BODY FOUND BY FATHER AND BROTHER

Woman Sent to Cooper Hospital Expected to Recover from Knife Wounds

Mrs. Anna Kinder, 50, of Sewell, N. J., attempted suicide at the home of her father, John Lenhart, Riverton, at 3:30 this (Thursday) morning. She cut her throat with a butcher knife and slashed her wrists with a paring knife.

When John Lenhart and son Frank found Mrs. Kinder they notified Officer Walter Miller who brought Dr. LeFavor to the scene. Dr. LeFavor ordered the woman removed to Cooper Hospital, Camden, in the Palmyra ambulance.

Domestic disturbances are thought to be the cause of the suicide attempt. The latest reports this morning gave strong indications toward Mrs. Kinder's recovery.

PRATT DEFENSE MEETING TONIGHT

Friends Rally to Aid of Palmyra Man Charged With Shooting

A public meeting will be held in P. O. B. of A. Hall, Palmyra, this Thursday evening, September 5, at 8 o'clock, in the interest of the "Johnny Pratt Defense" fund.

The following statement has been issued by the committee in charge, which sets forth the purposes and aims of the gathering:

"On August 2, 1929, John Pratt of Palmyra, was driven into an insane frenzy by William King, because King, with threats of bodily harm and the loss of his job, refused to pay Pratt $35 due him on a contract on which Pratt had paid out wages to other men, and King was shot."

"King had deprived Pratt of $32.50 in the same manner in 1921, and told Pratt he intended to do the same with the $35. Pratt has a wife and six small children and he could not stand having their food taken out of their mouths in this way."

"For years, King, as construction superintendent of road work, has successfully followed this practice with employees, using brutal threats to keep the victims from seeking redress."

"Johnny Pratt is 35 years old and has lived a clean, blameless life being honest, industrious and law-abiding, in an effort to be square with his fellowmen, and has built up a reputation for decency among those who knew him and employed him."

"Friends of Johnny Pratt, white and colored, have organized the 'Johnny Pratt Defense Fund' and a Public Meeting will be held on Thursday night, September 5th, at 8 o'clock, in P. O. B. of A. Hall, Palmyra, N. J., for the purpose of arranging for the defense of Johnny Pratt, and to raise funds for the cost and for the benefit of his family."

"Captain Robert Peacock and Senator Clifford R. Poore have offered their legal services free on Johnny Pratt's behalf, but there will be other legal costs that must be met."

"You are invited to attend this meeting. Your help is needed for the giving of funds or to give information concerning the character and reputation of William King and that of Johnny Pratt. The lives of the two men are in great contrast, and any aid you can give in softening the hard arm of the law will be fully justified. A man's life or liberty is at stake."

"JOHNNY PRATT DEFENSE FUND": Harvey Pratt, President, 308 Third street, Palmyra, N. J.; Walter D. Lamont, Treasurer, Palmyra, N. J.; Telephone, Riverton 892; John H. Williams, Secretary, 201 Arch street, Palmyra, N. J.; George Cherry, Finance Officer, Jefferson and Market streets, Palmyra, N. J.

600 GIRLS ENJOY CAMP OCKANICKON

Many Beneficial Activities Mark Program Throughout Vacation Period

Y. W. C. A. Camp Ockanickon closed its third successful camping season Monday, September 2. The total enrollment for 1929 was approximately 600, with thirty-two counselors in charge for each week. The camp committee, with its several Burlington county members, feels highly repaid for the time and money it was necessary to expend in preparing for this most satisfactory camp.

Mrs. Edward Harmer, of Moorestown, is chairman of the committee, and other Burlington county members are Mrs. John Shies and Mrs. J. W. Davis, of Edgewater Park, and Miss Sidonie Schaefer, of the County YWCA staff. New Burlington county members are Mrs. F. P. Darlington, of New Lisbon and Mrs. Barclay Allen, of Vincentown.

One feature of camp which has aroused much favorable comment is the splendid food which was served throughout the entire season. The Mrs. Buck of Mount Holly were the cooks, and Miss Elizabeth Howard, of Mount Carmel, Pa., the dietitian. The varied menus had been carefully planned in advance by Miss Sidonie Schaefer, of Mount Holly, business manager, and Miss Fern Kishner, National YWCA Secretary for South Jersey.

Life Saving Tests

Water sports continued to be one of the most popular activities this season. Under the direction of Mrs. Roy Clement, of Woodbury, a most enthusiastic group of girls joined the beginners class and learned the fundamentals of swimming. The Red Cross system of life-saving was used and eighty girls passed the beginners and swimmers tests, sixteen the junior life-saving and four the senior life-saving tests. Instructions in life-saving was given by Miss Laura Sypher, of Camden, and examinations by Mrs. Clement. Long distance swimming was introduced for the first time with Mrs. Roy Von Meckow and Mrs. Glen Starkhouse, both of Princeton, as instructors. A class in advanced canoeing created much interest among the advanced swimmers. Miss Sypher conducted this class, while Miss Margaret Maier, of Woodbury, again had the classes in diving. Miss Clara Sumner, of Woodbury, and Miss Helen Richards, who were in charge of boating and canoeing.

Land sports as well as water sports had their share in the interest of the girls. The three baseball games, two of which were won by the campers and one by the counselors, were very popular. There were also tennis tournaments, volleyball games, and hikes.

"Craft House Popular": The craft house was a popular place where Miss Elizabeth Langenecker, of Burlington, taught the making of miniature pictures, fascinating leather purses, book-covers, bill-folds and coin cases, etched silver bracelets, spray-dyed scarves and handkerchiefs and Italian hemstitched towels.

Miss Mary Wells, of Pemberton, in dramatics, and Miss Virginia Eden, of Pemberton, in dancing and Miss Irma Haney, of Burlington, in music, did excellent work with their groups. The colorful international pageant representing many countries coming to America, each bringing its own contribution to add to the richness of America's life, was a joint project of the three groups. A clever three-act play, "Catching Clara," depicting boarding-school life, delighted the audience. The "Maker of Dreams" and two religious dramas "Honey and Wild Locusts" and "The Virgin's Well" were outstanding productions of the dramatic groups.

Group singing added zest to the evening programs and the choir contributed much to morning worship and Sunday services. The delightful program given by Robin Hood's minstrels illustrated beautifully the splendid work that can be done in a camp music program.

Nature Study

Camp Ockanickon is an exceptional place for studying nature. Miss Mary Wells, of Pemberton, Maine, and Miss Marian Bruen, of Towaco, found many interesting specimens of plant and insect life for group study. One delightful project of the Nature Study group was the building of a miniature cranberry bog.

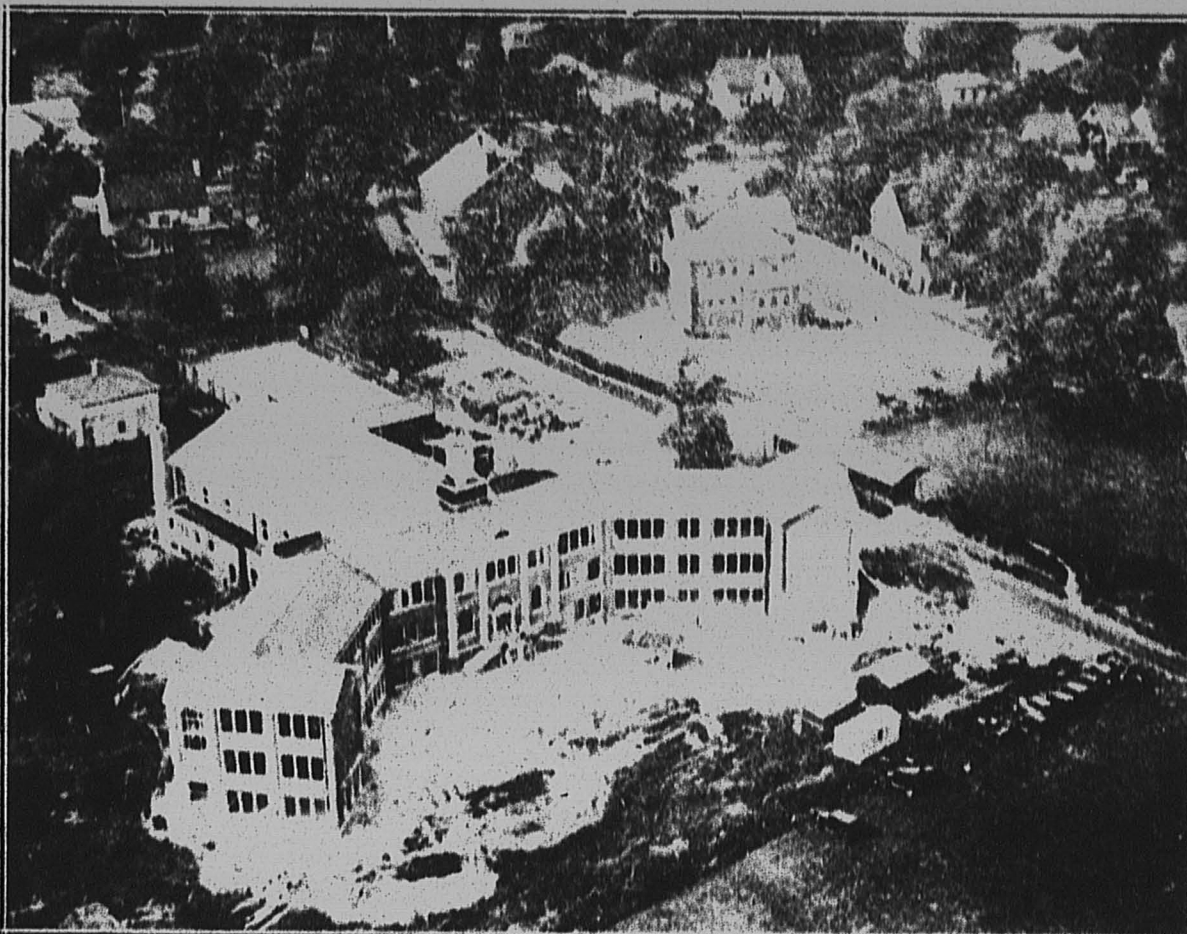

The story-telling and poetry groups, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Gehlbart, of the Burlington County YWCA staff, and Miss Helen Nichols, offered an opportunity for girls to hear attractive stories and poems of different types. Many girls desired not only to hear stories but to gain practice in telling them correctly. Such girls had the benefit of criticism by the group and several contributed stories to the evening programs.

Miss Margaret Ewing, of Camden, who was in charge of worship, planned many beautiful services for daily worship. Each day different girls were in charge. Through participation in the worship services as well as in dramatics, story-telling, and other departments, many girls at camp have shown great development in leadership.

Outside Speakers

For the Sunday speakers there were outside speakers. Mrs. Edward Harmer, of Moorestown, was the first. She spoke on meeting situations as they come to us in our daily living. Mrs. William Schaefer, of Freehold, on August 18 led a beautiful service on Nature. Palestine was the theme on the third Sunday when Mrs. John Cotton Mather, of Woodbury, spoke of her recent visit there. On Sunday, September 1, Mrs. Petherbridge, of Cam-

CHILDREN HAPPY AT PREVENTORIUM

Ten Weeks at Oxnard Bring Gains in Weight, Health and Happiness

The Burlington County Preventorium closed its seventh season at Oxnard on August 29, thus completing a very successful ten weeks camp for the undernourished school children of Burlington County.

The Preventorium, which is conducted each year by the Burlington County Tuberculosis League, had for its superintendent this year Mrs. Emily Griffith, of Lansdowne, who was most efficient and was beloved by all the children.

She was assisted by three counselors, viz. Miss Isabel Gray, of Brown's Mills; Miss Ethel Mader and Miss Katharine Cook, both of Burlington, and Miss Adelle Bachman, of Burlington, who catered splendidly to the appetites of all.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Snow, of Ridgefield, were very helpful in the performance of their duties. The Preventorium is located on the Oxnard road, midway between (Continued on Page 6)

MRS. ROSNER DIES; CHILDREN IMPROVING

Second Victim of Fatal Palmyra Fire Succumbs in West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital

Mrs. Martin Rosner, who was fatally burned when fire, which caused the death of her husband, broke out in their home several days ago, succumbed in the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Camden, early last Thursday morning, August 29.

The two children who suffered from inhaling the heavy smoke and from burns are reported to be on the road to recovery.

Norma, the 12-year-old daughter of the Rosners, is in the Camden hospital where the mother was taken, and is expected to be discharged in a few days.

The 7-year-old son, Israel, while being feverishly burned about the face and chest, is thought to be out of danger.

den used "Fresh Air" as her subject. During the third week of camp, six reels of movies of camp life were taken. An enthusiastic group witnessed the first showing of the pictures on Friday, August 31. These movies will be available for use by groups in the four interested counties.

During the last week the "Squaw House," the tent-house donated by the campers, was used.

The very splendid success of camp this year is greatly due to the untiring efforts of the camp directors, Miss Mildred Wilcox, of the National Board of the YWCA, 606 Lexington avenue, New York, and the business manager, Miss Sidonie Schaefer, of the Burlington County YWCA.

PLAN TO HONOR GEN. PULAWSKI

Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of Death of Patriot to be Commemorated

Representatives of the Polish-American Citizens Clubs and also clubs and associations of Riverside and Cambridge, are planning a celebration to honor the memory of a brave warrior who fought for a great cause.

The celebration will be held in Riverside on Saturday, October 13th. The co-operation of all institutions, organizations and residents of Riverside and vicinity is requested.

A hundred and fifty years have passed since Casimir Pulawski took part in many battles against Poland's foes, for the freedom of his country.

On the field of battle he lost his father and three brothers, who were also fighting for the cause of their country.

He later journeyed on to Turkey, and from there to France, where he took part in the American Colonists' fight for independence reached his end. After a talk with Benjamin Franklin he decided to come to America, when he died immediately.

General Casimir Pulawski, an experienced soldier, hardened by many years of war, was highly recommended to George Washington, who gave him the privilege to organize a regular cavalry.

At Valley Forge

He took part in many battles, those of Brandywine, Germantown, Valley Forge, Trenton, etc.

He later organized an independent legion, known as "Pulawski Legion," which won some decisive battles. Fighting his way to the South he was mortally wounded in an attack on the enemy near Savannah, Georgia.

Casimir Pulawski gave great service. He gave his blood and his life, for freedom of the Colonies, which are now the United States of America.

After one hundred and thirty years the Congress of the United States honored this hero by erecting a monument to his memory in the Capitol of this country. Now, after one hundred and fifty years, Congress has decided to honor him on October 11, 1929.

President Hoover has called a national committee, which is planning a great celebration in Washington and at Savannah, Georgia.

Pleasant Day for Families and Friends is Purpose of Palmyra's Old Home Day

Committee is Disappointed in Amount of Interest Shown by Business Men but Decide to Proceed With Plans "Cutting Garment According to the Cloth"

(By Publicity Committee) The desire of the Palmyra "Old Home Day" Committee is to make the celebration this year the greatest reunion of families and friends that has yet been attempted.

Many boys and girls have come from the old town and made their mark elsewhere in the world and we are particularly reaching out for them to come "home" for the day. Years ago Palmyra was noted for its large families and as a few we might cite the Powers, Walters, Winters, Harleys, Hanes, Westneys, Weinman, Hays, Thompson and many others. Some of these families have relatively moved away, some have representatives still in the town and many have passed to their last home.

Let us endeavor to have a number of family reunions on October 5. Let us remember the relations and friends who formerly lived here. Give the names and addresses to the Registration Committee so that official invitations may be sent out. Every old timer attending will be received by the committee, given a badge, and will be entertained with plenty to eat.

The invitation committee is composed of Mrs. Evelyn French, chairman; Mrs. Mary Connor, Mrs. Mary King, Robert M. Cooke, Julia Board.

Phonetic Hays and George W. Rogers. At the meeting of the Old Home Day Committee last Wednesday evening the entire situation was reviewed and although the financial response was not as good as anticipated, it was unanimously resolved to go ahead with the celebration and cut the garment according to the cloth.

The committee was disappointed at the lack of interest among the business men of the town as they are the only ones who will reap real financial return. As one of the committee put it: "Will it or will it not help to bring to the town five hundred to a thousand friends and relatives who have been all day and ten thousand dollars to the town at night?"

The sentimental feature of the celebration is the meeting and reunion of friends and relatives. The pleasant feature is the much anticipated fireworks, etc., while the business feature is the advertising the town will get which surely must bring returns to every business man.

Suppose we spend $150,000. Forged the sentiment, the pleasure, the fun and all the rest of the celebration and how could the town get more advertising than in this way? Think it over, for as the town prospers, it prospers you.

BROWN'S MILLS BUS LINE SOLD TO P. R. R.

Purchase Made in Name of Pennsylvania General Transit Company, Railroad's Subsidiary

The Pennsylvania General Transit Company, a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, has purchased the bus right-of-way from Joseph Mahan, operator of the Philadelphia-Brown's Mills bus line, according to an announcement last week.

It is reported that Mahan sold out for $30,000. The new owner has asked the Public Utilities Commission to sanction the transfer.

The new operators have already put into service a new bus, and it is understood that they plan to use a fleet of new buses for the Brown's Mills line in the near future. Travel over the line has been exceptionally heavy this summer and Brown's Mills residents are anticipating better service with the installation of the new modern buses. It is planned to start these buses on September 15.

Mahan, who started the bus line some time ago, plans to operate another line from Philadelphia to Blackwood.

The Pennsylvania Company has an application pending for permission to operate a line from Philadelphia to Asbury Park, via Brown's Mills.

Some subscribers appear to give our bills their unremitting attention.

BODY OF SUICIDE IS FOUND UNDER PALMYRA BRIDGE

Philadelphia Man Dies of 23 Self-Inflicted Knife Wounds

BRIDGE WORKMEN FIRST TO SEE BODY

Daughter of Dead Man Identifies Body at Snover Funeral Home

The body of John J. Bernice, 74, of 4040 Fernside avenue, Philadelphia, was found Wednesday morning under the Palmyra bridge, on the New Jersey side of the Delaware River. Bernice, with 23 knife wounds in his abdomen and three in his back.

Jack Vance, a workman on the bridge, was the first to see Bernice's body. He called Capt. Pascoe, a police workman, and asked Pascoe what that was in a pool of water under the bridge. Pascoe saw it was a man and Chief of Police Morris Beck was called. With the aid of a rope and several workmen, the chief brought the body ashore and had it removed to Snover's Funeral Home.

At first the idea of murder was advanced as the possibility of a man inflicting so many wounds in his own body seemed very doubtful. Some of the wounds were two inches deep.

As the investigation progressed it was learned a man was missing from his home on Fernside avenue. Three detectives from Philadelphia came to Snover's to try to identify the body and they were present when Bernice's daughter, Catherine Miller, identified the body as that of her father.

County Detective Ellis Parker and his two assistants, Sam and Carver, along with Detective Benjamin Farnes, Trooper George Small, were notified. The detectives and Trooper Small took finger prints of the dead man.

The wounds in Bernice's body were still bleeding when it was found and the color of the blood indicated that the body had been in water for a few hours.

The last his family saw of Bernice was when he left home at six o'clock Tuesday evening. It is reported that he left a note at the home saying he was going to commute.

Funeral services will be held Friday night from the Snover Funeral Home. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Columbia, Pa.

He was taken to the office of Police Physician LeFavor, who pronounced him intoxicated and later was given a hearing before Recorder Fisher.

IMPROVEMENT GROUP HAS VARIED PLANS

Many Activities Under Way at Palmyra Extension

Membership is open to all male residents over eighteen years of age and it is expected that a 100 per cent attendance will be effected at this meeting.

A feature of the evening will be an address by T. Harry Roschard, Esq., counsel for the Delaware River Bridge Joint Commission, and president of Palmyra Extension, Inc.

The cable committee will report in the progress of the projected improvements.

Much favorable comment has been heard from visitors regarding the general street signs recently placed. Many more of these are to be erected.

Our local traffic police have likewise been commended for their efficiency and courtesy in handling the unusually heavy bridge traffic.

To develop latent talent and provide community entertainment, an orchestra is being organized.

PLANNER ATTACKS GRADE CROSSINGS

Connell Says Overpasses on Heavily Traveled Highways Must Go

Elimination of highway grade crossings on heavily traveled highways in the Tri-State District is urged by William H. Connell, Executive Director of the Regional Planning Federation.

Many such crossings cut the traffic capacity in half and are more dangerous than railroad crossings, he declared, in making public preliminary studies obtained from the main and destination traffic count taken Thursday, June 6, within a radius of about 40 miles of Philadelphia.

More than 700,000 persons travel by automobile in the region outside of Philadelphia on a normal week-day, the count revealed. They go to work, shop, school, or recreation. The proportion and how many they go to being analyzed by the Federation.

Of the 700,000 about 200,000 motor through 10 principal highways into Philadelphia each day. The majority of them continue on to the central business district. These, as well as a tide of daily travelers, commuters, shoppers and others who use highways, railroads, subways and buses to increase the total number of people passing into the heart of the city to an estimated total of more than 1,000,000.

The origin and destination traffic survey was made through the co-operation of the highway departments of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware. All passenger carriers of every type participated in it. When completed, Mr. Connell said, it will furnish a graphic picture of daily travel from suburbs to cities, from one center of population to another.

Refined to essentials, the mass of index data derived from the survey, Mr. Connell declared, will be used in planning a system of highways for the future traffic of the Philadelphia Tri-State District. Motor traffic in the district has quadrupled in the last ten years. Elimination of the old radial layout of highways and the planning of new, and other belt lines have become imperative to relieve congested centers and to make all sections readily accessible.

The Federation is engaged in analyzing the highway routes used by motorists in going from suburban points to work, shop or play in Philadelphia, Camden, Trenton, Wilmington, Chester, Norristown and other centers of population in the region. With this information as a basis, it will then be possible to develop plans for a correlated system of highways and parkways to serve all communities.

While it is too early to draw general conclusions from the origin and destination survey, one fact sticks out like a sore thumb. That is, the need for elimination of highway crossings at grade. With the motor car multiplying in such numbers, the necessity of keeping traffic moving on heavily traveled routes becomes apparent. Steps must be taken to do away with highway grade crossings. Pending the survey, the region is that at Lancaster, just west of City Line. At such points, one of the highways should be depressed below the other to allow for an uninterrupted flow of traffic.

The Westchester County Park Commission in New York and the New Jersey State Highway Commission have solved this problem by the construction of bridges or overpasses with ramps for motor cars that will make a turn. The New Jersey officials are anxious to have the same plan to eliminate highway grade crossings on heavily traveled routes. Such grade crossings in many cases cut the traffic capacity in half. They also cause many accidents, and are more dangerous than railroad crossings and should be eliminated.

The TOWN DOCTOR

(THE DOCTOR OF TOWNS)

DON'T CONFUSE CIVIC LOYALTY WITH GOOD BUSINESS.

Maybe you have a perfect right to feel that your local merchants are behind times in the way they do things and the merchandise they carry. But you can't do anything to help change the situation? Not my lookout, you say—well, let's consider it in this way.

If, in your estimation, your stores and merchants ARE poor, it is not going to matter if they better let you in to tell everybody about it, and when you are in need of something to buy it by mail order, from a peddler, or go to some other town. On the other hand, if you will give your local merchants a break and OFFER to buy from them, you will be performing not only a service to your community, a good turn to your fellow-citizen, but you will be doing YOURSELF a favor. To let a matter of community interest or civic loyalty drive welfare—it is purely a matter of good business—mightily good business, on your part.

If you live in a town—your, or those who surround your livelihood are in business or they at least are, a living in the community. If you own real estate, there is that much more reason why you should go out of your way to see to it that your community gets all the business possible, but you don't have to see two or three store buildings, a house, and lot, or be a stockholder in a bank, in order that it pay YOU a profit. Therefore, if it is only your duty, but it is YOUR BUSINESS to see to it that the community gets all the business from your town and everyone else you can influence; also, it is your BUSINESS to see to it that YOUR town is not looked down upon, as it surely will be, if its stores are behind the times.

NEW JERSEY CENSUS SUPERVISOR TO BE NAMED

That a census supervisor for the South Jersey District will be recommended by the director of census in Washington in the near future has been announced by Congressman Charles A. Wolfenden. The task of counting the people in New Jersey will require a force of 2,500 men and women working under 11 supervisors according to the terms of the census, now preparing for the Federal census of 1930. In the densely populated districts each enumerator will have approximately 1,000 persons to count, while in the rural districts in which the enumerators must be taken, each enumerator will have about 1,200 to count. Field workers state that they expect an energetic enumerator to cover his route in the city in about two weeks and in the country in about a month.

RESIDENTS FIGHTING ELLISBURG PADLOCK

142 Delaware Township Taxpayers Petition for Reopening of Hotel Recently Closed

A petition signed by 142 residents of Delaware Township, asking for removal of padlock from the Ellisburg Hotel has been presented to the United States District Court.

The petition, the first of its kind ever recorded in New Jersey, is in possession of U. S. District Judge Roy L. Parker, Newark, who ordered the place padlocked a month ago.

This padlock was ordered after a year or more ago, before the present proprietor, Daniel Reath, took possession.

Reading, the petitioners say, "an honorable and upright citizen," and the hotel has been conducted in a "clean and law-abiding manner" since he took possession.

The padlock order was the result of raids which were made by local and State police more than a year ago, when the inn was operated by John Clement.

The padlock order was not brought about by any misdeed committed by Reath and the residents of the Township have consequently consented to sign the petition which has been circulated in an effort to re-establish Reath in business.

PUBLIC SERVICE PAYS $6,600 TO S. J. DRIVERS

No Accident Bonus Awards Distributed Among 344 Operators at Camden By Division Chief

Vineland garage operators won the special garage or carhouse prize for having the best no-accident record in the division. In addition to their regular bonus checks, Vineland operators each received an additional $5.00.

Records of operation for the division show that 119 operators did not have an accident in the four months. There were 117 with one accident each, 77 with two accidents and 31 with three accidents. In eight months of operation 23 operators have not had an accident.

Complimenting the Vineland operators, Manager Rothery urged the operators of the entire division to make an effort to better their marks during the next four months.

CHARGE WITH ATTACK ON 12-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Medford Young Man Now in Jail, But Physician States Victim Was Unharmed

Quite a sensation was created in Medford Wednesday at last week when it was rumored about that Stanley Drayton, a well-known young man about town, had feloniously assaulted Audrey McCorky, a 12-year-old and a half-year-old girl of Medford Lakes, but when it had been learned that no serious damage had been done the little one, the excitement subsided and Drayton was taken to Mount Holly and given a preliminary hearing before Justice Throckmorton, later being committed to the County Jail.

Drayton is employed on an ice delivery truck and it is claimed that while delivering ice at Medford Lakes, he enticed the little girl to take a ride with him, taking her well back into the dense woods where he ripped off her clothing and otherwise abused her, but becoming frightened when she screamed loudly he hastened back with her and left her at her home.

ELIZABETH HOST TO STATE LEGION

Thousands to Attend Sessions This Thursday, Friday and Saturday

More than 2,000 delegates and alternates and 75,000 to 100,000 guests and visitors are expected to invade Elizabeth this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, September 5-7, for the eleventh annual convention of the State Department of the American Legion. All signs forecast that this convocation will be the most notable in the history of the New Jersey Department and of World War Veterans in general.

Distinguished speakers, including Governor Morgan F. Larson, National Vice Commander E. L. White, and Past National Commander Franklin D. Oiler, will mark high spots in the convention program. City and County are co-operating with the Legionnaires by decorating the city in holiday colors to welcome the thousands of visitors; and the entertainment committee has made arrangements to make the stay of the guests a most pleasant one.

At the same time, the American Legion Auxiliary, Department of New Jersey, will be in session, and there will be meetings of the side degrees or fun-making branches—the organizations, 40 at 8 and 8 at 40.

The Windfield Best Hotel will be the headquarters for the Legionnaires and the Elizabeth Cartier Hotel will be used by the members of the Auxiliary, both for headquarters and convention hall. The sessions of the Legion Convention on September 5th and 6th will be conducted in the Elks Auditorium, the Argonne Post Headquarters will be used as the meeting room for the 40 at 8 Convention, and the 8 at 40 will convene in the Elizabeth Cartier Hotel after the Auxiliary sessions.

Registrations of delegates and alternates and reservations for rooms are coming in rapidly from the Poles throughout the State.

Attention is called to the fact that all Legionnaires are welcome to register for the entire duration of the convention, and that they will receive all privileges of delegates and alternates, with the exception of speaking from the floor at the Convention sessions and voting.

The Convention parade will be held on Saturday afternoon and will be a splendid affair, with bands of from one hundred to four or five hundred cars. Spending as many as a half million dollars or more annually, it pays them to get the facts of the cost of transporting their men about the country. Many of them break the cost per mile down to one-tenth of a cent and save money by the knowledge so gained.

"On the basis of the facts obtained in this manner, fleet owners during the first half of this year purchased fifty-four per cent more Oakland and Pontiac autos than they bought during the corresponding period of 1920."

OAKLAND-PONTIAC FLEET SALES UP

Many Companies Buying Larger Cars Says W. L. Shaffner, Manager, in Announcing 50% Increase

The fact that the number of prominent American companies using fleets of Oakland and Pontiac sales more than doubled during the first six months of this year offers the ultimate proof of "low cost per mile" in these two automobiles according to W. L. Shaffner, manager of fleet sales for the Oakland Motor Car Company.

"The average private owner possesses only a very hazy idea as to his cost per mile," said Mr. Shaffner. "If he seems to be visiting the gas station or the service station too frequently he develops a vague notion that his operating costs may be high. But he doesn't know."

The real information on this subject usually is obtained only by the major companies, which operate fleets of from one hundred to four or five hundred cars. Spending as many as a half million dollars or more annually, it pays them to get the facts of the cost of transporting their men about the country. Many of them break the cost per mile down to one-tenth of a cent and save money by the knowledge so gained.

"On the basis of the facts obtained in this manner, fleet owners during the first half of this year purchased fifty-four per cent more Oakland and Pontiac autos than they bought during the corresponding period of 1920."

PLANE TALKS

By H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

Two more members of the Burlington County Aero Club look to the sky above during the first week. At William Willis, of Palmyra, made his solo hop on Sunday and Albert W. MacFarland of Florence Station followed on Monday, making his first solo flight. Our congratulations boys.

Reynolds Aircraft Corporation, of Bristol, is completing a Patriot for the Wright Aeronautical Corporation. This ship is a de luxe model. Instead of carrying eighteen passengers, it is superbly appointed for eight people and includes complete kitchen equipment, two bunks, refrigeration. In fact, here is a real apartment with every modern convenience capable of flying at the rate of 151 miles an hour.

Just what do we have to do to shake the people of Burlington County out of their lethargy and make them really air-minded? We have given you one good airport and we are working on several others for the county.

You can learn to fly at a price far below the standard flying school price by joining the Burlington County Aero Club. Your instruction will be given by a pilot licensed by the U. S. Department of Commerce in new production planes approved and licensed by the Department of Commerce.

The Heilner-Joyce Aircraft Corporation, of Baltimore, is developing several new types of fighting ships for the Army and Navy air forces. These ships embody several unique features and will be capable of extremely high speed and exceptional maneuverability.

A Dornier-Supercub flying boat is being assembled at the Naval Aircraft factory, Philadelphia. The ship, which will be used by the Stout Air Lines between Detroit and Buffalo, will carry thirty passengers and is powered by four 625 hp air-cooled motors of American make.

BURLINGTON MAN IS INVENTOR OF ORIENTAL TAXIS

James H. Birch For Many Years Built Jirikishas For

USE OF THESE VEHICLES IS RAPIDLY DECLINING

"Coolie"-Driven Buggies Being Supplanted By Autos and Motorcycles

When Cartoonist Bob Ripley recently revealed in "Believe It or Not" that this quiet Quaker town was the birth place of the jirikisha, the non-cylinder two-leg power driver of the Orient, he stirred the memory more than since Benjamin Franklin printed the first money here way back in 1729.

But, like all of Ripley's seeming paradoxes, the fact remains that in James H. Birch's carriage shop on Liberty street was the genesis of the jirikisha, and that Mr. Birch himself has been seeing these quaint vehicles roll off his assembly line for nearly thirty years.

Not only did he create the jirikisha, but he opened the markets of the world to it, circling the earth many times as a trade missionary of two-leg transportation. But for the motorcycle, he says, the jirikishas would be rolling out in profusion today as they were at the height of their vogue twenty years ago.

Surprised the Town

Townpeople know the Birch carriage and harness factories here as Burlington's major industry for many years. But until Ripley told the news to the vicinity, they hadn't fumbled to the "rickshaw" town.

James H. Birch, the elder, founder of the business, was an apprentice wheelwright in nearby Johnston before the Civil War, when the village was a crossroads. That was before the clan, Lott and his established nearby their famed harness and carriage trade, as now, of fine horse-drawn.

Birch sensed the spirit of the times. He established a shop here which turned out buggies in profusion. And the swarms of the day soon found that a Birch buggy-wheel wouldn't break when the current one-hand drivers behind skiffish steeds would suffer bumps against the sturdy poles that lined dark rural roads.

He was well on his way to his first million when his son, just out of school, went to see the world. And he's been seeing it ever since. Whenever he went he designed ready-hides for the people and soon Birch-made vehicles were on roads in every quarter of the earth.

Rickshaws on Heads

That's how it happened to invent the jirikisha. It was in Durban, South Africa, where Zulu natives were carrying their loads on their heads. The first rickshaw shipment from Burlington found the natives delighted. Used to carrying every burden on their heads, they hoisted the bulky two-wheeled rickshaws atop their heads, passengers and all. Mr. Birch was on hand to show them the right way.

Then he ventured into Abyssinia, where he designed a state carriage for the emperor. It was a jirikisha, a black motor-car, which he had built for the emperor to the coach.

In England Mr. Birch created the victoria. Its vogue survived until the motor age.

"Buggy By Birch"

Birch dealers got colored chrome to display in fighting the new-fangled motor-buggy. "The Passing of the Horse" was their title, and they showed a one-cylinder petrol turn-out of the period. Its post-motor days and jirikishas strung along a roadside, while brightly passengers in a rubber-tired buggy passed by in disdain. "Buggy by Birch."

It was the motorcycle that did it. He told the Evening Journal reporter: "Jirikishas are still being shipped to Japan, South Africa and China, but not in numbers."

Mr. Birch remains unconvinced of the efficacy of the automobile in the Orient.

BABY CLING

The Baby "Keep-Well" Clinic will be held every Wednesday afternoon between the hours of two and four in the clinic room of the Palmyra High School.

Not So Dumb

The scene is the Palmyra ship of the old Palmyra Ferry, on August 14th, the day on which the new Palmyra Bridge opened, which was free to the public during the afternoon and evening of that day.

One of our prominent golfing members, whose classification is "Municipal Assessment Bill," had been to the shore for the day, and was on his way home with his wife. He pulled into the ferry dock, and there was no boat, and he in his usual kidding way, started to "josh" the ferryman about having to wait quite a few minutes for a boat, and then pay some fifty cents to go across the river on the old, broken-down ferry.

The ferryman, rising to the occasion, replied, "Well, you're pretty dumb yourself, I would say." The Rotarian, somewhat taken aback, replied, "Maybe so, but how do you make that out?" Says the ferryman, "The new bridge is open and free to traffic this evening, and yet you come here and pay fifty cents to go across the river on our old, rotten boat!"

Cooking on the Los Angeles Done by Gas

The latest improvement in air travel cuisine, the installation of a commercial gas range on the famous airship, Los Angeles, is described by Lieutenant Commander Herbert V. Wiley, United States Navy, in an article in the current issue of "Airships."

"Because of the prohibition against smoking in airships, one gets very hungry," writes Commander Wiley, who is quoted by the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee. "Everybody aboard eats everything he can get, a ravenous appetite being stimulated by the fresh ozone."

Gas in the liquid state is used. The liquid is vaporized at the burner, forming a gas which burns exactly like ordinary gas. By this means the cooking outfit is confined to a weight of about 100 pounds including the fuel. The gas range makes it possible to cook meals at any time during the flight of the ship.

Workers Voting on Celebration

Post Card Ballotting to Decide If Halloween is to be Observed

A "straw vote" is now being taken to decide if Moorestown is to hold a community Halloween celebration this year. Members of last year's committee and business houses that have supported previous celebrations have received return post cards and the replies to date have been about evenly divided, half being in favor of a celebration and the remaining being opposed to the project.

The survey of the volume of traffic in this vicinity was taken to determine whether more traffic lights were necessary. Victorine Puchette, of Marseilles, distributed his immediate family and left last Sunday morning by motor. They made a stop in Cleveland to witness the National air races there.

Meachen W. Willis, of Palmyra, who is one of the vice-presidents of the Burlington County Aero Club, made his first solo flight several days ago at the Moorestown airport. He has been under the instruction of Captain D. W. Alexander, who is the club's chief pilot and instructor. Mr. Willis has just been admitted to the Air Corps Technical School at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Illinois, by order of the Secretary of War and the Adjutant General. He will attend classes and will probably be there for a period of one to three years. This school is said by Army officers as well as persons not in the service to be the finest of its kind in the world. The new pilot, accompanied by George Winton, Jr., also of Palmyra, left last Sunday morning by motor. They made a stop in Cleveland to witness the National air races there.

COOKING ON THE LOS ANGELES DONE BY GAS

The latest improvement in air travel cuisine, the installation of a commercial gas range on the famous airship, Los Angeles, is described by Lieutenant Commander Herbert V. Wiley, United States Navy, in an article in the current issue of "Airships."

"Because of the prohibition against smoking in airships, one gets very hungry," writes Commander Wiley, who is quoted by the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee. "Everybody aboard eats everything he can get, a ravenous appetite being stimulated by the fresh ozone."

Gas in the liquid state is used. The liquid is vaporized at the burner, forming a gas which burns exactly like ordinary gas. By this means the cooking outfit is confined to a weight of about 100 pounds including the fuel. The gas range makes it possible to cook meals at any time during the flight of the ship.

Post Card Ballotting to Decide If Halloween is to be Observed

A "straw vote" is now being taken to decide if Moorestown is to hold a community Halloween celebration this year. Members of last year's committee and business houses that have supported previous celebrations have received return post cards and the replies to date have been about evenly divided, half being in favor of a celebration and the remaining being opposed to the project.

Billy, of course. But no siller than nations act towards one another. So one of the most helpful features of present international situations is the fact that nations not only now may let there be peace between us, but also let us sit down and talk over and adjust those matters between us on which we have been disagreeing.

The constantly quarrel between England and the United States, for instance, is fortunately approaching that stage when the two nations are ready to study things together, get at the roots of difficulties.

If Ramsey MacDonald visits America there will be a regular round table talk with President Hoover on the "irritants" between the two countries. Even if Mr. MacDonald does not come, it is considered certain that the two countries will launch a thorough housecleaning of Anglo-American "irritants." Relations between the two English speaking peoples will be put on a firmer basis of friendship.

Naval parity, naval reduction will be among the points to be discussed. And after naval agreement the various problem of freedom of the seas will be taken up. But a problem which has been called the root of cause of recent naval competition must be considered the struggle for raw materials, especially oil and rubber.

To bring these questions out into the open, and not to nourish secret resentments and bitterness, to look at them squarely, be able to consider each one's point of view—

NEHEMIAH REBUILDS THE WALLS OF JERUSALEM
Nehemiah 4:6, 15-21
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

The cup-bearer to the king was not supposed to reflect any personal sorrows in his countenance. One day it was otherwise with Nehemiah as he appeared before Artaxerxes in one of the Babylonian palaces. "Why are you sad?" brought out a serious situation of the returned pilgrims who went forth on two expeditions to Jerusalem. It seems that Haman, a relative of Nehemiah, had recently come from Judea and related how poorly affairs were going with the Jews in the rebuilding project. One serious fact was that the walls of the city were still broken down and there could be no serious work for reconstruction or safety against the enemy as long as this was so.

The second question was a genuine surprise. "For what does thou request?" said the king. Nehemiah had his own eager desire but he had not framed it for presentation, but with quick uplift in prayer unto Jehovah he expressed his patriotic longing. He would be glad to be commissioned by Artaxerxes to lead a third expedition back to the land whence they had been taken captive.

After quietly meeting leaders for three days Nehemiah planned a night ride about Jerusalem that he might make a thorough survey of the needs. Then he organized a real building program. The walls were divided into 44 sections and a designated group was appointed to build each part. Read Nehemiah 1-7 for the full context, and plenty of thrills will be found in the plots and the counter plots.

Three men are named who tried to frustrate every project of Nehemiah. Behind them were the Samaritans and seven other peoples, all of whom made a coalition against the Jews. The opposition became still more aggressive when the walls were half up, possible to a height of 100 feet. All sorts of arguments were presented to delay the building. One weapon was ridicule, as the enemy would come close to the walls and scoff at the workmen, declaring the walls could not keep out even a fox. Open letters were sent, charging Nehemiah with various plots against Babylon. They tried to get him to attend a conference and his reply was "I am doing a great work, so that I cannot come justifiable and the best means of redeeming them, how gasoline taxes should be applied, what the property owner's contribution to the highway past his door should be, the proper relationship of the Federal government to the highway program and other important questions.

The improvement of secondary roads to open up the back country and relieve congestion on main highways is a question of outstanding importance.

Pershing's Parsing

Ability to parse a sentence better than a fellow contestant for an appointment to West Point gave to the United States its greatest living soldier, General John J. Pershing, according to a story recently published.

Back in 1881, when three Missouri boys appeared before an examining board which was to select an appointee to fill a vacancy at the United States Military Academy, Pershing was one of the three. He and another boy named Mallory were so evenly matched that the board was hard put to decide between them.

As a final test the board proposed for parsing the sentence: "We are as near heaven by sea as by land."

Pershing did a perfect job of parsing, while Mallory fell down, so Pershing got the appointment, was graduated from West Point, rose to high military rank and eventually became commander of the A. E. F.

His rival, J. D. Mallory, has had a modest, but useful career, and is still living as a rural school teacher near Purdin, Mo., having taught all these years. Possibly he could beat Pershing in parsing, that same sentence today.

ABSURDITY IN CRIME REFORM

Most crime reformers are trying to kill an elephant with a pop gun.

At the present time in this country crime is an organized "business" of the first importance, with clear-sighted executives, high-priced lawyers, and almost endless resources in money and affiliations.

To attempt to fight the underworld by prohibiting law-abiding citizens from owning pistols and guns is nothing short of absurd. It would be like fighting out of season fishing by prohibiting all fishing.

Basic reasons for crime, such as public apathy, graft, antiquated judicial procedure, the power wielded by sentimentalists, a burden of laws and red tape, are commonly overlooked by well-meaning reformers.

Without an aroused public consciousness against the menace of the criminal, nothing can be done. Once that consciousness is aroused, the day of the prosperous criminal will be over, and when crime is not prosperous it will not flourish.

The more laws, the less criminals punished, is a proven axiom. Clever lawyers, taking advantage of technicalities, can twist evidence out of all semblance to reality. Rob-sister, away, nixes and pardon and pardon boards. As a result, more criminals go free in this country than in any other civilized nation.

To reduce crime we must strike at the root of the evil, i. e., conditions which encourage crime.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness
By Bernarr Macfadden

If You Want to Live Longer

With the advance of civilization the span of life has increased. Statistics now show that the average is 40 years. A hundred years ago the average was but thirty-one years, and of course centuries ago the average was appallingly lower. Public health officials are proud of the present figures. "We are educating people into learning how to live," they say. All of which is true. But the work of health education has only just begun. I look forward to the day when men and women will live to be a hundred years old and still enjoy life. This Utopia will not come to pass through any new discovery of science, but through a more complete education in matters pertaining to health and everyday life.

It is through you young people that this torch of life will be handed down, for you stand on the verge of a great adventure. For many of you life is only just beginning. And you can make almost anything of that life—if you will. Certainly you can live longer. To do this you must first of all know yourself. Many people are physically unfit without knowing it. You do not have to be flat on your back in a bed to be sick; nor do you have to be in pain. The most dangerous kind of sickness is a general run-down condition. Ask yourself these questions:

Do all my organs function normally? Am I nervous? Bileous? Irritable? Easily upset? Mentally undecided?

SUMMER PERFUMES

Perfumes and summer have an undeniable kinship. The nature scents are never sweeter or more alluring than at this fragrant season. And not unnaturally the woman who values charm and daintiness adds to her flower-scented sachets; to her dressing table the atomizer, summer perfumes and toilet water which will enable her to rival the freshness and allure of her surroundings.

In selecting summer perfumes it may help you in your choice to remember that a light flower or bouquet scent is much more suitable for hot days than a heavy cloying oriental scent.

Heavy thickly sweet fragrances convey an illusion of heat. A rain-drenched lily has a fresh delicate scent infinitely more delicious on a warm day than the heavy sweetness of a tuberose or narcissus.

The same principle holds true of your own perfume. An exotic languorous blended scent is much less successful than a faint fresh flower odor.

Some fastidious women even banish their perfume bottles at the first sign of summer weather and use only Toilet Water, a light diluted perfume water that is delightful to use on the hands and face in an atomizer or in the bath.

Let me warn you that the scent of perfume cannot be used to disguise the odor of perspiration, so be sure before you spray a flower essence on your gown that you have scrupulously

Study of U. S. Weather Bureau Reports Shows
Only 19 Days a Year Average in United States
When Outdoor Temperatures are Safe for Food Preservation

Mother Nature is a poor guardian of perishable foods. Back-porch and window-sill makeshifts for food preservation are unsatisfactory, insanitary, unsafe. Study of United States Weather Bureau reports shows that only 19 days a year on an average in the United States afford outdoor temperatures that are safe for perishable foods. Ninety-four per cent of the time it is too warm—too cold.

Trusting to these makeshifts is not an economy. The food spoilage—a little here, a little there—amounts to a staggering loss at the end of a year. And the menace to health lurks always in these perishables that are improperly preserved.

Health Authorities, everywhere, recommend adequate artificial refrigeration the year around as the only safe and satisfactory way to preserve perishable foods. Take this step now to save money and safeguard the health of your family.

State Police Officer and Beverly Justice of Peace Deny Accusations

Magazine Article Attacking Corporal Horn and McCloskey Denounced as Misleading and Largely Untrue; Charged Speeding Bus Driver was Unfairly Treated

Corporal William H. Horn, in charge of the Bridgeboro State Police Station, and Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, of Beverly, have denounced as misleading and largely untrue, an editorial appearing in the August issue of the "National Business Magazine and Tourist Guide," commenting on the arrest recently of a Nevins Bus Line driver.

A number of copies of the magazine, which is published in Philadelphia, were obtained in this county recently and the article involving Corporal Horn and Justice McCloskey has caused considerable comment.

The text of the article, which was entitled "Queer Quizzes of Justice," follows:

It is alleged that certain New Jersey State policemen are often accused to the buses on the road or are in cahoots with Justice of the Peace to shake down the bus drivers and divide the spoils.

"National Business Magazine and Tourist Guide" would not accuse any officers and would not take a stand against anyone without just cause. We realize that the job of traffic officer is very trying, and requires that he should be a man of wisdom and sound judgment, one who has the capacity of the law and some judgment, and is not a man of law and some judgment.

"A good policeman, one worthy of the position, should at all times use discretion, and be a gentleman and not a rascal, waiting every opportunity to show his authority. While there may be some of this class, our experience on the road leads us to believe that the majority of the New Jersey State officers are very fair."

However, in the case of the arrest of a Nevins bus driver on Saturday July 27th, between Palmyra and "Herside," N. J., it reports he true places both the officer and the committing Justice in a rather unfavorable light.

"The driver was taking a special bus from New York to Philadelphia. This bus was equipped with a governor that regulates its speed so that it cannot go over 35 miles an hour. In order that the drivers must be held in check if the impulse to speed should make them try to go beyond the legal 40 miles an hour."

"This driver was arrested and taken by Corporal Horn before Justice McCloskey, of Beverly, N. J., and there charged with speeding at 34 miles an hour. This speed is not only denied by the driver and officials of the company, but declared impossible by the bus being used."

"When no excuse or explanation was allowed and a fine of $50 and costs imposed, the driver demanded a receipt for the money paid over to the Court so that he could account to his company for the cash. It is reported that the judge not only refused a receipt, but upbraided him for demanding it."

"National Business Magazine and Tourist Guide" not only believes in being law-abiding and in seeing that laws are obeyed and believed in proper chastisement and punishment for violation of the traffic laws, but we do not believe in harsh, snobbish, unreasonable, and often unlawful acts on the part of the officers of the law or of an over-zealous Justice of the Peace, who is so small that he can only see the spoils in the case, and these spoils may be graft. Who knows?

When asked to comment on the article Corporal Horn declared that the whole account was a gross distortion of fact. Horn stated that the driver had been arrested by him for speeding at 34 miles an hour. The man could show no driver's license and, before Justice of the Peace McCloskey, he pleaded guilty both to the charge of driving 34 miles an hour and to driving without a license. On each of these charges he was fined $25 and one dollar costs. A total of $52. Corporal Horn also said he learned that the man was not a regular driver, but was employed in the bus company's office as a clerk and at the time of his arrest was driving a special bus.

As to the statement that the Nevins bus was equipped with a governor regulating its speed to 35 miles an hour, Corporal Horn said he knew nothing about any governor, but did know that he and his officers had, on several occasions, recently arrested Nevins bus drivers for speeding at from 30 to 60 miles an hour.

Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey fully substantiated Corporal Horn's statement, regarding the arrest and fining of the driver, whose name was Burke. McCloskey said he had issued no receipt to the man because it was not customary to give receipts for fines collected and as far as he knew nothing in the law required him to do so.

Norman Showalter, 24, of 2427 N. Forty-first street, was fined $200, his license revoked on a charge of driving a car while intoxicated, and $50 for carrying fictitious tags, by Merchantville Police Court last Thursday morning. Showalter was arrested by Sergeant Lloyd Masson on Maple avenue. Dr. George H. Both Masson and the physician said that Showalter was staggering from one side of Maple avenue to the other. He was given a hearing before Recorder A. E. Craig.

CROSS-BREEDING NO AID

TO INCREASING FAT TEST

Attempts on the part of New Jersey dairymen to regulate the fat test by cross-breeding their cattle will prove futile, warns E. J. Perry, extension dairy specialist for the State agricultural experiment station at New Brunswick. He has found that some dairymen who keep Holsteins are crossing their cows with the higher testing Guernseys or Jerseys because their dealers are demanding milk testing 4 per cent. butterfat. The average fat test of the Holsteins is only 3.4 per cent, and cross-breeding is done in the belief that the fat test of resulting progeny will be increased by such matings.

Mount Holly and Burlington, and is entirely free to the children of Burlington County, who are given a two weeks' stay at camp, where they enjoy fresh air and sunshine, together with good, nourishing food and a carefully supervised health program. In fact, everything possible is done which will build up their little bodies.

More than one hundred children were eligible for the camp, but only forty-nine could be accommodated. This number is six more than were cared for last year and twelve more than were taken in 1927.

Burlington—Nine children.
Maple Shade—Five children.
Riverton—Two children.
Medford—Five children.
Mount Holly—Four children.
Smithville—One child.
Moorestown—Six children.
Lenola—Two children.
Palmyra—Six children.
Camden—Two children.
Sykesville—Two children.
Ferryville—One child.
Fieldsboro—One child.
Perry—Three children.

The gains made by the children were excellent. Fifteen out of this number gained from seven to fourteen pounds.

The highest gain of fourteen pounds was made by Lillian Ware, of Smithville. Howard Dare, of Moorestown, was a close second at thirteen and one-half pounds gain.

About $3,400 was collected for the work this year and the funds came from the Tuberculosis League lawfare sales at Brown's Mills, the contribution from the Board of Freeholders, together with some private subscriptions of interested people.

It is our hope that in the near future we may be able to have a permanent preventorium where the children may have attention during the entire year and where we may have school teachers who will tend to their educational needs.

The Executive Secretary of the League will be glad to give any further information desired regarding the preventorium.

MRS. DAISY E. HOLLINGSHEAD, Executive Secretary.

WOODBURY STAR WINS LABOR DAY TENNIS CLASSIC

Fischer Takes Third Straight
West Jersey Singles Championship

LEADS FAIR PLAYERS

Pittman Youngsters Spring Big Surprise in Taking Junior Honors

Dr. Carl Fischer, of Woodbury, won his third straight West Jersey Tennis League singles crown on the Moorestown Field Club courts Monday afternoon.

Another champion retained her laurels when Miss Laura Pittinger, fair Haddon Field Club star, triumphed in the women's division.

Two Pittman youngsters had their own way in the junior events, as Marion Blew and Jack Mann won titles in the girls and boys' championships. The girls are something new to the youthful luminaries, however.

The tourney opened on the Field Club courts Saturday and wound up with Labor Day's play. While there were some very interesting matches, only a small crowd was on hand either day to enjoy the fine brand of tennis.

The popular champion took his way through the semi-finals, eliminating H. F. Morris, of Haddonfield, who played a nice game but not nearly strong enough for the Woodbury osteopath, 6-2, 10-8. While the score might indicate that the second set was marked with some thrilling tennis, in fact that the set went into extra games was largely due to the champion's listless game. Dr. Fischer actually literally threw away many points with "wild" shots.

The champion settled down in the finals and easily disposed of Ed Hall, another Haddonfield entry, 6-2, 6-1. The doctor's game was entirely too powerful for Hall. The Woodbury ace played as brilliant a game as he has exhibited this year and won round after round of applause with his dazzling shots.

Dr. Fischer, who was intercollegiate singles champion during his college days, when he ranked seventh in the national ratings, was last year placed twenty-third nationally. He is now applying for membership in the Field Club, but he has not informed Captain Preston T. Roberts whether he will enter tournaments under Moorestown colors or will continue his affiliation with the Woodbury club.

William C. Cummings, another Haddonfield veteran, gave Hall a stiff fight in the semi-finals, forcing both sets to extra games. Hall won, 7-5, 8-6.

Miss Pittinger was given a stern fight in the first set by Mattie Glover, also of the Haddon Field Club, but after losing the first set at 3-6, she roamed through the next two sets, 6-1, 6-0.

Jack Mann, 17-year-old Simon Grant student, provided the biggest upset of the day in defeating Dan Cressman, who also represented Pittman, in the finals of the boys' division.

Cressman was favored for the title because of his defeat of Bob Zimmerman, of Merchantville, 6-2, 10-6, in the semi-finals. Cressman defeated last year's titleholder by the decisive margin of 6-1, 6-0.

Mann eliminated Ted Lynn, of Pittman, in the semi-final after three hard sets, 2-6, 6-3, 8-6, and then had enough left to conquer Cressman in the final round, 6-4, 6-3. Mann has all the earmarks of a coming men's champion despite his youthful age and appearance.

The final of the girls' division also caused quite a surprise when Marion Blew, 17-year-old Lansdowne lass, who represents Pittman, defeated Eleanor Wilson, of Woodbury, 1928 champion, in straight sets. The scores were 6-2, 6-2. Miss Blew, outclassing Miss Wilson in every department of the game.

Palmyra was able to win but a single game in the final trio of contests which ended the Burlington County League season and finished in seventh place. Both Vincetown and Medford came through the Labor Day battles with victories and are now tied for second half championship with eleven wins and three losses.

Medford was the first half winner and will now have to fight it out with the Vincents for season's honors.

The lone Palmyra victory came in the morning game with Moorestown, which was played at Memorial Park. Kevin, the hurler for the Palmyra team, turned in a first performance, allowing seven hits and two runs. He was opposed by Conroy, who was nipped for only five hits, out of which four runs were made.

In the afternoon game, which was also played with the Quakers, but on their own field, Palmyra was trounced soundly when Moorestown unleashed a batting orgy and ran up a total of 16 markers in eleven innings against six for the visitors.

Harder started the game, but lost his cunning after two rounds, allowing a pair of tallies in the third. The one big inning for the Quakers was the sixth, when eleven big markers rolled over the Pan.

Saturday's contest at Delanco was a hurler's duel, with Harry Young gaining the best of the argument. He allowed but two hits and one run. Harder, doing the mound work for Palmyra, was nipped for nine bingles and three runs.

One of the Palmyra safeties was a triple off the bat of Dave Wenger, which scored Henry Krause with the lone run in the final frame.

The victory was Harry Young's seventh of the year. He has been beaten but twice.

The Youngmen started fast and really sowed up the game as early as the first inning when two runners were sent across the platter. The Youngmen scored another run in the third inning. Although the game was played at Delanco, Palmyra batted last, as the game was scheduled as a home engagement for the "Pals."

Ralph Robinson started the first inning with a single and after Kalbach had fled out, scored when Johnny Shaw doubled to right. W. Dann followed with a single to center that scored Shaw. In the second inning Heiler singled and reached third on successive bunts by the Young brothers. Robinson's single scored Heiler with the third run for Delanco.

MOORESTOWN A. A. WINS FINAL GAME

Register 16 to 6 Victory Over
Palmyra Labor Day Afternoon

By "Andy Zip"

Labor Day marked the end of the 1929 Burlington County League baseball season. The Moorestown A. A. nine, after dropping Saturday's game to R. D. Wood and Monday morning's game to Palmyra, 4-2, snapped out of it and put on a slugging exhibition to wind up their schedule with a 16-6 victory over Palmyra in another game with them Monday afternoon.

The score at Florence Saturday was 13-1, but the local team went into the game with a patched-up lineup, as a number of the regulars were missing.

At Riverton Labor Day morning "Doc" Conroy pitched another of his hard luck games. "Doc" was in rare form, allowing Palmyra but three hits, but four errors in his support caused the locals to lose, 4-2.

The game Labor Day afternoon on the South Church street diamond was easily won from Palmyra by the locals, 16-6. The boys collected a grand total of 26 hits from the pitching of Harder and Wenger.

Jerry Bartello, Regan, Ackerman, Ernie Potts and Headman led in the assault for Moorestown.

TEN CONTESTS ON MHS GRID SLATE

Coch Isenberg's Charges Face
Stiff Schedule; Six Veterans Returning

Ten hard contests have been scheduled for Moorestown High School football eleven this fall, with games on tap against some of the leading teams of South Jersey. Among the features will be the annual tilt with Mount Holly, to be played this year at the County Seat on Thanksgiving Day.

The games will be part of the schedule of the recently-organized Burlington County High School League, which includes seven teams.

Coch Paul Isenberg feels confident that his charges will make a creditable showing in the gridiron sport. He has at least six lettermen returning in the fall, while seven others, who saw service at one time or another during last season will also return.

The lettermen who have announced their return to the institution are Captain Joe Burk, tackle and center; Ed Jenkins, end and tackle; Ralph Clymer, guard; John Fountain, quarterback; Paul Young, halfback, and Horace Julian, fullback.

The seven lads who saw service last year, but did not qualify for a letter, who will return this year, are Frank Bolton, "Chick" Wade, Ted Webster, and Harry Nichols, line men; "Chick" Bauer, Wilson and Griffith, backfield men.

Following is the complete schedule for this year:

September 27—Camden Vocational (home).
October 5—Collingswood (home).
October 11—Bordentown (away).
October 19—Merchantville (home).
October 25—Burlington (away).
November 2—Pemberton (home).
November 11—Palmyra (home).
November 16—Pittman (away).
November 23—Riverside (home).
November 29—Mount Holly (away).

BURLINGTON COUNTY

Charles A. Thompson, County Agricultural Agent, Associate County Agricultural Agent, Union Street, Mount Holly.

PLANS FOR COUNTY PICNIC AND EXHIBIT

Committees from the Burlington County Board of Agriculture and Chamber of Commerce of Mount Holly have been working hard making plans for the big Agricultural Picnic and Exhibit which are to be held in the Court House yard and Armory in Mount Holly on Thursday, September 19. Prizes are being offered for exhibits in fruit, vegetables, poultry, dairy and general crops. Present indications are that there will be an excellent exhibit in all of these departments.

The program as planned now will consist of arranging of exhibits in the forenoon. The exhibits will be judged immediately after noon. At 4:30 William Harper Dean, Manager of the Agricultural Service of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, will deliver an address. Mr. Dean has a national, if not an international, reputation and a knowledge of agricultural conditions probably equal to anyone in the country. He will have a message that anyone interested in agriculture cannot afford to miss. Mr. Dean is paying Burlington County a great compliment by taking time out of his busy life to come to the County on that day. This one feature alone should be enough to attract many hundreds of farmers from within the County.

Following the speaking will be the time for the picnic supper. Of course if you want to take part in this program it will be well to arrange a good full basket for the family.

During the afternoon and evening there will be hand music by the Mount Holly Community Band, which is being arranged for by the Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce. In the evening the block on Main street, between Garden and Union will be roped off, and a street dance has been arranged for, for the pleasure of all who wish to "shake a foot." Others whose eyesight is not bad can look on.

Some time during the day there will be a championship golf putting contest between a representative of the Burlington County Board of Agriculture and the Chamber of Commerce of Mount Holly. Everyone, whether living on the farm or in the town, is earnestly invited to attend this occasion.

MAKING KITCHEN CLOSETS

If you must have closets on the wall above the sink have them built over the drain boards only.

The space directly over the sink should be left free because a closet jutting out from the sink is in the way of most workers.

In the construction of such a closet, space the shelves to hold utensils most frequently used about the sink. The shelves should be over 8 inches deep, and a 15-inch space between the drain board and the lower shelf is advisable.

If the latch for the door of each closet is on the side nearest the sink, the homemaker can open the doors without leaving her stool. Glass doors are best, as the utensils one wants are then easily seen.

ADVICE TO DAIRYMEN ON CUTTING SILAGE CORN

Corn should be cut for silage when the kernels have hardened and glazed, and while most of the leaves are still green. At this stage, dent varieties will be well suited. Ensiling the crop should not be delayed longer, else the corn will become too mature to make the most palatable silage, and it may mold unless water is added to the cut forage as it is ensiled. On the other hand, it should not be ensiled before the kernels are in the glazing stage, as was usually done some years ago. If ensiled earlier, a more acid silage is produced, and still more important, a great waste of nutrients occurs because the corn crops stores much of its highest quality nutrients during the later stages of growth.

HENS SPEED PRODUCTION ON LIGHTED, 16-HOUR DAY

The ambitious hen who would continue to lay well in September and October is best with difficult physiological nature. If she would lay a large number of eggs it becomes necessary for her to eat a correspondingly large amount of food. And while any hen in sound health

They Now Call on Tommy Call in County Hall

"Tommy" Call, whose notorious first has gained him many a free y's lodging and meals at the expense of Burlington County, has again taken up his residence at Mount Holly and undoubtedly will receive his mail the county seat for nearly a year. Reason for belief that this statement correct is based upon information received from Moorestown Town Hall, where it is stated on good authority that "Tommy" has again received credentials authorizing him to make county jail his place of residence several months to come.

While this is nothing new in Mister Call's life, the fact that he was a student of Moorestown for several years is in the category of news. Generally "Tommy" spends but a short time in this community before returning to the county house, over which Sheriff A. Eagle presides.

Formerly it was not an uncommon thing for "Tommy" to receive two or three years' sentences within the space of a year and then spend about half of twelve months outside of county prison, being successful in influencing persons gain him freedom.

Recently, however, "Tommy" has not been so successful in "cutting short" terms and has been spending most of the time behind the bars, or within the confines of the jail, at least, how he served all but a month-and-a-half of his last term and was released in April.

During the last few weeks "Tommy" has been good behavior and has been frequent "sprees." Twice he was cited, both times being threatened with a return trip to Mount Holly.

Saturday "Tommy" decided to "make good" again. His disposition did improve with his imbibing and after taking more verbal abuse than was called up to suffer, Miss Grace, of Linden avenue, the habitual landlord's sister, called Moorestown police and Officer Murphy responded, citing "Tommy" under arrest.

State. Upon their return they will reside at Colonial Village, Oaklyn. After spending the night in the local lockup going through the sobering process, "Tommy" was taken before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston. The judge made good his promises, and "Tommy" has returned to Mount Holly to spend 364 days as the guest of Burlington county.

Thomas Edward Carlin

Thomas Edward Carlin, son of Mrs. Rose Carlin, of 2 N. Washington avenue, Moorestown, died in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, early last Saturday morning. He had been in ill health for several years. He was in his 26th year.

Funeral services were held at the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, Moorestown, Monday morning at 9 o'clock, with the Rev. Thomas F. Rudden, rector of church, officiating. Interment was made in Mount Carmel Cemetery, Moorestown.

Mr. Carlin will be remembered as the general clerk at Stiles' Pharmacy, where he was employed for two years.

His mother, five sisters, Mrs. Raymond Riter and Mrs. Charles DeCasey, both of Philadelphia, and Mrs. Joseph Lynch, Mary and Nora Carlin, of Moorestown, and two brothers, Charles Carlin, who lives in England, and Andrew Carlin, of Moorestown, survive him.

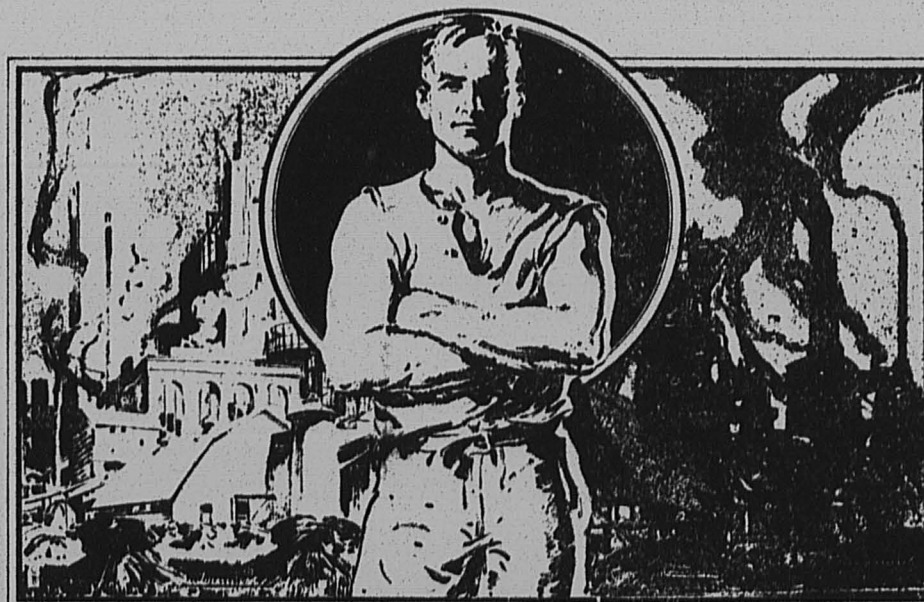

George Edward Spencer

George Edward Spencer, of East Central avenue, Moorestown, died Thursday of last week following an operation at the West Jersey Homopathic Hospital, Camden.

Funeral services were held Sunday, September 1, at the home of Mrs. Spencer's mother, Mrs. West Jessup, in Woodbury.

Mr. Spencer was a graduate of Syracuse University and was a teacher in chemistry at Moorestown High School several years ago, after which he moved to Palmyra, where he became an entomologist at the Japanese Beetle Laboratory in Riverton. He moved back to Moorestown two years ago at the time the laboratory was moved here.

Mr. Spencer leaves a wife, Helen Jessup Spencer, a daughter, Phyllis, one son, Edward, Jr., and a baby, Helen Dell.

All Honor to Labor

Not alone on the day set aside as Labor Day do we honor labor and the man who labors, but on every day throughout the year do we acknowledge our debt of gratitude to those who, by their daily effort, produce that which tends to our comforts as well as toward the growing prosperity of this great country of ours. We welcome the man who labors to call upon us when in need. You have our assurance that we will aid you in every possible manner to profit from the service we are equipped to render.

PALMYRA P. T. A. MEET NEXT WEEK

Will Open Season's Activities at "Get-Together" Session Tuesday

The Palmyra Parent-Teachers Association will hold a "get-together" meeting Tuesday afternoon next, September 17, at 3:30 o'clock. The meeting will be under the direction of Mrs. Elias Toy, president of the association.

Plans for the ensuing year's work will be made at this time. Other items of interest will be a short talk by Professor Paul Y. Eckert and a brief entertainment.

Both the teachers and parents are cordially urged to attend this meeting. Attendance banner will be awarded as usual to the parent having largest percentage of parents present at this meeting.

PALMYRA EXTENSION TO BE BEAUTIFIED

Plans Made for Erection of Model Home of Spanish Design

An enthusiastic meeting of the Palmyra Extension Improvement Association was held at 75 Oxford road last Thursday evening.

Despite the inclement weather the largest attendance yet recorded was on hand and the many new faces showed the appeal of the association to the community.

Preparations were made for the opening of the fall and winter social season, with an entertainment and dance to be given early in October.

The exact time and place is in the hands of a committee, who will report at a later meeting.

Local builders have been asked to prepare bids on an eight-room and bath two-story dwelling of modern Spanish mission architecture, to be erected at Le June road and Louis street.

The design is sponsored by the improvement committee and is the initial step in its program of community planning, offering to builders and buyers the free use of the best designs of the country's leading architects, to the end that there may be a harmonious and aesthetic ensemble on each avenue.

A photographic study of how this building will look when completed, as well as floor plans and interior views may be seen at the new bulletin board recently erected at Melrose and Cinnaminson avenues. A survey is being made and plans prepared for a small park or plaza, ornamented with shrubbery, and a flag pole, to be placed in the center of the intersection of Cuthbert and Oxford roads.

The next regular meeting is scheduled to be held at 75 Oxford road, Friday evening, September 20, at 8 o'clock.

We urge everyone, and especially the six new families who during the past ten days have selected and occupied their new homes, to be present and enjoy our meeting and take part in our program of community progress.

PALMYRA MAN'S CAR INJURES CAMDEN BOY

An automobile operated by Duff Dodd, of Palmyra, struck Charles Packer, eight-year-old Camden boy, last Friday afternoon and caused a fracture of the leg. He was treated at the Cooper Hospital.

Dodd surrendered to police. He told Detective Kox Bapone he was driving north on Eleventh street when young Packer ran in front of his machine.

T. Harry Rowland, former Assemblyman from Camden county, was a witness to the accident and corroborated Dodd's statement. The latter was released on his own recognizance to await the outcome of the lad's injuries.

Cinnaminson Schools

Many Improvements to Classrooms Made During the Summer

The Cinnaminson Township Public Schools opened according to schedule, September 2, with a fine attendance, notwithstanding the extreme heat.

Owing to the many small improvements made during the summer, the classrooms are very attractive.

Tables in two of the rooms for group work and departmental work in the higher grades are a part of the working scheme planned by the supervising principal and her teaching force.

The hearty co-operation of the faculty is, after all, the greatest factor in the effort to make this year's work the most useful ever done in our schools.

DRIVER OVERCOME

Jesse M. Coddington, of Riverton, was overcome by the exhaust fumes from his truck while driving in Camden last Friday.

The exhaust pipe on Coddington's truck was loose and the fumes came into the cab of the truck through the floor boards.

He was taken to Cooper Hospital, where he was revived.

BALKY MOTORCYCLE CAUSES MUCH GRIEF

William Dinn Pays $20.00 Fine After Starting Machine and Running It Into Auto

William Dinn's knowledge of starting motorcycles and his lack of knowledge of how to operate same caused him considerable grief last Thursday when he was arraigned before Recorder William L. Plichter in the Palmyra police court.

The police cycle was parked at the Palmyra railroad station when one of the officers tried to start it without success. A crowd soon gathered around to offer suggestions, none of which proved helpful, and as the machine persisted in its stubbornness the officer started off on foot.

Young Dinn was among the crowd and decided to try his luck with the balky machine. His luck was good for a while and he got the engine started. He soon got the whole machine started and his troubles began.

A few seconds later he found himself and the cycle piled up against a car belonging to Councilman Buckholz but no great damage was done. According to Dinn, only the car being in the way prevented him from crashing into the big plate glass window in Coombs & Bush's store.

After agreeing to make settlement for the damage to the car and motorcycle he was released upon payment of a $20.00 fine.

NOMINATE NEW LEGION OFFICERS

Carl Thomas Named for Commander of Palmyra Post; Election Next Month

Post Frederick M. Rogers, American Legion of Palmyra, held its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday evening last. The meeting was well attended as the members wanted to hear the details of the victory won by the Post Bugle and Drum Corps at Elizabeth last Saturday. Much of the evening was taken up by again fighting the "Battle of Elizabeth" but much important business was transacted also.

A very interesting report was read by Mrs. J. Weart, chairlady of the Post's rehabilitation committee. In it she reported the great good this active committee of ladies has been doing in relief and assistance given to the poor of the community in the way of shoes, clothing, food, etc. The ladies were greatly commended for their work and cooperation assistance promised by the members of the Post whenever needed.

Comrade Judge Frank Mathews was present and gave a very interesting talk to the boys, particularly congratulating the Post and community in having the state champion drum and bugle corps. Comrade Rex McCrosson also spoke and gave a very interesting report on the doings and results of the entire convention. Comrade McCrosson was elected alternate delegate to the national convention at the recent Elizabeth convention.

A committee of five members was appointed by Commander Ted D'Autrey to look into the advisability of adjusting the dues of the Post to a lower figure. Report to be made at the October meeting.

The nominating committee reported the following as candidates for the respective offices of the Post for the coming year: Commander, Carl Thomas; senior vice-commander, Charles C. Seemulder; junior vice-commander, Robert Wright; finance officer, Clinton Gibson; adjutant, Ted D'Autrey; chaplain, Wilbur Ripka; sergeant-at-arms, Ralph Fisher; historian, George B. Weiland.

Trustees—Rex McCrosson, George Truman, Harold Marshall, Frank Mathews, Charles King, Paul Van Sant, Joseph Cowan, Harry Stack, George Durgin, Ray Fichter, Walter Hunt, Joseph Althouse, William Miller and A. H. Lippincott.

Election to be held at the next regular monthly meeting, October 8.

CATCH OPOSSUM

An unusual occurrence was the catching of a live opossum at the Palmyra Foundry building last Monday.

The watchman saw an animal which he took to be a very large rat and called for the policemen to come and help him kill it. Officers Lawrence Betty and Abe Wallace responded, but the use of firearms was unnecessary, since Officer Wallace was familiar with the best way of handling opossums.

He caught it alive by the back of the neck and presented it to a colored man, who happened along. Ernow Mr. Possum has likely been the chief attraction at a dinner table.

WHERE DOES IT GO?

Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, says he has been asked so many times what becomes of the motorized railroad coach which runs through Palmyra about ten o'clock each evening that he has gone to the trouble of finding out just what happens to it, since it does not return via Palmyra.

Upon requesting the information from Station Agent Cross he was informed that it went to Trenton and returned early the following morning to Kinkora and across to Pemberton, thence to Camden via the Moorestown-Mount Holly branch, thus completing a round trip daily.

PRATT DEFENSE IS ORGANIZED AT MASS MEETING

Many Willing to Testify to Cruel and Brutal Nature of Road Boss

CITE BLAMELESS LIFE OF ACCUSED MAN

Organization of the "Johnny Pratt Defense Fund" was completed at a meeting last Thursday night in the P. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra. All temporary officers were retained.

Despite the stormy night a goodly number of people were present and all were enthusiastic in their determination to do all possible for the unfortunate man who is to face a jury charged with the murder of William King, former highway construction foreman, whom Pratt shot three weeks ago in a dispute over a sum of money due him.

A large delegation of Johnny's colored friends from West Palmyra were present as well as many others who are interested in his case. Fred G. Fromuth acted as chairman of the meeting and called for volunteers to offer testimony as to King's character when the case goes to court.

Brutal and Cruel Several of the present told of their experiences with the former road boss and his brutal and cruel nature. Those who had dealings with him were unanimous in stating their disgust to his methods of doing business.

Leaders of the defense are sure they can bring enough testimony to court to convince the jury that King was a most despicable character and richly deserved the treatment he received.

They will attempt to prove that Pratt, honest and industrious, was incited to temporary madness when, for the second time the road foreman, attempted to deprive him of the reward of his labors. Pratt is said to have had a similar dispute with King about two years ago and was never able to collect his wages.

At the meeting there was testimony aplenty of Pratt's good character and former blameless life. It is thought that this will go a long way in saving him from the extreme penalty.

Hope for Light Sentence Those interested in the movement feel sure he will never go to the electric chair and are hopeful of getting him off with a few years' sentence. In New Jersey the penalty for first-degree murder is death in the electric chair except when the jury recommends mercy, in which case a life sentence is generally imposed.

Able attorneys have been secured to conduct the defense which will be directed by Robert Peacock and Senator Clifford B. Powell. Both have offered their services and will serve without pay.

Officers of the "Johnny Pratt Defense Fund" are as follows: Fred G. Fromuth, chairman.

Harvey Fooks, president, 308 Third street, Palmyra, N. J.

Walter D. Lamon, treasurer, Palmyra, N. J. Phone Riverton 892.

John H. Williams, secretary, 206 Arch street, Palmyra, N. J.

George Cherry, finance officer, Jefferson and Market streets, Palmyra, N. J.

Receipts of cash contributions totaling more than $100 have been reported by the treasurer.

Williams — King

A very pretty home wedding was solemnized last Saturday afternoon at four o'clock when Miss Helen May King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. King, of West Charles street, became the bride of John Lewis Williams, of Palmyra.

The Rev. Albert H. Harker, pastor of the Moravian Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a beautiful creation of Copenhagen blue chiffon velvet and carried a bouquet of white snapdragons.

Mrs. Fowler Schaffer attended her sister as matron of honor. Her gown was of light blue chiffon velvet and she carried a beautiful bouquet of pink snapdragons.

Thomas A. Williams, of Ocean City, attended his brother as best man. Miss Florence Dillman, of Philadelphia, played the wedding march and Miss Edith King, a sister of the bride, sang "I Love You Truly."

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held, which was attended by the immediate families and a few intimate friends.

The young couple left on a wedding trip through the New England States and will be at home after October 1 at 709 Public Road, Palmyra.

ELIZABETH MAY MAKIN

Elizabeth May Makin, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Makin, of Stewart avenue, Riverside Park, died at her home last Saturday morning. Services were held Tuesday afternoon with interment in Morgan Cemetery under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

AN EDITORIAL

Riverton Pupils May be Debarred From Moorestown High School

District Clerk Endeavors to Get Moorestown to Refuse Riverton Children; Works Through Office of County Superintendent

The hand of Machiavelli is again at work in Riverton. This time its baneful shadow is cast upon the public school in an attempt to deny parents the right to choose what high school their children shall attend.

When parents of twelve of the pupils who finished the eighth grade in the Riverton public school in June made application to the Riverton Board to have them entered in the Moorestown high school in the Fall, not a voice was raised in protest. So far as the parents knew their request was to be granted, as it had in the past, until Sunday night, September 8, when the following letter was delivered to their homes.

The Letter
September 7, 1929.

To Parents of Pupils desiring to attend Moorestown High School:

Through a recent ruling of the Commissioner of Education of the State of New Jersey it will not be possible for the Board of Education of this District to pay any part of the tuition of pupils attending Moorestown High School, and I am directed by Mrs. Mayfield, President of our Board of Education to notify you, any pupil attending Moorestown High School will be accepted by said school only upon the parent assuming the responsibility for payment of all tuition and transportation charges.

FRED P. HEMPHILL,
District Clerk.

At the time the parents received their notification that tuition would not be paid at Moorestown High, Palmyra High School had been open for a week, and the Moorestown school, the school of their choice, would open the next day.

Caught Unprepared

There was no time to investigate, nor to appeal from the curt order. They could send their children to Palmyra or assume the double burden of the cost of tuition and transportation. They had counted on the transportation, but to add another $125 for tuition was another matter. A number sent their children to Palmyra, while others assumed the double burden.

Some of the less docile ones commenced to investigate. Gradually they uncovered a sordid trail leading from their application for Moorestown High to the notification received on the eve of the opening of that school that tuition would not be paid there by the Riverton board.

They learned that after the meeting at which their applications had apparently been accepted, Fred P. Hemphill, district clerk in Riverton, had made an attempt to get George C. Baker, supervising principal of Moorestown High, to refuse to accept pupils from Riverton. He did not appeal to Mr. Baker direct, but operated through the office of Louis J. Kaser, County Superintendent of Schools.

Kaser Phones Baker

Mr. Kaser called Mr. Baker on the telephone after two requests to do so by Mr. Hemphill, and laid before him the proposition of the Riverton district clerk.

All of this was done over the heads and behind the backs of the members of the Riverton Board of Education. They had no inkling of what was going on until a meeting of the board on August 27, at which time a communication was read from the Assistant Commissioner of Education stating that the Riverton school board could not pay tuition of pupils sent to Moorestown high school unless a petition was presented to the Commissioner of Education and ratified by him.

Mr. Hemphill presented such a resolution, but some of the members thought they detected in it a joker which committed the board to Palmyra as its designated high school, and refused to pass it.

Board Refuses Request

Mr. Baker, could see no reason for discriminating against pupils from a neighboring town which had been sending children there for years, but consented to lay the matter before the Moorestown Board of Education.

Of course the Moorestown board refused to be a party to any such action, and Mr. Baker addressed the following letter to Mr. Kaser.

Mr. Louis J. Kaser,
County Superintendent,
Mount Holly, N. J.
My dear Mr. Kaser:

At a recent meeting of our Board of Education the question of excluding from our high school the Riverton pupils, as requested by Mr. Fred P. Hemphill, was discussed. At any time that a school district wishes to send its pupils to us, the question of whether or not we accept them is taken up by the Board and a decision is reached. Frequently we have not accepted such groups when the request is made. The Board has never made a ruling to exclude individuals where the parents were enough interested in their children to take the trouble to select the school they wanted them to attend. The number of such pupils admitted each year is relatively small.

RIVERTON BOARD TO ASK DECISION OF COMMISSIONER

Lesser Authorities Disagree on Question of Tuition at Moorestown

MANY PARENTS ATTEND SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The question as to whether or not the Riverton Board of Education will be permitted to pay tuition of pupils attending Moorestown High School will be decided by the Commissioner of Education after the Palmyra Board of Education has been heard in the matter.

Acting upon a telegram from Commissioner Elliott, the Board passed the following resolution, which will be presented to the Commissioner today by a committee composed of Messrs. Mattis, Rutherford and Elwell.

The Resolution

"In view of the fact that when we granted permission last June for the children of Riverton to choose their high school, we did it in all good faith and with no idea that there might be any legal question involved, be it hereby

"RESOLVED, That this Board formally petitions the Commissioner of Education that the Riverton pupils prepared for high school and choosing Moorestown High School be permitted to attend that school for the full high school course at the expense for tuition of the Board of Education of the Borough of Riverton."

The resolution was presented by Mr. Elwell, seconded by Mr. Mattis and unanimously passed.

This action was taken after a lengthy discussion of the subject by members of the Board and a number of parents present.

Explains Previous Action

In opening the subject of debarring children from attending Moorestown High School Mrs. C. P. Mayfield, president of the Board, said that in justice to members of the Board who had not been present at the last meeting, and to the visitors present, she thought a brief resume of the situation to date was in order.

Mrs. Mayfield said that the choice of high schools had been given parents last Spring in good faith, as they had always had that choice. In Bergen County, she said, a high school had enlarged its buildings and hired more teachers in anticipation of children from a neighboring district attending that school. When it was found necessary to raise the price of tuition, however, the School Board of the outside district refused to pay it and sent the children elsewhere. The school was unable to operate without the anticipated revenue, and the act which is causing Riverton all the trouble was passed to meet the situation. Mrs. Mayfield claimed that in withdrawing twelve pupils from the number Palmyra expected to receive the Riverton Board had created a similar condition.

Question on Law

This law, she said, provided that pupils must be sent to the nearest high school. The law which was later read by Mr. Schrader, did not bear out this statement.

The president pointed out that since the survey last year Palmyra had been trying very hard to improve its school and was making great strides toward betterment. However, she felt that parents of pupils who were prepared for high school in June should be given a choice between the two schools. One member of the Board, she said, had spent many hours with the Commissioner and secured from him a verbal assurance that the Board would be permitted to pay tuition of pupils sent to Moorestown, but that it would be necessary to pass a resolution and submit it to him for approval.

Resolution Failed to Pass

Such a resolution had been presented at a meeting of the Board on August 27, but failed to pass. She said that the Commissioner had designated Palmyra as high school by accepting the tuition charge as a basis. That is, when Riverton pupils attended Moorestown High School when the rate there was higher than that of Palmyra, the Riverton Board paid the rate charged at Palmyra and the parents paid the balance.

Mr. Rutherford, however, said that the Assistant Commissioner had told him that since Riverton had been

COURT REOPENING ATTRACTS CROWD

Accumulation of Cases During Vacation Cause of Busy Session

With no Court sessions since the last week in July, there was quite an accumulation of business to be attended to Thursday of last week, and Judge Rigg and Prosecutor Hillman were kept busy from 10 o'clock until well after the noon hour.

Orphans' Court matters had precedence, and Surrogate Matalack had several estates to be cleared up, while others went over—some to September 12, others to September 19 and a few were postponed until October 3.

Waivers predominated in the Criminal Court, there being quite a few prisoners in the County Jail and other defendants out of bail who were anxious to have their cases disposed of without recourse to a Grand Jury investigation.

All pleaded guilty, and were immediately sentenced, as follows:

Peter Manders, Roebing, charged with liquor law violations, fined $100.

Rose Sudo, Roebing, liquor law violations, charged she was manufacturing liquor for medical purposes, she being a victim of dropsy. She dropped $100 in fines before she returned to her home.

Louis Arne, of Lenola, open lewdness, paid a fine of $50.

Francis Shiane, of Riverside, charged with sodomy, had sentence deferred and in the meantime his mentality will be investigated. He is an epileptic and for a time was an inmate of the State Home at Skillman.

Joseph Lumbert, of Bordentown, liquor law violations, $100 fine.

Stephen Birdsall, of Bordentown, two charges of liquor law violations, $300 fine.

Frank Whalen, Philadelphia, transporting liquor, $50 fine.

Charles Bodine and Leon Stidole, both eighteen years of age, of Mount Holly, charged with breaking and entering the stores of Louis B. Kumpf, Creedon & Madden and Joseph H. Aaronson, and who made their escape over the jail wall after they had been committed to the County Jail, were sent to the State Reformatory at Rahway.

Stanley Drayton, of Medford, charged with indecent assault, was taken to in a friendly way by the Court, who then imposed a fine of $50, giving him six months in which to pay, and he will also be under the watchful eye of the probation officer for the next two years.

Samuel Michael and Joseph Victor, Danielowicz, both charged with stealing $32 from the former's uncle, were given a suspended sentence. They had paid back $28 of the money and by order of the Court they will make up the balance of $4, by the cost of $50 each in one year, and will be on probation for two years.

Curtis Votz, of Maple Shade, who has been serving thirty days in the Camden County Jail on a charge of drunken driving, was also sent to the County Jail, in which he was riding when arrested. He was placed on probation for one year and must pay the costs of $50.

Daniel VanSiver, of Beverly, possession of liquor, $50 fine.

Bertha Schermer, of Florence, possession of liquor and a still for the manufacture of the same, $225 fine.

George Sabo, of Trenton, captured while in the act of delivering liquor in Roebing, $100 fine.

Edward A. Barrett, of Bordentown, caught with a half pint of liquor in his pocket when a raid was made on Stephen Birdsall, at that place, was fined $30.

Nicholson Keller, of Trenton, charged with resisting arrest, was placed on a suspended sentence, being placed on probation for six months. He is already serving thirty days for drunken driving and driving without a license.

Matthew Bostman and Walter Roland, of Trenton, caught with a truck and half a dozen barrels of beer, at Roebing, failed to convince the Court that they had been made the "goats," and each will pay a fine of $200.

Clarence Wynn, of Riverside, indicted by the April Grand Jury, pleaded not guilty to desertion and neglect of his wife and also to a charge of assault and battery.

The Court also made an order giving the sheriff power to toll the truck.

Joseph Cunliengo, of Florence, possession of liquor, $150 fine.

All fines imposed carried with them the added stipulation that defendants must go to jail until they are paid.

FINDS CERTIFIED WHEAT BEST FOR JERSEY FARMS

"Certified seed wheat grown in New Jersey is the equal of that produced in any other part of the country," so states Dr. H. B. Sprague, agronomist for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, making issue with those who claim that wheat varieties "run out" when grown from local seed. To be successful in growing wheat from New Jersey seed, advises Dr. Sprague, farmers must keep their varieties pure and at the same time pay proper attention to fertilization, cleaning, and the other requirements of certification. When this is done, he adds, wheat variety may be grown indefinitely without degeneration.

F. S. DIVIDEND

The Board of Directors of Public Service Corporation of New Jersey has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 65 cents a share on the outstanding no par value common stock, payable September 30, to stockholders of record September 6, 1929. The regular quarterly dividend of $2 per share was also declared on the eight per cent. preferred stock, $1.75 on the seven per cent. preferred stock, and $1.25 on the no par value $5 preferred stock. The regular monthly dividend of 50 cents a share was also declared on the 6 per cent. cumulative preferred stock. All dividends are payable as of the same dates.

"Win Success at Home," Says Small Town Novelist

"You Don't Have to Go to New York; Write About Your Home State"

Small Town Author

"Young literary aspirants need not feel hampered by a small town environment," declared Maud Hart Lovelace, novelist, interviewed by a representative of Publishers' Author Service while visiting New York. "If they believe they can't begin their careers until they have traveled or have gone to live in a great city they are simply overlooking the story material around them."

Every State, every town, every tiny hamlet, has its mine of romance, waiting for new writers to uncover. "My own home town was Mankato, Minn., with a population of about 10,000. Not by any means a great metropolis. And most people don't think of Minnesota as a very romantic place. Yet it was in the history of Minnesota that I found color and excitement to serve as a background for two novels."

"Early Candlelight," my romance of pioneer Minnesota, which has just been published by The John Day Company, utilizes some of the scenes of my childhood. Mankato stands at the junction of the Blue Earth and Minnesota rivers, and it is there that the climax of the love story, the scene between Della DuGay, daughter of voyageurs, and the fur baron, Jasper Page, takes place. It was my early interest in those rivers, and my youthful fondles for the days when they bore voyageurs' canoes that led me to write "Early Candlelight." I believe that every young writer has just as rich material at hand."

Mrs. Lovelace never held that it was necessary to go to New York or anywhere else to do her work. She began to write when she was a child and has been at it ever since. Her first definite encouragement came at 18 when one of her short stories was accepted. For some time she devoted herself to short fiction, then wrote her first novel, "The Black Angels," also a Minnesota story, which was accepted by the first publisher to whom it was offered.

Even now that Mrs. Lovelace has won success as a fiction writer, she maintains her loyalty to small towns. Her present home is Wayzata, Minn., which boasts no more than 1,500 residents. Nearly all of her life has been spent within the confines of her home State. She studied in its public schools, and attended the State university for a year. Occasionally she and her husband, Delos W. Lovelace, Journalist and short story writer, leave their headquarters for a brief trip on a visit to New York, but they both prefer to live in the village of Wayzata.

GALA AIR PROGRAM TO DEDICATE FIELD

Official Opening of Central Airport to Have Six Races—Los Angeles Expected

The program for the official opening of Central Airport, Camden, Saturday, September 21, will include nearly a score of events. Paul Thomas and W. Sanger Green, airport trustees, announced this week that the speakers during the dedication exercises are expected to be Governor Morgan P. Larson, of New Jersey; Clarence M. Young, newly appointed Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Aeronautics, and C. Townsend Ludington, president of Central Airport.

The dirigible Lost Angeles is expected to fly over the field during the raising of the American flag by Mr. Ludington's five-year-old daughter, Edith. A delegation of Army and Navy aviation experts and various government officials will arrive from Washington about noon on the opening day.

Plans are being made to accommodate a large crowd and a temporary grandstand, seating about ten thousand spectators, will be built.

One of the first events of the day will be a model airplane flying contest, for which forty entries have already been received. It will be under the auspices of the Aero Club of Pennsylvania and the Aviation Committee of the Camden Chamber of Commerce, aided by the H-Y and Rotary Clubs of Camden.

William A. Hartmann, office manager of the Aero Club, and George Roberson, head of the Aviation Committee, are in charge of the contest.

Following the speeches and flag raising, the first of six air races will take place. There will be Army, Navy and National Guard races as well as events for light and heavy commercial planes and a free-for-all.

All but the light commercial plane contest will be held over a ten-mile triangular course, three laps to a race. The small planes with a piston displacement of 400 to 620 cubic inches will race over a twenty-mile course.

Other features of the program include parachute jumping, exhibition flying and maneuvers, a dead-stick landing, and night flying by a small plane.

The landing of the two mail planes, one from Washington and one from Hadley Field, is also expected to attract considerable attention as the latter plane will land at night when the entire lighting equipment of the field will be turned on.

A banquet will be held that evening at the Walt Whitman by the Camden Chamber of Commerce for the contestants and officials.

SWING FOR $277,500

Mr. and Mrs. Horace B. Ward, of Medford, have brought big suits against the Reading Transportation Company to recover for injuries received when a Reading bus struck their car on the White Horse pike on August 26. They charge that the bus was on the wrong side of the road and was wholly responsible for the accident. Mr. Ward wants $127,500 and Mrs. Ward wants $150,000.

POWELL PROVES "PEPPY" LEADER

Local Musical Star Performs at Rotary's Weekly Luncheon Meeting

The regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Moorestown Rotary Club, held in the Community House last Thursday at noon, took the form of an old-fashioned "sing," and how the women's clubroom re-echoed with the sound!

Dr. C. L. Henderson, president, having returned from a month's vacation in Canada, was again in the chair. The genial dentist said, "While vacations seem necessary, certainly am glad to be back and here with the club again." Dr. Henderson was ill with the gripe virtually all the time he was away.

Jonathan W. Powell inspired the vocal chords of the entire group to "bigger and better" song renditions. All the old-time favorites were popularized by his peppery leadership.

Three other harmoniously-inclined Rotarians furnished entertainment by improvising music for "timeless" songs. Their amazing ability was roundly applauded by their enthusiastic audience. The "vocals" were Rotarians Henry H. Stiles, Albert J. Frohock and Clarence E. Worrell.

Then came the rendition of three vocal solos by Mrs. Pearl Hiles, Moorestown soprano. Her choices were not only popular for themselves, but were given in such a way that they received instant acclamation from the group. The climax came with a humorous reading by Mr. Powell. His program provoked gales of laughter.

The luncheon program, taken as a whole, was one of the most hilarious and enjoyable of a large group of recent successes, all of which goes to say that the Rotary's "home-talent" is of "double plus" quantity.

CHARLES ROGERS AT WALT WHITMAN

Gala Vaudeville Headed by "The Reed Revue" on Same Program For This Week

For the last half of the week starting Thursday, the Walt Whitman Theatre has arranged another justly famous double feature vaudeville program, augmented by a screen talking picture of unusual attractiveness and importance, that gives promise to provide one of the best entertainments presented anywhere this season, and establish another quality mark that is so characteristic of this popular playhouse.

Heading the vaudeville bill is an offering direct from Broadway that is unique in its entirety and thoroughly entertaining. Bud and Margie Reed Revue, presenting "A Couple of Chips Off the Old Block," George Yeomans and Lizzie, a company of four people in "The Fast Worker," is the other headline act on this bill. Gatti and Company, or better still, the "Two Music Masters," are great. Other acts on the bill are Hammond and Kugle, known as "The Boys From Broadway," a riot comedy, Potter and Gamble, in "A Song and Dance Classic," making their first appearance in this section of the country this season round out this wonderful stage show.

The All-Talking Paramount production, "The River of Romance," starring Charles (Buddy) Rogers, adapted from the famous play, "Magnolia," by Booth Tarkington, will be the feature photoplay for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. The theme of the action is the rise to fame of Charles (Buddy) Rogers, the star, following an incident in which he seems to be a coward. The scenes are laid in the lower Mississippi Valley, on a plantation, on the river boats, and in a gambling hall. The time is the 1840's.

BRUNEN'S SLAYER SEEKING PARDON

Charles M. Powell, Sentenced for Second Degree Murder, Makes Plea

An appeal for freedom has been made to the Board of Pardons by Charles M. Powell, serving 20 to 30 years in State prison for the murder of "Honest John" Brunen, Riverside circus owner.

Powell, who confessed he was hired to kill Brunen, pleaded guilty to second degree murder and was sentenced January 17, 1923. The second degree plea was permitted by the State when Powell turned State's evidence at the trial of the murdered man's widow, Mrs. Doris Brunen, and her brother, Harry C. Mohr.

Mohr was found guilty of first degree murder on Powell's testimony and is serving a life sentence. Mrs. Brunen was acquitted.

Powell testified he had been hired by Mohr to hide in the yard of the Brunen home and shoot the circus owner as he sat with his back to a window. Powell escaped and for five weeks the case was a profound mystery.

In the investigation launched by Detective Ellis Parker, Powell was shadowed by State Trooper Herman Bading and finally was arrested on Cooper street near Front street, Camden, late one night. He virtually was kidnapped within a few feet of his home and his arrest and incarceration at Mount Holly was kept quiet by Parker for more than 20 days.

At the time of his arrest Powell denied all knowledge of the murder, but finally confessed and said Mohr had paid him to do the killing. Mohr denied Powell's charges, but after a dramatic trial at Mount Holly, Mohr was found guilty and the widow was exonerated.

After he was taken to prison Powell was declared insane and was in the State Hospital for nearly three years, but later was returned to the prison as cured.

Nearly 100 other applications for pardons have been filed with the Board of Pardons for action at the September term of court. The list of applications from Burlington County follows:

Harry Asay, murder, second degree, sentenced January 25, 1921, to 20 to 30 years.

Fred Grant, issuing a worthless check, sentenced November 1, 1928, to one year and six months.

William J. Herel, breaking, entering and larceny on two counts, and breaking and entering, sentenced July 7, 1927, to 7 years and six months, and $1,500 fine.

Norman Lippincott, manslaughter, sentenced November 4, 1928, 5 years.

Frank Maurone, atrocious assault and battery, sentenced July 5, 1923, to three years.

Albert Miller, malicious setting fire to and burning of woods, sentenced April 26, 1928.

Harry W. Plau, larceny of chickens, sentenced, July 26, 1928, to 3 years.

Richard Sharp, colored, second degree murder, sentenced April 26, 1927, to 20 years.

Herman E. Splitter, breaking, entering and larceny for two counts, and breaking and entering, sentenced July 7, 1927, to seven and one-half years.

Lester Mentz, larceny of chickens, sentenced July 26, 1928, to 6 years.

Somewhat of a sensation was sprung at the meeting of the Delaware Township Board of Education held in the Sharp School, Brick Yard road, near Springdale, last week, when dismissal of J. They were read and filed pending a public hearing September 13, which was authorized by a vote of seven members of the Board. Two failed to vote.

Mrs. Elizabeth Carruthers of Perth, Australia, left her $50,000 estate to the British government.

FATHER, SON HURT AS CAR HITS TREE

Crash Occurs When Parent Takes Hand Off Steering Wheel to Attend Child

Arthur Todd, 119 East Haddon avenue, Oaklyn, and his son, John, eight years old, were injured when Todd's auto went off Riverton road just beyond Heulings Lippincott's farm Sunday afternoon and crashed into a tree.

Todd told State Police, who were called on the scene, that his car left the road and crashed into the tree as he took his hands off the steering wheel to put the boy, who was on the front seat with him, in a more comfortable position.

The father and son were taken to the office of Dr. Howard C. Curtis, Moorestown, for treatment, and the boy was later removed to Cooper Hospital, Camden, where he is under observation. Todd was lacerated about the right hand.

Five other persons in the machine escaped without injuries. The machine was considerably damaged.

Miss Derna Chayer, the new General Secretary of the Burlington County YWCA, arrived in the County this week to begin her duties. Miss Chayer, who has been in the Foreign Communities Department of the National Board of the YWCA, comes to this County with a vast experience, particularly in fields of work among the foreign born, a type of work which the Burlington County Association has just begun. Miss Chayer finds a splendidly organized field for her leadership here. Mrs. Sidonie Schafer, the Associate General Secretary, Miss Dorothy Gebhart, the Girl Reserve Secretary, and Miss Rebecca Phillips, the Office Secretary, completes the staff.

Girl Reserves Plan Conference

The High School Girl Reserves of Burlington and Camden Counties are preparing for their annual fall setting-up conference, which is to be held at Camp Oceanlickon during the weekend of October 4, 5 and 6 for the officers and advisers of High School Girl Reserve clubs. The conference planning committee met Friday evening, September 6, at the Moorestown Community House. Burlington County members of the committee are Mrs. Brelay Allen, County Girl Reserve Chairman, of Vincentown; Mrs. C. S. Beckwith, adviser of Pemberton, Miss Dorothy Gebhart, County Girl Reserve Secretary, and three High School Girl Reserves, Margaret Cornwell, of Medford; Margaret Coulter, of Cheshirefield, and Bertha Johnston, of Moorestown. Margaret Cornwell is registrar for Burlington County girls.

Some leaders for the conference have already been obtained. Mrs. Roy Clement and Miss Laura Syphert, who were in charge of swimming at the YWCA camp this summer, will have charge of sports. Miss Margaret Ewing, Camden Girl Reserve Secretary; Miss Sidonie Schafer and Miss Dorothy Gebhart, Burlington County Secretaries, will be there.

The program promises to be interesting and of benefit to the girls and leaders who are there for helpful help for the year's club work.

In the way of entertainment there will be both land and water sports, including swimming, canoeing and games, a short play by the Gloucester girls, the moving picture which was taken during the third week of camp, and other events to be planned later. There will be technical discussions for the various officers, discussions on Vocational and Girl Reserve Ideals, an advisers' meeting, a ceremonial, services of worship, and music.

Some Ideals Recently Placed Before

By LUCY MEACHAM THURSTON
Contributing Editor

Of all alert business men who are counted upon to see the drifts of public desire, the advertising man stands foremost. He prays whatever staff he is heading, of course. He puts forward every possible good point or appeal. But does he do so in the light of sentiment of ten years ago, of a year ago, or even a month? Not if he wants to lead his field, and that is every ad man's ambition.

No. He stands a sentinel on the watchtower of changing wants and wishes, of the quick moving current of public real or fancied needs, of new forming ideas. To his sensing of such he must fit his pictures, either of scene or of words. He is most able directly in proportion to his largeness of vision. So when a convention of advertising men loudly applaud ideals put before them it is well to heed.

The International Advertising Association met in Berlin during the middle of August. They had placed before them, along with details related entirely to their business, some most remarkable ideals. They were reminded of their unusual opportunities, of "the part which men trained in advertising might take in the field of international relations," and they were appealed to to stress the point of view of the hard-working, virtuous and peace-loving majority in all nations, by which those nations should be judged. "Here then is the question I lay before you: Is there any way in which a nation in its real essence of character and soul can be interpreted to other nations? If you can put that across it will be a supreme sentiment for advertising and a unique and lasting theme for renown," said one of those pointing out the high lights of possibilities.

And while this interpretation of nation to nation might be regarded as the great ideal, the one presenting it pointed to a result which was a step still further. "It was to cease, the nations must learn to know and judge one another by what is best in each. I honestly trust that this convention may hasten that glorious consummation."

"Never Too Old to Learn"

There are indications at the Bureau of Education that a very distressing condition of life may be added if adult education is encouraged. Statistics show 60,000 more adult students in classes last year than the year before.

The Bureau has come to the conclusion that youth has no advantage over maturity in learning. Indeed, it is inclined to give the advantage to the man of 45 over the youth of 20 in the wrestle with a problem that constitutes element in education; the older man, because of his experience and judgment, will the more thoroughly master it. The psychologists have been saying just this.

Men like Henry Ford have recently spoken in favor of the older man's value to industry. The theory that a man should be shot when he is forty is being passed on to the dump-heap. In adult education many see a cause of much optimism. Perhaps the greater contrasts in life are noticeable in men and women after 45 or 50 years of age, because some are able at this time to make a transition from interests that are largely physical to those that are more largely mental and spiritual; while others, for some reason, do not make this important transition and their old age is, therefore, uninteresting and pessimistic — one of the greatest tragedies of life.

But the man who can read a book or ask questions about a new insect, or wonder why two and two make four has a big chance of never finding life dull. The fellow who just eats and drinks and counts money will miss a lot same day.

What Hoover Has Done

A quick-witted, aggressive President is plainly on the job at Washington. Here are just a few of the many things he has done since taking possession of office five brief months ago.

Abolished the fiction of the Official Spokesman.

Announced his plan for a commission on law enforcement.

Called Congress into special session to act for farm relief.

Withdrawn the government's oil lands from lease or sale in the interest of conservation.

Overturned the established policy regarding publicity for income tax returns.

Called on the Republican Party in the South to reorganize itself, putting an end to its scandal in patronage.

Supported the constitutional government in the Mexican rebellion.

Intervened in a labor dispute to anticipate a strike on the Texas and Pacific Railroad.

Appointed the Farm Relief Board.

Announced a plan to summon in 1930 the first national conference on child health to be held in twenty years.

Appealed to chief naval powers for action on arms limitation.

Made a decision to put before Congress a program for the modernization of the antiquated prisons of the Federal Government.

Deeded his weekend camp in Virginia to the Federal Government as a permanent summer home for his successors.

Not Healthy to Retire!

Thomas A. Edison was recently asked whether he intended to retire.

"No," he answered. "It's unhealthy."

These are wise words from a man of true wisdom. His inventions and discoveries have benefited the world for many years — at his advanced years many men stop working, and give themselves to rest and comfort, but he remains just as busy as ever.

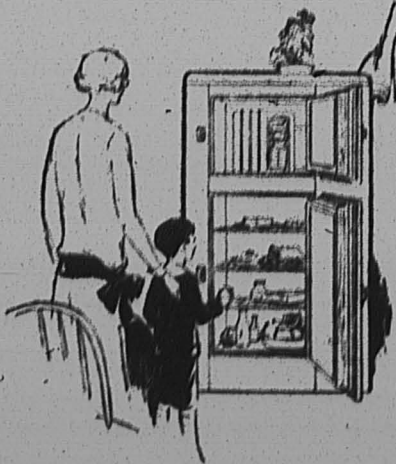

He knows not only secrets of electricity, but also secrets of good living.

He has learned that life is an experience glorious and vital — and that retirement means stagnation and death.

His own splendid health and mental ability at an advanced age is a sterling example of what hard work can do for one.

After chloroforming three watch-dogs, burglars stole gems worth $15,000 from a mansion in Derby, England.

GUIDEPOSTS TO Health and Happiness By Bernarr Macfadden

On Getting a Husband

In spite of the freedom girls today enjoy, there is a large group of young women who cannot get husbands. It is for that beauty and charm columns are run in the newspapers.

These columnists tell you that you must be neat in appearance, a good housekeeper, a fine cook, modest and yet entertaining, and that you must never let a man see your faults. I do not doubt that many girls are impressed by this information.

But it is shallow. It makes serious, fundamental principles out of superficial frills. It may be one way of getting a husband, but it is not the best way. Nor will it hold him. Getting a husband does not depend upon the fragrance of your perfume, the color of your hair, your ability as a cook, nor the amount of "come-hither" in your eyes.

Getting a husband depends, fundamentally and primarily, upon the amount of physical attraction you possess. And I do not mean that a girl must be vampish or even beautiful.

The amount of physical attraction a girl possesses depends upon how much of a real woman she is. A real woman is strong. She can run and jump and wrestle. She swims, plays tennis, enjoys walking. You know at a glance that she would bear normal, healthy children. She is full of vigor and enthusiasm. Vivacity is her greatest charm. Every cell in her body and brain is alive and functioning. Life to her, is an interesting and thrilling experience. She drains every moment of all it holds.

I am not discounting the value of such womanly virtues as cooking, housekeeping and neat appearance. For an I ignoring beauty or charm. But I do say that these so-called beauty experts over-emphasize these attributes.

Every girl should know that sex attraction is not a game of love, but a powerful tool in the hands of Nature through which the propagation of the human race is assured. The more pronounced the sex characteristics, the greater the attraction. What ever your natural endowment may be you can further emphasize it by paying proper attention to physical culture rules.

BERNARR MACFADDEN

"I wish I had a waste basket," said Bree Rabbit, as he pushed his chair back from the table one evening.

"Perhaps the dear children can find one for you," suggested Mother Rabbit.

"That's a good idea," said Bree. "Then he added, 'Come along, Bille, let's get Pop a waste basket.'"

Away the children went as Bree Rabbit asked himself by the open window, "I'll have to get some candy for those children," he said.

"I believe enough candy is good for them, but not too much," answered Mother Rabbit.

BANG!

A piece of mud whizzed past Bree Rabbit's head and hit the newspaper.

"What on earth are you doing?" he asked of the children.

"We're busy!" shouted Bille.

Bree Rabbit put the window down BANG! A clod of dirt hit the window.

"Hey, stop that!" shouted the old fellow.

All was still for a while and by and by the two youngsters came in grinning from big ear to big ear.

"We have dug a hole for you to use as a waste basket, come and get it," they said in one breath.

"Get out of here, you rascals!" shouted Bree Rabbit, as he made a dash for them.

It is hinted that when we are not wearing black suede gloves with our smart evening costume in black we will be wearing long crinoid gloves of tinted suede to match exactly the color of the gown.

Heart BY JOHN J. HINES, M.D. THE POWER

I am a firm believer in anything my reasoning power tells me is absolute truth. Once my belief is established, my faith lays hold in earnest.

All bodies set in motion by outside influence, and left to themselves, tend to become still. In other words, they come to rest. If I drop a pebble in a still pond ripples start, and quickly. When the impact of the pebble is gone, the little waves gradually become placid again. That's because the force is not continuous.

The great planets floating in space are in constant motion. Some wonderful power must have set them to work. And, unless that power is perpetual, the large bodies would in time cease to move.

Our earth is rolling now a thousand miles per hour—swifter than the most powerful airplane. It is also rolling around the sun in an almost inconceivable orbit, every 365 days. Some stupendous power set the pace. It is still causing the big sphere to move exactly on time and with the same meridian velocity. The power is at work right now, as it was in the beginning.

I don't need any book to tell me that this power is still at work. Happiness can be gained thousands of years ahead, far more accurately than any man-made chronometer can tell later. The past proves the future.

Call the power that, or any other name I know there is a supreme power. Since great good comes from the exercise of this power that makes universal life possible, I know it is a great power, for which "God" is by all earthly reason the best name.

Theorists and doubters may tell me with all emphasis that there is no God. I know better. And I am willing to put my faith, and all that I am and have, in the power that gives me my life, and the lives of these I hold most dear. Men may believe as they please—I do the same.

DON'T BLAME MILK

Health authorities and the press should refrain from blaming the milk supply in case of an epidemic until the source of infection is definitely ascertained according to a resolution adopted last Friday afternoon by the State Dairy Advisory Committee at the office of William B. Dwyer, Secretary of Agriculture, at the State House, Trenton. The committee consists of representatives of all the County boards of agriculture and breeders' associations and is an advisory group to the State Board of Agriculture.

Mrs. Marilyn Miller, famed dancer and musical comedy star, has a contract to appear in three motion pictures, for which it is said she will receive $400,000.

TASTE WARNS TOO LATE FOR SAFETY

Foods may "taste all right" and yet be dangerous to health. Your doctor will tell you that foods spoil because of the tiny micro-organisms which become active when these perishables are kept for long at a temperature above fifty degrees. Fifty degrees is the danger point. For cold can conquer these bacteria and arrest their progress. In foods kept above fifty degrees—even two, three or four points—the micro-organisms multiply astonishingly, and are lurking menaces to health, even though they may not noticeably affect the taste of the food.

Year 'round refrigeration is the one safe way to keep perishables at exactly the right temperature without changing the wholesome condition of the food, or destroying a particle of its nourishment value. Window-sill and back-porch makeshifts keep foods too warm or too cold—both dangerous to health.

Friends Hard to Handle — Don't Welcome Sin
Learning the Ways of Women

There used to be a man who told me I should marry again, and had a woman picked out for me. Some how I could never squelch him. I had known him so long, although I had never intimated to him that I needed such advice. His assumption that I needed his assistance was extremely distasteful to me; no doubt he spoke to women unknown to me, and made me ridiculous, but I could not help myself.

Fortunately I am rid of this man, as he died some time ago, but others remain to keep me sufficiently humiliated. One of the heaviest burdens of my life has always been numerous persons among my acquaintances who make a fool of me, and I have never been able to get rid of them.

According to my standards they are grossly impolite, but they seem to have friends, and prosper. I get along well with active enemies; they at least only scowl at me, and finally they quit talking about me behind my back—but I cannot handle some friends so successfully.

I am firmly convinced that the most sensible effort in which a man may engage is to do the best he can with such powers as Almighty God or heredity has given him. There are so many weak and unfortunate that I cannot help them all, but may I help myself? I must eat to live, and food is contrary and mal-live.

At 9 a. m. when suffering distress from uric acid or overeating, I resolve to do better thereafter, but four hours later, with agreeable friends at table, I forget the solemn warning and resolution of the morning. With my striving I make a little program. Am I a fool for not making more, or have I inherent weaknesses of body and mind that tie me hopelessly to sin? Some say they can pray for strength, and receive it.

Others say they are able to exercise their will and overcome evil; but I have observed that both these boosters are usually as weak as I am; so generally so that their methods do not impress me. In sin the seed planted in man to inevitably destroy him at eighty, or earlier? Anyway, I am able to regulate it a little, to my advantage, and shall persevere. I am still convinced that there is most comfort in life for those who resist sin as much as possible, instead of welcoming it.

I often think of a saying by Napoleon: "I will be compelled to go to

MARLTON NOTES

The Keystone Automobile Club has placed signs "Marlton Welcomes You" at the four main road entrances to the town. Marlton Grange was instrumental in having these signs placed here. Later on "cross roads" and directional signs will be placed in the town.

We are pleased to report that the condition of Mrs. M. Anna Brick has considerably improved during the past week. She is still confined in Cooper Hospital where she has been confined for several weeks with a fractured hip. The prospects now are favorable for recovery and will probably be able to leave hospital within a couple of weeks.

The Palmyra bridge officials placed a man at the junction of the new concrete road and Marlton-Kingswood road over the week-end. Many bridge-bound motorists turned on concrete road and were confused when they arrived at Marlton pike to find the new road closed beyond. Former week, some of the drivers turned left on Marlton pike and some went all the way to Camden before they learned that they were going wrong for Palmyra Bridge. The man on duty last week-end informed all drivers of right route to bridge.

The Highlan Fruit Farm at Marlton delivered 2300 baskets of tomatoes to the Campbell Seed Company on Monday of last week. The day's carting weighed 43 tons.

Lowry — Dixon

The wedding of Miss Margaret Dixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dixon, of Collingswood, Collingswood, and Benjamin H. Lowry, son of Mrs. William C. Lowry, of Chester avenue, Moorestown, took place at four o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Frances Childs Memorial Church, of West Collingswood. The Rev. Dr. Robert R. MacBride, pastor of the Hillside Presbyterian Church, formerly of Collingswood, performed the ceremony.

A variety of white flowers, palms and ferns were used to decorate the church. Mrs. Ellen Rices played the wedding march and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

A decided Colonial influence was noted in the quaint gowns fashioned for the bride and her attendants. They were made of Gros de l'Onde moire, light fitting, off-the-shoulder basques, ruffled skirts, all but touching the floor and caught up a bit on the right side with a thin cluster of velvet flowers.

The bride's gown was of cream white, featuring a bertha of Alouette lace caught in the front with gardenias. Her veil was of tulle and arranged as a cap with gardenias at the nape of the neck. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of orchids, and white roses with a shower of lilies-of-the-valley.

Margaret Harrel, of Haddonfield, was the maid of honor and Mrs. David K. Coates, of Oaklyn; Edythe Roberts, of Haddonfield; and Evelyn Madden and Anne Holten, of Collingswood, were the bridesmaids.

The maid of honors gown was apricot and she wore a periwinkle blue velvet jacket and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of Drew roses and blue delphiniums.

The bridesmaids were dressed alike in periwinkle blue and carried hair hats filled with Drew roses, delphiniums and baby breath.

Walter Foster Webster, of East Orange, served the bridegroom a best man, and James Polhemus, of Haddonfield; Murray Holmes, of Collingswood, and Broadway Brown, of Moorestown, were ushers.

Mrs. Dixon selected a gown of royal blue velvet with matching felt hat and wore a corsage of Drew roses. Mrs. Lowry appeared in flower lavender chiffon, a purple velvet jacket and a matching hat. She wore orchids.

More than 200 guests attended the reception at the Hotel Walt Whitman, which followed. Mr. Lowry and his bride left for a wedding tour abroad and on their return will take up their residence at 219 Blue Highway East, Haddonfield.

Friday evening preceding the rehearsal at the church, the Dions entertained at dinner for members of the bridal party, Dr. and Mrs. MacBride, of Haddonfield; Mrs. Broadway Brown, of Moorestown; Mrs. John Middleton and Ernest Farrington, of Haddonfield.

OLDEST OAKLAND DATES BACK TO 1916

There wouldn't be any used cars for sale if all automobile buyers were like William Butzer, president of the Butzer Packing Company, of Salina, Kansas.

Like a majority of motorists, Mr. Butzer occasionally succumbs to the lure of a bright new car. But there the resemblance ends; he refuses to part with his car. His "stable" now includes three Oaklands, which he has been buying and driving since back in 1916.

The oldest of the three cars is a high-topped touring model, which has been driven far beyond the 100,000-mile mark. The second was purchased in 1924 shortly after demonstration of four-wheel brakes with its fleet of "True Blue Travelers." The speedometer of this car now carries more than 50,000 miles. The latest of the trio is an Oakland All-American dandy sedan, which Mr. Butzer has driven only 1,500 miles. The three cars present an interesting study in the evolution of the automobile since 1916. The principal external changes include a progressive reduction in height, wider, more flaring fenders, and, narrower, higher radiators. The internal mechanical details seldom seen by the average owner reveal changes fully as important.

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, Pastor

The Sunday School attendance has been very good all summer. July had an increase of fifteen per cent over July of last year, and August had a thirty per cent increase over August of last year. We invite you to our Bible School at 10 a. m. Classes for all ages.

Sunday, 11:15 a. m. Rev. Mr. Lockett will preach a sermon dedicated to those who are beginning school and college courses again. The text will be Proverbs 14:8.

In the evening at 7:45 o'clock the Pastor will tell of some impressions he received from attending various churches during the summer, among which were the Roman Catholic, Reformed Presbyterian, Methodist, Reformed Episcopal, Presbyterian and Baptist.

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. W. M. Erhard, Pastor

Every member is asked to participate in the effort our church is putting forth to gather souls into the Kingdom. The plan under way calls for each member to pray once a day for the success of the church's mission to outsiders. This is to be done by reading and talking up the services, and lastly, to bring your friends and neighbors, who are not members of any church, especially during the month of October. With a concerted and prayerful effort on the part of every member, a great good will be accomplished. Give God an opportunity to use you.

COMMUNICATED

To the Editor: Sir—Why does not the Bridge Company issue a monthly ticket to residents using the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge every day?

Philadelphia employed in Philadelphia will not come over here and settle if they have to pay 70 cents a day for toll, or $18 more a month. We can sell them a separate home with ground equal to a row of houses in Philadelphia for the same money, but if they pay $18 extra a month toll and $13 extra for financing their home, due to the present financing methods in this section, there is no chance of getting them over here. I believe our growth depends upon getting Pennsylvanians over here. Following are comparative financing figures, based on a $6,000 house:

Pennsylvania

Purchase Price $6000
Cash $500

1st mortgage Trust Co. 6 per cent $3000 $15.00 Month

2d mortgage B. & J. 1500 15.50 Month

3d straight 1000 5.00

$5500 9.00 Taxes

Pay out per month $44.50

Save 7.75

Cost per month $36.75

It takes twice as long to pay off but enables purchased to meet their payments according to their income.

1st B. & J. $4000 $41.00

2d straight at 6 per cent 1500 7.50

$5500 9.00 Taxes

18.00 Toll

Pay out per month $75.50

Save 20.50

Cost per month $55.00

Is it not a fact it would cost the Bridge Company very little more to carry 100,000 cars a month than 50,000? If the Bridge Company is interested in having this section grow, which in turn will increase the revenue of the bridge, they will make some arrangement for reduction of toll to the regular commuters.

ices are to be started on Wednesday evening, September 18th, at 7:30 p. m. Please note the early time. Everyone interested in the Church's welfare and the eternal work of God should attend these quiet hour services. They will be varied and spicy in the programs.

A big congregational rally will be held on Friday evening, September 27, with Philadelphia speakers and entertainers. Refreshments will be served. We are aiming to get the very best in the City of Philadelphia for this occasion in the way of speakers in our denomination.

Regular services next Lord's Day, morning and evening, with music by our First Lutheran Choir, under the leadership of Mr. Lee Milton. The Pastor will preach morning and evening, while Luther League will be conducted at 7:00 o'clock in the evening.

Calvary Presbyterian

Rev. C. T. Bates, Minister

Ladies Get Ride in "Wagon" as They Serenade Cops at Legion Convention

Members of Auxiliary Get Last While Celebrating Election of Burlington County Woman and Wander into Police Headquarters at Elizabeth

The calm and peace of police headquarters at Elizabeth were kicked at 10:30 o'clock last Friday night when a crowd of women, all members of the American Legion State Auxiliary, descended en masse on the place and proceeded to serenade members of the force on duty there.

When, after a series of cheers, songs, the din of whistles, horns and beaten tin pans had subsided—to some degree—it was found the Auxiliary members were from Burlington County and were celebrating the victory of Miss Maudie B. Evans, of Beverly, who was chosen third department vice-president of the Auxiliary.

It was learned, too, that the marchers had traversed a large portion of the city on their expedition, beginning at the Elizabeth Carter Hotel, where the election took place, thence to the Winfield Scott Hotel, thence to the Elks Club, serading all the policemen on the way. Joined by this time by a large crowd of curious spectators, they made their noisy way toward police headquarters, holding up trolley cars and automobiles all along the line of march.

Arriving at headquarters, they sang their songs and cheered the police, the city, the Legion, and everyone else. Then admitted they were lost. The sergeant on duty bearing in mind the Mayor's edict that the visitors were to have the freedom of the city, ordered a patrolman to get the wagon. The trip was conducted in great style. The members of the group were bundled into the "wagon" and, to the accompaniment of horns, whistles and bells, returned to the Winfield Scott Hotel.

Among the members of the "Patrol Wagon Squad" were Miss Evans, of Beverly; Mrs. Alice Wentz, of Riverside; Mrs. T. M. D'Ancicich, Mrs. H. H. D'Ancicich, Miss Jeanette D'Ancicich, Mrs. Maurice Sandoz, Miss Mary Frisco and Mrs. Ralph Fisher, all of Palmyra. And they voted the cops were all good sports by this time by a large crowd of curious spectators, they made their way to the Winfield Scott Hotel.

The Woman's Club of Palmyra is about to begin its fall activities. The first meeting of the season will be held on Monday, September 16, in the Lion's Club quarters, Society Hall. Mrs. W. R. Dunn will preside.

The members will be received by Mrs. F. L. Shill, Mrs. F. R. Durkin, Sr., Mrs. F. A. Matthews, Sr., Mrs. H. B. Trout, Mrs. C. P. Voorhis, Jr., and Mrs. James Hartley, Mrs. Richard Wilson and Mrs. George Becker have arranged a program that will be most interesting.

The Year Book will be ready for distribution at that time and it will be seen that many activities are planned for the coming year.

Medford, 8; Vincetown, 4.

Last Saturday afternoon Sam Kline, battle-scarred veteran of a dozen campaigns, pitched Medford to an 8 to 4 victory over Vincetown, a second-half title, and the 1929 championship of the Burlington County League.

Overcoming a 3 to 0 lead it had blown away on errors, Medford crushed its rival and annexed its first league pennant since 1925. The champions had captured the first half title on the Fourth, and by winning Saturday's playoff, a deadlock automatically gathered in the season's honors.

Had Vincetown won, a three-game championship series would have been necessary.

Between 1,700 and 2,000 fans, who filled every square inch of space in R. D. Park, Mount Holly, saw Kline master "Judy" Werling and win his ninth victory of the league campaign, and his seventh consecutive game.

Working, who drew the turning assignment when Tom Tracy, Vincetown southpaw, reported with a lame arm, was the pitcher for 12 hits, including eight singles, two doubles, a triple and a homer.

Five hitless innings Kline was a puzzle to the Vincetown batters throughout the struggle. Sam allowed but five hits, one a double, and struck out Werling and the Vincetown pitcher in five of the nine innings the runners-up took up their war clubs.

While an error hurt Kline and sent the Vincetown off to three runs and the lead in the fifth, it was a triple off the bat of Frank "Buck" Sheridan, scoring three runs, that eased the pain and proved to be the turning point in the battle.

To be sure, errors by "Amie" Leobie used Werling and started Vincetown adding, but it was powerful hitting in the late seasons that really turned the trick for Medford and brought home the title.

As Sheridan had been successful in a climax, so was Giant Eckert, facing a crisis. The teams were deadlocked, 4 to 4, in the seventh. Two were down when Eddie Hansen drew a life on Leobie's bubble of his grounder.

Eckertuffed the third pitch. The ball arched far into center, Johnny Smith, Vincetown fielder, chasing it, but never catching up with the apple, which took one hop, cleared the fence, and sent the hitter following Hansen across the pentagon. That home run blow put Medford in front, 6 to 4.

Cassaboon Kneers Kline was invincible in the eighth and Medford came in to hit. With one down, Sheridan singled to center. Paul Cassaboon, third hit was a single, Sheridan taking second. Sam Kline poked a single to left, but Sheridan was out trying to score. Benny Worrell to Eddie Novack, Cassaboon moving to third and Kline to second. Cassaboon scored on the wasted ball, and when "Shortie" Vaughn's blow fell for a double in center, Sam crossed with the eighth and last run. Vincetown went out in order in the ninth.

There was "no score" and Medford had three hits. Vincetown's two when the Statemen staged their three-run rally in the fifth. Leobie singled, Smith was hit, and both runners moved up on Novack's bunt. Ben Worrell capped an easy one to Al Rigert, who heaved wisely to the plate, allowing Leobie and Smith to tally. "Rick" Reeves got a double on a short hit to right, and Worrell scored.

The other Vincetown run came in the seventh. With one down, Novack poked a long one to the fence in left and made third. Ben Worrell's sacrifice fly to Hansen scored him.

Rigert gave the tip-off of what was coming in the sixth by singling. Hansen lined out. Eckert was safe on Leobie's error. Spotts walked, filling the bases. Benny Vaughn popped to Novack in foul territory.

Sheridan then cleaned the bases with his triple, and scored the run which put his team ahead, 4 to 3, on Cassaboon's double to right. Kline grounded to H. Worrell and died at first, ending the rally.

Fielders Sparkle An inning later came Eckert's homer, and after that an easy romp for Medford.

Despite the fact that loose field play and errors of omission as well as commission dulled the battle, the contest had its sensational highlights. Two Olympics wereuffed out at the plate on lightning throws home by Tom Tracy on Jimmy Spotts in the second, and Ben Worrell on Sheridan in the eighth.

Ben Vaughn sprinted hard to make a pretty catch of Hank Worrell's liner

Martha Norelius Victor in Wrigley Marathon

Martha Norelius of New York, Olympic champion, emerged as the victor in the women's 10-mile Wrigley marathon at Toronto, winning the $10,000 prize. Ruth Turner won the second place and $3,000.

In the fourth, both first basemen sparked. Tracy making a great stop of "Shortie" Vaughn's smash in the third, and Eckert spearing Norelius' high bouncer in the Vincetown fifth. The box score:

MOORESTOWN BOATS WIN AT BEACH HAVEN

Sabotage owned by Moorestowners sailed off with two of the three Class A honors in the Barnegat Bay Yacht Racing Association's regatta at the Little Egg Harbor Yacht Club, Beach Haven, Friday afternoon of last week. The Tanawock, champion of Barnegat Bay, owned by E. Russell Perkins, prominent Moorestownian, who recently was elected commodore of the Barnegat Yacht Club, placed first, and Mary Ann, of Island Heights, owned by S. Roger Gale, another prominent Moorestownian, came in second in the Class A catboat race.

Commodore Perkins' Tanawock, sailed by J. R. Weaver, son of former Mayor John R. Weaver, of Philadelphia, covered the twelve-mile course in one hour, fifteen minutes and forty-three seconds. Mr. Gale's Mary Ann, with R. Applegate at the helm, negotiated the course in one hour, fifteen minutes and twenty-five seconds. The Bat from Toms River, with a time of one hour, eighteen minutes and fourteen seconds, was third.

Geo. Smith Shoots Fourteen Under Par, Playing Thirty-six Holes in 130

While the "greats" among the amateurs were getting themselves in the headlines of daily papers last week George Smith, Moorestown Field Club "pro" was staying home and in a quiet and unassuming way was shooting some fancy golf that made the performances of the "simon pures" rather "small-townish."

While some of the amateurs out in California were shooting match play rounds up in the 80's on the Pebble Beach course and surviving, George was turning in some fancy scores down in the sixties that will go down in local links history, to say the least.

Wednesday afternoon his opening card for nine holes was 33, three under par, and he followed this with a 32, equalling the course record for nine holes and also equalling his recent record of 65, seven under par, for eighteen holes. Still feeling in fine form, George extended his afternoon's golfing to twenty-seven holes, scoring another 33.

Thursday afternoon, despite the rain, George went out to complete his thirty-six hole card and turned in another 32, thus giving him two 65's, a total of 130 strokes for thirty-six holes.

And when you can clip 14 off "old man Par" in thirty-six holes you are shooting golf that is entitled to a place in links history.

HOLLY HIGH HAS VETERAN ELEVEN

Complete Team of Letter Men Returning to County Seat School

With the first game nearly a month off, Coach Wilbur Crosley can already place an experienced eleven on the gridiron that would set up a fine record for Mount Holly High School.

Crosley has 11 lettermen back, and by the time the first game is played feels confident that his squad will make a fine showing in the Burlington County High School League, which will inaugurate its first year as a circuit this fall.

What makes it more promising for Crosley is the fact that of the 11 men returning, four are backs, while the other seven are linemen. Crosley, however, will miss the services of Ellis Parker, who was the shining light for the past four years, playing quarterback. Parker is entering Temple University and will endeavor to make a place on the Freshman team.

At present no captain has been selected to fill the shoes left vacant by Parker, but prior to the start of the first game the lettermen will vote for their leader this year. Ten games have been scheduled for the Red and White institution, six of which are with teams representing the Burlington County High School League.

TIME NOW FOR SOWING OF PROFITABLE COVER CROPS

The sowing of winter cover crops on cultivated land is the means by which many New Jersey fruit and vegetable growers are adding to their profits. Agronomists estimate that the value of the organic matter in a good cover crop is equivalent to from 6 to 12 tons of stable manure to the acre, which costs from $30 to $60 delivered and applied to the land. The cost of seed for cover crops ranges from $1 to $4 an acre.

AUTO LIABILITY LAW NOVEMBER 15

New Measure Expected to Curb Reckless Drivers; Insurance Not Compulsory

On and after November 15, New Jersey will demand that motorists be financially responsible for damage or injury.

On that date, the new Financial Responsibility Law becomes effective.

The law does not, as is popularly supposed, compel every motorist to take out an insurance policy, according to the State Motor Vehicle Bureau.

It does, however, warn the motorist that he must be in a position to make restitution for damages caused by his auto.

Under the act, if you are concerned in any accident involving injury to others, or $100 property damage, you cannot drive your car again until you have done these things:

Filed with the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles proof of your financial responsibility by:

1. Giving bond in the amount of $11,000, or

2. Depositing cash or security to that amount with the Commissioner, or

3. Taking out liability and property damage insurance for that amount with responsible company.

Proof of such financial responsibility also will be demanded if you are picked up for violating any one of the following Motor Vehicle Code provisions:

Section 7, which governs brakes, signaling devices, and lamps.

Section 10, which governs driver's licenses, examinations, and permits.

Section 11, which refers to registration fees.

Section 13, which governs the display of markers.

Section 14, which bans operating or tampering with the car of another without permission; operating while doped or drunk; leaving an accident scene without stopping and reporting; racing on the public highways; operating a commercial vehicle whose combined weight of truck and load exceeds 15 tons; leaving an unattended car with motor running; driving after license has been suspended, revoked, or annulled; or substitution of markers; improper use of license or registration certificate; allowing an unlicensed operator to drive your car; throwing glass or other cutting substances on the road; making statements in applying for registration or driver's certificate.

Section 21, governing general operation of motor vehicles, trailers, semi-trailers and tractors.

Violations of the following also will result in a demand for proof of responsibility:

Chapter 261, Laws of 1928, Articles 2, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 14. These, in order govern the following:

Stopping after an accident and turning in a report; regulations to be observed by operators; right-of-way; speeding and reckless driving; halting at the intersection of "through" streets; and signaling on turning, starting and stopping.

The new law according to the Motor Vehicle Department's announcement, should serve as a warning to drivers of old autos—which figure more often than new ones in accidents—and those who are not insured.

It is aimed at what motor inspectors call "driving fools," who usually own nothing that guarantees responsibility, not even the cars they are driving at the time of accident. It is also aimed at drunken drivers, who, according to the department, are the most dangerous to the public.

The new law, and a $10,000 premium reduction now contemplated by insurance companies for careful drivers, is counted on to materially reduce the number of auto accidents in New Jersey. Motor vehicle authorities at Trenton said they doubted that the responsibility measure would make drivers more reckless.

'BLACKBURNE DAY' TICKETS ON SALE

300 Fans Expected to Go to Game Saturday to Honor "Lena"

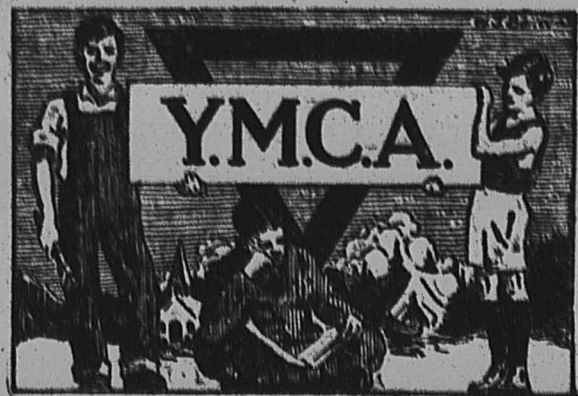

Plans for the celebration of "Blackburne Day" are running smoothly and at a meeting Tuesday at the Ellis Home, more than 95 of the committee in charge attended.

The sale of tickets is going along with a rush and from all indications the largest gathering of South Jersey fans ever to turn out for such an occasion will be in the Ellis Park stands on the day that "Lena," manager of the Chicago White Sox, and a resident of Palmyra, is honored.

Floyd "Cy" Somers, chairman of the committee, reported a sale of 150 tickets to date and by Saturday fully 300 fans in this locality are expected to be in line.

A delegation of 15 will represent Clementon alone, with Palmyra, Burlington and other towns in the vicinity also will be out in large numbers. All delegations are asked to get in touch with Somers at the Ellis Home so reservations for the entire South Jersey section can be obtained in time for Saturday's game.

Blackburne, who has had a varied career under the big tent jumped into the spotlight last season when he was forced to take the reins as manager of the Sox in mid-season. He made such a good job of it that he was again appointed manager at the start of this season and his team has been coming along in great shape, especially during the last few weeks.

Y.M.C.A.

Burlington County will be one of the areas in the Eastern Region of the United States to co-operate with a committee of the National Council of Young Men's Christian Associations in experimenting with a new YMCA Club plan for boys under High School age.

The name of the club, which has been chosen as the one which best describes the Association's approach to grade school boys and best describes the grouping of these boys as the grade school units of the Young Men's Christian Association.

It will be recognized that the name is a combination drawn from the two names, Grade School and YMCA. The purpose back of Grade-Y Clubs, will be to help grade school boys to develop into manly Christian citizens themselves and to help others to do so.

The relationship of a leader to such a club will be similar to that of an athletic coach, who keeps on the game himself and watches his team play. After each game he talks it over with the players, helping them to see their successes and failures, with the hope that they may play the next game better. Just as a Grade-Y leader must realize that if wholesome conditions are to be created and maintained in school life it will be done by the boys themselves, and not by him, except as he works through boys. He, of course, will help recruit the club, advise them as to program and coach them in expressing their interests.

In the recruiting of leaders themselves, which will be done by the County YMCA staff, these points will be stressed: 1. A leader must, above all else, believe in boys' capacities for growth and usefulness. 2. He will be encouraged to make boys conscious of this capacity. 3. He will be encouraged to keep alert in seeing the signs of boys' interests. 4. He must be willing to allow the interests and ideas of boys to find expression in the group life. 5. He must help boys express their ideas and interests in a practical way. 6. He will seek to increase his skill in expanding the number and depth of boy interests. 7. He must develop skill in helping boys discuss their experiences and check upon their progress.

In many respects this type of program is similar to the work that has been carried on now for many years, but it does, however, make use of more recently discovered educational principles in their bearing and relationship on character development. The Young Men's Christian Association, of course, stresses Christian character development.

Anyone desiring further information regarding the Grade-Y program may communicate with the Burlington County YMCA Headquarters, Mount Holly.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

Did you know that fruits and tomatoes may be canned by the water-bath method, but all non-acid vegetables should be processed under steam pressure at temperature higher than 212 degrees Fahrenheit, to make sure that all dangerous organisms or bacteria are destroyed. Also, canning is more uniformly successful when food is packed into jars or cans while boiling hot. Under this method the material at the center of the can reaches the necessary high temperature for safe canning much more quickly than when packed cold or uncooked. Shortening the time of processing generally gives better texture, flavor and appearance in the finished product.

Furthermore, our Board feels that a parent who take this interest in his child, and in addition is willing to pay the extra cost of transportation should be given consideration. After a full discussion of the matter, our Board could see no reason for changing our former policy for admitting pupils.

Palmyra Makes Inquiry

On July 27 William A. Donaghy, district clerk of Palmyra, addressed a letter to County Superintendent Kaser calling attention to the fact that half of the graduating class from Riverton had elected to go to Moorestown, and asking if anything could be done about it. This letter was forwarded to the Commissioner of Education by Mr. Kaser on August 6, and under date of September 5, Mr. Kaser wrote to Mr. Baker as follows.

September 5, 1929.

Messrs. George C. Baker &
Jonathan W. Powell,
Moorestown, N. J.

My dear Sirs:

I was talking with Dr. White, Assistant Commissioner of Education, who visited the Palmyra Schools today, and after talking over the matter of where the Riverton Board were expecting to send their high school students, he thought it wise that I write you concerning the matter.

First, the Riverton Board have made no formal application to have any students sent to Moorestown.

Second, if any Riverton students are sent to Moorestown, Moorestown cannot expect to receive the tuition from the Riverton Board, even though the Riverton Board may have authorized it, because the payment of said tuition would be contrary to law.

This would not apply, however, to the five students from Riverton, who were members of the Moorestown High School during the past year.

Very truly yours,
LOUIS J. KASER,
County Superintendent.

Parents May Have to Pay

On the strength of the letters he received from District Clerk Hemphill and County Superintendent Kaser, Mr. Baker issued the following letter to parents of pupils who sought admittance to Moorestown High School when it opened last Monday.

September 9, 1929

Dear Sir:

I have a letter from your District Clerk, Mr. Fred P. Hemphill, stating that we are to accept from Riverton at the expense of the borough only those pupils who are properly certificated by the Riverton District Clerk. This does not refer to Riverton pupils who have been in attendance at the Moorestown High School. The letter to which I refer bears date—August 27, 1929.

On September 5, I received a letter from the County Superintendent, Mr. Louis J. Kaser, to the effect that the Riverton Board of Education will not be able to pay the tuition of pupils coming to Moorestown High School, except those who were in attendance last year.

In the light of the two letters I have quoted, we accept your son only on the condition that you be responsible for the tuition if the Riverton Board refuses to pay it.

I would not want you to feel from this letter that we are not perfectly willing to have the Riverton pupils in our high school. Some of our very finest students have come from Riverton and we shall be sorry, indeed, to lose any of them.

Very truly yours,
GEORGE C. BAKER,
Supervising Principal.

Investigation Started

Meanwhile, several members of the Riverton board, who realized the rank injustice of denying parents a choice of high schools, when the choice would cost the board nothing extra, got into action in an effort to have the matter adjusted on a basis of fairness. Mr. Hemphill was no longer dealing with a subservient board which had implicit confidence in him, and which would follow his leadership without question.

In addition to this Messrs. Mattis and Rutherford were appointed a committee at the meeting on August 27 to confer with the commissioner to see what could be done about sending the pupils to Moorestown who had selected that as their high school.

The act referred to by the county superintendent which would make it "contrary to law" for the Riverton board to pay tuition of pupils in Moorestown High, is given below, and it is difficult to see how by any stretch of the imagination, such interpretation can be made.

"The Law"

1. Amend section one hundred nineteen of the act of which this act is amendatory so as to read as follows:

119. Any child who shall be a resident of a district which does not furnish a full high school course of study or course including the subjects such child may desire to pursue and who shall have completed the elementary course of study provided therein may be admitted to a school in another district. The high schools throughout the State to which other districts shall send their pupils or a part thereof shall be deemed to be those high schools which at the time of the passage of this act already designated by boards of education of districts lacking high school facilities as aforesaid as schools for their pupils or a portion of their pupils to attend. Such existing designation of a high school for the pupils or a portion thereof or for pupils from certain sections of a district lacking such facilities as aforesaid shall continue until the board of education thereof shall for good and sufficient reasons desire a change in such existing designation and shall secure the approval of the Commissioner of Education therefor; provided, however, that the refusal or failure of the Commissioner to approve the request for change in designation of high school by any board of education shall be subject always to a right of appeal to the State Board of Education. The boards of education of the districts containing such high schools shall determine the tuition rate to be paid by the boards of education of the districts sending pupils thereto; provided, however, that such amount shall in no case exceed the actual cost per pupil, and the board of education of the district in which such child shall reside shall issue an order for said amount, signed by the president and district clerk or secretary of the board of Education, in favor of the custodian of the school moneys of the school district in which such child shall attend school, which order shall be paid by the custodian of the school moneys of the first-mentioned district out of any moneys in his hands available for the current expenses of said district.

The desire of Palmyra to secure the twelve pupils who intended to go to Moorestown is perfectly natural and easy to understand.

What Is Back of It?

But what motive actuated Mr. Hemphill and those who stood with him for Palmyra and against the wishes of their townspeople in their attempt to coerce the parents in this matter?

And why did Mr. Hemphill attempt to work it through the county superintendent weeks before Palmyra made its appeal?

Why was the information to which they had a perfect right withheld from interested parents until the last minute?

Why should Riverton's district clerk desire to make parents pay twice for tuition—once in taxes and again direct to Moorestown?

What is the motive?

What are the "good and sufficient reasons" (required in the law) for this attempt to discriminate against Moorestown High—which ranks among the best in the State?

Why does Riverton take this stand? Cinnaminson township, which uses both Palmyra and Moorestown high schools, has attempted no such move.

What is back of it all?

"OLD HOME DAY" SUCCESS ASSURED

Committees All Working to Make Celebration Greatest in South Jersey

(By Publicity Committee)
Palmyra never fell down on an undertaking! The "Old Home Day" celebration of this year will be an event to be proud of. The committee feels assured of the success of all its plans, but everyone of our townspeople should now get behind the proposition and make it the greatest celebration ever staged in South Jersey.

The Finance Committee is hoping for some larger contributions as the more money it has the greater will be the success. Let everyone give to help advertise his home town.

The Invitation Committee is about to send out a very attractive invitation to the former residents. Send names and addresses to the committee. They will do the entertaining. The other sub-committees are all appointed and are laying plans to show what Palmyra can accomplish. There are over fifty live wires on these committees and they do not know what it means to fail.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular monthly business meeting of the Post Rodgers, American Legion Auxiliary, will be held next Wednesday evening, September 18, in the Legion Home.

Miss Minnie B. Ivins who has just been elected third vice-president of the Department of New Jersey will be our guest that evening and will assist in the installation of the new officers and initiation of new members. It is hoped that every member will make a special effort to be present next Wednesday evening, as this meeting is of great importance and promises to be a very interesting one. It is planned to start this meeting at 8 p. m. promptly.

It is very gratifying to have won again this year a national citation for meritorious work during the past year. This award was made at the convention in Elizabeth last week and it is one of which we may well be proud. To those who do not know, it is brought to attention that Palmyra unit led Burlington county in rehabilitation work this past year. When one takes into consideration the number of units—and the size of some—in the county, this fact means a great deal, showing, as it does, that we are on the job—anytime and all the time!

Members who were fortunate enough to be able to attend the convention in Elizabeth last week, report a grand and glorious time. The weather was hot and the return home was made under much difficulty during the series of storms last Saturday night, but there wasn't a dampened spirit in the crowd! And are we proud of our bugle corps? Well, I guess—And how! To various lines of activity, let us remember to renew our efforts to help our unit as much as possible. The coming fall and winter will no doubt, bring a large program of work and activity and with each member doing her best to help, we should have no trouble in carrying our work on.

There should be no need to emphasize the importance of our work as it grows more important and more imperative daily. Rejuvenation for the disabled is a growing problem and as the men need attention, so also do their families need aid and attention. Everyone—put your shoulder to the wheel and help—Carry On!

RACE WITH STATE POLICE COSTS MOTORIST $50 FINE

Racing with a State policeman on the South Pemberton road proved unprofitable to James A. Meehan and James A. Pickford of Philadelphia recently, for they were fined $25 each when arraigned before Recorder Kingdon at Mount Holly on charges of speeding. According to Corporal Horn of the State Police, Meehan and Pickford, with eight other men in their two cars, stopped a truck load of tomatoes, driven by a boy, and were helping themselves to the vegetables when the policeman came along. The men fled, with Corporal Horn after them. Before they were stopped, their machines had hit 60 miles an hour, the Trooper said.

YOUNG MAN IS ENTHUSIASTIC ABOUT KONJOLA

All Run Down and Lacking in Strength; New Medicine Scores Quick Victory

MR. PETER HAMDER

"I was weak, run down and hardly able to carry on my work," said Mr. Peter Hamder, 337 East Brady street, Butler, Pa. "For the past fifteen years my work has kept me cut in all kinds of weather. I was extremely nervous, tired easy and seemed to have no reserve strength. I had tried medicines and tonics, but I never found the right one. Konjola was recommended to me and I was convinced that it was worth a trial. Within a week, I was feeling so much better that I knew that, at last, my search had been rewarded. As the days passed, I gained in weight, strength and ambition. Today I am feeling fine and my work is a pleasure instead of an almost impossible task. Konjola made me feel like a different person, and I praise it highly. Konjola is sold in Riverton at L. L. Keating's Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section."

RIVERTON BOARD TO ASK DECISION

sending pupils to both Palmyra and Moorestown. Moorestown was as much the designated school for Riverton as was Palmyra, and that under the new act Moorestown could compel Riverton to send a portion of its pupils there if it desired to raise the issue. Mr. Mattis said that what the Assistant Commissioner had said to him did not bear out the statements made by Mrs. Mayfield.

Committee Accomplished Nothing
Mrs. Mayfield said the committee appointed to see the Commissioner had been to Trenton, but was not able to see him and was really no further ahead than it was at the last meeting.

The president said she had been very careful to explain to parents who desired to have their children attend Moorestown High School that they could only be entered if the parents would assume responsibility to the tuition charge in case the Riverton Board could not pay it.

The District Clerk presented a letter from Mr. Kaser, under date of September 11, enclosing a letter from Assistant Commissioner White, in which that official said he had visited the Palmyra School on Thursday, and could see no reason why Riverton parents should not send their children there.

Eckert Praises P. H. S.
The Clerk also presented a letter from Professor Eckert, supervising principal of Palmyra High School, in which he cited sixteen pupils who had entered nine different colleges without examinations.

Mr. Schrader was plainly skeptical about the value of Dr. White's statement about the improvement in Palmyra High. He pointed out that the letter of the Assistant Commissioner did not mean anything, that it was not a report of progress made to overcome the deficiencies pointed out in the recent survey, with a recommendation to the Commissioner that the rating of the school should be raised.

Mr. Rutherford reported that on Thursday he had seen Assistant Commissioner Strahan, who had informed him that Riverton could still continue to send pupils to Moorestown in the same ratio as heretofore.

A Singular Plural

On Tuesday Messrs. Elwell, Mattis and Rutherford had seen Miss Anderson in the legal department, who said that since Riverton had never designated Palmyra as its high school, the new act did not apply. Miss Anderson admitted that a word had been left out of the act, which, however, "did not change its meaning," and said that "schools" did not really mean schools, but "school" where it referred to a district sending its pupils to a school or schools. She assured the committee that she would lay the matter before the Commissioner on his return to the office.

Richard D. Barclay, father of one of the pupils desiring to attend Moorestown this year, pointed out the discrepancy between the statement quoted from one of the letters that pupils could not attend Moorestown and have their tuition paid, and the telegram from the Commissioner stating that a decision could not be reached until a hearing had been held.

Hemphill Makes Denial

P. B. Teeple asked District Clerk Hemphill if he had not written a letter to Mr. Baker, of the Moorestown school, asking him to refuse to admit pupils from Riverton this year. To this the Clerk could truthfully answer in the negative, for the request had been made over the telephone, and to Mr. Kaser, County Superintendent, who in turn asked Mr. Baker. Mrs. Clarence Yerkes raised the same question, but failed to score because she also referred to a letter.

After the meeting the Clerk admitted that he had indicated to Mr. Kaser that he might intimate to Mr. Baker that if the latter should find he did not have room for Riverton pupils this year it would be "all right."

District Clerk Supreme

Mrs. Mayfield informed her audience that the District Clerk was the authority on the Board, and that she as president could take no action without consulting him.

A letter was read from Mr. Kaser, under date of August 21, stating that Palmyra had entered a protest against the number of pupils being sent to Moorestown from Riverton, and stating that he would be unable to approve the $50 per pupil allowance from the State if pupils were not sent to Palmyra.

Another letter under date of August 26, from Assistant Commissioner C. J. Strahan, acknowledged to Mr. Kaser the receipt of the protest from Palmyra.

Why Kept in Dark?

Mr. Rutherford wanted to know, if Mr. Kaser knew of all this fuss in the early summer, why the Riverton Board had not been informed, so that it might give the matter some consideration.

Mrs. Mayfield assured him that the Riverton Board had taken no action toward having Riverton pupils debarred from Moorestown school, and that nothing had come before the Board about the matter.

Mr. Hemphill said that the Board had a chance to pass a resolution which would have enrolled the pupils in Moorestown who desired to go there, but had evaded it, and were now up against it.

Mr. Rutherford maintained, however, that if the Board had passed the resolution favored by Mr. Hemphill, it would have designated Palmyra as Riverton's selection of a high school and "we would have been all through."

Mrs. Mayfield expressed the opinion that eventually Riverton would be compelled to designate Palmyra as its choice.

Steele "Excused"

In order to avoid the difficulty found in the resolution that failed of passage at the August 27 meeting, Mr. Elwell offered a motion that the two issues of sending pupils to Moorestown this year, and the selection of a high school be considered separately. Mr. Hemphill said he was opposed to the motion because he did not think it was any good. It was passed by the vote of six members. Mr. Hemphill asked the president to excuse Mr. Steele from voting. He took this action to prevent his failure to vote from being counted in the affirmative. At a previous meeting Mrs. Blair failed to vote and was counted in favor of the motion, because she was not acquainted with this parliamentary rule.

Had she voted on that occasion, it would have been in opposition to Mr. Hemphill, and he did not tell her.

Mr. Hemphill presented the names of four pupils who desired to attend Palmyra High School and the desired permission was granted.

Mrs. Blair submitted the report of the school nurse, and pointed out that the work of the Summer Round up had been much more efficiently done this year with the assistance of the nurses than had been possible before.

CUT ROAD WIDTH TO SAVE LINE OF SHADE TREES

Freeholders Decide to Make Road Narrower as Asked by Moorestown

FAULTY SEWER SYSTEMS AT COUNTY BUILDING

In order to save a line of trees which would have to be removed if the improvement of the Camden pike were carried out on the original lines, Walter Carson, Solicitor for Moorestown Township, appeared before the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday and asked that the width of the road be reduced to save the line of shade trees.

The original plan called for a road fifty feet wide, but at some other points the width would be considerably less, so that traffic would not get the full benefit of the fifty feet portion of the way.

After some discussion a resolution by Freeholder Stout, Director of Roads, was passed, establishing the width of the road between curb lines as forty feet. Of this thirty-six feet are to be of penetration macadam, with a concrete shoulder one foot wide on each side. This will leave room for the construction of an additional two feet of concrete on each side for gutters when curbs are put in later. Work will be started at once in order to get through before the weather gets too cold for penetration construction.

The delegation from Moorestown consisted of Solicitor Carson, spokesman; John C. Dudley, Edward H. MacFarland, and Lewis A. MacFarland. The delegation from Moorestown consisted of Solicitor Carson, spokesman; John C. Dudley, Edward H. MacFarland, and Lewis A. MacFarland.

The Board passed a resolution of respect for Stuart M. MacFarland, the late Supervisor of Roads, and later appointed him a member of the delegation to fill the unexpired term of his father. The elder MacFarland was acknowledged to be one of the best Road Supervisors in the State, and it was largely through his skill and energy that the road between Camden and Moorestown has been improved. The son has worked with his father on the roads for several years, and is fully qualified to carry on the work in the same efficient and effective manner.

The authorities of Shamong Township appeared before the Board and asked that the County take over the Jacksonville road for a distance of about four miles. The members of the delegation pointed out that the road was constructed of gravel last year and would need very little attention for a year or two. While the upkeep would be a very small item in the County, they said, owing to the fact that the County road department had all the necessary equipment, it was really a serious matter to the Township, which was without equipment. Director Russ said the application would have to be considered with a number of others, but doubted if anything could be done this year, owing to lack of appropriation. (Continued on Page 3)

All summer long a flower booth has been maintained at the Pennsylvania Railroad Terminal in Camden. Each day one or two ladies from the neighboring towns have been there until noon to receive and bunch the flowers for distribution to the shut-ins and the sick in five institutions in Camden.

Those who have no means of transporting their gifts of flowers, kindly telephone Mrs. Arthur Cox, Riverton 1138, and all arrangements will be made for collection of flower donations.

SOLD POLICE DOG FOR PINT OF RUM

Dog Picked Up on Street and Exchanged for Drink is Recovered

Edman Thomas, who runs a garage at Broad and Delaware avenues, Palmyra, known as Ed's Place, where he sells Hudson and Essex cars, Majestic radios, Miller tires, and what not, has a young police dog of which he is very fond.

Last Sunday a small boy stole into Ed's Place and nonchalantly inquired, "Where's the dog?"

"Around here somewhere," replied Ed.

"No, he ain't," said the boy. "I just saw two men take him away in a car."

"Which way did they go?" cried the garage man, excitedly.

"This way," said the boy, pointing westward.

Ed jumped into his car and went after the men, but could find no trace of the kidnappers of his pet.

When they returned to the garage the small boy said, "I got their license number."

"Why didn't you say so before," exclaimed Ed, as he grabbed for the telephone. He called the number of Officer Lawrence Beatty and in a few minutes they found that the car belonged to "Tip" Bell.

Officer Beatty, who was somewhat familiar with "Tip's" habits, went the rounds of the suspect's calling list and finally located him at Charles Kurik's cabin boat on the creek at West Palmyra. Bill Fauce was with "Tip" and the dog was tied up outside.

The pair admitted that they had sold the animal for a pint of rum, and since Ed had recovered his property, he did not press charges.

RIVERTON MAY HAVE BUS LINE TO MOORESTOWN

Route of Proposed Bus Line to Shore Touches These Two Towns

ZONING COMMISSION ASK FOR INSTRUCTIONS

If the the Pennsylvania General Transit Company is able to put into operation its proposed line between Philadelphia and Berlin, it may mean bus service between Riverton and Moorestown, which has been needed for some time.

The transit company made application to the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night for permission to operate its line through the Borough. The route on this side of the river will be from the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge on Market to Broad street, on Broad to Main street, Riverton; thence to Moorestown and on to Berlin. The buses will carry inter-state and intra-state traffic. A resolution was passed, giving the desired permission.

Chairman Hubbs, of the highway committee, reported that all the streets in the Borough had been oiled except two small sections on Seventh and Second streets, which he said would also be done if the money holds out.

FIRE TRUCK REPAIRS EXPENSIVE

Councilman Randall reported that he had received an itemized estimate for repairing the old fire truck, amounting to $1,023. This figure was thought to be more than Council wanted to pay this year, and while some repairs are absolutely necessary, the fire and water committee will go over the matter and ascertain the cost of having made the work absolutely necessary at this time.

The ordinance vacating Cottage street passed third and final reading. Councilman DeLaney reported that one field piece and one machine gun had been secured through the efforts of Senator Clifford R. Powell, to whom the request was made. The ordinance department of the Army will deliver and set up the gun free of charge. Mr. DeLaney pointed out that it would be necessary to keep the guns painted and in good condition. Otherwise, he said, they would be removed.

NO INDICTMENT AGAINST SHINN

Grand Jury Refuses to Make Seriously Charges Made Just Before Primary

Apparently taking the same view as have the people of the County generally, the grand jury, in its presentment Tuesday, ignored the complaint made by Samuel C. Scoville, of Philadelphia, against Deputy Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn and Constable Harry Bale, charging them with breaking into his business along the Rancocas Creek, near New Lisbon, last spring.

The complaint was entered before 'Squire M. Warner Hargrove, of Pennsylvania, shortly before the June primary, by Scoville, on information furnished him, and many persons believed that back of the charges was a desire on somebody's part to prejudice the Under Sheriff's candidacy before the Republican voters, he being an opponent of the shrewdly nominated. It was not alleged that Mr. Scoville was knowingly a party to the suspected plot to blacken Deputy Shinn's character or that of Constable Bale.

Whatever the motive back of the charges, the move instead of arousing a hostile feeling against the Deputy Sheriff, seemed to crystallize public sentiment in his favor, and it is believed, many voted for him as a mark of confidence. It was significant, too, that Burlington, in which Mr. Shinn has been a life-long resident, and where he bears a spotless reputation and is universally respected, came strongly to his support, as though in resentment at the attack that had been made upon him.

Both Shinn and Bale strenuously denied the allegation that they had entered the Scoville property, which Scoville and J. Fletcher Street, of Beverly, own jointly.

The friends alleged that it was an attempted frame-up, conceived with the idea of arousing sentiment against the Under Sheriff on the eve of the primary. On the date set for the hearing before Squire Hargrove, shortly after the swearing out of the complaint against them, Shinn and Bale waived the hearing, allowing the matter to go direct to the next grand jury, which returned no bill of indictment, when it made its presentment Tuesday. The course thus taken by the grand jurors undoubtedly will meet with approving public sentiment throughout the County.

RIVERTON ZONING COMMISSION IS READY TO ACT

Zoning Defined as "Neighborhood Agreement for Use of Private Property"

TO PRESENT ORDINANCE FOR PUBLIC APPROVAL

Evidence of the progress of the Zoning Commission's investigations in Riverton with the preparation of an ordinance to give Riverton property owners the benefit of zoning's highly desirable protection was noticed by those who attended the Council meeting last Thursday evening.

The full membership of the Commission (listed Council Chamber) to inform the Mayor and Council that a thorough investigation and study of the zoning activities of other communities had convinced them that zoning held great promise for the preservation of Riverton's integrity as an ever-improving residential community.

The time intervening since the Commission's appointment has been devoted to personal investigation of communities where the adoption of an ordinance has proven unquestionably satisfactory. Conferences with experts who have been engaged in this work in various parts of the country ever since its inception, and, finally, in endeavors to determine the cause of failure to secure public approval in those remote instances where this has occurred.

It has been claimed that nine times out of ten the man who opposes zoning as a principle does so either through lack of information, intolerance, selfishness or greed. Usually, it seems, this opposition is centered in an individual, professedly appearing only as a conscientious, public-spirited citizen, trying to prevent oppression, and fails to see the real advantages which the plan holds for the citizens at large.

Evidence collected by the Commission has indicated that men of wealth find it possible to protect their homes and property from intrusion without the aid of zoning, but that this is not so with the man who invests in a neighborhood, and must depend upon regulations for land protection, just as we all must depend upon the exercise of police powers against the assault of burglars, hit-and-run drivers, and contagious diseases, and many other things which police power controls.

Zoning is a neighborhood agreement for the use of private property.

Inquiry was made by the Commission regarding the construction of a highway to be built along the Rancocas Creek, near New Lisbon, last spring.

The proposed improvement, according to engineer's estimates, will cost about $30,000. Of this amount the Borough would have to pay $7,500 under the plan being considered.

No Opposition Expected

The State Highway Department is known to be interested in this road and is understood to be favorable to its construction. No opposition is expected when the Borough's application comes before the Commission early next month.

The building of this spur will develop a large section of the town and be a big asset in the future development of the Borough. It will provide a more convenient and more accessible route to the bridge for a large number of Palmyra people and will assist materially in handling traffic, especially at rush hours.

Applications for the construction of two gasoline stations on Market street were approved at the regular meeting of Council Tuesday evening. John S. Warner, acting as agent for the William Penn Oil Company, was granted permission to erect a service station at the southwest corner of Broad and Market streets. The other application was for the building of a service station and lunch room on the corner of Vandever and Market streets by James Fabricatore.

CINNAMINSON SCHOOL

A visit to the first grade room in School No. 2 was enough to brighten even such a rainy day as Tuesday, the 17th.

Tables heaped with flowers brought by the tiny tots were being shaped into bouquets for the hospitals, and the happy faces of the tiny tots over the absorbing task all combined to make sunshine inside.

The groups around the tables that have replaced the desks, the courtesy and interest, towards each other, and the pride with which the bouquets were placed in water, and finally, all rubbish quietly gathered up and work on regular lessons begun, was most enlightening as to the value of group work, particularly when one remembers that this is only the third week of school life for many of these little ones.

Surely modern methods are better for the beginners than when they "sat on a bench and said a-b-c," as a small boy of long ago said when asked what he did in school.

We wish every mother interested in school work would visit us and see the surroundings which her children are enjoying.

THREE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Miss Winifred Zisk Still in Camden Hospital With Broken Arm

Mrs. Edward Zisk, her niece, Winifred Zisk, both of Riverton, and John B. Horton, of Palmyra, are suffering painful injuries received when their automobile was sideswiped by another car at Green Tree, near Marlton, last Wednesday afternoon.

The car, driven by Horton, was returning from Atlantic City when the accident occurred. Miss Zisk was the most painfully injured of the three. She suffered a broken arm and severe bruises and lacerations about the head. She is in the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Camden, where she and Mrs. Zisk were taken immediately after the accident.

Mrs. Zisk has since returned to her home, but is still suffering from bruises and lacerations received.

Horton was taken to his home. He was also severely injured about the head and face. The car, a new sedan, was completely wrecked.

ASK STATE AID FOR NEW ROAD TO BRIDGE PLAZA

Palmyra Council Plans to Extend Temple Boulevard if State Approves

PERMITS GRANTED FOR GAS STATIONS

Plans are being made for the construction of a new concrete road to the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge over the present route of Temple Boulevard.

The road, if constructed according to present plans, will branch off of Chinninon avenue and continue along Temple Boulevard for about two hundred yards and then make a graceful curve across the unimproved section between there and the line of Delaware avenue, which it will intersect a short distance from the bridge plaza.

The Palmyra Borough Council is in favor of building the new road, provided State aid can be secured. According to the ruling of the State Highway Department amounts of several hundred dollars for the total cost of roads constructed by Boroughs may be allotted if properly approved.

The proposed improvement, according to engineer's estimates, will cost about $30,000. Of this amount the Borough would have to pay $7,500 under the plan being considered.

No Opposition Expected

The State Highway Department is known to be interested in this road and is understood to be favorable to its construction. No opposition is expected when the Borough's application comes before the Commission early next month.

The building of this spur will develop a large section of the town and be a big asset in the future development of the Borough. It will provide a more convenient and more accessible route to the bridge for a large number of Palmyra people and will assist materially in handling traffic, especially at rush hours.

Applications for the construction of two gasoline stations on Market street were approved at the regular meeting of Council Tuesday evening. John S. Warner, acting as agent for the William Penn Oil Company, was granted permission to erect a service station at the southwest corner of Broad and Market streets. The other application was for the building of a service station and lunch room on the corner of Vandever and Market streets by James Fabricatore.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

ERE 'TIS MISSED

Riverton Police Department Does Some Fast Work, But Thieves Escape

The Riverton Police Department established a record last Friday night which might well be envied by metropolitan officers. An automobile stolen in Frankford was recovered before it had been missed by the owner.

Domitric Joffalo, of Arndt street, Frankford, traveled to a pool room at Margaret and Darrah streets to spend the evening. Presently two youths sauntered by and seeing a machine he decided to take a ride. When they reached Riverton the gas ran out and they abandoned the car. This was about ten o'clock.

William Wagner, who noticed the car standing in the middle of the road for a considerable time with the lights burning, notified Officer Gooter of the Riverton police force. Gooter made an investigation and tried to locate the two lads who had stopped to purchase gas at the Public Service bus station, in East Riverton, and were last seen headed toward Riverside afoot.

The officer notified the Philadelphia police, who located Joffalo in the pool room and notified him of his loss.

Saturday morning he came to Riverton and drove the car home.

ROAD FIXED AT LAST

The holes in the roadway of Thomas avenue, Riverton, which were opened last year to install gas lamps, were repaired this week by the Public Service road crew. These holes have been a source of annoyance to property owners along the line, and to all who used this highway for many months. The delay is said to have been caused by difficulty in securing the right kind of material, which had to be applied hot, and which was only available when similar work was being done in the neighborhood.

CARNIVAL CONTINUED

Owing to the inclement weather last Saturday the carnival given by the Riverton Fire Company will be continued Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, September 19, 20, 21, at Broad and Thomas avenues, Riverton.

Identified as burglars, James and Walter Markon of Liverpool, confessed they had hidden $7,500 worth of jewelry in a new-made grave.

PALMYRA PROTESTS AGAINST SENDING RIVERTON PUPILS TO MOORESTOWN

Riverton's District Clerk Joins With Palmyra Against Parents and Townsmen

"AID TO CONSOLIDATION" AVERS PROF. ECKERT

The fight of Fred P. Hemphill, County Superintendent, and Louis J. Kaser, and the Palmyra School Board to prevent Riverton parents from having the right to choose between Palmyra and Moorestown High Schools for their children, was aided last Tuesday morning, sitting with Commissioner Charles H. Elliott, Tuesday morning, sitting with Commissioner Elliott were Assistant Commissioners Charles J. Strahan and Howard Darr White.

After the following resolution passed by the Riverton Board at its last meeting had been read, Riverton was given an opportunity to present its case.

The Resolution

"In view of the fact that when we granted permission last June for the children of Riverton to choose their high school, we did it in all good faith and with no idea that there might be any legal question involved, be it hereby

"RESOLVED, That this Board formally petition the Commissioner of Education that the Riverton pupils prepared for high school and those in Moorestown High School be permitted to attend that school for the full high school course at the expense for tuition of the Board of Education of the Borough of Riverton."

Francis B. Ewell, a member of the Riverton Board, presented Riverton's case.

Mr. Ewell pointed out to the Commissioner that Riverton parents had for many years enjoyed the privilege of choosing between the Palmyra and Moorestown institutions when their children were ready to enter high school.

In view of that fact, Mr. Ewell said, the Riverton Board had given the Commissioner advance notice at the time when applications had been made for entry in high school in the fall. Twelve parents had asked to have their children sent to Moorestown. The request had been granted by a resolution passed by the Board. To let the matter stand in that position all summer, and then notify them at the last minute that the choice had been withdrawn, seemed to Mr. Ewell a breach of faith with the parents. Mr. Ewell said he felt that the arbitrary action taken had been decidedly unfair to the parents and children involved.

Will Set Back Consolidation

Mr. Ewell pointed out that last year County Superintendent Louis J. Kaser had been in the habit of making a consolidation of the school districts of Riverton, Palmyra and Chinninon. Meetings to that end had been held between Riverton and Palmyra, with Chinninon invited to join.

If Riverton parents are arbitrarily forced to send their children to Palmyra against their wishes, Mr. Ewell believed that it would mean a decided setback to the consolidation plan.

SOUND ADVICE

The Palmyra News says editorially this week:

The controversy over Riverton High School students attending Palmyra or Moorestown High School is unfortunate.

It comes just at a time when Palmyra has been making vigorous efforts to raise the standards of its school system and there is no reason to think that these efforts have been in vain.

Palmyra parents are just as anxious as those of Riverton to provide the best in educational facilities for their children. The taxpayers are spending much money and making real sacrifices toward that end.

Riverton and Palmyra are twin towns. In the minds of many who are free from the little prejudices which so often develop between neighboring towns they are really one community.

The young folks especially pay little heed to the more or less imaginary line which divides the two borough governments and enjoy friends and social activities equally in the two towns. Riverton children have grown up with Palmyra children and in their future as men and women they will be associated with Palmyra men and women.

It would be a fine thing for Riverton students to go to school with Palmyra High School students instead of being weaned away from their home town associations by spending four or five years of the most able years of their life in the school life of another somewhat more remote town.

It would be a fine thing if people of both towns could consider the high school a Riverton-Palmyra or Palmyra-Riverton institution and both be equally interested in promoting and maintaining the standards of the school.

In years past Riverton students have contributed much to both the athletic and scholastic prestige of the high school. Riverton names have ranked high in football, baseball, track and swimming and many important prizes, awards and honors have been won by Riverton students at commencement time. Much regret would be occasioned if the majority of these students attended other high schools.

Of course Palmyra High School needs the financial support derived from Riverton students. Riverton contributes nearly half of the whole community which Palmyra High School is endeavoring to serve and there is no doubt that the future of the school would be severely hampered if there were a wholesale exodus of Riverton students to other schools.

Just at the time when Palmyra has undertaken heavy obligations for the sake of improving its educational facilities.

It would be indeed a friendly, co-operative and neighborly thing for the people of Riverton to do should they find it possible to join heartily in the support of the Palmyra institution.

One complete solution of the whole problem would be the merging of school districts of Riverton, Chinninon and Palmyra into one, so that Palmyra High School could be come in fact as well as in spirit the official home town high school for all three districts.

In that event the school would be managed by a school board in which Riverton and Chinninon would be adequately represented, and these members could join with Palmyra members in the somewhat thankless task of providing the best of schools for the children of the three communities.

Should the difficulties in the path of this merger be insuperable, the next best step would be to invite Riverton and Chinninon to appoint an advisory committee, from among members of their school boards, and invite Palmyra to appoint a similar advisory committee could sit with the Palmyra board and take an active part in all matters relating to the high school.

SKULL IS FOUND AT HAINESPORT

Woman Admits Knowledge of Burial and Shows Signs of Demented

By the digging up of a perfect man's skull in the woods near the schoolhouse in Hainesport, Constable John Oliver, of that Township, who also acts as janitor of the schoolhouse, has opened up a mystery which has yet been unsolved.

About three weeks ago Constable Oliver was making an excavation in the woods for the purpose of burying some trash that had been removed from the school, when he came across the skull, but being strong of heart he failed to faint. However, his police experience told him that body cranium had no right at that place, and he immediately sensed that a murder might have been committed.

After finding the head he continued his digging, thinking that he might find some more of the bones of a skeleton, but there was nothing at that spot but the skull. He took the gruesome object home and has since reported the matter to Detective Parker's office at Mount Holly.

Constable Oliver then concluded to do some investigating on his own part and after several days of watching he was rewarded by seeing a strange woman visit the spot on several occasions. Later, he learned the woman was visiting a relative in Hainesport, and from the latter, who turned out to be a sister-in-law, he learned her identity.

Questioned by Oliver, the sister-in-law said the mysterious woman had married her brother; that she, herself, had not seen her brother for several years, and that the wife claimed she did not know her husband's whereabouts, but said he had left her some time ago. But she, however, given her sister-in-law an address in New York City as the last place from which she had heard of him.

Oliver then told the Hainesport relative about his find, and the latter could offer no explanation, although she thought the circumstances had a suspicious aspect.

A short time afterward, the strange woman again made her appearance at the home of the sister-in-law, was questioned by her and finally told about the skull being unearthed by Oliver. She immediately went to the schoolhouse, located Oliver and told him a weird story when questioned. She said she had sent to Mountain for the skull and predicted that a great calamity would befall Oliver unless he gave up the skull or returned it where he had found it. If he did not do this, she said he would be haunted for life, and when the floor creaked as they walked about the school room during the conversation, she referred to the noises as spirits.

This did not alarm Oliver, and after two hours of trying to convince him that he should return his find, the woman left and said she would get over to Detective Parker's office, where an effort is being made to locate the woman's missing husband.

The officers are of the opinion that the woman is demented, but the investigation will be continued.

PICKS OUT MURDERER, LOSES HIS MENTALITY

Burlington Colored Man Found Man
Who Killed Sister in Georgia Insane

James O. Quinn, colored, of Burlington, who recently identified James Williams, also colored, as the man who murdered his sister and a man in Georgia some time ago, has since lost his mental balance and is now in the State Hospital at Trenton under commitment made after examination by Dr. Daniel F. Remer and Dr. Joseph M. Kuter, of Mount Holly, at the County Jail last week. It is not known what effect the discovery of Williams had on Quinn, but it didn't take him long after the identification to lose his mental department faculties.

Williams was arrested for assaulting his wife at Bordentown and when Quinn read in the newspapers that the fellow had "Big Baby" as an alias he asked for permission to look him over; it was the pet name of the fellow who had killed his sister. As soon as he saw him he was satisfied in his own mind that he had the right man and from then on Williams was detained in the County Jail under watchful waiting until further investigation could be made.

County Detective Parker sent a photograph to Chief of Police Kendall in Georgia and received word back that four people had identified the man as the murderer. Along with the advice came information that all four of the people asked the Chief if the man detained had a scar above his right ear, and Parker examined him and found the scar. Extradition papers are now expected from Georgia. Williams also had "John Armstrong" as an alias.

N. J. GUERNSEY BREEDERS PLANNING CATTLE SHOW

When the New Jersey Guernsey Breeders' Association holds its annual show at Par Hills on September 21, only cattle negative to the blood test for contagious abortion will be admitted. The show authorities have also ruled that no animals over 6 months old will be admitted unless they have been tested for and shown to be free from tuberculosis within 60 days of the show. If the weather is favorable, an attendance of more than 1,000 persons is expected at Par Hills. The association has set aside $3,000 for prize money and other expenses. About 150 animals will be shown.

Mrs. Dorothy G. Wayman, besides being editor and manager of the weekly Enterprise at Palmyra, Mass., has won a wide reputation as an author of books and magazine articles. She is a widow with three sons.

PLANE TALKS

By H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County
Aero Club

Captain W. A. Lancaster, Royal Flying Corps, flying a Great Lakes sport plane, spent several hours at the Moorestown Airport on Saturday. Captain Lancaster, one of the best known fliers in Europe, is now technical adviser to the Allied Motors, Inc., who control the American Cirrus Mark III airplane engine. We expect to have Captain Lancaster fly in quite often during the next few months, as he will supervise the installation of his company's motors in the new Victor planes.

Baltimore is rapidly forging to the front in the aircraft industry. In addition to the present plants of the Curtiss-Wright Company, Hercules-Joyce Aircraft Corporation and Doyle Aero Corporation, foundations for the new factory of Curtiss-Caproni Corporation are finished and we learned last week that the Aviation Corporation has an option on 500 acres of land on which they plan erecting a $15,000,000 factory to build giant flying boats of the Dornier-Superwal type.

Jack Barlow, former Ludington pilot, and one of the best pilots in this part of the country is now distributor in this section for Waco airplanes. Jack flew in to see us Monday evening in a new Waco powered by a Wright J-5-108 horsepower engine. It is very possible that Jack may move to Moorestown.

As long as we use steamships, railroads, automobiles and airplanes we will always have accidents. Accidents caused by structural failures in airplanes are reduced to the minimum, but we will never see the end of accidents caused by errors in pilotage, and all of those must be charged to inexperience. However, keep this firm in your mind, properly controlled flying is safe; in fact, safer than any other mode of transportation.

The mystery ship built by Bellanca Aircraft Corporation, at Neweast, Del., is undergoing a series of test flights. This ship, called the Flying Gas Tank, carries 2,500 gallons of gasoline and should be capable of a sustained flight of 6,000 miles. It is powered by two Waco engines in tandem and, like the Spirit of St. Louis, is flown blind. The pilot can only see to either side and below, and must rely solely on his instruments. Shirley Short is in charge of the test flights.

Of course, you are going to the Central Airport, Camden, on Saturday. The races, in connection with the dedication of the airport, will bring together some of the best pilots in the country.

Pelix W. A. Knoll, former president of the Knoll Aircraft Company, of Wichita, Kansas, and one of Germany's best designers of airplanes, is now in Mount Holly with the Victor Aircraft Corporation as chief engineer and designer.

JUDGMENTS GIVEN IN DISTRICT COURT

NOTED ENGLISH SPEAKER TO TALK IN MOORESTOWN

John William Graham, of England, will give a talk at the Friends' East Meeting House, Moorestown, Thursday evening of next week, September 26, at 8 o'clock, under the auspices of the Moorestown Peace Council. Mr. Graham will take for his subject, "Causes of Anglo-American Friction."

Mr. Graham has spent much time in London, devoting himself to a careful study of this problem. His address will undoubtedly stimulate much thought. All are cordially invited to attend the lecture.

Formal Confirmation Announced By President Hoover; Is a Woodbury Resident

Formal appointment of John Boyd Avis, of Woodbury, to the United States District Court early last week by President Herbert Hoover brought one of New Jersey's foremost barristers to the Federal Bench.

Judge Avis served as a member of the State Assembly and Senate and was speaker of the Assembly in 1904 and 1906. He was admitted to the Bar in 1908.

In addition to having the endorsement of Senators Edge and Keen, Judge Avis' appointment revealed that he had been sponsored by judges and attorneys throughout the State.

Judge Avis succeeds Joseph L. Bodine, who resigned.

SEEKS IDEAS IN EUROPE FOR N. J. SEWAGE PLANTS

While in Europe conducting investigations for the health division of the League of Nations, Dr. Willem Rudolph, chief of sewage investigations at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, and professor of sewage disposal and water supplies, Rutgers University, hopes to obtain information and ideas that may be applied to New Jersey conditions. Dr. Rudolph's mission for the League of Nations is to make an intensive study of methods of water and sewage treatment in England, Germany, Holland and Switzerland; and to prepare reports for scientists and sanitary engineers from the large amount of unpublished data in these countries. These studies will be continued until the latter part of October.

MEN'S CLUB TO HAVE BANQUET

Palmyra Organization Will Enjoy Seventh Annual Get-Together

The Men's Club, of Christ Church, Palmyra, will open its season's activities next Monday evening when its seventh annual banquet will be held.

Arrangements are being made to have this the most enjoyable of all the splendid events ever held by this popular men's club. Some very able speakers have promised to attend, among which will be Hugh Scott, of the Better Business Bureau, and Joseph R. Wilson, a prominent attorney, both of Philadelphia.

A very elaborate musical entertainment is being prepared by the committee, which will be of the same high standard as has been enjoyed so often by the club.

The banquet will be at seven o'clock in the Parlor House. Admittance will be by membership card only. All members are urged to be present.

The Men's Club, of Christ Church, was organized seven years ago by a few of the well known men of the town who were able to visualize the many benefits of such an organization in the life of the community. That their foresight was fully vindicated is attested by the success which has attended their efforts and the good that has been accomplished. Nearly three hundred men are now members and enjoy the monthly meetings of the club.

PRESBYTERIANS TO MEET

The Rev. Cordie J. Culp, Ph.D., D.D., New Brunswick, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, stated clerk of the Synod of New Jersey, by the authority of the General Council of the New Jersey Synod, announced Wednesday that the 107th annual meeting of the Synod of New Jersey of the Presbyterian Church in the U. GUIDEPOSTS TO Health & Happiness
By Bernarr Macfadden

—EXERCISE FOR CHARACTER BUILDING—

Many people think that the purpose of exercise is for body-building only; that it simply strengthens the muscles and speeds up the vitality generally. The truth however is that one cannot build up his body without at the same time increasing his mental powers and strengthening his character.

Why is this so? Because the brain and the body are so closely related that when you impair or injure one you cannot help but affect the other. Many a serious illness has been cured through mental science, and many a weak mind has been strengthened by first building body strength. The most noticeable effect body-building has on the mind is the self-confidence and courage it gives.

No one—man or woman—can get very far in this world without a plentiful supply of courage. The courageous person depends on himself, used vigorously without overstraining.

He makes his own decisions and can put up a good fight if necessary, whether it is to put through a big business deal or simply a fight waged in defense of some principle he believes is right.

On the other hand, men who are pawns in the business and financial world have been known to make serious mistakes and to "go all to pieces" when some body weakness overtakes them. They begin by vacillating and end by making a decision too late or else making the wrong decision. They lose their judgment and perspective, and they lose also the confidence of their business associates.

When you hear it said of a man that "he is no good—he hasn't any backbone," you can be fairly certain that it is almost literally the truth. In all probability that man's lack of stability is due to a weak backbone. In a good lively way he knows he would get the worst of it. If somebody's life depended on his own physical strength and endurance that person would probably die. He has no confidence in himself and he follows the line of least resistance. Exercise could make a new man of him.

It makes little difference what the character of the exercise is that you take so long as all the muscles are

PALMYRA PROTESTS
TO MOORESTOWN

setback for any hopes of the proposed consolidation. It would be extremely difficult, he pointed out, to convince the people of Riverton, in the face of such action, that any consolidation with Palmyra could be successful or desirable.

In opening his presentation of Riverton's case, Mr. Elwell said that the first Riverton Board knew of the new law was at a meeting of the Board on August 27, at which time District Clerk Hemphill read a letter from the County Superintendent and presented a resolution, which on the face of it would admit the twelve children who had applied for Riverton School. The Board had refused to pass the resolution because it limited the number of children attending Moorestown to twelve, and therefore did not provide for Charles Woolston, whose father had been advised by Mr. Hemphill that the boy could change to Moorestown after going to Palmyra for the first year, and, in addition to that, the wording of the resolution was such that the members of the Board believed its passage would indicate Palmyra as Riverton's designation of a High School.

Information Withheld

Mr. Elwell related how Mr. Baker, Supervisor of the Moorestown High School, had, just prior to the opening of the Moorestown School, read over the telephone to Mrs. Mayfield, president of the Riverton Board, Mr. Kaser's letter advising him that he could not accept pupils from Riverton with the expectation that the Riverton Board would pay the tuition, as it would be against the law for the Board to do so. This letter did not reach the Riverton Board until the following week.

Mr. Kaser, who was present at the hearing, admitted "that it might have happened" that the letter was delayed in his office.

Mr. Elwell said that the Riverton Board had been unanimous in passing the resolution to lay the matter before the Commissioner, requesting that Riverton parents should not be deprived of the privilege of sending their High School children to Riverton, and that the Board would not construe a favorable decision in this case as an interpretation of the law. The Board, he said, was anxious to keep faith with those to whom the choice had been granted in the spring, and that the interpretation of the law could come later.

Small Profit in Palmyra

Mr. Elwell pointed out that an unfavorable decision would not mean that Palmyra would profit to the extent of receiving tuition for the twelve pupils desiring to attend Moorestown. Those already going there will continue, even though the parents are obliged to pay their tuition. A favorable decision would only mean that two or three who had desired to enter Moorestown, but owing to the controversy, entered Palmyra in order to avoid losing any time, might withdraw and go to Moorestown. The amount of revenue involved would be small, and its loss would more than be compensated for, in his opinion, by the lack of continuity which will surely be engendered if the attempt to force pupils into the Palmyra School is persisted in.

Palmyra was represented by Professor Paul N. Eckert, supervising principal, and four Board members, George B. Clover, president; William A. Donaghy, district clerk; Mrs. J. C. Mallory and Mrs. A. C. Gibson. Mr. Clover read the following statement in defense of Palmyra's position:

"To: The Charles Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, Trenton, N. J.

"Reasons offered by the Palmyra Board of Education in support of their contention that the petition of the Riverton Board of Education presented to the Commissioner of Education of the State of New Jersey, that the Riverton pupils prepared for High School and choosing the Moorestown High School be granted permission to attend that school for the full High School course, or any part of it, at the expense of the Board of Education for the Borough of Riverton, be denied.

Survey Being Followed

"At a regular meeting of the Palmyra Board of Education held February 23, 1929, the Board of Education of the Borough of Palmyra requested the State Department of Education to make a survey of the Palmyra Schools for the purpose of ascertaining any faults or weaknesses in the Palmyra Schools. This survey was made and the findings of the same delivered to the Board and published. This report the Board of Education of Palmyra has taken under consideration and is honestly trying to follow, making our schools better in every way possible. A copy of the survey is hereby presented to you, and an explanation of what we have done to follow out the recommendations suggested therein.

"The recommendations contained in Chapter I on Administration have been followed. To go into some detail concerning them, the number of standing committees has been reduced to three; the school library has been removed from the Supervising Principal's office; a full time attendance officer has been employed; a complete record system of teacher personnel, pupils and other matters have been installed.

"Concerning the recommendations in Chapter II about a building program, our High School building has been renovated; nothing definite has been done concerning a building program because during this past school year the Boards of Education of Palmyra and Riverton have asked the State Commissioner of Education to go into the question of a possible consolidation of the two boroughs as one school district. We understand that the Commissioner has this matter under consideration and until he makes a report on it, we have thought it unwise to do anything about a building program.

Salaries Increased

"Chapter III recommended a salary schedule for teachers based upon experience and training. This has been done. The salary of the teachers has been considerably increased and a schedule adopted.

"Chapter V recommended that a non-teaching principal with proper qualifications should be employed for buildings No. 1 and No. 3. This has been done. The High School principal was made a non-teaching principal even before the survey was submitted to the Board. A Supervisor of Art and Handwriting has been employed.

"The High School course of study has been thoroughly revised and approved by the State Board of Education. New and up-to-date textbooks have been adopted and placed in use.

"The work in English has been completely reorganized and the State Monograph is being followed.

"A fine library has been equipped with ample accommodations and equipment. Full time librarian is in charge. The librarian is a college graduate with three years' experience as a High School teacher and also a graduate of a School of Library Science.

"One additional High School teacher was employed last year before the survey was completed, and three more High School teachers were employed this year.

"The recommendations in Chapter VII regarding Physical Education and Health have been followed. Palmyra Board of Education increased their budget this year by $20,000 to follow out the recommendation of the Survey Commission. About $2,000 has been spent for additional Manual Training and Domestic Science equipment.

"Ample provisions and accommodations are furnished by the Palmyra Board of Education to take care of all High School pupils; we can accommodate all seventy-five more so far as room is concerned.

Few Tie to Moorestown

"The following is a statement as to the number of pupils from Riverton attending High School for the past few years:

Year	Palmyra Moorestown
1922-23	71 3
1923-24	72 3
1924-25	72 4
1925-26	81 3
1926-27	73 2
1927-28	84 2

"The pupils from Moorestown from 1922-1929 represent to the best of our knowledge only eight different individuals.

"In view of the fact that in the past practically all of the Riverton High School pupils have been attending Palmyra High School, Palmyra was justified in preparing to receive the June Riverton graduates. This has been done and now it is our opinion that in all fairness these pupils should be sent to us, especially in view of the fact that we are doing all in our power to make Palmyra High School second to none. The statement has been made that Moorestown has a better High School than Palmyra. Palmyra has had a survey. Moorestown has not had a survey. It seems to us that until Moorestown does have a survey that such a statement is unfair.

Signed:
GEORGE B. CLOVER,
President, Palmyra Board of Education.

WM. A. DONAGHY,
District Clerk, Pro Tem.
Two other letters which were written just as the controversy started last week are printed herewith for the information of the public.

September 11, 1929.

Mr. Fred P. Hemphill,
District Clerk, Board of Education,
Riverton, N. J.

My dear Mr. Hemphill:
According to a story in last evening's paper, one of the members of the Riverton Board of Education is quoted as saying that a graduate of the Palmyra High School could not enter any college without examination.

"Permit me to make two statements in reference to this quotation. First, there are a number of colleges that require examinations for entrance whether the applicant is a graduate of a high school or a preparatory school, and it makes no difference from what high school or preparatory school the applicant comes. Second, we have (this fall) sixteen boys and girls, to the best of my knowledge and belief, who are entering college on our certificate without examination; these boys and girls are going to nine different colleges. Among the colleges represented are New Jersey College for Women, Dickinson College, Bucknell University, Temple University and Duke University.

Very respectfully submitted,
PAUL N. ECKERT,
Supervising Principal.
September 11, 1929.

Mr. Louis J. Kaser,
County Superintendent,
Mount Holly, N. J.

My dear Mr. Kaser:
In order to answer more satisfactorily your inquiries concerning the situation at Palmyra I visited the Palmyra High School on Thursday of last week with a view of determining what progress had been made there toward improving the facilities offered and toward carrying out the recommendations of the Palmyra survey so far as they affect high school instruction. I understand that some pupils from Riverton desire to attend the Moorestown High School instead of the Palmyra High School, which they have previously been attending.

It appears to me that the Palmyra High School has made a distinct improvement in the plans for the current year. The addition of three high school teachers to the faculty, the revision of the curriculum, the reduction both in the size of the classes and in the teaching load of high school teachers, are all encouraging steps and should result in markedly improved instruction.

Other evidence of an effective effort to meet the recommendations of the survey are the provision of additional study hall accommodations, the provision of a library, the employment of a librarian, the appointment of a non-teaching principal in the high school, and the adoption of more textbooks. The employment of a non-teaching principal in one of the elementary schools will also permit the supervising principal to devote more time to the development of his supervisory program.

I can see no reason to advise the designation of any other school than Palmyra for the Riverton pupils as I feel sure they will receive adequate attention and efficient instruction in the Palmyra High School.

Very truly yours,
Signed HOWARD DARE WHITE,
Assistant Commissioner of Education.

Fred P. Hemphill, Riverton's district clerk, who had attempted (through the County Superintendent) to get Mr. Baker of the Moorestown School, to refuse to accept Riverton pupils as far back as last June, supported Palmyra's position.

Mr. Hemphill said that he had tried to keep out of it, but that following a statement published in the Philadelphia Inquirer, quoting Messrs. Elwell, Rutherford and Mattis, members of the Riverton Board, as having stated Moorestown was a much better school than Palmyra, he had received so many telephone calls to make a statement that he had decided to do so, whereupon he submitted the following:

Mr. Hemphill's Stand

"I am an ardent and strong supporter of home institutions and from this viewpoint believe Palmyra High School is a home institution and should receive our financial and moral support.

As to statements made by members of our Board relative to the scholastic standing of Palmyra and Moorestown, I am not in accord with same, as they have no facts to support such statements. You have only to refer to the University of Pennsylvania, Harvard, Yale, Cornell, Johns Hopkins, Rutgers, New Jersey College for Women, and many other institutions as to the foundation of educational work of Riverton pupils who have graduated from Palmyra High School.

To the best of my knowledge only two students from Riverton attending the Moorestown High School have entered college—one this year and the other was taken out of the Moorestown High School and sent to a private preparatory school because the parents did not feel that the child would be able to qualify for entrance to college from the Moorestown High School.

The plea for admission to attend Moorestown High School is not made by THE people of Riverton; in fact, the parents of graduates and graduates themselves of Palmyra High School resent the statements made by members of the Riverton Board of Education in reference to their scholastic standing. Parents of pupils attending Palmyra High School and the pupils themselves are not in accord with the attitude of this movement.

A Denial

Both Mr. Mattis and Mr. Elwell denied having made any such statements as were put into their mouths by The Inquirer, and Mr. Rutherford said his statement had been greatly exaggerated. He said that as a father it was his duty to decide where his child should attend High School. After an investigation he had selected Moorestown, and did not hesitate to say so.

Mr. Elwell called to the attention of the Commissioner that Mr. Hemphill's statement was simply his personal opinion and did not in any way represent the sentiments of the committee which presented the petition which was under consideration.

The Commissioner said a decision would probably be handed down in the next two or three days.

"Would Promote Consolidation"

Following the hearing, Mr. Eckert, of the Palmyra High School, said that an unfavorable decision by the Commissioner on Riverton's request would react to the benefit of the consolidation plan. With that, of course, the Riverton delegation did not agree. Riverton folks do not like to be "driven" any better than other folks.

Many Rivertonians are still seeking the motive which prompted Mr. Hemphill to espouse Palmyra's cause in this matter, to attempt by backstairs diplomacy to deprive the parents of Riverton of the privilege of selection which they had enjoyed for many years, and to place the Riverton Board in the position of seeming to break faith with the parents, who had been assured in the spring that such choice was theirs.

To Build Three Bridges
The bridge department, James McCormick, director, reported that the Old Bridge bridge over the Pennsylvania Creek, on the Marple Highway, between Lenola and Maple Shade, was too narrow to meet present conditions and should be widened to forty feet. The County Engineer, H. B. Smith, was instructed to prepare the necessary plans and specifications and advertise for bids. The same action was taken in reference to the Bataco bridge and the Park avenue bridge over the south branch of Pensauken Creek opposite the Merchantsville Water Works. This is a joint County line bridge, and the cost of construction will be shared equally by Burlington and Camden Counties.

Surrogate M. E. Matlack appeared before the Board and asked for more radiation in his office, which he claimed could not be kept warm enough for comfort in severe winter weather. The request was referred to Howard Russ, Director of Public Buildings.

The State Board of Taxes and Assessments sent notice to the Board that a public hearing would be held in Trenton on Wednesday, September 18, at which time local assessors and others would be heard on the matter of equalization of assessments. The State Board recently ordered an increase of fifteen per cent. in the assessed valuations in Burlington County.

Requests Detention Home
Charles B. Green, Clerk of Florence Township, addressed a letter to the Board of Freeholders, in which he suggested the establishment of a County Detention Headquarters for boys and girls who are held as witnesses or for other reasons which prevent them from being committed to jail. The letter stated that it was suggested as a County proposition, as such need is of almost daily occurrence, and the Florence officials thought all communities were entitled to relief. The letter was received and filed.

The State Board of Health served notice on the Freeholders that the sanitary conditions for the disposal of sewerage at the County Institutions at New Lisbon were not satisfactory, and would have to be remedied. The matter was referred to Mr. Russ, Director of Public Buildings.

Robert Cox, superintendent of the hospital for insane at New Lisbon, called the attention of the Board to the fact that the Eastern New Jersey Power Company was apparently planning to place a line of poles on the highway between Pemberton and Brown's Mills. These poles, Mr. Cox said, would run directly in front of the County Institutions, creating an eyesore and damaging the trees, many of which would have to be trimmed to make way for the wires. He suggested that the line be run back of the County buildings. Mr. Cox was assured that the power company could not erect poles without the permission of the County authorities, and that when application was made for a permit, the location of the poles would be carefully considered.

The following department bills were ordered paid: Roads, $26,397.35; Bridges, $4,832.04; Finance, $33,770.06; Public Buildings, $37,061.06; Public Affairs, $18,220.33.

Zoning Commission Asks Advice
The Zoning Commission, which was appointed some time ago to prepare a zoning ordinance, appeared before Council to ask for information for the use of the commission. The commission asked whether or not the commission had authority to spend a sum of one thousand dollars or more without advertising for bids, and whether or not the sum appropriated for the use of the commission ($2,500) would hold over into next year. The Mayor appointed Councilman Bartley a committee to consult the Borough attorney on the questions raised by Mr. Jones.

JERSEY BANKERS'
PLAN CONFERENCE

State Association Plans Two-Day Gathering in November

The New Jersey Bankers' Association will hold a conference in Newark on November 14 and 15 to discuss trust matters.

The annual meeting of the convention, which has always been held in Atlantic City in May, has been an occasion of importance and interest to the bankers of the State, but owing to the number of subjects considered it has been felt that more attention should be given by the State association to the work of trust departments.

Therefore, it is hoped that this new conference on trust matters will be a permanent addition to the activities of the association in much the same way as the trust company division of the American Bankers' Association.

The following committee was appointed by William J. Cruise, president of the State Association, to consider the separate conventions for trust work: Leslie C. McDougal, associate trust officer, Fidelity Union Trust Company, chairman; George Letterhouse, trust officer, Commercial Trust Company, Jersey City; H. Douglas Davis, treasurer and trust officer, Plainfield Trust Company; Plainfield; Earl S. Johnson, vice-president and trust officer, Savings Investment & Trust Company, East Orange; and H. M. Syphard, vice-president, Commercial Trust Company, Atlantic City.

The committee held a meeting in the Essex Club, Newark, recently and reported that there had been a gratifying response to a letter sent on August 19 to all New Jersey banks suggesting a conference on this important phase of bank work.

It was decided to hold the first conference in Newark and it is expected that future annual conventions on trust work will be held in other cities of the State. This arrangement will eliminate this subject from the annual general convention in Atlantic City.

The conference will be held at the Robert Treat Hotel and there will be discussions on both days, with a banquet on the night of November 14. Special entertainment will be provided and a number of outstanding guests of honor will be invited. Indications from the responses of the banks are that the affair will attract over 250 delegates.

SEASON'S PROGRAM

Boys to Gather in "Y" Building
Friday Evening to Lay Out
Group Schedule

The Young Men's Christian Association, of Palmyra and Riverton, will officially get under way for the fall and winter season this Friday evening, when the boys of these two towns will gather at the "Y" Building for a program of instructive movies and entertainment.

The group schedule for the year will also be laid out during this evening and any boy who is not a member of the association and is desirous of becoming a member will be welcomed this night.

It present plans work out to the anticipated ends this fall and winter will be one of the most active for the local association.

POULTRY CLUB WILL EXHIBIT AT TRENTON

What promises to be the largest 4-H club poultry show ever held in New Jersey will open on September 30 as a part of the Trenton Interstate Fair and continue for five days.

Boys and girls in nine counties are already busy engaged in the exacting work of selecting, training, and fitting the 400 purebred birds to be entered in the competition. In this work they are putting to practical use the training received from their local county club agents.

Additional space has been granted for this year's poultry show by the fair management because of the excellent quality of the birds exhibited in 1928. Many of last year's winners are now to exhibit again in the approaching show at Trenton.

The largest number of entries are expected from the club members of Middlesex and Monmouth Counties, according to J. C. Taylor, New Jersey associate extension poultry specialist, and superintendent of the county show. Each of these counties will exhibit 37 singles and 8 trios, Essex County club members are planning to show 37 singles and 8 trios, Cumberland and Salem Counties will each send 3 singles and 6 trios. The remaining entries will come from the counties of Burlington, Mercer, Morris and Warren.

The Younger Johnson's New Factory

The small factory, with a capital of $2500, to deal in mechanical equipment, recently started in Camden by E. R. Fenimore Johnson, of Moorestown, recalls interesting sidelights of his father's early career.

In 1896 Eldridge Reeves Johnson, a multi-millionaire and a widely known philanthropist whose gift of the Community House to Moorestown is just one of many fine pieces of work he has done for his fellowman, was a machinist with a shop located on North Front street, Camden, near the Delaware river.

It was not a pretentious place of business, being only one story in height and occupying a bit of ground little more than 10x20 feet of brick building located on it, but it housed the entire economic wealth of Johnson, the machinist, now Johnson, retired president of the Victor Talking Machine Company and widely known the world over as the founder of the great enterprise.

It is said of him that every piece of machinery that passed through his hands intrigued his imagination. It soon was discovered by his associates in the factory that he was more than a machinist. The improvements he suggested were always of practical value. He soon learned the road to the patent office and his name is to be found frequently in government records.

Therefore, when a man walked into his shop to have some minor repairs made to one of the first crude talking machines, Mr. Johnson's imagination and energy were literally set on fire.

The grotesque sounds that came from that first machine, he succeeded in smoothing out. When he had completed his work the talking machine was no longer a toy. It not only talked; it also sang and also reproduced instrumental music.

Practically without funds, but with a vision of the value of his instrument from a scientific, educational and commercial standpoint, he interested others. It was a master stroke of salesmanship. It proved Eldridge Reeves Johnson could not only build and invent, but that he could sell as well.

His selling was as practical as his inventing. He gathered friends around him, set up his machine and amazed them when they heard the reproduction of a human voice singing the then popular song "Telegraph My Baby." Most of those present invested in his company and many became millionaires as a result.

No doubt the romance of his father's career prompted the younger Johnson to quit his high office with the Victor Company and open his own factory, an enterprise much similar to the older Johnson's first plant.

The Mountain Folk

There is not a thing new in the tales that have been told of the mountain folk up near where the President has his summer resort. Attention was drawn to these "hollow" people when a mountain boy brought down to the President a "possum as a present."

The boy attracted attention. Some newspaper went off for "local colors." Their typewriters got busy. So a picture of the dreary life of some of the mountain folk has been presented.

Here's How

By E. W. HOWE
"The Sage of Potato Hill"The Long Silence
Playing the Game Contradiction

My greatest ambition, at the age of seventy-six, is to be fair, polite, and as little of a nuisance as possible to others to meet my just obligations to the world, and get out of it with as little annoyance to others as possible.

I long to oblige my children by being as little trouble to them as they have been to me, and I have good children. I have a vague ambition to spend my last and worst day in a distant place. An occasional friendly letter to my children, and then the long silence.

If my final attendants are honestly able to write to my children I was reasonably patient, and in possession of my faculties, I would consider that an achievement; old men not themselves have always been distressing to me.

I have long observed that everything I am contradicted. As was a man as I know will make a statement to me and another equally wise declares there is nothing in it, and my informant a fool. Anatole France one wrote: "Every false idea is dangerous. Dreamers are thought to be harmless. It is a mistake; they do a great deal of harm. Apparently the most offensive are really injurious; they tend to make one disgusted with reality."

This I thought excellent. On the same page, six lines below the statement quoted, Anatole France wrote: "To know is nothing at all; to imagine is everything. Nothing exists except that which is imagined." A direct contradiction by a wise man. Which statement does he believe? Probably the first, since it is sensible, while the other is foolish. . . . Why does this author contradict himself? Because he is a writer. Having exhausted his own side, he writes pot boilers on the other. . . . Writers do this. Sherwood Anderson, another author, owns two newspapers in the South. In the election one of them supported Mr. Hoover for President, and the other Mr. Smith.

Big business is like big baseball; players are mainly country town men who have climbed into fast company solely on merit. . . . I was once talking of baseball to an old player, who had been given a chance in fast company, and failed. He did not exhibit the slightest bitterness because he as compelled to quit the game, and engage in law. "In order to be accepted in the big leagues," he said, "a man must have everything; I hadn't it." In business, as in baseball, the game is played in the country as well as in the big towns, and the same rules hold good; most applause and profit for those able to best hit the ball, field and display the most intelligence. The stars in the big towns are constantly dropping out because of age; recruits must be had from the country, and always the recruits are selected strictly on accomplishment. Any young man who understands the game of baseball and its rules understands the conditions governing success in life. If he fails to play the game as well as he might, let him take his medicine with as good grace as possible.

RETORT COURTEOUS

When a public office-holder, who happens to be an editor, suggests that another job-holder, who also happens to be an editor, ought to resign, he should not be surprised or hurt when the retort is prompt and tart.

The other day, the Jersey Journal, whose editor is Judge Joseph A. Dear, of the Court of Errors and Appeals, expressed the opinion that the members of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission ought to resign, this because of complained-of and highly obnoxious conditions obtaining in the lower Passaic river. Now it so happens that another friend, James P. Logan, editor of the Newark Call, recently was appointed to the Sewerage Commission, although not yet having been in his seat long enough to have had much voice in improving the situation. Yet it was natural that Friend Logan should have something to say when Friend Dear opined that he ought to let go. And this is the way he said it, under the caption, "They Seldom Resign."

"The Jersey Journal thinks that the members of the Passaic Valley Sewerage Commission should resign. Perhaps so, but the Journal ought to know how difficult it is to persuade a public official into a resigning humor. For months now the Hudson Dispatch has been calling for the resignation of Judge Joseph A. Dear, of the Court of Errors and Appeals, and who also happens to be editor of the Jersey Journal, but up to the present Judge Dear has evidenced no indication to give up his $40 per diem job, Sundays and holidays included. It simply isn't done."

LESSONS

My neighbor and friend has a strawberry field, which he cultivates for the market. His success depends of course on his diligence and the weather conditions.

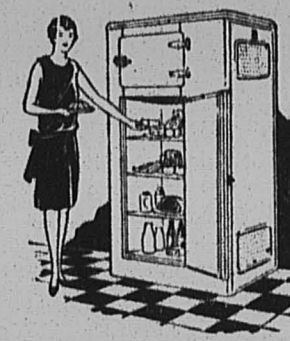

The last crop came through under difficulties; the heavy spring rains beat furiously on the tender plants; it seemed for a time that they would be buried in mud and destroyed. But, at each gleam of sunshine, they sprang to life and vigor again; it was a struggle—a very hard one. At last, however, they grew strong, burst into bloom, and soon ripened the choicest berries I have ever seen. They were sweeter, the neighbor said, for their having plenty of moisture which gave renewed vigor and more active growth. Had there been no clouds, rain and mud, he would not have had half a crop, and that inferior berries.

I thought of myself as a plant in this large field of humanity. When storms beat upon me I sank down from the chill and force of the pelting drops. I was powerless to resist; I had to submit to whatever came, because I could not prevent its coming.

But, the glorious part of it was, I didn't despair and fall down discouraged and helpless. There were gleams of sunshine through the clouds every now and then, more appreciated by their contrast with the cold and clouds. I was able through courage and faith to rise above the storms of adversity, and, whatever of good fruit I have borne, has ripened because of my faith that regards everything for the best.

Human plants are much the same, and subject to the same laws as those of the vegetable kingdom. If we fail to weather the gales, we are weaklings and may perish by reason of the fact. Courage is better than fear, and will carry us through with divine guidance to re-assure us along the way.

WINDOW SILL
REFRIGERATION DANGEROUS

Window-sill . . . back-porch . . . cellar . . . pantry—all are dangerous, insanitary and unreliable in the preservation of perishable foods.

Doctors and public health authorities everywhere agree that only artificial refrigeration the year around affords adequate protection. Fifty degrees is the danger point. When the temperature creeps above that mark the micro-organisms which cause food to spoil multiply astonishingly. And when foods are kept at too low a temperature there is danger, too. They are frozen or frost-bitten, and lose their nourishment value.

To insure the health of your family—and to prevent costly food waste, use artificial refrigeration the year around—in January as well as June.

The Rancocas Woman's Club, which has been meeting all summer, will have a splendid fall program.

Senior Club Girls

Camp Darkwater, the Samuel Matlack Camp, near Medford, will again be the scene for the week-end conference for the Senior Club girls on October 19 and 20.

The members of the program committee are Helen Jones, president of the County Council; Bessie Rogers and Mae Hawley, of Burlington; Elizabeth Milligan, of Mount Holly; Pearl Combs, of Palmyra; Mrs. Bessie Shinn, of Rancocas; and Miss Sidonie Schafer, of the County Y. W. C. A. The conference is open to all business and industrial girls of the County and to all Senior Club members.

This is the time of year when those Girl Reserve clubs which did not hold meetings during the summer are eager to start their fall programs. One of the earliest of the fall meetings was held by the Moorestown "Be Square" Girl Reserves Sunday afternoon, September 15, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Bayler, adviser of the club. After a period of singing, Ruth Smith, president, gave a talk in which she welcomed the girls back to the club after their summer vacation.

Pleasant Experiences

Mrs. Bayler told of her pleasant experience at the Y. W. C. A. conference at Summit Lake, N. Y., and showed the girls different kinds of handwork, such as leather purses and silhouette pictures, in which they were interested. Miss Dorothy Gehhart, County Girl Reserve Secretary, told of the setting-up conference, which the High School Girl Reserves of Camden and Burlington Counties are holding at Camp Ockanickon October 4, 5 and 6, and which is open to advisers and officers of all High School Girl Reserve clubs in the two Counties.

Afterward the girls planned a hike for Saturday, September 23. This hike, which is an annual event for the club, is to be conducted by Mr. J. Otis Swift, Nature Study writer for the New York World, for the special purpose of studying plant life along the way. The Moorestown group is distinguished by being the only colored group included in the large number of clubs in several States which take advantage of the Nature hikes conducted by Mr. Swift.

After details for the hike were settled refreshments were served by Mrs. Bayler.

SAYS TO CULL SLOW MATURING PULLETS

Although much progress has been made in the modern science of poultry farming, no system has yet been devised by which the poultryman can estimate accurately the number of eggs a pullet will lay in her first year of production. The poultry farmer, in other words, gambles that the birds he houses each fall will be profitable egg producers.

According to L. M. Black, New Jersey extension poultry specialist, at least part of the risk can be eliminated if the birds are carefully culled as they come from the range to be placed in laying houses for the winter. Look for the pullets which are plainly marked as undesirable, he advises, and ship such birds to market before incurring further losses.

"It is a well established fact," Mr. Black points out, "that slow maturing birds are poorer layers than the average of the flock. Such birds, which may number 10 to 15 per cent of the entire flock, should be marketed.

"As the pullets are being handled prior to housing, those showing the least comb development for their age should be culled. Also to market should go cripples, crow-headed birds, and those showing decidedly off-type characteristics. In addition to disposing of the obviously poor layers, it is advisable to cull birds which impair the uniform appearance of the flock. One black chicken in a flock of white birds would be sufficient to change the minds of many prospective chick or stock buyers."

Palmyra Unit Holds First Meeting of Year in High School Auditorium

The first Palmyra P. T. A. meeting of the season was called to order in the High School Auditorium by the president, Mrs. Elias M. Toy, on Tuesday, September 17, at 3:30 p. m. An appeal has been made by the Welfare Association for money or clothing. Parents are urged to contribute all outgrown garments which are in good condition. Notify Miss Otwell, Mrs. Walter Hansen or Mrs. Toy and they will call for them.

The association contributed a cash gift of fifteen dollars. The question was raised concerning the time for the meetings; whether to continue the alternating system or to hold all meetings in the evening. Acting upon the opinions expressed the meetings will continue as they are. Superintending Principal Eckert stated that small children who cannot be left at home during afternoon meetings, will be taken care of in the kindergarten room by High School Senior girls.

Announcement was made at the County Council to be held at Medford, October 16, and the State P. T. A. Convention to be held at the Chelsea Hotel in Atlantic City, November 5, 6 and 7.

The attendance roll was taken with the result that Miss Toy's fourth grade will have the banner for the coming month. Mr. Eckert's talk was of interest to all, since he discussed the controversy between the two towns concerning the High schools; stating that a public hearing had been held in Trenton and the outcome would be published in a day or two.

Mr. D. Grey Schwartz, P. T. A. song leader, sang a solo entitled "Duna," which everyone enjoyed. Miss Evelyn Waller played a selection by Liszt.

The meeting was then adjourned.

Pour enough boiling water in pan to cover ham, cover with lid and cook from 8 to 10 minutes, turning ham once.

TRI-CORNE LINES EMPHASIZED

When the command is for an off-the-face hat with widened sides, it follows logically that the result must resemble one of the various tricorn shapes that have pursued us down the years. And certainly there is no more charming model for the youthful face or classical features. In black and brown these types are most popular this season, although there is also a goodly showing of the various shades of green and a deep sapphire blue. Instead of the usual pins or gros-grain ornaments with which to catch back the tricorn brim, a simple fold or loop of felt is now most frequently used, the hat relying on its unusual shaping for individuality.

SCHOOLWARD BOUND

Tricky little jacket suits and ensembles in velvet, tweed and novelty woolsens display themselves for school girls. Yellow with brown is a beloved combination for the youngsters; soft wood brown or green mixtures with here and there the contrast of a shepherd's plaid in black and white with a plique blouse and jacket of black velvet. Over tweed designs in soft gray and white a bright red or pencil blue coat is most effective. If one does not care for the conventional browns, why not consider the cedar shades which are exceedingly

SPLENDID GROWTH MARKS EXTENSION

New Community at Edge of Palmyra Borough Now has 75 Homes

The regular bi-weekly meeting of Palmyra Extension Improvement Association, will be held at 75 Oxford Road, Friday evening at 8:00 p. m.

The reception of new members and reports of the activities of the various committees will feature this meeting.

Some idea of the progress made by this community may be gleaned from the fact that a little over three years ago it was an abandoned farm.

Today it has seventy-five modern homes, valued at nearly a half million dollars, a main traffic artery, well paved and well maintained, through bus lines to New York, Atlantic City and other points, traversing it regularly, cement curbs and sidewalks, water, gas, electricity and electric street lights.

For the children, it has available a fine modern school featuring an abundance of daylight and ventilation, splendid cafeteria, where a variety of hot lunches are served at cost, extended recreational facilities, and small classes permitting more individual attention. Every pupil is on full regular time.

A fine new bus transports the children from their homes to the school in comfort and safety. And yet the community has only begun to realize its possibilities.

Under the direction of this progressive association, undreamed of strides will no doubt be made in the coming three years, as the many plans begin to bear fruit.

The improvement committee expects to complete its labors on the new building code to be submitted to the Township Committee at its regular October meeting, it adoption by that body will do much to standardize and improve building construction in the interest and protection to the legitimate builder as well as the individual owner or buyer.

It is also hoped to have ready by that time completed survey plans for the Oxford Plaza Park improvement as well as an artist's drawing in color.

COMMUNITY WELFARE

The monthly meetings of the Palmyra Community Welfare Association were resumed last Thursday in the Y. M. C. A. building, with a good attendance of the directors. Work was laid out for the fall and winter and reports were received of those dependent on the association.

Receipt is acknowledged of a donation of $25 from the Friendship Circle Bible Class of the Methodist Sunday School, $25 from the Needlework Guild, Palmyra Branch, and $25 from Mrs. Carl De La Cour.

All applications for aid should be made to George N. Wimer, president, 15 East Broad street, Palmyra.

RENEWING OLD BRASS BEDS

Painted metal furniture is quite the vogue just now, and the smartest finish is one in pastel colors. So treat shabby iron or brass beds to a coat of good metal paint in some shade harmonious with your color scheme.

soft and flattering, and very good this fall? Cedar in the darker shades forms a fascinating background for pink and white complexions and blonde; the paler shades of cedar are most effective with the deep coloring and dark hair of the brunette.

Forming the collar and band-cuff, extending up and down the front and around the bottom of a trim little jacket suit there runs a narrow fold of black caracul echoing the line-check of black in the olive-tan fabric. The bodice top is of soft black satin, the skirt of the black and tan. A black felt hat, a scarf of white and citron-colored crepe, a bag of black anellope, black suede gloves and shoes are harmonious accessories.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GETS JAIL TERM

Second Intoxicated Motorist Fined $200 and Costs by Johnston

Two motorists have been severely penalized in Moorestown in the past few days for operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

The other drunken driver was Christen Wahl, 127 Prospect Road, Haddonfield, who was arrested by Officer Walter A. Erickson. The Haddonfield man was fined the customary sum of $200 and costs and is to have his operator's card revoked for two years.

A Baltimore woman, Elizabeth S. Handen, was fined $10 and costs on two charges. FIND MOST CAREFUL AUTOMOBILE DRIVER

Michigan Man Has Driven Oakland
183,000 Miles Without Single Fender Dent

More than 100,000 miles in 12 years represents the service rendered by a 1917 Oakland roadster purchased in 1919 by L. R. Chippell, of Comstock Park, near Grand Rapids, Michigan.

While the mileage on the car within itself is remarkable and noteworthy, the most unusual record observed, is that while all of the essential parts of the automobile, such as the axles, engine block, chassis, body and even the fenders are original equipment, there is not a single dent in the fenders.

With such a record Mr. Chippell can easily claim to be the world's most careful driver until challenged by some worthier opponent.

Chippell is a carpenter with a flair for things mechanical. Recently he revealed a remarkable record with his Oakland when he called at a service station in Grand Rapids and purchased a new part. At that time Mr. Chippell stated that he had purchased the car after it had been driven 7,000 miles by the original owner. Since then he has driven it 183,000 miles—a total of 190,000 miles in twelve years' time.

During this time he claims that the car has carried approximately 500 pounds of carpenter's tools on many long trips. It has been to the Pacific Coast more than once and never has been out of service.

A midjet airplane recently displayed at Roosevelt Field, L. I., has a wing spread of only 20 feet.

Arrested for driving 15 miles an hour on a highway near Gary, Ind., Al Shaw of Chicago, paid a $5 fine on a charge of holding up traffic.

tracks to be elevated through town. Every effort will be made to have the road pass over the tracks and thereby remove the immediate possibility of the railroad being elevated.

An ordinance is being prepared which will be designed to prevent the establishment of "auto graveyards" in the Borough limits. These "graveyards" have been established elsewhere and become an eyesore and a detriment to the property owners nearby. That this is a menace worthy of consideration is attested by junk yards of this kind along the White Horse pike, Delair and other places.

Dr. Lamb Protests
Dr. R. S. Lamb was present to make a protest over a charge for the removal of trees from his property in the vicinity of Spring Garden and Walnut streets. He claimed he had removed all trees in line with the street and said he did not think he should have been charged for removal of same when the street was extended. The Borough engineer was present and assured Mr. Lamb the trees were in the street and had been removed by the contractor. He was also advised the time for protest was past, as the work had been done nearly three years before, and at the time a date for protest had been announced and he had been notified in writing.

The ordinance providing for laying of sidewalks on Market street was passed on final reading and the work will be done by the Borough unless the property owners have it done within the allotted time.

Chairman Sawyer, of the lighting committee, reported that twelve electric lights had been installed by the Public Service Company on Market street and that the Bridge Company had agreed to pay the costs of same until the last of the year. Eight gas lights were removed when the electric lights were installed.

Police Report
The reports of the Chief of Police and the Building Inspector follow:

The following is the Police Report from August 20, 1929, to September 17, 1929.

September 4—William Dinn. Taking police motorcycle without permission and colliding with automobile owned by C. Nevin Buchholz, damaging both car and motorcycle. Fined $20.00 and to pay for damages.

September 12—Robert S. Armstrong, Hilton road. Reckless driving at Broad street and Hilton road. Fined $25.00.

September 9—Harry Stecker and William Beneant, 12 and 14 years old, were picked up at 2:30 a. m. as runaways and returned to their parents at Roebing, N. J.

September 14—Car owned by and driven by Lewis Sever, Delanco, N. J., struck Joseph Liperi, of Palmyra, at 5:55 a. m., at Broad and Market streets, as he was crossing Broad street at Arch Street Station, causing scalp wounds and body bruises. September 13—There were five places raided in West Palmyra for selling liquor, obtaining liquor in four of the five places. The raiding was conducted by State, County and local police.

Police Officer William Stack, who was injured on the motorcycle, is getting along fine, but it will possibly be 15 more days before he will be able to leave the hospital.

More than 11,000 automobiles crossed the bridge, Sunday, September 15, 1929.

M. H. S. SENIOR IS KILLED BY FATHER AS GUN EXPLODES

Bertrand H. Stow, Jr., Dies Almost Instantly in Mar-ton Tragedy

TWO OTHER SONS ARE ACCIDENT WITNESSES

Funeral Services at Grief-Stricken Parent's Home
Friday Afternoon

Bertrand H. Stow, Jr., of Evesboro road, Marlton, 16-year-old Moorestown High School senior, was shot and almost instantly killed early Monday evening when a gun, used by his father in shooting targets, was accidentally discharged.

The charge struck the lad on the left side of the face, ripping away part of the skull. Several shots entered his brain, causing almost instant death.

Bertrand, his brothers, George and Edward; John Andrews, of Marlton, and Walter Miller, of Camden, were enjoying the sport with the elder Stow when the tragedy occurred.

The parent was shot at one of the targets and Bertrand, who had been throwing the blue rocks for his father, started toward him as Mr. Stow snapped shut the breech of the shot-gun. No one knows how it could have happened, but the shells in both barrels of the gun fired as the breech was shut.

Seeing his son fall, Mr. Stow turned to his son, George, and cried:

"My God, I've shot Bucky."

Without waiting to answer his father, George and the others rushed to the side of the boy.

Dr. Clave Corpenning, of Marlton, who was summoned a few moments after the accident, pronounced the youth dead.

Trooper Charles Swenson, of the Bridgeboro State Police Barracks, and Coroner Benjamin F. Parner, of Burlington, who were notified of the death, questioned Mr. Stow and the four boys and declared the shooting accidental.

The accident occurred just as the dusk was gathering over the field. A few moments later and the party would have been returning home, one of the boys said, as darkness would have prevented any further shooting. "Bucky," one of them sobbed to the Coroner, "was having such fun letting the clay pigeons out of the dug-out. He and his dad were more like pals than anything else."

Bertrand was a member of the agriculture class at high school and had won several prizes for individual displays and in contest judging.

The lad was fond of gunning. Ever since he was a boy, his father, who is prostrated with grief, would practice with their guns to "get in trim" for the hunting season. A hundred times before they had gone off together to practice in nearby fields.

Funeral services will be held at the Stow residence Friday afternoon at one o'clock, with the Rev. Kenneth Stevens, pastor of the Marlton Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment will be made in Colesburg Cemetery.

WHY ZONE OUR TOWN?

By John Ihlder

Manager Civic Development Department, Chamber of Commerce of the United States

There are people who still think that America has not changed since the days before the Civil War, or the Revolution.

"They believe—one cannot say they think—because they have given the matter no real thought—they merely believe that because we had no zoning regulations in 1850 or in 1774, therefore none are needed now."

They don't connect the lack of modern factories, office buildings, railroads, automobiles and a hundred other recent developments with the placid life of those times.

Our towns in those days did not have speed limits or traffic cops either. They did not need them then, but they do now. So they have them now.

So it is with zoning. Modern facilities for carrying on the business of life have added greatly to our efficiency, but at the same time they have made life more complicated and crowded and so have produced the traffic cop, the speed limit, the individual who willfully makes nuisances or menaces of themselves, but to help by giving directions to the well meaning majority of us who want

INTEREST SHOWN IN NEW SECTION

Palmyra Extension Association is Encouraged by Favorable Comment

(By Improvement Association)

Palmyra Extension Improvement Association held its regular meeting last Friday, when matters of interest to the community were discussed.

During the past week work has begun on two new modern dwellings of sturdy construction and improved architectural design on Oxford road, between Arch and Louis streets.

Approximate of the interest and influence of the "Palmyra News," the association has received a query from an official of one of the country's largest financial institutions, which having read last week's issue, is moved to inquire as follows: "Having just read the article in your local paper, reciting the progress of your community, and having had occasion to frequently pass through your section, and knowing the facts as stated to be true, I am moved to inquire why in the face of almost universal real estate depression in the period mentioned, your community has been marked with such signal success?"

In answer, we might briefly say, it is its individuality.

The small group of men who conceived this community had in mind, primarily, a place of individual homes, individually owned and occupied except where homes are pending sale by builders; no two homes are owned by one person, it is this individual ownership, through which the splendid community spirit, exemplified by this association, has been developed, and in turn each owner has become a missionary to bring others into our community.

Also our geographical location, on the direct arterial highway system of our great late, enabling us without any detour to reach almost any point over well paved roads, the new bridge giving us a direct highway to almost anywhere, our neighboring progressive town, our splendid means of transportation are all factors.

While our people seek the best possible educational and recreational advantages for themselves and their children, and the cultural background is not neglected, we never expect to be a high-brow town, but just a real, live, progressive community, of the kind of people Lincoln said God loved.

We are indeed proud to have received recognition and it naturally will spur us to greater effort.

ARREST SERVICE STATION THIEVES

Believed to Have Entered Fort-num's Ford Agency Last Saturday Morning

Catching a thief in the act of rifling a cash register in a Delancey service station is expected to bring the solution of the robbery at Lester S. Fortnum's Palmyra Ford Agency last Friday morning.

State Troopers Gahler and Small surprised Arthur Able in the service station early Tuesday morning and later arrested Charles Schroeder, whom Able implicated when he was questioned at the Bridgeboro Barracks.

Both of the men under arrest make their home at 425 West Sixth street, Palmyra. Schroeder lives there with his parents, while Able has been a boarder for several weeks. Both have lived in Palmyra for many years.

While neither of the suspects have confessed to the Fortnum robbery, they admit entering Hainer's service station the same night and several other places in the Riverside Schuylkill section.

When Chief C. M. Beck of Palmyra, confronted him with a 32-caliber revolver, which had been identified as part of the loot. The Chief obtained the gun from Schroeder's home, along with other items thought to have been stolen. Two automobiles in possession of the men were recovered and returned to their owners in Camden.

More than $500 in cash, an Atwater-Kent radio set and several smaller articles were taken from the Fortnum Agency. The money was obtained by breaking open the safe with a sledge hammer.

The combination was smashed off with the heavy sledge, as it was opened by the use of a hammer and punch on the unprotected mechanism.

Finger prints taken from the safe and handle of tools used are expected to furnish proof as to whether the men under suspicion are guilty of this robbery.

OVERTURNED TRUCK DESTROYED BY FIRE

Driver Has Narrow Escape From Death as Meat Truck Is Ditched

Joseph B. Dorio, 1240 North Eighth street, Philadelphia, driver for the Armour & Company, meat packers, had a narrow escape from death Wednesday morning when his truck overturned at the intersection of the Riverton-Moorestown road and Branch pike.

Dorio's truck skidded on the wet asphalt road when he attempted to turn onto Branch pike. The load shifted and overturned the truck into the ditch.

The truck immediately ignited and Officer William Gootie, who was the first to arrive on the scene, tried to put out the flames with a hand extinguisher, but not making much headway called the Riverton and Parry fire companies, which responded immediately.

For about half an hour it was thought that the driver was pinned underneath the truck, but later it was learned that a passing motorist had picked him up and taken him into Palmyra.

About half the load of meat was totally destroyed and the rest was transferred into another truck and taken to its destination.

LIONS CONSIDER ORGANIZING BAND

Committee of Palmyra-Riverton Club
Investigates Feasibility of Municipal Project

A delightful entertainment was rendered at the weekly meeting, Tuesday evening of the Palmyra-Riverton Lion's Club in their Den next to the municipal grove by Harold R. Harig, concert soloist of the Philadelphia Orchestra.

It was a rare treat indeed for those who were so fortunate to be present and hear this accomplished musician in connection with the entertainment. Albert E. Knecht, the speaker of the evening, gave a very interesting address on music.

One of the main discussions was the proposed organization of a municipal band. A committee is now looking into the feasibility of such an organization for the twin towns.

The speakers' committee announced that Joseph M. Hall, Supervisor of the Camden County Vocational School, has been obtained as the main speaker for the next meeting.

FALL PRIMARY IS URGED BY CAREY

State Republican Committee to Consider Judge's Plan at October Session

Former Judge Robert Carey, of Jersey City, has requested the State Republican Committee to consider a return to the September primary.

The committee decided that members should consult with their respective County Committees and report their sentiment to the October meeting of the State Committee. If the general opinion is for a change, the State Committee will then request the Wolter Legislative Committee Investigating Election Laws to recommend to the Legislature such a change.

K. Bertram Mott, chairman of the committee, is of the opinion there is but small possibility of there being any discussion concerning a successor to United States Senator Walter E. Edge, who has been named Ambassador to France.

Whether we discuss the Senatorial situation depends largely on the number of members who attend the meeting, he stated. "Several members of the committee are on vacation and the full committee probably will not get together until the next meeting, which will be held the second Tuesday in October."

Both David Baird, Jr., Republican leader of Camden County, and Edward C. Stokes, of Trenton, who have been named as possible candidates for Edge's seat, will attend the meeting Mott said.

P. O. S. of A. TO HOLD COUNTY MEETING

District President Howard Jarrett, of the P. O. S. of A., has issued a county meeting at Brown Mills on October 2, for the purpose of organizing the Burlington County Association under the rules prescribed by the State Camp.

Palmyra Camp was requested to send a large delegation and final arrangements will be made on September 30th. On this date a committee appointed to plan the activities for Old Home Day, will report on the measures proposed for the entertainment and comfort of visiting members.

Some information about the proceedings of the National Camp held at Columbus, Ohio, September 24 and 25, will be furnished and matters of interest to all members will be discussed.

CINNAMINSON SCHOOL

The lunch room in School No. 4 is an interesting spot just before noon. The girls in the upper grades, under supervision, prepare a simple wholesome lunch.

Their willingness to help is making the project possible. Gay curtains and painted furniture have transformed the room, making it more homelike and enjoyable.

Several of the boys also are proving their ability in the domestic arts and the girls will have to look to their laurels if they expect to keep in the lead.

It is most gratifying to have so many Normal School students sent to us each year. At present a young woman is doing her practice work under the direction of Mrs. Terry. On October 31, the P. T. A. of School No. 2 will hold an evening meeting, which it is hoped the fathers will all attend.

HEMPHILL WINS FIGHT TO FORCE RIVERTON CHILDREN INTO P. H. S.

Commissioner of Education
Rules Palmyra is Riverton's
"Designated" H. S.

RIVERTON BOARD MAY APPEAL TO STATE BOARD

Further Action Will Come Up for Discussion at Board Meeting Tonight

Commissioner of Education Charles H. Elliott has handed down a decision that Riverton pupils may not attend Moorestown High School and have their tuition paid by the Riverton Board of Education.

This decision is the result of an agitation started by Fred P. Hemphill, Riverton's district clerk, who made a covert attempt last spring, through the County Superintendent, to get the Moorestown school authorities to refuse to accept pupils from Riverton. This attempt failed, and several weeks later Palmyra school authorities protested to the Commissioner of Education against the large number of Riverton pupils who had applied for admittance to the Moorestown school.

Six of the thirteen pupils who applied for Moorestown are now attending that school, and will continue to do so, the parents paying their tuition.

The text of the Commissioner's decision follows:

"The application of the Riverton Board of Education that the Riverton pupils, prepared for high school and choosing the Moorestown High School be granted permission to attend that school for the full high school course or any part thereof, is in violation of the Borough of Riverton was heard before the Commissioner of Education September 17, 1929.

"At the hearing representatives of the Riverton Board presented facts and argument in support of their petition, and answer was made by the Palmyra Board of Education, under whose jurisdiction most of the Riverton pupils have been attending high school.

"The following facts were disclosed at the hearing:

"The Riverton Board of Education has, during recent years, uniformly permitted pupils prepared for high school to attend Moorestown High School, provided their parents paid the difference in tuition charged by the Moorestown Board of Education in excess of the Palmyra rate. No transportation allowance was made for attendance at either Palmyra or Moorestown.

"The attendance record of the high school pupils at Riverton for the past five years is as follows:

Year	Palmyra High School	Moorestown High School
1925	72	4
1926	81	7

"An analysis of the attendance of the Riverton pupils in the Moorestown High School for the past seven years only eight different pupils are included in the record presented.

"The County Superintendent, of Burlington County notified the Board of Education of Riverton under date of August 21, 1929, that he could not apportion to Riverton the $6000 State allotment provided for districts sending pupils to high school of other districts if it sent its pupils to Moorestown without the consent of the Commissioner of Education, and under date of September 5th, he notified the Supervising Principal and High School Principal of Moorestown to the effect that if Moorestown accepts Riverton pupils, it cannot expect to receive compensation from the Riverton Board because the payment of such tuition would be contrary to law.

"Twelve pupils from the June graduating class of the Riverton Grammar School and one pupil who attended the Palmyra High School from Riverton last year selected the Moorestown school for the present school year. After receiving the letter from the County Superintendent and hearing of the letter sent by the County Superintendent to the Moorestown High School, the district clerk of the Riverton Board of Education notified all pupils prepared for high school entrance this year as well as the pupils desiring to transfer that the Board of Education of Riverton would not be responsible for their tuition if they enrolled at Moorestown.

"Up to the date of the hearing four pupils graduating this year from the grammar school, and the one asking for a transfer, together with the two who attended Moorestown last year, had registered at Moorestown. The remainder of those beginning high school work this year (approximately sixteen) had entered the Palmyra High School.

"The Riverton Board of Education would not be responsible for their tuition if they enrolled at Moorestown.

"Following the announcement of the Riverton Board of Education, the Riverton Board of Education would not be responsible for their tuition if they enrolled at Moorestown.

"The Riverton Board of Education would not be responsible for their tuition if they enrolled at Moorestown.

"The Riverton Board of Education would not be responsible for their tuition if they enrolled at Moorestown.

Urges Traffic Lanes to Reduce Accidents

Marking of highways with white lines, to indicate lanes of travel, has been recommended to the State Highway Commission by Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the State Police, as a means of decreasing motorcar accidents.

A survey of the traffic situation has been made by Colonel Schwarzkopf and several subordinates and the best possible remedy at the present time, he said, is the establishment of a marked lane system. Troopers patrolling highways have repeatedly reported that they have had difficulty in directing traffic under the present system.

Adoption of painted lanes not only along State highways, but also on any heavily traveled streets in Camden leading to and from the bridge, has also been recommended by Joseph K. Costello, general manager of the Delaware River Bridge.

THREE ARE TRIED BY COUNTY COURT

Further Pleas to be Entered to Indictments Thursday of This Week

Judge Rice presided at a short session of the Burlington County Court Thursday last week and after first disposing of several matters in the Orphans' Court took up three criminal cases, as follows:

Norman Jackson, colored, of Mount Holly, charged with carrying deadly weapons, plead guilty and was sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or stand committed until paid.

John Gordon, colored, of Hainesport, who had pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery, at that time he was also charged with sodomy, to which he pleaded not guilty, and when Prosecutor Hillman moved the latter complaint and heard the testimony of two witnesses, but Judge Rice did not deem their evidence sufficient to convict Gordon and gave the defendant the benefit of the doubt, the verdict of the Court being not guilty.

Sentence was deferred on the assault and battery charge until this Thursday.

Francis Shane, of Riverside, who has been confined in the County jail on a charge of sodomy, will be sent back to the State House for Epileptics at Skillman, he having been a former inmate of that institution.

Prosecutor Hillman announced that defendants against whom indictments were reported will be brought in to plead this Thursday.

DRY WEATHER HURT CROPS

With ideal weather during the time of planting, germination and pollination of the crops, New Jersey farmers expected to receive a fair reward for their effort, but the dry weather during the time of maturity and ripening of the products lowered the farmers' expectations below the average, according to the New Jersey Crop Report for September 1, issued recently by the State Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

PALMYRA MAN IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Rev. George Lockett, Riverton Club Member, Delivers Inspiring Address

With one of the most inspiring addresses they have heard in a long time, the Rev. George Lockett, pastor of the Central Baptist Church, of Palmyra and Riverton, literally won the heart of every member present at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Moorestown Rotary Club in the Community House last Thursday at noon.

The two cities' pastor is a member of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club, has been for the past four years, and in that time has learned the real message of Rotary, which he imparts in a manner seldom heard.

In a most frank and straightforward manner, and with sincerity that cannot be doubted, he impresses the seriousness of Rotary and brings to the members the realization that they have a hard and fast standard by which they must conduct themselves, both in business and socially. If they are to live up to the ideals and reputation of this great world-wide movement. As the Rev. Mr. Lockett aptly put it, "Most anyone can become a member of a Rotary Club, but being a Rotarian is a vastly different thing."

The Riverton pastor likened Rotary to marriage, saying, "It is a serious thing that most men jump into without much thought. Rotary, as well as marriage, should receive more thought than it does before one enters into it, and I, or one, favor the old method of asking a man, 'Are you really qualified?' before he is admitted to a club."

Having attended the international convention at Minneapolis year before last, the Rev. Mr. Lockett had an excellent opportunity to study Rotarians from all points of the world and he said that he observed that the foreigners are the members who are taking Rotary seriously and are having their hopes upon it taking an important part in the establishment of world peace.

Quoting the Code of Ethics, he called attention to the fact that it is the duty of a Rotarian to dignify his vocation and elevate his profession or business; it is his duty to improve himself first and think less about "improving the other fellow"; that is the duty of a Rotarian to enlarge his service, not being merely a business man, but an ethical man, whose success has been based upon justice and morality. "A member of a Rotary Club must realize that it is a distinctive mark to be a Rotarian," he declared.

In closing, the Rev. Mr. Lockett quoted Dr. Chevalier Jackson, noted Philadelphia surgeon, who has achieved world-wide fame through the invention and use of the bronchoscope, as having recently said, "Everything I know I have told to others." "If Dr. Jackson isn't a Rotarian, he should be," said the speaker, "for he certainly exemplifies the true spirit of the movement."

STUDY COUNTY FOR PARK SYSTEM PLAN

J. W. Pennell, of Medford, Chairman of Committee Named By Real Estate Board

J. William Pennell, of Medford, has been named chairman of a committee to study the entire area of Burlington County looking to the creation of a comprehensive park system. The study is being carried on by the Burlington County Real Estate Board, of which Mr. Pennell is secretary.

Other members of the committee, appointed by Arthur N. Cutler, president of the board, are T. H. Edgar, of Moorestown, and John D. Perkins, Jr., of Beverly. The committee will meet in a few days to initiate a fact-finding program related to Burlington County's park resources.

Mr. Pennell has requested use of the Regional Planning Federation's aerial maps of Burlington County for use in the committee's study. These maps, together with the United States Geological Survey maps of the area and all other pertinent data, will be placed at the disposal of the committee. Officials of the Federation declared.

It was pointed out that the Regional Plan to be completed in 1931 will include as one of its essential proposals a suggested system of parks, parkways and public reservations. The Federation is desirous that representative groups, such as the Burlington County Real Estate Board, make suggestions for inclusion in the Regional Plan.

BANKERS LEAVE FOR CONVENTION

Coate and Burlington Man to Participate in San Francisco Conclave

Burlington County will be well represented at the annual convention of the American Bankers' Association which will take place in San Francisco beginning on Tuesday, October 1, and continuing to Friday, October 4. Among those who are on the way to attend the big event are Armit H. Coate, trust officer of the Burlington County Trust Company, Moorestown, and Walter E. Robb, president of the Burlington County Loan and Trust Company, Burlington. They are accompanied by their wives.

Others who will make the transcontinental trip are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hopkins, of Moorestown, and David Robb and Edward Thompson, both of Burlington, and Mrs. Coate left Saturday.

Mr. Coate has served as the president of the Burlington County Bankers' Association and at the present time is the secretary of the State Bankers' Association. On his retirement from the presidency of the County Association, he became the county secretary and through his untiring work and original ideas he put the annual dinners of the organization on an exceptionally high plane. He retired from the county secretaryship last May.

The trip will include several side trips and a visit to Canada. While in San Francisco Mr. and Mrs. Coate will stop at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel.

Walter Robb is also a former president of the Burlington County Bankers' Association and a former president of the State Bankers' Association. During his incumbency he served actively in both positions, and still works assiduously for the good of both organizations.

Heading the vaudeville bill for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week at the beautiful Walt Whitman Theatre located on Westfield avenue, between 46th and 47th streets, Camden, is the "Lacoste and Carletta Revue," vaudeville's most sensational duo, coming direct from Berlin and Paris, where they have scored a big hit.

Other acts on the same bill are "Shriner and Fitzsimmons," two comedians, who have enjoyed successful success on the Keith and Lowe Circuits, in their comedy act entitled "At the News Stand." Frank Leduc and partner present "The Festival at Bagdad," from the Folies Bergere, Paris. The other feature act of this Ritz Revue is "Ted Wheeler and Girls."

"Scandal," the Universal Talking picture, which is the feature photograph along with this vaudeville bill, has pretty Laura LaPlante, who was the star in "Showboat," as its star. She is supported by a strong cast, including Huntley Gordon, John Boles and Jane Winton. Wesley Ruggles directed the production, from "The Haunted Lady," a magazine story, by Adela Rogers St. Johns. It deals with the adventures of a popular society wife confronted by a menacing triangle situation. The dialogue sequences are stirring and full of suspense. It was filmed in and around a millionaire country club at Santa Barbara, Calif.

"The Trial of Mary Dugan," Bayard Veiller's All-Talking pictureization of the stage success of the same name, will be the feature photograph for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. "The Trial of Mary Dugan" ran for more than a year on Broadway and is now being presented by eighteen road companies in this country and Europe. The picture has an all-star cast, headed by Norma Shearer, Lewis Stone, who has the part of Edward Dugan, the defense attorney, "H. B. Warner, that of the prosecuting attorney, and Raymond Hackett, who played the role of Jimmy Dugan on the stage and has the same part in the photoplay. Others in the cast include Olive Tell, Lilyan Tashman, DeWitt Jennings, Mary Moran, Wilfrid North and others.

Not Indicted

ROSCOE SHINN

Republican candidate for Sheriff, against whom charges were made just before the Primary election, was exonerated by the grand jury on Tuesday.

NO INDICTMENT AGAINST SHINN

Grand Jury Refuses to Take Seriously Charges Made Just Before Primary

Apparently taking the same view as have the people of the County generally, the grand jury, in its presentment Tuesday, ignored the complaint made by Samuel C. Scoville, of Philadelphia, against Deputy Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn and Constable Harry Bate, charging them with breaking into his bungalow along the Rancocas Creek, near New Lisbon, last spring.

The complaint was entered before "Squire M. Warner Hargrove, of Pemberton, shortly before the June primaries by Scoville, on information furnished him, and many persons believed that back of the charges was a desire on somebody's part to prejudice the Under Sheriff's candidacy before the Republican voters, he being an aspirant to the Shirevalty nomination. It was not alleged that Mr. Scoville was knowingly a party to the suspected plot to blacken Deputy Shinn's character or that of Constable Bate.

Whatever the motive back of the charges the move, instead of arousing a hostile feeling against the Deputy Sheriff, seemed to crystallize public sentiment in his favor, and it is believed, many voted for him as a mark of confidence. It was significant, too, that Burlington, in which Mr. Shinn has been a life-long resident, and where he bears a spotless reputation and is universally respected, came strongly to his support, as though it had been made upon him.

Both Shinn and Bate strenuously denied the allegations that they had entered the Scoville property, which Scoville and J. Fletcher Street, of Beverly, own jointly.

Their friends alleged that it was an attempted frame-up, conceived with the idea of arousing sentiment against the Under Sheriff on the eve of the primary. On the date set for the hearing before Squire Hargrove, shortly after the swearing out of the complaint against them, Shinn and Bate waived the hearing, allowing the matter to go direct to the next grand jury, which returned no bill of indictment, when it made its presentment Tuesday. The course thus taken by the grand jurors undoubtedly will meet with approving public sentiment throughout the County.

TO INSPECT CARS OF TWIN STATES

N. J. and Pa. Will Cooperate to Discover Defects in Autos

New Jersey and Pennsylvania will join. It has been announced by State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill, in a crusade against defective motor vehicle equipment. It will take the form of an inspection of vehicles beginning October 1 and continuing in New Jersey for the entire month and in Pennsylvania until November 15.

Commissioner Dill has completed arrangements with State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Benjamin G. Eynon, of Pennsylvania, under which the highway patrol of that State will question all New Jersey drivers whose cars do not bear the official inspection label. A like course will be adopted by the New Jersey authorities toward Pennsylvania drivers in this State.

Both States conducted similar campaigns last year, although not with the degree of cooperation planned for this year. A total of 540,062 vehicles were inspected in New Jersey in 1928, which is 71 per cent. of the registration, and of that number 87,348 cars were found to have faulty brakes and 91,439 were being operated with headlights that need adjustment or repair. In Pennsylvania 723,432 vehicles were inspected, 420,252 of which were in need of adjustments.

The coming inspection will include brakes, headlights, horns, steering mechanisms, windshield wipers, mirrors and similar equipment and will be thorough in every particular. Approximately 150 garages and service stations have been designated, after careful inquiry, to handle the work in New Jersey and in Pennsylvania the list embraces nearly 5,500 stations.

HIT-RUNNER CAUGHT

Riverside Police Chief Chases Palmyra Man Two Miles

Victory in a two mile race with a motorist wanted on charges of hit-run driving.

The motorist, Earl Myers, Palmyra, drove his automobile into the side of Fred Tura's car Sunday evening. Thrust lies at 409 Delaware avenue, Riverside. After the accident Myers drove off, disregarding Voshell's order to halt.

The chief followed in the police car, and overtook Myers at Taylor's Lane. Myers deserted his machine and struck off through the fields on foot. The chief followed, and caught him after a half-mile footrace.

Myers was taken back to Riverside, where he was fined $25 and costs for hit-run driving by Justice of the Peace Lester Merrill. He agreed to pay $60 for damages to Tura's car.

Would Place All Jersey Schools Under Direct Control of State

Educational Survey Commission Will Urge 1930 Legislature to Establish New System to Cut Costs and Increase Efficiency

Removal of all public schools in New Jersey from the authority of local municipalities with the entire educational system, including erection and conduct of the schools, under direct supervision of the State, will be asked of the 1930 Legislature by the Educational Survey Commission, appointed by the lawmakers.

"If the suggestions of the Commission are acted upon favorably by the Legislature, New Jersey will have the most economical and efficient system in the United States," Senator John H. McAllister, of Cumberland County, a member of the Commission, declared.

The survey was undertaken primarily to halt the ever-growing cost of education which has burdened the smaller communities with taxes through the expense of building schools. The Commission, in undertaking the survey, saw also an opportunity to raise the standard of efficiency in the New Jersey school system.

"The Educational Survey Commission has completed its study," Senator McAllister said, "and a report is now being prepared for submission to the next session of the Legislature. Should the Legislature adopt the recommendations of the Commission, we must eliminate the small schools that are a heavy burden on the taxpayers. We must consolidate these expensive minor schools. We must have consolidated schools throughout the State, located in districts selected in a scientific manner, and governed by a State Commission, or we will have to continue along in the expensive manner under which schools are operating now."

Eliminate Small Schools

"We must eliminate the small schools that are a heavy burden on the taxpayers. We must consolidate these expensive minor schools. We must have consolidated schools throughout the State, located in districts selected in a scientific manner, and governed by a State Commission, or we will have to continue along in the expensive manner under which schools are operating now."

"Educational costs in New Jersey are high. There is no getting around that fact. The burden is about all the taxpayers can bear."

"With a view to eliminating some of these costs, the Commission will recommend closing all schools in the State, either High School or elementary, where the enrollment is less than 200 pupils. The Commission will go farther, it will inform the Legislature, it has found the cost of maintaining schools of less than 400 pupils too high."

"In figuring out a method of lowering costs, we came up against the problem of transportation. With fewer and larger schools it will be necessary to transport more children and farther than they are being transported now."

Transportation Costs High

"Reports of County superintendents show us transportation costs account for a majority of expenses. It is reasonable to believe the transportation costs will be as high if not higher—that is, for a few years."

"Analyzing transportation costs, we found a great portion of it was due to road conditions."

"With this in mind, the Commission will recommend hard surfacing of dirt roads in the various districts over which the school buses will have to travel, as a means of cutting down transportation costs. New Jersey's network of hard roads is constantly being extended, that is true, but better roads to serve consolidated schools will be a part of the program, nevertheless."

"Building costs will be an important factor. Take Hopewell Township, Cumberland County, for example. There is one school, costing more than $80,000, having an attendance of about 75 students. There is another, costing $250,000, and having an attendance of about 200. And as if the burden on taxpayers was not heavy enough, there is considerable agitation in one section to have part of a Township declared a Borough by the Legislature, so plans can be carried out for building another high school.

Specialist Teachers
"Another factor is teachers. The Commission found elementary grade teachers in the smaller schools teaching classes in eight grades, and in smaller high schools, teachers with students in four grades. The Commission will recommend 'specialized' teachers in the consolidated schools—one teacher for each subject in each grade."

"The State supervised consolidated school system, I am sure, will appeal to the taxpayers from the standpoint of economy. Our greatest problem is how it will appeal to the parents. We anticipate a wide variance in the opinions of the taxpayers and the parents. The chief objection of parents, we believe, will be to transportation."

"A great forward-looking step toward better education in New Jersey was the characterization given the plan by William S. Abbott, member of the Camden Board of Education."

Sees Great Saving
"It seems to me that the time is coming when high schools will all be centralized under State control," he said. "This would represent a great saving of money, because each little community would not have to erect its own high school building. That there would be advantages in respect to the teaching facilities seems to me undeniable."

"Look at the large universities. Here is an example of school centralization. Students from all States of the Union come to one university, where they receive the best instruction, which they could not gain in their own communities. I recently visited Chicago might disappear."

New Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act

The New Jersey Motor Vehicle Financial Responsibility Act, effective November 15, 1929, is of vital interest to all owners of motor vehicles registered in New Jersey, and motor vehicle operators licensed in New Jersey.

Every person who, while operating a motor vehicle, has been concerned in a motor vehicle accident resulting in the death of, or injury to, any person or damage to property to the extent of at least $100, or the person in whose name such motor vehicle is registered, or both such persons will have to furnish proof of financial responsibility to satisfy any claim for damages by reason of personal injury to, or the death of, any one person of at least $5,000 or by reason of personal injury to or the death of, more than one person on account of any one such accident, of at least $10,000, and for damage to property of at least $1,000. Failure to furnish such proof will result in the revocation of the rights as owner or as operator of a motor vehicle of the person or persons of whom the proof is required. These rights will not be restored until satisfactory proof of financial responsibility is furnished.

Proof of financial responsibility must be evidence of the ability "to satisfy any claim for damages by reason of personal injury to, or the death of, any one person of at least $5,000 or by reason of personal injury to, or the death of more than one person on account of any one accident of at least $10,000 and for damage to property of at least $1,000," says the act.

This means that after November 15 it will be imperative for every owner and operator of a motor vehicle in this state to provide himself with adequate protection so that he may at all times be in a position to furnish the required proof of financial responsibility. Failure to furnish such proof will result in the revocation of his rights as owner or operator of a motor vehicle in the state.

Security which is required under the Act may be provided in any of the following forms:

1. A motor vehicle liability policy of an insurance company authorized to transact business in the state.
 2. The bond of a surety company authorized to do business in the state, or a bond with individual sureties, each owning real estate approved by a judge of a court of record.
 3. Cash, bonds, stocks or other evidence of indebtedness.
- The security provided must be sufficient to take care of personal injury claims up to $5,000 for injuries to one person and subject to the same limit per person up to $10,000 for injuries to more than one person in any one accident and up to $1,000 for damage to property in any one accident.
- The act is designed to promote safe driving and to enhance the possibility of recovery by persons damaged through motor vehicle accidents.

Here's How

By E. W. HOWE
"The Sage of Potato Hill"

VOLTAIRE, A MASTER VIRTUE STAYING POWER

This long introduction to a quotation from Voltaire I just encountered in reading: "All men are equal; but it is not birth but virtue which makes them so."

In the gross sentimentalism of our conversation and reading the declaration that we are all equal is a favorite; but remember that a man really able to think says you are only equal to another if you have his virtues.

And virtue is a simple word; it means a high average in the sort of conduct the world has decided is good. The dictionary gives some pages to the word virtue, but it all condenses into this: a high average in fairness, honesty, industry, temperance, usefulness in small or great ways, and thrift in health and business.

And the lowliest of us may profit from the practice of virtue.

I have received many letters in a single delivery of mail, and not one of real interest; but I received one today that caused me to take notice. "The heroics of human life," said the writer, "do not consist in spectacular circumstances; in great deeds, or in the taking of cities, but in the staying powers we have for the monotony of little things that make up the long hard seige of living and behaving creditably." This, it seems to me, is wise; had I encountered it in Emerson or Aristotle, I should have been moved no more than I was by this utterance of one of the plain people of 1929.

Frequently a reader encounters these two words: "Voltaire said." I always read what follows; sometimes I do not understand it. Occasionally I disagree, but always I recognize a master mind and hand.

Some will not read him; they have heard he was a mean and foolish little man. On the contrary, he was so unusual that he is still encouraging or distressing his fellowmen.

If you read of Napoleon you soon note he had a good deal of respect for Voltaire. You have undoubtedly heard of Frederick the Great, who had the advantage of being a king to start with. Voltaire was a much smarter man; he has had far greater influence on the world. In spite of faults inevitable and natural in any human machine, Voltaire came nearer having intelligence than any other living organism.

I give him no credit; he simply had it. Instead of being born a pitiful fool, he was born with the world's greatest mind. Some of the famous prophets were weaklings compared to him. Mahomet's personal history convicts him frequently of being an ass—indeed, I know of no great mystic among rulers who had a really good mind.

Voltaire won his fame as has evolution; every scholar has added him up, and given him great credit.

The newspaper is the great educator of the masses today. Where one reads a two dollar book, five thousand read the five-cent daily. Since this is true, the editor should spend a good deal of time on his knees, it seems to me, with his mind fixed on the Giver of all good; none the less should the contributor for the newspaper wrestle in prayer; if the blind lead the blind, both shall fall in the ditch.

I go to my newspaper every day for information—for counsel. Such of it as I don't like, I don't take. Since humanity is pretty much the same the world over, I assume that you do the same.

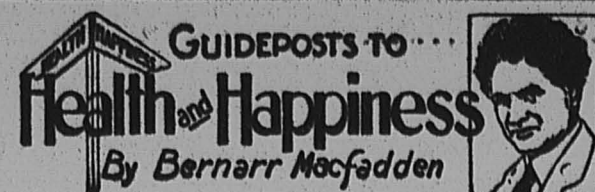

I am interested in the legislative problem of reapportioning the states for the purpose of securing better representative government; I am not interested in the kind of hosiery worn by the king of Siam or the sultan of Turkey.

Which leads to the thought: If our daily newspapers were shorn of much that is the merest rubbish, there would be less volume, but more that is useful to our people. The Sunday edition might be cut almost half.

"O," some one says, "we are not all alike; some want to know about the king of Siam—the sultan of Turkey; they must have Sunday reading." I grant it. But our aim, it seems to me, should not be to kill time, but store our minds with useful information. There would be a better world if there were no prize-fighters in it; there would be a more useful citizenry if men and women busied their minds with things calculated to make the world better.

I'd rather study business, or even politics on Sunday, than possible championships in utterly useless occupations. Life is too short to waste valuable time in worthless things.

I like my paper to contain, first of all, news. Next, such leisure reading as cannot fall to be instructive to me in things calculated to elevate and uplift a frail or faltering humanly.

Things that Make You Grow Old

Everybody hates to grow old. Yet, because the march of Time leaves its inevitable traces on the face and form of man, most people are resigned to that fact. But we should not blame Time if we grow old in thought and spirit. That is our own fault.

Age is, for the most part, a state of mind. With the approach of middle-age, most people think it is time to "settle down." They fear to do anything that might be called undignified and so they give up everything in the nature of exercise or sports. They take a back seat and watch the world go by. They lose their interest in other people. They become careless of personal appearance. They coddle themselves if the weather is inclement or take to their beds with every twinge of pain or digestive disturbance. They refuse to accept any new or radical idea, believing that "the old way is best." They often give up some lifelong ambition, saying, "It's too late now—I'm getting old." Then they begin to indulge in self pity.

And those are the things that make people grow old before their time. Those things also bring on many of the ailments associated with age. The more a man or woman begins to let up, deterioration sets in.

Our bodies are wonderful machines, and as such they must be cared for, properly fueled and kept in first class running condition.

The way to stay young in spirit and thought is to regard life as a thrilling adventure with who-knows-what just around the corner.

If you have children, try to see their point of view and make them glad to have you around instead of waiting until your back is turned to really enjoy themselves. Let them help you stay young.

Read the new books, listen to new ideas and don't hesitate to do something simply because you have never done such a thing before.

Make a hobby of some sport or exercise—whether it be golf or pitching horseshoes or just walking. Do anything and think anything that will exhilarate you and make you glad to be alive. Make up your mind to get the most out of life until the day you die.

If you have cared for your health and kept your body up to par during your youth, many of these things will come naturally to you. But even if you have committed some of the follies of youth, it is never too late to start building again.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

One of the lesser luxuries that each woman may enjoy without thought of extravagance is that dainty little personal habit—the perfumed bath. Certainly, after hours of housework, nothing adds more to the day's comfort than does this bit of grooming.

Famous perfumers tell us that the increasing popularity of the shower bath is changing our perfume habits from the use of bath salts—which are not so convenient in connection with the spray—to delicate toilet waters which form an excellent base for the body powder dusted on afterward.

The demand is for the lighter flower scents that leave only a trace of perfume. Among them lavender stands well toward the head of the list; violet, lilac, mimosa, jonquil, orange blossom—all the simple, unblended flower perfumes are especially refreshing—and do much to make pleasant the home-maker's work-a-day.

DAIRY MEAT DISH FOR LUNCHEON

If you are at all fond of calves

brain—try them this way: Soak them over night in salt water; then skin them; cover with flour, pepper and salt; fry in plenty of butter until nice and brown.

CLEANS FEWTER

To brighten pewter, soak the pieces for 24 hours in water containing potash in proportions of 1 qt. water to 1 piece potash the size of a hickory nut. Remove from water, rub with a cork dipped in oil, then polish with chamois skin and whiting. Pewter once cleaned in this way may be kept bright by merely washing in hot suds.

ASPARAGUS WITH EGGS

Open a can of asparagus, rinse and drain. Cut in half inch pieces and put in a buttered baking dish. Break six eggs over the asparagus; dust with salt, pepper and grated cheese. Dot with butter and put in oven until eggs are set.

LAYER SALAD

Arrange flat on a bed of ice lettuce an eighth-section of tomato, overlapping a sardine, overlapping a quarter-section of hard-boiled egg; repeat; sprinkle with finely chopped green pepper and celery; dress with mayonnaise seasoned with a bit of onion juice.

WHAT THE NATIONAL FOOD PRESERVATION PROGRAM MEANS TO YOU—

1. IN HEALTH

Food preservation . . . The health of your family hinges upon that important consideration. And the condition of the family pocket-book, too. Americans spend twenty-three billion dollars a year for food—and waste a fifth of it. Why? How?

Not because the home manager is willingly wasteful; but because perishable food products spoil. Why do they spoil?

Government Authorities have found that an average temperature below fifty degrees the year around, is essential to keep perishable food products in wholesome, healthful, palatable form. Fifty degrees is the danger point. If the temperature creeps above that point—even so much as three or four points—perishables suffer. They spoil quickly, become less appetizing, less nourishing.

Only artificial refrigeration, used twelve months in the year, will safeguard the health of your family—and the family pocket-book. Makeshift methods of refrigeration are a danger to health and happiness.

The capital prize is a Model Home; or $10,000 in gold. The

In the Black-and-White group—a most impressive collection at the Fall Fashion Promenade—were many charming and original coats, suits and ensembles.

Black velvet allied themselves with white furs; black woolsens featured the trimming touch of white moire or pique. Sheer white chiffons combined with black Chantilly lace for evening, and for afternoon, lustrous black satin was shown with an accent of dull white. One of the smartest of these costumes is illustrated—a daytime frock which Stein & Blaine have designed in black satin and white crepe bengal. With it is worn a modified beret with black cord trimming. A silver-tipped fox scarf gives just the right finishing touch.

For all ages this season black and white is "good." Chic as a foil for exuberant youth and brilliant complexions; modish for in-between years which refuse to number themselves; dignified and aristocratic for the older women—Whether we be crowned with brown hair, golden, gray or silvery white, this charmed combination is not only appropriate for the age and occasion—but is most unusually smart.

VELVET PAJAMAS APPEAR

More elaborate than ever are the house gowns and pajamas which now turn to velvet as a fabric worthy to express their new importance. Printed velvet in gay plaids combines with silk crepe and satin in the pajamas ensembles, while brocade velvet plays an important part in the styling of draped negligees.

SAYS FRENCH DREAMED OF WORLD SERIES CHECK AND JOINED ATHLETICS

With Champions

—Courtesy Phila. Bulletin.
WALTER FRENCH

Moorestown star, who is a member of the Philadelphia Athletics, pennant winner of the American Baseball League. Fans of this section confidently predict that the "A's" will all defeat the Chicago Cubs in the World's Series, making the popular Moorestownian a member of the greatest ball club of the universe.

MOORESTOWN A. A. LOSES TO GIANTS

Deciding Game to be Played Between Two Teams
This Saturday

By "Andy Zip"

Last Saturday afternoon on the South Church street diamond the Moorestown Giants defeated the Moorestown A. A. in the second game of the series. The score was 5-2. The A. A. won the opener and the teams are now tied at 1-1; so the deciding game will be played this Saturday.

In Saturday's game "Penn" Mus turned back the A. A. boys by sending an even dozen back to the bench with strike-outs. Harry Bowman pitched mighty good ball for the A. A. having six strike-outs to his credit. He weakened only in the seventh when the Giants collected three hits. These hits, along with an error, gave the Giants their margin of victory.

The features of the game were Jerry Bartello's hitting and Harry Brodie's fielding for the A. A. while Anderson and Harris starred at bat for the Giants.

Fans, you don't want to miss this Saturday's game. Ernie Potts will be on the mound for the A. A., while "Penn" Mus will undoubtedly pitch again for the colored boys. If the weather permits at least four hundred fans are expected to be on hand to witness the final game, so come early and get a good seat.

French's Hit Wins for A's in Tenth

(From Camden Courier)

Walter French, Moorestown's gift to the big leagues, and Ernie Potts, expensive young infielder from 'way down South, put their heads together and decided to win the ball game for the Athletics yesterday (last Friday) after it already had gone to ten innings and was threatening to go along even further.

So McNair, who had conducted himself like a seasoned big leaguer all afternoon, got on base in the first overtime session, stole second, and then rode home on the wings of a happily-placed single by French. This broke a 1-1 deadlock and permitted the A's to win, 2 to 1.

By RAYMOND A. HILL
Sports Writer, Philadelphia Bulletin.

Maybe you never saw a winged $5,000 bill, or even one without wings, but Walter French did. And he reached right out into space and grabbed it, just like that.

All of which tells you the main reason why the great Fitz is with the Athletics again this season as utility outfielder.

But wait a minute. Do you believe in dreams? If you do, maybe after perusing this you will take your dreams more seriously in the future.

Getting back to the original theme, Fitz French had gone on the voluntary retired list at the close of last season. He went to work in Chicago and the word work is not used lightly.

"Business was O. K.," says Walter, "but it started to get on my nerves. I was dead tired every night and I used to go home early and fall right to sleep."

"Eventually the months passed in a blur and February rolled around. Baseball was in the air, with the teams ready to go south. I started to get restless."

"One night I had a dream. A tall thin man was holding something in his hand. You couldn't tell what it was. Then he opened his hand and a $5,000 bill on wings started to fly right toward me."

"The next morning I woke up and he seemed to be offering me some easy money. So I reached out and grabbed that $5,000, wings and all."

"When I awakened in the morning I didn't think the five grand, but I had plenty of ideas. I walked down to the nearest out-of-town newsstand and gathered all the Philadelphia papers in sight. I read the pre-season baseball dope very carefully and studied the A's from every angle."

"Then I wired to Connie Mack and asked him if he could use me and how I'd go about getting reinstated."

"Connie replied immediately and Judge Landis put me back on the playing list. I quit my job and popped down to Florida to join the Macks. And here I am."

"Maybe you don't believe in dreams, but I do. That dream told me the A's were going to give me the pennant and it would be worth about $5,000—the series winnings—for me to be with the club."

"What's more, I had that dream out in Chicago. And unless I'm wrong, Judge Landis will ship me my series check from his Chicago office after we play the Cubs out there."

Going to Birmingham
Walter says you don't have to believe that story if you don't want to. And, anyway, he doesn't care whether you do or not. Just give him a little credit for having enough foresight to rejoin Mr. Mack & Co at the right moment.

But what about business? What will he do during next winter? "I'm going to Birmingham, Ala., to establish a residence," he continued. "Yes, I still like Moorestown. N. J., where the family resides, but I'm going South for the winter."

"You see, Mrs. French lives down in Birmingham. She has wanted to spend a few months with her family and so I have wired the in-laws to find a place for me to live. Just give him a little credit for having enough foresight to rejoin Mr. Mack & Co at the right moment."

DIRT TRACK CHAMPIONS

FRED WINNAI AND CHAS. GENUNG

Pilots in the A. A. championship races at the Trenton Fair Friday and Saturday, October 4 and 5. Dirt track driving is one of the most thrilling of sports, the negotiating of sharp curves demanding the greatest skill and nerve.

clubs have enough young blood coming up to strengthen them up. Besides, Connie Mack has secured just as much young talent as the other fellows."

What about the story he was going in for professional football?

"That's all washed up. When I left the Pottsville Maroons, I put my meekness in camphor forever and a day. I'll never play football again."

How about the coaching angle?

"Not for the present, anyway. I've had one or two offers to coach school teams. Don't think I'll go into that racket for a while yet. Haven't got the time."

"Baseball is my game now. If you get hurt in football the chances are you are through in the majors. I don't want to run any chance of that happening, for a while, anyway."

Handy-Andy, Says Mack
Some people think Walter French was lucky to get his job back with the A's after quitting the club. Those people should have a little talk with Connie Mack on that subject. He'll give him the right steers.

"Walter French is a good little player to have on anybody's ball club," Mack once said. "He's the kind of a fellow you can depend upon when most needed."

"French doesn't need a lot of work to keep up his fielding and batting. You can throw him into the game on a moment's notice, and he's pretty sure he'll get a hit. Or whenever he is in the outfield, you can depend upon him getting the fly balls."

"Walter is fast. He can run like a deer. He'll beat out ground balls for hits where others would be thrown out. His speed also enables him to get balls in the outfield that ordinarily would go for hits."

"Add to that his ability as a coach on the base lines, and you know just what I mean when I call him a valuable player."

Wherever he was connected with athletics before joining the A's, his coaches had the same idea about French. Pennington Seminary, Rutgers College, West Point, Third Army Corps, the Frankford Yellow Jackets and Pottsville Maroons, all held high opinions of the Moorestown ball player.

When he played with Williamsport he was the star of the old Nypa League. Mack brought Walter back to the A's because he was sporting a batting average of .400.

He soon proved he could hit major league batting. For a time this season he batted well over .400 in his pinch-hitting roles. He has slipped some since then and now is hitting only .285, but his kind of a fellow that hits in the pinches.

Somebody has whispered that French couldn't throw. Yet every body on the Mackian squad still talks about the time Walter chased a ball far into foul territory and then, throwing from an awkward position, doubled a runner at the plate.

Maybe Walter French isn't a regular, as Connie Mack once said, but don't forget it's taking three of the best outfielders in the American League to keep him out of a variety job.

The latest game in Manchuria appears to be, "Railroad, railroad; who's got the railroad?"

"Nervousness resulted; sound sleep was out of the question and I always felt completely tired out. My work was drudgery and I was unfit to take care of it properly."

"Konjola was so highly recommended that I felt it might benefit me, and decided to try it. Konjola went right to work on my ailing organs. New strength and energy flowed through my system. It cleansed and regulated my stomach and invigorated my liver so that both ailments vanished completely. RIVERSIDE HIGH BEATS PALMYRA

Wins from Dimondmen by Score of 12 to 6 on New Athletic Field

Palmyra High met real opposition when it opened the gridiron season last Saturday afternoon and emerged from a hard tussle with Riverside winning by a score of 12 to 6. The game was played on Palmyra's new athletic field before a large crowd.

The invaders tucked away the game in the second quarter when they shoved over a brace of touchdowns. Palmyra's lone score came in the last period with only a few minutes remaining to be played. Neither team could make its try for points after touchdown.

Freyneck sent Riverside into the lead in the second period when he scooped up the ball after Lenker attempted to punt from behind his own goal line. However, the kick was high and a heavy gate blowing across the field carried the ball back across Palmyra's goal line. One of the Palmyra backs batted the ball back into the playing field and Freyneck scooped it up five yards from the home team's goal line and cantered unopposed to the first touchdown of the game.

Wilkinson added the winning touchdown a few minutes later after Bruno had fumbled and Gammeala had recovered for Riverside on Palmyra's 30-yard line. Rudginski ripped off 10 yards and a first down through right tackle on the first play and then Wilkinson skirted Palmyra's right end for 30 yards and Riverside's second and last touchdown.

Terrell accounted for Palmyra's touchdown with but three minutes to go.

Lenker got a kickoff from midfield which Rudginski fumbled only four yards from Riverside's goal mark and Baker recovered for Palmyra. After four thrusts at the line, Terrell finally went over from the one-foot line.

Coach Kenneth Dimond started his second-stringers, but when Riverside showed evidence of a powerful offensive, the Palmyra coach inserted his full strength into the fracas shortly after the start of the game, and his varsity crew was in action when Riverside shoved over its brace of touchdowns.

Herbert Horner, who tutors Riverside, took no chances on the outcome, depending upon his varsity men until the last few minutes of play. Freyneck, Schneider, Wilkinson and Keppler stood out for Riverside, while Terrell, Fletcher and Shaner did the best work for Palmyra.

It was the first game of the season for both elevens, and the initial season's game of the 1929 grid season in South Jersey.

MANY FEATURES FOR PALMYRA'S OLD HOME DAY

State Champion Drum & Bugle Corps to Give Exhibition of Winning Drill

BIG DEMONSTRATION BY FIRE COMPANY

Legion, P. O. S. of A. and Firemen to Hold Open House All During Day

One of the most spectacular events of Palmyra's Old Home Day will be an exhibition drill by the Post Rodgers' American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps, which has recently won the championship of New Jersey.

This drill will be the same as the one before the judges in the recent competition when State honors were won and was doubtless be one of the most interesting events of the day.

This exhibition will take place on the Field Club grounds just after the exercises in the grove are concluded. It will require but approximately five minutes, but will be a sight well worth witnessing.

The use of the Legion Home has been tendered as a rest room and comfort station. The Legionnaires will hold open house all day and welcome their buddies and their friends.

P. O. S. of A. Joins Movement Washington Camp, P. O. S. of A. has also entered into the Old Home Day movement by tendering their building for that day, to the committee, for rest rooms and comfort stations.

All members are invited to be present, they will hold open house in the evening with a dance on the second floor. It will be free to all members, friends and guests.

Members coming from a distance are invited to make the lodge room their headquarters and a luncheon will be served. Walter M. Horner and Israel Goff are the persons in charge, but this committee will be considerably larger before the date of the celebration.

Members of the Palmyra Fire Department will show the advance in fire-fighting facilities to visitors on Old Home Day.

They will parade to the baseball game and have the apparatus on exhibition and in readiness for call, day and evening.

Old Time Memories
Many people will be present who will remember the Sunday of the big fire on Cinnaminson avenue, when Palmyra was without protection of any kind; some will remember the first hand-drawn ladder truck, after which came the small hand-drawn chemical tank, and with the advent of water mains, the first hose reel. It is a far cry from that to the present equipment for Palmyra now has one of the best equipped fire departments in South Jersey, with up-to-date pumper, hose wagon and ladder truck, supplemented with a splendid new ambulance in case of casualty.

The company will hold open house on Old Home Day with dancing all the evening, which will be free to everyone.

PALMYRA FIRM GETS MILLION DOLLAR JOB

George B. Shaner and Sons Awarded Contract for Building Camden Athletic Club

The task of millions in referring to Palmyra is still continuing. During the past week, contracts totalling more than a million dollars have been awarded to a firm of Palmyra builders. At a meeting of the building committee of the Camden City Athletic Club this week, contracts for its splendid new home was awarded to George B. Shaner and Sons, of Palmyra, who were the low bidders.

The Shaner firm has also received the contract for building the new Bell Telephone Company's exchange building on East Fifth street, Palmyra.

STRANGE FATE

Clerk Commits Suicide in Warren C. Pine's Drug Store

Strange indeed is the fatality that seems to hover over the drug store in Washington owned by the late Warren C. Pine, formerly a resident of Riverside. A few weeks ago the body of Mr. Pine was found in the canal at Titusville above Trenton, and it was presumed that he committed suicide.

On Thursday, of last week, William K. Rayburn, a drug clerk, committed suicide in the Pine store by taking poison. He was discovered back of the cigar counter by Warren C. Pine, Jr. Rayburn left a letter, saying, "This is suicide."

To the Citizens of Palmyra

Palmyra will hold its sixth Old Home Day, Saturday, October 5th. In order that this celebration may be as successful as those in the past, and that the high standard set by our town for all public demonstrations shall be upheld, I ask that every citizen of Palmyra give earnest co-operation to the committee in charge of the affair.

The committee reports in cash and pledges about $875 to date. They need at least $1200 to give a party worthy of the town. Will not those who can afford a larger contribution, or those who have not contributed at all, come to the support of the celebration.

This is your town and your celebration! It is your welcome to those that come back and your party to your fellow citizens and visitors. It is your chance to add to the advertisement that the bridge has given to the town, and to show the world that Palmyra has advanced from the country village stage to the class of a growing city.

Remember our slogan — "Borough of Palmyra Built on Progress." As a stockholder in a four million dollar corporation it is up to you to boost your town to the utmost.

Palmyra's Statement
"One member of the Riverton Board stated that he considered from his study of the State Department Survey of the Palmyra school, together with his investigation of the Moorestown school, that the latter offered superior advantages.

"The Palmyra Board of Education presented a written statement upon the improvement of its high school as recommended by the State Department Survey. It argued that where school facilities are thoroughly surveyed the defects of such a school are known and the school can therefore be more definitely improved. The testimony did show changes in organization and increased expenditures in line with the survey recommendations.

"Chapter 281, P. L. 1929, provides as follows: 'The Commissioner shall—Any child who shall be a resident of the district which does not furnish a full high school course of study or course including the subjects such child may decide to pursue and who shall have completed the elementary course of study provided therein may be admitted to a school in another district. The High Schools throughout the State to which other districts shall send their pupils or a part thereof shall be deemed to be those high schools which at the time of the passage of this act already designated by boards of education of districts lacking high school facilities as aforesaid shall continue as schools for their pupils or a portion for their pupils to attend. Such existing designation of a high school for the pupils from certain sections of a district lacking such facilities as aforesaid, shall continue until the board of education thereof for good and sufficient reasons, desire a change in such existing designations and shall secure the approval of the Commissioner of Education; provided, however, that the refusal or failure of the Commissioner to approve the request for a change in designation of the school by any board of education.'

"The Committee of the Riverton Board of Education contends that it is embarrassing to the membership of the board for them to be required to withdraw a privilege which they granted to the pupils in good faith without knowledge of the law and, therefore, makes a special request that the application be granted for the present year with such permission being considered a precedent in the interpretation of the above laws.

Would Cut Into Budget
"The Palmyra board requests that the application of the Riverton board be denied because it (the Palmyra board) has made provisions for all of the high school pupils of Riverton by securing the necessary teachers, equipment and supplies and for the further reason that it has adequate building facilities. The Palmyra board claims that the withdrawal of 12 pupils, for which it would receive $125 per capita for the year, would correspondingly affect its budget and result in an unfair increase in tax upon the people of its district.

"Since 1900, when Section 120, Chapter 86, requiring high school opportunity for pupils of all districts became operative, high school facilities have been offered by the larger districts to the pupils of the smaller districts having too few pupils to make possible an approved high school. These larger districts have uniformly erected buildings to include accommodations for the pupils of the smaller districts and such pupils have been received upon the payment of reasonable tuition charges.

Reason for Law
"In a number of instances it has occurred that after the boards of larger districts have made provision for pupils of nearby districts, boards of education of such sending districts have withdrawn their pupils from the receiving districts because of lower tuition rates elsewhere and thus have changed the designation of the high school for their pupils, which has resulted in a financial loss to the districts which planned to serve them. Such withdrawals have caused boards of education having high schools to ask for some protection when they build to render assistance to the smaller districts. It is the opinion of the Commissioner of Education that it was to furnish such protection that the above law was enacted, but that such protection should extend only to those high schools which merit it.

"If a high school building becomes overcrowded or a board of education in control fails to keep the school up to reasonable standards, such condition or failure would be sufficient grounds for the Commissioner to grant the privilege of a board to change the designation of its high school.

Ample Facilities
"The Palmyra Board of Education claims that it has provided facilities for other districts and that it has ample room to accommodate the high school pupils of Riverton. This was not denied by members of the Riverton Board. It further shows exceptional progress in improving high school facilities during the past year as recommended by the Survey of the State Department of Education.

"The law requires that the school designated for the pupils or a portion of the pupils to attend at the time of the passage of the act shall continue to be the designated school until a change of designation is approved by the Commissioner of Education. It is possible to consider that there has been a permanent designation of more than one high school only where the board of a large territorial district has designated different high schools for certain sections of the district or where a board has been sending a large percentage of pupils to more than one school. In such cases the designation of more than one school should continue. Where, however, only small numbers have been attending different schools, the latter must be considered as exceptions to the designated school.

"It is the opinion of the Commissioner of Education that the evidence clearly shows Palmyra High School was the designated school for the pupils of Riverton by law and at the same time when the law became effective, and the pupils attending Moorestown must be considered exceptions to the general designation, and since it has not been shown that Palmyra has failed to provide adequate and proper facilities for the pupils of Riverton, the Board of Education of Riverton is hereby directed to continue the designation of the Palmyra High School for its pupils and to pay tuition to Moorestown for only those pupils who are attending that school on May 7, 1929, when the above statute became effective. The application is accordingly hereby denied."

PICNIC SATURDAY
Hot Dog Barbecue on Program for Final Outing of Season

The Cinnaminson Lodge, I. O. O. F., will hold its final outdoor activity for this season at Ed Schuler's farm at Coopers town, near Beverly next Saturday.

A "hot dog" barbecue will be held late in the afternoon, weird tales will be told later on in the evening, they will probably be much enjoyed after the many sporting events of the afternoon.

Plans were made for several activities to help replenish a very much depleted treasury. After the installation of the new officers—conducted by Miss Minnie B. Ivins—refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening and they surely gave us a treat.

The table was very prettily decorated with vases of gladioli and other flowers, and was lighted by tall yellow candles. During this period Miss Ivins was presented with a small token of appreciation for her kindness to us on many occasions during her term as County president, which office she held until last Friday evening.

Mrs. T. M. D'Autrichy, Jr., was presented with a very pretty Past President's badge and a handsome Past President's ring. The latter was a special token from her many friends who desired to show their appreciation for her untiring efforts to serve the auxiliary at any and all times.

Several members attended County meeting held in Burlington last Friday evening. Mrs. T. M. D'Autrichy, Jr., was installed as first vice-president and Mrs. H. H. D'Autrichy as chaplain.

AMBULANCE MEETING

The regular meeting of the Palmyra Ambulance Association was held last Friday evening with President George N. Wimer in the chair. The members congratulated themselves on the fact that the new ambulance was entirely paid for and is giving complete satisfaction.

A donation of five dollars from Mabel Zanick, of Cambridge, and eighty dollars from the General Outdoor Advertising Company is acknowledged.

The new ambulance has been in use exactly two months and has had twenty-eight cases in that time.

The nurses for the ensuing month are: Mrs. William Hoare, Mrs. Edward Fox and Mrs. Joseph L. Stack.

Members of the ambulance committee are Mrs. C. A. Hines and Mrs. James T. Weart. Mrs. Arthur Palmer and Mrs. Vernon Stone, were elected nurses.

COUNCIL FEARS ELEVATED TRACKS

Highway Official Reported to be in Favor of Change by Railroad

The possibility of the Pennsylvania Railroad being elevated through Palmyra and Riverton has been given credence by a reported statement of a state highway official a few days ago.

According to the report the method of carrying the bridge traffic over the railroad at West Palmyra was under discussion, when the statement was made that the railroad might just as well be elevated now, as it must be done in the near future regardless.

This statement and others which are known to have been made by persons interested in the railroad's elevation have caused Palmyra borough officials considerable alarm.

It was due largely to this that the Borough Council, at the request of Councilman Frank A. Snover, passed a resolution at the last meeting asking for a further hearing on this situation.

The Borough Council and the great majority of the people of Palmyra are unquestionably in favor of the use of a bridge over the railroad tracks when the new state highway is constructed.

They fear that if the highway is built under the railroad at this point it will give the railroad company an opportunity to elevate its tracks which would detract very considerably from the value of properties along Broad street, as well as from the desirability of the town as a place in which to live.

The Public Service Company refuses to agree to the elevation of its tracks or event it would mean they would have to cross the highway at grade while the railroad would run overhead.

This, it is said by engineers, would form an extremely dangerous intersection and would result in many bad accidents that could otherwise be avoided.

Whether or not the people of Palmyra have their interests protected in this matter will depend largely on the amount of interest which is shown by them.

While no reply has been received to date from the highway commissioners it is believed the hearing will be granted and Palmyra will have another opportunity to present its case.

At the present time it is believed a decision lies practically been made which complies with the wishes of the railroad company and a few individuals who own property and which would be benefited by a road under the railroad. It is thought a strong protest from Palmyra citizens may result in a change of these plans.

LEGION AUXILIARY
Those who attended the meeting last Wednesday evening will agree that it was a most enjoyable one. There was considerable business on hand and it seems the coming fall and winter season will be a most active one.

Plans were made for several activities to help replenish a very much depleted treasury. After the installation of the new officers—conducted by Miss Minnie B. Ivins—refreshments were served by the hostesses for the evening and they surely gave us a treat.

Why Zone Our Town?

community or smaller centers in outlying areas, are allotted to commerce. This does not mean that all land along a railway should be zoned for manufacturing any more than that every street with a street car line should be zoned for commerce.

Any such easy going rule would often give us far more industrial and commercial acreage than the community could use and so nullify the benefits of zoning.

But while the town is created primarily by and for business, yet the purpose of business is to make life better worth living. It provides the wealth by which we purchase the things that add to the fullness and joy of life: pleasant homes, education, recreation. Business therefore can not afford to spoil the things which it buys. That would be defeating its own purpose.

Protects Investments
Zoning recognizes this and so safeguards our home districts, our schools, from being spoiled by the intrusion of injurious occupations. It recognizes the social and the economic value of investment in homes and it stabilizes the financial value of residence districts.

It makes them better long time investments both for the workingman who buys a cottage and the wealthy man who buys a mansion by protecting them against the blight of a misplaced factory or store. For the location of a factory or store in a residence district has much the same effect upon those who have invested their money in homes that the selfish automobile speeder has upon other users of the highways, makes them panic, prone to believe that they have ventured upon something uncertain and unsafe.

The same is true of the distinction zoning draws between commercial and industrial districts. Each has its particular needs and each may be injuriously affected by intrusion of the other. But commerce is more likely to be injured by manufacturing than is manufacturing by commerce.

So zoning bars manufacturing from commercial districts. On the other hand dwellings may prove a very real handicap to industries by interfering with their expansion, by raising questions of public health and welfare. So recent zoning codes are barring dwellings from industrial districts.

Stabilizes Values
Zoning then tends to stabilize real property values to make them better investments. It is good effect in this way is most marked in residential districts, but it is also notable in commercial and industrial districts. In the commercial and industrial districts it also brings order out of confusion—in those fortunate towns which zone themselves early it prevents the development of confusion. It treats a town as a great manufacturing concern treats its plant, placing each unit where it will be most efficient.

In a large modern manufacturing plant the greatest care is taken to place each shop or unit so that the product in process may go from one to the next, over the shortest, possible route and without crossing other lines of transportation. Care is also taken to locate different units so that one will not handicap the other.

The office is not placed next to the foundry, the noise and dirt of which will drown conversation and smudge all the letters and literature the firm sends out. Zoning applies the same principles to the whole town.
