RIVERTON, NEW JERSEY, THURSDAY, AUGUST 7, 1930

PRICE, FIVE CENTS

NEW TELEPHONE BUILDING TO OPEN EARLY THIS FALL

Palmyra-Riverton Exchange to be Placed in Service in October

AMPLE PROVISION MADE FOR GROWTH

Room Provided for Equipment for 5,000 Subscribers When Needed

The new Palmyra-Riverton telephone central office building, which was recently completed on Fifth street, just east of Morgan avenue, in Palmyra, probably will be placed in service some time in October, according to announcement made today by E. A. Curtis, manager for the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company.

Men are at work in the building now installing a new switchboard which is to replace the board now giving service from the telephone central office in leased quarters at 304 Broad street, Riverton. The new board is of a later design than the one now in service and it is being installed to give an improved service to cars for the growing telephone needs of the community. Installation of the board will require nearly four months.

Increase Anticipated

Equipment is being installed initially to care for approximately 2400 telephones, Mr. Curtis said. There now are about 1850 telephones in both Palmyra and Riverton and it is anticipated that this number will be increased substantially within the next few years. Ample provision has been made for future expansion since the building has been constructed with room sufficient to hold equipment needed to operate about 5000 telephones. The building is designed so as to permit the future addition of a third story and extensions to the side and rear.

Two stories high and with a full basement, the new telephone building is of brick and steel construction and is fireproof.

The second floor contains a large operating room where the switchboard is being installed. A rest room for operators also is located on this floor.

Terminal Room
A terminal room has been built on the first floor, where the exchange area from the exchange area are fanned out and placed on steel frames where they are easily accessible for making connections to the switchboard and for testing.

The basement contains a large cable vault where cable for the exchange area enters the building through underground conduits. A battery room where power is supplied to operate the telephones, and a heating plant also are located in the basement.

PALMYRA-BERLIN ROAD SPAN OPEN

Moorestown Pike Detour Ends Usefulness; 4 1/2 Mile Stretch Ready in Two Weeks

With completion of the new Palmyra-Berlin state highway only two weeks off, the bridge which carries the Moorestown pike over the highway at Maple Shade, is now open.

This removed a detour that has been a "rough spot" for motorists on the Moorestown pike for several months. The highway, which will have cost about $1,500,000, will connect the Palmyra-Tacony bridge with the White Horse pike near Berlin.

According to state highway officials the entire road will be completed and ready for use in two weeks with the exception of a short stretch of about four blocks between Hilton road and West Broad street, Palmyra.

A Pennsylvania Railroad grade crossing lies within this stretch, but the elimination work will not be completed until early next year.

State highway department officials explained the delay by saying elimination of the grade crossing would necessitate a change in the railroad grade over Pennsauken creek and that permission of the war department must be obtained for the change.

According to the highway department, the four and one-half mile section between Hilton road and King's Highway will be ready in two weeks. The section between King's Highway and Marlton, five and two-tenths miles, is being used now and the three and nine-tenths mile section between Marlton and Cooper road near Berlin, will be ready in three weeks and is already being used for one-way traffic.

HARVEST HOME

The great annual Harvest Home held under the auspices of the Asbury M. E. Church will be held Thursday, August 21, in Olipherson's Grove on Taylor Lane road.

There will be the usual attractions of the day, including the grand fruit and vegetable display, the ladies' fancy bazaar and special music.

If stormy the Harvest Home will be held, Friday, August 22.

BUS VICTIMS NOT SERIOUSLY HURT

Riverton and Palmyra Folks in Accident Reported to be Out of Danger

The Palmyra and Riverton people who were injured when the Philadelphia-Riverton bus on which they were passengers collided with a private automobile at Ninth and Elm streets, Camden, last Friday night, are all reported to be out of danger.

Of the eleven local folks who were on the bus, Miss Charlotte N. Rogers, Seventh and 323 street, Riverton, was perhaps the most seriously injured. She was seated just behind the driver's seat and was thrown into the glass partition. She was taken to the Cooper Hospital with the other victims and remained until the next day. She was badly cut about the head and face and suffered from severe shock.

Miss Mildred Meyers, 718 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, is still suffering from two sprained ankles, a wrenched neck and severe bruises and shock.

Others injured

Other Palmyra folks who were injured: Hugh T. Downing, 407 Cinnaminson avenue, lacerations and bruises on leg; Charles Don, 912 Cinnaminson avenue, cuts on the nose, lips and legs; William S. Branson, 116 Leconey circle, bruises and shock; Edwin Buchholz, 323 street, Riverton, bruises about the face. Buchholz was not taken to the hospital, but was treated by Dr. LeFavor when he arrived in Palmyra. Branson was not hurt badly enough to require treatment, but went to the hospital to assist the injured.

Among the other Riverton folks to receive hospital treatment were Miss Edith Knight, 211 Howard street, leg cut and bruises, wrenched hip and shock; Miss Louise Becker, 103 Seventh street, bruised chin and shock; Miss Anne Watson, 423 Linden avenue, legs injured; John Watson, her three-year-old son, injuries to knee and ankle.

Driver From Riverton
Seven other persons, living in Riverton, Delair and Camden, were also injured, but none seriously.

The accident occurred about five o'clock last Friday afternoon when the bus, a Pennsylvania machine, driven by Harry Miller, of Riverton, crashed into a coupe operated by Earl Albertson, of Camden.

The coupe was thrown against a telephone pole and demolished. Albertson escaped with only minor injuries. The bus driver is now under $500 bail to await the outcome of the injuries of his passengers. He will be arraigned today in Camden.

FIREMEN TO BENEFIT FROM 'ROBINLAWN'

Sports Miniature Golf Course Loaned to Riverton Company for Three Days

The Riverton firemen will hold a three-day benefit on Robinlawn miniature golf course Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, August 18, 19, 20.

The firemen have already had their tickets printed and are now selling them. The tickets will be honored at the course during the benefit or any time thereafter.

A special prize of a ten-dollar merchandise order will be awarded the low scorer during the week. The offer of a season pass to anyone making par 43, or better will hold during the week as well as at other times. The only requirement is that players ask for an "official" score before starting around.

Robinlawn is reported to be one of the "sportiest" in South Jersey and offers some difficult hazards which make it a real feat to shoot par.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

The Burlington County Association, P. O. S. of A., will meet at Camp 105, Moorestown, tonight, 8 p. m. Many of the delegates to State camp are expected to attend and the Palmyra delegation is especially requested to be on hand. We will meet at our hall at 7 p. m. We want a large crowd to attend this final session of the association for this term.

The little journey to Camp 178, Green Bank, last Friday resulted in a cordial invitation to hold the September meeting of the County Association at that place.

A delegation from Camp 71, Mount Holly, visited Palmyra Camp, Monday night. After refreshments, the intricacies of indoor baseball were explained and plans projected for a series of games.

The touring committee is making good progress on plans for the Washington Crossing trip, August 17.

Y. M. C. A. HOLDS SWIM

Fourteen boys and girls started out Saturday afternoon to conquer the Delaware River from Riverton to Tacony. ## Richard E. Wilson Tells of Interesting Trip to British Isles and Continent

Palmyra Man Returns With Vivid Memories of Old World; Sees English Living in Dogged Determination While French Seem Prosperous

A very interesting account of a two month's trip to the British Isles and Europe is given by Richard E. Wilson, who with Mrs. Wilson, has just returned to their home in Palmyra.

The story follows:
We left early for our trip to the British Isles, so that we might see the hedgerows at their best and we were well recompensed by it. We especially admired a white hawthorne, which grew by the roadside.

Throughout the whole of England we were particularly struck by the beautiful gardens in front of all the cottages. Even in the towns where they had only a few feet of garden in front of the cottages, there were very beautiful arrangements of flowers, some of which we never see in America.

Indeed, from Birmingham to the Tweed, England is exceedingly grimy and depressing, all public buildings are very much marred by the black soft coal smoke. Soft coal fumes were very offensive to us in our hotel room, and often interfered with our sleep.

Many unemployed
Trading is very bad in England, as there are nearly 2,000,000 people unemployed. The people who are employed must live very moderately. They use butter substitutes and have meat on the average of only once a week. Their homes are very clean inside, but not the least attractive from the outside, owing to the fact that they have so much grime and black smoke.

The English people have a hopeless look in their eyes, but "Cheerio" is still their slogan, and some said to us, "Well, we're in a bad way just now, but we'll get over it."

There is less evidence of distress in Scotland and there is much more farming. Rural England is indeed beautiful with its well kept hedgerows, its beautiful hawthorne, wild fox glove and many very beautiful flowers.

Historical Interest
London is a very old city with many historical and interesting things in it. One looks at some very old and ancient piece of architecture, while the R-100 flies overhead. Not only in London, but throughout the entire country, may be found ruins of old castles, cathedrals and shrines.

In York, we stopped at a hotel, which is five hundred years old, and Mrs. Wilson insists that the equipment must have been there from the beginning.

The Regent Palace Hotel in London is a hotel of one thousand rooms, it is more up-to-date than any hotel which we have ever seen in America.

CATTLE RUSTLERS SENT TO RAHWAY

Pair Sentenced to Reformatory in Last Court Session Until September

Two cattle rustlers were sentenced to the State Reformatory at Rahway, for indeterminate terms, by Judge Charles A. Rigg, in the county court at Mount Holly, Thursday of last week.

They are Herbert Pratt, 24, and his brother, Russell Pratt, 15, both of Camden.

The defendants admitted having stolen a heifer, valued at $60, from a field on the farm of George Ivins, Evesham township, and another, valued at $50, from the farm of J. Porter Ashbrook, Lumberton township. The heifers were sold to Camden butchers.

Anthony Szrak, 17, and Felix Zabielki, 16, both of Camden, who admitted stealing a Studebaker sedan belonging to Marie Hartman, of Riverside, were fined $50 each and placed on probation for one year.

Prosecutor Eastwood stated that these defendants were in a party of eight boys from Camden who were on a joy ride. They first stole a Chrysler car from the garage of Walter Tail, of Woodlyn, Camden county, and drove to Riverside, where they took the parked car of Mrs. Hartman.

Nabbed by Trooper
Leaving Riverside, two cars, the lads decided to abandon the Tail car and proceed in the Studebaker. While making the transfer they were seen by state troopers, who placed the boys under arrest. Both cars were returned to their owners. The six other defendants are on bail, awaiting action of the next grand jury.

Charges against all of the boys also were filed in Camden county, where the six who are awaiting action here, pleaded guilty and were fined. Szrak and Zabielki now will be given a hearing in the Camden county court.

Other defendants sentenced by Judge Rigg are as follows:
James Welsh, of Riverside, assault and battery on his wife, was put on probation and ordered to furnish a bond in the sum of $500 to keep the peace.

Must Pay Wife
John F. Green, of Bordentown, desertion of family, was ordered to pay his wife $12.50 a week and supply bond to guarantee payments. He also was placed on probation for one year.

Burnett Valentine, colored, of Burlington, guilty of desertion of family, was ordered to pay his wife $5 and also to furnish a bond to comply with the payments.

Howard Church, 21, larceny of an old Ford car, 80 gallons of gasoline, 10 gallons of oil and $42 from his employer, M. N. And, in New Hanover township, was fined $50 and placed on probation for three months.

Church took the car, gasoline, oil and money and drove to his former home in North Carolina, where he was arrested. The money had been given to him by Ash to make a deal for a second-hand truck.

It was the last session of the county court until the first Thursday in September, as August is the customary vacation month for the judge.

PET AND DOLL SHOW AT RIVERTON'S PARK

Many Interesting and Attractive Entries Win Prizes at Memorial Playground

Little dolls, big dolls, all sorts of dolls, as well as various varieties of pets were exhibited at the Riverton Memorial Park playground Monday evening, as another week of activities began with a doll and pet show.

All told, twenty dolls were exhibited, and some half dozen pets and the following children received prizes for their entries: Largest pet, Jacqueline Pennington, dog; largest doll, Patsy Costello; smallest pet, Thomas Ford, chicken; smallest doll, Helen McFadden; most unusual pet, Lorraine Myers, dog in baby carriage; most unusual doll, La Lora Cartman, French doll; best-dressed pet, Betty Bailey, dog in costume; best-dressed doll, Betty Turner.

The official attendance for last week was nine hundred.

The tournament to determine the marble golf champion is under way. John Wallace won his way to the finals of the Senior boys' class by a hard-fought victory over Harry Turner. His opponent has not as yet been determined. The winner of the Senior title will play the Junior champion for the honor of representing the park at the Philadelphia Marble Golf Tournament, to be played on the newly constructed course of the Friends' Select Playground, between August 18 and 22.

The next special event at the park will be an aquatic meet, to be staged next Monday, August 11, at 7 p. m.

The following is the list of events: 50-yard free style race, boys over 13; 50-yard free style race, girls over 13; walking race, girls under 13; 25-yard free style race, girls under 13; Tandem race (teams of two) open to all; comic diving, open to all.

The large amount of interest shown in swimming this year at the park will probably bring a record list of entries for these various contests.

New York Post says Carol "has done nothing but bring royalty into disrepute." As most royalty has done before him.

WESTFIELD MAN STABBED BY WIFE

Cuts Woman in Fray, Then She Grabs Knife and Retaliates

Sunday night a colored woman and man were wounded in a knife battle at Westfield, Cinnaminson Township, during a quarrel. The man, George Cole, was taken to the office of Dr. LeFavor, in Palmyra, for treatment, as was Rachel DeVane, his common-law wife.

Cole's wife threatened to leave him Sunday night and he stabbed her in the breast with a large pocket knife. She wrenched the knife away from him and wounded him in the neck and numerous other places.

Police Chief William Quigley, of Riverton, arrested the two offenders. Officer Gootre took the woman to the Riverton jail, while the Chief took Cole to the doctor for treatment.

The Delanco State Police were also called upon to assist and they arraigned both Cole and Mrs. DeVane before Justice of Peace Coddington on charges of atrocious assault and battery. Both were committed to the Burlington County jail in default of $500 fine. Troopers Drusbat and Konietzko, investigated the case.

FOUR INJURED OVER WEEKEND

Drunken Man in Critical Condition After Being Struck by Baker's Truck

John McElhone, 2134 Lehigh avenue, Philadelphia, is in the Burlington County Hospital in a critical condition as a result of being struck by an automobile last Saturday evening on the Lenola road near the Schaeffer farm, a short distance from Parry.

He was struck by a truck driven by Marco Marino, an Italian baker, of 313 Spruce street, Camden. According to testimony at the hearing held the same evening before Recorder William L. Fichter, of Palmyra, McElhone was intoxicated and lunged directly in front of the truck. The driver made frantic efforts to avoid striking him.

McElhone was brought to the office of Dr. Dean H. LeFavor, Palmyra police physician, by Officer Dorworth, of the Cinnaminson police force, accompanied by Marino.

Dr. LeFavor ordered the man removed to the Burlington County Hospital, his condition being too serious to be treated locally. He is suffering from severe lacerations and bruises and a fractured skull.

Marino was held under $500 bail to await the outcome of the victim's injuries.

James W. Thetford, of Trenton, was fined $5 and costs an hour or so later following a collision between his motorcycle and a truck driven by L. H. Evans, of Moorestown.

The Evans truck was loaded with produce and was overturned when the driver turned quickly in an effort to avoid the collision.

Thetford suffered a sprained wrist and contusions of left knee and leg. Evans suffered minor bruises. Both were treated by Dr. LeFavor.

Alexander Dorman, 17 years old, of Haddonfield road and Burlington pike, was treated by the police physician Sunday night for a badly bruised hand which he had caught in a trap door while on duty at Walter E. Dickerson's service station. He was brought to the office by Officer Dorworth.

ANOTHER NEW GOLF COURSE

With each new golf course the hazards become increasingly difficult. The newest one is the Star Golf Course, located at Five Points.

Carrying out the "five points" idea the flags are star shaped.

The opening was held Tuesday afternoon and evening, and the proceeds of the day went to the Cinnaminson Home.

An additional attraction is the installation of shuffleboards.

About 200 people played on the course the first day.

MR. COMPTON RETIRES

E. E. Compton, for many years a prominent business man in Riverton, has recently retired from his grocery business which he conducted for the past seven years in the Collins Building, at Broad and Main streets.

In 1898 Mr. Compton came to Riverton and was employed in a grocery store owned by Charles Lloyd which stood where the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company now is.

Mr. Compton bought the business from Mr. Lloyd in the year 1898 and carried on in the same place for twenty-five years, after which he moved to the store which he has vacated.

It is reported that an Almar Store will open there shortly.

SINGING COLORED MAN SAYS HE KILLED WIFE

Delaware Township Authorities Hold Aged Atlantan While "Crimes" Are Investigated

Shortly after being arrested by Delaware Township police Monday afternoon as he lustily sang "Old Man River" and was tap-dancing down Marlton pike, an aged colored man smilingly told his arresters he had killed his wife in Atlanta, Ga., with an axe and also had murdered a white man there.

He gave his name as John Honeycutt and said he lived in "Rose Bear Alley, Atlanta, Jawa."

According to police, he said that after slaying his wife he had hidden her body in a swamp, but police are inclined to doubt his story, as his statement regarding the time of committing the "crimes" and answers to other question conflict.

He is being held while officials communicate with Atlanta.

Honeycutt later was sentenced to 90 days in the Camden County workhouse by Police Recorder Ashton Berry, on a charge of vagrancy and disorderly conduct.

QUICK ACTION SAVES WOMAN

Milton Van Selver, watchman at the Thomas avenue railroad crossing in Riverton, saved an aged crippled woman from death when he pulled her off the crossing at Thomas avenue Sunday evening.

Van Selver waved his red lantern and shouted at the woman, but she paid no heed. He saw the train rapidly approaching and pulled her from the track.

NEW CROSSING

The Pennsylvania Railroad is constructing a new grade crossing at Warrington avenue in East Riverton, which will be finished within a few days. The crossing at Union Landing also in East Riverton, is being resurfaced.

Even if one could fool all the people all the time it wouldn't be necessary, with so many willing to fool themselves.

CAMP OCKANICKON OPENS FOR YWCA

Fourth Season Begins Today (Wednesday): 200 Girls, 35 Counsellors Present

The Y. W. C. A. Camp at Ockanickon for girls of Burlington, Camden, Gloucester and Monmouth Counties, is beginning its fourth season with two hundred girls and thirty-five counsellors on the opening day, August 6.

The Camp Committee is limiting the attendance at camp to two hundred in spite of the large number of girls who were denied registration because the quota was filled. The directors desire to keep in the camp this year the personal relationship between directors and girls which has characterized the former seasons, and for this reason the number has been limited.

A great many new pieces of equipment for games for both indoors and out-of-doors have been purchased for this year. Water polo balls, basketballs, volleyball balls, baseballs, ping pong, tennis rackets and balls, a set of clock sets, four croquet sets, deck tennis, quoits, and a large number of indoor games for rainy days are to be found in the new equipment.

Many familiar faces will be seen on the staff. Fern Kissinger, National Y. W. C. A. Secretary for South Jersey, will again direct the camp. Everyone is aware of the splendid work she did in arranging the program for last season and there is great satisfaction in having her leadership again this year.

Mrs. Roy Clement, who has developed a splendid water program during the past three years at Ockanickon, will again be in charge of water sports. There is no department that requires more constant effort and watchfulness than this one. Mrs. Elsie J. von Hatt, Miss Helen Nicholson, of Collingswood, will again be in charge of games, while Madeline Leck, of Camden, will have the camp store.

Mrs. William Sahler, of Monmouth County, and Margaret Ewing, of Camden, will be responsible for the Services of Worship.

Among the new leaders, to whom people are looking with great interest, are Beatrice Shipley, of Camden, and Miss Shipley, of the Girl Reserve of Burlington County. Mrs. W. C. A. who will be especially responsible for the girls of Burlington County; Mrs. Florence Oriscum, who comes from her bird sanctuary in Roslyn, Pa., to direct nature study, and Miss Levering, of the Curtis Institute of Music, who will be the music director.

Other Burlington County members of the staff this year are Debora Deacon, of Bordentown; Anna Danley, of Whitesboro; and Mrs. Alice Kell, of Palmyra.

New Girl Reserve Secretary Miss Beatrice Shipley, of Germantown, arrived in Mount Holly August 1st to be the Girl Reserve Secretary at the Y. W. C. A. of Burlington County, succeeding Miss Dorothy Cleghart.

The Girl Reserves form one of the most active departments of this association; they are the younger girls of the Y. W. C. A., and at present there are about forty clubs meeting in many communities throughout the County.

Their programs include many interesting and different types of activities which the girls and their advisers themselves choose to do, and which help in some way to carry out the broad purposes of the entire association.

In past years the Girl Reserves of Burlington County have helped put on programs of interest to others in their schools, churches, and communities. These have included music or dramatics, and were often on the subject of World Fellowship, which is of great interest to all members and friends of the Y. W. C. A.

This coming year, after the schools open, the clubs will re-commence their weekly meetings. There have been requests for new groups in several towns in the County and Miss Shipley will organize these groups early in the year.

The members of the Girl Reserve and of the Senior Club committees of the Y. W. C. A. met at luncheon at the Woolman Tea Room, Mount Holly, on Monday, August 4, to welcome Miss Beatrice Shipley to the Burlington County Y. W. C. A.

Those present included Miss Shipley, Mrs. Barclay Allen, of Vincentown, chairman of the Girl Reserve Committee; Mrs. Henry Albertson, of Burlington; Mrs. E. P. Darlington, of New Lisbon; Mrs. William Matlack and Margaret Thomas, of Moorestown; Margaret E. Huff, of Mount Holly; and Sidonie Schaefer, of the Burlington County Y. W. C. A.

Grange to Exhibit at Trenton Fair

A committee has been appointed to arrange for the exhibit which the Burlington County Grange will enter in competition with other New Jersey Pomona Granges at the Trenton Fair.

William T. Baggs, the Pomona Master; Amor Gaunt and Howard Williams, deputies, and the executive committee, which comprises the Masters of all subordinate Granges, make up the Exhibit Committee.

This committee recently met in the Agricultural Extension Office, Mount Holly, and made definite arrangements for the exhibit, and also discussed the plans for the annual Pomona picnic, which it is hoped will be held at the same time as the County Agricultural Products Show on either September 18 or 19.

Now Lieut. Colonel

Adjutant General Frederick Gilkison has announced the advancement of Captain Clifford R. Powell, of Mount Holly, plans and training officer of the New Jersey National Guard, to the rank of lieutenant colonel, assigned to the Inspector General's Division, State Staff Corps. The promotion of Colonel Powell was made by order of Governor Larson.

Colonel Powell has been a member of the New Jersey National Guard since February 2, 1923, when he enlisted in the old Third Regiment. He served with distinction during the World War.

MAN BURNED IN MARLTON BLAST

Royden Bakely Injured When Explosion in Stove Wrecks Home

A man was seriously burned in an explosion that wrecked the kitchen of his home on the Lippincott farm, near Marlton, shortly before 8 a. m. last Saturday.

The injured man is Royden Bakely, 30. He was taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden, in a serious condition. His wife, Mrs. Mabel Bakely and the child, Royden Bakely, Jr., were asleep at the time and escaped uninjured.

Bakely was starting a fire in the kitchen range. After soaking wood and paper with kerosene, Bakely struck a match. A terrific explosion, blowing out several windows in the house, followed. Bakely was thrown against the wall, his clothes engulfed in flames.

John Henderson, colored, a neighbor, attracted by the explosion, rushed into the house and tore Bakely's clothing from his body. William Foukes, of Marlton, passing the house on his way to work in Camden, upon seeing the flames shooting from the kitchen windows, summoned the Marlton fire department. Flames were confined to the kitchen of the two-story frame dwelling.

PENALTIES FIXED AT MOORESTOWN

Swedesboro Man Gets 30 Days at Mount Holly in Default of Fine

Fines totaling $305 have been imposed by Recorder Joseph W. Johnson at hearings in Moorestown Town Hall during the past week. Virtually all of the penalties were for motor law violations.

The heaviest fine, $200 and costs, was imposed upon Ellis Boardman, Salem Pike, Swedesboro, who was arrested on West Main street shortly after two o'clock Monday morning by Officer Ralph Marks. Boardman, who was convicted of drunken driving on a certificate issued by a local physician, was sent to the County Jail at Mount Holly in default of the fine.

Three motorists paid fines for operating a motor vehicle without driver's licenses. They were Dorothy M. Christian, colored man from Hartford, fined $15 and costs after his arrest by Officer Walter A. Erickson; Alfred Bankson, East Fourth street, Lakewood, arrested by Officer Ralph Marks, and fined $15 and costs; and Rufus Robinson, colored, 1009 Penn street, Camden, arrested by Officer Howard Davis. Robinson was penalized $10 and costs.

Christian, who claims he is a "Dorothy," despite the fact that he is the wrong sex for such a name, had an additional $5.00 fine for reckless driving tacked on his original penalty of $15.

Two drunken and disorderly persons were fined $25 and costs apiece. They were James Miller, Rancocas road, Mount Holly, arrested by Officer Erickson on Sunday, and "Mike" McDonough, arrested by Officer Marks early Monday morning, on complaint of McDonough's son-in-law, Merritt Lure, East Second street, McDonough went to the County Jail in Mount Holly for thirty days in default of the fine.

Three speeders arrested by Officer Erickson were Joseph Morano, 3133 Carpenter street, Philadelphia; John R. Bower, 30 West Collingswood avenue, Camden; and Saul A. Fromers, Philadelphia. Morano was assessed $10 and costs, while the recorder released the other two after payment of $5.00 fines, plus costs.

If Socrates had practiced a while with moonshine, the henlock would have acted as a soothing potion.

TROOPERS, SHERIFF SEIZE HUGE STILL

5000-Gallon Plant, Worth $50,000, is Raided Near Browns Mills

A gigantic distillery, equipped with a lookout tower from which armed bootleggers could fight off invaders with shotguns, was raided by two state troopers and a deputy sheriff here at 5 a. m. last Saturday.

A huge 5000-gallon still, worth approximately $50,000, an automobile and 5000 gallons of mash were confiscated in what was termed probably the largest seizure made in Burlington county since the Rancocas rum scandal.

It was shortly before 3 a. m. that Troopers Herbert Adams and Jarvis Wood, patrolling the main road leading from Browns Mills to South Pemberton detected a peculiar odor. As they reached a juncture in the road, the odor became more pronounced.

A large farmhouse set about 250 yards from the road and almost hidden entirely by trees, the only ingress being a lane from the main road. The troopers drove close to the house and suspected that the still was in the building. When they saw a car parked outside, they determined to obtain aid.

They drove out again, and from Browns Mills telephoned Deputy Sheriff Charles L. Carslake. The latter joined them, and the three drove back to house.

A watchdog barked furiously as the troopers parked their car and walked toward the house. When the vicious creature attacked them, trying to drive them back, Adams was finally forced to kill it.

The troopers then knocked on the door, and a man's voice inquired about the nature of their visit. They told him to open the door, and he answered that he would as soon as he could put on some clothes.

His ruse was successful, for after waiting a few minutes the suspicious troopers broke down the door and found the place deserted. The occupants or occupants had fled through one of the rear doors.

The raiders found the still, recently completed, and apparently just prepared for operation. It occupied two floors, and had an output of 5000 gallons. That number of gallons of mash were also in various portions of the building.

Find "Lookout Tower" In the second floor was a small bed room with dormer windows that troopers believed served as a lookout tower. From its windows the operators could command the lane and also the surrounding land in all directions.

Leaning against the wall at either side of the window facing the lane was a loaded shotgun. Scattered on the floor were about a dozen rounds of shells for the two guns.

Two of the raiders stayed on the premises in order to apprehend the operators in the event they returned. The third raider obtained aid in order to dismantle the still and destroy the mash.

The automobile bore the Pennsylvania license 95082. The house is owned by a Philadelphia butcher, Frank Formita, according to troopers. Residents living in the vicinity told troopers that there have been three men at the place almost daily for more than a week.

BEETLE TRAPS TO BE EMPTED DAILY

State Department Sees Attention Necessary in Control of Pest

Captured Japanese beetles should be emptied daily from the thousands of beetle traps that dot lawns in Southern and Central New Jersey. If the traps are to function properly, the State Department of Agriculture has found in its work to control the pest, according to its statement, which follows:

"The beetles should be emptied into boiling water or kerosene, both of which are effective in killing them, and the traps washed thoroughly to remove odors which would repel beetles flying nearby. Odors of decomposed insects about the traps completely counteract the effect of the bait. Although it is not necessary to change the bait more frequently than once a week, in most cases, the Department has learned that a daily stirring of the bait helps materially in maintaining the traps of killing efficiency."

"Traps placed on lawns usually draw beetles from surrounding areas. As a result, many beetle eggs are deposited just beneath the surface of the lawns. From these, grubs emerge and, unless they are killed by application of lead arsenate, damage the lawns by feeding on grass roots. To eliminate such damage, the Department of Agriculture recommends the treatment of lawns upon which beetle traps have been placed."

"Traps, if properly maintained, are very effective in decreasing the number of Japanese beetles in infested localities, the Department has found. So popular has the trap method of control become that the Borough of Collingswood waged a campaign encouraging home owners to install traps on their grounds."

"Two other municipalities in the infested area, Moorestown and Haddon Heights, instituted community spraying campaigns. Trees and shrubs lining the streets of the municipalities were sprayed as a part of the projects, while individual property owners, upon payment of small fees, were able to have spraying done on their grounds. The spraying considerably lessened the depredations of the beetles."

Artificial pearls which bring as much as $300 each are being manufactured from the scales of herring.

The Born Compromiser

By IRVIN S. COBB

IT is narrated in Vancouver that a solitary golfer was working his way over one of the local courses behind a slow and fumbling foursome. He drove off the ninth tee and his ball, carrying farther than usual, struck one of the players head and his ball on the fairway of the next green within his rights, he ran forward.

The victim of his shot was just a stranger—a guest of a new member;

"I'm so sorry," began the lone golfer. "You better be sorry!"

"One hand to his swollen brow while in the air. 'I'm badly hurt—I think maybe a fractured skull. I may never get up. I'll sue you for a thousand dollars!'"

"Oh, well, in that case, rather than promise with you," said the newcomer.

PROTECT CHILDREN URGE OF HOFFMAN

Commissioner Sees Safeguarding of Kiddies Heavy Responsibility on Drivers

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN

"Protect the Children" might well be the slogan of every State, city and town throughout the country. It is the heaviest responsibility resting upon everyone whose function it is to increase the safety of walking or driving.

Every step taken to improve driving condition on our streets or highways have the ultimate goal of reducing accidents. For the moment, the purpose may be to maintain the flow of vehicles with greater smoothness, to expedite the volume of any given thoroughfare, or to lessen the loss of time required to drive a passenger car or commercial vehicle through a city street or from one town to another.

Initially, these measures have an economic value, but beyond that, they crowd our schoolrooms today are going to be the ones who will take up our tasks in the years to come, so that if the achievements of their elders are to be brought to greater fruition, these same elders must protect them from the hazards of street traffic which are just as great a menace as the ravages of disease.

What could be of greater advantage to the Nation than to conserve its child life? The boys and girls who crowd our schoolrooms today are going to be the ones who will take up our tasks in the years to come, so that if the achievements of their elders are to be brought to greater fruition, these same elders must protect them from the hazards of street traffic which are just as great a menace as the ravages of disease.

Looking over the accident statistics for the last few years, one finds reason for optimism. Of course, the aggregate number of fatalities has mounted, but we must bear in mind that with the total number of cars increasing year by year and the great centers of population becoming more densely populated, the true evaluation of the figure is not the aggregate but the total percentage of increase.

RED SUSPECTS HELD FOR "PLOT" AT DIX

Two Men Are Arrested Near Camp. Accused of Distributing Communist Circulars

Samuel Meditz, 22, and Hyman M. Mathen, 19, both of Brooklyn, were arrested Sunday by State Troopers Rinaldi and Shingles of the Columbus County, on suspicion of being connected with the smuggling into Camp Dix several thousand circulars advising student soldiers to revolt.

The troopers found the two men in the road in the vicinity of Camp Dix. They were unable to give a satisfactory reason for their presence. Arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Lockman, of Columbus, they were committed to the county jail at Mount Holly for five days, pending further investigation.

Several thousand circulars, ready for distribution were found secreted in a number of tents at the camp last week.

In the literature the student soldiers were urged to rebel against kitchen police and other camp duties. The message bore the name of the Young Communist League, 28 Union Square, New York City. It invited the soldiers to be part of a "nation-wide revolt of the Soviet against the Bosses' War."

BUS PASSENGER REFUSES TO PAY FARE; JAILED

JERSEY LICENSED DRIVERS INCREASE

Hoffman Reports Climb in Number of Passenger Vehicles

Motor Vehicle Department statistics for the first six months of the year just released by Commissioner Harold G. Hoffman, shows substantial increases in the number of licensed drivers and passenger vehicles in the State of New Jersey, but a decrease of two-tenths of one per cent. in commercial registrations for the same period in 1929.

For the first six months of 1930, this Department has issued 640,102 passenger registrations, whereas for the same period in 1929, there were issued 617,468 passenger registrations. This is an increase of five and one-tenth per cent. over the preceding year.

For the same period in 1930 this Department issued 121,654 commercial registrations, whereas for the same period in 1929, there were issued 121,957 commercial registrations, a decrease of two-tenths of one per cent.

For the same period in 1930, this Department has issued 10,514 omnibus registrations, whereas for the same period in 1929, there were issued 10,082, an increase of four and three-tenths per cent.

For the first six months of 1930, this Department issued 931,848 drivers' licenses, whereas for the same period in 1929, there were issued 869,875 drivers' licenses, an increase of seven and one-tenth per cent.

It is also interesting to note that the Department has examined, for the first six months of 1930, 74,196 new drivers, whereas in the same period for 1929, there were examined 81,077, a decrease of eight per cent.

The total registrations of all classes, for the first six months of 1930, including motorcycle and dealers' registrations, amounted to 789,210, and the total collections from registration fees, fines, etc., amounted to $14,100,796.82.

The total registrations, including motorcycle and dealers' for the year 1929, from January 1 to June 30, amounted to 757,933, which shows an increase of 31,266 in the year 1930. The total collections for registration fees, fines, etc., for the year 1929, from January 1 to June 30, amounted to $13,474,368.06, showing an increase of $616,408.76.

Two Women, Man Felled by Smoke and Heat Near Mount Holly

Fire thought to have started by spontaneous combustion in a load of hay in the barn of Samuel Harris on the Pemberton-Vincentown road, destroyed two barns, several outbuildings and farm implements valued at more than $20,000, on Monday.

Harris' wife, Alice, her sister, Elsie Stiles, and Aaron Cramer, a volunteer fireman, were overcome by smoke. Five fire companies from Mount Holly, Pemberton, Vincentown, Medford and Lumberton responded to the alarm when the fire spread across the road to the farm of Robert Kirkbride, where a two-story house and barn were soon enveloped in flames.

The fire, which started while farm hands were at lunch, was visible for more than 10 miles as the flames, fed by tons of hay and straw, leaped above the structure. Kirkbride, his wife with five children ranging in age from three to 13 years are being cared for by neighboring farmers.

Dr. Robert Haldeman, of Mount Holly, was summoned when it was first reported that some of the farm hands were caught in the blazing buildings. He revived the three persons overcome by the heat and smoke.

In the Harris barn 25 tons of wheat, two tons of hay, and five tons of straw were burned. Harris' losses included 25 tons of rye, and 50 tons of new mown hay, besides the farm equipment.

Watering a Garden Artificial watering, if properly applied, will prove a decided advantage to the gardener during dry periods, but must be done properly. Frequent light sprinkling of the garden is injurious. The proper method is to soak the soil thoroughly about once each week, preferably during the evening, and then loosen the surface by cultivating as soon as the soil is dry enough to work. No more water should be applied until absolutely necessary; then another soaking should be given. On a small scale water may be applied with a sprinkling can, or a garden hose. Perhaps the best method is to open slight furrows alongside the rows of plants and allow the water to flow gently along the furrows. After the water has all soaked into the soil the wet earth in the furrow should be covered with dry soil to prevent baking.

GEESSE OUTDO HOES IN TEXAS COTTON FIELD

Dallas, Tex. — Tourists passing through East Texas open their eyes in amazement at the sight, here and there, of flocks of geese fenced into a carefully cultivated cotton field, snapping and clipping with their sharp bills in every direction.

A score or so of years ago an enterprising farmer, one C. C. Simmons, in Van Zandt County, discovered the advantage of turning loose a flock of geese in his cotton field. He found his cotton was not molested, but was kept clean of grass and insects, and that all he had to do was keep the soil turned. So Simmons has never been without his feathered friends since—nor have any of the other cotton growers who know the secret.

FIVE LIVES SAVED BY THE RED CROSS

Water Safety Campaign in Burlington County Brings Fine Results

Already this season five rescues from drowning have been made, either by those who have passed their Life Saving Tests under the Red Cross, or those who are working to pass the tests.

The work is even more active than in the past two years and has been the means of making owners of private lakes realize the importance of having life guards who have passed their Red Cross Life Saving tests.

Life Saving is being carried on at Camp Ockanickon, Medford Lakes, Burlington County Scout Camp, Sylvan Lakes, Lake Cotoxan, Cedar Lakes, Taunton Lakes and Riverton Memorial Park, in addition to the many places where Mr. Harshorn conducts classes weekly.

Already 29 Seniors have passed the test and 46 Juniors and it is expected these figures will be more than doubled by the close of the season on August 23rd.

The Junior Meet will be held August 20th, at Browns Mills, at 3 p. m., and the Senior Meet at Sylvan Lakes, on August 23rd, at 3 p. m.

Play Safe in Water
Following is another article by Mr. Harshorn on "Play Safe in the Water."

The word goes around that some one has drowned and a large crowd, through idle curiosity, collects. Notice is given that a class will be conducted to teach Water Safety and excuses are quickly manufactured, to meet individual indifference. Yet afterwards, when an accident does hit close to home—"If I had only known" is the regretful attitude.

We are often indifferent, feeling somehow our immunity—that it does not affect us.

The American Red Cross is constantly, among other things, conducting a campaign to teach Water Safety, with the idea that prevention is the best method.

It is dangerous, even for a good swimmer, to swim alone, for he might not make the distance expected, get into unknown currents, or be suddenly taken with stomach cramp. A boat near is a big help—the best method of assistance and rescue. Lacking that, a buddy could assist him in floating until a boat could arrive.

Have a Water Buddy

"Water Buddy System" (from Pamphlet 1265 A. R. C. Life Saving Methods) is one of the most effective methods of protecting groups of bathers during the swimming period, which is division into pairs, every bather having a water-buddy of his own class. They should be swimming partners, entering and leaving the water together. A check-up by buddies is made before and after each swim, and at intervals during the swim.

When a whistle is blown or a bell rung, word is given to join your buddy and swimming is not resumed until every pair of buddies report O. K.; this takes but a moment or two and begets mutual responsibility. Such a system is as important in shallow water as in deep. While the system does not relieve the instructors or life guards of their responsibilities, it gives an added sense of security.

This method is effectively used in organized camps and can and should be followed by every group in swimming, no matter if only a party of four or five.

Diving Cautions
One should never dive into water without first ascertaining that it is deep enough and there are no obstructions. Some over-confident youngsters dive into deep water who are not strong enough swimmers to be in deep water.

The use of inner tubes, etc., is to be generally discouraged, because it often gives the individual false confidence to go into water too deep or swift for their ability. Often, too, the inner tubes are old, weak and blown up too much, forming a "bubble." When one of these gives way, being around the body, it hampers the use of the limbs in actual swimming. Don't let your life hang on an old inner tube. Learn to swim yourself.

In the next article the development of the arm movement, with breathing and leg kick of the crawl stroke, will be explained.

LET THE RED CROSS TEACH YOU.

AGREEMENT REACHED ON POLIS PROPERTY

Owners to Allow Porch to Be Removed to Make Way for Sidewalk

An agreement has been reached between the Palmyra Borough Council and the owner of the Polis property, on West Sixth street, between Market and Arch streets, in which the contractors can proceed with their work of laying sidewalks, curbs and gutters.

This property was the last one in the Borough which extended out into the street and was an obstacle to the improvement, in that the owner had never dedicated street rights to the town.

Mrs. Emma Polis, the present owner of the property, has agreed to allow the walk to be laid on condition that the Borough pay the expenses of building a door and porch on the side of the house. The present porch is in the line of the sidewalk.

Approval of the plans was given by the Mayor and Council at a special meeting held Tuesday night in Police Headquarters. This agreement will save expensive condemnation proceedings.

As another measure of farm relief, violin chin rests were placed on the free list.

SEVERAL INJURED IN BURLINGTON CRASH

Manager of Woolworth Store at Riverside Badly Hurt in Collision

At two o'clock Sunday morning, a car driven by Leak Wemborn, colored, of 405 Earl street, Burlington, collided with a car owned by Raymond L. Wemborn, colored, between Florence Station and Stevens, about a mile east of Burlington on the road to Trenton. All the occupants of the cars were taken to the Emergency Hospital, Burlington, in the police patrol. All were colored except the Riverside man.

The force was so great that pieces of glass and other parts of the wrecked cars could be found between one hundred and two hundred feet away. Wemborn received a compound fracture of the left arm and the limb had to be amputated. Those in the car with Wemborn were Miss Carrie Mitchell, of East Federal street, Burlington; Mrs. Mary Page, of Trenton, who escaped injury; Moses Spice, of 347 Clarkson street, Burlington, who received lacerations of right hand and few minor cuts, and John H. Perry, 223 East Federal street, Burlington, receiving cuts of the face and right hand.

Price received a bad fracture of the skull. He was not expected to live but is now reported recovering slowly at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly.

Mr. Price, who is manager of the Woolworth's store in Riverside, was going after his wife who was visiting in Hackensack. All the occupants of the Wemborn car were pronounced under the influence of alcohol by Dr. Rink, of Burlington. Wemborn and Price were taken to Burlington County Hospital in the ambulance while the rest of the party were held under $200 each by Magistrate Smith, pending the injuries of the other two parties, and will have a hearing on Friday at 7 o'clock.

VACUUM CLEANER SWINDLE EXPOSED

Moorestown Police Arrest Pair After Fake Repossessing of Appliance

Moorestown police played an important part in breaking up fake "repossession" of household appliances, which has been practiced through South Jersey, when they arrested two men just after they had "lifted" a vacuum cleaner from a Moorestown home last Friday afternoon.

The arrest was the result of a trap laid for the men by officials of the Premier Vacuum Cleaner Company, County Detective Ellis Parker and Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw.

The men, who were arrested by Chief Bradshaw and Officer Walter A. Erickson, of the Moorestown police department, were Harold H. Gorham, thirty-five years old, of 207 Lincoln avenue, Lenola, the father of five children, and Harvey Vennell, twenty-eight years old, of 613 Berkeley street, Camden, who is also married but has no children.

Monday, when questioned by Detective Parker, the statements of one of the men implicated them in the handling of seven vacuum cleaners. Following the questioning at Mount Holly, they were released in $200 bail for court in Burlington county and were then taken to Gloucester county to face charges there. The statements linked them with the fake "repossession" of the seven machines in Gloucester and Camden counties and it is believed that they will also be formally charged in Camden.

Practice Widespread
The practice has become widespread throughout this section and police believe the men will later be implicated in the theft of other household appliances that had been sold on the time payment plan.

Gorham, it is understood, had been employed by the Premier company as a salesman about six months or a year ago and it is alleged that he was discharged when his dealings with customers and the company did not meet with the satisfaction of his employers. His accomplice, Vennell, was not a former employee of the company. It is believed because involved in the shady dealings by virtue of the fact that he carried a private detective's badge and card, which were issued to a brother in Camden two years ago. Whether he ever used fraudulent "authority" to persuade women to part with the machines on their time payments were over due, police have not as yet discovered, although the investigation is expected to uncover this and many other points in connection with the case.

Gorham, it is charged, became intimate with Horace Thornton, a salesman for the company, telling him that he was a former Premier salesman and was in a position to inform him as to where he might make sales. It is believed that through his intimacy with Thornton, Gorham was able to obtain the names of persons who were delinquent in their payments.

Gave Fictitious Receipt

When several of the machines sold by the company had been taken from their part-owners by fictitious representatives of the company, J. B. Clayton, Premier's investigator, was assigned to the case by J. W. Hoskins, eastern manager for the company, and it was through their efforts that the trap was laid in Moorestown and the Lenola and Camden men were picked up just as they left a Moorestown home after "repossession" a cleaner. Vennell gave the housekeeper a fictitious receipt for the cleaner, signing the name of John Wood.

With Chief Bradshaw and Officer Erickson at the time they arrested the pair, were Mr. Hoskins, eastern manager for the Premier company, and Clayton, the company's investigator. In their car, Gorham and Vennell had four other cleaners, valued from $55 to $72.

When taken before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Moorestown Tuesday, the two men were held without bail for further investigation. At Mount Holly Monday they were identified by a Gloucester woman as being the men who "lifted" her cleaner.

NAVIGATORS

Two Palmyra Boys Make Trip From Avalon in 14-foot Boat

Walter "Bus" McAllister and Arthur Terrell negotiated the distance from Avalon to Palmyra via the Delaware Bay and the Delaware River between sunrise and sunset Sunday.

The boys left the McAllister cottage at Avalon early Sunday morning with McAllister's 14-foot outboard motor boat and transported it overland to Dennis creek, some eight miles from Avalon, and followed the creek to the bay. Here they found the water very rough and were forced ashore for repairs to the motor when a wave broke over the motor and flooded the magneto.

After about two hours in drying out the magneto and making minor repairs the boys again embarked on their journey. They arrived in Palmyra about seven o'clock. The distance to Avalon is about eighty miles by road and farther by the water route the boys followed.

Don't Drink from Brooks is Warning to Tourists

With the arrival of summer and motor touring season, officials of the water supply companies in the State of New Jersey warn tourists that they should avoid drinking from roadside streams and to avoid pollution of those streams as well as of the land surrounding reservoirs. This warning is for the protection of the traveler as well as for those who stay at home, says the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

Campers and picnic parties are accustomed to take for granted the purity of water wherever they find it, but it is a fact that most springs and brooks contain germs and are unsafe. Unless it can be absolutely determined that the water is safe it should be boiled. Protection from pollution is asked also for the land surrounding reservoirs, since most streams that flow through woods miles away from reservoirs find their way eventually into the public drinking supply.

PALMYRA BOARD HONORS PRINCIPAL

Retiring Grammar School Head Receives Resolution; Full Time for Children

Miss Mary E. Patterson, principal of the Palmyra grammar school and for twenty-six years a teacher in the school system, was presented with a handsomely engraved set of resolutions by the Board of Education last Thursday night.

Miss Patterson announced her intention of retiring some time ago and tendered her formal resignation at the close of the term. Her position of teaching principal will be filled by Miss Mary B. Egan, who was appointed to that post at the same meeting. Miss Egan has taught in Palmyra for several years as a grade teacher.

The resolutions presented Miss Patterson by the board president, Charles W. Davison, expressed the heartfelt appreciation of that body after her years of faithful service to the youth of the town.

Words of Praise
Mr. Davison and all the members of the board had a few words to say in praise of the retiring principal who accepted her honors with becoming modesty.

Professor C. F. Dengler added a few words, speaking of "the tremendous responsibility facing a teacher in preparing the children of today for the citizenry of tomorrow."

District Clerk Frank S. Day referred to Miss Patterson as a "good and faithful teacher of whom the community thinks of and speaks of in terms of kindly appreciation." Ralph S. Rivers, a former member of the board, spoke of the retiring principal as "one who had discovered that those who get the most out of life are those who do the most for others."

Charles K. Mervin, chairman of the building and grounds committee, explained the work of remodeling the building was progressing and would be finished in time. The children of the town will be put on full time when the term opens.

Special Meeting
Walter D. Lamon, chairman of the educational committee, asked that a special meeting be held August 14 to confirm the appointment of four teachers to fill the vacancies on the staff.

John A. Eichner was appointed trustee officer. Miss Marie V. Olwell acted in this capacity last term but her recent injuries have made it necessary for her to give up the work. She will return to her duties as nurse when the term opens. Her status has been changed from that of a strictly school nurse to a combination hygiene and school nurse. In this way she is responsible to the local and state boards of health as well as the school authorities. This is the same status in which she served when first appointed.

Business Men's Outing

The Palmyra Business Men's Association will hold a picnic next Wednesday afternoon at Camp Linghocken, Ewingville, near Mount Holly.

All business men of the town and their families are cordially invited to attend. Those wishing to go will meet at the station at one o'clock.

A full program has been arranged and a very enjoyable outing is anticipated. The arrangements are under the direction of C. A. Buohi and David Schwartz.

The use of the camp has been very generously loaned by George W. Rogers, who owns a cabin there.

Linghocken is located on the new Bordentown - Hammonilton road at Woolton's bridge.

MONEY IN BANKS

Years ago the Government did not trust its money in banks. Postmasters used to remit by sending money in registered letters. The activities of the Federal Government began to grow at the beginning of the last century through an expanding commerce and spread of population westward, and the Federal Government felt the necessity of having subagencies where vouchers drawn upon the United States Treasury could be paid. In the first instance the Treasury was a Government bank and made all transactions direct.

Experience dictated that orderly and economical transactions of the Government's fiscal affairs required the maintenance of deposits of Government funds at banks at all points where the receipts or disbursements of the Government were sufficiently large to justify such action. Accordingly, deposits of Government funds are maintained with Federal Reserve banks and their branches, special depositories, foreign depositories, national bank depositories and depositories in the insular possessions of the United States. There are nearly 900 depositories and they hold approximately a quarter of a billion dollars.

LAXITY OR IGNORANCE CAUSES ACCIDENTS

The campaign to reduce automobile accidents, started by President Hoover, and supported by private and public organizations, can achieve its object only with the aid of two things — public interest and cooperation and modernization of our traffic laws.

So long as the inexperienced or incompetent are allowed to drive automobiles, accidents will continue to rise. So long as our traffic regulations are inadequate and unenforced, we will be powerless to cope with the problem. Too many drivers regard traffic laws as something to be evaded. Not enough of them are interested in having their officials change outmoded laws in favor of codes that are adequate to deal with our modern congested, high-speed traffic.

In the words of President Hoover, "There has been much effort to better traffic conditions but the accident rate, nevertheless continues to rise because the increasing volume of traffic outruns our efforts." In the past ten years millions of new cars, capable of great speeds, have appeared on the highways, while our regulatory machinery has remained practically unchanged.

If the present trend continues, automobile accidents will soon cost us a billion dollars a year and will take 35,000 or more lives annually. That is a terrible price to pay for our laxity or ignorance in handling traffic. A united, active public consciousness is necessary to reduce the increasing toll of deaths and injuries."

HOOVER'S VACATION

Washington regards Herbert Hoover as the hardest-working President the Nation has had in recent years. Ever since he has been in office he has attended strictly to business and practically the only let-up that he has had consisted of weekend fishing trips into nearby Virginia. In practically all of these he has been accompanied by Government officials including members of Congress, who have taken advantage of opportunities of "getting out into the country to talk things over."

While Coolidge was a consistent worker he had a way of pulling down the top of his desk after about eight hours' toil and calling it a day. After that Coolidge did not seem to be concerned about public business and he assumed the attitude of one who had done the day's work so well that everything would keep going until another day. With Hoover there has been little letup by day or night, and as a result there have been times when Washington gossip speculated as to whether he would stand up under the strain. But at the end of a year and a half President Hoover is found to be in the pink of condition, and now he will undoubtedly have a real vacation.

INSECTS

The other day at my farm home we started to replace a worn door sill. When we took the old board off we found that black ants had eaten away the heavy timber which forms the sill of the house itself, for a distance of several feet. We took out more than two quarts of ants and about a pint of ant eggs, and then had the expensive job of fitting a new timber in place.

The war between man and insects is relentless and unceasing. Along the country roads near my home I frequently meet this Summer the U. S. Department of Agriculture "bug men" who are spraying trees in the effort to get rid of the Japanese beetle, or our newest insect pest. I found a great colony of tent moths in an old pasture beyond my woodlot. A new pest is beginning to eat up oak and maple trees up our way; another is destroying the willows along the brook and river.

Most of these pests, like the gypsy moth, which is killing the New England elms, and the chestnut blight, which has destroyed every chestnut tree in the East, are imported. The Government maintains a plant quarantine, but every now and then some new pest slips across the border.

PRESSURE

Ice which will not melt at a temperature of 180 degrees is the latest scientific curiosity. It has been produced by Professor P. W. Bridgman, of Harvard University. All that is necessary to keep ice from melting under a flame is to subject it to a pressure of 200,000 pounds to the square inch.

Professor Bridgman's experiments with high pressures have given many surprising results. Many familiar substances change their characters under pressure, much as human beings do. Thirty-nine different metals become better conductors of electricity. Some of the changes persist after the pressure is removed.

What is the good of such experiments? Science doesn't know nor care. Science is content to discover new facts, leaving it to inventors to apply them to human uses.

POPULATION

Early reports from the Census office indicate that the decline in the birthrate in the past ten years is greater than ever. It begins to look as if, in another ten years we will have come to an annual increase of only 500,000, or less than one-half of one per cent. in population. And that will have tremendous economic significance.

Cities will not grow so fast. Fewer new schools will be needed. Real estate values will not increase so rapidly. Fewer homes will be built. The proportion of elderly people to young will be larger, and old age pensions and retirement funds will become matters of prime importance. Those are not considerations for the distant future. They are based upon facts which are here, now, and may affect economic conditions very soon.

PORTUGAL

Travelers returning from the little-known country of Portugal report that it is the most honest country in the world. In the hotels the key to your room is hung on a hook outside of your door and nobody ever steals anything. You can leave your suitcase, your camera or your overcoat on a railroad train or a station platform or in a parked car on the street, and nobody bothers them. The people are polite and hospitable as well as honest. If a sudden shower comes up, house doors open and the occupants ask passers-by to step in for shelter until the rain stops.

That sounds like an earthly paradise. It would be perhaps, if Portugal had a stable government. In the last twenty-six years there have been twenty-six revolutions. Under the present President, General Carmona, the little nation is getting along nicely.

EUROPEAN CORN BORER

APPROACHING NEW JERSEY

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture hopes to develop an insecticide that farmers of New Jersey and nearby States can use in fighting the European corn borer when it invades this area not later than three years hence, Dr. T. J. Headlee, entomologist for the State Agricultural Experiment Station, reports.

SITTING

Mr. Charles M. Sheldon wrote IN HIS STEPS, the book that sold a hundred million copies.

I asked him once to tell me about the greatest sermon he had ever heard.

"I don't know that I can name the greatest sermon," he answered, "but I can tell you about one of the most interesting."

"It was in London. The preacher had won a great following by the unusual character of his mind and the directness of his speech. "On this particular morning he startled the congregation with a text which most of them did not know is in the Bible.

"In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw also the Lord sitting upon a throne high and lifted up, and his train filled the temples." "I wondered what in the world anybody could find in that text to hang a sermon on. I did not have long to wait.

"The preacher proceeded in vigorous tones: 'I direct your attention to the one word sitting. The great King Uzziah had just passed away. You would expect that there would be excitement and confusion in heaven. Angels would be rushing around asking, "What is going to happen?" and "What shall we do?"

"Was that the case? Not at all. Behold the utterly unfurnished Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up. . . . I want to preach to you about the eternal patience and tranquility of God."

That story has always stuck in my mind. I like to think of the picture—the little kingdoms of the earth in turmoil, while the Lord sits quietly up on the throne, knowing that time will quiet the turmoil and that the crisis will pass. If you ever have occasion to write down the attributes that make men successful, do not fail to include staying power.

I know a man who has grown rich beyond any of his associates, though he is in many respects the least brilliant of the lot. But he had great patience and stick-to-it-iveness. When the others became excited and pessimistic, and sold their stock, he just sat tight. And time and the growth of the country have carried him high.

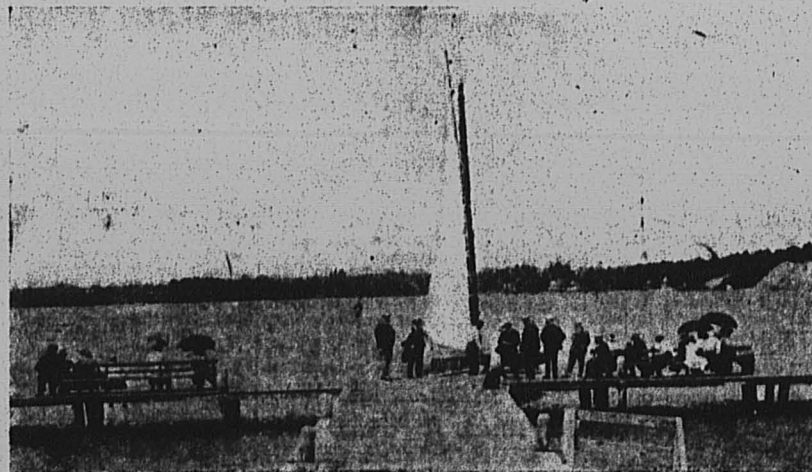

I read about all the men who thought they were smarter than Lincoln—Seward and Stanton and Chase—and maybe some of them were. But Lincoln had a great philosophy. When things were at their worst he would say, "This too will pass."

Every tough thing passes. Almost every problem becomes less hard under the softening influence of time. And when the turmoil is thickest the wisest man climbs up on his great high throne and calmly and quietly sits.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for August 10

HANNAH, A GODLY MOTHER

I Samuel 1:19-18, 24-28; 2:19

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

While thrones may go into the churches only some are real worshippers. One of very devout soul was found in the tabernacle at Shiloh at the close of the period of the judges. While harsh events are taking place in war and state there is always a cottage by the side of the road from which a great leader will come forth. Thus a setting is made for the sight that greeted the eyes of aged Eli, the priest, who ministered in the portable tabernacle which had been carried during the journey from Mount Sinai to the Promised Land. There had been replacement of priests but it was still the place where God met with His children.

Hannah was bowed in prayer as could be noted by her moving lips, though no sound was heard by the observer. Eli came forward in rebuke and foolishly said she was intoxicated. Bold in her assertion of innocence this woman told in part what she had just been telling the Lord. She was one of the two wives in the home of Elkanah. Peninnah had borne him sons and daughters while she was still childless, and like every Hebrew wife eager to have a son. Because she had not been a mother she was taunted by Peninnah. Elkanah loved Hannah and was glad to give her a double portion of tasty food to indicate his favor, but this did not take away her heart hunger to become a mother. With indirectness she makes the matter the subject of prayer and is discovered while in devotion by Eli.

The priest can speak for God and at once declares that her ardent petition will be granted. Samuel is the answer to her prayer and the babe is cared for in the utmost of loving devotion. Added affection must be lavished in the earliest years for she had vowed to give him as a son of the tabernacle as soon as he was weaned, which may have been between the ages of three and five. To keep her promise Hannah returns to the tabernacle at Shiloh and reminds Eli of her specific prayer and his glorious answer. Though this is a lesson about Hannah it is natural to at least glance through the life of the son. Note first how the little fellow responded to the thrice repeated call of God during the night season as he said, "Speak Lord, for that servant heareth." I Samuel 3:9. Then observe how prayer is his great life work, in chapter 12:23. He was forced to lay down his judgeship but he would never cease his prayers for Israel.

Great songs come out of mighty triumphs. Hannah gave expression to her joy and thanksgiving in the song that is recorded in chapter two. Note how she repeatedly gives all the glory to Jehovah. Turn also the Magnificat, the Song of Mary, Luke 1:46-55 and observe how the Mother of Jesus rejoices in often similar words.

While Hannah cannot have her boy, in keeping her vow, she can make love garments for him. Each year she visits Samuel at Shiloh and brings a little coat in her joy and for his comfort. One practical application of this lesson study is to observe another Mother's Day though we have passed the second Sunday in May. The scope of our prayer life is also suggested. We are to take everything to the Lord in prayer and ask for anything that is right for us to have. Often we are uncertain what would be best for us, and at such times we are taught to safeguard our petitions with the prayer that Jesus used in the Garden of Gethsemane when he said so devotedly, "Not my will, but thine be done." Samuel had every reason to always be proud of his mother. He evidenced his fidelity by the way in which he did his part to live out the prayers of Hannah. The Golden Text is an exhortation to every child: "My son, hear the instructions of thy father, and forsake not the law of thy mother." Proverbs 1:8.

Judge's Josh.

"Yes," said the fat man, "my size doesn't worry me, because everywhere I walk around, people laugh at me, and that makes me feel small."

Young Husband: "It seems to me, my dear, that these pancakes are rather heavy."

His Bride: "Then I'm afraid you're a poor judge, for the cook-book says they are light and feathery."

"What is the name of your car?" "I call her 'Shasta.'"

"Because she's a 'daisy?'" "No; because she has to have gas, she has to have oil, she has to have air, she has to have something all the time."

The new hardware clerk prided himself on always having a snappy comeback.

"Do you keep refrigerators?" the timid-looking woman inquired quietly.

"No," he snapped, "we sell them."

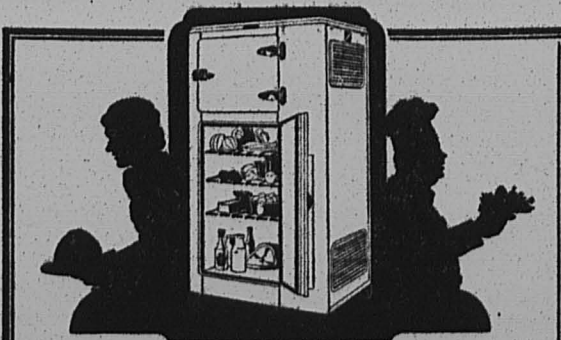

"Anyway," she said, as she strolled toward the door, "you'll keep the one you were going to sell me."

Correct this sentence: "He has been in the legislature three terms and hasn't introduced a single foot bill."

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack

"I am the way," said Christ once, not the goal and the prize only, but the route to them as well. To be upon the road seeking for the big dreams that seem to come no nearer—that also is to be in Christ. And every dusty traveler, with tired, plodding feet and eyes that look out ahead, is His.

"Not for us are content and quiet and peace of mind. For we go seeking a city that we shall never find. Only the road, and the dawn. The sun, and the wind, and the rain. And the watch fire under the stars, and sleep, and the road again. We travel the dusty road, till the light of day is dim. And the sunset shows us spires away on the world's rim."

A very cheery word comes from the "eight musketeers," who are splashing the waters at Island Heights, where our contingent of the Girls' Friendly Society is spending a holiday.

There will be a special meeting of the St. Agnes Guild on Friday at an hour to be announced later.

Services Eighth Sunday After Trinity: 10:30 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon, "A Very Gallant Gentleman."

A mistress asked her new maid whether she had any objection to family prayers, which the servants were expected to attend every morning. "Not if you live up to them," was her reply.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"SPIRIT" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 10, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "The Spirit is life because of righteousness" (Romans 8:10).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "This I say then, Walk in the Spirit, and ye shall not fulfill the lust of the flesh" (Galatians 5:16).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The suppositional antipode of divine infinite Spirit is the so-called human soul or spirit, in other words the five senses—the flesh that warreth against Spirit. These so-called material senses must yield to the infinite Spirit, named 'God' (p. 200).

KONJOLA WAS BLESSING TO HAPPY LADY

Suffered Ten Years—New Medicine Brings Health in Ten Weeks

MRS. MARTHA PIJACKA

"For about ten years I suffered from backaches, headaches, heartburn and pains in my arms," said Mrs. Martha Pijacka, 190 Detroit street, Buffalo, N. Y. "I had no appetite and I couldn't sleep at night. In the morning instead of feeling rested and full of pep, I was tired and couldn't do my housework. I tried many medicines but none helped me."

"About this time some of my friends advised me to try Konjola. I bought two bottles and those helped me very much. So far, I have used about eight or ten bottles and I feel like a new person. Most of my aches and pains are gone. I can eat and sleep much better. I am still using Konjola occasionally and I have recommended it to some of my relations. It is really a blessing to many sufferers as it was a blessing to me."

Konjola works thoroughly and from six to eight bottles are recommended to cleanse and regulate the system as nature intends. All that is asked for Konjola is that it be given a chance to prove its merits.

Konjola is sold in Riverton at L. L. Keating's, store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

MOUNT HOLLY AUTO HITS REAR OF TRUCK

Allegedly Intoxicated Driver Treated at Hospital; Recorder Kingdon Imposes $5 Fine

Samuel Fenimore, of Water street, Mount Holly, while driving his car on the Lumberton road Sunday afternoon, crashed into the rear of the truck of Douglas Fisher. Fenimore's car landed against a tree. Fenimore appeared to be injured and Fisher took him to Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, where he was treated for cuts and bruises.

Allegedly intoxicated, he refused to leave the hospital, and created such a disturbance that hospital doctors called the police. Lieutenant Harry Goldy arrived with the police car and Fenimore had to be loaded into the machine. In so doing he ripped off one of the curtains.

Fenimore was given a hearing before Recorder Joseph C. Kingdon Sunday afternoon, and fined $5 and costs. Friends paid his fine Sunday night, and were also required to pay $3 for the damage done to the curtain of the police car.

HOFFMAN PRAISES LEGION CAMPAIGN

Motor Vehicle Commissioner Pays Tribute to State Department's Safety Work

Speaking Saturday night from radio station "WOR," during the weekly American Legion program, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Harold G. Hoffman, paid tribute to the safety campaign being conducted by this organization throughout New Jersey.

He said that no feature of the American Legion's Community Service Program could make a greater appeal to the minds and the hearts of the public, than the safety educational campaign designed to save the lives of children on the public streets.

"Throughout the country," Commissioner Hoffman stated, "heartening progress has been made in regard to curbing children's fatalities. The percentage of fatalities of children under fifteen in the country, has decreased steadily since 1922." The Commissioner called attention, however, to the fact that New Jersey's record in child auto fatalities was still a poor one.

Average of .517 in Seven Games

Joe Regan, hard-hitting third sacker of the Moorestown club, with an average of .517, leads the entire Burlington County League in individual batting since the last half of the season opened. Wally Dann, Delanco outfielder, is second on the list with .464, while Grant Eckert, Medford first sacker, places third, with .422.

Regan is one of the most consistent sluggers of the circuit, as his average for the games played this semester opened. He has engaged in seven games since that time, making four trips to the plate. His scoring column shows 15 hits and four runs scored.

Dann and Eckert have also played in seven games, the former facing opposing pitchers 20 times, while Eckert has batted 30 times. Dann has 13 singles to his credit, and has accounted for a quintet of tallies. Eckert leads the circuit in the number of runs scored individually, his columns registering a total of 10, with 13 hits to his credit.

Nick Bartello, Moorestown shortstop, with an average of .421, follows Eckert on the list, and Jack Malay, recently signed by the Mount Holly club to play first base, completes the first five, with an average of .407, which is tied by Harry Brodie, Moorestown outfielder.

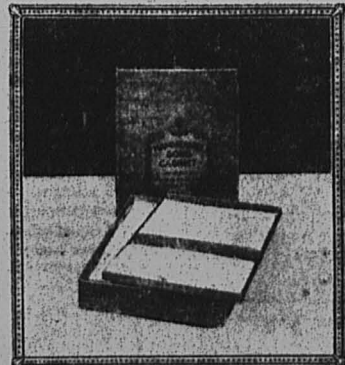

Joe Bartello and Bill Woodington, Moorestown outfielder and R. D. Wood, hurler, respectively, are tied with .400, to end the list of players whose figures read .400 or better. Woodington, incidentally, is the lone pitcher of the circuit to place above .350 in batting.

Moorestown leads the syndicate in club batting, their average for the last half of the season, counting seven games to date, reading .320. The combination has produced 40 runs and 83 hits in 259 trips to the rubber. Medford, with 290, and R. D. Wood, the league-leading squad, with 276, place second and third, respectively.

The Florence aggregation tops the list in fielding, with an average of .962 in seven games. But 10 errors were charged against the occupants of the sunberth in that time. Delanco and Mount Holly follow in the order named, with .959 and .946 as their averages.

A Distinctive Gift

EVERY once in a while you are confronted with the problem of selecting a gift that must be worth while, distinctive and personal.

This problem is very well met by giving a Ham-merrill Bond Cabinet of stationery, containing 100 letterheads and 100 envelopes of white Ham-merrill Bond, each sheet and each envelope bearing the name and address of the person to whom you are giving it.

There are sizes for men and women and styles for personal, professional, and business use. The paper and envelopes are kept smooth and clean till the last one is used. The cabinet is dignified in appearance, and makes a worthy remembrance for any occasion.

SANTOP'S TEAM AT RIVERTON

Jimmy McConnell Arranged Game With Team of Burlington Co. Stars

Jim McConnell has arranged a special baseball attraction for this Friday, August 8th, to be played on the Riverton Memorial Park diamond, between a picked team of star players from the Burlington County League and the famous Santop's Bronchos.

Santop's team will line up as follows: Greene, second base; Bergan, third base; J. Johnson, shortstop; Gillespie, left field; Wilkison, right field; Norman, center field; Campbell, catcher; Tutt, first base; Johns or Moore, pitching.

An equally brilliant combination of players will be pitted against the colored boys in Jimmy's line-up of County stars. The Burlington County All Stars will line up as follows: Billy Arenz, of Burlington, at third; Frank Cook, also of Burlington, at short stop; Pete Pitko, a hefty slugger of Burlington, in left field; Grant Eckert, of Medford, will cavort about first base; Everham, of Florence, or Dann, of Delanco, will draw the twirling assignment; "Shorts" Vaughn, of Medford, will patrol center field; either Gilbert, of Florence, or Nelson, of Riverside, will see duty in right field. Benny Edge will cover the keystone sack, and Doyle of Burlington, will do the receiving.

Jimmy has worked hard to round out a good team to put against the Bronchos and should be supported in his efforts by a good attendance at this game.

Don't forget the date, Friday, August 8th.
Time, 6.15 o'clock.

BELL CO. TO ERECT NEW LABORATORY

Murray Hill for Communication Problems Best Studied in Quiet Atmosphere

A new laboratory will shortly be erected by Bell Telephone Laboratories in Murray Hill, N. J., according to an announcement made today by Dr. Frank B. Jewett, president of Bell Telephone Laboratories. Property to the extent of 200 acres has been assembled in the block bounded by Mountain avenue, Glenview road, Glenside avenue, and Diamond Hill road in the Borough and Township of New Providence. The principal frontage is along Mountain avenue. Adjoining the Watching Reservation on one side, the property extends to within about half a mile of the Murray Hill railroad station on the other. The Arthur N. Pearson Corporation, of Newark, N. J., and Robert H. Steele, of Summit, N. J., were the realtors through whom the transaction was arranged.

It is proposed to establish on this site a laboratory for many of the problems in communication which can best be studied in the quiet atmosphere of the suburbs. Buildings as they are gradually erected will be of moderate height, and their architecture, as well as the landscaping, will not be out of harmony with the residential character of the neighborhood. No commercial manufacturing is proposed. Final decisions have not been made as to the first groups of scientists who will work there, but it is expected that plans will progress far enough to allow ground to be broken in the autumn.

Bell Telephone Laboratories is already a considerable holder of property in this State. At Deal Beach it has owned for several years a radio station used for the first ship-to-shore experiments in 1922. Several buildings are on this property, which comprises 208 acres. It is now used for short-wave radio studies, as is also a 40-acre tract at Cliffwood and a 425-acre tract at Holmdel.

Another New Jersey outpost of Bell Telephone Laboratories is at Whippany. Well known to radio "night hawks" as W3XN, it is the site of the laboratory for development in radio broadcasting. Here are located experimental 5,000 watt and 50,000 watt broadcasting transmitters, and the ground station for the Laboratories' airplane radio developments. The two airplanes are based at Haddley Airport, near New Brunswick. To supplement Whippany's forty-seven acres, a tract of 133 acres has recently been purchased at Mendham; it will be used for radio reception studies, including both broadcast and airplane problems.

For outdoor tests of telephone line-construction materials, such as wire, cables, and hardware, the Laboratories has leased a tract of twenty acres, which it owns near Chester. Passing adjoining one of eight-five acres, motorists have no doubt wondered why a heavy pole line carrying some sixty wires starts off bravely up a hill and comes suddenly to an end in a quarter-mile or so. The wires carry no messages, however; they serve merely to yield valuable data on the effects of wind and sleet.

SEVEN PERSONS HURT IN PEMBERTON CRASH

Merchantville Man Arrested by State Trooper Rinaldi on Reckless Driving Charge

Seven persons were injured, two severely, in a collision on the Pemberton-Browns Mills road late Saturday night.

John L. Miller, of 3360 Merchantville avenue, Merchantville, driver of one of the cars, was arrested by State Trooper Rinaldi and charged with reckless driving. But his automobile had collided with a car driven by William Cam, of 1451 Bellevue avenue, Camden. Miller was fined $20 by Justice of the Peace Hargrove, of Pemberton.

James Welch, 40, of 522 Bailey street, Camden, in the Miller car is in a serious condition because of loss of blood.

Others injured, riding in the Peck car, were: Clarke Brown, 4, of 36 Harding avenue, Oaklyn; his father, J. S. Brown; Brown's wife, Mrs. Winifred Brown; Mrs. C. M. Wheaton, of 329 Virginia avenue, Collingswood; and Margaret Wheaton, same address.

All were treated at the Burlington County Hospital, in Mount Holly.

SETS SEPTEMBER COURT DATE

Judge Henry H. Eldredge, of the Burlington County Circuit Court, has notified County Clerk Lawrence G. Mingin that he will begin the trial of civil cases that are listed for the September term of court in this County on September 23.

Mount Holly Out for Better Buses

Once again the Northampton Township Committee has issued an ultimatum to the Public Service, and this time it is in the form of a threat to grant a franchise to an independent bus company to operate passenger machines through Mount Holly.

At a recent committee meeting, it was announced that the members are considering an application from an independent company for a franchise.

It is alleged that, contrary to giving Mount Holly better bus service, the Public Service has failed to improve its bus lines from Philadelphia to this town, continuing to use worn-out buses that have been discarded from other lines, after repeated promises to install new cars.

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

WARNINGS

No—your backache is not, an indication of kidney disease, or it's the poorest, to say the most for it as a symptom. Let me enumerate several points, however, that should send you to the doctor posthaste, if you have been uneasy about this particular set of eliminative organs:

First, a progressively-increasing shortness of breath, that you just can't account for; this with increasing weakness and rapid heart that interferes with your ability to do your ordinary work.

Second, you notice a puffiness under the eyes—and maybe you have noticed black specks when looking at white surfaces; just tiny dots they are, and might escape your notice. With your puffiness of the lower eyelids, you may observe a decided swelling of the hands—not painful—just a "blat."

Third, and getting more alert, you may notice a getting up from bed to relieve the kidneys—so many times that it really interferes with sleep; the amount may not be considerable, but it is the frequency of voiding that counts as a symptom. Even if you obtain from drinking water evenings, you get up just as often. The appearance of the fluid is of little value to you as an indication of disease; it may be clear and innocent-looking—or darkened and scalding. It is your physician's business to determine the real condition.

Fourth—look with suspicion on headaches that occur mainly at night—along toward morning worst. These that are a frequent thing—persistent—and do not yield to your taking liver medicine.

These symptoms are usually concurrent, that is all work together. If your kidneys are out of order; if the more severe they are, the worst neglected your kidneys have been. Go to the doctor at once!

RICHARD E. WILSON TELLS OF INTERESTING TRIP TO BRITAIN AND CONTINENT

been in England for many years. The charge for playing a round of golf, eighteen holes, including club and ball is four cents. However, this is not so disproportionate, when one considers that trolley car conductors there make about $17.50 per week, to our $40.00 or $50.00.

Don't Need Bumpers

Automobile traffic in the kingdom is all one could expect. There are no speed laws, but every driver has a common understanding of the other person's position and there is universal courtesy throughout. The English cars have no bumpers and the owners pride themselves on keeping their cars unmarred.

In London, with its 8,000,000 population, automobile and bus traffic is almost unbelievable. I have seen streets for several blocks entirely filled with automobiles and buses, all moving and no traffic jams whatever. Everything is under the splendid control of the London "Bobby" and there are no semaphores or automatic lights. In all of my travels in the British Isles, I have never witnessed an accident.

Paris is not so busy as London, but it is a very active city. The proverbial gaiety is only in the outdoor cafes, which are thronged from breakfast time to midnight, as we noted, mostly by Parisienne.

France Prosperous

Trade seems to be better and money more plentiful in Paris and France. Travel is quite cheap. Taxis are used a great deal more than in America as the first charge is only eight cents and each third mile adds only four cents.

We motored through two hundred and fifty miles of French battlefields, going through Rheims, with its battered cathedral, which is beautiful in architecture. It is being repaired, owing to the fact that it was badly disfigured by German shells.

Our guide, who was a French soldier who had fought in the war, explained many interesting parts of the battlefield to us. The woods are practically untouched, the broken guns and other equipment are lying around loose, but untouched by tourists.

Gather Poppies

Chateau Thierry is being rebuilt and the bridge across the river is a new one.

At Hill No. 108, where our marines lost so heavily, Mrs. Wilson gathered poppies. We brought some of the poppies home with us as a memento of our trip.

The barbed wire fence posts are still standing and serve as a grim reminder of the dreadful scenes which took place such a short time ago. We also visited the American cemetery, with its rows of white crosses and beautiful flowers everywhere. About 2000 bodies are still left in the cemetery. Personally, I feel that there would let them remain, as it is an exceedingly beautiful spot and well taken care of.

A monument in the form of a chapel, which will be a beautiful and lasting building, is being erected on the slope of the hill behind the cemetery. Cemetery well kept. The crosses in the German cemetery are all black.

Much reconstruction is going on in the territory and the country seems to be entirely new. This, of course, gives a great deal of employment and may account for the present excellent condition of France.

Our two ships, the Baltic going east and Penland on the return trip, offered the utmost in comfort. Mrs. Wilson, who was enjoying her first trip abroad, (with some trepidation) managed to get along without missing a meal at the abundant table which was set.

COATE FARM PRODUCES 462
BUSHELS POTATOES PER ACRE

Anyone who has traveled the road leading from Lumberton to Medford could not help but notice the beautiful field of potatoes that was growing on the farm of Charles Coate, recently.

While potatoes were being dug from this plot, Coate and his sons took measurements and determined the actual yield per acre on the Cobblers. It was found to be 757.83 bushels per acre. The average weight per bushel was 36.6 pounds, making a total yield by weight of 462.17 bushels, and the double checked. During the coming few days other fields will be measured and yields secured. But the man who exceeds this yield will have to go some.

VERY LATESTS BY MARY MARSHALL

After several seasons of the most extravagant sort of flowered designs and sprawling modernistic figures there is something especially pleasing about the small dot designs that are used for some of the smartest of the new summer silks. Rather small dots, not too closely placed, on a dark background are especially attractive in combinations of white or cerise on navy blue or black.

For a practical addition to your summer wardrobe we suggest black and white dotted silk made into a dress with short, puffed sleeves, long, rather full skirt and a collar with scalloped edges made of white or gaudie, georgette or mull.

Collars of this sort appear on a number of the new summer dresses and are not at all difficult to make. To cut a pattern lay any simple flat collar that fits you on a paper, and trace the outline. It should be about five inches deep at back and sides and front should be extended in two tabs as shown in the little sketch. Draw two-inch-wide scallops round the edges of the collar and front tab. The material may be finished by machine placket or by a fine rolled hem.

To finish the collar at the front buy a small pear buckle ornament and draw the ends through this so that they may be held securely in position at the front of the collar.

MUSSOLINI TO GO FULL LIMIT IN SEA POWER

Florence, Italy.—Following a military pageant, the largest in the history of the country, Premier Mussolini announced: "It is I who desired this most imposing military review because words are beautiful things, but rifles, machine guns, ships, airplanes and cannons are still more beautiful. For the Black Shirts' right, unless accompanied by force, is a vain word." He added:

"There is nothing more insulting to the pride of the Italian people than the suspicion launched by some people that our recent naval program will not be realized."

"I reaffirm here that this program will be realized for ton, that 20 units of the new program will be placed on the sea because the will of Fascism is not only iron and decisive, but is mathematical. Our will is not quailed but rather attracted by obstacles, because I am sure the Italian people, rather than remain prisoners within the sea which once belonged to Rome, would be capable of sacrifices far beyond common."

FOUR BANKERS ON N. J. COMMITTEES

Quartet of Burlington County Men Named to State Association Jobs

Four Burlington County men are members of the committees of the New Jersey Bankers' Association for the year 1930-1931 as announced by Levi H. Morris, president of the association, who is president of the Newton Trust Company.

In addition to the four committees, Armit H. Coate, trust officer of the Burlington County Trust Company, Moorestown, is secretary of the state association, and Walter E. Robb, president of the Burlington City Loan and Trust Company, is one of the eighteen honorary vice-presidents.

The Burlington County banker and committees of which they are members are:

David B. Robb, vice-president, Burlington City Loan and Trust Company, member of the publicity committee.

Franklin P. Jones, Jr., president, First National Bank, Beverly, member of the committee on insurance.

George W. Dading, cashier, Mount Holly National Bank, member of the committee on agriculture.

Nelson D. W. Purney, vice-president, Burlington County Bankers' Association, associated with Union National Bank and Trust Company, Mount Holly, member of the education committee.

The New Jersey Bankers' Association holds two conventions during this year, one on November 20-21 at the Hotel Stacy-Trent, Trenton, directed to trust department activities and one in the fall at Atlantic City directed to general banking problems. During the year the active work of the association is carried on under the supervision of committees appointed by the president, working with Secretary Coate.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

PEACHES

Peaches are, for the next few weeks will be, at their best and most abundant. They are everywhere and more than once a day, if your family like them.

And if you use a little imagination in serving them there are few families that will tire of them before the end of the season.

Here are some ways of using them to suggest new ideas to the cook:

PEACH FRITTERS

Peel and split ripe peaches, sprinkle with powdered sugar and let stand for an hour. Drain, dip in fritter batter, fry brown in deep fat, drain, sprinkle with powdered sugar, and serve.

PEACH SNOW

For peach snow, beat a cup of cream until it is stiff and add half a cup of sugar and two egg whites, beaten stiff. Cut up a quart of peaches in a glass dish and pour the cream mixture over them. Cover the peaches and the cream should be chilled through before mixing. Serve them as soon as they are mixed.

PEACH DELIGHT

Peel and split ripe peaches and fill a baking dish, sprinkling each layer of fruit with sugar. Dot the top with butter, add a cup of water and sprinkle with flour. Make a crust of one-half cup of flour sifted with a little salt and a teaspoon of baking powder, rubbing into the flour then half a cup of lard and adding ice water to mix. Cover the peaches with a thin sheet of the dough, slit the crust and serve hot with fresh cream.

PEACH FOAM

Press three or four ripe peaches through a colander making one cup pulp and juice together. Stir one envelope gelatin with one-half cup of sugar and dissolve in one cup of boiling water. Add peach pulp and juice flavored with one tablespoon lemon juice or almond extract and pinch of salt. Set in cool place, and when beginning to jelly add the well-beaten whites of two eggs, and beat all together until very thick, so it will not separate. Pour into molds and set in cool place until firm. Serve with custard sauce.

BAKED PEACHES

Plunge the ripe peaches into boiling water for a moment, then the skins will rub off as easily as the skin of a scalded tomato. Arrange in a rather deep baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and dot the tops of the peaches with bits of butter. Add a cup of boiling water to the baking pan and bake in a steady, moderate oven. Serve hot or cold.

WATCH SAFETY FEATURES

Vital as it is for the motor car owner to keep an ever-watchful eye on those major safety features of his car, the brakes, the steering mechanism, and the headlights, he should not concentrate attention upon them to the utter exclusion of less conspicuous equipment designed to prevent accidents. This point is made by Harold G. Hoffman, New Jersey Motor Vehicle Commissioner, who declares that the horn, the windshield wiper, the rear-view mirror, and the stop light also should be kept functioning at their best.

Miss Florence Henrie, of Chicago, and Miss Lillian Bernard, of Kansas City, singers, have returned to America after a European concert tour, during which they appeared before King George, of England.

COVER LAWN'S BARE SPOTS

By A. C. McLean, N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

This is the time of the year when many home owners see bare spots in their lawns, especially under trees. A number of plants can be used effectively to cover these spots. For bare areas that are shaded Japanese Spurge (Pachysandra Terminalis), is one of the last. Other good ground covers for similar areas are the Bugle (Ajuga Reineriana), Sweet Woodruff (Asperula Odorata), and Creeping Jennie (Lysimachia Nummularia). Any of these plants grow well in shady spots, provided the trees do not take all the moisture. When tree roots are close to the surface of the ground, it is advisable to dig up the soil and destroy the roots. This root pruning will not materially hurt the trees, and the ground covers will have a better chance to grow and become established. They can then more successfully compete with the trees for moisture and plant-food.

For dry, sunny spots where the soil is rather poor, dwarf pinot (Subularia), the thymus, and sedums are among the best of the ground covers. A good time for planting any of these ground covers, both in the sun and the shade, is from September until November. They are hardy and, if planted as suggested, they will become established and ready to make a good growth in the spring.

SOW PINKS IN AUGUST

By A. C. McLean, N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

The pink or Dianthus family is one of the most popular of the families consisting largely of perennials. Virtually all pinks have been cultivated, and the Sweet William and grass pinks have been in cultivation as long as gardening has been an art. Most popular of the Dianthus family is the carnation.

There are innumerable varieties of species of other pinks which are well worth cultivating in borders and rock gardens. Almost all pinks are hardy, and now is the time to sow seed to get good, sturdy plants that will winter and bloom freely next summer. The so-called annual or Japanese pinks, which are really hardy biennials, do well if sown during August and wintered over. They bloom much earlier the following year and make a better display than Japanese pinks sown in the spring.

Some of the most popular of the rock pinks are the alpine pink (Alpinus), the cheddar pink (Cerasinus), and the maiden pink (Deltoides). These are all free-blooming dwarf pinks which bloom profusely during June and part of July.

All the pinks do well from seed planted now. Choice kinds may be propagated by cuttings in September.

NEMATODES OF PEONIES

By R. F. White, Research Specialist

The appearance of dwarfed, spindling shoots in an abnormally large number, and with a scarcity of bloom or complete absence of bloom, is very good evidence that the peony is infected with nematodes. These microscopic, eel-worms bore into the small rootlets of the plant. Their presence causes galls to form, and usually the death of the distal portions of the rootlet. Larger roots become knarled, irregular, and stubby.

Nematodes are unable to live in the soil through winter in the latitude of New Jersey except in the southern portion during mild winters. Infected clumps should therefore be lifted, divided, and treated in hot water at 125 degrees Fahrenheit for 30 minutes. This treatment has been found by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to kill these nematodes imbedded in the tissue, without injury to the dormant roots or buds. The peony clumps should then be replanted in fresh soil. Peonies should not for at least two years be replanted in the place where nematode infected clumps were removed, since two winters may be needed to kill all the pests remaining in the soil.

SELECTING DAHLIA VARIETIES

By C. H. Connors, Experiment Station Floriculturist

There are now about 10,000 varieties of dahlias under cultivation and each year witnesses the introduction of many more. It is obviously impractical for any person to hope to familiarize himself with every variety, especially since many are very local in their distribution.

The best way to know dahlias is to see them growing. All commercial dahlia growers have display gardens in which the most recent varieties are displayed. Visit the growers in your own vicinity, for then conditions more nearly your own are found. Another way to know dahlias is to see them in shows. At present, most of the shows require exhibition in preference to varieties with thin, pale, glossy foliage. However, there are many fine varieties of the latter type. Comparison with your neighbor's garden will give a good indication as to the varieties that will do best.

In addition to size, form, and color of flower the growth habit of the plant is important. In the last few years the leaf hopper has been increasing in its damage to the dahlia. Varieties which get off to a quick start, and which have dark green, thick, pubescent foliage, are most resistant to the attacks of this insect. Such plants are to be selected in preference to varieties with thin, pale, glossy foliage. However, there are many fine varieties of the latter type. Comparison with your neighbor's garden will give a good indication as to the varieties that will do best.

PERENNIALS FOR LATE SUMMER

By A. C. McLean, N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

Too many perennial borders have more early blooming plants than late ones, with the result that they frequently are bare of bloom at this season. This is unnecessary, because there are numerous plants available which can be used effectively to brighten the perennial border in late summer.

One of the best of these in the Veronicas, either Veronica longifolia or Veronica spicata. These are both tall and easily grown flowers, which bloom well during July and through August. They are not only appropriate for borders, but also excellent for cutting to mix with other flowers in brightening baskets and vases.

The best of the Veronica longifolia group is the subspicata, a blue-colored variety which can be propagated only from cuttings or division, because it does not produce seed. The Veronica spicata group can all be raised successfully from seed or propagated by division. In color these are white, pink, or blue. They are 18 to 24 inches tall.

There are numerous other species of Veronicas or Speedwells in cultivation, but the majority of them are spring or early summer blooming plants, and low growing ones at that. If you do not know the Veronica by all means try some.

AMERICAN AIR CADET CHAPTER BEING FORMED

Nearly a Hundred Boys Join Local Branch of National Organization

TO HELP DEVELOP FUTURE AVIATION

Air-Mindedness of Youth Necessary to Rapid Growth of Industry

Nearly a hundred boys have already joined the branch of the American Air Cadets which is being formed in Palmyra and Riverton.

The new boys' organization, which is being patterned somewhat after the Boy Scouts, Sea Scouts, Columbus Cadets, etc., has for its purpose the air-mindedness of the rising genera-

General interest in aviation, the building of model airplanes, gliders, etc., is to be fostered by the organization. Among the sponsors who have already signified their support are William H. Plank, a member of the Palmyra High School faculty, the result of the local Y. M. C. A.; the Rev. J. William Lee, pastor of the Methodist Church; Harold B. Lever and L. O. Rogers. Edson Hicks, assistant Y. M. C. A. secretary, has been named district commander.

The keynote of the organization is based on the realization that the industry of aviation will soon be dependent upon the youth of today for new ideas and inventions as well as carrying on the industry as a whole.

To Develop Aviation
Col. Art Goebel, winner of the Dale flight in Honolulu, said in a recent interview that he believed the rapid development of commercial aviation is as important to the future of America as the development of railroads was in the past, and that he considered the American Air Cadets one of the greatest steps in this development brought to his notice.

Henry Ford has said, "The future program of aviation lies in the hands of the boy of today," and there is no quicker and surer way to grasp the theoretical and practical problems of flying than to test them out with the aid of models.

Again we find that Major Gen. J. E.
Fecht, chief of the Air Corps of the United States, says, "The aviation industry will soon be dependent upon the youth of today for new ideas in design as well as carrying on the industry as a whole, and the establishment of a department to encourage young men along these lines should produce results."

Every member will receive on registration a membership card and will be given an official "A. A. C. Mechanicist's Pin" (green). He will also receive a complete kit with which to build the first flying model plane.

Official "Ace" Insignia
As soon as the member has built one flying model, he will be promoted to the rank of pilot and will be given a pilot's badge. When the member has constructed one full sized scale model of 24 inches wing spread or over that will actually fly or be passed by judges as a correct A. A. C. model, he will receive the American Air Cadets' official "Ace" insignia.

Members of the local chapter will be eligible to compete in local, state, and national model airplane tournaments.

A supply depot will be established in the L. O. Rogers store, where members of the club can purchase their supplies at factory cost. The kit, which goes with the first enrollment, includes balsa wood, ambroid, Jap tissue, piano wire, rubber, bamboo, and full plans and instructions. The only tools needed are a jackknife and a hammer.

The planes are made to fly by means of a powerful rubber, which when wound tightly contains a great amount of potential energy. Principles used in large aircraft construction must be employed to make a successfully flying model.

TROOPERS SEIZE STILL IN MEDFORD WOODS

The State Police last week found a large distilling plant in operation in woods near Medford. The still had 100-gallon capacity. Thomas Stapleton and James Mason, Philadelphia, were arrested at the plant by Troopers Adams and Rinaldi, Columbus Barracks. The Troopers confiscated 20 barrels of mash, three gallons of alleged liquor and 35 five-gallon cans.

Bridge Anniversary

Today marks the first anniversary of the opening of the Tacoma-Palmyra Bridge. The span was officially opened Wednesday, August 14, 1929, with a huge motor parade and impressive ceremonies in which officials of two States participated.

The engineer's estimates of 1,100,000 vehicles during the first year have been exceeded by a considerable margin.
The great span has met with signal success since its opening and has justified every expectation of its sponsors.

PALMYRA BOROUGH ACCOUNT NOT 'SHORT'

Exaggerated Story in Camden Paper Made It Appear Something Was Amiss

Both headlines in a Camden newspaper last week announced to the world that the Borough of Palmyra was $4.80 "short" in its accounts.
The prominence given to the story was entirely out of proportion to its importance.

As a matter of fact, the auditors, in making the annual audit, discovered a mistake of $4.80 had been made in transferring the balance from the account of one Borough department to another. There was no actual shortage in the Borough's funds.

The Palmyra officials were somewhat concerned as the story made it appear there was a laxity in keeping the municipal accounts. In fact the auditors complimented the Mayor and Council for the excellent shape in which the accounts were kept.

P. O. S. OF A. PLANS INTERESTING TOUR

Trip to Washington Crossing to be Made Next Sunday Afternoon

The second of a series of pilgrimages to places of historic interest will be made by the Burlington County P. O.
S. of A. next Sunday afternoon.

The place selected for this trip is Washington Crossing and other points enroute.

Members of the various camps in the county will meet on the new State Highway, east of Farnsworth avenue, Bordentown, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Harry H. Yates, of Camp 6, Trenton, who is familiar with all points of interest, will act as guide. A stop will be made at the Battle Monument in Trenton and the journey will end at Washington Crossing Park, where a brief address will be delivered by the state vice-president, the Rev.
Lawrence Correll.

Members of Palmyra camp will leave the hotel at one o'clock. Those having room in their cars for guests are requested to notify George H.
Evans, chairman of the committee in charge.

Delegates to the State Camp from Palmyra will leave for Trenton next week, to be made at the Battle Monument in Trenton and the journey will end at Washington Crossing Park,
where a brief address will be delivered by the state vice-president, the Rev.
Lawrence Correll.

At the Burlington County Association, held in Moorestown Thursday evening, it was decided to hold a county picnic at Woodlawn Park, Trenton, on Labor Day. Several interesting facts are being planned.

TWO DIE FROM BLAST IN RIVERSIDE HOME

Gasoline Used in Sprayer Causes Fatal Injuries to Thomas Bart, 43, and Son

Burns and injuries inflicted when a blast wrecked their home in Riverside Park Thursday caused the deaths Saturday of Thomas Bart, 43, and his son, Matthew, 15.

Bart succumbed to severe burns of the face, head and body at 11 a. m.
Matthew died at 5:30 a. m. Both were in Cooper Hospital.

Mrs. Martha Bart, 41, and two other sons, Francis, 20, and Edward, 13, were at their bedside when the two died. Mrs. Bart was prostrated.

Matthew and his father were in the cellar of their home spraying the walls with a mixture of gasoline and creolin to exterminate sand fleas when the explosion occurred.

Neighbors and friends have raised a purse of several hundred dollars to aid the survivors and plan to rebuild the Bart home without cost to the family.

The funerals of the two victims were held Tuesday morning.

INJURED AT WORK

Palmyra Man Suffers Fractured Arm at Kleckhefer Container Company

Harvey Trauger, of Leconey avenue, Palmyra, was painfully injured last Friday when he was caught between an electric truck and a wall while at work at the Kleckhefer Container Company, Delair.

His injuries were treated by Miss Betty Scanlon, the registered nurse at the plant, and he was sent to Cooper Hospital, Camden, where it was found he had suffered a compound fracture of the left arm.
He will remain in the hospital for about three weeks.

LISTS PRODUCTION COSTS FOR MARKETING TOMATOES

The average cost of growing market tomatoes on 22 New Jersey farms last year was $216.40 an acre, a survey by economists of the State Agricultural Experiment Station disclosed.
A total of 130.8 acres were included in the survey. Thirty-four per cent.
of this acreage was devoted to the Marglobe variety, 12 per cent. to Earliane, and the remaining 54 per cent. to 15 other varieties. The average yield sold from all farms was 279.3 twenty-quart crates to the acre.
The lowest yield was 200.7 crates and the highest yield was 300 crates.
The average cost of production was 54.4 cents a crate.

NEW ROAD VOIDS MOTOR HAZARD

Board of Freeholders Straighten Dangerous Curve; Road
Kept by County

Members of the Washington Township Committee and Clifford R. Powell, their attorney, appeared before the Burlington County Board of Freeholders last Friday to protest against a section of road near Batsto being turned back on the Township.

After some discussion it became clear that the Township officials were laboring under a misapprehension. They contended that they were financially unable to pay for the upkeep of the section of road in question, when, as a matter of fact, the Freeholders had no idea of returning it to the Township.

For several months past the Board of Freeholders has been negotiating with the Wharton estate for a piece of land which would enable the County Engineer to remove a dangerous curve from the road at Lower Bank. Recently the desired grant was obtained and the road was straightened. A portion of the road which constituted the curve has been abandoned by the County as a private road and the balance of the road is a part of the County road system and will continue to be maintained by the Board of Freeholders.

Permission Granted
The Public Service was granted permission to erect a pole on the Lumberton-Medford road at the intersection of Prospect road.

The Public Service Corporation addressed a communication to the Board stating that a bridge east of Lakehurst was in such bad shape that Public Service buses were using the other road, and asking when this bridge would be repaired.

The matter was referred to the Director of Bridges and the County Engineer.

The Bell Telephone Company advised the Board by letter that the Company was installing a State-wide system of police inter-communication and asked whether or not the Board desired to connect the County Detective's office, the County to pay cost of installation.

But one bid was received for coal for the County buildings for next winter. S. B. Lippincott and Son, of Mount Holly, submitted a lump sum bid of $1,358.40 for 80 tons each of stove and buckwheat coal.

Delinquent bills amounting to nearly $1,000 for patients at the County tuberculosis hospital were submitted to the Board and referred to the Solicitor.

The tangled situation over whether Dr. Daniel F. Kemner is County or Prison Physician, or both, and regarding the duties and fees paid County Coroners and County Physicians, which confronts the Board of Freeholders of Burlington County will remain unsettled until September 13, the next meeting of the Board.

Department bills were ordered paid as follows: Roads, $19,987.97; Bridges, $2,793.87; Finance, $64,621.99; Public Buildings, $12,795.92; and Public Affairs, $6,816.79.

ROBERT WHITE GETS HIS SISTER'S ESTATE

In the will of Miss Mary Fay
White, which was filed for probate Tuesday, Robert Forbes White, a brother, of 212 Fulton street, Riv-erton, is named as sole beneficiary.

The will was filed with the Surrogate's Court, New York City. The estate consisted of personal property, valued at $10,000.

Miss White died at Biarritz, France, July 20 last. Her brother said she had been living in Europe eight years, making frequent trips to this country.

UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Springer's Roadside Market, near the Cambridge Station, on the road between Riverside and Riverton, which has been so favorably known for many years, is now open under new management. Here you will find all kinds of fruits and vegetables in season, with special attention being paid at this time to corn and lima beans. Charles Garrett, the new proprietor, says "We are here to please.
If we fail, please tell us—we guarantee satisfaction." All orders for $1.00 or over will be delivered free within a five-mile radius.

No Such Thing

Although claims frequently are published of persons having lived to be 115 to 150 years of age, the New York Life Insurance Company states that in its own experience it has never found satisfactory proof of such claims.
"Our Actuarial Department has investigated many persons who claim to have lived 110 years or more and in no case could find any adequate proof," reports the Company. "In the majority of cases it has been found that they have not attained even the century mark."
A few of the Company's thousands of policyholders do reach 100, or nearly 100, but rarely will any live beyond this age, 100 years being the oldest.
The oldest case on record in any insurance company in the United States or Europe, as far as we are aware, is that of a policyholder who lived to be 105.

RIVERTON PEOPLE AND GUESTS IN AUTO CRASH

Reckless Driver Damages Otto Sauer's Car; No One Injured

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Otto Sauer and their guests, Mrs. Dennis Maloney, of Riverton; Miss Blair and John Tappanier, of Los Angeles, Calif., motored to Asbury Park. On the return trip they came through Roeboling to show the visitors the city.
Along the river drive a car rushed out of a side road, striking the front of their auto and throwing both cars to the opposite side of the road.

Andrew Frenie, 133 Fifth avenue, Roeboling, the driver of the other car, was badly bruised and is in the Roeboling Hospital. Mrs. Sauer and Mrs. Maloney were also taken to the hospital. No serious injuries were found and their party all returned to Riverton in a car hired at a Roeboling garage, where they left their car for repairs.

No arrests were made and both cars were insured.

RIVERTON FIRE CO. GOLF BENEFIT

Robinslawn Receipts Given to Fire Enters Three Nights
Next Week

Here is a chance to try your skill.
A $100.00 prize in merchandise will be given to the player who has the best score during the benefit given by the Riverton Fire Company on the Robinslawn Golf Course, next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Boat" Lever, manager of the course, has said that the fairways are being re-surfaced with an imported substance which will add to the interest of the playing.

Other changes have been made in the course, but only the manager knows what they are until one has played.

Walter Armstrong, chief of the Riverton Fire Company, invites every one to come out and support their home company. Tickets may be secured from any fireman or at the booth during the benefit.

SWIMMING AND MARBLE CHAMPS

Winners at Memorial Park Playground Announced; Kite Karnival Next

tendance at the Memorial Park Playground swimming and marble tournaments high last week, a count of 1,465 being recorded. The cooler weather was responsible for a drop in the number of swimmers, but this was met with an increase of those taking part in the other activities.

The marble tournaments were completed. Chester Watson won the Senior title, while Robert Wallace was declared Junior champion. These two will meet to decide who goes to Philadelphia next week to compete in the Marble Golf Tournament there.

The special event of this week was the swimming meet, held on Monday night. The following won prizes in the various events:

50-Yard Free Style (Boys 13 and Over)—Francis Brennan, Theodore Huhn, Lester Yearly.
50-Yard Free Style (Girls 13 and Over)—Ella Bussell, Dorothy Wolcott,

AMERICAN LEGION PASSES 100 MARK

Post Rodgers Enjoying Successful Year; Bugle Corps Drilling for Convention

An unusually large number of members of Frederick M. Rodgers Post, American Legion, were present for the regular monthly meeting held the first Tuesday of the month.

Three new members were admitted to the Post, Comrades L. Borden of Perry; Edward Borgeson, of Philadelphia; and Fred Harrington, of Camden, bringing the roster well above the 100 mark.

The Post and its present Commander, Carl Thomas, achieved the goal for which they have been striving, namely to equal or surpass the quota set for it by the State Department in the annual membership drive.
Post Rodgers and one other Post in the County went over the top.

A very amusing, yet interesting, incident was brought up at the meeting, again focusing the attention of the members on the fund being raised by a group of prominent citizens of the town, very quietly, it seems to pay off the mortgage on the Post Home.

One morning several days prior to the regular meeting of the Post, two citizens of the community, Clarence K. Cole, of Culberrton road, and Robert R. Galloway, Jr., of Melrose avenue, got into a heated argument over the laxity of the citizens of the town in fulfilling their pledges made when the Home was bought and presented to the Post for their use. It seems they had heard of this group of men who were endeavoring to raise sufficient funds to pay off the mortgage which the Post had to assume at the time of taking over the Home.

One of the debaters stated that if every man of the town gave but one dollar toward the fund the mortgage of $4,500.00 would be appreciably reduced. The other debater, presumably countered with the proposition that if he made such a donation, he himself would do likewise. They did, and so two dollars were added to the fund, which is in the hands of the Cunningham Bank and Trust Company, of Riverton, which also holds the mortgage.

The Bugle and Drum Corps is now practicing and drilling two nights each week preparatory to the competition at the State Convention being held at Wildwood September 4-5-6.

The present champions of the State are indeed working hard to defend this great honor. Competition this year promises to be keener than ever before, as several of the newer corps have been making great strides since the last convention, and the closest contest is expected. Last year—East Orange, Bridgeton and Trenton—arriving harder than ever to defeat
Post Rodgers this year.

STATE OFFICES HELD BY COUNTY RESIDENTS

Three From Riverton and Moorestown Among Those Receiving Appointments from Governor Larson

An announcement on Tuesday of the appointment to places on the various boards of State institutions disclosed the fact that three local residents have received recognition by the Department of Institutions and Agencies.

Former State Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, and Mrs. James B. Coale, of Riverton, are reappointed to the board of the New Lisbon Colony for Feeble-Minded Males.

Louis T. Kleider, of Moorestown, is reappointed to the New Jersey State Hospital at Trenton.

Four other South Jersey residents are among the 29 reappointed members of the various boards of managers.

COMPANY INSOLVENT

Characterizing the operations of the Associated Mortgage Company of New Jersey as an "attempt to make something out of nothing," Chancellor Edward H. Walker has made permanent an injunction prohibiting the company from doing business. He also declared the company insolvent and will appoint a receiver.

Headquarters of the company, organized in 1927 to conduct a general mortgage business, are in Burlington.
The officers are Joseph H. Chene-man, president; Earl Lindbury, vice-president, and William Taylor, treasurer, all of Burlington.

Proceedings against the company were held by the Attorney General's office on the grounds of insolventcy and under the New Jersey Securities Act. The action came about after auditors for the company found a deficit of $45,000 on the books.

August H. Huguenot

August H. 70 years old, husband of Estelle Huguenot, died at his home, 510 Linden avenue, Riverton, after a short illness.

Mr. Huguenot moved to Riverton from Newark about six years ago. He was a member of the Foresters of America. There are two children, Miss Elva Huguenot, who made her home with her parents, and H. Harold Huguenot, of Bethlehem, Pa.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at a service at his late residence, conducted by the Rev. Homer J. O. Rinker, of Delanco. Interment will be made at Westminster Cemetery, under the direction of F.
A. Snover.

Answers Last Call

CLARENCE E. WORRELL
Moorestown Township Committee member, who was claimed by death last Saturday after an illness of nearly ten months.

C. E. WORRELL DIES IN MOORESTOWN

Township Official Succumbs After Long Illness Due to Heart Infection

Township Committeeman Clarence E. Worrell died at his home, 332 Newbold avenue, Moorestown, last Saturday evening at 5:30 following an illness of nearly ten months. He was 41 years old.

The cause of his death was subacute bacterial endocarditis. This condition is due to an infection which has worked into the system. The germ grows on the heart valve and is distributed through the system. Mr. Worrell, doctor's report, would not have contracted the disease had he not suffered heart trouble earlier in life.

His death marked the close of a hard hard fight to save his life and every conceivable medical treatment was tried in an effort to bring him back to health and the great energy he enjoyed prior to his illness.

While so far as it was known, no one had ever been cured of this disease, his physicians were ever hopeful of striking upon a treatment which would assist Mr. Worrell in the brave fight he was making for life. At times he would seem greatly improved, but always there was a turn for the worse.
An unusual vaccine treatment, perfected by a widely known New York specialist, was tried with blood trans-fusions being used in connection with the treatment, but without success.

Fine Personality

Mr. Worrell's fine personality, leadership ability, abundant enthusiasm and willingness to work day and night for anything in which he was interested made him seem, in everything he attempted.

Three years ago, when urged by friends to become interested in local politics, he accomplished a most important feat by winning membership on the Township Committee in

FIRST ATTEMPT TO "CRASH" BRIDGE FAILS

Philadelphia Business Man Fined $25 and Costs for Not Stopping to Pay Toll

The first attempt to "crash" the Tacoma-Palmyra Bridge resulted in failure when B. F. James, said to be a prosperous Philadelphia business man, was taken into custody by the Palmyra police last Thursday night.

James approached the toll booth driving at a high rate of speed and continued past the collector. Bridge guards were sent after him and he was stopped before he had gone more than a few hundred feet.

Officer Charles Lutz was called and placed the man under arrest. At a hearing before Recorder Fichter the same evening he was fined $25 and costs.

James refused to give any reason for his action and left the impression that he was trying to be "smart."

SPEEDBOAT FOUND

Riverton Police Hold Unclaimed Outboard Motor Craft

Chief of Police William Guigley, of Riverton, is still in possession of the $600 speed boat which was found in the Delaware River off Riverton two weeks ago.

Although notices have been sent to all boat clubs on both sides of the river, no one has made any claim to the speedy craft. The outboard shell is fully equipped and seems to have broken from its moorings and drifted to Riverton. The theory that someone was driving the boat but fell overboard, advanced when the shell was found, has been abandoned.

NEW GAS STATION

A Sunoco service station is being built at Market and Dockside streets, Palmyra. The location is only a few hundred feet from the Tacoma-Palmyra Bridge plaza. The building permit was taken out by W. R. S. Pluck, but the station will be operated by a Philadelphia firm. It will open in two weeks.

SCOUT SWIMMERS HAVE FINE SEASON

Director John Fountain, Moorestown, Reports Boys Make Excellent Records

"A very successful swimming season has been passed during the four weeks of training at the Burlington County Boy Scout Camp, near Wrightstown, the swimming director, John Fountain, of Moorestown, recently reported.

"During the season the boys have worked hard. They started on Monday of each week, and by Friday of that week every boy taking Junior Life Saving had had eight hours' practice, and it successful, passed the Red Cross test. A passing mark is between 75 and 100. Only four boys had a mark as high as 90.

"Each boy who is a first class Scout, and who passes Junior Life Saving, is qualified for a Swimming and Life Saving Merit badge.

"There was only one boy present who was old enough to try for the Senior Life Saving Test. He passed with an excellent grade, 91. This is considered an unusually fine record.

"This year's life crew deserves high commendation for their good work. There have been no mishaps during the swimming periods throughout the training season, which is partly due to the work of the crew, but mainly to the boys themselves.

"Each boy undergoes a responsibility during the period of keeping watch over his buddy. There have been no dismissals from the lake because of failure to undergo this responsibility.

"The following is a list of boys who have passed various tests: "Beginners—James Parry, Leon Martin, Edward Atkinson, Robert Bennett, A. Bartholomew, Norman Bowlin and Sidney Neal, of Moorestown; John McKinley, of Burlington; John Cowan, of Edgewater Park; Elmer Meyer and Jordan Levin, of Beverly; Philip Trone, Eugene Meyer, Frank Claret, Stacey Moore, of Mount Holly; Jefferson Edwards and Robert Lee, of Riverton; and B. Carter, of Trenton.

"Swimmers—G. Cooper, Ralph Hunt, Lloyd Unland, Ted Hunt, Jack Knight, James Gaud, Henry Nalby, W. Erhardt, Robert Hyatt, Louis Kappenhoefer, E. Hohenstein, R. Fowler, Robert Walker and H. Reddy.

"Junior Life Saving—Roger Haines, Beverly, 90; Thomas Brooks, Haddonville, Md., 84; Stephen Bachelder, Burlington, 82; Byron Nichols, Moorestown, 79; Edwin Briggs, Delanco, 85; Ernest Sternott, Burlington, 85; Henry Nalby, Riverton, 90; William Herman, Moorestown, 88; Albert Miller, Moorestown, 87; Louis H. "Senior Life Saving—Bernard Sieger, Philadelphia, 91."

YOUTH IS VICTIM OF "UNLOADED GUN"

Game of "Cowboys and Indians" Between Two Lenois Brothers Ends in Tragedy

A gun that "wasn't loaded" cost a Lenois youth his life in what was thought to be a harmless game of "cow boys and Indians" with two younger brothers Sunday afternoon.

The victim was Walter Popowski, sixteen years old, son of Theodore Popowski, foreman for Lester Collins, Moorestown farmer, for the past ten years. The accident occurred on one of the Collins farms on Lenois road, south of Kilmorynny.

Walter, who died from hemorrhages a few minutes after a 25 calibre bullet had lodged in his chest, was shot by a brother, Joseph, nine years old.

Anthony, twelve years old, who was playing with them, witnessed the accident, but his police experience difficulty in extending an account of the tragedy from. He later told them, "I was afraid if I said anything they would hang Joseph or put him in the electric chair."

Rival factions of Christian converts staged a riot at Tulsa, Korea, in which many were injured, after a controversy over mission property.

KEIM IS NATIONAL G. O. P. SECRETARY

Selection of Edgewater Park Man Seen as Choice of President Hoover

George de Benneville Keim, of Edgewater Park, was chosen secretary of the Republican National Committee last Thursday, thus fulfilling earlier predictions. The selection of Mr. Keim was regarded in national capital political circles as a personal choice of President Hoover. Keim was endorsed by Senators Keen and Baird.

Long an ardent admirer and enthusiastic supporter of President Hoover, Mr. Keim, who has taken an active part in civic and Republican Party affairs in New Jersey, and in Pennsylvania, his native State, is in a position, Republicans leaders say, to devote his full time to the committee secretaryship. He is 45 years old and a retired banker. He succeeds as secretary another New Jersey Republican leader, Representative Franklin Fort.

Mr. Keim was born October 17, 1884, in Philadelphia. His father, George de Benneville Keim, Sr., was prominent in business and politics in Philadelphia, where he moved from Reading.

Reared in January, the new secretary was educated at the Farmington School under Professor J. D. Dyer, and graduated from the Peirce School of Business Administration, Philadelphia, in 1904. Following his graduation he engaged in the leather business and later entered the banking field. At time of his retirement, January 6, 1930, he was a director in 20 banks and corporations in New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

In 1928 Mr. Keim served as a member of the New Jersey State Finance Committee of the Hoover Campaign Committee and was credited with raising more money than any other member of the committee.

Mr. Keim's public and social service included chairmanship of a commission for marking historical places in New Jersey, Governor of the General Society of Colonial Wars; Commissioner of the Port of New York authority, delegate to the 1928 Republican National Convention, organizer and president of the Edgewater Park Township Voters League, trustee of Temple University, Philadelphia; trustee of St. Mary's Hall, Burlington; president of the Burlington-Bristol bridge, and a warden of St. Stephens' Church, Beverly.

Mr. Keim married Miss Cynthia Fleeta Powers, of Chicago, in 1916. He is a member of societies, organizations and clubs in New York, Philadelphia, Palm Beach, Detroit, Louisville, Baltimore, Washington and Richmond. He has traveled extensively and his principal hobby is golf.

Mr. Keim's mother was Elizabeth Archer Thomas, a daughter of Joseph Tuley Thomas, a partner of John Sargent and Benjamin Brewster, prominent lawyers of Philadelphia. His aunt married Leonard Myers, of the Philadelphia bar, who served as a member of the House of Representatives for twelve years. Their daughter married John Cronwell Bell, who was District Attorney of Philadelphia and later Attorney General of Pennsylvania, and is now a resident of Philadelphia.

George Keim, a grand uncle of the Republican National Committee's new secretary, served three terms in Congress while engaged in the practice of law, banking and the rolling mill and furnace business in Reading. General George de B. Keim, the secretary's great grandfather, was one of the incorporators of the Reading Railroad, and married Mary May, a descendant of the Douglas family which founded Douglassville, Pa.

Another ancestor, Daniel Keim, commanded the Reading Union Volunteers which defeated General Henry Lee in quelling the whiskey insurrection in Western Pennsylvania and a major general in the war between the States.

Through marriage, Mr. Keim is related to the Randolph and Bolling families of Virginia. He is of German and Russian extraction. Henry Lee, an Anglican ancestor, Dr. George de Benneville, was made a character in Dr. A. Weir Mitchell's book, "Misch Wymne."

An English novelist proposes a school for lovers. The style of most modern one would be cramped with a professor hanging around.

MAN LOSES AN ARM WHEN HIT BY TRAIN

Sand Digger Narrowly Escaped Death in Mysterious Accident Near Mount Holly

Run over by a train under mysterious circumstances Wednesday night of last week, Walter Davis, 25, who lives on a small farm on the "back road" between Mount Holly and Smithville, was taken to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, in a serious condition. His right arm was amputated and ten stitches were required in closing a gash in his head.

Davis was struck shortly before 10 p. m. by a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train. Its engineer, Harry P. Cline, of 116 Hickey avenue, West Collingswood, declared he was getting his train up to a fast clip between Mount Holly and Smithville when he looked out of his cab and saw a man lying beside the tracks with his right arm thrown over one rail.

Warning whistles shrieked and jammed brakes screeched, but failed to stop the train in time to avoid the tragedy.

By the time the freight had been brought to a halt, its crew ran back to find Davis crumpled up beside the rails, his right arm terribly mangled, his right ear nearly torn off and a deep gash in his head.

Davis, a sand-digger, is employed in the pits of John Oehl. He had returned home from work shortly after 8 p. m. and at 8 p. m. started out for a visit on Hickey street, Mount Holly. He was on his way home presumably when he stumbled or fell unconscious along the rails.

PEACH DISEASES SWEEP NEW JERSEY ORCHARDS

New Jersey's extensive peach-growing industry is threatened by two incurable diseases known as "yellow" and "little peach," which now are spreading through orchards at an increasing rate of speed. Prof. A. J. Farley, extension horticulturist for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, reports heavy losses already have been suffered in some sections of the State, he asserted, and additional losses are inevitable unless the spread of the two diseases is checked. The only known way to accomplish this is to cut out and burn all trees infected or suspected of harboring either of the infections, he states.

$30,000 FIRE DAMAGES BURLINGTON STORES

Blaze Ruins One Store; Stock of Three More Injured By Smoke

Fire of mysterious origin damaged the Quality Shoe Store, 318 High street, Burlington, Sunday, and ruined the stock of three adjoining stores, causing a loss of $30,000.

The blaze is believed to have started in the basement of the shoe store, which is owned by William Berkowski. Smoke billowed through the neighboring stores, damaging goods.

Harry Bitt, son of Jacob Rosenfeld, merchant at 310 High street, discovered the fire when smoke penetrated to his father's department store. He went in the alarm which called out all six Burlington fire companies.

The dry goods store of Louis Rosenfeld, between Bitt's and the shoe shop, suffered heavily from smoke and water damage. It was reported that $800 in cash in Rosenfeld's safe had been destroyed, but this report was doubted by friends.

Moore's furniture and housefurnishings store, 314 High street, was also damaged by smoke and water.

When the fire was at its height a heavy pall of smoke over High street forced firemen to don gas masks. The fire was brought under control when firemen mounted neighboring roofs and turned the hoses directly on the top of the threatened buildings. It was reported that Berkowski's entire stock was ruined.

Fire Chief Michael Waterborn investigated, but was unable to determine the cause. He closed his investigation with a statement that total damage would amount to approximately $30,000.

"If you spend so much time at golf you won't have anything laid aside for a rainy day."

"Won't it? My desk is loaded up with work that I've put aside for a rainy day."

PALMYRA BANK TEN YEARS OLD

Will Celebrate Tenth Anniversary of Founding Next Saturday

The Palmyra National Bank will celebrate its tenth anniversary of service to the community next Saturday.

The bank first opened its doors on August sixteenth, 1920, in the building at Broad street and Garfield avenue, now occupied by the Stacey and Kelley Radio Shop. One year later it moved into the handsome new structure at the corner of Broad street and Morgan avenue, where it is still located.

This strong financial institution has experienced a steady and continued growth since its inception. Now, after ten years of service, it shows deposits of $755,000. The total assets are $850,000, nearly a million dollars. Of the eleven men who founded the bank and composed its first directorate, only five are now actively connected with its management. Those who have been directors during the ten years are John C. Hoepfner, A. Harry Rudnick, Albert N. Wimer, Herbert B. Trout and George M. Wimer.

Two of the founders have since died. They were Thomas W. Bealeman and Fred A. Truchess. Another, John Armistage, is now making his home in Hollywood, California.

The present officers are Albert N. Stewart, president; Herbert B. Trout, first vice-president; J. Horace Finney, second vice-president; William A. McCamy, cashier.

Other directors are George M. Beckey, Frank L. Durgin, George W. Shauer, Harry B. Williams and H. Lester Steele.

"MY PRAISES FOR FAMOUS KONJOLA WILL NEVER END"

Former Sufferer Finds Amazing Relief From Ailments in New and Different Medicine

MR. HENRY FULTON

"A severe attack of grippe left me in a very bad condition," said Mr. Henry Fulton, 13 Columbia avenue, Binghamton, N. Y. "I lost weight and my entire system was rundown. My liver and bowels were sluggish. I had no energy or vitality and had to force myself to remain at work. Every afternoon I got spinning headaches. I was unable to do anything but my eyes. To say that I was discouraged and disheartened would be putting it mildly."

"A friend suggested that I try Konjola and so I began the treatment. While on the second bottle I began to feel better. Within four bottles of Konjola completely ended my health troubles. I have gained in weight, strength and vitality, and now enjoy my work. My bowels and liver are functioning normally and headaches are things of the past. My sister-in-law is using Konjola for rheumatism and she says she is getting wonderful results. My praise for Konjola will never end."

SOURCE OF INCOME CUT FROM BEVERLY POLICE

Beverly policemen will no longer get extra for arrests made within the city limits. That was the decision of City Council last week. Police Judge John Thompson was instructed by Councilmen to discontinue assessing costs on local arrests. Councilmen said they had received complaints from persons who argue the policemen are paid a salary and should not receive extra income from court costs.

FLOAT FIRST; SAYS RED CROSS EXPERT

Beginners Should Swim in Shallow Water, Declares Water Safety Authority

The following is the third of a series of articles by Victor H. Hartshorn, Red Cross Water Safety Man, on "Play Safe in the Water."

In a previous article it was explained how breathing properly in swimming should be "in through the mouth and out through the nose." Also floating was explained.

Having mastered these two principles, a beginner is ready to develop propulsion through the water. Realizing that the water holds you up, you float in the water, not on top—wade out to a depth of your waist, turn, face down, take a deep breath and with both hands forward, chin on chest, slide forward face down toward shore, letting your feet drag behind. Lift your head, breathe out and stand up. By repeating and pushing off more with the feet you should coast about 20 feet. Always go toward shore.

The next step is to put your arms to work to pull you along. Stand in the water up to your arm pits. Put one hand forward in the water, pull downward toward the bottom, and back to your hip, then pull out and forward for another stroke.

Practice while standing until you can get a good, full stroke with each hand alternately. Get a good swimmer, such as one who has passed the Senior Red Cross Life Saving Test, to show you the finer points of the arm stroke.

Breathing Important
Next follow one hand with your eyes. When facing the hand that is back, take in air through the mouth. As it goes forward turn the face forward and exhale slowly into the water. Come up with the mouth open for another breath. Walk on bottom, pull yourself along with your hands and get your breathing with your arm stroke.

Now you are ready to start swimming. First float on your face, as above, then slowly start your arms in a windmill fashion and breathe as above. To keep your body horizontal in the water, thrust your feet up and down, toes pointed and knees straight.

Above all—relax—let the water hold you up and pull yourself forward with the arms, feet assisting. This has been for the beginners. Next week will be suggestions for the swimmers, to assist those who have not followed sensible precautions and gotten beyond the range of their ability.

Swim in five feet of water—bottom is nearer than at fifty feet when you are tired and want to rest.

LET THE RED CROSS TEACH YOU.

"Everyone a Swimmer and every Swimmer a Life Saver."

Places for Tests
The Burlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross announces that all candidates for Junior and Senior Life Saving tests, who are desirous of completing their tests by the end of the campaign, August 23rd, will find Examiners to assist them at the following places:

New London, Mrs. Sara D. Macomber; Blythe Lakes, Burlington, Robert Featherheller; Mill Dam, Mount Holly, William Mellon; Sand Hole, Bridgeboro, Clarence Winklespecht; Water Works Pool, Moorestown, David Paxton; Riverton Memorial Park, Miss Maxine Melander.

Victor H. Hartshorn will be at Brown's Mills, Monday evening; Bordentown Canal, Tuesday afternoon; Lakewood Boat Club, Burlington, Wednesday afternoon; Cedar Lakes, Thursday evening and Friday afternoon; Medford Lakes, Saturday afternoon.

Cole — Gleason

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Anna Gleason, of West Camden, to John Cole, of Linden Avenue, Colton, on Saturday evening, August 9, at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was quietly performed by the Rev. Gordon Blair, pastor of the Bridgeboro Methodist Episcopal Church, at the parsonage.

The bride was dressed in dark blue crepe de chine, and carried a shower bouquet. Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Martha Wondertland, with whom she made her home, who wore a dress of flowered georgette.

Frank Painter, of Paulsboro, acted as best man.

Only members of the bridal party were present at the wedding ceremony and at the wedding supper following at Tulon's Restaurant, on West Main street.

The newly married spent the weekend in Atlantic City. They are now living in Camden.

Taylor — Jones

The marriage of Marion E. Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. Henry Jones, of 140 East Main street, Moorestown, and Roger H. Taylor, of Merchantville, was quietly solemnized at the Trinity Episcopal Church, Thursday last week, at noon. The Rev. Edgar L. Sanford, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in a charming dark blue gown, with hat to match. She wore a corsage of lilacs of the valley. Her only attendant was Miss Virginia Campbell, of Ridley Park, Pa., who wore tan chiffon with picture veil to match.

Miss Jones was given away by her father.

She is a graduate of the school of Industrial Arts in Philadelphia. Mr. Taylor graduated from the University of Pennsylvania. He is now a pilot at the Central Airport, Camden.

Late in the afternoon, following the ceremony, the young couple left by airplane for the Pocono Mountains, where they will spend this month. After their return they will live in Merchantville.

Only members of the immediate families were present at the wedding.

State to Construct Its Widest Highway

One of the widest sections of roads in the Eastern States will be built, it is announced by the State Highway Commission, for one of the approach routes to the new Fort Lee-New York bridge across the Hudson River. It is planned to construct a roadway 350 feet wide for a distance of 200 feet to join with the bridge plans to be built by the port of New York authority. Provision will be made, it was explained, for 35 lanes of traffic. Estimates by the department engineers place the cost of building a stretch of nine-tenths of a mile leading to the bridge at more than $1,000,000.

NEW GAS STATION NOW IN OPERATION

Shell Service Formally Opened by Mayors of Palmyra and Riverton

A new Shell gasoline station was officially opened at Broad street and Maple avenue last Saturday morning by Mayor George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, drawing the first five gallons of gas for Acting Mayor Joshua S. Bartley, of Riverton.

The station since reports a good run of business and looks forward to a successful season. Shell gasoline, while a newcomer in this vicinity, is already enjoying a fine patronage according to Calvin E. Stow, a partner in the new enterprise. Mr. Stow says many of his customers report amazing results from using the Shell product and are enthusiastic boosters.

Walter B. Dickerson, the other partner, has operated a Shell station at Burlington place and Hudsonfield road for several months. He has a strong connection with the company and controls the territory from Camden City Line to Riverside.

Free crank case service will be a special feature of the new station. Hydraulic racks for high speed chassis lubrication are being installed and will be ready for use in a few days.

Tickets are being offered with each purchase which gives the customer a chance on a handsome new Plymouth sedan, which will be given away at Chemunton Park September 18.

N J S P LOOK FOR HIT-RUN DRIVER
Fifteen Year Old Lad Injured Saturday Night Trooper Konietzko Resigns

Jefferson Edwards, 15, of Cincinnati, was the victim of a hit-and-run driver Saturday evening as he was riding a bicycle along the Burlington pike after dark.

The lad was struck by a Model T Ford and thrown onto the bumper with his wheel. The driver did not stop to help the boy off the bumper, but kept on going until Edwards was shaken off onto the road.

Trooper Drosdick, of the Delaware Barracks of the State Police, was called to investigate the accident. He took Edwards to the Riverside Hospital, where he was treated for lacerations of the scalp, abrasions of the hip and leg. He was held at the hospital until Sunday afternoon, when he was returned to his home.

It is thought that the car was owned and driven by someone in Riverton or surrounding country.

The former Trooper William Konietzko, recently transferred from Freehold headquarters to the Delaware Barracks, resigned from the department last Saturday to accept a position as Chief of Police in Princeton Township.

Samuel Hantz, of Moorestown, a farmer, made a complaint to the State Police that some young men were riding past his house throwing apples through the windows. He obtained the license number and Troopers Rohner and Turnbull arrested the boys early Sunday morning. They were arraigned before Justice Middleton, of Moorestown, who fined each of the four offenders $3 and $5.00 costs.

The boys were Daniel Sharp, Alexander Matchett, Leo Goodwin and Edward Hutchins, all of Moorestown. They also paid for the damage done by breaking windows with the apples.

John Zinchuck, of Philadelphia, was fined $301 by Justice Kingdon Monday morning for operating a car while intoxicated.

Troopers Turnbull, Rohner and Drosdick were called to investigate an accident on the Burlington pike, near Fairview, Sunday evening, and found that Zinchuck had crashed into two other cars.

James Spangler, Riverside, and William Conroy, Burlington, were driving their cars towards Burlington on the pike when Zinchuck backed the car he was driving out onto the highway and caused a three-car crash.

Zinchuck was examined by Dr. Walter Zwick, of Riverside, who pronounced him drunk and unfit to drive a car.

Mrs. Conroy and Cecelia Horn, both of Burlington, were treated by Dr. Dean Le Favor, of Palmyra, for shock and lacerations.

Trooper Drosdick arrested Raymond Oelski, Philadelphia, and Ernest Hubbard, Riverton, for disorderly conduct. They were arraigned before Justice Oodington and given suspended sentences and charged $5 court costs.

Keeping the Senate over for a special session will not go so hard with the solons so long as Walter Johnson's Washington team keeps up its winning streak.

TRENTON FAIR OPENS SEPT. 1

This Year's Schedule of Events to Surpass All Previous Engagements

Labor Day marks the opening of the forty-third Trenton Fair.

This year, the fair dates have been changed, moving one month ahead in an effort to insure fair weather for both exhibitor and spectator. Many new features, one of them costing the equivalent of a city fortune, will be offered the public, while many other interesting forms of entertainment have been arranged for and the outlook foretells the greatest of all Trenton Fairs.

The management of the fair has made every effort to add to the enjoyment and comfort of this year's patrons. All motor cars will be admitted free. There will be no charge for parking space, of which there is ample, and the price of admission still remains at fifty cents on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, Governor's Day, Thursday, the price of admission will be one dollar and on automobile race day, Saturday, when the greatest and most daring race drivers of the nation will compete in a program of speed events, the price of admission will be one dollar.

Daily Horse Races
From Monday until Thursday, inclusive, there will be trotting and pacing races. Daily demonstrations of farm machinery will be another feature and, in short, there will not be a dull minute at the Trenton Fair during the six days of the great event.

This year, judging from the thousands of requests for information that have been received, the poultry and live stock exhibits will be more numerous than ever before.

For the convenience of those who wish to place their entries early, a special entry office will be opened Monday, August eleventh, in Room 1301, Trenton Trust Building. Miss Elizabeth Reinhardt will be in charge of this office and all letters requesting information regarding entries should be addressed to her.

Entries in the poultry division should be made to Mr. Harry W. Stirling at Langhorne, Pa. Entries for the following exhibits should be made through the Trenton Fair Entry Office in the Trenton Trust Building: art work and fancy work, Agriculture and Horticulture, grange exhibits, home and dairy products.

Down Town Office
The down town office will receive entries in the above classes until 5 p. m. Wednesday, August 27th. Domestic arts entries can be made from August 28th, until August 30th, at the Domestic Arts Building at the fair grounds.

Live stock entries must be received by August 10th. There will be no post, or last minute entries.

Children's Day this year will be Tuesday, September 2nd. So far, upwards of eighty-five thousand tickets have been distributed free to children in the vicinity of the Trenton Fair, while many thousands more will be distributed during the coming week.

Although the Trenton Fair has always been one of the greatest events in the east, this year's fair promises to surpass them, all due to the many new and special features which have been added, and about which a detailed story will appear in this publication at a later date.

Six-year-old Archie Miglie walked in his sleep for more than half a mile on Brooklyn, N. Y., streets after 1 a. m. dressed in his night clothes.

New Small Scale Golf Course to Use Surfaces Much Like Seasoned Turf

A. B. Cramer's Little Giant Links to Open Saturday Will Have Special Densten Hair Felt Fairways and Many Novel Features

An entirely new feature in small-scale golf course construction will be introduced when A. B. Cramer opens his Little Giant miniature links Saturday.

The fairways will be covered with a green felt-like material which approximates the exact conditions encountered on the wellkept putting greens of the larger courses.

The new material is a patented substance known as Densten Hair Felt, and will be used on the entire course in place of the composition in general use.

It is said to have a great advantage in that it does not get rough and does not require constant care. It is claimed by the manufacturer that it offers almost the exact frictional resistance of turf.

The course is being constructed by the firm which built the sample "Andrian Course" at Sixty-ninth and Market streets, Philadelphia, and will have almost the same layout. Many new and novel features are being incorporated which have not been seen in this locality before.

The lot is one of the largest being used for the purpose, being 135x140 feet. The space between the fairways will be filled in with slag. The lighting system will be one of the most complete yet installed for the purpose, consisting of ten 1,000-watt bulbs in addition to several smaller ones. Higher power bulbs will be used if it is found they can be used to advantage.

A drinking fountain and wash basin will be a part of the equipment. A free checking service for coats and bundles will be an added feature.

In France taxes are imposed on bachelors, old maids and childless married couples.

2 ARE DROWNED IN COUNTY STREAMS

Girl Loses Life at Burlington and Boy, 9, Dies in Rancocas

Eleanor Davis, 15, of Wilmington, Del., was drowned while bathing in Assisunk creek, Burlington, last Friday afternoon.

She had been visiting the family of William Y. Rosser and with members of the family and about 100 others was enjoying the cool water off the foot of Jones street. Suddenly she threw up her hands and sank without an outcry.

Other bathers dived for her but it was not until 4 p. m., two hours later, that her body was recovered by Leonard A. Morgan, coroner.

William P. Young issued the death certificate.

Albert Gibbons, 9, of Burlington pike and Creek road, Bridgeboro, lost his life in the Rancocas creek. Albert, his brother, Thomas, 12, and several other boys went to the wharf at Portnum's Landing. A few hours later Thomas left his brother and went home. Returning later to see why his brother had not come home, Thomas found Albert's clothes on the wharf.

A search for the body was instituted and Chauncey Smith, 12, a Boy Scout, stumbled over the body near the wharf. It is believed the lad, who could not swim, had been wading and had slipped into deep water from a submerged log. The boy is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Gibbons, his brother and a sister.

As this article is being written and by the time you read it the endurance record has been broken by "Red" Jackson and Forrest O'Brien, and they are still grinding away on the new record, we believe the new record will be in excess of 750 hours.

Al Linton and Bill Gelsenheimer, of Merchantville, members of the Burlington County Aero Club, are getting in a lot of solo flying these days at the Moorestown Airport.

DRUNKEN DRIVERS

In a circular letter sent to law enforcement and judicial officers through the State, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Harold G. Hoffman, sets out the legal definition of a drunken driver, and calls attention to the fact that all judges are without authority to impose a suspended sentence or to accept fines in instalments in cases of this nature. The statement follows:

"In order to eliminate confusion in the minds of law enforcement and judicial officers, herewith is the definition laid down by the Courts of Errors and Appeals of a person presumably a drunken driver.

"State vs. Rogers, 91 N. J. L. 212, states: 'It is not essential to the existence of the statutory offense that the driver of the automobile should be so intoxicated that he cannot SAFELY drive a car. The expression—under the influence of intoxicating liquor—covers not only all the well-known and easily recognized conditions and degrees of intoxication, but any abnormal mental or physical condition which is the result of indulging in any degree in intoxicating liquors and which tends to deprive him of that clearness of intellect and control of himself which he would otherwise possess. One driving an automobile on a public street while under the influence of intoxicating liquor offends against the Act even though he drives so slowly and so skillfully and carefully that the public is not annoyed or endangered.

"It is to be noted then that a person charged with operating a motor car while under the influence of intoxicating liquor need not be in such a physical condition as to be helplessly drunk. The test is whether he varies in any degree from normal mental or physical state and if he does and the same is the result of the consumption of any liquid which causes intoxication, he is guilty of the offense.

"While the most expert method of ascertaining the condition of the accused is by a doctor's examination and should be followed whenever possible, such examination is not always essential in order that the defendant be found guilty. The law permits the testimony of any person to prove the physical or mental condition of the accused.

"A practice which has developed and which is abhorrent to the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles and is in conflict with the laws of evidence of this State is the allowance by judicial officers of the introduction of a medical certificate as evidence of the intoxication of the accused. Under no circumstances should a judge trying a person charged with the violation of Subdivision 3 of Section 14 of the Motor Vehicle Act, permit the introduction of such certificate. The accused has the right of seeing and cross-examining the witnesses against him and no exception is made in the case of a doctor who has examined a person for intoxication. The doctor should appear in open court and testify.

"When a conviction is had for violation of Subdivision 3 of Section 14 of the Motor Vehicle Act, the penalty as laid down by the statute is as follows: 'Any person who shall violate this provision, shall upon conviction thereof for a first offense, be subject to a fine of not less than $200.00 or more than $500.00, or to imprisonment for a term of not less than thirty days and not more than three months, or both, in the discretion of the Magistrate and shall forthwith forfeit his right to operate a motor vehicle over the highways of this State for a period of two years from the date of his or her said conviction. Any person who shall violate this provision having been convicted of a previous violation hereof shall be imprisoned for a term of three months, and shall forfeit his right to thereafter operate a motor vehicle over the highways of this State.'

"The Commissioner of Motor Vehicles has been given an opinion by the Attorney General that the punishment hereinabove set forth is ABSOLUTELY MANDATORY and that a judge does not have the right to suspend the imposition of sentence or accept the payment of any fine imposed in instalments. Where a fine is imposed and the accused is unable to pay the same, it is obligatory upon the judge to commit the defendant to the county jail or county workhouse. Any judge heretofore suspending sentence or allowing the defendant to pay a fine in instalments, shall immediately cease such practice as the same is in direct conflict with the law's mandate."

This letter should clear up any doubt as to the various points of the Act that may have existed in the minds of New Jersey magistrates. While the law has not formerly been interpreted to require the physician's presence at the hearing, the edict of Commissioner Hoffman is a wise one and should be attended to.

CIGARETTES

The prejudice against cigarettes seems to have practically disappeared. The report of the Bureau of Internal Revenue for the year which ended on June 30th last, shows the largest consumption of cigarettes in history, nearly one hundred and twenty billions of them having been sold during the year. That is an average of 1,000 cigarettes a year for every man, woman and child in the United States!

The idea that cigarette smoking is more injurious to health than the use of tobacco in other forms is still held in some quarters, but medical men generally do not take it very seriously.

Cigarette smoking by women is now commonplace, though until the war there was only one restaurant in New York that permitted women to smoke within its walls.

POLITICS

After all the sound and fury over the ratification of the Naval Reduction Treaty, just nine Senators voted against it.

By the noise they made, and the amount of space which the newspapers gave to the opponents of the treaty, most people were expecting, if not defeat of the treaty, at least a very close vote. In Washington everybody knew better. There never was any real doubt that the treaty would be ratified. All the uproar was merely personal and partisan politics.

The trouble with two-thirds of the so-called "news" that comes out of Washington is that it is misleading. It gives the impression that little men are big men, that their words are intended to be taken seriously.

HOMES

Home building is on the increase, according to the Home Owners' Institute of America. Regions where there has been no shortage of housing facilities are now beginning to feel a demand for new homes.

This is a particularly favorable time in which to build a house, the Institute states. Building materials are lower than at any time since

NO ANSWER

The traffic light flashed red, and a big car stopped short. The car behind it brushed the front car's fender. Nothing of any importance. Just a bump.

Instantly, the driver of the first car was on the pavement. No one could bump him with impunity. He'd show the world.

I stopped to watch the performance, and the action of the other driver gave me a smile. Mild and innocent, he sat. He did not turn his head. He never said a word.

When the traffic light flashed green he stepped on the gas and moved away. His angry accuser had to climb back into his driver's seat, and before he could get going angry horns were blowing all around him.

He had had the satisfaction of his outburst, but the silent man won.

Years ago I received a very bitter letter. The writer was wrong in his facts and unjustified in his tone.

I carried the letter around in my pocket. Several times I started to dictate a hot reply. Then I would think of something milder and decide to wait and try again.

On the third morning I had an inspiration. "The most paralyzing answer I can send to this man is no answer at all," I said to myself. "What is he doing all this time? Looking eagerly in every mail to find my letter. Planning out in his mind the things he will say in reply."

Mentally lashing me to the man. "And I am going to disappoint him. I'm going to leave him there, all bottled up, stewing in his own juice."

Peace came over me. I never thought of the man again.

It's not an original idea. John D. Rockefeller, in his younger days, was working away at his desk one afternoon when a man rushed into the office and began to denounce him in violent terms.

Mr. Rockefeller leaned back and listened as if to a story of fascinating interest. He did not utter a word.

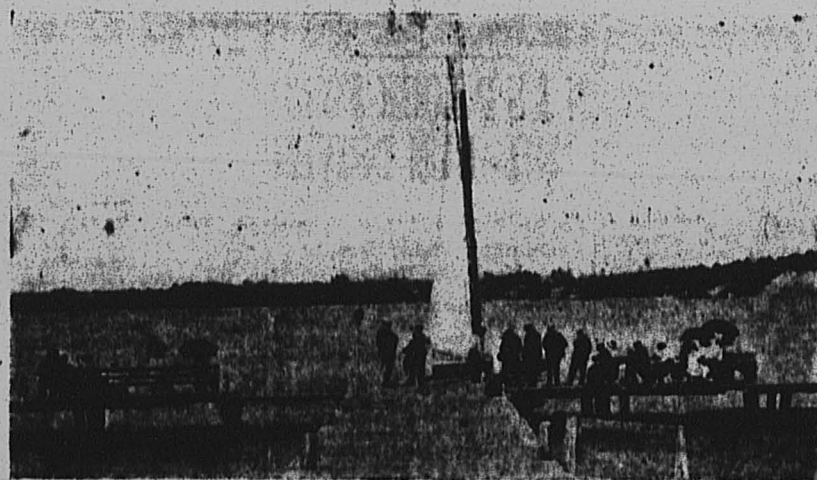

Presently the man exhausted himself, and walked out, looking rather foolish. Mr. Rockefeller quietly picked up his pen and went on with his work.

There is a very wise old verse which reads: "The meek shall inherit the earth."

Is it true? Look around you. The meek do not make a spectacular showing. They lost many opportunities to announce their rights, and defend their honor, and show what tough fellows they are.

But they certainly do inherit.

Following a peculiar hobby, A. E. Heubner, of Dorchester, Mass., has in 33 years collected more than 300 bricks, each from some historic building raised to make room for a modern structure.

IN THE RADIO STUDIOS

With Albert Zugmuth, Jr.

Guy Lombardo, the orchestra leader, was playing golf the other afternoon, when his opponent pointed to one of the players behind him.

"See that fellow," said Lombardo's companion. "He's worth five million dollars, and would you believe it, he can't even write his own name."

Just then the player referred to, smacked his ball a wallop and shouted, "Pure."

"Well," said Guy, "anyway he can count."

The roar of the surf will be brought direct to the ears of the radio listeners when WFO, Atlantic City, completes the installation of a "make" suspended over the waves, underneath the Million Dollar Pier. Ted Weems, Guy Lombardo, Sleepy Hall, Charlie Donberger, Milt Shaw, and other famous orchestras will be heard from Atlantic City's ocean piers through WFO (which, incidentally, stands for World's Play Ground) and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Ray Perkins, the "Old Topper" of the National Broadcasting Company, is using railroad tricks in the studios. Recently he gave the production man on his program three flags, green, red and yellow. If the program is running on schedule the yellow flag is displayed; the green flag means "speed up" and the red flag means "slow down, you're running ahead of schedule." Clever boy, Ray.

Fred Hufamith, NBC tenor, is slight of build and very youthful in appearance — embarrassingly youthful it seems. For Freddie was with his accompanist in the lobby of the Hotel Commodore in New York recently, waiting to sing at a fashionable afternoon concert in the grand ballroom, when an important-looking society woman, hearing all the carping of a committee chairman, dashed up to him and said, "Ray, page Frederic Hufamith for me."

TWO LOVERS

By GEORGE ELIOT

Two lovers by a moss-grown spring:
They leaped soft cheeks together there,
Mingled the dark and sunny hair,
And heard the wooing thrushes sing.
O budding time!
O love's best prime!

Two wedded from the portal slept:
The bells made happy carollings,
The air was soft as fanning wings,
White petals on the pathway slept.
O pure-eyed bride!
O tender pride!

Two faces o'er a cradle bent:
Two hands above the head were locked;
These pressed each other while they rocked,
Those watched a life that love had sent.
O solemn hour!
O hidden power!

Two parents by the evening fire:
The red light fell about their knees
On heads that rose by slow degrees
Like buds upon the lily spire.
O patient life!
O tender strife!

The two still sat together there,
The red light shone about their knees;
But all the heads by slow degrees
Had gone and left that lonely pair.
O vanished past!

The red light shone upon the floor
And made the space between them wide;
They drew their chairs up side by side,
Their pale cheeks joined, and said,
"Once more!"
O memories!
O past that is!

X-ray pictures may now be sent over long distances by telephone, enabling specialists to diagnose and assist in the treatment of injuries and ailments at long range immediately.

PARRY PLAYS 3 IN WEEK; LOSES 2

Defeats Robbins A. A., But Loses to Riverside and Dauphin Pros.

During the past week Parry won one game out of three games played. Tuesday the team traveled to Tacoma, where it took over the Robbins A. A. outfit.

Ernie Schuck turned in a great pitching performance in winning his fourth game of the season. He held the Robbins to seven hits and four runs and set down nine men on strikes.

Howard Schuck led both teams at bat, getting a double and two singles. Schoemaker and Growthers each hit home runs.

Thursday, in a twilight game at Palmyra, Parry was shut out by the Riverside outfit by a score of 4 to 0. Schultz was on the mound for Parry and pitched a great game until the sixth inning, when Riverside scored two runs, which proved to be enough to win the game. Local fielding behind Schultz led to the scoring of two more runs, one in the seventh and one in the eighth.

Nelson pitched a great game for Riverside, only allowing Parry two hits. Windish and Schroeder collected one each, while Bennett, Bright and Horn collected a pair each for Riverside.

Sunday Parry lost another to the Dauphin Pros., of Philadelphia, by the score of 11 to 8. Schultz was the starting twirler for the losers, pitching fine ball by striking out seven men. Poor support in the field caused the defeat. Reynolds relieved Schultz in the seventh inning. The score was 8 to 0 until the eighth, when Dauphin collected four runs and sewed up the game.

Menkevitch and Broderick collected three bingles each, while Schroeder, King and Reagle managed to get two each. Schroeder socked the longest hit of the game in the first inning, smashing a terrific triple over the center fielder's head. Broderick and Reynolds also collected a triple each. Gangolpy showed great form for the winners by whiffing nine.

Tonight Parry will meet Riverton A. A. at the Riverton Memorial Park.

RIVERTON WINS TUESDAY GAME

Bartley and Sloan Home Run Hitters for Home Team in 10-7 Victory

Tuesday evening's game between the Riverton A. A. and Moorestown's Burlington County League representatives resulted in a slugging victory for Riverton by a 10-7 score.

The first two innings neither team could locate men in scoring position, but the third brought a trio of runs to the Riverton side of the score book.

Bob Bartley, first man up, started the fireworks by tagging one of Bartello's pitches on the nose for a circuit drive. Horan and Richman were infield outs. Terrell resumed activities with a single, as did Reeves, Sloan and Easley, whose hits scored two more runs.

In Moorestown's fifth Nick Bartello slammed a circuit drive for the visitors to score their first run.

The sixth frame saw Moorestown pile up five runs to take a 6-3 lead. Hits by E. Bolton, Brodie, Kennell and Nick Bartello with a tainted single added produced the quintette of runs.

Riverton came back with a vengeance in their half and banged their way to a seven-run rally. Easley opened with a single, but was forced at second with Foulke safe on a fielder's choice. Bartley and Bartley walked, Horan singled, and Wickham, who relieved Richman in the sixth, slammed a double.

Reeves singled and Sloan traveled the circuit on a long drive.

Home Run By Eckert

The Bronchos, however, were not to be outdone for long, for they came back in their half of the second and garnered two runs after two were out. A base on balls followed by a single and another Annie Oakley and two errors produced the two markers for the visitors.

Three runs were scored by the league in their third inning. Arenz led off with a walk, Cook slammed a two-bagger, Arenz scored, and Nelson's sacrifice fly, Grant Eckert, big first baseman for the Medford team, then connected for a home run, scoring Cook ahead of him.

The colored ball tossers came within one run of tying the score in their portion of the third when they scored a duo of runs on a base on balls to Johnson and a homer by Gillespie.

Score Two More

In the fifth frame the County Leaguers put the game on ice by scoring another brace of runs on Eckert's two-bagger, Brian's single and a timely double by Benny Edge.

Moore, the second pitcher used by the Bronchos, opened their half of the sixth with a clean single and scored their last run on a two-bagger by Green.

Although Damm issued seven bases on balls he fanned six of the dusky willow toters.

The first Bronco pitcher, Joyne, gave one free ticket to first and did not fan any batters in his four and one-third innings of toil. Moore, who followed him, fanned one.

MOORESTOWN LOSES TO R. D. WOOD 9-3

Burlie Leaders Hand Local Leads Big Setback in Home Game

On Saturday R. D. Wood chalked up its eighth win in nine starts and continued to hold its lead in the Burlington County Baseball League by handing Moorestown a 9 to 3 setback on the Moorestown field.

Morris Lippincott, ace of the R. D. Wood peck staff, limited the Quakers to six scattered bingles and was scored on in only two innings, the fourth and fifth.

Tom Tracy went the distance for Moorestown tribe and was reached for 17 hefty socks, five of which went for extra bases.

Gilbert, Frankfield and Frappell led the attack for the league leaders, each with three hits. Frankfield, who led the league in hitting during the first half, had a single, double and triple.

Nick Bartello was the only member of the losing team to garner more than one hit. He collected a pair of singles.

ALL-STARS DEFEAT SANTOP BRONCHOS

Picked Burlington County Team Takes Flashy Colored Aggregation Into Camp

Last Friday evening Jimmy McConnell's team of Burlington County All-Stars defeated the famous Santop's Bronchos by a score of 7-5, in an exciting game, on the Memorial Park field, Riverton.

Valley, Dina, star pitcher and outfielder for the Deanco team in the County League, did the twirling for the All-Stars and pitched a good game against the heavy-hitting colored lads.

In the first inning Billy Arenz, of Burlington, clouted a home run, which was followed by a hard hit three-bagger by Cook, also of Burlington. Cook scored on an infield out to give Jimmy's team a lead of two runs.

The Bronchos, however, were not to be outdone for long, for they came back in their half of the second and garnered two runs after two were out. A base on balls followed by a single and another Annie Oakley and two errors produced the two markers for the visitors.

VERY LATESTS

By MARY MARSHALL

Sleeveless sweaters not unlike those that Sister Susan and others knit for soldiers during the war are reappearing in the wardrobes of well dressed women. They are a smart and useful addition to the sportswoman's wardrobe.

The sweater shown in the sketch is of French design and may be copied for an adult or child in any pleasing two-tone combination. Brown and beige, black and green, white and black, yellow and black, orange and brown are all smart sports combinations.

The experienced knitter will need little more than suggestions to see how the pattern is worked out. First there is a band of the lighter material—or the darker—done in ribbing, the familiar knit one, puri, one of war time knitting. Then the contrasting color is introduced. To start one of the pyramid designs one knits seven stitches of the dark and then one of the light, seven of the dark and one of light all the way round. The worsted of the alternate tone is not broken but simply carried along on the wrong side. There are two rows of the seven-one count, then two of five-three, two of three-five and two of one-seven.

The neck and armholes are finished with a band of the light worsted and this is most conveniently done by means of crochet.

TRIALS PROVE STOCK

New Jersey's three egg-laying contests, located at Vineland, Little Falls and Flemington, offer poultrymen "proving grounds" for their breeding stock. Certain individual fowls, including some which are high producers of large-sized eggs, do not pass these and other desirable traits along to their offspring, hence there is a need for a progeny test as the only sure means of ascertaining a bird's breeding value. An egg-laying contest is an excellent medium for conducting such a progeny test, because the records of birds entered will reveal whether or not the desirable traits of the parents were passed along to their daughters.

GOOSEBERRY JELLY

For some reason a legendary charm surrounds the gooseberry. It must be because, in English literature, gooseberries are so often served—gooseberry fool and gooseberry jam are regularly served at the feasts chronicled in the novels of English writers.

Here are some recipes for preparing gooseberries. In many old New England families there are hereditary recipes for gooseberry cookery. Perhaps you have some good ones of your own. Anyway, these will be found worth adding to any list.

GOOSEBERRY JAM

To every eight pounds of ripe gooseberries, allow one quart of red-currant juice, five pounds of sugar. Have the fruit gathered in dry weather, and cut off the tops and tails. Prepare one quart of red-currant juice, the same as for red-currant jelly; put it into a preserving pan with the sugar, and keep stirring until the latter is dissolved. Keep boiling for about five minutes; skim well; then put in the gooseberries, and let them boil from one-half to three-quarters of an hour; then turn the whole into an earthen crook and let it remain for two days. Boil the jam up again until it looks clear; put it into jars and when cold cover with paraffin and over the jars put tissue paper, brushed over on both sides with the white of an egg, and store away in a dry place. Care must be taken in making this to keep the jam well stirred and well skimmed, to prevent it burning at the bottom of the pan and to have it very clear.

GOOSEBERRY TRIFLE

Cook a quart of gooseberries to a pulp in water to cover, sweetening to taste. Put the fruit into a serving dish, cool, cover with boiled custard, then with whipped cream. Serve with thin bread and butter.

PEACH ICE CREAM

Peach ice cream is nowadays often served in the half of a ripe muskmelon, and the combination is delicious. The addition of whipped cream, candied fruits or pineapple syrup, however—an addition tried by some chefs for the sake of variety—turns a really dainty dish into one that is quite unpalatable in its richness and strange medley of flavor.

PEACH ICE

Peel a dozen ripe peaches. Cook until nearly soft in thin syrup to cover; remove the stones, and rub through a sieve. Add the juice of a lemon, three cups of water, a few drops of almond extract, and, if required, add a little more sugar. Freeze,

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for August 17
SAUL — A MAN OF GREAT ABILITIES WHO FAILED
I Samuel 9:15-27, 28-29; 10:1; 18:9-12; 28:31
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Character study is always of interest. Opposites in qualities are in all of us. The strife between good and evil was especially marked in Saul, who had everything in his favor at the start, but made a most ignominious ending. The few verses indicated above are merely suggestive. Read all in I Samuel from chapter eight to the end of that book. Samuel had been the representative of Jehovah among the Israelites, but the people, for the sake of being in style with the surrounding nations, wanted a king.

Everyone who has lost something valuable can enter into the spirit of the search for the asses of Kish. Saul the son was sent out with a servant and the hireling might have made a far better king. This young man suggests approach to Samuel, the man who is on speaking terms with God, and meets each objection

that Saul puts forth. There are many interesting details about the sacrifice that is booked for that day and how the tender morsels of meat are set before the young man who is en route to the kingship. The anointing the next day is in private, but a formal induction into office takes place at Gilgal.

The modest lad is found among the baggage when he is sought for at the time of the casting of lots. But that is the last commendable trait that can be indicated. He certainly made good in his first battle under the favor of the Lord, but the people soon had reason to change from shouting to groaning. When the Philistines came with their challenge, which was voiced by Goliath the giant, Saul was ready to promise a reward to anyone who would kill the boaster, but did not suggest that the honor of trying be accorded to him. David was the victor and the breach between the men started when the maidens, after the victory, sang that Saul had slain his thousands and David tens of thousands. Jealousy was the undoing of this man who had so much in the midst of which to be both happy and thankful.

Melancholy was a custom with the king. Instead of snapping out of it, as we would say today, he sought to be soothed as David harped for him. Big heart anger was seeking for mastery at the same time, for already Saul "eyed David" in his miserable jealousy. Anyone that cultivates jealousy is nursing a monster into growth and the outcome may be murder such as Saul attempted when he hurled his javelin at David.

Two specific sins must be noted in approaching the downfall. Both were acts of direct disobedience. One was in the nature of impatience. David was assured of victory against the Philistines at Michmash, but he was told to wait until Samuel came with a sacrifice unto the Lord. Saul could not be patient beyond a week and then sought to offer his own burnt and peace sacrifices. Sentence was pronounced against him for this. Again when going against Amalekites, the king was told not to take any spoil or a triumphal procession. Instead of obeying he saved Agag and much for a feast in which he expected to be acclaimed the victor. Then Samuel declared another profound truth which is equally good for all of us today: "Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams."

The end came at the battle of Mount Gilboa when the Philistines were the victors. Saul wanted to be killed by his armor bearer, who refused. Then the king ignominiously took his own life when he fell forward on his sword. Saul might have developed true greatness, but he would not. The Golden Text has its most significant lessons for all: "Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall," I Corinthians 10:12.

THREE YOUTHS ARRESTED IN THEFT OF AUTOS

Three Burlington youths were held without bail last week for stealing automobiles when they confessed to Police Justice J. Leedom Smith. Alfred Baylis, Clarence Keller and James Johnson, all 18, were arrested for stealing a car owned by Joseph Kears, Burlington. After their arrest the police say they confessed to other thefts. They were committed to the Burlington County jail Mount Holly, to await the action of the Grand Jury.

If you use SLICED BREAD here's good news!

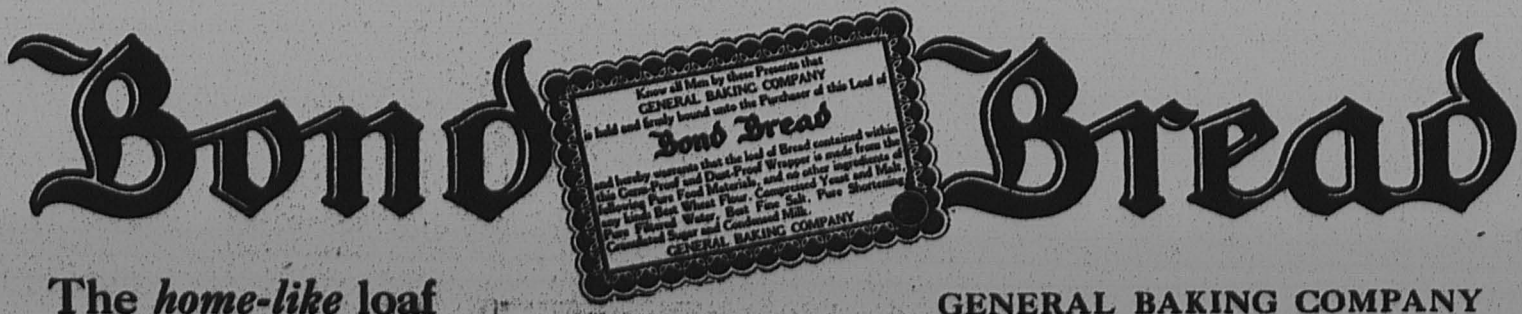

ACTUAL sales figures show that a constantly increasing number of housewives want only one bread—and that's Bond Bread. And they want it an uncut loaf. They prefer to slice it at home.

Some people, however, have asked why they could not get sliced Bond Bread. They say they like the ready-sliced feature, but they do not want to deprive themselves of the appetizing flavor—the smooth, even texture—the satisfying substance, which they know they can get only in Bond Bread.

So here's the good news. Beginning today, your grocer offers you sliced Bond Bread or regular uncut Bond Bread as you prefer.

RAPID PROGRESS ON NEW BRIDGE AT BURLINGTON

Pennsylvania Soon to be Connected With New Jersey by New Structure

LONGEST MOVABLE SPAN IN WORLD
Total Length Will be More Than 3,000 Feet; Two Lanes for Traffic

Work on the new vehicular bridge across the Delaware River, joining Burlington, New Jersey, with Bristol, Pennsylvania, is now well under way. This new structure is the result of the demands of cross-river traffic between Pennsylvania and New Jersey with its vast seashore, and will result in a saving of many miles as well as a relief to present congested highways. To the layman this is of interest since the saving of time is so vitally important in the present day order of speed.

To the merchant and business man this is of interest, since it opens a new highway and advances a stimulus to new trade, not before possible. To the local community it is of interest since it has given employment to a number of men, as well as putting many thousands of dollars in circulation among its merchants and townspeople. And to the engineer it is of interest since it embodies the longest movable span in the world.

The length of the structure itself will be over 3,000 feet or nearly five-eighths of a mile and will have about one and five-eighths miles of State Highway roads on the two ends, thus making the entire project over two miles long and connecting with main North and South trunk highways in both Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

The bridge proper will consist of earth fill between retaining walls, deck girder, deck truss, beam and through truss spans. The roadway will be of concrete except on the movable span, where it will be of steel plate. The entire structure will be fireproof, modern, and will provide for two lanes of the present-day heavy traffic. The roadway will be lighted with ornamental lights throughout and provision is made to care for pedestrian traffic by use of a wide sidewalk.

In addition to providing for highway traffic across the river, the needs of navigation are well cared for. A clear horizontal channel of 500 feet has been provided, with a vertical clearance of 65 feet with span closed and 125 feet with span open. In order to meet these requirements safely and economically, a 334-foot vertical lift span was designed, thus furnishing the longest movable span on record.

The span will operate by electric motors, rising vertically between towers at each end of the span. It is of interest to note that the tops of each tower are provided with a large red beacon that will not only

RIVERTON MAN LOSES LICENSE AFTER CRASH

Two Accidents on Public Road, Palmyra, Over Weekend; No Serious Injuries

Joseph Pippitt, 706 Cedar street, Riverton, was released on a suspended sentence in Palmyra Police Court Monday morning on condition that he pay damages amounting to $40, which resulted when his machine crashed into a car driven by Raymond E. Jones, of Haddonfield.

The charge against Pippitt was reckless driving and was preferred by Officer Lawrence Betty, who investigated the accident. According to the testimony the Pippitt machine was being operated in a reckless manner when it struck Jones' car on Public road, West Palmyra, Sunday night. Pippitt's driving license was suspended for the balance of the year.

Five persons were injured when a machine driven by Philipp Sommer-schuk, of Philadelphia, crashed into a tree along Public road at Spring Garden street Saturday night. The injured were given first aid treatment by Police Physician Dean H. Le Favor, then taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden, and later removed to their homes. They were E. J. Hellerman, Mrs. J. L. Taylor, Miss Phyllis Needham, Mrs. Sarah Needham and Frederick Doll, all of Philadelphia.

Officers William Stack and Lawrence Betty were called to the scene of the accident.

JOSEPH VETTERS STRUCK BY AUTO

Driver Attempts to Escape But is Caught at Riverton by Vigilant Cops

Joseph Vetter, of East Riverton, employed at Dreer's Riverview Nursery, was struck and badly injured by a Ford while on his way to work at 5:30 Wednesday morning. The car was driven by Harry Tins, of 514 Taylor avenue, Camden, who was arrested by Officers Miller and Gootie of Riverton.

E. H. Mitchell, who happened along immediately after Vetter was struck, took the man to the office of Dr. C. S. Mills where he was found to be suffering from a broken collar bone and severe bruises.

Mr. Mitchell telephoned to Officer Miller who had gone off duty. The officer hurried down to the station where he met Officer William Gootie and together they arrested Tins and Tom Smith, of 1132 Locust street, Camden, who had been with him in the car.

After striking Vetter, the two men stripped the license plates from the car and threw them into the bushes along the road, abandoned the car and attempted to escape. There was a strong suspicion on the part of the officers that Tins and Smith had been drinking, although they were not badly intoxicated at the time of the accident.

The defendants were held for a hearing before Justice of Peace Cecil Bowers. Wednesday night, when Officer Miller preferred charges of atrocious assault and battery by automobile and the defendant, Harry Tins, being unable to furnish $400.00 bail, was transported to the Mount Holly jail the same night by Chief Quigley and Officer Miller.

The passenger in the car with Harry Tins was released.

BUSES REROUTED

Public Service on Tuesday last rerouted its buses on the Philadelphia-Camden-Burlington route up River road to Cove road to the Burlington pike. The change in route is necessitated because of the closing of the Pensauken Bridge on River road. To take care of passengers in the Delair section a shuttle line is being operated between Cove road and Union avenue, Delair. The re-routing and operation of the shuttle line will be continued until the bridge is reopened.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment will be made in Morgan cemetery.

PALMYRA DRIVER FINED AFTER TRIPLE CRASH

George Johns, 107 Arch street, Palmyra, was fined $200 and costs when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Lester Merrill at Riverside Sunday night on charges of drunken driving which followed a triple crash. Johns' car is alleged to have first struck the machine of Fred Lindholm, 1215 South Fifty-second street, Philadelphia, and then careened into the side of the car of Robert McDowell, also of Philadelphia. Chief of Police William Vonshell arrested Johns. He was pronounced drunk by Dr. Walter W. Zwick, Riverside.

ANOTHER PROTEST ON ZONING CODE

Riverton Resident Fears Restrictions Will Prevent Contemplated Alterations

The Riverton Borough Council played a double-headed game during the past week, a regular meeting Thursday night of last week and an adjourned meeting Tuesday night of this week.

At the Thursday night meeting Maurice G. Belknap appeared before Council to protest against the provision of the new zoning ordinance limiting buildings in the residential district to two and a half stories or thirty-five feet in height, which he feared might prevent him from making an addition to the James property at Bank avenue and Penn street.

Action on Mr. Belknap's protest was deferred until the adjourned meeting on the 19th, at which time Harry F. Jones, chairman, and J. Wilson Sylvester, member of the Zoning Commission, appeared before Council and demonstrated that the provisions of the zoning ordinance would not interfere with the additions or alterations to the property as outlined by Mr. Belknap. Final passage of the ordinance, however, was deferred until the regular meeting of September 11, owing to the fact that there was not a majority of members of Council present.

Director of Public Safety Delaney called attention to the law recently passed requiring all police departments to install equipment for making finger prints.

The Building Inspector's report showed permits issued for $2,215 worth of building operations and fees amounting to $16.00.

Councilman Francis B. Elwell called attention to the fact that Riverton is overrun with dogs and suggested that the State law governing the licensing and muzzling of dogs be enforced.

After some discussion the matter was referred to the police department with power to act, and it is understood that a dog catcher will be employed to round up canines which are running the streets in violation of the law.

SIX IN ACCIDENT NEAR MOORESTOWN

Riverton Girl Painfully Hurt as Car Overturns After Being Struck by Hit-Runner

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jones, of Riverton, their daughters, Alma and Olive, and Eleanor Taylor and Miriam Ingram, both of Palmyra, were in an automobile accident near Moorestown Saturday afternoon.

All except Mr. Jones were taken to the Burlington County Hospital, at Mount Holly, for treatment. They were later sent to their homes with the exception of Olive, who was severely cut about the legs and suffered from shock. She is still in the hospital, where she is reported to be progressing nicely.

Mr. Jones was driving the machine and was returning with the girls from Camp Okanickon. Another car cut out of line and struck the rear of the Jones machine in cutting in. The impact caused the machine to swerve to the side of the road and upset in a ditch.

The driver of the other car failed to stop and his identity is unknown. The accident occurred on the Mount Holly road between Moorestown and Hartford.

A warrant charging him with desertion, sworn out by Mrs. Nocker, was brought to police headquarters by a state trooper from Delanco barracks.

Mrs. Nocker, accompanied by Lieutenant Samuel Johnson, went to Johnson Park to keep the date made Saturday with Nocker. Mrs. Nocker sat on a park bench, Johnson keeping in the background, and when Nocker joined his wife he was arrested.

SPLENDID SEASON AT RIVERTON PARK

Attendance Nearly 900 Last Week; Athletic Program Monday Night

The past week was one of great activity on the Memorial Park playground, Riverton, when nearly 900 attendance was recorded.

A very attractive event was held on Friday afternoon last, when the boys and girls of the park engaged in a treasure hunt. After following numerous clues, the "treasure," a box of various city champions. The candy was distributed to those present.

Robert Wallace was declared champion of the marbles course, when he defeated Chester Watson in a close match. "Shorty," as his friends know him, went to Philadelphia on Thursday morning to match shots with the various city champions. He was accompanied by a crowd of roots.

On Tuesday afternoon the park was the scene of a very festive occasion when nearly a hundred kiddies gathered for a watermelon party. Seventeen big melons met their end at this event.

The kite carnival scheduled for Monday night was postponed on account of weather conditions.

A team composed of people who have passed the Junior Life Saving test at the park this year were entered in the County Life Saving meet held at Browns Mills Wednesday afternoon. The following boys upheld the honor of Riverton: Lester Yearly, Edward Huns, Jack Reynolds, Henry Naisby, Francis Brennan, Harold Reynolds and Harry Turner.

MANY IMPROVEMENTS AT MRS. SMITH'S STORE

Modern Facilities Are Provided for Better Merchandising; Inspection Invited

In keeping with the march of progress toward better merchandising, Mrs. Alfred E. Smith has completely altered and re-arranged the display counters and shelves at her store on Main street.

Wall space formerly occupied with boxed stock is now given over to attractively arranged display shelves. The counters have been separated and all patrons are invited to walk behind these counters and view the goods on display.

Cellulose wrappers are now provided for a large percentage of the stock which makes for more attractive and sanitary purchases. Owing to the exceptionally large stock this store carries, it is planned to feature such merchandise as might be in season from time to time.

This new arrangement offers a service comparable with the best city department stores and you are invited to drop in and inspect this better service offered.

STATION ON NEW SCHEDULE

Burlington Co. Association, P. O. S. of A. In Pilgrimage to Washington's Crossing

Patriotic Order Visits Scenes of Deciding Battle in War of Freedom and Finds Much of Interest at Historic Shrines

The pilgrimage of the Burlington County Association, P. O. S. of A., to the historic scenes in Trenton and Washington's Crossing last Sunday was greatly enjoyed by those who braved the inclement weather to visit shrines so closely associated with victory in the Revolutionary War.

It was here the deciding battle of the war for freedom was fought and won by General Washington and his Continental Army. Three years later an eminent British statesman remarked in Parliament, "All our hopes were lost in that unhappy affair at Trenton."

The members from the various camps met on the State Highway east of Bordentown at two o'clock and continued to Trenton, where they were met by a police escort. The motorcade was led past the historic scenes in the city to the State House where a stop was made to visit the Old Barracks, which are located on the grounds. These barracks were originally built during the French and Indian wars to house the English troops.

Harry H. Yates, of Camp 8, Trenton, acted as guide and gave a brief history of the battle which took place on the grounds. He told of the skillful maneuvers of General Washington in defeating some 5,000 British and Hessian troops with his 3,000 Colonials.

Weather Hurt Crops, Gov. Larson is Told

Although New Jersey farmers have fared better than those in most other States, the prolonged drought and hot weather caused serious damage to forage and garden crops throughout the State, according to a report made to Governor Morgan F. Larson last week by William B. Duryee, State Secretary of Agriculture.

The Governor announced that the report, which was prepared at his request to cover developments since the beginning of the month, will be forwarded immediately to President Hoover as a means of providing information for use in his plan of national relief for drought stricken farmers.

While according to Federal and State reports of conditions up to August 1, the outlook for New Jersey crops was encouraging, the condition has changed materially since then, Secretary Duryee reported.

The kite carnival scheduled for Monday night was postponed on account of weather conditions.

A team composed of people who have passed the Junior Life Saving test at the park this year were entered in the County Life Saving meet held at Browns Mills Wednesday afternoon. ## BAR HEAVY TRAFFIC FROM CREEK BRIDGE

Pensauken Span Closed to Buses and Heavy Trucks for Indefinite Period

The River road bridge over the Pensauken Creek at West Palmyra has been closed to heavy traffic for an indefinite period.

Passenger cars and light trucks are allowed to use it, but buses and other heavy vehicles must detour. The bus lines are using a temporary route over Public road to the Burlington pike, via the newly-opened Tacony-Palmyra Bridge approach.

Men have been stationed at the bridge to prevent heavy machines from crossing. The structure has been examined by Camden and Burlington County engineers and pronounced unsafe for loads over two tons.

It is understood a new bridge will be built as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made between the two Counties. The Pensauken Creek forms the boundary at this point.

DRIVER LOSES LICENSE

A drunken driver crashed into a telephone pole at East Riverton last Sunday night and wrecked his car. He was Sigmund Dorsarki, of Camden. The Riverton police turned the man over to the State Troopers from the Delanco barracks, who happened along soon after the accident. They took Dorsarki before Justice of the Peace Cecil Bowers who imposed a fine and $200 and revoked his license. Frank Powksi, 46, also of Camden, who was in the car with Dorsarki was fined $5 and costs for disorderly conduct.

DRUNKEN DRIVER FINED

Charged with drunken driving when arraigned before Recorder Cecil Bowers at Riverton Monday night, Frank Massare, 31, 1101 Kemble avenue, Philadelphia, was fined $200 and costs. His license was also revoked for two years. Massare was arrested by Trooper Drosdick, of Delanco Barracks, of the State Police, who found the man's car in a ditch near the Moorestown Airport. Dr. Dean H. LeFavor, Palmyra, examined Massare and pronounced him drunk.

PALMYRA SCOUTS IN GREAT RALLY AT COUNTY CAMP

Parents and Friends Enjoy Fine Program Arranged for Them at Cookstown

CAMP DIRECTOR BENNETT RECEIVES MERIT BADGE

Boys and Scoutmasters Highly Praised for Fine Showing Made

Last Saturday was a red letter day for Scouting in Palmyra. Palmyra Boy Scouts, parents, and friends to the number of 97 left Broad and Cinnaminson avenue at 2:30 p. m. in a procession of 15 cars, led by a State motorcycle policeman, their goal being the County Scout Camp near Cookstown, where a Scout rally and camp fire had been arranged for invited guests from all over the County.

On arrival, the Palmyra contingent was met by Camp Director Bennett and Mrs. Bennett, who immediately cheered everyone by the warmth of their welcome. A personally conducted inspection of the camp site then followed, including the famous "Achievement Trail," originated by John Tallis, former Scout executive. To many this Trail was a revelation and everyone commented favorably on the excellent purpose it has to encourage Scouts in their progress from the lowest to the highest degrees in Scouting.

Enjoy Games

Later the parties separated and engaged in swimming, volleyball, tennis and other sports. At 5:15 p. m. the flag was lowered with impressive ceremonies. Call for dinner then came as a welcome sound, and everybody gathered in the mess hall to enjoy a first class meal prepared by Chief Jim and his assistants, and quickly served by volunteer Scouts. During the course of the dinner Ralph Rivers, president of the Palmyra Boy Scout Councils' Association, rose to make a presentation, first of a pipe to Mr. Bennett and a basket of fruit to Mrs. Bennett.

Mr. Rivers spoke very highly about the splendid help these two have been to the boys and declared that much of the camp's success was due to their personality and unflinching zeal in Scout work. Chief Jim, who is quite an important adjunct to the camp, was then presented with a box of cigars, coming from the Scouts.

Around Camp Fire

In the evening everyone gathered in the natural amphitheatre, in the center of which is the camp fire temple. An Eagle Scout fired by flint and steel the pile of timber which had been prepared and immediately a huge blaze lit up the faces of the entire gathering. The ceremonies were led by Eagle Scout Tillinghast, who announced that the ashes of one fire

BIDS RECEIVED FOR PAVING OF LINCOLN AVE.

To Consider Awarding of Contract at Meeting Next Monday Night

CITIZENS COMPLAIN OF WEEDS ALONG SIDEWALK

Bills Presented for Damages When Stray Dogs Kill Chickens

The Union Paving Company, of Philadelphia, was the low bidder on the proposed improvement of Lincoln avenue, when bids were received at the regular August meeting of Palmyra Borough Council Tuesday night. Although five sets of plans had been delivered to contractors by the engineers, only two firms bid on the work. The other bidder was the Fish Rutherford Company, of Camden.

The figures submitted by the Union Paving Company were $17,372.00 on the first alternative and $19,350.00 on the second. The Rutherford estimate was $17,080.00 and $19,805.05, respectively.

The contract was not awarded as there was some question as to whether or not it would bring the borough's indebtedness above the percentage specified by law. A recent act makes it mandatory that bonds secured by direct assessment be counted in the bonded debt. This was not necessary previously.

To Meet Monday Another meeting will be held next Monday and the contract awarded the low bidder in case it is found proper to do so. A checkup will be made in the meantime to make sure the law is being complied with. No difficulty is expected as a result.

The alternate bids were called for as prices on two different kinds of surfacing were desired. The lowest priced material is Besinette while the higher estimate was for sheet asphalt. Both are very similar.

Frank A. Snover, chairman of the roads and streets committee, reported that several complaints had been received regarding the high weeds along the sidewalks in many places. He said that on rainy days it was impossible to pass them without getting wet.

The clerk was instructed to notify property owners and in case they do not cut the weeds it will be done by the borough and charged against the properties affected.

Claim Damages A bill was presented from John R. Hudson for chickens killed by dogs a few days ago. The amount was for $25. The bill, not being in the proper form and certain conditions not being complied with, was returned to the committee for investigation.

A claim was also made by Mrs. Alys Howell for poultry killed in the same manner was also referred to the committee. The state law provides that such claims be paid by the borough from the dog tax receipts. It also provides that the damage made by a report made by them. This had not been done in either case, although one freeholder had viewed the chickens at Howell's.

Mayor George N. Wimer made the suggestion that an amendment be adopted to the building ordinance which would give the inspector some control over building lines. The solicitor was instructed to prepare such an amendment.

At present there are certain established lines provided in the deeds for various properties but there is no local means of enforcing them.

Following are the reports of the building inspector and chief of police:

Building Report The following building permits were issued during the month of July by the Building Inspector:

Palmyra High School, alterations, $4,800.

Palmyra Business Men Enjoy Outing

The above photo of Palmyra business men (and women) was taken at Camp Linghocken, near Mount Holly, during an outing held Wednesday of last week. Several who enjoyed the outing were not on hand when the picture was taken by Carl McAllister. A very pleasant afternoon was reported by all who were able to make the trip. The business men's association extends its appreciation to George W. Rogers for the use of the grounds.

YW PLANS CAMP TRIPS THIS FALL

Business, Professional, Industrial Girls to Spend Week-ends at Ockanickon

The Y. W. C. A. has secured Camp Darkwater, near Medford, for two weekend camping trips this fall. On September 13 and 14 the camp will be open to business and professional women, while on October 11 and 12 the industrial girls of the County will be there.

The camp is not for Y. M. C. A. members only, but for any business, professional or industrial girls of the County who would enjoy this outing in the woods. Registrations can be made with Sidonie Schaefer at the County Y. W. C. A. office.

Ranocosa Club Meets

The Ranocosa Woman's Club met at the home of Mrs. Charles E. Shinn on Tuesday evening, August 12. Following the business session, Sidonie Schaefer took the group out-of-doors for a Star Talk. The group identified a number of the stars and constellations and listened to some of the legends about them.

Camp in Full Swing

Events at the Y. W. C. A. camp at Ockanickon are in full swing as the second week closes and the third and last week of the season is beginning. The cooler weather and the rains have been most welcome and those girls who have had the opportunity of learning how to take care of themselves and their belongings in camp during the summer have had a splendid lesson in the art of camping.

By means of tent inspection each day, girls are shown how to keep their things first in a sanitary and healthful manner; secondly in the neatest and most convenient way; and lastly, how to provide attractive and charming arrangements in a tent or tent house. Each day the honor tent and tent house go off for a picnic supper.

During the second week a Junior Council, composed of one girl from each of the thirty tents, has been very active. Beatrice Shipley, Girl Reserve Secretary in Burlington County, has been the advisor of the council which is sharing the responsibility for the camp program.

The dramatics and dancing department, under the direction of Miss Helen Conklin, of Keyport, has had a busy week. On Saturday evening they presented a patriotic program with military tap dances and patriotic plays and songs. A minstrel show was given Monday evening by the dancing and dramatics groups and the girls in the music department, of which Miss Dorothy Levering, of the Curtis Institute of Music, is the director. On Sunday evening a number of favorite hymns were beautifully dramatized.

A class in harmony is a new interest in the music department; and the girls in the group furnish them and musical responses for daily services of worship in the outdoor chapel.

Y. W. C. A. Rest Rooms Used

The rest and waiting room in the Main street building of the Y. W. C. A. in Mount Holly is a great convenience to many women and children from all parts of the County, as well as to many tourists who are passing through the town. The room is comfortable with chairs and magazines and almost any day or evening one may see a group of women, often with small children, waiting there for buses or for other members of their families.

Provision is made for caring for those who are ill or very tired in one of the quieter rooms on the second floor. It is the hope of the Association that women who are familiar with this phase of the work of the Young Women's Christian Association will make use of the waiting room whenever they care to.

One of the first places to which transients go for information when they are in Mount Holly is the Y. W. C. A. and many girls have found the Association a pleasant place to spend the night. No transient girl or woman, irrespective of creed or color, who has arrived at the building in need of shelter and food has been refused.

Mrs. Chas. Z. Woolston, who is the manager of the dining room and the residence, has often been instrumental in returning to the homes runaway girls who have sought the Y. W. C. A. Until it is possible to get in touch with the proper authorities for their relief, the Association cares for them. This is not a courtesy extended to members of the Association alone, but to any girl or woman.

A woman joins the Association because she is in sympathy with its purpose and she wishes to share financially in the work.

SEED SELECTION RULES LISTED FOR VEGETABLES

Four fundamentals which he asserts must be followed in selecting vegetable seeds are listed by C. H. Wisley, extension horticulturist for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station. They are: (1) Make a personal inspection of the entire field at the first picking; (2) Mark selected plants with stakes; (3) Stake twice as many plants as are thought to be needed in order to insure against losses from diseases and insects, and save seed from only the best of these plants; and (4) instruct pickers not to harvest fruit from staked plants.

PALMYRA OFFICIALS ENJOY FISHING TRIP

Fire Chief Has Largest Catch With Six-Pound Flounder; Davis Hooks Big One

A party of Palmyra Borough officials were the guests of Jay Remington on a fishing trip aboard his yacht at Parkerton, above Tuckerton, Tuesday.

A fine catch of 145 fish was reported among which were some fine specimens. The largest catch of the day was made by Fire Chief Joseph Stack, who hooked a six-pound flounder. His honors were disputed by Councilman Joseph Davis, who claimed a flounder was not a fish and that his four-pound weakfish was the biggest one hauled in. The veteran Councilman was the object of some good-natured "kidding," but still sticks to his story.

Among the others to make the trip were Councilman A. B. Cramer, Mayor George N. Wimer, Solicitor Joseph S. Low, Collector E. A. Griscom, Borough Clerk George J. Spencer, Supervisor R. Strichenbein, Building Inspector John A. Elchner, Roads Foreman Harry Karna, Chief of Police C. M. Beck, Borough Engineer Bert Jagard, J. Horace Flannery and Charles DeLaney, Riverton Councilman.

Jay Remington, the host on the trip, is the senior member of the firm of Remington, Vosbury and Goff, consultant engineers for the Borough of Palmyra.

CATFISH AND BASS BEING DISTRIBUTED

Fish and Game Commission Making Releases Through-out South Jersey

The New Jersey Fish and Game Commission is busy distributing catfish and black bass in the ponds and lakes of South Jersey, according to a statement issued by Benjamin W. Cooper, Moorestown, South Jersey Commission.

There were 12,000 catfish liberated last week in Camden County. These were distributed through the ponds by Warden Brooks and Protector Mathis.

Black bass are also being distributed and the first allotment will go down this week.

The Commission has already distributed to the different counties 800 ring-necked pheasants, with a few more to go. This will make about 700 distributed equally to the 21 Counties in the State.

The pheasants raised at the Game Farm at Forked River and Rock Port are the most vigorous and healthy game in the Commission has ever turned out.

The distribution of blue gill sunfish will start in a week or so.

The New Jersey Fish and Game Commission are doing their best to co-operate with and distribute wild game to the sportsmen through the State. Twenty thousand rabbits have already been ordered and will be liberated after the first of the year, equal quantities going to each County. There were also 12,000 catfish liberated in Burlington County on August 18th by Protectors Davidson and Mathis and Wardens Carson, Roche and Brooks.

SIX MEN APPLY FOR JOB AS DOG CATCHER

Northampton Township Gets Offers From $1 to $20 a Week; Defers Action

The Northampton Township Committee is satisfied it pays to advertise, especially when a town wants a dog catcher.

At a recent meeting, several citizens complained about dogs running at large, snapping at pedestrians and ruining gardens. The committee announced its willingness to pay a dog catcher to rid the town of stray mongrels, but could not get any one to take the job.

But six men applied for the job Thursday. George Southerland, Mount Holly, offered to gather them at $20 a head. Roland Hutchinson and Clarence Wilson, Riverside dog catchers, were willing to scoop them in nets for $2.50 each. E. E. Bowen, Collingswood, wrote for the job, but did not mention any price. Earl Carhart, Mount Holly, bid $1 per head, and George Earlin, 1916 Alter street, Philadelphia, asked $3 each.

The committee deferred action. The Township will provide a pound. Owners will be required to pay $2 to redeem their dogs, which will be kept in the pound 72 hours before being done away with. The police reported having killed five stray dogs during the past week.

UNREGULATED BUS HIGHWAY MENACE

Penalizing Owners Seen as Solution for Curbing Reckless Operation

"The greatest menace on the highway today is the unregulated bus," says J. Maxwell Smith, General Manager of the Keystone Automobile Club, in a statement issued recently.

"In competition with trains on rails, express buses tear down the highways as if they too owned the right of way upon which they operate," he continued.

"The White Horse pike is a horrible example of a bus speedway, made unsafe by the reckless operation of buses which are regulated only by a desire for speed."

"Taking advantage of the right of weight the buses dash down the center of the highway, giving quarter to none, screeching through dense traffic, breaking all laws of the road and of common sense with nought to check them."

"The majority of these buses belong to the great utility corporations. Only Drivers Suffer."

"But when the vigilant New Jersey police arrest the drivers on charges of speeding or reckless driving, the only effect is to cause the poor unfortunate cog in the machinery the loss of his livelihood. Another driver, bending his will to meet the drastic schedules laid down by the great utilities, is soon speeding down the highway in the same reckless manner, in the same juggernaut."

"The bus companies are a unit in putting the responsibility for this reckless operation upon the drivers."

"The drivers, on the other hand, state that schedules cannot be maintained unless high speed is made. In this statement they are probably correct. At least one schedule allows but 10 minutes from Central Philadelphia to the other end of the Delaware River Bridge, a trip through congested traffic that ordinarily takes twenty minutes for a safe driver. Is it any wonder that a driver finds himself 10 minutes behind schedule and tries to make up the lost time to keep his job?"

"The remedy seems to us to be a penalty on the owners of the bus lines rather than the drivers."

New Present Powers

"There is at present no power that can regulate interstate bus traffic. Congress has failed to enact the Parker Bus Bill, which would have created a commission to supervise such interstate operation, and until such legislation is provided schedules can be made, broken or changed with impunity."

"Banning the vehicles from the road which have been proven guilty of reckless operation would cure the trouble at the source. As soon as the big utility companies forced that a fleet of their buses was tied up and unable to operate schedules would be made that would not put a premium on reckless operation and drivers would be instructed to adhere to those schedules."

"The Keystone Automobile Club recently brought this matter to the attention of Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Harold G. Hoffman, of New Jersey, who replied that he was cognizant of the situation and was taking every means to cope with the situation."

"Mr. Hoffman stated that more than 100 convictions of bus owners and drivers for infractions of motor vehicle laws had been obtained last week."

Former Mount Holly Schools Principal, E. J. Bunce, Appointed by New Jersey Board

The State Board of Education has appointed Edgar F. Bunce, former supervising principal of Mount Holly public schools, as head of the Department of Education of the Trenton State Teachers' College. Mr. Bunce is now supervising principal of the public schools at Metuchen. The appointment was made upon the recommendation of Dr. Charles H. Elliott, state commissioner.

LEGION AUXILIARIES TO VIE FOR TROPHY

Louise Curry Harrall Prize to be in Memory of Her Death

The Louise Curry Harrall Trophy is to be presented annually by Bruce Conlin, Past Commander of the Department of New Jersey, American Legion, in memory of Mrs. Louise Curry Harrall, who served as New Jersey's American Legion Auxiliary President during Mr. Conlin's term of office in the Legion. Mr. Conlin was so much indebted to Mrs. Harrall's untiring unselfish devotion to the aims and purposes of the American Legion and its Auxiliary, that after her untimely death he decided to present an annual trophy in her memory.

Mr. Conlin feels that some recognition is due to the unassuming self-effacing little woman who in her community, worked faithfully year after year, without any ambition to hold office, simply doing her duty as she saw it. Therefore he has decided that anyone who is, or has been a member of the State Executive Committee, is not eligible to compete for the trophy, it is for Unit members only.

The Units themselves will decide which one of their members has done the most outstanding individual work during the year, such a welfare work, Americanism, poppy selling, community service, etc.

The Units will send reports in to a special committee, who will pass on eligibility, and prepare reports for presentation to Department Executive Committee for final vote.

AN HONEST JURYMAN

"Look here," said a young juryman, after the jury had retired. "If I understand aright, the plaintiff doesn't ask damages for blighted affections or anything of that sort, but only wants his presents back."

"That is so," agreed the foreman. "Well, then, I vote we don't give him a cent," said the young juryman hastily. "If all the fun he had with that girl didn't cover the amount of presents cost him, it was his own fault. Gentlemen, I counted that girl once myself!"—Mystic Worker.

SWIMMER NEEDS SELF CONFIDENCE

Rescuer Must Exercise Caution in Approach to Drowning Person

This is the final article in a series of swimming tips by Victor H. Hartshorn, Red Cross Water Safety Man, on "Play Safe in the Water."

The establishment of confidence is as essential in swimming as in anything else. Nevertheless overconfidence is dangerous. The axiom "Pain heart ne'er won fair lady" (or success in an endeavor) and "Fools rush in where angels fear to tread" are just as true in swimming. Overconfidence may come from attempting more than one is able to do, taking unnecessary chances and depending too much on inner-tubes, etc. Reasonable precaution will prevent many difficulties.

If one is not cautious he will get into trouble and make it necessary for some one else to assist him.

There are no such things as death grips or that one is limited to three duckings before he is in danger. One may go down once or a dozen times, depending upon his ability to use his hands, feet and get air. Any grip that is broken, if you know how, but it is not necessary to get grabbed. A break of the grip is the correction of a mistake. The mistake is in approaching one needing assistance from the wrong angle or getting too close. The mistake should not be made, but in case it is made—correction is necessary, quickly and effectively into a good carry.

Too frequently we read of the case of a would-be rescuer being gripped by a drowning person, resulting in a double tragedy. Would it not be logical therefore to spend considerable time in an attempt to perfect the proper approaches as outlined and explained in the handbook of "Life Saving Methods."

The safest way to approach a struggling person is from the rear. Swim to a position about arm's length from the victim, place one hand under his chin and pull his head back, placing the other hand under his back and pushing out and upward. While going through this procedure the rescuer should be moving his body backward and away from the victim. This, coupled with the inverted scissors kick, and a stroke with the arm that has been placed under the victim's back, will start the trip toward shore and the proper carry may be applied.

If it is impossible to approach a victim from the rear, there are two other methods—the surface approach and the under-water approach.

If the victim is struggling with head above water, swim to within three yards and execute a surface dive, approaching under water. Grasp the victim with both hands at the knees, pull with one hand and push with the other, turning him around until you are behind him. Then keeping a hold so that he cannot turn around and grasp you, come to the surface and proceed as in the rear approach.

If the victim is sinking with hands raised over head, reach out with your right hand and grasp the victim's right hand, while treading water, lean backward and pull toward you. This will turn the victim around and enable you to work into the cross-chest carry or to proceed as in rear approach.

The most important phase of all the approaches is to keep the arms straight, so as to maintain the greatest possible distance between victim and rescuer, thus decreasing the possibility of being grasped and making it easier to work into a carry.

As in First Aid, a more satisfactory job may be accomplished by doing only what is absolutely necessary, to complete the rescue.

Finally, communities should realize their responsibility for educating, protecting and safeguarding the lives of their citizens as they do by schools, fire departments, police departments and health departments, by making adequate provision for having safe places to swim under adequate supervision.

The American Red Cross is willing to co-operate with the departments and organizations for the promotion of this work.

GIFFORD IS FINED IN POLICE COURT

Former Service Station Owner Pays $5.00 for Disorderly Conduct

"Al" Gifford, who formerly operated a service station on West Main street, Moorestown, was fined $5.00 and costs at a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Moorestown town hall last week.

Gifford, who is now a bus driver, was arrested by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw on disorderly conduct charges after he had knocked the hat off the starter for an opposition bus line and had hurled verbal abuse at the man on Main street, almost in front of Town Hall.

The heaviest penalty of the week was imposed upon Robert LaRue, Wrightstown, after he had been arrested by Officer Charles Erickson for speeding, reckless driving and operating a motor vehicle without his driver's license in his possession. LaRue paid $15 and costs.

Four speeders, all arrested by Officer Walter A. Erickson, were fined $5.00 and costs at hearings before the recorder. They included:

Lawrence Hubbs, Green Tree Road, Moorestown; Vincent Robbins, Medford; Jean Lightman, 1719 North Columbia avenue, and Walter Smith, 1440 Haddon avenue, Camden. Lightman's fine was remitted upon payment of the costs.

Ferdinand Pfel, Cherry avenue, Maple Shade, arrested by Chief Bradshaw on charges of speeding, was fined $5.00 and costs.

AN AGE OF WONDERS

In spite of all its seeming evils, the age in which we live is the most wonderful the world has ever witnessed. Happy are those, particularly the young, who can grasp its significance. Astounding as the advancement of the last half century has been, it is only a beginning of greater progress yet to come.

Thoughtful persons are doing a service by pointing out to the younger generation the ever expanding opportunities which await their eager brains and hands. What unexplored resources and unknown forces of nature still lie concealed, wanting only the keys which the human mind must supply to unlock their secrets!

While this wonderful age and the still more wonderful years to follow present great opportunities, they also involve equally great responsibilities. Are the youth of today making adequate preparations to meet them? This question should engage the serious attention of every young person, as well as that of those who are charged with their training and development.

WHEN ONE IS OLD

We are repeatedly told that youth and age are not measured by years alone. Some are old fellows at 30; others have the spirit of youth at 80. How is this?

An article in a recent issue of an educational journal expresses the idea of youth and age better than we could express it, so we quote it in part:

"Youth is not a time of life; it is a state of mind. It is a temper of the will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions. Youth means a predominance of courage over timidity, of the appetite of adventure over the love of ease. This often exists in a man of fifty more than in a boy of twenty. Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old by deserting their ideals."

John D. Rockefeller, for example, plays golf with zest at the age of 91. Thomas A. Edison is inventing and planning at age of 88. John R. Voorhis is active as president of the board of elections of New York City at the age of 101.

These and hundreds of others are extremely old in years, but young in spirit. Thus setting a good example for the rest of us.

HE NEVER KNEW HATE

There has been published the autobiography of H. Rider Haggard, the English novelist whose vivid tales have entertained and charmed millions of readers throughout the world. This autobiography was written several years ago, but Haggard stipulated that it should not be published until after his death.

The author of "King Solomon's Mines," "She" and forty-odd other stories reveals a versatile and kindly personality and recounts his adventures in various parts of the world.

Perhaps his most striking passage is that in which he says: "I have seen many lands, I have known many emotions, all of them, I think, except that of hate."

What a fine thing it was to be able to say that! How many of us have known all the emotions except hate?

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONY GROWS

Long distance telephone communication is on the increase and during 1929 more cable for toll business was laid than in any previous year.

This trend is probably due to the fact that long distance communication is continually growing cheaper and that service is being improved. At present 95 per cent. of all toll calls are completed while the person calling remains at the instruments, as compared with 70 per cent. five years ago.

The importance of the telephone to modern business and social life can hardly be over-estimated. Civilization as we know it today could not exist without verbal communication between distant cities and nations.

ACCIDENTS

The most dangerous occupation, according to an industrial survey of New York, is window-cleaning. The chance of accident to a window-cleaner is nearly nine times as great as that which the artisan making fine machinery and instruments runs, the latter being the least hazardous occupation.

Everybody who has ever watched the window-cleaners at work on the outside of a skyscraper has shuddered at the thought of what would happen if the worker's safety-belt broke while he was cleaning high, thirty-story windows. The belts do break, occasionally, or the cleaner's foot slips and he falls to his death.

Window-sash made with a pivoted interior frame which can be rotated so that both sides of the glass can be cleaned from inside are used in a very few buildings. They cost a little more than the ordinary kind, but in a completely civilized world their use will be compulsory.

RADIUM

The world's most precious metal, worth $2,000,000 an ounce, now comes exclusively from the Belgian Congo, in Africa. Originally discovered in pitchblende ores in the Joachimsthal, Austria, radium was for a while mined commercially in Utah, but the discovery of a bed of very rich uranium ore in Africa has put the other producers out of business and enriched the prospectors who made the lucky strike.

The cost of radium is due to the difficulty of extracting it from the ore and the danger in handling it.

Radium's value is due to the fact that it is constantly changing into other substances, and in the process gives off rays and emanations. These have effects upon the human system similar to those of the X-ray. Its use in medicine is still in its infancy, but commercially, as the basis of luminous paint for the hands of watches and clocks, air navigation instruments and the like, the demand is large. A single ounce is enough to supply this industrial demand for several years, but no amount of radium as large as one ounce has ever been assembled in one place.

BOOKS

Not more than three or four perfect copies are known of the first book printed from movable type, Gutenberg's Bible. The United States of America now owns the finest example of this precious volume. The last session of Congress appropriated $1,000,000 with which to buy the Voltaire collection of rare books for the Library of Congress, which contains not only this famous Bible but more than 3,000 other splendid examples of the work of the earliest printers. It has been estimated that it would cost more than $4,000,000 to duplicate this collection, if duplication were possible.

A thousand years from now men will point to these books and say: "Here are the seeds of our civilization. It began when man learned how to duplicate knowledge by printing and made it free to all sorts and conditions of men."

COLOR

In the Middle Ages the rich merchants of Venice spent so much money in painting their gondolas in brilliant colors, trying to outshine each other, that an edict was passed by the Council of Ten that no other color but black might be used on these floating vehicles of the Venetian canals. And all gondolas have been painted black for five hundred years.

Some have wondered whether there might not be a revival of the old Venetian rivalry in the gaudy colors of modern automobiles.

The matter is one of personal taste. Conservative people and those who do not court attention will always prefer black or plain blue, while the spirit of youth and modernity will continue to express itself in gay, green, yellow and red cars.

SLICED
Bond Bread

SOME FRIENDS of yours have probably told you that Bond Bread can now be bought either in a sliced loaf or in an unsliced loaf.

Sliced Bond Bread is now the choice of many who have been using other brands of sliced bread.

They tell us there are two big reasons why they like Bond Bread better.

First: The texture of sliced Bond is better than the texture of other bread except regular Bond Bread.

Second: The flavor of sliced Bond is better than the flavor of other bread except regular Bond Bread.

These superior qualities have made Bond Bread outsell all other loaves in the world.

You may buy sliced bread for convenience, but you no longer need to sacrifice texture or flavor now that you can get Bond Bread in the sliced form, as well as unsliced.

(Romans 12:2). The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "As mortals give up the delusion that there is more than one Mind, more than one God, man in God's likeness will appear, and this eternal man will include in that likeness no material element." ## RIVERTON VICTORS IN SLUGFEST WITH POWELL PROS 13-11

Both Teams Play Very Loose
Brand of Ball; Each Have Five Errors

CONSTANT PLUGGING
WINS FOR RIVERTON

Winners Score All Runs in Two Innings, Third and Eighth

By ANDY COLUM

Note.
Undoubtedly some of you fans will want to know why I bother to write such a long narrative about such a loosely-played game. Here's the reason—The Riverton boys kept plugging in the face of what the boys from the Powell Pros did after the sixth inning and won the game after a stiff fight, and I think the boys deserve a little credit once in a while and aim to see that they get it somehow.

I notice the fans for wolves as I call some of you are prone to criticize every play—but from the sidelines things are DIFFERENT and don't forget it.

A. C.

The Powell Pros, of Philadelphia, suffered a 13-11 defeat at the hands of the Riverton A. A. on the home grounds last Saturday afternoon in a slugfest for I think it could better be called a "Comedy of Errors".

Each team had five large and numerous errors—which is more than the Riverton boys have made in a game for many a day. Riverton out-hit the Powell boys 16-10 in clean base blows, while they had 4 bases on errors to the Powell team's six tainted hits.

The second inning saw the start of the slugfest action. With one down in the visitor's half, T. Logan walked, Chapman fanned, Casey lifted a long fly to left which Jimmy Reeves misjudged and Casey circled the bases, Logan scoring ahead of him.

VanOsten slapped one on the nose and Jimmy went after it in the first hop, but it was the over-throwing and the visiting twirler also circled the bases.

In the third another run was added to the Powell score when, with two having fanned, Botterger muffed a throw to get Logan at first. Logan took second on the over-throwing and walked. T. Logan singled to left and Reeves' throw to Foulke at third caught Manion for the third out.

Riverton Scores Eight Runs
Now we come to the interesting part of this time comedy, from a local standpoint.

Riverton's half of the third round saw the boys grab an 8-4 lead by virtue of six base hits, one base on an error, and a fielder's choice with a pair of misplays.

Horan ripped open the frame by smacking a single. Weikman pushed him around with another bingle. Terrell the mighty little man, connected for a triple, scoring Horan and Weikman. Reeves was an infield out, but Terrell brought in the third run when he got a flying start for home and had any possible play at the plate beaten.

Sloan kept up the spirit of the times by socking a single and advanced when Easley was safe on Cusak's error. Foulke then came along and loosened a base hit from his bat to score another run with a single. Botterger singled, stole second, while Easley and Foulke scored. Bartley was safe on a fielder's choice and Botterger scored on this choice as the pitcher erred.

Horan fled out to center, but Weikman came through with his second bingle of the inning, which scored Bartley. Terrell topped up to first for the third out.

Powells Add Another
The fifth session added one to Powell's score. Dolan was safe on Weikman's error. Cusak was out at first, Botterger to Weikman. Cusak spilled a hit to right and Sloan's throw caught him at the plate. Logan walked, Manion singled, scoring Cahill, and T. Logan popped out to right.

During four innings of inactivity in Riverton's scoring the visitors grabbed a 10-8 lead.

In the sixth Chapman singled and was caught trying for third on Casey's infield blow. VanOsten singled and Dolan was safe when Foulke muffed his grounder. This lifted the sacks. Cusak singled, scoring two. This left Dolan on third with the tying run, and Cusak on second with what appeared to be the winning run. Foulke's second error of the inning admitted the two runners. Logan and Manion popped up.

T. Logan and Chapman had popped out in the seventh when Casey blew a single. VanOsten blazed one to left and Jimmy's second error of the game allowed Casey to score. Dolan was an easy infield out.

Five-Run Rally Wins
Again in the eighth the Riverton boys batted around and scored five big runs to win.

Terrell singled, Reeves walked, Sloan forced Terrell at third. Easley hoisted one to left. Foulke singled and Casey's error admitted Botterger to first base after Reeves scored. T. Logan muffed Bartley's rap and Sloan scored. Casey also muffed Horan's infield hit and Foulke scored.

Weikman came through with the hit which scored Bartley and Botterger with the winning runs. Terrell walked, but Reeves forced him at second for the third out.

T. Logan rapped out a single for the visitors in the ninth and scored on VanOsten's single after two were down. Terrell took Dolan's fly for the final out.

The box score.

RIVERTON-PARRY SERIES EVENED UP

Coles Wins First for Riverton, 4-3 But Drops Second in Last Inning

By ANDY COLUM

Last Thursday evening the Riverton baseball team opened a three-game series with the Parry A. A. on the Palmyra High School diamond, and won a 4-3 decision over "Ice Man" Reagle's team.

The second game of the series, played Tuesday evening at Riverton, was won by Parry in a seven-inning struggle by 5 runs to 4.

Riverton won the first game in the second inning after Parry had scored three runs in the first frame.

Terrell opened the first game by lifting a fly to right. Reeves fanned. Sloan singled and scored on Easley's double. Foulke fled out to left.

The Parry boys banged away in their half to gain a 3-1 lead. Schuck singled, stole second. Windish hit to Terrell and Schuck was thrown out. Terrell to Foulke to Bartley. Johnny Broderson tripled, scoring Windish, and Menkevitch also slammed a three-bagger to score Broderson. Menkevitch crossed the plate when Foulke muffed King's boulder.

Parry played very erratic ball in the second and several bad throws cost them the game.

Botterger and Bartley started the inning with singles. Buchholz walked. Coles pulled the squeeze play and was out at first, but all three on base at the time scored when Parry threw wild and aimlessly. Terrell fanned and Reeves fled to center.

The last five innings turned out to be a real pitchers' battle.

IN THE RADIO STUDIOS

With Albert Zugsmith, Jr.

Willie Ferrel-Monger, of NBC, is an Englishman by birth. Consequently, among his frequent visitors are many fellow Londoners. Recently, a visiting Briton was so impressed with American broadcasting that he admitted that he almost liked it.

"You know," he said, "those Negro comedians who sell the toothbrush—you know, Angus and Andrew—I find quite amusing."

A question of royal etiquette arose when Prince Alfonso, cousin of the King of Spain and a passenger on the Graf Zeppelin's recent transatlantic voyage, was about to be introduced over the CBS during a visit to Washington, D. C.

Don Alejandro Padilla, the Spanish Ambassador, was scheduled to introduce the prince to the radio audience, but at the very last minute he protested that such a procedure was highly improper because one cannot "introduce" a member of the royal family to anybody—the reverse always being the rule. A resourceful announcer at WMAL, Columbia's Washington station, saved the day when he suggested that the ambassador simply "present" His Royal Highness Prince Alfonso.

President Hoover has never been late for a radio broadcast, although he probably makes more speeches over national wide hookups than any other man who is not a professional radio artist. Several times he has been ahead of time, but in these instances he has graciously consented to wait until the network was ready.

If the White House states the President will talk ten minutes, twenty minutes or thirty minutes, broadcasters know they can be assured this will be the length of his talk, only lengthened or shortened by about fifteen seconds.

Except for the words, "Ladies and Gentlemen, the President of the United States," no other introduction is usually given when President Hoover speaks.

PALMYRA SCOUTS IN GREAT RALLY AT COUNTY CAMP

are kept to light the next, both during camp and from year to year, and so the spirit of Scouting is symbolized and perpetuated by this interesting ceremony.

Ralph Rivers was introduced and spoke of the value of a gathering of this kind and asked that all those present might increase in their cooperation in the work of Scouting. Singing of various camp songs by the Scouts entertained the visitors and proved quite a pleasing feature of the evening.

Present Merit Badges

Presentation of merit badges which had been earned during the camp season was then made by Messrs. Brady, Elmer, Branson and Wilson. Mr. Bennett, Camp Director, was then called to the front and presented with his Eagle badge by Eagle Scout Tillinghast. The gathering was told that besides being a most capable leader, Mr. Bennett was also a real Scout and this Eagle badge which he had earned in exactly the same way as any other Eagle Scout was the proof. A vocalized tap was then chanted by the Scouts to huge accompaniment, thus ending the ceremonies.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the day from beginning to end and favorable comment was made on the completeness of the camp equipment and the camp's ideal location. Palmyra Scouts and their officers received much praise for their splendid showing on this occasion. Everyone came away with the feeling that as a result of the success of this day, Scouting, particularly in Palmyra, had been strengthened by new interest and new supporters.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson for August 17
JONATHAN AND DAVID—A NOBLE FRIENDSHIP
I Samuel 18:1-4; 20:14-17, 32-34, 41, 42; II Samuel 1:25-27
Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Great stories are recorded in the Bible and the record of the friendship that existed between David and Jonathan is in that class. The indicated Scripture references give only some of the high points. For the very interesting details read from chapter 18 through the first chapter of II Samuel.

Young people, with their rich idealism, will particularly enjoy this acquaintance with two men who were rivals for the throne in Israel. Those who delight in hero worship, and that is a feature with youth, will find it hard to decide, which was the greater—David or Jonathan. The narrative begins when David was brought to Saul after the young man had slain the giant, Goliath of Gath, in single combat. Jonathan took in every word and sees far more in the victor than just one who was able to slay a stone straight to the mark. He discerns the likeable qualities which are characteristics to admire. Right then hearts went out to each other. It is interesting to note how, just as young people trade clothes today, Jonathan supplied garments for David even to a sword. David left home that morning merely to carry a lunch basket to his brothers in the camp but ended the day as a member of the court of King Saul.

Study all you can about the essential qualities in true friendships. Consult in your local library "Friendship the Master Passion" by Henry Clay Trumbull. You are in the way of finding that friendship is unselfish while love is too often based on selfishness. Friendship is ever eager to give rather than to get. Even a throne won of less consequence to Jonathan than to lose his beloved friend David. When Saul was ready to kill his own son Jonathan as well as David, in the midst of his moods of melancholy, the bond of affection held nobly firm. Life is personally risked to let David know that there is no possibility of effecting any reconciliation with the King. A lad with a quiver of arrows unwittingly becomes the bearer of that message. After the boy is dismissed David and Jonathan meet for the last time, as David comes forth from his place of hiding. Then there is one of the dearest expressions of friendship that can be found in literature. They renew their pledges of fealty. They will separate, perhaps forever, but this fact will not change their regard for each other in any respect. David extends the covenant to include the offspring of Jonathan. It is delightful to note how he keeps his word in the case of Jonathan's son, Mephibosheth—who is lame in his feet. In II Samuel 9:1-10 is told how the son of the beloved friend "eat bread always at his table."

When word of the death of Jonathan in battle with the Philistines is brought to David, the tenderest expressions are recorded in the "Song of the Bow." II Samuel 1:19-27. Other loves have indited great poems, such as "In Memoriam" by Tennyson in recognition of his friend, Arthur Henry Hallam.

The cultivation of deep, abiding personal friendships if a life work for all of us. Some of our richest blessings, inhere in just such friendships. Friends understand us and help us by their constructive criticism as well as by their kindly comments. A friend is eager to aid to the extent of his ability. The Best Friend of all to cultivate is Jesus, so human, understanding, eager and able to help; a faithful companion and one who never gives up. Others may fail us, but Jesus is faithful to the end. He abides faithful and has unlimited power of assistance. Friendship with Jesus, even as with others, is a process of development and the reward is worth the effort. Life is personally risked to let David know

WAY OF LIFE BY BRUCE BARTON

WISE MEN

I spent a day in the research laboratories of the largest electrical company in the world. If two hundred years ago anybody had predicted the marvels that can be seen there today, the God-fearing citizens of the time would have burned him as a witch.

For example, as you know, the metal radium is constantly giving off little particles which are called electrons. The electron is infinitely smaller than the atom. Indeed, the atom is a comparatively big proposition, a sort of universe with lots of electrons flying around inside it.

Of course, neither the electron nor the atom can be seen by any instruments which we have yet devised. But listen to this! The scientists in that laboratory have rigged up a radio apparatus, attached to a loud speaker, which is so delicate that it can detect the flight of electrons through the ether.

I held the dial of my wrist watch against the microphone. The figures on the dial are radium coated. And I could hear the electrons pounding into the loud speaker like a shower of hailstones on a tin roof. On another floor I sat in front of a motion picture screen and saw talking movies of three great scientists of England, Sir Ernest Rutherford, Sir William Henry Bragg and Sir Oliver Lodge.

Each one of them was photographed in his own laboratory. Each proceeded to perform certain experiments and explain them. It was thrilling to sit in the living presence of such men and to think how valuable those pictures will be to future generations. Suppose there had been a talking movie of Archimedes demonstrating the lever, or of Newton explaining the discovery of gravitation!

But what stirred me most was not the experiments which these men performed, but the spirit of their talk. Sir Oliver Lodge, for example, picked up a little weight from his laboratory table and let it drop with a thud. "That experiment," he said, "is the simplest that one could possibly perform and yet there is hardly an experiment about which we know less than we do about that."

And he added, "You are not to suppose that you understand things because you call them names."

He proceeded to talk about the mysterious properties of "empty space," and he concluded with this paragraph:

"If ever we find, as I think we are beginning to find, that life and mind need not be associated with matter, but can inhabit empty space, then life will not be subject to the troubles of a material organism and existence will be perpetual."

As contrasted with many of our smartest war-crackers, who know everything, these wise men of science admitted frankly that we are only on the farthestmost borderland of knowledge. And that anything is possible—even eternal life.

RAPID PROGRESS ON NEW BRIDGE AT BURLINGTON

serve as an attraction and landmark for the surrounding country, but will serve as a marker to aviation in night flying.

Work Started May 1

The general contract for construction was let on February 17th of this year and work was started the 1st of May. In the three months since the beginning of work, seven of the eight large piers have been completed and the last one is well under way. The pedestals and retaining walls for the approaches, as well as this last pier, will be completed this month. This exceptional speed was accomplished through sufficient organization and co-operation.

The erection of the steel work is now under way and should be all completed by January 1st. This work will be of special interest, since the erection of the long lift span will be carried out by cantilevering out from each tower. The steel as it is placed and moved out from the towers will be suspended by cables running over sheaves at the tops of the towers and tied back to the ends of the approach spans.

Like Suspension Bridge

Thus during the erection of this span it will resemble a suspension bridge of a unique type. This will be the first time such a method of erection has been used and it should prove interesting to both the layman and the engineer.

Following the erection of the steel will come the pouring of the roadway slabs, the placing of electrical work, machinery and all other necessary items to make a complete structure ready and safe for the traffic that will use this latest span of the Delaware River.

The structure was designed by Ash.

NEW HIGHWAY IN USE FROM PUBLIC ROAD TO BERLIN

Splendid Highway From Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Provided for Motorists

NEW ROUTE, S-41, SIXTEEN MILES LONG

Will Pass Under Railroad to White Horse Pike When Complete

A direct route from the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge to the seashore was thrown open to traffic the past week-end.

The new road, designated as S-41, while not entirely complete, presents a splendid concrete surface practically all the way to Berlin, where it joins the White Horse pike. A mile or so on either end of the concrete strip is of macadam, but is in very good condition.

Traffic following the route just opened will come from the bridge on to Market street, Palmyra, where it will continue to the Pennsylvania Railroad crossing. The part from here to the new highway is known as Public road. This road has been recently repaved and crosses the Pensauken Creek on a rebuilt bridge. This span was just remodeled by the State Highway Department and is ample for all traffic now using it. It replaces a narrow and dangerous bridge at this point.

Bridge Not Complete
Public road strikes the completed part of the new highway about a hundred yards farther on. The highway from this point back to the Tacony-Palmyra span cannot be used for a year or more, as two bridges must be built. The one over the Pensauken Creek is now under construction, but will not be ready before spring. The other will be at the railroad and is not yet under construction.

From Public road to within two miles of Berlin the new highway is in use. It goes through a deep cut and continues along the banks of the Pensauken Creek to the Burlington pike, where it passes over this busy artery. Ramps are provided on either side, giving access to the pike.

The next bridge over the Pensauken Creek near Fork Landing road. A short distance farther the highway passes under the Mount Holly branch of the Pennsylvania Railroad and continues to underpass the Moorestown-Camden line. No ramps are provided at this point.

The roadway comes to a level again where it intersects the Kings Highway, a short distance south of Maple Shade. Here it joins the part of the route which has been completed for more than a year. This section continues to a point a few hundred feet south of Marlton.

Will Avoid Berlin
From here on to Berlin the route is over the Marlton-Berlin road. A concrete surface has just been laid to within two miles of the White Horse pike. The rest of the way is a macadam surface.

The route when finally completed will not pass through Berlin, but will bear left from a circle about three blocks from the present railroad crossing and continue on the same side of the tracks to the Bishop's Bridge road. It will follow the route of this road to the White Horse pike and pass under the railroad. This will bring the traffic to the pike about a mile below Berlin.

The road from Haddonfield to Berlin will be extended to cut into the circle. The distance from the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge to Berlin is sixteen miles.

RIVERTON FIRE CO. PLANS SOCIAL EVENTS

Will Start Off With Stag Card Party to Raise Funds

The Riverton Fire Company has planned to open its fall season with a Stag Card Party.

A special committee has been appointed to arrange for some attractive affair to be held in the Fire House each week.

The boys so far have planned for a mixed card party, Monte Carlo Night, and to finish up next month with a big chicken supper and dance.

The company has been under a great deal of expense lately, rebuilding the Fire House, which is a credit to our town, and the boys are asking you for your support.

Get acquainted with your fire company and give them a lift.

Hull — Coale

Miss Josephine Parker Coale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Coale, and Raymond R. Hull were married Saturday at 5 o'clock at the home of her parents, 805 Thomas avenue. Mr. Hull is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hull, of Keosauqua, Iowa. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Ruth Parker, of Englewood, as maid of honor. Mr. A. Milton Sprague, of Woodbury, attended the groom. Following the friends' ceremony, which was held in the house, a reception was given on the lawn to more than a hundred guests. Mr. and Mrs. Hull will live at Woodbury.

N. J. 1931 Auto Tags Are Red and White

If you have a car which is painted blue you will be patriotic next year.

That is, however, if it is the correct tone of blue. It will harmonize nicely with the 1931 auto tags. This year, according to the State Motor Vehicle Department, the colors of the license plates will be red with letter and numerals in white. See, red, white and blue.

Various motor vehicle department agencies are now displaying the new tags, which can be obtained in December. The colors of the plates this year, while satisfactory to many, were disappointing to thousands. A movement is being planned to have each State adopt a certain color permanently.

FORD DEALERS TO HOLD AUTO SHOW

Special Display at Burlington Tuesday and Wednesday of Next Week

A special showing of Ford cars and trucks will be held in Burlington next week with all the dealers in the County participating.

A large tent has been erected on the lot just back of the Ballinger Motor Company showrooms on the State Highway as it enters the city.

A full line of all the Ford models will be on display, including the latest development in passenger cars and commercial jobs. The display will be held all day and evening, both Tuesday and Wednesday.

A huge automobile parade to all parts in the County will open the show. It will start at nine o'clock Tuesday morning and proceed west on the River road to Edgewater Park, Beverly, Delanco, Riverside, Riverton and Palmyra. From Palmyra it will return to Riverside and thence to Moorestown.

The next stop will be Mount Holly and then to Medford, New Egypt, Allentown, Browns Mills, Columbus and Bordentown. Stops will be made in all towns, where a band will play a few selections. More than a hundred miles will be traversed during the day.

Lester S. Fortnum, Ford dealer in Palmyra and Bridgeboro, will have several cars in line and will be represented at the show.

STRIKES HORSE

Police Unable to Locate Animal After Collision on New Highway

The first accident on the newly opened State Highway, S-41, was a collision between an automobile and a horse.

Mrs. Mary J. Steits, 147 Windrow avenue, Philadelphia, reported to the Palmyra police last Sunday night that her car had struck a horse, which had wandered on to the highway just south of the Burlington pike.

Her car was badly damaged from the collision, the radiator being in such a condition that she could not continue.

Police went to the scene of the accident, but were unable to locate the animal. To date nothing has been heard from its owner.

UNUSUAL SWIMMER COMING TO RIVERTON

Andy Gault Plans to Make Unique Swim Labor Day, 7 P. M.

Swimming with hands tied behind his back, feet and knees also tied, wearing an entire army uniform, overcoat, pack, etc., and in addition towing a boat full of passengers is the most unusual stunt promised by Andy Gault, of Clinton, Iowa. The feat will be performed north of the Yacht Club pier at Riverton Labor Day at 7 p. m.

He says he has crossed the Mississippi this way, thereby getting his pictures in the movies and the New York Sunday papers.

Andy got the idea in France while serving with the 6th Infantry Band, where he also conceived the unique pastime of playing his cornet in the deepest water he could find.

He swims part of the time on his back, sometimes on his side and a portion of the time on his breast, the latter method requiring extra good lungs, as he is under water most of the time. The work is all done by the legs and feet, the arms being entirely useless.

N. J. POULTRY BREEDERS TO ADDRESS CONVENTION

Well-known New Jersey poultrymen are among those who will appear as speakers on the educational program that will be held as a part of the annual convention of the New Jersey State Poultry Association at Asbury Park, October 21-24.

Whetzel, of Vineland, a former president of the Vineland Poultry Association, will describe his experiences with battery brooders. Charles Goss, of Rosemont, of the Cane Poultry Farm, and president of the newly organized Flemington Egg Auction Market, will discuss his methods of rearing chicks on tree range. Fred Yahn, of North Haledon, a past president of the Passaic County Board of Agriculture, will tell of his experiences in rearing young stock on wire floors.

SEASON ENDS AT PARK PLAYGROUND

First Season Great Success: Attendance Over 1000 Last Week

The final week of activities at the Memorial Park Playground, Riverton, began very favorably with an athletic carnival Monday night. More than seventy-five boys and girls took part in the various contests, which were designed to test all-around ability in track and field events. Each boy and girl participated in four events and the winners of the badges were determined by the number of points won.

For the boys, the events were 100 yard dash, broad jump, chinning the bar and distance run. The girls participated in the same events, except that the basketball throw was substituted for chinning the bar.

First Prizes
Ella Bussell, with 20 points, as a result of taking first in all of the events in her class, won first place among the older girls and also won a fountain pen as a prize for scoring the largest number of points of the meet.

John Gibson, winner of first place in the older boys' class was close behind with 19 points. His second in the chinning event cost him a tie for the special prize. Other first prize winners were Harold Reynolds, with 15 points, and Bertha Beech, with a like number.

Second prize badges went to Harry Turner, Elizabeth Juhl, William Roser and Betty Bailey. There were numerous ties for third in the various classes and all were awarded badges. They were: Howard Gibson, William Myers, Charles Wallace, Robert Wallace, Francis Brunan, Edward Wallace, Emily Perkins and Catherine Broderick.

Attendance Large
The attendance for last week jumped above the 1000 mark again, when the official records showed an attendance of 1030; this in spite of some rainy weather.

Badges and certificates for proficiency in athletics issued by the National Playground and Recreation Association, were awarded to the following: First Test, Charles DeGraw, Charles Dougherty, Lester Yeary, Jack Reynolds, Edgar Wallace, Esther Shoemaker, Virginia Nicol and Laura Cartman; Second Tests, Joe Gibson, Lloyd Gladney, John Wallace; Third Test, Ella Bussell.

In summarizing the accomplishments of the first season, it would be well to mention that nearly 100 different games were played at the park from day to day. In addition to the games requiring low organization, and the informally arranged activities, there were tournaments conducted in quoits and marbles golf. The latter was played on a home-made course and the winner of the Riverton championship, Robert Wallace, went to Philadelphia, where he showed real ability in taking fourth in the qualifying round of over forty boys.

Each week, usually on Monday night, a special event of some sort was held. These events were very well attended, both by participants and spectators. Among these events were Bicycle Night, Clown Track Meet, Aquatic Meet, Stunt Night and the Jettie Carnival. Other special features held in the afternoon were a Treasure Hunt and a Watermelon Party.

In addition to the program of games and play activities, some handicraft work was done. Many of the girls and boys made various objects of wood, which they cut out and painted themselves.

A very popular diversion for the boys was kite making and flying. Some excellent kites were completed, showing fine workmanship.

Life Saving Tests

Tree Sitter Shows Exceptional Grit

It was revealed last week that Phillip Scarro, 15 years old, of Gloucester City, a contestant for the tree-sitting honors, remained aloft 17 days with a broken leg.

While in the act of putting the finishing touches to his home in the tree, Phillip slipped and fell to the ground, a distance of about 25 feet, breaking his right leg below the knee.

Seeing his plight, several younger onlookers rushed to Phillip to lend him a hand, but Phillip hit his leg determined to win the crown and earn a few dollars for his family. He climbed back to his roughly constructed home in the tree. There he stayed, nursing a broken leg, thinking not of his own peril, but for his folks at home.

On the seventeenth day, Phillip was forced to leave his tree home and was lowered to the ground where he collapsed and was rushed to the Cooper Hospital, Camden.

Phillip now sits in a big chair at home, a big plaster Paris cast covering his right leg. Phillip broods over the fact that he failed in his attempt to bring the crown to his city and comfort to his home.

To Hop Passengers for 1c Pound This Weekend

Continuing the special holiday weekend flying rates that have proven so popular this summer, the Burlington County Aero Club will again fly passengers across to their weight the cheapest flying rates ever offered in this section, over Labor Day weekend.

Beginning this Saturday, the club will fly passengers for a cent a pound, the minimum rate being one dollar, however.

All flights will be made from the club's airport, Hartford-West field road, near Moorestown, and scales will be available to establish the charge for each passenger.

The offer will be for Saturday, Sunday and Monday, which is Labor Day, only, according to an announcement by "Jim" E. Egan, chief of the club. Beginning Tuesday, September 2, the usual passenger "hopping" rates of the club will again go into effect.

ARTISAN BOWLERS TO HOLD MEETING

Will Decide If New Palmyra Alleys Are To be Used

The Artisans' Bowling League, of Palmyra Assembly, is now considering the arrangements for the coming league season, and for this purpose a special meeting will be held Thursday evening, September 4th, in the Lion's Club headquarters, Society Hall.

The question of greatest importance to be decided at this meeting will be whether the "Artisans" League will avail itself of the use of the eight new alleys which are being installed at Broad and Morgan avenues, Palmyra.

The use of these alleys would necessitate a change in the playing schedule, as last year the Artisans' League was composed of ten teams of six men each, or a total of sixty bowlers.

To use an eight-alley "layout" it would be necessary to extend the league membership to eighty bowlers, making sixteen teams of five men each, and roll the games on two nights each week.

If this plan is adopted the games would probably be rolled on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and each team's individual schedule would be arranged so that, as nearly as possible, one-half of the season's games would be rolled on Wednesday evenings, while the other half would be rolled on Thursday evenings. This would make possible the operation of a sixteen-team league and avoid splitting the league into two leagues of eight teams each.

All Artisans who are interested in joining this bowling league are invited to attend the meeting to be held on the evening of September 4th. If it is impossible to attend this meeting, and if you are desirous of joining the league, your name should be immediately registered with Howard Vile, secretary, 617 Chinnaminson avenue, Palmyra.

NEW LOCATION FOR TAK-ABOOST SHOP

New Quarters Will Be Great Improvement Over Former Shop

Arthur M. Bowker expects within a short time to move his Tak-Abboost Shop to its new location at 11 East Broad street, Palmyra, where many improvements have been made for the comfort and convenience of his patrons.

The interior has been newly painted and papered, attractive lighting fixtures have been added, the seating capacity has been increased and a sanitary lavatory with hot and cold running water installed. A large block design linoleum will cover the floor and walnut booths will complete the attractive appointments.

It is planned to offer, in addition to the regular line, special platter lunches each day, a varied selection of table delicacies. Mr. Bowker hopes to open within the next week and invites everyone to drop in and inspect the new shop.

CYCLE OWNER SOUGHT

Quain, of the Bordentown police force, took the abandoned machine to the city garage Sunday night. According to records of the New Jersey State Department of Motor Vehicles, the motorcycle is owned by Rudolph Barr, of 2728 Cove road, Merchantville. Police believe the machine may have been stolen and later abandoned.

OFFICIAL BACKS BAN ON BEETLES

Still Needed, He Declares, Admitting Moorestown Sprays Are Ineffective

The Japanese beetle quarantine is still necessary for this part of the country, Charles H. Hadley, administrator in charge of the Government quarantine headquarters in Camden, declared Monday.

"Although the sprays found by the Department of Agriculture's research station at Moorestown are effective in relieving the harm done by the pests, the rest of the country does not want beetles, even if they can be controlled," said Mr. Hadley.

The quarantine does not expect to rid the country of beetles. If there was any entirely effective way of dealing with them, there would be an embargo. As it is now the quarantine is restrictive rather than prohibitive. Every year the infested territory widens between fifteen and twenty-five miles, which is only natural. There have been no jumps of several hundred miles, which shows the benefits of the quarantine.

In reply to the recent criticisms of the quarantine by Philadelphia florists, led by Samuel S. Pennock, Mr. Hadley said:

"It is the same thing that happens in every quarantine. Those on the inside want relief from the restrictions and those on the outside want to be safe from the conditions in the quarantine region. The florists are on the inside in this case."

W. B. Walton, assistant at the research laboratory at Moorestown, said certain ways have been found to control the Japanese beetle, "but as yet we have found nothing that will exterminate them."

"There are now certain sprays which keep down the damage done by the beetle to most fruit and shade trees without harming the fruit," he said. "These sprays are entirely satisfactory and do the work almost perfectly. In other cases, such as the raspberry bush, we have not been successful in finding a remedy that does not poison the fruit."

Mr. Walton declined to discuss the question of the necessity of a quarantine for this section.

MOORESTOWN CAR FIGURES IN CRASH

Auto Driven By Berry in Collision in Which Two Children Are Injured

An automobile driven by Fred O. Berry, 34 Lakeview Drive, Moorestown, figured in an accident at the intersection of Browning road and Kaighn avenue, Camden, Thursday of last week.

Joseph McDonald, 13, and his sister, Mary, 7, were injured when their father's car and the Berry machine collided.

Joseph was treated for deep lacerations of the arm, and his sister for minor cuts and bruises at Cooper Hospital, Camden. Their father, John McDonald, 35, of 215 Middlesex street, Gloucester, drove the car in which they were riding. No arrests were made.

MAN FALLS FROM BARGE, DROWNED

Disappeared During Night; Body Found at Delanco Four Days Later

Philip Span, of Hackett avenue, Easton, Pennsylvania, was drowned from a dredge in the Delaware early Saturday morning. The officers on the dredge reported the loss to Chief of Police Quigley at 7:45 a. m., stating that Span was missing from the dredge and had probably fallen overboard between the hours of one and two a. m. Mr. Span was employed as an oiler on the dredge of the Tri-mountain Dredging Company working off East River.

Chief Quigley, to whom the accident was reported, communicated with the Philadelphia Harbor Police, who in turn instituted an unsuccessful grappling search lasting a day and a half.

The body was recovered from the water by two of the crew of the dredge opposite Delanco on Tuesday and turned over to Coroner Young, of Burlington.

Chief Quigley states that Mr. Span's slacks had been located in Florida and notified of his death.

WOOD BANK DIRECTOR

Burlington County Trust Co. Elects Alexander C. Wood, Jr., of Chinnaminson

Alexander C. Wood, Jr., of Harmony Hall, Riverton road, has been elected a director of the Burlington County Trust Company to succeed the late Charles W. Stokes, whose death occurred some months ago.

Mr. Wood, who comes from one of the oldest and most distinguished New Jersey families, is the son of the late Alexander C. Wood, who at the time of his death was the President of the Camden Safe Deposit and Trust Company.

Mr. Wood is a member of the banking house of Morley, Wood and Co., Philadelphia, and has been actively identified with finance all his life, and in addition is much interested in civic and benevolent movements.

He has been particularly active in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, being a member of the Board of Managers.

Sees Touring Season Rich in Opportunities

That the touring season is rich in opportunities for improving one's driving is the view of Harold G. Hoffman, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, as the vacation period of enjoyment of the open road draws to a close.

The motorist in his touring, Mr. Hoffman points out, learns more about his car, comes into contact with drivers from other States, with different regulations and conditions, and in general receives a liberal education in good driving practice.

"The saying that experience is the best teacher may be applied especially to motoring," says Mr. Hoffman. "Every time a man drives his car he receives the benefit of additional experience. From observation of others, and from the necessity of meeting all sorts of situations, he increases his own capabilities."

SCHOOL TO OPEN MONDAY, SEPT. 8

Part Time Eliminated; Grades 5, 6, 7, 8 All To be in Same Building

The Palmyra schools will open the Monday following Labor Day this year in accordance with the school calendar recommended by County Superintendent Kaser.

Some changes will be made owing to the increase in number of rooms available. The two fifth grades formerly housed in the Spring Garden street schools will be transferred to the Delaware avenue building. The sixth, seventh and eighth grades will also be in the Delaware avenue building.

Under the new plan a kindergarten room and grades 1, 2, 3, 4 will be housed in the Spring Garden street building. The grammar school grades from fifth up, inclusive, will all be in the Delaware avenue building. There will also be a kindergarten room in this building.

All children entering the kindergarten this term must be five years of age on or before September 10. Room has been provided so all children will attend on regular schedule. There will be no part time pupils.

Two new rooms have been made available by making alterations at the Delaware avenue building. A third will be vacated by the high school this year and can be used for grades.

A new clinic room has been built along the sidewalk opposite the supervisor's office. The new quarters for this department have been considerably enlarged and are now ready for use.

Some changes have been made in the cafeteria. The space formerly occupied by the stairway has been altered to be used as a storage room. A new outside stairway has been constructed which gives easy access to the school yard.

Following is the school calendar approved by the board: School opens, September 8; State teachers' convention and Armistice Day, November 10; 11; Thanksgiving, November 27, 28; Christmas, December 24-January 4; Lincoln's Birthday, February 12; Easter, March 30-April 6; School closes, June 17.

GUARD SUSPENDED IN PRISON PROBE

Ellis Drops Keeper as He Begins Inquiry; 'Dapper Don' Loses Choice Cell

"Dapper Don" Collins, notorious swindler and pioneer rum runner, lost an excellent view of Federal street, Trenton, Monday. He was moved from Cell 35, Wing 7, in State Prison from which he could chat with friends in the street. He was placed in a double cell in another part of the prison and was assigned to work in a prison shop, where automobile license plates are made.

Another event was temporary suspension of a guard, presumably suspected of according Collins special privileges. The guard's name was not revealed.

These changes were announced after a conference between William J. Ellis, commissioner of institutions, and Col. Edward B. Stone, principal keeper of the prison.

Purpose of the conference was to consider charges published by a Trenton newspaper concerning alleged doings among inmate-making brutality and partiality of guards toward convicts with funds.

B. AND L. TO MEET TUESDAY

REEVES ELECTED TO STATE OFFICE AT CONVENTION

Palmyra Recording Secretary Now Master of Forms for N. J. P. O. S. of A.

WIMER AND WOOD COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Next Year's Meeting to be Held in New Brunswick; Date Challenged

Leslie W. Reeves, popular recording secretary of the Palmyra Camp, P. O. S. of A., was elected state master of forms at the meeting of the state camp in Trenton last week.

Two other appointments were made from members of the Palmyra Camp; George N. Wimer was reappointed to the legislative committee and Furman A. Wood was named to the Americanization committee. Howard T. Jarrett, of Bordentown, was reappointed district president of Burlington county.

Many suggestions offered by the Burlington county organization were favorably acted upon and some worthy projects launched.

By amendment to the constitution, the date of meeting was changed to the second Thursday and Friday in September.

The age limits of the Pioneers of America were changed from 12 and 16 years, to 10 and 15 years.

A resolution to erect a memorial fountain at the McKonkey ferry, Washington Crossing Park, in honor of John Honeyman, one of Washington's secret intelligence men, was passed and the necessary funds appropriated.

An attempt to iron out the differences between the national camp and a number of state camps will be made by a committee authorized to confer with the national executive committee.

The Americanization committee, under the leadership of Theodore D. Gottlieb, was instructed to continue the aggressive campaign against all subversive agencies and a new committee with Edgar H. Wilson as chairman, and will investigate the scope and influence of Communistic propaganda in the public schools.

Action on a proposed change in the insurance law of the order was deferred to the next session; in the meantime a special committee of five will study the subject and report in time for proper consideration of this matter.

The matter of providing a home for aged members and orphans of deceased members was referred to a committee for study and report next year.

Only one contest for office was made, that for state guard, George Stamets, of Camp 64, Phillipsburg, won out. New Brunswick was chosen for the next meeting place.

Senator Harris, of Georgia, was warmly commended for the efforts made in passing Senate Bill 81, which will materially restrict immigration from Mexico and Europe, if passed by the House and approved by the President.

Stokes Is Toastmaster
A pleasing feature of the convention was the banquet on Tuesday evening at the Hotel Hildebrecht. Former Governor Edward C. Stokes, a member of Camp 7, Trenton, was toastmaster and the speaker was Dr. E. J. Cattell, of Philadelphia. The feast of material and mental good things, was highly enjoyed.

TRAFFIC CONTROL UP TO MOTORISTS

Successful Administration Depends Much on Driver, Declares Hoffman

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN
State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

Successful traffic administration, when all is said and done, depends a great deal more on the motorist than that individual realizes. Without his co-operation attempts at regulation are futile, but with his wholehearted support the possibility for moving motor vehicle traffic over State highways in an orderly manner is very great.

The successful traffic administrative official or enforcement officer should not look upon the motorist only as the individual who violates the traffic laws or makes it difficult to enforce them. On the other hand, the man who drives must not be allowed to acquire the idea that laws are made just to restrict his freedom, but rather, in the case of using his automobile, that they permit him to drive more safely and with a greater degree of convenience than if all other motorists were negligent in their use of streets and highways.

Once the motorist feels that he has entered into a partnership with the traffic authorities to maintain order on the road, his whole reaction to regulation becomes a more healthy one. He no longer drives in a slipshod manner, trying to see how much he can "get away with," but feels that he has a genuine responsibility toward those whose duty it is to draft and enforce the laws and to all other users of the highways who would be seriously inconvenienced by his negligence.

Controls of traffic are by no means without their useful purposes, but they can be multiplied to a harmful degree. They then make the motorist careless, since he feels that the situation is already solved for him, whereas if he knows that upon reaching an intersection he must decide for himself when it is safe to cross, his own responsibility becomes more acute. As a result, it will temper his entire driving practice.

Naïv signals, in the same way, are expressions of this responsibility. A driver is called upon to give them for the information of those following him. It means that he has been the first to be confronted by the problem of avoiding some hazard ahead, and by signaling to the other driver he passes along the information, together with his own decision, which may be to pass another car or stop entirely.

UPSET CAR DOES NOT STOP PLEASURE TRIP

Looking at Signs Causes Moorestown Woman to Go in Four-Foot Ditch

Mrs. Katherine Pfender, her daughter, Miss Kathryn Pfender, both of Moorestown, and a friend, Betty Wirth, of Marlton, escaped uninjured recently when the car, driven by Mrs. Pfender, overturned just before the party reached Harrisburg on a trip to Canada.

At Cornwall Mrs. Pfender attempted to read a road sign at a fork in the road. When she turned to drive in the direction of Harrisburg, she saw before her a pile of soft coal. "Thinking this would stop the car from going into the ditch beyond, she coasted into the coal pile. The car went through the soft dirt and fell into the ditch, turning completely over on the left side.

No one was injured and the car was not even scratched. Men who stopped helped the women from the car and turned it upright. A lumber truck happened along and pulled the car to the road. In fifteen minutes the car was again occupied and the journey to Niagara was continued.

HOLLY MAN SUFFERS SHOCK

Walter H. Bowker, of 42 Church street, Mount Holly, was given an "electric surprise" Saturday afternoon while washing and cleaning his automobile. He had finished washing the machine and was using a vacuum cleaner on the upholstery in the car. There was plenty of water about and a short circuit in the wire. At the cleaner knocked Bowker unconscious for a few minutes. He suffered the effects of the shock for four hours. Bowker is president of America Fire Company, No. 4, and is an active member of the Methodist Church.

Rug Salesman in County Jail After Alleged Trip to Europe With Widow

John J. Lacy Awaiting Action of Grand Jury Following Arrest on Wife's Warrant Charging Bigamy and Misconduct Over Two Year Period

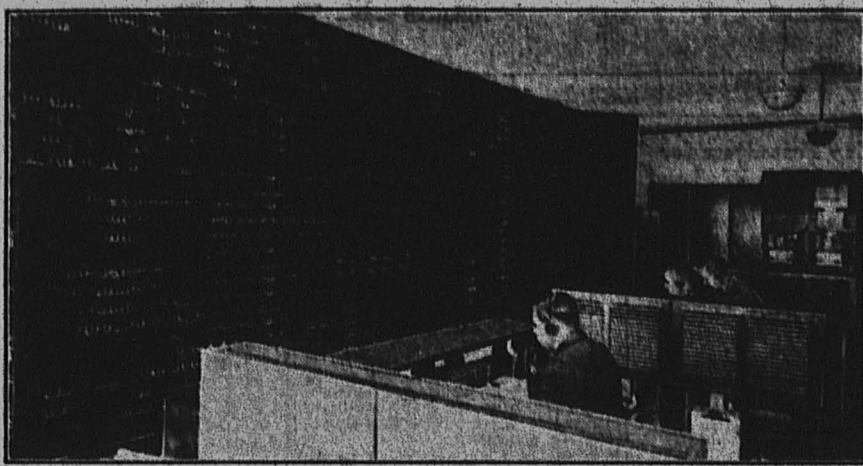

A former Philadelphia rug salesman is now in the Burlington county jail awaiting the action of the grand jury on charges of bigamy and misconduct preferred by his wife.

At a hearing held before William L. Fichter, Palmyra Borough Recorder, last Friday afternoon Mrs. Agnes Lacy, mother of two children, seven and nine years of age respectively, brought charges against her husband, John, who for the past two years, she alleges, has lived at 708 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, as the husband of Mrs. Mary O. Graham.

Mrs. Lacy said she knew nothing of her husband's whereabouts since she left her home two weeks ago. At the time he was employed as a salesman and sold rugs from door to door.

She saw in a Philadelphia paper early in the summer where a Mr. and Mrs. John J. Lacy were registered as passengers aboard a ship bound for Europe. She began a series of investi-

How Electric Company's Load Dispatcher Handles System During a Thunder Storm

LOAD DISPATCHER'S CONTROL BOARD
(A huge blackboard, 24 feet long and 12 feet high, shows location of transmission lines connecting five generating stations, nine switching stations and eighty-three substations in Public Service territory as well as those which connect the Public Service system with neighboring companies. The board is dotted with red, green, violet, white and amber lights to indicate how the system is functioning. Red and amber show service normally; green and white indicate trouble on the lower voltage lines and violet, trouble on the higher voltage lines.)

KEEPING tabs on the movements of all electrical storms within a hundred miles or so of New Jersey is one of the important jobs of the Public Service load dispatcher, for the approach of a thunder storm must be carefully watched by the operating men of any great electric power company.

As everyone knows an oncoming electric storm brings sudden darkness causing hundreds of persons to reach for the switch of their electric lights simultaneously. This results in an almost perpendicular increase in the load on the electric generators at the power station as hundreds of thousands of lights flash on.

This sudden increase in load must be anticipated by the load dispatcher and explained his keen interest in the weather. By means of direct telephone wires the Public Service load dispatcher is in contact with the load dispatchers of the Philadelphia Electric Company, New Jersey Power and Light and other companies with which Public Service is interconnected. These men keep him informed as to the direction and intensity of all electrical storms either in or approaching their respective territories. It is the load dispatcher's job to see that sufficient power is available at any point where needed, and that this power shall be made available without strain on any part of the distribution system.

But the problem of meeting the sudden demand for power during a thunderstorm is only part of the load dispatcher's worries. With hundreds of miles of open transmission lines extending in all directions heavy electric charges may be absorbed by any electric system during severe electric storms causing carefully designed protective devices guarding the system to momentarily cut certain lines out of service. The load dispatcher is made immediately aware of this fact by the lights flashing on his board and he must keep on the job until this line is either restored to service or he has arranged a supply of power for it from another source.

Such a condition as this may be noticed by watching your electric light during a severe storm. When a "bump," as the load dispatcher call it, occurs the lights will dip even though the electric charges may have been absorbed at some part of a power company's system with which Public Service is interconnected, more than 100 miles away.

Relationships are demanding creative and self-disciplined activity.

To aid in developing such atmosphere in the school and such qualities of personality in the students, the school has selected a group of teachers of high moral, scholastic, and cultural standards.

BIRTHDAYS OF YMCA HEADS CELEBRATED

Three Burlington County Officials, Included in Program, Pass Year Mark Successfully

Among the YMCA officials of Burlington County three birthdays have just been celebrated, on three successive days, for William P. Overman, president, on Sunday, August 24th; Clifford W. Ergood, on the 25th, and Guy C. Hendry on the 26th.

President Overman has been connected with the County YMCA from the time of its organization twenty-five years ago this June. He has been at the head of the work here in the County since June 6, 1913.

Associate Secretary Ergood came to Burlington County in June, 1926. Secretary Hendry is now on his fourth year, having come here in June, 1917.

Also, on Sunday, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Hendry at the Burlington County Hospital.

STATE PLANS TO REPLACE RABBITS KILLED BY AUTOS

Automobiles are adding to the cost of hunting in New Jersey. Speeding cars on the improved highways are taking such a toll of rabbits that the Fish and Game Commission has decided to import 5,000 additional western cottontails to help offset the loss.

This destruction of game is recognized by the Commission as being avoidable, with increased re-stocking as the only solution to the problem of keeping up the supply of the State's most popular small game animal. With the increased order, the State will import a total of 30,000 rabbits next year. These will be distributed under the direction of State Wardens in the various counties.

A town down in Georgia has passed a curfew ordinance to compel the whoopee-making old folks to go home earlier. We knew it was only a question of time when the youngsters would take their elders in hand and try to make something out of them.

YMCA ORCHESTRA ENTERTAINS GIRLS

Campers at Ockanickon Hear Second Concert by County Musicians

Friday evening a group of sixteen Burlington County YMCA musicians played a second concert for the girl campers at Ockanickon, with Secretary Guy C. Hendry directing. The first concert was just a week earlier, when there were twenty in the orchestra.

As a part of Friday night's program a large portion of the evening was spent in singing popular songs, with orchestra accompaniment. The girls selected two song leaders from their number, who had difficulty in determining which of the many songs shouted for should be sung next.

Following the singing and concert refreshments were served the musicians by the camp honor tent for the past week, whose invitation it was that the orchestra returned for this second concert.

The violinists were Albert K. Salmon, Moorestown; Albert Worth, Mount Holly; Leon Rosenfeld, and Monte Feinstein, also of Mount Holly. Cornettists were Wilmer Hoffman, Mount Holly; Alex J. Boyd, Burlington. Horns, George W. Bayle and Roland Woolman, of Burlington. Banjoist was Harold E. Moore, Burlington. Saxophone solo was played by Clarence B. Davenport, Mount Holly; Albert Sosio, Burlington. Trombones were played by George C. Taylor, Mount Holly; Theodore Willey, Burlington. Piano accompanist was Miss Reta Koupnick, Mount Holly; bass, Y. Earl Russell, Mount Holly; drums, Robert C. Chance, 3rd, Mount Holly.

A. C. MIDDLETON DENIES FRICTION

Rumors of Rift With Comptroller False, Says State Treasurer

There is only the best of feeling between State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, of Moorestown, and State Comptroller John McCutcheon, of Paterson. Middleton declared last week when interviewed concerning rumors of friction between them.

The reports grew from the fact that the Treasurer had asked for a ruling from the Attorney General as to the legal necessity of the State Comptroller countersigning drafts of Mr. Middleton, transferring State funds from one bank to another.

The Attorney General's opinion, although requested and given in February, did not become public property until this week when read at the hearing of the Abell Commission.

"There is absolutely no truth in the report that there is friction between State Comptroller McCutcheon and myself," said Mr. Middleton. "We have been friends for years and I consider him one of my best friends. My office and the office of the State Comptroller are working in absolute harmony and reports to the contrary are absolutely untrue."

Dr. Frederick Burnett, counsel for the Abell Commission, hinted at the question of harmony when he asked for reasons why the Treasurer's department had asked for the opinion.

Deputy Treasurer Horace C. Oltens said that there were none, except that he and Mr. Middleton had discussed several times the necessity for the Comptroller's signature on the drafts and had obtained an oral opinion from the Attorney General's department some time prior to the written one, because the countersigning was causing delays and embarrassments.

The fact that the Abell Commission had been inquiring into the $200,000 State deposit made to the bank in Lodi Township just prior to the outbreak of the written decision was without significance, declared Oltens. The Comptroller had been interested in negotiating this deposit for the Lodi bank, and it was subsequently withdrawn by Mr. Middleton.

"HIGHEST" BUILDING WILL USE GAS ON 6TH FLOOR

The loftiest structure ever reared by man (up to the present time) is piped for gas to cook food, heat water, and do other things hundreds of feet above the sidewalks of New York. The new Chrysler Building, in that city towers 1,046 feet from the sidewalk to the top of its cloud-piercing shaft, remarks the New Jersey Public Utility Information Committee.

GIRL VANISHES FROM HER HOME IN LENOLA

Mary Taylor Missing From Home Since Sunday; Reason for Disappearance Unknown

Mary Taylor, sixteen-year-old Lenola girl, has been missing from her home since Sunday. Police authorities have been notified and search is being made.

She has dark hair and is described as being five feet two inches tall, and weighing 110 pounds. When last seen she was wearing a red dress, dark coat, and a black wide-rimmed hat. Police report that she had a "stiff neck," which was due to rheumatism.

The girl formerly worked at the Liberty Lunch, on West Main street, Moorestown, but was discharged some time ago. No reason has been given the police for her disappearance except that it may have been due to her unemployment.

ANOTHER PROPOSITION TO BUILD TOWN HALL

Ordinance at Mount Holly to Be Introduced to Provide Bond Issue of $60,000

Northampton Township Committee is having an ordinance prepared to provide a bond issue for erection of a town hall. Members of the committee have been urged by a number of residents to take that step on the ground that Mount Holly needs a municipal building, the present structure being a disgrace to the town.

It is reported that the ordinance will originate an expenditure of $60,000 for building and site.

This proposition was considered in April, 1920, and caused much discussion. At the time the proposed bond issue was for $75,000; of which $15,000 was for a three-story house owned by Reeve Stewart, 23-25 Washington street.

SALESMEN STILL "TAG" MOTORISTS

Traffic Act Provision Prohibiting Stopping of Automobiles Being Disregarded

Complaint is made by motorists that solicitors for bannars, fairs and "benefits" are disregarding the provision of the Traffic Act prohibiting the stopping of motor cars for the sale of tickets.

In many sections of the State the bannar season is in full swing and considerable traffic congestion has resulted from the action of zealous salesmen, who seek to obtain contributions by "tagging" motorists, according to the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey.

"With highways taxed to their capacity by vehicles," says a statement by the Club, "the practice of solicitation or tagging has caused much confusion and congestion, with consequent addition to the hazards of motoring. The Legislature has taken cognizance of this condition and the Traffic Act expressly prohibits the person from soliciting in the highways 'to stop, impede, hinder or delay the progress of any vehicle, for the purpose of soliciting the purchase of goods, merchandise or tickets, or for the purpose of soliciting contributions for any cause whatsoever.'"

"It has long been the custom of volunteer fire companies, churches and lodges to increase the receipts of their 'benefits' by stationing members in the street. Many of them no doubt do not realize that the practice has become actionable under the law. But the fact remains that they are liable to arrest and a fine of $50 for failing to observe this provision of the Traffic Act.

There is slight chance of evading the penalty if arrest is made because the law provides that the only question of law and fact in determining guilt under this subdivision shall be whether goods, merchandise or tickets were tendered or offered for sale, or whether a contribution was solicited."

NO LENIENCY FOR DRUNKEN DRIVERS

Hoffman Says Law is Mandatory; Will Continue to Revoke Cards

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN
State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

Motorists can commit a no more heinous offense than driving while drunk.

Its effects are so obvious as to require no appeal to popular opinion in support of the most drastic punishment. The offense is one which provides every traffic administrator with a problem. In New Jersey we propose to deal with the problem with unremitting effort to eliminate the drunken driver for the protection of everyone who uses our highways.

In a recent circular letter sent to law enforcement and judicial officers throughout the State, I called attention to certain undesirable practices in dealing with the drunken driver. I believe that if the law is followed to the letter there will be marked improvement in conditions. The law provides mandatory punishment for the man who attempts to drive an automobile in an intoxicated state, and I felt it my duty to call this to the attention of those whose task it is to enforce the statute.

Law is Mandatory
The practice of suspending sentence for conviction of the charge of driving while drunk is one that should be discontinued, as well as that of accepting the payment of any fine in installments. It is too strenuous an offense to permit any leniency. The law is specific on this point and has been construed as being absolutely mandatory by the Attorney General of this State.

In the event of conviction, the law provides, for the first offense, a fine of not less than $200 nor more than $500, imprisonment for not less than 30 days and not more than three months, or both, in the discretion of the magistrate.

However, I believe in affording every driver all the safeguards of the law and in that connection in all fairness to the State, should be given the opportunity of being faced by his accuser. If a physician has certified to his intoxication, he should appear so that he may be cross-examined by the defense, and in no case should a certificate be permitted to displace this verbal testimony in court.

Any Abnormal Condition
There probably is some misconception in the public mind as to what constitutes driving while drunk. In the case of the State vs. Rogers it was held that it is not essential that the driver of an automobile be so intoxicated that he cannot safely drive his car. The court on that occasion defined the offense as resulting from "any abnormal condition of the driver which is the result of indulging in any degree in intoxicating liquors and which tends to deprive him of that clearness of intellect and control of himself which he would otherwise possess."

Even though a man drive so slowly and with a degree of skill that the public is not annoyed or endangered, according to the court's ruling, he still may be convicted on this charge, for it would be plainly against public policy to permit such lax construction of the statute.

The motor vehicle laws of this State give the Commissioner the authority to revoke the permit of any motorist convicted of driving while under the influence of liquor. Within a period of three months after taking office, I cancelled the licenses of more than 500 persons and I shall continue this policy to safeguard all users of the highways against the individual who is a menace to their safety.

There is no alternative, and the Commissioner's office must and will use every means in its power to discourage and eliminate willful disregard of public welfare. We must get rid of the drunken driver.

Benjamin H. Gillingham

Benjamin H. Gillingham died at the age of 78 years at the home of his sister, Mrs. Mary E. O. Linton, East Central avenue, Moorestown, Wednesday afternoon of last week.

Funeral services were conducted after the manner of Friends from his late residence on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment was made in Colestown Cemetery.

Mr. Gillingham, son of the late George L. and Elizabeth Gillingham, was born on the ancestral farm, on the New Albany road, now the estate of F. Wallis Armstrong.

After the death of his father and mother the place became his and he farmed it many years. Later he was associated with his brother-in-law, the late Isaiah W. Linton, in the restaurant business in Philadelphia.

He was very well known in Moorestown and had many friends in all classes of people.

SEES NITRATE COMBINE AN AID TO AGRICULTURE

Agriculture has no cause to fear the world marketing and price agreement reached by Chilean and European nitrate interests, said Dr. J. O. Lippman, director of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, on his return from Chile, where he participated in the celebration commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the exportation of nitrate of soda from that country. Several weeks' study of the nitrate industry in Chile, plus his own knowledge of highly competitive struggle between makers of synthetic nitrogen in European countries and the Chilean nitrate interests, are the basis for Dr. Lippman's assertion. During his visit to South America, Dr. Lippman was made an honorary faculty member of the college of agriculture, University of Chile, and the honorary degree of doctor was conferred upon him by the Catholic University of Santiago.

HOME LOOTED BY DARING ROBBERS

Loss at Moorestown Home Estimated Between $750
and $1,000

Clothing, jewelry, traveling bags and other miscellaneous articles, valued between $750 and $1,000, were stolen from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Armstrong, Park Drive, Moorestown, in the most daring of the series of robberies that have been committed throughout South Jersey.

The robbery occurred Monday evening, between eight and shortly after ten o'clock, while the Armstrongs were enjoying a short ride in their automobile.

Four, and possibly more, private garages were entered in Moorestown last Saturday evening. While the Armstrong robbery gives evidence of having been the work of an expert, police believe the garage depredations were committed by novices, and their loot was very small.

The Armstrongs left their home about eight o'clock on the short motor trip, and upon their return, shortly after ten o'clock, they found the back door open and the second floor thoroughly ransacked. Entrance, it is believed, was gained through a small window, immediately adjoining the back door on the east side of the house.

The loot included three watches, two women's and one man's, three traveling bags, some of which were filled with silk underclothing and other women's wearing apparel, having already been packed by Mrs. Armstrong in preparation for a trip, eleven dresses, some of which were expensive, three of Mrs. Armstrong's coats, two of her son's suits, one brand new; two men's overcoats, a rain coat, two fountain pens and a purse containing approximately $5.00. The jewelry was valued at considerably more than $100.

It is believed plunder was taken from the house in the bags, for some of the trays were removed, evidently to allow more space for packing the loot.

Virtually nothing was touched on the first floor, all of the efforts having been confined to ransacking the bedrooms. The burglars lowered the window shades on one side of the house so that they might work without danger of being seen by neighbors.

Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw and County detectives are working on the case, but have not made public any clues that were discovered. This is the first robbery in the Club Estates section.

Saturday night combination mirrors and clocks were taken from automobiles in garages of Joseph Lippincott, 218 East Main street, and E. C. Crimley, 247 East Main street. Each was valued at $15.00. William D. Lippincott, 223 East Main street, and W. B. Weaver, 527 East Main street, reported their garages had been entered, but nothing was missing. A can opener was dropped in the Weaver garage and a pair of rusty pliers were found at Joseph Lippincott's. It is understood that at least two other garages were entered, but as nothing was missing the owners did not report the occurrences to the police.

FISH, GAME PARKS AT VERY LOW FEE

Commissioner Urges Additional Dollar be Added Cost of Licenses

At an addition of only a dollar a year to the cost of their license, New Jersey sportsmen can be given by the State full membership advantages in what might be described as the greatest series of fishing and hunting clubs to be found in the United States, says George S. McCarty, of Newfield, member of the State Fish and Game Commission. Advocating the enactment by the incoming Legislature of the increased fishing and hunting license fee bill, introduced and endorsed by organized sportsmen throughout the State, last year, but which was pigeon-holed by a Senate committee, he urges renewed action by hunters and fishermen to obtain the desired legislation.

As an experiment and for his own pleasure, Commissioner McCarty has developed a model fishing lake and hunting preserve on his own property in South Jersey and he cites this as an example of what the State can do for sportsmen in creating similar areas in every county at small cost. "New Jersey easily can be made in a short time the most attractive of all States for the hunters, fishermen and all lovers of the outdoors," asserts the Commissioner in discussing the project. "To accomplish this the sportsmen themselves can enable the State to set aside for their use certain property such as lakes, streams and hunting areas. There is no question but that the hunters and fishermen of the State are strongly behind any increased license fee bill that will make the purchase or long-term lease of such grounds possible."

ADOPT NEW SCORING PLAN

The introduction on next October 1 of the point system of scoring in New Jersey's three egg-laying contests will provide the means for more accurately measuring the performance of each pullet entered. John W. Goodman, contest superintendent, explained recently. Heretofore, a pullet laying eggs averaging 24 or 26 ounces to the dozen received no more credit than did one producing eggs which averaged only 20 to 22 ounces to the dozen. All this will be changed, however, with the starting of the 1930-1931 contests in October.

CHANGE CO. 'AG' EXHIBIT DATES

Products Show Will Now be Held September 17
and 18

It has been necessary for the committee making arrangements for the Annual Agricultural Products Show and Picnic to put the dates for the show ahead one day. Therefore the final dates decided upon will be September 17 and 18 instead of 18 and 19.

All indications are that the show will be of the same high type as that of last year and the committee making the arrangements are sparing no efforts to make the two days a real success. The fruit, vegetable and poultry exhibits will be held as usual in the Armory. The cattle exhibit will be held on the Court House grounds. An added feature of the show this year will be a large machinery and implement exhibit, put on by dealers and commercial concerns.

On the first day the exhibits will be judged and in addition there will be a short speaking program in the afternoon. The second day will be Pomona Orange Day and the Annual Picnic of the organization will be held and again there will be a short speaking program, followed by a spirited ball game. In the evening the Pomona Orange will hold a dance at the Pavilion at the R. and F. Field. Both days the Mount Holly Band will furnish music, arrangements for which have been made by the Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce.

The Mount Holly Garden Club has informed the committee that it will hold its annual fall flower show on the second day and those who attended this show last year will well remember the high quality of this exhibit and will want to see it again.

The following are the various committees who are making the arrangements for these two days: From the County Board of Agriculture: William K. Hookstra, Beverly; John S. Pew, Mount Holly; Charles Jessup, Riverton; Ernest Sutton, Burlington; Henry Herr, Moorestown; Glenn Sponenberg, Cookstown. From the Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce: William Jones, Whit; Shinn, Arthur D. Gross, Samuel Fenimore, Irving Gas-kill. From the Pomona Orange: Howard Emmons, Maurice Conrow, Howard Wills and William T. Baggs.

PHILLIP E. GORMAN IS GIVEN TRANSFUSION

Camden Bartender Receives Blood in Philadelphia Hospital to Combat Undiagnosed Malady

Phillip E. Gorman, of 11 East Main street, Moorestown, underwent a blood transfusion at St. Joseph's Hospital, Philadelphia, Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Mr. Gorman has been seriously ill for more than a week, suffering from a malady which has not yet been diagnosed by the doctors.

Relatives and Camden police asked for volunteers for the transfusion on Sunday and five relatives and friends responded, but their blood did not type with Gorman's. Additional tests were made on Monday.

The Moorestown man will undoubtedly have to undergo more transfusions. The name of the person who gave blood on Tuesday was not made public.

ERRAND OF MERCY UNCOVERS LIQUOR

Carlsake Rushes to "Dying" Man and Finds High-Powered Home Brew

Underherif Charles L. Carlsake went on an errand of mercy Thursday of last week when a woman telephoned that a man was dying from heart failure in a store leased by Peter O'Garra, at Cookstown.

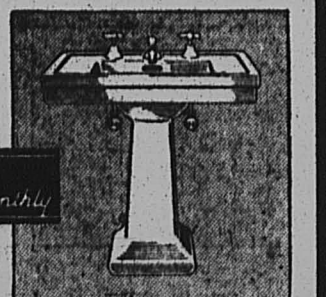

He returned to the County Jail at Mount Holly with a case of alleged high-powered home brew and 19 whiskey containers, some of which were partly filled with liquor.

The "dying" man was Henry O. Pullin, of Cookstown. When he suffered a heart attack in the store a woman called Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn, who dispatched Carlsake and State Police to the scene. The woman had meanwhile summoned a New Egypt physician, who revived the man. When Carlsake arrived he found Pullin recovering. Carlsake searched the store with the permission of William Thompson, of New Egypt, who was then in charge. When the alleged intoxicants were found the officers looked around for Thompson. He had disappeared.

Shots were fired into the beauty parlor of Mrs. Myrtle Ellsworth, of Chicago, presumably because she had offended competitors by cutting prices.

RURAL BOY SCOUTS

Good progress is being made in a number of states in the extension of scouting activities to the rural districts, through the training of Lone Scouts who are unable to meet frequently with their fellows for group exercises.

At present there are 36 merit badges awarded for subjects suitable for the farm boy's pursuit, such as fire fighting on the farm or adjacent forests, tree culture, bird protection, clean-up programs and many others.

One more practical and useful piece of work recommended is the preparation of cabinets containing first aid kits for use in case of injury to persons or animals. At each home where a Boy Scout has such a cabinet a sign is placed, so that passersby may know that in case of accident first aid may be obtained there.

The Boy Scout organization is directing these Lone Scouts through a special department of rural scouting, which provides a program diversified enough to meet the needs of any boy, no matter how remote the locality in which he lives. This movement is a most worthy and beneficial one, deserving of all encouragement and cooperation by parents and teachers.

BIG MEN NOT WANTED

It may sound cynical, but it is a fact that the really capable men of the country are becoming extremely shy of politics and political jobs. Whenever a man who has made a success in life is proposed as a candidate for either election or appointment, he is immediately pounced upon by the demagogues and hounded without mercy. The situation was sized up some time ago by

Will Rogers, who with his characteristic keen insight, said of presidential appointments:

"Big men won't take them, for they won't take a chance on a Senate insult. If he has ever earned more than a Senator, he is in league with big business. If he ever drove a Standard Oil truck or was a bookkeeper in a Morgan bank he is in league with monopolies. If he is rich he is in league with the devil. But if he has never done anything and has been a financial failure at that, he will pass the Senate as a brother."

While these are the words of a humorist, they are literally true. The United States Senate has degenerated into a body of mediocre men, who delight in attacking their more able fellow-citizens who happen to be proposed for high appointive office. Thus demagoguery has supplanted democracy in the United States Senate.

THEORY AND PRACTICE

It is mighty fine to know a lot, but it is even better to be able to do things. Many persons who have at their command a considerable assortment of information are unable to put it to very much practical use.

This was neatly illustrated in a sort of "confession" article by a teacher, in a recent periodical. She said:

"I can solve a quadratic equation, but I cannot keep my bank account straight.

"I can name the Kings of England since the War of the Roses, but I do not know the qualifications of the candidates in the coming election.

"I know the economic theories of Malthus and Adam Smith, but I cannot live within my income.

"I can explain the principles of hydraulics, but I cannot fix a leak in the kitchen faucet.

"I have studied the psychology of James and Titchener, but I cannot control my own temper.

"I can conjugate Latin verbs, but I cannot write legibly."

While this picture may be somewhat overdrawn, it serves to illustrate the futility of much that passes for education, when its acquisition is not accompanied by training which leads to its useful employment in everyday life.

Approximately 5,000,000 people, or five per cent. of American population, suffer from either asthma or hay fever or both, it is estimated. Both are classed as non-fatal disease, but cause much suffering and depression to victims, it is pointed out.

As a matter of fact, the national birthrate in the United States is rapidly approaching the death rate. The proportion is now about 20 deaths to every 23 births. A century and a half ago an English clergyman named Malthus wrote a learned essay in which he calculated that the pressure of population upon the means of subsistence would make it impossible for all the people on earth in the 20th century—now—to get food enough to eat. The Malthusian theory was taken seriously by many economists until recently. But, somehow, it isn't working out. Right now we have a surplus of most foodstuffs, and the birthrate is still declining.

I said to the lad, "Take them. Symphonies with them. Laugh with them. God will do the judging."

Finally I said that, while it might be the younger man good to change a job, I doubted whether it would. He is in a fast-growing industry which has made fortunes and will make many others.

I told him about a friend of mine who was driving through the Kentucky mountains. Wanting to get to Cincinnati for the night, he asked directions of a native.

"Go down this road about ten miles, and take your right turn," the native began. Then he stopped, and said, "No, I think you'd do better to go the other way and take your left." He spat again, thought deeply, and then, in a sudden burst of confidence, exclaimed: "Tell you that, neighbor. If I was aiming to go to Cincinnati I wouldn't start on here."

Most of us want to arrive, but we'd like to start from somewhere else. Maybe I'm wrong, but I have come to the conclusion that it doesn't make much difference where one starts, that all businesses are good and all are bad, all are dull and all are thrilling.

And that the important things about setting somewhere is not studying maps or wondering about other roads, but starting, right here, where we are.

MONMOUTH COUNTY HAS OVER 150,000 POPULATION

Albert Helmroth, census supervisor for the eleventh district, stated last week that Asbury Park has won its long battle with Long Branch for population supremacy. Final census figures gave Asbury Park 22,977 and Long Branch 20,973. The final returns also gave Monmouth County population in excess of 150,000.

Here is the dressing sack that we have found so convenient and that can be packed as easily as a large handkerchief in one's vacation trunk or bag. We suggest making one for yourself now, and several more to use for Christmas presents or bridge party prizes late on.

The material measures a yard and a half the long way and a yard the other way. You will need five and a half yards of lace which is applied flat and mitered at the corners. If you do not want lace you can finish the edge with feather stitching done with silk to match the jacket. The slit is about nine inches long. Turn the raw edges of the slit back on the right side a quarter of an inch, running down almost to nothing at the ends, and cover with a strip of rosebud trimming. Or else don't turn the edges back—just bind them with a piece of ribbon, soft, narrow ribbon, not more than three-quarters of an inch wide. And lay the rosebud trimming on over that. If you want you can bind the whole thing with ribbon, instead of turning a hem, and then bind the neck opening with the same ribbon and omit the rosebud trimming.

August Meulen, of Indianapolis, sued Miss Sadie Williams, charging that she ran into his car while she was driving and kissing a man at the same time.

Harry Burns is spending the rest of the summer in Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blyler and family are enjoying a week at Beach Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Geelan will spend the weekend in Troy, New York, with Mr. Geelan's mother.

MARLTON NOTES

A birthday surprise party was given to Mrs. Mary Sinclair on Tuesday evening of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Amory Piper. The affair was a complete surprise. Mrs. Sinclair spent the weekend with her granddaughter, Mrs. Violet Seither, at Palmyra, and was returned to the Piper home on Tuesday evening after the guests had arrived. When she entered the home and was greeted by the guests she was a bit bewildered, but soon realized that her Palmyra journey was a bit of strategy. A most pleasant evening was enjoyed and a delicious fried chicken dinner was served. Those present were Mrs. Ida M. Haines, Mrs. Eva Langhead, Mrs. Rachel Dennis, Rev. and Mrs. Tomlinson, Mrs. Sarah Stoops, Mrs. Emma Cattell, Mrs. Nathan Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Amory Piper, Earl Piper, John Piper, of Merchantville; Mrs. Violet Piper, of Palmyra; Miss Dorothy Stewart, of Philadelphia; Mrs. R. ## BRIDGEPORT MAN AND WIFE NOW PRAISE KONJOLA

Both Now Eager to Tell Others All That Famed New Medicine Did for Them

MR. JAMES A. BUDROW

"My wife and I have taken Konjola for about three weeks and are glad to tell all that it has done for us," said Mr. James A. Budrow, 307 Beach street, Bridgeport. "Mrs. Budrow had been bothered for years with constipation. This condition, together with acute indigestion for almost two years had certainly been very troublesome to her. Heartburn and frequent night risings added to her misery. In my case, my work as locomotive engineer made it necessary for me to eat at irregular hours and I, too, was beginning to have stomach trouble."

"It did not take this medicine long in either case to bring results. A bottle or so brought my stomach to normal and I am no longer troubled. It has proved an excellent tonic in my case. Mrs. Budrow has received excellent results and is much improved in health since taking this medicine. We are both glad to endorse this new medicine."

Konjola is really a medicine for the whole family. Men and women of all ages, even infants have been restored to health through its healing power. Give Konjola a real trial today. Konjola is sold in Riverton at L. L. Keating's store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"CHRIST JESUS" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 31, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "We have seen and do testify that the Father sent the Son to be the Saviour of the world" (I John 4:14). Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus unto them again, Verily, verily, I say unto you, I am the door of the sheep. I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out, and find pasture" (John 10:7, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established his church and maintained his mission on a spiritual foundation of Christ-healing. He taught his followers that his religion had a divine Principle, which would cast out error and heal both the sick and the sinning" (p. 136).

PLANE TALKS

By L. H. H. LONGAKER
A Founder, Burlington County
Aero Club

Well, folks, here we are, broadcasting direct from the National Air Races at the Curtiss-Wright-Reynolds Airport, Chicago, Illinois. The airport is one mile in each direction and if you overshoot the field (try and do it) you can land any place.

We are writing this column Sunday evening so it will be East in time to be published. The crowds yesterday and today reached about 150,000, weather perfect and flying par excellence.

Everybody and his brother in the aircraft industry is here and the races are going over in a big way. Why does the West always have to get the National Air Races? If you really want to know, we will tell you sometime.

The Mid-West learned a lot about Auto-Giros this afternoon when three Pictairn-Cereva Auto-Giros took the air and made their vertical descents and what have you. These flying wind-mills—certainly proved interesting to the uninitiated.

To our mind the real thrill of the races so far was the flying done by the six Marine Corps flyers this afternoon. The boys put on a real exhibition of formation flying and followed this up with the "Squirrel Cage" stuff which is only seen at an occasion like this.

Do you remember some time ago when Freddie Lund, stunt pilot for Waco Aircraft Corporation, put on an exhibition over the Moorestown Airport? You should have seen Freddie put his ship through its paces this afternoon.

We have the best stunt pilots from England, France, Italy and Germany here and they are putting on daily exhibitions. Yesterday the German ace's ship's motor conked out and he washed out his Junkers plane. Today he is flying a Commandaire. However, the French ace put on the "Floradora Girl" model and everything. Really it's a riot to watch it.

The Air Derby from Hartford, Conn., reached here this afternoon and our old friend, Wes Smith, from Norwalk, finished first. Tony Little, Macdonald, and Charley Meyers, third. Verne Roberts, who had been leading all the way, dropped a valve over Lake Erie and had to withdraw, giving Wes and Tony, in their Monocoups, a clear field.

The burglars who robbed Winston House in Westchester, Eng., of $10,000 worth of valuables and smoked a costly brand of cigarettes left a note: "Many thanks for your cigarettes—the best I have ever smoked."

PRUNING EVER-BLOOMING ROSES

By A. C. McLean, N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

"Should I cut back my ever-blooming roses?" is the question frequently raised by many a home gardener at this season.

A moderate cutting back now is not likely to do any harm, especially if the foliage has been injured either by insects or disease. Moderate pruning now will stimulate vigorous growth of rose wood that has been ripened by the recent extremely hot weather. This new growth should flower well the latter part of September and early October. The pruning should not be delayed, because soft growth made late in the fall may be winter-killed.

Ever-blooming roses do not thrive in New Jersey's hot, dry, mid-summer weather; in fact, they frequently become dormant at that season. Roses of this type bloom best in spring or fall.

In preparing roses for winter, the plants should be well bled with soil around their bases. This filling practice, which should not be done until late November, will protect the base of the blooming wood from severe winter injury. It is of no great consequence if the older wood, or the wood above ground, kills back to the top of the mount. There will still remain sufficient wood to start a healthy growth next spring. Most authorities, in fact, recommend that roses be pruned heavily each spring.

Additional information on this subject is contained in a free bulletin of the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station entitled, "Roses in the Garden." Copies of this publication may be obtained by writing to County agricultural agents or to the Mail Clerk, N. J. Agricultural Experiment Station, New Brunswick.

REPAIR LAWN DAMAGE NOW

By Howard B. Sprague, Experiment Station Agronomist

A large percentage of the lawns in New Jersey and adjacent States have been badly injured by hot, dry weather, weeds, and diseases. This damage may be largely repaired if preparations are made now, because late August and early September are the most favorable times for renovating poor lawns and seeding new ones. Preparations for renovating or seeding should begin at once so that seedbed will be in readiness on the proper date.

If the lawn is badly infested with crab grass and similar weeds a systematic plan for improvement should be followed. This includes a vigorous raking and close mowing in late August to remove as many of the weeds as possible, an application of lime if the soil is strongly acid, the addition of a complete fertilizer rich in nitrogen, and reseeding where the sod is thin. Such weeds as crab grass cease growth with the approach of cooler weather, and will not again become a serious menace until next June. Between September 1 and June 1 every effort should be made to encourage healthy vigorous growth of desirable grasses.

Late spring and summer seedings of lawns customarily give undesirable results because the young grass cannot compete with rapidly growing weeds or endure hot weather. Late summer seedings usually succeed, however, if soil conditions are favorable. This is because the young seedlings have an opportunity to become thoroughly established before hot weather and summer weeds arrive. Lawn owners should not be discouraged if the seedlings failed; the best season for this work is now at hand.

The ANEMONE JAPONICA
By A. C. McLean, N. J. Agricultural Extension Service
This is the season when the thoughts of flower enthusiasts turn to fall-blooming perennials. Among these, one of the most beautiful is the Anemone japonica, the flower of which resembles the popular spring-blooming anemone. The Anemone japonica grows 18 inches to 24 inches high, has fine foliage, and large white, pink, or red blossoms. It is an excellent cut flower, and blooms from September until heavy frost.

By some the Anemone japonica has been unjustly condemned as being rather tender. This plant can withstand cold weather, but cold water around its roots will cause rotting or heaving. The plant must therefore be kept dry during winter. A covering of leaves that will shed water without excluding air provides the best winter protection.

This plant will thrive on a fairly good soil of medium acidity, and the one that is not too heavy or too light. However, any soil that will grow good corn will grow good anemones. The Anemone japonica can be propagated very easily by root cuttings, preferably those made in the fall, planted in sand, and kept well-protected over winter. Good varieties are Whitebird, a white; Queen Charlotte, a pink; Prince Heinrich, a dark pink or near red; and the new German variety known as Louise Uptink, Richard Ahrends, and Max Vogel.

CHOCOLATE

Chocolate is somewhat out of fashion in the summer.

Quite rightly. Why eat chocolate layer cake when we may eat strawberry short-cake? Why pour hot chocolate sauce over our ice cream when we may have crushed raspberries instead? And so on down the line, contrasting the deliciousness of summer fruits with the always-available taste of chocolate.

Yet most of us like chocolate. And chocolate has the big advantage of being always there—always on the pantry shelf, not given to mildew and soft spots if the weather gets warm or damp, not fluctuating in price according to droughts and cloud-bursts.

So the housewife turns to chocolate even in mid-summer, thankful for its useful, stand-by qualities.

Here are some good recipes for using it:

CHOCOLATE PUDDING

Melt an ounce and a half of chocolate in a double boiler, and add a tablespoon and a half of cornstarch mixed with three-quarters of a cup of sugar. Stir till smooth. Add two cups of hot milk, stirring slowly as you add it, and cook for twenty-four minutes, stirring from time to time. Then a beaten egg yolk and a teaspoon of vanilla. Pour into a baking dish, cover with a meringue, brown in the oven, and serve very cold, with or without cream.

CHOCOLATE BREAD

Sift together two and a quarter cups of flour, five teaspoons of baking powder, a quarter of a cup of sugar, three tablespoons of cocoa and a teaspoon of salt. Add an egg beaten in a cup of milk, and three tablespoons of cooking oil or fat. Mix, and then add a third of a cup of nuts. Bake slowly in a loaf for about forty minutes.

CHOCOLATE PANCAKES

Mix four tablespoons of flour, two tablespoons of sugar, a cup of macaroni crumbs, and two tablespoons of melted butter with the yolks of six eggs and the whites of three. Add enough milk to make a pancake batter, and fry in small thin pancakes. Sprinkle with powdered sugar and serve with chocolate fudge sauce, made by melting four tablespoons each of melted chocolate and sugar in half a cup of milk and cooking to make a thick syrup.

LUCKY 13—

Phil Lord, otherwise Seth Parker of the National network, is superstitious about number 13, but it means good luck to him. He was born on July 13 and there are thirteen letters in his name—Phillips H. Lord. His first appearance on the air was on July 13, 1928. There are 13 members of the cast in "Sunday Night at Seth Parker's." His contract for his latest program, "Uncle Abe and David," was signed on Friday, June 13. And now he appears 13 times each week, twice each night except Sunday in "Uncle Abe and David" and once each Sunday night as Seth Parker!

FIFTY FOR THE STEIN SONG—

The most popular piece of music in the United States at the present writing is the Stein Song, which was written twenty years ago. The story goes that years ago the University of Maine sought to purchase the rights to it. Carl Fisher offered to sell the plates for fifty dollars, but the school authorities thought the price too high. Now the music house is reaping a fortune from the sales of the aged melody.

And in case you might wonder how it is that this song became popular overnight I'll let you in on some inside information. It seems that the National Broadcasting System wanted to find out if they could "make" a song popular by continual and continuous playing over the air or what they call "plugging a song." Accordingly, they selected the Maine Stein Song for its inherent qualities of melody and told Rudy Vallee to reproduce the song and to "plug" it. And the world, we hear, went down the line of NBC orchestras that no program would be considered complete unless it included at least one rendition of the Stein Song. So now you folks know why the most popular song of this dry country is the Stein Song!

The Capper medals are in addition to the list of 470 prizes totaling $4,250 in cash, loving cups and ribbons, which will be distributed to the winners in the contest. The grand sweepstakes award of the contest carries with it a cash prize of six hundred dollars.

The contest is open to every woman and girl. There are no restrictions as to the nature of the food sent. Contestants may enter the fruit, vegetable or meat division, any two of these divisions, or all three. Entries should be sent immediately upon canning. These will be kept on exhibition at Shenandoah till the closing of the contest on October 1.

The other person arrested was James Murray, of 222 North Main street, who was without a driver's license and registration card. He sent home for his driver's license, but had lost the registration card, so was fined $2 and costs by the same justice.

CHOCOLATE JELLY

One point of boiling water, two pinches of salt, one and a half squares of chocolate, one-third package of gelatin, two level tablespoons of sugar, one teaspoon of vanilla, and the water, salt and chocolate in a saucepan. Stir over fire until the chocolate melts, then let it boil for three or four minutes. Soften the gelatin in a little cold water and pour the boiling mixture over it. Stir until dissolved, then add sugar and vanilla. Pour into a mold and set aside to harden. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

PARRY NINE LOSES WEEKEND GAME

Point Pleasant Ekes Out 5-4 Victory in Big Third Inning Rally

The Parry team traveled to Point Pleasant Sunday to lose a close game, 5-4. Nelson and Menkevitch formed the battery for Parry.

In the third inning Parry took the lead scoring two runs. Tom Shorten worked the pitcher for a walk to begin the inning. Ernie Schuck pushed him to second with a sacrifice hit. Alexander came through with a single, sending Shorten to third. Howard Schuck came up and smacked a single to left field, scoring two runs. Windish ended the inning with a long fly.

Point Pleasant came back in the third inning and scored five runs. The first batter reached first on Bauer's error. The next man up reached the initial base on when Alexander threw wild.

Inlay singled through short, scoring one run. Britton singled, scoring two runs. The next man up also singled, scoring a run. The next batter fanned. Teldon singled, scoring the fifth and final run of the game. The shore boys only reached third base once during the rest of the contest.

To begin the fourth Broderson walked and stole second. Menkevitch singled, scoring Broderson. Bauer singled. Menkevitch was thrown out at home. The next two batters struck out.

In the seventh Parry again broke into the scoring column. Shorten walked, and then stole second when E. Schuck struck out. On Alexander's single to right Shorten scored, making the score 5 to 4. The next two batters grounded out.

Howard Schuck played a great game, snatching four flies in left, two of them he caught after long runs. His single in the third scored two runs. Alexander, although having two errors, had three putouts and four assists. He also collected two singles in three trips to the plate. Bauer had a double and a single to his credit.

Nelson pitched a great game, allowing only eight hits and striking out nine men. The errors in the third inning by the infielders ruined his chances for victory.

Cleaver struck out thirteen of the Parry boys and allowed eight hits. Inlay, Britton and Seldon each collected two hits for the shore boys. Tonight in a twilight game at Parry the Old Mill nine will play the Arcadia Grills. Rich Delghan and Tom Shorten will be in the Old Mill lineup. Wally Diehl, who twirls for the Mayfair nine, of Philadelphia, will be on the mound for Arcadia.

Parry on Sunday will play the Tigra A. A. at Parry.

SMITH WINS GOLF PUTTING CONTEST

Moorestown "Pro" Shoots Three Over Par on Fork
Course

George B. Smith, "pro" at Moorestown Field Club, shot thirty-six holes of golf in 83 strokes, only 3 over par score 80, to win the putting contest staged at the Fork Putting course, Saturday evening. Marty Lyons Spring Hill Country Club "pro" turned in a score of 85.

Saturday evening's contest was played between two professional players and two amateurs. Brinkley Price turned in a score of 88 and J. Alfred LeConey an 89, both excellent scores for amateur players.

A big crowd followed the match and enjoyed the skillful putting of the players.

Par score on the sporty course has been equaled by only one player. George Smith, who in a practice round shot a 40 for eighteen holes.

BAR 2 PLAYERS FROM CO. LEAGUE

Reeves and Loebie Banned
From Circuit for Remainder of Season

Two of the foremost ball players among the army of league stars in South Jersey were Monday night added to the list of players under the ban of the Burlington County League.

At a meeting of the managers, George "Rick" Reeves, veteran infielder, and Elmer "Annie" Loebie, youthful third baseman, were released from the Mount Holly roster, and in explaining the move the Mount Holly management asked the associate pilots to concur in a blanket disbarment for the remainder of the season and for probably all time.

Reeves and Loebie, it was said, on Friday notified the Mount Holly club that they would not report for last Saturday's game with Moorestown at Mount Holly. They gave their reason that the contest between the Twelfth Ward, of Camden, and the Kent Tigers, of Trenton, drew preference. The Hollies did not play Saturday, but in the event that clear weather had prevailed they would have been pressed or two infielders.

Upon report of this matter the league managers agreed to bar both Reeves and Loebie.

Two other Camden players have been similarly banned by Burlington County clubs. Previously they were Bill "Inky" Werking, who started the season with Browns Mills, and Eddie Novack, who played with Moorestown.

Following the release of the two players Mount Holly asked permission to sign up two replacements. The names of Bloomfield Phrampus and Gene Rambone, both of whom have been clouting the pill at a lively pace this season, were submitted and after objections by Medford were withdrawn the players were admitted to the list. Rambone, a Temple University star, is considered one of the most promising hitters in South Jersey, while Phrampus has been noted for timely tagging for a number of years.
