately sensing the opportunity

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALES NET $7,000

County Tuberculosis League Collects $1,200 More Than Last Year

Many hands make light work, according to Daisy S. Hollingshead executive secretary of Burlington County Tuberculosis League. She attributes the success of Burlington county's Twenty-first Annual Christmas Seal Sale in a large measure to the generous help of many organizations and individuals who whole-heartedly participated in the campaign.

Mrs. Hollingshead told of the efficient distribution of posters by Boy Scouts, the generous publicity given by the press, the contribution made by community theatres in using seal sale trailers and the generosity of clubs and organizations in furnishing gifts to sanatorium patients. She stated that the sale to date totaled $7,007.00 which exceeds last year's sale at this time by $1,200.00. plea was made for the early return of money or seals by recipients of several hundred letters from which no response has been received.

The organization is already planning an extensive campaign to be conducted in April with the object of securing early discovery of tuberculosis cases, similar campaign last year was productive of very satisfactory results.

CINNAMINSON P. T. A.

Cinnaminson parents and teachers will meet Tuesday, January 15 at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium. The change in the time is made since our County Council meets on our regular date.

Plans have been made for the continuation of the type of meeting considering the psychological phase of our children. Why do our children do the things they do? This is a question we should ask ourselves before we can hope to control the things they do or how they do them. To aid a child mentally requires much more wise thinking than administering to his physical needs. Parents and teachers are striving to do both equally well.

Come, bring a friend and repeat the cooperation of our holiday meeting.

Press Chairman.

PARENT-TEACHERS TO HOLD JOINT MEETING

Mrs. Alfred S. Roberts, State Vice-President, Will Make Principal Address

There will be a joint meeting of the Palmyra and the Riverton Parent-Teachers Association, Tuesday afternoon next, at 3.30 o'clock at the Palmyra High School building.

Mrs. Alfred S. Roberts, of Moorestown, State Vice-President, will be the main speaker. The committee in charge would like to have all the mothers and fathers possible to attend this meeting.

Short talks will also be given by Professor Paul Y. Eckert, Supervising Principal of Palmyra Schools; Mrs. Frederick Blair, president of the Riverton P. T. A. and Miss Hannah H. Chew, Supervising Principal of Riverton Schools.

There will be a short musical program. Mrs. Ralph Rivers, a popular matron, of Palmyra, will sing several selections.

Note the date: Tuesday, January 15. The regular meeting of the Riverton P. T. A. will be held in the Riverton School Auditorium, Thursday, January 24.

MANY PUPILS ENROLL IN THRIFT SERVICE

Palmyra Has 83 Percent on First Day Against Average of 62

The following congratulatory letter has been received by Professor Eckert, supervising principal of the Palmyra schools, from the Educational Thrift Service, of New York city:

Mr. Paul Eckert,
Palmyra, N. J.
My dear Mr. Eckert:

We are pleased to note from the report of Miss Janet McCallum of our Installation Staff that 83% of the pupils enrolled in the schools of Palmyra opened accounts in the school savings system on the first bank day. The average of Educational Thrift Service on the first bank day is 62%; therefore, according to our records the school savings installation in Palmyra is a remarkable achievement and one that your schools have a right to be proud of.

We have installed this system in over 500 towns and cities, and we are well aware that 83% on the first bank day can be the result of only one thing, an unusually efficient and effective organization in the schools. We do believe that Educational Thrift Service deserves to be considered as having contributed its small share to this achievement, but we are well aware that the persons who chiefly deserve congratulation are yourself and your principals and teachers.

Very sincerely,
P. E. SHIELDS,
Secretary.

FOUR ALARMS KEEP FIREMEN BUSY

Extinguish One Auto and Three Grass Fires During Past Few Days

The Palmyra Fire Company has answered four calls during the past few days, none of which did much damage.

Last Thursday night a run was made to extinguish a fire which threatened to destroy a car on River road.

A field fire at Memorial avenue and Walnut street caused an alarm to be sent in last Saturday morning.

A grass fire threatened the residence of H. H. Hultz, 908 Morgan ave., last Monday morning. The fire was soon extinguished after the firemen arrived.

Another grass fire along the railroad near the Pensauken creek caused an alarm to be sent in Tuesday night. No damage resulted.

Russell H. Stiles

Russell H. Stiles, 32 years old, died at his home, 702 Washington avenue, Palmyra, last Thursday night following an attack of double pneumonia. Funeral services were held from the late residence Monday afternoon with the Rev. George Lockett officiating. Interment was made in the Odd Fellow's Cemetery, Burlington.

The deceased, who is survived by his mother, Mrs. Irene Stiles, has lived in Palmyra for many years and was well known in the community. He was an active member of the Central Baptist Church, taking a keen interest in the Church work. He was also a member of the Burlington County Aero Club having been very active in the club's affairs since its organization.

BABY STRANGLES

James Cunningham, three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cunningham, of Morgan Heights, Palmyra, was found dead in his coach yesterday afternoon by his mother. The baby was left on the porch at about eleven o'clock in the morning and was dead when the mother went to give it a bottle at about one-thirty. Coroner Benjamin Farner was called and issued a certificate of death by strangulation.

Louis Hepfner

Louis Hepfner, 67 years old, husband of Catherine Hepfner, died at his home at Parry, near Palmyra, last Monday.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Thursday) at two o'clock with the Rev. A. J. Harke officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan Cemetery under direction of Frank A. Snover.

VAUDEVILLE AND BOXING FEATURE LEGION MEETING

Entertaining Programs to be Provided Every Month by Committee in Charge

POST HISTORY NOW COMPLETE

Drum and Bugle Corps Takes Part in Philadelphia Mummers' Parade

The regular monthly meeting of Frederick M. Rogers Post, American Legion, was held on Wednesday of last week, with a record-breaking attendance. As promised in the "Pleayune," the local Post paper, the business meeting was short after which the entertainment committee held full sway until almost midnight.

This committee with Carl Thomas as chairman provided a well balanced and very enjoyable program of entertainment which was well received by all those present.

Comrade A. Griffith, of Florence Post, opened the program with a bass solo, following which were two rollicking acts of professional vaudeville. More fun, then a four round boxing bout between James Halloway and Pete Baylock, formerly of Palmyra. Comrade Rabbi Fisher was instrumental in having these boys on the program.

Programs Arranged

These programs of entertainment are to be the feature fo the regular monthly meetings of the Post the first Tuesday of each month. The committee has been working hard and has already secured and arranged programs for the coming two or three monthly meetings. The February meeting promises to be a knock-out.

During the business meeting the Post went on record as being greatly indebted to the Rev. J. William Lee, Palmyra Chamber of Commerce, and Comrade Johnson in making the Christmas Festival held on the Legion Home grounds on Christmas eve a big success.

Comrade Johnson has also just completed the history of Frederick M. Rogers Post, from the date of its inception to 1928, a work that has taken him many weeks and much delving through ancient records. Besides the Post history the work contains statistics of the U. S. Army and Naval forces engaged in the Great War, the killed and wounded, the cost in men and money, the major offensives of the war and the names of the divisions and regiments taking part and many other interesting facts of this great government's part in the Great War.

Book to Be Published

The book is as yet in manuscript form and it is hoped at an early date to have a quantity printed and sold to the members and friends of the boys who answered their country's call in those hectic days of 1917-18.

Palmyra was conclusively put on the map when on Saturday last the announcer of broadcasting station WCAU speaking to millions of listeners in said, "Here comes Palmyra Bugle and Drum Corps in their nappy uniforms of blue and white." It was the annual New Year's Parade postponed from New Year's Day, and the Bugle and Drum Corps was marching with the prize winning League Island New Year's Association. It was quite an advertisement for this town and much favorable comment and applause was received all along the line.

SEX EDUCATION SUBJECT FOR P. T. A.

William Sampson of Social Hygiene Bureau Will be Speaker

The Riverton Parent-Teacher Association has secured William Sampson, of the Social Hygiene Bureau of the State Department of Health, as speaker for the January meeting. This Department is making a special effort throughout the state to aid parents in the difficult problem of sex education, and this lecture is fundamental to its whole program, and especially applicable to the needs of parents of children in grammar school. All mothers will be sure to find much of practical help in this meeting.

In order to secure Mr. Sampson it was necessary to change the date of our regular meeting to Thursday January 24, at 3.15, in the school auditorium.

Press Chairman.

SUICIDE

Cinnaminson Township Man Ends Life With Shot Gun

Late Monday afternoon John D. G. Rennie, 42 years of age, a resident of Cinnaminson Township for the past three years, committed suicide in his home on the Burlington pike.

He fastened a shot gun to the foot of the bed and fired it with his toe. Rennie was taken to the Cooper Hospital in the Palmyra ambulance, and expired a few minutes after admittance.

Officer Quigley was called on the case.

Mr. Rennie is survived by a wife and three children.

COUNTY BUDGET IS LOWER THAN 1928

1929 Appropriations Indicate $14,665 Cut; Russ Director; McCormick Succeeds Fisher

A budget that is $14,665.76 less than last year's and has a total of $1,325,412.41 was tentatively approved by the County Board of Freeholders at the organization meeting held in the court house at Mount Holly, Wednesday of last week.

This reduction that will meet with the general approval of the taxpayers is brough about by the cutting of some department appropriations, the Freeholders being able to more than overcome some increases required for county institutions. The Burlington County Hospital was allowed $36,000 to take care of charity work during this year. This was done after the Board of Managers and Council had shown to the Freeholders recently that the amount was necessary to provide the charity work for the needy people of the county.

The complete budget is printed elsewhere in this issue and the taxpayers should read it to make certain that they know where and how the Freeholders propose to spend their money. There will be a public hearing on the budget at the Freeholders' building on January 17 at eleven o'clock in the morning.

The Board organized by re-electing Howard Russ director after he had been nominated by Freeholder Charles R. Stout upon call being made by Clerk Alfonza Adams.

Following his being sworn in by Clerk Adams Director Russ announced the following directorships: Finance, William H. Heisler bridges, James C. McCormick; roads, Charles R. Stout; public affairs, J. Lloyd Wright; public buildings, Mr. Russ. Mr. McCormick is the new member of the Board succeeding the Rev. Curwen B. Fisher, who failed of re-nomination last spring.

In expressing his thanks for re-election Director Russ said that the members had worked harmoniously last year and he could see no reason why such conditions should not prevail this year.

The Board then took up the election of county officials as follows:

Clerk, Alfonza Adams, Florence, three years.

Solicitor, Harold B. Wells, Bordentown, three years.

Supervisor of Roads, Stewart M. MacFarland, Mount Holly, five years.

Almshouse physician and county physician, Dr. Daniel F. Remer, Mount Holly, three years for each position.

Superintendent of county asylum, Robert W. Cox, New Lisbon, three years.

Superintendent of soldiers' burials, David E. Sooy, Mount Holly, three years.

Keeper of court house and grounds, John W. Shinn, Mount Holly, three years.

Member Tuberculosis Hospital Commission, Dr. George T. Tracy, Beverly, five years.

Member County Free Library Commission, Hon. Enmor Roberts, Moorestown, five years.

Member Sinking Fund Commission, Walter I. Dill, Mount Holly, three years.

A resolution passed provides that the rules of 1928 will govern the Board until a report is made by a new rules committee, Freeholders Heisler, McCormick and Wright.

In a communication the Burlington County Firemen's Association submitted the names of four of its members with a recommendation that one be named county fire marshal by the Board. The names submitted are William J. Smith, Bridgeboro, James Molineaux, Bordentown; Joseph J. Adams, Burlington and D. R. Lemmon, Browns Mills.

The naming of the marshal was deferred upon motion of Mr. Stout. He said that the present state law provides that the fire marshal shall report fire hazards to the county board. He offered a resolution asking the Burlington county members of Legislature to have the law amended so that fire hazards will be reported to the authorities of towns in which they exist and to the fire chiefs of those towns instead of the county. He said he does not favor the county assuming the responsibility for fire hazards. The resolution was passed.

"FLU" WARNING

"Go to Bed and Stay There," is Advice to Victims

The following editorial is reprinted from the Trenton Evening Times of December 31 at the request of the New Jersey State Department of Health:

"Follow This Sane Advice"

"In warning the people of New Jersey that influenza has reached epidemic proportions, the State Department of Health has given expression to a bit of advice which should be scrupulously followed. It is this:

Persons affected with colds or grip or influenza should not expose others to the disease. Above all, if a person feels ill with symptoms suggesting grip, he should go to bed and stay there until advised by his physician that the danger period has passed.

"Not even the mild nature of the disease during this present nation-wide epidemic can justify carelessness. Everyone owes it to himself, his relatives and the public generally to avoid spreading the malady.

"There is no need for worry. But there is need for constant vigilance lest the outbreak shall have dire consequences comparable to those of the epidemic of 1918. By taking sensible precautions urged by State health authorities, New Jersey citizens can help check the "flu" before it gets thoroughly implanted in this vicinity."

SIX OF OLD RESIDENTS DIE WITHIN FEW DAYS

Heavy Death Rate Is Reported Among Elderly People of Mount Holly

A number of old residents of Mount Holly died within a few days recently. The list follows:

Mrs. Rebecca A. Ellis, aged 86, widow of Peter Ellis, who died at her home, 244 High street, following a long illness.

John D. Rock, aged 78, died at his home, 142 Water street, from a complication of diseases.

Mrs. Mary E. Stevens, colored, suffocated by illuminating gas at her home, 203 Washington streets. She was 78 years of age.

Frank P. Henry, aged 75, retired Pennsylvania employe, died at his home on East Mill street. He had recently suffered a stroke of apoplexy.

Mrs. Anna E. White, aged 86, mother of former Senator Blanchard H. White, passed away at her son's residence.

Ida Powell, 67, daughter of the late Benjamin M. Powell, also died last week.

OAKLAND FIELD FORCE EXPANDED

Expansion of the field organization of the Oakland Motor Car Company to meet the anticipated increase in business in 1929 is announced by W. R. Tracy, Vice-president in charge of sales.

A closer tieup between the manufactures and the public is assured by the expansion, which included the creation of a new district office, the transfer of another, and changes in the field personnel of additional districts.

This announcement follows directly on the heels of a statement issued by the Oakland factory declaring that shortly a Pontiac Six, new in practically everything but name, would appear on the market, and at a time when the new Oakland All-American Six is commanding greater public interest than any previous model in the history of the line.

In addition to expansion in the sales department, production facilities also are being stepped up so that next year the Oakland-Pontiac plant will have a capacity in excess of 350,000 cars, as against an estimated output this year of 265,000 units.

Field changes included the establishment of a new district office on December 15 at Los Angeles, the 25th to be established in the United States, which exercises jurisdiction over Southern California, Arizona and parts of Nevada. Annual business flowing through this office will range from nine to twelve millions of dollars.

GRIP EPIDEMIC KEEPS HOLLY SCHOOLS CLOSED

The epidemic of influenza which caused so much sickness in Mount Holly and other communities from which school students go to Mount Holly prompted the Northampton Township Board of Education to postpone the reopening of the schools to Monday, January 7 thus extending the holiday period four days. This decision is made in accordance with the advice of Dr. Harold E. Longsdorf, medical inspector of the schools, and at the suggestion of other doctors in town who are interested in taking measures to check the outbreak that might develop into a more alarming stage.

SELF REGULATION OF INDUSTRY

Many of the principal industries of the country are availing themselves of the good offices of the Government which guarantees them safety and protection in the holding of trade conferences for the purpose of devising ways for the self-regulation of industry. The Federal Trade Commission says that business and industry is just a little better, and just a little cleaner than it has ever been before, thanks to the regulation from within.

SPLENDID SALE OF CHRISTMAS SEALS

Daisy S. Hollingshead, of County Tuberculosis League, Reports Receipts of $7,007

Many hands make light work, according to Daisy S. Hollingshead, executive secretary of Burlington County Tuberculosis League. She attributes the success of Burlington county's Twenty-first Annual Christmas Seal Sale in a large measure to the generous help of many organizations and individuals who whole-heartedly participated in the campaign.

Mrs. Hollingshead told of the efficient distribution of posters by Boy Scouts, the generous publicity given by the press, the contribution made by community theatres in using seal sale trailers and the generosity of clubs and organizations in furnishing gifts to sanatorium patients. She stated that the sale to date totaled $7,-000.00 which exceeds last year's sale at this time by $1,200.00. A plea was made for the early return of money or seals by recipients of several hundred letters from which no response has been received.

The organization is already planning an intensive campaign to be conducted in April with the object of securing early discovery of tuberculosis cases. A similar campaign last year was productive of very satisfactory results.

Plans are under way for the repetition in 1929 of the Early Diagnosis Campaign initiated in March of last year.

AGRICULTURE WEEK MEETINGS PLANNED

The poultry industry, which has grown in value from $2,050,000 to $20,000,000 in sixteen years, will play a prominent part in the fourteenth annual Agricultural Week to be held in Trenton from January 15 to 18. An attractive baby chick exhibit will form a part of the Farm Products and Equipment Show, while the New Jersey State Poultry Association and New Jersey Baby Chick Association will hold their annual meetings at that time.

Several subjects of great importance to this rapidly growing industry will be presented at the meeting of the poultry association on Tuesday, January 17. L. M. Black, extension poultry specialist, State Experiment Station and W. H. Rice poultry specialist, University of Maryland, will be the speakers at the morning session. What Did We Learn from New Jersey's Better Pullet Campaign?" will be the subject of Mr. Black's address, while Professor Rice will speak on "The Turkey's Return to Eastern Farms."

Professor Willard C. Thompson, head of the Poultry Department, State Experiment Station, will open the afternoon meeting with an address on "What May We Reasonably Expect 1,000 Pullets to Earn in One Year?" While W. H. Allen, Director of Research, Acetol Products Company, New York City, will talk on "Observations on Poultry Farming Throughout the United States."

The Baby Chick Association will hold their annual meeting and banquet on Friday night.

UTILITIES NOT SUFFERING

Despite all the reports of the wrong-doings of certain utilities the Government reports show a steady increase in the net profits of telephone and telegraph companies, gas, electric light, heat, power, traction and water services throughout the United States.

POSTAL SAVINGS

Postal savings banks of the country now have deposits of more than $152,000,000. The Postmaster General says that the former feeling of hostility on the part of the banking fraternity has disappeared as the conduct of the postal saving system has been such as to remove the feeling that these banks were competing with private banks. Evidently the postal savings has served to promote the idea of thrift in this country.

RANCOCAS PARK SOLD FOR CLUB

All American's Holding Company Pays $140,000 for 313-Acre Tract

Title to the property known as Rancocas Park, consisting of 313 acres and owned by the Rancocas Park Company, was taken Monday by the Rancocas Land Company, the holding company for the All American Country Club on the Rancocas at a reported price of $140,000.

The first founder membership quota of the All American Country Club on the Rancocas has been completed and the permanent officers and board of governors will be elected some time during the month of January.

The property is to be developed with a club house, an 18 hole golf course, aviation field, tennis courts, trap-shooting grounds, out-door and indoor swimming pools, billiards, pool and bowling. The lake and the shore of Rancocas Creek to be laid out in a one and one-half mile water front park with walks and bridle paths.

The club will be devoted to the promotion of every form of athletic sport, out-door and in-door, summer and winter, the sponsors announce.

The property is beautifully situated fourteen miles from the Delaware River bridge on the Moorestown-Mt Holly Pike midway between Moorestown and Mount Holly. It has train and bus service at its entrance and a stream for all forms of boating.

The club will be locally officered, locally governed, but under the management of a national organization known as the All American Country Club. The All American County Club on the Rancocas is one of a chain of many to be established on the rims of large cities throughout the United States, it has been reported.

The offices of the All American Country Club on the Rancocas are located in the Broadway Building, Camden.

REED'S LICENSING BUREAU EXCEEDS ALL RECORDS

Previous records were shattered at the office of Francis H. Reed, motor vehicle agent in Mount Holly, for number of licenses issued during the year 1928. Mr. Reed reports 1,000 more licenses issued for cars than last year. Licenses were issued for over 9,000 pleasure cars and 3,000 trucks. More than 10,500 received drivers' licenses. The receipts will total $150,000 for December.—A long line of motorists waited their turn in front of the motor vehicle agency on Main street last Monday, December 31, the last day for operating cars with last year's tags. Mr. Reed was assisted in handling the crowds by the Mount Holly police outside and an efficient force of clerks inside.

FISH AND GAME BOARD PRAISED

Governor Moore is Pleased With Work of Board in New Jersey

Official commendation of their work in the interest of the great army of anglers and hunters of New Jersey has been extended to members of the State Fish and Game Commission by Governor A. Harry Moore. The Governor's comment follows his study of the survey of fishing and hunting conditions in the state as shown in the latest annual report of the board, issued by Walter H. Fell, of Trenton, its secretary.

Governor Moore's message was received at the annual meeting of the commission, at which Harry J. Burlington, of Montvale, was reelected president. Other officers reelected were Dr. C. F. Hunter, of Palisade, vice-president and Lewis Spinks, of Jersey City, treasurer. Other members of the board are Alexander H. Phillips, Princeton; J. R. Hensler, of Toms River, H. M. Armstrong, of Jersey City, and G. W. Warren, Jr., of Summit.

"I have read with interest the annual report of your commission and wish to take this opportunity of complimenting you upon its excellence," said the state's chief executive in his letter of appreciation.

"May I also, at this time, commend your board upon the fine work it is doing for New Jersey. I am impressed by the heart interest of the members of the board, which is so apparent as one reads this most interesting and commendable report.

"I desire to thank you on behalf of the State, for the service which is so freely and efficiently rendered."

An effective arm of the service of fish and game development most frequently in direct touch with the public is the force of wardens, which President Burlington says, will be further strengthened in efficiency during the coming year. This policing body is headed by James M. Stratton, of Long Branch, as protector, with Harry Cudney, of Hackettstown and Howard Z. Mathis, of Mount Holly, as assistant protectors. One or more wardens are stationed in every county.

JOHN CONOVER

John Conover, 85, of 262 Hooker street, Riverside, last of seven Moorestown brothers all of whom lived to be more than 80, died Sunday.

Funeral services will be held at the home, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Richard A. Conover, pastor of the First M. E. Church, New Brunswick, in charge. Burial will be in Bridgeboro Cemetery. Mr. Conover is survived by two sons, Frank A., of Riverside, and Walter R., of Delanco, and a daughter, Mrs. Harvey Lloyd, with whom he had made his home. He was a retired farmer, for many years having a large farm in Bridgeboro. He was a member of Powhattan Tribe, No. 99, I. O. R. M., of Bridgeboro.

for service to the children enlisted the cooperation of Mrs. William Roberts and Mrs. Joseph Roberts. By their united efforts they were able to get eight mothers to meet with them in the Episcopal Parish House. During the summer confidence grew in the little group and the members increased until in the fall they had a membership of twenty-five. Permission was given to meet in the teachers' room of the Public School in the fall of 1910.

During the time of her presidency of the local association, 1910-16, Mrs. Reeve also was State President from 1910-14.

After leaving the State organization, Mrs. Reeve took up work in the National Congress and was elected national president in 1922. She continued in that office until 1928.

National Representative

On August 4, 1927, Mrs. Reeve went to Toronto, Canada, to represent the National Congress of Parents and Teachers at the Third Biennial meeting of the World Federation of Education Association, to which the Congress has been elected a member. Through the cooperation of the World Federation officers the Congress arranged three section meetings on the program of this great assembly at which were present delegates from more than forty nations—one on Congress organization and methods, one on its activities and accomplishments, and one, jointly with the kindergarten section, on the pre-school child and parental education. The hearty support and efficient cooperation of the Ontario Federation of Home and School were strong factors in the marked success of this undertaking. Representatives of China, India, Canada and the United States took part in the discussions. Mrs. Reeve acted as chairman at these sessions.

The Congress was included in all the official functions of the week and Mrs. Reeve was appointed a member of Committee Number one, on World Relationship through Education.

During this week Canada organized the Canadian National Federation of Home and School, from which meeting, as well as the Congress sections, went the recommendation that steps be taken toward the formation of an International organization, so evident had been the interest displayed by the foreign delegates in this movement.

The National organizations of Canada, and the United States therefore issued invitations to a conference in Hart House, Toronto, which was accepted by about 75 men and women, representing 16 nations. This group unanimously voted to form an international federation at once, simple by-laws were adopted, officers and directors elected, and it was arranged to make the next meeting of the International Federation of Home and School coincident as to time and place with the next biennial meeting of the World Federation of Education Associations, which will be held in Geneva, Switzerland, July 25 to August 4, 1929.

International Leader

The Congress of Parents and Teachers was honored by having Mrs. Reeve elected president of the International organization. Twelve directors were elected representing Austria, Canada, China, Denmark, England, France, Germany, Belgium, India, Mexico, Japan and Hawaii.

The response to the first international communication showed that active work is being in progress in France, and Switzerland, while marked interest is reported from Japan, Cuba and India. Sweden and Holland have shown their interest in the international organization and Mrs. Reeve recently received a letter from Premier Mussolini, of Italy, requesting information about the Parent-Teacher work.

Mrs. Reeve is editor of the "Child Welfare Magazine," the official publication of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The "Summer Round-Up" which is a pre-school age drive for the correction of physical defects in order that the children may be 100 percent physically fit when they enter school, was inaugurated by Mrs. Reeve.

GETS COVETED TAG

In recognition of its proud position as the oldest fire-fighting organization in the country, Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill has reissued to the Relief Fire Company of Mount Holly, its license tag No. MGX1 for its motorized apparatus. Motor Licensing Agent Francis H. Reed made the suggestion as to the propriety of thus honoring the Relief and the Commissioner was glad to fall in with the suggestion.

PHONE GROWTH RAPID IN N. J.

Great Development During the Past Year, Says Company Manager

Telephone growth in the statewide territory of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company during the last year indicates a period of rapid development under way in the state which is outstanding in the country, according to L. A. Fritchman, manager for the New Jersey Bell Company.

Figures for the year compiled by the company, which serves all but two percent of the telephones in the state, show:

That the rate of telephone growth in this state reflecting growth in population and industry, is the highest of any territory of any of the telephone companies associated with the Bell system. Telephones increased approximately 42,000 during the year to make a total of 1,623,000 in New Jersey at the end of 1928.

That New Jersey has more telephones per square mile than the territory of any other Bell system company, regardless of size, the number per square mile in this state being 347.

That New Jersey people use the telephone to call other places, "out-of-town calls", more than people anywhere else in the country, and make, including these and all other types of calls, approximately 736,000,000 calls a year, which is over 50,000,000 more calls than they made a year ago.

Development of New Jersey has been so rapid, and New Jersey peoples have used the telephone so extensively for business and social purposes, Mr. Fritchman declared, that the number of telephones in the state, the telephone investment, and the number of people needed to operate the enlarged system, all have more than doubled since 1920. The plant investment is now $160,000,000 and employees number 15,000 people.

1345 DEER KILLED

Kill Shows Decrease Over Previous Year When 1700 Were Reported

The total kill during New Jersey's five-day deer hunting season was 1345 bucks, as compared to 1700 last year when the season continued only four days, according to figures revealed Friday by the State Fish and Game Commission.

Fawns and does totaling 67 were found slain in the woods this year, as compared with 77 last year. Burlington county's kill totaled 469, the largest in the state; Ocean, 306; Atlantic, 107; Morris, 103; Camden, 24; Cape May, 5, and Cumberland, 51.

The reduced kill was attributed in part to the new law that prohibits the killing of any buck with horns shorter than three inches and partly to an appreciable reduction in the size of the herds.

P. S. ENGINEER, ILL, RETIRES THIS WEEK

Edward H. Earnshaw, chief engineer of the Gas Department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, retires this week because of ill health. Mr. Earnshaw has been with the company for more than twenty-one years and took an important part in the development of the business from a daily output of some 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas to more than 100,000,000 cubic feet. During this time there has been an increase in service meters from 270,000 to approximately 740,000.

One of Mr. Earnshaw's major undertakings with Public Service was to introduce and perfect the present intermediate pressure system whereby large consumption areas are supplied from central distributing plants with a minimum of holder stations.

Mr. Earnshaw designed and acted as chief engineer on the construction of the Harrison-Oak Works, which is one of the most modern water gas plants in the world. It was completed in 1926. He also remodeled the Camden Coke plant and the Trenton and Paterson Gas Works. He was a pioneer in the development of our present method of oil cracking, having made extensive experiments in Philadelphia.

Mr. Earnshaw was born in New York city, October 27, 1863, and in recent years has lived at 205 Central avenue, Orange. He went to Public Service from the United Gas Improvement Company in 1907.

DOG TEARS PIECE OFF MASTER'S EAR

Clarence E. Worrell Suffers Painful Injury While Playing With Airedale

Township Committeeman Clarence E. Worrell, prominent Moorestown civic worker, was painfully injured while playing with his pet Airedale, "Chummie", Sunday evening.

"Chummie" made a lunge for his master, during the course of the play, and bit off a piece of Mr. Worrell's right ear. The piece, fully an inch and a half long, was severed entirely from the member, and fell to the floor.

Fortunately Dr. Bertine Ulmer, who lives at short distance from the Worrell home, was quickly located. The physician rushed to Mr. Worrell and in a few minutes had the severed piece of ear sewed back into place. Fifteen stitches were required in the operation.

Although he has given Mr. Worrell no definite assurance Dr. Ulmer is in hopes that the operation, which seemed almost an impossibility, will be a success.

The Township Committeeman has been at his office at Worrell Engineering Company every day this week, but is weak from the loss of blood and suffering.

He has proven himself a real lover of dogs, refusing to place any blame on the pet. "It was all my fault," he declared. "I was teasing the dog."

In addition to being a member of the municipal governing body and an active worker in many organizations, Mr. Worrell is president of the Rotary Club and Chamber of Commerce.

SENATOR CAPPER SMALL TOWN MAN

Important American Hails From Garnett, Kansas; Holds Many Offices

SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER

One of the most important of Kansans, and therefore one of the most important of Americans, is Senator Arthur Capper. For years he has been a leader in the field of agricultural journalism as the owner of influential farm papers. He has also been Governor of Kansas and is now Senator from that State. He is one of the most active forces representing the farmers of the United States.

Born at Garnett, Kan., a small town, in 1865, he was educated in the local high school and later moved to Topeka. In 1884 his working career began. He started as a compositor on the Topeka Daily Capital.

His rise was rapid. He was successively reporter, city editor, Washington correspondent; and since 1892 has been publisher and proprietor of the paper. In addition he is publisher and proprietor of a good number of farm weeklies.

He is a director of the Farmers' National Bank of Topeka, Kan., and president of the Board of Regents of the Kansas Agricultural College. From 1915 to 1919 he was Governor of Kansas. He has been a Senator since 1919. He heads the Kansas State Good Roads Association and the Kansas State Historical Society.

The activities listed above show Capper as an extremely active, vitally important American. His rise to prominence and a broad sphere of usefulness from his start as a compositor is but one more illustration of the opportunities that are open to small town boys.

DILL SEEKS TO CUT AUTO DEATH TOLL

Reports 1000 Fatalities in State in Year With Few Convictions

Stern warning of a state campaign against drunken and reckless driving was issued by Motor Commissioner William L. Dill last week as he made public reports showing more than 1,000 persons had died in traffic accidents in New Jersey in 1928.

He said the assistance of judges, prosecutors, magistrates and grand juries had been asked in a vigorous crusade for a more strict enforcement of the law in motor manslaughter cases.

Revealing that little more than 1 per cent. of those arrested in automobile manslaughter cases had been convicted in the year, Dill said the magistrates had been asked to impose drastic sentences on all motorists proven drunk and that drivers would be warned that revocation of licenses would follow all cases in which their cars were involved in a fatal crash.

The record showed such a big number of children killed in the streets that Dill called it "a veritable slaughter of the innocents."

He said records showed only 11 persons had been sent to prison in the 1000 death cases. He added: "It is unbelievable that more than 99 per cent. of these fatalities were caused solely by carelessness of the person struck. In our opinion, therefore, the enforcement of the law is the most powerful remedy to protect pedestrians from carelessness of reckless drivers.

"Many of the fatalities were due to drunken drivers, and it is vital that magistrates sitting in judgement upon drivers charged with operating cars while under the influence of liquor where there is no doubt as to the guilt of the offender, should impose drastic penalties. In this way we only hope that on New Year's Day, 1930, we will be able to say: "Thank God there were fewer people killed by automobiles than during the year 1928."

PLAN "AG" DISPLAY

Riverton Man to Have Charge of Federal Land Bank Exhibit

In connection with the Farm Products and Machinery Exhibit in the Armory during the Agricultural Week at Trenton January 15 to 18, the Federal Land Bank and the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank will have a display. Richard D. Barclay, of Riverton, Field Representative for both institutions, will be in charge. Mr. Barclay will be glad to discuss loans with farmers interested and be prepared to supply printed information and application blanks.

The exhibit will show photos of farms, farm operations and data on farm loans in New Jersey. The Federal Land Bank of Springfield now has made loans in over 170 townships in New Jersey on more than 1,600 farms in amounts ranging from $400 to $25,000. Of the total farms in New Jersey, one in every 22 has a Federal Land Bank mortgage. The total of such loans has exceeded $6,000,000, although repayments in full and installments paid on principal make the net amount at present outstanding about $5,000,000.

Speeder is Fined Dollar a Mile After Policeman Has to Shoot to Stop Him

Haddon Heights Man, in "Rush to Keep Appointment", Pays $50 for Driving 50 Miles an Hour on Moorestown's Main Street

Dollar a mile! That's the rate Recorder Joseph W. Johnston has established for automobile speeders on Moorestown's Main street.

Clemens Titzear, Jr., of 125 Third avenue, Haddon Heights, learned of this new rate Monday morning. Mr. Titzear was charged with operating his automobile at a speed of 50 miles an hour on Main street and was assessed $50 and costs at a hearing before the recorder in Town Hall.

The Haddon Heights man told the police "he was in a rush to keep a date with a man at Palmyra." His actions proved this fact, for it took shots from Officer Walter A. Erricksen's revolver to stop him after a wild chase.

The officer attempted to stop Titzear as he speeded along Main street. Failing to accomplish this feat, Erricksen took up the chase. Titzear's auto, he told the court, seemed to gain added speed as it went out Chester avenue, and he was "doing better than sixty" along Riverton Road.

As he sped his car up in back of the fleeing machine near the McCahan home, the officer repeated his efforts to stop Titzear with the aid of his police whistle, but without avail. Rapidly tiring of the wild chase, Erricksen then decided to take drastic action. He pulled out his revolver and let a couple of shots whistle by the fleeing car. This brought remarkable results. Titzear stopped suddenly, and the hectic race was won by the law.

Needless to say, Titzear was severely reprimanded by the court, in addition to being penalized $50, and the recorder even threatened to revoke his driver's license for a year.

The recorder also took an opportunity to announce that after "fifty miles" the rate on Main street is "doubled" and the offense likewise will carry the revocation of the operator's card with it.

A reckless driver, arrested Sunday, was fined $10 and costs by Recorder Johnston. The offender was Edward W. D. Rose, 6042 Hazel avenue, Philadelphia.

COUNTY COUNCIL

Mid-Winter Meeting of P. T. A. at Springside January 16

A mid-winter meeting of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Burlington county is to be held in the Springside schoolhouse, near Burlington, on Wednesday, January 16, with session morning and afternoon.

J. N. Faust, national recreation chairman, will be the speaker at the morning session, which will begin at 10 o'clock, and in the afternoon at 2 o'clock entertainment will be furnished by Miss Herr, music supervisor, while the address will be by Mrs. William F. Little, recently elected president of the New Jersey Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations, who will make her first visit to Burlington county since taking office.

Every officer and committee chairman and members of the Association in general is expected to be on hand to greet her.

NATIONAL LEADER TO VISIT COUNTY

Miss Elizabeth Rogers, Field Secretary, Will Study YWCA Work

Miss Elizabeth Rogers, National Field Secretary for the North-Eastern Region, will arrive in Mount Holly on Tuesday, January 15, to spend some time studying the work in Burlington County. Miss Rogers will speak at the county Board meeting Tuesday, January 15, at 10 a. m. She will visit Girl Reserve clubs, Business and Industrial clubs while in the county.

County Council to Meet January 14

The County Council of Senior Club will meet at the Moorestown Community House on Monday, January 14 for a rally and election of officers. Members of Senior clubs and business girls from the county will attend. Miss Helen Jones, of Burlington, president of the council, will preside. Following the business session the girls will have a swim in the pool.

Sewing Class Formed

The Beverly Senior club girls are taking up sewing as their next project. Mrs. Elliett Morrell, the club sponsor, is to be the teacher and the girls will have work not only in the sewing of garments but also in cutting and fitting and in the remodeling of old garments.

Senior Club Committee Meets

The Senior club committee will meet on Thursday evening, January 10, at the Mount Holly office for further consideration of the study made by Miss Eleanor Coit of the Industrial Department of the National Board, on her recent visit to the county. Members of the committee who will attend are, Mrs. Henry Albertson, Chairman; and Miss Margaret Haines, of Burlington; Mrs. E. J. Young, Riverton; Miss Margaret Jones, Moorestown; Miss Mildred Purnell, Mount Holly; and Miss Sidonie Schafer, Mrs. John W. Davis, of Edgewater Park; Mrs. Lester Collins, of Moorestown, and Miss Sallie Sumner, members of the county Board, will also attend.

The Moorestown "Be Square" club, with Mrs. Margaret Baylor, as adviser had a "Parents' Night" Thursday, January 3, for the two-fold purpose of entertaining the parents and helping them to understand Girl Reserve ideals.

The program was opened by the singing of "Come, All Ye Faithful," followed by a prayer led by Rev. Wm. Dorrey. After the Girl Reserves had given their code and sung a Girl Reserve song, Ruth Smith, president of the club, gave a welcome to the parents in which she told of the purpose of the meeting. The Scripture Reading was by Annie Birdsong. There were vocal solos by Lucy Hill, Sara Hall and Rogor Eldridge, and a reading by Delilah Dixson. Mrs. Bennie Ambrose gave a talk after which the girls presented a Health Skit and held a discussion on the "Girl Reserve Ring."

Tuesday evening, January 8, the Bordentown High School Girl Reserves held their first recognition service at the school auditorium, with parents and friends as guests. Miss Margaret Thomas, of Moorestown, a member of the county Girl Reserve committee, talked briefly about Girl Reserve ideals and standards, telling something of the work in Burlington County.

The New Lisbon girls took advantage of the holidays in a delightful way. They skated every day the ice was hard enough, and on other days went hiking. On their last hike they were quite pleased to find pixey in bloom. They also found tea-berries and crow's-foot.

FLIER'S CAR BURNS

Lieut. Edward Pennock, pilot of the Burlington County Aero Club at Moorestown, saved three parachutes and other valuable air equipment when his automobile caught fire on the River road at Palmyra last Thursday evening.

Lieutenant Pennock jumped from the machine when flames shot through the floor boards. He braved the fire to drag the parachutes and aviators' logs from the rear seat.

Palmyra firemen extinguished the blaze. Damage to the automobile is estimated at $300. The genial pilot was uninjured.

Both men and women took part in the big talk marathon in New York. This did seem a bit unfair to the men.

Life Saving With Soap and Water

At this season of the year when illness abounds, the woman who must care for some sick member of her family does well to bring at least one element of hospital treatment into her home. That is the fundamental and inexpensive one of cleanliness.

The modern hospital, we are told, depends almost as much upon cleanliness as it does upon medicine or surgery for its excellent results. Its starched white nurses and internes, its spotless floors and fixtures, are not merely to inspire the patient and awe visitors. They are a matter of routine for the protection of all concerned. Cleanliness is part of the cure. And this applies to the patient, the sick-room, and the home nurse herself, whose contact with the other members of the household must be rendered safe. Odorous disinfectants are rarely called for, since soap and water and sunshine are recognized as adequate, if not superior, in most cases.

"If you remove cleanliness and the mechanics of cleanliness from the modern hospital you will go back a hundred years," says Doctor C. C. Burlingame, executive officer of New York's gigantic new Medical Center. "There is a definite relation between cleanliness and health, just as there is between mental and physical health. Although direct and bacteria are not necessarily synonymous, cleanliness goes hand in hand with a sterile technique, or a method of preventing bacteria from coming into contact with the individual."

Handwashing is one of the essential precautions to be observed by the attendant of a sick person. Wash the hands thoroughly with soap and water before and after any contact with the patient, is the advice of doctors and nurses. "Before we knew that bacteria were the cause of disease," says Doctor Burlingame, "we knew that the ordinary use of soap and water was an important factor in the treatment of hospital patients. Certain hospitals formed the habit of cleanliness, and the surgeons made a practice of washing their hands frequently. It was observed that these groups obtained better surgical results through ordinary personal and institutional cleanliness."

Why This Haste?

What's this great rush in re-nominating and re-electing Walter E. Edge to the United States Senate? The primaries are a year and a half distant, and a great deal of water will swirl back and forth through the Delaware as the tides ebb and flow before the statesman from Ventnor decides whether or not again to tempt the political fates. Our guess is that the Senator is altogether too cagey a politician to expose himself to the knifing that will be his portion in event that he should again essay to represent New Jersey in the upper branch of Congress.

He has done pretty well, thank you, in his quest for public office since he entered politics more than a score of years ago. During that time he has garnered about all the honors within the power of his city, county and State to bestow, and it isn't at all likely that he will risk smearing his record by carrying his pitcher to the well once too often. Senator Edge hasn't been as lucky as he is being represented in some quarters. He has used his head for something else than a hat tree, in politics as well as business, and there is every reason to believe that exercises of the same canny foresight he has thus far displayed in his political career will convince him that his race is run as a successful voter getter in New Jersey.

The Senator is reputed to stand very close to President-elect Hoover, and rumor also has it that he would not be at all averse to an important post, such as, for instance, as Ambassador to the Court of St. James. He shot his bolt as leader of the Republican forces of New Jersey in the primaries last May, when his candidate for United States Senator, former Governor E. C. Stokes, was decisively defeated for the nomination by Hamilton F. Kean. The Senator's day as a power in New Jersey politics has waned. The new leaders will continue to say nice things about him, of course, as a matter of good party politics. But if the Senator is to continue in his nation's service, he had better grab off that diplomatic post.

—BEVERLY LEADER.

Cut Down Financial Losses

Each year millions of dollars are lost through unwise speculation and investment. "Get-rich-quick" stocks are sold with promises of fabulous earnings and appreciation. The "enthusiastic" promoters of such ventures rarely have a dollar of their own invested. Even first mortgage bonds, thought of by many as being assurance enough, are subject to the same hazard of over-enthusiasm and mismanagement.

Most of these lost millions could be saved if, before purchase of any security, a well informed bank or reputable finance house were consulted. Get all the advise possible from nationally known financial experts and it will then be found that probably the safest general rule is to confine purchases to securities listed on the solidly established stock and bond exchanges of our larger cities and through the advice and guidance of member brokers' which in itself is assurance that the security has been given the careful analysis of experts before it is offered the public through exchange listing.

Research Improves Telephone Service

The American telephone industry is carrying on an extensive research program, toward the goal of furnishing better, wider and cheaper service. This includes trans-oceanic communication, television, etc.

Loud-speakers and talking motion pictures resulted from research that was designed to improve telephone service. The public knows little of this research. But behind every telephone call, every progressive step in the art of communication, are thousands of laboratory workers whose duty it is to provide the public with constantly improving service.

Chemists Use Agricultural Products

In an address before the American Farm Bureau, Doctor Charles M. A. Stine, the famous industrial chemist, told of the extensive uses of agricultural products in industrial chemistry. He recited many of the uses of cotton as an outstanding agricultural product for which the industrial chemist has found extensive uses. Smokeless powder, commericial high explosives, golf balls, photographic films, toilet articles, automobile finishes rayon were mentioned in an imposing list of things derived from cotton by means of involved chemical processes. Describing a variety of products of which corn is the basic raw material, Doctor Stine stated that "a rather large proportion of the corn crop is now processed by the factory and not by the hog, a consumption of over 230,000,000 bushels being estimated for 1927, or approximately ten per cent of the crop."

Among the numerous agricultural raw materials which are used in diversified chemical manufacturing, Doctor Stine referred to sugar, sugar cane, molasses, vegetable oils, straw, cornstarch, flour, hulls of grains, and other waste. "We have manufactured many tons of camphor from turpentine and we consume rosin in the manufacture of various chemical compounds," he said. "A very large part of the business of the company with which I am connected, Doctor Stine continued, "is based upon the consumption of products of animal or vegetable origin."

The raw materials from the farm should be utilized for industry as well as food, according to Doctor Stine, and he told the Farm Bureau that he pinned hope on the work being done in the Government laboratories to develop our so-called agricultural-chemistry, as "only laboratories of this sort," he added, "would seem to be adequate for carrying on the fundamental research demanded by this tremendous problem of the development of the potentialities of the nation's farms from the standpoint of their usefulness for the nation's factories as well as for the growth of foodstuffs."

"One-Eye" Connolly

"One-Eye" Connolly's name has become a by-word. He is the gate crasher par excellence.

He has always got into everything free—everything from a first-night theatrical performance to a fistic heavyweight battle.

No guards could ever keep him out. He had a thousand clever methods. He was expected at all public functions, though nobody ever invited him. He got in—nobody knew how.

He never accepted or bought a ticket for anything.

The other day he attracted a crowd in Brooklyn, New York, and was found guilty of obstructing the traffic. He was put into a cell for a brief time,and tearfully complained that his imprisonment was the ruination of his professional career.

We don't see why this happening should spoil his career. True enough, he was conducted to his cell in a formal manner. He didn't have to "crash" the prison gates.

But then—he didn't have to pay to get in! And he got out free, too.

Does Crime Pay?

In an article in the Baltimore Sun, James M. Hepbron disputes the statement that crime does not pay. "In that (a 'typical American city') there were 10,000 serious crimes reported to the police," Mr. Hepbron says, "and in the final analysis only 97 people went to prison. If crime doesn't pay, who then gets the almost unthinkable sum of from ten to sixteen billions which is said to be the yearly toll of crime in this country, a sum which is one-seventh of our total earnings?"

Statistics such as these show graphically the farce of American law enforcement. We have more laws than any other country in the world, more professional reformers, more people with cures for everything that ails or is said to ail the human race. And crime has increased in direct proportion to the increases in laws enacted. It would hardly be an exaggeration to say that every piece of criminal legislation, means a continually increasing number of law breaks.

Mr. Hepbron states that in Sing Sing, according to Warden Lawes of that penitentiary, "the average time between commitment to the death house and execution is almost a year. What a commentary on the American system of administering justice, in contrast to that of England, where from the time of trial, including every known appeal, only about six weeks elapse before execution.

A fact such as this requires no comment.

The New Country Doctor

The country doctor has always been a figure invested with much romance. His willingness to make any sacrifice for a patient, his general ability and kindness, have been the theme of song and story. Yet it is true that despite all the admirable qualities of the country doctor, he was unable to keep in touch with what medicine had discovered since he left training school, and had to rely upon old remedies.

The Albany Medical College seeks an endowment of $2,000,000, the chief aim being the creation of facilities which will enable practicing physicians, and especially rural doctors, to keep abreast with the progress of medical science through graduate work.

The old-fashioned country practitioner is disappearing and the medical authorities hope to supply in his place well-trained physicians who will have the opportunities for continued study, now available only in metropolitan areas, in their county seats. This development will bring to those on isolated farms more effective aid than they ever before have had in reach. The auto from the county seat can answer calls more quickly than the buggy from the neighboring village.

In time country medical practice will be as efficient as city medical practice. The county seats will have their hospitals and specialists serving a wider area than former methods of communication would have made it possible to serve. No longer does it seem impossible for a distant patient to reach a hospital.

New Money Next July

The Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington is turning out millions and millions of dollars of new money in the small sizes, and there will be enough of it by July 1 to replace all the old currency. The Government will discontinue the distribution of the larger bills of the present issues about the last of March, and by late June the country will have the greatest supply of dirty money that it has ever known. The average life of a piece of paper money is nine months, although some bills that travel fast and work hard do not last more than one-third of that length of time before they are called in. The new bills will not fit easily into many of the billfolds and pocketbooks that are now being used, and when they come into general circulation the Christmas pocketbooks of 1928 will go out of date and out of style.

WASTED VALUES

CHURCHES SHOULD BE BIG

LIONS AND SHEEP

SWEARING OFF

The greatest of all waste goes on inside the human brain, of which 999 one-thousandths remain idle and unused, even in well-managed brains. Millions of brains do not work at all, only remember and repeat, never create.

But that will change. Consider what ants and other insects accomplish, having been here many million years ahead of us. We are only 12,000 years from the late Stone Age, which is the most encouraging fact in history. Give men ten to fifty millions more years, with deepening convolutions and inherited knowledge, and see what they will do.

A mud wasp, as Fabre shows, is born knowing how to perform a most delicate surgical operation, difficult for a skilled man. New born human babies, 50,000,000 years hence, will know more of mathematics than Newton knew when he died, more of music than Beethoven and Bach combined.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who understands human nature, encourages the building of Dr. Reisner's skyscraper church in New York, says "churches must be big enough to dominate skyscrapers. Material as well as spiritual dominance is needed."

That sound idea inspired builders of the old cathedrals. When the Pope ordered Michel Angelo to build St. Peter's in Rome, dominance was the idea as it was in the building of the cathedrals of Cologne, Milan, Notre Dame and others.

To control men you must control their IMAGINATION.

Mussolini has old-fashioned ideas and good ones. The new twenty-lira piece, worth $1, bears an inscription worth many dollars:

"Meglio vivere un giorno da leone, che cento anni da pecora," meaning, "It is better to live one day like a lion than one hundred years like a sheep."

It's hard to make a sheep believe it.

Like a man half-heartedly swearing off in the morning, the world is trying to give up war. And this country, which never started a war against Europe, is expected to do most of the reforming. It's like asking Moody and Sankey to sign the pledge first, or entreating the Rev. Dr. Straton not to believe in Darwin.

The individual must solve his own problems, with the use of will power. "The heart knoweth his own bitterness." Each of us knows what is wrong with him, and what he ought to do. Few of us do it. Nations know what they ought to do. None of them does it. Europe ought to stop fighting, and can't. We ought to mind our own business, and can't.

"Mother, dear."

"Yes, darling."

"I feel lonesome." It was Bobbie Bunny speaking.

"How can you be lonesome when I am here with you?"

"I don't know, Mother, but I am terribly lonesome and—"

"Just where are you lonesome? In your head, or your feet? I never was lonesome and so I don't know how it feels?"

"Well, Mother dear, it's terrible. It feels like I had the wibble wobbles in my stomach."

Mrs. Rabbit took off her glasses and looked at her Bobbie in surprise. "What are the wibble wobbles?" she asked.

"I don't know what they are, Mother, but they are ten times worse than the piegetises and—"

"Have the piegetises got anything to do with pie?" asked Mrs. Rabbit.

"I wasn't thinking of that, but now that you speak of it, that was lovely cabbage pie we had the other day. It makes my lonesomeness almost gone just to think of that pie," said Bobbie.

"I don't think I have anything to eat in the house, but—".

"Oh, dear, oh, dear I can feel that lonesomeness coming on again," cried Bobbie.

"Shall I send for the doctor, or will you take a dose of castor oil?" asked his mother.

"I feel better now—you needn't send for anybody, but are you sure there is nothing to eat in this house?"

"Positively, I mean positively."

Bobbie Bunny was thoughtful for a moment and then said: "Well, if there is nothing to eat in this house I guess I'll go out and play—perhaps that will make my lonesomeness better. Then, too, Bobbie may be home by that time and my dear, good father might happen with something to eat."

"I think if you are sick with lonesomeness you might go to bed—that's the best place for you," said Mrs. Rabbit.

"Horrors!" exclaimed Bobbie. "I don't want to go to bed. I want something to eat."

"Why didn't you say so? Here you have been all this time worrying me and making a lot of conversation just because you are hungry. Is that lonesomeness?"

"It's pretty bad what ever it is," sighed Bobbie. "Good bye. I'll go out and play. Perhaps I'll starve to death and you'll find me—"

"Come on, dear, I'll see if I can't find some carrot pie for you."

"I feel ever so much better, Mother," said Bobbie, as he trotted off behind his mother to the kitchen, where she found some pie for him.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite,
Shawnee, Oklahoma

Homer Guck, General Manager of the San Francisco Examiner, says: That the application of the Golden Rule to modern business, particularly the newspaper business, is without question the most constructive and the most progressive step in recent business practice.

Twenty years ago newspapers thrived on building circulation on antagonisms. Today the understanding of the commercial value of friendships is doing more for the service of newspaper readers than any other one thing; likewise, it is proving commercially profitable.

THE EVIDENCE OF THE TRUTH OF THIS STATEMENT IS SEEN EVERY DAY NOT ONLY IN THE EDITORIAL AND NEWS COLUMNS, BUT MORE CONSPICUOUSLY IN THE ADVERTISING PROGRAMS OF ALL LARGE INSTITUTIONS.

DEATH RATES

It is encouraging to know that the death rate per 1000 dropped off nearly one per cent for the year 1927, in which year the rate was 11.4 as compared with 12.3 in 1926.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

COMMON SKIN AFFECTIONS

Winter is a signal for the spread of skin diseases. This is because many people neglect proper bathing, and are exposed to radical changes of temperature on the surface of the body. To rush out into a zero atmosphere while perspiring even the least bit, will aggravate skin troubles, or bring them about, if not worse. To working men of shops, or the indiscreet in farm houses, this article will be timely.

Eczema is by far the most common winter skin disease. It may develop on any part of the human being, whether protected by clothing or not. It is not contagious and may become a chronic disease, if neglected. Its chief symptom is itching or burning. Excessive "scratching" which seems imperative, may arouse moisture, even bleeding. Rarely does eczema scale or peel off. Of course you should consult your physician, if you get a persistent skin trouble that you don't understand.

My advice must be general, though correct. Remove every source of irritation, if you have eczema—you will not recover with the best medicince if you do not. I once compelled a lady to cease wearing a fur neckpiece, much against her will, but she recovered from a fierce eczema of the neck and shoulders. Even very soft garments may irritate; change to less irritating. Use nothing on the skin that irritates. A "famous" patent medicine that I know of, does nothing more than relieve the itching—it never cures. Even that is fine—for the charlatan who sells the nostrum.

If, unfortunately, your eczema is all over or "universal," you should consult a nerve speciality as well. The cause may be found in a deep-seated nerve infection.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

The Other World

When you said out across the sea you wonder what all that waste of water is for. It stretches away for miles and miles. Days at a time you cannot see even another ship. Water, water everywhere, clear to the horizon.

And they say that three-fourths of the earth's surface is ocean.

We think we people who live on land, and those that sail across the sea in boats, are the whole thing.

Man thinks that the universe is made for him, but Mr. Pope says that the goose thinks the same thing.

It is stated that the there are more living things under the water than in the air. It is not unreasonable to suppose that whoever made this earth thought the denizens of the sea were more important than the inhabitants of the land. Else He wouldn't have made so many of them.

Curious about that other world! People drown when they are submerged in the water, and those things that inhabit the water generally drown when they come up into the air.

No man can go down into the home of the fishes and live very long. When Mr. Fish comes up into the air we all live but he dies shortly.

Perhaps that other world of spirits, of which much is imagined, is like that. No spirit has been proved to mingle with men. This atmosphere of ours may be as fatal to it as to a fish. At any rate we know his atmosphere is fatal to us. No man has gone into it and returned to tell the tales.

We eat the fish when they are cooked, but the fish goes us one better and eats us when we are not cooked.

We have strange stories of mythical beings who inhabit the depths of the sea. Few believe them. We have equally strange stories of witches and mediums who call spirits out of the upper world. Some believe them.

But as far as we know our activities and acquaintances must be confined to this narrow stratum of the earth's atmosphere. We go below it into the sea, or above it, through the portals of death, at our peril.

SIN

I John 1:5-10; 2:1-6

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Holiness is an attribute of God. The simplest survey of life or of self reveals the everywhereness of sin. Thus the theme for this week is an utmost contrast to that for last week, when the Eternal God was the subject. Man is both wayward and he has never journeyed through life before. Hence he is in constant need of an adequate Guide Book and that Book is the Bible. It might well be called the sinner's Book, for it gives a complete analysis of his experiences and then reveals an adequate solution of his constant problems.

Numerous passages must be studied in connection with each lesson this quarter. Those for supplemental study this week are Genesis 3:1-24; 6:5-8; Mark 7:14-23; Romans 1:18-32 and 3:10-18. Others of equal importance can be noted by looking at your concordance.

Those who insist that it is hard to keep from doing evil in the present environment will do well to think themselves back into the Garden of Eden where Adam and Eve were part of an unmarred world. They had the maximum of blessings for which to be thankful as they held their daily tryst with their Creator. Yet they chose to disobey the reasonable command of their heavenly Father. Man sins by the exercise of his own free will when he has been given power to the contrary. After our first parents became outcasts from Paradise they had plenty of time to meditate on the consequence. As they faced their guilty consciences in their hopelessness the First Evangel was given in the promise that was redeemed in the Messiah, the theme for next week.

That sin cannot remain a personal matter is revealed in the extent of sin at the time of Noah. A new start was given after the Flood but meanwhile human nature had only been restrained; it was not changed.

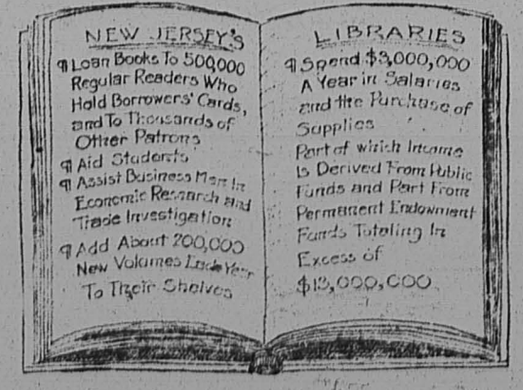

Read again the New Testament passages indicated above. Here you will find sin analyzed. There can be no real reason for choosing sin (Romans 1:20). The baseness of life resulting from a sin-controlled heart is shown in that same chapter.

The aged John, that beloved disciple, holds the mirror before every life as he says, "If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves." But he does not present the evil without disclosing the adequate remedy, for he adds "If we confess our sins, he is faithful and righteous to forgive us our sins, and cleanse us from all unrighteousness." This is made still clearer as he points to the Friend he loves so well. "And if any man sin, we have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous." Then a most practical test is given which puts life above all profession: "Hereby we know that we love him, if we keep his commandments."

NEW JERSEY! One of the Greatest of the United States

213 LIBRARIES IN NEW JERSEY
HOUSE NEARLY 4,000,000 VOLUMES

There are 213 libraries in New Jersey, each of which has more than 1,000 books on its shelves. Altogether, says the U. S. Bureau of Education, they own more than 4,000,000 volumes, while 500,000 readers hold their borrower's cards. In addition to income received from $13,000,000 in endowment funds, some $3,000,000 yearly is spent for operation.

As schools and libraries afford educational advantages to the people of a State, so do public utility facilities help to provide material advantages, and in the Public Service System the State has utility resources which contributes greatly to the public welfare.

"The success of Public Service and development of New Jersey are bound together."

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Way entertained about twenty-five members of the family New Year's day in honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary.

William Powell, of Camden, has returned home after spending a week in Palmyra visiting relatives.

BACK-TO-SCHOOL SUIT

Remember that the one exception to the feminine-fashion vogue obtains in the realm of the jacket suit, where one may go back to the boyish theme and have smartly tailored lines and a tuck-in blouse, scarf tie or four-in-hand and a quite mannish buckled belt. These trim little ensembles are particularly fortunate for the school girl's clothes collection.

The Palmyra High School five, Camden-Suburban League basketball champions of 1928, has now lost two games and won one in league competition to date.

Tuesday night Coach Dimond's charges lost to Collingswood on the Collingswood floor by a score of 27 to 16 in a game which developed a brilliant passing attack on the part of the Irvinemen.

Collingswood started with a rush and piled up an 8 to 1 lead before Palmyra managed to score a field goal. "Chubby" Seeman started the game with a field goal, and Captain Jimmy Williams followed suit with a goal after dribbling the length of the floor.

Seeman was high scorer for the game with three field goals and a like number of fouls for nine points. Jimmy Williams and Warden Taylor ranked next to "Chubby," each accounting for six points.

For Palmyra, Baker and Hennessey were high from the field, dividing the four field goals made by the charges of Ken Dimond, while Captain Cliff West, although blanked from the floor by Paul Buffler, registered five out of nine fouls.

West Shoots 5 out of 9

The feature of the game was the all-around playing of Captain Jimmy Williams of the "Colls." Bruce Steele outplayed "Spike" Hennessey at the tap-off position and aided in the triumph with a pair of timely field shots.

In the preliminary game the Collingswood High Reserves nosed out the Palmyra High Reserves after a thrilling struggle, 21 to 18.

Lose to Woodbury

Coach Dimond's quintet lost a hard fought battle to Woodbury on the latter's court last Friday night by a score of 19-17. It took Palmyra three quarters and part of the fourth to fathom Woodbury's five-man defense.

The final frame was under way and Woodbury held a 19-11 edge. The Palmyrians had been completely outplayed up to this stage, and even their most rabid supporters were resigned to defeat.

But suddenly, the defending champs took on a new lease of life. They began dropping in field goals to the accompaniment of tumultous cheers from the Palmyra delegation. The lead was shaved to four points and Woodbury called time out. Only 25 seconds remained to play.

Hennessey tapped to West, who dribbled in and scored. Another field goal would tie the count, necessitating an overtime period, and, since three of Woodbury's stars were already out on personal fouls, a Palmyra victory would probably have resulted.

But fight as they might the courageous Red and White athletes were unequal to the task of scoring again in the few remaining seconds.

Hennessey and West Star

"Spike" Hennessey and West were the whole works for Palmyra. Hennessey scored the first nine points made by the losers. It wasn't until late in the third quarter that West made a point on Bowe. The Palmyra pilot got one two-pointer and four out of eight "gifts" while Hennessey scored four times from the field and three times from the 15-foot mark.

Woodbury Starts Strong

After Hennessey broke the ice with a foul to give Palmyra the upper hand, Bowe took a pass from Heaton, eluded West and scored from under the basket. Nensel added a foul and J. Filer passed to Heaton, who scored as he cut. The first quarter ended with the figures 5 to 1. It was a close guarding game, with Palmyra unable to penetrate the homesters' defense and Woodbury unwilling to shoot until right under the basket. Paine put Nensel in at center and his two biggest men, the Filer brothers, at guards.

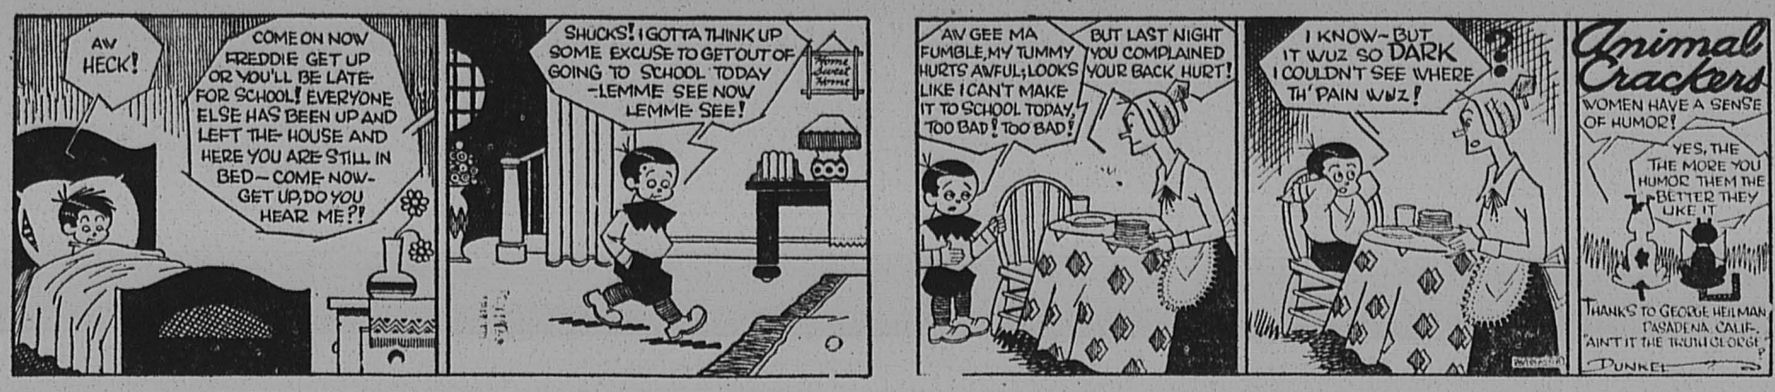

Nensel boosted the lead with a foul when play was resumed, and then Palmyra spurted. On two exactly similar plays,—Hennessey took passes from West near the sideline, past the foul mark and whipped field goals through the cords. That made it 6-5.

Woodbury Increases Lead

Nensel caged a foul and then Heaton put Woodbury far in front with a three-pointer. Taking a pass from J. Filer, he was fouled as he shot. The goal was good and "Lefty" made one of his complimentary heaves.

Hennessey picked up a foul for Palmyra, but Bowe took a pass from Captain Ted Filer and scored, to make the half-time figures 12-6.

ANOTHER SOCCER CROWN FOR F. C.

Moorestown Team Takes Third Straight Second Division Championship

For the second straight year, Moorestown C. C. captured the second division championship in the Philadelphia Circuit Club League, winning their twelfth straight triumph on Saturday by taking the measure of Philadelphia Country Club, 3 to 1.

The victory also marked the third straight league championship of the Moorestown soccer stars and assured them permanent possession of the league trophy. The team has been undefeated for the past two years.

The game, which was played at the Merion Country Club, was featured by the playing of Charley Coles and Captain Al Leconey. Coles scored both goals registered by Moorestown in the first half, while Leconey scored one in the final half. Johnson was the lone Merion player to score, his tally coming in the final session.

The annual game between the first and second divisions of the Moorestown Cricket Club was played on the Field Club grounds New Year's morning.

The first division team registered a surprise victory over the newly crowned chaps. The final score was 6-3. Buswell starred for the winners, netting three goals.

BURK TO CAPTAIN 1929 GRID ELEVEN

Moorestown High School to Lose Ten Players Through Graduation This Year

Joseph Burk, who resides in Bridgeboro, was elected to lead the Moorestown High eleven during the 1929 campaign at a meeting of the grid letter-men recently.

Coach Paul Isenberg, will lose ten players by graduation including Captain Joseph McGann, an All-South Jersey Class B guard; Anthony Zicardi, center; Harmon Chegwidden, guard; Henry Dunphey, tackle; Herbert Levin, tackle; Charles Smith and Thomas McGann, ends; John Carey, halfback, Horace Robinson, end; Robert Morris, halfback, and Bernard Zamostein, manager. Other lettermen included Edward Jenkins, Paul Young, John Fountain, William Cusworth and Horace Juliano.

Miss Caroline Elston will captain the girls' hockey team through the 1929 season.

Bowe started the third stanza with a foul and then made his third field goal, with Heaton assisting. The score was 15-6.

Palmyra refused to quit. Hennessey made a foul and added a two-pointer. West took a hand in things then, caging two fouls so that when the teams entered the home stretch the tally was 15-11.

Bowe made both ends of a foul and then stuck one in from mid-floor on a pass from T. Filer. It was one of the few long shots taken by Woodbury. That made it 19-11, and apparently sewed up the game.

Palmyra Threatens

Palmyra wouldn't concede defeat though. West made two fouls. He got his second on the personal that chased Bowe. Four minutes remained to play. Hennessey scored from the field, and with less than a half minute to play, West got his only field cast. Hennessey assisted. The final whistle prevented any further scoring, however.

The Woodbury reserves won the preliminary game, 11-10.

MOORESTOWN HI WINS CLOSE GAME

Juliana's Field Goal in Last Minute Cops League Opener

Paul Isenberg's Moorestown High quintet chalked up a triumph in its first Suburban League basketball game at the Community House, Friday night, by nosing out Haddon Heights High, 13 to 11.

The game was featured by the close guarding tactics on both sides and field goals were few and far between. Horace Juliana, star Moorestown forward, won the game for the home team when he caged a field goal in the last minutes of play to break a 11-11 tie.

The "Heighters" kept a slight lead throughout the greater majority of the pastiming, holding the slim lead of 5 to 4 at the expiration of the first half of combat. The play was fast and furious all through the second half, the Moorestown boys drawing up on an even keel with Haddon Heights when Johnny Carey netted a pair of foul shots, tieing the score at 11-all.

Carey was the high scorer of the game with one field goal and five out of eight fouls, while Evaul was high man for the losers with four points.

In the preliminary game, the Moorestown Reserves nosed out Haddon Heights High Reserves, 14 to 12. The box score:

P O. STAFF TO BOWL AGAINST DREER'S

Three Game Match Scheduled at Merchantville Starting January 11

The first of a series of a three game bowling match between the crack team of the Riverton Post Office employees and the five best "pin toppers" from Dreer's will be played on Friday night, at the Merchantville alleys.

The team representing the Government "pin crushers" are: Lawton Steedle, Ross Mattis, Herman Dennelor, Ogden Mattis and Ed Jessup.

The "flower growing brigade" is represented by Harry Burns, Frank Edinger, Frank Strohlein, Jim Barr and Adolph Strohlein.

This match promises to be a close one.

Arrangements are being made for the winners to meet other outstanding teams from nearby towns.

Play starts at 8 o'clock. The betting odds at present are on the "letter sorters."

MARLTON "Y" WINS

The Marlton Y. M. C. A. first team defeated the Burlington Y. M. C. A. first team Monday evening in a close game by a score of 11-10. Duncan and Dumphey were the stars for Marlton while the fast work of Snyder also helped to bring victory to the Marlton Y boys.

PRIZE SHOOT

The Cinnaminson Gun Club will hold a prize shoot on its grounds Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Fifty dollars in prizes have been provided which will be awarded to the high gunners. The shoot will be held on the Club's grounds on Fork Landing road.

TRIO OF ARTISTS AT WALT WHITMAN

Exceptional Vaudeville and Photoplay Feature 100 Per Cent Program

The program for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at the Walt Whitman Theatre gives promise of overtopping all previous efforts at this popular playhouse.

Heading the vaudeville section of the program will be Barr, Willy and Schell in "Gems from Opera to Jazz." This trio of artists has been entertaining audiences in the biggest and finest theatres in the world and their talent should prove a real pleasure for the people of this vicinity. Their offer embraces all the essential elements of entertainment, including music, comedy, and dances.

Chrissie and Daley in "Leading a Dog's Life" are another outstanding attraction on this wonderful program, as they offer a brand new novelty idea to this theatre.

Brooks and Fant, "The Drug Store Cowboys," will completely surprise everybody with their ultra-modern antics. Marie Stainoff, "The Girl with the Violin," brings the latest musical hits and "The Surprise Trio" have a novelty equilibristic offering entitled "Wait for the Finish."

The feature photoplay brings Lewis Stone and Norman Kerry in "The Foreign Legion," a beautiful love drama of the burning Morocco frontier, with the most romantic and colorful army in the world. Other featured players are Marie Nolan and June Marlow. The photoplay is one of the season's Cinema hits.

Fox Movietone News and the popular Walt Whitman Theatre Orchestra under the leadership of John Rhodes, with Joseph T. Powers at the console of the mighty organ, round out this one hundred percent program.

FARMERS, BANKERS UNDER SAME RULES

Fundamentals of success in farming are the same in banking, states W. F. Knowles, New Jersey extension specialist in farm management, in his message to farmers on the occasion of the first Farm Inventory Week now being conducted throughout the state.

In the account books that are this week being distributed to New Jersey farmers, Knowles lists the ten points by which either the banker or farmer may be recognized as a successful business man.

"First of all, both the successful banker and successful farmer will protect their credit," he states. "Further, a study of their methods reveals a parallel in that both make out credit statements, keep accounts, produce efficiently, do a volume of business, study business conditions, know their markets, sell what people want, satisfy their customers, and finally, they both serve their communities well.

"Farm Inventory Week is being held in New Jersey for the first time this year because we believe that the taking of an inventory, along with maintenance of adequate accounts, will help farmers in the conduct of their business."

The extension service of the college of agriculture is distributing account books to farmers of the state, and bankers in many sections of New Jersey are cooperating in the project. The account book is large enough to keep a complete record of all business transactions for a year, and instructions for its use are also included. Among other things, it tells how to take an inventory of livestock and equipment, how to make out a credit statement, how to keep a cash account, and how to summarize the business from month to month. Simplicity is a caracteristic of the farm account book, reducing to a minimum the amount of time required for bookkeeping.

JRS. ENTERTAIN SENIOR MEMBERS

Present "Club Meeting Day" of Oldtown Woman's Rights Club

The Junior members of the Porch Club entertained the Senior Club, on Tuesday, January 8, by a playlet entitled "Club Meeting Day," and presented by the members of the Woman's Rights Club of Oldtown, Maine. Oldtown is a quaint old-fashioned town, where the club members try to imitate the clubs in larger centers of population in civic responsibilities. The Club has invited two eminent speakers from London and New York to instruct them on the questions of the day. The cast in order of appearance was as follows:

Mrs. Gossip, Miss Elizabeth Elliott
Editor of the Pilot
Miss Intercede, Miss Frances West
The Mayor's Representative
Miss Bridget O'Raferty,
Miss Eleanor Corry
A New Member
Mrs. Honorarium,
Miss Elizabeth Mayfield

Lady Manly, Miss Elizabeth Hunn
Very Distinguished Woman's Rights Speaker of London
Mrs. Super Thought of New York,
Miss Amy Bilyeu
Oldtown's Wealthiest Summer Visitor

The girls, dressed in old fashioned costumes, cleverly impersonated their parts and caused much laughter and merriment in the audience. Owing to the success of the afternoon's entertainment, the Juniors, under the direction of Mrs. William M. Shoemaker, Jr., have decided to repeat the performance on Tuesday evening, January 15, at 8 o'clock at the Porch Club, admission 25 cents. The proceeds will go to the treasury of the Junior Club.

As a token of appreciation to Mrs. R. Selby Williams, who wrote the play and trained the girls, the Juniors presented her with a Boston fern.

CAREFUL EATING FOR GOOD HEALTH

A personal health inventory should be taken early in January and followed throughout the year with a closer observance of sane rules of eating, advises Miss Marie Doermann, New Jersey extension specialist in foods. This procedure, she states, will help prevent serious or chronic ailments.

A thorough physical examination, taken now, will disclose one's true condition from the standpoint of health," the food specialist says. "The doctor may find symptoms of troubles, which if allowed to develop, might prove serious.

Almost everyone knows that food makes or breaks the human machine, yet many people select their food with less care than they do the gas and oil for their automobiles. They fail to recognize that some foods are valuable for their muscle building qualities, others for the energy they supply, and some for the protective minerals and vitamins. The fact remains, however, that unless we eat some of all these classes of foods each day, certain parts of the body will be starved.

"Food alone cannot do it all. Meals should be eaten slowly. Some exercise should be taken out of doors each day. For the person in business, walking is one of the best forms of exercise. Rest and sleep are equally important.

"The amount of money lost annually by slight illnesses, such as colds and indigestion runs into millions. If each person would make a definite effort to play the rules of health, much loss could be avoided, and everyone would enjoy greater happiness and prosperity in the New

FOE OF AUTO HURT BY HORSE

Memphis, Tenn., — William T. Trantham, 70, a blacksmith, considered automobiles dangerous and stuck to his horse and buggy. The other day his horse became frightened at a street car and ran away. Prominent Agriculturalists to Discuss National and State Farm Problems

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture for Canada, and Dr. C. L. Marlatt, Chief of Plant Quarantine and Control Administration, Among Farm Week Speakers

The greatest agricultural gathering ever held in New Jersey will be the Fourteenth Annual Agricultural Week, at Trenton, on January 14, 15, 16, 17 and 18. Besides the annual convention of the State Board of Agriculture, thirteen New Jersey farm organizations will hold meetings. A comprehensive program for the women has also been arranged for this week. The farm equipment exhibit will be much enlarged this year and the farm products and baby chick shows will again be outstanding features.

National and State farm problems will be discussed at the State Agricultural Convention on Wednesday, January 16, by such outstanding agriculturists as Hon. W. R. Motherwell Minister of Agriculture, Dominion of Canada, and Hon. C. L. Marlatt, Chief of Plant Quarantine and Control Administration, Washington.

The Hon. W. R. Motherwell, of Ottawa, Canada, has been Minister of Agriculture for Canada since 1921. He was Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, from 1905 to 1918. He has represented Melville in Parliament since 1925, and was a Member of Parliament from Regina City, from 1921 to 1925. Previously Dr. Motherwell was a member of the Legislative Assembly from Qu'Appelle, 1905 to 1908, Humbolt, 1908 to 1912, and Kindersley, 1912 to 1919. He was born in Canada on Jan. 6, 1860.

Dr. Charles Lester Marlatt, of Washington, D. C., was one of the founders and the first principal of the Blue Mont College, now Kansas State Agricultural College. He entered the employ of the United States Department of Agriculture in 1889, and was assistant entomologist until 1894, assistant chief of entomology from 1894 to 1922, and associate chief in charge of regulatory work from 1922 to 1927. From 1909 to 1912, Dr. Marlatt directed the effort to secure a national law to prevent the importation of infested and diseased plants into the United States, resulting in the "Plant Quarantine Act of 1912." He was born at Atchison, Kansas, on Sept. 26, 1863.

State Agricultural Convention

The State Board will entertain the official delegates at a dinner conference on the evening preceding the convention. The next day the delegates will meet and elect two members of the State Board of Agriculture for four-year terms. The convention will be called to order by President Clifford E. Snyder, and the farmers and their families will be officially welcomed by Hon. Morgan F. Larson, Governor-Elect of New Jersey, while Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly will welcome the agriculturists to Trenton.

The condition of agriculture in Canada will be presented by Dr. Motherwell, who will deliver an address on "What Canada is Doing for Her Farmers." Dr. Marlatt will speak on "Federal Quarantine Work with Special Reference to New Jersey." "The Need for Township Road Improvement" will be the topic of an address to be delivered by Charles R. Stout, President, State Association of County Boards of Freeholders. Secretary Duryee will present "Recent Progress of the State Department of Agriculture." The Convention will close with the presentation of "Televox the Farm Hand of the Future," by the Westinghouse Electric Manufacturing Co.

The annual business meeting of the New Jersey Federation of County Boards of Agriculture will be held on Tuesday afternoon, January 15, and will include reports of the secretary, treasurer and counties represented, together with election of officers. The Federation Banquet will be held on Wednesday evening, with Mr. E. A. O'Neil, vice-president of the American Farm Bureau Federation as the speaker.

Potato Growers' Meeting

New Jersey potato growers cannot afford to miss the extensive program and exhibit which the New Jersey Potato Association will present this year. The subjects to be presented at the annual meeting on Thursday, January 17, cover practically every phase of the industry. Professor A. G. Waller, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, will speak on "How Diversification Has Helped the New Jersey Potato Farmer," while H. R. Talmage, New Jersey and Long Island potato grower, will speak on conditions in these two states. Director J. G. Lipman, State Experiment Station, will discuss concentrated fertilizers. "The Potato Market Situation" will be presented by John B. Shepherd, Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Seven methods of reducing the cost of potato production will be discussed at the afternoon meeting.

The annual banquet of the State Potato Association will be held in the Hotel Sterling on Thursday evening. The presentation of medals to members of the 300 Bushel Club will be awarded at this time. Dancing will follow the banquet.

The potato exhibit will be held on Friday, at which time the following topics will be discussed: Potato Grades and Grading, Latest Information on Potato Spraying, Up-to-date Information on Seed Disinfection, Soil Acidity and Potato Production, Developing Home Markets for New Jersey Potatoes, and the Seed Potato Situation.

Dairy and Alfalfa Groups

The dairymen of the State will participate in three different events on Thursday, when the Holstein-Friesian Cooperative Association of New Jersey and New Jersey Guernsey Breeders' Association, Inc., will meet with the State Alfalfa Association to discuss their common problems. The joint meeting will open with a motion picture, showing method of growing soybeans, entitled "Four Men and the Soy." Dr. Frank App will speak on "Harvesting Alfalfa Hay for Quality" while "Experiences in Growing, Harvesting and Storing Silage Corn" will be presented by Mark H. Keeney of Cedar Grove, Arthur Danks, of Allamuchy, and Charles Bahrenburg, cow-tester, of Mercer County.

Following this meeting the dairy groups will hold separate luncheons and business sessions. The speaker at the Holstein-Friesian meeting will be Dr. L. M. Thompson, vice-president Holstein-Friesian Association of America, whose topic will be "Present and Future Promise of Holstein Breed." Karl B. Musser, Secretary, American Guernsey Cattle Club, will speak at the Guernsey meeting. A motion picture, "A Tour of New Jersey Seeing the Guernseys," will also be shown together with the presentation of Herdsmen's Cups.

Dr. F. B. Morrison will speak on "Proteins and Minerals for Dairy Cows" at the joint meeting of the dairymen. The evening will be devoted to a dairymen's banquet in the ball room of the Stacy-Trent Hotel. The speakers will include Dr. F. B. Morrison, New York Agricultural College; Dr. John M. Thomas, President, Rutgers University; Dr. Jacob G. Lipman, Director, New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station; Hon. William B. Duryee, Secretary of Agriculture; and R. W. Balderston, Inter-State Milk Producers' Association, Philadelphia, Pa.

Poultry Meeting

The New Jersey State Poultry Association will also meet on Thursday, when several subjects of great importance to this rapidly growing industry will be presented. The first speaker will be Professor L. M. Black, Extension Poultry Specialist, State Experiment Station, whose subject will be "What Did We Learn From New Jersey's Better Pullet Campaign?" W. H. Rice, Poultry Specialist, University of Maryland, will speak on "The Turkeys Return to Eastern Farms." Professor Willard C. Thompson, Head of the Poultry Department, State Experiment Station, on "What May We Reasonably Expect 1,000 Pullets to Earn in One Year?" and W. H. Allen, Director of Research, Acetol Products Co., New York City, on "Observations on Poultry Farming Throughout the United States."

The Farmers' Roadside Market Association of New Jersey will convene Thursday afternoon with W. W. Oley, Chief, Bureau of Markets, State Department of Agriculture, as the speaker. His subject will be "Roadside Markets as Distributing Agencies." This will be followed by a discussion on the reorganization of the association whereby farmers may become active members.

The members of the New Jersey Baby Chick Association will hold their annual meeting and banquet, Thursday evening.

Five interesting sessions have been arranged by the New Jersey Beekeepers' Association for Thursday and Friday. Following the report of Elmer G. Carr, he will speak on "A System of Management for Fall Flow Districts." Other speakers on Thursday include Harold Hornor, of Mount Holly, on "Every Step in Marketing Extracted Honey" and "The Races of Honey Bees and Their Characteristics," by Ray Hutson, of New Brunswick. There will be a demonstration of chocolate coating comb honey by Henry Brown, Cape May Court House, Thursday evening. Friday morning the addresses will be by Professor Willard C. Thompson, State Experiment Station, who will talk on "Beekeeping in England," and G. Fred Jeidy, of Flemington, on "Shall Our Queens Have the Run of Two Brood Chambers?" There will be a competitive exhibit on Friday evening of original devices and equipment.

Fruit and Vegetable Session

The most important meetings on Friday, January 18, will be those of the New Jersey State Horticultural Society. Because of the great interest in these sessions separate meetings for the fruit growers and for the vegetable growers will be held Friday morning. A combined fruit and vegetable session is planned for the afternoon.

The fruit session will open with an address on "Some Factors Essential to Profitable Grape Production" by Professor J. J. Clark, Assistant Pomologist, State Experiment Station. W. W. Oley, Chief, Bureau of Markets, State Department of Agriculture, will lead a discussion on "The Summer Apple Situation," and Professor Arthur J. Farley, Extension Pomologist, State Agricultural College, will talk on spraying practice in relation to insect and disease control in 100 New Jersey apple orchards.

The speakers at the vegetable session will be Professor E. R. Gross, Agricultural Engineer, State University of New Jersey, whose subject will be "Irrigation Equipment and Installation," H. F. Hall, Campbell Soup Co. on "Winter Vegetable Growing in Texas," and Allen G. Waller, Chief, Department of Agricultural Economics, State Experiment Station, on "Economic Studies of the Vegetable Industry in Burlington, Bergen, Essex and Passaic Counties."

A combined fruit and vegetable meeting is planned for Friday afternoon. The first speaker will be William C. Lynn, Supervising Inspector, Bureau of Markets, State Department of Agriculture. Earl R. French, Executive Secretary, New York Food Marketing Research Committee will then present "Some Facts in Connection with the Present System of City Distribution of Fruit and Vegetables." The meeting will close with "The Market Basket," a motion picture illustrating some of the important factors connected with the transportation of fruit and vegetables.

Agricultural instructors in the high schools will have a special conference on Friday afternoon, in cooperation with the Department of Agriculture, although most of their time will be spent in attendance at the various meetings and exhibits.

Women's Program

A women's program to cover the entire Agricultural Week activities has been planned this year in addition to the annual demonstrations and talks to the homemaker given on "Women's Day" by the New Jersey Home Bureau.

The program for rural women, as prepared by the women's committee of the agricultural societies of New Jersey will open on Wednesday, when they will attend the State Agricultural Convention. A luncheon has been arranged at noon with the banquet of the New Jersey Federation of County Boards of Agriculture in the evening.

The "Women's Day" festivities will be held at the First Presbyterian Church. The day's events will open with a trip to the Lenox Pottery and Belle Meade Sweets Company, followed by a noon luncheon. The afternoon's program will consist of addresses, "The Challenge of Present Day Parenthood," by Mrs. Sidonie M. Gruenberg, Director, Child Study Association of America and Consultant in Parent Education, Columbia University, and Miss Edith D. Dixon, Specialist in Child Study and Parental Education, New Jersey Agricultural College, who will preside at the meeting. Reports will also be received from State organizations conducting programs in parent education. The women are also invited to attend the dairymen's banquet, Thursday evening.

Miss Helen Hardy will speak on "Modern Home Lighting" and Miss Margaret Oliphant on "Quick Bread," at the meeting on Friday morning. A historical tour will be held following this session. Another luncheon is planned for Friday noon, which will be the final women's gathering of the week.

The women's committee which will act as hostesses consists of Mrs. J. H. McNeil, Chairman; Mrs. William B. Duryee, Vice-chairman; Mrs. Clifford E. Snyder, Mrs. H. E. Taylor, Mrs. H. M. Loveland, Mrs. W. H. Hamilton, Mrs. W. W. Oley, Miss Marion Butters, Miss J. Kathryn Francis and Mrs. W. C. Spargo.

MOUNT HOLLY FLORIST RELIEVED OF CHARGES

The case of R. J. Gibbins, Mount Holly florist, who was charged with misuse of the mails in connection with his business, was heard in the Federal Court at Newark on December 11, and it is said was adjusted satisfactorily to all concerned. The charges were thoroughly gone into by the Court, district attorney, postal investigators and Kessler & Kessler, attorneys representing Mr. Gibbins, and it is claimed that nothing criminal was shown in any of the transactions.

DEVELOPS MILKLESS RATION FOR CALVES

Revolutionary changes in calf feeding methods are predicted by Prof. C. B. Bender, associate dairy husbandman for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, in describing a newly developed milkless and dry grain ration for calves.

Heretofore milk in some form has always been considered an essential in the ration of any growing animal, but eight years' experimental work, says Professor Bender, has convinced him that after calves are one month old the milk may be eliminated, and other ingredients substituted.

That the new milkless and dry grain ration, which is now being tried by many farmers, will prove a boon to New Jersey's dairy industry, was the claim advanced by Professor Bender. Great savings will be effected in both feeding and labor costs through its use, he declared, and calf raising, which has a definite bearing on the future of the dairy industry, will receive a much-needed stimulus.

The New Jersey experiment station has pioneered in the development of dry grain rations for calves, and is the only institution which has been successful in formulating a calf ration in which milk is not included.

Fifty pounds of soluble blood flour and 12 pounds of minerals in the total mixture of 412 pounds comprising the calf ration largely take the place of milk, it is believed. Growth was reported as normal and the calves were free from disease. Breeding and lactating powers also were reported as normal.

NEW JERSEY DAIRYMEN TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The dairymen of the state will participate in three different events on Thursday, January 17. The Holstein-Friesian Cooperative Association of New Jersey and the New Jersey Guernsey Breeders' Association, Inc., will meet with the State Alfalfa Association to discuss their common problems. These meetings are part of the fourteenth annual Agricultural Week activities.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

The background of architecture and furniture may endure for a long time—for generations, perhaps,—but the accessories of the home change style with amazing frequency.

Pictures wrongly framed or hung too high, with peaked wires; brick-a-brac that is passe, or arranged in a way no longer considered "good"—such small decorative errors as these brand the home as out of date far quicker than do its furniture or rugs.

The sofa cushions, reading lamps and erstwhile library scarf; the decorative screen fittings for the dining room—look to them carefully, for subtle changes have been at work among them, refining, simplifying, making them to the home what her accessories are to the French woman's toilette—seals that stamp the ensemble as up to date, or frankly "out."

RAISIN PUFFS

1 cup seeded raisins, ½ cup butter, 1 cup water, 2 eggs, 2 tablespoons sugar, 2 cups flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder. Sift dry ingredients, add melted butter to water and beaten eggs, then add flour, beat well and add raisins. Divide into 8 cups, steam for ½ hour and serve with sauce.

DELICIOUS SALMON PUDDING

Remove skin and bones from small can of salmon and rub fish fine with fork; melt tbl. butter in cup of hot milk; add ½ tsp. salt and pepper to taste, 1 cup bread crumbs, 2 beaten eggs and the fish. Put in buttered pudding mold and steam for 1 hour. Serve with hot white sauce.

TOMATO RAREBIT

1 tbl. minced onions browned in 1 tbl. butter; ½ can tomatoes, heated to boiling point; add ½ lb. cheese, cut fine, 3 eggs, well beaten. Season highly with red pepper and salt; stir constantly until cheese melts and mixture thickens. Serve on crackers or toast.

AERO CLUB PLANS INDOOR ACTIVITIES

Too Cold for Flying in Open Planes, So Aviators Will Hold Card Party.

Since flying in the open Wacos has proven rather chilly these days, the Burlington County Aero Club has decided to "go in for some indoor activities" during the winter months.

At a meeting in the Moorestown Community House Monday evening a committee was appointed to arrange for a card party which is to be held in the near future. Members of the committee in charge of the social event are Miss Betty D. Scanlon, Palmyra; County Engineer H. B. Smith, Mount Holly; Miss Caroline B. LeConey and S. Roger Gale, both of Moorestown.

It is understood that the public will be invited to attend the party and some unusually fine prizes are to be offered.

The members evidenced great interest in the announcement of Commander Fitzhugh Green, aviation pioneer and close friend of Lindbergh and Byrd, is to speak on the Ramblers' program at Moorestown High School auditorium next Monday evening. His topic will be "What Next in Aviation?". The club will undoubtedly be represented nearly 100 per cent. strong.

H. H. Longaker, president, announced with deep regret, the death of one of the club's most active members, Russell Stiles, of Palmyra, died last Thursday of influenza pneumonia after an illness of a week. Mr. Stiles was one of the club's first members, was named a trustee in the incorporation papers, and last spring became chairman of the publicity committee.

CHARLES H. ELLIS

Charles H. Ellis, son of Anna Ellis Nevill and the late Joseph H. Ellis, died at the home to his mother on East Third street early last Thursday morning, after a short illness with pneumonia. He was 21 years old.

"Charlie" as he was known to his friends here, had made his home in Camden for the past few years and was employed in Philadelphia. He was removed to his home here the Saturday previous to the day of his death.

Funeral services were held at his mother's residence, at two o'clock Monday afternoon with the Rev. C. W. MacGeorge, pastor of the First Baptist Church, in charge. Interment was made at Brotherhood Cemetery, Mount Holly.

MEDFORD CHAUTAUQUA

Something just a little different is promised at the Medford-Marlton Chautauqua which will open in Orange Hall, Medford, on Thursday, January 10 and continue to and including the following Sunday, January 13, in the program prepared by the Swarthmore Chautauqua Association. The new comedy success "Take My Advice," which boasts of a run of several months at the Belmont Theatre in New York, is booked to be staged the second night.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Our people are urged to attend the Community Week of Prayer, which is conducted in the Epworth M. E. Church, January 7-13, at eight o'clock every evening except Sunday.

Regular services next Sunday morning and evening with special music by our choir at both services. The choir is to be commended upon its splendid renditions last Sunday, and we are sure that those of the future will be of a like standard.

Our Lutheran members and friends are most cordially urged to come out and support the splendid and full religious program given in our church each Sunday morning and evening. Your attendance does much to "make" the service.

Week day Religious School is being resumed after a lapse due to the pastor's illness. Those who wish to be pupils must be enrolled at the time, if they have not already done so. The school meets Tuesday evening at 7:30.

Junior Luther League meets Friday evening at 7:30. Miss Rebekah G. Eschbole is superintendent. Children are given courses in the practical work of the church. Your child will profit greatly by attending these meetings.

Holy Communion will be observed morning and evening of January 20.

The annual congregational supper, business session, and entertainment will take place Tuesday evening, January 22.

The monthly meeting of council January 14th, at 8:30 p. m.

Lent starts February 13, with special series of mid-week and Sunday services. Palm Sunday is on March 24, Easter, March 31.

Calvary Presbyterian

Rev. Chas. T. Bates, Minister

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning service of worship Sunday at eleven o'clock and the evening service at eight o'clock. The pastor, who has been away for a few weeks recuperating from an attack of erippe, plans to be in the pulpit at both services.

All departments of the Church School will meet at ten o'clock.

The Christian Endeavor Society will hold its service at seven o'clock in the Church School auditorium.

Owing to the Community services being held in the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra, there will be no mid-week prayer service. The members of the congregation are urged to attend the Community services.

CHRIST CHURCH

(Episcopal) Parry Avenue
Rev. George J. MacCormack, Rector

For nearly three centuries, of course with varying intensity, the name of Jesus of Nazareth and His followers was a name of shame, hateful and despised.

Not only among the Roman idolaters was "the Name" spoken against with intense bitterness as you can read by the expressions used by men like Tacitus, Suetonius and Pliny, but also among His nation, the Jews, Jesus was known as "the Deceiver", "that Man", "the Hung". These are common expressions used in the great rabbinical schools which flourished in the early days of Christianity.

But if anybody supposes that the work of Christ is finished, let that man remember that more than half of the country professed nothing at all with regard to any known church affiliation.

That is to say that in a professedly Christian land, over fifty percent of the inhabitants seem to be living as though Christ had never existed. That constitutes a challenge to any who call themselves Christians, a challenge to do their fair share in extending the Kingdom of Jesus.

The St. Agnes Guild had a very enjoyable supper on Monday last with thirty present.

A very pleasing offer was recently made by two communicants to the Rectory Fund of $500.00. It is hoped this fund so generously started will be added to by other members. Contributions will be received by the Rector or by the Wardens, E. G. Borer and J. B. King.

The G. F. S. annual banquet was a very enjoyable affair, the toasts of the evening were very capably handled by Olga Probasting, Virginia McKeon and Bessie Carr. Mrs. Morton Lewis, Diocesan President of the New Jersey branch addressed the gathering of sixty girls and associations, and held their rapt attention. This was the third year of the local branch's organization and very splendid work is being done.

The staff of the International Hospital of St. Lukes at Tokyo, numbering 45 doctors and over two hundred nurses have, since the founding of the hospital, turned into the common fund all the money they would ordinarily make in their private practice, retaining none of it for themselves. Dr. Tensler will address the members of the Women's Auxiliary at their annual meeting in Trenton this Wednesday.

The service on Sunday evening will have some unusual features for any who love congregational singing and in addition there will be two soloists and a violin selection.

Services for first Sunday after Epiphany.

G. O. P. CONTROL NOW COMPLETE

Republicans Ready to Shoulder Full Responsibility for State Leadership

By Charles R. Bacon

With full control of both the Legislative and executive branches of the State Government for the first time in nine years the Republicans of New Jersey approach the situation with complete knowledge of the grave responsibility placed in their hands. With that phase of the situation before them they enter upon the new era of affairs with a fixed determination to accept the responsibility and to conduct the government in such manner as to deserve the confidence of the people of the state so emphatically expressed in the last election.

This declaration about summarizes the position taken by the party leaders who have been taking stock of the election, and who realize how necessary it will be to follow the admirable advice of Governor-elect Morgan F. Larson, who takes the ground the situation in the weeks following that the people who thus expressed their confidence, also imposed a burden upon the Republican Party which cannot lightly be refused.

Agitation for change in date of the party primaries will probably be ended when it becomes known generally that nearly all the Republican leaders favor the retention of the Spring election. Some well founded criticism of the early primary had it weaknesses, but after canvassing the subject thoroughly the leaders reached the conclusion that the people would best be served by retention of the "straw hat" time.

It is considered very probable that Governor Larson will include in his inaugural message some definite recommendation with respect to the water situation. As the Senator from Middlesex he had displayed keen interest in that subject, when the Tri-State Water Treaty was under consideration, and as an engineer, he has made careful and intelligent study of the problem. Just what he will suggest in the way of legislation remained to be seen in his inaugural, but it is certain that the problem will have a great deal of attention during the session of Legislature.

A subject kindred to and linked in with the water problem is that of pollution of the seashore beaches and inland waterways to which Senator Larson gave much attention in his speeches during the campaign. The Governor-elect regards this problem as one requiring early and intelligent action to the end that the streams may be cleared of all suspicion of pollution. He looks upon the beaches as among the State's most valuable assets and anything calculated to reduce their value and attractiveness means just that much loss to the State as a whole, so that everything possible must be done to preserve them for the use and enjoyment of the people. That same view with relation to the inland waterways holds good and his recommendations with respect to these problems will have the prompt attention of the Legislature. It is expected, therefore, that legislation to meet the situation will promptly be passed.

We suppose, according to etiquette a senior Philadelphia police officer would arrest his junior first.

CENTRAL AIRPORT ROTARY SUBJECT

Speaker Says Field at Camden Will Be Best Along Atlantic Seaboard

Full details of Central Airport, to be opened at the present Crescent airport, Crescent Boulevard, Camden, were given to the Moorestown Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting in the Community House last Thursday at noon.

The speaker was Paul Tyrrell of Philadelphia, representative of Central Airport, Inc., who came to the club through the Camden Chamber of Commerce.

While Central Airport is a private venture, it will be the finest airport along the Atlantic seaboard, Mr. Tyrrell predicted. It will qualify for a Class A1A rating by the Chamber of Commerce he asserted. This is the highest airport rating in the country.

"It will have runways of not less than 2500 feet in eight directions," he said, "and one runway in the direction of the prevailing wind will be 3500. The field will be fully equipped with boundary lights and beacons and will have hangars of permanent construction of the finest architectural design.

Many Facilities

"A gas engine station, radio control station, restaurant, ticket office and hotel will be located on the field and all other facilities necessary for the operation of a real transportation terminal will be included.

"Central Airport will be favored by several advantages as a comprehensive scheme of park development including recreational spaces, will extend the airport on two sides. This will greatly add to safety of operation by providing large open spaces in the territory adjacent to the field which would otherwise be impossible to obtain, especially in view of the accessibility of the field and its nearness to the center of Camden and Philadelphia."

With the airport will offer transportation facilities to all ports in the country, provide all types of aeronautical accessories, ready and fast service in addition to sight-seeing tours, there will be no student flying, announced Mr. Thomes. Student flying has proven dangerous where there is real transport service.

"Air People" Operators

"Central Airport," he declared, "will be managed and operated by air people for air people. The officers and directors of the company include some of the most prominent men in the aeronautical affairs of the country. With the type of management and in view of the high grade of development plans now being carried out it is expected that this field will rank with the best in the country."

He announced actual operations will start June 1 of this year.

In outlining his address, Mr. Thomes traced the history of airports from the beginning, when the Wright brothers made their first flight from the side of a hill. Now cities are appropriating millions for airports, he said. Chicago, alone, is spending five million, and have an "air cop." Greater New York has nearly two dozen flying fields and airports.

Flying is now recognized as a solid commercial enterprise, he declared. And this is greatly due to Lindbergh. Before the Lone Eagle's great flight it was considered a rich man's fad and fancy.

The Rotarians evidenced much interest in Mr. Thomes' talk and he was roundly applauded.

CARD PARTY AND DANCE SATURDAY

Large Crowd Expected to Attend Event Given by Moorestown Catholic Girls' Club at Lyceum

A card party and dance will be given in the Catholic Lyceum, Moorestown, under the auspices of the Moorestown Catholic Girls' Club this Saturday evening, January 12.

Games will be played on the first floor with tables set for pinochle, euchre, five hundred and bridge. A nice number of very attractive and worthwhile prizes will be offered to the winners at cards and lucky number holders.

The popular orchestra, "The College Crew," will furnish the music for the dance, which will be held on the second floor. Christmas trees and laurel will be used in decorating the auditorium for the dance.

The card party committee includes the Misses Eva Workman, May Carmody, Helen Dixon, Rue O'Brien and Kathryn Cunningham, while the dance committee consists of the Misses Anna Carr, Celia Fitzgerald, Margaret Wickfield Bedford, Grace Cunningham, Marguerite Workman and Anna Riley.

TAX REFUNDS

Ten Burlington County Residents and Corporations Receive Money

When the Federal government recently announced the schedule of tax refunds for the moneys overpaid in taxes during the year ending June 30, 1928, an aggregate return involving many millions of dollars, the following Burlington county residents and corporations profited in the amounts given below.

Charles W. Brick, Crosswicks, $1,042; Lester Collins, 621 Chester avenue, Moorestown, $1,565; A. N. Cutler, Maple Shade, $845; First National Bank, Bordentown, $886; George W. Swift, Inc., Bordentown, $3,064; Ethelbert Haines, 358 Main street, Medford, $634; Robert F. Hobbs, Beverly, $1,016; estate of Heulings Lippincott, Riverton, $9,990; Herbert N. Morris, 206 Fulton street, Riverton, $3,064, and Laura Z. Vaughn, 203 Bank avenue, Riverton, $729.

The amounts of refunds to taxxpayers living in South Jersey aggregated $120,235.

The new dollar bill is going to be smaller in size. It has looked smaller to us for quite some time.

SEE DE MARIS M. E. SUPERINTENDENT

Snyder Also Mentioned; Rules of Conference Make Him Ineligible

The new superintendent of the Trenton District of the New Jersey Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will in all probability be Dr. Firman A. De Maris, now pastor of First Church, Asbury Park.

He will be named to succeed Rev. Sherman G. Pitt, of Trenton, who died last month, when the conference convenes next month, if present plans are carried out.

Dr. De Maris has served in several important pulpits of the conference and was superintendent of the Camden District before he was appointed pastor of First Church, Asbury Park. He has been designated by Bishop Richardson to sit in the cabinet of District Superintendents at the annual conference, and without actually being district superintendent he will be available for such advice as may be needed until a regular appointment is made at the conference. At this time he is unofficially designated as the representative of the ministers of the Trenton district to sit in the cabinet at the proper time.

Dr. Snyder has been mentioned for the regular appointment, but this is by those who are not familiar with the fact that he is not eligible to the office at this time. Under the rules of the conference a superintendent has to be out of office six years after one term before he is eligible to serve again, and this eliminated Dr. Snyder because he is the immediate predecessor of Superintendent Pitt and a six-year period has not yet expired.

WILLIAM P. YOUNG WILL BE CANDIDATE

Burlington Councilman Will Seek the Nomination for Coroner This Spring

Councilman William P. Young, of Burlington, has announced his intention of striving for nomination as coroner on the Republican ticket at the spring primary election, to succeed Benjamin F. Farner, who will be a candidate for the nomination of sheriff at that time.

Mr. Young is well known in this section and has a state-wide reputation as an evangelist. He was elected to serve in the Burlington Common Council from the Second Ward, last year, but was ousted on a technicality during the councilmanic deadlock at that time. At the November election he again was elected, and last week took seat in the city governing body to serve the remainder of his unexpired term.

If chosen, Mr. Young pledges to serve honestly and efficiently in his new capacity. Contrary to the expressed belief of some, Mr. Young states he will not have to resign from Burlington Council if nominated for coroner. He states that should he be elected, he will not have to file his acceptance until his present councilmanic term expires.

OBJECTIONABLE SIGN BOARDS

Commercial billboards that obscure danger signals and hinder the free view of standard markers erected on the highways have aroused the indignation of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, and the Director of that Service in his annual report expresses the hope that "means may be found by suitable legislation to effect their complete elimination upon all roads constructed in part with money appropriated by the National Government."

PALMYRA COUNCIL MAKES REQUEST FOR NEW ROAD

Resolution Asks Freeholders to Build Bridge Outlet to Cinnaminson Ave.

STATE EXPECTED TO FAVOR PROJECT

Proposed Route Would Run Along Delaware Ave. and Temple Blvd.

A resolution was unanimously passed at the meeting of Palmyra Borough Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night asking the County Board of Freeholders to construct a road from the Tacony-Palmyra bridge plaza to Cinnaminson avenue.

The resolution, which, it is understood will be presented to the Board of Freeholders Friday, asks for a road connecting with a proposed extension of Delaware avenue and thence to Cinnaminson avenue along Temple Boulevard.

Temple Boulevard, which is at present an unimproved street, intersects Cinnaminson avenue about one block north of Fourth street. The proposed spur would bring traffic from the bridge and cut along Cinnaminson avenue in the same way as the ferry traffic at the present time.

It is pointed out that the building of this road will insure Cinnaminson avenue being retained as a part of the State Highway system, whereas if it is not built the avenue will revert to the borough as soon as the ferry ceases operation. This would make an additional expense for maintenance for the local taxpayers and Council wishes to prevent this expense if possible.

It is understood that the State Highway department is in favor of the proposition to build the new road and will pave the same if the County approves it. No opposition is expected from the Freeholders. The officials of the Bridge Company are also said to be in favor of the project.

The budget for borough expenses for the year 1929 was approved at the meeting and is published elsewhere in this issue. The tax rate for the borough is expected to be three to five cents less this year.

Assessor James Hartley was present at the meeting and reported that the residents of Lincoln avenue were almost unanimously in favor of laying permanent paving, the cost of which was to be assessed against the individual property owners provided such property owners would be exempted from paying a proportionate part of any paving which might be laid in the future as a general improvement.

The Borough Solicitor was of the opinion that no ordinance could be passed which would guarantee exemption in this case. The matter was referred to the Roads and Streets department to work out in connection with the solicitor.

In opening Tuesday's meeting, which was the first regular meeting of the year, Mayor George N. Wimer made a brief talk to the members in which he mentioned the large amount of work before Council and expressed his belief that all the Borough officials would work hard to give an efficient administration to town affairs.

Reports were received from the newly organized committees which this year are as follows: Finance, Buckholz, Bradley, Cramer; Roads and Streets, Davis, Cramer, Fisher; Garbage and Ashes Cramer, Fisher-Davis; Sewer, Fisher, Cramer Davis; Buildings, Bradley, Fisher, Shover; Ordinances, Shover, Buckholz, Bradley; Lighting, Shover - Davis, Buckholz; Police and Fire, George N Wimer.

The question of improving or removing the old Palmyra Cemetery was brought before Council again and a special committee consisting of Shover, Davis and Bradley was appointed to look into the matter.

A special committee consisting of Fisher, Davis and Shover was appointed to make up an inventory of Borough property. Another special committee consisting of Cramer and Buckholz was appointed to look into the proposal to appoint a Police Recorder for the borough.

Lions Roar of 1929, "Buy U. S. A.", Announced by Palmyra-Riverton Club

Second Annual Theatrical Production, Written by Frank A. Mathews, Jr., to be Presented April 4, 5 and 6; Candidates for Parts Must Register Thursday, Friday

The Lion Roar of 1929 to be given by the Lion Club of Palmyra-Riverton will be one of the biggest productions of its kind ever presented by a community. It will be a musical comedy entitled "Buy U. S. A." in two acts and ten scenes written by Frank A. Mathews, Jr. the author of the production "And How" which was given by the Lion Roar of 1928.

The show will be given in the Palmyra High school auditorium on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights April 4, 5 and 6.

One of the objects of the club in giving these yearly productions is to afford an opportunity to the young people of the community to receive without cost to them instruction in music, dancing, etc and therefore have decided to award them part of the opportunity are cordially invited to register for a part by the last.

As only a certain number of people can be used in the show all selection will be based on qualifications of the individual for the particular work required.

The book provide for a large number of speaking parts, for several dancing chorus's many dancing specialties and singing choruses. Anyone may register for any or all of these.

Registration must be made either on Thursday January 17 in Friday January 18 from 3 to 9:30 P. M. in the Lions Club Den in Society Hall Palmyra.

Buy U. S. A. will be considerably more elaborate than "And How" and as its setting include scenes in this country, the Balkan States, Spain, China, the Sahara Desert and Turkey. The club will spare no expense to make it a perfect production.

Arrangements have been made to have certain groups rehearse at specified times and thus eliminate needless waiting by the participants. Rehearsal time for each group will be limited to one hour a night.

Ex-Sheriff Dies

EDWARD H. FLAGG, JR.

Former Mayor of Riverton and Sheriff of Burlington County who died in the Mount Holly Hospital Monday.

E. H. FLAGG DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Ex-Mayor of Riverton and Former Sheriff of Burlington County

After an illness of only a few days, Edward H. Flagg, Jr. of Riverton, former sheriff of Burlington County, former mayor of Riverton, and one of the best known residents of South Jersey died in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Monday morning. Pneumonia was the cause of death.

The deceased leaves a widow who previous to her marriage was Miss Ella T. Evans, daughter of Joseph B. Evans, of Vincentown. She is the sister of Mrs. Richard Birch, Sr., of High street, Burlington, and an aunt of Mrs. Nathan Haines, of West Union street, Burlington. He also leaves a son, Edward Flagg, 2d.

Sheriff Flagg as he was known to a great host of friends was born in Chicago, on September 3 1868. His father was a New England farmer. He came to this country on one of the earliest ships to sail for the New England coast. The elder Flagg remained a farmer until an aged Indian gave him a recipe that later became known as "Flagg's Instant Relief," and then he farmed no longer. Medicine became his vocation and he prospered. It was while he was selling his medicine in Chicago that Sheriff Flagg was born.

Move to Brooklyn

Sheriff Flagg remained in Chicago two and a half years and then his father's business took him to Brooklyn. In Brooklyn Sheriff Flagg got the rudiments of his education. He first attended the public schools in that place and afterward went to Selleck's Navy School, Norwalk. for a year. Later he returned to public school.

The next move in the medicine business took the Flaggs to Baltimore and in that city the Sheriff attended the grammar school and eventually went to the Western Maryland College. He graduated from the Western Maryland College in 1887. Leaving college Sheriff Flagg entered a commercial life in Philadelphia, but later went on the stage. He remained on the stage only a short time and then went into the medicine business with his father. This was in 1888. The first town he visited was Medford. Soon he was known all over Burlington County.

The Sheriff continued the sale of medicine until the fall of 1900 when he became engaged in the butter and egg business in Philadelphia. Later he became interested in the Upper Delaware River Transportation Company through Nathan Haines of Burlington then the cashier of the Mechanics' National Bank, first being a special agent and afterwards holding various positions with the company.

With Shipping Board

In 1916 the steamboat company got into financial difficulties and Sheriff Flagg became a salesman again. In 1917 he went with the United States Shipping Board as general auditor and assistant comptroller, remaining in that position until 1920.

Back in 1910 Sheriff Flagg bought a home in Riverton and took up his residence in that town. Becoming interested in town affairs he was made a member of Town Council. He served two years and was then elected mayor of Riverton serving four terms of two years each.

In 1917 Sheriff Flagg ran for sheriff of Burlington County and was defeated by A. Engle Haines, of Medford. He ran again in 1920 and was more successful.

Sheriff Flagg was one of the best known Masons in the state. Certainly he was the best known Tall Cedar. He served as Grand Tall Cedar for fourteen years and might have continued in that office had he consented to be a candidate again in

CADETS PLAN FOR BURL. COUNTY RALLY

Local Cadet Leader Takes Active Part In Program; Date Set For March

Representatives from Moorestown, Palmyra, Riverton, Maple Shade, Mount Holly and Riverside met at Riverside Saturday evening to plan for a county wide Columbus Cadet Rally to be held some time in the early part of March.

Eugene McVeigh, Jute field executive of the Columbus Cadets, will have charge of the rally. It is the first of its kind planned for this section of the state according to the local one.

The local Cadet leader is Andrew Pfaff.

MISCHIEF MAKERS ON PROBATION

Six Boys Reprimanded by Director of Public Safety

Early last Sunday afternoon, Director of Public Safety Williams received a phone call from a neighbor living near the old Moore property in the 400 block on Thomas avenue reporting six boys creating mischief on the property.

Director Williams sent Officer Quigley to investigate. When Bill arrived at the scene he found the six boys trying to enter the house by a window and also found that they had torn loose one of the back doors to the property.

Bill loaded the band of mischief makers into the police car and took them to the Director's home where they were severely reprimanded by Mr. Williams.

The boys were placed under two weeks probation by the Director and must report to Officer Quigley every day.

From the last reports of the Officer the boys have been behaving as they should.

Director Williams said in reference to this affair that no future trouble with destructive mischief makers would be tolerated and all cases reported in the future would be handled in the most severe manner allowed by law.

He also called upon the parents of children in this community for their cooperation in helping to break up such roguishness.

Only two weeks ago this same group of boys was reprimanded by Officer Quigley for use of air pump guns on the streets.

Out of deference to the boys parents the police department did not give out their names for publication.

K. OF C. HEARS THRILLING TALK

Illustrated Lecture on Canadian Rockies Attracts Large, Enthusiastic Audience

An illustrated lecture on the Canadian Rockies was much enjoyed by a crowded house at the K. of C. Hall Tuesday night.

Dan McCowan, the naturalist who has spent twenty years in the Rockies was a lecture easy to listen to and his wonderful descriptions, thrilling tale of explorations coupled with the Scotch wit provided an entertainment that will long be remembered by the listeners.

Many narrow escapes in quest of photographs of animals were determined by Mr. McCowan, the most thrilling being in successfully taking the picture of a nest of the golden eagle. It took the naturalist three days to accomplish this and only after risking his life along a rocky ledge many thousand feet above sea level and also exposing him self to the attack of the mother bird who did not relish the idea of her young being disturbed.

Everyone of the 150 hundred pictures shown gave evidence of the beauty of the Canadian Rockies and Mr McCowan's invitation to everyone to visit this part of the North American continent will probably bear fruit when vacation rides in trips are decided upon next summer.

Future activities of the K. of C. in Burlington County were announced by Grand Knight Sinn and some of the important dates are as follows: Fourth Degree dinner meeting at Merchantville Inn Thursday, January 24; Rally of all Burlington County Councils at Mount Holly, Friday, January 25. A testimonial to Bishop McMahon at Trenton in the Stacy-Trent Hotel, Monday night, January 21.

A special invitation from Haddon Heights Council has been received by St. Joseph's Council and a night of real entertainment is on the schedule. Cars will leave the K. of C. headquarters at 7:30 and a full banquet is looked forward to by the officer of the local council. Date, February 4.

Many new members have filed application for admission to the council and as soon as the class is of sufficient size first and second degrees will be given.

UNUSUAL CARD PARTY PLANNED BY LIONS

A very unusual card party will be given on February 12, Lincoln Birthday, by the Ladies' Club of Palmyra-Riverton, in Society Hall, Palmyra.

This party promises to eclipse the one given in November in many ways and arrangements have been made to use both floors of the hall to accommodate the players.

Prizes that are expensive unusual and unique will be offered and a good time is assured everyone.

Those who play pinochle bridge or five hundred please do not forget the date February 12 at 8:15 P. M. Tickets 50 cents.

Mrs. Pearl M. Bridegum on her retirement as custodian was presented with a beautiful floral gift by the Board of Education of Hainesport township at the meeting of the board recently. She has served as treasurer of the township and assistant of the school funds since the township was organized in 1924.

FLORENCE REDUCES BUDGET

The Florence Township 1929 budget and tax ordinance passed first hearing at the Township Committee meeting last week. The proposed budget for the present year makes appropriations of $40,500 as against $44,700 for 1928, a reduction of $4,200. $11,500 will be raised by taxation this year which is $2,200 less than 1928.

ROAD NOT OILED; WANT MONEY BACK

Residents of Elm Avenue Petition Council for Rebate on 1929 Taxes

A petition was presented to the Riverton Borough Council at its first regular meeting of the year asking that Elm avenue be included in the program of street improvements in the borough for 1929. The petition also asked that a credit on 1929 taxes be given to the people who paid a proportionate amount of the road expense by taxation last year.

W. F. Weiler of Morgan avenue brought the petition before council.

After being assured by Chairman Hulse of the highway committee that Elm avenue would be looked after in the year's program Mr. Weiler and Frank Bedrick spoke about the poor lighting along Elm avenue. Bedrick said he had been in touch with Mayor Wimer of Palmyra who said that the borough of Palmyra would gladly cooperate with Riverton in bettering conditions along Elm avenue. P. A. Buccigrossi of Morgan avenue spoke about a section of Elm avenue below Fourth street where there are to sidewalk. The Mayor appointed Messrs. Weiler, Bedrick and Buccigrossi a committee to look into the matter and see what could be done to have sidewalks put in this section of the road.

Oppose Funds for Zoning

The proposed budget of the borough of 1929 was presented and passed first reading.

Councilmen DeLaney and Clifford opposed putting $2,500 in the budget for zoning. Councilman Bartley moved that the $2,500 for that purpose be omitted in the budget. The motion was seconded by Councilman Hobbs. Bartley and Hobbs voted in favor of including the $2,500 and Clifford and DeLaney against. The Mayor casting the deciding affirmative vote.

The building inspector's report was received with the exception of $14.00 for a private garage on Edgemont avenue and the 6 buildings at Taylor's corner on Broad street.

A communication from Wm. J. Reed borough solicitor reporting on the investigation on the water bond was received and filed. The committee declared that the money matter found that the company was not each year remain a fair return.

Wants Street Extended

A communication was received from Mr. Bogart Perry asking the borough to straighten and improve Ninth street and cut the road through from Main street to the Deer property before the zoning commission adopts any plans. The communication was given to the highway committee for investigation.

William H. Weikel of Wiegand Rookes & Company borough auditor was present and discussed the budget with the councilmen. Mr. Weikel also said that the borough was in excellent financial condition with no serious debts and that the administration of the borough was in capable hands.

Those attending the meeting were Mayor Howard M. Rogers, Councilmen Bartley, Hobbs, Clifford and DeLaney, visitors, William Quigley, John Carhart, William Metcalfe, James Goodson, Hilton M. Smith, Frank Bedrick, P. A. Buccigrossi, W. J. Weiler, Frank Strobleh and Herbert Evans.

C. B. FISHER GETS BERTH IN COUNTY

Wins Appointment as Sealer of Weights and Measures Over 30 Applicants

At the first meeting of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders of the year 1929 Charles B. Fisher was elected Sealer of Weights and Measures for the county, winning over a field of more than thirty applicants.

Fisher was nominated by Freeholder Brant against Morris Stevenson of Mansfield. Upon his name being nominated by Mekeowen and Rowland A. Engelhardt of Mt. Holly were also nominated by Elmer Wright. The vote of the board was for Fisher, Hessler, Brant and Rowland to Stevenson, McCormick, and for Engelhardt, Wright.

A resolution by Freeholder McCormick directing the department of bridges asking for bids on a set of steel to be placed on the bridge at Mount Holly was passed.

A communication was received from the Burlington County Free Library Commission submitted a report for the past year's work. The report showed that the circulation had increased more than 9000 volumes over the past year. The county has asked that the library service be continued for the present year in the three cities and to decide to read the original copies of the motion. The most popular book are not fiction and modern fiction.

Plan To Improve Road

Charge by the state director of the department of roads reported that since the state highway commission had decided that the state will be 38 between Camden and Eastham and Evesham was to be built to a certain point parallel and north to the present Maple Shade. It would now be necessary for the board to consider improvement of the part of road to the Camden county line. It was the had condition corresponds to the curves of Maple Shade. The cost of improvement was set at $1,000 a mile and Freeholder Brant recommended that representatives appear before the State Highway Commission in an effort to obtain state aid.

Freeholder McCormick presented a resolution to accept the Wading River bridge which was completed in accordance with the county engineer said been to Walter Read and inspected the work. The resolution was adopted. Mr. McCormick also offered a resolution recommending the rebuilding of certain smaller bridges in the county.

Asks Aid for Road

Shamong Township in a communication to the board asked for $500 and to form the county in building 4 10 of a mile of road which could connect two county roads. Director of roads Elliot asked for a collection opinion on this and suggested that if the county was part in improving it that the road would become a part of the county roadway system.

Plans for a new county garage were presented with a resolution by Freeholder McCormick. This new building is to take the place of the one which was recently sold by the county to Joseph E. Roberts. The approximate cost will be $4,000.

Dr. Marcus W. Sexsmith, medical director of the county tuberculosis hospital, gave his report of work done during 1928 which was accepted.

PALMYRA SCHOOL FREE FROM "FLU"; WARNING ISSUED

State Department of Education Investigates Situation and Sends Out Statement

URGES EXCLUSION FOR COMMON COLD

No Cause for Alarm But Utmost Caution Necessary to Prevent Spread

According to the report of Supervising Principal Paul V. Eckert of the Palmyra Schools there is no reason to alarm over the influenza epidemic which has been prevalent in other parts of the state.

No cases have been detected in the schools to date but every precaution is being taken to prevent the disease from getting a foothold. The committee acting in closely communication has to a certain extent given cause for alarm and at a recent the State Department of Education has given the widest conceivable attention.

A statement has been prepared by Allen G. Bedford M. D. Director of Physical and Health Education for State Board. The statement has been sent to all schools for the purpose of acquainting school authorities with the best methods of combating the spread of the disease and is quoted herewith for the information of the public. The statement follows:

Control Measures

Although the present type of influenza is not a causing plaguing proportions either in severity or number of cases it is well as it always is with infectious diseases to give heed to preventive and control measures. Aside from the personal health reasons for avoiding disease there are two factors of economy as loss of time decreased efficiency and personally increased expense and disruption of instructional routine. This is particularly true of the public school.

The source of infection is the discharge from the mouth and nose of infected persons and articles freshly soiled with such discharges. Hence the spread is from mouth to mouth by direct contact as one of pass thrown out in a cough or sneeze and by the medium use of rags towels, pencils, pocketbooks, paint brushes and such articles as can be placed in the mouth.

The period of incubation is short usually 24 to 72 hour.

The period of communicability is indeterminate but it is apparently coextensive with the duration of fever or for 7 days or at least seven days after onset of clinical symptoms.

Exclusion Urged

It is not safe rule for teachers to observe the skin and symptoms. The essential thing is immediate exclusion to be relaxed at all usual. Sneezing or a cold or cold fever. Prompt exclusion is being taken to prevent the absence

GROUP REPORTERS TELL OF Y DOINGS

Lone Eagles Win County Newspaper Contest; Members Work on Yearbook

Following are accounts of YMCA group meetings as written by the boy reporters:

The Lone Eagle YMCA group of Palmyra and Riverton held its regular weekly meeting in the YMCA building, Saturday evening last, under the leadership of Arnold Carter, who is also the secretary of Young Men's Christian Association for Palmyra and Riverton. Mr Carter says when he comes to our meeting as the leader he forgets his secretarial job and tries to be as any other leader.

The meeting was opened by the Pledge to the Flag and led in prayer by Mr. Carter. Our leader then had charge of our regular Bible study period which was in the form of a talk on loyalty.

The business session of the meeting was a very busy one. The first thing on the docket was the Camp Yorkwick. The completion of this book is under the direction of Wilbur L. Barclay, assisted by Robert Shotz. Each member of the group was given an assignment which he is to have completed within a week. Each class is to hand in their assignment at the end of the month. A picture of the group is now on the page of the yearbook devoted exclusively to over-a-hundred pupils.

Win Newspaper Contest

The group decided to participate in a contest conducted by the leader each month. Our aim is to secure 200 for March work and to be the most enrolled at the meeting of the month.

Our next big event is the banquet of the Lone Eagles which will be held in the Community House, Riverton, on Monday evening, January 28. Each member of the group is to bring a guest. Plans for the banquet are now under way.

The meeting was dismissed by the Pledge to the Flag and led in prayer by Mr. Carter. Our leader next had charge of our regular Bible study period which was in the form of a talk on loyalty.

CITIZENS ENDORSE HOSPITAL'S FUND

Thacher, Armstrong Approve 1929 County Appropriation of $36,000

Strongly supporting the request made for a county appropriation of $36,000 to cover the expense of charity work at the Burlington County Hospital this year, Frank W. Thacher, of Edgewater Park and E. Wallis Armstrong, of Moorestown, both large taxpayers, have written their indorsement to the Board of Freeholders and the letters, interesting and thoroughly self-explanatory, have been released for publication.

Mr. Thacher's Letter

Burlington County Board of Freeholders,
Mount Holly, New Jersey.
Gentlemen:

I am writing you as a taxpayer and property owner in Burlington county to urge you to appropriate $36,000, of the money collected by taxes, for helping to take care of the sick people of our county in the new Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly for the year 1929.

This hospital was built by money subscribed by various public-spirited citizens of our county and is a most excellent and up-to-date hospital where the sick of our county are receiving the very best possible care from a most efficient staff of nurses and physicians under conditions most favorable for their recovery.

The hospital is very much larger than the old hospital which it replaced in Mount Holly, as you know and requires a much larger sum for maintenance than did the old hospital.

I understand the entire cost of running this new hospital is about $120,000 per year, of which $60,000 is paid by patients who can afford to pay it, while most of the patients of the hospital are given the best possible care without any charge when they are not able to pay.

The recent drive for fund secured $20,000 for next year in gifts from public-spirited citizens of our county, for this maintenance fund and there is about $8,000 which the hospital receives annually from endowment funds.

With you appropriating $36,000 for 1929 for the hospital maintenance fund this will about complete the necessary amount for 1929. I can think of no better way of spending this amount of your funds in 1929 than by helping to take care of the most unfortunate citizens of our county who are sick and without funds to take care of themselves, and I am sure this action on your part will be approved throughout our county by all right-thinking people, and will result in the actual saving of the lives of many of the citizens of our county.

Yours truly,
Frank W. Thacher.

P. S. I understand that in our neighboring counties the Freeholders appropriate under similar conditions from county tax funds much larger amounts than you are asked to appropriate to our county hospital. I am advised that the Mercer County Board of Freeholders appropriates $160,000 per year, the Camden County Board about $140,000 and Atlantic County Board over $100,000 per year.

Mr. Armstrong's Letter

Board of Chosen Freeholders of Burlington County,
Mount Holly, N. J.
Dear Sirs:

I understand that the Burlington County Hospital has made a request to you to set aside $36,000 for use of the hospital for 1929.

As a subscriber to and one of the supporters of the Burlington County Hospital, as well as a resident and taxpayer in Burlington county, and as a business man, I think this is a proper appropriation for you to make.

I am saying this with the full knowledge that there are many appropriations and many requests, and with the full knowledge that it is up to you to decide which is best, but as above stated, I think this is a worthy request and one that should be granted.

I am writing this letter because I think it is my duty, and as custodian of the funds I think you should have the expression of the large taxpayers in the county.

I, therefore, respectfully submit this to you in writing and shall be glad to give you any information that I have, if you so desire.

Yours very truly,
E. Wallis Armstrong.

BELL PLANNING TO IMPROVE SERVICE

To Keep Pace With Moorestown's Growth with Additional Equipment

Recent increased growth and development in and near Moorestown, and an anticipated development of the district in the near future is being met by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company by a general addition to the Moorestown central office equipment, according to a statement today by L. A. Fritchman manager for the telephone company.

There are now about 1,650 telephones in use in the Moorestown district. Equipment for an additional 500 or more is being installed in the central office to be ready early in January. Other changes and additions to the switchboard and equipment also are to be made to care for growth and improve service for the subscribers.

Among other plans is one to change telephones on the rural lines operated from Moorestown exchange from the magneto type, by which the subscriber calls the operator by turning a crank on the telephone bell box, to the common battery type with which the operator is signalled automatically when the receiver is lifted from the hook.

More than 250 subscribers will be involved in this change.

TELEPHONE SERVICE AIMS for 1929

"Complete More Connections on First Attempt"

It can be done with your help

WE WOULD LIKE to put all your calls through promptly on the first attempt this year, for that would be service at its very best.

This ambition cannot be entirely realized, for sometimes the people you call are using their telephones when you try to call them.

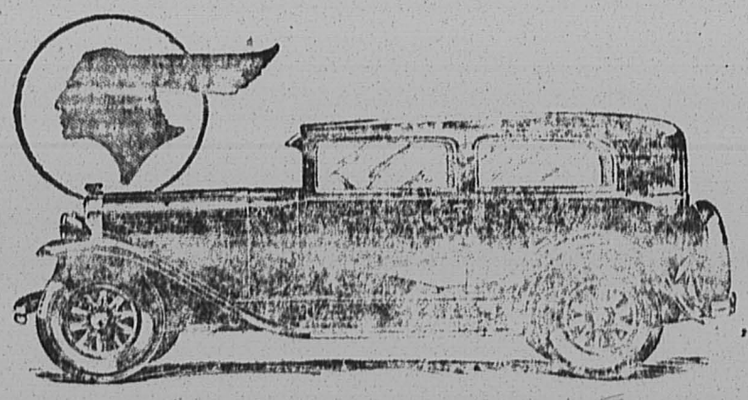

The percentage of calls completed on first trial, however, can be greatly increased with your help.

We can do our part with better switchboard operation and quicker and more effective detection of mechanical faults that affect connections.

You can do your part in two ways: Give the person you call time enough to answer the telephone, and try to answer the telephone promptly when you are called.

Some subscribers who are in a hurry hang up before the persons they call can get to the telephone; others answer so leisurely that people calling them hang up in discouragement.

announcing The New PONTIAC BIG SIX

Introducing Big Car [illegible] Style and Performance [illegible] $745

TODAY a new type of low cost motoring luxury is available. It embraces big car style. It provides big car riding comfort. It embodies big car quality in unseen parts. It is offered by a brand new automobile—the New Pontiac Big Six.

Frankly, the New Pontiac Big Six was designed to appeal to a certain group. This group is made up of people who are beginning to move up in the world. Many of them will soon make the first step up in the quality of their cars. The New Pontiac Big Six was designed for them.

It comes to them entirely new in appearance. Stunning new bodies by Fisher contribute to the big car beauty and big car style presented by the car as a whole.

Progressive people are seeking greater luxury. The Pontiac Big Six offers them the luxury for which bodies by Fisher are famous the world over. It provides the smooth-riding qualities of a car 7 inches in overall length, with accurately balanced rotating mechanical parts and such advanced comfort features as adjustable drivers' seats.

It is a six with the added power of a larger L-head engine and the added smoothness imparted by a dynamically balanced, counter-weighted crankshaft and the famous Harmonic Balancer. Its new brakes are of the dirt-and-weather-proof internal four-wheel type.

It reveals big car performance even to the point of developing big car power and big car speed.

Only a few highlights in its construction have been mentioned. Just enough to prove that the Pontiac Big Six is entirely new and capable of meeting progressive Americans' demand. But the amazing thing about it is that it gives so much big car luxury, style and performance at prices which come within practically everyone's reach!

Prices $745 and up, f.o.b. factory, plus delivery charges. Bumpers and rear fender guards regular equipment at slight extra cost. Check Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Many Fields Open Today to College Trained Women

Women of today enjoy greater economic freedom than they have enjoyed since Eve led her carefree existence in the Garden of Eden, according to Dr. Sidney A. Cook, associate professor of psychology at the New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, in a Rutgers University radio broadcast over WOR Wednesday evening in which Dr. Cook discussed "Opportunities for the College-Trained Woman," he said: "Unlike the situation in the Garden, the world now offers women comparative freedom of choice in selecting their vocations."

Dr. Cook recalled the days in which teaching was the only vocation open to women, and enumerated in contrast some of the major fields for women today. "Too often we hear girls say, 'I suppose I'll get a job teaching to fill in until I get married,' he said. "How little do they realize that teaching requires a particular ability plus specialized training."

Among the new fields open to women today Dr. Cook mentioned social service work, newspaper and magazine work, advertising, publicity, department store work, banking and insurance and secretarial work.

"It is the girl who does not chose to devote herself to some particular specialty who is most likely to be at a loss in choosing a vocation," he said. "It is the unspecialized person who measures education in terms of skill and technique rather than in terms of qualities of personality, which are, if anything, more necessary and more valuable. We need the specialist and technician, but for the average unspecialized woman there is an ever-increasing demand. Her power lies in her ability to deal intelligently with the many conflicting elements which go to make up our present complicated social structure."

The Nation's Trading Centers

The outstanding feature in business for 1928 was the enormous growth in business done by the country's stock exchanges. This condition would seem to be a normal result of the people of this nation taking a greater interest in industrial development. Until recently, men and women throughout the country had an idea that a stock exchange was in the nature of a high grade gambling place down in Wall Street.

During the past few years stock exchanges have been established in the leading cities of the nation and the people have been finding out that instead of being gambling houses, one can there buy only recognized and investigated stocks which have been accepted for listings, just as one can go to a railroad ticket office and buy a ticket on any recognized line in the United States.

Stock exchanges are trading centers throughout the country. They have enabled the people to deal in securities which were formerly unknown to them, just as railroad ticket offices have enabled the traveling public to buy tickets over many railroads at one central source, with resulting service and convenience to the people.

Stock exchanges have stabilized the buying and selling of securities just as the railroads have stabilized transportation. A purchaser who buys a railroad ticket from a "scalper" is showing as poor judgment as one who buys stocks or securities from some unrecognized dealer. Brokers over the country who are members of one or more stock exchanges, are governed by drastic rules as strict as those applying to agents selling railroad tickets, or the regulations applying to our banking system.

As the public recognizes these facts, a large part of the money now lost annually through wildcat speculations will be saved by dealing in recognized markets and asking advice of bankers and brokers who are informed on securities offered for sale.

Safety First

There never has been any occasion to question the physical courage of a member of the State constabulary in New Jersey, but the recent killing of a trooper by a desperado whom he had arrested and was conveying to jail in an automobile which the officer was driving, suggests that courage may easily be confounded with recklessness. It was not so long ago that another trooper was shot and killed by a prisoner whom he was taking to jail, in much the same manner that Trooper Gladyes lost his life. In each case the officer was caught off guard while his attention was occupied with the operation of his car. The slogan of the Canadian mounted police, "Get your man", might well be supplemented, so far as the New Jersey constabulary is concerned, with "and shackle him securely before starting to take him to jail."

Neither members of the State Police nor other peace officers should be sacrificed as were Troopers Coyle and Gladyes. The prudent officer and the one who is likely to live longest, is the one who takes nothing for granted when dealing with desperate prisoners.—Mount Holly Mirror.

Control the Axe

Forest fires are steadily growing worse in this country and fire prevention is important. But another real important factor in the depredation of our forests is the axe. Spare the axe and save the forests.

Out of 822,000,000 acres of virgin forest only about one-eighth remains.

Nowhere in the world is there anything like the kind of timber we need to take the place of what has been destroyed. Until the axe is controlled, there can be no real solution of the problem. On four-fifths of our forest land the axe holds unregulated sway. The National Forests alone are safe.

The axe must be controlled on privately owned lands—or the future prosperity of our country is seriously threatened.

Credit Given to Prohibition

Any explanation of America's prosperity is incomplete if it does not include recognition of prohibition, declares William F. Whiting, Secretary of Commerce of the United States.

Mr. Whiting thus places himself on record beside his predecessor, Herbert Hoover, in attributing a major share in the responsibility for present unparalleled national well-being to the effects of the dry law.

The significance of the statement lies in its source, and the fact that he is the second Secretary of Commerce who has expressed himself whole-heartedly on the subject. The business of searching out the cause of prosperity or hard times is peculiarly the work of the Commerce Department which has agencies in every sphere of trade and industry.

Secretary Whiting says:

"I feel that prohibition is among the leading causes of prosperity. The annual report of the department shows continued high rates of production, of national efficiency in manufacture and in growing purchasing power of the people. I think that prohibition must be ranked second to none among the causes for this continued prosperity.

"The dry law has stimulated production at the factories, and at the same time has made it possible for purchasing power to be increased. Sales of washing machines, mechanical refrigerator, radios, automobiles, all reflect the higher standards of American living. Prohibition is as important a factor as any, I believe, in making these higher standards possible."

Don't Laugh at Progress

A prediction has been made that in the future there will be air boats as big or bigger than the largest modern steamers.

You may believe this or not but do not be one of the laughers.

Recently the twenty-fifth anniversary of flying was observed. When the Wright Brothers first invented the airplane, pretty nearly everybody laughed. Think of the airplane today.

To go back far into the past, a great many people laughed at Columbus. At Galileo. At Fulton. When the first steamship plied the waters of the Hudson, persons lined along the shore roared their contempt for the funny little boat Fulton had launched.

From time immemorial, indeed, the pioneers in science and discovery have been hampered in their work by the laughers. Those who would not believe. Even the phonograph and the motion picture machine were at first received with derision and disbelief. At most these would-be jokers to humanity were considered as harmless boys by children.

The world is becoming a lesson today now given it is an interest with respect. The day of the laughter, the new power is drawing to a close. The avenues for discovery, the road to progress, are more open than ever before.

If no one is there to welcome the new thing when it comes along, do not have yourself to laughing at it. When the unfamiliar is produced, remember that in the course of modern progress many a thing thought impossible has become both possible and practicable.

The Ideal Man

Two hundred and twenty college girl in the East were asked to give the five important questions in a special questionaire regarding the types of men they seek as husbands.

Of these hundred and twenty only twelve insisted on college graduates. Only two demanded good looks. One wanted a millionaire. Fifty were opposed to drinkers. More than 100 insisted honesty, sincerity, education and culture.

Wealth and fame were entirely ignored. But the one quality most in demand, guess—was a sense of humor!

Evidently the girls agree with the poet that "the man worth while is the man who can smile."

If this questionnaire is indeed representative of the fate of women's minds the country over, it behooves all young men to learn to laugh and laugh heartily.

Men who are not handsome, wealthy or famous may now console themselves. As long as they have a sense of humor, some girl will fall in love with them.

But what man does not think he has a sense of humor? All men seem to be eligible for affection, to judge them by their own opinion.

We are inclined to think that the girls practiced a little subtlety, as they often do. We can't believe they want to pass up wealth and fame these things have always lured girls. But being feminine, they mention these things indirectly asking that a man be possessed of a sense of humor in the conviction that wealth and fame come most easily to the men whose sense of humor is most keenly developed. Think of the men you know and see if this belief does not carry some weight.

Rutgers Professor Scores Parent Who Picks Boy's Job

The parent who assumes the role of dictator or unduly restricts the freedom of the child in the carrying out of his own plans in the choice of an occupation is taking a wrong course, in the opinion of Dr. Clarence E. Partch, dean of the School of Education of Rutgers University, who spoke in the weekly Rutgers University program over Station WOR Wednesday night. His topic was "What About That Job for Your Boy?"

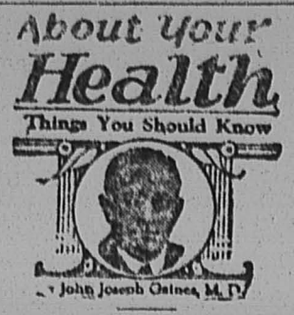

"One of the difficult things for parents to realize," he said, "is that children must live their own lives—that to do this they must make their own choices, and that after a choice is made they must be given freedom to execute a plan by which they may succeed. The function of the parent in this process should be one of cooperation, of 'standing by' ready to advise and guide the child in making his choice and in planning and executing his work. The parent should never assume the role of dictator and impose a choice or plan of action nor unduly restrict the freedom of the child in the carrying out of his own plans."

Dr. Partch spoke of the experience to be gained in the public schools, and said that if a guidance program were not in operation in the local community, parents should urge upon the school committee the necessity for a comprehensive guidance service.

"You can help your children most in choosing their occupations," he said, "by providing a variety of work experiences, by aiding them in the study of occupations, and by encouraging the schools to provide more adequately the much needed service of guidance."

Private Ownership Advocated

Confronted with the necessity of encouraging the entry of American capital into the business life of the Philippine Islands, Governor-General Henry L. Stimson, in a recent address before the legislature in Manila, advocated the operation of the telegraph and telephone systems there by private rather than governmental agencies as a forward step in this direction.

HINTS ON COOKING

The lower animals in natural state live on food that is un-cooked and do so, unless they become domesticated. With highly organized man, it is different, for the most part his nourishment is more perfect with cooked foods.

Cooking serves two principal purposes, tough fibers are made tender and, heat sterilizes. In these days of many microbes, the latter is a very important item. Infected food is one of the most common causes of disease.

A very common fault is in the over-cooking of vegetables, the humble turnip and the plebeian cabbage are frequently blamed for causing digestive disturbances, when the fault is entirely in them being over-cooked. Both of these useful vegetables contain vitamins that are destroyed if kept too long in the kettle, neither should be cooked over fifteen minutes. Old or tough specimens, that will not surrender in less than an hour's boiling, are unfit for use, just so much bulk of no nutritive value.

Cabbage and turnips should be steamed. Enough water in your kettle to almost cover the vegetable and seasoning, should make enough steam to thoroughly tender them in the quarter of an hour devoted to that purpose.

Frying is a make-shift, a time saver. Fried foods are of the other extreme, they are cooked too fast, the vital principles are driven out by the fierce heat, the hard and indigestible parts being left. Meats should be cooked in a vessel nearly air-tight, and in their own juices. A "Dutch oven" is admirable for the purpose.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

How To Pick a Wife

The most important question in the world for a man to decide is not his attitude toward the tariff, or prohibition, or the income tax, but what manner of woman he is going to live with all his life. Other questions may come and go, but this one goes on forever. To use a term of Bacon's, it comes home to men's business and bosoms.

A preacher once came to John Wesley and asked his advice as to whether he should marry a certain woman. "Why ask me?" said Mr. Wesley. "You have already made up your mind or you wouldn't have consulted me."

But a few words of counsel may not come amiss.

1. Marry for love. Any other reason, money, fame, convenience, or anything else, is disastrous.

2. Marry some one approximately of your age. A marriage between May and December usually does not turn out well.

3. Marry a healthy woman. It may be all right to love a sickly woman, you may make all sorts of poems to her eyebrow and cherish her as an ideal, but, generally, do not marry her.

4. Do not marry a bad woman to reform her, and let no woman marry an evil man to reform him. Let the preachers do that. Marriage is not a reformatory institution. It is for pleasure.

5. Select a woman with a sense of humor. If possible find one who is cheerful. You can overcome almost anything but perpetual gloom. You will find that you need more than anything else, to be perpetually cheered. Not that you want a Cheshire cat perpetually grinning, but you want a reasonable amount of cheer.

6. Select a woman with common sense. This goes farthest in the long run. Do not select a fool, even if she has a pretty face. And some fools are beautiful.

Do not be determined solely by passion, but use your brain a little if any. Of course, passion is essential, for marriage is a matter of every-day life.

Political Jottings

Assemblyman Newcomb has been made a member of the continued Case Investigating Committee, which tried unsuccessfully to get hold of Mayor Frank Hague, of Jersey City, before its commission expired with the old legislature.

In a factional skirmish out in Springfield township, the Township Committee, consisting of two Republicans and one Democrat, elected John Dantz, township treasurer, at the organization meeting, instead of re-handing Collector Maurice Lippincott to that post, which usually goes with the collectorship.

In recent years, when other salaries were sky-rocketing, complaint was heard that the $1,200 stipend paid the County Sealer of Weights and Measures, with an additional $600 for expenses, was too low. Yet, when a vacancy occurred through death during the past week, it was amazing the number of patriots ready to sacrifice themselves on the altar of public service—at the old salary and expenses.

In the organization of the Pemberton borough government for the coming year, Mayor Joseph O. Jones, who held over, presided at the meeting of Council. Two new members, Samuel H. Hornor and Joseph W. Jewell, took their seats and J. Goldy Montgomery, after 33 years, retired and was made an honorary member of council. J. Ney Jones, son of the Mayor, was re-named Borough Clerk and M. Warner Hargrove was appointed recorder. The hold-over members of council, besides Mayor Jones, are Raymond H. Wells, Frank H. Deacon, Alfred N. Simons and Willard H. Wells.

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma

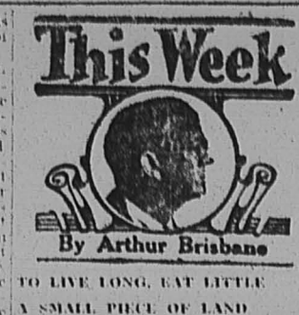

Fay N. Seaton, Editor of the Manhattan (Kansas) Mercury, says:

That one live citizen, devoted to the good of his community and active in promoting its growth and development, is worth a thousand others who do not concern themselves with the betterment of their surroundings.

One pushing, public-spirited leader is like the leaven in the bread. He gets results all out of proportion to his physical size and stirs up those associated with him to help develop his community outward and upward.

I know no better investment a community can make than to employ a full-time competent chamber of commerce secretary to act as the center about whom other members of the team ambitious to win for their community may rally. He passes the ball to them, and they carry it forward to victory.

THE FINE DEVELOPMENT MANHATTAN HAS BEEN MAKING IN POPULATION GROWTH AND CIVIC BETTERMENT THE PAST FEW YEARS MAY BE LARGELY ATTRIBUTED TO THE INFLUENCE OF OUR CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SECRETARY. OTHER TOWNS MAY DO LIKEWISE.

TO LIVE LONG, EAT LITTLE

A SMALL PIECE OF LAND

NO PEACE PRIZE

TWO COOLIDGE VIRTUES

Respectable expectation of life is now limited to fifty-five years for the average. Formerly, when open sewers ran through streets, with graveyards on hillsides draining into wells below, life averaged less than twenty years. Science says we already have sufficient medical knowledge to make life's expectation twelve years longer, but we don't use what we know.

The big problem is extending life for men and women past fifty. Barring cancer and other troubles not understood, prolonging life is not complicated. Eat, sleep exercise and breathe properly and living to ninety will not be difficult. Eating is especially important. We are what we eat.

Lauri Cornaro proved it when, at forty years of age, doctors told him his case was hopeless.

He cut his diet to twelve ounces of solid food with fifteen ounces of light wine per day, wrote an interesting book when past ninety, lived past one hundred and wrote to the Archbishop of Venice: "I mount my horse without difficulty and had to live past ninety to realize that the world is beautiful." He made his wife live as he lived and she passed one hundred. Francis Bacon supplies interesting details of Cornaro's life, as do other ancient writers.

Real estate dealers, old and young, paste in your hats:

One hundred years ago a small piece of land, part of the old Botanical Gardens in New York, was bought for $4,807.36. The land, three blocks, is on Fifth avenue.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has just agreed that piece of property for $130,000,000, an increase to make a real single-taxer shudder.

Mr. Rockefeller will use part of the property for a new Opera House, to be built in a fashion to allow subways and others that have musical talent, but no diamond necklaces, to see and hear.

The money goes to Columbia College, which now owns the land.

That probably reconciles Mr. Rockefeller to so large an investment.

He inherits from his father, who gave tens of millions to the University of Chicago, an interest in educational enterprises.

An association organized in honor of Woodrow Wilson held its annual dinner but didn't give a peace prize to any body. Secretary Kellogg, certainly worked hard enough to deserve a prize.

President Coolidge deserves two prizes, one for continuing to mind his own business, and for minding the business of the United States, leaving Europeans to mind theirs.

Perhaps the Woodrow Wilson committee don't like to honor any Republican, like the colored lady whose apartment was invaded by a burglar, while a Bryan parade was passing. Asked why she didn't scream, she put her head out of the window and replied, "I couldn't want folks to think I was hollering for Bryan."

A collection of miserable human beings, heap, deep, undergoing useless torture, engage in a "talking marathon."

The four remaining awake and talking, for the greatest number of hours, receive $1,000.

A civilization that does not allow one man to torture another should not allow human beings to torture themselves for profit.

A double-deck bus, providing berths for 26 people and hot meals during the long journey, recently was completed for service between Los Angeles and Philadelphia.

TO COST $250,000,000

Elimination of Railroad Grade Crossings to be Expensive

Cost of eliminating all present grade crossings in New Jersey will be $250,000,000, the State Budget Commission has reported in an official statement.

It was emphasized that this figure covered the cost to the railroads, the state and all other co-operating agencies. The estimate is based on an average of about $100,000 for each crossing.

The commission revealed that work is progressing on the elimination of 103 grade crossings. Over 300 have been removed since enactment of legislation permitting the State Utilities Board to regulate crossings.

N. J. MINERAL SALES

That 1928 was a record breaking year for the mineral producers of New Jersey is conclusively shown by figures presented in a brief booklet just off the press and now ready for free distribution by the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development, State Building, Trenton. The figures given are the result of a joint compilation of mineral statistics by that department and the United States Department of Commerce and are comparable with similar statistics published in previous years.

By leaving early you give the others someone to talk about.

The mid-week service will be resumed Wednesday, January 23, at 8 p. m. It is a long step from Sunday to Sunday. The mid-week service makes life's burdens easier to carry.

A very important meeting of the Women's Guild will be held Thursday, January 24, at 2.30 p. m. The pastor desires to meet every woman of the church.

CHRIST CHURCH

(Episcopal) Parry Avenue
Rev. George J. MacCormack, Rector

Two recent books had for their subject "What profession shows the highest record in the college world? The result of a very careful nation-wide survey shows that the sons and daughters of clergymen easily led all other professions.

Save our blushes! Though it does speak well for the ministry and suggests that after all persons do know something about training young people and do seem to be able to "produce the goods."

It also suggests at least by inference, that the reason for poor church attendance may have nothing whatever to do with the minister but is largely due to the man in the pew, or shall we say the man who should be in the pew?

What a blessing it would be if all our church members were gripped by the conviction of a Theodore Roosevelt, who felt that when public worship was conducted in the sanctuary, the members of the congregation had just the same obligation to be present as a soldier has when his regiment is at drill.

"You didn't know that Roosevelt said that? Well, he did! But what a difference will his saying it make to your church attendance?

The annual meeting and election of officers for the Girls' Friendly Society will be held this Tuesday at 7.30 o'clock p. m.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be on Monday, the twenty-first, at half past two.

An afternoon tea under the auspices of the St. Agnes Guild will take place on Thursday, the seventeenth at 2.30. A very cordial welcome is given to all the women of the church.

A card party given by the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in the Parish House, Wednesday evening, January 23. A very enjoyable event is eagerly looked forward to.

A special offering will be taken on Sunday next for the International Hospital at Tokyo, Japan. We get enthused whenever we speak of Dr. Fiesler's work and are hoping for a splendid response to the appeal.

Services: Third Sunday in Epiphany. Morning Prayer and Sermon 10.30. "The Chisel of Time."

Evensong and Sermon, 8.00 p. m. "The Way, The Truth, The Life."

"There is but one passion
It is Christ, Even Christ."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Holy Communion will be administered at the morning and evening services on Sunday. The pastor will deliver a short exhortation and the choir will have inspirational numbers in line with the great occasion.

Being present you bring a blessing to others and take God's blessing home with you. Staying away others miss you and consequently lose and you miss God's blessing. Public Worship is God's way of giving a blessing. It has been so since God revealed himself in Christ and will always be so.

Sunday School at 10 o'clock in the morning. We will be pleased to have our beloved superintendent, W. T. Smith back with us after a period of illness.

Luther League services Sunday evening at 6.45. P. S. Buchholz will be the leader. Luther League will meet in the Lutheran Church this evening at 7 o'clock and go to the Epworth M. E. Church in a body to attend the services being held there.

Congregational supper served by the men will be given Tuesday evening, January 22, at 6.45. Short business session will be followed by facetious riffs and funbelows, fellowship, fun and frolic.

The Even Bible Class will serve a Sour Kraut Supper, cafeteria style on Tuesday evening, February 12. All of the members are urged to attend. Some very tasty suppers will be served.

CENTRAL BAPTIST

George Lockett, Pastor
Temporary Services Held in P. O. S. of A. Hall

The Sunday morning topic will be "Empty House."

In the evening the pastor will speak on "The First Universal Peace Treaty."

Thursday night the combined choirs of the churches of Palmyra and Riverton will sing at the evangelical services held in the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Among the renditions chosen will be "Send Out the Mighty" by Gounod and "The Awakening Chorus." All are invited.

Calvary Presbyterian

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its regular services of worship Sunday, morning service, 11 o'clock and the evening service at 8 o'clock. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 o'clock. The Christian Endeavor Society at 7 o'clock.

Mid-Week Service, Wednesday evening, January 16, at 8 o'clock.

The Golden Hour Circle will hold its regular meeting at 8 o'clock Friday evening, January 18, in the Church parlor.

Charles T. Bates, Minister.

I. O. O. F. INSTALLS OFFICERS FRIDAY

Deputy Grand Master Whomsley and Team from Burlington Conduct Ceremonies

With fitting ceremonies the officers of Cinnaminson Lodge, No. 201, I. O. O. F., were installed at the regular meeting on Friday evening last. J. Howard Whomsley, deputy grand master and his team from Burlington Lodge, No. 32, who made its first visit to Cinnaminson was highly commended upon the work which was its first since induction into office.

The officers installed were: Noble Grand, C. William Rudolph; vice-grand, Harry Curry; warden Charles Freiberg; recording secretary, Richard A. Woolman; financial secretary, Howard Elliott; treasurer, Eula Roach; conductor, Reuben Turner; R. S. N. G., Ezra Carhart; L. S. N. G., Edwin Fish; chaplain, J. Lewis Jackson; outside guardian, Charles Matlack; R. S. V. G., Milton Jewett; L. S. V. G., Herbert Richman; I., Scenic Supt. W. Merrow; R. Scenic Supts. B. Cadman.

After the successful completion of the installation of the officers, Grand Treasurer Frank Cawley and Past Grand Master Shinn, who is also acting as District Deputy Grand Marshall on the installation team, gave some very fitting and instructive advice to the incoming officers of Cinnaminson Lodge and commented upon the activities of 201 which met with their approval, and which they expressed a desire would continue throughout the coming year.

POST OFFICE 'LICKED' BY DREER BOWLERS

Flower Growers Stage Comeback After Being "Stamped Out" in First Game

The peerless bowling team from Dreer's had no way two out of three cheap routed game with Riverton Post Office in their first meeting last Friday night at the Mercantile alleys.

By winning the first game by a margin of four pins the government men got away to a good start but in the next two games the flower growers made things "dreary" for their opponents and captured the remaining two game by 57 pins in the second and 54 pins in the third.

The highest score of the evening was made by Edinger of Dreer's with 317. The next match will be played this Friday night at John Joseph's alleys in Riverside.

Game with Joseph T. Evans bakers and Riverton Fire Company have been booked by the Dreer manager and a request for a match has come from the store bowlers at 1306 Spring Garden street. The last named match is to be played in Philadelphia.

In 1899, 83 per cent of our paper came from American forests, while today American forests furnish less than half of it.

COUNTY "Y" NEWS

YMCA Secretaries for the four counties, which are united in the operation of Camp Ockanickon, at Medford, spent the afternoon of Monday, January 14, at the Moorestown Community House room, over matters pertaining to program plans for the 1929 season. The four counties are Camden, Gloucester, Monmouth and Burlington. Representing Burlington at County were Secretaries Carter and Heudry. Illness prevented Clifford Erwood from attending.

Two dates of interest to YMCA members and leaders all over Burlington County are these: January 22, the next monthly swim at the Moorestown Community House for Group members, county-wide; January 31, the next monthly Leaders' conference which will be held at the County headquarters, Mount Holly.

Moorestown's YMCA Board of which Irving Hollingshead is president, has plans practically completed, under the chairmanship of Alfred Deyo, for its annual Father and Son Banquet, on Thursday evening, January 24, in the Moorestown Community House at 6.30 o'clock. They have secured a speaker from the staff of the Christian Association of the University of Pennsylvania and their reservation is already in for the County orchestra.

On Friday evening, February 8, Willingboro Township will have its annual Father and Son Banquet, with former Judge Harold B. Wells as the speaker. Here also the County YMCA Orchestra will furnish music and accompany the singing of special father and son songs.

A number of other Father and Son Banquets will be held between now and spring with definite dates to be fixed in the near future.

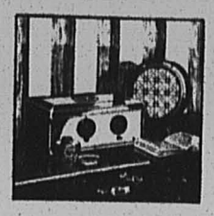

Again meeting in Burlington as has been the custom for the past year the regular January meeting of the County Committee will be held at Oliver's Restaurant, Tuesday evening, January 29, commencing with dinner at 6.30 o'clock. Chairman Overman is delaying his departure for Florida until after this date.

BURLINGTON HISTORIANS TO HEAR DR. GODFREY

Dr. Carlos Godfrey, director of public records, of Trenton, will address the mid-winter meeting of the Burlington County Historical Society to be held in the James Fenimore Cooper House, Burlington, on Saturday afternoon, January 19. Dr. Godfrey will give an address on the historical sections of New Jersey and Burlington county. Members of the organization will also speak.

ATWATER KENT ELECTRO-DYNAMIC RADIO

It's the truest reproducer of speech and music you ever heard.

The tone is amazingly real. You hear all the notes in the musical range—without exaggerated thundering in the bass, with the same reality in the high notes. The receiver takes two power tubes—which means great volume, when you want it, without distortion. There is just one electric switch, and one cord to the lamp socket. It costs less than a cent an hour to operate this set.

Model 46 is so well made it will last a lifetime. And, because of big-scale production in the largest and finest radio factory, low priced. We offer it on terms that make it still easier to own this marvelous set.

—SHAKESPEARE.

If you have been in early maidenhood to save your hair the attention and care that it needs and deserves, you will probably have very little need to pay special attention to these need. I am outlining today. However, I am not very optimistic on this subject. I am very much afraid that the average woman thinks of the nightly brushing as excellent for any other woman but herself, and that even her manners are offered to the hit and miss variety of the are professionally given, in which case the hair is usually subjected to the bad after effects of the drying machines.

There are many reasons, even a few natural ones for unhealthy hair. Right but is a general ailing and there is some good sense to it since the vogue for close fitting hats has certainly done much to shut out proper ventilation and to observe the hair from the strengthening effects of light and air. Altogether, there are many, many reasons for poor hair, and the correctives are so simple that I am sure you will all find it only a matter of a little thought and effort to develop new strength and beauty even to the most faded and scant locks.

The most deservedly popular of all special hair treatments is the hot oil. I have actually known of instances where a woman considerably past her youth has stimulated new growth, not beautiful growth through its weekly use of treatments. The method is as follow. First brush out the hair thoroughly. Take a cup of olive oil or if you prefer, a little castor oil. Make sure that it is quite warm, and yet not too hot. Part the hair in small subdivisions and rub it well into the parting, using rather cotton than your fingers. Then tend to your head in a warm towel and allow the oil to remain for from two hours to an overnight period. In the morning, shampoo with an herbal shampoo. Use plenty of water and rinsing in a solution of either Rinse carefully and repeat the application of the shampoo.

You will find that by using the type of shampoo specially designed for dry hair that the effects of your hot oil treatment will be doubly beneficial.

For dry and falling hair, the next most common trouble is dandruff. Dandruff is a disease. It is not, as so many people think, a natural condition developing from an abnormality of the scalp. The only sensible way to treat the condition is through the regular use of a medicated dandruff lotion.

Hints For The Home

If you are so circumstanced as to have a home without a kitchen, you can secure the rich odor of one by simply broiling a mantel with a grate to accommodate the hot bed of coals. Then if possible have beef delves built into the wall at either side and you will have a charming hearth setting at very little cost.

The flame can be worked out anywhere in almost any room since it needs no outside repair or structural vents. And the decorative effect the atmosphere of comfort gained are worth many times the amount involved.

FOR AFTERNOON TEA

Cocoanut Kisses
Cinnamon Strips
Date and Nut Bars
Lemon Tea Cream

MOCK DUCK

Pork spare tenderloin down the center and fill with a dressing as for fowl. Roll and tie up, sprinkle with salt and pepper and flour. Bake in a buttered pan, basting frequently with a little water to which melted butter has been added.

BAKED PEPPERS

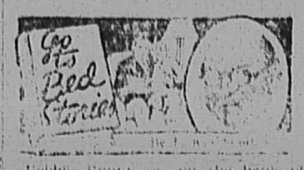

Cut stem end from green peppers and remove seeds and core. Boil for a minute in salted water. Mix together 1 cream boiled rice, 3 tomatoes, chopped, 1 chopped onion, 2 or more tablespoons butter and seasonings. Drain peppers, put piece of butter in each, fill with stuffing, sprinkle with crumbs and dots of butter. Stand in pan, pour ½ cup boiling water over them and bake for ½ hour.

BANANA SALAD

Cut bananas in half lengthwise and scoop out the center. Fill with a mixture of chopped nuts, diced canned apricots and chopped maraschino cherries blended with dressing. Garnish with whole maraschino cherries.

SOUR CREAM CAKE

Cream ½ cup butter and 2 cups sugar. Add 3 eggs well beaten. Dissolve 1 teaspoon soda in 1 cup sour cream and add alternately with 3 cups of flour sifted to the sugar and egg mixture. Flavor with a few drops lemon extract, pour in greased cake pan and bake in a moderate oven.

Bobbie Bunny sat on the bank of the river looking into the water. Every now and then he would put his head this way and that way. Finally he stood on his head and looked into the water.

"I can't see it myself," he mused. By and by his sister came along, hopping and skipping.

"What in the wide world is the matter with you?" asked Billie Bunny.

"I was looking for the hole in my face. Mister Jay Bird told me I had a hole in my face and I have been looking for the water ever so long and I can't see any hole can you?" Billie laughed so she was all doubled up.

"I told you Mister Jay Bird was always up to mischief, and when he doesn't come to work until ten o'clock told you that you didn't think. There is no hole in your face except—"

"Oh! is that it? I never thought of my mouth being a hole. That's a good one."

"Yes, and it proved to you how foolish it is to worry about something which doesn't concern you. What difference would it make if you DID have a hole in your face?"

"Give it up, said Bobbie, as he got up from the bank and looked at his sister. Then he asked, "I wish you could tell me where there is something exciting we could do, do you know?"

"Let's go and look for something," replied Billie.

The two walked down the rabbit path until they came to a broad field.

"I tell you what let's do. Do you see that hole over there?"

"That isn't the hole that can't to be in my face is it?" laughed Bobbie.

"I should say not. But let's see who can get into that hole first. I'll count one, two, three and then say GO!"

"But I'll fall the hole in after me?" asked Bobbie.

"Quit your kidding and get down to business," said Billie.

Although the bunnies had not yet heard of Mister Jay Bird who was sitting in the mysterious tree above them heads and when he heard, "One, two, three, GO!" he shouted:

"Hey, there, wait a minute!"

Bobbie and Billie stopped in their tracks. "What's the big idea?" asked Bobbie.

"How far would you have been if you hadn't stopped?" asked the Jay.

"You mind your own business and we'll mind ours," snapped Billie as he dug a hole in my face and I have been digging over again and ware soon going down the field like the wind.

The early bird gets the worm but he gets it for some old bird who always up to mischief, and when he doesn't come to work until ten o'clock do much.

THIRTEEN DRESSES WITH ONE PATTERN

That thirteen or more new model dresses can be made from one dress pattern seems preposterous, but such an accomplishment is exactly what women of the state are being shown by county home demonstration agents in the extension service of the New Jersey College of Agriculture.

So strikingly helpful is this time saving and labor saving pattern to housewives that more than a thousand women are reported as attending some of the style shows held throughout the state. A black crepe satin dress is shown that can be made from the pattern with 39.33 worth of material; a small brown print, with blouse back of lighter tone, and a brown wool crepe pleated front and back and trimmed with a smart narrow belt for 5.13.

COCKTAIL COAT

The cocktail coat of tulle with sparkling sequin patterns which has held even an enthusiastic reception and it seems continues to popularity. A becoming model combines the ever sensible necked with an adorable frock of white satin built on three inch ruffles of tulle edged in silver. And with the costume is worn dainty slippers of silver kid.

This adaptable accessory to the evening wardrobe which lends itself so well to the embellishment of a plain frock foundation may be had in tulle chiffon or velvet models. Over the backless skirt, the slim silhouette and combined with a variety of fabrics it is equally at home and so proves a most satisfactory investment for in-between evening wear.

SETTER CLUB FIXES FIELD TRIAL DATES

Annual Event to Be Held at Friends of the Hunting Dog Grounds Week of April 1

The annual field trials of the English Setter Club of America will be held on the grounds of the Friends of the Hunting Dog, near Medford, during the week of April 1, according to an announcement made by The Board of Governors which body each year recommends the dates and a program for the trials.

The business of the club during the trials will be transacted at the Medford House, which has been selected as the club's headquarters.

Interest in the trials and the entry list has grown greater each year and the club is looking forward for even greater interest and success in the coming trials.

The annual meeting of the club will be held next Wednesday in Philadelphia, when officers will be elected for 1929, committee appointments made and the arrangement of a program for the trials and other activities.

LOOKING FORWARD TO SPRING

From present indications prints will be more interesting than ever, for there are countless new pictorial and modernistic patterns ready for the market as well as the more usual floral and classic designs. Among the conventional patterns are a number with beautiful stripes and plaids, fancy feathery effects and bordered patterns. The printed scarves in brown with plain colored scarf, and the nibbles combining plain and pattern fabrics will continue.

CHRIST THE SAVIOUR

Luke 15:3-7, Roman 5:6-10

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

More relates to this theme and Person than any other subject in the world. The world is indeed Christo-centric. While President Coolidge's Thanksgiving proclamation did not mention Christ it was dated Anno Domini in the year of the Lord. Only New Testament Scriptures portions are indicated for research but many could have pertinently been given from the Old Testament. There are many prophecies which refer to Him and one of the strongest evidences of the authority of the Bible is the record of prophecy and its fulfillment in later history.

Search out the facts and teachings in the Scripture portions: Luke 2:11, 30-32, 4:15-3:7, John 3:14-17, 10:9-11, 14-16, 27, 28, Acts 3:1-18, Romans 5:1-11, Philippians 2:5-11, II Timothy 1:9-10. The Golden Text is a definition of the word "Jesus." "And thou shalt call his name Jesus; for it is he that shall save his people from their sins." Matt. 1:21. Let it be noted that the historicity of Jesus, the Man of Nazareth, is accepted by individuals and races who do not acknowledge Him as the Christ, meaning the Messiah, the Anointed One. Those who doubt or question may well be referred to both literature and art which finds its glorious basis in Jesus Christ, the Son of God. Saul of Tarsus beheld his Lord as he approached Damascus and evidence thereof is to be seen in the changed life that followed. The letters of Paul are mature conclusions after most careful research and divine revelation. Last month at the Birthday celebration, the very air was ringing with the reechoing of the angel's song, which was first heard by the shepherds of Judah. The angel explained to them: "There is born to you this day in the city of David a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord." Luke 2:11.

His life was fully in accord with the claims made concerning Him. He did not fall short in any respect. He outlined his method of working by the parable recorded by Luke. He is ever the Great Shepherd vitally interested for each lamb and sheep in the entire flock. His mission in leaving the throne-place in heaven was one He had been from all time with the Father, was to redeem Mankind and at any cost to Himself. During the 33 years on earth He revealed how intimately He would enter into the life problem of each soul.

Mankind was not saved by His exemplary life but only by His supreme sacrifice on the cross at Calvary. Paul presents the matter very clearly in the selected portions in Romans. Man could never make himself righteous in the sight of our holy God. We are justified, not by a lifetime of our acts, but solely as our sins are given to Jesus and His righteousness is imputed to us. He made full atonement for our sins in his sacrificial death on the cross. John also, in parabolic form, pictures the pathway of salvation.

GUILT DENIED BY REEVE IN COURT

Medford Banker May Change Plea on Some Indictments, Says Evans

Edward B. Reeve, former cashier of the Burlington County National Bank in Medford, pleaded not guilty to 63 indictments last Thursday before Judge William A. Slaughter in Burlington County Criminal Court in Mount Holly.

The blanket denial of the charges of forgeries and embezzlements were made by Attorney George B. Evans, of Moorestown, in behalf of Reeve. He said later that he had just been called in on the case and had not had time to prepare a defense. He said the defense may later plead guilty to some of the charges against the aged cashier.

Reeve tottered into court leaning on a cane. He leaned against the [illegible] when he pleaded not guilty to the charges.

Reeve was indicted by the Burlington County Grand Jury. Sixty-three true bills were found against him two charging embezzlement and sixty-one forgery. The presentment of the true bills was made to Judge Slaughter at the Court House in Mount Holly. The indictments give the names of the persons whose signatures were alleged to have been forged to notes and the amounts Reeve is alleged to have cashed or them.

Investigators charge Reeve copied the forgeries from signatures on note [illegible] of clients of the bank and made out notes from time to time which he cashed. PASS AMENDED COUNTY BUDGET

Three Corrections Will Not Affect Tax Rate for 1929

The 1929 budget of Burlington county was passed on final reading Thursday morning of last week by the Board of Freeholders after three errors that will not affect the county tax rate had been corrected.

A communication from Walter R. Darby, State Commissioner of Municipal Finances, called attention to the errors. Alfonza Adams, clerk of the board, said the errors were only a matter of bookkeeping. The changes in the figures added $10,000 to the total of the budget as oringinally introduced. The new total is $1,333,412. Of that amount $461,994 is to be raised by anticipated revenue and $871,418.41 by taxation.

An item for surplus revenue appropriated was corrected to read $65,000 instead of $55,000. Another correction was $25,000 for emergency notes instead of $15,000. The total for anticipated revenue was increased from $451,994 to $461,000. The $10,000 increase in anticipated revenue takes care of the $10,000 increase in the budget.

A public hearing was called on the budget by Director Howard Russ after corrections were made. As there were no objections a resolution by Freeholder William H. Heisler, Jr., director of finance, was passed.

Another resolution introduced by Mr. Heisler, authorizes the county treasurer to borrow money in anticipation of taxation. It was also approved.

A list of salaries for all county officials and employes was read and approved for 1929. Mr. Heisler announced that no increases had been granted any official or employe.

A resolution by Freeholder J. Lloyd Wright, which was approved, authorized the County Board of Taxation to employ two extra clerks at $5 per day when needed.

ANNUAL MEETING OF RIVERTON FIRE COMPANY

Fire Company Will Hear Instructor McCran of Philadelphia Fire School

Monday evening, January 28, the Riverton Fire Company will hold its annual meeting for election of officers and other business.

Instructor McCran and his assistant of the Philadelphia Fire School will address the firemen.

State Senator Clifford Powell and others will also speak before the gathering.

Refreshments and entertainment have been arranged by a capable committee and a good time is assured to all.

Every Riverton Fireman is urged to attend.

JENNIE E. HENSON

Mrs. Jennie E. Henson, 76 years old, died at the home of her son, James B. Henson, Jr., 502 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, on Thursday, January 17. Funeral services were held from the late residence Saturday afternoon with the Rev. J. William Lee officiating. Interment was made in Ivy Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Ambulance Association

The regular monthly meeting of the Palmyra Ambulance Association was held at the Firehouse last Friday evening, with President Wimer in the chair. Reports were received and bills ordered paid.

On account of the small attendance due to sickness and bad weather, the election of officers was postponed until the February meeting.

Discussion of the new ambulance was also postponed until that time.

The committees appointed for the month are as follows: Nurses, Mrs. Joseph L. Stack, Mrs. Edward Fox and Mrs. John Lord. Ambulance, Mrs. Frank Prossting and Mrs. George J. Spencer.

GOLDEN JUBILEE IN RIVERSIDE

More Than 100 Old Residents Gather for an Old Time Party and Dance

Memories of years gone by were recalled by the happy group of more than a hundred "old timers" who gathered at Charlie's Cafe, in Riverside Tuesday evening to celebrate fifty years of life in Riverside.

To the tune of old songs the half-century residenters glided over the floor in the old fashioned waltz. And, to the strains of more lively music danced the old quadrille, square dance and the minuet.

"These old dances may be frowned upon by the young folks of today but I defy any of them to last out one good lively quadrille," said Andrew Collum, veteran banjoist and comedian of 82 years. He further said, "The Charleston and Black Bottom are not in the running with some of our old time steps, the new ones are not as lively as some we danced fifty years ago. They say this is a fast age—it is no faster than it was when I was young." After giving his opinion of the modern dances "Andy" took up his banjo and struck off some old melodies with everyone joining in the singing.

Kate Kluge, 76 years old, was the first girl born in Riverside, and has resided there all her life. Henry Wolfschmidt, one of the oldest attending the jubilee has just turned the three-quarter mark in the century race but he can still dance.

An old time dinner was served to the guests of the evening and it was thoroughly enjoyed by every one.

While talking over old times many stories were told about the pranks these men played when they were boys. Some of them would be too daring to pull off in this day and age, but in those good old days most anything went.

Never before has such a celebration been held in Riverside and it is the hope of the committee to hold a jubilee every year.

As the guests parted after the party was over they expressed to the committee their hopes that another such affair will be held next year and every year. Folks met at the jubilee that had not seen each other for as long as forty years.

The music for the evening was furnished by Charlie Schwartz's Orchestra and Andy Collum. Dinner was served by the staff at Charlie's Cafe.

George C. Dietrich favored the gathering with twe bass solos of old songs which were enjoyed by all.

COUNTY KNIGHTS TO HOLD MEETING

Six Councils Will Assemble at Mount Holly Theatre Sunday Afternoon

Under the auspices of the Burlington County Chapter K. of C., a call has been issued to each of the six councils to meet at the Mount Holly Theatre on Sunday, January 27, at 2.30 p. m. This is one of the most important gatherings ever called of Burlington County Knights, and matters of vital interest in this section of the state will be discussed.

The Rev. Joseph Turner, noted Redemptorist, who has just returned from a trip through the west will have an unusual message for every Knight of Columbus.

Other speakers, each with a particular subject close to the heart of every man who has taken the degrees of the order, will be State Deputy J. Connor French, of Trenton; Supreme Director John F. O'Neil, of Jersey City, and Attorney Fred W. Schlosstine, of South Orange.

The John Tatem Assembly, Fourth Degree will hold a dinner dance at the Green Tree Restaurant, in Moorestown, January 24.

Joseph F. Yearly the leader of the Assembly, announced that nearly all reservations are in and the affair promises to be a huge success.

A special program of entertainment and dancing will follow the banquet.

FOURTH DEGREE ASSEMBLY

The Fourth Degree Assembly of Burlington County will hold a dinner meeting in the Green Tree Restaurant, Moorestown, Thursday evening, January 24, at seven-thirty. District Deputy Frank Dorsey of Pennsylvania, will be the principal speaker. Other speakers and entertainment have been provided.

Some fellows can get good jobs but they can't keep them.

CUMMINGS' GROUP OPPOSES WRIGHT

Nominates Candidates for Board of Directors of Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Co.

The Stockholders' Protective Association, an organization of shareholders in the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company, has nominated an entire slate of candidates to oppose the present board of directors in their bid for reelection at the annual meeting of the company in February, according to Walter H. Cummings, of Palmyra, who has been a leading figure in the fight against the present management.

The opposition candidates were nominated at a meeting held last Saturday afternoon at Cummings' home. It is claimed that enough proxies will be in the hands of the Cummings' group to assure the defeat of the present board of which Charles A. Wright, founder of the Ferry Company, is president.

The association's nominees are Joseph F. Evans, Marlton; Alfred F. Kirby, Medford; Mrs. Howard E. S. DeCou, Merchantville; W. Roger Test, Moorestown; Herbert L. Adams, Edgewater Park; Arthur V. Woolston, Beverly; Walter H. Cummings, Palmyra; James Weintraub, William Freihofer, Sr., Thomas W. Biddle and A. W. Margerum, of Philadelphia, and Earl G. Kegler, of York, Pa.

DELEGATES ATTEND SPECIAL SESSION

Washington Camp, P. O. S. of A. Sends Twenty Members to Trenton Meeting

A special session of the State Camp of the P. O. S. of A. was held in Trenton, last Saturday afternoon. The following delegates from Palmyra Camp were present: John White, George Rogers, George N. Wimer, Walter D. Lamon, Nathan Coombs, Walter M. Horner, Charles Pike, William Fichter, Oliver Bowen, George Bailey, John Banff, Harry Saar, John Bauer, Newton Stewart, Leslie Reeves, Jr., Edwin F. Patterson, Edwin A. Griscom, Edson Carhart, George Stahl and David B. Coles.

It was unanimously agreed that the State Camp should levy no assessment on the members of the subordinate camps for the purpose of a home and orphanage until the various State Camps set such time to consider the proposition and submit it to the subordinate bodies.

PHS SENIOR CLASS TO PRESENT PLAY

Romantic Comedy in Three Acts to be Given February 25 and 26

"Adam and Eva" is to be given by the Senior class of the Palmyra High School, on the evenings of February 25 and 26, in the High School Auditorium.

The play, itself is a romantic comedy in three acts and was written by Guy Bolton and George Middleton. The story is centered about a successful, modern, business man, his two pampered daughters, a few near relatives and intimate friends. The plot is not only clever and amusing, but the action is unique: a series of amazing happenings.

All who saw the Junior Play of last year, or who heard anything about it, will want to see this play, also. A cast of ten has been carefully selected at recent try-outs, and rehearsing has already begun, under the efficient coaching of Miss Marjorie Burt and Miss Frances McGee.

The proceeds are to go toward the graduation trip to Washington.

Watch this paper for announcements.

DR. CARLOS ADDRESSES HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Dr. Carlos Godfrey, director of public records, Trenton, was the speaker at the mid-winter meeting of the Burlington County Historical Society in the James Fenimore Cooper House, High street, on Saturday afternoon. Mrs. J. Lindsay Clarkson, of Beverly, the president of the society, was in charge of the meeting.

Dr. Godfrey said that history was incomplete because of the lack of care of valuable data, such data having been placed in cellars and subjected to disintegration from dampness or stored in inflammable buildings and destroyed by fire.

The present generation, as custodians of historical matter, must be educated to the necessity of carefully housing all records pertaining to the great American nation. In connection with the talk there was a display of several valuable documents rebound in cloth-covered book form.

The talk was an especially fine one. It was both informative and entertaining and was much enjoyed by the members of the organization.

SOUR KRAUT SUPPER

A sour kraut supper will be given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of Parry Volunteer Fire Company No. 1, on Saturday evening, February 2, 1929, from five until eight o'clock, at the Firehouse, Parry, N. J. Tickets, adults, 50 cents; children, 35 cents.

ELECT ROBERTS TO FARM BODY

Former State Senator Becomes Member of State Agriculture Body

Emmor Roberts, widely known Moorestonian and former state senator from Burlington County, last week was elected a member of the State Board of Agriculture at its meeting in Trenton. Mr. Roberts, who is one of the most prominent fruit growers in the state and has long been officially connected with New Jersey agricultural activities, succeeds Layton M. Parkhurst, of Hammonton.

Another new member is A. G. Scully, of Long Valley, a well known Morris County dairyman, who succeeds George B. Roberts, of Keyport.

The other members of the board include Clifford E. Snyder, Pittstown, president; Elmer H. Wene, Vineland, vice-president; C. Fred Day, Paterson; Alvin Gaventa, Swedesboro; Joseph W. Miller, Princeton, and William I. Tomlinson, Kirkwood.

It was announced at the convention that the prize winners of the Baby Chick Show, held in connection with the fourteenth annual farm products and equipment show were:

First prize, Elmer H. Wene, Vineland, Leghorns; second prize, C. T. Darby, North Branch, Leghorns; third prize, William Roch, Columbus, Jersey Black Giants; fourth prize, Denbro Poultry Farm, Sewell, Leghorns; fifth prize, Forsgate Farms, Jamesburg, Barred Plymouth Rock; sixth prize, Charles H. Cane, Lambertville, Leghorns.

COUNTY CADET RALLY DATED FOR MARCH 4

First Affair of Its Kind to be Held In St. Peter's School, Riverside

The Burlington County Columbus ter's School Hall on Monday evening, Cadet Rally will be held in St. Pe- March 4. Teams from Mount Holly, Mooretown, Maple Shade Riverside and Riverton will compete in the following events:

Knot-tying; Signalling; Tilting; Fire by friction; Military Drill; First Aid; Bugle-playing; Novelty stunts and Exhibits.

The Columbus Cadet Corps is composed of boys between the ages of 12 and 16 years and all the Burlington County Units were organized in May 1927.

During the past week the elimination process was started in the various units to pick the best boys in the different events to compete on March 4.

The inter-Unit rivalry is so keen that the teams representing the different Units must be registered at State Headquarters in Newark two weeks prior to the night of the Rally.

The judges will be three prominent men from Burlington County acquainted with Boys' Activities but not connected with the Columbus Cadet organization.

FIREMEN HEAR TROOPER HUTTON

Tells of Duties of State Police at Meeting of County Firemen's Association

More than 400 county firemen attended. They were guests of Delran Fire Company No. 1, of Bridgeboro. Members of the company's women's auxiliary served refreshments.

Trooper William Hutton, of Bridgeboro barracks of the state police, explained the duties of a trooper at a meeting of the Burlington County Firemen's Association held at Bridgeboro last Wednesday night.

Hutton told of the training school and the various routine duties of the police. He gave several instances of thrilling experiences. He also spoke on safety and fire prevention.

A representative from the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company spoke on fire prevention. His lecture was illustrated with moving pictures.

MRS. MARY A. TRAINOR

Mrs. Mary A., wife of the late James Trainor, died Saturday after a short illness. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the residence of her son-in-law, Louis N. Walton, 612 Linden avenue, Riverton. Interment was made at Monument cemetery, Beverly. The Waltons moved to Riverton about three months ago.

PARENT-TEACHERS IN JOINT MEETING

Palmyra & Riverton Association Enjoy Splendid Address by Mrs. Roberts

A most interesting joint meeting of the Palmyra Parent Teachers Association and the Riverton Parent Teachers Association was held Tuesday, January fifteenth, at the Palmyra High School. Excellent talks were given by Mrs. Alfred Roberts, Miss Hannah Chew, Paul Y. Eckert and County Superintendent Kayser. Mrs. Blair, President of the Riverton Association, took charge of the meeting.

Mrs. Alfred Roberts, corresponding secretary of Burlington County Council, took for her topic, "Why become a P. T. A. member." She gave a number of excellent reasons, parents education is continued, parents meet their children's teachers and become friends, and secure a better knowledge of the subjects and methods taught their children. Parents have an opportunity to hear prominent educators speak through P. T. A. meetings.

Mr. Eckert welcomed the Riverton P. T. A. members. Miss Chew stressed the need of a closer feeling and more cooperation between the two organizations, parents and teachers and with the Board of Education.

County Superintendent Kaysey told of the many changes in the schools of Burlington County. The one room schools have been eliminated entirely and there are only nine two room schools remaining. The Parent Teachers Association has brought about the hot lunches and music in many schools.

Mrs. Hansen spoke about our membership drive which is still going on. We have 82 members and hope by the next meeting to reach the 100 mark.

If you haven't joined come to our February meeting and join. We need every mother and father. The next meeting is Tuesday evening, February nineteenth.

ROTARIANS HEAR WILLIAM F. BURKE

Assistant Trainmaster Speaks Before Club on Dangers of Recklessness

Nearly everyone who drives or rides in an automobile can not help realizing the dangers with which they are confronted particularly in this day, but it takes the actual facts and staggering figures of the many accidents that occur and the reasons for them to startle the most cautious.

William L. Burke, Assistant Train Master of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Jersey City, in his discourse to the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club on Thursday evening last, told of some of the most tragic of accidents caused not only by reckless driving but by those cautious drivers in strange localities, yet who have become calloused to the dangers at old and familiar railroad crossings.

Mr. Burke startled his listeners when he gave the figures on the statistical records of his company, and stated that accidents and fatalities have increased 300% from 1920 to 1927.

He also emphasized the thoughtlessness of some drivers, in that an average of twenty-seven gates per day at railroad crossings were demolished by automobilists.

While the railroads are doing their utmost to avert accidents at grade crossings by placing every safety device at the disposal of the driving public, Mr. Burke cautioned his listeners to take every precaution as any sign, warning or gateman may fail at a critical time.

He suggested, as in the case of engineers who operate on the railroads, that physical examinations at intervals should be made of those wishing to or driving automobiles, stating that the automobilists having access to any road or section of the country is more of a liability to safety of pedestrians than the engineers of the railroad.

MRS. LOUIS A. FLANAGAN

Mrs. Mary B., wife of Louis A. Flanagan, and daughter of the late Robert M. and Alice R. Bringhurst, died at her late residence, 207 Howard street, Riverton, Friday, January 18.

Mrs. Flanagan came to Riverton from Philadelphia about 45 years ago. She was a very popular and active worker in the community. She was a member of the Riverton Porch Club for many years and also belonged to the membership committee of that organization; an active member of the Needlework Guild of America and a member of the Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Flanagan was always cheerful during her long suffering and never complained. She had hosts of friends in the community.

Services were held at her late residence by the Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, Monday afternoon, January 21. Interment was made in South Laurel Hill Cemetery, Philadelphia.

If people wish to follow the footprints of great men, as the philosophers urge us to do, they must realize that these footprints lead around the first of the month to all places where they owe money, so they can pay up their bills.

Announces Candidacy

ELWOOD RUSSELL

Burlington Real Estate Dealer, who will seek the Republican nomination for the office of County Clerk at the Spring Primaries.

ELWOOD RUSSELL TO BE CANDIDATE

Burlington Man Will Seek Office of County Clerk on the Republican Ticket

Elwood H. Russell, of the Haines & Russell Real Estate and Insurance firm, of Burlington, has made formal announcement of his candidacy for the office of clerk of the county of Burlington. Mr. Russell has had much experience and long and intimate association with the records and business of the office itself over a period of twenty years.

In 1909 he became associated with the late Henry S. Haines in the examination of real estate titles, later forming a partnership with Caroline H. Haines, under the firm name of C. H. Haines, which name was subsequently changed to Haines and Russell. While this business, in addition to the examination of real estate titles, includes a general real estate and insurance business, Mr. Russell's particular duties have confined his work to title investigating and conveyancing, as a consequence of which it has been necessary for him to spend a very great portion of his time in the County Clerk's office, handling the indexes and records of that as well as other county clerk's offices throughout the state.

His connection with the clerk's office at Mount Holly has caused Mr. Russell to become thoroughly familiar with the work of the office, which is very essential for intelligent and technical supervision and administration of the post.

Mr. Russell is thirty-nine years of age; has resided in the city and township of Burlington during his life time; is a conveyancer for the Farmers and Mechanics Building and Loan association, is a director of Burlington City Loan and Trust Company; secretary and treasurer of Seller's Corporation, a real estate and finance organization; has been secretary of the Board of Education of Burlington township since 1919 and a member of that Board since 1920; has been a member of the Republican County Committee of Burlington township for a number of years and is now a member of the executive committee of the Burlington County Committee; is a member and Past Councillor of Evening Star Council, No. 38, Jr. O. U. A. M.; is a member of Hope Lodge, No. 12, K. of P.; Burlington Lodge, No. 966, B. P. O. E.; is a member of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of Burlington, and of the Burlington County YMCA, Burlington County Real Estate Board, Burlington County Board of Underwriters, South Park Hunting Club, Burlington County Game Protective League, Oneida Boat Club, Brant Beach Yacht Club.

PRESS

AMERICAN LEGION TO BROADCAST

The Burlington County Committee American Legion, will broadcast from radio station WCAM, Camden, in the near future, according to County Commander John Whomsley, of Riverside. Arrangements are being made for a one-hour program. Addresses will be made by the County Commander, and the County Auxiliary President, Miss Minnie B. Ivins, of Beverly.

Music will be provided by the 45-piece Burlington County American Legion Band and the Palmyra Bugle Corps. The famous ritualistic team will conduct the 10 o'clock ritual under the direction of W. Clarence Kashner, of Florence. Quartette selections and solos by legionnaires will feature the proposed program. Announcements as to the exact date will be made shortly.

MOVES BUILDINGS

James W. Hartshorne, Moorestown, is moving 16 houses at Keansburg, Monmouth County. He also has the contract at Union Beach near Keyport for moving about 20 buildings. Some of these buildings are brick and tile. The widening of streets necessitated the moving of houses in both towns.

BRIDGE ROUTE DISPUTE GROWS MORE TANGLED

Parry Citizens' Committee Sees Highway Commission Actuated by Politics

PALMYRA MOVES FOR NEW SPUR

Temple Boulevard Plan Advocated by Mayor Wimer and Councilmen

The executive board, of the Parry Citizens' Committee is continuing its fight to have a spur from the new Tacony-Palmyra bridge run to Five Points.

Members of the executive board composed of Edward R. Williams, Lester Steele and Merrel Parry, met with State Senator Clifford R. Powell last week and were assured of his support for their project.

Mr. Williams brought up the question of Cinnaminson avenue being dropped from the State highway system when the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry discontinued operation and was assured that such action was not contemplated by the Highway Commission.

The probability of Cinnaminson avenue being turned back on the Borough of Palmyra was one of the main reasons given by Palmyra Council last week when it passed a resolution asking for the proposed Temple boulevard route from the bridge. According to Mr. Steele, Senator Powell stated the Highway Commission had never discontinued a road under similar conditions and said he did not have any reason to believe that it would in this case and went on to say further he was sure the Commission would be willing to agree to the upkeep of Cinnaminson avenue in any event. The Senator compared the upkeep of the road as being negligible to the commission, saying it meant no more to them than a cigar did to him.

Road Goes to Camden County

The road controversy comes as a direct result of the State Highway Commission's decision to run the bridge outlet road along the West bank of Pensauken creek in Camden County instead of in Burlington County where the bridge is located and what to many is the only logical route.

The Parry Committee explains it was late in getting started in its efforts to get a spur to Parry owing to the fact very few persons gave credence to rumors that the road would go to Camden County. Apparently the Five Point route was so logical no one would believe rumors that the route would be constructed along the West side of the Pensauken where two new bridges would have to be constructed.

For more than a year there has been a large sign board at Colonial Circle, a real estate development on the Burlington pike just east of Sorrel Horse Hotel, announcing the bridge road would run near the property. It was explained the sign was considered nothing more than an advertising scheme previous to the actual announcement that the new road would actually run along the Easterly boundary of the tract.

According to several members of the Citizens' Committee they are now ready to believe the stories of political intrigue and log rolling which have been going the rounds for several months.

According to the story most generally circulated the Colonial Circle tract was the property of Camden County politicians who wanted the road on the West bank of the Pensauken for purely selfish reasons.

Practical Politics

The State Highway is, supposedly, a non-political body appointed by the State Senate. It is understood, however, that members of the Commission have a very deep regard for the opinions of the Senators by whom they owe their appointments and in the manner of practical politics rely upon their recommendations at almost all times. As the story goes a deal was made between Burlington County's Senator and the Camden County politicians whereby Camden County got the much desired road and Burlington County's Senator got much needed political support.

The Parry Citizen's Committee was organized after the bridge route along the West side of the Pensauken was approved in an effort to get the plans changed so the road would run direct to Five Points or at least along the East side of the creek in this County.

The committee's efforts met with little success and it was decided to drop all thoughts of having the route changed, when it was assured the road would be finished before the opening of the bridge if opposition was withdrawn.

The next move made by the committee was to ask for a spur to run from the main road to Parry. In this it is said the cooperation of Senator Powell and the Board of Freeholders was promised.

Blow to Parry Hopes

The passage of a resolution by the Palmyra borough Council last week asking for a spur to Cinnaminson avenue and Temple boulevard has been taken as a blow at the proposed Parry road. The Palmyra road, according to present plans, would run along Jefferson street from the bridge plaza to an extension of Delaware avenue and along Temple boulevard

BAPTISTS TO HOLD SERVICES IN NEW BUILDING SUNDAY

Church Not Complete But Sunday School Room is Practically Finished

IS REALIZATION OF YEARS OF EFFORT

Nineteenth Anniversary of Philathea Class; Special Services Planned

After months of anxious watchful waiting, the members of Central Baptist Church and Sunday School are looking forward for a Banner Day this Sunday when they will meet in the new Sunday School portion of their new Church edifice.

While the church building is not quite ready for occupancy, the Sunday School, with the exception of minor details, has been completed and will provide a very comfortable meeting place for both church and church and Sunday School services.

This will mark the beginning of the culmination of years of hope and anticipation on the part of every member of the Central Baptist Church and the realization of the kind wishes of their neighboring churches.

The services this Sunday will be held at the usual hours, Sunday School at 10 o'clock, church services at 11.15 and 7.45 p. m.

Every department head is lending a special effort to characterize this event with a record breaking attendance. A special program has been arranged. One of the musical features will be selections by the Samaritan Class Glee Club.

It is quite singular that this day also marks the celebration of the nineteenth anniversary of the Philathea Class. As is the usual custom of the members, they will attend the evening church services as a class for which Rev. George Lockett will preach a specially prepared sermon.

Rev. Lockett's unique subject for the morning service will be "Returning Home."

It is not only quite appropriate for the event but it suggests that this home gathering be attended by every member of the Church, together with their friends and relatives.

This week has been one of many activities on the Church calendar. The Thimble party of the Philathea Class will be held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joseph Pike, 106 West Fifth street.

The Thillow Baraca Class will meet this evening (Thursday) at the home of their teacher, Thomas C. Van Osten, 813 Lincoln avenue, this being their regular monthly business meeting.

Burlington Installs Officers

The Burlington High School Girl Reserves held a service for the installation of new officers at their meeting Monday, January 21. Miss Irma Cook was installed as president; Miss Marjorie Shinn, vice-president; Miss Lillian Stiles, secretary; and Miss Adelaide Duncan, treasurer. Committee chairmen are, Miss Lillian Julian, program; Miss Esther Freifelder, Social; and Miss Eleanor Gorwood, service. Mrs. Harlan Lowden is advisor of the club.

The Rancocas Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Walter Fish on Monday, January 21. Miss Sidonie Schafer of the county YWCA was in charge of the discussion which was on Charm in Manners. A social hour followed.

Guest of Colored Club

Wednesday afternoon, January 16 the two Riverton colored Girl Reserve clubs were quite delighted to have Miss Elizabeth Rogers, National YWCA Secretary, visit the meeting which they held in the home of their adviser, Mrs. E. J. Young. The girls marched into the room wearing their uniforms of white middies and skirts and blue ties, held their opening ceremony and then turned the meeting over to Miss Rogers.

Miss Rogers told of Girl Reserves in other countries which she had visited, helping the girls to realize that not only in Burlington County but in many countries of the world are girls trying to live up to the Girl Reserve slogan and purpose, "To Face Life Squarely," and "To Find and Give the Best." Miss Rogers showed the girls attractive programs and told of the many activities which other girls have carried out. The girls were pleased to have several of their mothers present at this meeting.

Thursday afternoon, January 17, the Moorestown Senior High, Freshman and Junior High School Girl Reserve clubs spent an interesting hour singing YWCA songs under the leadership of Mrs. William Groebler. After the sing refreshments of grape juice and cake were served.

Miss Elizabeth Rogers, of New York, attended two meetings of senior clubs last week and was most pleased about the happy time the clubs were having. At their Wednesday evening cooking class the Burlington Industrial girls made chocolate pudding and cake. The girls also adopted the name The Kohanna Club for their club.

The other club Miss Rogers visited was the Beverly Industrial club which also has a new name, "The Rainbow Girls." This club has been combining sewing, music, and social times in its meetings.

Thursday evening, January 17, the two Delanco Girl Reserve clubs met at the home of Mrs. Anna Rhubart. They spent the greater part of the

FEW PENALIZED IN COUNTY COURT

Various Reasons Prevent Sentencing as Miscellaneous Cases are Heard

Judge Slaughter heard a number of miscellaneous criminal matters at a short session in the upper court room last Thursday, but in most cases sentence was delayed for various reasons.

Elizabeth Michaels, of Maple Shade who was found intoxicated in a ditch with a grip containing five army canteens full of liquor, said she had secured the liquor in philadelphia, and after considerable explaining admitted that she was guilty of possession of liquor and also that she was transporting it.

She said that since the incident her home had burned and she was living in the garage.

She was fined $50.

Alexander Grimkowski, and Brunislaw Grimkowski, his wife, both from Riverside, made a delayed pleading of not guilty to possession of liquor.

James Gallagher, of Burlington, charged with assault and battery on his wife, had already pleaded guilty, but after hearing the wife's story the case became so complicated that the Court suspended sentence temporarily.

Frank Pfeifer, of Bordentown, who had pleaded guilty to assault and battery, failed to appear for sentence.

Indicted for Larceny

John Earl Green and Paul I Stevenson indicted for larceny, will be in for sentence on January 24.

Mrs. Florence O'Connor, who lives with her family on the Georgetown-Wrightstown road, pleaded guilty to issuing two fraudulent checks, which she had cashed in Mount Holly. The checks were for $30 each and contained the forged signatures of her father-in-law.

She stated that restitution had been made, and sentence was postponed until next week.

Louis Restucci, of Bordentown, indicted for having ingredients in his possession for the manufacture of liquor, pleaded non vult, and he will be sentenced later.

Harry Joy and William Lippincott, both of Bordentown, pleaded not guilty to having liquor in their possession.

Silas Pabbitt, of Moorestown, wanted for larceny, failed to show up and his bail was ordered forfeited.

John Soviski, of Hainesport, who pleaded guilty last week to assault and battery on his wife, was sentenced to sixty days in the county jail, to date from the time of his commitment.

The Circuit Court case of Joseph Norkis, administrator of the estate of his son, Frank Norkis, of Philadelphia, against the Borden Milk Company, of Burington, begun last Thursday was not finished until Wednesday afternoon, when the jury rendered a verdict of $4,000 for the plaintiff.

Young Norkis was riding on a truck with a party of young Philadelphians who were returning from Barnegat bay where they had been crabbing, when it was claimed that the truck of the Borden company sideswiped the Philadelphia truck, near Whitesboro, pulling out a bolt and letting down the tailboard, young Norkis being killed, while three other young men in the party suffered serious injury.

It was brought out in the evidence that settlement had been made with the others who were injured but that Norkis refused to settle for the amount offered by the insurance company, which contested the case for Borden.

The next case started was that of A. Ashworth Taylor vs. Otto Seifert, both of Riverside Park, and concerned the payment of a bill for plumbing supplies.

The verdict was for $159.00 in favor of the plaintiff.

The case of Elmer Dickerson vs. Alburtus S. Parker, both of Springside, a suit to recover damages in connection with a building line, was started Wednesday afternoon, but after a back bar argument of counsel, the case went off for the term.

COUNTY REALTORS HOLD BIG BANQUET

Fine Program Marks Second Annual Affair; Cutler Succeeds Cole

The second annual banquet of the Burlington County Real Estate Board, held in the Moorestown Community House Thursday evening of last week, was a delightful affair long to be remembered by the realtors, realtoresses, wives and friends who attended. The tasty repast and fine program was enjoyed by a crowd which numbered 100.

Roy D. Cole, of Moorestown, who has served the board as president since it was organized two years ago, presided. The invocation was made by the Rev. Fred B. Morely, and the evening's entertainment was furnished by the splendid Viking Quartet, of Camden, under the leadership of the popular radio soloist, Fred Homer.

Mr. Cole, in introducing his successor, Arthur N. Cutler, of Maple Shade, expressed his deep appreciation for the fine support accorded his administration and stressed the spirit of fellowship which has been developed among the realtors of the county. He also emphasized the value of women members and urged the representatives of the Camden and Trenton boards present to follow Burlington County's lead and include women members, whom he termed "able and loyal workers."

New Officers

The retiring president introduced the new officers. They included Edward Kashner, of Florence, who succeeds Elwood H. Russell, of Burlington, as vice-president; William C. Pennell, of Medford, who was re-elected secretary, and Mrs. Estelle Wilkinson, of Riverside, who succeeds William H. Absalom as treasurer.

Mayor George N. Wimer, veteran Palmyra realtor, was accorded an ovation when he was introduced as the governor to the state association board who is starting his third term.

Brief addresses were delivered by George Atkins, of Trenton, vice-president of the state association; State Senator Clifford R. Powell, who was given a rousing reception; Edward Borden, president of the Camden board, and Mr. Cutler.

Secretary Pennell presented Mr. Cole with a beautiful chair, a token of the county board's appreciation for his untiring work.

Another veteran realtor was one of the chief speakers of the evening. He was Clayton Haines Brick, of Ocean City, formerly of Medford. Mr. Brick is very popular with the members of the board and was heartily received. His address was filled with humor.

While in a serious vein, he registered his hatred of "booms." "Booms," he declared, "are a menace to society. If I could see one headed toward Ocean City and felt that I could afford to build another bridge after it was over, I would blow up our bridge. We don't want any more of this boom business in Ocean City."

Contract and Contact

In speaking of the conduct of a real estate business, he said "The contract must be right, but before that the contact must be right." Mr. Brick read some witty poems which he accused his friend and fellow realtor, William G. LeConey, of Moorestown, of writing.

W. Russell Greene, widely known after dinner speaker, delivered his famous talk on "There is romance in each man's job if he will but look for it." He said "I don't know of a more appropriate day than Januuary 17 to talk on this subject. Benjamin Franklin was born on January 17, and if there was ever an American who loved his work, it was Franklin.

"If you will look into the lives of those who have achieved success you will find that they have been enthusiastic about their jobs. A man or woman can't be successful if they only look at it from the dollars and cents slant."

He said the man who only gets out of his job what he finds in his pay envelope or dividend check is missing a great deal of life. In closing he appealed to members of his audience to try to find the romance in their job and to keep the corners of their mouths turned up.

AGRICULTURE BIGGEST

Agriculture is the biggest the most fundamental and basic industry of our great nation, creating yearly the raw material for our largest industries and the greatest volume of our new wealth, Edward A. O'Neal, of Montgomery, Ala., Vice-president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, declared in speaking on "Leaders of America's Biggest Business," before the New Jersey Federation of County Boards of Agriculture at their annual Convention in Trenton last week.

SHOT and SHELL

by Pistol Pete

Well folks, we are all set for a big shoot to be held this Saturday at the Cinnaminson Gun Club grounds, which you all know is on the Schaffer farm, Lenola and Fork Landing Road.

We decided to make this one of our biggest shoots yet to be held so far. To give everybody an equal chance we have decided to handicap all the shooters. This will give shooters who do not beast such high scores a chance to break their twenty-five straight with the best of them.

We wish to impress on everybody that this club is run for the benefit of all persons interested in sports of this kind and urge the public to use the clubs facilities any Saturday afternoon.

The club has all supplies such as shells and blue rock. If you don't own a gun and would like to shoot we will loan you one, in fact the only thing we won't do is guarantee you will hit them all.

The membership dues are one dollar per year. To join means the benefits which are received by all members.

We hope to see everybody this Saturday afternoon at one thirty o'clock sharp. Remember everybody welcome.

Talks on Roads

Burlington County director of roads who addressed the State Agricultural Convention at Trenton last week on "The Need for Township Road Improvement."

500 ATTEND BIG GRANGE SESSION

Fine Program Marks Meeting of County Group at Community House

Approximately five hundred people attended the annual meeting of the Pomona Grange, No. 1, of Burlington County, held in the Moorestown Community House Tuesday afternoon of this week.

The affair opened with a luncheon at noon. Clifford Emmons, of Pemberton, master presided at the meeting.

The address of welcome was delivered by Charles Collins, of Moorestown, and the response given by Mary Cowperthwaite, of Medford. The lecturer of the afternoon was Dr. W. H. Whiton. Mrs. Witon is the New Jersey State Grange lecturer.

Charles R. Stout, member of the Burlington County Board of Chosen Freeholders, gave a talk on "Reducing Taxes and the Upkeep of County Roads."

Mrs. Ethel Burr Dudley, of Moorestown, Mr. Shivers and Mr. Carter favored with vocal solos, and recitations were well rendered by Benjamin Roberts, of Marlton.

A large number of Pomona Grange members from Gloucester and Camden counties were also present.

CHARITY BALL FOR BENEFIT OF CRIPPLED KIDDIES' FUND

The chief source of income for the crippled kids' fund of Mount Holly Lodge of Elks is from proceeds by the annual charity ball given by the lodge. Notwithstanding that this fine charity work has been going on for five years, many cases of deformed children still exist in this county that need treatment or operations. New patients are constantly being received at clinics conducted at the Burlington County Hospital, under auspices of the lodge. The ball will take place in the Mount Holly Armory on Friday night, February 8. Price of ticket admitting lady and gentleman is $5.

CORRECTION

Through an oversight the following paragraphs were omitted from the article in our last issue about Edward H. Flagg, Jr., deceased.

Mr. Flagg moved to Riverton twenty-nine years ago and has occupied the house at Broad and Thomas ever since. He has had an active and varied career in the public life of the borough and county.

Mr. Flagg was elected as councilman in 1908 and served that and the following year. In 1910 he became mayor and served four consecutive terms, until 1917. He was the sixth Mayor to serve the borough. He again served as councilman in 1925.

In 1922 Mr. Flagg was elected sheriff of Burlington county and served until 1925.

He was president of the Riverton A. A. in 1909, and was one of the original members of the Riverton Improvement Association, organized in 1909.

Mr. Flagg joined the Riverton Fire Company May 5, 1906, served as vice-president from 1909 to 1916, and as president from 1916 to 1919. Since then he has been the delegate from Riverton to the County Firemen's Relief Association.

Moorestown High's Tuition Fee Climbs

The Moorestown Board of Education, at a meeting last Thursday evening, voted to increase the tuition fee for high school pupils not residents of Moorestown to $125. Non-resident students have been paying $100 yearly tuition fee.

The new charge is to take effect with the school year beginning September, 1929. Walter Carson, president of the Board of Education, has announced.

The cost of high school education warrants the increase the members of the board feel. Practically every high school in this section is increasing their fees, and many have taken the step within the past month.

Pupils come to Moorestown High School from a number of communities adjacent to the township.

SEE REDUCTION IN TAXES OF STATE

Sympathetic Governor and Legislature May Bring About Cut for N. J.

Refreshing prospects of reduced taxes in New Jersey appear in the offing as one result of the coming of Governor Larson into the administration of the government with a Republican Legislature to support him. That, to be sure, would be one of the most acceptable gifts for 1929 the people could imagine, for there has gone forth a very vivid notion that the tax burden has grown out of all proportion to the benefits derived and the necessities confronted. The Governor is of the belief, however, that something of a definite character may be accomplished toward the desired end by the aid and cooperation of all those concerned with the public welfare.

To that end the Governor has prepared the way for the engagement of a business expert who will look into all the details of the state government; examine the several boards, departments and commissions; analyze costs and incomes; and in general take hold of the big problem in just such manner as any private enterprise or going concern would tackle it upon discovery that the production costs had mounted to suspicious proportions with respect to returns. Governor Larson rolled off some significant figures in his recital of the tax burden during his inaugural address and called attention to the staggering rates which have grown in such a short period of time. Every man and woman who goes up to the collector's desk twice a year and makes good on the bill for his or her taxes probably whispered a fervent amen to the Governor's call for help in his projected cutting off the load.

Progress Costs Money

Of course the State has grown prodigiously and with that growth have come added responsibilities and necessary improvements. No State in the Union has better highways and that great system is still further to be improved. Good roads cost a lot of money, to be sure, but who suggests cessation of the improvement program? Nearly everybody fully realizes the value of such arteries of travel for not only the home people, but for millions who come in every year to enjoy New Jersey resorts of lake, mountain and seashore. The investment, from a purely business standpoint, is looked upon as safe and sound and there is little criticism of the policy even if the taxes must be paid.

The people likewise demand local improvements and no town desires to be regarded as unprogressive. Things that were looked upon as costly luxuries in the days when every church had its wagon sheds and sleigh bells jingled along the rutty roads in winter are now set down as pressing necessities with never a blink as to the cost. It is hard in this progressive age to find in all the state a town of any proportions whose streets are not well-graded, curbed and paved with lasting material. There has been amazing progress in the field of education and the "Little Red School House" has given way to the commodious, amply-lighted, carefully ventilated and heated structure with all the modern appliances for up-to-date training and education of the future citizens of the Nation. Nobody grudges the expenditures required for the public schools, of which New Jersey is justly proud, but that is one of the big items of the bulging tax bill.

Governor Hits at Waste

With the growth of the State have come additional requirements for the care of the unfortunate dependents and the enforcement of law. Larger and better institutions have become necessary and in every conceivable way the cost of living has mounted with tremendous leaps, but it is not at these conditions the Governor aims his darts of criticism. He calls attention to the evidence that municipal budgets have grown to such proportions as to arouse the suspicion that a large part of the burden might be lifted without in the least harming the local situation or in any way arresting progress. He evidently believes there has been some uncalled-for extravagance and desires to reach that condition wherever it exists and prepare a corrective, if that be possible.

Of course, Governor Larson is aware that not all the waste and extravagance is confined to the municipalities. He was a Senator from Middlesex County for seven years prior to his triumphant election as Chief Executive and he has been a member of the Joint Appropriation Committee of the Legislature, as well as a majority leader and President of the Senate, in which period he gathered and stored away a valuable mine of information which will serve him well in his three years' duty as the head of the state government. He knows to what extent the resources of the state have been levied upon to meet unnecessary claims and can probably place a finger upon more than one spot with fine promise of economy.

Leaders Back Govenor

There is every reason to believe that the Republican leaders and advisers in the party organization, as well as those in the Legislature, were deeply impressed with the Governor's stand for economy and reduced taxes and that it will be entirely up to them to see that he makes good upon his declaration. That notable dinner, given in appreciation of the services rendered by State Chairman E. Bertram Mott and John R. Todd, chairman of the Finance Committee of the State Committee, gave unmistakable evidence of the party's purpose. David Baird, Jr., chairman of the campaign committee, who was toastmaster at the dinner, left nothing to the imagination in that respect and all those who spoke supported the prevalent idea. Nor was there the slightest indication of friction with the organization. United States Senator Edge, Senator-elect Kean, National Committeeman, Pomeroy, the members of Congress, and the women leaders, including Mrs. Baker, National Committeewoman, expressed the strong desire to have all elements sincerely and energetically arrayed on the side of the new Governor in order that he may successfully carry out the pledges of the party.

Thus the new Legislature and the new executive start out with bright promise of things to be done for the best interests of the people of the whole state. The program for the Legislature has not been completed as yet, but Governor Larson's inaugural address outlined some of the salient features of that program, with reduced taxes as the dominant note. The other items will be taken under careful consideration as the session proceeds and there is proof in plenty that the Republicans of New Jersey mean to keep the record clean in the coming three years.

There will be further revelations of graft and corruption as the Case Investigating Committee continues its work under authority so quickly given it by the Legislature. The bill extending its powers and providing for the punishment of those who defy its subpoenas was the first measure approved by the Governor after his inauguration and the committee at once reorganized. The new members are Assemblyman Charles R. Blunt, of Essex; S. Rusling Leap, of Salem, and Dr. Wm. M. Newcomb, of Burlington county, all men of the highest type who agreed to give their time to the exacting duties of the post.

ALL ABOARD FOR WASHINGTON, D. C.

A special train to the inauguration of President-elect Herbert Hoover will leave West Philadelphia station Sunday night, March 3, and will leave Washington Monday, March 4. Fare including sleeper, exclusive of meals, will be approximately $13.00.

Senator Kean will be at home at the Mayflower Hotel Monday afternoon. Mrs. Walter Edge, wife of Senator Edge, will receive the ladies at her home Monday afternoon.

Reservations for this trip must be made not later than Wednesday, January 30, with State Committeewoman, Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, of Edgewater Park.

MURDERED—BUT ALIVE

Caruthersville, Mo.—Peter Thomas, a negro, was sentenced to prison for life for killing another negro in a dance hall shooting. The supposedly dead negro showed up a Caruthersville recently, and Thomas was freed.

TUBERCULOSIS CLINICS

The clinics of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League will be held on the first and third Tuesdays in the month at 10 a. m., at the Burlington County Hospital until further notice. These clinics have previously been held on the first and third Mondays in the month.

Will Fight "Flu" in Public Schools

Immediate exclusion from school of all pupils showing signs of a cold or a fever, was ordered last week by Dr. Allen G. Ireland, State director of physical and health education, in a letter forwarded to all city and county school superintendents, supervising principals and helping teachers throughout the state.

Dr. Ireland also ordered that special care be taken in the class room by prohibiting the exchange of pencil and common school supplies. Plays and games in which pupils grasp hands should also be prohibited until the danger has passed, he said.

BARITONE SINGS AT PORCH CLUB

Noah Swayne and Accompanist, Miss Guest, Render Fine Program

A most appreciative audience was gathered at the Porch Club Tuesday, January 22, to listen to Noah Swayne, the well-known bass baritone, and his accompanist Miss Elizabeth Guest, who herself is a pianist and composer of note.

Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., in a few words of praise introduced Mr. Swayne, who then took charge of the afternoon's program. He divided his program into four groups.

The first consisted of three Schubert songs, "Ode to Music," "Death and the Maiden," and "Serenade," all of which were translated into English from the German by Mr. Swayne, who is a poet by profession.

The second group were songs by modern composers and included "J'ai pleure' en reve," "Traum in der Daemmerung," by Richard Strauss, sung in English and "Ofr in the Silent Night," by Rachmaninoff, also sung in English.

"Down to the Sea," by Elizabeth Guest, was the first song of the next group, "A May Day Carol," an English song, at least 500 years old, which was found in the British Museum and arranged by Deems Taylor, was beautifully sung by Mr. Swayne. The last of the group was "Danny Deever," words by Rudyard Kipling and music by Walter Damrosch. The rendition by Mr. Swayne was characterized by intense feeling and dramatic power. As an encore the soloist gave a barnyard song which caused hearty applause.

Four negro spirituals formed the last group, "Were You There?" "Black Sheep, Where Have You Left Your Lamb?" "Go Down, Moses," and "Hard Trials." Mr. Swayne has obtained by inheritance and by personal experience an understandin ogt the Negro and his folk-lore and folk songs. For that reason his interpretation and the singing of their music is one of his great accomplishments.

The soloist and his accompanist very generously gave several encores to the applauding audience.

PORCH CLUB NEWS

A "Covered Dish" luncheon, a business meeting and some music by Club talent, will form the program at the Porch Club, February 5. Please notify Mrs. Edward K. Merrill, not later than February 2, of your intention to be present.

NEW COAL ELEVATORS

Mr. Edward Yerkes, manager of J. S. Collin's, Riverton Store, announces the erection of three coal elevators at the local yards.

The new structures are of tile and have a sixteen foot diameter and are forty feet high.

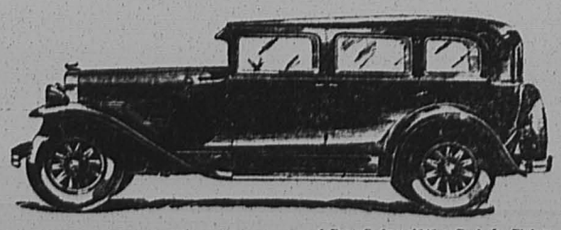

By storing coal in these silos it will be kept out of the weather and improve the appearance of the coal yard.

When coal is stored in these silos it is screened as it is taken out, thus insuring cleaner coal to the consumers.

Each silo will hold 400 tons of "black diamonds."

The Specialty Engineering Company, of Philadelphia, is erecting the silos and expect to be handling coal in 30 days.

PEOPLE don't go around telling their neighbors, "I'm progressive. I'm looking for finer things." Yet neighbors have ways and means of knowing. And one of their surest signs is the family automobile . . . . That's why the New Pontiac Big Six offers so much to up-and-coming Americans. It represents progress. It constitutes an impressive step up from lower-priced transportation.

The Pontiac Big Six is a real innovation—a brand new car from beginning to end. It offers big car performance, luxury, comfort and style at prices which make no great drain on the purse.

Prices $745 and up, f. o. b. factory, plus delivery charges. Bumpers and rear fender guards regular equipment at slight extra cost. Check Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices—they include lowest handling charges. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

GROUP REPORTERS TELL OF Y DOINGS

Lone Eagles Hear "Sales Talk" Before Starting Campaign to Sell Taffy

By Paul Guest, Reporter

The regular weekly meeting of the Lone Eagle YMCA Group was held in the YMCA building on Saturday night, January 19. Nine members and one visitor were present. The meeting was called to order by the president, Leon C. Guest, Jr.

The life problem period was conducted by our leader, Mr. Carter. This week it took the form of a "Sales talk" the points emphasized were, that we could sell if we believed we could, and that the product that we were going to sell was the best of its kind. We all drank in these thoughts and this present week we are having a selling campaign to raise money for our group, to be used in foreign work and in making of our yearbook. We are selling Goff's Salt Water taffy for 50 cents a box, of course we want all the people of Palmyra and Riverton to buy from us and we will be calling at your houses for your orders before the week is out.

Refreshments Enjoyed

Cecil and Paul Guest had the surprise for the group this week. It was in the form of ice cream and cake, it soon disappeared so we are sure that it was enjoyed by all.

Stanley Eckert and Charles Woolston have charge of the program for the coming week. It is their job to secure a speaker or to arrange any sort of a program that they think the whole group would enjoy.

The evening was wound up by games in the gym, during these games Charles Woolston hurt his knee, we trust this will soon be well again.

By Bruce Davidson, Reporter

Our meeting was opened at 7.30 as usual, the attendance was then marked, and the dues collected. Bill Cooper and George Cooper, (not brothers) did the marking.

We then put up Jack Gilbert's name for voting on, (he really came last week). Finally after some discussion, Jack was elected as a new member. After this, no one under twelve years of age, will be elected. It is only the age that forbids, not that we don't want them.

We fully congratulate, Paul Guest and the Lone Eagle Group on winning the Write-Up Contest held each month.

To get back to our meeting, we had our rituals and then attended to business. Our leader, Cliff Taylor, cut short our Bible lessons for that meeting. Soon after the meeting was adjourned, we went to the gym, all except the Social Committee who stayed in the meeting room to decide what to get for refreshments. Cliff finally decided what to get and then Bill Cooper and Frank Alloway got the money and beat around to the stores.

Barker's Team Wins

We played a game of basketball and it sure was a tight game. We (the team I was in) lost nine to nothing in favor of Andrew Barker's team. We then sat down to rest ourselves as it certainly was a very perspiring game. After our rest, we played a couple of games of the "Games in the Dark." Some of us got so many bumps that we were glad when the lights flashed on so that we were let up. Later the mats were pulled out and we played a game of "King in the Mountain," for a few minutes, then Cliff decided to have some wrestling matches. After each one of us had a turn at it, we all settled down for a rest. I will safely bet that some mothers were not at all pleased at the appearance and condition of their son's clothing.

Suddenly we heard footsteps and sure enough it was the social boys back with the "Eats." We filled up (not in order by any means) and finally got served. The refreshments were ice-cream and cakes, which were readily enjoyed, and when we finished, there was not a drop left.

We played another game but Cliff declared it was 9.35 and time to go home, so we beat it for our destinations.

This is a list of our officers and the positions they hold.

Frank Alloway, president; Joseph Weber, vice-president; George Cooper, secretary; William Cooper, treasurer; Clifton Taylor, group leader; Bruce Davidson, reporter.

Don't forget, members, next week (January 23). We start the model airplane club, the A. M. L. A. I will explain better in next week's report.

By E. Friberg, Reporter

The Sniper YMCA group of Palmyra was re-organized at the meeting last Monday night. The meeting opened with the Lord's prayer. Then we had a short talk by Mr. Carter. Then the election of officers was taken up. The officers were elected as follows: Joe Dietz, president; Stanley Lippincott, vice-president; R. Dilks, secretary; R. Roach, treasurer; and E. Friberg, reporter. Spit Pohtisett, the group leader, expects a fine group in the coming year.

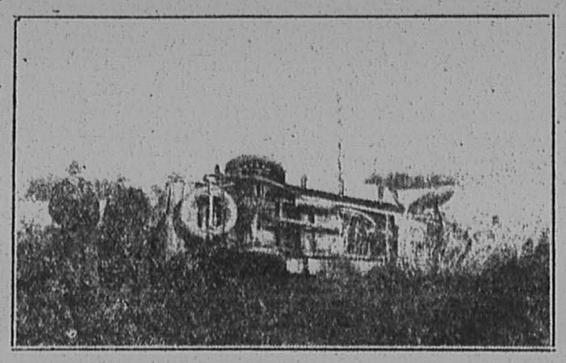

$2.00 FOR LEGHORNS

Approximately $2 per bird, or $2000 for a flock of 1000 Leghorn pullets, is the annual net return that may "reasonably" be expected from a one-man commercial egg farm of that size, according to Prof. Willard C. Thompson, poultry husbandman for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, speaking before the meeting of the New Jersey Poultry Association held at Trenton in connection with Agricultural Week last week.

DAIRY ECONOMIES NEEDED

Increasing competition for eastern markets is making it imperative that dairymen of this and nearby states focus attention upon further economies in production, said Dr. J. G. Lipman, director of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, speaking at the annual banquet of New Jersey dairymen held in connection with Agricultural Week in session at Trenton last week.

Man Has Narrow Escape

When the Dodge truck which he was driving at a high rate of speed turned over and crashed into a ditch at Springside last Tuesday, Harry Swan, of Camden, escaped with minor injuries.

TRUCK DRIVER IN BAD AUTO WRECK

Camden Man Escapes With Minor Injuries as Car Crashes Into Ditch

When the heavy Dodge truck which he was driving at high rate of speed plunged from the road, overturned and struck a telephone pole on the Rancocas Road in Springside near Burlington last Tuesday afternoon, Harry Swan, of 2033 High street, Camden, had a miraculous escape from death.

Swan was extracted from the cab of the truck by Peter Dram, who lives near the scene of the accident and was rushed to the emergency hospital at city hall by a passing motorist. Dr. Shipps of Delanco, was called and after an examination he ordered the man removed to the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly. Swan was unconscious until late Tuesday night, but has been steadily improving since.

It was first thought that the driver of the car was suffering from a fracture of the skull and internal injuries but on examination it was found that he had escaped with only cuts and bruises, which although painful, are not considered to be serious.

The truck is owned by Samuel Josephson, Camden candy dealer. Swan is employed by the Company as a salesman and was driving over his regular route. A woman who lives in the neighborhood where the accident occurred, said that Swan was driving nearly forty-five miles an hour when he passed her home. The dirt road was very slippery and from the marks left by the truck, showed that the car had left the road and ran into the ditch, which is about four feet deep at this point. The driver succeeded in getting the car back into the road again but crashed immediately into the ditch again.

The front of the car was buried in the mud and water when Mr. Dram arrived at the scene of the wreck. Swan was pinned in the wrecked cab and it was only with considerable effort that Dram was able to release him. The gasoline tank had burst and the driver was drenched but luckily the car did not catch fire.

NO RECTOR CALLED FOR MOUNT HOLLY CHURCH

The Vestry of St. Andrew's Church in Mount Holly has not yet called a rector to succeed the Rev. John W. Gummere, who recently went to Washington to become identified with the staff of the National Cathedral. Several names have been presented and a committee has made considerable investigation, but the calling point has not been reached. Some reports circulated about decisions have been without authority. Dr. Robert McKay, of Moorestown, who has been conducting the services during the past month, will not be present any more, he having made arrangements to go away, as has been his custom during recent winters.

Y. W. SECRETARY RESIGNS POSITION

Miss Sallie Sumner Becomes Member of National Board Staff

Miss Sallie Sumner, who for the past three and one-half years has been General Secretary of the Burlington County YWCA, has resigned her position here to become a member of the staff of the Business Division of the National Board of the YWCA, with headquarters at 600 Lexington avenue, New York City.

During the years of her very efficient leadership in the Association, Miss Sumner has made many friends in all parts of the county who will regret her leaving. The Association under her direction has made great progress both in the extension of its work into many new communities and in a more intensive line of activities in the communities where work has been begun. Among the latter the development of work among industrial women and among the foreign-born are most interesting examples of her work. The recent addition of a third member to the staff is another evidence of the growth of the Association.

The many people in Burlington County who regret her leaving the county are very pleased that in her new work on the staff of the National Board she will have many contacts with the local work.

The Board has not yet found any one to take Miss Sumner's place and until a new general secretary is found the work will be done by Miss Sidonie Schafer, the associate general secretary, and Miss Dorothy Gebhart, the Girl Reserve secretary, with the assistance of the Board of Directors.

Miss Sumner will take up her new duties February 1.

BRIDGE RECEIPTS IN BIG INCREASE

1928 Toll $2,827,786.83, Exceeding Figure Set for Seventh Year

The Philadelphia-Camden bridge toll receipts for last month, including interest on bank deposits, were $234,653.40, an increase of $35,788.95 over receipts in December 1927, Joseph K. Costello, general bridge manager, reported last Friday at the regular monthly meeting of the joint bridge commission.

Gross receipts for 1928 were $2,827,786.83, with net receipts of $2,449,196.82, as against $2,093,921.89 for 1927, a gain of $355,274.93, or more than 16 per cent. The year's total vehicles were 9,725,470 as against 8,563,201 in 1927, or an increase of 1,132,269. During the last six months of 1928, records show 5,501,449 vehicles crossed the bridge, a gain of 617,791 over the same period of 1927.

"It is interesting to note," Costello said, "that prior to the bridge opening it was anticipated that the net receipts for the seventh year of operation would amount to $2,437,500. This figure has been exceeded already, with the bridge only two and a half years old."

Disbursement of receipts for the last six months of 1928 was made December 31 with a total distribution of $1,364,392.19. Of this amount, New Jersey received one half or $682,196, while the state of Pennsylvania and the city of Philadelphia each received $340,098.05.

"Since the bridge opened 30 months ago, 22,456,345 vehicles have crossed the structure," Costello said. "Despite this traffic, the roadway is in excellent condition. Structurally, the bridge has developed no flaw. The paint is holding up well and I can see no reason for repainting the entire bridge during 1929."

EXPERTS SECURED FOR BUGLE CORPS

Professional Instructors Teach Fine Points to Members of Post Rodgers

A new interest has been manifest in the Drum and Bugle Corps since the beginning of the new year. Expert instructors have been provided in both the drum and bugle sections, classes now forming and meeting on Monday evenings for the drum instruction and Tuesday evenings for the bugle instruction. The instructors are experts, having years of experience in the champion Frankford Corps. The membership in the Corps is now open for any new members of the Legion who desire to get in on the ground floor. The instruction program is classed to take care of beginners as well as the advanced corps members.

New music and new drill formations are to be worked out so that the summer will see a bigger and better Palmyra Drum and Bugle Corps. The New Jersey State Championship, without the remotest possibility of a disqualification, as in 1928, is the goal and the boys are working hard to attain this end. Any Legionnaires desiring to join should do so now in order to get the benefit of the starting fundamentals of the program outlined.

CHESTER WATSON IN TRIPLE WRECK

H. Chester Watson, Palmyra blacksmith, was a passenger on the fast express train which figured in a triple wreck near Aberdeen, Md., last Thursday afternoon.

Watson was stunned by the force of the collision of the express train with the local and freight which were piled up but soon recovered and assisted in caring for the wounded. It was necessary to carry the fireman of the express train over a mile and a half for attention, and Watson was one of the men to volunteer to make the trip.

PHOTOGRAPHS FOR PHS YEAR BOOK

Seniors and Other Classes and Organizations to Have Pictures Reproduced

Any doubts that might have arisen concerning the success of the Palmyra High School year book have been dispelled. When the school assembled after the Christmas Vacation an announcement was made that the photography work would begin the following week.

The week after the announcement was made the photographer drew up with complete equipment for taking the photographs. His arrival silenced every doubt among the students of the certainty of the Year Book. For two days the school was in a frenzy of excitement. Seniors were seen to go and come from certain regions backstage where the pictures were being taken. Speculating on the outcome of the photography was rife. Now the worst is known. The pictures of the Seniors and the groups that were taken, have come back, successful to the last one. Subscriptions have come in as a result and the full amount has been obtained. Individual pictures of eighty-four Seniors, group pictures of the Juniors, Sophomores, and Freshman class, other group pictures of the faculty, orchestra, football, hockey and basketball teams, and of the Dramatic club, and the Pal-Jon Club have been declared a success.

The Pal-Jon Club, a group of Senior Girls who are headed by Miss Marion Purbeck, the girls' athletic coach, have been public spirited enough to arrange for a dance to be given this Friday evening in the gymnasium for the benefit of the year book. With such support as this, the project of the year book could not help but succeed.

The staff of the Year Book is greatly indebted to the merchants of this and nearby towns for the support which has been accorded them in the matter of advertising. While the goal for the advertising has not been reached, the ultimate end does not seem far off. Placards to be placed in the windows are being distributed so that the public will know just who the supporters of this noble cause are.

CAR, DEER CRASH

Henry Johnson's car was damaged when it struck a large buck, one of four deer which ran in front of the machine on Chatsworth-New Lisbon road last Friday night. Johnson, who lives in Lumberton, tried to avoid the deer as they sprang across the road. He missed all but the last, a buck. The animal was knocked over, but jumped to its feet and ran away. Fenders and headlights on the car were smashed.

169 CRACK HERDS

Announcement of the names of 169 New Jersey dairymen whose herds averaged to produce 300 or more pounds of butterfat per cow during 1928, was a feature of the annual New Jersey Dairymen's banquet held in Trenton as a part of the Agricultural Week program sponsored by the State Department of Agriculture last week.

USE TELEPHONES MORE IN CAMDEN

Number of Calls 11,600 Daily Greater During 1928 Than Previous Year

Development of the city of Camden during the last year in population and industrial importance was reflected in 800 more telephones in use December 31, 1928, served by the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company, than were in use December 31, 1927, according to L. A. Fritchman, manager for the company.

The number of calls being made every day in the city and received by telephone users living and working there had increased more than 11,600 a day December 31 over the same time the year before, Mr. Fritchman said. This striking increase in daily calls, even more than the growth in the number of telephones, indicates according to Fritchman a rapid growth in telephone usage for business and social purposes alike in the city of Camden and mirrors a further quickening of the social and industrial life of the community during the last year.

Mr. Fritchman declared that the company is anticipating continued rapid growth here and is making preparation to be ready for demands for service before the demands are made and before the need arises, in line with its policy of keeping its plant and equipment ready to furnish adequate service however great the demand that may be made upon it.

On account of a water shortage the inhabitants of Chemnitz, Germany, are forbidden to bathe except on Sundays. A small boy's paradise?

A. O. M. P. INSTALLS 3 NEW OFFICERS

Howard Vile Succeeds Harry F. Baittinger as Master of Assembly No. 65

The regular monthly meeting of Palmyra Assembly No. 65, Artisans' Order of Mutual Protection, was held Tuesday evening, January fifteenth, at which time the officers to serve for 1929 were installed, viz: Brother Howard Vile, Master Artisan, Brother DeWitt Steedle, Superintendent and Brother G. Nelson Bond, Inspector.

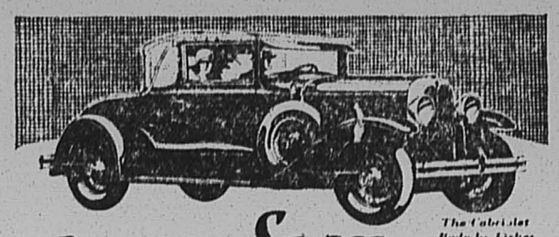

Brother Richard Hunter and Brother Lewis Janders had been reelected to serve as Recorder and Cashier. The Installing Officer was Brother Americus Underdown, Jr., who is the Most Excellent Cashier of the order of A. O. M. P. and who is Deputy to Palmyra Assembly. The retiring Past Master Artisan was Brother Harry F. Baittinger. The new Master Artisan, after making several recommendations for the benefit of the Assembly, made the following appointments; Chaplain, Brother Charles M. Petit; Honorary Chaplain, Brother Morris Sandoz; Conductor, Brother William DuHadway; Senior Master of Ceremonies, Brother Arthur Wright, and Junior Master of Ceremonies, Brother John Heaton. Brother J. E. Lenker was reappointed Warder. The Medical Examiners, Brother H. W. Bauer and Brother Harry B. Mark, have been reappointed for the year 1929. Brother G. Nelson Bond was appointed Chairman of the Membership Committee.

The Deput M. E. M. A presented a very beautiful Past Masters Jewel to the retiring Master Artisan. P. M. Brother Baittinger replied to the encouraging words of the Deputy, and made a very touching appeal to the members of "65" that they support his successor, Brother Vile, and his brother officers. Brother Alloway conducted the mysterious hour prize drawing and Brother Paul Van Sant made his wife happy when he took home the beautiful windsor chair. The retiring Master Artisan presented a special prize of another windsor chair and Brother DeWitt Morris was the fortunate member to have his name drawn. Brothers, attend your meetings. You may be the fortunate one to have your name drawn.

Publicity Committee.

Most of us have concluded that it is too much work to be president of the United States, but a large number of citizens would consent to take the quiet and restful job of vice-president.

The Newsboy Shows How

If you watch newsboys selling their papers on a city street, you see a big difference between boys. Some are quiet little fellows who lack the push and assertiveness to call out their papers. They do not attract enough attention to sell many of them.

And then there are those who go at their job with all their might. They jump out in front of you to catch your eye, they call out news events reported in their papers. The street resounds with their cheerful and ringing cries. People like to buy of these little hustlers.

It is about the same in the world of trade. The business concern that does not believe in advertising is much like the boy who never calls out his papers, and is apt to come out about the same. The business man who advertises vastly increases his sales, like the active kid whose lively cries win your interest on the street.

Lower Rates and Better Service

The American Telephone and Telegraph Company announced that effective February 1 there will be a reduction in day rates for toll and long distance calls in the Bell System representing an annual saving to the public of more than $5,000,000.

"This reduction in long distance rates is the third that the Bell System has made in two years and four months and is in keeping with the systems policy of providing "the best possible service at the least cost consistent with financial safety."

"Earnings more than sufficient to provide such service will, under our policy, either be used for the extensions and improvement of the service furnished or the rates charged for the service must be reduced," says Dr. president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. "Both things have happened, the rates have been reduced and the service improved."

"Why Socialism Doesn't Grow"

"Tabulation of the votes cast in the November Presidential election is at last complete," says the Globe, Arizona, Record. "It reveals one rather surprising fact; the Socialist party polled a vote, throughout the nation, of only 300,000.

Norman Thomas, Socialist candidate this year, was probably the ablest man that party has ever named as a standard bearer. He made a strong campaign.

Yet the Socialist party polled its lowest vote since 1904. Why should this be? What has happened, anyhow, to give the Socialist party pernicious anemia?

"Probably it is because the fundamental tent of Marxian socialism that the workers form a distinct class of the population with aims diametrically opposite to those of the upper classes is entirely out of line with modern American thought.

"In Europe the worker is 'class conscious.' He feels a solidarity with his brother workers, he feels that the capitalists are forever looking for an opportunity to crush him, and he uses his vote to gain every advantage he can.

"But in this country there is little of this solidarity. The worker is more apt to look on himself as a future employer. He knows that if he has the ability and the determination he will rise, and, if he stays a worker, he knows that he will earn more wages than his European brother ever dared dream of.

"It used to be said that Napoleon's army was so successful because every private carried a marshal's baton in his knapsack. The same thing applies to American workers. Each one feels that he may some day be a capitalist. Accordingly, Socialism fails utterly to prosper here. If conditions ever change and opportunity is shut off, that may be another story. But under present conditions, Socialism cannot grow."

The Income Taxpayers

About now 3,000,000 people are receiving a bullet-doux from the old gentleman with the striped trousers, inviting them to fess up about their incomes, and come across with that little tax. Some of these folks, instead of heartily rejoicing that they come in this favored class, are quite crabby about it.

After tearing their hair and making steen different blots on the evil gentleman's formidable looking document some of them get mad at Uncle Sam. But if it were not for the government that protects their stocks and bonds they would not merely be unable to pay that tax, but they would probably have no money for their beefsteak and potatoes.

Then there are about a hundred million less favored folks, who are never annoyed by any such invitations to pay up. Many of them are sore because their earnings fall below the taxpaying class. But time spent in finding fault about it gets them nowhere.

Mr. Opportunity does not knock once at every man's door. There are no days' job of work thoroughly well who are always figuring how they can do it or something else a little better, and a chance to hear her longed for step.

Don't be [illegible] your hard luck, but you can't hear that gentle knock, which bids one wake up and get busy and go to work building a house on Income Tax street.

COWS AND MEN

WHAT NAME FOR HOOVER?

THE DUKE BROTHERS

FARMERS IN JAPAN

Moosejaw, Saskatchewan, gave a dinner to Ben H. Thompson in honor of his Holstein-Friesian cow, Canary Colslyke. They both deserved. The Saskatchewan Government bought the cow for $10,000.

Canary is world's champion in butter fat and gives enough milk in a day to last the average family a month. In 305 days, this wonder cow produced 1,080 pounds of butter and 26,396 pounds of milk.

Too bad there is no way of improving men's brains, as we improve cow's udders. Only time can do that, and time is slow. The average intelligence in the British House of Commons today, according to Lecky, is lower than the average of all the free men in Athens, 3,000 years ago. Science goes ahead, man stays about where he was, a little less brutal, a little less selfish.

If Americans call President Coolidge "the silent President" what will they call Mr. Hoover? He has been elected president of the United States, will begin his work in less than two months, has been in Washington several days at work. How much has he talked? Not at all.

Eight years more of business without conversation will suit this country very well. We have had, at various times, considerable periods of conversation without business.

Sometimes farmers succeed, but usually they must leave the farm to do it.

Benjamin N. Duke, who died yesterday morning in his Fifth avenue house in New York began as a farmer working with his brother, James Duke, on their father's farm. They grew tobacco, started a small factory, introduced cigarette making machinery, and made hundreds of millions. And, farmers note this, they bossed the middle man instead of being bossed by him. Ask Mr Hill of the American Tobacco Company or Mr Belt of Lorillard how that is done.

American farmers have their troubles, farmers in Japan have worse ones.

When our farmers complain Government at least MAKES PROMISES.

When thousands of Japanese peasants marched to express dissatisfaction, forty were shot dead and many wounded.

TELEPHONE SERVICE AIMS for 1929

"Increase the Speed of Out-of-Town Calls"

It can be done with your help

TELEPHONE CALLS to other places are made today with amazing speed and accuracy.

Yet the service can be still further improved—with the cooperation of telephone users and telephone workers.

For our part: Increased experience of central office operators and further installation of improved equipment and operating methods will help.

For your part: Please Call by Number.

Consult your telephone directory before calling.

Ask "Information" for numbers not in your directory.

Call our Business Office for the special directory we furnish without charge for recording out-of-town telephone numbers.

If you will call by number you will enable the operator to establish your out-of-town connection more quickly and you will help us to make telephone service increasingly satisfactory to you this year.

Dr. Frank Crane Says

THE ART OF PLEASING

Now that we are learning to do all sorts of things it might be well to devote a little attention to that most important art of all arts, the Art of Pleasing.

It is an Art and not a Science. A Science you may learn out of a book. An Art takes practice.

It is not a sin or moral something we are talking about but just common sense and expediency. You want people to please you, then learn how to please them.

Permit therefore a few hints for inquiring minds on this matter.

1 Beware of egotism. To come from other that a what we think about ourselves. Do not praise yourself, nor disparage yourself, nor in fact talk of yourself at all. Habitual depreciation is a common form of disagreeable egotism.

2 Do not be tragic. Have a sense of humor. Most things do not matter. Nine tenths of the troubles that are threatening disappear when you laugh at them. It is very disheartening to live with one who is perpetually tragic.

3 Cultivate a pleasant voice. Do not talk too loud, nor mumble so one cannot hear you, nor slur your words.

4 Be neat. Clothe yourself as well as you can afford. Do not have dark fingernails, frayed cuffs, tousled hair, nor unclean linen. Keeping clean is not egotism, it is a due regard for other people's feelings. Clean your teeth. Beware of halitosis.

5 Write palmily, one letter at a time with comfortable spaces between.

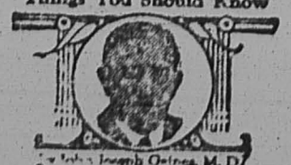

6 Do not be argumentative. Why dispute? Most things do not matter.

7 Observe the little politenesses. Say, "I thank you," and "If you please." Get up when a lady enters the room. Take off your hat when you meet a woman.

8 When you are slandered or abused, say nothing as a rule. People can pretend to disbelieve you say, but it's hard to answer silence.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

By John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

FEEDING THE AGED

Old age is in reality a second childhood. The infant needs certain food elements to sustain and promote growth; it will tolerate even more than is needed. But the aged need only sustenance, and cannot comfortably bear more food than that necessary to sustain life. Perhaps it is instinct that leads the old man to insist on the plainest, most nourishing unstimulating diet.

If grandpa insists on his corn-bread and milk don't deny him; if he just must have roast potato, you need not call him a hard nut to crack because he abhors scalloped potatoes. If you cajole him into eating some new-fangled dish with a little of everything in it yet no real fuel for the waning life, you may give him an alarming fit of indigestion away into the night. If he refuses shrimp salad try him on graham mush!

The oldest machine of today was probably built out of the best material at the outset. It has lasted this long by being properly housed, its joints correctly lubricated, no overloads having been heaped upon it and, having had the proper fuel for its engine. If you desire your (human) machine to last a long time, do nothing to hinder its normal action. It is easy to indulge anemone, but not so easy to rid ourselves of the effects of overindulgence.

By giving your aged ancestor the food he likes, you are adding to his comfort and longevity besides gathering blessings on yourself that are mighty nice to have; then, treat dieting is harmful at any age.

GAS HOT WATER and COMFORT

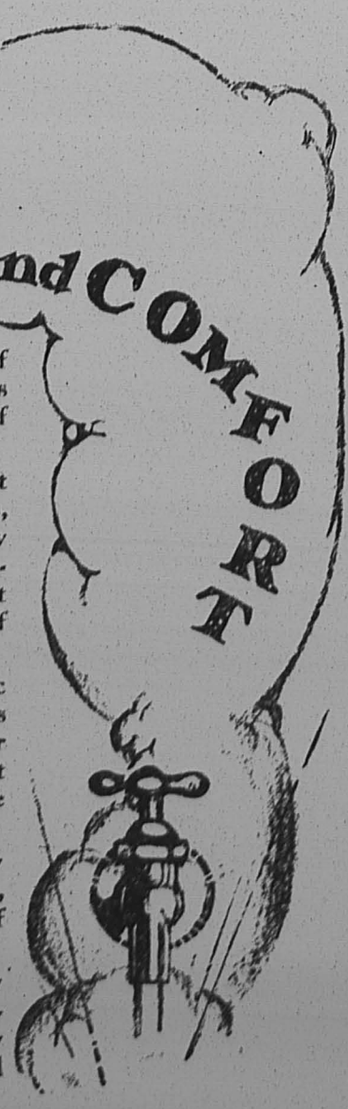

SCIENCE, inventive genius, the enterprise of American business have converted luxuries into necessities and placed them at the disposal of a constantly increasing number of people.

Take so apparently simple a thing as hot water—one of the greatest aids to cleanliness, to health, to comfort, to beauty. Only a few years ago, only the most expensive and luxurious of our hotels boasted of "running hot water in every room", and only the best of our homes were adequately supplied.

Today, gas, the ideal fuel, the automatic storage water heater, and the widespread gas system of Public Service make it possible for thousands of New Jersey families to have hot water whenever they want it, with no more effort than the mere turning of a tap.

The heater does the rest—keeps the supply constant, turns the gas on and off as necessary, provides hot water with a minimum use of gas and at the least possible expense.

Providing hot water, when you want it, is only one of the many household services that gas performs better and more economically than any other fuel. Nothing adds more to household comfort and convenience.

Rev. George J. MacCormack, Rector

"This I thought deserving of notice, even in so trifling a book as this is." Thus Parson Woodforde writes in his Diary for November 27, 1789, about a peculiar cure for the cramp described by Brother John. So trifling a book the Diary seemed to its author in 1789 and now in 1929 Parson Woodforde has made friends for himself in all the continents of the world! So great a power have simplicity and truth.

Woodfordes Diary is a real joy, do get a copy. It rings true to life and is a story that recalls us to the fact that the heart of any nation is peaceful, orderly and not far from God.

By the noise and clatter of some plays it would seem that there is nothing on the earth but tumult and shouting after effect, but you have only to journey a little to know that the real heart of the people anywhere is very calm and sane, very peaceful and tranquil, just like a quiet lake

"Stillest streams oft water fairest meadows, and the bird
That flutters least is longest on the wing."

So life glides smoothly and by stealth away.

Most seldom think that age of fabled gold.
Betrayed in present sins not vexed with care.
Or cursed with guilt, beneficent approved
Of God and Man, and peaceful in its end."

On January 31st Thursday, the Girls' Friendly Society will hold a Birthday Supper at six o'clock. Tickets 50 cents, can be obtained from Mrs. Davison 812 Highland avenue or Mrs. Bailey 400 Melrose avenue.

There will be a meeting of Associates on Friday at this week at two o'clock in the Parish House.

Vestry meeting on Saturday at seven p. m.

Bishop Matthews will confirm candidates on Sunday, February 17 at 4 p. m. The Service on Sunday evening is a special one for the young people.

The election of officers for the Girls' Friendly Society resulted in Mrs. McCormack as president, Mrs. Wonton as vice-president and Edith Wachs, secretary. A very hearty vote of thanks was given Mr. Bailey for her faithful work.

The fund for the reduction of the Rectors debt is making progress. Contributions can be given to the Rector or either Warden Mr. Borer or Mr. King.

The meeting of the Womans Auxiliary was featured by a splendid report of the Diocesan gathering at Trenton. Mrs. Bunnion gave a delightful talk.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

At the meeting of divine worship this coming Sunday morning the newly-elected councilmen will be installed.

The congregational meeting held Tuesday evening was well attended and everyone present enjoyed this session of fellowship. All of us feel grateful to the committees and all others who served the savory supper, took part in the business and contributed to the entertainment.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a rummage sale on February 9 in the vacant store building next to the fire house. Send all articles for the sale to Miss Florence Baer, 206 West Broad street.

The Ellen Bible Class will serve a sour kraut supper in cafeteria style on Tuesday evening, February 12.

Sunday School next Lords Day at ten sharp. We commend the officials on the project of starting last Sabbath 1st each one resolve to be present for the coming song.

Our choir under direction of Lee Mitton will render special music at both services, short sermons by the pastor.

It was necessary to borrow two extra chairs to accommodate the number who attended Luther Leagues last Sunday evening. It was the largest group present at a meeting of which we have recollection. A number of chairs will be added until the room is filled, when the organization will move to the large auditorium.

All the young people, both members and friends of the church are cordially invited to these inspiring young people's meetings held at 6:45 o'clock every Sunday evening.

Calvary Presbyterian

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its usual morning and evening services of worship Sunday, the morning service at 11 o'clock and the evening service at 8 o'clock. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 o'clock. The Christian Endeavor Society meets at 7 o'clock.

The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be observed on Sunday morning, February 3, at 11 o'clock. Preparatory services will be held Wednesday evening, January 30, at 8 o'clock. Any one who wishes to unite with the church, either by letter or on profession of faith should meet with the session at the close of the preparatory service.

Tomorrow evening from 5 o'clock to 8 o'clock the Golden Hour Circle will serve a New England dinner in the Social Hall of the Church. Tickets, 50 cents.

The Christian Endeavor Society will have a cake and candy sale, Saturday afternoon, from 2 to 5 o'clock, and the people of the community are invited to take advantage of this sale. It is being held in the social hall.

BRIDGE ROUTE DISPUTE GROWS MORE TANGLED

to Cinnaminson avenue.

The Parry committee holds little hope of having its plans approved if the Palmyra spur is acceptable to the State and County authorities and is prepared to wage a bitter fight for what it believes to be for its best interests. According to persons favoring the Five Points plan the Temple boulevard spur would send the bulk of traffic along Cinnaminson avenue and out past the Spring Garden street school causing greater traffic hazard and resulting in greater expense to the Borough.

Favor Boulevard Route

Mayor George N. Wilmer as well as all of Palmyra's Councilmen are favorable to the Temple boulevard spur on the grounds that it will keep Cinnaminson avenue as a State highway and prevent the cost of maintenance from falling on the Borough. The road will also be a factor in developing the section of Palmyra it crosses which is at present unimproved.

There is said to be need for a temporary outlet to the bridge to serve until the main highway is completed, which is considered unlikely until many months after the opening of the bridge. The Palmyra spur, according to Mayor Wilmer, is best suited for this purpose as it will cause traffic to move in the same manner as when the ferry was in operation. The use of Market street in the opinion of the Mayor would constitute a very dangerous condition in addition to extra police protection.

Members of the Parry Committee declare that Senator Powell assured them the main road would be finished as far as Kings Highway by July 1 the time the bridge is expected to open although this is considered unlikely as the time remaining is only five months and two bridges must be built over the Pensauken Creek and one over the Pennsylvania Railroad at West Palmyra.

DIES AT 96

Funeral services were held at noon Monday for Stuart MacFarland, 96 of Mount Holly, who died last Friday. Services took place at Keeler's Chapel 107 Main street, Mount Holly, and interment will be in St. Andrew's Cemetery, Mount Holly.

STOUT RETIRES AS STATE BODY HEAD

Freeholder Charles R. Stout, Burlington county's voting member in the State Association of Freeholders, declined reelection as President of that body, at the meeting held in Trenton last week, and Fletcher L. Fritts, of Morris county, was unanimously named in his stead.

Mr. Stout had served continuously as President of the State body for four years and was urged to accept the honor again, but he remained firm in his declination, on the ground that it would be for the best interest of the association to pass the presidency to some other county, after it had been held by Burlington for so long a period.

In recognition of his faithful service as president Mr. Stout was made an honorary member of the Board of Trustees, with voting power.

THE Thor washer and Rotary ironer are designed to do their work with thoroughness and speed and subject delicate fabrics to no more wear and tear than is involved in any use of soap and water. They provide, too, a maximum of convenience for the operator.

Let us demonstrate these machines for you. The Agitator is compactly built and simple to use. The Rotary ironer fits on the washer and is easier to use than an electric hand iron and works ten times as fast.

Thor Agitator $105 cash. On terms $110. Rotary ironer $49.50 cash, $52.50 on terms. This equipment, sold separately or together, may be paid for on terms of $5 down and eighteen months to pay the balance.

PUBLIC SERVICE 778

TACONY-PALMYRA FERRY COMPANY

Palmyra, New Jersey

January 23, 1929.

Dear Stockholder:

You have doubtless been mystified in receiving numerous letters from one Walter H. Cummings, the evident purport of these letters being to persuade you to believe that your Board of Directors has done or failed to do something detrimental to your interests.

This is far from the truth and is quite singular in view of the fact that your present Board in selling ground in Pennsylvania and New Jersey to the Bridge Company for $100,000.00 and the profit on bridge stock purchased by the proceeds (*) have made or will make a larger profit on these transactions than has been made in the operation of the Ferry for the six or more years in its existence.

Profit on 3 transactions	$202,000.00
Profit in operating Ferry since it started	110,267.25
Greater by	$ 91,732.75

So we can truthfully claim that your present Board has accomplished more than any of its predecessors, and if there has been a time when your interests require good calm judgment, divorced entirely from hysterical snap judgment, NOW IS THE TIME.

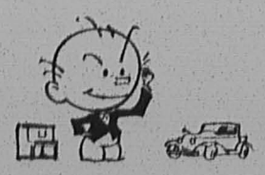

Your Board is guided by the best legal talent, and is functioning harmoniously, and we believe it to be to your best interests to re-elect them by properly signing and returning the enclosed proxy and thereby insure the profitable liquidation of your property.

Please note that the date and place of the Annual Meeting has been changed, and all proxies must so state. Do not sign any proxy that binds you to any but the one meeting, for you may wish to change your mind.

As many of you signed and returned proxies thinking you were favoring the management, we ask you to sign, have witnessed, date and promptly return the within proxy and thereby insure the re-election of the undersigned:

Palmyra High chalked up its fourth Camden Suburban High School League triumph Tuesday afternoon by nosing out Haddonfield High in a close guarding tilt, 16 to 12, on latter's floor. The triumph enabled the charges of Ray Dimond to gain a three way tie on third place in the standing.

Haddonfield gave the Blue and White plenty of trouble in garnering the triumph and came from behind to make things "shaky" for the defending champions who were on the long end of a 13 to 6 score in the first half. It marked the third straight league defeat for the Haddons.

Palmyra started with a rush and sensational shooting by Captain Cliff West gave the Pals a big lead right at the beginning of the tussle. In the second half the "Haddons" outscored the Pals," six points to three but were unable to overcome the big first half lead.

The winners scored but one more field goal than Haddonfield, but netted six out of nine fouls to the losers four out of ten.

West Tops Scoring

Captain West showed the way to the players of both teams in scoring with a total of nine points as the result of a brace of field goals and five out of seven fouls. Ray Branson scored two field goals for Palmyra, while the other went to Bill Baker who Coach Dimond started in the place of Long.

Donald Tees topped Haddonfield in scoring with three sensational field goals. Captain Matt Bartine caged the only other field shot scored by the losers.

In the preliminary contest, the Palmyra High Reserves walloped the Haddonfield Reserves by a 33 to 7 count.

Horton was the big gun in the attack with seven double-deckers and one foul for 15 points.

Coach Dimond's crew administered a sound trouncing to the Moorestown High School quintet last Friday on the former's floor, winning by a score of 31 to 10.

The Palmyra boys completely outclassed their opponents from the opening whistle until the end. Neither team did any great amount of scoring in the first canto and the score stood 8 to 3 in favor of Palmyra as the second half started.

In this stanza Palmyra scored 23 points, which even without the fruits of the first half would have been quite enough, as Moorestown was unable to locate the basket for more than 7 markers.

Ted Sloan was the bright light for the red and white with a total of 12 points. The elongated Hennessey, at center, accounted for 7 Palmyra markers. Branson and Hengert registered 6 each.

The Palmyra High girls' basketball team registered its third successive triumph by downing the Camden Catholic High sextet by a 28-8 score on the home floor last Thursday afternoon.

The entire Palmyra team showed marked superiority over their foes from Camden and only two field goals sank into the visiting team's goal station. The winners amassed a 13-3 lead in the first half and scored three points to one in the closing round.

Kitty Burr again displayed her uncanny aim for the net by dropping in three field shots and four fouls. Miss Hinke counted four times for Palmyra and added three penalty tosses.

IRRIGATION NECESSARY

Irrigation for vegetable crops is almost a necessity because there are periods of low rainfall practically every year, according to views expressed by Prof. E. R. Gross, agricultural engineer for the New Jersey Experiment Station, in a talk before a meeting of the New Jersey State Horticultural Society held in connection with Agricultural Week at Trenton last week.

VALLEY BROOK CLUB IS HOLDING BIG DRIVE

Campaign Expected to Add 75 Names to Roll, Bringing Membership Up to 200

A drive to obtain approximately seventy-five new members so as to bring the total membership up to the 200 mark has been inaugurated by the Valley Brook Country Club, Maple Shade.

If sufficient money is procured, at least three new holes will be added to the present nine-hole layout, which will take care of any possible congestion. Eventually, six more will be built so Valley Brook will have a regulation eighteen-hole course. A twelve-hole links may be unconventional, but experiences at Cobb's Creek has shown that eleven holes will take care of a lot of players and relieve congestion for the original eighteen holes on busy days.

Dr. L. Biddle Duffield, reelected president of the club at the recent annual meeting, will give a dinner followed by an entertainment to which all the members will be invited, at the Locust Club in the Ritz-Carlton if the drive for the seventy-five new members is swiftly and successfully brought to a conclusion.

The officers besides Dr. Duffield are Maurice Rose, vice-president; S. D. Shindler, treasurer, and Raymond Shris, secretary. Dr. Louis Jacobs, former president of the club, and the man whose enthusiastic support and use of his own money made Valley Brook possible, is chairman of the Board of Governors.

FRIENDS' TEAMS WIN TWO CAGE GAMES

Roberts Stars in Victory Over Philadelphia Normal; Reserves Defeat Friends' Select

Eight field goals by Walter "Runt" Roberts proved the big factor in a 25-20 victory of Moorestown Friends over the Philadelphia Normal school court team at Moorestown last Friday afternoon. It was the third successive win for the locals.

The home lads took the lead shortly after the game began and never relinquished the advantage, holding a 14-11 edge at the end of the first half. "Rod" Allen co-starred with Roberts by dropping in the other two field shots for the winning quintet.

Heilman was the big star for the Philadelphia team.

The Moorestown Friends Reserves defeated the Friends Select Reserves, of Philadelphia, at Moorestown Monday afternoon in a close guarding game 15 to 7.

Moorestown piled up a 13-to-2 lead in the opening half, but in the final half the visitors outscored Moorestown, 5 to 2 and made the game close. Powell, with five field goals was the high scorer of the game.

PONTIAC BIG SIX AT CAMDEN SHOW

New General Motors Car is Greatly Improved from Radiator to Tail Light

Fulfilling advance promises of big car performance, big car appearance and big car value, the Pontiac Big Six, essentially a brand new car from radiator to tail lamp, is now on display at the Camden Automobile Show, where Warren W. Yennev, Oakland and Pontiac dealer, invites all who are interested to inspect it.

Chassis improvements that give the car flexible performance comparable with cars in a higher price range with bodies styled along entirely different lines, distinguish every model in this newest General Motors line.

While only rounding out its third anniversary, the Pontiac Six enters upon its fourth year a definitely established volume leader, in which position officials of the Oakland Motor Car Company are confident it will more firmly entrench itself by reason of the extraordinary value evident in the car for 1929.

Custom Built Bodies

All bodies are entirely new, the line including a 2-door sedan, 4-door sedan, coupe, sport roadster with folding rumble seat, sport phaeton, convertible cabriolet with folding rumble seat, and a landaulet sedan. The last two types are innovations in the Pontiac line, having the appearance of custom built bodies.

Outstanding features contributing to the extraordinary performance of the new car are a larger and more powerful engine, new counter-weighted crankshaft; new harmonic balancer; new internal self-energizing brakes; new rear axle; new transmission; larger carburetor, intake manifold and valves; wider springs with new shackles self-adjusting for wear; increased valve lift; and new Hotchkiss drive.

Striking new body creations by Fisher impart to the entire line individuality and custom-like features entirely new in the Pontiac price class. From the gleaming high radiator shell to the gracefully molded rear panel, harmonious lines and brilliant chrome finished exterior hardware radiate smartness, distinction and individuality.

New Radiator Shell

A motastic water temperature control is built into the water outlet on the non-detonating, high compression G-6 cylinder engine. The shell of the radiator, narrow and built up to 35 inches in height, gives to the front the appearance of power and fleetness borne out by the performance of the car. No emblem or name plate marks the front of the radiator shell, but the familiar "Chief Pontiac" radiator cap ornament is retained. A chrome plated bar extends vertically from top to bottom of the radiator core.

Large fenders, full crowned and with a beaded edge, flare out in a graceful sweep over the smart low wheels. A forged fender tie rod replaces the pressed steel rod and lamp support formerly used. Headlamps on four body types come in full chrome plate, while on the remaining models the rims are chrome plated.

A full side view shows to best advantage the original lines of the new car. The slightly arched window design, with new paneling effect between the windows, a high waist line, and unique new concave moulding distinguish the Fisher bodies. This new belt moulding starts at the cowl and completely encircles the body. It is not continued down the hood, as in the Oakland models, but a new curved pillar line, quite similar in appearance to one of America's costliest cars, runs from the center panel on the cowl down to the rear of the hood.

Exterior Beauty

A smart new louvre grouping sets the car instantly apart in traffic. Instead of in the conventional manner, all are grouped in one panel and extended horizontally across the hood.

A slender and brilliantly finished cowl band with parking lamps adds to the exterior beauty of appearance.

All closed bodies have adjustable driver's seats, smart new sun visor, slender ebony finish 17-in. steering wheel, ebony finish instrument panel illuminated by two hooded bulbs, Delco-Remy combination transmission and ignition lock on dash, depressible beam headlamps operated by foot control, new approved tail light, stop light, and license support, larger Delco-Remy motor driven horn, automatic windshield cleaner, rear view mirror, theft-proof door locks, and exclusively designed running board mats.

Upholstery material in the closed models is of mohair, corduroy or velour in solid colors matching the smart new exterior Duco combinations. Open types are upholstered in Spanish leather trimmed in Fabrikoid with tops of grey clothteal.

Wire Wheels Optional

Massive ten-spoke artillery wheels with large hubs and flanges and 29 by 5.00 straight side balloon tires are standard on all models. Special equipment consisting of six wire wheels with an extra wheel mounted on each front fender, may be had with all models at slight extra cost.

The proven cross-flow radiator, introduced to the industry for the first time at the 1928 Automobile Show on the Pontiac Six, is retained but in larger size. The frontal core area now totals 320 square inches. The M-R cylinder head, which is retained in two sections.

The increased bore and stroke of the large L-head engine develop 57 brake horsepower at 3,000 R.P.M. Cylinder displacement is 200 cubic inches against 186 last year, and bore and stroke measure respectively 3 5-16 by 3 7-8 inches.

The redesigned crankshaft statically and dynamically balanced, is fully counterweighted to accomodate the increased power output of the engine. The crankshaft and counterweights total 73 pounds.

Harmonic Balancer

A new harmonic balancer, similar in principle and design to the one developed for the Oakland All-American Six, is fitted to the latest Pontiac to eliminate any vibration or crankshaft torsion likely to be developed by the enlarged power plant. The balancer is mounted on the front end of the crankshaft outside the crank case and forms a unit with the fan drive pulley.

The new and larger Dove-port intake manifold, the larger vertical type carburetor with accelerating pump and fuel economizer for normal driving speeds, and enlarged intake valves all are major factors in the better performance of the new car.

The intake valves now are 1¾ inches in diameter, thus reducing restriction, while an improved camshaft increases the valve lift to 5-16 of an inch. Dampeners prevent "chattering" of valve springs at the higher engine speeds and assure uniformly efficient valve operation at every speed range. A new quieting curve worked out for the camshaft also makes for silent valve action.

Safety Drive Feature

The oil pump circulates 175 gallons an hour at 25 p.s.i., while a safety drive feature incorporated in the oil pump and distributor prevents damage to the engine should the oil pump cease to function properly.

Lubrication of the main and connecting rod bearings is by pressure feed known as the regulated constant flow type. A stream of oil under pressure also lubricates the timing chain, while other parts are splash lubricated.

Fuel pump, gas filter and air cleaner continue as standard engine equipment as does the pressure-suction type crankcase ventilator which drains water vapor from the crankcase, delivers fumes beneath the car and renders unnecessary a change of oil every 500 miles.

Improvements in the transmission include a ten spline main driving shaft, which decreases wear because of the larger friction and driving surfaces between the shaft and lining units. More accurate gear alignment and consequent reduction of gear noises is another advantage.

Production on the new line began at the plant of the Oakland Motor Car Company at Pontiac, Michigan in December. The new car is being presented to the public in all parts of the country as soon as dealers are supplied with display models.

STONE DECORATED

Burlington Colonel Receives State's Distinguished Service Medal

One of Governor Moore's last official acts as chief executive of New Jersey was the presentation of a Distinguished Service Medal to Colonel Edward B. Stone, of the 114th Infantry, prominent Burlington man, last week.

In these last days, as the sands of my gubernatorial time glass run out, my thoughts turn to friends who have worked with me," said the Governor. "If I were asked to choose my own last official act, I do not know of any that would give me greater pleasure than to present this medal to you, Colonel, in the name of New Jersey. You have served the State well, and the nation."

Colonel Stone's wife and small son witnessed the presentation, which was made in the executive office of the State House. Adjutant General Gilkyson read the citation, in which Colonel Stone was not only commended for his record as a National Guard Officer, but for his services in the World War.

Colonel Stone is in charge of the State Prison Farm at Leesburg.

P. T. A. NOTES

For the First time Palmyra and Riverton held a joint meeting of Parent-Teacher Associations on Tuesday, January 15, in the High School Auditorium.

Mrs. Alfred S. Roberts, one of the State vice-presidents, made an appropriate address on the By-Products of Parent-Teacher Work, mentioning as the chief of these the formation of valuable friendships and personal development and growth.

Miss Chew expressed the pleasure of the Riverton organization in its invitation for the meeting and indicated by anecdote how important cooperation is for the interests of both Associations. This was indeed the keynote of her talk. Mr. Forcett, in a few gracious words, welcomed Riverton to Palmyra.

Mr. Louis Kaser closed the meeting with a resume of the development of the school system in the county. He showed that the increase in cost of maintenance in various lines, such as teachers' salaries, transportation, etc., is considerably lower in proportion in Burlington County than elsewhere in the state.

It was a widely expressed desire that future joint meetings be held.

TO HOUSE APPARATUS

Hainesport Fire Company Plans Ceremonies for January 26

Firemen of Hainesport are preparing for a big time Saturday afternoon, January 26, when they will house their new piece of fire apparatus, a motorized chemical engine. The members of the Burlington County Firemen's Association have been invited to take part in the exercises.

The housing of the new machine will be in charge of the America Fire Company, of Mount Holly.

There will be a parade at three o'clock, followed by some short addresses. The committee on arrangements is composed of Chief John M. Oliver, John Riffert, and Samuel Large.

All the Birds in the Forest were jabbering away one morning when the two bunnies came hopping down the path.

"I wish we could get even with Mister Jay Bird," said Bobbie.

Herbie is terrible. It's awful. It makes you feel bad when it's over," answered Billie, sitting down and looking very thoughtful.

"What would you suggest doing to give him a lesson. He's always playing jokes on us and we ought to do something to him—something he will never forget," said Bobbie, sitting down also.

"Is Mister Jay Bird vain about anything?"

Bobbie became very thoughtful before he answered. "I think he is very proud of his head piece—the top of his head. He is always cocking his head this way and that. Perhaps we could—"

"I have it!" cried Billie. "Let's paint his head a different color and see what happens."

"What do you think will happen?"

The other birds will have nothing to do with him, or they will make it hot for him when they see he is different. Nothing in this world attract attention like something different. You watch and see." With this Billie got up and started off, followed by Bobbie.

Soon they were under the tree where Mister Jay Bird was seated. "We were just discussing you," began Billie. "We were thinking how very beautiful you would be if your head were yellow instead of blue. Have you ever thought of that? Come and look at yourself in the brook and see. Then let us put some yellow mud on your head and you will are the handsomest bird in the Forest."

When Mister Jay Bird heard this, he hopped down from the limb on which he was sitting and came over to where the Bunnies were.

"Do you really think I would be handsome as handsome as the Steller Jay?" he asked.

"I knew you would be, so why delay?"

Away flew the bird to the edge of the brook and the Bunnies hopped after him. He looked into the water, patting his head this way and that. Finally he said: "Go ahead, put on the yellow."

The Bunnies took some yellow mud and rubbed it on Mister Jay Bird's head and away he flew to where the other birds were still jabbering away.

As soon as Mister Jay Bird's neighbors saw him with his unusual headdress, they all began to make his life miserable. They called all the other birds in the Forest and soon they were pecking at Mister Jay Bird and soon they drove him out of the Forest.

When the Bunnies saw this, they sat down and began to wonder what they could do to remedy things.

"Revenge is terrible, I tell you," said Bobbie.

But a strange thing happened very soon.

MANY FEATURES AT WALT WHITMAN

The program at the Walt Whitman Theatre this Thursday, Friday, and Saturday presents an unusual array of interesting features for both vaudeville and moving picture fans.

The feature vaudeville attraction brings Berkley, Pento, and Reynolds in an interlude of music and song presented in the most artistic manner. Included in this offer are two young lady harpists of rare accomplishment, ably assisted by one of vaudeville's most promising male soloists. This act is beautifully staged and elaborately presented and promises to be one of the musical treats of the season.

Another attraction of unusual interest brings Laypo and Lee in A Comedy Classic "How to Be An Actor in Three Lessons." To him who would learn, this act will offer bounteous food for thought.

McCaffrey and O'Malley two girls and a piano offer Harmony as You Like It. Bert and Betty Ross in a comedy skit, "A Man About Town" and Parish and Peru, two boys who are the acme of versatility and who bear the distinction of being the first act to appear on the stage of the World Famous Capitol Theatre in New York City, where they scored a tremendous and instantaneous hit after which their successes have been pronounced.

The screen feature brings John Gilbert in "The Mask of the Devil" a greater story than "Flesh and the Devil," and the finest portrayal to date of this popular actor. Of particular interest in this picture is the last appearance on the screen of the late Theodore Roberts, the best loved and most outstanding screen player of all time.

Movietone News Events and musical novelties complete this one hundred per cent program.

MANY CONTRIBUTE TO FLOWER FUND

George Carans Collects Money for Floral Tribute for Man Who Dies Far From Relatives

When it was found that Zeno Boralito, 22-year-old deckhand, who died more than a week ago had no relatives in this country his friend, George Carans, proprietor of a restaurant on Cinnaminson avenue, Palmyra, made it a point to see that his funeral was not without floral tributes.

Carans became acquainted with Boralito when he stopped at his restaurant from time to time. When he heard of his death he made up a collection from among Boralito's casual acquaintances for the purpose of buying flowers for the funeral.

A total of $32.15 was collected by Carans of which $15.00 was spent for flowers. The remaining money was given to the Coroner to partially pay the costs of burial.

ELECTRO-DYNAMIC RADIO

It's the truest reproducer of speech and music you ever heard.

The tone is amazingly real. You hear all the notes in the musical range — without exaggerated thundering in the bass, with the same reality in the high notes. The receiver takes two power tubes — which means great volume, when you want it, without distortion. There is just one electric switch, and one cord to the lamp socket. It costs less than a cent an hour to operate this set.

Model 46 is so well made it will last a lifetime. And, because of big-scale production in the largest and finest radio factory, low priced. We offer it on terms that make it still easier to own this marvelous set.

MODEL 46—A powerful 7-tube electric set. Uses 7 A.C. tubes and 1 rectifying tube. Less tubes, $85.

Why Deprive West Palmyra of Its Natural Heritage?

January 21st, 1929.

Editor, Riverton New Era

Dear Sir:

I note in your issue of January 17th, 1929, that the Mayor and Council of Palmyra have asked the County Board of Freeholders to construct a road from the Palmyra Terminus of the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge to Cinnaminson Avenue, via the Temple Boulevard.

I believe that when the facts are known that this will be proved a sad mistake. The distance to Broad and Cinnaminson Avenue via the Temple Boulevard is 5,100 feet; while the distance from Broad and Market Street to the Bridge is but 3,600 feet. Only 66 per cent as far.

This action by the Palmyra Council indicates that the local Public has not as yet awakened to the boon this Bridge will prove to Palmyra, and the wonderful possibilities that Palmyra would have as a railroad centre, through the medium of this Bridge, and a Bus Line connecting the P. R. R. across the River with the Amboy Division P. R. R. in New Jersey. By concerted action, we would have the Nelly Bly stop at Arch Street Station which would permit not only local New Jersey residents to enjoy through train service to Atlantic City and New York, but would permit North Philadelphia residents to enjoy this great boon through the medium of the Bridge and a rapid Bus Line.

You have no doubt seen the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad's ad of "1 hour, 40 minutes to New York, by motoring to Glenside and parking your car." Palmyra and Riverton residents could have almost the same advantage at Tacony Station P. R. R., via Bridge and Bus line, 1 hour 50 minutes to New York. But please note this is unlike the Reading proposition, for it would be available in our case even to those who do not have cars.

Does it not seem that the Mayor and Council of Palmyra showed but little concern for the Citizens of West Palmyra in advocating the Cinnaminson Avenue Route at this time? One of the reasons that actuated the writer to move the New Jersey Terminus of the Ferry to the foot of Market Street was the great inconvenience to those living in West Palmyra to be compelled to walk all the way to Cinnaminson Avenue, some 1-2 mile, to board a Bus to go to Philadelphia; and, strange to say, the Boat and Bus landed directly opposite Market Street, and when the Bridge was projected it did look as if West Palmyra would then come into its natural heritage, by being nearer to Philadelphia than any other community in New Jersey, which would enable them to get there quicker than those living elsewhere. But it seems that the Citizens of West Palmyra, instead of enjoying the benefits of a Bridge at their door, will be required to journey some half mile or more east.

Strange to say, there is no road where this one is projected, while there is one on Market Street, and if Cinnaminson Avenue is abandoned by the State Highway Commission, the worst that can happen is that a road costing $30,000 per mile to build is to be presented to Palmyra. It would seem that if the County Board of Freeholders can build a Road from the Bridge to Cinnaminson Avenue, a distance of 3,800 feet, they could build a road out Market Street to Broad, 200 feet shorter, for decidedly less money, and would do it, if the same pressure was brought upon them by the Mayor and Council. In that case we would have two improved roads where we had but one before. One remarkable feature of this projected road is that it is to be built 70 feet wide and all the traffic will then flow into Cinnaminson Avenue where it is 30 feet wide, with little or no chance to make it wider.

If the cost of this projected road was spent on Market Street, it is exceedingly probable that additional ground could be acquired on the West side to widen it 20 more feet and pave it to Broad Street where gates could be maintained at Hilton Avenue crossing, out Hilton Road to the Spanish Home Development where a road could be built to Cinnaminson Avenue at little cost. The advantage of this would be twofold; first there would be two protected crossings over the railroad, one would always be open, and the traffic would not pass the Palmyra School Houses on Cinnaminson Avenue. In addition, the River Road traffic could detour on the south side of the railroad during the construction work at the River Road crossing, in building the new State Highway.

It is the policy of the State Highway Commission to always route the traffic around towns. This projected road is a complete reversal of this policy and should the new State Highway route to Berlin not be finished at the time the Bridge is opened, there will be such a congestion at Cinnaminson Avenue and Broad Street that will be overwhelming, for please note that the Engineers' estimate of 1,100,000 cars in the first year would mean over 3,000 cars per day or probably 10,0000 on a pleasant Sunday; while the writer's estimate is 2,000,000 the first year or an average of 5,480 per day, or in the neighborhood of 20,000 cars coming up Cinnaminson Avenue on a pleasant Sunday, and if the Cinnaminson Avenue residents are pleased with this prospect, why did they object so seriously to the very much smaller number when the Ferry was started?

One unfortunate feature is that the Mayor states that if this Cinnaminson Avenue project is accepted and built by either the Freeholders or State Highway, they then will do nothing for the Market Street end.

The action of the Mayor and Council in depriving West Palmyra residents of a Bus line over the Bridge via Market Street, will greatly penalize those Residents who by their greater proximity to the Bridge are best entitled to its benefits, and compel them to use the Buses to Philadelphia via Camden, and deprive the Bridge of perhaps 40 per cent of its Palmyra Bus passengers.

Just Why?

CHAS. A. WRIGHT.

PALMYRA SCHOOL SURVEY NOW IN HANDS OF BOARD

Building Program Urged to Take Care of Future Requirements of Borough

CONDITIONS REQUIRE CONSIDERABLE STUDY

High School Pupils Rate High in Intelligence, Low in Attainment

The survey of the Palmyra School System which was made by the State Board of Education covering the school year of 1927-28, has been completed and turned over to the Palmyra Board of Education.

The survey is very complete, comprising nine chapters, and covering practically every phase of the school work. In all it contains 107 pages and is far too bulky to be reproduced here.

However, quotations which apparently will prove most interesting are printed below and cover the salient features of the first six chapters, namely: "The High School, Improvement of Instruction, Educational results—grades 1 to 8, the Teaching Staff, the School Plant and Administration. The other chapters are Physical Education and Health, Home Economics and Manual Training and School Costs and Finance.

A limited number of copies of the survey have been sent to the Board of Education and may be had by anyone requesting same. They may be obtained from the district clerk or at the office of Griscom and Rogers, 9 East Broad street, Palmyra.

Professor Eckert explains that a large number of the changes suggested have already been made and most the others will be made just as rapidly as the school authorities can make the necessary arrangements, with the exception of the building program, which will be contingent upon other considerations. Extracts from the survey follow:

High School

The Palmyra High School pupils are above the normal levels of the Terman Mental Ability Test in every grade. Among the corresponding median scores the 10th grade group with a margin of 2.4 points is the only grade that is not substantially above the normal.

Insofar, therefore, as school achievements actually correlate with mental ability, as measured by the Terman Test, we may expect a grade of work equal to the average or better.

Since the effective use of the English language is an essential part of a high school education, and since the mechanical features of language facility can be approximately measured, a test in English grammar, word recognition, and spelling was chosen for all grades. "Tressiers English Essentials"—Form B was selected, because of its range, its basic character, and reliability.

Attainments Below Normal

The result shows without exception that the attainments of the Palmyra High School pupils in all four grades are on substantially lower levels than the norms of the standard test. Not only are the pupils comparatively weak in the mechanics of English, but they are increasingly so from grade to grade, except in the eleventh and twelfth which are about equally bad.

Passing to subjects of study in which the courses do not run through all the grades, the department selected only typical tests.

The conspicuous thing about these tests is that the pupils' achievements are substantially lower than the normal test levels except in the case of Latin vocabulary, Latin sentence and French vocabulary.

Should Have Better Start

All pupils should have a better start in the 9th and 10th grades in mathematics and science if a high percentage of the pupils are to succeed in the advanced grades.

Special Train for Hoover Inauguration

Mrs. Elizabeth G. Terry, of Edgewater Park, member of the Republican State Committee, has announced that a special train for Washington on account of the inauguration of Herbert Hoover as President will leave West Philadelphia on the Pennsylvania Railroad, Sunday night, March 3, and returning will leave Washington following the inauguration ceremonies on March 4.

The exact time of the departure of this train will be made known later. Mrs. Terry states that the round trip fare including sleeping car berth will be approximately $13.00. Persons wishing to secure accommodations on this train should communicate with Mrs. Terry.

Mrs. Walter E. Edge, wife of U. S. Senator Edge, will entertain the ladies of the party at her home in Washington in the afternoon. Senator Hamilton F. Kean will entertain at the Hotel Mayflower.

RIVERTON FIRE COMPANY ELECTS

Former Officers Returned, and Two Members Added to Directors

The annual meeting of the Riverton Fire Company was held in the Fire House, Monday evening, with about 100 in attendance.

Heretofore the Board of Directors has been made up of five men but a resolution was adopted making the number seven. John L. Carhart and Thomas Downs were elected as the new members of the directorate.

The election of officers was the principal business of the evening. All the officers were re-elected without opposition, which indicates a feeling of satisfaction with the past year's administration.

The officers are: president, Walter C. Wright; vice-president, Adolph Strohlein; secretary, Lloyd Major; treasurer, John Strohlein; foreman, Charles Cole; assistant foreman, William Evans.

Board of Directors: George D Steedle, James Goodwin, Lawrence Joyce, Edson Carhart, Charles Cole, John L Carhart and Thomas Downs.

John W. Carhart was elected a member of the Relief Committee.

Membership Drive

"Sonny" Wright, president, strongly urged the members to get new members. At the present time the Fire Company has 285 members, but there is room for 500.

Can they get 215 new members?

Yes, with the co-operation of the men of Riverton. The dues are one dollar per year. Ask any fireman to propose your name and he will gladly do so.

The meeting passed a resolution instructing the secretary to invite the Fire and Water Committee of the Riverton Borough Council, to attend the Directors' meetings as they would like to have Council in closer touch with the company's activities.

O. Heinrich and his family orchestra entertained with semi-classical and popular tunes.

Mildred, five-year-old daughter of Mr. Heinrich, sang several selections which were much enjoyed by the gathering.

Speakers

Frank Mathews, a prominent young lawyer, of Palmyra, addressed the firemen and discussed the value of many "useless" statutes on our State and Federal books today. He also dwelt upon the subjects of law observance, democracy and the relationship between civilization and the fundamental principles of law.

M. J. "Mac" McDermot, also of Palmyra, spoke on the work of the Customs Department. This veteran of 35 years' customs service, said that the total duties collected by the U. S. in 1928 was approximately $537,000,000, New York City turning in about $325,000,000 of that amount, while Philadelphia' collections were about $1,000,000 weekly. Mr. McDermot gave these figures to illustrate the vastness of the customs work.

The speaker encouraged the firemen to work for a new fire house.

Favors New Building

Councilman Edward R. Williams made a short address in favor of a new home for the Riverton Fire Company and said he would back the proposition to push it through.

Mr. Williams further said that, with the completion of a bridge at Palmyra and another at Burlington, this section of the State must grow. Riverton could not stand still—it would have to keep abreast of the times, and one way of stepping ahead would be the erection of a modern fire house.

Very excellent refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary.

The "Coming Four," a colored quartette, of East Riverton, rendered several negro spirituals and humorous songs, which were roundly applauded. Some of the boys favored with dance exhibitions.

The quartette is composed of Elzie Stanford, Joseph Johnson, Royand James Branch and Pin Scott.

LOUIS N. NORRIS

Louis N. Norris died at his home at Melrose Highland, Mass., Sunday. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at Melrose Highlands. Mr. Norris and family lived on Linden avenue, Riverton, for several years, moving away about ten years ago.

PALMYRA WOMAN HONORED IN SOUTH

Presents Bible and Marker in Memory of Sailor Who Died in France

Mrs. William F Letford, of Palmyra, who, last week, returned home after a short stay in Barnesville, North Carolina, has just received an issue of "The Robesonian," a newspaper published at Lumberton, North Carolina, with an item published as follows:

"At a meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary held here this week the outstanding part of the program was an interesting and impressive talk by Mrs. William Penn Letford, of Palmyra, New Jersey, a World War Volunteer worker, who is interested and working with the boys near her home and in the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

"Mrs. Letford told something of her work in visiting the boys in the hospitals and the Navy Yard, gets in touch with the boys' mothers or nearest relatives and does the little things for them that she imagines their own mother would do for them if they could be near them.

"In this work, she came to know Elbreth Pope Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Johnson, of Barnesville, who was drowned in Nantes, France, on June 25, 1918, while serving as an electrician in the United States Navy. In his memory, Mrs. Letford presented a Bible and Silk Marker to the Bethesda Methodist Church at Barnesville.

"The following article was published in the North Carolina Christian Advocate, Greensboro, North Carolina, on January 24, 1929: 'To Live In Hearts We Leave Behind Is Not to Die.'

"On Sunday, January 13th, a very impressive service was held in the new Bethel M. E. Church, near Barnesville, North Carolina, in the presence of the presiding elder, the Rev. R. C. Smith, Dr. Plyler, editor of the North Carolina Christian Advocate and a large congregation.

"The church was decorated with flags and ferns and special music was rendered under the direction of Mrs. Ola J. Barnes.

"Through the church window could be seen an American flag waving over the grave of Elbreth Pope Johnson, who was drowned in Nantes, France, June 25, 1918, while serving as an electrician in the United States Navy during the late war.

"Mrs. William Penn Letford, of Palmyra, New Jersey, a Volunteer Worker at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, who met young Johnson while his ship lay in the Philadelphia port, was present. She became so impressed by his manly Christian character, representing the teachings of a Christian home, that she wrote his mother and a lasting friendship has been formed.

"Her visit at this time was to present to his church a large Bible and beautiful silk marker in memory of the young lad.

"Mrs. Charles J. Butler, of Philadelphia, a Volunteer Worker, who knew Johnson, was also present and made an address in which she emphasized the Christian life and high ideals of the Johnson boy. The parents, four brothers and four sisters, survive and were present at the services."

THIEVES RANSACK RIVERTON HOME

Watches, Jewelry and Money Taken From Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr.

Thursday evening of last week when Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., returned to their home after being away for the day, they found their home at 305 Highway, Riverton, had been ransacked.

Watches, jewelry and money were taken and some other valuables were left, showing the intruder had been scared off. Director Williams, Officer Gootee and the State Police investigated but were unable to find any clues.

The Riverton police were called Friday night to Joseph T. Evans' office on Main street, but upon investigation found nothing disturbed.

John Kelley, of Riverside, was arrested Sunday night for reckless driving. Justice of the Peace Coddington fined him $10 and costs. Officers Miller and Gootee made the arrest.

JOHN WILKINS

John Wilkins, aged 74, died at his home at Cinnaminson, early Tuesday morning, after being sick for about three weeks.

A daughter, Miss Theresa Wilkins, who is a nurse at the Naval Hospital, Norfolk, Va., and two sons, James, who made his home with his father, and John Wilkins, of Riverside, survive him.

Mass was held this Thursday morning at the Sacred Heart Church, Riverton, and interment made at St. Peter's cemetery, Riverside.

NOTICE

Nominating petitions for the annual school election may be had from William A. Donaghy, district clerk, or may be obtained at the offices of Griscom and Rogers, 9 East Broad Street, Palmyra. The election will be held this year on Wednesday night, February 13, at the Delaware avenue school. Petitions must be filed with the district clerk at least five days before the election in order for names to be printed on the ballots.

LIONS CLUB TO OFFER FINE PRIZES AT PARTY

Large Number of Card Players Expected to Be On Hand to Try Their Luck

The committee of ladies in charge of the card party to be given by the Lions Club of Palmyra-Riverton wishes to announce that arrangements have been made to take care of a great number of players. Besides using both floors of Society Hall, Palmyra, another place has been engaged. This assures everyone who wishes to play at this party the opportunity to do so.

Arrangements have also been made to have at least one prize to every four players. The prizes continue to come in and there is every reason to believe that when they are put on display on the night of the party, they will certainly substantiate the claims made regarding them.

There will be tables of pinochle, five hundred and bridge. The date is February 12. The place, Society Hall, Palmyra, and the admission, 50 cents.

K. C. KNIGHTS GO TO MOUNT HOLLY

Palmyra-Riverton Council Joins Big Meeting at County Seat

A fine representation from St. Joseph's Council joined with the rest of the Burlington County Knights at the Mt. Holly Theatre last Sunday to hear Father Turner, State Deputy, J Connor French, Supreme Director, John O'Neil and Ed. Walsh, of Orange.

Subjects of various natures were discussed and Father Turner's message contained an urgent request for all members of the K. of C in the state to take advantage of the retreat house at West End, New Jersey, of which he is chaplain. Every council has a time alloted for its members to make a visit to West End and for three days forget the cares and worries of our every day routine.

Final arrangements have been made to accept the invitation of Haddon Heights Council and every member of St. Joseph's has signed up to make the trip. Advance news from the White Horse Pike town indicates that as their special guests the Riverton-Palmyra Knights are to be royally treated. Cars will leave the headquarters Monday night, February 4, at 7:30.

What is termed as a dance-card party deluxe is being arranged by a committee of local Knights and the affair taken from any angle promises to eclipse any such event ever held in these communities.

Numerous prizes for everybody whether you dance, play cards or just look on.

R. J. Woods is chairman and announces that when the list of prizes is published there undoubtedly will be a rush for the tickets which can be purchased from any member of the council.

Several new pieces of furniture and floor lamps have been added to the hall equipment, and the commissary department under the direction of George Porter, is in full swing.

Date for the card party-dance is Monday night, February 11, and cards will be dealt at 8:30 and at that time the orchestra will play for the first dance number, "Let's Make Whoopee." If you don't play cards you can dance and if you are too tired for either, just come along anyhow and see the fun, and probably take home a nice prize.

MEN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS FOR 1929

William McConnell is new President, Stanley Green is Vice-President

The Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, was entertained by strictly home talent at its meeting Monday night.

The feature of the evening was an illustrated lecture on electricity by George Conover, of Palmyra, which was very instructive and much appreciated.

The musical program was under the direction of D. Gray Schwartz and proved to be exceptionally entertaining. Mrs. D. Gray Schwartz sang two beautiful soprano solos. She was accompanied by Mrs. Rachel M. Lord at the piano. Fred Schroepfer rendered two violin solos. Mr. Schwartz sang two selections, one of which was in Spanish.

Officers for the coming year were elected at Monday's meeting. The new officers are William McConnell, president; Stanley Green, vice-president; John McConnell, recording secretary; Floyd Spahr, corresponding secretary; C. F. Shaw, financial secretary, and Harry E. Davis, treasurer.

GEORGE VAIL WILLIAMS

George Vail Williams, aged 62, passed away early Tuesday morning after being ill for a year and a half. He came to Riverton from New York State about six years ago, and was employed at Dreer's Nursuries. He was a member of the Universalist Church, at Broad and Montgomery; of the Baha'i Assembly, of Philadelphia; a poet and writer and took an active interest in world affairs.

Viewing Friday night and services Saturday afternoon at 2:30, at the Shover funeral home. Interment at Morgan cemetery, Palmyra.

NO DAMAGES IN SUIT OVER DEATH

Mrs. Latch, Riverton, Allowed Fees in Settlement of $25,000 Claim

A suit for $25000 damages in the death of W Reese Latch, of Riverton, was non-suited in Circuit Court in Mount Holly before Judge Frank B Jess, last week and a second suit for a similar amount was settled by agreement of counsel.

Latch was an assistant agent for Public Service in Burlington. Two suits were instituted by Mrs Julia S Latch, widow. She was represented by former State Senator Albert S Woodruff, Camden. The suits were against Harold B Miles, of Middletown, N. J.

It was contended that truck owned by the defendant struck a car driven by Latch on June 22, 1927, on the road between Moorestown and Bridgeboro. The Latch car was knocked off the highway down an embankment. Mrs Latch was in the car with her husband at the time.

It was alleged Latch was hurled violently against the steering wheel and was injured about the diaphragm. It was contended these injuries caused pneumonia to develop and proved fatal to Latch on August 8, 1927.

Miles was represented by Attorney Norman W Harker, of Mount Holly. It was his contention that after one truck had passed Latch, a second truck, owned by the defendant, came into sight and the Riverton man became confused and drove his car into the rear wheel of the truck.

The plaintiff asked $25,000 damages for the death of her husband and $25,000 additional for the suffering he endured after the accident until his death.

On motion of Harker the Court non-suited the claim for $25,000 for the death of Latch. The attorney said the plaintiff had failed to prove that injuries received by Latch resulted in pneumonia developing, causing death. The attorneys then agreed to settle the other claim for the suffering Latch endured. Mrs. Latch was allowed doctor's and lawyer's fees and other expenses incurred after the accident.

"OWL" TRAIN NOW ON NEW SCHEDULE

Riverfront Residents Attending Theatres Will Be Able to Catch Late Cars

The Pennsylvania Railroad has rescheduled its "owl train" to leave Camden for Trenton almost a half hour later.

The train began on its new schedule Monday night. It now leaves the Camden terminal 11:41. Its former time was 11:18.

Previous to the change, residents of the Riverfront who attended theatres in Philadelphia were unable to return home by train because the "owl" left too early. The re-schedule was made by David N. Bell, passenger traffic manager for the railroad.

RED MEN PLAN GREAT "POW WOW"

Rally to be Held at Pitman on April 17; Many Palefaces to be Adopted

Plans for the largest "pow-wow" ever held of South Jersey tribes of the Improved Order of Red Men are now being made so as to provide the full attendance of 31 units of the order at a rally at Pitman on Wednesday, April 17. A class of over 300 "palefaces" now being recruited in the present State-wide membership campaign will be adopted into Red Menship at the exercises. During the same week, five similar mammoth "pow-wows" will be conducted with like objectives in other sections of New Jersey, thus assuring a membership of at least 1800 for the period.

William A Atkins of Camden, Great Chief of Records of New Jersey, is in charge of the arrangements for the Pitman assembly and is cooperating in his efforts with the national headquarters of the order at Philadelphia, which are in charge of Herbert F. Stelzer of Haddon Heights, the Great Chief of Records of the United States, and Past Great Sachem of New Jersey.

The big South Jersey "pow-wow" at Pitman will be attended by the tribes of Red Men from Camden, Gloucester, Pedrickstown, Woodstown, Paulsboro, Glassboro, Ateo, Moorestown, Haddonfield, Pennsgrove, Mullica Hill, Elmer, Blackwood, Palatine, Williamstown, Clementon, Berlin, Woodbury, Medford, Salem, Westmont, Pitman, Audubon, Westville, Ewan, Maple Shade and Chews Landing.

RIVERTON BOARD PREPARES BUDGET

Proposition of Portable Building Will be Submitted at Annual Meeting

The Riverton Board of Education adopted the budget for the year 1929-30 at an adjourned meeting held in the school Monday evening of this week.

The budget this year amounts to $51,280, which is an increase of $2,235 over last year. The increase is due largely to the increase of tuition rates from $100 to $125 in Palmyra and Moorestown High Schools, and the installation of two modern and sanitary lavatories.

George D. Steedle reported for the property committee that the new lavatories would cost $1500. The appropriation for repairs was made $3,000 to take care of this expense.

Income from the State and other sources reduces the amount to be raised by taxes to $38,174.

Portable Building Recommended

Mr. Steedle presented a resolution to purchase and erect a portable school building at a cost of $5,000. The board adopted the resolution. This item is not included in the budget as it is to be one of the questions on the ballot at the annual election, February 13.

This action is necessary as the Flanagan property on Main stret is no longer adequate or suitable for school purposes, in the opinion of the board. The classes now being held in the Flanagan house will be transferred after this school year either to the present school or the new one.

A communication was received from the Moorestown District Clerk, notifying the Riverton Board of Education of the $25 increase of tuition.

Members of the Board of Education will be elected at this meeting. The members whose terms are expiring this year are: Mrs C. C. Miller, Mrs. Frederick Blair and H. K. Rutherford.

Mrs. Blair and Mr. Rutherford will be candidates for re-election. Mrs. Miller will not be a candidate.

CUMMING'S GROUP CLAIM VICTORY

Protesting Stockholders Confident of Electing New Board of Directors for Palmyra Ferry

An "indignation" meeting of the Cummings group of stockholders in the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company was held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, last Saturday night.

These shareholders are dissatisfied with the present management of the company and have nominated an entire slate of candidates to oppose the present board of directors at the annual meeting to be held February 14.

The meeting Saturday was called to decide whether or not a receiver should be asked to take over the affairs of the company. It was decided that since the protesting stockholders were confident of electing their candidates a receivership would be unnecessary.

The candidates which have been nominated to oppose the present board of directors are Joseph F. Evans, Marlton; Alfred F. Kirby, Medford; Mrs Howard E. DeCou, Merchantville; W. Roger Test, Moorestown; Herbert L. Adams, Edgewater Park; Arthur V. Woolston, Beverly; Walter H. Cummings, Palmyra; James Weintraub, William Freihoser, Sr., Thomas W. Biddle and A. W. Margerum, all of Philadelphia, and Earl G. Kegler, York, Pa.

BAPTISTS HOLD FIRST SERVICES IN NEW BUILDING

Attendance Records Nearly Broken First Day in New Sunday School Edifice

PASTOR DELIVERS APPROPRIATE SERMON

Glee Club of Samaritan Bible Class Takes Part in "Season in Song"

Sunday, January 27, 1929, will be a memorable date in the history of the Central Baptist Church and Sunday School at this marked the opening of the new Sunday School building, an event which has been looked forward to with great anticipation.

In spite of the illness of many of the members and regular attendants, and notwithstanding the fact that this was not the official dedicatory exercises of the new building, nearly 400 were present at the Sunday School and perhaps a greater number attended the church service that followed.

The opening program consisted of a period of prayer which was followed by words of welcome from the Epworth M. E. Sunday School, extended in its behalf by the superintendent, Edwin A. Griscom.

Present Gift

Thomas C. Van Osten, in behalf of the members of the building committee, presented Clarence T. Yerkes, president of that committee, a gift as a token of their appreciation for his untiring efforts and services which he has given during the preliminary work leading up to the construction of this fine edifice, and the many months of endeavor in seeing it to its completion.

As a part of a season in song, the Glee Club of the Samaritan Class rendered "The Heavens Are Telling," under the direction of its leader, Edward Hoyt.

A most appropriate and well delivered sermon was preached by the Rev. George Lockett, at the morning service. It was inspirational as well as being very instructive.

The 18th Anniversary of the Philathea Class of the Sunday School, one of the largest and most active women's classes in South Jersey, was observed and fittingly celebrated by attendance at the evening church service. Pastor Lockett again had a very appropriate and interesting message and he, with Mrs. A. C. Hirsch, embellished the evening with the rendition of a vocal duet.

Inspect Building

Following every service many lingered to inspect and to acquaint themselves with their new quarters which were generally admired.

This Sunday, February 3, the services will be as follows:

10:00 a. m. Sunday School.
11:15 a. m. Church Service. Subject—"Everlasting Life."
7:45 p. m. Church Service. Subject—"Sure Anchor."

Prayer Service Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

The public is cordially invited to attend all or as many of these services to be held in the Central Baptist Church which has been, is, and always will be known as "The Home-like Church."

INTOXICATED DRIVER GETS THIRTY DAYS

Two Young Women Treated for Shock and Bruises After Accident Near Palmyra.

William Norton, 20 years old, of 1836 South Thirty-third street, Philadelphia, is now serving a 30-day term in the county jail at Mount Holly for driving an automobile while intoxicated, as a result of an accident last Sunday, near Palmyra.

Norton was driving a car owned by Warren Briswine, 18 years old, of 1909 South Crosskey street, Philadelphia, in which Briswine and two young women were passengers, when it crashed into a tree opposite Steele's Nursery, near Five Points.

Officer Nelson Wallace, of the Palmyra police force, went to the scene of the accident and brought all four of the occupants of the car to the offices of Police Physician LeFavor. One of the young women, Helen McDermott, 18, 2430 Passyunk avenue, Philadelphia, was treated for cuts and bruises and shock. Rose Kelly, 18, 2430 Delper street, was treated for shock.

Norton and Briswine were pronounced intoxicated by Dr. LeFavor and put in the lockup overnight. Their companions were released. Norton was sentenced to 30 days in jail for driving while intoxicated when taken before Police Justice Fichter, while his companion was released after paying a fine on a charge of drunkenness.

MARY C. WARD

Mrs. Mary C. Ward, 62 years old, died at her home on January 26.

The deceased is survived by two sons, John Ward and Bert Ward, and one daughter, Mrs. William Powers, all of Palmyra.

Funeral services were held at her late residence, 800 Parry avenue, Tuesday at one o'clock p. m. Interment was made in Fernwood Cemetery, Philadelphia, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Rev. J. William Lee assisted the officiating pastor.

REEVE SENTENCED 10 YEARS IN PRISON

Former Medford Bank Cashier Also Must Pay Fine of $20,000

Edward B. Reeve, former cashier of the Burlington County National Bank at Medford, was sentenced to ten years in state prison and fined $20,000 in Burlington County Criminal Court at Mount Holly last Thursday morning by Judge William A. Slaughter.

Reeve appeared in court to change to non vult his pleas of not guilty entered January 10 to 61 indictments charging forgery and embezzlement.

There were tense moments in the court room when Prosecutor George M. Hillman quietly called the name of "Edward B. Reeve." The aged former banked leaned heavily on a cane while Mr. Hillman read all of the indictments. His attorney, George B. Evans, of Moorestown, entered the pleas.

Reeve's son, Maurice, broke into tears as he gazed at his father. Another son, Paul, looked down to the floor and was greatly moved.

"I knew Mr. Reeve for years," said Prosecutor Hillman, in moving for sentence. "To news of his defalcations was a shock to me as I had great respect for him. But the fact remains, however, that he occupied a position of trust and did steal the public's money and his punishment must be commensurate with that. I know he has suffered from conscience, remorse and dishonor. But justice in this case should be no idle gesture. There is not a person who has occupied a position of trust in Burlington county who has not been affected by his acts."

Evans Scores Bank

Attorney Evans scored the bank officials and board of directors for mismanagement. He said the bank lacked a head or Reeve's shortages would have been discovered years ago.

"Temper mercy with justice. Give him a few years outside of prison. A mere sentence means a life-time to him. He has nothing left. I have searched everywhere and find none of the money hidden. All this is for nought. His wife is penniless. I ask that the sentence be modified."

"How much money did he take?" asked Judge Slaughter.

"$160,000," replied Mr. Hillman.

"He took the funds of the bank and to cover up forget notes," declared Mr. Hillman. "When a call was made the forged notes were used.

"The first $1,500 was used in a farm transaction, I am informed," said Judge Slaughter.

"I have heard a great deal of sympathy expressed for Mr. Reeve, but I haven't heard any from the people whose money he took. The name of nearly every man of standing in Medford was forged to notes.

"I could give you 427 years in state prison under the law and sentence you to pay fines aggregating $122,000."

Then the Court announced Reeve was to serve one year each of ten indictments to run consecutively, a total of ten years. He imposed fines of $2,000 each of the ten indictments. Sentence was suspended on 50 more indictments returned against him on January 3. An indictment charging him with embezzlement of a Liberty Bond was nolle prossed.

Unshackled, Reeve was taken to Trenton from Mount Holly Saturday morning to begin his ten-year sentence for forgery. Deputy Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn and John N. Smith, prison warden, served as escort.

Other Defendants Sentenced

Mrs. Florence Connors, of near Cookstown, who pleaded guilty last week to forging two checks for $30 each, and getting the money for them, was before the bar for sentence, and she was placed on probation for two years but must pay the costs.

John E. Green and Paul I. Stevenson, two young men from Chatsworth who pleaded guilty to stealing two chickens, were fined $75 each.

Silas Babbitt, colored, of Moorestown, pleaded not guilty to a charge of stealing a watch. Babbitt had been turned in by his bondsman, he having failed to appear last week, and after he had pleaded yesterday his bail was fixed at $500, but he went back to jail.

Robert L. Taylor, employed on a farm near Mount Laurel, came in on a waiver and pleaded guilty to stealing an overcoat from his employer. He had previously been before the Court on a charge of larceny, and he went to jail for sixty days.

John Savisci, of Haineeport, sentenced last week to sixty days in jail, to date from the time of his commitment, had his sentence reconsidered and was placed on probation.

Louis Restucci, of Bordentown, charged with having ingredients for the manufacture of liquor and also with having liquor in his possession, who pleaded guilty last week, was sentenced to pay a fine of $300 on the charge of having ingredients, and sentence was suspended on the possession charge.

P. S. EARNINGS CLIMB

Year Ending December 31, 1928, Shows Gain of $10,522,671.73

A comparative statement of combined results of operation for the twelve months ending December 31, 1928, issued by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey shows for the corporation and its subsidiary companies gross earnings of $125,528,580.36 as against $115,005,908.63 for the twelve months ending December 31, 1927, an increase of $10,522,671.73.

Operating expenses maintenance, taxes and depreciation for the period were $88,556,085.55 and increase of $5,920,594.25 leaving a net income from operations of $36,972,494.81 as against $32,970,717.33 for the twelve months ending December 31, 1927, an increase of $4,001,777.48.

Other net income amounted to $3,089,961.85 and income deductions to $17,990,267.06, the balance for dividends and surplus being $22,972,189.60 as compared to $14,334,315.75 for the twelve months ending December 31, 1927, an increase of $8,637,873.85.

Superintendent's Report Shows Great Work Being Done by County Hospital

Year Has Shown Change from Insufficiently Equipped Suburban Institution to One Equal to Any Beautiful and Modern Hospital

Making his annual report to the Board of Managers of the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly, Superintendent William F. Slover brings out in highly informing detail some of the pleasing developments of the new hospital operation since it was first occupied last May. He calls attention to the fact that a radical change has been accomplished. From a small, insufficiently equipped, suburban hospital it is now what may be compared favorably with any modern, beautifully equipped city hospital. There is no better hospital building, for its size, anywhere at this date; none more modern in its appointments, nor more economical, efficient, and convenient in management.

Mr. Slover says: "The hospital knows no creed nor color, but gives generously of its service to those who need it, and the denomination of the patients taken as a matter of record and for statistical purposes only.

"In reviewing the accomplishments and achievements since May 15 of my administration, which date marked the opening of this new structure, we can see many progressive and far-looking policies brought into execution.

"To prepare this building for occupancy was a tremendous undertaking. The magnitude of this first task was realized only after the work was completed. To organize this hospital, to engage people for its various positions and to instruct each one in their various duties required long and arduous hours and days of work. To retain a stabilized personnel and to keep a good, harmonious working spirit inculcated in the minds of all, was the thought uppermost in mind. This thought has been successfully carried out.

3,000 at Opening

"The grand opening date of the building witnessed over 3,000 people taking advantage of our invitation to inspect the new quarters.

"All of the departments have cooperated splendidly and friction, if any, has been kept at an irreducible minimum.

"At this point I desire to bring to your attention the difficulty of securing competent help (this does not include department heads) in both the housekeeping and dietary departments. The housekeeping personnel has been greatly improved and stabilized, and I now believe represents the best services available for the salaries paid.

"Since everyone is capable judge of food qualities particular attention has been paid to this department. Several changes have been required there. When it is considered that most of the people in this department receive only a small amount a month, some of the problems of the superintendent is securing competent and well-qualified people are realized. After all, we are only dealing with human beings, and 'to err is human.' Not to correct mistakes is inexcusable, but to solve them is commendable.

"In reviewing the medical and nursing performances, we see that many critically ill people have been restored to health, and people severely injured have been returned home well and able once more. The results speak for themselves when we consider the low mortality rate.

"The efficiency of the office staff commends itself to everyone.

"The one desire in selecting the hospital's personnel is to attract competent, efficient, courteous and industrial people. They must fit in well, and cooperate harmoniously with others. We have attempted to instill the spirit of loyalty into the hospital organization and kind treatment to those with whom they come in contact, especially patients.

Sudden Increase

"The population report for the year shows a tremendous increase in the amount of work performed. In order to cope with this situation successfully it was necessary for us to be prepared in advance for a sudden increase in population, which was experienced within a few weeks after occupying our new building.

"The average length of time, per patient, within the hospital of ten days, is the average of larger hospitals, according to the 'Bulletins of the American Hospital Association.'

"Total patient days for the fiscal year 1928 is 10,436; an increase over the preceding year of 6,000 patient days. There is an increase in 1928 of 730 patients admitted over 1927. This increase is almost double the admissions in 1927.

"The percentage of free patient days for 1927 was 56 per cent (Figure taken from Page 11 of the 48th Annual Report); for 1928, 47 per cent, a decrease during the past year in the proportions of free work of 9 per cent.

"There were 285 T. and A. cases admitted to the hospital clinic during the fiscal year, and the income derived from this source amounted to $1,100.

"Hospital income per day for every patient admitted shows for the fiscal year 1927, $1.51. For 1928, $2.43, an increase of 92 cents per day for each patient admitted to the hospital. This figure should go even higher next year.

"The total cash income taken in at the hospital office from patients only was over $40,000. There was $15,000 collected in excess of the amount anticipated.

Proportionate Cost Cut

"It cost $40,300 per year to operate the old hospital. In the new building we are doing over three times as much work as in the old. To arrive at the figure of what it would cost to do this amount of working proportion in the old building, would amount to approximately $121,000. Next year's budget for the new hospital calls for $125,000, but from this figure we must deduct $8,000, the expense of conducting a training school; a feature not in existence in the old building, making a net cost of $117,000 to operate the new building. Now, in proportion, the new building is less expensive to operate than the old, and at the same time it dispenses a high grade service to all, who need hospital treatment and care. In other words, while it takes more money, naturally to operate a larger building, yet the expense in proportion is less and the income greater. Only efficiency of the highest order can produce these results.

"The amount of money saved by discounts offered to the hospital for the fiscal year amounted to $329.25, and the amount of money saved by cash discounts taken, for three months, since October 1, amounted to $48.93.

"On March 26 the Business Committee approved the form of organization submitted, which included positions of department heads and subordinates. The quality of nursing personnel has been brought to a higher level. The household work presents an immaculate appearance throughout the entire building. The laundry functions as a model of efficiency, while the other departments are working at an accepted standard.

"In order to establish rates for the new hospital similar data was secured from a number of other hospitals to form a basis for action. This proved very satisfactory, and incidentally, was most helpful.

"The task of preparing the building for public inspection was stupendous. Nevertheless, all the details were carried out successfully. In this connection, the personnel of the hospital at that time deserves much commendation for successfully completing the difficult task.

Transferring Patients

"The matter of transferring fifteen patients from the old to the new building was uneventful, and the entire undertaking was easily met, without incident, by a smoothly running organization.

"No one was able to determine at that time how large a patient population we might have. In order to successfully cope with any situation which might arise, it was absolutely necessary that we be prepared for any emergency. The fact that the sudden large increase in population was easily handled demonstrates the wisdom of such preparedness.

"Suggestions hae been made to the Board for the improvement of the hospital service. Those which were offered were put into practice.

"The necessity for proper recognition of the hospital by the proper authorities was observed. With this in mind it was resolved to bring this honor to the hospital. The proper State officials were invited to inspect the institution. The inspection was made, and the hospital was approved by (1) The New Jersey State Board of Medical Examiners. (2) The New Jersey State Board of Nursing, and (3) conditionally approved by the American College of Surgeons. The hospital was also approved and accepted for interns by the State of Maryland and Delaware.

"Considering the short time the hospital has been occupied, and the salaries our budget permits us to pay, we believe our personnel from beginning to end is unexcelled, and is the equal of any to be found elsewhere under similar conditions.

"It is felt that the accomplishments far outweigh such mistakes as might have been made in the establishment of such an institution on a working basis when problems of magnitude had to be overcome. The work done by the organization certainly warrants a continued confidence in the administration."

Group Reporter

Bruce Davidson, Reporter

The Lincoln Pioneers Group of Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. held its regular weekly meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building at Broad and Garfield avenue, Palmyra, Wednesday of last week, at 7.30 p. m. As Mrs. Taylor, our group leader, had not arrived as yet, some of us went downstairs and played a few records on the phonograph while others looked at the magazines on the table, among which are the Popular Aviation, Popular Mechanics, Popular Science, etc. These books are very educational and helpful to ambitious boys or men.

When Mr. Taylor arrived, he called all the boys into the meeting room. This was about 7.45 p. m., later than our regular meeting time. As usual, the meeting was opened with a word of prayer, this time by Howard Yerkes. The attendance was then marked up and the dues collected.

Boys Get Reprimand

Bill Cooper had a bunch of letters from the Airplane Model League of America and handed them to Mr. Taylor to read to the boys, but he did not have the opportunity, as at that moment Mr. Carter came in and asked whether he could speak. Of course, this was readily granted. He said that some boy had written something on the radio and in case that boy was in our group, he gave us a reprimand.

He said he didn't think the boy was in our group and also said that most of us had likely seen the sign downstairs saying that "Your Group could earn $25.00." To earn that amount of money, you must sell one hundred boxes of Goff's Atlantic City Salt Water Taffy. These are 50 cents a box and they are very good, because Mr. Carter brought us up a box to sample, so that proves they are good, doesn't it? We will be ready to sell the people of Palmyra and Riverton some of this fine candy.

Discuss Meeting Plans

Bill Cooper then handed out some membership blanks for the A. M. L. A. Clubs. Every boy took one, filled it out and gave it back. These blanks were then put away.

Plans were then discussed for our meeting (A. M. L. A.) Tuesday afternoon, right after school. There will be another of our regular meetings Wednesday night of next week.

At about 8.30 our meeting was adjourned and we got the basketball and started choosing up sides, but this time the same as last week, we (Bill Headington's team), lost, 24 to 9.

We also played the "game in the dark."

At 9.35, Mr. Taylor told us it was time for us to go home, so we all adjourned.

TOWNSHIPS ASK AID OF COUNTY

State Permits Freeholders to Help with Connecting Roads and Feeders

Under a resolution passed by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, last Friday, the board may assist in the repair and maintenance of municipally owned roads that lead into and connect county highways as provided for in the State law. At the previous meeting of the Board, January 11th, the County was asked to aid in repairing a stretch of road four-tenths of a mile long between the Tabernacle and Indian Mill roads.

The freeholders will notify the township authorities of the possibility so a proposition may be presented and an agreement entered into between the freeholders and the township.

Mt. Laurel Township sent a petition to the meeting asking that the County take over a four-tenths of a mile stretch of road between a present county road and the Camden County line. The adjoining county will probably take over the part of the road lying in Camden County. This road crosses four state, five county and two township roads. The petition was ordered received and referred to the Road Department.

Permission was granted the Public Service Corporation to erect twenty-one poles on the Marlton-Medford Pike under the supervision of the County Engineer and Director of Roads.

A communication was received from the Mt. Holly Chamber of Commerce asking permission to paint the town's name on the roof of the County Garage, Maple avenue, Mt. Holly. This is in compliance with a suggestion sent out by the Post Office Department to aid air travel. The permission was granted.

The Pennsylvania Railroad asked to have the foot walk on a trestle at New Lisbon widened and a guard rail erected. The communication was referred to the director of public buildings.

A County Workhouse was recommended once more by the Grand Jury as a means to improve prisoners, morally and mentally. The report said that idleness is an evil in jail. The report was received and filed.

The following bills were ordered paid:

Roads, $2,705; Bridges, $470; Finance, $4,278; Public Buildings, $14,434; Public Affairs, $2,722.

LAWSON-GIBERSON

An attractive wedding took place Saturday afternoon at 6.30, January 26, when Miss Margaret Mary, daughter of Mr and Mrs. A. C. Giberson, was married to Mr. Andrew Herbert Lawson, of Philadelphia, in the Epworth Methodist Church, at Palmyra. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Lockett.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin trimmed with heavy lace, a long tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. She was attended by Miss Mabel Wismer as maid of honor. Miss Wismer wore pale green satin-face moire and green slippers, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses, narcissus and heather, tied with green tulle.

The bridesmaids were Miss Helene Johnson, of Palmyra, and Miss Margaret Jessen, of Highstown, who wore orchid satin-face moire with slippers to match and carried old-fashioned nosegays of sweet peas, snap dragons, marguerites and roses, in variegated colors, tied with orchid tulle.

The little flower girl, Ruth Sendering, a niece of the bride, wore a green chiffon dress, white slippers and carried a basket filled with red roses.

The groom was attended by Mr. Clement Arrison, of Philadelphia. The ushers were Mr. David Kline and Mr. Joseph McFadden, both of Philadelphia.

Miss Mary Steedle sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

The wedding march was played by Herman Weidmeir, organist of St. Mathews' Lutheran Church, Philadelphia.

About one hundred guests attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents on Charles street.

After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Lawson will reside in Germantown.

P. T. A. NEWS

The Riverton Parent-Teachers' Association meeting was addressed last Thursday, January 24, by Mr. William Sampson of the State Department of Health. The subject of his talk was "Social Hygiene and the Child," and his audience evinced great interest. He spoke urgently on the necessity of informing children early along this line and emphasized the damage ignorance of sex may constitute even at pre-high school age. He stated that the Bureau of Social Hygiene would gladly send literature to assist any parents who wrote for help in presenting this difficult subject. Altogether the response to this lecture was such that Mrs. Blair hopes to arrange for another to follow by Dr. Carey Weaver Smith.

PORCH CLUB

A "Covered Dish" luncheon for club members is scheduled for Tuesday February 5, at one o'clock, at the Porch Club. Mrs. Edward K. Merrill should be notified for reservations. A short business meeting and a musical program will follow the luncheon. Under the direction of Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., members of the Music Study Class will give several numbers, vocal and instrumental, by Edward A. MacDowell, the late American composer whom the class has been studying this winter. Those taking part will include Mrs. George M. Becker, Mrs. Samuel W. Collin, Mrs. Kenneth B. Thomason, Mrs. Alfred VanOsten and Mrs. Ralph S. Rivers.

PALMYRA SCHOOL CONTEST EXPECTED

Several Candidates Already in Field for Four Vacancies on Board

Four vacancies are to be filled on the Palmyra Board of Education at the election to be held February 13.

Three members whose terms expire are candidates for reelection. They are George W. Rogers, Mrs. A. C. Giberson and George J. Spencer. A fourth vacancy has been created by the resignation of Arthur Mathews.

It is understood Alfred Van Osten, of Washington avenue, and Francis Durnin, of Cleveland avenue, will also be candidates and there are reports that Stanley Green, of Garfield avenue, is considering making the race. Mr. Green was a candidate last year.

1929 BUDGETS FOR P. S. ARE APPROVED

Fund of $34,000,000 Appropriated for Electric, Gas and Coordinated Transport Departments

Budgets for 1929 of the subsidiary operating companies of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey, representing a total of more than $34,000,000, have been approved by the Board of Directors.

This amount provides for new construction, extensions and betterments in furnishing gas, electric and transportation services in the Public Service territory in New Jersey.

Budgets for 1928 approximated $37,000,000, some of which, not expended last year, will be available this year in addition to the 1929 appropriation.

Of this sum, more than $22,000,000 will be used by the Electric Department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company, and the Gas Department will spend more than $4,000,000. Over $7,500,000 has been apportioned to Public Service Coordinated Transport for new equipment, track renewals, buildings and general items having to do with the improvement of the operations of electric street cars and buses.

WOVEN HAT

Just now, although still muffled in fur, we find the hat that leans toward the lightness of spring a most welcome change from the heavier felts that have been upon our heads for the past three months. We cannot quite see ourselves venturing forth in straw. But the hat of crepe, or laise—that new millinery fabric that resembles very closely the weave of Jersey—interest us tremendously and prove practical for present needs.

Chautauqua, P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra, February 9th to 12th.

This article is dedicated to the present Ferry Directors.

Had shareholders' interests in Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company been loyally and capably safeguarded, when certain directors of said Company organized their Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Company, as a competitor, which will put us out of business, without any real adequate return, for the business we established at this point, with hard-earned money of over SEVEN HUNDRED SHAREHOLDERS, owning over 8600 shares of the Ten Thousand Shares outstanding, and the present (12) directors the balance.

There are eleven directors in Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Company (our COMPETITOR), six of whom are also Ferry Company directors at present date, namely, Charles A. Wright, and Edward W. G. Borer, (President and Treasurer respectively in each Company), Grover C. Richman, (their attorney and ours too), Fletcher W. Stiles who according to last reports still owns two shares of Ferry Stock and thousands of Bridge Stock shares), Leo Niessen, a gentleman heavily interested in both Companies, heavier however in bridge, and Walter C. Wright. Other directors of present board of Ferry Company, are more heavily interested in Bridge Company, than the one they are supposed to represent with loyality and fidelity.

We should have been bought out lock, stock and barrel, at $57.50 per share, and they acted for our interests, instead of their personal interests alone, and Bridge Company should have been given all of our assets, including the noteworthy Hubb's farm, etc. This competitor now being erected—a bridge, will force out of business, just when we should begin to earn a profit. (The summer months are our profitable months only, plus two months, five months out of twelve, we make money—for the officers, of course, I mean $16,000.00, including auditor at $2500.00 per year. Look over the statement (when Mr. Edward W. G. Borer keeps his promise to send each shareholder one as promised at December 1, 1928 meeting held in Palmyra), if ever. George Washington told the truth, even when he cut down the cherry tree, famous in Historic Romance.

Another funny thing Tacony slip and ground cost over $125,000.00, and when Ferry Directors (sold to Bridge Directors six of eleven on Board being at same time Ferry Directors), for $50,000—positively funny how prevaricators figure a profit on a $75,000.00 or more loss.

Still another funny way, they have, these same men, sell about Nine and Three-tenths acres of so-called marsh land for $50,000 in New Jersey, and to satisfy whims of Bridge Company, and their Trustee, we had to spend over $40,000 of that Fifty Thousand Dollars, clearing title satisfying title to their satisfaction. Still another strange thing happened, according to deed recorded at Mount Holly with map, they got Twelve and Six-tenths acres, instead of amount paid for. These Directors are preying on us, instead of praying for us poor stockholders in Ferry Company. (The sale was to cover Nine and Three-tenths acres, for $50,000 stated above). Will they pay $25,000 more for additional dry land they took? Another funny thing happened, when Mr. Edward W. G. Borer, bought three acres of ground from Ferry Company, of which (he is Vice-President and Treasurer (also do or ditto in Bridge Company, whichever you like, do, ditto or just plain ", meaning of course, same thing in Bridge Company). Now for the story he actually offered $6,000.00 per acre, he to have pick of choicest section of any ground we owned, whenever he was ready to pick same. One faithful servant of Ferry Company, was so shocked by price Borer offered, he blurted right out in Directors' meeting, "That's too much Mr. Borer, $5,000 is plenty"—so they sold him same at $5,000 per acre. One stockholder remarked afterward "AIN'T THAT NICE?", to me when he told me the details of Borer's purchase of said three acres.

Is it not rather peculiar, that Bridge Engineers and other numerous employees, automobiles and foot passengers travel free and freely over our Ferries, (which are now losing money every day, except possibly Sunday), while we poor stockholders of Ferry Company pay each time we cross river on same boats?

Owing to fact navigation is interfered with by Bridge piers construction, Ferry Company had to spend at least $8,000 building clump of piles, etc. to safeguard their piers from damage by our boats. In foggy weather we cannot operate our boats, owing to danger in navigation. (We still may lose $100,000 in damage suits or more, by some unavoidable fatality, through our competitor's piers, and other numerous obstructions in Delaware River here at this point).

Speaking of "HARMONY of present (Bridge) FERRY DIRECTORS". It is really remarkable how a man that makes dimes, loves the man, who makes dollars—to his dimes. (See letter of Mr. Wright Nov. 27, 1928). Mr. Borer spoke of a certain man "He is a vain old fool", at the meeting of our selected guests Dec. 1, 1928, P. O. S. of A. Hall. The harmony? is remarkable of these directors of Tacony-Palmyra Ferry and Bridge Companies, but these dual directorships, are not making any money for Ferry Stockholders—NO MATTER HOW MUCH THEY LINE THEIR OWN POCKETS, with the coin of THE REALM. Now the Bridge directors propose (also Ferry), to put a seventy foot driveway diagonally across our farm land, (which will lose us much more, thousands of dollars), while benefiting Bridge Company, again at our expense in their new endeavor to reach Cinnaminson avenue (the present entrance to our ferries in Palmyra, only a thirty foot driveway). Why is this, thus? Ask Mayor Wimer and Bridge Directors. Protest to your Freeholders of Burlington County they are to father this for the Bridge.

The Assassins of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company (largely the Bridge Directors Directors and Ferry Directors interested in the bridge although not Bridge Company Directors) now propose to us that we again elect them as Ferry Directors, to hide the evidence of methods used in said assassination, and allow them to act as Undertakers of said Company and bury the corpse, while we contend new loyal Ferry Company directors, in our family, should handle the corpse, and distribute the estate.

"The best laid schemes o' mice and men
Gang aft a-gley,
And lea'e us nought but grief and pain
For promised joy"

—Robert Burns.
(speaks to Ferry Shareholders.)

At the meeting held Saturday, January 26, the subject for discussion was:
"Shall we authorize application for a receivership of said Company?"
(Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company)

After our Counsel Hon. George M. Hillman, learned we had nominated persons, (who were both capable and honest) he advised against a receivership, being opposed to same, unless Bridge Directors were again elected as Ferry Directors. No man can serve two competitors, one of which (ourselves), is to be given the "Knockout Blow" by action of Ferry Directors, organizing Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Company—owned by a few rich men, and Ferry Company owned by over 700 more or less poor men and women, who have to earn every dollar by sweat of their brows.

Abraham Lincoln now quoted:

"Let us have faith that Right makes Might, and in that Faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

If I recall correctly he also said:

"You can fool all of the people some of the time, some of the people all the time, but not all the people all the time." To which class, do you personally belong?

GROUP REPORTS TELL OF Y DOINGS

Lone Eagles Discuss "Cooperation in the Home" at Saturday's Meeting

The regular weekly meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Lone Eagle Y. M. C. A. Group was held in the Y. M. C. A. Building on Saturday, January 26, 1929. The meeting was called to order by the president, Cecil Guest, and the group united in the Lord's prayer.

Mr. Carter, our leader, took charge of the Bible Study and Idle Problem period. The topic for the evening's discussion was: "Co-operation in the Home." We were asked why it was that we did not mind working for others, but when at home we were asked to do something we always tried to put it off on sister or brother.

This does seem rather strange and the points emphasized by the leader were that we should try not to do this and to do things at home without being told, that is, we should fix the fire, and do like things without our dads having to get after us. It was found out that each one of us had cost our parents up to the present time $1500, and it is up to us to try to repay this by being thoughtful.

The secretary, Charles Woolston, called the roll and the dues were collected by the treasurer, Walter Hirst.

This meeting marked the close of our selling campaign of Goff's Salt Water Taffy. We worked hard all this past week and when the sales of the individual fellows were chalked up it was found that we had sold 170 pounds of this fine candy. The money that we receive from this sale is going into foreign Y. M. C. A. work. Our group has pledged fifty dollars to this work and we intend to work until we have this amount.

A prize of $2.50 in gold was offered to the fellow who sold the most of this candy during the week and it was awarded to Paul Guest, who sold 63 boxes.

It was with regret that we did not have a full attendance because it had been planned to take a number of flashlight photographs of the group. This must be postponed until the attendance is perfect.

It might be well to note here that the Year book of the group is coming along fine. A number of very fine margin designs have been turned in to the year book director, Walter Barclay. Our present plan calls for having this book completed by the first of April and then have it on display at the Y. M. C. A. building for one month, then send it to Mt. Holly to compete in the contest with the books from other "Y" groups throughout the county.

The meeting next week is to be known as "Leader's Night," and our leader is to have complete charge of everything from the very beginning to the end of the meeting. We cannot help but wonder what is in store for us.

Let us again invite you, reader of this paper, to come visit us some Saturday night. We only ask one thing, that you let us know in advance of your coming so we may plan on entertaining you.

It was decided to increase our membership to 20 members, which means that we have room for 6 fellows. If you want to join, see one of the group members and have him bring you to the meeting on Saturday night.

PAUL GUEST,
Reporter.

Leader's note—I want to publicly commend Paul Guest for his fine work as the reporter and as the champion salesman of the group.

WIDE SIDE BRIM A FEATURE

Imports show several models with the side brim which in its most attractive form is used on one side only, the other part of the hat fitting closely to the head. When the hat has a tiny brim across the front the tendency toward trimming extends backward, or to the side back where pleats or tucks or a gathered draping of the felt give nice variety of line.

CLARA BOW FEATURES WALT WHITMAN BILL

Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week brings an exceptional bill of entertainment to the patrons of the Walt Whitman Theatre. The feature vaudeville attraction is Ree Arnette & Co. in a "Musical Interlude" of classical and jazzical tunes. This production brings an unusual combination of musical instruments played exceptionally well by a company of six talented artists.

Another feature will be The Howard Trio in "A Little of This and That," for laughing purposes only.

Vic and Peggy Binns take care of the terpsichorean end of the programme in an oddity that they call "A Transcontinental Dance Travesty."

More comedy is provided by Nathan and Bannion, two Broadway comedians who will bring forth "Laughs That Last."

A decided innovation is offered by Margaret Freeman, musical comedy primo-donna, who will do the unusual in acting as hostess and mistress of ceremonies.

The screen feature brings the popular favorite, Clara Bow, in "Three Week Ends," by Elinor Glyn. In this picture Clara Bow is supported by Neal Hamilton, Harrison Ford, Lucille Powers, Julia Swayne Gordon, Jack Raymond, Edith Chapman and William Holden. The picture is directed by Clarence Badger who has to his credit such notable successes as "It," "Red Hair," "Campus Flirt" and "Swim, Girl, Swim."

This combination of talent has provided one of the hit pictures of the year in "Three Week Ends."

Movietone News Events, and musical features by Joseph T. Powers, the popular Walt Whitman Theatre organist, and the orchestra, under the direction of Robert W. Taylor, comprise added features to another one hundred per cent. programme.

A statesman is a politician who can keep a majority of the voters fooled.

How Big

The answer to this old nursery rhyme question was emphasized in Edna Ferber's novel SO BIG. HOW BIG is one of the questions being stressed in the early days of this new year 1929. How big is this world, bigness being measured by time to reach from point to point or time to communicate between them? One or two maps have been published to show these shrunken distances. How much nearer now, not according to miles, but according to hours of reaching from one to the other are Miami and New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco, England and America. How far from his nearest neighbor is Lieutenant Byrd at present when he states that his nearest neighbor is 2400 miles away? So fancy could play endlessly.

And one of the points being emphasized in connection with attention to these shrunken distances is that this possibility of closer contact and swifter communications gives opportunity of increased sympathy and understanding of friendships between people and nations of the world. A writer along this line cites as convincing instance the fact that just preceding the Spanish War the President of the United States sent a most important message to the King of Spain. This message took an unfortunately long time in reaching the King. The burden of proof must be left to that writer, but he further states that had this message been received in shorter time the war might have been averted. Yet a few days ago President Coolidge talked with King Alfonso over the new radio telephone connection between America and Europe. How much this might have counted in the former emergency! Add to shortening distances by air mail, air flight and radio telephone the newer invention of television, which enables a man not only to talk across continents or oceans, but to see the man with whom he is conversing, and miles shrink more and more. More and more do possibilities of understanding and friendliness increase.

These all tend towards one great tremendous thing: understanding, sympathy, friendliness have already been named, internationalism is yet another word. But the fundamental underlying fact is that man approaches that era when at last he understands that the interests of all the world are knit together, that these interests cannot be torn apart without injury to the whole, that they must be consolidated, conserved.

Communication even reaches out insistently towards the stars. The world may have shrunken in possibilities of covering distances and in communicating, it has grown immeasurably in its spirit of goodwill.

Planning a Special Session

Programs are being fixed up for the new administration which starts with the inauguration of Herbert Hoover on March 4. In all probability the special session of Congress that has been decided on will meet about April 15. Congressional leaders will make an effort to confine the business of this special session to the major subjects, first of which will be farm relief; and the second, changes in the tariff.

In an international walking contest held in Paris, French girls were adjudged as the most graceful walkers. But then it's endurance and not grace that counts most, as any American girl who has gone out riding can tell you.

Political Jottings

John M. Chant, of Riverside, is understood to be in line for appointment to the Burlington County Tax Board. The new member will succeed Mrs. Florence W. Jacoby, of Riverton, a Democrat. With this change, control of the Board will pass to the Republicans.

Burlington thus far has two candidates for the Republican Shrievalty nomination, in Deputy Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn and Benjamin F. Farner, and one for the County Clerkship, Elwood H. Russell, who, however, while in business in the river-front city lives in the township of Springside.

The general impression seems to be that former Surrogate Charles A. Rigg, of Burlington, may have the County Judgeship appointment if he wants it, and that he is in a receptive mood, although not willing to enter into a contest for the place.

Recorder Charles C. Cardaka, of Columbus, who has a county-wide acquaintance, has told some of his friends that he is preparing to enter the Republican Shrievalty race this year.

Talk of that District Court for Burlington county, which nobody but its proponents seems to want, persists in a way that suggests there may be "something in it."

J. Aquila Jones, of Mount Holly, is thinking of adding his name to the list of aspirants to the Republican nomination for County Clerk.

STRAWS IN PLAIDS

The popularity of straw cloth inspires designers to develop the plaid motif which appears in advance models shown for Palm Beach wear. One hat with small brim or plain red straw has a crown checked in harmonizing shades of red. Red and navy, brown and beige, green and black in different plaid designs are among the collection.

Quaker Started School Banks

The increasing observance of National Thrift Week has called attention to the rapid growth of school savings banks, which now have forty million dollars of deposits and more than 4,500,000 depositors. The school savings bank, it is now revealed, owes its rise to the genius of an Indiana Quaker, J. R. Stout, who tells the story of the work in the current issue of the American Magazine.

Mr. Stout's father was a school superintendent and his mother a school teacher. When a boy, he read Ben Franklin's Autobiography "at least forty times a year," and from it he became an enthusiast in teaching children the principles of systematic saving.

He organized a group called the "Educational Thrift Service," and ever since he has made it his job to go to the public school authorities in various cities, persuade them to install a school savings bank, and then secure the cooperation of the best banks in the town, making an arrangement with these banks to handle the deposits of the children who fall in line with his plan.

The banks that agree to act as depositories for the children's accounts pay Mr. Stout so much per pupil enrolled in the plan. That's how he gets his living.

"When I started eleven years ago to inaugurate this work," he says, "the banks were slow to join. But now I have no trouble getting them to cooperate, for the idea is intensely practical and has been in successful operation in more than 41 states."

Movies Raise Grades

Some interesting tests with a view to determining the benefits derived from supplementing ordinary instruction by motion picture films illustrating the subjects taught were recently made in schools in San Francisco and eleven other California cities.

In all more than 11,000 children were tested, each school being divided into two groups, one of which received both book and film instructions, the other being taught through text-books only. The tests covered a period of ten weeks, at the end of which examinations were held.

Pupils having the advantage of the motion pictures made grades averaging 33 per cent higher in geography and 15 per cent higher in general science subjects than those who used books alone. This experiment appears to have been extensive enough to warrant the conclusion that the combined book-picture method is highly advantageous in such subjects as those mentioned.

Not only is this method beneficial to the individual pupil, but reducing the number of failures in examinations, it reduces the number of pupils who must repeat courses, thus effecting a saving in expenses for school purposes.

The introduction of educational films is becoming widespread, and there is little doubt that they will become standard equipment for schools of the future.

Would Bar Hoover

Herbert Hoover will not take his seat as President of the United States if Gustav F. Ebding of Cleveland has his way. Ebding has filed a suit with a view to barring Hoover from the office on the ground that he had not resided in the United States for the required length of time before his election.

It appears that Mr. Ebding has some other ideas not shared by people generally; for example, he has written extensively in an effort to prove that the world is flat.

Probably Mr. Hoover is worrying less about Ebding's contention than he is about how to satisfy deserving Republicans who will shortly line up at the political pie counter.

America Renounces War

The Kellog treaty ratified by the Senate is a document of less than 200 words. It condemns "recourse of war," and renounces it "as an instrument of national policy." The treaty also contains an agreement between the nations that "all disputes or conflicts of whatever nature or of whatever origin they may be, which may arise among them, shall never be sought except by pacific means."

Nothing is so certain as that the vices of leisure are dispersed by occupation.

GOLD MINES OF N. J. NEED ADVERTISING

State Has Natural Storehouse or Wealth, But Lacks Propaganda

Lewis Berman, of Wilmington, Delaware, returned last week from California to inspect his properties at Beach Haven.

He states that it required nearly 7000 miles of travelling to discover that New Jersey had a natural storehouse of vast wealth waiting for those with vision to enter and carry away all they could handle.

In speaking to Robert H. Osborn, Beach Haven realtor, he said, "I have learned why California has made such tremendous strides and added immensely to that state's wealth. New Jersey has an opportunity just as great, if not greater, in its miles of beautiful coast-line; for it is much more convenient to population centers."

"The keys that will open this inexhaustible mine of gold are good newspaper advertising, consistently and persistently used; and the cultivation of pride of every Jersey citizen in this invaluable natural resource. Why, even the California children, he says get the benefit of a most skilfully planned propaganda from the day they enter school, and a race of boosters is bred."

"Your grains of ocean-front sand are like the 'Acres of Diamonds' that the late Russell H. Conwell so ably lectured about. The alchemy of advertising will convert these glistening sands into grains of gold when supplemented by the boosting of the Jerseymen; and wealth beyond the dreams of avarice will be added to the state. The new Cross-State Road is also essential, as this will be a feature worth boasting about."

"And," he added, "just look how a well known Florida city is boasting about its violet rays in publications of great circulation. Yet New Jersey's seashore offers violet rays at their maximum efficiency because they are unhampered by smoke or dust; and best of all, they are enjoyable and beneficial 12 months in the year and not only during the winter months."

DID YOU EVER STOP TO THINK?

By Edson R. Waite, Shawnee, Oklahoma

That dealers who sell nationally advertised lines realize that they are offering the public the kind of goods they want.

That the people realize that well advertised lines are the best, and the best is what they want. They ask for the lines they know.

That selling well known lines means satisfied customers and increased sales. Advertised lines are the finest obtainable anywhere; they are of a standard quality and easy to sell.

That maintained quality means increased popularity. A store is known by the quality of the merchandise it advertises.

That the pulling power of advertising is best demonstrated by the huge business that has been won by those concerns who are continuous advertisers.

Newspaper advertisements are working day and night for those who use them.

Buyers are discriminating now-a-days. They want the best, so they read the advertisements before they buy.

Investing in newspaper advertising is the way to get a quick and constant turnover of stocks.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE RATES

Start February 1, 1929

COMMENCING February 1, day rates will be reduced for long distance calls to points from 130 to 1,500 miles distant.

The reductions apply to station-to-station (number) calls and in equal or greater amount to person-to-person calls. They range from 5c. to 25c. and cut the cost of middle distance calls as much as 13%.

This is the third time long distance rates have been reduced within little more than two years. The reductions are in keeping with the fundamental policy of the Bell System to furnish the best possible telephone service at the least cost to the user.

ELECTRICITY and
YOUR HOME

ELECTRICITY provides domestic services which lessen domestic labor and add immeasurably to home attraction.

Unless you make full use of electric service in your home, you deny yourself conveniences the cost of which is small in comparison with the comfort they bring.

When your home is electrically equipped you command light and power for whatever purpose you may require it with no more trouble than is involved in the pushing of a button.

In every room of your house electricity can perform some service for you, better and more economically than any other medium.

The basis of good electric service is the correct wiring of the building in which it is rendered.

The number and location of the outlets is of prime importance. If you are building a new house, or rewiring an old one, the advice of our engineers is at your service to assist in solving your problems.

RIVERTON ITEMS

Mrs. Richard M. Hollingshead, of Linden avenue, entertained informally at a luncheon bridge Tuesday with covers laid for Mrs. R. M. Bagley, Mrs. T. J. Bagley and Mrs. George Smith, of Haddonfield.

Charles Cole is building garages on his lot at Fifth and Howard streets.

Mrs. John Denneler, of Cinnaminson, who has been very ill, is able to be about again.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Yost were week-end guests of Prof. and Mrs. Roy A. King, of Narberth, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sylvester, of Riverton, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sylvester and son, of Oaks, Pa., spent Sunday at Morris Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Datis Reed left today for St. Petersburg, Fla., where they expect to spend a month.

Rev. and Mrs. Albert Stradling expect to sail from New York Saturday for Central America, where they will travel 90 miles inland from Gautemala City to take a post as mission workers.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fuernstein and son, the Misses Katie and Millie Fuernstein and Jennie Dougherty, of Philadelphia, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sauers, Sunday.

Mrs. Frank E. Jones spent Tuesday with her daughter at Moorestown.

MOORESTOWN

William F. Overman, in his capacity as Chairman of the County Y. M. C. A., reported some of the unusual activities of the Burlington County work at a state conference in Trenton on Saturday, January 26, when all of the counties which are organized for Y. M. C. A. work throughout the state had delegates in attendance at the annual Layman's Conference. The meeting was held in the Trenton Y. M. C. A. building.

Present from Moorestown at the January meeting of the County Y. M. C. A. Committee at Burlington, Tuesday evening, January 29, were William F. Overman, Harold E. Pace and Henry F. Stockwell. This was the regular bi-monthly meeting. The special out-of-the-county guest was E. W. Barnes, State Y. M. C. A. Secretary for County work.

The next Father and Son Banquet under Y. M. C. A. auspices, following Moorestown's fine affair last Thursday evening, will be at Willingboro, February 8, in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. Former Judge Harold B. Wells will be the speaker. Two others "on deck" are, Medford, March 5, and, Crosswicks, March 15.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Ford Stockwell, of West Maple avenue, enjoyed the week-end in Atlantic City.

Miss Thelma Mark, of New York, is the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Knight, Valley View Terrace, this week.

Several Moorestown folks were guests at the reception which Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Porter, of Haddonfield, gave in the Junior ballroom of the Hotel Walt Whitman, Camden, last Saturday evening, in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. Guests numbered two hundred. Others were present from Haddonfield, Merchantville, Riverton, Philadelphia and Main Line, Washington and Virginia.

Mrs. F. Nelson Maines, of Camden avenue, entertained the members of her card club at her home last Thursday afternoon to meet Mrs. Warren Armstrong. The Armstrongs, formerly of Germantown, recently moved into their beautiful new home on the Club Estates.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Evans and Mrs. Evans' brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Gibbs, of Rancocas, jointly celebrated their wedding anniversaries at a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Evans, West Second street, Sunday. Fifteen guests and relatives attended the dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Evans have been married eleven years, while Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs celebrated their tenth anniversary.

The first Community Service of the winter will be held next Sunday evening with Dr. Clarence A. Barbour as the speaker. Dr. Barbour is now president of Colgate-Rochester Divinity School, but has resigned to become president of Brown University on June 20. His topic will be "The Overflow of Personality." Last year he preached at a Community Service and his sermon, "The Other Side of the Hill," is remembered as one of the best ever given in Moorestown.

Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, of Moorestown, state president, will speak at the mid-winter institute of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Burlington county to be held in Trinity M. E. church, Bordentown, on Wednesday, February 6, morning, afternoon and night. Mrs. Caroline E. Blair, of Mount Holly, is president of the organization. The program also includes addresses by Mrs. Marion Lippincott, Mrs. Bertha Roberts, Mrs. C. E. Blair and Miss Juanita Jones.

Mrs. William B. Davidson, Jr., of Fairview avenue, will entertain at a card party for the benefit of the William H. Snyder Post No. 42 and Auxiliary, American Legion, at her home next Monday evening, February 4. Tables will be set for five hundred, bridge, pinochle and euchre. Mrs. Davidson, with the assistance of the other members of the committee, Mrs. Byron McKeil and Mrs. F. Nelson Maines, has obtained a large number of excellent prizes and the affair promises to be very worthwhile. Refreshments will be served. Only thirty-five cents will be charged for admission.

Frank Norcross and family have moved into their new home on Maple avenue. The Norcrosses formerly resided on Rogers avenue, Merchantville.

A business meeting of the Moorestown A. A. will be held at the Community House this Thursday evening.

Several representatives of Moorestown Council Knights of Columbus attended the Burlington County Knights of Columbus rally in Mount Holly last Sunday afternoon. Among the speakers were Bishop Joseph Turner, a Redemptionist missionary; J. Conner French, of Trenton, state deputy; John F. O'Neill, Jersey City, state director, and William P. Walsh, East Orange.

PALMYRA NOTES

It was stated in this column last week that Mrs. Franklin Reed, of Cinnaminson Avenue, had returned to her home after being in the hospital for a week. This was an error. Mrs. Reed is still confined to the hospital and is seriously ill.

Miss Kathryn Hirsch, of New York, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hirsch, of Highland Avenue, over the week-end.

William F. Morgan is confined to his home on Cleveland Avenue, seriously ill.

G. Harvey Rogers, of Rockville Centre, Long Island, spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers, of Morgan Avenue.

The two new brick bungalows which are being erected on Morgan Heights by Thomas R. Bromley, are progressing very nicely. Three more bungalows are to be started in the very near future.

Mrs. John Claflin, of Bristol, Conn., and Miss Celesta Bissell, of Philadelphia, were guests of Mrs. William Rawlings, Monday. Mrs. Claflin was a former resident of Palmyra and will be remembered by many.

A. B. Cramer, who has been ill with pleurisy, is able to be around again.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Carroll are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fawcett, of Atlantic City.

Mrs. Stewart Smith will entertain the Stitch and Chatter Circle this Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Linwood Dean have issued invitations for the marriage of their daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to Mr. Howard Humphreys, Saturday afternoon, February 9, at 4:30, at the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Brettel and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Campbell, all of Trenton, spent the week-end as guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cramer.

Herman I. David, who boarded with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Powell before the World War, and joined the service, died in a government hospital in Tennessee, January 8. Mr. David was gassed during the war and has spent most of the time since in hospitals. He was buried in his home town of Columbia, S. C.

About fifty members of the Philathea Bible Class attended the Baptist Church in a body Sunday evening.

Tacoma Council, D. of P., entertained the Burlington County Red Men Association Monday evening. About 50 were present.

Mrs. Samuel Stewart and son, Junior, of Stonehurst, Pennsylvania, were dinner guests of Mrs. William H. Yost, Jr., Tuesday of this week.

Don't forget the card party this evening in Society Hall. Good prizes and refreshments. An enjoyable time is promised.

The Ladies' Aid of the First Lutheran Church will hold a rummage sale Saturday, February 9, next to the fire house. Rummage gladly received. Don't forget the date.

Word has been received of the death of Captain George VanSant who for 35 years was pilot of a boat between Trenton and Philadelphia. Captain VanSant was the brother of the Rev. S. Monroe VanSant, pastor of the Northfield M. E. Church, and a former pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church in Palmyra, and a son of the late Rev. Samuel VanSant. He was an uncle of W. Paul VanSant, of Palmyra.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rogers attended the funeral of Wilbur Aaronson held in Mount Holly, Monday afternoon.

Frank Storicks, of Garfield avenue, escaped serious injury on Monday morning when his horse backed up and crushed him. Several ribs were broken.

Mrs. Milligan, who has been visiting her uncle, Frank Bates, of Garfield avenue, returned to her home in Parkertown this week.

Mrs. Mary Rudolph, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rudolph.

Mrs. Walter Michell, of Montclair, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Levis Wallace.

Edwin P. Griffenberg and Leon A. Sever attended the anual banquet of the Coal Club of Philadelphia in the Rose Room of the Bellevue Stratford Hotel, last Thursday evening.

The monthly meeting of the In-as-much Bible Class will be held on Tuesday evening next, at the home of Mrs. Emil Seifert, 909 Columbia avenue.

MARY J. STERLING

Funeral services will be held for Mrs. Mary J. Sterling, aged 68, at the Snover Funeral Home, today at two o'clock p. m. Mrs. Sterling, who was the widow of the late Frank G. Sterling, long residents of Palmyra, passed away at the home of her daughter in Catskill, New York, on January 27.

Interment will be at Pemberton, New Jersey, with Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, officiating.

GEORGE HEPFNER

George Hepfner, aged 77, died at his home in East Riverton on Monday, January 28.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Rose, and two children, George Hepnfer, Jr., and Mrs. Hennessey, of Riverside.

Funeral services will be held Friday at two o'clock p. m. from his late residence, Broad street and Pompess avenue, under the direction of Frank A. Snover. Interment will be at Morgan Cemetery with Rev. A. J. Harke, officiating.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Sunday School at ten o'clock. The topic for discussion is, "The Book of the Day—The Year—The Ages." What is this great book? Let everyone come to Sunday School. Our attendance has been gratifying recently but just think what it would mean if each person who came brought a new scholar. Will you do that?

Last Sunday evening we had the privilege of listening to Dr. Rajah Mannikam, of India. Dr. Mannikam gave us a most inspiring address on the life of India. We feel sure that all who heard him will agree that he was one of the most interesting speakers that our church has had for a long time. They will also be glad to know that he has promised to return to our church in the near future—this time, in the role of entertainer. This man has mastered the art of magic and is much sought after for his performances. We count it a great privilege to have him.

A sour kraut supper, cafeteria style, will be served in the church basement, Tuesday, February the twelfth, at six o'clock, by the members of the Eglen Bible Class. Come and be assured of a good time. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the class.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a Rummage Sale in the store next to the fire house, Palmyra, on Saturday, February the eighth. These ladies will appreciate any donations of rummage. Miss Florence Saar, 205 West Broad street, will be glad to receive such donations.

The Luther League is steadily growing. There were twenty-eight young people present on Sunday night. Luther League is a training camp for service in the church. What a power for good these young people are in our church and in our community. If you are not a member, join at once. If a member, bring your friends. "The Call of Christ to the Youth of the World," is the subject for discussion on Sunday night at six-forty-five. Mrs. Erhard is the leader.

Junior League meets at seven-thirty on Friday evening. The Juniors are doing a splendid work under the leadership of Miss Rebecca Buchholz.

The regular church services will be held on Sunday. Morning Worship at 11:15 a. m. Vespers at 7:45 p. m. Let us meet together in God's house for these periods of prayer, meditation and praise.

CHRIST CHURCH

(Episcopal) Parry Avenue
Rev. George J. McCormack, Rector

I came across the following written by P. S. Malone and pass it on as deserving of notice:

"The Rector of St. Vitus-in-the-Vale preached an Advent sermon on the Last Judgment in which he pictured the crowds of the saints clamoring for full credit for all their good deeds and benefactions.

"When one of them insisted that during his life he had given $9,987.93 to the church and to charities, and 6543 hours of service, the Recording Angel reported that the actual sum was $2.76 and the time of service, 5 hours. When the saint demanded an accounting, the Judge explained that saints are credited only with that which they gave or did because they really wished to, what they would have given or done if no one else had been there, and if no one else were doing likewise. If this is true there will be somewhat of a shrinkage in the celestial rewards of merit."

On Thursday evening of this week, the Girls' Friendly Society will give a supper at six o'clock. Tickets are 50 cents and it will be a splendid opportunity to save the housewife the trouble of preparing one of those everlasting meals. Oh, yes, the meeting will be in the Parish House.

The St. Agnes Guild will meet as usual the first Monday of the month, February fourth, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. J. S. King and Mrs. William Branson were elected secretary and treasurer of the Associates of the Girls' Friendly Society on Friday last.

Confirmation Classes are being held regularly for the different groups. Information can be obtained from the Rector, phone 609.

The young people's service is making splendid progress, the attendance being very gratifying.

A meeting of the Burlington District Sunday School Association will be held at St. Mary's Church, Burlington, Wednesday, February 6, at 5 p. m. Supper will be served at six o'clock, evening session, seven o'clock.

The program for the special musical service on Sunday evening is as follows:

Violin selections by William Heavener: "Leibeslied," Kreisler; "Midnight Bells," Kreisler; "Magnificant and Nunc Dimittis," J. Varley Roberts; anthem: "Let my prayer be set forth in thy sight," Martin; "O come to my heart Lord Jesus," Ambrose; "I heard the voice of Jesus say," Schnecker.

Services Second Sunday before Lent 10:30 Holy Communion and Sermon, "Sons of the Kingdom"; 2:00, Holy Baptism; 2:30, Sunday School; 4:00, Confirmation Class; 8:00, Choral Evensong, "With Special Music."

PALMYRA WINS LEAGUE GAME

Perform in Championship Style to Trounce Audubon 31-16 on Home Floor

Coach Kenneth Dimond's Camden-Suburban League basketball champions of 1928 performed in real championship style to trounce Audubon 34 to 16 in a league fray staged on the Palmyra floor last Thursday.

The victory gave the Blue and White a firmer hold on the third rung of the percentage ladder and puts them in a position to win this year again if either Woodbury or Collingswood slip.

During the first half of the contest the Audubon lads gave the champs plenty of opposition and when the period ended the score stood at 16-12 in favor of the Dimond-coached tossers.

The second half was an entirely different story with Captain West Branson and Hennessey running wild to score 18 points between them. Audubon was too busy guarding the Palmyra tossers to do much scoring with the result that only 4 markers were chalked up for the Gilesmen during the half.

West led the scoring with 6 twin-pointers and 3 fouls for a total of 15 points. Branson located the hoop five times from the floor for 10 point, while the elongated Hennessey added three field tosses and one foul. Harold led the losers with seven points.

BUDGET JUMPS

Haddonfield Appropriations $340,315, A $22,09 Increase

The Haddonfield Borough budget for 1929 provides for appropriations totalling $340,315, an increase of approximately $22,000 over last year.

Of the total amount, $206,315 will be raised by direct taxation, an increase over last year of about $12,000. New ratables in the borough are expected to cover the increased amount to be raised, and there is no tax rate increase seen by the commissioners.

The appropriation for the police department was cut $2,000 in this year's budget, to $33,000, and the amount set aside for the fire company is raised $1500 to $12,000. An additional $1000 was added to the appropriation for the highway department, bringing the total amount for that department to $7000, and an additional $1000 was added to the appropriation for street lighting, bringing the total for 1929 to $15,000.

It was explained that the increase in the amount of the 1929 budget was caused by interest payments on bonds which fall due in 1929.

JUNIORS LOSE 1ST HALF LOOP TITLE

Moorestown Quintet Defeated by Burlington, 28 to 26 in Championship Playoff

By "ANDY ZIP"

The Moorestown Reserves dropped the first half championship of the Burlington County Basketball League in the play-off game with the Burlington Reserves at the Community House Saturday night by the close score of 28-26.

The game was fast and exciting throughout. Our boys led at half time, 9-7, and held a 10-point lead with only ten minutes to go. But at that point the Burlington lads registered some long shots and with only a half minute to go and the score tied, McCloskey, of Burlington, netted a fielder from center, putting his team ahead, and a few seconds later the final whistle blew.

Joe Krusen, with nine points, and Irving Workman, with eight, led the scoring for Moorestown, while A. Gillece and W. McCloskey started for the winners. Gillece accounted for ten points, while McCloskey netted eight.

Last Wednesday night our senior team won its first game in the second-half race by defeating Florence 40-29. Potts, Brodie and "Shorts" Vaughn clicked the cords for 16, 14 and 10 points respectively, while "Muchy" Isenberg, our local High School coach, making his debut in the A. A. lineup, played the famous Johnny Roepke, formerly of Penn State, to a standstill. Roepke scored five field goals in the first five minutes from the diminutive "Pat" Vaughn, then Isenberg took him in hand and displayed some close guarding. Brodie looked like the old Brodie of former years while he was in the game.

Ernie Potts certainly is playing good ball this year. He has a good eye, guards unusually well, and is one of the fastest floormen in the circuit. Besides being high scorer for our team, Ernie shut out Frank Cooke, the Burlington flash, and made him look like a "has been." If the local combination played the brand of ball they played last Wednesday night they just couldn't be stopped.

The Junior team won by forfeit from the Junior team of Florence as the Florence Reserves did not have a full team.

Friday night the Seniors dropped a game to Marlton, 22-15, but the game is under protest because Marlton used an ineligible player.

The Moorestown Junior squad trimmed the Marlton Reserves, 30-21. This is the local Junior's fourth straight win in the second-half race and although they lost out in the first half play-off, they are out to make a clean sweep of the second-half contest. In Friday night's tussle Krusen and Jack Salmon led their team in scoring with 12 and 8 points respectively.

This Wednesday evening the Marlton Juniors will play our teams at the Community House and the local boys are determined to win the remainder of the games in this half race. It has been announced by the Athletic Association that dancing will follow the games.

FOOTBALL SEASON LEAVES DEFICIT

Palmyra Community Movement Suffers Loss Due to Mix-up in Two Games

At a meeting of the Palmyra Community Movement held in the home of the president, Richard E. Wilson, a report of the Movement's finances was made by the treasurer, George T. Becton.

The receipts included cash received from season tickets, loans, single admissions to games and miscellaneous amounting in all to $1,057.03 and expenses of visiting teams, printing, advertising, repayments on loans and sundries of $1,106.36, leaving a deficit for the football season of $49.30.

The season would unquestionably have ended on the right side of the ledger but for the mix-up over the Haddonfield game and the late arrival of the team on the following Saturday. The receipts were thus materially reduced by the Movement having to honor tickets for both games and by having to return money at the gate.

The executive committee is encouraged, however, by the support of many loyal fans and by the splendid showing of the boys on our team and the Movement looks forward to next season, both in baseball and football, with considerable encouragement.

After much discussion it was decided not to promote basketball this season but to get an early start on this branch of sport next season.

The Movement is already preparing for the opening of the baseball season but can plan nothing definitely until the question of the Field Club grounds is settled. It is rumored that there is a strong chance that a public-spirited citizen in our neighborhood may shortly arrange to have the Field Club grounds freed of all obligations and turned over to the Borough as a real community play ground.

BOWLING LEAGUE

Four Teams in Riverton Tournament; Two More May Enter Later

The Riverton Fire Department opened their league on Tuesday night with four teams in the race and possibly two more to enter later. The games are being played on Jake Fehrle's alleys in Riverside, and will start at 8 o'clock every Monday night.

The Hosemen opened up by taking three in a row from the Hook and Ladder, while the Asbestos squad licked Sonny Wright's chemical crew three straight.

NEW BOWLING ALLEYS

Construction of a new building to be used for bowling alleys will be started in the very near future. The new structure will be erected on the site now occupied by the Palmyra Hotel for John Blum.

The building will be modern in every respect and will house ten bowling alleys and several stores. It will be of brick and block construction and in a style in keeping with adjacent property. Eichner and Weber will be the designers and builders.

MORE P. S. STOCK

Board of Directors Authorize 260,330 Shares of Common

At a meeting at Newark last week, the Board of Directors of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey authorized the issuance of not less than 260,330 shares of the Corporation's common stock. Holders of common and 8% Cumulative Preferred Stock of the Corporation of record as of January 31, 1929, were given the right to subscribe at $65 per share on the basis of one share for each twenty shares of common or 8% Cumulative Preferred, owned. Subscription payable in full March 30, 1929.

A quarterly dividend of sixty-five cents on common stock and the regular quarterly dividends on the eight and seven per cent and the $5 cumulative preferred stocks were declared payable March 30, 1929, to stockholders of record March 1, 1929. The regular monthly dividends on the 6% Cumulative Preferred stock for February and March were also declared.

John E. Zimmerman was elected a director of the Corporation in place of Arthur W. Thompson whose resignation was received and accepted. Mr. Zimmerman was also elected to the executive committee and to the boards of the various underlying companies.

The Christians' Sacred Book is a descriptive statement of the Bible. In fact, it is a library consisting of sixty-six books, divided into the Old and New Testaments. "How We Got Our English Bible," by J. Patterson Smyth, answers many questions in the mind of every investigator. Beyond all human source this Book comes from God. Rev. F. B. Meyer, D.D., says, "Inspiration consists in the divine quality that inheres in the Bible." It is certainly different and superior to every other book and is well called the Book of books. One cannot claim to be well educated who is not conversant with the general content thereof. Dr. Meyer also states, "The best argument for the Bible is the character it creates," and William E. Gladstone declared, "The Sunday School is the world's greatest institution for popularizing the world's greatest Book."

Read this Book through, and do so as often as possible. Then commit many chosen passages to memory. One of these will be the nineteenth Psalm, from which the first Scripture portion is taken today. If you wish to note many terms for the Scriptures read Psalm 119, where there is some mention in each of the 176 verses. In spite of its age the Bible is still the best seller each year in all literature, both modern and ancient. A very simple and yet most comprehensive statement is

"Sin will keep you from this Book. This Book will keep you from sin."

Study carefully each of the following selected portions that are a part of this lesson. Deuteronomy 6:4-9; Joshua 1:8, 9; 2 Kings 22:8-20; Nehemiah 8:1-8; Psalm 19:7-14; Luke 24:25-32; Acts 17:10-12; 2 Timothy 3:14-17.

The first reference indicates a portion that the Hebrew places in his mezuzah and phylactery. This Word has a place on his doorpost and it is taught to his children. The Jew has made an incalculable contribution in giving this Book to the world. Well does the Psalmist say "The law of Jehovah is perfect, restoring the soul." The Word was indeed law and its precepts were to be accepted and obeyed, for they are "right" Psalm 19:7-8. Take the other descriptions in that Psalm—"pure, clean, true and righteous altogether."

As is stated in Psalm 119:105

"Thy word is a lamp unto my feet,
And light unto my path."

Paul in charging Timothy refers him to the "sacred writings" in which he had been instructed from his youth. Thereby "the man of God may be complete, furnished completely unto every good work."

Going to New York

The dates of the Eastern Regional Conference are February 6, 7 and 8, at the National Headquarters, 40 Lexington avenue, New York City. Delegates from Burlington county will be Mrs. John W. Davis, Edgewater Park, president Burlington County Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. R. H. Mason, Mount Holly, president Mount Holly Y. W. C. A.; Mrs. Edwin Russell, Moorestown, chairman Moorestown membership committee, and Miss Sidonie Schafer, of Burlington, associate executive secretary of the county.

National Secretary Here

Miss Laura Pressby, of the Department of Immigration and Foreign Communities of the National Headquarters, will spend the week of February 4 in Burlington County working with Miss Sumner and Miss Schafer on some special problems among the foreign-born people. There are a number of foreign people enrolled in the club groups of the YWCA.

Willingboro Club Active

The Willingboro Senior Club, at their business meeting on Saturday, January 26, at the home of Miss Emma Fenton, outlined their program for the next three months. Included in the schedule are music appreciation, negro poetry, interior decorating, religion in the home, birds and a St. Patrick's party.

The club with the assistance of the Girl Reserve Club and the Y. M. C. A. boys of Willingboro are to have a community sing in March. Miss Isabel Ferris, of Edgewater Park, will direct the singing and provide the special numbers for the evening.

Following the business session the girls enjoyed a social time. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Miss Sidonie Schafer attended the club meeting.

Maple Shade Girls

The Maple Shade girls have been very much interested recently in making paper flowers, under the direction of Mrs. George Hardy. The first part of their meetings is given over to business and music, after which the girls gather around the table for their work.

New Moorestown Leader

The Moorestown high school club is delighted to have Mrs. J. P. Maxfield as its new adviser. Mrs. Maxfield will meet with the club for the first time February 7.

The club cabinet will meet this week to work out plans to be presented at the meeting on the 7th.

Miss Mary Evans, of Cinnaminson, was leader for this club until she left the county to take a position in Greenwich, Connecticut.

COMMUNICATED

The following letter has been received by the editor without a signature. While it is not customary to print unsigned letters, an exception is made in this particular case owing to the fact that no controversial subject is discussed. In the future, however, no unsigned communications will be published.

"This letter I hope will renew the sporting life of Palmyra and community which the P. C. M. is trying to do. Most everyone recalls the thrilling twilight league games a few years back and would be glad to have them rejoin and root for their clubs in good old "Razzberry" park.

"The teams for this league would be easy to arrange, the ground being the trouble, such teams as Palmyra Ramblers, Parry A. A., Riverton Juniors, Cinnaminson A. C. and two church or lodge teams. This is a great movement for the community to make a better sporting town out of Palmyra. Most of the improving towns have a twilight league. Why not Palmyra?

"I hope this will draw attention to get an early start. Every business man would like to see a game after supper and some like to play, so let's get going."

STATE ACCOUNTS WILL BE AUDITED

While Job May be Long, Expensive, Larson Sees It Justified

By Charles R. Bacon

Part of the Republican program for the Legislative session has been agreed upon in meetings of the joint conference committee and further efforts along that line will be made in hope of reaching complete understanding upon all the items contemplated in the inaugural address of Governor Larson.

One of the most important and interesting of these is the proposed audit of state accounts, probably at stated intervals. It is granted that the present system of audit and check in the Comptroller's Department has its merits and there has been no criticism of its workins, but in the annual expenditure of more than twenty millions of dollars it is possible that some weaknesses may have crept in and Governor Larson appears to have found reason for suggesting the complete audit.

Accordingly Senator Pierson, majority leader in the Senate, has offered the required resolution providing for it. The job, it is surmised, will require some months' work of experts accountants and cost many thousands of dollars but the impression appears to be strong that the time and expense may be fully justified.

Water Problem Hard One

Another feature of the partial program is the decision to renew the efforts to put across a tri-state water compact between New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Senator Pierson has that measure in charge, also, but there is every evidence of a long hard battle ahead of it. Previous efforts to enter into such a compact have proved futile because a very large number of New Jersey residents have been fearful of the consequences of the terms laid down by the State of New York for the allocation of the flow of the Delaware river in which all three states have vital interest. That noble stream has its source within the boundaries of the Empire State which claims the right to impound its headwaters for the use of its citizens.

Such arrest of flow, to be sure must have its effect upon the volume available in the lower reaches of the stream and that has been one of the most difficult phases of the whole problem. Industrial centers along the banks of the river have been arrayed against the proposed compact because of the probable result upon their supplies, while those towns and cities dependent upon the stream for their domestic supplies have been equally fearful of famine in dry seasons.

Oyster Industry Affected

One of the most vital phases of the water problem, however is the probable effect of any large diversion of the Delaware upon the extensive and valuable oyster industry of Delaware Bay and Maurice River Cove. Legal, scientific and practical investigation of the subject reveals indisputably, that even a comparatively small reduction of the flow of fresh water into Delaware Bay would soon utterly destroy the natural oyster grounds which occupy approximately 30 miles long and 18 miles wide. Upon that vast stretch of ground over which the fresh water of the Delaware and the saline water of the nearby Atlantic mingle in just the proportions set up by nature for the growth of oyster, millions of bushels of the seed gathered every summer for transplanting in the Cove, where they grow to marketable food in about four years.

These expanses of oyster land are under the care and protection of the State which owns every foot of them and it will be necessary for the State government to give intense study to the water diversion problem to make certain that the industry is not ruined. To that end Attorney General Katzenbach has already given considerable of his time and research and the data thus gathered will be in the light of every ounce of information obtainable.

Majority Leader Knight in the Assembly, was given the responsibility of offering a bill for the establishment of a bureau of woman and child welfare in the Department of Labor. This is another item in the party program suggested by the women leaders in the State who have felt that the labor laws and working regulations have not been kept up to date with respect to the health and general welfare of child and women workers, especially in the industries. That measure will no doubt, have the support of practically every member of the two houses. Others of the items will be discussed as the time approaches for their consideration.

Annual Wet Gesture

The Democratic Dozen is making the annual gesture toward a State as "wet as the Atlantic Ocean" by the introduction of the usual set of bills and resolutions.

Minority Leader Barton is sponsor for the measures again but he has about as much faith in their advancement as he had last year and the years before that. The measures include a memorial to Congress urging repeal of or amendment of the Volstead act another requesting the call for a convention to revise the constitution so that the eighteenth amendment may be given the desired zeal and authority to deal with the liquor problem left to several states. Somehow, the Legislature of New Jersey doesn't seem to be very much concerned over this perky question. Year after year it is passed up without any action. Why, even the demand for a State-wide referendum made in the State Platform of 1927, failed in the last session and it looks as though nothing will be done this year.

There is a growing spirit of nervousness in the Assembly over the drastic regulations laid out by Speaker Gabrielson. The impression had gone forth that the new presiding officer had reached his decisions after consultation with the majority in conference. That appears to have been an erroneous impression. "It is all his own," said one of the members discussing the banishment of visitors from the floor of the Chamber. "Of course, it is a very fine thing to keep the floor clear and avoid confusion, but it is possible to go a bit too far in some radical movement. I am not saying that Speaker Gabrielson has gone too far, but there is danger of exercising too much power and authority, when one has the gavel to swing."

School Survey

The Accrediting Commission of the Association of Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland did not admit Palmyra to the accredited list largely because of the lack of offerings in the fine and practical arts and because the teacher load is too great. Excluding the manual training, the domestic art and science, and the two physical training teachers, there were 13 teachers to 417 pupils, or an average of 32 pupils per teacher, a number in excess of the maximum standard, which is 30 pupils per teacher.

The standard teacher load is 750 pupil hours. Seven of the thirteen teachers had loads exceeding this number. The highest number of pupil hours was 893. In addition to this load each teacher supervised study hall from four to nine periods a week. In order to meet the standards it is recommended that three additional teachers in the high school be employed provided the enrollment does not decrease.

Improvement of Instruction

It would seem very advisable to employ a full time non-teaching principal for buildings Nos. 1 and 3. This person should be qualified by education and experience, not only to administer the details of these two schools but to give the teachers definite constructive help in problems of instruction.

The employment of such a person will relieve the supervising principal of much detailed responsibility in these two schools, so that he can devote himself to the general administration of the system to the improvement of the high school, and the supervision of instruction in school No. 2.

In connection with music, careful scrutiny ought to be given to the present practice of employing a full time person to teach music and also a part time person to direct the high school orchestra. It would seem that in a system of the size of Palmyra one full time person ought to be able to handle the entire music program for the system.

Courses of Study

The curriculum of a school system consists of the activities and subject matter which are actually being taught in the class rooms of the system. It is very difficult to determine what the curriculum of the Palmyra schools is because there are no adequate courses of study on paper which give the teachers any definite assistance. Conversation with the various teachers of the system indicates that the State courses of study, particularly those in geography, history and civics, which have been published in recent years, are being followed to some extent.

It is evident that there is no definite plan or unity in the work of the Palmyra schools. The teachers of a single grade have been in the habit of conferring informally in order that they might keep their classes together in a certain subject.

Need Considerable Study

It is probably impossible and undesirable for a local group of teachers to make its own course of study in its entirety. It ought to be possible for the Palmyra schools to adopt in a large measure, the recommendations included in the State monographs.

In observing practices in the Palmyra schools it is apparent that there are a number of items which need considerable study. For example, much time has been given in grade eight to the teaching of algebra. Modern junior high school practice does provide for the beginning of algebra and even plane geometry in the eighth grade, but it does not offer as complete a course in algebra as is being done in the Palmyra schools. It is doubtful if this work is of much value to those who will take algebra in the ninth grade and much of its is of no value to those planning to take the commercial or the general course.

Another matter which needs study is the present practice of separating the teaching of the various phases of English. At the present time one teacher handles reading and literature, while another teacher handles language and composition. This is a plan which has been abandoned in most school systems, as much better results can be obtained by unifying various phases of English under a single teacher.

Books Out of Date

In short, there should be a continuous study being made by the supervising principal and teachers in order that the course of study may be kept up to date, may be adapted to the needs and abilities of the pupils and may be in accordance with the findings of best educational thought.

Several of the books now being used should be replaced because they are out of date and do not represent the improvements that have been made in education during the last few years. Those books which need changing are, in particular, arithmetic, physiology, spelling, and English in certain grades. The spelling book being used was first written in 1904 and has had no revision since 1919. Practically all the investigations in spelling which have improved the spelling vocabulary now being taught, have been made since 1919. The English book used in certain grades was first published in 1901 and has had no revision since 1909. It ought to be obvious that such a book is not adapted to the teaching of English as we now understand that subject.

Kindergarten Needs Pianos

Neither kindergarten room had a piano. This is extremely important for the kind of education which should go on in the kindergarten. Here, even more than in upper grades, it is necessary for the children to have a musical instrument and to establish a correct foundation for later singing. Small uprights can be purchased for kindergarten use at a very reasonable price.

The teachers should be encouraged to secure means by which the rooms may be made more attractive and more adapted to activity. The rooms in old buildings such as exist in Palmyra, are bound to be rather unattractive, so that special care should be taken to have good pictures, a library table and other means of making the room livable. A brief visit to the rooms gives one the impression of conditions in education which are rapidly passing away, namely stiff, formal rows of children being crammed with facts, but being given very little opportunity for the exercise of initiative and activity on their own part. The board of education can do much to remedy this condition by purchasing types of equipment which will enable the teachers to transform their rooms into an atmosphere which will be more inviting for independent work.

The Teaching Staff

Palmyra has a large turnover in its teaching positions. According to Table IX the per cent turnover for the school year 1927-28 was 20.0 for the entire system. In other words, out of every five teachers there was one new teacher who had to be inducted and trained into the system. The High school has been having a greater turnover than the elementary schools. In 1924-25 about four out of every ten high school teachers were replaced and in 1927-28 about three out of every ten high school teachers were replaced by new teachers. When there is such a large turnover it usually decreases the efficiency and the continuance of the educational policies of the school system. There are several causes for this condition and probably the most outstanding cause is the competition offered by school systems paying higher salaries than Palmyra.

Training of Teachers

In comparison with the eight other districts used in this study, Palmyra ranks eighth in the per cent of the total number of teachers who are normal school graduates and college graduates and second in the per cent of the total number of teachers who are neither normal school or college graduates. In 1926-27 only 65.9 per cent of the teachers were normal school or college graduates. For the State, as a whole, there were 85.4 per cent who were college or normal school graduates. Palmyra has too large a percentage of its teachers who are not properly trained. Table X shows the number of teachers who are normal school and college graduates and also those who are not together with the per cent of total teachers in each group for Palmyra and eight other districts.

The School Plant

The High School is a three-story building with brick and stone exterior and of fire-resistive construction. It contains twelve class rooms, manual training rooms, auditorium and gymnasium. This building scored 94.4 per cent perfect according to the State School Building Score Card. This building is being neglected and is in need of repair. Eight window panes are broken and should be replaced.

School Number One was constructed in 1865 and is a two-story building with brick exterior and of ordinary joist internal construction.

This building contains four class rooms which are improperly lighted. Light comes from the left, rear and right and the window area is equal to 13.4 per cent of the floor area. The State School Building Code requires that light should be from the left only and be equal to twenty per cent of the floor area.

The artificial light is insufficient to provide adequate light or to supplement the natural light which is deficient in amount. Such class rooms should not be used because the pupils' eyes might be permanently injured.

Fire Hazard Great

The fire hazard in this building is great. The fire room is unprotected, the stairways are not fire-proofed, the fire extinguishers have not been recently recharged, that is, not since 1924. The windows in close proximity to the fire escape are not wire glazed. The building code required that there should be no gates and that windows should be wire glazed, if passed by fire escapes.

No toilet facilities are provided in this building. Toilet facilities are provided in the adjoining school building. In order to get to this building the children must go through a dark narrow tunnel or go out of doors to this building.

No ventilation is provided except through open windows.

This building was scored 42.2 per cent perfect on the State Score Card and received a score of 474 on the Strayer-Engelhardt Score Card. This building should be abandoned because of the lack of proper facilities and replaced by a new building.

School Number Two

School Number Two was erected in 1909 and is a three-story building with brick exterior and of ordinary joist construction internally. This building contains nine class rooms, an auditorium and cafeteria. The stairways in this building do not permit adequate means of escape in case of fire. This building should have fire-resistive stairways.

Light comes from the left and rear in all class rooms except one and the window area is not equal to twenty per cent of the floor area.

Five of the class rooms had too many seats in them. No class room should have more seats in it than the capacity of such room based on eighteen square feet of floor space per seat. As required by the school building code.

The auditorium is located on the third floor. This auditorium should not be used, because of the construction of the building and inadequate number of safe exits. In case of a fire the pupils could not escape from this auditorium.

Calamity Might Occur

School Number Three was erected in 1899. This building is a two-story building of eight class rooms of brick exterior and of ordinary joist internal construction.

This building is a fire hazard because the fire room is unprotected, stairway not fire-resistive, fire extinguishers not recently recharged, that is, since 1926, and no fire escapes are provided. In case of a fire during school hours a great calamity might occur.

The light in all the class rooms comes from the left and rear. The window area in each room is less than twenty per cent of the floor area.

Based on eighteen square feet of floor space per seat each class room has more seats than the capacity of such room warrants.

The class room ceilings are less than twelve feet in height.

Ventilation is entirely lacking except through open windows.

Toilets in this building are located in the basement where they have no sufficient natural light and ventilation.

This building was scored 37 per cent perfect on the State Score Card and 461 on the Strayer-Engelhardt Score Card. Considering the lack of facilities and conditions this building should be materially improved or abandoned.

Conclusions and Recommendations

1 Population of Palmyra is steadily increasing.

2 The school enrollment is steadily increasing.

3 A larger per cent of total resident enrollment can be in the high school than are in the majority of the school districts of the State.

4 Any school building scoring less than fifty per cent perfect on the State School Building Score Card should be replaced by more adequate educational plants.

5 Palmyra should erect an enlarged building of twelve class rooms with an auditorium and cafeteria and to house pupils in the two upper and grades one to six inclusive in the new site owned by the board of education, or enlarge and remodel School Number Three to a eight room building.

6 Erect in 1932 a twelve to six-room building according to the needs at that time, and abandon School Number One.

Administration

The office is to be provided for the supervising principal's secretary to type and file records. The waiting room and secretary's office is used for a library. This seriously hampers the work of the secretary and does not provide the proper use of the library. In the present condition the library is merely a room in which books are kept. It is of no real use to the pupils. It might as well be locked up.

The equipment of the supervising principal's office is not adequate to make possible efficient supervision. The supervising principal has no desk of his own and must share his desk with the secretary. He has no room in the system in which he can meet parents and pupils in private conference. While Riverside there is needed in addition to the present equipment, a duplicating machine for filing letters and records and a typewriter. A bookcase should also be provided for the books that the principal often need. Certain reference books should be provided for teachers.

Once Wealthy Moorestown Man Taken From Almshouse by Former Employee

Charles Brown, 83 Years Old, Finds Man He Befriended 50 Years Ago His Benefactor; Retired Jersey City Broker to Support Former Storekeeper

After about fifty years, Walter Williams, now of Jersey City and retired broker, has been able to become the benefactor of a man who helped him when he needed assistance as a boy.

This man is Charles Brown, once a wealthy Moorestown store keeper now 83 years and until recently an inmate of the county almshouse at New Lisbon.

When Mr. Williams was fourteen he took a job as a clerk in Brown's store at Moorestown. The building is now occupied by Cohen's store. He was there about three years, and then [illegible] Brown that while he appreciated all that was being done for him there was no future for much advancement and he proposed to start out for himself. He said he was interested in advancing in position more than he was in being that [illegible] grabber.

Mr. Brown told him that a young man with such an idea was sure to succeed and Williams started out and proved the truth of his employer's statement. He is now well supplied with this world's goods.

Lately he heard while visiting old friends in Moorestown, that Mr. Brown was a county ward and went to the almshouse to see if there was anything he could do to give the man comfort in his old age. Mr. Brown said that he would like to return to Moorestown.

Mr. Williams secured board at a place Mr. Brown suggested on East Second street and Mr. Williams has had him placed in comfortable quarters to enjoy the balance of his days, making the people he knew over a half century ago.

It is said that Mr. Brown was subjected to a condition of poverty through his being compelled to make good notes that he endorsed for friends.

Mr. Brown once owned considerable real estate here and was also a proprietor of Wallace's express in years gone. Old friends say a spirit of faith in mankind was responsible for his great financial losses.

ACCIDENT TOLL SMALL AMONG JERSEY HUNTERS

Hunting in New Jersey fields and woods apparently is safer pastime than motoring on the highways. The figures compiled in this state, the number of accidents, considering thousands of sportsmen in the woods, the number escaped being smaller during the days of shooting, among the sport men, judging by the 60 in the first one placed fatal but the actually records of the 1929 hunting season compiled by the State Fish ing Lic by the division of [illegible] and Game Commission. JOHNSON TO HUNT GAME WITH KODAK

Prominent Moorestown Man to Make Photographic Record of Trip Into Africa

E. R. Pennimore Johnson of Bridgeboro Road, Moorestown, is planning interior of Africa. He will be armed an extensive big game hunt in the with cameras.

Plans of the big camera hunt were revealed last Friday when Mr. Johnson resigned as executive vice-president of the Victor Talking Machine Company which was founded by his famous father, Eldridge Reeves Johnson, of East Main street, Moorestown.

The African trip will be postponed until after a fishing expedition with Mr. Johnson's father in Florida waters. The widely known Moorestonian is off Florida in his yacht now, with a cousin, George MacEwan, of Camden.

His son is leaving this week on his own yacht in a few days to join them, with perhaps a few others to make up the fishing party.

"It will be six or eight months before I can start the African expedition," said the son. "I have had it in mind a long time of course, and I have discussed it with a few friends. I hardly think I will go alone, because several of these friends have talked seriously about taking such a trip some time.

Plans Company

"I imagine at least two of them will be able to go along. Probably it will be a party of three with our guides and porters.

"The two I have in mind share my views about the use of the camera principally. I am a great believer in the conservation of wild life. It seems to me it will be much more interesting to bring back a photographic record of our activities than to return with trophies of the kill.

"I've always been interested in big game. I've shot the mountain goat and caribou in the Canadian Rockies and sometimes I think how much nicer it would be now to have camera plates of them instead of the heads. But it stimulates my interest in the sport and this trip will enable me to carry out my desire in Africa.

"I expect to keep my photographic records of the trip in my own trophy room, although I might be delighted to provide pictures of anything we happen to get that any museum or university thinks particularly worth while.

Lens Real Weapon

"We will be armed, of course, in case any animal objects to posing for us, but the lens will be the real weapon of the hunt. Mrs. Johnson has displayed no desire to accompany me. I suppose she will remain at home."

Mr. Johnson emphasized he had no intention of retiring permanently from the business world, though he said he had no definite plans for the immediate future beyond the Florida fishing trip and the American expedition.

He will remain as a director and member of the executive committee of the Victor Company, however, and "retain a keen interest in the future of the business," it was revealed in a formal statement after the regular meeting of the directors at which the resignation was presented. The Victor company recently merged with Radio Corporation of America to form a giant amusement enterprise.

The company's formal statement said Mr. Johnson had hoped to sever his connection with the Victor firm in January, 1927 at the time his father sold his interest and withdrew as active head of the industry he had developed from a small beginning to the biggest manufacturing organization of its kind in the world.

THE HOLY SCRIPTURES

Psalm 19:7-14; 2 Timothy 3:14-17

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

In the next few articles I shall give you a quite thorough talk on the subject of skin texture, telling you of the various types of skins, so that you will know whether you possess a thin or normal skin and how to give it the proper care.

This is a most important subject, for skins differ just as much as temperaments, color of hair, color of eyes or body build. And to my mind one of the greatest follies or I might say one of the most grievous mistakes is that women simply treat their skins in a general way as though all skins were alike.

I should like to say that no two skins are exactly alike yet I be plain to emphasize that too strongly, for fear you will throw your hands up in despair, thinking the task of knowing what to do is hopeless.

The preparations you put on the skin must differ almost as much in texture as the skins themselves, so you can easily see why one cream or lotion cannot do everything for a skin, any more than one medicine can have a two-fold purpose.

This I shall have to take up step by step in my series of articles, as there is too much to discuss in one lay. Take for instance one thing in skin care, cleansing, and this I consider a command of the whole health habits of the individual. It makes no difference what you put on the skin in external applications, if the general health of the body is not right the skin cannot take care of it properly, and it is bound to be reflected in the complexion.

To keep the skin healthy and attractive it is essential to lead a regular life, taking as much exercise in the right way as possible, eating the right foods, watching the elimination, getting plenty of sleep and keeping your body as well as mind as healthy as possible.

Before doing or get right, you must know your skin and procedure to the sequence. The question are you, for it is right. Again let me say I have told you many times, but can't repeat it often enough, that the first step in the proper care of the skin is to remove all of the poisons from the system, and with the exception of the skin through the pores of the skin, and you do not give the poisons you would expect them to be able to pass off this way.

It is wrong to think that the result has been estimated at $3,000,000.

HOME HINTS

White linen damask is the classic cover for the formal dinner table. It is now quite permissible to use a tinted cloth in one of the soft shell colors, which harmonize with the design of the room. And if the room setting is rather elaborate, the cloth of lace and lace or an all-lace cloth may be used, preceding of course, that the appointments of the table are in harmony with the cloth.

Instead of using set china, as was once the custom, the smart hostess may accent each course upon using of different design and coloring, the only restriction being that the hostess' patterns be related to each other instead of in sharp contrast.

TO DISCUSS CONSTRUCTION OF CROSS-STATE HIGHWAY

The State Highway Commission has fixed February 5 as the date for the meeting with representatives of Burlington, Ocean and Camden counties on the proposed construction of the 39-mile cross-state road from Camden through Burlington and Ocean counties to the seashore. The question will be discussed whether the counties build the road under the deferred reimbursement plan will be discussed. The law permits counties to build state roads with the sanction of the State Highway Commission, the cost to be repaid by the state the following year or two. The cost of the highway has been estimated at $3,000,000.

COUNTY HISTORY OF 50 YEARS AGO

Items of Interest Published in Mount Holly Mirror January 23, 1879

The engine of Good Intent Fire Company, of Mount Holly, froze up during the recent cold spell. It was thawed out and the boilers cleared of water. When the alarm of fire struck on Thursday the engine was found to be out of order.

An eagle measuring seven feet six inches from tip to tip of wings was shot on the farm of John Forsyth, near Pemberton, a few days ago.

Dr. William P. Melcher, formerly of Camden, has located in Pemberton, where he is practicing medicine.

Henry Johnson, of Mount Holly, slaughtered a steer on Thursday that weighed, when dressed, 1,038 pounds. It came from the farm of Isaac Fenimore, near Lumberton.

Edward L. Durand, of Mount Holly, has completed filling his ice houses. He now has about 3,000 tons stored, some of which is 14 inches in thickness.

Since the first of January eight persons died in Burlington county, the aggregate ages of whom was 653 years, an average of about 81 years and seven months.

Mrs. Samuel S. Davis, who died in Pemberton on Thursday, leaves six children, 33 grandchildren, 19 great grand children, and three great-great grandchildren.

S. Semple Sons, thread manufactures of Mount Holly, paid $2,000 in gold to their employes on Saturday, the first time in eighteen years.

Clark's wine, made by our venerable fellow citizen, Joseph C. Clark, Esq., of Mount Holly, may be accepted as absolutely pure and is very useful in the sick chamber.

The employes of M. Raleigh & Co., cotton goods manufacturers at Atsion, have struck against the proposed reduction of five to ten per cent in their wages.

Mount Holly Grange No. 37, P. of H., elected Thomas B. Gandy, master, last week. B. P. Wills is secretary and Charles S. Burtis, treasurer.

The New Jersey Cranberry Growers' Association met at Trenton on the 21st. The statistician's report estimates the crop of 1878 in New Jersey at 60,000 bushels, 33 per cent less than the smallest crop on record. The aggregate crop of the entire country is estimated at 295,760 bushels, a falling off at 26 per cent. The large crop of apples made up to considerable extent the shortage of cranberries.

The Knickerbocker Ice Company has been cutting ice at White Hill, to be shipped to Cape May by rail.

What Is A Bargain?

In this community are hundreds of individuals and families on the watch for an advertisement which will offer them what they want at an advantageous price.

Call them bargain-hunters if you like, but thrifty shoppers would be the better designation. Thrift is a commendable trait and merchants should cater to it.

One family wants a new carpet—the need is not urgent. Another family is looking forward to buying dining-room furniture—it may not be for a twelve month.

One man is thinking of buying himself a watch. One woman a shopping bag, another an umbrella.

All can be made to buy earlier—by advertising. Advertising can make the desire so keen that the bargain is forgotten in the desire for immediate possession.

A Note to Merchants

Stimulate business by the offer of some slow-moving lines at special prices. Brighten up business by advertising some desirable goods at reduced prices. Make advertising banish dull business. Often you can tempt the buyer who is biding his or her time, to buy from you—at a time of your naming.
