SHOULD RIVERTON HAVE A PLAYGROUND?

The proposed appropriation of $2700 and Councilman Francis B. Elwell's tentative plans for the improvement of Memorial Park, has focused attention on Riverton's public playground. Mr. Elwell's plan contemplated two possible courses of procedure. One was to spend a portion of the $2700 on playground equipment and the balance for a supervisor, caring for the park, etc.

The other was to issue bonds for a more comprehensive plan of improvement and development to be carried out at once, and use a portion of the $2700 for interest and sinking fund. In either case the sum expended this year cannot exceed the $2700 in the budget.

As to the necessity for equipping the park as a playground for children there seems to be some diversity of opinion. Those who are opposed to it claim Riverton cannot afford it at this time, that there is no need for a public playground in a country town, and that children do not have to be taught how to play.

As one man puts it: "You might just as well teach fishes to swim as children to play."

These arguments, while doubtless sincere, probably grow out of personal memories or observations of the free play of a few country children in wide open spaces.

They do not take into consideration the obstacles and difficulties which children in towns as suburban as Riverton face while trying to play.

The increasing number of automobiles has made playing in the street exceedingly dangerous.

The police department attempted to meet the situation recently by roping off certain streets during the afternoon to give the boys and girls an hour in which they could roller skate, in safety. But this is a makeshift at best.

Last year 7000 children were killed by automobiles and trucks in the United States.

Riverton has been more fortunate than some other places. Yet two young lives have been snuffed out on its public highways within the last few years.

Those opposed to improving the park are planning to attend the budget hearing tonight in force. Council will meet in the old bank building.

If you are in favor of improving the park and providing a safe playground for the children, attend the meeting and take a friend with you.

The Mayor and Council should have your support in this worthy project.

K. of C. CARD PARTY IS BIG SUCCESS

Hundred Prizes Given Players; Vau-deville Show at Next Big Event

Over two hundred adults enjoyed the card party in the K. of C. Hall last Friday night, and one hundred prizes of various kinds were distributed.

A committee headed by R. J. Woods is now actively engaged arranging for the next big event. An all star professional vaudeville show of six acts followed by a dance is scheduled for Saturday night, March 1. Musical numbers, songs and jokes make up the interesting program, and Palmyra's newest orchestra headed by Stanley Black will furnish the rhythm for the dancers.

A lecture on "Canada Beautiful" will be given in the K. of C. Hall on March 4 by the well-known Dan McGowan. Everybody welcome and everything free.

Mrs. Emma Hoff

Mrs. Emma Hoff, seventy-three years old, of 815 Parry avenue, died Tuesday night.

Funeral services will be held from the late residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30 with the Rev. J. William Lee, of the Epworth M. E. Church officiating. Interment in Morgan Cemetery, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mrs. Hoff is survived by four children, Edward and Emma Hoff, of Palmyra, William Hoff, of Trenton, and Mrs. George Crowl, of Drexel Hill, Pa. Friends may call at the house Friday evening.

LUNCHEON

A sewing day and 25-cent luncheon will be held on Monday, February 10th, in the Birch Club Building. Come sew, and bring your friends with you!

CURRENT EVENTS

The next meeting of the Current Events Class will be on Tuesday, February 11, at 10 a. m., at the Riverton Public Club. Please note change of time.

FATHERS' NIGHT

Mark February 17th with a red ring. It will be the annual Fathers' Night at the Riverton School. Mr. Elwell is in charge and is preparing a fine program, with a splendid speaker and some extra surprise features. Remember the date, February 17th, and watch for further announcements.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank all who so kindly remembered us and helped us in our recent bereavement.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR MEMORIAL AT LAKEHURST

Commander William W. Edel Discusses Project at Special Legion Meeting

DRIVE FOR FUNDS TO START SUNDAY

Signatures of All Donors to be Preserved in Autographic Library

Commander William W. Edel spoke very forcibly Tuesday night at the Legion Home on the subject of the Memorial Chapel "The Cathedral of the Air" before a gathering of Legionnaires, members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and citizens of Palmyra and Riverton who are interested in the Post Memorial Chapel project, outlined by Commander Edel, started as a place to worship for the personnel of the Naval Air Station at Lakehurst. At the Department Convention at Elizabeth last year it was unanimously accepted and the Memorial Chapel Association given the task of securing funds and erecting the building.

Lakehurst was selected for several reasons as the most suitable spot in the State for this memorial. Probably the most important was the fact that such a great number of veterans, especially those from distant States, come to Lakehurst every day to see the Los Angeles and the bombers.

To House Largest Airship

The Los Angeles is America's largest airship and the hangar is the largest single span building in the world. A memorial generally is for something that has passed, but the "Cathedral of the Air" looks also to the future. Progress in aviation is inevitable. Lakehurst will soon house one of the two largest dirigibles in the world. They are being constructed at Akron, Ohio, and when completed in July, 1930, one will be assigned to this station. This will draw even larger visitations than at present.

The fact that this memorial is dedicated to pioneers of aviation and the boys who lost their lives in the air service of our country during the World War, is another reason why Lakehurst was selected. The fact that in an open air meeting can be held where thousands can be accommodated on the landing field, the largest in the world, added to the reasons for selecting this spot. The United States Government donated the ground and will keep the Chapel in perpetual upkeep, when completed.

Much Publicity

Commander Edel went to great lengths to show the interest the press has taken, and the publicity it has given this great movement, absolutely free of charge. He read an article from "Time" one of the foremost news magazines, the instructor of anyone wishing to do so to send their contributions to Bayard R. Craft, 525 Cooper street, Camden, N. J. Mr. Kraft is treasurer of the American Legion Memorial Chapel Association. It is very seldom that a magazine will go so far in their enthusiasm. Practically all of the weekly magazines or periodicals of our churches either have had or will have articles in favor of the plan. All the religious heads of the churches in New Jersey have given Commander Edel written statements of their support and many have asked their subscribers to bring the message to their congregations.

The Literary Digest will have an article in the next issue. The Herald-Tribune, of New York City, had a front column, two columns, headed last Monday's issue. Our own local papers have given insistent space in advocating the Chapel.

Non-Sectarian

The real reason for such unanimous support may be due to the fact that this will be the first time a place of worship has been constructed that is non-sectarian and adaptable for services of any religious body, whether it be the Protestant, Catholic or Jewish. Some have offered their support because of this.

BIRTHDAY BANQUETS

K. of C. Will Celebrate Washington and Lincoln Birthdays, February 12

Following the custom of a number of years, the Knights of Columbus of the county, including Merchantville, will hold a banquet commemorating the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln at the Community House, Moorestown, on Wednesday, February 12 at 7:30 p. m.

The Grand Knights representing the councils comprising this district, asking their members to attend, and as this affair includes both members and their ladies, the usual large attendance is looked forward to. Speakers from Pennsylvania and New Jersey will make the principal addresses, while Jimmie Loughran and his entertainers put on their offerings after the banquet, the guests will dance to music rendered by a well known orchestra.

Reservations may be made by applying to Adolph Strohm, G. K. Thomas, McCosron, George J. Porter or Joseph F. Yearly.

K. of C. CADETS GET NEW EQUIPMENT

Palmyra-Riverton Unit Outfitted with Drums and Bugles; Uniforms Next

The Columbus Cadet Corps sponsored by St. Joseph's Council, K. of C. is now the proud possessor of its newly purchased drums, bugles, etc. The boys have raised the necessary funds through their own individual efforts, without any contributions or other solicitations, by running a show the early part of last year and a card party held in December, which was well patronized by their many friends.

Instructions to the boys are now under way, under the direction of Captains Andrew J. Pfaff and Joseph D'Autrechy, assisted by William J. Eck and Joseph V. Yearly.

This use of the K. of C. Hall has been given to the boys for every Friday night.

NEW SCHOOL BAND RENDERS CONCERT

Palmyra Pupils Show Remarkable Progress After Few Lessons

Palmyra's new school band, organized and trained under the supervision of the Henton-Knecht organization, gave its first concert in the High School auditorium Wednesday evening of last week, despite the fact the boys had only eight lessons and none of them ever played an instrument before.

The director, Mr. Henton, stressed that he wished to demonstrate by the concert how it was actually possible to take boys without previous experience and train them in so short a time to play harmoniously together. After the concert the parents and friends of the band members who attended were quite convinced and all marveled at the progress the boys had made.

Mr. Henton led the band through the various steps by which it had progressed and it was truly remarkable how well his proteges responded. After the rendition of several numbers, which, though simple, showed beyond any doubt that the band was well on its way, the concert concluded with a well-played "America."

A second series of lessons at very reasonable rates is now in progress and Mr. Henton predicts the school band will be able to lead parades and give open air concerts by summer time.

FOUR INJURED IN ACCIDENT AT DELAIR

Trolley Strikes Auto as It Backs Out of Driveway; Palmyra Police Called

Four persons were injured when a Trenton-bound trolley car struck the automobile of William F. Duffield, 21, of 9446 River road, Delair, while the car was endeavoring to enter the driveway in front of Duffield's home Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Florence Sutton, one of the passengers in the machine, is in the Cooper Hospital, suffering paralysis of the legs.

Her husband, Russell Sutton, 21, of 8330 River road, is also in Cooper Hospital under treatment for a probable fracture of the shoulder. Their son, Russell, Jr., 2, escaped with minor bruises.

Duffield's wife, Elizabeth, 18, is believed to have suffered a fracture of the skull. She was given emergency treatment by Dr. Francis Voorhis, Palmyra, and rushed to the West Jersey Homeopathic Hospital, Duffield escaped with bruises and minor lacerations.

The Palmyra police were called and took charge.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

"SPIRIT" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 9, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "Not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, said the Lord of Hosts" (Zechariah 4:6).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth" (John 4:24).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spirit being God, there is but one Spirit, for there can be but one infinite and therefore one God" (p. 234).

The first of a series of Stag Pinocchies will be held by Independence Fire Company of Palmyra, in the fire house next Tuesday evening. Worthwhile prizes for high scores. Tickets 50 cents. 8:30 p. m. Refreshments served.

SLEEPING CHILDREN

Children should sleep alone. If from necessity two must sleep together, put a long pillow between them and it will be almost like separate beds.

OTOOLE SPEAKS AT CLUB MEETING

Towns Won't Lose Money Through Operation of Public Service Buses

Members of the Bevel-Edge Club at their dinner-meeting last Thursday night in the American Legion Hall, Beverly, were addressed by two prominent speakers.

W. B. T. Colkitt, Burlington county commissioner of the American Legion and John L. O'Toole, vice-president in charge of public relations, Public Service Corporation, were the speakers. Over fifty members attended the meeting. Alexander C. Ferguson presided at the meeting.

In his address Commander Colkitt told about the plans of the American Legion for the construction of a "Cathedral of the Air" at Lakehurst, New Jersey.

Mr. O'Toole confined his remarks largely to the activities of the Public Service Corporation and the part they are playing in developing Burlington county and other portions of the State which they serve. He declared that since the corporation was organized it had, through its operating companies, expended about $375,000 for the development of electric, gas and local transportation facilities, and added that its construction budget for this year alone amounted to $42,000,000.

The speaker went on to say that the territory served by the Public Service Corporation included only about one quarter of the area of the State, yet in that area there were about eighty per cent. of the total population and about ninety-five per cent. of the State's industries. Of the latter, he added, about ninety-five per cent. of the individual plants depend upon Public Service Electric and Gas Company for the energy which operates their machinery. He also referred to the increasing use of gas as fuel for industrial processes.

Speaking of the local transportation situation, Mr. O'Toole said the problem is not peculiar to New Jersey and some experiences of other companies in other cities. He went on to say that the situation in this part of the state was somewhat chaotic because of lack of regulation and control of interstate bus operation.

Owners of interstate buses, he pointed out, do not have to secure local permits, nor do they pay franchise taxes to the municipalities through which they operate. On the other hand, the intrastate buses, and the street railways must secure local permits and pay to the municipalities five per cent. of their gross receipts.

Touching upon the permit recently granted to the Public Service for the operation of buses through the river-front communities, the speaker said that no loss of revenue would come to those communities through the operation of buses as the company would have to continue paying the five per cent. of the gross receipts whether the money came from car riders or bus riders. He explained the matter in which the taxes are assessed and paid and pointed out that it was the revenue from the character of the vehicle which will determine how much each community would be entitled to. At the conclusion of his address the speaker was given a rising vote of thanks.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

(By Furman Wood)

Camp 23 quitted team 13 games, the "Beetle Boys" from Moorestown 12 games, tells the story of a hard fought contest held on the 3rd. The "Lab" sent over a bunch of fine fellows who gave the local team a good run for the bacon. A return match is promised in the near future.

Baseball between our own teams is the attraction for February 10. Harry Saar, George Semple and George Fichter have been selected to organize a branch of the Pioneers of America.

Boys over twelve years and under sixteen are eligible to join this organization; after reaching sixteen the boys may, if they desire, graduate into the camp.

The County Association will meet at Pennington, on February 12, to complete arrangements for the county class initiation at Mount Holly February 22.

Our meeting on February 17 will be open to the public. Theodore D. Gottlieb the speaker is a national recognized authority on his chosen subject, "Radical and Subversive Movements in America." Those who attend this meeting will receive up-to-date, authentic information about matters that are challenging the serious thought of patriotic citizens.

LEGION AUXILIARY

Members of the Legion Auxiliary of Post Frederick M. Rodgers, who desire to attend the banquet to be held at Burlington Monday evening, in honor of Department President, Mrs. J. Tredell Wyckoff, please note that the bus will leave the Legion Home at 6:45 p. m. Everyone is urged to be on hand promptly at this hour. Don't forget the card party which will be held next Wednesday evening, in the Legion Home. The public is invited.

PICK COMMITTEES FOR CHARITY BALL

Dr. Remer General Chairman of Event at Mount Holly February 14

Committees for the sixth annual Charity Ball of Mount Holly Lodge of Elks were announced last week by Dr. Daniel F. Remer, chairman of the general committee. The groups have already started functioning and preparations for the biggest affair of its kind ever held in Mount Holly are being made. The ball will be staged at the Mount Holly Armory on February 14.

Invitations for the annual event are being sent out this week by the committee in charge of Charles Coles, and acceptances are expected to be sent in soon. As it is expected that the entire proceeds from the ticket sale will be donated to the Elks' crippled children fund, a generous response is looked for by the committee.

The usual features of the annual ball will be seen this year when the doors open on the nights of February 14. The armory hall will be beautifully decorated, the committee having charge of this being under the direction of Pierre H. Stanton, who has been chairman of this group for several years. Music will be under the committee headed by Albert O'Hare. The supper, which is the feature of the Charity Ball, is being planned for by a big committee headed by Samuel C. Fenimore, and a tasty repast is assured. Henry B. Wright is chairman of the door committee. Fred M. Moon heads a special Elks' committee, while Captain John M. Thompson is chairman of the armory committee. W. Roland Warrick is chairman of both the patroness and reception committees.

PORCH CLUB NEWS

A Covered Dish Luncheon, a very important business meeting, music by the Club Choral, and an informal talk on "Small Gardens" by Mrs. Othman K. Marti formed the program at the Porch Club on Tuesday, February 4. The luncheon was a big success, attended by nearly one hundred members.

Mrs. Henry C. Parrish introduced Mrs. Marti, who in turn encouraged everyone to cultivate a garden in keeping with the property. She discouraged the planning of too many flowers or shrubs. Every yard should boast of a garden of some variety. Make all plans early and be ready for spring when it arrives.

TACONY-PALMYRA BRIDGE ROAD TO PASS UNDER R. R.

Palmyra Loses Fight to Protect Property Owners Along Broad Street

HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT SENDS OFFICIAL NOTICE

Boulevard to be Depressed Five Feet to Go Under Railroad

A notice has been received from the State Highway Department informing the Palmyra Borough Council that the proposed Tacony-Palmyra Bridge entrance boulevard, "S-41," will pass under the Pennsylvania Railroad at West Palmyra.

The matter of this road crossing the railroad has been the subject of much interest by the citizens of Palmyra, most of whom feel that the highway going under will result in an elevated railroad through West Palmyra and later an elevation through the rest of the town.

The Palmyra Councilmen have done everything within their power to have the road pass over the railroad tracks via an overhead bridge, feeling that this would make any elevation necessary and prevent such a move in the future.

They feel that an elevated railroad through any part of town would be very undesirable and be a detriment to property values along Broad street. According to information received the decision of the Highway Department has been made and there is no chance of having it changed.

The plans as presented call for a five-foot depression of West Broad street at the point where it will pass under the tracks. The bridge approach, highway will cross Broad street at right angles at this point. The railroad bridge will be constructed just east of the present West Broad street crossing.

The curve in River road, just south of the present crossing, will be eliminated and the road continued from this point in a straight line to intersect the new boulevard.

The trolley tracks will not cross over the railroad bridge, but will be rebuilt along the new grade of Broad street.

A temporary road will be built from the curve in River road to Public Road to take care of traffic while the railroad bridge is under construction. This road will be just south of the Williams' Coal Yard and the Jensen Manufacturing Company.

Bids for the work will be awarded February 18. A year or more is expected to be needed in which to finish the job.

ANNUAL SCHOOL ELECTION, FEB. 11

Next Tuesday night the annual school meeting and election of members of the Board of Education will be held in the school house. The public will open at 7 o'clock and remain open until 9 and as much longer as may be necessary to permit all voters to cast their ballots. Three vacancies are to be filled.

Those who have announced their candidacy are: Richard D. Barclay, Ross Mattis, Sherman L. Warren and H. L. Unland.

Hilton Smith was mentioned as a candidate, but up to this meeting had not definitely decided.

ENTERTAINMENT

A vaudeville show and dance will be presented under the auspices of Covenant Chapter, O. E. S., Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock, in the P. O. S. of A. Hall.

The entertainment will include an artistic dancing act, by Mrs. Alexie Tomes and her dancing girls, vocal solos by Mrs. Stanley Lippincott, a monologue by Miss Thelma Jones, and a minstrel show by the Ladies of the Chapter.

Dancing will commence at 10:30 and continue until twelve o'clock.

RIVERTON BOY HONORED

Edward P. Bordon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard D. Bordon, was recently honored at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, by being elected to Eta Kappa Nu, a national honorary electrical engineering fraternity. An initiation honorary banquet was held in honor of the new members, six in number. Bordon is in his Junior year at Lehigh. He also belongs to Pi Mu Epsilon, an honorary mathematics fraternity to which he was pledged in his Sophomore year. He is a graduate of Palmyra High School.

HYGIENE NURSE MORE EFFICIENT

State Department Finds Com- bination Hygiene and School Nurse Satisfactory

The position of the Palmyra Board of Health in the controversy regarding the hygiene nurse is well explained by the State Health Department through a statement recently released.

It points out the difference between a hygiene nurse and a school nurse. A school nurse is not responsible to the Board of Health and in fact under the present arrangement of the school taking over the nurse as reports have been made to the health department of other states or boroughs, and that they have no authority to require reports from her. A school nurse is not a hygiene nurse, but a hygiene nurse may be employed part time as a school nurse.

The position of Mr. Mercurio is explained in the following statement:

There are many reasons for a hygiene nurse in a school. The hygiene nurse is not responsible to the Board of Health and in fact under the present arrangement of the school taking over the nurse as reports have been made to the health department of other states or boroughs, and that they have no authority to require reports from her. A school nurse is not a hygiene nurse, but a hygiene nurse may be employed part time as a school nurse.

Second, it places the health work under the supervision of a health department which, by training, interest and governmental enactment, is responsible for the health of the city or community. The child hygiene nurse in this way is a quickly available instrument for any special health work which may be required in an emergency and is able to assist, especially well staffed, small departments in carrying out many other projects.

The question of diphtheria prevention through the administration of toxin and antitoxin is a case in point and presents further evidence of the superiority of the continuous child hygiene program over the separate nurse program. In a small community, in which there is a school nurse, there is very little likelihood that there will be sufficient funds available for the establishment of a pre-natal, infant and pre-school nurse. It is possible in such a community to immunize the school children against diphtheria, but with this method prevent diphtheria. From 30 per cent. to 60 per cent. of all the cases of diphtheria occur in the children under school age and three-fifths of the mortality in diphtheria occurs in this period.

Only that program for the prevention of diphtheria will be effective which will succeed in immunizing children before they come to school. With the continuous child hygiene nurse in a community we immediately have an agency which, with the cooperation of the physician, can immunize in this early period.

Third, it points out a much more effective and economic administration. Workers associated with educational departments usually have a vacation amounting to about three months each year, that is, the full two summer months, a week during Christmas, a week during Easter and the week of Saturday. Health workers have only the usual vacation of two to four weeks in the year. In this way the community receives about 30 per cent. more service for the same money when the nurse is under the direction of our Department than when she is under the direction of the Board of Education.

By actual experience, we have learned also, that no matter how much these communities with the educational department subscribe to the idea that effective school nursing is determined by home visiting, the tendency of the principal and the superintendent to occupy most of the nurse's time in the school building. They find that it is a comfort to have a nurse close at hand to do many things which have very little to do with the routine of positive health and the prevention of disease, such as, being on call in case any child were to feel ill or to have an accident. Many nurses spend their time in applying ointment to children with skin troubles or acting as special attendants and police over the heads with pediatric loads. In comparing recently two similar districts, one of which employed a school nurse and the other a child hygiene nurse, we found the school nurse had made 204 home visits during the year, while the child hygiene nurse had made 1,406 home visits.

Speaking of the part of the work which has to do with pre-school children the State Board of Health has this to say: "Strictly speaking, this part of the work of the Child Hygiene Nurse does not come under the province of the Board of Education, as that body can make appropriation only for children in public schools."

WOMEN TO MAKE STUDY OF PRISONS

The Moorestown League of Women Voters will study prisons and other County problems at their regular meeting in the Community House at 3 o'clock on Monday afternoon, February 10.

William H. Heiler, Jr., will present the most outstanding problems in Burlington County. The subject "Prisons" will be discussed by Superintendent Calvin Derick, of the New Jersey State House for Boys.

Miss Elizabeth A. Haines will tell of the visit which a group of Moorestown young people recently made to our County prison.

An invitation is cordially extended to all interested to attend this meeting.

Many Benefit from Training in YMCA Group

The above photograph was taken in 1925 when Edward Sordun was leading a YMCA Group. Several fellows in this picture are well known about Palmyra and Riverton and have been in the "Y" for a great many years. Any one of them will gladly tell what the "Y" means to them.

Seated in the front row is Howard Knight, at present studying at Duke University. "Knights" has been a "Y" member for eight years.

Robert Hartley is second on the chairs. Robert is now at college and has also been in the "Y" for eight years. Robert Young, at present a junior in the Palmyra High School, has been a faithful "Y" member since 1924.

Leon Sloan, the fellow in the center of those seated, is at present studying at Dickinson College, where he is captain of the Freshmen basketball team. James Reeves is Sloan's sidekick at college. Both of these fellows have rounded out 9 years as "Y" members.

one of the dependable centers on the Palmyra High School basketball team. "Bob" has been in the "Y" over seven years. Edson Hicks can easily be recognized on the back row by his smile. Edson is at present studying at Temple. He is also the secretary of the Calvary Group which meets in the Methodist Church Monday evenings. Edson was one of the original members of the Calvary Group and is rounding out nine years as an active member.

James Crawford and Charles Codrington have both proven the value of the training secured in the groups of the YMCA by acting in the past as leaders for other such groups.

The original members of this group were the first boys of Palmyra and Riverton to become members of the YMCA. The popularity of this organization and its real worth is easily recognizable when one stops and considers the need that must be met by these groups when fellows would stay in them for long consecutive years.

There are now ten such groups in Palmyra and Riverton, meeting one night each week under Christian leadership, carrying out a real program of Bible study, life problem discussions and instructive games. During the week of February 17-25 the Christian men and women of Palmyra and Riverton will have an opportunity to share in this work by contributing to the upkeep of the local building for the coming year.

It should be borne in mind that this is the YMCA finance campaign for the local YMCA and our own boys and should not be confused with the drive by the Burlington County Council of Boy Scouts of America. All the money raised by this campaign will go for local use.

Look in the local papers next week for actual photographs of this years work and an itemized budget.

The boys of Palmyra-Riverton are looking to you, Christian men and women, to support this Young Men's Association so they may have the opportunities offered by the program carried on here to develop a better man.

The regular meeting of the "Fresh" H-Y Group was held Tuesday evening in the "Y" building, under the leadership of Mr. Schaefer.

The group was called to order by the president, Lloyd Gleason, and closed in prayer by George Fisher. This was followed by the regular Bible study.

The meeting was then adjourned and everybody piled into the gym to watch the basketball team mock the box and take over Clover's All Stars to the tune of 24-21 with the "Fresh" on the top end of the score.

The boys played a fine game, Howard Ratic and Harold Warner led the score with eight points apiece, while Captain Ed Friberg and Joseph Dietz were at the guard positions playing their usual fine defensive game.

The team had a discouraging start in the season losing the first games by narrow margins, but you are urged to keep your eyes on them now that they are started.

GEORGE FISHER, Reporter

The regular weekly meeting of the Friendly Indians, boys 9 to 11 years of age, who are members of the Palmyra-Riverton YMCA, was held in the "Y" building, Tuesday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Leonard R. Baker, Jr. Herbert Horton led in prayer. Mr. Carter then talked to us on the useful, Christian life led by this great American.

Melvin Cooper, the secretary, then read the minutes of the last meeting. Dues were collected by the treasurer, Jack Boeneller.

Under the matter of business it was decided that initiations should be held on Tuesday, February 11. There are several fellows who are initiated and the old members are looking forward to a real time when these fellows "ride the goat" go through the paddles and several other ordeals more or less secret to the members of this group.

As soon as the weather clears and it is warm enough we are planning to go on a "doggy roast" in "Dead Man's Woods."

Our membership now totals 25 fellows and there is still room for a few more fellows of the right age to join. Come to the YMCA any Tuesday afternoon at 4 p. m.

LONG EAGLE GROUP

The regular weekly meeting of the Long Eagle YMCA Group was held at the "Y" Building Saturday evening.

As soon as we had gathered in the loft, Paul Gueat, our president, called the meeting to order and the secretary's minutes were accepted with one addition.

Mr. Carter, our leader, led us in prayer and Bible study, after which the usual old and new business was discussed. Our meeting was then adjourned and we went to the Methodist gym for basketball practice.

Teams were chosen and the game began. Before the first quarter was up a fairly good score had been accumulated by both teams. In the first half Mr. Carter illustrated various valuable plays, which we used (not wholly successfully) in the remainder of the game.

MIDWINTER INSTITUTE HELD AT BURLINGTON

Burlington County Woman's Christian Temperance Union held mid-winter institute in the Broad Street Methodist Church at Burlington, on Tuesday. This was an all-day session. In the afternoon the Rev. A. C. Brady, pastor of the convention church, delivered an address on "Law Enforcement." The institute was also entertained by a playlet given by the Young People's Branch, called "The Modern Y. P. B."

Miss Maud M. Aldrich, National Director of Motion Pictures, was a speaker at the evening session; Mrs. Nina O. Frantz, State president, who was the scheduled speaker, relinquished her time to Miss Aldrich.

A very large attendance marked this institute.

TELLS SCOUTS OF KLONDIKE RUSH

Palmyra Baker Tells of His Ex- periences in Gold Fields of Alaska

Last Thursday evening Troop No. 2, of the Palmyra Boy Scouts, held the weekly meeting, at which time the subject of reorganizing a First Aid team came up for consideration.

Heretofore the Palmyra Scouts First Aid team has held the championship of Burlington county, and as the members of that team have reached the age where they become ineligible, possible aspirants were tried out who give promise of being able to maintain the standing of the team in the county.

Troop No. 1 also had been invited to attend this meeting as the main feature of the program was a talk given by Mr. Hammer, of the Palmyra bakery, regarding his experiences in the early rush to the gold fields of the Klondike.

"The Klondike Pioneers"

Mr. Hammer turned his subject "The Klondike Pioneers" and stated that his brother and himself while conducting a milk route in Kensington district of Philadelphia, heard of the gold discovery in the Klondike region, and selling out their business went to Seattle where they proceeded to outfit themselves for the advance into the gold fields.

This outfit consisted of 300 pounds of flour, 300 pounds of bacon, 600 lbs of flour in 50 pound sacks, 300 pounds of dried fruits, together with other necessary supplies weighing to a total of 3500 pounds.

At that time Seattle was filled with all types of men and the saloons, dance halls and gambling houses were doing a tremendous business.

Losses and Tickets

After having secured passage and stowed their outfit on board a vessel heading for Alaska, also including a third man in their party, his brother, who had the passage tickets in a wallet in his pocket, found that someone had picked his pocket, thereby relieving them of their passage to Alaska.

After a survey of their remaining finances, it was discovered that there was seventy-two dollars between them, and as passage rates were thirty-five dollars a person, it was decided that the brother would remain in Seattle until he was able to secure money, and follow later.

After arriving at the end of the voyage, their hardships began to be earned. Crowded river boats on the Yukon, the securing of work as baker in the settlement at the head of navigation, to enable them to buy seeds to transport overland their supplies, all combined to increase their difficulties.

Arrive in Klondike

Finally at the end of months of laborious travel, and narrow escapes they arrived in the Klondike region, staked out a claim and took out $300 in gold. They sold their claim to a company formed to mine by the aid of dredges, and this company uncovered a vein of gold ore that amounted to $1,000,000 dollars.

Mr. Hammer lived in Alaska for 32 years, and believes that it is the most marvelous piece of land that the United States possesses.

He showed specimens of black sand which contained the native gold, also gold nuggets, and native jewelry made with nuggets of gold.

The Scouts were enthralled with Mr. Hammer's talk, and at some future date he will give a further account of his experiences, and will bring exhibits of various articles and nuggets pertaining to the Klondike region.

KENTUCKY RAMBLERS AT WALT WHITMAN

Conrad Nagle in "The Thirteenth Chair" Feature Photoplay: Exceptional Vaudeville Burlesque of Week

"The Kentucky Ramblers," seven syncretized funsters, with youth, beauty and talent, are headlining the greater vaudeville bill at the beautiful Walt Whitman Theatre Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week, having just closed a very successful tour of the Radio-Kent-Orpheum houses throughout the West. This is their initial engagement in the East.

Manford and Clare, "Wizards of the Dance," open the show with real breezy steps that will amaze and delight. Gladys Shaw, "Importation from Scotland," better known as the man with a 1000 faces and characters, along with Marie Walsh and Frank Ellis, in a comedy, singing and talking skit, entitled "Oh, Yeah," round out this superb vaudeville presentation.

Uncanny journeys into the spirit world, a strange murder mystery in a modern home, with picturesque India as a setting—these are the details of "The Thirteenth Chair." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's fantastic liminalization of the stage play, which will be the feature all-talking photoplay for the end of the week. The cast is an elaborate one, including Conrad Nagle, Margaret Wycherly, Lella Hyams, Holmes Herbert and many other notable stars of the audible screen.

Mother—Better hurry or you'll be late for the party!
Daughter—But, mother, none of us arrive until everybody else is there!

20 DRIVERS FINED $171

There are twenty men who are $171 poorer because they drove along High street, Burlington, Tuesday of last week, without first making certain they were obeying all rules of the motor vehicle department. Inspectors Shinn and Parker, with 12 men, conducted a drive against illegal motorists in Burlington. Their results, as tabulated, showed 20 arrests, with a total taken in fines amounting to $171.

Dr. Headlee will discuss the very important changes that will be made in the apple spray schedule for this year.

A substitute for nicotine that is much cheaper in price.

Changes in the recommendations for the control of codling moth.

The present status of pine oil.

And the use of colloidal sulphur, are some of the subjects that will be discussed at this meeting.

At future meetings A. J. Farley will discuss "Orchard Fertility, Lime, Fertilizers, Cover Crops."

L. R. Smith, Associate County Agent, will discuss "Some of the lessons that can be learned from a study of orchard management records secured over a three-year period."

TROOPERS CALLED GOOD INVESTMENT

Police Have Netted State
Three Millions Profit.
Says Schwartzkopf

The New Jersey State Police during the eight years of its existence has been an investment which has netted the taxpayers of the State a profit of approximately three million dollars, Colonel H. Norman Schwartzkopf, superintendent, last week reported to Governor Morgan P. Latsis.

Operation of the organization has cost $3,642,015.47 and it has returned $6,967,815.15, the superintendent stated. He added, appropriations for the department during the fiscal year ended June 30 were $7,010,664.61, and the State and County received a "definite monetary return" of $1,509,264.05.

Colonel Schwartzkopf estimated the return to the State and counties during the eight years period upon funds collected, the value of recovered stolen automobiles, value of confiscated property, property saved from fire and other stolen property recovered, and forfeited bail.

He related that during the last fiscal year the State Police was responsible for collection of $237,015.25 in fines; recovered stolen automobiles valued at $240,000; other stolen property recovered $68,174.35; confiscated property, $814,771.45; property saved from fire, $124,005, and forfeited bail, $22,221.

"Herein," Schwartzkopf asserted, "the first unique feature of the State Police asserts itself, because not only do we make returns in money and property sufficient to twice pay for the cost of the department, but also we extend many phases of service, prevention, protection and security that cannot be computed as to their monetary value; and the facts warrant the statement that the State Police pays for itself a number of times over."

Colonel Schwartzkopf stated the State Police was confronted with a threefold problem, the rural problem, the crime problem and the traffic problem.

Residents of the State's rural areas of more than 7,000 square miles are almost entirely dependent upon the organization for police protection, the Colonel reported.

The service rendered these farmers includes protection against petty and wholesale thievery from malefactors, ranging from passing autos to organized gangs, Schwartzkopf said.

Another phase of the organization's work in the rural area rectified, was the forest fire prevention which has saved vast property from destruction, the Colonel said.

New Jersey's proximity to New York and Philadelphia was pointed to by Colonel Schwartzkopf as an important element in the State's crime problem.

He said: "All manner of crimes are committed in this State where the criminals come from out of State for the purpose of committing their crime immediately endeavoring to leave the State again." In addition, the Colonel stated, there was the "so-called crime wave" and "ordinary criminal activities" to contend with.

The traffic problem was ever growing, the superintendent reported. The increased number of automobiles, improvement of State highways and construction of tunnels and bridges connecting with New York and Pennsylvania were recited as elements contributing to the difficulties met in dealing with this problem.

To picture the increased demands for service from the State Police, Colonel Schwartzkopf pointed out the number of arrests made by the organization during the last fiscal year was 18,140 compared with 5,300 the year the department was created. Another example cited was receipt of 17,000 complaints requiring investigation compared with 2,700 the first year.

During the fiscal year ended June

WILL CELEBRATE BOY SCOUT WEEK

Saturday Next Will Open Seven Day Program of Var- ied Activities

Boy Scout Week, which is the anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, will be celebrated commencing next Saturday and ending the following Friday.

The Palmyra Boy Scout Councilors Association, comprised of a number of the nearest Palmyra who have the interest of the Boy Scout movement at heart, has arranged a most interesting program of events throughout this week, to be participated in by the Palmyra Boy Scouts, and is as follows:

Saturday at 8:15 p. m. Reorganization by all the Scouts to be held in front of the P. O. S. of A. Hall.

Sunday at 7:30 p. m. All Scouts will assemble at the Methodist Episcopal Church to attend church services at 7:45 p. m. Sermon by the Rev. J. William Lee.

"Scouts in the School"

Monday will be observed as "Scouts in the School."

Tuesday will be observed as "Scouts in the Home."

Wednesday will be observed as "Scouts in the School, High School Program."

Thursday at 6:00 p. m. In the annual Father and Son banquet will be held in the Baptist Church. Mr. Richard E. Wilson will be toastmaster, the Rev. George Lockett will offer the invocation, and the Rev. J. William Lee will offer the benediction.

There will be community singing led by J. Horace Finney and Alfred Vahnestrom. Music will be furnished by the Palmyra Boy Scout orchestra.

Fathers and Sons

All fathers with their Scout sons, also with sons of Scout age who as yet are not Scouts, and fathers of non-Scouts are cordially invited to attend, by members of the dinner committee.

Tickets can be secured from N. B. Beckley, 608 Highland avenue, Palmyra. Phone Riverton 808.

Immediately following the banquet at 8:00 p. m. the Court of Honor will be held, opened with invocation Service and followed with presentation of Veteran Scout Badges, and Merit Badges for Scouts. Those who will comprise this Court of Honor will be the Rev. J. William Lee, the Rev. George Lockett, C. W. Davidson, Thomas VanOsten, Frank A. Snover, and Harold B. Lever. The public is cordially invited to attend.

There will be exhibits of handcraft, and Scout endeavors.

Scout Mobilization

Friday, between 6 and 8 p. m. there will be a Scout mobilization. At some unknown time between the hours stated a huge call will be given as a signal to all Scouts to mobilize in the shortest time possible at the American Legion Home, to demonstrate their ability to handle some assumed emergency situation.

It is hoped that the public will show its interest in the Boy Scout movement by attending the activities during the week.

MOSQUITO FIGHTERS PLAN ATLANTIC CITY MEETING

Two women are among the speakers listed for the seventeenth annual meeting of the New Jersey Mosquito Extermination Association, scheduled for Atlantic City on February 13, 14, and 15. Mrs. Helen M. Prickett, of Metuchen, chairman of the mosquito committee, New Jersey State Federation of Women's Clubs, will discuss the value of educating the public in the mosquito control movement, and Mrs. J. LeClare Bhedaker, a member of the Burlington Mosquito Control Committee, will report on the campaign conducted in Burlington.

30, 16,000 convictions resulted from the 18,416 arrests made, the Colonel stated. The fact members of the department issued 25,265 warnings, indicates the conservation of the members in making arrests.

GIRL RESERVES AT CONFERENCE

Burlington County Has Eleven Representatives at Sessions in Washington

Eleven Burlington County Girl Reserves attended the High School Girl Reserve mid-winter conference at Washington, D. C., January 31 and February 1 and 2.

One of the outstanding features of the conference was the excellent work done in music under the guidance of Miss Lucy Street, National YWCA Music Secretary, and Mrs. Edwin B. Parker, National YWCA Music Chairman.

The girls felt that the vocational talks on "Finding My Place" was most valuable. These were given by Hon. Florence P. Kahn, representative from California; Miss Hope K. Thompson, international lawyer; Mrs. Minnie-ode Andrews, author; Dr. K. G. Symonds, child specialist; Mrs. Wilson Compton, home maker, and contained information helpful to girls in making their choice of vocations.

During the Girl Reserve Program Hour on Saturday morning there were interesting discussions on Hobbies, Program-Planning and Membership, one of which was led by Dorothy Gehhart, Burlington County Girl Reserve Secretary, assisted by Elita Cook, president of the Medford High School Girl Reserve Club.

At the international banquet on Saturday evening, Madame Camillo Oslas, wife of the resident commissioner from the Philippine Islands, was the speaker.

Dr. Z. Barney Phillips, Chaplain United States Senate, was the speaker at the closing service on Sunday afternoon.

Burlington County delegates were: Elita Cook, Medford; Sarah McFadden, Moorestown; Dorothy Donnelly, Mary West and Rose Moran, Bordentown; Alma Reed, Chesterfield; Ruth Stevens, Elizabeth; Minnie and Dorothy Kirby, Columbus; Florence Warner and Edna Zollinsky, Beverly; and Dorothy Gehhart, of the County YWCA.

Camp Reunion

Have you ever attended YWCA Camp Ockanickon? If so, whether you are a counselor or a camper, this announcement is intended for you.

Camden County girls are inviting all former campers to join them in a reunion held at the Camden YWCA, 565 Stevens street, on Friday evening, February 7, at six o'clock. Bring sneakers if you care to play basketball.

Margaret Wickertman will preside and Mrs. Roy Clement will be in charge of games.

Anyone planning to go please telephone reservation to the Burlington County YWCA office, Mount Holly, at once, for an international dinner party. The banquet for YWCA business girls in many countries, on February 18, will extend hands across the sea.

Burlington County girls will hold their banquet seven o'clock at the First Methodist Episcopal Church at Mount Holly. Tickets may be secured from Sidonia Schafer, at the County YWCA office, or the following girls: Helen Jones, Helen Pitko, Mae Hawkey and Florence Logan, of Burlington; Elizabeth Wills, Beverly; Anna Sandelin, Bordentown; Lila Reed, Florhise; Mary Jane Flick, Lenola; Charlotte Roberts and Mrs. Kate Bonds, Moorestown; Beatrice Shadell, Helen Barbee, Sara Crozier and Alice Rowan, Mount Holly; Marcella Bowen, Riverton; Mrs. Bessie Rhin, Rancocas; and Emma Fenton, of Willingboro.

Miss Miller to Speak

The program committee for the mother-daughter banquet of Moorestown YWCA is exceedingly fortunate in securing as the principal speaker for the occasion, Miss Hannah Pennock Miller, chairman of the Pennock Branch of the YWCA, of Philadelphia.

Miss Miller's subject has not yet been announced but those who know her devotion to YWCA ideals are assured that she will bring an inspirational message which will long be remembered by the young women of Moorestown district.

OVER-PRODUCTION ON FARMS IS SEEN

Farmers Warned Lower Prices Anticipated as Consumer Demand Drops

The New Jersey agricultural outlook report for 1930 urges farmers of the State to adjust their production and marketing programs to meet a probable over-production of some farm products, and a relatively low consumer demand for at least the first six months of the year.

This annual outlook report is prepared by W. F. Knowles, extension economist for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, and its purpose is to provide information upon which farmers of the State may plan their production activities for the present year. It was released locally recently by Charles A. Thompson, Burlington County Agricultural Agent.

Increases in the acreages of crops, and in the numbers of dairy animals and poultry kept on farms, has gone on to such an extent that over-production in at least some of these products is expected, according to the outlook report. This situation, coupled with a lowered consumer demand, the report further states, "will tend to pile up farm products and lower prices of a great many of them."

For the poultryman, the report foresees prospects of lower feed prices, a consumer demand for eggs equal to that of 1929, and prices of broilers and cull fowls no higher than the levels of last year.

A reduction in both the price of milk and dairy feeds is forecast in the dairy outlook, and also a decrease in the price of dairy cows. Potato growers are warned that a general increase in plantings of 6 per cent. over last year's total may be expected, and that keen competition from Southern States may continue.

SENATOR POWELL AGAINST INCREASING COURT PAY

Senator Clifford R. Powell stated last week that he is unalterably opposed to the proposal to increase the salaries of the highly-paid judiciary of the State by attaching about $140,000 to the State's payroll for the benefit of the Chancery and Supreme Court judges. This matter came out in concrete form last week and Governor Larson put his foot on it in a manner that would indicate hard sledding for the measure in the present Legislature. Senator Powell also said that there is no chance for favorable action, so far as he can find out from those with whom he is associated in legislative matters.

DOG SAVES BABY FROM BABOON

How an Alsatian dog rescued a baby boy from a huge baboon has been reported from Bloemfontein, Orange Free State. The baboon, escaping from the city zoo, made toward several children and was about to attack the little son of Dr. Eyber when the child cried out. Dr. Eyber's Alsatian dashed from the house and attacked the intruder. In a terrific fight which followed the dog beat off the larger animal.

HITS TOKENS AND TRAIN REDUCTION

Mount Holly Chamber Opposes Public Service and "Pennsy" Projects

Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce last week went on record as being opposed to the token system of fares recently adopted by Public Service bus lines, and sent a protest against it to the Public Utilities Commission. It is contended that this system is a hardship on a number of passengers who do not ride regularly on the buses, because of being charged double fare unless they buy a number of tokens.

Protest also was entered to a proposal of the Pennsylvania Railroad discontinuing two trains between Mount Holly and Philadelphia when the April change of time table takes place. Instead of having three trains to the city early each morning, it is proposed to have two, which will be a hardship to commuters who must be at work at seven o'clock. The train to be discontinued is that leaving here at 5:27 a. m. and to substitute one at 5:53, which is to take the place of those now leaving at 5:27 and 6:13. Another discontinuance in contemplation is the owl line from Philadelphia at 11:30 p. m.

The sum of $100 was subscribed to the Billy Sunday campaign to be conducted in Mount Holly this spring, and $35 to the setter and pointer dog show and field trials to be held here in April.

NEW TOMATO INSPECTION

An entirely new type of inspection work was inaugurated by the New Jersey Department of Agriculture during the past season which involved the handling of more than 6,000 loads of canner tomatoes. William B. Duryee, Secretary of Agriculture, announced last week. This work was carried on at the Bridgeton plant of the P. J. Ritter Company, and this is the first year in which an official and impartial inspection agency has certified to the quality of New Jersey tomatoes delivered for manufacture. The number of inspections and the volume of tomatoes were undoubtedly larger under this type of inspection than at any individual canning plant in the country.

The New Era is a Legal Newspaper. Commissioners, Sheriffs, and other Sales, Administrators and Executors' Advertisements are solicited. The New Era will appreciate being remembered in this connection.

What Makes Women Buy

It is well known by all live merchants, and by husbands as well, that practically all buying for the home is either actually done by women or directed by them. For this reason the merchant's greatest problem is to attract the favorable attention of women to his wares.

Women are alert to grasp opportunities to secure merchandise at a bargain and they are more discriminating buyers than men, as a rule. They read advertisements and act upon the information obtained thereby.

In order to determine just what advertising mediums have the greatest influence on women's buying a survey recently made by a Los Angeles advertising club, developed some interesting facts. Replies from 1,000 women of all classes were obtained in answer to a questionnaire listing the various advertising mediums and asking what form of advertising influenced them most.

Newspapers were credited with greatest influence by 36 per cent. of these women, magazine advertising by 22 per cent., street car advertising by a fraction over 4 per cent., announcement cards and program advertising by less than 4 per cent., while booklets, pamphlets and circular letters influenced less than 2 per cent.

Thus again is demonstrated what every wide-awake merchant must have already observed—that newspaper advertising is the most potent medium for reaching women buyers. And this applies with equal force to men buyers, too.

Shameful Journalism

Now that the hysteria has died down, all but the most superstitious must realize the foolishness of the recent craze at Malden, Mass., where the grave of an obscure priest, dead 60 years, was said to have worked miraculous cures. Of course, there were no miracles, and no real cures.

To an honest newspaper man, the outstanding fact about the whole pitiful business was the disgraceful part played by certain metropolitan daily newspapers and tabloids. These journals, in their insatiable hunger for the sensational, reported every wild and preposterous tale, printed faked photographs and in every possible manner exploited the credulity of the ignorant for the sake of selling extra papers.

No attempt was made to get at the truth of the situation, or to explain the circumstances which surrounded the alleged miracles. To have done so would have spoiled the golden harvest the first day. Even when reported cures were denied by relatives of persons concerned, the newspapers refused to print the denials.

One decent reporter, Gardner Jackson, made a painstaking investigation of numerous cases and gave the facts in detail, none showing any evidence of a miracle. While the hysteria was still at its height, he wrote:

"The papers go on reporting cures; giving photographs. I've seen some of these photographs being taken—pitifully crippled children being urged to stand without braces before the camera men. I saw one boy collapse twice before he could get up strength to stand before the cameras with his braces in his hand. The Boston newspapers, selling like hot cakes, are trading on the sincere faith of hundreds of thousands of their readers. It is shameful commercial journalism."

Thank heaven, the country press of America, whatever its other shortcomings may be, has never been guilty of such cynical exploitation of ignorance for selfish ends.

Good Roads Economy

It has been frequently asserted that good roads really cost nothing in the long run, but really yield a profit on the investment necessary to provide them. Recent statistics seem to bear out this idea.

According to Thomas P. Henry, president of the American Automobile Association, good roads have reduced the cost of automobile operation from an average of 10 cents a mile to 6.43 cents a mile in the last five years.

This means that for a trip of 100 miles the expense is now $3.57 less than it would have been under average conditions in 1925, taking into account the cost of gasoline, the less wear on cars and tires, and some allowance for time saved.

If these savings are only sufficient to offset additional gasoline and other taxes necessary to build the highways the motorist is still ahead of the game, because of the greater satisfaction and comfort enjoyed while on the road.

Who is Educated

Amidst the confusion among various schools of thought regarding present-day education, it is really difficult to find a satisfactory yardstick with which to measure that elusive individual, the educated man.

Many hold the view that no one is truly educated unless he is familiar with the classics, proficient in several languages living and dead, versed in higher mathematics, and so on. Another school, while recognizing the desirability of a classical education when circumstances permit, denies that the classics have license to lord it over their more practical brethren, or to lay exclusive claims to real education.

In this connection a thought recently expressed by the Boston philanthropist, Edward A. Filene, is pertinent. He declares that "the educated mind today is the mind which best learns how to use the knowledge in existence, particularly those truths which apply to the thing which he is doing."

And that seems to be a very good definition.

CORNSTALKS

Just as the invasion of the European cornborer has put up to every farmer in the corn-growing regions the problem of how to get rid of the cornstalks and hold the pest in check, new inventions for the utilization of this farm waste for making paper and also a substitute for lumber have been perfected.

Now capital in large amount has been subscribed to finance industries which will contract with farmers for their stalks, after harvest, send their own machines into the fields to gather them, and haul them to central points where they will be manufactured into useful products. This will help conserve the forests and will also add to the profits of the corn growers.

GAS

The International Red Cross is preparing for the worst. One of the certainties about the next war on any large scale is that poison gas will be used on a larger scale than ever before. War is no longer an affair of kings and hired armies; it is whole nations against whole nations. The aggressor in the next great war will not wait for the enemy to assemble an army, but will try to wipe out a whole city by dropping poison gas from the clouds.

What the Red Cross is looking for is some means of detecting the most minute trace of poison gas in the air. A prize of $2,000 is offered to the successful inventor. And we call this a civilized world!

EMOTIONS

Anger, fear, worry, especially the latter, kill more people than "real" diseases, according to a report recently made by the New York Academy of Medicine. There is no such thing as overwork, either of body or mind. The body, given sufficient nourishment, will quit of its own accord when fatigue becomes too great, and a night's sleep will put it back into trim again. Probably no human being has ever used his brain to its full capacity. Men who have studied that subject say that most of us use less than a quarter of our power of thought.

But let worry, jealousy, fear of losing one's job, one's money, or one's sweetheart, creep in, and the whole picture is changed. The emotional tension tires both mind and body, which cannot go on without violent stimulation, and the process of decay is hastened. Most of the deaths from heart disease and kidney trouble are the result of emotional tension rather than any real defect in the physical organs.

LIFE

With all the talk about the increased average length of human life, the age of seventy still remains the normal limit for a human being. So Dr. Louis Dublin, medical head of one of the great insurance companies, reports. Only exceptional individuals live beyond 70, and in America the proportion who die between 65 and 70 is increasing. Yet the average American lives longer than those of his father's generation did, much longer than in his grandfather's time. That is because the illnesses which used to kill off babies, children and young people of both sexes are not so prevalent as formerly.

Every American baby born today has a reasonable chance of living to 55, which is the average length of life in this country, as against 48 in most of Europe. But the man who reaches 55 cannot count on more than fifteen years more of life with any degree of certainty, and the chances are that he will pass on in ten years.

COAL

Geologists of the Byrd South Pole Expedition have found coal in Antarctica. Great Britain takes occasion to remind the United States that considerable parts of the land there are under the protection of the British flag. Trouble-makers, especially the sensational newspapers, which prefer war to peace because war is more "newsworthy" are already trying to lay the foundation for international strife.

If we ever do go to war against Great Britain it will be over something far more important than a coal-belt located where the temperature is always below freezing and usually 40 degrees or so below zero. Even if the coal were accessible it would not be worth fighting over. Coal is losing its importance in the economic scheme of things, now that oil has become the principal fuel for the world's navies as well as the merchant marine.

WOMAN RULER OF SARK TO WED

Will the little Island of Sark, in the English Channel, have a man for ruler after all? This is the question being asked by the subjects since the announcement that Mrs. Dudley Beaumont, known as the "Dame of Sark," will shortly marry Robert Woodward Hathaway of London. Mrs. Dudley Beaumont is absolute ruler of the island, which she has governed since the death of her husband two years ago. It is her right to preside over Parliament, known as "Chief Pleas," when it meets three times a year. People of Sark recently voiced the sentiment that they had so greatly enjoyed her rule that they wished her to continue. They especially favor the present law doing away with taxation.

WEEKLY LEGISLATIVE LETTER FROM TRENTON

By CHARLES B. BACON

Decision has been reached by the Republican Joint Conference Committee of the Legislature to direct prompt and serious attention to a revision or revamping of the Civil Service with a view to simplification and more effective administration. That decision having been reached Senator Albert R. McAllister, of Cumberland, has introduced a bill creating a Personnel Board which may assume all the powers and duties of the Civil Service Commission, with such modifications and changes as will meet the objections to and weakness of the present system, to which so much attention has been directed in recent years. The measure may be considerably changed during the process of passage and it is likely that a public hearing will be arranged so that all those interested may have opportunity to air their views and offer such suggestions or objections as they may have.

It is very evident that some changes in the present system are required, but it will take considerable discussion and study to come to a final and satisfactory conclusion as to the best methods of accomplishing the results desired. It had been originally intended to give the proposed new board power over the employment and dismissal of County and municipal employees, but that provision was found to conflict with the existing law and has been eliminated. The bill, adopted during the administration of Governor Fort, in 1908, has been greatly expanded from time to time and is now clothed with rather extraordinary powers. Despite the altruistic theory of the system it has been practically impossible to strip it of political taint and influence. That was shown last year when the Legislature, responding to a demand set up as a result of the disclosures before the McAllister Commission, promptly and by a large majority, eliminated the former board and created an entirely new body. Governor Larson was one of the strong supporters of this move, as were other Republican leaders, who had come into contact with the Board, dominated by the Democrats for several years. The new Board proceeded to do some healthy pruning and moving of establish better regulations, but found itself up against a stiff proposition with the hard and fast legal restrictions encompassing its functions. Now, it is hoped, the proposed Personnel Board, in response to the demand for betterment, will at once organize a more satisfactory system to govern public employment. That, indeed, is the sole purpose of the Republican leaders and they believe they are on the right track.

New Transportation Plans. Steady increase in the flow of traffic through New Jersey from the great centers of population prompts the Legislature to take steps for meeting the demand for transportation facilities. To this end resolutions were adopted providing for the appointment of Commissioners to confer with similar commissions of New York and Pennsylvania with a view to the investigation of the whole subject with suggestions of plans. The New Jersey Commission will be composed of the Governor, the President and two members of the Senate, the Speaker and two members of the Assembly, but it is not provided with any appropriation and not vested with any power for the adoption of any plan or scheme, but only to make a survey for the purpose of determining what steps should be taken for providing traffic facilities in crossing the Hudson and the Delaware rivers. It does seem rather odd that with the Holland Tunnel and the Delaware River Bridge so recently opened to traffic, and the Hudson River Bridge approaching completion, there should arise such pressing demand for additional facilities, but the whole population of the United States seems to be awaked at some parts of the year and certainly New Jersey is not likely to suffer business stagnation while this amazing flow continues to grow.

Efforts were made to block the proposed investigation, but Senator Wolber, the majority leader, clearly showed that it was not intended to commit New Jersey to any expenditure at this time, but only to pave the way for investigation which may solve the traffic congestion problem in the near future.

What may be necessary in the financing scheme is not a question for the present Legislature to consider. That may be left to future sessions to tackle. Senator Richards, of Atlantic, a member of the Abel Investigating Commission, has withdrawn his rather ambitious bill designed to eradicate several State Departments and establish a Department of Finance to take over all their powers. He has another measure as a substitute which somewhat vaguely takes from the State House Commission, the Comptroller and the Treasurer some of the duties they perform in this respect and sets up a new body, somewhat in the nature of his original scheme. These matters, however, get scant attention from the Republican Conference Committee and it is not at all probable that they will go very far.

One of the most serious and important matters for the Legislature to dispose of is that vast scheme of turning itself out of business, overturning most of the departments of the State Government and setting up an entirely new scheme of things which seem so essential to the preservation of peace and happiness within the borders of New Jersey. That appears to be the final deduction necessary to make from the several sections of regular submitted by that $100,000 Institute which discovered so many wrong things in the Government and conduct of the State. Apparently nothing is just right. Nothing seems to fit at all into the scheme of things as viewed by this costly engine of destruction.

Will Take Time. It is quite another thing, however, to put across such an ambitious and revolutionary program laid out for the law-makers. It cannot be achieved all at once. The shock of wiping out this board and that department, this commission and that agency, would be too much like an upheaval of the world in which the average Jersey resident appears to be having a fairly good time. Whether the beautiful bouquet can be made up next year, or the year after that, is quite another story, but most of the leaders in the present session are certain it cannot be done this year.

There is President of the Senate, Arthur N. Piersall, for instance. No man in New Jersey deserves more fully the high opinion held of him by the citizens. Loyal devotion to the general welfare, a high ideal of civic duty and service, a rare capacity for effective effort have placed this man upon a plane of confidence seldom attained by one in public life. Blessed with a knowledge and experience of business that count well for the people upon a public question arouses and holds confidence at once. Speaking of the proposed ripper scheme which includes abolishment of the present Budget Commission, President Piersall said the other night at a convention at the seashore, New Jersey may not have the best sort of budget system according to some schools of practice, but there is nevertheless, that to commend in our present system, that is definite and financially sound. In the Abel Commission report reference is made to the report of the auditors which recites that the State has no true budget and that approximately $22,000,000 was appropriated in the appropriation bill, whereas approximately $75,000,000 was spent.

The Senator riddles that statement with an array of facts and figures that cannot be disputed, showing that only a surface investigation had been made. Then he says: "There would be a reasonable purpose in what may be called a complete budget on a scientific basis, and I hope that such can be arranged, but I cannot accept the general indictment that New Jersey's

"A SMART MAN DOESN'T MAKE THE SAME MISTAKE TWICE, BUT YOU OFTEN HEAR OF A WIDOWER TAKING A SECOND WIFE"

She: "We have been married a week and you come home as late as this."

He: "Yes, my love, it took me all that time to tell the fellows at the club how happy I am."

James: "There goes the old rascal who swindled me out of $50,000." Peter: "How did he do that?" James: "He wouldn't let me marry his daughter."

"I'm going to have a divorce—my husband buried thousands of insulting words at me." "You exaggerate—thousands in two weeks."

"Yes; it was a dictionary."

financial system is not under definite budgetary or appropriation control, as in every instance that I recall, where the funds expended are not stated as appropriations in the annual appropriation bill, such funds are predated or prebudgeted in the act that authorized the levying of the funds."

A good connection on any Long Distance call is like that.

To make it possible, the tiny voice currents are built up every fifty miles or so to make them reach their destination with unabated strength.

The wires are twisted at intervals to avoid interference from paralleling telephone circuits, and dipped underground or raised high in air to dodge heavy power lines. Every means is taken to protect them from moisture, dampness and other would-be seducers of electrical voice currents.

Part of the $160,000,000 telephone construction program in New Jersey in the next five years will be devoted to improved transmission for telephone conversations of New Jersey people, whether they reach across the street, the continent or to Europe.

WASTING TIME

The good physician somehow feels that time is a mighty precious commodity that everybody has, and that it should not be ruthlessly thrown away. To waste time, is to squander something that can never be retrieved. In this short talk, I am trying in my modest way, to tell you my opinion of prodigalities that I have committed with perfectly good intentions, as follows:

I have found it an utter foolishness to tell my lady patient that she should keep her feet warm, and her head cool; in other words, that she should not wrap three hundred dollars worth of fur about her neck, and go in zero temperatures with her legs clad in thin silk stockings, and her feet in ballroom sandals.

And, I have wasted many a word and the time it took to say them, in telling young women that jay-bird heels of astonishing altitude, are most unnaturally freakish, contrary to all laws of common sense—that they will endow coming generations with mental and physical delinquency, if not worse.

On several occasions I have fooled away good advice and the time it took to give it, on the barber that uses a common hair brush on his customers, unquestionably carrying rubbish from diseased scalps to healthy ones. Along with the brush goes the public comb, equally effective in doing harm. May be you could persuade the good public servant to keep a jar of antiseptic solution in which to submerge his crush and comb between customers—I just can't.

I have perhaps, squandered more time against the six o'clock dinner than on any other deadly enemy of our business men; I can only convince, when I am appealed to by a victim of the custom, who comes to me with failing circulation, a threat of apoplexy, shortness of breath, excess of weight, and diseased kidneys—these at the age of fifty or sixty, when man should be as his very best.

When a Boy Knows More Than His Father

Sometimes a boy does know more than his father.

Ours would have been a very different history if Abe Lincoln, age sixteen or so, had been guided by the wisdom of Thomas Lincoln, age thirty-six.

"Now, Abe," we can imagine him saying, "don't waste time readin' them books. Readin' never done me any good, and what was good enough for me's good enough for you."

Lincoln knew more than his father. It was a divine disobedience that led him to close his ears to the man who had brought him into the world, and open his heart to the vision that was to help him conquer the world.

The boy who has not some firm convictions and a willingness to defend them, even against the arguments of those older than himself, is not likely to amount to much.

But there must be convictions, not mere prejudices, not selfish impulses or passions.

I know two men who "knew more" than their fathers.

One boy is the office manager of a large manufacturing concern, and his salary is $40 a week.

"Better go on in school," said his father to him when he was seventeen years old. "Better go to college; better get all the education you can while you have the chance."

"You see that man?" said the president of his concern to me the other day. "There is a man who might have become general manager of this business if he had had a college education. His salary might have been $20,000 a year; instead it's $2,000. He's reached his limit. What a shame that he hasn't education enough to go on."

He "knew more" than his father. And his boyish obstinacy is costing him $18,000 a year.

"Keep yourself clean, my son," said the father of another boy. "You'll never regret it. And some day you'll thank heaven you did."

But the boy knew more than his father. He knew that every young man who is worth his salt must sow his wild oats.

So he sowed right merrily. He came to me the other day. He came to me about getting a job.

I could not give him a job; no man could. God knows what will become of him.

YOUTH is the mainspring of the world.

Its insurgency, its inquisitiveness, its eagerness to try the untried and do the impossible, drives the world forward in spite of the conservatism of age.

Fortunate are those of us who recognize the divine importance of youth's cocksureness and conceit, and yet know how, gently and appreciatively, to temper it with the ripper judgment of added years.

THE DAY IS DONE

By Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

The day is done, and the darkness
Falls from the wings of night
As a feather is wafted downward
From an eagle in his flight.

I see the lights of the village
Gleam through the rain and the mist,
And a feeling of sadness comes over me
That my heart cannot resist:

A feeling of sadness and longing
That is not akin to pain,
And resembles sorrow only
As the mist resembles rain.

Come, read to me some poem.
Some simple and heartfelt lay,
That shall soothe this restless feeling,
And banish the thoughts of day.

Not from the grand old masters,
Not from the bards sublime,
Whose distant footsteps echo
Through the corridors of Time.

For like strains of martial music,
Their mighty thoughts suggest
Life's endless toil and endeavor;
And tonight I long for rest.

Read from some humble poet,
Whose songs gushed from his heart,
As showers from the clouds of summer,
Or tears from eyelids start.

Who, through long days of labor,
And nights devoted to his art,
Still heard in his soul the music
Of wonderful melodies.

Such songs have the power to quiet
The restless pulse of care,
And come like the benediction
That follows after prayer.

Then read from the treasured volume
The poem of thy choice,
And lend to the rhyme of the poet
The music of thy voice.

And the night shall be filled with music,
And the cares that infest the day
Shall fold their tents like the Arabs,
And as silently steal away.

FOR INJURIES IN ACCIDENT

Mrs. Beale Ward, of Medford, was awarded $10,500 by a jury in the Camden County Circuit Court recently for injuries received in an automobile accident on August 16, 1929. She suffered a fractured pelvis bone and nose, and two teeth were knocked out. She was in a hospital for ten weeks. Her husband, Horace B. Ward, was awarded $2,500 for slight injuries and hospital and other expenses of his wife's treatment; also loss of her services.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, B.D., Pastor

The Sunday School Association held its regular monthly business meeting in the church on Tuesday evening last. Very gratifying reports were presented, especially the financial report. We are very much pleased with the way our attendance is holding up well over the 350 mark every Sunday.

Next Sunday services as usual. Sunday School at 10 a.m. Preaching service at 11:15 a.m., sermon subject, "The Great Sin of This Age." B. Y. P. U. service at 6:45 p.m., topic, "Ways of Studying the Bible." Preaching service at 7:45 p.m., subject, "The Creation of Man." The usual Gospel Hymn Song Service at evening service.

It will soon be one year since the dedication of the new church, which took place on March 17, 1929, and an anniversary of that event will be celebrated by a fitting service.

The Women's Society will present a comedy entitled "Sardines" tomorrow evening. Tickets only 15 cents.

"Happy Hour" Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. At 7 p.m. the Junior B. Y. P. U. The topic for this meeting is "Bible Stories I Like Best." William Cooper, Jr., will have charge of the meeting. There will be a delicious chicken noodle soup will be on sale in the dining hall on Saturday at 11 a.m.

Saturday, from five to eight p.m., the Thelma Baran class will hold a Fried Oyster and Chicken Salad Supper in the dining hall. Brother J. H. Pike, whose fame as a chef is well known, will prepare the supper and a good meal is guaranteed. Members of the class and their wives will have charge of the tables. Tickets for adults, 75 cents; children, 50 cents.

CHRIST CHURCH

Parry Avenue
Rev. G. J. McCormack

Christianity was spread by those who were not ashamed to talk about it in all places of society. That is our history from the days of Christ. After Christ, the Apostles went everywhere talking-talking to people as they found them.

Today our churches are suffering a tragic and terrible loss of spiritual power, because the disciples decline to speak, have no witness to give, no experience to talk about. Chas. Norton wrote of the Franciscan friars that "they were perpetually coming and going in all the highways and byways, seeking to insure that any man who met one of them by chance should have a spiritual adventure."

Jesus is still saying, "And ye shall witness."

We are mourning today the loss of our Presiding Bishop, the Rev. Charles Palmerston Anderson, Bishop of Chicago. It is less than three months since his election to this high office, and as with Bishop Gardner his last words to us are a challenge to all our members to carry on with high resolve. Will each one take up again the work as baptized members of this great communion?

The Men's Club of Christ Church will attend Divine Service in a body on Sunday evening next, February 9th, at 7:45, meeting prior to the service in the Parish House. The theme will be "The Vision of God."

The District meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of Burlington County will be addressed by Miss Tappan on "The Corporate Gift" on Thursday, February 11, at 2:15 p.m. at St. Andrew's Church, Mount Holly.

The Young People's Society meets on Sunday evening at 7:15 p.m. under the leadership of Miss Hamblin. A very cordial invitation is extended to all our young people and a very enjoyable and helpful session is anticipated.

Wednesday, February 19, is the date set for the Annual Birthday Party of St. Agnes' Guild. Further notice will be given later.

Servants the Fifth Sunday After Epiphany:

Religion has nothing to do with politics. But after all what is religion apart from religious men? Politics apart from politicians? Business apart from business men? Viewed in this light the quotation seems queer, not to say, absurd. It is like saying that religion has nothing to do with men.

EPWORTH METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

J. William Lee, Minister
Robert D. Coward, Associate

The Church School will open the doors of welcome at 9:45 a.m. and, as usual, will have a program of inspiration.

Morning Worship, 11:00 o'clock. Ministry of Music: "Morning Devotion." Peace: "La Chanson." Hoffman: "Recessional." Gullbraith: anthem, "The Heavens Are Telling." Beethoven: "High Tide, Low Tide, Death."

The Junior Department of the Church will attend the morning services in a body. Miss Grace Evans, superintendent.

The Senior and Intermediate Epworth League will hold their devotional meetings at 6:55 p.m.

Evening Worship, 7:45 o'clock. Ministry of Music: "Evening Meditation." Armstrong: "Cantique D'Amour." Sheppard: anthem, "Ring Out the Secret Message."

Troops Nos. 1 and 2, Boy Scouts of Palmyra, attended by the Scout Committee and Local Council, in celebration of the Boy Scouts' Anniversary Week observed throughout the world, will be the guests at the evening service. The purpose of the anniversary is to bring more definitely to the attention of the community the value of Scouting as a program for work with boys for the development of character and training for citizenship.

A large attendance at the service will indicate the appreciation of the unending efforts the local Council and the Scoutmasters in their endeavors to help the boys.

This Temperance will salute the Colors, and repeat the Scout obligation. Sermon Topic: "Mighty Oaks From Little Acorns Grow."

The Women's Guild will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Charles Greelan, 401 Midway avenue, Riverton, on Thursday evening, February 13. Reports of work done by the Guild, literary topic and social hour will fill the evening with inspiration and pleasure. All the women of the Church are invited.

Calvary Presbyterian

Rev. C. T. Bales, Minister

COMMUNITY WELFARE

London - Instead of sending out detailed technical booklets containing government data, the Tottenham Urban District Council is promoting its community welfare by sending to its citizens a booklet on how to promote domestic bliss. The book advises wives to coax their husbands instead of grumbling. It advises husbands to take wives along on outings, dig the garden, and tidy the house.

CAFE CONVICTION IS FOUND ILLEGAL

Man Arrested in Riverside Raid Not Proven Disorderly, Rigg Finds

The conviction of John C. Clymer of Riverside, as a disorderly person after he was caught in "Charlie's Cafe" at Riverside when it was raided by Under Sheriff Charles L. Carslake and State and local officers about one o'clock New Year's morning was declared illegal Thursday of last week by Judge Charles A. Rigg. The record against Clymer will now be removed from the docket of Justice Frank Lockman, of Columbus, who heard the charge made by the raiding officers and imposed a fine at the hearing given at the County Jail following the spectacular raid and the bringing of the alleged disorderly persons to Mount Holly in buses that had been hired for the occasion.

The action in Clymer's case came on proceedings taken out by Herbert L. Worth, of Riverside, as counsel for Clymer, to have the matter reviewed by Judge Rigg on the ground that Clymer was not a disorderly person and the record in the case did not so specify according to the statute, which provides that a disorderly person must be one under the influence of liquor or one using profane and offensive language. The complaint and conviction papers did not comply with the law, according to Mr. Worth's view of the case and he decided to have the question formally determined as a guide for proceedings in cases identical with Clymer's.

Judge Rigg heard Mr. Worth's statements and contentions, asked Prosecutor George M. Hillman, as counsel for Riverside Township, if he had anything to offer the cause of dignity, which he did not, and then announced that the proceedings were illegal and must be set aside. There was nothing to show that Clymer was a disorderly person within the meaning of the statute.

The question of returning the fine paid by Clymer came up and Judge Rigg said that there was no law, so far as he knew, to give him jurisdiction in returning the money. Neither lawyer could give any aid in locating a law on that point.

Mr. Worth said that there are about forty other cases to be brought before Judge Rigg in a similar manner for the same reason and the proceedings will be started in order to remove from Justice Lockman's docket the stigma of convictions that were not justified by the circumstances or the form of prosecution. It is understood that Mr. Worth can take such proceedings at any time, review being permitted upon discovery of error.

Just what is to be done about getting back the money that was taken from the people who may be declared to have been illegally convicted and fined is not yet quite clear, but Mr.

Worth is hoping that he will find some proceeding that will cover the cases. It has been rumored that there may be action against the officers who will be considered as having acted illegally and without authority, as the chief has decided was done. Mr. Worth took steps that morning to legally take money from the raid through some proceeding beyond Judge Rigg's jurisdiction.

Criminal Matters Heard
Clarence Wallace of Riverside, in a waiver and entered a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying concealed weapons, but he pleaded not guilty to assault and battery on Margaret Shorer.

Wallace claimed that the Shorer woman had some money which he loaned to him and that in return she gave him a check for $100.00 and a large check for $100.00. He claimed that the woman had refused to pay him. The judge said that he would hear the case but there was a defect in the indictment.

Prosecutor Hillman and Mr. Worth presented the case and Wallace was released on $100.00 bond to appear at the next session of the court.

PALMYRA QUINTET WINS LAST TWO

Trounce Pemberton Tuesday Following Victory Over Audubon Friday

Palmyra High School's basketball team turned in a hard-fought triumph last Friday night when it defeated the Audubon High School quintet by the score of 18-14.

Field goals by Howard Davidson, former Camden High School athlete, and Baker, of Palmyra, in the last four minutes of play, broke a 14-14 deadlock and gave the "Pals" a well-earned victory.

Palmyra High School was given a scare Tuesday night, when they won a hard-fought struggle against Pemberton High by a score of 27-24. The victory enabled the "Pals" to retain second place in the Burlington County League with a record of five wins in six starts. Burlington still leads the loop, with seven straight victories.

Baker was the outstanding star of the game, leading the "Pals" in scoring with eleven points on three field goals and five foul shots, while Reeves, a substitute in the second half, contributed largely to the score by totaling six points on three double-deckers. Jack Earlin was the leading scorer for the losers with eleven points on five double-deckers and one penalty shot.

Tomorrow the Palmyra boys play Mount Holly at Palmyra and will again have Riverside as the opposition next Monday evening. This game will also be played on the Palmyra floor.

How to Play BRIDGE

Series 1929-30 by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1929, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 18

Don't take your game of bridge too seriously. The result of doing so is clearly shown by the following: "Because her bridge partner played the wrong card twice, Mrs. Mary Lee Bishop shot and killed her. Mrs. Bishop was sentenced to life imprisonment in the Detroit house of correction by Judge John V. Brennan yesterday. Mrs. Bishop killed Mrs. Rosa Lee Henderson, 4402 Beaubien Street, December 27, 1927." — Detroit Free Press.

Answer to Problem No. 14

Hearts—none	Clubs—A, Q, 9	Diamonds—none	Spades—J, 8
Hearts—1, 7, 8, 3	Clubs—A, Y	Diamonds—none	Spades—none
Hearts—7	Clubs—8, 6, 2	Diamonds—none	Spades—9

Spades are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y win four of the five tricks against any defense? Solution: Z should lead the seven of hearts and discard the nine of clubs from Y's hand. B is thus forced into the lead and must lead either (1) a heart or (2) a club. If B leads a heart, Z should trump with the nine of spades and Y should discard the queen of clubs. Y must then win the balance of the tricks. If B leads a club at trick two, Y must win the balance of the tricks.

Answer to Problem No. 15

Hearts—none	Clubs—none	Diamonds—A, Q, 7, 3	Spades—A, K, 9, 8
Hearts—none	Clubs—none	Diamonds—J, 8	Spades—8, 6
Hearts—none	Clubs—none	Diamonds—K, 9, 8	Spades—none

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y win two of the remaining tricks against any defense? Solution: Z should lead the nine of clubs, thus forcing B to win the trick. After B has also made the five of clubs, he is forced to lead spades up to the ace queen in Y's hand. End Play in Problems 14 and 15 are fine examples of "throwing" the lead and forcing the adversaries to lead away from good cards to their disadvantage.

Answer to Problem No. 16

Hearts—J, 9, 6	Clubs—J, 7	Diamonds—none	Spades—none
Hearts—K, 9, 8	Clubs—A, Q, 7, 3	Diamonds—K, 8, 7	Spades—none
Hearts—K, 4	Clubs—A, Q, 7, 3	Diamonds—A, J	Spades—none

There are no trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y win all of the tricks against any defense? Solution: Z should first lead the ace of clubs and then place Y in the lead with a low heart. Y should then lead the jack nine of hearts and A and B must make three discards and Z one discard. B's discards are immaterial as he has no winning cards. Z should discard the queen of clubs. A, however, is forced to discard to his disadvantage. His first two discards should be the nine of clubs and the seven of diamonds but what will his third discard be? If he discards the king of clubs, Y's jack of clubs and Z's ace of clubs will win the last two tricks. If A discards the eight of diamonds, Y will lead a diamond and Z will win the last two tricks with the ace jack of diamonds. No matter what A third discard is, Y must win all of the remaining tricks. This forcing of an opponent to discard winning cards to his disadvantage is the so-called "squeeze" play and should be thoroughly understood by all players.

Answer to Problem No. 17

Hearts—A	Clubs—none	Diamonds—none	Spades—A, Q, 8
Hearts—7	Clubs—none	Diamonds—4	Spades—K, J
Hearts—A, 4, 2	Clubs—none	Diamonds—A	Spades—none

Spades are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y win all of the tricks against any defense? Solution: Z should lead the ace of diamonds and trump in Y's hand with the eight of spades. Y should then lead the eight of hearts and win the trick in Z's hand with the ace. Z should now lead the deuce of hearts and no matter what A plays Y must win the balance of the tricks. Y's play at trick one, of trumping his partner's winning card, is the ace in this instance, is the so-called "Grand Coup". Its object is to force

COMMUNICATED

While internationalism shares the center of the stage with disarmament today, it is no "new thought." In fact, the idea in a little different form is most ancient.

There must first be nationalism before there is internationalism, and the idea is first met within the Old Testament and on this wise. The Hebrew race during its evolution, being taught the truth of a one and righteous God, was also God of the nations and not for their exclusive adoration.

The New Testament enlarges this truth to a fuller one, announcing that the Hebrew Messiah is to be for the whole earth, so that their nationalism and pride resented and repudiated any such pronouncement. It was outside their power to comprehend.

It hardened their hearts and blinded their eyes to acknowledge the fulfillment of the long foretold prophecy when it took place before their very eyes. Americans are considered to have the "superiority complex" in the most aggressive form. We have been biased abundantly, surely for a purpose. Are we going to close our eyes and harden our hearts to the needs of the world, which it is in our power to give by extending the hand of fellowship, which means understanding and goodwill.

Are nationalism and patriotism such poor props that they shatter with contact? Then are they too brittle for any use.

cause of this inter-denominational aspect.

Money will be given the friends of the Legion, and to return the donor will have the privilege of signing his name on a memorial autograph sheet that will later be bound and fill in the chapel for public inspection. It will be the largest memorial autograph sheet in the world, containing from 50 to 100 volumes of 200 signatures each. At the time passed this library will grow in interest. Many young people who will sign their names will later become great public persons. An audience with President Hoover is practically assured and it is hoped to have his name head a page. Many other prominent men have consented to do the same thing.

One of the unique factors in the drive for $150,000 is the fact that every cent collected will be used to erect the chapel. The expense of installing in collecting this money is being borne by the individual Posts and Units who are behind the plan. The association has a fund from contributions of the board of trustees and interest from money already collected and on deposit will pay all needed expenses of printing and postage.

Names Recorded Every person who contributed $1.00 or more has his name recorded in the memorial library and will be given a special receipt from the association for the amount contributed.

The date for the drive is from February 9 to February 21. Within the time the birthdays of Lincoln and Washington will be celebrated. It is hoped that the ministers of the various churches will explain to their congregations, during this patriotic period, just what this Memorial Chapel, "The Cathedral of the Air," means to the citizens of New Jersey. Post Rodgers and the Auxiliary unit are working hard to fill their quota of $1000. It will be done by the wholehearted support of every citizen of Palmyra and Riverton and through the co-operation of the churches, service organizations and other organized bodies in the community.

President to Dedicate It is the hope of the association to have the chapel completed by Memorial Day 1931 and hear President Hoover dedicate it and make his Memorial Day address at Lakehurst before thousands of friends of the American Legion assembled before this memorial, dedicated to aviation and aviators, who have given their all in the development of this modern invention.

A meeting will be held Sunday, February 9, at 4:00 p. m. in the Legion Home, to get plans arranged for the drive. By the time Commander Edel had fully explained what the Cathedral of the Air was it was too late to go into plans Tuesday night. It is hoped that all who were appointed as Commander Thomas' citizens' committee of substitutes, will be present with the Legion committee Sunday.

LENOLA

On Wednesday evening of last week the Lenola YMCA held its regular weekly meeting at the Community Center. Following the business session a "movie" was presented, showing the spreading of germs by flies. The following are officers of the organization: President, Joseph Tworzydlo; vice-president, Alfred Day; treasurer, William Petroski; secretary, Earl Miller; reporter, Nesbit Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Nelson Maline entertained at a card party on Saturday evening.

William S. Miller, of New Albany road, who is a milk driver at Audubon, was injured in a crash on the White Horse pike, near Audubon, at 3 o'clock last Friday morning. He was badly bruised, but Dr. Curtis reported no bones broken, although several muscles and ligaments were stretched. Mr. Miller was able to return to work yesterday morning.

COMMUNITY WELFARE

The number of families being supplied with food by the Community Welfare Association, of Palmyra, Riverton and Chumminson, in order to keep them from starvation, is startling.

The ladies of the committee are kept on the go making investigations and giving help all the time. The organization ran out of money again in the past week, but some kind friends came to its assistance and it has kept right on with the work.

Each one of the four debt dealers in the community has contributed a ton of coal which will be distributed in quarter ton lots. Children's clothing is needed as well as shoes. Anything for the association may be left at 15 East Broad street, or the Palmyra police station.

The organization wishes to acknowledge with thanks, the receipt of $1000 from the Riverton Porch Club and $500 from the Fellowship Fund of the Central Baptist Church.

Anyone knowing where work may be obtained is urged to notify the association at once.

The annual meeting will be held in P. O. B. of A. Hall, Tuesday evening, February 12 at 7:30 o'clock. Every constituent organization should be represented.

GEORGE N. WIMER, President.

MARLTON NOTES

Mrs. Willard H. Roberts visited her sister, Mrs. Wilcox, at Hathers, Pa., last week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Marlton Red Cross Branch will be held at the home of Mrs. George Wright on Thursday evening, February 6. All members requested to attend.

Rev. Fryer, Mrs. George Middleton and William H. McInney attended the mid-winter meeting of the Camden Baptist Association held in Camden on Tuesday of last week as representatives of Marlton Baptist Church. The annual meeting of this association will be held at Marlton on May 20 and 21. Plans are now under way for these meetings.

Keep in mind the Father and Son Banquet to be given by Marlton YMCA on evening of February 14. Only a limited number of tickets will be sold. Secure yours at the first opportunity.

William Worth has rented the farm of Mrs. M. Anna Brick, near Marlton, and will occupy it in the near future. Mr. Worth now occupies the Cortwell farm, near Medford.

Mrs. Charlotte Evans is reported on the sick list.

Nehemiah Stiles is confined to his bed with a severe attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

$117 was received as free-will offering in the Joseph chest at the morning service in the Marlton M. E. Church last Sunday. This money is donated for the purpose of paying off mortgage on church property.

The response of the members and friends of the church to the appeal for this purpose was beyond expectations, and is most gratifying to the pastor and church officials.

Dr. F. H. Corpening, physician at Marlton, rented the Raymond English residence, on East Main street, and moved into the house last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford D. Few, of Marlton, entertained about 20 of their friends at a duck dinner on Tuesday evening of last week, the occasion being the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Few.

The final service of the preaching mission of Bishop Leonard was held on Sunday night, February 2, in the Lincoln Theatre, Warren street, north of State street, Trenton.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

MEALS AND WEATHER

In these changeable days it is rather harder than usual to plan the meals so that they will surely be satisfactory. For you may plan three meals that would be delicious on a clear, frosty day, and the day may turn out to be a mild, languorous one of Indian summer.

Or the other way round. You may plan a day's meal that would be comforting on a warm day and the day may turn out to be cold, wet and dreary—and the warm-day meals may be quite inadequate.

So when you are planning your meals, plan them so that they can be adapted to either warm or cold days. You can, for instance, have potatoes ready for potato salad, with canned salmon or sardines, for luncheon. If the day is chilly, mix the potatoes with white sauce instead of mayonnaise, and heat them thoroughly. Nothing is more warming than creamed potatoes if they are good and hot. You can then serve lettuce separately, to give the desired raw green to the meal.

Or in dessert. If the day turns out warmer than you expected it to be, and you have baked a steamed fruit pudding, serve instead fresh or stewed fruit with cookies or crackers. You can always add to the substantiality of luncheon and make it more comforting for a cold day by adding hot chocolate, made with milk. You can use cooked cereal on cold mornings, prepared cereal on these mornings when it is warmer. You can serve hot food instead of bread and butter to make breakfast more suitable for cold days.

Another way to add to the heat of the meal is to serve some such simple and easily prepared dish as boiled rice. For luncheon, served with a bit of hard sauce or stewed fruit for dessert, it is always delicious, and makes a slender meal seem substantial as well as warmer.

CLEANING LIGHT BULBS

Your electric light bulbs will have an extra sparkle if, when cleaning them, you will use ammonia in the water.

POTATOES EN SURPRISE

Bake large thinly potatoes and scoop out the centers; mash them, add a generous lump of butter, seasoning and two heaping tablespoons of grated Swiss cheese; add one teaspoonful of chopped parsley and milk enough to make the consistency of mashed potato; beat well until light and fluffy, re-fill potato cases, return to the oven and bake until the filling puffs and becomes golden brown. Serve at once. These are delicious with creamed codfish or Flank Haddock.

"Oh, Mrs. Kelly, ain't the heat terrible?" "Sure, and it ain't the heat, Mrs. Murphy; it's the humanity."

The hand-made French dress shown here is of mouse gray crepe georgette with finely shirred girdle and narrow shirred bands applied to the skirt. It is trimmed with gathered velvet, made of velvet in a darker shade, and the skirt has a pleated edge.

There is always a certain demand for hand made cotton and linen dresses—imported from countries where women work for pitifully low wages. Most of us have found that dresses of this sort seldom hold up so well as American made dresses with starchy put together by machine. In the meantime there is and probably always will be something very attractive about fine hand work of the purely ornamental sort. And this ornamental sort of hand work appears on many of the smart new dresses, both those of French origin and those made in this country.

TEACHERS ATTEND BOARD MEETING

Members of Palmyra Faculty Pledge Support to Supervisor

An article describing the meeting of the Palmyra Board of Education last Thursday evening has been submitted for publication. It was prepared by a committee appointed by George B. Clover, president of the Board of Education; Mrs. J. C. Mallory and Mrs. A. C. Gibson, and is printed without change as follows:

Increased interest in school is clearly evidenced by the large number of people who were present at the regular meeting of the Board on Thursday evening. It was necessary to hold the meeting in the library instead of the regular Board room.

The Council's representative, Mr. Bradley, made it very clear that the Council wanted to cooperate in every way with the Board. He stated that the Council, with the Board of Health, wanted to understand just their position in regard to the school nurse. Last year, before the budget was made, an delegation from the School Board met with some members of the Borough Council and they agreed that it would be all right for the School Board to take over the services of the school nurse and pay all her salary with the understanding that she do pre-school, pre-natal work and other special work for Dr. Le Favour, the Board of Health doctor, in addition to her regular school work. Dr. Le Favour wanted to know if he could again call on Miss Oswald this year for any special cases he wanted her to do. He was assured he could and that Miss Oswald would renew making reports to Council, which had been discontinued.

The teachers appeared in a body and representatives from the grade schools, the grammar school and the High School stated that the teachers were 100 per cent back of Mr. Eckert. Miss Mary Egan, speaking for the grammar grades, spoke as follows:

"Mr. President, Members of the Board of Education and Mr. Eckert:

"It is probably a surprise to you to see the teachers attending this meeting in a body. We have come for the purpose of contradicting some of the false rumors and statements that are current in this town. It has been rumored that the teachers are not working with Mr. Eckert. This is utterly false. In all his decisions, we have found Mr. Eckert most fair and just, both to teachers and pupils. We want the members of the Board of Education and Mr. Eckert to know that he has the hearty support and co-operation of the teachers of the Grammar School Department. The other department will speak through their own representative."

Miss Ethel Morton, speaking for the Spring Garden Street and Chalmers Avenue Schools, spoke as follows:

"As spokesman for the teachers of the Chalmers and Spring Garden buildings, I wish to state that it is without solicitation or knowledge of Mr. Eckert that we have come."

"We wish to go on record 100 per cent strong in co-operation and support of policies in effect in our school. We are here to brand the groundless rumor that Mr. Eckert's teachers do not support him, as a wilful and malicious lie. At all times Mr. Eckert has proved really appreciable and has thoughtful consideration to our requests and suggestions. He inspires our respect and confidence. We feel he is working honestly and solely for the good of the school."

"What new books and equipment have been secured for our use this year meet the hearty approval of every teacher."

"The two teachers, unavoidably absent because of exams at the University of Pennsylvania this evening, stand with us in the position we are now maintaining."

Mr. Plank, speaking for the High School teachers, said:

"As the representative of the High School Faculty, I want to inform the Board of Education and the public that every High School teacher is co-operating with Mr. Eckert. Every member of the Faculty has the highest regard for him. We have found him fair and above board in all our dealings. Personally, I am positive every teacher has had the same experience; he has dealt fairly and squarely with me at all times. He has always been willing to discuss any problem and many times have I gone to him. I have not always had my way, but in every case I have felt I have had a fair decision and have been very well satisfied."

"I repeat again, for emphasis, that every High School teacher is back of Mr. Eckert and he has their heartiest co-operation and support."

The following letter was sent to the President of the Board with the request that it be read and then published word for word in the paper:

Palmyra, N. J., Jan. 26, 1930
Mr. George B. Clover, Pres., School Board of Palmyra, Palmyra, N. J.

Gentlemen:
I have just recently become aware of more than ordinarily strained relations existing between a certain element of citizenry of our town and the present incumbent of the office of Supervising Principal of our Schools, Professor Paul Y. Eckert.

From a single personal contact, I conceived a more than favorable impression of the square dealing executive. This was enhanced by what I heard here and there throughout the town in the past year or so.

Out of a clear sky comes allegations, which, if true, and proven so, would materially change my attitude. The accusations made in presence of witnesses are to wit:

1. He is an extravagant spender.
2. He absolutely dominates the School Board.

3. He plays politics.
4. I have gone into the matter of the expense of educating each child per year and find we compare more than favorably with the balance of the State.

Laughing Around the World

By IRVIN S. COBB

THERE was a man who suffered from chronic rheumatism. Finally when prescriptions from the doctors and patent medicines had failed to bring relief to him he began experimenting on his own account. The result was that he produced a compound for external application which practically cured him.

He began making the mixture in larger quantities. When he heard of another rheumatic victim in his vicinity he gave or sent him a bottle. The remedy became locally famous. There were so many demands for it that the inventor decided to sell it.

He was an under-paid employee in a city department though, and of course had no standing as one having knowledge of medicine, so his efforts to put this discovery on the market were heavily handicapped. His advertising was done by word of mouth and his trade was dependent upon what talk would do. He carried supplies of the stuff about with him in his pocket and disposed of them to chance customers. Naturally, his main capital was the secret of the ingredients and its preparation.

One day, in a bar-room after working hours, a stranger accosted him and wished to be released. As he was about to pass over a bottle he felt a tug at his elbow. He looked about and there was a fellow-workman on the municipal payroll.

"Don't leave him here!" counseled this friend. "I know that guy. His brother is a chemist and he'll chemistize it!"

International Sunday School Lesson for February 9

WARNINGS AND PROMISES

Matthew 7:12; 16-27

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

The content of the Sermon on the Mount, Matthew 5, 6, 7, will be more familiar after these three lessons therein. This time the entire seventh chapter should be read with care, or better still, commit it to memory. This lesson is the quarterly one on Temperance at the first. It is finely adapted to that application. This subject is one of the most popular ones of the day. The newspapers have some outstanding references in almost every issue. There is need for citizens of the Abolition type to work out the national problem, for this nation cannot exist half wet and half dry any more than it could advance being half slave and half free.

The Golden Rule, verse 12, is possible of the most extensive application and surely has a direct import to the question of selling alcoholic liquors to others. The bootlegger would resent it if it was done by as he needs to persistently to "do" others. Amos B. Wells says, "The Eighteenth Amendment is simply the Golden Rule put into our national constitution." There is one word in this verse 12 that needs particular attention. It is the word "therefore." Because God is so good to us always, we should invariably seek to treat others up to our ability. A negative statement, such as can be found in the writings of Confucius, is not good enough. Neither is negative religion. Now is the time for those who believe in righteousness to be positive in the defense of truth, which will be a blessing to mankind.

The lies of those who are eager to evade the Constitution and the enforcement acts are akin to the false prophecies and those who appear in their clothing. They are wolves in sheep's clothing, and for personal gain will undermine life itself. Right now youth seems to be the target for attack.

2. If his suggestions, and mark you carefully that, from information gotten from hearsay in the town I learn that our school system is on a higher plane than before his taking charge, have been concurred in by the present Board. I would arrive at the conclusion that the man who spent years in acquiring a higher degree of school governing efficiency should be praised and our Board voted thanks instead of the first mentioned accused of dominance and the latter placed in the category of the weak-minded.

What I wish is something like proof of the stated allegations, or a retraction or disavowal of the same by those who have stated them or who concur therewith.

In closing, I understand that rejection of Mr. Eckert for a third term would render him, and us, subject to the Tenure of Office Act. As the act reads, I am opposed to same. Let me advise those who are of the same mind as to the law, but who, like myself, wish our Principal retained for the betterment of our Educational System, that we can do so without conflict or illegality. The Board no doubt has this information from the proper source or this. If not, it can be had from sources at their disposal.

Let their be light. Let there be criticism, but in the name of justice, let it be constructive. Let it be as one Christian brother to another. Produce facts or figures, whichever be necessary, to prove accusations. That constitutes what is most important.

In the interest of the Borough's future, represented in the child life of Palmyra, I am Very respectfully yours,

It is the adult sinner who helps forward lip-sliding on the part of young men, who in turn dare the girls to partake.

The declaration of Jesus is most telling. "By their fruits ye shall know them." By this declaration reach your conclusions. Do not any alcoholic beverage. Keep in mind that alcohol is a POISON and the reaction is always the same. A good character or worthy conduct can never be built up by the use of intoxicating drink. The very essence of temperance work is the first glass. Life insurance statistics should be sufficient evidence for anyone to reach a conclusion for both principles and conduct. The records of both courts and society are full of accounts of destruction and produce nothing that deals with permanent construction as a result of using liquor as a beverage. Big business is beginning to understand about the "fruits" and is now demanding sobriety.

The closing parable has reference to the entire content of the Sermon on the Mount as well as to the theme in hand. The two houses may at first have looked equally well. First came the gradual wearing away and lessening of foundational strength by the stress of years. Then the awful storm broke and it was that force which brought complete destruction after the long-continued weakening process. Both physically and morally we must be able to withstand the long-time wear and tear, as well as the emergency when the blow may come so unexpectedly. There is a rock foundation that will stand any stress and upon which we can build our life structure. That sure foundation is Jesus Christ and His teachings. He did not deal with affairs in the abstract but in vital life problems that still face us as individuals.

thirty-six months. In other words, if the teacher's first and third contracts were for ten months each it would be necessary for that teacher to be elected the fourth time before coming under tenure.

Unselfish Love

Would you hold your husband's love?
Women: then be ever true.
Sacrifices make for him.
As you'd have him make for you;
Try to fill his life with joy.
With a sweet unselfishness,
Then sweet love will fill your souls
And, your lives, will ever bless.

Love rejoices e'er to serve,
Serving most, who loveth best;
And its sweet unselfishness
Ever is love's truest test.
Each, the other, tries to please,
Finding life's great happiness
When, in sweetest gratitude,
They receive love's fond caress.

Not in selfish, cold demands,
Can true love be kept alive;
In consideration, sweet,
Will its greatest beauty thrive;
When each soul desires to live
To be serving the dear one,
Feeling blissful happiness,
For their lives, will thus be won.

CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Seven Enter Race for Three Positions; All Three-Year Terms

Seven candidates are now in the race for three positions on the Palmyra Board of Education to be contested at the school election next Tuesday night between the hours of seven and nine o'clock.

The law requires that petitions must be filed today in order that the names of the candidates be placed on the ballots. While all of the seven have not filed as yet, it is understood they will file before the day is over.

The candidates are divided into three groups. Walter D. Lamson, Charles K. Merline and DeWitt Morris make up the independent group and are running on a ticket endorsed by the voters. These men have been committed to a program of improvement in school affairs, which is designed to correct the evils which have crept into the system during the past few years.

They are opposed to the Tenure of Office Act and are for the election of three other main issues. They promise to investigate very thoroughly the part-time proposition and take definite steps to make arrangements for all children to attend school on regular schedule. They pledge closer cooperation between the Borough and the schools, in this manner making a saving for both.

Their program of efficiency without extravagance has met with the approval with citizens everywhere. They believe in keeping the schools up to the very highest standards, but in so doing they pledge themselves to give full consideration to the wishes of the taxpayers.

Another group consists of George B. Clover, George W. Rogers and George I. Harvey, who are at present members of the Board. These men have made no public announcements of their policies.

Fred H. Fitzmaurice has entered the race as a free-lance candidate, with a pledge of "A Fair Deal to All."

No other candidates have circulated petitions to date and it is not expected that any others will enter the field.

PARENT-TEACHERS' MEETING POSTPONED

Will Be Held Fourth Tuesday in February Owing to Conflict With Senior Play

Due to the fact that the regular meeting night of the Palmyra Parents' Teachers' Association comes the week of the Senior play and the use of the auditorium is required for rehearsals, the meeting will be held one week later, the fourth Tuesday, February 26th, at 8:15 p. m. in the High School auditorium.

This meeting has been designated as "Fathers' Night" and the men are urged to make a special effort to attend.

As is customary, on "Fathers' Night," the president of the School Board is invited to take charge of the meeting and George B. Clover will preside.

Mrs. Albert Parker has charge of presenting a sketch at this meeting and Mrs. Parker's ability is as well recognized that we are assured of something exceptionally good.

The sketch selected is one written by the Hon. Frank A. Matthews, Jr., entitled "Orders in Disorder." A few facts regarding this sketch may be of interest to the public. It was written by Judge Matthews while he was in the service "over there," and was very successfully produced in Paris on Christmas night, 1916, by a cast of soldiers and American girls connected with the YMCA in Paris. Later it was again produced and enthusiastically received on both occasions.

The cast here will consist of the members of the faculty and P. T. A., and we urge everyone to boost this meeting.

Our own High School Orchestra, under the able direction of Miss Violet Lippincott, will also be on hand.

PLANE TALKS

By H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

Another member of the Burlington County Aero Club just passed the tests and received his private pilot's ticket. Frank Johnson, of Camden, is the newest addition to the "Bird-men."

The Second Annual New York Aviation Show will open this Friday evening, February 7th, at the Grand Central Palace. Last year we had a pleasure of seeing quite a few air-minded Burlington County folks at the show. Here's hoping the number will be greatly increased this year.

Is flying safe? Try to laugh this off. There were more deaths in the Army due to automobile accidents last year than those due to airplane crashes. And do not forget that military flying is far more hazardous than properly controlled commercial flying.

Do you realize that Moorestown boasts the safest Airport within a hundred mile radius of Philadelphia? Check and double check, but do you appreciate your Airport? Burlington County Aero Club members from all other towns in the county, Philadelphia, Camden and Bridgeton are taking instruction at the Moorestown Airport, but not a single person from Moorestown. Why? Why? Why?

The eighteen-passenger Patriotic built by the Keystone Aircraft Corporation, of Bristol, Pa., for the Wright Aeronautical Corporation left for the International Aircraft Exposition at St. Louis on Monday morning, February 3rd. While the show does not open until February 15th, the Patriotic is so large it must be dismantled and re-assembled to be displayed at the Arena in St. Louis.

Members of the Burlington County Aero Club enjoyed an extremely interesting talk on gliders and glider flying at a meeting on Monday evening at the Moorestown Community House. Mr. Pfeiffer, a licensed glider pilot from Germany, was the speaker.

A dragging brake increases the wear, in addition to cutting down speed and adding to the consumption of gas and oil. And don't think you will always know it when a brake drags. The new engines are so high powered they often make it impossible to feel. The only sure method of saving tires and getting the most out of your gas and oil, is to have your brakes adjusted properly from time to time.

The drivers who dash up to traffic lights and then jam on the brakes for red and those who try to jump to twenty-five miles an hour as soon as the light turns green, coat the concrete with rubber—and they pay for the coating.

Dust caps on the valves are included in the summary of "What the Well-Dressed Automobile Will Wear This Season."

Some of the new engines are so silent at the idling speed that you can't tell, in the noise of traffic, whether they have stalled. When in doubt, look at the ammeter needle. If it is flickering, the motor is running all right.

Your Children Are Entitled To Health

That glow of ruddy health in growing boys and girls is a hard enough thing to achieve and maintain under the most favorable circumstances, much less to expect it without recognized health aids. Outdoor life alone does not keep children in a vigorous state of health, for home life, too, is an important factor, and all of the good derived from play in the open air may be counteracted by surroundings which do not measure up to the highest standards of health and sanitation. On the other hand, a home with an adequate supply of running hot water, with convenient bathing arrangements, correct house drainage, modern plumbing equipment, in a home where sanitation is paramount, you will find good health prevailing.

SMITH REPORTS PARASITE WORK

337,233 Received from India and Japan During Past Year

A total of 337,233 parasites of the Japanese and Asiatic beetles were received from India and Japan during the past year, Loren B. Smith, entomologist in charge of the Japanese Beetle Laboratory, at Mooretown, stated in his annual report to Secretary of Agriculture William H. Burdette. The Japanese beetle eradication work in this State is a co-operative project of the United States and New Jersey Departments of Agriculture.

Six species of parasites have been liberated in New Jersey and vicinity and all have probably become established in the areas where they were placed. At all the points where over 20,000 Cynipid cynipids were liberated, parasitized beetles were recovered later in the season. The original colony of Cynipid established several years ago near Moorestown now occupies an area of approximately 80 square miles. Further liberations of the parasite will be made in the future in order to establish colonies throughout the range of the Japanese beetle.

A large shipment of Proctosus albicinctus was received late last summer and were released in the vicinity of Moorestown in order to strengthen the original colony which was established at that point a year ago.

The colony of Dacnusa ventralis, which was placed near Haddonfield, maintained its strength during the past season, but there was an great increase in the numbers of the parasites over those received the year before. Attempts are being made to establish this species at Moorestown and Westbury, I. I. Since it is believed that this species may be useful in the control of the Asiatic beetles and the Oriental Garden Beetle.

Another parasite, the Oriolus, which was collected in India, was released at Philmont, Pa. It is too early as yet to determine whether any of these become established. The Oriolus proclivator, which is the most promising parasite which has been introduced, extended its area of distribution to approximately two square miles near Chanhassen, twenty-five miles from Moorestown, from the parent colony of 2,000 females. These were released mostly in the suburban area surrounding Philadelphia. Four colonies of Tipula venusta are now established in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. These are growing in strength and large importations have enabled the entomologists to establish a number of additional colonies in New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Long Island.

Additional work is being carried on with several species of parasites which have not as yet been established in this country. Every effort is being made to import as large numbers as possible of the parasites which are now already established in order that numerous colonies of each

Merchants of Beverly Want Theatre Opened

Claiming that residents who go out of town for amusement make their purchases elsewhere, a group of Beverly business men, led by Harry Vaturi, are asking that the Beverly-Lee Theatre be reopened.

The theatre was closed several months ago because of "lack of patronage," according to Jacob Fox, owner. Since that time residents have gone to Riverside or Burlington for moving picture shows, and have made their purchases in Burlington and in Riverside rather than at home stores, it is asserted by Vaturi.

may be liberated throughout the range of the Japanese beetle.

YMCA DIRECTORS APPROVE PLANS FOR FUND DRIVE

To Open With Banquet Monday Evening When Teams Will be Organized

PREPARE BOOKLET SHOWING ACTIVITIES

Results Will Tell If Boys' Work Continues in Palmyra and Riverton

The plans for the first annual budget canvass of the Palmyra-Riverton Y. M. C. A. to be held from February 17 to 25, are taking definite form under the direction of William H. Plank, chairman of the finance committee. At the meeting of the board of directors, held last Thursday evening, the following plans were approved.

Invitations have gone out for the opening banquet, Monday, February 17, to be held in the association building. Mr. Arthur Armitage, general secretary of the Camden YMCA, will be the speaker. At this dinner the various teams will be lined up and the detailed plans for the canvass will be explained.

Prepare Booklet

Another interesting feature of the drive is the preparation of a twenty page booklet which will show the activities being carried on by the local association. The idea of preparing the booklet is to give all the friends of the association a concrete idea of the work being carried on with the local boys. Some of the pictures that will interest you are the work of the association, the building, the board of directors, the leaders, camp pictures, and some pictures of activities carried on in the past. It is believed that this booklet will be prized as a souvenir by all those who receive it. If you should be missed and you are interested, call the "Y" and you will receive one of the booklets at once.

This is the first year for the local association to raise funds for its own support. October 1929 the local board severed its connection with the county committee and set up a city basis. From then until the present time the work has been carried on, but hampered due to the lack of funds.

Plan Improvement

Great plans have been made to be carried out next year and all that is needed is the successful completion of the $5000 subscription canvass. One of the plans is to enlarge the present facilities by taking over the American Stores room and remodeling it into a first class gymnasium. The present gymnasium will then be used for a recreational and reading room. This is considered by those who are close to the work one of the outstanding needs to carry on the local work.

The fact that the local association is now a distinctly Palmyra-Riverton organization controlled entirely by men from Riverton and Palmyra and to develop local facilities should encourage those who have never contributed before to do so this year. It is the sincere hope of every member of the local board that the people will back them up in their step in discontinuing their connection with the County organization.

Your interest, in most cases can only be shown by your contribution. Show your interest by giving generously for the making of better boys and greater men.

FATHERS' NIGHT FEB. 20, NOT 17

Fathers' Night will be Thursday, February 20. There was a mistake of three days last week in announcing Fathers' Night. Move the "red circle" from the 17th to the 20th and be sure to save it.

Mr. Elwell has secured J. M. Faust, of the Playgrounds and Recreation Association of America. He is said to be one of the foremost authorities in this work. His talk will be especially timely considering the recent appropriation in the budget for Memorial Park.

Mr. Faust has had a wide experience with children (and fathers). He is a delightfully interesting speaker and well worth hearing.

Come and bring all the fathers on your block. "Johnny" and "Jane" will remind you again that Thursday, the 20th, at 8 p. m. is the time, and the Riverton school is the place.

RIVERTON HAS NO SCHOOL CONTEST

With No Fight On, Two Candidates Are Severely Cut

The contest for members of the Board of Education in Riverton, which seemed imminent a few days before election, did not materialize, and Messrs. Matis and Sherman L. Warren were re-elected without opposition. Richard D. Barclay was elected to the place of Francis B. Elwell, who retired from the board upon election as a member of the borough council which came at the end of his term on the Board of Education.

Mr. Warren received 89 out of the 109 ballots cast, while Messrs. Matis and Barclay received only 66. This was a rather peculiar situation in view of the fact that there was no contest, and those who are versed in political intrigue say that it indicated that a number of persons must have been "requested" to vote for one candidate alone, and that where there is no danger of the candidate being defeated, as is the case where there is no contest, it is not considered to be in good taste.

George D. Steele was chairman of the meeting; M. Malcolm Dickinson, secretary, and J. Lewis Jackson and Miss Elizabeth Bowen, tellers.

MOVIE BENEFIT IS VERY SUCCESSFUL

Hi-Y Clubs Well Pleased With Response of Public Last Week

The Hi-Y movie benefit, "So This is College," given at the Broadway Palace last week was a great success. The picture and vitaphone itself were largely responsible for the success.

The first night over two hundred people stood in line to see the second show and the same thing happened the second night, which showed the interest manifested by the public.

Every member of the Hi-Y Clubs wants to thank all those who contributed by attending the show. The plans which had been made are now carried out and the students body of the high school celebrated the purchase of the Victor Electrola last Saturday evening with a school dance in the gym.

The radio in the YMCA was the source of information and the remaining debt on it was paid with a small balance to go in each club's treasury. The Hi-Y Clubs have been quite active this year, both in the high school and YMCA. The organization is a YMCA club composed of high school fellows with the purpose, "to create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character."

K. of C. LADIES PLAN DRIVE FOR FUNDS

Palmyra-Riverton Auxiliary Will Give Many Parties to Aid Its Work

A series of events are now well under way by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Palmyra-Riverton Knights of the Club to raise cash for the general fund.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Harry Gottleb will give a luncheon.

Mrs. George A. Strohlein, of Fulton street, will have a large card party at her home on Wednesday night, February 10, accommodation for seventy-five players will be provided. Fine prizes and refreshments are on the card.

A musicale by Mrs. R. J. Woods, of Cleveland avenue, for the week following is in the making, details and program to be announced later.

The Columbia Cadets received their first instructions on their new instruments last Friday night. Jack Alt-house, of the Legion Drum Corps, gave the youngsters their initial trials on the drums and remarked that "There is some real talent in the ranks."

All committee of the Council are actively engaged in preparing for the coming professional vaudeville show that is to be held in the K. of C. Hall on Saturday night, March 1. Tickets will be on sale some time next week.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, CONCERT

The Women's Symphony Orchestra of Philadelphia, will give the second of their annual series of concerts on Thursday evening, February 20, at 8.15 in the Bellevue Strada ballroom.

Frank Oglesby, of Philadelphia, (tenor), will be the soloist. The Reba Hoffman Dancers will be a feature. On the program will be a Mendelssohn Symphony, a Mozart Overture and several smaller numbers.

CITIZENS FAVOR PLAYGROUND IDEA

Large Delegation Attends Budget Meeting of Riverton Borough Council

Large delegation of representative men and women attended the meeting of Borough Council last Thursday night, at which time the budget for 1930 came up for final consideration. After Mayor Howard M. Rogers had opened the meeting and stated the proposition for which it was called, Councilman Francis B. Elwell, chairman of the Borough property committee, read the following letter from J. W. Sylvester:

Mr. Sylvester's Letter

Dear Mr. Elwell: As I cannot be present at tonight's Council meeting, at which the budget for the current year will be approved, I wish to take this means of fully endorsing the editorial in today's "New Era."

Those who are opposed to the appropriation by Council of the amount recommended by you for the improvement of Memorial Park and for properly directed play, have evidently lost sight of some very important matters in connection with this project.

For instance, the Park is a memorial to those local boys who gave their all in the World War, now more than eleven (11) years ago. I am sure every resident of Riverton will agree with me that practically nothing has been done by the town for this memorial except the acquiring of the property, which, if I am correctly informed, has not even been dedicated. Is it not high time that the Park should be properly equipped and dedicated?

Secondly, all up-to-date communities with properly equipped playgrounds also provide instructors during those periods of the year when their children are not under the supervision of the properly constituted school authorities, so that the play of the children can be properly directed. Otherwise, small children attempting to use equipment intended for the larger children might do themselves considerable harm.

I have had many years' experience in athletics in many of its branches and during my service as a member of the local School Board was chairman of the physical culture committee. This latter work brought me in contact with the Playground authorities in Philadelphia, who many times stressed the importance of properly directed play.

For these reasons I not only endorse the editorial in the current issue of the "New Era," but also strongly approve of your recommendation for this year's budget.

Yours very truly,

J. WILSON SYLVESTER.

Harry F. Jones, chairman of the Borough zoning commission, endorsed the sentiments expressed by Mr. Sylvester.

Harry L. Unland said he was very glad that the Borough was considering the project.

PORCH CLUB

Mrs. John Douglas Clark has charge of the program for the next regular meeting of the Porch Club, Thursday, February 14, at 8.30 p. m. The play will be given by club members and the hostesses, Mrs. Harry L. Rogers and Mrs. Harry F. Jones are looking forward to a large enthusiastic audience to enjoy the result of many hours of hard work.

Junior

The Junior members of the Porch Club were entertained on Monday afternoon, February 3, by Mrs. Stanley Stewart on Indoor Gardens. All the members were most enthusiastic and many thanks were extended Mrs. Stewart for her kindness in bringing this subject to the girls.

Current Events

The Current Events class met on Tuesday morning, February 11 at 10 o'clock and everyone was well repaid for attending. It was a very worthwhile meeting and many topics were fully explained and discussed. After answering the roll call with quotations from Abraham Lincoln, Mrs. Frederick Blair gave a very complete talk on Current Events. Mrs. T. Morrell Parry had the Educational News Items, Mrs. J. Douglas Clark discussed the books of the month and Mrs. A. M. Ellisworth gave Mrs. A. Ernest Warnick's book review of Myron T. Herrick by Mott. This was beautifully done and very much appreciated by the class.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving Memory of Annie M. Faunce, Anniversary Mass was said on Tuesday morning at 8.30 at the Sacred Heart Church, Riverton, and Wednesday at the Sacred Heart Church, Camden, for our mother and wife, in died one year ago today.

IN MEMORY

We sat by your bedside, Mother dear, And saw your life depart, And when we knew you were gone It almost broke our hearts. You suffered much and murmured not, We watched you day by day, And while you sleep on, Dear Mother, Your memory with God we shall always keep. A wonderful wife and mother true, The dearest and best pal we ever knew.

No sadly missed by husband, children and grandchildren.

On Winning Ticket

WALTER D. LAMON who was elected to Palmyra Board of Education at school election Tuesday night.

THREE "GEORGES" LOSE IN PALMYRA

Result is Almost Two-to-One Plurality for Successful Candidates

The largest number of voters that ever participated in a Palmyra school election came out Tuesday and cast their ballots for candidates for the Board of Education.

Messrs. Lamon, Mervine and Morris scored a sweeping victory, winning by a majority of almost two to one, as nearly thirteen hundred citizens expressed their choice.

The votes for each candidate were as follows: Charles E. Mervine, 693; DeWitt Morris, 781; Walter D. Lamon, 790; George B. Glover, 461; George I. Harvey, 469; George W. Rogers, 422; Fred H. Pitman, 110. The various budget items were carried by a majority of approximately 400 to 100. The large crowd was handled with little difficulty, owing to careful preparation which was made in anticipation of a record vote. On previous occasions the people have gone into the auditorium and awaited the organization meeting and afterwards filed up to the front of the hall, where they were checked up by the poll clerks and were given ballots which they marked and placed in the ballot boxes.

No Confusion

It was obvious this time that much delay and confusion would result if this method was followed, as there is little room in the front of the auditorium. With this in mind a large number of citizens assembled in a class room before seven o'clock and organized the meeting.

Joseph S. Low was elected chairman; Richard W. Mervine, secretary; Horace Finney, James H. Harley, Edwin A. Grison and Oswald Melcher, tellers. The regular election officers acted as clerks for the four voting districts: Harry Saar and Joseph Autrey for the first district; Harry Kinkaid and Percy Meeks for the second district; George MacCord and Clement Haas for the third district; Edward A. King and Wilbur Harmon for the fourth.

There was a separate table for each district, with the registry list and ballot to each of the four districts, all at times. As soon as a voter was checked on the registry list he was given a ballot, which he could take into the auditorium and mark at leisure and then take it to the ballot box in the front of the auditorium.

Orderly and Efficient

The efficient arrangements made by the District Clerk, William A. Donaghy, brought forth many favorable comments and it is said this election was the most orderly and efficiently managed of any ever held. In fact, practically everyone present had cast their ballots at nine o'clock and the counting of votes started almost immediately thereafter. There were a total of 1,200 ballots cast in slightly more than two hours. This was at a rate of more than ten a minute.

The winners entered the campaign as a complete ticket, each working for the election of others. The success of their plan was apparent, since very few ballots were split. There was a difference of only forty-three votes between high and low man on the winning ticket.

The Clover-Harvey-Rogers ticket was also voted straight in most cases, but was "cut" more frequently, most of the cutting being for Pitman, the independent candidate.

Messrs. Glover, Harvey and Rogers were candidates for re-election. Glover is now president of the Board of Education, while Harvey is vice-president.

SHOULD DEVELOP MEMORIAL PARK

Former Councilman Points Out Great Value of Public Playground

February 11, 1930.

Dear Sir:

The writer attended the budget meeting of Council last Thursday evening, and was very much pleased to see the large group of representative citizens present. From experience he knows that our "President" and "Directors," as The New Era so aptly put it in a recent strong editorial, are happy to have this interest and support.

It was also very gratifying to note the keen interest shown in the development of our Memorial Park. It is very evident that we all want this done, consistent, of course, with a reasonable expenditure of money.

This is as it should be, for it indicates an awakening interest on our part in the unusual advantages of Riverton as a place in which to live. If we check only a few of these we find the following: A convenient distance from a very large city, with transportation by rail, trolley and bus; or automobile over paved roads and splendid bridges; excellent schools and fine churches; the best of water and good drainage; fire protection which gives low insurance rates; improved streets; the river for power boats and sailing; a country club with a fine club house, and a golf course almost unequalled in the Philadelphia district.

Much Value for Little Cost

And now we can have, for a small amount of money, a really fine public park, with playgrounds and a lake, which will round out our town to unequalled completeness, desirability and beauty. We have a right to boast of Riverton, and to urge our friends to come here to live.

At the meeting two points were raised in connection with the costs of the improvements, but both were made in a very evident spirit of caution rather than opposition. However, both points deserve careful attention.

One prominent citizen called attention to the fact that it is generally unwise to incur debts in either private or public matters. This is undeniable, of course. On the other hand, in making any improvement the initial construction or equipment must be adequate to give effective use at once. As it is certainly unwise to start our park development on any other basis, our initial financing must be sufficient to meet our initial requirements. We can legally raise the money in the ways.

First, by putting the required amount into one tax levy, which is obviously unfair, as it places the burden of the cost of an improvement, which will be enjoyed for a long period, on the taxpayers of one year. The second is to issue bonds, which is plainly the better method, as it makes the burden light each year, and makes all the users share in the cost.

What Do We Owe to the Children?

Another prominent citizen wisely cautioned against too great an increase of overhead charges because of unknown contingencies. This is also very sound, as many of our financial troubles, in both private and public matters, come from gradual increase of fixed charges. But it would seem that the improvement of our park should be looked at as an investment, which would, by advancing our town, increase our taxables and thus increase our income. In any event, should we not invest something for our children right now? They are, after all, our greatest responsibility.

The writer does not wish to be understood as urging any particular method of financing the project. What he desires to express is his satisfaction that we have all come to realize the opportunity we have in this town. And what an opportunity it is! Here we have a beautiful tract of several acres located in the heart of our town, on the shore of an almost natural lake, which we bought for the price of half a dozen good building lots. A very little money, which we would not feel, even on our tax bills, will bring out its splendid possibilities and advantages.

CINNAMINSON SCHOOL

A Visitor and a Play Add Interest to Busy Week

A number who braved the storm of Tuesday, the 4th, were richly repaid by the thoughtful talk given by Mr. Townsend.

His energy, and his devotion to education, combined with his knowledge of the history of the subject, were most delightful and interesting. Mr. Townsend came during the afternoon and visited both schools, No. 2 and 4. His comments and criticisms were happy and helpful.

At six p. m. the domestic science class, directed by Miss Charlotte Rogers, served a delicious dinner. Some of the vegetables served were canned by the class during the fall months.

Needless to say, "Winnie and the Wise Young Man" furnished the thrill of the week in the school community, the pupils helping the faculty most willingly.

Most of the scenery was the work of the children, some of the painted scenes showing real talent. The boys shifted the scenes during the performance, thus doing much to make the merry little play the success it proved.

May Accept Judgeship

HON. HAROLD B. WELLS Former Judge

One of the most influential leaders in Burlington county politics, who is reported to be considering favorably an offer of a judgeship in the State Court of Errors and Appeals. Should Wells accept the position, a political battle between him and Senator Clifford R. Powell, which has been expected for this spring, would be averted.

TWENTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Joseph T. Evans Passes Quarter Century Mark of Business in Riverton

Twenty-five years ago on February 12, Joseph T. Evans took over the coal and lumber business of the late Samuel Rudderow and has continued the business to the present time at the same place, on East Main street, Riverton.

Mr. Evans, who was then employed as a grocery clerk for Bell & Frank in Cinnaminson, decided to launch a business of his own.

From an organization composed of himself and one other workman Mr. Evans has built up a sound business, employing 22 men and operating a fleet of eleven cars and trucks. He also has the largest coal yard between Camden and Trenton and carries about one-quarter of a million feet of lumber in stock.

Mr. Evans has built around himself a smooth and efficient business organization of which he can well be proud. Service and quality products have always been the object of his firm and through their satisfactory business dealings have built up a large circle of friends in the business world.

Miss Ella M. Evald was the first bookkeeper for the Evans firm and remained with Mr. Evans until her death in June, 1923.

Joseph F. Yearly, the present bookkeeper, has been associated with Mr. Evans in business for the past twenty-two years. He has held several positions during that time, starting as a clerk and advancing to his present position.

For the past twelve years George C. Frank, formerly of the firm of Bell & Frank, has filled the position of shipping clerk. Mr. Frank is a member of the Cinnaminson Township Board of Education, Clerk of the Township Committee and a director of the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company.

Howard G. Evans, only son of Joseph T. Evans, and a George and Pierre School graduate, associated himself with his father's business three years ago.

Alexander M. Smith has been associated with the business as salesman and assistant bookkeeper for nine years.

Daniel M. Dally has recently become connected as a salesman for the firm.

In 1849 Israel Heulings opened a coal and lumber yard at Centerton on the Rancocas. He opened another in Riverton in the early eighties. After the death of Albert Heulings in 1900 the late Samuel Rudderow conducted the business until 1905 when Mr. Evans took it over.

Mr. Evans is a member of the Grange, Masonic order and the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club.

COUNTY SCOUT FINANCE DRIVE TO OPEN FRIDAY

Seek to Raise $12,000 for Operating Expenses and Camp Debt

ANNIVERSARY WEEK

SPLENDID SUCCESS

Many Activities Demonstrate Fine Work Being Done for Boys

This week finds Burlington County "Scout conscious."

Activities along several different lines are making these citizens of this county fully realize the importance of this great boy movement and everywhere signs of the boys and the things for which they stand are found.

This Friday will be an exceedingly important day in the annals of Boy Scouts in Burlington county. As the twentieth anniversary week, which has brought many interesting programs, comes to a close, the annual finance drive of the county council is to open.

Throughout the county find instruction meetings for more than three hundred prominent and enthusiastic men, who are to be the solicitors, are scheduled for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings of this week. The officials of the movement have the campaign well planned and everything is in readiness for the "open big gun" of the drive.

Riverton Team

The Riverton team is composed of Gorham P. Sergeant, local commander, and the following team captains: Francis B. Elwell, Charles DeLaney, H. E. Moyer, Clarence Rodman and Howard Co.

The budget this year has met with much favorable comment. In addition to conducting the regular routine work of the county organization, the leaders also hope to pay off some of the debt on the new county Scout camp at Cinnaminson with the modest sum of $12,000 which they are asking from the residents of the county.

The advance gift committee predicts that drive will "go over the top" before the closing date, February 22. The group has started the work with a bang and shows every evidence of realizing its quota before the opening of the drive. Members of executive board have subscribed one hundred per cent. strong and it is rumored that their contributions alone will represent at least ten per cent. of the budget.

The programs in connection with anniversary week proved unusually successful. Special church services and at other public places in out-ports. There have been individual community celebrations, radio programs, banquets, parents' nights, troop parties, courts of honor and special window displays to demonstrate to the parents and friends of Scouts the fine work the boys are doing.

Prominent Men Interested

Nearly one hundred prominent men from all over the county attended the annual county council dinner in the Moorestown Community House Wednesday evening of last week. The dinner was arranged by Arthur W. Luce, of Moorestown, and Senator Clifford R. Powell was the toastmaster, scoring quite a hit in the role.

The chief speaker was Dr. Jerome A. Higgins, Scout Executive of Derby, Conn., who delivered an inspirational address, closing with the statement, "If you want to make a real investment and draw a dividend from your lot in life, build a boys' service station."

Other speakers included H. M. Wall, president of the county council; Mr. Luce, Alexander C. Wood, Jr., H. P. Stockwell, of Moorestown, representing the YMCA; Scout Commissioner Bryan Kane and Scout Executive M. A. Shaw.

Spirited singing was led by Jonathan W. Powell of Moorestown, with Mrs. Powell as the pianist. The Beverly Scout orchestra played during the dinner and the Plantation Five, of Moorestown, popular negro radio singers, favored with several selections.

TWO RE-ELECTED AT CINNAMINSON

Mrs. Mary R. Wood and Maurice Conrow Returned in Sharp Conflict

A sharp contest for members of the Board of Education in Cinnaminson township resulted when the Rev. M. A. Foster, pastor of the colored Baptist Church, East Riverton, sought a position on the board.

A vote of 408 was polled, which was unusually heavy for a school election. Mrs. Mary R. Wood received 256, Maurice Conrow 257. Both were up for re-election. Mr. Foster's vote was 152.

The appropriations were adopted with very little opposition. The current expense account this year was $24,468.00, which is about $1000 less than last year. The sum for replacements and repairs was $1000, a saving of $1500 over last year, and the manual training was $500, which is $600 less than last year.

The Rev. Albert Harke was chairman of the meeting. Miss Emma D. Frank, secretary, and David Kitchen and Albert Brewster, tellers.

21 FINED $115 AS CAR INSPECTORS MAKE CHECK-UP

Many Drivers Appear Before Recorder Fichter in Palmyra Police Court

UNLICENSED DRIVERS PAY HEAVY FINES

One Man Penalized for Operating New Auto on Dealer's Tags

"Check and double check." State motor vehicle inspectors "checked" on drivers in Palmyra last Thursday and twenty-one motorists drew checks amounting to $115 in fines alone. In addition there was another fair sum added for court costs.

Which makes it "triple check." Ten motor vehicle department employees, headed by Inspector Parker, of Mount Holly, made the drive. Arrests were made on numerous charges. All cases were tried before Recorder Fichter in Police Headquarters.

The highest fines were paid for drivers operating cars without licenses. Two were arraigned on this charge and were "checked" twenty-five dollars each.

No Driver's License

Several were stopped for not carrying their operator's licenses and were forced to leave their cars at the Police Station while they either went or sent for their cards.

Obstruction of license plates, plates improperly placed, no mirrors, improper lighting, lack of mufflers and several minor infractions cost car owners money.

One man, who had just purchased a new car and was operating it on dealer's tags while waiting for his to be transferred, was fined by the magistrate.

The local police, while they assisted the inspectors, took no active part in the proceedings. Recorder Fichter meted out fines as required by the motor vehicle law. When the inspector brought in an offender there was nothing for him to do but to impose a fine, in accordance with the provisions of the section of the law which was violated.

List of Offenders

The list of cases tried by the Recorder follows:

Lawrence Stance, Philadelphia, no driver's license, $25.00.
Milton Walker, Riverside, no mirror, $3.00.
Robert Peatrige, Delanco, license improperly placed, no mirror, $10.00.
Samuel Hunt, Riverside, no mirror, $3.00.
Frederick Dickerson, Church road, Palmyra, no mirror, $3.00.
Miss Frances Low, Palmyra, no driver's license, $25.00.
James Santino, Riverside, defective brakes, $5.00.
Harrison L. Brown, Collingswood, improper registration, $5.00.
William McCaffery, Philadelphia, no mirror, $3.00.
Lester E. Bishop, Beverly, left license at home, $5.00.
Muffler Charge
Milton Kern, Palmyra, defective muffler, $2.00.
Harris S. Hibbs, Beverly, improper registration, $5.00.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The regular monthly business meeting of the Auxiliary will be held in the Legion Home next Wednesday, February 19, at 8.15 p. m. After the business meeting, there is indeed a treat in store, in the form of a sketch entitled "Fleur-de-Lys and Company" to be given by a well-known Philadelphia Hotel. Helen Tossaint, who is noted for her very clever work in this line, and Miss Tossaint will be assisted by one of our own members, Mrs. George Luce. It is hoped that all members who possibly can arrange to do so will be on hand at this meeting to welcome Miss Tossaint and enjoy this program.

Unit No. 156 had eighteen members at the county banquet in Burlington, Monday evening, which was held in the Broad Street Methodist Church. A fine turkey dinner was served and enjoyed by all. Mrs. S. B. Lippincott was the soloist of the evening and Mrs. W. Rex McCrosson accompanied her as well as played for the singing during the evening. Mrs. J. Fredell Wyckoff, Department President, in whose honor this banquet was given was unable to be present owing to illness and this was a great disappointment to everyone. Miss Minnie S. Evans, of Beverly, third State Vice-President, gave a short address and County Commander W. T. B. Collett also spoke. Music was furnished by members of the Burlington County Band.

Members—have you your sheets for the "Cathedral of the Air"? If not, get in touch with Mrs. T. H. D'Au-trechy who will have as many as you can use and please try to have these finished and returned by the end of the drive, if possible. This drive, as you know, is from February 9 to February 22. Let's see what we can do by the end of that time.

Leaders of Scout Campaign

Edward A. Meehling

Alexander C. Wood Jr.

Arthur W. Luce

George B. Ferrier

These four prominent Moorestownians are leaders of the Burlington County Boy Scout Council's finance drive that opens this Friday. Mr. Meehling is the organization chairman. Mr. Wood has been selected for the general chairmanship, the campaign procedure is under the direction of Mr. Luce and Mr. Ferrier heads the big gifts committee.

BUILDING 2 SPANS AT MAPLE SHADE

Route 8-41 Overpasses Are Being Rushed for Heavy Summer Traffic

Two bridges are in the course of construction in Maple Shade for the new Palmyra-Berlin road, known as Route 8-41. One of the bridges is almost completed, while the other is not as yet under actual construction.

The bridges are located at the Pennsylvania Railroad and Main street.

The railroad bridge has been under construction for the past two months and will be open to traffic in about thirty days. It is built of concrete and structural steel. The length of the structure is ninety-eight feet.

According to H. C. Hill, of Lenola, the superintendent, there will be two tracks on the bridge when it is completed. After the one side is opened to traffic the other side will be built, although tracks will not be laid for some time on the latter half of the overpass.

The overpass for Main street will be larger and wider than the railroad span, as there is to be two sidewalks, one on each side, and a 40-foot roadway, making the total width of the bridge about 80 feet. The length will be approximately 100 feet and it will be constructed of concrete and enclosed steel.

Construction on the bridge has not started, as the men are working on a retaining wall to keep the earth from falling away from the Public Service Power Station at the bottom of the hill. Contractors plan to have the bridge completed in about six months.

The actual building will be started some time this month, as the contractors have almost completed all the preliminary work.

The road over which these bridges pass is 8-41 now being constructed between the Palmyra-Tacony Bridge and Berlin. Starting at Palmyra, it crosses over an overhead crossing at the Pennsylvania Railroad in Palmyra, along Pennsauken creek, at Forkland road, thence across the northeast section of Maple Shade, passing under the railroad and pike. Then it curves toward King's Highway at Fellowship road. Fellowship road will be followed through Mount Laurel Township to Evesboro in Evesboro Township, to Marlton, and then into Camden County at Voorhees Township to Berlin Township to the White Horse pike, with an underpass at the Pennsylvania Railroad at Bishop's Bridge.

Most of the thoroughfare is over a new right of way and when it is completed will provide a much shorter route to seashore resorts.

Mary S. Collins

Miss Mary S. Collins, a life-long resident of Moorestown, daughter of the late John S. and Kyrle A. Collins, died on February 9, at Orlando, Florida.

Funeral services will be held from the Friends' Meeting House on Wednesday, at 2 o'clock, with William Grobler, funeral director in charge. Interment will be made in Colestown cemetery.

Friends and relatives may attend the funeral.

Gertrude Harris

Gertrude Harris, twenty-two-year-old daughter of Dr. Edward Harris, of Cumberland, Maryland, died on Wednesday of last week as the result of injuries sustained in a recent automobile accident.

Funeral services were held on Saturday.

Dr. Harris was formerly of Moorestown, the Friends' Home, on East Main street, being originally his home. He has become quite a successful doctor.

BANQUET WILL BE HELD FEBRUARY 21

Tickets on Sale for Annual Mothers' and Daughters'
Dinner

The tickets for the Moorestown Y. W. C. A. mother and daughter banquet, to be held at the Community House, February 21, at 6:30 o'clock, are now ready and may be secured from any member of the committee, Mrs. George B. Ferrier, Jr., Mrs. William Mallick, Mrs. Edwin Russell, Mrs. E. E. Thresher, Mrs. W. S. Wae-land, Mrs. Margaret Thomas, Mrs. Harry Haines, Mrs. Benjamin Hal-lett, Mrs. Carry Wurst, and from the County Y. W. C. A. office, Mount Holly.

Please secure your tickets, or make your reservation early by telephoning Mrs. George B. Ferrier, Jr., as it is important for the committee to know how many to provide for.

Marion Y. W. C. A. Tea

A most enjoyable afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Roberts, of Marlton, Wednesday, February 5, when members and friends of the Y. W. C. A. were invited to a tea to meet Mrs. Edward Harmer, of Rural Communities Department; Mrs. E. P. Darlington, of New Lisbon, president, and Miss Dena M. Chayer, Executive Secretary of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A.

Discuss Marlton Club Beginning

An interesting feature of the program of the Marlton Tea was the reading of the first invitation to Marlton women to attend a meeting to discuss the advisability of organizing a Y. W. C. A. work in Burlington County.

During the summer of 1916 the National Board of the Y. W. C. A. sponsored "Eight weeks clubs". In many small communities where there was no organized work, there were two of these clubs in Marlton and the girls were so enthusiastic about their work that Miss Anna Clark, national organizer, arranged an exhibit and demonstration, followed by a round-table discussion. This first meeting was held at the Baptist Church in Marlton on the afternoon of September 30, 1916, and a similar meeting was held in the Methodist Church in the evening. From these small beginnings has grown the present county organization with a membership of 320.

The local committee working with Miss Clark for this first meeting were chairman, Mrs. Lemuel Tomlinson, Mrs. Charles K. Middleton, Mrs. Charles D. Barton, Mrs. Edward T. Vennel and Mrs. George Middleton, Jr. Three of this group of pioneers were present at Mrs. Robert's tea last Wednesday.

The program for the afternoon consisted of two groups of songs charmingly rendered by Mrs. W. J. Sheddwick, of Marltonville, accompanied by Mrs. F. Wallis Arvedson, of Moorestown. Mrs. Darlington spoke briefly and earnestly of the purpose of the YWCA and the fact that "every woman counts," whatever her color, nationality, or creed. Mrs. Harmer expressed the many enthusiasms of the values of camp life, Ockenickon, and Miss Chayer gave an interesting account of the work of the three County secretaries, Miss Chayer, Miss Sidonie Schaefer and Miss Dorothy Gebhart.

After the program a delightful tea was served and all enjoyed the social hour.

Every-Member Canvass

Plans for the annual "every-member canvass" were discussed at a meeting of the YWCA held at the County office in Mount Holly, February 7.

Mrs. William Mallick, chairman of the committee, spoke of the value of personal contacts made during membership week, as a means of interpreting the aims and ideals of the association to all its members.

District chairmen are urged to call on their workers and secure their assistance early, so that every person who is expected to work on the drive may plan her engagements accordingly.

Please do not forget the date, March 16-22. Every woman and girl in the County is eligible to membership.

Lenola Club Organized

A group of Lenola girls have organized an interesting new club, which will meet at the Lenola Community House on Tuesday evenings. At their meeting on February 4 they elected the following officers: President, Bertha Dawson; vice-president, Blanche Rudder; secretary, Mildred Winkler; treasurer, Louise Buggeln; and reporter, Dorothy Erjelson. An evening of recreation and games, under the direction of Sidonie Schaefer, of the County YWCA, and Mrs. A. W. Fritchard, of Lenola, proved most enjoyable.

Reserves Elect Officers

The past week has been the time when several Girl Reserve clubs have elected their officers for the second school semester.

Monday afternoon, February 3, Anna Incognito was elected president of the Lenola club. Daisy Robertson is vice-president; Angelina Samplen, secretary; Jane Moen, treasurer, and Martha Buggeln, reporter. Mrs. Harry Haines, of Moorestown, is the new adviser of the club.

Monday evening the Riverside High School Club, of which Mrs. Wm. Hess, Miss Anna Ferrier and Miss Helen Bethel are advisers, elected Elizabeth Schaefer as president; Allen Malher, vice-president; Louise Grab, secretary, and Verne Blugden, treasurer.

The Burlington Junior High Girls on Tuesday afternoon, February 4, elected Elizabeth Whittick, president; Sara Kloner, vice-president; Anna Brown, secretary, and Doris Blugden, treasurer. Miss Anna Blugden is adviser.

"Air Cathedral" Drive Opens

The financial campaign, for the benefit of the Memorial Chapel of the American Legion, which is to be erected at Lakehurst, as a tribute to the self-sacrifice and devoted service of those who gave their lives in the World War, opened Sunday, February 8, and will close on February 22.

DOG OWNERS FINED ON CHARGED BY WARDEN

Masonville Men Pay $27.50 After Canines Are Found Running in Fields

Charged with owning dogs that were found running at large in fields, a violation of the state fish and game laws, Budd Horner and Russell Horner, whose homes are near Masonville, were each fined $20 and costs, amounting to $27.50, at hearings before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Moorestown Town Hall Monday evening.

Charges were preferred against the men by Warden Roy Carson, of Medford, who caught the dogs on Monday. The elder Horner, Budd, who is an uncle of the Russell, strenuously opposed the proceedings and caused much excitement around Town Hall during the course of the hearing. He insisted upon giving his view of the case while Carson was testifying, interrupted the warden's testimony with the charge, "He's telling falsehoods," and generally speaking, caused quite a disturbance.

When called upon to testify, he first declared "My dog couldn't run a race, but he later disclosed ownership of the canine. After the recorder announced the penalty, he grumbled about "being railroaded."

PARKER ADDRESSES POLICE

County Detective Ellis H. Parker delivered an address on "Police Duties and Methods of Detecting Crime," at a meeting of municipal policemen at Wilburth last week. Occasional sessions of police from all parts of the State are held at State Trooper headquarters, Wilburth, where the officers receive instructions in the use of gas bombs, machine guns and other weapons, and also listen to lectures. It was one of these sessions at which Detective Parker delivered his address.

LEAGUE INSTITUTE ENROLLMENT IS 79

Fourth Session Held Monday Evening in Methodist Episcopal Church

The fourth meeting of the Midwinter Institute of Epworth Leagues of Southern Trenton District was held on Monday evening at the Moorestown Methodist Episcopal Church, with seventy-nine pupils enrolled.

Indian Mills has seven representatives; Burlington, thirty-one; Palmyra, two; Delanco, seven; Merchantville, fifteen; Jullustown, six; Medford, six, and Moorestown, five.

The Rev. A. C. Brady, of Burlington, is dean of the Institute. The Institute starts promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

7:30-8:30 p. m.—"What Is A Christian?" Rev. A. L. Bane, Bordentown; "Blind Spots," Mrs. George W. Yard, Trenton; "Intermediate Methods," Rev. A. L. Bane, Trenton.

8:30-9:15 p. m.—"Comrades of the Way," Rev. John Pemberton, Jr., Camden; "Social Pioneering," Dr. W. A. Boyd, Merchantville.

Games are held from 9:15 to 9:50. There are two more meetings before Institute closes.

On Monday evening, February 17, after the regular classes, the Moorestown Community Swimming Pool has been secured for the evening's fun. A swimming meet has been arranged. There will be diving contests, races, dead man's float, and novelty numbers.

Entrants must be enrolled Institute classes.

The final session will be held on February 24. An interesting program has been arranged, with stunts and refreshments.

Why Make It Worse?

In spite of all that we may possess of knowledge, philosophy and religion, when viewed in its stern reality, life is a tragic thing. We may be profoundly thankful for the fact that "hope springs eternal in the human breast."

Man, like every living creature, is born under the sentence of death, which rests alike upon the king on his throne and the murderer in his cell. None is exempt.

That we can cheerfully and hopefully "carry on" in the face of this certainty and in the midst of the trials of our daily existence is convincing evidence of man's courage and fortitude.

These reflections are not intended to spread gloom or discouragement, but are merely a reminder that, taken at its best, there is enough anguish in the world, without anyone seeking to make the burden of another harder to bear.

Along the thorny paths of life each can do much to aid, comfort and encourage his neighbor. Why, then, should we choose to do those things which needlessly bring added misery to others instead of joy?

The Boy Who Used to be You

By STEPHEN W. MEADER

Editor's Note:—Mr. Meader, whose home is in Moorestown, in Burlington county's foremost author of boys' books. He has written "The Black Buccaneer," "Down the Big River" and "Longshanks," popular boys' fiction that enjoys an exceedingly wide sale.

Take a minute to think back to your own boyhood. It's something that most of us don't do often enough. Remember that shining-eyed youngster who wriggled with excitement as he read Henty and Cooper (or maybe it was Nick Carter and Young Wild West) and dreamed of the valiant deeds he would do some day?

Think what membership in an organization like the Boy Scouts of America would have meant to that boy who used to be you! Do you get a thrill out of watching a troop of Scouts go past on a hike? Or out of seeing their business like preparation for pitching camp or cooking a meal in the open?

Scouting is play. But perhaps it is the finest kind of play in the world. If you don't believe that it teaches self-reliance, go out with a patrol and watch your own knowledge of woodcraft against the competent efficiency of these lads. If you don't believe that it teaches honor, ask a boy to give you the Scout Law.

A Scout does not merely dream of doing things. He learns to accomplish them. He learns self-discipline, for the good of the group. He forms ideals. He follows in the footsteps of his heroes—the heroes that boy-nature demands.

Multiply this influence by millions and you begin to get some idea of what the Boy Scout Movement has already meant to America. At an amazingly small cost per boy, it is achieving results in good citizenship that must command the unbounded respect of every thoughtful man.

If you were ever a boy yourself, give your wholehearted support, this coming week, to the Boy Scouts of Burlington County.

HONESTY IN BUSINESS

I graduated from college when muckraking was in its greatest glory. The magazines and newspapers and reformers had filled our youthful minds with so much distressing information that we hardly knew whether the world was a safe place for us to step out into or not.

We looked apace on all the fellows in college whose fathers had made money. To be sure, the fathers seemed decent enough old codgers when they visited us at the fraternity house. But we felt that something was dark and bad in their past somewhere.

A business man was a being without conscience or intelligence, like a slot-machine. You gave him a nickel and he gave you a nickel's worth of goods.

If he took your nickel and withheld the goods, then he was a successful business man.

We know better now. In fact, I believe it could be shown that the greatest force for righteousness in the United States today is nothing more nor less than the once maligned BUSINESS.

Business is the greatest ally and promoter of honesty. And more and more I have come to feel that honesty is, after all, the corner-stone of all the virtues.

Nothing has impressed me more than this: Get to the top of a big business enterprise, and nine times out of ten you will find an idealist.

You will find a man who has long since ceased to be interested in mere money-making who is staying in business because of what he wants his business to do for his employees, his community, and his country. I do not say that business is perfect. Far from it.

But I do say that the time is past when the young man who goes into business needs to feel that he is making a selfish choice—a choice that cuts him off from service to his fellow-men.

"Be not slothful in business," said St. Paul. "Fervent in spirit; serving the Lord."

Many a man, building a big business in America, has, as a by-product of his building, strengthened the character and lifted the ideals of hundreds of his associates, and helped in the regeneration of a whole community.

And the number of such men—the idealists of BUSINESS in America—is increasing very fast.

STOLE HORSE, WAGON

Detective Savage, of the Philadelphia Detective Bureau, Thursday of last week, went to Marlton and located a horse and wagon that had been stolen December 21 from the livery stable of Max Liza, Caldwell and Oxford streets, Philadelphia.

William Kirk, 55, of Philadelphia, was arrested near Marlton and confessed that he had taken the horse and wagon to Marlton. He guided the livery stable of Max Liza, Caldwell and Oxford streets, Philadelphia.

He placed the horse in a stable on the Evans farm, and sold the harness to a Kennilworth man for $5.

fall far short of the duty they owe to their offspring and to society.

The progress of the child in his school work should be carefully watched and aided by admonition or approval as circumstances require. Too many parents place the entire responsibility upon the teacher and fail to see that the necessary home work is punctually performed.

Monthly grades should be given diligent attention and steps taken to spur the child to greater effort in connection with subjects in which he appears to be backward. Consultation with the teacher should be had when poor grades become too common. Sometimes a physical defect is responsible; then the attention of a physician is required.

Parents who are too indifferent to give some consideration to these things are unfit to be parents. And there are many such.

Our Local Banks

Albert W. Atwood, writing in the Saturday Evening Post, drives home a significant point when he urges that the safest place for savings is in the community savings banks. With excellent institutions of this type here, our residents should bear in mind that savings deposits are not subject to "bear" influences and that by depositing locally they serve the community as well as themselves.

Fluctuating stock values have no effect upon them, and the depositor is always free to withdraw his money at 100 cents on the dollar—with interest. This is a point which deserves careful consideration on the part of our citizens who sensibly anticipate setting aside some money in anticipation of the proverbial rainy day.

Mr. Atwood among other good references in his article says: "No person who has even the most elementary and fragmentary knowledge of finance can be ignorant of the fact that a savings deposit is one of the exceedingly few known investments that never fall in market price. To the savings depositor it makes no difference whether stocks are up a couple of hundred points or down that much."

In view of this fact, it is apparent that the savings deposit not only affords a useful cash reserve for protection against illness or unemployment, but constitutes a conservative investment free from unpredictable economic influences. For the average man, old-fashioned savings are highly desirable. They merit encouragement as a sound and productive basis for financial security.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

KEEP CHILDREN COMFORTABLE

When the children divide their time between a comfortable home and the cold out-of-doors it is sometimes difficult to decide on the proper clothing for them. Thick woolen garments are suitable for skating or a romp through the snow, but they are too warm for a steam-heated apartment.

Light-weight underwear and cotton suits or dresses are a wise choice for children who live in a well-heated house. These are desirable because they are most comfortable indoors and because of the ease with which they can be changed.

In choosing the outer wraps it should be remembered that two light-weight garments are warmer than a heavy one. A practical selection is a woolen coat that is loose enough for a sweater to be worn underneath on especially cold days. Leggings will also come in handy in frigid weather.

ORANGE SHERBET

Grate the rind of four oranges on two and one-half cups of sugar. Add to it one quart of water; put it in a double boiler and cook to a clear syrup, being very careful to remove all the scum. Remove from the fire and strain through a fine muslin cloth. When cold, add the strained juice of twelve oranges and two lemons and one pint of cold water. If not sweet enough, add more sugar. Strain it and freeze.

MAKE BABY COVERS

From old blankets you can make the most desirable sort of covers for the new baby. These may be made from pieces of the blanket of convenient size, simply hemmed around or finished with blanket stitch or bound. They have the advantage over new blankets of being very soft and pliable and are better to use than knitted coverlets, because they can be washed frequently. There is an excellent sort of carriage or crib cover that calls for pieces of old blanket. Make a cover of any desired wash material. Line it with the same material or with thin muslin. Leave a slit in the back of this lining, through which a double layer of the old blanket, cut just the right size, may be inserted. Put the hands into the cover and push out the blanket at the corners. You may then keep it secure by fastening at each corner with a tiny safety pin, or you may have little tapes at the corners of the blanket and run these through small button-holes at the corners of the cover, tying the ends secure.

The advantage of this sort of cover is that it may be washed easily and yet may be warm. The ordinary knitted carriage robe, of course, becomes thickened with many washes and never looks so attractive after it has been submitted to frequent washings.

GOLDEN SUNDAY

Put in a saucepan one-half cup of orange juice, one tablespoon lemon juice, three-fourths cup sugar and a few grains salt and boil five minutes. Cool and add pulp of one orange cut in small pieces, one tablespoon marshmallow cherries cut in small pieces and one tablespoon marshmallow syrup. Serve over vanilla ice cream.

As we look about us we don't know where we're more thankful for a few things we have, or for a lot of things we have not.

"I wonder whether the plain American reads books for culture or to kill time."—Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo, of Washington.

PARROTS

Parrots have come in for a lot of unfavorable publicity lately because of a strange disease which has attacked several persons and which is attributed to infection brought by certain parrots from South America. Physicians and health officials say there is no danger of catching "parrot fever" from a bird which has been in the family for any considerable time.

The parrot is probably the most intelligent of all birds, and the fact that it can be taught to talk makes it almost a human companion. And, like human beings, parrots develop personal attachments to such a degree that they often pine away and die when separated from their particular friends. Don't let anybody kill your parrot just because a few parrots are suspected of being disease-carriers.

FEMINISTS

Ganna Walaka, the Polish singer, who has been married to two American men, has been convicted of the U. S. Customs Court that a married woman can have a legal residence separate from that of her husband. That saves Ganna from paying duties on French gowns imported from her Paris "home," though her husband lives in Lake Forest, Illinois.

This decision is hailed as a great victory by the ultra-feminists, whose purpose in life seems to be to break up the American home and put married life on the plans of the cheapest illicit love-affair. Because this "modern" idea runs contrary to the most deep-seated traditions every expression of it gets a lot of publicity, which is probably what Ganna and the other feminists want. But by no means follows that American family life is in danger. Home and babies and husband with a good job are what the overwhelming majority of American girls still want in marriage.

STYLE

The fur coats and silk stockings worn by the American stenographers who accompanied the delegates from this country to the Naval Disarmament Conference at London, made a greater impression on English newspaper men than anything else about the delegation. Londoners never saw working girls dressed "smartly."

The young women from the different departments in Washington were taken over to do the clerical work for the delegation, but were not picked for their beauty, but solely because they were the most efficient at their jobs. In any part of America, city or country village, they would attract no special attention. We are so used to seeing our girls well-dressed and "smart" in manner and appearance that we do not realize that nowhere else in the world do any but ultra-fashionables and actresses on parade wear the latest styles in clothes.

LINCOLN

Appreciation of Lincoln's greatness is felt today throughout the Nation, both North and South. In his own time even the North did not appreciate him. Dr. Albert Shaw, the distinguished Editor of the Review of Reviews, brings this out graphically in a new two-volume book which reprints the most complete collection ever made of the newspaper caricatures, campaign posters and other pictorial representations of Lincoln during his rise to fame and his tenancy of the White House.

Even without Dr. Shaw's illuminating text the pictures show Lincoln as more grossly maligned and bitterly lampooned, even in the house of his friends, than any other man who ever rose to the Presidency. Only after his tragic death did the people of the North begin to realize that a great man had led them. We are prone to forget that no man appears great to his contemporaries.

LIGHT

Fifty years from now the world may regard the discoveries made in our time about light as the greatest scientific advance of all time. Light cures disease, ordinary sunlight, light produced in various ways by artificial means. Ordinary window glass keeps the healthful part of the sunlight out of the house. New kinds of glass let it in. In fifty years every modern home will be equipped with the new glass and illness will be less common.

Light stimulates growth of both animals and plants. An English farmer proved that exposing young pigs to ultra-violet light made them worth double their farrow-mates at six months. A French scientist recently grew strawberries in a cellar, ripening in half the normal time, using artificial light. They cost $5 apiece, but the time will come when out-of-season fruits and vegetables can be grown in the North by artificial light as cheaply as now in Florida.

The old-fashioned girl who made her best beau do all the advancing was a daughter who goes around to her boy friend's office every afternoon at four o'clock and drives him out to the country club in the yellow roaster so he can take her to tea.

Larry—"Can you imagine anything worse than being a corn stalk and having your ears pulled by the farmers?"

Harry—"How about being a potato with dirt in your eyes?"

VERY LATEST

By MARY MARSHALL

Many things that we have thought impossible have come to pass in the realm of fashion. We have submitted, at least for a time, to the return of long skirts. We may not like them and probably don't—but we are beginning to realize that the skirt that gives a glimpse of the knee is decidedly demode. We have returned to the normal waistline and women who have lost the slenderness of youth are hesitating to the corset makers or corset counters to see what aid they can get in that quarter.

We have accepted clothes that are decidedly more elaborate and often less comfortable than those to which we have become accustomed, but so far we have held out against a return of high collars. All fashions, they say, come back in the course of events and possibly it is only a matter of waiting to see a return of day clothes that fit up to the chin. Several times of late years dressmakers have tried to launch high collars. We were even assured that the two-piece suit would be out of the question if women did not accept blouses with high collars. Most women, however, find that whatever clothes may gain by the high neck line they certainly lose in inelegance.

Here and there, among the new fashions, one sees something that suggests a higher neckline for daytime dress, and to the very exceptional woman this sort of thing is becoming. But for most of us there is still everything to be said in favor of the collar line that leaves the throat exposed at the front.

The tweed dress at the top has a white lining turn-over collar and the beige crepe dress below has scarf collar that may be worn high or low.

OLD IRONSIDES

By Oliver Wendell Holmes

Ay, tear her tattered ensign down! Long has it waved on high, Able may, an eye has danced to see That banner in the sky; Beneath it rung the battle shout And burst the cannon's roar— The meteor of the ocean air Shall sweep the clouds no more.

Her deck, once red with heroes' blood, Where knelt the vanquished foe, When winds were hurrying o'er the food And waves were white below, No more shall feel the victor's tread, Or know the conquered knee; The harp of the shore shall pluck The eagle of the sea!

Oh, better that her shattered bulk Should sink beneath the wave; Her thunders shook the mighty deep And there should be her grave; Nail to the mast her holy flag, Set every threadbare sail, And give her to the god of storms, The lightning and the gale.

P. S. AGAIN CUTS GAS RATE FOR HEATING

Public Service Electric and Gas Company has filed with the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners an "Optional Rate for Gas for Heating Buildings," to become effective with bills rendered after March 1, 1930, covering consumption from February, 1930, meter readings.

The new rate is eight cents per 100 cubic feet and is available to customers who guarantee a minimum revenue of $100, representing a consumption of 300,000 cubic feet during the heating period—October to May, inclusive.

This is the third reduction in gas for home heating rates made by the company since it began to recommend to its customers the use of gas in central home heating plants.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

TEETH

I wish I knew how many millions of dollars are being spent annually on the teeth of Uncle Sam's men and women; I imagine the sum would be staggering!

Doubtless tons of human teeth are extracted each year, regardless of the age of the victims. That most of these teeth are diseased, I do not doubt; there may be excellent reasons for the massacre of the molars; but, it would seem to be high time for a study of the conditions underlying the "why" of the dental needs, the obsolescence, the caries, the pyorrhea.

It is a fact that our progenitors and racial neighbors long before us, had better teeth than we have. Explorers into darkest Africa have told us of the beautiful white teeth of natives; in fact about the only beautiful thing about the Hottentot, the Arab, the Zulu, and others, seemed to be the teeth. Why? They lived on the coarsest food imaginable; "tooth paste" was unheard of—and tooth brushes? Devilish! A Congo maid would be crazy to even think of such an utter absurdity!

No—it has been allotted to civilization to visit on its adherents the tragedy of the tooth, not to mention dozens of the more serious diseases. How has the feat been accomplished?

First, as to food. Rough, coarse food is an excellent substitute for the tooth-brush. A bag of wholesome pop-corn is a good dentifrice; eating apples the old-fashioned way is a mighty good tonic for teeth and gums. The mastication of the right kind of substances was, doubtless, intended by the Creator to be all the "treatment" the teeth and gums needed. It is generally when man tries to improve on His methods, that the traitor falls down.

There is no doubt in my mind that, the dirty tooth brush is responsible for more cases of pyorrhea than any other one thing. More than this—the incessant scrubbing of the teeth is harmful to a most pronounced degree; and a neglected bowel is a prolific source of disease that may extend to the remotest part of the human structure.

JESUS HEALING AND HELPING

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Jesus was surely the news item of his day. He is now in the midst of His public ministry and multitudes are talking about Him. In the middle of His long ministry in Galilee people are coming to this Wonder-Worker from all directions. They are interested in His words, for He has a new type of teaching, but they are far more concerned with the things He does, which are so contrary to nature. Adults as well as small boys are alert to see something out of the ordinary. Matthew has the habit of grouping similar events and we find a massing of miracles in chapters 8-9. From the standpoint of Jesus these were signs to help authenticate His teachings. The people were even so very slow of heart to believe. The general location is Capernaum and the Sea of Galilee. Read the parallel passages in Mark 2 and Luke 5.

Men of Gadara brought Him to desert from their midst when He cast out the evil spirit from the man who had been possessed. They rated their lost swine at higher value than the good of a man. It is a joy to read that the people on the Capernaum side were eager to have Him return. They had need of His help and at once began to bring their sick to Him for healing. Crowds fill the place where He is speaking, but that does not prevent unusual activities on the part of the four who are seeking to bring their paralyzed friend into His presence. A very important personal study is to consider "A corner of the bed." What four people will work with equal energy to introduce one to the saving knowledge of Jesus Christ there will be equal success to-day when the healer "saw their faith." He gave attention to the man who was being lowered from the upper story.

Physicians diagnose the entire patient rather than merely look at one sore place. Sin was the basic trouble in the life of this physically helpless man. He was cleansed first and then by the same divine power was enabled to rise and roll up the bed himself. As with forgiveness of sin, there was the instantaneous and complete cure. The crowd gave God the glory rightly.

The beneficence of Christ is also revealed in His general program. He purposed to share the joy of service and its results with others. Individuals were invited to join with Him in this work that the Father sent Him to accomplish. Levi, the tax collector, was a man of tremendous possibility and one day the abrupt command was given to him, "Follow me." Hated by men because of his office this man of affairs was invited into the School of the Disciples and later was chosen to be one of the Twelve Apostles. A new name was given with the changed life and the Sunday School world is now spending six months in studying the Gospel that he wrote. Jesus was moved by possibility, rather than by local prejudice, in calling Matthew as a co-worker.

It is reasonable to declare that when Matthew turned over his accounts it was the first honest reckoning that had come to the Roman government. The break with the old life was formally announced at a banquet, which was open to "publicans and sinners." While the Pharisees equally needed spiritual help, these outcasts would accept it. The critics that day were those who would not be found lifting even a corner of the bed, when there was specific need. Jesus is still saying to all of us, "Follow me"; for the world is in constant need of "Healing and Helping." To such service we are commissioned.

GOOD POLLINIZERS IN APPLE VARIETIES

Among fruit growers it is generally understood that the most important single factor in obtaining a set of fruit is pollination. In their efforts to obtain effective pollinizers, growers have attempted to provide good sources of pollen and ample means for its distribution.

According to Prof. A. J. Farley, extension horticulturist in pomology for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, almost any variety of apples which produces an abundant supply of pollen will be a satisfactory pollinizer for other varieties which bloom at the same time.

Good pollinizers among the early blooming varieties are McIntosh, Oldenburg, Wagner, Twenty Guine, and Maiden Blush.

Some of the mid-season blooming varieties which are good pollinizers are the Jonathan, Grimes, Hubbardston, Cortland, Wealthy, Yellow Transparent, Delicious, and Golden Delicious.

Among the late-blooming apples that ranked as good pollinizers are the Northern Spy, Rome, Northwestern Greening, and the Tolman Sweet.

A partial list of the varieties which have been found to be poor pollinizers includes the Baldwin, Winesap, Graymame, Stayman, Rhode Island Greening, King, Smokehouse, Paragon, and Roxbury Russet.

It is advisable, Professor Farley points out, to have pollinizers in every third or fourth row, with every third tree in every third row as a minimum number where a pollen variety is top-worked into a solid block of a self-sterile variety.

"In small blocks containing several different varieties there is no problem as far as pollinizers are concerned," the pomologist explains. In large blocks of one variety, however, cross-pollination may be one of the limiting factors in connection with the production of a profitable fruit crop.

"Fruit growers who have frequent crop failures in certain orchards when neighboring orchards produce a crop should make a careful study of their pollination conditions. This study should include not only the pollinizers, but also whether or not there are an abundance of bees in the orchard when the trees are in bloom."

SOME FOLKS TRY TO ACT SMART, AND THEN THERE'S THE REAL SMART ONES THAT JUST ACT NATURAL!

Murphy had been careless in handling the blasting powder in the quarry and Duffy had been deputed to break the news gently to the widow.

"Mrs. Murphy," said he, "isn't today the fellow calls for the weekly payment for Murphy's life insurance?"

"It is," answered Mrs. Murphy. "Well, now, a word in your ear," said Duffy. "Sure ye can snap your fingers at the fellow today."

"There's one league that does its best work on wet grounds." "Which one is that?" "The Anti-Saloon League."

"When in Rome did you do as the Romans do?" "No; my wife was with me."

"I wish, Matilda, you would agree not to talk when I'm driving in traffic." "We can discuss that as we go along, Adolphus."

The Boys Who Are Preparing in Burlington County

In this county today hundreds of boys — members of our Boy Scout troops — are preparing themselves for tomorrow, developing loyalty, trustworthiness and dependability to produce good men for Burlington County.

Ex-President Coolidge has said, "The Scout code seems to embrace almost every virtue needed in the personal and social life of mankind."

Thrift is one of the twelve Scout laws. Scouting teaches a boy that he must be prepared financially. He must learn to earn money and save a portion. In fact, before taking his second step in Scouting, a boy must earn and deposit at least one dollar in a public bank.

The officers and directors of this bank consider it a privilege to contribute this space to the movement that is doing so much to build up better citizenship for Burlington County.

The Palmyra High School quintet lost a tough battle Monday night when Riverside came out on top of a 21-23 score in a game played in the Palmyra gym.

The outcome of the game was a distinct surprise to the followers of both teams. Palmyra ruled a heavy favorite to win and put up a stiff fight before going under. Only a few points separated the teams at all stages, with Riverside taking the lead at the start of the third period to maintain it the remainder of the game.

Palmyra led at half-time, 11-10, while the count was deadlocked at 10-10 at the end of the third chapter.

Coach Ken Diamond utilized the services of 11 players in a vain attempt to win the game, while Coach Herbert Horner only used six court-men.

Foul goals provided the margin of victory, as each scored nine field "buckets." Keelbar, Kaplan, Seaman and Tice each scored two double-deckers for Riverside, while Baker arched in the same number for Palmyra.

Baker and Kelly played stellar roles as the Palmyra High School quintet soundly trounced Mount Holly High by a score of 30 to 21 on the former's floor last Friday night.

The scoring of Kelly and Baker in this tussle was nothing short of sensational. Kelly located the loop from the floor on five occasions totaling ten points. Baker scored the same number of points from four field goals and two fouls.

Hutchins was high man for Mount Holly scoring three field goals and three from the foul line for a total of nine points.

This victory marked the sixth straight for the "Pals" in the Burlington County League.

George Smith Opens Indoor Golf School

George Smith, popular Moorestown Field Club golfer, "pro," has opened a golfing school in the Community House gymnasium. He has a large canvas "back stop" with bull's eyes to gauge the accuracy of the indoor golfer, and the outfit is complete with balls, from which the driving is done.

George reports he has excellent equipment and says that the work will prove beneficial to anyone who will try the new equipment.

He reports that lessons will be given by appointment and arrangements for instruction may be made at the Community House.

Variety of Interesting Events Planned for Meeting This Month

The plans for the next meeting of the Compass Club of Palmyra and Riverton are fully explained in the letter which follows:

February 7th, 1930.

Dear Brother:

All those who were out in January are ready to admit that the meeting was a "wow." The quilt tournament got under good headway, and the fellows who were defeated are determined to reverse the decision at the next meeting.

Then again, the party in the hall below was well enjoyed by the big turnout, concluding with the unique luncheon prepared by the men. That committee can think up some of the doggiest curiosities, and when the spread was presented, the "pals in blankets" were voted the best ever!

This little stunt got the ladies riled, and they decided to take the matter into their own hands for the February meeting, and they don't expect to let a doghouse man in on the secret, and from this you can rest assured that the ladies will not be outdone by mere men in the preparation of the cats.

Says fellow, Friday evening, February 14, is going to be a humdinger! We have a wonderful program. You know there is a prize of a box of cigars for the members to try for. The Brother presenting the largest number of applications, including new and re-initiated members, gets the prize at this meeting. This little contest has caused quite a lot of fresh material which will be the pride of the club.

After the initiation, the ladies will join in a good old-fashioned party. That is, provided the Sergeant-at-Arms can keep the ladies from crashing the gate during initiation.

The men will assemble on the second floor for this meeting and the ladies will retire to the third floor for their initiation. After the initiation, and after a little business there is to attend to, then all hands around for the biggest, the best, the greatest conglomeration you ever witnessed, to be concluded by that stupendous surprise luncheon which is being prepared by the ladies. Don't forget!—Friday evening, February 14!

By the way, the ladies are going to hold a card party at the Porch Club, Riverton, on Friday evening, February 21. Make a note of this date and give the ladies a great big hand.

Fraternally yours,
Geo. M. Harris, Secretary.

"FOUR FEATHERS" AT WALT WHITMAN

Splendid Vaudeville Program Arranged for Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this Week

For the last half of the week starting Thursday, the Walt Whitman Theatre has arranged another justly famous double feature vaudeville program, augmented by a screen synchronized picture of unusual attractiveness and importance.

Headline this great vaudeville bill is "Gerber's Galettes" featuring Argentine's foremost dancer with Joe Williams, three Scovill Sisters, Mario Armes and Check Hayes, in "An Interlude of Songs and Dances." This is the first appearance in the East, having just ended a twelve weeks tour of the south, where they have delighted many audiences. "General" Alexander, well known tramp comedian in "One of the Idle Rich" is the other feature act on this great vaudeville bill.

Wheeler Brothers, comedy eccentricities open the bill with hand-balancing of unusual talent, and Edwards & Sanford carry on where they leave off in a novelty comedy act entitled "Just Foolin' Around."

Remember the high courage of "Beau Geste."

Remember the wild animal terrors of "Chang!"

Then you'll never forget this darling film, Paramount's new sensation in sound, "The Four Feathers," which will be the feature photoplay attraction for Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This mighty spectacle-thriller, which combines them both in a story that has more plot suspense, more amazing adventure than either of them. With a cast headed by William Powell, Richard Arlen, Fay Wray, Clive Brook and Noah Berry it is sure to please.

"The Dance of Life," the ultimate in perfection in the all talking motion picture medium, will be shown Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. It has everything that makes for thrilling, gripping entertainment—a romantic love story of back-stage life, burlesque sequences, dancing, a gorgeous "Follies" revue, singing, and dialogue and color. It is Paramount's master production made from the remarkably successful stage play, "Burlesque."

Hal Skelly who originated the role of Skid in the stage production comes in this part in the motion picture production. Nancy Carroll, red-headed beauty of "Close Harmony" and "Able's Irish Rose," has the other featured role. The cast includes such stage and screen favorites as Dorothy Revier, Ralph Trescow, Charles D. Brown, Al St. John and May Boley. The story takes one behind the scenes in a burlesque theatre and follows the love affairs of two interesting performers throughout a series of events which takes one of them to Broadway circuit and the big revues. Six original songs have been written for the production and many old time and popular songs are heard throughout the picture.

Snappy music by Billy Fitzgerald's Country Club Orchestra is assured by Albert O'Hare's music committee.

ECHOES OF PLANE CRASH IN COURT

Mexican Good Will Flier's Death Recalled as Discoverer is Tried

Echoes of the untimely death of Captain Emilio Carranza, the Mexican "Good Will" flier, in the woods in the vicinity of Chatsworth, were revived at the Court House, at Mount Holly, Thursday of last week, when Henry Carr, of Chatsworth, the young man who with his wife discovered the crashed plane and later the body of Carranza, was before the Court on a charge of receiving stolen goods.

A Carr had been indicted for receiving bedding and other camping supplies which it was claimed were stolen from the hunting lodge of the Columbus Gun Club, located just over the line in Ocean County, and in the latter part of the same time he was charged with stealing the goods.

He pleaded non vult to the charge of larceny in Ocean County, and the information received by Prosecutor Hillman was that Carr had first been sentenced to six months in the Ocean County jail, but that later sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation.

At Mount Holly, Carr retracted a former plea of not guilty to receiving stolen goods and pleaded non vult.

Carr denied any knowledge of how the goods got in his house, saying he was in at Hammon when they were put in but at the same time he practically admitted his guilt by pleading non vult.

Carr proved just as lucky as he was in Ocean County, for Judge Riggs suspended sentence, placing him on probation for one year and giving him three months in which to pay the costs.

Carr had also been indicted for resisting an officer, it being claimed that he put up a fight when State Troopers went to arrest him, but on motion of Prosecutor Hillman this indictment was nolle prossed.

Other Defendants in Court

Frank E. Stowell, of Bordentown, who had previously entered a plea of non vult, to passing a worthless check for about $150, was also given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year and given three months in which to pay the costs of the proceedings.

John Burtis Horner, of Chesterfield, charged with stealing fifteen chickens from Howard M. Rogers, entered a plea of guilty, but Judge Riggs wanted a little longer to think over the matter, and Horner went back to the County jail for another week.

Criminal Business

John Barrett, of Bordentown, charged with possession of liquor and maintaining gambling devices at his place, entered a plea of non vult to the first charge and the latter indictment was ordered nolle prossed.

He will be back for sentence on February 20.

Dewey Jenette, of Chesterfield, a liquor law offender, made a retraction and he will be sentenced on February 13.

Stephen Rykowski and Victoria Rykowski, of Burlington, were charged with assault. This proved to be a family jar, and they were assessed the cost amounting to $25.

George Karitis, of Burlington, a liquor law offender, will be back for sentence on February 20.

Walter Davenport, of Riverside, charged with carrying weapons, had his case heard by a jury on Wednesday and the verdict of the jury was not guilty.

Frank Drew, of Riverside and Lenola, charged with adultery, was adjudged guilty by a jury.

Escapes Heavy Fine

Joseph Magee, of Mount Holly, who was indicted for embezzling $605.25 from Anthony Rogers, Inc., automobile company, of Mount Holly, and who was at large until recently when he returned and gave himself up, entered a plea of guilty, which was a retraction, he having previously pleaded not guilty.

Attorney Harold T. Parker made a strong plea for clemency for Magee, and stated that Mr. Rogers was willing to give him another chance and would re-employ him.

Prosecutor Hillman opposed leniency, saying the law was not passed for the express purpose of punishing offenders, but to teach others that crimes are not to be condoned.

Judge Riggs felt that Magee was entitled to another chance, in view of the fact that his employer still had faith in him, and he fined him $200 and placed him on probation for two years, during which time the fine is to be paid.

Magee did not gain his liberty, however, as he was wanted for desertion from the United States Army, having enlisted after decamping with Mr. Rogers' money, and the officials at the jail were detaining him until the arrival of government officials to take him away.

Assumes Blame to Save Son

Harry DuBell, charged with possession of liquor at Wrightstown, indicted along with his father, John DuBell, on a similar offense, had the indictment against him nolle prossed after the father assumed all the responsibility.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

Calvary Presbyterian

Rev. C. T. Bates, Minister

The pulpit of Calvary Presbyterian Church, of Riverton, next Sunday will be filled by Hans P. Freese, a well known lawyer of New York, who will speak on "Mormonism." Mr. Freese is President of the Elders' Association of New York Presbytery and a member of the New York Social Union, and is known as an unusually forceful and effective speaker.

The members of the congregation and their friends are most earnestly urged to take advantage of this opportunity to hear this subject presented by Mr. Freese. The morning service will be held at 11 o'clock; evening service at 8 o'clock and Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 a. m.

The Semper Fidelis Bible Class will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow (Friday), February 14, at the home of Mrs. Herbert Magowan, East Riverton.

The Mission Study Class will take up the study of "Crowded Ways" by Charles Hatch Sears, Wednesday evening. The class will be under the leadership of Mr. Bates.

The Women's Missionary Society will hold an All-Day Sewing Meeting Wednesday, February 19, starting at 9:30 a. m. Luncheon will be served at 12:30. Price 35 cents. All luncheon reservations must be made by February 16 with Mrs. Fred P. Hemphill, Phone 134.

The Ladies' Aid Society announce an Apron and Food Sale on Friday, April 11.

The Boy Scouts, with their Scoutmasters, local Council and Board of Control, were present in full force last Sunday evening. A more respectful, reverent and attentive group of boys would be exceedingly difficult to find. The large attendance of parents and friends is proof that the fine work being done for the betterment of our boys is highly appreciated.

The Church School with unabated interest in all departments will have a program of inspiration at 9:45 a. m. Morning Worship, 11 o'clock.

Ministry of Music—"Vox Celeste," "Ave Marie," Schubert, "March Celeste," Lachner; anthem, "Come Unto Me," Worler.

"KONJOLA ONLY MEDICINE THAT DID ANY GOOD"

Nervous Breakdown Caused 8 Months of Misery — New Medicine Brings Relief

MRS. BERTHA LACHENMAYER

"Konjola is the only medicine that did me any good," said Mrs. Bertha Lachenmayer, 231 South Fourth avenue, New Brunswick, N. J. "For days at a time I suffered with splitting headaches; my nerves were so weak that indigestion and constipation came to be a frightful agony, and sleep was impossible. I was losing weight, strength and energy and could scarcely do my work."

"A neighbor persuaded me to try Konjola, and I shall always be grateful to her. A few bottles of this great medicine so improved my health that I am free of stomach and bowel trouble. My nerves are strong and steady; I sleep well and my appetite is excellent. I eat what I wish without discomfort and never take cathartics. I can never say enough for this great medicine, and I urge every sufferer to try Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Riverton at L. E. Keating's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

one-sided, but giving scope for all the many activities in the spiritual progress of man. One-sided things in the nature of the case are bound to be queer and lacking in reason.

The Church year aims to present all aspects of the truth in due season. The undue stress of this or that aspect of truth, however good that truth may be, is responsible for all such strange things as the present unpopularity of seeds—split up some times on account of such a trivial thing as the use of buttons or books or some other absurd thing. We might add to our Litanies—"From all lack of humor and inability to see the ridiculous side of things. Good Lord, deliver us."

A very cordial invitation is extended to the birthday party of St. Agnes Guild. Wednesday next is the date, February 19, and a program of interest and pleasure has been prepared for your delight. After the program a cup of cheer will give all an opportunity to linger a while.

A very splendid attendance of the members of the Men's Club of Christ Church on the occasion of their annual church service on Sunday evening. The vocal effort of the members was excellent and very inspiring.

The next meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary will take the form of a luncheon. The date is the 25th and the president is anxious to have a record attendance. Will any member desirous of attending please notify the secretary, Mrs. E. E. Fox, 328 Garfield avenue; phone 861. Monday, February 25th, at one o'clock.

The Sunday School teachers will meet next Monday evening, the 17th, at 8 p. m., for lesson study and mutual help.

The mission work of the Church for 1929 was oversubscribed to the extent of ten thousand dollars. At such a time as this the Church is doubly grateful for the loyal response to the Presiding Bishop's appeal.

The Young People's Society, which meets on Sunday evening at 7:30 p. m., with an interesting program, is in charge of one of the members, and the interest is growing. The leader for Sunday will be announced after Church School.

Services Septuagesima Sunday: 10:30 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon, "They Received Every Man a Penny."

2:30 p. m. Church School and Address, "God's Bank."

8:00 p. m. Evensong and Sermon, "Mental and Spiritual Renewal."

Henry Ward Beecher once said: "The Church is not a gallery for the exhibition of eminent Christians, but a school for the education of imperfect ones."

BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. George Lockett, B.D., Pastor

The supper given by the Thilow Baraca Class last Saturday night was a great success, being about the largest affair of its kind ever given in the Church. Two hundred and eighty persons were served. The supper was prepared by Joseph H. Pike and served by members of the class, assisted by their wives. The proceeds will be turned over to the New Building Fund. The class desires to express its appreciation to its friends for their assistance in making this supper such a great success.

Music during the supper Saturday evening was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Claude Y. Barto. Their selections on violin and piano were greatly enjoyed.

Last Sunday, "Race Relationship Sunday," Pastor Lockett preached in the East Riverton Baptist Church at the afternoon service. There was baptism at this service. He was accompanied by Deacons Cooper, Pike and Johnson.

We were pleased to have Assistant Superintendent David Wood with us again Sunday, after an absence of several weeks on a business trip through the West.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

"SOUL" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 16, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "I will set my labor among you, and my soul shall not abhor you. And I will walk among you, and will be your God, and ye shall be my people (Leviticus 26:11, 12)."

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father" (John 14:12).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Like the great Exemplar, the healer should speak to disease as one having authority over it, leaving Soul to master the false evidences of the corporal senses and to assert its claims over mortality and disease" (p. 395).

One way to find out whether you are still young is to attend a dance on one of these hot summer nights and try to keep going until one o'clock.

HOT WATER for THE HOUSEHOLD

There is no reason why every home today should not have at least some sort of water supply heating system. Installations of this type are available at prices within the reach of everyone, and the housewife who has to use out-dated methods of securing hot water is throwing away energy, time and patience. An ample supply of hot water makes all household tasks easier and shorter; abundant hot water reduces the labor involved in doing the family laundry, cleans clothes better and lengthens their life; hot water at the turn of the hand means hot water without waste of time or effort; hot water is an important factor in health and sanitation.

GAS TAX TO AID TOWNSHIP ROADS

Freeholders Pass Resolution Favoring Bill Giving County $100,000

The cost of maintaining Township roads has become such a serious problem that State aid is being sought. Senate Bill No. 73 provides for taking $2,000,000 from the amount raised by the gasoline tax and distributing it to the 21 Counties in the State—$100,000 to each County.

The Burlington County Board of Freeholders went on record last Friday as favoring the passage of this bill, when a resolution to that effect, offered by Charles R. Stout, Director of Roads, was unanimously passed. Senator Clifford R. Powell and Assemblyman Marcus W. Newcomb will be asked to work for the passage of this bill.

Mr. Stout also submitted a resolution which was unanimously passed, asking the State Highway Commission to include in its 1930 program the paving of those sections of Routes 40 and 8-40, and Route 38, which are in Burlington County. Route 40 runs from Marlton to the Ocean County line and on to Lakehurst. Route 8-40 is a spur branching off to Route 40 at Four Mile Colony and going to Manahawken. Route 38 runs South of Moorestown and joins the Mount Holly-Pemberton road half a mile east of Mount Holly.

A communication was received from the State Highway Commission, stating that the road material specifications submitted by the Board of Freeholders had been approved. Bids will soon be asked for the required materials.

A communication from New Hanover Township, asking the assistance of the Board of Freeholders in their effort to get State aid in the reconstruction of a roadway from Cookstown one mile south toward Cranberry Hall, was referred to the Director of Roads.

The Bell Telephone Company was permitted to post a bond of $5,000 with the County to cover all necessary excavations and damages within the next year. The company argued that the former system of posting a separate small bond for each time it was forced to open a County road was burdensome.

County Road Schedule
Director of Roads Stout submitted the schedule for road improvement, which was unanimously adopted.

The roads to be improved are as follows:

Moorestown-Marlton.

RIVERTON POLICE MAKES A REQUEST

Drivers Asked Not to Run Into Driveway at Post Office

Following the near accident several weeks ago, in which two small children narrowly escaped being crushed by a car backing out of the driveway along side the Riverton Post office, the Police Department has endeavored to discourage the habit many people have of running their cars in to this driveway to get the mail and then backing out.

"No parking" signs have been placed in front of the post office, but they have been either misunderstood or ignored. What the police department desires is that patrons of the post office do not run their cars into the driveway, but stop at the curb.

The borough marshals have been directed to instruct those who do not observe the new regulation of the police department, and if this does not suffice it may be necessary to issue "tickets," much as the authorities would dislike to do so.

The measure has been adopted in the interest of public safety, and the police department urgently requests the cooperation of the public.

YEAR'S SUMMARY OF WELFARE WORK

Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson Represented on Board of Directors

Some very interesting sidelights on the splendid work being done by the Community Welfare Association of Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson were disclosed in the report of the secretary, Mrs. P. L. Shill, at the annual meeting last Thursday evening.

In the report Mrs. Shill mentioned several cases in which the association had done some very commendable work. One case was at the time of the Roster fire last August, in which both Mr. and Mrs. Roemer lost their lives. The adjoining house was damaged and the family living there was left badly in need of help. Mayor George N. Wilmer immediately called two Welfare Workers and asked them to take charge of the distressed family.

The roof had been burned and the house flooded. The five little children, aged one, two, three, five and seven, were on the porch. The mother had already hung clothing and bedding on the line to dry and the husband was carrying what he could out in the yard to dry. The house was positively untenable, so the first thing to do was to find some place where the family might eat and sleep.

Find Home for Family

The rent for the family could not exceed $25 per month; therefore getting a house readily was somewhat difficult. Several places were located finally but the first had no way of heating; the second, the owner would not allow children, etc. A little later a place was found, but the rent was more than the allotted $25, as a donation to the Welfare the owner very

TWO RIVERTON MEN SERIOUSLY INJURED

Frank Holvik and Robinson MacMullin are Victims of Ice Road Accident

Monday of this week Frank Holvik and Robinson "Babe" MacMullin were badly injured in an automobile collision on the Moorestown-Mount Holly road, near Rancocas.

Due to the icy condition of the road, a car driven by R. J. Mulford, of Burlington, collided with Holvik's machine and entirely demolished it.

Holvik suffered a cut artery of the right hand and was severely cut and bruised when he was thrown out of the car into a snow drift.

MacMullin is suffering from severe cuts and bruises about the hand and right arm and a possible fracture of the rib.

Holvik and MacMullin were taken to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, by passing motorists. Mulford was not hurt and no arrests were made.

WARNING!

Police Department May Enforce Bicycle Ordinance

There is a borough ordinance prohibiting the riding of bicycles on the pavements in Riverton. This ordinance was passed in the days of horse drawn vehicles, and at that time was more or less rigidly enforced.

Since the advent of motor cars, riding bicycles in the street has become hazardous to the health of the officials have been disposed to "let down the bars" a little.

And, as often happens, this leniency has been abused. Big boys ride their wheels on the pavements at a speed that is highly dangerous to pedestrians, especially children and elderly people.

On addition to this, they ride on the sidewalks at night without lights or horns, and whiz by pedestrians in a most terrifying manner.

If these abuses of privileges are not stopped, it will be necessary for the borough marshals to arrest the offenders. And Mr. DeLaney, the new director of public safety, says, "I don't mean maybe!"

RIVERTON PARK COMMITTEE NAMED

Mayor Appoints Committee of Seventy-seven Citizens to Work With Council

At the meeting of the Riverton Borough Council last Thursday night, Mayor Howard M. Rogers appointed a committee of 77 citizens to co-operate with the Borough Council in formulating plans for the development, improvement and equipment of Memorial Park as a public playground and recreation center.

The first meeting of the committee will be held on March 4, in the old bank building, where the Borough Council meets, while the Fire House is being remodeled. All meetings of this committee will be open to the public, and interested citizens are urged to attend and co-operate, whether their names happen to be on the committee or not. Councilman Elwell, new chairman of the Borough Property Committee, desires to have a free expression of opinions and suggestions.

LARGE INCOME TAX PAID BY RIVERTON

More Than 75% of Rivertonians Have to Wrestle With Intricate Blanks

A subscriber who is fond of figures has dug up the following statistics relative to income tax paid by Riverton and some of her neighbors:

Personal Income	Native	White
Tax Returns	444
Mount Holly	325	1094
Riverside	92	761
Palmyra	202	539
Moorestown	488	914
Beverly	125	486

From the above you will see that Riverton rates a little better than 75%, Palmyra 38%, Moorestown 54%, Beverly 27%, Riverside 12% and Mount Holly 21%.

PALMYRA TO GET FINE BOULEVARD

Borough's Share of Mile-Long Highway to be Paid for by Bridge Company

The Borough of Palmyra is to be presented with a mile-long boulevard of reinforced concrete construction, according to plans outlined by Edward W. G. Borer at the meeting of Council Tuesday night.

The road under consideration is the proposed "Bridge Boulevard" from Cinnaminson avenue to the Palmyra-Palmyra Bridge plaza. The construction of this spur was authorized by the Council on a proposition wherein the Borough was to pay one-fourth of the cost and the State Highway Department was to pay the other three-fourths.

The bridge company, represented by Mr. Borer, volunteered to pay for the Borough's share of the improvement, which is estimated at $7,500. The Council was well satisfied with the proposal and passed a resolution to accept, provided the Board of Education offers no objection.

To Consult School Board

Council did not feel it should take definite action without consulting the School Board, since that body is very much interested in any money received from taxation, and Council, in accepting Mr. Borer's proposal, feels that the appeal on the bridge assessment should be withdrawn in view of the generous action of the bridge company.

While Council is willing to withdraw its tax appeal for this year, it made it very clear that the matter will not be taken as affecting any action in future years in any manner.

The new road to the bridge will start at the present intersection of Cinnaminson avenue and Temple boulevard and continue in a wide curve across the land of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company and end at the Bridge plaza.

Already Appropriated

The $7,500 needed to build this road has already been appropriated by Council when the budget was made up and will, necessarily, be figured in the tax rate for this year.

The money paid by the bridge company will be used to reduce the tax rate next year.

An ordinance to prohibit the establishment of "Automobile Graveyards" in the Borough of Palmyra was passed at Tuesday's meeting.

The ordinance, which is printed elsewhere in this issue, will make it possible for the Borough authorities to regulate all such establishments and prevent junk yards of this sort from being established in proximity to valuable property.

Another ordinance providing for the construction of gutters and sidewalks along certain streets in the Borough was also passed on first reading. This ordinance is also printed elsewhere in this issue.

Let Garbage Contract

A contract for the removal of garbage and ashes was awarded to J. Austin Haines for $1,800 a year. Another bid of $2,100 was submitted.

A letter from Gilbert Comegys was read in which complaint was made that so many stray dogs were a menace. Mr. Comegys related a case wherein his child was bitten and asked that action be taken to control this situation.

A copy of a State law was read with definitely sets forth the obligations of dog owners and it was tentatively decided to arrange for strict enforcement of this act. Tags will have to be printed and other arrangements made. Notice of the action taken will be published in a week or two.

An invitation to the Borough officials to attend a banquet given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Fire Company March 17 was received and accepted with appreciation.

A letter from the League of Municipalities was read in which Council was requested to ask Senator Powell and Assemblyman Newcomb to support a bill which would return to the municipalities a portion of the gas tax.

The passage of the gas tax made it impossible for municipalities to tax automobiles as property and was the cause of a great loss of revenue, resulting in a higher real estate tax.

SATURDAY IS DAY FOR SENIOR PLAY

"Mirthquake" of Laughter Promised by "Forty Miles from Nowhere"

Last week preparations are being made by the Seniors of Palmyra High School as the dates of their annual play are drawing near. The play, "Forty Miles from Nowhere," is one of the best comedies presented in this section for years. Each of the three acts combine to make a "mirthquake" of laughter. The characters, each in his or her own way, form a most entertaining cast.

The plot is wound around the desire and attempt of Mr. Henry Ryan to produce his own play. Eugene Bruno is Mr. Ryan, who, though a strong-headed, successful business man, proves to be a very awkward and inexperienced actor. Mrs. Ryan, Elizabeth Hudson, who has evidently ruled the peaceful household for many years in a stern and cool manner, loses some ground when her mate determines to carry out his supreme desire.

Dot Ryan, Rose Baer, loves both her parents, and with the real American spirit plans to help her father so that he may not spend his fortune. Jack Winthrop, Leon Coles, as her friend and a handsome collegiate from Harvard, enters in Dot's plan as leading man of the amateur play. Henry Wilbraham, as Sam Jones, displays the antics of a hard-boiled stage director.

Count Pierre Marquette, Walter McAllister, as the typical, no-account French dude, and Marie Joy, Ruth Lutz, as the modern flapper-vampire, make a very original pair of comedians. Marion Bang and Bobby Clark, played by Alice Wright and Fred Wilbert, respectively, are the true American girl and boy.

Thompson, William Cadman, the thoroughly English butler, becomes an enemy of the Count and brings much a laugh from everyone. Polly and Frances Day are sweet young twins and very attractive. These parts are played by Grace Kersey and Gertrude Burr.

You will enjoy a delightful evening of good acting and splendid entertainment by a well-coached cast when you see "Forty Miles from Nowhere." Remember the dates—February 22 and March 1. The doors of the auditorium open at 8:15 p. m. You can obtain tickets from any Palmyra High School student.

RIVERTON COUPLE WILL CELEBRATE

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sloan Will Entertain February 26; Many Friends Expected

Many friends will join Mr. and Mrs. John H. Sloan, residents of Riverton for 22 years, in the celebration of their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their home on the evening of February 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloan, who live at 307 Harrison street, were residents of Norristown at the time they were married.

Mr. Sloan, who was Ida May Farnous before her marriage, is 66 years of age and Mr. Sloan is 72.

Their son, Leon, the only one living of three children, lives in Pennsylvania and works for the Packard Company in Philadelphia.

Mr. Sloan is a graduate of the Palmyra High School, is pursuing his studies at Dickinson College, Carlisle, Pa., and Miss Elizabeth is a telephone operator on the Riverton exchange.

Mr. Sloan has been employed by the Campbell Soup Company for twelve years.

Mrs. Sloan has been a member of the Shepherds of Bethlehem for twelve years and was installed in the Daughters of Pocomantas nine years ago and has gone through all the offices of both lodges.

Mr. and Mrs. Sloan say they are both in very good health and hope to enjoy life for a long time.

DURANT BROADCAST

Clinton B. Wootton, Local Durant Dealer, Calls Attention to Interesting Program Sunday

General Nicholas Herkimer, Colonial patriot and farmer, who called his neighbors to the colors during one of the darkest periods of the struggle for freedom and led them to a decisive victory at Oriskany, in the Mohawk Valley in New York, lives again in the Durant Heroes of the World program, sponsored by Durant Motors and presented by the National Broadcasting Company at 7 p. m. Eastern Standard Time, Sunday, February 23, over WEAF and 38 affiliated stations in the United States and Canada.

The return of the general, wounded, to the Herkimer homestead beside the Mohawk River, after his success in stopping the advance of the British and Indians, presents a touching episode designed by the dramatist to leave in the minds of the listeners an indelible picture of life in the Colonial days.

MRS. REBECCA GOULD

Mrs. Rebecca Gould, seventy-eight years old, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Fromuth, of 311 Morgan avenue, Palmyra, Thursday, February 13. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon from the Snover Funeral Home. Interment in Mount Peace Cemetery, Philadelphia.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR K. of C. SHOW

Vaudeville to Be Given March 1; Tickets May Be Purchased From Any Member

Tickets are now on sale for the all-professional vaudeville show to be held in the Palmyra-Riverton K. of C. Hall, Saturday night, March 1. In addition to the five acts, a first class orchestra from Philadelphia has been secured for the dance that is to follow the show.

Jimmy Loughran is to be master of ceremonies and song leader. The curtain will be raised at 8:15 and preservation can be secured at the K. of C. Hall any night.

A St. Patrick's luncheon will be held in the Hall on Monday, March 17, at one o'clock. This affair is in charge of Mrs. Robert J. Woods and Mrs. Adolph J. Stroheim. Preparations are being made to accommodate thirty-five ladies and a card party with suitable prizes will follow the luncheon.

During the past week ten new members were added to the ranks of the Cadets, and the youthful musicians are making wonderful progress with their bugles and drums.

Before the Cadets make their first public appearance, it is planned to have each member in a brand new uniform.

DRIVE UNDERWAY FOR YMCA FUNDS

Campaign Stars with Banquet; Arthur Armitage Speaker of the Evening

Monday evening, February 17, the Palmyra-Riverton Young Men's Christian Association launched its first financial campaign with $5,000 as the goal. Some 60 men were present at the banquet held in the association building, which was served by the newly organized ladies' auxiliary.

Arthur Armitage, general secretary of the Camden YMCA, was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Armitage pointed out the high lights of YMCA history and showed how the Young Men's Christian Association is not a new organization but one that has endured the test of time. This fact, he pointed out, was due to two things, first, that the association was founded by true Christian men and had its foundation resting upon true Christianity since its beginning in 1844. The second reason was due to the type of program sponsored by the organization. Any community, he stated, in small can have its YMCA and carry on the program as outlined by the National Association.

Plank is Chairman
William H. Plank, who is chairman of the campaign committee, acted as toastmaster. Guy Hendry, secretary of the Burlington County YMCA, was present to wish the local association every success in its endeavors. George N. Wilmer, who is president of the board of directors of the Palmyra-Riverton unit, spoke on the great task assumed when the local association broke away from Burlington county and organized on a city basis. The entire responsibility for financing and managing the association is now the duty of the citizens of Palmyra and Riverton.

In presenting the project, Mr. Plank challenged the men to "come through" in this endeavor as the boys of these two communities have "come through" in every task they have undertaken. Mr. Plank said: "Not once since I have been working with the boys in the Palmyra High School have they failed to put across a big task, for they have been willing to give everything they had. Are the men going to give any less than their boys? Shall one of Palmyra-Riverton's greatest assets continue to build greater boys and men?"

Red and Blue Teams
The group present was divided into a red team and a blue team. Each team elected its own captain and lieutenant. For the red team Leon C. Guest and Elmer Hahn were chosen. Harold B. Lever and C. Y. Barton were elected to guide the efforts of the blue team. Each team has a goal of $2,500 and every effort will be made to reach this goal by February 25, which is the date set to end the campaign. Have you aided in maintaining our own Young Men's Christian Association in Palmyra-Riverton?

RIVERTON PORCH CLUB TO ENTERTAIN

The Riverton Porch Club will give an entertainment on the evening of Friday, February 23, at 8:15 o'clock.

A tragic cantata on an ancient theme will be sung by the Club Choral. This will be followed by a play by Porch Club members. Admission 50 cents for adults; 25c for children. Tickets may be purchased from club members.

BIG GAS OUTPUT SUNDAY
Sunday (February 16), the coldest day of the winter so far, was marked by the Gas Department of Public Service Electric and Gas Company by the largest send-out of gas in the company's history. In the twenty-four hours 98,149,000 cubic feet were supplied to consumers. The largest previous day's output was on January 19 of this year, when 93,233,000 cubic feet were consumed.

BATTLE LOOMS AT FERRY MEETING

Charles A. Wright Opposes Action of Board in Dedicating Bridge Boulevard

The second pitched battle of the stockholders of the Tacony-Palmyra Ferry Company will be staged tomorrow afternoon in the offices of the company in the First National Bank Building, Camden.

The battle this time will be waged over the granting of land for the proposed Bridge (Temple) Boulevard under the property of the Ferry Company.

At the December meeting of the Board of Directors the dedication of a strip of land from the end of Temple Boulevard to the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge approach was approved for the construction of a new road from Cinnaminson avenue to the Palmyra with State aid.

Charles A. Wright, president of the Ferry Company, was then in Europe and upon his return a few weeks ago took a definite stand against the action of his colleagues in the matter of dedicating the land. He claims that it will make necessary a $50,000 sewer which the company will have to pay for.

According to the Palmyra Borough engineers the boulevard will have nothing

STATE TREASURER BLAMES SENATOR FOR LODI DEPOSIT

Albert C. Middleton of Moorestown Tells of Legislator's Request

NOT TOLD OF SMALL BANK'S SIZE, HE SAYS

Bergen Man Did Not Furnish Promised Statement for $200,000

State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, of Moorestown, defended himself before the Abell Audit and Survey Commission at Trenton Monday for permitting the deposit of $200,000 in State funds in the Little Ferry National Bank of Lodi, Bergen County, which used the money to buy Township notes for financing a sewer contract.

Mr. Middleton's defense was that he was unaware the bank was capitalized at only about $83,000, and that he placed the State deposit in that bank at the request of Senator Ralph M. Chandler, Bergen County Republican.

State Comptroller John McCutcheon, for whom a subpoena also was issued, was absent. He had declared another engagement would prevent his appearance, and Carl Flink, sergeant-at-arms, reported he was unable to find McCutcheon.

The commission learned McCutcheon had ordered that no further bills of the body be paid. It was first believed the Comptroller had taken this step in retaliation for issuance of the subpoena, but Deputy Comptroller Owen W. Kite said he had received such instructions from McCutcheon on February 7. He was ordered, he said, to pay no more of the commission's bills until the Attorney General ruled on the legality of the commission's continuance after the 1929 Legislature, which created it.

"Any Agreement Illegal"
McCutcheon is sought for questioning on testimony that he had promised that the $200,000 State funds would remain in the tiny Lodi bank for three years.

Mr. Middleton, who has charge of placing State deposits in banks, told the committee if the Comptroller made such a promise, he had not the right to do so.

"The first I learned of any time agreement was February 3, when I ordered the money withdrawn immediately," the Moorestownian said.

Charles Rosenberg, president of the bank, who said McCutcheon had promised to have the money kept in the bank for three years, said the capital, surplus and undivided profits of the bank totaled between $92,000 and $93,000.

Didn't Know Bank's Size
Mr. Middleton was asked why a large deposit was made in such a small bank. He replied he did not know the bank's size and acted on the request of Chandler. Chandler has admitted receiving a $10,000 "fee" from the contractors on the sewer job, financed by Township notes by the bank with the $200,000 State money.

Mr. Middleton said it was customary to make a deposit on request of legislators. Gabrielson asked him if it was customary to open accounts without investigating the bank's financial condition.

The legislators, Mr. Middleton replied, usually furnished such reports a few days after the deposits were made. Chandler had promised him to do so, he said, but he never received a report.

"If I had known the bank was so small, I would not have deposited so much money," the State Treasurer declared.

TWO ARE FINED FOR FIGHTING ON STREET

Another Gets Thirty Days for Drunkenness in Palmyra Police Court

A Palmyra man and a Philadelphia man were arrested by Officer Charles W. Lutz last Saturday night for fighting on West Broad street, Palmyra, near the Portum Ford Agency.

The two men, Russell S. Farrell, 315 West Fourth street, Palmyra, and George Shack, 4617 Conkey street, Philadelphia, were said to be under the influence of liquor. They were placed in the lockup overnight and arraigned before Recorder William L. Fichter Sunday morning.

They were fined ten dollars each or given the option of spending ten days in the County jail. The wives of the two men appeared and paid the fines.

Joshua Clark, of 19 East Broad street, Palmyra, was arraigned before the Recorder at the same time and was sent to the Mount Holly jail for thirty days as a habitual drunkard.

ARREST MOTORISTS

Delanco State Troopers Make Round-Up During Weekend

Four motorists were arrested by State Troopers of Delanco Barracks for violations of the State Motor Vehicle laws over the weekend. Percy Beebe, Beverly, arrested by Trooper Turnbull, was fined $35 and costs by Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey, Beverly, on charges of driving without a license.

Walter Carson, East Rutherford, N. J., was fined $5 and costs for reckless driving by Recorder Johnston, Moorestown. The same recorder fined William Gamble, Philadelphia, $5 for the same offense. Ernest Barnes, Philadelphia, was fined $2 and costs for driving a car with only one light by Justice of the Peace Harry McCloskey. The last three men were arrested by Trooper Fink, of Delanco.

GROWTH OF PUBLIC SERVICE IS SHOWN

21st Annual Report Points to Big Increases in All Departments

Public Service Corporation of New Jersey is mailing to its stockholders copies of its twenty-first annual report, which covers the operations of the corporation and its subsidiary utility companies for the year 1929.

The report is illustrated and typographically presents a somewhat improved appearance over that of preceding years.

The financial statement for the year shows operating revenues of subsidiary companies amounting to $127,066,907.65, an increase of $11,558,127.20 over those of 1928. Operating income of subsidiaries amounted to $41,830,768.27, an increase of $4,858,273.46 over 1928. The balance available for dividends and surplus was $29,544,617.50, an increase of $6,572,427.70 over that of the preceding year.

Taxes amounting to $15,458,564 accrued against the corporation and subsidiaries in 1929. Ten years ago the taxes were $4,869,832.

Sales of electricity, exclusive of inter-company railway current, amounted to 1,646,908,938 kilowatt hours, an increase of 240,739,991 KWH over 1928. An increase of 179,075,562 KWH in electric power sales was recorded for the year, and the net connected power load was 1,165,595 horsepower, a gain of 13.1 per cent. Residential and commercial lighting sales showed 11.93 per cent. increase.

Sales of gas were 24,979,894,643 cubic feet, a gain of 971,061,440 cubic feet over 1928. Consumption of gas for industrial purposes showed an increase of $25,000,000 cubic feet, or 23 per cent., and new industrial business secured gained fifty per cent.

Street cars and buses carried 484,666 passengers, a gain of 12,360,485 over 1928. For the first time since bus operation was inaugurated, the number of bus passengers exceeded street car riders.

Improvement and extension of facilities of operating companies during the year is indicated by a net increase in fixed capital of $27,763,357.

Generation of electricity is now concentrated in five major stations—Kearny, Essex, Marion, Perth Amboy and Burlington, the total rated capacity having been increased during the year to 616,276 kilowatt amperes. Power generated and purchased during the year amounted to 2,134,531,298 KWH, an increase of 13.6 per cent.

CONCERT IN MOUNT HOLLY

Thirty-five members of the McCrory Troupe will give a concert in the Brainerd Building, Presbyterian Church, Garden street, Mount Holly, Tuesday evening, February 25, at 7:45. The young artists are under the direction of the manager of the McCrory Stores, Burlington, and wherever they have appeared they have been a big success. The proceeds will be for the joint benefit of the Woman's Guild, Presbyterian Church, and the Bayreath W. C. T. U.

YOUTH IS ROBBED AT "GAS" STATION

Hold-up at Sunoco Nets Pair of Unmasked Men
$68.00

The attendant at the Sunoco filling station, Main street, opposite Mill, Moorestown, was held up and robbed of $68 as he was closing the station about 11:10 Thursday evening of last week.

After robbing the young man, who is Robert Ingram, 18 years old, of West Second street, the hold-up men bound and locked him in the men's rest room while they made their escape.

Ingram, after freeing himself, climbed through the window and started to run to police station, meeting House Sergeant John H. Lowden on the way. Police immediately took up the search, but the robbers had apparently covered considerable distance while Ingram was effecting his release.

The attendant told police that he had just finished putting some cash in the vault safe and was about to lock the inside door when two young men, unmasked, entered. One immediately pulled a revolver, covering him, while his companions took the money from the safe and the change that remained in the cash register.

They then took him into the men's room, bound his feet with his belt, tied a piece of rag about his hands and departed, locking the door after them. He worked his hands out of the rag and gained his freedom and had reported the robbery to the police within fifteen or twenty minutes after the hold-up occurred.

Four persons were standing in front of the Criterion Theatre at the time the robbery was taking place, but did not notice anything suspicious going on in the filling station. Police attribute this to the fact that it was raining and there was some fog.

Several stations have recently been victimized in South Jersey and police are of the opinion that it is the work of the same gang. Two other stations, one at Westfield and the other at Brooklawn, were held up in the same manner last Thursday. Three o'clock the morning prior to the Moorestown robbery a hold-up was reported at Woodbury and there was another one at a Camden station, Thirty-third and Westfield avenues, Sunday night.

Friday night about 10 o'clock an usher at the Criterion saw a youth running from the bakery shop in back of Rulon's. Police were called and found the window in a door broken, the door open, and several articles disturbed. Nothing was missing, however.

CANADA FINDS NEED FOR MOSQUITO CONTROL WORK

Canadians have been forced by the prevalence of mosquitoes in their country to organize and carry on a campaign against these pests. This was the report made by Arthur Gibson, Dominion entomologist for the Canadian Department of Agriculture, in addressing the New Jersey Mosquito Extermination Association at the opening of the seventeenth annual meeting in Atlantic City last week.

Only 1¢ a meal
per person to cook electrically

Hotpoint Automatic Electric Range
THE MODERN MAID FOR MODERN MOTHERS

OF COURSE, every woman knows that electric cookery is far better, easier, cleaner. But here and there we find women think it must be expensive.

Here are the actual facts: Women in this community are now cooking electrically for approximately 15 cents a day (1 cent a meal per person.) For this small cost they are forever free from scouring sooted pots and pans. For Hotpoint electric heat is as clean as sunshine. They spend less time in the kitchen. For Hotpoint electric heat is so accurate it needn't be watched. No basting is required. And there are many other reasons why you will enjoy electric cookery.

Come in today for details.

JOHNSON ENDOWS UNIVERSITY WITH QUARTER MILLION

Famous Victor Founder Gives $250,000 for Research in Medical Physics

MOORESTONIAN'S GIFTS
TO PENN NOW $2,000,000

Magnificent Contribution in Field Offering Unlimited Opportunities

Eldridge Reeves Johnson, widely known Moorestownian and founder of the Victor Talking Machine Company, of Camden, last Thursday made another contribution to the University of Pennsylvania to the extent of a quarter million dollars.

This latest contribution of $250,000 is to further endow the Eldridge R. Johnson Foundation for Research in Medical Physics, which he established in 1927. Dr. Josiah H. Pennington, provost of the University, revealed, Mr. Johnson started the fund at that time with $200,000 for building and $50,000 for endowment. His newest contribution brings to a total of nearly $2,000,000 Mr. Johnson's gifts to the University for the past ten years.

Dr. Pennington described Mr. Johnson's latest gift as "another magnificent contribution toward the support of research work in a field which offers virtually unlimited opportunities for service to humanity."

"Establishment of the Johnson Foundation three years ago," said Dr. Pennington, "marked the first attempt ever made on a broad scale to join physics and medicine in a closer union, and, as a result, any development which affects the progress of the foundation is of vital importance to workers in both fields."

"In addition to studying and developing the various physical agencies which bear on the physiological processes somewhat in the same manner as chemistry has become an essential factor in the elucidation of all biological processes."

"For some time there have been a number of physical methods used in the study, and especially the treatment of diseases, and, unfortunately, methods are sometimes applied at the present day with no actual scientific knowledge of their mode of operation and their effectiveness."

"In accordance with the modern method of establishing as close coordination as possible between various medical units, the Johnson Foundation is housed in the recently completed Martin Maoney Memorial Medical Clinic building of the University of Pennsylvania Hospital, where it is in close proximity to other important medical units of the university."

Gives $250,000

COUNTY CHAIRMAN OF P. T. A. RESIGNS

Mrs. A. C. Giberson Withdraws Owing to Ill Health; Mrs. Hagstoz Succeeds Her

At a meeting of the executive board of the Burlington County Council of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers, Mrs. A. C. Giberson resigned as County Council chairman, owing to ill health.

The meeting was held Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Giberson, Palmyra. The resignation was accepted with regret, and Mrs. A. T. Hagstoz, of Riverton, was elected to fill the unexpired term. Mrs. Hagstoz was elected in May as a county vice-chairman, from which office she resigned when elected to the chairmanship.

CHAUFFEUR SAYS "KONJOLA REAL MASTER MEDICINE"

World War Veteran Tells How New Medicine Relieved Kidney Trouble

MR. GEORGE L. GALLAGHER

"Konjola is a master medicine," said Mr. George L. Gallagher, 3082 35th street, Astoria, L. I. "When I returned from service overseas with the A. E. F., I brought with me a kidney ailment that defied every medicine and treatment I tried. The pains across my back were often frightful, and my bladder weakness caused me loss of sleep and shattered my nerves. I had about given up hope when a friend urged me to try Konjola."

"In three weeks Konjola ended a suffering that had existed for ten years. The pains no longer bother me and my bladder weakness has been completely overcome. What a medicine Konjola is. I drive back and forth between New York and Hollywood, and I never leave on a trip without three bottles of this great medicine. I certainly recommend it to every sufferer."

Konjola is sold in Riverton at L. L. Keating's store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

POWELL TO HAVE NO OPPOSITION

Wells' Acceptance of Judgeship Precludes Expected Political Battle

The political situation in Burlington County has undergone a sweeping change as the result of the decision of former County Judge Harold B. Wells to accept a judgeship appointment to the Court of Errors and Appeals.

The Burlington man's name is expected to be presented to the Legislature next Monday for appointment to the vacancy caused by the recent death of Judge John White, of Atlantic City. The term is for six years and the salary is about $8,000 per year.

In political circles for the past three years it had been expected that the spring of 1930 would be marked by a bitter battle for the State Senate and County leadership between Judge Wells and State Senator Clifford R. Powell, who defeated former Senator Emmor Roberts in a hard-fought campaign in 1927.

For more than a year, however, there have been rumors of efforts to effect a truce between the two factions of the Republican Party in Burlington County. Outside leaders, chief among whom is Senator David Baird, of Camden, have been anxious for the rival factions to bury the hatchet and have used their influence toward this end. Many of the County leaders also have wearied of the incessant political fighting which has been typical of the County's campaign for many years.

These bitter fights, have been expensive in money and quite wearing on the nerves of the leaders involved. Wells' acceptance of the judgeship means his withdrawal from the fight for State Senate this spring.

Powell will have a clear field, as there is no one in the County willing to enter the race who would offer the popular young State Senator any serious opposition.

Differs on U. S. Senator. It is understood that the truce also will extend down along the line to County offices.

There is quite a divergence of opinion among County leaders, however, regarding a United States Senator. Dwight W. Morrow, former Ambassador to Mexico, and the father-in-law of Colonel Lindbergh, is the candidate backed by U. S. Senator David Baird, and likewise has important support in Burlington County.

Many other Burlington County leaders, however, look favorably upon the candidacy of former U. S. Senator Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, and there may be quite a split in County Republican ranks over this matter.

"At first we didn't intend putting such a tall steeple in our church, but we decided to make it a few feet higher than the church across the street."

BIDS ARE OPENED FOR BRIDGE ROAD

The State Highway Commission opened bids Monday for the paving of one mile of Route 3-41, linking the Tacony-Palmyra bridge plaza with part of that highway being constructed to link the span with White Horse pike at Berlin.

The mile ends at Hilton road in Burlington County. Nine bids were received and the lowest bidder was S. J. Cross & Sons Company, Ridgely, with an estimate of $137,842. The contract will be awarded within 10 days.

John Paul Patterson

John Paul Patterson, of Hollis, L. I., was killed Saturday night in an automobile accident at Hollis.

Mr. Patterson was a son of Dr. John Paul Patterson, of Philadelphia, and a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania in 1906. Following his graduation, he went to Hollis as a resident engineer for the Long Island division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. In 1909 he married Miss Helen Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Thomas, of Riverton.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, John Paul, 3d, and William; his mother, of Philadelphia, two brothers, Arthur, of Millersburg, Pa., and Earl, of Buffalo, N. Y.

Services were held at Hollis, Tuesday, and interment was private at the Westfield Friends' burying ground, Wednesday. Funeral director, Frank A. Suver.

M'ALLISTER BILL CALLED RADICAL

Camden Educator Says Proposed Act Would Create an 'Educational Monarchy'

Provisions in the McAllister educational survey bill would set up an "educational monarchy" in New Jersey, Samuel E. Fulton, president of the Camden Board of Education, declared in leading an attack on the measure at a hearing held by the State Educational Survey Commission last week.

Fulton was joined by representatives of other school boards in objecting to paragraphs in the bill giving increased power to superintendents and supervisors.

The commission also was criticized by board members who declared they had not received copies of the bill until too late to study it carefully while superintendents had received copies two weeks ago.

Bill Called Radical. "The McAllister bill is very radical with respect to the power it would give superintendents," Fulton said. "One of the provisions would make it impossible to dismiss superintendents or supervisors without trial. Anyone who has conducted such trials knows how unsatisfactory they are and what to expect."

"The bill would set up an educational monarchy by permitting superintendents to draw on the budget, make all purchase and hire all employees of the school system, as well as painters, mechanics and others not on strictly educational jobs."

"The public schools are, or should be, under the control of the people, but this bill hampers their active management of the school system."

Boards Curb Power. "The boards of education and the people should have something to say. They should have the right to select their own employees. Our school system does not have to take a back seat in comparison with any in the country and the cost is as reasonable as that of any other State. Giving so much power to superintendents is a dangerous plan. Political powers will find it easier to control one man than an entire board of education."

At Fulton's urging the educational survey commission fixed March 6 for resumption of the hearing.

Commenting on the objection that the bill will increase the cost of education, State Senator Stewart, of Camden county, declared the commission might be willing to meet opposition halfway on other objections.

Opponents of the measure have pointed out that school expenses increased in New Jersey from $40,000,000 in 1920 to $120,000,000 in 1929 and that the resolution authorizing the commission asked it to inquire into the "heavily mounting cost of education."

Cities which have been making wild claims about their population growth will soon come to their census.

Mrs. Josephine H. Sleeper

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the Snover Funeral Home to take Mrs. Josephine H. Sleeper, who died at her home in Marlton, N. C., last Thursday. The Rev. J. William Lee, of the Epworth M. E. Church, officiated and interment was made in Morgan Cemetery.

Mrs. Sleeper was the wife of Charles F. Sleeper, who until about fifteen years ago was the editor of The Palmyra News, then known as The Weekly News. The couple came to Palmyra nearly fifty years ago and made their home at Fourth street and Garfield avenue.

The former editor and his wife moved to Marlton eight years ago, and at once took a most active interest in Home Missionary work. Mrs. Sleeper was also very much interested in charitable work until the time of her last illness.

FOUR ENDANGERED AS TRAIN FAILS TO STOP

Would Have Been Killed But for Their Alertness as Engine Bore Down on Them

Four people alighting from the midnight train at Arch Street Station, West Palmyra, narrowly escaped death last Friday night when the Camden bound local failed to stop.

The outbound train had stopped and was discharging passengers on the north track, according to custom at this point, when the other train bore down upon them.

All were able to get off the track in time and no one was injured, but had they been less alert there is no doubt but that some of them would have been killed.

It has been an invariable rule of the railroad that trains must come to a full stop when another train is discharging passengers under these conditions. There being no south platform at Arch Street it is necessary for passengers from the outbound train to get off on the inbound track.

Officer Lawrence Betts was surprised of what had happened and immediately called the traffic manager of the P. R. R. and asked that the matter be looked into, but as yet so far as is known, the officials of the company have taken no action and have made no investigation of the affair.

It must be positively wonderful to feel as clean and pure and almost righteous as a man does after a shave, a dose of bromide and a shower.

MUCH INTEREST AT COMPASS CLUB

Three New Members Initiated; Auxiliary Also Is Very Active

The Compass Club of Palmyra and Riverton held a very successful meeting Friday evening. Several of the older members who have not been very regular in attending the meetings were present.

Three new members were initiated and according to one of the club's members, they were duly manhandled and properly initiated. J. Horace Finney and Elmer Jones were in charge of this part of the evening's program.

The Ladies' Auxiliary also held its regular monthly meeting at this time. They likewise had three new members. After the business meeting the ladies joined the men folks and spent a most enjoyable evening playing cards and other interesting games.

The surprise of the evening was refreshments served in the form of "pie a la mode" and coffee by the ladies. The Auxiliary will sponsor a card party, to be given at the Riverton Punch Club, Friday evening. They extend a cordial invitation to everyone to be on hand at this time.

The Compass Club will hold its next meeting Friday, March 14. All members are urged to be present, as it is at this meeting the box of cigars will be awarded the member bringing in the most new members.

PUBLIC SERVICE—A Builder

FACTS AND FIGURES FROM THE ANNUAL REPORT OF PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATION OF NEW JERSEY

IN 1929, Public Service Companies spent a total of $27,765,357.22 in extending and improving existing, and in creating new electric, gas and transit facilities for the people of New Jersey.

In the five years, 1925 to 1929, inclusive, it has spent $179,979,532.34 for this purpose.

Since its organization it has spent $359,488,513.78.

The result is —an electric system, that places at the command of the State and its people generation stations providing electrical energy equal to 745,912 horse power, supplemented by interconnections that assure an electrical supply equal to all possible demands, and a system of transmission and distribution that makes service available in more than 200 New Jersey municipalities;

—the largest and most comprehensive co-ordinated system of street car and bus transportation anywhere, which is being rapidly developed to provide new standards of safety, convenience and comfort;

—a gas system, which provides fuel in its best and most adaptable form, to industry and homes in over 200 municipalities.

"Public Service is more than a business enterprise—it is a great agency for the advancement of New Jersey."

Speed in Falling

If one should fall from an airplane or balloon at a height however great, his velocity would never exceed 118 miles an hour at any point before reaching the earth, according to the conclusions of the Army Air Service as a result of experiments made with dummies.

This is contrary to the belief formerly held by most persons that a body continually increased its speed when falling any distance. The fact is that this rapid increase of speed in the case of a body similar to that of a man continues only until it has fallen about 1,300 feet, after which it maintains a constant rate, due to the resistance of the air.

This discovery also explodes the theory that a person falling from a great height would lose consciousness and perhaps be dead before striking the ground, for it is well known that aviators have driven their planes at speeds of more than 350 miles an hour on a straightaway course, and at much greater velocities when diving to make an "outside loop."

The knowledge that falling speed is limited is not of much practical benefit to one who falls from a great height, however, for the 118 miles an hour possible of attainment is quite sufficient to effectively put him out of business when he strikes the earth.

Martha Washington

The annual recurrence of Washington's Birthday on February 22 is always the inspiration of many editorials and articles on the "father of his country." Occasionally some mention is made of Martha Washington, his devoted wife, but her personality is not as well known as it deserves to be.

Mrs. Washington was the daughter of Col. Dandridge, a planter of New Kent county, Virginia, and was the widow of Daniel Parke Curtis at the time of her marriage to Washington on January 6, 1759, being the mother of four children by her first husband.

Two of her children died in infancy, the others being Martha Parke Curtis and Col. John Parke Curtis, whose granddaughter became the wife of General Robert E. Lee, famed Confederate leader.

Mrs. Washington was short and plump, with hazel eyes and dark hair, her stature being in marked contrast with that of General Washington, who was six feet two inches in height.

She inherited considerable wealth from her first husband and this added to General Washington's fortune made them one of the wealthiest couples in America at the time, their estate being valued at more than $5,000,000.

George and Martha Washington had no children. Their married life extended over a period of more than 40 years, during which in peace and war, as well as in the exacting duties of a President's wife, she was his faithful companion and helpmeet.

As such she is held in affectionate remembrance by the nation.

Think This Over

It is a serious reflection upon the common sense of the American people that they fuss and fume over relatively unimportant matters, while almost ignoring the one real national menace—death by motor accidents. Automobile accidents resulted in more than 30,000 deaths in the United States last year, an increase of nearly 13 per cent. over 1928. If the present indifference to this terrible slaughter continues, 1930 will see a still greater number of victims.

We get excited over prohibition and the tariff, we work ourselves into a frenzy over politics; we are impressed with the rantings of professional reformers and dogooders; we lavish sympathy on a murderer who justly pays his debt on the "hot seat"; we are greatly perturbed over the stock market—and a thousand and one other relatively trivial matters agitate us greatly.

But if we ever think of the 30,000 killed and 800,000 injured in automobile accidents each year, we only shrug our shoulders and say, "Isn't it too bad?"

A Thankless Job

When Alexander Legge left the presidency of a big implement concern to head the Federal Farm Board he took a thankless job, in the opinion of Ed Howe, Kansas editor and philosopher. Mr. Legge's former salary was $100,000 a year; the government pays him $12,000. Says Howe:

"To transfer the president of such a company to Washington and make a politician of him is largely to reduce his usefulness, since he can not exercise his usual intelligence in politics as he did in manufacturing farm machinery. Immediately on his arrival in Washington, members of a Congressional committee, some of them cheap and unreliable men, attack him and almost made out that Mr. Legge was a pickpocket."

This is one of the reasons why really high class men hesitate to go in for public office, particularly under the Federal government. They are continually subjected to criticism, harassment and humiliation at the hands of small-bore Senators and other official superiors, to which no man of ability and spirit cares to submit.

A Friend

Who is a friend? I will tell you. He is a person with whom you dare to be yourself, your soul can go naked with him. He seems to ask you to put on nothing, only to be what you are. He does not want you to be better or worse. When you are with him you feel as a prisoner feels who has been declared innocent. You do not have to be on your guard. You can say what you think, so long as it is genuinely you. He understands those contradictions in your nature that lead others to misjudge you. With him you breathe freely. You can avow your little vanities and envies and hates and vicious sparks, your meanness and absurdities, and in opening them up to him they are lost, dissolved on the white ocean of his loyalty. He understands. You do not have to be careful. You can abuse him, neglect him, tolerate him. Best of all you can keep still with him. It makes no matter. He likes you. He is like fire that purges all you do. He is like water that cleanses all that you say. He is like wine that warms you to the bone. He understands you. You can weep with him, laugh with him, pray with him. Through and underneath it all he sees, knows and loves you. A friend, I repeat, is one with whom you dare to be yourself and whom you can trust.—THE ROYCROFTER.

OVERPRODUCTION

The best short phrase descriptive of farming conditions was coined by the Secretary of Agriculture in a radio talk the other day. "Blind production for an unknown demand," were Mr. Hyde's words. Every farmer has experienced the evils of overproduction. The pendulum swings too far each way. One year a short crop brings high prices; the next year every farmer produces more of that commodity and the markets are glutted at low prices.

For the first time in history, intelligent farmers are being taken by our Government to keep farmers from competing with each other and to compel them to work together to control production and so make farming a profitable business for all engaged in it.

Mr. Hyde is right in saying that the farmers of America face in the coming years as stern a test as ever faced our forefathers.

CIVILIZATION

Human progress consists in the multiplication of human wants and of the means to supply the new needs. The man who wants nothing we call a savage. He is at liberty to live in the wilds and enjoy life in his own way. The process which we call civilization consists in tempting the savage with commodities which appeal to him so that he will exchange his labor for them.

The next step is to teach him to want things so badly that he is willing to live under the rules of the community where they are to be had. The trouble with many folk in America today is that they want things without being willing to pay the price, either in labor or in obedience to the community law. The old law of the Plains Indians, "He who does not work shall not eat" is not sufficiently enforced. Too many parents are letting their boys and girls "have a good time" instead of going to work when they have finished school. It is from this irresponsible laxity that most of the criminality develop, according to the Police Commissioner of New York.

COMMUNISTS

A group of Communist agitators tried to hold a public meeting on the steps of New York's City Hall the other day. They had neglected to obtain a permit for a public meeting and the police dispersed them. They fought the police and some of them got broken heads. Many half-baked thinkers see in that episode an example of tyranny. It was rather an example of the Communists' lofty disregard for all the laws of civilized nations. Their record in Russia proves that their whole scheme of government is more tyrannical than the worst of the Czar. Every American citizen has the right to agitate for a change in the laws or the Constitution itself. There is no place in America for those who teach disobedience to law.

NOBILITY

In 1913, when the unrest in the Balkans was already threatening Central Europe with vague mutterings of the Great War which began the next year, Frederic C. Penfield, American Ambassador to Austria-Hungary, attended a tea-party in Buda-Pest, given by the Archduchess Maria Theresa and attended by many of the highest of the Hungarian nobility.

"If you were all to be deprived of your titles, estates and fortunes, what would you do?" Mr. Penfield asked. There was silence for a minute or two. The archduchess answered, "I do not know what we would do, but I can tell you one thing we would not do," she replied. "We would not complain."

The man who told me of the incident was one of the noblemen who was at that party. He has a good job in New York and only a few intimate friends know that he had a high title and a great estate in his native Hungary. Like the rest, he lost all, but he does not complain. The Archduchess was right. They are taking medicine and smiling at the dose. That is true nobility.

THRIFT

Savings deposits throughout the nation are showing an upward trend again. They were considerably depleted for a while, money being withdrawn for stock speculation. Life insurance investments are steadily climbing.

Henry Ford was right when he said that most men should not deprive themselves under forty in order to save. The old idea that thrift means living a stunted life in youth in order to eke out narrow and bare existence in old age has gone the way of the twelve-hour day and the ox-team. Every worker today has a surplus above normal living costs, out of which a small percentage of savings will insure comfort in later years. In the meantime, Americans are fortunate in being able to enjoy a wide range of luxuries while still laying something by.

MAY GET HOSIERY MILL

At a well-attended special meeting of the Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce last week, consideration was given to a proposition of bringing to Mount Holly a going, full-fashioned hosiery concern, now running day and night in Philadelphia, and which must add twelve new machines immediately in order to keep its trade satisfied, and wants to locate a branch factory at the County Seat.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

FISH AND OYSTERS

Pie made with fish and oysters is nourishing and satisfying. To make it, take the bones from boiled fresh cod and pull it to pieces. To each cup of fish add six oysters and half a cup of soup stock of any kind. Season with salt and pepper and bake in a buttered baking dish, covered with a thick layer of mashed potatoes.

For curried oysters, drain and wash twenty-five oysters. Make an ordinary pancake griddle. Throw the oysters, three or four at a time, on the griddle and brown on both sides. Lift quickly and place in a double boiler, which stands beside the griddle. When all the oysters are cooked add to them one tablespoon of butter, one-half tablespoon of flour, one-half tablespoon of salt, one tablespoon of curry powder, and a dash of cayenne pepper. Stir until the ingredients reach the boiling point and add one tablespoon of lemon juice and one small onion, grated.

WHEN YOU SEW

When you baste, don't knot the end of your thread. Start by making two stitches in the same place. This will hold the end of the thread, but when you wish to pull out the basting, there will be no knot to mar the cloth's smoothness.

When you hem a skirt, take a double stitch every inch or less. This will make such a firm hem that if you rip a few stitches the rip will not extend more than an inch.

When you make buttonholes first mark them with a pencil. Then run a line of machine stitching all around the pencil mark. Then cut it and buttonhole it. The machine stitching helps to make a firmer buttonhole.

Children contract more winter colds through over bundling than through being too lightly clad. The right sort of clothes for sports wear in cool weather are light in weight, comfortable and secure. Coats that would be appropriate for motoring in cold weather or for spectator wear are likely to be entirely too warm. Feet should be protected by stout, high shoes of the waterproof sort, worn over short wool socks with cuffs to keep snow or dampness from getting into the shoes. Stockings need not be heavy, but are best of wool or wool and silk as they keep out moisture.

Light-weight woolen knickers worn beneath a short skirt snug about the hips, with the necessary fullness introduced by way of pleats or circular cut, are a good choice.

The coat should be of short jacket length. If a heavy woolen or leather blouse is worn no jacket is necessary. Substantial gloves are chosen with gauntlet cuffs drawn up over the sleeves, fastened snugly at the wrists. The woolen scarf should be fastened securely, and the cap of light wool should protect ears and forehead.

The picture shows a brown woolen sports costume made with separate blouse, the skirt worn over kasha culottes.

It must be great to feel that when you deliver an opinion on anything from cooking to politics somebody will listen to you!

HAVE YOU SEEN A MIRACLE?

Here is an important distinction that many people overlook. The thunder that men once called the voice of God rolls out its mighty waves of sound, and the sound carried only a few score miles. But I—puny speck upon the face of the earth—I lift a little instrument; and, behold, my whisper is heard a thousand miles away.

Do we want heat? We press a button; and lo, heat, invisible, silent, all-pervasive, flows into our homes over a copper wire.

Do we need power? We have but to press another switch, and giants come to us over the same slender roadway. Clothed in invisible garments, they cleanse our homes, wash our clothes, crank our automobiles—do everything that once taxed the strength of men and hurried women into unlovely old age.

Don't let your life become a prosaic affair; don't let familiarity with the marvels about you breed thoughtlessness and contempt.

If you had stood with Moses on the shore of the Red Sea, and had seen it divide to let the Children of Israel pass over, you would have had no difficulty in recognizing that as a miracle.

But every night when the sun goes down, a man stands in a powerhouse in your city and throws a switch, and instantly the city and the country for miles around are flooded with sunshine.

And you say to yourself casually: "Oh, I see the lights are on."

The Old Post Office at Ralston . . .

NESTED in the Jersey hills, this ancient building has watched the tempo of life quicken from the days of the old mail coach and the speed of horses to the age of the telephone and the speed of light.

Past this historic link in the chain of written word runs the newest artery of the spoken word—a new transcontinental telephone cable laid this year and capable of carrying hundreds of conversations at one time.

One link only of the many that are constantly being added to the system in New Jersey to afford quick and easy, voice communication for the people of our growing State.

Last year 350,000 miles of wire were added to the telephone system in New Jersey—almost all in storm-proof cable.

A rug soon wears out if dirt is left in it. The sharp grit, ground into the nap, will cut the threads. Only a Hoover can remove this deep seated dirt. Other cleaners take up the surface dust and lint, but the Hoover loosens and removes all the dirt.

There are two Hoover models—a large size which sells at $79.50 and a smaller size which sells at $63.50. A small increase over cash prices charged if you wish to purchase either model on terms.

International Sunday School Lesson for February 23
THE TWELVE SENT FORTH
Matthew 9:35-10:8; 10:40-42
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Jesus was never a pious recluse. Some think of Him as effeminate. Rather, He was always a man's man, rugged physically, energetic at all times and always alert to observe the needs of those about Him. The population of Palestine was much greater in those days. Josephus was a careful writer and he declared that there were 204 populous villages and cities in Galilee. We are now in the middle of the public ministry and about one year and eight months have elapsed. Meanwhile this Master Teacher had visited "all the cities and villages." Through the meetings in the synagogues He came into intimate acquaintance with the Jewish leaders, and as He went from place to place learned the needs and heart hunger of the masses. The people literally flocked to Him. This was not altogether unusual, for they were healed of "all manner of disease and all manner of sickness."

All these opportunities for observation revealed the need of a friendly leadership. The idea of helpfulness had not developed even as we find it today, and there is still much to learn in Christian benevolence. The parable in which the priest and the Levite passed by without rendering any help, indicated the general attitude at that time. Jesus resorted to the familiar, rather than to the commonplace, when He likened the situation to sheep without a shepherd. The unprotected sheep soon become a prey to any roving thief. The solution was promulgated in the Golden Text: "The harvest indeed is plentiful, but the laborers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he send forth laborers into his harvest." The major question, when it comes to helping others, is still that of an adequate leadership.

Early in His ministry the Master discerned that comparatively few of the people would attach themselves to Him. Another method must be worked out and the "WIN ONE" campaign was inaugurated, which is the one method of aggressive campaign in building up the Kingdom of God on earth that Jesus presented. There were many who could be classed as disciples, meaning learners. At one time there is record of as many as seventy being sent forth on this "WIN ONE" enterprise. Some plan of organization that was both constructive and permanent must be found. Therefore from among the many disciples TWELVE were chosen to be apostles, and the meaning of that word is "sent forth." These men were selected after a night given over to prayer, as was frequently the custom of their Leader. Commit the names to memory. Peter always heads the list and Judas, the betrayer, concludes it.

Having been called, these men were charged with a definite service in the Kingdom-building. They were to be both evangelists and healers, as well as constant teachers. These three divisions still hold in any missionary enterprise today—soul winning, schooling and medical missions. Practically all of the benevolent institutions throughout the world are the result of following the principles taught by Jesus Christ and His followers.

Jesus made it very clear that the work would be hard and that His ambassadors would suffer many rebuffs, but nothing was to stop them in seeking to win individuals to a personal belief in Him as their Savior. There would be rewards in this life and still greater returns in the Kingdom above. The commission has not been modified. Today there are at least 400,000,000 children and youth in the world who are without any form of religious instruction.

FINDS EARLY CUTTING IS RUINING TIMBER MARKETS

The desire on the part of New Jersey woodland owners to turn their timber into ready cash is "playing havoc" with the local timber market, asserts E. L. Scovell, extension forester for the agricultural experiment station at New Brunswick. Much timber and large volumes of timber products are being sold for less than they are worth, the forester reports, and the indiscriminate cutting is having a harmful effect on the woodlands.

"Naughty boy, to exaggerate like that!"

"Well, every other day, then."

"I can't remember the words of that new song," said the girl, returning from the show.

"That makes it easier," answered her father. "Now all you've got to do to make home happy is to forget the tune."

Phyllis (at dance): "I can't understand why you stayed outside so long with such a splendid dance as Guy!"

Irene: "He showed me some new steps—and we sat on them!"

"When are Joan and Edward to be married?"

"Never, I'm afraid."

"Why, how's that?"

"Well, she won't marry him until he pays his debts, and he can't pay his debts until she marries him."

Stage Director: "Roderick, you'll have to cut out that part. 'Oh, fair Lydia, I want to die, I want to die!'"

Roderick: "Why, sirrah."

Stage Director: "Some of the audience might accommodate you."

Reggy: "She is the picture of health."

Jane: "Yes; remarkably well painted."

Don't bark. Fault-finding is not difficult.

A dog hitched to a lawn mower stopped pulling to bark at a passerby. The boy guiding the lawn mower said: "Don't mind the dog. He is just barking for an excuse to rest. It is easier to be critical than really to work; easier to burn a house than to build one; easier to hinder than to help; easier to destroy reputation than to construct character. Fault-finding and pointing out faults is as dangerous as it is easy.

Like those Pharisees, anybody can grumble, criticize, censure, point out mistakes, weaknesses, but it takes a great soul to go on working faithfully, and lovingly, and to rise superior to all.

A record attendance is being hoped for at the next meeting of the Women's Auxiliary Monday, the 24th. The luncheon is at one o'clock sharp! Any who are desirous of attending are asked to notify the secretary, Mrs. E. E. Fox, 328 Garfield avenue, phone 861.

June is a long time ahead, but it is a very pleasant month to think of in any case, especially as many are looking forward to the Episcopal Congress which will be held in London at the end of April. Those of which the bishops and delegates representing the thirty million members of the church will travel.

The vespers service conducted by the junior members of our Church School will be led by Frances Deviney next Sunday at 7 o'clock. The subject is "What Are You Writing?" A call will be made for Bible verses in the form of a command.

The Bishop's Prize Examinations for the Diocese of New Jersey will be held April 30th. Three classes are provided for. Younger pupils up to 14 years of age, those 14 to 16, and the third group, 16 to 18. The prizes will be Gold, Silver, and Bronze Medals. Certificates will be given to all pupils who attain the passing mark of 75 per cent. The Rector will be glad to give any information necessary.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SOCIETY

"MIND" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 23, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ" (1 Corinthians 2:16). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Behold, God is my salvation; I will trust, and not be afraid; for the Lord JEHOVAH is my strength and my song; he also is become my salvation" (Isaiah 12:2). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Let us accept Science, relinquish all theories based on sense-testimony, give up imperfect models and illusive ideas; and so have one God, one Mind, and that one perfect, producing His own models of excellence" (p. 249).

MEDFORD ITEMS

Mrs. Florence Connor, of Philadelphia, was a Sunday visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bowker.

Edgar Kane has recovered sufficiently from an operation at the Burlington County Hospital to again be at his home. He returned on Monday of last week and has since been able to greet his friends.

Douglas Abrams was the purchaser of the Elk farm, the estate of Joseph E. Roberts, sold at public sale, February 5. The price per acre was $54.

The ladies of the Baptist Church were forced to postpone the sale of vegetable soup, advertised for last Thursday, on account of illness among the members.

The Senior Epworth League of the M. E. Church will have a food sale in the Fire House Saturday afternoon, March 1, at 2 o'clock.

"Always in Trouble," a three-act comedy, by members of the Epworth League, of Indian Mills, is a coming attraction, under the auspices of the Intermediate and Primary Departments of the M. E. Sunday School. The date will be announced later.

The moving picture benefit given Wednesday evening of last week for the Junior Auxiliary of the Needlework Guild was very well supported. The pictures taken and shown by Earl Braddock were of a hunting trip in Wyoming, also films belonging to Mrs. George Reindel, of Mount Holly who very kindly loaned them, were of a trip to Yellowstone Park and Alaska. Those in charge feel very grateful to the above mentioned and to all who helped in the cause. $20.59 was the amount cleared.

"Cyclone Sally," an uproarious comedy, in three acts, was given in the School Auditorium, Medford, Saturday evening, February 15, by B. Y. P. U. of Vincennes, for the benefit of the Junior Department of the M. E. Sunday School. Medford's share in the sale of Tubercolosis Christmas Seals amounted to $162.55. This is a very generous response, for which the committee feels justly proud.

ROBERTS TO ASSIST IN FARM PROGRAM

Ex-Senator Named on State Agricultural Body to Co-operate With Federal Board

Emmer Roberts, of Moorestown, who is chairman of the New Jersey Farm Relief Committee, this (Wednesday) morning was named a member of a committee which will co-operate with the Federal Farm Board in planning and carrying out its program for New Jersey.

The appointment was announced at New Brunswick by Dr. J. G. Lipman, director of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, and dean of the Agricultural College, Rutgers University.

In addition to ex-Senator Roberts and Dr. Lipman, ten other State agricultural leaders are on the committee.

Charles D. Barton, well known fruit grower of Marlton, is another member.

BOY SCOUTS HOLD COURT OF HONOR

Ten Candidates Become "Tenderfoot" at Special Services in Baptist Church

Last Thursday evening was most auspicious in the program of the Boy Scout Week.

At 6:00 p. m. the fathers of the Palmyra Scouts met with them in the Central Baptist Church, and after a prayer by the Rev. George Lockett, participated in a banquet which will long be remembered by all who attended.

"Pat" Steele distinguished himself in the "classic" and successful manner in which he conducted the song-fest.

Richard E. Wilson, toastmaster, introduced the Mayor, George N. Wimer, whose appropriate remarks were appreciatively received.

Other speakers of the evening were J. Horace Finney, F. W. Spahr, Walter Poulson, George Steele, James Davidson and Thomas VanOyen.

Mr. Wilson next introduced the new Scout Executive of Burlington County, M. A. Shaw, who extended his greetings to the Palmyra Boy Scouts.

Mr. Wilson also spoke regarding the Boy Scout Movement, its progress and achievements.

The banquet was concluded by a prayer by the Rev. J. William Lee.

Immediately following the banquet the Court of Honor was held. Those comprising the Court of Honor were: Oswald Melcher, the Rev. George Lockett, the Rev. J. William Lee, M. A. Shaw, Charles W. Davidson, Joseph S. Low, W. M. Shoemaker, Jr., Thomas VanOsten, Frank A. Snover and C. Morris Beck.

The Court of Honor opened with the Scout's call to attention, presentation of colors, and opening prayer by the Rev. J. William Lee.

This was followed by the investiture service, in which ten boys were taken into the organization with the rank of "tenderfoot."

Veteran Scout and Merit Badges were presented to the various Scouts qualified to attain them. The presentation of the badges was made by the various men comprising the Court of Honor.

Another feature of the evening was an exhibit of handicraft by the Scouts, and this feature alone showed the interest and endeavor of the Boy Scouts of Palmyra.

The fourth patrol, leader "Bob" Fry, received a silver cup for holding the first rank three consecutive times.

The members of this and other patrols received individual prizes for their work in the various patrols.

After the renewal of the Scout Oath, the retiring of the colors, and benediction by the Rev. George Lockett, the Court of Honor came to a close.

Kindly reduced the rent to suit this family. Town trucks moved the furniture. Over the telephone the workers secured two mattresses, a crib, bedding, clothing, two rugs, and many other household necessities.

The organization paid the first month's rent in advance and by night the family was fairly comfortable in its new home. The case was closely followed. They were sent a quart of milk daily, for the children were decidedly undernourished. Miss Marie V. O'Neil, the school nurse, made several calls in this way and helped a great deal.

The two older children were then sent to school, for the first time. The husband and father, who was employed in Delair, walked to and from work to save carfare. Later a house was found in Delair and the family moved so that they would be nearer his place of employment.

The Welfare Association has, in both Palmyra and Riverton, six women and one man always ready to answer calls. The association has been doing good constructive work for the past three years and will continue to do so in the future with the help of the townspeople.

refined family was reduced to want, due to a series of misfortunes, including the continued illness of the mother. The father, who was employed by the government, and had been out of work, was given the opportunity to resume work as clerk and embalmer on a transport ship, but was unable to pay his carfare to New York to take the position.

He was also afraid to leave his wife and their six children practically destitute. The association assumed the temporary responsibility of caring for the family and the man was given money enough to get him to New York. The American Legion gladly agreed to share the expense of food and supplies, as this was an ex-serviceman. This case will be watched closely by both the Legion and the Welfare.

Helps to Keep Jobs

The organization not only supplies food and clothing to those who need it, but in more than one case some worker has spoken to the employer of a man who had lost his position and in this way the man was allowed to hold his position.

In another case the father had lost his position and the mother and children were ill. In an effort to save their lives the children were sent to the hospital, and food was provided until the father found work. After the children returned from the hospital, milk was sent to them for several months, until they had regained strength.

Milk was also supplied for the young baby, otherwise it would have been a substitute. Temporary help at the right time put this family on the right path and they are now able to maintain themselves without further assistance.

With a little assistance one family who is in difficult circumstances is getting along nicely. The father is in a sanatorium and the mother is working by the half-day to help support them.

Necessary clothing was provided for two girls, one being sent to a tuberculosis preventorium; the other was sent to a sanatorium.

Visiting Nurse

The visiting nurses and the school nurse inform the association of those cases with which they come in contact and which are in need.

The physicians and dentists of the towns have also done some very splendid work.

The coal dealers of the community have also been very generous.

Work has been secured for several women whose husbands are out of work at the present time. With the coming of spring there should be more work. Those who are likely to need any kind of help are asked to get in touch with Mayor Wimer for a list of names of those who need work.

Profiting by experience, the association is now doing better constructive work than ever before. The association is always willing to help those in need if they are willing to try to help themselves.

Annual Report

The treasurer's annual report was as follows:

Balance on hand, February 9, 1929, $442.51; cash received, $858.23; total, $1,300.74.

LADIES ENJOY 'COLONIAL TEA'

Palmyra Woman's Club Entertained by Splendid Talent at Novel Luncheon

The February 17th meeting of the Woman's Club took the form of a "Colonial Tea," and a large number of members appeared in costumes of the early days.

Mrs. W. R. Dunn presided and after the singing of "America" by all present, the Salute to the Flag and reading of the Collect, Mrs. Blackburne made an announcement of the Legislative Conference to be held in Trenton on March 3rd, at which time she will represent the Palmyra club.

Mrs. George Becker took charge of the program which followed, the first number being the singing of the Federation song. Miss Helene Johnson then gave several readings, which were greatly enjoyed, and Miss Marjorie Wilson, a Junior member, played two beautiful piano solos in a most pleasing manner.

Then followed two selections by the club chorus, after which eight of the Juniors, Ida Trout, Mary Sanford, Lydia Mervine, Alice Lippincott, Marjorie Wilson, Eleanor and Florence Bauer and Katherine King, danced the minuet in a manner which was a credit to the coaching ability of Mrs. Albert Parker.

The beautiful voice of Mrs. Beatrice Collin was then heard in several contralto solos of splendid selection and were happily received. Mrs. Collin was ably accompanied by Mrs. Frank Bell.

Mrs. H. B. Williams and her committee, assisted by the Juniors, then served refreshments, and all present felt that this meeting was one of the most enjoyable ever held by the club.

SCOUT COUNSELLORS

A special meeting of the Palmyra Boy Scout Counsellors Association will be held in the Lutheran Church next Tuesday evening. This meeting is of great importance to the Boy Scout movement in this community. All who are interested in the organization, particularly the fathers of Scouts, are urged to be present at this time. Attendance is not limited to members of the association.

MRS. NANNIE TATEM

Mrs. Nannie Tatem, colored, seventy-five years old, died at her home, Market and Washington streets, Palmyra, Sunday. Funeral services were held yesterday at 1:30 p. m. from the late residence. Interment was made in Mount Peace Cemetery, near Camden, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

GUESTS - A TEST FOR HOME EQUIPMENT

We are naturally conscious of home furnishings when guests are present. A pardonable pride in our homes not only seeks approval, but is the motive for improvements. Sometimes small details are overlooked which tear down the impression we want to create. In the bathroom and kitchen, for instance, there is call for the utmost fastidiousness in fixtures and accessories—here the standard is very high indeed.

To bring bathroom and kitchen to the pitch of beauty, efficiency and convenience, we have many things displayed in our store and welcome cordially the visits of those interested in securing information on these important matters.

GOLD STAR MOTHERS TO VISIT GRAVES

Ten From Burlington County Are Eligible for Pilgrimage This Year at Government's Expense

Ten gold star mothers and gold star widows of Burlington County have been certified by the War Department at Washington as eligible to make the pilgrimage to the graves of sons and husbands in France during the coming summer. They are:

Mrs. Richard Bagg, Hartford.

Mrs. A. Scott Crankle, 10 West Second street, Moorestown.

Mrs. Lillian Everham, Burlington.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, 25 Second street, Bordentown.

Mrs. Charles Lenola Kreps, 207 Centre street, Moorestown.

Mrs. Anna M. McConnell, Bridgeboro.

Mrs. Martha Nixon, Delanco.

Mrs. Lena M. Schaffer, 501 Cleveland avenue, Riverside.

Mrs. Fannie Smith, 724 Manor road, Beverly.

Mrs. Clara Valentine, West Washington avenue, East Riverton.

The gold star mothers will be taken to France some time between April 1 and September 30. All of the expenses of the trip of the gold star mothers will be paid by the Government of the United States.

New Jersey will send three hundred and ninety-two gold star mothers and gold star widows to the battlefields in France. Of this number sixty-two are from Burlington County, Camden County, Gloucester County, Cumberland County, Atlantic County and Salem County.

PARTIAL PURIFICATION OF RARITAN RIVER IS URGED

Abatement of the Raritan River pollution nuisance can be effected "for a number of years to come" by a 60 to 70 per cent. purification of sewage and trade wastes which are now poured into the stream. This conclusion is reached by the Department of Water Supply and Sewage Disposal, Rutgers University, in a report to the Port Raritan District Commission on a recently completed study of pollution conditions in the river. The investigations were undertaken by Rutgers at the request of the Raritan Valley Conservation Commission.

The Navy Department is so much interested in General Butler's views that it has asked for a full report of this Pittsburgh speech.

GOTTLEB SPEAKS ON COMMUNISM

Tells of Perils of Soviet Doctrines at Meeting in P. O. S. of A. Hall

World wide revolutionary plans of the Communists were brought out into the light by Theodore D. Gottlieb at the meeting of the Patriotic Order Sons of America held in Palmyra Monday night. This was an open meeting and several non-members were present.

Mr. Gottlieb explained in detail the plans of the various groups who were opposed to orderly government. He read the principles of the Communist Party as published by the Russian Soviets, which called for the abolition of private property, the abolition of inheritance, the abolition of the family, the abolition of marriage, the abolition of government and the abolition of cities and towns. "In fact they believe in the abolition of almost everything which we have come to associate with orderly government," commented Mr. Gottlieb.

The speaker told very vividly of the atheist movement which has become a part of the anarchist group and related some very startling facts about the work of the atheists among children, mentioning especially the Junior Atheist League.

The American Association for the Advancement of Atheism is also one of the atheist organizations discussed by the speaker. He gave some very startling details of the work of the Communists among the children in the public schools and told of the methods being used by patriotic organizations to combat the spread of these unwholesome doctrines.

CINNAMINSON P. T. A.

The school this Tuesday morning, reminded one of a bee hive, only there were no drones visible. The manual training room was full of busy boys, the domestic science girls were learning to measure goods and to cut out garments to the best advantage, and the two lower classes were scrubbing little pink palms before going to lunch. One was especially proud that "He never forgot to wash his hands and brush his teeth."

One of the fathers has arranged to take several of the seventh grade girls to visit the R. M. Hallinghead rubber plant during the week, the visit to be reported to the school. Surely a fine thing for a busy man to do, everyone appreciates his interest.

The girls in the physical culture class are working off their pent up energy this inclement weather by learning to clog, much to their delight. The whole school was pleased over the victory of the basketball team over the Palmyra team.

A number of the boys have formed a

Palmyra, 33; Bordertown, 30.
This Week's Schedule
Friday—Mount Holly High at Riverside High; Burlington High at Palmyra High.

Cochran Ken Dimond's Palmyra High quintet bowled over the Bordertown High basketball team Tuesday afternoon in the last 30 seconds of a hectic duel, to sew up its hold on second place in the Burlington County High School League. The final score was 35-25.

With the score standing at 30-25 in Bordertown's favor, and only 30 seconds remaining of play, Captain Baker deadlocked the count from the foul line and Bill Moffitt's field goal clinched the verdict, although Baker came through with another foul goal just as the whistle blew ending the game.

The Palmyra tossers have three more games to play, one at Burlington tomorrow, the league finale at Moorestown the following Friday, and a tussle at Audubon Tuesday. All of these games will be played in the evening.

It marked the eighth victory in ten starts for the "Pals," while it was the seventh setback for Bordertown in 11 games.

It was a tough game for the Bordertown passers to lose, for they assumed the lead at the start of the game and held it throughout the tussle with the exception of the last 30 seconds of play, when the "Pals" staged a final spurt to nose out their rivals.

At the close of the first quarter Bordertown held a commanding lead of 13-8, and at the end of the first half held a larger edge by the score of 18-11. In the third period both teams battled about on a par with Bordertown still maintaining the lead with a score of 28-20, but failed to score more than two points in the last period, both of which were foul goals.

Captain Baker was the outstanding star for the "Pals" during the tussle, garnering 10 points on three field goals and four penalty casts, while Reed and Horton also played a prominent part in the victory. Both of whom tallied six counters on three double-deckers.

Bill Winterbottom and Jack Clark were the stars from a Bordertown standpoint, the former leading both teams in scoring with an even dozen points on four field goals and as many foul goals, while Captain Mercantini also played well.

The box score:

Palmyra High	W.	L.	P.C.
Davidson, f.	1	1	2
Reed, c.	3	0	0
Baker, c.	3	4	5

Ken Dimond's charges made sure of second place in the Burlington County basketball league when they downed Moorestown by the close score of 20-21 on the latter's court.

Although Burlington clinched the league honors last Thursday night at the expense of Bordertown, the "Pals" were determined to make sure of the runners-up position by capturing the Friday night tussle, which they did by a one-point margin.

Although Moorestown took it on the chin, Paul Isenberg's proteges didn't go down without putting up the gamiest sort of fight.

They held the invaders to an even break at half-time, but during the last 11 minutes of the 10-minute rest interval, however, the respite seemed to refresh the "Pals" for they took the lead at the start of the third period and, despite several threatening gestures on the part of the Quakers, managed to cling to the lead till the final gun barked the end of hostilities.

Palmyra outscored the homesters from the field, seven goals to six, but Moorestown capped eight penalty shots against seven for the visitors.

Baker played the major role for Palmyra. He swished through two field "buckets" and the same number of fouls. Prisco and Reed each dropped in a pair of double-deckers, while Davidson came through with one two-point and a brace of shots from the 15-foot mark.

Frank Bolton, as usual, was the outstanding scorer for Moorestown. He dropped in two ten-cylinders and four foul goals to top the scores of both teams. Atwood Moore won second honors for the Quakers, with two field goals and a solitary cast from the penalty line.

Miss Hannah Pennock Miller, chairman of the Pennock Branch of the YMCA, of Philadelphia, is to be the speaker at the annual mother-daughter banquet which is to be held by the Moorestown District of the YMCA, Friday, February 21, at 6:30 p. m., at the Community House.

Preceding the address there will be special numbers presented by the various club girls of the district. In addition to the group numbers Miss Lois McClure will give a piano solo, and Molly Roberts and Eleanor Henderson a Colonial dance.

The covers for the program are being made by the Maple Shade Girl Reserves, the picture of a Colonial girl being drawn by Elizabeth Stein, president of the club.

Mildred Reibinger, of Beverly, in charge of the banquet are Mrs. George B. Ferrier Jr., chairman; Mrs. Edwin Russell, publicity; Mrs. William Matlock, dining room; Mrs. B. E. Thresher, dinner; Mrs. W. S. Waelemer and Miss Margaret Thomas, program; Mrs. Benjamin Hallett, decorations; Mrs. Howard Wurst and Mrs. Harry Haines. Tickets may be secured from any of the committee or from the county Y. W. C. A. office.

The Mount Holly Mothers' Club enjoyed a delightful Valentine party at the Y. W. C. A. club house on Monday evening, February 10. Games were directed by Mrs. Albert O'Hare. Mrs. W. S. Austin, and Sidonie Schaefer, of the county Y. W. C. A.

The Senior Club committee met at the Y. W. C. A. dining room in Mount Holly, on Monday evening, February 17. "Unemployment" was the subject for consideration and discussion. Mrs. W. S. Austin, and Sidonie Schaefer, of the county Y. W. C. A., gave an interesting account of the work of the British Employment Exchange and the British system of unemployment insurance. She also spoke of some methods in meeting the problem of unemployment by certain firms in America, among them the Denison Manufacturing Company.

Members of the committee will attend the meeting at the Moorestown Friends Meeting, on Thursday, February 27, at which Morris Leeds will discuss methods for eliminating unemployment as outlined by the Chamber of Commerce of Philadelphia.

The Willingboro Planning Play Club, with the assistance of the Senior Y. W. C. A. Club, will present a three-act play "And Mary Did" at the Willingboro Y. M. C. A. Hall on Friday evening, February 28, at eight o'clock.

The play is being directed by Miss Mildred Stinger, of Beverly, and the cast includes Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Perkins, Margaret Cook, Margaret Griffith, Emma Fenton, Elizabeth Stuart, Ruth Shinn, and Bessie Griffith, Eben Shinn, Raymond Griffith and Kenneth Shinn.

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey F. Spaeth, of Camden, announced the engagement of their daughter, Helena Elizabeth Spaeth, to Maurice Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Collins, of Chapel Avenue, Moorestown, at a Valentine dance and bridge at their home on Saturday evening.

Miss Spaeth graduated from Camden High School and later from the College of Practical Education in New Hampshire. Maurice attended George School and finished his studies at Franklin and Marshall College.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Collins, Marion Collins, William Collins, Marvin Collins and Robert Rogers, of Moorestown; Priscilla Sturges, Elaine Tompkins, of Collingswood; Anne Glenn, Sarah G. Howell and Vincent Garvey, of Philadelphia; Ralph Downer and Fred Homer, of Morelandville; Alice Fols, Haddon Heights; Kathryn Ord, Carlyle, Pa.; James Miller, of Cynwyd, Pa.; Robert Beard, of Chambersburg; Howard Evans, of Riverton; Mildred Rodde, of Swedesboro; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schuchert, of Philadelphia; Edna E. Harris, of Philadelphia; Loretta Cant, of Veron; Betty Haines, of Camden; Beryl Wynn, of Camden; and Mrs. Amy Dalbey, of Camden.

LIQUOR VIOLATOR GIVEN 3 MONTHS

Persistent Offender Also Has $2,400 Fine Tacked on for Emphasis

Probably the heaviest sentence meted out in the Burlington County Courts for an offense against the Prohibition laws since the passage of the Volstead Act, fell to Alfred Marchese, of Burlington, Thursday of last week, when Judge Ring ordered that he serve three months in the County Jail and imposed fines totaling $2,400 on six charges, all having to do with liquor law infractions.

Marchese has been a persistent violator of the liquor laws and has been before the Court on numerous occasions for these offenses, and the six indictments against him this time called for about everything but transgression.

The Court sentenced Marchese to pay a fine of $250 on each of four charges and to spend three months in jail on each charge. On two others fines were placed at $200 each, with one month in jail. The jail sentences are to run concurrently, however, making three months in all, that he must serve, but the fines total $2,400.

John Burris Horner, of Chesterfield, who entered a plea of guilty to stealing chickens, and who is also wanted in Ocean County, will spend the next two years in State prison.

He leaves a wife and seven children to be cared for by somebody. Andrew Smith, colored, of Beverly, seriously charged by three white boys and found guilty by a jury, went to Reformatory for an indefinite period.

Leo Norbut, of Burlington, an old offender against the liquor laws, was fined $400 and given six months in which to pay. He was also placed on probation for one year.

Barber, of near Red Lion, an other liquor law violator, was fined $150 and must pay within three months. Placed on probation for six months.

Clifford "Kip" Shisker, of Burlington, liquor law violations and operating two slot machines, fined $225 and given six months in which to pay. Placed on probation for one year.

Louis Schroeder, of Burlington, who was arrested for being a bartender, fined $75, to be paid within three months. Placed on probation for six months.

Herbert E. Frech, of Burlington, liquor law violation, fined $75, and allowed three months to pay. Placed on probation for six months.

Dewey Jeannette, who runs the old hotel at Chesterfield, liquor law violations, fined $100, with three months in which to pay. Placed on probation for six months.

Edward Markiewicz, of Green's Alley and Linden Street, Burlington, who was in Court twice in 1927 and fined $800 and $450, respectively, for liquor law violations, had his sentence deferred for one week.

William McDonald, of Delanco, whose conscience has been worrying him since he broke into two of his neighbor's buildings and stole garden tools and other accessories, was in on a waiver and pleaded guilty. He was given a suspended sentence and placed on probation for one year, with no costs.

Sentence This Week
Armand Love, colored, of Florence, charged with larceny, will know his fate this week.

John J. Mitchell, of Mount Holly, charged with desertion and neglect, will have to pay his mother-in-law a week for the support of his two children.

Judge Riggs sat in Criminal Court when the several cases were disposed of.

One case which attracted more than usual attention was that of the State against Charles Gorenflo, of Riverside, whose place, known as Charlie's Cafe, was raided early on New Year's morning, when twelve quarts of liquor and as many half barrels of high-powered beer were confiscated, while more than a hundred patrons were held as inmates of a disorderly house and fined $5 and costs, amounting to $8, by Justice Frank M. Lockman, of Camden.

Gorenflo was charged with sale, possession, maintaining a house and furnishing liquor, but at the conclusion of the State's case, on motion of V. Claude Palmer, counsel for Gorenflo, the charge of sale was eliminated.

Gorenflo then pleaded guilty to possession of liquor and maintaining a house and the only question left for the jury to decide was the "furnishing of liquor," which they did in about fifteen minutes, the verdict being guilty.

Herman Drake, of Maple Shade, charged with attempted carnal abuse, was acquitted by a jury.

Charles P. Egell, of Bordertown, indicted for assault and battery on Gordon Mink, retracted his former plea and entered one of guilty. He will be back for sentence this week.

Retracts Former Plea
Edwin Markiewicz, of Burlington, charged with liquor law violations, made a retraction of his former plea and pleaded guilty.

carceration. This will let him out immediately.

John Kary, of Philadelphia, wanted at Mount Holly, for carrying weapons, having been picked up at Riverside with three companions, when their automobile stalled, failed to appear and his bail of $1,000, furnished by the National Surety Company, was ordered forfeited. Kary is reputed to be a Philadelphia gunman and a generally bad egg.

Adam Rudzik, of Maple Shade, charged with illegal possession of liquor, let the evidence go before a jury, with the result that he was convicted. He will be sentenced this week.

MOORESTOWN

As a concluding feature of Boy Scout Anniversary Week, members of Moorestown Troops 2 and 3 attended the evening service at Trinity Episcopal Church last Sunday. The boys enjoyed a most inspirational sermon by the Rev. Edgar L. Sanford, rector.

The monthly meeting of the Parochial P. T. A. was held on Wednesday, February 12. Mrs. Hannah Marcy Rogers, executive secretary of the Church Federation, gave an interesting talk on the work being done by her organization. The attendance banner was awarded Sister Eileen's class.

Miss Ann O'Donnell, of South Church street, entertained a bridge on Monday evening. Tables were laid for twelve guests, who were from Oaklane, Ardmore, Haddonfield, and Moorestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sangree, Mr. and Mrs. B. Hubert Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Elkinton, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Linton, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Roberts, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. S. Enlen Stokes, attended the skating carnival at the Arena, in Philadelphia, on Saturday evening.

Mrs. William Sharp, of South Church street, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duffey, of Haddonfield, Pa., recently. Mrs. Duffey will be remembered as Miss Frances McDaniel, formerly of Moorestown.

The Freshman English class of Moorestown High School, taught by Mrs. Hannah Evans, will go to the Chestnut Street Opera House, in Philadelphia, to see Shakespeare's comedy, "As You Like It," this (Wednesday) afternoon.

Mrs. S. Enlen Stokes entertained at dinner on Saturday evening, at her home on Chester Avenue.

Former Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, made one of the first addresses of his life when he spoke on Abraham Lincoln at the meeting of the Mount Holly Rotary Club Wednesday last week. He kept away from the things that have been heard so often and gave the history of the human interest side of Lincoln's life. Very sincere congratulations were given to the speaker at the close of the address.

Walter Pew's String Trio entertained at the annual meeting of the Burlington Chamber of Commerce on Thursday evening of last week.

ORDINANCE
AN ORDINANCE providing for, relating to and requiring a Police Department in the Borough of Riverton, County of Burlington.

SECTION 1. BE IT ORDAINED by the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton, in the County of Burlington, that there shall be in the Borough of Riverton, a Police Department, which shall consist of one Chief of Police and such number of Police Officers and such special officers as the Mayor and Council shall deem advisable to appoint and for which appointments the Borough of Riverton may appropriate in any fiscal year such sum as may be provided.

SECTION 2. BE IT ORDAINED that the officers of said Department shall hold their offices during good behavior, efficiency and residence in the Borough, or until by age or disease they become permanently incapacitated from discharging their duties, and that, ever, that any officer of said Department may be removed for the reason and in the manner hereinafter provided.

SECTION 3. BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED that the Chief of Police shall have the power of direction and supervision over the Police Department, and he shall see that all rules and regulations of the Department are enforced and carried out, and shall have a criminal offense, violation of any ordinance of the Borough, and in such cases he may be delegated to him by the Police Committee of Council, or the Mayor and Council.

SECTION 4. BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED that members of the Police Department, in addition to the duties conferred upon them in criminal matters by the general laws of the State, shall have power and it shall be their duty to arrest, without warrant, any person or persons by them found violating any of the penal ordinances of the Borough or laws of the State, and to take such person or persons before a proper magistrate to be dealt with in the same manner as if such person or persons had been arrested upon a warrant thereto duly issued by such magistrate. It shall be their duty to report violations of laws and ordinances coming to their knowledge in any way to the Chief of Police, under the regulations governing the Department, and to process to enforce any penalty for the violation of any ordinance of the Borough and any subpena or bench warrant issued in connection therewith may be served by them.

SECTION 5. BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED that the Police Committee of Council shall make rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance, the laws of the State, and the laws of the Borough of Riverton, for the government, management and discipline of the Police, and such Rules and Regulations may be approved and adopted by the Mayor and Council, before becoming effective.

SECTION 6. BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED that no officer or employee of the Police Department shall be employed for political reasons or without just cause, that if a charge be made by any person against any member of the Police Department, of incompetency, misconduct, non-residence or disobedience of law, rules and regulations, such member shall not be removed from office or employment until a written charge or charges to the effect of cause for such charge or charges, filed with the Mayor and Council, a copy of such charge or charges served upon the officer complained against personally, or by leaving the same at his usual place of abode with a person over the age of 16 years, and after the said charge or charges shall be publicly examined into by the Mayor and Council upon request made by the person thus charged.

SECTION 7. BE IT FURTHER ORDAINED that all ordinances inconsistent with this ordinance be and the same are hereby repealed, and that this ordinance shall take effect upon its proper passage and publication.

NOTICE
Notice is hereby given that the foregoing Ordinance was introduced at a regular meeting of the Council of the Borough of Riverton, held on the 15th day of February, nineteen hundred and thirty, and that at a regular meeting held on the 17th day of February, 1930, the Borough of Riverton on the 15th day of March, nineteen hundred and thirty, the said Council will consider the final passage of said Ordinance.

By order of the Council,
Dated, February 13, 1930.
DANIEL M. CLIFTON, Borough Clerk.

RIVERTON PARK COMMITTEE NAMED

The additional signatures bring the number up nearly to the 1,000 mark. Roscoe C. Shinn, sheriff of Burlington County, addressed a letter to council recommending the appointment of Officer Quigley as chief of police, based on his personal knowledge of Quigley's character and qualifications.

The petition was received and filed with other data having to do with the reorganization of the police department, under the ordinance which was presented by Councilman DeLaney, new chairman of the police department. This ordinance passed first reading and will come up for final consideration on March 13.

The ordinance as originally presented limited the number of marshals to three, and provided that in order to serve on the borough police force the applicant must have resided in Riverton two years prior to his appointment.

Borough Clerk Daniel M. Clifton, speaking as a citizen and not in his official capacity, objected to both of these provisions, claiming that it would be unwise to handicap future councils by limiting the number of marshals which might be employed, and that the two-year residence requirement might prevent the borough from making a desirable appointment on the police force at some future date.

After some discussion the number of marshals that may be employed was raised to six, and the two-year residence restriction was eliminated.

Director DeLaney submitted the following report of the activities of the police department during the past month.

(a) A count of vacant buildings in the Borough of Riverton was made during the past few weeks. We find there are forty-nine (49) dwellings and four (4) business houses vacant. The addresses of same have been made a matter of record.

(b) The State Motor Vehicle Department is making a drive for motor vehicle violations. Their inspectors were in Riverton on January 22, 1930. Numerous cars were stopped for driving with one headlight and made to have lights repaired before allowing same to proceed.

(c) New parking signs have been placed in front of the Post Office and old Bank Building in order to correct a previous complaint. The public is asked to co-operate with the local department in order that a repetition of a near-accident a month ago on this site can be avoided in the future.

(d) A citizen of Palmyra was arrested for drunken driving after colliding with and slightly damaging three automobiles. Owners refused to press charges. He was tried before Justice Coddington, and fined $206.10, and his license revoked for two years.

Numerous complaints of petty thievery have caused the department much concern during the past month.

(a) Ice cream has been stolen from the rear steps of the home of Harold Sheble, Lippincott avenue, on several occasions during the past month.

(b) The garage of Dr. Dey was entered, and cards and papers in the pockets of the car taken.

(c) A starting battery was taken from the truck owned by Councilman Clelland.

(d) "Clean-out" and fire doors of the heating boiler to be installed in the fire house building by John Holvick, were taken from this building now under construction. The Police Department is investigating and endeavoring to apprehend the culprits.

The roping off of one block of Main street and one block of Thomas avenue, for the children to roller skate, was tried. It was necessary to discontinue Thomas avenue section due to complaints of the property owners in that vicinity. We have continued to allow the children to play in the zoned section of Main street during favorable weather.

At the request of the State Police, the local department covered the case of the shooting of David Nelson, plant engineer of the Ice Plant, East Riverton, until the arrival of the State Police and county detectives, January 10, 1930. Mr. Nelson died of the wound the following day. William Frazer, age 19, of East Riverton, was arrested and confessed to the shooting of Nelson. He is now in the county jail held for murder.

Mr. DeLaney, reporting for the sewer committee, in the absence of the chairman, Councilman Henry L. Randall, said that a stoppage in the sewer at Seventh and Lippincott had been cleared up and that the sewers are now in satisfactory condition.

Will Forecastle Sewer Delinquents.
Mr. DeLaney further reported that he had taken up with the Palmyra authorities the matter of delinquent sewer rentals owed by residents of that borough who use the Elm avenue sewer belonging to the Riverton system. He said that he had been informed that the proper way to go about collecting these rentals was to enter suit and get judgments and turn them over to the Palmyra officials who would in turn have them entered as a lien against these properties. Mr. DeLaney offered a motion that the attorney be authorized to start proceedings at once against the five delinquent property owners. It was seconded by Mr. Elwell and unanimously carried.

Mr. Elwell reported that a request had been made for additional fire protection at Shrewsbury Lane. Clarence W. Rodman, a resident in that section, stated that the nearest fire hydrant was at too great a distance from this group of properties to afford adequate protection, urged that something be done about it.

Facilities to Follow Improvements
Mayor Rogers replied that this matter had come before council several months ago, at which time the residents of Shrewsbury Lane had been requested to improve the street by laying sidewalks and curbs, after which council had agreed to provide better facilities.

It was pointed out that where fire hydrants were at a greater distance from properties than recommended by the Fire Underwriters Association, rates for insurance were considerably higher.

Councilman DeLaney replied that in determining rates the Fire Underwriters took many things under consideration, such as fire equipment, efficiency of the fire department, etc., and added that the Riverton Fire Department, both as to equipment and personnel, was rated among the best.

Charles C. Miller, chairman of a citizens' committee appointed at the last meeting to consider the proposition of the Pennsylvania Railroad to make certain improvements within the Borough and to close two crossings, reported by letter that the committee would be ready to report at the March meeting.

The Board of Health submitted a report covering the past three months and fees amounting to $12.

The Building Inspector reported that permits had been issued for $5,400 worth of building constructions and fees amounting to $13.

Riverton May Lose Revenue
Councilman Joshua S. Bartley, chairman of the finance committee, to whom had been received a communication from the Bureau of Municipal Information, asking for the official attitude of the Borough of Riverton toward the bill proposed to appeal personal property taxes, reported that he had been advised by the Borough Attorney that no action Council could take would have any effect on the passage of the bill or its defeat. If this bill becomes a law personal property in Riverton assessed at $407,000 will escape taxation, and the deficit will have to be made up by an increased levy on real estate.

Frank Stroblin appeared before Council and requested that the house numbers on Elm Terrace be untangled. He said that three houses had the same number, causing endless confusion. Clerk Daniel M. Clifton stated that had several times given the residents of that street the proper numbers, but that he would be very glad to make one more attempt to get the thing straightened out. While he had the floor Mr. Stroblin presented the request of Mrs. Schonweiss that a street light be placed on Cinnaminson street, between Fourth and Fifth streets. The request was referred to the lighting committee.

The Boys Who Are Preparing in Burlington County

In this county today hundreds of boys — members of our Boy Scout troops — are preparing themselves for tomorrow, developing loyalty, trustworthiness and dependability to produce good men for Burlington County.

Ex-President Coolidge has said, "The Scout code seems to embrace almost every virtue needed in the personal and social life of mankind."

Thrift is one of the twelve Scout laws. Scouting teaches a boy that he must be prepared financially. He must learn to earn money and save a portion. In fact, before taking his second step in Scouting, a boy must earn and deposit at least one dollar in a public bank.

The officers and directors of this bank consider it a privilege to contribute this space to the movement that is doing so much to build up better citizenship for Burlington County.

HELD UP TWO GAS STATIONS

Riverton Man "Taken for a Ride" by Two Armed Bandits

Monday evening at 9:30 Louis Bell, of Riverton, attendant at the Gulf gasoline station at Burlington Pike and Riverton road, started to wait on two men who had apparently driven up for gas, when one of them drew a gun.

Bell was ordered to go into the station and get the cash register. The bandit followed and told him to open the safe, but Bell told them he did not know how. He was forced, however, to open the cash register and hand over $8.50.

After the hold-up men got the money they put Bell in the rear seat of the car, which had been stolen in Camden, and warned him not to say anything or they would "drill him." They took Louis for a ride through the north section of Camden and then came back to Cove road and Burlington Pike, where they "knocked off" an Atlantic gas station.

Jura Kern, of Camden, the attendant, was shoved into the car with Bell. The bandits took their victims to the Crescent Boulevard Circle and turned them loose. The Pensacola police took Bell to their headquarters and Troopers Turnbull and McBride, of Delanco, brought him home. Officer Miller, of Riverton, went out to the Gulf station to look after it until Bell got back.

The State police and local police are co-operating in the hunt for the bandits.

Wednesday night Edgar W. Miller, of Lippincott avenue, Riverton, reported that his Willis-St. Clair sedan had been stolen from in front of his home.

Two more service stations in Camden were held up after Miller's car disappeared. It is thought that probably the same two bandits who held up Louis Bell on Monday night stole Miller's car and committed these other two robberies Wednesday evening.

The two Camden gas station attendants were kidnapped in the same manner as were Louis Bell and Jura Kern on Monday night.

BUS GOES THRU FENCE INTO MARSH

Young Mechanic-Driver Escapes Injury as Car Dives Eight Feet

William J. Kille, 2922 High street, Camden, 17-year-old mechanic, narrowly escaped being killed or seriously injured Saturday evening when a bus he was driving plunged into a marsh the north side of the Kille way at the Hoffman Farm, at Cambridge.

The accident occurred when Kille was transferring the bus from the former Public Service garage in East Riverton to the new headquarters at the Riverside car barn. According to reports a bus proceeding west on River road headed for the bus Kille was driving and in an attempt to clear the other bus Kille steered into the guard on the bridge at that point. When the bus struck the abutment Kille lost control of the wheel and the bus creased across the road and crashed through the guard fence and down into the marsh.

It was not until late the next morning that the damaged bus was towed away, due to difficulties in pulling it out of the marsh.

There were no passengers on the bus at the time and Kille escaped uninjured.

State Trooper McBride, of the Delanco Barracks, was called to the scene. No arrest was made.

Frank Volpe and Charles Wallace, both of Palmyra, were cut and bruised when Volpe's car struck the back of an Atlantic Stages bus Saturday evening between Delanco and Beverly, on St. Michel Drive.

A passing car had sideswiped the bus and James R. Moore, the driver, of Philadelphia, had stopped to examine the damage done by the passing car when Volpe's Ford coupe crashed into the rear of the bus. The driver whose car hit the bus did not stop.

State Trooper McGee sent the injured men to the Zurburg Hospital, where their wounds were treated.

No arrest was made, as no charges were preferred.

MRS. RACHEL W. SMITH
Mrs. Rachel W. Smith, 85 years old, widow of the late Charles Smith, died at the home of her son, William, Second street and Delaware avenue, Palmyra, last Thursday. Funeral services were held from the residence Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. J. William Lee officiating. Interment was made in the Methodist Cemetery, Palmyra, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

MRS. CLARA WATSON
Clara Watson, sister to Albert Van Sciver, of Riverton, died at her home in Trenton last Saturday.

CONTRACT IS LET FOR BRISTOL SPAN

Length Set at 3124 Feet; Will Have Two Auto Lanes

Two of the nation's greatest commonwealths, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, will be joined at another point across the Delaware river with the opening of the Burlington-Bristol bridge in the spring of 1931. Contracts for the giant span of steel and concrete were signed and delivered on Monday and construction work will be commenced this spring.

George deBenneville Keim, Edgewater Park, was chosen president of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge Company at a recent meeting. His communication to Mayor Harold V. Holmes, Burlington, on Tuesday, was the first official announcement of the completions of plans and the awarding of contracts for the work.

The structure will terminate on the plot directly adjoining the property of the Thomas Devlin Foundry, West Pearl street, in Burlington, and the Keystone State terminus will be at Maple Beach, about a mile southwest of Bristol.

Contractor to Employ Local Men
A state highway "feeder" will be built to the Burlington approach through Washington avenue, over the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, on an elevated roadway, to Union and Reed streets, where the bridge will come to grade.

McClintic-Marshall Company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., largest independent fabricators and erectors of structural steel in America, have been awarded the contract for erection of the span. Messrs. Ash-Howard-Needles & Tammen have designed the bridge and will supervise construction. The Pittsburgh concern expresses the desire to select as many of its employees on this operation as possible from the immediate locality.

The bridge will be 3,124 feet long, including approaches, with a vertical lift channel span of 540 feet. This channel span will have a maximum clearance above mean high water of 64 feet when in its lower or closed position, which will permit practically all traffic now using this part of the Delaware to pass without necessitating the closing of this lift. The length of the channel span will exceed by 200 feet that of any now in existence.

A liberal clearance for two lanes of traffic will be afforded on a well-paved roadway. There also will be a path, four feet wide, for pedestrians.

Financed by Private Capital
Private capital has been secured, through efforts of Mr. Keim, for financing the structure, and there will be no public offering of securities.

A bridge between the two communities, the proposed span will connect has long been contemplated and planned. Thirty-five years ago a committee was appointed in Burlington to study the advisability of erecting such a structure. It remained for one of the members of that original committee, Joseph R. Cheesman, president of the Enterprise Publishing Company, Burlington, to see the project advanced to its present stage.

Mr. Cheesman worked for a long time unaided to convert his dream and ideal into an actuality. Several years ago Mayor Clifford L. Anderson of Bristol joined hands with Mr. Cheesman, and since that time the two have labored untiringly, until now the gratifying results of their efforts are in sight.

The bridge will provide not only a means of quick transportation between Burlington and Bristol, but the course of the river is such that it will afford a much shorter distance from Burlington and other points in South Jersey to Trenton, and likewise to communities adjacent to Trenton and Bristol on the Pennsylvania side.

This bridge will give a direct connection for a large portion of North Philadelphia with central and North Jersey shore resorts. It will be a direct connection between the "express" New Jersey highway from New York to Philadelphia and the similar parallel concrete state highway on the opposite side of the Delaware.

The officers and directors of the Burlington-Bristol Bridge Company are as follows:

Officers—President, George deB. Keim; vice presidents, Joseph R. Cheesman, Clifford L. Anderson, Jonathan Jones; secretary and treasurer, E. J. Patterson; assistant secretary, Lloyd Cross; assistant treasurer, W. Emory Cheesman.

Directors—Clifford L. Anderson, Bristol, Pa.; Joseph R. Cheesman, Burlington; George deB. Keim, Edgewater Park; Walter E. Robb, Burlington; E. J. Patterson, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Jonathan Jones, Philadelphia, Pa.; F. U. Kennedy, Philadelphia, Pa.; Lloyd Cross, Delanco; C. H. Oskin, Pottstown, Pa.

New Jersey counsel for the company will be Messrs. Palmer & Powell, of Mount Holly.

RAILROAD BRIDGE TO BE OF MODERN CONSTRUCTION

The above picture, an artist's drawing of the proposed underpass of Route 8-41 superimposed upon a photograph, gives a clear impression of how the West Palmyra railroad bridge will look when complete. The trolley tracks are not shown in the picture but will cross the highway at grade in about the same relative position they now occupy. While the elevation of the tracks in West Palmyra has been fought at every step by the mayor and borough council they feel that there is nothing more to be done, now that the highway department has made

FARMERS PLAN ANTI-RAT DRIVE

U. S. Department of Agriculture to Aid in Extermination of Pests

The Burlington County Agricultural Extension Service and Farm Bureau will co-operate in making available to the farmers of this County specific information which will enable every farmer to free his premises of rats. In this undertaking, these organizations will receive the advice and help of a trained employee of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, available for such work on request.

William K. Hookstra, of Beverly, president of the Burlington County Board of Agriculture; Ernest Sutton, Burlington; Lyman Horner, of New Lisbon, and Harold Joyce, of Medford, other members of the executive committee, met with Mr. Silver, of the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, to prepare preliminary plans for carrying out the campaign.

The campaign will be conducted similarly to that which will be held in Mount Holly through the co-operation of the Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce. Prepared poison bait will be distributed by exterminators. Farmers of Burlington County are sustaining an actual loss of $50,000 annually due to rats.

H. G. TAYLOR PASSES AWAY

Prominent Cinnaminson Township Man Dies at Age of Seventy-Two

Howard G. Taylor, Sr., passed away at his home at Taylor's Lane Sunday afternoon after being confined to his bed only a few days. Mr. Taylor's strength had been declining for some time but he had been able to keep up until a few days before the end.

Mr. Taylor, who was nearly seventy-two years old, was one of the oldest residents of Cinnaminson Township and was respected by all who knew him.

Being a public spirited man and interested in the progress of the township he held offices on the township committee and the board of health for about thirty years. He was still a member of these committees at the time of his death. Mr. Taylor also served a long term on the Cinnaminson school board from which he resigned eight years ago.

In 1832, Edward Taylor, of Monmouth county, and grandfather of Mr. Taylor, moved his family to the present home of the Taylor family, the River Side homestead. Mr. Taylor's father was eight years old at the time.

Mr. Taylor was born in the homestead in the year 1858 and lived there during his whole life. He attended Bartram Kane's School in Moorestown and drove to school every day in a sulky. After completing his course there Mr. Taylor entered Friends' Select School in Philadelphia.

He entered Haverford College as a sophomore and completed the course in three years, graduating in 1878. Mr. Taylor followed farming as his life's work and was always interested in county and state agricultural affairs. He was elected secretary of the New Jersey State Horticultural Society and held the office from 1908 until 1921. Mr. Taylor attended all the sessions of the society until the time of the recent sessions held in Asbury Park.

In 1886 Mr. Taylor married Anna M. Comfort of Moorestown, who survives him, as do also his son, Howard G. Taylor, Jr., and daughter, Alice Comfort Taylor who is now Mrs. William R. Schickel, of Moorestown. He has a sister, Anna Taylor Williams, of Philadelphia, and his brother Edward B. Taylor, an official of the Pennsylvania Railroad, died a few years ago at Sewickley, Pa.

Friends' services were held Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made at Westfield Friends' Cemetery.

EASTWOOD NAMED FOR PROSECUTOR

Burlington Man to Succeed George Hillman; Wells Gets Judgeship

Two outstanding Burlington County men were appointed to high positions by Governor Morgan F. Larson Monday evening. Howard Eastwood, of Wood street, Burlington, was named for prosecutor, and former Judge Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown, was placed on the bench of the Court of Errors and Appeals. Confirmation by the Senate is certain.

Mr. Eastwood will take the place of George M. Hillman, of Moorestown, whose term expires. Mr. Eastwood's appointment was agreed on at a conference of the party leaders in Burlington County nearly a year ago. At the same conference Charles A. Riggs, of Burlington, was selected for the position of County Judge, an office he now is filling. It is expected that Mr. Eastwood will assume the duties of prosecutor previous to the April term of court.

Judge Wells was named to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge John White, of Atlantic City. Judge Wells is backed by long experience as Judge of the Burlington County Court. His appointment will avert what promised to be one of the biggest political battles that Burlington County ever had. He was scheduled to be arrayed against Clifford R. Powell for the Republican nomination of State Senator.

It is understood that the appointment of Wells is part of a political trade arranged between the Stout and Powell factions of the Republican party in Burlington County. This trade is said to extend to all major County offices and is to continue for three years.

Appreciation
The Palmyra-Riverton Young Men's Christian Association wishes to take this opportunity of thanking all the persons who have contributed and made possible the carrying on of the local work for another year. We also want to assure any one not called upon that it was not intentional and that if they care to help, their contribution would be greatly appreciated. Either send in your contribution or telephone the YMCA and a solicitor will call.

Bus Barely Misses Sedan

Frankford Man Driving Friend's Car Disappears After Collision; Three Injured

This morning while a sedan was proceeding on River road towards Riverside a Public Service bus cut out around another car in an effort to get ahead of an Atlantic Stages bus and very narrowly escaped crashing into the car going east.

If the sedition proceeding towards Riverside was forced off the road into the trolley tracks an act that narrowly escaped being hit by the bus.

This incident is only one of many examples of reckless driving on the part of bus drivers.

The sedition public of New Jersey will interest itself enough to report cases of reckless driving on the part of bus drivers to the State Motor Vehicle Department, the danger to motorists will be greatly lessened if not entirely relieved from this menace.

The State Motor Vehicle Department, under the supervision of the Honorable William L. Dill, has always been very willing to co-operate in any move to make New Jersey's highways safe for the driving public.

In reporting these cases to the department get, if possible, the time, place, bus number and the driver's name and number.

Help your fellow-motorists break up this reckless driving.

'Y' BUDGET DRIVE NOW $1000 SHORT

Persons Not Called on Are Invited to Send in Their Contribution

When the Young Men's Christian Association finance campaign closed Tuesday evening the goal of $5,000 had not been reached but the necessary running expenses of $4,000 for the coming year had been subscribed.

Every indication points to being able to raise the additional thousand in the final clean-up campaign. If the additional thousand is not raised it will mean just one thing; no additional building facilities can be added next year and the work will be somewhat hampered.

Due to this being the first year for the local association the list of contributors had to be enlarged and some of the persons who were added to the list did not care to contribute and on the other hand many persons were omitted who wanted to participate.

This was certainly not done intentionally and the officers of the local association would appreciate the co-operation of any person who could mail in their contribution or who would telephone the YMCA and have a solicitor call at their home. Many calls were made to homes where the people were out and in some cases a second call brought the same returns and consequently not all the prospect cards have been called upon. This will continue for the next few days in order to give everyone an opportunity to support this worthwhile organization.

One of the remarkable parts of the campaign was the interest manifested by the boys of the Hi-Y Clubs. A large proportion of the contributors were secured by them. The interest and enthusiasm of the boys added a great deal of color to the contest between the "blue" team headed by Harold "Boots" Lever and the "red" team headed by Leon C. Guest.

With the financial backing of the people of Palmyra and Riverton plans are already under way to make the year 1930-1931 stand above any preceding the Young Men's Christian Association has served Palmyra and Riverton. If you have not done your share to promote this great work will you not make it your moral obligation to do so at once?

BUDGET COMMITTEE.

PORCH CLUB
The Riverton Porch Club will give an entertainment on the evening of Friday, February 28, at 8:15 o'clock. A tragic cantata on an ancient theme, with modern perversion, will be sung by the Club Choral. This will be followed by a play by Porch Club members.

Those who were not able to obtain tickets, may pay admission at the door.

Belgium will celebrate the 100th anniversary of its freedom from Dutch rule this year.

DRIVER RUNS AFTER CRASH

Port Norris Man Charged With Atrocious Assault and Battery

Thomas Foshu, Port Norris, New Jersey, was arraigned before Justice McCloskey, of Beverly, Sunday night on an assault and battery by automobile charge preferred by Charles Hammond, of Burlington, and was held under $500 bail for the Grand Jury.

Two cars owned and driven by Foshu and Hammond collided at Chester avenue and Burlington Pike, in Fairview, near Riverside, Sunday night. Hammond had his wife, daughter and a friend in his car at the time of the accident. They were taken to Cooper Hospital and released after receiving treatment.

Trooper Plans, of the Delanco Barracks, handled the case.

Another accident occurred on the Burlington-Mount Holly road about two miles from Mount Holly, when a car owned by John Jones, colored, of Burlington, and driven by John Knight, also of Burlington, ran off the road.

The car crashed into the guard fence and overturned. When Troopers Plans and Turnbull arrived the wheels of the car were in the air and the driver had fled. Apparently fearful that he had killed his two companions Knight disappeared and has not been located as yet.

Jones was treated at the Mount Holly Hospital for lacerations of the hands and face.

AT NEA CONVENTION

Exhibit of Williams, Brown & Earle Is Center of Attraction

Educational circles in and around Philadelphia are alive with interest over the Convention of the National Educational Association now in session in the great Atlantic City Auditorium.

This is the biggest event of the year in the educational world and this convention promises to be a history making one in both subjects discussed and in the scope of exhibits shown.

The progress in plans and equipment for Visual Education looms largest in the development of modern educational ideas, and the exhibits of Bell & Howell motion picture equipment presented by Williams, Brown & Earle, have found the attention of the entire delegate body in this important department of their work.

Representatives from all over the country are in attendance. A special train carrying State superintendents and leaders in the educational field of the West and Middle West passed through Philadelphia on Saturday morning bound for the shore convention. At North Philadelphia they were met by a delegation of Philadelphia educators who accompanied them to Atlantic City. Motion pictures were taken on the way down, which were promptly processed and exhibited to the delegates in session.

Philadelphia's contribution to the success of the convention is emphasized in the exhibit of Williams, Brown & Earle, one of the oldest dealers and the leaders in the field of modern projection equipment for Visual Education.

The Trans-Siberian railway, stretching over 10,000 miles, is the longest in the world.

PLACE TO PLAY OF GREAT VALUE

Speaker Tells Riverton Parent-Teachers in Discussing Memorial Park

"Fathers' Night" which has been held annually by the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association for several years, is growing in popularity.

The event last week, held Thursday evening, was well attended, and the fathers present gave every indication of thoroughly enjoying themselves.

Francis B. Elwell was master of ceremonies and introduced the speaker, J. W. Faust, of the Playground and Recreation Association of America.

Mr. Faust, as his title implies, is interested in the establishment and development of playgrounds and recreation centers, and he brought a wealth of experience and a fund of valuable information to his discussion of Riverton's playground problem.

"Play," said Mr. Faust, "is the business of the child—a fundamental, primitive instinct. To the adult it is recreation."

"Some think," continued the speaker, "that a fundamental instinct like play needs no leadership, but a successful playground requires three things—leadership, tools, space—laying particular stress on leadership, which gives the children a wider range of activities than they would get by themselves."

Mr. Faust said there was a rapidly growing demand for play leadership, not only in cities and large towns, but in strictly rural places, villages of a few hundred and the surrounding farm population.

The joy of play, he said, was a sufficient end in itself, to which were added the valuable by-products of health, increased "liveliness" of the community, and happy childhood memories.

Mr. Faust had visited Memorial Park in the afternoon, and expressed himself as being charmed with its natural beauties and the possibilities for development. "It is naturally a very beautiful spot," declared the speaker, "but it is what you do with it that counts."

In answer to a question as to suitable equipment for the park, Mr. Faust said that sand boxes, swings, sliding boards, horizontal ladders or a giant stride and seesaws would be adequate for a starter.

"But by all means," he said, "have a good leader. Equipment without leadership is dangerous, and the playground will be a failure."

Another one of his auditors asked Mr. Faust what to do with the children afternoons during the winter. He replied that in some places it was arranged to have the physical instructors take charge of the playground after school.

In closing, Mr. Faust said that 900 of the larger cities had year-round activities and that there were 26,000 play leaders in the United States. The value of recreational properties he said, nearly equalled that of school properties.

Following the speaking, came a play hour led by Miss Stevens, one of the play leaders from the Playground and Recreation Association.

Fathers and mothers engaged in activities (those the printer doesn't set this up "antics") which called for both cleverness and skill, and if one may judge from the merry laughter, rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes of the boys and girls of yesterday, "a good time was enjoyed by all present."

Ice cream and cake were furnished by the Parent-Teacher Association, the fathers doing the serving.

SKEYHILL AGAIN THRILLS ROTARY

Tells Moorestown Club of Young Australian, Unsung Hero of War

Tim Skeyhill, the famous Australian lecturer, scored another one of his characteristic hits on his second appearance before the Moorestown Rotary Club at the regular weekly luncheon meeting in the Community House last Thursday at noon.

Skeyhill gave a most graphic description of one of the unsung heroes of the World War, an Australian youth who misrepresented his age to volunteer for military service back in August, 1914, and was a seasoned veteran with three years on the front by the time he had reached the age of eighteen.

The story was not only filled with heroism, but provoked many laughs when Tom told of some of the humorous incidents in the military career of the lad, who was called "Baby" by everybody—that is, when "Baby" wasn't present.

"Baby," whose life seemed charmed, could not be hit by bullets, but he finally gave his life to save an injured buddy during a gas attack.

"Baby," raised by a pampering mother, became a "terror" upon joining the army. His first night in camp he played havoc in a tent of ex-pugilists, card sharps, "tramps," jockeys and what-not. Although he never got into their ways of drinking, cursing or gambling, "Baby" by brute force, despite his cultured background, soon became the leader of this group of life's derelicts. They were really tough eggs—hard-boiled for twenty minutes," said Skeyhill, who was a second lieutenant in the company, and in command of this particular band of desperadoes.

"Baby" loved his fun, too. When occasion demanded that he wear a certain type of uniform hat in order to go to the front, he stole the colonel's chapeau. The hard-boiled colonel had ordered the men to buy, borrow or steal this particular style of hat, so that the "outfit" would look its best when inspected by a certain general. Thus the way would be paved to send them to the front. "Baby" had his hat, all right, but the colonel appeared bare-headed at the inspection.

Another time "Baby" "framed" Skeyhill, his superior officer, so that "his gang" unsuspectingly bombarded the officer with unsavory vegetables and aged eggs. The coup was so carefully planned that it placed Skeyhill in a most embarrassing position, one that would not permit him to report "Baby" and his gang.

The lecturer said that "Baby" was an excellent soldier, always leading the attack, never late, always on parade, and did the work of three men. "But you couldn't have given him a commission," declared Skeyhill, "or he would have been 'framing' everybody from Foch and Pershing down."

He described "Baby" as an "exceedingly well-built boy of the high school athletic type, fair faced, with a break in his voice. He was one of the handsomest young men I have ever seen and had the grimmest grin the world has ever known."

MARCH 1, DATE FOR K. of C. VAUDEVILLE

Many Popular Entertainers Will Take Part in Show Given by Palmyra - Riverton Council

Everything is in readiness for the first show of its kind ever to be presented in Palmyra, Riverton and vicinity. An all-professional vaudeville show followed by a dance is the attraction at the K. of C. Hall next Saturday night, March 1.

On the card are six good acts which will start at 8:15 and after the show there will be dancing until midnight.

Program:
Overture, J. B. L.'s Serenaders.
1. Christine Messenger, Pianist.
2. Harry Webb The Black Spot of Joy.

3. De John, Piano Accordion Solopious.
4. Racine & Rae, presenting an up-to-the-minute and original sketch.
5. Kelly & Drake, Comedy Singing and Dancing.

6. James B. Loughran, Peptomist. Dancing with 6-piece orchestra.

Jimmy Loughran, well-known "pep" artist, will present some of his latest sketches and will also act as master of ceremonies.

The six acts throughout are a riot of laughter, the musical selections are excellent and the dancing and vocal numbers are the best ever presented on a stage in these communities.

Christine Messenger plays the piano just like anybody likes to hear it played.

Harry Webb, formerly of Dumonts, has something entirely new in line with "blackface comedy stuff."

Piano accordion selections of the latest hits and a few of the old timers by De John is a real high light of the show.

Racine & Rae, in their up-to-the-minute and original sketch, have a real surprise in store for everybody. It's almost a whole show in itself.

Comedy songs mingled with some real snappy steps are presented by Kelly & Drake just back from a swing around the western circuit.

Requests for tickets are keeping the reservation committee busy and a complete sell-out is assured.

Refreshments of various kinds will be served in different parts of the hall throughout the show and dancing.

The following are the chairmen of the various committees who have made this affair possible:
General chairman, T. A. Baden; program, Joseph A. Daly; property, Dennis Dougherty; wardrobe, John Doonan; patrons, R. J. Woods; finance, Joseph Landers; tickets, Harry Bradshaw; publicity, Adolph J. Strobel; and booster, M. J. McDermott.

It must be heavenly never to care whether or not your hair is in curl or your nose is shiny or whether your high have gained or lost a quarter of a pound.

Sets Deadline

ALEXANDER C. WOOD, JR.

Prominent Moorestown man and chairman of County Scout finance drive, who has announced the campaign must close by next Wednesday.

SET DEADLINE FOR SCOUT CAMPAIGN

Drive for $12,000 Must Close by Next Wednesday, Leaders Say

Leaders of the County Scout finance campaign, at a meeting in the County headquarters at Burlington Monday evening, established a "deadline" for the drive.

Due to the fact that March will be an exceptionally busy month in the realm of Scouting, it was decided that the drive must close early in the month in order that the workers may give their undivided attention to the big program of boy activities.

Therefore, Alexander C. Wood, Jr., of Moorestown, general chairman of the campaign, and his co-workers have decided that the drive must come to a close by Wednesday, March 5. All local chairmen will be asked to submit complete reports at that time and all prospect cards are to be accounted for.

Mr. Wood and his committee feels that the last week's work, if put across with a "bang," will bring the campaign to a successful conclusion and the budget of $12,000, which will not only carry on the routine and extension work of the County Council but will also permit some reduction on the indebtedness of the new County Scout camp near Cookstown, will be raised.

Some of the committee in the county have responded exceptionally well, but there has been a marked laxness on the part of solicitors in other towns. Workers all over the county report that virtually everyone who has been interviewed expressed a high regard for the work and have given willingly. The leaders, therefore are confident it is only a matter of seeing the remainder of the prospects to clean up the drive in this last week. In only a very few communities as high as fifty percent, of the prospects have been interviewed, and the percentage is much smaller in most towns.

Mount Holly and Delanco share first honors, both towns having raised 82 per cent. of their quota. Riverton is third with about 75 per cent. contributed.

Howell — Day

Miss Evelyn Day, daughter of Charles B. Day of Marlton, and Melvin C. Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Howell, of Haddonfield, figured as the principals in a quiet home wedding on Saturday evening, when their marriage took place at seven o'clock in their future home, 220 Virginia avenue, Westmont.

The Rev. Kenneth Stevens, of the Marlton Methodist Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attractive in a princess model of white satin and veil of tulle. Her bouquet was of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

Miss Alice Day, a sister of the bride, attended as maid of honor, wearing a gown of pink satin and carrying pink roses, and the flower girl, Miss Edna Hamnutt, appeared in a dainty frock of pale blue crepe de chine.

Warren Howell attended his brother as best man.

A wedding supper and reception immediately followed the ceremony, after which Mr. Howell and his bride left on their wedding trip. They will be at home after March 1, at the Virginia avenue address.

The personnel of the French Navy includes 4,000 officers and 58,000 men.

DAIRYMEN WILL DINE ON MARCH 6

Unusual Program for Annual Banquet May Include
Amos 'n' Andy

The program is completed for the Burlington County Dairymen's banquet which will be held in the Brainard Memorial of the Presbyterian Church in Mount Holly, on Thursday evening, March 6, at 6:45.

Two of the best speakers ever secured will be on hand, namely: Hon. Harold B. Wells, of Bordentown, former Judge of Burlington county, and Dr. W. J. Spillman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Judge Wells is known to every audience in this county, and will be looked forward to with a great deal of pleasure.

Dr. Spillman is probably one of the most popular men in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and will talk on the outlook of the dairy industry. There are probably few men in the United States who know the agriculture of the United States as does Dr. Spillman.

In addition to the speaking program, there will be some special features that will add to the evening's enjoyment. While the committee would not wish to be held responsible for the following statement, nevertheless, you might be able to hear Amos 'n' Andy in person.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church are known for the good dinners that they serve, and we are assured of equally good servings at this banquet. It will be a capon dinner, with all its trimmings, and, as usual, the dairymen of the county are filling the tables with good wholesome milk.

Tickets may be secured at $1.50 each at the County Extension Office, Mount Holly and from the following members of the committee: John Pew, Mount Holly; Harold Pew, Mount Holly; Aaron H. Burtis, Mount Holly; J. Herbert Dawson, Columbus; C. S. Ridgeway and John V. Bishop, Columbus, and A. H. Forsythe, Medford. The closing date for the sale of tickets will be Monday night, March 3.

MERCHANTS FORM NEW ASSOCIATION

Name Temporary Officers and Plan to Form Permanent Organization

Tentative plans for the organization of a Palmyra Business Men's Association were made at a meeting of business men in the P. O. S. of A. Hall last Friday night.

The plans grew out of a meeting called by Mayor George N. Wimer for the purpose of discussing ways and means of improving business in the town. Almost every store in Palmyra was represented.

A chairman and secretary were elected to effect a temporary organization. George N. Wimer was named chairman, but stated that he would only serve until a permanent organization was made, as he thought only business men of the town should take an active interest in the association. John S. Warner was elected temporary secretary.

A meeting will be held next Tuesday evening to complete the organization. It will be purely a business men's association and only those engaged in business in Palmyra are eligible for membership.

The purpose of the association will be to further the business interests of the town and to "sell" Palmyra stores to the buying public.

Just how this will be done will have to be worked out later, but it was suggested that a series of special value giving sales be held to acquaint the people with the advantages being offered in local stores. The merchants were unanimous in the opinion that they are able to offer better prices, but say the difficulty lies in convincing the public.

TOMATO PRICES TO BE SAME AS LAST YEAR

Campbell Soup Co. Announces Schedule to Be Paid Growers on Contract

Announcement has been made by the Campbell Soup Company, of Camden, that the same price will be offered for tomatoes this year as paid the farmers last year.

Tomatoes delivered between August 1 and August 20, inclusive, $24 per ton; August 21 to September 4, $22; and $20 per ton for the balance of the season.

LADIES' NIGHT AT ROTARY CLUB

Dr. Robert Whyte Speaks of "Snobs, Religious Political and National"

The fourth annual ladies' night and anniversary of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club was held in the Riverton Foch Club last Thursday evening.

The room was very attractively decorated in colors commemorating Washington's Birthday, while ferns and American Beauty roses, furnished by J. C. Clark, representing Henry A. Dreer, graced the tables.

Frank A. Snover, president of the club, presided as toastmaster. The evening's entertainment was provided by Paul Ellis Grant, of Collingswood. Mr. Grant rendered several baritone solos, and was accompanied by Miss Marion Post at the piano; Miss Helen Berry, violinist; Catherine Krouse, cello. Miss Carollo Callings, of Moorestown, gave several readings and character impersonations.

The speaker of the evening was Dr. Robert Whyte, of Philadelphia, pastor of the Seventeenth and Locust Street Presbyterian Church. Dr. Whyte's topic was "Snobs, Religious, Political and National."

Following the much enjoyed program the evening was spent dancing. A Victor radio afforded the music. This was supplied through the courtesy of W. T. McAllister.

'BOOKS' IS TOPIC AT MEN'S CLUB

Albert S. Henry Delivers Address on Most Interesting Subject

A most enjoyable meeting of the Men's Club, of Christ Church, Palmyra, was held in the Parish House Monday night.

The feature of the evening was a very excellent talk by Mr. Albert S. Henry, of Philadelphia, on the subject, "What Books Have Meant to Me." Mr. Henry certainly knew his subject and held the undivided attention of his hearers while he told vividly of his adventures in literature.

Mr. Henry is a practicing attorney in Philadelphia, but during his busy career he has found many hours to devote to his chief hobby, books. He told of his deep interest in books and of his method of reading them to best advantage.

The speaker traced the history of literature through the ages, beginning with the ancient Greek classics of Homer. He told of the many things of ancient literature which appealed strongly to him and illustrated how the literature of today is definitely marked by the different things that two thousand years ago.

Mr. Henry gave a very interesting summary of the classics of every age, including, especially, the Roman, English and American. In summarizing his learning from books he said that above all good literature had taught him reverence for beautiful things, that men are not as bad as they are painted and tolerance of all mankind.

The musical part of the program consisted of vocal solos by Mrs. C. H. Bittersdorf, accompanied by Mr. Lee Milton on the piano. Mr. Bittersdorf sang "Vale" by DeBurch D'Arcy, and "Thank God for a Garden."

The corn-on-the-cob season is the time of year when the practiced flute player has it on the rest of us in the matter of gracefulness.

PALMYRA GIFT SHOP ANNIVERSARY

Business Started Four Years Ago
Grew Rapidly Requiring Larger Quarters

Mrs. Emma J. Blaser, proprietor of the Palmyra Gift Shop, announces in this issue the fourth anniversary sale of the Gift Shop.

Four years ago Mrs. Blaser started the gift shop business at her residence at 608 Parry avenue and in two years it grew so rapidly that a larger store was required. From there she moved to 522 Garfield avenue where for the past two years the business has thrived.

Mrs. Blaser said, "My business relations with people of Palmyra and Riverton have been most agreeable and I only hope the next four years are as pleasant as those gone by."

Only a few of the many reductions in prices are mentioned in the advertisement found in this paper. Many more are in store for those who visit the Palmyra Gift Shop.

The sale begins February 27 and will hold until March 8.

FIREMEN SAVE BARN WITH EFFICIENT WORK

Speed and Efficiency Important in Preventing Spread of Flames at Moorestown

Quick and efficient work on the part of the Moorestown Fire Department prevented a heavy loss from a fire in the second floor of the Robert Z. Collings barn, garage and pigeon house, in the rear of the home on East Main street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The flames were shooting through the roof of the building when the firemen arrived on the scene, the blaze not having been discovered until persons on Main street saw the fire.

The cause of the fire is unknown. Electrical wiring gave no evidence of having been the cause, and an investigation by firemen revealed that the blaze had started in or on a pile of shingles in the front room of the second floor of the building. The roof was damaged and the walls of the room in which the flames started were charred. The loss is estimated between $200 and $300.

CLASS INITIATION AT MOUNT HOLLY

P. O. S. of A. Takes in Class of Seventeen at County Meeting

The first camp class initiation of the P. O. S. of A. ever held in Burlington county was the feature of Washington's birthday at Mount Holly.

One hundred and fifteen members from different camps in the county assembled and seventeen candidates were given the full degree by a team under the direction of Brother Albert Jackson of Camp 71.

A notable feature of the event was the lecture by William Kauffman, of Camp No. 6, Trenton.

Rancocas Camp No. 155 won a $10 prize given by the county association for the largest number of candidates: namely four.

District President Jarrett presided and after the initiation State President Baker and Past State President Jamieson were heard on the "Progress of the Order."

The affair concluded by Camp 71, Mount Holly, serving a tasty luncheon. The baseball experts of Camp No. 594, "came, saw and were conquered."

Score: three games for the Camp No. 23, none for the opposition.

A pinocle party will be held after the business meeting next Monday.

Gloria Caruso, young daughter of the famed tenor, is said to have inherited her father's musical talent to a marked degree.

CONFERENCE HELD BY STATE WCTU

Legislative Session and Luncheon Conducted at Trenton Hotel Monday

New Jersey Woman's Temperance Union conducted a state legislative conference and luncheon in the Hotel Hildebrecht, Trenton, on Monday, February 24.

The morning session convened in the junior ball room at 10 o'clock with Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, of Moorestown, who is state president, as leader.

County presidents responded to questions showing what had been done during the last year in the way of liquor control legislation in many other states.

Places on the program were filled by Mrs. Pelckert, Mrs. A. J. Steelman and Mrs. Azuba Jones, but perhaps the most outstanding speaker was Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, state president of New York WCTU.

She has been asked repeatedly to take part in public debates before women's clubs in New York, where the wets try to introduce their propaganda in an effort to secure the repeal of state legislation for the enforcement of the Volstead Act. Mrs. Colvin is familiar with the lines of argument used by the wets, and is well qualified to meet their assertions and actual misstatements with positive facts.

Mrs. Colvin stated they do not wish to talk about the effect of alcohol on the human body or on social and economic conditions for the very good reason that they have nothing of advantage to their cause to offer. Instead they prefer to dwell upon the well-worn subject of "personal liberty" and "state's rights."

The convention adjourned for luncheon to the grand ball room on the second floor. This room was filled to capacity, with probably five hundred people.

Between courses, songs were sung by the company, and at the close of the luncheon there was further speech-making by Ex-Senator Emmor Roberts; Dr. Strayhand, of the State Department of Education; Mr. Snook, from the Department of State Police; Colonel Calhoun, New Jersey Prohibition Administrator, and Mrs. Miriam Lee Early Lippincott, who was at her spirited best.

AIRCRAFT CO. GOES IN HANDS OF RECEIVER

The Victor Metal Aircraft Company, a company formed in Mount Holly several months ago for the purpose of manufacturing all-metal airplanes, was declared insolvent and a receiver in bankruptcy was appointed by Vice Chancellor Leaming in Camden last week.

After building one plane, which was declared to be somewhat disappointing, the company is said to have encountered difficulties in further financing, and it went into the hands of the receiver when V. Claude Palmer, Mount Holly attorney, instituted insolvency proceedings before the vice chancellor. Harold T. Parker, a member of the Palmer & Powell law firm, was appointed receiver by Vice Chancellor Leaming and bond was placed at $10,000.

The assets of the company, including machinery, the factory building and one plane, are estimated at $23,000. Liabilities are placed at $23,000. The factory building is located on the tract of land recently allocated at a Mount Holly airport.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County
Aero Club

Some months ago we were almost ready to present to you the first South Jersey girl to solo. Due to illness the debut was postponed but with a few more days of nice weather we are sure we will be able to make this important announcement in the very near future.

The new aircraft factory of the Glenn L. Martin Corporation at Baltimore is beyond doubt the finest and most modern plant of its kind in the world. If you are passing through Baltimore do not fail to visit this wonderful factory. The Corporation is busily engaged on $3,000,000 worth of aircraft for the U. S. Navy.

Bill Kreusen, the demon fire chief of Delanco, is getting in a lot of flying at the Moorestown Airport these days. Bill is preparing to take the examination for his private pilot's license. When Bill gets his own ship we know it will be bright red, with a bell, siren and equipped with ladders, fire-axe, hose, etc. What say, Bill?

Several drastic price reductions were announced at the International Aircraft Exposition which closed at St. Louis last Sunday. It is also reported that orders were placed for $2,000,000 worth of airplanes. That is all very encouraging news. Now let's hear bigger and better reports.

Joe Macintosh recently passed the tests and is now a licensed airplane engine mechanic. You know, Joe also holds a private pilot's ticket. Nice work, Joe.

The Moorestown Airport of the Burlington County Aero Club now has a transport pilot and a licensed mechanic on duty at all times. Once again we can boast real progress.

14 WIN CERTIFICATES IN RED CROSS TESTS

Three Moorestown Leaders Pass in Scout Course Given By Dr. Coxson

The American Red Cross course for Burlington County Scoutmasters, given in the Moorestown Community House, was recently completed with fourteen Scoutmasters passing. The course, one of the finest ever offered leaders in this section, was in charge of Dr. Harold P. Coxson.

Dr. Coxson reports the average attendance of classes was between thirty and forty.

The fourteen leaders who successfully passed the requirements of the course, received a Boy Scout merit badge for First Aid, a Senior Red Cross Certificate, and a credit for the Scoutmaster's key in the five-year Scoutmasters' training program.

Scoutmaster William C. Coles, Jr., of Troop 2; Scoutmaster Avery L. Bennett, of Troop 3, and Assistant Scoutmaster Warren Malnes, were the Moorestown leaders who passed. John Erickson, of Maple Shade, also passed.

NEW OSTEOPATHIC HOSPITAL IS OPEN

$1,000,000 Structure Houses One of Finest, Most Modern Phila. Institutions

The new Osteopathic Hospital and college at 48th and Spruce streets in Philadelphia were dedicated with appropriate ceremonies on Saturday, February 8.

The million dollar structure houses one of the finest and most modern hospitals in Philadelphia. Instead of the usual and unattractive white enamel beds the rooms are furnished with solid maple beds, maple dressers and bedside Windsor chairs. For the further comfort of the patients are added bedside radios, porcelain and chrom-um washstands, telephones and electric emergency systems at each bed.

The children's ward has its own juvenile bath artistically tiled and the new-born babies sleep safely in their white cradles within a double-glass thermostatically controlled room.

The X-ray laboratory claims the most up-to-date equipment for both diagnosis and treatment. The ceiling of this laboratory is of barium plaster and its walls are lined with lead.

The surgical amphitheatre occupies the central portion of the structure mid-way between the hospital and college units. Directly connected with the amphitheatre are sterilizing rooms, instrument rooms, pathological laboratories, anesthetizing rooms and private operating rooms.

Telechronic electric clocks throughout the entire building, electric call systems for the doctors and electric doctor "in and out" switchboard are just a few of the many devices that designate this as a very modern institution.

The college unit is equally as modern with its spacious auditorium, its classrooms and its laboratories for pathology, bacteriology, physics, chemistry, histology, physiology and dissection.

On Sunday, February 9, surgical clinics were held at the new hospital for members of the profession. Dr. D. S. A. Pennock, chief surgeon, performed the first operation. Other surgeons of the staff including Drs. E. G. Drew, H. W. Evans, F. C. Street, F. O. Truse, H. Y. Kiser, H. W. Sterrett, W. O. Galbreath and J. E. Lenzinger followed with operations representative of their individual specialties.

Everything is in readiness at the hospital and college to greet the members of the profession who will be in Philadelphia to attend the National Convention of the American Osteopathic Association. The convention will be held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel from July 7 to July 12 of this year.

MARLTON COUPLE MARK FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Wells, of Marlton, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Monday evening at the home of their son-in-law, George H. Cline, of Marlton.

Homage was paid to the couple by their twelve children and thirty-three grandchildren. Five children have died. The children are:

Amasa R. Wells, of Philadelphia; Mrs. Emily A. Martin, of Camden; Lewis Wells, of Moorestown; W. Harvey Wells, Marlton; Mrs. Edith Donohue, Moorestown; William C. Wells, Palmyra; Mrs. Florence Cline, Marlton; Mrs. Hazel Godfrey, Moorestown; Preston E. Wells, Medford; Charles R. Wells, Moorestown; Mrs. Hannah T. Bingham, Camden, and Mrs. A. Ritchie Hellmig, Marlton.

Mt. Holly Sends P. S. Ultimatum on Buses

Another ultimatum has been issued to the Public Service interstate bus lines by the Mount Holly township committee.

The new threat made by committee members declares that unless the Public Service puts on some new buses and runs them on an adequate schedule on the Mount Holly-Philadelphia line, the Township will refuse to permit them to run through the town.

The battle between the committee and the Public Service has continued over a period of almost six months. Occasional ultimatums have been issued, but Public Service has always asked for "a little more time," according to Francis Durand, chairman of the Township Committee.

MARLTON YMCA HAS FATHER-SON BANQUET

182 Guests Entertained; Judge Harold B. Wells, Speaker of the Evening

The Marlton Y. M. C. A. Father and Son Banquet, held last Friday evening at the Community House in Marlton, entertained about one hundred eighty-two guests.

Paul S. Lippincott, Jr., acted as toastmaster for the occasion in a very able and delightful way. Benjamin Roberts spoke on the privilege of leading a Y. M. C. A. group.

Byron T. Roberts, of Moorestown, gave a toast for the fathers, bringing out many helpful points in the relationship of father and son. Alfred Middleton, Jr., spoke in behalf of the Senior Y. M. C. A. group, asking other boys of the community to join the group.

Henry S. Lippincott, Jr., spoke for the Junior group, telling of the work it was doing.

Former Judge Harold B. Wells held the dads and sons spellbound with a talk that was an inspiration from start to finish and which will long be remembered by his audience.

PALMYRA POLICE WARN MOTORISTS

Also Locate Stolen Car and Take Colored Man to New Lisbon

Palmyra police, during the past few days, have warned nearly a hundred motorists for various minor violations of the automobile law.

The police wish, so far as possible, to avoid making arrests, but are determined to break up the practice of reckless driving within the Borough. All persons driving faster than twenty-five miles an hour are violating the law and are liable to arrest.

The practice of driving without proper lights is another point being watched by the officers. Several cars have been stopped for using only one light; others for being improperly equipped in other respects.

Cutting in and out of line is another thing which is being watched, as a large number of accidents result from this practice.

Officers Wallace and Lutz, while patrolling the town early Monday morning found an abandoned car on the River Bank. The owner was traced by the license tags and was notified. He is Ralph Smith, of Philadelphia. The machine had been stolen Saturday night in Tacony.

Peyton Flournoy, colored, of Fourth and Market streets, Palmyra, was taken to the County Hospital at New Lisbon Monday by Chief of Police C. M. Beck after being committed by Dr. Bauer and Lore. He was apprehended in Collingswood Monday after being absent from his home since the day before. He was said to have been very ill, but left his bed without the knowledge of his family and disappeared.

Nothing would appear more unseemly than raising high links in a graveyard. So thought police at Peabody, Mass., who raided a cemetery chapel where they found a night club in full swing. Much beer was confiscated and 36 persons were taken to jail.

Taft and Hughes

This month saw the end of the long and useful public career of William Howard Taft, the only man who has ever occupied in turn the offices of President and Chief Justice of the United States. Ill health caused him to resign from the latter office at the age of 72, after nearly half a century of almost continuous public service.

Among the positions held by him during this long period were those of solicitor-general of the United States, federal circuit judge, president of the Philippine Commission, first civil governor of the Philippines, secretary of war, acting provisional governor of Cuba, President of the United States and finally chief justice.

Charles Evans Hughes, who has been appointed chief justice, is likewise one of the most distinguished of living Americans, and is now 67 years of age. He first became nationally prominent as counsel for the Armstrong insurance investigating commission of the New York legislature in 1905.

He served two terms as governor of New York; was an associate justice of the United States supreme court, resigning to accept the Republican nomination for President in 1912, when he was defeated by Woodrow Wilson. He was secretary of state under Harding and Coolidge for four years, and chairman of the international conference on limitation of armaments held in Washington in 1921. He has served as a justice of the permanent court of international justice and has taken part in numerous international conferences in the interest of peace.

Both outgoing and incoming chief justices have the confidence and esteem of their fellow countrymen in the very highest degree, and both have been among the outstanding figures of their time in world affairs.

Women Now Hold 41% of Wealth

Reports of big financial institutions for 1929 showed that 41 per cent. of the country's wealth is in the hands of women and more of it is drifting toward them each year.

Today 9,000,000 women share in the payrolls of the country. There is $95,000,000,000 worth of insurance in effect in America and 80 per cent. of it is payable to women. One trust company estimates that 70 per cent. of all the estates left by men pass into the hands of women.

In one year 44 women and 42 men paid taxes on incomes in excess of $100,000. Women paying taxes on incomes in excess of $100,000 had aggregate incomes of

Stock in some of the country's largest institutions is also passing into the hands of women. The United States Steel Corporation has 59,683 women stockholders, this being 37 per cent. of all shareholders. The number increased 6,000 last year alone. The General Motors Corporation has 36,900 women shareholders as against 59,700 men. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad has 15,826 women stockholders, 44 per cent. of the total. In the Pennsylvania Railroad the women constitute the better half. There are 79,275 of them, a little more than 50 per cent. of all the stockholders.

It is in the American Telephone & Telegraph Company that women have attained their greatest importance, for there they constitute 55 per cent. of all shareholders. In this enterprise 250,000 women hold stock.

In addition to these surprising figures, large amounts of stock have been bought in brokerage offices by women and consequently does not appear in their names.

Let Baby Make Noise, It's Music

When baby splits the eardrums of the family by hammering with a spoon on a tin pan or bangs on the floor with his wooden blocks, encourage him. It's music, or at least has musical potentialities.

This latest discovery of child experts, announced in the March Women's Home Companion by Grace B. Clayton, one off the experimenters, proves; she says, that jazz music is instinctive in children and that if the noises of youngsters are directed along rhythmic channels, musical talent can be developed in nearly every one of them.

In one experiment with children of pre-school age says Miss Clayton, the two-year-olds began making improvised noises with kettle lids and wooden blocks, while a teacher played simple airs on the piano. At three years of age, real musical instruments instead of toys were made available to the group, but the actual study of musical scores were not attempted. Within a short time the children were singing the Brahms' Lullaby and Schubert's Slumber Song. Later, children unable to carry a tune in kindergarten, were admitted to the group and soon learned the elements of melody.

The attitude of the children toward music was expressed by a little girl who reported to her parents that "Bobbie has a drum, but it isn't a drum. It's a musical instrument."

At grade school age any child should pass from the simple rhythmic stage to the easy mastery of good music, Mrs. Clayton concludes.

The same folks who were hoping a couple of years ago that Lindy would make some fool break that would give them a chance to throw mud at him are the ones that are now chuckling because it looks as if Admiral Byrd would be stuck in the Antarctic ice for another year. There is a perversity about unsuccessful people which makes them hate success and gloat over the misfortunes of those whom the rest of the world respects, and this perversity is to often reflected in the sensational newspapers.

Uncle Si Tinklepaugh says he's heard about these Chinese eggs that they bury for ten years before they eat 'em. He had some in a lunch wagon over at Blingville the other day, but they'd been dug up about nine years too soon.

Uncle Si Tinklepaugh says he's noticed that with all the talking folks do about the weather nobody seems to be doing anything to change it.

BOOKS

The United States has become the greatest nation of readers in the world. We read more newspapers and magazines than all the rest of the world put together, and now we are becoming the greatest book readers. Only Germany and Denmark print more books in proportion to population. And we are reading books of real value. The most popular book of the day is the most powerful argument against war ever penned. It is called in its English translation, "All Quiet on the Western Front." Its author, Erich Maria Remarque, served in the trenches with the German army. In America, England, France, as well as in Germany, it has outsold the most popular novels ever published. Next in popularity is a biography, "Henry VIII," by Francis Hackett.

TAFT

On the night of November 3rd, 1908, the telegraph operator at a temporary instrument set up on the back veranda of Charles P. Taft's home in Cincinnati received a dispatch reading "Bryan concedes Taft's election." He rushed into the great art gallery and shouted the news to the little group assembled there. Alice Roosevelt Longworth ran the full length of the big room, threw her arms around the neck of the President-elect and gave him a resounding smack. Her kiss was the first congratulatory gesture of the evening.

Everybody was invited to drink to the health of the host's distinguished brother. Will Taft hesitated. Then "I'll take water, Charlie," he said. "I think the President of the United States ought to set the example of temperance."

That was many years before Prohibition, but everybody present agreed and applauded the spirit which moved the new President. From then to the end of his term in the White House Mr. Taft never took a drink except an occasional glass of wine at State banquets.

CHURCHES

The Federated Council of Churches of Christ in America has for its purpose the effort to bring all of the various Christian denominations into co-operation for social service and to make common cause against the pagan spirit which denies the value of spiritual things. Against this materialism it is making surprising headway. Great leaders in business and industry and in the professions are joining the movement and pledging themselves to the maintenance of Christian standards in their business relations.

Sectarian lines are disappearing. The movement for the union of the Protestant Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal and Presbyterian Churches into one great denomination is making headway. The Congregational and Christian (Disciples) Churches have already united. All the signs of the times indicate an approaching great spiritual revival, with the various sects making common cause against the pagan materialism which has been infecting the youth of America ever since the war.

MORGAN

The name of J. P. Morgan is known all over the world as that of the world's greatest banker. Those who have never met him picture him as a cold, hard, unapproachable sort of super-human being. The town of Glen Cove, Long Island, where he lives, knows him as a friendly, kindly neighbor. The Glen Cove Chamber of Commerce has just elected him its first honorary member. "Mr. Morgan has endeared himself to his fellow-townsmen by the keen interest he has shown in civic matters," said the president of the Chamber. "He has been an active member for ten years and always the first to pay his dues."

CORN

The Indians grew corn for thousands of years before the white man came to America. American farmers have been growing it for three hundred years. Still we have not learned everything about corn. Dr. Donald Jones of the Connecticut Experiment Station tried crossing a leaming dent corn with a Canada flint, and has produced a new variety, Canada-leaming, which ripens in 100 days, thus enabling Northern farmers to harvest their corn and fill their silos before the September frosts.

Corn is our greatest crop and America's most useful contribution to the world's food supply. Converted into pork, it is the base of our principal meat food; we eat much more pork than we do beef. Such a discovery as Dr. Jones' means more to national prosperity than a dozen new steel mills.

BROODER HOUSE LITTERS DISCUSSED BY SPECIALISTS

What kind of litter shall I use in the brooder houses? Such a question frequently perplexes poultrymen at this time of year. Most of them want a clean, cheap litter to help maintain sanitary conditions and encourage chick activity, but not all can say which kind of litter is best. Discussing this question, L. M. Black, New Jersey extension poultryman, favors a light coating of washed sand for the brooder house floor when starting chicks. Over this may be placed a layer of clean, fine-cut alfalfa hay, cut straw, or bran.

The largest gold nugget ever discovered came from Australia in 1872 and was worth more than $60,000.

I REASSURE A MOTHER

A mother writes me about her son's reading. Among other things, she says:

"In spite of all I can do or say, he insists on reading stories. How can I correct this habit?"

Frankly, madam, I do not know. It is about as easy to cure a boy of eating as it is to destroy his love for good stories.

Centuries before there was any writing, story-tellers drifted about from village to village, gathering the people together and telling them stories. The love of fiction is as old as that—older than recorded history, older even than civilization. It cannot be rooted out; its roots run back too far. And why should you want to root it out?

The greatest Teacher that ever lived spent half His time telling stories to His disciples. "Without a parable (a story) He taught them nothing." These stories have transformed humanity.

One great story written in our own country, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," so stirred men's hearts, that they said, "Slavery must go."

"Good stories will not hurt your boy; they may, if he is the right kind of boy, inspire him to real achievement."

And they will do something else for him equally important. They will develop his imagination.

We have too little regard for the high value of the imagination, we Americans. We are too matter-of-fact. We forget that all great inventions, all great discoveries, all great achievements in science or business, came to pass because some man first had imagination enough to conceive them.

Many men have been hilt on the head by a falling apple. Newton, when the apple hit him, had imagination enough to formulate the law of gravitation.

Many men have been burned by their wives' tea-kettles. Watt had imagination enough to conceive the steam-engine.

Look through the pages of history, and you will discover that the leaders of men have been those who could dream great dreams and carry them out—the men of powerful, intelligent imagination.

Because this is true, the editor of a magazine that prints stories has a responsibility that he must take seriously if he is any sort of man at all. He is entrusted with the duty of stimulating the imagination of thou-

PUBLIC SERVICE PEOPLE

FACTS AND FIGURES FROM THE ANNUAL REPORT OF PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATION OF NEW JERSEY

ON December 31, 1929, there were in the employ of Public Service Companies 20,280 men and women.

During the year 1929, these companies paid out in salaries and wages the sum of $39,997,425.

The human organization of Public Service is no less remarkable than its great system of power houses, transmission and distribution lines, switching and sub-stations, gas plants and mains, cars, motor buses and ferries.

More than 20,000 men and women of many professions, trades and callings constitute it. Picked for their jobs, they are further trained in their duties after employment, in order that at all times electric, gas and transit service may be dependable and efficient.

Conditions of Public Service employment are such as to attract and retain in its service a high type of worker

- a pension system provides for their old age;
- sick benefits smooth the way during illness;
- group insurance makes provision for their dependents;
- educational opportunities open to them the way to advancement.

In 1929 Public Service disbursed under its welfare plan for pensions, death and sick benefits a total of $477,110.97, while under its group insurance plan $324,500 was paid to the families of those employees who died while in its service.

"Public Service men and women contribute their full share to the upbuilding of New Jersey."

VICTIM OF MISPLACED CONFIDENCE

We are glad to observe that State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton has been found guilty of nothing more than misplaced confidence in the Lodi Township sewer scandal.

Interesting, that scandal. Lodi Township, in Bergen County, had contracted to build a sewer. That the cost of the sewer was to run to 4 per cent. of the total railables in the Township didn't seem to matter. But when Lodi Township put $200,000 worth of sewer bonds on the market, there were no takers.

Senator Ralph M. Chandless, of Bergen County, was counsel for the sewer contractors. He requested Treasurer Middleton to deposit $200,000 of State money in the Little Ferry Bank, in Lodi Township—but he didn't tell Middleton that the bank was capitalized at only $93,000. And he didn't tell of a deal that had been made with the bank to use the $200,000 to take up the sewer bonds which nobody else wanted.

Also, he didn't tell Treasurer Middleton that he, Senator Chandless, was to get a $10,000 fee out of the deal.

Chandless admits the fee, but argues that it was legal.

J. Fred Bratt, former Lodi Township solicitor, got $1,800 out of the same transaction, and he also holds that he was entitled to the money.

The Abell Commission deserves public gratitude for dragging this "legal" but ugly mess into the limelight.

Mr. Middleton, not a politician, accepted the confidence of Chandless, who was a politician. Perhaps he should not have done so. But his action is easy to understand. It was human, and few will criticize him severely.

But what of Senator Chandless? His case is very aptly expressed by the Newark News:

"Mr. Chandless says every member of the Legislature uses his influence to get State deposits for local banks. Every one knows politics has a lot to do with the depositing of State funds. But Mr. Chandless is the first State Senator who has been caught in the act of admitting that he charged his contractor clients the slight sum of $10,000 for using his power as a public servant for a private advantage."

"Mr. Chandless sees no wrong in this, ethical or otherwise. Heaven help the Bar of New Jersey!"

To which we add—amen!

WARNS FARMERS AGAINST SOUTHERN-GROWN PLANTS

New Jersey growers who buy southern-grown cabbage and tomato plants are "buying a hat in the bag," asserts C. H. Nissley, extension horticulturist for the agricultural experiment station, New Brunswick. He says there are many instances on record where cabbage and tomato crops have failed completely in this State because southern-grown plants, started from inferior seed, were used.

Thomas Robinson, of West Fifth street, fractured his ankle while working at the Antek For last week.

The card party which was given at the home of Mrs. Francis Voorhis, of Morgan avenue, Wednesday afternoon of last week, for the benefit of the Eastern Star, was very successful. The organization wishes to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Voorhis and her committee for the fine work which they did in order to make the party such an enjoyable affair.

Mrs. Edward Ford, Jr., and daughter, Natalie, are spending the week with Mrs. Ford's sister, Mrs. Dean H. LeFavor, of Morgan avenue.

Mrs. Sarah Powell, of Montgomeryville, Pa., formerly of Palmyra, who fell and broke her leg a few weeks ago, is reported to be much improved.

Miss Elizabeth Headington, of Leconey avenue, spent the weekend in Atlantic City.

Mrs. Katie Underkoller, formerly of Palmyra, is seriously ill at her home in Germantown.

Mr. and Mrs. John Coyle and Miss Mary Kemmerle, of Ventnor, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kemmerle, Sr., of West Broad street, Saturday.

Mrs. A. M. Henderson, of Morgan avenue, will spend the weekend in Atlantic City.

LEGION TO HONOR NATIONAL LEADER

Rally and Reception Will be Held in Camden, Friday,
March 7

Plans are under way for a mammoth South Jersey rally and reception to National Commander O. L. Bodenhamer, of the American Legion, when he visits Camden on Friday evening, March 7th.

The sixty-seven Posts of the American Legion in Atlantic, Burlington, Camden, Cape May, Cumberland, Gloucester, Ocean and Salem Counties, together with their Auxiliary Units, will participate in the big event, including thirty Legion bands and bugle corps.

Following an informal dinner, which will be tendered to the National Commander by the Reception Committee at the Walt Whitman Hotel, he will review the largest Legion parade ever held in South Jersey—one that is expected to surpass the large turnout for Past National Commander Paul V. McNutt when he visited Camden last year.

The reception will take the form of a public meeting and the public is invited to attend this event, which will take place in the Convention Hall, Camden, after the parade. Plans are under way to have the program broadcast through Station WCAM.

National Commander Bodenhamer has a record of civic endeavor that parallels his Army and Legion work. He has been one of the outstanding factors in the development of his home city of El Dorado, Arkansas, from an oil boom town of 3,600 population to a thriving modern city of more than 20,000 and in 1928 was awarded the El Dorado Citizenship Cup for being the city's most useful citizen.

During the war he entered the Army as a private and was discharged two years later with the rank of Major. Under his leadership Roy V. Kihard Post, No. 10, of El Dorado, jumped from a membership of 74 to 814 in a period of six months. Later he served as State Commander and represented Arkansas on the National Executive Committee of the American Legion until his election as National Commander at Louisville, Ky., last fall.

Commander Bodenhamer has the unusual distinction of being the only National Commander of the American Legion to be elected unanimously. He is a dynamic speaker as well as a hard worker for the American Legion's objectives.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

EGGS

A simple dish with an elaborate name is the Spanish Revuelto, which is made from tomatoes and eggs. To make it in the real Spanish manner you should have as many ripe red tomatoes as you have eggs. Peel and slice the tomatoes and fry them until tender in a frying pan with plenty of butter, but do not allow them to brown. Have the eggs beaten up but not separated, and then add the egg mixture a tablespoon at a time to the tomatoes, stirring in until creamy before adding any more eggs. It should be cooked very gently so that a crust does not form and should be served as soon as the last of the egg mixture has been added. Season very sparingly with salt and a dash of red pepper. Although this is best when made from fresh tomatoes it is almost as good when made from canned tomatoes.

CUSTARDS

The rule for both boiled and baked custards is five eggs to a quart of milk, and a tablespoon of sugar for each egg; creams and custards that are to be frozen require more sugar than those that are not frozen. When mixing eggs and hot milk, stir a small quantity of milk slowly into the eggs at first, so that the eggs do not curdle. A very moderate degree of heat must be employed for all sauces, creams and custards made of the yolks of eggs. Do not set the vessel containing the custard into the water until the latter is at the boiling point, and remove the instant the custard is nicely set.

USING UP LEFTOVERS

It is possible to "use up" the last remnant of every cooked meat. If you plan intelligently to do so, little scraps can always be minced and served hot on toast or else mixed with mayonnaise or other seasonings and used for the filling of sandwiches. You can, of course, make good hash of many kinds of cold meat—beef, corned beef, lamb and chicken. And you can make croquettes of beef, lamb or chicken. By adding potatoes to the hash or rice and crumbs to the croquettes you increase the bulk of the meat considerably.

P. S. EARNINGS CLIMB

A comparative statement of combined results of operation for the twelve months ending January 31, 1930, issued by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey shows for the corporation and its subsidiary companies gross earnings of $138,058,071.24 as against $125,965,197.50 for the twelve months ending January 31, 1929, an increase of $12,092,873.74.

The most satisfactory sort of practical house dress remains—as it has been for many years—the one piece dress of cotton or linen material.

Now there are cotton house frocks that carry out the new fashion ideas as effectively as more expensive dresses of silk or wool. They show the raised waistline—usually marked by a belt of some sort, which should never be too tightly drawn. Skirts are a trifle longer, but not enough longer to cause any awkwardness, and the new flare produced by pleats or godets permits ease of motion to satisfy even the most athletic of housewives.

Newlywed—"Don't you ever think seriously about marriage?"
Singleton—"My dear fellow, no man ever thinks seriously about marriage until he has been married a while."

Doc—"What is water?"
Block—"A colorless fluid that turns black when you wash your hands."

Auntie—"Well, Tommy, what have you learned in school today?"
Tommy—"How to whisper without moving the lips."

"Sarah, did I see you kissing some one in the garden this morning—the milkman or the postman?"
"Er—excuse me, mam,—was it about half past seven or was it after eight?"

Green—"What is a sense of humor?"
Brown—"A sense of humor is that which makes you laugh at something that happens to somebody else which would make you sorry if it happened to you."

P. S. BUDGET $27,000,000

Nearly $27,000,000 has been authorized for the 1930 budget for Public Service Electric and Gas Company. This provides for new construction, extensions, improvements and betterments for both the Electric and Gas Departments throughout the company's territory in New Jersey.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D. AUTOINTOXICATION

Most any patient who doesn't know what is the matter with himself, because "nobody seems to understand my case," will at once conclude that he has found a capable doctor, when he is told that he is "full of poison." In other words, auto-intoxication. For, doesn't he feel just that way? Certainly he is full of poison, no matter what sort—he has known it himself all along, only he had never thought of it till he found a smart doctor who knew his business! All he wants is to have that poison gone after; he leaves the smart doctor's office with a glad hope of recovery.

And, that's some good done after all—the improved mental state produced.

Now, I have seen hundreds of men and women who suffered more from the belief that they were full of poison, than from any real toxic condition. A man follows a grinding occupation until his nerves are tired to shreds—just the cause of irritation that ache in his muscles here and there; his efficiency is dwindling; his bowel-nerves bankrupt—no action possible; his disposition changes; he becomes irritable, hard to get along with; both he and his family grow fearful; medicines have failed to improve; the idea grows that nobody understands his case—until some medical wise-cracker tells him solemnly that he is "full of poison."

This for a man that is just plain tired!

Hundreds of women have been "fed up" on such diagnoses, and grope aimlessly and expensively, fighting a poison that exists only in imagination! When may we expect good, plain horse sense to come into its own, in the matter of caring for our bodies?

And it seems to satisfy certain neurotic individuals to be told they are full of germs. They are in fighting mood, it is true, and they welcome something tangible to go after. O, for common sense in diet, exercise, sleep, and mental equilibrium! Right living is the cause of prevention that is better than a ton of so-called "cure."

International Sunday School Lesson for March 2
JESUS TEACHING ABOUT HIMSELF
Matthew 11:2-6; 25-30
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Telling the truth can make a lot of trouble, though one does not regret that he was absolutely honest in standing steadfast for the right. John the Baptist was bold in denouncing sin wherever he found it, regardless of the social standing of the sinner. When Herod Antipas became involved with the wife of his brother, Philip, John denounced the perfidious act. "Thou shalt not have her," though John had plenty of time to reverse his opinion, while a prisoner of Herod in the castle Naccherus, no waiver was uttered. Herodias was after the man that presumed to speak against her actions and called for John's head on a platter when her daughter, Salome, out-danced the professionals at the party.

Most refer to the discouragements of John during this period in the prison. Confine anyone and mental distress will follow. John looked for a fiery Messiah and Jesus was a gentle man who gave himself to unobtrusive teaching. To settle the matter the Baptist sent a number of his loyal disciples to this Man in the midst of His ministry in Galilee and asked if He really was the One John thought he was when he said a year and more before, "Behold, the Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world."

As the inquirers drew near Jesus was in the midst of His healing and teaching. The Oriental would be apt to observe a while rather than abruptly ask his question. The formal reply that Jesus gave was to go back to John and tell him all that they had seen and heard. The message about the Kingdom continued to be the same and every type of miracle was wrought. These marvels were as credentials to authenticate the teachings. The climax of the reply was "and the poor have good tidings preached unto them." That was a day when the poor might fall in getting even the crumbs from the table of the rich man. The Nazarene was the Man for all and He could satisfy their every need. The reply must have been satisfying to the prisoner, else Jesus would not have answered him that way.

It is likely that Jesus evaluated John to His disciples even as He did to the multitude after their departure. Read verses 7-19. Though John is placed so high because of his relationship as the Forerunner of Jesus, each one of us has a greater position because of our more extended knowledge of our Saviour.

Following the uplift of prayer (Verse 25) Jesus made a declaration of the oneness between Himself and the Father. There was no difference in power. Between both there was the most perfect understanding, for Jesus was so often misunderstood as John had been. Jesus knew the human heart perfectly, with all its needs, problems and sorrows. He understood that they had "labor and are heavy laden." Without any qualification he said to ALL, "Come unto me—and I will give you rest." All who have accepted the invitation have experienced "And ye shall find rest unto your souls."

Such blessed promises are naturally related to conditions. To receive we are first to be yoke-fellows with Jesus and learn of Him, Who is meek and lowly in heart. Under those conditions the "yoke" is a means to service rather than a burden.

William M. Richie, of Moorestown, who is the secretary of the "Scripture Gift Mission," preached at the Presbyterian Church, Burlington, on Sunday evening. His topic was "The Power of the Word of God." The mission is located at 119 South Fourth street, Philadelphia, and has a branch in London. Its work is the free distribution of Gospels and Testaments, especially in the rural districts of the United States, Mexico, and South America.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Berner, who recently moved from Hartford to Pensacola, moved to the property of Samuel Workman, on East Second street, on Saturday.

Marie and Charles Gline, of East Second street, have been unable to attend school since Thursday of last week, as they are suffering an attack of the mumps.

C. D. Ballinger, of Moorestown, was recently named delegate to the State Horticultural Society from the E. B. Voorhees Society, an organization of Rutgers' short-course graduates.

Mrs. John L. Wilmont was the hostess at a smart bridge-supper at her home, on West Second street, on Saturday evening. Her sister, Lillian Haines, assisted as hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Middleton, of Mill street, entertained Miss Mary Ryan, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. James Ryan, of Chester, on Sunday.

A Father and Son's program was carried out at the Community House of Sunday afternoon, February 23. Avery L. Bennett, leader of Boy Scout Troop 2, was chairman of the meeting. An exceptionally interesting talk was given by Morris Perinich, of Mount Holly, on "The Father's Responsibility to His Son." A fine song service was led by Alfred Deyo.

Announcement has been made that about March 1 the Tri-State Transportation Company, which has been occupying quarters in the old Risdon foundry building, on Church street, Mount Holly, will move to the buildings and offices of the Public Service Co-ordinated, near Rancocas Park, and in the future both the Public Service buses operating between Mount Holly and Camden, and the Tri-State lines, which run between Mount Holly and Philadelphia, will be housed there.

A new Switchboard at "Anyville"

"Anyville"—almost any New Jersey community you can name—is growing. Its present telephone switchboard is satisfactory for today but cannot meet tomorrow's needs. And so a new and larger switchboard is being installed.

When the new switchboard's thousands of parts are functioning as a smooth working unit, not only will telephone service be broader and better for people in Anyville, and those who call them from other places, but all telephone service in New Jersey and beyond it will be better because of the increased efficiency and capacity of the new equipment at Anyville.

Eighteen new switchboards were placed in service in New Jersey last year, and 47 large additions were made to switchboards to care for growth.

BURLINGTON HI BEATS PALMYRA

Champions Score 29-17 Triumph Over Runners-up in County League Game

Palmyra High School met its third defeat of the year Friday night when the basketball team bowed to Burlington's championship quintet by a 29-17 score.

Two of the Palmyra defeats have been administered by Burlington, while the third was inflicted by Riverside. The "Pals" will finish the league season next Friday night at Moorestown. Regardless of the outcome second place is assured.

The "Burs" met little difficulty in winning Friday, going into a 15-6 lead at half-time. Merton Jones proved to be high scorer for the champions, netting nine points. Carr was the outstanding star for Palmyra with eight markers.

Palmyra won a hard-fought battle from Audubon Tuesday night on the latter's floor, taking the long end of a 20-24 score.

Clever shifting by Carr proved a potent factor in the outcome, for this sturdy Palmyra guard all but completely stopped Chambers, the tanky Audubon center. "Bud" Reed, playing the pivot post for Palmyra, was free to roam about the court, as Carr deserted his own individual foe and held Chambers in check, with the result that the winning team's pumper dropped in five field goals.

After trailing a 21-12 score at the end of the first half, Audubon put no a determined rally and erased this lead. With his mates but one point behind, Howard Wheatley, sensation at sophomore dribbler, arched the ball for a clean-cut field goal and put the Audubon five ahead for the first time. Baker, who co-starred with Reed for the winners, followed soon after with another twin goal, and Palmyra griped a lead which it never relinquished.

George Lamsback plugged hard for the losers, scoring three field goals and a like number of fouls. Wheatley kept the eyes of Audubon fans focused by hitting the rim for five double-deckers, to lead the home team in scoring.

FOUL SHOT CONTEST TO CLIMAX SEASON

Five Best Shooters to Represent Moorestown in Competition for World's Championship

A fitting climax to the Saturday morning Junior Basketball League will be the foul shooting contest which will be held in the Community House Gym this coming Saturday, at 9:30 in the morning.

The boys who have taken part in the games in the league will all be present to take part and many others will also enter the contest.

A special attraction for this year is the World's Championship in Foul Shooting, in which the five best of our local boys will compete. These will be determined at the contest on Saturday morning.

"Attie" Moore, who won the crown last year as best foul shooter, will again defend his title by taking part in this year's tourney. Moore has been shooting very good from the fifteen-foot mark and he is believed to have a very good chance of taking the honors again this year.

Jimmy Spotts Signs With the Phillies

Jimmy Spotts, of Barrington, who caught for the Medford Burlington County League team during 1929 season, has been signed by the Philadelphia National League team and will accompany the team to Florida for spring training.

Jimmy, who stands over six feet, was a favorite with both Medford players and fans and was a valuable asset to the team in the fight the team made in winning the County championship.

He is not only a nifty catcher, but is also noted for his ability at the bat. When he hits—and he does hit—the ball flies.

Now With Browns

RUSSELL "LENA" BLACKBURNE

former manager of the Chicago White Sox who has signed as assistant manager and head coach with the St. Louis team of the American League, "Lena" left Sunday night for West Palm Beach, Florida, where the Browns make their spring training camp. Blackburne makes his home in Palmyra, where he has lived since boyhood.

COMPASS CLUB

The card party given by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Compass Club in the Porch Club, Riverton, last Friday evening, proved to be one of the most enjoyable and colorful events of its kind this season.

Some very fine prizes were awarded the lucky players. Mrs. Elsie Fox won one of the door prizes, a beautiful overnight bag, and Elmer Jones won the other, a leather wallet.

The ladies wish to thank the donors of the prizes and anyone who in any way helped to make the party a success.

A St. Patrick's dance is planned by the ladies for March 14. Everyone is invited to attend.

HELEN P. C. LONG, President.

Saturday afternoon, March 1st, at 3:00 p. m. in the Trenton YMCA Pool, junior champions from all over this end of the State will compete in a South Jersey district swimming match, which the Burlington County will be represented by the Brown's Mills team, composed of YMCA Group members of that place.

Mr. George Ringle, the leader, and Secretary Clifford Engood will accompany the team. The fine showing that this group of fellows have made in the monthly YMCA swimming events at Moorestown make it reasonable to believe that their outlook for Saturday is very promising.

FATHERS' NIGHT IS HUGE SUCCESS

Palmyra Parent-Teachers' Association Has Splendid Program at Anniversary

(By Publicity Committee)

The Palmyra P. T. A. had a record turnout at the meeting held Tuesday night in the high school auditorium.

This meeting was designated as Fathers' Night. Approximately 600 attended and enjoyed the splendid program. Those who stayed at home certainly missed a most enjoyable time.

George B. Glover, president of the school board took the chair at the invitation of Mrs. Elias Toy, P. T. A. president and conducted the meeting. The Rev. George Lockett opened the meeting with a prayer.

Founders' Day was celebrated at this meeting of the P. T. A. all over the world. February 17 being the 33rd birthday of the organization. Mrs. William A. McCamy read a brief outline of the history of the P. T. A. and Mrs. Toy read a short poem, while lighting the candle on a beautiful birthday cake.

Miss Ethel Morton read a number of compositions by the children on the subject of "Dads." These were most amusing and told quite a few tales on Dad. Through a misunderstanding and the shortness of time some of the compositions were not read. These will be read on tonight which is to be held at the March meeting.

An exhibition of tap dancing was given by two of Mrs. Alexine Tomes pupils, the Misses Evelyn Wilkins and Harriet Blah, of Moorestown. D. Grey Schwarz led the community singing.

The high school orchestra, under the able direction of Miss Violet Lippincott, music supervisor, was one of the features of the evening.

Last, but not the least, by any means, was the comedy farce, "Orders in Orders" written by the Hon. Frank A. Mathews, Jr.

The history of the sketch, which was written in 1918 and given twice in Paris for the men in the service, was read by Mrs. Albert Parker, who so efficiently coached the play. The audience showed their appreciation of the time and effort given by the cast, by the manner in which they received it. The cast consisted of the following:

Private Billy Brown, alias Rev. Buckeye, Hon. F. A. Mathews, Jr.; Pearl Grover, Miss Ruth Lutz; Captain, Prescott Smith, Frank Kates; Elsie Grover, Miss Elizabeth M. Toy; Lt. George Grover, Portie A. Wolfe; Mrs. Grover, Mrs. Harold Parker; Mr. Grover, Harold Schaefer.

It was just one laugh after another and Private Brown, who sacrificed his mustache to the cause, was the star of the performance.

After the play, Salvation Army refreshments, doughnuts and coffee were served in the cafeteria, by the hospitality committee, who were the regular Salvation Army hosts, made of crepe paper.

The P. T. A. wishes to thank all those who helped to make the first "Fathers' Night" such a wonderful success. We were very sorry that more Dads were not there to enjoy it with us.

'MYSTERIOUS ISLAND' TOMORROW NIGHT

Splendid Programs Being Booked at Broadway Palace for Fridays

Under the new policy of the Broadway Palace Theatre, the very best in talking photoplays are being scheduled for every performance.

The practice of booking all-western shows for Friday night has no longer continued. The Friday night pictures are of the same type as shown on other days of the week.

The Friday night feature this week will be Lionel Barrymore in "Mysterious Island." All who are familiar with the acting of this star of the stage and screen know what to expect of a Barrymore picture.

The local theatre has enjoyed a greatly increased patronage since the installation of its RCA Photophone, the latest and best of the sound producing equipment. Equipment of this type is now being manufactured in the Victor plant of Camden.

PROMINENT LECTURER IN PALMYRA TUESDAY

Dan McGowan, Canadian Speaker Will Give Public Address in Local K. of C. Hall

On Tuesday night, March 4, at the Palmyra-Riverton K. of C. Hall there will be another of those interesting Canadian lectures by Dan McGowan, naturalist and explorer.

Moving pictures, many of them in natural colorings, will feature the entertainment.

The talk throughout is a most interesting one and of great educational value to students.

This is Dan's second visit to Riverton and Palmyra and requests from many scores has prompted the K. of C. to have this great Canadian to again address the people of these communities.

The lecture is free, open to everybody and will begin at 8:45.

LIONS' CLUB

The Palmyra-Riverton Lion's Club were given a very interesting and instructive address on aviation by J. William Marklein, official of the Landing Interest and owners of Central Airport, Camden. Mr. Marklein explained the object in endeavoring to obtain an AIA rating, the proposed changes, and how these changes would benefit not only the club but the surrounding towns as well.

The members were much pleased with the new silk flag and Lions banner recently purchased by the secretary, Raymond Warner.

Palmyra Girl Bride of Burlington Man in Beautiful Ceremony in Philadelphia

Miss Mildred Freeman, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freeman, Married to Albert Fox, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fox

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized Sunday afternoon when Miss Mildred Freeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Freeman, of Palmyra, became the bride of Albert Fox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fox, of Burlington, in the Hotel Majestic, Philadelphia.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a gown of white satin, wore a lace veil and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies-of-the-valley. She was attended by her sister, Helen Freeman, as maid of honor, four bridesmaids and two flower girls. The attendants wore different shades of green and pink and carried pink roses.

The bride's mother wore a gown of light green satin, with slippers and hat to match, while the bridegroom's mother was attired in a gown of Persian satin.

Herman Fox, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man. Four ushers were also in attendance, one of whom was "Sonny" Freeman, brother of the bride.

Dr. Mortimer Cohen, of Philadelphia, performed the ceremony and a member of his choir sang "O Promise Me." About one hundred and sixty guests were present from New York, Staten Island, Trenton, Burlington, Chester, Palmyra and Moorestown, where the Freemans formerly made their home.

After a reception, which was held at the hotel, the happy young couple left for a week's stay in Bermuda. Upon their return they will be tendered a reception by their parents, at their new home, on Linden avenue, Bordentown. The home has been beautifully furnished by the bride's parents, while the bridegroom's parents have presented them with an automobile.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fox have a host of friends in Burlington, Bordentown, Moorestown and Palmyra. Mr. Fox is a graduate of Burlington High School and Rider College.

They will receive at their new home in Bordentown after March 10.

WOMEN ARRANGING EXCHANGE PROGRAM

Riverton Porch Club's Literature Section to Present Program on March 3

The Moorestown Woman's Club has adopted the plan for the past two years of arranging for an "exchange" program with a nearby club. This year the exchange is to be with the Porch Club of Riverton on March 3.

The Literature Section of the Porch Club gave two one-act plays this year which the members say were unusually well-done. This is the program they are taking to Moorestown.

"Pleurette and Company" is the name of one of the plays, in which Mrs. Nathan Lutz, Jr. and Mrs. Arthur Cor will take part. The other play is "The Real Thing," by John Kendrick Bangs. In this Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., Mrs. Henry Randall, Mrs. Ralph Flower, Mrs. Edwin Humm, Mrs. Beale H. Morgan, Mrs. Corham Barrent, Mrs. J. D. Clarke, and Miss Charlotte Parry will take part.

An opportunity will be provided for the members of Moorestown's Club to meet the visiting actors at tea at the close of the program.

GIRLS' FRIENDLY SPONSORS PLAY

"Tessie's Tongue" to be Given in Parish House of Christ Church Next Tuesday

The Girls' Friendly Society of Christ Church, Palmyra, is sponsoring a play, "Tessie's Tongue," to be given in the Parish House Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

Miss Elsie Rieley will take the part of the leading lady, "Tessie." Miss Catherine King will play Lola, opposite Stanley Eckert as Beppo. Blanche will be ably portrayed by Miss Eva White; Katherine by Miss Eleanor Taylor; Gilda by Miss Beale Carr; Charlotte by Henrietta Roray; Maria by Miss Alice Roray; and the angel by Henrietta Roray.

Admission will be twenty cents for adults and ten cents for children. The public is cordially invited to attend and help the girls make this play a success.

Wallace — Harvey

A quiet home wedding took place yesterday afternoon when Miss Emily Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George I. Harvey, of 708 Garfield avenue, Palmyra, became the bride of Arthur Wallace, son of Mrs. Louella Wallace, of Palmyra.

The Rev. George Lockett, of the Central Baptist Church, performed the ceremony and Mrs. Franklin Harvey, sister-in-law of the bride, played the wedding march.

After a short honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Wallace will take up their residence on Orchard View Road, Burlington. Mrs. Wallace is a teacher in the Palmyra school.

ILL FOR YEARS; KONJOLA BRINGS JOYOUS RELIEF

New Medicine Quickly Solves Health Problems After All Others Tried Had Failed

Mrs. Grace Johnson

"I suffered from stomach and bowel trouble for nine years," said Mrs. Grace Johnson, 421 Linden street, Syracuse. "During the time I have tried many medicines and treatments without avail. I bloated frightfully after each meal and swelling so affected my heart action that I became faint and short of breath. I was constipated and subjected to terrible headaches. My nerves suffered too, and I was in a badly rundown condition."

"Konjola was recommended by a friend, and before I finished the second bottle I began to feel relief. Today I am free of all my health worries. I do not bloat after meals and the cramping pains have entirely disappeared. Constipation is now unknown to me, and my system has been purged of the accumulated poisons which caused my troubles. I can never say enough for Konjola."

Konjola is sold in Riverton at L. L. Keating's store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Clever Acting and Genuine Humor Mark First Showing of Palmyra Seniors' Play

Brilliant Comedy Scores Real Success on First Presentation; To be Repeated Next Saturday Night in High School Auditorium

Judging from the rounds of applause and laughter which arose from the audience at the Palmyra High School Auditorium last Saturday evening, the Senior play shown there was, indeed, a success. In fact, "Forty Miles From Nowhere" was a real hit with everyone who witnessed it. This comedy, cleverly written and well-acted, is one of the best plays to be seen locally this season.

A large part of the cast is already well known through last year's Junior play, "Green Sticks." The leads are played by Rose Bae, as young and winsome Dot Ryan, and by Leon Coles, as Jack Whitford, a dashing young college graduate. The leading comedy part is that of Count Pierre Marquette (Walter McAllister), who is the bete noir of the perfect English butler (William Cadman), and Sam Jones (Henry Wilbraham), the wise-cracking stage director. The part of Mr. Ryan, around whom the plot is woven, is portrayed by Eugene Bruno, and that of his ruling "better-half" by Elizabeth Hudson.

One unusual feature of "Forty Miles From Nowhere" is that there is a play within the play, part of which is performed from the audience when Mr. Ryan unexpectedly appears at the opening of her husband's first drama. Why is she there? Come and see for yourself.

The cast is being coached now for the final big showing next Saturday night, March 1, by Miss Marjorie Hart. If you have not obtained your tickets as yet, don't fail to do so soon, because they are going fast. Every Senior can supply you with tickets. It is important that you buy now, for this is your last chance to see the 1930 Senior play of Palmyra High School. Any general admission ticket is exchangeable for reserved seat ticket at Buch's Drug Store.

Remember to keep this Saturday night open for a most up-to-the-minute and worth while play. Tickets are fifty and seventy-five cents. Doors will open at 8 o'clock sharp.

Swedish Doctor Urges Flaxolyn for Stomach Troubles

Calls Pleasant New Formula "Nature's Greatest Aid to Health"

Dr. NELS MELEN Director Swedish Institute, Portland, Ore.

Dr. Melen declares flaxolyn to be a health preparation without equal as an herbal tonic acting upon stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

Eat With Appetite, Sleep Without 'Drugs', Promote Normal Bowel Action

The Swedish people are known for their remarkable physical power. As a nation, the Swedes probably give more care and attention to their health than any other people.

Therefore it is all the more important that Dr. Melen, a foremost Swedish health leader in this country, considers Dr. Lantz's Herbal Flaxolyn the greatest aid to health that he has yet found.

More Strength and Energy Dr. Melen says: "Like Flaxolyn because it is natural in action. It tones the vital organs and gives the patient new strength and energy."

Flaxolyn First Ever to Do Good "Any number of men and women come and tell me Flaxolyn is the first thing that ever did them any good. Many people who feel depressed because they cannot get rest, peaceful sleep, and get no pleasure out of food because it lays in a heavy lump in the stomach, have taken Flaxolyn under my direction. In every instance I know of, they report a SLEEPED IMPROVEMENT. Flaxolyn brings refreshing sleep, natural bowel action and stronger, healthier stomach."

Doctors Use Flaxolyn Personally IT CERTAINLY Must Bring Amazing Results

Dr. Mary Leavitt, of Cleveland, Ohio: "I have used Flaxolyn myself, and find it a great aid to normal functioning. Not only is it a stomach help, but also a valuable stimulant to the liver."

Dr. Horace Bond, of Philadelphia, says: "I am writing to express my gratitude for that which Flaxolyn has done for me. Suffered severe intestinal disorders for several years. My condition has steadily improved through Flaxolyn."

Every reader who would like to feel better, eat better, sleep better and look better, can obtain a bottle of the marvelous Flaxolyn on Dr. Lantz's guarantee. Money refunded unless you note improvement by the sixth pleasant episode. Just return partly-used bottle to your druggist.

Efficiency In the Kitchen

Little extra conveniences like the swing spout and spray attachment for the kitchen sink make washing dishes a much easier task and bring the standard of kitchen efficiency up another degree.

Increased efficiency means increased economy and, figuratively speaking, greater profits. The profits reveal themselves in form of added leisure, an improved temper for the housewife, which means a happier and more contented home all around.
