COUNTY-WIDE BOY SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Corps of Workers Will Call at Many Homes Here This Week

The annual Boy Scout finance campaign in Burlington County opens Wednesday of this week for a one week's intensive drive.

The campaign, according to a statement issued by F. Russell Perkins, prominent County Scout worker, is "To maintain the progressive and constructive work being done for the boys of Burlington County." In urging that the friends of Scouting aid in raising the budget so that the work of the County Council may be continued and there may be a further extension in new fields, Mr. Perkins calls attention to the appeal that "This work cannot lapse it must go ahead. Your contribution is your best expression of your loyalty to this work.

"We are also anticipating an increase of 50 per cent in our enrollment throughout the County. We have plenty of boys clamoring to join. Our only problems are suitable leadership and financial support.

"Those of us who look back to a Boy-Scoutless Youth, and realize what such a movement would have meant to us, should certainly be disposed to do everything in our power to make the benefits of Scouting more broadly available.

Real Influence

That Scouting is a real Americanization influence has been found in numerous instances where Scouting activities have played a very important part in the home life of the Scout's family.

Any boy, twelve years of age or over, regardless of race, creed, or color, may become a Scout. The membership of the present troops comprises boys of many nationalities and creeds.

Scouting is unique among organizations in its ability to provide competent leadership for over one thousand boys without direct cost. One paid executive and an office assistant supervising and co-ordinating the work of volunteer workers, serving as troop committeemen, special committees, Scout Officials, certified examiners, makes this possible in Burlington County.

The total membership of the present County organization of thirty-three active troops and seven Wolf Cub packs serving 1,058 boys. This figure is increasing through the organization of new units and additional enrollments in chartered troops.

Ready This Summer

During 1928 the County Council purchased a splendid site for the Boy Scouts of the County at Cookstown. With a thirty-acre lake and woodlands, it presents all the elements necessary for an ideal camp.

The work of equipping the property for occupancy this summer is progressing rapidly under the guidance of men o'd in camping experience and well versed in those things needful to a good Scout camp. Being easily accessible from all parts of the County, it will prove a real center for Scout activities in the winter as well as in the summer. The new Camp will truly be an all-year-round rendezvous for the Boy Scouts of Burlington County.

All contributors will be given a beautiful window card, which contains the picture of a Burlington County Scout, the Scout insignia and an appropriate inscription. Every home displaying this will indicate that some member of the household has realized the full significance of the campaign slogan and have "Given back to life some of the good they have gained by service to boys in Scouting."

FOUR ARRESTED FOR DRUNKENNESS

Rose Bush Thieves Caught; Boy Cut in Auto Accident

Officers Miller and Gootee gave chase after Merrill Johns, colored, who filed to heed the warning at Riverton station Sunday night. Johns was finally caught at the Atlantic Paper Tube plant and arrested for reckless driving. Justice Coddington fined him $10.00 and costs.

James Edmonds, James Hyman and James Cotton were in the car with Johns and were arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct when they became obstreperous over the the arrest of Johns. The Squire fined them five dollars and costs.

Three boys from Bridgeboro were caught stealing rose bushes from Dreer's Nursery at Riverton last week. Officer Miller arraigned them before Justice Coddington, who fined them $11.75 each.

A car driven by Mrs. Alfred Bauer, of Palmyra, collided with one driven by Mrs. Lindley C. Robbins, of Riverton, at Main and Highway, on Monday of this week. Mrs. Robbins' son sustained slight lacerations of the face. Officer Quigley was called to the accident, but made no arrests, as the drivers came to an amicable agreement.

BABY SHOW

The Friendship Circle Class will hold a "Baby Show" at the home of Mrs. Howard Alloway, 213 Elm avenue, Riverton, next Monday evening. There will be a short business meeting first, followed by the show. All members are requested to bring along a picture of themselves when a boy or child. As usual, a prize goes to the most attractive baby. It is the desire of the class to have a large attendance.

HEAR PALMYRA MAN TALK VIA RADIO

T. Austin Eadon Officiates During Michell Broadcast Each Wednesday Evening From WIP

A Palmyra man, T. Austin Eadon, is master of ceremonies of the radio program broadcast Wednesday evenings from WIP at 8 to 8.30 by the Michell Seed Company.

The program is entitled "Everybody's Garden." Mr. Eadon gives a talk on practical gardening which is especially interesting to all suburbanites and then introduces a speaker of national reputation who discusses various specialties.

Next Wednesday evening Professor Hollowell, of Pennsylvania State College, will speak, and the following Wednesday Howard Pyle, the foremost American authority on roses, will be on the air.

Palmyra and Riverton people should tune in WIP on these occasions to hear a fellow-townsman via the ether.

YWCA DRIVE WILL START MONDAY

Luncheon for Solicitors Will be Held at Burlington, Friday, April 5

Beginning Monday, April 8, women in Burlington County will again call upon the citizens of the County for their support of the work of the Young Women's Christian Association.

During the eleven years in which the association has been organized locally the work has grown greatly. The fifty-one Girl Reserve clubs are reaching girls in the far parts of the County. In club and council activities business and industrial girls are finding opportunities to bring problems for discussion and to find recreational and educational growth.

The personal help given foreign-born in becoming adjusted to this country, with its different customs and standards, is making for better citizenship. Because of their faith in the Y. W. C. A and its policy and program many women are giving daily of their time and energy to its activities.

On Friday, April 5 Miss Elizabeth Rogers, of New York, Mrs. E. P. Darlington, of New Lisbon, and Ex-Judge Harold B. Wells will be the speakers at the luncheon for workers which will be held at the Broad Street Methodist Episcopal Church in Burlington at 12.30 o'clock. Mrs. E. P. Darlington and Mrs. Wm. Matlack are joint chairmen of the annual drive, and Miss Elizabeth Rogers, of the Rural Communities Department of the National Board, will direct the campaign.

Those who will make the canvass in Riverton are: Mrs. A. Russell Gausler, Mrs. Eugene J. Bush, Mrs. Robert Ayres, Miss Marjorie Marcy, Mrs. Nathan Lane, Mrs. Murray Boyer, Mrs. Walter Blyler, Mrs. Bradford Stetson, Mrs. G. Lincoln Ridley, Mrs. Francis A. Dennmger, Mrs. R. M. Fuller, Mrs. Joseph Morgan, Mrs. Edward Borer, Mrs. B. Ralph Boyer, Mrs. Clarence Rodman, Mrs. Francis Elwell, Mrs. Howard Coe, Mrs. J. D. Clark, Mrs. Walter Sippel, Mrs. J. E. Slater, Mrs. Everett Wolcott, Mrs. Thomas Caslin, Mrs. Harry Rieger, Mrs. Joshua Bartley, Mrs. William Johnson and Mrs. T. O. Green.

ELLZEY—MILLER

A quiet home wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon at four o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter G. Miller, when their daughter, Ruth Katherine, was married to Mr. Clyde William Ellzey, of Osyka, Miss. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles T. Bates.

The bride wore a tan crepe ensemble and a corsage of sweet peas on the shoulder, and was attended by Miss R. Audrey Richards, of Camden, who wore a powder blue ensemble and a corsage of sweet peas. The groom was attended by Mr. Carl F. Krause, of Milton, Pa.

Among the guests were Miss C. Marian Schrank and Miss John Hillson, of Riverton; Mrs. George Harris and daughter, Lillian, Mr. and Mrs. William Richards and sons, William and Paul, of Riverside; Miss Asenath Miller, H. Edward Atkinson, and Mrs. Lucy M. Louderback, of Philadelphia; William Richards, of Camden, and Miss Martha Thomas, of Lewisburg, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellzey took a short wedding trip and will reside at 611 Cinnaminson street, Riverton.

ALBERTINA STREICHERT

Albertina Streichert, aged 37, died at her home, 3009 Lawrence street, Philadelphia, March 28th. The funeral was held Monday at ten o'clock from the home of her sister, Mrs. J. C. Noone, of 12 Spring Garden street, Palmyra. Interment was made in Pleasantville Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover. The deceased is survived by her mother, Lucretia F. Streichert and a sister, Mrs. J. C. Noone.

SPECIAL MEETING

A special meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held on April 3rd, at 3.30 o'clock. The speaker will be Dr. Carrie Weaver Smith, whose subject will be "Answering the First Questions About Birth."

RIVERTON BOARD HAS WOMAN HEAD

Mrs. C. P. Mayfield Elected President of School Board; Hemphill, Clerk

The Riverton Board of Education organized Monday night by electing Mrs. C. P. Mayfield president, and Ross E. Mattis, vice-president. Fred P. Hemphill was re-elected district clerk, and on suggestion of Mrs. Mayfield, who said that Mr. Morse, of the State Department of Education, recommended such procedure, the clerk's term was made concurrent with the time for which he was elected a member of the board. This gives Mr. Hemphill two more years as district clerk.

Mr. Hemphill said that some of the committees overlapped, and suggested that the president rearrange the committees and have her nominations ready for confirmation at the May meeting.

Albert G. Benner, teacher of manual training, tendered his resignation and E. A. Griffith, Jr., was appointed for the balance of the year.

Miss Anna W. DuBois, teacher of second grade, also resigned, and Miss A. Ruth Moore, of Riverton, was elected for the year 1929-1930 to fill the vacancy.

George D. Steedle, chairman of the Property Committee, reported that the flagpole on the school grounds was broken down on March 7, and recommended the purchase of a new 54-foot steel pole to be set in concrete at a cost of about $190. On motion of Mr. Mattis the Property Committee was authorized to erect a suitable pole, the cost of which is not to exceed $200.

Improvements Planned

The Property Committee also recommended that the old lavatories be torn out and new ones installed during the summer vacation. The committee was authorized to advertise for bids for this work.

Bids will also be asked on a two-room portable school building of fire-proof construction, on a concrete foundation. Bidders will supply their own plans and specifications. Heat will be furnished by stoves of an improved pattern, which are especially adapted to use in buildings of this character.

It was also decided that the present heating plant will have to be replaced by a new one, and the committee will submit further information to the board at a later meeting.

The Medical Committee reported that the epidemic of measles was about over and Miss Chew's report showed that the attendance was improving.

A letter was received from Mrs. H. L. Miller voicing her appreciation of the gift of a globe by the board, which marked the close of thirty years of service as a member of that body. The presentation was made at the March meeting.

School Nurse Discussed

The Visiting Nurse Society, of which Mrs. Charles Evans is chairman, addressed a letter to the board offering the services of the visiting nurses for $300 a year if the board decided to appoint a school nurse. Miss Chew, Mrs. Mayfield and Mrs. Blair stressed the desirability of having the nurse for the Summer Round-up work conducted by the Parent-Teacher Association, if a school nurse was to be appointed. Mr. Steedle moved that the School Board employ a school nuse, which was seconded by Mrs. Blair. This was followed by lengthy discussion, in which the members of the board could not agree as to the necessity for a school nurse, and which was ended abruptly by a motion to adjourn offered by Mr. Hemphill, and action was delayed for at least another month.

Miss Chew's Report

An epidemic of measles and chicken-pox greatly reduced our attendance, making it the lowest for any month since I have known Riverton School. Close daily inspection of the children, and constant co-operation of the medical inspector has kept conditions at school in as healthful a state as possible. No child has been re-admitted to school without Dr. Rogers' consent. The height of the epidemic has passed, and we have every reason to expect much better attendance for the remainder of the year.

The Parent-Teacher Association is preparing for the annual Round-up of the children who are expecting to enter school for the first time in September, 1929. I have brought to your attention the need of a school nurse, and I would recommend that a nurse be elected before the close of this school year, in order to assist the medical inspector with the work of the Round-up.

Signed requests for diphtheria immunization have been received from the parents of fourteen children.

Field day will be celebrated on Thursday, May 23rd, and we should request the use of the Park for that date.

The Glassboro Normal School has asked to send three practice teachers to us, for their final term, and asked to have them placed with Miss Paulding, Mrs. Murgatroyd and Mrs. Bush.

During the month of April Dr. Lois Mossman, of Teachers' College, Columbia, will give three lectures of "Types of Projects or Lessons." All our teachers except two, who are taking University work on Tuesdays, the day scheduled for the lectures, have subscribed to the course.

Some preliminary measurements looking forward to a survey were taken by the State statisticians on March 21st, and a meeting called at Palmyra High School, March 26th. Riverton was represented by Mrs. Mayfield and your supervising principal.

Respectfully submitted.

HANNAH H. CHEW,
Supervising Principal.

SNOVER HEADS ROTARY CLUB

Is Chosen President at Annual Election Meeting Last Thursday Night

The Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club had of necessity a prolonged meeting on Thursday evening last, its regular annual election, due to the new method of nominating and electing officers, on the same evening.

On the first ballot nearly every member of the club was nominated for one of the several offices, only proving the strong Rotary spirit which prevails.

However, by a process of a series of ballots, the following were elected to serve during the coming year: Frank A. Snover, president; Elwood Thum, vice-president; Ned Richmond, treasurer, and Joseph Seel, secretary. The two new directors finally receiving the highest number of votes were Clement Lewis and Dr. James Dey.

The new president and officers, who will assume their duties in July, received the assurance from the club of their hearty support and close co-operation.

President-Elect Frank will appoint his committees and will probably make these appointments known shortly.

T. W. BEIDEMAN DIED SATURDAY

Vice President of Palmyra National Bank Succumbs to Paralytic Stroke

Thomas Woodruff Beideman, 60 years old, vice-president of the Palmyra National Bank, died at his home, 630 Elm Terrace, Riverton, early last Saturday morning, following an illness of six months. Death resulted from a paralytic stroke.

Mr. Beideman was well known in both Palmyra and Riverton, having lived on a farm on Hilton road, West Palmyra, for many years, previous to moving to riverton about six years ago.

He was very active in the Methodist Episcopal Church, being a member of the official board and a member of the Wesleyan Class. He was a member of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club, Odd Fellows and P. O. S. of A.

Funeral services were held from the late residence Tuesday afternoon, with the Rev. J. William Lee officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church. Interment was made in Arlington Cemetery, Pensauken Township. Directors of the Palmyra Bank acted as honorary pall-bearers at the funeral. Services were conducted at the home Monday night by the P. O. S. of A.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Jennie; his mother, Mrs. Josephine Beideman; a sister, Mrs. Florence Ledyard, and three brothers, Horace and William, of Camden, and George of Pensauken. Horace Beideman is bus supervisor in Camden.

Senator Powell Explains Need of District Court in County

Would Save Money for Taxpayers Within Short Time, Legislator Asserts

A Democratic newspaper in Burlington County has started a campaign to defeat the bill introduced by Senator Clifford R. Powell, providing for the creation of a District Court in Burlington County, alleging that it will be an unwarranted expense of $12,000.00 per year and that the Court is to be created for purely political purposes. Senator Powell denies both allegations and has issued the following statement:

"I believe that a District Court is needed in Burlington County and that probably in its second year, and surely not later than its third year, it will save to the taxpayers of the County a great deal of money. Such a court will relieve the burden in the County Court and provide a speedy and inexpensive tribunal for the trial of small claims. During the last term of our County Court, a Common Pleas Judge was brought in, at extra expense, to help dispose of the many accumulated cases. Juries are necessarily held for long periods of time in the County Courts at great expense to the County. A District Court will alleviate this situation.

"A few years ago there were general salary increases for Judges and Prosecutors throughout the State, at which time I was able to hold down the increases for Judge and Prosecutor in Burlington County, resulting in an annual saving of $3,500.00. I have ever been frank and open in opposition to salary increases and unnecessary items of expense to the County. If it were true that a District Court would add unusual or unnecessary expense, I would not sponsor such a movement.

"The bill introduced provides salaries as follows: Judge, $2,500; Clerk, $1,200, and Sergeant-at-Arms, $900; a total of $4,600. This sum, added to $600 for postage, stationery, etc., would make a total expense to the County of $5,200. It may be necessary to increase this total to $6,000, to conform to the General District Court Act. That sum will be the total cost to the County if the Court does not try a single case. However, fees taxed in each case in the Court will reduce the expense to the County, and I freely predict that by its third year a District Court would be a revenue producer to the County instead of an expense. In the meantime it will reduce the expense of operating the County Court, and by virtue of its lower taxed costs will save hundreds of dollars to litigants who are forced to go into court to settle small claims.

"A District Court should sit in Burlington for the convenience of Riverfront litigants, and in Mount Holly for the back portion of the County. There are two court rooms in the Mount Holly Court House and a court room in Burlington City Hall, which can be used without expense to the County. More than ample space, now being wasted, is available in the building used by the County Clerk to properly house the Clerk of a District Court, so that no expense for location is required.

"It is proposed to give concurrent jurisdiction to the District Court with Justices of the Peace in civil matters, so that their jurisdiction is not interfered with. The District Court would also have concurrent jurisdiction with the County Courts up to $500, or up to $1,000 if a bill now pending in the Legislature is adopted. It would be a court of record with appeal direct to the Supreme Court of the State. Cases could be disposed of cheaply in a few days, whereas it takes months and even years to dispose of small cases at great expense in our County Courts.

"Counties much smaller than Burlington have District Courts operating to the satisfaction of taxpayers and citizens. Morris County, with almost exactly the same population as Burlington, has three District Courts. Every city in the State with a population of more than twenty-two thousand has a District Court, according to the District Court Act.

"In advocating a District Court for the County which it is my pleasure and duty to represent, I feel that a progressive step is being taken, and that a few months' operation of such a court will convince the citizens of the County that it is a very worthwhile arm in the administration of justice."

RIVERTON FIRES

1st Friday the Riverton firemen were called to the residence of Harry C. Worrell to extinguish a blaze on the roof of a barn. Little damage was done.

A second call came from McCoy's Service Station and by quick response and use of the chemical the fire was kept from spreading to some oil barrels.

Monday evening both the Riverton and Palmyra Fire Companies were called for a fire on Memorial Park but the firemen were not able to find the blaze. If this was an April Fool joke the one who "pulled" it should be severely dealth with.

A grass fire on Warrington avenue, East Riverton, Tuesday morning, was whipped by a high wind and required the use of chemicals.

HOW IT WILL LOOK

On page5 of this issue Charles A. Wright publishes an advertisement concerning the proposition of crossing the railroad by the over-pass method going to and from the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge. The advertisement contains two illustrations, showing different views of the over-pass.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

Mrs. Lewis Dick's Presentation of Poets Great Success

Mrs. Lewis R. Dick, widely known in this part of the country for her service in behalf of education, greatly entertained the members of the Porch Club on Tuesday, April 2nd, her subject being "Poems of the Lighter Vein." Mrs. Dick, who herself is an active club woman, being vice-president of the New Century Club of Philadelphia, gives her time to bringing before the public the modern poets.

Margaret Wilkinson, who a year ago met a tragic death, was the first poet Mrs. Dick mentioned. She spoke of her as a woman who never wrote anything but which was beautiful, pure and good. After speaking of Arthur Guiterman's poems, the speaker read a very amusing one, entitled "The Curse of the Antique." Mrs. Dick then told of Samuel Hoffenstein, collection of poems, which has reached its fifth edition, 200,000 copies already having been printed. She spoke of Mr. Hoffenstein as a modern poet who reflect the vulgarity of the times, but whose poetry nevertheless is good. The ones read from this collection brought forth much laughter.

Mrs. Dick referred to Brander Matthews, whose death occurred last week. She quoted his definition of "highbrow" as "one who is educated beyond his intelligence."

Mrs. Dick gave from memory most of the poems of the afternoon, and by her pleasing personality and enthusiasm held her audience at close attention for an hour.

A business meeting, with Mrs. Reuben F. Corry in the chair, followed the afternoon's program. After the reading and the accepting of the reports of the officers, department heads and chairmen of committees, Mrs. Howard S. Coe gave the report of the nominating committee, a copy of which will be sent to each member before the election in May. Mrs. Ralph Flower, Mrs. Filson Graff and Mrs. Clifton P. Mayfield were appointed judge and tellers of the election. Miss Cornelia S. Coale and Mrs. Fred P. Hemphill were appointed from the chair to audit the books of the Porch Club for the past year.

Juniors Will Give Play

On April 10th the Junior Porch Club members will present a play entitled "Club Meeting Day in Oldtown," at 8 P. M., in the Porch Club. Those taking part will include the Misses Elizabeth Elliott, Frances West, Elizabeth Mayfield, Helen Schriver, Eloise Boyer, Louise Ayres, Ruth Bartley, May Cumsston, Lenore Showell, Andrea Van Steenbergh, Dora Parry, Anne McVaugh, Elizabeth Ridley, Alice Bartley, Elizabeth Shoemaker, Elizabeth Hunn and Amy Bilyeu.

This burlesque on a meeting of a would-be Woman's Right Club in a couldn't-be New England town caused great amusement when given in January at an afternoon session of the Porch Club. The play is being repeated at this time for the benefit of the Palmyra Ambulance Fund. The cause is a worthy one, and the Juniors are working very hard under the guidance of Mrs. R. Selby Williams to make this event a great success. The tickets are on sale for fifty cents.

CITIZENS HEAR DISCUSSION OF WATER COSTS

W. D. Vosbury, of Remington and Vosbury, Palmyra Borough Engineers, Speaks

MUNICIPAL PLANTS PROVE PROFITABLE

Merchantville Rate is $10.00 for 10,000 Gallon; Here It is $22.00

W. DeWitt Vosbury, of the firm of Remington and Vosbury, Palmyra Borough engineers, was present at the meeting of the Citizens' Committee Tuesday night and gave a very complete explanation of the workings of water plants in South Jersey.

About fifty persons were present and enjoyed Mr. Vosbury's talk very much. Walter H. Cummings, chairman of the Citizens' Committee, was in charge. J. W. Crawford, secretary of the organization, introduced the speaker.

Mr. Vosbury explained that he was present in answer to a request from the committee and was glad to give any information that might be of interest to citizens who were present. He further explained that it was his purpose to discuss the workings of water companies in general and did not wish it to be understood that he was condemning the existing plant or recommending any action whatever.

Haddonfield Owns Plant

The engineer told of Haddonfield acquiring its water plant some twenty years ago on account of the poor service rendered by the private owners. This plant is now paid for and the rate is less than half of the Palmyra-Riverton rate for an average consumption of water.

He told of Pitman going through the same experience a year later and with just about the same result.

Mr. Vosbury gave a brief description of how a privately owned company operates. He explained how its income was based on three considerations, namely, the cost of operation, the cost of depreciation and the return on the capital investment. He said the companies under the New Jersey law are entitled to a return of eight per cent per annum on their total valuation in addition to the total expense.

The speaker then told of the method used in placing a value on a public utility. He said that at first the engineer employed for the purpose would go over the system and compute the cost of the work if done under present conditions, and then deduct a reasonable amount for depreciation, depending upon how long the work had been in use.

Present Value

The difference between the cost of the work new and the deduction for depreciation would represent the present value, either for the purpose of sale or for determining the proper return to which the utility company is entitled.

Mr. Vosbury then enumerated the steps necessary for the Borough to acquire control of the company if such procedure were considered wise. He said that it would be necessary to have the co-operation of Riverton and Cinnaminson. The first step, he said, would be to get a sufficient number of signers to a petition asking the governing bodies to take the steps necessary.

If the governing bodies acted favorably they would appoint a committee to act with committee appointed by the other governing bodies to go over the situation. These committees, acting together, would carry on negotiations with the owners of the water supply company for the purpose of arriving at a fair purchase price.

Advantages and Disadvantages

The speaker then discussed the advantages and disadvantages of a municipally owned system. He said the municipal system should be just as efficient and that there need be no confusion in making the change as generally when this is done the same superintendent and employees are maintained and only the officials are dropped.

He said the cost of laying mains was cheaper for a municipality. Also lower cost of borrowing money would make operation cheaper.

Mr. Vosbury explained that an election would not be necessary if the municipalities concerned were to agree on any action. The only necessary action would be for the governing bodies to pass ordinances and arrange for a public hearing. He advised against any condemnation proceedings.

The engineer then gave the charge for 40,000 gallons of water annually, which he said was an average consumption for a family. The Riverton-Palmyra Company charges $22.00 for this amount of water, while municipal plants charge from $2.00 to $12.00 less.

A committee was appointed by Mr. Cummings to secure signatures to a petition asking the Borough Councils of Palmyra and Riverton to take the necessary preliminary steps towards municipal ownership of the water supply plant.

EDWARD DOERFUL

Edward Doerful, husband of Emma Doerful, of 26 Henry street, Palmyra, died at the Fairview Sanitarium, Saturday, March 30th. Funeral services were held at the Snover Funeral Home, Tuesday afternoon, with Rev. George Lockett officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery. Besides his wife, the deceased is survived by two sons, William and Victor.

WARGNY—YOUNG

A very pretty wedding took place when Miss Helen M. Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Young, of Riverton, became the bride of Mr. Oscar Wargny, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Wargny, of Westville, at two o'clock Saturday, March 30th in Calvary Presbyterian Church, Riverton. The Reverend Charles T. Bates officiated. Mrs. Maurice G. Decamp was at the organ.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of blue georgette with a hat of the same shade. She carried a bouquet of white roses and Killarney sweet peas.

The maid of honor, Miss E. Elizabeth Coddington, wore rose beige georgette with a tan hat, and carried a corsage bouquet of yellow tulips and daffodils.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ruth Young, sister of the bride and Mrs. Eric Biederwald, carried corsage bouquets of pink sweet peas. Miss Young wore an orchid georgette gown with a hat of the same shade, and Mrs. Biederwald wore pansy colored georgette with a hat of a harmonizing shade of orchid.

The bride's mother wore blue georgette with a tan hat, and a corsage of pink sweet peas.

Mr. Eric Biederwald acted as best man. The ushers were Mr. Robert Young, a brother of the bride and Mr. Edward Wargny, a brother of the groom.

After a wedding trip the young couple will reside at 124 Maple avenue, Westville, New Jersey.

Lots of people think the world owes them five or six livings.

CARD TOURNAMENT AT K. of C. HALL

Progressive Card Parties April 12, 19 and 26; Many Fine Prizes

Beginning on Friday night, April 12, and continuing on the next two consecutive Friday nights, St. Joseph's Council, K. of C. are offering to the card playing public of Riverton-Palmyra something entirely new in card entertainment.

The affair known as a Progressive Card Tournament will begin on Friday night, April 12. After each night tally cards will be collected and filed and the players will have the opportunity to return on the next two playing nights and add to their scores already made.

The grand total of scores made on the three nights will entitle the person to a share in one of the grand prize, all in gold, $25.00, $15.00, and $10.00.

In addition to these major prizes, on each individual night thirty-five prizes are to be distributed and the holder of a winning number will receive a door prize of $5.00 for each night.

Several committees have been hard at work on the affair and the advance sale of tickets indicates that three packed houses will give the K. of C. another chance to display their ability in handling large crowds.

Robert J. Woods is chairman and those in charge of the various parts of the affair are: H. B. Bradshaw, tickets; M. J. McDermott, program T. A. Eadon, advertising; Mrs. John Doonan, wardrobe; Mrs. William McCamy, refreshments Mrs. C. Sanford, tally clerks; John Doonan, cards and tables, Mrs. George Porter, prizes, and Joseph Landers, treasurer.

Three nights, three floors, three games, and three major prizes, plenty of cards, comfortable quarters and a good time is in store for everybody who will be the guests of the K. of C. on April 12, 19 and 26.

McChesney — Burns

The wedding of Mae E. Burns, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Sim, Riverton, and Thomas J. McChesney, son of Mrs. Anna McChesney, Camden avenue, Moorestown, took place at the Sacred Heart Church, Riverton, Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The Rev. Leo E. Dineen, of the Church of Our Lady of Good Council, Moorestown officiated at the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Thomas J. Rudden, pastor of the Church of Our Lady of Good Council, Moorestown.

Mrs. Rex McCrosson played the wedding march, and Mr. Frank Hardman and Mr. John O'Connor, of Philadelphia, and Miss Mary Stoedle, of Riverton, rendered the vocal solos.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, was charming in a gown of white satin made en train and wore a veil of lace caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of calla lilies, roses, and lilies-of-the-valley.

She was attended by her cousin, Miss Betty Sim, Riverton, as maid of honor. She was attractively attired in a gown of peach taffeta and wore a leghorn picture hat. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas and yellow calla lilies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Elsie Odgen, Palmyra, a cousin of the bride, Miss Elizabeth D'Autrechy, Palmyra; Miss Helen McChesney, Moorestown, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Betty Rivel, of Tacony, Pa.

Miss Odgen and Miss D'Autrechy wore charming frocks of raspberry taffeta, while Miss McChesney and Miss Rivel wore frocks of green taffeta. All wore large leghorn picture hats and carried bouquets of sweet peas, tied with ribbon to match their dresses.

Philip J. McChesney, Moorestown, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers included Harry Burns, Riverton, a brother of the bride; John McChesney, another brother of the bridegroom, and Edward Brickner, Moorestown, and Frank Kirchner, Riverside.

A wedding breakfast and reception followed at the home of the bride for the members of the immediate families and their friends. About sixty guests were present.

After the reception Mr. and Mrs. McChesney left on a Southern trip. They will be at home at their new residence, West Oak avenue, Moorestown, about April 15.

MOVING PICTURES

An interesting moving picture show will be given by Robert Borer, Saturday afternoon at 2.30 and evening at 7.30.

The six reels of films will be shown at Collins' Hall, April 6.

PARACHUTE JUMP AT CLUB SUNDAY

French Says Spring and Flying Weather is Here; Plans Thrills

"Spring is here and so is flying weather."

This is the announcement made by William de R. French, treasurer and field manager of the Burlington County Aero Club, this week.

And to prove that good flying weather has returned, Mr. French announces that the Burlington County Aero Club will open its spring and summer program with a parachute jump at the Aero Club's field this Sunday afternoon.

"Daredevil" Perry, of New Brunswick, has been signed up by the Aero Club for parachute jumps for this season and, weather permitting, will make his first jump this Sunday afternoon at 4.30 sharp, according to Mr. French's announcement.

The club's many aviation fans are assured of thrills galore this summer, for "Daredevil" Perry makes "delayed" jumps. In other words, he delays opening his parachute after dropping from the plane, generally falling between two hundred and a thousand feet. Perry is anxious to establish a new record for "delayed" jumps and has assured club officials he will make an attempt from the Moorestown field this summer. In order to set a new mark, Perry will have to fall more than four thousand feet before opening his parachute.

Although he makes no definite promises, the field manager is attempting to arrange for a big opening program for Sunday. In addition to the parachute jump at 4.30, Mr. French hopes to stage an airplane race in which he, S. Roger Gale, another member of the club, who has his own ship; Lieut. Pennock, the club's chief pilot; Jack Thropp and Ray Kuser, popular Trenton fliers, and young Freddie Reidel, of Camden, will compete. A balloon-breaking contest may also be included.

The club plans to have some big event along these lines as an additional attraction to the parachute jump for every Sunday throughout the spring and summer.

Passenger hopping is also regaining its popularity. Mother Earth is unusually beautiful from the air at this season of the year and proves a real treat to the passengers.

PALMYRA WOMAN PUBLISHES POEM

A poem in praise of Eustis, Florida, has been written by a former Palmyra woman, Mrs. Hannah Morgan, and is reprinted herewith.

This poem has been imprinted on a postal, together with a very beautiful picture of Eustis, taken by moonlight from across the lake, and is sold as a souvenir of this pretty Florida town.

Eustis, queen of the cities
Of the famous Lake County.
Unparalleled is she
In beauty and bounty.
Scenes and sunsets—glorious
O'er her land and lakes.
Triumphant, in the triangle golden.
A share of glory she takes Inland—be her domain—
A waterway is destined to be.
Surely and some day, I hope
Her real beauty you'll see.

Florida is the land
Where this throne doth stand.
Lake is the County
Where the queen sits 'mid bounty
And beauty 'till eternity.
Waiting to welcome thine and thee.

BOY SCOUTS

On Tuesday, March 26, the Palmyra Local Board of Scouting held its second meeting. This meeting was for the discussion of the campaign between April 3 and 12. The first part of the meeting was devoted to finance work and the Scouts certainly are depending upon the people of Palmyra to give a helping hand.

Other matters of importance were discussed relative to publicity and the different ways in which to carry it out, also the campaign methods to be used.

The meeting was attended by Albert E. Fry, C. O. Meleher, Ray Sanford, Louis Janders, George Berton, Harold Zayotti, Nelson Rose, John R. Tallis, Scout Executive, and the Rev. Mr. Condit.

On Thursday of last week, the regular meeting of Troop 2, Boy Scouts of America was held in the Lutheran Church. George Chandler's Patrol gave an exhibition of Indian dancing which was greatly enjoyed by all the scouts present. The rest of the meeting was devoted to Scout work and other interesting things.

On Monday, ten of the boys went on a hike to be gone a few days. Two of the boys went on a canoe hike up the Rancocas Creek.

MT. HOLLY PLANS NEW TOWN HALL

Ordinance for $75,000 Bond Issue for Improvement is Introduced

Erection of a town hall in Mount Holly has been brought to a focus by action of the township committee, which has obtained an option to purchase the property of Reeve Stewart, 23-25 Washington street, frontage of 70 feet, for $15,000, as a site for a hall. An ordinance providing for a bond issue of $75,000 was introduced last week and a public hearing will be given.

Tentative plans for the building thought to meet the town's needs have been drawn, the cost of which is figured at approximately $40,000. To this is added the cost of the site, furnishings and equipment. It is not the desire of the township committee, it is reported, to erect an ornate building at high cost, but to have a brick structure, two stories, that will have a pleasing appearance.

Sketches have been submitted by Architects Arnold Moses, Merchantville, and Lynn H. Boyer, Wildwood. The township committee proposes to have several architects submit plans and then to select the one which is deemed best for the town at a reasonable cost.

The building is to contain, on the first floor, a small court room for use of the recorder, offices for the assessor, collector and township clerk, baby welfare station, public comfort rooms for men and women, police headquarters, lockup with about four cells, a vault for storage of township records, etc.

On the second floor there are to be meeting rooms for the township committee and for public hearings and a few offices.

The committee and a number of other citizens consider the present headquarters a disgrace to the town besides being inadequate for its purposes and therefore the officials decided upon erecting a new structure at this time.

CARD OF THANKS

LINCOLN PIONEERS

Bruce Davidson, Y. M. C. A. reporter for the Lincoln Pioneer Group, submits the following account of last Wednesday's meeting:

The regular weekly meeting of the Lincoln Pioneers was held Wednesday evening at 7:30 P. M. at the Y. M. C. A. Building at the corner of Broad Street and Garfield avenue. At 7:30 about all the members that come regularly were present and as Mr. Taylor our leader had not arrived yet, most of us went up into the gym to practice for the basketball game our first team was to have against McCready's team.

One by one McCready's team put in appearance and by 7:45 all the team and also our leader Mr. Taylor were there. Mr. Taylor then called us to relieve and the game began. The game was a good one according to the visiting team and spectators, but to us it was rotten for though our team played it best we lost 29 to 5.

Two of McCready's team Stengle and Lauderat by names were absent so Howard Rarig in basball boy and John Sacra took the place of the absent pairs. Some one said if they had had their regular team we would have won the game. The best player of the opposite team were Carrigan, Lester and McCready. The best player on our side was Bill Hendrickson. Horace Yeame was good too, only he was too small.

After the game was over we went into the meeting room to have our meeting. The attendance was marked and the dues collected. Then came the business part of the program. Two boys received membership their names were Adolf Backe and Alfred Branson. It was Alfred's first time to be taken home when he got a strained feet somewhere it seems as Al's feet when he had been marched down and his feet to feel very sore down.

After the meeting was over we again rushed for the gym where we chose up sides and played a short game of basketball (which needless to say was invigorating). At 9:30 Mr. Taylor ushered us out of the building each of us with a determination called "home."

PLAID PRINTS

Plaid Prints are very smart, and dividing honors with more complicated patterns are featured in many new spring silks.

The striking plaid is of green and beige, a most practical and charming model designed by Frances Clyne for all-round service.

Color combinations of these new silks run to two-tone effects rather than a great mixture of colors, and patterns vary from tiny checks to huge line-plaids.

Some Speed

Major Seagrave ran an auto 231 miles an hour on a Florida track, and the entire world was thrilled by the news of the accomplishment. Some speed!

Far be it from us to detract from the importance of Major Seagrave's feat.

But let us analyze it thoroughly from the standpoint of its usefulness.

There's no public highway where autos can be allowed to go at that speed. Therefore why build expensive motors that cannot be used when built?

It's dangerous even to look at a car going at that speed, the slightest deflection in its course being able to send it towards its spectators at a speed of 340 feet per second.

Increased speed is certainly not a desirable improvement in an automobile. Car designers should create products winning their laurels in other ways.

Sure, it's thrilling to hear about this feat and others like it. But such accomplishments have nothing to do with the progress of car production—it would be a tragedy more than anything else if the ordinary motorist were given the means to travel any quicker than he does now. The high-speed car is merely an expensive sporting-toy with no practical value, in our opinion.

Rendering Service to Investors

The functions of the modern stock exchange are of the utmost importance to stabilizing security issues and protecting the vast investing public.

The exchange provides a free and open market for sound securities and before accepting them for listing makes an exhaustive analysis of the organizations behind them. All the information that is obtained is open to the public.

The exchange rigorously combats "bucket-shop" operations, by exerting strict supervision and regulation over all member brokerage houses that safeguards the customer's account when carried through an exchange member.

The stock exchange does not pretend to have power over American business, and it is far from being a self-appointed censor. But what it does do, in the public interest, is, through a close watch on all securities listed, employ moral suasion with American institutions that makes for higher and more stable business standards.

By combatting fraud and lending its aid to honest and sound ventures, the modern stock exchange is rendering a great service to the millions of Americans who are now purchasing interests, both small and large, in our great industries.

Your Own Community

If you were travelling in a foreign land, and saw our starry flag, you would be glad to feel that you belong to America, and that its long arm reaches out to protect your journeyings.

Whenever you hear the national anthem played, you feel a thrill of pride, that you have a share in this land of achievement.

Fine sentiments these. They should be paralleled by a similarly ardent feeling for the community in which you live.

Your home town gives you daily bread, modern comforts, education for your children, cherished friendships. Let us love it dearly, defend it from unfair criticism, and go to work for its welfare.

What Newspaper Ads Did

It was only a few years ago that the retail stores in towns and the smaller cities did the bulk of their week's business on Saturday. While the other five days might have paid expenses the merchants depended upon the Saturday sales for the major portion of his week's profit. Needless to say the average merchant would have been exempt from excess profits taxes in those days.

The newspaper is given credit for discovering the possibility of scattering the Saturday peak load over the six business days of the week and it was newspaper advertising which has achieved the present more equitable distribution of the week's business. Saturday is still the merchant's busy day, but now he is only a little less busy on the preceding five days.

This is only one of the many services performed for business by newspaper advertising. It is irrefutable that a great part of the increase in business experienced by the retail stores generally in recent years has been created by newspaper advertising. Newspaper advertising has been the "Aladdin's Lamp" of the retail merchant. There are still isolated towns where one may see for himself what "might have been" the nation over if newspaper advertising had never been.

WELL, JOHN D. WON.

NOW, THEREFORE, I.

THE QUICK HOOVER MIND.

GOODBYE, TOM TAGGART.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., wins his fight in the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and Colonel Stewart is defeated.

There have been few more bitter fights in the history of high finance.

On Tuesday John H. Perry, learned editor of Reading, Pennsylvania, Jacksonville, Florida, and other places, predicting the Indiana result, said,

"It is hard to fight dollars. In fact, you can't do it."

He added as an afterthought:

"It is absolutely impossible to fight dollars when they happen to be right."

Colonel Coblentz, of San Francisco and New York, remarked:

"To the victor belong the oils."

Colonel Stewart, bidding farewell to Standard Oil of Indiana, and probably preparing to run some other big oil company, had the satisfaction of reporting financial success for 1928.

In the last year Standard Oil of Indiana has earned more than eighty-three million dollars profit, or 16.76 per cent. on its capital. Earnings of the company increased more than fifty millions, as compared with 1927.

President Hoover, who summons the extra session of Congress to meet on April 15, is not an emotional man. But he must have ben moved on writing the words, "Now, therefore, I Herbert Hoover, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim and declare," etc.

After you have done farm chores as a small boy there must be considerable satisfaction in writing, "Now, therefore, I, President."

On April 15 farmers will have their day and Congress will tell them, if it can, how to put a disorganized industry on a substantial paying basis.

No manufacturer could make his plant pay if he had to close down all Winter. The farmer must do that, and it is part of the problem.

President Hoover has a quality more important to executives than any, except sound judgment.

HE MAKES UP HIS MIND QUICKLY. "No 'wait a day or two'."

When told of the Mexican revolution the President did not wait a week. In five minutes he had told his Cabinet "our business interest and duty demand support of the existing Mexican Government."

He shipped guns and ammunition from army stores to President Portes Gil, stopped shipments of ammunition, guns and airplanes to the revolutionists, and arranged for shipments of fighting planes to Mexico's Government.

This does not imply complete approval of all that the Mexican Government has done, or disapproval of the revolutionary cause. It means that the President means to uphold stability of government.

Tom Taggart, of Indiana, is dead. He had an interesting life while it lasted, and it lasted seventy-two years. He was a political boss for a generation, controlling his State. He defeated Champ Clark and nominated Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency.

The telephone bell was ringing and Br'er Rabbit answered it.

"Hello! Yes—how are you—why certainly—what's that? you don't mean it—bring the children?—Only too glad to—we'll come at once."

Br'er Rabbit hung up the receiver. "It's Mr. White Rabbit who wants us to come over and bring the children. I think he wants to have a game of bridge, but I'm not sure. Anyway, if we take the children, they will amuse themselves with the White Rabbit children and we will have a swell time."

"Children!" shouted Mother Rabbit. "Come here and get dressed as fast as ever you can."

Billie Bunny and Bobbie rushed into their rooms and soon came a splashing of water as the two began to scrub their necks.

In less time than it takes to tell it, Br'er Rabbit's family was on its way to see the White Rabbits. The two youngsters led the way and old Br'er Rabbit and his good wife came behind.

Bang, bang BANG! Br'er Rabbit knocked at the door.

"Come in!" shouted a merry voice from within. Br'er Rabbit opened the door and in walked his family.

"Delighted to see you," said the White Rabbit, while their two youngsters were hugging Bobbie and Billie.

Soon the old folks were playing bridge and all was very, very quiet in the parlor.

Bye and bye the game was over and Br'er Rabbit began to look for his darlings.

They were in the pantry with the White Rabbits.

"Mercy sakes alive!" exclaimed Mother Rabbit. "Those children are all covered with jam."

"But we had a good time!" exclaimed Billie.

"And so did we," said Br'er Rabbit, with a merry laugh.

(Suggested by Mary Lampe, Tacoma, Wash.)

After lustily singing "Home, Sweet Home" at the parties, some folks go out of town to buy their supplies.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness

By Bernarr Macfadden

Selecting a Wife

Young men like to think that they select their wives; it caters to their vanity. But actually, it is often the wives who do the selecting. For example: A girl decides she wants a certain chap for her husband and she sets out to get him. He may be willing, or he may not, but girls have a way of knowing how to win over the reluctant male, and in the end he usually succumbs.

But there are young men who really do select their wives, and it is to them that this little talk is directed.

There are many standards of course by which the ideal wife can be measured; tastes vary. But there are also certain innate qualities that a girl must possess in order to be a good wife to any man. And these are among them:

First of all, she must possess a splendidly vigorous body. The more vital she is the better your chance for marital happiness.

She should be a natural, wholesome, vivacious girl, who will be honest and above-board in all her dealings with you. The painted, sexy little vamp is not the one to chose for your life partner; she is usually a "fair-weather" friend.

She should love you for what you are and not for what you have.

She should have a background of wholesome family life in which she has learned to respect the rights of others, along with unselfishness and loyalty. And she must have reverence for its divine associations.

"Handsome is as handsome does," is a trite old saying, but, like many old sayings, it has its foundation in truth. Beautifully molded features, while pleasant to look upon, are not all-important because the implacable march of Time changes them. But a beautifully molded character lasts as long as the spirit is in the body. And no character can be called beautiful that does not count among its dearest possessions a fine set of moral principles.

In chosing your wife, it must be remembered that you are also choosing the mother of your children, and, unfortunately, this is not always given enough consideration. Your wife should be fitted to bring into the world children of whom you can be proud. They should be a living, lusty, glowing tribute to your love. Scrawny, spindle-legged, knock-kneed, bow-legged children are anything but this.

But even though you agree heartily to this advice watch out. Many a bright young man has said: "Oh, I'm just killing a little time. I have no serious intentions." But how about the girl's intentions? She may be serious and if she does not measure up to your ideals, you are in danger.

Sometimes it is painful in the extreme to break off an association of this kind; like a painful surgical operation. But if you do not break it off now, it will break you up later on when your hopes and dreams of a blissful married life have gone to pieces on the rocks of disillusion.

Heart to Heart Talks

BY JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

Yesterday my chauffeur took me through a much-crowded traffic-way. Some of his manoeuvres with the machine were hair-breadth in precision. He never grew ruffled in temper, his nerve seemed absolutely dependable, though his welfare and mine were skirting the danger-zone. I congratulated him when we alighted at our destination.

"It's done by practice," said he; "you've got to observe the rules, watch for an opening, and go ahead."

Simple enough. Just obey the laws, watch for your opening and go ahead! Come to think of it, don't the same three simple rules hold good in every walk of life?

There are people who are very lax about the rules; they seem disobedient to begin with—a very undesirable trait in men and women. Negligence of existing laws grows on folks that travel on life's crowded thoroughfare. They get on the wrong side of the street, get fined, curse the traffic policemen secretly, and, imperil the lives of their fellow-men, as though life were a trivial thing.

The fellow who never gets there hasn't looked for the opening, goes around in circles with eyes half closed. Then he grumbles because business is dull; he is the dullard. The opening is there, just as soon as the other driver gets out of the way.

Then, if one doesn't see the opening—hasn't looked for it—he simply never goes ahead. He is in a position to get bumped into, and soundly roasted because he is obstructing the traffic; worse than all, he has only himself to blame. If he doesn't do it, his fellow-travelers will blame him in full measure. Obey the rules, watch for the opening, then go ahead. Simple, isn't it?

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for April 7
THE MINISTRY OF ISAIAH
Isaiah 6:1-8; 20:1-2; 38:1-5
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Six months are now to be given to the Old Testament. The general title is "prophetic Teaching and Leadership of Judah." The Aim, as stated by the International Lessons Committee, is "To lead the pupils in discovering and appreciating how God, through prophets and other leaders, gave help and guidance to the people of Judah, in order that the pupils may come to see the hand of God in their own lives in all human affairs." Five weeks are given to Isaiah, so read that book in that time. This series continues the course which concluded with "From Samuel to Isaiah" December, 1927, and is part of the six-year cycle.

A great heart ache led Isaiah to seek a special audience with God. Hezekiah, the efficient and greatly beloved king, died and life for the nation looked dark, indeed. There is always resource in the recourse to prayer and the prophet was comforted as he looked into the future with Jehovah. Spiritual sight pierced beyond the horizon of the physical and Isaiah beheld his enthroned Lord in majestic setting. Heavenly messengers were about Him. Their six wings typified worship, humility and service. Salutation was heard in the antiphonal greeting, "Holy, holy, holy, is Jehovah of hosts: the whole earth is full of his glory."

Instantly the consciousness of the presence of Deity made Isaiah aware of his own sinful human nature by contrast. It is always so. As we come unto Him we are mindful of the difference, as the real self is acknowledged. Isaiah's outcry was akin to that of the man in parable, when two men went up to the Temple to pray, who said "God, be merciful to me, a sinner." Such pleading moves our Father to action. Though it was in a vision there was effective reality, as one of the seraphim took a burning coal from the altar and cleansed those lips as by fire. Thus made ready, Isaiah was able to give a noble response when the Lord called for volunteers, saying, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for us? Instant answer was "Here am I; send me." Today, when opportunity is given for service 95% of the average church members will be indifferent or suggest that the other 5%, already doing most of the work, undertake the added tasks.

Isaiah served faithfully during four reigns. He fulfilled the office of a prophet. He foretold the truth as a messenger commanded by Jehovah. No toil was too hard to be undertaken in obeying a commission. He boldly faced kings as well as peasants, for every class equally needs the truth of life. When Hezekiah was sick Isaiah, in performing the office of a pastor, told him "Set thy house in order," in preparation for impending death. He is foolish indeed who straightens out his books only when the auditor is expected. Every phase of life should be lived so that the auditing can take place at any time.

MEDFORD MAN NEW JURY COMMISSIONER

Frank A. Braddock, Chairman of County Democratic Committee, Succeeds Ballinger

Under the new law passed this winter taking the appointment of Jury Commissioners out of the hands of Chancellor Walker and placing the appointing power with Governor Larson, Jury Commissioner Charles B. Ballinger, of Mount Holly, who has served Burlington County in that capacity for several years, and whose term of office automatically expired last Saturday, was replaced by Frank A. Braddock, of Medford, chairman of the Democratic County Committee, and one of the county's best-known citizens.

The new law, as did the old statute, provides that jury commissioners in counties must be of opposite political faith to the sheriff of the County.

The new appointee is a well known Medford business man of unquestioned integrity, and he will no doubt make a worthy successor to Mr. Ballinger.

Jury Commissioner Braddock started his new duties on Monday.

MAY CHANGE NAME

Mount Holly Chamber Wants to Drop "Northampton" Title

Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce last week went on record as favoring changing the name of Northampton Township to Mount Holly Township, and will make an effort to have an act passed by the next Legislature to bring that result.

Reason for the change is that in all State and other official reports the town is not given. Northampton Township being the title of the community. This, it is claimed, leads to confusion of people who look up records and are not familiar with the fact that Northampton Township and Mount Holly are one and the same territory.

GAS

A NECESSARY LUXURY

IF YOU are planning a new, or remodelling an old house, if you contemplate buying or renting new quarters, it is the part of wisdom to see to it that the Gas equipment is sufficient to give you modern Gas service.

Heat is as essential to your health and well being as is light, and Gas provides heat in the form best suited to most uses.

Nothing can give you a more satisfactory or dependable hot water supply;

Nothing can provide you with a cleaner, or a more convenient house heating system;

Nothing can furnish you with more sanitary and easily controlled refrigeration;

Nothing is better adapted to meet all your heat requirements, whether in the laundry, the living, the bedroom, or the garage;

And nothing will give you better service in the kitchen.

You live in a community served by one of the Nation's largest and most efficient Gas systems; Gas is at your service for all the many uses that make home life easier and more attractive; avail yourself of the comfort and convenience that it makes possible. Money so spent brings returns worth while.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

BAPTIST CHURCH

"The Home-Like Church"
George Lockett, Pastor

Central Baptist Church enjoyed very large attendances at its Easter Services last week. The new edifice was filled to its capacity at both morning and evening services, with an exceptional well attended Sunrise Service at six o'clock.

At 10 A. M. this Sunday the regular Bible School will convene. It is hoped that the increasing interest in the school will continue. Last Sunday was another to be placed on record.

11 A. M. Holy Communion will be served. This will be the first regular monthly Communion service held in the new church. At this time about twenty new members will be extended the hand of fellowship.

At 6.45 P. M. the B. Y. P. U. meeting will be held. These meetings have also taken on a new impetus during the past month. They are inspiring and offer the young people a very profitable twilight hour.

At 7.45 P. M. Pastor Lockett has planned a unique evening service. His topic will be based upon the scenes as appears on the center panel of the chancel window of the church. This window, which has been the subject of much favorable comment, was the gift of the Philathea Class of the Bible School and the donors are planning to be present in a body for this service.

The public is cordially invited to attend these services. Come early.

Calvary Presbyterian

Charles T. Bates, Minister

The Lord's Supper will be celebrated at the morning service of worship of Calvary Presbyterian Church at 11 o'clock. The pastor will preach at the evening service at 8 o'clock. All departments of the Church School meet at 10 A. M. Christian Endeavor Society at 7 P. M.

The Preparatory service will be held tomorrow at 4 o'clock in the church auditorium. Any who may wish to unite with the church Sunday morning, either by letter from another church or on confession of faith, should meet the Session Friday after the service.

The Presbytery of Monmouth will hold its spring meeting in this church on Monday afternoon and evening, April 8th, and all day Tuesday. A cordial invitation to every member of this congregation is extended to attend the sessions of Presbytery. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, president of Union Theological Seminary, New York City, and Dr. Harry E. Boeg of Philadelphia, are scheduled for addresses Monday afternoon. Dr. Andrew Mutch, of Bryn Mawr, will conduct the Communion service Monday evening.

Mid-week service Wednesday, April 9th, at 8 P. M.

BALANCED, CARRIED FORWARD

When I go to the Prune Exchange Bank
To retrieve my pass book,
I always think how helpful
It there were somewhere to leave my mind
To be written up—
Collections entered, debits and credit noted,
Soul balanced—and carried forward.

Christopher Morley wrote that.

For just such accounting we go to church.

There isn't any other place to get it.

The annual vestry meeting of Christ Church was held on Monday evening at 6:30 P. M. A very delightful supper was served and after evening prayer the business of the day was carried on.

The Wardens elected were Mr. F. W. G. Borer and Mr. J. B. Kirk. Vestrymen, Messrs. C. K. Merrick, B. Corbett, Wm. Branson, H. R. West and W. B. Coles.

Delegates to the Synod of the Diocese of New Jersey: Messrs. F. W. G. Borer, H. B. Lever, C. F. Rhoads, and alternates, Messrs. G. N. Bond, B. Corbett and Wm. Branson. Mr. H. R. West was elected secretary of the Vestry and C. F. Rhoads, treasurer.

The various organizations gave a resume of their work during the year and were heartily endorsed. The Rector closed a very successful meeting with the benediction.

The Easter Thank Offering of the Women's Auxiliary will be presented on Easter Sunday. A real gift of a Communion altar-cloth.

On Monday evening the 21st Aprils Guild will meet as usual at 8 P. M. after which the ladies will be entertained to supper.

A spring card party, under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary, will be given on Thursday, April 18th. Tickets from any member of the society.

A meeting of the Associates of the Girls' Friendly Society will be held on Friday of this week. The 5th at 2 o'clock.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

One hundred and thirteen attended the services last Sunday evening when the choir rendered a special program of music. This number was in keeping with the gradual increases from Sunday evening to Sunday evening which have been seen during the Loyalty Campaign and the Lenten season.

Our First Lutheran choir under the leadership of Lee Mitton, is to be warmly congratulated on the excellent music rendered all through the campaign and especially last Sunday evening. The gratitude of pastor and congregation is extended to Miss Amy Mitton, Mr. Raymond Clark, of Willow Grove, Mr. Lee Mitton and each and every member of First Lutheran choir.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Eden Bible Class deserve special mention for the altar decorations arranged by them for the services of Palm Sunday, Holy Week, and Easter. The comment heard on every hand indicated that it was the most beautiful display of floral decorations ever made at an Easter service in our church. Our hearty thanks to these good people as well as to Mr. John L. Orr, for his work as a decorator, Mr. Edwin Porter as donor of flowers, and Mr. J. Houston Ingram for electrical work.

Regular weekly meeting of the choir next Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Sunday School at 10 o'clock followed by divine worship at 11 o'clock. Vespers at 7 o'clock in the evening.

The Luther League had a record attendance Sunday evening and it is hoped it will be continued. Next Sunday evening Hayes B. Brady will be the leader. Topic: "Using the Bible As a Daily Guide."

Buy your Coal in the Spring
when your other expenses are lowest

THE chart above shows how the household expenses of the average family go up and down with the various months of the year.

You will note the "valley" formed by the low level of April and May. Which means, of course, that general expenses are lightest in the Spring.

Therefore, right now is the best time of the year to buy your winter's coal—because now is the easiest time to pay for it.

And, also, now the Spring prices are in effect on all sizes of pure, uniform Old Company's Lehigh Anthracite—the hard coal of such high quality that it is known as "The Best Since 1820."

Highway Route 41

Looking from River

April 3rd, 1929

Respected Citizens of Palmyra:

The above cuts will give a clear idea of the two plans for crossing the railroad at River Road Crossing. It will be noted that the tunnel effect that Mayor Wimer and the Editor of the Palmyra News so greatly deplore is entirely absent, and evidently a fanciful creation invented to scare the Palmyra people into the belief that it would be similar to the depression at Edgewater Park.

If this monstrosity (overpass) is to be forced on us contrary to the judgment of the New Jersey State Highway Commission, ask to see if Messrs. Remington & Vosbury, the Palmyra Borough Engineers endorse this folly over their signature. It is questionable if these eminent Engineers would so jeopardize their reputation.

It is exceedingly unfortunate that an enterprise such as the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge, that will be of inestimable value, not only to Palmyra, but the whole State of New Jersey, should be retarded by so limited a vision.

This is in direct contrast to that shown in Tacony and Frankford, whose citizens and Chamber of Commerce hold meetings and give dinners and extend their aid in every conceivable way.

Senator Powell, when asked at the meeting in the Fire House March 22nd, where the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks would come down to grade, if raised, replied, at the West Palmyra Station. So this fear on the part of the Public that the tracks will be elevated to Cinnaminson ave. one has no basis whatever.

In after years, when Palmyra becomes the largest town between Trenton and Camden, through the advantages derived from the bridge, those who by their acts retarded its construction, will not occupy a very enviable place in Palmyra's History.

Very respectfully,

CHARLES A. WRIGHT.

TREE COMMISSION TO MAKE SURVEY

To Make Study of Shade Conditions and Cooperate With Citizens

It will no doubt be of interest to the property owners of Palmyra to know that the custody and care of all the shade trees located between the sidewalks and streets are in the hands of the Shade Tree Commission.

This Commission has the power to require the removal of dead or dangerous trees at the expense of the property owners as well as the planting of new trees. It also has the power to prevent the removal or trimming of any public tree without the Commission's approval.

A thorough study of all the public trees in the town is being planned for the purpose of classifying the different conditions as they exist. Such a survey will show the necessity of a definite planting where trees are needed as well as the removal of undesirable trees and the gradual replacement of some of the old and undesirable specimens. It will also specify the proper varieties to be planted under varying conditions in such a way as to secure the greatest permanency of effect.

Progressive towns and cities are beginning to realize the great importance of well selected and well cared for shade trees in relation to the attractive, healthful and prosperity values. From figures obtained from the Massachusetts Forestry Association full grown and healthy shade trees increase the value of adjoining land 40 per cent.

After looking a careful survey the Shade Tree Commission noticed that there had been quite a few trees taken out which have not been replaced. If the property owners would have this condition on their property they will communicate with the Commission they will find these trees can be replaced at a very small cost.

Your Shade Tree Commission is fully realizing the importance of well kept shade trees in making our beautiful town more attractive, is planning with the co-operation with the citizens to apply a conservative but organized planting program.

PAL BASKETEERS WIN 17 OUT OF 20

Have Splendid Season Being Beaten But Once by Class B Rival

Despite the fact that it failed to retain its championship won last year the South Jersey Interscholastic B basketball tournament, Palmyra High School's court squad experienced one of the greatest seasons in the history of the school.

Ending in the runner-up post in the Camden Suburban Basketball League and the same position in the Camden County Class B tournament, the Pals had an enviable record of 17 wins in 20 starts.

Defeating in 12 games in league competition, Pal registered ten overwhelming defeats. The two setbacks early in the season at the hands of Haddonfield High and Moorestown High champions of the county of being in Class A were the space of these defeats. Coach Ken Diamond was without the services of Ray Branson, veteran forward.

Moorestown was the first to take the measure of Pals in the first game of the season by a score of 21 to 19. The second league tilt was also dropped to gain the verdict by a 16 to 15 score.

Another setback suffered by the Palmyra basketeers, Millville, came after the decision in the final game of the South Jersey Class B tournament in a hotly contested battle by the score of 21 to 19.

Despite the fact that the Pals lost out in both title ventures, the cunning players on the Pals made the mythical all-star Class B tournament team. Spike Hennessey, elongated pivotman, won the coveted position at center, while the fighting, diminutive captain Jimmy West, won the guard position. These two lads were the main factors in the success of the team.

Coach Ken Dimond will have a rough task ahead of him for next year's campaign, as only one member of this years team will return next year. Bill Baker, who was paired off with Branson at forward is the only member back, while the aforesaid lad and West, Hennessey, Sloan, Windish, Frank and Adam Hengert, Zaun and Long all will graduate before the start of the next season.

SWIMMING TEAM TO OPEN SEASON

Palmyra High Girls Are Defending Champions of S. J. Scholastic League

The Palmyra High School girls' championship swimming team will open the season Tuesday when it meets Pitman High in the initial contest of the New Jersey Scholastic Swimming League schedule.

Maxine Meltzner, captain of the Palmyra team last year, well known for her long distance swims, will swim for Palmyra for her last season. Maxine will be graduated in June, as will Grace Sippel and Hazel Hines, Palmyra letter girls. Leonore Showell the remaining "veteran," is a junior.

Miss Meltzner will appear in the diving events, the free-style swim and as a member of the Palmyra relay team. Maxine became well known two years ago when she attempted to cross Delaware Bay between Cape May and Lewes, Dela., but failed.

Last summer, Maxine swam twenty-one miles, from Burlington to Camden. Grace Sipple, who has represented Palmyra for several years, is another outstanding swimmer in the league. She will swim the free-style, breast-stroke and make the second member of the Palmyra relay team.

Both Grace Sippel and Maxine Meltzner are planning to go to Sargent School to take up physical education work next fall. In league competition last season Grace Sippel earned 33 points, the highest total for any individual. Margaret Ewell, of Woodbury, was second, and Leonore Showell, of Palmyra, was third high scorer.

Miss Showell, a speed swimmer, is expected to take her place again on the Palmyra relay team. She had the fastest time of any girl in the league, 14.1 seconds for twenty yards in the back stroke.

Hazel Hines captured first place in the side stroke for form event for Palmyra every time she competed last season. This is the only event in which she takes part. Like the other three girls, Hazel will be swimming for Palmyra for the third year.

Both Miss Sippel and Miss Meltzner have "little" sisters to follow in their footsteps. Grace has Irene Sippel, a second year student, who is trying for a place as a diver or breast-stroke swimmer. Maxine's sister is Dorothy Meltzner, also a sophomore. Dorothy and Cecilia Baker, a promising freshman, have equal chance to make the fourth member of the relay team. Both girls are excellent speed swimmers.

Louise Ayres and Helen Geisz, freshmen, and Kitty Burr, one of Palmyra's star hockeyists and basketers, are among its other swimmers who attend practice three times a week in the Moorestown Community House pool.

Palmyra, Pitman, Woodbury and Haddon Heights are the schools in the league. Each team will meet the other once in a dual meet, then a quadrangular affair will be held as the final event, May 16. Meets will be in the Camden Y. W. C. A. pool.

Helen Bates, who was captain of the Palmyra basketball team, is manager of the Palmyra mermaids.

The league schedule:

April 9 Palmyra vs. Pitman, 11 Woodbury vs. Haddon Heights; 18 Pitman vs. Woodbury, 25, Palmyra vs. Haddon Heights.

May 2 Haddon Heights vs. Pitman; 9 Woodbury vs. Palmyra; 16 Woodbury, Pitman, Haddon Hgights and Palmyra.

BURLINGTON OUT OF COUNTY LOOP

Not to be Represented This Season Owing to High Cost of Players

At a meeting of the managers of the Burlington County Baseball League held Tuesday night it was learned that Burlington city would not be represented this season.

This announcement was made at the meeting by President Lawrence Mingin, who has been making a thorough investigation of baseball as a whole throughout Burlington county.

The team has always been sponsored by the Niagara Fire Company, and this same organization stood ready to again put a team on the field. However, according to President Mingin the players are asking so much for their services this season that it is out of the question for the fire company to meet the demands.

It developed at the meeting that the proposed ten-club circuit could not be organized and that the circuit will again function with eight teams.

Six of the teams that were members last season had representatives at the meeting. They were R. D. Wood, of Florence; Moorestown, Vincentown, Medford, Delanco and Palmyra.

Browns Mill also was represented and its representatives were enthusiastic about joining the circuit. The organization will probably be accepted and the other member is expected to be Riverton who will be represented by the McCoy Cardinals.

Bordentown and Mount Holly failed to have spokesmen at the meeting and appear not to be interested in joining the league.

A committee composed of Mingin, T. Baker, vice president, and Charley Young, of Delanco, was formed to make another investigation into the status of the doubtful teams and report their findings at the next meeting.

This will be held next week and further steps toward complete organization will be taken at that time.

The office seekers need not think that President Hoover will be lonely if they just to stroll around and see him frequently.

EVER since the telephone was young, our Central Office operators have furnished the time of day whenever you have asked for it.

But the telephone business has grown in size and complexity here as elsewhere. Furnishing the time has placed an increasing burden upon our operators.

In order that regular telephone service may not suffer, it is necessary to discontinue the practice of furnishing time through the switchboard operators, effective April 1.

For those who desire a "Time of Day" service by telephone, we have established a "TIME BUREAU," entirely apart from regular telephone service and equipped to furnish the time whenever you desire it.

A charge of five cents will be made for each time the service of the TIME BUREAU is used.

BAKER TO CAPTAIN PALMYRA QUINTET

Coach Dimond Loses Rest of Squad: Baseball Team Looks Fine

Bill Baker, stellar forward on Palmyra's High School's basketball team, was elected to captain next year's quintet at a meeting of the lettermen last week.

Ten men received their letters in basketball this year. They are Captain Jimmy West, Captain-elect Bill Baker, Ray Branson, "Spike" Hennessey, "Tod" Sloan, Spencer Zaun, Jack Windish, Adam Hengert, George Long and Frank Hengert.

Of these men who received their letters only Baker will return next year. This is one of the severest blows that a coach could ever have happen. However, Coach Ken Dimond believes that the prospects for next year's team are bright.

The coach has great hopes in Bob Horton, a six-foot two lad, to fill the shoes made vacant by Hennessey at center with George Reed giving Horton a stiff battle for the center berth. Jack Kelly and Al Price are likely looking forwards, while Joe Buglacean and "Tubby" Moffett will probably be stationed at the guard posts.

The baseball team has been out for more than a week and the Red and White mentor has practically made up his team for the first game which is with Haddonfield High Friday at home.

The veterans back from last year's nine are Captain Bob Bartley, Arthur Carrell, Spencer Zaun, Joe Sacks, "Tod" Sloan, Jimmy West and Leon Coles.

The team which in all probability will take the field for the first game is "Tubby" Moffett, a newcomer, who will do the backstopping; West and Coles, veteran moundsmen will divide the pitching duty along with Hugo Mucucci another twirler; Jack Windish at first base; Carrell at the keystone; Sack, Bartley at shortstop; Zaun on the hot corner, with Sloan, Ray Branson and Sacks in the outfield.

A bright prospect who will give the infielders a run for their money before the season comes to a close is Jack Kelly. He has been acting as understudy to Zaun at third base.

Ed Backlodz and Owen Bottger catcher and first baseman respectively, regulars from last year are lost to the team until their studies are sufficiently made up in order for them to participate in this year's schedule.

Following is the schedule for this years baseball team:

April 5 Haddonfield High School, home.
April 9 Audubon High School, home.
April 12 Collingswood High School, away.
April 19 Woodbury High School, home.
April 23 Moorestown High School, away.
April 26 Haddon Heights High School, home.
April 30 Moorestown High School, home.
May 3 Audubon High School, away.
May 7 Woodbury High School, away.
May 10 Collingswood High School, home.
May 14 Haddon Heights High School, away.
May 17 Haddonfield High School, away.
May 24 Mount Holly High School, home.
May 28 Burlington High School, away.

Two open dates, April 16 and May 21, may be filled with Millville High School with one game at home and the other on Millville soil.

WALT WHITMAN

The stage and screen at the Walt Whitman Theatre this week will offer an unusual variety of entertainment which runs the gamut of emotions from the tense drama to the utmost in comedy.

Heading the vaudeville section is an act of rare artistry and ability in the Mayo and Marie Revue. This is a beautifully costumed and pretentiously staged production featuring youth, beauty and pep in song and dance oddities from all the world.

Another outstanding feature is Creighton and Byron, vaudeville's foremost rural impressionists, in a hilarious comedy offering, called "From Iowa to the Andes." These two funmakers are known throughout the country for their entertainment ability, and their presence at this playhouse should prove a real pleasure.

Knox and Gilmore, in "A Cowboy and a Girl From the Golden West," offer an interlude of song and comedy. Arthur Warde is a very different entertainer and the added feature is Williams and Weston, in an interesting reproduction of some of the world's foremost works of art.

The feature photoplay is Victor McLaglen in "Strong Boy," with Leatrice Joy, Farrell MacDonald, Clyde Cook and Slim Summerville.

The college students at least show business ability by their success in getting money out of Father.

BURLINGTON JRS. TO PLAY AGAIN

Same Combination as Last Year Will Likely be on the Field

Once more Riverton is getting back to the days of old when the baseball team that bore the town name was all home talent in all probability the Riverton Juniors of the 1928 season will represent the town this year on the diamond.

The Riverton Juniors claim the Junior Championship of Burlington, Camden and Philadelphia counties as they have defeated the best teams in their class from each county.

With a record of 21 victories, 2 defeats and 2 tie games, against such teams as the Twentieth Ward City Champions, Assumption Catholic Club, Maine A. C. of Camden, St. Casmir and McCoys Cardinals of Riverside, Perry A. A., the Cinnaminson A. A. and others, the boys may rightfully claim the laurels of the victor.

The Riverton Athletic Association equipped the team with uniforms and other necessary things to make a successful ball team out of the young willow-toters and the fine record they made expresses the boys' appreciation of the opportunity they had to represent the home town on the diamond.

Any team desiring games with the Riverton Juniors should communicate with Allen Hemphill, business manager, Riverton, N. J.

The boys who are longing for adventure, will have a chance during the coming summer to go out in the garden and fight the weeds and insect pests.

GARDEN CLUB SPONSORS YARD AND GARDEN CONTEST IN RIVERTON

Open to All Residents; Rules Simple; Campaign Now Under Way

TEN PRIZES DONATED BY DREER NURSERIES

To improve and beautify the home grounds of the community to awaken all citizens to the desire for better living and to provide an outlook for the room for every family a city wide Yard and Garden Contest will be conducted here beginning this spring it was announced today. The campaign is sponsored by Garden Club

Every home owner in Riverton is invited to enter this fine contest which is part of a great national movement sweeping over the country. There will be no entry fee and the contest is so arranged that the owner of a small home will have an equal chance with the wealthier resident in the prize competition

Personal advice will be freely given by the contest committee and the judges for this contest is a thoroughly constructive one to beautify and improve the home grounds of this community and is not by any means merely a critical selection of the beautiful home grounds now existing in this community

In fact the judges will take into consideration what the entrant began with as well as the results achieved The modest home will compete with the pretentious residence without any disadvantage

"You Win If You Lose"

"You Win If You Lose" has been selected as the slogan of the campaign for even if an entrant does not win a prize such an improvement will be made in the appearance of the premises that the home owner in question will consider that his time spent in beautifying the home grounds was well invested

Entrants in the contest will get the benefit of suggestions based on the fundamentally sound rules of landscaping, simplified, and made easy to follow anywhere, both on a small as well as on a large lot, or on uneven as well as level ground The shape of the house its proximity to the street architecture of the residence or personal preference of the owner all adapt themselves harmoniously to the improvement of the home grounds, giving each entrant a chance to achieve variety and individuality

Committee in Charge

Miss Marjory Mayo Mrs Victor Ritschard, Miss Helen Blair, Miss Carolyn Cook, Miss Elsie Biddle, Mrs E M Ripley and Mrs. Wm G Porter chairman.

Prizes

The Dreer Company will furnish prizes in the form of plants, seeds and bulbs to be selected from their catalog to the amounts as follows

First prize, $10
Second prize, $7
Third prize, $5
Fourth prize, $2
Fifth prize, $1
Honorable mention

Pictures Before and After

In order to show everyone the value of this contest, we plan to photograph all applicant's yards are gardens which are to be improved as soon as your application comes in then later in the summer or fall a photograph of the garden at its prime will be taken to show the wonderful improvement which has resulted

Send in your application promptly, so your yard can be photographed and you can start work immediately. Any time now you can begin with seeds, transplanting or cleaning up your yard

If you prefer not to have your place photographed your application card will be sufficient to record your interest. Judges will view it without a photograph if you prefer this method.

DR. SMITH TALKS TO P. T. A. MOTHERS

Lectures Well Received, and Will Be Continued Next Year

On April 3rd a very representative group of Riverton mothers heard Dr Carrie Weaver Smith speak giving the second lecture in a series on sex education The books she recommended to parents for this important purpose were Cadys The Way Life Begins and Forsyths Plant and Animal Children She advised strongly against giving any child such books to read for himself and urged that children be encouraged in the study of natural history "Give your child a $3.50 microscope for his next birthday" she said and you will give him something that will keep him worthily employed for hours

One of the things she emphasized was the importance of protecting ourselves from the spread of infection through saliva stressing the prevention not only of venereal disease but any periodic epidemic through care of public drinking cups soda fountain glasses spoons etc

It is the plan of the Parent-Teachers' Association to continue the lectures of this series next year

The next meeting of the organization will be on April 18th when Mr Charles English will speak on Playground Possibilities in Riverton

DRUM AND BUGLE PLAN ACTIVITIES

Post Rodgers, American Legion, Getting Ready for Busy Outdoor Season

With the opening of the outdoor season near at hand Post Frederick M Rodgers, American Legion, is taking on renewed activity, particularly the Bugle and Drum Corps, which is already planning ahead for a very busy season

The intensive practice and drill of the past few months has been very productive and when the Corps is again seen on the streets in the near future a marked change for the better will be noted. It is hoped the local communities will have reason to be as proud of their Corps the coming season as they have in the past

The first of the activities scheduled is the participation of the Corps in the festivities attending the induction of State Commander "Herb" Blizzard into the ranks of the Artisans next Wednesday in Haddonfield. A gala night has been planned by those in charge and the Corps hopes to have a full membership present

On Saturday, May 25, a bugle and drum corps competition will be held in the "Yellow Jackets" stadium Frankford, under the auspices of the champion Frankford Corps and the Frankford Business Men's Association Competition will be in classes with prizes accordingly and Palmyra Corps will participate in the visitors' class from outside the State of Pennsylvania.

The Ladies' Auxiliary and the Post have combined their efforts in the scheduled card party to be held on Wednesday evening April 24 This party is to be better than any held before at the Legion Home regulation tables to be provided for all players and the prizes all to be of the better class Tickets, while but fifty cents, will be limited in number

The proceeds of the affair will go towards the support of the very efficient convalescent home at Toms River N J Each Post in the State contributes towards its upkeep and this Post is taking this means towards meeting its obligation

On Saturday afternoon and evening, April 27 the very active Ladies' Auxiliary hold another of their much looked for Cake Sales Orders are now being baked and delivery will be made as desired

Shinn, Candidate for Sheriff Started Life as a Grocery Boy

Burlington Man Has Established Record of Efficiency as Haines' Assistant

ROSCOE C SHINN

Roscoe Conklin Shinn, present Under Sheriff and candidate for the Republican nomination for Sheriff at the June Primary, has been a resident of Burlington County all his life He was born in Columbus 43 years ago and his family moved to Burlington when Roscoe was one year old Burlington continued to be the candidates home until he took up his residence in Mount Holly in 1926, due to his becoming connected with the Sheriff's office.

As a youth Mr Shinn's first business experience was in the grocery business, in the store of Wilson and Fifth, old-time grocers, of Burlington From this he graduated into a railroad clerical position, which he held until 1912, when he entered the dairy business conducted by his father in-law, William H Borden

During Emmor Roberts' term in the State Senate Mr Shinn was Journal Clerk and later spent a year in the newspaper business being connected with the New Jersey Mirror, of Mount Holly With the election of A Eagle Haines as Sheriff, Shinn was chosen Under Sheriff, which position he still holds

Under-Sheriff Shinn has established a reputation for efficiency in his administration of the business end of his office and for kindness generosity and consideration in his dealings with the people with whom his position has brought him into contact

In making his plea to the voters of the County, he bases his claim for consideration on the fact that he has had three years of intimate and practical experience with the business of the office and therefore would be well fitted to carry on the good work of Sheriff Haines.

Never having been a wealthy man Mr Shinn recognizes the value of economy and he proposes to continue the Sheriff's office on a strictly business-like basis. He does not seek the office for honor and glory, but because he has made a business of the Sheriff's office work has patiently trained himself, and wishes to continue the work another three years as part of his business career

The candidate has two children His son, Howard LeRoy, is a Junior in Mount Holly High School, and his daughter, Elizabeth May, will be graduated this spring from the Women's Design School, at Broad and Master streets, Philadelphia, as a Supervising Art teacher.

GREAT TRIUMPH SCORED BY LIONS' ROAR, "BUY USA"

Brilliant Stage Success is Scintillating Spectacle of Grace and Beauty

PRODUCTION ENJOYED BY 2000 PEOPLE

Performance Marked by Wonderful Singing, Dancing and Acting

Buy U S A the second annual dramatic production of the Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club which was staged in the High School auditorium Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of last week, proved to be an outstanding amateur theatrical success

The entire show from the opening curtain to the grand finale was a succession of human beauty grace and clever acting which would have been a credit even to a group of professionals More than 2000 people made up an enthusiastic audience during the three nights and lauded each performance to the skies

The costume and stage settings this year were much more elaborate than those used in And How the Lions Roar of 1928 The scenery was beautiful the costumes magnificent the entire performance a supreme medley of harmony and color setting off to advantage the grace of the dancers and the acting of the principals

Well Adapted

Albert B Parker taking the male lead as Jack Prentice a rich young American salesman with high ideals was admirably adapted to the part his rich tenor voice adding greatly to the success of the show F H Titmanice as Jack's friend and business associate made a hit in his many appearances and especially delighted the audience in the Spanish scene, in which he falls in love with Yvonne Mirofon, the petite little French girl whose specialty was ballet

Yvonne was played by Madeline Zeller who carried off the part to perfection and proved to be a very valuable addition to the cast

Muriel Stackhouse as Lady Flavia, playing opposite to Jack Prentice gave an able interpretation of her part as a member of the Balkan Royal Family

Frank A Mathews, Jr writer of the book lyrics and music for the production appeared in the cast in a role which was new to him despite his many appearances before local audiences Mathews played the comedy lead and impersonated Fritz a waiter His clever acting and ready wit captivated the audience and drew round after round of applause

Dancing Features

The dancing choruses both boys and girls were speedily trained under the direction of Mr Alexine Bones, dancing instructress at the Moorestown Community House and proved to be the feature of the show Each work was exceptionally fine throughout the performance and was both a credit to the teacher and to the dancers themselves

M Graaf Ludwig excelled as Black Bottome, the villainous rental agent for the Amalgamated Association of War Profiteers Red Hare did a fine bit of character work in the part of Confederate Red was impersonated by DeWitt Morel

Aunt Ida from Idaho Prentice's aunt was well portrayed by Ruth Lucas and was one of the hits of the show Marian Schlank demonstrated her versatility as an actress by playing three parts that of Mrs Lee in the first scene the Queen in the Balkan scene and as Mona a harem girl in the Turkish scene

Charming Senorita

Lillie Simons was charming as Senorita Dorita Bonita and won the audience with her mere presentation as a Spanish beauty

Music Schaff provided world of clever character work in three different roles a Jazz Boy Assistant Property man a Spanish dancer and the Mandarin and the Head Slave

Chester McConnell Chris Dale and Fred Conway had the difficult roles of Chinamen and carried them off to perfection Albert Schaler also enacted an especially fine Chinese portrayal as well as entertaining a la chemin de fer Dukes of the court

Jay Reaves was an artistic portrayal of Mr Montgomery A Brown who acted the part with the poise and ease of a Barrymore

Marjorie Grafmyre was seductive as Fatima a harem girl Dot Ackroyd did a clever bit as another harem girl Both were members of the dancing chorus

"Four Lads O' Melodie"

The Four Lads O Melodie were the only immortal personages not fitted into the rest of the show as it born to their parts Their harmonious singing and specialty numbers were among the big hit of the show C F O'Donnell a member of this quartette took part in the show as Caleb Grimshaw the woman hater James Y Loughran was master of ceremonies

Too much praise cannot be given the dancing choruses The Yankee Doodle Girls received the big hand every time their ankles waived their dainty way across the footlights The tap and waltz clog dancers brought down the house at each appearance

It was left for Dominique Peiser and Hazel Fortesque to carry away the individual honors with their Blue dance Dominique executed each of the difficult steps with the ease and

PRESS APPROVES FINANCE SURVEY

Newspapers Support Larson's Plan for Scientific Study of Tax Spending

The newspapers of New Jersey are supporting Governor Larson's plan for a scientific study of tax spending which has been approved by leaders in the State Legislature A few of the press comments are summarized

Newark Sunday Call The Joint Resolution providing for a survey of county and municipal finances approved in principle by Governor Larson and introduced in the Senate by Senator Wolber and in the Assembly by Assemblyman Kuser makes a strong appeal to the State's taxpayers The investigation would be made by a taxation expert of nation-wide experience Certainly, when it is shown that in fifteen years the cost of government in New Jersey has grown from $140,000,000 to $339,000,000 and that while our ratables in ten years have increased more than two billions, taxes have continually mounted higher and higher it is high time that we knew the reason

Newark Evening News—There is no issue before the Legislature more important than tax reform from the ground up The plan should receive the closest attention of the legislators

Jersey Journal—The plan introduced by Assemblyman Kuser goes about this problem—which affects the pocketbook of every wage-earner in the State, whether paying taxes directly or in the form of high rent—in the fundamentally correct manner. Let's study what is done with the taxpayer's dollar. Does it buy a dollar's worth?

Trenton Courier—The movement against growing taxation, and looking toward future reductions, is spreading over the nation

Camden Courier—The proposed investigation can clarify the situation in which the State is enmeshed It can show just where the leaks in the cash box are, just where economy can be achieved and how a policy of future economy can be best directed. Reform in the methods of New Jersey taxation is quite as vital as in the direction of thrift.

ARTISANS TO HOLD REVUE AND DANCE

Chorus of Twenty-five to Entertain Two Evenings in Philadelphia

Scores of Artisans from this section will take part in the annual revue and dance of Northwestern Assembly of the fraternity They will share in the receipts of the performance which will be held on Thursday and Friday nights, April 18 and 19, to aid the entertainment and helping hand funds of their own assemblies

Thomas Waltz, wardrobe directors; and Eugene J. Byrne, William J. Staub, Harry I. Miller, Jr., Jesse G. Matthews, Robert M. Stephen, Nelson L. Fosbenner and William R. Whittock, assistant ticket managers.

MARBLE CONTEST

The Bulletin Marble Contest has enthused every "aggie roller" in Riverton Public School. The Principal, Miss Chew, appointed Paul Guest, Alexander Brown and Clarence N. Hubbs, Jr., a committee to arrange the contest. These boys prepared a ring and acted as judges in the games.

Mr Cole kindly loaned the boys a fine roller which helped a great deal.

Monday's five games were arranged in groups of four, to eliminate the three lowest scores of each. On Tuesday the winners of each of the first games played to decide the winner and first, second and third runners-up. These in turn played the final games Wednesday afternoon.

Lloyd Gladney, of the fourth grade; John Wallace, of the fourth grade and Edward Haun, of the seventh grade, and Robert Hahn made the highest scores. The two chosen were: Chamnion, Robert Hahn; runner-up, John Wallace.

PALMYRA SENIORS VISIT WASHINGTON

Enjoy Wonders of National Capital During Annual Class Excursion

The annual graduation trip of the Palmyra High School Seniors, a red letter event of their school days, is always anticipated with pleasure and remembered fondly

The Class of 1929 is recuperating from them at present Three glorious days were spent by the eighty-three seniors in the Capital City accompanied by five chaperons selected from the faculty The trip was personally supervised by a P. R. R. representative

On Wednesday April 3rd, three buses conveyed the students and those accompanying from Palmyra Station to Broad Street Station Philadelphia where there were two special coaches reserved for the party on the Washington bound train Even the fact that Burlington High had selected the same train to take them to Washington for their three-day grad trip did not seem to deter the minds of the Pals from thoughts of their anticipated pleasures

Special Guides

At Washington buses again met the party to transport them to the Capitol building where they enjoyed a pleasant time under the direction of special guides Then there was a walk through the Botanical Gardens and the Mall to the Bureau of Fisheries where the students saw many beautiful specimens of the finny family in all stages of growth A visit to the Old and New National Museum where many interesting and educational things including Lindy's plane "Spirit of St Louis" were to be seen preceded a two hour ride through the city when the party viewed business and residential section public buildings and monuments parks and squares embassies and homes of prominent persons stopping en route at the Lincoln Memorial and finally ending at the Colonial Hotel for dinner

The first part of the evening was spent at the beautiful Congressional Library while the latter part was placed at the disposal of the party

The next morning was spent at the Bureau of Printing and Engraving and that immence structure the Washington Monument Following this the party dispersed, viewing the cherry Blossoms and the banks of the Potomac

Arlington Cemetery, beautiful and impressive, with its wonderful vegetation and its many white headstones and Mt. Vernon home of the beloved George Washington took together an afternoon These picturesque places besides the steamer ride back to Washington were keenly enjoyed and deeply appreciated in spite of the dark clouds and the showers of rain

That evening was spent either at a theatre, regardless of tired eyes or in dancing, despite the tired feet

After breakfast the last morning, Friday, April 5th, the pleasure seekers visited the Museum of Sciences where they examined many mechanical devices, the Pan American Building, splendid in its tropical plants and Indian architecture, the Red Cross Building, with its museum of national relics; the Corcoran Art Gallery, seeing magnificence both in sculpture and in painting, and the renowned Home of the President the White House

It would be impossible to relate here all the wonderful things the students saw or all the pleasant things the students did, but it may be said that when three o'clock on the last afternoon rolled around many a person sighed vainly for the power to turn time backward just three days. So it was with regret that the party returned to their homes richer in knowledge but not in money tired to exhaustion, but blissfully happy

A MISUNDERSTANDING

In the April 4 issue of this paper an article pertaining to a fire on Memorial Park on the evening of April 1 read, "If this was an April Fool joke the one who pulled it should be severely dealt with"

Officer Miller turned in the alarm and we wish to exonerate him from being a "joker"

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE LECTURE IS GIVEN

Kansas City Man Speaks Under Auspices of Riverton Church

The following lecture on Christian Science was delivered last Sunday by James G. Bowen C. S. B. of Kansas City, Mo., at the Broadway Baptist Theatre, Paterson, under the auspices of the First Church of Christ Scientist of Riverton.

The Bible

Christian Science is based wholly upon the Bible. Recovery and discovery uncovered the true spiritual sense of the Scriptures to Mrs. Eddy. Be cause she was spiritually minded enough to discern it and to discover that true Christianity is scientific. She found a golden thread of spiritual truth running from Genesis to Revelation and saw in the many healings recorded in the Bible not merely the fulfilling of prophecy but as scientific proof of the operation of truth to practical ends.

Seemingly it matters little what the Bible does say. The test is what does it mean to us? Christian Science is based on the textbook reads: "A reflection of Truth we take the inspired Word of the Bible as our sufficient guide to eternal Life." Science and Health p. 497. Christian Science does not ignore the true interpretation of the Bible nor does it ignore the basis of belief in the substantiality of matter is erroneous. The spiritual interpretation of the sacred pages of the Scriptures is the basis of Christian Science. That this interpretation is correct is proved through research and by healing the sick and sinful through Bible truths.

Healing

Because matter is but a false mental concept and because Christ Truth is the ever present divine manifestation of God which comes to the Reals to destroy thereunto error, spiritual healing is just as possible and just as practical today as it was two thousand years ago. The practice of Christian Science is proving this true by thousands daily.

As in Jesus' time so in our own the presence of Christ Truth in human consciousness is shown by signs following. Its coming is an awakening which always makes apparent an improved state of existence. It is the action of this divine Christ Truth on human consciousness that gives it freer breath as it approaches the real and that so improves its beliefs that disease gives place to health, sin to holiness, fear, to confidence, and lack to abundance just as they did in the days of Jesus. The Christ frees the human mind from its limitations, its ignorance, its superstitions, its false desires, its faith in matter. It transforms human consciousness, supplanting hatred with compassion, driving out disease by establishing the spiritual status of health and exchanging torment and terror for peace and peace.

One finds the healing saving power of Christ revealed in a line of our textbook; one in the power of a friend another in deep reverberations study of the Bible, one in a testimony recorded in the Christian Science Sentinel; and another in silent communion with the Giver of all good gifts. Mrs. Eddy assures us that Divine Love always has met and always will meet every human need. (Science and Health p. 494). This assurance is based upon Scriptural authority. In Psalms we read. Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: Who forgiveth all thine iniquities; who healeth all thy disease." Christian Science heal disease on the basis of the allness and omnipotence of God, and the consequent nothingness and powerlessness of evil.

Atonement

Jesus taught and demonstrated the atonement of Christ and Hope because the way the truth and the life. To all those seeking the Father and the Father's house, Christian Science teaches that individual salvation rests upon no other basis than the atonement of Christ as exemplified in the life of Christ Jesus. Christ does not recognize God divine Mind to mortals as one mortal mind. The purpose of the Christ is to present to human consciousness the allness, the completeness, the desirability of divine Mind so convincingly, so convincingly that human consciousness will abandon its reason to be any mind but will stand at rest. God the only Mind. This is the reorientation which took place in Jesus' thought. This is the atonement of Christ which all of us must master if later demonstrate. This is the God's forgiveness of sin the destruction of sin.

Salvation

Through Jesus right thinking, his sacrifice and his sufferings he gave to all John's metaphor the its false pleasures and pains and gained the consciousness of Life eternal, ever peaceful and harmonious. Thus Jesus worked out his own salvation. His human consciousness was exchanged for the divine. This experience of Jesus did not change the individual thinking of others and therefore does not of itself provide salvation to those who calmly believe in the name of Jesus. Our salvation depends upon a change in our own consciousness from a material to a spiritual basis. In the way Jesus worked out his own salvation, we are shown how to work out each one of us to be saved, must overcome evil with good; hatred with love; ignorance with intelligence; belief in matter with the understanding of true substance; until he demonstrates that he is conscious of but one Mind one God creating, governing, and directing all.

Salvation is individual. We are thinking our way into the kingdom of heaven. We are not awaiting a final judgment-day, but our thinking is judged hourly by the standard of perfect God and perfect man. When the last mortal fault is destroyed in individual consciousness, then, for that one, will end forever the conflict between Spirit and the flesh, between real Mind and the counterfeit mortal mind, and he will find himself in the kingdom of heaven. That one has attained salvation, through experiencing in his thinking reconciliation to God through Christ.

This, my friends, is a glorious program of accomplishment, one to appeal to all that is right and just and noble in us. Mrs. Eddy tells us (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 118) that "the warfare with one's self is grand." We should keep in mind the promise, "He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son."

In the words of an inspiring hymn (Hymnal, p. 14):

"Run the straight race through God's good grace,
Lift up thine eyes, and seek His face;
Life with its way before us lies,
Christ is the path, and Christ the prize."

DINERS ENVISION GREATER JERSEY

Stirring Picture of State's Future Drawn at Six-City Dinner

A stirring presentation of the natural and man made resources of New Jersey a vision of a greater New Jersey of the future and a practical demonstration of mass mechanical triumph over space and time were given to approximately 2,000 civic and industrial leaders of the State last night (April 4) at the Statewide Greater New Jersey Dinner of the State Chamber of Commerce and New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

Group dinner meetings simultaneously held in Newark, Trenton, Atlantic City, Camden, Paterson and Jersey City became one great gathering by means of telephone wires, presided over by Willard I. Hamilton, president of the State Chamber. Listening to the same speeches and the same songs traveling at the speed of light from speaker and artist to diners at all the meetings, and by radio broadcast to the State and nation.

Morrow Speaks

The voice of Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow spoke to the greater dinner from Mexico City as though he were present carrying the message of a Jerseyman far from home to his native state by means of 3,150 miles of telephone circuit between Mexico City and Newark, and 2,000 miles of wire interconnecting the group meetings.

Out of the air thousands of feet above Meadowdown another voice reached the dinner from an airplane, battling the obstacles of height and wild churning motion to link air and land in two-way conversation, in one of the first public demonstrations ever given to this development of telephony upon which the future of air transportation depends for full success.

Other voices spoke from Washington, D. C. and from each of the meetings connecting the greater dinner. Walter S. Gifford president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, dedicated a tablet in the auditorium of the new State Telephone Headquarters in Newark, scene of the "key" meeting of the dinner, to Theodore N. Vail, Jerseyman, and termed by Mr. Gifford "foremost pioneer" of the Bell Telephone System.

Voice From Capital

The speakers from Washington were William Butterworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, testifying to the "tremendous achievements of scientific genius as applied to our work-a-day tasks and everyday convenience" and Representative Franklin Fort, speaking for the New Jersey delegation in Congress.

The basic richness of New Jersey in road, rail, and air transportation, communication, power and agriculture and industry and business, were emphasized by Governor Morgan F. Larson, Chester I. Barnard, president of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company; William B. Duryee, Secretary of Agriculture of New Jersey; Roy D. White, president Central Railroad of New Jersey; Walter Kidde, former State Highway Commissioner; Edmund W. Wollmuth, executive vice-president, Newark Chamber of Commerce; Thomas N. McCarter, president, Public Service Corporation, and Charles R. Lawrence, president, Wright Aeronautical Corporation.

Mr. Barnard dedicated the new Telephone Building as an edifice embracing "the policy of the Company not merely to do its work well, but to take its proper part in the improvement of the State."

Speaks for Farmers

Mr. Duryee spoke for the farmers of the State, assuring of their participation in the Greater New Jersey movement, and testifying to the courage and spirit of progress of the first settlers still living on the 2,000,000 acres of farm land in New Jersey.

Mr. Kidde declared the plan for the State highways, the result of a thorough study and solution of our highway problem best suited to the needs of the whole of New Jersey, made by men who possessed conscientiousness of the State's needs.

Mr. White announced that contemplated expenditures during the next five years by the railroads of New Jersey alone will approximate $100,000,000 and that the railroads are aware of and keeping pace with the State's growing needs and will meet rail transportation requirements.

Consciousness Awakened

Mr. Wollmuth declared that State consciousness has awakened to the real and combination of resources possessed by New Jersey which contributes largely to the wealth of its people and Mr. Parsons stated that "New Jersey is so located and endowed that its future cannot be separated from that of the United States as a whole.

"It must participate in our country's rapid advance and profit from most of the favorable developments taking place in a wide range of basic activities."

This Mr. Parsons stated can be said of few States.

"New Jersey has an unequalled opportunity to become the busiest workshop in the western world," he declared. "Her prosperity is not being built upon exhaustible resources that give a transient success but upon scientific developments and permanent natural advantages that will be here to serve our children's children."

Airplane Demonstration

The airplane conversation and demonstration, between Mr. George W. McRae, vice-president and general manager of the Telephone Company, talking in the Telephone Building and W. O. Tinus, of the Bell Laboratories, Inc., in the airplane, was representative of one of the scientific developments mentioned by Mr. Parsons. New Jersey is rapidly becoming a great center in the development and use of radio telephony. The ship to land communication system used in the demonstration is one example of the experimental work at Whippany Station of the Bell Laboratories. Example of the use of radio telephony are the receiving and transmitting stations of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at Deal Beach, Lawrenceville and Netcong, which together give New Jersey three-quarters of the radio telephone terminal in America.

The spirit of the Greater New Jersey Dinner was symbolized at its close by the singing of a new song to New Jersey written by Mark Andrews of Montclair. Anna Case, concert soprano, sang the song, a vocal march, called "Sing New Jersey's Praise."

SPRINGTIME VALUES

Warm Weather Brings Forth Great Activity Among Palmyra Business Men

H. Wills, the builder of Palmyra Extension, is offering newly built modern homes at $100 down. These houses are on Oxford and Cuthbert roads.

Marshall's Garage, Riverside, is featuring Chrysler's "Learn-the-Difference" month.

Don Motor Company, Chevrolet dealers, are featuring "Ten reasons why 300,000 careful buyers have chosen the new Chevrolet Six."

Eberly's Drug Store has recently been appointed a Rexall Store. Rexall stores enjoy the advantages of the great Liggett Chain, which is owned by the United Drug Company.

Etris' Hardware Store, "The Winchester Store," is participating in the Winchester Star Value sale. Many items needed during the spring season are included in this event.

Sol Romm's Department Store is offering special prices during its spring dollar sale. Many seasonable bargains are listed.

The coal dealers are offering lower prices on all orders placed during this month. Terms and prices may be had by calling their offices.

URGES IMPARTIAL PROBE OF TAXES

Feelinghuysen Calls on Governor Larson to Appoint Commission

Declaring friendship toward his former rival, ex-Governor Edward C. Stokes, of New Jersey, J. S. Frelinghuysen this week urged Governor Morgan F. Larson to appoint an impartial citizens who will make a complete and scientific investigation of local taxation and taxing methods under expert guidance, as proposed in Senate Joint Resolution No. 12 introduced by the Hon. J. Parsons, last night. The following statement was made by Mr. Frelinghuysen when asked, "Do you favor the plan to have Governor Larson appoint a commission to investigate taxation?"

"In general the best way to meet a proposition is to discuss its merits objectively and the public demand of late that the government without impairing its efficiency. But the State Senate has voted in favor of a committee substitute for Senate Joint Resolution No. 12 introduced by Senator Joseph G. Wolber of Essex County and by Assemblyman Dayton Kiser of Somerset County. When adopted by the Assembly, which should be in the very near future, the plan becomes immediately effective.

This resolution provides for appointment of a commission with five citizens as members who are expected to engage an expert in taxation and governmental finance or nation wide experience. Dr. Harley L. Lutz, professor of public finance at Princeton University and recent president of the National Tax Association is expected to be one of the very few individuals in the country competent to undertake the work, which to be worth while must be utterly free from political domination.

Dr. Lutz was recommended for this task by Professor Edwin W. Kemmerer of Princeton who is now in China revising its financial system and who had been greatly helped by the last in similar work for Chile and Poland. Dr. Lutz has also been employed by the States of Ohio, Wisconsin and Washington to modernize government methods there.

"Among the many editorials endorsing this action is one which requires comment. It says: 'Mr. Frelinghuysen wanted a single special commissioner of standing as an expert appointed. As the committee have rejected the plan Governor Larson is to appoint a committee of five to conduct the work and select the expert. Objections to the commission are that the five men who compose it might all be professional politicians who would stop any painful revelations. Also Governor Larson would be likely to name former Governor E. C. Stokes as one of the commission. Mr. Stokes is still the ablest Republican in the State, but he is Mr. Frelinghuysen's ancient foe and the Somerset statesman's plans would suffer in such hands.'

"In justice to Governor Stokes, it must be said that he has consistently advocated constructive action to lighten the burden of New Jersey taxpayers. On December 21, 1922, he made a masterly presentation of the subject at a meeting of the State League of Municipalities, taking the position that taxes are for the sole purpose of conducting government economically and wisely administered and that any exercise of the taxing power beyond that line is an abuse of authority.

"Laying ancient rivalries aside, I shall be perfectly satisfied if Governor Larson appoints a commission whose members compare in popular standing with Governor Stokes, and who will give Dr. Lutz the necessary powers to conduct a truly scientific investigation without fear or favor."

MRS. HANNUM POWERS

Mrs. Hannum Powers, for many years a well known resident of Palmyra, was buried Tuesday in Philadelphia, following her death in Porto Rico a week before. The deceased was the wife of Capt. Powers, and lived in Palmyra all her life until she moved away ten years ago. She was active in church and community affairs and had many friends here.

HOSPITALS WILL SHARE IN ESTATE

Burlington County and Cooper Each Benefit in Borton Will

Practically all of the estate of Joshua E. Borton, prominent Moorestown banker and lawyer, who was president of the Security Trust Company, Camden, is held in trust and his widow is to enjoy a lifetime interest from it according to his will admitted to probate at Mount Holly last Friday by Surrogate M. Matlack. Mr. Borton died in Florida.

Mr. Borton, who was a former assemblyman from Burlington county, was president of the Citizens Bank, Moorestown, for many years, died at his home March 15.

His estate is estimated to be worth between $500,000 and $600,000. No inventory was filed with the will. The Camden Safe Deposite and Trust Company is named as trustee and executor.

The will instructs the executor to pay to the widow, Helen E. Borton $2000 as soon after death as possible. He left all of his personal property to his wife. His law library is bequeathed to the Camden Bar Association. This is said to be very valuable. He bequeathed his jewelry, household goods and other books to his wife.

The income from $1500 is to be paid in quarterly payments to Mrs. Josephine Borton, Lizzie Linton. One thousand dollars is devised to Mrs. Jennie Barnes, of New York, formerly Miss Jennie Boom, of Burlington.

To George Black, of Jersey City, he bequeathed his fishing tackle and one of his shotguns as a token of friendship.

The executor is instructed to pay to the Colestown Cemetery where burial took place. The interest from $500 for 24 years and at the end of this time to give to the cemetery company the amount in full to keep up lot of the family.

The net income on the rest of the estate goes to Mrs. Borton during her lifetime, to be paid four times annually. At her death the estate is to be divided into six equal parts.

The last income from both of the estate is to go to Harold C. Jamison, a daughter of Mrs. Wilson, former nephew. The income from another sixth will go to a woman friend, Mary C. Parrett.

The remainder is to be held in trust and equally between the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly and Cooper Hospital, Camden.

At the death of Harold C. Jamison the shares held in trust for him is to be divided between the two hospitals.

Mr. Borton advised the executor to sell all stocks and bonds, he owned, but did not make it mandatory. The will was drawn December 13, 1926 and signed in the presence of United States Commissioner Wayn Armstrong, Camden, and George M. Bryson, Camden attorney.

PARENT-TEACHERS' TO ELECT OFFICERS

Regular Meeting to Be Held Next Tuesday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Palmyra Parent-Teachers' Association will be held in the Grammar School auditorium, Delaware avenue, next Tuesday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

Officers for the coming year will be elected at this meeting. Those nominated previously are Mrs. Elias Fox, president; Miss Elizabeth McDonald, first vice-president; Mrs. James Rapp, second vice-president; Mr. George Burgin, secretary, and Mrs. B. Beckley, treasurer.

A short musical program has been arranged to follow the business session. All members are especially urged to be present at this very important meeting.

The P. T. A. attendance banner for the month of March was won by the students of Miss Vollmer's reading class or home class of the High School. However due to a delay in delivery the banner did not arrive on time. It will be here in time for the April meeting.

There will be a motion picture benefit given by the P. T. A. on Wednesday and Thursday nights, April 17-18. The name of the picture will be "Dream of Love", starring Joan Crawford.

There will be two prizes, a boy's baseball glove and a girl's manicure set. These prizes will be awarded to the boy and girl selling the most tickets.

ROTARY ANN CLUB

The regular monthly meeting of the Riverton Rotary Ann Club, met at the home of Mrs. Joseph T. Evans Monday evening.

Mrs. Frank Shoyer, president, presided at the business session, which held much of interest to the members.

Mrs. Charles Geelend rendered a piano solo and with Mrs. C. N. Hubbs played a duet.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. J. Horace Finney, of Palmyra. A very interesting program has been arranged and all the members are urged to be present.

ROBERT KENNEDY

Robert Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kennedy, of Highland avenue, Palmyra, died at the Episcopal Hospital, Philadelphia, early Tuesday evening, following several weeks of illness with pneumonia.

Mr. Kennedy was well known in Palmyra and together with his family visited his parents here several times.

The deceased is survived by his widow, Mrs. Emily Kennedy, nee Hennessey, formerly of Riverside, and two children, Edward and Betty. Betty has been spending several months with her grandparents during her father's illness.

Funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

Elsie Janis Ill

Elsie Janis, known during the war as the "Sweetheart of the A. E. F.", American actress, is seriously ill at influenza in Paris.

TO BUILD MODERN FRIENDS' SCHOOL

Splendid $275,000 Building is to House Moorestown Institution

Chester L. Reagan, principal, announced Tuesday afternoon that the Moorestown Friends' school is to build a new high school building. Construction will start immediately.

It is now the only private educational institution in South Jersey and the ever-increasing enrollment of the school which attracts students from many South Jersey communities, has made the building program imperative.

We now have 372 pupils and are building for a capacity of 600," Mr. Reagan reported. The school plans to use the present buildings at Main street and Chester avenue for elementary classes and eventually will dispense of the building at Second street and Chester avenue.

The new building, which will be a thoroughly modern high school in every respect, will cost, including rental, $275,000, it is reported. It will be of unusual architectural being brick with concrete floor and colonial architecture and is to be built on Parnes Lane facing west at back of the school's new home estate. The building will have two large wings.

Thirteen Classes

The new building will have thirteen classrooms and several rooms for domestic science, manual training, natural laboratory, music and library. It will also include a spacious auditorium with a seating capacity of one hundred.

A 75-foot running track, fully equipped with all track facilities, will have a basketball court which will measure forty by sixty feet. The floor in the auditorium will be built on the sand level as the gymnasium floor thus enabling the school to use the entire gymnasium floor as a part of the stage in case an unusually large stage is needed.

The architects, Mecry and Evans, Philadelphia boys, submitted a very interesting model of the building which is now on display in Mr. Reagan's office.

The Friends' School has a splendid setting in an educational institution and has not only the finest of equipment but always conducts one of the most modern educational plans. It is one of the most popular private preparatory schools.

COUNTY JUSTICES TO BE ORGANIZED

Justice Leedom Smith Will Have Charge of Work in Entire District

Justice of the peace, constables and recorders throughout Burlington County will be formed into an association for mutual protection by Judge J. Leedom Smith, of Burlington.

Smith has asserted he will organize the small court judges and their constables into an association for the purpose of providing protection against legislation. He said he has accepted the position as organizer on the insistence of Charles Drain, secretary of the Mercer County association of justices of the peace and constables.

"There are many cases which justices must send to County court which should be finally decided in the squire's court," Smith said recently. "Prominent among these are assault and battery cases. Many times the brothers know the participants and could mend a marital rift caused by an unfriendly blow, without putting the County to the expense of court action.

"I believe I shall have little difficulty in interesting the 150 justices and constables of the County in this new organization," he continued. "A determined organization may do much towards alleviating and ameliorating conditions for judges of the small cause courts."

Smith will attend a banquet in Trenton on April 10, when executive committees of similar organizations throughout the State will be present. He expects to travel as representative of a fully formed Burlington County organization.

Mrs. Louisa Aydelotte

Mrs. Louisa Aydelotte, 58 years old, widow of John R. Aydelotte, died at her home in Parry, last Saturday night, April 6.

The funeral was held Wednesday at two o'clock from the Shover Funeral Home with Rev. A. J. Harte officiating. Interment was made in Morgan Cemetery.

The deceased is survived by four children, Eugene, Helen, Ruth and Wilson.

FOOTBALL STAR TO SPEAK HERE

"Ernie" Mandes to Participate in Epworth League Services Sunday

A special attraction has been arranged for the Epworth League service at the Methodist Church this Sunday at 6:45 P. M.

The following letter will be self-explanatory. The writer, Cecil G. Thompson, is the son of Thompson, who teaches the Wesleyan class. Dear Brother Bill:

I believe that I could report your kind invitation to speak on April 14. I would like to bring Brother Bandes, the famous football hero and star of the Main line, to give his testimony. Ernie Mandes was voted the most valuable player on the Lower Merion team this past season, quite a distinction on such a noted team!

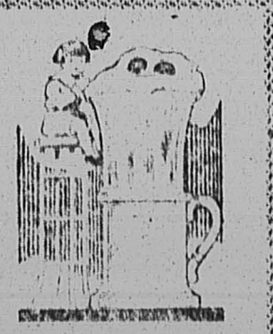

He was also chosen All-Scholastic quarterback on all the Philadelphia paper teams. Ernie was given a scholarship to N. Y. U. valued at over $4,000.00, which he refused as he intends to enter a Bible Institute.

You will see that Ernie should have quite an audience because such young men are scarce. He brings a thrilling inspiring testimony of our Lord and I think between Ernie and I, who are bosom friends and with God's help we should have a very heipful service. Pray about it!

Awaiting your confirmation and suggestions, I am,

Yours in His Service,
CECIL G. THOMPSON.

Y GROUPS HOLD INDOOR CONTESTS

Novelty Contests Provide Interest at Meet in Mount Holly Armory

About 50 contestants took part in the Indoor Athletic Contest of the Burlington County Y M C A Groups Saturday afternoon April 6 at the Mount Holly Armory. This contest consisted more of novelty athletic events than those usually held in indoor competition but the whole affair proved very interesting and worth while. The Y M C A Group of Hartford took the group honors with six champions. Medford Leeds and Brown's Mills tied for second place with three champions each.

There were three classes of competition in the Athletic Contest, according to age. Events for Class I ages 9-10-11 were run off by Captain J. F. R Long. Champions were as follows: Broom Pull George Davis Lenola Quoit Contest Theodore Budd Pemberton. Dart Throwing Contest Norman Berner Hartford.

Events for Class II ages 12-13-14 years were run off by Harold Powell Commanding Officer of the Mount Holly Company. The event and champions are as follows: Hand Wrestling Earl Pruden Lenola. Standing Broad Jump Thomas Morrison Hartford 7 feet 8 inches. Chalk Marking for Distance Thomas Morrison Hartford Broom Pull Howard Lemmon Brown's Mill. Quoit Contest Elmer Haines Brown's Mills. Dart Throwing Contest Edward Miller Hartford.

Jacobstown Banquet

Addison W. Moore of New Egypt was the Toastmaster at Jacobstown's annual Father and Son Dinner April 3, which was held in the Social Hall of the Methodist Church. Following an excellent chicken dinner, the courses of which were dispersed with selections by the County Y M C A Orchestra and the singing of Father and Son songs, Rev. John McKechnie delivered the opening welcome address.

A Fathers' toast was given by Rev R S. Sullivan of New Egypt, which was responded to by Kenneth Sponenbergh a member of the Ja-Co Y M C A Group. The principal address of the evening was delivered by former Judge Harold B Wells. Between 60 and 70 fathers and sons were present and during Judge Wells address the mothers left their work and enjoyed this too.

This banquet makes the eighth held under the local Y M C A auspices in the various sections of the County, and this number will come to nine with Mount Holly's annual Banquet Friday evening April 12. Other places where they have been held are Beverly, Palmyra-Riverton, Willingboro Cro-sw'ks, Medford and Lumberton.

Bordentown Y. M. C. A. Group

The Molar Y M C A Group, of Bordentown young men who are ambitious to have a meeting place of their own, have plans made for a musical and entertainment open to public which will be presented at the auditorium of the Bordentown High School Monday evening, April 15, at eight o'clock.

Among the program features listed by the committee having this matter in charge are these:

The automobile has brought former distant places closer and closer together, including our house and the poorhouse.

BIGGER SHOWS AT WALT WHITMAN

Enos Frazier & Co. in Remarkable Variety Offering, "Entertainment DeLuxe"

These are great days at The Walt Whitman Theatre with the more pretentious programs now being offered which include double feature vaudeville bills, and the best of the newer photoplay productions on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Heading the vaudeville section of the show for the last half of this week is the sensation of two continents, Enos Frazier and Company in a truly remarkable variety offering that provides what is termed "Entertainment De Luxe," and is positively the most unique offering ever staged. The climax of this unusual act provides one of the biggest thrills ever presented and will startle the most ardent theatregoer.

The other headline feature of this double feature program presents the "Armand and De-Vore Revue," in a miniature Broadway production. Offering the latest and best in songs, dances and music, beautifully staged with gorgeous costumes.

Other acts include Jerry O'Meara and Company, vaudevilles favorite character acter, in "A Cutting From Life." Southern and Stirk in "Bits of Everything," and Welder & Wallace, the "Humorous Humans."

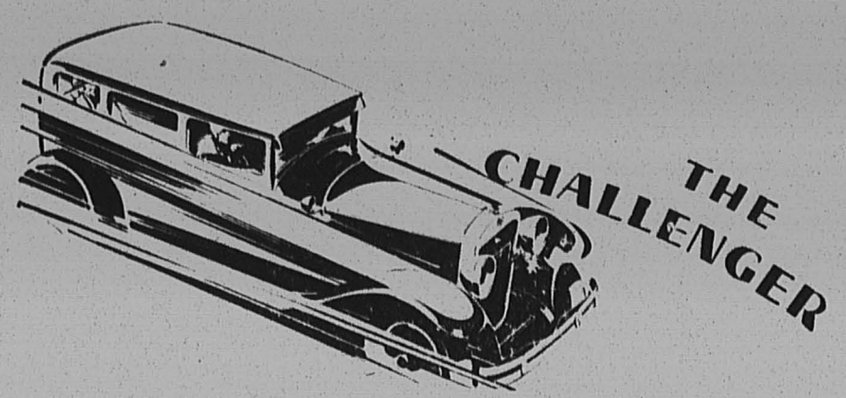

The feature photoplay stars Richard Barthelmess in "Scarlet Seas," a thrilling drama of love, mutiny and passion.

Barthelmess has the character of a hard-boiled sailor who has to fight his way around the world and meets his problems in a most unusual way. Others in the cast include Betty Compson and Loretta Young.

The Fox-Movietone News and musical features by the Walt Whitman Theatre Orchestra, under the direction of Robert W. Taylor, completes this banner program.

There are a set of malicious, prating, prurient gossips, both male and female, who murder characters to kill time, and will rob a young fellow of his good name before he has years to know the value of it.

—RICHARD BRINSLEY SHERIDAN.

Green Pastures

The grass is always greener across the fence in the other pasture. So say the cynic, the failure, the knocker and the never-do-well. In saying this they are satisfying themselves of what they want to be, and excusing themselves for what they are.

All things considered, one's home town is the best place. Your town meets the requirements for those who WANT it the best place and who will co-operate to the end that their wants will become realities. Those who revel in the great national sport of being dissatisfied with their home town are all wrong unless they help to make it better. The Prodigal Son thought another pasture was greener, but had to live among the swine.

Remember this: the other fellow in the other town is voicing a certain dissatisfaction. The fault is not with the town but with the point of view. Saying that conditions are poor and that business is bad helps to make them truth, because destructive criticism is catching and demoralizing to any phase of activity.

Your town is lifeless without its citizens in action. Citizens can make the pasture here as green as any other, turning any false notions of adversity into realities of success. This can be done in a small way if we will, a large way if we can.

It is no particular credit to a man how many towns he has lived in, how many businesses he has "run", or how many jobs he has held. The men and women who make history are the PERMANENT settlers—the masters of a single business and the workers on a certain job. But if one must be a floater, let him stay out of the way of the folks who believe in their home town.

Was Edison Real Inventor of Talking Movies?

Thomas A. Edison was the real spirit behind talking pictures in 1886 and his dream came true only one year ago this month, declares Commander Fitzhugh Green, whose speaking engagement in Moorestown last winter had to be cancelled because of illness.

"Edison invented his phonograph in 1836," says Green. "He wanted pictures to go with it. Realizing that he ought to have about forty pictures to the second to make them look right on the screen, he invented a camera to make them. He then developed the Kinetescope, which used a new product called 'film', made by a young man named George Eastman up in Rochester. He synchronized his two machines, gave his new customer an ear tube and a peep-hole and produced a talking picture.

"But to everyone who heard those early Talkies, the idea was anathema for the rest of his natural life."

Writing of the industry today, Green declares that Hollywood has been changed from a "movie capital to a talkie metropolis." He estimates that old-fashioned movie interests worth $8,000,000,000 have been overturned by the talking picture business.

Clean Up ! Paint Up !

That's the great slogan of a great national movement: "Clean Up! Paint Up!"

One week in April is always put aside for this worthy cause. People the country over are urged to be clean—to brush away the cobwebs in their homes, in their offices, and in their minds.

Clean up and paint up that health may be the rule and not the exception.

Remember that cleanliness is next to Godliness.

National Clean-Up Paint-Up Week is promoted by a national organization that has nothing to sell—its aim is merely to promote greater cleanliness in towns and cities.

It is as high an aim as any organization can have—for cleanliness means health and happiness. And health and happiness are the twin blessings of life.

Clean Up! Paint Up! Not only your surroundings—give some thought, too, to the cleanliness of your mind and body.

Relying on Hoover

President Hoover is attempting to observe the properties of legislative procedure in keeping "hands off" of the drafting processes of farm relief and tariff bills for the coming special session of Congress. The President does not hesitate to "recommend", but he seems to have been estopped in going further at this time, either by the "good-will trip" or campaign promises, from anything more definite. This does not satisfy some members of Congress who regard him as a Moses to lead them out of their wilderness. It is quite certain that the pattern for farm relief will be cut at the White House, before Congress finally acts.

Baseball Time !

Some people call it Spring.

We call it "Baseball Time."

It's marked by the growth of flowers, the songs of birds, and an irresistible impluse in every man's heart to "go out and do something."

Baseball Time is here!

The big teams are all ready for their battles. Men everywhere are already on their local diamonds, batting dull cares away. They are doing something. Strengthening their muscles, intensifying their love of fair play. Playing.

Just watch the excitement! Again we are to hear of the exploits of the heroes of the diamond, again we are to thrill to the news of this or that home run.

Again our minds are to be given to the healthiest, happiest pastime yet invented by man. We are a nation that knows how to play—which is the same as saying that we know how to live.

"The Blind Side"

In earlier days, it was not at all unusual to find on the farm, a horse that was blind in one eye. There was a "blind side" to the animal. He was earier to lay hands on than the other animals because of this defect; it was no trouble to get old Ben and put him to work, for you could sneak up on him on the blind side and clap the bridle on him. Otherwise, he seemed to get along as a horse with two good eyes.

He was easier trapped, that's all.

My sympathies went out to old Ben for that very reason. For above everything else, I hate to be trapped—caught unawares. Many men have "blind sides", in spite of their two perfectly good eyes. Rogues sneak up and halter them, almost before they realize it.

Whenever a fellow approaches me with a proposition that my conscience doesn't approve, and that my pocket-book doesn't quite harmonize with—and tries to talk me into his way of thinking, so he can get the halter on me, then I recall poor old Ben and his blind side.

Over-zealous solicitors, political and commercial, work the blind side of their victims for all it will stand. Once the halter is on and buckled tight, how hard the driver's lash! How heavy the plough! For I have been caught on the blind side, and I know.

So, my life-study thus far, has ben to see all around me—to have no "blind side." Sometimes I get to thinking that my blindness has been cured—by experience; then some pussy-footer will slip up on me, but not so often—not so often. I shall delve after truth always, for truth makes men free. Light is the antidote for darkness.

Editorial Comment From Other Papers

Mayor Hague on the Stand

Mayor Hague and his friends no doubt hold that he came through his examination by the McAllister Committee with flying colors and emerged without a stain upon his reputation. It is true that he made no damaging admissions. He refused to answer any questions that might show his wealth and how it was acquired. On most matters relating to the city government he affected ignorance. By a shrewd trick he destroyed the value of the evidence of the committee's handwriting expert, and he made good use of the ancient legal maxim "when you have a poor case abuse the opposing attorney."

But, and this is the crux of the whole investigation, he did not tell where he got it. By his own testimony since he was given his first political job in 1895 he has had no other business. In all that time his highest salary has been $8,000 a year and for only a short time has it been that high. For the entire thirty-four years it is unlikely that it would average $4,000 a year. And yet he is not only reputed wealthy but the evidences of his prosperity are tangible and undisputed.

His interest in Jersey City's finest apartment house is so large that he occupies rent free an apartment that would cost him the greater part of his salary, if he had to pay for it. He spends his summers in a magnificent mansion at Deal, where last summer he was the owner of two residences, the cost of which ran far into six figures. During the winter season he spent ten weeks in Florida and Havana, staying at the most expensive hotels. These things cannot be done on an $8,000 a year salary.

Mayor Hague persistently refused to answer any questions that would reveal the amount of his present wealth or its sources on the ground that the committee had no right to delve into his private and personal affairs. Whether or not it has such power will soon be decided by the Court of Errors and Appeals. But there is a Court of public opinion and the question asked in that court is "If Mayor Hague has nothing to conceal why does he deliberately arouse suspicion by refusing to give the information that would exonerate him?"

"The people will be the judge," said Senator McAllister, chairman of the committe. Most of them have already reached a decision.

—Newark Call.

COLORS DISPLAY

Color and design have a fine chance to be heard in spring coats of tweed without fur, but accompanied by a scarf in tones that accent those found in the coat.

A youthful model by Henri Bendel has used Scotch tweed of a delicious shade of green with herring-bone weave. The scarf is in shades of green and contrasting trimming on the bullibunti hat also of one of the green tones featured.

All manner of smart combinations can be had through the clever use of color and pattern which give so much character to the coat. We remember an apricot tweed recently displayed with scarf in tri-colors of apricot, beige and brown; hat in beige with brown trimming. Another coat in cloud-blue tweed with scarf in blues from smoke to navy, hat in smoke blue with darker banding.

These be economical suggestions that appeal immensely to those of us who are thrifty.

Not Guilty

A man was charged with kissing a girl against her will, and during the proceedings the girl went into the box. "You say," said the counsel for the defense, "that my client took you by surprise, and that you gave him no encouragement?" "I do," replied the girl. "Doesn't it strike you as strange that he should have managed to kiss you as you were unwilling?" added counsel. "Look at my client, and then consider your own height. When you are nearly a foot taller than he is." "Well, what if—" "Don't you think he's fresh?" "Not exactly, merely inquisitive."

His hand is cold

NATURE'S BALANCE.

THE PRICE FOR PICTURES.

EINSTEIN PUZZLE.

THE "FIVE AND TEN" LAW

It is dangerous to interfere with nature's balance, one thing killing other's, all kept in bounds.

Yakima County, Washington, offered a bounty to exterminate hawks and owls, and thousands were killed, to protect game birds and poultry.

Investigation by government experts, examining hawk and owl interiors, found that the birds lived on snakes, grasshoppers, field mice and ground squirrels, all dangerous to man—especially the ground squirrels that spread bubonic plague.

Yakima has withdrawn the bounty. Kill off coyotes and foxes and you encourage a plague of field mice and jack rabbits. Montana made that discovery. The wise plan is to destroy the objectionable creatures by scientific means. Get rid of small vermin and the bigger nuisances will disappear.

When we see news films we rarely realize the risks run by cameramen. Those risks are great and occasionally death proves it.

At Daytona, Florida, Mr. Bible, trying for a new automobile speed record, was instantly killed when his car was going 202 miles an hour.

The crowd stood well back, watching the race, but Charles Traub, grinding a newsreel camera, knew it was his duty to show the machine traveling four miles a minute, coming head-on. He stood with his camera planted sightly to one side of the straight course. When the driver lost control the car leaped and rolled.

It was too late for Traub to save himself. His dead body was laid out beside that of the driver.

That is the price paid sometimes for news pictures.

Professor Einstein, fifty years old, retired with his wife from public view, to think about relativity and the fourth dimension, and wonder why people make such a fuss over him.

He is especially amazed at the great interest in his discoveries in the United States. And he well may be. Not ten men in the United States understand them.

What Will Rogers calls the "Five and Ten prohibition law," five years in jail, and $10,000 fine went into effect in Chicago, and the first man caught in the Jones net was Carl Malinke, a policeman. The Chicago Federal district attorney expects 250 indictments per month.

Impressive figures prove that the radio has come to stay with a vengeance. During 1928 retail sales of radio apparatus totalled $70,877,517.

The extent to which radio has transformed human life and enlarged its possibilities is understood as little as the importance of printing was understood when Gutenberg began setting up his movable type.

Printing opened all the knowledge of the world to everybody that could read.

Radio offers the speeches, music and information of the world to everybody able to listen.

Professor Card, of Philadelphia says women will soon wear dresses made of asbestos, fireproof, shiny as silk, more durable than any cloth, easily cleaned with a wet cloth, costing less than other materials.

All interesting, but women probably won't wear asbestos.

Imitation pearls are as handsome as real pearls. Synthetic rubies and sapphires are made exactly like the real. But woman insists on having the real.

This new idea of greater telephone convenience

ANOTHER amazing thing has happened to make the American home the most comfortable in the world.

Telephone convenience—all through the house. Telephones . . . wherever you need them.

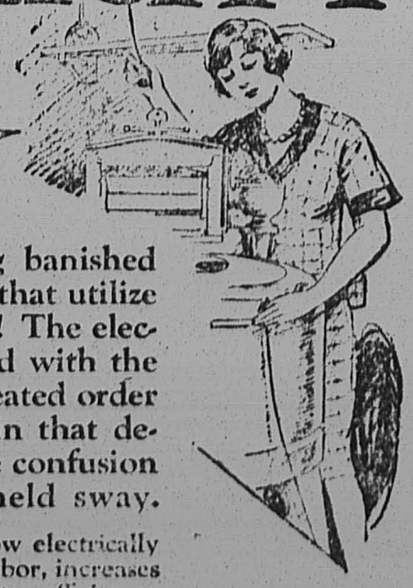

You have no idea how much difference this modern comfort makes in ease, convenience and safety.

Architects are providing for it in their plans for new houses. Builders and remodelers are building the facilities for complete telephone comfort right into the walls of their houses—because people want such homes.

And it is all so moderate in cost. Call our Business Office today. We will gladly show you how this new idea of telephone comfort can be applied to your own home.

CREDIT electricity with having banished "Blue Monday", from homes that utilize its many labor saving possibilities! The electric washer and ironer, combined with the gas heated clothes dryer, have created order and done away with drudgery in that department of the household, where confusion and back-breaking toil once held sway.

Every manufacturer knows how electrically operated machinery reduces labor, increases production and makes for greater efficiency, and every housewife should know that electricity will accomplish similar results when it is used to do the daily tasks in the home.

For any household operation involving the use of power, from the washing of clothes to the cleaning of rugs, electricity provides energy in its most adaptable and convenient form. It is an ideal and thrifty household servant.

In order that you may secure the full benefits of modern science, modern invention and present day prosperity, equip your home with convenience producing, labor saving electric appliances. Let us demonstrate these appliances to you!

CHRIST CHURCH

Rev. Geo. J. McCormack, Rector
Parry Avenue

Every now and then, a book such as Elmer Gantry causes a very hot and angry tumult to arise in the breasts of the faithful. We knew it was a frank exaggeration and was, of course, written in a spirit of bitter animosity to the Church and to Christianity. But I think it did as much good as the atheistic lectures of Bob Ingersoll in a previous generation. And does anybody deny that the eloquent orator sent Christian believers to look at their foundations and to give the modern Saul view of the Bible as well as to laugh out of the Church a crude Old Testament Deity, and in short actually strengthen a reasonable and an ethical Christian faith? Before it gets too hot to think or reading, won't you think a bit concerning the Church? Its Foundation, its Purpose and your part in it?

There will be a meeting of the Central Division of the New Jersey Branch of the Woman's Auxiliary in St. Stephen's Church, Beverly, on Wednesday, April 17 at half past ten.

An admission service for the Girls' Friendly Society candidates will be held Saturday evening next at 8 p. m. A very cordial invitation is given to any who are desirous of knowing something about this wonderful organization.

A very fine meeting of St. Agnes Guild was held on Monday followed by a delightful supper. Forty were present and the music and speeches were greatly enjoyed.

Do not miss the spring card party under the auspices of the Woman's Auxiliary on Thursday, April 18. Tickets from any member of the Society.

Services Second Sunday after Easter

10.30 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon, "The Kingdom of God."

2.30 p. m. Church School.

8.00 p. m. Evensong and Admission of Candidates for the G. F. S.

TAPIOCA

(Minute and Pearl)

If you have used Minute Tapioca only for delicious desserts, try it now also as a precision ingredient. By this, we mean an ingredient which imparts to many dishes that ideal texture, flavor or appearance otherwise difficult to attain.

For example, Minute Tapioca makes an omelet that stays light, fluffy and tender. It keeps the crisp undercrust of a berry pie from becoming soggy. It can make left-overs into delicious dishes that serve a whole family. It gives new zest to soups, meat loaf and stewed tomatoes.

SEEK TO BOOST VALUATIONS OF COUNTY REALTY

State Board Finds Selling Price is Far Above Assessment Figures

$780,875 IN BURLINGTON RATED AT $282,750

County Board Summoned to Appear in Trenton Next Tuesday

Increases in valuations in Burlington County are expected as a result of an investigation of the prices paid for real estate during the last few years by the State Board of Taxes and Assessments.

Investigation of marked values on 2,006 properties show they have been assessed for $4,500,128 by the Burlington County Board of Taxation and the prices paid total $14,428,975.

The State Board has summoned the County Board to appear in Trenton next Tuesday to conduct an increasing valuations to the market value. If this is done it will mean an increase of an average of 40 per cent. on the properties re-examined by a force of clerks, which has been investigating the records in the County Clerk's office.

An investigation of the assessments in Moorestown Township of 256 properties shows a market value to be $1,749,963 while the assessors placed a valuation of $684,210.

The investigator went over the valuations in Chester Township where Maple Shade is located and after examining 221 properties found a market value of $1,053,096 and an valuation of $454,875 fixed by the Township Board an increase of 43 per cent.

Examination of 102 properties in Burlington revealed the marked valuation to be $780,875 against a local board valuation of $282,750, an increase of 36 per cent.

Palmyra market values on 185 records examined show a total of $1,170,267 against the local boards' valuations of $498,600.

The market value on 141 Riverside properties totals $574,000 but the local board's assessment totals only $226,100.

The total sale prices on 125 properties in Northampton Township, in which Mt. Holly is located total $614,911 and the assessed valuations total $264,500 an increase of 43 per cent.

The sales price totals on 100 Beverly properties is $524,340 and the assessed valuations are $226,480 an increase of 43 per cent.

WOULD ABOLISH AUTO GRAVEYARDS

Keystone Automobile Club Endorses Stand Taken By Commissioner Dill

Strong indorsement of the stand taken by Motor Vehicle Commissioner William L. Dill on the subject of automobile graveyards is contained in a statement by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey.

Commissioner Dill," says the statement, "is to be commended for his determination to go before the next Legislature for relief from a condition that rapidly is becoming intolerable. This organization will co-operate with him in every possible way to prevent further disfigurement of the landscape by these dismal junk piles.

"The White Horse Pike, recognized as one of the finest highways in the country is marred by several of these graveyards, while at various other points may be seen discarded fenders and other automobile junk, the nucleus for still more highway eyesores.

"Beautification of the White Horse Pike and other main traveled roads in New Jersey cannot be carried to successful conclusion until such sights are eliminated. There is little inspiration for the motorist in a view of a countryside strewn with junk.

"Millions of dollars are contributed yearly by the owners of automobiles for the construction of highways. Surely this investment is worth conserving by making the roads pay a dividend in increased business for the people of the State. Unsightly highways repel travel; highways with clean surroundings invite it."

Tired Feelings, Tired Looks and Tonics

IT has been spring ever since March 21, the calendar tells us. Most of us have known it not so much by the almanac as by the tired feeling sometimes called "spring fever." I heard a well known physician say, "This is the most treacherous time of all the year the weather is changeable and the vitality of people low; they should take extra caution to eat well, rest well and exercise moderately, and if they need a tonic have them eat plenty of fresh eggs, milk and vegetables."

Some of us take our spring tonics in different ways—some from a bottle, some will take long walks in the country and watch the hills and fields grow green again in their new spring clothes. Others will buy all the new young fruits and vegetables, green lettuce, spinach, cabbage, carrots, oranges and grapefruit.

Tired feelings are bad, but tired looks are worse, for these there is a remedy, so simple we hesitate to tell you what it is. Because of its very simplicity it is hard to follow—first follow the advice of the physician quoted above, then make it possible to—I know it will be difficult in these busy days—to rest one-half hour each day in the early afternoon.

Go to your room, think of lovely, beautiful and restful things, soft music, pretty flowers or pictures, a good book or play anything but things about your house and self. This one half hour of rest helps so much to chase away the tired looks, to restore to the eyes that restful look so rarely seen in American women and to keep the clear complexion free from lines.

Take your spring tonics in your foods, using plenty of the fresh vegetable and fruits.

Creamed Chicken in Potato Patties

8 hot boiled potatoes
3 tbsp. butter
½ cup hot milk
½ tsp. salt

Mash potatoes, add seasonings and beat until light and fluffy. Use part of potato to shape flat circular cakes for base of the patties, flute side with a fork and press to make small dish. Arrange potatoes on a buttered baking sheet. Put remaining portion of potatoes into a pastry bag fitted with a star tube and pipe two rows of potato, one above the other, on each potato cake. Brush with melted butter and brown in oven. Remove with a spatula to serving plate and fill each potato case with creamed chicken and garnish with fresh green peas.

Creamed Chicken

1 cup white sauce	1 cup pimiento (chopped fine)
1 cup diced chicken	½ green pepper (chopped fine)

Saute pimiento and green pepper in butter, add to chicken with salt and pepper. Serve in potato cases. This is attractive served on toast.

Vegetable Salad

Lettuce	2 hard cooked
Beets	eggs
Celery	Watercress

Wash lettuce, arrange in nests and in each nest place thinly sliced beets, slices of hard cooked eggs and finely chopped celery. Place watercress around dish, using enough to serve some with each portion of salad. Serve with French dressing.

Stuffed Beet Salad

6 beets	¼ tsp. salt
2 green peppers	¾ tsp pepper
½ cup celery	2 tbsp. onion

Cook beets until tender. Turn into cold water and peel immediately. Cut out centers to form a cup. Fill with French dressing and let stand while preparing the following. Cut peppers, celery and onions very fine, season with salt and pepper; drain French dressing from beet cup and mix with this vegetable mixture. Fill cups with vegetables and serve in lettuce leaf.

Stuffed Endive Salad

Separate and allow to stand in cold water. Dry and fill center with pimiento cheese mixture. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

Hot Mushroom Crusts

Cut the bread in thin slices and cut in three-inch length pieces. Saute in olive oil. Spread with finely chopped cooked ham. Over this sprinkle fine ly chopped egg yolks and arrange on top three mushroom caps that have been sauted in butter. Place in a hot oven, 400 degrees, to heat thoroughly, about ten minutes. Garnish each serving with parsley. This is a delicious luncheon or supper dish.

Baked Rhubarb

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Margaret Ryan, Worthy Matron; George W. Rogers, Worthy Patron; Mrs. Sara Price, Associate Matron; Mrs. Elizabeth Moffitt, Conductress; Mrs. Beatrice Nace, Associate Conductress.

P. R. R. BUSES FOR PALMYRA BRIDGE

Railroad Plans to Run Line From Broad Street Station to Berlin

The proposal of the Pennsylvania Railroad to enter the bus field and operate a brand new line through Moorestown excited an unusual amount of interest at the regular meeting of the Moorestown Township Committee in Town Hall Monday evening.

According to the plans submitted to the Town Fathers the Pennsylvania Railroad will operate a bus line between Philadelphia and Berlin, via the Palmyra-Tacony bridge, now under construction, and scheduled to open August 15.

The application, although on a Pennsylvania Railroad letter head from the Camden office was in the name of the Philadelphia General Transit Company. According to the application, the railroad company proposes to operate a motor coach line between Broad Street Station, Philadelphia and Berlin.

The route on the Jersey side as set forth in the application calls for the buses to run from the Palmyra bridge to Chester avenue to Main street to Church street and out Church street over the present route to Berlin.

It is proposed to make this line both interstate and intrastate. Persons attending the meeting pointed out that by operating in this manner the line would also permit residents of the Riverfront or Moorestonians to have bus service between the two communities, it would provide transportation to Marlton and other points south as well as service to the northeastern part of Philadelphia direct from Moorestown.

Action on the application was withheld however, pending an investigation by Solicitor Walter Carson.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular monthly meeting will be held next Wednesday evening April 17 in the Legion Home.

Don't forget the card party on Wednesday evening, April 24. Efforts are being made to have this a very successful affair as the proceeds are for the welfare work at the Toms River Home and we hope to go over the top with our allotment for this work.

Several members of the Auxiliary and also the Post made the trip to Toms River Home last Sunday and our gifts were much appreciated and most welcome. Included in our donations were two pairs of lovely woolen blankets, a box of canned goods, bed linen, towels, fruit and magazines. The Home is truly a home—everything is done for the boys' comfort and pleasure. It would be worth the time anyone could spare to stop in and visit with the boys a while and see how nicely they are fixed.

On our way to Toms River we stopped at the Fairview Sanitarium and left flowers and fruit for one patient and a book and cigarettes for another.

County meeting at Roebling next Friday evening, April 19th.

RUNS AUTO INTO SIDE OF TRAIN

Riverton Man and Delanco Girl Are Badly Shaken in Crash at Coopertown Road Crossing

Hubert J. Kern, of 600 Broadstreet, Riverton and Miss Ruth Fisher, of Delanco, were badly shaken last Sunday evening about 10:30 o'clock when Kern ran his automobile, a Studebaker touring, into the side of a passenger train at Coopertown road crossing, Delanco.

Kern did not notice the train's approach, but it beat him to the crossing and the automobile ran into the side of the moving cars. The Studebaker was turned around and its side was badly battered in, but the passengers jumped in time to avoid serious injury.

They were taken to the Zurbrugg Hospital, where it was found Miss Fisher had suffered lacerations of the scalp. After being treated by Dr. Wagner she was able to return to her home.

How Do Little Birds Know When "It Ain't Gonna Rain No More"

One day last summer I sat out on the lake front watching the play of both young and old, when a storm came up.

The wind blew out and the people flew in and the rain came down in torrent. Lightning flicked wickedly over the water and the waves rolled to shore with adornment.

It was very apparent where the people went. I did not note where had the birds, but this I say, the flies we all so detest, and other such living flying things, took refuge under the visor of my windshield. They were not blown there, for the wind was in the opposite direction they came there.

Then the birds came out, and immediately it stopped raining.

Who told the birds that the rain would cease what guided the flies to an automobile?

Call it God nature if you like or instinct may suit your pleasure, but call it what you may, who can sit at the water's edge in a raging storm watching man and bird and insect and say there is no great Master Mind? Where is the man who thinks his powers of such import that he can match the gift that tells a little bird that "It ain't gonna rain no more?"

Country may go to the city, city man go to the wide open spaces and there learn your insignificance. As big as you think you are, the greater man you'll be when you recognize your littleness by comparison.

BOYS COMPLETE CABIN AT CAMP

Moorestown Scouts, Aided by Rotarians, First to Finish Quarters

Moorestown Scout completed the first cabin at the new Burlington County Scout camp near Cookstown over the week-end.

Seventeen members of Troop 3, of which Henry H. Stiles is scoutmaster, left Friday for the camp and returned Sunday afternoon. Friday the boys were under the direction of Dr. Harold Coxson, who was raised by the scoutmaster and John G. Pettit on Saturday.

Lumber for the first cabin at the camp was supplied by the Rotary Club sponsor of Troop 3. The major part of the work was done by carpenters, supplied by Rotarian Steward R. Maines, and the boys completed the job. The new cabin will quarter eight boys.

Saturday evening all of the "boy-carpenters" were "treated" to a "movie" at New Egypt by John G. Pettit. Meat for the three-day camping party was donated by Rotarian Norris H. Bennett, proprietor of Washington Market. Coxson's store contributed the vegetables while Rotarian Stiles, the scoutmaster, supplied the remainder of the food.

Mr. Stiles plans to take his boys on an over-night hike to the camp at least once a month throughout the spring and summer.

Rotarian guests at the camp Sunday included Mr. Pettit, Mr. Bennett, Clarence E. Worrell, president, and Benjamin B. Rumpelt.

PAYS $200 FINE

"O. K." Says Lenola Man, as Drunken Driving Penalty Is Imposed

Robert H. Miller, Lenola, took $200 from a huge roll and placed it on Recorder Kinsdale's desk with a smile at Mount Holly Monday.

"That was an expensive jag," said Kingdon to Miller. "But no one else should drive a car under the influence of liquor."

"O. K." answered Miller as he walked out.

Miller was arrested early Monday on Washington street, Mount Holly, by Trooper Hoagland. Hoagland took Miller to Dr. William Sutherland who pronounced him drunk. Miller spent a few hours in the jail before the hearing.

COURT TO HEAR FAMILY FIGHT

Oliver Mulligan Placed Under $300 Bond After Assaulting Relative

Charged with drunken and disorderly conduct and assault and battery on his brother-in-law, Janie Funk, Oliver Mulligan, 430 West Main street, Moorestown was arrested by Officers Ralph Mark and Howard Davis Friday evening of last week.

At a hearing before Recorder Johnston in Town Hall Mulligan was fined $20 and costs on the drunken and disorderly charges and placed under $300 bond for court hearing for assaulting his relative.

A reckless driver, John H. Griffith, Woodbury, was fined $10 and costs by Recorder Johnston Saturday. The Woodbury man was arrested by Chief of Police John Brandaba.

David Freedam, 649 North Twelfth street, Philadelphia was fined $10 and costs on disorderly charges Saturday. He was arrested by Officers Charles Erickson and Mark.

A penalty of $10 and costs was imposed upon Magdalin Elliott, Long Branch, New York on reckless driving charges, preferred by Officer Walter A. Erickson, Monday.

Another motorist before Recorder Johnston Monday was Anthony Luca, 1037 Jackson street, Philadelphia, who was arrested by Officer Howard Davis for passing a traffic light with the red against him. The Recorder meted out a charge of $5.00 and costs.

Entertainment will be provided by the Assembly talent and the evening will be known as "Home Talent Night." A. Barton said that it will be a bigger and better one than ever before.

Members don't forget to get your candidate. Come good and get the degree.

GROUP REPORTERS TELL OF "Y" DOINGS

Lone Eagles Hold Initiation for Three New Members; Cake Sale Successful

Donald Gilbert, Reporter

The meeting of the Lone Eagle Group of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. was held last Saturday night in the "Y" Building. There were ten boys to be initiated, but one was dressed up to go to a party, so his was postponed until next week.

The other three had the following for their initiation: First they had their finger and toe nails painted a nice red pink. Then they were each given a banana and told to feed it to the fellow next to him. When they got through all had smeared face.

After this came the fat and hairy ape followed by Leader Carter telling them a story of how one men crossing a desert lost all their supplie and had to eat one of their companions.

The cake sale was a big success more than we had expected. We cleared over $27.00 while we expect to make about $30.00 on the candy that we left over. We hope that every body was pleased with what they bought and heartily thank all those who donated something to us, also those who did the baking. We sold about twenty-five cake and three for 50c dollar worth of candy. We had only one cake and a half left over but these were quickly knocked when Leader Carter told us that it was time to clean up. We adjourned about 9:00 o'clock.

Bruce Davison, Reporter

The regular weekly meeting of the Lincoln Pioneer Group was held Wednesday evening at 7:30 P. M. At Arnold Carter acting leader in the Y. M. C. A. Building. Mr. Carter informed us that Mr. Taylor our leader had a very bad toothache and would not be able to attend the meeting. In view of this fact Mr. Carter agreed to act as our leader.

At 7:45 Mr. Carter sent upstairs to procure for the two game of basketball which were to be played that night. The first game was between our second team and the Edison Pioneer second team. The game one was great. We won 22 to 4 a most decisive victory. The best player of the opposite team was Wayne Hutchinson and the star on our side was Horace Bit. Youngs also Adolph Buckle, Edward Smith, Smith and Howard Elliott. The second game was played between Robert Borer's team and our first team. This game was great from beginning to end and also very exciting and fast. Once more we won 28 to 18 points to set a great victory to be.

After the games were over we all gathered in the meeting room and had a hot meeting. The attendance was number as usual we noticed. It that after 7 we take 0.548 from the box as proved to some.

PALMYRA WINS OPENING GAME

Beats Haddonfield High School in Initial Camden Suburban League

Coach Kenneth Dimond's Palmyra High School nine pried the lid off the 1929 baseball season last Saturday afternoon by defeating Haddonfield by a score of 5-3 in the initial contest of the Camden Suburban League.

The game was played on the Palmyra field and was a real contest until the Red and Blue pushed across three big markers in the seventh canto. Sloan and Windish cracked out singles in succession and scampered home when Sacks poled out a long double to right. Before the smoke cleared away Sacks started for third and when Hurst's relay of Berger's throw went over Tees' head the fleet-footed outfielder continued home with the third counter of the frame.

Haddonfield was the first to score, grabbing a pair of runs in the fourth frame. Palmyra countered with a run in the second half and another in the fifth, evening the figures. Then came the big home team flare-up in the seventh. Haddonfield's rally in the eighth fell two runs short of tying the score.

Coles, who pitched all the way for the winners, was tapped for nine safeties, one a triple by Hemphill, but he was steady in the pinches. Every member of the Haddonfield batting order broke into the hit column with the exception of Berger, the lead-off man. Trees made two hits.

The score was featured by the hitting of Terril, Bartley and Coles, for the winning team, and Tees, for the losers.

Hemphill might have won if his team had not run into trouble in the seventh inning. He allowed ten hits, but gave a generally good exhibition and set down no less than ten of his opponents on strikes.

Palmyra will meet Collingswood next Friday in a league game at Collingswood.

Lose to Audubon

Palmyra lost to Audubon in another league game Tuesday afternoon at the Palmyra grounds by a score of 7-2. The Red and Blue gathered 11 hits off the offerings of Wilson, the Audubon hurler, but were unable to make them count.

The winners connected for an equal number of singles but manufactured five more runs. Three pitchers saw duty for Palmyra, while Wilson went the entire route.

Eight Teams Make Up County Ball League

Burlington City will not be represented in the County Baseball League this season. This information was given out at a meeting held in Florence on Tuesday evening of last week.

Six of the teams that were members last season had representatives at the meeting. They were R. D. Wood of Florence, Moorestown, Vincentown, Medford, Delanco and Palmyra.

Brown's Mills also was represented and its representatives were enthusiastic about joining the circuit. This team will no doubt be accepted.

Overtures for admission to the league are being exchanged with Bordentown and Riverside and the completion of the league will probably be made at a meeting this week.

A New Champion

HARRY "SOX" SEIBOLD

of Riverside Park, who defeated the Athletics last Saturday. He allowed the "A's" only eight hits.

"SOX" SEIBOLD HURLS FOR BOSTON BRAVES

Popular Riverside Pitcher Takes Game From "A's" Last Saturday Against Jack Quinn

Among the many veterans who will toil for the Boston Braves of the National League, for the coming season is Harry Seibold, better known to the baseball fans as "Sox."

Seibold was the leading pitcher of the International League, keeping Reading in the thick of the pennant race last year, with twenty victories and six defeats. At the close of the season he was sold to Chicago Cubs for a reported sum of $50,000, with several other players, and then later on traded to the Boston team for Rogers Hornsby.

Seibold is not new to the big show, having been with the Philadelphia Athletics for three seasons, '15, '16 and '17, after which he jumped the "A's" and played around Philly in independent ball for some time before having a tryout with the Reading team.

Last Saturday afternoon he pitched against the Athletics and defeated them by the score of 5 to 3, allowing the Athletics only eight hits and but for a few errors would have held them to one run. He was pitted against the veteran Jack Quinn.

Earlier in the training season "Sox" beat the World's Champions, the New York Yankees.

During the off season Seibold is a resident of Riverside Park.

BUFFALO POINTER TAKES BIG STAKE

Buckshot Awarded $1000 in Setter Club's Classic at Medford

Woodleigh Buckshot, owned by F. B. Hower, of Buffalo, created a big sensation in the free-for-all stake held under the auspices of the English Setter Club, when it was awarded the honors in the rich $1,000 stake at Medford Saturday. Second place went to Doones Carolina Jack, owned by C. Baily, of Baltimore, with the runnership position awarded to Eagle Ferns, property of Dr. H. E. Longdoff, of Mount Holly.

When Buckshot was called for the final series it was not expected that the Buffalo Pointer would make such a sensational showing with some of the leading champions in the series.

However, the Buffalo dog had run such a splendid race in the first time over the grounds of the Friends of the Hunting Dog that those having followed the trials very closely were not a bit surprised when the Hower entry was selected winner of the richest classic in Eastern field trial lore.

Buckshot is a pointer. For that matter, all the other dogs called for the final series were pointers, with the exception of Willard H. owned by John O'Dell, of Narberth, Pa., who, however, did not have the honor of being placed in the final award.

While the trials were almost listless due to the elements being unfavorable to the second series dogs, yet the gallery enjoyed the running immensely, especially as it was a case of the dog being better able to stand the test coming out of the series among the winners.

Buckshot, instead of tarrying along the thickets when it must have been evident to the pointer's doggie sense that birds were almost at a premium, he just set his tail wagging and started exhibiting what his schooling had taught him by excelling in all other field trial characteristics.

Easy to Protect Lawns from Grubs of Japanese Beetle

Entomological Laboratory at Moorestown Has Discovered Simple and Inexpensive Method

By a simple and inexpensive method it is now possible to kill the Japanese beetle grubs that are destroying lawns, turfs and golf greens.

After several years of experimental work on a number of the best known golf courses in the two States, the entomologists at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory, Moorestown, have found a practical method of eliminating the grub. They have learned, from a large number of tests that by applying a light application of lead arsenate to the lawn the grubs will be killed and the grass saved from injury.

So effective has this treatment been found that lawns treated seven years ago are still free from beetle grub injury. How much longer this treatment will hold good, it is impossible to state, as the first treatment was made in 1922, and the turf is still free of grub injury.

After hundreds of experiments conducted in both New Jersey and Pennsylvania, the experts have found that old lawns partly destroyed by the beetle can be made like new and grub-proofed, while new lawns that are to be seeded this spring can be given almost absolute protection. Since the time is drawing near for the beetle grubs to begin their destructive work on the roots of the grasses in the lawns and turfs, right now is considered the best time to apply the treatment to the soil.

When to Treat

The month of April is considered the best time of the year to grub-proof a lawn. Then the ground is in a friable condition and is easily worked. Early in this month the grass has not made much of a start and the lead arsenate can be easily raked into the soil where it will do the most good. By applying it at this time of the season when the lawns are being raked and renewed, the lead arsenate treatment can be applied at the same time with no extra labor and but little additional cost.

The method of grub-proofing a new lawn that is about ready to be seeded for the first time, differs but little from the way of reseeding or treating a lawn that has been injured in the past by the grubs.

Where it is desired to grub-proof the new lawn in the course of construction, the lead arsenate is applied before the seed is sown. After the soil has been brought to a grade and ready for the seed, spread 3½ pound of lead arsenate to each 100 square feet of the space to be treated. The arsenate of lead is spread over the ground in the same manner as applying fertilizer or the seed.

How to Apply

For each 1,000 square feet of turf to be grub-proofed, secure one bushel of moist, but not wet, screened sand or soil. If soil is used, be sure that it is free from lumps. Spread the soil or sand about three inches deep on a cement or a board floor, weigh out the required quantity of lead arsenate and spread this on top. Turn the mass over and over with a flat shovel or a spade until the two ingredients are thorough mixed.

The material is now ready for application to the turf. It may be carried in a pail, and spread a handful at a time, over the turf. The material may be sifted through the fingers or broadcast with a short to medium swing of the arm. If you find that you are running short of the mixture, do not stint the application, but mix up another lot and complete the job properly.

After the lawn has been treated with the lead arsenate mixture, the soil should be carefully raked to a depth of two or three inches before sowing the seed. After the seed has been applied, the ground should again be raked carefully to cover the mixture.

Grub-Proofing Old Lawns

The method of grub-proofing an old lawn differs but little from the treatment that is given a new lawn about to be seeded. The bare spots in the old lawn that have been killed out by the beetle grubs are raked over and the soil loosened up. In treating old lawns, where the grubs have killed spots in the grass, a lighter application of lead arsenate is applied.

After the lead has been put on the ground it should be raked into the turf as previously described, except that one-half inch is a sufficient depth to stir the soil. This later operation works the lead arsenate down among the roots, where it will do the most good.

If an old lawn is to be treated and the owner is willing to treat it each year, a mixture of five pounds of lead to caste and a bushel of soil can be applied to 1,000 square feet of lawn. Within one week this application will stop most of the feeding by grubs present at the time of application and within three weks it will kill almost all of the grubs in the soil. It will furthermore give adequate protection during the following year.

What It Costs

The cost of applying the lead arsenate treatment is very inexpensive even on moderate sized lawns. Determine the number of square feet of surface for each 3½ pound of lead arsenate. The lead can be purchased at hardware stores and seed houses. The cost of arsenate of lead varies from 15 cents per pound in 100-pound lots to 30 or 40 cents per pound in one and five-pound lots.

The cost for treating 100 square feet will not be over $1.50, while a lawn containing 1,000 square feet can be treated for a cost of approximately $5.00 for the material. The labor charge will be extra. Should the property owner desire to treat for this year only the five pounds of lead costing not over $2.00 will do for the larger garden or yard.

PALMER ADAMS QUITS GROWERS ASSOCIATION

Palmyra Man Plans to Form Concern of His Own in Near Future

Palmer L. Adams, of Palmyra, has severed his connection with the Co-Operative Growers' Association, of Beverly, where he has been employed for the past nine years as assistant manager.

Mr. Adams, who enjoys a wide circle of friends throughout Burlington County, will, in the very near future, enter into the fruit and produce marketing service for himself, as a competitor of the concern from which he resigned.

Mr. Adams is entering the business world on his own in response to a great many requests from Burlington County farmers, who have promised him their support in his marketing service.

Beverly, according to Mr. Adams will be his headquarters, and he will open an office within a short period of time, due to the fact that Beverly is ideally located for the servicing of the Burlington County farmers.

Progress is a question of vital public issues, not the private ambitions of men.

Kenilworth, Fla.—William Hardboyle, 49, died here recently with a smile on his lips. Hardboyle was a veteran of two wars and three wives.

TIME TO THINK ABOUT SWEET CLOVER

The season for sowing sweet clover will soon be here. In fact it may be sown right now in winter grain provided the field has been limed in the recent past, and the ground is already inoculated to alfalfa or sweet clover. Most men, however, sow this crop with oats which is an excellent plan, especially if the oats are to be cut for hay or pastured.

The requirements of sweet clover are a well-limed soil, inoculation and a firm seed bed. From 20 to 25 pounds of seed per acre is the amount usually sown, or if unhulled seed is used from 30 to 35 pounds.

Spring Wheat Experience

A Sussex County farmer last year happened to have a comparison of spring wheat and winter wheat on the same kind of land with just about the same kind of fertilizer. The winter wheat yielded 32 bushels per acre and the spring wheat 15 bushels per acre. He frankly states that he is "tired" of spring wheat.

In all the tests made at the Experiment Station, spring wheat has never yielded anywhere near as many pounds per acre of grain as either oats or barley. There is no longer any doubt that spring wheat is a poor crop in New Jersey.

Electric Brooding

Inquiries indicate that quite a few New Jersey poultrymen are interested in electric brooders. The questions most asked are whether they will successfully operate under New Jersey conditions, and what it costs to brood chicks electrically.

Electric brooders are satisfactory throughout moderate temperature ranges. In cold or freezing weather some form of auxiliary heat is desirable in the brooder house for the economical electric brooder is so insulated that it does not warm the room as is the case with coal or oil brooders. The cost of brooding chicks electrically depends on room operating temperature and on the degree of brooder insulation. Some New Jersey experiments during November and December of last year, using no auxiliary heat in brooder rooms, reported a current consumption ranging from 7 to 10 kilowatt hours per chick in the six weeks per brooding period. This corresponds with figures reported from seven other states.

Wage War on Worms and Disease

In the spring of 1928 a State-wide campaign was inaugurated to reduce the mortality in the raising of day-old chicks to maturity. The campaign was based on sanitation and emphasized the following seven points in raising chickens.

1 Hatch or buy chicks early
2 Keep brooder house clean
3 Provide clean range
4 Keep old and young stock separate
5 Build screened mature pit
6 Wire dropping boards
7 Clean dropping boards daily

At the time the pullets were housed this past fall a careful check was made of the results of the campaign. The results as reported by poultrymen throughout the State show the poultrymen who followed the campaign recommendations lost only 15% of their chicks. Other poultrymen who followed the first four recommendations lost 17% and those who followed only one or two of the recommendations lost 20% of their chicks.

The campaign will be continued this year. Fifteen hundred poultrymen throughout the State are wanted who will make an effort to follow the recommendations of the campaign in the raising of their chicks. If you are interested, write or phone your County Agent, Chas. A. Thompson, Mount Holly stating the total number of chicks you intend to brood this spring. Your name will then be placed on the mailing list to receive definite suggestions on the raising of chicks which will be issued during the season in connection with the campaign.

SPRING FASHION SHOW

The annual Spring Fashion Show will be presented on Thursday afternoon March 21st at the Mount Holly Theatre beginning promptly at 2:30 o'clock. It is given by Mrs. Catharine Griebel for the New Jersey State Extension Service.

The women of the county look forward each season to this show. Mrs. Griebel comes early this year with her wealth of information about what is new in clothes. This warm weather has already made us think of our spring wardrobe. You will find her the answer to many of your questions of "What shall I have new this spring."

You will see interesting new fabrics in all the brilliancy of gay spring colors. It is a season of color and everyone must think carefully and choose wisely in order to combine for a beautiful costume. In the whole ensemble everything has its place, a right to be there. So one must know what to choose for dress coat hat gloves hose and shoes. What to wear for accessories for they have become so much a definite part of the whole.

More than all this information of what to wear is how to go about to make your own dresses and what designs are right for the fabric used. Mrs. Griebel will wear her own models and explain the construction of each one. They will be made from a combination of the permanent pattern with a commercial pattern.

Some one of international fame in the clothing world said recently that one of the differences between French and American women is that the French woman looks at herself and the American woman looks at her neighbor.

Come to the show and choose the things that are suited to you. Everyone is cordially welcome.

SPORTS GLOVES AND SHOES

For the smart and practical sports glove pigskin outranks the other leathers. The pull-on model leads; trimming motifs are done in stitching, cording and perforated patterns that provide ventilation as well as ornament.

WE WISH TO CORRECT AN OVERSIGHT

In the last issue of the Burlington County Board of Agriculture News the list of members in the Herd Improvement Association, whose herd averaged over 300 pounds of butterfat was given. Through some error the herd owned by Mrs. O. L. Darnell of Medford was not listed. We therefore wish to acknowledge the error and give credit to this herd. The last year's production on the herd was 10,192 pounds of milk and 627 pounds of butterfat per cow. This is an exceptionally fine record and is deserving of the notice and credit given to the herds of the county. The records on this herd have just recently been completed for another Cow Testing Association year and have made the exceptionally fine average of 12,311 pounds of milk and 623 pounds of butterfat per cow.

FINDS ELECTRIC BROODERS GAINING IN POPULARITY

The increasing popularity of electric brooders for young chicks is largely due to their ease of operation and simplicity of control. The electric brooders require definitely less care than either coal or oil brooders, and temperature regulation, once adjustment is made, is automatic and positive. The fire hazard is also decreased.

Electric brooders are satisfactory for a moderately warm temperature but when need during cold weather they require auxiliary heat in the brooder room. Most electric brooders are insulated to confine their heat to the brooder area with the result that the room is not heated as is the case when coal or oil brooders are used. Electricity for room heating is too expensive even at low rates.

Trials of electric brooders on the Lakewood Poultry Farm at Lakewood emphasized the importance of dependable heat control of careful insulation of the brooders to minimize the expense of heat losses, and of good materials and workmanship. Cheap equipment generally turns out expensive in the end.

The dampness sometimes encountered under curtained brooders can be controlled by raising the brooder to afford air circulation. Curtainless brooders with good ventilating systems apparently give less trouble in this respect. The Lakewood tests were much those made in a number of other states in reporting a current consumption of between 7 and 10 kilowatt hours per chick brooded over a six weeks period.

TRACTORS REPLACE HORSES ON THE NEW JERSEY FARMS

Tractors are replacing horses on New Jersey farms and the number of horses has decreased 4,000 during the last three years, according to a survey made by the bureau of Statistics and Inspection State Department of Agriculture. However the number of mules remains unchanged from year to year, while the number of milk cows has increased in number.

There were only 50,000 horses valued at $6,720,000 on January 1, 1929. Compared with 54,000 worth $5,900,000 on January 1, 1927. There are 5,000 mules in the state valued at $615,000.

The increase in the number of milk heifers from 12,000 in 1926 to 17,000 in 1929 indicates that the dairy industry in the state is growing. The value per head of milk cows is growing from year to year, being $95 per head in 1926 and $135 per head in 1929.

SLEEVELESS SWEATERS

Smart looks for spring and summer will be featured sports with striking motifs and color combinations that place them in their rightful niche in the wardrobe—there to reign supreme.

The sleeveless sweater or sports dress is due for a tremendous popularity if Palm Beach preferences are an indication. Fabrics may be almost one of the sports type knitted silk jersey or one of the printed silks.

An interesting version of this vogue for the sleeve-minus follows. Beige flat crepe furnishes the foundation of the costume, a rich medium green is used for the major trimming motif while zig-zag rows of the darker green silk braid are accents. Beige hose and beige suede kid sport shoes are worn with the costume.

SEED AND SOIL CHOICE INFLUENCES EGGPLANT ROT

In reminding eggplant growers that a fungous disease known as fruit rot may cause them heavy losses again this year, the Burlington County Agricultural Extension Office asserts that the best insurance against this disease lies in the use of uninfected seed and uninfected soils.

Heaviest losses from fruit rot occur when eggplants are grown in fields that were infected the previous year. Losses have been so serious, in fact, that the better producers never grow eggplants in the same fields two years in succession.

Fruit rot may also occur in fields where this crop has never been grown before. In such cases the rot fungus is brought into the field on plants grown from infected seeds.

Eggplant seeds as they are brought from seedsmen carry no guarantee that they come from healthy fruit, and for this reason none but bright-colored seed should be accepted. Seeds of a dull color and showing conspicuous black spots or blotches almost certainly come from decayed fruit.

From 2 to 4 per cent of the seed from most commercial lots carry the rot fungus. Since no efficient seed treatment is known which will destroy the rot fungus in the infected seed without injury to the seed itself, our only hope is non-infected seed.

The surest plan is to save your own seed from healthy fruits. If purchased seed must be planted, use only bright-colored lots from which all seeds showing black spots have been removed.

CELEBRATE ARBOR DAY THIS FRIDAY

C. P. Wilber State Forester Calls Attention to Two Million Seedlings Being Planted

Arbor Day, fixed by law, is celebrated in New Jersey on Friday of this week, offers a splendid stimulus and will further promote public interest in trees and establish a still greater number of them within the State, according to a statement issued by C. P. Wilber, State Forester, of the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development.

New Jersey holds a proud position among the States in the amount and excellence of the shade tree work that has been done in its towns and counties," Mr. Wilber points out. "Friday County and municipal shade tree commissions, schools, Boy and Girl Scout Troops and patriotic organizations will celebrate by planting trees. These plantings will be made along the public highways, on public school grounds and parks, and by private owners on their own properties. They will serve for beautification, or as memorials, or as practical economical benefits to the owners and the community.

"Two million tree seedlings are being planted by land owners of New Jersey this spring to reforest idle and waste land in the State," Mr. Wilber goes on to say. "This is but a beginning in restoring New Jersey's vast acreage of wilderness to its normal and possible beauty and productiveness."

Wescoat — Venable

Dr. G. N. A. Wescoat popular young Moorestown physician and Miss Eleanor Venable daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Venable, of Chapel Hill, North Carolina, were married with a quiet ceremony at the home of the bride's parents last Thursday afternoon at three o'clock. The Rev. A. S. Lawrence, pastor of the Chapel Hill Episcopal Church, officiated.

The bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Branson also of Chapel Hill, as maid of honor. Raymond Bancroft of Collingswood, N. J. was best man.

The ceremony took place in the presence of relatives and friends following which Dr. Wescoat returned with his bride to Moorestown, where he resumed his practice.

RIGG PRESIDES FOR FIRST TIME

New County Judge Has Variety of Cases to Consider at Mount Holly

Judge Charles A. Rigg presided over his first session of the Burlington County Courts Thursday of last week and it was the consensus of opinion of lawyers and laymen alike who happened to be present, that he conducted the proceedings in a dignified and judicial manner rendering his decisions in a straightforward manner and well enunciated tone that appealed to all.

His first official act was the passing of the final account of the estate of Mrs. Margaret Lawyer, deceased, of Jacobstown. John H. Hutchinson, proctor.

Exceptions to the account had been filed by John Meirs of New Egypt and Camden, there being an item in the account which referred to the funeral expenses, which Mr. Meirs thought should be paid by the woman's husband, and should not be a part of the liabilities of the estate.

Judge Rigg made a suggestion that met with the approval of counsel which resulted in the exceptions being withdrawn and the account passed.

The Judge also disposed of several other matters in the Orphans Court, heard one or more motions in the Common Pleas Court and then took up criminal business, the day's transactions presenting an opportunity for handling several of the fifty-seven varieties of Court business which appear weekly on Thursdays.

Anthony Syndyke, a fellow citizen from Burlington, was the first culprit to face Judge Rigg in the Criminal Court, Syndyke coming in on a waiver and pleading guilty to a charge of assault and battery on Anthony Pitszki on October 7, 1928 for which offense he has been in jail ever since.

The Court listened attentively to Prosecutor Hillmans description of the case which was in effect that the two men had engaged in an altercation and that Syndyke had pushed Pitszeski against a fence, a nail protruding from which penetrated the latter's back.

Pitszeski at first claimed he had been stabbed, but the examination at the Burlington County Hospital bore out Sydyke's contention that the wound was by a nail and the Prosecutor said he felt that Syndyke was telling the truth.

Judge Rigg then unhesitatingly passed his first sentence when he remanded Syndyke to the county jail for seven months, his time to begin at the date of his incarceration which was October 7, 1928 consequently the prisoner will have very little more time to serve.

Russell Truitt colored of Florence also came in on a waiver and pleaded guilty to stealing an automobile the property of Robert L. Conover of Florence.

The Prosecutor stated that the car was found at Edgewater Park and there was evidence that it had been taken for a joy ride and not as a deliberate theft.

Truitt was given one month in the county jail, to date from the time of his original commitment, March 21.

Zopito Cotombo, of Bridgeboro, was before the Court seriously charged there being sodomy indecencies and assault to answer for the complaint not being Cecelia Fabrizio, of Bridgeboro.

The charges were made as the result of Colombos unseemly actions at Bridgeboro on December 26, 1928, to which he entered a plea of not guilty.

The Prosecutor said he did not feel warranted in accepting the plea and the case went over until this week.

PEACE CONFERENCE IS ATTENDED BY 200

War's Challenge to Christianity was the subject discussed at the four days Conference held at Browns Mills last week under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee.

The two hundred delegates were young ministers, theological seminary students, Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. secretaries, and especially concerned undergraduates who were brought together by the American Friends Service Committee to consider "What War Does to Christianity" and "What Christian Leaders Can Do About It."

The evening lectures were delivered by Elbert Russell, E. Stanley Jones, Sherwood Eddy and Bruce Curry, who are outstanding religious leaders whose group discussions were led by Henry Cadbury, Frank Olmstead, Russell Cluberg, Wilbur K. Thomas, Frederick Libby, Jesse Holmes and others.

Miss Anna B. Griscom and Miss Margaret E. Jones of Moorestown served on the Committee of Arrangements.

ANNUAL DINNER TO OPEN YMCA DRIVE

To be Held in Moorestown Community House Where Workers Will Gather

The annual Y M C A workers' dinner will be held in the Moorestown Community House next Monday evening preparatory to starting the 1929 budget drive. Directors, chairmen and workers from the Palmyra Riverton district will be present.

The drive gets officially under way at this dinner meeting and continues throughout the County during the remainder of that week, closing officially on May 6, with reports brought made up so that announcements can be made of the attainments of the various communities at the annual County convention on May 7th at Burlington. On this occasion William Knowles Cooper, of Washington D. C., general secretary of the Y M C A. there will deliver the address.

William T. J. Purnell has been appointed chairman for the Palmyra district, while Nathan Lane, Jr., will be chairman for the Riverton district. Several captains have been selected who will vie with each other in helping the drive go "over the top." A complete canvass of the community will be made.

Among the captains are Palmyra: James Hartley, Harold B. Lever, Charles A. Dietz, Robert Kilpatrick, William McConnell, Clifford Taylor and William B. Plank. The Riverton captains are: Leon Guest, Parker T. Barnes, Victor Blischard and William Porter.

Frank W. Thacher of Edgewater Park, Riverside thread manufacturer, is the County Chairman for the drive and expects that community chairmen for the twenty-four districts will have some two hundred workers together at the dinner.

Y M C A. leaders point out the great work being done by the organization in the County and feel that a very fine response will be made to the budget drive by those who contribute annually as well as the many new friends of the movement. The goal for Palmyra and Riverton is $4,500 and the committee is confident of raising this amount before the week draws to a close. There were over 1,000 contributors to the fund last year in the two towns.

Among the many things being done by the "Y" may be gleaned from the following paragraphs taken from the Broadcaster, the official Y M C A publication in the County:

"Recently ten men attended County Committee and Local Y M C A Community Boards.

"Group Leaders provided with opportunities for training at four county wide conferences.

"Some two hundred men all over county participate in securing the 1928-29 budget.

"Four Burlington County young men are being graduated from the Springfield Y M C A College this June, two of them from the County Work Course one from the Secretarial and the fourth from the Physical Work's Course.

"Monthly dinner meetings of the County Industrial Association, now functioning 'smoothly' as the PERFECTION LAWN MOWER CORP., casting their learnings from meeting to meeting by going through all the steps involved in bringing a manufacturing concern into being and to a state of efficient production with considerable emphasis on the human factor in industry and relationships between men and management.

"Americanization work continued and much personal service thus rendered to a number of foreign born individuals.

"Regular weekly noon-time shop meetings carried on in five centres, with special services at such seasons as Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

"Monthly County-wide Group Members Swim at Moorestown Community House, combined with conference program features for older fellows and entertainments for younger boys.

"Young man connected with the County Y M C A. Office without remuneration for the opportunity for training in Y M C A. work which is thus afforded.

"Industrial Association Bowling League has successful season with the Keystone Watch Case Company team the winner and entered in the state championship contest.

"Red Cross Life Saving Campaign directed by one of the County Y M C A Secretaries and plans made way for continuance of water safety measures for coming summer.

"Five community evening programs for boys of Palmyra-Riverton at the Y M C A Building, Palmyra."

JOHN HILLSON

John Hillson, husband of Maria Hillson, died Wednesday morning at his home, 614 Linden avenue, Riverton.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the Rev. Charles I. Bates officiating. Friends may call Friday evening. Interment will be made under the direction of Frank A. Brewer.

The deceased was well known in Riverton, having been an employe of Dreer's Nursery for thirty-five years. He was a member of the Foresters of America and the Knights of the Golden Eagle.

Besides his wife, the deceased is survived by a son, Percy Hillson, of Chester, Pa. and Mrs. Ethel Harris of Riverside.

Moorestown and Morristown Too Much for Md. Cop

The similarity of Moorestown and Morristown which has caused much difficulty for residents of this community greatly inconvenienced a Maryland official this Monday morning.

Early Monday morning the chief of police from Townsend, Md., appeared at Moorestown police station and demanded his prisoner.

"What prisoner?" he was asked.

"Why that fourteen-year-old girl who lives on Mills street," he replied.

Then things began to hum at the police station for apparently someone had misplaced and forgotten a perfectly good prisoner.

A trip was made to the address given by the visiting chief but the property was found to be empty, thus introducing more complications.

Finally some one got a happy idea and put the visitor through a third degree. This uncovering the fact that he was headed for Morristown and not Moorestown.

The coincidence that Morristown has a Mills street while Moorestown has a Mill Road had the local police going for some time.

GREAT INTEREST IN LEGION HOME

Donations of Furniture Help Make Headquarters More Comfortable

Under the able direction and guidance of the popular "Ted" D'Autrechy, commander of Frederick M. Rodgers Post No. 156, American Legion, a great revival of interest is being shown by the membership. On entering the office, the commander outlined his plan of work and now is working his plan to a successful conclusion in many instances.

One of the plans was to make the Legion home and what the home implies a real home where the Legionnaires and friends can drop in anytime for a chat and be comfortable while again fighting the mud and bullets blank way over there in Sunny, ol' France.

The plan of his is now materializing and several kind friends of the Legion have been instrumental in making the home really attractive through their donations of rugs, furniture, floor lamps, curtains etc. also a modern radio set, all of which were gratefully received and appreciated by the Post.

Further changes and improvements are still to be made and to this end a cake sale is being held by the combined efforts of the Ladies Auxiliary and the Post on Saturday afternoon and evening, April 27, at Budd's corner, Palmyra. Should the weather be threatening it will be held at the home. Orders and donations for cakes, pies, etc. are solicited and will be called for and delivered. Any member of the Legion or Auxiliary will take your order or just call 521-R.

SUCCESSFUL CARD PARTY FOR RIVERTON LIBRARY BENEFIT

Porch Club members and their friends from Riverton and Palmyra supported generously the card party given on Tuesday, April 23, for the benefit of the Riverton Free Library. Besides three tables of the Porch Club Tuesday were several groups who played bridge in the homes. The chairman of the entertainment committee, Mrs. Ralph L. Flower, estimates that one hundred dollars, and probably a little more, will be turned over to the Library.

Announcement

MARCUS W. NEWCOMB

I desire to announce my candidacy for renomination on the Republican ticket at the June Primaries as a member of the General Assembly.

During my two terms I have endeavored to work for the best interests of the people of Burlington County and I am sure that my two years experience will enable me to be of greater service if I am re-elected.

I solicit the support of the members of my party pledging myself to continue my efforts in behalf of my constituents.

PREPARATION OF A GARDEN BED

Yard and Garden Contest Committee Tells How to Get Best Results

Choose a sunny spot with a hedge, fence or the side of the house for a background.

Mark out the shape. An irregular color looks better, but the straight edge is easier to keep in order.

If the ground has not been used for vegetables or flowers spade it up to the depth of 18 to 24 inches.

If the soil is dark for only a few inches down, remove this top soil and put it in a pile by itself.

Remove the soil underneath (subsoil). If this subsoil is hard and packed it has clay in it, and two or three inches of ashes and small stones should be put on the bottom of the bed. This is for drainage.

If the subsoil is sand, which is the usual condition here the drainage is not necessary.

If possible have enough top soil on hand to fill your bed and discard the subsoil.

Now begin to fill the bed by putting in several inches of well rotted manure (cow manure is the best). Then put in a layer of top soil. Then another layer of manure. Then the last layer of top soil which should be at least four inches deep.

If manure is out of the question dig up the bed to the depth of a spade and after discarding the subsoil get some home mixed or prepared fertilizer suitable for growing potatoes. Use about five pounds to about one hundred square feet of bed and mix this thoroughly with enough top soil to fill the bed.

The home mixed is less likely to do any damage if too much is used but the fertilizer will give somewhat quicker results.

Heap the bed so as to allow for settling and you are ready to put in seeds or plants.

If you cannot get the extra top soil mix all the soil which comes out with the fertilizer and refill with this.

AVIATION PROGRESS IN BURLINGTON CO.

Emmor Roberts and Roger Gale, of Moorestown Become Licensed Airplane Pilots

The progress that aviation is making in Burlington county can be judged by the activity of some of its citizens. Ex-Senator Emmor Roberts and Roger Gale, both of Moorestown, appeared before the Department of Commerce official examiner at Pitcairn Field several days ago and took their examination for private pilot's license.

They proved their ability in handling a plane and accordingly were granted their licenses. Both gentlemen took their instruction through the Burlington County Aero Club and under the expert tutorage of Lieut. Ed. Pennock who is one of the club's instructors as well as being a member of the 103rd Observation Squadron of the Pennsylvania National Guard.

The wonderful progress of commercial aviation in this country today can be attributed partly to the formation of the many local Aero Clubs now in existence in practically all sections.

Herbert Longaker, who is the president of the Burlington County Aero Club and who is connected with the industry tells an interesting incident that recently occurred at the Detroit Air Show. Such will give some idea of the activity of local airplane clubs. Twenty some members of the Toronto Canada Air Club arrived at the show in seven diminutive Gipsy Moth planes and two large Buhl air sedans. They came all the way from Toronto, enjoyed the show, and returned without the semblance of a mishap or trouble. Many persons present were well impressed by what the small plane is doing for the individual who wants to travel quickly and do so safely.

CORRECTION

Monday, May 20, is the last date for filing petitions for Municipal and County offices and not Friday, April 19, as stated in this paper last week.

ARTISANS INITIATE CLASS OF THIRTY

Degree Team of Enterprise Assembly, of Tacony, in Impressive Ceremony

The regular meeting of Palmyra Assembly A. O. M. P. No. 63, was held Tuesday evening, April 16, during which a class of 30 candidates were initiated by the degree team of Enterprise Assembly, of Tacony. The work as exemplified very beautifully and impressively.

There was a visitation present Haddon Heights Assembly and also from Eureka Assembly, of Philadelphia. Representative members from Haddonfield, Collingswood, Laurel Springs and Camden were also present. In the opinion of all present, the class initiated was the finest type of young manhood to affiliate with any Assembly in a long time.

After the meeting, the entertainment was provided by a picked cast of actors from the Palmyra Assembly under the direction of Brother Harry Doemer. The mysterious box party was a beautiful Flemish brass smoking stand.

On Wednesday of the same week Palmyra journeyed to Collingswood preceded by Post Rodgers Drum and Bugle Corps and participated with Collingswood, Haddonfield, Camden, Laurel Springs, Oaklyn, Merchantville and Woodbury Assemblies in a joint Artisan and American Legion Honor Night for Brother and Comrade Herbert Blizzard. Brother Blizzard was presented with a handsome traveling bag by the Most Excellent Assembly Comrade Jackson with others who initiated into Collingswood Assembly by the degree team of Collingswood. There were candidates present from all assemblies represented. This meeting was followed by a wonderful entertainment.

Don't forget the contest between Palmyra and Collingswood. Palmyra has a good lead. Make it greater.

SECOND ARTICLE ON SCHOOL COSTS

Are Public Schools Costing More Than People Can Afford to Pay?

Following is the second of a series of three articles submitted for publication in regard to school costs.

The great mass of the nation's citizens want good schools. They want every child to have the chance. But some say we cannot afford good schools. Is it true that public schools are costing more than we can afford?

Here is the situation of a man, the head of a family, whom we have in mind. He owns real estate and other property worth $40,000. He has a yearly income of $6,000. Through investments of various kinds he is constantly increasing his capital. For example, he added $232 to his savings account during the past year and now has a total of $3,841 on deposit in this account. How much is a man in this situation able to afford for the education of his children? Would $250 a year for school support be within his ability to pay?

Answer these questions as you will. The fact is that the man described above is really Uncle Sam. The figures given will be those for the United States if you will add seven zeros to each of them. Uncle Sam owns property valued at about $400,000,000,000. He has an annual income of $85,000,000,000. He increased the amount in his savings account $2,240,000,000 in 1928, and now has a total of $26,410,000,000 deposited in these accounts. And he spent for public schools of all types, from the kindergarten through the university, a little less than $2,560,000,000 in the same year.

Of course all heads of families do not own $40,000 worth of property or enjoy an annual income of $6,000. But neither do most heads of families pay $250 a year for schools. A man not so well off as the one described above pays proportionately less for schools. Assume any kind of a man you wish, rich, poor or average. Take the national totals given above and do your own dividing. Then answer the question of the first paragraph. Are we able to afford good schools?

PLAN CANVASS FOR VISITING NURSE

Drive for Funds to Be Conducted During Next Two Weeks

A drive for funds is being conducted this week and next for the Visiting Nurse Society of Palmyra and Riverton.

A house-to-house canvass is being planned for this worthy cause. Mrs. William A. McCamy and Mrs. Stanley Green are on the committee which has charge of the work.

Several women have volunteered their services and will take an active part in the drive. They are: Mrs. A. C. Hirsh, Mrs. Robert Cook, Mrs. George Spencer, Mrs. William P. Pearson, Mrs. James McFarland, Mrs. R. A. Sanford, Mrs. Raymond Eastwood, Mrs. James Hartley, Mrs. Frank A. Kates, Mrs. Frank A. Stoever, Mrs. Walter Hansell, Mrs. Alfred Bauer, Mrs. F. H. Hruder, Mrs. T. A. Lloyd, Mrs. Harry Kenny, Mrs. Theodore D'Autrechy, Sr., Mrs. J. Stone, Mrs. H. P. Marshall, Mrs. E. J. Hunt, Mrs. E. A. Hines, Mrs. A. P. Truman.

The Cinnaminson Home

The Annual Fete for the benefit of the Cinnaminson Convalescent Home will be held at the Moorestown Field Club on Saturday, May 25, 1929. The Horse Show and Gymkhana will be featured again. There will be attractive booths for cakes, candies, vegetables, flowers and useful articles and there will also be toys and games for the children. Remember the date and watch for further notices in this paper.

DISTRICT COURT WINS IN HOUSE

Senator Powell Has Bill Passed Over Newcomb's Head by Big Vote

Senator Clifford R. Powell's bill creating a District Court for Burlington County was passed by the Assembly Tuesday evening after having been adopted by the Senate two weeks previously. The bill now goes to the Governor for his signature.

It is understood that Burlington County Assemblyman Newcomb refused to have the bill reported out of committee but Senator Powell was able to have this done by other members of the committee and the bill passed the House with a big majority, 41 to 5, being supported by Democrats as well as Republicans.

Democratic Minority Leader Bullock seconded Assemblyman Newcomb's motion in voting in favor of new District Court Judges for other counties and then voting against the same proposition for Burlington County.

Barlow referred to several other District Courts Newcomb had favored with his vote, and asked if such a Court were all right for others why shouldn't it be all right for Burlington, and if it were too expensive for Burlington County, why shouldn't the Assemblyman have considered the Court too expensive for other counties as well?

Dr. Newcomb explained he would have been willing to support the bill provided a referendum were attached permitting the voters of the County to pass upon the measure but inasmuch as Senator Powell refused to agree to a referendum amendment, Dr. Newcomb felt he could not vote for the bill.

In support his opposition, Dr. Newcomb pointed out that the progressive education in Burlington County established co-operation with any other county in the State in the matter of court arrangements and he felt that a proposition which would cost the people of the County $6,000 to $10,000 a year should be submitted to the voters in a referendum. He declared that the backers of the bill were afraid to submit it to the people and that if they did so it would be beaten by a 5 to 1 vote.

FINAL NIGHT IN CARD TOURNEY

TO ACCEPT DEPOSITS FOR MEMORIAL FUND

Announcement is best made that the Rahway National Bank will act as fiscal depositary for contributions to the Leonard Wood Memorial Fund.

There is a nation wide plan to complete on May 1 Philippine Day the $2,000,000 fund being raised to perpetuate the memory of Leonard Wood, whose name will appear in the Philippines where under the American flag there are 12,000 to these miserable human beings.

Local contributions to the fund which has the endorsement of President Hoover may be left at Burlington County Trust Company. President Hoover in a recent statement said:

"I wish to express my sympathetic interest in the Leonard Wood Memorial for the Eradication of Leprosy and to commend this great humanitarian effort now being made in the Philippines in your organization."

The accomplishment of the aim of the Leonard Wood Memorial is in the highest degree commendable and is not only a fitting monument to one of our noblest citizens, but a means of expressing a spirit of real helpfulness towards the Filipino people and eventually to the world, through the eradication of the ravages of this dread disease.

P. T. A. MOVIE

The Palmyra P. T. A. moving picture benefit last Wednesday and Thursday nights was a big success and those in charge wish to express their appreciation to all who helped.

To little Marcia Durgin went first honors in the ticket-selling contest. Marcia sold 66 tickets and won the beautiful manicure set which was offered as the prize to the girl selling the most. The boys prize, a baseball glove, was awarded to Carl Galloway, who sold 21 tickets.

The class turning in the largest number was Miss Price's third grade room, which received a beautiful picture for its efforts.

BOY'S PROGRAM AT ROTARY CLUB

Joseph T. Evans in Charge of Work of Palmyra-Riverton Unit

Again the Palmyra Riverton Rotary Club has arranged under the supervision of Chairman Joseph T. Evans, a program for the observance of Boys' Week.

Sunday, April 28 being the official date of opening, Rich Lockett has arranged a special program for the evening service in the Central Baptist church. He will give the boys an attractive talk and will provide other interesting features. What is interesting to the boys should be of interest to the parents, so the invitation to fathers and mothers is also extended.

The club will distribute to the boys 12 years and under, through the medium of the Public School teachers, tickets admitting them to either the Wednesday or Thursday evening performance (May 1-2) at the Broadway Palace Theatre.

Lew Cody and Arline Pringle in "Babies' Exclusive," will be featured on Wednesday evening, while on Thursday Rinnee (the dog) will be seen in "Furry of the Wilds." These tickets are free and will be accepted on either night.

President and Mrs. Joseph Low motored to Allentown on Sunday afternoon to attend the opening of the Lutheth District Conference which was held there the week. They were joined on Monday by Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Stanger. Mr. and Mrs. Jorge I. Evans. Elwood Tipton and Joseph Bell.

Reports of the convention will be given by the several delegates at the regular weekly dinner on Thursday evening.

P. O. S. of A. PRESENTS BIBLE TO HIGH SCHOOL

Mayor George S. Wilmer, Edwin A. Grissom and George W. Rogers on Committee

A committee, consisting of Mayor George S. Wilmer, Edwin A. Grissom and George W. Rogers, presented a new Bible to the Palmyra High School at the assembly period Monday morning in behalf of Washington Camp No. 23 Patriotic Order of Sons of America.

The Order presented the school with a Bible and an American flag when the present high school building was dedicated several years ago. The flag was replaced after being badly worn but the Bible was not. Walter M. Hosier, janitor of the building, and active member of the Camp, suggested that a new Bible be presented to replace the old one. The suggestion was approved and a committee appointed to make the presentation.

Mayor Wilmer made a very appropriate speech when the Book was formally presented. Professor Forest accepted the gift for the school and expressed its deep appreciation for the interest taken by the Order.

E. R. JOHNSON IS CHOSEN HEAD OF BIG CAMDEN CLUB

Moorestonian to Serve as Honorary President of City Athletic

START MILLION DOLLAR CLUBHOUSE IN JULY

Philanthropist Sees Project a "Surety" and Congratulates Leaders

Eldridge Reeves Johnson, Moorestown philanthropist and former president of the Victor Talking Machine Company, has accepted the honorary presidency of the City Athletic Club of Camden.

His acceptance was given in a speech in which called for the big development in the club project and sought its completion in definite plans.

The committee elected Patrick B. Haddon president of the club; Beals B. Cole, chairman of the board of governors; John S. Grosky, chairman of the house committee; H. H. Hathaway, secretary; Charles W. Foss, chairman of the building committee, and Richard Bener, director of the club's members hip.

Mr. Johnson was picked building would start in July after ground-breaking ceremonies. Informed of plans contemplated for financing construction, Mr. Johnson congratulated the club representatives and said he was willing to co-operate in every way.

"An athletic club with its own athletic field at Pennsgrove is quite a distance for Camden," said Mr. Johnson. "I do not know of any other club which can boast of a similar distinction. With the magnificent club house located alongside the banks of Cooper river, I can only see a great step toward the beautification of this valley.

"The City Athletic Club is now established a surety and I safe and sane plans allow no room for errors."

Harding has been appointed a committee of one empowered to arrange the finances necessary to complete the $1,000,000 club house.

The first class of the charter membership is filling up rapidly, Baker announced, and will be closed soon.

LEGISLATURE PASSES TAX EXEMPT BILL

Introduced By Senator Walker; Instigated by N. J. State Bankers' Association

A bill exempting life insurance monies made payable through an insurance trust has passed both the House and the Senate. The bill was introduced by Senator Joseph G. Walker, of Essex at the instigation of the New Jersey State Bankers Association, and has attracted wide popular interest.

Senator Walker in one of the House speeches made this statement to the Senate, and speaking for the bill, "No legislation pending today has attracted wider popularity than I can do but it was recognized by a decision of the Supreme Court to the effect that insurance made through exempt from taxation if payable outright became subject to tax if supplied with the protective provisions of a insurance trust. At the present time a policy may make his insurance payable outright to a bank, but to his wife or child and the monies will not be taxed. If however he creates a trust to conserve and safeguard this money, under the decision of Justice Parker it becomes subject to tax. This bill is nothing more nor less than an instalment to fix the question of unprovided estates. The purpose of the legislation is to correct this situation and put life insurance money payable under a trust in the same class as life insurance money payable outright or under installment settlement options."

The bill passed the House of Assembly Monday, April 8th, and the Senate on Wednesday, April 17th. The only opposition was Senator Yates, of Bergen.

Some Complications Arise in Democratic Slander Suit Between Burlington County Women

The suit of Mrs. Florence W. Jacoby, of Riverton, against Mrs. William B. Vandergrift, of Burlington, and Mrs. Clarence Emmons, of Pemberton brought as a result of alleged slanderous remarks credited to the defendants, bobbed up in Court at Mount Holly again Thursday of last week when Counselor Ernest Watts, of Burlington, moved to have Counselor Robert Peacock, representing Mrs. Jacoby, submit a bill of particulars and Judge Bigg gave the plaintiff's counsel twenty days in which to comply with the demand.

PLANS ANNUAL FIELD DAY FOR EXPERIMENT STATION

On Wednesday, June 12, will be held the annual Field Day at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station and college of agriculture, Rutgers University. Plans for the event are rapidly taking shape, and as in past years, the program will emphasize the activities of both agricultural college and experiment station in meeting problems of New Jersey agriculture and rural life. Opportunity will be provided for informal discussions with specialists and research workers, and for inspection of the many experiments being conducted in the various fields of plant and animal production.

ART WHITING AT WALT WHITMAN

Former Camden Boy to Feature Program With His "International Collegians"

Art Whiting, a native Camden boy, will bring his "International Collegians" to the Walt Whitman Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

This act will feature Arda Karlova, Spanish dancesue; Mas Kohonomoco, of Hawaii; Helen Wong, of China; Eagle Wing, American Indian; Esmon, of Arabia; Eduardo, of Italy, and George Burnette, of Scotland.

Augmenting these is the following group of specialty artists: Ernie Gordon, Australian acrobatic dancing comedian; Mellon and Vine, America's contribution, in a study in versatility; Grace Wesson, German personality girl; Duke and Lord, English comedians; and others, concluding with an artistic ensemble of all nations.

The feature photoplay presentation carries out still further the international flavor of the programme. Dolores Del Rio, Mexico's lovely contribution to the silent drama in the thrilling screen classic, "Revenge." The locale of the story is laid in the Carpathian mountains, with Miss Del Rio playing the part of a gypsy girl, in which she does some of the best work of her career.

For Movietone News from all the world will complete the international programme.

A one hundred per cent. sound program for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday features Edmund Lowe and Lois Moran in George Ade's famous comedy romance "Making the Grade." This picture with talking sequences and sound effects emphasizes the ability and the reason for the popularity of the famous Hoosier writer.

Edmund Lowe, the featured player does his best work in this his first talking picture. Other well known performers in the cast include Lucien Littlefield, Rolfe Sedan, Gino Conti and Lee Tong.

Other features on the one hundred per cent. program include the Metro Movietone review. A real stage presentation on the screen with a cast of Broadway stars.

PENNOCK FLIES OVER WILDS ON SEARCH FLIGHT

Aero Club Pilot Makes Hazardous Hop Over South Jersey Wasteland

FINDS NO SIGN OF LOST NORFOLK—N. Y. FLIERS

Lieutenant's Brother and County Farm Agent on Thrilling Air Trip

Lieutenant E. G. Pennock, chief pilot and instructor of the Burlington county Aero Club, headed an aerial searching party for the fliers, thought to be lost somewhere in the wilds of South Jersey, last Sunday afternoon.

The trip was made in one of the Aero Club's Waco planes piloted by Lt. Pennock. He was accompanied by his brother, Roger Pennock, of Medford, and I. R. Smith, of Mount Holly, county farm agent.

The flier's brother and Mr. Smith are familiar with the country over which the big Sikorsky Amphibian was last seen and had thoroughly discussed the matter with an Indian Mills resident, the last man known to have seen the big plane, before making the hop.

The Sikorsky plane, carrying several passengers, was lost while enroute from Norfolk, Va., to New York, about three weeks ago. The Indian Mills man is said to thoroughly describe the ship, and authorities are firm in their opinion that the ship was lost somewhere between Indian Mills and Amatol.

Many searching parties have made flights over the section, which is impossible to cover on ground, but no sign of the lost ship has been found. A reward of $25,000 has been offered for the discovery of the plane.

Lt. Pennock, who is a veteran flier, says the flight was the most hazardous he has ever made.

"We knew," he said, "that if our motor ever stopped we probably would never be seen or heard from again. I never saw such wild country. The trees are as dense as you will find anywhere in the country, and although we did not see a sign of the Sikorsky, it may have made a forced landing somewhere in the wilds and will not be found for years to come."

Lt. Pennock and his party spent more than two hours in the air, thoroughly covering the section between Lakehurst, Amatol and Chatsworth. He flew at an altitude of one thousand feet, feeling it would be exceeding dangerous to go any lower, and yet it was impossible to see anything distinctly from a higher altitude.

Mrs. Hoover Receives Flour Bag Quilt Made by Mrs. J. L. Murray, of Illinois

Six Bags Dyed a Yale Blue, Others White Making "Double Irish Chain" Pattern, Measures Seven by Eight Feet, 1100 Yards of Thread

Washington—Mrs. Hoover has just been presented with an old-fashioned quilt made by Mrs. J. L. Murray, of Bloomington, Ill., a famous quilter in her state. This inaugural gift was made out of sixteen flour bags, six of which she dyed a Yale blue.

Five years ago Mrs. Hoover saw and admired an old handmade quilt, a family heirloom, which had been made nearly a century ago by two New England sisters for the wedding outfit of one of them. Mrs. Hoover liked it so much that she had it duplicated as a wedding gift for her son, Herbert, Jr.

When Mr. Hoover was elected President, Mrs. Murray, whose own grandmother had been a quilter of note in her day, looked on the pattern of the quilt and determined to make a copy of it as a gift of welcome to the new First Lady of the Land upon her entrance into the White House.

The quilt is a striking one, made of blue and white blocks in the "double Irish chain" pattern. It measures 7 by 8 feet, and the intricate quilting in scroll patterns Mrs. Murray did all by hand, using more than 1,100 yards of thread. Since some of the White House bedrooms are furnished in Colonial fashion, the quilt is in keeping with its surroundings.

Mrs. Murray selected flour bags for the "Hoover Quilt" because for over ten years she has been teaching Illinois farm women how to make use of these bags.

P. S. CAREFUL IN SELECTING MEN

Coordinated Transport Official Tells of Interviewing, Training Men

The care exercised by Public Service Coordinated Transport in the selection of men to operate its street cars and buses and the methods used to instruct the men in the proper operation of the vehicles are described in a current issue of Public Service News by Robert A. McArthur, superintendent of the employment-instruction department of the company.

Public Service Coordinated Transport maintains a central employment office and an instruction school in Newark to care for all divisions in the northern part of the state. A combined employment office and instruction school is located in the Newton Avenue Carhouse in Camden for the men operating in the Southern section of the state.

"When the applicant seeks employment he is invited into a private office and asked to detail his school by a train training, previous employments and any other factors that may be considered as fitting him for the duties of the position which he is seeking," Mr. McArthur writes.

"During this interview note is made of his appearance, education and mannerisms, as well as the impression that he makes on the interviewer. Inquiry is likewise made concerning the length of his previous employments, to determine whether he is a steady worker or a man of wandering propensities. It is natural that men of steady employment are more desirable for many persons and it has been found that men of this calibre are usually developed into good salesmen and men of good record after appointment.

"The applications are investigated and the applicant's employments, home surroundings, environment and character are checked and verified. Because only men of the highest type and ability are selected who may later serve as the direct representatives of Public Service Coordinated Transport in relation to that company's customers."

"EXAM" DATE FOR NORMAL SCHOOL

Glassboro Institution to Hold Entrance Tests on May 31

The examination for entrance to the Glassboro State Normal School in September 1929, will be held at the Normal School on Friday, May 31, beginning at nine o'clock, daylight saving time.

All students who expect to enter the Normal School in September must be examined on that day in Arithmetic, English, and American History and Citizenship.

The examinations in Arithmetic and English will be of the same general nature as those given in previous years. The examination in American History and Citizenship will cover the course as outlined by the State Department of Education in the Syllabus of Social Studies for Secondary Schools, Grades XI and XII, American History and Problems of Democracy, February, 1925.

Four three-year courses are offered in the Normal School—General, which prepares teachers for grades 1 to 6; Kindergarten-Primary, for kindergarten and grades 1 to 3, inclusive; Upper grades, for grades 7 and 8; and Rural.

The lengthening of this course from two to three years enable students to make exceptional preparation for teaching by taking Extension courses offered during the year and pursuing courses in the Summer Session of the Normal School; graduates of the School may complete the work required for the B.S. degree in Education by the State of New Jersey.

Although the examination for entrance does not take place until May 31, it is necessary that those who expect to enter the Normal School should apply at once in order that the credentials submitted by them may be given careful consideration. Applications filed after May first will be considered in the order in which they are received.

Catalogue and registration blanks will be forwarded on request.

Prospective students, parents, and school officials are cordially invited to visit the school at their convenience, says J. J. Savitz, Principal.

GAME WARDEN TO LEAVE MT. HOLLY

Redistricting of Territory Will Take Mathis to Atlantic County

A State Game Protector Howard C. Mathis of Mount Holly has received notification from the State Fish and Game Commission that in the future his district will consist of the county of Camden Cumberland Gloucester Salem Cape May and Atlantic through which a big line of the state wide Burlington County will be included in the district of which Mercer Monmouth Middlesex and Ocean are a part.

He will have also Mr Mathis and his family relocating into the new district and it is likely that when he leaves Mount Holly he will locate in Atlantic County.

In addition to the counties mentioned in Mr Mathis district he will also have charge of the State patrol boat with jurisdiction over Delaware river and bay and over a large area of the ocean side also the Atlantic coast counties to Cape May and Sandy Hook.

Arthur Davies of Delran will be the same protector in the portion of which Burlington County is a part for the two years he has been in Mount Holly and in many ways he has been very successful in the discharge of his duties.

PLAN COMMUNITY MAY POLE DANCE

Event to be Staged on Community House Lawn May 3

22% MORE POWER
5 MILES AN HOUR MORE SPEED
2 EXTRA MILES FROM EVERY GALLON OF GAS

UNTIL you have driven the new Nash "400" with the Twin Ignition motor, you can have no adequate idea of how much pleasure it has added to motoring.

Here are some plain, unvarnished facts and figures which may serve to convince you that you owe yourself a ride in a Twin-Ignition-Motored Nash.

With Twin Ignition instead of single ignition (two spark plugs per cylinder firing simultaneously, instead of one) higher compression is practical, and a much more efficient combustion of the gases is accomplished.

The result is that the identical Nash motor, by actual test, produces 22% more power than with single ignition, 5 miles per hour more speed, and gives you 2 extra miles of travel from every single gallon of gasoline you buy.

In fairness to yourself, don't think of buying any motor car today, until you have seen and driven the brilliant new Twin-Ignition-Motored Nash "400."

VAN DYKE.

An Englishman on Freedom of the Seas

The idea of freedom of the seas has been spoken by an Englishman, or perhaps by two Englishmen who collaborated in writing the book Freedom of the Seas, and it might be best to hold also the last word so far. For no subject is deserving more earnest consideration or serious discussion. Though most of the discussion at present is on this side of the Atlantic This Englishman, Lieutenant Commander Kenworthy, M. P. and his collaborator, George Young, make some drastic statements. These must be considered on this west side of the ocean now being dubbed "this pond," as well as in the island kingdom washed by its eastern tides.

First, however, as to the two authors. Lieutenant Kenworthy is a member of the Labor Party, and is called "something of a stormy petrel" in the House of Commons. George Young is a diplomat who has served in the British Embassy at Washington. Apart from the sincerity of the book says a critic, its scope embraces almost every point at issue, from the blockade and the rights of neutrals to the conflict problem; and it is published just when a new Administration in Washington prepares to face these very problems and as an election campaign begins to gain impetus in Great Britain, the victors of which must also face them.

The authors present the vexing points of the problems, consider it in and offer solutions. The gist of their suggestions is to the effect that the British and American navies shall rule the seas jointly, preserving a beneficent police force not only for the sake of keeping amicable relations between themselves, but of the world in general. It is further proposed that contentious zones be demilitarized, as has been done in the case of the Great Lakes under the Rush-Bagot treaty, and that armaments be reduced to the lowest possible point.

In their advocacy of the international applications of the Rush-Bagot treaty the authors quote John Quincy Adams' letter written many years ago to Lord Castlereagh. "It is evident that if each party augments its forces with a view to obtaining an ascendancy over the other, vast expense will be incurred and the danger of a collision correspondingly augmented." Words most applicable to the naval situation of today.

After a thorough analysis of the situation the authors make five major propositions, of which these are the most important: 1. A naval disarmament agreement establishing the following principles: 1. That armaments shall be reduced by ratio to the lowest limit required for sea police. 2. That police operations, such as bombardment, blockade and so on, be only undertaken with the association or approval of other parties. 3. The narrow seas be neutralized by regional agreements, these arrangements being made as general as possible by the accession of other powers.

And: A conference for the revision of international law on the basis of prohibition of traffic in arms and of the subjection of naval warfare in such extreme forms as the economic blockade to general assent.

One reviewer of the book adds, "These suggestions reveal there is a type of mind in England as much alive to Anglo-American difficulties and as eager to seek a solution as there is in this country."

Wood That Won't Burn

A Norwegian engineer has invented a process for impregnating wood with a substance that renders it fireproof. A building composed of timbers of impregnated wood, it is reported, was erected near Oslo, the Norwegian capital. All efforts to set it afire failed.

Provided the cost of the process is not too great, this discovery is very valuable. It will mean safer homes. It will mean reduced insurance rates.

The very thought brings to mind all kinds of possibilities. It strikes us too that this kind of wood has been known before.

Anyway, something just like it seems to have been used in the manufacture of certain foreign brands of matches.

The Household of Faith

Without faith, little that is worth while can be accomplished. Every heroic or great humanitarian deed recorded in history is a monument to unwavering faith.

St. Paul, in Hebrews, eleventh chapter, instances many notable examples of faithful men in action; it would do no harm if we read that story a little oftener.

We have plenty of such testimony here in America. By faith, George Washington, with his handful of ragged troops, was able to force a very powerful nation to capitulate. Faith in his God, his faithful followers, and himself.

By faith, the homely Lincoln hammered away through poverty, adversity and a bloody war, until he drove the word "slavery" from the statutes of the United States of America, and made his name immortal.

By faith, Woodrow Wilson, backed by a great liberty-loving people, delivered a hemisphere from the menace of tyranny. Like Lincoln, he gave his life for principle, in faith that never for an instant wavered.

And Lindbergh's great achievement? Faith, faith, faith!

Man is the only creature capable of possessing faith; the lower animals have no need of it. When I see a faithless man or woman buffeted by waves of misfortune and discontent my sympathies are awakened—but that doesn't help anybody; faith must be sought for, seized, held. It costs nothing; its value is greater than that of the costliest gem.

18 CHILDREN IN 9 YEARS.

THE PRESIDENT WILL BOSS.

STRANGE OLD CHINESE.

McNARY ASKS ADVICE.

Let ladies who feel they really "can't afford more than two children with everything as expensive" consider Frau Alfred Voeliker, of Deumin, Germany. Twenty-eight years old, she has eighteen children all under nine years of age. She had a boy in 1920, a girl in 1922, and four sets of quadruplets in 1923, 1925, 1927 and 1929, sixteen children in four births. All are alive, ten boys, eight girls.

It was said here during the war that because conquerors no longer dragged women away into slavery, Germany would soon recover.

Frau Voeliker confirms that.

Washington says President Hoover intends to be the boss of his party. He might well, since it gave him 22,000,000 votes. Republicans of the South are told the Republican party must be reconstructed there on a sound, permanent basis, on the assumption that the war is past and forgotten, and that the South will join Republican prosperity, politically, if the Republicans behave themselves.

Selling Federal offices to the highest bidder is to be stopped.

Some Congressmen insist that President Hoover must write a farm relief bill and let the party pass it. The President will probably say, "No, you write it and pass it. If it isn't too foolish I will sign it."

It is not easy to confer to a disorganized industry, millions of men on millions of farms, producing without method or plan, the prosperity enjoyed by well organized quantity production industry that pays good dividends.

A very old Chinese statesman named Wu Tye-Hui was one of three that, on their word of honor, guaranteed the life and safety of Li Chai-sun, governor of Canton.

Li Chai-sun was executed by the Nationalists, in spite of the guarantee. The good Wu Tye-Hui considered himself disgraced and killed himself, although he had nothing to do with the execution of the man guaranteed. Many Westerners will find it difficult to understand that suicide.

Senator McNary, head of the Committee on Farm Relief, asks John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Henry Ford, Charles M. Schwab, J. P. Morgan, Paul M. Warburg and Owen D. Young to give advice.

That interesting collection of farmers would probably tell the farmers first of all to organize their business, eliminate lost motion and time, including an hour and a half for the hired man to harness and unharness the team. But Rockefeller, Schwab and Young decline to advise. Morgan is in Europe. The farmers will have to work out their problem.

Sir Hubert Wilkins plans to cross the Arctic in a submarine under the ice, to map out the depth of water, shape of the basin containing the Arctic, etc.

He would follow cracks in the ice, coming up every twenty-four hours to recharge batteries.

Y. M. C. A. SUNDAY

Speakers to Tell of Boys' Work in County Churches

Sunday, April 28, nationally observed as Boys' Sunday, will be Y. M. C. A. Sunday throughout Burlington County, with twenty-eight speakers filling thirty-five engagements in churches at morning, Sunday School and evening services.

These men will tell of the work of the County Y. M. C. A., preparatory to its annual budget canvass, which will open with a dinner Monday evening, April 29, in Moorestown Community House.

Workers from some twenty-five districts of the County will convene at that time. Frank W. Thacher is again heading up this County-wide canvass.

How High Are Your Physical Ideals?

Physical ideals are as important as mental ideals. They are fundamental. Through them you are able to develop a foundation upon which the whole structure of human life must be built.

I have set out hereto educate, and I consider one of the most important phases of this education is a proper understanding of what both your physical personality should approximate, as well as a practical knowledge of the physical nature of both sexes. Such knowledge gives a key to and explains whatever attitude toward sex life it may be the misfortune of some attractive stories, and often times has resulted in tragedy for their own heroes.

A boy who is ashamed of his body, and knows but little of what his body should accomplish, is not likely to become enthusiastically or successfully at work for the development of superior and splendid manhood.

If a young man has no opportunity to view finely developed feminine figures, his judgment in selecting his life mate will be warped. How can he know that true beauty is based on health and strength and that he might do more than the tragedy of his marriage?

And of course so-called reformers working for the purpose of suppressing the presentation of undraped figures do a great deal of injustice that not only retards the development of perfect physical ideals.

Don't let this fool you. Nakedness and mental cleanliness go together. The more you are able to view perfect specimens of fully developed manhood and womanhood the cleaner and more wholesome your mind will be in reference to all physical things. Begin now what you are going to build up your ideals about physical beauty and health. Go to the art galleries for your inspiration. Find out the truth for yourself.

Purity does not clothes, Innocence needs no adornment. Set the very highest standard of physical perfection for yourself and the one who is to be your mate and don't let anyone talk you out of it.

PROPOSE NEW UNIFORMS FOR NEW JERSEY POLICE

In order to definitely distinguish State policemen from local officers, a proposal to change the uniform of the former has been made by Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf, commandant of the State police, and a bill will be introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Fred Bethke, of Mercer County. Under the proposed bill the new Jersey State police uniform would consist of a light blue jacket with yellow insignia, dark blue breeches with a yellow stripe, dark blue cap with French blue band, light blue overcoat, black leather boots, holster and belt. The new law would make it unlawful for any municipality to adopt a uniform similar to the State police.

ELECTRICITY

SERVANTS and SERVICE

HOUSEWIVES say that it is constantly getting harder to secure domestic servants, but that at the same time it is getting easier and easier to secure domestic SERVICE. The rapidly growing use of electricity in the home is one big reason.

Nothing will serve you more efficiently and more faithfully than electricity,—

Nothing can relieve you of many household labors;

Nothing can contribute more to your comfort and convenience;

When you make full use of electric service, most of the duties that the well trained domestic servant performs for you, are accomplished practically automatically, whether they be connected with the kitchen, the dining room, the laundry, the living room, or any other part of your home.

The present day electrically served home is the most livable, the most comfortable and the most convenient that the world has ever known. Consult us as to the best way to electrify yours.

5c MAKES YOU A SMOKE KING

—if you know the cigar to buy

Don't ever let anybody tell you there's no enjoyment in a 5c cigar. Here's one that's been knocking that idea sky-high for years: Bayuk's Havana Ribbon. Any challengers?

Nickel cigar brands come and go. But Bayuk's Havana Ribbon keeps right on winning smokers by the thousands. Unquestionably the greatest five-cent cigar value the world has ever known! But, let Bayuk's Havana Ribbon tell you its own story. One nickel brings it to you. One puff starts it. And the first thing it says is that here is a five-cent cigar that contains something you usually find only in higher-priced cigars: Ripe, long-filler tobacco. No bitter, under-ripe top leaves of the plant. No flat-tasting, over-ripe bottom leaves. No loose ends to fray or crumble. Full-flavored, mellow-mild ripe leaves only. Smoke so smooth you like to hold on to every mouthful! At cigar counters everywhere. Also sold in Practical Pocket Packages of five cigars.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

The period of the year which tests all church-goers' loyalty has arrived.

Let us not defeat the great "Loyalty Campaign" by failing to carry the spirit of the campaign into the spring and summer months.

"Jesus Christ, the same, Yesterday, Today, and Forever." He needs us, we need Him at all times.

Sunday School at ten in the morning. How inspiring it was to hear the report of the secretary, giving the attendance of the last Sunday's session, far larger than that of a year ago! God is truly visiting our people! Help God bring the blessing to all by being present yourself. You are indispensable to the happiness and welfare of others as they attend Sunday School and Church.

Divine worship follows the Sunday School period. The sermon by the pastor will be "from the heart," "face to face" with you, and based on a topic of common and vital interest, and of only a few minutes' duration.

An outstanding feature of all our church services is the work of our choir. Mr. Mitton and all members of the choir are to be commended upon the series of superb renditions, which they have been giving the people of Firth Lutheran Church. The work of the coming months will be no exception.

Luther League devotional service at seven Sunday evening. B. S. Buckholz will conduct the service, delivering a talk on the topic: "The Triumphs of the Bible on Mission Fields."

Vesper serice at 7:45, with sermon by pastor and music by the choir.

Coming events with specially arranged programs:

May 12th—Mother's Day celebration in the morning.

May 19th—Whitsunday, Young People's Service.

May 26th—Unique Memorial Sunday Service.

June 9th—Children's Day.

June 16th—Anniversary Service.

July 14th—Holy Communion.

CHRIST CHURCH

Rev. Geo. J. McCormack, Rector
Parry Avenue

A minister, calling on an old negress, found her bending over a washtub and asked:

"Aunt Dinah, don't you get very tired doing that hard work?"

"Oh, Yes, Massa," she replied. "I haven't got much strength, but I ask de Lord and He gives me the power of washin'."

There is a vast amount of good work that gets done simply by an exercise of the same method.

Very often a failure to persevere is not a lack of the right sort, and that, of course, is only a way of saying that we lack the grit to stick to the job or in still more common parlance we are quitters!

Consider in this matter the example of Jesus, of whom it is written: "Who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame and is now set down on the right hand of God."

The semi-annual meeting of the Diocesan Council of the Girls' Friendly Society will be held in Grace Church Parish House, Merchantville on Saturday, May 11, at 9:30 A. M. Standard Time.

The Burlington District meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will be held in Christ Church, Palmyra on May the seventh. The New Jersey Diocesan president, Mrs. Phelps will be the speaker.

A very creditable offering by the children of the church was made by the Lenten Box gift of nearly two hundred and fifty dollars. Hearty congratulations!

Services: Third Sunday after Easter.

10:30 A. M.—Morning Prayer and Sermon. French in Six Lessons."

2:30 P. M.—Church School. Address: "Help Wanted."

8:00 P. M.—Evensong and Sermon for Children. "The Garden of the Soul."

Science is searching mars orbit; religion his destiny.

BAPTIST CHURCH

"The Home-Like Church"
George Lockett, Pastor

This Sunday morning at ten o'clock the Central Baptist Sunday School will have the pleasure of hearing a missionary native of South India, M. Josiah Ramanjolu, who will have an interesting address.

Pastor Lockett's subject for the morning service at 11:15 a. m. will be "Thoughts from Isaiah." In the evening at 7:45 p. m. marks the beginning of Boys' Week. Every boy is cordially invited to be present. A special sermon has been prepared for this occasion. Every boy present will be given a copy of one of the greatest books in the world.

The children of the Primary Department and their teachers will present their annual spring program in the Sunday School room on Tuesday evening, April 30 at eight o'clock. The varied program includes the playlet "Ruth and the Spring Fairy." There are about thirty-five children in this fantasy of spring and they will, no doubt, charm all who come to hear them.

An offering will be taken and used for some new equipment.

The final rehearsal will be held on Saturday at three o'clock. It is important that everyone taking part should be there.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for April 28
THE SUFFERING SERVANT OF JEHOVAH
Isaiah 53:1-2
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Fulfillment of prophecy is one of the strongest evidences of the authenticity of Scripture. The fact that exact statements of future events could be made hundreds of years in advance, and later developments would be in strict accord, argues mightily for the inspiration that believers in the Word claim for it. In no instance is the problem of fulfillment made any greater than in this lesson today, in which these varied Messianic statements are made.

Much discussion has centered about the implications in "The Servant of Jehovah," which theme is found in represented portions of Isaiah, such as 41:8-20; 42:1-7, 18-25; 43:3-10, 49:1-9, 50:4-10, 52:13, 53:12. Many claim that the Suffering Servant refers only to the Jewish nation. The conservative interpretation is that, while it has a direct application to the Chosen People, it refers primarily to the promised Messiah and is a glorious exposition of Jesus Christ in His divine office work. There are many other prophecies concerning Him in the Old Testament. Compare the record of this Life as revealed in the Gospels and note how each prediction.

His physical sufferings and heartaches were only incidents compared with the mediatorial work He was to perform and there will be both added and intense reverence for the Holy Bible. Read this particular lesson not at least three times.

A wonderful Person is being portrayed. Multitudes still fail to believe the message and hence lose much in their lives. He is referred to as a man, and so is. His Father declareth. We continue to objectify a spirit in terms of human form such as "the arm of the Lord."

Constantly through the years of His public ministry He was despised and rejected. No one can ever know the extent of His sorrows. He was more sensitive than any other in all the history of the world. We know of His agony and bloody sweat in the Garden of Gethsemane. Only the angels could appreciate His worth as they looked on in awe.

Perfecting. His acts were vicarious as he took the law place of the sinners of the world. His acts were bruises of heart as well as of body, together with the chastisement of the Pilate commanded stripes, were for our healing.

Man's indifference to such love is worse than pathetic. The picture is of sheep purposely going astray while the shepherd is tenderly calling them to safety and fulled provision.

Throughout the earthly life He was silent under every form of abuse and oppression. Pilate was amazed at his quiet demeanor. Others under similar circumstances of injustice would call at their accusers. The lovers of this Messiah before that after He had been crucified between two thieves. There was a royal like touch for that body through the gracious ones of Joseph of Arimathea. This One suggests to all of us that great souls do not peddle personal miseries. Archbishop French, speaking of our debt of sin, said: "It was contracted in the currency of earth; the paid it in the currency of heaven."

Milady's Beauty Secrets

Braid no more that shining hair!
Let it fly as uncontined
As its calm ravisher, the wind.
—LOVELACE.

It is impossible to estimate the numberless types of beauty we have in this country. And yet each type should know all the fine points of grooming which skillfully draw into sharp relief that very individuality which makes for charm and personality. The hair and the clothes can do wonders for one. And of the two perhaps the arrangement of the hair is the more important.

Once a woman adopts a certain coiffure arrangement she is most apt to stick to it forever. That is why so many of our elderly ladies suffer under the harsh sereority of the Victorian "bun." When bobbing became universal, why so many women sacrificed their individuality to the shears!

Then came the shingle and the Eton crop and the whaltown bob, and dozens of others, and with each of them the arrangement which was most attractive to ONE woman out of ten made the other nine look like so many shaved sheep!

The new style says first, "Be yourself"; and second, "Be attractive while you are about it."

And as the first step away from the ultra artificial we are returning to lengthy of curls and curves.

BUT — and here Madame Modo crosses her fingers and looks both wise and grave — there is no law which requires of all women ONE style of headdress! The law of fashion prescribes instead Personality, Individuality, Contrast. And along that line, why everything goes, as the small boy phrases it. Paris shakes her head in disapproval of uniformity.

Now for the styles themselves. One very pretty mode is for the shoulder bob. The hair is brushed back and allowed to fall in a natural roundness around the face and the ends for not more than two or three inches are curled in loose soft ringlets. This is particularly lovely for the long oval type of face and regular features.

A very modish headdress for the chic woman, the type who looks "charming," never just "pretty," is as follows: The hair part is twisted instead of being a straight line. It curves nearer the center of the head in front and winds down toward the back.

Brushing the hair straight back with a short part on the side and the top and back of the head covered with large soft curls is most suitable for a demure dreamy type and incidentally for the growing bob. The curls form a sort of nimbus which is very charming.

PLAY AND THE CHILD

Speaker Tells Mothers of Great Value of Supervised Play Out of School

Those who heard Charles English last Thursday at the Riverton school learned much of the importance of play in a child's development. Mr. English believes that play is the business of a child's life and school his "avocation," and that therefore he must learn valuable lessons in his leisure time.

Mr. English said in part: "Are you sure what your boys and girls do in their leisure time? Is it a dead period, or is it productive? Do we give a child nine months of education and then fail to follow up his free-time activities? The activities we choose in our free time are what determine our characters—a tendency to crime in the youth on city streets is developed in the time out of school. With a trained leader on a playground, play can be used as a vehicle towards some definite end, and can be followed by the aims of the teachers who have striven for the school period. All-the-year schools are coming—a five-day working week of 6 (six) hour days is coming, too. Already 160 unions in New York City have five-day weeks. Overproduction, scientific labor-saving devices, American skill in mechanical inventions, are all factors in bringing it. Were all our people granted this much new leisure now it would be a misfortune. Our movie houses would be overrun with people wanting not only amusement, but to kill time. We, as parents, must be trained to relaxation, and learn to play to some purpose. We all know the tragedy of the father who can't play with his boys. If a boy says, "Dad, show me how to pitch a curve?" and Dad puts up an alibi, his stock goes down. If he goes out and says, "Well, I'm not as good as I was once," he may get by. But we must do better than this. It is not enough nowadays to solve our children's problems by our own youthful experiences; boys and girls are different; we have a more sophisticated animal to contend with. Today a child is three years older in knowledge, because of modern inventions, the radio, for instance. From investigation of sixteen hundred girls in Chicago, it was demonstrated that the peak of interest in doll play is now at the aged of nine and over at ten, whereas if was once at twelve, and dolls were not crowded out by other interests until thirteen years. A twelve-year-old has advanced to a fifteen-year-old, in vision and experience.

All the emphasis in new education is upon the preschool child, nursery school, etc. It is in line with this new precocity. It is an age, too, of specialization. We would be wise to provide a chance for clean athletics, before commercial forms of recreation step in. A real reaction and relaxation from the rest of the day's occupation!

In Denmark there are few movies, because every one there is busy with adult education. Even the humblest peasant has the privilege of going to learn music or painting or wood-carving, some pastime that will become his avocational pursuit, and of infinite value to him in his leisure. Our schools can be followed on the playground with such activities, as well as manual training of various kinds. Four hundred types of projects are taught on playgrounds, and boys and girls can find some among them to develop into absorbing interests that will carry them safely through leisure, perhaps mischief-hours. This sort of recreation is a definite character agency, not just a "new stunt."

The chief investment in a playground should be in leadership rather than apparatus. For such leadership are advised a college degree, and special training in addition. It is far easier to teach school than to be such a leader. In some places there is a combination of school teacher and leader. At any rate, it is a splendid investment in our changing times. An expensive one? No, a cheap one. What better can we invest in than the characters of our children!

ABOUT WARTS

Chicago—Says Karl P. Schmidt in a book recently published by the Field Museum of Natural History: "The belief that the handling of toads causes warts is wholly without foundation. It evidently has arisen from the simple analogy between the wartiness of toads and the existence of warts on the hands of small boys."

The TOWN DOCTOR

(THE DOCTOR OF TOWNS)

says

MANY TOWNS ARE LIKE SOME MERCHANTS—

They spend much time and money trying to attract new business when they are not getting all there is to get out of the business they already have.

There is in the advertising business what is called the Golden Triangle of every mercantile establishment. It is that space in front of the store where people who pass can see the store clearly and the windows. It is the vital point in every retail business, for no merchant can sell his wares—excluding mail order and telephone orders—unless the people come into the store. The advertising to reach the area so gained is what is called "Point of Purchase" advertising. Its purpose is to stop the passer-by, which is the one big reason for show windows and window displays. Through this medium the merchant attempts to attract attention, then create a desire to enter the store. American people buy by eye. What the eye doesn't see, the heart doesn't covet later.

Towns are exactly like stores in the general respect. If a town got all of the business from the traffic it already has, it is safe to say that it would ever have to spend any money for additional business. But as long as there are towns, and the people in them remain human they will probably continue to go out after more customers when they have not got all there is to be had from the trade they already have.

Let us take automobile traffic as one angle of inviting business for a town. Every strange automobile that passes through your city is worth a sale. By count much more than most people think, but you must stop the car and get the passengers and of it if you are going to get their business. Twenty per cent, or three people who turn in under cut are in the market for or can be sold a new location. Every motorist can be made to be the cause for more motorists coming to your town. An analysation of the means of town income shows many surprising facts, chief of which is first, that very few towns recognize the business that can be had from it.

One morning a few years ago I left Chicago very early for points east. To save time and avoid traffic I took a back road but much to my chagrin I encountered a freight train whose engineer evidently had no place to go and was in no hurry to get there. The halt from that I was delayed I have never regretted for while waiting there I saw that which to me was to and always will be a picture in life of wonderful statecraft.

Just inside the fence from where I sat parked lay a yard or less than six months of age, lazily staring up the morning sunshine. The morning was warm and the flies were most unwelcome. Around the child was many gentlemen, one of which was some five feet or more away, lazily running him self with ever, but each and every attempt stopping sufficiently to pick off a fly that came unsuspectingly close enough. Another little fellow had settled himself directly adjacent to and up against that which I soon would be someone's veal steak, but it was his asleep. Had a call more one single stock would have been no more. Two other little flowin ones with much zeal and quack in evidence were chasing their tail ends off trying to run down, overtake and devour elusive insects that were for ever just from them. But there we another little duck standing at that end of the reclining cow's anatomy where such of tail and loss of head failed to disturb him picking [illegible] dreds of flies off the calf's back in other words taking advantage of an opportunity.

To me the yard was a highway, the flies were motorists and the gentlemen were towns, each in a true to form stage of wakefulness, activity and to somewhat.

Your town is one of these ducks.

ORGANIZE COUNTY Y-CHURCH LEAGUE

Baseball Circuit Will Function With Three Age Divisions

Representatives of various Church School and Y. M. C. A. Groups met in the County Y. M. C. A. Headquarters April 16 to discuss plans relative to the organization of a joint baseball league. The Rev. R. J. Beazley acted as chairman of the meeting at which it was decided to proceed jointly and function under three divisions, a senior, intermediate and junior.

The following places were represented and will most likely play under the following divisions. Senior Division, Fieldsboro M. E. Church, Pemberton Y. M. C. A. Chesterfield Progressive Club and Bustleton Jacksonville Y. M. C. A. Group. Junior Division, Fieldsboro M. E. Church, Medford Y. M. C. A., Mount Holly Y. M. C. A. and Lumberton Y. M. C. A. Intermediate Division, Redding Y. M. C. A., Columbus Y. M. C. A., Johnstown Baptist Church and Mount Holly Y. M. C. A.

There is the possibility of teams coming in from Browns Mills, Hartford, Moorestown, Columbus, Vincentown and Willingboro.

It was decided that Y. M. C. A. Secretary Clifford W. Ergood appoint a committee to formulate rules and get the league started the first part of May. This committee, Frank Lockman, Columbus; Fred Adams, Pemberton, and Robert Boswell, Lumberton, will meet with Secretary Ergood this Tuesday evening.

JUNIORS TO PRESENT "GREEN STOCKINGS"

Ruth Lutz and Leon Coles to Play Leading Parts

"Green Stockings," a comedy of unusual merit, will be presented by the members of the Junior class of the Palmyra High School in the auditorium on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 10 and 11.

An evening of delightful entertainment is promised everyone who attends this play, which is said to be one of the best yet staged by the High School pupils.

The leading feminine role will be portrayed by Ilo Winsome Ruth Lutz who will play opposite Leon Coles. Both of these amateur stars have already won renown in school dramatics.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the Junior class.

DESIRE TO IMPROVE LAKEHURST STATION

Appropriation of $540,000 Asked to Finance Erection of Additional Buildings

Expenditure of $540,000 for new buildings at the Lakehurst Naval Air Station is provided in a hinged navy building bill reintroduced in the House of Representatives, recently by Representative Fred Britten, of Illinois, chairman of the representatives' naval affairs committee. The bill passed the House during the last Congress, but the Senate failed to act, despite the fact that the measure was approved by the House in December.

The largest sum in the Lakehurst appropriation is $250,000 for barracks for enlisted men and marines. Of the remainder, $200,000 is to be spent for a gas cell shop and $90,000 for quarters for married officers.

The appropriation committee probably will not be organized until the regular session of Congress in December, and there is little hope that the bill will be passed at the special session.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

For the unlovely interior of one's dresser the shops offer fascinating pads of plain or figured silk to harmony with the color scheme of the bedroom. Or we may make these accessories at home at very little cost.

The silk should be cut the exact size of the bottom of the dresser drawers, allowing for tops, of course. Line the pads with a layer of cotton sprinkled with sachet. Stitch the edges together, and quilt the pad in a simple design with silk thread of contrasting color.

POTATO OMELET

Mix 2 cups of Lyonnaise potatoes with 2 cups diced cooked bacon. Cream well beaten 3 eggs with 1 cup milk and 1 cup chopped parsley. Pour into hot pan with 2 tablespoons butter or bacon fat and cook over moderate heat until browned.

APRICOT FRITTERS

For a tempting breakfast special beat together 2 eggs, 1 cup milk, 1 tablespoon sugar and 1 cup prepared sifted together 1 cup flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder and ½ teaspoon of salt. Clean one cup drained canned apricots and add to the batter beating well. Drop from spoon into deep fat and fry to light brown. Drain and serve with maple syrup.

MENU FOR CHILDREN

Beef Broth with Barley
Creamed halibut Cured and peas
Boiled rice
Orange custard Sponge cake

CHICKEN WITH VEGETABLES

Cut meat of a roasting chicken in pieces and put a layer in casserole, sprinkle with flour and seasoning and a little water. Add a layer of diced assorted vegetables, seasoning and butter, repeat, cover the dish and cook for 1½ hours in moderate oven. Then pour over the whole a cup of cream and cook ten minutes more.

BEST COAT HANGERS

If you cover metal or wooden coat hangers with velvet the garments will not slip off as they do on smooth hangers or those covered with silk.

WHEN HANGING PICTURES

Put two small rubber-head tacks near the bottom of frame on back of picture and dent caught collect and mark the paper.

The Rev. A. S. Lewis's team of bowlers won the spring bowling tournament at the Riverton Country Club and then, just to show that there was no fluke about it, they beat Ed Lippincott's team for the club championship. Howard Coe's team was neck and neck with the Lewis team up until the last match and was defeated by the narrow margin of two games.

The winning team is composed of the following bowlers: The Rev. Mr. Lewis, H. H. Seabrook, H. H. Seabrook, Jr., R. G. Anderson, F. Bach and M. Dickinson.

Howard Coe proved to be the best bowler this year by averaging 186 pins for the tournament of 54 games. He also won the prize for the high three games with scores of 231, 214 and 2-3.

Walter Meyer and Jean Mervine were tied for the high single game with 245, and played three games to see who would walk off with the prize. Meyer won the first game and Mervine the other two.

Doubters Change Mind

Many Palmyra men and women doubted they could feel years younger until they tried the new tonic, Hera. It stopped indigestion, constipation, sleepless nights, tired mornings, relieved neuritis, rheumatic pains, brought health again. It is made of Herbs by a reliable firm and sold by Mr. Buehl, the druggist, on a money-back guarantee of satisfaction. Ask him about Hera.—Adv.

Some of World's Greatest Swimming Stars at Moorestown Community House

Walter Spence, Philadelphia, Individual Titleholder, Heads List of Penn A. C. Celebrities Who Will Appear in Pool Here

In what promises to be the best attraction ever staged at the Moorestown Community House, the Penn A. C. swimming stars will be at the pool tonight at 8 o'clock.

The best of the Philadelphia swimming champions will be seen on Thursday evening and among them will be Walter Spence, Herman Ringler, David Russell, Harry Strong and Len Kiesling. Among the girl stars will be Miss Van Angen, Miss Betty Brown, Miss Margaret Kavoir and Miss Marie Hilkens.

The Moorestown Community House swimming team, champions of Burlington, Camden and Gloucester counties, will also be on hand to exhibit their championship form for the local swimming fans.

The big star who will come out from Philadelphia will be Walter Spence. Spence is the individual world's champion. He won this title at New York just last week. He also holds the 500-yard free style national championship, the world's 300-yard medley championship, the world's 220-yard breast stroke record. In fact he holds more records than any one person in the world.

In the championship meet in New York last week Spence scored more points than ever before scored by any one man. He is the only man in the world to ever win national free style, breast stroke and medley titles.

Ringler is the holder of the outdoor junior national championship on the high board and also the holder of all Middle Atlantic titles.

David Russell is the Junior High Board National champion, along with Harry Strong, who is 440-yard Middle Atlantic champion and 220-yard National Scholastic champ. Len Kiesling is the winner of many cup races.

All of the girl stars are record holders. Miss Van Angen holds the 50-yard free style Middle Atlantic championship and other titles. Miss Brown is 500-yard National Junior Champion.

Palmyra High was the loser in a 2-1 hurling duel between Hennessey and Johnson at Moorestown Tuesday afternoon. Hennessey pitched a fine game for Palmyra, allowing but five singles, which were well scattered throughout the contest. A streak of wildness in the ninth proved his undoing when a double by Levin drove in the winning runs which had been placed on base via the free route.

These two tallies were enough to win, as Palmyra only dented the pentagon once and that also in the final frame. Pitcher Johnson had a little the better of the Palmyra hurler during the eight scoreless innings, allowing three hits to four made by his teammates.

The one big inning on each side was the ninth. Palmyra scored in the first half when Fowler fumbled grounders by Coles and Zaun and Frenick threw wild to first after fielding Windish's roller. Coles scored on the error.

Moorestown did the Red and White one better in its half the the last frame when Hennessey exhibited his only wild streak of the game. Only two passes were issued by the lanky hurler, but they were wedged in before a double which decided the contest. Fowler walked and Bauer took first after being hit by a pitched ball. After McGann flied out and Jenkins fanned, Paris walked, crowding the bassorks. A timely double by Levin drove home the two runs necessary for victory.

Green, Colored Boy, County Marble Champ

Burlington County's marble shooting champion, as determined by the outcome of Saturday's contest at Mount Holly, with winners and runners-up from nine districts playing for the honor, was James Green, a colored boy, from Burlington.

He was presented with the Evening Bulletin's Loving Cup, and will compete April 27 in the Southern New Jersey Tournament Championship Finals at Camden's Civic Center.

The winner on Saturday will go to Ocean City in June to compete in the national tournament.

COUNTY LEAGUE OPENS ON MAY 4

Palmyra Tossers Scheduled at Delanco; To Play Home Game Away

A diamond schedule of fifty-six games, which will comprise the first half schedule was announced by officials of the Burlington County Baseball League last week.

Palmyra will open the season at Delanco on Saturday, May 4, while the other league contests will be waged on the diamonds of Brown's Mills, Florence and Medford. Palmyra is officially scheduled to play at Delanco in the first game, but will also play on foreign fields when the schedule calls for home games until arrangements can be made for a field at Palmyra.

Each club will meet the seven other teams twice in the first half race, which has its windup on Fourth of July afternoon. The teams will be active on nine Saturdays, one Wednesday evening, and the mornings and afternoons of both Memorial Day and "The Fourth."

Fans in every town along the circuit will see their favorites in action at home on each of the two holidays. The schedule has been arranged so that teams on the road in the morning will be at home in the afternoon, on both Decoration Day and July 4, by which time Palmyra hopes to have a playing field available.

Moorestown will assist a new club in introducing Burlington County League baseball fans to the fans of Brown's Mills on the opening day. The new Burlington club will invade Florence for battle with R. D. Wood, with Vincentown and Medford coming to grips on the latter's diamond.

The week beginning Monday, May 27, promises to be the busiest one in the first half chase toward Pennantville, with every team active twice on Memorial Day, which falls on Thursday, and finishing the week with a game on Saturday, June 1, two days later.

The schedule follows:

PALMYRA GIRLS WIN TANK MEET

Red and White Easily Outclass Pitman in First Contest of Season

INTER-HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE
Standing of the Teams

	W.	L.	P.C.
Woodbury	2	0	1.000
Palmyra	1	0	1.000
Haddon Heights	0	1	.000
Pitman	0	2	.000

Palmyra High School's Girls' swimming team chalked up its first triumph in the Inter-High School League Tuesday afternoon by defeating the Pitman High Girls at the Camden Y. W. C. A. by a 38½ to 19½ score.

Palmyra is now tied with Woodbury for first place, for the Woodbury girls defeated Haddon Heights last week by the same score Palmyra made their first start in the league Tuesday.

Grace Coe, the individual star of the meet, won the 20-yard free style and 50-yard breast stroke events as well as swimming anchor on the winning relay team. Emily Hoh, also was the brightest performer for the Pitman team.

The summaries:

50-Yard Novice—Won by Louise Ayres, Palmyra, second, Mary Ludgeon, Pitman; third, Helen Gless, Palmyra. Time, 13.1

20-Yard Free-Style—Won by Grace Coe, Palmyra; second, Betty Nicholl, Pitman; third, Maxine Meltzner, Palmyra. Time, 11.1.

P. C. M. READY FOR BASEBALL SEASON

Palmyra Community Movement to Hold Public Meeting Friday at Firehouse

Of course, Palmyra will have a team in the Burlington County League again this year and the prospects are very bright for a banner year. Besides Palmyra, other teams included are Florence, Burlington, Medford, Delanco, Vincentown, Moorestown and Brown's Mills. Brown's Mills is the baby member of the league and from all reports it is certainly going to be heard from.

Palmyra opens the season with the strong Delanco outfit at Delanco and on the following Saturday, May 11th, Palmyra and Florence lock horns at Florence. This will be a real banging opening for Palmyra, as everybody who saw these teams clash last year will remember it was a real battle from start to finish.

As can be seen, the baseball grounds in Palmyra are undergoing some changes and improvements and until time as they are in shape all games scheduled at home will be played on the grounds of the opposing teams. This privilege was granted through the courtesy of the managements of the other teams in the league pending the completion of Palmyra's ground.

The Palmyra Community Movement is again back of the team this year. The organization is planning on conducting exercises in the vicinity interested in sports as to just what the Palmyra Community Movement is; what is happening to the baseball records; who is responsible for the improvements; what it means to Palmyra and the part the public generally can play.

For this purpose a public meeting has been arranged at the Fire House Friday evening, April 26th, at 8 o'clock and everyone interested is urgently requested to be present.

Last year the Palmyra Community Movement was organized to help promote clean sports in Palmyra and met with a large measure of success. Quite often during the year the question was asked, "What is the Palmyra Community Movement?" so to avoid a repetition of this again during the coming season the men in charge wish everyone who is interested to come out and see the activity of this organization and learn what was done last year and also of its plans this year in which the public is cordially invited to take part.

Don't forget—Fire House—Friday night—8 o'clock—and it will be well worth your while.

BOY SCOUTS

Membership Growing; New Patrol Formed; Will Give Play Soon

Troop No. 1 is having a very active year. The membership in the troop has almost doubled in the past few weeks, and a new patrol, the Stag Patrol, has been formed, with one of the new scouts, Henry Naisby, as patrol leader. The new scouts of the Stag Patrol are advancing in rank very rapidly, four of them becoming second class scouts within one month of their enrollment. These four scouts are Scouts Naisby, Hunn, Ridley and Hebrew.

The troop plans to go to camp the last week in July at the new Burlington County camp near Wrightstown. In order to raise money for the camping project, a play will be given early in May.

"A Scout's Honor," by Major Clifton Lisle, has been chosen and rehearsals are now under way. This play is a very interesting exposition of a Boy Scout's life and ideals, and should be well worth seeing. Announcements will be made later as to the exact time and date of this entertainment.

MOORESTOWN HI IN 2-2 DEADLOCK

Camden Suburban League Undefeated Leaders Tie Audubon

Moorestown High School baseball team, undefeated leaders in the Camden Suburban League, played Audubon High last Friday afternoon at Audubon, the game resulting in a 2-2 deadlock. The game was halted in the tenth inning on account of darkness.

Bolton led the Moorestown team with a triple, while Levin crashed out two safe singles. Wheatley and Rippel were the batting stars for the Audubon team collecting three hits each. Both teams displayed a powerful brand of baseball, several promising rallies were broken up by some sensational fielding.

Moorestown scored in the fourth on a single by Bolton, who was credited with the out at first by Bauer. The other run was made in the seventh when Paris doubled, stole third and scored on a sacrifice by Jenkins.

Audubon scored in the first when Wheatly singled, stole second and came home on Rippel's one-bagger. The feat was repeated in the 6th, with the same lads accounting for the run in the same manner.

TACONY-PALMYRA FERRY COMPANY
April 26th, 1929
NOTICE

A liquidating dividend will be paid on May 6th, 1929, to all stockholders of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company, as of record April 25th, 1929. This dividend will consist of 6-10 of one share of Tacony-Palmyra Class A Bridge Stock for each share of Ferry Stock.

Owing to the fact that this dividend will involve fractions, there will be sent to the stockholders certificates for whole shares, and warrants for fractional shares. The certificates or warrants, or both, may be presented to Messrs. Berr & Company (by those who wish to sell), 1416 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, between the dates of July 1st and July 15th, inclusive, the stockholder will then receive $4.50 for each 1-10th share that the warrant calls for, and $45.00 for each share the certificate calls for.

It will be noted that this will be equivalent to a cash dividend of $27.00 to each share of Ferry Stock, which, with the $3.00 paid previously, will make the total of liquidating dividends $30.00 per share.

Warrants will not draw dividends or pay interest, so the stockholder should either sell them or buy other warrants and when the warrant purchased agregate whole shares, the Fidelity-Philadelphia Trust Company, 135 South Broad Street, Philadelphia, will issue certificates for them, when presented.

No transfer of Ferry Stock will be made between April 25th and May 6th, 1929.

DR. PEREZ SPEAKS AT MEN'S CLUB

Discusses Reflections and Reactions of the World War on the Veterans

A very fine musical program and an interesting and inspiring speech was the double treat enjoyed by members of the Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, at its regular meeting Monday evening.

The musical program was under the direction of Miss Anna McConnell, daughter of the president of the club, William McConnell. Miss McConnell sang three beautiful soprano solos, "Gypsy Daisies," "Mighty Lak' a Rose" and "In a Monastery Garden." She was accompanied by Mrs. Margaret Lawson on the piano.

Edward Hoyt favored with two tenor solos, "Mate O' Mine" and "All For You." Mrs. Lawson delighted the audience with her piano solos. George Rhoades gave some entertaining numbers on the saxophone accompanied by Nelson McCuen at the piano.

Overseas Service

The Rev. Dr. Perez, a brother-in-law of William T. J. Purnell, was the speaker of the evening. Dr. Perez, prior to entering the ministry, was the international collegiate two-mile champion. Graduating from Princeton with the degree of D. D., he enlisted in the American Army and saw much service overseas, roughing it with the doughboys in those trying days.

His topic for the evening was, "The Reflections and Reactions of the World War on the Veteran," which he handled very ably indeed. Dr. Perez was well qualified to talk on such a subject since he has continued his work among the veterans since the close of the Great War, being at this time a chaplain in the American Legion and a firm exponent of its Americanization program.

The speaker described what he called a composite picture of the Legionnaires today and recited the preamble to the constitution of the Legion which he said was the first codified expression of the veterans for service in peace.

Looking Forward

He mentioned the ex-soldier's reluctance to discuss his experience in the war saying that they preferred to look forward rather than backward. Dr. Perez told of the work of the Legion for peace which he said was united with the first world-wide organization which ever existed and was composed of former combatants and was known as, "The International Federation of Former Combatants."

The speaker lauded the Legion for its work in the hospitals and among the disabled men whom he said numbered over 60,000 and for whom the government had made no adequate provision in a great many cases.

Marple M. Lewis, industrial secretary of the Burlington County YMCA organization spoke briefly in behalf of the budget drive which is to be undertaken by the Y during the coming week. He told of the fine work being done and asked for the support of the members.

Richard Wilson, director of the forum, announced that next meeting would be forum night as it will be the last meeting of the season. He also extended an invitation for all those interested in sports to be present at the meeting of the Palmyra Community Movement to be held at the fire house Friday night.

The following new members were admitted, J. W. Friday, A. R. Seither and Paul W. Warren.

EXPLOSION CAUSES FIRE IN TOWN HALL

Plumbers' Furnace Used by Water Department Employee, Causes Blaze in Basement

Several employees of the Moorestown water department narrowly escaped injury and considerable excitement was caused shortly after eleven o'clock Monday morning when a plumbers' furnace exploded in the tool house in the rear of Town Hall basement shortly after eleven o'clock Monday morning.

Flames broke out in the tool room, but quick work on the part of the fire department prevented the blaze from spreading. The loss, which is estimated at $200, is chiefly due to damaged fire hydrant repairs which were stored in the room. One wooden partition and the ceiling was damaged by the fire.

While no one was actually injured, Edward P. Hyland, the genial water and sewer superintendent, might be listed as "victim". Mr. Hyland's hair was singed by the flames.

The superintendent was present in the tool room when the furnace, which was being used by one of the employees of the department, exploded.

DESCRIBES GOOD POINTS OF NEW GARDEN TRACTOR

Many present-day garden tractors are more sturdily and powerfully built than the models of a few years ago because of the need for a general purpose tractor that will do light plowing, says Dr. D. B. Lucas, assistant agricultural engineer at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. "Most of the newer tractors are driven by 3- or 4-horsepower engines and have nearly twice the power of many of the older machines," he states. "Price has increased only about $50. The additional power has several advantages. Larger cultivators can be used, shallow plowing can be done, and there is a greater reserve of power for emergencies. Shallow plowing is not recommended as a regular practice, but is usually satisfactory on occasions where larger plows are not available. For belt work the newer tractors, when equipped with pulley, have greater usefulness through their increased power."

REMOVES WATER SPOTS

Rub a little white talcum powder around rings left by water or cleaning fluid, then brush gently with a soft brush and the marks will disappear.

"You Win If You Lose"

Miss Eva D. Bowles, of New York, a member of the National Staff of the Y. W. C. A. and administrator of the work among colored women, will visit Burlington County Saturday and Sunday, April 27 and 28. On Saturday afternoon, April 27, a County-wide meeting of colored women will be held at the Baptist Church in Moorestown at three o'clock. Miss Bowles will be the speaker at this meeting. All colored girls and women of the County are invited to this meeting.

Sunday afternoon Miss Bowles will meet with the committee for work among colored and the club advisers for a discussion of problems facing these workers. The question of amusement and recreation will receive special attention.

Mrs. E. J. Young, of Riverton, chairman of the committee and a member of the County Board of Directors, will preside at the Saturday meeting. Mrs. Earl Williams, of Moorestown, will lead the singing and special musical numbers will be furnished by club groups.

County Conference

Saturday, April 20, three hundred Burlington County Girl Reserves, representing thirty-four different clubs, gathered at the Moorestown Community House for an all-day conference, their big "get-together" meeting of the year.

The session opened with a period of enthusiastic singing, led by Mrs. Wm. Grobler, of Moorestown, and Miss Marjorie Allen, of Mount Holly. Fifteen minutes of games, led by Mrs. Benjamin Hallett, of Moorestown, assisted by Mrs. Hess and Mrs. Titman, of Riverside, and Mrs. Macomber, of New Lisbon, followed. The girls then reassembled to hear a beautiful story told by Mrs. Harold Hornor, of Mount Holly.

At the close of the story they marched to the women's club room, where all participated in an impressive candle ceremonial, in which the ides of seeing the beautiful, not only in the wonders of nature and in people we like, but also in all people and places, was stressed.

The afternoon session was devoted to a program consisting of a reading, by Emil Heal, of Maple Shade; a piano solo by Elizabeth Stein, of Maple Shade; a song by the Brown's Mills girls, a Scotch dance by ten Moorestown Freshmen; a play, "Elder Breman Makes A Call," by the Delanco girls; group singing, games and swimming.

The following towns were represented: Brown's Mills, Chatsworth, Beverly, Burlington, New Lisbon, Pemberton, White's Bog, Indian Mills, Columbus, Bordentown, Jobestown, Mount Holly, Medford, Marlton, Maple Shade, Moorestown, Delanco, Riverside, and Roebling.

English Classes

Friday afternoon, April 19, a group of Italian women met at the Burlington Y. W. C. A. club house to begin the study of English. The afternoon was spent in getting acquainted and in discussing the needs and desires of the group. Several movies, presenting life in America, were shown. The girls will meet on Thursday evening with Mrs. A. C. Brady, Mrs. Allen Miller and Miss Emily Grant, as teachers, and Mrs. M. Antuzzi as interpreter. During the study hour a nursery for caring for small children will be maintained. The class is one of the plans of the community committee, composed of Miss Carolyn McIntyre, Miss Lydia Rogers, and Miss Mary Sholl.

At the meeting of the Mount Holly Mothers' Club on Monday, April 22, Miss Mary Flynn was the speaker. Miss Flynn, who is associated with the Swarthmore Chautauqua Company as junior supervisor, discussed her work. The meeting was held at the club room in Mount Holly.

Miss Margaret Cook and Miss Margaret Griffith gave an interesting discussion on birds at the Willingboro Senior Club, Saturday afternoon, April 20, at the home of Miss Cook. At the next meeting they will take the girls on a bird-hike.

On Saturday evening, April 27, the club will give a community party. The height of the individual will determine his admission fee. A splendid program, games and refreshments are being arranged.

The Riverside High School Girl Reserves met Wednesday evening, April 17, at the home of their adviser, Mrs. Eleanor K. Titman, where they have been given a third-story room for a club room. The following girls have been elected as officers: Bessie Brock, president; Thelma Cooper, vice-president; Othilda Heinricks, secretary, and Marion Gubaty, treasurer.

Friday evening, April 19, the Riverside Colored Girl Reserves, the "Happiness" Club, had as guests at their recognition service their mothers, the Riverside grade school club, the Riverton colored club, and Mrs. Gertrude Williams, of Moorestown. Since this was the first ceremonial for the Riverside club the Riverton girls officiated. After the processional, "Triangle of Blue," Elizabeth Bracy, Riverside, told of the work of the Y. W. C. A. This was followed by a talk, "Christ of The Andes," by Alice Wise; a song, by Gussie Filmore; a talk, "Today," by Mita Bracy, and a song by Ethel Bracy. Miss Dorothy Gebhart, of the County Y. W. C. A., spoke of "Why Girls Join a Girl Reserve Club," and Mrs. E. J. Young, Riverton adviser, explained the Girl Reserve Code. After the prayer, led by Miss M. Edna Hines, Riverside adviser, the girls sang "Follow the Gleam" as a recessional.

FIREMEN MEET AT BURLINGTON

New County Marshall Installed, Ending Long Fight by Association

The monthly meeting of the Burlington County Firemen's Association held Wednesday night in Grange Hall, Burlington, was attended by 250 firemen, representing 29 companies, and visitors from Atco, Camden County, and Trenton and White Horse, Mercer County.

President Russell C. Holmes presided and Mayor Harold V. Holmes welcomed the firemen to Burlington.

Chief McClain, of Medford, announced the appointment of Chief William J. Smith, of Bridgeboro, to the position of fire marshal of Burlington County by the Board of Chosen Freeholders at a salary of $500 per year, ending a long fight by the association for the creation of the office.

The association decided to make another trip to the New Jersey State Firemen's Home some Sunday in June, and appointed the following committee to make arrangements and secure a band: Chief Walter McClain, of Medford; Chief David A. Brotherton, of Burlington; Chief Theodore Pennock, of Mount Holly; Secretary William G. Gingien, of Bordentown; Horace Bintliff, of Moorestown; Chief Edward Lauder, of Riverside, and Evan F. Benners, of Moorestown.

Assistant Chief George McCrossan and Firemen Jablosky, Rainbow, Peters, O'Donnell and Dill, of the Trenton fire department, gave interesting talks and the newly appointed Mercer County fire marshal, David Newell, spoke of the 250th anniversary of the settlement of the city of Trenton, when Saturday, November 2, would be observed as Firemen's Day, which will include a big parade.

Auditor Charles E. Burr, of the State Association, said there are now 62 residents of the Firemen's Home, and also stated that from April 4, 1928, to April 4, 1929, there had been 143 death benefits paid by the State Association.

Chief E. H. McAllister, of Moorestown, announced a meeting of the Burlington County Unit of Fire Chiefs would be held at the Relief Engine House, Moorestown, Wednesday evening, April 24, and President Holmes gave notice of a meeting to be held in the fire house at Florence, Monday evening, April 29, to be addressed by John Andes, president of the New Jersey Exempt Firemen's Association.

Louis Franks, of Atco, announced the annual banquet of the Camden County Association would be held on Saturday, May 25, at the Hotel Walt Whitman, Camden.

During the evening the orchestra of the Wilbur Watts High School rendered a number of pleasing selections. Following the meeting a luncheon was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Burlington companies. The next meeting of the association will be held in the Jr. O. U. A. M. Hall, Lumberton, Wednesday evening, May 15.

GROUP REPORTERS TELL OF Y DOINGS

Lone Eagles Decide at Last Minute on "Doggie" Roast in Woods

By Reporter Donald Gilbert

The Lone Eagle Group of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. decided at the last minute last Saturday that it would have a "doggie roast," so provisions were obtained and the hike started. We went out Columbia avenue and through a few fields until we came to Dead Man's Woods. When we got there two of the boys, who claimed they could start a fire, tried to do it, but after wasting a half box of matches, they decided that they had miscalculated their ability. Another boy then tried and soon had a roaring fire.

Leader Carter climbed up a tree and said that anyone who couldn't climb as high wouldn't get anything to eat. Everyone immediately raced for a tree and got as high as possible, many of them were higher than Leader Carter was. When we got down we played a game for about an hour and then got the "dogs" out and prepared to eat. What we ate there probably none of us would have eaten at home. The dogs were all burnt and full of ashes from being dropped in the fire and we all got our share of sand and smoke. But we were all hungry and there is an old saying that "What you don't see won't hurt you." It was so dark no one noticed anything.

After we finished eating, we began to climb again and several of the boys had barked shins by the time we were ready to go home. Leader Carter gave an exhibition of a human ape, swinging from tree to tree. The first time he was successful, but when he tried it again the tree broke and down he came. When the laughter subsided, we put out the fire and started for home. We arrived at the "Y" Building about 11 o'clock and from there went home.

NEW ADDITION FOR ST. JOSEPH'S HOME

Home Conducted by Franciscan Sisters Gives Refuge to All Denominations

Of interest to residents of this community is the announcement that the St. Joseph's Home for the Aged, Beverly, which is conducted by the Franciscan Sisters, is to be enlarged. An additional wing is to be built to the fine institution so that no aged person will have to be turned away.

The structure houses both men and women and although it is under the supervision of the Sisters, people of all denominations and creeds are given shelter in their declining years.

The addition will be ninety-six feet in size and will face on Warren street, Beverly. The construction materials will be stone and concrete with interlocking tile and stone trimmings. The roof will be asbestos, slate or wood. The floor will be reinforced concrete on steel and masonry. The partitions will be gypsum or terra cotta blocks. There will be steel stairways throughout the building.

The new addition will be three stories high and will contain four dormitories. There will be fifteen bedrooms and two sun parlors; also two recreation rooms, a private dining room, a main dining room, modern baths, parlors and a hospital.

The building, it is said, will be an exceptionally fine one, and will be perfectly adapted to the purpose to which it will be put. According to report the improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

St. Joseph's Home, which occupies the most of the block bounded by Third street, Warren street, Magnolia street and the Manor road, Beverly, is one of the most important institutions in Burlington County. It is conducted by the Sisters of the Third Franciscan Order, and no man nor woman is turned away from its doors, no matter what ails or her religion may be. It is a refuge in fact as well as in name, and it is a home in every sense the term implies.

All of the work in the home is done by the Franciscan Sisters. Some of them go out collecting for the maintenance of the home and others remain to do the housework—scrubbing, making beds, cooking, and even doing the weekly wash.

And with all the cooking, all the scrubbing, all the bed-making and all the washing—a tremendous task—the Sisters find time to go among the residents with cheering words and consolation and sympathy, in order to give them the things that the heart of the aged yearns for. The Sisters in no way fall short in the work they have attempted. They try to give the residents all the things they had in the home of other days. In many instances they are given more.

St. Joseph's Home is an institution that must live largely on the charity of the people. And knowing what a fine institution it is; knowing of the work that is being done, the people are responsive.

There have been a few legacies from people iterested in the institution, and while they are helpful, they do not total enough to take the home out of the hands of charity.

The home was incorporated April 12, 1894, and since that time many aged men and women have found comfort and happiness within its protecting portals.

DRUNKEN DRIVER

Robert McKee, 1036 North Twenty-sixth street, Camden, was arrested Saturday by Corporal Horn, of Bridgeboro State Police Barracks, charged with drunken driving.

McKee was held in Riverton until Sunday morning when he was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace Cecil Bowers, of Cinnaminson Township, who revoked the offender's license for two years.

Penny Wise

A penny saved is not always a penny earned. Sometimes it is two pennies lost. The merchant who spends nothing on advertising is practicing false economy; his losses in sales far exceed the pennies saved.

The money spent for plate glass windows is not looked on as lost; nor is the money spent on better interior lighting.

Anything that increases favor, that adds to sales, that multiplies customers is very properly regarded as a good investment.

Advertising is a good investment—just as plate glass windows are. Advertising is the plate glass window the merchant can send into every home. Advertising sells more goods to more persons than shop-windows do.
