17,540 NEW FISH IN S. J. STREAMS

Commissioner Cooper Says Recent Additions Will Insure Excellent Fishing

The distribution of fish recently to South Jersey Ponds from the pond of William G. Hirsch, Rumemede, will insure excellent fishing in the future for the fishermen in this district, declares Benjamin W. Cooper, of Moorestown State fish and game commissioner for South Jersey.

The New Jersey Fish and Game Commission under the supervision of Commissioner Cooper and Protectors Cudney and Mathis and Wardens of Burlington, Camden, Gloucester, Salem and Cumberland Counties, distributed 17,540 fish in their counties. Black Bass, Catfish, Blue Gill, Sun Fish, so several thousand Fingerling Herring and the common brook Sun Fish, all were liberated in Timber Creek. These fish could not be handled in the tanks on account of their delicate construction. These fish had to be handled very quickly on account of the muddy bottom of the pond.

The fish were sorted and placed in small trucks and distributed by the Wardens as fast as the hauls with the big nets were made. The fish hatchery at Hackettstown sent two big trucks with distributing tanks, also a large force of experienced men to handle the sorting of the fish.

Don't forget the YWCA supper and bazaar which will be held on Wednesday, November 12, at the Moorestown Community House from three to eight p. m. A delicious chicken and oyster supper will be served from five to seven o'clock. There will be cake, candy and delicious refreshments. Flower booth, tables with miscellaneous articles for fifty cents and one dollar. A first class movie will be shown, and an indoor golf course is being arranged.

Mrs. Alexander C. Wood, Jr., and Miss Helen Woodman, of Riverton, are the general chairmen. Assisting them are Mrs. Wm. Matlack, Mrs. Edwin Russell, Mrs. Lester Collins, Mrs. J. M. Sheldahl, of Moorestown; Mrs. M. W. Newcomb, of Browns Mills; Mrs. E. P. Darlington, of New Lisbon; Mrs. Chas. B. Beckwith, of Pemberton; Mrs. Louis Hays, of Medford; Mrs. R. C. Dunn, Jr., of Burlington; Mrs. Gertrude Brick, of Crosswicks; Mrs. Benj. Roberts, Mrs. Chas. Barton, of Marlton; Mrs. Walter Reeder, of Columbus, and Mrs. Caroline Warlick, of Rancocas.

World's Week of Prayer

"The Greatest event of the twentieth century is the birth of a world," says a Spanish internationalist, and an American internationalist adds, "and the most disturbing thing about that fact is that as yet so few people realize it."

But a realization of the world life, which is now our very environment, has grown stronger among peoples year after year. For several years the YWCA's and the YMCA's have observed a world's week of prayer during the second week in November; at that time, when in the observance of Armistice Day, we realize acutely that peace and world friendliness are first steps in the establishing of the Kingdom of God on earth.

Three communities will have special meetings in observance of this week, November 9-10. Noonday prayer services will be held from twelve to twelve-thirty in Mount Holly and Burlington with the churches of the community participating with the Rancocas Women's Club will hold a service on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Russell Pettit.

At Burlington Church

In Burlington the First Baptist Church will be the place of meeting with Dr. Frank Lukens, of the Presbyterian Church, as the leader on Monday, followed by Mr. Millard O. Pearee, of the Baptist Church, on Tuesday. On Wednesday, Dr. John T. Ward, of St. Mary's Church, will conduct the service, with Mr. James E. Robinson, of the A. M. E. Zion Church, speaking at the Thursday meeting. Mr. George Hillman, of the Broad Street Methodist Episcopal Church, will conduct the closing service on Friday.

Mrs. Walter Fish, devotional chairman of the Rancocas Women's Club, will lead the meeting in Rancocas, and Mr. Walter Fish will be the speaker.

The organizations sponsoring these services are asking all business people, members of churches and young people, to spend this brief period each day in prayer.

Girl Reserve Club

A new High School club in Mount Holly in meeting Tuesday evenings with Miss Jean Wells, school librarian, as adviser, and has started off with a series of meetings on handcraft.

In Burlington a new club of girls from the Captain Lawrence School meets Friday afternoons under the leadership of Miss Lucy W. Reeve; last week the girls gave a tea for people interested in the club, and for this week a hike is planned.

Heads Convention

Moorestown schools head, who, as president of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association, will be in charge of the 76th annual convention of the association in Atlantic City from this Saturday until next Tuesday. Mr. Baker has announced more than 10,000 teachers will attend and some of the country's outstanding educators will be among the hundred speakers he has scheduled.

16 ARRESTED IN RAID AT LAKE COTOXEN INN

Sixteen persons were arrested when County authorities raided the Lake Cotoxen Hotel, near Mount Holly, early Sunday morning.

Harry Hall and his wife, Frances, were held in $500 bail each by Supreme Court Commissioner William A. Slaughter for possession of liquor. Fourteen other persons arrested in the place were fined $10 and $350 costs by Justice of the Peace Joseph C. Kingston, Jr., at Mount Holly. The magistrate held an all-night session.

These arrested described themselves as Percy Taylor, Wrightstown; Earl Simpkins, Medford; Stanley Drayton, Medford; Edward Lewis, Wrightstown; William Margrie, Wrightstown; William Gaskill, Jr., Medford; Frank Zangeneh, Marlton; Edward Homan, Medford; Harry Haines, Burlington; Howard Hughes, Burlington; and Howard Ellis, 122 Virginia avenue, Westmont.

Fay Crawley and Helen Roberts, 137 Waverly street, Trenton, and Ray Weeks, Medford, were fined as inmates.

The raiders included Under Sheriff Charles R. Carlsale, Jail Warden John Smith, Police Lieutenant Harry Goldy, Mount Holly; Constable John Oliver, Hainesport; Police Chief George Shadel, Columbus, and State Troopers Rinaldi, Speed and Rutter, Columbus Barracks.

YOUNG PEOPLE MEET AT MOUNT HOLLY

Plan Reorganization of Junior Division of County Council of Religious Education

Further plans for reorganizing the Young People's Division of the Burlington County Council of Religious Education will be made at a supper meeting to be held Monday evening, November 10 in the Dining Room of the Y. W. C. A., Mount Holly, at 7 o'clock.

Young people from Beverly, Bordentown, Mount Holly, Maple Shade, Delanco, Vincentown, Indian Mills, and Pemberton, as well as other communities, will be led by Herbert Stuart, of Beverly, who is president of the society.

A discussion will be held during the meeting to formulate plans for a county rally to be held the last week in November, with "Dad" Walte as the principal speaker.

HUNTER'S GUN EXPLODES KIPPING OPEN HIS ARM

The first victim of the duck hunting season Monday was taken to Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, with his left arm ripped open as a result of a shotgun exploding. He is Howard Parker, 16, of Pointville. He was gunning with Joseph Weiner, Pointville, at Whitesboro, when a gun blew to pieces as he took aim at a flock of birds.

When aided by his landlady, Patrick Dillon, of Chicago, charged in court that she was "so mean that she powdered her face to save soap."

BAKER ANNOUNCES CONVENTION PLANS

Moorestown Supervisor Expects 10,000 Teachers at Shore This Weekend
GEORGE C. BAKER

Programs from the 76th annual convention to be held in Atlantic City November 8 to 11, of the New Jersey State Teachers' Association, and its 20 allied departments, were announced Tuesday by George C. Baker, president.

Mr. Baker, who is superintendent of schools of Moorestown, said more than 10,000 of the 23,000 members of the association are expected to be present. Some of the country's outstanding educators are among the more than 100 speakers who will appear on the programs.

A feature of the convention will be the concert to be presented by the New Jersey All-State High School Symphony Orchestra, of 220 pieces.

The convention will be welcomed by Mayor Harry Bacharach. Other speakers at the opening session Saturday afternoon will be Dr. William Mather Lewis, president of Lafayette College; Dr. Payson Smith, Commissioner of Education of Massachusetts; and Harold C. Hoffman, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner.

The annual banquet of the association will be held at the Hotel Chelsea Saturday evening. It will be followed by the reception and ball in Convention Hall.

One of the speakers will be Dr. Lillian M. Gilbreth, of Montclair, recently appointed head of the women's division of President Hoover's Unemployment Commission. Others include Dr. Frank P. Graves, Commissioner of Education of New York; Dr. Charles H. Elliott, Commissioner of Education of New Jersey; Lewis E. Laves, warden of Sing Sing Prison; William C. Redfield, Brooklyn, former Secretary of Commerce; M. Andre Maurois, biographer; Carl Sandburg, poet; Mrs. Anna Steese Richardson, editor; Dr. Levy Bruhl, of the College de France, Paris; and Miss Agnes Shore, of King's College, London.

The following, all of New York City, also will be among the speakers: From Columbia University, Dr. Albert K. Fretwell, Dr. C. L. Browning and Dr. Paul V. Shaw; from New York University, Dr. Albert B. Meredith; Dr. Charles E. Penick; Dr. Paul V. West; and Dr. G. Clyde Fisher, of the Museum of Natural History, and Dr. Samuel W. Grafflin, of the Y. M. C. A.

Philadelphiaans who will appear upon the programs include Dr. Edwin C. Broome, superintendent of schools, and Dr. John C. Rolfe and Dr. Edwin B. Twitmyer, both of the University of Pennsylvania.

To Be Married

Miss Helena Elizabeth Spaeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Spaeth, of 515 Benson street, Camden, will become the bride of Maurice V. Collins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Collins, of Sleepy Hollow Farm, Moorestown, this Saturday, November 8th.

The ceremony will take place in Epiphany Lutheran Church, Seventh and Market streets, Camden.

Mr. and Mrs. Collins entertained the bridal party at a dinner in honor of the bride-elect on Sunday. About twenty guests were present.

THANKS FROM BACHARACH

My dear Mr. Editor:
Once again I ask the courtesy of the columns of your good paper to extend my thanks to the people of your community who were kind enough to vote for me in Tuesday's election. I would like to be able to thank each one individually, but since that it is a physical impossibility, I ask that this communication be accepted by all as a personal expression of appreciation.

I have now been elected for the ninth consecutive term as the Representative in Congress from the Second Congressional District, and each time I have a deeper sense of the great honor that has been conferred upon me by the voters of the district, as well as a deeper sense of the responsibility which is a corollary to that honor.

In appreciation for the generous and splendid support which has been given to me over this long period, I can but renew the only pledge that I have given to my constituents since I have been in public life, and that is, to continue to serve my country and my people to the very best of my ability; one cannot do more.

Sincerely yours,

ISAAC BACHARACH.

Charles Baker Accused of Operating Hainesport Disorderly House

Six persons were arrested Thursday last week when the police raided an alleged disorderly house at Hainesport. Charles Baker was charged with being the proprietor and was released under $500 bail by Justice of the Peace Joseph C. Kingston.

Others arrested included Ida Runyon, 2201 Mickle street, Camden; George Smizer, Hainesport; May Zimmerman, 53 Marlton pike, Camden; Howard Russ, Hainesport; and Max Glass, Mount Holly.

Smizer was held without bail for the grand jury when it was learned that he was on parole from the County jail after being convicted on a liquor charge. The others were fined $10 each.

FALL SOWING OF HARDY ANNUALS

By A. C. McLean, N. J. Agricultural Extension Service

One method of obtaining a good stand of early-flowering hardy annuals in the spring is to sow seed in the fall. This duplicates nature's method of dropping the seed on the ground where they germinate early in the spring.

Seed must not be sown too early, nor should they be covered too deeply. Sow them just before the ground freezes in November; either in rows, or broadcast on a well-compacted seedbed. Sow them on top of the ground if a light covering of sand or loose soil is provided to prevent them from being blown away by the wind. The freezing and thawing of the soil during winter will cover the seeds sufficiently.

Seeds sown in late fall germinate during the first warm days of spring and develop into larger and stronger plants than those sown in the spring. If the ground is heavy, a slight mulch to keep the ground from freezing and thawing too much is an advantage. Especially sandy soils should be covered to prevent blowing.

All the hardy annuals may be expected to do well when sown in the fall, if other conditions are favorable. Examples of the hardy annuals are: pot marigold, Iberis, calliopis, bachelor's button, annual larkspur, annual pinks, blanket flower, Drummond's phlox and mourning bride.

SEEK TO PADLOCK OLD MILL INN

Federal Attorney Starts Proceedings Against Burlington Pike Roadhouse

A bill for a padlock injunction has been filed against The Old Mill Inn, a roadhouse located on Sorrel Horse Hill, Burlington Pike, just west of the Camden-Burlington county line. The Old Mill Inn, which is operated by Neil Deighan, a former baseball player of some prominence, is well known to many people in this section of Burlington county.

Filing of papers as a first step in padlock proceedings by Federal Attorney Philip Foxman came as the echo of a series of raids on Camden and South Jersey saloons, speakeasies, roadhouses and clubs June 14 and July 22.

The raids were conducted by agents from the office of Col. Samuel O. Wynne, then federal prohibition administrator for Eastern Pennsylvania. The agents, led by Alexander Macphree, recently resigned as assistant prohibition administrator of New Jersey, visited 41 places, arrested 52 persons and seized liquor valued at $75,000.

The South Jersey establishments which the Federal attorney seeks to close are the Bronx-Cafe, 29 North Third street, Camden; Overbrook Inn, White Horse pike, Overbrook; Marland Club, Black Horse pike, between Bellmawr and Rummee; Old Mill Inn, Burlington pike, Pensauken township; Lotus Club, 2118 Arctic avenue, Atlantic City, and an "unnumbered" garage in Branch street, Camden.

Thirty-seven barrels of beer were seized, and Neil Deighan, proprietor was arrested when the visiting Federal agents from Philadelphia visited Old Mill Inn last June 14. The complaint alleges beer containing more than one-half of one percent alcohol, was seized. George B. Weldenmann and Carl C. Weldenmann, are named owners of the inn building in the proceedings.

RAMBLERS WILL START PROGRAMS

Costume Recital by Miss Ellen Cook Scheduled on November 19

Moorestown Ramblers have announced that their program for the coming season will be opened on Wednesday evening, November 19, with the appearance of Miss Ellen Cook, in her colorful group of costume recitals of folk songs and dances from Hungary, Russia, Roumania, Poland and other lands.

Other numbers through the season will be announced in detail later, including a lecture upon "International Relationships" by an English authority, in January, and an evening of fine music, in February.

An illustrated lecture on foreign travel or exploration will be given in March.

Meetings are to be held at 8.15 o'clock in the auditorium of the new Friends' High School, Page's Lane. Ramblers is supported by the voluntary contributions each season of its friends and subscribers. The funds collected are spent in procuring a series of pleasing and educational entertainment, to which the public of Moorestown is invited.

KEMPTER CHEERED AS JURY FREES HIM

Branch Manager Set Free on Robbery Charge in Trial at Mount Holly

Guyton Kempter, manager of the Silver Fox Ranch, Browns Mills, Monday was acquitted of a charge of highway robbery by a jury in Burlington County Criminal Court at Mount Holly.

When the verdict was announced a short demonstration was staged by friends of Kempter.

Gould Poulkes, well-to-do Browns Mills resident, charged that he was held up and robbed at 5.30 p. m. July 23, last, on Pole Bridge road near Browns Mills of $795 by Kempter.

Kempter, son of Dr. John Kempter, of Reading, Pa., dentist, produced witnesses who contended he could not have been near the scene of the holdup on the day of the alleged crime.

Prosecutor Howard Eastwood was assisted by Assistant Attorney General Robert Peacock in the prosecution. V. Claude Palmer was counsel for Kempter. Judge Charles A. Ring presided. The trial lasted two days.

What fun is there in life if we haven't the courage to take risks? As Havelock Ellis says, "If we are to live in any true sense at all, we are compelled to live dangerously." A life without thrills, without the element of danger, is a colorless, uninteresting thing. The sensible life is the experimental life. We may not have length of days but at least we can have intensity.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

As has often been stated in these columns, the Burlington County Aero Club is a non-profit organization.

Founded solely to keep and increase interest in aviation and to enable Y-O-U to learn to fly at a rate far below that of a commercial flying school. We have kept Burlington county, and Moorestown especially, in the front rank of progressive counties and towns. Our field is excellent and our method of instruction extremely satisfactory. Show us an Aero Club in the United States that can equal our record.

And now we learn of a chap in Pittsburgh who plans to be America's first flying undertaker. He is having an aerial hearse built and will establish a funeral plane service. What next?

You can help to promote aviation and the Burlington County Aero Club by buying a ticket for the South Jersey Aviation Ball to be held at the Hotel Walt Whitman on the night of December 5. Get your ticket from any club member or drive out to the Moorestown Airport. You are sure to have a most enjoyable time.

During the last fiscal year, the air mail service was 94 per cent. perfect. Of the 16,228,453 miles scheduled, the mail was flown 14,939,469. This is the highest record attained since the air mail was started in 1918 and the highest efficiency record of any country in the world.

At a very interesting meeting of the Burlington County Aero Club held at the Moorestown Community House, Monday night the business was devoted mainly to discussing plans for the new hangar, enlargement of the Airport and the big South Jersey Aviation Ball.

Many months ago we predicted that the transport of the immediate future would be a fast single-engined ship capable of cruising around 140 miles an hour and carrying eight or ten passengers in addition to mail and express. Very recently, the head of one of the largest air transport lines in the world made a public statement along the same lines in which he looks for multi-engined ships to be replaced by single-engined jobs of high horsepower.

James H. Hodge, of Cincinnati, was granted a "love injunction" when he appealed to the law court for protection of a girl.

CHILDREN TEACH AUTO CHIEF

William S. Knudsen, outstanding example of America's immigrants and president of the Chevrolet Motor Car Company, relied upon children instead of schools to teach him the English language when he arrived from Denmark, he discloses in an interview in The American Magazine.

The immigrant rates children as the best teachers a newcomer in America can employ.

Knudsen says that when he got off the immigrant ship, he realized that he wasn't going to write plays and didn't need Shakespeare's vocabulary of 15,000 words. He must work at the first job he got in a ship yard. Night schools, he concluded, would teach him too slowly.

Every night, at his boarding house, he sat on the steps and talked with primary children. In a short time he was able to understand and to speak about his work. Naturally, he supplemented his small learning with books on all subjects. Today he has scarcely a trace of an accent.

When his sister came from Copenhagen to visit him, he "borrowed" the children of his landlady, one of whom was only four years old. Knudsen says that today his sister's speech has a terseness and directness that is the envy of those who have studied the English language for years in expensive schools.

"ISMS"

"The fatal flaw in communism, socialism and all the other radical isms is not what they would do to a few rich people but what they would do to all the people," says the San Francisco Chronicle. "These schemes are all based on the common factors of standardization and efficiency."

"Radicals are non-conformists who preach conformity. That is why the scheme does not work. Efficiency is a fine thing while it serves man. It is a burden when it is exalted above mankind."

The socialistic-communist theory would turn the individual into a rubber stamp. One man would be exactly like the next, and any who protested against the process of standardization would feel the weight of the communistic heel. The spectacle of modern Russia with its millions of poorly-clothed, half-fed government-enforced robots shows what we may expect of communism.

SMALL PRINT TO AID EYES

Rear Admiral Fiske has a scheme whereby the size of Dr. Eliot's five-foot shelf can be cut down to three inches. It is to reduce the ordinary printed page 25 times, print 45 pages on a card, and read through a magnifying glass. The Admiral believes his system would minimize eye strain, as only one eye is used at a time. In a test, he read 200,000 words at one sitting without tiring his eyes.

REAL TAX REFORM

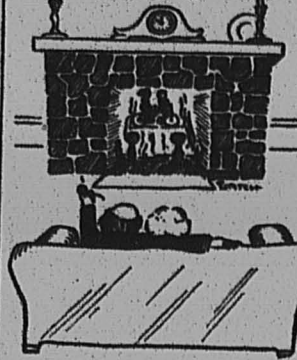

Most so-called "tax reforms" consist of raising "more" taxes instead of "less."

It is suggested that new taxes or more taxes be imposed on tobacco, luxuries, stock transfers, intangibles and the like, on the theory that this would lighten the real estate tax—it would merely shift the load.

Such a procedure is a form of buck-passing. If a citizen must pay a tax in one way which he saves in another, he has gained nothing.

Real tax reform reduces or prevents waste of expenditures made by government.

The motto, "E Pluribus Unum," first appeared on coin in New Jersey in 1786 when Goodday and Cox were the minters of the State.

The rate for telephoning within a radius of ten miles of Haddonfield, including Philadelphia, has been reduced from 25c to 10c. A similar reduction in Riverton would be welcomed by our citizens and would not doubt increase the volume of business at least tenfold. The present rate of 25c is excessive.

A continued everyday nuisance is the school children rushing into and crowding the post office morning, noon and night. It would be wise to deliver mail to the younger pupils when on their way to school, and while they have as much right to go there as anyone else, it does seem as if one call in the afternoon would answer all purposes. Their noise and impatience is enough to try the soul of Job and how the clerks in the office stand it we leave for them to explain.

PUBLIC SERVICE

BY BRUCE BARTON

Ash Trays and Buzzers

Years ago I had an appointment with a corporation president. The secretaries, door men, and general factotums in the great man's outer office made it clear that their boss was Some Pumpkins and that I was assuming a great deal in asking to see him.

When I finally worked my way through the last of them and stood in the president's private office, I saw in the corner a red-faced bald-headed man seated at a plain wooden desk. His coat was off and his sleeves were rolled up to reveal a pair of solid, hairy arms.

"Ah, Mr. Barton," he said, "would you mind standing guard beside that door? My tailor has just sent me over a pair of cooler pants, and I want to put them on."

So I stood guard while he stepped out of one pair of pants and into another, chatting sociably all the time. I was reminded of this incident by the remark of a friend who was recently transferred from the branch office to the New York headquarters of a certain business.

Some of the men in the organization were jealous of his promotion, and he has carefully watched his step. "The president gave me my choice of two offices," he told me. "One was a grand room on the executive floor. The other a queer little dump two floors below. I took the little office. It will be perfectly all right until I show that I need something better. I have enough problems at the beginning without the additional handicap of a luxurious office."

An office manager who has watched men come and go in a big corporation tells me that he can predict just about how long a new man will last. "If his first requisition is for a lead pencil and a blotter and some ink, I put him down as permanent. But when a man sends me an initial requisition for an ash tray and an electric buzzer I notice he never stays over a year."

Napoleon was quite a trial to his courtiers because he did not pay more attention to the trappings of his office. When Bourrienne was telling him that he must do so and so or the older reigning families in Europe would not recognize him, he had the sure answer of a man who knows his strength.

"If it comes to that I will destroy them all," he exclaimed. "Then I shall be the oldest sovereign among them."

Generally speaking, those who like lots of fuss are light weights. The surer a man is of his own capacity the less he cares for externals—including all fancy trappings and the criticism of the uninformed.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Again the Red Cross appeals to Americans to accept its invitation to membership during the Roll Call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

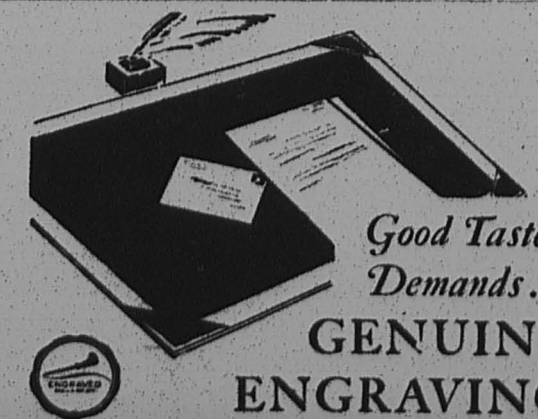

The 3500 Red Cross Chapters are asking citizens in every section of the United States to join the fellowship of service to humanity.

Burlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross is asking two hundred men and women of Burlington County to take out five dollar memberships in this great organization during the coming Roll Call.

This is made necessary by reason of the fact that the National Red Cross has exhausted its fund left from the World War in caring for disasters; just at present it is using a five million dollar reserve fund in connection with the drought all over the country, in order to avoid making an appeal to all Chapters for assistance.

These five dollar memberships will also help the work in your own county and town, as each means $2.25 to both Chapter and Branch, instead of the usual refund of twenty-five cents from the dollar membership, thus enabling those in charge to do more and better work in your own home town and county.

Will you be one of this 200?

HELP

Out of a fund of $30,000 established by former Senator Joseph Frelinghuysen of New Jersey, more than $77,000 has been loaned to boys and girls on New Jersey farms to enable them to purchase pure-bred cows, swine or poultry. More than 1,000 boys and girls have been helped in this way to get a start in producing better dairy products, pork and poultry, and the effect upon farmers generally in showing them the advantages of pure-bred stock have been incalculable.

That sort of help for the farmer is decidedly practical. There is always a market for first-grade products of the sort which New Jersey thus encourages, especially in the vicinity of great terminal markets like New York and Philadelphia.

SPEED

Thirty-five minutes from the time he left the William Penn Airport in Philadelphia with photographs of the World's Series baseball game, Captain Frank Hawks delivered the pictures in a New York newspaper office. It took him 20 minutes, flying at 270 miles an hour, to cover the 90 miles between Philadelphia and the Queens Borough Airport in New York. Then fifteen minutes in a speed-boat took him to Manhattan.

This was faster than the pictures could have been sent by telegraph. Telegraphing photographs is now being done every day, but it takes half an hour or so for the details of a picture to be transmitted over the wire. Over long distances, of course, the airplane could not compete, but in this case it was the swifter method.

BLIND

The most terrible affliction which can come to a human being, in all probability, is blindness. The problem of helping the blind to become self-supporting is finding new solutions constantly. The latest is the discovery that blind girls, because of their keen sense of touch, are very useful in offices where there is a large amount of mailing to be done.

The Brooklyn Bureau of Charities has set up a mailing business employing only blind girls for this sort of work. All sorts of quantity mailing is done for business houses. These girls formerly had no other occupation than weaving coarse rugs, at which they could earn only from $6 to $8 a week. In the mailing work they earn from $15 to $20 a week. And for addressing mail, crippled girls who cannot work at occupations requiring physical exertion, are employed.

That is the most practical sort of charity.

COTTON

More than 45,000 acres of land was devoted to growing cotton in the United States this year. That is five million acres too much, in the opinion of Carl Williams, the cotton expert of the Federal Farm Board.

What is needed in the South, says Mr. Williams, is the production of more food which the South itself consumes. He says there are single cities in the South where the consumption of meat and dairy products is more than the production of those commodities in the entire State. The cotton farmer who cuts down his cotton acreage and uses the land thereby released for livestock and dairying or the growing of other foodstuffs will be serving himself, his community, the cotton industry and the entire South.

It will take time, but eventually a high percentage of the land now devoted to staple crops all over the country will be used for other purposes.

LIFE

Our bodies live longer than those of our grandparents did. Dr. Charles H. Mayo, famous physician of Rochester, Minn., tells us, but our brains die just as young. What is the use, Dr. Mayo asks, of living to 90 if the brain begins to decay at 70? He is optimistic about it, however, he thinks that medical research will find means of prolonging mental life as well as physical life.

In the matter of length of life we have made great progress in a short time. The normal age to which each newborn child can expect to live in America is 50; in India it is only 20. In Colonial days in America, in the 1600's, the average age in this country was only 20, because so many children succumbed early to the hardships of pioneer life.

The time will come when nobody will die, except from accident, under 70, and many will live, and be physically and mentally active, to 100.

SEES ALVIN YORK AS A REAL MAN

World War Hero Charms Audience

(Contributed)

Those who were fortunate to hear the narrative of the life of Alvin York, told by none other than Sergeant York himself, will long remember the humbleness of the man who, with a great spirit of simplicity, held a crowded auditorium spellbound.

With that quaint Southern drawl, so highly expressive of the mountaineer, life in the wilderness of Eastern Tennessee was readily pictured. The string on the latch key seemed to but await the mystic touch of his listeners to respond to the whole-hearted welcome extended by this heroic son of the great Smoky Range country.

Here was a man, in the fullest extent of the word, standing before an audience that had probably many times heard of his heroic exploits during the war, a man feted by kings and queens, honored by nations, holder of numerous medals given in recognition of a deed that will go down in the annals of history as probably the most outstanding achievement of the World War, capturing 132 of the enemy in a miraculous manner that shames the wildest fiction.

Years have rapidly sped since the great world tragedy ceased, but down in the mountain fastness of Tennessee Alvin York has built a monument to education through the realization of his previous shortcomings of lack of "book learning." Self-determined, determined to bring education into that back woods and mountainous country, so that these folks who bade him good-bye as he trekked forth over the trails that led to contact with the outside world when the call of war sounded, could have an equal opportunity with their more fortunate countrymen in gaining an education.

Good roads he had built, schools erected, and from an enrollment of 16 some eight years ago to over 600 with a full term educational system, is his gift to the home folks, for he alone was the force that made it possible.

He did not tell of the gifts bestowed on him by Government and State gifts that were converted for the benefit of a much depressed mountain folk. Alvin York is a living example of true Christianity. By his deeds others have been blessed. It was a joy to listen to a real man.

The Metropolitan Quartet rendered a diversified repertoire of unusually good music. They were greatly appreciated and the High School Orchestra received much applause for their refreshing musical ability. County Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Kaser, officiated as the guardian of the evening's entertainment.

If the first endeavor of a series of four lectures is a criterion of those to follow, the High School Auditorium will hardly suffice to hold the enthusiastic people who come from all over the County. The Student Loan Fund should well and deservedly so, for it was the forerunner of real enjoyment. A great night, folks—I reckon the latch string is going to find a congenial pull in future events.

HEAVY FINE FOR DRUNKEN DRIVER

$200 and Loses His Operator's License

Chief among the motor laws violators arrested by Moorestown police during the past week was a drunken driver. Merrill Lore, of East Second street, was the driver who was found guilty of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Lore was arrested by Officer Thomas J. Murphy on Sunday following a collision with a car owned by Fred P. Smith, of North Church street, at Camden pike and Collins avenue.

Taken before a local physician, Lore was pronounced intoxicated. At a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston, in Town Hall, the Second street man was fined $200 and costs and his driver's license was revoked for two years.

William D. Poff, 1940 Bryn Mawr avenue, Haddon Heights, a "wildcat" bus driver for Public Service, was fined $5.00 and costs on speeding charges after his arrest by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw. David Beachboard, 2802 Hayes avenue, Camden, was also arrested by the Chief. Beachboard, charged with being drunk and disorderly, was fined $10 and costs.

Officer Bruce MacDonald, stationed at Lenola, arrested two reckless drivers. They were William H. Crawford, Bound Brook, and Irving F. Lamb, Secane, Pa. Recorder Johnston imposed fines of $5.00 and costs.

Two reckless drivers were picked up by Officer Walter A. Erickson over Union avenue, Philadelphia, was penalized $10 and costs, while A. Gibbons, Morton street, paid a fine of $5.00 and costs.

SAFETY, COURTESY TO RULE HUNTING

Fish and Game Commission Asks Sportsmen to Observe
Special Precautions

With the probability that heavy foliage will remain on the trees and underbrush when the upland game season opens in New Jersey on Monday, November 10, the Fish and Game Commission is asking sportsmen to observe special precautions against gunning accidents. For several years the Commission has conducted anti-accident campaigns for the education of gunners in the proper handling of persons participating. Hunting has actually been made one of the safest of the more strenuous outdoor sports.

Chief Protector James M. Stratton, head of the State's force of game wardens, believes that this record will be further improved. He cites the few safety rules which he urges every hunter to practice. He praises, also, the movement among organized sportsmen to cultivate the goodwill of land owners by protection of farm property. These are the self-imposed safety-and-courtesy rules to govern the sport in New Jersey this Fall:

Don't aim at moving brush.
Don't shoot until you are sure.
Don't take a loaded gun into your car.

Don't carry a gun in the field so that accidental discharge may injure another person.

Don't lean a loaded gun against a fence or tree and don't lay it on the ground.

Don't pull your gun toward you, muzzle first, through brush or a fence. Don't lean over the muzzle of your gun.

Don't drop a lighted match or a discarded "smoke" in the woods or fields.

Don't hunt on a farm unless you have the permission of the owner. Don't disturb or destroy private property of any kind.

Remember to see that all who gun with you know and observe these rules of the real sportsman.

Remember that the fish and game laws were enacted for your benefit and violators of these laws virtually rob every licensed sportsman.

Remember always that the fish and game warden is your friend and merits your assistance at all times in the pursuit of his official duties. The willful violator of the game and fish laws is a "poor sport" and deserves no consideration or sympathy from law-abiding hunters and fishers.

A man who had the most disorderly farm in his community, with buildings that were falling to pieces, and with a yard cluttered up with broken vehicles and farm implements, sold his place for a good price to a city man who wanted the view. He moved to a clean place in the village and now the city yard there is cluttered up with broken boxes, old boards, and other junk. Every man advertises the condition of his mind by the environment he creates for himself.

Burglars Eat, Wash Dishes, Steel Shave

While Howard Reeder and his family were away Thursday of last week, their home, near Mount Holly, was entered by burglars. Nothing of value was stolen, but—

The intruders set the table and prepared a lunch from edibles they found in the refrigerator.

They stopped a clock when they looked inside it for money. They went upstairs after the luncheon had been eaten and shaved with Reeder's razor.

They came downstairs and washed the dishes. But they left fingerprints on the dishes and State Troopers say they are going to arrest somebody on a charge of shaving, eating and keeping dishes spick and span.

TAX SALE

Most of Properties Involved Taken Over By Palmyra Borough

A tax sale of more than 150 Palmyra properties was held at Town Hall last Saturday. Most of the properties involved were lots on real estate developments started during the boom of a few years back and which had big liens against them for sidewalk improvements and other tax charges.

Most of these properties were taken over by the Borough to protect its interests. Many properties in River-view Extension, Palmyra Annex and those owned by the Realty Corporation of Palmyra were involved.

William R. S. Fluck, of Palmyra, took over some of the properties, saying he did so to protect his mortgage interests. Others were purchased by Mr. Hendel, of Palmyra, and Martin Shockley, of Riverside.

At a tax sale the properties are auctioned to the one who bids the lowest rate of interest on the incumbrances, but most of them are taken at 8 per cent., which is the highest rate allowed by law. The original owners have a period of two years in which to pay off the claims and recover their properties.

DEPRESSION OVER ITS WORST POINT

Peirce School Economist Cites
History of Other Hard Times

If history does repeat and the movements of other periods of depression are repeated in this one, the worst of the present business depression is over, in the opinion of Harry E. Bartow, economist of the Peirce School of Business Administration, Pine street, West of Board, in Philadelphia.

Mr. Bartow, in a survey of business and employment conditions, uses as a basis for his theory the manner in which depressions in the past have terminated. The present depression has lasted about twelve months, if it be dated from the break in the stock market of last November.

A look into the past reveals that the depression of 1921 ran for twelve months and that the depression of 1914 also ran for twelve months after two false starts. The decline of 1908 was of even shorter duration.

In the current depression, which has run for twelve months, there have been two false starts, one in January and another in the spring. Now, history does not exactly repeat or there would be no uncertainty to add to the spice of life; but history does appear to follow general trends. If the movements of other periods are even approximately duplicated in this one, the worst of the depression is over.

But this does not mean that we are entirely rid of depression. Serious unemployment is by no means over, reports of poor business conditions will continue, but beneath the surface and scarcely noticeable for a time, the tide will slowly turn. Demand for goods will slowly develop, working schedules will gradually lengthen. Jobs will increase and when the change is apparent many will think it came suddenly.

The present campaign to "Buy Now" is heartily endorsed by Mr. Bartow. Back of this campaign, according to the Peirce economist, are astute business men who know that lasting prosperity is not built on extravagance. They know also that in every period of depression, balances in all types of saving funds increase; and that when the fear of further industrial recession is removed, those who have not suffered acutely during the depression begin a thrifty type of buying.

Sentiment and generosity caused a passenger on the Mauretania to pay $960 for a tennis racket, auctioned on the high seas a few days ago. The racket was the one with which Betty Nuthall of England won the American women's tennis championship and she had donated it to be sold for charity.

PALMYRA THRICE CROSSES HOLLIES' GOAL IN TRIUMPH

Intercepted Passes Lead to Two Touchdowns, Penalty Costs Another

MOFFITT CARRIES BALL FOR ALL THREE SCORES

Brilliant Passing and Running Attack Productive; Moorestown Here Armistice Day

In a game featured by long runs, intercepted passes and numerous penalties, the Palmyra High School team won its first Burlington County football league game Saturday when it set back Mount Holly with a 20-0 defeat.

Norman Moffitt, flashy halfback of the Palmyra team, carried off the scoring honors of the afternoon. Three times he carried the pigskin across the goal line to score eighteen of his team's twenty points. One of the extra points was garnered when a Mount Holly player was detected off-sides and the other was earned by Walt Price on a line plunge.

The score does not give a true account of the closely contested struggle. The Pals scored five first downs to the visitors' three, but often lacked the punch to score a touchdown when close to the opponents' goal.

Palmyra's Attack Strong
After a scoreless first half, Palmyra unleashed a powerful attack, which combined with impenetrable defensive strength, kept the County Seaters from any chances of earning a victory or tying the count.

A penalty cost Palmyra a score in the second quarter. A 55-yard march down the field ended when Captain Otis Terrell went around right end for a touchdown from the 15-yard line. The play was called back and Palmyra was penalized five yards for off-side performance. The Pals were unable to score after the penalty, although a pass, Earl Lenker to Arthur Poinsett, failed by inches.

The first score came in the beginning of the third period. But Conway, one of the outstanding players of the afternoon, broke through and blocked a Holly punt. He further added to his glory when he recovered the oval for Palmyra on the opponents' 12-yard line. Line plays by Lenker and Moffitt netted a touchdown.

Lenker's placement for the extra point was blocked, but the point was scored because of an off-side by a Mount Holly lineman.

Moffitt Stars Again
At the end of the third period, the Maroon and White took the field. Palmyra with its back to the wall when it downed a punt on Palmyra's eight-yard line. At this juncture, Moffitt, who, after hurrying his leg in the first half, had gamely gone back into action in the third quarter, made the most spectacular play of the game. He dashed through left tackle for forty yards. From here the Pals took the ball down the field and registered a first down on the six-yard line.

Here Mount Holly showed the most pluck and the greatest fighting spirit they displayed in the game. Three times did the Palmyra backs seek to penetrate the Maroon and White forward line, and as often were they thrust back with little or no gain. On last down a pass was grounded over the goal line and the Hollies took the ball on their own 20-yard line.

In the Forward
In the last period, the Pals completely outplayed the visitors. In a desperate attempt to score, the Hollies made frequent use of aerials, but with no success. The ever-present Moffitt intercepted a pass from Feinman on Palmyra's 45-yard line and outdistancing the field, scored the second touchdown of the game. Terrell's dropkick for the extra point was wide.

Scarcely had the ball been put into play again when Walt Price, who had gone in the game for Harry Furman, the heavy, plunging fullback, seized another Mount Holly aerial near midfield and dashed 40 yards to place the ball on the five-yard line.

Two plays by Lenker and Moffitt netted the third touchdown of the day. Walt Price scored the first extra point earned by the Palmyra gridders this season when he crossed the goal line on a line plunge.

The only other extra points credited to the Pals this season were the result of off-side plays. One of these gave Palmyra a 7-0 win over Haddon Heights and the other had been scored earlier in Saturday's game.

Teamwork Improves
The third touchdown had scarcely been registered when the final whistle blew. Of the Palmyra gridders who saw action, it is difficult to pick out stars. The play has changed from individual stardom to co-operative teamwork.

Green, Poinsett and Conway was outstanding, while Moffitt and Furman scintillated in the backfield.

Last week's win marked the third successive victory in as many weeks for the Red and White. No game has been scheduled for this Saturday, but Moorestown, always a determined rival, is booked for an appearance here next Tuesday, Armistice Day.

The only teams remaining on the schedule are members of the Burlico League, and in victory over every one of them, including Burlington, would assure Palmyra of the league crown.

That Burlington is on the watch for any Palmyra surprises, was evidenced by the fact that several members of the Blue and White were on the field last week watching the game.

PEMBERTON BOWS TO MOORESTOWN

Grid Team Takes Second League Game by Very Close Score 7-6

Moorestown High School won its second Burlington county football league game on Friday by defeating Pemberton High School by the exceedingly close score of 7-6. The game was played at the Pemberton field.

After marching down the field for 75 yards in the first quarter of the game, Moorestown fumbled the ball on the 10-yard line. No scoring was done until the last quarter.

Play opened with Moorestown holding the ball on her 40-yard line. Two passes from Wilson to Lockwood and Zickard gained 20 yards. Runs by Lockwood and Wilson placed the ball on the 20-yard stripe. Another pass, Wilson to McCourt, gained 10 yards. On the fourth down, with 7 yards to go, Wilson threw a pass which Zickard caught over the goal line. Erickson added the extra point on a line plunge.

Pemberton received the next kick-off and in five minutes had the ball over the goal line. Two passes gained 30 yards and a 15-yard penalty placed the ball on the 10-yard line. Wurst carried the ball over in two line plunges. Cox failed to add the extra point on an attempted line plunge. Scoring was ended for the game.

The line-up:
Score by periods:
Moorestown: 0 0 0 7-7
Pemberton: 0 0 0 6-6
Touchdowns: Zickard, Wurst. Points after touchdowns: Erickson (line plunge).

PALMYRA MAIDS MEET PITMAN IN HOCKEY BATTLE

Contestants Tied For Second Place in South Jersey Hockey League

GIRLS ASK SUPPORT OF TOWNSPEOPLE

"Pals" Striving to Retain Hockey Title for Third Consecutive Year

Miss Grace E. Dugan's Palmyra High School hockey team will face stout competition Saturday when it meets the ladies from Pitman High School at the high school athletic field.

The game, which starts at 2:30, will replace the football game usually staged on Saturday afternoon. The football game this week has been postponed until Monday, leaving an open Saturday for the girls to use the field.

The outcome of this game will have a strong bearing on the standing of the Pals in the South Jersey interscholastic hockey league. Palmyra and Pitman are tied for third place in the league and Saturday's battle will mean a great deal in the final standing of the two teams.

Since the first game of the season, which was a heart-breaking 2-1 defeat, suffered at the hands of Paulboro, the Pals have been steadily approaching the top rung of the league ladder. Since that time they have defeated Haddon Heights, 3-0; Moorestown, 3-1, and last Wednesday, 3-2.

The girls are anxious to win their third successive league crown. By a championship this year the girls win the huge league trophy which becomes a permanent possession of the school. The chief rival for the title this year is Woodbury, also a two-time winner.

The team this year is composed of several of last year's stars and new material, which has been drilled to form an efficient, smooth running, fast passing combination.

The girls are keenly sensitive about the lack of the usual support and realizing what backers can do to hearten a team, ask the townspeople to root for them from the sidelines, not only Saturday, but every day they play.

BEARS VICTORIOUS IN OPENING GAME

Football Team, New Local Organization, Defeats Philadelphia Wanderers

The "Twin City Bears," a football team, composed of players from Moorestown, defied Lenora, defeated the "Philadelphia Wanderers" Sunday, in their first game of the season on the Lenora Athletic Field. The final score was 58-0 in favor of the local organization.

The Bears scored two touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters, and in the last fifteen minutes of play scored three more touchdowns, adding to the final count four extra points.

Jack Grube, right end for the home team, played a spectacular game, having five touchdowns to his credit. Horace Juliana, captain; Joseph Juliana and Harold Smith also deserve a lot of credit for their fine work.

Although playing a losing game from the start, the "Wanderers" put up a brave fight and showed lots of spirit. Another game is to be played some time in the future.

Officials—Referee, J. A. Vaughn; umpire, A. Parsons; head linesman, C. Lockwood; timekeeper, J. Leary.

Substitutions—C. Cannova for J. Carr; K. Pish for A. Russo; H. Orlacher for C. O. Pascale.

The "Twin City Bears" is a new organization which will play each Sunday afternoon at the Lenora field. Most of the players are former Moorestown High School stars, who, having no other chance to pursue the sport, have organized for the purpose.

Games with this team may be booked with Horace Juliana, 214 Mill street, Moorestown.

The team is anxious to gain the support of the townspeople and will put on some fine exhibitions of skill in totting the "pigskin" down the field.

A turtle sent George B. Maddocks to jail when he was arrested in Pittsfield, Mass., for crashing into two other machines when the reptile hit him on the leg.

Alumni Football Practice Sunday

All members of the Moorestown High School Alumni Association who would like to play in the Moorestown-Palmyra Alumni football game to be staged November 20 are asked to come out for the first practice on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

There is no requirement other than the players must have graduated from Moorestown High School to take part.

Charles Juliana, who is in charge, would like to see a large crowd out for the first practice. Bring your equipment for scrimmage.

WOODLYN HANDS PARRY LOSS, 6-0

Camden Countians Tally on Last Play of First Half: Cagle's Punting Features

Alex Smith's proteges were the losers of another bitterly contested struggle last Sunday when they were downed by the Woodlyn Tigers. The final score was Woodlyn 6, Parry 0.

The Tigers scored their touchdown in the last play of the first half. After a march of 75 yards, in which Jalias and McDade did most of the ground gaining, a pass from the 30 yard line, Jalias to Taylor, who had crossed the goal line, netted the six points. A reverse play for the extra point failed.

The Parry club missed two excellent chances to score when they twice had the ball on the eight yard line. Held scoreless the first time by the defensive tactics of the Woodlyn club, they missed their second chance when a bad pass from center resulted in a ten yard loss.

The second quarter was the only period in which the Woodlyn team showed any marked superiority over the Parry eleven. In the second half the long distance punting of Cagle Parry fullback, was a feature. Time after time his long spirals kept the Tigers from getting near the Parry goal.

More than 1000 spectators watched the evenly contested match, which was featured by long runs by Cagle, W. Phelan and Lane, of Parry, and Whitting, Lippincott, Walters and Marlin, of Woodlyn.

The summaries:
Score by periods:
Woodlyn Tigers: 0 6 0 6-6

Touchdowns: Taylor, Bushman for W. Phelan, Schuman for Lang, J. Smith for Oliver, Higgins for Reynolds, Schultz for Burke, Woodlyn; McBride for Crozier, Hotin for Pooley, Whitting for McDade, Otthen for Jalias, E. Walters for Lippincott, Childs for Call, Diets for Goodman, Redford for Phelan, Empire-Mohr, Head linesman—R. Walters. Time of periods—12 minutes.

PHS GRADS PLAY QUAKER ALUMNI

Former Gridiron Stars of Rivalt Institutions Meet at Moorestown, November 29

The Palmyra High School Alumni will resume its activities when the football gladiators meet the former pigskin warriors of Moorestown High School, November 29.

The game will be played on the Moorestown gridiron, located at South Church street, the kick-off being scheduled for two o'clock. The old feud between the rival institutions will be as hard-fought as any battle ever waged between the undergraduates of the two schools.

Palmyra Alumni is well represented in numerous college teams, as well as independent teams in this section. Moorestown graduates are not far behind the Pals in their representation on college teams and numerous other eleven in South Jersey.

It is safe to predict that the game will be replete with thrills and suspense, for either of the two schools will have an excellent chance to see their stars of a few years ago once more playing shoulder to shoulder.

Little doubt lingers in the minds of the people that Palmyra will emerge the victor. There are enough stars on the Red and White Alumni team to make any team feel dubious about its chances of winning. Leon Sloan and Jim Reeves, of Dickinson; "Dip" Miller, of Princeton; One Hurley, of Penn State; Charles Knight, of Delaware; George Luttrell, and it is Mathers, of Rutgers; Bob Barley, of Hobart; Bus Stackhouse, of Arizona; Ed Hutchins, of Harvard; Joe Atkinson, of Swarthmore; Mike Probsting, of Wesleyan; M. A. Lutz, of Cornell; Temple, of Tulane; Swarthmore, Prep, and Bill Baker, Friends Central, are players who have seen service on college or prep school teams, and who will be in the line-up of the Moorestown game.

Moorestown's line-up will include Harry Little, of Big Spring fame, Gene Bruce and Butch Fletcher, of McCoy's Cardinals; Bill Kearney, of Chew A. C. Germantown; Edward Warner, Edson Hicks and Dolphy Bright, of Riverton and Delaware fame, and Spencer Cramer, Stan Ciolek, Vern Adams, Vince Hackett, Joe Sacco, Walt Pouton, Jim Davidson, Tony Price, Ben Wilbraham, Roger Blumer and George Beeton, all former high school players of repute, will likely see action in the game.

Moorestown Organization Begins Season's Activities at Monday Session

The real work of the Moorestown Woman's Club began with the November meeting Monday at the Community House, when Dr. B. M. Tucker, speaker of excellent repute, gave a lecture on "George Bernard Shaw, Man and Dramatist."

The chairman of the League of Women Voters reported upon the Bond Conference, the Dominion, the Trading Round Table Conference, the American attitude toward the revolution in Brazil, and the Fascist Party's success at the German elections.

The Current Events Club announced the course of lectures to be given by Mrs. Jackson Fleming, on Thursdays, at 3 o'clock, on November 6, 13, 20, December 4, 11, and 18.

Dr. S. M. Tucker was then presented to speak. His presentation of the subject was charmingly sympathetic, convincing and inspiring, and the speaker gave many illuminating sidelights on the character of the man.

Shaw is accounted the greatest living dramatist, known everywhere, and according to the speaker, his work is a study of Shaw this winter and to the literature section this exposition was especially timely and interesting.

"The Apple Cart," the latest of Shaw's plays, is to be produced by the Theatre Guild in Philadelphia, with his sanction.

County Class Initiation at Mount Holly, November 6th. Members wishing to attend will consult with President George R. Evans at his home.

Burlington County Association will meet at Florence tonight. The delegation will leave the hall at 8:00 p. m. Indoor baseball next Monday night. The Seattle quilt team downed the local last Monday night by a 15 to 6 game score.

Edson Carhart was the fortunate one in the second Mystery Night development. A nice tanjo clock will be a lasting reminder of his success.

Age in Golfing Unimportant

By FAIRWAY

I am convinced that very often the greatest difficulties in golfing are those of the imagination.

When people take up golf, at first instance the age of thirty-five or forty years, it is very hard for them to overcome the thought that they will never be able to obtain a shot of any great distance. But if they stop and realize what a comparatively useless phase of the game distance really is, they would not allow the thought to become a mental barrier.

One of the greatest problems that confronts a person who takes up golf is in the discarding of what is old and retaining the most sound and sensible bits.

In first learning the fundamentals of the game, most of these people find that their wrists are not as supple as those of a younger person, but, remember, one can train his wrists to make very accurate shots, if not extremely long-ones.

Shots that are kept straight down the middle of the fairway are the thing to count. But, on the other hand, the secret of perfect golf is rhythm.

Rhythm is probably one of the most used words and also most abused words in the technical history of golf. The meaning of this word is simple enough, but few make a sincere effort to study the results of it.

I once heard an excellent professional golfer say, "A very good game of golf is one that is not considered exceptionally strong or noticeably weak."

Physical fitness plays an important part in the winning of matches or tournaments. A person who is very tired may become dejected and then it becomes the easiest thing in the world to lose, as the mind is just as much a factor as the body.

Another thing which will aid a person to become a better player is to have every opportunity to watch expert golfers and analyze their game. Then the beginner should try to play his best game. He is capable of regardless of the advice of others.

Really liking the game is oftentimes the secret of success, together with determination. Golf is not a game that can be mastered in a short time. It is unfortunate to let golf become a work.

The rule is to constantly regard the game as play, no matter how important it may seem to be. It will then become a true sport in every respect, and age seems less important than it did in the beginning.

ARTISANS ENTER COURT QUINTET IN PHILA. LOOP

Newly Formed Basketball Team is Member of AOMP League

TEAM IS UNANIMOUS IN ELECTION CAPT. BURKE

First Game Scheduled for Tomorrow Night at Nicetown B. C. Floor

For the first time in the history of the local assembly, the Palmyra Artisans will place a basketball team on the court this season.

The organization of a court quintet came as the result of numerous and repeated requests that such a team be formed. While the matter had been spoken of in previous years, it was not until this year that any active steps were taken.

Several years ago, when the Twelfth Baseball League were playing its games at the Field Club grounds, then more or less appropriately termed "Razberry Park," the Artisans were represented. The last year the league was in existence, the Artisans were the season's champions, later holding a celebration in the honor of the players.

With the expectation of renewing athletic activities, the basketball team has been formed. Should the indoor game prove to be successful and popular, there will probably be formed a baseball team next spring.

The Palmyra team has been entered in the Artisans basketball league of Philadelphia, which includes in its membership, such teams as North-western, Jenkintown, William Patton, Frankford, Adelphi and Germantown.

Because of the lack of facilities in Palmyra, the games will all be played in Philadelphia. The court at the Nicetown Boys' Club, Hunting Park and Wayne avenues, has been set as the floor on which the Artisan league games will be played.

At the initial practice of the season, Monday night, Manager Howard Alway found a squad of ten candidates seeking berth on the team. In addition to these ten, there are several others, who were unable to attend practice Monday, but who will be out later.

Those who were present Monday were Paul Burke, Harold Foulke, Owen Botcher, George Long, Edward Miller, Dave Wenger, Vernon Adams, Wes Grifflenberg, Walter Gennett and Joseph Love. At an informal election held immediately after practice, Paul Burke, well-known star, and "Iron Earl" of this section was elected captain.

The first half schedule is as follows:
Nov. 7 Palmyra vs. Northwestern.
Nov. 14 Germantown vs. Palmyra.
Nov. 21 Wm. Patton vs. Palmyra.
Nov. 28 Palmyra vs. Frankford.
Dec. 3 Palmyra vs. Adelphi.
Dec. 10 Palmyra vs. Jenkintown.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

BAPTIST

Rev. Geo. Lockett, R.D., Pastor

The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Sunday School Association was held on Tuesday evening of this week. The Junior Philanthropy Class served supper at 6:30, after which the business meeting and election of officers was held.

Reports of the various departments were read. They show the School to be in a wonderful condition. The average attendance per Sunday for the year was 263, an increase over last year.

While the Sunday Schools of the State are showing a decrease in attendance, our officers are highly pleased with the condition of the School. Pastor Lockett called attention to the fact that while we are in a flourishing condition at the present time we must look to the future and keep pushing on to greater things ahead, and not relax in our work. Thomas C. Van Osten was re-elected superintendent.

Sunday services as usual. Sunday School at 10:00 a. m. Morning worship at 11:45 a. m. Armistice Sunday. Sermon subject, "Twelve Years After." Children's Church Service in the Primary Department at 11:15 a. m. At 6:45 p. m. the B. Y. P. U. service at 8:45 p. m. Topic, "What Does Brotherhood Mean?" (Armistice Day Service). Evening worship at 7:45 p. m. Sermon subject, "In the Beginning God." There will be special music at evening service.

The Junior Philanthropy and Samaritan Classes are rehearsing for the mystery play, "Cat O'Nine Tails," to be given in the High School auditorium on Saturday evening, December 6th.

The Griefed R. Y. P. U. will hold a social on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock instead of their regular meeting.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack

On October 25, 1763, George Washington was elected a vestryman of Truro Parish, Virginia. His diary is a record of very faithful attendance at the vestry meetings and of course at church.

The period in which Washington lived was the same period that marked considerable infidelity. Indeed one of Washington's neighbors organized what was called "The Tom Paine Infidel Club." It included a number of well known public men of the day.

The commander of the patriot army and first President was not only a church communicant, but a vestryman and hence a sponsor for organized religion, and thereby must have had a tremendous influence for good in the America of that time.

We have no need to hang our heads in shame when we recall the illustrious men and women of our church, and of other Christian bodies, who have been "on the side of the angels."

The Guild of St. Agnes postponed their meeting this month to the second Monday, November 10, at 8:00 p. m. The final arrangements for the Christmas Fair will be made. A good attendance is urged.

The third of the broadcasting series by the Diocese of Long Island will be given on Wednesday, November 12, from 7:30 to 7:45, by Bishop Larned, who will speak on "What is the Influence of God in Your Community?"

The Burlington District Woman's Auxiliary will meet in St. Stephen's Church, Riverside, on Tuesday, November 11, at 2:30 p. m.

The teachers' meeting for the Church School will be held the second Wednesday of each month at 8:00 p. m. in the Parish House.

The Bishop of the Diocese will hold Confirmation on Sunday, December 7, at 4:00 p. m. A class has been formed and we give you a cordial invitation to attend.

The boys of the Church meet on Thursday of each week in the Parish House at 7:30 p. m. for Bible Study and basketball. You are invited.

The service by the Choral Association of Burlington County, held last Thursday in St. Mary's Church, was most inspiring. Over 20 choristers took part.

Services Twenty-first Sunday After Trinity: 10:00 a. m. Church School. 1:45 a. m. Morning Prayer and Sermon, "Necessary to Salvation." 4:00 p. m. Confirmation Class. 8:00 p. m. Evensong and Sermon, "Truth Is One."

Lord Lytton, former Governor of Bengal and Parliamentary Secretary for India, recently said that the missionaries in India—British and American, Anglican, Roman and Protestant—"are all doing a splendid work." He continued that after visiting the mission schools, colleges, hospitals and orphanages, he could best sum up his feelings by saying: "The red carpet spread for me at official functions would be more fittingly laid under the feet of the missionary men and women."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. Harold L. Creager

The worship services and sermons for the month of November are being centered around the thought of Stewardship. The Christian Church is slowly coming to the realization that Stewardship is not an empty theory, but the essential program of Christian living. To the understanding and practice of this Christian standard much time and consecrated effort ought to be expended.

The Light Brigade will hold its meeting Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. An interesting program is planned for the children.

The catechetical class is to be started next Tuesday evening at 7:15 at the church. Boys and girls of the Intermediate and Senior ages will be enrolled for instruction, with a few to Confirmation.

Calvary Presbyterian

Rev. C. T. Bates, Minister

Calvary Presbyterian Church will hold its morning services of worship Sunday at 11 o'clock. All departments of the Church School will meet at 10 o'clock. The Christian Endeavor Society meets at 7 p. m. in the Church School Auditorium. A forty-five minute service is held in the evening at 8 o'clock. Fifteen minutes of this period is given to the singing of favorite hymns.

The Golden Hour Circle will meet at 8 o'clock Friday evening in the Church Parlor.

The Church School Workers and Officers will hold their conference Monday evening, November 10th at 8 o'clock.

Mid-week Service-Mission Study Class: leader, the pastor.

The Golden Hour Circle will hold their Annual, 1930, and Bazaar Friday, November 14th, in the Social Hall of the church.

Charles T. Bates Minister.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"ADAM AND FALEN MAN" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 9, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "As by the offense of one judgment came upon all men to condemnation; even so by the righteousness of one the free gift came upon all men unto justification of life" (Romans 5:18).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright; for the end of that man is peace" (Psalm 37:37). "Be ye therefore perfect even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect" (Matthew 5:48).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "It was once perfect but has now lost his perfection, then mortals have never beheld in man the reflex image of God. The lost image is no image. The true likeness cannot be lost in divine reflection" (p. 259).

Trenton Chapter Enacted on Tour of Burlington County By Stockton Group

A historical tour of Burlington County was made Wednesday last week by George Washington Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Trenton, as guests of Annis Stockton Chapter, of Burlington.

The tour started from Bordentown at 9:30 a. m. and the first stop was at the Clara Barton School, built in 1739. Stops were also made at the home of Richard Watson Glider, the Hopkinson burial grounds, the former home of Col. Joseph Borden, who laid out the town of Bordentown.

Upon arrival in Burlington the visitors went to old St. Mary's Episcopal Church. They visited the graves of celebrities connected with the early history of New Jersey, the homes of Capt. James Lawrence, hero of 1813 War; James Fenimore Cooper, pioneer American novelist; Franklin Tavern, and the Annis Stockton Chapter House.

They next visited the John Woolman House at Mount Holly. Mrs. E. Budd Shedaker, regent of Annis Stockton Chapter, was in charge of the arrangements in Burlington County. Miss Elma Lawson Johnston, regent of George Washington Chapter, assisted her.

As you walk along the streets now, you can't help but see nature at her height. The beautiful trees are adorned with their bright leaves of orange, yellow, red, and still some green ones. But let me ask you a question. Do you realize what these things mean to you? Do you think of what this world would be like without any flowers and trees? Ah, but you should, and you should, also, do you part to protect them. We could not live without the wood and numberless articles these trees provide for us. There is one important thing that mother nature provides for us that helps many hearts to become happy and that is joy. When you are sick in bed and someone brings you a bouquet of flowers, doesn't that make you feel better?

The amount of lumber in the United States is diminishing yearly. You can help the government stop this by doing your share in your community.

But don't forget the trees are helping you, so you help them.

WITCHES AND CLOWNS PARADE

There was an air of festivity in the Kindergarten room Friday. The shades were drawn and the children were having a Halloween party. There were clowns, policemen, sailors and Indians with painted faces. There were jack-o-lanterns that the children had made themselves and pictures of cats, owls, and witches were hung on the walls. They guessed who was behind each mask, played games, and enjoyed their refreshments of candy and cookies.

STATE ARMISTICE EVENT SATURDAY

Combined Jersey Legion Posts Will Celebrate at Long Branch

American Legion members from all parts of the State will gather at Long Branch on Saturday to participate in the Legion State Armistice Celebration.

The parade will start promptly at three o'clock, Posts marching by companies in inverse alphabetical order.

TALKS GIVEN IN ASSEMBLY

Robert Guest, secretary of Student Council, read the Bible in assembly Monday morning. Then Seven-A presented some talks. Frank Alloway was chairman and announced the speakers. Clifton Mayfield gave a talk on "Liquid Air," and showed his illustrations that he had drawn himself. Harold Baker talked about a horseshoe crab that he had found on the beach and mounted on wood. Richard Payne talked about the DO-X plane. "Butterflies" was the title of Betty Bailey's, "Sunkin Ships" was Charles Rader's, and Edward Hunt gave a talk to encourage boys to join the Boy Scouts.

MANUAL TRAINING ACTIVITY

The boys are happy once again. The lumber has come to start their projects. All the boys are at their work with new vim. A variety of things are being made. Some boys are making buildings; others bookshelves, drawing boards, stools, flower boxes, clothes trees, telephone racks, and many other handy things for their homes.

Near the middle of the year they are going to begin the metal work. With the metal the boys can make lamps, flower pots, fish aquariums, and many other handy things for their homes. This year the boys hope to finish many projects. Most of the boys are quite skillful and very often they lend a willing hand to help one another. By this cooperation they progress more rapidly.

PLANNING ROOMS IN ARITHMETIC

In the Seven-A Grade they are planning their arithmetic work around their homes or their bedrooms by learning to draw to scale and to layout architect's plans. Later they hope to furnish the rooms and paper the walls. They have added a cactus plant and narcissus bulbs to their collection of plants.

Warren County leading; the length of parade being one and a half miles. The reviewing stand will be at the City Hall, midway of line of march.

Reports indicate an attendance of six thousand Legionnaires, including thirty Legion Bands and Drum Corps. Department Commander Theodore R. Orleton, of Hackensack, accompanied by his staff of State officers, will head the parade.

At the conclusion of the parade, the marchers will be conducted to eating places. At seven o'clock, Bands, Drum Corps and Drill Teams will compete on the high school athletic field. Announcement of winners and awards will be made at the dance to be held in the ballroom of the Long Branch Elks' Club.

BASKETBALL COURT BEING BUILT

Riverton School is going to play basketball! Very soon you will hear the crowds cheering and see the Blue and Gold warriors battling for supremacy on the court. The court is almost completed and is going to serve a double purpose since both girls and boys play. So come out and see them play when they get their teams organized.

MAKING COLORFUL MAPS

The Fifth Grade children have been studying New Jersey and have made maps of the State, which they draw and colored. Some of these are made of salt and are called "salt maps." They also have colored the boundaries of each county. On the wall is a large freemason map which Doris Steele outlined. The children bring pictures of different products of the State and paste them on the map in the section where they are made.

SEEDS FASCINATE SIXTH GRADE

This week the Sixth-A children are studying about seeds and making two charts, one for "Seeds That Fly," and the other for "Seeds That Steal a Ride." Among these seeds are the sand bur, maple seed, and milkweed seed.

Then, too, they have formed a home room organization for the good of their entire room. They elected Harry Rieger, president; Bertram Shoemaker, secretary, and Jane Rutherford, treasurer, and also chairmen for the following committees: room desks, scholarship, banking, welfare, and news. Each committee has assigned duties. They hold their meetings each Friday afternoon.

In geography they have started a large salt map of France. It is being constructed by Dorothy Wulcott, William Good, and Bertram Shoemaker. They are marking the Seine River, Havre, Rouen, and Paris, which are in the section of France which they are studying.

Branch Elks' Club. At ten o'clock the Memorial Ritual will be conducted by the State Championship Ritual Team of Wyckoff, Bergen County.

Five hundred dollars will be awarded winners of the musical and drill team contests. Prizes will also be awarded to the best answering drum major, Counties having the largest percentage of Legion and Auxiliary membership in the parade; and to the lucky color bearer carrying his Post Colors in the parade.

The Long Branch Post of the American Legion will act as host on this occasion. The local committee in charge are: Post Commander, Langdon E. Morris, general chairman; Contest and Awards Committee, J. Arthur Wooding, chairman; A. H. Porter, secretary; Editor E. Brewett and Dr. C. Byron Blaisdell.

The Focal Point of the Family Circle

Where does the family circle meet more frequently and with greater pleasure than around the dining room table?

Shouldn't it, then, be one of the most attractive spots in the home?

And it can be!

We have perfected a finish for table tops that looks like a million dollars, but costs little.

It is worry-proof—is not affected by hot dishes or hot liquids. To keep it clean you just wash with soap and water.

Of course it is covered by the same guarantee that insures all our work.

OUR GUARANTEE

If at any time, in any way, our service fails to give complete satisfaction, bring the matter to our attention, and we will make it right.

TARGET PRACTICE SCORES

The weekly target practice held in Riverton came to a close with a rather small attendance last Saturday. Three State Troopers were among the contestants, namely, Troopers Rehner, Settle and Turnbull. These boys are all good shots and their scores, which speak well for the instruction they receive at training school, were all in the 135 class.

For the citizens, Williams, as usual, heads the list with the remarkable score of 148, which makes the second consecutive time he has made this score. Bennett gave him a close run for his money when he pulled in a 146. Saylor and Lowery came in third and fourth, respectively, with scores of 144 and 142.

The scores are as follows:

	75 Ft.	50 Ft.	50 Ft.	Tot.
Miller	15	19	11	45
Robinson	29	33	32	94
Dorworth	48	28	48	122

Riverton Business Men Back Project in Christ Church Parish House

Riverton business men have made an offer to the troop committee of the Riverton Scouts, Troop 50, Burlington County Council, which will enable the troop to bring to a prompt conclusion a project upon which the troop and its officers have been working for some months. When completed, this project will give the Riverton troop a meeting room second to none in the county, a room which will allow the troop to develop to the full extent that is to be expected in the Boy Scouts of America.

Events have been happening in the troop for the past few months. For some time past it has been evident that the old troop meeting room in the parish house of Christ Church was inadequate to allow proper growth of the troop. The rector, the Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, who is also chairman of the troop committee, was appealed to, and through his efforts the church very generously turned over to the troop the entire basement of the parish house, except, of course, the small space occupied by the furnace room. This basement was formerly used as a billiard and shuffle board room.

Reconstruction and Equipment
It then became a problem of the troop how best to equip and arrange this new meeting place. Several very important improvements were necessary before the troop would realize its dream of a meeting place wholly its own. A door had to be cut into the basement from the outside in order to allow the troop to use its own quarters without going through the parish house upstairs. The old wooden floor had to be taken up and a new concrete floor laid. Electric lights had to be installed to take the place of the old, inefficient and dangerous gas lights. And finally two partitions had to be built to divide off a troop office and store room.

The first project, the cutting of the door, costing nearly $100 was accomplished during the summer through the generosity of friends of the troop who preferred to remain anonymous.

Under the supervision of Mr. Shomaker of the troop committee, the members of the troop labored mightily on numerous Saturdays and holidays to clear out the trash in the room and to remove the old floor. This job proved to be an arduous undertaking. The joists for the old floor had been set in concrete. This had caused the joists to dry rot so that they had practically to be dug out of the concrete with a trowel. How difficult this proved to be can be testified to by the various boys who gave up their recreation time for its accomplishment.

Business Men Offer Help
Then came the problem of financing the next two important steps in the program, the electric wiring and the laying of a new concrete floor. No immediate prospect of raising this money quickly was in sight.

Out of a clear sky a few days ago came an offer which will enable the troop to go ahead. Unolicited, a small group of Riverton business men volunteered to endorse the note of the troop at this bank for enough money to complete the projects. This note is to be gradually paid off by the troop over a period of three years. The amount necessary has been estimated at from $400 to $500, covering floor, wiring, lumber, etc.

At a meeting of the troop held last Friday night, the offer was fully explained to the troop, and thoroughly discussed by the boys. A vote was taken and it was unanimously decided to accept.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Godfrey

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Godfrey, 75 years of age, wife of Edward L. Godfrey, died at her home on Walton avenue, Mount Laurel, Sunday morning, from an attack of apoplexy. She had been ill only a few days.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from her late residence, with the Rev. C. W. Macgregor, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Moorestown, officiating. Interment will be made in Mount Laurel cemetery.

Mrs. Godfrey was well known in the vicinity, having lived there all her life. She was the daughter of the late Levi Ellis, who also resided in Mount Laurel.

Surviving Mrs. Godfrey, beside her husband, are three sons, Ellis F., John L., and Alfred; and one daughter, Mrs. Ernest Neubert, of West Second street, Moorestown.

Engaged

Announcement has just been made of the engagement of Miss Ethel M. Oldershaw, daughter of Mrs. Luella Oldershaw, of 309 South Church street, Moorestown, to Carroll P. Ayars, Jr., son of Carroll P. Ayars, of 115 Windsor avenue, Haddonfield.

APPRECIATION

Through the press I wish to thank my fellow-citizens for the splendid vote I received last Tuesday. I deeply appreciate this evidence of their confidence, and I again pledge myself to work for the best interests of our County and State.

MARCUS W. NEWCOMB.

ROLL CALL

Annual Red Cross Membership Drive Began Tuesday

The Annual Roll-Call membership of the American Red Cross began on Thanksgiving Day and will continue until Thanksgiving.

It is expected that Burlington County will exceed the wonderful showing made in the last two years, as the need for funds for the Red Cross is greater this year than heretofore.

Burlington County Chapter will conduct a house to house campaign all over the County, as it is the aim of the Red Cross at the time of the Roll-Call to extend to everyone a personal invitation to participate in its work for humanity through membership.

The County quota is 5,000 memberships, of which 506 have been assigned to Riverside Branch, 506 to Riverton, 578 to Palmyra, 731 to Moorestown and 860 to Burlington.

The services of the Red Cross have become so large a part of our American life, that everyone who can afford a dollar a year membership should make this contribution to the great work.

Every true American should feel it a privilege to belong to the great army of generous Americans who contribute to the support of this great cause.

SEVEN RESCUED IN LUMBERTON FIRE

Rear of Building Badly Damaged, Loss Estimated at $1,000

Two women and five children were rescued shortly before midnight Saturday night when flames threatened a large double-frame house at Lumberton.

Lewis W. Wolfson, who lived in one side, was forced to flee scantily attired with his wife and five children ranging from 3 to 12 years when flames were discovered in the rear of the property. Wolfson carried them all to safety.

Firemen rescued Miss Sadie Sharp, 79, who lived alone in the other side of the house.

As showers of sparks fell on nearby houses the firemen sent out on calls for aid from other towns. Mount Holly sent two companies and Medford, Manasquan and Hainesport departments also responded.

The rear of the property was damaged badly by the flames. The loss is estimated at $1,000. Miss Little Parry, Hainesport, owns the property.

"QUAKER REBEL" IN WANAMAKER WINDOW

Display of Edwin S. Parry's New Book on Betsy Ross Attracts Much Interest

A window display that attracted unusual attention in Philadelphia this week was staged by the Wanamaker store in honor of Armistice Day. It had special interest for Rivertonians who chanced to pass that way.

The window, on Chestnut street, near Juniper, one of the big store's principal show windows, was given over to a display of the new book, "Betsy Ross, Quaker Rebel," written by Edwin Parry, of Riverton. Many copies of this account of the romantic life of the maker of the flag were shown, both open and closed, and with a background of accessories that jammed the sidewalk at times with people eager to see the exhibit.

On a mahogany Martha Washington sewing table, were draped pieces of old bunting preserved from the flag shop of Betsy Ross, with the statement that "it was from material like this that she made the first ensign of Stars and Stripes at her shop at 239 Arch street." This bunting, which has come down through her family from Revolutionary days, was loaned by Mr. Parry for the occasion.

Behind the sewing table were arranged several of the oil paintings from which the illustrations of the book were made, depicting Betsy Ross as a young girl at Quaker meeting; Washington, Robert Morris and Colonel George Ross calling at her upholstery shop, and Lord Cornwallis at the head of his troops marching down Second street when the British captured Philadelphia. Replicas of old Hatteraske flags and Pine Tree flags added to the interest of the exhibit.

The window display was opened Monday morning and was planned to run all week. On Armistice Day, when Chestnut street was affluited with flags, the crowd was so dense at times before the window that a policeman had to keep the people moving. The John C. Winston Company, publishers of the book, also arranged a window display featuring it all week at the Winston building, 10th and Arch streets.

FOOD SALE

The Philathea Class of the Central Baptist Sunday School, Palmyra, will hold a Food Sale in the Social Hall of the church, on Friday and Saturday of this week, November 14 and 15. On Friday the specials will be Vegetable Soup and Fish Cakes and on Saturday, Omelets, Cakes, Pies, Candy, etc. Orders should be sent to Mrs. Clarence T. Yerkes, Riverton 1049-W or Mrs. A. C. Hirsch, Riverton 583-W.

The proceeds of the sale will be used to help the needy. They will also take orders for mince meat for Thanksgiving, to be delivered on November 25.

ANNUAL VISITING NURSE REPORT

Work Included Gathering Data for Commission Named by President Hoover

The annual meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton-Cinnaminson Visiting Nurse Society was held October 13, 1930, at 600 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra.

The past year has been a satisfactory one, the new development being the work in the Riverton Public School.

As the health work in the Cinnaminson School is also under the care of the nurses, much of their time is taken up in visiting and in this preventive nursing. The fact that each nurse has a car makes possible a wider usefulness.

Our nurses have been asked by Red Cross Headquarters to aid the Child Study Commission, appointed by President Hoover, in getting certain data about the children of pre-school age, in this section of New Jersey. This is keeping them especially busy for a few days.

We are fortunate in having continued service from Miss Blair and Miss Cook, whose knowledge of Burlington County institutions is often most useful.

At each annual meeting one-third of the committee members are reviewed and elected for the three years following.

This year's appointments are: Mrs. A. C. Gilman, Mrs. Clement Hues, Mrs. E. M. Houser, Mrs. William McCamy, all from Palmyra, and Mrs. William G. Porter, of Riverton.

As officers the following were elected for one year: Mrs. Charles Evans, chairman; Mrs. William McCamy, secretary; Miss Martha McEl Biddle, treasurer.

The Visiting Nurse Committee is very appreciative of the support given it in this community.

HELEN BLAIR, CAROLYN N. COOK, Nurses.

Mrs. George McIlhenny

Mrs. Annie E. McIlhenny, of 6600 North Thirteenth street, Philadelphia, formerly of Riverton, died at her home early Sunday morning.

Mrs. McIlhenny was the wife of George W. McIlhenny and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Joseph L. Stack, of West Broad street, Palmyra.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the late residence, where the body lay in state. Interment was made in Morgan cemetery, Palmyra, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many friends for kindness shown during our recent bereavement, especially those who sent care and flowers to the funeral.

LEONARD EARLING AND FAMILY.

MRS. AMELIA S. MOLLARD

Mrs. Amelia Stevenson Mollard, wife of Sidney Mollard, of Bartonsdale, Delaware county, Pa., died at her home last week, and was buried Thursday. The Mollards formerly lived in Riverton, occupying a house on Thomas avenue.

May War From Planes on Jersey Mosquitoes

New Jersey's mosquito fighters have become air-minded and attacks from airplanes on the State's best-known insect pest only await the development of the proper dust larvicide.

Research directed toward the making of such a larvicide has already been undertaken in New Brunswick at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, and preliminary tests made last summer indicate that the objective is not impossible of attainment. If further tests give good results, practical applications of the larvicide will be made from airplanes next summer.

By using airplanes loaded with poisonous dust, mosquito fighters can extend their warfare to many now inaccessible mosquito-breeding areas. Dr. Joseph M. Glushko, biologist in entomology at the experiment station, said today. Heretofore, he explained, it has been impossible to prevent mosquito breeding in swamps and many other flooded areas that were too large to drain or fill in. Where it was impossible to investigate with beats equipped for spraying oil.

Elmer Hahn, chairman of the Group Committee on the YMCA Board, will officiate as toastmaster, and George D. (Pat) Steele, the famous song leader, will officiate in that capacity.

An effort is being made to have boys who want to attend the banquet to have the opportunity. There are a number of boys in the two communities who could not attend without the aid of some one, and in these cases men are being lined up. Any man who has no son and wants to adopt one for the evening may do so by getting in touch with Mr. Hahn, the secretary.

The ladies of the Methodist Church are planning one of their best dinners and every indication points to this being one of the Father and Son Banquets that will long be remembered by both the boys and their dads.

ANNAPOLIS TESTS HELD ON NOV. 28

Three Vacancies at Naval Academy and One at West Point

Congressman Bacharach announces the holding of a preliminary competitive examination for the selection of candidates for West Point and Annapolis. There are three appointments to be made to Annapolis and one to West Point to fill vacancies occurring in the summer of 1931.

This examination, as heretofore, will be conducted by the County Superintendent of Schools of the Second Congressional District, and will be held in the High School building at Moorestown, Burlington County, on the day following Thanksgiving Day, Friday, November 28th, commencing at ten a. m. and continuing through the day until finished.

This examination is open to all boys who are bona fide residents of the Second Congressional District, comprising the Counties of Atlantic, Burlington, Cape May and Camden. The age limits for applicants are from 16 to 20 years for Annapolis (April 1, 1931), and 17 to 22 for West Point (July 1, 1931).

The subjects for examination are: English, arithmetic, geography, algebra, geometry and U. S. history. The scope of the examination follows closely the examinations held by the Government for entrance to either Academy.

Application for permission to take this examination should be made to Mr. J. J. Unger, Superintendent, Bridgeton, N. J., and should be filed not later than November 22nd. Applications should be accompanied by at least two letters of recommendation, as to character and residence, one of which should be from the applicant's teacher, giving some data bearing upon his school work.

Pamphlets giving full particulars covering the admission to Annapolis and West Point may be had by addressing the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, or the Adjutant General, War Department, Washington, D. C., or to Congressman Bacharach at Washington. These pamphlets also contain specimen questions of previous examinations. It is suggested that all applicants give particular attention to the physical requirements, for it would be useless to take the preliminary examination if one is not able to meet the physical requirements.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday morning, December 10th, at 10 o'clock, at which time Mrs. Clayton D. Lee will again address the class on current events. This meeting is open to the public. There will be an admission fee of 50 cents for non-members of the club.

The class is still open for membership.

A second-hand clothing sale was held in the club house on Saturday, November 8th. Many very nice things were donated and many people were enabled to purchase warm and useful articles at very low prices. The proceeds were for the benefit of the local Welfare Society. Also a card party was held in the club house Monday, the 10th, for the same worthy cause. The room was crowded and delicious sandwiches and coconuts were the donation of the club.

A musical tea will be given by the Music Section of the Riverton Porch Club on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the Misses Biddle, Bank and Lippincott avenues.

Miss Helen Jepson will render several numbers. Miss Jepson has a charming voice. She is appearing with the Philadelphia Opera Company this winter.

Miss Pauline Michel, violinist, has studied with the late Leopold Auer, who was one of the best known violinists and teachers of his time.

There will be no charge for members of the club. Guest tickets will be sold for one dollar, and can be obtained from members of the Music Committee or Mrs. Nathan Lane, Jr., chairman.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET NOV. 20

Interesting Speakers Invited; Dinner Planned by Ladies; Elmer Hahn, Toastmaster

The final touches have been added to the plans for the annual YMCA Father and Son Banquet and it is ready to be launched Thursday, November 20th, at 7 o'clock.

Rev. Forrest Dager, of Philadelphia, will deliver the address of the evening, speaking on "Boys—The Things on Earth"; C. Deugler, supervising principal of the Palmyra Schools, will speak on the one side of the YMCA Triangle—"Mind"; Mr. E. N. Cooper, supervisor of Riverton Public School, will speak on the "Body"; and the Rev. Harold Creager, pastor of Lutheran Church, Palmyra, will speak on the "Spirit."

Elmer Hahn, chairman of the Group Committee on the YMCA Board, will officiate as toastmaster, and George D. (Pat) Steele, the famous song leader, will officiate in that capacity.

An effort is being made to have boys who want to attend the banquet to have the opportunity. EXPRESS BUSES

"Jersey Limited" Provides Fast Cars Between Philadelphia and New York

Public Service has inaugurated express bus service to Trenton between Philadelphia and New York.

"Jersey Limited" buses on the New York-Philadelphia line now make stops at the Trenton Transit Company Terminal, Perry street, near Broad.

The new schedule provides fast and frequent service to Trenton. The one-way fare is 70 cents and the round trip fare is $1.35. New super service buses are used on the New York-Philadelphia line.

The meeting of the Current Events Class was held on Tuesday morning, November 11th, at the club house. After answering the roll-call with quotations from Rudyard Kipling, Mrs. Frederick Blair gave an interesting talk on current events, with class discussion.

This was followed by a report of new books worth reading by Mrs. Elsie Dickinson, giving a hasty outline of some of the favorites.

The most talked of book of this month, by Rivertonians, is "Betsy Ross, Quaker Rebel," written by Edwin S. Parry, of Riverton. Mr. Parry loaned a personally autographed copy of his book to the class meeting, afterwards presenting the book to the Riverton Free Library.

At eleven o'clock, the hour at which the Armistice was declared twelve years ago, there was a brief pause in the meeting to pay tribute to those who gave their lives for our country. To emphasize the achievement of peace between the nations of the world, a short poem was read on "Peace" by Mrs. Brewster Jackson, followed by the singing of the hymn, "O God of Love, O King of Peace, Make Wars Throat the World to Cease," by Mrs. Maurice Belknap.

The feature of the morning was a book review of "The Deepening Stream," by Dorothy Canfield Fisher, written by Mrs. Ernest Warnick, and read by Mrs. A. M. Ellsworth. This was interestingly written, and much enjoyed by the class.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday morning, December 10th, at 10 o'clock, at which time Mrs. Clayton D. Lee will again address the class on current events. This meeting is open to the public. There will be an admission fee of 50 cents for non-members of the club.

N. J. STATE P. T. A. IN CONVENTION

Thirtieth Annual Meeting Held at Atlantic City Largest in Its History

"The Call of Today" was the theme of the thirtieth annual convention of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers, held in Atlantic City, last week, November 8th, 9th and 10th.

This convention was the largest ever recorded. Eight hundred and eighty delegates were registered and many more attended who were not registered.

Delegates from Riverton were Mrs. Arthur Hagator, County Council chairman; Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, State Trustee in Charge of Publicity; and Mrs. Harold Baker, president of the Riverton Association.

Wednesday afternoon there were three different meetings for Parent-Teacher groups.

The banquet, with nearly 700 attending, was held Wednesday evening, followed by a splendid program. The Emersonians, 30 male voices, sang many delightful songs, which were enthusiastically received by the large audience.

Stepping Stones
Mrs. William F. Little, the State President, gave a short, interesting speech. She gave the keynote of her talk when she said not to be a stumbling block in one's association, but a stepping stone.

The convention was formally opened Thursday morning with Mrs. William F. Little presiding.

There were reports from committees and vice-president. It was made known there are nearly 60,000 members in New Jersey at the present time, showing a remarkable growth in ten years, for in 1920 there were but 10,000 members. The goal for 1940 is for 100,000 members.

Mrs. William F. Little, State President, spoke on "The Call of Today." She said that failure to understand the child and to guide him aright in the complex social and industrial situations of today is the cause of our crowded jails, not prohibition. Present education is the key to the successful functioning of this understanding. Mrs. Little will address the Riverton Parent-Teachers' Association next March.

In closing Mrs. Little said: "Religion in America was not to be outgrown." The call of today is for us to revitalize it for "the nation that forgets God shall perish."

Halliday R. Jackson, supervisor, Ventnor City School, gave the address and chose as his topic, "Bureaucracy," which means workers together. He told those assembled that many problems await solution. He pointed out that this age has made giant strides in progress so far as material advantages are concerned, but that unless we grow spiritually, as we can make the best use of those advantages we may not be able to attain the height of our possibilities. Development of the future must be along spiritual lines.

Problems of Parents
At the afternoon session Dr. Ada Hart Arlitt, National Chairman of Parent Education, spoke on "Problems of the Modern Parent." This was a very interesting subject and there were many questions asked her by perplexed parents. She said that (Continued on Page 3.)

PALMYRA MAN IS GIVEN LIFT, THEN HIT AND ROBBED

Two Men Bringing Thomas Sneed From Riverside Take Watch and $10

W. T. McALLISTER IN CRASH AT MORGAN AVE.

Charles Mills, of Palmyra, and Mrs. Mary Cunningham, of Riverton in Accidents

After giving him a ride from Riverside, two men in a small coupe struck and robbed Thomas Sneed, 813 Washington avenue, Palmyra, of $40 and a watch and chain Sunday evening.

Sneed said that he had been visiting several places in Riverside. About 7 o'clock he was waiting for a trolley to bring him home when two men offered to bring him to Palmyra. He accepted the offer and climbed into the coupe in which they were riding.

He said the men took him for a ride, but at the time he did not know where he was going and he did not remember passing through Palmyra or Riverton.

A few minutes before 9 o'clock he was let out of the car at Leconey avenue and Temple Boulevard. He said at some time during the ride he had been hit in the face and stunned and while unconscious the men in the car robbed him.

He made his way to 318 Leconey avenue, where he phoned the Palmyra police. His face was smeared with blood as a result of the blow he had received.

When police arrived he was unable to give them more than the merest details of what had happened. He could not describe either of the men, and he did not know what tags the automobile was carrying.

About 9:30 Saturday an automobile driven by William T. McAllister, Palmyra, crashed into a machine driven by Daniel Smith Doid, at Broad street and Morgan avenue, overturning Doid's car.

Doid was crossing to the south side of the railroad and was nearly across Broad street when McAllister, driving toward Riverton on South Broad street, crashed into the rear of Doid's car and spun it part way around before it turned over.

Neither driver was injured and since McAllister was insured Doid did not prefer charges and no arrests were made.

Following a collision between Charles Mills, Palmyra, and Harry B. Woodward, of Chesterfield Township, Sunday night, at the intersection of Main street and State Highway, Columbus, Woodward was arrested on a charge of reckless driving preferred by Mills.

After his arrest by State Trooper Speed, of the Columbus barracks, Woodward was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Frank Lockman, of Columbus, and fined $2 and costs.

When his motorcycle collided with an automobile driven by Mrs. Mary Cunningham, of Riverton; State Trooper Joseph Hickman, of the Berlin barracks, suffered abrasions of the knees.

Hickman was driving on White Horse, like when the car driven by Mrs. Cunningham came out of the Trenton road and stopped in front of him. Hickman was thrown from the cycle, which was badly damaged.

CHILD, VICTIM OF MOTOR FIRE, DIES AT CO. HOSPITAL

7-Year-Old Boy Succumbs to Burns Received at Green Tree

REPORT BABY BURNED TO DEATH DISCREDITED

Six Persons Injured in Auto Crash Here Over Weekend

One child is dead and six were injured in automobile accidents in and near Moorestown over the weekend. The child, Samuel Lovelace, seven years old, died at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, Monday afternoon, from second and third degree burns of the face and entire body received Sunday night on Church street, at Green Tree, when a car driven by his father, Earl Lovelace, was completely destroyed by fire.

The child's parents, also painfully burned, were taken to the hospital for treatment and released on Monday. Philadelphia and Camden newspapers Monday morning reported that a two-year-old child had been burned to death in the auto. This story has been partially denied by Coroner William P. Young, of Burlington, who was called to the scene of the accident with Moorestown police. What was thought to be the charred bones of a baby were found in the auto Monday morning, however, the State Police found Jean, the baby who was thought to have been left in the car at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Christian, near Green Tree, the car at the time the fire occurred. The Christians, according to reports, rescued the baby and took it to their home.

While this partially discredits the sensational story, Coroner Young asserts that Dr. Daniel F. Reimer, County Physician, is thoroughly examining what was thought to have been the bones of a child and will make a report on his findings early next week.

Two Hurt in Crash on Bridgeboro Road

Perceval Hill, thirty-fourth street, Camden, and Mrs. Clarewood Jeffries, thirty-seventh street, Camden, were injured when a machine driven by Hill crashed into an auto driven by Henry B. Tower, Bridgeboro, Sunday night at the intersection of Westfield road and Hartford-Westfield road, near Moorestown Airport.

Hill and Mrs. Jeffries were rushed to Zabranga Hospital, Riverton, where the woman was treated for possible fractured ribs and the man for a severed artery of the leg.

Tower, whose machine was almost a total wreck after the crash, claims that Hill, driving on the Hartford-Westfield road, disregarded the "Stop" sign when he crashed into Tower's car on Bridgeboro road. It is understood that both drivers will make complaints.

Hill's car, although it was overturned, was only slightly damaged. Trooper Ruggo, of the Delaware State Police Station, investigated the accident.

Riverside Man Hurt as Motorcycle is Hit

Steve Blenk, of Riverside, suffered injuries about the head when he was taken to the office of a Moorestown physician for treatment when the motorcycle on which he was riding was struck by an auto driven by William McHenry, Ranocosa, on Main street, near Chester avenue, Saturday morning.

John Barlo, also of Riverside, who was operating the motorcycle on which Blenk was riding, escaped uninjured.

Officer Walter A. Erickson investigated the accident, hearing on which will be held before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in Moorestown Town Hall on November 22.

Clergyman Struck by Car on Main St.

The Rev. E. Mendorff, retired clergyman, of Moorestown, was struck by an automobile on Main street, near Church street, Saturday evening. He was taken to the office of a local physician for treatment and then removed to his home.

B. Hubert Cramer, King Highway, was the driver of the car which struck the Rev. Mr. Mendorff.

Halleran Auto Hit While Parked

A car owned by Moorestown Township Committee, Ector Halleran, was damaged in a "freak" accident on Main street, near Page's Lane, Moorestown, Saturday morning. The official's car was parked on Main street. A machine owned by Arthur Bieber, Cedar Lake farmer, was parked in front of it. When Bieber cranked his machine it shot back into Halleran's car, and then, glancing off the Town Father's machine, jumped the curb and crashed into a "Bus Stop" sign, bending the big metal post before it finally came to a stop.

The radiator, fenders and head-lights on Halleran's auto all suffered. Bieber's auto was also considerably damaged.

Quasave Lindethal, famed engineer, who designed several of the largest bridges and tunnels around New York City, took time out a few evenings ago to attend a surprise dinner given by an engineering society in honor of his 50th birthday. Next day he resumed work on plans for another bridge he is designing to span the Hudson River.

Henry C. Stellwag, Riverside Funeral Director, and Mrs. Stellwag will celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the Riverside Targemünde Hall next Tuesday, November 18.

JUNIOR REPUBLICANS TO HOLD LUNCHEON

Annual Session Will be Held in St. Mary's Guild House at Burlington

The annual luncheon of the Burlington County Junior Republican Club will be held at St. Mary's Guild House in Burlington, November 18, at one o'clock.

The speakers will be Dr. Henry W. Elson, of Plainfield, N. J., who will speak on The League of Nations and the World Court, and R. C. Parker, supervising principal of Mount Holly schools, whose subject will be "Education."

Any members who have not gotten tickets already, may do so by communicating at once with their town leader or Mrs. Olin Slack, of Burlington.

SAYS "TELL, SELL" WITH ADVERTISING

Keystone Auto Club Head Sounds New Note in "Buy Now" Campaign

A new note was sounded last week in the "Buy Now" campaign by J. Borton Weeks, president of the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey.

"Tell the people what you have to sell and tell it through newspaper advertising," said Mr. Weeks, in announcing a policy of extensive advertising in Philadelphia, Eastern Pennsylvania and South Jersey.

"The Keystone Automobile Club," continued Mr. Weeks, "enjoys the prestige of being the largest motoring organization in the Eastern United States, but there is no reason why it should not continue to expand its membership, as it has in its services to motorists. The goal we have set for the Club can, we are sure, be attained through the medium of always money available for saleable products if the public is apprised of the true value of the commodity offered."

In a single editorial in the November issue of Keystone Motorist, official publication of the Club, Mr. Weeks tells of the continued growth of the Club in the face of the business depression.

"Every month this year, with the exception of August (which is normally bad due to the vacation period) the Club has experienced a net gain in membership," says the editorial. "Comparatively few automobile clubs had such a satisfactory experience. Those whose services have been below par have suffered considerably, according to reports from various sections of the country, while even some of the large and efficient clubs in areas where business has been more seriously affected than here, have sustained substantial losses in membership."

"The Keystone Automobile Club not only has been forging ahead from a membership standpoint, and increased substantially the number of policyholders in its insurance companies, as well as the resources of those companies, but has done this without curtailment of its services or personnel. On the contrary, the improvement of its services and the enlargement of their scope have received particular attention during this period."

Howard W. Breitinger

Howard W. Breitinger, 10 years old, a student at the Moorestown High School, died at his home on Cole avenue and Church road, Merchantville, on Tuesday of last week. He attended school on the day of his death but was suddenly stricken in the evening. The cause of his death was hemorrhaging of the lungs caused by ammonia gas.

Funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Breitinger. Interment was made in Colestown cemetery.

The youth is also survived by a sister, Alice, who graduated from Moorestown High School in the class of 1920.

"Look at the lovely radio set I got today, dear, and only $5 a month."

"For how many months?"

"Oh, I forgot to ask."

YOUNG WILL GIVE KIDDIES BANQUET

Burlington Coroner Plans Annual Feast for Wednesday, November 26

What has become known as one of the greatest annual charity events in Burlington county and one which has more human appeal to it than any similar affair could possibly have, is Rev. "Billy" Young's yearly Thanksgiving feast for needy youngsters.

Mr. Young is a Burlington City Councilman and a County Coroner.

With the big event but two weeks off, "Billy" is making an appeal to the many friends who have in former years aided him in financing, providing foodstuffs, and serving the kiddies' meal. Farmers are urged to come forward with offers of fowl, vegetables, and fruits, as in the past; grocers are asked to donate generously, and all others who wish to help in the fine work are to be given an opportunity to do so.

Last Thanksgiving Eve, the Rev. Mr. Young and his aides served a wonderful meal to seven hundred and four children. Besides the dinner, sixty-five Thanksgiving baskets were distributed on the morning following to needy families in Burlington.

A departure from the custom originally established by Billy in 1923 was the moving of the scene of the feast from his blacksmith shop, on Stacy street, to the Endeavor Fire House, East Union street, last year. Mr. Young no longer has room in his shop to accommodate the great number of kiddies who attend each year. While it has not yet been definitely decided upon, it is probable this season's repast will be held at the Endeavor.

According to Mr. Young, it is believed virtually the same committee which did such fine work last year will give their assistance again at the coming "feast." The committee in charge of cooking included: Mrs. William P. Young, Mrs. Robert Wilson, Mrs. Walton Farmer, Miss Alma Farmer, Miss Frances Farmer, Mrs. Elwood Hendricks, Mrs. McCreery, Mrs. Thomas Vanhorn, Mrs. Carrie Brothers, Mrs. John Courroy, Mrs. A. J. Young, and Mrs. Mrs. William Wundt.

Table aides included Mrs. William P. Young, Wesley Young, Miss Mildred Young, Mrs. John S. Courroy, Jr., Miss Elizabeth Brady (moved from Burlington), Miss Eleanor Wilson, Fred Lucas, Emmor Roberts, Miss Naomi Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Hendricks, Miss Irene Cook, Mrs. Walton Farmer, Miss Frances Farmer, Miss Alma Farmer, Miss Pearl Champion, Miss Irene Dorsey, Miss Gertrude Albinson, Miss Edna Stout, Miss Marie Wiley, Miss Elizabeth Adams, Miss Beulah Lippincott, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Mary Mary Champion, and Miss Mary Freck.

Redeemed Tribes

He rediscovered forgotten Canadian Eskimo tribes, discovered others, and opened up the whole district of the Northwest Passage to the initiative of the white man.

As leader of the great Canadian Arctic Expedition, 1913-1918, when new lands were discovered, he called attention so strongly to the future possibilities of the Arctic Archipelago that Canada commenced to occupy and take practical possession of land in a district of more than 500,000 square miles.

As a result of his journeys and observations he has published a series of books and through these opened up entirely new horizons for readers of all classes.

And he was never a stranger to his subject, as from the beginning he started to learn the language of the Eskimos and acquire their technique on hunting. In this he was successful to such a degree that he was able to live the life of the Eskimo and describe it from the point of view of that Native People.

It is this fact, in connection with his scientific ability and his unusual style as a writer, which has procured him a world renown for all time that is equally the reward of the courageous explorer and the gifted writer.

On January 21, 1921, Stefansson received for his explorations and writings a Vote of Thanks from the Canadian Government, moved by the Prime Minister. He is an Honorary Fellow of the American Museum of Natural History, the New York Academy of Sciences, and many other scientific organizations. He is Associate in Anthropology at Harvard University and Lecturer on Religion at Tufts College. He is degrees A.B. Iowa; A.M. Harvard, and LL.D. Michigan and Iowa.

BOY ESCAPES AS AUTO RUNS WILD DOWN HILL

A high school boy narrowly escaped death Wednesday last when an automobile ran wild down a hill in the rear of the Mount Holly High School and dropped over a ravine into a creek. Harry Paul, 19, was seated in a parked car of Theodore Reinger, 18, also a high school student. When the car started down a sharp hill on Nuttwood street Paul tried to steer it, but found the steering wheel locked. As the car gained momentum it first went over a five-foot ledge. It caught in the branches of a tree which slowed up its movement. Then it dropped over a wall into the creek in full view of 300 students. Paul was severely cut about the right hand in the crash.

EDUCATIONAL AID FOR WAR ORPHANS

Daughter of Man for Whom Burlington Legion Post is Named Benefits

With the opening of the school sessions this fall, the war orphans of New Jersey are beginning to take advantage of the educational facilities obtained for them last year, through the efforts of the American Legion. This consists of free tuition and scholarships granted by some seventeen leading educational institutions of this State, including Princeton, Rutgers, and many others, and the bill enacted by the State Legislature, allowing them one hundred and fifty dollars a year, for four years, to ward their maintenance while attending schools of higher education.

At the State Convention of the American Legion, in Wildwood, last September, State Commander Richard Hartshorne presented to the thousands of Legionnaires there present, the first two war orphans, a boy and a girl, who had qualified to obtain this State Aid. These were Robert Slamon, of North Bergen, and Eleanor H. MacFarland, of Margate. The former is the son of James T. Slamon, who was killed in action in the Meuse-Argonne, on November 1, 1918, but ten days before the Armistice, while attached to the First Gas Regiment.

The latter is the daughter of Captain James MacFarland, who was killed in action on October 24, 1918, while attached to the 113th Regiment, 28th Division. The Burlington Post of the American Legion is named the Captain James MacFarland Post, in honor of Mrs. MacFarland's father. Robert Slamon expects to enter Rutgers, while Eleanor MacFarland is attending the Atlantic City High School, preparatory to becoming a nurse.

In addition to these, the first war orphans to qualify, two more have been approved this month.

MORE PADLOCKS

Silver Lake Inn Target of Action By Foreman

Applications for padlocks on four more liquor establishments in and around Camden were filed in Federal District Court at Trenton last week by Federal Attorney Philip Foreman.

Foremost of these is the celebrated Silver Lake Inn on the White Horse pike at Clementon. The application lists the owners as John E. and Olga P. Weber the proprietor as the Silver Lake Inn Corporation, and Florian Caveng as an addition defendant.

There June 12, Next was the Kresson Club, on Kresson road, near Haddonfield. This was described as a two and a half-story frame farmhouse, containing a bar and drinking rooms, operated by Florence Meyers, alias Anna Meyers, and owned by Mrs. Emma Hillman. Federal agents were among the guests July 20.

LOSES AUTO LICENSES

Eight South Jersey motorists lost their licenses last week for drunken driving, three for reckless driving, two in manslaughter cases, one for a misdemeanor and another for a traffic violation. Among those who had their license revoked for reckless driving were Sylvester Harris, Moorestown; Griffith C. Lillis, Burlington; and George Jones, of the same city.

MILITARISMS SEEN AS FOE OF PEACE

Dr. Ward Tells Armistice Meeting U. S. Should Conform to Paris Pact

The Armistice meeting, held Sunday evening in the auditorium of Moorestown Friends' High School, was well attended by the citizens of Moorestown and vicinity. The American Legion was also well represented, as were the churches of the town.

Anna B. Orin, chairman of the Moorestown Peace Council, presided, the meeting being held under the auspices of the Council and the Church Federation.

The Rev. Frederick B. Morley, chairman of the religious committee of the Church Federation, introduced the speaker, Dr. Harry F. Ward, of the Union Theological Seminary, New York City.

Dr. Ward chose as the subject of his address "Next Steps in the Abolition of War." He spoke of the sincere desire of nearly all the people in the various nations for peace, and of the incongruity of this desire with the growing military preparedness for war by most of the governments of the world, including our own. This growing militarism, and the fear and mistrust it creates, is one of the greatest dangers to the peace of the world.

That the reparations demanded of Germany, based on the false assumption of her sole responsibility for the war, have kept the German nation depressed and impoverished and made it fertile ground for the revolutionist propaganda of the Communists, was one of the high lights of Dr. Ward's address.

"The demand of our government for payment of the war debt from the Allies has made it difficult for them to reduce their demands on Germany," Dr. Ward continued. "Many of the leading financiers of this country state that a general cancellation of war debts would again stimulate world trade and reduce the present economic depression."

Recognition of Russia by our government would help to eliminate another danger to world peace. Russia feels that America hates her and is trying to destroy her form of government and that she must arm to protect herself against this."

Dr. Ward said that he felt that the example that would be set by our nation, the most powerful in the world, if she would reduce her military preparations to conform with the spirit of the Paris Pact, would reduce her demands for payment of war debts, and would recognize the Russian Government, might be the means of preventing another World War which would almost certainly mean the destruction of civilization.

PLANS MADE FOR 'FATHERS' NIGHT' BY PALMYRA PTA

Guy C. Hendry, County YMCA Secretary, to Speak at Session Next Tuesday

EMINENT MUSICIAN WILL FEATURE PROGRAM

Discussion Group Will be Conducted by Prof. C. F. Dengler Prior to Meeting

The Palmyra P. T. A. is extending a special invitation to the parents, teachers and friends of the organization to attend the Fathers' Night program, to be held in the High School auditorium next Tuesday evening.

An especially fine program has been arranged for the meeting. One of the most prominent men in Burlington has been obtained as the principal speaker, Guy C. Hendry, popular and well known Y. M. C. A. worker, will speak on "Better Boys and Better Men." Those who have heard Mr. Hendry in previous addresses in this section will remember what an interesting speaker he is.

Special musical features have also been arranged for the evening. Alfred Van Ooten, tenor, and John Ward, baritone, will render several vocal selections during the program, while Harold Mueller, well known violinist, formerly of Palmyra, will entertain with several numbers. Mrs. Ruth Peterson Bell will accompany him, while Mrs. Alfred Van Ooten will play for the vocalist.

Prior to the regular meeting a discussion group will be conducted by Prof. C. F. Dengler, supervising principal of the Palmyra school system. This discussion period, lasting from 7:30 to 8:15, should be of interest to every parent, and a large attendance is urged by the officers of the P. T. A. Mrs. Elias M. Toy, president of the Palmyra organization, was sent as a delegate to the Thirtieth Annual Congress of Parents and Teachers at Atlantic City, held November 5-7. She was accompanied by Mrs. Evelyn Ciherson, County vice-chairman. They report the huge number of 886 voting delegates attending the convention. This number does not include a throng of visitors, of which no record was kept.

At the banquet Wednesday evening Mrs. C. E. Dickerson related the history of the P. T. A. What was of greatest interest to the listeners was the fact that the first "Mother's Congress" in the United States was held in Riverton in 1900. Since that time the organization has grown until at the present time there are 1,441,108 members in the United States alone.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

(By FURMAN A. WOOD)

Unemployment was the subject of considerable discussion at the session of Palmyra camp Monday night. Russell C. Holmes stated he was able to help a number of unemployed, married men secure temporary work in the postal service and anyone calling on him at Room 416, Post Office Building, Philadelphia, will be given all details and proper aid in making up papers. Holmes can also be seen at the camp room November 17 and 24. Next Monday camp will open promptly at 7:30 and the business will be dispatched in order to install a new camp of the Pioneers of America. This junior organization was authorized by the New Jersey state camp a few years ago and is open for boys of native birth from 10 to 15 years of age. After reaching their sixteenth birthday the members are automatically graduated into the P. O. S. of A., without initiation charges. The installation work will be performed by Merchantsville camp, sponsored by State Treasurer Howard R. Mercer. The members will benefit by attending in large numbers.

Americanization Committee were read in the local camp Monday night. The numerous suggestions will be handled by a local committee of five to be appointed next week. Thanksgiving donations were made to the Burlington County Tuberculosis Sanatorium and the Community Welfare Association. Members are requested to supplement this latter contribution by individual gifts of groceries, usable clothing or money. Bring such to the camp room November 17 or 24 and help relieve real distress.

NEW HOME FOR RIVERTON SCOUTS

Committees were immediately appointed to go into ways and means of raising money to start paying off the proposed loan as soon as possible. A number of tentative proposals were made to raise this money, benefit moving picture shows, a troop show, and the like. Each boy in the troop pledged himself to undertake to raise at least ten dollars of the amount by selling tickets to troop benefits, by personal labor, etc.

Work to be started soon. Work will be started on the new project as soon as the financial details can be arranged. The contract will be let to a local firm, thus in a small way assisting in relieving the present unemployment situation.

The generosity of the business men behind this offer will be very far reaching in the development of the troop, outside of the effect it will have upon the purely physical aspect of scout training. Every scout, upon enrollment as a tenderfoot, promises to obey the scout law, containing twelve points, the first of which is: "A Scout is Trustworthy." The taking on of this banking obligation is going to give the scouts a wonderful opportunity of learning the practical application not only of this first, and perhaps most important point in the scout law, but also of at least four other points. The effort to pay off the loan is going to call for adherence to the laws that say: "A Scout is Loyal," which means he will do his best to further the efforts to raise money; "A Scout is Helpful"; "A Scout is Cheerful," even though he has to give up some of his play time to assist the troop, and last of all, "A Scout is Thrifty."

Public Support Needed. The troop is counting on its friends to assist it in paying off its obligations by lending hearty support to the various benefit programs which are to be inaugurated. Needless to say, these will be well worth attending from an entertainment standpoint.

The events leading up to the coming realization of the troop's dream of an adequate meeting room show that many of the older people of Riverton, even though they are not scouts, are living up to the points of the scout law which says: "A Scout is Helpful" and "A Scout is Friendly." The vestry of Christ Church were both helpful and friendly in allowing the troop to have the splendid quarters in the parish house; the friend who gave the door and outside stairs; the also most helpful and friendly; and finally the men who have volunteered to make the rest of the project possible are adhering to the same two points.

All of this is "Real Scouting".

YW'S FELLOWSHIP STRESSED IN TALK

Burlington Association Holds Twelfth Annual Membership
Meeting and Election

"The Y. W. C. A. building is a very necessary part of a community, if it is a place from which people come and not to which people go," said Miss Louise Holmquist, of New Hope, Pennsylvania, speaking to the Y. W. C. A. members of Burlington at their twelfth annual membership meeting at the Broad Street Methodist Church on Tuesday evening, November 4. "Because one is a member of this Christian Association of girls and women of all ages, race, and classes, she should have inspiration and strength for other activities in her community." Miss Holmquist stressed the fact that the Y. W. C. A. is an association and not an organization, and that this fellowship is an important contribution which the Y. W. C. A. is making to the world today.

Mrs. Robert C. Dunn, Jr., was elected president of the Burlington Board to succeed Miss Caroline McIntire, who has been so efficient a president the past year. Mrs. George Rigg was re-elected vice president, and Miss Flora Cassidy as secretary.

The yearly report given by the treasurer showed a balance of a few dollars, and Miss Cassidy's report gave glimpses of the full program with active clubs and participation of Burlington members in many activities, both locally and nationally.

The members of the Board presented Miss McIntire with a beautiful basket of chrysanthemums in appreciation of her help and inspiration during the year.

Mrs. Emily P. Darlington, of New Lisbon, president of the Burlington County Y. M. C. A., spoke briefly, and Miss Reba Troxell led the group singing.

An enjoyable part of the program was the singing of two Girl Reserve songs, "The Code" and "The Quest," by a group of Girl Reserves from the Junior High, the Captain Lawrence and the William R. Allen schools.

One hundred and twenty-five members attended.

SWIMMING CLASSES

Almost thirty Mount Holly business girls are enjoying the swimming classes arranged by the Y. W. C. A. at the Moorestown Community House on Thursday evening. One group leaves the Y. W. C. A. at five o'clock and the other at eight-thirty.

Mrs. Roy Clement, of Woodbury, the teacher, is well-known in Burlington County because of her excellent work at Camp Oceanicton. There are places for several more girls in each class and they may enroll through the Y. W. C. A.

BOOK LOVERS' HOUR

A Sunday afternoon book lovers' hour at the Y. W. C. A. club house at four o'clock, is being much enjoyed by the Mount Holly business girls. This hour on Sunday Afternoon, Nov. 2, was conducted by Miss Hazel Clark, of the Burlington County Library, while Mrs. A. Thomas Atkinson was in charge on Sunday, November 9, and Miss Beatrice Shadell will have the afternoon of November 16.

BUSINESS GIRLS' SUPPER

All Mount Holly business girls are invited to supper on Monday evening, November 17, at the Y. W. C. A. dining room. Clarence Wright will be the speaker. If you are coming notify the county Y. W. C. A. office, or Alma Bilgers, Dorothy Dibrow, Mary Stockton, or Mrs. A. Thomas Atkinson.

MEDFORD BANQUET

The annual Mother and Daughter banquet of the Medford Girl Reserves and their mothers was held Monday evening, November 10, with Mrs. C. Harry Evans, the toastmistress, in charge of the program, and Mrs. Louis Rauser in charge of the supper.

The three Girl Reserve clubs in Medford have been under the leadership of Mrs. George Cosaboom, Mrs. Rauser, and Mrs. Anna Bartlett, and all these groups took part in the program, the older girls singing "The Quest of the Girl Reserve," and the younger explaining the Girl Reserve Code with quotations from the Bible.

A toast to the mothers was given by Etta Cook, and Mrs. George Kirby gave the daughters' toast. Mrs. Cosaboom led the music, and Miss Sidonie Schafer, the General Secretary of the county Y. W. C. A., spoke briefly. Mrs. Mary L. Cochley, of Medford, was the main speaker.

When D. D. Keeler, of Loveland, Colo., investigated the squeak in the engine of his car, he found a nest of five young mice in one of the spark plug holes.

MID-WEST TO COMPETE FOR JERSEY'S EGG MARKET

A prediction that commercial egg producers of New Jersey, in common with those of other eastern states, will experience keen competition from processed eggs of the middle west "between the nest five and ten years," was made by Harry R. Lewis, president of the National Poultry Council, when he spoke before members of the New Jersey Baby Chick Association during the recent poultry meeting at Asbury Park. Heretofore, eastern poultrymen have shown little or no concern over the possibilities of competition from the middle west because of the belief that the eggs from the "Nation's Egg Basket," as it is sometimes called, could not compare with the local product in quality. The only way New Jersey producers can successfully meet this kind of competition, Mr. Lewis asserted, is to improve still further the quality and pack of the eggs which they send to market. In the final analysis, he pointed out, the eggs of highest quality bring the highest prices.

MORROW'S ELECTION

Now that the election is over and all the figures are in, a complete analysis of the returns is very illuminating.

The outstanding feature is the victory of Dwight W. Morrow to Washington to represent New Jersey in the United States Senate by a majority which is really remarkable under the prevailing conditions.

It is true that pre-election forecasts from Republican quarters were for a bigger vote for Morrow but in the face of the unexpected Democratic landslide that was so pronounced in all the industrial states, Morrow's victory was extraordinary.

Inclement weather, too, played a powerful part in reducing his majority as indicated by the fact that from seventy to eighty per cent. of the registered vote stayed away from the polls.

In sections where the vote for Morrow should have been considerably higher it rained steadily throughout the day and many supporters remained at home.

Overconfidence in the result also helped to swell the Democratic total despite repeated warnings to citizens of the State.

Taking everything into consideration therefore, Morrow's victory was splendid. His majority might have been increased by 100,000 if conditions had been more favorable.

Sheer admiration of the man, his record and, not the least, his dignified method of campaigning won the votes of thinking people who are eager and willing to have an outstanding figure of his type represent them in Washington.

It is the consensus of opinion that in electing him they have served their own interests best. They have also given the nation a powerful man at a time when fearlessness, leadership and breadth of vision are needed in public affairs.

His election represented the one really important bright spot to Republicans in the Democratic sweep, which, it must be admitted, was greater than anticipated.

Senator Morrow goes to Washington with the three great qualifications of capability, courage and calm which he so strikingly displayed in both the primary and general campaigns. New Jersey is indeed fortunate in having such a citizen. It is doubly fortunate in having the opportunity to present him for service to the nation.

WASHINGTON'S VISION

Coste and Bellonte are to be advanced in army rank by the French government in recognition of their flight from Paris to New York.

This feat recalls a prophetic letter written by George Washington to General Duportail in 1794, in which our first president said: "Our friends in Paris in a little time will come flying through the air instead of ploughing the ocean to get to America."

The "little time" turned out to be 136 years, but it's past now.

Building operations in the United States go by fits and starts. One year there will be a building boom, the next year a depression. One reason is the difficulty of financing the spread between first mortgage money and the building owner's capital.

Some Chicago builders have a plan whereby the people concerned in the building industry do this financing themselves. Contractors, supply manufacturers, dealers in building materials, architects, and labor are to take a part of their pay in junior mortgage certificates, to be paid off in installments. This plan will not reduce wages or profits, but generally adopted will make building operations independent of general financial conditions.

EDUCATION

We spend more money for education than for anything else, but there are still hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of American grown-ups who have never learned to read or write. The death in the other day of Thomas Young, whose occupation was that of "public writer," in a good-sized town close to New York City, revealed the fact that hundreds of persons in White Plains who could not write were in the habit of going to him to write their letters for them.

In New York State alone, by the Census of 1920, there were 425,000 persons over 10 years old who could neither read nor write, and all but 10,000 of those were over 21. Nor were they all foreigners; more than 30,000 were native-born whites. The number is probably smaller now; the 1930 Census figures on illiteracy are not yet available. But there were more than three million white folks over ten years old, and nearly two million negroes, who could not read in any language in 1920, and the probability is that there are still three or four million illiterate citizens.

SUGAR

The announcement by the Department of Agriculture that the Federal sugar cane experiment station at Canal Point, Florida, has developed a cane which yields a third more sugar to the acre than any previously known variety, and is at the same time resistant to cane diseases, is of importance to everyone in the United States. We consume several times as much sugar as any other nation in the world. Our sugar producers have had difficulty in competing with foreign sources. The sugar industry in Louisiana was practically wiped out a few years ago, by plant diseases; the Mississippi flood of 1926 almost finished the job. But the introduction of a new type of sugar cane from Java, known as "P. O. J. 213," has rejuvenated the Louisiana sugar industry, which is now producing five times as much sugar as in 1926.

The new cane developed in Florida, called "C. P. 907," yields a ton more sugar to the acre of cane than does "P. O. J. 213." That should mean, eventually, both a reduction in cost of sugar to the consumer and better profits to the grower.

Mounted on one of the high buildings on lower Broadway is a machine that tests the "purity" of the atmosphere by sucking air from the streets all day. Every twenty-four hours that one machine, in that one place, pulls in SEVEN TONS of solid dirt. That gives you a ROUGH idea.

As yet, these clever New Yorkers have found no way to adulterate the water that we drink. But give them time! Give them time! Rome wasn't built in a day.

Otto Kahn, the banker and philanthropist, owns twenty-five automobiles. And his chauffeur states that all of them are constantly in use. —Just goes to show that the wealthy have their cares and burdens, too. If I had twenty-five cars to use all in one day, I don't believe I'd get anything else done whatever. Tough life!

"Who's that new girl I seen you with last night?"
"That ain't no new girl, it's my old girl painted over."

FRAUD

A Florida man shipped a carload of oranges to a produce dealer in Virginia. The dealer sent the shipper a check for $250. The Florida man invoked the recently-enacted Federal Produce Agency Law and halted the dealer into the Federal Court. The proceedings disclosed the fact that the net proceeds of the sale of the oranges was nearer $700 than $250. The Court ordered the dealer to pay the shipper an additional $453, with interest, and to pay it before November 4 or go to jail.

It looks as if there is at last a way in which shippers of farm products can get the money due them. State and local laws don't protect them; they operate in favor of the local dealer and against the shipper from another State. The Federal Courts are not subject to local influence, and the new law seems to have teeth in it.

BOULDER

Things are moving in the Hoover Dam project at Boulder Canyon on the Colorado River. Power lines are about to be run to the site, to furnish energy for the handling of the immense masses of stone and concrete which will be required to build the dam. Engineers are being appointed, plans have been made for the town to house the ten thousand workmen who will be employed on the job, bids have been asked for some of the materials which will be first required.

It takes time to carry out a great project like this. Five and one-half years is the lowest estimate from the day construction begins until the great dam is finished. It takes a lot of time to prepare to begin work.

That is the difficulty about relying upon public works to relieve a sudden stress of unemployment—it takes so much time to plan them and provide for financing them that by the time the work is ready to begin the period of unemployment may be almost over.

WAY of LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

"Quota Mad"

A famous advertising agent was talking with me about business in these United States.

It is his function to prepare the advertising for several large manufacturers, and to consult with them on their sales problems. He goes home every night all tired out. He says he doesn't know anybody in business who is getting any real fun out of it.

"I'll give you my program for a typical day," he said. "I come down to my office a little before nine, and there is the sales manager of a shoe company waiting for me. His pockets are full of charts. His company's sales are 30 per cent. ahead of last year, but is he satisfied? Not for a minute. He must set the mark for next year 50 per cent. ahead."

"Then I go over to the office of a food manufacturer. He has just closed up the best year of his history. And we try to figure out how he can do twice as much again!"

"I lunch with the officers of a cement company. If they would get together with their competitors, and agree to curtail production just a little, they could all make more money. The price of their product might have to be raised a trifle, but I doubt it, because the sales expense would be that much less. But will they curtail? Never. Every year must show bigger figures. The quotas must go up and up."

The trouble with this country is that we have gone crazy on the subject of volume. We are quota mad."

As he talked I recalled a conversation I had some years ago with an American who represents a French manufacturer in this country.

"I have a heart-breaking time with that Frenchman," he said. "Every year I go over there and plead with him to double his factory. We could sell twice as much of his stuff if he would only turn it out. And do you know what he says? He just waves his hands in French fashion and spatters: 'Why should I double my plant and work twice as hard? I and my family are making money enough. We have a good time. We enjoy our lives. Why should we work ourselves to death?'

That seems to us Americans a very terrible utterance. It is treason to the spirit of modern business. Of course, a man should force his production, and his sales, and force his own poor mind and body until he dies at the age of sixty with an order blank in his hand.

Somewhere between the French attitude and our attitude there must be a half-way point that would combine the best elements of both.

"Life," says the Bible, "is more than bread, and the spirit than raiment." It also asks the question, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own life?"

Or, in modern language, what's the use of killing yourself by being quota mad?

PUBLIC SERVICE

Tune in WAAM Tuesday and Friday mornings at 11, and Tuesday evenings at 2 to hear talks on Home Management by Ada Beale Swann, director of our Home Economics Department.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Again the Red Cross appeals to Americans to accept its invitation to membership during the Roll Call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

The 3500 Red Cross Chapters are asking citizens in every section of the United States to join the fellowship of service to humanity.

Burlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross is asking two hundred men and women of Burlington County to take out five dollar memberships in this great organization during the coming Roll Call.

This is made necessary by reason of the fact that the National Red Cross has exhausted its fund left from the World War in caring for disasters; just at present it is using a five million dollar reserve fund in connection with the drought all over the country, in order to avoid making an appeal to all Chapters for assistance.

These five dollar memberships will also help the work in your own county and town, as each means $2.25 to both Chapter and Branch, instead of the usual refund of twenty-five cents from the dollar membership, thus enabling those in charge to do more and better work in your own home town and county.

Will you be one of this 200?

This WASHINGTON BY RADFORD MOBLEY

A little more than a year ago eight men, farm-born and raised, were given the biggest economic job this country holds. Then they were eight individuals little known to the country as a whole. Now they are known almost by sight in every State; and as a whole they form the Federal Farm Board, known to the more astute of Washington observers as the best all-around independent agency or commission of the government.

Not only have these men functioned vigorously as individuals, regardless of the results they have obtained or the reaction of the country, but they have in the year of their mutual work become a cohesive team.

Where a year ago each man had the background, with the exception of Chairman Alexander Legge, of a single commodity, a single region, almost of a single State, each of them is now something of an expert on the commodity each of his fellow-members represents and on the farm situation as a whole.

Three Out Problems
The board meets several times weekly. At each meeting a speaker problem is thrust out in open debate. Then some action or statement is agreed upon which can be signed unanimously by the members. No other Washington commission achieves this accord. In the course of it, the problems of every farmer group over the country receives the attention of each member.

In addition, Chairman Legge has stressed repeatedly the common nature of the problem, common to every type of farmer. With him presiding at the majority of the sessions, it is natural that the members soon began to see the complete picture. Each has remained a specialist, but a specialist who thinks in terms of the relationship of his specialty to all the other specialties.

Many factors have contributed to this. Each member of the board has at various times acted as chairman. When Chairman Legge and Vice-Chairman Stone are both out of town, the members elect an acting chairman who signs all checks, media newspapermen in conference and discusses policy.

Cover All Topics
Every member has served in this capacity. Furthermore, all of them with one exception have handled the bi-weekly press conferences, when the battery of questions covers every conceivable topic.

The result is clear in the speeches and statements of the individual members now, as contrasted with the attitude they expressed when they assumed office. Recently C. C. Tague, fruit member, spoke at Utica on the general board program, specifically declaring that gradual development of grower controlled marketing systems is the main problem of all farmers. C. B. Deussen, livestock member, took the same theme at Grant City, Mo. In all the speeches the same trend is present now.

Yet these men remain vivid, living personalities in their own right. Chairman Legge himself is perhaps the most dynamic personality in Washington today; a six-footer and 200-pounder, with a Lincolnian homely way of talking. He came off the farm in Colfax County, Neb., to head the International Harvester Co. In between his 25 years of work with the company, when he joined the board he left the harvester company, except to retain control of his stock, and when he became chairman he had his first experience of any kind with farm co-operation. Yet he believes that without it the farmer is lost.

Has a Free Hand
The man who would "just as soon sit in the kitchen" at dinner party, yet he is responsible to nobody in Washington; his clash with Julius Barnes and the Chamber of Commerce proved that President Hoover has given him a free hand. A hard fighter and a pushing boss, but one who carried his theory of co-operation with him into meetings of the board.

Those who like big figures will take notice of this one—$11,851,000,000, which does not represent anybody's war debt, but which is the 1929 total income for the American farming industry. Uncle Sam's basic occupation. This is the figure of the Department of Agriculture has announced after a careful compilation by its experts. The gross income for last year shows an increase of $110,000,000 over last year. The income from crops fell off $75,000,000, but was more than offset by an increase of $189,000,000 in income from livestock.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY BY ERNEST CAMP JR

Nine months I have spent in New York. Yet I have not eaten more than a half dozen decent meals—and all these at private homes and apartments.

No matter where you eat or what you spend, it seems almost impossible to find pure, fresh, and unadulterated food, intelligently cooked and served. Like almost everything else you buy here, food is usually an ingenious swindle.

Vegetables and fruits, in particular, are unfit for human consumption. That is, in the opinion of one who comes from the South, where the humblest laborers in the cotton fields eat better vegetables than New Yorkers pay cover charges for.

All the vegetables I have seen in New York taste exactly alike—exactly like water-soaked sawdust. They are not fresh, and no one knows how to prepare them.

Then there is milk. After drinking some of the pale, pellucid fluid that passes under that name, I can understand one reason for the pitiful little sunken-jawed children that haunt these streets—their wasted, heart-breaking little bodies.

Milk! Any self-respecting, God-fearing cow who saw this stuff would turn over in her stall and weep great, salty tears.

It is about the color of household ammonia, and contains about as much butter fat as the clear, sparkling liquid that we used to quaff from the Old Oaken Bucket.

You stop at a fruit stand and pay as high as ten cents apiece for "apples," and what do you get? A large, rather well-shaped fruit of pale green or yellow color with a flat, flavorless meat and no juice whatsoever.

Down in the mountains of Tennessee and Georgia, such junk is fed to hogs. But so long as New Yorkers don't know, and can't get, any better—who cares?

But perhaps the biggest joke—or the biggest burglary—is the "orange juice" you buy at innumerable street stands. Thousands of people have convinced themselves that this is excellent for "health."

It's a thin, concoction of plain water, sugar, artificial color and a casual dash of orange. Health! Orange juice! Haw! Haw! A walk around the corner would do a lot more good.

I am told that even the "chocolate" candy that I buy is principally cinnamon, ingeniously used to simulate chocolate, with just enough of the real article added to give the product a deceptive color and flavor.

Even the air in New York City—and I am not joking—is adulterated. It reeks with a larger percentage of dirt, carbon monoxide (auto exhaust), chemical fumes, and other foul, nauseous gases than the air anywhere else that I have been lucky enough to discover.

Mounted on one of the high buildings on lower Broadway is a machine that tests the "purity" of the atmosphere by sucking air from the streets all day. Every twenty-four hours that one machine, in that one place, pulls in SEVEN TONS of solid dirt. That gives you a ROUGH idea.

As yet, these clever New Yorkers have found no way to adulterate the water that we drink. But give them time! Give them time! Rome wasn't built in a day.

MORROW'S ELECTION

Now that the election is over and all the figures are in, a complete analysis of the returns is very illuminating.

The outstanding feature is the victory of Dwight W. Morrow to Washington to represent New Jersey in the United States Senate by a majority which is really remarkable under the prevailing conditions.

It is true that pre-election forecasts from Republican quarters were for a bigger vote for Morrow but in the face of the unexpected Democratic landslide that was so pronounced in all the industrial states, Morrow's victory was extraordinary.

Inclement weather, too, played a powerful part in reducing his majority as indicated by the fact that from seventy to eighty per cent. of the registered vote stayed away from the polls.

In sections where the vote for Morrow should have been considerably higher it rained steadily throughout the day and many supporters remained at home.

Overconfidence in the result also helped to swell the Democratic total despite repeated warnings to citizens of the State.

Taking everything into consideration therefore, Morrow's victory was splendid. His majority might have been increased by 100,000 if conditions had been more favorable.

Sheer admiration of the man, his record and, not the least, his dignified method of campaigning won the votes of thinking people who are eager and willing to have an outstanding figure of his type represent them in Washington.

It is the consensus of opinion that in electing him they have served their own interests best. They have also given the nation a powerful man at a time when fearlessness, leadership and breadth of vision are needed in public affairs.

His election represented the one really important bright spot to Republicans in the Democratic sweep, which, it must be admitted, was greater than anticipated.

Senator Morrow goes to Washington with the three great qualifications of capability, courage and calm which he so strikingly displayed in both the primary and general campaigns. New Jersey is indeed fortunate in having such a citizen. It is doubly fortunate in having the opportunity to present him for service to the nation.

WASHINGTON'S VISION

Coste and Bellonte are to be advanced in army rank by the French government in recognition of their flight from Paris to New York.

This feat recalls a prophetic letter written by George Washington to General Duportail in 1794, in which our first president said: "Our friends in Paris in a little time will come flying through the air instead of ploughing the ocean to get to America."

The "little time" turned out to be 136 years, but it's past now.

Building operations in the United States go by fits and starts. One year there will be a building boom, the next year a depression. One reason is the difficulty of financing the spread between first mortgage money and the building owner's capital.

Some Chicago builders have a plan whereby the people concerned in the building industry do this financing themselves. Contractors, supply manufacturers, dealers in building materials, architects, and labor are to take a part of their pay in junior mortgage certificates, to be paid off in installments. This plan will not reduce wages or profits, but generally adopted will make building operations independent of general financial conditions.

EDUCATION

We spend more money for education than for anything else, but there are still hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of American grown-ups who have never learned to read or write. The death of the other day, Thomas Young, whose occupation was that of "public writer," in a god-sized town close to New York City, revealed the fact that hundreds of persons in White Plains who could not write were in the habit of going to him to write their letters for them.

In New York State alone, by the Census of 1920, there were 425,000 persons over 10 years old who could neither read nor write, and all but 10,000 of those were over 21. Nor were they all foreigners; more than 30,000 were native-born whites. The number is probably smaller now; the 1930 Census figures on illiteracy are not yet available. But there were more than three million white folks over ten years old, and nearly two million negroes, who could not read in any language, in 1920, and the probability is that there are still three or four million illiterate citizens.

SUGAR

The announcement by the Department of Agriculture that the Federal sugar cane experiment station at Canal Point, Florida, has developed a cane which yields a third more sugar to the acre than any previously known variety, and is at the same time resistant to cane diseases, is of importance to everyone in the United States. We consume several times as much sugar as any other nation in the world. Our sugar producers have had difficulty in competing with foreign sources. The sugar industry in Louisiana was practically wiped out a few years ago, by plant disease; the Mississippi flood of 1928 almost finished the job. But the introduction of a new type of sugar cane from Java, known as "P. O. J. 213," has rejuvenated the Louisiana sugar industry, which is now producing five times as much sugar as in 1928. The new cane developed in Florida, called "C. P. 807," yields a ton more sugar to the acre of cane than does "P. O. J. 213." That should mean, eventually, both a reduction in cost of sugar to the consumer and better profits to the grower.

Mounted on one of the high buildings on lower Broadway is a machine that tests the "purity" of the atmosphere by sucking air from the streets all day. Every twenty-four hours that one machine, in that one place, pulls in SEVEN TONS of solid dirt. That gives you a ROUGH idea.

As yet, these clever New Yorkers have found no way to adulterate the water that we drink. But give them time! Give them time! Rome wasn't built in a day.

Otto Kahn, the banker and philanthropist, owns twenty-five automobiles. And his chauffeur states that all of them are constantly in use. —Just goes to show that the wealthy have their cares and burdens, too. If I had twenty-five cars to use all in one day, I don't believe I'd get anything else done whatever. Tough life!

FRAUD

A Florida man shipped a carload of oranges to a produce dealer in Virginia. The dealer sent the shipper a check for $250. The Florida man invoked the recently-enacted Federal Produce Agency Law and halted the proceedings. He disclosed the fact that the net proceeds of the sale of the oranges was nearer $700 than $250. The Court ordered the dealer to pay the shipper an additional $450, with interest, and to pay it before November 4 or go to jail.

It looks as if there is at last a way in which shippers of farm products can get the money due them. State and local laws don't protect them; they operate in favor of the local dealer and against the shipper from another State. The Federal Courts are not subject to local influence, and the new law seems to have teeth in it.

BOULDER

Things are moving in the Hoover Dam project at Boulder Canyon on the Colorado River. Power lines are about to be run to the site, to furnish energy for the handling of the immense masses of stone and concrete which will be required to build the dam. Engineers are being appointed, plans have been made for the town to house the ten thousand workmen who will be employed on the job, bids have been asked for some of the materials which will be first required.

It takes time to carry out a great project like this. Five and one-half years is the lowest estimate from the day construction begins until the great dam is finished. It takes a lot of time to prepare to begin work. That is the difficulty about relying upon public works to relieve a sudden stress of unemployment—it takes so much time to plan them and provide for financing them that by the time the work is ready to begin the period of unemployment may be almost over.

WAY OF LIFE

BY

BRUCE BARTON

"Quota Mad"

A famous advertising agent was talking with me about business in these United States. It is his function to prepare the advertising for several large manufacturers, and to consult with them on their sales problems. He goes home every night all tired out. He says he doesn't know anybody in business who is getting any real fun out of it.

"I'll give you my program for a typical day," he said. "I come down to my office a little before nine, and there is the sales manager and a shoe company waiting for me. His pockets are full of charts. His company's sales are 20 per cent. ahead of last year, but is he satisfied? Not for a minute. He must set the mark for next year 50 per cent. ahead."

"Then I go over to the office of a food manufacturer. He has just closed up the best year of his history. And we try to figure out how he can do twice as much again!"

"I lunch with the officers of a cement company. If they would get together with their competitors, and agree to curtail production just a little, they could all make more money. The price of their product might have to be raised a trifle, but I doubt it, because the sales expense would be that much less. But will they curtail? Never. Every year must show bigger figures. The quotas must go up and up."

The trouble with this country is that we have gone crazy on the subject of volume. We are quota mad."

As he talked I recalled a conversation I had some years ago with an American who represented a French manufacturer in this country.

"I have a heart-breaking time with that Frenchman," he said. "Every year I go over there and plead with him to double his factory. We could sell twice as much of his stuff if he would only turn it out. And do you know what he says? He just waves his hands in French fashion and utters: 'Why should I double my plant and work twice as hard? I and my family are making money enough. We have a good time. We enjoy our lives. Why should we work ourselves to death?'

That seems to us Americans a very terrible utterance. It is treason to the spirit of modern business. Of course, a man should force his production, and his sales, and force his own poor mind and body until he dies at the age of sixty with an order blank in his hand.

Somewhere between the French attitude and our attitude there must be a half-way point that would combine the best elements of both.

"Life," says the Bible, "is more than bread, and the spirit than raiment." It also asks the question, "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own life?"

Or, in modern language, what's the use of killing yourself by being quota mad?

RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Again the Red Cross appeals to Americans to accept its invitation to membership during the Roll Call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.

The 3500 Red Cross Chapters are asking citizens in every section of the United States to join the fellowship of service to humanity.

Burlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross is asking two hundred men and women of Burlington County to take out five dollar memberships in this great organization during the coming Roll Call.

This is made necessary by reason of the fact that the National Red Cross has exhausted its fund left from the World War in caring for disasters; just at present it is using a five million dollar reserve fund in connection with the drought all over the country, in order to avoid making an appeal to all Chapters for assistance.

These five dollar memberships will also help the work in your own county and town, as each means $2.25 to both Chapter and Branch, instead of the usual refund of twenty-five cents from the dollar membership, thus enabling those in charge to do more and better work in your own home town and county.

Will you be one of this 200?

This is WASHINGTON

BY RADFORD MOBLEY
AUTOCATER WASHINGTON BUREAU

A little more than a year ago eight men, farm-born and raised, were given the biggest economic job this country holds. Then they were eight individuals little known to the country as a whole. Now they are known almost by sight in every State; and as a whole they form the Federal Farm Board, known to the more astute of Washington observers as the best all-around independent agency or commission of the government.

Not only have these men functioned vigorously as individuals, regardless of the results they have obtained or the reaction of the country, but they have in the year of their mutual work become a cohesive team.

Where a year ago each man had the background, with the exception of Chairman Alexander Legge, of a single commodity, a single region, almost of a single State, each of them is now something of an expert on the commodity each of his fellow-members represents and on the farm situation as a whole.

Three Out Problems
The board meets several times weekly. At each meeting a specific problem is threshed out in open debate. Then some action or statement is agreed upon which can be signed unanimously by the members. No other Washington commission achieves this accord. In the course of it, the problems of every farmer group over the country receives the attention of each member.

In addition, Chairman Legge has stressed repeatedly the common nature of the problem, common to every type of farmer. With him presiding at the majority of the sessions, it is natural that the members soon began to see the complete picture. Each has remained a specialist, but a specialist who thinks in terms of the relationship of his specialty to all the other specialties.

Many factors have contributed to this. Each member of the board has at various times acted as chairman. When Chairman Legge and Vice-Chairman Stone are both out of town, the members elect an acting chairman who signs all checks, meets newspapermen in conference and discusses policy.

Cover All Topics
Every member has served in this capacity. Furthermore, all of them with one exception have handled the bi-weekly press conferences, where the battery of questions covers every conceivable topic.

The result is clear in the speeches and statements of the individual members now, as contrasted with the attitude they expressed when they assumed office. Recently C. C. Tague, fruit member, spoke at Utica on the general board program, specifically declaring that gradual development of grower controlled marketing systems is the main problem of all farmers. C. B. Denman, livestock member, took the same theme at Grant City, Mo. In all the speeches the same trend is present now.

Yet these men remain vivid, living personalities in their own right. Chairman Legge himself is perhaps the most dramatic personality in Washington today; a six-footer and 200-pounder, with a Lincolnian, homely way of talking. He came off the farm in Oahe County, Neb., to head the International Harvester Co. In between his 25 years of work with the company, when he joined the board he left the harvester company, except to retain control of his stock, and when he became chairman he had his first experience of any kind with farm co-operation. Yet he believes that without it the farmer is lost.

Has a Free Hand
The man who would "just as soon as" in the kitchen" at a dinner party, yet he is responsible to nobody in Washington; his clash with Julius Barnes and the Chamber of Commerce proved that President Hoover has given him a free hand. A hard fighter and a pushing boss, but one who carried his theory of co-operation with him into meetings of the board.

Those who like big figures will take notice of this one—$11,851,000,000, which does not represent anybody's war debt, but which is the 1929 total income for the American farming industry. Uncle Sam's basic occupation. This is the figure of the Department of Agriculture has announced after a careful compilation by its experts. The gross income for last year shows an increase of $110,000,000 over last year. The income from crops fell off $73,000,000, but was more than offset by an increase of $183,000,000 in income from livestock.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY

BY ERNEST CAMP JR.

Nine months I have spent in New York City. I have not eaten more than a half dozen decent meals—and all these at private homes and apartments.

No matter where you eat or what you spend, it seems almost impossible to find pure, fresh, and unadulterated food, intelligently cooked and served. Like almost everything else you buy here, food is unusually an ingenious swindle.

Vegetables and fruits, in particular, unfit for human consumption. York is, in the opinion of one who comes from the South, where the humblest laborers in the cotton fields eat better vegetables than New Yorkers pay cover charges for.

All the vegetables I have seen in New York taste exactly alike—exactly like water-soaked sawdust. They are not fresh, and no one knows how to prepare them.

Then there is milk. After drinking some of the pale, pellucid fluid that parades under that name, I can understand one reason for the pitiful little sunken-jawed children that haunt these streets—their wasted, heart-breaking little bodies. Milk! Any self-respecting, God-fearing cow who saw this stuff would turn over in her stall and weep great, salty tears.

It is about the color of household ammonia, and contains about as much butter fat as the clear, sparkling liquid that we used to quaff from the Old Oaken Bucket.

You stop at a fruit stand and pay as high as ten cents apiece for "apples," and what do you get? A large, rather well-shaped fruit of pale green or yellow color with a flat, flavorless meat and no juice whatsoever.

Down in the mountains of Tennessee and Georgia, such junk is fed to hogs. But so long as New Yorkers don't know, and can't get, any better—who cares?

But perhaps the biggest joke—or the biggest burglary—is the "orange juice" you buy at innumerable street stands. Thousands of people have convinced themselves that this is excellent for "health."

It's a thin, concoction of plain water, sugar, artificial color and a casual dash of orange. Health! Orange juice! Haw! Haw! Haw! A walk around the corner would do a lot more good.

I am told that even the "chocolate" candy that I buy is principally cinnamon, ingeniously used to simulate chocolate, with just enough of the real article added to give the product a deceptive color and flavor. Even the air in New York City—and I am not joking—is adulterated. It reeks with a larger percentage of dirt, carbon monoxide (auto exhaust), chemical fumes, and other foul, nauseous gases than the air anywhere else that I have been luckless enough to discover.

"A penny saved is a penny earned," reads the old saying and all of us know how true that is. If a person saves a penny and someone else saves a hundred dollars, it is just the same because they were both saved by thirty people. That is the way we children in Riverton School do. We try to bring money every week to deposit in the School Saving fund. We have a chance to deposit every Tuesday whether we have school or not. We always look forward to having a hundred per cent for the class. This gives us wonderful training for adult life. This week sixty per cent of the school banked.

Ever since the beginning of the year we have been steadily improving our average.

Thrift is something that the adults should practice. You can save not only money but also time and patience.

modern parents wish for their children much the same things as the parents of other generations, namely, sound health, fine character, and education and training which will fit them to take their places in the world as they find it.

Mrs. Toki Tomiyama, a visitor from Japan, spoke at this session. She was the first student from Japan to receive a degree at Columbia University, and is principal of the Friends' Girls' High School in Tokyo.

Miss Edith Newlin, supervisor of Friends' Yearly Meeting Schools, spoke on "Emotional Attitudes of Children." She stated that the physical and intellectual needs of our children have been taken care of, but the emotional element is still undeveloped and children must be understood emotionally before they can contribute economically to the country.

Mr. William F. Little presided at meeting Thursday evening. The business quartette, composed of charming young girls, sang several delightful songs, after which Dr. Frazer Metzger, Dean of Men, Rutgers University, gave an address on "The Answer of Education to the Call of Today." He declared that we are paying too much attention to methods and procedure and all too little attention to the character and ability of our teachers. Inspiration, influence and personality, accomplish more than degrees, declared the speaker.

After this meeting, an informal reception was held in the music room.

Officers Elected
Friday morning, Mrs. A. F. Meschter, vice-president, presided at the election and the ticket presented by the Nominating Committee was elected without opposition, with the following results:

President, Mrs. William F. Little, Rahway; vice-president, Mrs. A. W. Patterson, Jr., Roselle; Mrs. C. H. Cooley, Pennington; Mrs. George H. Smith, Maplewood; Mrs. A. L. Gardner, Perth Amboy; Mrs. L. C. Twitchell, Arlington; Mrs. C. W. Buell, Millville; Mrs. C. F. Schaeffer, Oaklyn; recording secretary, Mrs. Thomas Irwin, Bradley Beach; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Alfred Roberts, Moorestown; treasurer, Mrs. M. M. Stafford, Vineland; trustees, Mrs. J. J. Berilla, Phillipsburg; Mrs. C. A. Hill, Hackensack; Mrs. P. C. VanNuy, Somerville; Mrs. Charles Elliott, New Brunswick; Mrs. J. W. Sturmer, Collingswood; Mrs. Walter L. Bowen, Riverton.

The address Friday morning was given by Dr. J. S. Heberling, of the Wm. J. Carter Child Helping Foundation, University of Pennsylvania. His subject was "New Goals in the Understanding and Training of Children."

CHILDREN ANXIOUS TO GET NEW REPORTS

The children have been eager to see their report cards because they are a different type this year. In the first place character counts almost as much, if not more, than subjects on the report. Some of the things that come under citizenship are: courtesy, cooperation, and industry. While the children are working on their school subjects, various traits of character are bound to be apparent. Hereafter everyone will probably try as hard to be a good citizen of his class as he does to make an A in some subject.

PARTY FOR REDS IS STAGED

On November third a masquerade party was given to the Red team for selling the subscriptions to magazines. The party took place in the school auditorium at 3:45 o'clock. Gifts were exchanged and cakes, cider, and popcorn were served as refreshments. Ted Hunn and Jack Geiss were the best dressed of the masked people.

A WISE CRACK

The teacher was dictating a check list in health. The question was, "What machine does your stomach resemble?" One pupil answered, "A car, because when something goes wrong, it jumps all around and your stomach does the same thing when you have indigestion. Take care of yourself. Henry Ford will take you to his repair shop."

through their recognition of their obligations as educators of their children, we shall have gone a step forward toward the new goals with children.

"Youth must be convinced that direction and not speed is the important objective."

Dr. Heberling prefers the term "self-fulfillment" rather than "self-expression," and stated that civilization is based on self-control.

Delegates from Palmyra who attended the convention were Mrs. Elias Toy and Mrs. A. C. Giberson. From Cinnaminson the delegates were Mrs. Nathan Conover, Mrs. C. P. Shaw and Mrs. Robert Sim.

POUNDS OF TREE SEEDS PLANTED IN FOREST NURSERY

This last spring 300 pounds of tree seeds were planted at the State forest nursery at the Washington Crossing Park Nursery. A large part of these seeds were of red pine. This species because of its vigorous health and rapid growth has made an enviable reputation for itself among the planters of this and many other States. Other species were white pine, Norway spruce, shortleaf pine, loblolly pine, Scotch pine, pitch pine, Japanese larch, western yellow pine, southern white cedar, hemlock, red oak, tulip poplar, white ash, and red gum. A small quantity of Chinese elm was also sown.

1,180 ACRES PLANTED WITH FOREST SEEDLINGS LAST SPRING

Last spring more than 1,180 acres of idle and cut-over land were planted with a new timber crop. One hundred, thirty-six and a quarter acres, eleven and one-half per cent of this large area, were planted by farmers. Private land owners, including farmers, planted more than 45 per cent of the trees and area planted. The balance was planted by the State Forestry Department, municipalities, water companies, industrial companies, schools and colleges and other organizations.

PARENTS VISIT EXHIBITION

A week ago on Friday, the fourth A Grade had an exhibition for their parents. The children had brought in articles from countries from all over the world. The children designated on the wall map the countries from which the articles had come. Of course this was a great honor for the children to be able to explain to their parents where the various exhibits had come from, and to tell them something about the articles. Twelve mothers came to the exhibition.

ARMISTICE PLAY GIVEN

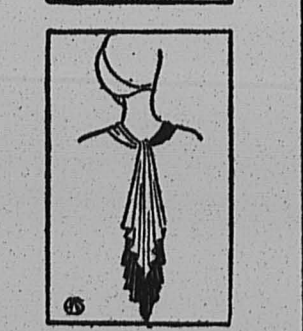

In assembly on Monday the fourth B grade sang a song called, "Bright Autumn Leaves."

Mary Wilson then gave a talk on Halloween in the Philippine Islands. All of the members of the Seven B. grade gave a play called "The New Holiday." This coming Tuesday is the holiday which the play represented, Armistice Day. Father Time called all the holidays of the year to the Calendar House to invite the new holiday to join them. The holidays told what they represented and then last of all came Armistice Day. They all welcomed him as a new holiday.

That message of the Governor of California to the Governor of Pennsylvania anent the opening of the new air line says nothing about the intervals between drinks.

MOORESTOWN TO FUND ITS NOTES

Ordinance for General Improvement Bond Issue Passes First Reading

Moorestown Township Committee held one of the quietest meetings in months at Town Hall Monday evening.

The chief feature of the meeting was the passing, on first reading, an ordinance that will authorize the issue of General Improvement bonds. These bonds are to fund temporary improvement notes that represent the township's share in local improvements where part of the expense of the improvements is being paid in assessments by property owners.

According to its title, it is an ordinance providing for the taking up and funding of the temporary indebtedness of the township upon certain of its outstanding improvement notes and temporary improvement bonds to the extent that such indebtedness was incurred to pay the township's share of costs and expenses of the construction of sundry improvements; making an appropriation therefor; authorizing the issue of General Improvement bonds, and "determining the amount, date, denomination, maturities and certain other particulars of said bonds."

The Bridgeboro bus line paid $5.56 franchise tax for the past month's business, Recorder Joseph W. Johnston submitted $30 as the township's share of fines collected in the police court during the month, and Tax Collector J. Harry Barcklow's report was read by Clerk Charles Laessle and ordered filed.

Township officials were invited to the dinner meeting to be held by the Municipal Officials' Association of South Jersey at the Hotel Walt Whitman, Camden, this Friday evening. Vice-Chairman John C. Dudley presided in the absence of Chairman F. W. Grube.

When Roland Beruchman, of Detroit, as a "good joke," started to take a ride on a policeman's horse, the horse carried him a few feet, suddenly threw him to the ground and sat on him until police arrived.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

We understand that Pitcairn Aircraft, Inc., will put the Auto-Giro into production in the near future. While we look for further developments along this type of aircraft, there certainly must be a limited market for the Auto-Giro right now.

F. W. Grube, chairman of the Moorestown Township Committee, uses the airplane whenever possible. Mr. Grube makes frequent business trips to Washington and Richmond and always goes by air, and is looking forward to the time when the airlines will stop on signal at the Moorestown Airport to take on or discharge passengers.

A hymn for flyers has been adopted by the Episcopal Churches throughout the country. It is known as the "Hymn for Airmen" and was written by Roxane Seabury Wright and dedicated to the late Bishop Charles Palmer Anderson, in memory of his son, Lieutenant Charles Patrick Anderson, who lost his life in the World War.

Once again let us remind you of the South Jersey Aviation Ball being given by the Burlington County Aero Club at the Hotel Walt Whitman on Friday evening, December 5th. A large number of aviation celebrities will be present, including all the prominent pilots in the East.

There are now over three hundred flying clubs in the United States owning planes. In Canada there are 23 large flying clubs with a total membership of 5,092, and during 1929 these club members flew a total of 1,232,000 miles in 15,400 hours of flying time.

MOORESTOWN HI UPSETS PALMYRA IN ONE-SIDED TILT

Reynolds Scores in Opening Period But Quakers Rally to Win 18 to 7

LOSS COMES AS SURPRISE IN S. J. FOOTBALL CIRCLES

Salmon Scores Third Touchdown for Visitors on Intercepted Palmyra Forward

Swept off its feet by a dazzling aerial attack, the Palmyra High School football team went to its first Burlington County League defeat Tuesday, when Moorestown won handily by an 18-7 score.

After a touchdown in the first five minutes of play the Red and White gladiators lost all power of attack and the Quaker machine registered in the early part of the second period, to reduce Palmyra's lead to one point, and then repeated the performance twice in the last quarter.

The Palmyra backfield, without the services of Moffitt, who was injured in the drive for the lone touchdown, seemed bewildered, gazing almost stupefied at the overhead attack which netted Moorestown ten of the three touchdowns. The afternoon time a Moorestown receiver was open and was stopped only after a completed pass had gained from five to thirty yards.

Fumbles Favor Foes
The Red and White line, while almost impregnable on the defense, was out-matched on the offense, the lighter, but fighting Quaker line holding them with commendable pluck and spirit.

The Pals, although looking poor in their game against Riverside, looked even worse today. Fumbles, while not losing Palmyra any chance to score, several times put Moorestown in an advantageous position.

The only real fight the Palmyra team showed was displayed in the opening period. Within five minutes after the opening kick-off, Carl Reynolds, halfback, who had gone in a Moffitt, crossed the Moorestown goal as the finish of a drive started at the Quaker 40-yard line. The extra point was garnered when a Moorestown lineman was detected offside.

From this point on, the Moorestown eleven seemed literally to fill the air. After receiving the kick-off, the Moorestonians were forced to make one exchange of punts. Gaining the ball in midfield on the exchange, Wright started by skirting right end for 25 yards, and two passes, which to Harry Renwick with a line player by Ochsio sandwiched between gained Moorestown an advantageous position on the three-yard line as the period ended. Another pass, Lucie Renwick, resulted in the touchdown. A line plunge for the extra point failed.

Offside Is Costly
Again winning the ball down the field Moorestown was deprived of another touchdown when Zierardi was detected offside. With the ball deep into their own section, the Palmyra team braced and took the ball on an intercepted pass by Harry Furman, who advanced it to Moorestown's 25-yard line. Palmyra failed to gain on three passes and a line smash and the Black and Gold took the ball on downs.

The Quakers tallied their last touchdowns in the final period. Holliger intercepted Lenker's pass near mid-field, and three passes brought the ball to the 25-yard line. Another of the aerial shots from Wright was caught on the fifteen-yard line by Renwick, who dashed the remaining distance for the score. A pass for the extra point was unsuccessful.

Intercepts Pass
The game to a dramatic close as Salmon, ever-alert Moorestown center, grabbed one of Lenker's passes in the last two minutes of play and dashed half the length of the field for a touchdown.

The defeat practically kills Palmyra's chances for the Burlington County League diadem or the South Jersey Championship. Up to Tuesday the Pals had been undefeated by any Class B opponent, and had been tied but once, that in the first game of the season, the undefeated. Due to the fact that Palmyra had victories over Trenton and Haddon Heights, Class A rivals, to its credit, it was considered in the running for the South Jersey crown. The race now has centered around Riverside and Gloucester, who have both been tied but have yet to taste defeat at the hands of Class B rivals.

Lenker and Conway were the outstanding players in Palmyra's defeat. Captain Otis Terrell showed up very well in running back points, while Arthur Poinsett covered the Quaker receivers well when they took Lenker's spirals.

Skilful With Passes
Laurels for the Moorestown team belong to every member of the backfield. Their skill in passing has been unsurpassed on the Palmyra gridiron this season, while they alternated their attack with brilliant bits of line bucking. Salmon was the outstanding Quaker line man of the fray.

Palmyra, 4; Pitman, 0.
Miss Grace Dugan's Palmyra High School hockeyists were the victors of a fast and exciting game played with Pitman last Saturday. The final tabulation was Palmyra, 4; Pitman, 0.

The defensive tactics of both teams featured the play during the first half. Neither team was able to score until after the second period had started. Five minutes after the second period had begun, Cecelia Baker tallied the first marker during a lively scrimmage near the Pitman goal.

This score roused the Palmyra lassies and before the game had ended, the score had mounted heavily in Palmyra's favor. A few minutes after "St. Baker's" goal was registered, Myrtle Harmon dribbled half the length of the field to counter another marker for the Red and White.

Another short drive from "St. Baker's" stick was the result of a score a short time afterward, and Mary McNulty finished the scoring when she rapped the ball in from a scrimmage near the side of the cage.

The defensive work of both goal tenders were important factors in keeping the score low. Either Reeves or time after time stopped hard smashes which seemed destined to reach the inside of the Palmyra cage. Her one outstanding play of the game came in the first half when she robbed Christina Emery, Pitman center forward, of a goal with a one-hand stab at the ball which seemed to far over her head to even touch.

Margaret Henry, playing goal for Pitman, did more than her share in repelling the attacks of the Pals. Drives which seemed good for scores were stopped successfully by the Pitman man. The defense she was aided considerably by the all-around play of Thelma Murphy, veteran fullback of the Black and Gold.

The victory puts Palmyra in undisputed third place for the South Jersey Hockey League title, having won three games and tied one for seven points. The undefeated Woodbury team leads the league with four victories and a tie, earned at the expense of Palmyra, and are credited with nine points. Audubon and Gloucester, with three victories and two ties, are tied for second place with the Pals, is Collingswood, with six points, as the result of two wins and a pair of ties.

PARRY DEFEATED BY BILLINGSPOIT

Local Defense Crumbles as Winners Roll Up 26-0 Score in Sunday Game

Completely outplayed in every phase of the game, the Parry football team lost to the Billingsport eleven last Sunday in a game at Paulsboro. The winners, after scoring once in the first quarter, crossed the goal three times in the last half to run up a total of 26 points. The Parry eleven was unable to register a touchdown.

The entire Billingsport backfield was instrumental in the point-getting. Everyone of the backfield but Cassidy, who was relieved by Alaska, scored a touchdown. Alaska labbing his marker in the last quarter.

Frank Schumann, heavy plunging fullback, showed a burst of speed in the opening period when he raced around end for 35 yards and a touchdown, Shea later gathering a pass for the extra point.

The succeeding scores came after long marches down the field, each attack starting in mid-field and terminating at the goal line. Ed Myers and Bud Diks crossed the line in the third period after sustained attacks had placed the ball in easy positions. Ed Alaska made the final six-pointer in the final quarter.

Cagle and Phelan were the luminaries for the Parry clan, both on the offense and defense. The ball totting and line bucking of Cagle were the factors that kept the Parry team from being defeated by a larger score. Johnny Kilbert, roving center of the winners, was the outstanding defensive player of the fray.

ARTISAN BASKETBALL TEAM TAKES OPENER

Foulke and Lloyd Shine as Palmyra
Five Gains League Triumph

Displaying real class in the first game of the budding season, the Artisan quintet outplayed the North-western five last Friday to win 25-16. The game was the initial venture of the Palmyra crew in the A. O. M. P. League. This win puts them in a first place tie with Germantown who also won their league opener by defeating Adelphi. The first place deadlock will be broken this Friday however, when Palmyra and Germantown meet.

The Palmyra team was in the lead throughout the game and up to the last few minutes had a 25-9 advantage. The all-around play of "Chick" Foulke and Joe Lloyd featured for Palmyra, while Ed Samuelson was the big gun for the losers.

BOWLING ALLEYS FOR MOORESTOWN

"Billy" Knox and C. W. Bailey Managers; Open Thanksgiving Week

Work starts on the eight modern tournament bowling alleys in the new Maines building, Chester avenue, last Friday, and the force of expert builders sent by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company are making excellent progress.

Moorestown Bowling Alleys, Inc., the new company which will operate the alleys, has announced that the formal opening will not be later than Thanksgiving Day and it may be possible to open the alleys to the public early that week.

"Billy" Knox, of Philadelphia, one of the most famous bowlers in the country former champion, will direct the operations at the alleys for the first month, at least. It has been announced, Mr. Knox is already in charge of the plans for opening of the alleys and is determined to see that the game starts on a high plane in Moorestown. He will be at the alleys every afternoon and evening to teach new bowlers the game and will be in charge of all activities during his stay here.

Charles W. Bailey, of West Central avenue, who was formerly an official with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Bureau of Entomology, has been engaged by the permanent manager and is taking up his new duties (today) Wednesday.

Steward R. Maines, president of Moorestown Bowling Alleys, Inc., reports that inquiries have already been made regarding the formation of local leagues, and Mr. Bailey is prepared to handle this work. Leagues organized now, said Mr. Maines, will be able to start operating just as soon as the alleys are open, as all of the preliminaries regarding the perfecting of the organizations may be completed while the alleys are under construction.

DRUNKEN PUPIL PROMPTS RAID

Police Confiscate Speakeasy at Instigation of Mount
Holly Professor

Within an hour after a boy staggered into Mount Holly school intoxicated Friday the Sheriff and police raided an alleged speakeasy and confiscated 130 gallons of wine. Wesley Gebler, 17, of Smithville, a pupil in a class for backward students, tried to board a school bus in front of the Mount Holly High School. He staggered and fell. Prof. Robert B. C. Parker, supervising principal of schools, saw him and took him into his office.

Smelling the odor of liquor on the boy he asked him where he got it. Gebler said he was given wine to drink by Joseph Simons, 147 Shreve street.

Professor Parker telephoned Under Sheriff Charles A. Carlisle, Carlisle, Police Lieutenant Harry G. G. Parker and the boy went to Simons' home. They found the wine stored in his cellar.

Simons was taken before Supreme Court Commissioner Howard G. Stackhouse and held in $500 bail for court. He furnished bail and was released.

NEW REVISED TOPOGRAPHICAL
MAP OF BURLINGTON COUNTY
A new and revised edition of Sheet No. 27, of the New Jersey Topographical Maps, has just been received from the engraver by the New Jersey Department of Conservation and Development and is now on sale at the State House Annex, Trenton, for fifty cents a copy. The maps measure 27 by 37 inches and embrace portions of Hunterdon, Mercer and Burlington Counties. The new edition is revised in the location of the new to 1929, and shows the new State highway routes, including the new route from above Pennington toward Ringoes. The various new connecting highways east of Bordentown and at Hamilton square are also shown. The location of the new Palmyra-Tacony Bridge over the Delaware River with the adjacent connecting roads appear on the map. The location of Washington Crossing State Park is indicated, as is the Mercer Airport, northwest of Trenton.

Aaron Johnson and Robert Thompson, of Evansville, Ind., who were hiding under a store counter while police were searching the store for them, were not discovered until Johnson sneezed violently.

Palmyra Alumni Gridiron Practice

Football practice for the members of the Palmyra High School alumni who wish to play in the game with Moorestown alumni will be held next Friday, November 21.

Practice will be held in front of the high school on the lighted area of West Boulevard. Those expecting to get in the game will report promptly at 7:30 p. m.

'DAD' WAITE WILL SPEAK NOV. 24

Noted Young People's Leader to Make Address at Mt. Holly

R. A. 'Dad' Waite is coming to Burlington County November 24th.

The Young People's Council of the Burlington County Council of Religious Education have obtained Mr. Waite as the speaker at a meeting to be held in the Mount Holly M. E. Church on that date.

"Dad" Waite as he is familiarly known to thousands of young people from Maine to California is associate director of the American Youth Foundation, which is an organization with headquarters in St. Louis to promote leadership training among young people through their "Personality" camps. Therefore "Dad" Waite is very well prepared to talk on the subject: "The Value of Training Our Personality." The Young People's Council are anxious to have a good crowd to hear him speak on this interesting subject. As many of the Sunday Schools in the County are beginning to plan their teacher training courses for the winter it would be well to have as many young people and Sunday School teachers attend this meeting as possible. The necessity for training one's self for our life purpose is vital. Let us show "Dad" that Burlington County believes in it.

You may receive further information from any of the following who comprise the "Dad" Waite Committee: J. Cresswell Stuart, Beverly; Hannah Stuart, Beverly; Virginia Whomsey, Burlington; Walter Emmons, Bordentown; Margaret Lippincott, Mount Holly; Doris Wright, Indian Mills; Emily Lippincott, Marlton; Robert Laird, Maple Shade; Frank Gerkins, Jr., Maple Shade; Betty Sholl, Moorestown.

YMCA TO SWIM AT MOORESTOWN NOV. 18

Monthly Recreation Event Will Be Held at Community House Next Tuesday Evening

YMCA Groups and Hi-Y Clubs throughout the county are being reminded this week by the County YMCA Headquarters of the November swim night at the Moorestown Community House pool Tuesday, November 18.

Secretary Clifford Engood, who has charge of the swim, himself a Red Cross Life Saver, and an official examiner, anticipates a capacity attendance. This is the third season that the County YMCA has carried on these swims with the co-operation of the Community House officials, and this once-a-month event is eagerly looked forward to by fellows from every section of Burlington County.

YMCA officials responsible for the visitation at Princeton last Saturday of members from all over the State, to witness the Princeton-Lehigh game, were astonished at the splendid outcome. Estimating the size of the crowd of fellows from the two great mass gatherings which were held there for their plays in the past, a very enjoyable evening may be anticipated. Cards of admission are fifty cents.

MACHINERY STORAGE SAVE MONEY FOR WISE FARMERS

It's a wise farmer who puts his implements in a machinery storage, where, with the approach of winter, they will be protected from the weather. This statement of Prof. R. R. Gross, agricultural engineer at the State Experiment Station, New Brunswick, is based on observations made on many farms throughout New Jersey. Proper care and housing, he points out, "may double the life of the average farm machine." It is asserted that this fact will justify a farmer in investing in a machinery storage, which also may be used for cleaning and repair work.

SCOUTS CONDUCT FINANCE CAMPAIGN

Palmyra Troops Successful in Drive; Attend Court of Honor at Moorestown

The Palmyra Boy Scout Council Association held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the club room of Troop No. 1 at the Methodist Church.

The report of the Finance Committee showed considerable success was being attained in the drive for funds. The money collected during the drive will be used to aid the Boy Scouts in their many worth while activities. The request was made that the people of the community would be as responsive in the future to the appeals of the Scouts as they have been in the past. The counselors and the Scouts themselves greatly appreciate the co-operation they have received from the people of the community.

Troops Nos. 1 and 2 of Palmyra have been invited to attend a Court of Honor at Moorestown tomorrow evening. The program will show the value and results of Boy Scout training and offers an excellent opportunity to the parents and friends of Boy Scouts to learn what this organization is doing in shaping the minds and characters of boys in the right direction. The Court of Honor is one of the colorful parts of the Boy Scout ritual and awards for distinguished performances in different lines of endeavor will be made. The Palmyra Scouts will leave the station at 7:30 p. m.

Persons who are willing to take part of the Palmyra delegation to Moorestown in automobiles are asked to notify A. H. Zayotti, 818 Morgan avenue, Palmyra.

Further plans for obtaining prominent and interesting speakers for the joint Scout Troop Meetings were outlined. These meetings are held monthly and to date the boys have been privileged to hear some very fine orators. Alfred Van Osten is now working hard to assemble a Boy Scout quartette. The boys like music and each one is anxious to be member of the singing group. When the four have been picked, there is promise of some good entertainment for the rest of the Scouts at the Troop meetings.

"CAT O' NINE TAILS"

The Junior Philathea and Samaritan classes of the Central Baptist Sunday School are busy rehearsing for the mystery play, "Cat o' Nine Tails," in three acts, to be given in the high school auditorium, Saturday evening, December 6. This play is entirely different from any play ever given in this community, and as these young people have been highly commended for their plays in the past, a very enjoyable evening may be anticipated. Cards of admission are fifty cents.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack

Discouraged people feel a need for a perpetual guarantee fund of sympathy for them to draw on; and when they fail to discover it they accuse the world of hostility.

Certainly the world is not constructed on these lines. Human society could not exist if everyone were demanding more than he gave.

Don't grumble, don't bluster, don't dream and don't shirk. Don't think of your worries, but think of your work. The worries will vanish, the work will be done. No man sees his shadow who faces the sun!

The fourth of the broadcasting series which the Diocese of Long Island is sponsoring will be given on Wednesday, November 19th, 7:30-7:45, Station WOR. The speaker will be Dr. Lewis B. Franklin and the subject, "Is Moral Development Important?"

A card party under the auspices of the Woman's Auxilliary will be held Wednesday, November 19, at 8:00 p. m., in the Parish House of Christ Church. Proceeds are for the missionary work of the church. Come and enjoy the good fellowship and help the work.

A social evening by the Guild and the Vestry is planned for Saturday evening, November 22nd, and we hope for a record attendance. A good program is planned. Keep this date free!

The Sunday School was glad to vote $25.00 for the Welfare Association, and to make a donation for the missionary work in the Mid-West. Among other business was the appointment of Margaret Hill as secretary.

The Annual Fair of the St. Agnes Guild will be held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall on December 6th, afternoon and evening. Further notice will be given.

We are looking forward to the visit of the Right Rev. Bishop Matthews, which takes place on Sunday, December 7th, at 4:00 p. m.

The Burlington County M. A. met on Tuesday, the 11th, at St. Stephen's Church, Riverton. The address of Mrs. Semple on The Passion Play at Oberammergau was listened to with great interest and heartily applauded. The annual canvass of our parish will take place during the coming week. We ask you to help as much as possible.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"MORTALS AND IMMORTALS" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 16, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "As we have borne the image of the earthly we shall also bear the image of the heavenly" (I Corinthians 15:49).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Now this I say brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption. For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality" (I Corinthians 15:50, 53).

FIRST LUTHERAN

The Ladies' Aid will hold its supper and bazaar tomorrow, and Saturday. Fancy articles will be on sale both days. Saturday evening the ladies will serve a turkey supper, ice cream, cake and sandwiches will also be on sale.

Next Monday evening the Men's Brotherhood will hold its monthly meeting. An interesting program is being arranged, and any men who are members or friends of the church are cordially invited to attend.

The church services on Sunday will continue the study of Stewardship of Money.

The ladies of the Missionary Society and the children of the Light Brigade are preparing a Thank Offering, presented to be presented at the evening church service on Sunday, November 23rd.

of people while Jesus was in the midst of His ministry. The Teacher had a right to expect the best results from His disciples and was amazed one day when, in truth, He had to commend the faith of a Roman Centurion above that seen in any of His own school or race.

This man was a gentle, and Jesus might have the same attitude toward him as did other Jews. So the elders of the synagogue were sought to plead the case in their joint behalf. Later the Centurion makes personal approach to Jesus, for he had truly identified himself with the sick man. It is still true that in proportion as we are conscious of being in the presence of Holiness we are the more aware of our own worthlessness in comparison. The very home of the Centurion is too humble for Jesus to even enter it. Then quick thinking and increasing belief help to solve the problem.

As a man of authority over others this Roman commander gives his orders and they are obeyed, whether he follows through with his eyes or not. Jesus must have still greater authority in the realm of the spirit. Therefore in boldness of faith request is made that healing be effected through the word of His power. Such faith is rewarded and the servant becomes well forthwith.

This act of sublime faith was prophetic and gave evidence that Jesus was to become the redeemer of mankind regardless of the race or condition of the individual.

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

LEMON JELLY

Two tablespoons granulated gelatin, one-half cup cold water, two to two and one-half cups boiling water, one cup sugar, one-half cup lemon juice, rind one lemon. Soak gelatin twenty minutes in cold water, then dissolve in boiling water. Add sugar, the lemon juice and rind; strain into a mold and chill. Beating the lemon jelly while it is jelly-like with a Dover egg beater will make it white and fluffy. Orange, raspberry or other fruit jelly may be made in the same way, using one-half cup of the fruit juice with lemon juice to taste.

A delicious lemon meringue pie—well, is there anything more delicious—Here is a good one:

LEMON PIE

Three-quarters cup sugar, three-quarters cup boiling water, two tablespoons cornstarch, one tablespoon flour, two egg yolks, three tablespoons lemon juice, grated rind of one lemon, one and one-half teaspoons butter. Mix dry ingredients, add boiling water. Stir constantly, cooking two minutes, then add butter, egg yolk, juice and rind of lemon. Line pie plate with crust, turn in mixture which has been slightly cooled and bake pastry until brown. Cool a bit and cover with meringue.

Acute Indigestion, Not Blow, Causes Death of Florence Foundry Worker

Reports that James Shinn, of Hainesport, died as a result of a blow allegedly struck in an altercation at the Florence Foundry last week, are branded erroneous by the Burlington county detectives' office.

It was rumored Shinn was struck directly over the heart in a fight with C. Edgar Bisbing, of Florence, Monday, October 27, after he had engaged Bisbing in a fust following his discharge from the Florence Foundry, where Bisbing is a foreman. Shinn's wife is said to have made the charge her husband's death, a week later, was due to injury received in the fight.

Police records in Florence show that Bisbing had Shinn arrested on an assault charge after the scrap in the foundry and Shinn was placed under bail for court on the charge. His death this week was very sudden. The case presented several difficult angles and the county detectives' office was called to investigate.

Acute indigestion was the cause of death, according to a decision reached by the investigators after interviewing a Mount Holly physician who attended Shinn. He stated he had been treating the Hainesport man for indigestion for some time past, and had warned him that eating heavily before retiring at night might prove fatal.

Evidently, Mr. Shinn disregarded the doctor's advice, as it was testified he ate two pieces of pie just previous to going to bed Sunday night. The physician stated that this was the obvious cause of his illness and resultant death.

Selling gasoline on Sunday has been held to be a "work of necessity" in Kentucky.

URGES BUILDING TO HELP PROVIDE WORK FOR NEEDY

$6000 Worth of Small Operations Started During Month in Palmyra

TAX SALE PROPERTIES PRESENT PROBLEMS

Borough Considers Collecting Rent, Etc., Same as Any Other Landlord

At the meeting of Palmyra Borough Council Tuesday evening, Building Inspector Eichner reported a total of nearly $6,000 worth of building having been inaugurated during the past month.

Nearly all of this consisted of various small items, such as the building of garages, new roofs, porch enclosures, repairs, etc., the largest single operation being $1200 worth of alterations at John H. Etris' store. Mayor George N. Wimer was impressed by the fact that there was this much work going on despite the business depression and suggested it would be a splendid idea for more citizens of the town who could afford it to have similar work done at this time to help relieve the unemployment situation.

Tax Sale Properties

Quite a bit of discussion took place regarding the status of properties taken in by the borough at tax sales, concerning whether the borough should collect the rents and otherwise administer the properties the same as any land lord. In the case of two valuable residential properties in town, the borough has tax titles two years old, which means that the officials can now go into court and obtain full titles to the properties and then sell them to realize the claims against them. The matter was referred to Borough Solicitor Low for information as to proper procedure and details of the full rights of the borough in the situation.

Arrangements were made for Borough Council to receive a report of the findings of the assessment committee which recently assessed the various sidewalk, curb and street improvements in town, and a public hearing will be held at that time. Owing to the absence of Solicitor Low, who was attending the annual meeting of the Central Baptist Church, a number of important subjects could not be disposed of, so an adjourned meeting will be held next Monday evening at town hall.

Police Report

In the police report, note was made of the fact that a Philadelphian by the name of Jack Dempsey had forfeited a deposit of $15 after he had been arrested for reckless driving. The police report follows:

To the Honorable Mayor and Council: The following is the Report of the Police Department of the Borough of Palmyra from October 18th to November 18th, 1930.

October 27, 1930—Alfred Undercoffer, Drunk, Reprimanded, Discharged.

November 1, 1930—Jack Dempsey, Disorderly, Forfeit fine, $15.00, Paid, Borough.

November 6, 1930—Oscar Howell, Gave bond to Overseer of Poor.

November 15, 1930—Frank Brand-hore, Reckless driving, Fined $5.00, Paid to County.

The police answered the following calls and complaints:

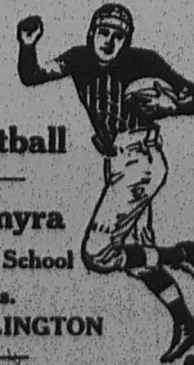

Eighteen calls and complaints.
Eight ambulance calls.
Six fires. Very little loss.
Six accidents. All minor.
Forty-one night lodgers.
Six dogs and cats gassed.
One automobile stolen.

Respectfully submitted,
C. Morris Beck,
Chief of Police.

WELFARE URGES MOVIE BENEFIT

Local Association Needs Balance of $1,134.90 for 1930-31 Budget

Early in October the Community Welfare Association of Palmyra, Riverton and Cinnaminson began a drive for the necessary funds to carry on the work of the organization during the winter months.

A budget committee was appointed by the president and the budget prepared by them totaled $1700. The committee seemed to think this would take care of the needs of the unemployed in this vicinity during the winter, 1930-31. Letters were sent to all constituent members, some of which responded very promptly.

The following is a list of contributions received by the Welfare since the drive for funds was begun.

Independence Fire Company, Palmyra, $25.00; Camp No. 23, P. O. S. of A., $50.00; Convenient Chapter, O. E. S., $25.00; Ladies' Auxiliary, K. of C., $10.00; Compass Club, $25.00; Christ Church Sunday School, Palmyra, $25.00; Baraca Class of the Central Baptist Sunday School, $10.00; Philathea Class of the Central Baptist Sunday School, $5.00; In-As-Much Bible Class of the Epworth M. E. Church, $15.00; Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, $13.00 and the Palmyra Moravian Church, $20.00. Private contributions to date total $415.00.

The contributions from October 1 to November 20, 1930, amount to $265.10. This leaves a balance of $1,134.90 to be raised by the association before the end of the month.

The officers of the welfare take this opportunity to urge some organization in the town to sponsor a moving picture benefit in order to raise a portion of the budget.

The association is also asking for contributions of second-hand clothing, especially shoes for children of school age.

At the regular meeting of the Welfare, which was held Thursday morning of last week, Mrs. William Shoemaker, of Riverton, was appointed temporary secretary.

Plans were discussed at that time for the distribution of Christmas baskets among the unemployed in the community. In the past the school children of Palmyra have given donations of foodstuffs at Thanksgiving and the Riverton school children contributed toys at Christmas time. This year the association has decided to urge the Palmyra school children to bring their donations at Christmas time also, thus avoiding confusion as to the time they are supposed to contribute.

UNLICENSED GUNNER PASSES DAY IN JAIL

Ivy Webb, of Pemberton township, was arrested Saturday by Game Warden Roy Carson on a charge of gunning without a license. He was given a hearing before Justice of the Peace M. Warner Hargrove and a fine of $20 and $35.00 costs was imposed. Being unable to pay he was committed to jail. Sunday he paid the fine and was released.

SWASTIKA GIRL RESERVES

The Swastika Girl Reserve, No. 2, of Riverton, under the leadership of Miss Mary Lindsey, have begun their Winter program by giving away a basket to the poor on Thanksgiving Day. Many other activities are also planned. The Reserves feel that their program has been started in the right way, giving rather than getting.

Don't "Shoot" Highway Signs, Appeal of Club

Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey makes a appeal to the sportsmanship of gunners.

"Every Fall," says a statement by the Club, "highway warning and direction signs are used as targets by thoughtless or irresponsible gunners. This unsportsmanlike practice works a distinct hardship on the motorists public by depriving drivers of the benefit of signs erected for their guidance. Furthermore, the signs have a dollars and cents value that is entirely overlooked by the individuals who use them for targets."

"The Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey annually erects thousands of signs in new locations and replaces thousands in old. In many instances the replacements are made necessary because the signs have been shattered by gunshot."

MANY NOTABLES GUESTS OF K. of C.

Large Gathering at K. of C. Hall Last Sunday to Greet State Officials

The winter schedule of the local Council of the K. of C. is now taking shape and keen interest in the activities is manifested by the attendance at meetings and also by those in charge of the coming events.

A large gathering of the Council's officers and District Deputies was on hand last Sunday afternoon to greet State Deputy McMahon, State Secretary Dr. Jennings and Henry J. Connor French, past state deputy.

The Councils represented at the meeting were from Trenton, Bordentown, Mount Holly, Riverside, Moorestown, Haddon Heights, Gloucester, Camden and Merchantville.

Many items of interest and plans for Council and State activities were discussed.

The remarks of Gene McVey, the leader of the Boy Work of the State Council, were heartily received by the Knights.

In the dramatic field the K. of C. is preparing to present a farce comedy which will be just a little different from anything thus far seen on local stages.

The date is Saturday, December 13th, in the Palmyra High School auditorium. M. J. McDermott is chairman of the committee and his assistants are the entire Council and also a number of Ladies from the Auxiliary.

BURGLARS FLEE WITHOUT LOOT

Enter Palmyra Home Through Rear Window; Auto Stolen Near Church

Burglars forced their way into the home of Conrad Friday, 1100 Highland avenue, Palmyra last Saturday.

The thieves gained entrance into the house by forcing a rear window. They entered the place sometime between 7 and 10 o'clock in the evening when the family was away. Whether the robbers were scared away by some member of the family returning or whether they became frightened at something else, is not known, but they left without securing any loot.

Police were called to the scene but were unable to find any trace of an intruder on the grounds around the house, the heavy rain washing out all tracks.

Walter L. Schopp, 711 Lincoln avenue, Palmyra, reported his car stolen Sunday at a spot on Garden avenue near Broad street. He had been attending the service at the Lutheran Church, and left the building shortly after nine o'clock to find his car missing. Continued search proved unavailing until Tuesday, when State Police found the machine at Easton town, N. J.

Gertrude Jocsin, 16 years old, of Parry, suffered a fractured skull last Friday when she was struck by a passenger car as she alighted from a bus.

Winney Vanaman, 811 South Eighth street, Camden, driver of the machine which struck her, took the girl to the Zuercher Hospital, Riverside, and then reported the accident to the State Police at Delanco. He was released to await the outcome of the girl's injuries.

PRESS LUNCHEON AT MOUNT HOLLY

Forty Representatives of County Parent-Teacher Associations Hold Round Table Conference

About forty representatives from the County Parent-Teacher associations attended the annual Press Luncheon in the Brainerd Street Church, Mount Holly, on Wednesday, November 12.

Mrs. Morrison, the County Press Chairman, presided.

Mrs. Walter Bowen, State Publicity Chairman, gave one of her helpful talks on "how to write, when to write and what to write," stressing the importance of interesting matter and the need of promptness in sending it to the editor of the local paper.

Not a waste of time, or matter that has become known to every one. Mrs. Morrison tried to impress the fact that every Press or Publicity Chairman, (and the County now has 100%) should be on the job, and also requested clippings in order that she might be able to keep her Publicity book up to date.

A tasty lunch was served by the ladies of the church, after which talks were given by Mrs. Arthur T. Hagstos, of Riverton, County Chairman, on the growth of the P. T. A., Mrs. Krupnik, of Haddon Heights, urged earnestness and attention to the subjects that lead to a desire for culture in the work, always holding fast to the best ideals. Mrs. Gertrude Stewart, of Medford, Household Editor for the Pennsylvania Farmer, also gave helpful suggestions.

Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. Bowen then said a few words to drive home the remarks of the other speakers, and Louis J. Kaser, County Superintendent of Schools, told of the lectures for the benefit of the Student Loan Fund.

This round table conference was interspersed with several choruses, and some delightful solos by Mrs. Eugene Pharo, of Moorestown.

Publicity Committee.

SHORT OF FUNDS FOR BRIDGE WORK

Department Appropriation Depleted by Ravages of Forest Fires

Before the Board of Freeholders could award a contract for the reconstruction of the old Harrisville bridge on the Jenkins-New Gettysburg road last Friday it was necessary to provide for a temporary improvement.

For $4500, as the bridge appropriation has been hit hard this year mainly due to the forest fires, which destroyed a number of wooden structures in the woods and pine district of Burlington county.

The Hill Construction Company, of Mount Holly, was the low bidder for the Harrisville bridge job and was awarded the contract on its figure of $4450. Other bidders were C. S. Moses, of Edgewater Park, $4872; William C. Cook, Inc., of Mount Holly, $6362; Kolyn Construction Company, of Trenton, $5995.82.

The urgent need of another automobile for County Detective Ellis H. Parker's office was expressed in a letter from Prosecutor Howard Eastwood. A similar request was made a few weeks ago, but no action was taken. The letter from the prosecutor was referred to Directors Russ and Heiler, representing the building and finance departments of the county.

The Public Service was granted permission to erect a pole at the junction of the Marlton pike and Eschberg road, and the Bell Telephone Company was permitted to remove forty feet of conduit on Washington street, near Lippincott lane, Mount Holly.

Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn announced the appointment of Miss Verona McDermott, of Vineland, and Mrs. Leida Gunse Lucas, of Mount Holly, in the office of the county jail, replacing Mrs. Reba Davis Herron, resigned.

The Beach Haven Exchange Club is very anxious to have state route 40, which now runs from Manahawick to the Burlington county line, completed to Camden, and the members made their request in a communication to the board. Freeholder Stout moved to refer to the communication "that insofar as this county was concerned, it was expected that the road would be built from Chairville, near Medford, to the Ocean county line next year, as the state engineers, he had been informed, had already prepared the specifications and would ask for bids in the near future."

The following bills were passed and ordered paid: Roads, $9,940.52; finance, $3617.84; bridges, $7031.22; buildings, $20,929.93; public affairs, $22,128.11; making a total of $63,046.62.

PRISONER TRIES TO WRECK JAIL

Crazed Man Terrifies Cellmates, Smashes Bench and Battles Troopers

Euda Eastero, in the county jail at Mount Holly for two weeks while his record has been looked up, proved himself master of the situation early Saturday when he cornered five fellow prisoners and threatened their lives.

While he was on his rampage he broke up a bench in the cell which the police say a large automobile could not have broken.

Night Warden John Smith sent a car for state troopers, and Cox and Adams were soon on the scene, and the three overcame the man. He was placed in a cell by himself and handcuffed.

Dr. Daniel F. Remer, prison physician, made an examination and the man was committed to the insane asylum at New Lisbon. Eastero was arrested in Burlington two weeks ago with a gun in his possession, and at the time said he was going to New York to kill a man. From there, he said, he had come to Philadelphia to "knock off" another man. Detective Ellis H. Parker ascertained that he had served time in an asylum in Florida.

It soon was discovered that the asylum at New Lisbon was not the proper place for the man, so papers were prepared and Sunday Sheriff Roscoe C. Shinn, State Troopers Adams, Cox, and Speed took Eastero to the state asylum at Trenton. The officers had a battle with him all the way.

CLOUDBURST

Lightning and Rain Causes Damage Monday Evening

The severe storm which struck Palmyra and Riverton late Monday night caused considerable damage.

Lightning struck the electric wires at Broad and Linden avenues, Riverton, putting out all the lights for several minutes. Telephone service also was disrupted.

Houses on one side of Elm avenue were without lights, as were several places on Broad street, until Tuesday morning, and the electric meter in the Broad street garage was blown completely out of its position by the lightning.

Scores of cars had their motors drowned out. Palmyra's big storm sewers proved unable to take care of the excess of water caused by the cloudburst. Several street corners were flooded with water knee-deep.

MOTHERS WANTED

Invited to Personally Conducted Tour of Wonders at School

Wanted, by the Cinnaminson P. T. A. several interested mothers to enjoy a personally conducted tour of the Westfield Public School on Tuesdays.

The tour will include visits to Babyland, Science town, Hometown, Carpenters, Auditorium and interesting side trips for any desiring to take them. Lunch served at a moderate price en route, transportation furnished upon request. Send applications to school for reservations.

Twenty-eight of the pupils wish to become members of the class in musical instruction. These classes are conducted in the public schools by Mr. Fugh, and offer every opportunity for the foundation of a musical education at a nominal sum.

Publicity Committee, Cinnaminson P. T. A.

RIVERTON BANK PLAYING SANTA

Christmas Club Checks Will be Mailed About December 1; Totaling $45,000

The Cinnaminson Bank announces that it will provide its Christmas Club depositors with checks for their Christmas shopping on or about December 1st.

Mr. Conover, treasurer, states that the sum total of checks sent out this year will be approximately $45,000 which should provide lots of Christmas joy, especially to the boys and girls of this community.

The checks will be sent in a Christmas envelope on a very pretty Christmas Club check.

In its advertisement this week the Cinnaminson Bank and Trust Company outlines a very elaborate Christmas Club radio broadcast over the National Broadcasting Company network.

This feature is brought to you through the courtesy and co-operation of the Cinnaminson Bank and includes the famous Floyd Gibbons, Mme. Louise Homer and Anna Case, and, in addition, selections by a thirty-piece Symphony Orchestra directed by Cesare Sidero.

This program will come to you through WEEF and associated stations and is scheduled to go on the air Wednesday, November 26, at 8 o'clock p. m. standard time.

UNION THANKSGIVING SERVICES SCHEDULED

Four Local Churches To Take Part in Services to be Held in Lutheran Church

Union Thanksgiving Services will be held in the First Lutheran Church, Palmyra, at 10.30 a. m. Thanksgiving morning. The Rev. Harold L. Creager, pastor of the church will be in charge.

The Rev. George J. McCormack, of Christ Church, Palmyra, will deliver the opening prayer and the Rev. George Lockett, rector of the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, will read the scripture lessons. The Rev. Charles T. Bates, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, will deliver the sermon.

As is the usual custom, the following churches will take part in this service: The First Lutheran Church of Palmyra and Riverton; Christ Church, Palmyra; the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra; the Central Presbyterian Church, Riverton.

Special Thanksgiving music will be rendered by the choirs of these churches and the closing prayer will be delivered by the Rev. Mr. Creager. It is hoped that the members of these and any of the other churches will see fit to attend these services to give thanks and offer praise for the many blessings which have been bestowed upon the people during the past year.

Abner Hartless

Abner Hartless, died at his residence 514 Leconey avenue, Palmyra, early last Thursday morning, after a long illness.

The remains were shipped to Lynchburg, Va., Friday evening, under the direction of Frank A. Snover. Interment will be made in Pleasantville Cemetery, that place.

Mr. Hartless is survived by his widow, Hallas Hartless and a son, M. L. Hartless.

SPECIAL NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Notice is hereby given that the rental of chairs, from the Riverton Fire Company, must be conducted through John Carhart, Sr., or Charles Cole.

All contributions for use of chairs are to be made payable to the Riverton Fire Company and given to this committee.

Also, persons wishing to contribute to the Building Fund should make checks payable to the Riverton Fire Company and send same to Ezra Carhart, Sr. The notice effective October 27, 1930.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS, Riverton Fire Company.

GRANDSTAND AT RIVERTON PARK IS COMPLETED

Riverton Borough Council Accepts New Structure at Recreation Field

PUBLIC SERVICE WOULD DISCONTINUE TROLLEYS

After Service of Thirty Years Cars Will be Replaced by Buses

The grand stand and shelter pavilion at Memorial Park, Riverton, has been completed and duly turned over to the Borough Council.

George W. Shaner, builder, and Stanley F. Stewart, architect, appeared before that body last Thursday night, reporting the completion of the work and delivered the release of liens.

The architect reported that the specifications had been carefully and conscientiously carried out and members of council who had inspected the structures declared that the work had been very carefully and satisfactorily done.

Mr. Stewart also explained that the toilets in the grandstand were of frost-proof construction and could be used all winter without danger of freezing, but that it would be necessary to turn off the drinking fountain during cold weather.

Trees and Shrubbery Planted

Mr. Elwell stated that an appropriation of $500 had been authorized to beautify the park and asked James S. Coale, chairman of the committee having this work in charge, to report to council what had been accomplished. Mr. Coale stated that he had been in contact with J. Fletcher Street, of Beverly, who had drawn the original plans for developing the park, and that Mr. Street had come to Riverton and further amplified the plans by spotting the location of various plants and had also suggested what variety of trees and shrubs would be suitable for the park.

The shrubs, Mr. Coale said, had been planted by Dreer's Nurseries, and the trees would be put in by Steele's Nurseries during the coming week, this work having been delayed on recommendation of Mr. Steele who said that earlier planting would not be so satisfactory.

The shrubbery was planted along the pathway on the bank of the creek which had formerly been fringed with azaleas and rhododendrons—which had all been dug up and carried away.

The work covered by Mr. Coale's committee including the planting of 50 trees and 96 shrubs, came to a total cost of about $250, including the planting, a saving of one half of the amount appropriated for this proposition.

On motion of Mr. Elwell, Mr. Coale and his committee were given a vote of thanks for the very efficient and economical manner in which the work had been accomplished.

Plan Skating Pond

Mr. Elwell further reported that he had cut off the tops of the plants in the Lilly pond and constructed a new sluice gate which will hold the water and convert the Lilly ponds into an ideal skating pond.

PHI NU CLASS

On Sunday morning, November 23, the class will discuss "The Rich Young Ruler." The main topic of this lesson is sacrifice. What sacrifices have we made or will we make in our lives that will make us better men and women?

Mrs. Sarah Caldwell will lead the discussion and everyone interested will be more than welcome.

Anyone knowing of new members please give their names either to Mrs. Walter Drew, of Mrs. H. R. Rieger, who will call on them and welcome them to the class.

Publicity Committee.

Mrs. Sarah M. Hall

Mrs. Sarah M. Hall, for many years a resident of Palmyra, died at her home on Leconey avenue, Palmyra, early Tuesday morning.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from the late residence, with the Rev. Fred B. Morley, of Moorestown, former pastor of the Epworth M. E. Church, Palmyra, officiating. Interment will be made in Morgan cemetery, Palmyra, under the direction of Frank A. Snover.

Mrs. Hall was the widow of the late George W. E. Hall and is survived by her nephew, Ellsworth Hall, of Palmyra.

COAL FOR THE UNEMPLOYED

Leon A. Sever, Inc., coal dealer, of Palmyra, has started a Coal Relief Fund to provide fuel for needy families this winter.

Two per cent of all the sales next week, from November 24 to 29 will be set aside in a fund to supply coal to the unemployed under the direction of the Community Welfare Association.

Read full particulars of this generous plan in the advertisement of Leon A. Sever, Inc. in this issue.

FATHERS' NIGHT PROGRAM DRAWS LARGE AUDIENCE

Guy C. Hendry Addresses PTA Members, Tells Dads to Stay Young With Boys

LOCAL MUSICAL ARTISTS GIVE SPECIAL NUMBERS

Pupils' Compositions, "What My Father Means to Me" Are Read by Mrs. Parker

The Fathers' Night program presented Tuesday night by the Palmyra PTA was attended by one of the largest crowds ever enjoying a PTA entertainment.

"Better Boys and Better Men" was the subject of the talk given by Guy C. Hendry, County YMCA secretary and speaker of the evening. Mr. Hendry in his interesting talk said that fathers must either keep one step ahead of their boys or else sit back and watch them go by. The ladies of the audience were as enthusiastic as the men over the discussion, which dealt mainly with the problems facing every boy and consequently every parent.

Alfred Van Osten, tenor, and John Ward, baritone, rendered several solo and duet numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Van Osten at the piano. Harold Mueller, a violinist of unusual ability, played one of his own compositions, "Prelude," a number following the modern musical rhythm. Mrs. Ruth Peterson Bell accompanied him at the piano.

A number of compositions from the pupils of the fourth to the ninth grades were read by Mrs. Albert Parker. "What My Father Means to Me," was the topic which had been selected for the pupils and the comments and opinions of children of grammar school age on this subject were amusing, interesting and at times enlightening. The enjoyment of these compositions was further enhanced by the inimitable manner in which Mrs. Parker delivered them.

Mrs. Elias M. Toy, president of the Palmyra organization, presided at the 37th Annual Convention of the New Jersey Congress of Parents and Teachers, read an interesting report of the convention.

The winners of the membership drive were awarded prizes. Mrs. Ida B. Bonnell's class, for having the largest number of parents as members of the PTA, received a wall clock, and Miss Elizabeth Toy's class, credited with having the largest number of fathers enrolled, was awarded a bowl of gold fish, the selection of the class.

The roll call for the honor banner showed twenty parents present for Miss Higgins who won the banner for the month.

THREE INJURED IN WEEKEND CRASHES

Riverside Man and Wife Hurt When Coupe is Struck

Three persons suffered injuries in automobile accidents in Moorestown over the weekend, one being injured by a hit-run driver.

James Sexton, of East Main street, Moorestown, was the hit-run driver's victim. Mr. Sexton, who is slightly crippled, walks with a cane. He was struck by a car as he was walking across Main street, in front of Matlack's store, Saturday evening. He was knocked down by the machine and suffered lacerations of the face, three stitches having been taken in his face when he was rushed to the office of Dr. Nathan Thorne for treatment.

The hit-run driver, later arrested by Moorestown police, was Francis Radtke, Germantown avenue, Maple Shade. Radtke, at a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in town hall Monday evening, was fined $25 and costs and his driver's license was revoked for two years.

A Riverside man and his wife were injured in an accident at Bridgeboro road and Hartford-Westfield road, near Moorestown airport, Sunday. The victims were Harry Schoenmeier, Stewart avenue, Riverside, who suffered lacerations of the scalp, and his wife, Katherine, who was lacerated about the knee and suffered painful bruises of the face.

Mr. and Mrs. Schoenmeier were taken to Zuerbrugg Hospital, Riverside, for treatment. The man was released after receiving treatment, but his wife was detained at the hospital for observation until Monday.

The accident occurred when a sedan, driven by Albert M. Brown, 218 Fisher avenue, Philadelphia, going south on the Hartford-Westfield road, collided with the Schoenmeier's coupe, going east on Bridgeboro road.

Schoenmeier's car crashed into a telephone pole, the collision and was badly damaged. The front right fender and radiator on the sedan were damaged.

Brown was arrested by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw and Officer Walter A. Erickson who investigated the accident, and was released in $500 bail by Recorder Johnston for further hearing next Monday, November 24, when the extent of the injuries suffered by the Riverside couple will have been determined.

Murderous Assailant of Burlington Laundryman Remains in County Jail

Mock Toy, Prisoner, Twelve Years Ago Operated Laundry in Town Where Assault Took Place, Developments Show

There have been no startling or unusual developments this week in the case of George Eng Hong, popular Burlington Chinese laundryman who was viciously attacked in his shop on High street last Friday evening, according to a statement of Captain of Burlington Police Frank Gilbert. Hong's condition, however, was found to be not as serious as at first supposed, and he was removed from the Burlington County Hospital, Mt. Holly, to his Burlington residence on Monday afternoon. Mock Toy, 27, of 229 North Ninth street, Philadelphia, remains in the county jail as Mr. Hong's alleged assailant. He is being held, without bail, to answer charges of atrocious assault and battery with intent to kill.

County detectives have been unable to obtain any statement from Toy which would clarify the situation and, incidentally, involve other members of the "tong" he is known to represent. Sunday afternoon, five Chinamen called at the county jail and asked permission to see and talk to the Chinese prisoner. This privilege was not extended them, however, and they were not long in leaving Mount Holly.

One thing which has been ascertained about Toy since his arrest, is that he was once in the laundry business in Burlington, being a partner in the shop on East Broad street just off High about twelve years ago. It is this East Broad street shop which is entitled to exclusively "work" the section of Burlington where Hong's shop is located according to the code of the "tong" which virtually controls the Chinese laundry business in the United States.

The law of this "tong" states there may be but one laundry within a two-block radius except with special permission from its ruling body. Hong, who for many years conducted his business Broad and York streets, Burlington, some time ago tossed aside his Oriental beliefs to accept those of his adopted home. About two years ago he moved his business from the old stand to his present location on High street, in the business section of the town.

Ever since he opened his new establishment there have been threats in various forms delivered him by the "tong". The first attempt to carry out the threats contained in letters received by him came a little more than a year ago, when a bomb was tossed into his store, but which was seized by him and thrown into a tub of water before it exploded.

Following this, Hong appealed to the Burlington Police Department for protection from his enemies. He was given a bodyguard and, in a short while appeared to get back to normalcy. Last week's attack came as a great surprise.

Toy entered the shop of Mr. Hong about 7 o'clock Friday evening. It is said he asked for a cup of coffee and as the Burlington man started to retire to a room, he was seized by him and thrown into a tub of water before it exploded.

ing November and early December find the offices almost deserted. They are in and out with their plates and licenses within a few minutes. There is no long wait, no time lost at a period of the year when time is precious, and no discomfort.

Procrastinators, too, fail to realize the unfair burden they throw on the clerical forces of the agencies, who are idle for weeks after November 15, and then must carry for a week or ten days a crushing load which might just as easily, and more comfortably for all concerned, have been spread over six weeks.

Last-Minute Rush Invariably, because of the last-minute rush, New Year's Day finds some motorists unable to use their cars because they have no plates for the new year. This is unfortunate, but since it is avoidable, we hereby waste no sympathy for them. Let it be thoroughly understood that while 1931 plates may be used before the end of 1930, 1930 plates may not be used after the end of 1930. And the police in every municipality in the state as well as state troopers and motor vehicle inspectors on the highways, will be vigilant to apprehend motorists who attempt to flout the law.

A final consideration for motorists accustomed to delay making application for new plates. Present economic conditions and lessened incomes may compel some owners to postpone obtaining 1931 tags because of lack of money. We have no way of telling how widespread this tendency may be, but certainly it will contribute in some degree to the intensity of the last-minute rush. This is rather reason why owners who are not in straitened circumstances should act now.

Even if you don't care about the discomfort you may cause the agencies, think how much inconvenience you will bring on yourself by delay. Now is the time to get 1931 tags.

Now is the time to get 1931 tags.

ARRESTED SELLING LIQUOR TO DANCERS

Bridgeboro Man Caught and Fined $50 for Bootlegging at Indian

Receiving information that liquor was plentiful at Indian Mills, where weekly dances were conducted in Baker's Hall, at that place, Under Sheriff Carlisle and Trooper Rinaldi, of the Columbus station, working in plain clothes, had the report verified when they visited the dance and caught Earl Hubbs, of Indian Mills, dispensing liquor from a car during the intermission.

Hubbs and Shinski, together with two other suspects, were arrested and brought to the County jail, and had hearings before Supreme Court Commissioner William A. Slaughter. Hubbs and Shinski were both held, the former going into court on a waiver and pleading guilty to the charge and being sentenced to pay a fine of $50, while Shinski furnished bond for his appearance later.

The other men were discharged for want of evidence.

MEN'S CLUB

Popular Palmyra Organization Will Meet Monday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, will be held Monday in the parish house.

An interesting speaker has been engaged for the evening and a musical program which is sure to delight the members has been arranged.

The December meeting will be devoted to forum discussion and those members who are willing to volunteer to speak on that occasion are requested to give their names to the secretary, F. W. Spahr, at this meeting.

At the close of the meeting the Ladies of St. Agnes Guild will serve refreshments.

PALMYRA BAND TO GIVE CONCERT

School Musicians Will Be Heard Tomorrow Night in High School Auditorium

The first concert of the Palmyra School Band will be given tomorrow night in the high school auditorium. The band, under the direction of Prof. R. E. Gehringer, of Haverford, Pa., will be assisted in the evening's program by several selections rendered by the Girls' Glee Club, led by Miss Vera Melone.

The band has responded readily to Mr. Gehringer's teaching and the program has been selected with care and promises to make the evening's entertainment one long to be remembered.

The band selections will be interspersed with a cornet solo by Lawrence Bradshaw and two groups of songs by the Glee Club.

Plans for the purchase of uniforms for the band have not been completed but it is hoped the townspeople will be sufficiently impressed by the concert numbers to be willing to donate an amount sufficient to purchase the outfits.

The concert is expected to arouse new interest in the school pupils, and the personnel of the band will likely increase as a result. Several new players are needed to complete a well balanced band and it is the hope of Mr. Gehringer that these places will be filled by new material.

The program for tomorrow night contains a variety of selections. Marches, overtures, serenades and school songs are included in the evening's entertainment.

The first meeting between the Palmyra band and a rival school band will take place Saturday when the large Burlington musical unit will be seen on the Palmyra field.

The Palmyra musicians, although not playing together as long as the Burlington outfit, are expected to hold their own with the band from up the river.

Mr. Gehringer is well pleased with the rapid advance made by the young musicians. In mentioning the success of the band, he said its progress was exceptional and such progressiveness on its part in the future would assure them of considerable attention, not only from local people, but by those from visiting schools and by people far removed from Palmyra.

It is his aim to train the Palmyra band to such a degree that recitals will become semi-annual affairs with paid admission. Such concerts would just as easily, and more comfortably for all concerned, have been spread over six weeks.

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

Nathan Hale Camp, No. 15, Pioneers of America, was instituted in the P. O. S. of A. Hall Monday evening by State Secretary George W. Smith, State Treasurer, Howard Mercer, State Master of Forms, Leslie W. Reeves.

Fifteen charter members were present and after the initiation ceremony were conducted by Merchantsville Camp, No. 3, the new camp organized the following officers: Past President, Wayne Harmon; President, Kenneth Baitinger; Vice-president, Elmer Semple; Degree Master, Henry Luck; Recording Secretary, Robert G. Beckwith; Financial Secretary, Grover C. Fox; Auditor, Raymond Haines; Treasurer, Paul Chandler.

George W. Fletcher, Joseph Semple and Harry J. Saar are the board of managers who will guide the progress of the patriotic organization. Meetings will be held in the P. O. S. of A. Hall each Saturday evening and the boys will have an opportunity of spending the time profitably.

Old Paper Reveals Ockanickon's Wife

An old London newspaper has revealed the identity of the wife of Chief Ockanickon for whom Burlington county's Y. M. C. A. Camp, near Cookstown, is named according to Guy C. Hendry, secretary of the County Y. M. C. A.

The historical search was instigated and conducted by Mrs. Francis Gummere, of Haverford, Pa., who is historian of the Burlington Society of Friends and an authority on the history of Burlington County.

Chief Ockanickon's wife was named Natollinonequay, according to the London paper. It is said that within a few years the Burlington County Y. M. C. A. will have a camp, near Camp Ockanickon, named Camp Natollinonequay.

The Annual Business meeting and Roll Call of Members of the Central Baptist Church was held on Thursday evening, November 13, at the church on Maple Avenue.

Joseph S. Low, president of the Official Board, reported on the progress of the church during the past year. He stated that the church had a very successful year and that the members were very active in their work.

PLANE TALKS

By L. H. H. LONGAKER Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

The Imperial Airways, of England, will open a new mail and passenger line from Cairo to Cape Town in April, in connection with the London to Cairo line this will make the longest air route in the British Empire, covering 6000 miles from London to Cape Town. The trip is "down" in 11 days and the fare is $606.25, including hotels and meals.

"Doc" Dougherty and his Hotel Adelphi radio broadcasting orchestra has been secured to furnish the music for the South Jersey Aviation Ball to be held by the Burlington County Aero Club on Friday evening, December 5th at the Hotel Walt Whitman.

The record recently made by Dr. D. Brock at the Kansas City Airport is the kind of records we like to see. Dr. Brock has made a flight every day for 366 days starting November 16, 1929. Dr. Brock is a manufacturing optometrist and not a professional pilot.

And right along the same line, we are going to ask former Senator Emory Roberts to start today and at last make a short flight every day possibly can to see how many flying days a year we can average at the Moorestown Airport.

How many residents of Burlington County are using the air lines? Do you make trips to Pittsburgh, Boston, Baltimore, Washington and points South? Why not use the air lines operating to these and many other cities? Air transportation is safe, speedy, comfortable and reasonable. Fly today.

each day it pays you something

NOT a day goes by, but you save and profit, when a General Electric Refrigerator is working for you.

Today it may be the saving of some meat or vegetables or milk which would have spoiled in a temperature less cold. Tomorrow it may save you a trip to the market, because its steady, even temperature keeps food fresh for days and days.

Each day it earns money for you some way - eliminating spoilage and waste - enabling you to buy food in larger quantities when there are "specials" at the grocery store. It keeps your green vegetables deliciously crisp; it makes all kinds of inexpensive frozen dishes - saves you something, and pays you something every day!

A few dollars in cash will put a General Electric Refrigerator in your home. Stop in, and let us explain our easy terms.

RESERVES MAKING GIFTS FOR INDIANS

Burlington County Girls to Send Presents to Navajo School

Girl Reserves in all parts of the United States are now busy making and selecting Christmas presents for American Indian children. The girls of Burlington county will send gifts to Navajos at a large government school near Leupp, Arizona, where the many girls and boys know nothing about games. These children, however, have already learned the art of weaving blankets, and have had to wander over deserts and mountains with their parents, seeking food and water for their animals.

In honor of the sending of their gifts, the Girl Reserves of Burlington county are presenting an Indian Festival on Sunday, November 30, at three o'clock, in the Porch Club, Riverton.

Two Girl Reserves, Betty Sticker, of Delanco, and Vera Berger, of Maple Shade, will preside. A talk will be given on the Indians' belief in the Great Spirit. Indian songs will be sung by the Girl Reserves of Lenola and Maple Shade. All interested are cordially invited to attend.

In their local club meetings, Girl Reserves are following various lines of interest. Girls of the William Allen School, in Burlington, under the leadership of three teachers, Miss Jones, Miss Dillon, and Mrs. Pollard, have been making scrap-books to illustrate the Girl Reserve code.

A group of Maple Shade girls sang at the recent Y. W. C. A. bazaar in Moorestown. The Green Bank Club, whose advice is Mrs. Helena Wobbar, the school principal, sold handmade Christmas gifts at a supper at the school, Friday evening, November 14.

In Riverside, the seventh and eighth grade girls are now permitted to hold their meetings in the library of the new school building. Under the leadership of Miss Hesse, Miss Beber, and Miss Coffey this club has been studying various other countries, and is now sewing on articles for the Needlework Guild.

In Mount Holly the girls of the Samuel Aaron school are being coached in dramatics by their adviser, Miss Rosa Mosby. The Miller School girls are forming a new club with Helen Polwell as adviser. It will hold its first regular meeting at the Y. W. C. A. club house, Wednesday, November 19, at 3:45 o'clock. All interested girls are cordially invited to attend the Girl Reserve club meetings Tuesday evenings, at 7:30 o'clock, in the Y. W. C. A. club room.

Supper Meeting

The Mount Holly business girls met for the second of a series of dinners they are giving, on Monday evening, November 17, at the Y. W. C. A. dining room.

Following the dinner the girls adjourned to the Y. W. C. A. club room on Paxson street, where W. Clarence Wright spoke on the subject, "The Question No Man Has Answered," which was a helpful presentation of the question of Jesus. "What does it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" Over forty girls were present. The meeting was in charge of Alma Pilgers, Dorothy Dabrow, and Mary Stockton.

Book Lovers' Hour Postponed

An emergency conference on unemployment was called by the National Board of the Young Women's Christian Associations for November 17-18 in New York. Mrs. Robert E. Speer, of New York, as National Board president, in a letter to local associations, yesterday, said, "In view of the present economic depression which is bringing so much unemployment and suffering in its train, and is affecting directly and indirectly women and girls all over the country, the conference was being called."

"We are faced with a double necessity, that of continuing, in so far as we are able, a constructive program and at the same time of using our great and unusual resources to meet specific needs in this time of suffering and emergency." Mrs. Speer continued, "Pooling of our experiences and counsels will be an enormous asset in the months before us."

Many Associations are already playing a large part in the relief plans of their community. The conference was held at the National headquarters of the movement, 600 Lexington avenue, New York.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Mayor and clerk to borrow money on an improvement note to pay the balance due amounting to about $1300.

Commended Playground

Members of the Borough Property Committee of which Councilman Francis B. Elwell is chairman, were complimented on the successful completion of the work and the from the employment of play leaders during the summer months.

In this connection the following letter from the Riverton Porch Club was read and ordered filed:

To The Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton, N. J.
The Porch Club wishes to express to you its appreciation and approval of the work done at the Memorial Park playground this past summer.

All such efforts in the interests of an improved citizenship is heartily endorsed by the club.

School Board Approves
The following resolution passed by the Riverton Board of Education and forwarded by the District Clerk was read and took the same course.

WHEREAS, the Mayor and Council of the Borough of Riverton, N. J. instituted, under proper supervision, a playground program during the months of July and August and the project proved a great success;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Education of the School District of the Borough of Riverton, N. J. That the Mayor and Council be commended for the plan as carried out to develop the general activities for the children;

AND BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, That the Mayor and Council be requested to continue and enlarge upon the plan during the Summer months in the future.

Estela A. Mayfield, President, S. L. Warren, George D. Steele, Catherine Blair, Ross E. Mattis, Richard D. Barclay, Earl A. Shrader, I hereby certify the above Resolution was unanimously adopted at a regular meeting held October 6th, 1930.

Fred P. Hemphill, District Clerk.

Cooperation Appreciated
Mayor Rogers said that it was most gratifying and encouraging to Council to have the approval of the playground experiment from organizations in the town, and he felt that the two communications just read, together with a letter from the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association, read at a previous meeting, gave a very fair cross section of public opinion in the town.

Councilman DeLaney, Director of Public Safety, in his report for the police department said that there had been several petty robberies and the usual number of violations of traffic laws during the month.

Mr. DeLaney, as chairman of the Sewer Committee, also reported that a new manhole had been constructed on Elm avenue, between the two existing manholes, which were too far apart for the successful operation of rods in clearing obstructions from the sewer.

Discontinue Trolleys
William A. Worth, representing the Public Service Coordinated Transport, presented a resolution granting permission to substitute buses for trolley cars between Camden and Trenton. Mr. Worth explained that the bus schedule would embrace both the present schedule for buses and that for trolley cars so that there would be no curtailment of service—in fact, he said, the service would be improved by the installation of new buses.

In reply to a question from Councilman Bartley, Mr. Worth stated that if the tracks remained on Broad street the Borough would continue to receive the franchise tax which amounted to something over $500 yearly, in addition to the gross receipts tax of a similar amount. If Council orders the tracks to be taken up it will forfeit the franchise tax and the cost of paying the roadway will be up to Council.

If, however, the Public Utilities Commission orders the Company to remove its tracks, then Mr. Worth said, the Company would be responsible for paving the road.

Trolleys Started 30 Years Ago
It is a curious coincidence that in one generation the cycle has been completed. It was in 1900 that this trolley road was constructed and thirty years later it is being discontinued owing to changing conditions in which the rapid growth and the use of automobiles has played an important part.

Councilman Clelland, chairman of the Highway Department, reported that a second coat of oil had been applied to Second street between Thomas and Elm avenues, and on Fourth street from Elm to Linden.

The building inspector submitted his report covering operations amount of $4000 and fees of $1150. During a lapse of several years, during which many ineffective attempts were made to collect sewer rentals from residents on the Palmyra side of Elm avenue, the matter has been brought to a successful termination by the cooperation of the Palmyra Borough Council.

Joseph S. Low, solicitor for Palmyra, addressed a letter to the delinquent property owners advising them that if the Borough of Riverton disconnected their property from the sewer owing to the non-payment of rentals, it would be necessary for the Borough of Palmyra to immediately construct a sewer, the cost of which would be assessed against the abutting properties. The cost of the sewer would be at least $100 for every fifty feet of frontage in addition to which there would be a yearly rental of $400.

The result of this letter was that every property owner with the exception of one paid up their rentals in full.

Board of Adjustment
The Mayor's appointment of the following Board of Adjustment in connection with the Zoning Ordinance was unanimously confirmed by Council: Harry F. Jones, chairman, E. H. Stackhouse, Murray, J. W. Sylvester and H. K. Ruthertford.

TURN POLICEMAN AND IS FINED $221
Lenola Motorist Stops Others on Moorestown Pike and Demands Driving Cards
George J. Wilson, 28, of Lenola was a traffic policeman for a half hour Wednesday of last week, but the experience cost him $221.

Wilson, driving along the Moorestown Pike near Maple Shade, suddenly took a liking for the policeman's life. He got out of his car and began stopping other motorists, demanding to see their driving cards, according to police. Maple Shade police station was notified and Sergeant Charles Jackson was dispatched.

Wilson threatened to arrest Jackson, but Jackson did the arresting. Recorder Addison fined Wilson $200 and costs of $31 for driving while intoxicated, and revoked his license for two years. Wilson paid the fine.

MOORESTOWN WOMAN VICTIM OF NEW STUNT
Bandit Robs Mrs. Grace Janke While Held Up By Traffic Signal
Pennsauken police learned of a new mode of highway banditry Tuesday night of last week when Mrs. Grace Janke, of 445 Camden avenue, Moorestown, reported having been robbed at Moorestown Pike and Haddonfield Road.

Mrs. Janke stopped for the red light at the intersection when a man walked from the dark roadside, exhibited a revolver and demanded her money. She gave him what she had, amounting to $6. Then he disappeared. No other cars were in sight.

The man is described as young, tall, thin and wearing a light cap. Police were unable to find any trace of the unusual bandit.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL
Again the Red Cross appeals to Americans to accept its invitation to membership during the Roll Call, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day.
The 3500 Red Cross Chapters are asking citizens in every section of the United States to join the fellowship of service to humanity.

Burlington County Chapter of the American Red Cross is asking two hundred men and women of Burlington County to take out five dollar memberships in this great organization during the coming Roll Call.

This is made necessary by reason of the fact that the National Red Cross has exhausted its fund left from the World War in caring for disasters; just at present it is using a five million dollar reserve fund in connection with the drought all over the country, in order to avoid making an appeal to all Chapters for assistance.

These five dollar memberships will also help the work in your own county and town, as each means $2.25 to both Chapter and Branch, instead of the usual refund of twenty-five cents from the dollar membership, thus enabling those in charge to do more and better work in your own home town and county.

Will you be one of this 200?

DEMOCRATS CONTROL CONGRESS

Both Houses of Congress, no matter how they are organized, will be in actual control of the Democrats after March 4, 1931. The new Congress will not meet until December, 1931, unless a special session is called.

The organization of the Senate by the Republicans simply means that the progressives will vote as Republicans for the purpose of securing the Congress chairmanships and the majority number of places for Republicans on the committees, and for the distribution of the political patronage among the favorites of the Senators. The story of Republican control ends then and there; because history for a dozen years proves there are always enough progressives willing to vote with the Democrats to put the Administration and the President "in a hole." In consequence Democratic policies will prevail.

The House is so close that the deaths and vacancies that occur in so large a membership may result in either the Republicans or Democrats securing the organization, with the same result as in the Senate—chairmanships, majorities on committees and political patronage. For example, there are twenty-two vacancies in the present Congress.

The well known animosity of the progressives toward the Administration and the White House means that the Democrats will control legislation. Nominal control of either the Senate or the House by the Republicans doesn't mean a thing so far as legislation goes.

The Democrats have it. What they will do with their power is a matter for future history to record.

MRS. MILLER'S FLIGHTS

An American girl, Gertrude Ederle, showed British women that it was possible for a woman to swim the English Channel. Now an English woman, Mrs. Keith Miller, has set a new record for women flyers in crossing the American continent.

In a small monoplane Mrs. Miller flew from New York to Los Angeles in 25 hours, 44 minutes. Returning she covered the distance in 21 hours, 47 minutes. Both records were better than those of Miss Laural Ingalls, American flyer, who had recently set a new mark for women in trans-continental flights.

While these records are not to be compared with the phenomenal flights of Captain Hawks and other men flyers, they are most impressive, and testify to the courage, skill and endurance of "ladies of the air."

DOUBLING TAXES

The Bureau of the Census states, after a study of 250 American communities, that the cost of operating city governments in this country more than doubled during the ten years following 1917.

In 1917, per capita payment for operation and maintenance of general departments of these governments was $19.07; in 1927 it was $40.98 and in 1928, $42.63. While no official survey has been made for later years, it will undoubtedly be found that further increases occurred in 1929 and 1930.

Waste and inefficiency due to outmoded methods and duplication of effort on the part of local governments, make a sad hole in the American pocketbook.

This is WASHINGTON
BY RADFORD MOSEY
AUTOCATER WASHINGTON BUREAU

Washington, D. C., Nov. 21 (Auto-cater)—Everyone of the other seven members of the Federal Farm Board is as much a personality in his way as is Chairman Legge, concerning whom I wrote last week.

The vice chairman of the board, James C. Stone, came to the board from the presidency of the Burley Tobacco Growers Cooperative association; a Kentuckian at birth and since, he lives at Lexington. He says that he was born and raised on a farm, and when I got through college I went into the tobacco business, in the warehouse business. His cooperative grew to where it handled from 80 to 85 per cent of the Burley crop. Another big man, he resembles Chairman Legge in this respect, but his personality is quietly friendly where Legge's is dynamic. He is the diplomat of the board. Few men in the country combine Stone's long experience in farm cooperation with his enthusiastic belief in its efficiency.

Carl Williams, an Indiana Hoosier who turned Oklahoman by way of Colorado, Michigan, and Missouri, represents cotton and is one of the four journalists on the board. His family early left the farm because "of their inability to make a living," he says, but after he became reporter and managing editor his studies "were along agricultural lines even then."

His two main farm beliefs are that tenant and cropper system of cotton farming is destroying the individual farmer by keeping him in debt, and that there are "a tremendous number of evils in scattering marketing of cotton. The fact that he reached these conclusions while editing a farm paper is a key to his background. His practical experience with cooperative marketing covers 16 years or more, during which time he has directed a number of ventures. Not quite so large physically as Stone and Legge, he has the former's basic faith in cooperation, and the latter's breadth of view, with some thing of his own added.

All of C. B. Denman's life has gone into the livestock farming that he represents on the board, since he saw the light on a 300-acre farm in Bollinger county, Mo., where he has always lived. He helped organize in 1921 the National Livestock Producers association, of which he was president when he came to the board; since this agency is one of the main agencies organized under the board, no other member is so completely allied with the industry he represents.

Typifies Farmer
An individual farmer all his life, Denman typifies the farmer more than any other man on the board. Not a good speaker in public, he is yet convincing, and his fundamentally farmer viewpoint plays a big part in the board's formation of policy. He is another six-foot specimen of the 200-pounder.

about the world he lives in. A few hundred years from now some scientist, equipped with better measuring instruments than are available today, may prove that Einstein is wrong in his theory that a straight line is not the shortest distance between two points and that light travels in curves instead of in straight lines. But his theory will stand until somebody finds an unescapable fact which contradicts it.

That is the way scientist knowledge grows. Man probably will never know all the facts about the universe, but we are learning faster now than ever before.

The fruit member of the board is G. C. Tesque of California, a short but heavily built man who was born in Maine, grew up mostly in Kansas and has spent the rest of his life in the state from which he was appointed. President of the California Orchard Co., Fruit Growers Supply Co., Fruit Growers Exchange, the American Institute of Cooperation and other organizations, he differs radically from Denman in that he represents essentially a business viewpoint on the board, despite his early farm training. He is the man who has put a miniature "equalization fee" program in operation in the California grape industry. Very brisk, he is personally more reticent than the other members.

The Northwest's contribution to the board, William F. Schilling, responsible for the dairy industry, places the emphasis again on the farmer viewpoint. He is proud of his Holsteins at Northfield, Minn., and says they are the second oldest herd in the state. An editor for a while, he helped organize 37 years ago the first cooperative creamery and "took $50 stock in it."

He also boasts that he was "under indictment in 1917 and 1918 in Hennepin county, Minn., for helping to form a cooperative milk producers association." A director of Land-O-Lakes Creamery and other groups, he is, with Denman, the most directly identified with the industry he represents. Another of the big men on the board, he is a humorist of parts and great favorite in Washington.

Very Retiring
The member of the board who has almost effaced himself from the public eye is Charles S. Wilson, vegetable representative from Hall, N. Y., where he has operated for years a 300-acre farm. He is the real general of the entire board membership. Apples, wheat, other grains, large lots of cabbage and other commodities are grown on the Wilson farm. He has spent most of his time on the board in exhaustive groundwork for cooperatives. Physically large and personally retiring, he has stuck to his knitting and absolutely fought off publicity.

The lone politician on the board, Samuel R. McKelvie of Lincoln, Neb., has not only been governor of his state, but he operates a 700-acre farm and edits the Nebraska Farmer. The smallest physically of the board members, he is also one of the friendliest. He is a firm believer of the marketing act which established the board and is personally conducting a campaign against grain commission men. As wheat representative he must grapple with the oldest and largest, in quantity, of the farm problems. The opposite of Wilson he has attracted much publicity. Originally appointed for a year and regarded as a temporary member, he has now held to be permanently established.

Unanimous
One of the St. Louis boys who made it, says his chief difficulty in driving a car across the continent in reverse was a pain in the neck. It seems then, to have been unanimous.—Detroit News.

WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

Good Morning Doctor

One day when I was working at my first job and was—needless to say—hard up, I developed a severe pain. A stranger in New York, I had read in the newspapers the name of a diagnostician who was internationally famous. I went to his office, which was in his beautiful home, at eight o'clock in the morning. The waiting room was already full. There was a rich man who lunged impatiently at his watch. There was a haughty woman. And there was also half a dozen shabbily dressed folk, including a poor mother with a very sick baby.

Without favoritism, each was ushered into the consultation room in the order of his arrival.

Presently my turn came. I said to the doctor: "I cannot afford to consult you, but my health is my entire business capital. Therefore, I feel that I simply must come to you."

He gave me a careful examination, wrote a prescription, and told me that I would be all right again in a few days.

I pulled out my pocket-book, which contained two weeks' salary.

"How much are you earning?" he asked.

I told him $25 a week.

"Well, if you promise not to tell anybody," he answered, "I'll charge you five dollars."

In the intervening years I have become the father of three children, and my salary has been raised a couple of times. I have had occasion to employ several physicians and three different surgeons. Some of the bills have amounted to hundreds of dollars. But I have never received a bill that seemed to me unreasonable or even adequate, considering the importance of the service rendered.

I have known several doctors who married rich wives, and some who made money in real estate or the stock market. I have met a number who gained modest fortunes from their practice, but none who became really rich.

And the amount of free work done by even the biggest men in the profession has always been a marvel to me.

As an advertising man and a former sales manager I feel that the health business is still too much an old-fashioned one.

I should like to see dozens of big clinics in every city, each with its group of specialists. I should like to see them use newspaper advertising, and draw most of their revenues from the healthy rather than from the seriously ill. I believe that if we Americans paid twice as much to good doctors every year it would be the best money we could possibly spend.

Some developments of this sort will come in the next generation. They are beginning already. Meanwhile, I feel a great sense of gratitude to the doctors. If my experience is typical, they are a swell group of men.

"John" John.

"So Flora divorced her parlor maid? Couldn't he pull enough rabbits out of his hat to keep the pantry filled?"

"Yes, but he couldn't pull enough hats out of his pocket to keep her wardrobe filled."

"Don't you patronize that hotel barber any more?"

"No. He's too absent-minded. Last time I went in for a shave he pinned a newspaper around my neck and handed me a towel to read."

When Farmer Wheatley saw an ad in the paper: "For $5 we will tell you how to cure your horse of shivering," he sent in the money. A few days later he received the information: "Teach him to spit."

Ripsort—"What is Geefoosum doing these days?"

Slush—"I hear he's doing settlement work."

Ripsort—"So his creditors finally cornered him, did they?"

TOMORROW

VOICES

The head of a college of music has got into the newspapers by announcing that the pitch of American girls' voices is getting lower, and attributing this to "yelling at football games and smoking cigarettes."

It is much more probable that the American type is changing through the admixture of races, and that the average American girl has a better muscular development than her grandmother had. Physical training rather than cigarettes would tend to enlarge the breathing passages which affect the pitch of the voice.

If the change which the teacher has noticed is general, so much the better. The high-pitched American female voice, almost shrill, grates on sensitive ears. Women may admire sopranos, but most men prefer the deep-toned contralto voice.

JUNK

Nearly a year's experience with the plan, adopted by all of the large automobile makers, of offering a bonus to dealers for "junking" used cars, seems to have had a good effect, not only in stimulating the market for new cars but in removing dangerous vehicles from the road.

Ford is paying $20 for each hopeless Ford car delivered at the factory. Other makers allow from $20 to $40 to dealers for each car junked in the presence of responsible witnesses or factory representatives. The dealer has to find his own "graveyard" for the wreck, and that is a difficult problem in some localities. Almost every abandoned quarry and mine has been filled to the top with old cars. On some of the undeveloped streets in the suburbs of New York ancient automobiles virtually line the roadway on both sides.

John Saacks has driven Telephone cars for twenty years without an accident injuring anyone. He is dean of 1,900 drivers of telephone motor vehicles in New Jersey who drove more than 760,000 miles last month.... safely.

1800 men driving a fleet of trucks and light cars 25000 miles every day, on the crowded highways and byways of New Jersey with safety to pedestrian and motorist, is no accidental occurrence. It is the direct result of unceasing war against accidents in which every Telephone driver is enthusiastically enlisted, a war which has driven the accident enemy back, month by month.

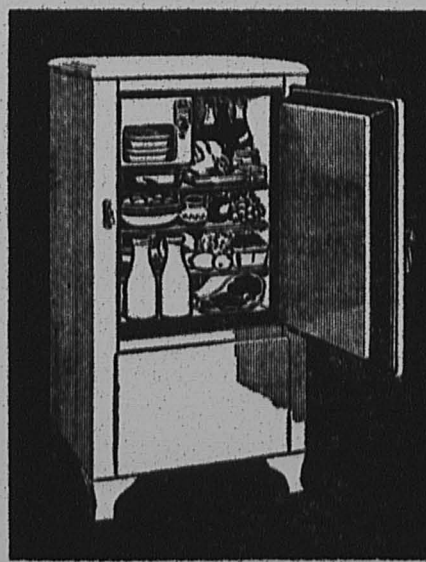

The drivers are proud of their record, and so are we: it is a record of good citizenship as well as good service.

CATTLE PERISH

Livestock perished last Monday night when flames destroyed a barn on the farm of James Baas near Medford Lakes, causing a loss of $8000.

The place is tenanted by William Little, who had retired. Margaret Miller, 18, was walking along the road and noticed flames coming from the barn. She ran to a neighbor, Albert Wilkins, who awakened Little and summoned the Medford Fire Company. Firemen were handicapped in fighting the flames by scarcity of water. Two horses, a cow and goat were lost. Twenty tons of hay and fodder and valuable farm machinery were destroyed.

PAINTED BASKET

"I painted the sides of a half-bushel fruit basket with cream-colored paint (left over) and the hoops with rose color. Then I lined the basket with rose-colored oilcloth to make a hamper for baby's clothes," says an economical and ingenious young mother.

EDITORIAL

Blessed was the day in 1854 when Florence Nightingale established perhaps the greatest organization in the world, the Red Cross. It was during the Crimean War that she actually devoted her life to care for the sick and wounded of that war. After the war she was presented with a present of $25,000, but did she retire in luxury? No. She gave that money to build hospitals for better places to care for the helpless and schools to train more girls and women to be nurses. In 1863 the Red Cross was made a definite organization and the red cross was named as the emblem. Then in 1881 it was carried to America under the leadership of Clara Barton, one of the greatest women in American history. The Red Cross had added numberless causes when called upon.

Every year there is a drive for money to help the people in charge keep the Red Cross running. They need you. Are you willing to help? Why don't you JOIN the Red Cross so YOU can say, "I SERVE the Red Cross."

Children Write Play

"Grandmother's story of Greece" is the title of the play, written by the sixth grade. The boys are now engaged in making Grecian helmets, shields, and spears. They hope to give this original play in assembly on November, twenty-fourth. On this same date they are to receive their new contracts which they have been anxiously awaiting. They all are happy to know that they have successfully completed their jobs as assigned in their contracts. They report, too, that their book reports are being heard each day.

Children Make Sand-Table

The children have made a sand table in the fourth B grade. They have made wigwags, clay animals, and clay Indians for it. Now what do you think it represented? Why, of course, it is an Indian sand table. They, also, have used pieces of pine trees to represent trees in their forest. Besides all this, they have imitation rivers and clay boats within which they have placed clay Indians.

Stevenson's Birthday Celebrated

The fifth and sixth grade group gave a play in assembly, based on the life of Robert Louis Stevenson. His birthday was November thirteenth, but the nearest assembly to this was Monday; so it was given then. Some of the children in the play recited poems, written by Stevenson. A few songs were sung by the fifth grade, which were taken from the "Child's Garden of Verses." Howard Banto and Robert Teele received penmanship awards.

Puppet Show Planned

A puppet show is coming to school? The seven B boys and girls are busily engaged in organizing it right now. They decided to give the "Pied Piper of Hamelin." A committee, composed of Herbert Williams, Delores Biddle, Alice Williams, and Weldon Barker, was selected by the class to rewrite the poem in play form. They have almost completed the play. The committee will then choose members of the class to move the puppets and take the speaking parts. The boys have renovated and wired the stage. The girls are busy making puppets and costuming them. It will probably be given either in assembly or for the smaller children.

VISIT MUSEUM

Pupils of Cinnaminson School See Egyptian Relics in Philadelphia. On a bright sunny Tuesday we went to the Commercial Museum, Philadelphia. We left about 12 o'clock, so we didn't have time to eat our lunch at school, but we had fun eating it on the bus, while some of the girls sang. At the Museum we saw mummies and vases and tools that the Egyptians had used. (The class had been studying Egypt.)

Our guide told us that there was a better Egyptian exhibit in the University Museum, so we visited it.

We found it better than the other as it had more things in it. Here we saw the "Book of the Dead," columns from a king's palace, also a model of a king's palace, which was made to look like a garden, beads and some tools which were very curious.

The Egyptians painted their faces like the girls of today, using rouge, eyebrow pencils and mirrors.

We felt we had learned a lot, and reached home very tired.

A WELCOME VISITOR

Traveler in Egypt Shows Series at Cinnaminson School

A few days ago the sixth grade class of the Cinnaminson school, which was studying about life in Egypt, had a very pleasant surprise. Miss Helen Lippincott, of Riverton, who had visited Egypt last winter, came to visit them.

She brought with her many interesting souvenirs, among them were a blanket made of camel and goat hair, a miniature plow, pictures of Egyptian scenery, and some pictures of cloth by the Egyptian weavers.

She gave a very interesting description of her voyage on the house boat, and her visit in the old country.

The class enjoyed her visit, and asked her to come again.

VOTERS' LEAGUE TO SPONSOR LECTURE

Former Ambassador to Japan to Speak On "American Interests in Far East"

The Hon. Roland G. Morris, a former ambassador to Japan and a distinguished lawyer and professor of International Law at the University of Pennsylvania, will speak in the Moorestown Community House on December 3, at 8 o'clock. The general public is invited to attend the lecture which is to be held under the auspices of the League of Women Voters and the Woman's Club.

Mr. Morris' subject will be "American Interests in the Far East." His knowledge of the problems of the far east is deep and accurate and he is in a position to give a very clear picture of what is facing England in India and all nations in China.

This is an unusual opportunity to keep posted on a subject so important to American citizens.

Jersey Hunters Clamor To Pay Higher License

Here is an instance of hundreds of men clamoring for a higher tax upon their own pleasure.

Organized hunters and fishermen of New Jersey will go in force before the State Legislature to obtain an increase of 50 cents in hunting and fishing license fees, according to a report to officials of the American Game Protective Association.

Enthusiasm for a higher cost of license has become practically unanimous in New Jersey, the game officials said, due to the highly favorable results obtained through a similar move of sportsmen a few years ago, when they added 50 cents to the license fees.

Increased game distribution made possible by the new funds has given New Jersey sportsmen the best hunting in many years, the officials declared. The state fish and game commission achieved a new record for game propagation in releasing 25,000 quack pheasants and 15,000 western rabbits this season and in other restoration projects, reports show.

The new license returns to the commission will not only provide for more game and fish, they said, but for the purchase of long term leases by the state of cheap lands for public hunting grounds.

C. R. SWEENEY OPENS ELECTRIC SHOWROOM

GAS TAX JUMPS ON DECEMBER 1

Hoffman Says State is Ready to Collect Additional Impact

Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Harold G. Hoffman, has announced that the machinery has been set up for the collection of the additional 1 cent in gasoline tax which becomes effective December first. In a statement issued recently he said:

"In accordance with the adoption of the three bond issues totaling $100,000,000.00 at the recent election, Chapter 239, Laws of 1930 becomes operative. This law provides for the increase of the gasoline tax to three cents per gallon, effective December 1, 1930. This increase brings New Jersey closer to the rate of tax prevalent throughout the country, as statistics of the American Motorists Association show that the average national gasoline tax rate is 3.22 cents per gallon.

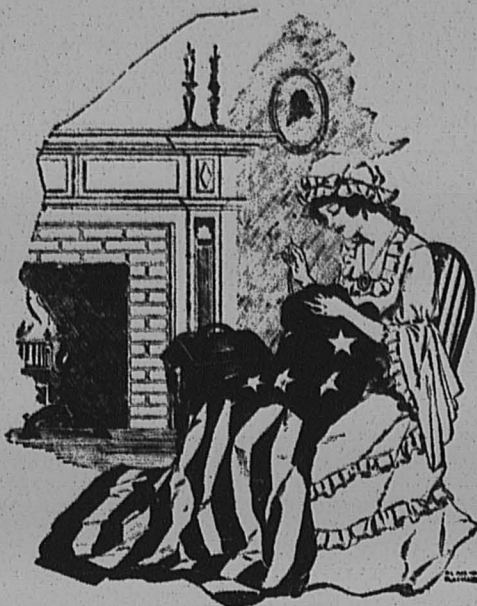

"The total gasoline tax received for 1930 calendar year to date is $8,228,727.68. Accordingly, it is estimated that not less than $10,000,000.00 would be received at the two cent rate, so Section Two of this Act provides that from the increased receipts $5,000,000.00 shall be turned over in quarterly payments to the Counties of this State for "control of traffic and the repair and improvements of streets". The appropriation of this fund by the State Treasurer is to be in proportion as the rates in each county bears to the totals rates of the State.

"This act makes no increase in the amount of money to be turned over to the Department of Commerce and Navigation for the construction, reconstruction and maintenance and improvements of the inland waterways which the former law placed at $80,000.00 per year and, therefore, the new act provides for a refund of one cent on every gallon of gasoline upon which the three cent tax has been paid, and which gasoline has been used by the purchaser thereof for the purpose of propelling motor boats or motor vessels. Only the user of motor fuels for this purpose is entitled to the refund, and not the seller of fuels.

"Forms on which these claims are to be made, are being prepared. They will be supplied by this office upon request. Those claims are to be filed for a single calendar month to cover all purchases made during that period, and must be submitted to this office within 30 days after that month for which claim is being made has expired; that is, the claim for refund of one cent per gallon tax on all gasoline purchased during December 1930 for use in motor boats, must be filed with this office not later than January 30, 1931.

"Every claim for refund must be supported by receipts which show the number of gallons purchased and the amount of tax paid. These receipts must be on regular forms used by the selling company, must give the Gasoline Dealers License number under which the fuels were sold, and must be signed by the seller of the fuels."

"Woman's first duty is to be charming."—Mme. Madeline Clemenceau, daughter of the late George Clemenceau.

STREWED HIS FARM WITH POISONED MEAT

Mount Holly Dog Club Takes Action Against Farmer Near County Seat

Arrested for stewing his farm and lands adjoining with poisoned meat, Andrew Smith, who resides on a small place in the rear of Polly Cox's swamp, on the road connecting the Oxmead road with the Mount Holly-Jacksonville road, was released in his own recognizance under a suspended sentence, after a hearing before Justice Frank Lockman, at Columbus.

The action against Smith was taken on a complaint made by Harry Evans, who makes a specialty of training hunting dogs on his farm, which is located in the rear of Wood lane, near Smith's place.

It is said that Smith informed Evans he would allow no hunting on his farm and that if dogs trespassed they would meet death through poison, stating that he had covered meat with arsenate of lead and strichnine and deposited it around his property.

Evans called members of the Mount Holly Field Trial Club into counsel and they made a search of the neighborhood. Smith warned them off his place, but before leaving they found enough meat thrown about promiscuously to prove to them that he had made no idle threat.

Trooper Speed, of Columbus Barracks, was called into the case and questioned the man, who by this time denied a part of his previous threat and said the meat had been saturated with only a tree spray which would not kill, but simply make dogs ill.

A further search of the vicinity of Smith's farm was made and more meat was found, so a warrant was sworn out and Trooper Speed arrested the man in a suspending sentence Justice Lockman ordered Smith to collect all of the poisoned meat or face the penalty of going to jail for thirty days.

GUNNER SHOT IN EYE

Henry Yoon, 25, Marne Highway near Mount Holly, may lose the sight of his left eye from a gunning accident Wednesday of last week.

Yoon and his father, Frederick Yoon were hunting for rabbits on their farm when a "cottontail" ran beneath a large woodpile. The elder man stood guard with his shotgun while the younger man tried to rout the rabbit. The bunny ran out and the father fired at it.

One of the shot from the gun struck Henry in the left eye. He was brought to the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, where physicians said he would probably lose the sight of the eye. The wounded man is a cousin of Mrs. Anna Yoon-Bading, secretary to Ellis Parker, of the county detective force.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY BY ERNEST CAMP JR

Faint fragrance of per- dying strains of the overture. The mighty curtain parts, and a vast, excited murmuring melts into a roar of hushed expectancy. New York society, attired in a billion dollars worth of fine feathers and magnificent jewels, sits around the glittering horseshoe for the opening of Metropolitan opera.

Meanwhile, a dozen blocks away, nine hundred men—many of them well dressed—wait in line through a drizzling rain to be handed tickets. Not tickets to the opera, no. Tickets that entitle each of them to one free meal. The Salvation Army opens soup kitchens to relieve the unemployed. And 18,000 heads of families in Greater New York walk the streets, wondering how the little brood will eat tomorrow.

Heart-rending scenes occur every day in business offices as large blocks of workers are discharged. The streets are full of tramping jobless. But they are not jobless tramps. Many are well dressed, highly educated, experts in their particular lines.

Never a day passes that the working man is not implored to help someone find a job. Any kind of job. One business man states that he has so many calls from friends seeking employment that he has done practically nothing for a week but answer the telephone.

And yet—with the situation thus—New York continues to be the Mecca for unemployed from all parts of the country. The moment a dry-goods clerk or plumber's assistant loses his job in Cedar Rapids or Tuscaloosa, he makes a bee line for Broadway. The last place on earth to go!

The big city seems to hold out to such people the same sort of illusory promise that America holds for many immigrants: a land of limitless opportunity, of glittering hope.

If there were fewer Americans suffering from such delusions, there would be fewer despondent derelicts jumping daily from New York's high buildings, spluttering themselves inelegantly on the hard, unfeeling pavements.

In view of these facts, I was vastly amused and surprised at an incident that occurred the other day.

A fine-looking youngster he was, from a city in the Middle West. Yes, he had had training in advertising and in selling. He was a college graduate. And looked the part—neat, suave, and graced with impeccable manners. He had been "laid off" by a firm in the West, and was very anxious to get back to work.

Impressed by his appeal, I looked around a bit and—very much to my surprise—did find a job vacant, one that he could very well have filled. I telephoned the New York friend with whom the young man was staying and joyfully asked that he be summoned to the telephone.

"Sorry," came the reply, "he's gone back to—"

"What?" I exclaimed, "surely he hasn't given up hope already—he's only been here three days, and besides I told him there was something that looked promising."

"I know," said the voice at the end of the wire, "but the kid got homesick. And, besides, I think there's a 'at West'—"

Red and White Warriors Defeat Bordenstown by 20 to 0

TERRELL CROSSES GOAL TWICE, REYNOLDS ONCE

Palmyra Now in Fourth Place in League Race, One Point Behind Moorestown

The Palmyra High School eleven came back strong after an Armistice Day defeat to submerge the Bordenstown High football team under a 20-0 score last Friday at the Bordenstown field.

Coach Kenneth Dimond's charges scored a touchdown in each of the last three periods. Captain Ots Terrell going over the line for two touchdowns while Gar Reynolds tallied the others.

The win gave the Pals a bulging lead over other teams for fourth place and brings them to within one point of the Moorestown eleven. The record for the season now stands at five victories, one tie and three defeats. Of these games two have been won, one tied and one lost in league competition. On the other hand, it marked the fourth loss in five games for the Bordenstown crew, the fifth game ending in a tie.

The first touchdown was registered in the second quarter by Terrell. A march of more than sixty yards had placed the ball on the four yard line from which point the Palmyra captain skirted the end for a score.

A clever run-back of a punt set the Palmyra scoring machine in motion in the third period. Terrell made a nice catch of Ernie Lynch's punt in midfield, and by clever dodging and side stepping brought the ball back to Bordenstown's 32-yard line. Successive plunges by Harry Furman and Terrell fell one yard short of first down. On the next play Walt Price made a nice gain of 15 yards around right end, placing the ball on the eight yard mark. Terrell registered his second six-pointer on another dash around the right wing.

The last tally was made in the final quarter. Bordenstown lost the ball by a fumble on its forty-yard line. A forward pass, Terrell to Bill Zaun, netted a first down deep in Bordenstown's territory, and a series of line plunges brought the ball to the three-yard line, where Reynolds went off tackle for a touchdown.

Score by Periods: 0 0 0 0-0 Bordenstown 0 7 7 0-20 Touchdowns—Terrell, 2; Reynolds. Points after touchdowns—Bordenstown (offside); H. Furman (lineback). Substitutions—Reynolds for Price. Referee—Millman. Umpire—Irvine. Head linesman—Lard. Time of periods—12 minutes.

Palmyra Will Clash With Burlington Saturday in Annual Football Classic

Bitter School Rivals, Both With Good Records, Hold Yearly Contest on Palmyra Field; Comparative Scores Slightly Favor Blue and White

The Palmyra High School football team will meet one of the strongest teams in South Jersey when it tackles Burlington High at the Palmyra field Saturday afternoon.

The Pals have had a good season thus far, their outstanding victories coming over two class A schools, Trenton and Haddon Heights. On the other hand Palmyra has received setbacks from Vineland, who has been conceded the South Jersey class A championship, and Millville, another Class A institution. The most disastrous defeat however, came last week at the hands of Moorestown High.

The Burlington team has had a still more successful season. After an opening clash with Collingswood which ended in a 0-0 score, the Burs won six straight games, losing their first battle of the season last Saturday to Vineland. The Blue and White aggregation have continued the high scoring streak which it started last season and thus far in the eight games played has rolled up 184 points to the opponents 13. Vineland was the only team which has scored on them this season.

It will be of interest to grid fans to watch the doings of the rival backfields. The Palmyra backs, led by the stellar captain, "Ots" Terrell, will have a hard job getting around the strong Blue and White wingmen, who have shown considerable power this year, both on offense and defense. Norman Moffitt, steady Palmyra half back, will be back in action after being injured in the Moorestown fracas, and he will continue his all round flashy ball-toting which he has been showing all season. Earl Lenker and Harry Furman will probably fill out the backfield with Walt Price and Gar Reynolds held in reserve.

Fete Heiser, all-state quarterback last year is expected to bear the brunt of the Burlington attack. He will probably be the center of attention to both players and spectators, due to the publicity he received when coaches of rival schools claimed that he was ineligible to play scholastic sports because he had already played four years. He was given a clean slate by the State Athletic Board and has again sparkled for the Burs this season. His brother, Lenny Heiser, "Duke" Lippincott and Captain Ed Wojcik will probably round out the ball totting staff.

Although the odds are in favor of a Burlington victory, the Pals are considered to be able to give them a stiff battle from start to finish. The Pals are under-dogs merely because of the ineffective method of comparing teams by comparative scores. The two eleven have played four high schools in common, Riverside, Vineland, Mount Holly and Moorestown. The Palmyra-Riverside clash was a scoreless deadlock, while the Burs won their tussle with the Riversiders by a 7-0 score, after a blocked kick resulted in a Burlington touchdown. Vineland was able to defeat both teams, trimming Palmyra, 13-0, and Burlington, 13-7. Thus by comparative scores, the Burs seem to have a one-touchdown edge on the Red and White. Palmyra's 18-7 defeat by Moorestown, a team which took a 37-0 lacing from Burlington has gone a long way toward making the Burs favorites, despite the fact that both teams whitewashed Mount

MOORESTOWN HIGH TIED BY AUDUBON

School Grid Machines Make Touchdown Apiece, Final Score, 6 to 6

Moorestown High School grid machine and Audubon High School finished their game on Saturday, on the local athletic field, with a tie score of 6-6.

The visitors scored their touchdown in the first quarter when a punt was blocked on Moorestown's 20-yard line. Dempsey recovered the ball and ran for the touchdown.

An attempted pass for the extra point failed when Walker, Audubon halfback, slipped and dropped the ball.

Soon after the second quarter opened Moorestown punted to Audubon's 2-yard line, where Ott, left tackle, touched the ball down. The visitors punted from behind their own goal line, the ball traveling to the 30-yard line. On the first play, Chiloso got loose for a 25-yard run. With the ball on Audubon's 5-yard line, Renwick bucked the line and Charles Wilson carried the ball over. A line buck for the extra point failed.

The scoring ended for the game at a 6-6 tie.

"The test of love is the willingness to fight for a thing. Men are willing to die for what we call the milk of human kindness but who in this world is willing to lay down his life for the Milky Way? The kind of religion that Einstein recently put forth seems fairly summed up and dismissed by the above comment. A personal Lord is the only kind of a Saviour that answers the longing of the spirit of man.

To thee, O Christ belongs
All praise of holy songs,
O Son of God, I live for thee,
Thou, therefore, O Most High,
The world doth glorify,
And shall exalt forever.

The Women's Auxiliary will meet November 24 at 2:30 p. m. in the parish house. The Diocesan president, Mrs. Franklin Chambers, will be the guest of the day. A very cordial invitation is given you to be present. The annual donation to Pantry Shelf of the diocese will be made at the time. The collection will be sent to the Welfare Association of Palmyra.

The Parish Party under the auspices of the Guild of St. Agnes will take place on Saturday, November 22 at 8:00 p. m. A good program is arranged and a large attendance is hoped for.

The annual Fair and Bazaar of the St. Agnes Guild takes place on December 6, afternoon and evening. Tune in for the broadcast of Station WOR under guidance of the Diocese of Long Island Wednesday evening, November 20 at 7:30 to 7:45 by the Hon. Charles H. Tuttle on "What Does Youth Want?" This is the last of a series of talks.

The Rev. E. C. Kah-O-Sed will preach to the congregation this Sunday evening, the 22nd at 8:00 p. m. This gentleman is a descendant of the Red Men of this country, and is a very gifted man and will be very interesting.

Thursday of next week, Thanksgiving Day, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion in Christ Church at 8:00 a. m.

The rector will be glad to give to any inquirers a copy of the Church Calendar as long as the supply lasts.

A Layman's Conference will be held at Trinity Church, 1000 Princeton, N. J., on Saturday, November 22. There will be a service of Induction of Diocesan Lay Readers by Bishop Matthews. The subject of the lectures morning and afternoon, 10:00 a. m. and 2:00 p. m. will be "Constructive Churchmanship." There will be an address by Rear Admiral Reginald R. Belknap, U. S. N., on "What the Navy Teaches a Man."

EPWORTH METHODIST

Rev. J. William Lee, Minister

Sunday:
Morning worship in the Sabbath School, 10:00 a. m.
Church Service, 11:00 a. m. with preaching by Reading 2. Poinsett, teacher of the Wesleyan Men's Class. The class will attend in a body and all members are urged to be present. Special musical numbers in keeping with the spirit of Thanksgiving.

Epworth League at 6:45 with Gladys Booth in charge.

Evening Service, 7:45 will be devoted to the rendition of Maude's "Song of Thanksgiving" by the choir. Much work has been done on this marvelous musical selection and an inspiring evening is promised.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society will be held in the church Monday evening, November 24. Mrs. Bauerwein will present a sketch, "The Missionary Teacher" as a part of the evening's entertainment.

Wednesday, Regular Midweek Prayer Service in charge of George Rober. The Wesleyan Men's Bible Class will attend the Sunday morning church service in a body.

The teacher of the class, Reading 2. Poinsett will fill the pulpit in the absence of the Rev. J. William Lee. Mr. Poinsett has proven himself to be a very capable teacher, and the popularity of the class has grown with his own favor.

As a result the class has grown in attendance to such an extent that the members are now seeking larger quarters in which to hold their meetings. The orchestra which was recently formed has likewise made a hit with the class. The music is alone worth the trip to the class every Sunday morning.

A goal of 100 men has been set for Sunday's attendance. It is the desire of the officers that the class back Mr. Poinsett wholeheartedly when he fills the pulpit.

A cordial invitation is extended to every man of Palmyra and Riverton, and their guests and friends to come to these meetings, held every Sunday morning at 10 o'clock.

BAPTIST

Rev. Geo. Lockett, B.D., Pastor

The meeting of the Grenfell B. Y. P. U. to be held Friday evening at 7:30 will be of special interest, and will be in charge of the Missionary Committee. A special speaker from the Italian Mission in Camden will be present. Donation of dry groceries are solicited, to be sent to the mission. All children of the intermediate age are invited to attend.

The Sabbath School will pay its annual visit to the Men's Bible Class of the Holy Presbyterian Church at Rockland and Mervine streets, Philadelphia, Sunday next, meeting at the church at 1:45 p. m. This is a special day for the class at Hope Church and 500 or more men will be present. The Samaritan Class is desirous of all its members coming out and also invites the men of our church to attend too, to enjoy the meeting of the largest organized Men's Bible Class in this section of the country.

The Philathea Class is soliciting orders for mince meat for Thanksgiving to be delivered November 25. Orders phoned to Mrs. Clarence Yerkes, Riverton 1049-W or Mrs. A. C. Rixch, Riverton 552-W will receive prompt attention.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul and Body" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 23, 1930.

The Golden Text is: "The light of the body is the eye; if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light" (Matthew 6:22).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service" (Romans 12:1).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Paul had a clear sense of the demands of Truth upon mortals physically and spiritually, when he said: 'Present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service' " (p. 325).

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. Harold L. Creager

The Women's Missionary Society will hold its monthly meeting this afternoon at 2:30 at the church. The program will center around the reports of the inspiring convention of the Society held last month in Racine, Wisconsin. Final plans will also be completed for the Thank Offering Service.

The Light Brigade will meet Friday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock. All boys and girls of the primary and junior ages are urged to come to this missionary organization.

Saturday evening at 8 o'clock a benefit will be held in the basement of the church for the choir. A movie will be shown. A silver offering will be asked. Everyone welcome.

Sunday afternoon the members of the church council and other church workers will conduct the annual Every Member Canvass.

At the Sunday evening services the Light Brigade and Missionary Society will present a Thank Offering Pageant, and the Thank Offering will be received.

Completion of the canal from Trenton to New York Bay, would allow ocean vessels, carrying a tonnage greater than that which is carried through either the Suez or Panama canal, to pass through the upper central section of the State of New Jersey and up and down the Delaware River. The result would be that huge manufacturing establishments would spring up along the canal and river, adding untold industry and wealth to New Jersey which is already second in the density of population among all the states of the Union, Rhode Island is first.

Unexplained lack of interest and co-operation on the part of the people and political leaders of the state was blamed by the speaker for failure to build the canal which would mean so much to the state and nation.

State Senator Emerson L. Richards, of Atlantic county, was another speaker at today's meeting. He cited some of the reforms advocated by the Abell Commission. The Senator also called attention to a public hearing on the traffic code as proposed by the New Jersey Traffic Commission, to be held at 10:30 a. m., November 25, at the State House, and unless changes are made at that hearing the code will go into effect.

Burlington County was host to the state association at the affair. Representatives from 19 counties in the state were present.

Charles R. Stout, chairman of the Burlington County Board of Freeholders, introduced Mayor Moore. Stout is a former president of the association. During the session, the chair was occupied by Fletcher C. Fritz, state president.

TO APPEAL FINE

Mount Laurel Farmer Denies Game Warden's Trapping Charge

Walter Shedaker, a Mount Laurel farmer, was arrested by Game Warden Roy Carson Sunday, when the warden found a box trap set for rabbits on his property without a permit.

Shedaker was given a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston, at Moorestown, who imposed a fine of $20 and $7.50 costs. Shedaker was committed to jail and later paid the fine, stating that he would appeal the decision.

Shedaker claims that he did not know of such a trap on his property and believes that it was placed there by someone who has a grievance against him.

URGES SHIP CANAL FOR NEW JERSEY

J. Hampton Moore Emphasizes Immense Benefits Which Would Accrue

Benefits that would accrue to Burlington county if the 30-mile "missing link" needed to complete the inland waterway from Florida to Boston were built in New Jersey, were emphasized by J. Hampton Moore, former mayor of Philadelphia, in his address before the meeting of the State Association of Boards of Freeholders, at Log Cabin Inn, Medford Lakes, Monday.

Completion of the canal from Trenton to New York Bay, would allow ocean vessels, carrying a tonnage greater than that which is carried through either the Suez or Panama canal, to pass through the upper central section of the State of New Jersey and up and down the Delaware River. The result would be that huge manufacturing establishments would spring up along the canal and river, adding untold industry and wealth to New Jersey which is already second in the density of population among all the states of the Union, Rhode Island is first.

Unexplained lack of interest and co-operation on the part of the people and political leaders of the state was blamed by the speaker for failure to build the canal which would mean so much to the state and nation.

State Senator Emerson L. Richards, of Atlantic county, was another speaker at today's meeting. He cited some of the reforms advocated by the Abell Commission. The Senator also called attention to a public hearing on the traffic code as proposed by the New Jersey Traffic Commission, to be held at 10:30 a. m., November 25, at the State House, and unless changes are made at that hearing the code will go into effect.

Farmhand Had Been on Roberts Farm for 30 Years

Henry Staples, 70, for more than 30 years a farmhand on the farm owned by former State Senator Emmor Roberts, of Moorestown, between Mount Holly and Lumberton, was found dead from apoplexy Monday.

Staples had been ill. He was found by Albert Moore, another farmhand who went to the tenant house in which he lived, taking with him some food. Coroner George B. Biting and Detective Arthur Carabine, of Mount Holly, were called. The coroner gave a certificate of death from natural causes.

RUSHING WORK ON MEETING ROOM

Riverton Scout Troop Installing Electric Lights and Other Features

Rapid progress has been made by the Riverton Scouts in building a new meeting room in the basement of the parish house of Christ Church.

Before any cleaning or painting of the walls could be done, or a new floor laid, it was necessary to provide electric lights. This was accomplished last week. Up to date and efficient wiring was installed by a local electrician. Temporary light fixtures were attached which will later be replaced by permanent ones.

The next step in the proposed plans is the laying of a new concrete floor to replace the old wooden one ripped up by the members of the troop during the summer and early fall. Bids will probably be asked from local contractors within the next few days.

Meanwhile the scouts themselves are continuing their work of cleaning out the room in preparation for the laying of the floor. Two billiard tables, one pool table, and two shuffle board tables have still to be removed before the concrete can be poured. Incidentally these tables can be purchased at very reasonable prices by anyone interested in obtaining such equipment.

The troop is already looking ahead to the time when the new room will be ready for occupancy. The scouts are therefore asking their friends to render such assistance as possible in supplying furniture and decorations for the room, in order that there may be no delay after the room itself is ready. The furniture necessary comprises chairs, tables, desks, and bookcases; in fact almost any article of furniture except a bed or a kitchen stove might be converted into a useful piece of equipment for a scout meeting room by the ingenuity of scouts who held merit badges for Woodworking, Craftsmanship, and Carpentry. The friends of the troop are therefore requested to look in the attic and give the Riverton Troop the opportunity of adapting to its use any piece of furniture, from a picture frame to a dining room table, no matter how old and decrepit it may be.

CHRISTMAS BOOKS FOR CHILDREN

County Librarian Advises Riverton Mothers About Gift Books

Last Thursday at the November meeting of the Riverton Parent-Teacher Association, Miss Clark, County Librarian, gave a helpful list of books for children. These books, she said, are the new ones of the year that she could recommend, although she cautioned against supplying children with new books, no matter how worthwhile, unless they have some of the old standbys on their shelves.

The meeting was presided by a group discussion led by Mrs. Mayfield on Home Education; the report of the thirtieth State Convention was presented by Mrs. Baker president of the Riverton Association. Mrs. Gilpin sang some of A. A. Milne's Christmas songs and Mrs. C. C. Miller, long a member of the Riverton School Board, made a plea for the school to take over the making and filling of tariton stockings for the 500 "boys" of the Four Mile Colony. Mrs. Miller said that until now she has carried out this task at great labor as the number of inmates at the institution increased, and she felt now it was an opportunity for the children to carry on, if the P. T. A. would take the responsibility of the planning and carrying out.

E. N. Cooper, supervising principal of the Riverton Public School, then spoke about the new method of education, how impossible it is for children to acquire knowledge without their own effort, and how different the present system is with its activity and initiative among the children themselves, from the old idea of teachers' activity, pouring facts into the children's minds as if they were empty cups which must be filled by an outside agency.

During tea at the close of the meeting, the new books Miss Clark had brought were examined. A list of these books may be seen at the Riverton Free Library.

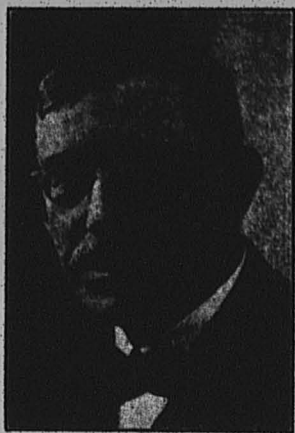

The third lecture in the series presented by the County Council of the Parent-Teacher Association for the Burlington County Student Loan Fund will be held in the Riverside High School on December 4. The speaker is the Greek, Michael Dorizas, the "strong man" of the University of Pennsylvania. The fourth lecture will be held January 20 and Congresswoman Ruth Bryan Owen will be the speaker.

Very fortunately Tom Skehill, who has been so popular in the County, has been obtained for a fifth lecture and will speak on Russia. This lecture will also be held in Riverside High School January 2, and will be 50 cents to those without course tickets; to those who present the stub at the end of a "strip" ticket the charge will be 30 cents.

Speaker

REV. FORREST E. DAGGER Who addressed the YMCA Father and Son Banquet held last week in the Epworth Temple, Palmyra.

YMCA BANQUET MUCH ENJOYED

More Than 150 Attend Yearly Father and Sons' Dinner in Palmyra

The annual YMCA Father and Sons' banquet was held last Thursday evening in the Methodist Church, Palmyra, with more than 150 boys and their dads attending.

Dr. Forest Dager, the noted clergyman, popular Temple University professor and distinguished lecturer, made the address of the evening, choosing as his topic, "Boys, the Best Things on Earth."

In his speech, Dr. Dager compared the corn or cotton crops of the United States to the huge "crop" of boys. He asked any man present who would take $5000 for his son to raise his hand. When he received no response he raised the amount to $10,000 and even then no hands were lifted. At this rate he said one could imagine the value of young American manhood when there were more than twenty million boys in the country. Were such figures to be computed, the figures would run into billions of dollars. With such a valuable "crop," certainly the best of care and protection would not be wasted.

E. N. Cooper, supervising principal of the Riverton schools, discussed the "body" side of the YMCA triangle, with C. F. Denger, supervisor of the Palmyra school system, pointing out a second side, "Mind." The Rev. Harold J. Creager, pastor of the Lutheran Church, gave his version of the third side of the emblem, speaking on "The Spiritual Side of Life."

J. Elmer Hahn, member of the Board of Directors of the Palmyra Riverton YMCA, acted as toastmaster. It was his pleasure to introduce Nathan Lane, recently elected president of the Board of Directors. Mr. Lane made a short speech of welcome to the boys and dads, who were attending the eighth annual Father and Sons' banquet.

Those who were fortunate enough to attend the dinner were loud in their praise of the ladies of the Methodist Church, who had prepared the delicious repast.

MEN'S CLUB ENJOYS SPLENDID PROGRAM

R. A. Marshall of Riverton, Delivers Address on Visit to Argentina

The Men's Club of Christ Church, Palmyra, held one of its usual interesting and delightful monthly meetings Monday evening.

As is always to be expected, an interesting and instructive talk was given and excellent music furnished. The speaker of the evening, Robert A. Marshall, of Riverton, a prominent engineer connected with the United Engineers and Constructors, Inc., of Philadelphia, gave a very comprehensive and illustrative description of his visit to the Argentine Republic and especially to Buenos Aires, its capital.

His intimate insight of the life, customs, habits and mode of living of the inhabitants was especially enlightening, and numerous questions were asked by the members, which Mr. Marshall took great pains to fully answer, that further showed the interest aroused among the members.

Miss Winifred Griswold and D. Gray Schwarz were the soloists and were accompanied by Mrs. Rachel Lord.

Miss Griswold sang a selection entitled "The Banjo Song," by Homer, and Mr. Schwarz sang a selection entitled "Diana," by McGill. They also sang a duet entitled "Lassie O Mine," all of which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Arrangements were completed for a "forum" to be held at the December meeting, which will be Monday, the 14th, instead of Monday, the 22nd. Members are requested to remember this change of date, and to be present that evening to enjoy a particularly promising event.

RIVERTON POLICE HAVE BUSY WEEK

Auto Accident, Robbery, Hold-up, and Wedding Recorded on Docket

The Riverton police records are filled with a variety of things this week.

To start with, George Rittner, of 831 Beach street, Camden, ran his Chevrolet coach into a tree on the Moorestown-Riverton Road near the arm of Houlings Lippincott, about 11:40 Saturday night. Rittner and his three passengers were all hurt and taken to the Zurburg Hospital by passing motorists.

The Riverton police responded to the call but the hospital authorities had turned the case over to the State Police.

Saturday night John Freeman, of 108 Broad street, Riverton, was held up by two men at his home. He says he chased them away.

Sunday morning Chief Quigley arrested two men as suspicious characters and had Freeman identify them. He did this but was unable to prove charges.

The men were George Branch, of 32 S. Center street, Newark, and James Washington, 204 Railroad avenue of the same city.

Finger prints were taken by Officer Miller and sent to Washington for verification. The men were then released.

The home of Louis J. Meunier, of Park avenue, was entered Saturday night sometime between the hours of 8:30 p. m. and 3:00 Sunday morning. A small amount of jewelry was taken and the Riverton police were called to make a thorough search of the town but were unable to make a find.

And last but not least there was a wedding. Herbert Harry Olterson, of Cinnaminson, and Miss Edna Budd, of Mount Holly, were married last Tuesday by Recorder Cecil A. Bowers. This is the first marriage ceremony ever performed by the Riverton Police Department.

ROTARIANS HOLD LADIES' NIGHT

Palmyra-Riverton Club Hears Talk on World Peace by Mrs. Barnes

Last Thursday evening, the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club held its annual Ladies' Night. The meeting was well attended by both members and their guests.

The principal speaker of the evening was Mrs. George Emerson Barnes, who gave a most inspiring talk on how the ideals and principles of Rotary, especially its international aspect toward world-wide peace could be helped and fostered by the wives of Rotary members.

The occasion was very enjoyable. A very well planned dinner was served, and through the kindness of a Rotary member, J. D. Esche, the floral display was of exceptional note.

In addition to the principal speaker of the evening the Rotary Club was also privileged to welcome as its guests at this meeting the Rev. George Emerson Barnes, past president, Philadelphia Rotary Club; Mrs. Dunn, president of the Palmyra Women's Club and Mrs. Thomas, president of the Forch Club, of Riverton.

Possibly many people in smaller communities, and in fact even in the larger communities, view Rotary Club activities as purely local in their aspect. Mrs. Barnes' talk did a great deal to dispel this idea and brought out very forcibly the international opportunities of personal contact and association, which in itself brings about that feeling of friendliness, which is necessary for the ultimate idea of world peace.

All the members and their wives left the Forch Club after this meeting very much imbued with the Rotary spirit.

FORCH CLUB NEWS

The musical tea given by the Club at the home of the Misses Eldridge on November 18th was a delightful success. Miss Helen Jepson is a singer of power and great charm. Miss Florence Frantz showed herself a talented artist—both as an accompanist and soloist.

At the meeting on Tuesday, December 2, 1930, the business meeting will be followed by a talk by Mr. Benjamin P. Phyle. She is the State Federation Chairman of Literature and Drama and a very interesting and charming speaker.

On December 9, 1930 we hope to have Mrs. Clayton D. Lee to talk to the Current Events Class again. All club members are welcome.

NEW ERA AIDS UNEMPLOYMENT

The New Era, Riverton's newspaper, is inaugurating with this issue a free want ad service to the jobless in the classified columns of its paper.

Deserving people without work are invited to avail themselves of this free service, which will continue until further notice.

It is the hope of the paper to find positions for those who want and deserve work.

BUILD WITH CONFIDENCE!

That our Country is suffering from an unusual business depression is a fact, which can not be honestly denied. "Optimism" has been suggested and tried as a cure. But this can only bring a temporary and false relief. We are confronted by a condition—not a theory.

We as individuals and collectively as a people have built a nation, rich in resources, liberty, opportunity and religious freedom. A nation the envy of nations.

How was it built? Not by the industry of a chosen few—but by the toil, sacrifice and courage of the masses. How can our present situation be relieved? Again, not by a few but by a concentrated, patriotic endeavor on the part of the masses to CONSTRUCT MORE and LAMENT LESS.

Hard work combined with confidence will restore and preserve a sane and sensible measure of prosperity and happiness for all.

WORK a little HARDER—EARN a little MORE—and SPEND a little MORE but do it with a SMILE. This is constructive effort and will reap its own reward. After all we are all Americans and CAN DO IT!

IMPROVEMENTS IN TEACHERS' ROOM

Cinnaminson School Eighth Grade Pupils and Mrs. Goldman Arrange Tasteful Decorations

Thanks to a taste for interior decoration possessed by Mrs. Goldman, chairman of the hospitality committee and mother of one of the eighth grade girls, and the investing of funds earned by the eighth grade, the teachers' rest room of the Cinnaminson School has blossomed forth in a cheery dress of gay cretonne.

With prettily draped curtains, couch and table covers, newly varnished floor and bright cushions for the chairs, the somewhat dull room is now a warm, inviting spot.

The office, too, is undergoing some needed touching up. The furniture is being renovated, new plants provided for the windows, floors are being repainted, and the curtains tinted.

The returns from the supper are not all in as yet, but the Association is assured of a larger balance than last year, which was considered satisfactory.

About 100 pupils are served in the lunch room everyday, the tiny ones getting theirs under the supervision of their teacher, who tries to select a lunch suited to their needs.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Curry, of Horace avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine Henrietta, to Joseph G. Quigg, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Quigg, of Bridgeboro, N. J.

In the last 20 years the average life of an automobile has been increased from 2,500 miles to from 15,000 to 20,000.

CAT 'O NINE TAILS BY PALMYRA CLASSES

Philathea and Samaritan Classes to Present Mystery Play on Dec. 6

The Junior Philathea and Samaritan Classes of the Central Baptist Church, will present "Cat O' Nine Tails," as their annual stage production in the Palmyra High School Auditorium Saturday evening, December 6.

This will be one of the first mystery plays ever presented in this vicinity. As the name implies, this play presents many thrilling, perplexing and hair-raising situations, all refreshingly interspersed with comedy that will relieve everyone of the thoughts of depression and hard times.

In the cast will be many who have already won favor with the public and still many more that will undoubtedly be added to this list after the presentation.

They are: James M. Weart, Evelyn H. Weart, Walter G. Hyzer, Lindsay Little, M. Violet Seither, Elsie A. Hughes, Joseph G. Seel, Kenneth C. Dimond, Martha D. Hirsch, Mabel W. Shuman and Helene T. Andrews.

Miss D. Helene Johnson, well-known Junius College artist, is coaching the play.

Tickets are now on sale, and a full evening's entertainment is assured all those attending, for the nominal sum of fifty cents. Tickets may be procured from any member of the class or they may be purchased at the high school on the evening of the presentation of the play.

HUGS STOP CAR ON PIKE, ATTACK THREE OCCUPANTS

Driver of Car Taken to Cooper Hospital With Concussion of Brain

ASSAILANTS CAUGHT IN PHILADELPHIA LATER

Merle S. Schaff, of Riverton, Frightens Attackers, Reports Affair to Police

Two men and a woman were beaten early Sunday morning at Burlington Pike and Haddonfield Road when the car in which they were riding was forced to the side of the road by four men in another auto, who then proceeded to attack the occupants of the first machine.

Three men, who admit they had a part in the affray, were arrested in Philadelphia three hours later. A short time after, they are released under bond when they claimed the woman had asked them to take her away from the men in the machine, one of whom was her husband.

All those implicated in the affair were Philadelphians. The husband, Wayne A. Hight, 31 years old, 4019 Irving street, Philadelphia, was taken to the Cooper Hospital, Camden, suffering from concussion of the brain and severe bruises. His wife, Jean, 29 years old, was cut on the lip and suffered two black eyes. The other occupants of the car, Edgar B. Duer, 4944 Chestnut street, received blows of the jaw and face.

A Riverton man, Merle S. Schaff, reached the scene just as the assailants were driving off and was able to obtain the number of the fleeing car. Stopping only to pick up Duer, Schaff rushed him to the Pensacola police station where Duer told of the affair. Police found Hight unconscious and his wife hysterical at the side of the road.

Schaff said he and Duer had been unable to aid Hight because Mrs. Hight became hysterical and would not let them touch him, so they drove to the Pensacola police for help.

The Hights and Duer said they were returning home from a party and had just reached the intersection which is at the top of Sorrel Horse Hill, when a battered touring car crowded them to the side of the road and forced them to stop. Four men leaped from the car and, pulling Hight's coat over his head, they beat him into unconsciousness. When his wife and Duer attempted to prevent the attack, they in turn were attacked. Hight was said to have had $50 in his pocket but only $2 was found in his pocket at the hospital.

The three men, arrested at Fifteenth and Snyder avenue, Philadelphia, gave their names as Daniel Burnette, 25 years old, 1824 Point Breeze avenue; James Hayes, 21 years old, 221 Fernon street, and Arthur McLaughlin, 20 years old, of 2432 South 19th street, owner of the car.

PHI NU CLASS

Continuing the examples of what we can do with material things are really worth we will discuss next Sunday, Zaccarius the Publican. Zaccarius was a business man. In giving away that which he had, he gained untold wealth of another sort for himself.

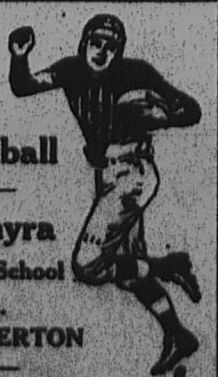

How does Zaccarius compare with the business men of today who are giving time and money for the poor and needy? How often in these times is the commandment "Thou shalt not covet" broken? Come out and let us hear your opinions and discuss with us these very interesting lessons. The regular monthly business meeting and social will be postponed until December 8th, at which time the annual Christmas party will be held.

WORLD'S LONGEST MOVABLE SPAN TO BE FINISHED SOON

Will Complete 540-foot Link in Burlington - Bristol Bridge
Next Month

STRUCTURE MAY OPEN LATE IN JANUARY

New Jersey Highway to be Ready for Traffic in Short Time

Barring unforeseen contingencies the Delaware river between Burlington and Bristol will be bridged, for the first time, before Christmas of this year, when the world's longest movable span will be completed.

The Pennsylvania side of the 540-foot movable center span of the new bridge is now well on the way to completion and work was started on the New Jersey side early this week. The engineers fully expect to have it joined in the center and ready to be raised for river traffic before December 20.

A unique method of constructing the center span is being used as it is being built out from neither side from a cable support. The cables run through sheaves in the top of the towers and are anchored on the land side and attached to the steel structure of the movable span. The bridge at present resembles a suspension type in this respect.

The cable support is being used only for the first section of the span, as falsework has been erected in the center for additional support. This arrangement is very clearly illustrated in a picture on this page.

135-Foot Vertical Clearance
As the clearance of the span, while in its regular position, will be 61 feet above the mean high tide the river will be closed to traffic for vessels with a draft higher than this for a period of ten days by permission of the War Department. Few boats using the upper Delaware will require the raising of the span, which, when at its highest point, will give a vertical clearance of 135 feet.

This is the height required by the department and is the same as the Camden-Philadelphia bridge. The department also requires a horizontal clearance of 500 feet, with 61-foot vertical clearance. Only the 250-foot horizontal clearance is required for the 135-foot vertical clearance but the channel at this point is too narrow to permit two spans, the 500-foot requirement is met with the span in its lowered position. When it is raised it allows a 500-foot wide horizontal clearance and 500 feet vertical clearance, thus in one span caring for both these requirements of the War Department.

This same condition is met in the Tacony-Palmyra bridge by two spans, one with a fixed clearance of 61 feet vertically and 500 feet horizontally, and a "jack-knife" draw of 250 feet in width, which, opened from either side, has an unlimited vertical clearance. The channel at this point is wide enough to permit the two spans.

Finished in January
The engineers in charge of the bridge construction are hopeful of finishing the structure before the end of January and fully expect to be favored with an open winter. Even with some delay, due to bad weather, they expect to have the bridge ready for traffic before the end of February. The contract called for the completion of the work before March 31, 1931.

One of the pleasing features of the project has been the cooperation of the New Jersey state highway department. The roadway on the Jersey side is virtually complete and will be ready for use long before needed. It follows an extended line of Reed street to the State Highway in West Burlington where it joins it with a "Y". In building the Jersey bridge approach the department has departed from one of its most rigid rules in crossing the tracks of the Pennsylvania at grade. Many view this as a danger point which should not have been permitted but assurance has been given that the crossing will be well protected.

Penna. Road Not Ready
The Pennsylvania highway department has not kept pace with its neighboring state on the building of the bridge approach. While it is to provide ample facilities for bridge traffic the work is not very far advanced. There is little likelihood of the highway from the bridge to the Bristol pike being ready in time. This is a stretch of about a mile of roadway, across the meadows to the main highway to Bristol.

The toll rate to be charged on the new bridge has not yet been decided but a charge of twenty-five cents for the passenger cars is thought likely. The structure is being built by the McClintic-Marshall Company, of Pittsburgh. This firm is one of the greatest bridge-building firms of the world and has built many mammoth structures in various parts of the country. The designer of the bridge is the firm of Ash, Howard, Needles and Tammen, of Kansas City.

Cheer up. If you were a candidate and lost out in the election, just think of how much criticism you will avoid.

COUNTY COUNCIL ELECTS OFFICERS

Mrs. Donelda Perkins, Willingboro, President of YWCA Senior Clubs

Mrs. Donelda Perkins, of Willingboro, was elected president of the County Council of Senior Clubs of the Y. M. C. A. at a meeting on Monday evening, November 24, at the Burlington Y. W. C. A. club house.

Mrs. Perkins succeeds Helen Jones, of Burlington, who has been the Council's president for three years.

Other officers are Dorothy French, of Moorestown, vice-president; Grace Atkinson, of Mount Holly, secretary; and Mrs. Bessie Shinn, of Rancocas, treasurer.

Mrs. Edward S. Harmer, of Moorestown, was the speaker at the meeting Monday evening.

The council meets at frequent intervals for the purposes of fellowship among girls of various communities of the county and to stimulate interest in the wide program of the association.

Young Mothers' Club
A number of young mothers in the Willingboro district are forming a mothers' club which met on Friday evening, November 21, at the home of Mrs. Edwin Johnson, near Burlington.

Mrs. Harold Horner, of Mount Holly, who has been active in the Mount Holly Mothers' Club since its formation, was present at the meeting and led an interesting discussion on the home as a factor in the life of the child.

Making Silhouette Pictures
The Lenora Y. W. C. A. girls spent a delightful evening on Thursday, November 20, at the home of their advisor, Mrs. George Elmendorf. The evening was spent in painting silhouette pictures. There will be finished at the meeting this week and on December 5 the girls will make colorful papers for wrapping Christmas gifts.

New Groups Meet
Two new groups of Girl Reserves held their first meetings last week. In Delanco, a new club of younger girls has formed under the leadership of Miss Laura Ella. It will meet Friday afternoons at her home on Union avenue.

The girls of the Samuel Miller School in Mount Holly met in the Y. W. C. A. club room Wednesday afternoon, November 18, with Miss Helen Folwell as adviser. This week they plan to make hand-drawn handkerchiefs.

County-Wide Meeting
A county-wide Girl Reserve meeting in the form of an Indian Festival will be held Sunday afternoon, November 20, at three o'clock in Riverton, at the Forth Club, Fourth and Howard streets.

Devotions will be led by Miss Margaret Thomas, of Moorestown, and Judge William A. Slaughter, of Mount Holly, will talk on local Indian history and customs. Christmas gifts which Girl Reserves have been preparing for Navajo Indian children will be presented at this time to the two girls presiding, Betty Sticker, of Delanco, and Vera Berger, of Maple Shade.

Joseph Patton, of Camden, was the weekend guest of his sister, Mrs. Edward Ryan, of Kenilworth Avenue.

Popular County Clergyman, the Rev. Gordon Pierce, Accepts Brooklyn Call

Rector of Beverly Episcopal Church to Assume Pastorate at St. John's After First of Year, According to Announcement Last Sunday

Announcement was made Sunday morning that one of Burlington county's most popular clergymen, the Rev. Gordon D. Pierce, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Beverly, has accepted a call to assume the pastorate at St. John's Church, Brooklyn. His term at St. John's will begin on January 7, 1931, and in the seven years he has been rector at St. Stephen's he has endeared himself to his congregation and has won his way into the hearts of multitudes of people in Beverly and surrounding towns, so that his leaving is widely regretted, although his many friends certainly wish him every success in his new charge.

Before coming to this county, Mr. Pierce served as curate at St. Michael's Church, New York City. He is a graduate of the New York University and studied theology at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tennessee. After serving for a short time at St. Michael's, he came to Beverly, at the age of 26, to become rector at St. Stephen's, his first charge.

Mr. Pierce is a native of Brooklyn—in fact, he was born within two blocks of St. John's Church in his new parish. This church is one of the principal Episcopal edifices in Brooklyn. It is 102 years old and has an interesting history. During the past forty years there have been but two rectors in this parish, both of them remaining until death. The latest pastor was the Rev. P. Bond Holland, who died last May.

The call to the New York parish came suddenly and quite unexpectedly, according to Mr. Pierce's announcement Sunday morning. It is said that a committee, comprising four members of the vestry of St. John's, came to Beverly three weeks ago to hear Rev. Pierce's sermon at the morning service.

They returned to New York Sunday evening, expressed their opinions to the remaining members of the vestry, had an audience with the bishop of the diocese, the Rt. Rev. Ernest M. Stires, D. D., on Monday, and Tuesday morning called Mr. Pierce on the long-distance telephone to extend a unanimous invitation for him to become rector of their church.

Only after giving the matter deliberate and careful consideration did he decide to make the change, said Mr. Pierce. He stated that he certainly has enjoyed his stay in Beverly and has made many friends whom it is difficult to leave. Every says, and it is only because he believes it his duty to accept the charge in this much broader field offered him, that he has consented to leave Burlington county.

The Ludington line between New York, Camden and Washington will include Trenton, New Jersey, and Baltimore, Maryland, as stop-over points. They have also made night reductions in fares. By next summer we look for this line to be flying most every hourly trip in two or more sections.

Have you secured your tickets for the South Jersey Aviation Ball sponsored by the Burlington County Aero Club at the Hotel Wall, Camden, on Friday evening, December 5? Music by "Doc" Dougherty and his radio broadcasting orchestra and an enjoyable evening for everybody is assured.

The first World Aerial Security Congress will be held in Paris, December 10 to 23. Official delegates from forty of the forty-eight countries invited have announced their intentions of attending the congress. Every form of aerial travel will be considered and it is hoped to advance safety in air travel by ten years.

Plans are under way to enlarge the present Moorestown airport and as soon as this is definitely settled, work will start on the proposed new hangar. It is also proposed to erect a beacon and install boundary lights when the field is enlarged. We are planning now for today and tomorrow but for five, ten and twenty years hence.

Moorestown Man Revealed as Financial Backer of Ex-

TO MAKE SOUND FILMS OF TRIP COVERING YEAR

Son of Victor Founder Will Join Advance Guard
Next Month

An expedition into the jungles of Monte Grosso in Brazil, financed and accompanied by E. R. Penmore Johnson, of Bridgeboro Road, Moorestown, former vice president of the Victor Talking Machine Company, Camden, shortly will leave the United States.

This was disclosed the latter part of last week by John S. Clarke, Jr., of New York, business manager of the exploration party sponsored by the University of Pennsylvania.

The advance guard of explorers will leave New York about December 20, but Mr. Johnson and Clarke will not join them until about March, when they will have reached the head of the Paraguay river in southern Brazil.

The exploration will cover approximately one year's time, during which the scientists hope to obtain a complete record of their trip through the use of sound motion pictures. They will seek rare specimens of fauna and flora.

It will be the Moorestown man's first experience on a major exploring expedition, although he was a member of a party which uncovered a prehistoric man in Texas about eight years ago.

The explorers, headed by Captain Vladimir Perillieff, former Cossack officer, painter, photographer and adventurer, is scheduled to travel approximately 2,500 miles up the Paraguay river.

Other members of the expedition include Professor Vincent Petrucci, of the University of Pennsylvania, who will study the anthropology and ethnology of the jungle tribes; David M. Newell, who will gather material for books for children; Floyd Crosby, who will act as chief cameraman; William E. Green, of Trenton, a taxidermist, and Alexander Siemel, native of Latvia, who has spent more than 21 years in South America.

Does to be used by the explorers are being trained at Leesburg, Pa., and Paradise, Ark.

The expedition will keep in communication with the United States by radio through station KDKA at Pittsburgh. The party expects to cover 800,000 square miles by speedboat, horse and on foot.

Johnson, who is financially sponsoring the expedition is the son of Eldridge Reeves Johnson, also of Moorestown, founder and former president of Victor Talking Machine Company.

Henry Wilford of St. Paul, was caught and fined $25 for turning in a false alarm to win a bet of $5.

Moorestown's Official Population Set at 7,247

Old Chester Township has nearly doubled in population during the past ten years, according to official 1930 figures just made public.

Moorestown's official population has been revealed as 7,247. The official figures for Chester Township are 5,117.

In 1920, when Moorestown was part of Chester, not having been incorporated as a separate township until 1922, the population was 7,373, or only 126 more people than Moorestown alone has today.

The population of the old Chester township today is 12,364, representing a population increase of 5,061 for the community.

HORTICULTURISTS TO MEET AT SHORE

Burlington County Men on List of Speakers for 3-Day Conference

Announcement of the program for the 56th annual meeting of the New Jersey State Horticultural Society, which will be held in Atlantic City December 3, 4 and 5, has been made at New Brunswick by Prof. A. J. Farley, secretary of the organization.

Subjects to be discussed during the three-day program are soil fertility, insect and disease control, irrigation, standard grades, marketing, harvesting, packing-house management, spraying, new varieties and economical methods of production. Competitive exhibits of an educational nature also will be set up by the horticulturists.

Several Burlington County men are on the list of speakers and discussion leaders. W. H. Hookstra, of Beverly, will be one of the speakers on "Factions in Vegetable Farm Management" on Wednesday afternoon, December 3. The same afternoon H. F. Hall, Moorestown, will discuss "Reducing Costs of Production." Robert Haines, of Moorestown, will be on Thursday morning's program, speaking on "Harvesting and Packing House Management" in the fruit session.

This section will have its largest representation on the list of speakers Thursday afternoon at the market session to be led by W. W. Olney, chief, Bureau of Markets, New Jersey State Department of Agriculture. C. E. Lewis, Riverton, is to submit the report of the Horticultural Society Grades Committee, Henry H. Albertson, Burlington, and Lester Collins, Moorestown, will speak on "Use of State Inspection Service," while George E. Engels, Beverly Cooperative Growers' Association, has been assigned the subject, "The Auction Market and Its Future."

Charles D. Barton, Marlton, will lead the group on better spraying, to meet Friday, December 5. The speakers from this county for that session are Charles A. Collins, Moorestown, and Associate County Farm Agent L. R. Smith, with their topics, "Spraying Methods, Costs and Results in 1930."

Palmyra School Band Displays Talent in Stage Performance at High School

The Palmyra School band gave its first concert last Friday night in the High School auditorium. The band, under the leadership of Prof. R. H. Gehring, was assisted in the program by the Girls' Glee Club, directed by Miss Vera Melone, a fifth grade male quartet and a violin duo.

The young musicians, who have less than a year's training, handled their various instruments with all the skill of veterans. Overtures, marches, serenades and waltzes were played with the same smoothness and blending of delightful harmony. The large audience which braved the threatening skies to hear the concert were in no way disappointed over the performance of the evening.

Not to be outdone, the vocal entertainers displayed unusual talent in the rendition of their selections. The Glee Club showed the results of diligent rehearsal while the fifth grade quartet found instant favor as they presented their group of songs to the audience.

A cornet solo by Lawrence Bradshaw was given in a most pleasing manner and was received enthusiastically by the listeners, who also showed hearty appreciation of the performance of the violin duo, Louis Jander and Reed Force.

Mr. Gehring, the band's director and instructor, told of the rapid progress which the band had made during the few months of its career and predicted even greater activities for it in the future.

Professor C. F. Dengler, Supervising Principal, also made a few remarks in which he praised the boys for their work and told of the interest which the band had created throughout the school. Prof. Dengler introduced Mr. Knecht, of the band instrument firm of Henton-Knecht, which had been largely instrumental in promoting the band in the beginning and whose liberal terms on instruments had made it possible for many of the boys to acquire them on the easy payment plan.

Mr. Knecht told the audience that several additional players were needed in the band and urged parents of musically inclined children to take steps to have them enter the new classes which are planned. Instruments will be provided by Henton-Knecht on the trial and easy payment plan.

Asks Cooperation.
August H. Weber, in cooperation with the Palmyra Lions Club was active in the formation of the band originally, spoke in behalf of the parents present. He praised the Palmyra School Board for its generosity to the band and told of steps being considered to provide the boys with uniforms. Mr. Weber also added his voice to that of the other speakers in urging cooperation on the part of parents and the formation of new classes of band recruits.

The program follows:
1. March—"Armada"
2. Overture—Monogram
3. Cornet Solo—"Somewhere in Old Wyoming"—Lawrence Bradshaw
4. Waltz—"Silver Cascade"
Remarks
5. March—"The Buccaneer"
6. (a)—"Sailor Life"—Dann

HAS UNIQUE PLAN TO ASSIST UNEMPLOYED

Palmyra Citizen Suggests Each Householder Offer 50c Job Every Week

Gilbert J. Lee, of 813 Washington avenue, Palmyra, has submitted a plan to assist the unemployed during the present fall and winter as follows: "Taking his own street as an example, Mr. Lee says it has forty-eight homes, none of which would miss 50 cents a week spent for 55 minutes work. This would allow five minutes for a man to go from one house to another."

Surely, says Mr. Lee, there is some small job each week in every home, that the householder would be glad to have done. Arrangements would be made under Mr. Lee's plan to assure that only deserving persons needing employment would be used for the labor and that the money contributed by the householders would reach the proper hands.

Each street in town having 48 or more properties could, under this plan, provide six days' work, 8 hours a day, for one man.

Mr. Lee suggests that citizens in general consider the feasibility of his plan and if deemed practical, take steps to put it into effect.

His Hearty Endorsement

By Albert T. Reid

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY

BY ERNEST CAMP JR

New York—Elections are hazardous events in this amazing town. During the balloting here on November 4, four policemen were taken off their regular "beat" near a certain department store and assigned to duty at a nearby voting booth.

Hardly had the balloting got under way when in rushed a young woman, greatly excited, and summoned two of the police to the store. A couple of burglars had looted the place.

A unique method was devised for flashing to New Yorkers the returns on election night. The public was told to watch the huge searchlight atop the 33-story Empire State building, tallest in the world.

When the great white beam moved back and forth from a vertical to a northerly direction, Roosevelt was leading for Governor. When it oscillated from vertical to southerly, Tuttle was running ahead. When the beam finally ceased moving, it would point steadily north or south, indicating who had won.

The funniest story going the rounds concerns a wild party given down in Greenwich Village. It was a costume affair, and among the guests was a man named Caesar, who came attired in the flowing toga of a Roman senator.

After an evening of revelry, the story goes, Caesar awoke in the misty hours of Sunday morning and sleepily looked about him. To his alarm he found that he was lying flat on his back with a wooden surface above him.

It was very evidently a coffin—until he kicked out wildly and discovered that he had been left alone, lying under a table. Still a tremble with fright, he rushed to a window, leaped out, and lit a streak for home.

At this point his flight was arrested by a policeman, who passing by, grew suspicious at the sight of one fleeing through a window at such an hour of morning.

His costume in comic disarray, the captive hiccuped his story to the cop's doubting ears. Finally, however, the latter decided to believe the yarn and let him go.

"Run along," the copper said, turning to walk away. Then, on an afterthought, he called to the retreating figure, "Say, you didn't tell me your name."

"Caesar," came the prompt reply from the one in flowing robes. It was too much. Without another word the copper collared him and hustled him off to the station house.

What's in a name?

Dominick Pacelli was "taken for a ride." He managed to escape with his life—but also three bullet wounds in his head. He went to a Newark hospital, was treated, and told he could go home. But this he refused to do, insisting that he be assigned to a room. He lay there all day Monday.

Shortly after dark, two men drove up in an automobile. They parked the car in front of the hospital and walked in at the main entrance. They walked down the hall and up the stairs to the second floor.

Two shots rang out. Nurses screamed. Patients grew hysterical. Two men, one waving a smoking pistol, waved back the crowd and escaped into the street. And in the room on the second floor, Pacelli lay dead in his bed.

Thorough, these gangsters.

Finding the night life of Manhattan a bit wearing, a friend and I went apartment-hunting in one of New York's most peaceful-looking suburbs.

"Yes, we're going rural," we explained to everybody, with visions of pigs and chickens and green fields and cows grazing out in the great open spaces.

But we found that the "country" near New York smokes even hotter than Manhattan after dusk. In the particular village we investigated, one of the quaint provincial pastimes consists of going out in the streets and shooting out the street lights. Charming, don't you think?

JOHN SAAR, SR., HEADS RELIEF ASSOCIATION

Branson Cooke, Harry Kemmerle, Jr., and Sydney Snelson Elected Delegates to Annual Convention

John Saar, Sr., was elected president of the Firemen's Relief Association for the thirtieth consecutive time at the annual election of officers held in the Fire House, Palmyra, Monday evening.

Other officers elected at that time were: Harry Kemmerle, Sr., vice president; Herbert Kemmerle, secretary; Lewis Wallace, treasurer, and C. Morris Beck, sergeant-at-arms.

Branson Cooke, Harry Kemmerle, Jr., and Sydney Snelson were elected delegates to the annual convention, which will be held in Atlantic City next fall.

The directors of the association for the ensuing year are: Harry Saar, Richard Furman and Charles Cooper, Sr. Others present at the meeting were: Edward Roberts, L. Krause and Joseph L. Black.

AUTOS COLLIDE

Two Philadelphia drivers were in a slight automobile accident on Cinnaminson avenue between Temple boulevard and Fourth street, Palmyra, Sunday.

Karl A. Neumiller, 3427 Kensington avenue, was held after his car had sideswiped that of Herbert Barringer, 2837 North 12th street. Neumiller had attempted to escape but later returned to the scene of the accident.

A hit-run charge which was lodged against Neumiller was later changed to one of disorderly conduct. On being arraigned before Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter, he posted a $25 bond to appear for further hearing Monday. When he failed to make his appearance the bond was forfeited.

CATCHES YOUTHS IN STOLEN AUTO

Inexperienced Driver's Operating Errors Lead to Arrest of Quartet

Four Camden youths, driving a stolen car, were picked up in Moorestown last Saturday night about 10:30 by Officer Ralph Marks.

The officer became suspicious of the quartet when the driver, upon approaching the intersection of Main street and Chester avenue, where Marks was standing, became confused, appearing to be unfamiliar with the operation of the machine.

Marks blew his whistle, but the car, a Pontiac coach, instead of stopping, sped down Main street. The officer commandeered the next car which approached the intersection, but the lapse of time permitted the speeding machine to get a good start on the officer.

Upon reaching Church street, Marks spied four youths standing on the corner eating ice cream cones. He questioned them and in the face of their denials that they had been driving the car he had tried to stop, he took the members of the quartet to town hall for questioning. A later search of the neighborhood revealed the car abandoned on Church street, just north of Main street.

Held Without Bail
The youths did not readily admit their guilt, but after considerable grilling by Chief of Police John H. Bradshaw, they confessed. Camden police were called and they were taken back to that city by Detective Sergeant Rox Saponare and Detective William Boettcher late Saturday night. They were held in Camden without bail for the theft of the car recovered in Moorestown and on suspicion of implication in numerous other auto robberies in South Jersey.

The coach, owned by Mrs. Anna Harritt, 12 South Second street, Camden, had been stolen from Second and Taylor avenue, Camden, about 8:30 Saturday evening.

The youths were Daniel Sciamanno, 18 years old, 601 South Fourth street, driver of the car; Alfonso Roberti, 16 years old, 431 South Fourth street; Samuel di Giacommo, 15 years old, 314 Berkeley street, and Dominick Iacovelli, 17 years old, 520 South Third street, all of Camden.

Fair Pay $5.00 Fine
Two motor law violators were arrested by Officer Walter A. Erickson, who directs traffic at the intersection of Main and Church streets, Sunday. They were Charles B. Anderson, Jersey City, a speeder, and Edward Maritsky, Medford, charged with passing a traffic control light with the signal against him. Each paid a fine of $5.00 and costs at a hearing before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston in town hall.

Two nine-year-old Philadelphia boys, found in truck driven by Merritt Lore when he reached Moorestown late Saturday, were taken back to their homes Sunday morning by parents after being held at police station over night. The youthful runaways were Joseph Kalaski, 780 South Front street, and Henry Scholski, 224 Catherine street.

Friday Earl Smith, North Lenola road, was arrested on drunk and disorderly charges preferred by Mrs. Homer Evans, also of Lenola. The arrest was made by Officer Bruce MacDonald. At a hearing before Recorder Johnston, Smith's sentence was suspended and he was released upon payment of $7.50 costs.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

The Perfidious Bluecoats

By IRVIN S. COBB

A GENTLEMAN whose name was Rice won much fame in Alabama before the Civil War and sustained his reputation for years after the close of that conflict. He was a lawyer with a nimble wit, a spell-binding politician who never failed to win the good will of his audience. He excelled particularly in repartee—chronic hecklers usually left him alone.

Some years after the war he was a candidate for Congress in a district which included one of the mountain counties. During the campaign he visited that county and spoke to enthusiastically approving crowds. On one occasion he was interrupted by the village blacksmith, a physical giant, with a voice proportioned to his size.

"Ain't you the same feller that came here at the startin' off of the war persuadin' us fella to enlist?"

"Thank you for reminding me of the fact," replied the orator. "I am proud to acknowledge here and now—in fact, I claim the honor—that I was to a small extent, instrumental in inducing many of you splendid men to march to the front and risk your lives in defense of our homes and firesides. And never were better soldiers, braver men, or more loyal patriots enlisted in a cause so grand, than were the troops from this country that served in the armies of the Southern Confederacy. You won glory for—"

Again the giant interrupted, his stentorian voice drowning out the speaker's flow of eloquence.

"I thought so. You talked then just like you're talkin' now, dad blame you! You told us we could go up there in Virginia and whup them Yankees with popguns. And we went and fit 'em for four years and whut happened? We come home licked. How about that?"

"My friends," said the silver-tongued, "I did say we could lick the Yankees with popguns and repeat it. The only trouble was that the damned scoundrels wouldn't fight us that way!"

HOLD-UP MAN THROWS ROCK INTO WINDOW

Palmyra Gasoline Station Attendant Struck by Missile, but Assailant Flees

What is believed to have been an attempted hold-up failed last Monday evening when a rock hurled through the window of a service station struck the attendant on the head but did not render him unconscious.

Arnold W. Gruning, of Pensauken, proprietor of the Gulf station at Broad Street and River Road, Palmyra, was seated at his desk when struck by the rock. Dazed, Gruning turned in time to see someone about to enter the office. The intruder fled when he saw Gruning start for the door. Police were called but found no trace of the assailant.

Dr. LeFavor treated Gruning for his injuries which were not serious.

A Distinctive Gift

EVERY once in a while you are confronted with the problem of selecting a gift that must be worth while, distinctive and personal.

This problem is very well met by giving a Ham-merrill Bond Cabinet of stationery, containing 100 letterheads and 100 envelopes of white Ham-merrill Bond, each sheet and each envelope bearing the name and address of the person to whom you are giving it.

There are sizes for men and women and styles for personal, professional, and business use. The paper and envelopes are kept smooth and clean till the last one is used. The cabinet is dignified in appearance, and makes a worthy remembrance for any occasion.

RADIO'S RAPID GROWTH

When it is remembered that the broadcasting of regular programs was begun only ten years ago, the growth of the radio industry stands out as an amazing fact. Today every other family in the United States has a radio receiving set.

According to a recent estimate, the number of sets in use in this country is placed at 13,478,000, which is about one-half the number in use in the entire world.

New York leads all other states in the number of sets in use, followed in order by California, Illinois and Pennsylvania. California has the greatest number in proportion to population. These four states have about 29 per cent. of the nation's population and about 39 per cent. of the radio sets.

As in the case of automobile manufacturers, makers of radio equipment are wondering how many more persons may be counted on as prospective purchasers of their products. And, as in the automobile industry, competition is very keen, and it is likely that this competition will eliminate some of the weaker manufacturing concerns.

But there appears to be no reason why the industry should not continue to grow until a radio set of some sort shall find its way into at least 75 per cent. of the homes of the country.

THE RISE OF FOOTBALL

College football is still regarded as an amateur sport, in spite of the Carnegie Foundation's findings that in many institutions players are to some extent subsidized. But, regardless of what the players get out of it, college football has assumed the proportion of a business in which millions are involved.

As a recent writer declares: "It is played today by athletes as highly trained as steeplechasers, in marble amphitheatres that shame the Roman Coliseum, before crowds that match in gate receipts the earnings of a Dempsey-Tunney prize fight."

The development of modern football from a casual sport to its present eminence seems remarkable when it is recalled that the first intercollegiate game in the world was played in 1869 between Princeton and Rutgers with 25 men on each team. Incidentally it may be mentioned that the captain of the Princeton team in that game is still alive in the person of Chief Justice William S. Gummere of the New Jersey Supreme Court, and that his team lost by the score of 6-4.

It is also interesting to note that the first play which gave rise to modern football is commemorated by a tablet at Rugby School, England, bearing the inscription:

"This stone commemorates the exploit of William Webb Ellis, who with a fine disregard for the rules of football as played in his time first took the ball in his arms and ran with it thus originating the distinctive feature of the Rugby game, A. D. 1823."

In face of a tremendous amount of political and partisan criticism, the privately owned American electric industry is going quietly ahead in its effort to extend, broaden and reduce the cost of service to its customers.

According to the Sixth International Road Conference recently held in Washington, D. C., all countries face the problem of providing secondary and local roads suited to the needs of the farmer and modern motor traffic.

TODAY and TOMORROW

TELEVISION

Ten years ago the election of President Harding was one of the first attempts at radio broadcasting. No body could buy a radio receiving set in 1920, because there were none on the market. Only amateur electricians who made their own sets could get anything "on the air."

Television is in the same stage today as broadcasting was in 1920. The Chicago Daily News broadcasts pictures of election charts on the night of November 4. Only those could pick them out of the air who had built television receiving apparatus. There are no television receivers for sale. But there are thousands of eager amateurs experimenting in television in 1930, just as there were thousands experimenting in ordinary radio reception in 1920. And in another ten years everybody may be able to stay at home and see pictures of events as they happen, by means of some sort of receiving device not yet invented.

WORK

A charitably-inclined association of apple growers sent several carloads of apples to New York City, to be given to the poor. Some 1,500 men began peddling apples at a nickel apiece, and in the first week took in about $12,000 or about $3 each. This did not do them any good nor relieve the unemployment situation. It was charity and beggary, only slightly disguised.

On the other hand, the agreement by a group of citizens to finance a general cleaning-up of parks, vacant lots and unsightly rubbish-heaps, actually provided work for some thousands of unemployed. Any relief which does not require the recipient to work for what he gets is foolishly sentimental and dangerous. Once the average person finds he can get something for nothing, he loses his taste for giving the equivalent in work for every dollar he receives.

TREES

The Forest Service is out with its annual warning against depleting the forests by cutting too many young spruces, firs and pines for Christmas trees. Where they grow thickly it is good practice to thin them out, but too many farmers will clear off an entire hillside for the sake of sending their trees to a cash market.

This is not likely to be a good year in the Christmas-tree market, and farmers are warned not to begin cutting until they have made all arrangements for the sale of Christmas trees to responsible buyers.

I like the custom which prevails in the South, of decorating living Christmas trees. I have seldom seen anything more beautiful than Riverside Avenue in Jacksonville with the trees blazing with colored lights. It is much more sensible than the habit of denuding our forest areas for a sentimental practice.

CONGRESS

As I write, the Democratic party seems to have won practical control of both houses of Congress. President Hoover will not be the first president with a Congress of the other party on his hands.

Constructive legislation will not necessarily be held up by reason of that fact. Partisan measures undoubtedly will be blocked, and much political capital will be made by both parties out of the failure of the Democrats to approve the President's policies on the one hand, and the refusal of the President to approve Congressional action, on the other hand.

In South America or Europe, an election resulting as this one did would carry the head of the government out of office. The position of the President of the United States, serving for a fixed term, is almost unique. His office combines that of a king and a premier, with the security in office—for a time—that a king enjoys, and the party responsibility of a prime minister.

PROHIBITION

The election of November 4 was decidedly a "wet" victory in many parts of the United States, including the principal cities.

There is no question that millions of people who have heretofore always voted "dry" and who are in favor of prohibition in principle, have become disgusted with the prohibition law and its enforcement as it stands, and want a change.

I personally know many ladies who have been ardent "dry" workers who voted for "wet" candidates for Congress on no other ground.

I have no solution to offer for the liquor problem. The control of traffic in "hard liquor" is a problem with which every civilized government in the world is wrestling.

Rip Van Winkle, wrinkled and gray before his 20 years absence, stood before his wife. "Where have you been, you scallawag?" she demanded. "I was up at the Veterans Bureau waiting in line for my compensation," replied Rip.

"Well, that's different," conceded to his unvarying habit.

BY BRUCE BARTON

Recipe for Making a Million

A friend of mine who is still under thirty-five has made a fortune, and I asked him how he did it.

"I've been to your office several times," I said, "but you seem seldom to be there."

"No I don't go to the office every day," he answered. "A good deal of the time I just sit and look out the window and think."

"When I make a decision I go out and put it into effect, and a little more than half the time I have had the good luck to be right. When I find I have made a mistake, I sit down and say: 'Now what did I do wrong? Were my facts inaccurate, or did I draw bad conclusions? How am I going to avoid that same mistake again?'"

I knew another man who owned a small but profitable business. He was methodical in his habits. On a certain day of each month he stayed away from the office, and everybody in his employ knew that the old man was "thinking." From breakfast time until sun-down on such a day he would sit before an open fire or on an open porch, without pen or pencil or paper or records or reports, and quietly think.

He attributed his modest success to his unvarying habit.

Henry Ford remarked to me once that "thinking is the hardest job there is," and added that he could get plenty of doers but not enough thinkers.

Most of us know from our own limited experience that thinking is hard, and we have insulated ourselves against it by a restless and noisy environment.

We are afraid to be found in a small audience, terribly afraid to be alone. Our unwillingness to take trips, or to retire, is not dictated so much by loyalty to the job as it is by the haunting fear that, removed from the protecting clutter of daily activity, we shall have "too much time to think."

Emerson tells the story of "a man who on his death-bed called to him his prodigal son and left him large possessions, only enacting of him the promise to spend an hour every day alone. The son kept his word and became a wise and good man."

In another passage Emerson remarks that "the gods and the wild beasts are both fond of solitude; thought makes the difference between the solitude of the god and that of the lion."

Solitude and thought are responsible for the considerable fortune of the young friend whom I quoted at the beginning. I pass on his recipe free to all. I have not been able to apply it myself.

Cook—Cos Mr. Groucher used to have such awful rows with his wife.

Mistress—What did they quarrel about?

Cook—The way the meals was cooked.

Loungamia—Some burglars got into my house last night, bound me to a chair and gagged me.

APPLY a match to the gas steam radiator and in a few minutes the room is comfortably warm. Wherever heat is needed only on occasions, and where people have economy in mind, you will find the gas steam radiator. It is a popular way of heating stores, club rooms and public buildings. In some buildings the radiators are sufficient—in other buildings they are used in addition to furnace heat.

These gas steam radiators come in different sizes and different heights. The large sizes have two burners. Prices begin as low as $29.25 cash. Payments may be made in monthly installments, but a slight increase over the cash price is charged.

TWO HURT IN CRASH AT HOSPITAL DOOR

Motorist Arrested as Tipster After Car Hits That of Mount Holly Resident

Earl Hatfield, and Thomas Smith both of Mount Holly, escaped serious injury Wednesday night of last week when the car in which they were riding was struck by another car and turned over twice.

They suffered a few cuts from glass and some bruises. Both were treated at the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly.

The accident occurred in front of the hospital on Madison avenue. They were struck by the machine of Robert Berryman, 39, Burlington road near Mount Holly. Berryman was said to be intoxicated at the time of the accident, and was on his way to the hospital to take his wife home. Mrs. Berryman is employed at the hospital.

Berryman, the police said, was so intoxicated he made a turn to go into the hospital grounds about a half-square before reaching the driveway. In so doing he crashed into the side of the Hatfield machine.

When Ernest Brown, of Rochester, N. Y., was captured after escaping from the penitentiary, he explained he was bored because the time passed too slowly.

TAKING THE GUESS OUT OF BUSINESS

By JOHN G. LONSDALE
President American Bankers Association

BANKERS and business men are not adopting more universally the tactics of the scientist. When the scientist wishes to fathom the mysteries of the universe or to solve things into their component parts he calls to his assistance the magnifying power of the microscope. There before him, like an open book, lie the secrets of nature which unaided eyes cannot observe.

The uncanny power of the microscope's all-seeing eye has revealed countless secrets for the material and intellectual progress of humanity. It enabled us to study the processes of growing cells in plant and animal life, trace the causes of disease and successfully combat the ills of mankind; it has aided the engineer in his search for stronger and more serviceable materials, giving us taller, lighter and more sturdy structures, and better highways; it has disclosed the defects in steel rails and brought us an era of safer railway travel; it has added to the food supply of the nation; in fact, it has affected favorably nearly every activity of the human race, whether it apply to production, distribution or consumption, in time of peace or in time of war.

Banking Conducting Continual Research

The American Bankers Association is daily submitting every phase and every department of banking to searching scrutiny and study, says John G. Lonsdale, president of this world's greatest financial association. The findings of these investigations are made available to the 20,000 members of the organization for their guidance.

"It is a fine tribute to the spirit of cooperation among bankers that it is able to carry on this work," he says. "Bankers from one end of the country to the other are constantly giving freely and unselfishly of their skill and experience so that the association may produce the truly great results that are being accomplished."

Statistical information on national and state banks, savings institutions, trust companies and trust departments, clearing house groups and general banking is prepared after exhaustive inquiry and distributed for the use of all bankers. The organization's investigations have resulted in the passage of beneficial legislation, revision of banking practices and innumerable changes for a stronger and more efficient banking structure. It has set up an educational system through its affiliated American Institute of Banking, where 45,000 ambitious young bank men and women are now availing themselves of the opportunity to advance in the banking field.

"It has been well said that the American Bankers Association, exclusive of the Federal Reserve System, has been the greatest single nationwide source of stability and improved conditions for banking in the United States," Mr. Lonsdale says.

Banking Grows More Complicated

DENVER, Colo.—The increase in the technicalities of the banking business in the past dozen years was shown by a speaker before the American Institute of Banking which held its annual convention here recently when he pointed out that in 1915, when the institute last met in this city, it gave only three courses, while today it gives 10, with more subjects in preparation. At the earlier date, he said, the curriculum of the institute consisted of elementary banking, commercial and banking law, and money and banking, whereas today it consists of banking fundamentals, commercial law, negotiable instruments, standard accounting, standard banking, credits, investments, trust functions, analyzing financial statements, and public speaking, while the two new subjects of bank operation and organization, and bank management are to be added.

The New Pace of Business Change—Business evolution used to move slowly—it measured off its gradual changes almost invisibly, like the hour hand on the clock. But today its tempo is that of the second hand. The movement of evolution that is quickening business with rapid changes is almost visible and makes it difficult to keep up with them.—E. R. Hoelt.

A Lake Forest, Ill., man had $600 in bills in a stove and his wife buried it up with waste paper. All that he hasn't he owes to the little woman.

RADICAL CHANGES TRANSFORM BANKING

National Commission Sees Changing Opinion on Branch Banking Issue—Studies Group and Chain Banks.

NEW YORK.—Modification of the attitude of bankers on the long disputed branch banking question is forecast in a review and report covering rapid changes going on in banking issued here by the Economic Policy Commission of the American Bankers Association. The report, however, after referring to recent proposals that national banks be given branch banking powers within the business territory surrounding their location, declares that "we do not believe that so-called 'trade-area' branch banking is likely to gain the support of any large percentage of the banking fraternity."

The commission says that the "most important development that has affected American banking in recent years involves the rapid growth of multiple banking organizations in the form of group, chain and branch banking systems," and adds that "we present this report as an unprejudiced economic study and have no theories or policies to urge at this time." The statement says that the commission's information indicates there are now 269 group or chain bank systems, which control 1922 banks and $15,235,000,000 in aggregate resources, and that there are only six states and the District of Columbia where it does not find any group organizations.

The Commission's investigation "We have been in touch with the managers of many important bank groups," the report says. "Aside from the obvious economies of centralized operation and control a number of these organizations heads very frankly tell us that they do not feel that the system has been in operation and tested long enough to justify them in making positive or sweeping statements as to its advantages or disadvantages compared to unit banking."

"The Banking and Currency Committee of the House, which is conducting an investigation into banking developments, has called a number of operating heads of some of the group systems. These men declared that they found, under certain conditions, definite operating and economic advantage in both group and branch banking over independent unit banking. Some thought group banking was only a transitional stage, that branch banking was preferable and if it were permitted on an extensive enough scale they would change their groups over to branch systems. Others held that group banking was preferable. "Some held that the ideal plan was a combination of the two with group bank units for localities strong enough to support complete banking institutions and with branch offices extending further into the smaller places requiring banking services but not large enough to support complete banks. Several of these who advocated multiple banking declared that nevertheless they believed there would always be room for vigorous independent unit bank competitors."

Government Officials Express Views "The Comptroller of the Currency recommended that national banks be given branch banking powers within 'trade-areas.' The Governor of the Federal Reserve Board appeared to be in general agreement with the Comptroller. He said there were 24,645 banks and 3,547 branches, a total of 28,192 banking offices; that in this total, 6,353 offices were either branches or bank members of groups, or both, leaving 21,839 banking institutions that might be definitely termed independent unit banks, having no branches and in no way connected with group affiliations. He said all the banks had total loans and investments of $58,500,000,000, of which the group and branch systems held $30,000,000,000, or more than half.

"He opposed nation-wide branch banking at present but said that ultimately if bankers became trained and experienced in the larger technique of 'trade-area' banking he thought it would in time evolve nation-wide branch banking under control of relatively few banks, but he did not believe this would mean monopoly or lack of competition. He favored branch over group banking, which, however, he said represented an economic development along 'trade-area' lines and would spread unless something else were substituted and thought 'trade-area' branch banking would serve this purpose.

"It is the intention of the Commission to develop its own studies in these questions, watch carefully every move that is made and every bit of information that may develop in this connection and keep itself prepared to give an unbiased and accurate statement of the facts of the case whenever that is desired," the report concludes.

Federal Reserve Pays Government In the fifteen years since its establishment in 1914, aggregate net earnings of the Federal Reserve System's twelve regional banks have amounted to $515,218,000, of which $30,672,000 has been paid to the member banks as dividends, representing 6 per cent annually on their contributions of capital to the reserve banks, while $477,546,000 has been added to the surplus of the reserve banks and $17,110,000 has been paid over to the Federal Government as a franchise tax.

EDITORIAL

In 1621 when the Pilgrims had their Thanksgiving feast, they did not realize that one day out of every year would be set aside to celebrate as they did. That must have been a glorious day with the sun, shining upon that peaceful group of Pilgrims as they sat with the Indians, eating the food the Lord had provided for them. These were two of the countless things they were thankful for. They were thankful that the Indian was at last their friend and I'm wager that the Indians were glad, too, that the settlers were their friends after that meal.

These Thanksgiving days were celebrated annually up to Abraham Lincoln's administration when he appointed a day as a national holiday. Since then, the presidents have issued a Thanksgiving proclamation, saying that the last Thursday of November shall be Thanksgiving Day.

Now, everyone in the United States awaits that day, one of the most important holidays celebrated, to give his thanks for what he has and the joys the year has brought.

CHILDREN CREATE INDIAN PICTURES

The various scenes, portrayed in Miss Gardiner's room, tell stories of Indian life. The majestic old chieftain, with his once beautiful Indian mien, is one scene. Then, too, there are pictures of small boys, learning the traits of manhood or a hunter, returning home from the hunt, with his prize upon his broad shoulders. In another picture a group of old warriors are telling tales of their ancestors.

MATERIAL FOR METAL WORK HERE

The equipment for metal work has arrived in the manual training room. The tools are being unpacked by the teacher, Mr. Griffith. They have not started to work with the new equipment yet, but they hope to start shortly.

Most of the boys are making something in wood, which they will finish while the metal working tools are being set up.

Many things, now being made, will have some metal work added; so the boys can receive credit for work in both wood and metal.

LIBRARIAN SPEAKS AT P. T. A.

Thursday afternoon the second P. T. A. meeting was held. The speaker, Miss Clark, the county librarian, gave a talk on good books for children. Miss Clark said that though new books are fascinating, the old books which children have read in years past, are still highly recommended.

This talk is appropriate for two reasons. The children are learning to choose and read good books at home and this week is marked in the book of time as "Book Week."

BOYS WIN SOCCER GAME 3-0

Last Wednesday the boys won the game which they played against Cinna-minson by a score of 3-0. The first half of the game was quite thrilling, for it was in the first quarter that "Joe" Yearly made two goals for Riverton, and Harry Turner made one more in the second quarter. The teams were evenly matched during the last half of the game. Both teams enjoyed the competition and the game for the game's sake.

LITTLE PEOPLE VISIT LIBRARY

This week all the little people in the little building visited the Riverton Public Library. They were greatly surprised when they saw the great number of books. They exclaimed that they never saw so many books at one time.

The children of the second grade have been very busy this week, making an Indian village. This is very appropriate, Thanksgiving being so near. There is a lake made of glass at one end while at the other end of the table, is a forest. The forest is suggested by pine branches. Trees were tacked on the wall around the camp. Of course, an Indian camp would not be complete without the teepees; so they have those little tents all in a cluster between the forest and the lake. They, also, have, hanging up near the camp, some pictures of Indians.

These children have won for their room the "No One Late" banner. A reporter, entering the room, is impressed by the quiet and busy atmosphere of the children. The little first graders have been reading about a boy, a girl, and a farm; so they decided that they would like to visit one. Some day this week they are going to a farm and see all the animals and fields.

To Sing for Charity

ETHEL BURR DUDLEY

Lyric soprano, who will appear in a recital to be given by the Moorestown Junior Woman's Club in the Community House next Wednesday evening, December 3, for the benefit of charity.

SOLOIST, HARPISIT WILL AID CHARITY

Moorestown Talent to Assist Junior Woman's Club in Community Benefit

Mrs. Ethel Burr Dudley, well known in musical circles of Moorestown and Philadelphia for her brilliant lyric soprano voice, will sing in a recital at the Community House next Wednesday evening, December 3, assisted by Miss Priscilla Smith, harpist and teacher of music in the Moorestown Friends' School.

This interesting recital is being sponsored by the Moorestown Junior Woman's Club which will turn over the entire proceeds to the Church Federation and organized girls' activities in the community.

Although Mrs. Dudley is well known as an active worker in Moorestown, few people realize the extent of her musical education. At Vassar College she received a scholarship in music work which she held during her four years' study there. After graduation she continued her training with W. W. Gilchrist and later studied voice with Percy Dunn Aldrich and Abbie Keely.

At the present time she is a pupil of Nicholas Doury, of Philadelphia, who is noted not only for his fine tenor voice but also as the producer of some of the best voices in the country. Incidentally, Mr. Doury has consented to appear as piano accompanist for Mrs. Dudley at the concert next Wednesday.

Mrs. Dudley has not only given recitals in numerous places but she has also taught music in this section. She has given much time and energy to choral development in Moorestown in the past, and the community should not fail to appreciate her talent and generosity.

Although Priscilla Smith is a newcomer to Moorestown this year, she is widely known as a skilled harpist.

AND HOW THEY EAT!

A few of 2,000,000 yearly lunches going the way of all food as healthy appetites settle down to business in a typical New Jersey telephone cafeteria.

Two million meals a year, 100 people to buy the food, cook and serve it, and 6,000 women to eat it—that, in brief, is the "eats" story of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company's commissary department, which caters to the appetites of its women employees in telephone buildings throughout the State.

Those two million meals include 561,000 cups of tea, 137,000 bottles of milk, 338,000 sandwiches, 101,000 salads, 777,000 slices of butter, 362,000 pieces of pie, 314,000 pieces of cake, and 374,000 servings of ice cream. Cod liver oil is the only "food" rich in vitamins not included in the menus, and the dietitians say they will serve it gladly if there is a real demand for it. Meals are served to employees at cost and regular inspections are made to see that food and cooking are always up to a high standard, and that service is courteous and prompt.

ANNA SPIELMAN IS HURT IN ACCIDENT

Collision Results in Suicide of Widely Known Naturalist, Lecturer at Hainesport

Miss Anna Spielman, 22, of Merchantville, formerly of Moorestown, suffered a fractured right arm and cuts and bruises in an accident in which a Philadelphia woman was killed, and which had its aftermath in the suicide of Howard Middleton, 50, widely known naturalist, lecturer and author.

The accident, which occurred at 1:30 a. m. on Sunday on the Marine Highway at Rancocas Heights about a mile from Hainesport, was a head-on collision. The dead woman is Miss Catherine Koltz, of Philadelphia, Ralph vonBergen, of Merchantville, was the driver of the car in which the two young women were occupants.

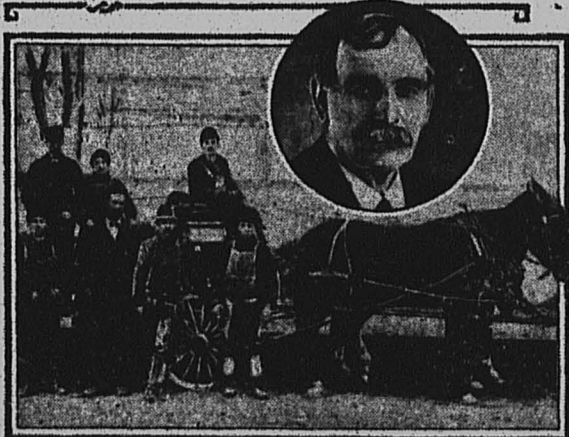

Middleton was found in the bedroom of his home at Hainesport about 9:30 o'clock, eight hours later, a bullet wound through the left temple and a pistol clutched in the left hand. Coroner George B. Biting issued the death certificate.

"Jack" Leahey Retires; Strong Man Of Early Jersey Telephone History

A giant among big men was John J. "Jack" Leahey, shown here with his "floating line-construction gang" and a wagon and team that were the predecessors of the trim, modern telephone truck fleet. This photograph was taken in the late 1890's.

John J. "Jack" Leahey, outstanding and colorful figure in the early days of the telephone industry in New Jersey, and who, his companions relate, "was so strong that when the horse got tired, he would grab hold of the cable and pull it himself," has just retired after a career of more than forty-four years as a telephone man. Leahey supervised the construction of many of the first toll and long distance pole lines in New Jersey.

It was Leahey who, when the Government arsenal at Morgan caught fire and blow up, volunteered to go through the center of the danger zone to discover damage wrought to important telephone lines between New York and Washington. Shrapnel and shells were exploding on all sides, and armed guards were posted to keep out everyone. Leahey, with horse and buggy, evaded the guards, travelled the perilous route past the arsenal and discovered that such long sections of line had been annihilated that reconstruction along that route was impractical.

Leahey has been a resident of Red Bank for many years, where he resides with his wife and an adopted daughter who is a member of the New Jersey Bell Telephone Company organization at Asbury Park.

DOINGS OF THE I.O.O.F.

Now that the winter season is at hand, attendance at Cinnamonson Lodge is on the increase. We're having good snappy meetings with plenty of fun and pep.

However we miss some of the old members and would like to have them back with us again.

To the fellows who have not been attending Lodge lately, we would like to ask, did you know that—

Out of a class of 18 candidates initiated in June, nearly all are now good, active members?

The District Deputy and his Staff have been good advertising for Cinnamonson Lodge this year.

That we have two bowling teams in the Palmyra Bowling League and another in the Odd Fellows League, every one making a good showing?

The Peach Festival, Oyster Supper and Halloween Party were all big successes?

The Boosters' Meeting on November 14 was a "Wow!" Think this over, fellows, and get out and enjoy some of our good times. Also, don't forget Degree work starts December 8. Our annual Christmas party, December 19.

ARTIST-STUDENTS TO GIVE CONCERT

Moorestown Woman's Club Sponsoring Free Musical on Monday, Dec. 1

The Moorestown Woman's Club will present artist-students of the Curtis Institute of Music in a concert on Monday, December 1, which will be free to the public.

The performance is one of a series given by artist-students of the Curtis Institute before leading music clubs and educational institutions. The Curtis Institute of Music was established in 1924 by Mrs. Mary Louise Curtis Bok, wife of the late Edward Bok and daughter of Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Josef Hofmann, internationally famous pianist, is director.

The program will be given by Ardele Hookins, flutist; Lawrence Aggar, organist; and George Pepper, violinist. Miss Hookins is one of the very few women soloists on the flute, an instrument which dates back to the mythical Olympus for its origin. Miss Hookins' unique talent has led to many engagements as soloist and ensemble player.

Lawrence Aggar is a concert organist of wide church experience. He is completing his professional training with Lynwood Farnham at the Curtis Institute.

George Pepper, still in his teens, is a youthful product of California, where his talent early attracted attention. He was granted a scholarship at the Curtis Institute three years ago, and is a student of Kfirin Zimbalist, famous violinist.

The program is as follows: "Meditation from Orpheus," by Gluck; "Andante Pastorale," by Tiffani; "Romance," by Widor; "Evening on the Plain," from two sketches by Debussy, will be played by Ardele Hookins, flutist.

"Prayer" and "March" by Handel; "Alto on the O' Shing" by Bach; "Meditation" and "Rigaudon," by Francaise will be rendered by George Pepper, violinist.

"Toccata and Fugue in D Minor" and the choral prelude on "Sleepers, Awake!" by Bach; two choral preludes from Opus 12, "Adieu" and "O My Soul," and "My Tunes Heart Deth Yearn" by Brahms; "Fugue in K flat Major (St. Ann's)" by Bach, will be played by Lawrence Aggar, organist.

VERY LATEST

It is not enough this season to have the neckline of your dress look smart, it must be becoming and flattering as well, and in many of the new dresses this necessary combination of smartness and becomingness has been achieved by means of a draped scarf collar attached to the dress.

Actually we need expect no general change in the lines, or general arrangement of the new necklines. There are V-necks both deep and shallow, round necks, simple necklines and bertha necklines in the new dresses. And just at present fashion seems too much occupied in working out the problem of skirt lengths and contemplating a possible elaboration of sleeve to be much concerned over any marked change in necklines. The important thing is to find the collar arrangement that is feminine and becoming.

The sketch today shows a collar sure to be becoming, easy to make and easy to attach to any frock, old or new. The diagram shows the pattern.

From B to E measures 27 inches. From A to B measures 7 inches. From A to C measures 23 inches. From D to E measures 4 inches. From A to X measures 4 inches.

Cut the collar with AB laid on a crosswise or lengthwise or bias fold of material. Hem with a fine hem all around, bind or else have the edges finished with machine pivot.

Fasten the collar on the dress with X at the center back, Z at the shoulder seams, and the ends brought down and tied loosely at the front of the dress.

STUFFED POTATOES

A RATHER unusual meal, all served in the jacket of a hot, meaty, baked potato will tempt most anyone's appetite these days, especially young people. I know many big boys and girls who like it, too.

Large Idaho potatoes are baked until tender. When baking potatoes, after washing them thoroughly, before placing them in the hot oven, I rub each one with a little salad oil or shortening of some kind, as this keeps the skin very tender.

When potatoes are thoroughly baked, remove from oven, cut off the top lengthwise, remove potato, mash, season and heat until smooth. Pack a portion of the mashed potato back into the shell of the potato, put over this a serving of creamed meat or fish, a serving of a green vegetable such as spinach, asparagus or broccoli. Over the top, pile lightly a small amount of the mashed potato, sprinkle with paprika, return to the oven to heat through and slightly brown the potato.

With this full meal served in a potato jacket we will plan a salad of stuffed tomato, serve hot biscuits and a simple orange dessert.

Full Meal Stuffed Potato

Use very large potatoes. Bake them at 425 degrees for one hour, or until tender. Cut them in two, scoop them out, mash them. Fill the potato cavities with creamed chicken, veal, lobster, oysters, or anything you please; over this a layer of some vegetable like spinach or chard or asparagus, then the mashed potato in a mound to top the whole, then the other empty shell—this is not necessary if it does not fit—then a few minutes in the oven to warm the whole thing through and you will have a full meal potato.

Creamed Meat for Filling

1 cup left-over meat
1 egg
4 tbsp. butter
4 tbsp. milk
1/2 tsp. salt

Melt butter, when bubbling, add flour mixed with seasonings and stir until thoroughly blended; then pour on the milk gradually while stirring constantly; bring to the boiling point and let boil two minutes. Add meat and well beaten egg. Cook to heat meat through. Egg may be omitted.

Surprise Tomato Salad

6 medium ripe tomatoes
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup grated cheese
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup chopped lettuce
1/2 cup stuffed olives

Scoop out tomatoes and mix drained pulp with chopped olives, nuts, grated cheese and mayonnaise. Fill tomato cups with this mixture and serve on lettuce.

Orange Dessert

1/2 cup sugar
4 oranges (free from membrane and cut in small pieces)
1 pkg. orange gelatin
1 cup coconut
1 cup boiling water

Add sugar to pieces of orange. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add grated orange rind, one cup orange juice and water. Chill. When slightly thickened, fold in pieces of orange and coconut. Turn into individual molds. Chill until firm. Unmold, garnish with sweetened whipped cream. Serves six.

ZACCHAEUS THE PUBLICAN — A BUSINESSMAN CONVERTED
Luke 19:1-10

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

During the past summer tree sitting became a fad with many ambitious youths, and even some women, who wanted to establish a new kind of record. Zacchaeus also used a tree when he had a supreme purpose in mind. It was while Jesus was passing through Jericho for the last time.

Curiously was doubtless the motive that impelled him to get a sight of the Nazarene, about whom he had heard so much. When he tried to press near the bystanders would be none too gentle in elbowing him away. Then our man of determination ran around the crowd seeking some point of vantage on the road whither the company would pass. A sycamore tree with its outreaching, long-hanging branches revealed the possibility of an unobstructed view and to this place he climbed.

No matter how busy Jesus had been in meeting the queries of individuals who needed help he always was aware of every one else in the crowd. When in sight of the tree-sitter he looked up with recognition. Then the unparalleled thing occurred as Jesus in a kindly manner called Zacchaeus by name. There was still greater amazement when the Passer-by invited himself to be the Guest that day of the man who was held in contempt by the entire community.

When in the presence of Jesus there is instantly the consciousness of unworthiness. Involuntarily there is effort to measure up to His idea of righteousness. A quick audit of his record as tax collector revealed the excesses that had taken place in his office. What he had was wrongfully gained called for restitution. At once one half of his goods are assigned to the poor.

More Turkeys From N. J. Grace Holiday Tables

Thanks to the findings and applications of science. Thanksgiving in New Jersey this year will see a great increase in the number of native turkeys served in homes throughout the state.

This is the report of Prof. W. C. Thompson and L. M. Black, poultry authorities at the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment station, who state that New Jersey's once important turkey growing industry is undergoing a successful revival. This has been made possible because science has shown farmers and poultrymen how to prevent outbreaks of the deadly blackhead disease which, in 1920, began to decimate the flocks of turkeys found on virtually every farm in New Jersey and other eastern states. In the 50-year period from 1870 to 1920, New Jersey's turkey population was reduced from 100,000 to only 8,000 birds, and this serious reduction was brought about almost entirely by the losses, or fear of losses, from the blackhead disease.

Experiment station workers found that blackhead could be prevented by growing the poult, as young turkeys are called, on clean ground and, more recently, they found that the rearing of these birds on wire platforms was an even more certain method of prevention. These findings were carried to the farmers by the extension service of the state agricultural college and three years ago the first serious effort to revive New Jersey's turkey growing industry was made by holding a turkey field day on a Monmouth County farm. This meeting attracted several hundred farmers and poultrymen, many of whom have since started flocks of turkeys on their own farms.

At present there are flocks of turkeys in the county of Essex, Monmouth, Somerset, Burlington and Ocean. On virtually all of these farms, according to Professor Thompson, old methods of rearing poult have given way to the new.

Vienna Chocolate—Put the milk in a double boiler and let it become thoroughly heated. Then add sweet chocolate, broken in small pieces and stir constantly until it is melted. Serve.

Whip Marshmallows—In place of whipped cream, put marshmallows in the bottom of each chocolate cup. Then pour in the hot chocolate and the marshmallow melted, will rise to the top. Use the cheaper marshmallows, as the more expensive ones do not melt.

Thick Hot Chocolate—Mix a teaspoon of cornstarch with a third of a cup of milk. Scald three and a half cups of milk and slowly pour the cornstarch mixture in, stirring all the time. In a double boiler melt two ounces of unsweetened chocolate, simply by omitting the cornstarch.

Chocolate Milk Shake—Put three or four tablespoons of chocolate syrup in a glass and fill it about even slightly full with milk. Then shake vigorously, in a shaker, if you have one, or else by putting a larger glass down over the first one, holding the two firmly in both hands, and shaking back and forth.

Chocolate Syrup—To make a chocolate syrup mix a third of a cup of cocoa with two cups of sugar and slowly add a cup of boiling water. Stir constantly until the boiling point is reached, reduce the heat, and boil for five minutes. Less sugar may be added if this proves too sweet.

LEMON TARTS

Bring to the boil one cupful of sugar, two heaping tablespoons of butter, three eggs well beaten, and the grated rind and juice of a large lemon. Cook slowly while stirring until the mixture is the consistency of honey, cool, fill tart shells, and cover with meringue or whipped cream.

Pineapple Pudding

Butter a baking dish and fill with alternate layers of sponge cake and finely cut and sweetened pineapple, fresh or canned, having cake on top. Pour over one and one-half cups of cold water, cover, and bake for two hours in a moderate oven. Other fruits may be used in the same way.

EGG CROQUETTES WITH BACON

Fry the desired amount of sliced breakfast bacon a nice brown; remove to hot platter. Beat one egg light; add two tablespoons of cold mashed potatoes, celery seed and salt to taste, and enough milk to moisten. Shape and fry a light brown in the bacon fat. Serve on the crisp brown bacon slices.

H. H. BROWN HAS NARROW ESCAPE

Moorestown Man is Buried Beneath 100-Pound Bags of Asbestos

Harvey H. Brown, of Moorestown, narrowly escaped serious injury on Friday afternoon of last week when he was buried beneath a pile of 100 pound bags of asbestos.

Mr. Brown, together with three other men, was unloading and piling up the bags of asbestos at the warehouse of George D. Wetherill & Co., Inc., of Camden, where he is employed. The pile broke without warning, burying Brown and Arthur Duncan, of Oaklyn, beneath the heavy bags, while the two other men, who were up on the pile were thrown down, but only partially covered.

One of the victims suffered a fractured rib and another a fractured wrist. All were badly bruised.

The Moorestown man suffered a fractured toe and a bad cut on the chin which took six stitches to close. The men were dug out in not more than five minutes, placed in an ambulance and rushed to the West Jersey Hospital where they were treated. All were released.

Mr. Brown is still confined to his bed but expected to be up in a few days.
