Phyllis Kemble, of Delanco, presided. The meeting was opened by singing, led by Mrs. William Grobler, of Moorestown. Devotions were led by Bordentown High School Girl Reserve.

SCOUT PROGRAM FOR TROOP 59

Will Attend Church In a Body Sunday; Father and Son Banquet Feb. 11

While Troop 59, Boy Scouts of America, has been getting a great deal of publicity in Riverton because of its activities in promoting its new headquarters, there is another Boy Scout Troop in Riverton which has been quietly going on and efficiently carrying out the Scout program. This is Troop 59, made up of colored Scouts.

Troop 59 meets in the basement of Mt. Zion M. E. Church on Penn street. Rev. S. H. Barker, pastor of the church, is Scoutmaster. The Troop committee is composed of Howard Washington, Sr., Wilson Gale, Sr., and Howard Conwell. The first two members of the committee are "Scout Fathers" as well as committee men. They each have sons in the troop.

The troop now has two patrols, the Lion Patrol, and the Eagle Patrol. Scout Victor Washington is Patrol leader of the Lions, Scout Charles Willis is assistant Patrol leader. Scout Wilson Gale, Jr., is Patrol leader of the Eagles.

Practically all of the troop are second class Scouts and are well on the way toward first class rank. Most of the boys have uniforms. Rivertonians who attended the July 4th parade last summer probably remember the snappy appearance of the colored Scouts of Troop 59 in that parade.

Troop 59 is planning an active program for Scout Week, beginning February 6th. The troop will attend church in a body on Sunday, February 8th. On Wednesday, February 11th, a Father and Son banquet will be held at which it is expected that every man who has a son in the troop will be present with his son. As is customary throughout the country, all members of the troop will wear their uniforms to school each day during Scout week.

MINNIE H. DEY

Minnie H. Dey, widow of the late Augustus A. Dey, died at her home, 431 Thomas Avenue, Riverton, Wednesday afternoon, February 4th. She resided with her brother, Isaac S. Malsbury at 431 Thomas Avenue and had been ill for several years.

Mrs. Dey was an old resident of Riverton and during her life had been active in church work, teaching Sunday school and participating in countless activities in the Presbyterian Church.

Funeral services will be held from her late home Saturday, February 7, at two o'clock in the afternoon, with the Rev. Charles T. Bates officiating. Interment private in the Morgan Cemetery, Funeral Director Frank A. Snover in charge. Friends may call Friday evening.

Boyer; secretary, Mrs. Joshua W. Allen; roll call chairman, Mrs. William G. Porter and publicity chairman, Mrs. A. E. Warnick.

SCOUTS ALL SET FOR BIG EVENT

Riverton Troop 50 Also Plans Full Program for Scout Week

Troop 50, Boy Scouts of America, is all set for the big concert Friday night. It is promised that those who attend will be amazed at the quality of music which the Philadelphia Harmonica Band can produce with the humble harmonica. As rendered by this famous band, harmonica music has reached musical merit.

It is expected that the "Standing Room Only" sign will be hung out before the concert begins, and so it is advisable to arrive early in order to insure getting seats.

The new headquarters of the Troop will be opened for inspection on Friday evening so that all friends of the Troop who attend the concert will also be able to see the splendid work which has been done by the boys and by their friends, with the most generous financial assistance of the Riverton business men.

Troop 50 expects to take part in the nation-wide celebration of Boy Scout Week which begins Sunday, February 8th. The Harmonica Band concert, although it comes two days before Scout Week officially opens, is really the first Riverton event of that week. On Sunday morning, February 8th, the troop will attend church service in a body at Christ Church, Riverton, and all of the parents and friends of the troop, no matter what religious denomination they may belong to, are urged to attend this service. This service is a very interesting and impressive one.

During the week of February 8th most of the members of the troop will wear Scout uniforms to school, as is the custom throughout the country. On Friday, February 12th, will take place the first official ceremony in the new headquarters. This ceremony is a Court of Honor at which all Scout badges earned by the troop, except the three Eagle badges already referred to, will be presented. At this ceremony the new ceremonial equipment, built large through the efforts of two Scout fathers, Mr. Wolfenbarger and Troop Committee member Gilbert Coe, will be used. Parents and friends of the troop are also invited to attend this beautiful Court of Honor ceremony.

During Scout Week the official drive for the annual budget of Burlington County Council will be held. This drive is to raise necessary money to carry on Scouting in the county as a whole, and it has no connection at all with the local work being done by the Riverton troops. The loan which has been so generously made to Troop 50 to help in the drive for the County Scout budget to the fullest possible extent, and will also support the local Scouts by turning out in full numbers to see and enjoy the various concerts and entertainments which will be put on from time to time by the troop.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The regular monthly business meeting of The Porch Club was held on Tuesday afternoon, February 3, and was followed by an enlightening address by Mrs. Frederic Beggs, the State Federation chairman on International Relations.

Mrs. Beggs gave a graphic account of a week spent in Washington, where she attended a convention composed of delegates from many states who discussed the cause of and the cure for war.

Mrs. Beggs brought to the meeting the enthusiastic conviction that the United States should be a member of the World Court. She suggested that women could make a valuable contribution to peace by stirring up individual and community interest in international relations and the World Court. Her confidence of success is placed on the argument—Intelligent investigation or discussion of the facts will convince persons of the wisdom in insulating that the United States become a member of the World Court.

PHI NU CLASS

The lesson for Sunday, February 8, is "Jesus, the World's Teacher." The golden rule is the golden text. Jesus came to teach us how to live on earth so that we might enter a higher, fuller life later on.

RIVERTON PASSES RED CROSS QUOTA

Cheerful Spirit of Helpfulness Shown In Gifts Ranging From 10c to $100

The spirit of helping which seems always to arise in times of human need has been shown in Riverton in our little community during the last week, when the Red Cross appeal for funds for the drought sufferers met with a response which sent Riverton's contribution well over the quota set. Fifteen hundred dollars gives the goal $100.00 and has already been received.

The sum was contributed in amounts from ten cents to one hundred dollars according to the ability of the giver—but large or small, the same fine, unselfish wish to do something for someone else less fortunate, prompted the gift.

The warmest thanks and heartiest congratulations are due not only those who contributed their time and effort in this campaign, but to everyone who gave any part of the splendid $1,500.00.

And speaking of totals, it may be interesting to note here that, outstanding among relief organizations, Red Cross administration costs are unofficially conceded to be not more than 10 per cent. For everyone who gives through this channel may be confident of getting the most for his money in real help given. Furthermore, in times of special crisis like the present, the regular staff of Red Cross clerks work without additional help, contributing their overtime to the cause which they know to be so worthy.

And now once more, to everyone who helped the warmest, heartiest "Thank you!"

MRS. A. E. WARNICK, Publicity Chairman

"EMOTIONAL HABITS" BEING STUDIED BY PTA

Groups Hold Informal Discussions on Child Welfare Topics Will Meet Tomorrow

"Keep your temper—nobody else wants it!" "It is not so much a problem of eradicating an instinctive tendency such as anger, but rather, through education, training and experience, teaching the child to control it, so that it shall not control the child. This control, if it is to be of real value, must come from within the child and should not be something superimposed from without. Anger that is repressed from day to day because of fear of punishment is only so much emotion pent up and accumulating until it reaches a breaking point. Like some infernal machine, it explodes at a most inopportune time."

Such is the theory which is now being studied by the Palmyra P. T. A. discussion groups. The foregoing is an excerpt from Dr. D. A. Thoms' book, "Everyday Problems of the Everyday Child," and is one of the many helpful suggestions being followed by the P. T. A.

The discussions are being carried on in occasional informal neighborhood meetings and during the first half hour of the regular meetings of the association, held the third Tuesday of each month.

One discussion group met last evening at the home of Mrs. Horace Ross with "Emotional Habits" as the topic. The same topic will be used at another meeting tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Julius Caprano, 419 Morgan Avenue. It is hoped those who missed yesterday's meeting will make an earnest effort to attend Friday's session.

HARMONY

Forty talented performers will entertain the people of Riverton, Palmyra and vicinity at the Parish House, Christ Church, Riverton, Friday night.

The Philadelphia Harmonica Band will officially open Scout Week in Riverton.

GROVES ESTATE GOES TO FAMILY

Game Trophies May Eventually Go To The Academy of Natural Sciences

The estate of Frederick Stanley Groves, insurance broker, dairyman and big game hunter, who died at the Evergreens, near Riverton, is to be divided between his widow and three children, under the terms of his will probated at Mount Holly.

No valuation was placed on the estate but it is estimated to be worth between $25,000.00 and $30,000.00.

Groves died his life January 18 in his den by shooting himself as the result of ill health. The interest on the principal of his stock and bonds goes to his wife, Theresa Dornier Groves, during her natural life and is to be divided among their three children at her death or to their children in the event of the demise of their parent.

His mansion and estate on the Riverton-Moorestown road goes to the widow. His two ranches and all other lands in Wyoming go to the widow. One was formerly owned by William P. "Buffalo Bill" Cody at Ishamwood, near Cody, Wyo.

Trophies to Children

His trophy house filled with stuffed big game he had killed while hunting in the frontier and the frozen north is bequeathed to his daughters. The collection is housed in a trophy house erected at the cost of $50,000 and is said to be worth $1,000,000. When his children die of these trophies they are to be presented to the Academy of Natural Sciences, Philadelphia.

Bronze statues made especially for him by sculptors are bequeathed to his daughters. His library, valued at several thousand dollars, and the statue called "End of the Trail," goes to his daughter, Theresa. The statue "Outlaw," "Bronco Buster," and "Mountain Sheep" go to May Theresa Groves. "The Rattler," "The Hunter" and "Nick Carson" are given to Constance Groves.

Jewels valued at thousands of dollars are to be divided among his daughters and his wife. Charlotte Elaine receives his emerald cuff links and scarf pin. May Theresa will receive his sapphire ring, cuff links, scarf pin and diamond horseshoe pin. Constance will receive a pearl sash, studs and diamond golf pin. His wife receives the balance of his jewelry, his livestock, automobiles and all personal property. His dairy farm with prize cows is one of the finest in the country.

Widow Is Executrix

His stock and bonds are to be turned over to the Burlington County Trust Company, Moorestown, which bank will act as executrix. The widow is also named executrix. Interest from the bonds will be paid the widow quarterly payments.

The income from the estate will be divided equally among the three daughters upon the death of their mother. In the event they die before their mother and are survived by children, their shares will go to the grandchildren.

Groves made only one cash bequest, $10,000 to his secretary, Marion Hutton. The will was drawn by former Judge William D. Lippincott, Moorestown, and signed June 22, 1929, and witnessed by Anna M. Carson and Elizabeth Brown. It is written in 11 pages and contains 3300 words.

MRS. OWEN SPEAKS ON CHILD WELFARE

Florida Congresswoman Discusses Bills at Riverside Rally

Congresswoman Ruth Bryan Owen, of Florida, daughter of the late William Jennings Bryan, Friday evening addressed a rally of Burlington County Parent-Teacher Associations at Riverside.

Mrs. Owen discussed child welfare bills which she intends to sponsor in Congress. The bills would create a Department of Home and Child in the President's cabinet.

She said the purpose of the new department is to promote and foster education, home, family life and child welfare. Her direct topic was "The Youth of Today."

The lecture was in charge of Louis J. Kaser, county superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Nina O. Franz, Moorestown, chairman of the student fund committee. The lecture was one of a series of three given in and around the county.

Students who graduate from Mount Holly, Riverside, Moorestown, Burlington, Palmyra and Pemberton High Schools may use the fund to obtain higher education. More than 1300 attended the lecture which was given in Riverside High School auditorium.

Lucky Tickets for FREE CHEVROLET Going Very Slowly

Despite a previous announcement that the free Chevrolet campaign would have to be prolonged due to the poor sale of the lucky number coupons, further reports show that but very little increase has resulted in their purchase by the merchants of Palmyra and Riverton.

Until a sufficient number of these tickets have been bought by the dealers taking part in the campaign, the car will not be given away. Advance expectations in the sale of these coupons have been far in excess of the actual sale and the drive, instead of continuing for an eight week period, as originally planned, has already lasted longer than the time expected.

Neither the American Legion, sponsors of the campaign, nor Emil Eschenman, Palmyra Chevrolet dealer, can account for the lack of interest in the drive. Either dealers are forgetting to give away the tickets to persons making the necessary one dollar purchase, or the buyers are not asking for the coupons.

Some of the dealers are doing more than their share in distributing the lucky pasteboards, and are carrying the brunt of the campaign. Others have not given away their quota but at the same time are reaping the benefit of the advertising which is being done in conjunction with drive. Until such time as sufficient tickets have been distributed, the new Chevrolet must stay on display, instead of being put to use for the pleasure of the person with the lucky number.

INTERSTATE BUS LINES MAY CARRY LOCAL NJ RIDERS

State Transportation Board Asked To Grant Permits to Philadelphia Buses

DELEGATES OF RIVER TOWNS MET MONDAY

Representatives Also Favor Replacement of Trolleys by Motor Coaches

A meeting of river front town representatives was held Monday night for the purpose of discussing mutual transportation problems, including the substitution of buses for trolleys on the Camden-Trenton route, and the granting of permits allowing interstate buses to have "open doors" for intrastate passenger service on the bus line between Philadelphia and Burlington.

The proposed replacement of the present trolley service with motor buses, made by the Public Service Coordinated Transport Company of New Jersey, met with the approval of delegates from Bensalem, Palmyra, Riverton, Riverside and Burlington. The representatives also voted in favor of asking the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners to allow the interstate buses to carry intrastate passengers. This request came after the refusal of the board to grant a like permit to the Public Service last year.

Residents of the river front towns also complained about dangerous late bus limits along the route. They complained that passengers in one section are paying higher fares than in another in another section for a longer distance.

The meeting marked the first step of the transportation project for 1931 of the Camden Chamber of Commerce. Included in the program is work for the passage of bridge transportation legislation in Pennsylvania, a union railroad terminal to be built in Camden, a merger of the Reading and Pennsylvania railroads in South Jersey and a passage of the Parker bus bill in Congress.

The Camden County Chamber of Commerce also voted its approval of the proposed $10,000,000 high speed line across the Camden-Philadelphia route. The proposed line would operate between Haddon Avenue and Carman street, Camden, and the subway at Eighth and Race streets, Philadelphia.

Leonard R. Baker, chairman of the transportation committee, presided at the meeting, which also was attended by Herbert Harper, superintendent of transportation in the South Jersey division of the Public Service. Others who were on hand are Chairman Floyd W. Bahr of Palmyra; Albert E. Brady, county executive secretary; Willard Lees, Bensalem township committee; W. C. Jones, Burlington Chamber of Commerce; E. K. Merrill, Riverton; V. C. McKinn, secretary, Burlington Chamber of Commerce; George J. Pittman, Riverton; E. Brady, county executive secretary; Willard Lees, Bensalem township committee; W. C. Jones, Burlington Chamber of Commerce; George Prince and C. J. Mooney, Camden Chamber of Commerce; and Daniel J. McConnell, Public Service Coordinated Transportation Company.

CONVENTION OF NJ SCHOOL ADVISERS TO BE IN PALMYRA

State Journalistic Association Will Meet in High School on March 6

OFFICIAL INVITATIONS SENT BY MAYOR WIMER

Delegate Will Come From All Over State; Fine Program is Arranged

The two publication staffs of the Palmyra High School will be the hosts to the New Jersey branch of the National Association of Journalism Advisers, March 6. The conference will begin at 2 o'clock in the high school auditorium and continue until 9 o'clock. The program arranged by the Palmyra staffs will be of interest to all those teachers and students of New Jersey who are interested in school newspapers, year books or school magazines.

The program of speakers will include some of the most widely known speakers on journalism in the eastern part of the United States. Fred Fuller, editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, will speak in the afternoon on "Editing a Newspaper." Charles H. Herold, Jr., editor of the Temple University News, will address the conference, choosing as his subject, "High School Journalism As a Preparation for College Journalism."

Another interesting part of the program will be the round-table discussions on the various phases of publication work. Some of the outstanding men who have been procured to lead these discussions are Prof. Herbert R. Rice, of the School of Journalism, Rutgers University; Stephen R. Little, of Princeton, N. J.; Thomas J. Blizard, of Pemberton, N. J.; H. B. Arthur, of Chicago, Ill.; and H. H. Mellick, of Philadelphia-Weeks Engraving Company, Philadelphia, Pa.

The evening session will have for its theme, "Education and the Newspaper." Dr. Watts is one of the best known speakers in the Philadelphia district on this line of work.

The National Association of Journalism Advisers is a national organization of high school teachers who are interested in school publications. William H. Plank, Palmyra instructor and adviser of the high school year book, was elected membership chairman for the national convention of this organization, held in Cleveland, Ohio, early last December. Through his efforts, the state organization is being started and the conference is being held in Palmyra.

Elaborate plans are being made to have this conference one of the best things Palmyra has ever had in the way of conventions. The mayor and council are sending official invitations to all the schools of New Jersey to send representatives.

The Palmyra School Board is financing the publicity for the conference, and the Tacony-Palmyra Bridge Company is co-operating in making delegates' badges possible. The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey is sending maps to the high schools in the state, with full directions of the route to be followed in order to get to Palmyra. All three magazines published by the National Association of Journalism are giving the conference a great deal of notice, thereby procuring national publicity for the town.

The full list of speakers has not as yet been made up and several persons of national reputation in journalistic fields will probably be guest speakers of the conference. The Palmyra students who are working on the project expect the occasion to be a "Red Letter Day" for both the school and the town.

CATCH PALMYRA MAN WITH CARGO OF BEER

Troopers Find 17 Half Barrels of Brew in Truck Stopped Near Beverly

William Runner, 28 West Broad street, Palmyra, was arrested Wednesday by State Troopers Forkin and Rutter, of the Columbus barracks for driving a truck in a reckless manner. Runner was unable to produce a driver's license when stopped by the police.

Joseph Francis Smith, of Philadelphia, riding with Runner, was also arrested and both were taken to Mount Holly for a hearing. Runner, arraigned before Justice of the Peace Kincaid, was first sentenced to the county jail for twenty days in default of a fine for driving without a license. The meeting was the most enthusiastic ever staged by the organization and a large number of county leaders who have been active in scout affairs were present.

H. M. Wall, who served the organization for the year as re-elected president, George del. Keim was unanimously elected honorary president.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Advisory Board: W. C. Coles, H. F. Hall, E. R. F. Johnson, G. del. Keim, W. E. Robb, Dr. S. Emlen Stokes, George B. Ferrier, Herbert Kieckhefer and Alexander Wood, Jr. President, H. M. Wall; vice president, Avery L. Bennett, LeRoy Church, Edward A. Mechliff, E. Russell Perkins and William Vandergrift; treasurer, F. P. Jones, Jr.; commissioner, William C. Avery; finance, N. F. S. Russell.

Schuck Delivers Talk Arthur G. Schuck, head of the National Boy Scout Field Department, speaking at the banquet, addressed which was most enthusiastically received. He said in part:

"Scouting in America has come of age. The baby has grown to manhood and it has been a strong child. Four and one-half million boys have been scouts. Another million men have been connected with the movement."

"The scout movement came to America because a boy in an English boy directed a lost man on his way. The man's interest was aroused when on arriving at his destination the boy refused a tip. From the trunk full of literature brought over here because of that noble 'good turn' came the American Scout organization. And the boy whose 'good turn' is known around the world, is today still unknown."

"One of the greatest thrills of my lifetime was the international jamboree in 1929. These scouts from different nations—a Brotherhood of Youth, meeting in the interest of universal peace. Who could but be thrilled."

"From a humble but consecrated beginning our program has grown—reach from city to town, to village, hamlet and even to open country. And so great has been its appeal that everywhere it has outstripped professional leadership."

"Believe in Youth" "We need not fear for the future of America so long as the manhood of America so enthusiastically serves the youth of America. Believe in the youth of today. It will measure up to the best in all the ages. But youth faces problems—problems of no age faced before. Society demands the time of adults, today and less time is given youth."

"Scouting appeals both to a boy's interests and to a boy's heart. Through the nature of the program the boy's interest is captivated—and then through the scout ideals we reach the boy's heart."

"Roosevelt said 'The one source of manhood is boyhood. The test of the manhood of each generation is what it does for the coming generation. We are writing history through the hearts of a million boys. Four and a half million boys have been taught the meaning of service. We are paving the way for greater community service. The daily good turn is doing it.'"

N. F. S. Russell, chairman of the finance committee, reported that $25,000 deficit of a year ago had been cut down to $500. By means of economic expenditures and the generosity of those approached by a special committee headed by George del. Keim, this had been accomplished.

The report of Arthur C. Luce, of Moorestown, scout commissioner, revealed a substantial increase in both scout membership and the conditions of the scouts throughout the county.

Four Sea Scout Ships Brian Kane, Sea Scout chairman, reported four sea scout ships with a membership of fifty boys. He expressed the belief that this membership would be doubled this year and mentioned the proposed summer cruise to be taken by the sea scout in July.

In reporting on scout advancement, M. K. Perinichief, of Mount Holly, quoted figures stating that the Burlington county scouts rank above the average this year.

Senator Clifford R. Powell spoke of the many acts of service performed by the scouts, including fighting forest fires, assisting in clean-up campaigns, unemployed relief service and Christmas toy repairing.

Charles Cunningham, of Riverton, was detained from attending the meeting and Frank McIlvaine, of Beverly, reported many further activities of the scout affairs.

The camp committee, headed by Edward A. Mechliff, also made an interesting report, which was filled with helpful suggestions and interesting facts regarding camp events. William R. Herman, Moorestown Eagle Scout, was honored as one of the winners of the Harmon scholarships. Herman was selected from candidates in New York and New Jersey for this honor.

72-YEAR-OLD MAN GETS JAIL TERM

Former Maple Shade Resident Guilty of Passing Bad Checks

Judge Charles A. Ring had a difficult case to consider at Thursday's session of Common Pleas Court when Frank Farrell, 72 years old, formerly of Maple Shade, but more recently of Philadelphia, who was brought to this county on extradition papers about a week ago, came before him to plead to two indictments of forgery and one for securing money under false pretenses.

In connection with the case, a son, Oscar G. Farrell, of the same address, also indicted. Later it was ascertained that the father was the moving spirit in the transactions, and the case against the son was ordered nolle prossed on motion of the prosecutor.

The elder Farrell, who is broken in health and just recovering from an attack of pneumonia, had forced two checks on the Roxboro, Pa. bank. It was claimed, to secure funds to support himself and he had also passed a worthless check for $40 on one of the chain stores in Maple Shade. He pleaded guilty to all the charges.

Sentence was suspended on the forgery indictments but Farrell was given six months in the county jail on the charge of securing funds on false pretenses.

James Cathlin, of Delran township, indicted for misdemeanor, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $50.

Peter Mendallia, of Maple Shade, sentenced the week previous to pay a fine of $75 for having utensils for the manufacture of liquor in his possession. He has been unable to secure the money. It being brought to the attention of the court that the man's wife and children are in distress, Mendallia was brought back and resented, this time being given one year in which to pay the fine.

INCENDIARISM SEEN IN MT. HOLLY FIRES

Blazes Occur Within Two Hours, Only Short Distance From Each Other

A firebomb is believed to have been operating in Mount Holly. Two fires occurred within two hours. The first was discovered in time to prevent any damage, while the second was not within a short distance of the first and caused a loss of about $5,000.

The first occurred about 10 o'clock Saturday evening at the old Mill street hotel property, when a pile of rubbish near some barns was discovered on fire. This noon was extinguished.

The other fire broke out at 92 o'clock, destroying a large barn and garage belonging to the George D. Worrell, Inc., plumbing firm in the rear of Pine street, near the garage buildings of George G. Dennis. The entire frame barn was ablaze when discovered.

Some campers, along the upper creek, who have rabbits along the stream and occupy them over the week-end even in winter, stated that they saw a man running away from the barn after it burst into flames.

CAR ROBBERY SUSPECT GIVEN UP AT MT. HOLLY

Earl Anderson, of Bordentown, who had been sought by the police since the robbery of freight cars at Bordentown, surrendered to the state police and was committed to the county jail in Mount Holly by justice of the Peace Frank Lockman, of Columbus. David D. Moore and William Roach, of Beverly, were committed for court by Recorder John Thompson. They are charged with the robbery of an overcoat valued at $25 and a saxophone valued at $100 from Beebe Roberts, of Beverly. George Houghton, of Rochling, was committed for 10 days by Recorder Frank S. Absalom, of Florence on complaint of his wife, with whom he does not live, for annoying her and being drunk and disorderly.

"FREE BRIDGES" SAVE MOTORISTS $4,000,000

New Jersey and Pennsylvania motorists are saving an average of $4,000,000 annually in tolls through the freeing of fourteen toll bridges, connecting the states, according to figures made public by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey.

Last year alone, the estimated saving was $995,326.75 in excess of the total cost of the bridges, including improvements and, in some instances, complete reconstruction.

"This," said a statement by the club, "is the first time a complete analysis has been made of the financial aspects of the free bridge situation with relation to the advantage accruing to the motoring public."

At our request the engineers of the New Jersey-Pennsylvania Commission for Elimination of Toll Bridges made traffic studies in recent months upon which to base the estimates of total flow for the year 1930.

"The total estimated traffic for the year is 16,119,659 vehicles. At an average of 25 cents per vehicle, the saving to motorists is $4,029,914.75."

STATE POLICE DENY POLITICS IN SHIFT

Corporal Johnson Is Demoted to Trooper and Will Be Transferred

Denial that politics figured in a reported shakeup of troopers at the Delaware state police barracks was made by Sergeant George Wilson, of the Freehold barracks.

Sergeant Wilson denied that any "shake-up" was in prospect. Reports were circulated yesterday that troopers declared a "shake-up" were framed by Burlington politicians.

Wilson was asked about the report that a political machine was operating that a disorderly house had been allowed to operate near the barracks.

"That's the first we have heard about it," Wilson declared. "As for other members of the 'machine' from Delaware being brought on the carpet, it's all news to me."

CAMDEN MAN INJURED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Frank Rockswold, aged 25, of 532 North Ninth street, Camden, is in the Burlington County Hospital at Mount Holly with cuts and bruises of the head and body and a bad gash on his right knee as the result of an auto accident Saturday night. Rockswold was driving alone the South Pemberton road, near Mount Holly, when his machine ran off the side of the road, which is being repaved, and the car overturned. He was thrown through the top of the car.

ASSEMBLY BILL MERITS SUPPORT

Fish and Game Commissioners' Head Favors Increased License Fee

H. J. Burlington, president of the Board of Fish and Game Commissioners recently said in reference to Assembly Bill No. 54, introduced by Clarence A. Ward, of Union County, to increase the resident hunting and fishing license fee, that the measure is strongly supported by hunters and fishermen, and their organizations.

"The passage," he said, "of this bill would mean more game and better shooting and more fish and better fishing than at present. With the increased license fee, the output of fish and game could be doubled, and fishing and hunting grounds could be acquired, which are absolutely necessary for good hunting and fishing and to be continued in New Jersey."

"The hunters and fishermen are gradually being deprived of the best hunting and fishing grounds by private clubs and individuals who post their properties."

"The present fee for a resident hunting and fishing license, including the license fee, $1.85, and a combination of the cost of such privileges in the United States shows that thirty-seven states have a larger fee than New Jersey."

"Against this background, the proposed increase in this State seems very reasonable. Not much as a matter of the states now having higher fees have great stretches of wild lands and small populations as compared to their size while in New Jersey, with its congested population, the fish and game supply can only be kept up by intensive stocking."

T. B. RATE REDUCED

Death Rate in County Reduced 41 Per Cent in Ten Years

The twelfth annual report of the Burlington County Tuberculosis League, of which Dr. M. W. Newcomb, of Brown's Mill, is the president and Dr. J. S. Hollingshead, of Pemberton, is the executive secretary, shows that some wonderful results are being attained in the treatment of tuberculosis in this county, the death rate having been reduced forty-four per cent in the last ten years.

The league conducts three clinics each month for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis as follows: Burlington County Hospital, first and third Mondays with Dr. Newcomb in charge, assisted by Dr. Samuel Busanisky; Town Hall at Riverside last Friday of each month, with Drs. R. I. Dwyer and Walter Zwick in charge.

In addition, all the schools of the county are visited by Mrs. Hollingshead, who is a trained nurse, and she has the assistance of Lillian Brumfield and Marie Withers, both of whom are experienced trained nurses.

The number of clinic patients has increased 70 per cent in one year, from 389 patients in 1929 to 658 in 1930. The receipts for last year amounted to $16,228.25, disbursements, $16,342.26, which left a balance at the beginning of this year of $5,895.79. In the preventative fund there is a balance of $5,965.77.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

Just about every newspaper in the United States carried the news last week about the proposed dirigible terminal at Moorestown. This project is so big and means so much to the city and surrounding territory that we are afraid it is too great to expect. Immediately Moorestown and Burlington County would acquire world-wide fame.

Knowing the men and companies interested in the International Zeppelin Transport Corporation, we would say fortunate, indeed, is the community picked as the site of dirigible base. We are quite sure every possible means will be used by practically everyone in Moorestown and vicinity to secure the new landing field.

Picture these huge liners of the air, much larger than the great Zeppelins, carrying tons of mail and express, and many passengers landing and taking off each week at Moorestown.

Many large cities along the Atlantic seaboard are very anxious to have this project located within their limits and will bend every effort and spend thousands of dollars to entice on their particular advantages. As a matter of fact, we know that Baltimore really expects to get the dirigible base.

It must be remembered that it will take about three years to complete the base and build ships, provided the McNary-Parker merchant shipyard still passes Chancery. By that time Route 33 will be completed, taking the burden of traffic and favored insurance from the main streets of the town.

The Burlington County Aero Club is heartily in favor of the proposed project and will work unceasingly to bring to Moorestown and Burlington County the most desirable air center in the East.

MOORESTOWN MAY BE 'ZEP' TERMINAL

Burlington County Being Considered For Trans-Atlantic Airport

Moorestown is expected to become the American center of trans-Atlantic dirigible service and persons highly enthused by the prospects of this new mode of international transportation are establishing its American base here, declaring that the service may be started within two years.

A 1200-acre tract of beautiful, low land, on the Union Mill Road, between Mount Laurel and Church street, just south of Moorestown and in Mount Laurel township, is already under option and is being developed as the full site for the first commercial international lighter-than-aircraft terminal in United States.

The broad fields which stretch out under ideal weather conditions and offer many of the most favorable landing qualifications in the country will, in all probability, be the American home-ground for giant air-liners.

These liners of the sky will rival in size and passenger capacity the epic Graf Zeppelin. It is fully anticipated that these Europe-to-America ships will leave the United States and return on a weekly schedule. They will take only forty-eight hours to make the trip from Moorestown to the European field, which will be located some place between Paris and Berlin.

48 Hours to Berlin

The picture painted Saturday by Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce officials who visited the site they are advocating, envisions the possibility, within two short years, of leaving Moorestown Saturday morning and arriving in Berlin on Monday morning.

The Moorestown site was designated by J. C. Hunsaker, head of the International Zeppelin Transport Company, last Thursday before Congress in Washington, D. C., as the ideal site out of eighty-four considered to date by his company for the American terminus of trans-Atlantic transportation.

During last summer and the early fall, under the direct supervision, within a twenty-mile radius of Philadelphia were investigated. Possible locations both in Pennsylvania and New Jersey were inspected, until finally five suitable sites were picked. Three months ago, after several conferences of engineers and aviation experts, it was decided that the broad fields at Moorestown offered the best facilities.

Virtually every city in the Eastern section of the United States, including Washington, Baltimore and Richmond, made but for the establishment of the terminal in their vicinity.

Many Lost Out

Tall towers in which meteorological instruments were set up for the purpose of testing out weather conditions during a six-month trial period. Very soon after the test started, many cities dropped out of the competition because they foresaw that their sites did not offer the type of weather so necessary for the safe-landing of a great Zeppelin.

New York and Trenton were among the first two cities to be dropped from the list entirely. Both had conditions of fog that would cause considerable danger to the landing of the lighter-than-air craft.

Meanwhile Moorestown became an increasing center of interest to officials of the Zeppelin Company. After a month they saw the weather records kept day by day by means of the instruments located in the skeleton tower of steel shafts. They saw that the site itself is sixty miles away from the sea and the coast. They saw the unusual flatness of the land and its boundary line of ridges or hillocks which would shut out ground winds that so frequently impede the take-off of the Zeppelin. They were told that the new site was two miles away from the path of the mail plane routes and would thus escape interference in time of storm and possible accident with these planes. And last, but by far not the least important point, they saw the proximity of the site to Philadelphia and a tremendously large surrounding population.

20 Minutes to Philadelphia

With Philadelphia only ten miles away accessibility to the terminal will be still greater upon the completion of State Highway Route 28. The new highway will take an almost direct route from the Delaware River bridge to the terminal. Work on the highway will start this spring and its completion is expected by the time a giant air-drome is constructed here. High speed bus lines will make the run from the landing field to Philadelphia City Hall in twenty minutes.

The traveler from foreign shores will find himself in America in two days' time, with the choice of air, rail, steamer or bus transportation out of Philadelphia to any other section of the country, to Canada or to South America.

The project itself will run up into the millions of dollars. Construction of the hangar, administration offices, and service equipment at the terminal will cost $250,000. Two Zeppelins will inaugurate the service between this country and Europe. Two great helium bags are now being constructed at Akron, O., at a total cost of $150,000.

Rates for this high speed air travel will start at $1,000 per passage. The ships will be capable of carrying from fifty to eighty passengers. But as soon as this mode of crossing the Atlantic becomes popular, it is expected that fares will drop and will compete with first-class passage on the average big ocean liner.

It is said the Moorestown site will be known as the "Philadelphia Terminal," since the project has been fostered by the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

"The establishment of the terminal at the Philadelphia site, which now seems virtually a surety, will mean an inestimable boom to Philadelphia," said Fred W. Johnson, service manager of the Philadelphia chamber. "Business should certainly be tremendously augmented."

Operator Drives Bus 145,000 Miles In Four Years Without an Accident

With a record of having driven a bus more than 145,000 miles without an accident, Charles Hampton, Public Service operator, of West Orange, has participated in every safety bonus award made since the Public Service "No-Accident Bonus Plan" was put into effect more than four years ago. The bonus plan calls for a cash award to be paid three times per year to operators who have passed through each four-month period without accident of any kind.

Nineteen years ago Operator Hampton began work as a motorman at Roseville Carhouse, East Orange. On October 15, 1925, he qualified as a bus operator.

Since then he has operated buses on the Amper, Brick Church, Crystal Lake, Harrison Avenue, Montrose, and Orange Crosstown lines without an accident of any kind.

Operator Hampton's remarkable safety record is attributed to good judgment and careful operation. He summarizes it in his own words: "I keep my eyes open at all times. If anyone wants the right of way, I give it to him."

Operator Hampton is now driving a bus on the Orange Crosstown line, Route No. 30, and wears badge No. 2702. He lives at 9 Watchung Avenue, West Orange, with his wife and two children.

SUPPOSED GUNMAN NABBED BY POLICE

An alleged gunman was arrested by Palmyra police Sunday night. The man, Ted Astroski, 4742 Milnor street, Bridgeburg, Pa., was arrested for disorderly conduct at the Palmyra Inn. Police heard he was armed but a search revealed nothing more than an empty arm holster. When he was unable to pay a fine of $25.00 and costs, he was taken to Mount Holly jail. Friends secured his release from the county institution the following day by payment of his fine. Police believe he was warned in time to dispose of his weapon.

"We can visualize Philadelphia as the traffic hub of the country. Every form of transportation will radiate from the Philadelphia-to-Europe air terminal. People will have to come to Philadelphia and leave from Philadelphia who wish to patronize this service."

"The office of the Zeppelin company will be located in Philadelphia. Imports and exports will have to clear through the Philadelphia Customs house."

Options on the farms comprising the 1200 acres are said to expire April 1. The tower is on the Watson farm.

WELFARE FEEDS 90 SCHOOL PUPILS

Report Made to Board Shows Students Getting Free Meals at Cafeteria

The Palmyra High School cafeteria has furnished free lunches to 90 needy children it was reported at the regular meeting of the School Board held last Thursday night.

The total cost of the tickets which have been given to the pupils is $107.50, each ticket entitling the child to $1.75 of foods in the cafeteria. At a previous meeting the school board had granted $100 to be used for this purpose, and it was moved that the difference of $7.50 be concurred in the minutes.

Another report stated that up to the present time, 325 bottles of milk had been distributed, the value of which is $16.25. This is also supplied free of charge to the needy children, the Welfare Association paying the bill.

A report from Prof. C. P. Dengler showed a total enrollment in the Palmyra schools of 1322 pupils, 426 of whom were high school students. The percentage of attendance for the month dropped considerably, reaching a low mark of 94.8 per cent. The matter of deciding whether a holiday be observed on February 12 or 23 was referred to Mr. Dengler.

Mr. Dengler was also requested to attend the Commissioner's conference to be held at Trenton State Teachers' College, February 12.

Charles Davison, president of the board also asked that a notice be made to the school students that serious action will be taken against anyone caught defacing school property.

William H. Plank, a member of the high school faculty, described in detail the joint conference of State High School advisers to be held March 6. In telling of the plans, Mr. Plank noted the co-operation with which the project was meeting. The mayor and borough council are extending an official invitation to schools throughout the state. The Teacup-Palmyra bridge company are having delegates plus made, and the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey are sending marked road maps to each school in the state to assist them in making the trip to Palmyra by motor.

Local organizations are also co-operating to the fullest extent. Ladies of the Baptist Church have promised to serve the banquet, the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club is giving a cup to the delegates coming the greatest distance and the Palmyra Woman's Club is also giving a cup to the school, sending the most representatives. Mr. Plank also said the newspapers throughout the state would give the meeting a great deal of publicity through the efforts of the New Jersey Press Association.

Mr. Davison, in his capacity of board president, reserves the right to call for a re-organization meeting of the school board. This meeting, it was announced, will be held Thursday, February 26, the regular meeting night.

Officers of Palmyra Red Cross Drive Thank Residents for Fine Co-operation

Townpeople Who Have Not Been Called On by Collector May Send Contributions To Mayor Wimer or Ex-Mayor Weart

Palmyra has raised $921.17 of its quota of $1,200 in the drive for funds being made by the American Red Cross to help relieve the drought sufferers.

The officers of the drive report they are very well pleased with the results and wish to thank all those in the town who have helped those poor souls who are not quite so fortunate as themselves.

The drive in Palmyra has even reached the children, as little Philip Trout, of 415 Parry avenue, sent in his own spending money, so that he might say he did his share to help the unfortunate kiddies in the drought area.

If there are any homes which have been missed by collectors, those people may send their contributions to Mayor George N. Wimer, 15 East Broad street, or ex-Mayor James T. Weart, Fourth street and Chinnaminson avenue, Palmyra.

Again, the officers wish to express their thanks for the hearty co-operation of the townspeople.

The following are some true facts about the American Red Cross:

During the recent drive conducted for funds for the relief of drought sufferers in our nation, by a officers committee, collectors reported that there are rumors of vast expenditures in the national headquarters for overhead expenses.

The Palmyra branch American Red Cross would like to give a few figures taken from the annual report, issued each year by the American National Red Cross and available to all at any time.

The latest edition is for the year ending June, 1929. In that year national headquarters expended $15,963,670.74. Only $277,613.83 were used for supervision of service activities in general management, showing conclusively that only about one and three quarters per cent of this vast expenditure was used for overhead expenses.

A later edition of a similar report is in the hands of the executive secretary, Miss Mary W. Sampson, 24 West Union street, Burlington, and may be had upon application.

GIRL SCOUT SCRAPS

The Girl Scouts held their last meeting at the home of Adeline Ross. We were all very glad to see our captain back after her illness, and she took charge of the meeting. We discussed ways and means of getting to the Court of Awards, to be held in the Methodist Church, at Broad and Berkeley streets, Camden, on February 13. Several of the girls from this troop are to receive badges.

Next week we expect to have a First Aid instructor to teach us the more difficult portions of the First Aid merit badge. The meeting will be held at the home of Rose Lu Goldman, Park and Highland avenue, Palmyra.

VIRGINIA BEEOLE, Scribe.

TAKE AWAY THEIR SHOVELS IF THEY WON'T WORK

In these "hard times" one hardly expects to read of a group of men being criticized for laziness.

Yet that is the case. And the group of men accused of being dilatory are employees of the public, men who are employed to work on the roads of our county.

A criticism was offered by several members of the Mount Holly Chamber of Commerce last week that workmen employed in doing county road work are not giving their best efforts to their work, frequently being seen loafing.

County Road Supervisor MacFarland promptly denied the allegations, asserting, "I do not believe there is a force of equal size in the state which returns more honest services for the money paid, than my men."

But on top of this denial from the supervisor, a statement issued by Moorestown Grange says, in part, "In spite of the fact that Mr. MacFarland makes the statement that the county was getting 'the full dollar in value for every dollar expended', the members of Moorestown Grange by observation did not think this was possible. It appears trucks are constantly standing in line and men leaning on shovels during working hours. Private enterprises run on these principles could not long survive."

It is doubtful that the Mount Holly Chamber's action was merely a political move to discredit MacFarland's department. Nor can the Grange statements be considered as biased, for the members of this organization are not idle trouble makers, nor are they political meddlers.

When criticism comes from such groups as a Chamber of Commerce and Grange, there must be some foundation, and while further judgment should not be passed until the matter is thoroughly sifted out, persons in whom authority for the proper conduct of the department is vested, most certainly will want to see the entire matter cleared up.

There are too many men in the county who are anxious to prove their worth on a job, if only one can be found, for this county to hire men who are seen "leaning on shovels during working hours" by members of two prominent and non-partisan organizations.

Members of the present force should not, however, be thrown out of work until it is proved that they are inefficient. But if a man is proved to be unworthy, his shovel should be handed over to another one who knows how and is willing to use it.

YOUNGSTERS AREN'T SO "BAD" AFTER ALL

Persons who freely decry the pace at which the youth of today travels, their ideals or lack of ideals, and generally consign all youngsters to the "how wows", received a rude jolt when the Rev. Malcolm R. Palmer, Mount Holly Baptist pastor, set forth, in a sermon, the answers more than forty county seat high school boys gave to a questionnaire on the "ideal girl".

His survey revealed that more than 90 per cent. of the young men have the highest ideals relative to marriage.

The ideal girl, the boys voted, should be interested in home and sports. She should have love and interest in children and the ballots indicated the very practical side was not overlooked, for there must be an interest in cooking.

Dancing wives and those deeply interested in motion pictures, fashion and cards received slim votes.

While 28 indicated their ideal girl must be a Christian, and 17 declared she must be interested in religion, only three registered the conviction that no moral or religious principle is necessary. The trio who displayed a distinct lack of interest in morals and religion are thought, by the Rev. Mr. Palmer, to be "jokers."

All-in-all, the youngsters are probably not half as bad as they are painted by those who see everything through dark glasses.

CROWELL

Production of munitions of war in the United States did not get organized and under way until Benedict Crowell, a young engineer of Cleveland, was placed in charge.

I saw a lot of Crowell during the war. He was a human dynamo, never resting, ceaselessly driving the huge industrial organization ever assembled, but making everybody like it. After the war, when politicians were doing everything possible to discredit everybody who had served his country, Benedict Crowell was indicted as a criminal because he had ordered war supplies without waiting for the slow action of Congress to authorize the expenditure. The indictments were thrown out of court as entirely unwarranted, and Crowell went back to his engineering work in Cleveland.

Now President Hoover has nominated Crowell to be a brigadier-general of the Reserve Corps, with a reference to his distinguished service during the war and to indicate "my own feeling over what we always considered was a grave injustice."

Even the professional mudslingers, who infect the Senate will hardly try to make political capital out of this belated tribute to Benedict Crowell.

SUCCESS

"Never call a man successful until after he is dead," said an old friend to me the other day. He was worth a million and a half two years ago. That classed him as a "successful" man. Today he has nothing left but his salary. He did not get out of the stock market in time. People now speak of him as unsuccessful, but after he is dead I am confident that he will be eulogized as a great success, not because he made money at any time but because of the work he did in a lifetime planning and building great enterprises. He has already lived long enough to get something enduring accomplished, which few men ever achieve before they are past middle life.

"In all the more difficult callings, the things in which sheer luck and low cunning are of the least importance," said George Luks, the painter, not long ago. "Man is just out of school at sixty. All the solid and enduring work is done by men who have lived long enough to have mastered their calling and life itself."

Real success is measured by achievement, never by money.

FAILURES

New York City is crowded with failure. They are the young men and young women who came from the small towns with an ambition to become painters, musicians, sculptors, authors or dramatists, and have neither the moral courage to go back home and admit to their families and neighbors that they have failed, nor the good sense or ability to get a job at something which they can really do.

One of the most popular plays in New York theatres just now tells what happens to both kinds of ambitious youngsters. "Philip Goes Forth" ought to be shown in every community where there are young people, imagining that they can become rich and famous overnight merely by going to New York and writing or painting.

CHARITY

In a small New England village where I frequently visit live two old people whose lives were ruined in childhood because they were taught to look down upon their neighbors. Their family was then wealthy. Today the old man and his old maid have not a penny left in the world except the old house which is slowly falling into ruin.

But the neighbors, poor people mostly, have kept this old man and woman alive for years and still do. They are too proud to accept food or clothing offered to them, bridling indignantly when anyone suggests they may be in need. So the kindly neighbors leave baskets of provisions on the front stoop, ring the bell and run away. Other neighbors leave firewood in the back yard, drop around after dark and shovel a path through the snow from the gate to the front door.

That is real charity. It is the sort of charity that "vaunteth not itself, is not puffed up," as the stout Apostle Paul puts it in the King James translation of the Bible. And it is probably commoner among the poor than among the rich. Only those who have known the pinch of need know what it means to those who feel it.

FLYING

The airplane business is one which did not feel the business depression of 1930. More planes were made and sold than in any previous year, and the principal companies making them report more unfilled orders on hand than ever before.

The impetus given to flying by Lindbergh's spectacular feat has not died down. Ambitious boys look forward now to learning to fly and eventually having their own planes, as they did a few years ago in respect of automobiles.

A twelve-year-old boy made a solo flight recently after only two hours or so of instruction. The youngsters who start at that age or thereabouts will, of course, be the best pilots of the future, better flyers than any now in the air.

PIKE'S PEAK ENGINE IN 1931 WILLY'S SIX

The same engine that drove the Willys six to victory in the annual Pike's Peak stock car race on Labor Day is again used in the 1931 car. With its dynamic development of 65 horsepower, a top speed of 72 miles an hour and 48 miles per hour in second, the Willys six rates as one of the most powerful, speedy and highly efficient sixes ever brought out in the low priced field.

"Wickershammers" oft remind us—having tonight is quite a fact. But when you know what they pay Calvin, 606 is not bad.

A traveller asked "Where are we at?"

We told him, "This place is Oings But a snap of despair, he sank in a chair. Cause it gave him a pain where Oing sat."

According to the Philadelphia Bulletin Almanac for 1931, there were 129,164 drivers licenses issued in New Jersey during 1929. Sixty-seven of these were issued on the condition that they "drive carefully." That leaves only 128,997 to cause the accidents.

No wonder there are so many arrests for reckless driving.

One more incident to prove that old saw, "You can't fool all of the people, etc." When a "car-rover" was ripe-fruited the other day.

Then there is the barber who told us that the egging of "Rudy" was comparable to the shooting of Lincoln, and also compared the "mumble and moan" man with Mussolini. But then, maybe associating with the ladies so much is beginning to tell on the tonorial artist.

Half a dozen false synonym puns: Furthestmost—I said furthestmost of it. Arson—Arson is in Yale. Customary—Be customary and the rest were there. Invalidate—The invalidate all the pills.

Reconcile—I reconcile be here. Dilate—It is better to dilate than never.

While taking a trip through Ausable Chasm, we noticed what appeared to be water running uphill. We asked our English guide what caused it, and he explained the whole thing in one sentence. He said, "That sir, is just an optical illusion."

People often ask how we write such a good column at these prices. The reason we can do it is because we are located here, "away from the high rent districts."

According to our dictionary, "Moron, n.—A person whose mental development has been arrested at the point reached by the normal child of about twelve years." Humpf! the mentality of the radio "carooner" enthusiasts couldn't be picked up on suspicion, let alone arrested.

We think we discovered a mate for the fellow who says "ethelical," he told us that he "trained the cinders and liggets" in his wrist.

"Many great men have found wood-chopping not a task, but a recreation."—Phila. Inquirer. While we go in for plain knocking and get our recreation by taking other great men to task.

"Fast Comeback in Auto Industry"—headline. What? after all these years of bragging about "quick getaways."

After calling it about everything else under the sun, we are extremely grateful to our brother columnists for leaving us free to tag it, the Wickersham Commission.

And we don't see how they missed it, but we have no record of anyone calling it the "Wickersham Commission."

That $6.06 a word gives us the idea that those "Wickershammers" took every advantage of every possible use of the word "commission."

Now the famous "606" doesn't cure anything.

After reading someone's interview with "Al" Capone, we have concluded he "ain't such a bad feller after all." Probably "Dime novels and cigarettes done it."

We saw an account in a newspaper, a short time ago, of a man who sent a check to a telephone co. to pay for insulators which he had broken when a boy. Destruction of such property unavoidably exposed to the mercy of vandals shows lack of proper home training. We are thankful that we never indulged in any such destructive pastimes in our boyhood, although we did have to suffer considerable chiding from our playmates because of our inability to hit insulators.

Speaking of records, here is one for scientists to ponder and ambitious couples to shoot at. Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kroger, of Council Bluffs, Ia., have 10 children—five sets of twins, all living. They are Clyde and Claude, 18; Addie and Abbie, 16; Floyd and Lloyd, 11; Jean and Jeanette, 7; Donald Dean and Norma Jean, 3 months.

George Sallee, of Fresno, Cal., established a new "free fall" record by dropping 8,625 feet before his parachute opened in an exhibition stunt on Armistice Day. This item is not belated because of any delay in getting back to earth on George's part, but because the government authorities have just made an official announcement of his baragrooth readings.

WAY OF LIFE

BY

Pleasant Places

When he was hardly more than a boy my friend Jim Derieux, one of the editors of the American Magazine, was secretary to the governor of South Carolina.

There was a brilliant young chap in the state administration who at the age of twenty-six held the office of assistant comptroller. He had not intended to run for the comptrollership, but a political faction organized to head him off. This made him mad, and so he did run and was elected.

After holding office for only six months he asked for an interview with the governor.

"What's on your mind?" asked Jim. "I am going to resign."

"Why?" "I'll tell you presently." They went in to the governor's private room, and the young official tendered his resignation. The governor was amazed.

"What's the matter?" he exclaimed. "I thought you were sitting pretty." "I am," said the young man. "That is just the trouble."

"But I don't understand." "Well, Governor, you know this office that I hold is a mighty pleasant place. I'm twenty-seven years old, and it's a very pleasant place indeed. I am afraid of it."

He was afraid he would settle down and become too contented. Afraid that, without hard problems to tackle and stern duties to conquer, he would get flabby and soft. Afraid that at forty he would wake up to find himself a lazy office holder with no ambition and no hope.

Nobody under fifty should be in too pleasant a place.

Robert Undergraff, the writer of business articles, uttered a profound business truth when he counseled, "Never complain about your troubles. They are responsible for the greater part of your income."

Almost any one can hold a job which presents no difficulties; hence such jobs pay small salaries. Men at the top are paid for their willingness to accept responsibility; for the problems that they tackle and the difficulties they lick.

King David wrote: "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; He leadeth me beside the still waters."

But when David wrote that he was a fugitive from Saul, he was fighting through the wilderness, pursued by enemies and wild beasts. The green pastures and still waters were all in his mind.

He never did reach an entirely pleasant place. Even when he became king his life was full of problems, disappointments and hard work. But his soul gave birth to songs that are among the finest of all the ages.

Mrs. Ida Beckler, of Chicago has sued for a divorce charging that her husband gave her a beating on each of their wedding anniversaries.

Lt. Longaker Sees Auto-Giro, Selling For $1500, the Ultimate in Airplanes

Unique, Safety Type of Plane Will be "Fool Proof" and Only Half Hour's Instruction Will be Needed by New Pilots

LT. H. H. LONGAKER

The auto-giro is the ultimate in airplanes. Lieutenant H. H. Longaker, founder of the Burlington County Aero Club, declared in an address before the Moorestown Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting in the Community House last Thursday at noon.

The auto-giro, as manufactured by Pitcairn, in Philadelphia, is now successful and has attained a speed of 120 miles an hour, said the lieutenant, and another company, building a plane along much the same lines, is now preparing to go into production at Philadelphia.

He predicted that in the next ten years excellent planes of the auto-giro type will be selling at $1500 and only a half hour's instruction will be necessary to learn to pilot one. He declared they will be "fool-proof" and there will be little likelihood of any kind of an accident after the short period of instruction. A couple of levers will be pulled to "take off" and fly the plane and landing will be just as simple, the pilot merely floating down to his backyard. Then, too, even if the motor should stop, the descent of the plane will be but fourteen feet a second and a parachute falls at a speed greater than this. He explained that a parachute drops at the rate of sixteen feet a second.

In calling attention to the construction of modern airplanes, the speaker said very few air crashes today are due to structural failures.

Speed is an important phase of the new mode of transportation, said Mr. Longaker. Advancement in this department is shown in the annual speed classic of the air, the Schneider cup race. The event was won in 1913 with a speed of 47 miles an hour, while England annexed the honors in 1919 with a plane that traveled at the astounding speed of 357 miles an hour. He said planes built for this classic are streamlined to the nth degree and if the pilot for whom it is designed should gain ten pounds in weight while it was being constructed, he probably would experience great difficulty in getting into the cockpit of the plane. Thirty-eight regularly scheduled planes now leave Central Airport, Camden, in a day, he said. The New York-Philadelphia-Washington air line is one of the most successful in the world and its equipment is much superior to that of the highly-touted European air lines. This line, he said, is expected to operate on a fifteen minute schedule this summer.

The lieutenant, in closing his address, predicted that most of the mail will be carried by airplanes within the next few years.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack, Rector.

A person can never get true greatness by trying for it. You can get it when you are not looking for it. It is nice to have good clothes, it makes it a lot easier to act decent, but it is a sign of true greatness to act when you are not looking for it just as good as if you had.

One time when Ma was a little girl they had a bird at the house called Bill, that broke his leg. They thought they would have to kill him, but next morning they found him propped up sort of sideways on his good leg, singing. "That was true greatness."

Once there was a woman that had done a big washing and hung it out on a line. The line broke and let it all down in the mud, but she didn't say a word, only did it all over again, and this time she spread it on the line where it couldn't fall. But that night a dog with dirty feet ran over it. When she saw what was done she sat down and did not cry a bit. All she said was, "Ain't it queer that he didn't miss nothing?" That was true greatness, but it is only people who have done washing that know it.

Once there was a woman who lived near a plippen, and when the wind blew that way it was very smelly, and at first when she went there she could not smell anything but pig, but when she lived there a while she learned to smell the clover blossoms through it. That was true greatness. —Essay by English School Girl of twelve years of age.

over the country our people realize the value of and the call to "Go, Preach, Teach" which Christ gave us. At the beginning of December over one million dollars was needed—and our most sanguine hopes could not see success. Laus Deo!

GIRL RESERVES

The topic discussed by the girls Tri-Hi Club on Thursday, January 29, was, "Ready for Service." Some women who were always ready for service were discussed. Then how different people in different professions could be of service to the world. Three new songs were introduced by our chairman, Mildred Mickle, which were sung and enjoyed by all. A scrap book was presented by Mary Rhoades in which we are going to keep memories of meetings or different bits that interest us. The evening was topped by basketball and dodge ball. We want more members. If you are of high school age come out and enjoy with us our good times under the leadership of Miss Harmon and Miss Jewell.

This Week's Schedule

Friday—Riverside at Moorestown; Mount Holly at Burlington; Pemberton at Palmyra.

Palmyra High School boys' basketball team lost its first league skirmish to the fast-stopping Burlington five last Saturday night by a 19-16 score.

Burlington, last year's champs, displayed real form in beating the Pals, who had a string of five successive league triumphs. The win puts Burlington on an even footing with Palmyra in games lost, as the "Burs" met its only defeat several weeks ago when Mount Holly defeated them. Just as last week's game decided whether Burlington would have a chance to go to the county crown, so will the game between Palmyra and Burlington at the latter's floor probably decide the actual winner.

The Burs took an early lead when Captain "Duke" Lippincott tossed in a pair of field goals. During the remainder of the half, Palmyra kept them on even terms, and the period ended with the winners holding a 9-6 edge.

A Palmyra rally in the third quarter kept the fans on edge. Three field goals by Jack Kelly, and a field goal and foul loss by Joe Carr, while the Burs were unable to register more than two field goals, gave the Pals a 15-13 lead as the third period ended. The score was knotted at the beginning of the final chapter, however, when Lippincott again slipped away to count a two-pointer. Miner gave the Pals a slender one-point lead when he dropped a foul loss, but with two minutes to play, an attack by the Pals was broken up and Fandetta, Burlington forward, scored the goal that gave the Burs a well-earned victory. A second field goal by "Pete" Heister, a few seconds before the final whistle blew put the game on ice for the Burlington outfit.

Lippincott was the leading scorer of the Blue and White team, snaring three field goals and one penalty toss for a seven point total. The Burs were unable to stop Kelly, who led the Palmyra scoring with three field goals.

Palmyra lost the game when the players were unable to ease their foul shots. Their shooting from the fifteen foot mark was exceptionally weak, only two of a dozen tries being successful. Burlington was slightly better, registering three out of ten penalty tosses.

GIRLS COURT TEAM IN 4th LEAGUE WIN

Palmyra High's girls' court team continued its undefeated way as leaders of the West Jersey Girls' League last Thursday when Swedesboro was smothered under a 25-6 score at the Palmyra floor.

The victory of the Palmyra was due almost wholly to the brilliant shooting of Dot Shea, whose twelve points represented almost half of her team's total. She garnered four field goals and four fouls in registering this total. Catherine Magin was high scorer for the "Swedes" with four points.

The victory marked the fourth in as many starts for the Palmyra sextette, and enabled them to increase their lead over Woodstown and Merchantville, who are tied for second place in the league.

SPAN AT W. PALMYRA CLOSED TO TRAFFIC

Announcement was made yesterday, by Beale M. Schmucker, Camden County engineer, that the bridge over Pensauken Creek at West Palmyra, marking the dividing line between Camden and Burlington counties, would be closed to all traffic while necessary repairs are being made.

The repairs include the laying of new floor on both approaches. The present girders will be used only as guard rails after the completion of the work. The span, considerably weakened at the present time presents a hazard to all traffic Schmucker said. Previous to the announcement, vehicles of less than four tons were allowed to cross.

The closing of the bridge to heavy traffic has caused a detour in the route of interstate buses and all traffic will now have to be switched to Burlington Pike.

Charles S. Mosses, Edgewater Park contractor who is doing the work, expects all repairs to be made by April 1.

RIVERSIDE DROPS 'BURLS', 22 TO 21

Burlington Fails To Tie Palmyra in League After Startling Upset

A surprise 22-21 victory by Riverside High School over Burlington Tuesday night resulted in Palmyra retaining undisputed possession of first place in the Burlington County League.

The fray was exciting from the start, with the lead changing hands throughout the game. Burlington was ahead at half time, 12-10. The beginning of the second half saw a Riverside rally, and the Burs trailing 14-12. Riverside managed to hold a two-point edge until the last minute of the game, when Fandetta, whose field goal won the Palmyra game last Saturday, again came through with a two-pointer to tie the score at 20-20, necessitating an extra period.

In the extra period Captain Duke Lippincott caged a foul shot, which seemed destined to win the game for the Blue and White, but with a few seconds to go, Moose Kaplan, Riverside forward, let fly from the middle of the floor, and the ball zipped through the cords for the final score of the game, which sent Burlington home on the short edge of the score.

Last year's winners were top heavy favorites to win the Riverside scrap since their impressive victory over Palmyra last week. The defeat is the second big upset for the Burs, the first being suffered at the hands of Mount Holly, when a last minute field goal won them on 20-19. The first defeat came during a game of regulation length, at the Holmes court. Captain Larry Seaman, Al Tice and Russ Keelster started with Kaplan for the winners, while Fandetta, Pitko and Lippincott were the shining lights for Burlington.

MUST QUIT DRINKING TO GET HER CHILD

Former Palmyra Woman's Petition Denied by Vice Chancellor Learning

Decreeing that she must refrain from using intoxicating liquor if she hopes to fulfill the responsibility of a mother, Vice Chancellor Edmund B. Learning yesterday denied the petition of Mrs. Hazel Keuser who sought the custody of her son, Emmanuel Thomas Keuser, two years old.

Temporary custody of Emmanuel was awarded to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Keuser, of Palmyra. The case was heard in Camden Chancery Court Monday and Tuesday.

Vice Chancellor Learning ruled that the mother, who lives at 745 Corinthian avenue, Philadelphia, could see her son at any time and might make another application for custody in the future.

The boy has been cared for by his grandparents since he was a few months old. The child's father committed suicide December 29, 1930.

In fighting the mother's petition, the boy's grandfather testified that his daughter-in-law "drinks to excess and was not a fit person to have custody of the boy."

BOY SCOUT WEEK PLANS ANNOUNCED

Full Program Planned For Celebration of 21st Birthday of Organization

Friday, February 6th, ushers in the most outstanding event of the year for the Boy Scouts of Palmyra.

On this date begins the celebration of the annual "Boy Scout Week" commemorating the anniversary of the "Boy Scout of America" organization.

Boy Scout organizations throughout the United States will observe this week with various forms of activities, and being the twenty-first anniversary of the movement, special efforts on the part of all the troop units are being made to make this event one that overshadows previous similar occasions.

Especially fortunate are the Palmyra Boy Scouts in having, as sponsors, the Palmyra Boy Scout Councilors Association.

This association is working diligently in conjunction with the Scout Masters of the two troops in Palmyra, to bring about a highly successful week, by helping to arrange for all activities, and to interest the parents of the Scouts, as well as others, in the Scout movement.

Due credit must be given to Scout Master A. B. Branson of Troop No. 1, and to Scout Master A. E. Fry of Troop No. 2 for their successful efforts in bringing into being, and maintaining, such creditable organizations as their respective troops.

All persons who are interested, and especially the parents of the Scouts, are invited to attend the various events during Boy Scout Week, the program of which follows:

Friday, February 6th at 8 p. m. Inauguration service will be held in the Lutheran Church, at which time all Scouts to attain the "Tenderfoot" degree are so invested, after which will follow the Court of Honor.

The Court of Honor will be composed of Mayor Geo. N. Wimer, Prof. Calvin F. Denzler, Rev. Harold L. Cramer, Mrs. A. H. Zayott, Forrest MacCordle, Floyd W. Spahr, and William O. O. The chairman of the Court of Honor is W. H. Brady.

Badges will be presented to Scouts for the following classes: Tenderfoot, Second Class, First Class, and Star Scout.

Merit Badges will be awarded to sixteen Scouts covering fifty-five tests that have been passed by various examiners.

Four Eagle Scouts have passed tests for which they will be presented with Palms by Mayor Geo. N. Wimer. The public is invited to attend and will find that this occasion is one of interest and importance.

Saturday, February 7th will be observed as "Play Day" for which a suitable program has been arranged by the Scout Masters of both troops to be participated in by the Scouts.

Sunday, February 8th, will be observed as "Scouts in the Church." In observance of this, Troop No. 1 and No. 2 will attend services of a Wesleyan Bible Class in the Methodist Church at 10 a. m.

The evening service will be held in the Lutheran Church at 7:30 p. m. The Scouts will assemble by bugle call, entering the church during the playing of "Onward Christian Soldiers," and joining in the singing of the anthem.

At 8:15 p. m. in the Commitment Service will be held, wherein the Scouts receive their oath. This service will be in charge of Scout Master A. E. Fry, after which prayer will be offered by a Scout from Troop No. 1, followed by an anthem, and a sermon by the pastor, Rev. Harold L. Cramer, who is also Chaplain of Troop No. 2.

A hearty welcome is extended to Scout parents, and others, to attend both services.

Monday, February 9th, has been set aside for the observance of "Boys and Dads." It is the earnest request of the chairman, R. S. Rivers, that the dads of all Scouts set aside this evening for the purpose of really becoming acquainted with their boys, by engaging in games, sports, and other forms of intimate association, having their Scout sons with them.

Tuesday, February 10th, will be observed with "Moving Pictures," to be given in the Methodist Church, gymnasium at 8:00 p. m. Mr. N. H. Schriver, chairman, has arranged to have both silent and "talkies," some humorous, and others educational.

The parents and public are invited to attend.

Wednesday, February 11th, has been designated as "Scouts in the School" day. Prof. C. Denzler, supervising principal of Palmyra schools, chairman, has arranged a program to be held in the auditorium of the High School, in which a dialogue to be given by Troop No. 2 of Palmyra will be an important feature.

Friday, February 12th, will be observed with a "Father and Son Banquet" to be held in the gymnasium of the Methodist Church at 6:30 p. m.

This promises to be a fitting climax to the activities of the week, as this is not only one of the most enjoyable of events of the week, but the committee, of which Mr. Horace Ross is chairman, has secured Walter Denzler, of the Pierce School in Philadelphia, a most able and interesting speaker for this occasion.

Those who have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Denzler, when he addressed the Men's Club on one occasion, will remember the excellent address he presented, and his daily association with young people has given him a deep understanding of the spirit and aims of youth.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Allen, of East Oak avenue, visited the Pennsylvania State College, where they attended the graduation exercises of their son, Samuel Allen.

RIVERTON PUBLIC SCHOOL NEWS

Is there anyone today, who has started to do something and succeeded without having faith? You must have faith in yourself to succeed.

All the great men like Fulton and Watt would never have helped the world if they had no faith. When men told Columbus there was no America, did he give up the idea? No. He kept right on. When George Stevenson said that there could be locomotives that ran on rails of steel all the people laughed at him and said that the wheels would not grip the rails. But he showed them that it could be and now there are hundreds of railway lines all over the world. He had faith. Everyone must have faith to live now.

During the physical training class the girls of the seventh and eighth grades chose these girls as the best dancers to give the "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers" for assembly.

Anna Cook, Mae Laverty, Suzanne Teple and Olive Jones. These girls decided to appear in costumes, so they made helmets and jackets of red crepe paper. On Monday when they gave the dance, the rest of the school enjoyed watching the colorful wooden soldiers parade on the stage.

KINDERGARTEN GO TO COAL YARD

The kindergarten children have been bringing pictures of coal to school. Later they talked about coal and how it was used. Last week they went to the furnace room and saw how the furnace are kept and how the coal bins are filled. In order to see a large amount of coal they went to the coal yard and saw how the trucks were loaded.

Friday morning they dramatized the "Three Bears" and invited Miss Gardner's class to be the audience.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASSES HOLD REGULAR MEET

The Rev. Leo McCabe Johnson, of West Collingswood, is speaker of Occasion.

The County Federation of Men's Bible Classes held its regular monthly meeting in Methodist Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Leo McCabe Johnson, pastor of the West Collingswood Presbyterian Church, was the speaker of the occasion and delivered a most delightful sermon.

Three present from Palmyra and Riverton were: Mayor George N. Wimer, Charles A. Dietz, Thomas VanOrsen, Parker T. Barnes, Carl Evans, V. B. Bate and Captain William Tyler.

The County Federation holds its meeting the first Sunday of each month. The March meeting will be held in Vineland and the April meeting will be held in the Central Baptist Church, Palmyra.

The state convention will be held in Convention Hall, Camden, Sunday and Monday, April 11 and 12. Arrangements have been made for a picnic on Sunday, the 11th, at the Vineland Country Club. The convention is in charge of the arrangement.

Melva George N. Wimer, of Palmyra, is the Burlington County representative and urges all Bible classes in Burlington County to participate.

YW ANNUAL DRIVE TO OPEN IN MARCH

A discussion on "Changes in America" was led by Miss Sidonie Schuler, of the county Y. W. C. A. Changes which the girls and their advisors mention as creating new situations which modern people must learn to meet include new inventions, such as electrical appliances in homes, radios, labor-saving devices, in factories and offices; an increasing number of self-supporting women; unemployment; many new organizations; and the freedom of youth.

Further discussion on some of these topics will be held at future meetings.

Y. W. C. A. CLUB NOTES

The Willamette Senior Y. W. C. A. met on Monday evening, February 2, at the home of the president, Margaret Cook. The program was in charge of Alice Stuart who gave an interesting study of operas, giving the stories of several of them.

The Mount Holly Mothers' Club met at the Y. W. C. A. club house on Monday evening, January 26. Mrs. Mary Benton, club hygiene nurse, spoke and led an interesting discussion on "Hereditas as a factor in the life of the child."

After the two ten-week community classes which the Mount Holly business girls have been having at the Moorestown Community House, under the direction of Mrs. Roy Clement of Woodbury, which ended on Thursday evening, February 3, girls will continue their enthusiasm for swimming, so two other classes are being formed. One is for advanced swimmers who wish to work on life saving, which will meet every Thursday at 8:30 o'clock. The second for beginners and less experienced swimmers will be on Thursdays at 8:30. The fee for each series of classes will be $3.00 plus the pool fee of thirty-five cents a night.

Two Girl Reserve clubs have been organized recently in Vineland. The High School girls meet Thursday evenings, under the leadership of Mrs. Anna Haines Barthold. A cake sale will be held in Vineland on Saturday, February 7.

Mr. Helen Johnson is advance of the younger girls club which meets in the Vineland school on Thursday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock. At their last meeting the girls made crepe-paper dolls for their bedrooms.

Everly Girl Reserves entertained one of the Delanco clubs at a joint meeting last Thursday evening, January 29. Special singing was led by Miss Lillian Hoffman of Burlington.

PRUNING ELIMINATES TREE WEAK GROTTES

The elimination of narrow-angled, weak crochets by the careful pruning of fruit trees after they have completed one or two seasons' growth in the orchard will prevent much serious limb splitting and breakage after trees come into bearing, says Prof. A. J. Farley, extension service horticulturist for the New Jersey agricultural experiment station.

MISS EVAUL'S CLASS STUDY ESKIMOS

The little children in Miss Evaul's class have been studying and telling stories about Eskimos in class, so they decided to make an Eskimo village. There are igloos, icebergs on the water, some dogs and a sled. Not only do they read and talk about Eskimos but they actually learn to make things with their own hands, that the Eskimos use.

LINCOLN PLAY WRITTEN

This Week in WASHINGTON

BY RADFORD MOBLEY
AUTOCATER WASHINGTON BUREAU

The "talkies" are going to be put to work in the service of the American farmer.

Agriculture department experts, after a year or so of experimentation, have definitely embarked on a project which has the ultimate aim of eliminating the silent film altogether and substituting for it audible pictures in the extension service work.

This experimentation has gone so far that already three silent films already in use by county agents, farm bureau speakers and others have been synchronized with the little slip which reproduces the voice.

None of these has been released as yet but they are completed and ready for distribution. To advance the work, Dr. C. M. Marbuton, director of the extension service, has asked Congress for $21,000 with which to make audible films alone during the next fiscal year.

Silent Film Doomed

The man who is responsible more than any other for the development of cinema activity is Raymond Evans, chief of that division, and in Evans' opinion the silent film is doomed, both for public entertainment and for the department's purposes.

In his words, "the talkies have educated the people everywhere to such a point that they are no longer very much interested in silent films."

At present the county agents are not equipped for showing sound pictures, however. To remedy this condition, it is the present intention of the department to purchase one or two portable projectors to travel over the country demonstrating the advantages of the new pictures and teaching county agents the operation of the sound projectors.

The American Farm Bureau federation and other farm organizations have taken an active interest in the new development. Since they have financed the majority of the projectors now in use and have always used films widely, these organizations are expected to take the lead in the new development.

More Vivid Pictures

Evans points out that one primary function of sound pictures will be to bring home farm lectures in a more vivid fashion than silent films accompanied by a human interpreter. The three old films which have been revamped for distribution as sound pictures are loosely in this class.

One of them is a forest picture, another is an experimental film taken at the 4-H annual camp here last year, and the last is a picture taken by Dr. E. W. Brandes, another federal scientist, during an exploring trip to New Guinea.

In addition, however, wide possibilities are opened up by the new films. In some instances, Evans indicated, the audience might be "stepped up" in order to reproduce inaudible sounds.

Such for instance would be the reproduction of a fly's footsteps on a window pane. This sound could be magnified just as the fly's image could be magnified by microscope lens. The result would be, probably, a sound like a horse walking on a pavement. It would very likely be distorted but not to such an extent as would affect the listener's reception.

Other Interests
Use of sound pictures in the fields at various times and in similar ways open up other avenues of deep interest to all rural lives.

Another factor of particular interest in the new development is the deep interest the federal farm board is taking in the project. Numerous conferences of farm board and extension service officials have already taken place, with the end in view of filming several purely farm board films for distribution by that body. The motion picture section of the extension service has already made several silent films for the board which, it is stated, have been highly effective in spreading the board's propaganda.

The "canned lecture" pictures proposed as the major part of the agriculture department's sound film output would fit in particularly well with the program for advertising the farm board.

THE PRIME OF LIFE

By Walter Learned

Just as I thought I was growing old,
Ready to sit in my easy chair,
To watch the world with a heart grown cold,
And smile at a folly I would not share.

Rose came by with a smile for me,
And I am thinking that forty year
Isn't the age that it seems to be,
When two pretty brown eyes are near.

Bless me! of life it is just the prime,
A fact that I hope she will understand;
And forty year is a perfect rhyme
To dark brown eyes and a pretty hand.

These gray hairs are by chance, you see—
Boys are sometimes gray, I am told:
Rose came by with a smile for me,
Just as I thought I was getting old.

Laughing Around the World

With IRVIN S. COBB

The Ruling Habit

By IRVIN S. COBB

TWO youths from a small upstate town organized a vaudeville team and got a job with a burlesque theatre on Fourteenth Street, New York. That was in the days of continuous performances. They had a refined singing and clogging act, beginning appropriately like this:

"Oh, how we love to sing and dance!"
(Vamp with feet)

On their first day as professionals they were sent out upon the stage at half hour intervals. They opened the afternoon performance and between that time and 11:45 that night when they closed the show they appeared eighteen times, each time to say and do exactly the same thing.

Long before quitting time their voices were squawky, their legs were ready to drop off at the knees, and their makeup was streaked with sweat. They dared not take off their dancing shoes for their feet were so swollen they could never get them back on again. They would drag themselves to their dressing room and collapse in exhausted heaps only to be roused a few minutes later by the voice of the relentless call-boy as he pounded at the door and yelled to them to turn out.

At midnight their torture ended. They staggered to their hall bedroom in a theatrical boarding house 'round the corner in Irving Place, and, too tired to undress, fell upon the bed just as they were, shoes and all. A lodger downstairs overturned a lamp and the house caught fire. The proprietor ran from floor to floor and room to room beating on each door with his fists and yelling:

"Turn out! Turn out, quick!"

Dimly through their slumber the new recruits to vaudeville heard him. They got upon their feet, their eyes closed, and still three-fourths asleep.

The firemen, breaking in at the window, ten minutes later, found them there in the smoke and flame, side by side with arms intertwined, automatically clogging as they hoarsely chanted:

"Oh, how we love to sing and dance!"

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

By JOHN JOSEPH GAINES, M.D.

CHILDISH TROUBLES

Ho-hum . . . It's 10 p. m. Just returned from seeing a little fellow four years of age. The only child of his parents, hence a very anxious mother, who co-operated with me at every step. I encountered a moderate fever, a loaded digestive tract belonging to a "very hearty eater," a vigorous and rapid pulse and breathing, a slight sore throat, lungs not involved. Any old mother might have given a dose of castor oil, and wrapped the little patient up warm in bed, and he might have been all right tomorrow.

But, this is a highly technical age. Wise young parents do use tools with old wives' fables; they call a physician.

The little fellow was very anxious that Santa Claus should visit him; being a personal friend of that Christ-child of childhood, I readily promised to inspect the visit of the fat little saint—which brought me a very willing subject for examination.

I actually taught the 4-year-old to gargle! And he did it to perfection. A simple evacuant for the loaded bowel, with a nice, good-tasted permittive for the throat, and the trick was turned. I learned incidentally that there was a basement to the cottage that was not exactly sanitary, and damped at times; that the little boy played there on chilly days when it was pleasant indoors; a few words of practical advice to the young mother were absorbed as a dry sponge takes up water. The same of the admonition in regard to indiscriminate eating. This boy had eaten "nearly a pint of ice-cream—and has promptly thrown it up,"—a few hours before I was called to see him.

The proud daddy—a bridge mechanic—had "just loved to see that kid eat."

Never was a fee paid more willingly or promptly; never have I left a more grateful family. And, Santa came on time, leaving a brown supply of things that little boys like; I know, for I talked with the old man.

CUTS FOOD BUDGET WITH CHEAPER CUTS OF MEAT

The use of cheaper cuts of meat offers any homemaker the opportunity to reduce the size of her meat bills, according to Miss Marie Doermann, New Jersey extension service specialist in nutrition. She spoke during the women's Agricultural Week program. "The retail cost of meat is determined largely by its tenderness, appearance, and convenience of cooking rather than upon its actual nutritive value," Miss Doermann said. "Meat is one of the most expensive foods and, for this reason, careful selection and preparation are necessary to obtain the greatest return for the money spent."

"The argument is often advanced that cheaper cuts of meat require much more fuel for cooking than do the more tender cuts. Cheap cuts require longer cooking but at temperatures so low that the cost of additional fuel is nominal. The secret of effectively using tough cuts of meat is to take time and care in their preparation and serving."

"The flavor of meats may be varied by utilizing different spices, herbs, vegetables, and by the method of cooking. Meat which is browned, suet, fat and then cooked in a small amount of water has a flavor quite different from meat that is boiled. Chopping or grinding meat to separate the fibers offers the opportunity to vary its texture, appearance, and method of preparation. Meat balls served with Spanish sauce are a change from the more common Hamburg steak. An appetizing meat loaf can be made of ground beef, pork, and veal."

"Liver, valued for its iron, need not always be the expensive calf's liver. Instead, beef, lamb, or hog liver can be used in a casserole dish with vegetables."

"The tougher cuts of meat may be lastly served in meat pies, croquettes, stews, hash, loaf, chop suey, balls, soup, and casserole dishes, and as pot roast."

The Middlekauff filling station, near Hagerstown, Md., has been robbed 42 times in the last eight months.

MAIN STREET LOOKS AT BROADWAY

BY ERNEST CAMP JR

RURAL MANHATTAN

This city has not lost all its rural atmosphere. During 1930, permits were issued for goats, horse-shoeing, smoke houses, well water and carting fat.

Health Commissioner Wynne, who listed the above in his annual report, also said that more than 13,000 persons were bitten by dogs last year. He predicts a dogless city, and says that the dogs will be delighted and willing to go. He points out that no dog enjoys being shut up in an apartment all day except when he is taken out for an airing on a three-foot leash with his head in a muzzle.

Dr. Wynne's prediction, unfortunately coming just as the "400" of New York's dogdom is being groomed for a show, aroused the ire of dog fanciers. One of the enthusiasts declared positively that most of the dogs here are "perfectly happy."

Speak for yourself, Fido.

APPLE SAUCE

A taxi driver, arrested and hauled into court, was asked why he had deliberately wrecked a man's box of apples by running his cab into it. The cabman declared that the man, supposedly unemployed, was his landlord, and that he was forced to pay him $75 a month for a $40 flat.

He didn't like it, he said, so he thought he'd even things up by exposing him as a fake.

The court, investigating, found the cabman's story true. Case dismissed. Now there's one less apple seller on the sidewalks of New York.

LITTLE WHITE LIES

Little scholastic white lies are daily being poured into guards' ears, but few rah-rah boys get past, they say. One youngster claimed he was here on vacation from Washington State college. Skeptical guardsmen asked him where it was located.

"In Seattle, of course," the boy answered, blushing nervously.

"Yah yah! It's in Pullman, Wash.," they tackled. "Throw him out." So they threw him out.

EVEN A TALKING HEN

And then there's the poultry show at Madison Square Garden. The entire basement looks and sounds like a giant poultry farm, what with cackling, crowing, quacking and so on.

Any city dweller who thinks that New Yorkers sneer at edible fowl should call at the Garden. Aside from the barnyard varieties there are turkeys, peacocks, pheasants and ducks, not to mention Mehtable, the robot chicken who actually lays a wooden egg upon request of almost anyone. Show officials say that she is the only talking hen in captivity, the miracle being accomplished by a phonograph concealed inside her covering of fine feathers.

WHAT PRICE CULTURE

Only "real scholars" will be allowed in the main reference room of the New York Public Library. That does not include college boys, however, so if you wear those classy, collegiate clothes and a big knot in your tie, it's useless to try to crush the gate.

The march of culture has so taxed the library's facilities that a regulation has gone into effect banishing college and high school students to libraries of their own schools.

The director says that 4,035,178 persons entered the library last year, an increase of 24 per cent over 1929. 11,264,160 volumes were issued for home use, 5 per cent more than in 1929.

MOTHER EARTH

Suspended in a pit of one of New York's newest skyscrapers, the Daily News building, is a huge globe, slowly turning.

It represents the Earth, and completes a revolution every 10 minutes. Set in black marble around the sides of the room are diagrams, weather maps, and charts showing the stars, predictions and wind velocity statistics in their courses.

When gazing at this man-made portion of the universe in action, there comes to one the eerie feeling that has been transplanted to another planet, and is staring down, hypnotized, into endless space.

RICH MAN (POOR MAN)

A Wall Street financier who contributed $50,000 to establish a food depot for the unemployed wanted to see how it was functioning.

He left his limousine at home and made the trip in a taxi. He had the driver stop across the street, got out, walked over and entered the old church in which the depot was located. The cabman watched him in astonishment, then jumped from his car and followed him through the door.

"Hey! Don't give this guy anything to eat!" he shouted to attendants inside. "He's got money. He took a cab down here!" W. E. K.

PRESSED VEAL

Here is a good rule for pressed veal—a rule so simple that you could hardly call it a recipe. Buy a knuckle of veal. For a loaf of pressed veal to fill a bread pan three-quarters full you should ask the butcher for a joint that would yield about two pounds of meat. With the bone it will amount to much more in weight. Also get him to saw it through the bone in two or three places. If it is chopped there may be fine splinters of bone that will make painful morsels. The knuckle should be set on to cook in boiling water seasoned with a half a bay or laurel leaf and a pinch of spices, such as cloves, all-spice, mace and sage, and allowed to simmer gently for about three hours. Now drain off the stock and pick meat from the bones, adding the marrow to the meat. Put the meat through the grinder. Boil the liquor down to about a cup and a half. Salt and add about a teaspoon of lemon juice if the flavor is liked. If you wish to get quick results you may add a teaspoon of gelatin dissolved in a little cold water to the liquid, but this is not necessary if you are not in a hurry. Now mix the ground meat and stock and pack it into a pan rinsed in cold water. If you like, you may put halved olives or sour pickles in the top.

Sunday School Lesson

International Sunday School Lesson
TEACHER
Luke 6:27-42
Rev. SAMUEL D. PRICE, D. D.

A new term had been used when Jesus proclaimed the Kingdom of God. He set forth the principles of that Kingdom in all of His addresses, but especially in the Sermon on the Mount, Matthew 5, 6, 7. It is thought that this great message was repeated in brief statements in the Sermon on the Plain, from which this lesson study is taken. Give careful attention to all the items in Luke 6 for they have much to say about daily living.

Listeners must have been amazed at the nature of the teaching. In the past they had been urged to take an "eye for an eye" and if strength permitted they would probably seek to give back with added interest when an injury had been done. Now this Positivist says "love your enemies." Such direction must have caused about as much amazement as the miracles which held the people spell-bound. In fact no limit is set upon the kindly attitude and active help for all who had sought to injure them. After doing all they could, they were advised to "pray for them that were adverse to you." What we call charity was to be dispensed with kindness. Such teachings have an application today as we are importuned by the needy and worthy who are hungry because of lack of employment.

Some profound truths are hard to understand. Jesus, however, made His meaning very clear in our Golden Rule. We call it the Golden Rule. Note that it is positively stated and not in a negative form as presented by the philosopher Confucius. AS YE WOULD THAT MEN SHOULD DO TO YOU, DO YE ALSO TO THEM LIKEWISE.

NEED HOME PLAYGROUNDS FOR CHILDREN OF TODAY

Parents of today fail to appreciate the need for exposing their very young children to an environment that will let them obtain necessary exercise and acquire control of the larger muscles, said Miss Edith D. Dixon, New Jersey extension service specialist in child training, in addressing women during the Agricultural Week meetings. The first three years of the child's life have been called "the period of physical adjustment." Miss Dixon explained, "the period when the child is getting acquainted with the world about him and acquiring control of his larger muscles. To creep, to kick, to pull and push, to lift and carry, to fill and empty, to climb and throw are some of the numerous impulses to activity which the child experiences."

SOUNDS OPTIMISTIC NOTE IN BROADCAST

Recent action of the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, where-in the manufacturers committee signified its willingness to confine all model changes to the last two months of the year, and thus eliminate one of the great curses of the automobile industry, was one of the important utterances of President L. A. Miller in a special broadcast over a special radio hook-up. In addition to his discussion of a set time for model changes in the closing months of each year, Mr. Miller, who is recognized as one of the great leaders of a great industry, briefly discussed the economic improvements made by the industry, as well as other major issues.

MILLER ARRESTS PHILA. SWINDLER

Harry Landis, "Confidence Man" Caught Cheating Woman Near Riverton

A notorious Philadelphia swindler was captured last Saturday night by Acting Chief of Police Miller in company with Special Officer Robinson of the Riverton force.

Louise Todd, colored, living with her husband on the Bruce shaft property near the Cinnaminson Home, tipped Miller off that a man was obtaining money from her under false pretenses. Miller set a trap for the alleged criminal and when he made his appearance Saturday night about 8 o'clock, Miller nabbed him.

When taken before Police Recorder Bowers he gave his name as Harry Landis, of 2329 East Cambria street, Philadelphia.

Under questioning it was revealed that Landis had gone to Mrs. Todd over a month ago representing himself as an attorney-at-law and offering to secure the release of her son, Leroy Williams, who was at the time in the New County Prison, Holmesburg, serving a sentence of from ten to twenty years for holding up and robbery. The sum he set necessary for his release was $300. Mrs. Todd did not have the ready money but agreed to pay Landis $25.00 down and $15.00 a month until the balance was paid. Landis accepted this agreement and took the money.

The son was sponsored, according to Landis, to be released on January 30th.

When Saturday came, the son had not been released but Landis paid in his appearance for another payment. Mr. Todd, friend of Miller, who promptly made the arrest.

Miller, by communicating with the Philadelphia Police Department for information about Landis, learned that he was wanted in Philadelphia for breaking his parole after having been released from prison there for securing money under false pretenses.

On complaint of Mrs. Todd, Landis was held in Riverton until the money was restored to them, totaling $39.50. A fine of $5.00 was also imposed.

On Monday, Detective James B. Coyle, of the Philadelphia Police, came to Riverton and escorted Landis to Philadelphia to answer to them for his conduct on parole. Landis has served two stretches in the pen and has ten charges lodged against him.

A man and woman who drove Landis to Riverton Saturday night were released after questioning.

Bowers Tries Bridgeboro Case
February 5th Recorder Bowers tried the case of Oliver Muller, Bridgeboro, against Steven DeSanto, 18 years old, Frank DeSanto, 22 years, Wilbur Swales, 18 years and Lester Bentliff, 17 years old, all of Bridgeboro. They were arrested by State Troopers Ruggie and Farkin, of the Delaware Barracks, charged with breaking and entering and larceny.

The barn at the rear of the Muller property on the corner of Bridgeboro Road and Burlington Pike was entered by the boys and larceny and a Buffalo Robe valued at $50.00 was stolen.

On a waiver of indictment the DeSanto boys and Swales were each charged with the costs and committed to the Mount Holly jail for 10 days. Lester Bentliff, 17 years old, was released under probation for one year.

February 10th State Trooper Farkin arrested Lawrence Lukens of Beverly for reckless driving. The case was heard before Cecil A. Bowers and a fine of $25.00 was imposed.

On a complaint of Arker Carpenter, service station proprietor at Broad street and Union Landing road, East Riverton, Joseph and Carol Morton of East Riverton were arrested Tuesday night by Troopers Farkin and Rhinier and charged with malicious mischief. The case was heard before Recorder Cecil A. Bowers Tuesday night and the testimony developed that the defendants were alleged to have thrown a stone through the complainant's window and upset three containers of lubricating oil to satisfy a grudge starting over an argument Saturday night in the service station. The complainant is alleged to have wielded a wrench at Joseph Morton and threatened to draw a gun on him while the Morton lad admitted drawing a knife and threatening Carpenter. Recorder Bowers found the men guilty and committed both to the Mount Holly jail in default of $250 bail to await the action of the grand jury.

CINNAMINSON SCHOOL ELECTION
The Cinnaminson Township school election held Tuesday night resulted in a total of 21 ballots.

H. G. Taylor, Jr., received 21 votes, the only candidate for election.

Current expenses of $3,760 received 21 votes, repairs and replacements, $2,100, 20 affirmative and one negative, manual training, $500, 20 affirmative and one negative.

The proposition to transfer from an account having a surplus to one having a deficit passed with 19 affirmative votes.

Chairman of Election Edward Jessup, Secretary Emma Frank, tellers, Jessie Dorworth and Elizabeth Frank.

LEGION AUXILIARY CARD PARTY
The monthly card party, given by the American Legion Auxiliary, will be held Saturday night, February 14, instead of last night as was originally planned.

THE NEW ERA

WEEK END WEATHER

Predictable fair weather and colder over Saturday and Sunday.

MEMORY TEASERS!

The New Era Will Print a Series of Old Pictures and Give a Check of $1.00 For the Best Information Concerning Each.

Ye old time Rivertonians there is a surprise for you. Get out your thinking caps, dust them off and prepare to do some memory testing.

Beginning with this issue of THE NEW ERA (see page 3) a memory contest is started which will be known as "MEMORY TEASERS."

A box of ancient newspaper cuts has been unearthed from the archives of THE NEW ERA building. Each week one will be printed and you are invited to recollect what it was all about, and put into a letter all you can remember or find out concerning the picture. A few helpful suggestions are printed with the first picture to indicate what is required. The person who sends in the most complete and accurate explanation of the picture will receive a prize check of $1.00 awarded by THE NEW ERA.

The subject of the pictures will vary, portraying street scenes, buildings, events and persons.

Letters should be addressed to this paper and marked in the lower left corner of the envelope "MEMORY TEASERS." Letters received after 6:00 p. m. the Saturday afternoon following publication, will not receive consideration. The winning letter, together with the picture described will be published in the next week's paper, as well as a new photograph for that week's contest.

The contest should stir memories that will bring a touch of romance, a pinch of humor, and, we hope, not much of sadness to those who knew Riverton when it was a little suburban settlement, quietly enjoying the isolation that modern facilities has destroyed.

These cuts vary in age, some being from thirty to forty years old. The ravages of time have in some cases left their mark on the sensitive zinc screen surfaces. Some cuts will therefore appear imperfect but not enough so to defeat the purposes of this contest.

The contest is on! Settle yourself in your comfy chair—dim the lights—tune the radio to the subdued sweet strains of the song hits of yesterday, and allow yourself to be transported once again to the Riverton that knew only oil street lamps, boardwalks, picket fences, bicycles and bustles.

May you derive as much wholesome enjoyment working them out as THE NEW ERA gets in presenting them.

LET US HAVE YOUR LETTERS

GORHAM SARGENT HEADS SCOUT DRIVE

Oliver G. Willis Assists in $1500 Drive in Riverton; Men Needed to Aid

The annual financial drive of the Burlington County Council, Boy Scouts of America is in full swing. Riverton's quota is $1500.00. In Riverton Oliver G. Willis is chairman of the lay gifts committee and Deputy Scout Commissioner Gorham P. Sargent is in charge of the general drive.

The money which the Scouts are seeking to raise in the county goes for the following general purposes: To pay the salary of the County Scout Executive, Mr. Shaw and of his District assistants; and incidental expenses.

To pay the annual deficit of the Burlington County Boy Scout Camp, a most wonderful and efficient camp which the Boy Scouts of the county are able to attend at the nominal charge of $1.00 a day because of the fact that the annual budget of the council pays the deficit.

To pay off interest on mortgages and loans contracted because of the purchase of the camp.

1930 was a most successful year for the Burlington County Council. At the beginning of the year the Council was faced with the necessity of a complete reorganization and with a deficit of $25,000.00. During the year the reorganization was made and the total indebtedness reduced from $25,000.00 to $8,000.00. There was a 10% increase in the number of Boy Scouts in the county and the troops in many localities were much more healthfully organized.

With the support of Riverton and the other communities, 1931 will be even a more successful year than was 1930. Mr. Sargent needs the assistance of all Rivertonians if our part of the 1931 quota is to be subscribed. He needs the assistance not only of financial donations from those who are able to give them but he also needs help from men who are interested in scouting and who are willing to take on part of the task of soliciting some of the 2000 or more people that must be interviewed in Riverton if the drive is to be a success.

Miss Margaret Crouch

Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at three o'clock for Miss Margaret Crouch, eighteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Crouch, of Seventh street, Riverton, who died Wednesday of last week following a brief illness.

The funeral was held at the late residence with the Rev. Charles T. Bates, pastor of the Calvary Presbyterian Church, of Riverton, officiating. The pallbearers were: Robert Mattis, Murray Kirkpatrick and Robert Kirkpatrick, George Lee, Hayes Brady and William Heavner.

Forty-five students from the senior class in company with a group of twenty students who were selected as honorary pallbearers, attended the funeral. The faculty advisors and Miss V. M. Brower, principal, were also present at the services. Beautiful floral pieces both from the students of Palmyra High School and the faculty were sent to the funeral. The funeral procession consisted of between thirty-five and forty cars, all of which were a mute testimony of the high esteem in which Miss Crouch was held.

Interment was made in Monument Cemetery, Beverly.

Miss Crouch was a member of the senior class of the Palmyra High School and had been chosen to play a leading role in the senior play.

Besides her parents she is survived by one sister, Miss Gertrude Crouch.

NO OBJECTION TO RIVERTON BUDGET

Charge Made of Irregularities in Purchase of Car and Truck

The Riverton Borough budget for 1931, which came up for a public hearing last Thursday night, was passed without objection or comment, no citizen appearing to protest the figures as set up by the various committees and approved by Council.

After the meeting had been adjourned, however, two citizens asked to be heard on matters pertaining to the administration.

Frank J. Holvick was the first speaker. He said that he had been given to understand that a police car and truck for the highway department had been ordered before the budget providing the money had been finally adopted. He protested that this was irregular, and cited an instance where a similar action had been taken, under a previous administration, and political capital had been made of the incident by the party who was responsible for the same alleged irregularity in the present instance.

Mr. Holvick also objected to the appointment on the police force of a man who already had a job, when there were a number of men in Riverton unemployed. It was explained by Director of Public Safety DeLaney that while the officer in question was on duty his place as sexton of the Presbyterian Church was filled by a man who had no job.

Denies Accusation

Mr. Holvick further said that the money appropriated for the police committee this year was for political purposes, and that the appointment of a chief of police was to be held over until after the spring election, for political reasons.

The statement was promptly denied by Director of Public Safety DeLaney who was supported by Walter K. Woolman, one of the new members of Council. Mr. Woolman said he was a member of the police committee, and knew that it was the desire of the committee to appoint a Chief as soon as possible, which would be at an early date.

Mr. Holvick took occasion to remind members of council that he had worked for the election of every one of them and that "things were not being run right."

When Mr. Holvick had finished, John Ford, a resident of Riverton, a Ford dealer, objected to the way the contracts for the police car and truck had been awarded.

Mr. Ford said the price he submitted on the truck was within $20.00 of the competing bid from an out-of-town concern, that he felt he should be given the truck for the service rendered by his company was worth the difference, and in addition that he was a life-long resident of Riverton, and a taxpayer.

Mr. Ford said that on January 5 he had been asked for a price on the police car and also on the truck by Mr. DeLaney, chairman of the police committee, and member of the highway committee. W. H. Albertson, chairman of the highway committee, also asked him for a price for the highway truck on January 22. He claimed that he had been shown the figures submitted on the Chevrolet car, and had every reason to believe that his quotation on the truck had been "peddled."

This brought Mr. Albertson to his feet with a swift and emphatic denial.

He defied Mr. Ford or anyone else to say that they had seen the figures quoted on the truck or knew what they were.

Mr. Ford replied that he was not referring to the bid on January 22. He claimed that he had been shown the figures submitted on the Chevrolet car, and had every reason to believe that his quotation on the truck had been "peddled."

RIVERTON SCHOOL TICKET UNOPPOSED

Hemphill, Mayfield, Steedle Re-Elected; Budget Also Passed Easily

The annual school board election took place in the Riverton Grammar School Tuesday evening without incident.

Fred P. Hemphill, Estella Mayfield and George D. Steedle ran for a full term without opposition. Hemphill received 49 votes, Mayfield 45 and Steedle 49.

The budget of $39,520.00, Current Expenses, received 35 for and 4 against, $2,000. Repairs and Replacements received 35 for and 4 against, $1,075.00 Manual Training received 33 for and 3 against.

The resolution authorizing the board to transfer any funds from one account to another during the school year 1931-32 received a vote of 34 for and 3 against. The chairman of the election was H. Smith. Secretary, Dewitt Steedle, tellers, Maurice Steedle and E. N. Cooper.

WRIGHT PRAISES WILLIAM H. BUCK

Letter To Editor Commends Administration of Former Water Company Head

William H. Buck was identified with the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company almost from its start, having become associated with the company in December, 1890. The company was incorporated July 20th, 1888. Probably due to the fact that I was more familiar with mechanism than the other members of the Board of Directors, I had a close personal contact with Mr. Buck which tended to create a friendship that was both pleasant and enduring.

In the purchasing of supplies it became my duty at times, both as director and president, to check vouchers for the purchases, which always disclosed the greatest care by Mr. Buck in accounting for every cent.

Edward Ogden and Howard Parry, both being men exceedingly creditable in such matters, undoubtedly had their influence on us younger men at the time. In fact, the late Senator Hilary in arguing a case for the company in court, stated that the Riverton-Palmyra Water Company (Continued on Page 5)

HARMONICA BAND PLEASES AUDIENCE

Concert Arranged by Boy Scouts is Big Success; Attend Church in Body

Many Rivertonians received the surprise of their lives last Friday night when they attended the concert of the Philadelphia Harmonica Band under the direction of Mr. Albert N. Hoxie. A large part of the audience attended the concert entirely out of interest in the Boy Scouts under whose auspices the concert was held. They remained to marvel at the beautiful music that this famous organization was able to produce with the aid of the humble harmonica.

The members of the band, who were surprised by the audience, were the beautiful solos by John P. Hoxie, harmonica champion of Philadelphia for 1930, and by Raymond Kraus, harmonica champion for 1922. Pupples rendered Borowski's "Adoration" and Kraus played Tchaikowsky's "Melody." A person who did not see the musician on the stage might have thought that the music was coming from a violin instead of a harmonica.

After the conclusion of the advertised program Mr. Hoxie volunteered to have his band play such pieces of music as members of the audience might request. Most of the requests were popular airs and the band showed that it was able to play the snappiest jazz as expertly and beautifully as it had played the finest classical music.

The members of the audience were also given the opportunity of inspecting the almost completed troop headquarters, including the beautiful ceremonial designed and executed by the fathers of two of the members of the troop, Mr. Wolschmidt and Mr. Gilbert Coe, assisted by the officers and Scouts.

Attend Church Service

On Sunday morning Troop 50 attended church in a body at Christ Church, Riverton. The service was the most impressive and beautiful Scout service which has ever been held in Riverton. The troop in full uniform marched into the church preceded by the choir, the Scouts being led by the troop and national colors.

The Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, rector of the church and chairman of the troop committee, preached a wonderful and inspiring sermon to boys, a sermon which would make any Boy Scout proud to be a Scout. As an interesting coincidence, the scripture lesson for the day happened to be the story of David and Goliath, a most appropriate story for a Boy Scout service.

The most interesting feature of the service was the presentation before the altar rail of Eagle Scout badges to three members of the troop, Senior Patrol Leaders Patton Kinsey and Henry G. Naylor, and Patrol Leader Edward J. Hunn.

In honor of Scout Kinsey, who is one of its members, the entire First Day School of the Westfield Friends Meeting attended this service.

This is Boy Scout Week, the twenty-first birthday of the Boy Scouts of America. Scouts everywhere are celebrating this anniversary by special observance and by the wearing of the Scout uniform all week. On Friday evening the first Court of Honor of Troop 50 will be held in the new headquarters, using the new ceremonial apparatus. At this Court of Honor all badges except the Eagle Badges will be awarded. The parents and friends of the troop are cordially invited to attend.

NOTICE

I hereby certify that the Budget and Tax Ordinance for the Borough of Riverton for the year 1931 was unanimously adopted this fifth day of February, 1931.

Borough Clerk.

TROLLEY BANDIT GETS $215 LOOT

Boy Sent To Palmyra Bank for Cash Robbed at Point of Gun on Trolley Car

Through the keen observation and prompt co-operation of Chief Morris Beck and the members of the Palmyra police force the bandit who held up and robbed a 15-year-old messenger boy, on a trolley car between Palmyra and Delair, is likely to be apprehended.

Chief Beck noticed a man and a boy hanging around the Palmyra station where they watched the bank and the trolley cars coming from Camden.

The pair arrived in Palmyra about 10:30 in the morning and aroused the suspicions of the local officers by their peculiar actions.

In the afternoon Francis Surratt, of Delair, came to Palmyra to get some checks cashed at the bank for the A & P store in Delair, so that the store could cash checks for the employees of the Kieckhefer Container Company, Wednesday being pay day at the plant. After getting the money for the checks, which amounted to $215.91, the boy boarded the trolley, followed by the elder of the two men who had aroused suspicion.

When the trolley reached the trestle work over the railroad track at West Palmyra the bandit slipped into the seat beside Surratt and demanded that he turn over the money under penalty of being shot.

The boy handed the money over. When the trolley reached Burlington Pike the robber got off and entered a sedan containing two other men and drove rapidly off.

When Surratt reached Delair he notified the Pensacola police who immediately spread the alarm.

In the meantime Chief Beck had secured the name of the boy who was seen with the bandit in Palmyra.

He had given his name as Peter Pettie, Union avenue, Delair.

When Beck received word of the hold-up he immediately got in touch with the Pensacola police, gave them the details of his suspicions and the name of the boy.

Pettie was arrested by the Pensacola police and is being held for questioning.

DOLL SHOW FOR RED CROSS FUND

Interesting Exhibition of Dolls of Many Lands Swells Relief Receipts

A highly successful and diverting doll show was held for the benefit of the Red Cross fund for drought sufferers at the home of Mrs. Robert Knight in Riverton last Saturday afternoon. The affair was under the inspiration and management of Miss Mary Miller, and to her enthusiasm and efforts its success is largely due. More than 135 dolls of all sizes, ages and nationalities were shown. The oldest was sent by the Misses Coale, and has been in the possession of their family since 1833. Miss Miller displayed a doll of extraordinary age, together with a complete wardrobe, exquisitely hand made. Mrs. Charles Miller and Mrs. Robert Biddle sent examples of doll-life of fifty or more years ago.

In addition to the dolls displayed, there was a large and varied assortment of toys brought by the masculine small fry as their contribution.

Mrs. Robert Knight, who so kindly lent her home for the show, was assisted in cookie-baking and selling by Mrs. Rex Shovel and Mrs. Robinson, of Oakland, that the entrance fees were swollen to a grand total of $5.47 for the Red Cross fund, not to speak of the perfectly grand time that was had by all.

Riverton's quota was $1500 and the amount collected was $214.91, an oversubscription of $614.91.

The County's quota is $14,000, of which $2349.33 has been collected, leaving a balance to be raised of $5,660.67.

BOY SCOUTS GET AWARDS AT COURT OF HONOR SESSION

Eagle Awards, First and Second Class Pins and Merit Badges Presented Last Friday

TROOPS ATTEND SUNDAY SERVICES

Visit Wesleyan Class in Morning and Are Lutheran Guests in Evening

The Palmyra Boy Scout Week celebration opened last night with a service at the Wesleyan church, at which the investiture services and the court of honor were held. The ceremony was presided over by Mr. Brady, chairman of the investiture services and the court of honor committee, after a few appropriate remarks, turned the meeting over to the scouts.

With an impressive ceremony, Herbert Watson, Robert Fries, and Harold Reynolds were invested as scouts of the tenderfoot class. The creditable manner in which this ceremony was presided over by the scouts won the admiration of all.

The court of honor followed, being presided over by Mr. Brady, consisted of the following members: Mayor George N. Wimer; Prof. C. F. Deninger, Rev. Harold L. Creager, Councilman Floyd W. Spahr, A. H. Zayotti, vice-president of the Palmyra Boy Scouts' Council; Association; Edward H. Hoepfner and William Ott, Troop Committeemen of Palmyra Troops No. 1 and 2.

Members of the committee participated in making the awards to scouts whose merit badges or degrees had rendered them worthy of special notice.

Five Eagle Scouts. Palms, for Eagle Class Scouts, were awarded by Mayor Wimer to George Chandler, gold pin; Addison Chandler, silver pin; and Hayes Brady, Harold Gerkins and Carl Wilcox, bronze pins.

Star Scout pins, presented by W. H. Brady, were given to George Ott, Charles K. Wynkoop, Alfred Branson and Edward Smith.

Most badges were presented by Floyd W. He also emphasized the aims of the Council's Association and urged that hearty support be given the scout movement in Palmyra.

Visit Methodists. Sunday morning fifty-six scouts attended the meeting of the Wesleyan Men's Bible Class of the Methodist Church, where the scouts and the class were addressed by R. S. Rivers. He tried to impress upon the men the advantage of knowing the scoutmaster and the scoutmaster's duties, and stressed the importance of placing the boys under a good influence such as that of the scout organization.

Reading Z. Poinsett, teacher of the class, taught the scripture lesson, in which he pointed out that the scouts brought forth leaders, and the scouts, by reason of their training, were better fitted to act in a leading role on such occasions.

Scouts attended the Lutheran Church services in a body Sunday evening, assuming that the eagles brought forth leaders, and the scouts, by reason of their training, were better fitted to act in a leading role on such occasions.

Scoutmaster A. E. Fry conducted the "Commitment Service" during the evening, wherein the scouts recommitted themselves to the scout law.

DR. GOULD TO GIVE RAMBLERS' TALK

Member of Byrd Antarctic Expedition To Be Presented Here

Dr. Lawrence M. Gould, of the Byrd Antarctic expedition, will address the third Ramblers' meeting on Tuesday evening, February 24, in the Moorestown Friends' School auditorium at 8:15 o'clock.

Moorestown, according to the president of the organization, Edwin A. Russell, is fortunate to have the privilege of hearing Dr. Gould, who was second in command of the expedition, and who had many thrilling experiences.

He was in charge of the geological parties which went out from the base camp, at Little America. And it was he who with a small party of men, was lost on the Rockefeller Mountains for days, due to a terrible blizzard, and came upon them unexpectedly. The storm completely destroyed their fine Fokker plane and also their radio apparatus.

Byrd and his men, after days of anxious waiting at the home base, started out to find the party in another plane. Finally after much searching the lost men were found safe, nearly 125 miles from where they started.

Later in the expedition, Dr. Gould and a party of men traveled on sledges for over a period of three months making geological surveys for the expedition, which proved most valuable.

In Admiral Byrd's book entitled "Little America," he writes in a journal style under the date of January 12, "the geological party reported to me that it will reach Little America some time tomorrow. Thus ends a magnificent journey. We will give them a royal welcome for they have done a wonderful job."

With these interesting incidents, a few of his great number of starting experiences, Dr. Gould's talk may be anticipated as being highly thrilling and exciting.

Tickets for admittance will be mailed to all Ramblers subscribers as space in the Friends' School auditorium will be limited.

Dr. Gould will also lecture at the Moorestown Public High School on Tuesday afternoon of the same date.

EXPECT DECISION ON AIR TERMINAL BY END OF MARCH

JOHNSON TELLS OF WORK ON PROJECT

Explains To Philadelphia Why Hog Island Was Soon Excluded

Fred W. Johnson, service manager of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce, who is to speak at the airport meeting being held in the Community House this Thursday evening by the Moorestown Improvement Association, last week, in replying to an editorial in the Philadelphia Public Ledger, said that a definite decision in the matter of selecting the site for the American Zeppelin terminus will be reached by the International Zeppelin Transport Corporation officials some time the latter part of March.

His statement last week was primarily to Philadelphia who have been demanding to know why the site south of Moorestown, instead of Hog Island, has been pushed by the Philadelphia Chamber for the American terminal.

Mr. Johnson's statement, in part, follows:

"In my first interview with executives of International Zeppelin Transport Corporation in New York on July 2 of last year, I advanced the remarkable suggestion that Philadelphia's new air-marine-rail terminal, and was gratified to find that executives of the corporation not only were highly receptive to its possibilities, but quite conversant with the details of the plan.

Supplied Maps. "At that time and subsequently, I supplied officials of the corporation with a map of the area, copy of the Murdoch-Blee survey report, copy of Happy Landings, issued by the Chamber of Commerce; copy of the preliminary survey map prepared by the Regional Planning Federation; and an enlarged aerial photograph of the Hog Island tract together with a detailed statement of the entire project.

"We immediately ran into heavy weather, however, when it developed that Zeppelin Corporation required a 1000-acre tract, including the entire area at Hog Island allocated to the airport approximately 625 acres.

"Executives of the corporation further stipulated that the Zeppelin terminal must be an independent project and not a part of any other landing field, whether municipally owned or otherwise. The only exception to this is in Richmond, where the tract being studied by Zeppelin Corporation is adjacent to a local airport.

Hog Island Unfavorable. Furthermore, Zeppelin Corporation officials were unfavorably impressed with the close proximity of the industrial district to the Hog Island area.

"With respect to the safety factor Zeppelin Corporation much prefers to be in too close proximity to the airport or airports operating heavier-than-air craft.

"In the Moorestown situation, Zeppelin engineers expressed gratification that the regular New York-Philadelphia Airways passes not closer than two or three miles from the site now under consideration as a Zeppelin terminal.

Phila. Site Excluded. "Ground and aerial inspections of Hog Island and adjacent areas were made by officials of the corporation, and after consideration of all data submitted by Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce they definitely excluded Hog Island from further consideration for their purposes.

"That there has been no change in this conclusion, reached, some months ago by Zeppelin Corporation, was corroborated this afternoon in a talk I had with one of its executives in Akron, O. They are, however, immensely impressed with the possibilities of Hog Island for the purposes for which it has been designed, but they do not include in this category dirigible operation.

"We next requested more than forty real estate firms in this city to submit available tracts of flat land approximately 1000 acres. Some of these were removed from the city, and because of inaccessibility were not acceptable to Zeppelin Corporation. We did succeed, however, in discovering five sites within the Philadelphia metropolitan district. Each of these in good measure meets the requirements of the corporation. At the request of the corporation, the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce financed the purchase, installation and maintenance of highly technical automatic weather recording devices.

Frequent Sailings. "The 1000-acre stipulation provides for an expansion of hangars and field accommodations, consequent upon a gradual development of trans-Atlantic Zeppelin service to the point where there will be several sailings each week, and conceivably daily sailings. To attempt such expansion on the Hog Island tract progressively would exclude heavier-than-air operation, and inevitably result in dangerous operating conditions to all concerned.

"The Zeppelin hangar at Akron, O., is 175 feet in length and 325 feet in width; its height is about 211 feet. There are 354,000 square feet of floor space, an area sufficiently large to provide eleven regulation football fields.

"The wisdom of erecting such huge air obstructions in a municipal airport area is open to question, particularly when one considers the probable increase in the number of such hangars as the years go forward.

"It is our understanding that a definite decision in the matter of selecting the site for the American Zeppelin

Groundhogs, Marriages, Railroaders, Civil War, Freeze-Outs, All Mentioned In Inscriptions On Old Jail's Walls

"Margaret Birkmire married Sideltrack Red 2-2-16, two groundhogs, good weather and spring is near."

This is just one of many inscriptions on the walls of the old Burlington jail, which is being remodeled and repainted for use as a storehouse for city property.

In 1839 a Lyceum Hall, on the site of present City Hall, was constructed by public-spirited citizens of Burlington to be used as a public auditorium for lectures and other rooming. In 1851, the building was taken over by the city for use as a City Hall and an addition was built on it. The cells in the rear of the building were used constantly until 1919 during later years as a lodging place for inmates.

There are four cells, three small ones and a large one known as the "boudoir." One of the smaller cells was known as the murderers' cell. This had a thick wooden door reinforced with steel and back of this, an iron door. The entire structure is of solid concrete, with walls and partitions about nine inches thick. Doors were of solid oak, with an iron and light slot in each one about eight inches square.

An oak, steel reinforced door, was at the opening leading from the outside into the corridor of the jail. Above the door was a transom, with one-inch iron bars securely placed at about nine-inch intervals. A man once escaped through this transom, which is about ten feet above the floor. It is said the fellow was serving a sentence for drunk and disorderly conduct.

Many interesting and novel inscriptions are penciled on the walls in the jail, and there are also many pictures of various subjects and showing varying talent. One picture is of a Union soldier, with the inscription, "C. S. A. 1861," beneath it.

Some of these inscriptions are instructions, evidently written on the walls by Gypsies and other roamers for the benefit of others of their clan who might later visit the place. "Brooklyn, 93 miles S. W., "Pittsburgh, Pa., 241 miles"—are some of these instructions. Another expresses an opinion of the lock-up with the following short sentence, "This is a freeze-out, a genuine ice box."

"Red" apparently have been regular customers at the city jail over a considerable period of years. Whether or not they were Bolsheviks is a question that probably never will be known. Some of them were "Sideltrack Red, Cincinnati Red, West Phila. Red, Red Solemate." Other names appearing on the walls were, Klot (accompanied by picture), Besiege Welch, Spore Murphy, Richmond Jack, Brad Tom (of Beverly).

Numerous bits of writing on the walls were indistinguishable. A peculiar thing about the chirography was the fact that much was written backwards.

Dr. Im W. Drew, who is a professor of Pediatrics at the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, was the speaker at the meeting of the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club Thursday evening.

Dr. Drew discussed the subject of "Living to be One Hundred Years Old." He stressed the necessity of using proper food in order to promote longevity. He said statistics prove the span of years has increased as much in the last thirty years as in the previous two centuries, due to the use of preventive medicines.

The address mentioned the two most important factors to persons desiring long life. They are sanitation and proper diet.

Dr. J. Rowland Dey, of Riverton, who is associate pediatrician at the college, has been studying under Dr. Drew for the past four years.

The Rotary Club is now making plans to hold its annual Ladies Night at Log Cabin Lodge, Medford Lakes, Thursday evening, February 26.

SAMARITAN CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

Kenneth Dimond Now President of Acacia Men's Class of Central Baptist Sunday School

At the home of their teacher, Charles A. Dietz, Second and Garfield avenues, the Samaritan Class of the Central Baptist Sunday School held the regular monthly meeting last Thursday evening.

The meeting was well attended and with the interest manifested, the newly elected president, Kenneth Dimond, can look forward to a year of progress.

The other officers for the ensuing year will be: Vice-president, Francis C. Bailey, of Riverton; secretary, Charles Snyder, of Palmyra; and treasurer, James M. West, of Palmyra. Mr. West is also the retiring president.

Although the usual time for the annual banquet is in the month of March, the class deemed it advisable to defer it until April in order that arrangements can be made for one of the best annual affairs in the history of the class.

After much discussion the class decided to resume the collection of papers and made their first collection on Saturday afternoon last. The money derived from the selling of these newspapers and magazines is placed in the treasury for the new building fund of the church. No collections have been made during the holiday season but all who are contributors to this cause can be assured that they will be called upon shortly.

Lin terminus will be reached by the Zeppelin executives some time the latter part of next month.

FAMOUS WRITERS WILL BE HERE TO ADDRESS MEETING

Miss Martin To Speak at State Journalistic Conference in Palmyra on March 6

PHILADELPHIA BULLETIN EDITOR GUEST SPEAKER

Herbert R. Ede, Rutgers University Professor, Will Lead Discussions

The New Jersey Conference of the National Association of Journalism, to be held in Palmyra March 6, will be featured by addresses by several prominent newspaper and short story writers.

Helen R. Martin, the world famous author who has written so many stories of the Pennsylvania Dutch, will speak at the evening session of the conference. This will be one of the highlights of the meeting, as it is a rare treat to have Mrs. Martin on a program of this type. Her subject will be "The Russian Revolution and the Press." Toward the close of her address she will relate some of her experiences in working among the Pennsylvania Dutch for the adoption and promotion of woman suffrage.

Mrs. Martin was born at Lancaster, Pa., and attended both Swarthmore and Radcliff College. Her short stories have appeared in practically every leading magazine of today. Many of her books, which deal chiefly with the Dutch inhabitants of Pennsylvania, have won for her world-wide fame. Several of her books have been adopted for stage use, "Barnabette" being the one to gain the most prominence. This play, taken from her book of the same title, had a spectacular one-year run on Broadway. Another of her writings, "The Snob," was filmed by Metro-Goldwyn in a photoplay of the same name.

Bulletin Editor. The afternoon program includes one of America's best known newspaper men, Fred Fuller Shedd, editor of the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin. As the principal speaker of the afternoon session, Mr. Shedd will speak on "Editing a Newspaper."

Mr. Shedd, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, is deeply interested in problems of journalistic teaching and he lectures regularly at Penn State College. He began his career as bookkeeper for the Haverhill, Mass., Gazette, and finally became editor in 1889. In 1909 he became an editorial writer for the Boston Herald, and editor of the newspaper two years later. Before reaching his position as editor of the Bulletin, Mr. Shedd worked for this publication in the capacity of an editorial writer. At present time he is a member of the Sigma Delta Chi, an honorary journalistic fraternity.

Round Table Talks. The round table discussions, one of the features of the conference, will have some of the best authorities on high school journalism for leaders. Herbert R. Ede, professor of journalism at Rutgers University, will lead one discussion on "Writing Feature Articles." This subject is allied closely with one of the courses which Mr. Ede gives at Rutgers.

The year book school, which will deal with the problems of publishing a year book, will have three of the best authorities in the eastern part of the United States on the subject. Stephen K. Little, of the Princeton University Press; E. D. Arthur, of the James B. Malloy Co. of Chicago; and H. H. Matlack, of the Philadelphia-Weeks Engraving Company, of Philadelphia, are included in this group.

These are only a few of the speakers expected to participate in the program. Announcement of the others waiting for notice of their acceptance of the invitation to speak.

HOWARD V. BISHOP, DAIRYMAN, DIES

Had Come in Burlington Hospital After Week's Illness From Pneumonia

Howard V. Bishop, Sr., of Riverside, one of the most prominent independent dairymen in South Jersey, died in Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, early Wednesday morning after a week's illness from pneumonia. He was 64.

Born in Cooperstown, he was one of the trustees of the original Cooperstown Meeting, a non-sectarian congregation, but upon moving to Riverside, became affiliated with the Episcopal Church.

He organized Riverside Dairy 35 years ago. The business now employs all of Burlington and parts of neighboring counties. His son, Howard Jr., and Joseph have had active management.

He is survived by his widow, Susan, two sons and a daughter, Mary. Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. Friday from his home, 119 Holdings avenue, Riverside. The Rev. Samuel Hardman, of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Riverside, will officiate. Burial will be in Cooperstown Cemetery.

LEGIONNAIRES HOLD SECOND ANNUAL BALL

The second annual Military Ball sponsored by Frederick M. Rodgers Post No. 156, American Legion, Palmyra, will be given tonight in the F. O. S. of A. Hall, Palmyra.

Legion members have been working several days arranging the decorations for the occasion. The hall will be attractively trimmed in blue and white, the Legion colors, and at one end of the hall has been arranged an arbor, plentifully filled with artificial roses.

The opening part of the affair, scheduled to start at 8:30, will consist of a short entertainment followed by dancing until midnight.

Ed Moton and his Kentuckians, the orchestra which won such favor at the first ball, will again supply the music this year.

Overseer of the Poor Patrick Dolan, of Mount Holly, in his report for the month of January, called attention to the fact that he had given out orders for the poor of the town to the amount of $494.20. It is the largest for any one month in the 20 years he has been overseer.

A 600-pound bell was recently stolen from a church at North Richmond.

MEN CANDIDATES WIN IN PALMYRA SCHOOL BALLOTS

Donaghy, Snyder and Baker
Elected to Education

IN CLOSE VOTING

Weart Fails To Reduce Majority of Citizens'
Committee

The three men candidates carried off the honors in the Palmyra school election Tuesday evening.

William A. Donaghy, who was endorsed by each of the two leading factions, was high man, receiving a total of 626 votes.

George B. Snyder, backed by the Citizens Committee of which Richard E. Wilson was chairman, stood second with 459.

Leonard R. Baker, a last minute entry by ex-Mayor James T. Weart's faction, was the third successful candidate with 418.

Mrs. Marian L. Mallory, a member of the board up for re-election, also supported by the Weart organization, received 386 and Mrs. Claire R. Lippincott, the woman candidate of the Citizens Committee, received 373.

All the appropriations carried with large majorities, only a few scattering votes being registered in opposition.

Typical Campaign
The campaign preceding the election which created much interest was typical of recent school campaigns in Palmyra.

Three years ago, citizens of the town had become dissatisfied with the school management which was alleged to have defects of several years standing.

At that time Mr. Donaghy, Charles W. Davison and Mrs. Mallory were candidates on a platform pledged to sweeping reforms. They were successful, although opposed by a slate of candidates organized by ex-Mayor Weart, who had retired as president of the school board but who apparently still sought to control it.

A new supervising principal, Prof. Eckert, was obtained, who served two years, but dissatisfaction again developed and in 1930 the Citizens Committee entered into a bitter campaign, opposed as usual by Mr. Weart and his organization. The purpose of this campaign was to obtain a new supervising principal, eliminate the part-time evil which had been in existence many years and reduce school taxes.

During this campaign Mrs. Mallory was alleged to have become a supporter of the Eckert-Weart faction, instead of working with the Donaghy-Davison party by whom she had been elected.

Win Sweeping Victory
The Citizens' Committee in 1930 won a sweeping victory over all the Weart candidates and at last had a clear majority in the board. Immediately the improvements and reforms which had been promised were put into practice. The part time evil was ended, school taxes were reduced and much progress made in Palmyra school affairs.

In order to assure the continuance of the good work, the Citizens' Committee was again organized this year for the purpose of backing candidates who would be pledged to the policies of the board majority.

Since Mr. Davison wished to retire, it was necessary to place a candidate in the field for that vacancy and the committee also decided to seek a woman candidate to run against Mrs. Mallory because the committee was not satisfied with the stand she took in the Eckert controversy.

After several meetings in which several possible candidates were suggested, discussed, interviewed and balloted upon, it was decided to back the ticket composed of Mr. Donaghy, Mr. Snyder and Mrs. Lippincott.

Political Expediency
Ex-Mayor Weart's faction last year had registered a more or less solemn vow to "get Bill Donaghy" in 1931. This year, however, apparently for political expediency, Mr. Weart made a very unexpected move.

He went to Mr. Donaghy and told him the board had made a very fine record during the year, so the Weart faction was going to support the very man it had previously determined to defeat.

Another popular Palmyrian, Leonard R. Baker, was prevailed upon to run for the board and Mrs. Mallory was named for the third member of the Weart ticket.

Uses 1930's Courier
The ex-Mayor had a large story printed in Saturday's Camden Courier about his ticket.

The story was printed on an inside page of the Courier, but ex-Mayor Weart bought a thousand copies and had the page carrying his story turned over. He then had the paper distributed to nearly all the homes in Palmyra.

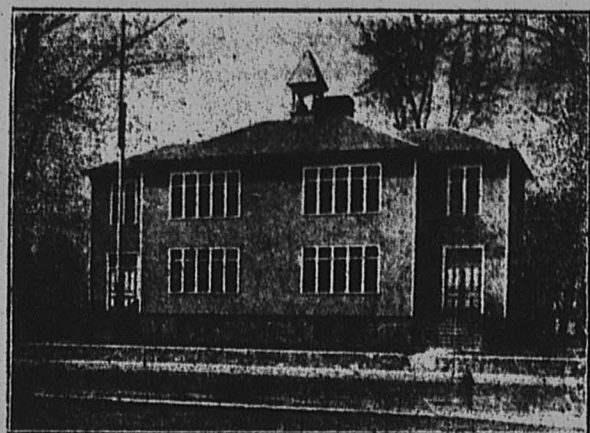

An amusing circumstance was apparent during the counting of the ballots Tuesday evening. Several of the Weart adherents, remembering they had been supposed to "get Donaghy" this year, passed over Donaghy's name on the ballot and most of them apparently voted for Snyder instead, thereby running Snyder's vote considerably ahead of Baker's.

An unusual number of voters turned out from District No. 1, West Palmyra, and it was believed that the majority voted the Weart ticket. This district produced 204 voters. No. 2 had 146, No. 3 had 179 and No. 4, the most populous district in town, 253.

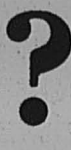

The net result of the election is that the Citizens' Committee majority in the board of education remains the same as before, 6-3, even if Mr. Baker were to join forces with the opposition.

It is confidently expected however, that Mr. Baker will be a construc-

BIRTHDAY DINNER

Lorraine Meyers Entertains Friends
At Morgan Avenue Home
Monday Evening

Monday evening Miss Lorraine Meyers was hostess to a number of friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Meyers, 729 Morgan avenue.

An informal dinner was served at 5:30 o'clock, appropriately celebrating Miss Meyers' birthday anniversary, after which the guests participated in a well arranged program of delightful entertainment.

A unique feature of the festivities was an old-fashioned "Fish Pond" from which each of the guests received a souvenir of the occasion.

Miss Martha Higgins was the special guest of honor; the other guests including Clara Barr, Margaret Barr, Betsy Lippincott, Dorothea Trout, Mary Drier, and Alice Miller.

FEW THINGS SACRED

Size, Custom Bodies Only Big Features of Costly Cars

Few things are sacred to the costly car any more except size and custom bodies, points out D. E. Ralston, assistant general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company.

Volume has made possible such tremendous purchasing advantages that scarcely has a new feature been introduced on a high priced car before a means has been found to incorporate it in the low priced volume field, according to the Chevrolet executive.

"Witness the radiator screen grille," Mr. Ralston pointed out. "Popularized by one of America's finest cars, it became standard equipment within a year on every sport model in the new Chevrolet line. The adjustable driver's seat won enthusiastic endorsement when it made its public appearance on one of the higher priced cars, yet in no time at all it became a feature of every Fisher-Chevrolet body."

AUTO HITS TREE

Haddon Heights Driver Blinded by Lights of Another Car

A Cadillac four-passenger coupe, driven by George R. Pelouze, 216 Third avenue, Haddon Heights, was considerably damaged about the front and right side when it crashed into a tree on Riverton road, Moorestown, opposite the Ephraim Tomlinson home, Monday night during the snow storm.

Mr. Pelouze, who escaped uninjured, told Moorestown police he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car, which forced him off the road.

PTA MAKES PLANS FOR ANNIVERSARY

Palmyra Organization Will Hold
Special Program for 34th
Founders' Day

The 34th Founders Day of the organization of the Parent-Teachers' Associations will be celebrated in Palmyra with a fitting program next Tuesday evening in the High School auditorium. The P. T. A. movement was started in February, 1897, by Mrs. Theodore Birney.

Of principal interest on the program for the evening will be Mrs. Nina G. Frantz of Moorestown, who will be the principal speaker. Her topic will be, "Do We As Parents, Pass?"

In the entertainment part of the program, a group of high school students, under the direction of Miss Marjorie Burt, will give a short sketch entitled "Dull Houses and Cinnamon Buns," written by one of the high school pupils.

The music department, under the direction of Miss Vera Melone, will present several interesting features, including a toy orchestra by Mrs. Bonnell's class and a special number by Miss Muriel Burmann's class.

Miss Grace Dugan, physical training director, has arranged for an Indian club drill with special lighting effects, and a folk dance in costume by High School pupils.

The meeting next week will be preceded by an informal discussion to begin at 7:45. Miss Hazel C. Clarke, head librarian of the Burlington County Library, will be the leader of the session, and will answer questions and lead discussions on the proper books for children and parents.

Miss Clarke will also bring a number of books with her, which she will lend to those parents and teachers who are interested.

The child study group of colored mothers will meet tomorrow night at 8:00 o'clock in the study hall of the Palmyra High School. Mrs. Alfred G. Casper will lead the group.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

Palmyra Police Find Automobile
Abandoned at Fifth and Delaware Avenue Monday

A stolen car was recovered by Palmyra police Monday morning when it was found deserted at Fifth street and Delaware avenue.

The small sedan had been used in Merchantville in the perpetration of several hold-ups in Merchantville and Pensauken Sunday and police of all nearby towns were warned to be on the lookout for it.

Chief of Police C. Morris Beck discovered the auto about 9:15 a. m., and turned it over to the Merchantville police.

Appeal of Red Cross Gets Response Here

The officers of the Palmyra Red Cross drive have announced the receipt of $1,035.17 of the quota of $1,200 asked for by the American Red Cross to help relieve the drought sufferers.

They wish to express their hearty thanks to all persons who responded to the appeal, and to all those who in any way helped to make the drive a success.

Even though Palmyra failed to raise the amount asked for, the officers are delighted with the amount received from the townspeople, as so many are out of work at this time.

Contributions are still being received at 15 East Broad street, by Mayor George N. Wimer.

FOUR CARS FIGURE IN CRASH ON BROAD ST.

Sharp Turn Causes Bus to Make Sudden Stop, Then Two Cars
Pile Up in Rear

Four cars figured in a motor accident late Tuesday afternoon on the north side of Broad street, near the Morgan avenue crossing, Palmyra.

A bus, to avoid hitting a machine which had turned sharply in front, stopped suddenly and two other cars, unable to stop because of the wet roads piled into each other, resulting in minor damages to all except the machine which had caused the accident.

Frank Quinten, Broad street, East Riverton, driver of the Morris ice truck, swerved sharply in front of a Penn-Jersey bus, traveling toward Philadelphia, and driven by William Penimore. Penimore kept from hitting Quinten only by sudden application of the brakes. R. Volkman, of Riverside, driving a truck of the Atlantic Paper Tube Company, of Delanco, was unable to stop in time and crashed into the rear of the bus, slightly damaging the rear fender of the bus and breaking his own headlight.

Belind Volkman was a Ford operated by John C. Haines, colored, of Palmyra. He was also unable to check his machine in time, and he ran into the rear of the truck, badly damaging his radiator.

Quinten was fined $15 for driving without an operator's license by Justice of the Peace William L. Fichter. Morris, whose machine had caused the accident, was uninsured but agreed to pay for all damages. The other drivers were protected by insurance and were not arrested.

Because his trousers disappeared while he slept, Arsene Ouellette, of New York, sued a hotel and won $200 damages.

FOUR NABBED HUNTING DEER

Three Sentenced to 90 Days in Jail; Fourth Pays
$220 Fine

Game Wardens Roy R. Carson and William Carslake last week apprehended four men in an automobile in the pine belt of Burlington county, gunning for deer.

Charles Wilson, of Vincentown, was the owner of the car. In the machine were found two guns loaded with buckshot and a bullet rifle, also loaded, as well as 15 buckshot shells. Wilson was committed to the county jail at Mount Holly for 90 days by Justice of the Peace John Throckmorton, in default of a fine of $200 and costs. His gunning license will be revoked for two years. Wilson is an old offender. He was arrested and fined a year ago on a similar charge.

Charles Powell, also of Vincentown, was also sent to the county jail for 90 days in default of a fine of $210 and costs.

George Moore, also of Cedar Lake, paid his fine of $220 and costs, 100-ell and the two Moores were without gunning licenses.

The men were caught on the Old Washington field, back of Hawkins Bridge road, near High Crossing.

LIONS' CARD PARTY

Next Thursday evening the Lions' Den, Society Hall, will be the scene of another one of its delightful card parties.

A large assortment of valuable prizes will be awarded and refreshments will be served. Pinochle, bridge and five hundred will be played. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. An enjoyable evening is assured. Playing will start promptly at eight o'clock.

SLAPPED HIM ON THE WRIST!

All's well that ends well!
Il Duce, modern Tyrant of Italy, has his apology.

Smedley Butler, typical American, had the satisfaction of tweeking the tyrant's nose, and now has his reprimand.

Official Washington saved half its face by making the apology and then worming its way out of court martialling Butler.

And some newspaper man takes the blame and receives the approval of his city editor for spilling a good story that wasn't supposed to be printed.

Hard words such as contained in an official reprimand won't hurt an officer of the Marines. He is quite used to words of a much more shocking nature.

The average Mr. American, more particularly described a citizen of the United States, finds it hard to understand the whole affair. He has long had the thought the Declaration of Independence gave all Americans the right to say what they pleased about foreign potentates.

Nobody court martialed Patrick Henry. Nobody court martialed the patriot who said, "Millions for defense, not one cent for tribute." Nobody has even thought of court martialling "Big Bill" Thompson, who eats the King of England for breakfast every morning. Instead they elect "Big Bill" Mayor of Guntown.

But Smedley is a General of the Marine Corps. His conversation with foreign potentates is supposed to be limited to polite exchanges of bullet and bayonet.

Big Bill is only Mayor of Chicago.
That's the difference.

WASHINGTON, LINCOLN AND THE "DEBUNKERS"

The "Debunkers" — that class of writers and orators that laughs and sneers at any display of sound patriotism and at the virtues of

George Washington and Abraham Lincoln — are the target for sharply pointed, incisive comments of C. B. Lister, secretary-treasurer of the National Rifle Association, which appears editorially in the February issue of the association's magazine, "The American Rifleman."

The "Debunkers" are effectively and searingly rebuked and the two greatest of Americans are given a freshened hold on the glory they won for themselves and their country in their life time.

The editorial, intended for the thousands of sportsmen of the country, calls upon them to revive their own faith in American ideals and to inculcate the same faith in the younger generation, while also taking to task the anti-gun reformers who seek to disarm America.

It is during February, because of Washington and Lincoln's birthdays, Mr. Lister comments, that the "debunkers" are much heard from. Both Washington and Lincoln were human, he admits, and he wonders why they are held up to public adulation by "debunkers" because they were human. After regretting that the attackers of the character of America's two greatest of leaders have their greatest effect upon youth, Mr. Lister proceeds:

"To adults who have lived their lives, who have sacrificed or witnessed the personal sacrifice of ambition, of property, of life, for an ideal, who have listened to the eulummies of erstwhile friends, who have been through the strain and stress of great war, all the attempts to debunk men like Washington and Lincoln result only in a greater appreciation of the true nobility of these two great Americans. But youth is essentially a hero-worshiper. Many of the ideals which carry a man through the rough spots in later years were unconsciously formed in his youth through his respectful admiration for and attempts to emulate some particular hero. When such a hero is shattered, youth is all too likely to lose its beacon light and to run aground on the shoals of uncertainty, to be pounded to pieces by the seas of a surging life that gives no time for the charting of a new course.

"No greater service can be rendered by the sportsmen of America in this month of February than to seize upon the celebration of the birth of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln as a means of reviving their own faith in the American ideals for which these men gave all they had; and with a new grip on themselves, to pass along to the rising generation the fact that of course every great American hero was human and that his heroism arose not from any god-like characteristics, but from his ability to master human emotions and to turn them to the overlasting credit of himself and the United States."

CHESTERTON

Gilbert K. Chesterton, the brilliant English essayist now visiting America, confesses that he has been surprised to discover that the American people are quite different and much more likeable than he had expected to find them. There is nothing the matter with the American people, he conceded, but our ideals are all wrong.

Mr. Chesterton suffers from the false impression which most Europeans get from reading and hearing about things American which make no real impression upon our lives. Because we build skyscrapers 80 stories high, for economic reasons, he thinks that every American wants to work and live in a skyscraper, whereas most of us prefer to work and live anywhere else. The average height of buildings in New York City, including the skyscrapers, is only five stories, but Europe thinks of us as devoted to the skyscraper ideal, not alone in building but in everything else.

As a matter of fact, the American ideal standard of life seems to me to be something which Mr. Chesterton has entirely overlooked. If he had said that we, as a people, are striving toward an ideal social order in which everybody shall be independent economically and socially and all get the most possible enjoyment out of life, each in his own way, he would have come nearer the mark. But that is not the ideal we advertise.

SOCIALISM

Timorous critics of social progress view every extension of governmental authority over property rights and privileges as a step toward Socialism, a cause they are right. Of the three forms of government, first defined by Aristotle, the ancient Greek philosopher, the first, monarchy, or government by one man, exists today only theoretically in a few countries, in practice only in the name of the larger nations. Aristotle's second form, aristocracy, or government by a selected few, is still, in effect, the government of most of the world's peoples.

In every part of the world, however, the movement toward Aristotle's third form, the Commonwealth, or government by the people, is going on with more or less rapidity. The British government today is frankly Socialistic; so is that of Germany. In America we reject the name but accept the substance more and more liberally every year.

The greatest danger in Socialism lies in having it imposed upon or achieved by a people before they are ready for it. Its successful operation presupposes qualities in human nature which the great majority still do not possess. If everybody were intelligent, industrious and moderately just in all his relations with others no government at all would be needed. As we are constituted, we seem to be working out an anti-democracy in America which comes closer to our national concepts and needs than any form of government as yet devised anywhere else.

DO-X

By completing without mishap the first two legs of its flight from Germany to America in the latest airplane built, the DO-X, has revived interest in the competition between planes and dirigibles. The DO-X has reached the Canary Islands, in the Atlantic Ocean, as I write. By the time this is printed it may have reached America, the first airplane to transport a "pay-load" across the ocean.

Builders of dirigibles are confident that they will establish regular freight and passenger routes between the continents in the course of a year or two. So are the builders of airplanes. Perhaps both will succeed, but it seems more likely that the transatlantic flights of fifty years from now, when nobody will go by boat except those who are compelled to travel cheaply, will be made by aircraft which will combine the safety of the dirigible with the speed of the airplane.

Editorial Comment

State Not a Model of Economy

The Tax Survey Commission, which has recently made report embodying a number of suggestions that it believes would cut down the cost of municipal government would reduce even the present measure of home rule, transferring to the state some of the functions now exercised by local governing bodies. County courts, county road systems, all pension funds, care of the indigent insane under sentence, would pass from county control to state jurisdiction, under one of the plans proposed by the Tax Survey Commission, which also urges revision of the entire system of local government.

That's all very well but what has the state done in the way of economy and efficiency to inspire public confidence in its ability or its disposition to run our local affairs any more economically than the municipal officers are now administering them? So far as county expenditures are concerned, it was pointed out only a few weeks ago by the Burlington County Board of Freeholders (that but for mandatory expenditures, for which the Legislature is responsible, it would have been possible to still further reduce the total of the annual county budget).

Home rule in local affairs undoubtedly has its weaknesses but alongside the extravagance of state-run public affairs, home rule is a piker in spending the people's money.

MOUNT HOLLY MIRROR.

Support the Parker-McNary Bill

The Pennsylvania delegation in Congress should heed the request for support of the Parker-McNary bill, enabling the Postoffice Department to contract with American dirigible companies for carrying trans-Atlantic mail. In view of the prospective choice of the Philadelphia district as the American terminal of the Zepplin Company, the executive committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce shows commendable enterprise and energy in urging this action. It is proposed to develop the facilities at Moorestown, ten miles from the city, to an extent that will make this the center of dirigible services. No financial assistance is to be asked from the Government for the construction of either airships or terminals. It is wholly a matter of private enterprise, and mail contracts should be awarded without question.

It has been asked why Hog Island was not chosen instead of a tract on this side of the Delaware. The reason is obvious. In the first place, more ground is needed than Hog Island can offer. In the second place, the Zepplin Company considers it unwise and dangerous to operate from the same field as heavier-than-air machines. Better reason is sufficient. Ten miles will not be too long a

WAY OF LIFE

BY BRUCE BARTON

Difficulties

My little tailor came to the office to measure me for a new suit of clothes.

He looked tired. It had not been such a good winter. The American people are either away up or away down in their thinking and their spending. While the stock market was boiling they bought lots of clothes. But they stopped very suddenly, so the little tailor said.

I wondered what a tailor thinks about. It must be monstrous life, going around and measuring men, sewing up the suits and trying them on, and fixing them over, and listening to a good deal of grumbling.

"Do you find life worth living?" I asked him.

He was brightened. "It keeps me interested."

"But what are your pleasures?" I persisted. "What gives you a thrill?"

"Well, for one thing I get quite a lot of excitement in overcoming my difficulties."

He went on to tell me about his difficulties, and as he talked I felt a reverence for that little tailor and a certain amount of shame for myself. How much less he has than I have. But no complaining, no self-pity, no temptation to surrender. He is playing a game in which difficulties are his opponents, and every day, in his modest fashion, he wins some victory.

When I was in Chicago a couple of years ago they told me about the late T. F. Mevies, who left the presidency of Montgomery Ward and Company to become the president of John Manville. Why did he do it? He had all the money he could possibly use. Why should a man of sixty give up something which was going smoothly to tackle a new situation?

"Money had nothing to do with it," one of his former associates told me. "He called us in one day and said, 'Boys, I think I have this job licked. So I'll just say good-bye. I'm going where there are some problems.'"

Many a man makes himself unhappy, I think, because he regards his difficulties as some special affliction for which Fate has singled him out.

Difficulties are as much a part of the program of life as the pleasures. You're certain to have them. The only question is, how will you record them? As afflictions?

Or as a part of the game, like Mevies and the little tailor?

Journey for taking passage on an airship. The new field will be much more accessible than Crofton or Le Bourget, or, indeed, than any in the neighborhood of New York.

The Chamber of Commerce does well to get behind the project and do everything possible to advance it. Philadelphia Inquirer.

Bull Movement (2,700 Miles)

The first "bullish" trend to occur in Wall Street in a long time happened when a large-hatted Texan rode into town astride a thousand-pound Mexican bull named Jerry to see Mayor Walker.

He rode Jerry all the way from Brownsville, Tex. to the Brooklyn bridge, making 2,700 miles in 254 days. The Texan said that they caused quite a commotion down in Wall street, where everybody acted as though they hadn't seen a bull for years.

The Mayor, however, was ill, and couldn't extend the city's official welcome to the Wall street symbol of joy. The Texan brought along a 52-inch pair of steers horns, which he presented to City Hall.

He Got the Job

"Unemployed, Willing to Work at Any Legitimate Occupation for Room and Board and $10 a Week. High School and College Education Healthy."

So read a sign painted on a large square of cardboard by a young man standing on a New York street corner. His ingenuity was rewarded. After several hours of waiting, a business man approached him and conferred in low tones. The young man listened, smiled, tore up the sign and walked off with his newly acquired employer. It pays to advertise.

Harlem Hoofers' Hope

Out in Harlem, that dusky section glorified by Amos 'n' Andy, the wishful tree in front of the Lafayette theatre is doing a land office business.

It is the haven of hope for jobless negro actors. The more superstitious Harlem Theatres believe that if a jobless actor sits in front of the tree on a milk can and wishes for a job, he will get it. Sitting on a milk can isn't absolutely essential, but it helps, they say.

The myth started in 1927. A negro hooper was sitting on a milk can in front of the tree and remarked to a bystander that he certainly wished he had a job. At that moment the manager of the theatre emerged and engaged him to take the place of an actor who had become ill. Since then, it has been considered that the tree has the power to bring good luck.

Big shots in the negro theatrical and athletic world how to the tree in passing, and some managers do their booking under its branches when they come to New York to sign performers.

Fashion's Fling

Costumes, dominated by hues of flame and silver, streaked in unrestrained modernistic motifs, blazed at one of New York's perennially brilliant spectacles, the Beaux Arts Ball, given by a group of architects who attended the Beaux Arts school in Paris.

The high spot of the evening was a pageant, "The Skyline of New York," in which skyscraper architects appeared in costumes representing buildings which they designed. The Chrysler building outfit consisted of silver metal cloth trimmed with black patent leather, saah and lining of flame color and silver, and the cape, puttees and cuffs of flexible wood. The headress was an exact replica of the building's tower.

An amusing feature of the ball was an exhibition of modern art in speak-easies.

For Remembrance

A well-known radio crooner got a decisive answer to his plea for "something to remember you by" when he appeared in a Boston theatre. Grapefruit, slightly shopworn, and eggs of uncertain age came his way, allegedly propelled by college boys up in the balcony.

PORCH CLUB NOTES

The Current Events Class met on Tuesday, February 10th. Mrs. Gilbert Cee read some clippings she had collected about national and international matters.

Mrs. Arthur Cee gave the class a talk on world books to read and Mrs. Perry Shreve made of the Russian drama. She was quite well informed and gave an insight into the part of Russian life that is little known.

Lester Ensemble to Appear. Music lovers of Riverton and vicinity will have an opportunity on Tuesday evening, February 17, to hear a recital, sponsored by the music section of the Riverton Porch Club.

The artists, all pre-eminent in their respective fields are Josef Wisnow, pianist; Edward Weiser, baritone; and Virginia Snyder, accompanist.

Josef Wisnow is one of America's outstanding artists. During his extensive concert career he has appeared with the Philadelphia Orchestra, the Philadelphia Society of Philadelphia, the Women's Symphony Orchestra, the Philadelphia Trio and recently as solo pianist of the Lester Ensemble.

Edward Weiser is one of Philadelphia's most heralded younger baritone, and is already quite a favorite in music circles. He is not only an actor for the Lester Ensemble, but also for one of Philadelphia's largest churches; a pupil of Francis Persons, the well known New York coach.

Miss Virginia Snyder is one of the finest accompanists known to local music circles, and has built quite a reputation for herself as an artist of rare technique.

Because of the high quality work of the artists a musical treat of unusual excellence is being looked for. The concert will be held at the Clubhouse beginning at 8:30 p. m. sharp. It has been scheduled for the evening so that the husbands of the Porch Club members may also enjoy this rare treat.

The concert is free to members of the club and each member is invited to bring one guest free of charge.

We hope that a great many of our club members will be able to come and enjoy the most attractive and interesting program.

CINNAMINSON SCHOOL NOTES

Growing out of the interest manifested in the music study group conducted by Mr. Pew and his associates, in the Westfield Public school, the music committee of the P. T. A. is planning a musical, the proceeds of which will go to help with the loan fund recently voted by the association, for the purpose of aiding pupils who feel financially unable at present, to bear the extra expense of a course in the Normal school.

January 18th, the eighth grade, on their own initiative, invited and made arrangements for a musical given by Mr. Westfield Hospital to give a talk on first aid, enjoying it more because it was their own efforts. As usual, one of the P. T. A. members helped by going for the visitor and taking her home.

They, the eighth grade, have agreed to take care of the primary children during the library period before lunch, seeing that faces and hands are clean, as a preparation for that important event.

This enterprising grade was inspired by one of the pictures given by Mr. Chandler Johnson to dramatize the story of the Charter Oak, and present it as their offering at a morning assembly.

The next meeting of the P. T. A. will be held in the lunch room February eighteenth, when they will have a discussion about "Property Rights" led by Miss Elmer Rush, Publicity Chairman.

OLD FURNITURE MAY WIN PRIZE

Chicago World's Fair Offers $250 for Chair or Sofa Mohair Covered

Have you a mohair-covered chair or sofa in your home? If so, you may be two hundred and fifty dollars the richer for it!

The New Era is in receipt of a message from the Household Science Institute, Chicago, asking for help in locating the oldest piece of mohair-upholstered furniture in the United States. The Institute feels that there is a possibility of its being found in this section. The style of the sought-for furniture or its use or non-use at the present time are not important, provided it is in good condition. The owner of the piece selected will be awarded two hundred and fifty dollars and the piece itself will be exhibited with other old-time furniture during the World's Fair at Chicago in 1933.

Divertissements who feel that they have something of interest should communicate with Mrs. Grace Viall Gray, Household Science Institute, 7 South Dearborn street, Chicago, Illinois, giving the history of the piece they have in mind and all facts concerning age, color, condition and other pertinent information. Mrs. Gray will then decide whether the article is the one wanted and make arrangements for shipping it to Chicago.

NEW STATUTE FOR MOTOR FATALITY

Hoffman Sees Need for Specific Law on Auto Deaths

By HAROLD G. HOFFMAN, State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles.

There is a limit to the period which a law reasonably may lag behind the social condition that makes it necessary. That limit has been passed with regard to an involuntary homicide statute as a substitute for the manslaughter charge basic in prosecuting motorists participating in fatal accidents.

In urging the enactment of such a law for New Jersey, the State motor vehicle department recognizes a new and widespread condition as calling for a new statute. Manslaughter laws are premised upon conditions quite anterior to those prevailing in the motor vehicle fatality case. One need look no further for evidence of this than the attitude of grand and petit juries.

In the case of the former, refusal to admit is not always a matter of the evidence indicating no punishable guilt but rather a degree of guilt with which the law is not consistent in its penalties. The same thing is true when petit juries fail to convict. Their measurements of justice indicate an inconsistency between the crime and the punishment.

New Crime on Calendar

The plain fact is that the motor vehicle fatality has brought a new crime into the calendar; one that is not covered in existing punitive statutes. It is a specific breach of social behavior and the intelligent way to dispose of it is to provide a specific law dealing with it.

In the ordinary concept of the charge of manslaughter there are three degrees. In the individual instance, it is possible that all three aspects might apply to the motor vehicle killing. But it is highly unlikely and the situation is steadily confused when it might be straight-forwardly and directly disposed of under an involuntary homicide act.

It is safe to assume that the form of homicide involved in the street or highway accident is involuntary. Only the rarest kind of hair-splitting could question this estimate.

However involuntary it may be, there is no disputing that it is homicide; that the victim has been robbed of the rarest possession of man and that the person who disposed of him of the gift should be answerable.

Motor vehicle regulations and traffic laws define broadly these forms of conduct which constantly threaten, likewise, provide penalties for breaches of these forms of conduct. The seriousness of the breach is paralleled in the punishment prescribed for it in the average case.

Involuntary Homicide However, the most serious violation of any traffic or motor vehicle regulation is that which causes loss of life. Until we have in New Jersey, and elsewhere I believe, an involuntary homicide act, no adequate means of punishing this form of violation is provided.

In rescuing the fairness of the proposed involuntary homicide law, introduced by Senator Powell, the motor vehicle department does not regard itself as defending the cause of society more positively or aggressively than that of the offending motorist. The motorist's right to justice is just as definite as that of the group and this type of law is his assurance, too, that his case will be treated with fairness.

Two states already have enacted this type of statute. Several others, including New Jersey, are considering it.

One feels safe in venturing the prediction that within a relatively short time every State will have such a law. It is the one means of meeting with justice to all parties involved a condition that is peculiar to our time and one that is not met by the old manslaughter laws.

WRIGHT PRAISES WILLIAM H. BUCK

had been conducted with almost military precision.

"Buck's co-operation with me in the introduction of electric central painting, was a turning point in the history of the company, our company being so much a pioneer in this respect, that the New Jersey Utilities Commission stated in one of their reports, that ours was a model company."

When the question of selling our company was being negotiated I stipulated that I would not consent unless Mr. Buck would be continued as superintendent, but as one company sold to another, it would appear that my stipulation could not be enforced, very much to my regret, and in leaving our community Mr. Buck takes with him the best wishes of a host of friends that his forty-one year residence among us had created.

Respectfully,
CHARLES A. WRIGHT.

"Therefore Be It Resolved that this Pomona Grange go on record as favoring the maintaining and enforcement of the Hobart Act and further be it resolved that we are against any modification of the Hobart Act."

Decrease of Six Auto Deaths in N. J. for 1930

According to Commissioner of Motor Vehicles, Harold G. Hoffman, there were 1269 motor vehicle deaths in New Jersey in 1930, in comparison to 1275 fatalities for 1929, making a net decrease of 6 deaths, although during this period there has been a five and six-tenths per cent increase in the total number of vehicles registered for the State, and a six per cent increase in the number of licensed drivers.

This is the first time in nearly 10 years that there has been a net reduction in automobile fatalities in the State of New Jersey. The 1929 total reflected an increase of seventeen and one-tenth per cent over that of the preceding year.

SEEK INCENDIARY IN BEVERLY FIRES

$20,000 Farm Building Loss Latest in Series of Blazes

Beverly police and state troopers of the Delanco barracks have been investigating a costly fire which occurred last Friday night on the farm of John Perkins, Coopers town.

The Perkins fire is believed to have been started by Beverly's firebug, who seems to have transferred his activities from Beverly city to the nearby farm country. The fire was the third within a week on farms in the neighborhood. The other two were on the Hookstra and Cramp farms. In the past three weeks there have been more than a dozen fires in this vicinity, many of them giving conclusive proof of the activities of the firebug. Owners of the damaged properties have decided to jointly pay $100 for the apprehension of the incendiary.

In the fire Friday night all the barns and outbuildings on the Perkins farm were destroyed. A winter supply of feed and grain and two tons of seed were lost. One cow was burned to death. Several other animals were rescued by members of the Perkins family and neighbors. One truck was also destroyed by the flames.

The farm house was saved. Being of brick structure it did not catch from the other buildings. A shingle roof was kept from becoming ignited by members of two Beverly fire companies. Fire companies from Delanco, Burlington, Springfield and Fannerville also answered the alarm. Damage was estimated at more than $20,000.

LEROY MARTIN HONORED

At a meeting and election of officers held at Atlantic City, H. Leroy Martin, one of the leading managers of the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, of Atlantic City, was elected president of the Managers' Benefit Association of the A. & P. organization. Martin was born in Beverly. Later his parents moved to Riverside where his father, Harry Martin, was manager of the store of Gramer and Rogers. A short time later the family moved to Camden, then again came back to Riverside and opened a store of their own in the old Fischer Building at Scott street and Pavilion avenue. About six years ago they closed their store and went to Atlantic City.

TIPSY AUTOIST DRIVES TO WAITING OFFICER

Joseph Lane, aged 51, employed at the New Jersey State Colony at Four Mills, his home at New Lisbon, was arrested in Mount Holly last week by Patrolman Howard Shinn, after the officer had received word that a zig-zag driver was on his way. As the man pulled to the curb to park on Mill street his front wheels went up on the sidewalk in front of the officer. Lane was examined by Dr. D. E. Remer and pronounced under the influence of liquor and not capable to drive a car. At a hearing before Recorder Joseph C. Kingdon, Lane was fined $221 and in default was committed to the county jail for 30 days. His license will be revoked for two years.

Club Backed by BABE RUTH and SOUSA To Locate in County

Plans are reliably reported under way for the establishment of a sportsmen's club, three miles from Brown's Mills, in which internationally-known men will be members and active officers.

That was revealed recently when it was stated that a group of men had purchased a property of 478 acres, near Woodmansie, in the heart of the Burlington county pine belt.

The name of the club, it is understood, is the "Lebanon Sport Club," and it is further stated that John Philip Sousa, the "march king," is vice president. Babe Ruth, home-run king of baseball, is said to be another member. George M. Harris, of Camden and Palmyra, is secretary.

The site has long been known as good hunting territory in which deer and other wild game abound.

It is understood the club's intention is to build a large headquarters and clubhouse on the property, sufficient funds having been received for the venture.

The property was formerly known as the Bullock Farm, which, in turn, became the Summit Fruit Company. Surrounding the property is perhaps the largest growth of pine timber in South Jersey. There is a railroad stop at the property, which was formerly known as Bullocks, but which will now become Lebanon. The name is derived from the old Lebanon Glass Works, nearby.

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack Rector.

The larger view is always obtained from some high point. Your range is limited if you are on the level or lower. They elevate lighthouses so that they will be seen from the distance.

To be sure that man saw the mountains, God made them high, and dared him to climb. If you are lost in the forest, the elevation of the highest tree will help you to find your way out. This isn't theory. It is fact, and in actual life, if you are only interested in the buttons on your vest you will miss the sunset and the mountains.

The fact is, too, God made us reasonably tall that we could see our way. There is no ant business about human beings, unless you insist on keeping your eyes on the ground. It is the majesty of the master Jesus' point of view which compels men to seek Him, and if you remember, He said, "Follow Me." And that is our business.

The annual bazaar of the girls' Friendly Society will be held in the parish house on Saturday, February 14, afternoon and evening. Hand worked fancy goods, home made cakes and candy. The candidates will have a table of their own. A door prize is offered. Mrs. B. S. Torbett will serve a light luncheon, and we give a cordial invitation to all our friends and neighbors.

The birthday party of the St. Agnes Guild will be held on Tuesday evening, February 17, at 8 p. m. A very attractive program has been prepared and we ask for a loyal response.

Ash Wednesday, February 18, marks the beginning of our Lenten season. There will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 10:30 a. m., and evening and sermon at 8 p. m. The keeping of Lent can be of tremendous spiritual value contingent of course on your own efforts.

Service Sunday before Lent: 8:00 a. m., Holy Communion; 10:00 a. m., Sunday School; 10:45 a. m., Morning Prayer and sermon, "The Geometry of Life"; 8:00 p. m., Evening and sermon, "Lincoln".

The unnumbered wonders of the universe—unaided by human argument—will inevitably convince both the honest and dishonest atheist of the reality, purpose and power of God.

The Golden Text is: "I have longed for thy salvation, O Lord; and thy law is my delight. Let my soul live, and it shall praise thee; and let thy judgments help me" (Psalms 119:174, 175).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "O bless our God, ye people, and make the voice of his praise to be heard: Which holdeth our soul in life, and suffereth not our feet to be moved" (Psalms 66:8, 9).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Life is the law of Soul, even the law of the spirit of Truth, and Soul is never without its representative. Man's individual being can no more die nor disappear in unconsciousness than can Soul, for both are immortal" (p. 427).

The poultryman who wishes to obtain a high percentage of large eggs from the pullets that will be his chief source of income in 1932 can do no better than to hatch his chicks this year from eggs which weigh at least 26 ounces to the dozen. This opinion, expressed by Prof. W. C. Thompson, poultry husbandman for the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment Station, is based on a study of the egg records of 2,000 White Leghorn pullets in the last two years.

Next Wednesday is the beginning of Lent, and the sermon Sunday morning will seek to prepare the hearts of the people to profit by the season in spiritual growth and in Christian activity. At the evening service the pulpit will be occupied by the Rev. Roy L. Yund, Lutheran

PLANE TALKS
By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County
Aero Club

As a climax to the Air Corps maneuvers along the Atlantic Coast during May, will be a simulated attack on Washington, D. C., by the entire group consisting of 672 airplanes on Memorial Day. New York will be attacked on May 21, the division reaching the city in two units, one arriving from Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio via Pittsburgh, Harrisburg, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia and the other unit going by way of Buffalo, Rochester and Syracuse.

Bill Geisenheimer, of Merchantville, owner of one of the Robin cabin monoplanes at the Moorestown Airport of the Burlington County Aero Club passed the tests and received his private pilots' license last Friday.

The B. J. Aircraft Corporation, of Baltimore, is starting work on an order of 31 Pursuit-Fighting planes, an entirely new type about which we have told you from time to time, for the Army Air Corps.

Charles Baeza, the "Thirteen Kid" from Barbadoes, British West Indies, who is living in Moorestown while taking a flying course at the Moorestown Airport, has been quite ill for several weeks but is now slowly recovering and will soon be up and at them again in the sky.

Last Thursday at noon, Mrs. Victor Bruce, the British woman around the world flier, left the Glenn L. Martin Airport, Baltimore for New York and three hours later Miss Ruth Nichols, holder of the woman's Transcontinental record, put her Lockheed plane down on the same airport for a short visit. Both women are mighty good pilots.

Well, here's hoping the McNary-Parker bill passes Congress and we have the monster Zeppelin airport located near Moorestown. The airport would be the "Dirigible Gateway to the United States."

Congressmen who violate a law have the advantage of being able to obtain immunity by repealing the law. Recently a bill was passed removing the weight limit formerly imposed on matter franked by members of Congress, the argument being made that no attention was being paid to the law anyway.

This Week's Schedule

Friday—Pemberton at Bordentown; Riverside at Palmyra.

Saturday—Burlington at Moorestown.

In the biggest upset of the court season, Palmyra High School lost a bitter battle to the Mount Holly courtiers Tuesday night, at the latter's court by a 27-26 score.

Taking the lead early in the game, the Mount Holly lads kept ahead of the "Pals" until the last minute of the game when a field goal by Howard Minor gave the Palmyra five a slender one-point advantage.

The lead was short lived, however, for Joe Adams, Holly guard, took the ball from scrimmage and registered a long field goal that turned a ball game seemingly won by the Pals, into a triumph for the county searers.

The Palmyra defeat was all the more unexpected as the Pals had completely outclassed the Mount Holly five earlier in the season to win by a 26-11 score. Showing a complete reversal of form the "Hollies" outplayed the Palmyra passers throughout the contest.

The Mount Holly quintet proved for the second time this season that it is the one team that can be depended upon to do the unexpected. Earlier in the season it passed its way to a sensational surprise victory over Burlington, last year's winners, when a last minute field goal brought the Hollies out in front of a 20-19 score.

The loss knocked Palmyra off its high perch as undisputed league leaders, into a first place tie with Burlington. Each team has won six times and lost twice. The previous Palmyra game came at the hands of the powerful Burlington team, where Palmyra's losses were both surprises, coming at the hands of the Mount Holly and Riverside fives. In each instance the defeat came as the result of a field goal in the last few minutes of play. Burlington also defeated Palmyra in much the same manner, coming from behind in the last two minutes of action.

Coach Pete Dileo's Mount Holly charges had little trouble keeping the lead in the first half, topping Palmyra at the close of the first period 9 to 4 and at the close of the initial semester, 17 to 12.

Adams and Ed Durand were the outstanding performers for Mount Holly with nine points apiece, although the former ripped in three double-deckers and as many penalty casts, while the latter collected four field goals and a single foul shot. Captain Howard Davidson and Minor led the scoring for Palmyra with nine and seven points respectively.

'Pals' Take Second From Pemberton High

Palmyra High School continued in its march toward the Burlington County League championship when it took an easy victory from Pemberton High last Friday night by a 41-9 score.

The Palmyra five showed a fast passing attack that had the "Farmers" bewildered throughout the game. A 17-4 lead at half time increased as the second half started and Coach Ken Dimond made several substitutions. Every player used in the Palmyra line-up accounted for at least two points.

Captain Howard Davidson, Jack Kelly and Pete each accounted for three field goals, while Kelly added three fouls to give him nine points and the leadership in scoring. The "Pals" showed a marked improvement in their foul shooting, making good on nine of their 13 chances. Their success was in sharp contrast to that of the Burlington game when only two of an even dozen shots were successful.

The Palmyra guards were at the peak of their game, holding the Pemberton shooters to four field goals, two of these being made by Asay. The "Farmers" also had but six foul tries, one of which Charles Hinkley converted into a market.

By their victory, the Palmyra five remained a full game ahead of Burlington and Moorestown, the two teams tied for second place. Burlington gained revenge for an early season setback from Mount Holly when they ran roughshod over the county searers in piling up a 40-19 score. Moorestown, by virtue of a brilliant second half attack, overcame a 17-9 lead at half time, and managed to nose out Riverside, 25-24.

TO HOLD SMOKER AT MOORESTOWN

Boxing Bouts and Wrestling Matches Big Feature for Friday Evening

A big men's night program and smoker will be staged for the men of Moorestown, on Friday evening, February 13, at the Moorestown Community House, at 8 o'clock.

According to the committee in charge, headed by Harry Bowman, there will be a total of 30 rounds of boxing, three wrestling bouts and tumbling acts besides the old-fashioned free-for-all. This last event will prove a big attraction in itself.

"The bouts will not in any way be friendly," says Harry Bowman. "All of the boxing will be with boys from different stables and many of the fighters have already met in rings where a victory meant something. This will be the case on Friday night. All the fighters will be out to win and win in a decisive fashion."

One of the bouts which should prove very interesting is the "Johnny" Griffith and "Eddie" Hollins match. Griffith is a local boy and can take care of himself with the best in his class. Hollins is not known around here but coming from Haddonfield he will probably have many followers who like him and his style of fighting.

The Sharpley-Daniels bout will most likely be the feature of the evening. These boys weigh 148 pounds and every ounce of that weight is used in real fighting every minute they are in the ring.

In the wrestling bouts there will be Roy Hollins who is well-known in this vicinity. To finish up the night's fun there will be tumbling acts by a group of champion tumblers from the Camden Y. M. C. A.

Let us hold fast; let us stand firm; let us give a good and good course.

SLIDE TALKS PRESENTED

Various members of the 7A Class, which gave a talk. Then they wrote original myths, telling how the bird or flower received its name. These talks were illustrated by colored slides which were presented to the school by the Eighth Grade class two years ago when they graduated.

Robert Teeple and Frank Alloway took charge of the lanterns. Those who gave talks were: Doris Vaughan, Robert Wallace, Clifton Mayfield, John Hallinan, Richard Barclay, Katherine Schneider, Robert Hulings and James Wilson.

Richard Barclay, Robert Hulings, Clifton Mayfield and Robert Wallace volunteered to give their talks as a contribution to the assembly program.

'Pals' Take Second From Pemberton High

Palmyra High School continued in its march toward the Burlington County League championship when it took an easy victory from Pemberton High last Friday night by a 41-9 score.

The Palmyra five showed a fast passing attack that had the "Farmers" bewildered throughout the game. A 17-4 lead at half time increased as the second half started and Coach Ken Dimond made several substitutions. Every player used in the Palmyra line-up accounted for at least two points.

Captain Howard Davidson, Jack Kelly and Pete each accounted for three field goals, while Kelly added three fouls to give him nine points and the leadership in scoring. The "Pals" showed a marked improvement in their foul shooting, making good on nine of their 13 chances. Their success was in sharp contrast to that of the Burlington game when only two of an even dozen shots were successful.

The Palmyra guards were at the peak of their game, holding the Pemberton shooters to four field goals, two of these being made by Asay. The "Farmers" also had but six foul tries, one of which Charles Hinkley converted into a market.

By their victory, the Palmyra five remained a full game ahead of Burlington and Moorestown, the two teams tied for second place. Burlington gained revenge for an early season setback from Mount Holly when they ran roughshod over the county searers in piling up a 40-19 score. Moorestown, by virtue of a brilliant second half attack, overcame a 17-9 lead at half time, and managed to nose out Riverside, 25-24.

YOU, YOUR CAR AND THE MOTOR LAWS

Dr. Harold G. Hoffman
Commissioner of Motor Vehicles

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the thirty-third of a series of articles by the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles prepared for this paper as part of the campaign of education to familiarize New Jersey motorists with the laws which govern their conduct on the road.

XXXIII. LEGISLATION (Part 2)

Probably no item on the legislative program of the Department of Motor Vehicles touches so closely the individual motorist as the revision of the financial responsibility law, introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman George Grimm, leader of the Essex assembly delegation.

The law has been a cruel thorn in the side of the motoring public since it became effective on November 15, 1925. In December 1 characterized it as "farceful legislation," and presented figures showing that it had not justified the expense of administration.

The law does not compel a motorist to obtain insurance until he has had an accident and does nothing to protect the innocent motorist or injured pedestrian who is the victim of the first accident of a person financially irresponsible. Worst of all, innocent persons are penalized with the guilty, for the law requires the Commissioner of Motor Vehicles to obtain from every person concerned in an accident involving personal injury, loss of life or property damage, proof of financial responsibility, i. e., insurance, for three years. A person driving along the highway at a legal rate of speed, conforming in every way with the motor vehicle laws is thus punished to the same degree as the drunken driver or the reckless driver who crashes into him.

To Eliminate Inequities
The Grimm amendments, which legal authorities and organized motorists' leaders throughout the State believe will eliminate the inequities of the present act, yet strengthen and clarify its advantageous provisions, may be briefly summarized.

The first amendment restricts the establishment of financial responsibility to four major offenses, drunken driving, reckless driving, failure to stop after an accident, homicide or assault, and to persons involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to any person or property damage to the extent of at least $100. The commissioner is given power to use his discretion in requiring evidence from operators who are, in his opinion, innocent parties to an accident or not wholly responsible for the mishap.

The archaic principle that every dog is entitled to one bite, or rather, that every motorist is entitled to one accident, is eliminated by another amendment, which provides that the commissioner shall withhold the driving privilege or registration of any person who has been determined by the courts to be responsible for an accident and who fails within thirty days to satisfy a judgment for damages arising from such action.

Installment Plan
A similar provision in a California law was held unconstitutional. To meet the objections of the California court, the amendment further provides that if a person is unable to pay a judgment in full, the trial court, upon notice to the judgment creditor, may permit the defendant to pay the judgment in installments without affecting any other remedies of the judgment creditor. In the event of such a court ruling, the commissioner may, in his discretion, issue or continue registration or operator's license as long as installments are paid in accordance with

FIGS

Fig and Bread Pudding—One cup of salt pork, chopped very fine, one cup of bread crumbs, one cup of raisins, one cup of chopped dates, a few currants and bit of citron lemon peel, salt, cinnamon, cloves and allspice, one cup of sugar, two cups of milk, teaspoon of baking powder and flour to make quite stiff. Boil in pudding dish for three hours. Eat with hard sauce.

Fig Cake—Two cups of sugar (dark brown), one cup of butter, one of water, one teaspoon each of cloves, cinnamon, and nutmeg, four eggs, two cups of chopped raisins, one pound of figs chopped, two cups of cranberries, washed and dried, three cups of flour, and two teaspoons of baking powder. Bake in layers, which in putting together, alternate with layers made from the following: Two cups of sugar, three fourths of a cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, one of corn starch, two of flour, three teaspoons of baking powder, and the whites of six eggs beaten to a stiff froth.

CHICKEN PIE

Have the chicken prepared as for fricassees. Put in a kettle without liver, heart, etc.—and cover with boiling water and cook gently for about two hours. (The liver, etc., should be cooked separately and used for sandwich filling or some other dish calling for chicken giblets). Have ready five or six potatoes, pared and diced or cut into cubes with French potato cutter. Add to the chicken and cook for twenty minutes more, or until the potatoes are tender. Now add salt, pepper, a little chopped parsley and two tablespoons of flour mixed smooth with a little cold water, and boil three minutes more, stirring to keep smooth. Have ready a large baking dish lined with good pie dough. Pour chicken and potato mixture into it, cover with crust, brushing with a little milk to glaze. Bake for about twenty minutes, making sure that lower crust is done. If you like the lower crust may be lightly cooked before the chicken is put in the dish. The dish is greatly improved if after the chicken has been cooked the bones and most of the skin are removed. The meat should be left in as large pieces as possible.

Tapoca Pudding

Soak half a pound of tapoca overnight in a pint of milk and cook slowly in a double boiler until soft and thick, adding sugar and flavoring to taste, and a pinch of salt. Mold, chill, spread with jam, and cover with whipped cream.

the court's order.

Provision is also made to cover the situation where an automobile carries insurance and the person violating the act is either a chauffeur or a member of the family, but does not own a car of his own. There is now unnecessary duplication of insurance on the same automobile with two or more premiums for the same hazard.

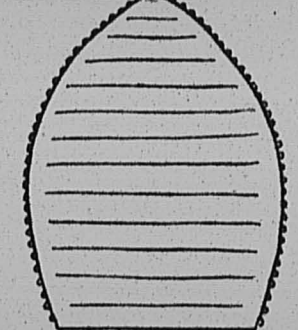

Section ten is amended to provide for separate concurrent policies covering personal injuries or death and property damage so as to overcome discrimination which now seems to exist against fire insurance companies. Provision is also made to cover non-residents who become amenable to the financial responsibility act, to recognize policies issued by insurance companies in their states, even though they are not licensed to do business in New Jersey, provided the companies execute power of attorney to the commissioner to accept certificates of process and vary the terms of their policies to comply with the laws of this state.

After loading a suitcase with 71 half dollars, 110 quarters, 1,140 dimes, 620 nickels and 1,600 pennies which belonged to his grandmother, John Metyk and Josephine Maluchik eloped from Chicago.

VERY LATESTS BY MARY MARSHALL

Here is the sketch of a flower and cuff set. They are very easy to make and will add that little new touch that often makes it possible to wear a dress after you have grown tired of it in its original form.

The flower as well as the cuffs are made from petal shapes. There is a pattern to use for the petals. If you want the flowers to be larger or smaller then enlarge or increase the size of the petal pattern. Cut the petal from cardboard or heavy paper. Then with a piece of chalk or crayon, mark the outline of the petal on the material. For a substantial silk or woolen dress you may make them from silk or cotton pique, preferably the fine ribbed sort. For a lighter weight dress you may use organza, georgette, or silk crepe. A new idea is to use rather stiff taffeta which gives a smart effect but is not so easily laundered as the other materials.

Allow a half inch between the petals if you take them to be pinned. The outline of each petal will, you know, be finished with machine hemstitching. Then you cut along the hemstitching, leaving a picot edge on the edge of the petals. If you like you may finish the petal with a fine rolled hem which you can do yourself. The straight edge of the petal should not be picoted. Gather this and make the flower from eight or more petals. If you like you can use eight large petals along the outside of the flower and seven smaller ones in an inner circle. A large bead or button is used to cover the center where the petals meet.

Kipling's Notion of A Man

Sooner or later you will see some man to whom the idea of wealth as mere wealth does not appeal, whom the methods of amassing that wealth do not interest, and who will not accept money if you offer it to him at a certain price.

At first you will be inclined to laugh at this man, and think that he is not smart in his ideas. I suggest that you watch him closely, for he will presently demonstrate to you that money dominates everybody except the man who does not want money. You may meet the man on your farm, in your village, or in your legislature.

But be sure that, whenever or wherever you meet him, as soon as it comes to a direct issue between you, his little finger will be thicker than your loins. You will go in fear of him; he will not go in fear of you. You will do what he wants; he will not do what you want.

You will find that you have no weapon in your armory with which you can attack him; no argument with which you can appeal to him. Whatever you gain he will gain more. I would like you to study that man. I would like you better to be that man, because from the lower point of view it doesn't pay to be obsessed by the desire of wealth for wealth's sake.

If more wealth is necessary to you, for purposes not your own, use your left hand to acquire it, but keep your right for your proper work in life. If you employ both arms in that game, you will be in danger of stooping; in danger also of losing your soul.

—RUDYARD KIPLING.

The cuffs are made from slightly gathered petals stitched to a band about an inch wide, of the same material.

JESUS, FRIEND OF SINNERS

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D.D.

Again the entire chapter should be read. Remember that we are studying the entire life of Christ on earth and not just a few incidents, therefore, More miracles are performed. The faith of the Centurion was commended when that man besought Jesus to heal His servant from the distance by merely giving the word. Raising a dead body is no greater problem than any other kind of healing, as is evidenced when the widow of Nain receives her son again. Then note the incident when John the Baptist sends messengers from his prison and Jesus replies by calling attention to the works and preaching which are common report.

The Pharisee who invited Jesus to his home evidently did it that he might observe this Nazarene more closely. He did not say "Come" for Jesus' sake. There may have been food enough but the common courtesy of washing the feet from the feet was omitted, though that was the work of a slave or lowly servant. A woman who had made her living as a common prostitute rejoices at the opportunity of expressing her joy in the salvation which had come to her soul through His teachings. When the Pharisee-host condemns both Jesus and the woman a deep lesson is given by a parable-story

THE FAMILY DOCTOR

THE SKIN PUZZLE

An old anecdote has it that a society lady at her bridge game asked her partner, who was a young "skin specialist," why he chose that branch of medical profession for his life work—such a perplexing sort of diseases, his reply was, "Well, these cases never get me out at night, they never die—and they never get well."

My outstanding case today was a very aggravating case of eczema. A young farmer who came from a place about fifty miles away. I treated him for a similar attack, five years ago, with good success, hence his return after about one month of suffering; he was half-mad from the terrible itching. I assume that this will interest such of my readers as have had experience with skin affections.

Eczema is the outstanding skin disease—if we are to judge by the frequency of patients with skin trouble. If one understands how to diagnose very well, he will be correct nine times out of ten by calling it a form of eczema.

Of course, the thing the patient demands is relief; he doesn't care two whoops about the looks of the thing—he wants the itching stopped. The sooner the better! And so would you, dear reader.

First and foremost, remove ALL sources of irritation. A coarse harsh sort of underwear will tender relief impossible, no matter what the treatment. I once compelled a lady to stop wearing a fur coat, who had an intense eczema that included the skin of her rather long neck. She substituted the softest silk or stayed in cotton sheets in bed for comfort. A very simple, skin anodyne—ointment dismissed the trouble. I have seen cases that had to be on oiled sheets in bed for comfort, in carrying out the idea of removing all irritants. And, this idea, this vital point, I wish to impress thoroughly in this letter. It may be that you are using change your bath as you use soap. Carry out your physician's directions, else you are liable to carry an exceedingly chronic disease for many years.

Yes, eczema is a "winter disease," and this is winter.

FEMININE ANGLERS MUST BUY LICENSES

All feminine anglers over 14 years of age will be required to purchase licenses to fish in New Jersey, if a bill presented to the present Legislature by the Fish and Game Commission becomes law. The proposed law is said to be another reflection of a growing interest of modern "Dianas" in outdoor sports, according to the American Game Association.

Even a depression teaches a lesson

WE have been advocating the participation in Building and Loans for years as a precaution against a "rainy day." And after all, isn't the present depression just another of those "rainy days"?

Many are enjoying the ease of mind now and can "ride the storm" just because they have Building and Loan Security. But there are also many who are just now learning the lesson that this depression has taught.

PALMYRA COUNCIL PASSES AMENDED BUDGET FOR 1931

Ordinance For Its Adoption Passed on Final Reading by Palmyra Board

SALARY STATUTE ALSO ADOPTED TUESDAY-NIGHT

Board of Health Report Shows Large Increase in Communicable Diseases

The amended budget for 1931 was one of two ordinances passed by the Palmyra Borough Council at its regular meeting Tuesday night.

The amended budget calls for total expenditures of $81,067.65 against appropriations of $85,307.94 last year. The ordinance was previously passed on first reading at a special meeting held February 3 and was finally passed at Tuesday's session.

The other ordinance passed at the meeting related to the salary of Borough officials. This was also the final reading for the salary ordinance.

A report from John A. Eichner, Building Inspector, showed improvements and alterations in Palmyra amounted to $4,050.00 during the month.

Communicable diseases in Palmyra since January 20, the last regular meeting night showed a large increase. Three cases of scarlet fever, 13 of measles, 25 of whooping cough and 1 of bronchial pneumonia were reported by the Board of Health.

Complaints of residents on several of the streets in the southeastern section of the borough were brought to attention of council. These had to do with the Sunday collection of laundry. No action was taken in the matter, it being held over for further consideration.

Notice was also received that a section of the Delaware River, for a distance of approximately 5000 feet, would be dredged in early spring. Interest on Borough bonds, amounting to $5,400.00 due March 1, were ordered paid by Councilman C. Nevill Buchholz, chairman of the Finance Committee.

Mayor George N. Wimer stressed the necessity of bills being submitted in proper time for council to take action in their payment. Bills rendered too late for such action would be held over until another meeting, he said.

Roller Skaters Put Officials in Quandary

Children roller skating on the improved streets of Palmyra is causing much concern to the Borough officials.

Residents who use automobiles are making many complaints and have cited a number of near-accidents in which they claim the motorists were in no way responsible.

The children are said to flock to the two improved residential streets, Lincoln and Morgan avenues, on roller skates and play various games with little regard for the danger to which they are exposing themselves.

Automobile drivers report that no matter how carefully they drive there is continual danger of children suddenly darting in front of the cars.

Some of the youngsters are said to take the attitude that they, and not the automobiles, have the exclusive right to the streets.

The Mayor and Council are undecided whether to place a ban on roller skating altogether, rope off a special place for skating, or to put the responsibility up to the motorists on the particular streets to drive so slowly and so carefully as to allow the children to play without danger.

SENIORS PRESENT COMEDY TONIGHT

"Honor Bright", Annual Show, Enters on Three-Day Run on High School Stage

The first performance of "Honor Bright", the annual stage production of the senior class of Palmyra High School, will be given tonight in the High School auditorium.

The play, a three-act comedy, affords many amusing incidents as Dick Burlington, leading male character, becomes engaged to another. His affection for Honor Bright, a book saleslady, replaces his adoration for Tot Marvel, an erstwhile chorus girl. The difficulties which he gets in, and his unique methods of climbing out of them, compose the plot of the play.

The seniors are presenting the play this year for three nights instead of two, as has previously been the custom. In past years the stage presentation was given on Friday and Saturday nights, but this year the performance can be seen Thursday, Saturday and Monday evenings.

The play has received able coaching from Miss Marjorie Burt, a member of the English and Dramatic staff of the High School, and will be given by special arrangement with Samuel French, of New York City, the producer.

Rodman Merrill and Mary Sanford heads the cast of young Thespians, ably supported by a cast of thirteen actors. The supporting players include: Edna Barker, Louise Fisher, Lydia Mervine, Jane Blackwell, Nan Evans, Wesley Hemphill, Floyd Smith, Jack Wilkins, Howard Myers, William Shadaker, Harry Redter, Francis Kievan and Richard Furman.

Seats for the performance may be purchased for thirty-five and fifty cents. The proceeds will be used in defraying the expenses of the class on its spring trip to Washington.

THREE ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF CAR PARTS

Three Pensauken men arrested Saturday night at Pensauken, were placed under $200 bail each at a hearing Sunday before Recorder Joseph W. Johnston at Moorestown Town Hall for the theft of automobile parts.

They were charged with stealing four tires, a radiator and generator from a car owned by Frank Wiercukowski, which they found on the Lester Collins farm, Moorestown.

The men, charged with the theft of the auto parts, valued at $40, were Robert C. Bennett, 6549 Park avenue; Edward J. Bennett, 7565 Park avenue; and Stanley Paczycki, Union avenue, all of Pensauken.

The two Bennetts supplied bail and Paczycki was lodged in the county jail at Mount Holly in default of the $200 bond.

The three men were picked up by Pensauken police after they had stolen two bushels of apples from the Lester Collins' storehouse in Pensauken. The officers found the auto parts in their machine and notified Moorestown police department.

The post office at Jacksonville, Fla., received a letter addressed as follows: Mrs. E. H. Holmes, who lives next door to Mrs. Jenkins, who owns a cow, Jacksonville, Florida.

PUBLIC WORKS AN AID IN DEPRESSION

Unemployment Insurance Means of Relief When Business is Poor

"The development of public works and unemployment insurance as means of decreasing both the unemployment and the distress which comes at times of business depression, are among the important things for us to develop in this country," said Dr. Ewan Clague, economist of Philadelphia, in speaking to business and professional girls of the Young Women's Christian Association at their state conference in Trenton, Saturday and Sunday, February 14 and 15.

The conference was built about the theme, "What of Tomorrow in the Light of Today." Dr. Clague spoke of the utility of methods such as the elimination of married women workers, or of foreign-born, or of colored, is being advocated by certain groups. This method merely relieves unemployment among certain groups and increases it among others. The tariff was also assailed by Dr. Clague.

In discussion groups further consideration was given to the following subjects: social insurance, budgets and wage scales for business girls; "International Aspects of the Present Situation," and "Vocational Guidance."

On Sunday morning the conference attended the First Presbyterian Church where Dr. Edward Alton Morris spoke on "Christianity and Unemployment."

Other leaders at the conference were Miss Margaret Williamson and Miss Elsie Harper, of the National Staff of the Y. W. C. A.

Burlington County delegates were Mrs. Stanley Perkins and Margaret Griffith, of Willingboro; Alice Rowan and Alma Bilgers, of Mount Holly; and Sidonia Schaler of the county Y. W. C. A.

All Day Conference

Thirteen delegates from Burlington County attended the all-day conference for High School Girl Reserves, held Saturday, February 14, at the Camden Y. W. C. A. Over eighty girls from neighboring associations attended.

The theme of the conference was "Prisms." The program opened with a worship service led by Florence MacNicol, of Camden, followed by a welcome by Gladys Heckenroth, the conference chairman, also of Camden. The girls divided into separate groups to discuss the relationships of home, school, work, race and nations.

Albert Bean, superintendent of schools in Camden, spoke on "A Boy Ideal of a Girl." After lunch interest groups were held on music, worship, handicraft, publicity, and recreation. The girls then visited the new Camden Court House, and were shown through many interesting and beautiful rooms.

In the evening an international banquet was held. An Armenian student from Constantinople entertained the conference with a number of five languages, and a German student told of the life of young people in Germany, many of whom are interested in reviving the culture of the past. The conference closed with the singing of Girl Reserve songs.

Three of the Burlington County delegates were also on the planning committee. Phyllis Kemble, of Delanco; Miriam Pickard, of Mount Holly; and Beatrice Shipley, of the County Y. W. C. A. Others attending were Elsie Stein, of Camden; Johnson, of Maple Shade; Betty Stickle, of Delanco; Mabel Mantell and Elizabeth Borden, of Jobstown; Rosabel Steinhauer, Sophie Smith, Rose Bell, Beatrice Jones and Jean Wells, of Mount Holly.

Palmyra High School Girl Reserves held a special program on Lincoln, Thursday evening, February 12. Roebeling Girl Reserves had a handicraft meeting Wednesday, February 11, at which they learned how to tie one-eye scarves.

Farmville Girl Reserves, under the leadership of Miss Mae Hawkey, met Tuesday, February 10, and had a special lesson in making fudge.

Delanco High School Girl Reserves held a party Thursday evening, February 12.

The Mabel Grady Girl Reserve club, of Mount Holly, had a Valentine party Wednesday evening, February 11.

The Mount Holly High School Girl Reserve club had a discussion on "movies," Tuesday evening, February 10.

The Y. W. C. A. in Burlington County for the past two years has been giving an increasing amount of time to work among the foreign born who make up so large a part of the county. The county office receives from the national immigration department in New York, the names and addresses of every newly arrived immigrant woman coming to the county. These women are followed up and helped in their adjustment of life in so new and often bewildering situation. Classes in English have been held for foreign women in Burlington, and individual help is being given in filling out applications for citizenship and in securing information necessary for citizenship.

As the representative of the National Travelers Aid Society the Burlington County Y. W. C. A. is often called upon to make arrangements for returning run-away boys or girls, and individuals who have found themselves away from home without money. In all of these cases the Y. W. C. A. makes the contacts with the proper person in whose care the case should be put.

After suffering ill treatment at the hands of her former husband, Mrs. Hulda Tingle of Philadelphia bequeathed him $1 to buy a rope to hang himself with.

SPECIAL PROGRAM FOR PTA BIRTHDAY

Palmyra Unit Conducts Exercises in High School For 31th Founder's Day

A splendid program was given Tuesday evening in the High school by the Palmyra P. T. A. in honor of the 31th Founder's day of the National Parent-Teachers Association.

The first feature of a very well balanced program was a Toy Orchestra from Mrs. Ida B. Bonnell's class, under the direction of Miss Vera Melone, music supervisor.

Mrs. Nina G. Frantz, president of the W. C. T. U. of Moorestown, was the speaker of the evening, with her topic, "Do We As Parents, Pass?" In her talk Mrs. Frantz stressed the special need of co-operation among pupils, teachers and parents.

A clever sketch, "Doll Houses and Cinnamon Buns" written by Miss Sylvia Schilde of the Senior class of the High school, was presented by a group of high school students. Sylvia Schilde, Edward Miller and George Ott were the three members of the cast. The sketch portrayed a typical occurrence in home life and was greatly enjoyed by the audience. It was presented under the direction of Miss Marjorie Burt, English teacher and dramatic supervisor of the High school.

Two special numbers presented by the direction of Miss George E. Dugan, girls' athletic director, were enthusiastically applauded, as they gave a special folk dance and an Indian Club drill. While the club drill was being carried on, the auditorium was plunged into darkness and lights on the end of the clubs were turned on. The gyrations of the lighted clubs presented a very novel effect.

Miss Muriel Burmann's class presented a novel musical program which included the singing of the Japanese national anthem and number by two members of the class who had learned to play the Koto, a Japanese instrument. Two choral selections were also rendered by the class.

At the close of the program two selections, "Neapolitan Nights" and "Italian Street Song" were rendered by the High School Glee Club.

The representative banner was won by Miss Burmann's class with an attendance of 18 parents. Approximately 400 parents were present at the anniversary meeting.

The main program was preceded by an informal discussion on books for parents and teachers. Miss Hazel Clarke, head librarian of the Burlington County Library, gave a short talk on books and lent a great many books which she had brought with her to the parents and teachers.

The next group meeting will be held Wednesday, March 4, at the home of Mrs. Horace Ross, 913 Washington avenue.

A cake with lighted candles, a short poem read by Mrs. Albert Parker and congregational singing of "Follow the Gleam" by the audience, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. George Dugan, added additional color to the evening's program.

Engaged

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Lillian F. Haines to Dr. Vincent DeDuca, of Haddonfield and Camden, was made by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Remington Haines, at a bridge-tee at their home on East Main street, Moorestown, Saturday.

BOY SCOUTS END WEEK'S PROGRAM

Palmyra Troops Close Anniversary Program With Banquet; Awards Made

Boy Scout Week drew to a fitting close with activities which made it the most enjoyable event of the Scout year.

A long list of moving pictures, mostly of the "talking" variety were presented on Tuesday evening, February 10, to the members of Troop No. 1 and No. 2 in the gymnasium of the Methodist Church. This entertainment was given by Norman H. Schlier, and was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

"Scouts in the School" activities were presented in the High School auditorium on Wednesday, February 11, under the direction of Prof. Calvin F. Dengler, supervising principal of Palmyra schools.

Ralph S. Rivers, president of the Palmyra Boy Scout Council's Association, spoke regarding the Scout movement, its purposes, benefits, and results. A demonstration illustrating the uses of the Scout handkerchief was given by members of Troop No. 2. This was very interesting and enlightening, showing how the handkerchief could be put to use serving as a bandage, for various injuries, as well as uses of utility.

Members of Troop No. 1 demonstrated how fire could be obtained by the use of flint and steel, and also gave an exhibition of signaling.

Thursday evening, February 12, Father and Sons gathered for the annual banquet, held in the gymnasium of the Methodist Church. Exhibits of handicraft were also on display.

At 6:30 o'clock fathers and sons took their places at the festive board, and after the blessing given by Rev. George Lockett, were served with delectable viands.

J. Horace Finney, with assistance of Lee Milton at the piano, whistled away delightful minutes in entreating the fathers and sons to do their utmost in making the gymnasium resound with songs.

After the banquet, Horace Ross, Toastmaster, presented Prof. C. F. Dengler, who spoke upon "Influence of the Scouts on lives of other boys."

This was followed by presentation of prizes, for handicraft on exhibition, and were awarded as follows: First best patrol display, to Stag Patrol Troop No. 2, Russell Rivers, patrol leader.

Second best patrol display to Black Bear Patrol, Troop No. 1, Alfred Branson, patrol leader.

Best bird house, to Sidney Freeman, Troop No. 2.

Second best bird house, to Joseph Schreiber, Troop No. 3.

Third best bird house, to Benjamin Levin, Troop No. 1.

Best individual effort, to Wesley Crawford, Troop No. 1, exhibit of ship model.

Second best individual effort, to Arthur Randall, Troop No. 1, exhibit of floor lamp.

Third best individual effort, to Nathan Beckley, Troop No. 2, Indian drum.

Fourth best individual effort, to Horace Young, and Alfred Branson, Troop No. 1, exhibit of camp site.

Fifth best individual effort, to William Stately, Troop No. 1, exhibit of stool.

Sixth best individual effort, to Russell Rivers, Troop No. 2, exhibit of camp furniture.

Seventh best individual effort, to Billy Parsons, Troop No. 1, display of soldiers.

Eighth best individual effort, to Lawrence Sweizer, Troop No. 1, exhibit of table lamp.

Exhibits were examined and decisions of prizes were made by C. B. Marple, H. C. Schwering, and C. E. Dunbar.

Scoutmasters A. B. Branson, and A. E. Fry were presented by the Toastmaster, each speaking upon the intimate and personal phrases of Scouting.

The speaker of the evening, Prof. Walter Dengler, of the Pierce School, Philadelphia, Pa., was then introduced by the Toastmaster.

His subject, "Spiritual Realization," was a masterly and convincing argument, plainly and simply expressed, for each and every one to deal with others in the light of a spiritual bond, and not as merely human cogs in the wheel of civilization.

R. S. Rivers presented Scoutmasters A. B. Branson and A. E. Fry each with a beautiful brief case, as a token of the appreciation of the Palmyra Boy Scout Council's Association of the work the Scoutmasters are doing.

Benediction was offered by the Rev. Harold L. Cragger.

County May Get New Congressman

Under the Congressional redistricting plan which adds two Congressmen to the present twelve now representing New Jersey at Washington, Burlington county has been paired with Mercer county to form a new district to be known as the Third Congressional District.

This arrangement is the result of conferences between a legislative committee and the Washington Congressmen. United States Senators Kean and Morrow joined in the discussions.

The second district, of which Burlington county is now a part, will be made up of Atlantic, Cape May and Cumberland counties.

Under this proposed plan Burlington county will lose a fine representative in the person of Congressman Bacharach, who has had the happy faculty of pleasing Republicans and Democrats alike.

'PLUNGER RUM' JAILS
MAPLE SHADE MAN

Dashes and Dives, After Effects of New Mount Holly Liquor Upon Drinker

They are selling a new kind of liquor up Mount Holly way. They call it "Plunger Rum."

Those who imbibe of the stuff usually run out on the road, dash along for a few paces and dive, just as if they were going in swimming.

Officers Frank Bowen and Howard Shinn were called to the South Demerston road Sunday night by motorists who said a drinker of "Plunger Rum" was in danger of being struck by an automobile there.

The policemen found a man running along the roadway and diving into the bushes. From the ditch he would extricate himself only to run a few more steps and repeat his "plunge."

The man was placed in the Mount Holly jail. His name was later learned as Donald W. Eusign, of Maple Shade.

NEW BEVERLY PASTOR

Rev. A. G. Turkington Accepts Call To First Baptist Church

The Rev. A. G. Turkington, of Philadelphia, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church, Beverly.

Mr. Turkington has been conducting the services at the Beverly Church as a candidate for the past few weeks and it is understood that he has already assumed his official duties as pastor.

Mr. Turkington received his early education abroad and prepared for the ministry at the Moody Bible Institute, Chicago. He is also a graduate of the Louisville Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky. He has held several pastorates in the west and in New York State. Recently he has been connected with the Eastern University, of Philadelphia.

The new Baptist pastor is described by officials of the church as a man of pleasing personality, high mental caliber and a forceful speaker and preacher, being something of the evangelistic type. In assuming the pastorate of the Baptist Church, Mr. Turkington succeeds the Rev. Harvey Warner, who resigned last November, after serving for three years.

Remembering a ticket for a traffic violation that she had gotten eight months ago, Evelyn Donnelly, a New York show girl, recently paid a $2

FINE ATTENDANCE AT MILITARY BALL

Palmyra - Riverton American Legion Bugle Corps Dance Very Successful

The second annual ball given last Thursday night by the Post Rodgers Drum and Bugle Corps, of the Palmyra-Riverton American Legion Post, proved to be a very successful affair.

The P. O. S. of A. Hall, where the dance was held, was crowded to its utmost capacity. The attendance was estimated at from 400 to 500. The Grand March was led by Mayor George N. Wimer and Mrs. W. Rewalt. Shinn, president of the Burlington County American Legion Auxiliary.

Music was furnished by Ed Morton and his Kentuckians. The hall was beautifully decorated in blue and white. An arbor of white crepe paper, covered with roses, formed an arch over the stage.

The ball was given a military aspect by the many members of the bugle corps who were attired in full uniform. Several members of the Frankford Bugle Corps also attended in uniform.

Little Grace Jordan, of Delanco, gave several tap dancing numbers which were very favorably received. Miss Lorraine Hamilton, of Philadelphia, rendered several solos.

A second "edition" of the annual ball is being planned for St. Patrick's Day, March 17.

30 YEARS AGO

ISSUE OF JANUARY 4, 1901

The club house of the Riverton Country Club was formally opened in the afternoon on New Year's day. The formal opening will take place early in the spring. A large number of members and their friends were present, and about 200 were entertained at lunch.

ISSUE OF JANUARY 11, 1901

John Holvick's youngest son, Paul, was christened in the Sacred Heart Church Sunday morning. William Hatzell was god-father and Sallie McGreely was god-mother. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Holvick entertained a number of friends at dinner in honor of the occasion.

"Paul Holvick married Miss Anna Stafford, of Merchantville, in St. Peter's Church, Merchantville, September 20, 1922. He is now living in East Riverton and is employed as a bus driver for the Public Service. Mr. Holvick is planning to open a garage on Broad street, in the old Service garage, in the near future."

The twenty-seventh annual meeting of the Riverton Gun Club was held Saturday night at East Riverton. It was a very enthusiastic meeting, attended by forty members. The records show a continual growth since its organization in 1871. From a small rifle club, with a little plot of leased ground, it has grown to its present standing, with 28 acres of ground, two shooting boxes, a fine club house and extensive pigeon lofts.

The following officers were elected: President, J. Hazeltine Carstairs, vice president, H. Dale Dolan; secretary and treasurer, R. P. Harned. Directors, George A. Shoemaker, William R. Ellison, Carlton M. Moody, Jacob T. Alburger, S. B. Stetson. About 40,000 birds were shot during the year, and their carcasses were dressed and shipped to the Boston and New York markets.

Last Wednesday evening in Robert's Hall the members of Court Riverton of American Foresters were obligated and the officers installed. The charter will be held open until the first of March. The dues are $9.00 a year.

In the Camden Court yesterday thirty prisoners, charged with the illegal sale of liquor, pleaded not guilty.

At a special meeting last Saturday evening, the Palmyra township committee passed the ordinance of the People's Gas Company, and exacted a bond of $5,000 with the Trenton Safe Deposit and Trust Company as a surety that the plant would be in operation within a year.

The regular monthly meeting of the Moorestown Equal Suffrage Association will be held in the "Y" parlors of Town Hall, Tuesday, January 15th. The president, Miss Susan W. Lippincott, will give some account of the very successful bazaar recently held by the National Suffrage Association, which cleared $7,000.

ISSUE OF JANUARY 18, 1901

Mrs. Alfred Smith's store was advertising cutting flannels at 10c a yard, and "seersuckers" and chambrays at 12 1-2c.

During the year 1900 the Delanco bridge was pretty well patronized. A record kept by the bridge tender, John Dennis, shows that 4,564 boats passed through the draw, 40,000 wagons crossed the structure, and there were 300,000 foot passengers.

The Palmyra township committee met and paid $161.00 for salaries. At that time members of the township committee received $4 for each meeting, of which twelve were usually held a year. The committee also passed "poor orders" amounting to $21.00.

M. Cowperthwaite has gone to Boston to accept a position in a library. He is desirous of selling his drug store. (At this time Mr. Cowperthwaite conducted a drug store in the house on Main street now occupied by C. T. Beers as a residence.)

MAGISTRATE FEES TO BE INCREASED

Keystone Club To Oppose Assembly Bill Providing For Raise

An array of prosecutions for alleged motor vehicle law violations may be expected if the Legislature enacts Assembly Bill No. 89, providing for greatly increased fees for magistrates and constables, according to a warning issued yesterday by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey.

"Without reflecting on the honesty of the minor judiciary," says the club statement, "it may be assumed that the more remuneration to be received from traffic cases the more incentive there will be to unscrupulousness in technical charges. The bill now before the Legislature provides such drastic increases in the fees for both magistrates and constables that it is a direct challenge to the $50,000 motor vehicle owners in the State."

"Our study of the bill, which was introduced in the Assembly by Representative Parsel, shows that fees totaling $935 may be charged by a magistrate or justice of the peace, in contrast to a total of $3 under the present law. Constables under the schedule in the pending bill may pile up charges totaling $275, exclusive of mileage at 4 cents a mile, while under the present law their 'costs' are limited to 60 cents, with mileage fixed at 3 cents a mile.

"Motorists, therefore, are faced with the possibility of a bill for magistrates' and constables' costs totaling $1210, while under the present law the limit of such charges is $360, both amounts being exclusive of possible mileage charges.

"A comparison of the present and the proposed fees is illuminating. Magistrates now are limited to a fee of 10 cents for drawing a complaint. The Parsel bill fixes this charge at $1.00. For issuing a warrant or summons, they now are permitted to charge 10 cents, while the Parsel bill raises the amount to 50 cents.

"Other comparisons follow:

	Pres. Prop.	Now Law
Issuing subpoena	10	25
Adjudgment	15	25
Entering conviction, or judgment	20	50
Recognition or bond	25	50
Issuing commitment	1.00	1.00
Granting appeal and necessary papers and transcript in appeal	50	1.50
Warrant to discharge defendant	75	1.00
Hearing contested case	50	2.00
Approving and issuing appeal bond	50	50
Hearing noncontested case	25	50
Service of summons or warrants	30	1.00
Service of subpoena	30	25
Attending defendant at hearing	50	50
Mileage for serving warrants or summons	30	1.00
Serving commitment	30	1.00
Mileage of defendant	30	1.00

"It will be noted that only in one case is the amount of a fee in the pending bill less than is now charged—the service of subpoena. This, however, is far outweighed by the increase of 70 cents in the constables' cost for service of summons or warrant, and the brand new costs of 50 cents for attending defendant at hearing and $1 for serving commitment.

"There is only one conclusion to be drawn—that the harassing of motorists would be extremely profitable for magistrates and constables under the proposed law."

GIRL RESERVES

Last Thursday being Lincoln's Birthday, the Tri-Hi Club used this as the topic for the evening. The meeting was in charge of Mary Rhoades group. Stories of Lincoln's intimate life and discussions of our government were given. An interesting feature of the evening was the prayer in which everyone took part. A popular song which was enjoyed by all, finished the evening.

This week the girls will hold a discussion on the "Father of Our Country."

P. O. S. of A. NOTES

Washington Camp, No. 23, Patriotic Order Sons of America; Camp No. 3 Patriotic Order of Americans; and Nathan Hale Camp, No. 15, Pioneers of America will unite in attending the evening services at Central Baptist Church, Palmyra, February 22. The groups will meet at P. O. S. of A. Hall at 7:30 o'clock and enter the church in a body.

Because of Washington's Birthday coming on Sunday, it seemed all the more appropriate that the organization should choose this method of showing their respect for the outstanding figure in American history. The Rev. George Lockett has made a close study of the life of Washington and an inspiring address will be assured those who attend Sunday's service.

Those who attend the County Association dinner at Bordentown Saturday are promised an enjoyable evening. In addition to a fine dinner, an excellent program has also been arranged.

The Palmyra Camp will hold class initiation Monday and several delegates are expected to attend the regional conference held at Pemberton next Thursday.

ENJOY CARD PARTY

Many Attend Function Given by Mrs. George A. Strohllein

The card party given by Mrs. George A. Strohllein in the K. of C. Hall last Wednesday night was most successful in every respect. The bidding for high honors was very keen and in all 121 handsome prizes were distributed.

Dancing and refreshments were also on the program and served to round out a very pleasant evening. Receipts were turned over to the local Knights for their Building fund. The usual Wednesday night dances will be discontinued during Lent.

The other bid was from the Dequesne Slag Company, of Pittsburgh, which asked $1.00 for 1/2" and 90c for 1/4". Killie Asks for Delay A communication from Herbert S. Killie, solicitor for Edgewater Park township, asked the county not to take any action without reaching an agreement with the township, on the proposal made to the township by the Riverside Traction Co., and the Public Service Co.-Ordinated Transport, in the matter of replacing trolleys with busses.

The State Highway Commission notified the board that the specifications for materials for 1931 road work in the county have been approved.

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

YMCA Directors Meet With New Secretary

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Palmyra-Riverton Young Men's Christian Association will be held in the Y. Building tonight at 8 P. M. Mr. Nathan Lane, Jr. will preside. This Board is composed of a group of vitally interested men from Palmyra and Riverton. There are ten men from each Community on the Board.

Tonight marks the first meeting with the new General Secretary, William E. Mount, who has spent this past week getting acquainted with folks in the Community.

The fiscal year of 1930-31 with William H. Plank as Secretary and Edson Hicks assisting him is near its close. A new budget for 1931-32 will be proposed and plans for the Annual Finance Campaign will be made.

The regular successful program that has been carried on this past year will be maintained. There will be an opportunity for more boys to meet and groups under experienced and trained leaders. If you haven't visited our Association Building drop in and get acquainted with the Secretary. He is willing to help you or your boys in any way that he can. Know your Y. and Use your Y.

YMCA Boys Envy Moorestown Swim

A fine group of local boys under the leadership of the secretary went to the County Y. Swimming meet in Moorestown Community House on Tuesday night. This swim is held each month through the kindness of Moorestown folks and the County Y. organization. Transportation was afforded the boys by local men who were kind enough to donate their time and cars for the evening.

This is just one of the many special activities away from home that are being planned for the members of the Y. Groups that meet each week. There are groups for boys from nine on up to the employed man who has finished school or was forced to go to work.

New Group Uses the "Y" For Recreation

A group of older employed boys from West Palmyra played a spirited game of Basketball on the Y. gym floor on Monday Night. This was the regular meeting night of the Palmyra Freshmen Hi-Y but they consented to share their time.

A short discussion held under the leadership of W. E. Mount, the new Secretary, revealed that a program of interest could be provided if they agreed. Their request for sometime on the floor will be submitted Chairman is Mr. Elmer Hahn.

Freshman Hi-Y Group Divided

The Freshmen Hi-Y Club that has been meeting each Monday night under the leadership of Edson Hicks has been divided into two groups. This was a necessary measure as there were two many fellows for one group. Since the group were about half and half from Palmyra and Riverton the Palmyra group will continue to meet at the same time and place.

The new group, to be known as the Riverton Freshmen Hi-Y will meet in the Presbyterian Church under the leadership of their new leader, Mr. Landis, better known to the boys of Camp Cekanickon, as "Doc" Landis. This crowd promises the other group a real race for the honors in group work.

DANGER! MEN AT WORK

We are entering, let us hope, the final stage of our folly. The air is charged with rumors. The whispering campaign is on. No business is immune.

Have you heard about such and such a bank? Do you know old So-and-So is going to the wall? I hear the Doe Company is headed for receivership. The Roe Company has passed its dividend.

Only by wearing ear muffs can one walk a block without having his confidence shaken.

"Of comfort let no man speak;

Let's talk of graves, of worms, and epitaphs!"

Depression is on every tongue. It is the most widely advertised product of our times. Headlines, headlines everywhere, and no one stops to think.

And our vaunted salesmanship! Give a salesman time enough and he'll paint so drab a picture of the future that a likely prospect will replace his fountain pen—and lock the safe.

Of unemployment, I suspect there are more idle tongues than idle hands.

The folly of too many of us is to accept the echo of the locker room and club car as the Voice of America.

For example, consider 1930, lately interred. Now lies he there and none so poor to do him reverence. Yet that much-maligned year loaded and unloaded 45,800,000 freight cars, and with three million trucks on the job, too. It made and sold a new automobile for each ten families at a cost of $2,159,600,000, and saw registrations highest of any year, with a gasoline consumption of 399 million barrels, an all-time record. It saw electrical production hit its highest mark.

Nineteen hundred and thirty manufactured four and a half billion yards of textiles, and 315 million pair of shoes, the usual two and half pairs to the person.

It provided work for forty-odd million men and women, and earnings through dividends to the amount of $4,500,000,000.

Nineteen hundred and thirty saw to it that expenses of living did not exceed income, as evidenced by hundreds of millions of dollars increase in savings banks and eighteen and a half billions of new life insurance.

Nineteen hundred and thirty added one million in population to our consuming public—a city the size of Cleveland.

With all its faults, 1930 furnished a ration market-place where goods, service and labor were exchanged to the extent of 100 billion dollars, and the returns are not all in yet.

One would think, from the wailing, that we had all been wiped out by a terrible catastrophe of Nature—a Noah's flood, a shifting of the Gulf Stream, or by dreadful holocaust.

Yet we are all here. The stores are still open. The trains are running. You can get that number on the telephone. The traffic problem is still lively. Movie houses are no nearer seating all their customers. Children are what they always were. Young folks are getting married. Preachers thunder against the laxity of the age. Amos 'n' Andy are still in the taxiab business. Doctors and dentists make appointments weeks ahead. Lawyers' briefs are just as long. Hardly commuters make the 8:15 in less than nothing flat. And under Nature's white coverlet, bud and blossom await the sure coming of spring.

If these common place signs of "life as usual" betoken rational instability, then there is a public menace in the familiar warning:

WAY OF LIFE

BY

Martyrs

It was once my privilege to witness the establishment of a new religion. The founder was John Alexander Dowie, who first appeared in the Chicago newspapers as an obscure exhorter with a talent for strong language. Though he went through the city and suburbs holding outdoor meetings, he attracted comparatively little attention until one night a hoodlum hit him in the eye with a rotten egg.

At once he assumed a new character and importance. Instead of being merely a sensational denouncer he became an incipient martyr—a prophet persecuted for his faith. Converts flocked to his banner, money poured in, he founded his own city, and finally proclaimed himself the reincarnation of Elijah.

He had undoubted talent, but it was the stupidity of his opponents which persecuted him into success.

The fiery old doctor, with his picturesque white whiskers, has long since passed across the river, but I think about him whenever the newspapers begin to talk about the danger of "Red Riots" and the police break up a harmless mass meeting with their clubs.

England, older and wiser than we in many respects, manages these things much better. She knows that an agitator is harmless unless you try to suppress him. Only then does he become a menace. She gets aside one night of Hyde Park for the exclusive use of the agitators. There, every afternoon, and especially on Sundays, they meet and shoot off their faces against the government, the church and whatever else they dislike.

One of the wisest things President Hoover has done was to release the foolish young men and women who were arrested for picketing the White House. He said that he did not propose to let any silly folks achieve "cheap martyrdom" at the government's expense.

A wise man of an earlier day was a Pharisee named Gamaliel. When the first persecution of the Christians began he protested:

Refrain from these men and let them alone, for if this counsel or this work be of men, it will come to naught. But if it be of God, ye cannot overthrow it; lest haply ye be found even to fight against God."

If the Pharisees had taken his advice the new and staggering little sect might conceivably have passed out in obscurity. But they went on with their persecutions, and "the blood of the martyrs became the seed of the church."

Parkavine—That's not the mother of those children, it's the nurse. Centralpark—How do you know? Parkavine—She knows them by their names.

OPERA

Demas Taylor, American composer, has had another opera produced in New York. That doesn't mean much to most people. Grand opera is a form of musical entertainment which appeals to only a comparatively few people, with highly developed musical tastes. One reason is that the theme of grand opera is always tragic. Most of us prefer so-called "light" opera, which is tuneful and amusing.

To be accepted by any of the world's great opera-houses, of which there are not more than a dozen, is however, a great triumph for any composer. For only musical compositions which are purely original in every phrase and bar can pass the rigid tests. Few composers of popular music are original. Nearly all of them rework old musical themes, most of them originally composed by the composer of grand opera.

It is said to cost Otto H. Kahn, patron of the Metropolitan Opera in New York a quarter of a million a year to make up the company's losses. When Mr. Kahn passes, unless some new "angel" with a taste for musical and a bottomless purse comes to the front, grand opera in New York will be a thing of the past. It will continue in Europe, where opera is supported by the taxpayers' money.

CHAPLIN

The funny little English Jew who has for years been the world's most popular entertainer has proved once more that, in the hands of really competent artists, pantomime is as effective as words. Charley Chaplin's new picture is a "silent" film, one of the kind that needs no translation to make it intelligible to everybody, whatever language they may speak. Long ago Chaplin began to discard "titles" from his pictures, relying on the action alone to tell the story. And he has, a larger following and has made more money than any other figure in the pictures.

There was a time when it seemed as if the movies would make it necessary for actors to learn the art of expressing emotions by action, but the talkies have dispelled that hope. It is so much easier to do it with words, but also so much less effective. It takes a real artist to be a good pantomimist, and except for Chaplin and W. C. Field I think of no first-rate pantomimist playing either on the stage or in the pictures.

SILVER

Forty years ago the dominant political issue in the United States was whether we should put silver on an equality with gold as the basis of money, by coining silver without restriction at the ratio of sixteen ounces of silver to one ounce of gold. That would have given silver a stable price in the world's markets of $1.25 an ounce, or, thereabouts, gold being worth about $20 an ounce.

Only once has the price of silver reached the ratio of 16 to 1. That was in 1819-1820, when for two years the price ranged between $1.25 and $1.34 an ounce on the London market. Early in February this year silver was sold in London and New York for 26 1-2 cents an ounce! The principal reason for this is the establishment of the currency of India on a gold basis. In 1926, leaving in the hands of the Indian government some five hundred million ounces of silver bullion to dispose of, of which only about a fifth has found a market.

There is not enough gold today to meet the world's needs as a basis of money. There was a long period after the gold discoveries in the Rand and the Klondike, when there was more gold than was needed. Probably the present situation will revive the movement for bimetallism. But in time we shall measure money values neither by silver nor gold but by the average supply and demand of commodities and labor.

DEATH

The automobile death toll for 1930 has been compiled, and it is a terrifying record. 32,500 Americans were killed in motor accidents, an average of almost a hundred a day. Nearly a million others were injured, 962,325 to be exact. The total number of automobile accidents reported for the year was 635,250.

These figures mean only one thing—reckless driving. Not fast driving, necessarily, for one may drive recklessly at 20 miles an hour. Turning a sharp corner at even that speed is a reckless driving. Almost half of the deaths occurred when a car struck a pedestrian. Sometimes it was the pedestrian's fault, of course. A quarter of those killed were crossing streets in the middle of a block. Less than a quarter of the deaths occurred from collision with another car.

The pitiful thing about the figures for 1930 is that the number of children between five and ten who were killed in motor accidents was nearly doubled during the year.

Two things may help this useless slaughter. Every state should require a license after an examination, before anyone is permitted to drive a car. And every person convicted of reckless driving should have his or her license revoked, and in aggravated cases be sent to prison without the option of a fine.

Regional Government Bill

The Legislature has before it the "Regional Government Bill," as proposed by the Regional Planning Commission. Under the terms of this bill New Jersey would be subdivided into regional districts, incorporating such districts, providing for their government and granting and defining their powers.

Purposes of the districts are to serve inter-municipal, inter-county and inter-state needs in planning, financing, constructing, acquiring and maintaining water supplies, truck routes, roads, control works, rapid transit lines, meadows, reclamation, garbage reduction. This is one of the most important matters to come before the Legislature in years, affecting as it does the entire state.

The districts are proposed as follows: North Jersey: the counties of Bergen, Essex, Hudson, Middlesex, Gloucester, Mercer and Salem.

South Jersey:—The counties of Burlington, Camden, Cumberland, Gloucester, Mercer and Salem.

Atlantic: the counties of Atlantic, Cape May, Monmouth and Ocean.

Delaware Valley: the counties of Hunterdon, Sussex and Warren.

It is true that certain aspects of inter-community life cannot be developed satisfactorily except on a unified basis. We believe it also is true that in a general way the people are convinced of the need of some such plan. Purely local interest is likely to be shortsighted and conditions may result which later can be remedied only at great cost or not at all.

But there has been so much dissatisfaction with the plan as proposed originally, and later changed, that the Legislature should give the most careful consideration to the proposition and not adopt it without searching investigation.

The original bill provided that each county should have a representative on the district commission, and that each one in his particular district should receive a salary of $10,000, and the chairman a salary of $15,000. This tremendous salary assessment met with such opposition that the present bill provides that members of the district commissions shall serve without salary.

The present bill provides that in all meetings each member shall be entitled to cast as many votes in determining all matters as the number of members to which the county from which he is selected is entitled in the General Assembly. Opposition to this plan has now developed. We are not prepared to say whether or not the opposition is justified.

The scope and power of this proposed commission is so great that it is almost beyond the ability of the ordinary citizen to comprehend just what it will mean to his community or to the state at large. In the opinion of The Courier-News it should be given the most careful study and consideration before adoption or rejection by the Legislature.—Plainfield Courier-News.

PUBLIC SERVICE IN 1930

FACTS AND FIGURES FROM THE ANNUAL REPORT OF PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATION OF NEW JERSEY

THE financial and operating statement by Public Service Corporation of New Jersey for the year 1930, reflects the industrial and commercial stability of the State, and gives promise of rapid development and progress with the return of normal business conditions.

In spite of a serious falling off in the receipts of transportation units, the operating revenues of the Corporation and its subsidiary utility companies showed an increase for the year, as did the balance available for surplus and dividends. This result was affected by the acquisition during the twelve months of two additional gas companies, but came in the main from the remarkable showing of the original gas and electric properties.

Kilowatt hours of electricity sold increased by 54,816,518.

Connected load, representing ultimate industrial demand for electric power increased by 129,918 horse power, while actual consumption for power purposes, decreased by only seven-tenths of one per cent.

Of the connected load added during the year some 38,000 horse power represents the requirements of new industries moving into the territory.

The number of individual corporation stockholders increased by 1,755, while in two Popular Ownership stock campaigns 19,228 subscriptions were received for 61,231 shares.

The people of New Jersey as well as the owners of Public Service share in the progress made by the Corporation during the year of 1930.

GIF L. SCOUT NEWS

Friday evening, February 12, the Riverton GFL Scouts attended the Court of Awards in Camden. The meeting was enjoyed by everyone because of the program given. The first number was an address of welcome delivered by the pastor of the church in which the meeting was held. During the evening several trophies presented merit badges in dramatic form. Among these were the "Scribe" and the "Housekeeper." Perhaps the one most enjoyed was the "First Aid" which was carried out very realistically.

The most important feature to many of the people present was the presentation of the new County Handbook, which will have an office in the Chamber of Commerce at the West White man Hotel.

The best speaker of the evening, casting no reflection on the others, was a young education pupil, who recited on the subject of "Sister in the Medicine Closet."

There were two other speakers — a prominent Boy Scout worker and an American Legion man. Also the people who helped to present awards, offered a few speeches.

Our troop was the most outstanding one of all in the presentation of badges. Two girls received First Class Badges, and at only six were presented we shone there. Then highest honor of all, Mrs. Riverton, a Palmyra girl, received the Letter of Commendation, the last step before the Golden Emblem is presented. It was the only honor of this kind and the highest one presented.

After the meeting the girls were served with ice cream and cake, and although it was raining outside every one voted it a perfect evening.

MY MARYLAND AT SHUBERT THEATRE

Popular American Operetta To Start Limited Engagement Saturday

For musical beauty, colorful costumes and settings and lyrical grandeur, "My Maryland" set a standard a few seasons ago that has been difficult to rival. Now, in all its former glory, this perfect American operetta has been brought back to life and theatre-goers will be delighted to learn that it commences a limited engagement at the Shubert Theatre on Saturday evening, February 21. Its local presentation will be marked by an exceedingly low scale of popular prices. Nights 50c to $2.00; Wednesday matinee top price $1.00 and Saturday matinee with seats at $1.50 top.

"My Maryland," as everyone knows, is a delightful and stirring operetta, ranking with "The Student Prince" and "Blossom Time," with charming melodies and real singers to sing them with one of those honest, homely love stories that never grow old and with a male chorus of 60 voices that evokes rapturous applause from the audience. Its story tells a gripping tale of a beautiful love between a charming Southern maid and a dashing Yankee officer in the midst of the crashing conflict of the North and the South, and has been embellished with all the heart throbs and melodrama of the historic Civil War itself.

It is in its operatic quality that "My Maryland" has its greatest appeal. Sigmund Romberg has written the music of a calibre that vies with the narrative for attention. The score is splendid, well orchestrated, always melodious and attains several stirring climaxes. "Strolling With the One I Love Best" starts off with the light opera manner. "Your Land and My Land," the hit of the show, proves a thumping march tune. "The Same Silver Moon" makes the transition of sentimental ballad. Of like pattern is "Mother" and in more humorous vein are "Old Barbecue" and "Mexican" and "Key-Cho!" Dorothy Donnelly wrote an excellent book for Romberg's exquisite score.

An admirable company, aggregating over a hundred artists in all, will present "My Maryland" here, headed by Ruth Urban, Alexander Callan, Frank La. Betty Boylen, Hal Connelley, Maude Odell, Louise Beaudet, Louis Casavant, Arthur Cunningham, Lucius Henderson, Edith Scott, Louise Kirtland, George Dill, Waldo Edwards, Howard Quikley, Victor Board and Milton Frome.

FRESHMEN OF N. J. COLLEGE MAKE HIGH GRADE IN MENTAL TESTS

Freshmen at New Jersey College for Women, New Brunswick, are twenty per cent higher mentally than freshmen at fifteen Ohio State colleges. Mental tests are to be tried. Intelligence tests given in September show the Jersey girls twenty per cent higher than freshmen in the colleges in Ohio which use the same test. "For the third consecutive year New Jersey College for Women has used this test," says Dr. Sidney A. Cook, head of the psychology department, who conducted the test. "In computing the results it was found that our freshmen stand consistently about twenty per cent higher than those of the other colleges, comprising 1268 men and 925 women students. In computing the results it was found that each tenth of our entering freshmen stood twenty per cent higher than those in the colleges with whom the comparison was made, which is a more significant fact than if only averages or medians were compared."

MOTION PICTURE AT MOORESTOWN

Big game trails of Canada and Alaska will be the subject of Ernest C. Poole, of Montreal, Friday evening, February 21, at 8 o'clock in the Moorestown High School auditorium. This highly interesting and entertaining six reel motion picture will be explained in detail by Mr. Poole, who is well qualified, having been former Chief Fire Warden of Canada, and at the present time chief photographer for the largest railway system in America, The Canadian National. Mr. Poole's entire life has been spent in close contact with the wonders of our wild life about which he loves to tell.

Views of years ago when Canada was first settled, scenic beauties and wonders of the Far North, the breeding grounds of millions of our wild waterfowl, scenes dealing with the organization and the activities of the Canadian Northwest Mounted Police, big game hunting with the camera, these are just a few of the many topics of keen interest to young and to old, which will be covered in full.

An opportunity of this type rarely presents itself to us. Come and bring the kiddies! All tickets now on sale everywhere. Students' admission lower.

This picture is being presented by the Sporeman's Club, of Marlton, in co-operation with a leading railway system.

Full Translation of Butler - Mussolini Letter Submitted By Burlington Man

Raymond Campani, Patriotic American Citizen of Italian Birth, Denounces Il Duce, Whom Letter Accuses as Hit - Run Driver

An original translation of the letter which has caused so much comment in the recent Butler-Mussolini incident has been sent to this newspaper by Raymond Campani, of 233 Brown street, Burlington, who says the full translation has never been published before.

Mr. Campani, a patriotic American of Italian birth, has been greatly chagrined at the whole affair and was very much in sympathy with General Butler.

The letter was sent, secretly, to this country by one who claimed to have been an eye-witness to the scene immediately following the incident spoken of by the General for which he has been reprimanded by the Secretary of the Navy.

The letter, under date of Sunday, September 14, 1920, was translated as follows:

"Sunday I went out to sell a few products. About 2:30 p. m., while stopping some wine in the bar room of Giuseppe Franchi, I suddenly heard the noise of a passing machine, immediately followed by a scream. Quickly I ran out into the street to find out what had happened. The little six-year-old daughter of Sig. Santini, in St. Antonio, had been run over by an automobile travelling at a high speed on the corner of Della Croce. It was a miracle that the car had not crashed into the wall. The speeding machine continued down the street at a great pace, striking the little girl, who happened to be passing by.

"As you know, the street of S. Quirico is very crowded on Sunday, and more than one, cheered Il Duce, who was at the wheel of the car, in which there were two other men, and which did not stop at all.

"A little later, another automobile containing policemen came along, and seeing the crowd which had gathered about the child, who was seriously injured, stopped to find out what the matter was.

"Everyone was hearing deprecations at Il Duce, but at the arrival of the police, they quieted down, only Pollicena and Lazzarini answered that they had recognized Il Duce. The police took these two men and the injured child to the city of Grosseto. The child died the next day, but nothing further was found out of the two men, and it is said they were imprisoned.

"I beg of you not to tell anyone of this incident for perhaps I, too, may be imprisoned."

Mr. Campani adds a few remarks of his own as follows:

"We key of the authorities to take action against these citizens of Italian descent who have broken their oath of loyalty to the constitution of the United States by spreading propaganda of Mussolini's ideas among the Italian immigrants."

(Signed) RAYMOND CAMPANI.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack, Rector.

Stout courses at college are very often useful in brushing up on forgotten things. To get the atmosphere of student days sends many a man back to find newer efforts and more complete mastery of a subject. The reason of Lent is just such an opportunity to better spiritual growth. The courses offered are varied, dealing with the vast inner life of man. It is rather a pathetic thing to specialize on physical and mental equipment and to leave the very essence of life—the spiritual—to random efforts.

Every man is better for an intensive course such as Lent. Will you make the effort? O Christ, Thou hastest suffering, bleeding there. And looked down with pleading eyes; And I kneel before thee, sorrowful; And all that is within me cries: With infinite desire To do thy will, as thou dost show the way And lead me higher.

Services every Wednesday during Lent at 8:00 p. m. in Evening. Literary and short address. The Rev. Samuel Hardman, rector of St. Stephen's Church, Riverside will be the preacher on Wednesday, February 25th.

The Woman's Auxiliary will meet in the Parish House on Monday, February 23rd at 2:30. Speakers: The Rev. Francis Weaver, topic, "The Church Mission of Help." Mrs. Knowles will also address the meeting, her topic will be "Social Service."

The first meeting of the Auxiliary to sew for the Church Mission of help will take place in the Parish House on Wednesday, February 25, at 2:30 o'clock.

We thank all the members and friends of the Girls' Friendly Society for the splendid response at the time of the annual bazaar. Some ticket money is outstanding and the officers are anxious to close this part of the affair. Kindly report at the next meeting. The girls are preparing for a play to be given shortly after Easter.

The covered dish luncheon at the home of Mrs. Reber last Wednesday was a very enjoyable affair, some 28 members of the St. Agnes Guild and their friends enjoyed the afternoon.

Services the first Sunday in Lent: 10:00 a. m., Sunday School; 10:45 a. m., Morning Prayer and Sermon, subject, "Seeking Sunshine"; Evening and Sermon 8:00 p. m., Subject, "I Am Innocent of This Man's Blood."

From a notice sent to the state convention papers regarding the dedication of the St. Petersburg Church.

"The St. Petersburg people, with true hospitality, knowing of the crowded conditions which exist in their city during the tourist season, have offered to provide sleeping accommodation for all who attend the services."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. Harold L. Creager

When the birthday of the Father of Our Country comes on a Sunday, it is a pleasure as well as an inspiration to direct our thoughts of worship along lines of patriotism and civic needs. We shall consequently consider next Sunday evening the theme, "Religion, The Foundation of National Welfare." To this service the American Legion has been invited.

At the morning service also an important question is to be raised. All Christian people have been lamenting the indifference to religion

HINTS FOR THE HOME

By Nancy Hart

VEAL RECIPES

Veal is not a good every-day meat. But it is most certainly a delicious once-in-awhile meat. And if it is thoroughly cooked it is quite wholesomely so.

ROAST VEAL

Select a piece of veal from the loin and have it boned. Fill with bread, stuffing seasoned with onion. Dredge with salt, pepper and a little flour and place in roasting pan with three slices of salt pork laid over the meat. Start cooking in a hot oven and continue in a moderate oven, allowing twenty minutes to the pound—more if the roast is small. Baste frequently. Serve with gravy made from drippings in the pan.

CORN WITH PEPPERS

Two cups canned corn, nine tablespoons of grated cheese, six tablespoons of cracker crumbs, six green peppers, six slices tomato, one and one-half tablespoons butter.

Mix the corn with the salt and pepper and one-third of the cheese. Have ready the peppers which have been washed and the tops removed. Also the seeds and pulp. Fill the cavities with the corn mixture and sprinkle cheese on top. Arrange in a shallow baking pan with about one inch of water. Bake for ten minutes.

beating several times. While this is being done, dip the tomatoes in the cracker crumbs and brown in the hot butter. Serve the peppers with a slice of tomato with each.

FRIED ALMONDS

Twenty rounding tablespoons of flour, four tablespoons of butter, four rounding tablespoons of sugar, one-half teaspoon of salt, one tablespoon of vanilla, one-quarter cup of grated almonds. Stir together, roll, cut into almond shape and fry in hot oil. Drain into sugar mixed with cinnamon.

HERMITS

Three eggs and one-half cup of sugar; one cup of butter, one-half teaspoon of soda, a pinch of salt, nutmeg, one and a half cups of seeded raisins, one pound of English walnuts, both chopped, and two and a half cups of flour. Drop from spoon and bake in quick oven.

COCOANUT CREAM CANDY

One tablespoon butter, three-quarters cup milk, two cups sugar, one-half cup grated coconut, one-half teaspoon vanilla extract.

Melt butter in saucepan, add milk and sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved, heating slowly; boil twelve to fifteen minutes, remove from fire and add coconut and vanilla. Beat with egg and cream. Pour into buttered tins and cool.

For chocolate coconut cream candy add three ounces unsweetened chocolate to other ingredients before boiling in water. Bake for ten minutes.

PALMYRA GIRLS WIN RELAY RACE IN PHILA. MEET

Beat Five Other Teams in Speeding Over 440-Yard
Course in One Minute

HELEN YOUNG LEAPS TO 1ST PLACE IN HIGH JUMP

Lenore Plum Travels at Fast
Clip To Gain Second Place in 15-Yard Sprint

In the first competitive race ever entered by the girls relay team, a quartet of Palmyra High School athletes showed their heels to representatives from five other local schools in the championship relay race held last Thursday afternoon at the Arena, Philadelphia, in conjunction with the Mendocino meet.

The Palmyra four had but very little training for the race, continuing their tests to short bursts of speed in the high school gymnasium and a brief period in practicing the passing of the baton.

Helen Young, Myrtle Harmon, Mary McAnulty and Lenore Plum composed the winning quartet, running in the order named. The four girls were known for their speed on the track field, and had also shown a great deal of speed on the basketball court, and their training made them feel confident of the relay race. Tests against classmates proved them worthy of representing the Palmyra institution.

Miss Grace E. Dugan, girls' athletic coach, gave some time after school practice to the development of the team, but intensive practice was impossible because of the girls' other athletic work.

The running of the girls was exceptionally fast, especially for an indoor track, which is considered slower than an outdoor course. The time for the 440-yard distance was one minute flat. Among the girls entered in the race to the Palmyra girls was the team of the John Wamaker Institute, a school composed of much older girls, with a great deal more experience in track meets.

The relay race was not the only event in which the Palmyra girls made a good showing. Helen Young captured first honors in the high jump with a leap of four feet, 4 1/2 inches. This young lady showed unusual promise as a high jumper and outdoor athlete, and likely is her better bet.

A second place was won by Lenore Plum in the 15-yard dash, against some of the picked girl sprinters of eastern Pennsylvania. Palmyra was the only South Jersey school entered in any of the events. Miss Plum won recognition in the spring of 1929 when she placed second in a 50-yard dash at a great track meet held at Franklin field. At that time she sported the colors of Bensalem Junior High School. She also placed first for three years on the basketball team at that institution and placed two years on the basketball team. She is now a freshman at Palmyra.

The other girls are residents of Palmyra, and all members of the junior class. Miss Young has played two years on the hockey and basketball teams. Miss McAnulty has played two seasons with the hockey team and also has been a member of the court squad for the same length of time. Miss Harmon, after playing a substitute role last year on the hockey team gained a regular berth this year and also played forward on the basketball team.

Next year the team will remain intact and should be even better with increased knowledge and experience gained this season. With diligent training and practice the Palmyra High School girls track team should be the winners of more than one meet during the spring and winter seasons.

WOMEN ORGANIZE BOWLING LEAGUE

The proposed women's bowling league of Palmyra and Riverton was finally organized last week and opened its first series of matches Monday night at the Palmyra alley.

The league has been proposed since the opening of the alleys last September, but was not acted upon until the men's league had begun its action.

The new league is composed of four teams of five members each, led by Captains Mrs. Leslie W. Reeves, Mrs. Howard P. Haines, Mrs. John Griffenberg and Miss Marie Conley.

Mrs. Leonard Baker and Mrs. Robert C. Ayers, while not members of any league team, were instrumental in the formation of the bowling league.

Names for the several teams have not as yet been selected, but it is thought they will be named after several of the popular brands of cigarettes. Lucky Strike, Camel, Old Gold, Chesterfield, Fatima, Redman, etc. The teams will meet every Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The team under Mrs. Reeves includes Miss Irma Rich, Mrs. A. C. Haines, Mrs. Nick Betts and Mrs. Hazel Lloyd.

Mrs. Howard Haines' five members: Mrs. John Williams, Mrs. Frank King, Miss Edith King and Mrs. "Cadd" Sniffen.

Members of Mrs. Griffenberg's team are Mrs. Walter Hansen, Miss Eleanor Denninger, Miss Harrison and Miss Wilson.

The members of the fourth team, under the leadership of Miss Conley are all unmarried. The Misses Marie Betts, Jane Dougherty, Elizabeth Hansen and Elizabeth D'Aurachy complete the membership of the league.

PALMYRA HIGH TOPS RIVERSIDE, 28 TO 22

Palmyra High School went into a one-day lead in the Burlington County Basketball League race by virtue of a 28-22 defeat administered to the Riverside High courtmen Friday night. Burlington came back Saturday evening at Moorestown and again defeated the Palmyra squad by routing the Quakers, 29-24.

The win marked the seventh in nine games for the Palmyra outfit, having received setbacks from Burlington and Mount Holly. The Pals clearly outplayed the Riversideers throughout the contest, and assumed a 10-6 lead at the end of the first quarter, only to increase it to 15-9 at half time.

A brilliant rally by the Riverside lads in the third period, enabled them to cut the Palmyra lead until the Pals had a narrow 24-21 advantage. The final chapter saw the Palmyra guards hold their opponents to a single point while the Plumdeners added four markers to come out on top of a 28-22 score.

Larry Seaman, Riverside leader, was unfortunate enough to receive a painful gash over the right eye in the opening period, and he was rushed to the hospital. The Riversideers, second, when Seaman attempted to resume play later in the game, the wound re-opened and he collapsed, teammates carrying him from the court.

The unapproachable Jack Kelly led the Palmyra scoring from the field with three two-pointers, while Fred Green led in total points with two field baskets and three penalty shots out of as many tries. Russ Keeler was the big gun of the Riverside attack, arching in four double-dunkers and four foul shots the night's post-time. Most Keeler was a close second with two each of the single and double variety.

ARTISAN QUINTELL IN SEASON RECORD

The Palmyra Artisans court five bettered the season's high scoring record which it set November 26, when it demolished the Franklin Assembly Wednesday night in a one-sided contest which ended with the score 64-21. The previous high score was against the same team, the final tabulation being 63-11.

The Palmyra five showed an excellent attack in the first half, leading at the end of the half with a score of 47-9. With such an overwhelming lead the Pals were content to take occasional shots at the basket in the final chapter, at the same time making little or no effort to hold the scoring of the Franklin team.

The game was the one-sided to be interesting, the Palmyra team scoring at will throughout the game. "Bert" Long Palmyra pivot man, led the scoring, registering nine times from the field and once from the free-throw mark to tally 19 points.

"Bert" Frederick was also a fine performer, scoring nine times from scrimmage to register 18 points. "Chick" Foulker and Owen Botter were also outstanding performers with 12 and 11 points respectively. Maurice and Lou each counted twice from the floor for Franklin.

This last week was Boy Scout Week, so to celebrate it all the boys wore their uniforms to school and tried to live up to the oath and laws of the Scouts. Of course, all Scouts try to obey the laws always, but this past week they made a special effort because that week was the twenty-first birthday of the Boy Scout Organization. There is one thing about the celebration. They do not know the name of the Scout who started this movement in America. Wouldn't this celebration mean more if this Scout's name was known? But, as yet, no one does.

There are many Scouts all over the United States and in foreign countries, but there could be still more. Once you wear the uniform? Yes. Once you don't? Yes. Any boy whether a Scout or not, can act as a Scout should act. Live up to the oath and laws, and do his good deed daily. The Scout oath is something every child should be proud to keep. It is: "On my honor, I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the law, to help other people at all times, to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

Some of the boys are going to tell the interesting story of February. They are: Charles Wallace, George Truittman, William M. Demott, William Meyers and Robert E. Smith. The children are also working very hard on fractions and on an exhibit of the North Eastern States.

You want your washing done thoroughly, of course, you want it done with the least possible inconvenience, and it is also important that none of your fine things be pulled or handled roughly.

The men who designed the Thor Electric Washer had these things in mind. Its washing method is so thorough that all the dirt is removed from each article. This is done so gently that nothing is pulled or torn. Putting clothes through the wringer doesn't result in broken buttons or fastened hooks. The rollers are made of soft rubber so that fasteners can sink in.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the thirty-fourth of a series of articles by the Commission on Motor Vehicles, presented by this paper as part of the campaign of education to familiarize New Jersey motorists with the regulations which govern their conduct on the road. During the next few weeks proposed new legislation will be discussed.

XXXIV. BILL OF SALE ACT

It is not strange that many motorists find themselves unable to grasp the details of the new bill of sale act which has been introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman George Chinn, leader of the Essex County delegation. The subject is extremely complicated and a thorough understanding of all its ramifications requires long and careful study which would be of little profit to the average motorist.

But every automobile owner should have a working knowledge of the essentials of the proposed act, which is designed to safeguard honest dealers of motor vehicles and innocent buyers, and to drive from business the unscrupulous dealers, automobile thieves and fences.

The present act is wholly ineffective in checking the alarming volume of stolen car sales, and seems to aid thieves in procuring bills of sale for the stolen automobiles and enables them to dispose of their plunder under the apparent guise of the law.

Buyer Can't Be Sure

The present act places no restriction on the issuance of duplicate bills of sale. If assignments are lost, no provision is made for duplicates, nor is any method provided whereby a purchaser buying a used car can be sure of the validity of his title. It is comparatively simple for bills of sale and assignments to be fabricated with little chance of detection. It works a hardship on honest owners who have lost their bills of sale and are unable to get duplicates, or who have technical defects in their documents, such as less than two witnesses, defective acknowledgments and so on.

The proposed new act gives the Department of Motor Vehicles control over titles to motor vehicles which it does not now have. It will permit the department to weed out dishonest dealers who compete unfairly with honest dealers and it will facilitate the transfer of title by bona fide owners of automobiles.

Briefly, the act provides that title papers, in original and duplicate original, signed by seller and buyer, with address and complete description of the vehicle, will start with the manufacturer or dealer licensed by the department. The duplicate will be given a serial number and filed with the

New Constitution Proposed for State

In a bill introduced in the Assembly last week by Assemblyman David M. Latham, Republican of Essex County, a new State Constitution is provided for a tentative list of one hundred persons to convene a convention for the purpose of preparing and submitting the new document being presented with the bill by the Assemblyman.

When such a constitutional convention is to be called is not stated in the bill. Assemblyman Latham suggests the names of State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, V. Claude Palmer and F. Wallis Armstrong, all of Moorestown to represent Burlington county in the convention.

Let of title will be treated likewise, original papers appearing by the department, being retained by the owner and turned over to the person who buys from him. Both owner and department will each have a complete chain of title.

Commissioner's Powers. The commissioner is given power to cure technical defects in title papers, furnish certified copies of lost papers. The department will be able to check signatures of sellers and buyers and witnesses, and will be able to detect spurious or fraudulent title immediately by checking against the papers on file. The commissioner is given power to refuse registration if title papers are not proper.

The bill was drafted under my immediate direction and supervision by attorneys, representing this department, motor club and other organizations after many conferences, submission of a number of drafts and careful study of automobile title laws of other states. It is the opinion of experts on automobile title laws and the opinion of this department that this act is the last word on automobile title laws and that it will effectively check the sale of stolen automobiles, transfer of fraudulent titles and registration of these automobiles in this state.

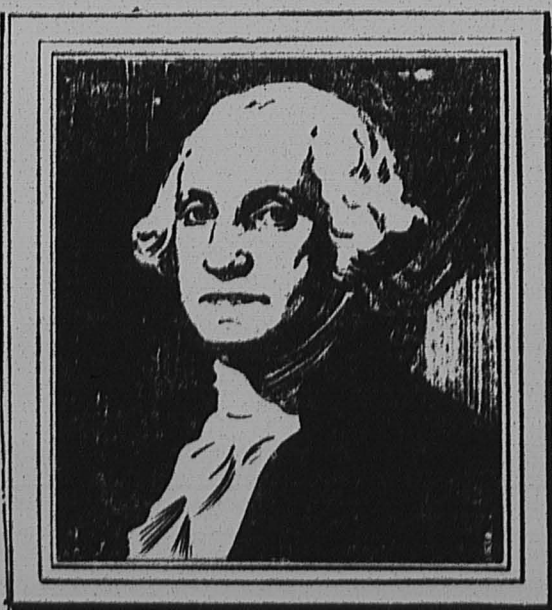

I have distributed to many automobile dealers in New Jersey a digest of the bill, with a comparative summary showing its improvements over the present statute. Every comment I have received from the dealers has been favorable. Several have made suggestions for minor changes, which can be met by department rulings and regulations which the bill empowers the Commissioner to make.

Support from these men who are expert in automobile title transactions to a change of this kind corroborates my conviction that the proposed law will correct what is now a most disturbing situation.

Mrs. Jeanette Lovell

Mrs. Jeanette Lovell, 81 years old, died from a combination of diseases at the home of her daughter, Mrs. R. H. Nissen, on Camden pike, Maple Shade, on Friday.

Funeral services were held from the home of E. W. Bellon & Son, North Church street, Moorestown, on Sunday afternoon, with the Rev. Frederick B. Morley, pastor of the Moorestown Methodist Episcopal Church, officiating. Interment was made in Evergreen cemetery, Camden.

SAYS U. S. FACES REVOLUTION OR CHURCH REVIVAL

West Collingswood Pastor Delivers Striking Address
To Bible Classes

ATTACKS TEACHINGS IN MODERN SCHOOLS

Colleges Teach Socialism, Members of County Federation Are Told

The United States is facing either a religious revival or a revolution, declared Rev. Leo McCabe Johnson, pastor of the West Collingswood Presbyterian Church, at last night's meeting of the Burlington County Federation of Bible Classes in the Medford Methodist Church.

Before an audience of more than 300 men from various Sunday Schools in Burlington County, Dr. Johnson delivered one of his famous and forceful sermons, in which he said that the instructors in our schools are being at the bottom of our present social problems. He cited some of the teachings of our public schools, colleges and universities as leading our youth away from the early doctrines on which American liberty was first founded and towards Socialism, Bolshevism, Anarchism and Communism.

"I know of what I am speaking," declared Dr. Johnson, "for right here at a nearby university, where I was a student, they are teaching Socialism and all of the other things that are tearing down organized and orderly government; and they are doing it in nearly all our institutions of learning in other parts of the United States."

Effect on Prohibition
"Even our educational philosophy is largely to blame for the breaking down of our support of the 18th Amendment," continued the speaker in connecting up the evil forces that are undertaking to undermine our government and our institutions.

"Looking for the way from some of the 'Evils' to the mountains that they are to be conquered," Dr. Johnson declared, "if there is no personal Devil at work in this nation, he left a large office to carry out his plans."

In pointing a pathway for America to find its way from some of the destructive forces that are at work, the speaker admonished the audience to get out of their own back yards and set a spiritual vision of the human sufferings that are being caused by our disregard for God and his ordinance.

In explaining his statement that we are fast heading for a religious revival or a revolution, Dr. Johnson pictured the striking contrasts in our educational and social systems of today with those that were first established after the Pilgrims landed in New England.

"Our schools of yesterday taught self restraint," said Dr. Johnson, while our schools today teach self expression and what a sorry mess we are making out of it." The speaker derived deeply into our educational system and brought out example after example of the thoughtless and radical government that are being taught in our schools and colleges today.

Urges Fair Trial
In supporting the 18th Amendment, Dr. Johnson called on his audience to give it a fair trial. "We have had 150 years of rotten rum and only twelve of prohibition. Let's give it a fair trial before we even think about throwing it away. It is a big toll to listen to the wet propaganda that is being circulated against the 18th Amendment."

"Don't blame everything on the prohibition law," emphatically declared Dr. Johnson, "let's give it a fair trial before we begin tearing it down." The public press, especially the wet newspapers, came in for a share of the blame for the spreading of the liquor propaganda. "The public press and the radical leaders are blaming crime waves and the utter disregard for all law on the 18th Amendment."

"Let me tell you," declared the speaker pointing his pulpit desk, "crime waves are everywhere. England has them and so has Australia. They are brewing in other European countries as well as the Far East. If the wet nations of England, France, Australia and China are experiencing the same general unrest that we see in America, the 18th Amendment is not at the bottom of the trouble."

Dr. Johnson believes that the present business depression is having its good effects on our people. While it is causing suffering among the poorer groups, who always suffer anyway, it is bringing our industrial and business leaders closer to God and to the church.

Continuing his discussion on the depression, Dr. Johnson pictured the injustice of less than 10 per cent of the people of the United States receiving more than 90 per cent of the income of our country. He also believed that the depression was enabling everyone to re-establish new values and to get a tighter grip on those things that have meant so much to this nation.

U. S. the Leader
Firmly convinced that the United States is destined to be the world's leader for righteousness, social advancement, law observance and the teaching of religion, Dr. Johnson compared the advantages and resources of North and South America.

"Both continents contain equal agricultural, mineral and natural resources. Both have the same climate, the same navigable rivers, harbors and commercial advantages," said Dr. Johnson, "but will you tell me why the United States and its neighboring countries have gone ahead of South America in leading the world? I will tell you. The Spaniards came to South America for gold and the Puritans came to North America for God."

"When the Puritans landed on that

"Honor Bright" Finds Favor With Audiences During Three-Night Run

Palmyra High School Seniors Presented Annual Play Last Weekend: Mary Sanford and Rodman Merrill
Play Leading Roles

Large audiences were entertained last Thursday, Saturday and Monday evenings in the high school auditorium when the members of the senior class of Palmyra High School presented their annual play.

"Honor Bright," a breezy, ultra-modern comedy, made a big hit with the crowds during all three nights of its presentation. The members of the cast portrayed their various roles in an excellent manner, keeping the audience in a continuous state of laughter.

Clever bits of acting, witty replies, and effective bits of pantomime were combined to make the production one of the most enjoyable plays seen on a Palmyra stage. A feature of the comedy was the introduction of a diminutive dog during a part of the play. The canine was in no way behind his human friends in making a hit with the audience.

Of principal interest in the show were those bits which kept the audience in a merry mood. A scene between a staid old bishop and a very modern book salesman, which followed closely Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet balcony scene, came to a sudden and laughable conclusion when the wife of the bishop made her appearance.

Another bit of fun was presented when the dignified and solemn English butler walked in the living room displaying a most colorful black eye, suffered at the hands of an outraged Irish cook.

The climax came when a chorus girl, hapless and guest of her previous New England coast, they did not begin the search for gold that marked the pilgrimages of the Spaniards. They began to tell trees; they built houses; they grew crops; they made friends of the Indians; they built churches and they kept turning their devotion to the Bible, the Church and the Home.

The American Home
"I am convinced," continued the speaker, "that the strength of the American home is still based on discipline, regularity and family worship." He also made a powerful plea for the retention of the family altar in the homes of the folks of South Jersey. "I believe that the safety of the United States, its social, religious and moral institutions is based on our family altar."

Turning to the Bible for support of his outstanding statements, Dr. Johnson declared that the Ten Commandments were just as effective and as much in vogue today as the latest piece of legislation coming from Congress and our State Legislatures.

"No law is more forceful or clearly stated or more applicable to present-day conditions than the Commandments," continued the speaker, and with upraised hands he pointed Heavenward and said, "Thou shalt not steal; thou shalt not commit adultery; as evidence of the clearness of purpose and the intent of the old Mosaic law fit into present-day needs."

From Bartender's Home
Driving home every statement with facts that were irrefutable, Dr. Johnson further backed up what he said by a graphic account of his own life that had led him since he was a mere lad of five years of age from a bartender's home through school, seminary and college to the church pulpit.

In closing, Dr. Johnson said, "We must take God into our daily life; we must come back to the cross, the Bible and Pentecost to enable us to meet the civilization of tomorrow." Music was rendered by the County Young Men's Christian Association orchestra, under the able leadership of County Secretary Guy C. Hendry.

DECISION RESERVED
IN GIRL DRIVER CASE
The case against Miss Sadonie Shaffer, of Mount Holly, county secretary of the Y. W. C. A., charged with speeding along the Bordentown-Columbus road, was heard before Recorder Joseph C. Kingston last week. After the testimony the recorder reserved his decision. State Trooper Door, of the Columbus barracks, was the complainant. Miss Shaffer stated that she was on her way to a Y. W. C. A. conference at Trenton when stopped by the state trooper. The latter claimed that she was traveling at an excessive rate of speed.

MEN'S BIBLE CLASSES TO MEET
The Burlington County Federation of Men's Bible Classes will meet in Vincentown Sunday afternoon at three o'clock. As the organization will meet in Palmyra on Sunday, March 29, it is hoped that a large number of men from the various Palmyra churches will attend these services.

pective husband's family was late in her arrival, sending for an excuse a telegram saying she had been out riding with George Washington. When the future husband found himself without a guest he substituted the first girl who came to the house. When the false fiancée, a very competent saleslady, was persuaded to say all night, and then was interrupted late at night by the arrival of the true bride-to-be, affairs took a turn for the worse.

Featured in the comedy acting was the making of the saleslady into an impromptu nurse. Although she was a supposed chorus girl, and for that reason not accepted as the proper one to marry into a rich and proud New England family, she found favor with that family by her ingenuity in making mustard plasters and black-eye bandages.

Rodman Merrill, as Richard Harrington, wealthy young heir, played the role of the staid old bishop, the attractive young saleslady who was working her way through college. The role of Tot Marvel, flapper and chorus girl, was portrayed by Edna Barker, while Mrs. Harrington and Mrs. Carlton, the bishop's wife, were represented by Louise Fisher and Janet Blackwell. Wesley Hemphill and William Sheddaker were outstanding in their roles of Walter the English butler, and the Rt. Rev. William Carlton, the literary bishop.

The other performers of the cast were Lydia Meyring, Nan Evans, Floyd Smith, Jack Wilson, Howard Meyers, Harry Reiter, Richard Furman and Francis Klevan.

AUTHORESS WILL VISIT PALMYRA

Public Invited To Hear Helen
R. Martin at Lecture in
H. S. Next Friday

Helen R. Martin, the noted authoress of "Pennsylvania Dutch" stories will be the evening speaker at the New Jersey conference of the National Association of Journalism Advertisers to be held in the Palmyra High School March 6.

Mrs. Martin's appearance on this program is one of the rarest treats of the conference. Many journals not interested in the entire conference have asked if they might attend just the lecture of Mrs. Martin.

Special arrangements have been made so that those seats not needed for conference delegates may be used by any individual who wishes. The tickets may be procured through William H. Plank of the high school for 75 cents.

As the time for the conference approaches and the list of speakers takes definite shape, many more are added. Charles H. Herrold, a student editor of the Temple University News, will speak at the afternoon session of the conference on "High School Journalism as a Preparation for College Journalism."

Mr. Herrold has had a great deal of experience on High School and college newspapers. He started a paper in his high school and worked his way up through the Temple News serving as managing editor in his junior year and editor-in-chief during his senior year.

Another high light of the conference will be the presentation of the beautiful big trophy cup by the Palmyra-Riverton Rotary Club to the largest delegation attending.

The aims of the conference are to promote the National Association of Journalism Advertisers in New Jersey, give a short course in Scholastic Journalism, have a "get together" meeting of the faculty advisers to get acquainted with those in the work, to give the staff members an opportunity to meet students from other schools who are interested in the same projects, to become acquainted with some of the authorities in the field of journalism, and to introduce the various national movements that are interested in scholastic journalism.

A. C. MIDDLETON BACKS INHERITANCE TAX BILL

Treasurer Favors Turning Revenue
From Excess Estates Into State
Surplus Fund

A bill, the instigator of which is State Treasurer Albert C. Middleton, has been introduced in the House by a Camden member, providing that whenever State revenue from collateral inheritance tax in any one year exceeds ten million dollars the excess shall be turned into a State surplus fund.

The bill would prohibit any Legislature from appropriating or drawing from the principal of the fund, which would be invested in federal, state or municipal securities.

Mr. Middleton has expressed the belief that such a fund would have an inestimable value to the state in times of emergency or during "lean" years when the state's income might fall below estimated receipts.

He is understood to have had directly in mind the large fee New Jersey expects to receive from the estate of the late Dr. John T. Dorrance, of Chumminston township, this county, composed largely of holdings in the Campbell Soup Company of Camden. The state's share of that estate in taxes has been estimated as lowly at from $10,000,000 to $25,000,000. This alone would be in excess of the usual total receipts from the inheritance tax.

"MY MARYLAND" IN PHILADELPHIA

Popular Civil War Play Running at Shubert For Limited Time

For musical beauty, colorful costumes and settings and lyrical grandeur, "My Maryland" set a standard a few seasons ago that has been difficult to rival. Now, in all its former glory, this perfect American operetta has been brought back to life and Philadelphia will be delighted to learn that it commenced a limited engagement at the Shubert Theatre on Saturday evening, February 21. Its local presentation will be marked by an exceedingly low scale of popular prices. Nights 50c to $2.00—Wednesday matinee top price at $1.00 and Saturday matinee—with seats at $1.50 top.

"My Maryland," as everyone knows, is a delightful and stirring operetta, brimming with "The Student Prince" and "Blossom Time," with charming melodies and real singers to sing them with one of those honest, homespun love stories that never grow old and with a male chorus of 60 picked from the audience. Its story tells a gripping tale of a beautiful love between a charming Southern maid and a dashing Yankee officer in the midst of the crashing conflict of the North and the South, and has been embellished with all the heart throbs and melodrama of the historic Civil War itself.

It is in its operatic quality that "My Maryland" has its greatest appeal. Edmund Romberg has written the music of a timbre that vies with the narrative for attention. The score is splendid, well orchestrated, always melodious and attains several stirring climaxes. "Strolling With the One I Love Best" starts off with the light operatic manner; "Your Land and My Land," the hit of the show, proves a thumping march tune; "The Same Old Story" is a picture of the transition of sentimental ballad. Of like pattern is "Mother" and in more humorous vein are "Old Harlequin," "Mexico" and "Ker-choo." Dorothy Donnelly wrote an excellent book for Romberg's exquisite score.

An admirable company, aggregating over a hundred artists in all, will present "My Maryland" here, headed by Ruth Urban, Alexander Callan, Frank Loran, Betty Byron, Hal Conklin, Maude Odell, Louise Branda, Louis Casavani, Arthur Cunningham, Lucius Henderson, Edith Scott, Louise Kirkland, George Hill, Wladimir Edwards, Howard Quigley, Victor Bozart and Milton Frome.

WESLEYANS DEDICATE NEW MEETING ROOM

Methodist Men's Class Held Special Services at Last Sunday Morn-ing's Meeting

The new meeting room of the Wesleyan Men's Class of the Epworth M. E. Church was dedicated last Sunday morning. The room had been planned for some time but was completed until a short time ago.

A record attendance for the class was made at last week's meeting, about 125 attending. Included in this number were two of the women's Sunday School classes, who were visitors in the men's department.

A gift from Mrs. Jennie A. Belde-man, presented in honor of her husband, was accepted and dedicated in a very fitting manner by Reading Z. Polmest, teacher of the class.

Special music was rendered by the men's seven-piece orchestra and by Mrs. Van Alstyne. The men of the community have been extended an invitation by the officers and members of the class to meet with them Sunday mornings at 10 o'clock.

WOMAN'S CLUB PRESENTS SKETCH

Mrs. Albert Parker, as the Guest of Honor, Entertains With Three Delightful Monologues

The Palmyra Woman's Club held an evening of "Old Songs in Costume," in the Lions Den, Society Hall, Monday evening.

Many very interesting and amusing gowns were worn. They were reminiscent of days long since past, but not forgotten. The members of the chorus wish to express their thanks to those who so kindly loaned the costumes.

A large and appreciative audience joined in the singing of the songs when some particularly well-known favorite was sung. The atmosphere of an old time drawing room was created by tables, rugs, chairs, lamps, clocks and other articles of furniture, which were so graciously loaned by the club members.

The dialogue used in the sketch was written by Mrs. S. S. Lippincott and the hostess at whose home the "singing party" was held was Mrs. George M. Becker.

Mrs. Albert Parker was the guest of honor and presented three monologues, which were thoroughly enjoyed by the audience and chorus as well. Piano solos, vocal duets, quartettes and solos were rendered by members of the club.

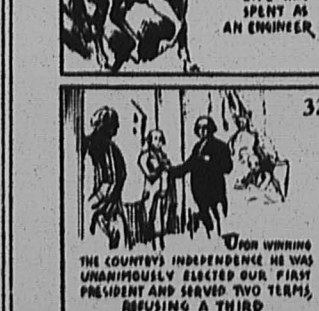

The Woman's Club wishes to thank Joseph L. Slack for his generosity in hauling the "properties" to and from the club.

Fish and Game Commission
Cooper Points Out Bills Benefits

Fish and Game Commissioner Benjamin W. Cooper, of Moorestown, is strongly supporting Assembly Bill 54, introduced on January 19 by Assemblyman Ward, and he is urging the many sports lovers of this section to get behind the project and urge the passage of the bill during this session of legislature.

This measure provides that the resident hunting and fishing license is increased from $1.50 to $3.00 a year, that one-third of the fee is placed in a special fund for the acquisition of free hunting and fishing areas of land and water and maintenance of the same, and that the applicant for a license must give the issuing clerk a list of fish and game taken during the previous year.

The passage of the bill will offer many advantages to the vast army of outdoorsmen, declares the commissioner, who says that the sport must have stronger financial support if it is to continue in popularity in New Jersey.

The acquisition of the public fish and game grounds is necessary, says Mr. Cooper, for the average hunter and fisher is gradually being deprived of grounds by private clubs, that are growing in popularity, and individuals who are every year in large numbers poaching their grounds.

And then, too, New Jersey with its steadily increasing population, is becoming more congested, and the fish and game supply can only be kept up by extensive stocking.

In addition to acquiring the public grounds, says Mr. Cooper, the commission, with the increased funds, will be able to double its stocking activities, and thus guarantee a generous supply of fish and game.

This year, he points out, 20,000 muskrat rabbits have been liberated in the state, with Burlington County receiving 1,000. With the passage of the bill, says Mr. Cooper, Burlington County's quota of rabbits will be increased to at least 2,000.

Commissioner Cooper also calls attention to the fact that 37 states have a higher resident license fee than the $1.50 now charged the sportsmen of this state.

FLASHES FROM THE Y. M. C. A.

Get out that Early Spring SMILE—something special for you is being planned. It won't be long now either. Watch this paper for a special announcement, most week as to just what is going to happen. Don't ask the Y. Secretary as his lips, through a promise, are sealed. But don't fail to get in on it when it happens. ## Interest in Archery Grows

With the coming of warmer weather one sees younger boys with their bows and arrows headed for Big Game, whether it be the nearest sparrow or the neighbors cat. The Y. M. C. A. will erect a modern Archery Target on its Playground in the rear of the Building at Garfield and Broad. Because of the size of the field limited shots can only be made. Saturday passersby noticed Secretary, W. E. Mount, and Albert Burns, Junior, of Riverton, shooting arrows at a tin can. Burns is the ground owner of a bow that is twenty-five years old. This ancient sport is being introduced as a part of the Y. Program. If the weather permits another informal shoot will be held at 10:00 A. M. Saturday. If enough manifest interest in Archery the Y. M. C. A. can afford instruction in this sport to any group.

SCOUT DRIVE OVER HALF-WAY MARK

H. F. Hall, Chairman, Reports
$6175 In Cash and Pledges Received

H. F. Hall, of Moorestown, county chairman of the Boy Scout campaign reported Sunday evening that the campaign had passed the halfway mark. At that time a total of $6175 in cash and pledges had been reported.

Although this amount is far less than the managers of the 1931 campaign had expected to receive by this time, no great concern was expressed by them. At a meeting held during the week-end at the home of E. A. Mechlun of Moorestown, the above report was received.

When this $6175 was reported several communities had not been heard from. In a number of towns the campaign has been greatly delayed by sickness and no reports have yet been received in these places.

Practically all money received to date has been the result of work done by E. A. Mechlun's "big gift" committee. The regular organization, headed by Dr. E. C. Langenberg, of Edgewater Park, will be producing most of the returns from now on.

H. M. Wall, president of the County Scout organization, who was present at the managers' meeting in Moorestown, also expressed his belief that the campaign organization would produce as large returns as in 1930 when the entire $12,000 was raised. He said, "The public realizes that we are still weighted down with an $8,000 debt. We have paid $1,000 on our $3,000 note and expect to rid ourselves of the balance this year. This in itself will show our confidence that the public will provide ways and means for Scouting to continue."

Surprise has been expressed by all men active in the campaign that individual contributions are in almost every case as large as last year. This leads the leaders of the drive to believe that when every prospect has been that the whole budget of $12,000 will be raised.

The city of Burlington is a little behind the rest of the county, not yet having turned in one-half the amount raised last year. To date, $475 has come in from Burlington workers.

As last year, Mount Holly appears to be the town which will first complete its work. Over $800.00 has come in from Mount Holly to apply on its $1200 quota.

WELFARE HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING; ELECTS OFFICERS

ed charity in the three towns. In February of that year Mr. Wimer spoke before the Palmyra-Riverton Lions Club and asked the members of that organization if there were not something which they could do to correct this.

Brings Towns Together
Mr. Wimer, who was then president of the Lions Club, named a committee to make plans for a charitable organization. The committee immediately began to function and sent out appeals to all the local organizations, asking them to become members of one big Community Welfare Association of Palmyra, Riverton and Chinnaminson.

Mayor Wimer asserted that the Welfare Association has done more to bring Palmyra, Riverton and Chinnaminson close together than any movement ever sponsored by any person or organization in the past.

The Mayor has been president of the Community Welfare Association since its inception and it is with the deepest regret that the members, directors and constituent bodies of the association accept his resignation.

Disburse Paid Worker
At the meeting Thursday evening several of the constituent bodies of the welfare were represented and Walter D. Lamon, one of the directors of the organization, suggested it was a most fitting time to discuss the question of employing a paid worker.

Mr. Lamon said that for quite some time now there has been talk of obtaining a paid worker. He said that, inasmuch as the ladies of the welfare had so successfully carried on through one of the most difficult winters experienced in many years, he did not see any reason for spending the large amount of money necessary to maintain a good social service worker.

Charles B. Jessup, of Chinnaminson said he did not think anything that was done for love could be bought at any price. He thought the ladies in the Welfare Association did this work purely for the love of it and that no one, no matter how clever they were, or how much they were paid, could do any more.

BETTER USE FOR MONEY

Richard E. Wilson said that it is a time like this, when so many things are needed by the unfortunate in our community, he thought the money which would be used to pay the social service worker could be used to better advantage.

Mr. Wilson referred to the fact that some very generous persons had offered to contribute toward the salary of the trained worker. He said he thought if they really considered how much good they could do with the amount that would be necessary pay this worker he was sure they would feel much the same as he did in the matter that they could do so much more for the benefit of humanity by contributing it to the Welfare, as it is now, to help those who have neither employment or money.

The president called for reports from the various committees. All reports showed that many families had been helped and that the ladies had been quite economical in all matters. Mrs. Richard E. Wilson reported that the idea of giving hot lunches to undernourished school children was working marvellously well and many of the children were greatly improved in health from the benefit derived.

Lunches in Chinnaminson

Miss Eloise Bryan, principal of the Chinnaminson school, also reported that the hot lunch idea was working very well. Miss Bryan stated they were not only giving hot lunches to the undernourished children there, but were also serving cereals to children who had to come some distance to school.

Following is the list of directors elected to serve for the ensuing year: From Palmyra, Mrs. A. N. Palmer, Mrs. Clement A. Hines, Mrs. Richard E. Wilson, Mrs. C. W. Stockwell, Mrs. Notman Schieler, Mrs. W. L. Drew, Joseph Abell, Mrs. E. L. Shill and Walter D. Lamon.

From Riverton, Mrs. Walter Woolman, Mrs. Thomas A. Cashin, Mrs. J. D. Clark, Mrs. Herbert Kieckhefer and Evan Stover.

From Chinnaminson, Mrs. E. M. Knesey, Mrs. W. J. Pucell, Mrs. W. W. Chalmers, Miss Eloise Bryan and Edward Jessup.

COUNTY FIREMEN MEET AT BEVERLY

Philadelphia Battalion Chief Gives Interesting Talk on Training Recruits

The February meeting of the Burlington County Firemen's Association was held in the Masonic Hall, Beverly, last week with the visiting fire fighters, the guests of Beverly Fire Company No. 1.

President Russell Holmes, of Palmyra, occupied the chair and the meeting attracted a large attendance. Following the report of the secretary who read the minutes of the last month, a communication was read from Fire Marshal Smith of Bridgeboro of the fire record for the month. His letter contained accounts of the mysterious fires that have been keeping the firemen on the jump for the past several weeks.

At the request of Chief Van Kirk, he has investigated all the fires that were started by persons unknown and also conferred with county detectives. In closing his report he stated that the fire which destroyed the barn of John Perkins in Willingboro Township, was still being investigated.

The speaker of the evening was Battalion Chief William H. Christy of Truck Company 12, Philadelphia, who gave a very interesting talk on the earliest means of fire fighting with the bucket brigade to the present day motor pumps and aerial trucks.

He went on to relate about the uses of various chemicals and some of the dangers in handling them. Training the recruits for active duty at the school was included in his talk and how the beginners are put through their test until they were experienced and ready to be assigned to a company.

He closed his talk with some of his own experience while fighting fires and he was loudly applauded when he finished.

Ex-Fire Chief Carter of Camden, spoke a few words on fire prevention and added that Chief Christy gave one of the best talks on the use of chemicals that he had heard.

After adjournment of the meeting the members were served a luncheon at No. 1's Firehouse by the Ladies Auxiliary.

The next meeting will be held in Mount Holly.

TRADER HORN

Sensational Adventure Film at Chestnut Street Opera House

"Trader Horn," now playing in Philadelphia at the Chestnut Street Opera House, is a famed story of African adventure adapted from the book written by Ethelred Lewis in collaboration with Alfred - Akosua Horn. It was produced by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer who proclaim it to be the most pretentious undertaking in the history of talking pictures.

It was filmed by the biggest picture expedition that ever went into Africa, and took with it the first and only sound recording apparatus ever to invade the Dark Continent. It consumed two years in the making and beggars description for its unparalleled thrills and its definite advantage of the talking pictures medium in taking gorgeous scenes of the beauties of outdoors in the heart of nature.

Animal thrills are many and remarkable; the chase of the wild elephants, the race over the plain of the savage wild dogs, the thrilling battles of lions and leopards, the escape from the crocodiles, the hipopotamus charging the boat, the charge of a savage rhinoceros; and other terrific natural drama of the jungles. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer issued the safari for $2,500,000. Its contact with civilization was a small radio such as is used in the Marine Corps which was trucked with the party.

Harry Caray plays the trader and Edwina Booth, pretty blonde who volunteered for the arduous trip, is seen at Nina T. Whitman Remond and Olive Golden are among the cast. Thousands of natives appear as well as thousands of wild animals of every conceivable variety. It will be shown at the Chestnut Street Opera House in Philadelphia twice daily, Matinee at 2:30, evening at 8:30.

MUNICIPALITIES SHOULD FIGHT POWERS and INDIVIDUALITY

General Butler, who has a way of starting things, good and bad, has started Pennsylvania discussing the possibilities of a department that will police the entire state, or rather, all police of the state under state supervision.

Here in Jersey a commission has offered the suggestion that the state should be divided into zones, or something of the kind, with a group of high salaried commissioners supervising the operation of each of the four districts into which the state would be divided.

Legislative programs are under way to have the State Department of Municipal Accounts supply all municipal auditors at the rate of $25 per day, doing away with locally hired auditors who have been employed by the municipalities for years, and then, too, many of the local auditing records would be kept at Trenton, instead of at the office of the municipality.

Police say that virtually every year state legislature passes new bills giving more power to the New Jersey State Police department.

And so on and on it goes, with the state continually usurping powers of the county and municipality. Yes, and there is much talk of states yielding authority to the Federal government.

While the trend toward larger governmental units, there seems little justification for it from the standpoint of either efficiency or economy, and the people will be wise to put their foot down on further loss of local authority.

This town can operate just as efficiently and cheaply with home rule as it can under the control of the county or state and it should not submit to further loss of individuality. Philadelphia, Chicago, New York or any other city is a shining example of how larger units of government are operated, with their political complications.

MUST AMERICA RESORT TO THE DOLE

Two million able-bodied Englishmen are "on the dole". That is, they are living at the expense of the taxpayers of Great Britain, being allowed enough money from the public treasury every week to keep them and their families in idleness.

That the dole has produced a new class of paupers is the testimony of every impartial observer. Once a man goes "on the dole" he becomes unwilling to work, even if work is offered. The excuse for the dole which is offered by the Labor government of England is that the government must support these unemployed men or face a revolution. That may be true in England, but it is certainly not the case in America.

That there is much suffering among the people of certain parts of Arkansas and other regions which were ruined by the drought of last year is undeniable. Every good American wants to do what he can to help relieve this distress. And, fortunately, we have a great national organization already set up and trained in the work of relieving human sufferings, already active on the job of providing food, clothing and shelter for those in the stricken regions who are unable to fend for themselves at the present time.

That organization is the American Red Cross. Its officials have surveyed the need and report that ten million dollars is needed at once for this work of mercy. President Hoover has appointed a distinguished committee of private citizens, headed by Calvin Coolidge and Alfred E. Smith, to help raise the money. The American people will give the Red Cross the ten million dollars, and as much more money as may be needed, if the politicians in Congress who are trying to make political capital out of human misery will keep their hands off.

What is being proposed in Congress is that the United States Government—that is to say, the taxpayers of the United States, shall contribute the money with which to feed those who need it this winter and spring. In other words, those members of Congress who advocate this would establish the British dole system in this country. That is a British system, but it is not, as President Hoover points out, an American system. The American principle of government is to give to every man, as far as possible, the opportunity to work out his own salvation, to protect him in his rights as an individual, but not to feed or clothe him at public expense except as payment for services rendered.

Never in our history has the Federal Government assessed the taxpayers for such a purpose. It has, however, authorized the Red Cross to carry out the American method of poor relief, by means of voluntary contributions. If Congress votes money for this purpose, either directly or as a gift to the Red Cross, it will be more than an imposition upon the taxpayers. It will be the beginning of the breakdown of the American system of government, reducing us to the level of Great Britain and our citizens to the pauper level of the beneficiaries of the dole. Moreover, it will deprive millions of generous-hearted Americans of the privilege of contributing to the relief of their suffering fellow-citizens.

WAY OF LIFE BY BRUCE BARTON

Plenty of Knowledge, But No Education

A man asked me the other day what courses I had studied in college had been most helpful.

I answered, "Greek and mathematics."

He said it sounded like a silly answer. "You are in the advertising business. What do Greek and mathematics have to do with advertising?"

Of course they have nothing to do directly with advertising, or with modern banking or the law, or any of the other occupations by which I might have chosen to earn a living.

Yet Greek and mathematics have this one thing in common—each of them compels the mind to attack a difficult problem and to think its way through to a solution. That is mental discipline; that is development, in the same sense that hard physical exercise develops the muscles. That, in a large degree, is education.

There is more false and fuzzy thinking about education than about almost any other important subject.

We have been in an age when the whole emphasis of school and college has been placed on "learning things," on "practical training," on "giving the boys and girls equipment for daily life."

The result of this program, in many instances, is not encouraging. Young people graduate into life with a mass of unassimilated and more or less inaccurate facts, but with no real mental drill and no philosophy.

In one of his finest passages Cardinal Newman describes an educated man as one who "has the repose of mind which lives in itself, while it lives in the world, and which has resources for its happiness at home when it cannot go abroad. He has a gift which serves him in public and supports him in retirement, without which good fortune is but vulgar and with which failure and disappointment have a charm."

And in another place he defines education as "the preparation for knowledge."

If all educators could agree upon that definition, it would mean much less. Then we should have college graduates whose minds are prepared, rather than graduates whose minds are merely stuffed.

Too many graduates at present have plenty of knowledge but no education.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

FACTS AND FIGURES FROM THE ANNUAL REPORT OF PUBLIC SERVICE CORPORATION OF NEW JERSEY

BUSINESS depression has not halted the construction program of those Public Service utility companies, which provide the greater part of New Jersey with electricity, gas and local transportation.

Public Service policy is founded upon confidence in the continuing progress and development of the State. Because to this progress and development, adequate and efficient public utility facilities are essential, Public Service construction program keeps facilities always a step ahead of demand.

In the year 1930, net capital expenditures, resulting from improvements and extensions to plant and equipment amounted to $39,468,755.35, bringing the total expended in approximately twenty-seven years of Public Service existence up to nearly $400,000,000.

Among the outstanding accomplishments of the year were:

- The completion of the first leg of the interconnection with the electric system of Philadelphia Electric and Pennsylvania Power and Light Companies, which gives Public Service participation in the world's largest power pool;
- The completion of a transmission main from the Harrison Gas Works, to Hackensack, to supply part of the gas requirements of the Bergen division.
- The addition of 383 motor buses to bring the total buses in service up to 2,427.

In 1931, work will be started on improvements which will add nearly one-half to the capacity of Kearny Generating Station, and will increase capacity at Burlington in practically the same ratio, while both gas and transportation facilities will be materially improved.

Public Service builds not only for present requirements, but for future needs.

N. J. SHOWS GAIN OVER PA. IN MOTOR REGISTRATIONS

New Jersey's motor vehicle registrations increased two and one-fourth per cent in 1930—in contrast to eight-tenths of one per cent increase for Pennsylvania—according to revised figures on vehicle registration and income made public by the Keystone Automobile Club of New Jersey. William S. Canning, engineering director of the club, who compiled the figures, points out that New Jersey added 18,297 passenger cars to its total in the past year, while Pennsylvania added only 15,307. New Jersey also had an increase of 358 in truck registrations, while Pennsylvania showed a decrease of 539. Both states lost in bus and taxicab registrations. ## AUTOGIRO PLEASES MOORESTOWN MAN

E. R. F. Johnson Says Plane Would Be Excellent For Explorers

E. R. Fenimore Johnson, of Moorestown, explorer and former executive vice president of the Victor Talking Machine Company, who is soon to start on an expedition to unexplored regions of South America to make the first genuine sound pictures of jungle life, recently was given a demonstration of the Autogiro aircraft at Pottsville, Pa.

Mr. Johnson, who is himself an amateur pilot, was enthusiastic over the many type aircraft's safety features and advantages for private owners as well as its possibilities to exploring expeditions.

"The Autogiro would vastly increase the range of effectiveness of an expedition," Mr. Johnson said after his flight. "Its ability to come down low and land at any speed would give an observer wonderful opportunity to study the nature of the country, its geological outcroppings and possible archaeological remains. Also it would be unexcelled for taking photographs and spotting human and animal life in the dense jungles."

"But perhaps one of the most important uses of the Autogiro would be in such emergencies as accident or sickness among the men. The craft's ability to land straight down and take off from restricted areas would make it easily possible to keep in touch constantly with field parties. On our expedition to the state of Matto Grosso a headquarters will be established near the divide between the Amazon and Paraguay watersheds, approximately in the center of South America. We will cover a semicircle with a 500 mile radius and in case of sickness or accident among the members, could fly straight from the field to the nearest modern hospital, in our case only a few hours away by air, but by boat and foot it would probably take months."

"Moreover, with the machine's ability to hover mapping would be greatly facilitated," Mr. Johnson added. "The apparatus we are taking is so packed that it could easily be transported in an Autogiro."

Mr. Johnson will leave this country March 12 to join the Matto Grosso party, now in South America. He will travel by boat and air to reach them. The expedition, headed by Captain Vladimir Perilleff and Alexander Sieml, has the recording of numerous wild animals and native sound pictures taken on the spot, as its main objective. Other branches of natural history and scientific study will also be pursued.

LOCAL CHURCH NEWS

EPISCOPAL

Rev. G. J. McCormack, Rector.

The church furnishes an opportunity for a man to make his contribution to the church of God. It recognizes the rule of God by participation in divine worship.

Whether God breaks through by unusual forces into your life or mine is secondary to the conviction that he is the God who holds in His hands our ultimate destinies. It is a small thing in our lives to give up at least one hour a week to divine worship but it is a vital thing in any community whether it is composed of the sort of people who act on conviction and not on caprice in this obligation. The most important act that I perform is that in which I worship God both in public and in private.

We are faced with the rising tide of universal education and increased crime and the simplest and the truest explanation is that where God is not the center of life all the conflicting interests result in bewilderment and chaos. Christ offers a solution but He does not force it on us. He invites us to follow Him.

The ceremony of the installation of Dean Urban as Dean of the Cathedral of New Jersey took place in Trenton on Monday last. A most inspiring service was followed by a banquet at the Stacy Trent at which Bishop Matthews was toastmaster, and excellent speeches were made by Dr. Hamilton Schuyler, P. M. Pearce, the Hon. Justice Katzenbach and the dean. The work of the Diocese will benefit greatly by the creation of this center of church life.

The regular monthly meeting of the Guild of St. Agnes will be held at the home of Mrs. S. Hendington, 415 Leconey avenue, Monday, March 2, at 8:00 p. m. sharp. We hope for a good attendance.

The second of the Lenten sewing classes for the work of the church Mission of Help will take place at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fox, 328 Garfield avenue Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. We welcome you.

Mid-week services throughout Lent are held on Wednesday evening at 8 p. m. The preacher this coming Wednesday, March 4, will be the Rev. Arthur S. Lewis, rector of Christ Church, Riverton.

Services: Second Sunday in Lent. 10:00 a. m. Church School. 10:45 a. m. Holy Community and sermon. "Light in Darkness." 8:00 p. m. Evensong and sermon. "Ever Faithful."

When the Son of Man shall come in his glory, and all his angels with him, and they shall set the sheep on his right hand and the goats on his left, then shall come protest, saying, "Lord, we prefer not to take sides."

FIRST LUTHERAN

Rev. Harold L. Creager

A wise and thoughtful observer of human life remarked some time ago that "Religion is tending more and more to become a mere embroidery on a life abandoned to other interests." And extreme thought that judgment seems, there are some conditions at least that partly justify it.

At least it suggests some very fitting reflections in this Lenten season. How much does our religion mean to us—is it a veneer or a vital experience? This challenge subject will form the center of the discussion at next Sunday morning's church service.

The Ladies' Aid will hold its monthly business meeting next Tuesday afternoon. It will be preceded by a covered dish luncheon at one o'clock.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"CHRIST JESUS" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 1, 1931.

The Golden Text is: "Rejoice greatly, O daughter of Zion; shout, O daughter of Jerusalem; behold, thy King cometh unto thee; he is just, and having salvation" (Zechariah 9:9).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "And when Jesus came into Peter's house, he saw his wife's mother laid, and sick of a fever. And he touched her hand, and the fever left her; and she arose, and ministered unto them" (Matthew 8:14, 15).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus established what he said by demonstration, thus making his acts of higher importance than his words. He proved what he taught. This is the Science of Christianity. Jesus proved the Principle, which heals the sick and casts out error, to be divine" (p. 473).

TWO IN OVERTURNED CAR SLIGHTLY HURT

Calvin Hyland, of Moorestown, Avoids Serious Collision on Kings Highway

Two persons barely escaped serious injury Monday night when the automobile in which they were riding, a Chevrolet sedan, overturned at the intersection of Kings Highway and Route 8-41.

The driver of the car, Calvin Hyland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Hyland, of Irving Terrace, Moorestown, in order to avoid striking a car going north on the boulevard, swerved right so sharply his car turned over once and a half, remaining on its roof. The other driver did not stop and his identity is not known.

Hyland escaped with minor bruises. The other occupant of the car, Miss Harriet Tabakin, of Collingswood, was badly cut on both knees. She was taken to Cooper Hospital, Camden, where five stitches in one knee and six in the other were needed to close the cuts.

The Chevrolet was completely wrecked, although it was covered by insurance.

MT. HOLLY COPS WAR ON "ONE-EYE" DRIVERS

War has been declared on "one eye" and no-light drivers of cars, by the Mount Holly police, and as the result of the activities of Policemen Robert Smiles and Frank J. Bowen, a number of such violators were given summonses Monday. Three were fined and more were told to appear before Recorder Joseph C. Kingston. Charles A. Hupple, of 1919 East Cambria street, Philadelphia, and Arthur B. Davenport, 3d. of 828 Bernard street, Philadelphia, were fined $2 and costs for failing to have a rear light burning. Howard T. Danley, of Pemberton, was fined $2 and costs for driving with one headlight out.

William McKechnie of Detroit was placed on probation for 12 months when his wife told a magistrate that he had beaten her every day for the last 18 years.

PLANE TALKS

By Lt. H. H. LONGAKER
Founder, Burlington County Aero Club

England, France and Italy will fight it out for the Schneider Cup this year. Al Williams' entry arrived too late after all the trouble he had raising private capital to finance the project. It is expected that the winner will have to show at least 400 miles per hour.

Several new members have just joined the Burlington County Aero Club and it looks as though Jim Erdman, chief pilot, is going to be a mighty busy instructor this spring and summer.

We understand that the New York Police Bureau has ordered an Ambler-Giro from Pictorial Aircraft, Inc. The adaptability of this type ship is almost unlimited and we look for a good number of these ships to be sold this year.

It is certainly a pleasure to see how quickly the Moorestown Chamber of Commerce, the Moorestown Civic Club, Moorestown Grange and the most progressive citizens rallied to boost the proposed Zeppelin Terminal project. Let's keep going, everybody.

Practically every aircraft company in the country is busy getting show ships ready for the big Detroit show in April. There will be plenty of new models and beautiful color combinations, also some startling prices.
